Ike Sees U.S. Nearing $400 Billion Economy

President Notes Business Trend Is Still Upward

Report Asks Congress to Revive His Authority to Curb Credit

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower said today the U. S. has "reached the threshold of a 400 billion dollar economy," and declared the business trend "still appears to be upward" despite declines in auto production and home building.

The chief executive, in his annual economic report to Congress, asked revival on a standby basis of executive authority to control installment credit terms. This power was withdrawn by Congress in 1952.

Eisenhower also called for more liberal authority to insure home repair and modernization loans as part of a plan to achieve greater flexibility in assuring continued high prosperity.

The President pointed out that business in the U. S. reached record peaks last year. He said that though the upward trend is not as fast as it was in 1955, the economy has started the new year from a strong financial and industrial position.

The chief executive emphatically reiterated his previously announced opposition to immediate tax cuts. He warned that under present conditions such slashes might encourage inflation. He declared attention should be centered on reducing the huge public debt.

53 SUGGESTIONS

The President wrapped together, in the 35,000-word report, 53 legislative recommendations aimed at broadening the scope of prosperity, building for the future, and preserving the federal government's role as a guiding partner of state and local governments and private enterprise.

Among these proposals, most of which had been previously recommended, were his farm program, the school aid plan,

Fashions for 30 Degrees Below

BABY, IT'S COLD OUTSIDE — Looks like an old Oriental custom, but it's 30 degrees below zero in Bemidji, Minn., and youngsters have to be wary of uncovered noses and ears. Folks really wrap up before venturing outside in Bemidji, one of the nation's coldest winter spots. It's been known to hit 50 below, but local inhabitants in this land of fabled lumberjack Paul Bunyan are proud of their "icebox" fame.

City Has High Average of Consumers With Spendable Incomes of $4,000

Pontiac is above average in the percentage of consumers it has with annual spendable incomes of $4,000 after taxes, a survey showed today.

The 1955 Consumer Markets annual report reveals that in Pontiac, 65.8 per cent of the consumer units had spendable incomes last year of $4,000 or more, after payment of taxes.

This is compared to a 51.1 per cent nationally, the study claims. The East North Central states were recorded at 58.6 per cent.

Such statistics show the higher level of living in the area, and increased purchasing power which merchants can expect.

HIGH EMPLOYMENT AIDS

High employment ratios and better wage scales have left relatively few area families in lower income groups, according to the report.

Families that were once in the $2,500 income class have graduated to the $4,000 or over bracket. Those that once had $4,000 a year are in the plus $6,000 category.

There are 17,570 consumer units in the over $4,000 category, the report indicates. Consumer units are families or individuals maintaining their own establishments.

In the group with incomes above $6,000, there are now 9,030 units or 33.8 per cent in Pontiac.

GROWTH SHOWN

The impressive growth of the middle income classes has had the effect of increasing markets, changing buying habits and raising the standard of living, researchers said.

The typical family locally has more money to spend at present and is in the mood to spend it.

Of interest is the manner in which the bigger earnings are being used.

According to a Federal Reserve Board study, those with incomes above $4,000 are 60 per cent more likely than others to buy major household equipment or furniture.

They buy four times as many new automobiles per 100 families as those with incomes below $4,000.

They also buy better homes, more electrical gadgets, eat better and do more traveling.

'It's My Fault, I'm Responsible'

Engineer Denies Story of Mechanical Failure in Rail Disaster

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The anguished engineer of a train that plunged off a 15-m.p.h. curve at about 70—killing 29 passengers and injuring about 150 others—has told the district attorney:

"The responsibility is solely mine . . . I blacked out . . . I didn't know we were going that fast."

The Santa Fe's two-car diesel San Diegan tipped off the rails Sunday night, 15 minutes after it had left Union Station for San Diego. Many victims were spilled through windows and crushed.

Michigan Sailor Killed

DETROIT (AP) — A Michigan sailor has been identified among the 29 persons killed Sunday in the crash of a Santa Fe passenger train.

He was William A. La Rowe, 38, of Dearborn. Identification was made by the coroner's office in Los Angeles and confirmed by a brother, Vaughn La Rowe, of Dearborn.

Vaughn La Rowe said his brother was a Yeoman 1/c stationed at the San Diego Naval Base. He said William was a career man who had joined the Navy 15 years ago.

Here's Sum-Up of Ike's Views on Economics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In his economic message today President Eisenhower told Congress:

Record-hurdling U. S. business is nearing 400 billion dollars in output annually.

Gains will continue in 1956 —but more slowly.

Standby consumer credit controls are "desirable."

Early tax reduction "cannot be justified."

The No. 1 legislative job is farm relief.

GOP Solons Back Ike's Farm Plans

WASHINGTON (INS) — Republican congressional leaders promised President Eisenhower today to push for early enactment of his farm program.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson sat in on the 75-minute legislative conference at the White House, which turned into a round-table discussion when the farm program was taken up.

Among those participating in the discussion were Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont and Rep. Clifford Hope of Kansas, ranking GOP members of the Senate and House Agriculture Committees.

After the meeting, Senate GOP Policy Chairman Styles Bridges, of New Hampshire, told newsmen: "The general thought was that the farm legislation be pushed as rapidly as possible."

Meanwhile, the Senate Agriculture Committee began work on drawing up an election-year farm bill aimed at raising politically explosive low crop prices.

Continued Cold Snap to Remain Locally

The U. S. Weather Bureau said today that the cold will continue to grip the Pontiac area and the rest of Michigan at least through Thursday.

It will be partly cloudy with little change in temperature tonight and tomorrow. The low tonight will range from 8 to 12 degrees. Tomorrow's high will be from 22 to 26.

The temperatures will average from 2 to 5 degrees below normal for the next five days according to Bureau reports.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 8 degrees. The thermometer registered 26 at 2 p.m.

Senate Probers Slap Two Departments for Use of Defective Grain Bins in '54

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Investigations subcommittee said today "confusion, gross carelessness and lack of coordination" marked the government's big 1954 program of buying grain storage bins.

The subcommittee said such dereliction cost the taxpayers a "considerable" amount but it gave no dollar estimate.

SEVERELY RAPPED

The Department of Agriculture is severely criticized for its negligence and inefficiency in failing to act and process claims when defective wooden bins were reported, a subcommittee report said.

* * *

"The Navy Department (which provided inspection service) likewise is severely criticized for its negligence and inefficiency in wrongfully certifying that defective lumber met government specifications."

* * *

There was no immediate comment from either the Agriculture or Navy Department.

BOTH 'GUILTY'

The report, filed with the Senate by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark), said both agencies were "guilty of gross inefficiency and demonstrated poor business management and lack of initiative and judgment" in handling the purchase of thousands of metal storage bins. The bins are used to store grain held under government price support loans.

* * *

The report accused the Agriculture Department of "failure to profit by errors" it said were made in a similar 1949-50 bin purchase program on which, the subcommittee said, the government has recovered only $31,000 out of $893,864 of claims for allegedly defective bins.

The report said the Agriculture Department and its Commodity Credit Corp. in 1954 brought 54,338 prefabricated steel bins, 8,960 of them at a cost of $4,837,020 from the firm of Black, Sivalls & Bryson of Kansas City, Mo.

* * *

Many of this firm's bins were defective, it said.

Governor Wants More Roads—Sooner

Williams Criticizes Ziegler

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today handed the legislature a special highway message bristling with sharp criticism of State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, a Republican.

The Governor said Ziegler's plan to add 455 miles of multilane highways in the next two years is commendable but inadequate.

He asked the Legislature to make construction of 400 additional miles of multilane highways possible by liberalizing the bonding provisions of last year's Arterial Highway Act.

The Act, which boosted the gasoline tax a cent-and-a-half a gallon, authorized the Highway Department to use half of its share of the revenue for bonds.

Williams said the act as it now stands would allow the department to issue only about 200 million dollars in bonds. No bonds could be issued before July 1, 1956.

An additional 400 miles of multilane highways could be built, Williams said, if the Legislature changed the law to allow the Highway Department to use all of its share of additional revenue under the 1955 Highway Act for bonding purposes.

Williams also asked the lawmakers to cancel the July 1 starting date for bonds and allow the department to issue bonds immediately.

BITS AND SNATCHES

Removal of the restrictions on bonds would allow the department to issue 400 million dollars in bonds instead of 200 million, he said.

Much of the Governor's message was devoted to an attack on what he said was Ziegler's policy of building "bits and snatches" instead of highways.

He said Michigan now has only 171 miles of divided multilane highways and that Ziegler reported he had built only 12 miles of such highways in rural areas during 1955.

At that rate, Williams said, it will take about 250 years to build the road system recommended for Michigan by the Automotive Safety Foundation of Washington, D. C. The foundation was hired by the Legislature to study Michigan's road needs.

Cite John Curry in Hotel Death

Issue Murder Warrant as Witnesses Report Threat Statements

A four-day police investigation following death of a 57-year-old man in a local hotel Thursday today resulted in a first-degree murder warrant against John A. Curry, 27, of 125 N. Perry St.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, who issued the warrant, said two men stated they heard Curry threaten to kill Frank L. Beheydt, while one says he witnessed Curry beat the ex-bookkeeper.

A coroner's report also implicates Curry, Ziem added.

Louis Hayes, 21, Curry's hotel roommate, said Friday he accompanied the accused to Beheydt's room after Curry said he would kill Beheydt for refusing to give him money. Curry then repeatedly kicked and hit the victim, Hayes alleged.

A downtown restaurant operator also says he heard Curry say he would kill Beheydt, Ziem stated.

PATHOLOGIST REPORTS

Pontiac General Hospital Pathologist Dr. John J. Marra said yesterday the death resulted from internal bleeding, within 15 minutes after the beating.

Dr. Marra also said Beheydt would have been in a coma almost immediately after the internal injuries were inflicted. Ziem explained this would rule out any possibility that the fatal beating was inflicted before Curry and Hayes entered the room.

Curry stated Beheydt had opened the door when he and Hayes entered, Ziem said.

Curry will be arraigned on the first degree murder charge today, Ziem added, and Hayes will be held as a material witness if circuit court approval for the action can be obtained.

Investigation of the alleged beating and robbery of Beheydt before the fatal beating still is proceeding, Ziem said.

Sudden Freeze Hampers Work of Ice Breakers

PORT HURON (AP)—Coast Guard cutters today gave up their task of cutting a channel through St. Clair river ice in the face of a continued cold wave.

The Detroit-based Acacia and the Toledo-based Tupelo were ordered to home ports after battling five days to cut an ice-relief passage which would provide a free flow for ice should the solid jam above Port Huron break suddenly.

The Coast Guard command said the below 10-degree cold and refreezing had removed the danger for the time being.

Voters to Ballot on Election Date

Amendment of Charter Would Advance Time by Two Weeks

Whether to change the date of the city's general election to the third Monday in April or keep it at the present first Monday, will confront Pontiac voters at the coming April 2 city balloting.

The City Commission last night approved the charter amendment which will be submitted at that time and also accepted the form of the ballot.

Voters in favor of the amendment, will cast a "yes" vote while those opposed to the amendment will cast a "no" ballot.

The amendment was recommended by City Clerk Ada R. Evans to allow sufficient time for voter registration between the time of the city primary election in March and the following April election.

A state law prohibits the clerk from taking registrations after the thirtieth day preceding an election. This year no registrations can be accepted after Feb. 6 for both the primary and the general municipal election.

New Gas Mains Will Be Installed to Serve County

District Plan Portion of $89 Million Work in Southern Michigan

Consumers Power Company announced today that it will invest more than $14,000,000 in its Southeast division, with headquarters in Pontiac, during 1956 to expand and improve its natural gas services throughout Oakland, Macomb and western Wayne counties.

Division Manager David H. Gerhard said the company will install some 140 miles of new gas mains to meet the needs of an estimated 23,000 new customers which it expects to add to its service lists during the year.

Gas main projects include the installation of new mains to reach new customers in Waterford Township, Southfield Township, Avon Township, Herrington Hills in Pontiac, Orion Township, Royal Oak Township and West Bloomfield Township, all in Oakland County.

Gerhard said the Southeast division projects are part of the company's general 1956 construction program, in which it will invest $89,000,000 to expand and improve its electric and natural gas services in the 64 counties of Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

In addition to the important natural gas service improvement program, the company will provide new facilities in its electric department at Pontiac.

PLAN CITY PROJECTS

Electric projects here will include installation of a new underground high voltage cable in downtown Pontiac, to improve service in the business area, and modernization of the city's street lighting system.

Also at Pontiac, facilities at the Paddock street substation will be enlarged to provide for operation at higher voltage.

A new 16-inch gas main will be installed from the mains of the Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company in Northville to the company's Coolidge Highway gas regulator station in Royal Oak, a distance of 28 miles.

This will provide for a new source of gas supply from Panhandle, and from the Northville fields, to the company, Gerhard said.

Officials estimate such litter totals 1,200 pounds every 24 hours.

Mystery Death Grows Deeper

Sheriff's Detective Asks Assistance of Public in Tracing Car

Mystery surrounding the death Saturday night of 54-year-old John Palmore of Orion Township deepened yesterday as Oakland County Sheriff's detectives completed their second day of investigation.

Det. Jack Davis asked public cooperation in tracing Palmore's car, which apparently disappeared between Wednesday and Friday, the day Palmore was found on the verge of death in his Stanton road home.

The car was described as a two-tone green 1955 Plymouth four-door sedan, with 1955 license plates GJ 58 74.

Palmore's death has been officially attributed to a concussion, but detectives are unable to explain how the concussion, bruises and cuts on Palmore's body were inflicted.

Earlier reports of a minor accident Tuesday were confirmed yesterday with a report that Palmore had driven through a fence. His car may have received minor scratches, detectives believe.

But County and local police in Wayne, Oakland and Genesee counties say they have not had any reports of an accident involving either Palmore or his car.

Intra-GOP War Seen in New Hampshire

LISBON, N.H. (AP)—A "full and complete" slate of delegate candidates favorable to Senate minority leader Knowland (R-Calif) will be entered in the March 13 New Hampshire presidential primary, State Rep. Rita Collyer (R-Lisbon) said today.

Her action apparently made certain an intra-party GOP battle for New Hampshire's 14 votes at the Republican national convention.

"I am doing a lot of letter writing and contacting a great many of Mr. Knowland's supporters, and we will have a strong slate ready soon," Miss Collyer said in an interview.

Foresees Big Gains in Farming Methods

Agricultural methods of today may "look as antiquated as the methods of 1916 look to us right now," according to Dale Roeder, chief engineer of Ford's Tractor and Implement Division (Birmingham).

Speaking before the Louisiana Engineering Society at its annual meeting in Baton Rouge, Roeder predicted that progress in the development of new farm equipment at double the past rate can be expected in the next 20 years.

Among improvements cited by the Ford executive were more durable structural materials, operator comfort and safety, increased power and labor elimination.

Rochester Woman Accident Victim

A 33-year-old Rochester woman was reported in fair condition this morning in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being injured in a two-car collision yesterday afternoon at Crooks road and Long Lake road.

Troy police said Bethel Konno lost control of her car and struck a car driven by Louis J. Alamhsy Jr., 28, of Royal Oak, as he was backing into Crooks road from a driveway.

Alamhsy was treated and released yesterday for a bruised hip.

Wet and Snowy—Nation's Weather Continues Bleak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet and cloudy weather prevailed over most of the country today, with a mixture of snow, sleet and rain in many Southern areas.

Snow measured up to 5 inches in parts of Tennessee and Virginia and 4 inches in North Carolina, the heaviest falls in several years in some sections.

Cold air ran head on into warm moist air from the south and the belt of snow from Arkansas to North Carolina ranged from 1 to 5 inches deep. The 5-inch fall in Memphis, Nashville and Smyrna, Tenn., was the heaviest in most areas since 1951. It was 23 above this morning in Memphis.

SNOW BELT

Earlier the snow belt had extended northwestward in a narrow line into Kansas with 2 to 5 inches on the ground, with lighter amounts over all of the Missouri Valley.

Snow flurries continued in the Rocky Mountain region, the plains states, near Lake Michigan and in the lower Great Lakes region.

Rain in central and northern Florida was locally heavy, with nearly 2 inches at Tampa.

Warmer air spread into the plains states, bringing some relief to the Dakotas and Minnesota from subzero weather of the past several days. However, arctic air held tight over Wisconsin, with below-zero readings this morning. It was -18 at Grantsburg.

Rochester Couple Hurt in Crash With Train

A Rochester man and his wife were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early this morning after colliding with a train at the Oakland Avenue grade crossing.

George P. Terrill, and Ida Pearl Terrill, both 63, were occupants of a truck which struck a locomotive driven by John J. Hare, 37, of Marshall.

After hitting the locomotive, Terrill's truck was thrown into a car driven by Ray Stauffer, 40, of Waterford, Police said. Terrill is in satisfactory condition with head injuries. Mrs. Terrill, who also suffered head injuries, is in fair condition.

Board of Directors Elects New Officers

Officers and members of the Board of Directors of the Pontiac Credit Bureau, Inc. were elected at a meeting held last night.

Charles H. Tompkins was elected president, Francis F. Miller, executive vice president, W. A. Booth, vice president, Floyd Miller, secretary, and Stuart E. Whitfield, treasurer.

Members of the 1956 board will include the officers plus William A. Cashin, Stephen J. Cloonan, Roy T. Connolly, Jack Harris, Orrin P. Huntoon, and Gelston V. Poole.

Secretary Miller described the past year "as the best year in the 32 years of the bureau's operation."

'It's All My Fault,' Claims Engineer

Ernest Roll said he was also told by the hospitalized engineer, Frank B. Parrish, 61.

The reference suggested a mirage because there are no orange groves in the area but there are near Parrish's home in San Bernardino.

"The last thing I saw before the crash," said Parrish, "was the Fourth Street bridge"—a structure more than a mile from the crash scene.

IT'S MY FAULT

Fireman Homer Smith's version of the tragedy suggested mechanical failure, but engineer Parrish told the district attorney: "No, that is not true. It was my fault completely."

An inquest, with more than 100 witnesses expected to testify, was set for Feb. 3.

Relatives had identified at the county morgue all but one of the 29 dead, some of them decapitated or otherwise dismembered.

Still unidentified was a woman 5 feet 2, 100 pounds, with gray-blond hair and blue eyes and with nine $100 bills pinned to her black slip.

"I feel terrible that all those persons were killed or hurt," the engineer told Roll. "It was my first blood in 37 years of railroading."

The engineer suffered possible knee and chest injuries and was in shock. He said it was the first time he ever blacked out.

Boston Transit Riders Lose Penny Pleasures

Nickel Parking Warning Topic

Commissioner Cooley Says Future Prices Beyond Control

Commissioner Roy V. Cooley (District 1) last night warned the City Commission "not to make any promises to the people that the city can guarantee a five cent freeze on municipal parking."

Cooley's action stemmed from a local committee endorsing increased $600,000 municipal parking program within the city and reportedly coming out with a name of "committee on five cent parking."

"It could be misleading," the commissioner said. "I'm for the truth but don't want the Commission to give the idea that the price of municipal parking will be frozen at five cents."

"It will remain at this level as far as we can now see, but we don't have any control over it in the future."

Mayor William Donaldson reiterated what City Manager Walter K. Willman told the Press in December. "Naturally, we do not know what is going to happen in the future but let me emphasize that the ordinance covering this parking issue specifically gives the City Commission approval to alter the fees and hours of the parking if the revenues prove inadequate to handle the maintenance of the lots."

"Only under these circumstances would the city think of raising from the five cent level," the mayor said. "I hope everybody realizes that we haven't increased rates in the present off-street lots and on-street parking."

County Man Facing Manslaughter Count

A Southfield Township man was expected to be arraigned in Ionia Circuit Court today on a charge of manslaughter in the traffic death Sunday of Mrs. Mary Gregory, 35, of Ionia.

Bruce Shady, 21, of 23710 10½ Mile Road, was bound over to circuit court yesterday after waiving examination on the charge before Justice R. H. Dodes.

Sheriff's men said Mrs. Gregory was killed and her husband, William, 36, and their 10-year-old daughter, Carol Ann, were injured in a collision with Shady's car on M 66, eight miles north of Ionia.

Prosecutor Rex O'Connor reported that Shady and a 17-year-old girl companion were arrested several hours after the crash. O'Connor also said Shady's driver license was revoked recently for drunk driving.

He Diagnoses Prosperity by Juggling Ash Trays

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — Leonard (Hoot) McGraw, who doesn't smoke, relies on the litter left by smokers to carry on his hobby of diagnosing economic conditions.

"Take a look," he says, scooping up a strainer of cigarette butts. "We've got prosperity now. People take a couple of puffs and toss 'em away. During rationing, they burned their fingers on 'em. Same way during the depression."

Meanwhile, McGraw is currently on economically shaky ground.

He is senior cabin watch of the Michigan State Highway Department's auto ferry service that will be discontinued when the Straits of Mackinac Bridge is opened for business.

McGraw, who's been known as Hoot since he was a cowboy hero worshipper in his native area in the Upper Peninsula, has been tidying up the ferry cabins for 13 years.

The end of harvest time is signaled by ash tray contests, he says. "Farmers like to smoke cigars when their work is done, or when they get extra money."

An increase in lipstick-smeared cigarette butts usually means a ladies' convention in the Upper Peninsula.

for the claim that smoking habits have changed considerably in the past decade.

"There are less pipesmokers now and just about everybody smokes filter tips," he said.

Hoot also believes he may be the world's champion butt collector.

"I've been collecting from four to six bushels of them every month since I've been on the job. All smokers light up when they get aboard the ferries."

5 Die in Blaze Near Fire House

Only One Son Escapes as Rest of Family Burn in Connecticut Home

MILFORD, Conn. (AP)—Five members of a family burned to death in their home a block from a fire station early today.

An 11-year-old son, the only survivor, leaped to safety from his second-story bedroom window.

Richard Junsch, barefooted and wearing only pajamas in 20-degree cold, screamed for his 6-year-old brother Peter to follow him. But the younger boy didn't jump and perished in the blaze.

The dead, besides the young son, are Mr. and Mrs. Julian Junsch and Mrs. Junsch's father and mother.

All were in their bedrooms and apparently asleep when the fire broke out shortly after midnight. An alarm was telephoned by a neighbor, Mrs. Peter Maizio. Mrs. Maizio, who lives across the street from the two-story, wooden Junsch home, said she was awakened by Richard's screams.

"When I looked out the window I saw the house an inferno. Richard was outside screaming for his brother Peter to jump. I looked to the window but couldn't see anyone. The flames and smoke were too thick. Then I heard Richard call for his father."

GOP Challenges Williams Budget

Leaders Claim Balance Is Accomplished by Use of All Surplus Funds

LANSING (AP) — Republican legislative leaders today challenged Gov. Williams' contention that his new 330 million dollar budget for next year was balanced.

The concensus was that Williams had avoided the necessity of asking for new taxes by using an expected 25 million dollar surplus in the current fiscal year ending June 30.

The most frequent comment was: "That's fine for next year — but the year after we would have to raise taxes 25 million dollars again to just stay even."

Republican finance chiefs, declining to be quoted directly until they had reviewed the budget message in detail, said they considered a budget was not balanced until income was equal to outgo.

OUT OF BALANCE

On this basis, the Governor's budget requests were about 25 million dollars out of balance. The Republicans also challenged his estimates of 315 million dollars in revenues.

They said that at first glance they thought he had overestimated revenues in order to present a budget apparently in balance. On this basis the prediction already was being made that Williams' 330 million dollar budget request would be trimmed to at least 315 million dollars and possibly closer to 300 million.

Budget documents placed on the lawmakers' desks gave details of the $46,938,000 construction program he advocated, including general fund monies and $4,408,000 which he said was left over from various projects built with the 65 million dollar hospital bond issue.

Included in the construction program was the Pontiac State Hospital — $204,000, including $2,500 for storage garage and $2,000 to plan $100,000 bleachers and recreation yard.

Wilson Mum on Ridgway Charges

Sen. Kefauver Calls for Defense Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) called today for a "thorough review of the entire defense establishment" in the light of new charges by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway.

