Car Output Doubles From November '59

DETROIT (AP)—November automobile production more than doubled from a year ago and came exceedingly close to original estimates, company reports show.

The five auto makers reported total production of 597,116 passenger cars in the month ended Thursday. This compared with only 254,528 in November 1959, when the giant General Motors facilities were almost 100 per cent shut down because of steel shortages.

Pontiac Output Way Over '59

Auto Plant Has Top
Record for Any Like
Period in 5 Years

Recording its second highest November production total in history last month when 41,546 new cars were built, Pontiac in 1960 has already surpassed total car production for the entire calendar year of 1959. It was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, General Motors Corp. vice president, and Pontiac general manager.

Pontiac has produced 608,899 cars through Nov. 30, representing the division's best 11 months' production performance in five years, Knudsen said.

The current exceeds the entire calendar year 1959 production of 388,826 new cars, he pointed out.

"The current high production level at Pontiac is a direct result of the favorable public response to our new 1961 line of cars," Knudsen continued. "From all indications, this success will continue into the new calendar year."

Russian 'Barks' From Space Suddenly Stop

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—The National Space Surveillance Control Center reported today that radar tracking on the Atlantic missile range showed only the tumbling rocket body of Russia's dog satellite in the sky today—but not the satellite which has been accompanying the rocket.

Radar observers awaiting the expected pass of the Sputnik VI said their observations failed to pick up the vehicle which had been reported carrying two dogs in a crate around the earth since Thursday.

Previous radar observations had shown the last rocket stage and the satellite traveling together. The satellite was stable. The rocket body was tumbling. This morning the radar showed only the tumbling body.

Earlier today, the NSSCC spokesman reported the satellite's radio had gone silent and said the space vehicle might have gone out of orbit. This could mean an attempt to retrieve the satellite.

Harvard's Bell Fills Key Job in Administration

Aide in Truman's Time Joins Williams, Ribicoff
at the Top

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today announced his selection of David E. Bell, professor of economics at Harvard, as his budget director.

Kennedy made the announcement from the doorway of his Georgetown home to newsmen standing on the sidewalk in near-freezing weather.

Bell, 41, secretary of Harvard Littauer Center for Public Administration, stood by Kennedy's side as he made the announcement.

The first job for Bell, who served as an administrative assistant in the administration of President Harry S. Truman, will be to serve as liaison officer for the incoming Kennedy administration in discussions with Eisenhower's budget director, Maurice E. Stans.

After that he will have to start talking Eisenhower budget recommendations to the Kennedy pattern.

The post to which Kennedy appointed Bell is a key one in any administration.

The selection of Bell is the third top-level assignment made by Kennedy outside of his immediate White House staff.

He tabbed Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan as assistant secretary of State for African affairs, and later named Connecticut's Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff to be secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

STARTS NEXT WEEK

Kennedy said Bell will start work next week, at the Budget Bureau if agreeable to President Eisenhower, but in any event will start his tasks at the beginning of the week.

Kennedy said M. Feldman, a member of his Senate office staff, will serve as an assistant to Bell at the start of the Kennedy administration, then shift over to become a member of the White House staff.

Kennedy and Bell had never met until they conferred at length yesterday at the Capitol.

Gov. Williams Calling Session for Noon, Dec. 7

Legislators to Convene, Raise State Sales Levy
From 3 to 4 Cents

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today called a special session of the legislature to convene at 12 noon, Wednesday, Dec. 7, to raise the state sales tax from three to four cents. The call was limited to this one issue.

The governor earlier had announced his willingness to call the special session but momentarily delayed setting a specific date.

He was just back from a flying trip to Washington, D.C., where he accepted an appointment to President-Elect Kennedy's administrative team.

"Assurances I've had from leaders of the legislature convinced me that there should be no trouble in having a one-day session to accomplish the will of the people in voting a one-cent increase in the sales tax," he told a news conference.

Before setting a date, Williams said he wanted to find out what other arrangements had been made previously for use of legislative chambers. The Michigan H-Y organization, meeting here in convention Dec. 8-10, plans to use them for a mock legislative session.

Leaders of both parties agreed Thursday on the need for a special legislative session and recommended Dec. 8 as the most feasible date.

Williams said the special call would include only the matter of increasing the state sales tax. Any other items on the agenda will be included only by general bipartisan agreement, he said.

Meeting Thursday to discuss the special session were Senate majority leader Frank D. Beale, R-St. Clair; House speaker Don M. Pearse, R-Buchanan; Democratic floor leader Joseph J. Kowalek, D-Detroit; and Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson.

Williams had agreed to the special session with the qualification that the meeting not be turned into a "debating society." It was hoped the session would be limited to one or two days.

North Central Begins Here

Flight Inaugurates Service

By FETE LOCHNER

North Central Airlines' daily hop from Detroit to Pontiac to South St. Marie was back on schedule today, after an inaugural flight that went smoothly in every way except time.

Ceremonies along the northbound course yesterday delayed the arrival of the 44-passenger Convair at the Soo 14 hours. The return to Pontiac was just as late, the big plane swinging in at 7:45 p.m. on its way back to Willow Run.

More than 50 persons cheered the morning arrival. The silver and white twin-engine transport was already 14 minutes late when it set down at Pontiac Municipal Airport at 10:20 a.m. for the first ceremony.

Two dozen persons braved the cold last night to watch the return flight come in.

Other crowds greeted the inaugural flight at Bishop Field, Flint; Tri-City Airport near Bay City; Midland and Saginaw; and Phelps Collins Airport outside of Alpena. North Central officials who made the inaugural flight were greeted by the public reception and promised added service if there is demand for it.

At present the one northbound daily flight is scheduled to leave Pontiac at 10:12 a.m., arriving at Flint at 10:27 a.m., Tri-City 10:33 a.m., Alpena 11:40 a.m., Pellston 12:15 p.m. and Kinchloe Air Force Base near the Soo at 12:45 p.m.

The return trip leaves the Soo at 3:45 p.m. and has Pontiac at 6:15 p.m. The trip between Willow Run and Pontiac takes about 15 minutes.

Through rapid expansion the past six years, North Central has become the nation's biggest local service carrier, said Arthur E. A. Mueller, chairman of the Minneapolis, Minn., company.

Mueller envisioned almost unlimited expansion still open to the airline, as the emphasis continues to shift from purely local to regional service.

Mueller was confident one-plane service between Pontiac and Cleveland via Willow Run would begin around the first of the year, if other local carriers do not file further objections with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

First passenger to disembark at Pontiac was Shirley J. Moore, 21, Gingles Court, of the traffic enthusiast.

Two others made the trip to the Soo and back. They were Homer D. Hoskins, manager of Pontiac Municipal, and Wallace R. Furbur, 301 Orion Road, Avon Township, a Rochester pharmacist and flying enthusiast.

You simply must get the Christmas package off to your sister's family in California this weekend. The stores are loaded with fresh merchandise and are open tonight.

If your sister always complains that her earrings hurt, get her a pair of featherweight ones. Made by a Danish craftsman, they're a black plastic that looks like wood, inlaid with stainless steel designs. There are pins to match.

Your brother-in-law won't say, "Oh, a tie," in a disappointed tone if you send him one of the new imported Indian ties. They are crush-proof and come in the most gorgeous assortment of stripes you ever saw. They have the modern squared ends.

Now for the twin cousins. We saw a box containing a number of games like bridge, checkers and the like. It should keep even active boys busy for a few hours on Christmas Day — and for several days afterwards.

Four Shave-Dealing Gals. Right Lodge—120, 200 Michigan St.

Goodfellows on Streets Saturday

Waterford Township Goodfellows expect to sell 3,000 copies of The Pontiac Press when they have their annual drive from dawn until dark Saturday, according to Fire Captain Clayton Sconrante, Goodfellows president.

More than 100 businessmen, civic service club members and other volunteers will meet at 9 a.m. at the Goodfellows' township headquarters, Wheeler's Grocery, Store at 4800 Dixie Highway, Dayton, Pa.

They will be stationed at every major intersection in the township whether it rains, shines or snows to collect funds to help the needy at Christmas, Sconrante said.

All day there will be a big pot of stew cooking in the back room of the store headquarters with hot coffee and rolls supplied by How and Wheeler for the volunteers.

They hope to sell 1,000 m. papers this year but last as the tide of needy families has greatly increased. Last year's sales netted some $2,000 for 120 families and this year's goal has been set at $3,000.

The township Goodfellows assume the responsibility of putting the food baskets together with donations collected from other organizations including the Boy and Girl Scouts.

Harvard Prof Named Budget Director

Wednesday evening Bell had been highly recommended by Truman administration officials.

Bell, 44, is a native of California and was graduated from Pomona College there. Later he received his master's degree in economics at Harvard and then won a one-year fellowship at the Litterer center.

In reply to questions, Kennedy said he does not intend to raise the Budget Bureau to Cabinet status.

Bell's salary will be $22,500 a year.

Kennedy Thursday picked Ribicoff, one of his earliest boosters, to be secretary of health, education and welfare.

Ribicoff previously asserted that his views in this general field are "on all fours with the philosophy of President-Elect Kennedy."

Ribicoff likewise was present when Kennedy announced he would head the Welfare Department — an agency which will have a key role in preparing for Congress the new administration's program in the field of medical care for the aged, social security generally, and aid to education.

Ribicoff's term as governor has been years to run. He plans to resign when his commission to the $23,000-a-year Cabinet post is confirmed by the Senate.

Ribicoff is the first Jew to be elected governor of Connecticut, a predominantly Protestant-Roman Catholic state.

Ribicoff says his political creed is to travel the middle of the road, that it's the way to get things done in politics and government.

The son of poor immigrant parents, Ribicoff before becoming governor served two terms in the U.S. House of Representatives, was a member of the Connecticut Legislature, and was a city judge in Hartford.

He and Kennedy first met while they served in the House together.

Grants $160,000 to Mrs. Vernon

Late Husband's Estate Settled in Court; Rest Goes to Children

Mrs. Shirley C. Vernon walked out of Judge H. Russell Holland's courtroom $160,000 richer after a settlement of the estate of her late husband, James Vernon Jr.

Mrs. Vernon's attorney James Hathaway would not allow his client to speak to the press as to why she was waiving claims on a half-million-dollar trust or estates, which would have terminated any should Mrs. Vernon marry or die.

Hathaway produced a press release which said that two children by a previous marriage of Vernon, once the bulk of the ginger ale fortune, have agreed to pay Mrs. Vernon $160,000 out of the trust.

Mrs. Vernon's attorneys will receive $10,000 as stipulated in the decree signed by Judge Holland.

Frank J. Ortmann, one of three trustees of the trust, described the settlement of the estate as "a fairly even trade."

Mrs. Vernon lives at 707 W. Long Lake Rd., Bloomfield Township.

The children, Grace Shannon Vernon, 19, and James Vernon III, 20, will "receive all the income and get everything when they arrive at the age of 40 in equal shares," Hathaway's release stated.

Eye Staebler as National Chairman

ANN ARBOR — Neil Staebler, state Democratic chairman, appears a major contender for the national Democratic party chairmanship.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, the current chairman, said Thursday he plans to resign the job at the time President-Elect John F. Kennedy takes office next month.

Staebler, 35, has been Michigan's chairman since 1950. He played a major role in the repeated gubernatorial victories of James Williams and in carrying the race for Kennedy last month.

He announced some time ago that he would resign his state chairmanship when his term ends in February.

"My job is through here in Michigan," he said Thursday. "I will serve at whatever level the party chooses."

Staebler said at his home here that "there has been discussion over a period of months" of his taking the national party job but said "nothing definite" had been decided upon.

He said that "if the job is offered to me I will take it."

Asks State's Top Republicans to Quit

COLDWATER (U-P) — Sen. John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, today called on state Republican leaders to resign.

The Coldwater senator, said failure of Republicans to make any gains in the November election, showed the party could not continue its program of negative "me-tooism."

Smeekens said Republican National Committee Chairman John B. Martin should quit now and State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemeyer should not run again when he comes up for re-election in February.

Smeekens ran against Lindemeyer in a try for the party state chairmanship last spring but was badly defeated. He indicated he would run again.

Wrap Your Gifts in the Spirit of Christmas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Would you like your gifts to be literally wrapped in the spirit of Christmas this year?

If so, the U.S. Committee for Refugees has a proposition that may interest you.

The committee is raising funds to aid homeless refugees around the world by selling a unique kind of gift wrapping paper.

It is as colorful and festive as any other Christmas wrapping, and it bears a distinctive motif. The "tree of life" symbol of refugee relief.

It costs about the same as ordinary wrapping paper — 10 sheets for $1.50, 40 sheets for $5, mailed to your home, postpaid.

Local refugee relief agencies are taking orders for the wrapping paper in some communities.

Orders also may be mailed directly to the U.S. Committee for Refugees, 11 W. 42nd St., New York 36, N.Y.

The committee, appointed by President Eisenhower, is composed of prominent Americans of all faiths.

Its chairman is the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre Jr., dean of Washington Cathedral.

The rural population totaled 2,064,002 or 26.6 per cent of the total. That meant 73.4 per cent of the population was city folk.

In 1950 the figure was 70.7.

Ceylon Grabs Private Schools

Catholics Mourn Loss as Buddhists Celebrate With Firecrackers

COLOMBO, Ceylon (U)—A total of 2,354 private schools—one-third of them Catholic—became completely state managed Thursday. There was rejoicing by most of Ceylon's seven million Buddhists and mourning among the nation's 500,000 Roman Catholics.

The private schools educate most of the 2 million school children in Ceylon.

The Buddhists lit firecrackers in honor of "National Education Day." The government has said state management is the first step to framing an educational system suited to the national culture. Buddhists long have demanded this.

Along the western coastal belt where most Catholics work as fishermen, on coconut plantations or as clerks, churches tolled mourning bells. Men and women Catholic school children were in black mourning clothes and kept away from school.

They were protesting the compulsory conversion to state management of all primary schools and the withdrawal of state aid from higher schools which have decided to remain private with voluntary support.

Most private schools have been moving state aid to pay teachers and maintenance costs.

Catholic parents occupied their grade schools, saying they will not hand them to the government but the government has said it will.

CHICAGO (AP)—For lack of a defense lawyer the arraignment of Willie Hirsch, 32, on federal espionage charges was continued Thursday to Dec. 7.

Hirsch, a German-born medical illustrator, appeared before Judge Edwin A. Robson in U.S. District Court and said his wife had not come to Chicago with a lawyer for him. He is being held in the county jail under $50,000 bond.

He and Igor Y. Melekh, 47, a United Nations employee accused of spying for Soviet Russia, were brought to Chicago from New York on Tuesday. They were arrested in New York on a suppressed indictment returned in Chicago.

They are charged with attempting to obtain aerial photographs of military installations in Chicago and of conspiring to obtain information on U.S. national defense for transmission to Soviet Russia.

Melekh has posted his $50,000 bond and has been permitted limited travel pending his trial, the date as yet unset.

Many Ways to Teach Child Real Meaning of Christmas

By JAMES LOH
Associated Press Writer

How many shopping days remained when it came to pass that Mary and Joseph went up from Galilee unto the city of David to be enrolled?

The question sounds sacrilegious—which points up the problem confronting persons, especially parents, who are anxious to stress religious aspects of the Christmas season in a world dominated by commercialism.

Fortunately there are a number of customs—some old, most of them—which capture the imagination of children at home as much as the window displays downtown.

Perhaps the best known is the Advent wreath. Similar to it is the Advent house. Both teach the liturgical significance of the days leading up to Christmas.

ORIGIN OF ADVENT
The Advent wreath probably had its origin in the pagan fire wheel, used in pre-Christian times to celebrate the month of Yule (December).

In the 18th century the Lutherans of eastern Germany adopted the ancient custom to the Christmas season.

tion season of Advent. The practice spread among Protestants and Catholics throughout the country, and German immigrants brought it to America.

The wreath consists of a circle of evergreens fastened to a hoop or loop of wire, with four candles standing upright on the rim.

One candle is lighted on each of the four Sundays of Advent in a family ceremony, accompanied by appropriate prayers or hymns. During the final days before Christmas all four candles burn, mindful of the coming of Christ whom John the Evangelist called the "light of the world."

The Advent house is a similar custom, with the added element of suspense.

A cardboard silhouette of a house with four windows takes the place of the wreath and its four candles. Behind each closed window is either a scriptural quotation bearing on Christmas or one of the many symbols of the Messiah taken from the Old Testament. Each Sunday a window is opened, with a short lesson on the message it reveals.

MEANS 'COMING'
Advent comes from a Latin word which means "coming," and refers to a penitential period of preparation for the coming of Christ.

The length of the season varied in different parts of the world until the 13th century when it became standard practice to begin the observation on the fourth Sunday before Christmas.

Many faiths still keep the penitential flavor of the season. Catholics, for example, prohibit marriage during Advent as well as Lent.

This spirit of sacrifice gave rise to a French custom which now is practiced in many American homes—and often has better effect on children's pre-Christmas behavior than the notion Santa's elves are spying on them.

For each good deed, or act of sacrifice, the child is allowed to place a whip of straw in a tiny manger.

By Christmas morning when, lo and behold, a figure of the Christ Child appears in the manger, the infant should have a nice, soft bed.

These are among a variety of ways to "keep Christ in Christmas"—at least at home.

Sukarno's 'Democracy' Drifts Toward Disaster

It's about time for Pres. SUKARNO of Indonesia and his retinue again to set out on a world tour. Things are going from bad to worse at home and his usual reaction is to get away from it all.

After seizing Dutch property—banks, airlines, business firms, and port facilities, without compensation and driving out all Dutch residents and confiscating their personal property, Sukarno established a "guided democracy." The guiding has been downhill all the way.

Without technicians or skilled administrators and with government interference everywhere Indonesia's economy is coming to a standstill. Its currency, officially 45 rupias to the dollar is 10 times that on the black market. Living costs are rising at the rate of 40 per cent a year. Despite high world prices for rubber, production has dropped.

Electrical consumption is down. Coal and sugar production are only at half of prewar level. Transportation has collapsed. Due to expulsion of some 50,000 Chinese shopkeepers, the retail business has all but disappeared.

Regardless of all this, other industry is now being threatened. Natural gas and oil companies have been told that they no longer will be allowed to convert profits into dollars.

Under the Dutch, Indonesia's natural resources were being developed and a good start had been made in agriculture and industry. Most of all this has been destroyed. Mismanagement of the whole economy is causing hardship and even hunger. Old established firms are pulling out and new ones refuse to come in. Indonesia is near bankruptcy—financially, agriculturally and politically.

Earlier this year the U.S. extended more aid to this rich country. It might be a shock to us to find out how SUKARNO has spent this and other U. S. money sent to help Indonesians.

Traffic Fatality Record Approaching New High

The tenth traffic fatality in Pontiac this year boosted the Oakland County toll over 100 recently, moving toward the worst record since 1957.

And we've reached this grisly count before even getting into December, one of the bad months for driving conditions.

Perhaps the slippery streets and highways will induce the caution in drivers which should be constant throughout the year. Two years ago a vicious sleet storm on New Year's Eve tied up traffic throughout the area, but serious accidents were held to a minimum because of drivers' caution.

Refugee Census First Before Aid Adjustment

According to the United Arab Republic some Palestine refugees are not getting rations and assistance under the United Nations program. It demands that aid be expanded to include all of them.

For a long time U.N. officials in charge of this problem have been asking for a census of the refugee population to determine where aid was needed. The Arabs have opposed such orderly procedure.

It has long been known that identity cards issued for rations and other aid have been misused. Thousands of families are collecting on cards issued to members long dead thereby drawing much more assistance than they should have.

In many cases ration cards are used as currency and sold to those who are not legally entitled to such aid. A census, which the Arabs do not want, could expose the racket.

If the UAR insists on expansion of the U.N. program, it should not oppose a census which would expose real conditions.

IT often happens that those who try to run the lives of others do more harm than good. A case in point: Told by a missionary it was a sin for him to have two wives, a cannibal ate one of them.

Winter sports: For which the Pontiac area has everything—when we get some winter.

In her characteristic frugal, thrifty and provident manner,

Using cut off milk cartons for molds, with a string through the middle, tied to a small cross stick at the bottom, the carton is then cut away, and the feed hung by the string from a tree. The birds then have to work a little for what they get, a labor which they seem to enjoy.

Finally Gets the Girl on the Late, Late Show

David Lawrence Says:

NBC Gave Only One Side of U2

WASHINGTON — The National Broadcasting Co. did an extraordinary and unprecedented thing last Tuesday night when it put on for an hour an editorial in the form of a television program called a "White Paper," which denounced the Eisenhower administration's record in the U2 episode.

The NBC has a right to editorialize, just as does any newspaper or magazine. The rights of radio and TV are fully protected by the "free press" provision of the Constitution.

How will the tens of millions who watched the show ever get the other side? Will equal time now be given to television to members of Congress to analyze and explain the controversial issue itself and, indeed, to point out how in some respects at least the NBC report did not give the whole story to the people?

The NBC said that "now that the passions and partisanship of an election year have subsided," the decision had been made to re-examine the story. But unhappy the "passions and partisanship" as between the United States and the Soviet Union in the cold war have by no means subsided.

The NBC editorial becomes a document from which the Soviets can get considerable help in their attempts, by radio and otherwise, to discredit the United States before the world.

In its editorial "conclusions," the NBC—which in the past has had a fine record of objective analysis and reporting—is open to criticism for the following statement:

"Nobody expects the United States, or any other nation to stop intelligence activities, but by justifying the U2 flights and implying they would continue, we materially affected the 'summit' conference. If Khrushchev intended to wreck the conference beforehand, we gave him a ready-made excuse. If he intended to negotiate, we made it difficult for him to do so."

AWARE OF FLIGHTS

Now the fact is that the U2 flights had been going on for four years as a means of protecting the American people against "surprise attack." All members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, in their report last June, unanimously agreed that the Soviet government "had been aware of these overflights during this time" and had never made a protest.

It is also a fact that the Soviet government debated for a week after the Powers incident whether to make an issue of it and refuse to attend the "summit" conference.

The NBC says the United States implied in the week after the plane was forced down that the U2 flights would continue. There was, however, no official statement to that effect but only the "impressions" gained by reporters and inferences drawn.

Moscow, of course, drew similar inferences.

Indeed, the Soviet premier was told officially by President Eisenhower at the very first meeting of the "summit" at Paris on Monday, May 16, that flights of the U2 had been ordered suspended the previous week for an indefinite period.

If Mr. Khrushchev had really wanted to continue the conference, he had ample justification.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Home Is the Best Place for a Child to Be Born

"Having had our baby by natural childbirth" (writes Mrs. C. D.) "I can honestly say I felt no real pain—I was too busy being content to be put asleep and be so far removed from the whole wonderful experience."

"Now we are looking forward to becoming expectant parents again soon—we hope by the time we receive Little Lesson Nos. 4, 'Preparing for Maternity,' and 'New Baby Baby Book.' Our doctor says he wouldn't allow natural childbirth with twins. Do you agree or disagree?" (Mrs. C. D.)

I beg to call to the attention of every mother-to-be, people Mrs. C. D.'s allusion to the baby as "our baby." Without saying so, the lady conveys the impression that her husband is a man who will not be shoved DR. BRADY around, detained in the monkey cage or excluded from the stork chamber, lest he pollute the environment.

I don't understand why the doctor would not "allow" natural childbirth of twins.

Fear of childbirth is much the same as fear of surgery. Uninformed or uneducated persons fear an operation of any kind more than persons who understand why the operation is advisable. Mrs. C. D. says she felt no real pain, but she was drugged.

