Wisner Home Open M-Week

As part of the local observance of Michigan Week, the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society is conducting guided tours through Pine Grove, the former home of Michigan's 13th governor, Moses Wisner.

The public tours through the Pontiac landmark are being held every day from 2-5 p.m. "Pine Grove," located at 405 Oakland is owned by the society and serves as its headquarters.

Built in Greek revival architecture, it served as the governor's official residence during his term of office from 1859-1861.

White columns accent the front of the home whose interior includes, one-foot thick brick walls, heavy doors put together with wooden dowels, grained woodwork, wide plank floors, and tall windows.

The parlor contains furnishings that the Governor and Mrs. Wisner selected and the dining room includes the family silver service and samples of their dishes.

Family heirlooms of other residents of Oakland County, gathered since 1874 by the society, are also exhibited.

A recent addition to the exhibit is the root cellar or "Grandma's Deep Freeze," which was restored through the cooperation of citizens, state and local vocational education departments and labor unions.

Many of the furnishings and exhibits in the home date back to the Civil War. There is also a legend that Abraham Lincoln was once a guest of the Wisners and slept in one of the hundred-year-old beds.

Governor Wisner refused to seek a second term, organizing instead the 22nd Michigan Infantry made up from men of Oakland and nearby counties.

He led them into Kentucky where he contracted typhoid fever and died. His grave is in Oak Hill Cemetery, Pontiac.

Civil War exhibits in the home include a punt gun which is eight feet tall and so heavy it needs two or three men to handle it, the sword Governor Wisner carried, Civil War uniforms, canteens, soldier caps, and a beaver hat.

GM's President Forecasts Auto Sales Decline in '66

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors President James M. Roche today stood with Henry Ford II in predicting that auto sales this year would fall short of 1965 totals.

Roche, in an interview yesterday, qualified an earlier statement attributed to him that auto safety hearings had played no part in the sales decline.

He added, "no one knows yet how far auto safety went in reducing sales."

Roche's new estimate of how the auto business, currently beset with falling sales, would fare was not as positive as that which Ford made Friday.

Ford told a businessmen's conference that new car sales would fall 300,000 units behind last year's 9.3 million total, including imports.

Ford said the auto safety hearings, plus some criticism of the industry, were a factor in the drop.

Two other auto company presidents came up with a varying outlook on 1966 business yesterday.

Lynn Townsend, Chrysler, said he had seen nothing as yet that would sway him away from his prediction of last fall of 9.3 million cars.

Roy Abernethy of American Motors said, "However, it should be remembered that any revision downward would be from a very high figure."

"I have not attempted to make a newer projection than the 9 to 9.3 million estimate I made earlier in the model year."

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Harry Gold, America's first convicted atomic spy, was freed today after 16 years in prison.

Gold, now 55, white-haired and wearing glasses, was sentenced to 30 years for carrying nuclear secrets to Soviet agents during and after World War II. He will finish the rest of his term on parole.

Heavy rain was falling as the thin-faced Gold walked through the iron gate of Lewisburg Penitentiary with his brother, Joseph, and his attorney.

UAW Exec Post OK'd for Woman

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "You men should be ashamed of yourselves," shouted a woman delegate at the United Auto Workers constitutional convention.

So by an 8-1 margin yesterday, the convention voted to expand its international executive board to make room for its first woman.

It was the hottest debate of the six-day 29th constitutional convention, which still has ahead of it controversial resolutions on the admission of Red China to the United Nations, U.S. policy in Viet Nam and organizing agricultural workers.

And it appeared more fireworks were likely tomorrow, when new officers, including a person to fill the additional seat, are elected.

The choice of union president Walter Reuther's powerful inner political group was announced Monday.

She's Olga Madar, 51, for 19 years head of the UAW's recreation department in Detroit.

Earlier, the convention adopted several resolutions, one calling for federal auto safety standards.

Farm Boy Fires Fatal Slug at Former Inmate

Gunfight Climaxes Massive Search in Mountain Region

SHADE GAP, Pa. (AP) — A mad kidnap-killer was shot to death today in a desperate attempt to break through a police cordon with his 17-year-old hostage, Peggy Ann Bradnick.

William Diller Hollenbaugh, 44, fell dying in a farm yard with a slug through the neck after a dash for freedom in the commandeered car of a deputy sheriff he had critically wounded.

The girl fled to the shelter of the farmhouse. She was not hurt.

Jack Conmy, press secretary to Gov. William W. Scranton, said the slug was fired from a shotgun by Larry Ruback, 15, son of the farm owner.

MASSIVE MANHUNT

The final gunfight climaxed a massive manhunt in the Tuscarora Mountains 70 miles southwest of Harrisburg after Hollenbaugh — once an inmate of an asylum for the criminal insane — snatched Peggy Ann on her way home from school last Wednesday.

A force of 250 state troopers which had surrounded Hollenbaugh's mountain hideout throughout the night began closing in at dawn.

Deputy Sheriff Francis Sharp found the kidnaper and the girl in a cabin.

Conmy said Hollenbaugh shot Sharp in the stomach and, pushing the girl into the back seat of the car, forced the deputy to drive toward Highway 522, a quarter of a mile away down a farm lane.

At the Ruback farm, Hollenbaugh ordered the bleeding deputy to get out and open the gate to the highway.

Conmy said young Ruback pointed a shotgun loaded with a slug out of the window of his home and fired. As the slug spun Hollenbaugh around the girl broke away and ran.

A state police car pulled up and Hollenbaugh fired two shots at the officers. They returned the fire and Hollenbaugh went down.

"Young Larry fired his shotgun as another state trooper fired at Hollenbaugh," Conmy said. "It is believed Hollenbaugh was struck simultaneously by rounds from the trooper's gun and the shot by Larry."

Dr. G. T. Lorentz, who examined Peggy Ann at the McConnellsbury medical center, said he found no evidence that she had been physically molested.

Sewer System Deadline Set

City Issues 45-Day Ultimatum to County

City officials last night handed Oakland County a 45-day ultimatum to get the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System approved by the seven other participating municipalities.

Otherwise, according to city officials, Pontiac may go it alone in construction of a trunk sewer line across the upper northeast corner of the city.

The sewer — Galloway Creek — is now planned as part of the county system.

The June 30 deadline was imposed last night after Roy J. Alexander, director of the county's department of public works, presented a progress report on creation of the disposal system.

Alexander, who indicated the necessary contracts probably would be approved within 30 to 45 days, said two communities — Orion and Waterford Townships had approved the contract for the system.

MINOR DIFFERENCES

He said he was optimistic, that others would follow adding that differences were minor and could be ironed out.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson disagreed. He thought the differences with Avon Township on apportionment of the system's cost were major, not minor.

While a joint city-county effort on the Galloway Creek sewer was best, Hudson wondered if it wasn't unlikely that there might be a delay of months and even years with seven other communities having to approve the Clinton-Oakland system and its cost.

Alexander said he could see no reason why the Galloway project couldn't proceed in the same length of time as a joint project that it could as a city project.

KEY TO DEVELOPMENT

Hudson added that the city could not avoid any more delay. He said the city sewer was the key to the development of some 1,000 acres in the northeast corner of the city.

The District 4 commissioner, indicating the city's view, said that for a time period of 30-45 days no one would consider settling a project the size of Clinton-Oakland.

Included in the area to be served by the Galloway sewer is a projected Pontiac Catholic (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

McNamara Addresses Editors in Montreal

MONTREAL (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara called today for steps to "build bridges" toward Red China as a means of avoiding war.

"We can do so with properly balanced trade relations, diplomatic contacts, and in some cases even by exchanges of military observers," McNamara said.

McNamara's speech was prepared for the American Society of Newspaper Editors, John Fitzgerald, editor of The Pontiac Press, is among the 500 U.S. and Canadian editors attending the conference.

McNamara spoke in philosophical terms of U.S. relationships with potential enemies as well as with underdeveloped countries and with allied nations.

He made only bare mention of Viet Nam and then only indirectly.

REDUCE DANGER

He said "breaching the isolation of great nations like Red China reduces the danger of potentially catastrophic misunderstandings, and increases the incentive on both sides to resolve disputes by reason rather than by force."

Needed for Viet Air Strikes

AF Forced to Borrow Navy's Bombs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has had to borrow more than 400,000 bombs from the Navy to help carry out its air strikes in Viet Nam, it was learned today.

The Defense Department provided this figure in response to questions after the bomb diversion came to light in congressional testimony released Tuesday.

A Pentagon spokesman said that between Jan. 1, 1964, and April 30, 1966, "the Navy made available to the Air Force from Navy inventories slightly more than 400,000 bombs of various types and sizes."

The great bulk of this supply was turned over to the Air Force before this year, the spokesman said. But presumably by year was given but presumably most of the bombs were diverted last year. Air strikes were first launched in North and South Viet Nam in February 1965.

The Navy uses 250- and 500-pound sizes. Depending on how many of each were provided, the Air Force received between 50,000 and 100,000 tons of ammunition.

Officials reported today U.S. forces are striking heavily at what may be the Viet Cong's greatest weakness — his stomach.

Since the year began, the officials said, American troops have captured more than 7,500 tons of rice and well over 400 tons of salt.

Both are basic foods which the Communists cannot ship from North Viet Nam, as they do their arms and other supplies, but must collect in South Viet Nam.

Authorities, assuming a Communist soldier eats about two pounds of rice a day, estimate that the 7,500 tons taken represented food for 125,000 men for two months.

This does not take account of other supplies destroyed by bombing and artillery fire.

There is no claim that the Viet Cong are starving, or approaching that point. But Communist prisoners have told interrogators of going hungry. And officials noted that hunger can lead to weakened morale.

The disclosure that the Air Force has borrowed the 400,000 bombs from the Navy seemed to indicate that the Air Force has been confronted with a significant, if not serious, problem of bomb supplies in the face of increased war activity.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said 61,000 tons of bombs was on inventory in Southeast Asia last month, and with 50,000 tons dropped in March alone against Communist forces in Viet Nam.

Viet Troop Needs for '66 Listed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the rest of 1966, the United States will have to send approximately 165,000 troops to Viet Nam just to maintain the present strength of 255,000 men there.

This was indicated today in Pentagon answers to inquiries about the rate of replacement in Viet Nam. Figures thus far show that troops are already being sent at a rate of more than 22,000 a month.

The Army is bearing the heaviest manpower load and needs 14,000 replacements a month at the present level of troop strength. The Marines need 4,500 a month, the Air Force 2,000, and the Navy — in Viet Nam itself — fewer than 1,000.

Since the servicemen's tour of duty in Viet Nam is — and will remain — one year, the number of replacements needed in a given month normally is similar to the number sent to Viet Nam in the same month of the previous year.

But with casualties and other factors taken into consideration, the call for replacements this year is substantially exceeding last year's buildup.

NO CIRCUMSTANCES

Between June 1 and Dec. 31, 1965, U.S. forces in Viet Nam were increased by 130,000 men — from 51,000 to 181,000.

During the same seven months of 1966, about 155,000 replacements will be needed by these forces.

U.S. officials told newsmen recently that no circumstances could be envisioned which would prompt the Pentagon to lengthen the present 12-month tour of duty for troops in Viet Nam.

Four Airmen Die in Plane Crash

AMARILLO, Tex. (UPI) — Four airmen were killed last night in the explosion of a KC135 jet tanker during a landing at Amarillo Air Force Base.

The plane was returning from a four hour training flight. The crew, members of the 909th air refueling squadron, was not identified immediately. The squadron was being transferred to March AFB, Riverside, Calif., today.

The plane was approaching for a landing when a wing hit the ground and the craft exploded, said M. Sgt. Philip A. Horn, who witnessed the crash.

'Make Full Use of Human Resources' collar workers' line. We are not making full use of our human resources.

Some evidence to support this point of view comes from the Colorado State Department of Education which gathered data on 2400 high school dropouts. It found that 60 per cent of the dropouts were either average or above average in ability but were below average in scholastic achievement.

My answer is no — not if we search in the right places. More students must be trained for higher level jobs all along

Northeastern Will

Reopen Law School

BOSTON (AP) — Northeastern University has announced plans to reopen its law school, closed for the past 10 years.

More than $500,000 in gifts and pledges from the law school's alumni was received to start hiring a faculty and setting up a program of study. It will reopen in 1968.

These students are neither preparing for a white collar occupation nor for a blue collar job. They should be preparing for the highest occupation for which they have the ability.

But neither the student nor the parent is in a position to make a sound evaluation of the student's potential. The children underestimate and the parents overestimate.

INCREASE EFFORT

These findings correspond with other research on dropouts. Schools and society must increase their efforts to help these young people succeed since more than half have the native ability to be trained for those occupations for which there is greatest demand.

Although we are making more progress at the upper end of the scale of ability, there is still room for great improvement.

Project Talent reports that in the four year period of 1956-60, the percentage of boys from the top 30 per cent of high school seniors who immediately entered college rose from 58 per cent to 77 per cent.

We are missing out on one out of five boys with exceptional talent who could be trained for very high-level occupations.

GREAT BULK

Between the dropouts and the top-level groups is the great bulk of the often-neglected average students. Because their grades are reasonably acceptable and they cause their teachers no problems, they are allowed to continue on their way undisturbed.

If we wish to make better use of these untapped human resources, every student should be made aware of the type of training for which he has the capacity.

FIND OUT WHY

If a student is not working up to his potential, a counselor should find out why and inform both the student and his parents of the steps to be taken to remedy the situation.

These are ideals toward which educators should be striving.

Barry Exhorts Conservatives

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Johnson administration is en-Sen. Barry Goldwater sounded a gaged, "in a relentless drive for new call for conservatism Tuesday night and charged that the er."

The 1964 Republican presidential candidate urged conservatives to reaffirm traditional values and work against socialism. In what he called one of the most important speeches of his life, Goldwater addressed the Free Society Association, a conservative political education group that he founded last June. He is honorary chairman of the organization.

In attacking the Johnson administration, Goldwater warned that it threatens "to engulf American freedom. For all the folks benevolence emanating from Washington, the objective is control for purposes of political power."

1,000 IN ATTENDANCE

About 1,000 persons attending a $10-a-plate dinner gave the one-time Arizona legislator three standing ovations and resounding applause.

He reminded the crowd of his presidential campaign when he said he was tired of conservatives saying it is no longer worthwhile to fight.

"Let me tell you," Goldwater said, raising his voice and departing from his prepared text, "27 million people didn't think that two years ago."

He said the 1965 Congress took greater strides toward the socialization of America than in any comparable period in the history of our country, calling it "a dizzy, headlong plunge, accelerated by cries of 'emergency' and accomplished through an executive insistence upon consensus."

The meeting was the first of four regional fund-raising and membership sessions scheduled by the association.

Soap Factory Blast in Detroit Takes 2nd Life

DETROIT (AP) — Burns from an explosion in a Detroit soap factory have claimed a second life.

Sanford Ross, 32, of Dearborn, a vice president of Wayne Soap Co., died Monday night in University of Michigan Medical Center.

The blast at the soap plant May 10 earlier killed Joseph it "a dizzy, headlong plunge, accelerated by cries of 'emergency' and accomplished through an executive insistence upon consensus."

Senate Unit Votes Watchdogs on CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted yesterday to assign three of its members to the exclusive CIA panel. SERVED NOTICE

Both Russell and Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., chairman of the appropriations committee, have served notice they will try to have sidetracked the resolution before it can be brought to the floor.

Russell, who insists the proposal must obtain clearance from his own armed services committee, said a move will be made to send it to the Senate Rules Committee which is believed opposed to the resolution.

Despite these threatened roadblocks, McCarthy predicted "we will get action on the floor before the end of the session."

He pointed out that he modified several features of his measure to circumvent any parliamentary snarls.

McCarthy and Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the foreign relations group have agreed that their committee should have representation because the spy agency has on several occasions become deeply involved in the nation's foreign policy-making machinery.

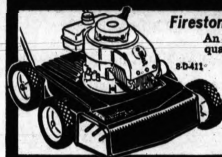

Griffin Duties Are Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., Tuesday was assigned to the Senate committees on labor and public welfare, and public works. Griffin took his Senate seat Monday. He was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

'M' Officials Ask Addition of $4 Million

LANSING (AP) — University of Michigan officials told a House committee Tuesday the school needs $4 million more than the Senate provided, part of it to help raise teachers' salaries by an average 8 per cent.

