Tax Hike Likely After City Salary Increase

'Cuba Will Continue to Respect Religion'

HAVANA (AP) — President Osvaldo Dorticos early today assured the Cuban people Fidel Castro's regime will continue "respecting all religious cults" despite "provocations."

Speaking at a postmidnight labor rally, the president made no specific mention of the Roman Catholic hierarchy's pastoral letter last Sunday warning of the advance of communism in Cuba. Nor did he refer to the threat Tuesday by the archbishop coadjutor of Havana to close all Catholic churches on the island and suspend church services unless the government calls off pro-Castro demonstrators harassing anti-Communist churchgoers.

But in an apparent retreat to the pastoral letter, Dorticos said: "Those imputations will fall into a void and they will be applauded only by those who have interests that demand that applause."

The president accused "counter-revolutionaries and proimperialists" of "wielding religious sentiments against the Cuban revolution."

"They are useless maneuvers and will destroy themselves," Dorticos declared. "All this will have to be defeated. Our energies must be reserved for greater battles."

Dorticos spoke a few hours after a demonstration outside Havana Cathedral sent the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Evelio Diaz hurrying to the presidential palace with a warning that he would close all Catholic churches in Cuba today and declare the church "in silence"—the Vatican's term for the church's restricted operations in Communist countries—unless the government guarantees the safety of churchgoers.

Msgr. Diaz has taken over administration of the church in Cuba as a result of the poor health of Manuel Cardinal Arteaga, 80.

There was no immediate official response to the archbishop's threat. A well-informed church source said the churches actually would not be closed today.

The demonstration outside the cathedral was the third since July 17, when anticommunism was manifested publicly at a church service in the cathedral.

A gang of youths assembled outside the building during a high Mass in honor of Cuban priests.

Eyewitnesses said the youths—some armed with steel bars and wooden clubs — shouted "down with the Pope" and "down with priests" and struck several worshippers as they left the cathedral.

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A high Vatican source said today Roman Catholic leaders feel "sorrow and concern" over conflicts between church and state in Cuba—especially the arrest there Tuesday of two priests.

DEMANDS GUARANTEES — The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Evelii Diaz, archbishop coadjutor of Havana, threatened Tuesday in Havana to silence all Roman Catholic churches in Cuba unless the Castro regime prevents further antichurch demonstrations and guarantees freedom of worship. The church "in silence" means that all church services would be suspended. Demonstrators outside the churches have yelled "Down with the Pope" and have struck worshipers as they left the buildings. Police so far have managed to break up the jeering crowds.

Ike May Join in Discussions on Arms Ban

Holds Door Open to a Private Talk With Nikita —Hints New N-Tests

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower held open today the possibility that he may take part in some United Nations meeting on disarmament if he decides his personal attendance is necessary.

Eisenhower discounted the possibility of a private talk with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if Khrushchev heads the Russian delegation to the U. N. —but again the President held the door open.

He said he would be prepared to see Khrushchev if he thought that would be useful. But he explained he had considered the possibility so remote that he had not really thought about it.

However, under questioning at his news conference, Eisenhower said he would invite Khrushchev to Washington if he thought it would serve any useful purpose. He called the likelihood remote.

Eisenhower hinted today the United States may be reaching the end of its patience in refraining from nuclear tests.

But he said this country under no circumstances would conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere which might cause people of the world to fear for their health.

The President told his news conference that when disarmament and nuclear test ban negotiations with Russia reach a point where no progress seems possible this

Rain Fails to Dim 4-H Fair Night

As the gates opened, so did the skies, and the sudden storm threatened to wash out opening night of the Oakland County 4-H Fair last night.

But rain cannot wash away memories.

And that is why it was a GRAND opening for several thousand 4-H club members.

For people like Ralph A. Hoxie II and Carolyn R. Bowers the memories will be sweetest.

They were selected as this year's King and Queen of the 4-H Fair.

For them, all that glitters IS gold.

The 17-year-old king has some 55 projects to his credit in his eight years as a 4-H member and was a runnerup in last year's contest.

Carolyn, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Bowers of 4105 S. Hill St., Milford.

She is currently president of the Busy Fingers Club in South Lyon and past treasurer and recreation leader of the Nu-Ly-Wix Club of New Hudson, South Lyon and Wixom.

Carolyn was chosen from 12 finalists in the queen contest.

The glitter is also golden for Cordree Heard, 18, of 3502 Old Plank Rd., Milford Township, and Rosemary Moran, 17, of 10410 Dartmouth St., Independence Township, who were selected as the queen's court.

Cordree is a member of the Milford Club and Rosemary hails from

Commissioners OK $268,000 in Extra Wages

General Cost Increase Could Add Mill to Tax or Bring Service Cut

By PETE LOCHBILER

An increase in the city tax rate was acknowledged today as a likely result of $250,000 a year in pay boosts granted by the City Commission last night to municipal employes.

The cost in 1961 is estimated at more than a quarter million dollars—$268,000, according to latest estimates.

"The whole Commission realizes that this is going to mean an adjustment in our budget next year," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

"It may be necessary to increase the tax rate."

What the increase might be next year, hasn't been discussed yet, Rowston said.

But any discussion, he acknowledged, would have to take into account the general increase in costs to the city other than salaries.

It would require about one mill — or $1 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation — to raise next year's salary increases on this year's assessed valuation of $781,000,000.

The Commission, Rowston said, will begin budget deliberations in October.

Rowston saw these alternatives or supplementary adjustments to a tax increase — reduction of city services, a cut in the capital improvement program or an increase in nontax revenues.

By holding wage increases down in January, the city was able to maintain for the third straight year a tax rate of $13.27 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation. This, amount's to $66.35 on an average, $5,000 home.

The big pay boosts came as a result of the decision to implement in its entirety the new pay plan which commissioners called for earlier this year.

City Manager Walter K. Willman, with an eye to next year's budget, had recommended only partial implementation.

The raises will go into effect Aug. 28 and show up for the first time in municipal checks Sept. 16. They will cost the city an estimated $90,000 the rest of the year.

Willman had recommended granting $70,000 in wage increases this year, under a plan that would have cost only $130,000 next year.

The decision to implement the pay plan in full came after commissioners had met many times

Terrorize Roseville Motel

Thieves Kill Grandmother

DETROIT (AP)—A grandmother was shot to death in the $100 holdup of her Roseville motel today by two vicious gunmen. The woman's husband was beaten unconscious.

The armed pair, who terrorized occupants of the motel, were believed to be the same men who shortly afterward stole $1,140 in a bar holdup in neighboring St. Clair Shores.

State Police and Macomb County authorities started a huge manhunt for the robbers.

Mrs. Alberdiena Boll, 55, operator with her husband Anton, 56, of the Light Tower Motel on Gratiot avenue, was shot to death as she, ran screaming to a motel tenant's door for help.

One of the two gunmen had pursued her out a door, firing a shotgun loaded with birdshot. The fatal blast struck the woman on the left side of the head and left shoulder.

The holdup pair then knocked Boll unconscious with a blow from a gun, threatened a daughter, Hendriena, 19, with death, and ran off after scooping the $100 from a dresser in Boll's apartment.

Works 7 Days a Week

Herbert Hoover Turns 86

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't retire and start discussing pills with the fellow next door.

Keep working—say at the rate of seven days a week.

Once in a while, if you ever get the chance and like such things as fishing, try to hook a few brook trout.

All that is a time-tested formula offered by a man who has found it works very well, indeed: Herbert Hoover.

The former Republican president is spryly observing his 86th birthday today—at his desk working as usual. He didn't have time for anything else much, as eight full-time secretaries will readily affirm.

Hoover, with some reluctance but with good-natured remarks, took time out Tuesday to answer questions in connection with what he termed his "bipartisan" birthday and also to give a general accounting of his activities during the past year.

They included:

Attendance at 35 public functions, delivery of 20 speeeches ("without a ghost writer"), answering 21,195 letters, acceptance of 23 awards, 14,000 miles of travel, television appearances, cornerstone layings and the raising of $1,200,000 or more for his pet project, the Boys Clubs of America.

I hope you will conclude that I have not ceased work," he said smilingly to a roomful of reporters and photographers. He said he hadn't intended to hold a birthday news conference this year.

"I thought we had done that stunt often enough" Hoover remarked with a grin. "However, that idea met many protests."

Hoover ranged over a variety of topics as he sat at his desk in his Waldorf-Astoria hotel suite. His ruddy complexion, sparkling blue eyes, frequent witticisms speedy replies to questions gave an impression of stalwart physical condition. His only seeming difficulty was with his hearing at times.

He voiced pleasure at receiving "many touching tributes from both sides of the political area."

"I have many friends on the other side," he added.

Hoover said he also was gratified by an avalanche of favorable comment on his most recent "farewell speech" at the Republican National Convention.

News Flashes

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Rioting swept the Congo capital's sprawling Negro city tonight and Premier Patrice Lumumba was reported wounded while attempting to calm the populace. This could not be confirmed immediately in the chaotic conditions prevailing.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Unemployment dropped by 406,000 in July, while the number of people holding jobs increased by 110,000, the Labor Department reported today.

Lumumba Will Help Chase Belgian Force

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba who has been threatening a lone-wolf invasion of rebellious Katanga Province, offered today to help the United Nations get Belgian soldiers out of the Congo. Most are not concentrated in Katanga.

In a letter to U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, Lumumba said his government is at the disposal of the international organization.

In Brussels, Belgian Radio said four U.N. Tunisian soldiers have been attacked and killed by Africans apparently involved in tribal warfare in the Congo.

If confirmed, this would be the first incident of U.N. casualties in the Congo.

A pacific note was sounded at the same time in Katanga's capital, Elisabethville, by Premier Moise Tshombe. Tshombe announced he has cabled Hammarskjold that he is ready to negotiate with a U.N. envoy for the eventual entry of the U.N. force.

Lumumba's government had threatened a general mobilization for invasion of Katanga unless the U.N. force entered that secessionist province by the weekend.

Information Minister Anicet Kashamura voiced the mobilization threat in an interview and added: "We will enter Katanga alone."

Whatever the weight of this declaration, officers of the U. N. force told newsmen they expect orders to move into Katanga be-

Moscow Ejects U.S. Air Attache

He Allegedly Snapped Photographs of Military Objectives in Urals

MOSCOW (UPI)—The U. S. Air Attache to the Soviet Union has been ordered out of the country for conducting intelligence activities "incompatible with his diplomatic status," the official Tass News Agency said today.

The Agency said Air Attache F. M. Kirton and his Assistant L. T. McDonald were detained recently after allegedly photographing military objectives at Kurgan in the Trans-Ural Mountain Region.

(In Washington, the Air Force identified the attache as Col. Edwin M. Kirton of Palo Alto, Calif., and his assistant as Capt. Irving T. McDonald, of Provincetown, Mass.)

The Kurgan Region is about 250 air miles from the Sverdlovsk industrial area in Siberia in which American U-2 Reconnaissance Plane Pilot Francis G. Powers was downed May 1. Powers goes on trial for espionage Aug. 17.

"Competent Soviet authorities have established that Kerton engaged in the Soviet Union in activities incompatible with his diplomatic status," Tass said.

It alleged he recently was "apprehended while photographing military objects during his trip to Kurgan."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain, who last March said he was through with professional basketball, today signed a new three-year contract with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

Hit Corruption in RO Township

A demand to correct the "deplorable conditions" in Royal Oak Township was made last night by a group of Oakland County Democrats.

In a new move, the liberal-labor faction of the county Democratic committee urged an immediate investigation by a governmental agency "to ascertain why these conditions have been permitted to fester as a cancer on the community for so long."

The group, headed by Mrs. Harriett Phillips, Huntington Woods housewife and a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, accused officials of "blindly" ignoring the corruption which exists in the township.

It did not specify what officials.

In a prepared press release coming out of a meeting of 200 members of the faction last night in Pontiac, it was further alleged that some township families had been denied help from public and private social agencies. No agencies were specified.

The group said it was stepping into the situation because officials are indifferently disposed to do anything about those conditions.

"It is apparent from many of the individual testimonies of decent people wanting earnestly to give their children a fair chance in life, that we, the citizens of Oakland County, have failed them in their hour of need," the release stated.

A spokesman for the group said the township situation was brought to the attention of Mrs. Phillips by party workers there.

It is expected that a similar call for action will be made shortly to the Democratic committee.

Hits 'Deception' in U.S. Politics

Mr. K Hints at Travel to U.N. to Argue Soviet Stand on Disarmament

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in an interview published by Pravda today that "aggressive" political circles in the United States are attempting to deceive American voters on disarmament and other election issues.

During the interview, excerpts of which were released by Tass Tuesday, Khrushchev hinted he may travel to United Nations headquarters in New York to argue the Soviet stand on disarmament before the General Assembly.

Leading the Soviet U.N. delegation would be "a great honor," the Russian Premier said.

Khrushchev said the Eisenhower administration's request for a meeting of the U.N. Disarmament Commission prior to the General Assembly session was presented only to "make a pretense of being champions of disarmament . . . in the hopes the voters will not see through these doings."

He added, however, that "what election slogans are advanced is a domestic affair of the U.S.A. Americans are free to do as they choose."

Stockmeyer Defends Self on Civil Rights

DETROIT (UP) — Warren O. Stockmeyer, Wayne County Republican chairman, Tuesday accused Gov. Williams of "misuse" of the truth and the Democrats of insincerity toward civil rights.

Stockmeyer, a real estate broker, replied in a formal statement to Democrat Williams' criticism of his opposition to the state's new so-called antibias rule in real estate transactions.

The Wayne GOP leader said that in testifying before legislative committee he only defended what he called the "basic right of every American" to sell, rent or lease his property as he wishes.

Merchants Invited to Discuss Renewal

Real estate dealers, bankers, builders, contractors and suppliers in the Pontiac area have been invited to a City Hall meeting at 2 p.m. Aug. 24 to discuss various phases of the upcoming urban renewal project, assistant city manager Robert A. Stierer said today.

Among the speakers will be Mayor Philip E. Rowston, City Manager Walter K. Willman, Stierer; James Bates, city planning director, and James Conway, assistant director of the Detroit regional office of the FHA.

During the meeting, special FHA financial aids will be discussed, as well as financing by local bankers.

Premier to Aid U.N. in Removing Soldiers

fore Saturday. Commanders of the 15,000-man U.N. force were confident a detachment will enter soon, and without any shooting.

In Brussels, an angry Belgian government started reviewing its ties with the Western Alliance in view of the Security Council vote ordering Belgian troops to get out of the Congo's Katanga Province "immediately."

Government officials were upset at the fact that only Italy and France of the four NATO members on the Council abstained from the vote in New York yesterday.

Even the Congolese people gave little weight to Lumumba's warning Tuesday that he would send his own and other African soldiers into the rich, rebellious domain of Premier Moise Tshombe.

* * *

AWAITED RETURN

The diplomatic community and U. N. officials awaited the return of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, probably Thursday, to see how he deals with Lumumba in carrying out the U. N. Security Council's new mandate to replace Belgian soldiers in Katanga with the U. N. force. Tshombe has conditionally assented.

Tshombe, who blocked a scheduled entry of the U. N. force last Saturday with a threat of war, backed down Tuesday and offered conditions for them to enter the territory he has declared independent of Lumumba's central government in Leopoldville.

The fledgling Congolese army stepped up efforts to consolidate its police powers. Cars with steel-helmeted Congolese soldiers of the new commander, Gen. Victor Lundula, criss-crossed Lepoldville where the authority to maintain order theoretically is in U. N. hands.

The government pressed measures to thwart what it terms "subversive agitation."

In the wake of the expulsion of Belgian Ambassador Jean Van den Bosch, most members of the 25-man Embassy staff were preparing to leave in response to orders to get out or face arrest.

Belgian consulates in key cities were ordered closed.

City and School Tax Collections Are Favorable

The July 1 to Aug. 2 city and school tax collections were "very favorable," City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings said today.

He said that the collection amounted to $9,827,326 on the city and school spread of $10,489,192. The percentage of taxes collected without penalties was 93.69 per cent, he said.

The 1960 tax collection kept pace with last year's good record, when $9,438,367 was collected on a spread of $10,026,837, he said.

Penalties on delinquent taxes on personal and real property went into effect Aug. 3.

Baldwin Rubber Sets Walled Lake Picnic

The 12th annual Baldwin Rubber Co. employe picnic will begin Saturday at 10 a.m. at Walled Lake Amusement Park.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 employes and their families are expected.

There'll be games, contests and prizes in addition to a picnic and carnival rides.

2 State Dems Lose Out

WASHINGTON (UP) — Michigan Democratic Sens. Phil Hart and Patrick McNamara voted on the losing side Tuesday as Senate Democrats tabled and killed a two-point civil rights bill offered by Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill). The vote was 54-28.

Judah P. Benjamin served at various times as attorney general, secretary of war and secretary of state in the cabinet of the Confederate States of America.

Commissioner Cites Speeding

Asks City Traffic Bureau

Re-establishment of a traffic patrol bureau in the Pontiac Police Department was urged last night by City Commissioner Winford E. Bottom.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask Acting Police Chief Joseph Korean to study the proposal.

Bottom attributed an apparent increase in violations of speeding laws to the lack of roving patrol cars charged specifically with traffic enforcement.

Former Public Safety Director George D. Eastman abolished the old traffic patrol bureau and made traffic enforcement the responsibility of all police officers.

"Speeding was under control once in the city, but now its way out of hand," stated Bottom. "It's a citywide problem."

The latest complaints about speeding came from Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr., who called Ottawa drive "a speedway in the early morning and late afternoon."

If the city allowed parking on one side of Ottawa, he suggested, speeding might be discouraged.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the parking proposal would be taken up by the administration's traffic committee.

Commissioners have been reporting speeding complaints since spring time.

To Seek Wider Weeding Power

City Commission Will Ask League to Consider Sponsoring Amendment

Broader powers in the city weed cutting program will be sought by the City Commission for next year.

This was decided last night after Commissioner John A. Dugan renewed criticism of the state act that lets the city move in and cut weeds when property owners fail to do so.

What Dugan has frequently objected to is the limitation in the act preventing the city from taking action in areas that are not 60 per cent settled.

"I don't mean that the city should be cutting 100-acre vacant fields," he explained. "But I do think weeds should be cut on a reasonable basis in areas where there are homes."

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the Michigan Municipal League should be asked at its meeting next month to consider sponsoring a legislative amendment to the state act, permitting cities wider powers.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said he would submit a proposed amendment to Pontiac's State Rep. Arthur J. Law for possible introduction in the Legislature next year.

Johnson to Skip State on Trip

Earlier Announcement Had Lyndon Here With Jack on Labor Day

By The Associated Press

Massachusetts Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, will be in Michigan on a Labor Day campaign swing.

Kennedy's Washington office has announced that the nominee will be accompanied for part of the Labor Day weekend by his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

The two plan a swing through San Francisco and Honolulu, but Johnson will not take in the rest of the trip which will bring Kennedy to Michigan for a major campaign speech in Detroit and brief stops at Pontiac, Flint and Muskegon.

Kennedy aides earlier had announced that Johnson would accompany the presidential candidate to Michigan, a state the Texas senator has yet to visit.

It also was learned Tuesday that Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, the Democratic candidate for governor, will support his defeated primary election rival, James M. Hare, for renomination as secretary of state only on certain conditions.

AT A SECRET MEETING

The decision was worked out at a secret meeting at Swainson's home in Lansing.

Swainson said "no conclusions were reached" after meeting with Gov. Williams, State Chairman Neil Staebler and other Democratic political leaders.

However, from other sources it was determined those attending the session agreed to Swainson's proposal that Hare be permitted to stay on the party band wagon only if he agrees to take a back seat.

It was understood that in exchange for Swainson's support in the campaign, Hare must agree to bring department of state operations closer to the executive office than in the past.

Williams was scheduled to make his final appearance today at the Ionia Free Fair as governor. He has attended all the fairs at Ionia since taking office. Swainson and Hare are among others who have accepted invitations.

Paul D. Bagwell, Republican gubernatorial candidate, also was scheduled to attend.

Meanwhile, Congressman Alvin M. Bentley, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, said he will appeal to GOP national headquarters in Washington in an effort to obtain the party's 1964 convention for Detroit.

The Owosso lawmaker said he hoped a Michigan Democrat would join him in a similar appeal to Democratic national headquarters.

GOP Express Runs on Java

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Here's a bit of friendly advice.

Don't bother to ask any of the county Republican nominees out for coffee after the Nov. 8 election.

All 13 of them—plus the top level party leaders—will be all coffeed out by then.

They'll be up to their ears in coffee by the time "Operation Coffee Cup" comes to what party leaders hope will result in a sugary success when the fall election rolls around.

Republican women of the county, through the newly created federation of some 15 clubs, this week kicked off the first of some 500 campaign "coffees" to be held throughout the county between now and the election.

If you're a Republican—or maybe even a Democrat—your neighbor might be asking you over for a cup and to meet one of the local GOP candidates or party leaders.

And you won't have to drop all of your household chores or dress up. She'll undoubtedly tell you to come as you are

SIMPLE AFFAIRS

A suggestion has been made to coffee hostesses by Mrs. Joseph Hainline, "Operation Coffee Cup" director, to "keep your coffee (the gathering, that is) simple and informal."

Wear your Bermudas or slacks if you like, she suggested.

The Republican ladies, who proved their worth recently at a well-attended candidates rally, hope to make the numerous candidates more than a name. Meet them in person, learn how they stand on many issues, and ask them questions, Mrs. Hainline said.

It is hoped the coffees, similar to those held in 1956 and 1958, will accomplish more than a personal contact with a candidate—and possibly a dislike of coffee.

"They will be a great means of recruiting workers," explained John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the county committee. "We can motivate them on the spot."

If Republican state candidates happen to be in the area they will be asked to drop in for a cup, he said.

Urban Contract Being Studied

Commission Goes Over HHFA Loan Plan for 1st Renewal Project

City commissioners have under study today a proposed 47-page contract with the Housing and Home Finance Agency for financing of the city's first urban renewal project.

"As soon as we sign the contract we can start drawing on our federal loan," said City Manager Walter K. Willman in presenting the document last night for a week's study. It was submitted to the city by John P. McCollum, Chicago regional administrator of the HHFA.

The federal share of the five-year, $4-million renewal effort has already been approved in Washington.

The contract provides for a federal loan of $5,165,044 for property acquisition and administrative costs plus one outright grant of $2,293,317 to cover two-thirds of the net cost and another of $127,245 for relocation of displaced families.

The city plans to put in public improvements amounting to one-third of the net project cost.

The project is bounded by Pike, Paddock, Perkins, Parkhurst, Osmun and Saginaw streets. Appraisers are making final appraisals on which initial purchase offers will be based this fall.

Rain Fails to Dim 4-H Fair's Opening Night

the East Orion Club in Lake Orion.

During the finals, the 4-H members momentarily forgot about the 3,000 exhibits they had worked all day to set up at the fair grounds on Mill just south of Walton boulevard.

Judges in the king and queen contests were Judge Clark J. Adams, Oakland County Circuit Court, Dr. George Matthews, acting dean of MSUO, and Mrs. F.G. Garrison, trustee of the Michigan 4-H Foundation and a member of the National 4-H Sponsors' Council.

The king and queen were chosen on personal appearance, overall club record, community activities, education and an extemporaneous speech.

Hoxie is a graduate of West Bloomfield High School and plans to enter Michigan State University this fall and major in dairy production.

He has been a member of the Bloomfield Club for eight years and a past secretary of the club.

He is currently president of the Oakland County 4-H Service Club and was recently chosen as the outstanding boy in over-all achievement to represent Southeastern Michigan in the state finals.

Hoxie has horticulture, bee keeping, tractor maintenance, and junior leadership exhibits in this year's fair and will compete in the plowing contest today.

The pretty queen with big brown eyes has more than 70 exhibits to her credit over her seven years as member.

In this year's fair she has two steers in the beef exhibit plus exhibits in cooking, freezing and canning.

She specializes in steers and has had at least one entered in every fair for the past seven years.

One of them in this fair she raised from a calf.

Carolyn admits it's hard work, but she has earned $900 from her efforts and her current "herd" is worth well over that figure.

She won a Dress Review pin at 4-H achievement day last spring in Pontiac and last year won the county and district top canning award.

Carolyn is a junior at Milford High School and hopes to major in Home Economics at Michigan State University someday.

From the glitter of royalty the crowd's attention turned to other things — freckles, to be exact.

Some 20 youngsters paraded forth in what must go down as one of the greatest mass of freckles ever seen.

From them emerged 11-year-old Jim Barriger of Clawson as the 1960 Freckle Champion.

He was the first boy ever to win the annual Pontiac Press-sponsored contest. A $50 savings bond goes to the winner.

Judges Lee Winborn, Pontiac Press suburban news editor; Clarence M. Burr, Rochester Village councilman, and Mrs. Mary Hardy, Oakland County Home demonstration agent, picked the youth with his flaming red hair for top honors.

He is the son of Mrs. Mildred Barriger of 484 Park Dr. and a student at Paul A. Schram Elementary School in Clawson.

He's a member of Cub Scout Pack C5 and plays on the cub scout team, the White Sox.

"Some people call me 'Red'," he advised.

Jim's brother, Tom, 9, said he was "proud to be the brother of the champ."

About all that remains to be said of the Freckle Champ is that if he ever gets the measles, no one will know it.

But, royalty or not, everyone will be pitching in and working hard again today as fair activities swing into their first full day.

Following home economics, poultry, and general exhibit judging this morning, a colorful parade moved through downtown Pontiac.

Working like beavers during the morning, the king and queen took time out to ride in their place of honor in today's parade.

City Salary Raises May Hike Taxes

with employe representatives, the final time last week.

The raises represent a victory for employe groups, especially the firemen, who have been campaigning for a new pay plan for almost a year.

The new plan replaces one that was adopted by the city back in the 1940s. Since then, employes have been receiving annual cost of living raises, generally amounting to 2 to 3 per cent of their base wages. The increase in January was 2½ per cent.

tiac wage scales were unfairly geared to those in effect in government and industry in outstate Michigan cities.

They said Pontiac pay should be comparable to pay in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

James Yarger, independent personnel consultant retained by the city to draw up the new pay plan, agreed with the firemen. He said maximum pay in almost all job classifications should be boosted.

Almost all employes now will receive boosts according to the step in the new pay plan that corresponds to their seniority.

Annual increases will be due next year on each employe's employment anniversary.

THROWN OUT — Baron Jean Van den Bosch, Belgian ambassador to the Congo, Tuesday was thrown out by the government of the new republic which accused him of fomenting unrest and of working to break up the new nation.

The Day in Birmingham

Service Building Plans Are Halted by Injunction

BIRMINGHAM — The Franklin Community Assn. plans to construct a service building have been halted temporarily by a circuit court injunction.

The temporary injunction issued by Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer was sought by the Property Owners Protective Association of Franklin.

The protective association claims the community building is to be constructed in an area where deed restrictions allow only residential dwellings.

The site is on Carol road near Franklin road.

A hearing to show cause why plans for the $75,000 community building should not proceed has been set for Aug. 29.

A $23,000 blacktopping project on Jackson Park road in Bloomfield Township will get under way this fall with the completion set for the spring of next year.

The cost of paving the one-third-of-a-mile road will be assessed to 19 property owners.

Concrete, which would cost approximately the same as the asphalt, was considered, but engineers reported the asphalt more suitable for the area's soil conditions.

The American LaFrance Co. has been awarded a $39,665 contract for the construction of the city's new fire truck.

Awarding of the contract had been delayed two weeks by the City Commission on the recommendation of Fire Chief Park Smith to permit an investigation and evaluation of the proposed units offered.

Mrs. Joseph A. Geyman

Service for former Birmingham resident, Mrs. Joseph (Louisa) A. Geyman, 90, of Detroit, will be 1 p.m. Friday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Geyman died Tuesday after a long illness.

She is survived by a son, Clarence of Detroit, four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Ike May Join Arms Ban Talks

country will have to take care of itself.

Eisenhower said emphatically that Congress cannot take the view that politicking is more important than the national interest.

He added that it was a little bit silly for Democratic critics to accuse him of unloading new programs on Congress when he merely had restated recommendations he made during the preconvention session of Congress.

The President made another reply to Democratic critics, specifically Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee — when he said there was nothing in the economic picture now to indicate that a recession or depression is in the offing.

LASHES CRITICS

Eisenhower struck back at Democratic criticism of his defense program and the 22-point legislative proposals he sent the Senate when it reconvened Monday.

Specifically, Eisenhower said that he has not frozen $21 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress as charged by Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee and Senate party leader.

There is no reason to say, Eisenhower declared vigorously, that these funds will not be spent.

The President said the Democratic Congress had cut his budget request $1,75 billion but had added $1.1 billion for purposes he had not outlined. The rejuggling of this is not done in a few weeks, he added.

OTHER VIEWS

On other subjects, Eisenhower expressed these views:

CONGO — The United States approves the resolution adopted by the U.N. Security Council and regards it as another step forward. This country welcomes the steps Belgium has taken to relieve tensions and hopes that through future cooperation the confidence of the Belgian and Congo people will be restored.

VETOES — Eisenhower was asked whether he would consult Nixon before rejecting or approving bills Congress passes.

He replied that he has always kept Nixon fully informed. But he said that in the final analysis the decision he makes on any measure will have to be his own, made on what he feels is best.

He added sharply that this is his responsibility and will be until noon of Jan. 20 when he goes out of office.

CUBA — If any Latin American government should come under the dominance of international communism and become a satellite, Eisenhower said this would call for very definite action.

He added however that if someone might believe in a different form of government than we have and establish it freely, that would be a different matter.

But he said he does not believe anything like this is going to happen because he said no people have voted to place themselves under a dictatorship.

LAOS — The government has been trying to get details about the military coup there but has learned very little about it thus far.

Killed in Crash With Gas Truck in Bloomfield

An Independence Township man was killed early today on Telegraph road when he lost control of his car and collided with a gasoline truck in Bloomfield Township.

Fatally injured was Miles H. Hicks, 21, of 9657 Snowapple Dr.

Hicks' car was struck broadside by a tractor-trailer truck driven by Oakley J. Radabaugh, 39, of Taylor, when Hicks crossed the centerline, Bloomfield Township police said.

Railroad Strike Idles Steelmen

Marathon Talks Fail to Halt 300-Man Stroll in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Some 300 trainmen struck the Monongahela connecting railroad today in a contract dispute idling 12,000 steel workers at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. Pittsburgh works.

A 21-hour negotiating session failed to avert the strike.

The strikers are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

A spokesman said the union is seeking a contract similar to that signed by the United Steelworkers and the basic steel industry.

The railroad serves two J&L plants in Pittsburgh. Company officials said the plant can't operate without the railroad, a subsidiary which hauls materials and supplies in the plants.