Many women who have had natural childbirth make a similar assertion afterward.

It reminds me of a case where an older colleague called me to administer the anesthetic while he made a forceps delivery. The patient, a young woman who had had little or no instruction, had tossed all night, moaning and crying and getting nowhere.

The doctor was sterilizing his instruments and his hands, and I started the amniocentesis. With the first few whiffs of chloroform the patient listened quietly to my instructions and presently she settled down to normal labor and bore her baby before the doctor could get ready for the instrumental delivery.

Mrs. C. D. doesn't say, but reading between the lines, I infer that the baby was born dead. Obviously the C. D.'s are people of spirit and character, people not to be pushed around and patronized by hospital clerks, doctors and nurses, people with enough intelligence to know that home is the safest place to have a baby.

A home fit to live in is a better place than any hospital to have a baby for several good reasons, some of which are:

Several Residents Claim Mail Delivery Inefficient

I agree with "Dissatisfied's" letter concerning the mail service in Pontiac. It is rotten. But don't put the blame on the postmaster or the mailmen here in Pontiac. Put it on the postmaster general in Washington. He is the one who took the mail away from the Grand Trunk Railroad between Detroit and Muskegon. All the mail that comes into Pontiac is by truck.

I see the outlines of a ship.

Across the sea tonight. That smoothly sails upon the moon.

In lambent orange light. I know that nowhere on the moon

Is there a single wave. And so I do not understand

How it up there could be. A moonbeam must have changed its course.

Toward the starry sky. But also would explain to me

How it got there so soon. But if I see it anchored near

At dawn of the day. I'll know it was in silhouette

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Sea Chemicals Proven Beneficial

The Houston Press deserves credit for this article about the "chemical smorgasbord" that sea brine may offer our internal organs. Over 2,000 dentists and physicians have written for the booklet below, so you may do likewise. And by all means read the follow-up case tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-40: Recently, I received a note from the Houston Press.

"Dr. Crane," it began, "we have been swamped with requests for more information about sea salt and sea water."

"So please give us a follow-up."

Thank you very much, BUT HURRY!

Well, I would have hurried more but the final illness and death of my father in late October has interrupted my agenda.

There are 40 water-soluble elements in the ocean, not to mention 5 gases that are in all of our liquids.

God Almighty created our marvelous human bodies with many little chemical factories therein, called the pancreas, thyroid, adrenal, stomach, bone marrow, gonads, etc.

They could probably do a splendid job of protecting us against deficiency ailments such as cancer, diabetes, gray hair and baldness, plus dozens of other ailments not due to germs or a virus—"IF."

And that big "IF" means, "IF" we gave those internal chemical factories an adequate supply of raw materials, namely, the 44 water-soluble elements.

Since the blood is essentially water, it can use only those chemicals that will dissolve in water.

By taking a little sea brine or sea salt each day, we may thus be able to offer our glands a "chemical smorgasbord," around which they can figuratively march as they select the specific chemicals they need for their own glandular secretions.

Thus, the thyroid can help itself to iodine. The teeth can pick up fluorine. The bone marrow can choose iron, etc.

CHEMICAL SMORGASBORD

During the summer, you may recall that I wrote several articles about the possible benefits of sea water.

At that time, I mentioned the fact that Mrs. Crane's elderly father with a "frozen" arthritis of 15 years' duration, had it loosened up within four months.

And he didn't know we were giving him any sea water, but the improvement was not due to suggestion or psychosomatic reasons.

During the intervening months, I have been deluged with letters not only from Lapeer, but from thousands of dentists, physicians, biochemists, and other scientists.

Last week my secretaries mailed over 2,000 of the booklets mentioned to dentists and physicians who had requested them, not just singly but some had asked for 100 to 500 copies for their entire medical or dental practices.

Because a lot of you readers decided to try to make money is a kick town for mail service coping in. If you have any out of town mail and parcel post you'd better mail three weeks or more before Christmas. Don't blame The Press, as they did all they could to get a postmaster here, and one who knows his business.

J. M. Kellner
70 Washington St.

"Dissatisfied" sure hit home about the awful mail service out of Pontiac. I, too, have been getting first class letters six or seven days too late as close as Saginaw and Lapeer.

Tells of Cost to Keep Child at Lapeer

Something has been constantly left out of the Lapeer State Home issue. We hear the state bemoan the financial side, but does the public know that the cost to the unfortunate parents of these children is $130 per month? The agency of being the parent of a retarded child does not end by placing the child in a state home.

What is the state doing with this money? What is the un-answered question to go about it? We realize our responsibility, but couldn't they be a little more reasonable?

The state agrees to let you pay less, but in fine print you still owe the balance payable on demand or upon the father's death they will collect the estate.

Smiles

Keep smiling and you'll get along—much better than just getting a long face.

With women, if the shoe fits, they take it off and get a smaller one.

The teen-ager who used to take his dad's watch apart to see how it worked now takes his dad's car apart to see why it doesn't.

Fast footwork is important in fighting, but it's smarter to use it in not fighting.

The note of harmony that has settled many a discord is dough.

Youngsters get to do a lot more things by telling parents about their afterthoughts instead of asking permission in the first place.

A man was chased by a bear at an eastern gas station. Maybe Bruin just wanted to get his fill.

Grocery Bills Do Rise, but Mayor Wagner's!!...

NEW YORK (AP)—They may have to put a padlock on the pantry a Mayor Robert F. Wagner's house. Somebody has been gobbling great gobs of groceries and it hasn't been his Honor.

Like every housewife, the mayor was aware that food costs are plenty high these days. But Wagner suddenly discovered that the tab was in the stratosphere at his domicile, Gracie Mansion.

The butcher, baker and others—though perhaps not the candlestick maker any more—were carting in staples by the truckload. When the bills mounted up to the $1,000-a-month level, his Honor roomed right up to the ceiling. The mayor declared he and his small family, occasional guests and moderate mansion staff couldn't possibly be eating that much.

ORDERS INVESTIGATION

The mayor ordered the deputy mayor to investigate. The deputy mayor ordered the parks commissioner, whose department looks after the official mansion and its expenses, to investigate.

Parks Commissioner Nebelbold Morris asserted there was indeed some kind of hanky panky at the backdoor.

It appears, said Morris, that everybody coming near the place was being treated to free lunches, dinners and snacks in between. Police guards, parks department employees, chauffeurs of visiting dignitaries and others. They were faring as well as the biggest guests in the drawing room, if not better.

They won't fare so well hereafter, said Morris, even if he has to padlock the vittles.

U.S. Autos Rise 21 Million in 10-Year Period

DETROIT (AP)—If you think highways are more crowded today than they were 10 years ago, you're right — 21 million times right.

R. L. Polk & Co., statisticians to the auto industry, reports the car population of the United States increased from 35,922,286 units on July 1, 1950 to 57,107,476 on July 1, 1960.

As expected, the numerical jump was the greatest for any similar 10 year period since automobiles were invented. In 1950 there were 8,000 cars in use in the United States. This increased to 458,000 in 1958, to 8.1 million in 1959, to 23 million in 1960 and to 27.3 million in 1960.

Pedestrian Killed

DETROIT (UPI)—State police said Clarence Swanson, 68, was killed Thursday in a car-pedestrian accident at Schoolcraft and Braille in Detroit.

U.S., Japan to Extend Student Exchange Pact

TOKYO (AP) — The United States and Japan have agreed upon a three-year extension of their educational exchange program, lecturers and students will begin in 1961, the U. S. is able to come to Japan.

Embassy announced today. During the three-year period about 750 Japanese students, teachers and scholars will do research and study in the United States, and 150 American professors, lecturers and students will come to Japan.

Sen. Jackson to Quit Post as Dem Chairman Jan. 20

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., resigned as Democratic national chairman, effective with President-Elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration Jan. 20. National Committee Chairman John Bailey of Connecticut led speculation on his successor. Jackson bowed out with high praise from Kennedy, who picked him for the post immediately after the party's national convention last summer. The president-elect said "I don't think we possibly could have won the election without Jackson's help."

HENRY M. JACKSON

Jackson said he was stepping down to devote full time to senatorial duties, with special emphasis on national security matters. A member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, he is regarded as an expert on defense problems.

Kennedy said he expects the national committee to meet and select Jackson's successor within the next six weeks, or before inauguration day. He gave no hint as to his choice for the job.

But Bailey was the most prominently mentioned. The national committee was one of Kennedy's original backers for president and served as a close adviser throughout the election campaign.

Jackson, who will submit a formal resignation to the National Committee later, said he had agreed to stay in the post only until Kennedy was "firmly installed in the White House."

Kennedy promised to consult with him on personnel and national security problems. Standing beside Kennedy as they talked to newsmen, Jackson said the Democratic national headquarters is leaving the issue of vote recounts up to local party officials. He said local party workers are keeping a "watchful eye" on situations in their areas.

SEES ELECTORAL CHANGE Jackson said he will support a move in the next Congress to change the electoral college system. He recommended establishment of a House-Senate commission to "really dig" into the question.

The Democratic chairman called for a reform that would make it mandatory for electors in all states to cast their ballots for the candidate who carried the state. A move that would eliminate unpledged electors.

states. He said that about 10 states now list merely the electors. Jackson has served in Congress since 1940 when he was elected to the House. He was elected to the Senate in 1952 despite the Eisenhower landslide of that year and was re-elected in 1958 for a term that expires in 1965.

Ma Ferguson Okay After Heart Attack

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Miriam A. (Ma) Ferguson, 85, the first woman ever to be elected governor of a state, suffered a heart attack at her home Wednesday night.

Her doctor said today she is "doing a lot better." He said she had had a heart condition for a long time, and added "I imagine she'll be in the hospital a few days."

Mrs. Ferguson's husband, the late Jim Ferguson, was impeached while serving his second term as governor of Texas. She ran for the office on a platform of vindicating his name and was elected to her first term in 1924 and a second term in 1932.

She ran for governor for the third term in 1940 but was defeated. No married man ever pokes fun at a woman for shopping all day without buying anything. . . . The trouble with the world, says one philosopher, is that there are more people sneezing and fewer people sneezing. —Earl Wilson.

Jackie Gets to Hold Son First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy held her baby boy for the first time Thursday and gave him his noon bottle. Her doctor, Dr. John W. Walsh, reporting this, said also that Mrs. Kennedy was doing fine.

The baby, John F. Kennedy Jr., is a week old today. He is being kept in an incubator but no longer has to have oxygen.

John Jr., has been described as an active baby with a good color. His feeding formula is one tablespoon of powdered milk to two ounces of water every three hours.

His doctors said he was being kept in an incubator merely for the warmth and protection against outside infection.

No date has been set for the mother and baby to leave the hospital, but it may the latter part of next week. Mrs. Kennedy is reported to have said she doesn't want to leave until she can take the baby with her to Palm Beach, Fla., for her recuperation.

Steelworkers Get 1st of 2 Pay Hikes

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Basic Steelworkers got a pay raise Thursday, the first of two under their current contract. This meant higher payroll costs for steel producers. But, as expected, there was no word of any impending price increases.

Spokesmen for U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer, and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., the fourth largest, said they expected no announcements of any kind today on prices. They declined further comment.

About 545,000 United Steelworkers Union members became eligible for wage boosts ranging from 7 to 12 cents an hour, depending on job classification.

A union-estimated 80,000 of these did not benefit immediately because they were unemployed.

Victim of Nervous Breakdown Is Awarded Compensation

LANSING (AP) — Assembly line workers whose jobs lead to mental breakdowns deserve workmen's compensation benefits, says the State Supreme Court.

The high court so ruled Thursday in a precedent-making 5-3 decision upholding the state workmen's compensation appeal board. The ruling was its first for a mental disorder not caused by a single shock.

The dispute began when James Carter suffered a nervous breakdown when he was working at General Motors Corp.'s Chevrolet gear and axle plant in Detroit.

Carter, then 40, was assigned to remove burrs and grind out holes on a hubcap assembly line. He said he couldn't do the work properly and when he slipped up his foreman berated him.

The combination of pressure and frustration put him in the hospital for a month. Physicians said he suffered from paranoid schizophrenia.

Carter was awarded $863 to pay for medical expenses and $36 a week in disability payments. The company refused to reimburse him so he went home to Kentucky.

The five Democratic justices on the high court split with the three Republicans on the decision.

Justice Theodore Souris, who wrote the majority opinion, said Carter never should have been employed in production line work. But because job pressure led to the breakdown, he said, he deserved compensation.

In the dissenting opinion, Justice Harry F. Kelly noted the man had suffered a life-long "personality disorder," not attributable to the job. This, he said, led to the breakdown when he could not perform "that simple job."

In its first ruling on automatic transmissions, the Supreme Court affirmed a $30,000 award to Theodore A. Nabozny, who was injured Oct. 18, 1957, when a car rammed his bakery truck while it was parked on Nine Mile Road in Oak Park.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Betty Hamill accidentally stepped on the accelerator of her stopped car when she leaned across the front seat to close a door left open by her young son. The gear shift had been left in "drive" position.

In a vigorous objection, Justice Eugene F. Black contended Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer did not consider all the circumstances in the case and relied solely on his own driving "experience," training and "temperament" in instructing the jury to find Mrs. Hamill guilty of negligence.

Webb Fund Receives Noted Art Collection

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the nation's outstanding private art collections—which includes works by Rembrandt, Goya, Corot, Monet and Degas—has been left to the Electra Havemeyer Webb Fund, Inc.

This became known Thursday when the estate of Mrs. Electra Havemeyer Webb was filed for probate.

Mrs. Webb died Nov. 19 in Burlington, Vt. Her late father, Henry O. Havemeyer, amassed what has been described as one of the greatest American art collections.

Mrs. Webb also left paintings, real estate, cash and personal effects to her three sons, two daughters, institutions, and others. Among the bequests was $100,000 to the Mary Fletcher Hospital, Burlington; $50,000 to the Diabetes Foundation; and $20,000 to Yale University.

Jacob Mountain, the first Anglican Bishop of Quebec, who died in 1825, traveled about his diocese by sled, "carriage, canoe or on foot for more than 30 years.

U.S. Denounces China-Cuba Tie

Calls Economic Pact
Propaganda Gesture as Products Lack Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States Thursday denounced the big new economic pact between Communist China and Cuba as "one more indication" of Premier Fidel Castro's drive to tie Cuba to the Communist bloc.

The State Department also labeled the trade deal as more of a propaganda gesture than an economic arrangement because neither country has much use for products produced by the other.

The department said the agreement, under which Cuba is to get an interest-free loan equivalent to $60 million, "underscores the Chinese Communist determination to secure a greater foothold in the Western Hemisphere."

In addition to the loan, the largest China has given any country so far, the new pact commits the Peking government to buy a million tons of sugar from Cuba, Cuba will buy Chinese exports of equal value.

"This latest deal is not so much an economic matter as an attempt of both sides to demonstrate increasing political and psychological cohesion," said State Department Press Officer Joseph W. Reap.

12 Town Drain Clears Court

State's High Tribunal Drops Madison Heights Suit Against Project

Litigation blocking the 12 Town Storm Relief Drain for Southeastern Oakland County appeared over today with a ruling by the State Supreme Court that the $47.1-million drain can be built.

The high court, in an unanimous decision handed down yesterday, ordered dismissal of a suit by the city of Madison Heights against the project's drainage board.

The decision was welcomed by county drain officials.

The drain has been contested as to its financial arrangements in and out of the courts since it was first envisioned in 1952.

Today's ruling reverses one back a year ago by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Judge Beer said the drainage board had failed to take into account how much Madison Heights contributed to the proposed drain in determining the city should pay $2,848,805 as its share of the long-awaited drain.

The city said this share was unfair. In oral arguments before Judge Beer last November, the city's attorneys said a "proper calculation" would reduce the amount to well below one million dollars.

The Supreme Court supported county drain attorneys who said that financing arrangements were settled earlier in the so-called Southfield-Troy case involving the drain. The court last July decided in this case in favor of Oakland County.

Her Car Floats— Too Short a Time

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Nelle Hoover, 59, of nearby Oakland, was approaching a bridge over Lake Lotta in her car when a rod snapped. The car plunged into the lake.

Thick water hyacinths supported the car at first and Mrs. Hoover stepped out at the urging of four men on the shore. But she shouted to them she couldn't swim and got back in the car.

Suddenly it went down in 20 feet of water as the men watched. Mrs. Hoover was drowned.

Dad Can't Afford Cigars for 3rd Pair of Twins

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It's another set of twins—the third in less than three years — for the George Benois. That brings their children to an even dozen, and papa has quit giving out cigars.

"I can't afford it," Benois said. "It runs a little expensive now. The house is getting a little crowded, and we have some problems. But we're just happy. My wife is tickled to death."

Each set of twins has been a boy and a girl and the Benois boys now outnumber the girls 7-5. The latest set arrived at DePaul Hospital Wednesday. The 35-year-old mother, Elizabeth, and the babies are doing fine and will be home within a week, their doctor said.

The Benois were expecting a single child this time. The arrival of more twins left both of them speechless at first.

The family owns its own seven-room home, including four upstairs bedrooms. They have an automatic washer and dryer. Bottles are warmed on an assembly line basis.

Deaths of 2 Children Attributed to Typhoon

TOKYO (AP) — Typhoon Ophelia was reported today to have killed at least two children at Uluhi Thursday when it swept floodwaters over the Pacific Atoll. All U. S. Coast Guardsmen at the station were reported safe.

The report was transmitted on emergency equipment set up at Uluhi to the Pacific Stars and Stripes, U. S. military newspaper. About 40 natives are on the island.

The Manila weather bureau said Ophelia, with center winds of more than 100 miles an hour, was about 60 miles east of Catusan, an island off the coast of Luzon and was moving west-northwest toward northern and central Luzon at 12 miles per hour.

This was all a part of his program of becoming a citizen of the world instead of just the No. 1 man in Michigan. These tours were, on a larger scale, an extension of his hand shaking and dropping in on meetings of minority groups while campaigning here.

Last April, Williams spent three days lecturing on foreign policy at Yale University.

Williams always was the practical politician.

He saw Sen. Kennedy as the Democratic presidential winner while many others were still undecided. Williams swung his powerful political weight early and bet on Kennedy all the way.

This shrewdness won him today's commitment.

Minority Groups' Pal Is Soapy

LANSING (AP) — When Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced he would not run for a seventh term, he said his one wish was to work for world peace.

Williams has this opportunity now with his appointment as assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Williams long has been the idol of minority groups in Michigan. The tall man wearing the green, polka-dotted bow tie took the trouble to learn languages. He could greet a Pole in Polish or talk to a Lithuanian in his native tongue.

He made a point of making friends — and Williams voters — of these minority groups, traveling the state in every campaign and in between.

Commented one aide: "If there is anyone in Michigan who hasn't seen or shaken hands with Soapy, he's either just born or just off the boat."

Williams always has been a dedicated friend of the Negro. Some think his insistence on a strong civil rights program in the party cost him the support of the solid South and an even higher place in national office.

Williams, a millionaire, has at the rest of the world.

his taste for foreign travel. The Soapy tag comes from the soap and toiletries fortune made by the Mennen side of the family.

As a youth, he traveled extensively in Europe. He saw more of the world while on active combat duty on aircraft carriers during World War II.

Williams has matured from strictly a state to a national and then a worldwide figure since he beat the flamboyant Republican Gov. Kim Sigler to win his first term in office.

The dedicated backing of his minority group supporters plus powerful union support saw him through some tight state elections.

In recent years, his thoughts have turned more and more to international affairs.

Sure of his support here in Michigan, he left state duties behind to tour the Orient, Africa, the Holy Land and Europe. His most recent trip was to South America.

Just as if he were still a student at Princeton or the University of Michigan law school, Williams filled his head with facts and developed his own philosophy on what should be the United States approach to the peoples of the rest of the world.

Playcrafters Will Play With Matches at Central

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

The Pontiac Central Playcrafters will present Thornton Wilder's popular farce, "The Matchmaker," next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evening at 8 in the Central auditorium.

The play is a comedy about a friendly neighbor who offers to help a lonely widower find a wife, only to put herself at the top of his list of prospects.

It enjoyed a 14-month run on Broadway from December, 1955 to February, 1957.

Cast members are George Sarrows, Jim Baker, Ivory McDaniels, Pat Weld, Jim Bank, Judy Whitman, and John Hunt.

Others portraying characters in "The Matchmaker" are Peggy Warren, Mark Berg, Judy Prevette and Pat Wilkinson.

Roger Riley, Tom Short, Bill Smith, Minnie Churchill, and Deanna Relyea round out the cast.

The production staff includes Pat Biele and Karen Gadsden, costumes; Sherri Drinkwater and Sue Felson, tickets; Barb Griffin and Judy Whitman, publicity; and Nadine Morris and Willie Prentiss, props.

Other committee chairmen are Connie Crocker and Mark Berg, stage; Dave Hunt, lights; and Coni Nichols, makeup.

Stuart Packard, dramatics instructor, will direct "The Matchmakers" assisted by Karen Kessler, student director.

Tickets are now on sale in the Central ticket booth or from ticket committee members for one dollar. Couple rate for Central students is 75 cents each. All seats are reserved.

TEACHERS TEA

Wednesday afternoon the Central Future Teachers gave a tea in the cafeteria for the Pontiac Northern chapter of FTA.

The main purpose of this tea was to promote closer work between the two clubs for prospective teachers.

Central American Field Service students Grad Moad and Russi Moad spoke to the group and answered their questions.

Officers of the Central FTA are Sharon Drew, president; Nancy Bain, vice president; Joan Whims, secretary; and Sue Davidson, treasurer.

The Central Cheerleaders have elected new officers for the basketball season. Fran Austin has been chosen captain of the squad.

Other officers are Jackie Mullen, secretary; Sue Johnson, quartermaster; and Sandy Gowen, historian.

Many students will be seen around Central wearing orange, black, and white ribbons during basketball season. The Pep Club, with the help of printing instructor Ted Carlson and art instructor Jean Smith, will sell these ribbons.

showing a record of our Chiefs' victories and defeats.

On the ribbon is a lance carrying an orange feather with the team name in black if we win and a plain black feather if we lose.

After 11 of our 15 games, a new ribbon will be sold by Pep Club members.

The Central Varsity Club has organized and elected its officers. The new president is Dick McCauley.

Other officers are Jim Nelson, vice president; Larry Brennan, secretary; Tony Rubio, treasurer; and Bradell Pritchett, sergeant-at-arms.

All boys who have earned a varsity letter in any sport are eligible to join.

Members of the club are looking forward to the annual faculty-Varsity Club basketball game which will be played soon.

CHEERLEADERS WORK — Although it may look like it at times, cheering at Pontiac Northern High School isn't only the rah-rah, happy-go-lucky activity it seems to be. On the surface cheerleaders are all school spirit, but even keeping the students full of pep takes plenty of planning. The cheerleaders spend many hours practicing new cheers, planning events, and holding business meetings. Shown in their most familiar role (top) are Pam Huntley and Ruth Ann Kramp, both seniors, in a practice session. Planning decorations for a dance Dec. 10 to kickoff the basketball season are (center) Sharon Wheeler and Kathy Murphy, both juniors. Getting down to the red tape at a business meeting (bottom photo, from left) Susan Jones, a junior; Beth Bepko, Jeanette Whitlock, and Barbara Berryman, all seniors. Ruth is captain of the varsity squad.

Northern Pep Leaders a Busy Group

They Do More Than Cheer

By DIANE M. WALTER

The school life of a cheerleader at Pontiac Northern High School is made up of a variety of activities.

