Journey to Jerusalem

JOHN
(A Personality Study by Guy Rowe)

Beginning—Stories of Easter

John - Most Loved

(This is the first of a series of eight stories dealing with the people who played a part in the first Easter. It is told from the viewpoint of John, the disciple who was beloved by everyone, including Jesus.)

By GEORGE CORNELL
Associated Press Religious Writer

The time had come. All was ready. They would soon see what lay in store.

Swiftly John folded his cloak on the burro's back and stepped aside. The Master mounted. A quick, comradely smile passed between them.

Ahead was a crucial test. John could sense it, see it in the guarded, uncertain glances of the others, hear it in their taut, muted conversation, read it in the Master's deep preoccupation.

Would it be a time of darkness or splendor? He wondered.

Below, the high walls and turrets of the city gleamed in the sun. How did that old prophecy go? "Behold, thy king cometh . . . meek, and riding on an ass." Not before had Jesus gone to a place riding.

As the little group descended the slope, away from Bethany, and stepped along the cut-stone Jericho road toward the upper city gate, anxiety mingled with eagerness, John's long, brisk stride slowed imperceptibly.

There was ample cause for nervousness—the Master's strange words of a few days ago that He would be killed and in three days "rise again" to open the doors of His kingdom to men. Disturbing, yea, exceedingly!

★ ★ ★ ★

Yet John had yearned for Jesus to assert His supremacy more strongly. Whatever the process, John had unbounded trust. And now, an unknown decision neared.

Young, fiery, intense John had awaited it three years, giving up his well-to-do household and servants to go with the Master—raising a new banner of love in villages, desert camps, on lakeshores and mountainsides.

At times, his ardent enthusiasms had to be tempered by the Master, who nevertheless seemed especially fond

READY FOR ANOTHER — Jack Clapp is shown as he prepared to take off for a jump last year near Utica.

County Parachute Jumper Wants to Show Russians

Despite the fact that he will celebrate his seventy-first birthday on April 4, Jack Clapp is anxious to show the Russians that he can out-jump them in the parachute business.

A resident of Pontiac for many years, Mr. Clapp now lives at Commerce, and made his last jump at Utica last June. This followed a lapse of many years in the sport, and he did it to prove that a man at 70 may still be comparatively young.

He began parachute jumping from balloons in 1920 at Lake Orion, and for several years was a feature attraction at fairs throughout the nation.

With the coming of the airplane, he adopted that means of going aloft. His triple jump brought him wide publicity.

In a recent Associated Press item in the Pontiac Press, Mr. Clapp saw that a campaign is under way to send six Americans to Moscow next July to bail out of planes in the name of sport. He would like to qualify for that team.

Predict 4 to 7 Inches of Snow

Roads Get Icy as Spring Storm Hits Entire State

Cooler for Tomorrow Is Area Prediction; Low Tonight 26-30

Winter continued to hold Michigan in firm grasp today, hurling a spring snowstorm over the entire state. U. S. Weather Bureau predicts a four to seven inch snowfall ending tonight.

The western part of the state reported driving snow and sleet early today, with highway conditions dangerous.

The State Highway Department road report said the snow and near-freezing temperatures resulted in extensive slippery conditions on state trunklines in the Grand Rapids and Muskegon areas.

Scattered slippery sections were reported in the Benton Harbor, Kalamazoo and Lansing areas.

The Auto Club of Michigan says the area north of a line from Bay City to Ludington is also slippery. Snow has covered most of the other roads in the state and may cause more serious driving conditions later today.

Tonight's low will range from 26 to 30 degrees. The high tomorrow will be from 36 to 40.

The five-day weather forecast states that temperatures will average near or slightly below normal. There will be a warming trend Sunday and Monday, then there will be cooler weather Tuesday and Wednesday. There will be rain or snow about Monday.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 28 degrees. The thermometer registered 30 at 2 p. m.

See Dim Future for New Lights

Pontiac Police Plan Crackdown on Amber Revolving Signals

Pontiac police planned today to crack down on advertising gadgets which they say are against the law.

They referred to amber-colored revolving lights which are located in front of several city business establishments.

According to Sgt. Clayton Randolph, acting head of the traffic bureau, the lights are apt to confuse drivers.

He said they are in violation of section 615 of Public Act 300, which gives police jurisdiction over roads and the power to remove any signal or sign "which resembles an official traffic-control device . . . placed in view of any highway."

"A driver might suddenly slam on his brakes after seeing the amber color," Randolph explained, "and cause a long line of cars to pile up behind him."

An officer was assigned to contact businessmen today and request removal of the devices or a change in their color.

Georgi, 'Jolly Fat Man' Tells Joke at Dinner

BUXTON, England (AP)—Former Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov, playing the role of jolly fat man to the hilt on his current tour of Britain, told a funny story in Russian at a dinner in his honor here last night. The story:

"A speaker had been talking a long time. Every 15 minutes the chairman asked the audience to stand.

"'I don't want such an honor,'" protested the speaker.

"'It's not in honor of you,' was the reply. 'I'm trying to keep them awake.'"

$16 Million for Studies

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Industry and government spent $16,108,962 for research at the University of Michigan in the 1954-55 school year. It was almost four million dollars more than the previous year.

School Rooms Hit Cost Snag

Domed Structures Bids Indicate $700,000 More Than Original Estimates

Pet project of the city's expanding school system—circular, multi-purpose rooms—is threatened because they may cost too much.

At a special meeting of the Board of Education last night, it was learned that original cost estimates may have been much too low to construct the one-story domed structures, whose novel design has captured public interest.

Low bids on the construction of eight of the buildings, scheduled to begin next month, put the total cost around $2 million, about $700,000 more than the board had figured on.

The Detroit designers put the blame on contractors' unfamiliarity with unusual aspects of the buildings. Henry Haberkorn, general manager of H. E. Beyster and Associates, Inc., said the result was a "big headache."

"That's what we get for trying to be pioneers," he added.

CIRCULAR IDEA NEW

Haberkorn had come up with the idea of a building 96-feet in diameter after the board had explained its needs and the price it could afford. He was granted one week to confer with builders and bring down the cost to the $105,000 per building originally planned.

The rooms would house space

Stop Sign (Coal Pile) Halts KO'd Motorist

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Everything went black as William Eisenhart, 62, slowed for a stop sign yesterday—and for a good reason.

A truck tipped over, dumping 21 tons of coal on Eisenhart's car. He, his wife and his sister-in-law escaped injury.

Croupiers Present Chess Set

Grace and Prince Busy

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Prince Rainier III landed back in Europe today to oversee the final preparations for his wedding to movie star Grace Kelly next month.

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (INS)—Croupiers of the famed Monte Carlo Casino have chipped in for a wedding present for Prince Rainier and Grace Kelly—a chess set! The board is in antique wood and the chessmen are in ivory.

NEW YORK — (INS) — Actress Grace Kelly, on whether she will give up films as her fiance, Prince Rainier has announced: "I agree with whatever he decides."

Miss Kelly said she plans to stay at her Fifth Avenue apartment until she sails for Monaco April 4, because she has to do "last-minute shopping."

Miss Kelly said, "Both the prince and I are awfully tired of reading about ourselves and I think other people are too."

Prophet Jones and Followers Head for East

DETROIT (AP) — James F. (Prophet) Jones, leader of a Detroit Negro religious cult, left town last night with a small retinue of followers.

* * *

Thirty persons accompanied him to the train station. But only six boarded the New York Central's Wolverine. The train was bound for New York.

However, the Prophet's destination, reason for leaving and length of stay were unknown.

The Prophet has been charged with gross indecency twice in recent weeks. One of the charges was dismissed Wednesday when the complainant failed to appear in court. The other still is pending and Jones is under $2,500 bond to appear for the case.

The Prophet also has been the subject of several civic court suits. A demand that his Church of the Universal Triumph, Dominion of God, Inc., be placed in receivership will be aired in court Monday.

Assistant prosecutor Joseph G. Rashid said yesterday the terms of Jones' bond do not forbid his leaving the city.

Woman, 67, Killed in Royal Oak Crash

A 67-year-old Detroit woman was fatally injured last night in a two-car accident in Royal Oak Township.

Mrs. Eve Allen, of 2174 Mack Ave., died in Mt. Carmel Hospital. She was thrown from a car driven by her son, Reuben Palmer, 43, after Palmer's car was struck broadside by another auto and sent crashing into a telephone pole, police said.

Palmer's car was hit by one driven by Robert A. Jones, 17, of 21442 Compton Ct. Witnesses told police Jones failed to observe a stop sign. A passenger with Jones escaped unhurt. Palmer also was uninjured.

Drivers of both cars were to appear before Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor James Roberts for questioning this afternoon.

Falls to Death

DETROIT (INS) — A window washer fell nine floors to his death today from the Veterans Administration building in Detroit. Floyd N. Wood, 43-year-old father of three young children, had been washing windows for 17 years.

Police Hold Two on Drug Count

Capture Flint Residents With Supply of Heroin on City's Outskirts

Two Flint men, who Waterford Township police say were caught attempting to throw away 35 heroin capsules Wednesday night, were charged with possession of narcotics yesterday by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Russell A. Colvin, 43, of 821 E. Witherbee, and William Rogers, 36, of 838 E. Taylor, are in Oakland County Jail today awaiting arraignment in Justice Court.

Waterford Police Sgt. Charles Whitlock and Officer Ernest Mann stopped the two for speeding toward Pontiac on the Dixie Highway.

As the Flint duo's car came to a stop, the officers saw a package drop out. They examined it, and found the heroin and two marijuana cigarettes.

The capsules contain 20 per cent heroin, said Waterford Police Chief Frank Van Atta. "It's probably the biggest single amount we've run across in two years," said assistant Prosecutor Robert D. Long.

Colvin, a grocery store operator, and Rogers, a kitchen ware salesman, so far have refused to say where they got the dope or whether they intended to peddle it. "Investigations to date don't indicate they were part of a ring," said VanAtta.

Colvin has a previous narcotics record, said Long. The pair could receive up to 10 years in prison if convicted of the charge.

Eligible for Pension, She, 77, Wants to Work

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A tall white-haired woman with a hoe received a social security card yesterday.

The social security representative told her she is eligible now for old age retirment benefits extended to farmers under recent laws.

"That's fine, but I'm not going to retire until I die," Mrs. Rosa Hamilton said. "I'm only 77 and still do most all the work on the farm except for the heavy lifting."

House Probers Claim Laxity in Purchasing

Wilson Disappointed in Revelation but Contends Record Shows Merits

WASHINGTON (INS)—House investigators accused the armed forces today of glaring inefficiencies and waste in their multi-billion dollar purchasing and supply programs.

The House Appropriations Committee made public a "spot investigation" by its staff which Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said made him "mad and sad."

Wilson told the committee "I assure you that this looks like a very bad record."

He said that when he went to his office after spending a Sunday reading the investigators' report, "I said,

" 'Well, I am mad, and sad.' I did not like that kind of a record. I was sad to have such a poor relative performance with your good committee and that is about all I can say about it."

But Wilson and other defense aides added that conditions have improved in the past three years and pointed out that the military procurement and supply programs pose a vast problem which is not helped by constant turnover in personnel.

(See earlier story on page 8.)

Here are some of the things the investigators said they found:

1. At Chateauroux, France, a supply base for the Air Force and allied forces, 14,000 tons of supplies stored outdoors were "lost in the mud." The Air Force replied: "We can't verify the 14,000-ton figure."

2. Western Electric Co. made a clerical error and charged $60,000 more for heater kits than the price warranted. The government paid, but the error was later rectified.

3. An analysis in Sept. 1954 by an independent organization disclosed that nine per cent of aircraft grounded for lack of parts were out of commission because of "the lack of critical parts costing less than 25 cents each."

4. A contractor stated that the Strategic Air Command has eight million dollars worth of kits which will never be used because it took so long to acquire and process them, that they became obsolete in the meantime.

5. Officials of Switlik Parachute Co., Trenton, N. J., stated

Sports, Home Shows Top Weekend Events

The newest features in outdoor and building equipment will be on display over the weekend at special exhibits in Pontiac and Waterford Township. Both shows will last through Sunday.

Fifty-six displays will highlight the Sports and Builders Show which opens tonight at 6 p. m. in the Waterford Community Activities Building. Open from 1 p. m. until 11 Saturday and Sunday, the event will be climaxed with the coronation of "Miss Waterford of 1956" by Miss Michigan Sunday night.

The appearance of Outdoorsman Mort Neff at 8 p.m. Sunday night will cap the program at the Sportsman's Show which opened yesterday at the Pontiac Retail Store. Open at 1 p.m. daily, the show features fly-casting, shooting, archery, hunting dog and picture demonstrations.

But Search for Killer Goes Relentlessly On

A Year Later: Gaca Slaying Still Mystery

After a frantic 8-day search through three counties, a railroad lineman found her ravished body in a West Bloomfield Township dump.

The brutal murder touched off one of the fiercest manhunts in Michigan history — a manhunt which is quietly continuing today, without benefit or hindrance of press attention.

The psychopathic sex-murderer of the 7-year-old Warren Township schoolgirl has never been located. But the police hear "tips" on the case nearly every day.

A disgruntled neighbor may write that a man has been "acting suspicious" ever since Barbara disappeared. Even the most far-fetched tips are checked out.

To date, police have found these nebulous leads:

Barbara was seen by a schoolmate on her way to school. She never arrived.

Four schoolmates said they saw her get into a blue or green car shortly before the school bell rang.

A Warren Township gas station attendant said a man in a light green car stopped for gas; a little girl riding with him "seemed frightened."

The search for Barbara Gaca spread into Oakland County after a man was reported to have spent a night in Proud Lake Recreation Area. Teams of Boy Scouts combed the park for two days.

The body was finally found just a mile from where the Boy Scouts had stopped looking. Barbara had been stabbed 15 times in the back and chest. Her blue snowsuit, described in thousands of circulars, was lying nearby.

She was wrapped in an Army blanket, described as "nearly new." It has not been traced.

In desperation, area clergymen publicly offered the killer asylum until he was turned over to police. They got no answer.

His TV talk tonight will be at 10:30 p.m. with a delayed radio broadcast at 11:30 p.m.

Daughter of Pioneer Dies This Morning

Mrs. Frank (Gertrude) Grimmelsman of 325 Tilden Ave., died early this morning in William P. Beaumont Hospital. She had been ill several weeks.

She was born in Pontiac Aug. 21, 1883, the daughter of Mena Dominick and Bessie Knott Heitsch. Her father came to Pontiac in 1853 when three months old with his parents, Hubert and Caroline Martie Heitsch from Switzerland.

Mrs. Grimmelsman lived on Saginaw St. before her marriage and had attended Pontiac schools and Michigan State Normal.

An accomplished pianist, she was a teacher in Hillsdale for several years, and a member of St. Vincent De Paul Catholic Church.

She leaves four children, Mrs. Rosemary Dean of Dewitt, N. Y.; Mrs. Betty Bergdahl of Birmingham; Robert F. And William F., both of Pontiac.

Other survivors include three sisters, Mrs. Frank Mercer, Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel and Mrs. H. G. Bower, all of Pontiac, and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Brace-Smith Funeral Home.

Mrs. Clarence Shaefer

Mrs. Clarence (Leona) Shaefer, 34, of 65 Pine St. died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital.

She was born in 1922 in Toledo, Ohio, the daughter of Weaver and Gertrude Apple Barnes and married in October, 1953.

Mrs. Shaefer had been a resident of Pontiac 10 years, coming here from Dearborn. She had been employed at the Cunningham Drug Store.

Surviving are her husband and parents; a brother, Robert and a sister, Mrs. Marilyn Adams, both of Toledo.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday from the Huntoon Funeral Home.

Arthur B. Thompson

Arthur B. Thompson, 83, who died Wednesday in a local hospital will be sent to Chaumont, N.Y. for service and burial from the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

SAMUEL J. WHITERS

DR. R. V. COOLEY

Cooley, Whiters Seeking District One's City Post

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of seven articles on the 14 City Commission candidates and their statements submitted to The Press. One candidate from each of the seven districts will be elected to serve a 1956-57 term on the City Commission in the coming April 2 city election.

District 1

It will be the incumbent seeking his third term on the City Commission versus a newcomer in the political ring in the race for the District 1 post.

Nominated in the March 5 primary from among five candidates was incumbent Dr. Roy V. Cooley, 36, of 441 Bartlett St., and Samuel J. Whiters, 43, of 453 Harvey St.

Voters in District 1 will mark an "X" for one of the two candidates to represent the district in the April 2 balloting.

Dr. Cooley, who has been in practice in Pontiac since 1947, is presently completing his second term on the commission after being elected to the seat in 1952.

Candidate Whiters has been a resident of Pontiac since 1918 and is an electrical contractor and owner of an electrical company in the city.

Statements submitted to The Press by the candidates follow:

Samuel J. Whiters

"A commissioner must be able to recognize the needs of his constituency and bring such needs to the attention of the commission while at the same time he must be prepared to decide, impartially, the kind of laws, regulations and projects, which will bring about the most beneficial results to the health and welfare of the general public."

"District 1 represents the most congested area in the city. Conditions of housing, health and sanitation exist in the district which are detrimental not only to those who reside therein but which provoke serious problems for the entire population."

"If I am elected to the office of commissioner from District 1, it will be my responsibility to point out these problems and to seek means of solving them before they become more serious."

Dr. Roy V. Cooley

"I take this opportunity to thank the voters of District 1 for the privilege of serving you as your representative for two terms."

"I seek reelection again because I sincerely believe that continued progress is now important and necessary."

"Continued civic improvements such as paved streets, sewers, traffic lights, etc., are needed to meet demands of new homes, schools and industrial enterprises."

"We must realize that if industry is to expand and progress, workers will need expanded and more adequate housing. Also our present housing program must be refined to better serve the needs of our citizens."

"Civil rights of all citizens cannot be forgotten or denied. This, as everyone knows, is essential to community progress and strength."

"Finally, lest we forget, the experience of the past must be applied to successfully solve the great problems of the future."

Multi-Purpose Plans Hit by Cost Snag

for gym, auditorium, lunch and other school activities, as well as facilities for community and adult groups.

Pontiac contractor, Ward W. Ross, who entered the low bid for construction — $1,534,000, said he believed the cost could be pared down. The price was set, Ross explained, before there was time enough to study thoroughly sub-contractors' estimates.

Other low bids opened Tuesday were $340,800 for plumbing, submitted by Eames and Brown Company of Pontiac; $158,720 for electrical work, submitted by Ballard Electric Company, Pontiac and $35,514 for paving, submitted by A & A Asphalt Paving Company, Birmingham.

The board decided that construction of additional classrooms at three schools, also figured in the total cost last night, would go ahead one way or the other.

Construction must begin as soon as possible, according to Otto C. Hufziger, coordinator of the building program, if the rooms are to be ready for use when school starts next fall.

Specifically, the board asked for separate negotiable contracts to be ready by its special meeting March 28 for five classrooms, a library, office and boiler room at McCarroll School; two kindergartens at LeBaron School and four classrooms at Crofoot School.

Burglar Misses $100 During Night Breakin

A burglar last night broke into a restaurant, rifled change from a cigarette machine, ignored two rolls of pennies and one of nickles, which he dumped on the floor, and missed a hidden $100, according to police reports.

The owner, William Hurst, 55 Wenonah Dr., said a window at 819 Woodward Ave. was found broken and apparently unlocked from the outside.

Recreation Board Plans 1956 Baseball Program

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Recreation Board met last night to take initial steps in setting up next summer's baseball program. About 20 men, representing sports groups, were present. They said an estimated 1,100 boys and young men would take part.

The Board also started plans on two experimental social gatherings for junior high schoolers, which may become next year regular city-sponsored events.

The American Legion expects about 16 teenage boys in its baseball team. Babe Ruth regular teams will total 75 players and the farm teams, 150, all in the 13 to 15 age bracket. The YMCA expects about 80 young adults in its softball games.

Little Leaguers will be well over the 800 total of last year, board members were told. Boys in this league are 8 through 12 years of age. Holy Name school will have 75 in its intramural program, and CYO will have one youth team of 16 members.

Statistics and proposed plans were turned over to Recreation Director Frank Whitney and City Coordinator Charles Gale for scheduling of games.

The two teenage parties will be held in April and May in the evening, the board decided after hearing proposals by Barnum's Principal Herbert Hengst, Student Council President Gregory Witbeck and Student Bud Gulimet.

About 400 should turn out to such a program, officials said.

A Christian Day School at Our Shepherd Lutheran Church to open in September, will be headed by Principal Carl Christian.

Christian, a Chicogoan was hired this week. His staff will include two women teachers for an enrollment of about 100 in the first six grades.

Facilities for Birmingham's first Lutheran day school are being studied by school board members Dr. Mahlon Ponits, Otto Golm and Harold Meyer.

The driver-testing laboratory of Michigan Trucking Assn. is testing city drivers today at the public works building on Eton road.

Superintendent of Public Works Robert Kenning said he anticipated the tests would be beneficial to DPW drivers. He said, "Their knowledge of any deficiencies and the taking of corrective action will make them better able to properly operate the city equipment."

that a $1,561,000 contract for 8,113 parachutes "resulted from admitted political pressure on the part of Switlik officials." The investigators added that Air Force files "did not record any proof of such alleged pressure."

6. Due to inadequate stock controls, 5,503 Navy radios valued at $11,006,000 "cannot be located," and as a result 2,000 additional sets are on order. The Navy denied they were lost.

Army assistant secretary Frank H. Higgins in charge of logistics told the committee that Army purchasing is not the same as industry procurement. He said: "Procurement in industry means dollars. Procurement in the Army means dollars and lives. And when there's a choice between lives and dollars, we have to choose the lives."

Widening to Close Mt. Clemens Street

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel disclosed this morning that beginning Monday, Mt. Clemens street between Paddock and East boulevard will be closed to traffic for approximately one month.

The widening of Mt. Clemens street has necessitated the closing, he said.

Both Perry and Pike streets may be used as detours while Mt. Clemens is closed, Vanderstempel added.

Police Spot Bandit Fleeing Breakin Scene

An unknown burglar eluded police last night, escaping after cruising patrolmen spotted him running from the rear door of a dairy at 228 W. Walton Blvd.

The man fled into a group of houses after officers Patrick Weaver and Robert Beltz jumped from the car and gave chase on foot.

Returning to the dairy, they found several coin machines pried open. The owner, Lyle Johnson, 75 Elm St., did not know how much change was missing.

County Red Cross Picks 1st Volunteers Chairman

The Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross has announced the appointment of Mrs. Wilbur O. Mitchell of Royal Oak as chairman of volunteers for the chapter. Chairman of volunteers is the highest office in volunteer activity in the Red Cross and this is the first time the county chapter has had such an office.

Mrs. Mitchell came to Royal Oak from Columbus, O. where she was volunteer field consultant for the eastern area of American Red Cross in the Columbus district.

Her duties will consist of giving service and advice to all volunteer groups in every chapter program. It will be Mrs. Mitchell's job to study and review all voluntary participation with a view to improvement where necessary.

The Rev. William C. Hamm, chapter chairman, who made the appointment says, "Mrs. Mitchell's experience and record in the Columbus district proves to us that she is equal to the job in Oakland County and we are sure that volunteers here will welcome her services and broad experiences."

The Rev. Mr. Hamm said that Mrs. Mitchell will work with all services toward coordinated recruitment, selection and placement.

Rhee Quoted to Run for ROK Presidency

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A Cabinet member today quoted President Syngman Rhee as saying he "will have to" run for a third term. Almost nobody ever thought he wouldn't.

• • •

The official, who asked his name not be used, said Rhee made the remark at a Cabinet meeting today.

Following his nomination March 5 by his own Liberal party, the 80-year-old President said he wanted to retire. He hinted strongly, however, that he could be drafted, and the Liberals at once began whipping up daily "spontaneous" demonstrations throughout the country.

• • •

The Cabinet official said Rhee had changed his mind about running "because of the will of the people."

Social Workers Invited

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The fifth annual Social Work Progress Institute at the University of Michigan is expected to draw some 600 social workers, student and lay people, April 5.

49 Cub Scouts of Baldwin Pack Receive Awards

Some 49 cubs received awards at a meeting this week of Baldwin School Pack No. 4. Cubs displayed exhibits on the theme "Bottom of the Sea," and viewed an adventure film. Awarded were:

Fred Waits, Dennis Dunn, Wayne Kirschbaum, Tim Kennedy, Duane Monroe, James Walsh, Billy Pointer, James Malcolm, Craig Feneley, Larry Smith, Mike Harmon, Tommy Baker and Chip Rayner.

Lewis Rice, Teddy Santala, Larry Sanford, David Larson, Jerry Stirling, Jerry Carney, Jackie Carney, Tommy Fuller, Robert Shampine, Eddy White and Raymond Merriman.

Tim Kaul, Tommy Baker, Earl Rice, Larry Anderson, Ronald Coleman, Billy Heaton, Raymond Carroll, Roger Black, Craig Rogers, Terry Webb, Albert Morris, Glendale Pankey and Walter Logan.

A-Victim Pictures Kept From Hirohito

TOKYO (AP) — Emperor Hirohito visited the American-organized "Family of Man" photo exhibit today, but a white cloth hid all pictures of Hiroshima atomic bomb victims from his eyes and everybody else's.

A spokesman for one of the Japanese newspapers sponsoring the exhibit said the Hiroshima pictures in two days on display had "created a furor." He said they would remain covered until the sponsors decided whether to "keep, withdraw or replace them."

Primary Defeat May Spur Adlai on Road to Victory

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower didn't really begin his all-out, slam-bang campaign for election in 1952 until after the Scripps-Howard newspapers complained he was running "like a dry creek."

* * *

Perhaps Adlai Stevenson will be affected the same way—if that's possible for him—by the clubbing he just took from Sen. Estes Kefauver in the presidential primary in Minnesota.

After reflecting on this sad news, Stevenson said he will now "work harder" for the Democratic nomination. This may have been an acknowledgement he thought he had the Minnesota vote in his pocket and was just breezing in his campaign there.

He's been no ball of fire so far. Perhaps it isn't in his nature to be. The slow-talking Kefauver has no edge on him in that department: he doesn't give off sparks either.

Up to now Stevenson has looked like a rerun of himself in 1952: dignified, scholarly and mild, even milder than in 1952 when Eisenhower beat him. Kefauver has a touch of the home town boy about him, even homespun.

Whether these personality difference had any significance in the Minnesota voting cannot be said now.

Nor can it be said the difference in their tactics was significant. Where there was almost an elegance about Stevenson, whisking around Minnesota in search of votes, the more casual Kefauver not only loped around shaking hands but looking for hands to shake.

It is just as possible Stevenson has worn out his welcome as a presidential candidate and voters are getting tired of his genteel approach to domestic and world issues.

Both men on Nov. 19 last year came out for "moderation" in this year's presidential campaign and they've stuck to that pretty much ever since, with Stevenson even more "moderate" than Kefauver.

On most subjects they talked like twins against the Eisenhower administration:

In farming Minnsota they hit the loss of farm income wherever they went, warned of dangers overseas, criticized lack of progress on federal aid to education, accused the administration of being for big business, attacked what they called "giveaway" of natural resources, worried that the Rural Electrification Administration was being undercut, and discussed the ability of a heart attack victim like Eisenhower to handle the presidency.

* * *

But Kefauver took harder aim at farmers and organized labor and outbid Stevenson for both. While Stevenson talked of amending the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, Kefauver advocated its outright repeal.

Stevenson said he was for 90 per cent of parity support of farm prices but Kefauver proposed 100 per cent support for family-sized farms and 90 per cent for the big ones.

An appeal for sympathy—or at least an appeal for fair play—was implicit in some of Kefauver's campaign. He complained about the Minnesota political leaders' support of Stevenson.

* * *

The Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-Labor State Central Committee had endorsed Stevenson. Kefauver accused party leaders of trying to keep him out of the primary altogether.

Fiery Ordeal Makes Texas City Stronger

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (INS)—This is the city that exploded into flames and screams nine years ago, and was almost given up for dead.

It needn't be wept for now.

* * *

Texas City has buried its more than 500 killed, healed its 2,000 injured, rebuilt its 50 million dollars worth of shattered buildings and homes and come alive again. Curiously strengthened by the duo-explosion of chemicals that turned the community into an inferno on April 16, 1947, it is bigger than ever—a "boom town."

Its citizens even can speak the word "disaster" dispassionately.

"No use worryin' about the past," says Alfred Couch, a quiet, 31-year-old postal clerk. "That's a long time ago and we're doing fine. Just fine."

Couch's mother died of gas gangrene 24 hours after a load of chemical fertilizer blew up that memorable morning, setting the city afire. His wife lost an eye. His father disappeared. ("Apparently disintegrated" is the way the experts explained away the 50 missing persons.)