About 700 other railroad employes were idled by the strike.

Says Bible Study Our Answer to Troubled Youths

GRAND LEDGE (AP) — Youthful bible study is a positive antidote against juvenile delinquency, Michigan Seventh Day Adventists meeting here were told.

"There is no question that young people who study their bibles will not be found involved in today's problems of juvenile delinquency," said William J. Harris, Adventist youth leader.

Harris said the responsibility for religious education belongs to the parents.

"Sabbath schools do an excellent work but an hour a week is not enough," he said.

4 Chute From B52, but 3 Bring Her In COLUMBUS, Miss. (UPI)—Four crew members of a B52 jet bomber bailed out at 30,000 feet early today when the plane was hit by two explosions and went out of control but the pilot and two crew members stayed with the plane and brought it down safely.

The pilot, identified as Maj. William B. Fanyo, landed the plane at its Strategic Air Command base here.

The four who bailed out parachuted to the ground in the Starkville area, 30 miles from here. They suffered minor injuries but were picked up by rescue squads.

Coldwater Gets Garage

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department will build a new garage at Coldwater, at an estimated cost of $125,000. Bids on the building, which will house maintenance equipment for use in Branch County, will be opened here Aug. 25.

Payola Measure Provides Fines

FCC Endorses House Bill Outlawing Fixing of Quiz Shows

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission today endorsed a House-passed bill outlawing payola and quiz show fixing in the broadcasting industry.

The bill also would provide suspensions and fines for wrongdoing stations.

FCC Chairman Frederick W. Ford outlined his agency's views in testimony to a Senate Commerce subcommittee opening a short round of hearings on a broadcasting control bill.

Convening the hearing, the subcommittee chairman, John O. Pastore (D-RI), hailed the bill as achieving reforms "Congress is very anxious" to write into law.

The bill was drafted after House disclosures of quiz show rigging and undercover payments to disc jockeys.

Pastore's remarks paralleled a prediction he made in advance of the hearing that the Senate will pass the bill at an early date.

However, in his opening remarks at the hearing, Pastore indicated reservations about a provision that would authorize the FCC to put offending radio and television stations off the air for up to 10 days for what he termed "negligent and intentional" action.

He termed this phraseology as something new in communication law and said he didn't know exactly what it meant.

School Board Slates Meeting

To Clean Up Its Old Business in Waterford Township Tomorrow

Left-over business makes up most of the agenda for Thursday night's Waterford Township Board of Education meeting.

The attendance area for the Carl Sandburg Elementary School, one of three Waterford schools opening in the fall, will be considered further.

Accident insurance plans presented at last month's meeting by representatives of two insurance companies will be reviewed again by the Board.

Action was postponed until adequate study could be given to one plan, which was not presented until after the last meeting had begun.

The Board also will examine a report by the George E. Mason architectural firm on paving bids received for driveways, sidewalks and parking lots at Waterford's new Kettering High School, as well as study bids received on drainage work at the Henry R. Schoolcraft Elementary School.

Chrysler Fires Buyer on Supplier Payroll

DETROIT (AP)—A Chrysler Corp. buyer has been fired for "failing to comply with purchasing policy."

The auto firm said Tuesday the buyer was fired July 28. It said he was "not an executive nor an official."

The man apparently was discharged because he supposedly was on the payroll of a supplier company in the role of a consultant and that he sent purchasing orders to this company.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. If we have our dog bred, will special care be required during her pregancy?

A. The pregnancy period of dogs is relatively short (63 days) and seldom requires concern on the part of the owner.

In the event of unplanned parenthood, the animal's condition is usually evident between the fifth and sixth week, and can be confirmed by your veterinarian.

The normal dog will exhibit no temperamental tastes or actions. To avoid complications, have your pet examined for worms or other infirmities after the first week of pregnancy.

A diet high in protein and minerals is advisable, and can be achieved by accenting meat and milk products. Multiple vitamin-mineral supplements that are rich in calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin D are advantageous.

It is essential that your pet has exercise if she is to retain her muscle tone and avoid post-natal bulge.

Be prepared for the blessed event any time after the 56th day; this slight prematurity is not uncommon.

New Boat Engine Set for Production

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Eaton Mfg. Co. Tuesday announced a new marine product said to offer boat owners "the best features of inboard and outboard engines."

Eaton said its "Powernaut" marine drive was ready for production for use in conjunction with inboard engines in the pleasure boat field.

Boating experts for some time have pointed out that outboard engines are in many cases becoming too large for safety, convenience and economy of operation.

The inboard engine is regarded as superior, in larger pleasure boats at least, in efficiency, economy and reliability.

A Strange Telephone Drama!

Talks and Talks to Save Woman's Life

NEW YORK (AP)—It was an eerie telephone drama of the big city. At one end of the line was a despondent divorcee. At the other was a policeman talking desperately against the clock to save her life.

It started Tuesday with a doctor's call to Manhattan police headquarters.

He didn't have the woman's address, only her phone number, the doctor explained. A former patient had phoned to say she was going to jump from her seventh-floor apartment.

Patrolman James Dougherty dialed, got Johanne Marrow and began to talk.

In an off-hand manner, he wheedled her street address and passed it to a waiting patrolman. A radio police car headed for her West Side apartment building.

A minute passed, then another. Dougherty chatted and joked to keep the woman on the phone.

Another minute passed then another. Dougherty managed to get her apartment number and then told her he was a cop. She bridled and threatened to hang up and jump.

"Oh, I don't care about that," Dougherty soothed. "You sound pleasant and it's nice talking to you."

She said it was nice talking to him and called him a good conversationalist.

Another minute passed. In the course of the talk, she chided him for saying "who" when grammar demanded "whom." He seized this to turn the subject to education, anything to gain precious time.

The woman, 27, said she was a medical technician, a graduate of the University of Vermont. Another minute passed. He told her of his pre-law studies at St. John's University.

Another minute passed, the seventh since he called.

She suddenly said she had to hang up to answer the door bell. She clicked off and went to the door.

It was two men from the patrol car.

They took her to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Herbert Clark Hoover Has 86th Birthday

HERBERT CLARK HOOVER today celebrates his 86th birthday and we, along with millions of other Americans, wish him many happy returns of the day.

As recently as the Republican National Convention he bade the nation an affectionate goodbye. In his closing speech he said "that unless some miracle comes to me from the good Lord, this is finally it." It was the seventh occasion on which he has addressed the GOP conventions.

Somehow we feel Mr. HOOVER casts a younger image before the public than he did years ago when he was in office. His type used to be tabbed the "stuffed shirt." Gone now are the stiff rounded collars and the never quite in place drab neckties.

You might say this grand old gentleman has gone just a wee bit Ivy with his soft collars with the rather longish points and the more daring four-in-hands. Even his stiff prose style has given way to a more vigorous and occasionally daring method of writing and speaking.

The blacksmith's son, who became a millionaire early in life retired from public life in June 1955 after 41 years of almost continuous public service, still remains much in the public eye today.

He definitely belongs to the old school by continuing to work. About his only concession to age is he now rises at 7 o'clock instead of six. His time is divided equally between the Waldorf Towers in New York and his 17th floor suite of the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

This busy ex-president has one favorite hobby and that is sitting in a skiff stalking bonefish in the Florida Keys. We can only add to this very complete life good fishing.

Korean Voting Results Revitalize the Republic

Although the Democratic party led by 60-year-old former Vice President JOHN M. CHANG won a decisive victory in Korea's election, the full Assembly has yet to choose a president and premier.

Under the new constitution, the premier will wield the real power and the odds favor the popular Chang who is a U. S. trained lawyer and South Korea's first ambassador to this country. His leadership, however, is challenged by Yoom Bo Sun, a Korean aristocrat with degrees in geology and archaeology from Edinburgh University.

With over two million unemployed in a population of 22 million and with imports 15 times that of exports, the new premier will have his troubles. Dr. RHEE's unwarranted boycott of Japan when that country began repatriation of Koreans under the auspices of the International Red Cross, cut off Korea's biggest customer.

As things are now 30% ($180 million this year) of the republic's annual revenue comes from U.S. funds. The 600,000 man army, third largest in the non-Communist world, could not exist without U.S. support. But South Korea fortunately is forgetting the idea of marching north to unify the country and could reduce that army.

Corruption among government officials and army officers resulting in part from low pay, is being stamped out and higher wages promised. Money must be found for this. Better industrial management is needed. Only about 100 of the 238 small and medium sized factories aided by U.S. funds are actually producing.

Despite all this, says U.S. News & World Report, "industrial output remains steady and exports now are rising slowly . . . people are better fed, better clothed than ever before . . ."

The new government seems to be taking hold and hopes are high that Korea will yet be an outpost of democratic freedom in Asia.

Big and Forward

Belated Spring; but Mother Nature Is Now Catching Up

Modern woman: One who spends 75% of her time sitting down—figures show.

Most growing things got a late start in the Pontiac area last spring, but there are many instances where that has been overcome.

Corn that was not planted until late in MAY is reported by

of Waterford as now topping the eight-foot mark, and "growing like a weed."

A self-seeded pumpkin vine that started in the garden of

of Birmingham has already invaded the yards of two neighbors. It is 35 feet long.

A new variety of early potato was planted on June 3 by

of Auburn Heights, and this week is producing some larger than hen's eggs.

A harvest apple tree in the yard of

Mr. and Mrs. Elaine Brownlee

of Walled Lake did not blossom until a month later than usual, but is producing its ripened fruit at the usual time. It is of the Red Astrakan variety.

The family cat is afraid of the parakeet of

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Brinkley

of Keego Harbor, and will not stay in the same room with it. When the bird chatters, the cat hides in a corner of another room.

From the many old-time effects of

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Flumley

The Pontiac Weekly Gazette

of July 16, 1876. It tells of Dr. Kennedy's greatest medical discovery of the age. It was a compound of common pasture weeds, and was guaranteed to cure anything from the worst scrofula down to a common pimple. In fact there was no ill to which the human flesh is heir that it was not guaranteed to cure. It sold for a dollar a bottle and was claimed to be on sale by every druggest in the United States. However, the guarantee was not good unless at least 15 bottles were taken by the patient.

Again speaking of big trees,

Rodney Millson

of Birmingham tells me that when the old red brick courthouse was erected 103 years ago, his grandfather's diary recorded the fact that it required the removal of several mammoth oak trees. A great many Pontiac people were in favor of saving one of them, "even if the courthouse must be built around it," as a living testimonial to the variety of tree for which our county was named.

David Lawrence Says:

U. N. Should Move Against Russia

WASHINGTON — A far-reaching precedent in world affairs is being established in the Congo. An international military force is actually being ordered to intervene within an independent country to establish "law and order."

LAWRENCE

The reason given by the United Nations Security Council is that "the complete restoration of law and order in the Republic of the Congo would effectively contribute to the maintenance of international peace and security."

But if this can be done in the Congo, why can't it be applied also in other countries? Today Soviet troops occupy Hungary, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Rumania, East Germany and other captive states.

Soviet troops continue to impose their tyrannical power and to interfere with freedom of speech, freedom of the press and free elections by the peoples of those countries.

The Security Council insists in the resolution, adopted by a 9-to-0 vote Monday night, that the United Nations forces "will not be a party to or in any way intervene in or be used to influence the outcome of any internal conflict, constitutional or otherwise."

Yet Katanga—the province which has seceded—has been protected by Belgian troops, which the United Nations now orders withdrawn. They came there as a result of incidents in Leopoldville, where dozens of Belgian women were raped by the troops of the very government they asked the United Nations forces to intervene.

In the final analysis, the question will be whether the Congo government, whose troops were responsible for the disorders in the first place, is capable of maintaining order. Its prime minister has been threatening to march against the troops of the neighboring province of Katanga.

WHAT ABOUT CUBA?

This is certainly an "internal" situation, even though the United Nations chooses to emphasize the international aspects.

Maybe an international force will some day have to enter Cuba to do a similar job of protection. The Organization of American States is at present the primary agency for the task in the Western Hemisphere and, for the time being, it is assumed the United Nations will refrain from intervention there.

United Nations forces have been used heretofore to try to squelch a war between two parts of a given country. It will be recalled that this was the basis of the entry of United Nations forces in Korea in the summer of 1950.

The Soviets happened by accident to be absent from the Security Council meeting or surely would have vetoed that action.

The United Nations by formal resolution of the Assembly declared in 1951 that Red China was an aggressor, but nothing has ever been done by the U.N. itself to punish the aggressor. In fact, many members want to reward the aggressor by admitting Red China to the United Nations.

The Soviet government furnished arms and ammunition to the forces of the Red Chinese and North Koreans. Andrei Vishinski formally confessed this at a U.N. meeting. This act of treason against the United Nations has gone unpunished.

The U.N. charter says:

"All members shall give the United Nations every assistance in any action it takes in accordance with the provisions of the present charter, and shall refrain from giving assistance to any state against which the United Nations is taking preventive or enforcement action."

But since the Soviet government has the right of veto in the Security Council, it disregards that plain warning. That's why the Soviet threats that have been made recently to intervene in the Congo and the wanton use of Communist propaganda to upset peaceful governments in independent countries go on unchecked.

Seemingly, only the smaller countries like Belgium, which seek to protect their nationals in troubled areas of the world, must obey the U.N.

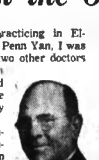
Smiles

Good old vacation puts a fellow in the pink and, if too much sunburn, in the red.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctors Discriminate Against the Osteopath

When I was practicing in Elmira, a suburb of Penn Yan, I was a member, with two other doctors of about my own age, of the board of censors of the Chemung County Medical Society.



BRADY

One of the other board members knew an osteopath who had taken the state board examination and obtained his license to practice at the same time as the censor had — the same examination in all subjects.

He thought the osteopath might apply for membership in the county medical society — which would automatically make him a member of the state medical society and, if he wished, a member or fellow of the American Medical Association. We other two censors approved of the idea.

So the doctor procured the application and the initiation fee from the osteopath, we all approved it and submitted it to the medical society at the next meeting. Generally endorsement by the board of censors assured acceptance of the applicant.

But in this instance the application kicked up a tremendous reaction. The old fogies were scandalized. We had erred grievously when we invited the osteopath to apply for membership.

An osteopath in the medical society? It was unheard of. The application was almost unanimously rejected. We had to return the osteopath's initiation fee and tell him the medical society would have no truck with the likes of him.

ODD ACTIONS

I happened to know that some of the doctors who voted against admitting the osteopath to membership were accustomed to working or consulting with osteopaths and some sneaked around to get osteopathic treatment for their own ailments.

I believed and still believe that a legally licensed osteopathic physician of good character could compel the medical society to accept him as a member or fellow if he cared to take the matter to court — and I think the osteopaths owe it to the public to do so.

In New York State, unless there's been a change in the law since I lived there, osteopaths passed the same examination for license as medical men did.

They are physicians with all the rights and duties of physicians.

The State Medical Society is chartered by the state and, I believe although I'm not an expert on law, that the osteopaths could and should take their rightful place as members of the medical society.

Township Clerk Explains Why Man Could Not Vote

I wish to answer Mr. Richard Smith's letter in the Voice of the People and explain more fully why he was not allowed to vote.

Prior to 2 p.m. the Chairman of the Election Board and myself obtained the correct time from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. At 2 p.m. the Chairman announced the polls were closed in conformity to the State Election Laws, Mr. Smith was not in the building or in line at that time. Persons who were in the building and in line at 2 p.m. were permitted to vote.

Mr. Smith entered the building at approximately 2:03 p.m. and was informed by the Board Chairman that he was too late to vote. Mr. Smith immediately became angry.

I realize he was handicapped and regret that it was necessary for the Board to take action. If Mr. Smith had been in the building and in line as he stated, the Election Board could not have denied him the right to vote.

The Board and I were only administering the Election laws as they are written and as we were under oath to do.

No Wonder Chivalry Is Thing of Past

Chivalry is dead — right along with the knights of the Middle Ages!

What you're looking for as a replacement is a male who not only has the outward appearance of the opposite sex, but is in the possession of all the qualities worthy of a man.

One who has more hair on his chest than on his face or neck; who wears his pants below his knees; who does not get his tan from a bottle; who has patience without the aid of tranquilizers or swarming a bar stool; and who has earned the right to be "lord and master" through his courtesy, intrepeidity and magnanimity.

Any male who doesn't pick up your pencil or give you a bus seat is actually working harder finding excuses for his own inadequacy or then again maybe he has low metabolism!

Alice Barnett

Lake Orion

Chivalry is what used to be when you women were women. You are no better than we are. You wanted equal rights and got it. Why not accept it as it is and stop griping about it.

'Ike Had Problems to Cope With, Also'

Democrat Al should remember that Eisenhower inherited Communist threatening conditions that were caused by the Yalta and Potsdam promises made by Roosevelt and Truman who called Stalin "Good Old Joe." Roosevelt had Alger Hiss as his chief adviser. Hiss was imprisoned for lying about giving security secrets to Russia. Truman called Hiss' trial a red herring.

Softness and laxity in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations is the chief cause for our present precarious situation. Remember Pearl Harbor? Roosevelt's laxity caused that sneak attack.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 10, the 223rd day of the year, with 143 more to follow in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Mars and Mercury.

The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1775, a committee made of Benjamin Franklin, John Adams and Thomas Jefferson suggested "E Pluribus Unum" as the motto for the great seal of the United States.

In 1821, Missouri became the 24th state in the Union.

In 1833, Chicago, population about 200, was incorporated as a village.

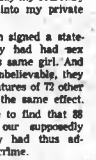
Case Records of a Psychologist:

Important to Inform Teen-Agers

Parents: take note! A famous Chicago attorney told me the following shocking story. It caused him to volunteer for Boy Scout work. And my release of scientific sex information to young people via this clinical newspaper column, is motivated by the same critical need of facts by our current American youth.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F-439: Fred L., aged 45, is a prominent attorney who attended a regional Boy Scout meeting which I addressed.



DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, would you like to know why I decided to invest my spare time in Boy Scout Work?" he inquired, and I nodded assent.

"Well, a 15-year-old girl in our community brought charges against one of the high school boys, alleging that he was the father of the baby she was soon to bear.

"The following day my secretary ushered 16 boys into my private office.

"They had each signed a statement saying they had had sex relations with this same girl. And what was more unbelievable, they also had the signatures of 72 other young fellows to the same effect.

"It shocked me to find that 88 young men in our supposedly moral community had thus admitted such sex crime.

WAKE UP

"If people sometimes think you are shooting wide of the mark, Dr. Crane, when you keep warning parents and educators of the need for sound sex education of youth, they ought to have been with me when I interviewed these young men.

"I asked these 16 teen-agers why they ever were guilty of such idiotic behavior, explaining that they could ruin their lives by gonorrhea or syphilis or such paternity suits as this young prostitute was now instituting.

"The boys protested that they didn't know about such things and bitterly demanded why they hadn't been taught the facts in the matter.

"Then I had to confess that society in general was to blame for evading such basic and essential information.

"That's when I decided I had better get to work with boys and try to remedy the errors of our prudish adult generation."

SIR GALAHAD'S LESSON

Sir Galahad looked all over the world for the Holy Grail, only to find it right at home.

Frequently we look far away for opportunities to help the cause of morality, when there are ample chances to do so not only in our own town but even in our own home.

Young, idealistic youth are standing beside us every day, hungry for leadership, and eager for specific factual matter about this complex problem of life, but we ignore them and talk about the Marshall Plan funds for Europe or starving Koreans.

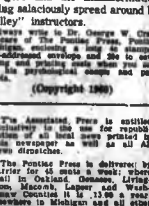
But if you could only look into the families all over America, as I do via the tremendous mail that comes to me, you would never accuse me again of being unduly frank.

The heart cry of our nation is for scientific facts for happy, successful living—not in China or India—but right here in New York City, or Los Angeles, St. Louis and Podunk.

Tell your children EVERYTHING they want to know and you will not feel the guilt that the parents of these 88 young men should suffer for their sins of omission.

Send for my "medico-psychological bulletin, "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20c (non-profit).

Pass it on to teen-age youth in high schools and church organizations. See that it is used to help teen-agers get wise to modern dangers and the misinformation being salaciously spread around by "alley" instructors.



Address write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of this newspaper, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. Due to the typing and printing costs when you send for his pamphlet coupon and pamphlets.

Reveal Plans to Build World's Tallest Hotel

NEW YORK (UP) — A 50-story hotel, the world's tallest, is slated for Manhattan's west side, just north of Times Square.

Loew's Theaters, Inc. Tuesday announced plans for the 50-million-dollar structure which will be called the Americana West, a crosstown counterpart of the Americana East, a 21-story hotel Loew's started six weeks ago.

The two will be the city's first major hotels built since the 47-story Waldorf-Astoria, now the tallest in the world, opened in 1931. The East is due for completion next year, the West in 1962.

Modern Controls Now Introduced for Bicycles

NEW YORK (UP)—An automatic transmission and power brake assembly for bicycles has been introduced by the Bendix Corp., which says the unit does away with handlebar controls, cable controls and other gadgets.

The mechanism, which is contained in a bicycle hub, enables the rider to shift from low gear to high—or vice versa—by backpedaling about two inches.

When the brake is applied, the company says, the unit utilizes the gear ratio of the two-speed shift, regardless of which gear was being used. This reduces pedal pressures by about 50 per cent, making it, in effect, a power brake.

Massachusetts passed the nation's first compulsory school attendance law in 1852.

Will Sweep GIs Off Their Feet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army hopes to eliminate just about completely by 1970 the bane of footsore GIs since the very first war—walking.

The Army's goal for the 1965-70 era is "100 per cent vehicular mobility, ground or air." In barracks terms that means, "We ain't gonna walk to the front no more."

The service concedes, however, "There will also be times when the soldier must dismount to fight."

Plans for the expansive overhaul and re-equipment of the Army were outlined yesterday at the annual meeting of the Association of the U.S. Army, a group formed to further interest in the Army's aims.

Civil Service Rolls Down 10 Pct. in State

LANSING (UP)—More than 3,000 workers resigned from state jobs covered by civil service during the fiscal year ending June 30, figures released today by the Civil Service Commission revealed.

An additional 190 were fired, and 262 persons terminated state employment because of death or various other reasons, said Civil Service Director Franklin K. Dewald.

The total of 3,474 represents more than 10 per cent of the 29,815 persons covered by civil service.

Consumer to Get More Bank Credit

Business Men Expect Buying Boom

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen—and the money managers—are laying plans for the traditional upturn after Labor Day—but this time with fingers crossed.

They're getting set for an increase in buying demand—but that depends on how consumers feel and also on how businessmen themselves feel about the outlook, for falls.

The Federal Reserve Board will make more bank credit available by Labor Day.

Usually more credit is sought in the fall to finance retail preparations for back-to-school and Christmas business, and to finance the progress of crops from the fields and orchards to the grocery shelves.

Merchants expect big things from the back to school business.

The advance guard of the war babies is crowding colleges. The first of the big postwar baby crop will be entering high schools. Those born in 1954, when the birth rate was high, will be facing first-grade teachers.

As any parent knows outfitting children grows more expensive at each stage of education.

The food business stoutly predicts steadily increasing consumption and spending for food. And the increased processing and selling should call for more credit.

The auto industry is starting to produce its 1961 models. Steel, rubber, glass and other suppliers hope for more business soon. But the vogue for compact cars, using less materials, will cut into demand of these primary industries.

This has kept new orders for steel lower than first hoped. But the industry is now looking for October to be its biggest month, when new car production will be in full swing.

After that it's up to the car buyers.

Consumers have kept their spending in general at a high rate.

What the consumer may do this fall, however, worries some. They cite the nervous stock market, the squeeze on business profits, layoffs here and there, and stubborn unemployment totals as offering a threat to continued strong confidence on the part of the buying and borrowing public.

ALLOW RESERVES

The Federal Reserve is allowing most member banks to count more of their vault cash as reserves, starting Aug. 25. And Sept. 1 New York and Chicago banks can cut the amount of their required reserves by one-half of one per cent. Now they must keep 18 per cent in reserve, while banks in other major financial centers—called reserve cities—must keep 16½ per cent on tap. By law, the differential between the New York and Chicago banks and the other reserve city banks will be eliminated by July 28, 1962.

The new reserve rules will free some 600 million dollars in member banks. On the rule of thumb that each dollar of freed reserves means six dollars of additional lending power, the banks would have additional lending funds of a bit more than 3½ billion dollars.

The rube comes in this: The demand for funds must be high enough to absorb the new lending power. If businessmen don't want to borrow more for their activities, or if consumers don't want to borrow more for their purchases, the added credit won't make much difference.

To Close Summer Playgrounds

Set Oakland Park Fun Day

The Parks & Recreation Department will close a "very good" summer playground season next Wednesday with a "fun day" at Oakland Park.

Youngsters age 6 through 16 who have been participating in playground activities at 22 locations within the city have been invited to the three-hour event, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Tugs-of-war mud holes, wheelbarrow races, peanut scrambles and balloon busts are some of the special "fun" events planned, said Leonard T. Buzz, recreation director.

Youngsters will come to the park after first visiting their playgrounds, which have experienced "good, steady and high participation" this year, Buzz said.

Supervised, daily playground activities conclude Friday.

U.N. Committee Calls Meeting

Henry Cabot Lodge to Resign Next Tuesday at Disarm Confab

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Defying a Communist boycott the 82-nation U. N. Disarmament Commission has been called to meet Tuesday afternoon to consider the failure of the Geneva disarmament talks.

Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, chairman of the commission, scheduled the meeting in response to a request the United States made July 22. The meeting will constitute a farewell appearance for Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U. S. delegate to the U. N. since 1954, who will resign at its conclusion to campaign as the Republican candidate for the U. S. vice presidency.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told delegates from the neutral nations the nine Soviet bloc nations would boycott any disarmament commission meeting and hoped they would do the same. Despite Kuznetsov's urging, most neutrals are expected to attend the session, and some Western diplomats think the Soviets also will show up.

The Soviets proposed that discussion of disarmament be deferred until the General Assembly opening Sept. 20 and that the 82 heads of government attend to provide a summit discussion of disarmament and other major world problems.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev plugged this idea again Tuesday in an interview published in Pravda, the Soviet Communist party newspaper. Khrushchev said he would consider it a great honor to be present for the disarmament discussion.

Quadruplets Premature, Die Soon After Birth

NEW YORK (AP)—Girl quadruplets were born 2½ months prematurely to a Brooklyn woman Tuesday night. Three died soon after birth and the other died this morning.

The weights of the babies ranged from one pound, four ounces to one pound, seven ounces.

Balloon Orbit Shot Postponed Again

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Technical problems with the Thor-Delta carrier rocket caused a second postponement early today in an attempt to launch a 100-foot balloon communications satellite into orbit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the delay after the countdown had advanced to within 80 seconds of the launch time at one point.

It was not disclosed whether the problem was the same as that which caused a postponement of the same shot Tuesday.

No new firing time was set. A NASA spokesman said another attempt may be made in a day or two if the trouble is minor.

Orion Twp. Would Aid Park

But Law Must Be Rescinded

Ordinance at Present Restricts Use of Site to Those From Village

By DON FERMOYLE

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Township Board will share the cost of maintaining the Lake Orion Village Park if it is reopened to residents here, it was agreed Tuesday night.

Acting on a petition signed by 85 township homeowners, the Township Board adopted a motion "to investigate methods of participation with the village of Lake Orion" in support of the park.

The next move, according to Township Treasurer William O'Brien, is up to the villagers.

They must rescind an ordinance passed over three years ago which limited use of the park to residents of the village.

The law had been ignored until last week when park facilities were closed to outsiders because of a swimming accident there July 19 involving a 16-year-old Pontiac boy.

FEAR LAWSUITS

Fearing lawsuits resulting from injuries to non-residents, the Village Council now is strictly enforcing the ordinance.

Township parents, whose children suddenly were not allowed to use the park's swimming facilities last week, appeared before the Village Council Monday night to complain about the matter.

They were told by the Council that villagers had voted in favor of closing the park to outsiders because the township in 1956 had refused to accept financial responsibility for it.

O'Brien said Tuesday night that the township had never refused financial support of any project that would benefit both village and township residents.

"We've never turned them down on anything," he said. "We already contribute to the youth center. If they open the park up, we will participate in that too."

MUST TAKE VOTE

However, another vote must be taken of the village electorate in order to do away with the present ordinance, barring township residents from the park.

Joint support of the park by the village and township will have to wait until the present law is abolished, O'brien indicated.

O'Brien and Trustee Harry Slater agreed to attend the next Village Council meeting Aug. 22 with the township delegation which is seeking reopening of the park.

Long-range plans also were discussed at the township meeting, regarding the establishment of a joint parks and recreation board between the village and township.

Board members said they would look into the possibility of finding another site for a new park which would be larger than the present facility owned by the village.

Maria Callas Silent on Engagement Tale

ROME (AP)—Opera soperano Maria Callas arrived Tuesday by plane refusing to comment on Italian newspaper reports that her engagement to Greek shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis may be announced soon.

Miss Callas is legally separated —but not divorced—from her Italian husband Gianbattista Meneghini. She came here from the French Riviera.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Jack D. Welch of 5135 Eagle Rd. of the engagement of their daughter Carol Lee to Bernard A. Eastep, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard W. Eastep of 480 Oxbow Lake Rd., Milford. A June wedding is planned.

Would Match Sister's '59 Triumph

Sandra Hoxie Vies for Peach Crown

ARMADA — Will Sandra Hoxie match her sister's triumph of a year ago?

This is the question on everyone's mind in Armada these days as the time for the Romeo Peach Queen competition draws near.

Seventeen-year-old Sandy has been picked to represent her town in the annual queen's contest which her sister, Lorelei, won last year.

Daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman M. Hoxie of 74241 Burk St., both girls were local homecoming queens the fall before they entered the Romeo title competition.

Sandra will be a senior this fall at the local high school. After graduation she plans to attend Western Michigan University where she expects to major in buying and retailing.

She hopes for a career in merchandising.

Sandra, as Miss Armada of 1960, will vie for the Peach Queen's crown against 10 other area lovelies, all title holders in nearby communities where they live.

The winner of the Aug. 18 contest will reign over the 28th annual Peach Festival celebration Labor Day weekend, Sept. 2-5.

All 11 girls will receive as gifts the gowns they will wear in the spectacular coronation ceremony, which will highlight the Sept. 4 program.

The queen and her two maids of honor will make numerous appearances on radio, television and at public events during the two weeks before the festival to publicize the 3-day event.

* * *

A panel of out-of-town judges will pick the queen and her two maids in the contest to be held in the Romeo Junior High School auditorium. They will base their final decision on beauty, poise, personality, appearance, public speaking ability and this year also on talent.

The competition is open to the public.