The cheerleaders, now planning a dance for next Saturday night, are a hard working organization. Behind the cheers and pep they display in public, is a serious business minded group of students.

They hold business meetings in which they plan assemblies, dances, and other engagements of entertainment for students.

Northern Cheerleaders. In addition to their normal duties of appearing at sports events, have already sponsored a full slate of events this fall.

The cheerleaders also sponsored a huge bonfire that began the fall sports season at Northern.

"A Paws for the Past" is another big mark on their calendar.

Adopted at a recent meeting of the club.

Cheerleaders along with the varsity and pep club strive constantly to boost school interest and spirit.

These organizations are supervised and sponsored by teachers Mary Lou Jennings, Richard Hall, and William Rose.

All work as a team and hope to see students coming to the dance. Students may invite one outside guest.

Basketball players are also looking forward to playing the male faculty, Dec. 9. Student players are out to even the score this year.

Today ends another card marking period and students are planning next semester's schedule under the guidance of Northern counselors. Ann Morrow, Betty Murphy, Eldon Johnson, Lillian Jacobs, Daniel Hutchins and John Mature.

The cheerleaders have also spent a great deal of their time in meetings planning and drawing up a constitution.

Their constitution was finally completed, agreed on and

Talkers Tops at St. Fred's

Start First Season a Winner by Beating Fowlerville Team

By MARY ELLEN DETMER

The debate team at St. Fredrick High School boasts an enviable record today.

It has an all-time batting average of 1.000.

With other schools take their wins with their losses, the St. Fred debaters show a goose egg in the loss column.

There is one slight hitch. The debate team has only taken part in one official high school debate.

The first debate St. Fred's ever participated in on a competitive basis, under state rules governing all high school debate contests, was held last Tuesday.

Sue Palmer and Linda Schaefer, under the direction of debate coach Sister Rosewita, L.M., were winners in a debate with Fowlerville. Debated was a national high school topic, "Resolved that the U.N. be significantly strengthened."

The importance of being earnest is a two act comedy with nine players.

Welcome New Season With Pep Assembly at Waterford

By BARB SECAN

In an afternoon pep assembly today, Waterford's G.A.A. presented a comical and spirit arousing skit in preparation for tonight's basketball game.

During the assembly the G.A.A. members presented the Waterford-Wayne game using the theme of the "Roaring Twenties."

Rehearsals are under way for the bill of one act plays to be presented next Friday by the Waterford Dramatics Club.

The three short plays will be directed by a student, outstanding in dramatics. The three student directors are Don Wemmenis, Joe Stogel, and Florence Jarmack.

After the short performance, the varsity cheerleaders led the student body in a variety of cheers and the newly selected basketball team was introduced along with its coach, Gerald Wallace.

The contest tonight is the first game of the season for Waterford and Jerry Martin, a back, also received honorable mention.

The first edition of St. Mike's school paper, the Michellite, was distributed to the high school last week.

Much hard work was evident in the publication.

2nd Edition Sells Well

Oxford's Beacon Popular

By LINDA JACOB

The second edition sale of the school newspaper by the Journalism Club was a big success at Oxford High School last Monday.

The Beacon is being published once a month with the help of the Oxford Leader. In the past years the paper has been run off on a hectograph machine but it is now being done on letterpress.

This month's paper contained eight pages of interesting and educational news. Some of the articles written were "The Michigan Chorus," the play, "Pygmalion," which is to be presented by the senior class in January, and "The Senior Class." Girl Traveler, the Foster Box, and the Student Parking Lot, etc. The paper was sold by the Journalism Club members during home room at ten cents a copy. The goal of the class is to make each edition bigger and better and of more interesting value to all students.

The paper has met with enthusiastic response. About 200 copies of each edition have been sold. This is an increase of 40 over last year's sales.

The following is the reaction of some of the students.

Ronnie Kintz and Janie Langley said they found the paper much more interesting, informative and better organized but lacked some of the local color of those in the past.

Paul Ludwig said, "The size was better, and all in all the paper was good."

'10,000 Alive Today if Seat Belts Used'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A pair of prominent surgeons say 10,000 persons killed in highway accidents last year would be alive today if they had used auto seat belts.

Drs. Murray E. Gibbens and Samuel P. Newman said, in a paper submitted to the American Medical Association's 14th clinical conference, that seat belts are like insurance.

"If you have them and don't wear them, it's like letting your insurance payments lapse," they said. "If you don't have them, it's like driving without insurance."

The report said studies showed "conclusively" that a person involved in a highway crash is 40 to 60 per cent "safer against death and injury" if he is strapped in with a seat belt.

"Statistics also show that one in 10 adults will have a serious accident within the next 10 years," the report added. "Your first accident may be your last."

Gibbens, chief of orthopedic surgery at the Denver Veterans Administration Hospital, and Newman, an assistant clinical professor of orthopedic surgery at Colorado University, recommended legislation to require:

- Display of safety seat belts in every auto dealer's showroom.
- Removal of sharp edges and projections from the bumper and car front to protect pedestrians from possible injury.
- Formation of a specifications board to rate various makes of cars on the basis of safety, and publish the results.
- Deductions in insurance premiums for seat-belt wearing drivers.
- Better enforcement of rules against drinking and driving.

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet government spokesman said Thursday Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky is resting. This is the usual word to mean he is on vacation.

The spokesman made his statement in reply to a question from a newsmen at a reception given by Premier Khrushchev for Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia.

Supervisors Get an Ultimatum

Audit May Be Asked Unless Board Reveals Insurance Losses

Supervisor Harry W. Horton handed his fellow supervisors an ultimatum yesterday about insurance.

The Royal Oak supervisor said either the board of auditors reveal what insurance losses the county has incurred—and where the funds paid to the county were put—or he'd ask the January board of supervisors session for an appropriation for a private audit to dig up the figures.

His sharply worded criticism, leveled at a meeting of the board of supervisors' ways and means committee, was directed at Robert Y. Moore, veteran chairman of the board of auditors.

Horton, a builder, says he has sought these statistics for years as he considered how he believed the county might save money with a self-insurance plan.

Moore told Horton yesterday the records showing the losses had been destroyed.

NEED AUTHORITY
"You can't do that without authority," Horton said.
"You see the possibility from this, gentlemen, if you can't find where the insurance monies go you can't find other receipts," Horton told members of the committee.

He emphasized later that he was not alleging malfeasance or anything of the kind with his demand. "I've just waited long enough and can't get anything," he said.

He said he believed the county's losses due to fire and other damaging elements have been so small that releasing the amounts would lend weight to his argument for a self-insurance program.

He also found fault with what he said was 30 per cent of the county's insurance being carried by 30 different companies and the rest being held by H. W. Huttenlocher Agency of Pontiac.

This Moore denied. He said the Huttenlocher firm carried about 20 per cent "about four or five years ago." He said he didn't know immediately what it amounted to today.

He reported among other things: "Six-year-old Yolanda Gabrielle was brought (to school) by her mother, who pledged her word to do so though she had been brutally beaten up by the racists."

"The racists again yesterday tried to prevent Yolanda from reaching school. At school time her house was surrounded by a screaming mob chanting hideous obscenities at her mother..."

Tass reported Wednesday's federal court decision against segregation in New Orleans and added: "The racist leaders have arrogantly proclaimed their determination to defy the courts."

COUPLE'S "HOME" — What else could they do? Rudolph Karschnick, 35, and his wife Lillian, 31, lived in this burned-out Detroit home for two years. Karschnick was ill and there was no money for repairing the house. The couple lived in three sparsely furnished rooms. Karschnick died Wednesday on the way to a hospital. His wife had refused to leave him, even to make funeral arrangements for her brother, who died Tuesday.

The couple lived in three rooms of the 12-room house that cost $30,000 when they bought it 30 years ago.

The rooms in which they lived were barely warmed by a portable electric heater and the oven of a gas stove.

They used to rent the upper floor of the house as a flat to help meet expenses.

But fire destroyed that part of the house last year and they had no money to repair it.

The burned section is open to the snow, and frigid winds moan among the skeleton beams and charred roof.

Mrs. Karschnick said her husband had been an invalid for two years.

"I spent my time listening to him breathe and talking to him, but, of course, he couldn't hear and Charles Griffith.

Stayed With Husband in Burned-Out Home Faithful Wife's Bleak Vigil Has Ended

DETROIT (U)—An 85-year-old invalid who lived for two years in a burned-out home guarded by his faithful wife died Wednesday while being taken to a hospital.

Dead is Rudolph F. Karschnick, who had been unconscious for three days in the remaining cold three rooms of the couple's one-time $30,000 home.

He was lying on a bed covered with quilts and wearing a stocking cap for warmth.

His wife Lillian, 31, refused to leave him even when she received a telegram from a Detroit hospital asking her to make burial arrangements for her only brother who died Tuesday.

"My duty is with the living," Mrs. Karschnick said. "I can't help my brother and I must stay with my husband. It may be five minutes, five hours or five days, but I can't leave him now."

She said, "He was a fine gentleman, and I promised I would stay with him always."

Mrs. Karschnick said she had no children and no close relatives. She said they lived on social security payments.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Police clashed Thursday with 6,000 to 7,000 striking bricklayers demonstrating in downtown Athens for wage increase. At least 35 policemen and 20 strikers were reported injured. State Game Fund Faces Major Cut LANSING (AP)—The State Game and Fish Protection Fund faces a near-$250,000 cut in federal aid during the 1960-61 fiscal year, the State Conservation Department said today.

The department said a report from the U.S. Department of the Interior indicated the state's allotment from the Pittman-Robertson Fund for fish programs and the Dingell-Johnson Fund for game programs will be cut down to $678,140.

Prior to 1959, they totaled more than $1 million.

Addition of Alaska and Hawaii to the federal allotment list apparently accounted for the cutback, the department said.

An estimated $231,000 will be held back because of a so-called "duplication" in the number of paid hunting license holders the federal government certified for the state in the 1958-59 fiscal year.

Another $225,000 was held in check last year.

The U.S. solicitor general held that a hunter can be counted as one license holder regardless of how many kinds of licenses he buys. Colorado, Minnesota and Wisconsin were similarly penalized.

All four states have gone to U.S. District Court to settle the dispute.

Mother Doesn't Return From Buying Toys

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Welfare workers, hardened by daily contact with the lonely children of tragedy, sorrow and hardship, turn away with misty eyes when 4-year-old Jo Ann says, "Mama gone get toys."

It is doubtful that anyone would tell Jo Ann and her pretty 16-month-old sister Dianne, otherwise, even if they could understand. The woman thought to be their mother left them in a bar two weeks ago and then disappeared.

Their last name is a mystery. No one knows their background. But this doesn't concern Jo Ann and Dianne. They sense Christmas is coming and they know Mama has just gone out to get some toys.

In the meantime, they sit in their high chairs next to the window, waiting.

Williams' Post Pleases Dems.

State Party Members Believe Governor Can Handle New Job

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan Democrats think President-Elect John F. Kennedy picked a man who can do the job when he chose Gov. G. Mennen Williams for the $20,000-a-year job of secretary of assistant secretary of state for Africa.

"I think the appointment was a net plus for all concerned," said Democratic National Commit-tee member Thomas H. E. Quimby.

"Gov. Williams has shown a great deal of interest in Africa in the last few years and he has a great commitment to help the new nations there," he said.

Quimby said the fact that Kennedy owed heavily on relations with underdeveloped countries during his campaign points up the importance of Williams' appointment.

"Anyone who reflects on the choice will see its appropriateness in terms of interest and talent," he said.

Many Michigan Democrats had expressed the hope that Williams would get a cabinet post but general sentiment seemed to be that since the Williams appointment was the first of its kind and dealt with such a vital area of foreign affairs, any disappointment would be offset.

Members of Williams' staff said they were not surprised at the appointment since a story in a Detroit newspaper early this week predicted it.

One aide stated the story may have been "leaked" to prepare the way for the announcement.

Staff members and other Democrats were excited by the announcement made in Washington and seemed generally well pleased and optimistic about it.

"It's a good place to move up to secretary of state from," said one Democrat legislator visiting the capitol.

Some Red Jaunts Barred From Aliens

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department Thursday barred aliens living in this country from traveling to certain Communist areas of the world.

The State Department, which announced the new regulations, said they were ordered by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Attorney General William P. Rogers.

The regulations extend to resident aliens the same travel ban now in effect for U.S. citizens. They affect travel to Albania, Communist China, North Korea and North Viet Nam.

In addition, the State Department said, resident aliens desiring to travel to 11 other Communist countries must obtain permits to re-enter the United States before leaving this country.

The announcement gave no reason for the action. But officials said privately there have been cases of resident aliens being "blackmailed" and "used for other purposes" while on trips to Communist areas.

Man Pursuing Thieves Killed as Coat Catches

MALDEN, Mass. (AP) — A man trying to stop thieves from stealing his car caught his coat in a door handle Thursday night, was dragged 50 feet and killed. The victim was Stephen W. Davis, 21, of Weymouth. The thieves escaped on foot after smashing the car against a parked bulldozer.

RECOUNT BEGINS — The three members of the Oakland County Board of Canvassers yesterday morning began recounting in Oxford 90 of the county's 311 voting precincts at the request of defeated candidate for probate judge, Sen. L. Harvey Lodge. Members are (l-r) Mrs. William S. Dixon of Royal Oak, Mrs. Paul Gorman of Pontiac, and Carlos G. Richardson, board chairman from Waterford Township. The recount is expected to take about five days, after which 55 precincts will be recounted as requested in a counter recount petition by Probate Judge-Elect Donald E. Adams.

Goals Commission Report Is Specific

Federal Spending Will Skyrocket

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Though some have criticized it as vague, the report of the President's Commission on National Goals was coldly specific on one point: The cost of government will rise by billions and billions of dollars in the 1960s.

Taxes probably cannot be lowered and "may even have to be increased," the bipartisan commission told President Eisenhower this week.

Can a free economy stand still higher taxes? The commission says it can, if national output reaches the commission's target — a rise of 3.4 per cent a year.

"A moderate increase in tax rates need not, if its necessity were understood, materially impair the incentive or the morale of the American people, nor alter the primary reliance of the economy on private choice," said the report.

But it added that the rise of living standards would be "perhaps at rates below those of the recent past."

The commission's chairman, Dr. Henry M. Wriston, told the National Press Club Thursday no increase in federal taxes may be needed, but "I don't believe the needs of the next decade can be met without some changes in city and state taxes."

He said the commission did not propose a greater concentration of responsibility and power in Washington, but rather a greater responsibility for the cities, state, private organizations and individuals.

CONCLUSIONS

The White House advisers indicated total costs will be fairly high.

1. Military costs must rise, by unguessed amounts, to provide a "secure deterrent" against Soviet aggression and Red China's "blatant hostility."

2. Foreign aid must go up. U.S. investment, public and private, in the underdeveloped countries must rise from the 1950 rate of $3.4 billion a year to as much as $5.5 billion within five years.

3. To combat city decay, "far-reaching urban renewal programs costing as much as $4 billion a year are needed." Presumably this means combined federal, state and local outlays. If so, the new figure means, at least doubling the total spending of the three levels of government.

4. Over-all outlays for education must be doubled in 10 years.

Some other trimming may be possible.

"Economies can and must be made but these savings cannot be counted on to offset rising expenses," the report says.

"We therefore face the prospect, though by no means the certainty, that aggregate tax rates will continue at something like their present level through the decade, and may even have to be increased."

Whether tax rates go down or up, or stay the same, the report went on, "a substantial reform of the tax systems is essential" both to capture revenues which now escape the tax collector, and to give incentive for the launching and expansion of job-producing enterprises.

Seek to Free Goldfine From Mental Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — A court hearing has been ordered next Wednesday on a petition seeking the release of Bernard Goldfine from a mental institution.

The Boston industrialist has been in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, a federal mental institution here, since Oct. 18 under orders of the federal court in Boston.

The Boston court ruled that he was mentally incompetent to stand trial on federal income tax evasion charges. The U. S. District Court here was asked to order his release so he can return to his home for private treatment.

Attorney Edward Bennett Williams argued Thursday that Goldfine was being held illegally, and that his ability to stand trial is getting worse.

Only in Abnormal Cases

Skin of Some Negroes Can Be Whitened — Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Washington skin specialist said today that certain individual Negroes who have abnormally pigmented skin containing white blotches can be given "quite natural" all-white skin by means of drug treatment.

Dr. Robert Stolar of Georgetown University reported he has had some degree of success in 16 of 300 cases treated with that aim over the past 10 years, and in most of the 16 the natural all-white appearance has been achieved.

He stressed that the technique offers no possibility of converting normal Negro skin into white, except for a very temporary period.

In a report to the American Medical Association's annual clinical meeting, amplified in an interview, the doctor said he and his associates have also treated some 200 white people for the same abnormal skin condition which is manifested by "a bizarre pattern of brown skin with whitish blotches."

ACQUIRE DEEP TAN

In the cases of the white people, however, the skin was repigmented instead of depigmented, as in the case of the Negroes — so that the white patients acquired a deep tan.

Stolar said the abnormal skin condition in both races is known as "vitiligo" — and results from an inability of one of the body's basic amino acids called tyrosin to properly convert into melanin, the chemical which normally produces pigmentation of skin.

Cause of this body chemistry abnormality is unknown, he said.

Two different drugs are used, depending upon whether depigmentation or repigmentation is desired. They are applied in the form of ointments over a period of years.

He said most of the 16 Negroes considered as successful cases of depigmentation "look quite natural white."

He said some of them requested that their hair be lightened also but "We have not been able to depigment their hair."

Stolar said a few Negroes with normal-colored skin had requested an attempt at depigmenting.

This was tried and some whitening occurred, the doctor said, but added:

Guatemala Grateful for U.S. Sea Watch

WASHINGTON (UP) — Guatemala said President Eisenhower today that the U.S. Naval and Air Force watch on the high seas off Central America has been decisive in preventing establishment of a Communist government in Guatemala.

President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes of Guatemala expressed gratitude to Eisenhower for sending naval and air units to be on guard against any Communist-directed invasion of Guatemala or Nicaragua.

The Guatemala president, in a note to Eisenhower, made public by the White House, said the U.S. watch "prevented outside forces from giving support to the Communist-inspired revolutionary movement which, in connection with Fidel Castro, broke out in Guatemala on the 15th of the current month in order to overthrow the Constitution."

East, West Germany Talk New Trade Pact

BERLIN (AP) — Negotiators from East and West Germany get together today to discuss a new trade pact.

West Germany gave notice nine weeks ago it was ending its trade agreement with East Germany on Dec. 31 in reprisal for Communist interference with traffic to and within Berlin.

The chief negotiator for the West, Kurt Leopold, will meet officials of the East German Trade Ministry in what is expected to be the first of a series of talks. Leopold got the go-ahead from the Bonn cabinet Wednesday.

Both sides appear eager to restore the agreement. It is an important factor in keeping together the two parts of the country.

Pleads Guilty to Beating Girl

Highland Twp. Mother of 4 Faces Sentence for Assault and Battery

A 24-year-old Highland Township mother of four who has admitted severely beating one of her daughters with an extension cord pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge in Township Justice Court yesterday.

Justice of the Peace Roy J. Carl said he was holding up sentencing of Mrs. Ronald Clancy until he receives a psychiatric report on her from the prosecutor's office.

Meanwhile, the daughter, a 4-year-old Kathy, is in the care of her grandmother, Mrs. Clancy has returned home to care for her other children.

Juvenile authorities were to investigate conditions in the Clancy home at 1885 Valley Drive today, and decide afterward whether to leave the other children, ranging in age from 2 to 4 years, with their mother.

FEELS REJECTED

Mrs. Clancy told Assistant Prosecutor Richard Condit that the beaten child was the only one of her youngsters she "picked on."

According to Condit, Mrs. Clancy feels rejected by her 25-year-old husband and has been taking it out on the one child.

Kathy's condition was first discovered by Dr. Charles Kinney of Highland Township when the child's father brought her to his office for treatment Wednesday evening.

The youngster had lacerations and bruises over 65 per cent of her body and was taken to Pontiac General Hospital for further treatment.

Dr. Kinney summarized sheriff's detectives who swore out a complaint of child abuse against Mrs. Clancy.

The charge was reduced to the assault and battery misdemeanor so immediate action could be initiated in Justice Court, said Condit.

EMOTIONAL STRAIN

Also, he said, the mother, who is seven months pregnant, is obviously suffering from emotional strain and that the case did not warrant more serious action.

"I believe we could best rectify the situation by having the family receive assistance from the Family Service Center," he said.

The first free school textbook statute was enacted by Massachusetts in 1884.

Bally Ache Owners Get $1 Million

NEW YORK (UPI) — One million dollars in insurance was paid today to the owners of Bally Ache, the 3-year-old thoroughbred that died Oct. 28 after earning $78,322 during his brief racing career. It was the highest policy ever paid on an animal.

Milton M. Weiss, president of the Animal Insurance Co. of America, paid the claim to Morris Fruchtman of Toledo and Joseph L. Arnold of Versailles, Ky.

The check, drawn on the Commercial Bank of North America, was made payable to Edgell Farms and to Turfland Corp. Edgell Farms is the racing stable of Leonard Fruchtman, Morris' brother who originally purchased Bally Ache for $2,600 as a yearling in 1958 and sold him on May 13 this year to the Turfland Corp., a syndicate headed by Arnold, for $1,250,000.

The Fruchtman brothers retained an interest in Bally Ache who suffered a training injury in Chicago and died of an intestinal disorder at the Boque Bend farm in Versailles, Ky., shortly afterward.

AMC to Repurchase Old Hudson Plant

DETROIT (AP)—George Romney, American Motors president, announced Thursday the company is repurchasing the old Hudson Motor Car Co. plant in Detroit and will finance the remainder of its demolition. The deal is to be closed next month, he said.

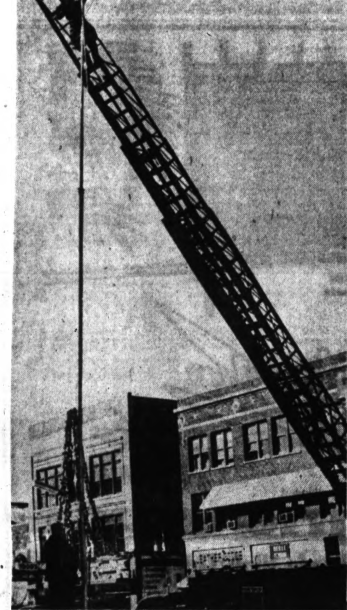

American Motors was formed from the merger of Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson.

AMC sold the property two years ago to Jefferson-Conover Shopping Center, Inc. The new group planned a shopping center there, but demolition of old buildings proved difficult.

The city of Detroit filed a suit last September to compel AMC, the shopping group and a wrecking firm to complete the razing. It charged the property created a hazard.

GOP Challenged to Submit Vote Fraud Issue to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Democratic national chairman, today challenged the Republicans to submit to the Senate investigation their charges of vote frauds in the presidential election.

Republican Chairman Thurston B. Morton announced Thursday the formation of a national recount and fair elections committee to check unofficially "on every suspicious state."

Jackson told reporters the Senate Privileges and Elections subcommittee, created to handle election contests, has received not a single Republican request to investigate the election in any state. This he said, showed "their aim is not to prove their allegations."

that fraud figured in the apparent election of Democrat John F. Kennedy as president.

SEN. EDWARD KENNEDY holds a slim popular vote edge over Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon but has an Electoral College margin of 306 to 223, with 14 unpledged electoral college votes.

