Moore Proposes Adoption Law House Cleaning

Oakland Judge Calls Setup Antiquated and Unworkable

Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore said today it is time Michigan "cleaned house of its antiquated and unworkable adoption law."

Judge Moore addressed a group of officials from throughout the state who are, in one way or another, concerned with baby adoptions. The meeting was held at the Oakland County Youth Home on Cooley Lake road.

"Under the antiquated and unworkable present Michigan adoption law many of these adoptive children find their way into poor homes through the route of the black market and the procedure which allows direct adoptive placements," Moore said.

He called the meeting to seek support for the Lodge-Nichols adoptoon bill which he has helped. It is under study in the State Senate.

"Its primary purpose is to eliminate the black market in baby adoptions, thus guaranteeing there will be no direct placements," the judge said.

It would require an extensive check of potential adoptive parents before the baby is theirs, Moore outlined.

It also requires that the release of the child from the mother be filed with the courts.

Handling the adoptive measures would be agencies "capable of expert advice and skilled service," the judge said.

However, he added, his proposed bill provides also that the releasing parents or guardian may have exclusive choice of releasing children to (1) a chosen licensed agency, (2) State Welfare Department or to (3) the Juvenile Court.

There is an urgent need for a new law, Judge Moore told today's gathering, because "abuses of the present law are continuing day after day."

"The mother is fearful of disclosure, worried about hospital and doctor bills, and concerned about whether she is capable of caring for her child," he said.

"The present adoption law lets her reach out and select anyone under the sun she desires to take her baby, even though it is not a good placement," Judge Moore concluded.

The Rain Clouds Cometh to Area Tonight, Sunday

A few scattered showers are predicted for tonight and possibly Sunday in the Pontiac area. Temperatures will remain near the normal high of 64-68 and normal low of 46-50.

★ ★ ★

Sunday night and Monday will be a little cooler but Tuesday will find temperatures climbing again.

Today's winds southeast to south at 12-18 miles an hour will diminish somewhat tonight.

Job Picture Far Better During April

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Government officials today reported a striking improvement in the nation's employment picture, with the joblessness total dropping well below the four million mark.

It was indicated that unemployment may have declined by as much as half a million in April while employment registered a greater than seasonal gain.

This advance word on the monthly job report, due to be issued Monday by the Commerce and Labor Departments, was obtained privatly from officials attending the spring meeting of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council here.

Although they declined to be specific because the figures still are preliminary, the informants indicated unemployment may have gone as low as 3,800,000. This would be more than 1½ million below the total in April a year ago.

The improvement was vastly encouraging to officials who, despite the past year's substantial recovery from the 1957-58 business recession, have worried about the failure of employment to match gains in national production and income.

The April pickup, it was indicated, was considerably greater than the improvement recorded in March, when joblessness dipped 387,000 to a total of 4,362,000.

Pilotless Plane Misses Homes, Nearby School

Airman Is Forced to Abandon Craft When Stick Locks

DETROIT (AP)—A pilotless jet plane plunged into a residential area of Northville yesterday afternoon, splashing flaming fuel onto a sandpile where five children were playing.

Two of the youngsters were burned seriously. Their three playmates escaped harm.

Maj. John L. Moutier of Belleville, an Air Force pilot, parachuted to safety after his stick locked and his plane went into an uncontrolled climb.

He is attached to the Michigan Air National Guard squadron at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport and was preparing to land after a routine training flight.

LOSES CONTROL

Moutier said he was flying at 3,500 feet when he lost control of the photo-reconnaisance craft.

"The plane suddenly began a rapid climb," Moutier said. "I fought the nose down a little. Then it kicked violently upward again into a loop.

When the plane started coming down out of the loop I knew it was a question of whether I hit with it or got out."

Moutier said as he came down in his parachute he saw the jet would hit Northville and prayed:

"God, please don't let it hurt anybody."

"I didn't see how it could miss wiping out 10 or 20 houses," the 39-year-old veteran flier said, "but it dived right into that yard, the only open space for blocks around."

HOUSE DAMAGE MINOR

The plane hit in a garden behind the home of Miss Ada L. Roe, an 89-year-old spinster. Her house suffered minor damage from flying pieces of wreckage.

The crash occurred at 4:10 p.m., just 40 minutes after 500 pupils had been released from the school.

Mother of 11 Children Amazes With Vigor

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

When the family of Mrs. Rosemary Brinker noisily tramps into her bedroom tomorrow shouting "Happy Mother's Day," it's going to be crowded.

Mrs. Brinker is the mother of 11 children.

Mrs. Brinker—five-foot-two with eyes of blue—is known by her neighbors for her vivaciousness and warmth of spirit.

To her children, her sunny disposition and understanding goodness all spell M-O-T-H-E-R in the highest sense of the word.

Rosemary and her husband, Edward, have been rearing their large family in a large two-story home on the shore of Bass Lake near Commerce, where they've lived for more than 22 years.

The other children are Karen, 2, Paul 4, Jim, 6, twins Joan and Gene, 8, Barbara, 12, Susie, 14, Douglas, 16, and Eddie 18.

Just under 40, Mrs. Brinker appears as youthful as her married daughter Pat, a prospective mother next month.

When Ed Brinker "brings home the bacon," this means 10 pounds of it, along with three dozen eggs, six loaves of bread and four gallons of milk.

FLEET IN GARAGE

Six bicycles, a scooter and an extra car are neatly parked side by side in the garage area, and most of the children have earned their own transportation, Mrs. Brinker says.

County to Pay Hospital More

Pontiac General to Get Higher Rates Covering Patients on Welfare

Agreement has been reached between the Oakland County Social Welfare Board and Pontiac General Hospital whereby the county will pay higher rates for its welfare patients.

The Board Thursday signed a contract on new rates for welfare patients with St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Local hospitals had protested large annual losses because, officials said, the county wasn't paying for what it actually cost to take care of welfare patients.

The standard rate for treatment of county patients at Pontiac General this year has been set at $36.25, said Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

An audit by Blue Cross for 1958 showed the cost at $40.23 but, Euler said, the high figure was caused by new construction and the closing of one wing, bringing about an unbalanced operation.

For the first four months of 1959, the daily cost of treating patients has been $37.38 per patient.

Euler said the hospital will still experience small losses on its welfare patients.

Last year the hospital was paid $33 for each welfare patient and experienced a loss of $75,078, Euler said.

Bipartisan Meet Set Next Week

House Leaders Agree to Seek Solution of State's Cash Crisis

LANSING (AP)—Michigan lawmakers scattered to their homes today to let tempers cool and mull over the newest proposal to bring Republicans and Democrats together on a solution to the state's cash crisis.

For the first time in many weeks of partisan bickering, top figures of both parties assembled yesterday at Gov. Williams' invitation to talk over their dispute and try to clear the way for negotiation.

A 75-minute session in the governor's office produced agreement by House leaders to meet early next week and attempt to develop a "mutually acceptable answer" to the state's long and short-range money needs.

The meeting stemmed from Williams' suggestion in a message to a joint session of the House and Senate yesterday, for the most part critically received by Republicans.

"We come to you because we believe that any program Democrats might want would have to have your stamp of approval before they would vote for it," Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) told the governor.

Morris reaffirmed the Senate Republican stand that "we will not touch the veterans trust fund without the use (sales) tax."

"We won't want to use the trust fund, but we will and that is our compromise offer," he said. "You should accept the use tax increase as your part of the compromise."

Morris challenged the governor to "come up with some proposals of your own so that we can accept or reject them."

Williams, backing a combination personal income and corporate profits tax, had agreed to "reassess" his stand on the tax picture if Republicans will release the 43 million dollars of trust fund securities to solve the cash emergency. Republicans turned him down.

LANSING (AP)—Senate Secretary Fred I. Chase who has watched Michigan Legislatures come and go since the early 1920s saw encouragement in the cash crisis session in Gov. Williams' office yesterday.

Boy Admits Setting Blaze at Baltimore Warehouse

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 12-alarm fire early today turned a sprawling grocery warehouse into a mass of charred rubble, with damage estimated at from one to one and a half million dollars.

Police picked up a 10-year-old boy at the scene and reported later that the youth admitted starting the fire.

About 55 pieces of equipment were called to the one-story warehouse of the B. Green & Co.

Hundreds of firemen fought the blaze through the early morning hours before bringing it under control—but not until the walls had collapsed and the twisted roof covered the rubble like a wrinkled blanket.

Police and member of the Arson Squad became suspicious of the presence of the 10-year-old boy about 4 a.m. When he gave evasive answers, they took him to district police headquarters. After questioning there, they said the lad gave this account:

He was looking for canned goods that might have spilled on the ground at the warehouse's loading

Hicks Arrested in Chattanooga

Agrees to Return to State for Questioning in Lassiter Slaying

A business associate sought in the robbery-slaying of Royal Oak car dealer Parvin Lassiter was arrested today in Chattanooga, Tenn.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State Police Capt. Fred Davids said Roy C. (Buck) Hicks agreed to return voluntarily to Michigan.

Hicks had been the subject of a manhunt since being implicated in the murder by ex-convict Charles Nash, 42, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Two Michigan State Police returned to Detroit yesterday with Nash, whose confession cracked the mysterious killing.

★ ★ ★

Detectives Charles Leaf of the Pontiac Post and Calvin Lepien of the Redford Post, to whom Nash confessed, accompanied Nash back to Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Hicks and Richard Jones, 29, of Rossville, were named as accomplices in the slaying.

Nash and Jones worked for Lassiter as drivers of cars delivered to the South.

Jones is being held in the Chattanooga City Jail without benefit of bond for investigation of first degree murder. He said he would fight extradition.

Gas Prices Dip as Major Firms Lop 2 Cents Off

Gasoline will be two cents a gallon less at many area service stations today.

Several major gasoline firms announced price cuts yesterday.

Leading the parade was the Sun Oil Co. which announced a 1.9 cent drop in tank - wagon prices to dealers. The firm was soon joined by the Standard Oil Co.

Allowing retail stations to lower their prices by two cents a gallon, the cuts bring most gas prices to 29.9 cents a gallon for regular and 33.9 cents for premium.

The cuts were caused by competition from independent gasoline dealers, according to Cash Hawley, manager of the Retail Gasoline Dealers Assn.

Reds Confident as Conference Nears

GENEVA (AP)—Big Four foreign ministers were headed here today with the Communists in a confident mood for the East-West talks opening Monday on Berlin, Germany and European security.

★ ★ ★

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was the first of the Big Four to reach Geneva.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter flew into Bonn today, en route to Geneva, for a meeting with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Herter said the West is in full agreement on proposals to carry to Geneva.

French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville was also due today. Herter has served advance warning on the Soviet Union that the United States wants "business-like negotiations and not a propaganda exercise."

'POSITIVE SOLUTION'

Stepping from a gleaming white turboprop plane at the head of a 17-man delegation, Gromyko repeated Soviet assertions that the most urgent problems for the conference are a peace treaty with Germany and liquidation of the Allied occupation in Berlin.

"It is for a positive solution of these important questions that the Soviet delegation has arrived here," he said. "Our intentions are serious. We shall make every effort for this conference to be crowned with success."

The Communists appeared in a confident mood, and Western diplomatic sources were rather pessimistic. Western sources cautioned against raising high hopes for success of the conference.

They pointed to prospects of contention at the outset on such routine matters as agenda and procedure.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, the last of the Big Four, is not coming until Sunday morning.

The East German Communists were set to get here before the main participants. Leaving Berlin, East German Foreign Minister Lothar Bolz said he was "full of optimism."

50-MAN DELEGATION

This is the first time the foreign ministers of the two German states have attended a big East-West parley.

Bolz arrived with a 50-man delegation in a sleek electric six-coach train of the East German railways. It had received special clearance to travel across West Germany.

The precise role—if any—of the East and West Germans at the conference is one of the first things to be brought up, along with possibly inviting other outsiders to take part.

It is expected if the Soviets insist on including such Communist states as Poland and Czechoslovakia that the West will counter by demanding a seat for Italy at the conference table.

★ ★ ★

If the Soviets reject the West's package plan—as they are expected to—the Allies may run into difficulties on reaching unanimity on a fall-back position.

Boat Capsizes 6 Yards Offshore

Most Victims Women and Children; Nassar Rushes to Scene

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Divers and navy frogmen today recovered 40 more bodies from the sunken hulk of the riverboat Dandara, which capsized Friday with a holiday picnic crowd of about 300 persons aboard.

These were in addition to 10 bodies found Friday night. Police said at least 95 persons still are unaccounted for, placing the probable toll at nearly 150.

The victims, mostly women and children, drowned when the heavily loaded craft sprang a leak and sank about six yards offshore. Most of the victims were trapped beneath decks amid wild confusion.

The tragedy occurred as the 200-ton, double-decker craft, chartered by the Agricultural Engineers' Assn., neared the Nile delta picnic grounds about eight miles north of Cairo.

100 SAVED

Police estimated 100 were saved but the number lost may never be known for the outing tickets were sold in family blocks. Whole families drowned together.

Agricultural Minister Sayed Marei described it as "a human and economic tragedy because those drowned include the best of our agricultural engineers."

★ ★ ★

One of the first to reach the scene was President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, who personally directed the rescue of some passengers struggling in the water.

HEADED FOR PICNIC

One of the rescued was Ahmed Talaat, secretary of the agricultural engineers syndicate which organized the excursion for the Moslem Friday Sabbath.

Dr. Mekky, in describing the confusion as the small boat began sinking, said he saved a woman who he mistakenly thought was his wife.

She is presently chairman of 10 church guilds, is cocaptain of the Sacred Heart Guild, and was district chairman for the Bass Lake area United Fund Drive.

An example of the amazing Mrs. Brinker's cooperative forces was evidenced when a group of Walled Lake mothers got together last week to figure out how to keep their seniors from driving hundreds of miles away for food and entertainment after graduation exercises June 15.

They decided to bring in Fred Netting's name band and vocalist Janie Palmer for a dance at 11 p.m. Then, at 3 a.m. in the morning, when appetities are ravishing, the women will serve a huge breakfast for the 270 new graduates and their friends.

When mothers were asked to help out, Mrs. Brinker decided she had plenty of experience serving breakfasts for many — early — so she jumped to her feet and volunteered to head the affair. The project is underway.

In her spare time, Mrs. Brinker, who is a graduate beautician, gives permanents, sets and cuts not only her six girls' hair, but has at least 10 steady relative-friend-customers.

She gives expert brush cuts to three of her boys. The two oldest — and husband Ed — have graduated to the barber shops, however, she says.

TWO CELEBRATIONS

Today, yard furniture, the outdoor grill and dock are getting a going over because two celebrations will be in full swing in the big shaded Brinker yard tomorrow.

Not only will mother be "Queen for the day," but the twins, Joan and Gene, will receive their First Communion.

The Day in Birmingham

Forester Says Tree Spray Not Causing Bird Deaths

BIRMINGHAM — "Don't blame the city's tree spray for all the dead birds."

City forester Charles Gale explained this statement when he said that the annual trend of blaming the spray used to combat Dutch elm disease for bird deaths is in full swing.

Gale said the city Forestry and Parks Department has done a great deal of checking to find an effective and safe spray. Audubon Society reports have been studied for sprays it considers "least dangerous to birds."

Sprays used on lawns and yards to kill weeds and insects are often deadly to birds but seldom blamed, according to Gale.

Insects carrying the sprays on their bodies and worms eaten particularly by robins can kill the birds. Natural seeds and other bird foods also can be fatal, he explained.

Gale concluded by saying the city apparently has the upper hand in the Dutch elm disease battle.

Compared to many communities, Birmingham's loss is light, he said. The number of diseased trees found each year is falling steadily.

Birmingham Fire Chief Park H. Smith said the fire loss for the city in April was $470 to buildings only. No contents were damaged.

The department answered 54 calls, 37 of which were fires.

'Frisco Closes Beaches After Shark Attack

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—This city closed its beaches to swimmers Friday in fear of sharks although scientists expressed belief a fatal attack such as that on a college student probably wouldn't happen again in 100 years.

Eighteen-year-old Albert Kogler died Thursday night of massive wounds after a huge white killer shark attacked him 50 yards off shore. His companion, Shirley O'Neill, 18, swam to his rescue and towed him to the beach.

Swimming at most beaches along here has been prohibited, chiefly because of the strong undertows.

W. I. Follett, curator of ichthyology at the California Academy of Sciences, said man-eating sharks are not uncommon along the West Coast. But he said they seldom appear so close to shore.

East Chilly, Fair; West Wet; Small Tornado Strikes

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms soaked wide areas of the West today while fair and generally cool weather prevailed over much of the East.

A small tornado destroyed farm outbuildings near Arch, in eastern New Mexico, Friday night and the storm activity continued into today, soaking portions of Oklahoma with more than 2 inches of rain.

Thunderstorms rumbled from Colorado and New Mexico eastward into Missouri and Arkansas. Stormy weather was on tap from Minnesota and South Dakota into northern Texas.

High winds and hail accompanied heavy rains in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas. Oklahoma City was washed with a 2.49-inch rain during the night. Hobart, Okla., had 1.57 inches and Lawton 1.13. In Kansas, Salina measured a one-inch rain.

Scattered snows fell over higher elevations of northern Colorado, where Leadville had a 2-inch snow blanket.

Showers also dampened the Pacific Northwest but were generally on the light side.

Northern New England shivered in early morning temperatures in the 30s. Readings in the 40s chilled the Great Lakes and Middle Atlantic sections while the 50s were common in the Midwest.

To Sew Up Services

Air Buttonhole Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense planners are toying with a new scheme for unifying the Armed Forces: standardized buttonholes.

This move was disclosed today in testimony made public by a House appropriations subcommittee.

The project isn't sewed up yet. But officials of the agency which buys military uniforms told the subcommittee that buttonholes may be one of the next items they will stardardize.

Presumably they feel the Armed Forces have too many shapes and sizes of buttonholes, boosting uniform costs. Not missing any bets, the agency said it also was considering whether to standardize military buttons.

2 County Men Critically Hurt

One Struck by Auto in Avon Twp.; Other in Car Crash

Two Oakland County men were on the critical list at Pontiac General Hospital today as a result of traffic accidents, Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported.

They are Clifford D. Marquette, 31, of 3115 Shedlowsky St., Independence Township, and Francis C. McCabe, 28, of 821 Gibson St., Oxford.

Marquette suffered head injuries and multiple cuts when struck by an auto driven by William D. Engstrom, 24, of 3381 Donley St., Avon Township, at 12:01 a.m. today.

Marquette was walking across Auburn road about 75 feet east of Churchill road, Auburn Heights, when he was hit.

He staggered on to the road and I couldn't avoid hitting him," Engstrom told deputies. The driver was not held.

McCabe suffered head, face and hand injuries yesterday when his auto went out of control on Pontiac street north of Drahmer road, Oxford Township.

State UF Wants $3,238,657 in '59

Goal Set After Hearing Requests of 33 Agencies in East Lansing

The Michigan United Fund has set $3,238,657 as its tentative target during annual fund-raising campaigns throughout the state this fall, it was announced today.

The goal was set after hearings in East Lansing earlier this week, at which requests of 33 state and national health and community services were aired.

Attending were 250 leaders from 132 communities, including five representing the Pontiac Area United Fund.

They were Fred V. Haggard, vice president of the board of trustees; Robert S. Nelson, chairman of the budget steering committee; Mrs. Donald White, 1958 women's division chairman; Owen O'Neill; Karl W. Bradley, executive director; and Robert Langer, assistant director.

Last year, the Pontiac Area United Fund raised $52,985 for the various agencies and services which the Michigan United Fund aids.

Water Safety Earns Praise for Area Deputy

The Michigan Water Safety Commision yesterday commended an Oakland County sheriff's deputy for work which reduced water deaths 14 per cent, Commission chairman George E. Clay of Grand Rapids said.

Deputy Donald Kratt, director of the Sheriff's Department safety division, outlined the local water safety program for the Commission in a meeting at Lansing.

Kratt was appointed by Sheriff Frank W. Irons last summer to develop and direct the Oakland water patrol program after Irons decided that a force of special deputies on area lakes was a necessity if drownings and boating accidents were to be cut down.

The Commission yesterday praised Irons' foresight and Kratt for the many hours of work he put in to formulate an effective program, train the men and educate boat owners on safety.

Iraq to Make Hospital of Adventist's Public

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — The Ministry of Health announced today that it will requisition the Seventh Day Adventists $500,000 Dar es Salaam Hospital in Baghdad and make it a public institution.

The hospital operated by American missionaries, is the most modern in the country and provides medical care for a large percentage of the foreign community, in addition to Iraqis.

Swansons to Handle Tickets for Dems

Southfield Mayor Donald L. Swanson and Mrs. Swanson have been appointed district ticket co-chairmen for the Democratic Party's May 23 Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner to be held in Detroit.

Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy will be featured speaker at the Saturday dinner to be held at the Light Guard Armory.

Coordinating ticket sales for the affair in this area along with the Swansons will be Willis M. Brewer, David Utley, Otis Lawrence and Leslie H. Hudson.

Tickets will be $25 for a single person and $35 a couple.

VISIT SENATOR HART—Four Pontiac area safety patrol leaders met U. S. Senator Philip A. Hart at his office in Washington, D. C., yesterday and made him an honorary Michigan safety patroller. From left, next to Hart, are David Flanigan, 158 Northwood St., Rochester, of North Hill Elementary School; David Herald, 175 Wall St., Pontiac, of McConnell School; Terry Miller, representing Waterford Township's Williams Lake School, and Joel Burkland, Union School in Troy. The boys will return home tomorrow from a four-day trip to Washington as guests of the Automobile Club of Michigan at the 23rd AAA National Safety Patrol Rally. One hundred from Michigan were among the 35,000 patrollers from United States and Canada at the rally.

'8 of Our H-Bombs Would Finish You'

Nikita Hurls War Threat at Germany

LONDON (AP) — Moscow Radio said today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev told visiting West German editors eight hydrogen bombs would be enough to put West Germany out of action.