ARMADA'S CHOICE — Hoping to match her sister's feat of a year ago is Sandra Hoxie, 17, of Armada. She will represent her village in the Romeo Peach Queen contest Aug. 18. Her older sister Lorelei won the title in 1959. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman M. Hoxie of 74241 Burk St., Armada.

To Propose Aid Program

Slate Public Hearing Aug. 18 for Plan to Help Socially Maladjusted

WALLED LAKE — A program designed to aid socially maladjusted families, children and youth in the area will be proposed and explained at a public hearing Aug. 18 in the Walled Lake Senior High School.

Purpose of the program, set up by Probate and Juvenile Court Judge Arthur E. Moore, is to assist children and families when delinquency problems first become apparent.

Fifteen Oakland County communities already have established the Child Protection and Youth Assistance program and three others are in the process of establishing the guidance service.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM

It is a cooperative program between the citizens in the local areas and the Protective Service Department of the Juvenile Court.

The proposal to be discussed at the 8 p.m. meeting would include guidance for children and families living in Walled Lake, Wolverine Lake, Wixom, Union Lake and Commerce Township.

Judge Moore is tentatively scheduled to speak at the session. Others to be present are James W. Hunt, director of Juvenile Court and Children's Services, and James H. Van Leuven, assistant director.

Presently, a Protective Service caseworker is working in the area with children and their families whose problems are not serious enough for official juvenile Court action, Van Leuven said.

"However, if these children do not get help at this time, they will continue only to add more problems and be in further difficulty in their homes, at school, and in the community," he added.

"A caseworker, in order to do an effective job, needs to work with and have the support of the citizens in the Walled Lake School District.

"We all know that it is far more economical to do something on the preventive level than to wait until a youngster has to be placed in an institution where it costs taxpayers $3,000 a year."

Van Leuven said in the last several weeks he has been working with a temporary steering committee headed by Justice of Peace Gene Schnelz in promoting the program.

The steering committee is made up of members of the clergy, school police and business, he said.

'BOY, IT'S BIG' — That's the reaction of three young boys as they examine one of the larger pieces of farm machinery now on display at the Oakland County 4-H Club Fairgrounds, M24 at Walton boulevard. They are, from left, Jerry Gerjeklan, 8, of Pontiac; and Fred and Cliff Tucker, 13 and 11 respectively. The Tucker brothers are from Pontiac Township. The exhibit is in the open space across the road from the quonset huts.

Ex-Macomb Deputy Given Probation for Shooting

A former Macomb County sheriff's deputy has been placed on five years' probation for shooting and wounding a plant guard during a January drinking spree in Port Huron.

J. W. Wooten, 35, of 6040 Waldo St., Sterling Township, was fired as a deputy soon after the incident.

Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane ordered Wooten to abstain from alcoholic beverages during the term of his probation.

Wooten was also told to pay $250 in court costs and the medical expenses of the guard, Scott Haggard, 55, of Port Huron.

Wooten reportedly wrecked his car and shot at Haggard's automobile Jan. 19. Haggard was wounded in the jaw by one of the bullets from Wooten's gun, Port Huron police reported.

Wooten, who police said was "too drunk to be questioned when arrested," is a former Utica patrolman.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be in police headquarters in the Village Hall.

Generals to See Reunion

DETROIT (AP)—Gen. Maxwell Taylor and Lt. Gen. Anthony McAuliffe will attend the annual reunion here Friday and Saturday of the 101st airborne division. Both generals commanded the division in World War II. McAuliffe took over when Taylor became U.S. chief of staff.

Driver Escapes as Car Plunges

SHELBY TOWNSHIP—A 38-year-old Rochester man escaped without injury here Tuesday night when his car rolled over, broke through a guard rail and fell about five feet from a bridge.

Safe after the accident was Arthur G. Krug of 53101 Shelby Rd.

Police said Krug's car flipped over after it was involved in a collision with one driven by Leonard Heyza, 28, of 3711 24-Mile Rd.

The collision occurred when neither driver stopped as they approached the one-lane bridge on Shelby road between 23- and 24-Mile roads, police reported.

Heyza's wife Marie, 27, was a passenger in his car. She complained of back injuries but none of the three were taken to the hospital.

Police did not estimate damage to the two cars, but said both had to be towed from the scene of the accident.

August the Month to Salute Sandwiches

"Bring me roast beef between two slices of bread!" the fourth Earl of Sandwich called to his servant. Reluctant to quit the gaming table even for meals, this 18th century English Earl ordered his dinner so he could eat it with his fingers. Little did he realize his name would some day be known the world over.

As we salute August as National Sandwich Month, we acknowledge billions of sandwiches — big and little, hot and cold, common and gourmet. From their simple beginning the popularity of sandwiches has grown until today they play a multitude of roles.

Along with the versatility, eye-and flavor-appeal, sandwiches offer two more assets. They satisfy the appetite and give us the nutrition needed to "carry on" as the Earl might say. Enriched bread or rolls, which are the base for most sandwiches, provide essential food iron and three B vitamins. Filling and garnishes supply us with other important food elements to round out a food packed with nourishment.

Combination Tuna Sandwich tips its hat to Sandwich Time. This tasty tuna salad filling served on Russian rye bread is just right for the soup 'n' sandwich lunch.

Combination Tuna Sandwich

1 cup drained, flaked tuna (7-ounce can)
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 teaspoons minced onion
½ cup shredded cabbage
½ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup dairy sour cream
Butter or margarine
12 slices Russian rye bread

Combine tuna, green pepper, onion, cabbage, salt, pepper, pimiento, mayonnaise and sour cream. Mix well. Spread bread with softened butter or margarine. Cover 6 slices with tuna mixture. Top with remaining 6 slices of bread. Cut sandwiches in half to serve. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Shrimp Duo Sandwich is another flavor-packed seafood sandwich. Chopped shrimp, green onions and ripe olives blend to give a refreshing sandwich filling. Softened cream cheese seasoned with chives makes the second layer in this double-decker sandwich.

Shrimp Duo Sandwich

1 cup chopped cooked shrimp (4½-ounce can)
½ cup finely chopped green onions
½ cup chopped pitted ripe olives
½ cup mayonnaise
3 3-ounce packages cream cheese and chives, softened
Butter or margarine
10 slices enriched sandwich bread
Lettuce leaves

Combine shrimp, onion, olives and mayonnaise. Mix well. Spread butter or margarine on 12 slices bread. Spread shrimp mixture on 6 slices. Cover with 6 slices bread buttered side down. Place lettuce leaf on top.

Spread remaining 6 slices of bread with softened cheese. Place over lettuce, cheese side down to close sandwich. Cut sandwich in half diagonally. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Satisfying baked sandwiches are ideal as the featured item at lunch-time or supper-time. They can be standbys for easy menus the year around. With baked sandwiches serve a vegetable salad — hot or cold — a beverage, and ice cream with cookies for dessert.

Chicken Meringue Sandwich shows off with a baked meringue topping sprinkled with crunchy nuts. The sandwich itself is a double chicken treat. A spicy, chicken-flavored sauce is poured in a baking dish over sandwiches filled with diced chicken.

Chicken Meringue Sandwich

12 slices enriched bread
Butter
1 10½-ounce can condensed cream of chicken soup (about 1¼ cups)
½ cup water
½ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon rosemary
2 5-ounce jars canned chicken, diced
2 eggs, separated
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons finely chopped nuts (slivered almonds)

Spread bread with butter; place 6 slices in greased shallow baking pan, 9" x 13", buttered side up. Combine soup, water, onion, rosemary and egg yolks. Bring just to boiling, and simmer until slightly thickened. Arrange diced chicken over bread slices in pan, and cover with remaining bread slices, buttered side down. Pour soup mixture over sandwiches.

Beat egg whites until foamy, add salt, and beat until stiff. Pile individual meringues on each sandwich. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until delicately browned. Makes 6 sandwiches.

Take eggs (to be used in a cake) out of the refrigerator about half an hour before you start your preparation.

Stuff Zucchini Squash With Cornbread Chips

NEW YORK (UPI) — Leftover cornbread makes good stuffing for zucchini. Peel one side of 6 medium-sized zucchini and remove pulp, leaving shells about ¼-inch thick. Chop the pulp and saute with ¼ cup each of chopped onion and butter or margarine.

Dissolve 1 chicken bouillon cube in ¾ cup boiling water. Combine the liquid with cooked pulp, 1 cup of crumbled corn bread, 1 teaspoon of salt and ¼ teaspoon of pepper. Pile into zucchini shells, place in shallow baking dish and bake about 40 minutes in a 35-degree oven. Serves 6.

Eating Was Kind of Slim for a Few Days

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Once again it's the time of year when the food in the refrigerator and I had a contest. When you read this, we will be at Mammouth Cave, the first stop on our camping trip. Perhaps it is the day we're touring the cave and having lunch underground.

At any rate, last week was the time we literally ate from hand to mouth. Miss Teenager, having celebrated her 20th birthday, is now The Grown-up Daughter. She's back at college and wasn't around to help eat up the food. The Eleven-Year-Old was just home from three weeks at camp. But he's no help with leftovers!

However, I think I'm learning. There wasn't too much to use up. Last year I had an enormous bunch of radishes staring me in the face daily. This year even the salad materials came out even.

We did have a large quantity of ham. Whenever there is an election, the food editor makes sandwiches for the workers who tally election returns at the Press. I bought the ham that was left over from making these sandwiches. It turned out to be more ham than I anticipated.

We ate it a couple of times, then gave up and put what was left in the freezer. It will make good sandwiches when we return.

The mayonnaise always foils me. Next year I must start buying it in small quantities at the beginning of the summer. You can't leave it out of the refrigerator; we always turn off the electricity. It can't go in the freezer.

Memo to the office staff: That jar of mayonnaise in the back of the refrigerator in the lunch room belongs to me. Help yourself, if you like.

We've eaten blueberries and more blueberries this past month. Great huge luscious ones are grown not two miles from us. We like them plain, on cereal, in pie, waffles, pancakes and in muffins.

Just before I left I came across this recipe for raised blueberry pancakes and thought you might like to have it.

I wasn't able to try it before we left. So you do it for me. I'll send along a report now and then of our travels. Our ultimate goal is Gatlinburg, Tenn., and the Great Smokies. 'Bye now.

Raised Blueberry Pancakes

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ cup margarine or butter
¼ cup warm, not hot, water
1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
1 egg, beaten
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon nutmeg or grated lemon rind
1 cup fresh whole blueberries

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine or butter. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into bowl (warm, not hot, water for active dry yeast; lukewarm for compressed yeast). Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, egg, flour and nutmeg; beat until smooth, about 1 minute.

Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 40 to 50 minutes. Meanwhile, wash berries; let drain.

Stir down batter; very gently stir in berries; do not crush them. Pour by large spoonfuls onto moderately hot, lightly greased griddle. Bake over medium heat until bubbles appear over surface and edges seem dry. Turn; brown other side.

Gently stir batter occasionally if necessary. Serve cakes topped with additional berries and cinnamon-sugar, or with margarine or butter and syrup.

Bacon, Asparagus Team in Casserole

Something tasty, quick and easy.

Bacon Wrapped Asparagus

1½ cups asparagus
6 slices bacon
3 tablespoons grated Parmesan or Romano cheese

Fry bacon over moderate heat until half done. Drain. Divide asparagus into 6 servings. Wrap each serving in a strip of bacon. Place in a heat-proof buttered shallow casserole. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in a 350 degree F oven about 15 minutes or until cheese melts. 6 servings.

Top hot, fluffy rice with a golden slice of pineapple sprinkled with brown sugar and cinnamon.

So Simple a Child Can Make It!

A nine-year-old boy, under his mother's supervision, enjoys making this dessert.

Robert's Strawberry Cream Cake

2½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup soft shortening
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
¾ cup sugar
1 egg
½ pint heavy cream
Confectioners' or finely granulated sugar
1 pint basket strawberries (hulled and washed and dried)

Grease bottom and sides of a baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); line bottom with waxed paper; grease paper.

Into a mixing bowl sift the flour, baking powder and salt. Add shortening, milk and vanilla; beat together well. Add sugar and egg; beat until smooth. Turn into prepared pan. Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Allow pan to stand on cake rack for 10 minutes; turn out; remove paper; turn right side up. Beat cream and sweeten to taste with confectioners' sugar. Serve squares of warm cake with whipped cream and whole or sliced strawberries. Makes 6 servings.

Spread tomato paste over slices of rye bread and sprinkle with crushed basil and grated cheddar cheese. Broil until cheese is lightly browned and bubbly.

State Jobless Up 60,000 by Mid-July

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan unemployed ranks increased 60,000 in the month ended in mid-July to a total of 280,000, or 8.9 per cent of the work force, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reports.

At the same time last year, 250,000 were idled in Michigan.

There were 135,000, or 9.6 per cent of the labor market, unemployed in the Detroit area as of July 15, compared to 142,000 the same time a year ago.

The commission said much of the current unemployment was due to auto plant playoffs during model changeovers. High school and college graduates unable to find work also contributed to the total, the commission said.

Canada's Census Total Now Up to 17,852,000

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canada's population totaled an estimated 17,852,000 by July 1, the Bureau of Statistics reported.

This was an increase of 174,000 in the first six months of the year and 370,000 over July 1, 1959.

To Confuse Witnesses?

Has Nose, Ears Fixed

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A convict who received $2,000 worth of plastic surgery on his face while in San Quentin Prison claimed today it had nothing to do with hoping to confuse witnesses in identifying him — it was to cure his inferiority complex.

Edward Muza, 30, former Kansas City dance instructor and convicted armed robber, said he underwent the surgery to "give me a personal pride and self-confidence."

The district attorney's office believes Muza had the surgery performed to confuse witnesses at his retrial on a robbery charge. He was found guilty, however, and now awaits sentencing.

San Quentin Warden Fred R. Dickson said the surgery was performed to remove a prominent bump on Muza's nose which interfered with his breathing. Also, his ears were "pinned back."

District Attorney William B. McKesson said he wants an inquiry made of the situation.

Says Bedouins Hold Scrolls

Awaiting Right Price for Five Dead Sea Writings Is Claim

LONDON (UPI) — A British scholar said today there are five more complete Dead Sea Scrolls "and possibly many more" in the hands of Bedouins in Jordan who are waiting for the right price to sell them.

John M. Allegro, lecturer in Hebrew at the University of Manchester, said the five scrolls may be as important as those found in 1947.

Discovery of the scrolls set off the most intense and sometimes controversial biblical studies of modern times.

Allegro said he learned that the five scrolls have a number of linen fragments clinging to them similar to the first seven found in a remote Jordanian desert area near the Dead Sea.

The linen fragments indicated the scrolls were carefully preserved because of their importance, Allegro said.

The Dead Sea Scrolls are documents dating between the First Century B. C. and the First Century A. D. Scholars say they provide important information on the beginning of christianity.

So far scholars have obtained nine scrolls, most of them complete, and thousands of fragments belonging to about 500 more scrolls.

Allegro said the Bedouins have made a full-time search for scrolls since learning of their value.

Sees $175 a Month for Aged in 1970

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Prof. Wilbur J. Cohen of the University of Michigan predicted Tuesday that average monthly social security benefits for married couples will average $175 by 1970.

Cohen spoke at the Fifth Congress of the International Association of Gerontology.

He said the United States, if it wishes, can become the first nation to abolish poverty among its people and that this can be done by 1970.

Red China Sells Cuba 100,000 Tons of Rice

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba will get 100,000 tons of rice from Red China worth 12 million dollars and will sell China 350,000 tons of sugar worth 25 million dollars, the Cuban government announced Tuesday.

The Peiping-Havana agreement was signed over the weekend, following a commercial and payments agreement reached last month. Cuban officials estimate they will save 4 million dollars in the rice purchase alone by buying from Red China instead of the United States.

Cuba used to import 160,000 tons of rice a year from the United States.

Last month's agreement called for Cuba to sell Communist China 500,000 tons of sugar a year for five years. Payment was specified as 20 per cent in convertible pounds sterling and 80 per cent in merchandise. Cuba has requested the merchandise be farm industrial equipment.

Cooling Beverages Can Be Low Caloried

Just plain wonderful on any hot day are the icy cold fruit coolers, shown here. What's more, these drinks are low, low in calories . . . a cool, reassuring thought on a summer's day.

All excess calories have been subtracted from these ice-tinkling drinks, simply by replacing the sugar normally used with the calorie-free sweetener, Sucaryl. You'll find that liquid Sucaryl is ideal for sweetening all cold drinks. It blends immediately, and gives a delightful, natural-tasting sweetness.

Get out the glasses, and lots of ice, and stir up one of these refreshingly delicious summer thirst-aids . . . each one cool and calculatedly low in calories.

Ginger-Mint Cooler

1 cup water
1 tablespoon Sucaryl solution
½ cup chopped mint leaves
½ cup lemon juice
2 cups orange juice
1 quart non-caloric gingerale

Combine water, Sucaryl and mint leaves; bring to a boil. Strain and cool. At serving time, add remaining ingredients. Pour over finely crushed ice in tall glasses.

Makes 8 servings. Each serving contains 30 CALORIES; 0.5 gram protein; trace of fat; 8 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 78 CALORIES.

Lemonade de Rose

¾ cup lemon juice
¾ cup pineapple juice
1 bottle (2½ cups) rose wine
2 tablespoons Sucaryl solution

Combine all ingredients. Serve over finely crushed ice and garnish with lemon and mint.

Makes nine ½-cup servings. Each serving contains 125 CALORIES; 0.5 gram protein; 0 fat; 5 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 210 CALORIES.

Frothy Berry Cooler

½ cup water
1 tablespoon Sucaryl solution
½ cup lemon juice
1 pint non-caloric gingerale
2 egg whites
½ cup raspberries
Cracked ice

Combine all ingredients in shaker or blender. Mix until chilled and frothy.

Wedding Rites in Lake Orion

Judith DeClute, Robert Rabideau Are United

Lake Orion's St. Joseph Catholic Church was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Judith Ann DeClute and Robert Leon Rabideau. The Rev. Vincent Myrick officiated before an altar banked with baskets of white gladioli.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl DeClute of Second avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Rabideau of Joslyn road, Lake Orion.

Of white embroidered nylon organza over taffeta, the bridal gown was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and chapel train. She wore an elbow length silk illusion veil secured by a crown of pearls and a silver cross, gift of the bridegroom. White gladioli sprayed with pink sequins comprised her bouquet.

Maid of honor Rosemary Lessard of Sylvan Lake and bridesmaids Sue Neal and Lenore Hoganson, roommate of the bride at Elkhart University, were gowned alike in ballerina length nylon orchid organza designed with contrasting taffeta cummerbunds and fishtail bows.

Each wore short white gloves and a strand of pearls, gift of the bride. They carried bouquets of pink gladioli and fern.

The bride's sister Mary DeClute was junior bridesmaid wearing a floor length gown styled similarly to those of the other attendants.

Joseph Rabideau of Warren attended as best man. Seating the 200 guests attending were Duane Priebe and Duane Olk.

At a reception in Gingellville Community Hall immediately following the ceremony Mrs. DeClute received guests wearing r silk sheath dress featuring a Dior blue overskirt and matching accessories. Mrs. Rabideau chose brown embroidered nylon over aqua taffeta with matching accessories. Both wore white carnations dyed to match their attire.

After the reception the bride changed to a brown and white check cotton sheath dress with white accessories.

UPI Photo

Jimmy Ritter's world crashed around him when his ice cream plopped from its cone at his Memphis, Tenn., home. A cruel blow for fate to deal a two-year-old. To this youngster it seems the equal of any that Shakespeare might have devised for a tragedy.

'Poor Eyes Can Cause Delinquency'

SELINSGROVE, Pa. (UPI)—Poor eyesight can cause juvenile delinquency, a leading Pennsylvania optometrist said today.

Dr. Melvin D. Wolfberg, president of the Pennsylvania Optometric Association, said a child may appear lazy, bored, inattentive and make trouble in class, but may only be covering up poor vision.

A correlation between reading failure and anti-social behavior also has been found, indicating that some delinquents first show their difficulties in reading disabilities, Wolfberg said.

Balls Honor Relatives From Paris

The Clarence Balls and daughter Cathleen of Northfield street were hosts at an open house Saturday in honor of Mrs. Ball's brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. Roger Genet who arrived here by plane from Paris, France, Aug. 2.

The occasion also celebrated the visiting couple's eighth wedding anniversary and Mr. Genet's birthday. Gifts were presented to the honorees. Among the guests, every woman present was a war bride from either World War I or II.

Games and a luncheon preceded dancing to French tunes.

Attending were Mrs. Eugenie Noble, Mrs. Armande Kitson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Norval Gee and family and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Croza and their family.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Remsing of Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kitchen and family of Lake Orion; Mrs. Jean Leborgne, a visitor from Paris; Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bailey; the Herbert Peters of Rochester and the James Dolins.

Conscience Real Good Chaperon

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am 22 years of age, have been graduated from college and am now attending a business school about one hundred miles from my home.

The boy to whom I am engaged is doing graduate work at a Northern university. I was planning on going there to visit him for a weekend with another girl who is also engaged to a boy there.

When I wrote my mother about my plans she immediately wrote back and said it would be unthinkable for me to go because it just "isn't done." She said the fact that we will have no chaperon would make it impossible to go.

My most constant chaperon has been my conscience and it has proved an excellent one. I was stunned by my mother's attitude and since I am sure she would abide by your judgment, I am anxious to have your opinion.

Answer: As your conscience has proved an excellent chaperon, and if the other girl has as good a one, I think your mother can feel tranquil about your both going to visit the boys to whom you are engaged.

Dear Mrs. Post: We recently had a new baby and the men in my husband's office sent the baby a very lovely gift. My husband thanked them personally for the present. I would like to know if it is necessary for me to write a note expressing my thanks, or is his thanks sufficient?

Answer: If you do not know these men personally, your husband's thanks is sufficient. If, however, you know one of them at all well, it will be very courteous of you to write a note thanking him and the other men in the office for the lovely present they sent to your baby.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day I wrote a rather personal letter to a friend and in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope wrote the word "personal." When my sister saw this she said it was not the proper thing to do and that it was insulting to the members of her family. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: No one, not even a member of your family, should ever open a letter addressed to another, and you were wrong in marking this letter to your friend's house, "personal." "Personal" may be used on a letter to an office which would otherwise be opened by a secretary.

GOP Women to Sponsor Picnic

The Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County will sponsor its 28th annual picnic at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 17, in Avon Park, Rochester.

Congressman Alvin Bentley, Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate, will be the featured speaker. Other state and county candidates on the Republican slate will be present.

President Mrs. Harry Henderson announces that the picnic will replace the federation's regular monthly meeting.

Second Marriage May Bear Different Fruit

Shouldn't Let Lemon Sour Him Forever

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am very much in love with a man. He told me he was very fond of me but not to plan on marriage because he was married once and his wife double - crossed him and he will never be able to trust another woman again.

I love him, Abby, and have proved it in every way I know how, but he still says his bad experience can't let him trust another woman. Does his excuse make good sense to you?

WANTS A WEDDING RING

ABBY

DEAR WANTS: It makes about as much sense as a man who will borrow a car but refuses to buy one — because he once got stuck with a lemon.

DEAR ABBY: Please don't tell me to send my husband to our clergyman because he would never go. In fact, he even stays away from funerals because he thinks the minister is talking about him.

My husband has a drinking problem. One night he was passed out on the sofa when my sister and her husband came over, so we just let him lay there.

Suddenly he jumped up like a mad man and slapped my face. He said he saw me kissing my brother-in-law. He must have been dreaming.

My sister took my part, so he kicked her. Then her husband got mad and hit my husband and the fight started. It took the police to break it up.

I left my husband that night. A week later his mother called and said he had a stroke, so I ran over. It wasn't a stroke. He was dead drunk again. Abby, he is so grand when he is sober — a good worker and good father to our four kiddies. He promised if I'd take him back he'd quit drinking. How can I tell if he meant it this time? He's promised before.

DRUNKARD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Give him another chance — on condition that he show his sincerity by calling "A.A." Thousands of alcoholics have returned to lives of sobriety and self-respect with the help of this organization. And like the best things in life — it's free!

DEAR ABBY: We are newlyweds who just moved into an apartment. An elderly couple (he is an invalid) have the apartment across the hall. They seem to be very nice people, but here is the problem:

The first morning we were here I smelled burnt toast from their apartment. I let it go, thinking anybody can accidentally burn toast. The next morning I smelled burnt toast again. The same thing happened on the third morning. Finally I went over there and asked her how come she was burning the toast every morning. She said her husband LIKED it that way. Should I complain to the landlord? My husband says for me to skip it.

BOTHERED

DEAR BOTHERED: I agree with your husband.

Chadwick Tells How

(NEA)—Florence Chadwick, only woman to conquer the English Channel from both sides, has had years of experience with swimsuits. And she has her own special way of taking care of them.

Here's how she goes about washing a suit:

1. Add about a capful of liquid cold water soap to approximately two quarts of cold water, running the water to work up lots of suds.

2. Soak the suit about three minutes, squeezing the suds gently through it.

3. If there are spots or deep-set dirt, remove them with an undiluted application of the soap, rubbing carefully with a soft brush.

4. Rinse thoroughly.

5. Roll the suit in a towel to remove excess moisture, then lay out flat to dry. If it's convenient, Miss Chadwick prefers to hang it up to dry at dusk and avoid direct sunlight.

Carry a Carry-All

(NEA) Cosmetic carry-alls help keep your handbag neat. They're all-season fashion accessories.

Personal Reports From Near and Far

Two Pontiac collegians, both students at Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, will participate in the largest and most significant meeting of college students in the country to be held Aug. 22 through Sept. 1 on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis.

They are Kenneth Harold Bogard of Judson street and Gary Dean Meeker of Hatchery road, Waterford Township.

The 13th National Student Congress, sponsored by the United States National Student Association will bring over 1,200 participants to Minneapolis to debate major educational issues and to plan USNSA policy and programs for the coming year.

Aids Foreigners

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—An Indian student at the University of Tennessee wants to take a ride on a roller coaster. She shall have it.

"I can already see her sari trailing in the breeze," said Mrs. Loretta D. Pruett, who is waging a one-woman battle against the "hate America" feeling sometimes found among persons from foreign lands.

Mrs. Pruett runs a boarding house for foreign students. She is taking 33 of them on a month-long tour of 19 cities in the United States, beginning Aug. 26. She calls her home a "little United Nations."

"Our people just don't know enough foreign people and their customs," Mrs. Pruett said.

She is dismayed because "some students from other lands feel kept out of the American stream of life by people in this country who view them with disdain or suspicion."

She said some of the students go home after four years of study without ever seeing the inside of an American home.

"What these students want most of all is to meet Americans, to see American homes, and get a better understanding of American attitudes," said Mrs. Pruett, a widow.

"I don't think Americans are as distant as these students think," she said.

WANTS TO SEE DETROIT

Among special requests for this trip is the roller coaster ride. An engineering student wants to see Detroit and agriculture students want to see a Midwest farm.

"They all want to see a beatnik joint," Mrs. Pruett said.

"What we need right now is help with transportation. Some of these students never go anywhere because they can't afford it," said Mrs. Pruett.

"We have other problems, too. The Hindus are vegetarians so we must prepare chabbati (Indian bread) and potato curry to take along," Mrs. Pruett cooks Indian foods every day for her Hindu boarders. Most of the students are from the Middle East and Southeast Asia.

How did it all get started? "As a result of a United Press story in 1957, a woman in Racine, Wis., wrote and asked what she could do to help. I wrote some letters and the answers I got were enthusiastic," she said.

Mrs. Pruett and her flock will visit Roanoke, Richmond, Arlington and Alexandria, Va.; Washington, D.C.; Plainfield, N.J.; Niagara Falls and New York City, N.Y.; Detroit, Mich., via Canada; Racine, Wis.; Des Moines, Iowa; Kansas City, Kan.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Dallas and Mount Pleasant, Texas; New Orleans, La.; Mobile, Ala.; Pensacola, Fla. and Atlanta, Ga.

Triple joy came to the James Forneros of Los Angeles who adopted triplets after 25 years of childless married life. The 2½-year-old boys are, from left, Richard, Robert and George, and have been with the Forneros for a year. They are shown outside the courtroom where their membership into the family was made official.

25 Years Alone, They Love It

Pair Gets Triple Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If you think one small child can upset the lives of long-childless couples, wait till you hear this: These folks adopted triplets.

For 25 years Mr. and Mrs. James E. Fornero lived their quiet lives without the patter of little feet. They slept late on days off, dined instead of ate, and planned their trips for two.

Then, zowie! Overnight everything changed.

They got a family in one fell swoop—three blond, blue-eyed boys still in diapers.

Bottles to fix, diapers to wash, pajamas to mend, diapers to wash.

That, says Mrs. Fornero, gives only a hint of what happened to their well-ordered ways when Richard, Robert and George moved in.

Don't bother to gloat that they'll find out. They already have—over the last 15 months.

The Forneros not only survived, they loved it.

ONE WOULD BE DULL

The youngsters, now 2½, were put up for adoption by a mother whose husband had deserted her. Fornero is an electronics company executive. He and his wife are 45. They live in suburban Northridge.

"We never had one at a time, so we couldn't say whether it's much different three at once," Mrs. Fornero said. "But I think now that one would be rather dull."

They moved out of their two-bedroom house with a swimming pool to a larger one with an acre of land and no pool.

"This has given us a purpose in life that we thought we had before, but it was nothing compared to this," Mrs. Fornero said.

"Before, we had to think only of each other—where we'd vacation, when we'd eat, what we'd buy. Now the boys' needs come first. And we wouldn't have it any other way."

Old Folks Need More Comfort

Dislike Modern Furniture, Prefer Early American

CHICAGO (UPI) — Home furnishings for older folks should be more comfortable than the conventional rocking chair.

Robert Greengoss, president of a company which furnishes nursing homes for the elderly, said the deep recesses of the rocking chair or ultra-modern butterfly chair are back-breakers for older persons.

"They're difficult to get in and out of," he said. Older persons also have trouble getting up from modern armless chairs, he's found.

Here are some Greengoss suggestions for furnishing grandma's apartment:

Avoid stark modern furniture or heavy period pieces. The elderly are unaccustomed to highly contemporary lines, but also dislike ornate mahogany pieces which are apt to make a room dreary and cheerless. They prefer a happy medium like Early American furniture in a cherry maple finish.

LOW BEDS

Beds should be low enough to get into and out of without strain and stress, and should have hospital springs because older persons are likely to be ill more often.

Avoid throw rugs on floors since they become hazards to the elderly who do not lift their feet much when walking and may be more liable to trip.

Colors should be clear and contrasting and patterns simple and distinct to make it easier for fading eyesight to distinguish the beginning and end of a rug, the jutting outline of a fireplace or a chair's location. Bright colors are desirable, but never exotic or extreme ones. Most older persons are too conservative to live with bright red, for example.

Higher than usual coffee tables, chests and built-ins will save the elderly from painful bending and stooping.