Jackson charged the GOP is raising the fraud charges in the hope of achieving "one of two things" and maybe both, which he listed as:

1. Through "dilatory court proceedings" to delay the certification of Electoral College votes from key states "so as to reduce the electoral vote for Kennedy below the constitutional majority needed for election."

2. Cast a cloud on Kennedy's victory.

right to assume the presidency, with the hope of using this as campaign material in future years.

Morton said he himself will head the special Republican committee formed, he said, to expose to the public what he called "shocking irregularities and fraud in this election which constitute a national disgrace."

But he conceded under questioning that he has little hope of upsetting the Democratic victory.

5-Cent Park Meter Fading Into Past

CHICAGO (UPI)—The five-cent parking meter, like the five-cent cigar, is becoming a thing of the past.

The American Municipal Association reported that of 48 large cities recently surveyed by the San Francisco Parking Authority, 38 charged 10 cents an hour, or more, in at least some areas. Four charged 10 cents hourly for all meters. Five charged 20 cents an hour for some.

Complain State Experimental Flying Stymied

LANSING (AP)—Michigan experimental airplane builders have applied to the State Aeronautics Board for some help in improving their status in the aeronautics world.

Arthur Dave and James Miller, president and secretary of the Detroit Area Chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association Thursday brought the group's complaints to their commission.

Members who build their own planes are finding it increasingly difficult, they said, to find places to take off from and land. Few airports will allow them to use their facilities, although aircraft are inspected by the Federal Aviation Agency before they are flown.

They suggested that the commission study plans to develop landing strips on roads that have been cut off by expressway development or on the highway department's surplus property.

In spite of problems with air regulations and the question of ownership of property, the commission agreed to take the proposal under study.

Latin America Looms as Kennedy's Biggest Headache on Foreign Policy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

RYAN

Entire hemisphere. In addition to rising agitation, by agents from Cuba's Fidel Castro, supported and used by the Communists and by assorted opportunists.

In either case, success for the rebel movements would add up to calamity for U.S. policy and would herald even more calamity.

President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina has few illusions about what he is up against. He has said that Communist agents in Argentina have been infiltrating Peronist ranks and in a number of cases have successfully made alliances with the Peronists. The exiled Peron has denied it, but it is increasingly clear his supporters at home are being lured both by the Cuban Fidelistas and the Communists.

One great failure of the United States in Cuba's case was lack of precise knowledge of what the Cuban revolution was all about, and lack of familiarity with its leaders' background. This could happen again and again in Latin America.

One suggestion for insuring against similar future failures comes from J. Peter Grace, president of W. R. Grace & Co. of New York. In a speech he proposed that the Kennedy administration create a Cabinet post for a secretary for Western Hemisphere affairs. This, he said, would show U.S. intentions to maintain

FEARED STABILITY

After Peron was deposed in 1955 the new government legalized all political parties, including the Communists. But a little over two years ago the Communists apparently feared the nation was headed toward stability, which would undermine their cause. They deserted their lip service to the Frondizi regime and turned to instigating rebellion, provoking political strikes and carrying out acts of terror and sabotage.

The Communist hand could be detected in the early 1959 attempt

In Venezuela, President Romulo Betancourt's troubles are not over. The country has the biggest, strongest and most free-wheeling Communist party in the "special interest and mutual relationship with Latin America" transcending interest in any other part of the world. As a means of combatting the suggestion likely will receive careful consideration.

Answer Door by Telephone, Latest Service

LANSING (AP) — A new telephone service allowing you to answer the door by picking up the phone has been authorized by the State Public Service Commission.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. received approval of the new home interphone service.

Buttons on the home phones and a loud speaker system will allow intercommunication between each telephone in the household. This will permit talking without holding the phone, some executive business offices.

The door answering service is possible through a loud speaker outside the door.

The charge will be $25 for installation and $4 a month for three inside interphones and one door phone. Extra phones will cost $1 each a month and interphones 75 cents each.

The plant from which pepper comes is a climbing vine native to the Indo-Malayan region. It is unrelated to either sweet or hot garden peppers.

DAR Lauds Girl Seniors

Honor Eight as Good Citizens

Daughters of the American Revolution, General Richardson Chapter, met Thursday at the Silver Lake home of Mrs. E. G. Clark to honor eight senior girls of area high schools as Good Citizens for 1960-61. Each girl was pinned with a "Good Citizen's Pin" by her mother.

The pin is designed with 13 stars to identify it with the DAR. Four books in the center represent the qualifications for citizenship, and beneath is the torch of understanding, encircled by the wreath of honor.

The Good Citizens were chosen by their classmates and faculty for outstanding dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Aim of the nation-wide DAR project is to stimulate appreciation among young people of character building as a basis of good citizenship.

Senior high school girls receiving the title were Kathleen Mildebrandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mildebrandt of Grant Street - Avondale High School; Charlotte Herzog, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Herzog of West Kennet Road - Pontiac Central High School; and Brenda Keeling of Pontiac Northern High who is in Abingdon, Va. taking entrance examinations for nursing school next fall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keeling of East Third Avenue.

Others honored were Linda Chapman daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chapman of Maybee Road, Clarkston - Clarkston High; Nancy Skinner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Skinner of Andrews Street, Lake Orion - Lakes Orion High; Jacqueline Sheehan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheehan of Norton Lane, Rochester - Rochester High; Joellyn Prout of Williams Lake Road, Waterford, daughter of the W. Cadman Prouts - Waterford Township High; and Margaret Blackmore, daughter of the Fred Blackmores of Willow Lane, Orchard Lake - West Bloomfield Township High.

The eight Good Citizens will be guests of the Michigan DAR March 17 in St. Joseph where the state DAR conference will be in session. The Michigan Good Citizen, chosen on the basis of a questionnaire submitted by each girl, will be announced at the conference. The winner will be presented a $100 U.S. Savings Bond from the National Society, DAR, and in April the National Good Citizen, chosen from judgment of the questionnaires, will receive a silver bowl.

Following a business meeting, Mrs. Frank Allen and Alice Serrell showed slides explaining the types of DAR insignia and their significance. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. William Felton, Mrs. Elbert Wilnot, Mrs. Harry Yok, Mrs. Orrin Huntton, Mrs. B. L. Scott and Mrs. Mallory Coleman.

Others helping were Mrs. L. C. Rowley, Mrs. Glen Dolan, Mrs. I. A. Woodward, Mrs. Frank Vacklavik, Mrs. Velmor Lewis, Mrs. Bradfield Scott and Mrs. Harold Fuller.

Linda Chapman of Clarkston was her school's choice for its Good Citizen. With her (at right) is Rochester's representative, Jacqueline Sheehan.

They were among eight area girls honored Thursday by General Richardson Chapter, DAR.

Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin (center) of East Iroquois Road greeted winners of DAR Good Citizens awards Thursday when General Richardson Chapter honored them with presentations of pins. With her are Joellyn Prout (left) of Williams Lake Road, Waterford High School's candidate; and Margaret Blackmore of Keego Harbor who was West Bloomfield High School's choice for the honor.

Sixteen Interlakes Extension Group members attended an all-day meeting Wednesday at the Dover Road home of Mrs. Victor Stockler.

The group also made wall plaques from marbles and decorated his and hers cup-and-saucer planters. Another workshop is slated Monday at the Ormsby Street home of Mrs. Jack Anders.

The next regular meeting is scheduled Jan. 25 at the West Iroquois Road home of Mrs. Russell Anderson.

'Fur' Your Face

(NEA) - With fur hats so popular this season, your eyebrows need more attention than ever. If you wear a white, tan or pale brown fur hat, remember to darken your brows with a slightly heavier hand or they'll be lost in the forward thrust of shaggy ends of fur from your hat.

Social Folk Start Yule Rush

Abby Aids Disturbed Wife

His One Fault Drives Her Wild

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: "My husband hasn't used my first name for 13 years. He calls me "Mama." He's a good provider, a good father to the children, doesn't drink or go out on me, but this one fault is getting me down. He calls me "Mama" all the time. Even in front of company. I feel more like a mother to him than a wife. I've tried to tell him, but it doesn't help. Please let me know how I can handle this, as it is beginning to affect our marriage."

DEAR ABBY: Please do a humane service and put something in your column about these inconsiderate women who perfume themselves up so heavily that everyone in the office practically chokes when they come in. I want to cut it out and post it on our bulletin board. CAN'T BREATHE ANY MORE

DEAR ABBY: For a 16-year-old girl this is going to sound pretty stupid, but here's my problem. I had a girl friend sleep over, and just for the fun of it I started to make a list of all the boys I necked with. I went way back to when I was 13 and included everybody, even the guys I kissed only in games. (I almost ran out of paper.) Well, we laughed and joked about it, but here's the part that worries me. She took the list home with her and I am afraid she is going to show it around. I asked her for it, and she said she didn't have it any more. I think she's keeping it. How can I get it back? ALL IN FUN BUT WORRIED

DEAR ALL: Forget it. It's ancient history. But don't make that mistake again. What was, was!

The Question BoxLotion Battles Freckles

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Will using a bleaching lotion for freckles cause more freckles when you go out in the sun?"

A. No. The freckles appear because of the sun and not the lotion you have used.

Q. "I have been doing situps for the past five weeks trying to flatten my abdomen and have as yet seen no improvement. Am I expecting results too soon? Is this a good exercise?"

A. You should begin to see a difference soon. This is a good exercise although I think there are some which are better. When you do this exercise, take time for the stretch-out between sit ups.

Arms should be overhead, resting on the floor. Make yourself as long as possible.

If you or any of my readers would like to have my routine of abdominal exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 2 to me in care of The Pontiac Press.

Q. "To begin with, I am a woman past 50 and my life has been no bed of roses. I have had to work hard because of circumstances in my home but regardless of all this I have not lost my love of life, or my pride in looking nice and having a nice home."

"Will you please advise me as to whether I should do something about myself. Even though I am used with an unhappy situation every day, I want to keep on the bright side, keep trying."

"I am 5 feet, 5 inches tall and Doing situps is fine for flattening the tummy. Take time for the stretchout between situps when you do this exercise, making yourself as long as possible.

weigh 136 pounds. I have a medium frame. My bust measures 37, waist 27 and hips 39 inches. My friend says I have a nice figure but I do not feel that I have."

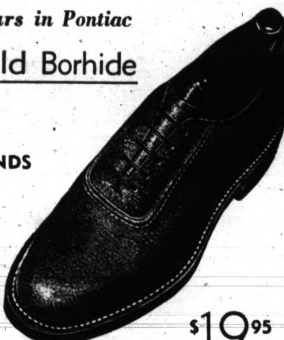

A. Your letter is an inspiration. You evidently face the most testing of all hardships, that of having to face an unhappy situation every day, one which cannot be changed. It is much easier to meet a crisis for an active girl of your age than day after day unhappiness. We can recover from a crisis. Your braids around your head like a figure shows that you have not had. Why don't you have it given up to despair or self-pity shortened some and shaped?

Members will bring handwork and homemade treats for sale in their Christmas cupboard from which proceeds go to world fellowship. A gift exchange and appearance of Santa Claus also are on the program.

HELL VISIT NURSERY

Santa will return to the Y Dec. 14 to visit children in the nursery, whose mothers will be sponsoring a cooperative luncheon to mark the close of classes.

He will return in the evening to visit the Pontiac State Hospital Y group's annual party, at which Mrs. Allan H. Norwood and Mrs. H. R. Anglenier, co-chairmen, will be hostesses.

St. Nick will make another visit to the Y Dec. 15, visiting the second group of nursery youngsters. That evening the staff will gather at the Naval Reserve Training Center on East Boulevard for the annual USO holiday dance from 8 p.m. to midnight.

The senior high Y-Teens Interclub Council will substitute a Christmas party for its usual monthly meeting Dec. 17. A supper party has been tentatively scheduled at 8:30 p.m.

Dec. 19, the Y group of junior high age boys and girls from Oakland County Children's Home will celebrate at an 8 p.m. party. While the board of directors meets elsewhere in the building.

Just Say Thank You for Nice Compliment

By RUTH MILLETT

At a party the other night I complimented a man on the charm and beauty of his wife. He looked pleased but hesitated a moment before saying, "Thank you." Then with a grin he explained:

thing clever to say, but I guess a nice compliment like that doesn't call for a wisecrack."

He's right, of course. What's the use of fending off a compliment, instead of accepting it with a gracious and pleased "Thank you?"

Yet that's exactly what we usually do. Someone offers us a nice compliment and we struggle to disclaim it. If we can think up a clever comeback, without considering that by our smart remark we have actually brushed the compliment aside.

We begin to protest that the compliment is undeserved, that it should go to someone else, or we hint that the compliment-giver is just trying to make us feel good.

The truth is that we're shy about compliments and while we actually love them, we're afraid to act as though we do.

Someone might suspect we believe them (which we usually do) or think we have a pretty good opinion of ourselves (which most of us do have) or that a simple "Thank you" will mark us as somewhat unsophisticated (which most of us, fortunately, are).

So we fight off a compliment instead of reaching out and accepting it with uncoiled pleasure, as we would any other gift.

And we struggle to find just the right thing to say in reply when there is no better way to receive a sincere compliment than with a gracious "Thank you."

For practical pointers on getting along with that man in your life, order your copy of Ruth Millett's new booklet, "How to Have a Happy Husband." Just send 25c to Ruth Millett Reader Service, c/o The Pontiac Press, P.O. Box 480, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N.Y.

Total Defense Would Replace Civil Variety

Wants the Guard Ready for A-Strife

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Maxwell E. Rich, who was a salesman long before he became a major general, is in the midst of one of his hardest merchandising jobs. To his mind, it's the most vital of all.

Rich, adjutant general of Utah, calls his product "total defense."

"When they drop the bomb," he explains, "it will be damned hard to tell the difference between civil defense and any other kind."

The Adjutants General Association of the United States has named Rich chairman of a committee to determine how the National Guard can make the most of its abilities as a survival, recovery and fighting force in the event of nuclear war. He hopes to report by next spring.

SHORT ON SHOT

The association then will try to sell the program to military and congressional leaders.

"If a well-trained rifle squad came through Emigration Canyon right now, we wouldn't have enough small arms ammunition for more than a three-hour fight," says Rich.

The National Guard is issued enough 30-caliber ammunition only to keep its members qualified with small arms, and to meet local emergencies. There probably isn't a round of artillery ammunition within 500 miles.

Rich and his organization disagree sharply with the philosophy that an all-out nuclear attack will destroy both the attacked and the attacker. They feel that a majority of Americans—and thus a majority of National Guardsmen—would survive even the most severe attack.

"Certainly we feel that with units in 2,500 communities, it will be impossible to completely knock out our organization," Rich says. Dispersal is one of the key selling points for the guard as a total defense force. For 300 years, the militia has grown up in rough proportion to America's population.

Each governor is commander in chief of the National Guard of his state, until it is federalized. Should the chain of command from the Pentagon be snapped, a new chain of command would begin in the office of each governor.

Rich has divided big, sparsely populated Utah into seven regions, each the commanding area of a guard battalion. His committee will recommend that supplies not only be cached in each state, but distributed strategically to commands within each state.

"With things like ammunition and gasoline, we will have to help them on hand already," Rich says, "because when the bomb drops, we won't have a chance to get them here."

The other problems are communications—now being worked out in Utah—and transportation, which also will require federal group.

MSU Consultant Heads Federal Education Study
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Dr. John Ivey of Michigan State University has been appointed chairman of a 12-member committee to study effects of federally sponsored programs in higher education for the U.S. Office of Education.

Lawrence G. Dertlich, U.S. commissioner of education, announced the appointment of Ivey, who is consultant to the president of MSU, and 11 other educators group.

California's 28th District
Nation's Most Populous

WASHINGTON (AP)—California's 28th is the nation's most populous congressional district on the basis of preliminary 1960 census figures.

Close behind is Florida's 4th District.

A preliminary tabulation by the Census Bureau shows a population of 1,007,140 for California's 28th, which runs along the Pacific Ocean between Los Angeles and San Diego.

This is the only district credited with more than a million inhabitants.

Florida's 4th is that state's southernmost district, comprising Dade (Miami) and Monroe counties. The report lists a population of 966,251 for the district which also includes the Florida Keys and the city of Key West.

Other congressional districts with more than 800,000 people: Texas 5th, with 838,945 residents; New York 1st, 800,000; Illinois 13th, 809,983; Georgia 5th, 818,582; Florida 1st, 807,182; California 5th, 805,578; and Michigan 16th, 803,456.

Michigan's 12th Dist. has the smallest population—175,968.

Windsor Bottling Line
Closure to Kill 130 Jobs

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI)—Windsor is faced with the loss of 130 jobs due to the planned closing in February of a bottling line at the Carling brewery here.

Carling announced the line would be closed when production begins at its new plant in Toronto. Windsor employees will be offered jobs in the Toronto plant, which will employ about 350 persons.

Postmaster General
Possibly to Be Negro

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — The Albany Times Union has a copyright story that it has learned from authoritative sources that President-Elect John F. Kennedy may name Negro Rep. William Dawson of Illinois as postmaster general.

If Dawson is appointed, it would mark the first time that a Negro received a Cabinet post in the United States.

NATO Adds
a Mobile
Atom Force

PARIS (AP) Gen. Lauré Norstad, Allied commander in Europe, announced today a mobile striking force with nuclear capability has been added to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military strength.

He told the Western European Union that planning responsibilities for use of the force have been given to French Gen. Maurice Challe, NATO commander in Central Europe. The nuclear weapons in Norstad's command are under U.S. control.

Norstad announced his intention to create such a striking force last spring. He said today the force would have conventional strength but also would have nuclear weapons such as the Honest John missile with a range of about 15 miles.

In his announcement last spring Norstad said the force would consist of three or four battalions from varying NATO nations.

This could bring the force to a strength of about 4,000 men. The mobile force could be the forerunner of the NATO-controlled atomic striking force for which Norstad recently appealed.

Kasavubu Breaks
Relations With UAR

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu Thursday broke off diplomatic relations with the United Arab Republic and ordered Ambassador Murard Ghalab and all his staff to leave the Congo immediately.

In a letter to U.A.R. President Abdel Gamal Nasser, Kasavubu said Ghalab had plotted to overthrow the "established authority" in the Congo and sought to encourage "rebel elements" consisting of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Ghalab said he had not received the formal notification declaring him and his staff persona non grata but he said he would not oppose any order from Kasavubu to quit the Congo.

Oakland's Top Dairy Farmer to Be Honored

100 Will Attend Annual Banquet

Dinner to Be Held 7:30 Thursday at Savings, Loan Building

Oakland County's outstanding dairy farmer will be honored at a banquet Thursday by the Cooperative Extension Service and The Pontiac Press.

More than 100 owners and operators of dairy farms in the county are expected to attend the annual function to be held this year in the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building, 761 W. Huron St.

The best of the county's 600 dairy farmers will be named following the 7:30 p.m. dinner.

A trophy will be awarded to the top dairyman for outstanding achievement during the past year by Lee Winborne, suburban editor of The Pontiac Press.

The recipient of the award is selected by a panel of judges made up of directors of the Dairy Herd Improvement Association of Oakland County.

Several factors are studied by the judges in making their decisions according to Jay Pfenberg, county agricultural agent for the extension service.

Taken into consideration in naming the top dairy farmer, he said, is his herd's high production of milk and butterfat, improvements made in the farm management during the year and his participation in improvement association programs.

In addition to the trophy award the three dairy groups making up the improvement association will present certificate of merit to dairymen in their own organizations.

The toastmaster for the evening program will be Stuart Hutchins. Following the presentation of the awards William Kinsane of St. John will show color slides of his recent trip to Ireland as a participant in the International Farm Youth Exchange program.

Kinsane, who returned home last month, spent five months in Ireland studying agricultural methods. The public can obtain tickets for the banquet by contacting the Cooperative Extension Service.

After the banquet the three groups of the improvement association will meet and elect officers for the coming year.

Owner of Drive-In Gets Probation, Fine

The owner of Pines Drive-In at 4800 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains, was placed on a year's probation and told to pay a $100 fine yesterday for "filthy and unsanitary conditions" in his restaurant.

Found guilty by Drayton Plains Division of the Peace Patrick Day was Leonard Obshansky of Detroit. Obshansky also was ordered to pay $15 court costs.

The charges were brought by James McCollum, inspector for the State Department of Agriculture. McCollum said it was the third time Obshansky had been arrested for this violation.

The state inspector said a decomposed meat was found in a refrigerator and pies were discovered stored in a garbage shed at the drive-in.

CHORISTERS REHEARSE — Fifth grade pupils at Pine Knob Elementary School in Independence Township practice for their Christmas concert to be presented Monday before the Parent-Teacher Association. Romeo Board Picks Feb. 3 for $700,000 Bond Issue Vote

ROMEO — After months of deliberation and study, the Romeo Board of Education last night set Feb. 3 as the date for a special election on a proposed $700,000 bond issue for school expansion.

At the same time voters will be asked to approve a three-mill tax hike for operation to be levied for seven years if the proposal passes.

The two propositions to be presented in connection with the bond issue will seek permission to finance the program and authority to increase tax by 3 1/2 mills to pay for it over a period of 18 years.

School officials said, however, that the actual levy would be 2.98 mills based on present valuation.

According to present plans, the construction and renovation projects would add 27 rooms and handle classroom needs in the district through the 1964-65 school year.

The building program would provide a new elementary school containing seven classrooms, plus special education rooms, additions to and remodeling of existing schools, and a new grade school site of about 18 acres.

If approved, construction will include the addition of a multipurpose room, two classrooms and a special education room at the Washington Grade School.

CONVERSION PLANNED — Also planned is the conversion of some space at the North Grade School in Romeo to house officers and faculty rooms.

Seven classrooms, a special education room and auxiliary space will be added to the senior high school, and a like number of classrooms, special education room and new boiler at the junior high, if the bond issue passes.

The new elementary school would handle anticipated growth in the district in the next five years, board members said.

Schools Supt. T. C. Filippula said that even if the bond issue passes the buildings will not be available until September 1962, and that present facilities will be considerably overcrowded during the 1961-62 school year.

The $700,000 issue, he said, will increase taxes in the townships within the school district by the following amounts on each $1,000 of assessed valuation:

Armadale, $6.87; Addison, $6.10; Bruce, $6.82; Oakland, $6.43; Washington $7.06; Ray, $7.09 and Shelby, $8.93.

Voters in the district gave the board authority last March to levy three mills for one year for operation. Now the board wants to replace the four-mill, one-year levy with three mills for seven years.

Actually, only one mill was levied this year, and if the millage hike is approved, the operational levy will be about the same next year, according to the superintendent.

The first public presentation of particulars of the bond issue and millage proposals was made last night by board members and Filippula at the first meeting of the newly combined junior and senior high schools Parent-Teacher Association.

Election Prompts Bus Ride

Utica Voters to Tour School District

UTICA — A school-bus tour of the entire Utica Community School District will precede a special election here Monday in which voters will be asked to approve three issues.

Heading the list of proposals on the ballot is a $3.98 million bond issue for construction of four new school buildings in the next two years.

Only property owners may vote on this proposal while all voters are qualified to decide on the two other propositions, which include a request for a five-mill operational tax and a $100,000 bond issue for construction of new administration offices.

School Supt. Fred Atkinson said public response to the three proposals has been favorable. Atkinson reported that he had received some 1,200 reservations from parents who wish to tour the school district Sunday. He said the parents will meet at the schools their children attend at 2 p.m.

The parents then will be picked up at the various schools and given first-hand look at the district. The project is sponsored by a special citizens committee.