* * *

It was at 9:12 a. m. of a particularly crisp spring day when the French freighter "Grandcamp" suddenly blew up—sending streams of fire and tons of steel flashing through the city. Hundreds of people were set aflame, decapitated, blistered with the fumes of the chemicals that had been unleashed.

ANOTHER BLAST

Then another explosion 15 hours later blew apart the burning freighter, "High Flyer."

* * *

That one destroyed rescue workers on the docks and priests saying last rites.

* * *

It took a year, Couch remembers, before a Texas City citizen could be certain—when he encountered a friend—that he was not seeing a ghost. A typical conversation, months after tragedy, went like this:

"Al! Golly, boy, I heard you were dead."

"No. I was lucky. Just laid up awhile."

Today Texas City is flourishing. Its population in 1947 was 18,000; now it's 28,000. Few, except widows who went to live with relatives in other cities, have moved away.

Kept alive through the emergency by $3,000,000 in contributions to the Red Cross and Texas City Relief Fund, people have rebuilt their homes and made them—as Couch tells it—"prettier than before."

NEW DOWNTOWN

Almost all the downtown buildings are new. There are a half-dozen recently constructed, well-attended churches. The cemetery on the outskirts of town, for the "unidentified dead" of the disaster, is constantly vivid with flowers.

* * *

The big chemical companies, the refineries that were crumbled to ashes, are revived. More successful than before. And there is no fear of them among the people.

Despite its nightmare, Texas City is still proud to be called "The Chemical City."

Unlike those people who go along uneventfully from day to day, enduring life rather than loving it, Texas City citizens have a cheerful vigor that might appear almost sacrilegious. But Couch says no.

* * *

"The closer you come to death," he explains, "the better you cling to life.

"We're the lucky ones."

You Devour 33 Hogs

CHICAGO — The average American man's lifetime quota of meat in terms of live animals represents 33 hogs, 10 lambs, eight steers, and four veal calves — provided he lives to 68.3 years of age, the life expectancy of a man born in the United States today.

A New Delhi survey shows that the average annual all-India income of a farm labor family now is 447 rupees (about $93.87).

Wings Are Inflated for New Tiny Plane

LONDON — A highly unusual plane, with inflatable wings, a "gondola" containing the engine, and a two-seat cockpit suspended below, is being tested here in Britain. Intended as a lightweight liaison machine for the services, it is made of the same type of fabric as emergency dinghies for trans-ocean liners.

The 40-foot wings can be pumped up like a bicycle tire. When not in use the wings can be rolled up. The cockpit mounted on a three-wheel undercarriage, is towed. A 65 horsepower engine mounted pusher fashion gives it cruising speed of 45 miles an hour.

Bus Service Imperiled

JACKSON (AP)—The Jackson City Lines, the city's bus line, will be discontinued unless the city buys the firm and permits the parent company to operate it under contract, the City Commission was told Wednesday. Ralph James, executive vice president of the National City Lines of Chicago, the parent firm, said city ownership would eliminate the payment of taxes which are forcing Jackson City Lines to operate at a loss. James also announced a curtailment of service on Sundays and nights, effective in 30 days.

Decline in commuter use of railroad lines is indicated by the Long Island Railroad report that it carried 118,190,000 passengers in 1930, but only 78,217,000 in 1954.

People Willing to Pay Increased Postal Rates

With the Administration's request for long overdue postal rate increases before Congress, special interest attaches to a public opinion survey recently conducted in Flint and Genesee County.

The work of sampling opinion in that area was done by the University of Michigan's Social Science Research staff. The answers indicate two things this newspaper long has believed: 1. The people are ready to pay higher postal rates. 2. They want their postal service put on a sound business basis.

Of those answering, 72 per cent favored increasing the first class rate from three to four cents. Similarly, 89.2 per cent favored boosting the second class, or newspaper and magazine rates, and 93.1 per cent, the third class or advertising rates.

While the area covered by the survey is relatively small, we sincerely believe it accurately reflects the public attitude toward the 500,000,000 postal deficit. In the bill now in committee, the department proposes raising first class letter rate from three to four cents and air mail from six to seven cents. Increases of 30 per cent also are asked in the second and third class rates.

★ ★ ★

If our postal service ever is to be operated on a sound financial basis, and if enormous annual deficits ever are to be reduced appreciably, Congress should approve these higher rates.

Electoral Vote Reform

Agreement by the sponsors of rival plans to reform the electoral college has increased the chance that the Senate will debate the issue.

The two plans reflect long realization that our electoral college system is outdated and leaves much to be desired. Under it voters for the losing candidates for the presidency and vice-presidency virtually are disfranchised. This is so because the pair having the largest popular vote in the state automatically wins all of its electoral college votes.

★ ★ ★

Under the agreement which may send the issue to the Senate floor, the rival plans were welded into one—the Mundt-Daniel constitutional amendment. It seeks to remedy this defect by dividing the electoral vote on a basis of the popular vote.

If it had been operative in 1952, Michigan's 20 electoral votes would have been divided 11 for the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket and nine for Stevenson-Sparkman.

Another part of the proposal provides for states which take no action on the amendment. It would give them the right to choose their presidential electors in the same way senators and representatives are chosen.

★ ★ ★

The proposal could not affect this year's election. To become effective it must get two-thirds majorities in both Houses and approval by the legislatures of 36 states.

It remains to be seen whether this plan can win the necessary support. Certainly, there is no doubt of the need for reform.

About the only thing around the house a woman won't slipcover is a stepladder.

Estes Routs Adlai

There is no denying the serious setback suffered by Adlai Stevenson in the Minnesota Presidential primary at the hands of Sen. Estes Kefauver.

With most of the count completed, the Tennesseean had won all but four of the state's 30 Democratic convention votes. While the 1952 Democratic Presidential candidate undoubtedly was surprised and disappointed, he was quick to assure his friends that he would continue his preconvention campaign in the four other primaries he has entered.

★ ★ ★

Kefauver lieutenants naturally are jubilant over his triumph. But their suggestion that Mr. Stevenson might be willing to accept the Vice-Presidential nomination was an unjustified slap at Illinois' former Governor.

As Sen. Kefauver well knows, political history is full of proof that major party nominations are decided on convention floors not in state preferential primaries.

On the Republican side, President Eisenhower easily won all 28 convention votes. His vote was 175,288 to 2,800 for Sen. Knowland.

While He Was Sitting in the Corner

David Lawrence Says:

Turnout in Minnesota Indicates Voters Have Little Concern for the Primaries

WASHINGTON — Why did so many people stay away from the polls in Minnesota this week? Do the American voters regard primaries as of little importance?

More Republicans than Democrats failed to vote, and this may have been due to the existence of a contest inside the Democratic party, whereas there was no such contest inside the Republican party. But it still doesn't explain the absence of more than one-third of the Democratic vote cast for U.S. senator in the final election of 1954, when Senator Humphrey won.

Some idea of the large number of voters of both parties who ignored the presidential primary can be gotten by comparing the approximately 196,000 votes cast by Republicans this week as against 763,211 for Eisenhower in the final election of 1952 and the 785,649 votes obtained by Senator Thye, Republican, when he ran ahead of Eisenhower to win in that same election. This means that in this year's presidential primary in Minnesota approximately 75 per cent of the Republicans who voted in 1952 didn't show up at the polls.

BELOW '54, '52 FIGURES

In the Democratic party primary, where the organization was hard at work and a bitter contest between Stevenson and Kefauver was in progress, the proportion of Democrats voting was higher than among the Republicans. But the total of about 420,000 for both Democratic candidates was far below the 642,193 which Senator Humphrey got in 1954 and also far below the 608,458 which Stevenson himself polled against Eisenhower in 1952.

There was something unusual, too, in the 1953 presidential primary in Minnesota. Harold Stassen won the Republican primary with 129,076 votes, but there were 108,692 Republicans who wrote in the name of Eisenhower, which was not on the printed ballot. On the Democratic side, Senator Humphrey won with 103,527 votes as a "favorite son," with Kefauver getting 20,182 "write-in" votes. But the total Republican vote that year of 294,895 and the Democratic total of 131,603 didn't begin to reflect the strength of either party in the subsequent presidential election in November.

The plain inference is that the people do not regard primaries as important instruments of popular expression. Perhaps it's because everyone knows that the delegates chosen need not follow the vote cast and can change as their political fancy might dictate. The national convention still is dominated by delegations which are not chosen in state primaries. This is one of the weaknesses of the presidential-preference primary system. It is not uniform in its application and isn't binding on the national convention which does the nominating.

PUBLICITY VALUE

There is a publicity value to primaries, and the rival candidates are alert to take advantage of it. The experienced political manager tries to keep his candidate out of primaries unless certain of victory. Adlai Stevenson steered clear of all primaries in 1952 and would have done the same thing this time but was goaded into campaigning. He isn't the kind of demagogue that can win primary contests, and he would have been better advised to keep out of those battles altogether, as he originally wanted to do.

Minnesota is basically a Democratic state. It used to be one of the "sure" Republican states. But it went Democratic in the five presidential elections beginning in 1932. In fact, when Truman carried it in 1948, he polled 692,966 votes, which was better than the 608,458 that Stevenson got in 1952 and higher than the 589,864 that Franklin Roosevelt polled in 1944 to carry the state. It was also better than Roosevelt's 1940 vote of 644,196 and almost as high as the peak Democratic vote of 698,811 which Roosevelt attained in 1936.

But, despite all these figures, there are well-informed persons in the newspaper field in Minnesota who say that Eisenhower has a good chance of carrying the state in November, though it will be close.

★ ★ ★

Looked at solely from the standpoint of total votes cast the big question is: Why did only 615,000 voters of both parties participate in the 1956 primary and only 642,006 in the senatorial primary in 1954, while 1,138,952 voted for senator in 1954, when a Democrat won—in an "off-year" election — and 1,387,419 voted for senator in 1952, when a Republican won? The apathy of the voters about primary contests extends throughout the country except in the one-party South.

Prepare During Middle Age Some Hobby for Later Life

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

We have had in our home for a month a fine old man whose invalid wife died last year. His total activity for many years had been her constant, daily care.

Tragically apparent to the witnesses of his present misery is the total lack of preparation he made for this eventuality. He is utterly dejected, aimless, forlorn, because he is utterly without occupation. There is nothing for him to do.

Few of the middle-aged stop long enough to realize how short a space there is before they slip imperceptibly into old age. Facing the certainty that you will be an old man or woman in a few years ought to jolt you into some serious thinking and deliberate planning.

Having enough money salted away for the time of your failing faculties is not enough. Old folks need more than food, shelter and clothing. They need first, last, and need desperately something to do something to do that is so important and so enjoyable to them that they can go to bed looking forward to tomorrow, and get up eager to be at it.

No two middle-agers will choose the same sport or hobby or job, but no middle-ager can afford to slide indifferently down the years pretending to enjoy the assorted amusements and time-killers Americans "enjoy" today, if he hopes to live a contented old age.

He won't be running to cocktail parties or cocktail bars, nor attending football and baseball games, nor bridge parties nor conventions, nor is he even likely to have his better-half beside him for the entire journey.

Very likely, unless he's planning for it, he will be alone and dejected, because he has nothing to do to occupy him through the days.

The fine old man in our home used to play the violin and the cello professionally in his youth. We will make the effort to interest him in his instrument again. Had he continued his music as a hobby through his middle years, he might now be surrounded with other players, young and old, who wanted to play with him every day.

The middle years are the time to prepare. Don't wait till you're too old to try; choose a hobby! Preferably one that involves a reasonable amount of physical activity, such as golf, bowls, daily walks for nature study, prospecting, sketching or painting, gardening, making things.

Doing something yourself, achieving something by your own effort tends to maintain your self esteem and your dignity as an individual, and these are sources of contentment in retirement.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Says Ike Is Following FDR, Truman Program

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Yes, Ike was president when the war ended. Truman could have ended it just like Ike did. Just give the Reds what they want.

President Truman did a great job bringing us out of the World War without a depression.

FDR said he would not send our boys unless we were attacked. He didn't start the war. All but one voted for war. If I remember right, some woman from Montana voted against it, and they called and told her to change her vote.

So that is too thin to blame the Dems with it. Face the truth. Ike was in there doing his part and Ike is doing his part in the Middle East now. Look at Ike. He is going on with the same program as FDR and Truman did without any major change, which is good.

'Gratified Mother' Urges More Praise for Teens

After watching juvenile court on TV the other night, I felt quite upset. I said, "I'd sure hate to be a mother on that show." My 14-year-old son said, "You've taught us better." I felt quite gratified.

Then in one of the Sunday papers I read a story that gave me a thought.

I sure wish there could be more praise for the good children and more front page stories. I think we should find at least one a month. I feel there are many of the juveniles doing these bad things to get their pictures in the paper.

I think if we keep the front page for children to be proud of, we will find more to be proud of. It could be like a contest and have people write in stories about some child they know. Then at the end of the month the people could write in their choice and make that child the child of the month.

Will Stalin Peace Prizes Vanish From Red World?

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Kremlin debunking of dictator Stalin, who died only three years ago, makes one wonder what is to become of those "Stalin Peace Prizes."

★ ★ ★

These prizes consist of 5 to 10 awards annually, each amounting to 100,000 rubles, and doubtless are aimed at rivaling the annual Nobel Prizes. Recipients are people who promote peace—that is, the Moscow version of it.

The prizes were created Dec. 21, 1948, on Stalin's 70th birthday anniversary.

Other events that occurred that month in 1949 make strange reading today, now that the Kremlin "collective leadership" has begun destroying the myth of Stalin as a demigod.

★ ★ ★

In 1949 there was a two-day Moscow celebration glorifying Stalin on his birthday. This was duplicated in other Russian cities and in Communist-subjugated countries in Eastern Europe. Never before had the ruthless man enjoyed such an outpouring of personal adulation.

GIFTS GALORE

Trainloads of gifts to Stalin rolled into Moscow from the Communist orbit in Europe and Asia. Seventy carloads alone were sent from East Germany, and the gifts were valued at millions of dollars.

★ ★ ★

Newspaper articles and speeches by Red leaders, Russian and foreign, called Stalin the "inspirer of creation," the world's greatest humanitarian, peace champion, politician and scientist.

Georgi M. Malenkov, protege of Stalin who succeeded him as Premier for a while after his death, praised Stalin although now he joins the others in denouncing the "wicked" old days.

Cities, ports and mountains were named after Stalin. What happens now? The Kremlin, if it follows the present course, not only will rewrite history but do a lot more name-changing.

Reports from Moscow say that workers in the Revolutionary Museum in the capital already are rearranging showcases displaying the gifts sent Stalin in 1949.

MANY REMOVED

Many of the gifts, which included carpets woven with Stalin's picture, model trains, tractors and inkstands, have been removed from the museum.

★ ★ ★

Others have been relabeled, omitting any reference to Stalin. Some gifts have been moved to points in the museum so that inscriptions glorifying Stalin are not easy to read. There are even reports that the whole exhibition of gifts is to be closed.

Chance of Happy Marriage Is Slim With Man Who Sponges Off Others

Girls, profit from the advice to Beth. Never let yourselves be stampeded into an unwise marriage. Be shrewd and far-sighted. Pick a husband who will be a good parent to your children 10 years hence, rather than the smooth dancer and glib talker now. You'll be happier as an old maid than married to a man who "sponges."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-511: Beth G., aged 23, is engaged to be married.

"But I am so worried," she finally confessed to me, "that I feel as if I'll have a nervous breakdown.

"Our wedding is scheduled for next month. But I now find that my fiance is in debt to everybody.

"He has borrowed from me repeatedly, and I rather felt that was sissy, but since I make a good salary, I decided to ignore my feelings about it.

"Now I find he has borrowed from my father and my brother and literally dozens of other friends and even casual acquaintances.

"He seems to have no scruples about sponging off anybody who will pay his bills.

★ ★ ★

"I'm panicky. My parents haven't vetoed our marriage but I know they are cool toward the idea. Dr. Crane, if you were in my place what would you do?"

PLAIN ANSWERS

I'd break my engagement at once!" "Squaw men", who sponge on women and chronically borrow from their girl friends, aren't worth a dime a dozen.

Girls, you'll be far happier as an old maid than married to such a sponger.

Marriage is a serious partnership so be hardboiled about it. And temper your natural sympathy with shrewd maternal foresight for your future babies.

Marriage is not just for your own personal enjoyment, but should involve the rearing of children in a happy, safe home where they can enjoy normal stability.

A rotter cannot make a safe home and a chronic borrowing husband is a rotter.

★ ★ ★

I am being frank for I have seen too many unhappy marriages where girls let themselves be carried into a dubious marriage just because the wedding date had been set and the invitations mailed.

Never let anything stampede you into a marriage when your conscience and basic common sense whisper "This is wrong."

Stopping an unwise wedding is far milder than a divorce afterwards.

BE SHREWD

Girls, think ahead to your future family life with two or three children in your home. How will they react to your present suitor?

That is far more important than how you respond to him. He will not be kissing your children under a romantic moon and he will not be on his "party manners" before your children.

So what will he be like when he levels off to the humdrum family life in a little cottage with squalling babies hanging to your skirts?

Look ahead. Be shrewd. You can always get kisses. You can wax sentimental under a romantic moon with many men.

But which one will have the staying qualities to make a good parent for your children?

★ ★ ★

Many a thrilling escort proves a dud as a parent. But a fellow who is good papa-material can easily be converted into an exciting mate, just by following the booklets and charts offered via this column.

So keep far-sighted when you actually pick a husband. You should get quality matrimonial material and not culls or seconds!

You pay full price, anyway, so get the best. Avoid gamblers, drinkers and shiftless guys who can't hold a job or who live on their parents' bounty.

Pick self-reliant fellows who have earned their own way. Boy Scouts and former newspaper carriers are the cream of the crop. And select men who get along well with your family and are tactful.

For further advice, send for my 200-point "Tests for Sweethearts", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It helps put eyes in blind Cupid's skull.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

To Scan Meteors With Radar Eye

New Plan Will Reveal Unknown Facts About Planetary Objects

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A powerful new radar eye soon will study invisible shooting stars or meteors—the buckshot from space — to learn where they come from and how they affect humans.

* * *

Harvard University astronomers have told of plans for the radar study. They hope it can learn secrets of meteors 500 times fainter than those the human eye can see.

Millions of meteors from outer space, mostly only tiny specks, bombard the earth every day. It is estimated 1,000 tons of meteoritic dust falls to earth daily. The dust and electrical energy that come from them may be partial causes of torrential rains, of the northern lights, and an aid to sending ordinary radio broadcasts.

The new radar study is expected to produce more facts about the heights, speeds, orbits and origins of these giant meteors, Gerald S. Hawkins, Curtis L. Hemenway and Fred L. Whipple told the American Astronomical Society.

* * *

The radar system will be set up in Southern Massachusetts by Harvard Observatory in conjunction with the Lincoln Laboratory of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

It will consist of a powerful radar transmitter and six huge receiving antennae to pick up the radar pulses bounced off the meteor and the trail of electrons it leaves in the upper atmosphere.

The system with six antennae receiving the radar echoes is expected to yield more information than have previous radar studies, the astronomers said.

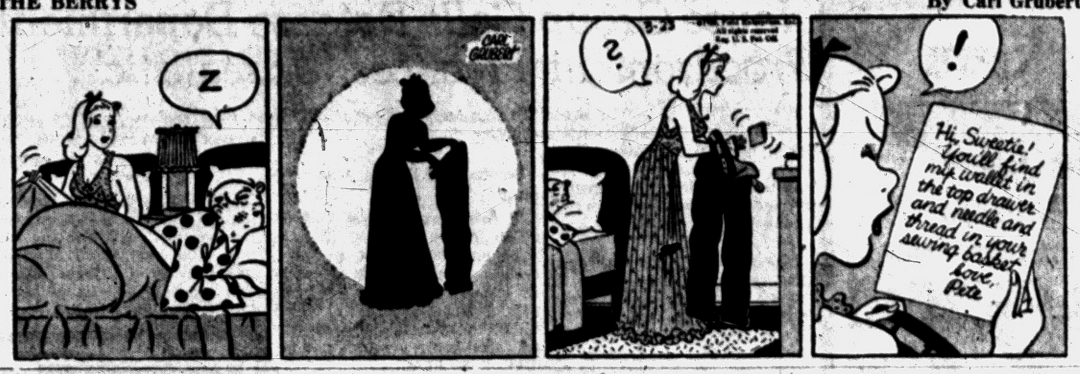

* * *

It could help determine the orbits of the meteors in space, and hence provide information on their origin. It could show how much the meteor is slowed by passing through the thin upper air, how long a trail of electrons each creates, the height of the meteor, and even the number of electrons at different points where the radar pulses hit and bounce back.

SAGINAW (AP)—Plagued by the springtime problem of small boys noisily dropping marbles in class, teacher Mrs. Geraldine Green enlisted the aid of the girls in her fourth grade at Crary-Lincoln School. She had the girls make cloth marble bags for all the boys. Hereafter, dropped marbles will be confiscated and bed for a marble tournament to be run off at the end of the school year.

Westinghouse Agreement Contains Vital Provisions

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp. said that the strike-ending agreement with the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers contains these important provisions:

* * *

CONTRACT—Extends to Oct. 15 1960, can be opened in October, 1958, to discuss employment security, when the union will have the right to strike. Noneconomic items can be discussed in October, 1957, but the union cannot strike. Local plant supplements can be opened once a year after Aug. 14, 1956 for wage discussions. The locals have the right to strike.

Time Studies—Company may study any day or salaried job, standards may be set as a result of such studies. Any dispute over claims of unreasonable work standards will be submitted to binding arbitration.

Wages—Annual increases, approximately 3 per cent over present rates with five-cent hourly minimum boost immediately, again on Oct. 15, 1956 and again on Oct. 14, 1957; approximately 3½ per cent over present rates with a five-cent hourly minimum Oct. 13, 1958 and again on Oct. 12, 1959. Cost of living clause calls for a one-cent hourly wage increase for each ½ point rise in the consumer price index over the Oct. 15, 1955 level, increases can be deducted later if the index drops.

Discharges—Thirty-six workers fired for picket line disturbances during the strike now listed as "indefinitely suspended," cases may be discussed individually at plant level and can be submitted to binding arbitration.

Arbitration—Any dispute arising from application or interpretation of the contract can be submitted to arbitration.

Fringe Benefits—Improved pension, hospitalization and vacation benefits.

House Group Calls Defense Department Procurement Practices 'Unrealistic'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee made public today a staff report criticizing Defense Department procurement practices as "unrealistic" and as giving contractors "a tremendous advantage."

* * *

Included in the 397-page document were formal replies from the Defense Department, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, in general, they defended the criticized practices on grounds the hurryup or "crash" nature of the contracts involved made normal procedure impractical.

Rep. Whitten (D-Miss), a committee member, commented in the report that there were indications that "the government is spending billions needlessly to someone's profit."

* * *

The report, on which three teams of committee probers have been working since last April, made no charges of corruption or willful wrongdoing.

No specific time period was covered by the survey, but much of the material involved was ordered or delivered during the Korean War period. The report made no distinction between Republican and Democratic administrations. The wartime period included parts of both.

* * *

Secretary of Defense Wilson replied:

"I do not excuse these kinds of things if they are true. There is some explanation of it, probably, because people do not purposely do such sloppy things. That is, they sort of drift into it . . . all I can tell you is that one way and another we are trying to get hold of the thing."

During one period, the report said, the Ford Motor Co. made a profit of 29.6 per cent on airplane engines before voluntarily cutting its prices on the basis of cost experience. The refunds cut the profits to 19 per cent for the initial period, the report continued, while on total engines delivered under the contract over a three-year period the profit was 8 per cent.

* * *

The investigators said Curtiss-Wright Corp. was still scheduled to deliver J65 engines to the Air Force after last Dec. 1 although Buick Division of General Motors Corp. had been making the same engines at a lower cost.

Teenage Girl, 18, Killed in U.S. 25 Car Wreck

MONROE (AP)—Princella Johnson, 18, of Toledo, was killed Wednesday night when the car in which she was riding left U. S. 25 and crashed into a ditch.

The driver of the car, Walter Sims, 31, also of Toledo, and two other passengers were injured.

Hall Outlines Formula for Florida GOP Drive

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—The chairman of the Republican National Committee recommends this formula to GOP workers trying to breach Florida's Democratic bulwarks: "shoe, leather and bellringing."

Chairman Leonard Hall told a $50-a-plate dinner last night that all-out efforts are needed, and will be made, to return president Eisenhower to office and give him a Republican Congress.

Your Income Tax Primer—No. 11

New Tax Law Provides Retirement Income Credit

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
(11th of 12 articles)

Before deciding whether to file your return on the simple form 1040A or the more complicated Form 1040 you must know whether you qualify for any of the tax breaks which can only be claimed on Form 1040.

The previous Primer articles have described all but one of such tax breaks. The last one is the retirement income credit, a tax break given for the first time in 1954 to older people who retire on their own savings and investments.

Here's how the credit works:

All taxpayers over 65 and taxpayers under 65 who are retired under a public retirement system established by the United States, or a state, territory, possession or political subdivision are allowed a credit against their tax of 20 per cent of their "retirement income."

"Retirement income" is defined as income from pensions, annuities, interest, rents and dividends. The amount taken into account in any one year may not exceed $1,200 for each taxpayer minus the sum of:

1. Exempt social security or Railroad Retirement Act pensions or annuities received;

2. Other tax exempt pensions or annuities received, such as a veterans' pension (but not armed forces retirement pay based on disability resulting from active service), and

3. In the case of a taxpayer under 75, any earned income in 1955 in excess of $900. Earned income means salaries, wages or other compensation for personal services. Once a taxpayer is 75, this third reduction does not apply.

The retirement income credit can only be claimed by filling out Schedule K of Form 1040. If a joint return is filed, Column A is for the wife and Column B for the husband.

Here are some tips which will help you decide which form to use:

You may use Form 1040A if:

1. Your gross income is less than $5,000, and

2. Your gross income was received in the form of salary, wages, dividends, or interest, and

3. Your gross income from sources other than wages subject to withholding does not exceed $100.

A married couple may make a joint return on Form 1040A if their combined income meets the above test. Married couples whose legal residence is in a community property state may not file separate returns on Form 1040A.

Do not Use Form 1040A if:

1. You qualify as "head of household" or "surviving spouse."

2. Your personal deductions exceed 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

3. You have any reimbursed expenses, out-of-town travel expenses, transportation expenses related to your work, or expenses as an outside salesman. (See article 4)

4. You have dividend income in excess of the dividend exclusion. (See article 5)

5. You are entitled to the credit for retirement income explained above in this article.

6. You have made payments of estimated tax for 1955.

7. You had more than $84 of F. I. C. A. (Social Security) tax withheld from your pay in 1955 because you received wages from more than one employer. (See article 12)

8. You are enfitled to the exclusion for sick pay. (See article 4)

You May Use Short Form 1040 if:

Your adjusted gross income, item 11, page 1 of Form 1040, is less than $5,000. You cannot itemize deductions on the Short Form 1040.

DO NOT Use Short Form 1040 if:

Your personal deductions exceed 10 per cent of your adjusted gross income.

Long Form 1040 can be used by any taxpayer who itemizes his deductions on page 2. This form must be used whenever the adjusted gross income shown in item 11, page 1, of Form 1040 is $5,000 or more.

Those of you using Form 1040A will not have to compute your tax. Just fill in both sides with the required information. The District Director of Internal Revenue will use the tax table printed on the instructions for Form 1040A to compute your tax and send you a refund or a bill depending on whether too much tax or too little tax was withheld from your pay.

The tax table automatically gives you a $600 credit for each exemption and a deduction of about 10 per cent of your income for such items as contributions, medical expenses and the like.

Those of you using the Short Form 1040 should fill in page 1 and, if necessary, part of page 2 showing all your exemptions and all your income. You should also fill in the schedules on page 4 if applicable. Then find your tax from the tax table on the last page of the official instructions.

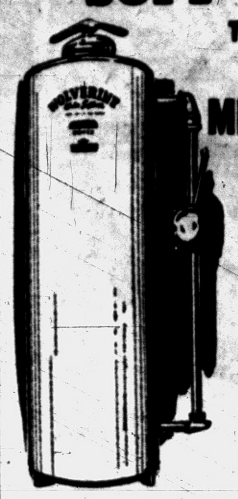

Just follow the simple instructions at the top of the table and be sure to select the exemption column that corresponds to the number of exemptions you claim on page 1.

Then enter the tax in item 12, page 1. The last few steps necessary to complete your Short Form 1040 will be described in tomorrow's article.

Those of you who itemize deductions or who have incomes in excess of $5,000 must use the tax computation schedule on page 2 of the return to compute your tax.

NEXT: Final steps on Form 1040.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

The Wonderful Change

Butterflies and moths are among the most beautiful of all insects. Soon you will see many kinds fluttering in gardens.