Michigan State University told the House House and Means Committee last week it needs a $1.7 million boost or it would have to consider a tuition increase.

In response to a legislator's question, Allan Smith, U. of M. vice president for academic affairs, said U. of M. would have to review student tuition and fees if the Legislature does not meet minimum needs of about $62 million.

Thus far, he said, no tuition increase has been discussed. The school raised tuition last year to a base rate of $348 a year for Michigan residents and $1,000 for out-of-state students.

NOT AGAIN

"We certainly don't want to raise it again," said Marvin Niehaus, U. of M. executive vice president. Meanwhile, Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, said he would introduce an amendment which, in effect, would prevent a state-supported college or university from raising tuition after the Legislature makes its appropriation.

Smith said faculty members received about an 8.7 per cent average pay increase last year. Another 8 per cent boost is needed, he said, just for U. of M. to be able to compete with other schools. It would cost $4.9 million.

Roadblock Snarls Michigan Escapee

POPULAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP)—An escapee from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson was captured Tuesday by Randolph County deputies at a roadblock on U.S. 47 in northern Arkansas. Jackie Allen, 25, who was serving time for escape, was returned to Poplar Bluff under arrest for investigation in the $77 burglary earlier Tuesday of a service station.

Police report Allen escaped from the Michigan prison April 22.

'Acquit' Automakers of Safety Guilt

The auto industry, currently the butt of irresponsible and political attack over the safety of its products, found unexpected but welcome support when members of the Oakland County Circuit Court rose in its defense.

Certainly no professional body is better qualified to pass on the question of human vs. mechanical responsibility for auto accidents than the judges who try the cases. Before them appears a continual parade of litigants whose claims embrace every conceivable aspect of property and personal damage related to automobile accidents. The testimony pro and con, given by laymen and experts, covers every detail of germane evidence.

The judges quoted last week unanimously agreed that their court experience was in direct variance with opinions being aired in Washington, particularly with the charges of Ralph Nader whose book "Unsafe at Any Speed" hit the depths of unreliable reporting.

A memorandum sent them by Judge ARTHUR E. MOORE asking what proportion of their auto accident cases involved mechanical defect elicited that in but three of the untold thousands of suits involving automobiles could the vehicle be considered at fault.

The conclusions of the judges were well summarized in one observation that "our manufacturers have given us safe cars, but they cannot give us safe drivers."

'Reporting For Duty, Sir!'

David Lawrence Says:

Proposal on the CIA Is Risky

WASHINGTON — There is more than meets the eye in the innocent-looking proposal to allow the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to add three members of its own to the "legislative oversight" committee of the Senate which, in a confidential LAWRENCE, keeps in touch with the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Just why, for instance, should the Senate Foreign Relations Committee wish to check up on the special committee now composed of a small group from the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committees?

The reason given by Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is that the people in the CIA "very greatly influence foreign policy."

On the surface, it might seem that the whole thing is merely a matter of procedure and that theoretically some representation from the Foreign Relations Committee along with members of the Appropriations Committee and the Armed Services Committee, would be logical.

But the truth is that the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency could be imperiled if members of the Senate who are primarily interested in arguing about foreign policy were entrusted with the secrets of the agency.

IT'S CUSTOMARY

It is customary for various senators every now and then to divulge things they have learned in confidence about domestic policy.

But with respect to what's going on in foreign countries, there has to be restraint. For if the information obtained by the CIA is dealt with casually and "leaked" to the press like domestic news, this could cause serious damage to American interests around the world.

The risks in changing the nature of the membership of the special committee that keeps in touch with the CIA are considerable.

The public knows hardly anything about the devious efforts of foreign governments to get data in Washington. They employ go-betweens who themselves may not know just who is behind the request for information that comes to them.

LONG EXPERIENCE

After long experience with the technique of keeping things really secret, the CIA has concluded that the fewer the people who know anything about the operation, the better in the long run.

Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia, chairman of the CIA "watchdog unit," thinks that overexposure of the CIA would make difficult the gathering of information, because it would cause many people to hesitate to help for fear of eventual reprisals if their identity became known.

Capital Letter:

Group Gives New Hope to Rehabilitated Ex-Cons

By RUTH MONTGOMERY WASHINGTON — A number of rehabilitated ex-convicts have formed an organization which, if successful, could have as far-reaching and beneficial results as Alcoholics Anonymous.

Only 6-weeks old, the association is called "Effect," because its initials are EEC. Its official name is Efforts for Ex-Convicts.

Among the founders are Rev. Griffin Smith, chairman; and Hiawatha Burris, an employment counselor with the poverty program's united planning organization here, who is the elected spokesman.

Both have served time, the Rev. Smith for armed robbery, and Burris for conspiracy (in a robbery) and receiving stolen goods.

The latter, now 33, became an ex-convict at the age of 19, but has a clear police record since, except for paying a fine 11 years ago after his arrest for trying to sell whisky to a police officer.

VOLUNTEER SERVICES

Having themselves made the difficult transition from convict to respected citizen, they have volunteered their services to help others find jobs and an accepted place in the community.

Although most of the members are Negroes, the organization has no racial overtones, and a number of whites have joined.

The basic purpose of Effect is to screen ex-convicts and certify their rehabilitation, so that in seeking employment they can say with pride, "I am a member of EEC."

Over 150 have met the rigid

The senator, in his speech to the Senate this week, said that the mere discussion of what appears to be a jurisdictional squabble "has a tendency to chill" some of the CIA informants even in the national capital.

It takes many years to develop contacts in foreign countries, where the CIA operates almost entirely.

To require the agency to reveal much of its information to members of the Senate who are themselves involved in foreign-policy controversies could result in a substantial drop in the efficiency of the organization.

'Traffic Light Is Needed at High Accident Corner'

How much pressure do the citizens of Commerce Township have to put on County and Township officials before they will spend some of our money on a lifesaving traffic light at the corner of Wise and Carroll Lake Roads?

As a frequent traveler of this area, I can see where a traffic light could make the difference between life and death. Must there be another fatal accident before the officials will forget about their traffic counters and look at concrete evidence that this corner is a must for a traffic light?

'Ribicoff Seeks to Destroy Our Economy'

Excerpts from an open letter to the Honorable Abraham Ribicoff:

"You persist in misuse of information given you in good faith to mislead the American public. Your continued attack was aimed at destroying the automotive industry and the economy of the country. One out of every seven employees depends on the automotive industry. Fifty per cent are employed in Michigan. Consequently, you are directly attacking the people and economy of Michigan."

"Our Democratic President and Democratic Congress are destined to go down in history as the greatest 'spenders' of all times... each trying to see who can find the most useless projects on which to lavish the taxpayers' money."

"In 1964, 16.4 per cent of all labor was in government—six people working in other endeavors had to support one government employee. In industry, we consider one supervisor per 25 employees entirely adequate. The most inefficient utilization of manpower known today is in government. Yet you, Congress and the President delight in setting up more and more inefficient, bungling, wasteful control agencies which merely magnify a dynasty that is about to run the American people into bankruptcy."

"You are dedicated to destroy the automobile industry and the economy of the country along with it. Read the headlines: 'GM CUTS PRODUCTION FIRST TIME IN FIVE YEARS' 'CORVETTE ONLY SELLING HALF AS MANY CARS AND PEOPLE WHO BUILD THEM ARE NOW ON 3-DAY WEEK' 'Your deliberate attempt to mislead the American public shows your concern for your country and the people who are supporting you and your family.'"

"What is wrong with your biased, bigoted, warped sense of responsibility? Don't you feel that you at least owe the American people the minimum in truth, honesty and integrity?"

Question and Answer

With all the noise about cleanup, how about the "public dump" on the corner of Walton Boulevard and Clintonville Road? The Health Department or Waterford Township Supervisors should have this mess cleaned up.

"DUMP" NEIGHBOR

REPLY

This should be taken care of shortly. Part of the mess is on private property and part on County road right-of-way. The owner says the County should clean it up, but the County says he "criticized it to be there" by posting a sign asking for full dumping, and therefore he must remove it. He has been given two notices to have it bulldozed, and shortly the County will issue a third notice, which means he must appear in court.

U.S. Meddling Bad Medicine for Health Research

The U.S. is a world leader in medical and health progress. Up to the present time, this was brought about by freedom of opportunity in the medical profession and pharmaceutical industry.

But both these roots of health progress are now being regimeted under political controls, paper work and restrictions. Only time will tell whether this will bring medical progress such as we have enjoyed in the past.

For example, there is now a bitter controversy over the rights to inventions following research and development financed, even in part, by the Federal government. A measure introduced in Congress would give the government exclusive rights to all such inventions. It would also provide for a Federal Inventions Administration to develop inventions and promote their use.

Such policies discourage private initiative and enterprise which risks vast sums on research to develop the new drugs that make possible our remarkable medical progress.

If it is denied the drug industry, the people may have political doctors to thank for some life-saving drug that hasn't materialized to cure disease not yet conquered.

Why must the lawmakers discourage rather than encourage research and incentive? It is dangerous business when the public health is at stake.

Viet Seethes; U.S. Crosses Fingers

By JAMES MARLOW WASHINGTON — A country with a fever. The one certainty about South Vietnam is its uncertainty, no matter how optimistic the Johnson administration sounds about it.

There had to be a showdown between the military government and the Buddhists who want to topple it while the United States is busy trying to defend it against the Communists.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who met with President Johnson in Honolulu last February, forced the showdown over the weekend when troops loyal to him seized Viet Nam's second largest city, Da Nang, a Buddhist stronghold.

This could mean civil war, and a bloody one.

The Johnson administration appeared deeply disturbed and said it had no foreknowledge of Ky's action. Johnson met repeatedly with his top aides. Then late Monday a high U.S. official said he doubted there would be a civil war.

He would not let his name be used but met with newsmen after a late Monday conference between Johnson and his aides, including Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam.

LIMITED OPTIMISM

But this official's optimism turned out to be limited.

MARLOW

While he didn't expect war now, he said he foresaw a long period of instability — while the United States was still trying to keep out the Communists — but hopefully thought this might evolve into stability.

And this gets back to a basic question: If no civil war now, what about later? The country has been more or less chaotic for years. While Ky may get away with his showdown now, no one can predict there won't be a blood bath eventually.

The South Vietnamese have never had democracy. Their concern, as they have demonstrated it, has never been so much for the national interest as for the interest of special groups.

LESS REASON TO STAY

The more chaotic Viet Nam becomes, the less reason the United States can have before the world for keeping its forces there to defend against communism a people who meanwhile make war on themselves.

If under such circumstances the United States had to pull out, it would be an international embarrassment for the United States without parallel in its history.

No wonder the Johnson administration keeps hoping things will turn out all right. Perhaps Ky will be able to perform such a miracle. He will be the only one in contemporary Vietnamese history who did.

And at this moment anyone trying to look at the whole situation objectively has to keep his fingers crossed.

Looks Like Spring

The Holland Evening Sentinel

Spring is a little late this year so that no doubt when we really do have warmer weather there will be many more people driving on the streets, roads and highways. Every session of the Legislature there are more and more bills introduced concerning the problems we all face today with traffic safety.

The State Chamber has placed traffic safety high on the list. They list four primary areas with which the State Chamber is concerned:

1. Periodic motor vehicle inspection;
2. Improved driver education;
3. State centralization and control of driver licensing;
4. Impaired consent for chemical tests

when drivers are suspected of drinking.

The Chamber believes that bills to implement these four primary objectives would serve the State of Michigan to the best advantage. Every session of the Legislature finds more and more bills concerning Traffic Safety.

It is time that the recommendations of the Governor, the Secretary of State and agricultural, labor and business leaders are acted upon. What happened to the thorough study and research under the leadership of the blue ribbon committee supported by the Governor two years ago? We think it would need prompt action that would help everyone to better understand that safety on the highway is important to everyone.

"That's the real danger, that they (the House Commerce Committee, studying automobile safety) will come up with a bill to indicate that the automobile is the principal cause. It's not the automobile that causes these accidents. It's things like drunk driving, bad street markings, poor road conditions, and careless driving."

Abby's Readers Comment on Correct Addressing of Man

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
 DEAR ABBY: You let me down. You quoted Amy Vanderbilt as saying that when a secretary addresses a male visitor of her boss, if he is of the "same distinguished mien" as her boss, she should address him as "sir." If she doesn't know his name. But she should never address a delivery boy as "sir." How could you let her get away with such snobbishness? I know some delivery boys who are deserving of far more respect than some of the "distinguished" characters who visit my boss.

ABBY

males whose names they do not know as "sir." And we should allow them to live in blissful ignorance unaware of the social errors they have committed.

A COUNTRY GIRL

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would pass this on to your good friend, Amy (Vanderbilt, that is), to whom you referred as the "Supreme Court of Etiquette": I quit looking at etiquette books years ago when I realized they did nothing but perpetuate a lot of stupid, snobbish, archaic rules of so-called "socially acceptable behavior."

Who on earth cares which fork is used for the salad as long as it gets the salad to one's mouth without soiling the tablecloth? And if I reply in the affirmative to a wedding invitation, who is to say that I have replied "improperly" unless I use the ridiculous third person form; for example:

"Mr. Clifton DeWitt Flushfuler accepts with pleasure Dr. and Mrs. Hackenbush's kind invitation for Tuesday, the 10th of April at noon"

I think it's high time someone rewrite the book of etiquette, and based it on common sense and courtesy. As it stands, it's a three-hundred-year-old joke!

Troubled? Write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

* NO SNOB IN L. A.

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary, and I call all males who come into this office "sir," if I do not know their names. I don't care if he's a delivery boy or a corporation president. I treat every man as though he were a gentleman unless I find out he isn't.

You can't tell anything about a man by the way he's dressed, either.

I have known well-dressed men to be foul-mouthed and vulgar. And some of the shabbily-dressed are kind, courteous and considerate, which makes them gentlemen in my book.

Perhaps I am not up on my etiquette, but I don't consider myself any less a lady for it.

MR. ERLICH'S SECRETARY

DEAR ABBY: I hope you don't go along with Amy Vanderbilt's dictum that a lady NEVER uses, "sir," alone to attract a man's attention? If so, how do you suggest one gains the attention of a clerk who is standing several yards away with his back toward her?

Is she supposed to shout, "HEY, YOU!" Or perhaps, "MISTER!" I think one should address all Caught in a Trap: She Can't Say 'No'

By GAY PAULEY
 UPI Women's Editor
 CINCINNATI, Ohio — Helen Hokinson cartooned her. Other observers have lampooned her, caricatured her, scolded her, derided her.

But she goes merrily on, as much a part of Americana as the orchids she wears, often upside down; to the annual dinners.

She is the clubwoman, the committeewoman, the joiner, who ignores the often satirical portrait of her and continues her good works—sponsoring worthy causes, raising funds, pushing others into civic projects, taking political stands on what she believes.

Here in this metropolis on the beautiful Ohio for a speech at the annual dinner of Theta Sigma Phi, the professional organization for women in communications, I came across a wonderful commentary on today's committeewoman or the joiner. Margaret Weaver, with an assist from a reader, wrote the commentary.

EDITOR
 Mrs. Weaver is society editor of the Cincinnati Post & Times-Star, and writes "The Social Scene" column. She observed that "whenever two or three women are gathered together, they form a committee. This becomes an auxiliary which nominates, elects, sponsors causes, raises money and spawns more committees, all headed by co-chairmen."

But she came up with a way out for a woman who can't get "off the organization carousel!" In a poem submitted to her by Mrs. Robert P. Curry, a reader, who did not identify the author.

With Mrs. Weaver's permission, I quote the poem "You Talked Mama Into It," from her column:

This is the year that I resolved,
 When anyone called, to stay uninvolved.
 To decline politely — be hard of heart — stay out of everything. Take no part.
 But Community Chest was Ellen's request.

She's helped me the year before.
 I tried an appeal, then I called Lucille,
 and maybe a dozen more.
 Jane's exchange was that I'd arrange to help her with March of Dimes.

 Ruth said "Fine," if I'd be in the line at Red Cross collecting time.
 Lucille's a wheel in the PTA and the trade she made is dear.

 Before she's yessed' on Community Chest,
 I had promised to serve next year.

If you haven't a baby two weeks old, or an ally that's a beautiful—Housemaid's knee or some rare disease—baby, you're a recruit!
 And the awful hold that the feminine fold can use on each other is fear you may be the cluck who gets beautifully stuck, in charge of the thing next year."