The committee, aided by all local parent-teacher associations, has been conducting a campaign in order to get voters to approve the issues in Monday's election.

The committee gave its backing to the proposals following a report by the school superintendent which stated that approximately 1,200 new students are expected in the district by the fall of 1962.

The polls are located at Wiley

Walled Lake Youth Pleads Guilty in Beating of Boy

An 18-year-old Walled Lake youth pleaded guilty yesterday to assault and battery in the Oct. 30 beating of a 16-year-old boy in Commerce Township.

Appearing before Commerce Township Justice of the Peace John C. Weick was Arthur Farren of 2902 Brisbane St., who was charged with beating and assaulting the victim, 17-year-old William J. Woodland, Jr., of Walled Lake.

Farren and three juveniles were identified by the victim as his assailants. Weick said he will sentence the youth after further investigation is made.

UNCERTAIN OF ROLE — "I am unsure what part Farren played in the beating and will investigate the case further before making a decision," Weick said.

Until yesterday Farren had pleaded not guilty to taking part in the beating.

Carver Unit Is Formed in Oak Park

OAK PARK — The Oak Park Council of Community Organizations has established a committee which will attempt to solve problems created by the attachment of Carver School District to Oak Park.

Called the committee on human relations, the new group will establish a speaker's bureau as one of its first projects.

Speakers will be available throughout the community to answer questions and present information concerning the recent annexation of Royal Oak Township's Carver district to the Oak Park School District.

"We are proud to live in a city in which people of all faiths have demonstrated they can live and work together in harmony," spokesman for the council said in a prepared statement.

"The committee on human relations believes it can assist in mobilizing these reserves of good will successfully to cope with the many-fold responsibilities arising out of the Carver attachment," the statement said.

The council of community organizations is made up of representatives from about 40 Oak Park churches, synagogues, parent-teacher associations, service clubs and other groups.

In planning its programs, the organization will be assisted by the Detroit Roundtable of Protestants, Catholics and Jews.

OK Sanitary Sewer Study

Troy City Commission Approves the Measure, Deems Cost Low

TROY — A resolution asking that the Oakland County Department of Public Works study the feasibility of installing a sanitary sewer system in Troy has been adopted by the City Commission.

City Manager David E. Firestone said the cost of such a study should be slight since the city recently conducted its own survey of the sewer situation here.

All the findings contained in the city's survey will be made available to the county, Firestone explained.

The study was made by Troy's planning consultants prior to an Aug. 2 election in which two bond issues were defeated. If approved, the issues would have allowed the city to start construction on a sanitary sewer system and a sewage treatment plant.

However, city officials will not have to get voter approval on the sewer project if it is handled by the county.

A citizens' sewer committee, made up of some 20 Troy residents, recommended that the city enlist the aid of the county in building a sewer system here.

The resolution was approved by unanimous vote of the commission.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Miller, D.V.M.

Q. What causes my dog to chase his tail? T. Y. of Rivergrove, Ill.

A. I know this breach of etiquette is annoying to the dog owner, but think how frustrating it must be for dog! The futile chasing often starts from sheer boredom, and can become a habit. Sometimes, the pet is going around in circles in a vain attempt to relieve the discomf of worms or other posterior troubles. The tail is also a meeting place for such unwelcome guests as fleas, etc.

Have your dog checked for physical causes; if there are none, his habit may be broken by reprimanding him, distracting him, or even using a discreet amount of tranquilizers.

General Assembly Inactive 2 MonthsU.N. Plans Break to Wait Jack's Ideas

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The General Assembly is planning an unusual winter recess to await the views of the new Kennedy administration in Washington.

The assembly, still in sort of a state of shock since Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's table-thumping antics at the start of this session, has not taken action on a single major issue in the past two months. It has given up hope of ending its business on the target date of Dec. 17.

Most delegates feel that the United States cannot make any hard decisions until Sen. John F. Kennedy takes over the presidency. They do not want the 99-nation assembly to reconvene before the middle of February.

Many hope that with a new U.S. president not bound by the commitments of the Eisenhower administration, the Soviet Union may take a more conciliatory position on its major conflicts with the United States.

SEAY CONGOLESE

So far, the major accomplishments of the assembly have been the perennial decision to shelter Communist China's bid for membership and seat the Congo delegation backing President Joseph Kasavubu.

But other debates have so bogged down the schedule that to go on a double schedule then. Right now the Political Committee is discussing disarmament, a question on which its members would like to hear the views of the Kennedy administration. Most delegates want to avoid voting on rival proposals at this stage.

The assembly itself is confronted with a staggering list of 64 speakers who want a say on the Soviet proposal to abolish all colonies at once. This idea was proposed by Khrushchev during his four-week visit here.

Another of Khrushchev's ideas, a three-man board to replace Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld, has not been made into a formal proposal by the Soviets. But Communist spokesmen have taken a lot of time talking about Hammarskjöld and his secretariat in various assembly committees.

FUTURE DEBATES

Still coming up for discussion are acrimonious debates on Hungary and Tibet, and resolutions by the Soviet Union and Cuba accusing the United States of aggression.

Next week the Political Committee takes up the question of the Algerian rebels' six-year war for independence from France. It is likely to produce plenty of verbal fireworks with the Soviets joining in hot and heavy against the French. The Political Committee has indicated it also plans

NLRB Sets Election at Zantop Tuesday

DETROIT (U)—A National Labor Relations Board consent election has been set for Tuesday to determine whether Teamsters Union Local 599 will represent workers at Zantop Hangar Service.

The union and company, located at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, have agreed to terms of the election.

The union, which has been picketing Zantop for about two months, withdrew its pickets and police cars stationed there because of previous violence also were withdrawn.

Emil Farkas, state labor mediator, said, 63 Zantop workers were eligible to vote in the election.

Gas Industry Eyes New Gain

More Rapid Expansion Planned to Meet Need for More U.S. Energy

NEW YORK (UPI)—With a few roadblocks now being cleared, the natural gas industry has trained its sights on duplicating the fabulous growth of the past decade.

The $23 billion gas industry now is the nation's fifth largest in terms of plant investment but further and more rapid expansion is yet to come.

Natural gas fulfills about 30 per cent of total U.S. energy requirements, against 14 per cent in 1946. The nation's energy requirements are expected to increase 75 per cent by 1975, and in order to meet this need, the natural gas industry hopes to increase its competitive position by raising its output about 80 per cent.

The way is being paved by the recent speed adopted by the Federal Power Commission to set the more than 113 pipeline rates cases, involving increases of around $20 million a year collected under bond.

Also significant is the FCC's raising of the permissible return above the historic 6 per cent on invested capital. In several decisions the return was boosted to 7 1/2 per cent. The FCC also granted a larger return on pipeline properties, subject to future disposition of tax credits from well drilling and depletion.

It is going to take substantial sums of money to finance the industry's goals.

Present schedules are for capital outlays of more than $8 billion in the four-year period 1960-63—26.5 per cent more than the $6.7 billion spent in the 1956-59 period.

The American Gas Association estimates that 30 per cent of the required funds will be generated internally, 45 per cent from the sale of bonds and debentures, and 25 per cent from the sale of common and preferred stocks.

Nearly $87,000 Spent to Elect Pat McNamara

DETROIT (AP)—A total of $86,303.75 was spent to re-elect Democratic Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, reports filed Thursday said.

McNamara's defeated opponent, Rep. Alvin M. Bentley, said in his report more than $400,000 was spent on his campaign.

The expense account for McNamara said "friends of Sen. Pat McNamara" spent $55,125, with $2,000 contributions from the Committee for Good Government and the Michigan State AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education.

The International Pipefitters Union Political Education Committee contributed $3,000.

The "McNamara Re-election Committee" said it spent $23,537.37, with $17,500 coming from a testimonial dinner. "Senior Citizens for McNamara" spent $5,000 with a $5,000 contribution from the national AFL-CIO.

The "Business and Professional men's Committee for Sen. McNamara" spent $1,181.

The senator's personal report said he spent nothing and received no contributions.

Third of Continent Under Military Rule

By United Press International

Army troops in Argentina and Venezuela were embroiled Wednesday in extremist attempts to topple the constitutional governments of those countries.

The political turbulence in the two big South American nations put more than a third of the American continent under direct or indirect military rule.

Argentina and Venezuela were the seventh and eighth nations in the hemisphere to resort to force to subdue civil strife in as many weeks.

Earlier this month, Guatemala and Nicaragua crushed internal revolts which they said were inspired or supported by Cuba, and the United States established a naval patrol off their coasts to prevent invasion.

Haiti mobilized its army and declared martial law when students called a nationwide strike which the government described as a prelude to a Cuban-supported revolt to overthrow the government.

Honduras and Costa Rica called out their armed forces to turn back armed rebels seeking to use them as invasion bases for the attacks against Nicaragua and Guatemala.

Last month, the constitutional government of El Salvador was overthrown by a civilian-military junta of leftist leanings and a pronounced pro-Castro bent.

Salinger Has a Sunday Ring

Kennedy Plays Soap Opera

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Although the last of the radio soap operas recently vanished into thin air, we have gone here a similar sort of daily drama which might be entitled "John's Other Secretary."

Or if that title doesn't fit, we can always call it "One Man's Family."

The central character in this cliff-hanger is President-Elect John F. Kennedy, but he usually uses a stand-in, played by Pierre Salinger, his press aide.

Once a day, and sometimes twice, Salinger calls a news conference to impart tidings about the incoming administration. Naturally, the atmosphere is fraught with expectation.

TENSION GROWS

Will this be the day that Kennedy appoints someone to his cabinet? Will he name the new secretary of state? The secretary of agriculture? The secretary of anything?

Perhaps these questions will be answered as we join Salinger in the Senate Caucus Room for today's episode. But first, a word about the baby.

The baby is doing very well. Salinger says the baby has had no oxygen for 24 hours, but Salinger probably means the baby was not given oxygen artificially. Very few babies can go for 24 hours without any oxygen.

MEANWHILE . . .

And now, back to the cabinet. True to the soap opera tradition, Salinger raises more questions than he answers. He does this by reading a list of all the people that Kennedy has seen during the day, plus all the people he plans to see the next day.

As he reads, the audience mentally matches the names against those that have figured in the speculation about cabinet posts. There are no fresh clues, however, in Salinger's bland recital. And now, a further word about the family.

Kennedy plans to take his daughter Caroline with him when he goes to Palm Beach, Fla., this weekend. She will stay there when he returns to Washington next Monday.

Someone wants to know who will take care of Caroline. Salinger assumes a nurse will do it. This is the firmest appointment yet.

And now it is time for the commercial — the one before the program bit that whets the audience's interest in the next episode. There will be, Salinger says, an announcement made in Palm Beach on Saturday. It will be, he promises, "hard news."

There also likely will be some announcements made before Kennedy leaves for Florida. So tune in at this same time tomorrow, folks.

General chairman of the celebration is Ivan Estes, department of mental health. Otis Hardy of civil service was named secretary and Henry Schroeder, revenue department, was named treasurer.

Diagnosis: Buying Habits Changing

Producers Caught With Stocks Up

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Officials in Washington who keep an eye on you say there's been no slackening in your wants and needs nor in your appetites. They're as high or higher than last year, and on the whole you've been shelling out as many dollars to satisfy them.

So if there's anything wrong with the economy it isn't your fault. You've been doing your bit to keep it going — even if sometimes it hurts.

Merchants and dealers who think you're holding out — and manufacturers who have turned out a record supply of consumer goods this year while stocks piled up — are told by official sources that the trouble is: There has been a change in some of the things you're paying for.

And the implication — although this isn't pushed by the officials — is that business should take a new look at consumers' wants and maybe change its emphasis.

RECORD OUTPUT
The Federal Reserve Board reports in its official bulletin, "Output of consumer goods this year has been maintained at record level appreciably higher than last year and 115 per cent of the 1957 average."

It adds: "Retail sales and other final purchases, including exports, have been higher than a year earlier, but not so much as overall production." In other words, stocks piled up until summer and since then have shown little change. And retail sales reached their peak in late spring.

Total retail consumer purchasing was little changed in the summer months from spring. The Department of Commerce notes in its November survey. Total consumer spending is running at an annual rate of $32.3 billion, up $3 billion from the first of the year.

But the department notes that you are spending a bit less for goods and more for services. It puts the annual rate of purchases of goods at $28.4 billion in the July-September period, against $28 billion in the April-June quarter, with $1.8 billion of the drop in durable goods.

MANY INCREASES
Spending for services increased from $18.2 billion at an annual rate in the spring to $23.3 billion in the summer.

"Increases have continued in shelter outlays, coming from the improved supply of housing and the rise in rents, and in such associated items as telephone and utility services," the department adds.

While general consumer goods output eased slightly in the summer months from the last spring, the Federal Reserve finds it was maintained in October at the September rate.

The fall month, indeed, saw output of consumer staples expanding and three per cent higher than at the start of the year. These include foods, drugs and fur.

Home furnishings and apparel, however, were off a bit in October.

The accumulation in stores and warehouses of some home goods, such as appliances, seemed checked by autumn.

"A factor operating to raise stocks of finished goods to all levels has been the increased diversity of products offered," the Federal Reserve reports.

And some of the slowdown in dollar-volume of consumer purchasing is due to price cutting, much of it not included on official price lists, nor showing up fully in the various price indexes.

Republican Rejects Job From Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy indicated Thursday he had tried and failed to get Republican Robert A. Lovett into the new administration.

After a conference with Lovett, Kennedy told an impromptu news conference that his guest "has retired from active service in government."

Now 65, Lovett is a former secretary of defense and former under secretary of state. He has been mentioned prominently for a position in the Kennedy administration in either department, partly as one who would bring a measure of bipartisanship to the new regime.

Indicating he definitely would have liked to have Lovett on his team, Kennedy said "it is a great regret to me that he has retired."

Military Discusses New War Targets

OMAHA (AP)—The nation's top military leaders met today for secret talks in the Strategic Air Command's underground headquarters.

Defense Sec. Thomas S. Gates flew from Washington to join heads of U.S. unified commands from all over the world and Joint Chiefs of Staff in two days of conferences that began Thursday.

The SAC underground also is the workshop of the new strategic target planning staff of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The military leaders will review the work of the team which has been putting together a new list of targets for nuclear weapons in the event of war.

'Cheerleaders' Openly Display Their Hate

By CARLTON F. WILSON
NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—"They oughta lynch the dirty black dogs," screamed a woman in front of the William Frantz integrated school.

She was one of about 40 regular members of a crowd that stands across the street from the three-story school and doesn't mind words in expressing its feelings about desegregation.

Start Recount in Race for Muskegon Judgeship

MUSKEGON (UPI)—A recount had started today in Muskegon County of the votes cast for probate judge in the Nov. 8 election. Robert Danhof, U.S. attorney for the western district of Michigan, lost the election and asked for a recount of eight heavily Republican precincts.

In a counteraction, Robert Cavanaugh, who had been appointed to the judgeship earlier this year, sought a recount of the other 63 precincts in the county.

The judgeship is nonpartisan, but Danhof is identified with Republicans and Cavanaugh with Democrats.

November bowed out by serving down to 22 the following day and sluff was on the ground.

SLOWING STARTS

On Nov. 30 motorists were wiping their windshields, trying to start stalled engines — and pedestrians pulled out their rubbers before braving the outdoors.

Snowflakes had fallen earlier in the month — on Nov. 8 and 6. The next day was a warm one, however, the warmest of the month at 71 degrees.

November bowed in with light rain and cloudy weather for the first week. After the mercury hit its high point on Nov. 7, there were two more days of light rain. It turned to snow.

The skies cleared after that, and the weather was, for the most part, mild.

The coldest mark on the thermometer was on Nov. 29 when the mercury went down to a freezing 22.

There were 12 days of sunshine, six that were cloudy, four that were rainy, four on which snow fell, and two offering a combination of rain and snow.

The average high temperature in November was 50.3. The average low was 35.26.

Average temperature for the month as a whole was 42.72 degrees, more than two above the normal for the month, 40.1.

W. Hemisphere Colonies Hit

Honduras Envoy Tells U.N. To Include This Region in Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Honduras has appealed to the United Nations not to forget in its debate on colonialism "the three million persons who still live under colonialism in the Western Hemisphere."

Ambassador Francisco Milla Bermudez, speaking in the General Assembly, said Afro-Asian delegations appeared to view colonialism as a problem limited to their continents.

"But even in Latin America, colonies exist," Bermudez said Thursday. "Are we going to resolve the existence of Afro-Asians in our struggle?"

The Honduran diplomat praised Britain and France for relinquishing control of their overseas possession in Africa and Asia.

"But the Netherlands, for instance, says little about emancipation of Aruba and Dutch Guiana," he said.

"France still holds the islands of Guadeloupe and Martinique, as well as French Guiana. England is holding Trinidad and other islands."

Bermudez said it would be an "unforgivable oversight" if any resolution on colonialism passed by the assembly did not recognize nonself-governing territories in the Western Hemisphere.

U.S. Denies Admittance to Writer From Britain

NEW YORK (AP)—Cedric H. Beltrage, British-born writer deported from this country in 1955 on charges of pro-Communist activities, was denied permission Thursday to pass through the United States on the way to Cuba. The former Hollywood writer and editor of the National Guardian boarded a plane shortly afterward to fly back to England.

Public Excited Over 'Camelot'

Broadway's Biggest '60 Event Opens Saturday; Tickets Sold 'Til April

NEW YORK (UPI)—The curtain goes up Saturday night on Broadway's biggest event of 1960—the opening of "Camelot," which seems destined to be either a smash or the most over-touted theatrical venture in years.

Half a million dollars is riding on the Alan Jay Lerner-Fredrick Loewe-Moss Hart musical story of the triangle built around King Arthur, Guinevere and Sir Lancelot.

The librettist, composer and director produced the fantastically successful "My Fair Lady." And as veteran press agent Dick Maney puts it, "My Fair Lady" is "Camelot's" dearest friends and severest critic.

Tickets for "Camelot" already sold out almost solidly until April. But public and professionals alike are waiting critically to see if the Lerner-Loewe-Hart team can equal or surpass the brilliant "MYL" which has grossed $9 million and played from Moscow to Melbourne.

Further comparisons to "My Fair Lady" have been invited by the fact that two principals of the Pygmalion musical, Julie Andrews (Liza Dolittle) and Robert Coote (Colonel Pickering) have main roles in "Camelot."

Critics in Boston liked "Camelot," but didn't seem to think it was up to "My Fair Lady."

Didn't Push Her Way Into Filmdom

Joan Crawford's Daughter in Movie

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Another glorious movie name is being carried on by Christina Crawford, making her first Hollywood movie at 21.

Christina is the eldest adopted daughter of Joan Crawford, the screen's most durable queen. The girl has a role in "Wild in the Country" at 20th Century-Fox where mama is getting ready for "Return to Peyton Place." But Christina got the job on her own.

"When I was younger, mother had many offers for me to appear in movies," Christina said. "She wouldn't let me, because she said that I had to want an acting career myself; she wouldn't decide it for me."

"That was all right with me. I wanted to attain what I could; I didn't want anyone to pave the way for me. Mother has been a big help in giving me advice on individual problems. But as far as the direction of my career, I'm on my own."

NO FRONTAL ATTACK

Christina purposely avoided a frontal assault on Hollywood. She studied a great deal with the better schools and coaches in New York, then got some seasoning in summer stock. She played everything from "The Moon Is Blue" to Shakespeare to "Our Town." She also did an independent film in Florida.

The question always arises with second-generation performers:

Does bearing a famous name prove an asset or liability? "I think it's definitely an asset," Christina remarked. "I'm proud of my mother and what she has achieved. I'm sure that having her name opens the door to many opportunities. And it is wonderful to sense the reaction that I get from people who have been fans of mother and are therefore interested in me. It is a very warm feeling."

"On the other hand, I'm also on a spot. Although I have the opportunities, I have to prove myself—perhaps more than other performers. I have to produce, or else."

Christina is a big girl, blonde and persuasive, and she is already learning the regimen that has kept her mother trim through the years. Christina's lunch in the commissary was a marmalade round of cottage cheese; even at 21, she's a calorie-counter.

All-Announces 1960 All-America Grid Team

NEW YORK (AP)—A mammoth line and a backfield built around Navy's Joe Bellino, the Heisman Award winner, highlight the 1960 All-America announced today by the Associated Press.

With Bellino in the backfield as Joe Gibbs, Mississippi; Perry Atkins, New Mexico State; and Bo Ferguson, Ohio State. The line is composed of Dan LaRose, Missouri, 221 pounds, and Mike Ditka, Pitt., 215, guards; Ken Rice, Auburn, 250, and Bob Lilly, Texas Christian, 248, tackles; Tom Brown, Minnesota, 224, and Ben Balme, Yale, 215, guards; and Roy McKasson, Washington, 265, center.

The team was selected on the graded recommendations of eight regional boards of expert sports writers and news men who also voted on the top ten throughout the season. All games through Nov. 26 were taken into account.

Bellino was a standout in a season in which, generally, attention centered on the line rather than the backfield. He scored 110 points for Navy's orange bowl-bound team, including 18 touchdowns, and gained 834 yards rushing, 280 yards catching 17 passes, and three five passes for 112 yards.

The 5-9, 181-pound halfback wound up his academy career in a blaze of glory by intercepting a pass on the goal line in the closing moments of the Army-Navy game, saving Navy's 17-12 lead.

State's unbeaten season. He caught 24 passes for 468 yards. He stands 6'1 and weighs 190 and was drafted before his senior year by the Los Angeles Rams.

Ferguson, the only junior on the team, is a 217-pounder who was moved from halfback to backfield and crashed through for Ohio State with 12 touchdowns and 853 yards rushing. Gibbs, who weighs 185 and is sure to be in high demand by professional teams, completed 66 of 108 passes for 970 yards and 12 touchdowns, and wound up the regular season by connecting on 13 of 15 passes against Mississippi State. He also was rated the most dangerous runner on an unbeaten but once tied team, and is a good punter as well.

Missing from the team is Bob Schorr of Washington, an All-America last year who had to sit out most of this season because of a broken collarbone. He was considered sure to repeat until injured.

Not behind the first team backfield comes a second team combination of Francis Tarkenton, Georgia; Bill Kilmer, UCLA; Ron Bull, Baylor, and Ernie Davis, Syracuse.

At the flanks on the night All-America forward will be Ditka and LaRose, who replaced last year's All-America, Marlin McKeever of Southern California and Fred Mastino of Syracuse.

Ditka, who caught 11 passes for 229 yards and two touchdowns, was most feared for his hard tackling and blocking. Budd Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers called him "the best college player in the country." LaRose of the team, caught 10 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns, and recovered six fumbles.

Lilly, the big TCU tackle was termed by Coach Abe Martin "the greatest lineman I ever coached." He hit his peak against Texas Tech, recovering 17 fumbles, recovering two fumbles, blocking a punt, and causing a pass interception. Rice, the other giant tackle, like Lilly, was a bear on recovering fumbles. Coach Ralph Jordan called him a "noisy football player — you don't realize how much he is accomplishing."

Balme, the first Yale All-America in a quarter century, was the key to the Elmer perfect season. Big and bristling, he was mechanically perfect on every play. He paired at guard with Tom Brown of Minnesota, possibly the best lineman in the nation. In the closing moments of the game, Balme's block on a Minnesota player — you don't realize how much he is accomplishing."

McKasson, at center, called defensive signals for Washington and in the words of Coach Jim Owens was "a real gentleman... a real leader. He was a tremendous stabilizing influence on the youngsters."