The broadcast quoted Khrushchev as saying "obviously not more" would be needed to take care of the rest of western Europe.

In the same talk, Khrushchev was quoted Friday as telling the editors that the Soviet Union would have "losses and great ones" in event of war, but "the Western Powers would be literally wiped off the face of the earth."

He said NATO's bomber force was out of date and the United States also was lagging behind the Soviet Union in rocket technology.

The belated account of Khrushchev's remarks is being released by Moscow almost on the eve of the foreign ministers conference in Geneva.

The radio reported this exchange took place with the editors:

Khrushchev: "You probably realize how many nuclear bombs with a capacity of three to five million tons would have to be exploded on the territory of West Germany to put her out of action?"

Khrushchev: Obviously not more. And do you think that we haven't eight hydrogen bombs?"

Moscow said Khrushchev then added:

Claiming he was threatening nobody, Khrushchev said a war would end quickly in a Soviet victory.

State to Share in Surplus Foods

Dept. of Agriculture to Release Stockpiled Farm Products

Under fire by Congressmen William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) and other lawmakers in Washington for its stockpiling of farm surpluses, the Department of Agriculture yesterday announced plans to send seven carloads of dried eggs to Michigan for distribution under the state surplus food program.

Seven carloads will arrive between May 14 and 29, with two more slated for shipment from May 22 to June 6.

This will amount to enough eggs to feed 500,000 persons for a month, the department stated.

"I'm greatful Michigan people will now share in these surpluses," said Broomfield, who earlier this week criticised the Agriculture Department for not releasing these surpluses sooner.

★ ★ ★

"This is part of a program in which I hope we will be able to dispose of nine billion pounds of food surpluses to needy persons throughout the nation," Broomfield said.

Cites Drunk Driving in Hillsdale Deaths

THOMAS AGAR

STEWART MASON

LANSING (AP)—The death of four Hillsdale college students in a car crash yesterday tragically emphasizes the problem of drinking drivers, Secretary of State James M. Hare said today. Two of the victims were from Oakland County.

Hare, chairman of the State Safety Commission, recalled that he spoke before a Hillsdale College convocation on April 14.

"In the course of my remarks I pointed out the problems of drinking drivers and made the prediction that in view of the number of persons attending the college, two of them would die in drinking driver accidents in the next 10 years."

"The death of these students points up my remarks," Hare said, "particularly since they had made a tour of the taverns in the towns surrounding Hillsdale."

Hare said investigation showed the youths died while attempting to make a curve at a terrifically high rate of speed.

"Once again let me point out that more than 40 per cent of our highway deaths involve drinking drivers or pedestrians," Hare said.

Killed in the crash were Robert H. Vaughan, 25, of Hillsdale, the driver; Thomas Agar, 23, of 15 Oakland Park Blvd., Pleasant Ridge, captain of the basketball team; J. Stewart Mason, 22, of 29050 Haggerty Hwy., Farmington; and Frederick F. Fellows, 26, of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Vaughan was son of Hillsdale City Clerk, Mrs. Roberta Vaughan.

7 Area Men Enlist in Marines Here

Other area recruits were Gerald R. Black, William T. Kennedy and Tad F. Richards, all of Waterford Township; Norman W. Dowell of Farmington; and Jerry F. White of Clarkston.

The men were flown to San Diego, Calif., to undergo 12 weeks of recruit training. Before getting a 15-day leave, they will be transferred to Camp J. H. Pendelton, Oceanside, Calif., for five weeks individual combat training.

Develops New Spring for Automobile Seats

ADRIAN (AP)—A new automobile seat spring has been developed by Stubnitz-Green Corp.

Maurice Stubnitz, president of the firm, described it as a new concept in cushion building in which metal coil springs are impregnated in foam rubber. He said he believed it will win wide acceptance in the auto and furniture industries.

Some of the auto companies, he said, are testing the product on 1960 models.

Stubnitz said the manufacturing process reduces cost and produces a cushion with the advantages of both regular coil springs and foam rubber.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Fisher Body Announcement Great News for Community

General Manager THOMAS F. WIETHORN declares that Fisher proposes to modernize the entire plant which will make it the mechanical equivalent of any body producing unit anywhere.

But more follows.

The revitalized Fisher plant will be considered for the production of convertibles and station wagons. The addition of these bodies to the local unit would result in greater employment and constitute a fine step towards "the good old days" in Pontiac's Fisher Body plant. The entire program will take a year and a half but it starts immediately.

★ ★ ★

Employment at Fisher once ranged around the six thousand level but it dwindled away over a period of time until it reached a low of less than half this. All automobile sales and employment fell appreciably from the 1955 peak; Pontiac, Flint, Lansing and Detroit suffered in common. But in addition, two local Fisher departments were transfererd to other cities. The Corporation found the work could be done more advantageously outside of Pontiac. The two blows in combination really hurt. The loss of jobs was consequental.

Fisher Body has 33 plants and production schedules distribute the output where it can be done the most efficiently and the most economically.

This is true in all business.

I'm sure this situation has been corrected and Pontiac is looking forward to more jobs and better days. This means more business in general and a more prosperous community. No area can advance when jobs dwindle. Relief rolls should lessen over the next eighteen months and Pontiac can rightfully anticipate a "better economic climate."

Everyone rejoices.

The spectacle of men out of work is one of the most depressing sights there is. It affects the morale of the individual and eventually of the entire community. It's an unhealthy condition.

★ ★ ★

The current Fisher announcement is hailed by workers and their families, by their associates, by management and by everyone in the area. It's a very important happening in Pontiac.

Pontiac's Water Supply . . . .

Pontiac's in the group.

Industry today uses an enormous amount and the modern home consumes water with a profligacy that would have brought consternation to our forefathers. Apparently the local problem simmers down to two choices. Shall we cast our lot with Detroit, Lake Huron or both? I lean mightily toward Lake Huron. Here is an inexhaustible supply.

It will last FOREVER.

Our relationships with Detroit have always been friendly and this happy condition will continue. But Detroit will always be concerned primarily with her own water problem. If there's a shortage, you can guess who will lose out first.

★ ★ ★

Detroit must use wells, her sector of the Great Lakes waterways or Lake Huron. If she takes water from the Detroit River or Lake St. Clair, I shudder. Even though it be purified with the most modern methods, it's still foul and filthy water made drinkable.

★ ★ ★

The purest water immaginable comes from Lake Huron. But the Water Authority must sign a minimum number of communities to guarantee sufficient sales to make a bond issue possible. Currently Detroit has a large number of these communities "under contract." City Manager WALTER K. WILLMAN tells me be believes Detroit intends to tap Lake Huron eventually (1970).

★ ★ ★

The situation is a bit complicated but I hope the City Commission leans toward the Lake Huron supply as the best permanent solution.

And in Conclusion . . . .

EDDIE ARCARO, world's greatest jockey, was playing golf when he saw a young lady on a nearby bridle path trying to mount her horse. Courteous EDDIE trotted over and said gently: "If you'd try on the on side, instead of the off side it would be easier." Glaring at him the young lady replied: "Keep on playing your silly game. I just happen to know more about horseback riding than you golf players" . . . . . Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive Pontiac citizen: Mrs. PHILIP ROWSTON, wife of hizonor the Mayor, no less . . . . . Watch for fresh trouble in Iran.

★ ★ ★

HERMIONE GINGOLD, British comedienne, says it's a good thing the British flag doesn't have stars like ours, or they'd have to keep removing instead of adding. Incidentally, she's absolutely terrific in "First Impressions," a new show I saw in New York. POLLY BERGEN'S in the same production and there's about as gorgeous a bit of femininity as you'll find . . . . . Tokyo beat us to a good one. When the traffic light changes, a clock continues to show how many seconds are left.

★ ★ ★

IRVING A. DUFFY, Ford executive, had a leisurely breakfast here, winged his way to Tennessee for a meeting and then had dinner with friends back at home . . . . . Did you hear about this want ad that ran in Washington? "I am responsible for debts incurred by my wife, Virginia, and on this, her birthday, I thank the Lord for the privilege of paying any and all obligations she sees fit to raise. WILLIAM R. FOSTER." . . . . . I've solved this electric razor business. Use one make for your face in general and then use another for the tender neck line . . . . . JACK HERBERT wonders why Michigan doesn't secede from the union and qualify for foreign aid.

When I graduated from the University of Michigan, we had one married student. President JOHN A. HANNAH told me 24 per cent of his MSU boys and girls are married now and the U. of M. announces they have twenty-two per cent.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY — 6

"We are all wrestlers," said Ed (Strangler) Lewis to a group of fathers and sons in Tulsa, Okla., recently. "At my right is a ring with God's love, mercy, faith and all good. At my left, hatred, revenge, self-pity, all the negative qualities. We are all wrestling against the darkness of the world."

Fourteen years ago, this five-time world heavyweight wrestling champion, was in his words "at rock bottom" physically and spiritually. Then he says, "I put my absolute reliance in the Man above."

Recently, I ate lunch with this hearty, energetic 70-year-old man of good will. He talked of the value of sports and sportsmanship and the importance of faith. He is dedicated to youth and has spoken to as many as 25,000 in one week. A Bible student, he has lectured to church groups, and has spoken in prisons across the nation.

Once a killer cursed and threatened him as he passed a prison dungeon. Ed introduced himself. The convict had been a wrestling fan and they engaged in friendly conversation. "Kindness," said Ed, "breaks down all barriers that hinder the brotherhood of man."

Prints Pamphlet Assailing Chicago Canal

State Booms Back in Water War

LANSING (UPI)—Mchigina has fired another volley in the lengthy war with Chicago over diversion of water from Lake Michigan.

This series of shots includes pictures — 28 of them — and a pamphlet put together by a Lansing engineering firm about a 30-mile boat trip along the Chicago sanitary canal.

Adams said the survey showed the Chicago Sanitary District disregarded an early high court verdict that it must improve sewage treatment because the district "is responsible to nobody and thus does what it pleases."

The district "converted the canal into a putrescent cesspool (but)' . . . insists that it should not be compelled to do a decent job of sewage collection treatment as it was ordered to do by the Supreme Court in 1930," he said.

Michigan wants the district to construct more treatment facilities. The district claims it would be too costly.

The court battle of diversion goes back to 1921, said Nicholas V. Olds, assistant attorney general, but an argument stems from the turn of the century when the canal was first begun.

Chicago is permitted to divert 1,500 cubit feet per second of Lake Michigan water directly into the canal for navigation and an unlimited amount for domestic pumpage.

Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York are fighting the diversion and want a limit put on the domestic pumpage amount.

The water is not returned to the lake and is causing lake levels to drop, the states contend. Their immediate aim is to have the court appoint a referee to study the situation and make a final decision.

Adams said Illinois and the Chicago Sanitary District "are doing everything in their power to prevent the appointment" of the referee.

If they weren't trying to hide something, Adams indicated, "they would not be so vigorous in their opposition to the appointment of a master (referee) by the Supreme Court."

The engineer's report described the canal as highly contaminated with much sewage and oil floating around in it.

Noisy Paraffin Chewer Should Supply Ear Plugs

"Man in our office chews paraffin constantly—claims you recommend it as good for the teeth. But he is somewhat deaf and doesn't realize how much noise his chewing makes . . ." (J.R.S.)

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-430: Norma L., aged 24, is a devoted school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, I am so sorry for some of my second graders," she began.

"Their mothers want them to be paragons of virtue and top students. Yet many of those same mothers will smoke cigarets constantly and often get intoxicated at Sunday night liquor parties.

"They are then caustic and irritable on Monday morning when the youngsters try to kiss them goodbye for they have hangover headaches.

"It is pathetic to see how hungry some of my children are for some affection.

★ ★ ★

"We teachers try to make up to them for their mothers' deficiencies, but wouldn't you think motherhood would be such a challenge to every woman that she'd try her level best to set a good example before her youngsters, at least during their most impressionable years?"

BAD vs. GOOD MOTHERS

On Mother's day we laud those saintly women who have set a good example before children and who have tried to steer youngsters into a wholesome way of life.

These wonderful mothers include not just 'hose with flesh-and-blood offspring, but the kindly public school teachers and Catholic Sisters in our parochial schools, plus deserving stepmothers, Camp Fire Girl leaders and foster mothers of all types.

But please remember that not all mothers are GOOD parents. Some are so selfish that they let their own romantic desires and craving for fun, becloud their judgment.

Rebecca, of the Bible, likewise doesn't rate very highly as a mother, for she deliberately urged her son Jacob to tell a fib and hoodwink his dying father so that Jacob could steal the birthright of Esau.

Please remember that the Bible says Rebecca concocted this plot and urged her son to carry it out, even though he was reluctant.

So every conscientious mother should take stock of herself and try to be at her best, at least during the first 10 years of her child's life.

After the age of 10, Scout Leaders, YMCA or CYO directors and the schools help shoulder a lot of our parental responsibilities, but in those earliest years, mothers (and fathers) have almost sole sway.

Good mothers take their children to Sunday school and teach them to reverence God and say their prayers.

They help the child become self-reliant by teaching it to cook and sew and look after its own room.

They encourage a child to work for its own spending money, paying it for chores on a piecework basis, instead of using the "dole" via a free weekly allowance.

Good mothers are liberal with praise for the child's virtues and constructive deeds. They belong to PTA and use "flash cards" to help tutor their child at home.

They are goodnatured and jolly. They speak correct English at home and do not set bad examples via smoking, using liquor, vulgarity or gambling.

For further specific items, send for my "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

I. Q. Statistics Definitely Good Comedian Material

Thanks to G. C. Miller of Pa. for his letter in Monday's paper about I. Q. in relation to number of siblings. I haven't laughed so hard since Uncle Harry's horse died just as we were going to shoot him.

Only that day I had been discussing I. Q.'s with a friend who comes from an equally large family as I, and we'll both be glad to know what the trouble is.

It would be wonderful if, during the first or second year in high school, students would be required to take a course in common sense and respect for other people, and to heck with the I. Q. bit.

Incidentally, I was number seven and number eight was even smarter than I, graduated with high honors. I. Q. 130.

The joker that dug up G. C. Miller's statistics should stick around. Milton Berle won't last forever.

'Paper Could Help Yard Owners'

I think your paper could do a service for so many people who are trying to improve their yards. Everyone I've talked to has very much the same problem.

Their trees and bushes just haven't a chance with dogs wetting on them.

There is some sort of ordinance that dogs are to be tied or on a leash. I think this should be enforced especially this time of year.

Correction Needed on First Letter

Replying to T. P. I am glad that T. P. is doing some double checking on what he (or she) reads. My quotation was from the report of the Citizens' Advisory Committee's "Michigan Tax Study."

However, this table combined state and local taxes borne by Michigan taxpayers. My letter said, "to the state for taxes" and so bears correction in that respect.

Thanks for the inquiry so any misinterpretation may be cleared up for others as well. The explanation of the percentages is given in full detail in the Michigan Tax Study Staff Papers which may be purchased from the Secretary of State in Lansing.

Reader Suggests Livestock Tax

This is an open letter for the Michigan House of Representatives. Are you a bunch of Neros who, lacking fiddles, play politics while hundreds of people miss the paychecks which are their only livelihoods?

May I suggest two places that added revenue might be found. It is my understanding that the livestock raised in Michigan is tax free. I come, originally, from a western state. There, I know, the taxation of livestock is one of the principal sources of tax revenue.

Michigan has a large nonproperty owner population, yet there is no personal property tax to bring into balance the taxation on nonproperty owners, though they use our highways, our streets, our park facilities, all the advantages of being a resident of Michigan, yet pay no tax that is comparable to the real estate taxes.

It seems an unequal system, to me, that nonproperty owners pay no school tax. This is meant to be constructive criticism not just griping.

More Glass Also Seen for Car of Future

All-Aluminum Auto Not Too Remote

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Glass as a structural component of the automobile is getting engineering consideration but such adaptation still is far in the future.

Not so remote is the all-aluminum automobile.

Researchers in the two materials have different objectives. The glass industry engineers want to eliminate all the blind areas in the car body.

Probably to some extent today's larger windshields and broader and higher rear window installations serve as supporting members. But the experts say to accomplish unobstructed vision requires even larger glass areas.

George B. Watkins, a glass industry expert, long has studied the use of glass in the modern car. He told an engineering meeting here:

"Glass as manufactured today . . . fails to meet the dependable strength properties generally required of structural materials.

"Looking to the future, it is foreseeable that continued research will produce a transparent material which, when laminated with glass, will result in a transparent composite capable of functioning as a structural member in automobile bodies."

But he left no doubt that extensive research is continuing in the laboratories of the glass industry.

Prospects for an all-aluinum automobile look much brighter. Experimental cars in which even the engine block was constructed of aluminum have been built by the car makers.

The aluminum industry also has conducted extensive research in this connection. It has seen use of aluminum in the auto industry increase steadily in recent years.

★ ★ ★

One fact often overlooked by the average motorist is that aluminum long has been used in functional components of the automobile. A somewhat widespread but wholly erroneous impression has been that aluminum is used solely for ornamentation.

CHANGES AHEAD

But whether glass, aluminum, steel, magnesium, plastic or some other substance is used in car bodies, some far reaching styling changes lie ahead for the automobile.

Jack E. Charipar, chief engineer of Chrysler's Plymouth Division, has this to say about future automobiles:

"Sustained operation at higher speeds will make functional aerodynamic styling important. We can expect to see clean contours with flush windows and ornamentation, high - performance ducted high-pressure cooling systems with aerodynamically located air inlet and outlet grille for engine, passenger compartment and brake cooling.

"In addition, body surface development featuring the extension of the body skin all the way around the car, under it as well, and tail-fins for directional stability at all highway speeds, can be expected."

He predicted that "increased use of glass and glass-like materials in upper body areas can be expected, consistent with developments in solar heat absorption, and the structure and sealing problems

NLRB Won't Probe Steel Union Claim

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has rejected a demand by the United Steel Workers union that the NLRB investigate an alleged conspiracy among steel companies to violate the Taft-Hartley Act.

The NLRB told the union, now negotiating a new contract with steel producers, that it could not act on the much-publicized charges unless the union files formal unfair labor practices charges.

Contract talks were recessed yesterday to give both sides time to "digest" each others' proposals, it was learned.

Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel for the steel workers, asked the NLRB yesterday to look into reports that the 12 largest steel firms were considering a plan to shut down the entire industry if the union struck only one or two companies.

Union Confers Lifetime Honor Upon Rep. Law

State Rep. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) has been given lifetime honorary membership in Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO), which he helped form a generation ago.

★ ★ ★

Cited were Law's "efforts and devotion" in the original organization of the labor movement in Pontiac.

The former Pontiac mayor was also praised for his service to the city, both on the City Commission and in the Legislature in Lansing.

The honor was approved by the executive board of the International UAW-CIO and conferred on Law by Gerald Kehoe, local president.

★ ★ ★

"Art Law is well qualified for his honor," said Kehoe in presenting the honorary lifetime union card.

"He is a family man, business man, and fully understands the problems of labor, the business man and the community."

He was the first president of the Fisher Body local when it was organized in 1937, and is the first man to win an honorary lifetime membership there.

The honor was conferred at the union's last membership meeting.

Board Drafts 15 Men From Area in April

New draftees reporting for induction May 5 were Richard L. Vore of Waterford Township; Danny T. Donnelly of Avon Township; Gerald N. Cooper, Richard J. Jentzen and Dennis L. Eisenhardt, all of Rochester.

Others were Peter F. Guck, Preston W. Smith and Craig L. Wise, all of Birmingham; Richard E. Lapham and Timothy H. Bodinus, both of Farmington; and David J. Walker of Ortonville.

Rounding out the list were Earl E. Smith of Walled Lake, Joel L. Clouse of Lake Orion and Gerald J. Killewald and Gary L. Fifield, both of Troy.

Germany Lures U.S. Investors

Quick Comeback by Industry Brings Stock Market Speculation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

FRANKFURT (AP)—The quick comeback of West German industry after a crippling war has lured many American investors into the German stock market. Until recently, the much larger yields on common stocks here than in the United States have boosted the trend.

Today both Americans and Germans are taking a second look.

German stock prices have risen because of the buying spurt both here and overseas. German authorities, wary of past booms and busts, aren't sure they welcome any possibly purely speculative interest.

Conservative German financiers are trying to adjust to some new ideas, well rooted in America—mutual investments funds, stock buying by insurance and pension funds. And, belatedly, there is an interest in the stock market by the average German citizen.

The rush of United States investors to buy German and other European stocks came after the prices of American stocks were pushed up to record highs, which left their yields relatively low, often lower than on bonds.

German stocks, meanwhile, were yielding 5 per cent on average. At their market price they seemed a bargain, and investors moved in. Their buying has forced stock prices here up, and the yield is now down nearer that to be had in New York.

Current prices of German stocks, for example, on the basis of last year's dividends now average out at a yield of 3.2 per cent. Germans stress this is due to the rise in stock prices, not to any drop in dividends. On the contrary, the average dividend paid by German companies on the stock exchanges has risen from 8.5 per cent of par value in 1957 to 10 per cent today.

MOTHER'S DAY

We will observe Mother's Day, Sunday, May 10th, in a way to give our mother the greatest possible happiness. Emotionally, a mother never changes. When she was a little girl she played house, ministered to the wants of her dolls, gave them affection, tender care and these attributes are as much a part of her today as then. Remember that first birthday cake, with candles? She reflected your happiness. Recall your first party? She answered your smiles with smiles, twinkling eyes with twinkling eyes, gave you hug for hug and kiss for kiss. She hasn't changed; she will appreciate thoughtfulness, affection and tenderness as much as she would a chest of sparkling jewels.

M. E. SIPLE

Cram her day with events you know she enjoys; a sermon in the church of her choice, visit with friends, special dinner either at home or in a cafe, permanent wave or bottle of her favorite perfume—only five out of thousands of ways, one, the most important one, give her oceans of love.