Even more marvelous than their appearance is the story of their life. From their eggs hatch not moths or butterflies but crawling caterpillars that often are ugly things. Eating a lot and growing fast, they shed their old skins for new ones. This happens several times.

Finally the moth caterpillar weaves a cocoon around itself out of silken thread. Silently, inside the cocoon, the caterpillar becomes a moth. It breaks out, and flies away. Butterflies, which fly by day instead of by night as do most moths, are transformed in much the same way.

For a toy, color the picture and paste it on heavy brown paper. Cut out the central part and the two side panels, which should be pasted together — tab A on top of space A.

Now cut through the dotted line at each end of the cocoon. Fold the long strip forward at the head of the caterpillar and back at the left side of the butterfly. Then both will fit behind the cocoon, with the ends of the strips sticking out through the slits. Pull on one strip to see the caterpillar, and on the other to see the moth.

William Blonder of Baltimore, Md., submitted this idea. Junior Editors pays $10 for ideas accepted.

Derailed Train Blocks Tracks in Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Twenty-five cars of a 100-car New York Central railroad freight train were derailed here Wednesday night, blocking traffic on the double track line between Chicago and Detorit.

The wreckage was cleared sufficiently to permit use of a temporary track paralleling the main line.

A heavily loaded flat car was believed to have buckled, causing the middle section of the train to jump the tracks. The train was bound from Niles, Mich., to Detorit.

There are about 170,000 black bears in the United States.

Johnson Best Bet to Bring Texas Into Dem Column

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—If anyone can bring a measure of unity among Texas Democrats and pave the way for recapture of the state from President Eisenhower, it's Lyndon B. Johnson.

* * *

That, at least, is the view of many Democratic "loyalists" in the Lone Star State, where Eisenhower defeated Adlai Stevenson four years ago by 1,102,878 votes to 969,228.

It is the view of Sam Rayburn, speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, and leader of the Texas faction which supported Stevenson in 1952.

Rayburn has proposed that the state convention at Dallas May 22 endorse Johnson as Texas' "favorite son" presidential candidate and elect him as chairman of the state's delegation to the Democratic national convention in Chicago.

HAS MANY FRIENDS

Johnson, Democratic leader of the U. S. Senate, supported Stevenson's candidacy in 1952. Also, he has friends among the followers of Gov Allan Shivers, who bolted the party four years ago and carried the state Democratic Committee with him.

Shivers, in an interview, would not comment on Johnson as a "favorite son" candidate. But he said he would oppose Johnson's selection as chairman of the delegation.

"And we are going to win," he said.

If Johnson does make the fight, his friends say he will go all-out. Some reporters in Austin say he has one of the strongest personal organizations in the state. He's taking things as easy as he can after a heart attack last July.

Shivers says he will support Eisenhower again if the democrats should renominate Adlai Stetvenson.

IKE STILL POPULAR

Democrats do not attempt to discount Eisenhower's popularity in Texas. Ralph W. Yarborough, Austin attorney twice defeated for governor by Shivers and a likely candidate again, put it this way:

"The present situation in Texas is that the Republicans will not carry the state. There has been very little, if any, decline in President Eisenhower's personal popularity.

* * *

But the people realize that if they re-elect Eisenhower, they will have Republican policies. The reasons are economic. The farm problem is the big cause for the change in sentiment. The elimination of rigid, 90 per cent parity supports has had a disastrous effect in a large section of Texas."

* * *

Shivers said Eisenhower may have lost some farm support, but that he has picked up "a great many little people of deep moral convictions who have a worship for Eisenhower that transcends party lines." He said it is "too early" to assess the extent that one may offset the other.

Shivers made it clear he is opposed to any third party movement.

Stevenson's opposition to the submerged lands oil bill, which Eisenhower advocated and later signed as president, was a big issue in Texas, which fought a Supreme Court decision giving the submerged land oil rights to the government. The bill signed by Eisenhower returned this land to the states and the schools of the state have benefited from the revenue.

Shivers is not seeking re-election. One question is how much of his personal following he can carry with him.

Cafe Society Discovers Subways After Storm

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Oh, to be in Florida (or California or Phoenix) now that Spring is here!

"Hello, Spring!" sang out a department store sign across 5th Avenue—a sign that was snowy and blizzard-whipped and about as springy-looking as Siberia.

★ ★ ★ ★

But the hardy New York night life set lived it up despite the 13-inches of frozen springtime because—flash!—it discovered the subway.

Actor Forrest Tucker told me how writer Carey Wilber—who lives outside Schenectady—actually snowshoed 15 miles into that city and caught a train here to deliver a TV script that was due.

"He used to live in Alaska and didn't mind," said Tucker.

The subway set suddenly saw celebrities from cafe society—and Comedian Joey Carter wished for a subway as he struggled to get from Newark to Manhattan.

After clowning on the Comedy Hour in Hollywood, he flew to Newark in 8 hours. It took him 7½ hours to get from Newark over here.

Annual Competition Will Reach Climax June 1

Fisher Body Guild to Award $115,000 for Top Models

Awards in the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition have been raised to a total of $115,000, an increase of $25,000 over last year, Secretary James P. Wines announced yesterday.

Eight university scholarships formerly worth $20,000 have been raised to $28,000 and 10 additional scholarships worth $1,000 each have been added in a new judging classification based on "styling" merits.

Other awards including cash to state winners and expense-free trips for regional winners to the guild's annual convention have been increased to $77,000.

The increase in awards is effective immediately and applies to entrants in this year's competition which ends June 1, Wines said.

State and regional winners will be announced early in July and scholarship winners will receive their honors July 31.

The guild also announced that new ebony and gold-finish trophies, created by General Motors Styling Section, will be given schools attended by winners as well as new personal trophies for the award-winning boys.

The Fisher Body competition, since 1930, has awarded 140 university scholarships valued at $441,500 to national winners. More than $700,000 in cash and other awards have been made to thousands of boys winning state and regional honors.

Boys between the ages of 12 through 19 are eligible to enter and may obtain enrollment cards by writing to the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild, General Motors Corporation, Detroit 2, Michigan.

Awards for the best models entered in the guild competition include eight university scholarships for the national winners of the junior (12 through 15 years old) and senior (16 through 19) divisions of the competition. In each age group the awards will be: 1st, $5,000 scholarship; 2nd; 3rd, $3,000; and 4th, $2,000.

There are 16 awards in each state and the district of Columbia, eight in each age group as follows: 1st, — $150; 2nd, $100; 3rd, — $50; and five honorable mention awards of $25 each. For judging purposes, the 48 states and District of Columbia are grouped into 20 regions, each of which will send a junior and senior division winner to the national guild convention next July.

Sons of General Motors employes (including dealers and their employes) are eligible to enter the competition. Duplicate awards are made if the son of a GM employe wins.

Homogenized milk can be stored in a freezer, but quality will deteriorate if this is done for long periods.

Helicopter Needed for Arrest in Wilds

OROFINO, Idaho (AP) — Squad cars, paddy wagons, police launches, sheriff's horses—none of these was of any use when the government decided to arrest Bill Morland.

* * *

Authorities flew a helicopter into the remote North Fork area of Idaho's Clearwater County to pick up the 55-year-old hermit.

Morland was charged with illegal entering of a government building. Authorities said he stole food supplies stored in the woods for the use of rangers and snow surveyors.

* * *

Morland was jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond and his trial date was not set.

Do-It-Yourself Riverboat Set for Summer Cruises

SAUGATUCK (AP)—The SS Island Queen II, a "do-it-yourself" venture, will be launched this spring to replace her older sister which was a major tourist attraction on the Kalamazoo River.

The original Queen, a 60-foot replica of early riverboats, was sold last winter to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

She is scheduled to paddle around Kent Lake in Kensington Park, one of six recreational areas operated by the Authority near Detroit.

Meanwhile, former owner Dick Hoffman has converted a large barn near Saugatuck into a one-man shipyard to complete the Queen II. He built the original more than two years ago with the help of several others.

100 PCT. DO-IT-YOURSELF

The current model, however, is a "100 per cent do-it-yourself" project.

* * *

It has taken him most of the winter to assemble the welded steel hull, which will provide space for superstructure and about 65 passengers. Hoffman admits he will have to tear out one end of the barn to move the stern-wheel river cruiser, but tells visitors "he planned it that way."

* * *

The Queen's big diesel engine and stern paddles will be installed after she is moved from the barn.

Hoffman, as owner, builder and skipper, runs daily summer cruises up the river as far as New Richmond and down river to Lake Michigan. In his first two years of operation, he estimated the original Island Queen carried nearly 50,000 passengers.

Dress Catches Afire Killing Invalid Woman

DETORIT (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth C. Ward, 43, of suburban Grosse Point Park, died today after being burned when a cigarette lighter dropped from her hands and ignited her clothing.

Police said she had been an invalid for 14 years.

Study Water Problems

BAY CITY (AP)—The city commission has recommended appointment of a citizens committee to study Bay City water problems, spotlighted recently by "muddy" water in city mains. Water engineers said the discoloration was being cleared up and normal operations were expected later this week.

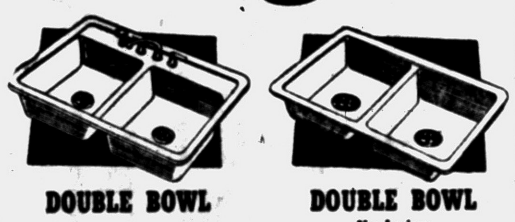

'Confidential' Plant Date

LANSING (AP)—The deadline for the listing of "confidentially available" plants is March 28, the State Department of Economic Development states. The department explained that the plants are listed in the confidential file because owners might not be ready to announce that they planned to sell.

With its long tradition of mass production, Michigan can boast perhaps the largest number of skilled, production conscious workers in the world.

THE STORY OF EGGBERT — An Easter Adventure — By Walt Scott

Bookmobile Popular in Northern Sweden

COPENHAGEN — Arrival of the "book bus" has become important to the small Lapp communities in the district fromm Kiruna, in the far north of Sweden, to the Norwegian border.

Every month the bus leaves Kiruna with a stock of books from the town's library. On its 90-mile trip through a region of lakes and mountains its serves communities aggregating 600 people. The hundreds of books borrowed include novels by Lapp authors, travel books, works on natural history and animal life and occasionally books in foreign languages.

Lenten Guideposts—Train Whistles Called

One-Time Farm Boy Tells of His Rise to President of Big Railway System

By WAYNE A. JOHNSTON
President, Illinois Central

JOHNSTON

My boyhood job on our farm was to run the swivel-rope on the stacker pipe at oat threshing. The heat of the rope would scorch my hands, my mouth would be raw from thirst. All my bones ached.

Then would come the train whistle — a deep, haunting wail that covered my skin with goose pimples and filled my mind with adventure. I forgot my throat and aches.

This yearning for the railroad was a part of my heritage. My grandfathers, daring men, were challenged by the river. Transportation was the magic touch-word along the entire Mississippi Valley. Men had to run steamboats to a thousand inland ports; men had to build railroads, leading to and beyond them. My people were a part of this great traffic venture, and by the time I could walk, I knew I would follow them.

But the death of my father left my mother, two brothers and me in a difficult situation. Our small farm in Philo, Ill., was our only means of livelihood. It was a back-breaking job. I might never have been able to follow the locomotive's wail if Mother had been just an average person.

SHE HAD INITIATIVE

DeEtta Bird Boomer, the university graduated school teacher who married my father, was one of 14 children, whose family characteristic was initiative. Three of her brothers were railroad executives, and she probably would have been one herself had she chosen to be a career woman.

Mother had a way of tackling her work that inspired you. Whether it was building a fire in the kitchen range at dawn, or clearing the supper table prior to our evenings of family Bible reading, she made it seem the most important thing in the world at the moment.

It was a flame that touched tinder in growing boys, and I can still hear her now, talking to us as we sat around the kitchen table:

"Part of each week belongs to God," she told us. "Not only in time but in a dollar as you make it. Part of this day is His. If you don't give it away, then you're cheating on someone else."

* * *

By the time I was ready for high school, we moved from the farm to Champaign, Ill. Here I delivered newspapers and took odd jobs on the side.

Mother scrubbed floors to help me go to college. I managed the rest of my tuition and living expenses by washing dishes, caring for the athletic grounds, and serving as janitor for a sorority house.

After graduation from college, the big moment came. I kissed Mother goodbye, bid dramatic farewell to Champaign, and headed for Chicago. It seemed quite natural for my railroading career to begin in that important transportation center.

The personnel manager in the accounting department of the Illinois Central was most receptive. "Yes," he said, "we need a young man like you. There's an opening in our office in Champaign."

BACK HOME AGAIN

This was a blow! Back to my home town again. So a young man quickly learned about disappointment.

I began as a yard clerk at the monthly salary of $42.50, working seven days and many nights a week.. Then came a job as switchman, before I earned the chance to be a clerk in the administration offices.

Work in a railroad brings you in touch with many people. Soon I found the problems of both fellow employes and customers becoming my problems, and their hopes, mine too. This close personal relationship to people can make any job fascinating and worthwhile. It doesn't seem now that I have been 36 years with the railroad.

When someone asked me recently how a callow farm boy like myself ever got to be president of the Illinois Central, my first reaction was to say it happened because I like people

NO SIMPLE ANSWER

Yet, there certainly is no one simple answer. As I sit at my desk right now, I can hear the wail of a locomotive whistle. It still causes that tingling sensation to creep up my back. The thrill and excitement of railroading have never left me. Perhaps this enthusiasm for his job is one of the primary reasons a man reaches his goal.

A man's ability to achieve something important, however, is usually due to the outside influences that have shaped his life: Such as a sacrificing mother, beloved wife, friends, his God.

These are the real reasons a man is able to reach the goals he sets for himself.

Tomorrow—James G. Widmeyer of Cincinnati tells how he became the "millionaire newsboy," how he lost his great fortune and the important lesson it taught him.

What Big Ashtrays!

ENID, Okla. (AP)—Enid firemen said cigarettes were probably responsible for two divan fires in the same day recently—but they could not blame the blazes on persons falling asleep while smoking. The two unoccupied divans were sitting outside stores in the downtown section.

Going to Throw Dice?

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Two youths told police they burglarized 24 Catholic churches. An estimated $200 was stolen from offering boxes after they were pried open. A priest's robe was found in the prisoners' possession.

County Ranked Third in Bond Purchases

Oakland County climbed to third place in the state in the amount of U.S. savings bond purchases made by its residents during January and February, according to the Treasury Dept. Total Michigan figures were 20.5 per cent above the quota.

Sales of E and H series bonds climbed to $3,425,027 in the area, compared to $39,334,118 in Wayne County, and $3,858,412 in Genesee for the two-month period.

State sales reached $65,809,000, of which $31,741,000 was raised in February and $34,068,000 in January (the highest monthly total in history). Sixty-eight counties exceeded their quotas during the period.

Polite Bootleg Dealers Strive to Please All

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Oklahoma is constitutionally a dry state but the battle for business among bootleggers continues at a fast, humorous pace.

A four-page pamphlet of liquor prices found its way to prospective customers. It also carried an apology which read:

"And we do apologize sincerely if this folder does not meet with your approval. We realize that many things are not condoned by all people, and are condemned by others.

"Even though our mailing list was carefully compiled we are aware that no plan is perfect. We beg of you, therefore, do not be offended if your name should not have been included."

Federal Employes Face Driving Tests

WASHINGTON (AP) — New standards of physical fitness and driving ability were announced today for all federal civilian employes who drive government cars or trucks as part of their duties.

* * *

No uniform standards have been in effect in the past. In announcing the action, the Civil Service Commission said about 200,000 federal workers will be affected.

* * *

The new standards require a check of a driver's physical fitness and driving competence at least once every three years or oftener in the discretion of each agency. Tests for qualification will begin at once.

The aim is to promote safety.

London Paper 'Lectures' Royal Family on Economy

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Mirror has let fly with something unusual in the British press—sharp lecture to the royal family on economy.

* * *

The tabloid claims the world's biggest weekday circulation — more than 4½ million. It calls itself independent, but generally favors the British Labor party.

Mirror columnist "Cassandra" declared far too much money is going for royal sea, air and rail comfort at a time the government is trying to cut down on inflationary spending. He said the outlay for royal transport is getting "ludicrously more expensive," and gave this list:

* * *

1. "The royal yacht Britannia cost 2,200,000 pounds—$6,160,000 — to build. It has been renovated several times, and has recently been refitted. The bill was 100,000 pounds. The Britannia needs over 2,500 pounds a day to run and is used for less than a month a year by the royal family."

2. "There is a new move afoot to replace the four Vikings of the Queen's Flight—50,000 pounds each—either by a Viscount (or Viscounts) at an expenditure of at least 400,000 pounds each. A bolder idea is to buy a Britannia, which, although it would make for uniformity in names in the clouds and the waves, would cost 1,000,000 pounds.

* * *

"The Duke of Edinburgh already has a de Havilland Heron which has set the taxpayer back by 100,000 pounds.

3. "With regard to the touchdown and takeoff point in the lounge at London Airport, the Duke of Edinburgh has personally protested that the comforts of the commandant's lounge are not good enough. The result of this regal beef is that the VIP room at London Airport is being rejigged at a cost of 40,000 ponnds."

4. "Added to this there arrives the news of the special royal dining car of the new train now being finished at Wolverton. It is the most luxurous railway coach ever built in the world." (Some newspapers have estimated its cost at 40,000 pounds.)

* * *

"Cassandra" — in private life William Neil Connor — concluded: "Won't somebody say to Buckingham Palace 'Cut it down, ease without?' "

Regal Peacock Now Watch Dog

Find Magnificent Bird Starts Noisy Howling at Unfamiliar Persons

WASHINGTON — The magnificently plumaged peacock, associated with mankind since the time of the pharaohs, has assumed a new role — as watch dog.

Farmers have found that the naturally suspicious birds can be trained to set up a raucous howling at the approach of unfamiliar persons. They will even attack small animals.

In remote sections of India and Ceylon the peafowl is revered as a god, says the National Geographic Society. It was a pampered pet in the court of Alexander the Great.

Greek, Roman, Arab and Hebrew writers have referred favorably to peacocks although Aristotle described them as having the "feathers of an angel, the voice of the devil and the entrails of a thief."

The Bible tells how the ships of Tarshish brought to the court of King Solomon "gold and silver, ivory, and apes, and peacocks."

During the waning period of the Roman Empire, tongues and brains of peafowl were prized as appetizers. Adult peacock meat is rather dry and tasteless, but it can still be ordered in a London restaurant that features dishes of the Middle Ages.

In the days of chivalry, the peacock adorned many crests and coats of arms. The plumes were widely used as helmet ornaments.

For knights-errant "The Vow of the Peacock" was a binding oath. A knight would "vow to God, to the Virgin Saint, to the ladies and to the peacock" to perform some noble deed. The oath was made at table over a roasted peacock served in its feathers. Later all present would eat a slice of the meat.

There are two major families of peafowl. Best known is the Indian or common species. This bird is a native of India and Ceylon but it has spread all over the world. Its handsome train of metallic blue and green is marked with brilliant ocelli (eyes). The green or Javan variety comes from Malaya. It is wilder and less amenable to domestication.

Many sub-species exist. A pure white albino has been bred and is probably the most valuable. Prices for ordinary peafowl range around $50 a pair.

Suspect Breakin Try at Local Union Hall

A basement window forced open Wednesday night led officials of Local 653, UAW-CIO to suspect an attempted burglary at the union's hall, 386 E. Kennett Rd.

But the president, Charles Curry, 4761 Maycrest St., added that apparently nothing was taken, Pontiac police said.

Byrd Interview Develops Complications

Murrow Keeps Fingers Crossed Tonight

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Edward R. Murrow is interviewing Adm. Richard Byrd tonight on the television program, "Person to Person," and keeping his fingers crossed that everything goes according to plan.

* * *

Some special complications developed.

Murrow is no stranger to problems and last-minute emergencies on this show. But he said the talk with the admiral may set a record. Here's what happened:

Byrd, who lives in Boston, left last November to go to the Antarctic. He hasn't been in his house since then, Murrow said.

* * *

"He also ordered an elevator installed in it," Murrow added. "So far so good."

INTRICATE PROBLEMS

An essential part of this program is to bring the cameras — and the audience — into the home of the person being interviewed. He walks from room to room. The technical problems of placing cameras are often intricate.

So Murrow said that when Byrd consented to the interview, a camera crew was sent, as usual, to examine the house and make preliminary plans. A technician immediately telephoned:

"Ed, this place is a ghost house."

He explained that, because of the new elevator, painters and plasterers were all over the place, and that the furniture was completely covered with dust robes and nobody knew when the house could be put back to normal.

* * *

Murrow and some more assistants went to Boston.

MAID TROUBLE

There, he said, they encountered another complication in the person of a determined Irish maid.

* * *

"She won't let us in two locked rooms," he said. "We are virtually certain the equipment and many of the things pertaining to the geophysical year are in those rooms."

Byrd went to the South Pole heading an expedition gathering data for the geophysical year. This story, naturally, is a major part of Murrow's planned interview.

Not even word from Byrd's secretary budged the maid, Murrow said. They were not immediately able to get in touch with the admiral, who makes his headquarters in Washington.

"We are a little uneasy," he said.

* * *

Fortunately, Murrow said, this program has always been a somewhat informal, ad-libbing proposition. He keeps it that way, he said, in order to get naturalness and spontaneity.

JUST FOLLOWS

"We don't rehearse specific questions and answers before we go on the air," he said. "We talk, generally, about what we're going to say. Then, after we start, I just follow wherever they lead."

* * *

The program largely depends on some special equipment — a tiny microphone and two "power packs," about the size of packages of cigarettes. The interviewee carries these as he walks around his home.

Men tuck the microphone behind their neckties, and put the power packs in their hip pockets Murrow said. He can tell you a great many celebrities who don't have hip-pockets in their suits — a fact that badly complicated one of his programs at the last minute.

"Women generally put the mike behind a corsage or pin it to a brassiere," Murrow said. "But the power packs can be a problem if they are wearing a tight-waisted dress."

* * *

One actress solved this difficulty by devising a special pair of garters and attaching the units to her knees!

He said athletes are generally the coolest subjects, and gave a special palm to the New York Yankees' Yogi Berra.

He asked Berra, just before the program started, if he was nervous, and quoted Yogi's reply—

"Why should I be? There ain't nothin' out there but cameras, and they can't throw at your head."

Buick CENTURY 6-Passenger 4-Door Riviera, Model 63

Why just look—

WHEN YOU CAN JOIN THE PARTY?

SURE it's a pleasure to take in the length and breadth and sweep of the new Buick.

But that stunning styling doesn't begin to tell about the fun and thrills and excitement to be had here.

You get the real insight on what an all-day party Buick travel can be when you put one of these beauties in motion. And, Mister, you're invited to do that just as soon as you can.

Because that's when you'll meet up with a new Buick ride—a ride that's deep-oil cushioned, brawnier framed, and built with a new steering geometry that brings a more responsive "sense of direction" to your every handling maneuver.

That's when you'll find a new hoodful of power waiting to spin forth from the mightiest Buick V8 yet—with the highest compression ratio to match.

And that's when you'll get a double-barreled invitation to thrills from a new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.* First, from the new split-second take-off you get at the top inch of pedal travel—and with better gas mileage, too. Second, from the surging safety-burst of power you get when you floor the pedal and "switch the pitch."

So it's the truth, and nothing but, when we say there's a thrill-a-minute in the '56 Buick. And we've set up a club by the same name to prove it.

There's no obligation to joining the Thrill-A-Minute Club—just plenty of fun behind the wheel.

And when you do come in, we'd also like to show you how to own the best Buick yet for the best deal yet. Will you make it a date to see us—this week?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Ascension Lutherans Bid Farewell to the Garvers

The Garver children were caught by the photographer as they were ready to enjoy the farewell dinner given for the family, by the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension Thursday evening. Pictured (left to right) are Dorothea 14 years, Philip 8, Donna 11, Georganna 12 and Paul 7. The Rev. Mr. Garver will begin his new duties in Temple Lutheran Church in Pennsauken, N. J., April 8 after serving here for nine years.

Dale Platz, of Exmoor drive, Albert Hehl of Grove street, Fred Sytz of Motorway drive and Dr. Leonard Klausmeyer of Chippewa road (left to right), members of the Pulpit committee of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension realize the task that lies ahead. It is their responsibility to secure a pastor to succeed the Rev. George L. Garver who has served Lutheran Church of the Ascension for nine years. Mr. Garver leaves for his new parish soon after Easter.

New Duties Are Waiting for Pastor

Church Program Given Thursday to Pay Tribute

It was with a deep feeling of regret that the members of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension and their families gathered on Thursday evening to bid farewell to their pastor, the Rev. George L. Garver, and to express their appreciation for his services during the nine years he has served here.

He will take up his new duties at Temple Lutheran Church in Pennsauken, N.J., April 8.

During the Rev. Mr. Garver's stay in Pontiac the congregation has tripled in size. Notable among the property changes made in the church are the installation of a new organ, complete redecoration of the church interior and exterior acquisition of a new parsonage, razing of the original church property and remodeling of the present building, and addition of proper ecclesiastic hangings and vestments.

In the community the Rev. Mr. Garver has served in several official and many unofficial capacities of civic and religious natures. He has served as president of the Pontiac Pastors' Association, has been an active member of the Pontiac General Hospital chaplain service, and has served as a teacher in the Pontiac School of Religion.

A letter from the Pontiac Pastor's Association, expressing regret at the Rev. Mr. Garver's leaving Pontiac, was read during the evening.

UPHELD LIBERTIES

Having a keen interest in civil liberties and good government, the Rev. Mr. Garver was frequently heard as a speaker in the community and often raised his voice in criticism or protest at policies he believed to be in violation of them.

* * *

Albert Hehl, vice president of the council of the Ascension Lutheran Church, in speaking of the Rev. Mr. Garver's pastorate, told of the various capacities in which he has served his church and community.

Adding a gay note to the program were the musical selections presented by members of the Men's Chorus of the church, "Farewell To Thee," dedicated to the Garvers, brought a great ovation from the audience because of the pantomine done by the chorus. A medley of old familiar tunes was presented by the Women's Trio.

Dr. Frank Madsden, president of the Michigan Synod, United Lutheran Church of America, spoke of the Rev. Mr. Garver's work in this synod, saying, "There are not many times you can secure the favorable vote of the entire synod, but I know the vote would be unanimous on the regret for the Garvers' leaving."

* * *

Dr. Madsden spoke of the Rev. Mr. Garver as always being ecumenically minded and expressed a desire to find someone who could worthily follow in his footsteps. In closing, Dr. Madsden said he knew God would use the Rev. Mr. Gaver in his new field of labor even as He has used him here.

Mrs. Garver received the gifts presented by the congregation and friends. Mrs. Milton Freet made the presentations.

'LAST WILL'

In expressing his appreciation, the Rev. Mr. Garver displayed his sense of humor, reading his "Last Will and Testament" in rhyme. He "bequeathed" most needed articles to various members of the congregation.

* * *

In a most serious and sincere reply, he said, "My life has been enriched by being here. My hope is in the life you live, may Christ be present there."

Hostesses for the evening affair were Mrs. Freet, Mrs. Claire Delauder, Mrs. Ward Cumming and Mrs. Truman Nelson. Mrs. Lisle Echtinaw served as toastmistress.

The Rev. George L. Garver (left) receives the well wishes of Dr. Frank L. Madsden, president of the Michigan Synod United Lutheran Church of America (center). With Mrs. Garver (right) and their family they will leave Pontiac shortly after Easter for Pennsauken, N. J., where the Rev. Mr. Garver will become pastor of Temple Lutheran Church. Members of the congregation and friends of Lutheran Church of the Ascension held a dinner in their honor on Thursday evening in the church banquet hall.

As Mrs. Frank Madsden of Detroit arrived at the dinner given by the congregation of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension Thursday evening she was greeted by Mrs. Fred Sytz of Motorway drive. The dinner honored the Rev. George L. Garver and family who are leaving April 8 for Pennsauken, N. J.

Talk on 'Retarded Child' Given Club

Mrs. Owen Rindfusz spoke on the "Retarded Child" when members of the Child Culture Club met Thursday evening at the William Brannack home on Auburn road.

Mrs. Rindfusz stated that the retarded child was formerly called feeble-minded and that they are present in every kind of environment. She stressed the fact that retardedness is not inherited as a rule and that these children quite often remain at home throughout life.

* * *

The need for special education to develop the talent and mental capabilities they may have was brought out by Mrs. Rindfusz. She concluded by saying that a retarded child should be placed in an institution if he cannot be cared for at home or if he is a danger to the community. Training was given as an advantage of an institution.

* * *

Mrs. Charles Bowers conducted the meeting and roll call was answered by the question, "Would you be ashamed if you had a retarded child?"