New Sun Lotion League Schedules Breakfast Really Protects in Clubhouse on Sunday

A sunscreen lotion that really works will soon be for sale, says Chemical Week. Unlike the present conglomeration of sprays and creams, it won't wash or rub off and it isn't greasy.

Sunbathers treated with the lotion withstood an hour of strong summer sunlight without noticeable reddening as their skin tanned.

Clearing Up Some Matters on Army Pay

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

There seems to be some confusion on the part of parents of servicemen as to how much — and how — deductions for send-home money and Savings Bonds may be made from Army pay. I think I may have contributed to some of this because of a recent statement in this column that "The Army isn't going to FEELEY budget the paychecks."

By this I simply meant that the Army isn't going to arbitrarily withhold any sum — with the exception of taxes. Any deductions the serviceman wants taken out of his pay, to be sent home or to buy insurance or Savings Bonds, or whatever, is a personal decision on his part. No military authority is going to tell him how much he should send home or how much he should save.

In fact, he can arrange to have part of his pay sent to a bank if he wants to establish, or keep up, a savings or checking account.

It's heartening to hear from a mother like Mrs. A. S. of Lansing, Illinois, who sees her son's service period as an opportunity to get a foothold on civilian life when he comes out of the Army. She writes:

"When our son enlisted he was told that we were not going to subsidize him, send him food because the armychow might not be so good, and that he had better save some part of his pay to pay for the car he would need to get a job and a wardrobe."

"It was impressed on him that there never is enough money. Also, the sooner he learns this the better. Someday the check he brings home will not only have to cover his expenses but those of a wife and a few kids."

"He voluntarily signed up for $25 to be taken out of his pay each month. The $100 Savings Bonds come to the house which creates no temptation for him."

"Father of Three Sons" in Somerville, N.J., writes to say that "Savings Bonds can be issued in the serviceman's name with either parent named as co-owner, and the bonds will automatically be mailed to the serviceman's home address. Two of my sons did this. With the interest due to be raised on these Series E bonds, they are an excellent means of savings for the serviceman."

I agree. However, a mother in the Midwest reminds families of servicemen that the tax bite hits the army just as it does the rest of us:

"Most people who are not familiar with army pay," she writes, "don't know that taxes are taken out of the serviceman's pay, so that his check is much smaller than might be expected. I know I was disappointed to find this out."

So it behooves the serviceman's family to remember that he may not be spending his free time wondering what to do with his "surplus" money! For example, when Federal and Social Security taxes are deducted from the base pay of $87.90, taking one exemption, the serviceman has about $7.91 taken out of his pay.

For a base pay of $83.90 with one exemption, the taxes amount to $9.34 a month. So while a savings plan is certainly to be encouraged, the family back home shouldn't expect miracles.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of wide interest will be answered in her column.)

Applications Being Taken

Elect Mrs. Upton

Mrs. Jack Upton was elected senior regent of the Pontiac Women of the Moose No. 360 at a recent meeting.

Others named to office were: Mrs. James Jones, junior regent; Mrs. Robert Burns, chaplain; Mrs. Charles Schmidt, recorder; and Mrs. Morton Brown, treasurer.

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

Please tell me how to apply a zipper instead of the buttons, as all patterns show, in the back of an over blouse. Do I have to add more of a seam allowance?

Mrs. Wm. K.

Dear Mrs. W. K.:

All you need to remember is that the center back is clearly marked on your pattern. Instead of using this as a guide for your buttonholes, close the back on the center back marks and insert the zipper—simple as that!

Many of you have asked the following questions concerning sleeves: How do you make a sleeveless dress out of a pattern that is shown with sleeves? How do you make a square armhole for a sleeveless dress? How do you add a slight cap sleeve to a sleeveless pattern?

Follow the instructions and sketches below carefully for the answers that you'll need for summer clothes.

● To make a sleeveless dress out of a pattern with sleeves cut the armhole about one-half inch higher at the underarm curve of the armhole and taper to nothing at the front and back notches. It may also be necessary to take the bodice in slightly at the underarm. You must avoid a large gaping armhole.

● To make the armhole square (very new look) for SLEEVELESS bodices extend a straight line out from the underarm. Draw a straight line (at right angles) down from the notch of the armhole to cross the first line. This can be done at the front of the sleeve only, or if you prefer, front and back. Use the outline of the exact new armhole when cutting the facing.

● To make a slightly capped armhole from a sleeveless pattern make the shoulder seam one-half inch higher at the armhole. Extend a line from neck edge to the distance you wish the sleeve cap to extend. Extend the outer edge of the armhole in a curve to a point about one inch below the normal underarm at the side seam. Do the same in back. There are other variations of a cap sleeve and they may be attained by using the method and drawing different style lines.

Negro Vote Brings New Era to South

Executive Director,
National Urban League

An 81-year-old man, the grandchild of slaves, recently emerged from a Lowndes County, Ala., voting booth after casting his ballot and said: "It felt good to me... It made me think I was sort of somebody."

And he is a young somebody. He is an American citizen exercising the most precious right of a free man, the right to elect public officials who will represent him and be responsible to him. This is a right few people have in this world, and it is a right long denied Negro citizens in the Deep South. So this man is really "a somebody," he is someone who took part in the making of history.

For that is the significance of the surge in Negro voting in the South that is taking place this spring.

Who wins or loses is of transient importance, what is of lasting importance is that thanks to the Voting Rights Law of 1965, the steadfastness of the present administration and the determination of the federal registrars who registered Negroes, and the courage of thousands of Deep South Negroes, democracy is no longer a stranger to parts of America.

Although Alabama's governor or governor-elect, as the case may be, won the Democratic Primary, Negroes made substantial gains. Some Negro candidates made excellent showings, either winning local posts or forcing segregationists into runoff.

They showed their political muscle and the potential which exists for informed leadership and the kind of power at the polls which wins concessions from politicians.

Some of these concessions became apparent during the election race. Pictures in national newspapers showed a segregationist candidate putting some coins in civil-rights group's collection plate at a rally.

SELMA SHERIFF

The racist sheriff of Selma, took off his "Never" button and tempered his remarks concerning Negroes. Even Governor and Mrs. Wallace finally exhibited enough mastery of the English language to at long last pronounce the "e" in "Negro."

But the influence on white Southern politicians was even more profound. The hundreds of thousands of Negro voters added to the rolls since last August have given new hope to Southern moderates and have encouraged the professional politicians in the South to rethink previous positions.

One Arkansas mayor was quoted as saying: "A man is a damn fool if he thinks he can be in politics now and not pay any attention to them (Negroes)."

He doesn't like it, but he will have to accommodate his campaign and his attitudes to this new vote.

MODERATES BACK

All over the South, respectable white moderates who either abdicated their responsibility in the violent racist aura of the early 1950s or who were defeated for office, are again back in public life.

Thus, the "Second Reconstruction" is taking root in the South. Negroes voted in all Southern states in the decade following the Civil War, and some also served as governors and legislators.

These governments were responsible for such steps as free public education and other important social legislation. Negroes played a lesser role in the years following 1877 but they still voted and managed to make their cause heard.

With the coming of "white supremacy" in the 1890s and the enactment of Jim Crow laws, they lost their rights until the passage of the recent civil rights laws.

That Alabama may once again have a racist governor is of transient importance. The racists have had their day and will eventually be swept away by the tide of history.

The real triumph in the Alabama primary lies in the participation of thousands who never before were allowed to exercise their constitutional rights and in the precedent-setting election of some Negroes to local and state offices.

Auto Crash Victims

Had Alcohol in Blood

CHICAGO (AP) — An analysis of the blood of persons who died in auto crashes during the first three months of 1966 in Illinois shows that half of them had been drinking.

The survey said also that half of those with alcohol in their blood were intoxicated under the legal definition.

China Says Photos Proof of Intrusion

TOKYO (UPI) — The Chinese Communists today distributed photographs of what they claimed were parts of U.S. warplanes jetted over China during a purported aerial dogfight in which a Chinese jet was shot down.

The photographs, released by the Communist New China News Agency, were offered as proof of a Peking charge that five U.S. jets intruded over mainland China last Thursday and downed a Chinese MIG 17 with missiles. The United States has denied Peking's charge.

One of the pictures showed a jet fuel tank with enough landscape in the background to indicate the picture was taken on the Chinese mainland.

Another picture was a close-up shot of what was said to be the remains of a Sidewinder missile.

However, it would be impossible to tell from the photographs whether the debris actually fell near Makwan in Yunnan Province, 25 miles from the border of North Viet Nam, where Peking claims their plane was shot down. The pieces shown were small enough to be easily transported.

STATEMENT DISPUTED

The Chinese yesterday attacked a statement by American authorities in Saigon that the incident took place over North Viet Nam about 50 miles south of the Chinese border.

Peking said the attack occurred well within its border.

New China News Agency, in a statement, said that "in the face of these irrefutable bits of evidence, U.S. imperialism cannot, try as it might, deny its crime of deliberately setting itself counter to the Chinese people and making this grave war provocation against them."

The official Peking agency said the incident was "definitely not accidental" and came at a time when the United States was increasing its war effort in Viet Nam and "threatening China with war."

School Plan Gains Support

Avondale to Vote on $3.1 Million Proposal

The Avondale Board of Education has been getting numerous pledges of support from all segments of the community for its proposed $3.1 million building program to be voted on June 13.

The Avondale Education Association Monday night sent a letter of support and commended the board on its "united effort" to improve the educational facilities.

The proposal has also been endorsed by the PTA Council, the local PTA's, the Rotary Club and several churches in the community.

"We're very pleased with the response and the good citizen support we're getting," said Schools Supt. John Dickey.

On June 13, the board is seeking approval of a $3.1 million bond issue and renewal of 3.9 operating mills. The bond issue money will provide a new elementary school, a new high school, renovations to several schools, new school sites and instructional materials centers at all elementary schools.

CONTRACTS LET

In other action Monday night, the board awarded contracts to low bidders on three projects.

A contract for $14,132 for blacktopping at the four elementary schools went to Pontiac Asphalt Co. George Protas Electrical Co., Birmingham, received a contract for $9,884 for repair of electrical fixtures at Auburn Heights Elementary School.

Bryan French Co. of Pontiac was awarded a contract for $874 for fire damper doors on cold air registers.

All noncertificated employees of the school district will vote on a bargaining representative May 25 at Avondale Junior High School.

Local 23 of the International Union of American Federalists of State, County and Municipal Employees is seeking to represent the employees.

Bad Weather Doesn't Stop Record Crowds at Area Parks

Despite miserable weather, park attendance at the four major parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority was greater this April than in April of 1965, with two of the parks reporting record-breaking attendance.

Attendance reports for January through April were greater than in 1965 at all parks.

Kensington Metropolitan Park, near Milford, reported an all-time high of over 121,000 during April this year compared to 98,000 in 1965.

Attendance for the four-month period of January through April reached a record 452,000, compared to 299,000 last year and a previous high of 354,000 for the same period of 1964.

Estate Rezoning Is Opposed

AVON TOWNSHIP — Denial of rezoning requests for a shopping center and a 10-acre multiple dwelling unit, both on the Howard L. McGregor estate, was recommended last night by the Regional Planning Commission.

At the same time, the commission recommended approval of the rezoning of several other parcels of land on the estate to residential and multiple dwellings.

The rezoning request was made by Slavik Builders, Inc., of Oak Park, who want to develop the 47-acre estate into a nine-hole golf course, an apartment complex, a shopping center and a residential section.

The shopping center was recommended for disapproval because "it is too big to be so near the main shopping district" in Rochester.

Rezoning of 10 acres on Livernois from general farm to multiple dwelling was denied because it is directly across from a residential area.

TOO SMALL

Also recommended for denial was rezoning of 133 acres in the township to a small-lot residential area. Commissioners said the 11,500 square feet requirement was too small.

Recommended for approval was rezoning of 14 acres on Walton at Ludlow from multiple dwelling to office space; 34 acres within the village from single family to multiple; 17 acres in the township from general farm to multiple dwelling; 106 acres west of Livernois from Tienken to Heartpeace Hills subdivision to residential.

Others recommended for approval were three acres west of Livernois at the corner of Tienken which will be set aside for a church, and two acres in the village from residential to multiple dwelling.

The request will go to the Township Zoning Board next night.

Farmington Twp. Dem Club Won't Back Incorporation

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — The Farmington Democratic Club has taken a position against the proposed incorporation of the township into a city. The club's position on the issue is based on a lengthy study of advantages and disadvantages which would result from incorporation, according to chairman Aldo Vagnozzi.

An incorporation vote is scheduled in the township June 6.

Vagnozzi said "major reasons for the club's opposition to incorporation are as follows:

• The move is premature in view of the fact that Farmington Township is less than one-third built up.

CITE SERVICES

The proposed city would have to assume costly services to sparsely settled and uninhabited areas.

• The township is presently in an unfavorable tax position.

Residents have had substantial tax increases in recent years and face a further boost in assessments from the present 22 per cent of value to 50 per cent as required in the revised state constitution.

• Proponents of incorporation have failed to make a positive case for adopting cityhood at this time, relying almost entirely on the negative approach that such a step is needed to prevent annexation of township lands.

Such a negative approach would prove a handicap to the development of a good community in that the proposed city would have been created on the basis of an alleged crisis rather than a positive need, according to Vagnozzi.

IMPARTIAL STUDY

• Township officials who filed the incorporation petition failed to carry out a pledge to conduct an impartial study of the issue.

Many of the same people who circulated the incorporation petitions were named to pass judgment on whether that action was in the best interest of the township, Vagnozzi said.

• Refusal of township officials to consider possible consolidation with the city of Farmington has deprived the citizens of an opportunity to determine if such a consolidation could result in tax savings through the elimination of duplicate services.

Vagnozzi said that while the Democratic organization realizes this issue is not one that can be approached on partisan lines, it feels an obligation to the citizens to take a stand.

IN SUPPORT

"We have supported such non-partisan programs calling for improved schools, expanded library facilities, greater safety and communitywide recreation," Vagnozzi said.

"Our close contact with Democratic voters places on us an obligation to take such positions for an improved community."

"We would hope that the Farmington Township Republican organization would likewise give the citizens the benefit of its stand on this vital issue of incorporation."

Expert on Local Governments Will Discuss Cityhood Issue

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Joseph A. Parisi Jr., executive director of the Michigan Townships Association, will address Tuesday's meeting of the Committee for the Preservation of Farmington Township.

The special cityhood election meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at North Farmington High School, 32900 W. 13 Mile.

Parisi is considered one of the country's best-informed authorities on township government.

His subject will be, "Incorporation — some facts, pro and con."

Parisi has served on numerous national, state and local government committees, some of which he was appointed to by the President.

Books he has written on

Party Is Scheduled by Church Society

The Rosary Altar Society of Sacred Heart Church of Auburn Heights will hold a luncheon and card party at 11:30 a.m. Friday. The party will be held in the school hall.

Township government have sold 50,000 copies.

"We are fortunate to get Mr. Parisi to speak to us," said Wendell Brown, president of the committee. "His national reputation has created a terrific demand for his services as a speaker."

"Every voter in our township owes it to himself to hear what the speaker has to say."

Township voters will go to the polls June 6 to decide the fate of an incorporation proposal.

Upset in Dem Race for Governor

Pennsylvania Returns

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrat Milton Sharp and Republican Raymond P. Shafer were nominated for governor of Pennsylvania Tuesday in a primary that also saw the late Walter E. Allensandro easily win the GOP nomination for lieutenant governor.

Shapp, 53, who parlayed $500 into a multimillion-dollar electronics business, scored a narrow upset victory over the man backed by most Democratic leaders in the state — State Sen. Robert P. Casey of Scranton.

Shaffer, 49, a Yale man who commanded the PT boat that returned Gen. Douglas MacArthur to the Philippines in World War II, won easily — as expected — over Harold E. Stassen, the onetime Minnesota governor, and dentist George Brett. Shaffer rolled up better than a 3-1 margin over their combined totals.

Shaffer's victory was of particular significance to Gov. William W. Scranton, who is ineligible to succeed himself. If Scranton has 1968 presidential aspirations, as most Pennsylvanians believe he has, he would need a Republican administration in Pennsylvania as a campaign base.