P.S. May we add our good wishes to all the glorious creatures we call mothers.

Sunday---Any Day Mother Is Special!

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

Sunday is Mother's Day. The day may be overrated, but certainly mothers never can be.

Mother works hard all year round with rarely a vacation —and no time off. Then along comes the "second Sunday in May," and she's queen for a day. Breakfast in bed, gifts and flowers and maybe even an exotic place for dinner.

★ ★ ★

And then along comes Monday, with the laundry to do, children to send off to school, and so on with the routine of being mother until next May. But mothers rarely complain.

THEY'RE SPECIAL

No matter how you look at it though, and whether they have a special day or not, mothers are special!

No one knows quite how to fix the breakfast coffee—or the dog's dinner—as well as mother. No one is quite so good at solving major crises—from settling quarrels to remodeling last year's prom dress—as mother.

★ ★ ★

And of course no one is so comforting in times of stress and strain—from bruised knees to planning weddings—as mothers.

★ ★ ★

Whether you think a day set aside for mothers is necessary or not, or whether you think it is too commercial, the origin of Mother's Day might be of interest to you.

FRIENDSHIP MOVE

It all started some 50 years ago when Mrs. Ann Jarvis of Grafton, W. Va., created and planned "Mother's Friendship Day."

The occasion: to create good will between former Union and Confederate soldiers.

After her death, relatives of the church Mrs. Jarvis had attended got together and suggested a service be held in her honor. That was May 10, 1908, and it is considered the first public observance of Mother's Day.

Mrs. Jarvis was a fitting example to be the mother of Mother's Day. She had 11 children, and had taught Sunday school for 20 years.

Married this morning at St. Benedict Church were Doris Holdwick and Louie Giordano. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Holdwick and Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Giordano.

Doris Holdwick Becomes Bride of Louie Giordano

White gladioli banked the altar of St. Benedict Church for the wedding this morning of Doris Holdwick of Bloomfield Terrace and Louie Giordano. The Rev. John J. Hoar officiated before 150 guests.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Holdwick of Ruth and Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Giordano of Sylvan Shore drive.

IN TAFFETA GOWN

The bride wore a gown of white lace and taffeta with a Sabrina neckline and basque waistline. The full floor-length taffeta skirt was covered with rosepointe lace. A rhinestone trimmed headpiece held her fingertip veil.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William St. Charles was matron of honor. She was dressed in a pink taffeta dress with white nylon overskirt. She wore a pink picture hat and carried a white lace parasol trimmed with pink rosebuds.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Donald Giordano and Mrs. David Bertoncin of Birmingham were bridesmaids. They were dressed like Mrs. St. Charles.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Jerry Holdwick of Ruth and Michael Giordano were ringbearers.

★ ★ ★

A breakfast was held at Elks Temple for immediate family members. An evening reception for 500 guests will be held at Greek Hall this evening.

HONEYMOON IN FLORIDA

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Holdwick wore a dress of pink organza over taffeta with navy accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Giordano wore a dress of beige lace over taffeta with matching accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

Boy May Not Give Lingerie as a Gift

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: While out with her boy friend one evening, my daughter admired a quilted robe in one of the shop windows. Two weeks later she received this robe from him for a birthday present. I have told my daughter that I think this present is in very bad taste and it would be very indiscreet of her to keep it. She says she will return it if you say so, and also tell her how to do it without hurting his feelings.

Answer: I'm sorry, but it would be against all rules of convention to keep it. It is really incorrect for a boy to give a girl any item of wearing apparel of any sort — especially bedroom apparel. I think if she shows this answer to him, his feelings could hardly be hurt.

Dear Mrs. Post: Very often when I am out with my girl friend she will stop and buy a chocolate bar or a bag of peanuts, etc., and walk along the street eating. Don't you agree, Mrs. Post, that this is not good manners?

Dear Mrs. Post: Last year my engagement was announced in the newspaper and several months later the engagement was broken. A notice was sent to the newspaper to this effect. After being apart we both realized how much we really love each other and so we intend to become engaged again. I would like to know if a notice should be sent to the newspaper announcing this fact?

Answer: This time it will be better to wait until the description of your wedding is sent to the newspaper, and for the present count on your news being spread by word of mouth.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it not bad manners for a man to enter a house smoking a cigarette? I mean when visiting someone. Shouldn't a cigarette be disposed of before entering the house?"

Answer: Most certainly!

'Old Maid' Can Start Afresh . . . Abby

Lock Closet Door on the Skeleton

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I was born when my parents were over 50 and it was my duty to care for them until they died. When I was 32 I went to work for a professional man (married and misunderstood — I know now, they all are.) He managed to sell me on the idea of going out with him. We always went some distance from our city. This went on for 22 years. I never could have any boy friends because he claimed he couldn't tell ahead of time when he could get away, so I sat and waited.

ABBY

I should have known better but, Abby, you've never been an "old maid" and had life and romance pass you by, I am over 50 now and don't need any of the usual sermons, but do you think a decent man my age would want me? By the way, the man who ruined my life is successfully directing the lives of others, knowing full well he spoiled mine.

OLD MAID

DEAR OLD MAID: No one can "spoil" your life without your consent. Don't look back. A change of scenery and new surroundings could offer a fresh start. Every day "decent" men marry women who have had something to live down.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: In the case of a married couple where the husband is very affectionate and passionate and the wife is cool and wants to be left alone, what do you think is bound to happen after about six or seven years?

TEMPTED

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I know you get lots of letters from teenagers asking about their love life, but this is really serious. I am 14 and so is Tom. When he talks to me on the phone he tells his mother he is talking to one of the boys. When he is over to my house he tells his mother he is out with the gang. Is he ashamed of me or what? (P. S. Another thing, Abby, are nuts bad for your complexion? Someone said they were worse than chocolate).

NANCY

DEAR NANCY: Your boy friend is still at the shy age and doesn't want to advertise the fact that he's got a girl. If you like him, help him keep it quiet. (P. S. About the nuts—Teenagers with especially oily skins should avoid them.)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister writes him letters at work when she knows his address at home. He asks me to answer some of her letters because she is all the time asking for recipes and addresses. The last time he brought me a letter, I noticed pages 4 and 5 were missing. I asked him what happen to these missing pages and he laughted it off. What would you do in my place?

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: Let your husband giggle up the addresses and recipes and answer his sister's letters himself.

Platten-Massey Nuptials Read in Birmingham

Roberta Lou Massey and William Joseph Platten were married this morning at Holy Name Church in Birmingham.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Massey of Birmingham and Mrs. Arthur J. Platten of Royal Oak.

TAFFETA GOWN

The bride's gown was of crystal white taffeta with Alencon lace outlining the round neckline. The bell-shaped skirt formed a court train; and a Swedish crown of jeweled lace petals held her silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Patricia Ann Massey was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Joan Mary Renehan of Chicago, Rhoda Mary Comer of Chicago and Mrs. Robert Keith Miller of Royal Oak.

The bridegroom's brother, Thomas E. Platten was best man. Ushers were Peter Platten, Philip Day Bingham, Charles Forberg, and Thomas McInerney.

ISLAND HONEYMOON

After a reception at Devon Gables the couple will leave for a honeymoon to Sea Island, Ga. The bride has selected a beige linen suit for her going away outfit.

They will live in Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Massey wore a blue lace gown and jacket and a flowered hat for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Platten was dressed in navy shantung. Both had orchids pinned to their purses.

Mrs. Levely Hosts Tuesday-Tee Club

Mrs. Floyd Levely of Alice avenue was hostess to the Tuesday-Tee Golf League for a buffet breakfast preceding members' first day of their golfing season. To complete the morning, the group played nine holes of golf at Pontiac Country Club.

Mrs. Calvin Warner and Mrs. Donald Swain were received as members. Twenty-six members were present.

The next meeting will be held in June at the Pontiac Country Club.

Mrs. Susan J. Miner

Bloomfield Honors Its First Lady

By GEORGE TRUMBULL JR.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — If you knew Susie like this little town knows Susie, you too would know there's no other sweet lady more deserving the title as "First Lady of Bloomfield."

★ ★ ★

This title was bestowed for the first time in the city's history last night upon Mrs. Susan J. Miner as 160 friends turned out at the Kingsley Inn to give one of the city's original settlers the biggest surprise of her 71 memorable years.

And Susie—as all her hundreds of friends have known her for years—will never forget May 8, 1959.

So overwhelmed was she by all the beautiful tributes paid her that she would ask, "You don't mind if I cry do you?" as those came forward to wish her well. No one cared a bit—matter of fact, she wasn't alone in the tear-dropping department.

Even U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart skipped the many birthday celebrations across the country for former President Harry S. Truman, to hurriedly fly into Detroit from Washington in order to pay his respects to Susie.

When it was all over and her doctor ordered her home for some rest, the silver-haired friend of all Bloomfield Hills residents said: "It's like a big dream, I love you all."

A PROCLAMATION

To show their deep love and respect for Susie on her 71st birthday, the Hills City Commission proclaimed all future May 8's "Sue Miner Day in Bloomfield Hills."

Everyone agreed that no one could have hit the nail more square on the head in describing Susie than what John R. MacManus, of MacManus John & Adams had to say about her in a testimonial enclosed in a leather album which all signed and was engraved "To The First Lady of Bloomfield."

"If ever one person epitomizes this all prevading and healthful atmosphere (of the city) it is Sue Miner. Everybody's friend and everlastingly friendly to all who come within the sphere of her warm and understanding personality, she is universally loved, admired and respected," the tribute read in part.

The name of Miner is synonymous with this residential city of 2,800. Susie moved here in 1916 where her late husband, Tunis Miner, six years later opened another of his Pontiac area grocery stores in a section of the Fox and Hounds Inn.

It was from visits to the Miner's Grocery that everybody got to know Susie. And the charming "First Lady" of the city never was too busy peddling Harry's fresh vegetables to ask how the Tigers were doing.

Former Tigers president and owner, Walter O. "Spike" Briggs Jr. was among last night's many guests. Edwin J. Anderson, president and general manager of the Lions, couldn't attend. He was home in bed with the flu.

After several relocations of the town's focal point of news, the grocery store was sold several years ago. Now Susie's days are spent helping her son, Richard W., of Troy, operate "Miner's," a package liquor and gift store.

She still lives in a white frame home on West Long Lake road, just west of Woodward avenue, which once sat at the present Woodward-Long Lake intersection and served as a trading post and inn along the old Pontiac Trail.

SHE'S SPORTS FAN

One of the highlights of her birthday celebration was when master of ceremonies E. A. Schirmer presented her with lifetime passes to all Detroit Lions and Tigers games. For the avid fan also went an autographed baseball and football which Tigers and Lions had signed.

Some 50 telegrams from all over the county and from Europe were read by Schirmer from friends of Mrs. Miner who couldn't attend.

And what's a birthday party without a cake. A four-layer production with a Fourth of July sparkler on top was placed in front of the honored guest. She was too busy greeting young and old alike to worry about birthday wishes and slicing up the decorative masterpiece. Her wish had come true already.

For as long as Bloomfield Hills continues to sprout its wings as a nice and peaceful city in which to live, all will recall another tribute paid to the sweetheart of the city:

"Look at the whole roster of the citizens of Bloomfield Hills, and you will find not one star in its brilliant galaxy to outshine that of Sue Miner."

Installs New Officers

"Music in Spring" was the theme of the meeting of General Richardson Chapter of Daughters of American Revolution, held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Everett Peterson of West Iroquois road.

★ ★ ★

New officers installed were Mrs. Lisle Echtinaw, regent; Mrs. Earl McHugh, vice regent; Grace Clark, chaplain; Mrs. Frank Allen, recording secretary; and Mrs. E. D. Benjamin, corresponding secretary.

Others are Alice Serrell, treasurer; Dr. Sarah VanHoosen Jones, registrar; Adah Shelly, historian; Mrs. Maxwell Doerr, librarian; Mrs. E. C. Huthwaite and Ora Hallenbeck, members of the administrative committee.

★ ★ ★

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. H. B. Austin, Mrs. Benjamin, Mrs. Elmer Buddenbaum, Mrs. Homer Osmun, Mrs. I. A. Woodward, Mrs. E. B. Wallace, Mrs. Bradley L. Scott and Miss Clark, chairman of the committee. Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin presided at the tea table.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Roland Gegoux was in charge of the program. She read from "Men as Trees Walking," by Margaret Applegarth. A group of spring songs by Mrs. Jack Helbey, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Bennett, followed.

★ ★ ★

A guest was Mrs. Robert Sawyer, and Mrs. H. H. Shuart of Rochester was welcomed as a new member.

Reports of the DAR Continental Congress, held in Washington, D. C., were given by Mrs. Echtinaw, Mrs. Harry Going, Mrs. Scott, and Mrs. Allen Monroe.

Auxiliary to Meet

The Auxiliary of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will meet at 11 a. m. Monday in the auditorium of McAuley School of Practical Nursing on Fulton street.

Traverse City Mother of 4 Is 'Mrs. Michigan – 1959'

Mrs. Elizabeth H. Stokes is the 37-year-old, 5-foot-5 wife of Traverse City surgeon, Dr. G. Edward Stokes.

★ ★ ★

Mrs Stokes, a college graduate, was picked from 13 finalists Thursday for the "Mrs. Michigan" crown and the right to represent the state in the "Mrs. America" contest June 11-23 at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the crown, Mrs. Stokes won $2,000 in prizes and an all-expense-trip for two to the national contest. If Mrs. Stokes is named "Mrs. America" she will be crowned June 20 and win some $15,000 worth of prizes.

Mrs. Stokes' children are Patricia, 11; Thomas, 9; and Nancy, 5.

★ ★ ★

Two of the judges who selected her were home economists. The other three judges were former "Mrs. Michigan" title holders. The Home economists were Mrs. Gertrude Capps and Mrs. Rex T. Withers, both of Detroit. The former titleholders were Mrs. Barbara Dolan of Greenville, 1958; Mrs. Mary Weitzel of Detroit, 1957; and Mrs. Nila Dreger of East Grand Rapids, 1956.

Epsilon Unit Holds Installation

Officers were installed when Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority met at the home of Mrs. H. A. Mitchell on Lansdowne street Thursday with Mrs. John Landon as cohostess.

Officers include Mrs. Gordon Rice, president; Mrs. Landon, vice president; Mrs. Cornelius Crowley, recording secretary; Mrs. Genevieve Van't Roer, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Mildred Smith, treasurer.

Chaplains are Mrs. Norman Underwood and Mrs. Lewis Cornell. Mrs. Charles Hampshire is sergeant-at-arms, and keepers of the archives are Mrs. H. A. Mitchell and Mrs. Effie Mitchell.

Mrs. Effie Mitchell, principal of Herrington Hills School, was initiated at the meeting. Officers officiating were Mrs. Lola Sandage, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Charles Hampshire and Mrs. Norman Underwood.

Harvey Berin

It's magic, presented as only Harvey Berin knows how! At its best in sheers over an opaque lining, it is handled with the utmost simplicity, the main detail in the pleats at either side of the skirt that are almost on the bias. This treatment gives beautiful motion to the skirt, as well as an expensive look.

Make it in organdy, silk or rayon chiffon, bemberg sheer, voile, organza over a lining of china silk or rayon taffeta and scatter some flowers or embroidery medallions. If what you're in the market for is a simple black dress, this is it — in silk or rayon crepe, silk or rayon jersey.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
8	33	23	34	16¼
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 6 yards of 42 inch material for dress and 2¾ yards of 39 inch material for lining.

To order Pattern No. 1376, state size, send $1.00. For HARVEY BERIN label, send 25c. For 96 page Pattern Book No. 15, send $1.00.

New Styles Dependent on Details

PARIS (NEA)—Now that the fanfare of the Paris collections is ended, it's time to take a closer look at the details of the new fashions. For these details do much to make up the whole picture.

There is much discussion about the widened shoulder line. Actually, this is a line achieved by expert cutting and seaming rather than padding. And it hasn't the remotest connection with the sharp Joan Crawford look of the 1930s. So don't start reaching for those foam rubber shoulder pads; you won't need them.

The waistline, as we all know, is back to normal. But it isn't a dull normal. Belts range from the very narrow to the ultra-wide obi or the shaped corselet belt. They're done in leather as well as self-fabric.

Blouses are worn every hour of the day and on to midnight. Many repeat the gay print of a suit jacket lining. Others are done Gibson Girl style but there are sleeveless blouses, too, in tucked chiffon or organdie.

Mature women get a break with the flattering new necklines. There are soft, draped fichus, draped cowl collars and pleated berthas, all of them flattering and all stressing the wider shoulder lines.

Hat and shoes in the same floral print are shown for wear with a simple solid color dress or suit. And necklaces of the bib variety, from three to 10 strands, are shown as fill-in for deep necklines. Some are fake pearls in pink, black or smoked shades and some are mixtures of pearls and crystals.

Need to Understand Mate's Viewpoint

By RUTH MILLETT

There would be more happy marriages—

If more husbands noticed and commented on their wives' attempts to make their homes attractive, their cooking imaginative, their entertaining easy and pleasant.

If wives understood that a man can be just as tied to an office as a woman can be to a house and children. Just because a man leaves home every morning doesn't mean he is necessarily going out into a fascinating world of adventure.

If husbands realized that wives who are tied down all day occasionally do get cabin fever and need to have an occasional evening out that is as carefree as a date.

If husbands tried to understand their wives instead of dismissing the feminine viewpoint with, "There's no understanding the way a woman's mind works."

If women sat down and figured out the real needs of their families instead of wanting everything their neighbors have.

If men treated their wives like business partners instead of treating them like financial lame brains.

If wives paid attention to their husbands' ideas on bringing up the children, instead of thinking they know it all because they've read a few books by "experts."

If more husbands accepted responsibility for making decisions regarding their children instead of taking the easy, "go ask Mother" routine.

Try Cream

This Can Make Lashes Lush

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "Is there any cream which will make the eyelashes grow?"

A. There are creams on the market which make this claim. I have not had personal experience with them. However, I do think that the stimulation which your lids get from the gentle massage the application provides may well promote the growth of the lashes. The use of a little lash brush is helpful for the same reason.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 125 pounds. My measurements are bust 35, waist 26 and hips 36 inches. I think I should lose at least 15 pounds but my twin sister thinks I do not need to lose weight. Who do you think is right? My sister's weight and meaurements are about the same."

A. Are you sure that you are just 5 feet tall? If so, you should lose some weight. Even if you have a very heavy frame you should lose at least 10 pounds. Do this slowly in a sensible way. Eat smaller portions and cut out in-between snacks that are high in calories, such as candy bars and soda fountain mixtures.

Q. "What should my weight be? I am 5 feet, 6½ inches tall and weigh 134 pounds. I am not large boned. I am 44 years old."

A. If you have a medium frame, you should weigh about 138 pounds. If you have a small frame, your weight should be about 125 pounds.

Q. "I have a problem with fat legs. My legs just have no shape at all. Is there any exercise I could take? I am very self-conscious about them."

A. If you have straight up and down legs this is usually a question of build and there is little to be done. However, if your calves are large you can slim those down. Do the following exercise. Lie on the floor on your back, legs straight, arms resting in the floor at your sides. Lift the left leg up as far as comfortable, knee stiff. Pull or point your left toe back toward your head. Lower leg. Do the same thing with your right leg. Continue, alternating.

Q. "What is the best time of day to do exercises? I have heard that they make the figure much prettier if they are done the first thing in the morning."

A. The time of day has nothing to do with it. Take your exercises when it is most convenient for you.

New Members to Be Received

Five Children's Choirs to Sing Group of Songs at First Methodist

New members will be received at the 10 a.m. worship hour at First Methodist Church Sunday.

The Rev. Paul T. Hart will preach on "Motherhood Plus," with the Sanctuary Choir singing "No Man Is an Island."

The entire group of children's choirs will give their final performance of the season tomorrow under the direction of Merlin B. Asplin. This includes the Cherub, Songsters, Carolers, Chapel and Junior High Choirs. The songs will be dedicated to their mothers.

The Wednesday evening prayer fellowship will continue the study of the Apostle's Creed under the leadership of the pastor. The service begins at 7:30 p.m.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet at noon Thursday.

Following the luncheon in the dining hall, the program will be held in the church parlors on the second floor. Mrs. T. J. Conquest, president of the Flint District, will install the new officers.

Church of God Youth Slate Singspiration

Young people of the Church of God, 575 E. Pike St. are sponsoring a singspiration at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The service, under the direction of the visiting minister the Rev. Joe Southerland, will feature the Kinsmen Quartet, Archa Peck and the Southernaires. Jim Forester and the Melatone Trio will also be on the program.

During the evening a free-will offering will be received for the benefit of Lee College, a Church of God training center.

At the close of the service, refreshments will be served in the church hall. The Rev. Harold F. Douglas is pastor.

Joslyn Avenue Church Revives Evening Worship

The Rev. E. I. Watkins and the congregation of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church have revived the Sunday evening worship service that was suspended a year ago.

Sunday morning at 10:45, the Rev. E. I. Watkins, pastor, will preach on "Do Not Glory in Men" and at 7:30 p.m. his topic will be "A Man in Christ."

Ruth Ann Van Woert will play a piano solo, "The Holy City," Sunday evening.

At the recent business meeting of the church bowling league Layton Smith was chosen president; Phebe Henderson, vice president; Carole Sapelak, secretary; and Robert Dunham, treasurer.

HONORING MARY — Patricia Soules of 150 Preston Ave., as queen, crowned a statue of Mary, the mother of Christ, at the conclusion of a short ceremony in which the children of St. Benedict School participated Tuesday. The crowning symbolized the dedication of the month of May in honor of Mar. Margaret St. Dennis (left) of 1107 Boston Ave. was the attendant.

Mothers to Be Honored

Sunday is Mother's Day, officially proclaimed here, but also celebrated in Canada and Mexico and a few other countries.