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with spring flowers. The next meeting of the group will be a Dads Night April 22.

AAUW Members Hear Radio Talk by Local Man

Larry Payne, manager of a local radio station, spoke to members of the AAUW when the group met recently at the home of Mrs. John Bills on Watkins Lake recently.

The speaker stated that radio is an informal and personal medium of communication now. At one time one instrument with earphones was used in homes and today we have radios in several rooms of the house, so that all members of the family can have their favorite program. The speaker noted the change that has been made in the types of programs and stated that radio is definitely a mass communication media.

Reports of the standing committees were given and a letter from the representatives of AAUW to the Greater Pontiac Community Association was read.

Members elected to complete a survey of Waterford Township for the Civil Defense organization and voted to send a delegate to the regional convention in Chicago in April.

Plan Spring Clothing With Sun in Mind

The arrival of March means the arrival of spring, but we all know that King Winter won't be giving up his reign for a few more weeks.

So brighten up these last gray days with some thoughts on spring, and plan a spring wardrobe with sunshine in mind. California fashions are featuring gay blossoms scattered liberally on Everglaze cotton.

Personal News of Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Esser and daughter, Carol, of Oneida road have returned to their home following a winter vacation at Delray Beach, Fla.

* * *

Mrs. Harold B. Euler entertained a group of friends at a bridge luncheon in her home on Ottawa drive Thursday. The occasion marked the birth anniversary of Mrs. Dora S. Dawson of South Tilden avenue.

Ann Skelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Skelley of Woodland drive, is spending her spring vacation from Michigan State University with her roommate, Doris Huey, in Brooklyn, N. Y. While there they will attend several TV shows.

* * *

William E. Tuttle, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Tuttle of Lake Angelus Shores, was recently initiated into Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at Denison University. William is a member of the freshman class and the president of his dormitory.

* * *

Three Pontiac residents have been named to the Dean's list at Albion College. For their high scholastic standing during the first semester of the college year, recognition was given Donald E. Pinkston of Mohawk road, Yuri Yamamoto of Finley street and Nolan Kaiser of Ledyard street.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Green (nee Shirley Hocevar) of Scott Lake are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Deborah Anne, Feb. 24 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mrs. Clarence Green of Birmingham is the infant's paternal grandmother.

* * *

A son, J. Ford III, was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. Ford Sutton Jr. of Adamson street March 17 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Souslin of Oster drive. Mr. and Mrs. J. Ford Sutton of Monrovia street are the paternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Samson of South Johnson avenue are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Margaret Ann, March 15 at Pontiac General Hospital.

So You're One of His Admirers? So What?

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: He's the type that wants all the girls to like him—he's a big flirt. I've liked him for 10 months now, and he liked me the first two.

"That's the longest time he has ever liked a girl.

"For quite a while I wouldn't let him find out how I feel—I kept it hush hush—but since I got nowhere, I changed my mind and now I think he knows.

"Even if he did like me, I know it wouldn't mean very much to him, since he just tries to see how many girls he can get to like him.

"Should I really make it clear to him that I'm one of his admirers?"

Answer: So he has a fan club? A bevy of beauteous damsels who coo over him? Because of his good looks, his talents, his prestige, his charm, and his agility in sidestepping involvement with any of them.

It's apparently quite the thing to be among the coterie that thinks he's divine. They have so much in common, so much to talk about, so many similar hopes.

You, like all the other girls, have hopes. It's not enough to find the boy attractive and let it go at that while you go about your business. No, your liking goes on from there in expecting a reward, in demanding that your interest be returned.

Liking him hush-hush doesn't get you anywhere, you admit to yourself. You want to get something out of it.

Obviously, in your thinking, liking a boy is only the beginning. He must be made to like you, too. Even that is only the start of things.

He then must be made to want to see you all the time, take you out every weekend, rally around in between times, and call you at odd moments. That's your reward for liking him. And it must follow as the night the day.

But you seem to have fallen for a boy who is notoriously immune to the charms of any one girl. At least he doesn't date a girl for long. He likes girls in the plural, and he enjoys having them like him.

With all of these girls he has a laughing, teasing, chatting, carefree relationship. Fun, in general, is all he's after—and with no one girl in particular.

That's the way he is. The knowledge that a girl is crazy about him doesn't sway him at all. So your best bet is to make yourself a girl to be crazy about—luscious to look at, lively, merry, on the beam, interested in a world of things, outstanding in the groups.

Shift your attention from being an adoring but luckless fan of his to becoming an unusually attractive person in your own right.

He might then sit up and take notice.

And you might wind up with a fan club of your own!

St. Gertrude Guild to Sponsor Festival

St. Gertrude Guild of St. Benedict Church met Wednesday evening in the church hall to complete plans for the forthcoming school festival, "Carnival Capers."

Mrs. William M. O'Conner was appointed publicity chairman for the all-school event April 21.

Webster PTA Concludes Workshop, Has Election

The E. R. Webster PTA met Wednesday evening for the final session of the 1956 workshop, entitled "Rearing Children of Goodwill," and also to hold election of officers for the coming school year.

* * *

Mrs. Alger Conner is newly elected president, Mrs. Garth Sayers, vice president; Elwood Bigler, father vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Long, recording secretary; Mrs. Howard Powers, corresponding secretary, and Robert Quinn, treasurer.

Mrs. Thomas Hollis is historian, Mrs. George Watters is parliamentarian and Mrs. James Rosenthal, Mrs. William Shirley and Mrs. Harvey Johns are council delegates.

"The High Wall," a film sponsored by the Anti-Defamation League, showed the conditions surrounding children of ill will.

* * *

A coffee hour preceded a panel discussion of the film and the workshop. Panel members were Allan Copley, Frieda Huggett and Fern Perrin, visiting teachers in Pontiac schools; Rabbi Sanford Saperstein of Temple Beth Jacob and Mrs. Hollis, retiring president of Webster School PTA.

The workshop was under the guidance of Dr. Dorothy M. Perry, superintendent of language in Detroit public schools and a faculty member at Wayne University.

She was assisted by Mrs. Alan Canty, member of the Detroit Round Table of Christians and Jews and the Detroit Board of Education.

Wool Flowers Put on Silk Scarves

A firm known for fabrics of outstanding taste is showing organdy and silk-faille scarves embroidered with heavy wool flowers as the latest neckwear.

Red wool poppies or purple anemones bloom on four-inch-wide silk ribbon scarves. Their loveliest creation, reserved for Dior, is a huge white organdy evening stole with pastel colored, natural-sized sweet-peas as delicate silk embroidery.

Being well dressed depends to a large extent on good grooming. Be sure that white gloves are really white, collars immaculate, hemlines and shoe lifts even.

Use Raisins for Filling in Easy Pie

Mrs. Forker Likes Cooking for Family, Shares a Recipe

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Run out of ideas for pie? Well you can always make one from raisins, the way Mrs. Ernest Forker does. It will remind you some of holiday mincemeat pie.

Mrs. Forker spends most of her time, she says, cooking for her family. Her husband has irregular hours, so company is limited to Sundays.

Mrs. Forker likes to read. She is an active member of the Fashionette Club.

RAISIN PIE
By Mrs. Ernest Forker

1½ cups seeded raisins
1½ cups boiling water
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup sugar
¼ cup chopped walnuts
1 tablespoon lemon juice
Grated rind ½ lemon

Wash raisins and cook in boiling water until tender. Mix flour with sugar, add to cooked raisins, stir until thick. Add lemon juice, rind and nuts.

Cool a little, then pour into a prepared pie shell. Cover with a topcrust. Bake in 450-degree oven. Bake 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees. Bake another 25 minutes.

Sennit Straw Hat Began With Sailors

Anyone here know how the Sennit straw hat (also known as the skimmer or straw boater) got its name? Those of you trying to connect it with Mack Sennett of silent movie fame can guess again.

Neither was it made famous by the boys in the barber shop quartet. Many many moons go, the English sailors who danced the hornpipe 'neath billowing sails, use to knit their own hats in seven rows — in a design that strongly resembles the weave of the present day straw model. These were known as Seven Knit, a name that has since become shortened to Sennit.

Rolling such small articles as doilies, dresser scarves and table mats on cardboard tubes prevents creases and utilizes deep, narrow shelf space.

Admission to last evening's dinner was one garment for the Camp Fire families who were victims of the recent flood in Yuba City, Calif. Loretta Phintz (left) and Maxine King are shown as they finished collecting some of the garments.

The Civitan Club presented the Camp Fire Girls with a check for $1,500 for the girls' permanent campsite trust fund. Pictured making the presentation is Theodore Wiersema (center), president of Pontiac Civitan Club. William McLean (left) president of the Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls, accepts the check. An equal amount was added by the Camp Fire Council and turned over to trustees represented by Thomas Temple (right).

Checks Given at Dinner; New Officers Approved

Thursday was an eventful day for the Camp Fire Girls of Pontiac, for their camp trust fund, which was set up a year ago by the Civitan Club and Camp Fire Council, grew $3,000 larger, so that a permanent camp for Camp Fire Girls is now that much closer.

A year ago, Civitan, a luncheon club of local businessmen which sponsors Camp Fire Girls as a youth project, set up the fund intended to be used eventually for a resident camp which will be built on the Camp Fire Girls' campsite on Gulick Lake, just east of Clarkston.

It was decided that each gift from the Civitan Club would be matched by a like amount from Camp Fire. Last year $1,000 was given by each organization to open the trust with $2,000.

Last evening Theodore Wiersma, president of Civitan, presented William McLean, president of the Camp Fire Council, with a check for $1,500 for the trust fund. This money was earned by Civitan members through the sale of fruit cakes at Christmastime.

The check was matched by one from the Camp Fire Girls' sale of candy just before the Yuleide. Therefore, the trust fund presently stands at $5,000.

MEET AT CHURCH

Last night's annual dinner was a cooperative affair attended by all those who have an interest in Camp Fire. Gib Shanley, a Civitan member, acted as master of ceremonies. The invocation was given by the Rev. John Mulder of Central Methodist Church, where the dinner was held.

A business meeting presided over by William McLean included a secretary's report by Mrs. George Carpenter and a treasurer's report by Dr. Samuel Chafets, including the operating account and the camp account for the past year.

The Rev. Mr. Mulder represented William Wright, nominating chairman, in presenting the new slate of officers for a vote of the members. The new officers as approved are:

Mr. McLean, president; Mrs. Wright, vice president; Mrs. Carpenter, secretary, and Dr. Chafets, treasurer.

The director of Camp Fire Girls' Pontiac Council, Mary Ellen Wyngarden, spoke briefly on the highlights of the organization's accomplishments in 1955. A pageant in pantomime, "Camp Fire Girls Give Service," was presented by various Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds throughout the city.

* * *

It was supplemented by the reading of Mrs. Wright, who assisted Phyllis Schreider, author of the script and field director of Pontiac Camp Fire Girls.

DONATIONS MADE

Donations of clothing for the victims of flood losses in Yuba City, Calif., were received. Some groups have collected more than could be presented at the dinner, and all will be packed and sent immediately.

"Plant Seeds, Reap Friendship," annual project of the national Camp Fire association, was culminated in the presentation of each group's collection of seeds, which were placed in a large boat made for the occasion.

Jarato JA Group Hold Banquet

A banquet was held Thursday at the Hotel Waldron for members of Jarato Junior Achievement and their sponsors, the Rotary Club.

Brant Cotterman is president of the organization, Francis Affolder is serving as vice president; Beverly Elmy is secretary and Rebecca Vitasinsky is treasurer.

James Hoisington is sales manager for the organization and Jerry Steinhelper is production manager.

Effie Montross Marries

A ballerina-length gown of Schiffin embroidered nylon tulle with a mandarin neckline and large sleeves which tapered to points at the wrist was worn by Effie Louise Montross for her wedding to Kenneth L. Boadway.

* * *

The ceremony was performed Saturday in First Baptist Church of Rochester by the Rev. Donald Olsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Auto Montross of Rochester are her parents. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hillbourne Boadway of South Shirley avenue.

The bouffant skirt of the bridal gown was of nylon tulle over satin. Her headpiece of lace and pleated nylon formed three petals which secured a fingertip veil of imported silk illusion.

* * *

Fluvanna Aldrich of Rochester served as maid of honor. Her dress was a blue nylon net over satin. A net jacket was worn over the fitted bodice. She carried a bouquet of roses.

Bill Boadway was his brother's best man.

For the reception held in the church parlors, the mother of the bride wore a gray suit with red accessories. Mrs. Boadway wore a navy blue dress with white accessories.

The newlyweds are making their home on Glendale avenue.

Andrew Govans Residing in City

Mrs. Adeline Cox became the bride of Andrew F. Govan in a ceremony at First Methodist Church March 14. The Rev. Paul Havens officiated at the service.

* * *

The bride wore a floor-length gown of pale blue taffeta trimmed with panels of blue lace. The fitted bodice was accented by a bolero of white faille. She wore a matching hat of blue with a lace trim. An orchid corsage completed her costume.

Immediately after the ceremony, members of the wedding party had a dinner at the Amvets Hall followed by a reception for 125 friends and relatives.

* * *

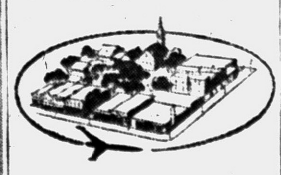

Following a trip to Chicago, the newlyweds are residing on South Sanford street.

Coming Events

Bethel 40, International Order of Job's Daughters, will meet Monday. Officers will meet at 5 p.m. with a cooperative dinner at 5:30 p.m.

Emor L. Calkins WCTU will meet Tuesday with Mrs. Ada Schreck, 146 Ruth St., for a 12:30 p.m. sack luncheon.

Don't Nag Guest Who Eats Little

Hostess' Remarks Are Apt to Prove Embarrassing

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Isn't it unnecessarily inconsiderate for a hostess to call attention to the fact that a guest hasn't eaten very much?

"The other day I had taken larger portions than I could eat and when I put down my knife and fork there was still considerable food on my plate. 'Are you ill?' 'Was something wrong with the food?' 'Shall I get you something else?' I was asked all these questions and was so embarrassed I wanted to drop down under the table."

Answer: One should not make remarks about what a guest has not eaten unless she (or he) has refused everything at table. In this case one might ask, "Is there something I can get you to eat?" But even so, one shouldn't make a fuss about it. My advise to you is to take smaller portions next time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How big must a party be so that it is proper for a guest to leave without finding the hostess to say goodbye and to tell her what a lovely party she had?"

Answer: This depends more upon the size of the room than upon the number of guests.

In other words, if the room is crowded (and a small room can be crowded with 25 or 30 people in it), a guest wouldn't interrupt the hostess and call her attention to the fact that she is leaving. When the room is empty and leaving it would be noticeable, it would, of course, be rude to walk out without saying goodbye.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is a gentleman expected to tip his hat to a saleswoman in a department store?"

Answer: Not when he is merely a customer. In short, not if he says, "I'd like to see some thin black wool socks — size 11." But if he asks, "Will you tell me where I can find Mr. Manager?" he would probably tip his hat as he answers, "Thank you."

Fear of Tantrums Intensifies Them

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

That morning, Ronald had several reasons for exploding anger.

* * *

The previous evening, because Baby Sister had a sniffle, Mommy had wheeled the crib into her room, leaving Ronald abandoned down the hall. At breakfast, she denied chocolate milk. Finally, when it began to rain, she made Ronald stay indoors instead of continuing the game he was playing under the grape arbor.

So, when she grabbed his fire truck because he'd left it in the kitchen doorway, he defied this frustration as the straw that broke endurance.

He made two wild jumps at the shelf that held his truck; and unable to reach it, turned on Mommy with a badly aimed kick. Then, crying with rage, he flung himself to the floor which he began to batter with clenched fists as he wished to batter Mommy.

* * *

He was still sobbing spasmodically when a neighbor telephoned.

Answering, Mommy said, "You just ought to see what a state he's in! I never saw such temper in my life! He gets it from his father's dad—not my side. Why, if I'd carried on like this at his age, I'd have been spanked so hard I couldn't sit down for a week. He's just getting too much for me, that's all . . ."

And listening, her little boy felt exactly as you and I do when some scientist tells us what terrible things atomic power can do to us. He felt fear, desolation and despair.

* * *

He felt these painful emotions so sharply he couldn't stand them. So he did exactly what we do with our terror of atomic extinction; he put them out of his head.

Instead of fear of his temper, he began to feel a mounting vengefulness toward the parent who had made him feel it—and bitter resentment at his mother's helplessness.

He'll make her pay for scaring him with her fear of his temper.

The more she promotes it as terrible, the harder will be her punishment.

* * *

For each time she suggests his temper is more powerful than she is, Ronald's suppressed fear of his temper grows—and with it, his vengeful need to punish her with a big and better display of it.

Dr Lawson G. Lowrey is a psychiatrist who knows as much about children as any specialist in this land. In a published discussion of tantrums, he asks us to ask ourselves this question:

"Do I cause my child to have temper tantrums by impressing on him what a fearful temper he has?"

Mrs. Byron Cole Opens Home To Republicans

Mrs. Brooks Marshall and Mrs. Howard Liverance of Birmingham, chairman and cochairman of Oakland County Republican Finance committee were speakers at the meeting of the Waterford Township Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Byron Cole opened her home on Sylvan Shores drive for the meeting. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. O. W. Lewis, Mrs. W. A. Vernon and Mrs. Willis Lefurgy.

* * *

Mrs. Lynn Allen, president, presided at the recent meeting and told of organizing the Waterford Township group for the finance campaign. She also told of the work Mrs. Charles Dean was doing in the state.

An invitation was extended to all women interested in working or supporting the project to contact Mrs. Edward F. Collins, chairman for the township.

* * *

Final plans were made for a card party and men's style show to be presented at the Waterford CAI building April 17. Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Ben Bowman are serving as cochairmen for the affair.

PTA Activities

Scholarship chairmen or representatives of all Pontiac PTA units will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Webster School library.

Norma Vaughan Opens Home for Gathering

Norma Vaughan of Wolfe street opened her home for the Wednesday evening meeting of Beta Mu Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

* * *

A report on the Greater Pontiac Advisory Committee was given by Pat Tatham and Norma Vaughan. Judy Steinhmelper told of the state meeting held recently in Lansing.

Mrs. Robert Earl and Mrs. Alex Morris, members of Alpha Alpha Chapter, were guests for the evening. Miss Tatham invited the group to her home on Kemp street for the next meeting.

* * *

Refreshments were served by the hostess following the meeting.

Mary Lyon Group Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Clifford Temple was hostess to the Mary Lyon Group of First Congregational Church at her home on Woodstock drive.

The recent program was conducted by Mrs. Carmi Odell who gave an informative talk on getting your money's worth from the food you buy.

The next meeting will be held at the Wilson street home of Mrs. Barclay Robertson.

Texas Version of Twin Prints Stresses Size

DALLAS (INS) — Even fashion ideas come bigger in Texas

In Texas, twin prints aren't merely twins. They're quadruplets.

* * *

Designer Philip Mentesana introduced the Texas vession of twin prints at this week's Dallas fashion press showings. As in ordinary twin prints, Mentesana matched his prints identically as to pattern, but he made one print four times bigger than the other.

The matched but quadrupled prints were featured in silk and rayon sports separates for clockwise fashions of Dallas.

Sleeveless tops showed geometric patterns in blue or green circles and squares or a paisley-type print in beige and blue.

Matching skirts with full, unpressed pleats showed identically the same print, but four times larger in size.

* * *

Mentesana also combined voile and polished cotton tops and skirts for "Texas twin" separates. The voile tops had the same pattern as the shiny skirts, but the skirt pattern showed up bigger and better.

Wash old powder puffs and keep them in your shoe kit to apply wax polish.

Fabrics for spring are beautiful, varied and designed to fool the eye. Silks look like wool, cottons look like silk, wools look like chiffon, linens look like tweed and the new synthetics can look like anything from sheerest organdie to men's wear worsted.

During World War II, wine ran in the gutters of Rarsala, Sicily, when Allied planes bombed the big wine works there.

Bob Considine Says:

Some Kiddies Become Addicts--to Reading

NEW YORK (INS)—As I opened the front door of our apartment the other day, full of flour after long hours of bread-winning, the mournful bay of a crying child struck me with such force that patches of the flour were transformed into fog. Through the mist my wife's voice was heard.

"He's being punished for being a very bad boy," she announced, pointing to a closed door.

"Wudges do, nail him to a wall?" I asked, with old world courtliness.

"No," she said. "I told him he had to read a chapter out of one of your books."

* * *

It was inhuman treatment, the child tearfully acknowledged, and pledged never to do it again. Never to read a book again, he probably meant.

NON-READING KIDS

The heavy - domed magazines have been filled with dour warnings lately to the effect that our kids won't read. It is estimated that 11,000,000 American schoolchildren never crack any book beyond their textbooks.

But I know of at least one organization and an individual deeply involved in trying to do something.

* * *

The organization is the Library Club of America, sponsored by the Book Manufacturers' Institute. The individual is my friend Marc Cramer.

The LCA turns reading into a contest, working through local schools and libraries. Read four books and you get an LCA membership button. Consume six more and you get an Honor Pin.

Get through eight more and you're a Life Member who is entitled to sit with the local library advisory committee.

* * *

Life members also pledge that they'll read at least two books a month after reaching that plateau, but the promoters feel that this will be no hardship—the addiction having set in pretty severely by that time.

TEST UNDER WAY

In New York City a test is under way at three lower East Side schools. Last October they were supplied with 50-volume libraries by the Book Manufacturers' Institute.

* * *

Some 450 fifth-grade pupils have been exposed to this learning and entertainment. The test "took" like a good vaccination. The people in charge say:

The idea has spread overseas to Army and Air Force bases which operate Dependents' schools.

Early next month the most omniverous readers at the three local lower East Side schools will be taken to Washington on a sightseeing trip sponsored by the LCA and Rep. Arthur G. Klein, who attended one of the schools.

As for Marc Cramer, he has devoted much of his life to work among the younger. He has a yet-to-be-produced TV show which I'm sure would be that medium's finest contribution to more and better reading by children at their most impressionable age. It is called "The Magic Room."

LIBRARY SETTING

The viewer is invited to step into a library filled with books of adventure, humor, mystery, fiction, poetry and the classics. A voice describes the book, reads from it, stops at difficult words and looks them up in the dictionary.

* * *

There are illustrations by the masters when available, and quick-sketch explanations by Abner Dean or McGowan Miller. And good and carefuly identified music.

"The Magic Room" uses a voice instead of a visible narrator so that the child will not identify another person with learning habits.

In other words, the library or den in anyone's home can be "The Magic Room." This could be an ideal way for a network to reach children without means of a gun or lunacy.

Surge of Activity Swamps Students Before Recess

DIG THAT TROPHY — Bob McDonald and Emanuel Johnson, Pontiac High fencers eye the trophy that will be presented at the high school state individual bouts Saturday which will determine top boy and girl fencers in the state. The number of wins by students representing their school will determine who will receive the high school team trophy.

Basketball King at PHS; J-Hop in Planning Stage

By VICKY MICU

All talk at Pontiac High School centered this week around basketball, as the Chiefs upset Flint Northern to go into the quarter-finals which were held Wednesday.

While somewhat pushed into the background with the news of the basketball team, the juniors have been busy arranging details for the annual J-hop, "Manhattan Mood" being this semester's theme. Patricia Ziele and Alex Sekles are co-chairmen for the affair which will take place April 21.

Wednesday and next Saturday are big days for the Pontiac High School fencing club, and the high school state individual bouts will be held, determining the top boy and girl fencers in the state. Wednesday, elimination bouts were held at PHS to choose the top Pontiac fencers.

The boys' bouts will be held here on Wednesday, and Pontiac's Bob McDonald is expected to take one of the three top places. The following Saturday at Lapeer the girls' matches will take place. Mary Ann Saghy of St. Frederick's, Pontiac is favored to take first place.

The number of wins by students representing their school will determine who will receive the high school team trophy. Pontiac won this trophy last year for boys' bouts, and Lapeer took the girls' trophy.

Next week, Friday, will mark the beginning of Easter vacation for PHS students. When students return April 4, there will be many activities waiting.

SCIENCE FAIR

The School Science Fair will take place April 13, 14 and will afford students a chance to enter science projects for judging and display—The annual Band Concert will be coming up, also, and is expected to be especially fine this year.

April 16 will be a big day for PHS senior, Phyllis Smith who will at that time sing in the Golden Anniversary High School Chorus at St. Louis, Mo.

Today the Radio Workshop's annual Easter show was broadcast over WCAR with members of the Radio Workshop and the PHS choir participating. The show, announced by Charles Williams, consisted of Easter music and poetry.

Sidelighting the news—the Future Teachers Club is making plans for the forthcoming Future Teachers Association Club day at Michigan State Normal College—Y-Teens are planning a slumber party for April 2—members of the Tomahawk staff are taking time out from their task of putting out the school paper to attend a bowling party April 8—this week some 75 girls tried out for the cheerleading squad. Six openings were available.

Waterford Band Plans Program

472 Will Participate in Instrumental Night Production

By JEAN LIIMATTA

Voices buzzed on as usual at Waterford Township High School this week, but the tone was not a happy one, for report cards were on the scene again Wednesday.

Drowning out the sad tones of WTHS were the tunes of the band and choir as they continued rehearsals for approaching events. Under the direction of Bruce Orr, instrumental night will be held at the high school next Tuesday.

This special program will feature 300 elementary students and their tonetts, 90 junior high band members, and 82 senior high band members. A variety of music will be presented — marches, classicals, and semi-popular numbers.

Choir members were guest vocalists at Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Tuesday as they performed for a missionary program. Grand Ledge choir was the guest of Waterford A. Cappella choir Wednesday as the two choirs performed for each other and enjoyed a pot luck dinner.

Bruce Gorte, WTHS English department head, is expected to return to school next week after his illness, which sent him to St. Joseph and General Hospitals for several examinations.

Sylvia Clarke took top honors at WTHS again this week as she was announced the 1956 Valedictorian with an all A record through high school.

Exchange students to Port Huron were elected by Student Council Tuesday. Those who will attend Port Huron for a week in April will be Carolyn Campbell, senior; Carol Soules and Rodney Evans, juniors; and Carole Moore and Norman Thomas, sophomores.

Juniors held an all-class meeting Tuesday, setting off the annual junior magazine sale. This is one of the big projects of the trip club. Top magazine sellers receive prizes such as radios and watches.

LUNGE! — Mary Ann Saghy, St. Frederick High School senior, demonstrates the technique that she will use at the Girl's State Championship meet in Lapeer March 31. Opponents have learned to watch out for Mary Ann who is favored to take first place in the meet.

Name Winners of Talent Show

Senior Play Tryouts Held Sunday, Monday at St. Fred

By ANN SCHACHERN

A talent show, boys intramurals, news of the senior play and a free day were the main points of interest at St. Frederick High School this week.

* * *

Wednesday afternoon the student body attended the Talent Show, "Garthur Odfrey" which was sponsored by "Tipton Tea." Contestants ranged from male quartets, soloists and pianists to baton twirlers. Each act had a talent scout to introduce him.

* * *

Paul Grosse was master of ceremonies. Judging was handled by Mike Carry and Mike Malloy, senior and junior class presidents respectively, and faculty members Gene Wright and Dominci Kline. The contestants were judged on poise, presentation and originality.

* * *

First prize winner was Marie Lewandkowski, second prize, the Four Crystals composed of Larry and Bobbie Morrow, Don Pulver and Dick Nickerson. Third prize went to Michael Kopcsik.

HOLD TRY OUTS

Last Sunday and Monday Natalie Sayers, senior play director, held try outs for "Our Town." Rehearsals have been held almost nightly from that point in preparation for the presentation dates Apr. 28-29. Final cast will be announced next week.

* * *

The Junior Class in keeping with Leap Year has announced their next dance will be held April 3 and girls will do the asking!

* * *

The senior boys were victors over the freshmen in the playoffs of intramural games this week with a score of 37-30. The sophomore girls defeated the rest of the classes for championship.

* * *

Saturday the girl's varsity basketball team journeyed to Eastern Michigan College at Ypsilanti for an outing with their coach Joan Mazza. The day was spent swimming and playing basketball.

Last week the biology and physics classes heard an explanation of the blood system, its makeup and functions in a talk given by Dr. Julius Rutzky. Dr. Rutzky's explanation was highlighted by his sense of humor and his excellent chalk illustrations. He even used a sample of his own blood to show how it clots.

* * *

The yearbook staff has been getting more gray hairs and bigger circles under their eyes as the final deadline draws to a close. All copy must be in by April 1 and even though it looks impossible, they say they'll be able to meet the deadline.

* * *

The senior class has spent the last two weeks practicing for the Second Passion Sunday and Easter Vigil services. They will sing the responses at the two Masses.

Area Seniors Plan Trips

Plays and parties have kept things hopping this week at area schools. The only spirit dampener was the distribution of report cards. The word is that most everybody pulled through.