Both parties nominated a Negro for statewide office for the first time: Democrat Juanita Kidd Stout and Republican Theodore O. Spaulding. They seek a 10-year term on Superior Court, the state's second highest tribunal.

Shapp, the first Jew ever nominated by a major party for governor in this state, carried most of the 67 counties. He lacked Barry Goldwater, spent money lavishly in his campaign.

Casey, a Roman Catholic who had predicted he would win by 200,000, is a 34-year-old lawyer who hoped to be the second youngest man ever nominated for governor. Shapp had yielded to party regulars when refused the endorsement for U.S. Senate two years previously.

Returns from 8,568 of 9,393 precincts gave Shapp 473,135 to 444,576 for Casey and 76,708 for State Rep. Erwin Murray.

The same precincts gave Shaffer 73,832 to 160,166 for Stassen and 59,156 for Brett.

In 8,223 precincts, Allensandro polled 561,317 to 325,903 for Blair Gunther, an Allegheny County commissioner who lost to Barry Goldwater against Scranton for president in 1964.

Moyers Sends Regrets to Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers has told the Southern Baptist Convention he expects to be out of the country and cannot be in Detroit May 25 to accept the organization's "Distinguished Communicator's Award."

Dr. Paul M. Stevens, convention director, said the plaque and citation would be presented to Moyers "at a suitable time" later.

Stevens said Moyers did not disclose where he was going. There have been reports Moyers planned to visit Viet Nam.

3rd Dead in Union Fund Quiz

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A third man connected with a painters' union half-million-dollar welfare fund was found shot to death Tuesday night in his office.

Li. Bud Warner of the Sacramento County Sheriff's Office said Sture Youngren, 55, was shot in the head with a 45-caliber automatic pistol in an apparent suicide.

Youngren, an insurance man, was the administrator of the fund for the AFL-CIO Painters Union Local 478.

Two labor leaders who questioned the way the fund was handled were slain previously. Five men have been indicted by the San Francisco grand jury in one of those assassinations.

Assassinated were Dow Wilson, 40, leader of the union's San Francisco Local 4, and probe into whether money had been embezzled from the fund.

Wilson was shot down outside the San Francisco Labor Temple April 5. Murder indictments have been returned against five men, two of them employer trustees for the fund and another the fund's auditor. Police say they are still looking for the triggerman.

The bearded Wilson had worked with the Sacramento local and clashed with the two employer trustees at labor contract negotiations.

Youngren's body was found in his insurance office at suburban Carmichael by a Sacramento County district attorney's investigator. He had failed to appear for a meeting at the district attorney's office for a

Kowalski Hits Romney on Tax

LANSING (AP) — House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, blasted back at Gov. George Romney Tuesday over veterans property taxes but did not say whether legislation for the 1966 tax year would be forth coming.

Republican Romney wrote all legislators Tuesday that any tax bill to be effective this year had to be passed this week.

He and legislative Democrats have been feuding for nearly a year over how big a property tax exemption disabled veterans and widows of veterans should receive.

Kowalski said one series of negotiations operating under an April 15 deadline had almost succeeded.

"In view of your frequent readjustments of deadlines for passage of veterans' exemption legislation, you should understand my reluctance to accept at face value your most recent 'last date' statement," he said. Democrats have backed a plan to give disabled veterans and widows a property tax exemption on the first $3,500 of state-equalized valuation of their homestead. They now receive a $2,000 exemption.

Runney has proposed giving disabled veterans $3,500 and widows $2,500 this year, then in the future giving veterans anywhere from $3,500 to $4,500, depending on their amount of disability.

Soapy: Safety Mandate for Car Firms

JACKSON (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, candidate for Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, said Tuesday the auto industry has a mandate from the public "to move rapidly ahead in adding new safety equipment to all of its cars."

But Williams, advocating "balanced progress" in auto safety, said "if we let the current emphasis on automobile safety design mislead us into son business and professional thinking that changes in the car itself can solve the problem of deaths and injury on our highways, we will have deluded ourselves."

"If we talk only about the cars and not about the people who drive those cars and the highways they drive on, we will continue to mourn."

Williams told a group of Jackson business and professional men that Michigan had progressed in reducing highway fatalities during his terms as governor. He said "this record of improvement has not been maintained."

Tornadoes Strike

Thunderstorms Hit Midwest, South

By The Associated Press
Severe thunderstorms broke across a broad belt in the Midwest and South during the night and early today, with storm warnings in effect for nine states.

Tornadoes struck small communities and rural areas in parts of Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Illinois but there were no reports of serious injuries or heavy property damage. Violent wind and thunderstorms lashed across many parts of Missouri, Arkansas and Illinois. Severe storms also hit sections of Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

The storms in the Midwest spread eastward along a cold front that extends from Wisconsin to northern Texas. Cool air moved southward from the Northwest and north-central states and frost and freeze warnings were posted for sections of the northern Rockies.

But warm, summer-like weather prevailed across the southern half of states. Temperatures in some Texas cities hit above 100 degrees again Tuesday.

Malaysia Eyes Peace Talks

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—The Malaysian Cabinet announced today that it is ready to open peace talks immediately with Indonesia's new government.

The Cabinet proposed that Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak meet with Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik "to make use of the present favorable and hopeful atmosphere."

The Malaysian announcement was in response to recent Indonesian peace feelers and reports from Jakarta that the government there was ready for a foreign ministers' meeting to discuss ways to end the three-year undeclared war between the two countries.

Spices and Yogurt Mixture Coats Chicken Pieces

It's a well-known fact that countries nearer the equator serve more pungently spiced foods.

People who've grown up in places like India, Brazil or Indonesia, offer several explanations for this predilection: "Spices such as red pepper and cayenne grow best in tropic heat. People usually eat what grows close at hand — we've loved good, nippy seasoning since childhood!"

Says a native of the Far East, "Of course our foods just wouldn't taste right without a good bit of red pepper. Another thing — eating a 'hot' dish promotes perspiration which is the body's cooling system."

In our temperate United States we find a growing yen for pungent red pepper and cayenne. People who have settled here from other lands have brought this taste with them. Foreign travel, foreign foods in big-city restaurants, books of exotic recipes have all contributed to our appetite for smartly spiced dishes.

Perhaps the most important fact of all is that Americans have learned how a discreet use of red pepper will do wonders for so many dishes without making them fiery.

Today it makes little difference to the cook whether her spice container reads "red pepper" or "cayenne" (or both) because either title signifies a very hot pepper product. Used with restraint, ground red pepper (or cayenne) will add exciting flavor to meats, sauces, eggs, fish and vegetables.

In the tiny amounts called for in recipes, ground red pepper and cayenne may be used interchangeably.

Exotic Indian Chicken
 1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
 1 teaspoon water
 1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper
 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

1/2 teaspoon ground cardamom seed
 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

1/2 teaspoon ground cumin seed
 1 teaspoon curry powder
 1/2 teaspoon instant garlic powder

1 tablespoon salt
 1/2 cup cider vinegar
 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 1 pint yogurt

2 (3 lb. each) ready-to-cook chicken cut in serving pieces

1/2 cup salad or olive oil

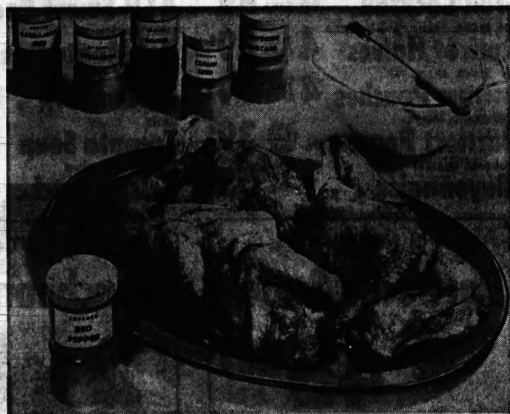

In a small bowl combine powdered mustard and water; let stand 10 minutes for flavor to develop. Add next 10 ingredients and mix well. Blend in yogurt.

Place chicken in a large bowl; pour seasoned yogurt mixture over chicken, turning pieces to coat evenly. Cover and refrigerate 12 hours or overnight.

Heat oil in a large skillet; add chicken pieces and cook until lightly browned on all sides; add more oil if necessary. Place chicken in a shallow baking dish or casserole. Top with remaining yogurt mixture.

Bake, uncovered, in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees) about 1 1/2 hours or until chicken is tender. Baste frequently and if necessary brush with additional oil. Serve hot with rice. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

EXOTIC INDIAN CHICKEN—A variety of spices, including red pepper, is blended into yogurt. Chicken pieces stand in the mixture, then are browned and baked. Serve it with rice for a truly different meal.

Iceberg Lettuce Is Most Useful Kind

Western iceberg lettuce is the most suitable variety for shredding and chopping because of its crispness.

To shred, cut lettuce lengthwise into halves, place cut-sides down on board and cut with sharp knife across heart. To chop, cut across shredded strips.

Toss shredded iceberg with ripe olive wedges, sliced radishes or chopped apple and real mayonnaise to moisten for a springtime cole slaw.

Heap chopped lettuce as a gay garnish in the center of gelatin ring salads. Give bright color to meat and salmon loaves by sprinkling chopped iceberg on top.

This spread is brand new.
 It tastes exactly like peanut butter and bacon... but there's no bacon in it.

Until now, when you wanted a peanut butter and bacon sandwich you had to fry the bacon until it crisped, drain off the fat, blot up excess drippings with paper towels, crumble the bacon in a mixing bowl, and add a generous amount of Skippy® Peanut Butter. Then you got a large spoon and stirred until it was well mixed and reasonably easy to spread.

Skippy has changed all that. New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has taken the work and the mess and the cleaning-up out of making a peanut butter and bacon sandwich.

Try some and Skippy will send you 25 cents in cash!

We're so sure you'll like the exciting taste of new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps that we'll send you 25 cents in cash for just buying a jar—any size!

Simply send the label from a jar of Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps, and the coupon provided here to Skippy Smoky Crisps, Box 57A Brooklyn, New York 11202. By return mail, Skippy will send you 25 cents in cash.

This offer is limited to one cash return per family.

New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has all the crunch, crackle and old-fashioned smokehouse flavor of bacon. But instead of bacon, Skippy has created little crisps of vegetable protein with remarkably true bacon flavor. These, mixed with Skippy, make a tasty spread—perfect for snacks, canapes, and sandwiches, even on meatless days.

So, for all you people who like the taste of a bacon and Skippy sandwich, try them together in new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps.

SKIPPY SMOKY CRISPS Box 57A Brooklyn, N.Y. 11202 Dear Skippy Here's the label from my first jar of Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps. The spread is so different and delicious, we'll be needing another jar very soon. So, better hurry and send me my 25 cents. THE PONTIAC MALL

what is the definition of a private brand?

To some people, it is a retailer's own brand created with selling price first in importance and quality second.

To us at A&P, it's the opposite. Quality comes first.

Value...the best for the least is the rule for our private brands.

If this wasn't true, how foolish we'd be to invest, as we have, literally millions of dollars in processing plants and testing laboratories.

If all we wanted were products we could sell cheaply without quality control, anybody could produce them for us.

The idea of quality private brands isn't new at A&P.

As a matter of fact, it's one of our oldest policies—and by golly, we're proud of it.

Are A&P Private Brands a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

Use Michigan Grown Foods This Week

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Today is livelihood day of Michigan Week and one of the industries to be saluted is agriculture. Michigan has a wealth of food products and you can get an entire meal, with the exception of coffee, using nothing but Michigan grown foods.

Michigan is first in the nation in producing dry edible beans, cucumbers for pickles and hot-house rhubarb. Let's look at some new recipes using them.

Most of the dry beans go to big canners and return to us in the form of baked beans.

An interesting way of serving them is in tomato shells.

BEANS IN THE ROUND

6 firm medium-size tomatoes
Salt and pepper
6 slices bacon, diced
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 can (1 pound) vegetarian beans in tomato sauce, drained
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Cut slice from stem end of each tomato; scoop out pulp, leaving at least a ¼" wall. Drain pulp well and chop. Sprinkle tomato shells with salt and pepper; invert and drain well.

Fry bacon until crisp; drain, reserving 3 tablespoons drippings. Sauté green pepper in these drippings until tender; combine with beans, salt, pepper, tomato pulp and bacon.

Fill tomato shells with bean mixture and arrange in baking dish (10"x6"x1½"). Bake 25-30 minutes or until tomatoes are tender. Makes 6 servings (approximately 3 cups beans mixture).

ASPARAGUS VINAIGRETTE

2 good foods — fresh asparagus and Michigan pickles.

ASPARAGUS VINAIGRETTE

¼ cup chopped sweet gherkins
1 teaspoon chopped chives
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
¼ cup olive or salad oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons sweet pickle liquid
1 pound fresh asparagus, spears, cooked and drained
Canned pimiento strips

Mix together gherkins, chives, salt, pepper, oil, vinegar and pickle liquid; pour over asparagus in shallow dish. Cover and chill. Garnish with pimiento, as desired. Makes 4 servings.

desired. Makes 4 servings.

Either hot-house rhubarb which has been in the store for several months or fresh rhubarb from market may be used for this descendant of the famed English plum pudding.

FRESH RHUBARB FLUFF PUDDING

3 egg yolks, beaten
1¼ cups milk
1½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
8 slices enriched white bread, cut into ½-inch cubes
1 pound fresh rhubarb, cut into ½-inch slices; about 4 cups
3 egg whites
1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar

Blend together egg yolks, milk, brown sugar and vanilla in large mixing bowl. Mix in bread cubes until thoroughly moistened. Stir in rhubarb. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry peaks form; fold into bread mixture. Turn into greased 1½-quart rectangular baking dish.

Bake in preheated 350-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes, or until rhubarb is cooked. Beat cream and sugar until stiff peaks form. Serve with warm pudding. Makes 8-8 servings.

Salads Come Alive

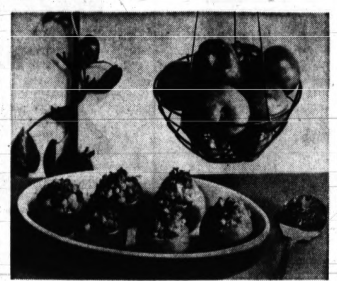

Combine fresh orange sections or segments, shredded cabbage, diced green pepper, thinly sliced onion and diced cooked corned beef brisket. Chill. Just before serving, add French dressing and celery seed. Toss lightly and heap each portion into a crispy lettuce cup.

Blend Sauce for Spaghetti

Spaghetti al pesto is delicious with fish at a meatless meal. Boil 1 pound of spaghetti as label directs. Drain and serve with sauce made in blender.

Combine in blender container 2 cups of chopped fresh parsley leaves, 1 tablespoon of dried basil leaves, 1 teaspoon of salt, ½ teaspoon of pepper, 1 clove of garlic, 2 tablespoons of pine nuts, ½ cup each of olive oil and parmesan cheese and ¼ cup of butter, melted.

Blend well and toss with hot spaghetti until it is completely coated. Serve with additional cheese, if desired. Makes four servings.

BEANS IN THE ROUND

RHUBARB FLUFF PUDDING

Sweet Onions Star in Salad

Here is a salad so versatile on juice, 1 teaspoon salt, and ¼ that it goes well with fish and sea food, poultry, and meats in variety. Topped with cottage cheese it becomes a colorful and appealing luncheon salad.

SALAD OF THE GARDENS OF SPAIN

For four servings, peel two oranges, removing all of the inner peel. Slice very thin or cut in sections. Carefully remove skins from two sweet Spanish onions and thin slice. Reserve Or a n e and grapefruit sec-

Place oranges and onions in shallow dish. Pour over a dressing made by combining ¼ cup for the sea food stuffed potatoes, olive or other salad oil, ¼ cup making a salad with both eye-orange juice, 2 tablespoons lemon and appetite-appeal.

Macaroni-Vegetable Dish Helps Dieters

In the spring a woman's thoughts may turn to ways and means of losing those few extra pounds that she acquired during the winter. New spring clothes and summer vacation plans remind her it's time to get in shape.

The National Macaroni Institute has given some thought to the problem of good weight control diet, too.

Keeping the recommended food allowances in mind, a good daily plan includes fruits and vegetables, dairy products, meat and other animal protein foods, and cereal products including macaroni, spaghetti and egg noodles. Each of these food groups has something special to offer in the way of essential nutrients for health.