It was in May 1907 under the inspiration of Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia who thought that at least once a year sons and daughters should pay a tribute to their mothers, that the movement was started.

In May 1913 the House of Representatives adopted a resolution calling upon the President, his cabinet, the senators, representatives and all offiicals of the federal government to wear a white carnation on the second Sunday of May in observance of the day.

Throughout the years, the custom has become quite established of wearing a white flower if your mother is deceased, a colored one if she is living.

Churches throughout the area are planning special sermons, music and programs—all to honor Mother.

All mothers will be given a carnation at the 10 a. m. service Sunday at Crescent Hills Baptist Church. The Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn, pastor, will observe Mother's Day by preaching on the theme, "Honoring Mother."

Mothers and daughters of the church will be honored at 7 tonight at the parsonage by the Rev. and Mrs. Bohn.

Three daughters, Carol Simpson, Judy Jones and Marlene Smith, will sing several selections and the film, "For the Record," will be shown.

CHURCH OF GOD

The Church of God, 132 Wessen St., will observe Mother's Day at 3 p. m. Sunday with a program of instrumental music, and readings by members of the church. The theme will be "Mother."

Mrs. Esther Kidd of the Church of God in Detroit will be guest speaker. In charge of the affair will be Mrs. Irene Christman and Nancy Milton. Elder M. J. Watkins is pastor.

TRINITY BAPTIST

A Mother's Day breakfast sponsored by the Couples Club will be served from 8 to 10 a. m. Sunday at Trinity Baptist Church.

The Rev. Joseph W. Moore will speak on "A Mother's Wages" at the 11 a. m. service, and at 7:30 p. m. his subject will be "Partnership With God."

NEW BETHEL

Mrs. A. H. Jackson will be guest speaker for the Mother's Day program at 7 p. m. Sunday in New Bethel Baptist Church.

FIRST CHRISTIAN

The congregation of First Christian Church will honor mothers at services Sunday.

The Rev. D. D. McColl, pastor, will preach on "First Steps" and the choir will sing "The Vision of Our Savior" at 11 a. m.

Plants will be given the oldest mother present, the mother with the most children present at the service, and to the mother with the youngest baby present.

SUNNY VALE CHAPEL

Members of the Sunny Vale Chapel in Waterford Township will have a "Supplies" party at 7:30 p. m. Thursday for Ronald Combs, their missionary candidate to South America.

Supplies needed on the mission field are clothing, medicines, household equipment and tools. Members of the church have been asked to help complete the list of essential supplies, according to Rev. James Parker.

CHILD EVANGELISM FELLOWSHIP

Other officers chosen were Thomas Racine, vice president; Clare Brown, secretary; Neva Brien, treasurer; and committee members Lowell Singer, Mrs. Thomas Racine, Fred Meyer and Arthur E. Dalby.

Mrs. Ralph Vogel was named supervisor of the Good News Clubs sponsored by the organization.

WATERFORD COMMUNITY

The Rev. Joe Talley, former night club entertainer from Greensboro, N. C., will conduct a 10-day evangelistic campaign in the Waterford Community Church, 5860 Andersonville Rd., Waterford, Wednesday through May 24.

The evangelist and his wife will present musical numbers on the trombone, banjo, piano and organ. He also will preach. Sunday evening the service will begin at 7 p. m. During the week meetings will start at 7:30.

Presbyterians to Bring Pledge

'Mother and Christian Home' Sermon Theme of Sunday Services

Members of First Presbyterian Church will bring in their pledge for the modernizing of the church kitchen at the two morning services Sunday.

Basil B. Kimball and Howard Powers, in charge of the project, said work on the kitchen will begin June 15.

Mother's Day will be observed at both worship hours tomorrow. "Making Motherhood Blessed" will be the Rev. Galen El Hershey's sermon topic at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Richard Harris will sing "Song of Mothers" by Voris.

Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor, will preach on "The Christian Home" at 11 a. m. Lyndon Salathiel will direct the choir in singing "The Greatest of These Is Love."

Judy Hillman, Darlene Croy and Salle Hilderley will participate in the Junior High youth meeting Sunday evening and the film, "The American Jew" will be shown.

Taking part in the Senior High group at 5:30 will be Marty and Davy Everett, Lois Carlson and Susan Coleman.

"Religions of Man" will be the subject of the evening when the Out of School young people meet at 7 p. m.

On Thursday evening, William W. Donaldson will show colored pictures taken in Europe and the Holy Land. The program, sponsored by the Women's June group, is open to the public.

Oakland Church to Give Mothers Remembrance

"The Prayer of Mother" will be the topic of the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach's sermon at the 10 a. m. service tomorrow in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

A remembrance will be given each mother.

The subject of the Pioneer's meeting at 5:45 p. m. will be known as "Barricades and Stumbling Blocks." The Builders' group will study "Youth in the Church."

The pastor's subject at 7 p. m. will be "Joshua, Soldier of the Lord." R. G. Crites and the Junior Choir will sing.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland Avenue Church will be in charge of the service at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Pontiac Rescue Mission with Gerald Shafer, the speaker.

With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again.

United Church Women to Mark 30th Anniversary

Protestant church women from all over the state will gather at the First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham on May 13-14 to celebrate the 30th anniversary of United Church Women.

"The Meaning of Christian Freedom," the convention theme, will be discussed by both state and national leaders at the two-day sessions.

A coffee hour will be provided during registration on Wednesday from 9 to 9:25 a.m. after which a Bible study will be led by Dr. C. Merrill Lenox, director of the Michigan Council of Churches.

Following the business session led by Mrs. Jesse Jai McNeil, state president, a symposium is scheduled with Mrs. James Evans, a national director from New York City, the speaker.

The anniversary banquet has been arranged for 6:30 p.m. followed by a public meeting at 8 p.m. when Dr. Celestine Fernando, Anglican chaplain at the University of Ceylon, will speak.

Here on leave as visiting counsellor for international students at the University of Michigan, Dr. Fernando will use the anniversary theme for his subject. A reception will follow.

Dr. Thelma G. James, professor of English at Wayne State University, will conduct the Bible study on Thursday.

Election of officers and adoption of resolutions will take place during the morning business session.

As a special feature, guided tours have been arranged for visits to Christ Church Cranbrook, the new Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and Kirk in the Hills.

Associate Pastor Accepts Toledo Call

The Rev. Karl W. Ostberg, associate pastor of First Congregational Church, has given notice of his acceptance of the call to the pastorate of Mayfair Congregational Church in Toledo, Ohio.

The Music Board will present David Wilson, pianist, at the May parish dinner Wednesday. Members and friends of the church are invited, said the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor.

All couples of First Congregational have been invited by the Couples Club to attend the weekend retreat May 29-31 at the YMCA Camp near Hale. Reservations may be made through Jack Moore.

IT SEEMS
The above phrase is frequently used by many in their conversations with others in their everyday walk of life, and such is permissive if they so desire. However, when speaking religiously we should always say the Bible teaches, for we should always keep in mind that the Bible contains, "All things pertaining to life and godliness." (II Pet. 1:3).
Have you ever heard an individual say when speaking of the church, IT SEEMS TO ME THAT ANY CHURCH IS ALRIGHT, JUST TAKE THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE. Or perhaps you might have heard someone say, THE CHURCH DOES NOT SAVE. Perhaps many of you have so said, if not perhaps this is your unspoken conception. But, friends, this is a misconception. Have you ever truly contemplated the inconsistency of individuals as it pertains to religious matters. In Ephisians chapter four, the writer affirms that: THERE IS ONE GOD, WE ALL AGREE, he says, THERE IS ONE LORD, WE ALL AGREE, he says ONE HOPE, WE ALL AGREE, but here our agreement ends. It should not for there is more, but unfortunately the inconsistency of men will not allow us to agree further. In the same chapter, the writer says, THERE IS ONE FAITH, THERE IS ONE BAPTISM, THERE IS ONE CHURCH. ON THESE WE CANNOT AGREE, WHY? If one God means just ONE, and one Lord means just ONE, WHY DOES NOT ONE BODY WHICH IS THE CHURCH (See Eph. 1:22, Col. 1:24), mean just ONE CHURCH. "O CONSISTENCY THOU ART A PRICELESS JEWEL."
For a long time I have heard men express various opinions regarding the church, some would say the church is all important, others would say the church is non-essential and has nothing to do with the salvation of an individual, but I fear the most of us have forgotten to see what the LORD THINKS OF THE CHURCH. The Bible says God thought so much of the church that he made Christ the head of it. Col. 1:18. Christ thought so much of it that he gave his blood for it. Acts 20:28. Christ thought so much of the church until he made it his bride and is going to save it. See Rom. 7:4 and Eph. 5:23. IN THE FACE OF ALL THESE FACTS, HOW SAY SOME THE CHURCH IS NOT IMPORTANT? The Bible says it is, as for me I WILL TAKE THE BIBLE, WILL YOU? Are you in the church, (I do not use the term in a denominational sense for division is wrong, but in the Bible sense), if not you should be, for Christ is going to save the church. Eph. 5:23. Believest Thou This?

3 Million Policies a Day to Be 'Brain's' Speed

NEW YORK (UPI)—A new computer is being built that will go through more than three million health insurance contracts at least twice a day to find and handle the 65 thousand on which action must be taken daily.

The computer, which can "read" at the rate of 40,000 documents a minute, will go to work for Blue Cross in the metropolitan New York area. It is being built at the Minneapolis Honeywell's Datamatic plant in Boston.

Song, Laughter, Praise Leave Truman Speechless at 75th Fete

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation saluted Harry S. Truman on his 75th birthday Friday night.

It was a coast-to-coast party where the fast-stepping little man from Missouri heard himself described as a man who grew to greatness.

The tributes came from Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives, the great, the not-great, friends, family and old rivals. There was song and laughter, and Truman himself almost lost his glasses laughing at comedian Mort Sahl.

When it was all over, the usually voluble Truman admitted he was at a loss for words. "I don't know what there is to say," he said. "No man in my recollection has had a treat such as you have given me tonight. I can't talk politics under circumstances like this. I will always remember."

Then he smiled as he admitted that he might "take a hand in 1960. It's in my blood, I can't help it." He didn't elaborate.

His birthday party was marked by 66 parties in cities across the country. Sixteen of them were linked by closed-circuit television.

Here in New York, House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) told him "Harry, history is going to be kind to you. They are going to forget the few times that you have not taken dead aim, but have shot from the hip. They are going to remember you for the great things you have done."

One of the most dramatic moments came when Eleanor Roosevelt described the April day in 1945 when she told Vice President Truman that President Roosevelt was dead. Of Truman she said: "The character of my friend was proved on that terrible day. He was frightened—as he should have been. For no man had ever been placed so abruptly in such a seat of responsibility.

"And yet there was never in him the slightest hint that he would try to evade what fate had thrust upon him. I knew then he was a good man. Later I thrilled to watch him grow to greatness. With every decision he grew, until to the entire world he was a towering figure."

In Chicago Adlai Stevenson urged Democrats to remember "that we will continue to serve our nation only if we remain as perpetually young and hopeful, as open to new ideas, and as eager for new initiatives as faithful and as fearless, as modest and as proud, above all, as human and as free as Harry Truman."

More Hospitals Face Strikes

Threats at 15 Others in New York Would Bring Total to 21

NEW YORK (AP)—A strike by nonprofessional and housekeeping workers against six nonprofit hospitals enters its second day today with union threats against 15 others.

★ ★ ★

The six hospitals—all privately supported in contrast to city hospitals—were struck Friday morning by 2,000 members of the retail Drug Employes Union, and picket lines were set up.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Robert F. Wagner has summoned all parties to a City Hall meeting this afternoon.

A spokesman said Friday union members were prepared to walk out of nine other voluntary hospitals within 48 hours.

A rival teamsters union sent telegraphed strike threats to six other hospitals in Manhattan and Brooklyn. It demanded rights to bargain in behalf of 900 members it claims in the institutions. No strike date was set.

It was the first major hospital strike in the city's history.

Supervisory personnel and volunteers were caring for 2,500 patients in the struck hospitals: Lenox Hill, Mount Sinai, Beth Israel and Beth David hospitals in Manhattan, Bronx Hospital, and Brooklyn Jewish.

Volunteer workers, including doctors' wives, were helping out at the struck institutions. Paper plates and cups replaced china, and frozen, prepackaged dinners were used to simplify the cooking problem.

Row Over Coed Ends in Murder

Student Kills Another at Ohio College Dorm in Scrap About Date

OXFORD, Ohio (UPI)—A Miami, Ohio University student was shot and killed and another wounded early today by a third student during an argument over a coed.

Police searched for another freshman, Herbert Allen Lucas, 18, of Springfield, Ohio. Police say Lucas shot Sayles and Walker.

University Public Relations Director Robert Howard said Lucas apparently argued with Walker over a girl the two had been dating and then shot Sayles, a dormitory supervisor, for attempting to stop him from leaving.

Sayles, whose mother was either on campus or en route for Mother's Day, was shot in the head with a .22 caliber revolver. He was found slumped in a hallway outside Walker's second floor room.

Howard said Walker had a date last night with Sandra Epps, 18, a freshman from Greenville, Ohio. He said Miss Epps told police that Lucas met them at the girl's dorm when they returned from a movie.

Walker told police that Lucas later came to his room about 1:05 a.m. and started an argument about the girl. Walker said he turned from Lucas and was shot in the upper part of his shoulder. Sayles was apparently shot when he rushed to the scene of the shooting.

One Dies, 5 Unhurt as AF Jets Collide

SHAW AIR FORCE BASE, S.C. (UP)—One airman was killed and five others escaped injury near here Friday when two Air Force jet bombers collided.

One plane crashed in flames, carrying its navigator, Capt. Julian T. Stewart, 32, of Miami, Fla., to his death. The other limped back to base, its fuselage severely damaged.

Three RB66 twin-jet reconnaissance bombers were practicing formation routines at 11,500 feet. Eyewitnesses said a wing of the bomber which crashed collided with the underside of one of the other bombers.

★ ★ ★

Two crewmen ejected themselves as the plane caught fire and plunged toward the ground. Capt. R. E. Woodworth of Fort Bragg, Calif., the pilot, and Capt. J. F. Young of Lyon, Kan., the co-pilot, parachuted to safety.

★ ★ ★

The third plane, with a crew of three unhurt, landed at the base but its landing gear and underside were badly damaged.

Ike Hopes to Get Another Round of Golf in Today

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower counted on the weather man to come through with a promise of more clear skies today so he could get in another 18 holes of golf.

The President and George E. Allen, a friend and neighbor, were on the links at Gettysburg Country Club Friday as soon as they could get there after Eisenhower's arrival from Washington. They toured the nine-hole layout twice.

He drove from Washington at midday Friday with a short detour to Walter Reed Army Hospital to drop in on cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles, the former secretary of state.

State Beaver Take Down

LANSING (UP)—Michigan trappers took 15,607 beaver and 830 otter last season, the Conservation Department reports. The department said poor trapping conditions reduced the harvest from last year's all-time record of nearly 20,000 beaver and 900 otter.

Believe Release Near for Pilot Held by Reds

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Communist East Germany was believed today to be ready to release an American civilian pilot it has detained for six weeks.

★ ★ ★

Emory A. Vaughan, 32, of Portsmouth, Va., was arrested by the East Germans when he strayed into their territory on a flight between Mannheim and Neurnberg in West Germany on March 27.

★ ★ ★

Today there were strong indications Vaughan would be turned over to west probably within the next 24 hours.

Fund Lack Claimed for Missile Projects

WASHINGTON (AP)— Several military leaders, in secret testimony made public today, complain that their missile development programs are not getting enough money in the administration's proposed defense budget.

None of them dissented formally from President Eisenhower's budget recommendations, defended by the administration as an adequate mixture of deterrence and defense.

The officers said there was not enough money budgeted for:

1. The Nike-Zeus program, the Army's hope for destroying enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

2. The Air Force's program of building more U.S. intercontinental missiles.

★ ★ ★

3. The Navy's Polaris missile-submarine combination, which the Navy views as a more effective retaliatory threat for the next few years than anything the Air Force has now.

Divers Give Up Hunt for Third Fisherman

MUNISING (AP)—The search for the body of a third commercial fisherman drowned in Munising Bay was abandoned yesterday.

The bodies of two other fishermen drowned in a Wednesday night storm near Lake Superior were found Thursday by State Police skin divers.

Divers gave up the search for Clarence Desjardins, 69, of Munising. The divers had recovered the bodies of Harvey Desjardins, 36, Clarence's son, and Lou Powell, 65, both of Munising.

Paul Newman Comes to Dinner in Shirtsleeves

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A girl at a cocktail party had been saying "Paul Newman is the prettiest man who has come along in a generation.

WILSON

Prettiest to women; to men one of the most interesting. He was sitting in a back booth at Downey's — which he likes to call "the rich man's Nedicks" — in his shirt sleeves because he had not worn a jacket for his dinner date with me. A coatless customer is rare nowadays, but then Newman is a rare customer.

"I'm a little late," I said. "I had thought our date was at Sardi's."

the top of a bottle of German beer. Paul grinned handsomely across

The way I'm dressed, Sardi's usually won't let me in."

He expained it. "I guess it harkens back to the days of sweat-short actors in blue jeans. But when I get up, I got 50 things to do. I chase around town—I got a scooter.

"What'm I gonna do? Run back to the house in the Village to change clothes to have dinner?"

OBVIOUS FAVORITE

"Could I make you gentlemen a special dessert?" asked the waitress, to whom Paul was obviously a favorite. With or without jacket.

"Has it got alcohol in it?" Paul asked. She said it had.

"Then bring me rice pudding," he commanded. I'll drink with anybody after 11 o'clock or on a Sunday if they want to come with me. But not when I'm working."

NEWMAN

He was hoping to get to that nap now.

"It's an absolute necessity," the new father said. (He and Joanne Woodward had just brought home their baby girl.)

"I wanted to come back to Broadway and I'm glad I did," Newman went on. "But it's a lot of work, boy. I forgot.

"You know I made a great discovery when Joanne was in the hospital. I used to be a good ball player. I played ball one day and watched three flies go over my head. I couldn't hit. I had no depth perception. I used to be a good pool player, too. It was the same with pool. No good any more.

"It suddenly came to me with immense force, 'Newman, you're 34 years old! Heightened by the fact the hair line has receded!"

Beneath the shirt-sleeved, jacketless exterior, though, Newman is deeply analytical. "My God, five years ago if anybody'd said I'd be working with Elia Kazan and Tennessee Williams and Geraldine Page—

"There is always that terrible fear, though, that one day your fraud will be discovered and you'll be back in the dog kennel business.

"That's why it's good to work on Broadway as well as Hollywood. You know you'll get the Hell kicked out of you here once in a while—but if you don't you'll fall back on a lot of successful mannerisms . . ."

Guard Unit Poised for Textile Strife

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — A Greensboro National Guard unit was poised today to move into this strike-torn town should new violence erupt at the Harriet-Henderson cotton mills.

Highway patrolmen, many of whom have been here since the middle of February, were pulled out because of the calmness of the situation.

But Gov. Luther Hodges said Friday any new strike-connected flareups would be met by the immediate call of National Guard units.

Adj. Gen. Capus Waynick said a 71 man military police detachment in Greensboro has been placed on standby alert.

The strike by the Textile Workers Union of America started last Nov. 15 when contract negotiations broke down. The mills reopened on a limited basis Feb. 16. Since then, the mills have been the scene of periodic violence.

WINNING RUN—Tiger Frank Bolling skids into home with the winning run against Kansas City after he tripled and scored behind two runners in a 5-4 victory last night. A fumbled relay allowed the 2nd sacker to tally the clincher in the 9th inning rally. Larry Doby, who would have been the next batter, is shown behind Bolling.

Bolling, Narleski Break Their Slumps

Frank Triples Home 2 Runs in 9th Frame

Ray Wins 1st in Relief as Tigers Rally to Beat Kansas City, 5-4

Bolling had gone 19 times to bat without a base hit and Narleski had been pitching like he had forgotten how. But last night at Briggs Stadium their combined performances, given a big boost by Kansas City fielding, made the Detroit Tigers a winner for the fifth time in six tries under new manager Jimmie Dykes. The score was 5-4.

Bolling slammed a two-run, ninth-inning triple that produced the tying runs, then scored the winning run himself when the relay from the outfield got away from cutoff man Hector Lopez.

The Tigers had gone into the final inning trailing 4-2 as ex-teammate Ray Herbert had victory all but tucked away with a nifty four-hitter. He got into trouble when Harvey Kuenn and Lou Berberet singled. Then came Bolling's smash and the error by Lopez that sent 16,176 chilled fans home happy.

Soon after he took over for the deposed Bill Norman, Dykes sat Narleski down for a heart-to-heart chat about Narleski's pitching. At that time the statistics showed six ineffective relief appearances, one failure as a starter, no victories, four defeats and a 13.91 earned-run average.

"I just asked him if he was worried," Dykes related. "He said he wasn't. I told him he should be."

Narleski said the new manager told him to "forget everything that has happened up to now."

★ ★ ★

"And I did, too," Narleski explained. "I made up my mind I'd just go out there and throw as hard as I could."

Narleski pitched only two innings against the Athletics. He faced only six batters and struck out half of them. His fast ball seldom has been more effective, even in his heyday with the Cleveland Indians.

Don Mossi, the starter, was lifted for a seventh inning pinch hitter after he yielded all four of the A's runs — three of them driven home by Bob Cerv on a triple and a sacrifice fly.

Harvey Kuenn, making his first start in right field, drove in a first inning run for Detroit with a single and Lou Berberet's second home run gave Detroit another run in the fifth.

The Tigers' spirited start under Dykes has the manager confident the club is in for much better things.

"I know what the record is now," he said, "but I think we can make it to .500 and maybe go on from there a ways. We'll try to get this pitching staff straightened around. It looks like Narleski and Dave Sisler might give us a good bullpen. Getting a base hit where it counts, like we did tonight, means victory instead of defeat. And I'm for all the victories we can get."