Merlin Olsen, Utah State tackle; Joe Roim, Colorado guard; E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Dwight Burdette, Duke tackle; Al Vandenberg, Army guard; and Wayne Harris, Arkansas center, were other linemen who played with outstanding honor. Included on the All-America honorable mention are players from Michigan: End Bob Johnson; Michigan; guard Dick Syron; Michigan; center Jerry Smith; Michigan; and quarterback Jerry Gross of Detroit.

Wings Lose Game, Lead

Thompson Was Paralyzed World Speed Champ Seeking Action in '61

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—About a month ago, Mickey Thompson was told his legs might be permanently paralyzed. To a man who likes to move along the ground at 400 miles an hour, permanently losing an awfully long leg to sit still.

The terrifying prospect probably still occurs to him—while he's out walking. Thompson, the world's fastest motorist, is not only back on his feet but is flying to Salt Lake City today to line up some dates for his 1961 assault on the world land speed record. That's where he achieved the unparalleled speed of 404.9 m.p.h. in a one-way run this year.

Next year, before he takes his four-engine racer back to Bonneville, Thompson intends to tour Europe—maybe even Russia—with a couple of cars he figures could set some records over there.

What has happened to Thompson since Nov. 6 is the story of a man who helped overcome paralysis in his legs by refusing to let the paralysis spread to his heart.

On that November day, Thompson had run his two-engine speedboat down a course on Nevada's Lake Mead and was starting back up course when another boat raised a little wave in front of him.

"When I hit it," he said, "I threw my boat up in the air and when the boat came down it hit a larger wave. The boat was going up, again when I hit it coming down."

"I started to let my foot off the gas... and discovered my feet wouldn't work... I finally had to pull my foot off the gas with my hands."

Thompson was hospitalized at Boulder City with two crushed vertebrae. The back injury paralyzed him from the waist down. He was told he should spend at least three months in a plaster cast.

Seven days later he left the hospital.

"I didn't like lying in bed," he said. "I wanted to get home."

Thompson was told he shouldn't move but he left for home laid out on a mattress in the back of a station wagon. "Believe me," he said, "before I got home I thought they were right. It really hurt."

Once home, Thompson began looking for a doctor. The first he found was a chiropractor who gave him advice that he should stay in a cast three months. The fourth said, "Mickey, the voice of nature will tell you when you're ready to walk."

"You're my doctor," said Thompson. Mickey started exercising in bed. At first he could move only his toes. Soon he was moving both feet. On Nov. 18 he took two or three steps.

"It hurt real bad," he said. "But it was just a matter of going ahead and doing it. Every day the pain gets less."

By Nov. 22, Thompson was able to spend seven hours up and around, working in his shop and driving around on business.

Even before his remarkable recovery, Thompson's story was good enough to make a movie. And that is just what they're going to make of it. Screen Classics plans to start shooting early next year.

A month ago, it looked as though the final scene might be the hospital room of a man who had just been told he might be paralyzed for good.

But Thompson started to change things when he heard that and said, "You're wrong, that's all. You're wrong."

Howe Sets New Point Record in 3-2 Setback

Two Assists Produce Mark; Ex-Detroit Burns Helps Bruins

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, Detroit's quietest man, said he had nothing to celebrate about setting a National Hockey League scoring record.

His Detroit Red Wings lost 3-2 to the Boston Bruins Thursday night, and dropped out of first place, although Howe set up both of Detroit's goals and shattered the all-time scoring record set by Maurice "The Rocket" Richard.

Howe, 32, and playing his 15th NHL season, now has scored 1,093 points in regular season and Stanley Cup games. Prior to Thursday night's game, he was tied with Richard at 1,091.

"I don't have any special feelings about the record," said Howe. "It's nice, I guess. My big goal is to play 20 seasons in the NHL. For that, I'll need five more years after this one."

Howe has scored only five goals this year, but has assisted on 21 others. He sees more action than probably any other player in the league. The Wings use him to kill penalties, on power plays and Howe takes his regular turn and often an extra turn or two.

Presently he is eight or 10 pounds under his normal playing weight. A seige of flu and a throat infection have had the veteran right wing on a liquid diet for three days.

Hockey fans will argue forever about the greatest player ever to put on a pair of skates. Many favor Howe, and the loudest of his boosters is Detroit general manager Jack Adams.

"There's no denying that Richard was a great scorer," said Adams. "But common sense will tell you that Howe is the finest, most complete hockey player in the history of the game. He does all things, and does all of them better than anyone else. And the nicest thing of all is that he's the finest gentleman I've ever known."

Howe's 58-up enabled Murray Oliver to score early in the third period Thursday night. Oliver's goal matched a first period goal by Jim Bartlett and tied the score 1-1. But Don MacKenney and Charlie Burns quickly boosted Boston in front. Detroit got a goal in the final minute with one Boston player in the penalty box and Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk on the bench for an added attacker.

The Detroit loss, coupled with Montreal's 6-3 bruising triumph over Toronto, lifted the Canadiens into first place one point ahead of Detroit. Boston slipped into fifth place, sending New York to the basement.

The Canadiens overpowered the Leafs in a game that erupted into a melee in the final period. There were 17 penalties in the last 20 minutes — seven assessed at one time for a near free-for-all. Henri Richard of the Canadiens and Frank Mahovlich of the Leafs were the main combatants, but all others engaged in the fast-swirling, Richard scored two of Montreal's goals.

Michigan's Big 3 Starts Cage Play

Michigan's big three on the sports front, University of Michigan, Michigan State and U. of D., lifted all their basketball seasons tonight and tomorrow.

Michigan travels into the land of Daniel Boone to meet Vandenberg tonight and Tennessee tomorrow.

Michigan State hosts an always tough Butler University team which last night whipped Wisconsin, 73-38.

A strong U. of D. quieted better be careful in its opener Saturday night against South Dakota State which led most of the way last night before losing to Big Ten Iowa, 77-76.

Former Wolverine assistant Dave Strack begins his first season as head coach with a small inexperienced squad led by veteran John Tidwell who should continue to break all school scoring marks this season.

Tom Evland a little sophomore from Livonia will start at guard with Don Petroff, a husky 6-4 product of East Detroit going to forward.

Michigan State will also have three soph in a pre-season poll, with returns Dave Pals and Art Schwarm at guards. Ted Williams 6-7 sophomore from Stroudsburg, Pa., will start at center.

The Titans, who have been ranked 7th in a pre-season poll, might be looking ahead to their big battle with 6th ranked Utah State Monday night, when they should be concentrating on Saturday night's opener with South Dakota State.

The Dakota team, led by Don

Jacobson, led Iowa most of the way last night. Detroit will start what is considered one of the most potent front lines in college basketball with forwards Dave LeBusscher and John Morgan along with center Charles Noyes.

LeBusscher and John Morgan have been hampered with a leg injury in pre-season drills will start at guard along with Frank Chicowski.

SEC Dominates South Senior Bowl Team Set

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The Southeastern Conference dominates a 25-man South squad named today for the 12th annual Senior Bowl football game here Jan. 7.

The SEC placed 17 players on the squad, including third team All-America Ed Dye of Auburn, holder of two national collegiate field goal records.

A second team All-American, 215-pound center E. J. Holub of Texas Tech, is one of two Southwest Conference players selected. The other is Arnold Davis, all-conference from Baylor's Gator Bowl team.

Webb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts, South coach for the second year, said, "This looks like one of the best balanced squads in Senior Bowl history. I believe we can get the South back into the win column this year."

The North won last year 26-7.

Beating Colts Twice Is Lions' Big Chore

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Green Bay Packers, 23-10, Thanksgiving Day at Briggs Stadium.

Not since 1956 have the world champions lost two games to a single opponent in the same season. Detroit, along with San Francisco, turned the trick that time.

Palmer Trails in Golf Meet

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer was five strokes off the pace as the second round of the West Palm Beach Open golf tournament started today.

"I'd rather like to know what it would be like to get away in front," said Palmer after his first-round 71 Thursday.

Palmer, who set a record for his season's earnings when he won the Mobile, Ala., open last Sunday in bringing his take to $73,716, entered the current competition as the outstanding favorite, and he 71 in the first round didn't discourage his followers. Most of his victories have been from behind.

The laurels for the opening round went to George Barry, the winner from Glenageary, Ill., who is unbeatable when he is in the game, and he was on his way Thursday.

He was on his way Thursday as he carried 39-55 over the 6,745-yard, par 72 Palm Beach Country Club course to lead the field by three strokes.

By CHUCK ABRAHAM

All is in readiness for Sunday's opening round of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama tournament to be held at the beautiful new Howe's Lanes on Dixie Highway near Clarkston.

The 16-alley establishment is in its first season of operation. The spacious building has become one of the showplaces in area keg circles. Barb and Les Howe previously had an eight-alley place on the other side of US 10.

About 30 or more of Sunday's 212 contestants will go on to the finals in two weeks after the survivors of qualifying rounds at Sylvan Lanes and Monticain Centre. An actual division will be another feature of the Dec. 18 title round.

The opening field will include bowlers ranging in averages from 111 to 218. Most of the local top legions are entered because there will be a second chance to qualify for those who fall at Howe's.

Several communities will be represented besides Pontiac Sunday. They include Waterford, Dryden, Farmington, Lake Orion, Clarkston, Holly, Orchard Lake, Milford, Rochester, Davison, Oxford, Farmington and Clawson.

Former champions Dick Cork and Joe Myers will be in action hoping to bring home some more big money.

MSU Coach Tells Athletes—'Study'

High school athletes who think all they need to get them through college is 7.0 running average or 25 point shooting average may find themselves on the outside looking in.

This is in essence what Michigan State assistant coach Bert Smith told five promising young athletes, their parents and members of the Optimist Club at the annual awards luncheon yesterday at the Elks.

"At one time the first questions in recruiting used to be—'How big? How fast? How tough? How smart?'" Smith said.

"Today as a recruiter my first question is—'How smart?'" he replied.

He warned that a student can't wait until his senior year or until he gets to college to start studying. "A good student is made in high school and he starts in his freshman year," Smith said.

Smith was the guest speaker at the luncheon which is held annually to present merit awards to outstanding students for "athletic, scholarship and citizenship."

Winners of the Optimist awards this year were Dick McCauley of Pontiac Central, Jerry Minewasser of Pontiac Northern, Tim McArthur of Waterford, Rudy Yapo of St. Frederick and Bob Linsenman of St. Michaels.

The students attended the luncheon with their parents and football coaches.

Mayor Phil Rowston spoke briefly and Kline Hartman and Bob Lark made the introductions. Optimist president Bud Stark conducted the meeting.

Each boy received a certificate and his name will be inscribed on the plaque which is kept at his respective school.

Two of the biggest games of interest will be league affairs in the Suburban Catholic and Wayne-Oakland.

St. Michael is host to powerful Orchard Lake St. Mary at Madison Junior High in the SCL tussle. Strong St. Fred travels to Royal Oak to meet a big St. Mary quintet. St. Benedict starts defense of its crown vs. St. James and St. Rita is at St. Clement.

Royal Oak Shrine takes on Mt. Carmel and Farmington Over Lady of Sorrows visits Dearborn Divine Child in other Parochial division games.

West Bloomfield in last loop's feature. Bloomfield Hills is guest of Oakbrook, Chassanville and Brighton, 1959-60 co-champions, clash and Northville meets Milford. The Mustangs get right back into action Saturday against Plymouth.

Other league play is set for the Oakland B and Southern Thumb. Madison vs. Troy and Clawfoot plays at Oak Park in the "B" race. The Thumb shall have Dryden at Brown City, Armada at Anchor Bay, Capac at Memphis and Almont at New Haven.

Waterford will be among three West-Lakes' teams playing lineup tilts. The Skippers will travel to Wayne, Walled Lake entertains Rochester and Farmington is at Livonia Bentley.

Cranbrook hosts Hazel Park. Oxford is at Romeo, Emmanuel Christian goes to Country Day in a change of sites. Flint Northern is at Port Huron, Royal Oak rivals Dundero and Kimball clash and Roseville vs. Mt. Clemens in some of the other big non-loop affairs.

Others will have Warren at L'Anse Creuse, Imley City at Marlette, North Branch at home to meet Maxville, Ortonville at Goodrich, Birmingham Groves at Cherry Hill, South Lyon vs. Parma Western, Lansing Eastern at Flint Central, Saginaw Arthur Hill host to Ann Arbor, Flint Southwestern at Jackson and Midland at Bay City Central.

League Openers for St. Mike, Lakers Featured

Four Loops Will Get Under Way; Central Home Saturday

By CHUCK ABRAH

The first big prep basketball schedule of 1960-61 comes up tonight around this area with league games among the featured contests.

Pontiac Central returns to action tomorrow night entertaining Grosse Pointe. It will be the home opener for the Chiefs who won easily in the debut at Edsel Ford.

Coach Art Van Ryza will likely start the same lineup which performed well Tuesday. The unit includes Bill Pritchett, Otto Kennedy, Bob Smith, Clarence Douglas and Dick McCauley.

It will be the 2nd game in as many nights for Pontiac as the Blue Devils play at home against Dearborn tonight. Dave Veendahl, 6-2, is the lone returning starter among five lettermen. He was top scorer in a 11-4 season averaging 17 per game. Dave Miles, 6-4, Ken Stanley, 6-1, S-Brian Mumaw and Mike Miller, 6-0, may be the other starters.

Grosse Pointe shared the title with Highland Park in the Border Cities League a year ago.

First Big Upset in College Action

By The Associated Press

The college basketball season opened with an astonishing upset last night, Utah, regarded as one of the top teams in the country, took it on the chin from Los Angeles Loyola 65-44 after blowing an early 25-12 lead.

Ohio State, the NCAA champion, and Bradley, the National Invitational Tourney (NIT) winner, got off on the right foot, however, as did Cincinnati and Kentucky.

The tougher nights are coming, and Bradley found out quickly that they don't pay off on reputations. The heavily favored Braves, who beat Providence in the NIT final in New York last March, went right down to the wire before knocking off Minnesota 65-58.

All-America Jerry Lucas pumped in 29 points to lead Ohio State to an 85-64 victory over Ohio University. Ohio State won the NCAA tournament over California last March.

Cincinnati, minus the graduated All-America Oscar Robertson, mothered Indiana State 95-51, as the new Bearcats' coach, Ed Jucker, got his club away to a fast start.

Ohio State, rated a good bet to repeat as National Collegiate champion, Bradley and Cincinnati are rated among the top teams in the Midwest.

Lucas dropped in five baskets as Ohio State took a quick lead against Ohio University, and at halftime it was all over as the backcourt held a 40-28 advantage. The 6-8 junior got 16 of his 29 total in the first half.

Paul Hogue, a 6-9 beanpole, scored 17 of his 23 points in the first period for Cincinnati, and the Bearcats wound up with a 44-20 lead at the half. Jucker yanked his regulars for most of the second half.

But Bradley ran into difficulties at Minneapolis. The Braves blew an 18-point lead, but managed to pull it off in the final 65 seconds. Mack Herndon sank a 20-foot jump shot to put Bradley ahead 60-58. Herndon Anzs 6-6. Chet Walker then converted two free throws to make it certain.

With eight minutes of the game remaining, Cal Sabatini and John Griggs of Minnesota sparked the Gophers to a 54-50 lead. Walker, who wound up with 25 points for Bradley, sank two field goals and he and his mates took it from there.

Ed Berto led Loyola to its upset over Utah and 6-9 Billy (the Hill) McGill. Berto was top scorer with 30 points. McGill got 26 for the Braves.

California, minus Darrell Imhof, best the alumni 36-46.

Fielding it. Yost trophies, presented to the Chicago area's outstanding prep based on athletic and academic achievement, went to halfback Don Hogan of St. Ignace and quarterback Harold Brandt of suburban Hinsdale.

'Terrible Turk' Faces Dynamite at Armory

All "The Terrible Turk" Bey meets Johnny "Dynamite" Gates in the feature bout at the pro wrestling matches tonight at the Pontiac Armory.

A tag team match will pit Tony Ballaggon and Frenchy Villard against Crusher Cortez and Percival E. Pringle.

A no-time limit match between Louis Papineau and Fairless Shields is the other bout. Starting time is 8:30 p.m.

U. of M. Representative Favors Bowl Tie Again

CHICAGO — Marcus L. Plant, Michigan faculty representative, has spoken out strongly in favor of resuming a Big Ten conference level Rose Bowl football contract with the Big Five of the West Coast.

Plant, addressing some 300 members and guests of Chicago's University of Michigan club last night, said that he was "optimistic and hopeful something can be worked out on a Rose Bowl contract despite Minnesota's avowed stand against it."

The Big Ten's annual winter meetings open in Chicago next week and informal discussions on such a contract are expected. However, it is not on the agenda.

Plant also said that he thought most of the Big Ten's athletic directors are in favor of discarding a future football schedule that progresses to a round robin slate by 1960.

At present, schedules are frozen at the 1965-66 level of 10 games instead of 9 and include seven conference games for each school.

He said such a round robin slate would lead to provincialism and would cut off athletic relationships with traditional rivals.

Baseball Leaders Determined to Settle Feud

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Major league baseball's battle-weary brass, after a no-decision session in Louisville, arrived today hoping to establish harmony out of the chaos caused by the constantly changing expansion plan.

The trustees of the game, mindful of the public's growing suspicion and distrust, were determined to put an end to their fractious feuding and agree on sound expansion programs for both major leagues.

Presidents Joe Cronin of the American and Warren Giles of the National League are prepared to introduce at the three day session starting Monday several amendments designed to clear the way for AL expansion to 10 teams next year and the NL to 10 teams in 1962.

The amendments are aimed at modifying Rule 1 which stands in the way of the AL moving into Los Angeles, and the NL returning to New York. Rule 1 reads that unanimous approval of all major league clubs is required when a league wishes to open shop in a city occupied by another league.

Walter O'Malley, head of the Los Angeles Dodgers, thus blocked the AL's invasion of his territory.

Commissioner Ford Frick, in whose offices the amendments were drafted after 9 hours of conferences, hopes at least one will be acceptable to both leagues.

Nature of the amendments is known only to Frick, the two league presidents and their attorneys.

One thing is certain. The National League looks with disfavor upon the AL proposal for two nine-teams leagues in 1961 playing an interlocking schedule. The NL is expected to reject this plan Monday.

Also, if the AL decides to operate 10 clubs next year, the last city will be Los Angeles, not Houston or Toronto. A week-long rumor that the NL was secretly planning to move into Houston, where the NL has placed a franchise for 1962, was scotched Thursday by Frank Lane.

The general manager of the Cleveland Indians said he talked with virtually every AL club owner and not one expressed an interest in going to Houston. Thus it would appear that the recent exchange of warnings and threats by Commissioner Frick and the owners of the Houston club of the American Association were unnecessary.

Also to be tackled is the indemnity battle between the American Association and the old Washington club over the Senators' invasion of the Minneapolis-St. Paul territory.

The AA demanded $1,600,000 damages Thursday and rejected Calvin Griffith's latest offer of $500,000. The Senators' owner earlier offered $50,000 and $30,000 in settlements.

The minor leagues concluded their four day convention in Louisville Thursday, passing 15 amendments and rejecting 15. Most were of a technical nature involving obscure baseball rules.

The more important pertained to setting up machinery committing new teams in the majors to have working agreements with minor league clubs, creating a deadline for settling territorial disputes, extending the first year draft rule and putting a compromise college player rule into the books.

If the minors have their way, new major league teams, such as Houston and New York in the NL and Washington in AL, once approved by the commissioner, may enter into working agreements with minor league clubs before they start operating.

The squabble between the American Association and Griffith prompted another amendment. In the future such disputes must be settled by Nov. 30 or go before a T-amen arbitration committee.

The college rule would ban signing and tryouts of college athletes except during the summer vacation. Like almost all of the minors' other decisions, it is subject to approval by the majors at their joint meeting Dec. 7.

Air Force Plays Miami Tonight at Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Air Force Academy's Falcons and University of Miami's Hurricanes clash tonight in a football game that will end so-so seasons for both.

About 30,000 fans were expected to the Orange Bowl for the 8:15 p.m. (EST) kickoff.

They were anticipating a look at the talents of Rich Mayo, Air Force quarterback who has become one of the best passers of all time. Mayo has completed 308 passes in college play, 100 this season, and now stands eighth in that respect on perpetual record books.

The Hurricanes have competent passers in Eddie Jones and Bob Weaver and an outstanding receiver in Bill Miller.

The Falcons had a 4-5 won-loss record. Miami, 5-4, would finish with as good a record as last year if it could overcome Air Force.

Chamberlain Swishes 41 to Take Lead in NBA

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain and Elgin Baylor, the top two scorers in the National Basketball Association, are headed for their best seasons yet if they continue their current pace.

Chamberlain took over the scoring lead Thursday night from Baylor by collecting 41 points in helping the Philadelphia Warriors to a 117-114 victory over Los Angeles. Baylor, back in action after missing a game because of the flu, dumped in 28 points for the Lakers.

The 7-1 Chamberlain's 41 points ran his season's total to 788 in 21 games for a 38-point average. His average thus far is higher than last year's final tabulation, 37.6, when he racked up an NBA-record 2,707 points in 72 games in his rookie year.

Baylor, who coach Fred Schaus calls the best 6-5 man in the game, has 786 points in 22 games for a 35.7 average. This is far better than his 29.6 of last year when he scored 2,074 points in 70 games and 24.9 of his rookie season in 1958-59 when he collected 1,742 in 70 games.

Chamberlain said he felt he was shooting better from the field this year but that his poor foul shooting was hurting him. He made only 3 of 11 Thursday night.

"Every chance I get I've been practicing," he said. "If I could at least match my foul shooting of last year I'd have a higher point average."

"I'm making no predictions. It's too early to say. Anything can happen."

By winning Thursday night the second-place Warriors gained a full game on Eastern Division leader Boston. The Celtics had their nine-game winning streak snapped by New York, 116-111, in the opener of the Convention Hall doubleheader witnessed by 5,504 fans. Philadelphia is only a half game behind.

Twenty-six assists by the Warriors in the first half tied an NBA record for total assists in a half set by Sheboygan in 1950 and tied by Minneapolis last year.

Indianapolis Swimming Coach Is Dead at 43

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Johnny Galvich, 43, Indianapolis Riviera Club swimming coach, died Thursday night in Methodist Hospital. He had undergone two operations in the last week for appendicitis and a bleeding ulcer.

Riviera swimmers have won more than 400 trophies since Galvich took over eight years ago. And he groomed world record breakers Becky Cullins in the butterfly and Donna Graham in the freestyle. Donna led Riviera teams to three straight women's national long distance championships.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Pre-flight excitement and excitement prevailed today except among the principals—Gene Fullmer, NBA world middleweight champion, and ex-champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

They clash for the third time Saturday night for 15 rounds or less, with a national television audience peeping in via the ABC network.

Fight time: 7 p.m., PST. The scene: the big Sports Arena.

Fullmer, the serious, 28-year-old elder of the Mormon church from West Jordan, Utah, remains a 3-1 betting favorite over the Harlem dancing dandy, 33-year-old Sugar Ray.

Fullmer is recognized throughout most of the world as king of the 160-pounders, and Robinson will be making an unprecedented bid to win the crown for the sixth time in his amazing career.

Paul Pender of Boston is recognized as the champion in two non-NBA states, New York and Massachusetts.

Aim at Equal Job Opportunities

Big Convention for Little Folk

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Little people can handle big jobs. That's the theme of a convention that has all odds is one of the busiest in the gambling city has seen.