Nylon Chairs Are Good 'Dry Racks'

Garden lounge chairs with nylon strip construction make excellent "drying racks" for freshly laundered knits and other garments which are best dried flat.

After washing, rinsing, and blotting in a towel, drape a fresh towel over the chair and spread the clean garment on it. Then air can circulate freely through and around the "wash" for quick drying.

Accent on Scent

(NEA)—Summer is the time of light cottons. Enhance that light summer feeling by using sachets and floral scents in closets and drawers holding summer garments.

Adolescent Has to Have Idealized Friend

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Quite often, I meet people in their teens who promptly begin to idealize me.

They want to spend as much time with me as possible. They listen reverently to anything I say, whether it's about a delayed grocery order or the plays of Tennessee Williams.

My political gripes, my religious views, my distaste for cooking on hot summer nights always strike them as the most fresh and original opinions ever held by anyone.

They seek my approval with an eagerness that would astound their parents.

I am not flattered by this adoration. My idealizing young friends endow me with ultimate wisdom because they want me to use it in their behalf.

If I am the most trustworthy adult in the world they can justify their dependence upon my advice and protection. Thus, their idealization of me is the mechanism by which they can avoid trusting themselves, their own opinions and feelings.

This is the mechanism that underlies much adolescent hero worship of adults other than their parents.

As growth forces your Harry or Gwen to renounce their unquestioning trust of your judgment be or she will transfer it to an adult neighbor, relative or friend as part of the process of developing independence, much as a man who has broken his leg discards his cast for crutches.

When this idealization is fixed on another adult we dislike, parents get upset. We are hurt by Gwen's rejection of our wisdom and fear the "bad influence" of her idealized friend.

If we understand the mechanism behind the idealization, we can reduce our anxiety. To see that Gwen idealizes the loud, assured, flashily dressed divorcee down the street because she does not trust her own sex appeal is to see Gwen's real problem.

We can move past our hurt and fear to start building her sexual confidence. We can begin to make her more conscious of her physical assets by becoming more aware of them ourselves.

We can suggest dancing lessons, open our home to more entertainment of her friends. But if we attack the subject of her idealization, we will force Gwen to increase it.

The adolescent's idealized friend is always what psychoanalyst Erich Fromm calls the "magic helper." He is the person our family-detaching child endows with superhuman strength, charm and wisdom because he still fears to trust himself and stand alone.

Don't Look Old Too Soon

Exercise Ends Arm Flab

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A woman's upper arms are likely to betray her into looking old before she actually is. We just do not use our arms in a way to avoid this unless we are active in sports.

However, special exercises can prevent and improve the flabby condition which detracts so much from an attractive appearance.

Some women have extremely large upper arms, much larger than they should be according to weight and other proportions. This tendency is usually inherited and is often dictated by the glandular setup.

If one is overweight, a general loss in poundage also will reduce the upper arms.

MAIN CONCERN

The flabby upper arm is our main concern today. I wrote about this not long ago but I have had such an influx of letters concerning this condition that I am bringing you more information.

So many women are wearing sundresses and swim suits now, that their attention has been called to this defect.

Exercise is the only answer! The following exercises must be taken daily and it will be a few weeks or even a couple of months before you notice a difference, but the effort is well worth the result.

1. Stand tall. Raise the arms sideward, shoulder height, palms facing toward the ceiling.

Clench the fists as you turn the palms toward the floor and back toward the back of the room as far as possible. Unclench fists and again turn palms toward the ceiling.

Continue, keeping the arms at shoulder height and clenching the fists hard.

A REPEATER

2. I have given this one before but it is so good that I am repeating it again today.

Bend the elbows up in front of the body about shoulder height, palms toward the body.

Straighten the elbows and swing the arms down and back, turning the palms toward the back of the room. Again bend elbows and continue.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Armfuls of Beauty" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Fight flabby upper arms by clenching the fists from this position. So many women are wearing sundresses and swim suits now, that their attention has been called to this defect.

Here's Easy Way to Beat the Heat

Here's a novel twist on how to keep cool during the dog days. Every time you wash your hands, rinse the soapsuds off with warm water as usual. Then turn on the cold water tap and let it run over your wrists, where blood vessels are close to the surface. This will make you feel cooler and more relaxed all over.

Another heat-relief trick is to apply cold water to your forehead after washing your face.

Avoid Stubbed Toe

(UPI) — For safety's sake, straighten the bedroom before turning in so articles won't cause someone to stumble or fall in the dark.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps is a prolonged deficiency of calcium.*

So says a famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker—bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, glutamic acid hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

Ex-Queen Aids Refugees From 'Her' City

BRUSSELS (AP) — An old queen of world renown in music watches anxiously these days for news from her namesake city and goes to the airport to help comfort homecoming Congo refugees.

She is the Queen Grandmother Elisabeth, now 84, and the city is Elisabethville, capital of the troubled secessionist Congo province of Katanga.

The city was named for her when it was founded 50 years ago and she was the radiant young wife of King Albert I. Now it is the Congo's second largest—after Leopoldville — and the richest in the colony now lost to Belgium in the surges of African nationalism.

Sauerkraut can be served plain or fancy—with frankfurters or with roast duck.

Bride-to-Be Is Honored

Mary Ellen Oltesvig, bride-elect of Robert Winter, was feted at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. George W. Gray of East Yale avenue.

In addition to Mrs. Oltesvig and Mrs. Winter, guests at the Thursday shower were Mrs. Cordie Hereim, Mrs. Ford Drumm, Mrs. Ray Scarborough, Mrs. Gordon Allison, Mrs. James Wrinkle, Mrs. John Newman and Mrs. Fred Goines.

Others were Mrs. Jasper Price, Mrs. Ralph Bowers, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. Albert Wilkinson, Mrs. Norman Bolton, Mrs. Arthur Thomas, Mrs. Dewey Dean and Mrs. Henry Wilzewski.

Concluding the list were Mrs. Arthur Jepon Jr., Mrs. John Maxwell, Marilyn Scarborough, Lenora Oltesvig, Carolyn Goines and Marilyn Drumm.

Double Chin Shows Up Early in Life

(NEA) — A double chin cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be called a beauty asset. Signs of the coming double chin can show up in the early twenties or even in the late teens. When it first appears, do something about it.

An effective exercise lies in flicking your tongue in the direction of the tip of your nose for a count of twenty-five times. You won't reach your nose, of course, but the effort smooths out that double chin.

Here's a Test to See If You're Really Snob

By RUTH MILLETT

How much of a snob are you?

When your child brings another child home from school do you immediately want to know where the child lives and what his father does for a living?

If someone who is socially prominent invites you to a party on an evening you have planned to spend with old friends, do you wriggle out of your plans in order to accept the invitation of the local hostess with the most cost?

Do you drop old friends when your husband gets a promotion or you move to a "better" neighborhood?

PLAN NAME DROPPING?

Do you make openings to drop the names of important people you have happened to meet or know casually?

Do you pull strings to get your teen-agers in with a group whose parents have more than most of the students in their school?

Do you join organizations for no better reason than that they carry social prestige in your town?

Do you smile sweetly and agree with anything Mrs. Gotrocks says when you would be quick to disagree with the same statement if it were made by someone who didn't have Mrs. G's money and social position?

Do you ignore your neighbors because they obviously are in no better circumstances than you are and try to make friends with those who are at least a notch above you financially?

Do you skimp and cut corners where it doesn't show in order to put on a good front?

WHY DO YOU GO?

Do you go places to "be seen" rather than to enjoy yourself?

Is your conversation aimed to impress others rather than to put them at ease?

You might as well answer the questions honestly because anyone who knows you at all well can answer them for you without a moment's hesitation.

New Product Kills Bacteria, Molds

If there's an allergy victim in the family, it is important to keep your home spotless and dust-free. Floors, walls, woodwork, and all other washable surfaces must be scrubbed faithfully with soap or detergent suds.

As an added weapon against irritants, you can now add to your suds—or rinse water—a new concentrate which is claimed to kill most molds, germs, and bacteria. Mops and scrub cloths used with this concentrate are also said to become germ- and fungus-free.

Wash---Then Wear

Some meticulous women prefer to launder and press new clothing before wearing it. This removes that tell-tale "just-out-of-the-fitting - room look.

Potato Chip Crumbs Are Good to Coat Chicken

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When you hear of a new way to fix a familiar food, often your reaction is, "Why didn't I think of that?". In such a way you might react to this chicken recipe from Mrs. Ernest Brown.

* * *

A teacher, Mrs. Brown is a member of the Christian Teachers Fellowship. She belongs to an Extension group. She does some church work, is interested in gardening and loves to have her small granddaughter visit her.

CRUNCHY CHICKEN
By Mrs. Ernest Brown

Cut frying chicken into serving pieces. Dip in melted butter or margarine. Roll in crushed potato chip crumbs. Bake one hour in a 350-degree oven or until tender. Use no added salt in this recipe.

Protect Curtains

On the back of floor length draperies or curtains sew small snaps on the lower corners and partway up the sides. Then on cleaning day, snap them up out of the way to save them from being soiled by the floor cleaning.

There are certain rare teas today that sell for thirty or forty dollars a pound.

FAD and FASHION

Good fashion sense doesn't just happen, it takes some careful planning.

Each year fashion introduces some new fad that (it is hoped) will become "all the rage."

Beware of these quickly dated fashion fads! Use them only in small touches to keep your appearance abreast of time. Build your wardrobe of basic good looks as a lasting investment.

When the fad dies, replace it at once. How pleased you'll be to realize that your investment in it was small, that your wardrobe has not shrunk or become completely passe.

EJECTED BY JUDGE — A bride of three weeks, Mrs. Irving Rabinowitz, 28-year-old secretary, got a lecture on how to dress and was ejected from traffic court in New York City Tuesday for wearing tight slacks. She was in court to pay a speeding fine for her boss. The judge refused to take the money until she returned properly dressed. Mr. Rabinowitz shortly came into court and paid the fine for his wife's employer.

Holdup No Joke!

SALEM, N.H. (AP)—Supermarket cashier Phyllis Morrow was amused when a six-footer in Western-style plaid shirt and cowboy hat strode in at closing time Tuesday night and announced "this is a stickup." When the stranger produced what looked like a sawed-off shotgun the amusement vanished. He scooped up $700 and $15.50 in change and fled.

Alpena Cement Plant to Increase Capacity

ALPENA (UPI) — Purchase of a new kiln and accessory equipment will permit the world's largest cement plant here to increase its productive capacity by two million barrels in the next two years, officials of Huron Portland Cement Co. said Tuesday.

The firm is a subsidiary of National Gypsum Co. and was notified that purchase of the new equipment had been authorized by the board of directors of the parent firm.

The new kiln and equipment are expected to be in operation by January 1962 and the plant here will be able to produce 14 million barrels of cement and masonry annually by 1962.

H. R. Schemm, president of Huron Portland, said in announcing purchase of the new facilities that "while the volume of business in 1960 has been disappointing and some further curtailment of production may become necessary in the near future, nevertheless, our confidence in the long-term growth of our markets is not shaken and we will continue to prepare for the future."

We don't often advertise or promote our luxury carpet, yet a great deal of our trade is in fabrics of the $15 yd. to $30 yd. range which we sell for $10 to $15 yard. This business has been built largely by the spoken word and recommendations from customers who deal with us regularly and know the difference.

Chaplin's Son Sues Over 'Slur' to His Father

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Because his father's name was omitted from Hollywood's new so-called "Walk of fame," Charles Chaplin Jr., 35, is suing the Chamber of Commerce for $400,000.

Names of almost every other Hollywood celebrity are being inscribed in the new sidewalks being installed in the film capital.

Chaplin's name was omitted because he was deemed controversial. He lives in Europe and hasn't complained. But his son, who filed the suit for libel damages Tuesday, said the omission of his father's name has discredited and disgraced him.

Doomed Building Takes the Coward's Way Out

GRANTS, N. M. (AP) — There were a few chuckles from local residents today, but the volunteer fire department didn't see the humor.

A fire Monday night destroyed a small frame building the fire department had built on city property.

It was to be burned Aug. 28 in a fire-fighting demonstration during a convention of the Tri-State Assn. of Volunteer Firemen.

Panama Used in Propaganda Against U.S.

Canal's Fertile Field of Friction

By G. MARTINEZ MARQUEZ

PANAMA — The history of the Canal is as close to the history of the Republic of Panama as are its locks and installations to the territory of the isthmus.

The Canal and the Republic were born together and they bear the same name. It would be materially impossible to separate them. The Canal is by this time a natural geographic part of the young Republic.

MARQUEZ

However, what in the past has been a source of pride and national revenue, and a symbol of prosperity and renown, has now turned into a complex problem brought on by the lack of understanding on the one side and understandable impatience on the other.

To tourists visiting Panama, the Canal is a scientific get mounted on the isthmian republic. To navigators it is a magic gateway connecting the oceans that surround the American continent. To engineers studying its wonderful simplicity the Canal must evoke great admiration.

But for some time now international agitators have included the Canal in their propaganda slogans against the United States.

EASY TARGET

The Panama Canal was an easy target. The propaganda hammering on national sentiment made the Canal a fertile field of friction that is the source of increasing concern to Panamanian authorities.

One cannot spend even a few hours in Panama City without visiting the Canal Zone. And a visit to the Canal Zone makes one keenly aware of the state of mind of the native Panamanians vis-a-vis the rules and regulations enforced by the administering North American authorities.

A few months ago a group of students tried to raise the flag of Panama in the Canal Zone and thereby touched off a series of dramatic incidents.

A few days ago a caravan of automobiles invaded the zone from the city; the drivers did not from the city; the drivers did not have the licenses required by the Canal authorities. No violence occurred, but most anything could happen if similar incursions should take place in the future.

A few hours ago a committee of Canal Zone workers visited the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to complain that their working conditions were not regulated by Panamanian law nor by U. S. law. In their opinion they simply have no recognized legal standing.

IGNORANCE NO SOLUTION

This sort of thing goes on frequently. Ignoring the situation does not help to solve it. President Ernesto de la Guardia has said, perhaps rightly so, that these are emotional matters; but there are always international agitators ready to inject their poison into them.

What is still essentially nothing more than resentful nationalistic feeling could turn into hatred and become one more explosive in the powder keg of the Caribbean.

The Panamanian foreign office contends with a peculiar situation derived from the problems of the Canal Zone. As is usual in cases of this sort, it deals with the Department of State in Washington. But the fact is, that the affairs of the Canal are handled by the U. S. Defense Department, and sometimes compliance with agreements is delayed indefinitely.

Dr. Gilberto Arias, a lawyer who is head of the Third Nationalist Party, which contributed to the victory of President-elect Chiari, tells us:

"Historically the U. S. has been unjust with Panama on certain occasions, beginning with the signature of the original treaty. Later, up to 1955, the U. S. did not pay a cent for the Canal, because the 250,000 gold dollars purportedly paid annually was the same amount paid to Colombia for the railway.

"Even though the treaty specfies that the zone administration is for the maintenance, sanitation, operation and defense of the Canal, the authorities frequently permit unfair competition with Panamanian commercial and industrial concerns.

NO REVENUE INCREASE

"The Canal," Dr. Arias adds, "cannot increase its revenue because the shipping interests in Washington have prevented an increase in the 1918 transit rates. As a result, Panama does not receive the benefits from the Canal permissible under the treaty.

"As far as sovereignty is concerned," he concludes, "there is not one Panamanian who will accept the argument that Panama has transferred sovereignty over the Zone to the United States."

Dr. Sergio Gonzalez Ruiz, first vice president-elect and head of the National Liberation Movement party, a participant in the coalition in the election of Chiari, tells us:

"I believe that the U. S. is mistaken in its Latin American policy. In Panama, for example, the U. S. would lose nothing by permitting the American flag to be withdrawn from the Canal Zone. On the contrary, it would win our friendship. In spite of this the U. S. persists in its attitude.

"But we do not harbor anti-North American feelings, because all we want is to be treated as equals and that existing treaties be fulfilled without subterfuges. The U. S. is too powerful a nation to be ungenerous."

In connection with tension in the Caribbean, Dr. Ruiz believes that the Cuban Revolution has lost ground and that the situation could be settled through joint action by democratic countries in the OAS.

More radical views are expressed by Dr. Victor F. Goytia, head of the Civil Resistance Party, former Minister of Education and unsuccessful candidate for the presidency in the recent elections. He says flatly: "The United States has never understood our problems."

"In our day and age," he tells us, "we must think in hemispheric terms. We must put aside crude nationalism. I do not believe that the Cuban revolution has had much influence in Panama, even though in our countries the people are always on the side of the underdog. Accumulated injustices, misery and hunger have always favored the propagation of communism. The problem of Panama is not one of dictatorship but of anarchy."

French Composer Andre Bloch Dies

PARIS (AP) — Composer Andre Bloch died in Paris Sunday after a brief illness. He was 87.

A shy, retiring man, Bloch was a former inspector general of musical education for the government and a professor of harmony and composition at the Paris Academy.

His musical output was not large. He preferred to polish a few compositions to a high degree of technical excellence. Critics consider his tone poems to be among the finest of the form.

"La Suite Palestinienne" for violincello and orchestra, one of his best-known works, has been performed around the world. He also wrote the score for two operas, "Broceliande" in 1925 and "Guignol" in 1949.

In addition, Bloch was a philosopher and scientist. He perfected a listening device adopted for use aboard French submarines in World War I.

OK One-Way Loop Plan for Saginaw Downtown

Market Picture Looks Favorable

Consumers' Willingness to Buy Should Create Good 1961 Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—The strongest element in the 1960 business picture — the sustained growth of the consumer's income and his willingness to buy — remains favorable, and should exert an upward pull on manufacturers' orders in the coming months, according to Standard & Poor's "Outlook."

Automakers will be sparking a sizable improvement in steel activity while more favorable earnings reports can be looked forward to over the balance of the year, Standard adds.

Since the market had greatly overestimated the business potential for 1960, the statistical agency inquires: Is it possible that the current mood underestimates the prospects for 1961?

Noting that the gross national product is estimated to be running at a $505 billion annual rate with a modest increase expected by year end, the Alexander Tamilton Institute sees little likelihood of a serious market decline from the present level.

Adlai Likes 'Belated' Ike Rights Interest

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson Tuesday night called President Eisenhower's interest in civil rights "belated but encouraging."

The Democratic presidential nominee of 1952 and 1956 said that "the President for a long time exercised something less than emphatic interest in civil rights."

The President's civil rights proposals were incorporated in a bill introduced in the Senate Tuesday by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill). The Senate voted 54-28 to table it.

Beach Leading Runner in College All-Star Camp

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

When they played for the Lions, Lou Creekmur and Leon Hart had no personal love for each other. They merely tolerated one another as teammates.

Very often Creekmur let it be known what he thought about Hart when the big ex-Notre Dame end was carrying the ball for the Lions. His comments weren't too complimentary.

On the other hand, Hart once commented, "How he ever makes all-pro tackle every year is beyond me."

Creekmur also made some remarks about Hart being one of the "pets" of the Lions' bosses, excluding some of the coaches.

Of course Hart's salary was one of the best on the team, close behind players like Bobby Layne, Doak Walker and some of the top stars.

For this reason a few of the Lions thought big Leon wasn't giving his all. Well, that's all over and both Hart and Creekmur are retired.

Their rivalry, however, hasn't ended. The Oakland County All-Star High School football game has brought the two back into the picture as rival coaches.

Right now Hart is enjoying the problems Creekmur has been having while getting his South team organized and situated.

When the two squads met for physicals last Friday night Hart and his assistant coach Jack Simmons gave the South team a lesson in psychology.

Creekmur and his aide Wally Fromhart were not available as they were ending their vacations, so the coachless South players listened during their physicals while Hart was introducing his players, charting plays and checking practice times.

That was a good psychological boost for us," said Hart, who admits he is going all out to show Creekmur "a well-coached squad."

Creekmur got the South team assembled and found himself with a problem of a practice site. The North had already had three practice sessions and the South was still going through the preliminaries.

After a few tentative sites, the South squad has had to move its workouts to various places in the county.

The South team is still far behind the North and Hart is shedding no tears for Creekmur. "Isn't that too bad," Hart said with a bit of sarcasm.

Creekmur, not happy with the circumstances and the fact that Hart has got such a big advantage on him, commented last night, "Let him laugh, we have had our problems and we may not be as big, but we'll give Leon a lesson in coaching."

Hart immediately retaliated, "Tell Lou we're going to run nothing but off-tackle plays, because we know that's where he will be the weakest."

The word has reached the Cranbrook camp of the Detroit Lions about the debut of Hart and Creekmur into the coaching ranks, and several of the players have been interested onlookers at the all-star workouts.

"It will be interesting to see which of the two know our plays the best," commented one of the Lions.

Flag for Orioles? Well, Why Not

DETROIT (AP) — Paul Richards never flatly predicts that his Baltimore Orioles will win the American League pennant.

But when someone asks him if he thinks they can, his stock reply is "why not?"

It appears certain now that this will be the best season since the Orioles moved to Baltimore in 1953. Never have the Orioles finished above the .500 mark and never have they made the first division.

At a time when the experts figured Baltimore's youthful athletes would be folding, the Orioles are on their hottest streak. Their 3-0 victory over Detroit last night before 22,007 rain-soaked Briggs Stadium spectators was their ninth in 10 games and their 13th in 17.

Today, the vigorous Orioles share second place with the defending champion Chicago White Sox. The two clubs trailed the New York Yankees by a game and a half.

"I've had a pretty good look at this league," said Richards, "and I don't see any supermen around. There's good balance and its for sure no one is going to make a runaway out of it. So I figure our chances are as good as the next guy's."

Richards dislikes the term "Kiddie Korps" that has been hung on the Orioles, but it's a fact that 38 of Baltimore's 61 victories have been pitched by young men 22 or under — and all are products of the Baltimore farm system.

Estrada, a fireballing righthander, only 22 and in his first major league season, got the latest victory with a brilliant four-hitter over the Tigers. He has been Richards' biggest winner, with 12 triumphs against only six losses.

The shutout was Estrada's first in four years of professional pitching. No only is Estrada the Birds' biggest winner, but he also tops the club in complete games, strikeouts and innings pitched.

Brooks Robinson, the team's most consistent hitter in the last two months, gave Estrada all the help he needed with a three-run home run in the fourth inning. It was the 11th for the sure-gloved young third baseman, who has lifted his batting average from .214 to .302 since June 4.

"We're not busting down many fences," said Richards, "but we're getting timely hitting. And the good thing is, our players are confident. They feel that if they don't come through in a particular spot, another guy will.

"Another thing — we're going to have a fresh pitcher starting every game from here on. We have eight pitchers who can start, and they're going to be properly rested.

Penalties on Martin Upheld by NL Prexy

CINCINNATI (AP)—The bone-breaking punch that Cincinnati Reds' second baseman Billy Martin gave pitcher Jim Brewer of the Chicago Cubs last Thursday still is going to cost him $500.

Martin now has served out the five-day suspension that went with the fine.

National League President Warren C. Giles announced Tuesday night after a hearing requested by Martin that the penalties would stand. He said he heard nothing at the hearing that would cause him to change his mind about the fine and suspension.

A subdued Martin said he would abide by the decision and indicated he felt he had made his point even though the penalties were not changed.

"The thing I wanted to point out," he said, "was that I actually thought Brewer was coming over to fight. I'll never change my mind on that."

And he insisted again it was not a "sucker" punch he threw at Brewer.

"I always said he (Brewer) wasn't surprised," Martin declared.

At the time of the incident, Martin claimed Brewer had thrown a pitch at his head. The ball nicked Martin's bat and carromed off his helmet. On the next pitch, Martin's bat flew out of his hands toward the mound.

He went out to pick it up and he suddenly swung on Brewer after they had exchanged words.

The punch broke an orbital bone under the right eye and Brewer is expected to be out of action for at least a month.

In a Chicago hospital, Brewer said Monday night, "I think it (the fine and suspension) is strong enough but I'm glad it wasn't lifted."

He insisted again he did not see the punch, declaring, "I just didn't see it coming."

Reds' General Manager Gabe Paul and Judge Robert Cannon of Milwaukee, attorney for ballplayers, accompanied Martin to the hearing before Giles but Paul said Martin did most of the talking at the closed-door session.

Although he refused to lift the fine, Giles said "Martin seemed very sincere in emphasizing that he did not intend any surprise blow and seemed truly sorry for the whole affair."

As he left the National League office, Martin closed out the affair by saying, "It's a past matter now. I'm like to see Brewer come back and play."

Martin's fine is due to be paid Friday. There have been reports his teammates might contribute to a fund to help pay it. Giles declined to comment on the reports but Paul declared, "I don't see anything wrong with it."

At the time the fine was levied, Giles directed it could not be paid by the Reds' management.

BREWER

Lions "Love" Those Cleveland "Cousins"

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"Those good old Cleveland Browns" — that has been the cry when the Detroit Lions would get hungry for a victory.

The Lions have taken pride in belting Paul Brown and the pros from across the lake over the span of years. This includes a 10-3 edge for Detroit in pre-season play and a 7-1 record over the Browns in regular season play.

Only the Lions can boast of such advantage of any of the teams in the National Football League.

Saturday night at Briggs Stadium, the Browns, with two of the best runners in the league, will give the Lions a test of coach George Wilson's new-look unit.

Wilson has made many changes in trying to solve especially two key problems which spelled a disastrous season last year.

He has made changes to close up the leaky offensive line which allowed opposing linemen to smear the quarterbacks continuously and he has added a new face to the quarterbacking corps in hopes of improving the poor passing record of 1959.

Ironically, the new face who will share the quarterbacking is Jim Ninowski who was obtained from the Browns in a trade which sent end Bob Long to Cleveland.

In the line changes, Wilson has moved defensive end Darris McCord to offensive tackle, and defensive tackle Jerry Perry to offensive guard.

Another added punch to the backfield is the addition of Walt Kowalczyk from the Philadelphia Eagles. Kowalczyk has not shown any of the leg injury effects which plagued him for two seasons with the Eagles and he along with Nick Pietrosante and Hopalong Cassady have been running well in training camp thus far.

The Browns starting lineup will include all veterans on offense headed by Jim Brown, without doubt the best carrier in the league. He has strong support from halfback Jimmy Mitchell.

On defense the Browns will start three rookies, Jim Marshall of Ohio State at end, Don Fleming of Florida at left safety and DeJustice Coleman of Illinois at right safety.

The Lions are sure to employ at least seven rookies in the game headed by 250 pound center Bob Scholtz of Notre Dame.

Tickets for the game are still available and can be obtained from the Lions' office on Michigan Avenue until 5:00 p.m. daily.

Elsewhere, former Lion halfback candidate Art Brandriff of VMI was among six players dropped by the Eagles Tuesday. Another was end Ron Miller of Indiana. Don Rohrer, a 230-pound guard, joined Pittsburgh yesterday following his Army discharge. The New York Titans of the AFL cut two gridders, including ex-Ohio State quarterback Frank Kremblas.

LEADS ALL-STARS — Former Pontiac Central High School football and track star Walter Beach, who gained Little All-America honors at Central Michigan, is now the talk of the College All-Stars who meet the Baltimore Colts Friday night in the annual Chicago Classic. The game will be televised nationally.

Former Chief Football Ace to Face Colts

Graham Calls Ex-PCH Speedster the Fastest Back in Camp

The College All-Stars may have a surprise for the seasoned Baltimore Colts Friday night and it won't be a big name from a big college.

The best breakaway runner head coach Otto Graham has in his All-Star camp is Pontiac's Walter Beach, a Little All-American halfback from Central Michigan University.

Speed is what Graham wants if he is to contain the big Colts, and Beach is giving the All-Stars plenty of it.

Graham likes to hark back to the 1958 game, his first as All Star coach, His team ran up the biggest score in the midsummer football series by trimming the Detroit Lions 35-19. Fleet Bob Mitchell of Illinois took two flat passes from Michigan State's Jim Ninowski for touchdown runs of 84 and 18 yards to insure the victory.

"We just don't have a mitchell this time," Graham keeps repeating.

But the 25-year-old Beach may be close to the answer.

Beach, who will play pro football for the Toronto Argonauts, gained 2,968 yards rushing and and scored 43 touchdowns in his varsity career at Central Michigan. And, as a member of the track team, the 180-pound tied the school record for 100 yards in :09.7. Shoot him some flat passes and he may pull a Mitchell.

Beach is only one of four fast halfbacks who also rank as fine pass receivers. The others are Ed Kovac of Cincinnati, Dick Bass of College of Pacific and Prentice Gautt of Oklahoma.

Kovac scored 90 points last year and caught 31 passes. Bass, although hampered at times with injury, averaged 126 yards rushing. Gautt, who played fullback for the Sooners, is not as flashy as the others but is the hardest runner.

Captain of the All-Stars on offense will be Mike McGee, 230-pound guard from Duke. Captain on defense will be Jim Houston, 220-pound end from Ohio State.

The starting quarterback is uncertain. Graham can select from George Izo of Notre Dame, Pete Hall of Marquette and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist—all exceptional passers.

The game in Soldier Field will be televised and broadcast via ABC beginning at 9 p.m. EST.

The Colts are rated an 18-point favorite to hand the All-Stars their 17th loss in the series. The collegians, beaten by the Colts 29-0 last year, have won eight games and held the pros to two ties.

Rain Delays Playoffs

The city softball playoffs and baseball tourney games in classes A and B were delayed one day by last night's rain.

Patterson, Ingo May Sign Pacts at Olympic Site

STOCKHOLM (AP) — World heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson starts a 12-day exhibition tour of Sweden here tonight amid rumors that the official signing for his third bout with Ingemar Johansson will take place in Rome just before the opening of the Olympic Games on Aug. 25.

Patterson admitted he had heard the idea and also conceded that he was going to Rome.

"But," he pointed out, "there are still a few obstacles to be cleared before I sign any contract. I'm going to Rome to have an audience with the Pope and see part of the Olympics. The contract signing business has nothing to do with my visit to Rome."

Proved to Be Vitamin

Pep Pill Incident Closed

NEW YORK (AP) — The case of the suspected pep pills was closed today by the U.S. Olympic Committee.

An analysis of a pill found in the women's locker room at the Olympic Trials in Detroit last week was found to be a vitamin pill.

"It was an ordinary pill used to make up a deficiency in iron, and could be bought in any drug store without a prescription," said Jim Simms, secretary-treasurer of the AAU.

Simms said he had the pill analyzed at the request of Ben York, chairman of the Women's Olympic Swimming Committee. A coach had given the pill to York.

Last Sunday, Weikko Ruuska, one of whose daughters, Sylvia, made the team, charged that the woman were taking pep pills. The charge brought denials from coaches and officials.

"We have not received any official complaints," said Art Lentz, assistant executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "As far as we're concerned the team stands as it is."