Total calories... about 353

MACARONI DIET PLATTER
2-3 cup low calorie Italian salad dressing
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup water
1 cup chopped parsley
1 tablespoon capers
½ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper
3 cooked artichokes, halved and chokes removed 3 medium tomatoes, sliced
1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water

Faces Brighten Fun

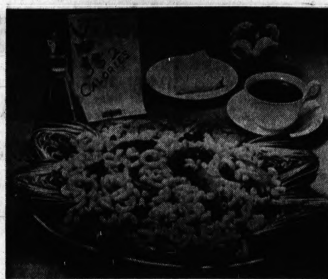

The small fry will love these happy open-face sandwiches—combine a family-size can of deviled ham with grated carrot and chopped, unsalted peanuts. Moistened with a little mayonnaise and spread on lightly buttered bread rounds. Make "fancy faces" with eyes of whole peanuts, mouths of tomato olives, etc.

2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces)

Combine salad dressing, lemon juice, ¼ cup water, parsley, capers, oregano, ½ teaspoon salt and pepper. Pour over artichokes and tomatoes; marinate several hours.

Add 1 tablespoon salt to 3 quarts rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander. Rinse with cold water; drain again.

Remove artichokes and tomatoes from marinade and arrange around edge of platter. Toss macaroni with the marinade and place in center. Makes six servings, about 177 calories per serving.

MACARONI DIET PLATTER — A big serving of this colorful and superbly flavored salad platter supplies only about 177 calories. Elbow macaroni is the main ingredient, a good choice on a weight-control diet because of its high satiety value.

Pinch of Rosemary Used With Halibut

Among the many easy-to-prepare seafoods on the market all year long are halibut steaks, as they are fresh-frozen at the peak of the halibut-catching season, packaged for good eating throughout the United States.

A favorite method of preparing fish—especially in the South—has always been frying, but some people hesitate because of the ban on frying for people who might be prone to heart disease.

½ cup white corn meal
¼ cup vegetable oil
Pinch rosemary
If halibut is frozen, let stand at room temperature 30 minutes. Beat egg until foamy and add milk. Dip fish first in egg and milk mixture, then in white corn meal. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and rosemary.

Heat vegetable oil in large skillet. Fry fish until golden brown on one side (about 5 minutes), turn and fry other side until golden brown (about 3 minutes).

Reduce heat, cover skillet and cook an additional 2 or 3 minutes, until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 4 servings.

Whipped Cream Frozen in Cups

Frozen Jigger Cream
1 cup heavy cream
Pinch of salt
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat the cream until almost stiff; add remaining ingredients and beat until stiff. Fill paper jigger cups (3-tablespoon size) with the whipped cream; place in a pan and freeze until firm. Wrap for freezing and store in freezer. Makes 11 to 12. To serve, let stand at room temperature for about 20 minutes to defrost; serve right in jigger cups.

Sliding Tuition Scale Viewed for MSU if Cash Request Denied

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two Michigan State University trustees suggested Tuesday that if the Legislature doesn't give MSU enough money, the school should adopt a sliding tuition scale based on family income.

Under the plan proposed by Don Stevens and Clair White, tuition for Michigan residents would range from free to $1,020 a year. They now are $334 for Michigan residents and $870 for out-of-state students.

MSU officials earlier told a House committee the school needs at least $1.7 million more than the Senate provided or it would have to consider a tuition increase.

Stevens and White suggested that if MSU considers the Legislature's appropriation inadequate, it limit admission by changing the fee structure. Under their plan, a student's tuition is free if his family's income is under $5,000. It would be $334 if the income was $5,000-$10,000, $354 if the income was $10,000-$15,000, $870 if the income was $15,000-$20,000, and $1,020 if the income was above $20,000.

Out-of-state students would pay $1,020. In using the Stevens-White plan, $1,000 would be deducted from family income for every dependent in the family besides the student. Thus, tuition would be free for a student from a $6,000 family if there was another dependent at home.

Stevens and White also proposed that all future increases in fees be limited to students from families with incomes of $15,000 or more and to out-of-state students.

Here's a Handy Quiz to Test Direction of Civilization

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Many people today wonder whether civilization is nutty—or whether they are.

Life is so abnormal that they suspect they may be a bit balmy themselves.

The suspicion is natural and healthy.

Just where do you really stand? How mentally and emotionally normal are you?

LIE ON COUCH

For $25 to $50 or more a session, of course, you can lie down on a psychiatrist's couch and let him play hopscotch with your id and ego until he comes up with the answer.

A lot of folks, of course, aren't that worried about themselves, or can't dish out that kind of dough.

So we've compiled a kind of poor man's sanity test.

Ask yourself these questions. But, remember, be absolutely honest.

Do you enjoy gossip, as long as it is about somebody else?

In reading about how someone helped up a bank by pointing at the teller with his fist in a brown paper bag, do you sigh and wish you had the courage to try it, too?

Now and then are you struck with the idea that someone or something is following you?

Do you keep your eyes wide open when you kiss your wife goodby in the morning?

ONLY IN RUSH

Are you convinced that your shoelaces never break except when you are in a desperate hurry?

Does it ruin your day if some other motorist beats you to a parking place?

If a younger man is promoted over you at the office, do you suspect it is because he has pull, or loaded to the boss?

Do you feel the tax assessor unduly favors your neighbors, and your own home taxes are unfairly high?

HATE WHISTLER?

If the office boy whistles cheerfully while sorting the mail, do you scowl at him?

At least once a day does something happen to you that makes you want to hire a lawyer and file suit?

Well, that is your sanity test. Now about your score. If your answer to every question was a thumping "Yes!"—well, cheer up. You are just as sane and normal as everyone else in your block.

Which leaves only one problem.

Just how nutty do you think they are?

Kettering-Madison Rematch to Open City Baseball Tourney

Friday Contest at Jaycee Park Under Lights

8 First-Round Tilts Announced Following
Meeting of 16 Teams

Waterford Kettering and Madison combatants in the longest game in the history of the Pontiac High School Baseball Invitational Tournament, will open this year's competition Friday night.

The pairing was announced last night by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, co-sponsor of the 16-team tournament with The Press, at a pre-tournament meeting of the coaches and tournament officials.

The other seven first-round pairings were also announced with the other opening games this week being Bloomfield Hills vs. Birmingham Brother Rice Saturday night.

Brother Rice was chosen the 16th team late last week.

The first three games will all begin at 7:30 p.m. under the lights at Jaycee Park. Besides the two contests Friday and Saturday, Ansonia will meet Milford Friday night, May 27, in a single night tilt.

SATURDAY CARD

The other five first-round contests will be played May 28, (weather permitting). Romeo and Northville will meet at 1 p.m., cohort Pontiac Northern and Royal Oak Kimball will play at 3:30 p.m. as will Clarkston and defending champion Southfield.

Waterford Township will collide with Hazel Park in the 5:30 p.m. game, while cohort Pontiac Central and Walled Lake will conclude the action at 7:30 p.m.

The quarter-final encounters are set for Memorial Day. The semifinals will be night games May 31 and June 1, and the title game slated for 7:30 p.m. June 2, providing there are no postponements.

More games were planned originally for the opening Saturday but schedule conflicts with league games and school functions limited the slate to only the lone night games Friday and Saturday.

Kettering and Madison played 12 tense innings last year before the Eagles won the opening-round meeting, 4-3. Kettering lost the 1964 championship game in 10 innings by the same score to Royal Oak Kimball.

The two meeting Friday likely will find both teams leading their leagues. The Captains (7-4) pace the Tri-Country League with 5-4 mark, although Pontiac Northville ended their six-game winning streak yesterday in a nonleague clash.

Madison is the only unbeaten team (7-0) in the tournament. The Eagles pace the Oakland A circuit, but have a tough tilt Thursday at Clawson.

Tickets are now on sale at the recreation office in City Hall, and will be sold at the gate. Single day admissions are 10 for adults and 50 cents per student. Tournament tickets for all the games are $4 and $2.

Kevin O'Connor tossed a five-hitter yesterday as Birmingham Brother Rice blanked Detroit Austin, 1-0.

Terry Honner scored the lone run in the fifth when Greg Gromek picked up a walk with the bases loaded. The victory raised Brother Rice's season record to 8-3, and tied the Warriors for first place.

Detroit Austin 000 000 0-1
Pontiac Northville 000 000 0-1
SALINAS and Seattle O'Connor and Borgstrom.

Pair Paces PCH Win

Doug Runyon and Gary Beckman fired 38 yesterday at Pontiac Municipal Course to pace Pontiac Central to a 158-159 victory over Waterford's golfers. Rod Skelton carded a 38 for the losers.

Meeting is Scheduled

All 49 team representatives from the Waterford Township Recreation Department's elementary school softball program are requested to meet at 8 p.m. today in Room 103, Schoolcraft School, for the annual midseason conference.

Swift Helps Tigers Win

DETROIT (AP) — Bob Swift's first game in his second term as interim manager of the Detroit Tigers was a success, thanks to some of the experience he gained as a major league catcher.

The Tigers, behind Denny McLain's two-hit pitching, crushed the New York Yankees 7-2 Tuesday night with Swift at the helm in place of ailing Charlie Dressen.

McLain almost pitched himself out of the game in the first inning when he walked three straight batters and allowed the Yankees their only run.

"I just went out there and pointed out to him that he had no rhythm at all," Swift said of his first-inning consultation with his young pitcher.

ONE MORE

"I couldn't blame McLain for (Roger) Marichal's sacrifice fly, or the single (Roger) Repor got. He got the pitch to Repor right where he wanted it. But if (Clete) Boyer would have got on base, he'd be out of there," Swift said.

Boyer bounced back to McLain and the fire-balling right-hander limited the Yankees to a four-inning double by Marichal after that, retiring the last 16 men in order.

"The funny part about it," Swift continued, "was that he had real good stuff in the pregame warm-up. You never know."

"I remember warming up Virgil Trucks in New York back in 1952," Swift recalled. "After we were through, I went to Fred Hutchinson and asked who was first out of the bullpen."

"Trucks didn't have a thing. But he found it in the fifth inning and pitched his second no-hitter of the season."

McLain, now 41, blamed his game-opening strikeout of Roy White for his wildness.

"After I struck him out, I told myself that I had a great fast ball tonight. I guess I was trying, subconsciously, to strike out everyone," McLain said.

"Instead, I was overworking and not pitching. Swift straightened me out," McLain said.

Don Demeter's two-run homer broke the tie in the sixth and Willie Horton capped the triumph with a three-run homer off Dadey Womack in the eighth.

The Tigers got to Fritz Peterson for two runs in the fifth on a solo homer by Bill Freehan, a double by Ray Oyler, McLain's sacrifice and a sacrifice fly by Don Wert.

"McLain's going to get even."

LATE ON TARGET—Cincinnati's Don Pavlich (8) upends New York Mets' catcher Johnny Stephenson but not before the receiver had tossed to first for double play. The play began with a ground ball to pitcher Bill Hefner whose throw then forced Pavlich at the plate.

The Los Angeles Dodgers are halfway to beating Jim Marichal.

The Dodgers, who haven't beaten the San Francisco area in more than a year, edged the Giants 2-1 in 13 innings Tuesday night after holding Marichal to a tie in 10 innings.

The tie was an improvement over the outcome two weeks ago when they stopped them 8-1 on four hits. The next logical step, then, would be for the Dodgers to progress the rest of the way and defeat Marichal.

The last time they accomplished that feat was April 29, 1965, when they squeaked by him 2-1. He holds a four-game winning streak against them and is 18-8 lifetime.

Los Angeles nearly missed gaining the tie, and Marichal nearly had his eighth victory of the season without a loss.

LATE RALLY

But the Dodgers, who managed just five hits in the first eight innings, finally scored in the ninth, tying the game 1-1. Maury Wooten hit a bunt, raced to third as Jim Gilliam singled and came home on Willie Davis' fly to Willie Mays in center field.

Marichal stopped the Dodgers in the 10th, then left for a pinch hitter in the 11th, his earned run average only slightly higher at 4.78.

In other National League games, Cincinnati blanked New York 4-0, Pittsburgh defeated Atlanta 5-2 and Philadelphia trimmed St. Louis 5-3. Rain washed out Houston at Chicago.

The Dodgers finally won in the 13th inning when Wes Parker led off with a single against Frank Linzy, dashed to third on Linzy's single and continued home as right fielder Ollie Brown fired the ball into the Los Angeles dugout.

THIRD WIN

Cincinnati's Jim Maloney won his third game without a defeat, stopping New York on two hits and retiring the last 22 men he faced. Don Pavlich drove in two red runs with a double and a homer while Vada Pinson knocked in a pair with a single and a grounder.

Lions Conquer Dundee

on Hurler's 3-Hitter

Junior Bill Dehnstosel fired a three-hitter as South Lyon downed Dundee yesterday, 1-0. Eric Liddell scored the run in the fourth when he singled, stole second and rode home on sophomore Don Jones' single. The win ended South Lyon's record at 7-7.

Randy Turpin Takes Short Final Count

LONDON (AP) — The sad riches to rags story of Randolph Turpin, former world middleweight champion, ended with a gunshot blast in a dingy backstreet cafe Tuesday.

Although police maintained a traditional silence on who did the shooting, friends said the 38-year-old Turpin had been depressed lately.

In the same incident Turpin's 17-month-old daughter, Carmen, was seriously injured with two gunshot wounds and rushed to a hospital.

Turpin was found dead with a gun near the body in his wife's transport cafe in Leamington Spa, about 150 miles north of London.

The saddest sight of all in recent years was to see an overweight Turpin performing as a wrestler at $56 a match.

Turpin told friends recently he was worried about a $500 income tax demand which he couldn't pay.

There were also fears that the local Government Council, as part of a development scheme, were going to demolish his wife's cafe—Turpin's main source of livelihood.

The spot was not far away from the town's main street, where the whole community turned out to give Turpin a hero's reception in July 1961.

Turpin had just beaten the great Sugar Ray Robinson for the world middleweight title and was on top of the world.

Just 64 days later Turpin went to New York and lost the title to Robinson on a knockout.

Turpin kept on boxing but never reached the top again.

During his fight career he is believed to have made $500,000. But by 1961 Turpin was bankrupt.

Northville Ace Blanks Milford

Right-hander Steve Evans kept Northville in the Wayne-Oakland League baseball race by setting down loop-landing Milford on a 4-0 no-hitter yesterday.

It was second no-hitter of the season for Evans, who also pitched a three-run homer to place the Mustangs' hitting attack. He fanned 14 batters in running his record to 7-1.

The loss was the first for Milford (11-1) in league play, which the win upped Northville's record to 9-2.

The five rookies successful in qualifications last weekend are Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif.; Mel Kenyon, Davenport, Iowa; Graham Hill, London; Jackie Stewart, Dunbar, Scotland; and Art Pollard, Medford, Ore.

Randy Wise was awarded the outstanding senior athlete trophy last night during the sports banquet at Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes.

AFL Star Joining Giants

Grid War Possible Over Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The signing of place-kicker Peter Gogolak by the New York Giants after he played out his option with the Buffalo Bills may signal an all-out bitter war between the National Football League and the American Football League.

Although several players have played out their options in both pro leagues, none has signed with the other league since 1961 when Willard Dewell, Chicago Bear, became a free agent and hopped to the Houston Oilers.

Al Davis, AFL commissioner, said a "no comment" reaction to the news, announced Tuesday by Wellington Mara, president of the Giants, at the NFL meeting.

However, an AFL spokesman observed, "The league office stands in that this was not a surprise. We had reason to anticipate the provocative action of the New York Giants against the Buffalo Bills. We are interested in seeing if the commissioner's office of the other league will approve the contract."

"If the contract is in order, from the standpoint of eligibility in the National Football League," said NFL Commissioner.

"The AFL has two other star players, defensive linemen Earl Faison and Ernie Ladd of San Diego, who became free agents May 1. They reportedly are talking of playing football in Canada."

Muskie Eggs Take Priority

Cold Weather Kills Young in Hatchery

Conservation Department fisheries men are busy this week trying to recoup losses suffered during the cold snap last week. The below normal temperatures dealt a fatal blow to 250,000 tiny muskellunge at the Wolf Lake hatchery near Kalamazoo.

A crew of men from the Upper Peninsula are pinpointing their efforts in Lac Vieux Desert, Big Lake and Little Oxbow Lake in Gogebic County.