Ridgway wrote in a second Saturday Evening Post article just released that there was a tendency during his tour as Army chief of staff "of civilian secretaries making military decisions on a basis of political expediency . . . " The retired officer said this "constitutes a danger to this country."

In his first article last week, Ridgway touched off controversy by writing he had opposed plans to cut Army manpower in 1954-1955 and had been pressured to trim his views to what he termed a "politico-military" line.

But Secretary of Defense Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, said that as they recalled it, members of the nation's top military group were unanimous on the question of planned Army cuts. Wilson also denied ever having tried to pressure Ridgway.

Wilson had no comment today on Ridgway's newest blast.

COULD COMMENT

When Wilson arrived on Capitol Hill for a closed-door House Appropriations Committee meeting, he was asked to express himself on the Ridgway accusation.

The secretary replied tersely: "I could, but I'm not going to."

Kefauver, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said he hopes the Senate Armed Services Committee, of which he is a member, will look into the matter thoroughly.

"I have a lot of respect for Gen. Ridgway's ability and courage," Kefauver said. "He was a leveling influence many times as in the case of the Formosa crisis.

"He knows his business and it is a wonderful thing for the country to have him speak up. There should be a very thorough review of the entire defense establishment in the light of his statements."

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said he agrees with Ridgway that the Defense Department shouldn't be run for political purposes.

"It hasn't been run for political purposes since January 1953, when President Eisenhower took office," Mundt said. "Insofar as essential economies are concerned, however, it is the proper procedure for the defense secretary to measure the importance of defense needs with the capacity of the economy to support them."

Ridgway retired last year after a term as Army chief of staff.

She Has a License?

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—William Colbert was waved to a stop by a woman in a stalled car. He pushed the car 16 blocks but it didn't start. Puzzled, he asked if she was sure she had the car in gear. "Are you supposed to do that?" she asked.

MSU Faculty Gets Up at 7 A.M. to Exercise for Middle-Age Folk

EAST LANSING (AP)—Forty Michigan State University faculty members are rubbing sore muscles and tender tendons in the interest of all you middle-aged guys.

All are at least 40 years of age and are undergoing special exercises daily to see if they can reduce the amount of cholesterol in their bloodstreams.

Scientists say cholesterol, a fatty substance, deposits on the inner wall of blood vessels, gradually plugging them and rendering middle-aged and elderly people liable to heart attacks.

MSU's home economics and physical education departments are cooperating in the program with the financial backing of the U. S. Public Health Service. MSU said it believes the study is the first of its kind.

Dr. Henry J. Montoye of the physical education department said some experimentation has been done with diet controls but that diets without animal fat are not popular.

This experiment, he said, is to discover a "possible alternative way of cholesterol control—that of burning up more of our food through exercise, which won't necessitate cutting out all meat and animal foods."

P. S.—The middle-aged guinea pigs have to get up at 7 a.m. for their exercises.

Flint Murder Case Presents New Angle

FLINT (INS)—A Detroit newspaper said today it had learned Mrs. Betty Kehl, 32, charged with the first degree murder of her husband, owned a revolver prior to the slaying.

However, the paper said the gun apparently disappeared after 34-year-old Robert Kehl was found shot to death at a secluded dump near here on Jan. 16.

The murder weapon, a .38 caliber revolver, has not been found and Flint police said they have not recovered or examined any pistol during the investigation.

The paper said it learned of the pistol from Mrs. Erma Dutre, 39, of Bay City, sister-in-law of Mrs. Kehl's first husband.

Insurance Building Dedicated by Firm

The new home of the Michigan Life Insurance Co. was formally opened yesterday in ceremonies at the Woodward and 13-Mile Road location.

The $1,250,000 building marks a milestone in the 28-year history of the firm, founded by the late Gov. Alex J. Groesbeck.

The four-story, air-conditioned building is occupied principally by Michigan Life, with three tenant firms. Of limestone and granite construction, it contains 6,000 square feet of glare reducing glass, recessed fluorescent lighting, and acoustic ceilings. A public open house is planned for Saturday afternoon and evening, with guided tours of the building.

To Examine Woman in Officer's Murder

DETROIT (AP) — Accused of first degree murder because she allegedly supplied a gun to a robber in the slaying of a policeman, 18-year-old Mrs. Allison Jean Finley will be given an examination Monday.

She stood mute when arraigned yesterday and was ordered held without bond.

Policeman Sidney A. O'Connor, 28, was killed a week ago in a gun duel with Charles Mattock, 26, an ex-convict, while answering a Detroit bar's holdup alarm. Before he died, O'Connor fatally shot Mattock.

Police accuse Mrs. Finley, whose husband is in the Army in Germany, with taking the gun to Mattock at the bar shortly before the shooting. She told police she did not know Mattock was planning to rob the bar.

Revival of Traffic Group, Court Formation, Issues

BIRMINGHAM — Revival of a traffic safety committee and formation of a municipal court were discussed at last night's commission meeting, with Mayor Charles Renfrew planning to contact present members of a traffic group while Assistant City Manager Dana Whitman consults with university experts on courts.

The traffic committee, not too active for several years, might be of use if the city provided a location for driving practice, gave space for driver-training autos and shared costs of the program.

Richard Featherstone of the Board of Education has been placed in charge of the driver-education program and City Manager D. C. Egbert suggested that his program with the police and traffic safety committee should be coordinated. City owned property near the present school bus garage might be transferred to school usage according to discussion.

Parking lots discussion led to optimistic eyeing of a 171-acre plan for Parking Lot A with an alley 20 feet wide behind the Hamilton frontage and with a greenbelt shielding Oakland frontage homes. A six foot wall would have less upkeep problems and would break noise says City Planner Herbert Herzberg and is usually approved by the nation's city planners, he reports.

The two films warning youngsters against dangerous strangers, being shown to the thousands of school children here, have aroused interest of Pontiac, Royal Oak, Berkley, and Waterford, according to Lt. Henry S. Timms of the police department.

Shown to 1200 students at Holy Name and Pembroke last week, the films go to Baldwin, Franklin, Walnut Lake, Beverly and Pierce schools in the coming two weeks.

Pontiac's Optimist Club has asked to see the films and that service club's 60 members will see them next week. Waterford Township has asked to have its youngsters see the films and Berkley and Royal Oak children may, too.

Lt. Timms says as many as possible will have them, between scheduled showings in Birmingham. He will talk on the films purchased by four local service clubs at the Juvenile Officers Assn. meeting today in Detroit. Auxiliary policemen will see the films tonight.

Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley has reported a substantial increase of traffic accidents in the past year over the previous year's record, and has announced a stricter enforcement policy, although he thinks some of the increase was due to more thorough investigations. He cites 549 violations in 1955, against 333 in 1954.

There were 95 personal injury accidents, with 115 persons hurt. Only one fatality was listed, and property losses came to $146,726 in accident report estimates.

"We can't cut accidents without first reducing violations," he said, pointing out that "following too closely" was one violation that resulted in 160 traffic occurrences during the past year.

11 Injured in Canada Rail Crash at London

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Eleven persons were injured in the head-on collision of a westbound passenger train, traveling at about 15 miles an hour, with a standing eastbound passenger train last night.

The accident occurred 20 miles northeast of London on the London-Stratford-Toronto main line of the Canadian National Railways.

Ordinarily one of the trains would have been on a siding at Kelly's Station, a passing point south of St. Marys. Railroad officials withheld comment on the mixup.

None of the passengers and crew members suffered serious injuries.

George P. Gonder of London, engineer of the eastbound train, was treated at a hospital for head cuts and a gashed thigh. His condition was listed as fairly good. The other injured were treated by physicians at the scene.

The eastbound engine was derailed.

Engineer Predicts More 1-Way Streets

The city can expect more one-way streets in the near future because of the success of yesterday's first day of such changes on sections of Mt. Clemens and Mill streets.

"I expect to add to this program within a few weeks," City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel said today, "because it seems to relieve the congestion a great deal, which was expected."

He said everything went very well yesterday and that the police officers would be released from their stations they held yesterday to assist motorists. The barricades would remain for at least two more days, he added.

No accidents were reported because of these new changes, Vanderstempel declared, and no violation tickets were issued.

Seek to Restrict A-Bomb Testing

Dulles Tells of Talks With British; Ike, Eden May Discuss Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States and British governments have been talking for two years about a possible formula for limiting atomic and hydrogen bomb tests.

He said the subject may come up in conferences here next week between President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Anthony Eden.

Dulles said, however, there are so many technical difficulties in the way he does not see the prospect of agreement on a control formula on the horizon.

He also told a news conference that no discussion on limitation of tests has been held with the Soviet Union.

Dulles said he first discussed the problem of controlling or prohibiting atomic tests with Eden about two years ago when Eden was foreign secretary. Eden is due here next Monday.

The difficulty is, Dulles said, that there are many technical problems in the way of forming a practical proposition which could be put up to the Soviets. He made clear, however, that the search continues.

President Sees U.S. With High Production

strengthened anti-trust requirements to stimulate competition in business, measures to encourage foreign trade and free world cooperation, expanded social security, a broader minimum wage, greater unemployment compensation and more liberal housing legislation.

Eisenhower's basic theme was that lasting prosperity "depends far more on what individuals do for themselves" than on what the government can do.

But he declared that the government "has the capacity to moderate economic fluctuations without becoming a dominant factor in our economy." As an example, he cited the tighter curbs on credit imposed throughout the last year.

EXTEND PROSPERITY

The President stressed the need for extending prosperity to areas and groups that have not shared it. He proposed the creation in the Commerce Department of a new administration to help areas of chronic unemployment.

He suggested federal loans of up to 25 per cent of the cost of the projects, with states or local interests putting up not less than 15 per cent.

Reviewing the business situation, the chief executive said the nation is now producing goods and services at an annual rate of 397 billion dollars—28 billion above the previous record reached in 1953.

Local Auto Collision Injures Two Drivers

Mary P. Gibson, 47, of Clarkston, and Albert Moore, 35, of 125 N. Perry St., were treated for minor injuries yesterday and released from Pontiac General Hospital after a two-car collision at Auburn Ave. and Perry St.

Pontiac Police said the car driven by Mrs. Gibson collided with one driven by Roosevelt S. Jones, 48, of 189 Bassett St.

U.S. Drops Tax Case Against Pete Licavoli

DETROIT (AP) — The government has dropped income tax charges against Pete Licavoli, former Detroit gangster.

The government previously contended Licavoli owed some $250,000 for returns in 1948 through 1951. Joseph M. Louisell, Licavoli's attorney, said the statute of limitations outlaws the claims for any year but 1951 in a civil case.

Louisell said all that remains is to "get together" with the government on the amount Licavoli owes for 1951.

What Happens if an Electee Dies?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's heart attack—and the possibility he may run again—raise three questions which are seldom mentioned but always are present with any man seeking the highest office.

What happens if, after nomination by his party's convention, a presidential candidate dies or is disabled:

(1) Before election day? (2) After winning the election but before the College of Electors can formally vote him in? (3) After winning the election and getting the electoral vote but before he can take office?

The first and third questions are easier to answer than the second.

THE ANSWERS

No. 1—The Democratic or Republican National Committee, depending on which party nominated him, would name someone else as its party's presidential candidate. It could shove the vice presidential candidate into the top spot and pick another person to run for the vice presidency.

The committees get the authority to take care of this kind of emergency through a specific resolution approved every four years by their parties' national presidential conventions.

If a candidate died too close to election day—say, perhaps, the day before—the national committee might not have time to agree on a candidate to replace him because the members are so widely scattered.

A TRICKY ONE

No. 2—This is a tricky one which can't be flatly answered: What happens if a presidential candidate wins the election but dies or is disabled before the College of Electors formally votes him in? The election this year is on Nov. 6; the electors meet Dec. 17.

Remember: On Nov. 6 you do not directly vote for president or vice president. You vote for a slate of electors chosen by their party.

The electors have generally felt morally bound to vote for their party's candidate. But under the Constitution they are not legally bound to do so.

PICK ANYONE

Thus if the winning candidate died before the electors met, they could if they wished vote for anyone they liked.

A lawyer for one of the national committees said this would happen; The national committee would pick someone to replace the candidate who died and expect the electors to vote for him. But if he had not been on the ticket, meaning the voters never had a chance to approve or disapprove him, there might be turmoil.

What the national committee would probably do—this is only a guess—is this: name the successful vice presidential candidate as the presidential choice.

No. 3 — If a man who wins the election and is formally voted for as president by the College of Electors dies or is disabled before taking office, his vice presidential running mate would automatically take office as president. This is provided for in the Constitution's 20th Amendment.

Tells Farmers to Pay Social Security Taxes

DETROIT (AP)— Benjamin D. Waechter, district manager of the Detroit Social Security Office, reminded Michigan farmers today that Jan. 31 is the deadline for filing reports and paying social security taxes on workers employed last year.

Waechter said many farmers will be paying the tax for the first time.

The tax is 4 per cent on wages between $100 and $4,200. Two per cent should have been deducted from the employe's wages.

Self - employed farmers also must pay a social security tax of 3 per cent on their own net earnings up to $4,200, Waechter said. The deadline for this return is April 15.

2 Moms Plead Guilty to Robbing Truck

DETROIT (AP)—Two Detroit-area mothers pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of stealing $100 worth of copper wire from a utility repair truck.

Police quoted Mrs. Dorothy Surma, 37, as saying she planned to sell the wire and use the money for a christening party for her youngest child.

They said Mrs. Eleanor Trevino, 26, told them she didn't want any money for herself but was "just being neighborly."

Justice of the Peace George E. Wicklund of Dearborn Township released the two under personal bond pending sentencing Saturday.

Mrs. Surma has five children. Mrs. Trevino has four. Both live in nearby Wayne.

Claims States Failed on Public Welfare

DETROIT (AP)—A consultant to the Hoover Commission on government reorganization says the federal government stepped into matters of general public welfare because "most states and cities failed to put themselves in a position to serve."

Meyer Kestnbaum, the consultant and president of Hart, Shaffner & Marx Co., Chicago, told the Detroit Economic Club yesterday most states were happy to let the federal government take over so they could "escape political responsibility."

That way, he said, most states said they personally were not responsible for higher taxes, but, at the same time, were demanding "their full share" from Washington.

Kestnbaum said "there are too many local governments and not enough local government," and urged the states to study their fiscal powers to see if they can't do a better job for their people without calling on Washington.

Reds to Resume Disarming Talks

12-Nation U.N. Group OKs Making Progress Report After Confab

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The big "atomic" powers were committed today to resume their private disarmament talks soon and make a progress report about six weeks afterward.

The 12-nation U. N. Disarmament Commission agreed late yesterday to that schedule—proposed by Britain—for its five-member subcommittee.

The subcommittee consists of Britain, Canada, France, the Soviet Union and the United States. They are expected to reconvene in London early in March.

The six-week interim report will enable the other seven members of the commission to keep a closer watch on the secret talks than last year. Then the subcommittee held 46 meetings from February into October before reporting.

The Soviet Union and the United States yesterday were still far apart on the Eisenhower plan for mutual U. S.-Soviet aerial inspection of military sites, designed to prevent surprise attack. The U.N. General Assembly had asked the subcommittee to give priority to "such confidence-building measures" in efforts to arrive eventually at a comprehensive disarmament agreement.

Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev told the commission the United States sought to supplant discussion of such an agreement with discussion of a mere inspection scheme. He said that scheme "would actually be transformed into a military intelligence plan," would intensify mutual distrust and would stimulate the arms race.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. replied that his government favors a comprehensive agreement and that the President's "open sky" plan would promote the international confidence indispensable to broader plans. He said any government that turned the Eisenhower plan down would merit "suspicion of contemplating an aggression."

Women's Scarves Hide Identity of Gun Trio

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Women's sheer scarves, gloves and hats concealed both the race and the identity of three gunmen who took $6,000 to $8,000 from a beer distributing firm yesterday.

The scarves completely covered the face and neck of the bandits.

They herded 11 employes into two washrooms while waving pistols and a sawed-off shotgun after entering John Martin Distributors, Inc., 10 minutes before closing time.

The haul, including about $3,000 in cash and possibly $5,000 in checks, was the day's receipts.

Architects Oppose Toll Road in Detroit

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects today opposed routing the proposed Saginaw-Flat Rock toll road through Detroit.

The association said in a formal resolution that the toll road route proposed would cut through nearly five miles of vitally-needed west side parks in Detroit.

The State Turnpike Authority should be forced to compensate any community through which it passes for the destruction of public parks, the resolution said.

But, it added, that since no open land is available to replace the Detroit west side parks the toll road should be kept outside the city's boundaries.

JACKSON (AP)—David Overton, 17, of Detroit faces the next 60 days in jail and the next two years on probation, following his sentence for negligent homicide yesterday.

Overton was the driver of a car involved in a collision in which six persons were killed and nine injured last Oct. 2. Circuit Judge Harry Boardman also ordered the youth to pay $300 in court costs involved in his trial. A jury convicted Overton.

Kentucky May Build National Monument

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Kentucky site of one of the first forts built by Daniel Boone and fellow pioneers may become a national monument.

A big step toward establishment of the National Historic Park was taken by the Senate Government Operations Committee yesterday.

It stamped its okay on a bill by Sen. Clements (D-Ky) to give about 7½ acres of land at Boonesborough to the Pioneer National Monument Assn.

The land has been held by the government as a part of the lock and dam area at the Kentucky River site of old Fort Boonesborough, one of the oldest settlements in Kentucky.

Sale of the land, proposed by the government two years ago when it was declared no longer necessary for navigation of the Kentucky River, was opposed by Kentucky residents.

They urged recognition of its historic value and pointed out that the monument association had been organized to establish a monument at the site.

Natural gas is usually found with crude oil in underground vaults of stone, shale and sand.

Pontiac City Affairs

8-Point Agenda Licked in Thirty Minute Session

A far cry from last week's meeting in which 100 spectators packed the chambers, only two men were in the gallery last night to watch the City Commission whip through an eight-point agenda in 30 minutes.

The commissioners tackled the last big hurdle on the 1956 budget when they adopted the appropriation ordinance to cover the budget.

The budget now becomes a matter of record as the city clerk notifies the city assessor of the adopted resolution of the appropriation ordinance.

The plan calls for a record expenditure of $4,891,828.08 which is approximately $300,000 higher than the 1955 budget.

In other business last night, the City Commission accepted a warranty deed from Frank and Lena Stout for Lot 20 of assessor's plat 131 at the corner of East Pike and South Parke streets, and approved a $7,950 mortgage for one year for this lot between the city and the Stouts.

Another warranty deed from Andrew and Mary Pappas was accepted in other action, for part of Lots 24 and 25 of assessor's plat 131.

With Commissioner Floyd P. Miles voting against the request the Commission approved an application from Stroh's Distributors, Inc. for a new warehouse license at 61 Jackson street.

A petition request for curb, gutter and blacktopping on West Longfellow from Carlisle to Baldwin was declared a public necessity last night by the Commission.

Annexation Rule Sought on Site for Courthouse

A two-year-old annexation case was brought into the open again at last night's City Commission meeting when attorney George A. Cram requested the city attorney to make a ruling on the validity of the annexation.

In October 1954 the city annexed a four acre section of land located between West boulevard and Telegraph road after the Waterford Township Board agreed to detach the triangular section.

In last night's action, Cram suggested the ruling be made after the Commission heard the first reading of an ordinance to incorporate this tract of land into precinct 31.

At the time, the land was acquired by the city to complete a site for a projected Oakland County courthouse. The proposed site was later rejected by Pontiac voters.

Cram claimed that in the original petition to annex this parcel of land, the petition stated that there were no qualified electors residing in the area.

Later investigation showed two qualified voters living in the area, Cram said, which makes it mandatory for the annexation to be brought to the vote of the people which was not done.

Commissioner Philip E. Rowston (District 2) moved that the matter be referred to the city attorney for an opinion.

Notification Needed for Payment Change

Eligible GI insurance policyholders who wish to change the method of payment for the regular 1956 dividend must notify Veterans Administration of the payment method they prefer, Lloyd H. Jameson, manager of the Detroit regional office, said recently.

Jameson said notification should be made to the VA office handling the account in sufficient time before payment date to enable VA to make the change.

About five million policyholders will benefit from 1956 National Service Life Insurance dividends amounting to $195 million, Jameson said. An additional 370,000 policyholders will share $24 million in dividends from U. S. Government Life Insurance.

THE LITTLE DOG SHOW — 2

The Dalmatian

Today we show the "firehouse favorite" — the Dalmatian.

Originating in Dalmatia, Europe, before 1790 this dog is large and strong with lots of endurance.

Often found in firehouses, the Dalmatians are good watchdogs and faithful pets.

Dan's father is a fireman and his dog is a favorite with the men of Hook and Ladder Co. No.10. His official name is Fearless Fire-Laddie, but Dan calls him Spotty.

Paste this picture down on cereal box cardboard and color with crayons. Dan wears a red helmet with white shield. His shirt and top of his boots are red but his pants are dark blue. Spotty is white with black spots. The end of his nose and nozzle is pink.

Cut out the picture carefully. Fold the dog forward at the dotted line and fold the name panel forward as in the small sketch.

Coast Murder Case Jury in Sixth Day

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The persevering Burton Abbott murder trial jury today starts its sixth day of deliberation.

Abbott, 27-year-old accounting student, is charged with the kidnap-murder of Stephanie Bryan, 14-year-old Berkeley schoolgirl.

The state has demanded the death sentence.

JURY ASKS DELAY

The 12 jurors were unwilling to say their job was hopeless. They asked delay of their dinner last night to stay in session until after 8 p.m., when they retired to their hotel.

Abbott was told yesterday by his jailers of published reports, entirely speculative, that the jury stood 11-1 for conviction. The jailers said the report left Abbott downcast.

The crux of continued jury discussion apparently was over Abbott's alibi. He insisted he left Alameda for his fishing cabin 250 miles north five hours before Stephanie vanished in Berkeley April 28.

Colorado River Project Deserves O.K. by House

In his message to Congress President Eisenhower promised a comprehensive legislative program for water conservation.

He also urged enactment of the Colorado River water storage project already approved by the Senate. Since that vote the bill has been modified by the deletion of the Echo Park Dam which would have destroyed Dinosaur National Monument.

As it stands today the project calls for four major dams and 11 smaller ones. The four large structures would control the river, end floods and provide power. The others would take water out of the river and channel it to municipal, industrial and farm use.

The Colorado is the last untapped water source of the Mountain West, the "last great water hole" of the area. Because there are no storage basins in its upper reaches, the project is designed to correct this lack. The result will be an end to the loss of 60 per cent of the Colorado's water now flowing unused into the Gulf of California.

There is no public versus private power issue involved. The power will be sold to the area's private power companies, REA co-operatives and public agencies.

What the people of the West like most about the whole proposal is that it will pay for itself eventually. At the same time it will end a tremendous erosion problem and supply power for industry, water for farms and help create new recreation areas.

As a measure which would do much to make our country more prosperous and more efficient, this legislation deserves favorable action by the House early in the session.

Modernizing India

Introduction of a new currency in India will highlight a program designed also to modernize that country's systems of weights and measures.

The big feature of the new currency is the change to decimals from the old system under which rupees, annas and pice worked out into multiples of twelve and sixteen. Under the new system 100 pice will be one rupee.

India has been wise in deciding to abandon its completely confusing welter of weights and measures which varied almost from village to village, in favor of the metric system. Similar wisdom has been displayed in the decision to make the change gradually.

The start will be made in the army. Soldiers will be taught to draw rations in metric quantities. Another change will result in the elimination of railways' furlong (⅛ mile) markers. These will be replaced by kilometer markings indicating ⅝ of a mile.

The new currency is scheduled to come into use on the anniversary of the birth of Gandhi, October 2. Meanwhile, there will be an extensive campaign of education so that India's millions will be better prepared for changes.

While it may be 15 years before all of these reforms become wholly operative, they should do much to increase the efficiency of India's commercial life.

Soekarno's Bad Blunder

Among latest political developments in Jakarta, capital city of Indonesia, is one that bodes extremely ill for the people of that young republic.