Meanwhile, Russia expects to do well at the coming Olympic Games in Rome by ability and not through use of dope or stimulants, a high Soviet sports official said today.

The question of whether dope or stimulants would be used to pep up athletes was raised by British correspondents at a news conference for Soviet and foreign journalists. The British newsmen said it was "a burning question" in Britain.

Nikolai Romanov, chairman of the Soviet Sports Committee, said Soviet athletes will be given vitamins at the games the same as athletes from other countries.

"There is a great deal of talk about doping and stimulation pills," Romanov said. "We use only vitamins and preparations recommended by medicine (doctors)." Later he said vitamin candy and chocolate will be taken to Rome and nothing else.

Re-Evaluation Asked

City Playoffs Criticized

The Pontiac City Commission has called for a re-evaluation of Department of Parks & Recreation rules and regulations governing city baseball leagues.

The order came last night after several complaints were voiced at City Hall.

"Apparently there is a need next year for some well-founded rules that will be clear to everyone—including the players and their parents," observed Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

Leonard J. Steinhelper, 156 Spence St., whose son plays for the Moose Lodge-sponsored team in the Class E League, was angry because rain washed out the team's chances to enter playoffs last week.

"It's not fair to the boys not to reschedule playoff games that have been rained out," he said.

Poor rules and arbitrary enforcement of them have hurt morale in the leagues, according to Harry Eisenberg, 55 Henderson St., who has been associated with teams sponsored by the Metropolitan Club.

"We've dropped from nine teams last year to three this year," he said. "The reason is that our managers won't go along with the way the city runs baseball."

He charged that the city officials changes ground rules during the season "to suit their own needs."

Top Two Seeds Lose in Eastern Tourney

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Both top-seeded Darlene Hard, of Montebello, Calif., and second-ranked Janet Hopps, of Seattle, were upset Tuesday by 17-year-olds in the second round of the Eastern Grass Courts Tennis Championships.

Miss Hard, No. 2-ranked player in the country and a mainstay of the Wightman Cup team, was whipped by Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., 8-3, 4-8, 7-5, while Miss Hopps bowed to pony-tailed Carole Caldwell of Tampa, Fla., 6-3, 7-5.

Men's play was on the routine side. Australian champion Rod Laver, the No. 1 seed, defeated John Hammill, of South Africa, 8-6, 6-3.

Second-seeded Ron Holmberg, of Brooklyn, breezed past Bill Hoots Jr., of Berkeley, Calif., 6-1, 6-3. Australian Bob Mark, No. 3 in the draw, trimmed Martin Reissen of Hinsdale, Ill., 9-7, 6-3. Mike Franks, of Los Angeles, No. 4 ousted M. J. Woolven of Great Britain.

Yanks, British Divide London Boat Meet

LONDON (AP)—American and British students, racing in "Alpha" boats with mainmails and jobs, broke even Tuesday in the first two meets for the British-American University Cup.

Racing for the Americans were Princeton University's Dennis Wright, Bill Cox Jr. and Dick Rose; MIT's Peter Gray and Don Nelsen, and Dartmouth's Ron Boss.

The cup has been in competition for only three years and on the two previous tries was won by the British.

The students use only the Alpha, a British boat measuring 11½ feet.

Next to Les is former Pontiac Central end LeRoy Moore from Fort Valley College in Georgia. Others are Ron Stehouwer (68), Colorado State; Jim O'Brien (86) from Boston College and Rufus Granderson (78), Prairies View A&M offensive tackle. Larsen Finally Wins One; Yanks Topple White Sox

By The Associated Press

Remember Don Larsen? He's the fellow who pitched the only perfect World Series game in history. Did it for the New York Yankees on a bright October afternoon in 1956. Beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-0.

Haven't heard too much about him lately. He reached his peak in that one classic, and there was only one way to go—down. But not quite as far down as he eventually went. Down to the minors, in fact.

He hung around with the Yankees through the 1959 season, in which he won six games and lost seven. But the New York club finally gave up on him. They sent him to Kansas City in a seven-player deal in December, 1959.

Something had gone wrong. A control artist, he had lost his control, and even his much-imitated no-windup delivery didn't help him.

He had lost his last six games with the Yankees in 1959, and with Kansas City he was no better, so he was sent down to the minors on July 8 this year. The A's brought him back July 29.

But he had run up six more major league defeats for an even dozen straight until Tuesday night, when he defeated Washington, 8-3, in the second game of a doubleheader. It was the first game he had won since he beat Detroit for the Yankees June 13, 1959, by a 6-4 score. He tired after 7 1-3 innings and was relieved by Ken Johnson.

The Senators had taken the first game 3-1 in 12 innings, as the league-leading Yankees were stopping the White Sox 7-4, the Baltimore Orioles were blanking Detroit 3-0 and Cleveland was downing Boston 6-3.

The Yankees increased their lead to a game and a half by squaring their series with the White Sox when rain came an inning too late to help the Chicagoans.

The New Yorkers got three runs on one hit in the eighth inning as the vaunted Sox defense fell apart and the rains came to wash out the ninth inning.

Errors by catcher Joe Ginsberg, first baseman Roy Sievers, and a botched-up play by second baseman Nellie Fox ruined what might have been a fine relief job by pitcher Gerry Staley.

A crowd of 48,406 sat in on the proceedings at Comiskey Park. Luis Arroyo, who has been a valuable asset to the Yankee mound staff recently, finally got his first victory. He came in the seventh as the fourth Yankee pitcher. Bob Turley had started.

Harmon Killebrew was the big noise in the first of the Senator-Athletic games. His home run in the 12th was the decisive blow. Pitcher Don Lee hit a home run, his first, for the Senators in the third inning, and Norm Siebern tied it up with his 15th in the fourth. Siebern also hit for the round trip in the second game.

Ted Williams provided the big news as the Red Sox bowed to the Indians. The 41-year-old Red Sox slugger rapped out his 19th home run of the season and the 511th of his distinguished career, putting him in a tie for third place with Mel Ott on the all-time home run list.

Ted's solo blast couldn't offset two-run homers by Tito Francona and Vic Power, however. Power also knocked in a run with a double.

Pentathlon Squad Sees Olympic Win

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Optimistic about their chances of winning, United States qualifiers wind up training this week for the grueling modern pentathlon competition at the Olympics in Rome.

Army Lt. Col. John W. Russell, the coach, and the three team members and one alternate hope to bring back the first gold medal ever won by this country in the five-sided event.

"For the first time, I'm really optimistic about our chances," Russell said. "I want to win as much as anybody in the country."

The pentathlon includes swimming, horseback riding, cross country running, pistol shooting and fencing.

Ewbank Thinks His Colts Will Be Gaining Club

With All Stars Bit

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts believes his team will gain whether it wins or loses to the College All-Stars Friday night.

The coach of the world champion Colts said, "We have prestige to gain and the loss of face if we lose. But if we lose, not all is lost.

"It might be the salvation of our club," Ewbank said, "the kind of tonic it would need to realize that football games are won on the field-not with reputations - for after our goal is a third championship."

"But I think our squad has been through that up and down period enough to avoid the down feeling. Let's hope so, anyway," Ewbank said.

'Olympic Period' Now Officially Designated

ROME (AP)—The 17th modern Olympic Games today officially came to the city of Rome.

The "Olympic Period"—as formally designated by city officials—started without fanfare but with lots of flags.

About 8,000 of them fluttered over the city's buildings. Corps of interpreters moved into the hospitals to overcome possible language barriers. Four hundred hostesses went to work at the various Olympic stadiums and offices. Floodlights were switched on in the heart of Rome.

The Games will not open until Aug. 25, But for the Romans' money, Olympic time is now officially here.

Twelve of the hostesses started work at the village Tuesday. They included Swedish blondes, brunette Italians, blue-eyed Hungarians, chic French. Most had one grumble.

They hate their light gray woolen dresses—the uniform they're saddled with until the Games end.

The dress has a pleated skirt, and a black belt. The girls carry a black and white handbag and wear black and white shoes.

Most men around the village agreed with the girls—the dresses are not as good-looking as the girls.

The blonde, blue-eyed American high school graduate at the reception desk in the Olympic village is an Italian.

She is 20-year-old Laura Salvi of Rome who spent her senior year at Sequoia High School in Redwood City, Calif. She went there under the American field service exchange student program.

Laura has charmed visitors by the way she switches from slangy American to fluent French, from Italian to Swedish and then into Danish.

"I feel half American," Laura said. "I've always been interested in international relations. That's why I applied for the program that took me to the States, and that's why I'm here at the village."

Indians Sell Tanner, Acquire Joe Morgan

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Tuesday sold outfielder Chuck Tanner to Toronto of the International League for an undisclosed price.

His place on the roster was filled by Joe Morgan, 29-year-old third baseman purchased from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Tanner, used exclusively as a pinch-hitter, has a .280 batting average.

DETROIT (UPI) — Bay City, often a bridesmaid in the state Pony league baseball tournament but never a bride, finally ousted Hamtramck, seven-year ruler of the league with a 9-4 win.

Mizell Keeps Pittsburgh Rolling

By The Associated Press

Back in 1952 the sports writers covering the major league spring camps voted a tall, raw-boned youngster named Wilmer Mizell the most likely to succeed. He would be rookie of the year, they prophesied.

He was good enough. But he never quite lived up to expectations after the St. Louis Cardinals signed him in December, 1951. A stretch in the armed services did not help him too much, either.

He started this season with an indifferent 68-67 lifetime record. The Cardinals thought so little of him after he had won one game and lost three for them that last May 28 they swapped him to the Pittsburgh Pirates for a couple of their farmhands.

The Cards didn't wait quite long enough for Vinegar Bend to fulfill that nine-year-old prediction.

Since joining the pennant-hungry Pirates he is 8-2. He has won five in a row, completed four straight, and until the Chicago Cubs pushed a run across against him in the sixth inning Tuesday night he had pitched 30 1-3 scoreless innings. The San Francisco Giants got a first inning run off him on May 22, he shut out the Cubs on May 29, and the Giants Aug. 5.

He won Tuesday night, 7-1, allowing only five hits, and the Bucs retained their five-game lead in the National League race.

The cast of characters in the runner-up spot switched, though. Milwaukee, which had been in second place, lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 while the erstwhile third-place Cardinals were taking a double header from the Phillies 5-4 and 6-0 to leap frog into second. San Francisco was rained out at Cincinnati.

A couple of veterans largely were responsible for the Cardinals' twin triumphs. The venerable but perennially youthful Stan Musial cracked a pair of doubles in the first game, scored each time, and knocked in another run with a sacrifice fly.

The second game was all Curt Simmons, who turned in his fourth victory against two defeats, and his third over his former teammates. When the Cards gave him three runs in the sixth inning without getting a hit, it was all he needed. Gene Conley was the victim, losing his eighth against seven victories.

Lindy McDaniel, making his 44th appearance, was credited with his ninth victory in 12 decisions in the first game. He allowed one hit in the 2 1-3 innings he worked. Musial's second double in the eighth resulted in the winning run. He scored on Curt Flood's single to break a 4-4 tie.

Johnny Podres, on the mound for Los Angeles, had everything under control for eight innings. He had fanned 10, walked only two, and had allowed the Braves only five hits.

Then the roof started to sag. Eddie Mathews opened the ninth with his 24th home run. Podres got the next two batters, but Billy Bruton doubled and Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla singled and the Dodger lead was cut to one run. Larry Sherry came in to get the third out and preserve Podres' 10th victory.

Oakland Hills Invitational Tennis Meet This Weekend

The annual Oakland Hills Country Club Invitational Doubles tournament will start Saturday at 11:00 a.m. with 25 teams expected.

Some of the top doubles teams in Michigan and Ohio play in the event annually and the defending champions of the past three years have submitted entries.

Last year, Andy Paton and Fred Otto, former Big Ten tennis stars, won by defeating Don McKay and Ted Peterson.

McKay and Peterson won the event in 1958 and Bagley and Brose, Detroit city champions won it in 1957.

Other noted doubles teams entered are Tom Belton and Mark Jaffe, Rudy Hernando and John Koiba, Bob Nederlander and Jerry German, Bob Wood and George Haggerty.

The finals will be played approximately at 2:00 p.m. Sunday. The public is invited to watch the matches. Trophies will be awarded to winners and runnersup.

Jets Add 17th Win

Pontiac Jets, City Cass A leaguers, added their season's 17th victory last weeekend, with a 7-2 win over the Jackson Prison nine. Their season's mark is now 17-6.

"Young Satch," 16-year-old Charles Williams, allowed two hits in five frames, John York one in four. John Shanks and Dave Simmons each hit two-run homers.

Shooting Sisters Battling for Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Arthur Cook, U.S. Air Force reserve captain from Adelphi, Md., practically assured himself the 1960 national small bore prone rifle championship yesterday as he dropped but one point in the four matches fired with telescopic sights.

He scored 1,599 points out of a possible 1,600 to give him a grand aggregate score of 4,793 out of a possible 4,800. Of the 100 rounds he fired today he netted 159 bulls-eyes and put one shot in the 9 ring.

The race for the women's crown continued to be a family affair. Yesterday 19-year-old Lenore Jensen, the 1959 champion of Allen Park, Mich., passed her sister, Marianne (Candy) Jensen by two points to go ahead 4,773 to 4,771. Monday night 15-year-old Candy led by one point.

Get Big Ones at Home, Veteran Angler Advises

By The Press Outdoor Editor

Take it from Bernard Muse, 75-year-old Pontiac angler, who figures it isn't necessary to make a trip of 1,500 miles or so, just to catch some big trout.

The veteran area fisherman knows what he's talking about, for he provided proof of his ideas this week with a pair of as nice rainbows as any lover of the rod and reel could wish.

"Why," asked Muse of his friend, Clarence Lackey," do you have to go clear up there in Canada for trout fishing, when we have big ones like this right at home?"

Mr. and Mrs. Lackey (gas station operators here) left first of the week on a long trip into northern Ontario, to fish, with a party of 12 others.

NEARBY LAKE YIELDS PAIR OF BEAUTIES

Muse, 1114 Fremont, took a 4-pounder and a 3-pounder from Elizabeth lake, on a spinrig, and crawler harness. They measured 21 and 23 inches in length. Bernard usually fishes for trout at Maceday Lake, where three years ago he landed a big laker.

Mentioning lake trout, a really big one was the 32¼-pounder caught in Canada recently by Raymond Freebury, 695 Blaine. Freebury's trophy was 43-inches long, gave him a terrific battle.

Without a net or gaffhook, Freebury was forced to work the big fish into shallow water where an oar was brought into play to help subdue it.

HOME GROWN

NO LINE, NO HOOK, BUT GETS FISH

Any way to land a fish! So says George Tuson, 1074 Argyle, who used his outboard to catch a big bass, after two days of fishing, traditional style, had failed.

"I was trolling through a weed bed when I felt a thump," George reported. "I looked back, and saw this bass, poked it with an oar and it flopped. I picked it up and saw where it apparently had been hit, striking at my boat's propeller.

"My neighbors told me maybe I should do all my fishing with a boat, but it didn't work the next time I tried."

NATIONAL MATCH PREPPING TOUGH JOB

Ask most any national rifle match hopeful how much goes into preparation for these gruelling tests each fall at Camp Perry, O., and you probably will get about what Bob Waggoner says:

"There's a lot of hard work, particularly in getting your rifle in the best possible firing condition, pinning down its effectiveness at all ranges. You must have a really good piece to get anywhere in the nationals. I have spent the last two weeks on my rifle and feel it should perform very well."

"All of us going down to Camp Perry have put in a lot of practice firing, and hope we do well."

Waggoner, Don and Mrs. Bennett (state .30 caliber women's champion), George Forstrom, and Ken Farnum, all from OCSC, will shoot the .30 caliber matches in the nationals, leaving Saturday. All but Farnum will take the infantry training rifle school course for rifle instructors prior to the matches.

Forstrom won the 300-yard rapid fire event last fall, only highly-placed area shooter.

RIFLE-SHOOTING SISTER ACT

Sisters Marianne (15) Candy Jensen and 19-year-old Lenore of Allen Park, yesterday took top honors at the halfway mark in the National Small-Bore Rifle Championship (women) at Camp Perry. Lenore is defending champ, but trailed Candy one point, 3,183 to 3,182.

Any reader know how to get that persistent, penetrating skunk "perfume" off a very disturbed dog's coat? That is, without either shaving the critter, or burying him. The only successful treatment, this observer can recall was, when as a small boy his mother took the offending clothing and buried it, subjected the boy's hide to some vigorous laundry-soap scrubbing.

The Henry J. Healys, 2276 Rosewood drive, report seeing a buck and two other deer on Walton, near the Malkin school. "Really was a thrill to see those handsome creatures by the roadside" says Mrs. Healy.

Wing Lake, Birmingham, produced probably its biggest bass of the season, this week, when John Hoffman, 5310 Forman drive, Birmingham, landed a 5½-pounder. The lucky angler used a spinrig, with a silver minnow, casting into a weedbed.

Small brown crickets are taking many fine panfish on area lakes, a scout reports.

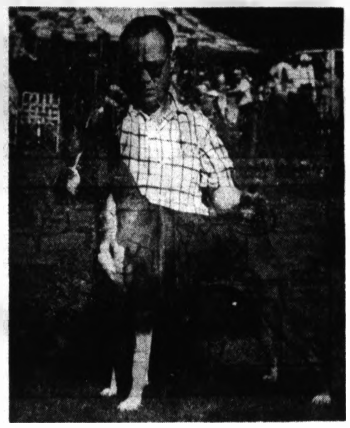
Useful Trailering Tips

Important to those who trailer their boats are two items of equipment needed on the car which pulls the trailer. It is advised that an outside rear vision mirror be installed, as the bulk of the boat may make the normal inside types impractical. When pulling trailers with any but the lightest of boats it is also advisable to have a frame hitch attached to your car rather than a bumper-type hitch.

See Big Entry List

When entries closed yesterday for the 1960 annual fall dog show scheduled by the Pontiac Kennel Club, it looked like there might be a new high total for this popular area event.



STURDY BOXER — Harry Porter's upstanding boxer, Ch. Ev-Bet's Typesetter, is one of PKC's winningest dogs, with 15 breed and nine group wins. His latest was best of breed at the recent Macomb show where he was also first in working group. The Porters live in Highland, are PKC members, and so this champ will cool his heels in the club's show Aug. 21. There'll be many other boxers, however, at the show.

However, the actual figures will not be known until late today because of the unusually heavy last-day mail, and necessity for checking last-minute entries. It was expected the total would surpass the 627 of a year ago, say PKC officials.

In the tradition of the show, no dogs owned by PKC members will be listed among the entries.

Along with announcement of the delay in final figures for the field of dogs that will compete for The Pontiac Press best-of-show trophy, PKC President Ed Kraft said today that two new judges have been named.

Because of the inability of George Owen of Palm Beach, Fla., to be here due to an ailing back, all working dogs, except Great Danes, will be judged by Robert G. Wells of Shaker Heights, Ohio, and all toys will be judged by Stephen Pastierik of Cleveland. Dr. Joseph Redden will take over miscellaneous classes, originally assigned to Owen.

The show takes place Sunday, Aug. 21, at the Waterford High School athletic field. It is an unbenched show, starting at 9 a.m.

There will also be an obedience trial, with more than a dozen awards going to the various division winners. A large entry for this exceedingly interesting competition is expected.

Ray E. Yates of Willoughby, Ohio, will judge the obedience trial classes.

A junior showmanship award is another sidelight.

Hold Classes for Lifesaving

Junior and Senior Red Cross lifesaving classes will be held in the pool at Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville from Friday, Aug. 12 through Tuesday, Aug. 23.

Weston Vanhille, pool manager, said that the eight-day course hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 12 noon. It is free and persons must be in sound physical condition to qualify for the course. Lifesaving certificates will be awarded to persons who successfully complete the course.

Individuals are eligible for the senior lifesaving course who have passed their 16th birthday and junior lifesaving is open to persons who are not less than 12 and not more than 15 years of age.

For further information, persons may contact the pool office or phone OXbow 9-2931.

On Aug. 16 at Tel-Huron

Dog Show for Children

Pontiac area youngsters who own dogs as pets were invited today to enter their dogs in a "kiddies amateur dog show" that is set for Aug. 16 at Wrigley's market, Tel-Huron.

There are five classes in one of which a dog may be entered, but the entry can compete in only one. The choices of classification include best dog trick, dog with longest tail, dog with most spots, best groomed dog shown by a girl and a similar class for dogs shown by boys.

Every entry will receive a prize, such as dog leashes, Kea-L rations, ribbons, cups, T-shirts.

Any dog, any breed, any age, is eligible. All must be kept on leash and every entry must have proof of dog's inoculation against rabies. Entry blanks may be secured at Wrigley's, Tel-Huron.

Show time is 2:30-3:30 p.m. with judging between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m.

Camera Club Picnic at Delhi Metro Park

The Greater Detroit Camera Club Council will hold its annual picnic and shooting session at Delhi Metropolitan Park, located 5 miles northwest of Ann Arbor along the Huron River, on Sunday Aug. 14.

This was announced today by Brenton Schultz, park manager.

Amos De Hosse, president of the camera club, stated that several hundred photographers are expected to attend the event. In addition to informal shooting models will be on hand to pose for pictures. Photos taken at the event will be judged and trophies awarded for the best in both color and monochrome.

Fewer Ducks on Pacific Flyway

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Fish and Wild Life Service Tuesday predicted a pronounced decrease in the number of wild ducks in the Pacific Flyway this fall and little change from last year in the other three flyways.

Service experts outlined the situation to the Water Fowl Advisory Committee as a preliminary to consideration of 1960-61 hunting regulations to be recommended to the Secretary of the Interior.

New Equipment Adds More Fun at Metro Park

One of the innovations in children's play equipment is the new "Earn-A-Slide" which now stands near the Tot Lot at Metropolitan Beach on Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens.

Designed to challenge children from 2 through 14, it is triangle-shaped and measures 16 feet across and graduates to 12 feet in height. To some it may resemble a huge wing of an airplane.

Unlike an old-fashioned slide where youngsters climb stairs in the rear to reach the slide, here boys and girls can run up the front and climb along to its highest point and then as many as 10 to 12 children can all slide down at once.

It gets its name from the fact that to get a slide, you've got to earn it. It doubles as a climber, too. Hand over hand a child goes, the farther up, the longer his slide and the greater his reward!

Adams Rules on Power Bequest

Estate to Buy New Park

LANSING — Attorney General Paul L. Adams has advised Conservation Department officials that money received from the sale of the late Mary McGuire Powers estate may only be used to establish a new state park in or adjoining Novi township of southwestern Oakland county.

In his opinion, requested by Department Director Gerald E. Eddy, the attorney general also ruled that the park must be administered as a separate unit although it may adjoin an existing site.

Earlier this year, the department realized $68,258.55 from the sale of the 190-acre farm estate in Novi township. The property, willed to the State for use as a public park, was judged most suitable for agriculture by the department. Because it lacked a lake or stream and other essential features required of a park, department leaders decided it would be most practical to sell the estate and use its sales money to establish a park elsewhere.

Big Field Seen in Shotgun Test

With most all last year's champions already on the list in defense of their divisional titles, a record field seems assured for Saturday and Sunday's 6th annual invitational Michigan Shotgun Champion ships. This unusual, all-around shooting test takes place at the Williams Gun Club, 7287 Lapeer Road, Davison.

Preliminaries begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. They include 25 targets each on trap, bird field and skeet range. Championship rounds start at 3 p. m. Saturday, resume Sunday at 8 a.m.

Defending champions include Mrs. Jenavee Oesch of Pontiac, Bob Uptegraff of Flint, Johnny Webster, junior, and the 2-men team of Stu Fleming and Tom Loucks.

New Technique Gets Angler Trout Limit

An effective new fishing (for trout) technique produced startling results for sheriff's deputy Jim Cain and son Mike, 13. Fishing at Elizabeth Lake, they took 12 rainbows averaging 2-4 pounds, on two consecutive nights (8 in the first night) fishing from 9:30 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The technique? A gob of nightcrawlers fished on the bottom at 40 feet depth.

GMC Trapshooters in Invitation Test

GMC Truck & Coach Division trap shooters will be represented at the 11th annual Armco Industrial Invitational Trap Shoot, Sunday, Sept. 11, to be held at Middleton, Ohio.

A five man team plus an alternate were selected in a special handicap shoot held last Thursday at the GMC Range to determine the "Middletown Team.

Results of the 75 bird shootoff, shot from 16-20 and 22 yards are as follows:

	Score—'78 Perfect
Wilton Moore (Captain)	68 out of 75
Mike Marsac	66 out of 75
Milton Ott	66 out of 75
Dennis Grable	62 out of 75
Ray Reed	62 out of 75
Jim Cooling	62 out of 75

Parks Stickers, Hunting Rules, Up for Decisions

LANSING — Decisions on Michigan's parks sticker program and hunting regulations for this fall's deer and waterfowl seasons will highlight the Conservation Commission's Aug. 11-12 meeting at the Higgins Lake conservation school.

Conservation department officials are recommending that annual $2.00, and daily 50-cent sticker fees be put into effect Jan. 1, 1960, covering all but seven of the state's 61 parks. The seven—Bennie, D. H. Day, Fort Crescent, Fayette, Muskallonge Lake, Bald Mountain (Oakland County), and Fort Custer—are not adequately developed to warrant the sticker requirement, department leaders feel.

As proposed, annual stickers would be available through some 4,200 dealers who sell Michigan's fishing and hunting licenses. Daily stickers would be sold at parks gate houses, from vending machines, and by parks personnel.

Based largely on a reduction in issued special permits, approximately 44,500 antierless deer would be harvested from 35 acres covering 18,900 square miles.

Department game recommendations call for a moderate cutback in this fall's "any deer" kill.

More Contests Scheduled for Sport Anglers

Two more Pontiac area one-day sport fishing contests have been set up by the 1960 World Series of Sport Fishing. There are also additional single day contests for three other areas. Anglers who take the biggest fish of designated species, at each test, qualifies for the state title tourney Sept. 23-25 at Houghton Lake.

Three area fishermen have qualified for the state tests.

They are Robert F. Rea of Bloomfield Hills, Lawrence Guyton of Farmington and Edward H. Fuguwara of Grosse Ile.

Here are this weekend's contests:

Each contest is a one-day competition, open to all anglers, with no entry fees and to decided by the weight-size of the designated species. Weigh-stations will be open from 3 to 7 p.m.

Sportsmen Showcase, on south shore of Houghton Lake. Contests for bass, pike, panfish. Boundary: Houghton Lake.

Taft Clan to Gather at Ancestor's Town

MENDON, Mass. (AP)—The illustrious and far-flung Taft clan makes a pilgrimage next week to the little farm town where it first took root in America.

The occasion is the traditional "Taft gathering" on Aug. 20 when all available members of the clan get together to pay homage to their common ancestor, Robert Taft, who settled in Mendon 281 years ago.

The original Taft was a humble carpenter and farmer who came with his wife Sarah from the British Isles to carve a new home out of the southern Massachusetts wilderness in 1679.

His distinguished recent descendants have included:

William Howard Taft, the 27th president of the United States and later its chief justice.

Robert A. Taft, the outspoken, longtime "Mr. Republican" in the U.S. Senate.

Charles P. Taft II, former mayor of Cincinnati and president of the old Federal (now National) Council of Churches of Christ.

Ezra Taft Benson, secretary of agriculture and one of the Twelve Apostles of the Mormon Church.

Alphonso Taft, secretary of war and attorney general in President Grant's cabinet, who transplanted the best known branch of the Taft clan from Vermont to its current stronghold in Cincinnati in 1838.

FIRST IN 1874

Alphonso was one of the moving spirits behind the first Taft gathering in 1874. They have been held irregularly ever since. The last—and most exciting—was in 1954.

The excitement was provided by an uninvited guest named Diane, a hurricane that turned into a cloudburst washing out bridges over the West, Mumford and Blackstone rivers over which Tafts had to travel.

More than 300 redoubtable Taft-folk, including 86-year-old Walter Taft of Belmont, Mass., managed to make it but an estimated 67 others were stranded in various parts of the northeastern United States.

Better weather and better attendance are expected this year but still no one is sure just how many will be on hand since no one knows exactly how many of colonist Robert Taft's progeny are around.

Nor is anyone sure precisely where in the British Isles the original Taft hailed from. It may have been England, Wales or Ireland. All have been mentioned.

ARRIVED IN 1678

Robert and Sarah arrived in the colonies in 1678, staying for a time in the coastal town of Braintree before moving to what was then called "Mendham" in the wild interior.

One of Robert's great-grandsons, Aaron, moved to West Townshend, Vt., around 1800 to become the grandfather of Alphonso, the Taft who wandered even farther afield to establish the dynasty in Ohio.

Alphonso's sons added luster to the name.

One, William Howard, became president of the United States. Another, Charles Phelps, built the Cincinnati Times-Star into one of the most influential newspapers in the Middle West. A third, Horace Dutton, founded the Taft School, a preparatory academy in Watertown, Conn.

Another big Taft enterprise is the Taft Broadcasting Co. in which 24 members of the Taft and related Ingalls families are involved. They have stations in Cincinnati, Columbus, Lexington, Ky., and Birmingham, Ala.

What happens at a Taft gathering?

The big event on this year's program is dedication (by Charles P. Taft II) of a memorial plaque to mark the site of the long since vanished homestead of the original Taft.

The memorial site was donated by Carleton Goss, one of the many Taft descendants still living in the Mendon area. The clan began gathering funds for the plaque at the first reunion in 1874.

The gathering will start with a roast beef dinner, complete with background music, in a big, new ballroom. Then a business meeting and the speaker of the day. This year: Ezra Taft Benson.

After that there's entertainment (a magician), a trip to the memorial dedication ceremony and dancing from 6 p.m. to midnight in the Mendon Town Hall with informal talkfests available at a moment's notice for the non-dancers.

And, on Sunday, there will be a church meeting in the old Chestnut Hill Meeting House built in 1769—where Taft forbears worshiped during the critical days of the American Revolution.

State Dems Set for Voter Drive

Committee to Work on Getting Out 800,000 Unregistered Group

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Democrats are nearing readiness to launch their part of the national voter registration drive assigned major strategic importance by presidential candidate John F. Kennedy.

William N. Hettiger, tentatively chosen to head up the effort, said committee members are being recruited and that there are an estimated 800,000 unregistered Democrats in the state.

Robert Kennedy, the presidential nominee's brother, told a meeting of midwest party leaders last week that the election could be lost if they did a poor job in ferreting out unregistered voters.

Hettiger, executive secretary of the Municipal Finance Commission, served as outstate campaign manager for Secretary of State James M. Hare in his unsuccessful bid for governor in the Aug. 2 primary.

He said the estimate of party members unqualified to vote started with a calculation that 65 per cent of the entire population of any county met the 21-or-over age test.