They hope to collect about 600,000 muskie eggs. That total, subtracting normal hatchery mortalities, should produce some 300,000 muskie fry.

If the effort in Gogebic County does not yield enough eggs, the department plans to shift its project to lakes and connecting rivers in the northern Lower Peninsula's Island Waterways Route.

Reporting on the die-off at Wolf Lake, fish biologist Brad Durling said, "I don't know a thing we could have done to prevent it."

He explained that the hatchery does not have water temperature controls to protect the fish from quakes in the weather. As the egg-taking operation goes in the next few days, so goes its muskie planting program for 1966. The Wolf Lake hatchery is the department's only "factory" for rearing muskies.

Visitors Get a Treat at Yellowstone Park

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK—Frisky brown bears, and attractions of this 3,471 square mile wonderland. A fleet of modern buses provides the sightseer a relaxing tour and camera access to an imagination-stretching of geysers, hot springs and bubbling mud pots.

Established in 1872, Yellowstone National Park was established in 1872 to preserve the attractions of the area and because it has National Park status, the visitor will not find golf courses, tennis courts, swimming pools or the neon lighted resort atmosphere.

Yellowstone is in the northwest corner of Wyoming, a high uneven plateau of volcanic rock which has been carved by rivers and streams rushing off the forested mountains.

Fishing in Yellowstone is terrific and no license is required: The general season is from May 30 to October 31, with exceptions in some areas. Sparkling Yellowstone Lake offers cutthroat trout, and 440 miles of blue ribbon trout streams await the visiting angler.

Crystine Jones on USET Team

Crystine Jones, 18, of Bloomfield Hills, has been named one of seven riders to represent the United States Equestrian Team in major European horse shows this summer.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Jones, also of Bloomfield Hills, where her father heads MacManus, John & Adams, national advertising firm.

Four members of the USET squad, which will leave May 20 for its tour of the international show circuit, were members of the 1964 U.S. Olympic team.

They are team captain Bill Steinkraus of Noroton, Conn.; Frank Chapot and his wife Mary of Wallpack, N.J.; and Kathy Kusner of Arlington, Va.

In addition to Miss Jones, the other riders are Neal Shapiro of Glen Head, N.Y.; and Carey Hoffman of North Branch, N.J.

Miss Jones captured both the American Horse Shows Association Medal Class, hunter seat, and MacLay Trophy at the National Horse Show last year, the two top horsemanship tests for junior riders.

The squad will compete in Wiesbaden, Cologne and Aachen, Germany; Lucerne, Switzerland; London and Dublin. The seven riders, largest group ever assigned by the USET to a foreign trip, will complete their tour in August.

Sen. Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, has introduced a constitutional amendment that would allow the state to bond up to $30 million for spending for state park and recreation purposes.

O'Brien, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, said the resolution would do the same thing intended by a bill he had introduced. The bill died in committee.

The resolution must be approved by a two-thirds vote of both houses and a statewide vote of the people.

District Parks Chief Declares, 'We're Ready'

All it takes is a little warm weather to start people moving outdoors for their leisure time recreation.

"We're ready for them," said Alfred Masini, Conservation Department district parks supervisor. "This year is the first time we've really been prepared."

"In fact, everything was set before the recent cold spell."

Cold weather or warm, the recreation areas in the Pontiac Lake district have been getting a good play. From Jan. 1 through May 8, 267,578 people are up in steadily increasing use of the six areas, Dodge 4 park and Heaven Hill Lodge.

The Holly recreation area leads the way with 82,576. Rochester-Utica is next with 42,130. The campers have been showing up in steadily increasing numbers with 1,290 camps recorded. Popular Proud Lake campground is tops with 902.

Big Spring Washes Out Pond Work

A project in the Holly recreation area designed to attract more fall flight ducks has been half worked out.

But the outlook isn't as bleak as it might appear.

"It's an experiment for this area," said game biologist Howard Greene of the Pontiac Lake district office. "We had hoped to plant millet at two impoundments to see if we can attract and keep migrant ducks in the area during the fall."

The two impoundments are back-to-back with one twice the size of the other. A large spring feeds the big pond which overflows into the smaller one.

The spring was the problem.

A 1,000-gallon a minute pump was put into operation to see if the water level of the large pond could be dropped sufficiently so that millet could be seeded about 15 feet out from the shoreline.

TOO FAST

The spring replaced the water as fast as it was pumped out.

"We would have been pumping for 300 days," said Greene. "The lower pond is draining in good shape, however, and we hope to plant the seed very shortly. Once the millet gets a good start we'll slowly refill the pond."

"If this looks like it's going to work out, then we'll try it on other ponds on state land in the county."

Providing something doesn't "spring" up to keep the ponds from draining.

State Recreation Areas Offer 'Call of Wild'

The call of the wild lures many campers to Northern Michigan, but there is more than a touch of it right here in Oakland County.

Six recreation areas in the county offer campsites. Some offer the most modern conveniences, such as Proud Lake, while others have semi-modern and outpost type camp facilities.

In all of these areas the terrain is much the same as found in the Northern Michigan. The scenery is very good in the more remote areas.

Proud Lake has electricity available, showers, and other modern conveniences. It is also the most heavily used and the 171 sites are usually filled on the weekends.

There are another 40 sites in Dodge 5 Park in the Proud Lake area. These do not have electricity or modern toilets.

Outpost camping is available in the Highland area with faucets spotted through the 60-site area on Pickering Lake. There is no swimming.

Pontiac Lake has the same setup, except the water is supplied by pumps and the camp-

Actress And Family Know Tragedy Well

Patricia Neal Bouncing Back

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

GREAT MISSENDED, England — The Road Dahl live in a rambling, art-filled house on a country lane a few hundred yards from this typical English village.

It is a house filled with laughter despite the tragedies that have befallen the family: loss of a daughter, brain damage to a son through a New York traffic mishap, the near death of the mother from three massive strokes.

Mrs. Dahl is Patricia Neal, American-born actress and winner of the Academy Award for "Hush" in 1963. She was stricken in Hollywood 16 months ago just as she was starting a John Ford film, "Seven Women."

Pat Neal greeted an American visitor at the door and then rushed around the kitchen to make tea. Her elegant beauty remains, and the only apparent vestige of her illness is a slight limp.

"I still don't have the full use of the right leg," she explained. "Also, the right hand hasn't returned to normal. Otherwise I seem to be all right."

"I can read quite well, although I have some trouble retaining what I read. The most bothersome thing is names. I just can't remember names! "Names came easily to me before; I could remember everyone's. Now I can remember my family's, but no one else's. Lately I've been trying to recall names of movie stars as I lie in bed. I've got Marlon Brando, John Wayne, Gary Cooper. . .

"But tell me: Who is the one who married late in life and had twin daughters?" She was told: James Stewart. "We'll see how I get through that one," she said. "After that, who knows?"

Members of her family dropped in as she talked. Dahl, the tall, tweedy author of short stories who is writing the script for the next James Bond Movie, Tessa, 3, who is in love with Lucy, "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." Rosy-looking Lily Neal Dahl, 9 months, who was born after Pat had suffered the strokes.

BRIEF RESPIRE Dahl explained that his wife was having a brief respite from her therapy. But intensive work will begin with the arrival of a nurse from the UCLA Medical Center, where Pat was first treated.

What does she remember of the ordeal? "Nothing of when I got sick," she said. "Later I don't remember much, except that Rosid was there all the time. I just felt terribly, terribly sick."

With her strength returning, she is looking for things to do. "I can't stand being idle," she remarked. "But how can I act when I can't remember lines? I've tried and I just can't remember more than one line at a time."

She was reminded that several performers, including Marilyn Monroe, had the same failing but continued in films. Friends hope Miss Neal's retention of lines will be improved with therapy.

She is planning a return to acting in a BBC play for television. It is a Strindberg play she Melina Mercouri Weds Director in Lausanne LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) — Greek film star Melina Mercouri and American director Jules Dassin were married in a civil ceremony today. House Dems Move Carefully With LBJ's Finance Measure

WASHINGTON — Democratic handlers of President Johnson's $4.2-billion financing plan said today they have the votes for House passage, but they are treading cautiously.

A final vote was expected yesterday, but Democrats delayed the showdown when it became obvious debate would continue beyond the departure time for a group of Illinois Democrats who accompanied Johnson to a fund-raising event last night in Chicago.

Republicans plan to attack the measure with parliamentary motions and then with amendments.

The bill would permit the administration to shift government loans to private investors. If approved, the financing program could make the difference between a $1.8-billion budget deficit next year and one $6 billion in the red.

The Senate has passed a similar measure.

Delay Action on Waterford Sewer Plan

Action was deferred last night on a Waterford Township proposal for revision of an agreement for sewer service for a portion of the township pending clarification of the proposal.

The City Commission received a letter from township attorney Paul Mandel asking for a rebate on sewer connection charges for those township property owners who connect to the Pontiac system on an "interim" basis.

The property owners are in an area to be provided with sewer services by the city after a 1958 city-township agreement is amended to take in a greater area of the township.

Harold Kelley of Jones, Henry & Williams, said he did not know what "interim" basis the township attorney could be referring to.

Kelley said it was his understanding that all proposed connections would be permanent. City Engineer Joseph E. Nelpling recommended administrative details of amending the contract be referred to the city attorney for additional development.

City Affairs

Nelping said, in reference to the proposed rebate, that legal problems might arise in pledging revenues from the sewage disposal fund.

While the township has sought sewer service for an area immediately west of Telegraph, this same area is involved in negotiations in conjunction with the county's proposed Clinton-Oakland Interceptor system.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

asked that a report on the entire matter be made at the commission's June 13 informal meeting.

URBAN RENEWAL

A report was received last night on R44 urban renewal properties lying west of West Wide Track. Urban Renewal Director James L. Bates recommended no new appraisals be ordered until plans are announced for downtown redevelopment.

The commission had asked informally that Bates study the advisability of having new appraisals made of the R44 land.

Consideration of a proposed air conditioning ordinance was referred for informal study next Monday.

Construction of a sidewalk on the north side of South Boulevard from Tex to the new General Motors Truck & Coach Division parking lot east of the railroad tracks was approved. Total cost of the sidewalk is $3,640 with an assessable cost of $2,034. GM is to pay the total assessable cost.

A proposal to construct a permanent traffic diverter island on Waldo north of Huron is to be the topic of a letter to property owners subject to the assessment. The cost for a 50-foot lot is estimated at $80.

Public hearings were set for May 31 on construction of water mains in Pershing, Oakland to Durant, and in the east side of Woodward, South Boulevard to a point 450 feet south. Total cost of the two mains is $14,235.

A public hearing was also set for May 31 on special assessments for a sanitary sewer in Stanley, Lounsbury to the alley at Montclair.

In other business, the commission approved the purchase of street right-of-way for $4,150 from the Pontiac Church of God. The right-of-way is needed to pave Arlene, from Perry to Madison.

Pair to Study in Yugoslavia

Two local college students will spend seven weeks in Yugoslavia this summer participating in a Western Michigan University seminar.

The students are Richard J. Wilgten, son of Mrs. and Mrs. A. F. Wilgten, 50 Wenonah, and Thomas E. McKinnon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude C. McKinnon, 2208 Overridge, Waterford Township.

Wilgten is a graduate student in economics and McKinnon is a senior majoring in social science.

The seminar, financed by a U.S. State Department grant, will be held at five universities in Yugoslavia.

Departure date for the 20 participants is June 17.

Medal of Honor Winners Are Feted at Ceremony

Dr. Harold A. Furlong, 2260 E. Hammond Lake, Bloomfield Township, was one of eight Congressional Medal of Honor winners honored at the third annual Detroit Armed Forces Week Concert yesterday.

Dr. Furlong, a Pontiac obstetrician, was a second lieutenant when he won the Medal of Honor for his action in World War I.

On Nov. 1, 1918 — 10 days before the Armistice — his infantry company commander and several others were killed by machine gun fire in an attack at Boisse de Banheville, France.

Crossing an open area several hundred yards wide, he took up position behind the enemy machine guns, putting four out of action and driving 20 German prisoners into American lines.

Also honored was Robert E. Simanek, a Farmington accountant.

Other Michigan residents honored included Dirk J. Vlug, a Grand Rapids mailman; Francis J. Pierce, a Grand Rapids police captain; and Albert J. Smith of Detroit.

Weeks Of Back Pain Now Relieved

"After weeks of pain in my back and hips, I tried DeWitt's Pills — got wonderful relief," says Mrs. R. Gardner, Waterloo, Iowa.

DeWitt's Pills act fast with a proven analgesic to relieve pain of backache. Their mild diuretic action helps to eliminate retained bladder wastes that can cause physical distress. Proposed Fire Fighter Pact Received

A proposed contract between the city and the Pontiac Fire-fighters Association (PFA) was received for study last night by the City Commission.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren presented the 20-page working agreement, which has already been ratified by the PFA.

Warren said the total cost of the agreement was difficult to determine because the proposed contract did not include wages and salaries.

The proposed agreement does not include any wage hikes, but primarily stipulates hours, working conditions and other non-cash benefits.

However, the city manager estimates a cost of $8,000 to provide some of the additional

2-Month Extension of Bus Pact Is OK'd

Buses in Pontiac will continue to roll at least through June 30, according to City Commission action last night. The commission directed the city attorney to draft an agreement to extend the current contract, which expired May 1, through the end of next month.

The contract extension was proposed by Kenneth E. Totten, regional manager of American Transit Corp., parent company of Pontiac Transit Corp.

In a report last night, City Manager Joseph A. Warren said Pontiac Transit reported a loss of $18,779 for the 12 months ending March 31.

Warren said this is before the city's subsidy of $1,715 is applied. Application of the total subsidy ($20,500) would give a 12-month profit of $1,800, said Warren.

10 PCT. PROFIT

The city manager added that the bus agreement says Pontiac Transit is entitled to a profit of 10 per cent of gross revenue or $18,737 for the 12 months ending March 31.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. asked that the manager inquire if Totten could be at the commission's next informal meeting next Monday.

Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson, who emphasized that he was not opposed to public transportation as such, claimed present bus routes weren't providing the needed service.

Hudson said he had heard of use of a smaller bus, seating 16-18 people, in Mansfield, Ohio that operated at a profit every year.

He suggested that the Ohio town be contacted to see if officials there might not have some advice.

Frantic Hunt for a Diamond

VALLEY VIEW, Tex. (AP) — Some diamond mining on a small but frantic scale was carried out in a yard here recently. Glenn Neu, 33, conducted a ceremonial "interment" for his pet goldfish using his jewelry case for a coffin for his pet.

When his mother realized that the case contained her engagement ring, mining operations began in a hurry. Since young Glenn had forgotten just where the burial took place, recovery of the ring took some time.

Miss North Ottawa Crowning Saturday

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Eleven candidates seek the title of Miss North Ottawa who will be crowned Saturday night.

Julius Richey, chief of staff of the 9th Coast Guard Headquarters at Cleveland.

Miss North Ottawa presides also as queen of the annual Coast Guard Festival, scheduled at Grand Haven in August.

Guest Author at Banquet

Guest speaker for the Oakland County Reading Council Author's banquet June 3 at Pine Knob Ski Resort will be Lois Lenski, author-illustrator of children's books.

Miss Lenski received the 1946 Newberry Medal for "Strawberry Girl" — a story of migrant farm workers, and the 1940 Child Study Association Award for "Judy's Journey."

Reservations for the banquet can be arranged by contacting Philip G. Hilaire, secretary of the reading council for Oakland Schools.

benefits incorporated in the agreement.

For example, he said the annual cost of call-back pay and overtime pay, two benefits proposed in the agreement, would vary and depend on the number of times these benefits were paid in a particular year.

Also, the contract proposes the appointment of additional ranking officers (captains and lieutenants). There is another provision to give extra pay for a person who fills for a specified time a higher rank because of some vacancy.

The proposed contract would liberalize the department's trading of time rules, providing for short-term (no more than 16 hours) trading and long-term trading (time) up to four days per month).

Warren said last night the tentative agreement represented at least 17 bargaining sessions during the past year, or more than 50 hours of discussion, including three all-day meetings.

3-PLATOON SYSTEM

In presenting the proposed PFA-city agreement, Warren suggested the commission consider setting up a three-platoon system for the fire department, instead of the present two platoons.