"For the first time since I left the coaching box at third base I found myself standing up and waving Frank (Bolling) in," he said. "I was really windmilling him."

Ferrell will have to make the decision today on what to do with Herman Wehmeier and three other players to cut the squad down to the 25-man limit. Wehmeier is due to come off the disabled list tonight. The sore-armed right hander didn't appear in one spring training game.

Only 3 Hits for Tribe but Colavito's Enough

By The Associated Press

Those Cleveland Indians are socko with Rocco.

Take last night. They managed just three hits at Chicago, but Rocky Colavito had two and drove in three runs, ripping a tie-breaking, two-run homer in the sixth that put away a 3-1 victory.

It was the seventh home run of the year for Rocky—who was only three shy of a Cleveland record when he walloped 41 last season—and he's made them good for 11 runs. He didn't hit his seventh last year, incidentally, until June 8, in his 41st game. Now he's matched that output in half the time (21 games).

The success, fourth in a row for unbeaten right-hander Cal McLish padded Cleveland's American League lead to three games once more as Boston and Frank Sullimore 5-0.

Right - hander Dick Donovan (1-1) of the White Sox gave up all three of Cleveland's hits in his six innings, getting past everybody but Minnie Minoso and Colavito. Minoso singled with one out in the fourth inning, stole second and then gave the Indians a 1-0 lead on Rocky's single.

The White Sox had just five hits off McLish, scoring in the fourth on Jim Landis' second home run while losing their fifth in a row and sinking to .500 in fourth place, 4½ games behind.

Sullivan, a big 6-7 right-hander, gave up only five singles along with two walks while squaring his record at 1-1 for Boston. The Red Sox had just three hits for seven innings, but held a 2-0 lead over southpaw Billy O'Dell (1-1). They scored in the first on a walk, passed ball, error and Frank Malzone's sacrifice fly, then counted again in the fourth on a walk and Don Buddin's double.

Sullivan finally got some breathing room in the seventh, when Boston scored three with Pete Runnels and Jackie Jensen hitting solo home runs. It was Jensen's seventh, Runnels' second.

Major League Sluggers — Try to Match This

In the seventh and final inning of Thursday's Lincoln-Olney Public League game, Lincoln coach Frank Lightfoot decided to give his reserves a chance. Lincoln led 10-1.

He sent up three pinch hitters, Bill Judge, Sam Stokes and Ed Shiminskie. All hit home runs.

Palmer Choice in Open, PGA

Of 82 sports writers who voted in Golfing Magazine's fourth annual poll, 16 picked the leading money winner of 1958 as the Open winner at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 11-13.

Harvie Ward garnered 23 votes in being picked to win the National Amateur at the Broadmoor Club in Colorado Springs, Sept. 14-19. Ward was almost a 2 to 1 choice over Charlie Coe, the defending champ.

Shotgun Champ Isn't Too Proud of Winning Card

PELHAM MANOR, N.Y. (AP)—Kenneth Hard, 31-year-old game preserve operator of Brookhaven, N.Y., is the new national doubles targets trapshooting champion, but he isn't too proud of his performance.

"I don't think 91 (he broke 91 of 100 targets) should have won," he said today. "It's not a really high score."

It actually was the lowest score to win the event in five years, but it was good enough to edge out Roger Fawcett and Mitchell May III, both of New York, by one point. Fawcett won yesterday's shootoff for second place, breaking 19 of 20 targets as May broke 18.

Silky Comes Back to Victory Circle

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Fleet Nasrullah, baseball hero Roy Campanella and unpredictable Silky Sullivan shared top honors Friday as Hollywood Park opened its summer race meeting.

Fleet Nasrullah captured the day's feature, the $20,000 Premier Handicap, with Terrang second and Seaneen third in the field of 11 horses.

Silky returned to racing after a four-month layoff and won the co-feature of the sunny afternoon — the $7,500 Roy Campanella Purse —and did it in customary sensational stretch running style.

Waiting to greet Silky, the handsome golden chestnut, was Campy himself in the winner's circle as the crowd of 31,500 gave horse and man a tremendous ovation.

Reds Halt Burdette Streak

By The Associated Press

It begins to look as though the Cincinnati Reds are at last getting around to catching up with the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves have beaten a path to a pair of National League pennants by trampling the Reds the past two years. In 1957, Milwaukee won 18 of its 22 games with Cincinnati. Last season it was 17 of 22.

Now the Reds have taken three of five decisions this season, winning three in a row from the Braves for the first time since 1956. And they've done it the hard way—beating Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette.

They junked Burdette's winning string at nine—five this season—with a 3-2 victory at Milwaukee last night that gained a virtual first-place tie with the Braves. Going into today's game—another run-in with Spahn—the Reds are second by a mere .009 percentage point margin.

San Francisco also closed in, replacing Los Angeles in third, just a half-game behind the leaders, by whipping the Dodgers 9-3. The Chicago Cubs are 1½ games back after a 10-inning, 3-2 victory at St. Louis. Philadelphia regained a sixth-place tie with Pittsburgh by beating the Pirates 8-1.

Burdette, who had won 10 straight in Milwaukee's County Stadium since last July, gave up four of the Reds' seven hits and all of their runs in the first inning. A two-run double by Frang Robinson and a triple by Frank Thomas did the damage.

★ ★ ★

The Braves had 11 hits, but didn't break through against Brooks Lawrence (3-1) until the eighth inning, when Ed Mathews and Frank Torre homered. Lawrence, collecting only his second complete game since blanking the Braves 1-0 last July 2, finally put it away by fanning Mathews, the major league leader with his 10 home runs, with two men on base in the ninth.

★ ★ ★

Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, who had lost two in a row, won his fourth for the Giants after giving up the Dodgers runs on five hits in the second inning. He blanked them on five hits the rest of the way. Daryl Spencer was 4-for-4 and drove in three runs for the Giants, who chased Danny McDevitt (1-1) in a three-run sixth for a 4-3 lead. Willie Mays and Jackie Brandt added solo homers in the eighth.

Randy Jackson, just returned to the Cubs by way of a trade with Cleveland, tripled in the 10th after a two-out single by winning reliever Bill Henry (3-1). Jackson, who last played for the Cubs in 1955, also was credited with the tying run when he got a bases-loaded walk as a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

Jim Brosnan (0-3) was the loser in relief for the Cards, who were shut out after the third. Henry, who replaced Bob Anderson in the eighth, allowed but two hits and struck out five. It was the Cardinals' eighth consecutive one-run decision. They've lost five of them.

★ ★ ★

Gene Conley, the ex-Brave, gained his first victory since 1957 in his first start for the Phils. He had to leave in the ninth, however, when a line drive by Smoky Burgess nicked a pitching-hand finger. George Witt (0-4) lost it, giving way in a three-run fourth.

Sugar-Basilio Title Bout OK With Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Athletic Chairman commissioner said Friday night he has informed Sugar Ray Robinson the commission would recognize a Robinson-Carmen Basilio match as a middleweight championship bout.

★ ★ ★

Frank B. Gilmer, commission chairman, said he talked with Robinson by telephone Thursday and then sent him a wire saying:

★ ★ ★

"If you and Carmen Basilio sign contracts immediately to fight at 160 pounds in Chicago this summer and consummate the match, we will recognize the fight as a world middleweight championship contest."

Clutch Hitting Wins for U.M., MSU

From Our Wire Services

Michigan and Michigan State got clutch hitting yesterday in hammering out Big Ten baseball triumphs.

Wilbur Franklin's bases-loaded triple sparked a nine-run sixth as the Wolverines rocked Northwestern 12-5, snapping a three-game losing streak. Starter Bob Marcereau was the victor as John Halstead swatted four of the 10 hits.

Footballer Al Luplow clubbed two home runs in Michigan State's 5-3 triumph over Wisconsin. Dick Radatz went all the way for the team's 4th loop victory. He had a shutout going until the 8th.

Michigan, now 2-5 in the league, is host to Wisconsin in a doubleheader today. The Badgers are 4-3. The Spartans take on Northwestern at home in another twinbill.

Western Michigan remained unbeaten in the Mid-American Conference by drubbing Kent State 10-0 Friday. Bob Topp flipped a four-hitter while his mates garnered 12 featuring four by Larry Buchanan. They play again today.

Eastern Michigan dropped its 5th game in seven IIAC outings as Northern Illinois came from behind to triumph 8-7. Eastern Illinois socked Central Michigan 18-4.

In track, Albion and Western Michigan were losers.

Albion was the 10th straight victim of the University of Chicago by a 80 14/15 to 50 1/15. Walt Perschke of the victors set a new 880 record with a 1:57.1 time. Albion has a 7-3 dual record.

★ ★ ★

Western was nipped 66-55 by Indiana as the Hoosiers won by monopolizing the field events, winning four and tying the fifth. Indiana set 2 records and Western one for the meet. The latter one was a 9:17.8 two-mile run by Art Eversole.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, Goalby Top Threats

Jacobs Has 4-Stroke Edge

By WILBUR JOHNSON

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—If it hadn't been for a small golf tournament in Gardena, Calif., in December, 1957, Tommy Jacobs probably wouldn't be leading the Oklahoma City Open today with an 11-under-par 133.

Tommy, a personable 24-year-old professional from Whittier, Calif., posted rounds of 66-67 over the 6,640-yard par 72 Twin Hills Country Club course yesterday and was in fine position for his first win of the 1959 Professional Golf Assn. tour.

★ ★ ★

But his task wasn't an easy one. Breathing down his neck were former Masters champion Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., and the steadily improving Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla.

Jacobs started the second round with a 5-under-par 31 on the front nine. But his game cooled a bit under the continual threat of rain and he settled for a 36 coming in.

Jacobs recalled that he had only $100 in his pocket in 1957 and when that was gone he would have had to give up the golf tour. But in Gardenia there was a small tournament worth $700 to the winner. Tommy won it and that was the stake he needed to stay on the tour.

He was a steady money winner last year and his position in the golf world was enhanced by a victory in the Denver Open last year with a fine 266.

Palmer was the most feared as the field headed into the third round. Observers figured that perhaps he was in for a reversal of the disappointments he suffered in the Masters and Houston Open.

At the Masters a triple bogey six and two missed three-foot putts cost him dearly. At Houston he just missed a tie after holding the 54-hole lead.

But Palmer was charging like a champion in his effort to catch Jacobs, banging in long putts for eagles on two par five holes and getting easy birdies on two others.

Cranbrook, Eaglets Winners on Track

Paced by Larry DeWitt's 11½ points, Cranbrook thinclads yesterday afternoon threw a surprise defeat at Birmingham High, 68 and 1-6th to 40 and 5-6th points. DeWitt won the two dashes and ran a leg on the winning 880-relay team. Another double winner was John Butzel of Cranbrook who won both hurdles.

Cranes won seven firsts, including medley relay and the shot.

Begin Clearing for Dodger Park

Evicted Chavez Ravine Residents Cry, Curse as LA Project Starts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There was no joy in Chavez Ravine today—just the sound of bulldozers clearing the site for the Los Angeles Dodgers' new ballpark.

Fifteen residents were evicted from three condemned homes amid screaming, crying and cursing yesterday.

"Why don't they play ball in (Mayor) Poulson's backyard—not in ours!" Mrs. Abrana Arechega, 63, shouted in Spanish at 14 sheriff's deputies.

"Welcome, Dodgers, but don't take our home."

"We don't care if Mr. (Dodger President Walter) O'Malley gets this land. All we ask is a fair price."

Arechega told newsmen his home was condemned for $10,500, but claimed it was worth $17,000.

The mayor's office said the home was condemned years ago, before the Dodgers came to town.

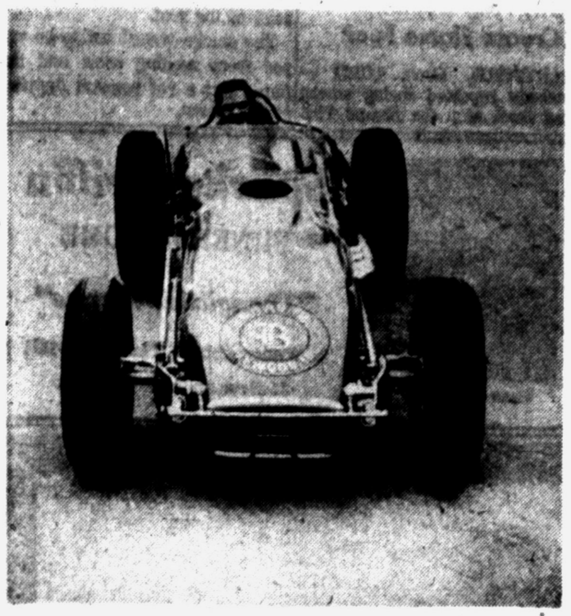
PCH Barely Misses SVC Title



SIGHTS ON "500"—Don Edmunds, who was rookie of the year among the drivers at the Indianapolis Speedway in 1957, has his sights set on this month's "500" classic. He will be driving the Braund Special of Birmingham. Qualifying begins May 16th for big Memorial Day race.

Edmonds Set to Drive Local 'Braund Special'

Don Edmonds, who took rookie of the year honors in the Indianapolis Speedway "500" mile classic in 1957 will drive the Braund Special owned by the Braund corporation of Birmingham.

The racer will be one of six cars in the field of 61 which will have an additional 40 horsepower engine.

It is the same auto which was driven last year by Jim Rathman who finished 5th in the race.

"The car has been completely rebuilt with a change in steering and a change in motors," said owner Walter R. Braund of Birmingham, "it has been kept in our warehouse in Bell Flower, California."

"We are fortunate to have a driver like Edmonds in the car, and we are hoping for the best in the qualifying trials next weekend," said Braund.

If the car gets through the "500" this year, Edmonds will drive in races in Detroit and Milwaukee, according to Braund.

U-D Win String Broken by Alma

ALMA (UPI) — Two streaks were broken here yesterday as Alma took a 3-2 win over the University of Detroit baseball team.

Alma stopped its own seven-game losing streak to the Titans over the past four seasons and halted Detroit's 11-game winning string this season with the victory.

The winning run came in the bottom of the ninth when Alma's Mike Mulligan got a single to short left field with the bases loaded. Left fielder Jim Northrup scored on the play with the clincher.

First baseman Bill Klenk was the big man at bat for Alma, making the only home run of the contest and a single.

Detroit's pitcher, Gary Mettie, took his first loss in seven starts this season. The loss gave Detroit a 12-2 season total. Alma's Rod De Young relieved starter Terry Erbright in the fifth and took credit for the win, pushing the season record to 13-7.

Teen-Ager Faces Veteran Finalist

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Teen-ager Judy Eller eliminated Frances Rich, Bainbridge, Ga., 1-up in 19 holes Friday and reached the finals in the Southern Women's Golf Championship.

Miss Ellen, 18, of Nashville, Tenn goes against Miss Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., five times winner of the Southern, in Saturday's 36-hole championship round over the 6,254-yard Vestavia Country Club course.

By H. GUY MOATS

ALUMNI FIELD, Saginaw — It was a rather familiar pattern that developed here last night in the annual Saginaw Valley Conference track and field championships.

A surprising Pontiac Central squad that had been given not too much chance at the crown, came within 3-10ths of one point of squaring the total with the winning Flint Central Indians. The Flint club compiled 56 points to 55 and 7-10ths for Chiefs. Flint Northern was 3rd with 37; Arthur Hill 29 and 1-5th; Bay City Central 14 and 1-10th and Saginaw High 9.

Pontiac grabbed an early lead in field events, when Bill Pritchett and Charles Brown were 1-2 in the shot, with Jerry Rush 4th. Fred Brooks won the high jump, with little Willie Robinson 3rd. Bob Finley shared a four-way tie for first in the vault and by that time the Valley competitors began to take notice of the Chiefs.

PCH hung doggedly to its lead down to the mile run.

Then the roof caved in.

The mile was next to the last event. PCH had a small lead over Flint Central.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Joe Anderson was disqualified on the back stretch, for what judges ruled was contact with another runner. He was a close 3rd at the time. Indians, too, felt the disqualification "axe," in the final event, the 880-relay where Chiefs were 2nd, back of Flint Northern.

Had Anderson placed as he finished, Chiefs would have emerged on top. Chiefs came back in the final test, the 880-relay with a 2nd place, to go with their 2nd in the medley.

One of the night's greatest finishes was the terrific anchor battle between PCH's Bob Richards and Vikings' Edwards. Edwards had to hit a 50.8 quarter to shake off the flying Chief, in a record 2:30.4 for the event. Running ahead of Richards were Van LaCor, Fred Brooks and Jim Pritchett. Brooks, Bill Ratcliff, Richards and Jim Pritchett comprised the 880 quartet.

Two records were set, a 9.8 hundred in a preliminary by FC's Ron Watkins and Flint Northern's medley relay team, with a 2:30.4 clocking that wiped out a 2:31.5 mark made a year ago by a Pontiac quartet.

Outstanding performances were turned in by PCH's shot-putters, all three of whom had better than 50 feet and finished 1-2-4. Bill Prichett's 52 feet 6½-incher was tops. All five point-makers in the event were over 50 feet.

Chiefs' Fred Brooks was the meet's only double winner. Fred won the high jump and the low hurdles, ran a leg on the 880, and medley relay teams for a 12-point total. Allan Howze and Andy Terry surprised a fast field in the high sticks, by finishing 1-2 against the Valley's best. The pair breezed down the obstacle path, were almost in a dead finish. Brooks' win over Arthur Hills' Joe Mason was another thriller. Most every PCH runner bettered his season's efforts.

Maurice Johnson and John Jefferson, each with a 2nd in their sections of the 880, were 2:06 and 2:02.5 in sizzling finishes.

This was the 3rd year in succession that Chiefs had missed the coveted Valley track crown by one point or less. A year ago it was a half point, decided by a disqualification in the Chiefs' final event.

U.S. Horsemen Surprised by Win

ROME (AP)—Victory of the U.S. horsemen in the Grand Prix of Nations event at the Rome Horse Show took everyone by surprise, including the Americans.

"Think of it, I can hardly believe it," enthused Bert De Nemethy, coach of the American team today. "I was sure we would do well — but not first place. That's more than I expected."

Hugh Wiley of Towson, Md., who rode Nautical, the last American horse, in a faultless ride to give his team the victory last night, was equally exuberant.

"Nautical was simply wonderful," he said happily. "I could hardly see the obstacles in that darkness, but he cleared all the hurdles perfectly."

Wiley owns the 8-year-old Palamino who was sired by Muchacho de Oro out of Lulu.

The Americans sent three riders over the hurdles in faultless style in the jumpoff after having tied the Italians in the regular competition.

Frank Chapot of Wallpack, N.J., the fourth member of the American team, was disqualified when his mount, Diamant, twice balked at hurdles. However, only the three lowest scores on each team were counted, and the Italians had nine faults.

The Italians and Americans each had eight black marks in the regular competition, which had been won by the Italians six of the last eight years.

Before the spectacular victory the Americans had failed to win a single individual title in 10 days while the German and Italian teams each had won three.

New Publinx Team 'All City'

Bald Mt. in Action Sunday

An all-Pontiac six-man team will represent Bald Mountain Golf Club this season in the Michigan Publinx Golf League.

Ken Wilson, head pro at Bald Mountain, has re-entered a squad in the MPA competition this year and the formidable array of golfing talent includes Paul Bada, Glenn Valance, Dick DeWitt, Dick Robertson, Stan Savage and Joe Burgdorf.

Bald Mountian, which will compete in the Red Division, and Sylvan Glen will clash tomorrow at Bald Mountain in the league opener for each squad. Both Bald Mountain and Sylvan Glen were idle last Sunday when the MPGA campaign officially got under way.

The remainder of tomorrow's schedule sends Bob O'Ling to Rochester and Brae Burn to Glenhurst in the White Division and finds Sunnybrook at River Bank in the Red Division. Morey's in the Red circuit and Idyl Wyld in the White loop are not scheduled tomorrow.

Several Pontiac area golfers are sprinkled on the rosters of the 10-team, two-division league. Among them are Mike Andonian and Ron Rothbarth, Sylvan Glen; Wally Smith, Sunnybrook; Charlie Barker, Morey's, and Roy Iceberg, Rochester, in addition to the Bald Mountain unit.

Bada was Pontiac city champion in 1957 and runnerup in the State Publinx tournament last summer at Pontiac Country Club while DeWitt was runnerup in the city tourney in 1958.

Andonian has won the State Publinx crown for the past three years, Iceberg is a former Michigan Publinx champ and Smith reached the state semifinals last year.

RED DIVISION

Bald Mountain—Paul Bada, Glenn Valance, Dick DeWitt, Dick Robertson, Stan Savage, Joe Burgdorf

Sylvan Glen—Mike Andonian, Ron Rothbarth, Pete Baker, Veicho Juhola

Sunnybrook—Sam Lima, Jay Law, John Kurach, Dick Preston, Tom Stevens, Wally Smith

WHITE DIVISION

Rochester—Roy Iceberg, Don Nelson, Al Krol, Sal Pomante, Tex Ellison, John Wozniak

Bob O'Link—Walt Nossal, Joe Boskay, Ray Cane, Jim McLaughlin, George Greenhalgh

Claims Batters 'Cream' 9 of 10

Williams Says Pitchers Throw Inside Too Often

BOSTON (AP) — Ted Williams, baseball's keenest student of such matters, has some advice for pitchers—beware the inside toss.

"Pitchers should watch games cloely on television," the 40-year-old Boston bat-master said today after a Fenway Park workout. "They'd soon learn the inside pitches are the ones that hurt them."

Sidlined since late March due to a neck and shoulder ailment, the defending American League batting champion is going through a reconditioning program expected to return him to action Tuesday.

"The pitch from the middle of the plate in to the batter is the one that dills them nine out of 10 times," Ted elaborated.

★ ★ ★

"I've been saying it all along but invariably the pitchers have an argument against it. Now I know I'm right. Nine out of 10 times the batter creams the inside pitch."