President Soekarno has made the disturbing decision to accept Communist participation in his government. In commenting on this move he expressed the belief that "Nationalism, Marxism and Islam can be united."

But only a brief glance back into history is needed to prove that Nationalism and Communism can't be united without disastrous results. Certainly they didn't mix in China.

The end result there was elimination of the Nationalists, creation of another still unsolved international problem and communization of the entire country of 500,000,000 Chinese. Similarly in Eastern Europe democratic and nationalist leaders attempted to work with the Communists after World War II.

What happened?

Communist Russia came out on top with life and death control over everybody in that part of the Continent.

So will it be with Indonesia.

The Safety Belts

Local Drivers Forget; But Truck Figures Prove Value

Defeat: What's never bitter if you don't swallow it.

"I usually forget to buckle it up," is the comment from most Pontiac drivers whose cars are equipped with safety belts. From a publication that surely should know,

The National Trucker,

I learn that the belts are not popular with many truck drivers. They claim it "fences them in." In a poll of 250 drivers for a trucking line that does a nation-wide business, 40 per cent favored them, 20 per cent were opposed to them, and the rest were undecided. However, the same fleet whose trucks have covered 1,500,000 miles since the belts were installed had seven serious accidents in that time, and all drivers who had their belts fastened escaped injury. The only casualty was a driver who did not have his belt fastened.

The owner of a gas station in a restricted speed zone on the Dixie Highway tells me that his sales increase 50 per cent on days when the road is well patrolled by scout cars. "At other times they drive so fast they don't even see my station," he says.

A letter just received from

Elias Whitcomb,

now of Detroit, says, "I saw your item about the death in Oregon of

Robert F. Monroe,

who was a prominent Pontiac industrialist 50 years ago. He was my first boss, and no man ever had a better one."

The current issue of Esquire Magazine mentions of Baldwin Road as one of the world's top fisherwomen.

Mrs. George Bass

Following a long observation, it is the claim of

of Williams Lake that more robins would winter with us if the blue jays did not pester them so much. Speaking of blue jays,

Spring's surely on the way. The seat sale has started for the opener at Briggs Stadium on Tuesday, April 17; also for all of the games there during the 1956 season.

Charges that the present day grownups are afraid of ice skating are made in a letter from of Walled Lake, who asserts that in recent years it has become almost exclusively a children's sport. At the age of 57, Mr. Renshaw still enjoys cutting curlicues on the ice. Wonder who is Pontiac's oldest ice skater?

Foster Renshaw

Now He Tells Us!

David Lawrence Says:

Humphrey Looms as Republican Choice Should Eisenhower Refuse Nomination

WASHINGTON — Something of a chill has come over a number of Republicans who have been confident President Eisenhower would be a candidate for re-election. It comes in a sentence from the "Salute for Eisenhower" dinners speech. Ike said:

"That answer will be forthcoming as quickly as it is firmly fixed in my mind. I trust that it will not unduly reflect concern for self . . ."

What does "unduly" mean? Is the President saying he hopes the people will not feel he is thinking too much about further health impairment if he decides not to run? If so, then "unduly" could be a hint of a decision to say "No."

Others think the word "unduly" could mean the opposite—that, as a candidate, the President hoped it would not be taken to mean he was thinking only of himself in an ambitious or office-seeking sense.

It all adds up to the fact Eisenhower is trying to be absolutely candid on the subject. He has revealed he will have to take care of his health in the future.

This has led to statements by Senator Fulbright and others that America "cannot afford a part-time president." Yet who can be sure any candidate elected on either ticket can retain good health. Could not a campaign based on such a personal question not react against those who used such an attack?

MUST BE DECISION

This much is becoming apparent —there must be a decision soon on how long Republicans can wait for the President's answer. Senator Knowland is being entered in various primaries. It is a safe bet nobody else will run the risk of failing to get the support of the Eisenhower fans who will wait up to the last minute before throwing support to any candidate.

The Democratic leader of the House, John McCormack of Massachusetts, has said he thinks Eisenhower has been trying to let his party know he will not run and that delay has something to do with getting the President's legislative program through Congress. The trouble with this theory is that Congress habitually doesn't get going on the decisive phases of the legislative process until June or July. It hardly seems plausible Eisenhower would wait that long before announcing his decision.

George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury, has been receiving a lot of attention among politicians. It has been argued his former connection with big business interests would hurt him politically. If the campaign is to be waged on economic issues—the prosperity of the country and the need for fiscal soundness in administration—the secretary of the treasury fits the Republican concept.

FOLLOW IKE'S LEAD

Little is known of Humphrey's views on foreign policy. He has been represented as more of an isolationist than an internationalist. Up to now, he has insisted that foreign aid be on a selective basis—given in countries where it would do America most good in the "Cold War."

If Humphrey has the President's backing, it would remove doubts as to policy in international affairs. Any GOP candidate will have to pledge himself to carry out Eisenhower policies, domestic and foreign.

Many in the political arena think it is much too early to make predictions, still the idea of a Humphrey-Nixon ticket is not as remote as it might seem at first glance. All this on the assumption that, if Ike decides to run, the ticket will again be Eisenhower and Nixon.

Brady Lists Good Points About Natural Childbirth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

What happens to the poor little tyke when he's born in a hospital? Bright lights, ether smells, masks, instruments, bustling doctors and nurses. He is immediately separated from his mother and carted away to a nursery full of howling, lonely infants—a hectic atmosphere indeed for a new life.

Home is the place to have a baby. It is better for the mother, too. She doesn't have to go through that hospital routine of strange people and strange surroundings at a time when she needs serenity and confidence.

You aren't rudely awakened at 6 a.m. to eat whatever they bring you . . . sleep until nine if you wish and eat what you darn please. Them's my sentiments.

Colleen Gray (Mrs. Bill Bidlack), the movie star, had her first baby in the hospital, so she knows what she's talking about.

"Toward the end of the first stage of labor they gave me a shot of something," she said, "and the next thing I knew I had a baby."

Well, my goodness, too many young women argue, isn't that the boon modern obstetrics has brought to women?

WHY SHOULD THEY?

Why should a woman choose to undergo the throes of childbirth without benefit of anesthetics and sedatives when the use of these wonderful discoveries would enable her to doze or sleep until it is all over?

Women who echo that argument just show their ignorance.

What their "specialists" do not tell them is that the anesthetics and sedatives so freely used to dull or altogether black out consciousness of what is going on is responsible for asphyxia at birth and for a serious injury to development of brain cells in some instances—the babies, if they live, are more or less feebleminded.

COLLEEN SAYS

Colleen Gray explained: "They told me I should have been grateful. I wasn't. They had put me out against my wishes. I had wanted to know what having a baby was like. So when Bruce was going to be born I decided the shot business wouldn't happen again. I would have natural childbirth."

And she had natural childbirth at home. She says "We are planning to have more children. They'll arrive by natural childbirth too, God willing."

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Would Have City Offices Remain Open Holidays

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Now at the beginning of the year is a good time to question why the county and city offices and public library are closed so many days of the year.

The doors are closed on all legal holidays as well as Saturdays. The industries and stores are open on these days, so why should people be put to the inconvenience of finding the doors closed to our public facilities on these days?

The excuse that they are legal holidays is silly. A legal holiday would mean that no purchase would be legal, no newspaper bought or gasoline sold. How many legal holidays has Congress passed?

It is just as logical for the firemen, policemen and water works and sewage department to shut up shop as for the offices of the city to be closed so much of the time and have business held up.

A Taxpayer

'Industry Should Support Civic Improvement Plan'

This reader is also in favor of a junior college or city college for the city of Pontiac.

A few days ago I read in this paper billions are to be spent for expansion in the largest corporation in the world because it has great faith in the economic future of our country.

What would contribute more to future success of a corporation or several divisions of the same corporation, than a higher education available within the means of the parents of personnel it would eventually employ?

Since residing in this city, I cannot recall a contribution by either of these divisions for any civic achievement in the city. Neither can I recall a published refusal on their part.

Maybe this is the reason the city of Pontiac is slower progressing compared to other cities that have had less prosperous prospects. It appears to me the brunt of progress in this city is and always has been the sole burden of the residents, rather than the industry located here.

This is by no means meant to be a reflection against the corporations of which I am an employe. It is my contention that local industry should be the initial source of solicitation supporting an achievement of the type aforementioned, especially when industry is as predominate as it is in Pontiac.

Six-footer David Durrant, a 41-year-old butcher and owner of two shops, has challenged Britain's largest union, the Transport and General Workers Union.

And the bummarees?

That's a quaint old English nickname for the 600 licensed porters—all TGWU members — at Smithfield market who lug the heavy sides of beef from the wholesalers' counters to the retailers' trucks.

DO-IT HIMSELF PLAN

Durrant says he is fighting for the right to carry the meat himself and pass the saving in porters' fees to his customers. At a time of rising food prices, that's popular with the housewives. But the bummarees insist they alone are entitled to do the toting—and they threaten a strike should the butcher ultimately win.

"No one will take any meat away from the market except a licensed porter," declares their spokesman John Spencer Tribe, styled the "King of Smithfield."

Durrant opened his fight by winning a court test case. But when he tried to exercise his new-won legal right to haul his own meat, wholesalers — fearing a strike — refused to sell him supplies. So he was forced to use the porters.

PENNY A POUND

The butcher claims he pays on the average 5 to 6 pounds — $14 to $16.80—weekly to porters to carry his meat and that it adds a penny a pound to his shop price of meat.

* * *

Retail meat traders have backed Durrant, appealing to the lord mayor of the City of London to intervene. The city owns the market, the wholesalers are its tenants and it licenses the bummarees.

* * *

The 11,000-strong national union of small shopkeepers also pledged Durrant its support. President Tom Lynch said "the first duty of wholesalers is to their retail customers and not to powerful trade unions."

UNIONIST RAPPED

When he handed down his verdict in favor of Durrant, Judge Block criticized Tribe for trying to enforce a monopoly "which would obviously have the effect of increasing prices to housewives."

He estimated Smithfield porters earned 25 pounds—$70—a week. The union countered that the basic wage for some 500 porters was about 10 pounds a week and that the other 100 average between 13 and 14 pounds.

* * *

A TGWU branch official at Smithfield declared the union would take whatever action was necessary "to preserve the livelihood of the members we represent." Housewives belonging to the London Housewives' Assn. staged a march on Smithfield "to protest against tyranny and the victimization of housewives by the bummarees."

* * *

They were greeted by good-natured jeering and wisecracks from the porters.

The fight goes on.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Widened Perspective, Common Sense Aid in Diminishing Exaggerated Fears

Lorna is like millions of pampered city housewives. Her perspective is so limited and she is so selfish that she now has insomnia. Three more babies would be far better for her than the Salk vaccine for her daughter. Parents of large families seldom grow neurotic. And they drop into deep slumber without sleeping pills.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-356: Lorna D., aged 29, is the mother of an only child.

"Dr. Crane, I am so nervous I can't sleep," she began. "My little girl is almost 5 years of age.

"I don't know whether she is immune to polio or not, although we had our doctor give her the Salk vaccine.

"Every time she has a fever, I am distracted with fear and uncertainty. What can I do to get some sound sleep again?

"I'll admit I've been taking sleeping tablets regularly the last few weeks. Now I can't go to bed without one."

MEDICAL IDOLATRY

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing," runs an adage which physicians certainly endorse.

To offset such limited scientific information about medico-psychology, your progressive editor runs this column.

It presents much needed facts. For example, the polio scare is largely imaginary, whether we inoculate our children or don't use the Salk vaccine.

"Most children by the age of four years have already had polio," runs a statement in one of our medical journals.

Nowadays almost ever case of a temperature in a child during the summer months, is automatically diagnosed as polio.

It is obviously wise to use any well authenticated vaccine to help lessen the spread of serious ailments, but God is the best medicine we physicians have to offer.

Besides, you must learn to play the batting averages in life, and also employ "horse sense." Children are far more likely to be crippled by automobiles than by polio.

So learn to expand your selfish, myopic perspective and consider eternal verities. Thus, a large family inevitably widens a woman's outlook.

For example, Lorna is very selfish for depriving her little girl of siblings. Lorna isn't sterile, and has a husband who likes children so it is unfair to stop their family with only one youngster.

Besides, if she had three or four, she'd not be so alarmed about polio. And she'd have so much work to do that she would not fret over insomnia.

Mothers of large broods of youngsters seldom need any chemical aids like sleeping potions to give them slumber.

You insomnia victims should also realize that as long as you lie in the horizontal plane, your body gets almost as much benefit even though you are awake, as if you were sound asleep.

For that horizontal position lowers your blood pressure and slows down your pulse rate, thus giving your heart its needed rest.

Relief for the heart is the main purpose of sleep, anyway, so don't make more work for your heart by swallowing unnecessary chemicals.

Instead, lie back on pillow, switch on a bed lamp, and read from some good educational magazine or book. The Bible is ideal.

Obviously, however, don't regale yourself with murder mysteries or other prods to emotional tension.

POLIO HYSTERIA

If my 5 children had been younger, I still would not have fretted over whether or not they had received the Salk vaccine.

But I recommend such polio shots to the average parent, and here is why:

If a parent does not utilize such shots and if polio should later show any paralyzing effects on that child, then that parent would blame himself. His conscience would torture him endlessly.

So, chiefly to relieve such parental anxiety, I would advise the shots, regardless of whether they give adequate immunity to polio or not.

But your child is probably just as safe without them, so don't fret about the matter.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Africa—The Awakening Continent

Racial Separation Philosophy Can Cause Holocaust

(International attention has been focused on South Africa's racial policies and the Arab-Israel dispute. Here are first-hand reports from Rep. Frances P. Bolton, who completed a 34,000-mile tour of Africa. This is the second of three articles.)

By REP. FRANCES P. BOLTON (R-OHIO)

At the southernmost tip of Africa, the burning issue is known as "Apartheid" — racial separation. One can only hope some understanding may come to the Union of South Africa before there is a holocaust.

Up in the northeast corner, Egyptians are embroiled in Arab border disputes with Israel. My visit left me with a strong feeling that the possibility of a settlement exists despite unfavorable news and powerful emotions.

Between these extremes is the giant African continent — approaching revolution. There is no question but that the African must and will be his own master, but if he is to emerge from the past where even the wheel was unknown, he will need to learn many things. It is no simple matter, this overwhelming urge welling up out of the very ground of Africa.

I could not help thinking as I toured this vast continent that everything gets born out of darkness by way of the road of pain. Yes, we Westerners have made our share of mistakes in Africa, too.

For more than three months, I traveled through this world of paradoxes and extremes — fantastic beauty side-by-side with brutality and horror, joy and gaiety next door to suffering and misery, unbelievable slums near splendid modern buildings and universities and assembly halls.

LINE OF SEPARATION

Nowhere, it seemed, was the line of demarcation more sharply drawn than in South Africa, where Prime Minister J. G. Strydom is pushing ahead with his strict program of separating "Europeans" from "non-Europeans" — whites from colored, Indians and Africans.

Since my visit to South Africa, I have been asked if I felt conditions were as bad as most reports seem to indicate. To this, I say no—at least not on the surface. But I should also add that it is all a very complicated business.

I feel strongly that every country has a right to make its own mistakes in its own way. The South African leaders are trying to solve the problem of different races in their own peculiar way. Elsewhere in Africa, the British, the French, the Belgians and the Portuguese have their different ways, each trying to come to a solution.

One of the things we fail to realize is that South Africa was a barren, empty country when the first white settlers arrived. They killed off the Hottentots and Zulus as we in our country killed the American Indians. The Bantu tribes also were killed as they came down from the north.

The "Afrikanders" or native whites created their own country where once there was nothing, and now they feel it is their land. They have no other. Now outnumbered four to one, the "Afrikander" feels he is fighting for his very life.

If they feel they cannot live with the natives and must segregate them, and if they have the power to do so, is it not their own business?

MUST DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Each of us must evaluate this problem according to our own conscience. I myself feel what the South African leaders are doing is contrary to the universal law of evolution.

Although my survey trip was confined to Africa south of the Sahara, I returned home by way of the Near East. After visiting both Egypt and Israel, I feel it is more possible today than it was six months ago to bring these countries into a conference, despite their recent border clashes.

Emotions are so tense that I believe both the Egyptians and Israelis realize they must soon sit down and discuss problems. Indeed, I believe they would be relieved to do so.

EVERYTHING IS CHANGING

I have returned with a deep sense of the need of better understanding on our part of the motivations and the tribal customs of the African people. In the past we have never really tried to know their ways. We have always tried to impose ours on them.

Now, this is changing. Our government people are studying traditions, religions, languages, health methods and other problems of the Africans and are trying to approach them in ways they can understand and accept.

The old saying that one must have something to give before one takes something away should apply to the Africans above all.

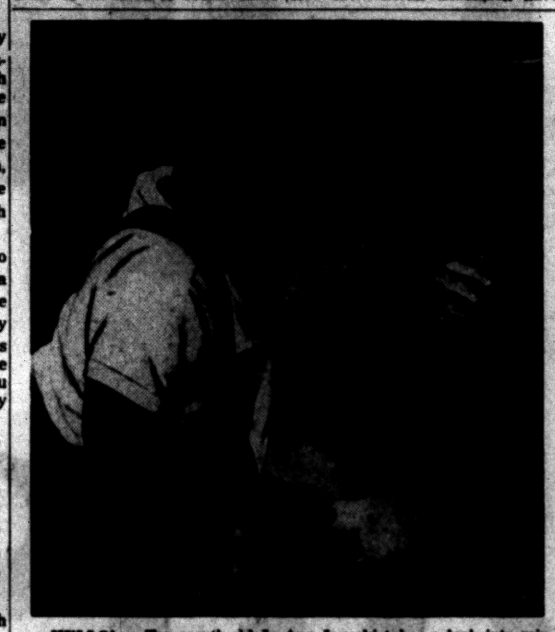

When one takes away the century - old tribal discipline, with nothing to replace it, the African can rightfully feel that their tribal rights have been violated. Though these tribal customs differ, they were all exceedingly strict, and enforcement was recognized as a necessity and was accepted by the people.

To destroy these disciplines before the African tribesmen have accepted other methods can't bring anything but confusion.

I am quite certain that what we must do first of all is to win the confidence of those in authority, and then the people themselves. This takes time and continuity of personnel. Perhaps this last, most of all.

Scot Battalion Off to Middle East Duty

LONDON (AP) — Battle-ready Scottish Highland infantrymen took off for the troubled Middle East Monday to the skirl of bagpipes wailing "Will Ye No' Come Back Again."

Colorful ceremonies marked the beginning of a three-day airlift carrying 600 troops to strengthen the British military bastion of Cyprus.

The tartan-uniformed Highlanders are joining paratroopers who were flown out last week as "fire brigade" battalions in the event further trouble breaks out in the eastern Mediterranean area.

The Highland battalion, mostly draftees averaging 20 years of age, will be used anywhere in the Middle East they are needed to protect British lives and interests.

Indian painting, done on rock, bone, hides, wood, pottery and cotton cloth, was already an ancient art when Spanish conquistadors forded the Rio Grande and moved into the American Southwest.

Alabama Buses Stalled in Strike

Negro Boycott Enters 8th Week; Compromise Rejected by Leaders

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A boycott of Montgomery buses entered its eighth week today with no letup in sight despite a compromise proposal announced by the City Commission seeking a settlement.

There was no immediate word from boycott leaders over their reaction to the plan announced Saturday.

The Rev. M. L. King, Montgomery Negro minister and spokesman for the protesting Negroes, said his group was not represented at a meeting with the City Commission from which the compromise plan came.

PEOPLE NOT READY

"I don't think our people are ready to go back on the buses," he said after the plan was announced.

The commission said the proposal was agreed on at a meeting with Negro ministers and representatives of the bus company.

King said afterward that no ministers "with authority to speak for our people here in Montgomery" attended the meeting as far as he was able to find out.

EQUAL RESERVATION

The proposal included a pledge that courtesy would be extended to all patrons and that seats be reserved on each bus for white and Negro passengers.

Ten seats at the front would be reserved for whites and 10 seats in the back for Negroes. During rush hours special buses would be used to carry Negroes exclusively to and from predominantly Negro sections.

The Negro spokesmen had asked for a "first come, first served" policy on all bus seats. They charged that bus drivers were discourteous to Negro patrons.

Civil Rights Plan Outlined During CIO Conference

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — An eight-point civil rights program for 1956 was outlined by Roy L. Reuther to conclude the AFL-CIO United Auto Workers three-day Fair Practices and Civil Rights Conference in Grand Rapids.

Reuther, director of the UAW's Political Action Department, told delegates to the third biennial session that one of the first goals is "an effective federal fair employment practices commission."

He said another UAW goal this year is to make available federal funds for education, housing and welfare advancement "only to those programs that comply with constitutional bars against segregation."

The union's civil rights program seeks to have lynching made a federal crime. The UAW, Reuther stated, also wants "to wipe out interference with the right to vote" and seeks abolishment of the poll tax.

It also will press for a civil rights department in the Department of Justice, headed by the assistant attorney general; a permanent federal commission on civil rights; the outlawing of remaining segregation in interstate commerce and establishment of "a majority rule in the Senate and House of representatives," Reuther said.

House Dem Chief Says Adlai May Lose Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic Leader McCormack says his party has a "wealth of candidates" for the 1956 presidential nomination and he "wouldn't be a bit surprised" if Adlai Stevenson failed to be nominated.

The Massachusetts Democrat said his party's presidential race is "wide open." He named seven others besides Stevenson as possible nominees, including Gov. Williams of Michigan, House Speaker Rayburn, Sen. Russell (Ga), Sen. Symington (Mo), Gov. Harriman of New York, Sen. Kefauver (Tenn) and Sen. Hennings (Mo).

McCormack spoke in a TV interview Sunday.

Barking Phone Call Spells Cage for Dogs

DETROIT (AP) — Twenty-two dogs broke out of their cage at the pound in Highland Park Monday while the attendant was off duty.

Sensing freedom they raced about the building and a good time was had by all until they were booby-trapped.

One pooch knocked over the telephone. It is connected directly with the police station switchboard. Answering the buzzer, the police operator heard barks, yipes and growls.

A squad car detail rushed to the pound. Police found the dogs sniffing at the main gate. The dogs were recaged.

Williams Lauds Gov. Meyner

Praises New Jersey Head on Firing Judge for Puerto Rico Jibe

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams has praised Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey for firing a Superior Court judge after the jurist commented that Puerto Rico was "one of the filthiest places I have ever seen."

"Governor, I should like to congratulate you for firing a judge who showed discrimination against a group in his remarks," Williams said in an appearance on Meyner's weekly radio-television program.

The reference was to Meyner's removal from the state payroll of Superior Court Judge Frank T. Lloyd Jr. following Lloyd's comment on Puerto Rico.

At the time Meyner fired Lloyd on Jan. 17, he said the judge's term had expired in September. Meyner said he had received evidence of Lloyd's "intemperate conduct" and cited the remark about Puerto Rico as an example.

Earlier, Williams addressed the mid-winter conference of the New Jersey Department of the American Veterans of World War II and Korea (Amvets). He lauded the organization for eliminating discrimination among members.

Williams, a member of the Amvets, received an award from the New Jersey department for his activities on behalf of veterans and their dependents.

Asks Inspection of State Diesels

Public Service Official Wants Rails to Check Operating Methods

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission today asked railroads operating one-car diesel trains to review their operating procedures in the light of Sunday's disastrous crackup in Los Angeles.

Joseph H. McCarthy, chairman, said the commission is concerned over the fact that the cars have only one man in the cab.

"This is nothing to get alarmed about," he said. "The cars are perfectly safe. We just want the railroads to advise us of their operating procedures and let us know what they are doing to prevent a recurrence of the West Coast accident in Michigan."

The engineer of the commuter train in which 29 persons were killed near Los Angeles said he "blacked out" just before rounding a curve.

McCarthy said safety measures are primarily a responsibility of individual railroads, although the Interstate Commerce Commission has certain safety regulations.