Vacation time takes top spot in the minds of most. Most schools will resume classes right after Easter.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

Juniors are almost ready for their class play "Hot Ice" next Wednesday and Thursday at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The comedy-mystery concerns a rather peculiar family that gets mixed up unknowlingly in a bank holdup.

Cast members include Eleanore Arno, Janet Black, Caroline Rabel, Ruth Alix, Betty McPeake, Janet Halsema, Leon Vlaemick, Gene Neeley, Mary Anderson, Steve Begle and Jane Adams. Directing the play is Robert Nelson.

Seniors are making final arrangements for their May trip to New York which will highlight nearly two years of preparation. Forthcoming projects to aid in the financial expenses include a stationery sale in the area during the first two weeks of April and a local paper drive tomorrow.

Tryouts for the All League Chorus have been held. West Bloomfield students chosen are Sharon Pitser, Jane Adams, Judy Victor, Carolyn Rabel, Janet Halsema, Pat Knapp, Carol Kreilack, Carol Peterson, Clark Wareham, Larry Hollister, Doug Stilwell, Sandy Clark, Angus Coulter, Pete Begle, Ken Davus and Tim Hancock.

AT AVONDALE

Last night forensic students participated in a PTSA meeting at the school. Leonard Passint, debate and forensic coach, presented his students in explanations of the debate and forensic program in Michigan schools.

Giving demonstrations of the different categories were Elizabeth Nemec, debating activity in the fall; Linda Hall, interpretive reading; Kathy Morris, extempore speaking; Carol Eppler, original orations; Tom Morgan, humorous reading and Roberta Rains, declamation.

"The Great Rew" performed various feats of magic at an assembly Wednesday.

AT BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Tonight the Music Department will present its "Spring Fiesta." The choir will take its audience on a musical journey starting in North America with the American cantata "Ballad for Americans," continuing through Central America and ending up in South America with a visit to a mission, fiesta ball and other Spanish gayeties.

Featured vocalists are John Kuhlman, Clason Schumard, Bob Steadwick and Mary Lou Fuller.

The music department participated in the Michigan Vocal Association Choral and Glee Club festival held Mar. 13 at Royal Oak. Thirty-four glee clubs and choirs participated.

Judges were Lester Mccoy, University of Michigan; Glen Klepinger, Cass Tech High School, Lore Cady, Bay City Jr. College; and Mrs. Doris Paul, Michigan State University.

Mixed Choir and Girls' Glee Club were both awarded first division ratings from all judges.

AT CLARKSTON

Juniors of Clarkston are in a tizzy getting ready for their class play "Cheaper by the Dozen" slated April 12-13.

With time and motion saving ideas on the brain, the father is portrayed by Tom McNaughton; his wife, Janice Farrel. In the children's roles are Barbara Walker, Brenda Milam, Judy Abare, Ira Pence, Glenn Underwood, Jim Ogden, Doug Alexander, Bruce Hall and Alice St. Amant.

Others in the cast are Pat Thayer playing the housekeeper, Mrs. Fitzgerald; Suellen O'Dell, Miss Brill, the school teacher; Bill McKee, Dr. Berton; John Reynolds, Joe Scales and Fred Vess as Larry.

Gayle Engle is directing the entertaining play.

The new noon hour program will include badminton and dancing. Mr. Wilkinson has charge of the program.

* * *

Sharing with other county schools in the sadness of the week is Clarkston. Report cards were issued Wednesday.

AT LAKE ORION

"Courtesy Day" so declared by the Student Council, Thursday, was reported to be a very great success, with a new respect for the student body being permeated throughout the faculty.

* * *

The men behind the scenes in the Junior Class play, "Deadly Ernest" which continues through this evening include, student directors, Doug England, Dorothy Armstrong and Ann Stackovick; stage manager, Bill Rock; make-up, Marilyn Brown. Class adviser is James Egner and speech teacher Walter Jenvey is director.

* * *

A sign of spring is the repainting of the outdoor signs so the new schedule for the track and baseball season can be placed there.

Juniors this week decided on the pattern of their class rings.

The school constitution and by-laws will be revised after a committee whose chairman is Val Joan Urban, makes its recommendation known to the Student Council.

Consideration is also being given the joining of the National Honor Society.

A new system of checking lockers was instituted for training and safety and was so successful that yesterday only one offender was reported.

Spring vacation starts today at Lake Orion. Classes will resume Monday Apr. 2.

AT WALLED LAKE

Several Walled Lake senior and junior high students received honorable mention and commendation for their entries in the Southeastern Michigan Scholastic writing contests. They will receive certificates of merit for their achievements on May 3.

In the senior division, Lee Weidenbeck, sophomore, received honorable mention for his familiar essay. Ruth Sappington, senior, received commendation for her journalism news story. Honorable mention was given to Shirley Wooden, senior, for her journalism column.

In the junior division, Charles Elder and Virginia Slinker received commendations for their short stories. Both are freshmen.

Lincoln Ninth Graders to Take Trip

Junior Highs Twirl in Whirl of Plans

Spring vacation was on the minds of all the junior high school students in the area this week, along with the ninth grade trips, dances and banquets.

* *

One hundred twenty-four Lincoln ninth graders, accompanied by eight teachers, will leave for Washington D. C. by Greyhound bus at 6 a.mm. May 2. They hope to arrive at 11 p.m. the same day and will stay at the White House Motel, Newburg, Md.

Some of the places of interest they will visit are: Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the Smithsonian Institute, Library of Congress, the Capitol Building, and Mt. Vernon.

They will visit the Battlefield at Gettysburg on their way home Saturday afternoon and will arrive back in Pontiac about 9 a.m. Sunday, May 6.

AT ISAAC CRARY

A banquet Saturday night in the gymnasium will culminate the year's activities for the Crary Ninth Grade Bowling Club. The sixteen team league of 42 girls and 38 boys was led by the "Alley Cats" with Armand Inkel, Michael Fetherstone, Clifford Homon, Darrell Benard and Jerry Olsen.

Tuesday Crary sent six students to the district speech contest held in Utica. Lanny Younger placed second in the Humorous Reading Division.

AT EASTERN

Thirteen girls from 9-A Civics classes went on a tour of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. These girls are interested in becoming nurses upon graduation from high school. They were accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Windiate and Margaret McLoon.

Maurice Levine's homeroom won the City Homeroom Basketball Championship for the ninth grade. The team is composed of Capt. Melvin Sheffer, Ken Vipperman, Jim Benfield, Jerry Whittington, Robert Lowry, Dick DeBolt, Herman Spicer and Delbert Green.

The Eastern Junior High School band under the direction of Lewis A. Crew, presented a demonstration type program for all parents of the band members. Crew showed how the band goes about the task of learning a new piece of music.

AT WASHINGTON

The Girls Glee Club and ninth grade Vocal Chorus will present an Easter assembly under the direction of Faith Cook. The Girls Service Club under the direction of Mrs. George Yanson will participate in the event.

AT MADISON

Plans are being made for the spring semi-formal dance to be held in June. A theme for the dance is now under consideration.

* * *

Student committees have been chosen and decorations are being planned.

* * *

Chairmen hope to use the cafeteria for the affair and estimate attendance at 200. Rosalie Lake and Penny Grant are co-chairmen of the event.

SYLVIA CLARKE

JEAN LIIMATTA

Honor Students Named at Waterford High School

Valedictorian and Salutatorian of Waterford Township High School's class of 1956 were named this week. Heading the class with a perfect 20 point, all-A-average record in her high school years is Sylvia Clarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Clarke, 93 Gateway Dr.

* * *

Chosen as Salutatorian with a near perfect 19.87 record, is Jean Liimatta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Liimatta, 6080 Dixie Highway.

Sylvia is the winner of the WTHS Betty Crocker Scholarship contest earlier this year. She is a member of the Student Council, secretary of PTSA and an active member of the debate squad. She is past vice president of French Club and past secretary of Chemistry Club.

Sylvia plans to attend Valparaiso University in Indiana on a four year scholarship where she will major in French or music.

Jean has been a Student Council member for two years and a class officer for three. She was chosen DAR good citizen of the year, is secretary of the Senior Trip Club and treasurer of the GAA.

* * *

She writes a column for the Pontiac Press and plans to take up an elementary teaching course at Ypsilanti in the fall.

STRIKE UP THE BAND! — Busy counting their one-two-threes and the days until Instrumental Night is held at Waterford Township High next Tuesday are band members, Nancy Oliver, Richard Dexter and Margery Oliver. Band director Bruce Orr (second from left) starts the count and keeps things humming for rehearsing band members. The special program will feature 300 elementary students, 90 junior high band members and 82 senior high band members.

Exams Issue at St. Michael

Students See Film of Dearborn, Greenfield Village

By JANET ENGLISH

Deletion in the routine schedule classes came to St. Michael's twice this past week in the form of free days. The first on Monday, was the feast of St. Joseph, the patron of our own Sisters of St. Joseph. Then on Thursday, a teachers' institute called the faculty from the alma mater.

* * *

"Dearborn Holiday" was the name of the film shown to the senior class on Wednesday. Greenfield Village and Museum, Ford Rotunda, and the Ford plant at River Rouge were the places of interests toured during the movie.

* * *

This week was the last week of the third quarter and consequently motivated the Michaelites to do quite a bit of cramming for final exams.

* * *

Now anticipation of report cards that are to be given out on Monday is creating various sentiments among the students and exams are again accomplishments (or failures of the past.

* * *

Extra practice that is being carried on of late by the CYO for the forthcoming "Minstrel Jubilee" is bringing out remarkable effects in the attempt to perfect the acts. Those acts which are to receive billing in the show cover everything from soft shoe dance teams to a Dixie land band.

Forester Explains Sugar Process

Fancy Petunias Add Beauty to Garden

For the gardener who is willing to take a little extra trouble the reward in beauty is far greater than the effort with these fancy fringed petunias.

To grow the petunia, it is wisest to start them inside. A mixture of one part leaf mold, one part sand and one part garden soil is generally recommended, although you may want to try a mixture of half vermiculite and half soil, or even pure vermiculite. If the last alternative is used, then transplant rapidly after germination is completed to a good soil where some fertility will get the seedlings started.

When the planting mixture is ready press it firmly in the seed, flat or into milk cartons cut in half the long way. The soil should be moist but not wet.

Sow the seed very thinly in rows directly on the surface of the planting mixture. Don't attempt to make a furrow or to cover the seed as you would in the garden. Sprinkle a very thin covering of pure sand or vermiculite on the seed. It's not necessary to cover the seed, just give it something to nestle in.

GET HIGH HUMIDITY

Then cover the flat or carton with a piece of paper or pane of glass. This is to maintain a high humidity and assist germination. You may find it unnecessary to water the container at all until the seed has sprouted, but if the surface does begin to dry out, then punch a few small holes in the bottom of the carton and set the whol carton in a shallow pan of water for a few minutes.

When the seedlings show one or two sets of true leaves they may be transplanted to pots or if it is warm, to the garden itself.

Give the plants 6 to 18 inches growing room, depending on the variety and feed them generously as the growing season continues. The fanciest flowers in the neighborhood will be in your garden if you have petunias like these.

SPECTACULAR PETUNIAS — Fluffy ruffles will be the delight of petunia lovers this year. A mixture of a number of colors and bicolors, Fluffy Ruffles is a giant among fancy petunias. Many of the flowers are richly veined. Growers say it pays to start petunia seed indoors as the seedlings are not generally equal to competition from the garden weeds.

Type of Squeeze Can Kills Insects Easily

Earwigs, alias Songophora Bipunciata, are insects. They eat plants. You can kill them or a host of other pests with a puff of insecticide from a new type of squeeze can made out of Bakelite polyethylene.

These new cans made by Bradley Container Corp of Maynard Mass., can be aimed straight up, down or at any angle, so the home gardener can spray the vulnerable undersides of leaves as easily as dusting the tops.

Container Grown Nursery Stock Now Available

"Canned," or container-grown nursery stock, which has been tested in the Midwest and East for several years is now found at numerous nurseries throughout the country, according to reports by the American Association of Nurserymen. Growing of plants in containers originated in California and gradually has spread to most parts of the country.

* * *

Advantages listed are:

Extension of planting season. Plants grown in containers can more easily be transferred to home properties at any time of the year a hole can be dug in the soil.

Ease of handling. All the customer has to do is remove the plant from the container and plant.

Eliminates root disturbance. When transplanted by the home owner the roots are not disturbed or bruised.

* * *

City Gardeners Utilize Barrel for Growing

For the city home owner who may have only a tiny space for growing flowers and small fruits for home consumption, barrels can be filled with soil and planted both at the top and through holes drilled in the sides, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Strawberries are widely grown in this manner with a considerable yield from a single barrel, since the plants not only will grow on the top but all around the sides of the barrel if the holes are bored for the purpose.

* * *

Good rich soil, with sufficient drainage, will grow the best crops.

Can Get High Fall Berry Yield

County Agent Advises Growers to Forsake Summer Crop

If you're willing to sacrifice the summer crop of Durham Red raspberries, you can get a much higher and earlier yield in the fall. That's the advice of John K. Bray, assistant county agricultural agent.

Agent Bray points out that Durham bears two crops—one in the summer and another in the fall. The summer crop, which comes in July, cannot compete with the standard varieties in quality, but in the fall the berries are large and good in' quality.

So Agent Bray suggests pruning the Durham canes back to the ground before new growth starts in the spring. The canes will then bear only in the fall and produce higher yields.

In testing this practice of severe pruning in the spring, J. E. Moulton, horticulture specialist at Michigan State University, found that pruned plants yielded 840 quarts per acre compared with 210 quarts from plants that were not pruned. The fruit from the pruned plants was large and also started to ripen 10 days ealier in the fall.

Since Durham produces satisfactory fall crops, Moulton says it might be grown successfully where winter injury is severe enough to discourage the growing of standard varieties. Even if the old canes were damaged, growers could still get a fall crop from the growth during the current season.

Plant Covers Country From Coast to Coast

Thomas Jefferson was so enamored of the plant, Scotch Broom, that whenver he traveled in Virginia, he scattered its seeds.

The plant technically called Cystisus is now widely planted in this country, according to statistics presented by the American Association of Nurserymen from Virginia to Massachusetts and on the West Coast. It has a sweet-pea-like yellow or white flowers in clusters.

Spring Makes Maple Sap Run

35 Gallon Makes One Gallon of Syrup; Tree Must Be 40 Years Old

By DONALD E. NAGEL
City Forester
Parks and Recreation Department

Springtime's warmth makes the maple sap run. From the middle of February to the middle of April the maple say is collected for the production of maple syrup.

The conversion of maple sap to maple sugar by the tree is a complex one. With the aid of water, carbon dioxide, chlorophyll and sunshine, simple sugars are manufactured and stored in the trunk of the tree. Warm spring days and cool nights are necessary for sap production.

The sunshine warms the tree during the day and starts the sap flowing, but the cool nights prevent the buds from opening, thus creating sap pressure. This insures a steady flow of sap. An average tree will produce 15 gallons of sap per year and one old Vermont veteran produces 80 gallons per year.

The sap contains 1 per cent to 6 per cent of the simple sugar sucrose. It takes 35 gallons of sap to make one gallon of syrup.

All species of maple produce sweet sap but the sugar (Acer Saccharum) and the black (Acer nigrumm) maple are the two important producers. Only healthy maples 40 years or more in age are used. "Never tap a tree smaller than the bucket you are putting to it," is the rule of thumb.

* * *

In tapping, a ⅜ inch or 7-16 inch hole is bored one inch to 2 inches deep. A spout is inserted and a bucket hung on the spout to catch the sap. From the buckets on the spout the sap is poured into the gathering tank and then to the sugar house.

Most sugar houses used wood as a source of heat for cooking the sap. It takes two to three cords of wood to reduce 2,000 gallons of sap to syrup. The water is boiled off the sap and as the syrup flows to the end of the tank it gets thicker and thicker.

An old timer can tell when the syrup is thick enough by looking at it and checking the drip off a long handled spoon. Syrup that is intended for sugar is boiled until almost all the water is boiled off and then it is poured into molds.

Organic Clubs of Michigan Plan Meeting Sunday

The fourth annual meeting of the Federated Organic Clubs of Michigan is scheduled Sunday in the Delhi Township Hall in Holt. Registration wil begin at 9 a.m. and the business meeting at 10.

Dr. William A. Albrecht, chairman of the Department of Soils, College of Agriculture of the University of Missouri, will address the meeting. His topic will be "Soil Fertility and Plant Nutrition."

Some 250 organic farmers and gardeners from all over the state are expected. The public is invited to hear Albrecht at 2 p.m.

Nation Favors Rose

The rose is favored as the national flower of the United States by a margin of about 9 to 1, according to a report of the American Association of Nurserymen. An Association poll showed over 8 per cent chose the rose over other flowers.

Approximately 22,000,000 Christmas trees are produced in the United States every year according to a report from the National Arborist Assn.

FARM News GARDEN

Low temperatures will hurt black-eyed peas. Sweet potatoes are injured by low temperatures and a short growing season. Asparagus is susceptible to spring frost while lima beans prefer a warm temperature during the growing season.

Growers of cucumbers, tomatoes, and snap may have trouble with lack of moisture and shallowness of soil. Short growing seasons also hinders tomatoes, preventing their widespread use in the upper peninsula.

2 Lemon Trees Produce Fruit in County

Fruit Industry Prospects Bright in State This Year

EAST LANSING—Prospects for the fruit industry in Michigan have never looked so bright, a Michigan State University horticulturist contends.

H. D. Hootman says the outlook is favorable despite the fact that fruit prices to growers have not always kept up with costs.

One of the big reasons for the promising outlook, the extension horticulturist insists, is that Michigan is expanding in both population and industry.

And this increasing population, he says, is becoming more and more aware of the nutritional value of fruit and is demanding increasing quantities of the Michigan product.

Michigan, according to Hootman, is second only to California in importance as a diversified fruit state. In 1955, Michigan ranked first among states in the production of tart cherries, blueberries and black raspberries; second in plums; third in strawberries and peaches; fourth in apples, pears and sweet cherries; and fifth in grapes.

* * *

With the leadership of Michigan fruit growers, with favorable soils and climate and closeness to markets, Michigan will continue to be a leader in the fruit industry, Hootman says.

Condition as well as fertilize
DRICONURE 3-2-1 does two jobs when you put it to work on your lawn or gardens. It is a growth-stimulating FERTILIZER. All-organic, it is assimilated as food by all plant life. DRICONURE 3-2-1 cannot burn plants or lawns.

It conditions light or heavy soils. In sandy soils DRICONURE 3-2-1 provides a moisture reservoir, prevents water leeching away soil nutrients. In clay soil it aerates and breaks up heavy earth. You'll find soil easier to work with your garden tools.

100% Effective
DRICONURE 3-2-1 is all plant food. Dehydrated poultry and farm manures scientifically blended with finest grades of Sphagnum Peat Moss and other organic soil conditioners. All valuable nutrients and trace elements are held in the treated soil for gradual release. It is Nature's own plant food.

DRICONURE 3-2-1 is the all-time favourite ORGANIC plant food and soil conditioner. Use for all types of lawn, shrubbery, flower and garden work. Available in 7½ lb., 25 lb., and 50 lb. bags. The economical 80 lb. "Professional" sized bag is available also.

Shrubs and Vines Can Stop Erosion

On any steeply sloping land, the planting of shrubs and vines will prevent erosion and washing away of the topsoil. Where such slopes exist, especially in periods of heavy rainfall, grass alone will not hold the soil in place and small gullies appear and widen until the slope is unsightly.

The foliage of shrubs, vines and trees not only break up the raindrops as they fall to earth, lightening their impact, but the roots of the plants penetrate deeply into the soil, thus holding it in place, according to the American Association of Nurserymen.

Many shrubs and vines can be used for this purpose, some of the more common vines being the honeysuckles, clematis, euonymous akebia, etc., while almost any shrub will serve that has a good root system.

Auto acidents took 38,500 U.S. lives in 1955.

Limbs Covered With Tiny Buds

'California Plants' Grow Well When Moved in Fall

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD—There are two lemon trees right here in Michigan that think they're still growing in California.

For the last six years, these two citrus Medica Linonums (lemon trees) have been blooming and producing fruit almost continuously, according to their owner, Mrs. Charles Del Gaudio.

The Del Gaudios' have two teenagers — Nickie and Charles. They are city farmers who own 20 acres of woods and hills on Duck Lake road, but during the day they work in their gift shop at Northland.

During the summer months, the trees are placed outdoors in their original containers. In the fall, before the first frost, the pair of trees are literally 'sneaked' into the house and go right on blooming and producing all winter long.

When in bloom, the lemon trees are a mass of tiny white flowers similar to the orange blossom but the fragrance is much more pungent. The plant stays in bloom almost two weeks before the fruit begins to form.

* * *

The leaves are slender and very shiny. The fruit grown on these Michigan lemon trees are almost as big as grapefruit and some weigh close to three-quarters of a pound each according to Mrs. Del Gaudio.

The two unusual trees do not require much care "only lots of water"—and as Mrs. Del Gaudio says "You don't know what you're missing if you haven't tasted fresh lemon meringue pie."

LEMON TREE BLOOMS — Mrs. Charles Del Gaudio stands near one of her lemon trees which is loaded with tiny buds. By next week Mrs. Del Gaudio says her trees will be a mass of tiny fragrant blooms. Two weeks later fruit should appear. Needless to say fresh lemon meringue pie is a favorite at the Del Gaudio household.

New Tractor Model Saves on Gasoline

In the Jan. 1 issue of the Farm Implement News, the economy of one of the new Case models is shown by a recent Nebraska tractor test.

* * *

The new Case 411 of the 400 series which burned relatively high test gasoline weighing 6.125 pounds per gallon developed its rated load of 46.70 H. P. with a fuel consumption of only 0.481 pounds per H. P. hour not more than a coffee cup of gas to do the work of a horse for an hour without any rest periods.

This is the lowest fuel economy ever made on a carbureted engine since 1920 in the Nebraska tests.

Peony, Buttercup, Kin

The garden peony is a relative of the meadow buttercup, both being of the genus Paeonia. The garden peony, whose flowers sometimes measure 10 inches or more across are raised from root clumps.

Borer Scourges Find Ideal Home in Dying Trees

The trusty pruning saw can rout many over-wintering borers from their wood "pill-boxes."

Dead, dying and broken tree branches, ideal breeding places for borer scourges, should be removed and destroyed by burning before spring. Otherwise, with the unfolding of buds, unmolested borers will multiply and spread to new hosts.

Early season pruning is good for trees. It makes them cleaner, safer, more attractive. Wounds begin acquiring their healing calluses at the very start of the growing season.

Chemically Complex!

Alternate bearing of fruits on trees is the result of complex chemical processes in the plant itself resulting in a bumper crop one year and a small crop the next. Scientists have never completely solved the problem.

Get Equipment in Good Order

Plan Season's Needs for Best Garden, Says Parks Supervisor

By WILLIAM AHO
Parks Supervisor
Parks and Recreation Department

Perhaps some of our readers have noticed the flow of sap, the greening of the grass area near the warmth of the house and the chirp of our feathered friends which announces the welcome season of spring. You breathe a sigh of relief as you know you can exchange your snow shovel for those garden and lawn tools you so regretfully and carelessly stored away last year.

* * *

If we have planned and prepared for the enjoyable gardening and landscape work which lies ahead, things can run smoothly. On the other hand, if you suddenly remember the careless manner in which you left your tools last fall, you had better "get on the ball," as they say.

Check over your equipment. Are all of your small tools in order? Is your garden hose and sprinkler in good shape? Did your neighbor return your borrowed tools? Is your lawn mower in good working order? All of these things mentioned are important so if you want to wear the smile of spring, be certain your equipment is in good working order when you start your green thumb activities.

With all of your tools in shape we can start planning on our season's needs. It is always a good idea to sit down and figure these things out while the sharp sting of the March winds are still with us. Here are some of the points to keep in mind: How much fertilizer and grass seed do I need? Are there any new shrubs and flowers to plant or replace.

Boxwood Still Popular

The common boxwood hedge has been associated with home landscaping since early colonial days and is still popular especially along the East Coast.

Porpoises communicate with each other by whistling.

From the Garden Editor

This is spring? At least we can be optimistic. We know it's coming. I don't know about you, but I'm getting overanxious to stretch my fingers in that crumbling soft soil. Sounds good, doesn't it? Let's hope it won't be too long now.

* * *

Trees and shrubs growing under a heavy mulch will feel warmer shedding their winter overcoats even though the March chill is still in the air. Your trees need the warming rays of the sun.

Restrain yourself until the soil is in proper condition for digging even if by some chance a nice spring day comes along. You can do more harm than good by spading muddy soil.

The blooming periods of plants vary with the weather to considerable extent, we hear, depending, of course, on whether it's mild or cold. The blooming of the famous cherry trees in Washington since 1930 has varied from March 20 to April 15 and one variety as late as April 27.

Aluminum Tubing Can Make Planter

Planting small seeds by hand can be a speedy job with the help of this planter tube. The tube stores the seeds and the thumb measures out seeds.

Use either end for furrowing a trough for the seeds.

Cut a 7" lenght of 1" O.D. Do-It-Yourself aluminum tubing. Mark 3" back from one end and cut half of the tubing away as shown. Smooth the edges with a file or emery cloth.

At the opposite end, compress about 1" of the tube tightly together in a vise. Drill a ¼" dia. hole in the center of the flat end for hanging the planter when not in use.

Northrop Aircraft Grants Pay Raises

HAWTHORNE, Calif. (AP)—Northrop Aircraft Inc., has announced pay increases for employes at six Southern California plants and one Florida installation.

President Whitley C. Collins said yesterday the 4 to 6 per cent pay boosts for 21,000 employes are retroactive to March 19.

Other benefits include increased second shift bonus; three weeks vacation after 12 years, 16 hours sick leave pay for hourly personnel with 12 or more years' service.

The facilities are in Hawthorne, Anaheim, Palmdale, El Segundo, Edwards Air Force Base and Ontario, Calif., and Cocoa, Fla.

The increase brings the maximum hourly rate to $2.95.

College basketball players made 45 per cent of their free throws in 1939, and increased it to 63 per cent in 1954-55.

Riff Warrior 'Warns' French

Old Abd El Krim 'Burns' Over State Affairs in Native Morocco

CAIRO, Egypt, March 23 (AP)—If the French do not behave themselves, says aged warrior Abd El Krim, he personally will fight them all over again.

The man who led the Riff Rebellion more thas 30 years ago against French and Spanish armies is doing a slow burn about state affairs in Morocco, his native country.

He is mad at the French, at the Sultan and at the leaders of the Istiqlal (independence) party. At 73, after three decades in exile, the old Emir is itching to get back into the thick of things and set matters straight.

The Emir—he is a prince of the Khettabi family—has a military plan for getting the French out of North Africa but he says he is not getting sufficient audience from the present Moroccan leaders.

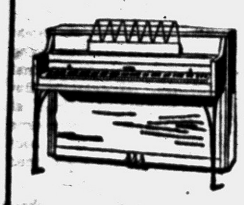

The Emir now admits he has had a hand in planning attack on French forces in the Riff mountains, but he is annoyed with the present Moroccan leadership for what he feels is its failure to organize its bid for independence.

* * *

The present Sultan, Mohammed ben Youssef, recently restored to the Moroccan throne by France, in Krim's opinion is a man who is in the hands of the French and "perhaps he should be banished along with them."

Moreover, Krim went on, the Istiqlal party is being used by the French to divide Moroccans and further French aims.

TAG DANCE AT FIRST — Harvey Kuenn (7) and Gil Hodges, Brooklyn Dodger first baseman, go into a barn dance appearance as they crowd first base in yesterday's game. Kuenn was out after a grounder in the close call. Umpire is Vic Delmore. Detroit lost 4-2.

Red Wings Make It Two Straight, 3-1

DETROIT (AP)—The Toronto Maple Leafs today faced a barrier that only two clubs in the long history of the National Hockey League have been able to hurdle.

The awesome task is that of coming back to win a Stanley Cup playoff series after losing the first two games.

The Leafs lost their 2nd in a row last night to the Detroit Red Wings, 3-1, at the Olympia. The friendly confines of Maple Leaf arena is the only factor in Toronto's favor as the players trudged back to their quarters, battle-weary and disappointed.

Only the Toronto club of 1942 and the Detroit team of 1945 ever mastered the big comeback. Toronto lost the first three games to the Red Wings and came back to win the coveted cup in the 7th and deciding game. The Red Wings lost the first two games to Boston and went on to take the semi-finals, losing out in seven to Toronto.

* * *

Last night's action-packed struggle had more than its share of fights, and there was the possibility the Maple Leafs may have lost the services of their high-scoring center, Tod Sloan.