Warren said creation of a three-platoon system would require a vote of the people in order to revise the ordinance that established the 56-hour duty week for firemen.

The commission is to study the contract at an informal meeting June 13.

In related business last night, Warren reported that the State Labor Mediation Board had adjourned indefinitely a hearing on unfair labor practice charges filed by the PFA and the Police Officers Association.

A hearing on the charges had been slated for today.

No Fatalities for 2nd Month

City Accident Rate Levels Off, Still High

Figures for April show the city of Pontiac managed to get through a second straight month without a traffic fatality, leaving the total for 1966 at four.

The automobile accident rate in general continued to level off, as first reflected in police reports for March.

Statistics for the first two months of the year were running well ahead of the same period in 1965 prior to the March decline.

The number of motor vehicles involved in April accidents — 889 — was only three above March and contrasted sharply with both January and February, when vehicle accidents threatened to climb above 500.

April's statistics still show increases, however, over last year in most accident categories.

MORE VEHICLES

Vehicles involved in accidents are up 63 over 321 for last year; personal injuries jumped from 155 in April 1965 to 186 last month.

The cumulative four-month total of vehicles in accidents has increased 15 per cent, from 1,478 to an even 1,700.

The two most dangerous intersections in the city last month, according to the report, were Orchard Lake at West Wide Track, and Woodward at South Boulevard, each of which recorded seven motor vehicle accidents.

The latter intersection has been among the three most hazardous crossings in the city each month this year.

REASONS CITED

Contributing circumstances, cited by patrolmen in accident reports, were dominated by excessive speed and failure to yield right of way.

The two factors were noted in accidents a total of 217 times, more than 10 other listed circumstances combined.

Jacoby Senior starts today's discussion. "Here is an example of really fine card reading by George Rappee of New York."

Jim: "It was much more than mere card reading. George really placed almost every East-West card before he led to trick two."

JACOBY

Oswald: "He started by noting that West's queen of spades opening marked East with the ace and king. East had passed to start with so it was a certainty that West would hold the ace of clubs and almost a certainty that he would also show up with the king of diamonds so that South decided not to try a diamond finesse."

Jim: "If George had known about the actual club break he could have just led a low club, but his play protected against the actual 4-2 break and all possible 3-3 breaks in that suit."

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♠ Pass 1 N.T.
2 ♠ 2 ♠ Pass ?
You, South, hold:
A K 10 8 7 5 3 2 ♠ A 3 2 ♠ J 5 4
What do you do?
A—Jump to three spades. A bid of four spades is a close second choice.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of passing, West bids two hearts over your one no-trump. North and East pass. What do you do now?

Construction Strike Ends in 13 Counties

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Laborers Tuesday ended a strike against commercial construction projects in a 13-county area of northern Lower Michigan.

Members of Local 1247 of the Laborers International Union voted 106-15 for a three-year contract. The pact provides for 92 cents an hour in pay raises over the three-year span of the agreement.

Dick Barrett, union business agent, said the laborers had been paid $2.70 hourly in base wages under the old pact which expired April 30.

White Charged With Shooting at Home in Dispute Over Selma Sheriff

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A 24-year-old white Selma man has been arrested in connection with the firing of three shots into the former home of Wilson Baker who is involved in a disputed election for sheriff.

A hearing was scheduled today in City Court for William W. Kilgore who is charged with assault with intent to murder and shooting into an occupied dwelling, Asst. Police Chief No. 10 said.

The home into which the three shots were fired is now the residence of W. T. Lockett, a postal employee. However, it is still listed in official directories as Baker's home.

The former public safety director, now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Dallas County, moved to a house across the street. Baker's opponent is segregationist Sheriff James G. Clark.

Clark ran second to Baker, considered a racial moderate, in a four-man race in the May 3 primary.

Proceedings began Tuesday in U.S. District Court to determine if six ballot boxes contested by Clark must be counted as part of the official returns of the primary. The boxes contain 1,400 votes for Baker and 200 for Clark.

The U.S. Justice Department challenged a decision by the county Democratic Executive Committee not to count the votes, from Negro districts, after Clark's challenge.

Clark also has challenged the remaining 74 boxes in the county and, theoretically at least, Baker could win the nomination

through the court suit and then lose it in the committee, which meets Thursday to decide on Clark's challenge.

Police said they found the three fired shells in Kilgore's bedroom, and that they also discovered a .22-caliber German-made revolver.

Credit unions aren't in business to make big profits. They're in business to serve their members — and these members own the business. So all the earnings go back to them.

Credit unions pay generous dividends on savings. But dividends aren't the only advantage a credit union offers. All qualified members also get life insurance as an extra dividend at no extra cost.

Mafia Leader Is Out on Bail, Keeping Mum on 'Kidnaping'

NEW YORK (AP)—Cosa Nostra boss Joseph (Joe Bonanno) is free in $150,000 bail today, guarding the secret of where he was for the last 19 months while federal authorities searched for him around the world.

Bonanno's lawyer has said he probably will stay at the home of his son, Salvatore, in East Meadow on Long Island until time to go back to U.S. District Court to face trial on an obstruction of justice indictment.

Bonanno, 61, was released on bail, guaranteed by members of his family, several hours after he walked into the U.S. courthouse yesterday and surrendered.

The $150,000 bond was posted by the Stuyvesant Insurance Co. of the Bronx for a premium of $4,530.

As collateral to protect the bonding company, Bonanno's brother-in-law, Frank Labruzzo, put up his home in Queens, and Bonanno's wife, Faye, and her sister, Marian de Pasquale, put up two parcels of real estate in Tucson, Ariz., where Bonanno has a luxurious home, the U.S. attorney's office said.

DRAMATIC REAPPEARANCE

Bonanno's reappearance was almost as dramatic as his reported kidnaping—amidst gunfire in front of the Park Avenue home of his former lawyer on the rainy night of Oct. 21, 1964.

Newsmen asked Bonanno if the kidnaping was a fake. "I got nothing to say," was his reply.

NO HOLIDAY IN CHICAGO—Negro students of Chicago's Ogden School went to school yesterday despite the request of Dr. Martin Luther King "to take a holiday from school" on the 12th anniversary of the Supreme Court's desegregation decision. Here several students are frolicking during recess.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Pregnancy After Age 50 Extremely Rare

At what age is pregnancy no longer possible? This is a question doctors hear more often than any other.

Although there is a wide individual variation in this, pregnancy after the age of 50 is extremely rare.

This was shown by a Baltimore obstetrician who collected only BRANDSTADT 50 authentic cases from this and other countries covering the last 115 years.

A woman in England last year walked off with top honors when she delivered a baby at 55. This is probably a world record.

In many cases of alleged enzyme derived from papaya, an childbirth after age 50 it was found that the mother had no definite knowledge of exactly how old she was.

PREVIOUS CHILDREN

In most of the authenticated cases the mother had previously borne children but even in those who had not there were no complications and the babies were normal and healthy.

The obstetrician concluded that age is not as important as the menopause in determining when a woman's child-bearing period is over.

If she is using contraceptive measures she should, for her own peace of mind, continue to use them for one year after menstruation has ceased.

Q — Is meat tenderizer injurious to the health?

A — A solution of papain, an enzyme derived from papaya, is the tenderizer commonly used to treat meat before cooking.

Cooking destroys the enzyme and stops the tenderizing effect.

No harmful results are associated with the use of this enzyme.

Q — How can one sterilize dishes without boiling them since boiling causes cracks in the glaze?

A — As in the case of pasteurization, immersion of the dishes in water at a temperature of 160 F. (boiling is 212 F.) for one minute will destroy disease germs.

An alternative is to immerse the dishes for two minutes in a solution of grade A calcium hypochlorite at room temperature.

The solution should be made up fresh each time and should contain about half a level teaspoon to the gallon.

The dishes should then be rinsed in clean tap water.

Q — A friend has become blind. The cause was retinal deterioration. What would the symptoms be?

A — There are several types of retinitis or retinal inflammation all of which may lead to blindness.

The victim may notice a gradual decrease in the acuteness of his vision, a narrowing of his field of vision, a blind spot within his field of vision or distortion of the shape of the things he sees.

He may also complain of increased discomfort from looking at bright lights.

Common causes include nephritis or Bright's disease, diabetes, pernicious anemia, hardening of the arteries and exposure to intense light.

Crime Today in 'Jet Age'

International Scale Said Likely to Jump

ROME (UPI) — You can fly from New York to Paris in six hours these days and so can the criminal.

His world, too, is getting smaller.

A bank heist in the Bronx can be followed half a day later by a jewel or art theft in London's Hyde Park area, and on the way back the crook can plan his next haul while listening to stereophonic music.

It is this kind of thing — and the steady increase of it — that has Interpol, the international police agency, worried.

And the man who is especially worried is Lucien Aube, head of Interpol's Division of Criminal Affairs.

SEES INCREASE

Following a week-long Interpol meeting here, Aube said he thinks international crime is destined to increase in the near future.

He mentioned bank robberies, jewel and art thefts, traffic in counterfeit money and drugs as some of the things that will be on the increase.

In addition to contending with their own criminals and gangs, he added, the police of a particular nation will have to contend more with crooks from another.

To combat jet age crime, Aube called for increasing and bettering the means whereby nations that are members of Interpol can exchange information.

COOPERATION

"It is essential," he said, "the member nations cooperate completely."

He said that at its meeting here this week, European members considered enlarging their telecommunications network.

Aube also mentioned that Interpol is thinking of adopting, on a large scale, a method of identifying people by their voices.

Each voice, he said, has characteristics that make it unique and thus the method is as effective as finger printing.

Among other things discussed at the Interpol conference, he said, were traffic in firearms, extradition proceedings and methods of advising customs officials and art merchants of stolen art works.

He said they also discussed seasonal crime, especially as it relates to the movement of tourists.

Backward Auto Seat Protects Tot

STOCKHOLM, Sweden — A backward-facing seat next to the driver is the best protection for the small child riding in an automobile, tests at the Karolinska Institute here have shown.

A specially-adapted seat was attached to the floor of a test car by a safety belt. It was made of a steel-tube frame covered with heavy sheet aluminum or of spot-welded iron and was padded with about two and a half inches of foam plastic. The seat was attached so that it would be stopped by the instrument panel in case of accident.

Conventional children's car seats that generally hook over the car's front seat were found to offer little protection in tests at the Medical research laboratory of the institute, Dr. Bertil Aldman, assistant professor of traffic safety at the institute, reports in the Medical Journal (Lakartidningen).

In tests using forward-facing dolls, the strain on the neck was severe enough to indicate possible injuries in all cases. Most of these seats were torn loose at relatively low speeds. The plastic toy steering wheel was an added invitation to facial injuries.

Some 20 different safety belts for children were tested and most of them broke in tests equivalent to a collision at 30 miles an hour.

Older children in the rear of a car should be seated close to the back of the front seat, the traffic expert says.

Papa Doc Making Strong Effort to Further Tighten Grip on Haiti 'Feitdom'

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Papa Doc is putting financial teeth into what he calls his "revolution" — the better to tighten his grip on this backward fiefdom.

Papa Doc, as he is known to all, is Dr. Francois Duvalier, 59, president for life of what poses itself as a 20th-century nation.

He has demolished his opposition at home and now feels he must consolidate his position so that he can, if nothing else, last out his term.

This means money is needed

To attract tourist dollars, Papa Doc is trying to give Haiti the look of a scenic spot at peace and at work. This isn't hard to do where all political resistance has been crushed.

Ironically, the country where poverty has been nearly institutionalized is rich in a soft, fragrant tropical beauty.

Port au Prince and environs have undergone a dramatic change from the seamy days of the 1963 crisis. Gone from the streets are the military checkpoints and the sight of armed men.

Point Ton Macoutes (the bogymen). The bustle in the business district hasn't slackened.

The atmosphere is thick with resignation to the fact of Papa Doc's control. Exile radio broadcasts, originating in New York, seem to provide more conversation material than hope.

The exile broadcasts sometimes are accurate about what is going on inside the country. Often they are not. The speed with which some information gets to the New York station has made some Haitian officials suspicious that U.S. government agencies may be involved.

NO COMMENT

Papa Doc, in an effort to maintain what looks like a new students. The Swiss have sent a sinuated, as was Trujillo, would sort of educational Peace Corps Haiti be, swallowed up in the no comment to make on the ex-room and board. The minimum American effort is concentrated in a program to eradicate malaria.

Those familiar with the Rafael Leonidas Trujillo dictatorship next door and the one here see a similarity in their phases and believe Papa Doc has reached that point achieved by the Dominican tyrant after his eighth year in control, or about 1939.

If Papa Doc were assassinated, as was Trujillo, would Haiti be, swallowed up in the same explosive political turmoil that gripped the Dominican Republic?

One Haitian suggests: "There probably would be a short, quiet struggle for power among those in positions of influence. But there wouldn't be anything like the Dominican violence. Dominicans are a backward people."

Forty-three states and the District of Columbia have laws which regulate the number of daily and/or weekly hours of employment for women in one or more industries.

Top Mau Mau Writing Book

To Include Hundreds of Warriors' Memoirs

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Kenya's top Mau Mau warriors have forsaken their forest lairs and decided to write up their exploits for posterity.

After independence many of the self-styled field marshals and generals turned to banditry and Kenya's security forces had to flush them out of the forests.

Now the surviving leaders have formed the Kenya African Friendship Press. Heading the company are 15 Mau Mau directors and, to ensure seclusion, a sign has been tacked on the door, reading:

"Privately quiet. Please make sure not to make a lot of talking."

SHARE WALL SPACE

In their office, portraits of President Jomo Kenyatta and Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie share wall space with a racing calendar.

The managing director is Kiliani Mwangi, formerly chairman of the Mau Mau War Council. Treasurer is former Field Marshall Mwariama who claims to have commanded 8,000 fighters in the Meru Forest.

Other members of the staff include pamphleteer Mhogua Geygo, who came out of detention in 1956.

"Our main task for the present is sifting reports," said Geygo. "Hundreds of old Mau Mau are being asked to write their memoirs. If they can't write they will be brought to our office to tell their story. The evidence is already pouring in."

BY END OF YEAR

"We hope to publish our first book by the end of the year. This will cover the fight for independence from 1918 to 1952. Then there will be other books covering the period 1952 to 1964."

The books will later be made into films, said Geygo.

Mwariama said money presents no problem.

"We intend to launch a public company," he confided. "If you subscribe early you will make a lot of gold."

Racial Climate in Michigan - 2

Rights Violence Can Flare Up Quickly, Anywhere

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a four-part series on the state's racial climate.)

Michigan Racial PART II By GENE SCHROEDER Associated Press Writer

It was the summer of 1963, and Michigan's racial scene was relatively calm.

In Detroit, where about one-third of the population is Negro, some 150,000 marchers walked down Woodward Avenue in a peaceful demonstration. If trouble were coming, many felt, it would be in the Motor City.

On Sept. 18, suddenly and without warning, violence did flare up.

But the explosion did not occur in Detroit.

It was in Jackson, a city of about 50,000 with an historic place in the Negro fight for freedom.

The flare-up took the form of a rock-throwing student riot outside the ultra-modern $3 million "Parkside" High School.

In the summer of 1964, Detroit again basked in relative racial calm.

And again violence struck. This time it was Lansing, where several hundred Negroes staged a brief riot.

Causes of the Jackson and Lansing flare-ups, it is generally conceded, were the usual tensions and pent-up frustrations among Negroes over real or imagined grievances.

"Patterns of discrimination and second-class citizenship exist in many Michigan communities today," says Burton Levy, director of community services for the State Civil Rights Commission.

The problems of law enforcement in the Negro community frequently boil down to charges of police brutality on one side and cries for firmer action to stem rising crime statistics on the other.

Eighteen months after the Parkside incident in Jackson, Earl Miller was named Jackson police chief. In a bulletin to all officers, he declared:

"Any officer who would hit a man just because he is a Negro, or use more force than necessary to effect an arrest because of the subject's race, color or creed is a disgrace to the uniform and should be dismissed."

Verbal abuse is no less reprehensible than physical abuse. Impartial and equal application of the law knows no color or race.

Today, according to Don Durst of the Jackson Citizen Patriot, race relations in the community range from fine to good, depending on who is talking.

"Conditions are good. Since I've been boss, I have insisted that everybody be treated the same, and it has worked well. Our biggest trouble is caused by outside Negroes—from Ann Arbor, Battle Creek and Ypsilanti—crashing local Negro parties."