He said the single-car units are operated on several New York Central runs in the Lower Peninsula and by the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railroad between St. Ignace and Ishpeming.

Warns on Diphtheria

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Dr. Winston B. Prothro, city-county health officer, has urged Kent County residents to be certain their "immunization against diphtheria is adequate." He said no diphtheria cases have been reported in the county but added that the disease "continues to be a medical and public health problem because natural immunity has declined greatly."

Cape Good Hope, despite popular belief, is not the southernmost tip of Africa. That distinction, says the National Geographic Society, goes to Cape Agulhas to the southeast, which is 33 miles nearer the South Pole.

Bob Considine Says:

Death Breaks Ranks of Newspaper World

LOS ANGELES (INS)—We were piecing together the account of the great train wreck in Los Angeles Sunday night when Hicks Coney, assistant city editor of the Los Angeles Examiner, threaded his way through the organized chaos of a city room turning out a running story and dropped a story on the side of my desk.

It began:

"HAVANA (INS) — Ward Greene, general manager of King Features Syndicate, died in Havana tonight of a heart attack. . ."

It was hard to go back to the train wreck. Hard to go back to the torrents of heart-rending information that flowed in from the Examiner's crack staff and from the people of the INS bureau here.

I wrote of massive death and terrible destruction while thinking of a man whose voice I never heard raised. I wrote of screams and shouts and deeds of bravery and weakness, and garish floodlights and firemen cutting through the metal tombs of men, women and children.

But the memory of a gentle, enormously competent man who is no longer with our company kept coming back.

NO FILM TYPE

Ward Greene made a sucker out of the Hollywood and Broadway prototype of the newspaperman. He never stuffed a copy of the American Mercury in his hip pocket, never was seen with a pencil resting on top of his ear, never wore a crushed hat on the back of his head.

He was a discreet and ever so honest man who made news and later features his business and ran the world's largest feature organization with less fanfare than a man would run a small store on a side street.

I've never known a man who made words count more than Greene. He was one of those rare mortals who spoke only when he had something to say. The world can ill afford to lose his likes. Our trade is poorer and it is sorely saddened.

If President Eisenhower says no, and I think he will, the nation's political reporters might just as well move to California for the next year.

They'll have to come here anyway for the GOP convention in San Francisco in August. But if the Pres calls it a day, soon, they'll have to come right then and there—for the immediate future of the Republican party seems to be invested in this state.

MANY CHOICES

California, which never produced a native son who became President, now has in Richard Nixon a man within a breath of the job. In Chief Justice Warren it has a man generally accorded best chance of defeating any Democratic nominee.

In Sen. Knowland it has the leader of the conservative (or Taft) wing of the party. And in Gov. Goody Knight it has a man who owns the state's Republican machinery, will boss the big California delegation at the convention and whose support may make or break a nominee.

The dope here seems to be that Knight is anti-Nixon and that Knowland has cooled off on the vice president, though not to the extent that Knight has.

Conversely, Nixon gets bigger nationally all the time, and now plainly is the foremost political spokesman for the Eisenhower administration.

As for the chief justice, he is Ike's age, has not been well for a year or two and appears to have little appetite for the political arena. Friends close to him say he'll be able to resist the most urgent demands from party heads that he step down and run, if Eisenhower can't.

"If you can borrow $50,000 and find a taker, bet it all that Daddy won't run," a member of his family said today.

NEW KIWANIS OFFICIAL — Recently elected head of Michigan Kiwanis Division Five, Richard Scribner, right is congratulated by outgoing Lt. Gov., Dennis Hassel of the Ferndale Kiwanis Club. A member of the West Pontiac Club, Scribner was honored at a meeting last week conducted by club President Floyd Baker. Among those who watched Scribner receive the Lieutenant Governor's banner, Baker said, were Nels Knudsen, Past Governor of the Michigan District, and Mason Case, Division Five Lt. Gov. in 1954. Knudsen is a member of the Downtown Pontiac Club, and Case a member of the Rochester Club, Baker said.

Group Votes to Keep State Fair in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) —Results of a questionnaire answered by visitors to the 1955 Michigan State Fair has led a joint committee of fair management to vote to keep the fair in Detroit.

The committee represented the State Fair Board and the State Agricultural Commission which handles maintenance of the grounds except during the fair.

The committee also voted to push a building program, with a new home arts building the first objective.

Seventy-nine per cent of the 1,076 persons answering the questionnaire said they wanted the fair to remain in Detroit, the committee said.

too precious to be left alone a moment

So often when a child gets hurt, his mother says afterward, "But I only left him for a moment." For an active child, eager with curiosity, a moment is often all it takes.

That's why it's so wise to have additional telephones wherever you need them in the house. If you're dressing your baby in the bedroom or preparing his meal in the kitchen, you don't have to leave him when the phone rings. The phone's right there. And with your eye on the little adventurer, you can relax.

Additional telephones cost less than four cents a day. This is surely a small price for the safety, protection and convenience they'll bring you every day.

MacArthur Book Flays 'Europe First' Idea in World War II

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
INS Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur's closest adviser through war and peace says in a book published Monday that the "Europe first" policy of World War II paved the way for Communist postwar conquests in Asia.

* * *

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney makes the statement in his book entitled "MacArthur—His Rendezvous with History."

Through the book runs a steady theme that current U. S. difficulties can be traced directly to the decision made in 1942 to concentrate on "Europe First."

The first instance listed was when MacArthur wanted to fall back to Mindanao in 1942 where he felt the Japanese could have been stopped. Another when MacArthur wanted to turn the Korean war into positive action which he believed could have destroyed Red China's power to make war.

Interspersed are intimate details which give color and meaning to the bold facts of history. One is the PT escape from Corregidor. Another is the final visit the emperor of Japan paid MacArthur after the general was removed by Truman. Whitney relates tears streamed down the face of the Emperor as he bade farewell.

Other points Whitney makes are:

1. The two escapee British Foreign office officials "must" have given Red China assurance the U. S. would not attack Manchuria in the Korean war.

2. MacArthur doesn't know why he was fired.

3. The Truman-Wake Island conference was a "sly political ambush" to gain political advantage from the Inchon victory.

STRATEGIC BLUNDER

Whitney says it was a major strategic blunder to establish the basic (Europe First) concept. He claims it set up an automatic military priority for Europe and assumed necessary defeats in other vital areas of the world. He adds it helped Japan ravish the Philippines and the Southwest Pacific.

"It was the motivating influence behind the political blunders of General Marshall which did so much to lose the Chinese mainland to Communism," Whitney continues.

The book is exciting in its detail of the military decisions and actions on the triumphant road back from Australia through New Guinea and into the Philippines. Then come the great days of triumph when MacArthur moved into Japan and accepted the surrender of the empire.

Whitney stresses MacArthur avoided the temptation to be a vindictive conqueror and worked on the philosophy that Americans and Japanese must work together for the mutual benefit.

Whitney emphasizes several times the shock MacArthur felt when he realized the U. S. was failing to do all in its power to protect American soldiers in battle.

Whitney is caustic about the British. He says, "it was evidently more important to protect British profits in Hong Kong than to save American—and British — lives in Korea by means of a blockade."

Whitney says President Truman had nothing of importance whatsoever to discuss with MacArthur on Wake Island and that the whole thing was a "sly political ambush."

He denies that MacArthur gave the President any flat or unequivocal prediction that Red China would stay out of the Korean fighting. What happened, Whitney says, was that the President asked what the chances were for Soviet or Chinese intervention and MacArthur replied "very little."

Then MacArthur explained none of the intelligence provided him by Washington gave any evidence the Chinese were seriously considering intervention.

Five Governors in South May Join to Keep Race Bar

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Five Southern governors meet today to consider pooling their attacks in the first resolution against desegregation in the public schools.

Whether an agreement to go at the matter by resolutions of interposition or by concerted legislative programs—or both—was in prospect, Virginia's host Gov. Thomas B. Stanley said he could not determine.

But interposition was certain to be discussed, he said. And the first of his guests to arrive last night, Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia, said he hoped the governors could agree to push for a "strong resolution of interposition."

SEEK TO INTERPOSE

Through interposition, the states could seek to interpose their sovereignty against the Supreme Court decision declaring public school segregation unconstitutional.

In the Virginia Legislature, now in session, an interposition resolution has already been introduced. governors are Luther Hodges of North Carolina, George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina and J. P. Coleman of Mississippi.

The Virginia governor said the idea for the conference grew out of telephone conversations and when such a meeting was suggested, he invited the other governors to Virginia.

This is the second gathering of Southern governors here since the May 1954 Supreme Court ruling. Nine Southern governors met in Richmond at Stanley's suggestion in June of that year. But they decided the matter was so complex it required individual state action and ruled out any joint approach.

Average Ivan Must Save Over 2 Years' Pay for Car

NEW YORK (AP)—The Soviet Union is endeavoring to catch up with and surpass the United States in many basic lines of industry, but it definitely is not competing with America in building motor cars.

Thus Ivan, the average Russian who would like to own a private car, is going to have to wait a very long time for one. The limited production of passenger automobiles will continue to go to the favored few. Even they must wait as much as a year for a small Pobeda sedan, equivalent of 2½ years' wages of an average non-farm worker.

The Soviet economy will suffer too, for truck transport will continue for a number of years to play a relatively minor role in haulage.

The figures on the Soviet automobile position have become available only recently. For many years the government avoided publishing them — presumably because they were not very flattering.

But in connection with the announcement of the new 1956-60 five-year plan, the Soviets revealed that in 1955 they turned out 445,000 motor vehicles. Of these it can be estimated that about 115,000 were passenger cars and 330,000 trucks.

The government plans to increase production by 46 per cent by 1960, to bring total production to 650,000. Around 215,000 are to be passenger cars and 435,000 trucks.

This small production must do for a vast country with an estimated population of 220 million. In 1955 the United States produced nearly eight million passenger cars and 1½ million trucks.

Britain, Germany, France and Canada also outproduce the U.S.S.R.

If the Soviet government is producing relatively few motor vehicles it must be by choice. The logic of this choice is also fairly obvious.

Apparently, the Soviet leadership feels that the enormous quantities of metals, rubber and other raw materials, the large productive capacities, and also the extensive fueling, repair and maintenance facilities necessary to produce and maintain a tremendous fleet of automobiles can be better used for other purposes—for production of armaments, capital goods, and also of consumer goods which require less expenditure.

And the Kremlin is probably conscious also that the creation of an automotive economy would require a vast program of road construction. The Soviet Union at the present time has a few highways which are passable by American standards, but as a whole it is a roadless nation.

You Just Can't Win —Here's an Instance

COVENTRY, R. I. (AP)—The sun came out yesterday to end a snow storm but it brought little joy to Ephraim Langlais, superintendent of Coventry school buses.

A previous snowstorm had brought parental criticism of Langlais. The children were late getting home when a bus was stranded in the snow.

When the flakes began to pelt down yesterday, Langlais decided to take no chances—he had school officials dismiss classes an hour early.

A short while later the sun came out.

Scouts Learn First Aid to Prepare for Roundup

Mrs. Lee King of Lake Orion (right) demonstrates the proper way to fold a bandage. Mrs. King is in charge of the course in first aid being taken by Senior Girl Scouts as part of their training for the first Roundup. Standing is Joyce Meyer of Barrington road. On the floor, Jovita Benavides of Sheridan street holds her bandage and watches before applying it to Dorothy Staley of Clarkston.

Wife Tired of In-Law's Criticism

Has Difficult Time Controlling Temper During Visits

By EMILY POST

A reader explains: "My husband's sister comes to visit us once a year and stays about two weeks. We expect her in the not too distant future and believe me, Mrs. Post, I am certainly not looking forward to her visit.

"She is very critical of everything I do and I have all I can do to control my temper and not blow up in front of her. I don't want to cause any unpleasantness in the family but I don't know how much more of her criticism I can take.

"Is there a polite, but firm way to tell her that I do not like her interfering with the way I run my house?"

Answer: The only solution for your problem that I can think of is to have your husband explain how you feel as tactfully as he can to his sister.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please describe how to go about eating a broiled lobster? I love lobster but always hesitate to order it because it seems so difficult to eat."

Answer: You lift the large piece out of the shell and eat it with a knife and fork as you would eat a piece of meat. You will have to pick the claws up in your fingers and break them and then use the small fork to lift the pieces of meat out.

Finger bowls containing warm water and a slice of lemon usually follow the lobster to help remove any juice or butter from the fingers.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is a hostess ever expected to supply transportation for her guests?"

Answer: Not unless she is taking them to the theater after lunch or dinner, in which case she must arrange for those who have no cars.

Also, if she has asked people to come from the city to the country by train, she ought to arrange for their transportation from the station to her house—and back again.

New Belts Display Girl's Full Name

PARIS (INS) — Mere initials on an outfit is old stuff. This year Parisian gals will simplify matters by displaying their full names — sometimes even addresses and telephone numbers.

But at least there will be one concession to reticence. Statistics like addresses and telephone numbers will be "discreetly" listed on the gals' belts.

One wide belt, designed by leather specialist Amarylis, is of ruby-red suede. In the front center it has a little plastic covered window for the wearer's calling card.

Another more sporty Paris belt of pigskin has a "luggage tag" attached to it. Sized as for a large trunk, it displays the calling card and is worn strapped to the belt.

Carolann Bingham (left), field director for the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, checks the sling that Becky Odell of Oxbow Lake road is putting on Gayle Schenck (right) of Westacres. Carolann will be on the waterfront staff for the Girl Scout Roundup and will help supervise the swimming of the 5,000 campers. Becky and Gayle are members of the local patrol.

Soroptimists Mark Ninth Birthday

Soroptimist International of Pontiac celebrated its ninth birthday with a dinner Monday evening at Rotunda Inn.

For the annual affair, members of the local club invited their husbands and guests. Special guest was Helen Larkin, regional governor.

Charter members on hand for the occasion included Mrs. Richard Paschke, Taimee Sureis, Mrs. K. R. Wright and Mrs. Frank Anderson.

Speaker Mrs. Ann Garrison took her audience on an imaginery trip of South America — through the countries of Brazil, Chili, Bolivia and Peru.

Mrs. Garrison told the group that it is a mistake to just go from city to city when visiting South America. Instead, she said, "Get off into the interior." And she recommended that travelers visit the Indian countries of Bolivia and Peru.

OLD CIVILIZATION

Getting into the interior of these countries, she said, you find customs carried on that were a part of a civilization hundreds of years ago.

Contrasting this is the country of Argentina, which is extremely modern, has an excellent school system, good universities and has the latest Paris fashions, the speaker said.

In closing, Mrs. Garrison said she felt North Americans should become seriously interested in our neighbors to the south, as Russia has made definite overtures for a closer relationship with them.

It is important that this does not happen, Mrs. Garrison concluded, for she said, "Without South America this country can not stand." Mrs. Raymond Swackhammer introduced the speaker.

Soroptimist members were reminded of the Akron conference to be held in April. President Mrs. Arnold Hillerman conducted the business meeting.

The next meeting will be Feb. 13 at the Dixie highway home of Mrs. Martin J. Wager.

Boy Fears That Girl Likes His Pal Better

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going with her for about five months, and I like her very much.

"My best friend likes her too.

"Sometimes I can't help but think that she likes him better than me. It's the way she acts. She said she likes me, but do you think I'm being foolish for being so jealous?"

Answer: You may be worrying yourself over nothing. It's highly possible that your girl thoroughly enjoys your best friend. He may be very gay and talkative, very appreciative 'since he likes her, too) and complimentary.

He may be a very stimulating companion. And it's normal enough that she should perk up and play up when he's around.

But she dates you. She undoubtedly has never had a chance to date your best friend (not if he's a gentleman and a scholar). She likes dating you, she tells you that she likes you. But she doesn't mind it a bit when you have your pal in tow.

One way to ease your misery is to see her alone more often. Leave him out of your visits to her house. Omit him when you make dates with her.

Keep her more particularly to yourself, or ring in other couples when you want to double-date. You needn't expose her too often, you know, to a charm that even you can see.

Then double your efforts to keep her entertained and happy; play up to her so that she'll know she's important to you; see to it that you have a great deal of fun together.

If she's with you in spirit in all of this, you'll have nothing to worry about.

"Dear Miss Woodward: The girl I love is very strange. The other evening at a party she kissed me and I told her how I felt about her.

"Then I asked her to go steady with me, and she said she couldn't. I'm heart-broken. What should I do?"

Answer: It's not so strange. Your girl may be head over heels in love with you. She may kiss you eagerly. And still be unable to go steady with you.

She told you she "couldn't." Did you bother to find out what that meant? Her family won't let her? She promised the girls in her club? She, herself, thinks she's too young?

None of such reasons would have anything to do with the way she feels about you. So, why not pick up the broken pieces of your heart while you find out why she said what she did?

And if it's still "no," for reasons of her own, you can still date her, can't you? It doesn't have to be steady or nothing, does it?

35 Years in Show Business

Rudy Credits Rhythm, Good English

By EMILY BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Rudy Vallee, who has been singing and saxophoning around for 35 years, today credited his long-lasting show business career to a good sense of rhythm and the ability to croon the King's English.

"I'm just the opposite of Milton Berle," he declared as he stirred up a mixer full of Navy grog in the kitchen of his $350,000 hilltop mansion.

"I never got into the done, done and done type of lingo that seems to be so popular today. I use words like 'poignancy' and even if people don't know what you mean they respect you for it anyway.

"Words are magic," he enthused, "look what they did for Hitler!"

CAUGHT IN CURLERS

He had broken unceremoniously into his wife's boudoir to show us her king-size bed, picture window and 12-foot-long dressing table covered with perfume bottles.

She, poor thing, was caught with her hair screwed up in curlers drying her locks by a wall register which, along with the rest of the house, once belonged to Ann Harding.

While his wet-haired spouse (and fourth wife), the former Eleanor Norris, perfumed herself in her 30-foot bedroom, Rudy led us down four flights of stairs to a cubbyhole containing a narrow cot and a tape-recorder where, he said, he spends "most" of his time.

"I like to stay down here," he explained, "where I won't disturb Ellie and her friends."

Then he tweaked his yellow pince-nez, turned on the tape recorder and ran off the last act of his new play, "Jenny Kissed Me," a Pasadena Playhouse production in which he plays a 70-year-old priest.

"I like the play so much," he said, "I'm going to make it into a movie, independently if necessary."

YALE-IRISH ACCENT

Rudy plays the priest with a sort of Yale-Irish accent, further evidence that purity of speech never got in the way of this crooner's career.

Up in the kitchen, he continued his personal diagnosis and casually observed:

"They said I'd never last because I talked too well. I do talk well and it never hurt me, but I don't have any illusions about my looks.

"In spite of them and the fact that I don't use words like 'swell,' I must have been able to either fool or please a certain segment of the theater-going public.

"And I managed to keep abreast of the times. Why, I never even used a megaphone after the public address system came in!"

Because her work involves a good deal of travel, TV actress Julia Meade buys clothes with travel assets. For a short trip, the clothes she models here might serve as her entire wardrobe. First, because it packs easily, doesn't muss and looks lovely, she picks (left) an ombre gray cotton lace after-five dress with the cover-up look. Useful ensemble (center) is bachelor button blue print silk surrah sheath paired with blue wool caftan coat lined in print. En route, she wears (right) a costume in gunmetal gray Italian silk linen. Fitted jacket is worn over slender dress. Jacket has a white linen overcollar and polka dot lining. These dresses are by Hannah Troy.

Pastel Blue Is Popular for China

Choose Tablecloth to Create Informal Atmosphere

NEW YORK (INS) — The latest shade in china is blue — a pastel shade, not the wark cobalt of traditional tableware.

The "mix-and-match" trend is here to stay, it seems. In the china department to blend with the blue-patterned china there are sets of matching ice blue holloware. This "mixed-up" style is particularly suited to modern living with its informal mood.

Another way to create a more informal atmosphere during a buffet dinner is to use the tablecloth that tones down the elegance of your china.

If your set is like some of the newer ones it looks elegant and traditional with a neutral-colored cloth but modern with, say, a black cloth to set off the white of the dishes.

And take a tip from the design of a china corporation's showroom — everything in it has a rough look. The idea is that if you want to display fine china so that it will look smooth, give it a rough background.

Heart Shaped Hats

The latest in Hubert de Givenchy hats is a ruby-red velvet heart shaped affair like an open box and worn either on the top of the head or covering a chignon.

Givenchy also designed heart-shaped evening bags for sentimental girls. One is covered with strawberry red satin. It is composed of two hearts to form a pocket fastened by a zipper.

Cards, Hats, Flowers

Party Set at St. Benedict

St. Benedict Rosary-Altar Society is sponsoring an evening of activity Feb. 8 at the Parish Hall. The program will include a card party, hat fashion show and a floral demonstration.

MRS. ROBERT A. BELL

Mrs. Robert A. Bell, formerly Barbara Jo Zoch, was graduated from Michigan State Normal College, Sunday with a Bachelor of Arts degree in physical education. She is president of Sigma Nu Phi Sorority. Mrs. Bell is the daughter of Mrs. Sonya R. Zoch of Elizabeth Lake road.

Mrs. Leon Thomas, general chairman, is being assisted by Mrs. Ernest Mallery, cochairman.

Ten members of the group will participate in the "Spring Hat Preview" by Paris Hat Shop. Arrangements by a local florist will be demonstrated and will be given as prizes.

Committee chairmen for the affair are Mrs. William Brandt and Mrs. Frank Totte, tickets; Mrs. Allen Neville and Mrs. Peter Leonard, kitchen and serving.

Mrs. Peter Aldo is in charge of hall arrangements, Mrs. Donald Raymond, decorations; Mrs. John Gottschalk, tables; Mrs. William O'Connell, tallies; Mrs. William Brands, cleanup, and Mrs. F. H. Secoy, publicity.

Proceeds will be used for church improvements and to purchase a new set of vestments for the church.

The society hopes to fill 100 tables at the party.

2-Temperature Bag Good for Travels

A new insulated two-temperature bag is designed with two removable watertight insulated inner carriers so that bags can be used separately or as a unit.

The outer zippered closure is good for storing utensils and is a convenient compartment for carrying magazines or newspapers.

Woman, 63, Vouches for Shorthand

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"You ought to stress shorthand and typing more than you do," writes a cheerful woman in Ohio. "I learned it two years ago, in my 63rd year, and it has been a godsend.

"All my friends insist they cannot get a job because they're 'too old.' Some of them are just youngsters in their 50's! But the reason they can't get a job is because they don't have shorthand."

She went on to tell me that, widowed and with grown children, she decided to get a job of some kind.

She ran into the age barrier, but instead of fighting it, or resigning herself to a lifetime career of bitterness, she settled down in a stenography school.

"It was really pretty funny, at first," she told me. "I was old enough to be teacher's grandma!

"Maybe it took me a little longer and maybe I was a little slower, but I really did want to learn very much.

WAS TERRIFIED

"After a while," she continued, "10 months to be exact, I had adequate steno and typing. I was terrified of looking for a job and I must admit that plenty of places turned me down. They never said it was age, but I was sure it was.

"So I changed my tack.

"When I applied, I would come right out and say that I know I was older than most people they hired, but I had good skills and good health and could promise to put in a good performance, be on time, and not leave to get married or have a baby!

"They would kind of smile. Then, I would offer, in view of their natural reluctance, to come in on a temporary basis so they could try me.

MUTUAL AFFECTION

"That was three years ago," she concludes, "and I'm still there! It's a very nice small company and I love them and they love me. I've been absent a total of four days in three years, which isn't bad.

"And I've stayed longer than plenty of the young girls who came in the same time I did. But it wouldn't have been possible if I hadn't learned stenography and typing.

"I get so annoyed with my friends when they begin envying me. It isn't luck, I keep telling them, it's just stenography!"

It's more than just stenography, as you can see. Women like this, with courage and determination, persistence and good nature, are going to be the ones who, in the long run, help to overcome the prejudice over hiring older women.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn C. Fries of Covert road announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty Joan, to Philip Durrant McLintock, son of Mrs. Josephine McLintock of Cherokee road and Milo D. McLintock of Birmingham. He is a graduate of the American Academy of Art. A spring wedding is planned.