Sloan, who scored 66 points in the regular NHL season, had to be assisted from the ice after a third period crackup on the boards with the Wings' Gordie Howe. Toronto would permit no visitors in its dressing room after the game, but it was reported Sloan may have suffered a broken shoulder. Doctors said they would take X-rays after the club returned to Toronto.

Sloan and Ted Lindsay, the Wings' veteran firebrand, seemed to be in the middle of every scramble. Lindsay was injured, too, but came back strong to tally the winning goal on a beautiful play that he later passed off as "luck—just plain luck."

Lindsay and Sloan started a fracas that included eight players before officials gained control of the situation. These two, along with the Leafs' Marc Reaume and detroit's Howe, drew penalties totaling 13 minutes. Lindsay came out of the melee with a gash just over his left eye and needed three stitches to close it.

The Leafs had a brief lead last night, but the Red Wings took over in the second period and never were seriously threatened again. George Armstrong scored at 5:09 of the first period to make it 1-0 Toronto.

Alex Delvecchio's score after a neat passout from Lorne Ferguson at 5:40 of the second period tied it up and the brash Lindsay—after sitting out his third penalty and getting his cut patched up—showed why he ranks second only to Maurice (The Rocket) Richard among active players in goals and points scored in playoff competition.

* * *

The five-feet, eight-inch 160-pounder who is completing his 12th NHL season outdueled Armstrong for Howe's pass from behind the Toronto nets—swept across the ice about 10 feet in front of the goalmouth—faked a passoff to a teammate cutting inside from right wing, then backhanded the puck past goalie Harry Lumley.

The Red Wings went into pitch-and run tactics in the late going after Lindsay's goal in the final minute of the second period. But they got an insurance goal at 14:39 of the third when Lorne Ferguson tied into a passout from Metro Prystai and slammed it home to make it 3-1.

The count of the saves shows how Detroit dominated play. Lumley had 37 and Detroit's rookie goalie, Glenn Hall, stopped 21.

* * *

The Wings' Dutch Reibel, who suffered a disclocated shoulder more than a week ago, reinjured it and sat out the final period, but trainers said he would be ready when the two teams square off in Toronto Saturday night.

If regular season records are an indication, the Leafs could square the battle on the Toronto ice. The Red Wings could muster only one victory and three ties in the seven games on Leaf ice this season.

Porter Collects Three Hits but Tigers Are Beaten, 4-2

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — J. W. Porter came to the Detroit Tiger camp this spring as a "catcher, period."

* * *

The word was that there would be no more experimenting with this young man, no more of the shuffling from one position to another that drove Porter to buy three gloves last year—a catcher's mitt, a first baseman's glove and a fielder's glove.

But despite the pronouncements, there appears a better than even chance that the 23-year-old Oklahoman will wind up in left field and not behind the plate.

The reason is his hitting. The Tigers desperately need the kind of hitting Porter has shown them this spring, especially the variety he exhibited yesterday as Detroit bowed again to Brooklyn 4-2.

* * *

Porter slammed a double, a two-run homer and then showed enough speed to beat out an infield single. That accounted for three of the eight Detroit hits.

Porter was deprived of the joys of victory when the Dodgers rallied for four runs—three of them on a homer by Duke Snider—in the seventh inning right after Porter's two-run blast.

Al Aber was the victim after retiring six men in order. Steve Gromek allowed four hits in four scoreless innings to start it off and Pete Wojey finished up with two hitless stanzas.

* * *

Meanwhile, the left field job still is up for grabs with Charley Maxwell and Jim Delsing the chief contenders.

In winning its fourth straight over the Tigers Brooklyn opened and closed with Michigan pitchers. Chuck Templeton, a 215 pound lefthander from Wayne, pitched the first four innings and gave up four hits. Bob Walz, a righthander from Jackson, closed it out on two hits in the last three.

AIMING FOR RECORDS — Ernie Shelton, a most consistent high jumper is aiming at three objectives. He wants to break the world record of 6 feet 11⅛ inches held by Buddy Davis of Texas A&M; he wants to win an Olympic gold medal and wants to be the first man to clear 7 feet. Ernie, 6-2, now competes for the Los Angeles Athletic Club after a brilliant career at Southern California.

Louisville vs. Dayton

NIT Finals Televised

NEW YORK (AP)—Midnight finally tolled for St. Francis' hustling Cinderella team in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament and now it's top - seeded Dayton against second - seeded Louisville in the championship final tomorrow afternoon.

* * *

Dayton's Flyers, still looking for a title in their fourth trip to the final round in five tries, proved much too big and experienced for the Brooklyn Terriers 89-58 in the semifinals last night. St. Francis had upset fourth-seeded Niagara in the quarter-finals.

Louisville, like Dayton, looked its best in whacking third-seeded St. Joseph's of Philadelphia 89-79 in the other half of the semifinal doubleheader that drew 16,125 to Madison Square Garden.

* * *

The title game, to be televised nationally (CBS-3 p.m. EST) will be the third meeting between Dayton and Louisville this season. Each has a 25-3 record—but it was the Cardinals who made off with two of Dayton's setbacks (66-64 in overtime, and 59-56).

The third place game at 1 p.m. also is a rematch. It was St. Joseph's (23-6) that ended an 18-game winning streak by St. Francis (21-3) this season, 80-76.

Dayton's mastery of little St. Francis was slow starting, but once the Flyers got moving, it was a rout.

It was a contest for only 12 minutes, at which point the scrappy Terriers led 20-19. They got just 2 more points in the half—and before Dayton Coach Tom Blackburn started yanking his regulars, the Flyers had gone on a 44-9 tear to lead 63-27 with 12 minutes left.

NY Substitute Goalie Turns Back Montreal

Rangers Even Playoffs With 4-2 Victory Over Canadiens

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gordie Bell, a substitute goalie with vast minor league experience got an automatic $50 raise when he stepped into the New York Rangers' nets last night against the powerful Montreal Canadiens.

He earned it.

* * *

Filling in for the injured Gump Worsley, Bell turned in a sparkling performance as the Rangers defeated the Canadiens 4-2 in one of the biggest upsets in Stanley Cup history. The victory enabled the New Yorkers to even their best-of-7 semifinal series at 1-1.

* * *

Bell, called up from Three-Rivers of the Quebec League just prior to the playoffs, made his first National Hockey League appearance in 10 years. He was paid $50 for sitting on the sidelines while Montreal slammed seven goals past Worsley in the opener Tuesday night. His salary for last night's effort was $100.

* * *

At that price Gordie was a bargain. He turned back 32 shots in a steady and, at times, spectacular job.

With the score tied 2-2 after two periods, Bronco Horvath scored the winning goal at 42 seconds of the third session while Montreal was a man short. Dean Prentice added an insurance marker at 14:10.

The Rangers, who finished in third place during the regular season, twice took 1-goal leads in the early going only to have the Canucks knot the count. Andy Hebenton and Guy Gendron scored the other New York goals while Jean Beliveau and Claude Provost registered for pennant-winning Montreal. It was New York's first triumph in Montreal since Jan. 30, 1954.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

MIAMI—"Now that the major leagues have finally discovered America you can no longer take it for granted that any club is permanently settled in just one location. That goes for the Giants as well as the Dodgers."

The speaker was a man well qualified to discuss the business aspects of sports. Dave R. Jones, a gray haired gentleman with laugh wrinkles about his blue eyes, is president of the Cleveland Browns football team.

He is also president and chairman of the board of a geometric stamping company and chairman of the board of a flourishing steel spring corporation.

In addition he holds the title of director in an iron works, a steel company, a drop forge company, and an equipment company.

★ ★ ★ ★

During the Bill Veeck heyday Jones was a stockholder in the Cleveland Indians. His sports interest include baseball, football, bowling, and golf.

He played second base for a paint company team and led his industrial league in hitting. He is a member of the Burning Tree golf course in Washington in addition to others in Ohio and North Carolina.

He once boasted a club handicap of 7. He has carried on a cross country fairway feud with his old pal, Tris Speaker. When he was only 32, he successfully managed the gubernatorial campaign of Harry L. Davis. He was Cleveland's first boxing commissioner, headed the local Civil Service Commission and was a member of Cleveland's Zoning Board. He is quite a family man, has three children and six grandchildren.

IT TAKES A BIG BUDGET TO RUN A MAJOR CLUB

To build a beaten-down second division club into a first division hustling outfit requires intelligent work. You've got to assemble a crack front office crew.

Then you have to enlarge your scouting system, buy real estate in the minors, assemble a good manager and a roster of good players.

All this requires a hefty budget. To move requires a moving van and a muscle man who can trundle out your filing cases.

★ ★ ★ ★

The decision to move obviates or postpones indefinitely the necessity of building a good team. That's why you see bad teams growing rich in new cities. When the novelty wears off the bad teams can move on to a new group of pigeons.

Lions' Case Against Dub Up to Judge

Testimony Completed in $10,000 Suit Over Ex-Detroit Gridder

TORONTO, Ontario, March 23 (AP)—Chief Justice J. C. McRuer had under consideration today a $10,000 suit by the Detroit Lions against quarterback Tom Dublinski, whom the Lions claim jumped illegally to the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Big Four Football League.

The testimony was completed yesterday.

Dublinski, a substitute quarterback for the Lions in 1954, switched to the Argonauts last season and was a passing star. The Lions claim he broke a contractural option on his services for 1955 when he jumped across the border.

Dublinski is only one in a long chain of U.S. football stars who have gone across the border for more money. Edwin L. Anderson, Detroit Lions president, said he offered Dublinski $14,000, but that Toronto offered him $17,500.

Charles Dubin, Dublinski's defense counsel, argued the Lions did not properly exercise their option on the quarterback's services and that, besides, the option clause in U.S. contracts was illegal anyway in Canada.

"SPECS" DOBY — New center fielder for the Chicago White Sox may try wearing glasses this season. His eyes hampered him when he hit .291 for the Cleveland Indians last year.

Short and Tiffany Retain City Table Tennis Titles

Bobby Short and Ellen Tiffany successfully defended their city crowns in the Pontiac Table Tennis Association championships Thursday night at the Bethany Baptist Church auditorium.

Both required four rugged games to turn the trick. Short retained his men's singles title by downing Sid Barnfather, 21-10, 16-21, 21-16, and 23-21. Miss Tiffany held on to her women's singles crown by turning back Gloria Rose, 21-9, 18-21, 23-21, and 24-23.

Short and Jimmy Reed joined talents to win the men's doubles title over Barnfather and Adolph Magnus by scores of 16-21, 21-17, and 23-21.

Defending junior men's titleholder John Wettlaufer was extended to five games by Jerry Kruskie before coming out on top, 19-21, 22-20, 19-21, 21-14, and 21-16. Bruce Bancroft won the boys' singles title by decisioning Richard Dionne, 21-19, 21-18, and 22-20.

The mixed doubles crown went to Short and his sister, Pat Stoutenburg. The two defeated the tandem of Wettlaufer and Tiffany by counts of 21-16, 21-16, 18-21, and 21-19.

Area Man Puts Entry in '500'

Robbins of Royal Oak Enters Car in Classic at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A car owned by Jim Robbins of Royal Oak, Mich., which captured the pole position in last year's 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, has been entered for the 1956 race and Eddie Russo of Hammond, Ind., nominated to drive it.

Robbins' car won the 1955 pole position with a speed of 140.045 miles an hour and was driven by Jerry Hoyt of Indianapolis, but a broken oil line took it out of the big race early.

The same trouble, incidentally, stopped Russo last year, when he was driving the Dr. Sabourin Special.

To date 28 cars have been entered. The deadline is April 15. Only the 33 fastest qualifiers will start the Memorial Day (May 30) race.

Days Numbered for Athletics' Right Hander

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Portocarrero's days on Kansas City's pitching staff appear to be numbered.

The big right-hander, ineffective after recovering from a sore arm last year (5-9), was shelled for 9 runs and 10 hits in three innings yesterday as the A's "B" team came from behind to defeat Montreal of the International League, 15-9.

He has been little better in previous exhibitions this year. Manager Lou Boudreau has indicated that if Portocarrero doesn't show improvement soon, he will find himself on the Columbus roster.

Aggie Matmen After 19th Championship

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—If consistency is a criterion, the Oklahoma Aggies should be favored to annex their 19th National Collegiate Athletic Assn., wrestling championship as the host team in the 26th annual tournament today and tomorrow.

Coach Art Griffith's Cowpokes have won 18 titles since the first tournament was held in 1928 and will be shooting for their third straight triumph.

Preliminary matches were to hit the four mats at Gallagher Hall at noon today followed by a night session starting at 6:30 p. m. Semifinal tussles will be contested tomorrow afternoon with the championship to be decided tomorrow night.

Chiefs Get Lansing Trip

The Pontiac High School basketball team will attend the semi-finals of the MHSAA tournament tonight at Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse.

They won't be playing like they had hoped, but they'll be among the many interested spectators—thanks to the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

In a gesture designed to spur on the Chiefs to greater efforts next season, the Chamber of Commerce is financing the team's trip to East Lansing. The Chiefs advanced to Wednesday's state quarter-finals before bowing to Detroit Catholic Central.

Coach Art Van Ryzin and his boys will head for the tourney scene this afternoon at 2:30. Hud Powers, Pontiac businessman, Claude Treais, Rod's father, athletic director Tom Dodson, and Fred Zittel are furnishing the transportation.

Moore Upsets Randall

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (INS)—Roy Moore, Waterville, Me., yesterday upset defending champion Edward H. Randall, Rochester, N.Y., 5 and 4, in the quarter-finals of the American Seniors Golf Assn. Tournament.

Muskegon Heights 'A' Favorite

Prep Semi-Finalists Poised at Lansing

EAST LANSING (AP)—What does it take to win one of Michigan's four coveted high school basketball championships?

Sixteen teams — four each in Class A, B, C and D—are pondering that point today as they poise for the semifinal rounds in the state tournament tonight.

The sixteen will be shaved to eight tonight and the eight to the four winners tomorrow in the finals.

To better understand what the semifinalists have to offer, here is a capsule view of the "A" teams in the tourney.

CLASS A

ANN ARBOR: The Pioneers are without a flashy scorer and coach Ed Klum likes it that way. "Fortunately, our boys are equally balanced and any one of them can break loose at will. Don Perigo, son of Michigan basketball coach Bill Perigo, is Ann Arbor's shiftiest ball handler. Pioneers now are 18 and 5.

* * *

HAMTRAMCK: Ann Arbor's opponents are balanced much the same as the Pioneers. The Cosmos (15-3) lean heavily on Harold Schatz, Marv Ringo and Bill Fleming, who generally split up most of the scoring.

* * *

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS: Six-feet-six Ed Burton tells most of Muskegon Heights' story. He controls the backboards, thrives on pump shots from his center pivot position and has scored 452 points in 19 games, only one of which the Heights have lost.

* * *

DETROIT CATHOLIC CENTRAL: Coach Bill Foley's Shamrocks learned how to bottle up Pontiac's Willie DeWalt and hold him to three field goals in their quarterfinal upset and will try the same thing against the Heights' Burton. Catholic Central could win—if it can bottle up Burton. CC's power seems to lie in Bob Skrzycki. The Shamrocks now are 18-3.

Archery Season Closes in Waterford Rec Loop

The team of Bob Kent, Jack Overbaugh, Wade Stalions, and Ray Meyer, all from Pontiac, carried off championship honors in the Waterford Archery League, sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department. League play ended this week.

* * *

The foursome of Sonny France, Bill Giles, Bill Carland, and Millard Pender took second place, while the team of Joseph Cooper, Ed LaFlamme, Dot France, and David Goit finished third. Trophies were awarded to members of the three top squads.

Individual trophies were awarded to Bill Giles, Dot France, and Ray Meyer. Giles posted the men's high actual score for the season with 217, France was tops for the women with actual and handicap totals of 141-293, and Meyer was handicap king with a score of 299.

Six of the eight teams shooting over the 13-week span came within a few points of the league winners.

This was one of the most successful seasons since the Waterford Archery League began five years ago, according to Tom Belton, recreation department director.

ARCHERY POINT CHAMPS—Dorothy France shows Bill Giles (left) and Ray Meyer why she led all feminine shooters this season in the Waterford Archery League with actual and handicap scores of 141-293. Giles and Meyer topped the men with actual and handicap totals of 217 and 299 respectively. League activity concluded Tuesday night at the Community Center.

Chiefs, Maples Run in Huron Relays

By BILL CORNWELL

Pontiac High's defending state Class A track champions will get an early test of strength Saturday night when they enter the first annual Michigan Normal Huron Relays at the college's new Bowen Fieldhouse in Ypsilanti.

* * *

Twenty other schools, including Birmingham, will be competing against the Chiefs at the indoor meet. There are 330 individual entries.

Due to the large field, each school will be permitted only one contestant in each individual event. A program of four field events and eight running events, including five relays, is scheduled.

* * *

Coach Wally Schloerke's talent-loaded Chiefs are tomorrow's favorites, but stiff opposition is expected from Ann Arbor, Inkster, River Rouge, Lansing Eastern, Lansing Sexton, and Saginaw Valley nemesis Flint Northern.

* * *

Rounding out Saturday's entry list are Battle Creek, Dearborn, Detroit St. Joseph, Detroit Thurston, Ecorse, Dearborn Fordson, Highland Park, Monroe, Mt. Clemens, Romulus, Wayne, Wyandotte and Ypsilanti.

Schloerke will take 20 of his PHS thinclads to the Ypsi meet, headed by the versatile Hayes Jones who will probably be the busiest boy of the lot. Jones will run in the 65-yard low and high hurdles in addition to the high and broad jumps.

Freeman Watkins is slated for duty in the 60-yard dash and either Clayton Cocking or Mike Hardiman will see action in the shot put.

* * *

The Chiefs may not enter the pole vault, Schloerke said. Ted Munger and Frank Whitlock, both of whom cleared 11-7 last year, have been lost to the service, leaving pole vault instructor Ray Lowry a sizeable rebuilding job.

* * *

Vaulter George Thrasher, a steady point-getter last season, has been lost through graduation, as were point-makers Willie Wilson in the hurdles and broad jumper E. J. Harris.

Two other PHS standouts, half-miler Rod Treals and high jumper Hudson Ray, will not make the trip tomorrow. Treals and Ray have been involved in basketball and are not geared for track competition.

* * *

The Chief cindermen are shooting for high stakes in all five relays — the 440-yard, distance medley, sprint medley, half-mile, and mile.

Running in the relay events will be Perry Williams, Alex Barge, Charley Robinson, Jim Shorter, Charles Spann, Archie Brooks, Larry Beamer, Bill Douglas, Pete Cox, Gene Cretal, Lonnie Humphrey, and Celester Boykins.

The Birmingham thinclads, coached by Kermit Ambrose, will be 23-strong at the Ypsi meet. The Maples, defending Eastern Michigan League champs, have not lost a dual meet in two seasons.

Leading the Maple parade will be veteran sprinter Doug Wuggazer, pole vaulter Bill McFarlen, miler Bob Brown, Howard Didier, Joe Kidwell, Chuck Gibson, John Appleford, Tony Evangelista, and Mike Nordstrom, transfer from Royal Oak.

Tomorrow night's field events start at 6:30. The running preliminaries get under way at 7 o'clock, followed by the finals at 8.

Hawks in NBA Playoff Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You couldn't blame the St. Louis Hawks if they asked to play all of their National Basketball Assn. playoff games on foreign courts.

* * *

The Hawks sewed up their first round against Minneapolis on the Lakers' court and last night took a 1-0 lead over Fort Wayne, Western Division winner, with a 86-85 victory on the Pistons' court. The second game of the best-of-five series, which will be televised by NBC, will be played at St. Louis Saturday afternoon.

Meantime, the other half of the semifinal round gets underway in Philadelphia tonight with the Syracuse Nationals, conqueror of Boston in the first round, clashing with the Warriors, Eastern Division champions. This also is a best-of-5 series with the second game scheduled for Syracuse Sunday afternoon.

Union Bowling Meet to Start

300 Entries Expected to Participate in 3rd Annual Tourney

The third annual UAW-CIO Region 1-B bowling tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Pontiaic Recreation lanes, with Mayor William W. Donaldson rolling the first ball.

Saturday's competition begins at 1 p.m., while Sunday's action gets under way at 11 a.m.

Bowlers will vie for doubles, singles, and team honors. All competition will be conducted on a handicap basis, with prizes and trophies being awarded to the winners.

The union tourney has grown rapidly from its first field of 80 bowlers to the more than 300 entries expected this weekend.

Keglers will participate from Ann Arbor, Jackson, Adrian, Kalamazoo, Howell, Pinckney, Dexter, Chelsea, Deerfield, Milford and Van Dyke, as well as Pontiac.

Cal Hubbard, supervisor of umpires in the American League, is a former star lineman for the Green Bay Packers and New York Giants in the National Football League.

Ted Williams Tip

Exercises Put Punch in Al Kaline's Bat

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Al Kaline, the youngest ever to lead the American League in hitting, did it all by himself.

Nobody ever told him how to swing a bat and nobody probably ever will.

The thought has been advanced that added weight over the 1954 season gave Kaline the power that moved the $32,000 bonus right fielder of the Detroit Tigers from .276 to .340 and from four home runs to 27. He only grins at that reasoning.

AL KALINE

"Nobody really helped my hitting," says the modest 21-year-old right-handed slugger from Baltimore. "I was always a good hitter. Even in high school I hit above .300."

Didn't Ted Williams help his hitting?"

"No!" replies Kaline. "Williams suggested I build my arms up and strengthen my grip with winter exercises. He used to swing a heavy bat during the winter and squeeze a rubber ball. I did these things and I believe they helped. I also do pushups from the floor with my hands.

Kaline got off to an amazing start last spring, hitting .380 after batting safely in 31 of his first 33 games. For 53 games he hit .383. He had hitting streaks of 15, 14 and 11 games and only once went four games without a hit.

"Although I had a good jump on the field I was surprised that I led both leagues," says Kaline (Richie Ashburn of the Phillies paced the National League with .338.) "I was a bit worried after I was hit in the elbow by a Frank Sullivan pitch in Boston on July 31."

Kaline missed only two games all season as he became the first second-year man to pace his league since St. Louis' George Stone in 1906. Kaline missed a game after John Kume of Kansas City hit him on Sept. 3.

Albert William Kaline broke into the majors in late June, 1953 with a bonus contract that will end this June. He weighed 170 pounds. He now weighs 182. He's still a growing boy, and if he ever reaches 190 pounds the pitchers had better take cover.

Young Pros Shoot 64's

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gardner Dickinson Jr., one of Ben Hogan's prize pupils, and Billy Maxwell, from Hogan's home state of Texas, were targets today in the second round of the Miami Beach Open Golf Tournament.

The young pros—Maxwell is 26, Dickinson 28—played brilliant golf worthy of Hogan himself, as each posted an eight-under-par 64 in yesterday's opening round. They were three strokes better than the best of the rest.

* * *

Dickinson, who once was an assistant to Hogan and who tried to pattern himself after the Bantam of the Fairways, breezed in late with a 30 on the back nine to pull into a tie with Maxwell. Dickinson is from Panama City, Fla., and Maxwell is from Odessa, Tex.

Tied Course Record

Their 64s tied the record for the 6,577-yard Bayshore Club course with its par of 36-36—72. Shelley Mayfield of Westbury, N.Y., set the record in this tournament last year.

Veteran Pete Cooper of Detroit and Sam Urzetta of Rochester, N.Y., former National Amateur champion, shared third place with 67s. A stroke back were Mike Souchak of Grossinger's, N.Y.; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y.; Bob Inman of Detroit; and Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio.

Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., current PGA champion, and six others were bunched at 69. Thirty-five broke par in the first round and another 21 matched it. The field will be trimmed to the 60 low pros and 10 amateurs, plus ties, for the final 36 holes.

Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills finished with 37-35—72 for par.

Weather Is Factor in $100,000 Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Horsemen are waiting for the weather to determine how many 3-year-olds will start in the $100,000 added mile and a furlong Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park tomorrow.

At least a dozen and perhaps as many as 16 will go if it comes up fair and a fast track. Rain, such as plagued this feature for its past four runnings, could cut the field in half.

It costs $1,000 to start a colt in the race and many an owner will think twice before sending a promising 3-year-old out in the mud even after paying the $1,000 entry fee.

Mantle Finally Fans After 35 Trips to Plate

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, the New York Yankee outfielder who normally strikes out around 100 times each season, fanned for the first time this spring yesterday.

Vinegar Bend Mizell St. Louis lefty, made Mantle a strikeout victim in the first inning of the game won by the Cards 7-5. Mantle officially had batted 35 times in exhibitions before striking out.

Speedboats to Go at Seattle

Seafair Trophy Race Scene for National Championship

SEATTLE (AP)—The National Championship for unlimited speedboats this year will be the $25,000 Seafair Trophy Race at Seattle.

Jerry Bryant, president of the sponsoring Greater Seattle, Inc., said yesterday he had been advised of the decision by Frank Foulke of Essex, Md., chairman of the Inboard Racing Commission.

The Trophy race was set up to replace the Gold Cup Race, held here since 1951 but lost to the city last summer when the cup was won by Detroiter Joe Schoenith's Gale V.

Last year the Silver Cup Race in Detroit was designated the National Championship event. Guy Lombardo's Tempo VII won it.

The Seafair race will be the first purse race ever staged for unlimited hydroplanes.

No Major Changes Seen in Basketball

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Assn. of Basketball coaches will vote on proposed rules changes today although no major alterations are expected.

More than 400 association members are attending the three-day meeting which will be followed by sessions of the National Basketball Committee.

Any action taken by the coaches will have to be approved by the national committee.

Coaches yesterday approved a recommendation to eliminate the home-and-visitor inside positions on free throws and award both spots under the basket to the defensive team.

OPEN TO MEN WHO ARE INTERESTED IN MAKING A CAREER OF SELLING

The positions we have open will provide you with a better-than-average salary (many of our men are making well over $10,000 a year.) This is not a false, come-on figure . . . but instead a fact, which you can easily verify. In addition, our men are covered with Hospitalization Insurance, paid up Life Insurance, and Health and Accident Insurance.

We want ONLY men who can fit into a dignified sales organization . . . who are eager to learn, steady, reliable, and willing to apply themselves. There will be no ceiling on your earnings, your efforts alone will determine how much salary you can command.

You need not necessarily be in the selling field now, for we have a complete training program for persons who qualify.

If you feel that you can qualify, are definitely interested in becoming a PERMANENT part of our organization then we invite you to discuss it thoroughly with us. Let us answer all of your questions. Call Mr. Foreman for an appointment today!

THEY TOOK "DIVES" — Former boxer Georgie Hansford (left) and Soldier Eddie Stanley, a manager, take the witness stand to testify before the California State Investigating Committee about alleged fixed fights. Hansford said he lost five bouts and won one "by prearrangement." He listed several fights. Stanley said one of his heavyweights lost a fight after getting instructions from Bab McCoy to "come home early."

Investigating Committee Told Losses Ordered by Matchmaker McCoy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two more boxers have given Gov. Goodwin Knight's special investigating committee testimony that they participated in "fixed" fights ordered by Babe McCoy, now a matchmaker at Los Angeles' Olympic Auditorium.

Soldier Eddie Stanley, a former fighter and manager, told Chief Investigator James Cox yesterday that he once took a heavyweight, Ira (Pinky) Hughes, to Portland, Ore., to box Joe Kahut.

* * *

"McCoy sent him up there and I was sent along," said Stanley. "McCoy told me: 'Take him up there and get him out in a hurry. I didn't tell Hughes until about 30 minutes before the bout. He was a little rambunctious but he finally cooled down. He took one in the eye in the fourth and the fight was over."

* * *

"Who gave you your instructions for this fight?" asked Cox.

"I was instructed by McCoy," Stanley replied.

Georgie Hansford testified McCoy sent him to a friend in the East, Chickie Bogad.

"McCoy told me to take my orders from Bogad," said the former fighter, "McCoy and Bogad were to split the manager's share of my purses."

* * *

Hansford told the committee that in a fight against Allie Stolz in Newark he received instructions from Bogad to look sharp and go the distance but not hurt or beat Stolz, who then was in line for a big money bout.

Hansford said that when he fought Enrique Bolanos in 1946 in San Antonio, "McCoy told me to make it look good for about four rounds and then get out." The witness said Bolanos "knew my hands were tied and he tried to cut me up, so the fight lasted two rounds."

Bolanos' next fight was for the lightweight championship against Ike Williams and Williams won it.

McCoy, who testified during the first two days of the hearing, has been absent the last two days, saying he is ill, but he has promised to return before the hearing adjourns next week.

FIGHT FIXER—Babe McCoy, Los Angeles Matchmaker has been accused as the man who ordered numerous fights fixed on the coast.

Leaders Keep ABC Pace

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — All leaders but one of the three divisions at the American Bowling Congress Tournament rode on unchallenged after yesterday's session here.