Williams explained that while he was recuperating het watched baseball closely on TV.

"The cameras do a great job of showing the pitcher and hitter," Ted said. "There is no argument about where the pitch went.

"Sure the real good hitter can protect against the outside pitch. But I say let the good batter protect on it.

"That's the pitch he'll hit for only a single. At most he might get a double on it.

"But there is no home run on the outside pitch.

"I don't care whether it is a fast ball or a curve, even the average batter will pull the inside pitch and the chances are he'll pickle it pretty good.

"Say, what am I giving out this information for? I'm a hitter. Those pitchers should find out things for themselves.

Phillies Trying to Trade

General Manager John Quinn of the Phillies, who is making an extended road trip with the club, says he has several irons in the fire.

★ ★ ★

"I know the telephone company isn't losing any money on us," Quinn said. "We have made propositions to several clubs and we are now waiting to hear from them. I don't know what the answers will be but we do hope to improve the club by trading."

★ ★ ★

Some observers felt that a trade was imminent because when the club left Philadelphia Thursday to open a five-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates the players were given meal money for only three days instead of the customary week or more.

Another thing that provoked the trade talk was an hour and a half meeting Wednesday night between Quinn and St. Louis Manager Solly Hemus. Shortly before the confab Hemus was quoted as saying:

"There will be some new faces on this club within 10 days."

Hemus has said he would like to acquire outfielder Bob Bowman, whom the Phillies have been using as a pinch hitter this year. Another name popped up in the trade talk is that of right-hander Don Cardwell, who has pitched only one game this season for the Phillies.

"I wish I knew what was going on," Cardwell declared. "They don't even let me pitch batting practice anymore. It sure gives me the feeling that I may be traveling somewhere."

J. Edgar Hoover to Mark 35 Years of Faithful Service

(For millions of Americans, J. Edgar Hoover is the FBI. And on May 10, when he celebrates the 35th anniversary of his appointment of director, the questions inevitably arise: What events of his long career stand out in his memory? What about retirement?)

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's No. 1 G-man reaches an important milestone Sunday — 35 eventful years as boss of the FBI, and the longest tenure for a federal agency head in the country's history.

But there is every evidence that John Edgar Hoover has the same drive and zest for his job that marked his wonder boy era back in the roaring twenties.

That era had its start when Hoover, just 29, was placed in charge of a discredited, scandal-ridden organization of political hacks whose staff reputedly included some ex-convicts. It is history now—the story of how he cleaned out the bureau with a stern hand and went ahead to make it one of the world's most renowned and most respected investigative agencies.

Hoover, who passed his 64th birthday last Jan. 1, has no thought of retiring.

A few days ago he told me: "Old age will have to run mighty fast to catch up with me."

The FBI director serves at the pleasure of whoever happens to be attorney general. Hoover, who has no political affiliation, has held the job under five Presidents and a dozen attorneys general, Democrat and Republican.

Who would succeed Hoover if he should retire? One rarely hears talk about a successor, but two names are mentioned occasionally: Clyde A. Tolson, the associate director who has worked at Hoover's side for 31 years; and Edward A. Tamm, who was assistant to Hoover for 20 years before accepting a federal district judgeship in the District of Columbia.

A bachelor, Hoover, lives in a modest home in a fashionable Washington neighborhood with his two Cairn terriers — G-Boy and Tucker—and raises roses in his leisure hours.

He believes in keeping fit. Just under 6 feet, he watches his diet and keeps his weight at 175 pounds. Weather permitting, he daily dismisses his car a mile short of his office in the Justice department building and strides the last lap at a gait that frequently winds companions.

Hoover reads several newspapers every day—including the comic strips and everything in the sports section. His favorite books are the biographies of great Americans.

At the office, he maintains constant personal touch with everything of importance that is going on at the moment. There is a standing rule that any employe who wants to see him as only to ask.

I asked Hoover what kind of qualities a young man of today should have to make a success of an important job. He said:

"Most important, to my mind, is humility—to remember that he is not trying to build his own reputation but is serving his fellow man. Many careers are wrecked when individuals forget the role of service and follow their own personal desires, whether for money, social position, prestige, etc. In our society today, the greatest opportunities are those of helping others.

"Next is integrity—that is, being a man of your word. If you say one thing and do something else—well, that is the way to undermine your reputation among others. Stand for what you think is right, regardless of criticism.

"Also, there is hard work. Over my 35 years I can truthfully say that there is no substitute for hard work. To guide your career just by the clock is to lose the true meaning of a job. Give your job your whole heart. If a job is worth doing, do it well."

Out of a treasure trove of memories as gangbuster, crusader against communism, constant champion of better-trained, better-paid police, what does Hoover remember best?

May 10, 1924, of course. That was the day Atty. Gen. Harlan Fiske Stone, later Chief Justice of the United States, called him in to take over the FBI.

May 1, 1936—Hoover flew to New Orleans and personally arrested Alvin Karpis, the No. 1 badman of his day, who had been boasting that he planned to rush Hoover's office in Washington and kill him.

"I remember that day well," says Hoover. "We in the FBI had a deep feeling of satisfaction in finding Karpis. He was a badly wanted fugitive. His arrest helped up defeat the criminal gangs of that day."

Dec. 7, 1941—Pearl Harbor Day. Says Hoover: "When the Japanese bombs hit Pearl Harbor, we in the FBI placed into immediate operation previously prepared plans for guarding the nation's internal security. I was proud of the way FBI employes responded to the challenge—working around the clock to do their job. This was typical of their loyalty to duty."

And finally, May 22, 1950. That was the day that Harry Gold, master Soviet atomic spy, confessed his activities after being picked up by the FBI, a confession which broke the back of atomic spying in this country.

"Those were busy days at the FBI," Hoover recalls. "Atomic bomb secrets had been stolen by the Russians. The spy was here in the United States — somewhere. We had to find him. We did—a chemist in Philadelphia, Harry Gold. This meant that one of our most important cases had been solved."

Gold, who pleaded guilty to an espionage charge, is now serving a 30-year prison term.

Report Gains in Civil Rights

Housing Is Main Area of Segregation in State, Tolerance Growing

This is the finding in a partial interim report released this week by Michigan's Advisory Committee on Civil Rights.

Charles E. Wilson, committee chairman, said he thought the report "shows there has been some significant progress in Michigan in the matter of civil rights.

"Progress has not been as complete in all areas as we might have wished," added the former defense secretary and former General Motors president. "But it seems apparent that the seeds of tolerance and fair play have been sown."

Other Michigan "areas of difficulty," listed in the order of their prominence, were named as:

Resort and restaurant accommodations, employment of Negroes in white-collar and supervisory jobs, and attitudes of police and other officials toward minority groups.

The report found no evidence of school segregation and little or no discrimination in colleges and universities.

The state fair employment practices commission was reported "very helpful" in the field of discrimination in employment.

Reports on housing and in civil rights conditions in counties were to be added at the July 10 meeting.

A survey on housing integration in Kalamazoo had optimistic findings. It dealt with the reaction in the community after 50 white middleclass Negroes moved into an all-white neighborhood.

The survey was compiled by a team of sociologists from Western Michigan University.

They found that white residents did not desert the neighborhood when a Negro family moved in and that other Negro families did not move in large numbers.

WHAT A VIEW — This is the sight the Fillmores see whenever they look out their front windows. For miles there is nothing but rolling countryside. On clear days the tall buildings in Detroit, some forty-odd miles away, are visible. Whatever the weather, the scene is an ever-changing one.

background for LIVING

HILLTOP HOUSE — The Jerry Fillmore house in the Grampion Hills, east of Oxford, was planned to look as if it grew out of the hilltop. Buff brick and red cedar are used for the exterior. Under the windows there are panels of turquoise plastic. At present the family lives entirely on the upper level. There is space on the lower level for two more bedrooms and a bath, as well as a family room and work rooms. Harold Zigmanth of Detroit designed the house. Don LaCross and Tim Titsworth of Goodrich did the building.

Your Neighbor's House

Fillmores Build High on a Windy Hill

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Do you know that from a certain hilltop east of Oxford you can see Detroit's tallest buildings? That is, if it's a clear day. When we went to photograph the Jerry Fillmore house, the sky was cloudy.

For about seven or eight years the Fillmores have owned 130 acres in the Grampion Hills. They planted Christmas trees on the land as a hobby. But always they intended to build on the highest spot.

They knew just what they wanted in a hilltop house. It had to grow naturally out of the ground, not look as if it were just a bump on top of the hill. They took their ideas to Harold Zigmanth, a young architect, who went along with them all the way. Don LaCross and Tim Titsworth of Goodrich did the building.

At the rear the house looks low and rambling. On the front it has expanses of glass. On that side you can see the two levels. A combination of buff brick, aqua plastic panels and natural color cedar is used for the exterior. The Fillmores put a protective sealer coat on the wood but hope it will weather to a soft silvery gray.

The entire living area is aqua. Carpeting, walls, ceiling and sheer draperies are aqua, each varying a trifle in shade. The ceiling is also the roof. It is made of wood fibres bonded together and acts as insulation. White when it comes from the factory, it can be painted any color.

The ceiling beams are Douglas fir, stained a charcoal shade. No effort has been made to hide the angle irons and bolts that join the horizontal and vertical beams. These were just painted over.

There are two walls of windows in the living room. On the third wall there is a buff brick fireplace with a raised hearth. A black cushion covers this to make a cozy spot on which to toast toes and to dream.

In the center of this living area the stairs go down to the lower level which is the same size as the upper one. A wrought iron railing is a safety feature around the top. Treads are oak. An oak paneled wall on the kitchen side ties in the two levels. Over the stairwell there's a skylight.

Against the wrought iron railing in the living room there's a sofa upholstered in changeable turquoise. In front of it is a marble coffee table. A pair of basket chairs are placed near a large square walnut lamp table. Behind this unit of furniture is the door to the outside patio. Beyond the fireplace is a walnut chest.

Surprisingly enough, a little Victorian walnut chair is not at all out of place in this modern house. It is upholstered in turquoise velvet.

Brass accent notes come from the trio of lights in the stairwell, the pull-down light fixture in the dining room and the sunburst clock over the fireplace.

In the dining room a grouping of Van Gogh prints on one wall determines the color scheme. In them you see the aqua the Fillmores have used, plus the sunny yellow always associated with Van Gogh.

While anyone working in the kitchen can see into the living room and be part of a conversation, this room is not open. In other words, the mechanics of meal preparation are hidden from the living area. Turquoise swinging doors close this room off from the front hall.

It is a long narrow room. Walls and all cabinets are turquoise. Counter tops are white. The floor is black. The Fillmores are both pleased and annoyed with their kitchen. Mrs. Fillmore loves having the washer-dryer right at hand to use any time. But she is not sold on a black floor. Oh, well, you can't always be right.

Downstairs, the area is not completely finished. At the foot of the stairs is a family room with a second fireplace. This has glass doors for easy access to the front yard. The rest of the lower level will be finished as work rooms and—eventually — two more bedrooms and another bath.

CLOSET CHESTS

Seventeen-month-old Leslie has nursery rhyme paper on one wall of her room. The other walls are turquoise. Behind the turquoise louvered doors of her closet there is hanging space as well as built-in chests.

White floor-length draperies cover the three big windows. Leslie's crib is white. She has a miniature Boston rocker in one corner.

Getting away from all turquoise, the Fillmores decided on amethyst for their bedroom. Walls are done in a pale shade with rug and bedspread a little darker. Some of the throw pillows on the bed are deep purple.

Over the bed the Fillmores mounted two sliding door cupboards. On top of them they placed decorative pieces of china. Inside they keep books.

The Fillmores love their hilltop home. Mr. Fillmore doesn't mind commuting to Detroit every day (a helicopter would be nice). They enjoy the friends who come out from the city for frequent visits. Some day they hope to have a little lake down the hill where there is now a large swampy area.

BETWEEN THE LEVELS — These broad oak stairs connect the upper and lower levels of the house. The wrought iron railings are repeated as a protective and decorative feature around the entire stairwell on the upper level. Just a portion of the family room can be seen down below. The oak treads have been finished in a natural shade.

Ceramic Tile Can Be Applied to Any Surface

Ceramic tile can be applied directly to any masonry finish, such as cement block or brick on exterior walls. However, if the tile is to be applied to any other type of exterior surface, a moisture membrane should be used — generally a polyethylene or felt sheet.

Metal lath is then applied over the membrane to receive the cement bed for the tile. Ceramic tile, with its lifetime qualities and easy maintenance, is growing in popularity as an exterior surfacing material.

Pontiac Press Photos by Eddie Vanderwerp

OPEN PLAN — This view shows the open plan of the living area. The sofa is backed up to the wrought iron railing of the stairwell. You can see the window over the stairs. Beyond the stairwell is the kitchen with the paneled oak wall extending only part way up. The dining room is at the right. Exposed beams and posts are painted charcoal. All walls except the oak paneling are turquoise.

FAMILY TRIO — Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Fillmore and their small daughter, Leslie, pose for the Press photographer in the living room of their new home. Behind them is the side window wall with a door opening onto the patio. In the background the carport can be seen. The sheer draperies that can be pulled across all the windows are aqua. The rug is turquoise. Tables and a low chest in this room are walnut.

Tall Doors Cut Heating Bills

A striking feature of a research house at Knoxville is the use of tall floor-to-ceiling doors. Sponsored by the Research Institute of the National Association of Home Builders and Masonite Corporation, the house is attracting national attention.

★ ★ ★

Doors this height, faced with hardboard, have various advantages, the co-sponsor said, listing them as follows:

1. Better ventilation throughout the home and lower cost for heating and air-conditioning, because air is not trapped as it is above ordinary doors.

2. Superior appearance from a design standpoint, because the rooms appear larger.

3. Lower construction cost averaging about $12 per door due to elimination of the headers.

4. Elimination of a trouble spot, as the usual place for cracks to develop in plaster or gypsum board is in the door header.

Doors of the Knoxville house are hung conventionally on three hinges. A space of 1½ inches at the bottom permits the passage of air when the doors are closed.

Eight-foot doors with hardboard surfaces in another NAHB research house at South Bend, Ind., are 3" wider than the opening. They are attached with special hinges and lock which eliminates the door jamb and usual fitting problems.

Wax Really Saves Hardwood Floors

A little extra elbow-grease during this year's spring house cleaning can save housewives a lot of time and trouble during the sticky summer months ahead. A coat of paste wax on hardwood floors after the application of a good floor cleaner will do the trick.

The paste wax will require occasional buffing to renew gloss, but its tough finish will hold up under all the punishment it gets from youngsters' travels in and out-of-doors this summer.

For those who shudder at the thought of arduous buffing, try one of the new liquid paste waxes now on the market. It applies and buffs more easily than standard paste waxes. Occesional waxing with a solvent-type cleaning wax will remove surface grime and replace the top layer of wax.

Preparing New Brush

The best paint brushes have bristles with long, tapered and "flagged" or split ends. Furthermore, the bristles are of different lengths and are formed to a full head. Before using the new brush, it's helpful to run a comb through it. This removes loose bristles which are found in the best of brushes.

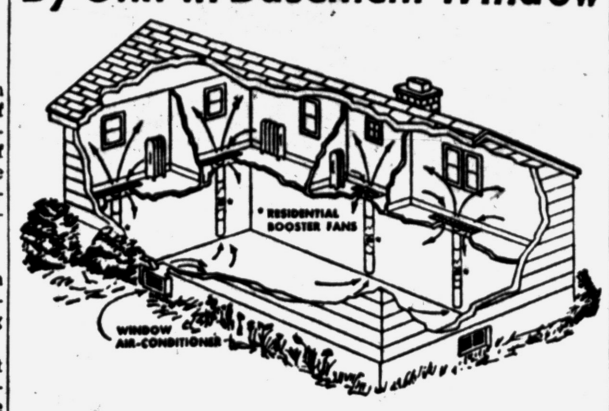
Small Home Air Conditioned By Unit in Basement Window



BASEMENT UNIT — Fans circulate cooled air to rooms above.

Downspouts and Gutters Are Important

In many areas of the country some houses have been built during the last few years without any roof drainage equipment — gutters and downspouts. The elimination of these products, which are a must if you are to have proper drainage of the roof and the area around the house, was done to reduce the final cost of the house.

The decision to eliminate this vital equipment, says the Roof Drainage Manufacturers Institute has proved to be an unsound one and in most instances these products have been added afterward at a greater cost than if they had been installed when the house was built.

During heavy rains water pours off of the eaves and onto the ground. Large pools of water may collect adjacent to the foundation and can be a cause of seepage of water into the basement. Continued rains soak the ground around the house and, because the water is not properly removed, can cause damage to flower beds, foundations and the lawn.

If you don't have gutters or downspouts on your house, see a sheet metal contractor and obtain information in regard to adding this very important equipment. A proper roof drainage system will add to the value of your house.

Special Adhesives Cut Work, Time

Home builders have found that plywood or hardboard underlayments for resilient floor coverings work the best when they are glued to floor joists. This prevents future floor squeaks and eliminates the chances for nails to work loose and show through the floor covering.

The safest rule to follow in using adhesives is to use only the type recommended by the manufacturer of the material to be glued. Half the number of nails can be saved, for example, when fastening drywall to wall studs if the adhesive especially made for wallboard is used.

This glue can be applied to stud faces with a calking gun,. Nails are used only every 16 inches to hold the panel firmly in place while the glue sets. This saves not only the labor time needed for driving nails, but also the costly labor involved in hiding the nails and nail holes.

Even exterior siding which doubles as sheathing can be glued into place. The fewer nails driven through it, the tighter the wall will be.

Basement Unit Air Conditions

Improved ways of using window air-conditioners are being found to overcome the objections of home owners who think the cooling units are unsightly and don't do a complete enough job.

One of the newest systems has just been developed by a Battle Creek, Mich., firm. It involves putting the units out of the way in basement windows and adding a little extra air-circulating equipment. The result: better appearance and a completely air-conditioned house, not just a couple of rooms.

The air-conditioners discharge cooled air into the basement. Small, inexpensive fans then force it through short lengths of duct into the rooms above.

For an average-size house that is well insulated, two air-conditioning units are sufficient. Even one will sometimes do the trick. An air conditioning contractor should be consulted to make sure cooling capacity is matched to a particular home's needs.

The insulation is necessary to keep cooling requirements low enough to be handled by the window units. If six inches of mineral wool is installed in the ceiling and three inches or more in the walls, most summer heat will be kept out naturally. An added benefit is that winter heat will be retained.

The Battle Creek manufacturer says his system is especially well suited for houses with hot-water heating, which do not have heating ducts that can be converted to summer cooling. Air circulation also keeps basements dry.

Build Closet Under Stairs

No matter how many closets a new home has, the homeowner can always use "one more." That's the closet where summer clothes are stored in the winter and heavy winter apparel can be put away when tulips bloom again.

Home improvement specialists at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division, where a variety of building materials are manufactured, have come up with the ideal material for that closet—insulating planks—and the ideal location—under the basement stairs.

The Barrett specialists point out that the under-the-stairs location is easy to reach, yet hidden and otherwise wasted space. The planks, usually used to finish play room walls are made of fiberboard, are light in weight and may be handled easily even by the woman of the house.

To get the closet under way:

1. Build a framework of 2" x 4" studs, and over this, apply 1" x 3" furring strips.

2. Nail or staple planks to strips. The planks contain grooved edges that permit perfect alignment and hidden nailing. Planks can be sawed to fit.

3. Colorful, easy-to-clean, corrugated "Allite" plastic panels can serve as sliding closet doors.

Barrett reports that insulating planks are now available in factory-painted colors at lumber dealers in 8, 12 and 16-inch widths.

Give Teens' Room Pressed-On Look

Panels on headboards or dressing table in a daughter's room can be given the new look for spring quickly with some of today's decorative covering materials. Available with an adhesive backing it is merely pressed onto the wood. You don't need tacks or tape.

Make certain the surface is smooth. Then with your tape measure determine how big a piece you'll need. Cut the covering to size, peel off the paper backing and apply.

You'll find an array of colors and patterns in housewares sections of stores to meet your needs. New to the line this spring are four fashion-styled prints and a solid beige which are in keeping with current decorating trends.

Clay pipe is a quality material — its performance is guaranteed for 75 years.

Outdoor Lounging Area Is Wood Patio Deck

Do you want a lounging area away from your house for afternoon entertaining? Here's a simple plan. Along your property line, build a wood patio deck, possibly six feet wide by 20 feet long, of sturdy fir 2x4s set on rigid frame.

Along the property line and on both ends install a banquette-type solid bench, but run the back up four feet or more high. This affords privacy and room for card tables and children's play gear. Back of seats can be paneled and decorated in different colors.

Keep Paper Tight

In using an electric sander, it is important that the abrasive paper be stretched tightly across the pad. This is especially vital in using an orbital sander, in which the pad moves back and forth in a slight orbit.

Simple Design Cuts Cabin Cost

Summer homes need not be elaborate, lumber association housing experts pointed out. Some can be built that are adequate for as little as $1,000, especially if the family can do most of the work.

A simple A-frame design using lumber available at the neighborhood lumber yard is proving most popular. The frame may be made of 2x6 Douglas fir, fastened at the peak by bolts and anchored at the corners to the platform.

The floor of the summer home can be inexpensive 2x6 fir laid on a solid foundation and this may be extended in front of the cabin to form a sun deck. The exposed decking should have a slight spacing to allow water to run off.

The roof and walls of the A-frame style summer home are one. Shiplap can be applied over the 2x6 A-frame with suitable openings for windows. Shingles applied over the shiplap give a cozy look to the home.

The triangle shaped ends of the home can be entirely of glass in fir frames. No partitions are required inside, but curtained areas may separate sleeping areas at night which permits opening up the home into one large room during the day.

The 2x6s can be 18 feet long which will allow an 18-foot wide floor. The 2x6 frames can be spaced about four feet apart, and the house can be as long as desired within the price limit of the family.