Skirts Cover Swimsuits in Italian Resort Fashions

ROME (AP) — Taut shorts, old fashioned slacks, and ruffled bathing suits predominate in the summer resort fashion collections of Tessitrice Dell' Isola and Mingolini-Gugenheim.

The Weaver of the Island (Tessitrice Dell' Isola) captured the easy gaiety of Capri in her handwoven geometrics of color at her opening yesterday.

VIVID COLORS

Stripes, blocks and wedges of vivid hue are a Tessitrice technique. She streaks emerald with rust, horizontally stripes lilac with lime and alternates peacock blue with red in ribbed silk.

Cotton middies hang loosely over the shortest of shorts, full silk shirts team with skin-tight pants, laced sailor-style in back. One-piece bathing suits appear doubly demure under removable overskirts.

Mingolini-Gugenheim elaborated on the concealed swim suit in their season preview. They showed a unique and practical three-piece beach costume — bathing suit, bolero and billowing skirt. In ruffled and scalloped cottons, these are ensembles for dining, dancing or swimming, depending on how many parts you're wearing under the bolero. Shoulders were bare, with few straps used. Bathing suits were one-piece but brief. Following a Spanish theme, the bolero topped almost every dress in the collection.

LONG TORSO

The long torso bursting into low flounces, pleats or ruffles, patterned on traditional Spanish dance dress, was repeated in cotton silk and velvet.

Ball fringe, jewel embroidery and lace appliques added more romance to the lively presentation that included a strapless gold brocade matador suit for cocktails. Bright prints and solid reds, greens and white were Mingolini-Gugenheim favorites.

Furniture Revival

Early American furniture is enjoying a revival with its warm friendliness and rugged simplicity. Styles feature luxurious cotton cushioning with woods like birch, oak and maple. Most-used fabrics are sturdy cottons like homespuns and chintzes in bright yellows and reds.

Pie Queen Contributes Her Recipe

Judy Crawford Wins Local Crown for Excellent Pastry

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Saturday we dropped in on the county Cherry Pie Contest. Such an array of tempting looking pies as were spread out on the table! Judy Crawford's came out on top, and now Judy will compete with other county winners for the state crown. We got her prize-winning recipe, and here it is.

Judy is a soft-spoken, attractive girl. In tenth grade at Milford High School, she likes to ice skate and sew. This is her fifth year in 4-H work. Judy is the middle one of three children. She says she cooks when Mom needs help.

Betrothal Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. George Bickley of Mechanic street announce the engagement of their daughter, Joyce, to Charles J. Shearer, the son of Stuart H. Shearer of Mechanic street and the late Mrs. Shearer. A May wedding is planned.

Paris Hides Style Trends

PARIS (AP)—Will hemlines soar or sag this season?

Your guess is as good as that of the best-informed Paris fashion editor.

For the first time, French designers have imposed a real curtain of secrecy around the forthcoming 1956 fashion openings at the end of this month.

BIGGER SURPRISE

"To reserve a bigger surprise for the public," the dressmakers unanimously decided to reveal not a single hint of the styles they are preparing, according to their syndicate president. And for once, they seem really determined to put the fashion forecasters out of business. Nobody has broken this secrecy pact yet.

But if the big-name designers' lips are sealed this season, the Independent Society of Modelists, which claims to sell sketches and patterns to all the houses, has already come out with liberal predictions. They include:

LONGER LENGTH

A new longer length: a "gladiola silhouette longish and slinky, enclosed in hermetic but supple lines, rigorous but comfortable." Day and cocktail dresses that will look like suits, bloused-back effects, more Asiatic influence, and a long line free at the waist but nipped at the hem.

The 1956 spring openings will get under way Jan. 30, with the shows of Patou and Heim.

Missionary Meeting Slated Wednesday

The First Baptist Church will have a special missionary program Wednesday evening at the church.

Robert Shelton will speak. Following the 7:30 meeting, the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society is sponsoring a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Shelton.

This special meeting will take the place of the usual Thursday meeting.

1 Sink heavy fork between ribs to get a good, solid grip and leverage. Then with boning or sharp auxiliary knife, cut along ribs to loosen meat from ribs. Many carvers move platter into most comfortable carving position for them

2 With long slicing knife cut off top slice, carving toward ribs and toward yourself. This first slice will probably be fairly thick in order to start with a flat carving surface. The outside cut is traditionally the carver's prerogative

3 Correctly, beef should be carved paper thin, slicing from fat side toward the ribs. Once the fork is deeply and firmly placed it is best to leave it in that position, using a serving spoon and a fork for serving the slices of meat

There's a royal treat in store for your entire family when you (the queen) serve Wrigley's Naturally-Tender, Table Trimmed Rib Roast. It's just oozing with juicy, flavorsome tenderness.

. . . and why shouldn't it? Every bite is a tender taste treat because Wrigley's beef comes from carefully selected young stock, fed just right until it becomes the kind of beef which can earn the U.S. 'Choice' or 'Prime' label . . . then it's aged—not by a 'hurry-up' process but by natural methods—under rigidly controlled temperature and humidity conditions for exactly the right number of days which brings it to peak eating tenderness.

. . . and to make sure that you get the most meat for your money, Wrigley's exclusive 'Table Trim' cuts away all the excess fat, bone and suet—leaving only enough for superb flavor, so that when you (the royal chef) set it on the table, you've got prime ribs that are worthy of a holiday feast or a royal coronation.

Highway Money Comes From Taxes on Wide Selection of Auto Products

Editor's Note: This is the ninth in a series of articles on the highway situation condensed from the booklet, "Wagon Roads to Expressway," to be published by the Oakland County Plan Commission.

Let's review current highway-building funds.

All highway money is now derived from state and federal highway-user taxes on gas, tires, cars, trucks, oil and related accessories.

Under a 1951 act, Michigan decided to distribute funds from a 4½-cent-per-gallon gas tax on the following basis: 44 per cent to the state trunkline system, 37 per cent to county road commissions, and 19 per cent to cities and villages.

Last year an additional 1½-cent-per-gallon gas tax was approved to be cut up 15 per cent to state highways and 25 per cent to counties and cities.

Each year the Bureau of Public Roads designates the amount of federal aid each state will receive. Funds are allotted for the interstate system, federal-aid primary, federal-aid urban and federal-aid secondary roads.

The primary network includes major state trunklines not already part of the nationwide interstate system. Roads eligible for secondary federal aid include the remaining state trunklines and a few important county roads. Some main city streets also receive federal funds.

The federal-aid primary and secondary systems are now on a 50-50 matching basis, meaning that for every $50 of federal money received, the state must put up $50. The urban and interstate networks are 90-federal, 10 state.

In 1954, Oakland County received $47,767 for federal aid secondary and last year about $196,000.

Financing methods usually take one of two forms, or a combination. The pay-as-you-build plan is most used today. The work is paid for as it proceeds or as money becomes available.

The amount of work is in proportion to funds received. An accelerated program is only made possible by increasing taxes or taking other steps to hike income.

The second setup involves pledging future income to float a bond issue which will make a large sum of money immediately available. Michigan uses both methods

Set Aside Week for Area Tribute

Donaldson Cites V.F.W. in Special Proclamation of Appreciation

Pontiac's Mayor William W. Donaldson has proclaimed this week "National V.F.W Week," calling for "special tribute to the Veterans of Foreign Wars" from "all citizens of this community."

Pontiac V.F.W. Post 1370 Comdr. Clayton E. Hall, commenting on Mayor Donaldson's proclamation, said today, "Ever since its founding in 1899, the V.F.W. has consistently advocated full preparedness for an emergency.

"The men who survived war's land, sea and air battles understand the high cost and the futility of warfare. They want no more wars for their children.

"And they believe that adequate defense preparedness for any emergency in times of peace is America's best safeguard against war."

In his proclamation, Mayor Donaldson said:

"The V.F.W.'s long record of service . . . and its efforts to keep America strong from within as well as from without, is glowing evidence of its love for fellowman and country.

"The V.F.W. has repeatedly earned Freedoms Foundation awards of its untiring and diligent Loyalty Day and similar Americanism programs."

This Friday, lunch will be served and a film of the National V.F.W. Home will be shown at the local post, 398 S. Saginaw St.

A dance and open house will be held at the post Saturday evening.

25 Solons to Urge Benson to Boost Livestock Buying

By E. L. Livingstone

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 25 Midwestern House Republicans readied demands today for a moratorium on farm mortgage payments and a stepped-up livestock buying program by the government.

These emergency proposals are to be presented tomorrow to Secretary of Agriculture Benson by a delegation from nine states in the Middle West.

Rep. Hoeven (R-Iowa), head of an arrangements committee, said the group approves of the Eisenhower administration's new farm program as far as long-range effects are concerned.

But he declared in an interview that more immediate relief measures are needed.

PRINCIPAL PAYMENTS

Hoeven said Benson will be asked to grant farmers a moratorium on principal payments on federal farm loans, while continuing to pay interest charges.

Hoeven contended Benson has available 100 million dollars to step up his pork-buying program and a like amount for beef purchases.

Benson has under way an 85 million-dollar pork-buying program. About 38 million dollars has been spent thus far.

* * *

"We are asking that the pork buying program be exercised to the limit, and that there be a reasonable purchase of live beef cattle," Hoeven said. "The meat would then be channeled at once into the school lunch program and to penal and other eligible agencies."

LITTLE BUYING

Hoeven said he thinks 'the psychological effect of such an announcement would, if made, necessitate very little actual buying," adding: "And we are all agreed on one thing—that some emergency action should be taken."

Hoeven said the conference was set up to "call attention to some economic realities," but Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa) said, "If it isn't a revolt, I don't know what else you would call it."

* * *

Rep. Hope (R-Kan) said "The discontent today hasn't gone as far as in the 1930s—there's been no judge-hanging or mortgage foreclosures—but it's going that way." Hope said farmers are "more stirred up than at any time since the 1930s."

Deceased Millionaire Still Insists on Will

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Beneficiaries of the late millionaire industrialist Hulett C. Merritt's estate will have to file affidavits stating they have not used cigarettes or intoxicating liquors during the preceding 90 days of any quarterly allotment of funds.

The will was filed for probate yesterday.

Merritt, one of the large holders of U.S. Steel Corp. common stock, died here Jan. 13 at 83.

The will names four grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, all of southern California, as beneficiaries. It authorized a trust to be established and funds distributed quarterly.

It also said each of the four great-grandsons and each male born in the family after the filing of the will "shall change his name before he is 22 to include the name Merritt in his legal name." Those not doing so would be ineligible for a share of the estate.

Probe Jury Picked in Bar Exam 'Fraud'

LANSING (AP) — State and Ingham County officials picked a 23-man grand jury yesterday to investigate reports of cheating in last September's state bar examination.

Circuit Judge Marvin J. Salmon, Ingham County Prosecutor Claude Chamberlin and Perry A. Maynard, assistant attorney general, picked the jury from a 125-member panel.

Attorney General Thomas Kavanagh who asked for the probe said more than 60 witnesses will be called. He estimated the inquiry will take at least three weeks.

State police said an investigation convinced them "four or five" of the 321 candidates who took the September examination saw the questions in advance.

OLDEST CHRISTMAS CACTUS? — Walter D. Harvey, 66, of 228 W. Brooklyn displays what he believes to be one of the oldest plants of its kind in the country. The Christmas Cactus was planted for him by his grandmother when Harvey was only three weeks old. He has kept it ever since, and started over 1,500 similar plants for friends from slips cut from the cactus.

Owner Offers Challenge

How Old Is Your Cactus, Mister?

Walter D. Harvey of 228 W. Brooklyn St. has a Christmas Cactus that he thinks may be one of the oldest of its kind in the country. He's inviting anyone who has a similar plant that outdates his to let him know about it.

Harvey, 66, was born in Elkton on July 11, 1889. When he was three weeks old, his mother died, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Harvey, took him into her home. At the same time, she planted for him the little Christmas Cactus.

The plant grew with the boy, and all through his life Harvey watered and nourished it. When his grandmother died 34 years ago, the plant became doubly precious since it reminded him of childhood and the woman who was both mother and grandmother to him.

Over a hundred pink bell-like blossoms appeared on the plant this Christmas for Harvey and his wife, Anna, to show to their own five sons and daughters and nine grandchildren. Some of the delicate flowers still are in bloom, as though they wished to cheer their owner who, since the first of the year, has been ill part of the time.

Despite its age, the cactus is not large—less than a foot high and about three feet in diameter. But the virile plant has yielded over 1,500 slips that have started new plants over the years.

It is kept always in the same decorative pot, in an east window, and watered about once a week. When it is budding, the plant is at its most delicate stage and the Harveys don't move it during that time.

"I wouldn't take a whole lot of money for it," Harvey says, "not only because it's so old, but because of the memories it brings me.

"My grandmother was a 'grandma' to everyone. I think she knew a boy can learn many things from caring for a plant."

Harvey, a retired Fisher Body Division worker, says he brought the cactus with him in 1928 when he first came to Pontiac, and has kept it in his present home ever since they bought the house in 1929. He retired two years ago.

"I never mind seeing the blossoms drop off after Christmas," Harvey said, glancing at the remaining delicate flowers, "since my plant blooms for me again at Easter, on the rebirth of our Lord."

India Attempts New Subdivision

Plans 5 Political Areas From Present 27 States as a Compromise

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—A new proposal to consolidate India's 27 states into only five big subdivisions appeared in the making today. It would be aimed at forestalling recurrence of the death and destruction last week after unveiling of government plans to redraw state boundaries along language lines.

The first step toward such a compromise was taken with the announcement that the chief ministers of two big eastern states—West Bengal and Bihar — had agreed to merge their territories into one state of 65 million people and nearly 100,000 miles.

Calcutta, India's largest city and the present capital of West Bengal, would be the capital of the new state.

NO REACTION YET

There was no indication yet how the 25 million people of West Bengal and the 40 million in Bihar would react to such a merger, which must be approved by the two state legislatures and the national Parliament.

The two states have been feuding over border territories. Last weekend Calcutta was hit by a general strike and there were demonstrations in Patna, the capital of Bihar, because the central government's language-boundary plan called for territorial swaps between the two.

Nehru was said to have approved the Bengal-Bihar merger and to want now to divide the vast subcontinent into only five states—north, east, west, south and central. Language lines would be disregarded.

See Democrat Win in Pittsburgh Vote

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Voters in the highly industrialized Monongahela Valley went to the polls today in the nation's first congressional election of 1956 to choose between State Sen. Elmer J. Holland, Pittsburgh Democrat, and David J. Smith, [illegible] Republican.

A stronghold of the United Steelworkers, which counts Holland among its members, the district is overwhelmingly Democratic in both registration and past performance.

HEAVY DEMOCRAT

There are 128,493 registered Democrats and 63,436 Republicans eligible to vote in the district, the 30th, which includes five Pittsburgh wards, the cities of McKeesport and Duquesne and 33 boroughs and townships.

The special election was called to fill a vacancy created by the death of Rep. Vera Buchanan, McKeesport Democrat, who had represented the district since 1951.

Smith, 45-year-old confectionery store operator who has never held elective office, has said he doesn't expect to win, that he is running because "I believe in the two-party system."

Holland, 59, has the solid endorsement of David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers, other labor groups, and David L. Lawrence, Pittsburgh mayor and a national Democratic power.

Pianist Sues Hair Shop for Giving Green Head

CHICAGO (AP)—Green hair doesn't suit her role as a concert pianist Marya McAuliff, 41, asserted in asking $35,000 damages from a beauty parlor.

Her U.S. District Court suit stated she went to the Jacqueline Cochran Beauty Salon to have her hair dyed blonde last August. But her hair turned out green, she complained, and when she used a liquid from the salon to remove the dye some of her hair fell out.

What's left is still green, she said.

Burglary Detective Knows Business

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Lt. Bert Hawkins, a detective in the burglary division, came to the rescue last night when a lock jammed in Louisville's new police headquarters.

A policeman and three switchboard operators were locked in the telephone room about 45 minutes. Nobody could get in or out.

But Hawkins, who knows the tricks of the trade he investigates, used a coat hanger and two screwdrivers to open the metal door.

Eye Tests May Locate Half of Brain Tumors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Eye examinations may serve to locate 50 per cent of brain tumors, Dr. David O. Harrington of San Francisco says.

Dr. Harrington, University of California eye specialist, told a group of 150 of fellow specialists yesterday that in a single month recently he found evidence of pituitary tumors in four patients who came to him for glasses.

Dr. Harrington said he has developed a screener that makes it possible to examine both eyes for signs of brain tumor in four minutes, whereas such examinations have required more than half an hour.

Caught With the Goods

BAD AXE (AP)—Airman George Todd, 19, of Conway, S.C., traced by the unusual tread his tires left in new fallen snow, faced the next 60 days in jail in the theft of a conventional automobile tire and its wheel from a Bad Axe auto dealer. Two alleged accomplices were given 90-day suspended sentences.

Drought Strikes Fertile Valleys of Central Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP)—The fertile central zone of Peru, the nation's breadbasket and chief dollar producer, is in the grip of a severe and damaging drought.

The dry spell that began with the advent of the Peruvian spring—fall in the United States—has had its crippling economic effect not only on agriculture but on mining as well.

The few rivers that course down to the sometimes arid coastal areas are far below their normal levels, or entirely dry. Mining of zinc, lead, copper and vanadium is almost at a standstill because there is no water to turn the hydroelectric generators.

The rivers usually are fed by melting Andean snows and spring rains. They are the life arteries for fertile valleys that produce Peru's "white gold," the cotton that yields more dollars to the nation's economy than any other product. Rice, the basic Peruvian food, and sugar also have suffered.

Experts blame the drought on an unexplained retreat of the Andean glaciers.

Record Crowds See Production at Pontiac in '55

Besides chalking up the best production year in its history, the Pontiac Motor Division also saw a record year in terms of the number of visitors who toured the huge installation.

A total of 17,408 persons went through Pontiac's manufacturing plants during 1955, according to division records.

The "bumper" crowd of viewers represented a 31.4 per cent increase over the total in 1953 when Pontiac was host to 13,251 visitors. In 1954 only 11,685 went through the division.

Tours on the Strato-Streak Special tour train are conducted several times each day of the week by reservation. The trips are arranged to accommodate groups up to 35 in size.

Many of the visitors represent school and Boy Scout units, division officials say.

ALL ABOARD — Filled to capacity, the Strato-Streak Special tour train prepares to take a group of sightseers for a view of Pontiac Motor Division production facilities. During 1955, a total of 17,408 persons were conducted upon tours of the huge plant. The driver, above, is Ted Goemaere Jr., while Walter Deacon, lecturer, wields a microphone.

'Ike Will Decide Before April 10'

Predicts Senator Duff Who Claims President Will Enter Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Duff (R-Pa) predicted today President Eisenhower will make known his second-term intention "long before" April 10, the date of the Illinois primary.

Duff, one of the early Eisenhower backers in 1952, said in an interview he doesn't think "anybody is going anywhere" in seeking the GOP presidential nomination until Eisenhower speaks out.

Sen Knowland (R-Calif) edged into the race by the back door yesterday. He said he will not ask withdrawal of his name from the ballot in Illinois. Eisenhower took a similar stand when his name was entered in Illinois, like Knowland's, by other persons.

ADLAI'S IN

The lone Democratic name entered there by the deadline yesterday was that of Adlai E. Stevenson.

Knowland said also he would not object to the unsolicited entry of his name in the April 24 Alaska primary "in view of the statements by the President inviting such filings and because of the uncertainties as to what his own decision will be . . ."

* * * *

Duff said he "very definitely" thinks the President will seek a second term.

"I think the President made it clear at the 'Salute to Eisenhower' dinners that he will give his answer when he feels himself competent to do so," Duff said. "In my view, that decision will be forthcoming long before the Illinois primary.

LITTLE DIFFERENCE

"Until the President announces his decision, I don't think anything anybody does will make any difference."

GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall and Clifford Folger, head of the GOP Finance Committee, reported to Eisenhower that the "Salute" dinners would net the party about five million dollars. Half will go to local organizations and half to national GOP groups.

Knowland's action in letting his name remain in the Illinois and Alaska primaries was not unexpected despite an evident reluctance to be tabbed in any way as opposing Eisenhower.

STILL LIKES IKE

Reiterating that the President will have his support if he runs, Knowland added in a statement:

"If the President should determine not to be a candidate for renomination and re-election the regular electoral processes for nominations should be allowed to operate so that the Republican party may determine as between alternative choices. In this way the people of the several states having primaries will have an opportunity to make their views known.

"At the same time the Republican convention, which under such circumstances I hope will be a free and open one, will be able to make a determination based on the views of candidates known in advance of the nominating date rather than afterwards."

Knowland said he does not accept the theory that only an "Eisenhower type" candidate can win if the President doesn't run again. He added he doesn't believe the GOP must be made over in Eisenhower's image.

It is the custom in Illinois to withdraw the name of anyone entered in the primary without his consent if the candidate asks that it be done.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who was so entered, asked withdrawal. It seemed likely that Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) would ask also that his name be withdrawn.

BILLY MITCHELL STORY — Gary Cooper, in the title role of "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell," is defended by Ralph Bellamy (right). The CinemaScope drama, now showing at the Oakland Theater, also stars Rod Steiger and Charles Bickford, with Elizabeth Montgomery. Otto Preminger directed the Warners Brothers' story of a man who risked disgrace and dishonor by setting off one of the most sensational trials in American history. On the bill with "Court Martial" is "Twenty-four Hour Alert," a CinemaScope film with Jack Webb.

Flint Man Admits Area Crime Spree

A 27-year-old Flint man pleaded guilty to a one-man crime spree yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court and will be sentenced for felonious assault Jan. 30 by Judge H. Russel Holland.

Abner J. Gupton admitted hitting Billy Putnam, of 767 Wing St., with a bottle Dec. 26 in Waterford Township, then stealing Putnam's car, wrecking it injuring six people, leaving the accident scene and threatening a Waterford policeman with a knife.

Trio of City Residents Admit Night Breakins

Three Pontiac men pleaded guilty to nighttime breaking and entering yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court and Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing for Jan. 30.

The trio admitted robbing cigarette machines Jan. 9 and 11 after entering gas stations and taking $110 from a bar Jan. 11. They are William McCarther, 24, of 207 E. Huron St.; Donald Ritter, 27, of S. Saginaw St., and Joseph L. Brewer, 19, of 91 Tebeau Ct.

New Findings May Help Pre-Hurricane Warnings

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW YORK (AP) — Will a hurricane smash overland with savage winds, or hit mainly with heavy rains and floods?

The chances are good that new findings can supply advance warning of which type to expect, a weather scientist reports.

Hurricane Hazel in 1954 was one of the fierce, devastating wind storms. Diane in 1955 was a heavy-rain, flooding type.

The possibility of forecasting the nastiest, killer-type of high-wind hurricanes was described last night to the American Meteorological Society by Joseph J. George, superintendent of meteorology, Eastern Air Lines, Atlanta. It's based on a study of past hurricanes.

Most hurricanes quickly lose wind force as they strike inland, he explained. Coastal areas are hard hit by winds, but even 50 miles inland the winds become fairly weak.

A few do remain savage. Hazel was one, as were the terrific hurricanes in the fall of 1944 and 1938.

Diane last year, on the other hand, quickly died down in strength. But she moved slowly, dumping tremendous rains and causing great floods.

Checking back George and Robert Shafer found that Hazel and the 1944 and 1938 storms had four characteristics quite different from Diane or other hurricanes:

They had some cold air at the surface; each time there was a steep trough of low pressure approaching from the west, at high altitude; each was a fast-moving hurricane; each was not a primary flood-causing type, since it did not stay in one spot long enough to drop heavy rains.

Hurricanes like Diane had none of these attributes.

"More work must be done, but it apparently will be possible to differentiate and detect in advance those hurricanes which will be the worst in wind damage," George said.

De Mille Urges Fight Against Film Censorship

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Cecil B. DeMille, elder statesman of the motion picture industry, urges a fight against censorship of the screen.