Bartenders, blackjack dealers and bellboys are baffled by the comings and goings of 300 men and women "two bigger in a minute," as one said.

It's the first annual convention of the National Association of Little People of America.

BUILDUP FACILITIES

Our organization includes both midsize and dwarf," said Bob Brower, 33, a Des Moines, Iowa, supermarket operator. "We prefer to be called little people."

And little they are. At 4-10, Bob is the tallest of a group that scales down to 2-11. That's hip-high to a midget man and a clean six inches above a conventional office desk. You'd never spot the littlest chap behind a waste basket, Bob's wife, Marcella, a dancer, is 4-11.

Always keeping an eye out for the house, the Hacienda Hotel built ramps and steps for its pint-size guests at the dice tables and other games of chance.

But the conventioners are used to standing on tiptoe—like in the phone booth, or at the registration desk.

The little people don't mind gaging it up. They posed with eight in a bed. They welcomed the platforms around the take-ye-money gadgets with which this gambling center abounds.

They threw themselves with vengeance into a golf tournament which featured a trophy as big as the players. A sporting goods company supplied tiny clubs just right for the folks using them—putters a foot long, drivers not much more.

But with their laughs, the delegates are serious about some things. That's why they're here.

"We want to make the big people understand that little people think the same as they do," one delegate said. "And we want to show we can do a man-sized job as well as the next fellow. There are lots of things that don't require a 6-footer's reach."

What sort of jobs do they fill? Delegates include veterinarians, commercial artists, a lawyer, an industrial engineer, salesmen, wrestlers and entertainers—among other things.

'School Accrediting Should Be by State'

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Gene D. Maybee, president of the Michigan Association of Secondary Schools, urged here Wednesday night that legislation be introduced "very quickly" to shift accrediting power from the University of Michigan to the State Department of Public Instruction.

Maybee, principal of Ann Arbor Tappan Junior High, made the comment at the opening session of the association's 47th annual meeting. He is chairman of a committee studying the transfer.

State officials have set a target year of Sept. 1, 1961, for transferring the responsibility of accrediting schools from the university to the state itself.

Dr. Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, said the chief blockade of the transfer is lack of funds which the state legislature must appropriate.

Death Claims Daughter of Late Sen. Newberry

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Carol Newberry Lord, 72, daughter of the late U. S. Sen. Truman H. Newberry, died at a hospital here Wednesday.

Mrs. Lord was born in Detroit and her husband is a former Detroit banker. They had lived in Rhode Island for the past 18 years.

Hancock Industries Sells Telecontrol

JACKSON (AP)—Sale of the Telecontrol Division of Hancock Industries, Inc., of Jackson, to a new corporation was announced Thursday.

No price was disclosed by either Hancock or the new purchasing concern, Hancock Telecontrol Corp.

Announcement of the sale came jointly from Robert W. Hancock, president of the Jackson firm, and Alan T. Christie, general partner in the investment firm of Lambert & Co.

Hancock said the new corporation was formed because of the wide acceptance of Telecontrol and the need for expansion to meet this situation.

Hancock Industries will continue here the manufacture of automotive assembly parts.

For the present the product will be manufactured by Hancock employees under contract with the new company.

Charles J. Lawson Jr., who resigned Wednesday as director of manufacturing services, International Business Machines Corp., New York, will come here as president of Telecontrol.

Hancock said the new corporation was formed because of the wide acceptance of Telecontrol

Ford Production Up 32,000 in November

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. Thursday reported its November production of passenger cars exceeded the similar month last year by 32,000 units.

Ford said it built 19,425 cars this November compared with 12,565 in November 1959. The total included 58,009 compact cars this year; 32,469 compacts a year ago.

In the first 11 months of this year Ford built 1,742,547 cars against 1,578,582 in the comparable period a year ago. The highly successful Falcon and Comet accounted for 854,900 units this year.

Last year Falcon went into production in September and totaled only 62,834 units at the end of November. The Comet was not introduced until March of this year.

Poor Child—Eight Living Grandmothers

HOWLAND, Maine (AP)—And now comes a child boasting eight living grandmothers.

In the wake of reports from all over the nation of children who have seven, the family of Stephen Worthing, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Worthing, gives this list of maternal descendants:

Two grandmothers, Mrs. Myrtle Reed and Mrs. Dorothy Worthing, of Howland; Two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Bertha McLaughlin of Old Town, Mrs. Alma Worthing of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. Evelyn Reed of Maine, Mrs. Mabel Clark, both of Howland; Two great-great-grandmothers, Mrs. Nora Drake of Old Town and Mrs. Mina Reed of Wypitlock.

Hold 5th Conference on Power Transfer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Clark Clifford, liaison man for President-Elect John F. Kennedy, conferred Thursday with Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, assistant to President Eisenhower, on the transfer of power to the Kennedy administration next month.

Clifford said their one-hour conference... their fifth meeting... was "routine."

He said he would continue to see Eisenhower's chief aide about once or twice a week on details of the transition.

"Everything is proceeding very satisfactorily," Clifford said. The two men apparently laid the groundwork for the forthcoming Kennedy-Eisenhower meeting Tuesday. As he left the White House, Clifford reminded reporters: "You will have plenty to write about next Tuesday."

It is now estimated that more than 16 million persons who have retired are drawing upwards of $10 billion a year in retirement funds of private and government plans.

Violinist Joyce Flissler, Like Van Cliburn, Had to Score in Moscow for U.S. Fame

By PHYLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — It seems a pity to comment on the perspective of the American public when, so often, our young artists must be "discovered" in other lands — particularly in Russia — before they are nationally known here.

It happened to pianist Van Cliburn in 1958. It's happening to violinist Joyce Flissler now.

Two weeks ago in Tchaikovsky Hall, Moscow, Joyce was stamped with affection—too certain calls.

And now, only now, she is being noticed here. Signed by a big concert management company, she starred on the Ed Sullivan Show this Sunday night. Admired and respected by Americans who have yet to hear her play, who three weeks ago had never heard her name.

"I'm not bitter. I like it's wonderful," she says delightedly. "It's the original Cinderella story; you go to the ball with nothing, and you come home with anything you want."

Miss Flissler is a brilliant young violinist who nine years ago graduated from Juillard School of Music. She had won the coveted Louis Moreau Gottschalk Prize. Great violinists Szigeti and Oistrakh considered her "the finest" and told her so. She dreamed, quite naturally, of a successful concert future, a recording career, possibly some choice television assignments.

But the dreams of American women violinists have little more reality than the dreams of Bowers derelicts.

SECOND TO 'GUNSMOKE'

In those nine years, Miss Flissler played two Town Hall recitals which attracted critical acclaim while the public stayed home watching "Gunsmoke."

If it had not been for the steady employment of her husband Ralph Mendelson, a violinist with the New York Philharmonic, Joyce and their two children might have starved for "everything but culture."

"Then two years ago I went to Russia," she recalls, "to play in the Tchaikovsky competition."

Well, that's where Van Cliburn took first prize. I was seventh in the violin competition — the top prize from the Western world. Here in the states, being seventh would not be much of an honor perhaps, but the Russians don't seem to care where you are placed. They call you a "laureate" of the competition. What a lovely word!"

So Joyce, who is tall and slim and attractive, was urged to make a concert tour in Russia. She couldn't. Plain homesick for her family.

When she saw the acclaim awarded Cliburn after his "triumphal return," Joyce decided she'd go back one day. Obviously the Russians, without knowing it, are wondrous press agents for American artists.

So this year, when the Moscow Ministry of Culture urged her to come back and tour, Joyce did. She paid her own way over; they paid her way back. And she won them, as good American talent usually does. They made her play seven encores. The ovation after her concert lasted nearly an hour.

"It cost me money to make that trip," she concludes, "but it paid me very well — in caviar and I hope, a new career."

Joyce doesn't understand why, exactly, American audiences need to be "told, by Europeans or Russians," that one of their own artists is worthwhile. But she supposes it is because our country is young, and doesn't quite trust its judgment, whereas older nations have centuries of experience in criticizing and appreciating the arts.

"In Russia music is a part of everybody's life. It's an escape. They lead such comparatively drab lives."

She laughed, recalling "a little Russian woman came backstage to see me. She didn't mention my violin. She said, 'I'll never forget the sea-green gown you wore when you were here, before and the silver slippers. I'll never forget.'"

"I think, really, they appreciate beauty in any form. And we are so spoiled because here, beauty is everywhere."

Joyce says Premier Khrushchev, when he met her, "You see, when we have culture, we don't need governments."

She laughed. "Much as I love music," Joyce said, "I think that was going too far. I'm glad to be home."

Solve Formosa, Says Acheson

Believes U.S. Should Consider Island Problem Before Red China

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson said Wednesday night the United States should solve the problem of Formosa before deciding whether to recognize Red China.

He told the Kansas City lawyers association that Formosa should be recognized as a self-contained country and Gen. Chiang Kai-shek should "no longer be recognized as the government of Red China — which he is not."

He proposed that this country suggest to Chiang Kai-shek that he reduce his Nationalist Army to a consolidated force capable of repelling a parachute attack.

"Then we can say to Formosa in a treaty that we definitely will protect you," he said.

Acheson, who headed the state department in 1949-53, said that when you solve the Formosa problem you could either recognize or not recognize Red China.

He said he expected that Red China would be admitted to the United Nations in a few years.

He said the cost to the American budget annually of supporting the Chinese Nationalists is one third of the budget of the State of New York.

On the relationship between China and Russia, Acheson said there are reports of the two having arguments and some say that they will fight each other instead of the West.

"This is poppycock," he said. "In truth, the arguments may not equal the differences we have with our own allies."

Car Output Way Up Over Week in 1959

DETROIT (UPI) — Car production in the United States this week estimated by Automotive News at 141,000 units, a 26.9 per cent increase over last week's holiday-curtailed production.

Production for the same week last year was 55,525 units. The trade paper said compacts would account for 33.3 per cent of this week's output.

Truck production for this week was estimated at 21,819 units, compared with 17,077 last week and 11,891 in the same week a year ago.

Canadian automakers will turn out an estimated 7,710 cars and 1,186 trucks this week, compared with 7,049 cars and 1,045 trucks last week, Automotive News said.

Waterford Twp. Seeks Applicants for Police Force

Applications are being taken for probationary patrolmen at the Waterford Township police station on 1879 near Crescent Lake Road, according to Police Chief Millard J. Pender.

Prospective policemen must be between 21 and 30 years of age, not less than 5 feet 10 and not taller than 6 feet 4.

He must have graduated from high school. Residents of Waterford Township will have first preference, Pender said.

There are two openings in the police department after Township Board action authorizing the hiring of five additional police officers.

Solon Is Given Freedom Award by Journalists

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rep. John H. Moss, D-Calif., received a Sigma Delta Chi "Freedom Award" Thursday for his efforts toward greater press information from the federal government.

The award was made to Moss at the opening session of the 41st annual convention of the professional journalistic fraternity by V. M. Winters Jr., managing editor of the Tampa Tribune and president of SDX.

Newton cited Moss' leadership in "reclaiming free American government from the bureaucrats" and eliminating the "arrogant federal bureaucracy" in the matter of information of government.

Newton reported that the Moss congressional subcommittee is currently reading a public records bill for the 1961 session which would open records of federal expenditures of tax funds to the public.

Dr. Hannah Tells Rotarians:

Reds Copy Our School Setup

By MAX E. SIMON

Critics of America's educational system, increasingly vocal since Russia's early space successes, should look at "the other side of the coin," Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, said yesterday.

"The Soviet Union has copied our system of universal education to a great degree — and copied it effectively," Dr. Hannah said.

"But by doing this, the Communist leaders may be sowing the seeds of their own destruction."

Guest speaker at a joint meeting of Pontiac, Farmdale and Auburn Heights Rotary Clubs at the Elks Temple, Dr. Hannah spoke on "Education on the International Scene."

"Russia's rulers will find it increasingly difficult to maintain a completely contained society where the opportunity exists for students to have contacts with the rest of the world," Dr. Hannah said.

Although students in Russia are arbitrarily told what to study, their curiosity is aroused as to the world outside of the Iron Curtain, he said.

"A brilliant young nuclear physicist, for example, reads articles printed in Western scientific journals. He will want to know more about societies other than his own. His interest will spread," Dr. Hannah said.

Whether the uncommitted peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America swing toward the West or Russia must not be decided on a military battlefield, he warned.

URGES EDUCATION
"Even should the United States win an all-out war, conditions at that time might have the spread of a Communist system," he said.

"The university president urged an all-out war, conditions at that time might have the spread of a Communist system," he said.

"Education moves slowly — but it's the only way to move effectively," he said. "We must spread our knowledge of roads, sanitation, health and agriculture."

FOR THE MILITARY

Dr. Hannah called for more funds for technical assistance projects such as Point Four.

"Although $72 billion has been spent in foreign aid funds since the end of World War II, most of it has been for military aid."

"Never has more than $10 million yearly been spent on technical assistance programs," he said.

He proudly noted that MSU has undertaken international projects in eight countries, more than any other university in the United States.

"When the history of MSU is written 100 years from now," Dr.

Hannah said, "perhaps the greatest contribution of the university today will turn out to be helping other countries to help themselves."

Dr. Hannah referred to a leader as "someone who gets in front of a crowd and leads them in the direction they are going."

The peoples of the underdeveloped nations are aware of the higher standards of living in countries other than their own," Dr. Hannah said.

"The question is who will be the leader and get credit — Moscow or Washington."

Captain's Wife Ashore; Freighter's the Problem

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — With his pregnant wife safely on shore, the captain of a battered and leaking freighter grounded on an island in Lake Michigan today considered how to free the ship without harm to it, its cargo or its 12-man crew.

Anastasi Trivizas, 29, of Athens, Greece, was taken from the storm-beaten Francisco Morazan Thursday by a boarding party from the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw.

The plucky woman who is expecting a child in seven months had been on the ship since it grounded on a rock ledge off South Manitou Island in upper Lake Michigan Tuesday night.

She did not want to leave the ship and her husband, Capt. Eduardo Trivizas, 26, but did so at her husband's request when she complained of pain.

"I'd rather be on the ship. That's where I left my husband. I felt too awful, but he insisted," she said, adding: "Two days we were pounding on the sea."

Adenauer Has Cold, Cancels Visit to Paris

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, suffering from a bad cold, today canceled a trip to Paris this Sunday for a conference with President Charles de Gaulle.

The 64-year-old chancellor has been away from his office for five days because of the cold, but the spokesman said his condition is satisfactory and he no longer has any fever.

perks said possibilities included unloading the Morazan's 900-ton cargo to allow temporary hull repairs from within. Another method would be to pull the 246-foot Liberian registry vessel free and tow it to drydock.

Trivizas has requested a diver to examine hull damage before being pulled clear. The ship's forward hold and two sections of double bottom are flooded.

The master said 12 men crew remain aboard.

Stocks Strain, Edge Higher

NEW YORK (U) — Stock market prices worked their way higher, with some difficulty, early this afternoon.

Gains were mostly fractional, except for some more speculative issues spurring 2 or more points, and there were many losers spread through the list too. Trading moved at a fairly fast rate.

Brokers cautiously noted that the market rallied Thursday from just above the 500 level with no viable business news to cause an upswing, thus indicating the recovery was largely technical.

Business news today only stemmed the economic gloom, with business inventories declining for the fourth straight month in October and department store sales lower last week.

Tax-loss selling again was frequently mentioned as a healthy background factor.

Selective issues made healthy gains amid the over-all uncertainty. Borden raced almost 1 1/2, as top of Thursday's gains, while Polaroid was up more than 2 and recently split Check Full 3/4 over more than 1.

Chrysler also was a feature, holding a gain of better than 1/4 after recovery from its recent doldrums.

American Motors edged slowly ahead after opening 1/4 lower on a heavy tick of 30,000 shares. General Motors steadied after Thursday's 1950 low.

The tour is being made available by this paper as a public service.
Its cost: $985 per person.

Christmas Shopping Easy If You Have Gifts in Mind

By JANET ODEHL

You simply must get the Christmas package off to your sister's family in California this weekend. The stores are loaded with fresh merchandise and are open tonight.

If your sister always complains that her earrings hurt, get her a pair of featherweight ones. Made by a Danish craftsman, they're a black plastic that looks like wood, inlaid with stainless steel designs. There are pins to match.

Your brother-in-law won't say "Oh, a tie," in a disappointed tone if you send him one of the new imported Indian ties. They are crash-proof and come in the most gorgeous assortment of stripes you ever saw. They have the modern squared ends.

Now for the twin cousins. We saw a box containing a number of games like bridge, checkers and the like. It should keep even active boys busy for a few hours on Christmas Day—and for several days afterwards.

Little Linda will feel so grouchy if you send her a box that contains hand lotion, soap and cologne. All have a picture of Little Linda on them.

A gift for the whole family can be a box of plastic place mats, each with a grace printed on it.

Don't forget the dog. Send the poodle a collar set with rhinestones and a bell. The rhinestones will be in the best-dressed dog in town.

Tuck in a pair of fragrant bayberry candles to burn on Christmas night. Tie up the box in the prettiest paper you have. Wrap it well and send it on its way. We'll talk about gifts for the folks who live nearby later.

Skies Cloudy, but Warmer on Saturday

Temperatures for the next five days will average 3 to 6 degrees above the normal high of 38 and normal low of 25, the weatherman says.

Tonight's low will be near 30.

Saturday will be partly cloudy and warmer, the high rising to 44. Temperatures will be a little warmer over the weekend with only minor day-to-day changes forecast.

Precipitation will total three to five-tenths of an inch in showers Monday, and rain late Tuesday and Wednesday.

Morning westerly to southwesterly winds at 10-15 miles per hour will become southerly to southwesterly at 12-25 miles tonight and tomorrow.

Twenty-two was the lowest thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 5 a.m. At 1 p.m. the mercury had climbed to 33.

Gov. Williams to Call Special Tax Session

Checking Possibility of
Dec. 8 Date to Raise
Levy From 3 to 4 Cents

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams announced today he will call the legislature into special session "some time next week" to raise the state sales tax from three to four cents.

Williams, back from a flying trip to Washington, D.C., where he accepted an appointment to President-Elect Kennedy's administration team, said he would decide later today on a specific date for the session.

"Assurances I've had from leaders of the legislature convinced me that there should be no trouble in having a one-day session to accomplish the will of the people in voting a one-cent increase in the sales tax," he told a news conference.

Before setting a date, Williams said he wanted to find out what other arrangements had been made previously for use of legislative chambers. The Michigan I-Y organization, meeting here in convention Dec. 8-10, plans to use them for a mock legislative session.

Leaders of both parties agreed Thursday on the need for a special legislative session and recommended Dec. 8 as the most feasible date.

Williams said the special call would include only the matter of boosting the sales tax. Any other items on the agenda will be included only by general bipartisan agreement, he said.

Meeting Thursday to discuss the special session were Senate majority leader Frank D. Beattie, Jr., Sen. Clair; House speaker Dan M. Yeary; R-Buchanan, Democratic floor leader Joseph J. Rosendale; D-Detroit; and Gov-Elect John B. Swainson.

Williams had agreed to the special session with the qualification that the meeting not be turned into "a debating society." It was hoped the session would be limited to one or two days.

'Let's Chat for Awhile'

Rockefeller, Nixon to Work Together During Dem Years

WASHINGTON (UPI)—New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller said today that he and Vice President Richard M. Nixon would work closely together to make the Republican party "a constructive minority force" while the Kennedy administration is in office.

Rockefeller made the statement following an hour-and-a-half breakfast conference with Nixon in his office at the Capitol. It was their first meeting since the election.

Rockefeller said he and Nixon "recognize the magnitude of the problems—both national and international—which this country faces" and plan to keep in touch with each other on these matters. Rockefeller strongly denied that he was engaged in any sort of power struggle with Nixon for leadership of the Republican party.

Dick is obviously the titular leader of the party because he was the last person to be nominated by the Republican National Convention," he said.

One reporter told Rockefeller he had been described as "a cloud on the horizon of Richard Nixon." Rockefeller smilingly commented, "Well, that's a poetic thought we could let pass over the horizon."

HEAD OF PARTY

During his talk with newsmen, Rockefeller also referred to Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky as "head of the party" in his capacity as Republican national chairman.

He said he thought Morton should continue in the post because he has done an "outstanding job" and "has shown the capacity to work with all elements of the party."

Rockefeller said that he and Nixon discussed Republican organizational matters and "my desire to work closely together." He said the conversation concerned "the future" and the role which the GOP would play when the Kennedy administration takes office in January.

Rockefeller said he couldn't agree with Morton's description that the Nov. 8 election was "national disgrace" because of alleged voting irregularities in some areas.

"Frankly," he said, "I don't know enough about the details of the charges."

The governor declined after a meeting with President Eisenhower Thursday to agree that Nixon was the "natural" choice for the Republican presidential nomination four years from now. By implication, Rockefeller did not rule out his own chances of capturing the nomination.

Rockefeller said the GOP should depend on "collective leadership" to build its strength for the 1964 presidential contest. He acknowledged that Nixon was the GOP's titular leader for the time being, but said the party does not have an "actual" head when it does not control the presidency.

Eisenhower endorsed the title role for the vice president at White House dinner Thursday night attended by Rockefeller and Nixon. The President made a similar endorsement at another White House banquet Wednesday night and promised his all-out support to Nixon during the next four years.

After his hour-long talk with Eisenhower, Rockefeller promised to cooperate with Nixon "in whatever way possible."

East, West Germany
Talk New Trade Pact

BERLIN (AP)—Negotiators from East and West Germany get together today to discuss a new trade pact.

West Germany gave notice nine weeks ago it was ending its trade agreement with East Germany on Dec. 31 in reprisal for Communist interference with traffic to and within Berlin.

The chief negotiator for the West, Kurt Leopold, will meet officials of the East German Trade Ministry in what is expected to be the first of a series of talks.

Leopold got the go-ahead from the Bonn cabinet Wednesday. Both sides appear eager to restore the agreement. It is an important factor in keeping together the two parts of the country.

Monkeys Shine Making Monkeys of the Police

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—It's cold in Sweden these days but two monkeys from the tropics are having a barrel of fun making monkeys out of the police. Zoo manager K. Curry-Lindahl said they are roving through a residential area and "people phone us when they have seen them, but when we arrive at the spot—the monkeys are gone."

Economist Bell Named to Vital Cabinet Post

Joins Williams and Ridicoff on Kennedy's
Top-Level Staff

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-Elect John F. Kennedy today announced his selection of David E. Bell, professor of economics at Harvard, as his budget director.

Kennedy made the announcement from the doorway of his Georgetown home to newsmen standing on the sidewalk in near-freezing weather.

Bell, 41, secretary of Harvard Littauer Center for Public Administration, stood by Kennedy's side as he made the announcement.

The first job for Bell, who served as an administrative assistant in the administration of President Harry S. Truman, will be to serve as liaison officer for the incoming Kennedy administration in discussions with Eisenhower's budget director, Maurice E. Stans.

After that he will have to start tailoring Eisenhower budget recommendations to the Kennedy pattern.

The post to which Kennedy appointed Bell is a key one in any administration.

The selection of Bell is the third top-level assignment made by Kennedy outside of his immediate White House staff.

He had told Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan for assistant secretary of State for African affairs, and later named Connecticut's Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff to be secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Kennedy said Bell will start work next week at the Budget Bureau if agreeable to President Eisenhower, but in any event will start his tasks at the beginning of the week.