Polish Remover Isn't for Carpets

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Use of nail polish remover on rugs and carpets can be disastrous to some of the new synthetic fibers now in use, according to the National Institute of Rug Cleaning.

Unfortunately, NIRC scientists say, many housewives assume that it is the logical thing to use for nail polish spills only to find that it leaves holes in their rugs. Some paint thinners have the same effect. To be safe, they say, neither should be used on any rug or carpet.

A simple, inexpensive remedy is amyl acetate which can be obtained at any drug store. It should be applied to the stain a few drops at a time and, after several minutes, blotted up with clean white tissues or terry cloth.

PERMANENT FIREPLACE — Packaged units of fireplace hardware (A) simplify the building chore. Locate fireplace (B) in shady area. Position so that prevailing winds blow smoke away from grill (C).

Handy Man-Chef Will Relish Outdoor Fireplace

If you do a good deal of cooking out of doors, a permanent fireplace might well be a good investment. Portable units do a fine job, of course, but a permanent installation provides a focal point for outdoor entertainment for those of us not blessed with patios.

Since you'll be running in and out with supplies, determine on a direct and easy-to-travel route to the kitchen. Place the fireplace with an eye toward drainage problems.

Pick a shaded, cool spot if you can, but not one that's directly below low-hanging tree limbs that might get scorched, or from which bugs can drop in the food.

The fireplace opening should face into the prevailing wind, not away from it. This will help the fire to burn properly as well as protect you from smoke.

Most manufacturers and dealers are happy to provide you with plans and diagrams of fireplaces that you can build, using those readymade cooking units.

You can, of course, design your own unit. Figure on a working height for your grill somewhere between 25 and 32 inches. Below the grill is the firebox. If you're a little more ambitious, plan on an ashbox below that. Separate them with a grate.

If you plan a large fireplace, complete with chimney, you will have to put in a foundation that extends below the frost line. A lightweight fireplace can be built right on top of a "floating" slab—one that will rise and fall with frost heaving without cracking.

A floating concrete slab should be six to eight inches thick and reinforced with mesh or steel rods. Dig down about four inches before pouring the slab. If drainage is poor, dig deeper and fill in the difference with layers of cinders or gravel.

The slab should be two-to-six inches wider all around than the dimensions of the fireplace. Better yet, allow a foot or two in front for standing room.

For fireplaces that are heavy or unbalanced due to a high chimney, provide the slab with concrete walls — footings — extending down beyond the frost line on all four sides. This may be to a depth of a foot or more.

NEW BRICKS are relatively expensive; used bricks are cheap but need cleaning. Concrete blocks are not too pretty, but lay up easily, are not too expensive, and can be painted.

Cut or broken stone gives a rugged look. Lay flat stone as you would brick, try to keep the courses as level as possible. Avoid round stones. They're too hard to position.

A very simple fireplace can be built in a U-shape, 32 to 36 inches wide. Place the grate about two-thirds of the way up and the grill near the top, with its ends below the last row of bricks.

Omitting Roof Gutters Adds Later Costs

The few dollars which may be saved during construction of your new home by eliminating roof gutters and downspout will have to be spent sooner or later to add them. The cheapest time to install rain gutters and downspout is when the house is built, says the Roof Drainage Manufacturing Institute.

Why a roof drainage system? Uncontrolled rain and melting snow can do serious damage to the structure of the home. During heavy rains water pours off the eaves onto the ground; large pools of water often collect, seep through foundations into the basement.

Even if this rain water does not damage basement contents, it sets up conditions which may rot out wood structural parts of the home. In addition, water beating on the ground from the eaves batters down prized plants, causes embarrassment by dripping on arriving or departing guests.

Remember, rain gutters are the mark of the well-dressed home. Be sure your builder installs them on your new home.

It's Sound Economy

Every building authority admits that it is sound economy for a family to pay more for a quality home right at the start. Researchers point out that (1) rock wool insulation pays for itself in lower heating costs, (2) adequate wiring costs less when the builder installs it, and (3) summer air conditioning saves money in clothes cleaning bills.

SPACE QUEEN — This is a companion home to the Space King and is offered in the same subdivision near Lotus Lake, with privileges on the lake and on a beach lot. Like the Space King, this house has full fiberglas insulation and aluminum windows. There are paved streets and storm sewers in the area. Prices of these homes start at $10,990. The house is open for inspection daily.

Compound Keeps Concrete in Shape

With a little preventive maintenance, you'll sail through this summer and those to come enjoying your friends and family with no worries about crumbling concrete. There is a new flexible mastic waterstop that's simple to apply yet will stop these cracks completely. It is a putty-like material that can be applied to stucco, plaster and metal. If you have terrazzo it takes only a few minutes to lay it in place.

As a joint and crack sealer it is also impervious to water, acids, alkalis, oils, greases and brine so you can use it on sidewalks, garage floors, as well as water tanks and aquariums. The dried compound is nontoxic and can be used with safety in fish pools and cisterns.

To apply it, all you need is a caulking gun or a trowel. It's packaged in a plastic nozzled cartridge that slips into the gun. If you happen to have a porous surface that needs filling you won't need a primer. The compound dries within minutes and can then be painted with rubber base, alkyd or oil-type paints.

ANCHOR FENCE protects children, pets and property while it adds new beauty to your home and grounds. It's a perfect background for flowering shrubs and vines. Nationally known Anchor Fence never needs annual painting.

Start Basement Room With Insulation

Careful planning, tasteful decoration and fine furniture will be wasted unless the room is warm and comfortable during winter months.

Heating engineers point out that heat always flows toward a cold space. In a basement, heat flows to the coldest level of the concrete or cinder block wall—usually at the frost line two or three feet below grade. This means rapid loss of heat, constantly cold walls and convection drafts.

Chilly indoor drafts are caused by cold walls and can be dangerous to the health of a family. Since cold air is heavier than warm air, it falls to the floor and goes scudding across it in a cold draft.

Mineral wool batts three inches thick should be stapled between standard 2 x 4 studs fixed to the concrete or cinderblock wall from floor to ceiling.

With the vapor barrier facing the heated side of the room, staple the flange of the batt to the facing side of the stud. Use at least one staple every six inches and butt the ends of the batts together snugly to form an unbroken insulation and vapor barrier seal.

After insulation has been installed, wall paneling or gypsum board can be nailed to the walls.

A further advantage of insulating basement walls is that it reduces dampness. Even when walls have been waterproofed, moisture often condenses on them when warm air touches the cold concrete or cinderblock.

Second Grade Maple Floor Is First Rate

The official grading term, "Second Grade," of hardwood flooring is often confused with second quality or something inferior. This, of course, is not true. Second Grade is equal in every performance and endurance quality to First Grade—the highest in standard grading practice.

Actually, Second Grade hardwood flooring can be safely specified without any loss of quality. It is endorsed by many authorities — architecs, engineers, contractors and builders.

Second Grade Northern hard maple flooring, for instance, is preferred at times over First Grade because of its pleasingly varied colorations and interesting grain patterns. These attractive features tend to give the floor more pronounced character, in the opinion of many interior decorators.

Second Grade maple is light-toned and modern. Appearance is not sacrificed because careful attention is given to the rule interpretation, so that an attractive and distinctive floor will result from its use.

Considering present day building costs, it should be remembered that Second Grade maple flooring can be laid at substantial savings to property owners. It is a splendid choice for all rooms in the modern home, gymnasiums and ballrooms, as well as in industrial, commercial and public buildings.

SPACE KING — Over 1,500 square feet of living space is contained in this tri-level home in Lotus Lake subdivision. In addition to the living room, kitchen and three bedrooms there is a 17 by 11 grade level room at the right of the front door. This has a variety of uses. The attached double garage may be had for an additional sum. Known as the Space King, this home is built on a 75 by 150 foot lot. It is priced at $13,990 with $290 down and 30 year FHA terms. Carlo Construction Company did the building. Slavik Realty, Inc. is handling the sales.

Vinyl Coats Aluminum for Improved Siding

A completely new type of vinyl coated aluminum siding promises to simplify home exterior maintenance to an occasional wash-down with a garden hose. Coated with a special vinyl resin finish, the siding resists blistering, cracking and crazing for as long as 10 years.

The siding panels, which come in 10-foot lengths with a full eight-inch exposed surface, are available in white and in a variety of pastel colors. The panels interlock to form a weather-tight V-groove that hides nail heads. Awnings and Venetian blinds are also being made of this durable, care-free material.

Dirt and Stains on Stone Will Yield to Scrubbing

Accumulated dirt and stains on interior masonry and stone work usually can be removed with a strong cleaning soap, hot water and a stiff bristle scrub brush. If this doesn't work, buy a bottle of muriatic acid, dilute it with water according to directions on the bottle and use this solution as the cleaning agent, again with a stiff bristle scrub brush.

Apply First Aid to Furniture

Spring cleaning isn't what it used to be. Carpets were yanked up, Papa — so the comic strips said — was yanked from his favorite chair, and even the dog slunk out of the house to wait for quieter times.

Today it's different. The house is mechanized and the homemaker can do a more thorough job more frequently than her mother could with brush and broom.

Still there are household difficulties which can't be handled in day-to-day or weekly cleaning. Repair takes a concentrated effort and know-how. Here are four common domestic tragedies and ways to deal with them:

VARNISH TURNED WHITE by hot water or hot dishes. Rub lightly with flannel dampened with spirits of camphor or essence of peppermint. Varnish will be temporarily softened. Let it dry, then rub it smooth. Apply wax furniture polish.

DENTS IN FURNITURE. Wet with warm water. Roll brown paper, soak in warm water and lay upon dent. Apply a warm (not hot) iron until moisture evaporates. Repeat if dents do not disappear.

DEEP FURNITURE SCRATCHES. Remove loose splinters. Work stain into crack with fine brush. Stain darkens with time so use a stain slightly lighter than surrounding wood. With a fine brush fill the scratch with white shellac, being careful not to allow shellac to overlap edges of scratch.

When wood is used for trusses, beams and columns, it is generally considered stronger pound for pound than steel.

Resist Spring Fever, Check Up on House

The heady fragrance of a freshly groomed golf course and the serene whispers of the rushing waters of a trout stream can be almost overwhelming at this time of the year. But, unfortunately, spring also brings with it some very important chores about the house, the neglect of which can result in many future headaches and repair bills.

Some of the chores one would rather forget but shouldn't are outlined in an article in the May issue of a home magazine.

First on the list is the job of giving your heating system a once-over so it won't deteriorate during the warm weather. Using a long handled brush clean soot and dust from the inside of the unit and the smokepipe.

Fill the boilers to the top with water to prevent rust formation during its period of disuse. The water and sludge should also be pumped out of the fuel-oil storage tank and that tank should be filled with oil to prevent condensation during the summer.

A check of the gutters is the next order of business. Be sure they are pitched toward the opening into the leader or downspout and do not sag. Clean them thoroughly and cover with a wire mesh or patented gutter guards.

SEPTIC TANK

If your house sewer system is connected to a septic tank, the tank should be inspected to see if a cleaning is necessary. Contrary to popular belief all solid matter flowing into the tank is not transformed into a liquid state. Some remains as sludge and when the depth of this is equal to one half the total height of the tank, it should be pumped out.

High on the list for springtime inspection is the search for termites. The termite worker, who does the real damage can't stand exposure to light and is therefore hard to catch at work. On the other hand, the termite reproductive, often mistaken for a flying ant, will be seen flying around in swarms on warm spring days.

This doesn't mean the house is infested, but it does indicate that the masonry between the ground and house woodwork should be examined for signs of small tunnels. If the tunnels are there it's a sure sign that termites are at work.

These are some of the spring chores necessary to mainaining a safe and sound home. And these spring activities, although they can't hold a candle to golfing or fishing, may be more rewarding in the long run in terms of money saved and a safe and sound home.

Flatter Yourself With House Colors

Is your setting right for you? There is no additional expense involved in choosing colors for your home decor, which are flattering to your type and personality. Nowadays women wear the colors in their home as proudly as they wear their clothes.

For a blonde, a good combination is found in pale blue walls with variations of red to pale pink in the furnishings. A brunette might do well to choose a purplish blue for her basic background with russet and chartreuse accents.

Scores of suggestions and combinations of colors to suit you are yours for the asking. Just send your name and address to the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. Ask for the booklet, "Decorate to Flatter Your Personality."

Keep Putty Handy

It's a good idea to keep a wad of putty mixed to use when you need it. When you see putty beginning to crumble away from a window sash, you can remedy it at once by filling the space with fresh putty.

Care Prevents Mower Harm

Power lawn mower accidents showed a sharp decline in mowing mishaps last summer as compared with previous seasons. Whether this means an even safer mowing season is at hand depends on the operator.

"The operational safety is the most important single factor considered by designers and engineers. In addition, the industry in general is succeeding in educating the consumer in proper, efficient and safe use of their power mowers."

★ ★ ★

By knowing his power mower, the home gardener understands the "do's" and "don'ts" of operation. Engineers suggest home gardeners:

Read the operator's instruction manual completely.

Examine the power mower for safety and operating instructions printed on the housing or shroud. Also, keep fuel in a safe place and never smoke while fueling the mower.

★ ★ ★

When starting a mower, make sure your foot is placed firmly on the top of the housing so that when the starter-rope is pulled, the mower remains stationary. When mowing keep in step behind the mower. But don't step too closely to the rear of the housing.

★ ★ ★

A yard free of loose articles, stones and debris cuts down on damage to the mower and injuries from flying objects.

Attractive Dutch Door Has Practical Uses

Many families have discovered that an old-fashioned Dutch-style door has many advantages. Among the most important of these is that the top half of the door can be opened for ventilation while the bottom half stays closed to keep children and pets inside.

Dutch-style doors of ponderosa pine are available in stock from building material dealers, or can be made by the home handyman from a stock panel door sawed in half.

CLAMPS — Clamps are the handy man's best friend when he tackles gluing jobs. Begin your collection with "C" clamps.

Prefabricated Windows Aid Novice Handyman

Time was when the man of the house was a sidewalk superintendent. But no more.

Now he can build that enclosed porch Mother wants, with the aid of a friend and new window and wall components.

After that there are other little jobs around the house to do so he can earn his diploma as a master do-it-yourselfer.

All the handy man has to do is nail the unit to a floor plate, or directly to the porch floor, and to a ceiling header.

If the entire porch is to be enclosed with windows, the units are simply nailed together in rows. These new units bring porch enclosures and other remodeling projects within the skills of the do-it-yourselfer by eliminating the need for rough framing.

They are available in six sizes 48 inches wide. There is one component 32 inches wide. All fit into the regular 16-inch stud system that is typical of frame construction.

Safe Plumbing Is Vital to Nation's Health

Scientific treatment of raw water for domestic use has become a very important and very essential function in American cities, but such treatment can be rendered ineffective by improper piping connections anywhere along the piping system, the Bureau points out.

Every plumbing fixture in a home or other type of building is the end of the water supply and the beginning of the sewage or waste system.

Because many dangerous germs live and thrive in polluted water, it is vital to the protection of health that there be no opportuniy for waste water to intermingle with pure water as it comes from the mains.

Innocent appearing cross-connections between the domestic water supply lines and the waste lines can be potentially dangerous. It is for this reason that the proper installation of the entire plumbing system is so important.

Making safe plumbing installations is the business of the plumbing contractor who holds a city or state license which certifies that he is qualified to make and supervise plumbing installations.

Pick Wall Colors Before Any Other

It's all very well to mix colors in decorating your room. However, most experts agree that three colors are enough. Choose colors for walls and floor coverings first, because there are the biggest areas of color.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Off white walls and stark white ceiling might have a room with dark-stained polished floors, and two or three warm-hued Oriental rugs. The rose and turquoise showing in the rugs could inspire the use of these colors in hangings and upholstery.

Foil the Kids!

Keep children from locking themselves in the bathroom or other rooms with a cleverly designed rubber shield made out of an old inner tube. Cut a strip of rubber from the tube long enough to stretch from knob to knob. It will cover the latch and keep the door from clicking shut. Cut a hole in each end of the strip so that it can be fitted over both knobs.

Condition of Roof Can Downgrade Your House

A roof in good condition is important not only to the beauty of a house but to appearance of a neighborhood.

If you don't believe this is so, glance at rooftops as you drive through your community. Chances are you'll notice immediately how shabby roofs here and there damage the looks of the house.

Wise home owners are reroofing their homes before they begin to look shabby and worn. A new roof also provides security and adds to the value of the house. Here are some of the things that can happen to a house with an old, shabby roof:

1. Slow, invisible leaks can start water seeping into vital framing members where dampness can cause rot or get into wiring, causing fire danger through a short circuit.

2. A severe windstorm can rip off the old, weakened roofing material, exposing the house and its contents to costly water damage from deluging rains following the gale.

3. Fire can start in flammable roofing material, especially when it has been dried for years by the sun. Sparks from a dirty or defective chimney or nearby bonfire or a flaming brand from a neighboring house on fire are threats.

4. Last, but far from least, a shabby, worn roof can kill a sale.

★ ★ ★

So give your roof an inspection now. If it's getting along in years, give some thought to calling in a roofing contractor for an estimate on a new roof. Consider asphalt shingles in a color your family will like because they are fire resistant.

Ready Home for Big Drip

No, we're not talking about an extended visit from some boring relative or acquaintance. We mean the endless drips and drops that are coming with the massive arrival of wash-and-wear clothing, which last year accounted for estimated sales of $1.4 billion.

According to one manufacturer of the material, 20 to 25 per cent of men's suits will soon be wash-and-wear. And, along with the suits, there will be more wash-and-wear lingerie, shirts, skirts, blouses, women's suits, sweaters and so on.

Unless your laundry is properly equipped, you may find that the convenience of not having to iron and press many articles of clothing is partly erased by not having a convenient place for wash-and-wear clothing to drip-dry. Use of a material such as ceramic tile on the floor of your drip-dry area would be an ideal and practical solution to this problem.

(1) Ceramic tile is impervious to water, and, therefore, cannot be damaged by this kind of use.

(2) Ceramic tile is easily cleaned, so that your drip-dry area can be used for other purposes.

(3) Ceramic tile needs no waxing or other protection.

(4) Ceramic tile comes in many shapes and colors, so that it will fit right into any room.

So, it looks as though the "big drip" is coming to your house to stay. If your floors are ready for the reception, it can be a welcome visit indeed.

State Named in Forecast of Building Boom

Private and public building and remodeling—modernization will total $73 billion in 1959, according to research studies by Building Supply News—leading building industry dealer publication. Legislative action, population increases and mobility, increased employment, income and plant expenditures, BSN's editors point out, are economic indicators that add up to continued increases in the building industry.

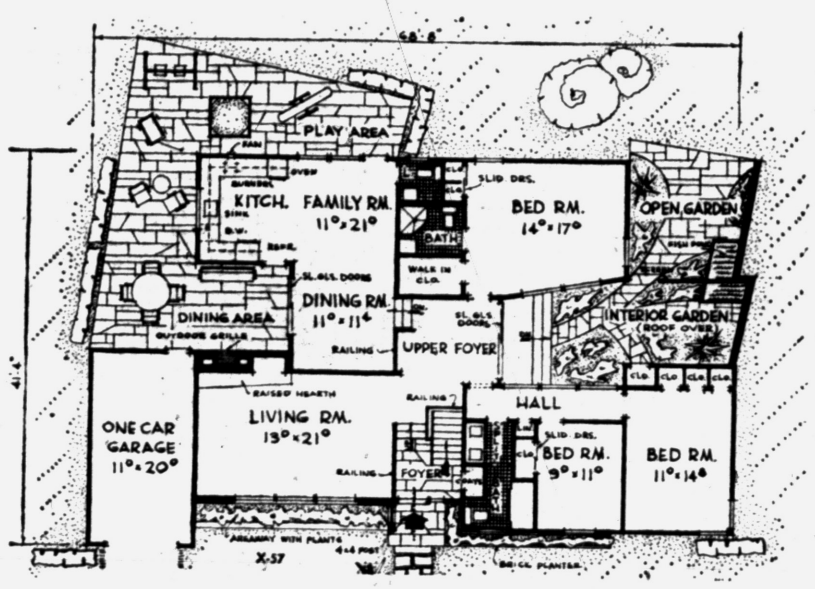
Gross estimate forecasts for 1959: Private building total, $35.7 billion; public building total, $16.8 billion; remodeling - modernization $20.5 billion.

Forecasts show an over - all building market gain of 6 per cent, a residential market gain of 5.5 per cent, non-residential gain of 1.1 per cent, and a remodeling-modernization gain of 10 per cent.

The East North Central states of Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin will lead the nation in remodeling-modernization with $4.89 billion. Indications are that the Pacific states of Washington, Oregon and California will show the greatest number of housing starts in 1959 with 264,800.

Much of the credit for industry gains in these areas is attributed, by building industry leaders, to home-selling campaigns that inform people of the values gained by buying now. "Smart people build or buy BEFORE a boom!" a concept presented to the building industry by the editors of Building Supply News, is universally heralded by state home building associations as a generating force behind the movement of homes.

BEAUTIFUL BUT SOUND — This one-story house utilizes unique ideas for practical living along with some unusual features to put more fun, leisure and color into your home. It has three bedrooms, 1½ baths.



FLOOR PLAN — Upper foyer serves as the hub to all major rooms. Note that the interior garden is visible from foyer, hall, main bedroom and dining room.

Built-in Garden Beautifies Practical Ranch Home

Most home buyers desire space for a garden — no matter how small — but here's a switch on the idea: Bring the garden into the house where it can be enjoyed every day.

This spacious, one-story plan calls for a roofed-over interior garden that can be viewed from the main foyer, hall, owner's bedroom and dining room. There's a walled-in exterior garden also.

It's one of several unusual features in a home designed for living in leisure. Designated X-57 in the House of the Week series of distinguished homes, it was produced by Architect Herman H. York.