The 74-year-old producer-director, a film leader for 43 years, told movie makers that "With the duty to our art goes a duty to the audience for whom we make our picture."

De Mille said:

"We do well to fight censorship — but the best way to fight it is to give it no legitimate grounds for attacking us, while defending to the full our right to portray the world as the world is."

The man known as "Mr. Hollywood"—now producing his 70th film, "The Ten Commandments," —contends, "censorship is not the answer, but neither is unbridled license."

De Mille scored the "temptation to care nothing about what we put on the screen as long as it makes money," but he added:

"There are well-meaning people who want art to be so antiseptic that — if they had their way — they would repeal the very definition of art as a mirror held up to nature."

Japan Now Offers Suicidal Insurance

TOKYO (AP) — Officials are worried about the effects of the new compulsory auto liability insurance here.

All motorists, including thousands of Americans, must have the insurance or face fine or imprisonment.

What worries officials is that survivors of anyone killed in a car accident automatically get 300,000 yet without even going to court.

They fear that Japanese bent on suicide—and the suicide rate is high — will forsake the cliffs, railroad crossings, volcanoes, bridges and high buildings and leap into the paths of automobiles.

While ¥80,000 yen is only $333 in American money, it is an average year's salary in Japan and Japanese have been known to commit suicide because of debts smaller than this.

Hollywood Headlines:

Groaner and Voice Make Beautiful Music Together

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Groaner and the Voice were singing up a storm out in Culver City, so that bore looking into.

The two most famous singers of this generation—Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra—are engaged in a film called "High Society." I ventured out to MGM to witness this historic meeting of talents.

* * *

The scene was a rehearsal hall, bare except for a few pieces of furniture representing a drawing room set. Also a piano, beside which sat Bing, dressed conservatively in dark trousers and a plain blue sport shirt. He wore a hat and was singing to the piano accompaniment.

BOTH BALDING

Seated nearby was Sinatra, looking natty in grey flannel trousers, black coat and matching accessories. He also wore a hat. Like Bing, he is balding.

"This is a real thrill for me," said Frank. "Bing was a real idol when I was a kid. I had his records and pictures—the whole works.

"We've made about 40 or 50 appearances together, mostly during the war on radio programs and camp shows. We always wanted to do a picture together but never had the story property until now."

Director Chuck Walters signaled for a rehearsal. Bing and Frank took their places in the simulated set and ran through a new Cole Porter number, "Well, Did You Evah?" It is their only number together in the film, and they are supposed to be slightly tipsy at a party.

ARM IN ARM

They sang the number and followed a dance routine outlined by Walters, clicking champagne glasses and walking out of the scene arm in arm. After a few runthroughs, they sat down again to wait for the call to report to the recording stage.

Finally the word came that the orchestra was ready. Bing ambled outside to his bicycle and pedalled toward Stage 1. Frank walked with a business associate.

* * *

The 50-piece orchestra was waiting on the recording stage. Bing and Frank ascended a small platform before the musicians and took their cues from conductor Johnny Green. Bing sang sitting down and hatless; Frank kept his hat on and stood. They seemed to enjoy the session, which continued for an hour.

Peru's Age-Old Ruins Bolstered

Incan Citadel 'Sky-Top' High on Machu Picchu Unearthed in 1812

WASHINGTON — Archeologists are bolstering the ruins of Machu Picchu, remote citadel of Peru's ancient Incan culture.

The "sky-top" stronghold, 50 miles northwest of Cuzco, was unearthed in 1812 by a National Geographic Society-Yale University expedition led by Dr. Hiram Bingham of Connecticut. Earlier Dr. Bingham had located the ruins while exploring 10,300-foot Machu Picchu Mountain which towers over the sacred city.

The formidable natural fortress, ringed by walls offered a haven to harried Incas, who fled Spanish persecution elsewhere in Peru. Signal stations on nearby twin peaks stood ready to sound a warning. But the conquistadors somehow never found the city.

Machu Picchu bestrides a mountain saddle 8,000 feet above sea level. A hundred or more stairways link its stepped levels. "Everything is up and down," a visitor wrote. "People think in vertical rather than horizontal distances." The Incas, gazing upward at the sun and the surrounding peaks, also looked down 2,000 feet into the Grand Canyon of the Urubamba River.

More than 50 tombs and cemetery caves attest the solitude of the place. The caverns once revealed 173 skeletons—female ten to one. Thus scholars deduce that Machu Picchu sheltered the Incas' Virgins of the Sun, the chosen women who wove exquisite textiles and brewed chicha beer.

Once near-inaccessible, the ruins today intrigue visitors who find one explorer's descriptions of Machu Picchu apt: "In the sublimity of its surroundings, the marvel of nts site, the character and mystery of its construction, the western hemisphere holds nothing comparable."

Finns Occupy Porkkala Military Base Once More

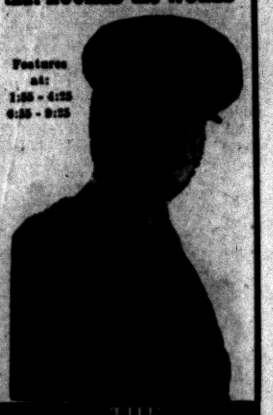

HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—For the first time in postwar history the Finns set foot today on Porkkala's soil.

A government delegation headed by Premier Urho Kekkonen entered the area 20 miles southwest of Helsinki. It was leased to Russia as a military base under the 1944 armistice and returned to Finland after talks in Moscow last fall.

The Finns and the Russians wil sign a treaty covering the transfer at the Soviet Embassy here Thursday.

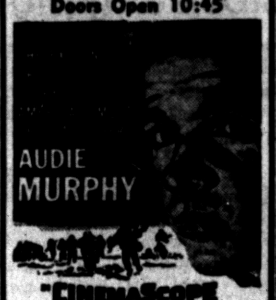

Until about 1800, some mapmakers in the U. S. described Kansas as a part of a great American desert, believed unsuitable for farming purposes.

Dulles Planning Asian Detours

Will Visit Middle East Going to SEATO Meet in Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is planning a kind of diplomatic Cooks tour of Asia in March.

His plans for side trips from the March 6-8 meeting of the South-East Asia Collective Defense Council at Karachi, Pakistan, are still tentative.

However, as dates and places are lined up, the word leaks out. Pieced together and still subject to change, his travel plans—everything is east of Karachi—look like this:

TO MIDDLE EAST

He will fly from Washington about March 2. He will travel over—but will not stop in—the embattled Middle East, arriving at Karachi a day or so ahead of the March 6 SEATO meeting.

* * *

Flying on a giant northeasterly crescent route, Dulles will stop at New Delhi, India; Rangoon, Burma; Saigon, South Viet Nam; Jakarta, Idonesia; Manila, Philippines; Taipei, Formosa; Tokyo, Japan, and Seoul, Korea.

The Korea visit is tentatively set for March 17 and is the last date before Dulles heads homeward. Officials are amused by the March 17 date. That is St. Patrick's Day and the Koreans often are called the Irish of the Pacific.

Methodists Launch Fight on Secularism

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (INS) — The top administrative bodies of the Methodist Church have agreed to recommend to the general council in April the expenditure of $37 million in the next four years to combat Communism and secularism.

The fund would be raised on a regional level by a contribution of one dollar a year from each of the church's 9,300,000 members. It would then be distributed among the 116 colleges and universities associated with the church.

Bishop Charles Brashers of Chicago, chairman of the council of bishops which met with other agencies of the church, charged that Communism "exploits the mind, regiments the person, tyrannizes the soul and lacks the cohesive power that is essential to social unity."

Women Filling Ranks in Industry, Says Dean

KALAMAZOO (AP) — In a commencement address before more than 200 seniors at Western Michigan College, Dr. Kate Hevner Mueller said technological improvements have released the women from home tasks into the commercial employment pool.

Dr. Mueller, a professor of education and former dean of women at Indiana University, said:

"The widespread employment of women today is the final step in the two-century-old industrial revolution which has drawn all manufacture out of the home and into the factory."

Some 1,500,000 of the nation's 8,800,000 trucks are more than 12 years old.

Balkan Ministers to Meet in Belgrade

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Diplomatic circles say Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia have agreed to hold the semiannual meeting of the Balkan Alliance Foreign Ministers' Council here in March.

The pact provides that a consultative meeting of its foreign ministers should be held twice a year. Ankara was scheduled to be the site of a meeting last fall but the session was called off because of anti-Greek rioting in Turkey and the trouble between Turkey and Greece over Cyprus.

Yugoslavia has been pressing for a session this winter. The diplomatic sources said it was agreed the meeting would be held about a month after the Feb. 19 elections in Greece.

Gotham Litter Basket

NEW YORK (AP)—A litter basket 20 feet tall was put in the middle of Times Square Monday to dramatize the city's cleanup campaign.

Thrice daily a crane will dump into it trash that careless folk don't deposit in the 292 ordinary-size litter baskets in the neighborhood. Officials estimate such wayward trash totals 1,500 pounds every 24 hours.

PERFORMANCE made it the Largest Selling "8" in the World...

the FORD V-8

Just look at these official registration figures for the first 11 months—January through November, 1955

	Car Sales	Ford Sales Leadership
FORD V-8	1,241,742	———
Car C—V-8	634,376	607,366
Car P—V-8	262,870	978,872
Car C—Six	845,153	396,589
Car P—Six	334,540	907,202

Here's why!

People just naturally go for 8 cylinders in the FORD package!

And to a world record extent!

Just think, in the first 11 months of 1955 alone, 344,496 more people bought Ford V-8's than bought the two other low-priced competitive eights combined! They even bought 396,589 more Ford V-8's than the next competitive Six!

Of course, the reason the Ford V-8 is the largest selling eight-cylinder car in the world is that more people like its brand of performance—the kind that comes with the car!

These people aren't amateurs in judging engines. Nearly 24 years of building Ford V-8's to supply their demand is convincing proof of that.

And the Ford V-8 of today is the best yet . . . by a country mile!

Smoother and quieter—you can scarcely hear it, even with the hood up! Sassier—just ask the highway patrol officer who drives one. He knows it takes a Ford to catch a Ford!

And, for the very practical question of durability—ask a Ford cab driver. He knows how Fords take it days on end.

So, if it's performance that you want—and wrapped like a gift—the '56 Ford V-8 is your baby.

Come in . . . try it today!

Directs Southfield, Lathrup to Stop Rouge Dumping

Court Orders New Systems

Southfield Must Build New Plant; Lathrup to Have 3 Alternatives

Southfield Township and the City of Lathrup Village yesterday were ordered to stop dumping sewage and wastes into tributaries of the Rouge River by Dec. 31, 1957.

The order, issued by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, stemmed from a suit filed by the State Water Resources Commission which ordered the two Communities to abate the nuisance some 18 months ago.

The suit was aimed primarily at wastes being dumped into the Acacia Park Drain in Southfield Township and into Evans Ditch in Lathrup.

Southfield was ordered to build a sewage disposal plant. Lathrup has three alternatives: Building the necessary sewers and sewage treatment facilities itself, in cooperation with other municipalities through incorporation of an authority, or by cooperating with the County Drain Commission.

Both units must submit proof to the Water Resources Commission by May 1 this year that they will comply with the order.

PLANS BY JULY 1

The state must receive construction plans and specifications by July 1. All contracts for the needed work must be let by Oct. 1 and the projects be completed by Dec. 31 next year.

State Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh previously said the pollution was being caused by discharge of raw or inadequately treated human sewage and wastes.

"The situation has become an increasing hazard and menace to the public health with the tremendous development of this area for residential purposes," he stated.

Ready Plans for Boulevard, New School at Milford

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — Engineers have completed a survey of the right-of-way leading from Milford road to the new $1,250,000 Milford High School site.

Pontiac surveyor, Noyce Strait is now drawing up specifications and preparing cross sections for contractors to bid on the boulevard type road.

There will be two 20-foot gravel roads on each side of a 10-foot island which will be blacktopped and curbed eventually. The boulevard will be approximately one-eighth of a mile long and will lead directly to the front entrance of the school. Another 20 foot road has been laid out, east to Lone Tree Road.

Working plans will be ready for contractors by Feb. 15 and bids will be let about the middle of March, according to Harold Hansen, superintendent of the Huron Valley School system.

Final arrangements were made on the blueprints of the new high school yesterday when Erwin Johnson, principal, and Hansen met with the architects for the proposed 40 room school building. The school is to be located on a 60-acre tract of land two miles north of Milford.

ESTABLISH WELL

John Stack and Merle Nicholas, engineers for the architectural firm, have recently established the location where the well will be drilled. According to Stack, the well must bring in 160 gallons of water a minute and will be housed in the main building. He said that drillers probably would not have to go down too far for water as the land is primarily low and level.

Both engineers agreed that the school site is "one of the best in the country."

It has taken just a year to get the ball rolling for the senior high school. Residents voted to approve a $1,250,000 bond issue for the school at a special election held in March last year.

Since that time the School Board has encountered a court session over the price of the proposed acreage and condemnation proceedings against Capt. J. G. Largess were taken to circuit court. The trial was dismissed when the school board purchased the 60 acre tract of land immediately behind the Largess property.

The new high school will accommodate 900 students, which is well above the required enrollment to classify as a Class A high school.

There will be 36 classrooms and a gymnasium to provide seats for 1,700 spectators and the main buildings and landscaping will cover five acres of ground and construction will begin on the school immediately after the contractors have their bids approved by the school board, according to Hansen.

'Hiroshima Maidens' Recall Their Atom Horror

For the first time here are individual stories of the "Hiroshima Maidens," the 25 young Japanese survivors of the first atom bomb.

By ARA PIASTRO AND HARRY ALTSHULER

NEW YORK (INS)—What does a little girl do, when a glaring stab of brightness strikes her blind and a city tumbles down in ruins around her?

She run, runs for home, and blind animal instinct finds the spot for her even if the house is a bare burned-out ruin, in a burned-out town.

This is an experience shared on Aug. 6, 1945, by almost all of the 25 "Hiroshima Maidens," a group of atom bomb survivors brought to the U.S. last April for plastic surgery.

Sheltered in two rooms at New York's Mt. Sinai Hospital and in homes of Quaker hostesses between operations, the girls have never been interviewed. They have learned some English — mostly catch phrases such as "Okay!" "Boy Friends," or "Oh, I see!"

To dig deeper, interpreters were called in, including Mrs. Helen Yokiama, who came from Hiroshima with the girls to act as a sort of mother-hen.

MEET TOMOKO

There was Tomoko Nakabayshi, now 25. She was on her way into the business district on an errand. She had just gotten off a streetcar and was walking at 8:15 a.m. when she saw a B-20 floating lazily high in the sky. She recognized the silhouette and paused to watch it a moment.

Then she sensed, rather than saw, the flash, and she was knocked down. When she got up she couldn't see, but she ran—all the way home, where her family stood in the debris of their knocked-down house. Then she lost consciousness.

Next, she remembers returning sight, and the whole family heading for a park. "It seemed like the whole city was burning," she said. "No buildings, only a few houses left, everybody in a daze, wandering around. Everybody's clothing in shreds. The only feeling I had was fear."

BARTER—THE RULE

In the park she lay on the ground for days. A doctor came around and said she couldn't be moved. Her mother tried to treat her swollen face with leaf poultices. Medical supplies were short; there was little food until the war was over and the U.S. government sent in shiploads of wheat to make noodles.

Money was nothing; barter was the rule. "If we had a kimono to trade, we could get rice for it," she recalled.

Eventually her brothers rebuilt the house, but for half a year Tomoko could hardly move. Three years ago surgery gave her some help.

But now? Now, after two plastic surgery operations at Mt. Sinai Hospital, she finds joy in sewing, and hopes some day to be a professional milliner or teacher of millinery.

She's even learned to drive an auto. She dived into a Japanese-English dictionary, but there were no words—only giggles to comment on her driving ability.

She went through an inner struggle, too. She abandoned Shinto for a Christian church.

"Living here is so different, I like it very much," she said. She attends adult classes in English, goes to concerts, square dances, meets people. The feeling of fear is gone.

MEET SUSIE

Susue Oshima, Now 24, lived in a suburb of Hiroshima, but as a seventh grade pupil she was a "volunteer" in the city to clear out torn-down houses for fire breaks. She was hauling some wood when the bomb fell. When she woke up she was in a sewer by the river, some distance away. She doesn't know how she got there. She lay there for five hours, then struggled out and started for home. Almost there, she met her father who was coming into the city to hunt her.

For a week they hid in the hills, fearing more air raids; her grandmother died and Susue almost died also. For a long time her face was terribly swollen, but because she wanted to see beauty, she decided to be a beautician. She took up hairdressing and opened a little shop.

Her dream is to study beauty work here and take the knowledge back with her, along with the other things she's acquired like an enthusiasm for badminton which she calls, "just delicious!"

She's had three plastic operations here. "So hard to express what I feel," she said. "So happy now!"

MEET KEIKO

"I saw a terrific brightness—then everything was black," recalled Keiko Kawasaki, now 23. A school girl of 13, she had come into the city to work at cleaning debris. "I had no clothing, no shoes, just my underwear left on when I came to. I realized something terrible had happened.

"I didn't know what to do. I went looking for a train to go home, but the Hiroshima station wasn't there any more; the hotels weren't there any more; just baggage scattered all over. Everybody was screaming for water, for help. I thought I was going crazy. That is exactly what Hell must be like."

For three days she lay under a poplar tree near a crowded army barracks; there was no medical help but the soldiers forced a little gummy rice into her burned, twisted mouth from time to time.

"My mouth didn't want to open at all but I must have been very strong in spirit," she said.

On the third day a nurse came by and she was able to get a message to her father, who had been turning over dead bodies one by one, searching for her.

At home a neighborhood doctor treated her, but didn't know what to treat her for. "We had never heard of the atom bomb; we didn't know until two weeks later," she remembered.

By the following April she was ready to go back to school but she didn't want to go—to expose her scarred, twisted face. Her mother sewed a mask for her to wear. There had been 60 in her class at school—but there were only seven left.

"I came to this country that dropped the bomb with very mixed feelings," she said. "I didn't want to come; my family persuaded me. But it has been a wonderful experience; I've seen a lot I never expected to see; people can be kind everywhere."

St. Frederick's basketball team may not win the Suburban Catholic League championship this season, but the Rams could have something to say about who does.

Gene Wright's cagers are in a position to dampen defending champion St. Michael's hopes for another title when the two schools renew their traditional cross-town rivalry tonight in the Pontiac High School gymnasium.

St. Michael, host for the important clash, is a prohibitive favorite. The Shamrocks are deadlocked with three others for 1st place in the wide-open SCL race, boasting a 4-1 record plus a non-league victory over Avondale.

The Southsiders show a 3-2 league mark and 3-3 overall, Mt. Clemens St. Mary inflicting the non-loop setback. St. Fred's league wins have been at the expense of the three tail-end clubs by a total difference of 16 points whereas the Mikes have trimmed the same foes by a combined margin of 103.

Their other mutual opponent was St. Benedict, a co-leader. The Ravens bowed to St. Mike, 41-37, but downed the Rams, 46-35. The Mikes' lone loss was to Orchard Lake St. Mary, a strong contender, while St. Fred was whipped by another contender, St. Mary of Royal Oak.

With John Keller showing the way Bob Mineweaser's squad has displayed a better balanced attack than St. Fred. The lanky Keller has meshed 129 points in six games for an average of over 20 per contest and he has yet to be held under 18.

The Rams rely heavily on ringy Dick Doyen and well they might. Doyen has pumped in 119 points in six contests to average just below 20 per game. The Ram scoring ace netted 31 against St. James last Friday.

A St. Frederick victory tonight would deal a severe blow to the Shamrocks' title ambitions and enhance whatever chances the Rams have at the same time. The two arch enemies will square off following the preminary game, which starts at 7 p.m.

ROBY MAKES A HIT — Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y., drives a right to the face of Jerry Luedee in the fourth round of their middleweight bout at St. Nicholas Arena last night. Rory landed enough of these long rights to gain a unanimous decision over the New Haven, Conn., fighter. It was Rory's 17th straight win.

Friday Game Rates Tossup

By H. GUY MOATS
(Press Special Writer)

Following two days of mid-term exams, Pontiac High School's basketball Chiefs will resume the business of getting on with the 2nd half of their 1955-56 season. Coach Art Van Ryzin's charges will take on a tough competitor Friday night, in Detroit Catholic Central.

The pepped-up Chiefs held a snappy workout Monday. They are in an expansive mood, after belting Saginaw's always difficult club for a 79-67 victory, in the finale of the 1st half of the season.

Today's drill will be a voluntary proposition. Those who wish to "cram" for exams may pass up the workout in favor of the books.

"But they'll all be back on the job, Wednesday", Van Ryzin said today. "We'll have a hard practice then, and on Thursday will let up some."

Van Ryzin expects a close contest Friday. "Potentially the Detroit team is a really good one. We feel it's one of the best fives Pontiac has met this season," the coach believes. "It's a matter of which club has improved the most from that early season meeting," Art added.

In big Bob Skrzyski Coach Bill Foley of the Shamrocks has one of the Metropolitan area's consistently high scorers. Bob has a 24 point per game season's average. Brian Hussey, smooth forward and guard, is a dangerous scorer and a fine playmaker. Skrzyski hit for 20 points in the PHS opener, keeping the Shamrocks out front until the final three minutes. Chiefs rushed in 10 points in that time to break a 40-40 tie and go on to win, 50-40.

Friday's visitors here have compiled a 9-2 mark for the season, so far. Chiefs have won six, lost two. CC's only losses were to PHS and a 38-45 loss to Ecorse. The two Flint schools administered Pontiac's only defeats.

Shamrocks dumped Inkster, 69-58 in their last outing.

Two Valley clubs are in action tonight, but neither is a league contest. Leading Central's Indians play Lansing Eastern and should have little trouble. Arthur Hill, tied for 3rd with Pontiac, is at Midland for what could be a hot affair.

Hawkeyes Trip Purdue, 67-63

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iowa's defending Big Ten basketball champions continued to add pressure to front-running Illinois with a 67-63 triumph over Purdue last night.

While the Hawkeyes were maintaining the pace against the idle Illini, Ohio State stormed over Northwestern, 91-42. It was Northwestern's fourth loss without a victory in Big Ten play this season.

Iowa now has a 4-1 record and is second to Illinois' 4-0 mark. Indiana and Ohio State are tied with 3-2 marks. Every other team in the conference has at least three losses.

Ohio State had little trouble with Northwestern as Robin Freeman netted 30 points to lead the attack. The winless Wildcats were no match for the enthused Buckeyes who are still very much in the running for the conference title.

New Pontiac Sports Center Has 'Open House' Tonight

First new sports center to be set up in Pontiac in some years tonight holds its "premiere."

The gymnasium at 90 West Howard, operated by Ray Monet and "Red" Younger, has an "open house" this evening, when any one interested in boxing and wrestling, weightlifting and other sports is invited.

The gymnasium is fully equipped (more equipment and sports aids will be installed later), Monet reports.

Monet was a heavyweight service boxing champion of the Pacific in 1944-45, while Younger has just returned here from a West Coast mat tour. "Red" has been a professional grappler for some time, appearing mostly in far-west engagements. Both will serve as instructors.

Monet said today the gymnasium will be open to all youngsters interested in athletics, without charge. Proper supervision will be had at all times, operators state.

A big, new, elevated ring has been installed. Heavy and light punching bags are provided, along with weights for muscle building. The gym hopes to get into weightlifting later on.

There is room for spectators, and the public is invited to visit the place at any time.

Monet currently is conditioning Buddy Harris, ex-PHS athlete for an early spring bout. Buddy has not fought in several months. He turned pro a year or so ago.

Temporary Coach for Adrian Five

ADRIAN (AP)—Lyman Abbott today was appointed basketball coach at Adrian College on a temporary basis for the rest of the season following the resignations of the college's athletic director and assistant coach.

Abbott, 43, served as head coach of major sports at Adrian from 1946 until the fall of 1950 when he was called back into army service for the Korean fighting.