Kennedy said Mike Folsom, a member of his Senate office staff, will serve as an assistant to Bell until the start of the Kennedy administration, then shift over to become a member of the White House staff.

Kennedy and Bell had never met until they conferred at length Wednesday evening. Bell had been highly recommended by Truman administration officials.

Bell, 6 feet 4, is a native of California and was graduated from Pomona College there. Later he received his master's degree in economics at Harvard and then won a one-year fellowship at the Littauer Center.

In reply to questions, Kennedy said he does not intend to raise the Budget Bureau to Cabinet status.

Bell's salary will be $22,500 a year.

Pope Receives Anglican Bishop

See Meeting as First Step Toward Greater
Christian Unity

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today received the Archbishop of Canterbury in an hour-long meeting, the first in history between a pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church and a primate of the Church of England. After the meeting, both the Vatican and the Church of England released carefully worded communiques.

That issued for the archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, said Pope John expressed his great desire to increase "fraternal feelings" among all men, and especially among all Christians.

Both communiques stressed the cordiality of the meeting. The 79-year-old pontiff met the 75-year-old archbishop on the threshold of his private library, where the meeting was held.

It was the first time since the Reformation that a supreme pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church and a primate of the Church of England had met.

Both have spoken out recently for Christian unity in the world in the face of the Communist threat.

Car Output Doubles 1959

DETROIT (AP)—November automobile production more than doubled from a year ago and came exceedingly close to original estimates, company reports show.

The five auto makers reported total production of 597,116 passenger cars in the month ended Thursday. This compared with only 254,528 in November 1959, when the giant General Motors facilities were almost 100 per cent shut down because of steel shortages.

Original estimates called for about 600,000 cars to be built this month. This figure was cut back sharply as the inventory of unsold new cars mounted.

But several makes, notably Chevrolet, boosted schedules in the final half of the month, and the total seemed back near the 600,000 mark.

Production through the first 11 months of the year totaled 6,172,975 cars, more than one million ahead of a year ago.

First Trip Nearly Flawless

Inaugural Flight Opens Service

PONTIAC TO MINNEAPOLIS — Arthur E. Mueller (right), chairman of North Central Airlines, shakes hands with Mayor Philip E. Rowan after accepting a painting of Chief Pontiac, the city's namesake, at ceremonies inaugurating

North Central service at Pontiac Municipal Airport yesterday. The painting was a gift from Pontiac Motor Division and will be exhibited at the airlines' headquarters in Minneapolis.

By FITE LOCHLEER
North Central Airlines' daily hop from Detroit to Pontiac to South St. Marie was back on schedule today, after an inaugural flight that went smoothly in every way except time.

Ceremonies along the northbound course yesterday delayed the arrival of the 44-passenger Convair at the Soo 1½ hours. The return to Pontiac was just as late, the big plane swinging in at 7:45 p.m. on its way back to Willow Run.

More than 50 persons cheered the morning arrival. The silver and white twin-engine transport was all ready 14 minutes late when it set down at Pontiac Municipal Airport at 10:20 a.m. for the first ceremony.

Two dozen persons braved the cold last night to watch the return flight come in.

Other crowds greeted the inaugural flight at Bishop Field, Flint; Tri-City Airport near Bay City; Midland and Saginaw; and Phoenix Collins Airport outside of Alpena.

North Central officials who made the inaugural flight were gratified by the public reception and promised added service if there is demand for it.

At present the one northbound daily flight is scheduled to leave Pontiac at 10:12 a.m., arriving at Flint at 10:27 a.m., Tri-City 10:33 a.m., Alpena 11:40 a.m., Pellston, 12:15 p.m., and Keshenewick Air Force Base near the Soo at 12:45 p.m.

The return trip leaves the Soo at 3:45 p.m. and hits Pontiac at 6:18 p.m. The trip between Flint and Saginaw and Pontiac takes about 15 minutes.

Through rapid expansion the past six years, North Central has become the nation's biggest local

Goodfellows Grants $160,000 on Streets Saturday

Waterford Township Goodfellows expect to sell 3,000 copies of The Pontiac Press when they have their annual drive from dawn until dark Saturday, according to Fire Captain Clayton Sconce, Goodfellows president.

More than 100 businessmen, civic service club members and other volunteers will meet at 8 a.m. at the Goodfellows' headquarters, 4200 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains.

They will be stationed at every major intersection in the township whether it rains, shines or snows, to collect funds to help the needy at Christmas, Sconce said.

All day there will be a big pot of stew cooking in the back room of the store headquarters with hot bottles and rolls supplied by Howland Wheeler for the volunteers.

They hope to sell 1,000 more papers this year than last as the cost of ready-made food baskets increased. Last year's sales netted some $2,000 for 130 families and this year's goal has been set at $3,000.

The township Goodfellows assume the responsibility of putting the food baskets together, with donations collected from the Boy and Girl Scouts.

Car Output Doubles 1959 for December

The gains in compact car production more than exceeded the overall production gains. Compact cars jumped from 630,427 units in the first 11 months of 1959 to 1,776,513 this year.

Last year at this time five compact makes were in production. This year only three are in production. November production of compact models totalled 191,192 compared with 90,996 a year ago.

In November, General Motors accounted for 52.6 per cent of all compact cars. Ford took 21.5 per cent, Chrysler 17.7 per cent, American Motors 6.7 per cent and Studebaker - Packard 1.5 per cent.

Total production for the month dropped about 20,000 from October. Compact car output was about 9,800 less.

All the companies except Studebaker - Packard bettered their year-ago figures for November and all except Studebaker - Packard showed a year-to-date 1959 production.

In the race for production honors among the compacts this year, Ford leads with a slight lead over Rambler, with Corvair a distant third.

Valiant is fourth followed by Comet, Lark, Lancer, Olds F35, Buick Special and Pontiac Tempra. The last five have been in production only in the 1961 model year.

Arrest Fugitive Suspected of Holding Oxford Couple

Fugitive Donald Merritt, 31, who has been identified by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tate of Oxford Township as the gunman who held them prisoners in their home last month, was arrested by Pontiac state police early this morning.

Trooper Marvin Anderson said today Merritt had admitted breaking into the Tate home at 2730 Drayton Road Nov. 17 while the middle-aged couple was away but that the accused would supply no further details. He is charged with robbery armed.

Anderson and his partner Trooper Gary Powell were on routine patrol in Springfield Township when they spotted Merritt driving a car reported as stolen.

The fugitive offered no resistance when he was pulled over. However, he was armed with a .22-caliber automatic believed to be the weapon used to threaten Mr. and Mrs. Tate.

Merritt admitted stealing the car at Kalamazoo, and two others before, one at Grand Rapids and the other at Durand, officers said. He said he had been living in the cars since being sought by law enforcement. He had $22 in his pocket when apprehended.

Tate said Merritt took 78 cents from him at gunpoint the night he surprised them in their home when they returned from visiting their daughter. He held them prisoners for almost an hour before leaving.

The Day in Birmingham

Dec. 11 Yule Vesper Rites Set by Congregationalists

BIRMINGHAM — The Church School Department of the Congregational Church will present a Christmas vesper service Dec. 11 at 8 p.m.

This service, built around the traditional hanging of the greens, was written by the Rev. Kenneth E. Bishop and first used in the church of which he is minister, St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Woodstock, Va.

The service will feature the hanging of the Christmas greens, with appropriate commentary as to their symbolism and place in the Christmas church.

As members of the Junior high and junior departments present and hang the greens, readers, selected from the senior high department will interpret their meanings.

The climax of the service will be the placing of the Christmas wreath on the communion table, as St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, Woodstock, Va.

Children from the kindergarten and primary departments will present the Nativity figures as the readers tell the Christmas story, recorded in the gospels according to St. Luke and St. Matthew.

During the presentation of the creche figures the younger children will sing the traditional carols "The Friendly Beasts," "Away in a Manger," and "We Three Kings."

Acolytes, using a large candle symbolizing Christ, will light the many candles placed throughout the sanctuary to conclude the service.

The Birmingham Women's Club annual Christmas tea will be held 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Community House.

The Madrigal Singers will present a half-hour of 15th century carols and folk songs ending with spirituals and French carols. Directing the choir will be Mrs. Harriet L. Walker.

Mrs. Clifford Bunch assisted by Mrs. Nettie Morfitt will present a musical Christmas program for organ and piano.

Mrs. Robert Baker is program chairman. The tea is open to the public.

Mrs. William T. McElmrum, Service for Mrs. William (Ethel) T. McElmrum, 86, of 343 Federal Ave., will be 3 p.m. Monday at the Manly Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkeley.

Mrs. McElmrum died today after a long illness.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. C. J. Burkman and Mrs. Mary W. Johnston, both of Birmingham, and Mrs. C. D. Hohl of Calumet; and two brothers.

Asks State's Top Republicans to Quit

COLDWATER (AP)—Sen. John P. Simeolowski, R-Coldwater, today called on state Republican leaders to resign.

The Coldwater senator said failure of Republicans to make any gains in the November election showed the party could not continue its program of negative "neo-fascism."

Simeolowski said Republican National Committeemen John E. Martin should quit now and State Chairman Lawrence R. Linderman should not run again when he comes up for re-election in February.

Simeolowski ran against Linderman in a try for the party state chairmanship last spring but was badly defeated. He indicated he would run again.

Waiter Can't Tea What the Fellow Wants

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The quickest way to get arrested in America is to insist on a proper cup of tea.

The man you ask is likely to doubt your order.

"Coffee, did you say, sir?"

"No, I said tea."

"Yes, sir."

"Lemon?"

"No, sir, I have been among tea drinkers everywhere in the world. Always they are asked whether they would have lemon. Those I have thought most responsible to the further obligations of an obligated minkling uniformly said no."

"Yes, sir, cream?"

"Well, are you out of milk?"

"Oh, no, sir."

"Well, I'd like to have milk."

"Milk, sir? Milk it is."

Now, LATER: NEITHER

Nothing seems to unhinge the giant efficiency of America further and faster than to ask a waiter to bring you a cup of properly prepared tea—for that matter a glass of milk.

Here is another approach: "Did you say coffee now or later?" "No, I did not say coffee now or later, nor did I say coffee now or later."

"What I really would like is either a cold glass of fresh milk."

"No coffee! We may be quaint."

Now when the day and the meal are both relatively young. Or later, as a consolation for all time's sorrow, an honest cup of hot tea.

Two Texas Students Indicted in Bombing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A Travis County grand jury Thursday indicted two University of Texas students in a bombing that disrupted a student integration meeting.

William Harvey McKnight, 20, Kerrville, Tex., and John Hunter Winborn, 18, Dallas, were charged with "injury to property belonging to another." The charge is a felony.

A meeting of 20 students, including eight Negroes, was started Tuesday night when the bomb struck a window at the university YMCA and fell into a basement stairwell.

No one was injured, although police said the bomb could have killed several if it had gone through the window.

Blast Hurts 25 at Movie

MOSTAGANEM, Algeria (AP)—A grenade exploded Thursday just inside the doors of a movie house here, wounding at least 25 persons, some of them seriously. Reports said that as the crowd left the theater a rebel tossed the grenade into the jammed corridor leading from the balcony.

Busy Executive Trains Shoplifters—and It's Legal

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—With the Christmas season approaching, John Drane is one of the busiest men in town. He is training shoplifters.

Drane is general manager of Retail Sales Audit Systems, Ltd., which helps retailers cut their losses because of shoplifting and inefficiency.

When losses from shoplifting are running high he calls for volunteers from his staff, trains them and sends them to the store to test its defenses.

AMC to Repurchase Old Hudson Plant

DETROIT (AP)—George Romney, American Motors president, announced Thursday the company is repurchasing the old Hudson Motor Car Co. plant in Detroit and will finance the remainder of its demolition. The deal is to be closed next month.

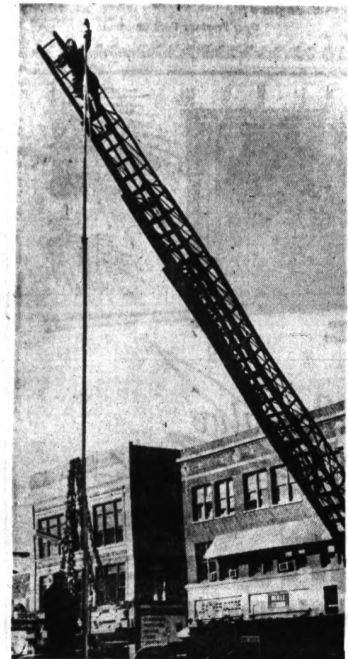

American Motors was formed from the merger of Nash-Kelvinator and Hudson.

AMC sold the property two years ago to Jefferson-Canner Shopping Center, Inc. The new group planned a shopping center there, but demolition of old buildings proved difficult.

The city of Detroit filed a suit last September to compel AMC the shopping group and a wrecking firm to complete the razing. It charged the property created a hazard.

Soviets Remember Mark

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has issued a special stamp commemorating the 125th anniversary of the birth of Mark Twain.

HIGH LEVEL PROBLEM—Firemen, who are called on to rescue all sorts of things, are rescuing the American flag here. Winds snapped the ropes on the flagpole in front of the courthouse so downtown firemen wheeled their aerial ladder over to put a new rope up. The flag flew securely thereafter.

GOP Challenged to Submit Vote Fraud Issue to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Democratic national chairman, today challenged the Republicans to submit to the Senate investigation their charges of vote fraud in the presidential election.

Republican Chairman Thurston B. Morton announced Thursday the formation of a national recount and fair elections committee to check unofficially "on every suspicious state."

Jackson told reporters the Senate Privileges and Elections subcommittee, created to handle election contests, has received not a single Republican request to investigate the election in any state. This, he said, showed "their aim is not to prove their allegations" that fraud figured in the apparent election of Democrat John F. Kennedy as president.

SEN. EDWARD KENNEDY holds a slim popular vote edge over Republican Vice President Richard M. Nixon but has an Electoral College margin of 300 to 223, with 14 unpledged right to assume the presidency with the hope of using this in campaign material in future years.

Morton said he himself will head the special Republican committee formed, he said, to expose to the public what he called "shocking irregularities and fraud in this election which constitute a national disgrace."

But he conceded under questioning that he has little hope of upsetting the Democratic victory.

5-Cent Park Meter Fading Into Past

CHICAGO (UPI)—The five-cent parking meter, like the five-cent cigar, is becoming a thing of the past.

The American Municipal Association reported that of 48 large cities surveyed by the San Francisco Parking Authority, 38 charged 10 cents an hour, or more, in at least some areas. Four charged 10 cents hourly for all meters. Five charged 20 cents an hour for some.

All the blood in the human body passes through the heart about every two and one-half minutes.

Complain State Experimental Flying Stymied

LANSING (AP)—Michigan experimental airplane builders have applied to the State Aeronautics Board for some help in improving their status in the aeronautics world.

Arthur Dawe and James Miller, president and secretary of the Detroit Area Chapter of the Experimental Aircraft Association Thursday brought the group's complaints to their commission.

Members who build their own planes are finding it increasingly difficult, they said, to find places to take off from and land.

craft are inspected by the Federal Aviation Agency before they are flown.

They suggested that the commission study plans to develop landing strips on roads that have been cut off by expressway development or on the highway department's surplus property.

In spite of problems with air regulations and the question of ownership of property, the commission agreed to take the proposal under study.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

after another. ed Castroism, feeding on poverty, violence and anti-Yankeeism, carries the seeds of political disaster in international relations.

The Argentine uprisings have been laid to backers of deposed dictator Juan D. Peron. But it is highly likely that considerable Communist influence also was involved.

In Venezuela, President Romulo Betancourt's troubles are not over. The country has the biggest, strongest and most free-wheeling Communist party in the entire hemisphere. In addition there is rising agitation, by agents from Cuba's Fidel Castro, supported and used by the Communists and by assorted opportunists.

In either case, success for the rebel movements would add up to calamity for U.S. policy and would herald even more calamity.

President Arturo Frondizi of Argentina has few illusions about what he is up against. He has said that Communist agents in Argentina have been infiltrating Peronist ranks and in a number of cases have successfully made alliances with the Peronists. The exiled Peron has denied it, but it is increasingly clear his supporters at home are being lured both by the Cuban Fidelists and the Communists.

FEARED STABILITY

After Peron was deposed in 1955 the new government legalized all political parties, including the Communists. But a little over two years ago the Communists apparently feared the nation was headed toward stability, which would undermine their cause. They deserted their lip service to the Frondizi regime and turned to instigating rebellion, provoking political strikes and carrying out acts of terror and sabotage.

The Communist head could be detected in the early 1959 attempt to overthrow Frondizi by means of political strikes. The government then prohibited Communist activity and closed down the party's offices and publications.

But Castro's rise in Cuba gave new impetus to anti-Yankeeism and new aid to Communists all over the hemisphere. There is no question any more about the activities of selected Castro agents from Cuba throughout Latin America. In cooperation with other conspiratorial groups, including the Communists, they are bent on creating turmoil and producing an atmosphere in which Moscow-oriented demagogues can take over.

One great failure of the United States in Cuba's case was lack of precise knowledge of what the Cuban revolution was all about, and lack of familiarity with its leaders' background. This could happen again and again in Latin America.

One suggestion for insuring against similar future failures comes from J. Peter Grace, president of W. R. Grace & Co. of New York. In a speech he proposed that the Kennedy administration create a Cabinet post for a secretary for Western Hemisphere affairs. This, he said, would show U.S. intentions to maintain

"special interest and mutual relationship with Latin America" transcending interest in any other part of the world.

As a means of combating the suggestion likely will receive careful consideration.

Answer Door by Telephone, Latest Service

LANSING (AP) — A new telephone service allowing you to answer the door by picking up the phone has been authorized by the State Public Service Commission.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. received approval of the new home interphone service.

Buttons on the home phones and a loud speaker system will allow intercommunication between each telephone in the household. This will permit talking without holding the phone, save executive business offices.

The door answering service is possible through a loud speaker outside the door.

The charge will be $25 for installation and $6 a month for three inside interphones and one door phone. Extra phones will cost $1 each a month and interphones 75 cents each.

The plant from which pepper comes is a climbing vine native to the Indo-Malayan region. It is unrelated to either sweet or hot show U.S. intentions to maintain garden peppers.

Abby Aids Disturbed Wife His One Fault Drives Her Wild

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband hasn't used my first name for 13 years. He calls me "Mama." It's a good problem, a good father to the children, doesn't drink or go out on me, but this one fault is getting me down.

He calls me "Mama" all the time. Even in front of company. I feel more like a mother to him than a wife. I've tried to tell him, but it doesn't help. Please let me know how I can handle this, as it is beginning to affect our marriage.

DEAR "MAMA": It's easier to change your attitude than to change your husband's habits. There's nothing wrong with being called "Mama." It's a "title" that outcasts Darling, Sweetheart . . . or even your first name. It's his way of telling you that a wonderful "Mama" you are to his children. Enjoy it, and call him "Daddy."

DEAR ABBY: For a 16-year-old girl this is going to sound pretty stupid, but here's my problem. I had a girl friend sleep over, and just for the fun of it I started to make a list of all the boys I necked with. I went way back to when I was 13 and included everybody, even the guys I kissed only in games. (I almost ran out of paper.) Well, we laughed and joked about it, but here's the part that worries me. She took the list home with her and I am afraid she is going to show it around.

I asked her for it, and she said she didn't have it any more. I think she's keeping it. How can I get it back?

DEAR ALL: Forget it. It's ancient history. But don't make that mistake again. What was, was!

DEAR ABBY: Please do a humane service and put something in your column about these inconsiderate women who perfume themselves up as heavily that everyone in the office practically chokes when they come in. I want to cut it out and post it on my bulletin board.

CAN'T BREATHE ANY MORE

DEAR CAN'T BREATHE: Here it is. Get the scissors and cut it out, and let's hope the heavily perfumed co-worker will also cut it out.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. L. In order for your son to "carry" your present husband's last name, he will have to go through a legal adoption procedure. Talk to a lawyer.

Getting married? For Abby's new pamphlet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50c to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

If you want a personal reply from Abby, write to her in care of this paper. She answers ALL letters.

Captain's Wife Ashore; Freighter's the Problem

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP)—day by a boarding party from the Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw.

The plucky woman who is expecting a child in seven months had been on the ship since it grounded on a rock ledge off South Manitou Island in upper Lake Michigan Tuesday night.

She did not want to leave the ship and her husband, Capt. Eduardo Trivizas, 36, but did so at her husband's request when she complained of pain.

"I'd rather be on the ship. That's where I left my husband. I felt too awful, but he insisted," she said, adding, "Two days we were pounding pounding on the sea."

Dr. Hannah Tells Rotarians:

Reds Copy Our School Setup

By MAX E. REMON

Critics of America's educational system, increasingly vocal since Russia's early space successes, should look at "the other side of the coin," Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, said yesterday.

"The Soviet Union has copied our system of universal education to a great degree — and copied it effectively," Dr. Hannah said.

"But by doing this, the Communist leaders may be sowing the seeds of their own destruction."

Guest speaker at a joint meeting of Pontiac, Ferndale and Auburn Heights, Rotary Clubs at the Elks Temple, Dr. Hannah spoke on "Education on the International Scene."

"Russia's rulers will find it increasingly difficult to maintain a completely contained society where the opportunity exists for students to have contacts with the rest of the world," Dr. Hannah said.

Although students in Russia are arbitrarily told what to study, their curiosity is aroused as to the world outside of the Iron Curtain, he said.

"A brilliant young nuclear physicist, for example, reads articles printed in Western scientific journals. He will want to know more about societies other than his own. His interest will spread," Dr. Hannah said.

Whether the uncommitted peoples of Asia, Africa and Latin America swing toward the West or Russia must not be decided on a military battlefield, he warned.

URGES EDUCATION
"Even should the United States win an all-out war, conditions at that time might favor the spread of a Communist system," he said.

The university president urged an "educational battlefield" to spread the philosophy of the free enterprise system.

"Education moves slowly — but it's the only way to move effectively," he said. "We must spread

FOR THE MILITARY
Dr. Hannah called for more funds for technical assistance projects such as Point Four.

"Although $72 billion has been spent in foreign aid funds since the end of World War II, most of it has been for military aid."

"Never has more than $150 million yearly been spent on technical assistance programs," he said.

He proudly noted that MSU has undertaken international projects in eight countries, more than any other university in the United States.

"When the history of MSU is written 100 years from now," Dr.

Hannah said, "perhaps the greatest contribution of the university today will turn out to be helping other countries to help themselves."

Dr. Hannah referred to a leader as "someone who gets in front of a crowd and leads them in the direction they are going."

The peoples of the underdeveloped nations are aware of the higher standards of living in countries other than their own, Dr. Hannah said.

"The question is who will be the leader and get the credit — Moscow or Washington."

Gaitskill to Visit U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Labor leader Hugh Gaitskill will be in the United States for a television appearance from Jan. 15 to 20 and qualified informants said he expects to see President-elect John F. Kennedy in that period just before the inauguration ceremony.

Portugal Warns U.N. — Hands Off Africa

LISBON, Portugal (UPI)—Prime Minister Antonio de Oliveira Salazar has warned outsiders to stop meddling in African affairs and made it clear Portugal would not accept United Nations interference in its territories.

The 71-year-old Portuguese leader, making his first major public speech in two years, told a packed National Assembly the hasty abandonment of African territories by the European powers is a crime against the black man.

The Portuguese overseas provinces in Africa include Angola, Cape Verde Islands, Mozambique, Portuguese Guinea, Sao Tome and Principe Islands. Other Portuguese possessions are Macao and Timor in Oceania.