While emphasizing beauty, York hasn't forgotten a practical floor plan that will provide comfortable, convient living.

CENTRAL FOYER

An upper foyer is the hub around which all major rooms are located. The house has three bedrooms, one and a half baths, and an unusual kitchen-family room-dining room arrangement. Informality is emphasized, with the dining room opening in an open plan to the family area. Or if you prefer, you could use a folding door to separate the dining room from the family area.

And here's a factor Mom will appreciate: She can supervise the outdoor play area from either the kitchen or the family room.

The large living room is traffic free since only one wide entrance is provided. This means you'll have ample room for furniture grouping.

And the raised hearth fireplace located toward one corner of the room makes it possible for you to have variations in conversational groupings. The low entry features a flagstone floor and wrought iron railings.

The dining room opens directly to an outside dining terrace through large sliding glass doors. Out here you can have a barbecue grille that's convenient to the kitchen. It's the answer for outdoor fun at home — yet this and the other terraces enjoy complete privacy.

A door is provided, incidentally, for easy access to the kitchen from the dining terrace. Inside you'll have an efficient "U" shaped kitchen for easier cooking chores.

The master bedroom is arranged as a separate suite with a wonderful view of the interior garden. The designer has, as in several previous House of the Week plans, again used a planted wall here to achieve an impression of space at the approach to the garden. The other two bedrooms are completely private with a split bath room and dual lavatories.

BOTANICAL GARDEN

The focal point of the main foyer is the beautiful, roofed over interior garden which gives an atmosphere of a botanical garden. A fish pond and lily pad pool against a brick wall in the distance provides for a sweeping vista visible from the living room only fifty feet away. It's an impressive kind of house that your visitors will long remember, yet is designed for practicality.

The exterior bears this out. On one side of the main entrance, for example, there is a large nine-light window surrounded by brick. The same brick appears in a planter which wraps itself around the other side of the entrance steps.

The roof features asphalt shingles in a light color, but the architect suggests wood shingles would add to the appearance of the house, where they are readily available.

The house contains 1,710 square feet of floor area in the 205 square feet for the basement recreation room. You must add an additional 235 square feet for the garage.

Overall dimensions are 68'8" in length and 41'4" in depth.

Popular Tool Comes in Pocket Size

One of the most popular tools in recent years has been a surface-forming implement that can be used on wood, metal and plastic. One type comes in the shape of a file, another in the shape of a plane. The face of the tool has hundreds of individual fine - cut teeth, with outlets so that the chips clear themselves.

The latest addition to this line is a "pocket" version, only five and one-half inches long. Handy for putting in the pocket of a work apron or trousers, it can be used for trimming doors and windows, sticky drawers, model making and many other jobs around the house and shop.

Nature Gives Clue to Color Schemes

A city-dweller with a flare for decorating revealed recently her formula for choosing the colors which decorate her home's interior. "I just refer to the flowers with which Nature has provided us," she told a questioner. She had used a calla lily for the inspiration guiding her bedroom decor.

"The white of the flower was used for the ceiling," she said. The pale green of the stem for the paint on the walls and woodwork. Deep green of the leaves supplied the color for the carpeting. Pale yellow of the upholstery and draperies and dull gold accessories were suggested by the center of the lily."

Ice Replaces Jacks

To lower a heavy vault or other weighty object flush to a floor, insert blocks of ice before removing jacks. As the ice melts, speeded by fans if necessary, the heavy object settles evenly into

Stretching Lumber

A New Orleans company, Higgins Industries, Inc., has developed a machine for stretching lumber. The process in no way affects the strength or durability of wood, spokesmen for the firm report.

Says Quarles 'Irreplaceable'

McElroy Reconsiders Plan to Quit

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's choice of a successor for Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles will be closely scrutinized by Democrats in Congress.

Quarles, 64, died unexpectedly Friday in his sleep.

The former communications industry official had been mentioned prominently as a possible replacement for Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy, who had told Eisenhower he wanted to leave his Pentagon post late this year.

Some of the congressional Democrats had looked on Quarles as one of the administration officials who had resisted their demands for more spending to close the missile gap with the Soviets.

It had been the impression of these Democrats that McElroy leaned heavily on the advice of Quarles, who technically was more familiar with details of the defense program than almost any other official.

McElroy told reporters Friday Quarles' death "will have to be another actor in considering what I will do." He said it will be a good many months before the time for his intended resignation and he will have an opportunity to consider the matter.

Describing Quarles as "really irreplaceable," McElroy said that fundamentally he favors promoting someone within the Defense Department instead of going outside. He indicated an acting deputy may be named for the time being.

★ ★ ★

Mentioned in speculation about an eventual replacement for McElroy were Gordon Gray, a special presidential assistant for national security affairs; Wilfred J. McNeil, the Pentagon's comptroller; retired Gen. Alfred Gruenther, now chairman of the American Red Cross; Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton, a former assistant defense secretary; and Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations.

★ ★ ★

Two senators expressed hope that McElroy will reconsider plans to leave the cabinet this year.

Sens. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Andrew F. Schoeppel (R-Kan.) said in separate interviews they believe the death of Quarles makes such a decision by McElroy imperative.

Quarles will be buried Tuesday in Arlington National Cemetery with military honors.

1,140 USO Kits Given New GIs

Local Unit Planning Week-Long Celebration for June 8-14

The Greater Pontiac USO Council has announced that 1,140 USO kits were handed out to draftees and recruits in the Pontiac area during the year ending April 30.

★ ★ ★

Figures were released by Mrs. William Dean and James Campbell, cochairmen of the committee working with local draftees and enlisted men.

Plans for the coming USO Week, June 8-14, have been disclosed by Irving Steinman, council chairman.

The week will be climaxed by a gala celebration and awards program at the Auburn Heights Nike Base on June 14, he said.

★ ★ ★

Among the distinguished guests expected to be present are Gov. Williams and Pontiac Mayor Philip Rowston.

Awards will be presented to various area civic and fraternal organizations for their aid to servicemen during the past year.

Cochairmen of the event are Kay Vedder and Thomas Horwitz. Members of the committee include Capt. Raymond J. Geoffrion, commanding officer of the 18th Missile Battalion in Auburn Heights, and council members Fred Haggard, Charles Tucker, Mrs. Fred Haushalter, Reba Netzler and James Campbell.

Convicts Unionist of Tax Dodge on Stolen $562,000

CHICAGO (AP) — Eugene C. James, who pleaded that funds stolen from his union were not taxable income, has been convicted of evading $562,982 in federal income taxes.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph Sam Perry found James guilty Friday and set Monday for sentencing. James faces a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and a $40,000 fine.

The government based its complaint on income of $742,285 from 1951 through 1954 when James was international vice president-secretary of the now-independent Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Dyehouse Workers Union. James still is secretary-treasurer of the union's Local 46 in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

James' lawyers told the court the undeclared income represented funds taken from the union, but they contended a 1946 U.S. Supreme Court decision held that stolen funds were not taxable.

Judge Perry said, however, that a later ruling by the high court held ill-gotten gains were taxable income.

Most of Europe Ignores 14th V-E Anniversary

Only in Paris, which went delirious with delight when Germany surrendered, were flags displayed. They fluttered from buses and from official buildings. Groups of war veterans laid wreaths on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier under the Arch of Triumph.

The U. S. Army in Germany did not celebrate in any way, and there were no observances in Scandinavain lands Britain or the Low Countries.

Just Another Customer to Little French Lad

ORLEANS, France (AP) — A boy, about 12 years old, charged through police lines here Friday, yanked open the door of a limousine in an official procession and thrust a bouquet of flowers toward the startled occupant of the back seat.

"Please lady," he said. "They're only 100 francs."

Kresge Directors Pick Cunningham Firm Head

DETROIT (AP)—Harry B. Cunningham yesterday was elected president and general manager of S.S. Kresge Co. by directors of the retail variety store chain.

He had been general vice president since 1957 and succeeded Franklin P. Williams, who retired after 44 years of service with S.S. Kresge.

Deaths Elsewhere

MIDLAND (AP)—Charles Penhaligen, Dow Chemical Co. auditor since 1941, died of a heart attack yesterday in the Dow Hospital at Freeport, Texas, the company said today. He was 58.

SALISBURY, England (AP) — Richard Chipperfield, 84, ancient master of the circus arts who was known as old Mr. Chips, died Friday. He started in the circus ring at 5 and soon learned most of the abilities of a circus performer. Chips retired 20 years ago. The Chipperfield family has been in the circus more than three centuries.

ADRIAN (AP)—Adrian's fire chief, Jack Hawley, 60, a former vice president of the Michigan Fire Chiefs Assn., died Friday of lung cancer. He had been with the Adrian Fire Department for 40 years.

ADRIAN (AP)—Earl J. Christmas, 67, who was an insurance man in Lansing and Adrian for 45 years, died Friday of heart disease.

2 Detroit Youths Held in Robbery

PETOSKEY (AP) — Two youths from the Detroit area who took off in a car with a deer rifle and a Japanese saber were captured in nothern Michigan last night after a grocery robbery.

Edward Boileau, 16, of Rockwood, and Marvin Tarjeft, 17, of Wyandotte, were held as police prisoners in Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey.

Both were injured when they wrecked their car hitting a turn on U.S. 31 in Emmet County at 120 miles an hour, State Police said. The youths were thrown from the car.

They fled into a woods. Boileau surrendered after a deputy sheriff fired a warning shot over his head. Tarjeft collapsed from his injury after going to a farm house to ask for help.

State Police said pursuit of the teenagers was started by troopers and deputy sheriffs after the Davenport grocery on the north arm of Burt Lake in Cheboygan County was robbed of $56. The woman proprietor phoned State Police a description of the youths and their car.

State Police broadcast an alert and roadblocks were set up in the northern end of the Lower Peninsula.

State Police Sgt. Fred Ferrando said probate court will be asked to waive jurisdiction so the youths can be tried as adults. They are held without charge for questioning.

Local Navy Man Dons the 'Gray' in Musket Match

A local Navy recruiter is whooping it up this weekend with the motto, "Save your Confederate muskets, boys, the South Shall Rise Again."

In fact, Quartermaster 1. C. Frank A. Limpert of the Pontiac N avyRecruiting Station is helping the South to rise again as a "Confederate" in the Annual Qualifying Musket Match at Fort Lee, Va.

Limpert, who has been with the local recruiting staff since last September, took his family along the event.

He first joined the "Confederacy" last August after attending one of the colorful matches at Greenfield Village sponsored by the North-South Skirmish Association.

In full Confederate uniform, Limpert will be "shooting for" the 15th Virginia Cavalry, Confederate Military Team. He hopes to attend several "skirmishes" scheduled this summer.

From the musket match this weekend, Limpert will tour several famous Civil War battlefields, including Appomattox, the scene of Lee's surrender. He plans to return to Pontiac May 18.

Limpert, who lives at 1737 Enterprise St., Royal Oak, has spent most of his 13 years in the submarine service.

Plant's Closing to Cost 8 Million

Town to Lose Income as Auto-Lite Vacates Wisconsin Factory

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—The closing of the electric Auto-Lite Co. plant here, will mean an economic loss in this city of 50,000 of about eight million dollars a year, an official of the firm estimated today.

William Jones, personnel director here, said that about eight million dollars, including a six million dollar payroll, has been paid out in La Crosse annually by Auto-Lite.

Auto-Lite has 20 plants in the United States not including the factory at La Crosse. Three are at Bay City, Owosso and Port Huron. Another is in Toledo.

In Toledo, R. E. Valk, vice president for general products, said production from the closed plant would be consolidated in facilities at Bay City, Port Huron and Toledo.

The company said its industrial instrument division will be added to its Port Huron operations. The move, will be completed by late August and will add "a number of jobs," the company said.

Security for You

Baby Sitter Can Register

By RAY HENRY

From Mrs. M.W. of Knoxville, Tenn.: "For the past year, I have been doing house work and baby sitting for a working mother. She pays me $10 a week. I want to pay Social Security tax on this money so that I'll be entitled to draw payments when I get too old to work. Where can I get information about how to pay the tax?"

You can get the forms and instructions by writing to the nearest Internal Revenue Service office. Any post office can give you the address.

From O.M. of Jefferson, Ohio: "A friend of mine tells me that the survivors of war veterans may receive some money from the government toward a veteran's burial expense. Is this right?"

Yes. The Veterans Administration will pay up to $250 toward a war veteran's burial expenses or cremation, providing the veteran was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions from his military service.

From G.H.S. of Englewood, N.J.: "In a recent column, you said that a person could collect Social Security after reaching 72 no matter how much he earned from work. I was 72 in December, but didn't apply for Social Security because I didn't know I was eligible. Can I now apply and get back payments? My earnings for this year will be around $5,000."

You should immediately apply for payments for January through April. The Social Security law allows the payment of up to 12 months of back payments.

BIRTH RECORD

From G.M. of Jones, Okla.: "Please tell me how a person who is 65 can prove to the Social Security Administration that he is that age? No birth certificate was issued when the person was born."

The Social Security people will accept such proof as a baptismal certificate, census bureau record, hospital birth records. I suggest you get together any proof you might have showing the date of birth and ask your local office if any other proof is necessary.

From Mrs. G.G. of Cleveland, Ohio: "My husband died in September, 1955. All I've had to live on is some insurance he left me and a little I've been able to make working. I applied for Social Security at the time, but was told I wasn't eligible because I didn't have any children under 18. Is this still true? I'm 59."

Widows are not eligible to collect Social Security on the basis of their husband's Social Security record until they reach 62, unless they have dependent children. Apparently, you were turned down because you had no dependent children and hadn't reached the age of eligibility. I can only suggest that you apply for Social Securty when you reach 62.

From Mrs. H. N. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "My husband was a World War I veteran. He died about two months ago. Is there any chance that I'm eligible to receive a pension from the Veterans Administration because of his military service?"

Yes. If you meet the necessary qualifications, you'll be entitled to receive $50.40 a month as the widow of a World War I veteran.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR Mother & Wife Mrs. M. Viola Hickson, who passed away May 10th, 1958.
You bid us not farewell,
Nor said goodby to none;
Your loving heart had ceased to beat,
Before we knew you were gone.
God saw that you were suffering,
And the hills were hard to climb;
So he closed your weary eyes.
And whispered Peace be Thine.
Sadly missed by her Family.

Ed Sullivan Levels Blast at Emmies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fred Astaire says he's just an "innocent bystander" in Ed Sullivan's blast against the Emmy awards, seven of which went to Astaire.

Sullivan said in New York Friday night that the ballots of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences should be impounded. A trustee of the Academy, Sullivan said there are 3,000 to 4,000 persons eligible to vote "and we would like to know just how many actually did vote."

"I don't know anything about anything," Astaire said in Hollywood. "I'm just an innocent bystander."

Loren L. Ryder, national treasurer of the TV Academy, said the acting award to Astaire can be justified on the ground that a star is a star "and it isn't important whether he dances or reads lines." He insisted that the Emmy balloting system is infallible "and it can be defended without question."

Desi Arnaz, a trustee of the Academy, said in Palm Springs, Calif., that while the categories "might be a little mixed up" in the Emmy selections, Astaire deserves everything he received.

Qualify NOW for a PROFESSIONAL LIFE!

OUR MODERN Age of Stress has placed a premium upon the services of chiropractors — doctors who specialize in keeping the human nervous system functioning normally.

This means a life of professional service, with its professional rewards, awaits young men and women of college age who can meet the exacting requirements of colleges accredited by the Council on Education of the National Chiropractic Association. Standard courses comprise four academic years totalling 4,480 class room hours.

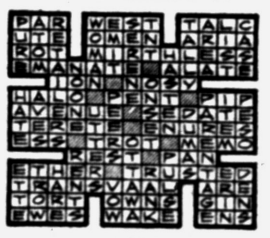
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Eddie, Liz Plan Quiet, Simple Religious Rite

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher will be married next Tuesday in what a friend describes as a "quiet simple religious ceremony with just friends of Liz and Eddie present."

Jewish rites at Temple Beth Sholom will be performed by Rabbis Max Nussbaum and Bernard Cohen. Nussbaum converted Miss Taylor, a Christian Scientist, to Judasm last March.

Fisher said he plans to get his divorce from Debbie Reynolds Monday, after his required six week Nevada residence has been completed.

Seaway Ships Need Additions

Official Tells His Firm in Norway to Specially Equip Vessels

TORONTO (AP) — An official of the Norwegian-American Shipping Line says he has asked his company to make special arrangements to overcome delays in the St. Lawrence Seaway.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Harald Sundt, assistant marine supervisor of the shipping line, was aboard the Lyngenfjord which left Toronto yesterday for Thorold. He is on the ship to report on how ocean ships are operating on the seaway.

He said in an interview he has cabled his home office in Oslo to make preparations to expedite the trip of the line's next freighter through the seaway.

He recommended that the ship carry her own landing booms for loading and unloading; a pulley-type arrangement on the sides of the deck for mooring and winching purposes; and a crew to adapt quickly to new situations.

Meanwhile, J. D. Leitch, president of Upper Lakes Shipping Limited, asked Transport Minister George Hees to ban the seaway to ships not equipped for efficient navigation of the canals.

He said the traffic jam in the waterway system is being created by foreign crews unfamiliar with the canals and that delivery of "essential and urgently needed raw material" to customers of his firm is being held up because foreign ships could not navigate the canals efficiently.

Romney Hails Big Three Entry in 'Small' Field

ANN ARBOR (AP) — George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., says he welcomes the entry of the Big Three automobile manufacturers into the smaller car field.

"The movement of the Big Three into the compact field will help us," Romney said in a speech at the University of Michigan last night. Romney was here to receive the school's annual business leadership award, presented each year to businessman of accomplishment who has shown an understanding of the responsibility of business to society and an interest in business education.

Romney's American Motors is the producer of the smaller Rambler automobile. He said his firm will have "the advantage of concentrating our efforts on a single concept" and will benefit from its experience.

The Big Three, made up of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, have indicated they intend to enter the smaller car market.

"We'll reach optimum cost levels this summer before the Big Three are off the ground with their smaller cars," Romney said.

4 Cuban Boat Hijackers Captured at Key West

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Four young Cubans arrived here Friday night after hijacking the 30-foot cabin cruiser Icaro from its dock at Havana and forcing the two-man crew to bring them to Key West.

Immigration authorities took the four refugees into custody and ordered the boat to return to Cuba. They will be sent to Miami for a hearing Monday.

Thieves Picked Boxes With Wrong Labels

Two stolen radios were recovered.

ALL IN THE EAR

What you see in this girl's ear is Sonotone's new hearing aid — complete. IT'S WORN ENTIRELY IN THE EAR — no cord, no extra "button." Weighs only half an ounce.

Poet Frost Warns Man of Limitations

Don't Forget to Take Lunch to Venus

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP) — Poet Robert Frost says Americans are too fearful of scientific discovery and that man, in his anxiety to reach the moon, should never forget his limitations.

These were but a few of the frank expressions made by the 85-year-old Pulitzer Prize winner during a visit to Dickinson College where he received an arts award Friday night.

"We are human and when we get to Mars or Venus, or wherever it is we are going, we'll still be earthlings and we had better take our lunch with us," Frost said.

He added that science is "our bugaboo" only when its implications become frightening.

★ ★ ★

"It is silly to regard science as a Frankenstein that will turn upon man, its creator," he said. "There is no danger in science itself. The danger is that we will permit ourselves to be frightened by its possibilities."

★ ★ ★

Frost spoke for nearly an hour, reading from his works and digressing on the impact of scientific discovery, after receiving the college's award of a medallion and $1,000 from Dr. William W. Edel, Dickinson president.

Earlier, he engaged in some typically Frost repartee with 30 literature students during an informal interview on the Dickinson campus.

What about Russian poet Boris Pasternak, whose best-selling novel of life in Russia, "Dr. Zhivago," was accorded the Nobel Prize for literature?

"He is a brave man. Pasternak wants to be a Russian and we're going to get him killed if we keep trying to use him against Russia," said Frost.

"Yes, but it would take a horse to kick him out of there," the white-haired poet replied with a smile.

He added this comment on Morse's recent dispute with Clare Boothe Luce over a Brazilian ambassadorship:

"I can't understand how someone can talk so long and hard about hating something. Inspiration must sustain him. I don't think he goes in for cleverness, but delivers haymakers."

Connecticut to Abolish County Governments

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff has lauded the House of Representatives for passing the bill to abolish the state's 293-year-old system of county government.

The historic measure, effective Oct. 1, 1960, was passed by the state Senate earlier in the week.

The measure transfers county government functions to state agencies.

Special Services Slated at Sylvan Lake Church

The Sylvan Lake Church of Christ, Orchard Lake and Middle Belt roads will present James W. Nichols of Abilene, Tex. in a series of services Sunday through May 17.

During the week evening meetings will be held at 7:30 and from Tuesday through Saturday services are scheduled at 10 a.m.

"Preach the Word" will be his topic for the 10:45 a.m. Sunday service and at 6 p.m. he will speak on "Making Christ Your Personal Saviour."

Mr. Nichols was named editor of The Christian Chronicle, a denominational newspaper, in 1954. Besides his work as editor, he conducts evangelistic meetings throughout the nation.

Annual Mother's Day Breakfast at Church Center

A member of the Pontiac Council of United Church Women, Mrs. Miner is counselor to the Senior Red Circle Girls, chairman of the hospitality committee of the Benjamin Franklin School PTA, and a teacher in the Macedonia Sunday School and Baptist Training Union.

She is also the mother of four boys and the wife of the pastor.

ONE OF A SERIES

ANSWER: IN NEWSPAPERS—BY FAR! As a matter of fact, advertisers, year after year, invest more money in newspapers than in radio, television, magazines and outdoor combined! In 1957, advertisers spent $3,325,000,000 in daily newspapers across the land. The reasons why advertisers prefer newspapers are many and varied but it really boils down to one basic fact: newspapers serve up results in such generous helpings! That's why they're worth more. Are you using them for all their worth?