* * *

The difference between this figure and the number of votes actually cast was then presumed to be total voters unregistered. They were apportioned between the parties in the ratio of votes actually cast.

Hettiger said that the total of unregistered persons in Wayne County alone, Republicans and Democrats combined came out at about 429,000.

King to Conduct Demonstration 'Seminar'

By United Press International

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., who led the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, will conduct a three-week institute beginning in Miami Sunday on conducting antisegregation demonstrations.

The institute will be sponsored by the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE). A CORE spokesman said the institute will be "three weeks of theoretical study and experimental projects in nonviolent challenges to segregation."

* * *

About 30 specially chosen Southern Negro students will attend the institute to learn principles of nonviolent resistance and will be instructed in tactics.

Selling Is General in Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Selling was general in the grain futures market today and nearly all contracts turned weak in early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans led the setbacks with losses running more than a cent in most deliveries on profit taking following runups of about the same range in Tuesday's market.

Some of the selling was described as liquidation of long positions but it appeared to include a moderate volume of hedging.

Mrs. Grace Wins Prize in 4 Figures

"I'm surprised that I can even talk," said a young Waterford Township mother Tuesday moments after she was told she had won $5,000.

Mrs. Henry L. Grace, 24, of 3614 Shelby St., was one of five persons in the United States who won bank accounts of $5,000 each in a recent sweepstakes contest sponsored by a national soap manufacturer.

The check, deposited at the Community National Bank branch on W. Huron street, was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Grace at the A&P Supermarket, 949 W. Huron.

That was the place she said she mailed in her entry blank from last spring.

The $5,000 was second prize.

"Oh, look. It has three zeros," the happy housewife whispered to her unbelieving husband.

The couple admitted they "had hoped for $500."

They said they had no immediate plans for the money but had been saving toward the education of their two boys, four and five years old.

Grace, 27, is a tool and die estimator at Fisher Body division.

Taking part in the presentation were Joseph DiPalma, assistant manager of the supermarket; Harold J. Owen, manager of the bank branch, and representatives of the sponsoring company.

"Our wedding anniversary is this weekend. This is a gift we'll never forget," said the pretty mother.

Mart Struggles Painfully Ahead

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market struggled to move ahead early this afternoon, but found the going difficult.

Prices had a slightly higher tendency, although averages were up only slightly and gainers enjoyed but little edge over losers. Changes in both directions were narrow for the most part, although the aircraft group showed some losses of more than a point.

The market which has been moving in as extremely narrow range all week, attempted a rally late in the morning, but the movement lacked momentum. Trading picked up a bit from its early sluggish pace, but not enough to cause any excitement on the floor.

Weakness in the aircrafts developed after President Eisenhower's press conference, in which he denied that $21 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress had been frozen by the administration. He added, however, that he favored time to rework defense spending because Congress cut some administration programs and added to others. He foresaw no signs now of any economic recession.

Steels, motors, electronics, tobaccos, drugs and most chemicals were higher. Coppers followed through on yesterday's spurt with fractional gains.

Down more than a point among aircrafts were Boeing, General Dynamics, Martin, North American Aviation and Douglas, which lost an earlier upside edge. General Dynamics had to contend with a lower earnings report.

Warrant Issued for Harrelson

He Fails to Appear for Trial Today on Charge of Election Violation

A bench warrant for the arrest of Leaun W. Harrelson was issued by Municipal Court today when he failed to appear for trial on a charge of violating the state election law.

Harrelson, son of Pontiac Teamster Local 614 President Leaun Harrelson, is accused of forging some 60 names on nominating petitions of Detroit attorney, David Kaufman, unsuccessful candidate for Oakland County probate judge.

If convicted of the misdemeanor, Harrelson would be liable to a 90-day jail sentence, $100 fine, or both.

He pleaded not guilty to the offense at his arraignment July 18 in Municipal Court before Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Judge Finnegan signed the warrant for Harrelson's arrest today.

Assault charges against Harrelson Jr. were dropped earlier today by his neighbor, Mrs. Etta Sturm of 635 Desota Pl.

She had accused him of bursting into her home April 15 in pursuit of his wife and ripping off the bathroom door where she was hiding from him.

Mrs. Sturm told police young Harrelson beat his wife and then turned on her, and dumped a heavy bedroom chest of drawers on her legs, causing severe bruises. He also ripped out two telephones, she said.

New $100,000 Shop Opening at Miracle Mile Shopping Center

Peggy's, a long established women's apparel shop in downtown Pontiac, has moved into a swank new store in the Miracle Mile Shopping Center on Telegraph road, and will hold its premiere opening tomorrow.

The new, $100,000 shop will present a complete line of the latest fall fashions in an artistic setting.

The modern decor of the store features an overall tree and leaf design done in an abstract style.

Air conditioning throughout lends to the shopper's comfort in the large, one-floor shop. All of the equipment is in a modern motif, with a fully carpeted shoe department.

A new line of junior petite (5 to 13 sizes) and junior (7 to 15 sizes) clothes is being added at the shop, manager Marvin Barnett announced. The store also carries a complete range of half sizes.

A grand opening at the new store is scheduled later on, after final details have been completed.

Labor Party Admits Senility

Frank Document Lists Problems Now Besetting British Socialism

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's once-great Labor Party admitted today that old age and internal division had thrown it into decline.

Party Secretary Morgan Phillips issued an 8,000-word document, "Labor in the Sixties," an open confession of the problems besetting British socialism.

Labor guided Britain though the difficult postwar years, but lost power in 1951. It suffered two subsequent electoral defeats in 1955 and 1959.

The party is now split on key issues, including nationalization and disarmament. There has been open speculation that its leader Hugh Gaitskell, might be forced to resign at the party conference next October.

Phillips made no secrets of the party's problems.

He said the ruling conservatives have tried hard to present us as an old, backward-looking party —restrictionist and bureaucratic when in office, divided and quarreling when in opposition.

"We should frankly face that fact that we have sometimes given them, in our own conduct, enough evidence to make such charges stick."

He said that compared to the conservatives, labor was overweighted with old men—"today the average age of the labor M.P. is 55, seven years older than his opponent—and run down-looking.

Labor, he said, must recruit young people, brighten up its premises, and gear its organization to the new political era.

His main concern, however, was to find a formula to bring the party together.

He said, "There is no question that unity, much more than we have had in the past year, is indispensable to the party."

The two points in the United States most remote from each other are Attu, Alaska, and Key Largo, Fla. They are 5,309 miles apart.

May Be Hitched to Wage Measure

Introduce GOP Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to carry out the Republican Party's platform on civil rights was introduced today amid indications that parts of it may be offered as riders to the minimum wage or other measures.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), chief sponsor of the four-part civil rights bill, told newsmen no firm decision had yet been reached on the course to be pursued in trying to get action on the legislation.

The Antarctic Treaty survived its first voting test today when the Senate refused to postpone considering it until next January.

The vote postponement was 56 to 29. This was two shy of the two-thirds margin required for ratification but vote switches were anticipated on the final showdown.

Defeat of the postponement move was a set-back for opponents of the 12-nation treaty who have attacked it as a sell-out to the Soviet Union. Another hard-more difficult, test was in prospect when the Senate votes on actual ratification later today.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas complained that some senators are delaying action at the post-convention session now in its third day.

"I'm trying to get votes on these matters," Johnson told newsmen as the Senate was called into session 2½ hours ahead of its normal noon hour meeting time.

"If there are delays, we're going to let the people see what is going on," he added.

GOP PLOT?

Johnson implied that the delays represent a Republican effort to slow down and defeat legislation proposing to raise minimum hourly wages and provide medical care for aged persons.

Javits said one possibility is is that some of its provisions may be offered as amendments to other bills, such as the bill of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, to boost the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour.

Javits said another alternative would be a motion to have the bill referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee with instructions that it be reported back to the Senate at a fixed date.

He said no effort will be made to have the measure placed directly on the Senate calendar — a maneuver unsuccessfully attempted by Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen Tuesday in trying to force action on the two points in the civil rights bill urged by President Eisenhower.

Euler Shifts Staff Members

Appoint Three at Hospital

Appointment of three administrative staff members at Pontiac General Hospital to new positions was announced today by Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

Dale Ferguson, purchasing agent the past two years, has been named temporary head of the dietary department upon cessation, Euler said, of the five-month tryout of the Crotty Brothers Food Management Service.

Pierce Rydman, head of the credit and collection department for the past two years, has taken over added duties as head of the admitting department.

Mrs. Fay Stewart, employed 12 years at the hospital, has been named director of volunteer services. She will continue, Euler said, as director of public and patient relations.

Mrs. Stewart had been supervising the admitting department on an "unofficial basis," Euler said. Eugene Wilson, assistant purchasing agent, will head the purchasing department on a temporary basis until appointment of a food manager, Euler said.

Crotty Brothers, a Boston, Mass firm, had managed the hospital's food service since March 1.

Euler said the company had improved food quality and reduced costs.

"But because the company is expanding its operations, it didn't have available to us at this time as experienced a supervisor as we wanted," he said.

Euler added:

"The present administration attributes its success in large part to the strong leadership of its supervisory personnel. The dietary department is second only to nursing in size, with an annual budget of $500,000. We need strong supervision there."

Euler said the hospital continues to have a three-fold dietary policy: Better food, faster, and at lower cost.

Rydman is credited with supervising the present administration's emphasis on collections as part of a balanced financial operation.

As director of volunteer services, Mrs. Stewart will deal with all volunteer groups," encouraging and coordinating this very important and necessary contribution of personal service to our enlarged hospital operations," said Euler.

The hospital women's auxiliary, alone, has more than 450 members who contribute over 15,000 volunteer hours a year to the hospital. Women in the Red Cross Gray Ladies contribute 4,000 hours.

Six Killed; Detroit Man Sobs, Oh No

VAN WERT, Ohio (UPI) — Carl B. Walton Jr., 29, a barber, stayed behind at his Detroit home when his mother, father, wife and three children left by car for Atlanta, Ga., to attend a family funeral.

Walton now has six funerals to attend.

About 10 miles west of here, near the Ohio-Indiana border, police said Walton's father drove through a stop sign at a busy intersection. A tractor-trailer smashed into the car.

The impact sent it hurling off the road into a field. When it came to rest the car was twisted, the steering shaft bent out of line, the doors crumpled. Police had to flatten the license plate on the highway so they could read the numbers.

Walton's father Carl Sr., 59, his mother Mary, 54; his wife Jean, 27; and one of his sons, Dennis, 8, were dead. Walton's 2-year-old son Derrick was dead on arrival at Parkview Hospital in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Authorities called Walton. They told him, stumblingly, what had happened. But they told him his daughter Calinda, 6, was still alive, in critical condition with head injuries. Walton left Detroit to hurry to her bedside.

When he got to the Van Wert County sheriff's office, they had to tell him Calinda was dead.

"Oh, God, not her, too," he cried.

He slumped against the wall. "Not her, too."

Walton's family had been traveling to Atlanta for the funeral of his mother's brother-in-law.

The truck driver, Jose Tarez, 33, of Fort Wayne, was reported in fair condition at a hospital here.

'Sandman' Dine Aids Celebrities on Sleep Habits

NEW YORK (UPI) — The world's No. 1 professional sandman is celebrating his 30th year as sleeping adviser to statesmen, and even noted clergymen.

Norman Dine, 56, who has no trouble himself sleeping on a king - sized mattress of latex foam, estimates that he has handled a million bed problems during the years he has been running his sleep clinic.

President Eisenhower, for instance, finds it revitalizing to nap with his feet elevated. During World War II, Dine rushed him on request a special angle-board for this purpose.

The late John Foster Dulles liked to sleep with a board under his mattress. Dine says he made him one that would fold to pack easily for his global fights.

Chickenless Soup Calls for Refund on the Price

SAN ANTONIO Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. Alwalt's cook forgot to put the at the city hall and courthouse had only one complaint when she served a new dish — chickenless chicken noodle soup.

Fla. Area Dickers for Piece of Land It Already Owns

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP) — County commissioners here have found they already own 230 acres of land they'd been dickering for two years to buy from the federal government.

It seems that when the government deeded the county some land years ago the legal description took in 1,330 acres but the deed listed only 1,103 acres.

In the campaign to buy the additional land for county purposes, the commissioners had gotten officials to agree to sell the 230 acres for $28,000 and had even made a $600 down payment — which will be returned by the government.

Troops March to Halt Leftist Revolt in Laos

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Royalist troops were reported marching on the administrative capital of Vientiane in Laos today to put down a leftist pocket revolt against the pro-western government.

The counterattack was being mobilized from Luang Prabang, official residence of King Savang Vatthana, about 140 miles to the north of Vientiane, the reports said.

'Prince Minister Tiao Somsanith was believed to be in Luang Prabang helping direct the operation, although most members of his cabinet fell into the hands of the rebels and now are under arrest.

Thus, with the chief of government still at large and the king apparently against them, it was doubtful the rebels had gained effective political control, as claimed in their first communiques Tuesday.

Leader of the revolt was identified as a Capt. Vong Le or Kong Lae, commander of a paratroop battalion. One of his avowed aims was to oust American military advisory personnel from the southeast Asian kingdom.

It was not known how many troops the rebels had at their command. However, information reaching Bangkok through diplomatic channels said they had armed all commercial aircraft in Vientiane and had control of all strategic facilities in the city.

The royalist troops were commanded by Brig. Gen. Ouane Rathikul. They presumably would issue an ultimatum of surrender before launching an attack.

The coup was carried off early yesterday morning. Unofficial reports said 10 persons had been killed, including Maj. Gen. Sunthorn Patthamawong, supreme Laotian commander and a member of a right-wing military clique that seized control of the country briefly last Dec. 31.

Commissioners Seek Solution

Go-Carts Blitz Officials

The go-cart craze has got city officials on the go.

How to regulate them will be discussed by top police brass this afternoon.

The same subject occupied worried city commissioners last night.

Officials agreed that go-carting is a going preoccupation among the youngsters of the city.

A growing number of irate telephone callers have convinced both police officers and city commissioners that people are angry over the racket created by the unmuffled engines.

"And there is great concern over the danger of driving them in the streets," said Capt. Oliver Lemeaux, temporary head of the Public Safety Building during Acting Chief Joseph Koren's vacation.

City Manager Walter K. Williman and City Attorney William A. Ewart have been asked by the Commission to work with the municipal judges on a regulation plan.

No one could put his finger immediately on any law that might be applicable.

TICKETS DISAPPROVAL

Lemeaux said that the police department has generally tried to discourage go-carting in the streets or on school grounds where nearby neighbors complained of noise.

The Commission last night expressed disapproval, however, of the action of one police officer, who cited the parents of two teen-age boys for allowing them to operate go-carts on city sidewalks "without an operator's license."

"That was ridiculous," said Commissioner Winford E. Bottom.

The Commission asked Ewart to intercede in the $10 tickets.

Bottom and several other commissioners suggested a go-cart course, where youngsters could race their machines off the streets.

Williman met the suggestion with raised eyebrows.

"In other cities, courses are privately operated. Are we suggesting that the city pay for a course?"

There are no privately operated go-cart courses in Pontiac at present and a proposal for one might result in a neighborhood zoning hassle.

"We've got to do something, quickly, nevertheless," said Commissioner Wesley J. Wood. "Go-carts are here to stay. They're becoming more and more popular every day."

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. suggests that operators of unmuffled go-carts might be prosecuted under the public nuisance ordinance.

"I'm sure the noise from these machines can be toned down. I think the kids just don't want to muffle them—they like to hear them going full blast."

Commissioner John A. Dugan said the go-cart controversy had been brought home personally to him—his son has one.

To Study Sewers for Hospital

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's request for new sewers for its proposed 200-bed addition was referred to City Manager Walter K. Willman for study Tuesday night after he estimated the cost at $175,000.

Willman said he would take the hospital's bid into account while preparing the 1961 budget. But there was no indication of whether the big expenditure would be placed in next year's capital improvement program.

Because existing sewers are taxed to capacity, a new line would have to be installed for the addition — probably a 7,000-foot relief line to the nearest practical trunkline at Bagley and South boulevard, Willman said.

Reviving plans for expansion, officials of the 330-bed institution said they needed assurances, first that the sewer would be constructed.

REZONE FOR CLINIC

Commissioners adopted an ordinance rezoning to commercial the southeast corner of Huron and Johnson avenues, where a medical clinic is planned. The change had been held up last month until it became definite that construction would go ahead.

Mayor Phillip E. Rowston sponsored the rezoning last night after a wrecking permit had been issued for demolition of the corner building.

There were no objections at hearings on four proposed street improvements: Howard street, Baldwin to Johnson, and Johnson, Howard to Oakland; Hillmont avenue, Nebraska to Earlmoor; Pleasantview drive, Hillmont south; and Melrose avenue, Madison to Mt. Clemens.

The Howard-Johnson project involves widening and repaving; the other three, curbs and gutters.

3 CHANGES DENIED

Commissioners accepted the Planning Commission's decision to deny two proposed zoning changes.

The first was for commercial zoning of a proposed warehouse on the east side of Cass avenue, from Wisner street 400 feet north.

The other was for manufacturing on Elizabeth street west of Congress.

The plan commission said the warehouse plans were too indefinite and more land should be involved in the Elizabeth street plan.

Assessment rolls for seven blacktopping projects were confirmed. Projects were on Carlisle avenue, Columbia to Ann Arbor; Carlisle avenue, Walton to Chicago; Colgate avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Harriette street, Baldwin to Adelaide; Jefferson street, Blaine to Summitt; New York avenue, Baldwin to Walton; and Roland road, from the south line of Assessor's Plat 159 to Argyle.

Approved was a request from Henry and Freda Thyle for transfer from John and Athena Poushis of the Class C and SDM liquor licenses at 913 Baldwin Ave.

County GOP to Choose Between Kuhn, Calhoun

Two South Oakland County mayors will be vying for party support tonight at the Republican county convention at they make their bids for a place on Paul D. Bagwell's state ticket.

The contest between Berkley Mayor George W. Kuhn and Huntington Woods Mayor David R. Calhoun will highlight the 8 p.m. convention at Pontiac Northern High School.

The primary purpose of the convention—that of electing 146 delegates and alternates to the Aug. 27 state convention in Detroit—was accomplished beforehand at legislative district caucuses.

This was a part of party leaders new plan to streamline the usual lengthy county conventions.

There's talk now just how much shorter the convention will be.

Picked to keynote the convention is George Moore, assistant secretary to Frederick H. Mueller, U. S. secretary of commerce.

As part of the prearranged plan, Kuhn, seeking the GOP nomination as treasurer, and Calhoun, after the auditor general nomination, each will be given an alloted time to speak.

Then a secret ballot will be taken among the 300 precincts delegates to determine which one will be the favorite son of the Oakland delegation at the Detroit convention.

The state convention will select candidates for secretary of state, attorney general, and the positions Kuhn and Calhoun are seeking.

SIGNS INDICTMENT — Alexander N. Shelepin, chairman of the Soviet State Security Committee, signed the Russian indictment charging American U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers with spying. Powers was captured May 1 when he parachuted from his crippled plane over the Ural Mountains.

Mrs. Powers Hopes So

Off to Moscow Tonight?

NEW YORK (UPI)—The wife of U2 pilot Francis Powers plans to leave tonight for Moscow to attend the espionage trial of her husband if other members of her party receive their visas in time.

Mrs. Powers received her own visa Monday only after repeated calls at the Soviet Embassy in Washington. At the time she was assured that requests for visas for her mother, Mrs. Mamteen Brown, her physician, Dr. James Baugh, and her legal advisers, Frank W. Rodgers and Alex W. Parker, would be given prompt attention.

New York attorney Gabriel Reiner, who is handling the travel arrangements for Mrs. Powers, said reservations have been made for Mrs. Powers and the others to leave Idlewild Airport at 8:30 a.m. (Pontiac time) for Moscow via Brussels.

However, Mrs. Powers has stated that she will call off the trip if the other members of the party are not granted visas.

Powers' trial is scheduled to begin in Moscow next week.

LAS VEGAS—Insult comedy is riding high in our world. Which brings up the question, "Why do nightclub customers want to slug a waiter who insults them in private, but just love a comedian who insults them publicly?"

WILSON

Jack E. Leonard, "the First Angry Man," and Don Rickles, "the Insultin' Sultan," have been making a fortune insulting cafe patrons—and, the way things are going, will soon be insulting each other.

I caught Rickles at a club not so long ago —when Sid Caesar was in the audience.

"Look at Sid Caesar," bellowed Rickles. "He said to himself the other day, 'How's Sid?' Then he said, 'Oh, I forgot, I'm Sid!' . . . Mrs. Caesar is sitting there laughing. She doesn't know, she's out of the will."

Eventually Rickles introduced Caesar and said he only insults the biggest people. Caesar ascended the stage steps and said: "I came here to hate you—I really did—and instead, I love you."

Joe E. Lewis, who'd come over from El Rancho Vegas, also got up. "I came here to hate you—and I do hate you!" he assured Rickles. "I'll be in this racket after audiences have trampled you to death."

Everybody there knew that Joe E.'s very fond of Rickles, from the way that Rickles kept insulting him. "Joe E. doesn't know what planet this is," Rickles said. "Hey, Joe E.," he yelled. "These are the laughs. Come on! I laugh when you drink."

LEONARD

Even the little people in the audience wanted to get insulted—and they mostly succeeded.

Strike Spreading on Atlantic Ships

LONDON (AP)—A wildcat seamen's strike spread through British ports today. Leaders claimed they were ready to tie up the whole country within 48 hours.

At Southampton, the 22,000-ton Canadian Sylvania postponed departure for Canada after 200 of her crew of 440 walked off. The ship managed to sail later after 60 passengers agreed to perform chores of the striking seamen.

Strikers said they will spread the stoppage to the 83,000-ton Queen Mary, due to leave for New York Thursday with hundreds of homebound American tourists.

Is May Cross Up Check Fraud

Area Stores Warned 2 Young Men Passing Bad Drafts

An extra "t" could land two men, who passed more than $400 in bad checks in two area shopping centers the last two days, behind bars.

A warning to merchants was issued today by the prosecutor's office to be on the lookout for the two men in their 20's cashing checks of the Roseti Construction Co., 12 E. Buena Vista Ave., Detroit, which does not exist, the office said.

Three of the checks totaling $339 and two others totaling $36 have been passed in the last two days in the stores of the Miracle Mile and (Tel-Huron Shopping Centers.

All five are phonies, according to Anthony F. Stiel, chief investigator for the office.

Rubber stamped as the payee is Louis Rosetti—with two t's—in the lower right hand corner of the checks, purporting to be payroll checks, Stiel said.

"Apparently the men had the checks printed with the name of the company, which did exist about two years ago, and then erroneously had a rubber stamp made for the payee, but with two t's instead of one as in the printed name of the company," Stiel said.

The five checks cashed so far are dated Aug. 1 and are in varying amounts, the official said. They are made out to a Robert Smith and a Frank Lombardo, he said.

Engraved in the background of the checks is a construction crane. The bank is the Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

"We expect there will be more than these five," Stell said.

As the gates opened, so did the skies, and the sudden storm threatened to wash out opening night of the Oakland County 4-H Fair last night.

But rain cannot wash away memories.

And that is why it was a GRAND opening for several thousand 4-H club members.

For people like Ralph A. Hoxie II and Carolyn R. Bowers the memories will be sweetest.

They were selected as this year's King and Queen of the 4-H Fair.

For them, all that glitters IS gold.

The 17-year-old king has some 55 projects to his credit in his eight years as a 4-H member and was a runnerup in last year's contest.

Carolyn, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Bowers of 4105 S. Hill St., Milford.

She is currently president of the Busy Fingers Club in South Lyon and past treasurer and recreation leader of the Nu-Ly-Wix Club of New Hudson, South Lyon and Wixom.

Carolyn was chosen from 12 finalists in the queen contest.

The glitter is also golden for Cordree Heard, 18, of 3302 Old Plank Rd., Milford Township, and Rosemary Moran, 17, of 10418 Dartmouth St., Independence Township, who were selected as the queen's court.

Cordree is a member of the Milford Club and Rosemary hails from

Lumumba Will Help Chase Belgian Force

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Patrice Lumumba who has been threatening a lone-wolf invasion of rebellious Katanga Province, offered today to help the United Nations get Belgian soldiers out of the Congo. Most are not concentrated in Katanga.

In a letter to U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, Lumumba said his government is at the disposal of the international organization.

A pacific note was sounded at the same time in Katanga's capital, Elisabethville, by Premier Moise Tshombe. Tshombe announced he has cabled Hammarskjold that he is ready to negotiate with a U.N. envoy for the eventual entry of the U.N. force.

Lumumba's government had threatened a general mobilization for invasion of Katanga unless the U.N. force entered that secessionist province by the weekend.

Information Minister Abicet Kashamura voiced the mobilization threat in an interview and added: "We will enter Katanga alone.

Whatever the weight of this declaration, officers of the U. N. force told newsmen they expect orders to move into Katanga before Saturday. Commanders of the 11,000-man U. N. force were confident a detachment will en

Ike May Join in Discussions on Arms Ban

Holds Door Open to a Private Talk With Nikita —Rints New N-Tests

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower held open today the possibility that he may take part in some United Nations meeting on disarmament if he decides his personal attendance is necessary.

Eisenhower discounted the possibility of a private talk with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if Khrushchev heads the Russian delegation to the U. N. —but again the President held the door open.

He said he would be prepared to see Khrushchev if he thought that would be useful. But he explained he had considered the possibility so remote that he had not really thought about it.

However, under questioning at his news conference, Eisenhower said he would invite Khrushchev to Washington if he thought it would serve any useful purpose. He called the likelihood remote.

Eisenhower hinted today the United States may be reaching the end of its patience in refraining from nuclear tests.

But he said this country under no circumstances would conduct nuclear tests in the atmosphere which might cause people of the world to fear for their health.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Antarctic Treaty survived its first voting test today when the Senate refused to postpone considering it until next January.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt The Stilt Chamberlain, who last March said he was through with professional basketball, today signed a new three-year contract with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

'Cuba Will Continue to Respect Religion'

HAVANA (AP) — President Osvaldo Dorticos early today assured the Cuban people Fidel Castro's regime will continue "respecting all religious cults" despite "provocations."

Speaking at a postmidnight labor rally, the president made no specific mention of the Roman Catholic hierarchy's pastoral letter last Sunday warning of the advance of communism in Cuba. Nor did he refer to the threat Tuesday by the archbishop coadjutor of Havana to close all Catholic churches on the island and suspend church services unless the government calls off pro-Castro demonstrators harassing anti-Communist churchgoers.

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — A high Vatican source said today Roman Catholic leaders feel "sorrow and concern" over conflicts between church and state in Cuba—especially the arrest there Tuesday of two priests.

But in an apparent reference to the pastoral letter, Dorticos said: "Those imputations will fall into a void and they will be applauded only by those who have interests that demand that appease."

The president accused "counter-revolutionaries and proimperialists" of "wielding religious sentiments against the Cuban revolution."

"They are useless maneuvers and will destroy themselves," Dorticos declared. "All this will have to be defeated. Our energies must be reserved for greater battles."

Dorticos spoke a few hours after a demonstration outside Havana Cathedral sent the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Evello Diaz hurrying to the presidential palace with a warning that he would close all Catholic churches in Cuba today and declare the church "in silence"—the Vatican's term for the church's restricted operations in Communist countries—unless the government guarantees the safety of churchgoers.

Msgr. Diaz has taken over administration of the church in Cuba as a result of the poor health of Manuel Cardinal Arteaga, 80.

There was no immediate official response to the archbishop's threat. A well-informed church source said the churches actually would not be closed today.

The demonstration outside the cathedral was the third since July 17, when anticommunism was manifested publicly at a church service in the cathedral.

A gang of youths assembled outside the building during a high Mass in honor of Cuban priests.

Eyewitnesses said the youths—some armed with steel bars and drol wooden clubs — shouted "down with the Pope" and "down with priests" and struck several worshippers as they left the cathe

DEMANDS GUARANTEES — The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Evelli Diaz, archbishop coadjutor of Havana, threatened Tuesday in Havana to silence all Roman Catholic churches in Cuba unless the Castro regime prevents further antichurch demonstrations and guarantees freedom of worship. The church "in silence" means that all church services would be suspended. Demonstrators outside the churches have yelled "Down with the Pope" and have struck worshipers as they left the buildings. Police so far have managed to break up the jeering crowds.

Employes Get Yearly Raises of $250,000

Would Require 1-Mill Increase on Basis of 1960 Valuation

By PETE LOCHBILER

An increase in the city tax rate was acknowledged today as a likely result of $250,000 a year in pay boosts granted by the City Commission last night to municipal employes.

The cost in 1961 is estimated at more than a quarter of a million dollars—$268,000, according to latest estimates.

"The whole Commission realizes that this is going to mean an adjustment in our budget next year," said Mayor Philip E. Rowston.

"It may be necessary to increase the tax rate."

What the increase might be next year, hasn't been discussed yet, Rowston said.

But any discussion, he acknowledged, would have to take into account the general increase in costs to the city other than salaries.

It would require about one mill — or $1 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation — to raise next year's salary increases on this year's assessed valuation of $281,000,000.

The Commission, Rowston said, will begin budget deliberations in October.

OTHER WAYS

Rowston saw these alternatives or supplementary adjustments to a tax increase — reduction of city services, a cut in the capital improvement program or an increase in nontax revenues.

By holding wage increases down in January, the city was able to maintain for the third straight year a tax rate of $13.27 for every $1,000 of assessed valuation. This amounts to $66.35 on an average, $5,000 home.

The big pay boosts came as a result of the decision to implement in its entirety the new pay plan which commissioners called for earlier this year.

City Manager Walter K. Willman, with an eye to next year's budget, had recommended only partial implementation.

The raises will go into effect Aug. 28 and show up for the first time in municipal checks Sept. 16. They will cost the city an estimated $50,000 the rest of the year.

Willman had recommended granting $70,000 in wage increases this year, under a plan that would have cost only $150,000 next year.

The decision to implement the pay plan in full came after commissioners had met many times

Terrorize Roseville Motel

Thieves Kill Grandmother

DETROIT (AP)—A grandmother was shot to death in the $100 holdup of her Roseville motel today by two vicious gunmen. The woman's husband was beaten unconscious.

The armed pair, who terrorized occupants of the motel, were believed to be the same men who shortly afterward stole $1,140 in a bar holdup in neighboring St. Clair Shores.

State Police and Macomb County authorities started a huge manhunt for the robbers.

Mrs. Alberdiena Boll, 55, operator with her husband Anton, 56, of the Light Tower Motel on Gratiot avenue, was shot to death as she ran screaming to a motel tenant's door for help.

One of the two gunmen had pursued her out a door, firing a shotgun loaded with birdshot. The fatal blast struck the woman on the left side of the head and left shoulder.