The College's athletic director, Joe Fortunato, and assistant coach John Thompson, resigned yesterday in a dispute with the president of the school, Dr. John H. Dawson, over athletic policy.

Gordie Howe Moves to Front of NHL Scoring Race by One Point

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League put on a wide-open scoring show last week with Gordie Howe of Detroit leading the assault and taking over the individual point lead.

Howe rapped home five goals and added two assists for 7 points and a season total of 53, 1 more than past leader Jean Beliveau of Montreal who has 26 goals, 26 assists.

Following Howe in the general step-up in offense were teammate Earl (Dutch) Reibel, who scored two goals and five assists; Beliveau and Toronto's Tod Sloan, with three goals, three assists, and Bert Olmstead of Montreal with one goal, five assists.

Howe and Sloan are tied for the goal-scoring lead with 27. Olmstead is tops in assists with 36.

* * *

Jacques Plante of Montreal still leads the goalies with a goals-against average of 1.79. Rookie Glenn Hall of Detroit is next with 2.04.

The scoring leaders:

Vikings Aim for Revenge Tonight

The wounds from the 63-62 loss to Southfield last Friday have hardly healed for Walled Lake, but tonight the Vikings face another bitter foe in attempt to avenge an earlier defeat at Redford Union.

Redford is the only other team holding a win over Walled Lake in 7 games. That was a 53-43 contest at Redford December 6th.

The Vikings lost a 10 point lead in falling to the Jays last week, but the improved scoring punch of Larry Hughes and John Walker raises Walled Lake's hopes for the final 9 games.

Friday Niles Freeland's crew get back into league play at home against Berkley.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's unbeaten San Francisco and Dayton atop the list of the nation's top 10 college basketball teams, but after those two giants it's every man for himself.

San Francisco's Dons, although idle for more than a week because of mid-term examinations, still rank No. 1 in the opinion of the experts in this week's Associated Press poll. The Dons gathered up 81 of a possible 131 first-place votes and swept the boards with a total of 1,209 points.

Dayton, adding 2 more victories for a 14-0 record, although given a scare in both, is a solid No. 2, polling 13 firsts and totaling 1,093 points on a basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

The Dons, riding on top for the seventh straight week, go after their 40th consecutive win and an all-time major college record Saturday when they return to action against unranked California. The Dons currently share the winning streak record of 39 with Long Island U. (1935-37) and Seton Hall (1939-41).

The other eight teams in the top 10 remained the same, but there was quite a shakeup in positions. Kentucky, moving up from fourth to third, swapped places with North Carolina State. Both are two-time losers and Kentucky had just a 2-point edge on the Wolfpack in the voting.

Vanderbilt fell from fifth to seventh, in an unexplainable shift of favor, and barely held that spot from North Carolina. The Tar Heels, who dumped N.C. State last week, were just 2 points behind Vandy in the ballot count.

Once-beaten Illinois edged up from sixth to fifth, followed by Temple, which jumped from eighth after running its mark to 11-0 and maintaining the pace with San Francisco and Dayton in the all-winning derby.

Louisville, a top 10 newcomer last week, rose from 10th to ninth as Duke tumbled to No. 10 from seventh.

George Evans, Ex-Tiger GM Dies in Miami

Former Umpire of 22 Years Suffers Stroke at Age of 71

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—William George (Billy) Evans, former general manager of the Detroit Tigers and widely known American League umpire, is dead at 71.

Evans, who was visiting a son in Miami, suffered a stroke last Saturday and was taken to a hospital where he died.

Evans succeeded George M. Trautman as Detroit general manager in December 1946, and remained until replaced by Charley Gehringer at the close of the 1951 season.

Following his dismissal by Detroit, Evans retired to Cleveland, Ohio. He went to Miami two weeks ago to visit his son, Bob, sports director of a Miami radio station.

While Evans was at Detroit, the Tigers finished second twice, fourth once and fifth twice.

Evans was a native of Chicago, where he was born Feb. 10, 1884 played college football at Cornell and baseball in some fast semi-pro leagues, but never played a game as a professional.

He was an American League umpire for 22 years, and before going to Detroit was an executive of the Cleveland Indians. He was president of the Southern Association from 1943 through 1946.

Before he broke in as an umpire Evans was writing sports for the Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator for $15 a week. While he was reporting a game in the Class D Ohio-Pennsylvania League he was drafted to pinchhit as an umpire—at $15 a game. That was better than sports writing.

In 1906 he got an American League job and became the first and only umpire thus far to jump from Class D (baseball's lowest classification) to the major leagues.

Calhoun Wins 17th Straight

New York Boxer Gets Unanimous Decision Against Luedee

NEW YORK (AP)—With boxing talent as scarce as nickel beer, it is a novelty to find an unbeaten youngster, who has had more than three or four fights. That makes Rory Calhoun, winner of all his 17 professional bouts, worth noting.

Calhoun is billed out of White Plains, N.Y., but he was born in Atlanta, Ga., 21 years ago. His real name is Herman Calhoun. Frank Bachman, his manager, added the name Rory.

Last night's victory over Jerry Luedee of New Haven, unanimous decision in 10 rounds at St. Nicholas Arena, was his first local main go. He weighed 160½ to Luedee's 164½ pounds for the savage battle.

It was appropriate that Luedee should be the opponent. They met once before in a Madison Square Garden preliminary, Nov. 26, 1954, cut from six rounds to four to fit a TV schedule. Until last night, that was the only fight, Luedee had lost in 18 starts. Now it's 2 out of 19.

NBA All-Stars Meet in Annual East-West Tilt

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The East is favored to pack away its fourth straight victory over the West tonight in the sixth annual mid-season National Basketball Assn. All-Star game.

A better balance in scoring and more over-all speed, combined with two ball-handling magicians—Bob Cousy of Boston and Dick McGuire of New York—give the East the edge under Coach George Senesky of Philadelphia. It was a similar make-up that gave the Easterners a 100-91 victory, their fourth in the season, at New York last year.

The West, directed by Fort Wayne Coach Charley Eckman, is no slouch, however. Not with Bob Pettit of St. Louis, the only unanimous All-Star choice and the current scoring leader; Clyde Lovellette of Minneapolis; George Yardley and Larry Foust of Fort Wayne and Maurice Stokes of Rochester, the lone rookie on either team.

The game is set for the War Memorial Auditorium at 9 p.m. (EST).

The East squad made a personnel change yesterday with John Kerr of Syracuse replacing the injured Carl Braun of New York.

The probable starting lineups:

EAST—Dolph Schayes, Syracuse, and Paul Arizin, Philadelphia, at the forwards; Neil Johnston, Philadelphia, at center; Boston's Bob Cousy and Bill Sharman at guards.

WEST—Yardley and Pettit at forwards; Foust at center; Bobby Wanzer, Rochester, and Slater Martin, Minneapolis, at guards.

Lions Poorest

LA Is Best on Aerial Defense in NFL

DETROIT (AP)—Many football followers blamed the fall of the Detroit Lions last season on an inept pass defense.

Official statistics released today by the National Football League gives new fuel for argument to these critics.

For as the Lions went from the top to the bottom of the Western Division, their interception mark plunged accordingly.

Last season the Lions ranked 11th in the 12-team circuit. In 1954, they tied with Pittsburgh for the interception lead.

If it's any consolation to coach Buddy Parker of the Lions, Pittsburgh took an even bigger dive than Detroit, falling all the way into last place.

Detroit intercepted 14 passes last season, compared to 30 in 1954.

Los Angeles, led by halfback Willard Sherman, captured the interception title, picking off 31 aerials. Sherman accounted for 11 of these to lead the league.

Sherman's best effort was three interceptions in one game for a return of 28 yards.

Three members of the Lions each intercepted three passes—Jack Christiansen, Jim David and Bill Stits. In 1954, Christiansen picked off 8, David 7 and Stits, 6

Hogan Informs Texas Audience 'Golf Is Simple'

'Application to Game' Makes It Difficult, Ben Points Out

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Ben Hogan, the mighty little Texan who won the U. S. Open Golf Tournament four times and conquered the tough British Open on his first attempt, says "Golf is a simple game."

Hogan, addressing the 13th annual Sports Jamboree here, told 700 sportsmen that only the application spent on the game makes it difficult.

"Preparation means everything. You have to gear yourself to the game, understand what the fundamental principles are. After you have mastered those, you can play pretty good golf—if you stick with it," said the 43-year-old near-winner of five U.S. Open tournaments.

Hogan's words were pointed toward that group of the audience which takes the game seriously. Of the 700 who attended, 200 probably never had held a golf club in their hands.

Canadian Pros Ask NFL for Peace Pipe Meeting

WINNIPEG (AP) — Canada's two professional football leagues are sending an emissary to Philadelphia to make peace with the National Football League.

The Big Four and the Western Interprovincial Football Union, through their controlling body — the Canadian Football Council — empowered council chairman Ralph Cooper of Hamilton yesterday to try to work out an agreement with NFL commissioner Bert Bell whereby both sides would respect the other's player contracts and opinions.

Cooper plans to meet with Bell "as soon as possible."

If a reciprocal agreement comes out of the meeting, it will mean an end of a bitter war between the two groups that broke out in full force in 1951 when the Winnipeg Blue Bombers signed tackle Dick Huffman of the Los Angeles Rams.

The Bombers won the rights to Huffman through the Canadian courts.

The CFC said its nine teams would continue to honor independently NFL contracts and options until Cooper returns from a conference with Bell.

If the NFL rejects the agreement, the CFC will meet again and give new instructions to Cooper for bringing the two groups closer together.

South Central in Slim Action

Imlay City Meets Capac in Rematch; Ortonville at Goodrich

Imlay City and Capac go out of their respective leagues tonight to renew their rivalry on the Capac

The raiders of Lyle Powers, boasting an 8-1 mark for the season, defeated Capac 64-44 earlier in campaign on the Imlay court.

Highlight of the game will be scoring battle between Imlay's Larry Dorow and Capac's Jim Chernenko. Dorow matches a 21.6 average against Chernenko's 20.7 mark in 9 games.

Another South Central league member, Ortonville travels to Goodrich, aiming to avenge a 59-55 loss suffered in December.

The Blackhawks (3-5) will attempt to snap a two game losing streak, both in league competition.

NCAA Grid Plan Under Scrutiny

House Body Plans to Study Video Policies for Possible Flaws

WASHINGTON (AP)—A house subcommittee will take an "exploratory" look at the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.'s football television policies next month to see if they violate the monopoly laws.

Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee said today college TV practices "appear to result in the public being deprived of seeing the best football games available."

The investigation was proposed by Rep. Hillings (R-Calif). Celler told Hillings in a letter that the antimonopoly subcommittee will begin "exploratory" hearings in mid-February on the whole question of "antitrust problems in regulated industries." He urged Hillings to testify.

The NCAA fixes the program for televising college football games on a national and regional basis.

In general, it permits only one game to be televised on a Saturday. Eight weeks are devoted to a national game of the week and five weeks to regional games.

Hillings first broached the subject on Jan. 14 when he suggested in a letter to Celler that the committee look into "the activities of the NCAA to determine if its control of televising of football games amounts to a monopoly."

Lapeer After 9th Straight; Oxford Hosts Troy Tonight

High-flying Lapeer, one of the few unbeaten teams in the state, goes after its 9th straight victory at home against Davison tonight.

Coach Burt Jackson's quint should have little difficulty with the visitors, who were vanquished 70-50 earlier in the season.

Headed by Tom Wilson, 6-foot junior who has poured through 193 points for a 24-1 average in eight games, the Panthers boast a well balanced scoring attack.

Roger Flanigan, Owen Pope and Tom Elliot, all seniors, may be more than Davison can handle.

Oxford gets back into action tonight after a delay of three weeks, playing host to Troy in one of area games of a light prep schedule.

The Wildcats of Jean Harkness dropped their first three games of the season before nipping Lake Orion in the last start January 6th.

Dave Sweeney will lead the Oxford attack against the Colts. The 5-10 senior has tallied 78 points for a 19.5 average in the four games.

Dave Thomas and Bob Brannon follow in the scoring column with 45 and 37 points respectively.

Oxford will have to stop the 15-point per game firing of Jim Maurer, Troy's 6-5 center.

The Colts are 3-6 for the season, owning a 62-57 win over Lake Orion a common foe for both teams.

Earl Blaik has been Army's head football coach 15 years.

Owner Shells Out $250,000

Athletics Spending Unlimited Cash for Rookie Talent

(This is the 7th of a series of articles by Associated Press baseball expert Joe Reichler dealing with the rosie prospects of Major League teams. Today he scans the Kansas City Athletics.)

NEW YORK (AP)—Owner Arnold Johnson, encouraged by the enthusiastic turnout of well over a million Kansas City fans to see his transplanted Athletics last season, has spent an estimated $250,000 in cash and players for minor league talent in an effort to improve the club for 1956.

Johnson paid a reported $100,000 in cash and players for Lou Kretlow and Joe Ginsberg, veteran Seattle battery. Pitcher Bill Bradford, shortstop Mike Baxes and outfielder Dave Melton were purchased from San Francisco for another $75,000. Rance Pless, Minneapolis third baseman and the American Assn's. leading hitter and most valuable player cost an estimated $30,000. Pitcher Glen Cox from Montreal was obtained for $20,000 and Jack Crimian of Toronto, named the most valuable pitcher in the International League, was $25,000.

In addition, the A's brought up a flock of players from their farm clubs and drafted a promising righthander named Bill Herriage, who won 15 and lost seven at Montgomery, Ala., where he struck out 133 in 187 innings and posted a 2.40 earned-run average. Recalled pitching farmhands include Mike Kume, Allan Romberger, Gus Keriazakos, Bill Harrington and Carl Duser, all with non-imposing records at Columbus, Walt Craddock from Savannah and Ed Burtschy from Portland.

It is from Kretlow, Crimian, Cox and Bradford that Manager Lou Boudreau expects the most help. Kretlow, a steady loser with Detroit, St. Louis and Baltimore, appears to have discovered the winning touch in the Coast league. He won 11 straight following his release from Baltimore and wound up with a 14-3 record and a gaudy 2.47 ERA. During his streak, the 33-year-old Oklahoman recorded some outstanding achievements, including four straight shutouts and 28 1-3 successive scoreless innings.

Crimian, who had a brief fling with the St. Louis Cardinals, figures to provide Boudreau with another fine reliever, in addition to Tommy Gorman. The 29-year-old righthander had a 19-6 record with Toronto in 41 mound appearances and paced the International League pitchers with a 2.10 earned-run percentage. Cox was 11-5 at Montreal. The 24-year-old Giant, he stands 6-2 and weighs 220, is considered a real comer. Bradford had an impressive 12-5 mark at San Francisco but he is nearing 32.

Melton, 27, is a right-handed hitter with power. His .290 average included 20 doubles, 19 home runs and 116 runs batted in. Ginsberg, 30, caught 147 games at Seattle, hitting .293. He spent several indifferent seasons with Detroit and Cleveland before his shipment to the Coast.

U.S. Given Chance for Only 2 Medals

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—High U.S. hopes for a strong showing in the Winter Olympics dwindled today to a point where two gold medals look good.

For a time, the Yanks had been predicting they might win as high as four first places in the big carnival which opens Thursday.

But the Russians have shown themselves to be invincible in speed skating. Even the Americans admit they can't beat the Reds. Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence of Parshall, Colo., who won two women's skiing events in the '52 games, has not rounded into form after giving birth to her third child. Finally, the Italians look unbeatable in the bobsleds.

Even one of the "certain" American winners appears to be in doubt. Tenley Albright of Newton Center, Mass., regarded as a sure gold medalist in figure skating, injured her leg.

The United States won four gold medals in the 1952 games in Oslo to pile up 89½ points in the unofficial team score. This was second to Norway, the "home" team, which came out on top with 125½ points. Russia did not compete in '52.

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Clippers hockey team, left homeless by a $175,000 explosion and fire which destroyed Carlin's Iceland, last night reached agreement to move the club to Charlotte, N.C.

The proposed shift is subject to approval of an Eastern Hockey League meeting here today. It provides for playing from six to eight of the remaining 12 home games in Charlotte. The rest of the games would be played in other cities.

If the plan is approved, Baltimore's first game in Charlotte would be next Monday, with others to follow on Feb. 2, 13, 14, 15 and 16.

Freeman Continues Lead in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Robin Freeman continued to widen his lead in the Big Ten basketball scoring race.

Toronto Goalie Sidelined for Next 2 Weeks

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—Goalie Harry Lumley of the Toronto Maple Leafs likely will be sidelined for at least the next two weeks by an injury suffered Sunday night in Detroit.

Doctors said Lumley pulled a back thigh muscle in his right leg when he feel awkardly at the seven-minute mark of a game against the Detroit Red Wings.

The Leafs are expected to bring up goalie Gil Mayer from their American League farm club at Pittsburgh.

OCSC to See Films of Canada's Northland

Members of Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will view a 45-minute color movie, Wednesday night, as highlight of the January meeting in the clubhouse.

"Hunter's Moon" is the title of Howard Shelley's picture, made during a recent northern Canada trip. It depicts a fall hunting scene, with Freddie, orphaned Canadian goose, Blackie, a squirrel hound and a sequence on fox trapping. A moose hunting trip is a part of the show.

Plans for coming OCSC events: a fox hunt this Sunday; fish dinner Feb. 3; ladies' night, Feb. 16, will be announced.

Ed Mathews of the Braves has 153 home runs in four seasons of play.

Soviets Tough

'Wake Up Americans,' Says Ex-Olympic Star

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (AP)—"The United States had better wake up or the Russians are really going to take us this summer."

So says Del Lamb of Milwaukee, coach of the United States speed skating squad, who was on two Olympic teams himself.

Lamb has been highly impressed with the Russians in the prewinter tuneups—as had been just about everyone here.

"If they can produce skaters like they brought here — including some we've never heard of — in a few years' time, they can do the same in track and field," Lamb said today. "Skating is as difficult as sports come for training and conditioning."

He said it probably was too late for the Americans to do anything about it for the summer games, scheduled for Melbourne, Australia in November.

"The United States must start promoting all sports like the Russians do. We're going to have to get rid of guys who worry about Wes Santee (America's star miler) getting an extra dollar. We're up against guys who don't have the same standards."

Santee was in danger of suspension by the American AAU recenty in a squabble over expense money.

Lamb observed that the Russians have brought along their own masseurs, cooks and so on.

"We don't have the money for that," he continued. "Our skaters don't even have the proper amount of time to train as they should. They've got jobs to hold. The Russians have been out on the ice since the last week of October."

Milford Youngsters Enjoy Winter Trip

Seventeen members of Milford's Huron Valley Sports Association returned a bit lame but otherwise healthy from their annual skiing trip last weekend to the Sheridan Valley winter sports area near Lewiston.

Ten senior club members and seven junior youngsters, all under the supervision of Fay Titus, took their flings at skiing on the 1800-foot slope, Sheridan's largest hill. The only casualty was Frank Duke, senior club prexy, who could not make the trip because of an appendicitis attack.

Races were held by both HVSA groups. Mike McQueen won the junior division race by the margin of one second and covered the course in 15 seconds. The senior race was won by Ken Winship.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

STRIDE IN LINE—The proper ball grip, the push-away and the most natural stance are top fundamentals, to be sure, but to reach the heights try to develop a straight-in-line stride from starting position to the foul line. Without it you will deliver your bowl consistently at the desired spot, as sketch shows, or along the board you've picked over which to roll it.

Finish with a slide and, as arrow shows, your left foot will be in line, pointed straight at the pins. You'll have body balance, the weight riding in on the left leg. Your arm will swing straight on out to finish with an easy lift to impart hook spin with the fingers.

Do a little zagging to the right and your toe may turn slightly to the right into a "broadside" foot finish. Result? You lose your direction by missing your spot or line. Work on a straight-line finish. It'll pay off.

American Doing Business in Shanghai Awaiting Exit Visa Request Made in '50

Editor's Note: This story comes from a British writer who has been in Communist China on a two-month tour. It was mailed to Hong Kong.

By LOIS MITCHISON

SHANGHAI (AP)—The only American businessman at liberty in Red China is Charles S. Miner, formerly of Washington, D.C.

"When I'll be able to leave China is not in my hands. I can't make any prognostications myself," he told me.

Miner has been in China seven years.

He applied for his exit visa in November 1950 and as far as he knows, the application is still pending.

His wife is Chinese, and she also has applied for an exit permit.

The Miners live in Shanghai's most elegant and expensive block of private apartments, Grosvenor House.

AGENT FOR 6 COMPANIES

Miner is acting as agent for what remains of six companies in Shanghai. They are the Metropolitan Land Co., an insurance company, a bank, two automobile companies and a newspaper, the Shanghai Evening Post.

"I have been trying to wind up the businesses, exchanging our property against our liabilities and paying as little additional money as possible," he said. "The difference between the Chinese government's assessment of our liabilities and the amount I have offered is $94,000."

"Shanghai," Miner said, "used to be the 'Paris of the East' but now it's like a village where they take in the sidewalks at 9 p.m."

He compared the city of seven years ago with Shanghai today.

"The whole thing is totally different. There's no similarity at all. If you go out to eat in the restaurants they close early.

"All the clubs are closed down.

"I don't know of anything that hasn't changed. Take the Chinese blue cotton uniforms . . . Everybody seems to wear the same thing here.

"The beggars have all gone too, and the thieves and pickpockets; Shanghai used to be full of them, but no more."

Merger Will Create Largest Rail System

ST. PAUL, Minn. (INS) — The Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads have jointly announced plans for the study of a merger which would result in the largest single railway system in the United States.

The announcement was made Sunday at St. Paul by John Budd, president of the Great Northern, and Robert S. McFarland, Northern Pacific president.

The survey will explore the possibility of merging the two roads, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy line, and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle line, a subsidiary of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern.

The resulting railroad would have 27,000 miles of trackage. Pennsylvania Railroad currently is the biggest system with a total of 22,800 miles of trackage.

Blanchard joined the division last February as assistant to the vice president in charge of manufacturing, with responsibilities for coordinating new projects.

He had previously been manager of the manufacturing engineering staff of the Ford Motor Co. Tractor and Implement division.

Carol, who has yet to have a bad spill, rides her bicycle around her home by "feel," feeling the bumps as she comes to them. She can also skate and dance.

Nation's Business Girding for 'Hold That Line' Tactics

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation seems to be getting ready for a switch to "hold that line" tactics on the business front.

The momentum of good times is carrying over into the start of the new year. But earlier fears of a threat of inflation have been stilled of late by the turndown in auto production and home building—the two fields in which dangers of a runaway boom were once believed concentrated.

And so businessmen were all set for President Eisenhower's report today on the state of the nation's economy to forecast a 400-billion-dollar year but a slowdown from 1955's rapid rate of gain.

LEVEL STEADY

Business economists think the first three to five months of this year will see that level maintained.

Then comes the testing time. The "hold that line" policies now shaping up are seen in the assertions of administration leaders that a sharp turndown in business would be considered a reason to reduce taxes. Increased government spending is proposed on several fronts.

House-building credit rules have already been relaxed to keep home building from taking too much of a tumble. Federal reserve executives have pledged that money and credit supplies will be increased should any pronounced business downturn warrant it.

Factory Wages Hit New All-Time Mark

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government has reported that the buying power of the average factory worker's pay check reached an all-time high in December.

The Labor Department says that the peak was the result of a three-tenths of one per cent drop in the cost of living, coupled with an average 10-cents-an-hour rise in earnings.

The buying power of the average paycheck of 17 million factory workers in December was six per cent higher than a year earlier, according to the department.

This was the largest December to December gain since World War II.

The agency said increased earnings were the product of higher wage rates and more overtime pay. The average factory work week lengthened nine-tenths of an hour last year as industry operated at peak capacity in many areas.

Corvette vs. Thunderbird to Be '56 Selling Skirmish

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — A sharper battle between Chevrolet's Corvette and Ford's Thunderbird appears certain during the year ahead.

Both cars have been substantially redesigned and restyled. The Corvette has a power-operated fabric top, an optional removable solid top, a variety of power actuated items, like seats and windows, and a 225-horsepower engine.