The one change was made by the doubles team of Michael Praznovsky and Joe Stout of Miami, Fla., who scored 1,265 and moved into fourth place.

Praznovsky shot 658 while Stout had .607. They trail leaders Rudy Hausler and Bob South of Auburn, Ind., who have 1,280.

The day's only other highlight came when Albert Young and Elwin Kingsburty of Rochester fired the first 500 score in doubles. In their third game, Young shot 231, Kingsbury 269, but their total of 1,236 was well below the leaders.

In singles, Augie Giannettini of Ashtabula, Ohio, barely missed joining the top five when he rolled 678. This division is led by Tony Sparando of Rego Park, N.Y., with 710.

Humez Fights Jones Tonight

Frenchman Makes U.S. Pro Debut in TV Bout at Madison Garden

NEW YORK (AP)—France's Charley Humez, European middleweight king, makes his pro debut in the United States tonight as an 8-5 favorite over "spoiler" Ralph (Tiger) Jones in a television bout at Madison Square Garden.

• • •

The ring-worn, 28-year-old ex-coal miner, has been made the choice on his unbeaten streak of 17, his European reputation and his knockouts of countryman Pierre Langlois, a long-time campaigner in America, and Germany's Hans Stretz.

On the basis of the aggressive, wade-in styles of both, the fight figures to be a slugfest all the way. The 10-rounder will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 10 p.m. EST).

• • •

The Frenchman has a cauliflowered left ear, a bent nose, scars over both eyes and two gold teeth as evidence of his willingness to mix it up. The 28-year-old Tiger, from Yonkers, N.Y., is an old favorite of TV fans because of his enthusiastic swinging.

An official basketball must measure from 29½ to 30 inches in circumference.

Dons Meet Iowa for National Honors

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The San Francisco Dons seldom have been extended completely in rolling up their amazing winning streak, but Iowa tonight may force them to pull out all stops in order to gain a second straight NCAA basketball crown.

• • •

The dashing Dons worked so smoothly in chopping down Southern Methodist last night, 86-68, that they were almost unimpressive.

Possibly they left a feeling among the 10,500 fans at Northwestern's McGaw Hall that they were ripe for plucking by fiery Iowa, which knocked off Temple 83-76.

But many of the experts figure that the Dons are well-nigh invincible and will take the Hawkeyes in stride to end their campaign with a 55-game winning string.

The Dons, however, will have to play better than they did against SMU, and Iowa will have to come up with its supreme effort to pull an upset.

A big question, of course, is that concerning the Hawkeyes' All-Big 10 center, 6-7 Bill Logan, who will be up against two-time All-American Bill Russell.

Logan had one of his best games of the year against Temple and rammed in 36 points, high for his three-year varsity career. The 6-10 Russell hit for 17 points. He collected 23 rebounds to Logan5s 8.

Rebounding likely will determine the winner. Against Temple, the Hawkeyes totalled 51 rebounds to the Owls' 47 with Iowa's 6-3 Carl Cain getting 15 and 6-6 Bill Schoof 18.

San Francisco cleared the boards for 49 to the Mustang's 39, with 6-7 Mike Farmer backing up teammate Russell with 10.

Farmer topped the Dons in scoring with 26 points as San Francisco hit .463 from the field.

"That Farmer blew us right out of the tournament," said SMU Coach Doc Hayes. "We deliberately laid off him because according to our scouting reports he couldn't hit from the outside. Then he murdered us. I certainly would have to go for San Francisco to beat Iowa. But it should be a fine game."

Iowa made 414 per cent of its field goal attempts in downing Temple, whose scoring load was carried by a pair of sensational guards, Guy Rodgers with 28 points and Hal Lear with 32.

"We'll have to be much sharper if we hope to beat San Francisco," said Bucky O'Connor, Iowa coach. "But if we play up to our capabilities, we can give anybody in the country a good game. We weren't as sharp against Temple as we were in defeating Illinois and Kentucky this season."

Speed Records May Fall in 5th Grand Prix Race

SEBRING, Fla. (AP) — Flashy tuneup runs by the swift new European sports cars indicate that speed records will be shattered in tomorrow's fifth running of the 12-hour International Grand Prix of Enduance.

Italian Ferraris grabbed the spotlight yesterday as the cars made their first roaring runs around the 5.2-mile course laid out over the runways of an abandoned wartime air base.

• • •

Juan Fangio, the world champion driver from Argentina, and Try Ruttman, the 1952 winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile race, were clocked unofficially at 87.88 m.p.h. on their fastest laps around the tortuous course. Each is driving a Ferrari.

• • •

During last year's race, the winning D-Jaguar, driven by Phil Walters of West Palm Beach, Fla., could do no better than 85.09 m.p.h. on its fastest lap.

The Ferraris and the D-Jaguars from England are capable of top speeds of 190 m.p.h. but the short straightaways make such speeds impossible on the Sebring course. No driver will be able to reach more than 150 m.p.h. on the straights before he is forced to hit the brakes going into the sharp turns.

• • •

A roaring battle is expected between the Ferraris, Jaguars and the Italian Maseratis, with the British Aston-Martins given a good opportunity to score an upset if the furious pace burns out the bigger cars.

Don Eaddy Praised by Cubs' Manager

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Third baseman Don Eaddy is only a year out of the University of Michigan and the Chicago Cubs figure he's only a year away from major league employment.

Eaddy has only 39 professional baseball games behind him but he's going to be a great one, says Cub manager Stan Hack. He said Eaddy, 22, has the poise of a veteran and is remarkable defensively.

"He has exceptionally quick and sure hands," Hack says, "He moves quickly and he scoops up the bad hops. He has a fine and accurate arm, too."

GRAPEFRUIT League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Larry Doby, the hard - hitting outfielder of the Chicago White Sox whose hobby is stage plays, is taking a lot of bows this spring.

If he continues his hefty hitting in the regular season there may be no stopping the Sox.

The team from Chicago's South Side has not on an American League pennant since 1919. In the last few years, their trouble has been a lack of power.

Doby conceivably can be the guy to supply it. He hit 26 homers for Cleveland in 1955. That was more than any player on the White Sox, who wound up sixth in the league in circuit blows with 116. The pennant-winning New York Yankees were tops with 175.

* * *

Yesterday, he slammed a pair of homers and drove in five runs as the White Sox sent Milwauke down to their fifth straight exhibition defeat 8-6. Doby connected off Lew Burdette and Lou Sleater, both times with Minnie Minoso on base.

Meanwhile, both the Indians and Yankees lost.

* * *

Jim Wilson, Baltimore's veteran righthander, struck out nine Cleveland batters in six innings and hit a home run to lead the Orioles to an 8-6 victory. Kal Segrist and Bobby Adams also homered for the winners.

The Yankees dropped a 7-5 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals, who got homers from Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst, Wally Moon and Bob Rand. Bullet Bob Turley, touched up for four runs in six innings, was the losing pitcher. Vinegar Bend Mizell picked up the victory.

The Boston Red Sox, another AL pennant contender, nipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1. Boston righthander Frank Sullivan pitched five scoreless innings. Norm Zauchin, a pinch-hitter, singled home Jim Piersall for the game-winning tally in the ninth inning.

* * *

To Art Fowler of Cincinnati went the distinction of being the first pitcher to go nine innings this spring. He gave up 11 hits, seven in the last three frames, as the Redlegs downed the Washington Senators 10-3.

Giant Manager Enjoys Misery of This Type

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — There's dissension among the New York Giants but it's the kind Manager Bill Rigney likes.

Both Wes Westrum and Dusty Rhodes were kept out of yesterday's game against the Chicago Cubs and they weren't too happy about it.

* * *

"It's great," beamed Rigney. "Who ever heard of veterans mad because they couldn't play in a spring exhibition game?"

Alabama Seniors Challenge Phillips

DENVER (AP)—The University of Alabama championship team of the Southeastern Conference challenges defending champion Bartlesville, Okla., Phillips 66ers in the semifinals of the 49th AAU Basketball Tournament tonight.

The Alabama seniors, playing for Ada Oilers of Mobile, Ala., shot through last night's quarterfinals with a 79-74 triumph over the Wichita, Kan., Vickers Petroleum team, manned by veteran AAU players.

Phillips, champion in seven of the last 13 tournaments, ran up the highest score of the current meet in disposing of the Chicago Rainer Comets, 106-90.

QUICKIE — Mike Agostini, 21-year-old Fresno State College sophomore from Trinidad, smiles after breaking Mel Patton's world record for the 220-yard dash with a 20.1 clocking. Agostini also ran the 100 in 9.4—one-tenth off the world mark. He'll represent his native land in the Olympics.

Indians Option Two to San Diego Club

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The first reduction in the Cleveland Indians baseball squad will be made Monday when outfielder Joe Caffie and catcher Allen Jones report to the San Diego club an option.

Manager Al Lopez said yesterday that more players will be farmed out when the Indians break camp here April 1. They will be sent to the Daytona Beach (Fla.) training center.

110th Grand National

'Must' Steeplechase Pick

AINTREE, England (AP) — An "amateur" horse with an emphatic name is a favorite to win the world's toughest horse race tomorrow.

"Must" is the name and if he wins the 110th running of the Grand National, steeplechasing will have its counterpart to amateur Bobby Jones whipping pros just across the Mersey River in Hoylake in 1930 as part of his golfing grand slam.

* * *

A year ago Must was strictly a pleasure hunter and ridden purely for fun. He raced in a few hunter class events but his vocation was carrying his owner, W. L. Pilkington, in pursuit of the wily fox. Pilkington's position in society is Master of the Bicester Hounds.

* * *

But Must suddenly added speed to his ability to clear the jumps. From then on he was destined for steeplechasing with the big one—the Grand National—as his chief objective.

Unless the betting shifts considerably, Must will be bracketed with a pair of old pros, Sundew and Carey's Cottage, in the 100-9 group. Carey's Cottage, third last year, has fallen only once in 57 races.

Other horses in the top favored six are Queen Mother Elizabeth's Devon Loch at 100-8 and E.S.B. and Pippykin, both quoted at 100-7.

The sudden surge of Carey's Cottage from 20-1 to 100-9 in last night's callover of the betting odds diverted many of the wagers which might have gone to the Queen Mother's horse.

Little League Leaders Discuss Future Plans

CHICAGO (AP) — Little League baseball leaders today renew their discussion of plans for the growing organization.

The stress was not only on improving play and playing conditions but on improving the junior citizens.

Delegates to the 1st National Congress of the Little League — almost 4,000 leagues where 500,000 boys aged 10 through 12 play ballw8 exchanged ideas on team and league operations in small group sessions.

The first day of the three-day convention yesterday was devoted largely to speeches.

Hollywood Headlines:

Rosalind Russell Sought for Role in 'Lucy Crown'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Every time I start reading at night and get deep in a book until the wee hours, I say "never again!" That's what happened with "Lucy Crown" until I'd practically read it all the way through.

Now I am told that Irwin Shaw, the author, wants Rosalind Russell to make the picture for Hecht-Lancaster after she finishes "Auntie Mame."

Ros was also approached to play the Widow Tebbs in "Andersonville." But, gee whiz, what a bath that character would have to have! You just couldn't show her in motion pictures the way she is in Mackinlay Kantor's book.

I believe Jerry Wald, who is producing it, has the idea of making the widow a fun loving, gay woman without any of her extra-curricular activities.

You can't lose faith in Hollywood when things happen as they did at Paramount a few days ago. Then you know there's still a chance for young players.

Rod Steiger happened to meet a girl named Elaine Aiken, who had studied with him at the Actor's Studio and who played a small bit in summer stock. He took her to Paramount. Pat Duggan took one look at her and said, "Will you test right now?"

She did, and that very day was signed for the femme lead with Jack Palance and Anthony Perkins in "The Lonely Man."

'BLACKOUTS' SIGNED

Ken Murray tells me that he and Marie Wilson have signed a contract with the New Frontier Hotel in Las Vegas for a million dollars for his stage show, "Blackouts," until 1960.

"We go back to Vegas in August," said Ken, "and we also have an offer for a TV show and two studios are negotiating with us for the motion picture.

"Little did Marie and I think when we opened 'Blackouts' in 1942 that in 1956 our show still would be drawing customers!"

A warm and great tribute to Maurice Chevalier was the turnout of top stars to greet him at the party Pat and Charles Boyer gave in his honor. Maurice came here to sing "Something's Gotta Give," one of the competing songs at the Acadamy Awards.

As Gary Cooper, Mary Pickford, Buddy Rogers, Benita and Ronald Colman, Clifton Webb, Frances Dee, Joel McCrea, Jack Benny, Florence Eldridge, Fredric March, Groucho Marx, Gracie Allen and George Burns, Ginger Rogers and Rosalind Russell walked by, Maurice said:

"The thing that amazes me in Hollywood is that after 22 years the stars who were tops when I was here are still tops!

"This Hollywood climate must be wonderful," he said, "because none of them seems to have aged much. The years have treated them all so kindly."

CAREER IMPROVES

I'm glad that Joan Evans' career seems to be on the upgrade again. Joan got off to a flying start when she was teamed with Farley Granger for Sam Goldwyn, then she didn't do very well for a time.

She's on the MGM lot this week to make a test for producer Charles Schnee for the best part of her life in "Eagles Have Wings." "I'm keeping my fingers crossed," Joan says hopefully.

The attractive brunette Bob Fellows has been seeing is Donna Stewart. Rumors are that she'll be the next Mrs. Fellows.

Autherine Lucy to Marry; Try to Re-enter College

DALLAS (AP) — Miss Autherine Lucy, the Negro coed expelled from the University of Alabama after a series of campus racial riots, last night said she planned to be married, then try to re-enter the University of Alabama.

If she can't go to school there, she will try elsewhere, she said.

"I plan to be married April 22," she told a press conference called by the Dallas pastor who will officiate at the wedding.

She squeezed the hand of her fiance the Rev. H. C. Foster, 27, a student minister at Tyler in East Texas. When they met five years ago he was a sophomore at Miles College, Birmingham, and she a senior.

"I'm thoroughly in agreement with her," Foster said of her plans to press for re-entry to the University of Alabama.

Foster is scheduled to graduate from Butler College in Tyler this spring with a social science degree. However, for several years he has been acting as a student minister in the Tyler area and said he intends to continue as pastor of two small rural churches.

Miss Lucy became the first of her race to enter Alabama at Tuscaloosa Feb. 3. Violent demonstrations by students and townspeople broke out on the campus.

The university suspended her, saying it did so for her own protection. Later, after she brought suit demanding admittance, she was expelled on the grounds that she had made unfounded charges against university officials in the suit.

Scientist Reports New Remedy for Pimples

SYRACUSE, N. Y., (AP)—A scientist here says he has found a medical treatment for pimples.

Dr. G. Arnold Cronk of the Syracuse University Department of Health and preventive Medicine reported yesterday that he had found tetracycline, one of the new miracle drugs, 90 per cent effective.

Dr. Cronk said he had tested the treatment for a year on 72 Syracuse University students of both sexes. In 65 cases, he said, the pimples either cleared up completely or showed marked improvement.

Named Prison Head

DETROIT (AP) — Paul R. Brown, 62, warden at the Westchester County Penitentiary in East View, N. Y., has been named to the $13,000-a-year job of superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction. He will succeed Edward B. Gardiner, who retires July 15.

Thirteen young ladies, from 17 to 28 are contesting for the honor of running in the Miss Michigan Jaycee contest, representing Waterford Township. Judging of "Miss Waterford" will take place on stage during the three days of the show and the winner will be crowned Sunday evening by the present Miss Michigan. Contenders, sitting left to right are Barbara Keniject, Marlene Hicks, Donna Brown, Connie Sabat, Barbara Looney. Standing, Carol Johanson, Joyce Chipps, Evelyn Cook, Fran Babinski, Dianna Mielke, Franki Russell, Gene Limatta and Carol Lazenby.

Okay $1,200,000 Project 751-488

Thursday Vote Paves Way for Biggest Plan of Expansion

HOLLY—By a decisive majority the Holly Area Schools Thursday voted in favor of the most extensive building expansion program in its history.

They endorsed the project to spend $1,200,000 for a new high school building on the east edge of Holly village, at the end of East Baird and Sherman Streets, and south of Maple Street, and for additions to the present elementary school in the village, also new facilities at Davisburg and other points in the area.

The vote was 751 in favor of the proposition and 488 against it. Among the electors who voted in Holly, the vote was 588 in favor of it and 364 against it.

The vote at Davisburg was 163 favoring the project and 124 against it.

When a similar proposition was voted upon a few months ago, those voting at Davisburg cast such a strong vote against it that they were responsible for its defeat, the Holly contingent then favoring it.

Plans for the new high school building provide for 600 students, with an expansion to 1,000 made possible. The present enrollment is approaching the 500 mark.

The elementary school expansion provides for around 1,900 students by 1960, the present number being about 1,400.

The total elementary expansion covers seven new rooms and 11 rooms made possible by the use of the present high school wings.

As set up at the present time by the board of education the expenditure of the $1,200,000 will be divided as follows: High school building and furnishings, $920,000; elementary school, $120,000; alterations, $40,000; sites, $60,000; development and utilities, $10,000; fees and services, $50,000.

The Holly Area Schools cover over 100 square miles in the northwestern part of Oakland County, being in the townships of Holly, Rose, Groveland, Springfield and White Lake. It is the largest in area of any of the school setups in the county.

Township-Wide Rummage Sale Set at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A township-wide rummage sale is being planned by the Business and Professional Women's Club Friday and Saturday, March 30 and 31, to help finance the construction of tennis courts for the use of the township recreation department.

Initiated by service clubs, the tennis court project already has $1,500 labeled for it.

The rummage sale will be held at 4532 Dixie Hwy. Articles may be taken there on Thursday of next week, or those wishing to donate may call Mrs. Everett Reese, Mrs. Herman Dersch, Mrs. Basil Thompson or the Waterford Recreation Department and arrangements will be made to pick up the articles.

U.S. Suggests Military Cut

Asks Reds to Join Plan in Whittling Manpower of Armed Forces

LONDON (AP)—The United States has asked Russia to join in a military manpower cut which would whittle the armed forces of each nation to 2½ million men.

* * *

The plan was placed before the five-power U. N. Disarmament subcommittee yesterday by Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's personal adviser. The Russians made no immediate comment.

Stassen said the plan which would seek proportional cuts by Britain, France and other nations, calls for a parallel reduction in armaments and military spending of each country.

* * *

Stassen insisted, however, that first the nations would have to agree on satisfactory control safeguards and an effective mutual inspection system. This has been a major stumbling block in the years of previous East-West disarmament negotiations.

The new U. S. proposal would mean a reduction of about 13 per cent in American land, sea and air forces, now totaling about 2,900,000 men. With Russia's armed strength estimated at four million men, it would take 37 per cent of her men out of uniform.

The U. S. proposal made no specific mention of Red China, whose army alone is estimated at 3½ million men.

Cleric Convicted in Boycott Trial

Will Appeal Decision of Judge; Avows to Fight Segregation Laws

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A convicted leader in the Negro boycott of city buses here has pledged to continue the fight against segregation "no matter how many times" he is convicted of violating Alabama's antibpycott law.

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. was convicted yesterday of violating the boycott law and was fined $500 by Circuit Judge Eugene Carter.

* * *

Last night the 27-year-old Baptist pastor vowed at a mass meeting to continue fighting for "justice and equality" and to keep on in a leading role in the protest movement "no matter how many times they convict me."

King has been prominent in the 17-week-old campaign against segregated seating on city buses.

APPEAL TO TEST RACE LAWS

The fine assessed against King was suspended after defense attorneys served notice of an appeal. The attorneys said they would take the appeal all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary in another test of the South's segregation laws.

King, pastor of the Dexter Avenue Baptist church, told his Negro audience last night that "freedom doesn't come on a silver platter." He added: "Some of the things we have to go through are a necessary part of our campaign. There can never be growth without growing pains."

He was given an ovation.

* * *

In addition to the $500 fine which was suspended, King was also charged with court costs of approximately $500. This was converted into a jail sentence totaling about 386 days since he chose to appeal rather than pay the money.

King, together with 89 other Negro leaders still awaiting trial on similar boycott charges, had exercised his right to a nonjury trial.

Kaoteng May Suddenly Leap Into Headlines

TAIPEI, Formosa—The chances are you've never heard of Kaoteng. But the chances are at least 50-50 that you will hear of Kaoteng again and again.

It's one of those obscure places like Dien Bien Phu used to be, that can come leaping into the headlines. It's a tiny island at the northern end of the Formosa Strait off Red China—4½ miles away. Kaoteng is one of those islands known as the Matsus, held by the Chinese Nationalists coveted by the Chinese Communists.

* * *

A Communist attack on Kaoteng would not lead to Nationalist pullout from the Straits. President Chiang Kai-shek and other Nationalist leaders say it would lead to a real battle with the Reds.

And if it comes, there is a possibility of U. S. intervention. President Eisenhower has congressional authority to order it. And he could give the order if, in the opinion of his military advisers, a Red assault took place on a scale that suggested Formosa itself might be in danger.

Kaoteng is now in the spotlight. Earlier this week, according to the Nationalist Defense Ministry, the island was subjected to a Communist naval bombardment for the first time.

Lorraine Manor Assn. Organizes

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Homeowners of the newly organized Lorraine Manor Civic Assn. met Wednesday night to nominate and elect officers.

Persons named were: Howard Morgan, president; Charles Sayer, vice president; Mrs. John Wilson, secretary; John Keinert, treasurer.

Elected to the board of trustees were: John Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown, Mrs. Robert Hackett, Mrs. Frederick Barnfather, and Donald Scott.

A special meeting of the trustees with the officers of the group will be held at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday April 4, at the home of Mrs. Brown. They will decide the association meeting date.

Sea Study Sparks Cub Pack Meeting

Cubs of Union Lake School pack No. 36 Tuesday night turned their meeting into an underwater scene.

Festoons simulating seaweed and a large paper submarine decorated the room, where cubs exhibited model ship collections and scrapbooks about sea life, resulting from a month's study of the sea.

Monthly awards were presented by cubmaster Frank Smith.

Probe Broken Window in City Shoe Store

Pontiac police investigated a possible breakin early yesterday of a shoe store at 502 N. Perry St., after the manager reported glass in a rear door was found broken.

Charles Shotwell, 5410 Harley St. added that a preliminary check revealed nothing was missing.

Your PTA Is Planning: 'Spring Swing' April 7 at Brooklands School

AVON TOWNSHIP—Plans are under way to make the "Spring Swing Dance" to be given by Brooklands and Avon Schools the biggest event of the year here.

Tickets for the event, to be held April 7 in the Brooklands multi-purpose room, will be on sale by PTA members.

Milford

The Lee O. Brooks PTA officer election was held this week and Mrs. R. Brooks North was named to lead the group.

Other officers elected were: Robert Greer, vice president; Mrs. Marie Booker, recording secretary; Mrs. Edwin Kropp, Corresponding secretary; Mrs. Grace Reddeman, treasurer; Fay Titus, father vice president; Jean Kapun, teacher vice president, and Mrs. Kenneth Goodell, mother vice president.

Commerce Township

The Glengary PTA will elect officers at its next meeting, to be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Glengary Elementary School.

Parents will have a chance to visit the students' classrooms for a half hour preceding the meeting, from 7:30 to 8. The children's Easter displays will be out, and teachers will be on hand to discuss the students' work.

Following the business meeting a program will be put on by the various Scout groups of the school.

Imlay City

Election of officers was held at the monthly PTA meeting in the high school here.

Elected were: President, Mrs Fay Eubank; first vice president, Lester Keigley; second vice president, Mrs. Donovan Brown; third vice president, Mrs. Dewaine Teal; secretary, Judith Klann; treasurer, George Turner; parliamentarian, Clayton Preisel; historian, Lloyd Peterman.

Leonard

A panel discussion on the possibility of maintaining a youth center at Leonard will highlight the Leonard PTA meeting at 8 p. m. Monday. In addition, a special speaker, Anthony Carr, child guidance counselor of Almont High School, will talk on the subject "Teenage Children."

Officers will be elected during the regular business meeting.

Other features of the program will be 4-H girls, under leadership of Mrs. Leon Poundtree and Mrs. Nina Childers, modeling dresses they have made, and musical selections by a trio of girls from the school band.

New Hudson

New Hudson PTA has announced it will purchase books for the library with $7.19 realized at the recent fair.

Four Towns

The PTA of Four Towns School is sponsoring a benefit dance for the Timmy Cook Fund tonight, from 8:30 until 11:30 p. m. There will be square and round dancing with Bob Long as caller.

Family Service Heads to Attend Conference

Five officials of the Family Service of Oakland County will travel to Chicago Saturday to attend a conference of board members from 81 Midwestern family service agencies.

The group will include Estella M. Martin, executive director; and Directors Arthur Heaton, Mrs. Noel Buckner, Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein and Robert Snyder.

The meeting will be devoted to discussion of ways in which board members can assist in agency financing, public relations and staffing. The gathering will be sponsored by the Midwestern Regional Committee of the Family Service Assn. of America.

Three informal morning workshop sessions will be followed by a luncheon at which Hugh R. Jones of Utica, N. Y., will be the principal speaker.

Blue Shield Plan Answers Critics

Says 'Overcharge' Blast Result of Uncontrolled Medical Conditions

DETROIT (AP)—The Blue Shield Medical Service said yesterday that criticized "overcharges" by physicians result mainly from conditions the service does not control.

* * *

Jay C. Ketchum, executive vice president of the plan, issued a statement following a meeting of directors last night to discuss charges by the United Auto Workers that Blue Shield subscribers had to pay extra fees to their physicians despite coverage.

Ketchum said the type of "overcharge" complained of by the UAW was due to three conditions: "Either the subscriber has waived his rights to full service, he is unaware of his rights under the contract, or the services for which he is charged are not covered by the contract."

Many cases classified in a UAW survey as "overcharges," Ketchum said, included physicians' charges for services like pre-and post-natal care in maternity cases, visits to the doctor's office before and after surgery in the hospital and laboratory and X-ray tests made outside the hospital.

"Such services are not covered in the Blue Shield contract," Ketchum said, "because they are difficult or impossible to control."

He added that Blue Shield "has made a conscientious effort" to interpret its coverage to subscribers through promotional literature, certificates, and public relations brochures.

Army Engineer Chief Appointed for Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Col. Peter C. Hyzer is the new Detroit district chief of the Army corps of engineers.

Hyzer was named to succeed Col. Arthur C. Nauman, transferred to Washington headquarters as assistant chief of civil work for rivers and harbors.

Tax Deadline Nears; Officials Wait 'Flood'

With the deadline for filing income tax returns a month away, more than a million Michigan citizens have yet to turn in completed 1040 and 1040A forms, according to A. M. Menninger, district Internal Revenue Service director.

Although telephone assistance wil continue to be available, Menninger said, it wil be more difficult to obtain as the April 16 deadline approaches because of the anticipated extra load on tax office personnel.

The official stated that nearly 200,000 early fllers have already received more than $15 million in refunds.

Housewife Rescues Tot From Icy Lake Waters

DENVER (AP) — Three-year-old Mark Wedbee was rescued from the cold waters of Rocky Mountain Lake in north Denver yesterday by a young housewife.

Mark took a high dive off a 4-foot retaining wall to "catch a duck" in the water. He was pulled to safety—duckless—a moment later by Mrs. Richard Simmons, 27, who was walking near the lake.

Phalanx Club Dance Slated for Saturday

Annual dance of the Phalanx Club, a group of high school boys, will be held at 9 p. m. Saturday in the YMCA building, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

Tickets cost $3 and the dance is semi-formal, according to Charles Law, publicity chairman.

He said the club plans to provide refreshments and a floor show.

Prof Clears Mystery of Truffles at Milford

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The mystery of the misplanted truffles (rhymes with ruffles) was cleared up today at least partially by a Michigan State University mycologist.

It seems that on July 11, 1955, Mrs. Harvey H. Reid of Milford found the truffles in mucky, wet soil near the edge of a bog and oak hickory woods. There were about a pound of them.

Now ordinarily a pound of turffles wouldn't cause much excitement. In Southern France they use trained dogs, goats and pregnant pigs to find truffles all the time.

It seems that truffles are a real delicacy in Southern France and are known as "the diamond of the kitchen." But that's in Southern France. In Michigan it's quite unusual. In the U.S. it's rare to find truffles.

By this time, you'd probably like to know what a truffle is. Well, Associate Professor E. S. Bencke reports that they are a small black tuber-like fungus and the best ones grow 2 to 12 inches under the ground near the roots of oak trees. They look like small dark potatoes.

Bencke reported his truffle research to the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters at the University of Michigan today.

The truffles which require shade, moisture and mild temperatures, have been highly priced table delicacies since the times of the Romans, he said. Today in Southern France, they bring $15 a pound.