The holdup pair then knocked Boll unconscious with a blow from a gun, threatened a daughter, Hendriena, 19, with death, and ran off after scooping the $100 from a dresser in Boll's apartment.

About 40 minutes later two men answering the gunmen's description robbed the Chapoton Bar & Lounge in St. Clair Shores. They took $1,140 at gunpoint from the bartender and two waitresses.

Works 7 Days a Week

Herbert Hoover Turns 86

By FRANCIS STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't retire and start discussing pills with the fellow next door.

Keep working—say at the rate of seven days a week.

Once in a while, if you ever get the chance and like such things as fishing, try to hook a few brook trout.

All that is a time-tested formula offered by a man who has found it works very well, indeed: Herbert Hoover.

The former Republican president is sprily observing his 86th birthday today—at his desk working as usual. He didn't have time for anything else much, as eight full-time secretaries will readily affirm.

Hoover, with some reluctance but with good-natured remarks, took time out Tuesday to answer questions in connection with what he termed his "bipartisan" birthday and also to give a general accounting of his activities during the past year.

They included:

Attendance at 35 public functions, delivery of 20 speeches "without a ghost writer"; answering 21,195 letters, acceptance of 22 awards, 14,000 miles of travel, television appearances, cornerstone layings and the raising of $1,200,000 or more for his pet project, the Boys Clubs of America.

"I hope you will conclude that I have not ceased work," he said smilingly to a roomful of reporters and photographers. He said he hadn't intended to hold a birthday news conference this year.

"I thought we had done that stunt often enough" Hoover remarked with a grin. "However, that idea met many protests."

Hoover ranged over a variety of topics as he sat at his desk in his Waldorf-Astoria hotel suite. His ruddy complexion, sparkling blue eyes, frequent witticisms speedy replies to questions gave an impression of stalwart physical condition. His only seeming difficulty was with his hearing at times.

He voiced pleasure at receiving "many touching tributes from both sides of the political area." "I have many friends on the other side," he added.

Hoover said he also was gratified by an avalanche of favorable comment on his most recent "farewell speech" at the Republican National Convention.

Moscow Ejects U.S. Air Attache

He Allegedly Snapped Photographs of Military Objectives in Urals

MOSCOW (UPI)—The U. S. Air Attache to the Soviet Union has been ordered out of the country for conducting intelligence activities "incompatible with his diplomatic status," the official Tass News Agency said today.

The Agency said Air Attache E. M. Kerton and his Assistant I. T. MacDonald were detained recently after allegedly photographing military objectives at Kurgan in the Trans-Ural Mountain Region.

The Kurgan Region is about 250 air miles from the Sverdlovsk industrial area in Siberia in which American U-2 Reconnaissance Plane Pilot Francis G. Powers was downed May 1. Powers goes on trial for espionage Aug. 17.

"Competent Soviet authorities have established that Kerton engaged in the Soviet Union in activities incompatible with his diplomatic status," Tass said.

It alleged he recently was "apprehended while photographing military objects during his trip to Kurgan."

Johnson Plans State Visit

To Join Jack on Labor Day

Both Coming to Pontiac Sept. 5 in Michigan Campaign Swing

By The Associated Press

The Democrats two top candidates will be in Michigan on a Labor Day campaign swing.

The Washington headquarters of presidential candidate John F. Kennedy announced Tuesday that his running mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, also will be in Michigan for Labor Day festivities.

It will be Johnson's first visit to the state.

The Democratic candidates will attend the Detroit rally Sept. 5 before going to Pontiac, Flint, and Muskegon. They will fly to Michigan from Anchorage, Alaska.

It also was learned Tuesday that Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, the Democratic candidate for governor, will support his defeated primary election rival, James M. Hare, for renomination as secretary of state only on certain conditions

The decision was worked out at a secret meeting at Swainson's home in Lansing.

Swainson said "no conclusions were reached" after meeting with Gov. Williams, State Chairman Neil Staebler and other Democratic political leaders.

However, from other sources it was determined those attending the session agreed to Swainson's proposal that Hare be permitted to stay on the party band wagon only if he agrees to take a back seat.

It was understood that in exchange for Swainson's support in the campaign, Hare must agree to bring department of state operations closer to the executive office than in the past.

Williams was scheduled to make his final appearance today at the Ionia Free Fair as governor. He has attended all the fairs at Ionia since taking office. Swainson and Hare are among others who have accepted invitations.

Paul D. Bagwell, Republican gubernatorial candidate, also was scheduled to speak at Ionia.

Meanwhile, Congressman Alvin M. Bentley, Republican candidate for U.S. Senate, said he will appeal to GOP national headquarters in Washington in an effort to obtain the party's 1964 convention for Detroit.

The Owosso lawmaker said he hoped a Michigan Democrat would join him in a similar appeal to Democratic national headquarters.

Baldwin Rubber Sets Walled Lake Picnic

The 12th annual Baldwin Rubber Co. employe picnic will begin Saturday at 10 a.m. at Walled Lake Amusement Park.

Between 1,500 and 2,000 employes and their families are expected.

There'll be games, contests and prizes in addition to a picnic and carnival rides.

The event is sponsored financially by Baldwin Rubber Local 125 of the United Rubber Workers, AFL-CIO.

2 State Dems Lose Out

City and School Tax Collections Are Favorable

The July 1 to Aug. 2 city and school tax collections were "very favorable," City Treasurer Walter A. Giddings said today.

He said that the collection amounted to $9,827,326 on the city and school spread of $10,489,192. The percentage of taxes collected without penalties was 93.69 per cent, he said.

The 1960 tax collection kept pace with last year's good record, when $9,438,367 was collected on a spread of $10,026,837, he said.

Penalties on delinquent taxes on personal and real property went into effect Aug. 3.

Permier to Aid U.N. in Removing Soldiers

ter soon, and without any shooting.

In Brussels, an angry Belgian government started reviewing its ties with the Western Alliance in view of the Security Council vote ordering Belgian troops to get out of the Congo's Katanga Province "immediately."

Government officials were upset at the fact that only Italy and France of the four NATO members on the Council abstained from the vote in New York yesterday.

Even the Congolese people gave little weight to Lumumba's warning Tuesday that he would send his own and other African soldiers into the rich, rebellious domain of Premier Moise Tshombe.

AWAITED RETURN

The diplomatic community and U. N. officials awaited the return of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, probably Thursday, to see how he deals with Lumumba's carrying-out line. U. N. Security Council's new mandate to replace Belgian soldiers in Katanga with the U. N. force, Tshombe has conditionally assented.

Tshombe, who blocked a scheduled entry of the U.N. force last Saturday with a threat of war, backed down Tuesday and offered conditions for them to enter the territory he has declared independent of Lumumba's central government in Leopoldville.

The fledgling Congolese army stepped up efforts to consolidate its police powers. Cars with steel-helmeted Congolese soldiers of the new commander, Gen. Victor Lundula, criss-crossed Lepoldville where the authority to maintain order theoretically is in U. N. hands.

The government pressed measures to thwart what it terms "subversive agitation."

In the wake of the expulsion of Belgian Ambassador Jean Van den Bosch, most members of the 25-man Embassy staff were preparing to leave in response to orders to get out or face arrest.

Belgian consulates in key cities were ordered closed.

Hit Corruption in RO Township

A demand to correct the "deplorable conditions" in Royal Oak Township was made last night by a group of Oakland County Democrats.

In a new move, the liberal-labor faction of the county Democratic committee urged an immediate investigation by a governmental agency "to ascertain why these conditions have been permitted to fester as a cancer on the community for so long."

The group, headed by Mrs. Harriett Phillips, Huntington Woods housewife and a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, accused officials of "blindly" ignoring the corruption which exists in the township.

It did not specify what officials.

In a prepared press release coming out of a meeting of 200 members of the faction last night in Pontiac, it was further alleged that some township families had been denied help from public and private social agencies. No agencies were specified.

The group said it was stepping into the situation because officials "are indifferently disposed to do anything about those conditions.

"It is apparent from many of the individual testimonies of decent people wanting earnestly to give their children a fair chance in life, that we, the citizens of Oakland County, have failed them in their hour of need," the release stated.

A spokesman for the group said the township situation was brought to the attention of Mrs. Phillips by party workers there.

It is expected that a similar call for action will be made shortly to the Democratic committee.

Hits 'Deception' in U.S. Politics

Mr. K Hints at Travel to U.N. to Argue Soviet Stand on Disarmament

MOSCOW (UPI)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said in an interview published by Pravda today that "aggressive" political circles in the United States are attempting to deceive American voters on disarmament and other election issues.

During the interview, excerpts of which were released by Tass Tuesday, Khrushchev hinted he may travel to United Nations headquarters in New York to argue the Soviet stand on disarmament before the General Assembly.

Leading the Soviet U.N. delegation would be "a great honor," the Russian Premier said.

Khrushchev said the Eisenhower administration's request for a meeting of the U.N. Disarmament Commission prior to the General Assembly session was presented only to "make a pretense of being champions of disarmament . . . in the hopes the voters will not see through these doings."

* * *

He added, however, that "what election slogans are advanced is a domestic affair of the U.S.A. Americans are free to do as they choose."

To Seek Wider Weeding Power

City Commission Will Ask League to Consider Sponsoring Amendment

Broader powers in the city weed cutting program will be sought by the City Commission for next year.

This was decided last night after Commissioner John A. Dugan renewed criticism of the state act that lets the city move in and cut weeds when property owners fail to do so.

What Dugan has frequently objected to is the limitation in the act preventing the city from taking action in areas that are not 60 per cent settled.

"I don't mean that the city should be cutting 100-acre vacant fields," he explained. "But I do think weeds should be cut on a reasonable basis in areas where there are homes."

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the Michigan Municipal League should be asked at its meeting next month to consider sponsoring a legislative amendment to the state act, permitting cities wider powers.

City Attorney William A. Ewart said he would submit a proposed amendment to Pontiac's State Rep. Arthur J. Law for possible introduction in the Legislature next year.

Commissioner Cites Speeding

Asks City Traffic Bureau

Re-establishment of a traffic patrol bureau in the Pontiac Police Department was urged last night by City Commissioner Winford E. Bottom.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would ask Acting Police Chief Joseph Korean to study the proposal.

Bottom attributed an apparent increase in violations of speeding laws to the lack of roving patrol cars charged specifically with traffic enforcement.

Former Public Safety Director George D. Eastman abolished the old traffic patrol bureau and made traffic enforcement the responsibility of all police officers.

"Speeding was under control once in the city, but now its way out of hand," stated Bottom. "It's a citywide problem."

The latest complaints about speeding came from Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr., who called Ottawa drive "a speedway in the early morning and late afternoon."

If the city allowed parking on one side of Ottawa, he suggested, speeding might be discouraged.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the parking proposal would be taken up by the administration's traffic committee.

Commissioners have been reporting speeding complaints since spring time.

Stockmeyer Defends Self on Civil Rights

DETROIT (UP) — Warren O. Stockmeyer, Wayne County Republican chairman, Tuesday accused Gov. Williams of "misuse" of the truth and the Democrats of insincerity toward civil rights.

Stockmeyer, a real estate broker, replied in a formal statement to Democrat Williams' criticism of his opposition to the state's new so-called antibias rule in real estate transactions.

The Wayne GOP leader said that in testifying before legislative committee he only defended what he called the "basic right of every American" to sell, rent or lease his property as he wishes.

Urban Contract Being Studied

Commission Goes Over HHFA Loan Plan for 1st Renewal Project

City commissioners have under study today a proposed 47-page contract with the Housing and Home Finance Agency for financing of the city's first urban renewal project.

"As soon as we sign the contract we can start drawing on our federal loan," said City Manager Walter K. Willman in presenting the document last night for a week's study. It was submitted to the city by John P. McCollum, Chicago regional administrator of the HHFA.

The federal share of the five-year, $6-million renewal effort has already been approved in Washington.

The contract provides for a federal loan of $5,165,044 for property acquisition and administrative costs plus one outright grant of $2,293,317 to cover two-thirds of the net cost and another of $127,245 for relocation of displaced families.

The city plans to put in public improvements amounting to one-third of the net project cost.

The project is bounded by Pike, Paddock, Perkins, Parkhurst, Osmun and Saginaw streets. Appraisers are making final appraisals on which initial purchase offers will be based this fall.

Judges in the king and queen contests were Judge Clark J. Adams, Oakland County Circuit Court, Dr. George Matthews, acting dean of MSUO, and Mrs. F.G. Garrison, trustee of the Michigan Foundation and emeritus member 4-H Foundation and a member of the National 4-H Sponsors' Council.

The king and queen were chosen on personal appearance, overall club record, community activities, education and an extemporaneous speech.

Hoxie is a graduate of West Bloomfield High School and plans to enter Michigan State University this fall and major in dairy production.

He has been a member of the Bloomfield Club for eight years and a past secretary of the club.

He is currently president of the Oakland County 4-H Service Club and was recently chosen as the outstanding boy in over-all achievement to represent Southeastern Michigan in the state finals.

Hoxie has horticulture, bee keeping, tractor maintenance, and junior leadership exhibits in this year's fair and will compete in the plowing contest today.

The pretty queen with big brown eyes has more than 70 exhibits to her credit over her seven years as member.

In this year's fair she has two steers in the beef exhibit plus exhibits in cooking, freezing and canning.

She specializes in steers and has had at least one entered in every fair for the past seven years.

One of them in this fair she raised from a calf.

Carolyn admits it's hard work, but she has earned $900 from her efforts and her current "herd" is worth well over that figure.

She won a Dress Review pin at 4-H achievement day last spring in Pontiac and last year won the county and district top canning award.

Carolyn is a junior at Milford High School and hopes to major in Home Economics at Michigan State University someday.

From the glitter of royalty the crowd's attention turned to other things — freckles, to be exact.

Some 20 youngsters paraded forth in what must go down as one of the greatest mass of freckles ever seen.

From them emerged 11-year-old Jim Barriger of Clawson as the 1960 Freckle Champion.

He was the first boy ever to win the annual Pontiac Press-sponsored contest. A $50 savings bond goes to the winner.

Judges Lee Winborn, Pontiac Press suburban news editor; Clarence M. Burr, Rochester Village councilman, and Mrs. Mary Hardy, Oakland County Home demonstration agent, picked the youth with his flaming red hair for top honors.

He is the son of Mrs. Mildred Barriger of 494 Park Dr. and a student at Paul A. Schram Elementary School in Clawson.

He's a member of Cub Scout Pack C5 and plays on the cub scout team, the White Sox.

"Some people call me 'Red'," he advised.

Jim's brother, Tom, 9, said he was "proud to be the brother of the champ."

About all that remains to be said of the Freckle Champ is that if he ever gets the measles, no one will know it.

But, royalty or not, everyone will be pitching in and working hard again today as fair activities swing into their first full day.

Following home economics, poultry, and general exhibit judging this morning, a colorful parade moved through downtown Pontiac.

Working like beavers during the morning, the king and queen took time out to ride in their place of honor in today's parade.

Tonight, they'll shed their crowns and once again return to the serious business of making this one of the greatest 4-H fairs of all.

City Salary Raises May Hike Taxes

with employe representatives, the final time last week.

The raises represent a victory for employe groups, especially the firemen, who have been campaigning for a new pay plan for almost a year.

The new plan replaces one that was adopted by the city back in the 1940s. Since then, employes have been receiving annual cost of living raises, generally amounting to 2 to 3 per cent of their base wages. The increase in January was 2½ per cent.

Firemen had argued that Pontiac wage scales were unfairly geared to those in effect in government and industry in outstate Michigan cities.

They said Pontiac pay should be comparable to pay in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

James Yarger, independent personnel consultant retained by the city to draw up the new pay plan, agreed with the firemen. He said maximum pay in almost all job classifications should be boosted.

Almost all employes now will receive boosts, according to the step in the new pay plan that corresponds to their seniority.

The Day in Birmingham

Service Building Plans Are Halted by Injunction

BIRMINGHAM — The Franklin Community Assn. plans to construct a service building have been halted temporarily by a circuit court injunction.

The temporary injunction issued by Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer was sought by the Property Owners Protective Association of Franklin.

The protective association claims the community building is to be constructed in an area where deed restrictions allow only residential dwellings.

The site is on Carol road near Franklin road.

A hearing to show cause why plans for the $75,000 community building should not proceed has been set for Aug. 25.

Concrete, which would cost approximately the same as the asphalt, was considered, but engineers reported the asphalt more suitable for the area's soil conditions.

The American LaFrance Co. has been awarded a $39,665 contract for the construction of the city's new fire truck.

Awarding of the contract had been delayed two weeks by the City Commission on the recommendation of Fire Chief Park Smith to permit an investigation and evaluaton of the proposed units offered.

country will have to take care of itself.

Eisenhower said emphatically that Congress cannot take the view that politicking is more important than the national interest.

He added that it was a little bit silly for Democratic critics to accuse him of unloading new programs on Congress when he merely had restated recommendations he made during the preconvention session of Congress.

The President made another reply to Democratic critics — specifically Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee — when he said there was nothing in the economic picture now to indicate that a recession or depression is in the offing.

LASHES CRITICS

Eisenhower struck back at Democratic criticism of this defense program and the 12-point legislative proposals he sent the Senate when it reconvened Monday.

Specifically, Eisenhower said that he has not frozen $21 million dollars in defense funds voted by Congress as charged by Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee and Senate party leader.

There is no reason to say, Eisenhower declared vigorously, that these funds will not be spent.

The President said the Democratic Congress had cut his budget request $1.75 billion but had added $1.1 billion for purposes he had not outlined. The rejuggling of this is not done in a few weeks, he added.

OTHER VIEWS

On other subjects, Eisenhower expressed these views:

CONGO — The United States approves the resolution adopted by the U.N. Security Council and regards it as another step forward. This country welcomes the steps Belgium has taken to relieve tensions and hopes that through future cooperation the confidence of the Belgian and Congo people will be restored.

VETOES — Eisenhower was asked whether he would consult Nixon before rejecting or approvbills Congress passes.

He replied that he has always kept Nixon fully informed. But he said that in the final analysis the decision he makes on any measure will have to be his own, made on what he feels is best.

He added sharply that this is his responsibility and will be until noon of Jan. 20 when he goes out of office.

CUBA — If any Latin American government should come under the dominance of internationalcommunism and become a satellite, Eisenhower said this would call for very definite action.

He added however that if someone might believe in a different form of government than we have and establish it freely, that would be a different matter.

But he said he does not believe anything like this is going to happen because he said no people have voted to place themselves under a dictatorship.

LAOS — The government has been trying to get details about the military coup there but has learned very little about it thus far.

Killed in Crash With Gas Truck in Bloomfield

An Independence Township man was killed early today on Telegraph road when he lost control of his car and collided with a gasoline truck in Bloomfield Township.

Fatally injured was Miles H. Hicks, 21, of 9657 Snowapple Dr.

Hicks' car was struck broadside by a tractor-trailer truck driven by Oakley J. Radabaugh, 39, of Taylor, when Hicks crossed the centerline, Bloomfield Township police said.

GOP Express Runs on Java

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Here's a bit of friendly advice.

Dop't bother to ask any of the county Republican nominees out for coffee after the Nov. 8 election.

All 13 of them—plus the top level party leaders—will be all coffeed out by then.

They'll be up to their ears in coffee by the time "Operation Coffee Cup" comes to what party leaders hope will result in a sugary success when the fall election rolls around.

Republican women of the county, through the newly created federation of some 15 clubs, this week kicked off the first of some 500 campaign "coffees" to be held throughout the county between now and the election.

If you're a Republican—or maybe even a Democrat—your neighbor might be asking you over for a cup and to meet one of the local GOP candidates or party leaders.

And you won't have to drop all of your household chores or dress up. She'll undoubtedly tell you to come as you are.

SIMPLE AFFAIRS

A suggestion has been made to coffee hostesses by Mrs. Joseph Hainline, "Operation Coffee Cup" director, to "keep your coffee (the gathering, that is) simple and informal."

Wear your Bermudas or slacks if you like, she suggested.

The Republican ladies, who proved their worth recently at a well-attended candidates rally, hope to make the numerous candidates more than a name. Meet them in person, learn how they stand on many issues, and ask them questions, Mrs. Hainline said.

It is hoped the coffees, similar to those held in 1956 and 1958, will accomplish more than a personal contact with a candidate—and possibly a dislike of coffee.

"They will be a great means of recruiting workers," explained John A. Gibbs, executive secretary of the county committee. "We can motivate them on the spot."

If Republican state candidates happen to be in the area they will be asked to drop in for a cup, he said.

Experiments With Rats Hold Hope for Longer Span of Life

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — An experiment on rats has yielded hope that overweight people can prolong their life expectancy by as much as 20 per cent.

The secret is to eat half as much.

Another experiment, also on rats, has shown that the young have some mysterious and potent quality that can be transfused into older animals to slow the aging process.

The two projects were reported in papers Monday before the fifth International Congress of Gerontology is the study of aging processes.

The work with the sharp dietary restriction was done by Dr. Henry S. Simms, pathologist of the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, it might well apply to overweight humans as well as to rats, he said.

And it produced convincing evidence, Simms added, that reduced eating can delay the onset of disease as well as delay death once disease has taken its foothold.

The life expectancy of male rats which had all they wanted to eat was 800 days, Simms said. For a similar group which was allowed to have only 54 per cent as much food, the figure was 1,000 days.

Females on an unrestricted diet had a life expectancy of 1,000 days as compared with 1,300 days for females on the reduced diet.

In the other experiment, rats were turned into Siamese twins by surgery. This was reported by Miss Wanda R. Lunsford, a Cornell University nutritionist.

Incisions were made along the sides of the animals and they were joined by skin and muscle. Through this junction the animals exchanged blood and other body fluids. Usually a young rat was joined to an old one.

Whenever a set of these twins died they were dissected. The amount of elasticity in the tendons of their tails was one measure of how quickly they aged. Tendons lose elasticity with age. Bone density was another indicator. Bones become less dense as they age.

In some instances, Miss Lunsford said, a middle-aged rat and 400 days old would live almost as long as the young animal to which he was joined. The fur, eyes and general appearance of the older animals took on a younger appearance as a result of the surgical union.

Miss Lunsford said researchers don't know yet just what it is that the younger animals transfer to the older ones. The technique is being continued as a tool for the study of aging.

Atlas Fired 7,000 Miles; Three Launch Sites Added

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Air Force has fired its Atlas missile over a 7,000-mile course and has taken over three more operational launching positions for the big intercontinental range missile.

The Atlas was launched Tuesday in another demonstration of the rocket's accuracy and range versatility. The target was between the normal Atlas range of 6,325 miles and the record 9,000 miles covered by one of the missiles last May.

The test, termed successful by officials, was one of several planned over various ranges. Another Atlas is being groomed for an 8,000-mile flight. Scientists also want to check the performance of the missile's nose cone, which is subjected to varied re-entry conditions over different ranges.

Strategic Air Command headquarters in Omaha announced three Atlas launching facilities at Warren Air Force Base, Wyo., have been turned over to SAC's 564th Missile Squadron.

REDSTONE DESTROYED

Several hours after the Atlas launching, an erroneous signal caused the cape range safety officer to destroy a Redstone missile a minute after it was fired.

The slim Redstone lifted off on what appeared to be a smooth start to a 200-mile flight. But the army announced later that "there was an apparent erroneous indication that the missile was off course, which caused the range safety officer to destroy it."

Project officials reported the missile was performing perfectly when the safety officer pushed the destruct button.

School Board Slates Meeting

To Clean Up Its Old Business in Waterford Township Tomorrow

Left-over business makes up most of the agenda for Thursday night's Waterford Township Board of Education meeting.

The attendance area for the Carl Sandburg Elementary School, one of three Waterford schools opening in the fall, will be considered further.

Accident insurance plans presented at last month's meeting by representatives of two insurance companies will be reviewed again by the Board.

Action was postponed until adequate study could be given to one plan, which was not presented until after the last meeting had begun.

The Board also will examine a report by the George E. Mason architectural firm on paving bids received for driveways, sidewalks and parking lots at Waterford's new Kettering High School, as well as study bids received on drainage work at the Henry R. Schoolcraft Elementary School.

More than 32,000 power boats or boats with outboard motors are registered in New Hampshire. Funds are used to maintain 1,600 navigational aids.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. If we have our dog bred, will special care be required during her pregnancy?

A. The pregnancy period of dogs is relatively short (63 days) and seldom requires concern on the part of the owner.

In the event of unplanned parenthood, the animal's condition is usually evident between the fifth and sixth week, and can be confirmed by your veterinarian.

The normal dog will exhibit no temperamental tastes or actions. To avoid complications, have your pet examined for worms or other infirmities after the first week of pregnancy.

A diet high in protein and minerals is advisable, and can be achieved by accenting meat and milk products. Multiple vitamin-mineral supplements that are rich in calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin D are advantageous.

It is essential that your pet has exercise if she is to retain her muscle tone and avoid post-natal bulge.

Be prepared for the blessed event any time after the 56th day; this slight prematurity is not uncommon.

New Boat Engine Set for Production

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Eaton Mfg. Co. Tuesday announced a new marine product said to offer boat owners "the best features of inboard and outboard engines."

Eaton said its "Powernaut" marine drive was ready for production for use in conjunction with inboard engines in the pleasure boat field.

Boating experts for some time have pointed out that outboard engines are in many cases becoming too large for safety, convenience and economy of operation.

The inboard engine is regarded as superior, in larger pleasure boats at least, in efficiency, economy and reliability.

NY Tunnel to Be Lone Survivor?

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—People . . . Places . . . things . . .

One of the men in charge of building a new tunnel between Manhattan and Queens — a multi-million-dollar job which will transport garbage to a disposal plant — said with pardonable pride as the difficult last wall of rock was blown away that the tunnel would survive long after New York's skyline has been reduced to dust.

"Buildings go but a tunnel like this will live on forever," he cried, while sandhogs and presumably, garbage men cheered. It was refuse's finest hour.

We can see them now, those cunning little large-headed, bulb-eyed Martian archaeologists poking gingerly at the remains of New York. It is 2,500 years after the city's destruction by a Martian Z-Bomb. Months have passed since the expedition from Mars University stumbled upon the city, long since overgrown with goldenrod. There is keen disappointment among the diggers.

The Z-Bome broke everything to bits or cinderized objects believed to have existed. One Martian picks up a tiny cinder shaped something like a horseshoe and puzzles over an inscription on it, in English, which reads, "Yankee Stadium." Another yells "sqwrh!" (Martian for "ouch!") and pulls a small rusty needle out of his finger. It is the Empire State Building.

TAKE EXPRESS HOME

They are about to take the 5:18 express saucer back home and report that nothing was left of the city Martian historians had called Gamorrah - on - the - Gowanus when, luckily, one of the members falls through a fissure in what must have been a street — a large hole strangely fenced in by what must have been yellow wooden planks inscrutably marked, "Con Edison."

The mishap leads to the discovery, 300 feet under what had been a river called East, is a perfectly preserved garbage tunnel, fully stocked. The thin cries of the Martians ring out over the ruined land, and there are handshakes and back-clapping on all sides, for here, surely, is a find that will rate with the re-discovery of Pompeii, King Tut's tomb and of Sardis, capital of the kingdom ruled by Croesus.

It falls the lot of the leader of the Martian group to sum up, as only he can, the magnitude of the discovery. Calling for attention he asks that all members of the expedition remove their antennae as a mark of respect for the ancient dead.

"Farsh ungit hvreini zlap fud uggrr bandisbut vug tsrunk," he says, close to tears, "num rcasz lyup ghwyt vzsa logrt zslqi garbage," which of course, means, "we don't know what king of people lived here, but they sure were kind to their garbage.

One Way to Get Action

OCEANSIDE, Calif. (UPI) — The city council adopted a resolution ordering stop signs erected in the Canyon drive-Short street area. It was considered a must. The signs already had been installed.

Michigan Rain Mixed Blessing

Slows Wheat and Oat Combining but Boosts Growing Crops

LANSING (UP) — Rain proved a mixed blessing for Michigan farmers during the past week.

Wheat and oat combining was hampered by the wet weather, the Federal State Crop Reporting Service said. The moisture gave a boost to growing crops, however, especially in some dry east central and southeast counties.

More than 80 per cent of the wheat was combined by the end of the week. The harvest was nearly completed last year at this time.

Only 15 per cent of the oat acreage was combined, compared to 75 per cent at the same point last year.

Corn was making good progress but only the early-planted acreage was up to normal height. Almost perfect late summer and early fall weather and a late frost will be needed if much of the late-planted acreage is to mature. Only 40 per cent of the acreage now is tasseled, compared with 90 per cent at this time last year.

The dry bean growth was excellent. Potatoes and sugar beets were showing good growth.

The second hay crop was being put up in nearly all sections of the state. Good yields were reported. Pastures were in better condition for early August than they have been in most recent years.

The cherry harvest was in the last big week in the Traverse City area. Early peaches were being harvested in the Southwest. Summer apples also were being picked.

The tomato supply was increasing and the first cantaloupe of the season appeared on the market. Blueberries, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, sweet corn, lettuce and early potatoes were being harvested in good volume.

Other categories include 12 employes of the U.S. Information Agency and 40 private U.S. citizens who are there as missionaries, businessmen and the like.

Chaplin's Son Sues Over 'Slur' to His Father

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Because his father's name was omitted from Hollywood's new so-called "Walk of fame," Charles Chaplin Jr., 35, is suing the Chamber of Commerce for $400,000.

Names of almost every other Hollywood celebrity are being inscribed in the new sidewalks being installed in the film capital.

Chaplin's name was omitted because he was deemed controversial. He lives in Europe and hasn't complained. But his son, who filed the suit for libel damages Tuesday, said the omission of his father's name has discredited and disgraced him.

Panama Used in Propaganda Against U.S.

Canal's Fertile Field of Friction

By G. MARTINEZ MARQUEZ

PANAMA — The history of the Canal is as close to the history of the Republic of Panama as are its locks and installations to the territory of the isthmus.

The Canal and the Republic were born together and they bear the same name. It would be materially impossible to separate them. The Canal is by this time a natural geographic part of the young Republic.

However, what in the past has been a source of pride and national revenue, and a symbol of prosperity and renown, has now turned into a complex problem brought on by the lack of understanding on the one side and understandable impatience on the other.

To tourists visiting Panama, the Canal is a scientific get mounted on the isthmian republic. To navigators it is a magic gateway connecting the oceans that surround the American continent. To engineers studying its wonderful simplicity the Canal must evoke great admiration.

MARQUEZ

But for some time now international agitators have included the Canal in their propaganda slogans against the United States.

EASY TARGET

The Panama Canal was an easy target. The propaganda hammering on national sentiment made the Canal a fertile field of friction that is the source of increasing concern to Panamanian authorities.