A sculptured depression extending from the front wheel openings into the doors has added greatly to its eye-appeal. The fiber glass reinforced plastic body is being offered in half a dozen colors.

The Thunderbird, meanwhile, enhances its sports motif with body redesigned to include the Continental type spare tire. Placing the spare tire outside has enlarged the luggage space. The car is being offered with a choice of three engines ranging from 202 to 225 horsepower and with all the safety features Ford has announced for its major lines.

* * *

Chevrolet outproduced Ford in 1955 with an over-all passenger car volume of 1,830,037 units to 1,764,524 Ford cars. It probably outsold Ford in the regular passenger car also.

TOOK BEATING

But Chevrolet took something of a beating in the sports car field from the Thunderbird. Thunderbird new car registrations ran nearly 10 to 1 over the Corvette.

Chevrolet took the Corvette out of production for several months before the 1956 model was ready. This may have contributed in some degree to the poorer showing of the Corvette.

The Corvette and Thunderbird are small cars compared with the regulation coupes and two-door hardtops. But their price tags put them in the medium-price bracket. There still is considerable speculation as to the over-all market for the type of car they represent.

Spokesmen for both Chevrolet and Ford have said they expect the demand for the smaller "personal" cars to broaden steadily in the years ahead. Ford introduced its Thunderbird in October, 1954. In the subsequent 12 months retail deliveries exceeded 16,000.

Both Chevrolet and Ford expect to top that figure in 1956 deliveries, even if the over-all car market shows a leveling off from last year's record-smashing totals.

The industry's peak production appears to have been a little more costly than appeared at first. It piled up dealer inventories at the highest year-opening level in history. The nearly 808,000 new cars in dealers' hands on Jan. 1, compared with a total of 362,300 on Jan. 1 a year ago, and with 723,718 on Dec. 1, 1955.

The largest dealer inventories in history were recorded on June 1 of last year when the count showed 848,498 cars unsold.

It is a fairly safe assumption that production totals will be held down through most of the remainder of the winter weeks—or at least until the upward trend of dealer stocks is reversed.

If precedent is followed that reversal should begin to show early in March.

Water Program Needs Overhaul

Hoover Group's Head Reports Federal Policy Is a 'Hodgepodge'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The National Conference on Water Resources Policy was told today that the entire federal program for water resource and power development is "honeycombed with subsidies, open and hidden" and needs a "major overhaul."

* * *

Admiral Ben Moreell (ret.), chairman of the second Hoover Commission's task force on water resources and power, said federal policy as a whole is a "hodge podge" because separate policies have been developed for irrigation, flood control, navigation and power.

A major overhaul of existing procedures, Moreell said, is needed to bring about sound and consistent federal policies.

He said this should include a complete review of present programs, consideration of "the moral deterioration which results from government subsidies" and the danger of the increasingly rapid transfer of power from the states to the federal government.

* * *

He was one of four speakers at a panel on the commission task force. The conference is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the Engineers Joint Council and the National Water Conservation Conference.

Port Huron Man Slated for AEC Appointment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee has scheduled a hearing Thursday on the appointment of Harold S. Vance to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Vance, a native of Port Huron, Mich., was given a recess appointment last October for a term ending June 30, 1960. He formerly was chairman of the executive committee of Studebaker-Packard Corp.

New Operation Removes Scars of Acne, Smallpox

NEW YORK—An amazing operation is miraculously wiping away the ugly scars and pits of acne and smallpox, disfiguring birth marks, wrinkles and even freckles by a quick and simple method.

This revolutionary new treatment is called "dermabrasion," a name coined by Drs. Saul Blau and and Charles Rein. It has been adopted by surgeons at the New York University Medical School's skin and cancer unit, the Mayo Clinc, and other hospitals.

* * *

Dermabrasion's great advantage is its quickness. The doctor simply sprays the skin with a freezing preparation, and then applies a rotating wire brush which scrapes away the scarred skin, allowing fresh new skin to grow in its place. And the procedure is practically painless, they report.

Police Recapture 2 Young Fugitives

JACKSON (AP) — Two fugitives from Cassady Lake Training School near Chelsea were captured early today by state troopers from the Jackson Post.

State Police said the pair clubbed a man during an attempted breakin at a cottage on Sugar Loaf Lake following their escape last night.

The fugitives were identified as Normal L. Bauman, 19, serving 3 to 15 years for breaking and entering in Detroit, and James C. Kleinsorge, 21, serving 2½ to 4 years for larceny in Bay County.

The youths were captured after State Police set up roadblocks in the area. The troopers said they put up no resistance.

Wants Driver Ban on Teeners

AMA Head Urges Law to Prevent After-Dark Motoring of Young Set

DETROIT (AP) — The president of the American Medical Assn. is recommending a ban on after-dark driving by teenagers and mandatory medical examinations for motorists over 50 years of age.

* * *

Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., made the proposals before the 16th annual Congress on Industrial Health yesterday.

He said his proposals were aimed at "the irresponsibility of youth and the physical limitations of age" to halt what he termed "the blood bath" on the nation's highways.

Dr. Hess, who is 67, said "No children less than 18 should be allowed to drive after dark" and that the rule should be enforced by parents.

IT'S ABSURD

On the other end of the age scale, he said: "It is absurd to assume that merely because a person is licensed to drive when he's young that he should hold the privilege for life."

Examinations, he continued, would "weed out" those physically and temperamentally unfit to drive. Dr. Hess suggested the examinations be given by state-designated physicians, "to take the burden off the family doctor."

The medical association chief criticized automobile advertising which he said appealed to "nitwits" by emphasizing speed, but he added slow drivers are as dangerous as those who drive fast.

But then asked:

"Who among us needs to be catapulted along the highways? Who needs a sizzling take-off that will carry him from zero to umpty-ump miles per hour in nine seconds, except possibly a bank robber? Why, then, all this power madness?"

Without mentioning names, Dr. Hess added: "Thank God for the automakers who now seem to be reversing this trend and placing more emphasis in their advertisements on safety instead of speed."

In 1955 alone, he said, 38,000 died in traffic, against 33,400 Americans killed in three years of Korean fighting.

College Boys Face Robbery Indictment

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Three college students today faced circuit court arraignment on a charge of armed robbery, after waiving examination in Justice Court yesterday.

They are Bert Goens, 19; William Gothard, 19, and James Bryant, 20, all of Decatur.

The trio is accused of holding up a grocery store at Newton Woods in Cass County Dec. 22. They also have been accused of sticking up a service station near Lawrence in Van Buren County.

Goens is a student at Michigan State University and Gothard and Bryant at Western Michigan College.

Seabees Brave Hardship to Build Base in Antarctic

By SAUL PETT

HUT POINT, McMurdo Sound, Antarctica (AP) — They probably never will have a mountain named for them, or be invited to write a book, or make a lecture tour, or join the explorers' club, or have their pictures in the National Geographic.

* * *

But the men now living and working on this desolate spot are the backbone of a modern scientific exploration. They are the Seabees who have the exhausting, freezing job of building the American base and the dreary, lonely job of maintaining it through the long Antarctic winter night.

VITAL WORKERS

Without the Seabees, the International Geophysical Year scientists from America next fall would be unable to jump off for the South Pole, and further exploratory flights would be impossible. These workers are building the air base of Operation Deepfreeze.

They are building it out on the bleak snow slopes. The site is historic — British explorer Robert Falcon Scott used it as his last camp befoe his fatal journey to the South Pole 44 years ago.

* * *

Unlike the wardroom explorers who came here for a brief reverential comment before the snow filled the Scott hut or to shoot pictures of the cross memorializing Scott atop 1,000-foot Observation Hill, the Seabees will not be returning to the comfy warmth of the U. S. Navy ships.

CAN'T SAY WHY

Most are here with a sense of seeking something different. Others can't tell you at all why they are here. Still others frankly admit their reasons are far from epic.

While the permanent buildings were being constructed, the Seabees lived in snow-floored tents for half of last month. Tents advertised as suitable for 10 men turned out to be big enough for only six and their sleeping bags. Most of the stoves didn't arrive on schedule. Temperatures were nearly always below freezing. For the first 10 days they lived off "C" rations and worked around the clock.

* * *

But their morale is generally good. You can tell by the way they gripe openly and don't sulk in corners.

SHARP HUMOR

Their humor remains sharp and clear.

Near the olive drab chow tent — which is 12,000 geographic and a million heart miles from home — a sign says: "There is no place anywhere near this place like this place. So this must be the place."

* * *

A note on the mail box advises: "Hours of pickup — sunrise and sunset." The last sunrise here was late October. The next sunset is due in late February. In late April it goes down and stays down until next August.

SIGN OF WELCOME

At the edge of the McMurdo Sound ice, where the men are living in tents while permanent buildings of plywood and aluminum are being built on higher ground, there stands a more formal sign:

"Welcome to McMurdo Heights — no baths — airwick available on request — continental cuisine — no women allowed."

About 130 Seabee volunteers were brought here for the job. About 90 will remain over the winter. Some changed their minds after reaching the Antarctic and will go back with the ships this month. Generally it is because of family reasons — a wife is ill, or a baby expected.

* * *

The party will live in comfortable warm buildings, amply stocked with provisions. But outside it will be totally dark for five months. The temperature will drop to 60 or 70 below. The winds on occasion will rise to 100 m.p.h.

Truck Control Bill in Hopper

Highway Unit Official Warns Legislation Hurts Rights of States

BILOXI (AP)—The director of the Western Highway Institutes said today bills now pending before Congress contained possible restrictions on truck dimensions.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the annual convention of the Truck Trailer Manufacturers Assn., John Stringer of San Francisco said such legislation could seriously infringe on states rights.

Stringer praised the highway departments and the motor carriers associations of the western states for helping obtain uniform laws governing truck sizes and weights.

He said such laws encourage the interchange of highway equipment between states. This results in important benefits to the entire economy of the region, he said.

It also gives equipment manufacturers a long needed opportunity to standardize their products which results in ultimate savings to all concerned, Stringer said.

William N. Carey Jr., chief project engineer for a $900,000 test of asphalt highways near Mallard, Idaho, warned the problems of load distribution and frequency probably would not be solved in any one test.

Carey, associated with the highway research board at Washington, said startling or revolutionary concepts are not likely to come from a particular test because of the difference in climates throughout the country.

Republic Studio Plans to Double Movie Budget

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Republic Studio plans to spend from 12 to 15 million dollars this year in movie production and preparation—about double its budget of any former year.

Studio president Herbert J. Yates, announcing this yesterday, said another big-screen process—Republic's "Naturama"—will be used, for the first time, in filming Grey's novel.

"Naturama," Yates said, "eliminates distortion and grain and will improve photographic and color quality.

Sentencing Date Set for Roy L. England

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Roy L. England, 27, of 8 N. Saginaw St., pleaded guilty to nighttime breaking and entering and Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing for Jan. 30.

England admitted entering a cafe on South Saginaw street last November.

Uses TV to Check Knives' Sharpness

CINCINNATI (AP) — One manufacturer is using television to determine the sharpness of knives.

The TV set inspects chrome-plated scraper blades used in lithography coating machines. It magnifies the blades' thin edges 288 times so that inspectors can check for tiny imperfections. Previously inspectors looked at the blades through an ordinary microscope.

Frank Connelly, machine shop manager and originator of this TV usage, said inspectors get the job done twice as fast and with more accuracy.

The inspector moves the blade slowly through a holder under the microscope and the view is reproduced on a receiving set screen. Blades with irregularities are discarded.

Farm Products Prices Climbing

5-Year Decline Halted as Department Predicts Better Months Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today that prices of most farm products have improved slightly in recent weeks, halting a five-year decline.

In a report on the market outlook for agricultural commodities, the department said prospects are that farm product prices in the early months of this year will average somewhat above the low levels reached in December.

* * *

A 7 per cent drop in the general level of farm prices last year deepened the political controversy over farm policy and it now shapes up as a possible major issue in the November elections.

NO FIGURES

The department gave no specific figures on price improvements this month. A formal report giving these prices as of mid-January will be issued Jan. 31.

The department did say, however, that January improvements came after seasonal peaks in marketings of farm products last year.

The department said prices of hogs increased an average of 5 per cent at Chicago during the first half of January. Cattle prices were said to have increased about 1 per cent at the same market.

The department said preliminary figures indicated farmers received $29,200,000,000 in cash from marketings of arm products last year. This was a decline of 3 per cent from 1954.

Confesses to Shyness and Fears Despite His TV Popularity

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Some time ago when an intense and restless young man named Jack Paar appeared as a panelist on the television quiz program What's My Line? the mysterious guest turned out to be Willie Mays of the New York Giants.

* * *

JOY TO BEHOLD

In a world where nearly everybody claims to have the answers to nearly everything, Paar's candor is a joy to behold. He displays it for half an hour each weekday over CBS-TV. While it's impossible for everyone to agree on humor, Paar draws consistent smiles from at least one viewer when he has a chance to watch his program.

* * *

Paar, unlike many so-called comedians, does not always insist on having the last word. Sometimes a last gesture will do—as when Jack Leonard, one of the greatest "last word" men in the business, appeared as his guest. After Leonard had cut Paar's laughs for eight minutes, Paar picked up a pair of garden shears he'd brought along for that exact purpose, and cut the wire to Leonard's microphone. It's the only time Leonard has been known to be speechless.

HUMAN FRAILTIES

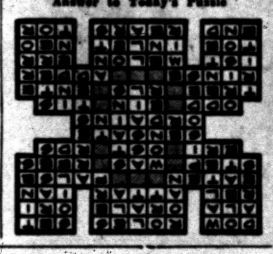

Paar confesses to being shy, frightened of crowds, easily depressed, uncertain of what he's going to do next and other such human frailties. He got his start as an Army enlisted man entertainer in the Southwest Pacific during World War II, endured the vagaries of Hollywood and radio, and finally was "discovered" by CBS. After a long stint of conducting The Morning Show on CBS-TV he became an afternoon man.

"I like daytime television," he says. "I wouldn't want to have a big nighttime show. Then I'd have to be sure-fire. And every time I try to do something sure-fire it lays an egg . . . .

"I never set out to 'tell a joke to the people.' The people are not 12 years old and they know when somebody is condescending to them. I just do what seems natural to me to the best of my ability."

Lethal Serum Stolen From Doctor's Auto

EASTON, Pa. (AP)—More than 60 bottles of a poisonous vaccine—capable of killing a human being—were stolen from a veterinarian's car here yesterday.

Authorities issued a warning that the vaccine, used for treatment of a cattle disease, can kill a person if it enters the bloodstream—even via a cut on the hand.

* * *

Dr. Sherman Ames Jr. told police his station wagon was broken into while parked in front of his home. He said the vaccine was in a metal box with some instruments used for treatment of animals. The vaccine, known as brucella abortus, is used to prevent the spread of brucellosis, a fever infection in cattle.

Marilyn and Kim Novak Without Escorts — Hah!

By EARL WILSON

GUYS & GALS & GAGS & GOSSIP . . .

NEW YORK—Though B'way's jammed with big crowds now, on one recent very cold day Jack Parr, the Canton cutup, surveyed a small audience at his CBS show and remarked, "We had a bigger crowd on our day-bed last night."

Comedian Joe E. Lewis said it about his pal Swifty Morgan, the California-to-Florida commuter: "He has a remarkable genius for finding things people haven't lost."

* * * *

Fluorescent-haired Hollywood star Kim Novak, insists she isn't battling with Columbia about doing "Pal Joey" as reported—and further swears she isn't having dates here, knows no single guys in N.Y., and that at a coming party "Marilyn Monroe'll be there and we'll stand in a corner all alone having girl talk." Sure they will.

* * * *

A famous TV star known for his suavity was phoned at his New Jersey country home—but his small daughter answered and said, "Daddy's sick" . . . "Oh, I'm sorry, what's wrong?" inquired a solicitous friend . . . Answered the 9-year-old: "He got plastered last night."

MONICA

Copacabana Gal Monica Davis — a Registered Nurse from New Orleans who resembles Marlene Dietrich — is as far as we know the Broadway beauty named for a horse. Nellie (her real name) was a nag that died the day she was born, and her father, an Alabama farmer, who loved the horse very much, gave his daughter the horse's name. (But don't horse around with Monica!)

Culture Note: Rory Calhoun's teaching friends to talk as Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's punch-drunk fighter does. He says you speak with tongue against your upper teeth. (Even to act ignorant, you need lessons!)

Eddie Fisher has a secret. He smokes a cigar about once a month. I took a picture of him with one in his kisser which he won't let me print. Drat!

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Seriously now, "The $64,000?" hears that Herbert Hoover wants to go on, and if he sends in a letter they'll consider him. (Same for Harry Truman if he wants to expert on the Civil War . . . Don Ameche hopes to return to "Silk Stockings" after licking that laryngitis siege.

The Dorsey Bros. signed a $1,000,000 deal with the Statler Hotel in N.Y.—six months a year for five years. . . Ted Lewis sprained his back ice skating in Central Park.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Experience is what enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "TV helps bring the family closer together — especially if they're watching a small screen."—Frank Malester.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A rural Kansas woman said, "My sister and I aren't lonely — we have each other to talk to. What we need is a third woman to talk about." . . . That's earl, brother.

Chrysler in Los Angeles Seen Laying Off 3,000

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three thousand production workers at the Chrysler Corp. plant will be laid off today and tomorrow because of "special production problems," the automotive firm said yesterday.

A spokesman said the problems involve glass installation and trim on four-door hardtops of the Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge and Chrysler lines.

A "yard full" of cars already produced have not met standards and corrections must be made, the spokesman said.

There's No Program Like That Program

ST. LOUIS (AP)—About 900 patrons awaited the performance of the suburban Webster Groves community concert series, but where was Mildred Miller, mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera?

Why, she was at her home in Arlington, Va., and had a contract to prove she had signed for a later date. But what about violinist Michael Rabin, billed on the programs for the date claimed by the singer? A further check of the contracts showed he actually had for an even later date.

The patrons were sent home—and the programs revised.

Keefe Brasselle's Wife Files Suit for Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Keefe Brasselle's wife sued yesterday for divorce, alleging that in recent months he has treated her in a manner that caused her "great humiliation, anguish and distress."

Mrs. Norma Brasselle, 29, accused the 32-year-old film player of extreme cruelty. Her complaint says they were married Dec. 18, 1942, in Cleveland, Ohio, and separated last Dec. 17. They have a 12-year-old daughter.

George Mum on Foreign Aid

Meets With Ike, Dulles on Long-Term Clauses of Economic Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) gave no hint today that he has dropped his opposition to any long-range commitments of foreign economic aid.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, talked for an hour at the White House yesterday with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

Upon emerging, he wouldn't even confirm the general assumption that Eisenhower and Dulles had sought to persuade him to drop his opposition to their request for authority to make commitments as long as 10 years in the future on specific development projects.

To all questions from reporters, George replied, "Ask the President." The White House had no comment on the conference.

Meanwhile, a possible fight against Eisenhower's nomination of Robert R. Bowie to be an assistant secretary of state was postponed for at least a week.

Two top-ranking Senate Republicans — Minority Leader Knowland (Calif) and Policy Committee Chairman Bridges (NH) have indicated opposition to Bowie.

They have not given their reasons publicly, but reportedly object to Bowie's reputed belief that this country must face up to the issue of a possible United Nations seat for Red China. Neither Bowie nor Dulles has commented on the situation.

Knowland told reporters postponement of a Senate hearing on the nomination "as a matter of convenience" and did not presage any movement for withdrawal.

Southfield Builder Convicted in Deaths

Morris H. Wilkinson, Southfield Township building contractor, was convicted of negligent homicide yesterday in the Aug. 13 traffic deaths of two Detroit-area persons.

Detroit Circuit Judge B. Murphy, who found Wilkinson guilty after a trial without a jury, placed him on two years probation, ordered him to pay $1,560 to the families of the victims, suspended his driver's license for two years and recommended it be suspended for an additional five years.

Killed in the four-car crash on Telegraph road in Dearborn township were Donald Barlow, 43, of Lincoln Park and Mrs. Vestena Hayden, 50, of Detroit.

Date for Sentence Set for Sam Littlejohn

Sam Littlejohn, 53, of 404½ S. Saginaw St., yesterday pleaded guilty to taking indecent liberties and Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland set sentencing for Feb. 6.

His father, Paul, also got $1,000 for coaching the young 4-H'er. Lamar above displays two ears of his corn.

Earl sent planners working today on a simple ceremony to be held May 15 in the shadow of the Kingfish's statue on the capitol grounds.

ENID, Okla. (AP)—One Enid house wife will think twice before she sings her hubby's praises in public.

No Peace Seen in 100-Day-Old Westinghouse Strike

By BEN DEFOREST

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike—one of the most costly labor disputes in the nation's history—was in its 100th day today and there were no indications when a settlement might be reached.

Federal Mediator John R. Murray has been closeted daily with top negotiators for Westinghouse and the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers but they have withheld comment on their progress.

The latest negotiations were begun last week after five days of secret sessions among Murray and the negotiators to seek a basis for the resumption of collective bargaining.

SEES PROGRESS

Yesterday, Gwilym A. Price, Westinghouse president and board chairman, said he felt "true collective bargaining now is under way . . . and that some progress has been made." Price has not sat in on any of the negotiating sessions.

Last week a union bulletin also stated that some progress had been made.

The IUE struck Oct. 17, calling out 44,000 members at 30 plants. On Oct. 26 the Independent United Electrical Workers pulled 10,000 members off the job at 10 additional plants.

EFFECTS OF STRIKE

Here are some of the effects of the strike:

Furloughs or part-time work for 40,000 other Westinghouse employes.

Executives' salaries slashed in company economy moves.

Strikers losing about $950,000 a day in wages, according to Westinghouse estimates. This is more than 65 million since the strike began.

Westinghouse reported loss of $1,037,000 in the last three months of 1955 because of the strike. Its over-all operations for all of 1955 showed a profit of $42,803,000. This compared to a net profit of $79,922,000 for 1954.

Production of electric appliances and electrical machinery virtually throttled. Westinghouse atomic research and construction projects are, however, continuing without interruption.

LENGTH OF CONTRACT

The strike primarily is a dispute over the length of the contract.

The unions have contracts that do not expire until next fall. But the contracts permitted the unions to open negotiations last fall for new wage scales.

The unions asked for 15-cent-an-hour wage increases under this wage reopening clause. Prestrike wages averaged about $2.10 an hour.

The company offered a five-year contract which it said would give workers a minimum wage increase of 2½ cents an hour over the five years. The unions stood pat on their demands for one-year contracts.

WILL COOPERATE

Senators, congressmen, governors, mayors and clergymen have called for arbitration of the dispute or appointment of fact-finding boards.

The IUE has said it will "cooperate" with such boards. The company has rejected the proposals, asserting that management is responsible to the stockholders and cannot delegate such responsibility to a third party.

Back-to-work movements at some of the plants have been marked by scattered incidents of violence. An unknown number of men have returned to work.

Minister Upheld by Court in Suit Over Church Debts

A decree issued yesterday by Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick listed $15,338 in bills owed by the Providence Missionary Baptist Church representing debts incurred by the Rev. T. Walter Harris in financing construction of the present church building.

The action stemmed from a suit filed by Albert Branch, a church member, who claimed the Rev. Mr. Harris had incurred debts against the church at BAgley and Diston Sts. without the congretation receiving proper benefit from the money.

The decree upheld Rev. Harris in his contention that he had to borrow funds in his own name because the church, as an unincorporated body, could not do so itself.

It listed debts owed builders, banks and private individuals plus $7,500 owed Rev. Mr. Harris in back salary. Throughout the suit Rev. Mr. Harris contended the church could not have been built if he had not taken it on himself to incur the necessary financial obligations.

Rev. Mr. Harris' statement that he and his wife had been holding the church lands in trust for the church was also backed by the decree.

The church was incorporated Jan. 17 and the trustees may either obtain a quit-claim deed to the property from the reverend and his wife or purchase the site on land contract.

If the church defaults in payment of its debts, Rev. Mr. Harris will not be held liable.

Branch established that since the church's incorporation he, as a member, can be held liable for debts.