The Michigan truffles, however, had the same walnut-like flavor of the French truffles but they were not the same species. They looked like dark brown potatoes one-half to one inch in diameter with a brown inside and a number of white veins.

Briton Hits Jackpot in Missing Currency

LONDON — Archibald Boseley, 59, of Sheen, England, has got back by mail, $26,750 in American bills which he reported stolen from his car at Windsor in 1939. After the Treasury recalled all foreign currency, he was on his way to a bank to turn in the American dollars, which he had bought as a speculation.

He left them on the front seat of his car and they disappeared. He has no idea where they have now reappeared from. In 1939 the bills were worth almost $17,900. At the current rate of exchange they are worth $26,750.

Oils Dominate Stock Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market advanced today, but the burden of the rise in the early afternoon was on the oils.

* * *

The advance took the market to another in a series of new record highs, making it four new peaks out of five sessions this week.

Prices were up around 3 points at the best with most of the big gainers in the oil division. There were plenty of minus signs in the list, but they usually were fractional.

* * *

The higher prices brought out a lot of spirited buying, and trading hit a swift pace around 3,000,000 shares for the day. That compares with 2,650,000 shares traded yesterday when the market touched a new record high.

Railroads, which gave the greatest push to yesterday's advance, started out higher today, but they faltered under profit-taking and subsided into a mixed position.

* * *

Rubbers, aircrafts, utilities and most of the non-ferrous metals were higher with the oils. The rest of the market, including motors and steels, was mixed.

The steels were higher yesterday under the pressure of continued demand for the metal and prospects for higher prices. Today the aluminum issues got the full benefit of a price boost put into effect by Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical.

* * *

At noon, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 30 cents at $190.50. It advanced $1.70 yesterday to a new record high.

Buying Shoves Grains Higher

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains moved higher under the impetus of strong early buying movement on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

May wheat again went to a new seasonal high, as did September and December corn. Gains ran to around a cent in both cereals before the upturn was halted. No selling pressure of consequence developed, however.

The only weak spot existed in old crop soybeans. These opened lower in sympathy with a fairly sharp drop in soybean oil futures. In subsequent trading, old crop soybeans got back to around the previous close. New crop beans firmed from the start.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to 1 cent higher, May $2.25⅝; corn ¼ to ⅝ higher, May $1.40⅛; oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May 64⅛; rye ⅜ to ¾ higher, May $1.30½; soybeans unchanged to 1½ higher, May $2.64¼, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.30.

City Candidates to Speak Sunday at Amvets Hall

Eleven candidates for Pontiac's city commission in the April 2 election have accepted invitations to address a Town Hall meeting Sunday afternoon sponsored by Amvets Bemis-Olsen Post 113.

Candidates will speak briefly on their qualifications and proposed programs and answer selected questions, program director Malcolm Oswalt announced.

Voters have been invited to meet their candidates at the discussion, scheduled for 2 p.m. in the Amvets hall, 570 Oakland Ave.

The eleven are Commissioners Cooley, Rowston, Donaldson, Dugan, Carry, and Gates; and candidates Samuel J. Whiters, Frank O'Brien, Earl J. Smith, Norman R. Bolton, and Pat Stoglin.

Candidate J. H. Patrick Glynn, who is attending a meeting in Lansing Sunday morning, still hopes to be in time for the discussion.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles and candidate Gilbert W. Long have declined the invitation.

Former mayor and commissioner Philip Sauer will act as moderator.

Police Probe Death of City Woman, 34

Pontiac police are investigating the death yesterday afternoon of a 34-year-old woman, who had lain unconscious four days in Pontiac General Hospital, where she was being treated for injuries reportedly suffered in a fall downstairs.

According to the attending physician, Dr. John Williams, former chief of staff who requested the probe, there were bruises on the head of Mrs. Leona Shaffer which apparently occured before the accident Saturday night in the downtown hotel where the woman lived.

Williams added that there was no authority to perform an autopsy to determine the exact cause of death unless relatives agreed or police discovered evidence of foul play.

He added that he would hold up signing a death certificate until a police report is made today. Relatives and friends are being questioned, Det. Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said, to develop possible leads in the case.

Chrysler Employes to Get Hike in Pay

DETROIT (AP) — Approximately 130,000 Chrysler Corp. employes will get a pay raise April 1 under the annual improvement factor clause in the company's contract with the United Auto Workers.

The "annual improvement factor" is an automatic annual increase designed to pass on to workers economic benefits effected through manufacturing short cuts and efficiencies — "Automation."

Chrysler's 110,000 hourly rated workers will get an additional 6 cents hourly or 2½ per cent, whichever is greater. Another 20,000 salaried employes will get $10.98 more a month or 3 per cent of their base pay, whichever is greater.

Similar increases go into effect automatically for Ford and General Motors workers under UAW

Keego Harbor Man Fined for Recklessness

Pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, 47-year-old Michael Sheridan of Keego Harbor was fined $75 with $25 costs by Keego Harbor Justice James Southart.

It was erroneously reported that Sheridan pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of alcohol. His charge had been reduced from drunk driving to reckless driving.

NO EASTER BUNNY HE — This is a "Jackalope" — a jack rabbit with horns killed west of Hutchinson, Kan., according to Ed Hays. But he says it with his tongue in his check. It was just a plain ol' bald rabbit until Hays killed him, had him stuffed, and added the deer horns. He made it as an answer to all the tales of horned rabbits recently being told locally around Hutchinson. "They do it this way in Wyoming," he commented.

Surge in Business Activity Points to Boom in Making

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, (AP)—Stock traders and many industrial leaders see a new boom a-building today on top of the old.

The question many ask: will it be a healthy growth after the brief rest of the last two or three months, or will it be as collapsible as bubblegum?

Signs of a new upsurge are many. You find them in the confident predictions of corporate executives now busily reporting to their stockholders. You find them in the big expansion plans they announce.

* * *

Stockholders reflect the new confidence by pushing the stock price averages into new high ground.

There are signs that the lag in auto sales and home building may be ending. The slowdown in these two fields was the major item that brough the over-all economy to its leveling-off period.

New car sales are perking up a little with the approach of better driving weather.

Home builders say that increased applications for mortgages foreshadow a construction revival, perhaps by next month.

Consumer spending on durable goods—cars, home appliances and the like—has been off about 10 per cent in the first three months of this year, the economists estimate.

Part of the letup in buying of big-ticket items is thought due to the record load of personal debt on which consumers are dogged-ly making their monthly pay-their inventories.

Another factor is that consumers are in a good position now to wait for bargains. Business competition is so keen that retail price rises are the exception so far, despite rising manufacturing costs.

* * *

Signs of the new upsurge are also to be found in the flood of new orders many manufacturers report of late, and in the evident desire of many firms to build up their inventotries.

And if consumer buying doesn't increase as now expected, business firms could start living off their inventories—and then factory output would drop.

Inflation signs are all around, too. With employment at a peak, the cost of labor continues to rise. And with factories working full time, the chance to pass along the cost of industrial materials is good. Some fear that prices might rise to the point of discouraging consumer buying.

Chrysler Tops Mobilgas Run

Pontiac Chieftain Wins Second in Sweepstakes, First in Class

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—An Imperial Southampton, a Chrysler Corp. car driven by Mal Alsbury of Hollywood, Calif., won the annual Mobilgas Economy Run.

A Pontiac Chieftain Catalina driven by Pierce Venable, Torrance, Calif., posted a 51.72 ton-mile average and 21.10 miles per gallon for second in the sweepstakes division. Third was an Oldsmobile 98 driven by Ray Brock, an official of the Hot Rod Assn. from Garden Grove, Calif., with 50.94 and 18.66.

Alsbury, a 26-year-old Korean War veteran marked up the second best ton-mile average since the run was inaugurated in 1936 with 61.37 ton-miles — based on gasoline consumption in relation to mileage and car weight. His miles-per-gallon rate for the 1,468-mile run from Los Angeles was 21.04.

Venable, with his Pontiac Chieftain, took the low medium price class for his performance. An Oldsmobile 88 driven by Woody Bell of Tujunga, Calif., took the medium price class, recording 50.80 ton-miles per gallon and 19.70 miles per gallon.

A Rambler Six had the highest gas average with 24.35 miles per gallon. Its ton-mile figure was 48.22, which gave the car first place in its class. Tommy Thomas of Long Beach, Calif., was the driver.

Nineteen of the 22 cars which started in the four-day drive finished yesterday. The final lap was from Grand Junction, Colo., a distance of 290 miles across 11,312-foot Monarch Pass.

American Motors Chops Output, Lays Off 3,550

DETROIT (AP) — American motors Corp. announced today the lay-off of 3,550 of its 13,485 workers and a production cut of 34 per cent, effective tonight.

All the layoffs will be at the company's Milwaukee and Kenosha Wis., plants.

A company spokesman said the cuts were necessary to "keep field stocks in balance."

Collins to Retire

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gen. J. Lawton "Lightnin' Joe" Collins, former Army Chief of Staff, will be formally retired to civilian life today after 39 years as a soldier.

News in Brief

Pleading guilty to reckless driving, Detroiter Robert L. Smith, 21, was fined $50 with $25 costs and sentenced to Oakland County Jail for 15 days yesterday by Southfield Township Justice Edward A. Elsarelli.

LaVern Carter, 26, of Royal Oak, charged with reckless driving before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib yesterday, changed his plea to guilty and was fined $75 with $25 costs and sent to jail for five days.

Charles Manz, owner of Chuck's Shack restaurant on Auburn Road, Pontiac Township, told Sheriff's deputies yesterday a thief took cigarettes and money totalling $10 from his cigarette machine.

A Detroiter, Jack Anderson Jr., 27, yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $25 by Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Louis Bromfield—2nd of 3 Parts

Dogs Were Treated Just Like People at the Famed Author's Malabar Farm

By KEN WOODMAN
Executive Editor
Mansfield News-Journal

MANSFIELD, O. (INS) —Dogs were practically people at Louis Bromfield's Malabar Farm.

They were mostly boxers. The clan began with Rex and Regina, two beautiful all-brown animals who returned with the Bromfield family from France shortly before the beginning of World War II.

Rex sired and Regina bore Prince, and then came a long, long line of other boxers whose names, were too varied to catalogue, except for one pup, who was named "Mister Hawkins."

This was a gay jibe at George Hawkins, for many years Bromfield's secretary, the family confidant and business aide. Hawkins was ebullient, efficient and irrepressible. Like his employer he had friends through the entire world from Hollywood to Bombay — and it seemed that at one time or another they all came trooping to Malabar.

But whoever came, governors, foreign ministers, actresses, painters, writers, the dogs were their equals in the Bromfield household.

The boxers galloped out barking raucously to greet each arrival. They came into the house with the guests. They sat on the chairs and the beautiful divans. They learned to push open doors and get in and out in almost any weather.

* * *

Intelligent as Bromfield insisted they were, I noticed they never learned to close doors. This sometimes made for unexpected drafts in winter.

The boxers hob-nobbed with such frequent visitors as Ohio Gov. and Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, and the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. They were quite at home with Ina Claire, Kay Francis, Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Colleen Moore and scores of other famous figures.

And the dogs worshipped Bromfield. They had reason to. He would shout at them to correct some misdeed but always gave them a pat on the head afterwards.

"They're sensitive," he explained.

The only time one of the dogs ever snapped at a guest was at a newspaper party in the huge basement rumpus room which the Bromfields had to establish soon after the house was opened to accommodate the daily parties and meetings for which the house became a mecca.

Bromfield called the dog sharply away from the newsman and said: "He offended the dog's dignity. They won't stand for that."

* * *

It seemed, in a way, that the dogs were a symbol of the open-heartedness which marked life at Malabar.

SIGHT WORTH SEEING

The house at Malabar is well worth seeing. Its great marble fireplace, brought from New Orleans, adds grace to the living room, the giant master study has a semicircular desk; an ingenious system pipes music to all parts of the house from a concealed closet under the great curving staircase.

But the top celebrity at Malabar was Bromfield himself. He was always available for a chat or a quote for publication or sharing a late afternoon drink — or a raging argument on any subject a guest cared to argue about! He never hid from reporters or anyone else. It was miraculous how the man could be so agreeable and see so many people and still find time to write books and promote soil conservation.

Only once did I ever see him surfeited with callers.

It was a summer afternoon and the lawn already was half full of people. Swearing masterfully, he said to me:

* * *

"If another car turns in that drive with some so-and-so coming to worship at the feet of the master, I think I'll tell them exactly what I think."

He had the vocabulary to do it.

GM to Construct California Plant

New Facilities to Build Pontiac, Oldsmobile and Buick Passenger Cars

Plans to erect a California GM plant which will produce 100,000 Pontiac, Buick and Oldsmobile passenger cars a year were announced at a San Francisco press conference yesterday by President Harlow H. Curtice.

The official told newsmen that the installation will be in operation in time to produce 1958 models of the three autos.

Although the exact location was not disclosed, Curtice revealed that the plant would be in the San Francisco-Oakland Bay area and would be situated upon a 200-acre site. Floor space will total 1,500,000 square feet, he said.

Expected to have a working force of 5,000, the one-story factory wil be basically of glass and brick construction.

Commenting on the expansion, Curtice said: "With the tremendous growth of the Pacific Coast market for Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac cars, we have had under study for some time expansion of our assembly facilities in the state of California.

"Our requirements for cars in this area are already considerably in excess of the South Gate plant's ability to produce . . . In addition we have every reason to believe that the West Coast market has potential for tremendous future growth for these lines of cars."

The conference was conducted as a prelude to the opening of the General Motors Motorama of 1956 Saturday at the city's civic auditorium.

No Happiness in False Foundations

Material Values Result in Barren Lives

GRAHAM IN BERLIN — More than one hundred thousand persons packed Olympic Stadium in the British sector of Berlin to hear American Evangelist Billy Graham. Other thousands who could not get into the stadium thronged adjacent May field. This general view showing part of the huge crowd was made as Graham (in dark suit) delivered his sermon. At the end of the meeting, Graham asked all those who believed in God to stand. The evangelist expressed his reaction to the response he received by saying; "I've never seen anytihng like it in my life. This might be the beginning of a new Germany."

By TEX SHANNON

(Last of three articles)

Condemnation by Evangelist Billy Graham of so much anti-social conduct can be verified in the columns of any newspaper.

But, granted that misguided individuals commit mistaken acts, I still wanted to know how well-behaved people are faring in this world now recovering, through the help of its ministers and priests, its lost spiritual heritage.

"The law-abiding folk, Bill," I suggested; "the leading statesmen and the popular entertainers; the millions of lesser known and honest citizens who never break a rule nor beat a debt; do they feel happy and at peace with themselves in this turbulent — and efficient — world?"

FALSE FOUNDATIONS

Billy shook his head. "No, Decidedly not!" he replied. "I'll cite some examples to show how barren life has become for those who build their lives on purely material foundations.

"Remember the rich Texan you saw portrayed in the film? Before he gave his heart to God, he told me that he has been miserably disillusioned by thinking that happiness was a commodity which could be paid for with some scratches on a checkbook.

"Later, a noted film star told me that she was the most miserable woman in the world despite her money, beauty, glamour and popularity.

"A British social leader once drew me aside to confess that he had lost all desire to live. A college senior with whom I talked declared that, at 23, he'd lived through enough experiences to be old and was already fed up with life. A major statesman, prominent in the councils of the world, told me that his life had lost all meaning and that he was on the brink of suicide.

"'Dr. Graham,' he asked me, like some pitiful little child, 'can you give me some ray of hope?'"

* * *

I folded my notebook, then thought of one last question that had to be asked.

"And you believe you can bring the world hope, Billy?"

Billy's answer was modest — but incisive.

"Christ offers the hope," he declared. "I and other ministers can only make people conscious of the security that He promises in His Word."

I got up to go and we shook hands. "Do you know, Tex," Billy said in parting; "this generation is going to see emerging in its day a big group of believers who will be as world-shaking as those who followed Christ in His day; and don't forget — those early Christians turned the world upside down because faith had turned their hearts right side up."

That night, I lingered to hear Billy preach in the crowded, big tabernacle of the seaside town which is one of America's longest established religious centers.

What I felt about him during the service squares with the judgment expressed by one of America's leading authorites on religion — That man acclaims Billy Graham as "the greatest evangelist of modern times."

Few of the converts have lapsed back into the old ways and old miseries. Most of them have swelled the ranks of faith by joining one or another Christian denomination.

These countless thousands of new worshippers have stuck to the better course Billy Graham traced for them.

Their hearts have stayed — right side up!

of him, among all the others. The Master called him "Boanerges"—Son of Thunder!

Just the other day, John had proposed violent punishment for a Samaritan village that refused hospitality to the Master. But Jesus promptly corrected—He came "to save"—not to destroy men.

Then, near Bethsaida, when John reported he had see some hairy-mantled teacher acting "in Christ's name," John wanted to stop him—because he refused to join their band.

But the Master would impose no narrow, exclusive conformity. "Forbid him not," He had said, for he that is not against us is for us."

So now, high urgency drove John as they approached Jerusalem, seat of the state's ancient religious government, with the land aflame with talk of a coming Christ—a new kingdom to throw off Rome's yoke.

The city would be swarming with people from all Judea, here for the Passover festival. Surely, the die was cast. As the Master advised—when you set your hand to a plow, there is no looking back.

Just then, John uttered a little cry of delight at what he saw. Pleasure shone on the faces of the others, too—his brother, James, lifting his head high; big, commanding Peter, grinning broadly, and Thomas, with his surprised twinkle.

PALM LEAVES

Flowing through the gate and lining the way, a singing, welcoming throng waved and chanted "hosannas." Ahead of Jesus, they carpeted the street with their garments and myrtle and willow branches and sprays of palm leaves.

"Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord!"

Tears glistened in the Master's eyes.

Truly, an hour of greatness had come. To John, at his keen pitch of exhilaration, it was merely a trivial, passing incident when the state theocrats shoved up to demand that Jesus stop the demonstration—at once.

John relished Jesus' blunt retort—just as well order stones to shout!

* * *

Their course through the city left a wave of speculation and wonder. But John soon realized the fervent greeting had come only from hopeful devotees. Others were just curious. Official opposition closed in grimly.

This only seemed to stir the Master to new boldness. Never had He spoken so vehemently. He always had been positive, but patient. Now He seemed to be deliberately pressing toward a goal, a culmination.

John waited, watched, listened, his emotions atingle.

TENSION DEEPENS

As days before the feast passed, the tension deepened. Priests, their lawyers and other functionaries came to challenge Jesus at gatherings before the temple, with sly innuendo and questions about His lack of religious authorization.

They baited Him about taxes, the law, His teachings, but Jesus always had stunning answers: Pay Caesar what is Caesar's.

The great commands are alike—love God and thy neighbor as thyself. Self-glory is ruinous. To help the sick, naked and imprisoned is the same as doing it for the Lord.

All the while, there was the gathering hostility of men in high places.

* * *

But the Master lashed out heedlessly at the reigning theocracy, accusing it of being obsessed with ornamental clothes, riches, titles, honors, of pretending holiness by reciting long repetitious prayers, of emphasizing moribund rules instead of real mercy, faith and justice.

"Woe unto you, scribes and pharisees, hypocrites!" He said "Ye blind guides, straining out a gnat and swallowing a camel. Ye are like white sepulchres—beautiful outside but full of dead men's bones."

SCATTERS TRADERS

He strode into the temple where moneychangers and traders noisily bartered and sold animals for sacrifice. He overturned the tables and drove the whole pack out. "My house shall be called a house of prayer!"

John, the firebrand, marveled at it all. Had he not wanted strong action? He had. And yet . . . His uneasiness grew at the hauntingly memorable meal in the upper room where Jesus foretold impending betrayal and death.

Then the armed mob seized Jesus in the garden at night. In a burst of fear, all the apostles fled.

But John alone, the man of blazing zeal and fierce confidence, returned to stand by in grief-torn shock at the Master's trial and execution. Was it the end? No, a passionate no!

Perhaps at times he had been rash, missed the Master's full meanings, but now it unfolded before him, and the Lord, when He rose, sharpened the vision—that the kingdom would come in its own time and its own way—beyond earthly destinies — the hour, no man knows.

John could wait, and work, and he did, leaving to the centuries a never-dwindling flame of faith.

Dealer's Ad Gimmick Pretty Costly in the End

ALBANY, N.Y., (AP)—A used-car dealer here has advertised a 1955 automobile for 16 cents an hour.

That would be $115.20 a month. The ad did not say how many months.

Property Value Soars

FLINT (AP)—The 1956-57 property valuation for Flint city taxes is 520 million dollars, an increase of 96 million. Of the increase, 69 million was in boosts on property owned by General Motors Corp.

Window Cache of $100,000 Set for Public Stare

Have you ever dreamed of having $100,000?

Far-fetched as the dream might be, you can sethauhttge awe amount will at least look like by peering in the window of Shaws Jewelers, 24 N. Saginaw St., today and tomorrow.

You can look at these bundles of 100 $1 bills that represent a stack 31 feet high and weigh 300 pounds. But don't get any ideas of handling the crisp bills for there will be no free samples, Harold Goldberg, Shaws' president warns.

The eye - catching load represents the amount of money won by 14-year-old George Wright on the Saturday night television show "The Big Surprise."

The two-day display is being promoted by Speidel, a national company that makes watch bands, and a co-sponsor of the show.

The money is being furnished by the Community National Bank and is being brought here from the Detroit Federal Reserve vaults by a heavily guarded Brink's truck.

Pontiac Press Photo

MUCH MOOLA — Arriving this morning via a heavily-guarded Brink's truck from the Detroit Federal Reserve vaults, is this load of $100,000 in $1 bills which will be displayed in Shaws Jewelers' windows today and tomorrow. Fast at work in counting the money is Marlene Tobin, 62 Waldo St., (left) and Elaine Hamilton, 30 N. Hilldale Dr., both of the Community National Bank, who loaned the $100,000 for the two days. Looking on is Thomas Brown, manager of Shaws.

In Memoriam 2

IN PRECIOUS MEMORY OF OUR Mother and Grandmother, Antonian Rogowski who passed away three years ago March 23, 1953.
No one knows the silent heartaches, only those who lose can tell
The grief we bear in silence, for one we loved so well.
Someday, sometime, our eyes shall see the face we keep in memory
And God will link the broken chain still closer when we meet again
Sadly missed by Leo, Velma and children.

ONE FULL YEAR GUARANTEE

Consider these advantages of the NATIONAL BONDED guarantee. A dealer can guarantee his cars only in his dealership. NATIONAL BONDED GUARANTEES THE CAR ANYWHERE IN THE U.S. AT THE REPAIR SHOP OF THE OWNER'S CHOOSING . . . The dealer's guarantee is actually a personal guarantee. If bad health or business failure should visit the dealer, the guarantee is void. NATIONAL BONDED is backed by $120,000,000 in assets. Regardless what happens to the individual, the owner's protection continues for the full year . . . The dealer's guarantee is on a percentage basis. The dealer pays a share of the repair costs and the owner pays a share. NATIONAL BONDED pays the repair bill in full; the owner pays nothing.

Many Others to Choose From

SMALL DOWN PAYMENTS

If you haven't been able to buy a car anywhere else because you were short of cash or because your car is too old to cover the down payment . . . or if you've been told you owe too much on your car to make a deal, come in and see us. We've helped a lot of people, and we may be able to help you.

Silvers Rated Comic of Year

Berle 'Knocked Off' as Gobel, Durante, Others Falter Badly

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—It's been a rough year on comics, male variety. The pressure has grown worse, new clowns are barking and even biting at the heels of past masters of the guffaw and giggle.

* * *

Phil Silvers started quietly in the terrible Tuesday-at-8 CBS spot that even Milton Berle said he wouldn't give to a leopard.

Dozens of comedians and hundreds of formats had been tried and strained in the awful opposite-Berle time.

Not even Frank Sinatra made a dent in the impregnable Berle bastion.

* * *

The ultimate happy honor of "knocking off Berle" fell to Phil Silvers, in what essentially is a fairly modest program—on film, without expensive or fancy production; just very good performances by Phil and his troop of low comedy pseudo-military men, and, of course, some of the best comedy writing on the air.

SLIPS BADLY

Berle has slipped badly this season. He started out not knowing precisely what he wanted; he announced he'd try a little of everything. In TV, a little of everything usually means a lot of indecision. It certainly did in Berle's case.

* * *

It was a year of some decline for George Gobel, too. Gobel now leans more and more on tricks and cute mannerisms. His old catch phrases have begun to wear thin, and he didn't coin any good new ones.

Jimmy Durante suffered more than somewhat. His drive and fervor remained, but perhaps his writing and backstage creativeness couldn't keep up.

Bob Hope still is "big," but not the same laugh-filled economy size of other seasons. Red Buttons disappeared into a cloud of cash at Las Vegas. Johnny Carson came, was sceen, and was conquered by his chilly personality and random notions.

Red Skelton made a comparative comeback once he decided to stick to his scripts.

SINKS INTO FILM

Eddie Cantor sank in a sea of celluloid and left network TV for syndicated, meaning films shown locally, comedy. They weren't very funny.

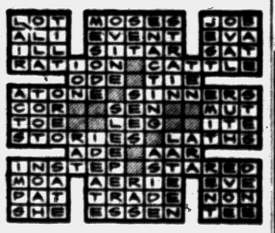

As we gaze around the top shows, one comedian actually stands out, and at attention this spring:

It's Phil Silvers, portraying Sgt. Bilko in the Tuesday-at-8 CBS slot, that NBC and ABC now are publicly plotting to assault next season with something new, different and sufficient "to knock off Phil Silvers," even as they all once wanted so terribly to knock off Berle.

Therefore, our selection as TV's best comedian this year is—Phil Silvers.

Argentia's new Minister of Agriculture has pleaded with rural workers to stay on the job and not be "dazzled or ruined" by the bright lights of cities.

Shingles Bring 'Color' Headache to Husband

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Roy Moise is caught between his wife and the city Art Commission as to what color shingles should be on his house.

Mrs. Moise wants green shingles. When the contractor tried to get a city permit, the matter was referred to the Art Commission because the house is near a park.

Too drab, said the commission. Moise should use white.

Moise said yesterday his wife is Irish and wants green and I've gotta live with the woman. I don't know what I'm gonna do."

Pakistan New Islam Republic

Accept Free Association With British Crown as Commonwealth Nation

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Pakistan formally became a republic within the British Commonwealth today amid joyful prayer and glittering ceremony.

Henceforth the nation of 80 million people—85 per cent of them Moslem—will be known as the Islamic Republic of Pakistan. Like India, it does not pay allegiance to the British Crown but accepts it as the symbol of its "free association" with the other Commonwealth nations.

In an impressive ceremony at Karachi, Maj. Gen. Iskander Mirza—until yesterday governor general of the Dominion of Pakistan—was sworn in as the new republic's first president.

Some 50 special foreign envoys represented virtually every major country at the event. President Eisenhower sent Jefferson Caffery, a diplomatic veteran in the Moslem world who retired at the end of 1954 after being U.S. Ambassador to Egypt.

Pakistan was voted a republic last month by the Constituent Assembly which also named Mirza provisional president to serve until a presidential election is held. There has been no indication when the voting would come.

The Constituent Assembly now becomes the republic's first legislature, the National Assembly.

Earmarks $5,000 in Will for Needy Children Aid

In a will filed in Oakland County Probate Court, the late George S. Matick, of Birmingham, leaves $5,000 to Detroit Archbishop Edward Cardinal Mooney to be used in aiding needy children.

* * *

Matick died Feb. 26. The balance of his personal estate, estimated at $50,000, is to be divided among relatives.

Eight Egyptians Die in Railway Mishap

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Rails weakened by the widening of a canal gave way beneath a passenger express train early today and eight Egyptians were killed.

The wreck occurred 180 miles south of Cairo, near Maghagha. The train was bound from Cairo to Aswan, Egypt's major winter resort on the upper Nile 360 miles south of the capital.

The Egyptian State Railways announced the dead included Bishop Anba Thomas, secretary of the holy synod of Egypt's Coptic Christian Church, and a Coptic priest accompanying him.

Railway officials said a "small number" of persons were injured but as yet they were not certain how many.

Auto Firms to Honor Top Conservationists

Outstanding conservationists will be cited in 1956 by two U.S. auto firms, Nash Motors and the Studebaker Division, officials said yesterday.

Nash will present 10 awards, each consisting of a bronze plaque and $500, to professional conservationists, and an equal number of plaques to non-professionals. Nominees will be selected from letters.

Studebaker will join with the Izaak Walton League to pick two delegates from each state to attend the third annual Young Outdoor Americans conference in Sioux City, Ia., April 18-20.

In announcing the awards, both firms stressed the importance of conservation in relation to automobile travel.

Farmer Income Rises

WASHINGTON — The United States Chamber of Commerce reports that while over-all farm income has dropped since 1947, per capital farm income has increased, since the farm population has declined.