One cannot spend even a few hours in Panama City without visiting the Canal Zone. And a visit to the Canal Zone makes one keenly aware of the state of mind of the native Panamanians vis-a-vis the rules and regulations enforced by the administering North American authorities.

A few months ago a group of students tried to raise the flag of Panama in the Canal Zone and thereby touched off a series of dramatic incidents.

A few days ago a caravan of automobiles invaded the zone from the city; the drivers did not have the licenses required by the Canal authorities. No violence occurred, but most anything could happen if similar incursions should take place in the future.

A few hours ago a committee of Canal Zone workers visited the Ministry of Foreign Affairs to complain that their working conditions were not regulated by Panamanian law nor by U. S. law. In their opinion they simply have no recognized legal standing.

IGNORANCE NO SOLUTION

This sort of thing goes on frequently. Ignoring the situation does not help to solve it. President Ernesto de la Guardia has said, perhaps rightly so, that these are emotional matters; but there are always international agitators ready to inject their poison into them.

What is still essentially nothing more than resentful nationalistic feeling could turn into hatred and become one more explosive in the powder keg of the Caribbean.

The Panamanian foreign office contends with a peculiar situation derived from the problems of the Canal Zone. As is usual in cases of this sort, it deals with the Department of State in Washington. But the fact is, that the affairs of the Canal are handled by the U. S. Defense Department, and sometimes compliance with agreements is delayed indefinitely.

Dr. Gilberto Arias, a lawyer who is head of the Third National Ist Party, which contributed to the victory of President-elect Chiari, tells us:

"Historically the U. S. has been unjust with Panama on certain occasions, beginning with the signature of the original treaty. Later, up to 1955, the U. S. did not pay a cent for the Canal, because the 250,000 gold dollars purportedly paid annually was the same amount paid to Colombia for the railway.

"Even though the treaty specifies that the zone administration is for the maintenance, sanitation, operation and defense of the Canal, the authorities frequently permit unfair competition with Panamanian commercial and industrial concerns.

NO REVENUE INCREASE

"The Canal," Dr. Arias adds, "cannot increase its revenue because the shipping interests in Washington have prevented an increase in the 1918 transit rates. As a result, Panama does not receive the benefits from the Canal permissible under the treaty.

"As far as sovereignty is concerned," he concludes, "there is not one Panamanian who will accept the argument that Panama has transferred sovereignty over the Zone to the United States."

Dr. Sergio Gonzalez Ruiz, first vice president-elect and head of the National Liberation Movement party, a participant in the coalition in the election of Chiari, tells us:

"I believe that the U. S. is mistaken in its Latin American policy. In Panama, for example, the U. S. would lose nothing by permitting the American flag to be withdrawn from the Canal Zone. On the contrary, it would win our friendship. In spite of this the U. S. persists in its attitude.

"But we do not harbor anti-North American feelings, because all we want is to be treated as equals and that existing treaties be fulfilled without subterfuges. The U. S. is too powerful a nation to be ungenerous".

In connection with tension in the Caribbean, Dr. Ruiz believes that the Cuban Revolution has lost ground and that the situation could be settled through joint action by democratic countries in the OAS.

More radical views are expressed by Dr. Victor F. Goytia, head of the Civil Resistance Party, former Minister of Education and unsuccessful candidate for the presidency in the recent elections. He says flatly: "The United States has never understood our problems."

* * *

"In our day and age," he tells us, "we must think in hemispheric terms. We must put aside crude nationalism. I do not believe that the Cuban revolution has had much influence in Panama, even though in our countries the people are always on the side of the underdog. Accumulated injustices, misery and hunger have always favored the propagation of communism. The problem of Panama is not one of dictatorship but of anarchy."

French Composer Andre Bloch Dies

PARIS (AP) — Composer Andre Bloch died in Paris Sunday after a brief illness. He was 87.

A shy, retiring man, Bloch was a former inspector general of musical education for the government and a professor of harmony and composition at the Paris Academy.

His musical output was not large. He preferred to polish a few compositions to a high degree of technical excellence. Critics consider his tone poems to be among the finest of the form.

"La Suite Palestinienne" for violincello and orchestra, one of his best-known works, has been performed around the world. He also wrote the score for two operas, "Broceliande" in 1923 and "Guignol" in 1949.

In addition, Bloch was a philosopher and scientist. He perfected a listening device adopted for use aboard French submarines in World War I.

3 Junior Nines Reach Finals

Two Auburn Heights Teams Lead Way on Rainy Day

Tuesday's rainy weather failed to prevent another round of junior baseball playoffs.

Class D had a game postponed and the other halted after six innings due to the rain and wet grounds.

Auburn Heights Boys' Club took the shortened contest blanking Powell Trucking, 3-0. Darryl Thorpe fired three-hit ball, fanning 13. Healso had two singles in besting Rich Caverly. Lake Orion was ahead of Pontiac Central 6-4 in the 5th when the other was called off.

The Auburn club was also successful in Class F as was Northside Kiwanis. Auburn tallied four in the first and coasted to a 6-3 nod over the Tigers. Pitcher Lyn Thorpe's two-run side only needed four frames to side only needed four frames to batter St. Benedict 20-0 behind a combined no-hitter for Rog Hayward and Skip Walker.

In Class E, Tom Zinkan's three-hitter paced Pontiac Boys' Club to a 3-0 conquest of the Tel-Huron Tigers. Harry Lawrence accounted for the runs with a homer in the 5th. Westside Kiwanis overpowered Great Lake Giants 15-5, scoring 11 in the first three frames. Bill Crawford led the way with a double, single and homer.

Hudson Hornets and Pontiac Boys' Club took Widget game. Hudson had two homers among 12 hits in an 18-4 romp over Preston Bros. PBC rallied for all its runs in the 4th in beating Furtney Drug, 6-2. D. Guibord had a bases-loaded triple in the big frame.

Larsen Finally Wins One; Yanks Topple White Sox

By The Associated Press

Remember Don Larsen? He's the fellow who pitched the only perfect World Series game in history. Did it for the New York Yankees on a bright October afternoon in 1956. Beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 2-0.

Haven't heard too much about him lately. He reached his peak in that one classic, and there was only one way to go—down. But not quite as far down as he eventually went. Down to the minors. In fact.

He hung around with the Yankees through the 1959 season, in which he won six games and lost seven. But the New York club finally gave up on him. They sent him to Kansas City in a seven-player deal in December, 1958.

Something had gone wrong. A control artist, he had lost his control, and even his much-imitated no-windup delivery didn't help him.

He had lost his last six games with the Yankees in 1959, and with Kansas City he was no better, so he was sent down to the minors on July 8 this year. The A's brought him back July 29.

But he had run up six more major league defeats for an even dozen straight until Tuesday night, when he defeated Washington, 8-3, in the second game of a doubleheader. It was the first game he had won since he beat Detroit for the Yankees June 13, 1959, by a 6-4 score. He tired after 7 1-3 innings and was relieved by Ken Johnson.

The Senators had taken the first game 3-1 in 12 innings, as the league-leading Yankees were stopping the White Sox 7-4, the Baltimore Orioles were blanking Detroit 3-0 and Cleveland was downing Boston 6-3.

The Yankees increased their lead to a game and a half by squaring their series with the White Sox when rain came an inning too late to help the Chicagoans.

The New Yorkers got three runs on one hit in the eighth inning as the vaunted Sox defense fell apart and the rains came to wash out the ninth inning.

Errors by catcher Joe Ginsberg, first baseman Roy Sievers, and a botched-up play by second baseman Nellie Fox ruined what might have been a fine relief job by pitcher Gerry Staley.

A crowd of 48,408 sat in on the proceedings at Comiskey Park. Luis Arroyo, who has been a valuable asset to the Yankee mound staff recently, finally got his first victory. He came in the seventh as the fourth Yankee pitcher. Bob Turley had started.

Harmon Killebrew was the big noise in the first of the Senator-Athletic games. His home run in the 12th was the decisive blow. Pitcher Don Lee hit a home run, his first, for the Senators in the third inning, and Norm Siebern tied it up with his 15th in the fourth. Siebern also hit for the round trip in the second game.

Ted Williams provided the big news as the Red Sox bowed to the Indians. The 41-year-old Red Sox slugger rapped out his 19th home run of the season and the 511th of his distinguished career, putting him in a tie for third place with Mel Ott on the all-time home run list.

Ted's solo blast couldn't offset two-run homers by Tito Francona and Vic Power, however. Power also knocked in a run with a double.

Ewbank Thinks His Colts Will Be Gaining Club

With All Stars Bjt

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Baltimore Colts believes his team will gain whether it wins or loses to the College All-Stars Friday night

The coach of the world champion Colts said, "We have prestige to gain and the loss of face if we lose. But if we lose, not all is lost.

"It might be the salvation of our club," Ewbank said, "the kind of tonic it would need to realize that football games are won on the field-not with reputations - for after our goal is a third championship."

"But I think our squad has been through that up and down period enough to avoid the down feeling. Let's hope so, anyway," Ewbank said.

Mizell Keeps Pittsburgh Rolling

By The Associated Press

Back in 1952 the sports writers covering the major league spring camps voted a tall, raw-boned youngster named Wilmer Mizell the most likely to succeed. He would be rookie of the year, they prophesied.

He was good enough. But he never quite lived up to expectations after the St. Louis Cardinals signed him in December, 1951. A stretch in the armed services did not help him too much, either.

He started this season with an indifferent 68-67 lifetime record. The Cardinals thought so little of him after he had won one game and lost three for them that last May 28 they swapped him to the Pittsburgh Pirates for a couple of their farmhands.

The Cards didn't wait quite long enough for Vinegar Bend to fulfill that nine-year-old prediction. Since joining the pennant-hungry Pirates he is 8-2. He has won five in a row, completed four straight and until the Chicago Cubs pushed a run across against him in the sixth inning Tuesday night he had pitched 30 1-3 scoreless innings. The San Francisco Giants got a first inning run off him on May 22, he shut out the Cubs on May 29, and the Giants Aug. 5.

He won Tuesday night, 7-1, allowing only five hits, and the Bucs retained their five-game lead in the National League race.

The cast of characters in the runnersup spot switched, though. Milwaukee, which had been in second place, lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 while the erstwhile third-place Cardinals were taking a double header from the Phillies 5-4 and 6-0 to leap frog into second. San Francisco was rained out at Cincinnati.

A couple of veterans largely were responsible for the Cardinals' twin triumphs. The venerable but perennially youthful Stan Musial cracked a pair of doubles in the first game, scored each time, and knocked in another run with a sacrifice fly.

The second game was all Curt Simmons, who turned in his fourth victory against two defeats, and his third over his former teammates. When the Cards gave him three runs in the sixth inning without getting a hit, it was all he needed. Gene Conley was the victim, losing his eighth against seven victories.

Lindy McDaniel, making his 44th appearance, was credited with his ninth victory in 12 decisions in the first game. He allowed one hit in the 2 1-3 innings he worked. Musial's second double in the eighth resulted in the winning run. He scored on Curt Flood's single to break a 4-4 tie.

Johnny Podres, on the mound for Los Angeles, had everything under control for eight innings. He had fanned 10, walked only two, and had allowed the Braves only five hits.

Then the roof started to sag. Eddie Mathews opened the ninth with his 24th home run. Podres got the next two batters, but Billy Bruton doubled and Johnny Logan and Felix Mantilla singled and the Dodger lead was cut to one run. Larry Sherry came in to get the third out and preserve Podres' 10th victory.

Shooting Sisters Battling for Title

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Arthur Cook, U.S. Air Force reserve captain from Adelphi, Md., practically assured himself the 1960 national small bore prone rifle championship yesterday as he dropped but one point in the four matches fired with telescopic sights.

He scored 1,599 points out of a possible 1,600 to give him a grand aggregate score of 4,783 out of a possible 4,800. Of the 160 rounds he fired today he netted 159 bulls-eyes and put one shot in the 9 ring.

The race for the women's crown continued to be a family affair. Yesterday 19-year-old Lenore Jensen, the 1959 champion of Allen Park, Mich., passed her sister, Marianne (Candy) Jensen by two points to go ahead 4,773 to 4,771. Monday night 15-year-old Candy led by one point.

'Olympic Period' Now Officially Designated

ROME (AP)—The 17th modern Olympic Games today officially came to the city of Rome.

The "Olympic Period"—as formally designated by city officials—started without fanfare but with lots of flags.

About 8,000 of them fluttered over the city's buildings. Corps of interpreters moved into the hospitals to overcome possible language barriers. Four hundred hostesses went to work at the various Olympic stadiums and offices. Floodlights were switched on in the heart of Rome.

The Games will not open until Aug. 25. But for the Romans' money, Olympic time is now officially here.

Twelve of the hostesses started work at the village Tuesday. They included Swedish blondes, brunette Italians, blue-eyed Hungarians, chic French. Most had one grumble.

They hate their light gray woolen dresses—the uniform they're saddled with until the Games end.

The dress has a pleated skirt, and a black belt. The girls carry a black and white handbag and wear black and white shoes.

Most men around the village agreed with the girls—the dresses are not as good-looking as the girls.

The blonde, blue-eyed American high school graduate at the reception desk in the Olympic village is an Italian.

Site is 20-year-old Laura Salvi of Rome who spent her senior year at Sequoia High School in Redwood City, Calif. She went there under the American field service exchange student program.

Laura has charmed visitors by the way she switches from slangy American to fluent French, from Italian to Swedish and then into Danish.

"I feel half American," Laura said. "I've always been interested in international relations. That's why I applied for the program that took me to the States, and that's why I'm here at the village."

BACK AS TIGER — Jo Jo White, a Detroit hero 25 years ago, is back in a Tiger uniform. He joined the club as assistant manager to Joe Gordon in a deal which sent Luke Appling to Cleveland as assistant to Jimmie Dykes.

Indians Sell Tanner, Acquire Joe Morgan

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians Tuesday sold outfielder Chuck Tanner to Toronto of the International League for an undisclosed price.

His place on the roster was filled by Joe Morgan, 29-year-old third baseman purchased from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Tanner, used exclusively as a pinch-hitter, has a .280 batting average.

Finally a Pony Ride

DETROIT (UPI) — Bay City, often a bridesmaid in the state Pony league baseball tournament but never a bride, finally ousted Hamtramck, seven-year ruler of the league with a 9-4 win.

Selling Is General in Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Selling was general in the grain futures market today and nearly all contracts turned weak in early transactions on the Board of Trade.

Soybeans led the setbacks with losses running more than a cent in most deliveries on profit taking following runups of about the same range in Tuesday's market.

Some of the selling was described as liquidation of long positions but it appeared to include a moderate volume of hedging.

Mrs. Grace Wins Prize in 4 Figures

"I'm surprised that I can even talk," said a young Waterford Township mother Tuesday moments after she was told she had won $5,000.

Mrs. Henry L. Grace, 24, of 3514 Shelby St., was one of five persons in the United States who won bank accounts of $5,000 each in a recent sweepstakes contest sponsored by a national soap manufacturer.

The check, deposited at the Community National Bank branch on W. Huron street, was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Grace at the A&P Supermarket, 949 W. Huron.

That was the place she said she mailed in her entry blank from last spring.

The $5,000 was second prize.

"Oh, look. It has three zeros," the happy housewife whispered to her unbelieving husband.

The couple admitted they "had hoped for $500."

They said they had no immediate plans for the money but had been saving toward the education of their two boys, four and five years old.

Grace, 27, is a tool and die estimator at Fisher Body division.

Taking part in the presentation were Joseph DiPalma, assistant manager of the supermarket; Harold J. Owen, manager of the bank branch, and representatives of the sponsoring company.

"Our weddding anniversary is this weekend. This is a gift we'll never forget," said the pretty mother.

Market Crawls as Traders Wait

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market trading slowed to a crawl early today as prices were mixed in an extremely narrow range.

Gains and losses were held to small fractions in virtually every case with traders moving cautiously. The tape ran late very briefly to clear the accumulation of overnight orders, then slowed noticeably.

The slow trading was a disappointment to brokers, who fretted over the fact volume had dwindled on market price advances Monday and Tuesday. Foreign news continued to breed caution with the Congo situation still unsettled and the picture unclear in Laos.

Coppers continued their yesterday afternoon rally as Phelps Dodge jumped better than a point even though it was trading ex dividend. Anaconda and International Nickel also were higher.

Lionel continued to forge ahead, adding more than a point to recent gains as investors looked favorably on its entry into the electronics field. Ionics & Laughlin, the foundry's fourth largest steel producer, was lower as a railroad trainmen's strike forced closing of its big Pittsburgh works.

Motors were steady, while aircrafts weakened a bit and other groups showed mixed patterns.

General Dynamics was down about a point after reporting lower earnings. Boeing opened off a major fraction and failed to improve, while United Aircraft and Douglas were slightly lower.

General Motors recovered from a slight early decline while Ford and American Motors were ahead a bit.

Troops March to Halt Leftist Revolt in Laos

BANGKOK, Thailand (UPI) — Royalist troops were reported marching on the administrative capital of Vientiane in Laos today to put down a leftist pocket revolt against the pro-western government.

The counterattack was being mobilized from Luang Prabang, official residence of King Savang Vatthana, about 140 miles to the north of Vientiane, the reports said.

Prime Minister Tiao Somsanith was believed to be in Luang Prabang helping direct the operation, although most members of his cabinet fell into the hands of the rebels and now are under arrest.

Thus, with the chief of government still at large and the king apparently against them, it was doubtful the rebels had gained effective political control, as claimed in their first communiques Tuesday.

Leader of the revolt was identified as a Capt. Vong Le or Kong Lae, commander of a paratroop battalion. One of his avowed aims was to oust American military advisory personnel from the southeast Asian kingdom.

It was not known how many troops the rebels had at their command. However, information reaching Bangkok through diplomatic channels said they had armed all commercial aircraft in Vientiane and had control of all strategic facilities in the city.

The royalist troops were commanded by Brig. Gen. Ouane Rathikul. They presumably would issue an ultimatum of surrender before launching an attack.

The coup was carried off early yesterday morning. Unofficial reports said 10 persons had been killed, including Maj. Gen. Sunthorn Patthamwong, supremk La-otian commander and a member of a rightwing military clique that seized control of the country briefly last Dec. 31.

Antarctic Pact in Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to carry out the Republican Party's platform on civil rights was introduced today amid indications that parts of it may be offered as riders to the minimum wage or other measures.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), chief sponsor of the four-part civil rights bill, told newsmen no firm decision had yet been reached on the course to be pursued in trying to get action on the legislation.

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said today that the administration's antarctic treaty is in "some trouble" in the Senate.

He indicated that President Eisenhower's sweeping legislative demands were partly to blame.

"This message has piled up a lot of people," Johnson said. The vice-presidential nominee said a number of Democrats think that the administration is "playing politics" and that Congress "ought to postpone a lot of things."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said, however, that after "some nose-counting and some conversion" he believes that the treaty will be ratified. Dirksen said he thinks no more than five Republicans will oppose it.

Johnson gave his views as the Senate headed for a showdown on a move to postpone until next January consideration of the treaty to demilitarize Antarctica.

Although that could be defeated by a majority vote, the 12-nation treaty itself will need a two-thirds vote for ratification.

Senate Democrats geared for prompt action on minimum wage and medical care proposals after sending a Republican civil rights measure on a dusty trip to the legislative graveyard.

WANTS ACTION

Johnson made it clear he wants quick committee action on a bill to provide medical care for the elderly. The Senate Finance Committee, which is handling the measure, meets today.

Also in line for Senate action is a bill to raise the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25 an hour. The measure also would cover an additional three to five million workers.

The Senate decks were cleared for action on the two measures after Johnson mustered Democratic members to bury a GOP civil rights bill that faced a party-splitting filibuster by Southern Democratic senators.

The measure which was defeated 54-28 would have: 1. Given help to school districts facing added costs of integrating and 2. Set up by law a commission which would work to end racial hiring discrimination under government contracts.

Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, called the administration's civil rights proposal "eleventh-hour politics."

He said he strongly supports civil rights "but to use civil rights at this time as a method of defeating other bills whose passage are also essential would have meant that the session would have ended in complete failure."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said his move in bringing up the measure was "entirely free from political or partisan considerations."

Euler Shifts Staff Members

MAKE OVER PAGES Appoint Three at Hospital

Appointment of three administrative staff members at Pontiac General Hospital to new positions was announced today by Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

Dale Ferguson, purchasing agent the past two years, has been named temporary head of the dietary department upon cessation, Euler said, of the five-month tryout of the Crotty Brothers Food Management Service.

Pierre Rydman, head of the credit and collection department for the past two years, has taken over added duties as head of the admitting department.

Mrs. Fay Stewart, employed 12 years at the hospital, has been named director of volunteer services. She will continue, Euler said, as director of public and patient relations.

Mrs. Stewart had been supervising the admitting department on an "unofficial basis." Euler said. Eugene Wilson, assistant purchasing agent, will head the purchasing department on a temporary basis until appointment of a food manager, Euler said.

Crotty Brothers, a Boston, Mass. firm, had managed the hospital's food service since March 1.

Euler said the company had improved food quality and reduced costs.

"But because the company is expanding its operations, it didn't have available to us at this time as experienced a supervisor as we wanted," he said.

Euler added:

"The present administration attributes its success in large part to the strong leadership of its supervisory personnel. The dietary department is second only to nursing in size, with an annual budget of $500,000. We need strong supervision there."

Euler said the hospital continues to have a three-fold dietary policy: Better food, faster, and at lower cost.

Rydman is credited with supervising the present administration's emphasis on collections as part of a balanced financial operation.

As director of volunteer services, Mrs. Stewart will deal with all volunteer groups," encouraging and coordinating this very important and necessary contribution of personal service to our enlarged hospital operations," said Euler.

The hospital women's auxiliary, alone, has more than 450 members who contribute over 15,000 volunteer hours a year to the hospital. Women in the Red Cross Gray Ladies contribute 4,000 hours.

TV News and Reviews

Women Cry in The Coffee Over Soggy Soap Operas

By CLAIRE COX

NEW YORK (UPI)—A husband who complains of a hard day at the office should see what the little woman goes through at home. No body knows the trouble housewives have seen — unless he has watched daytime television.

If the distaff viewer isn't cast into despair or reduced to a cloud burst of tears after an afternoon of TV soap operas, she must be a hardhearted woman, indeed.

Aside from worrying about the severe cases of diaper rash suffered by photogenic babies whose mothers shun any number of harsh, irritating soaps depending on which commercial is believed or not believed, the women who find soap operas good programs to iron by have all sorts of concerns.

First, there is handsome, sincere young Doctor Malone. He is up to his stethoscope in problems. There is an economic crisis at the plant where he practices industrial medicine.

One of his patients is precariously pregnant and both she and her husband are out of jobs. And Malone very nearly loses his best friend by being in the winning corner of an eternal love triangle.

Then there is the couple on The Clear Horizon, with no money problems but disappointment over not having a second child.

A pretty girl mopes over a rift with her husband because of his apparent interest in "another woman" on Love of Life.

Two alcoholic husbands turn up. One (on As the World Turns —CBS) refuses medical treatment. The other (on From These Roots — NBC) is in a sanitarium trying to learn to live all over again with a domineering wife.

All these crises, and more too, developed on television yesterday, a normal day in the sudsy lives of the serial heroes and heroines.

Among the woes were suspected embezzlement, a possible murder charge, a husband who refused out of false pride to work for a company owned by his wife and a Basset hound that tracked up a house with muddy paws until a certain cleaning solvent was rushed in.

PROGRESS: ZERO

The soap opera has gone exactly nowhere since it first flourished on radio. Organ music still is the chief mood-setter. The commercials aren't much different, except that they are seen as well as heard and seem to interrupt the plots more frequently.

Most of the serials now run 30 minutes, instead of the former 15, but much of the added time is devoted to plugging products, instead of to plots.

Some of the performances on the daytime "soaps" were commendable, with the actresses putting forth more effort than the actors to make their often maudlin plights seem convincing.

Some shows suffered from an apparent lack of preparation, with performers fumbling their lines an sometimes being forced to ad lib.

For the person who tunes in at random, an old standby of the radio soap opera is missing. There is no longer the dramatically intoned announcement at the beginning of each episode sumarizing the plot to date.

Also gone, but in this case easily forgotten, the even more stentoriously presented invitation to "tune in tomorrow to find out what happens to John's other wife's other husband."

He Meant All Right

SENECA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—Police said Louis Phillips, 50, had been driving for 30 years without a license. When they halted his car Monday on a routine check and asked to see his license, Phillips told them he mislaid it in 1930 and just never got around to getting another one.

Nearly 60 per cent of all new cars are purchased on the time payment plan, according to a survey conducted for the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

A BOY . . . A BIKE . . . A CAR — Thrown from his bicycle Tuesday when it collided with a car, Timothy Webber, 7, of Battle Creek, was killed when his head struck the windshield of the car driven by Lyle W. Arms, 70, also of Battle Creek. Timmy died nine hours after the accident. The shattered bike and car windshield are mute evidence of the impact. The Webbers had just moved to Battle Creek on Sunday.

Fairbanks Girl to Wed

LONDON (AP)—Actor Douglas Fairbanks Jr. announced today the engagement of his daughter Daphne, 20, to Nigel David Weston, 24, son of a British ship owner.

Miss Fairbanks went to finishing schools in Switzerland, Paris and New York. Her father holds an honorary British knighthood, and the family is prominent in London society and court circles.

To Close Summer Playgrounds

Set Oakland Park Fun Day

The Parks & Recreation Department will close a "very good" summer playground season next Wednesday with a "fun day" at Oakland Park.

Youngsters age 6 through 16 who have been participating in playground activities at 22 locations within the city have been invited to the three-hour event, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

Tugs-of-war mud holes, wheelbarrow races, peanut scrambles and balloon busts are some of the special "fun" events planned, said Leonard T. Buzz, recreation director.

Youngsters will come to the park after first visiting their playgrounds, which have experienced "good, steady and high participation" this year, Buzz said.

Supervised, daily playground activities conclude Friday.

Unkind Words Making Comics Rich, Famous

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS—Insult comedy is riding high in our world. Which brings up the question, "Why do nightclub customers want to slug a waiter who insults them in private, but just love a comedian who insults them publicly?"

WILSON

Jack E. Leonard, "the First Angry Man," and Don Rickles, "the Insultin' Sultan," have been making a fortune insulting cafe patrons—and, the way things are going, will soon be insulting each other.

I caught Rickles at a club not so long ago —when Sid Caesar was in the audience.

"Look at Sid Caesar," bellowed Rickles. "He said to himself the other day, 'How's Sid?' Then he said, 'Oh, I forgot, I'm Sid!' . . . Mrs. Caesar is sitting there laughing. She doesn't know, she's out of the will."

Eventually Rickles introduced Caesar and said he only insults the biggest people. Caesar ascended the stage steps and said: "I came here to hate you—I really did—and instead, I love you."

Joe E. Lewis, who'd come over from El Rancho Vegas, also got up. "I came here to hate you—and I do hate you!" he assured Rickles. "I'll be in this racket after audiences, have trampled you to death."

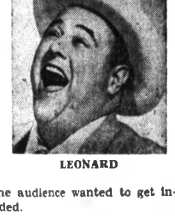
Everybody there knew that Joe E.'s very fond of Rickles, from the way that Rickles kept insulting him. "Joe E. doesn't know what planet this is," Rickles said. "Hey, Joe E.," he yelled. "These are the laughs. Come on! I laugh when you drink."



LEONARD

Even the little people in the audience wanted to get insulted—and they mostly succeeded.

The Crosby Boys are bringing their act to the Catskill resorts . . . There's betting daily in Reno whether Marilyn Monroe'll be late for work— but she's been on time so far.

EARL'S PEARLS: Denise Darcel spotted this sign on a beauty parlor: "Girls—Fishing for a man? Try our artificial lures."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Movie-going would be a lot more fun if the screens were a little narrower and the seats were a little wider.

Dems Discuss Funds for Drive

Kennedy, Johnson Call Huddle on 'Tough Job' of Raising Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson conferred with party officials Tuesday on the "hard, tough job" of financing the Democratic presidential campaign.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, (D-Wash), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, said after the powwow that Democrats, "As usual, will face rough going in collecting funds" for their 1960 election drive.

Kennedy, the presidential nominee, and Johnson, his running mate, met with Jackson, Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor and party treasurer, and Clarence D. Martin Jr., Los Angeles businessman and deputy national chairman. The session was in the offices of Johnson, the Senate majority leader.

"We are starting out almost from scratch," McCloskey said. "We have some debts, but enough money in the bank to pay them off.

Establishes Rule for High School

Centreville Refuses to Permit Pregnant Wives Attend Classes

CENTREVILLE (UPI) — The Centreville Board of Education has laid down a comprehensive policy concerning married high school students and students "involved in a pregnancy situation."

The action was prompted because the board had trouble with the problem of married students last year, it was reported.

The new code, as announced by supt. N. L. Whisler, bans all extra-curricular activities, including athletics, for married students. Last year married students could participate in athletics.

Another point of the policy calls for the immediate suspension from all classes and extra-curricular activities of a student, either male or female, "involved in a pregnancy situation."

Provisions then would be made for such a student to continue with a program of studies through correspondence and extra-classroom procedures.

The policy permits married students, where no pregnancy is involved, to remain in school.

The policy, drawn up by a board of four Centreville ministers, points out that a married student "possesses a unique position in high school."

It states that if a married student does not have the "highest standards of conduct and attitudes" the student can be suspended pending a board meeting on the matter.

The board said no married students were known to be enrolled for high school here for the fall term, and that the policy was announced now "so no one would feel a different policy might pertain to different individuals."

Labor Party Admits Senility

Frank Document Lists Problems Now Besetting British Socialism

LONDON (UPI)—Britain's once-great Labor Party admitted today that old age and internal division had thrown it into decline.

Party Secretary Morgan Phillips issued an 8,000-word document, "Labor in the Sixties," an open confession of the problems besetting British socialism.

Labor guided Britain through the difficult postwar years, but lost power in 1951. It suffered two subsequent electoral defeats in 1955 and 1959.

The party is now split on key issues, including nationalization and disarmament. There has been open speculation that its leader, Hugh Gaitskell, might be forced to resign at the party conference next October.

Phillips made no secrets of the party's problems.

He said the ruling conservatives "have tried hard to present us as an old, backward-looking party —restrictionist and bureaucratic when in office, divided and quarreling when in opposition.

"We should frankly face that fact that we have sometimes given them, in our own conduct, enough evidence to make such charges stick."

He said that compared to the conservatives, labor was overweighted with old men—"today the average age of the labor M.P. is 55, seven years older than his opponent—and run down-looking.

Labor, he said, must recruit young people, brighten up its premises, and gear its organization to the new political era.

His main concern, however, was to find a formula to bring the party together.

He said, "There is no question that unity, much more than we have had in the past year, is indispensable to the party."