Other police officials echo Miller's sentiments.

Charles Southworth, Jackson County undersheriff and spokesman for the department, says there are no law enforcement problems in the outlying areas.

riot in which Police Chief Charles Straiger was injured. Lloyd Moles of the Lansing State Journal reports the racial climate appears to have improved since then, probably because of the work of the city's human relations committee.

As in many Michigan communities, the most pressing problem in the capital city is housing for low income families.

"The city has federal approval for 500 units—300 for low income families and another 200 for elderly—which is nearing the planning stage by architects," says Moles.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUSTRALIA

POSSIBLE LAND BRIDGE CONNECTING AUSTRALIA WITH MAINLAND

A LIVING FOSSIL—THE DUCK-BILLED PLATYPUS

ANOTHER LIVING FOSSIL—THE MANGAROO

AND IN AMERICA THERE'S THE OPOSSUM

QUESTION: Why is Australia called the land of living fossils?

ANSWER: Experts tell us there are certain dead-end places in our world where very ancient animals—once moved to and where they have remained in much the same stage of development as when they first came.

Australia is such a spot. It is thought that this continent was once connected by a bridge of land with Asia, in some such way as we show at (A).

As the first animals began to spread over the earth, many moved across this bridge into Australia.

Among these were such strange primitive creatures as the duck-billed platypus and some of the animals called marsupials, such as the kangaroo who carry their young in pouches after being born.

After the first animals had moved in, the land bridge disappeared because of movements of the earth's crust. Australia became a large island (B).

The first animals were mostly inoffensive creatures. Fortunately for them, the large, savage, meat-eating animals, which developed later, could not get across the sea to Australia.

So the ancient animals settled down and, since they found conditions which suited them, remained almost unchanged to the present, suggesting the phrase "living fossils."

FOR YOU TO DO: Our American opossum is a marsupial, another of the "living fossils." It climbs trees and is an expert at hiding and so has managed to survive. But how did it get here. The scientists don't seem sure. See what you can find out about it.

In Bid for Presidency

Brazil Minister Facing No Obstacles

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — The war minister, Gen. Arthur de Costa e Silva, seems to have no obstacles before him in his bid to become president.

He is the official candidate of the government's National Renewal Alliance party. President Humberto Castello Branco told party leaders last week that he considered Costa e Silva eminently qualified for the job.

Before that, many political observers had thought the president might try to torpedo his old friend and military academy classmate. Confidants of the president thought he preferred to be succeeded by a civilian, to avoid giving the impression of military dominance over political institutions.

president in April 1964 after the overthrow of the Joao Goulart government, is a retired army marshal.

PARTY'S CANDIDATE

As his party's candidate, Costa e Silva will have the backing of two-thirds of the Congress which will elect the next president and vice president Oct. 3. The opposition Brazilian Democratic movement, outnumbered about 2-1, has not picked a candidate.

Costa e Silva and his vice-presidential running mate Pedro Aleixo — now education minister — won the unanimous endorsement of their party's national directorate after an informal polling of political leaders throughout Brazil's 22 states.

Free Stay at Motel

Was Unwanted Prize
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Larry Pohlman was transferred here to a new job and for months he looked for suitable housing for his family.

During that time, he lived at motels until he was tired of them. Recently, he attended a Chamber of Commerce breakfast and won first prize — a free weekend at a motel.

Heels' Push Is Weighted

NEW YORK (AP) — A 126-pound woman can exert more pressure than an elephant — if she happens to be wearing high "stiletto" shoes, says the Tile Council of America.

In a torture test of various flooring materials in which only ceramic mosaic tile survived, it was found that a woman shoe put a pressure of 3,500 pounds beneath one heel.

An elephant develops only 50 to 100 pounds pressure per square inch beneath its foot, the Tile Council said.

Iowa's first state capital was in Burlington in 1838.

Girl Is Safe as Kidnap-Killer Slain

WILLIAM D. HOLLENBAUGH

SHADE GAP, Pa. (AP) — A mad kidnap-killer was shot to death today in a desperate attempt to break through a police cordon with his 17-year-old hostage, Peggy Ann Bradnick.

William Diller Hollenbaugh, 44, fell dying in a farm yard with a slug through the neck after a dash for freedom in the commandeered car of a deputy sheriff he had critically wounded.

The girl fled to the shelter of the farmhouse. She was not hurt.

Jack Conny, press secretary to Gov. William W. Scranton, the slug was fired from a shotgun by Larry Ruback, 15, son of the farm owner.

Hollenbaugh, who yesterday killed a pursuing FBI agent, triggered two shots at oncoming state troopers before he collapsed, bleeding heavily.

MASSIVE MANHUNT

The final night climaxed a massive manhunt in the Tuscarora Mountains 70 miles southwest of Harrisburg, after Hollenbaugh — once an inmate of an asylum for the criminal insane — snatched Peggy Ann on her way home from school last Wednesday.

A force of 250 state troopers which had surrounded Hollenbaugh's mountain hideout throughout the night began closing in at dawn.

Deputy Sheriff Francis Sharp found the kidnaper and the girl in a cabin.

Conny said Hollenbaugh shot Sharp in the stomach and, pushing the girl into the back seat of the car, forced the deputy to drive toward Highway 522, a quarter of a mile away down a farm lane.

At the Ruback farm, Hollenbaugh ordered the bleeding deputy to get out and open the gate to the highway.

Conny said young Ruback pointed a shotgun loaded with a slug out of the window of his house and fired. As the slug spun Hollenbaugh around the girl broke away and ran.

A state police car pulled up and Hollenbaugh fired two shots at the officers. They returned the fire and Hollenbaugh went down.

"Young Larry fired his shotgun as another state trooper fired at Hollenbaugh," Conny said. "It is believed Hollenbaugh was struck simultaneously by rounds from the trooper's gun and the shot by Larry."

Conny said he believed Hollenbaugh died as he fell to the ground. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Fulton Medical Center in nearby McConnellsburg.

Dr. G. T. Lorentz, who examined Peggy Ann at the McConnellsburg medical center, said he found no evidence that she had been physically molested.

Wisner Home Open M-Week

As part of the local observance of Michigan Week, the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society is conducting guided tours through Pine Grove, the former home of Michigan's 13th governor, Moses Wisner.

The public tours through the Pontiac landmark are being held every day from 2-5 p.m. "Pine Grove," located at 405 Oakland is owned by the society and serves as its headquarters.

Built in Greek revival architecture, it served as the governor's official residence during his term of office from 1859-1961.

White columns accent the front of the home whose interior includes one-foot thick brick walls, heavy doors put together with wooden dowels, grained woodwork, wide plank floors, and tall windows.

The parlor contains furnishings that the Governor and Mrs. Wisner selected and the dining room includes the family silver service and samples of their dishes.

Family heirlooms of other residents of Oakland County, gathered since 1874 by the society, are also exhibited.

A recent addition to the exhibit is the root cellar or "Grandma's Deep Freeze," which was restored through the cooperation of citizens, state and local vocational education departments and labor unions.

Many of the furnishings and exhibits in the home date back to the Civil War. There is also a legend that Abraham Lincoln was once a guest of the Wisners and slept in one of the hundred-year-old beds.

Governor Wisner refused to seek a second term, organizing instead the 22nd Michigan infantry made up from men of Oakland and nearby counties. He led them into Kentucky where he contracted typhoid fever and died. His grave is in Oak Hill Cemetery, Pontiac.

Civil War exhibits in the home include a punt gun which is eight feet tall and so heavy it needs two or three men to handle it, the sword Governor Wisner carried, Civil War uniforms, canteens, soldier caps, and a beaver hat.

Viet Rebels Down U.S. Plane

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Rebels shot down a U.S. spotter plane over Da Nang late today. U.S. Marines quietly took over a Da Nang River bridge disputed between rebel and government troops in that hotbed of northern dissidence.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's opponents poured 500 more anti-government infantrymen into the city. And 200 men from a detachment of rangers already based there switched to the rebel side.

That boosted the rebel ranks to more than 1,000 men, against the 2,500 marines and paratroopers Ky sent in Sunday.

Rain to End Tonight but May Resume

Occasional rain falling in the Pontiac area today will end tonight but there's a chance of some brief showers tomorrow, the weatherman said.

Sunny and pleasant is the forecast for Friday.

Temperatures are expected to dip into the high 40s tonight and climb to 60 to 68 tomorrow.

A mild 54 was the low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 5 a.m. The mercury had moved to 65 by 1 p.m.

Government forces, supported by two tanks, started to close in on one of Da Nang's three rebel-held pagodas. But they withdrew after Buddhist monks set fire to a wooden pyre they had erected there and threatened to burn themselves to death if the advance continued.

Seven fire suicides were factors in the Buddhist campaign of 1963 that led to the destruction of President Ngo Dinh Diem and his government.

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers accidentally bombed troops of the 1st Infantry Division in War Zone C, killing 2 Americans and wounding 58, it was announced today.

U.S. spokesmen said the accident last Thursday was the fault of the ground troops, who placed smoke markers incorrectly after calling for an air strike against the Communists.

Air Force jets showed the area with deadly antipersonnel bombs.

"As a result of faulty smoke marking procedure, the friendly troops were hit by the strike. The FAC (Forward Air Controller) and strike aircraft were not at fault," a U.S. military spokesman said.

Antipersonnel bombs are among the deadliest weapons in the American arsenal. They include bombs that exploded in clouds of jagged fragments, cutting down troops like giant scythes, and fiercely burning phosphorus bombs.

U.S. spokesmen said overcast skies — clouding pilots' vision — also may have been a factor in the accident.

The soldiers killed and wounded all were members of the division's 2nd Brigade.

GM's President Forecasts Auto Sales Decline in '66

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors President James M. Roche today stood with Henry Ford II in predicting that auto sales this year would fall short of 1965 totals.

Roche, in an interview yesterday, qualified an earlier statement attributed to him that auto safety hearings had played no part in the sales decline.

He added, "no one knows yet how far auto safety went in reducing sales."

Roche's new estimate of how the auto business, currently beset with falling sales, would fare was not as positive as that which Ford made Friday.

Ford told a businessmen's conference that new car sales would fall 300,000 units behind last year's 9.3 million total, including imports.

Ford said the auto safety hearings, plus some criticism of the industry, were a factor in the drop.

OUTLOOKS VARY
Two other auto company presidents came up with a varying outlook on 1966 business yesterday.

Lynn Townsend, Chrysler, said he had seen nothing as yet that would sway him away from his prediction of last fall of 9.3 million cars.

Roy Abernethy of American Motors said, "However, it should be remembered that any revision downward would be from a very high figure."

"I have not attempted to make a new projection than the 9 to 9.3 million estimate I made earlier in the model year."

FOUR HONORED
Roche and Townsend were interviewed at a meeting at which the Automobile Club of Michigan honored the four auto companies for their support of driver education in Michigan.

Ford President Arjay Miller, AMC Board Chairman Richard E. Cross represented their companies.

Abernethy was interviewed later.

Roche declined to make a new estimate on 1966 sales, but merely commented, "This year will be close to 1965, though probably not quite so high."

Highland Twp. Woman Killed in Genesee Crash

A car-truck collision at a Genesee County intersection yesterday claimed the life of an 88-year-old Highland Township woman.

Mrs. Asa Mills, mother-in-law of Genesee County Sheriff Thomas Bell, died at the scene of the accident at Lapeer and Irish in Davison Township.

Sheriff's deputies said the accident occurred when a truck driven by Robert J. Bossman of Brown City struck broadside the car in which the victim was riding.

The automobile was driven by Mrs. Marian Bell, the victim's daughter.

2nd Man Gets Artificial Heart

'Doing Well' After Insertion of Device

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A retired Navy man was "awake and doing well" today after becoming the second patient within three weeks to have a partial artificial heart implanted in his chest.

Walter L. McCans, 61, Woodville, Wash., received the device to assist his heart's pumping in an operation performed yesterday by a cardiovascular team at Methodist Hospital.

A hospital statement said McCans was taken to surgery to have an aortic ball valve inserted in his heart.

He was described as in "rather severe left ventricle heart failure" when he entered the operating room.

Afterward the hospital would say only that "the surgical operation was successful."

HISTORIC OPERATION
Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, internationally known heart surgeon, performed an historic similar operation last April 21 on Marcel L. DeDuider, 65, a former Illinois coal miner.

DeDuider died April 26 without regaining consciousness.

Doctors said death was caused by a ruptured left lung, one of several complications following surgery.

1st U.S. A-Spy Paroled

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Harry Gold, America's first convicted atomic spy, was freed today after 16 years in prison.

Gold, now 55, white-haired and wearing glasses, was sentenced to 30 years for carrying nuclear secrets to Soviet agents during and after World War II. He will finish the rest of his term on parole.

Heavy rain was falling as the thin-faced Gold walked through the iron gate of Lewisburg Penitentiary with his brother, Joseph, and his attorney.

Asked how he felt in the downpour, Gold replied, "The sun is shining for me."

Gold said that he hoped to get a job in some medical facility and that all he has been thinking of while in prison is his future — "in some hospital or research establishment."

The Philadelphia bachelor said he will live with the brother and their bedridden father, now 86.

Gold's court-appointed attorney, Augustus B. Ballard of Philadelphia, said, "He will have no trouble finding a job. He is a highly qualified biochemist."

"Quite a few feelers have been made and I'm sure he will be able to work out something with one of them."

Under parole, he cannot be a public charge.

PLEADED GUILTY
Gold pleaded guilty to the espionage charge, specifically that he was the chief courier who delivered A-bomb data to Soviet agents.

His sentence was the stiffest possible under the law, short of death.

2 County Programs to Be Eyed at Hartland

The Oakland County Health Department's dental service will be one of two county-level programs studied at a conference of dentists and public health officials beginning Sunday.

Some 75 professional people from several states are expected to attend the five-day session at the Waldenwood Conference Center, Hartland.

Sponsoring the conference aimed at examining community dental care programs and the financing of them is the U.S. Public Health Service and Children's Bureau.

The University of Michigan has organized the program.

Besides the Oakland County dental program, that of an Alabama county also will be under scrutiny. Both were judged outstanding examples of local dental health services and selected on this basis.

WILL DESCRIBE IT

Dr. Richard M. Henderson, director of the Oakland County dental program, will describe it at the conference.

Broad in scope, the Oakland County dental unit works closely with all county school districts and various other agencies and has established an orthodontic program.

Results of the conference will be used to guide dental and public health officials in coordinating the spending of public and private dental funds throughout the country.

PHILIP E. ROWSTON

Former Mayor in Judge Race

16th Hopeful to Seek 6-Year Circuit Term

Former Mayor Philip E. Rowston, a Pontiac attorney, today entered the race for one of the three vacancies on the Oakland County Circuit Court bench.

The 44-year-old lawyer is the law degree from the Detroit College of Law. His office is in the Community National Bank Building.

Rowston, a practicing attorney for 13 years, obtained his law degree from the Detroit College of Law. His office is in the Community National Bank Building.

Since being named legal counsel for the city in June, 1965, succeeding William Ewart, Rowston has been one of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Rowston, a practicing attorney
for 13 years, obtained his
law degree from the Detroit College of Law. His office is in the Community National Bank Building.

He is currently president of the Oakland County Chapter of the American Trial Lawyers Association, and is past chairman of two committees of the Oakland County Bar Association — Continuing Legal Education and Domestic Relations.

Active in civic and professional organizations, Rowston was president of the Kiwanis Club in Pontiac last year, and in 1964 was president of the Detroit Board of Realtors. He was director of Realtors' group for seven years.

Rowston is also captain of the Lost Lake Reservation Development Fund for the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council, and the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Fund Drive.

While he was an elected city official, Rowston served as vice president of the Michigan Municipal League in 1962, and as a director of the Southeastern Michigan Metropolitan Research Corporation for four years.

He and his wife Frances have two daughters, Elizabeth, and Mrs. James P. Colando.

City Issues Sewer Plan Ultimatum

City officials last night handed Oakland County a 45-day ultimatum to get the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System approved by the seven other participating municipalities.

Otherwise, according to city officials, Pontiac may go it alone in construction of a trunk sewer line across the upper northeast corner of the city.

The sewer — Galloway Creek — is now planned as part of the county system.

The June 30 deadline was imposed last night after Roy J.
Alexander, director of the county's department of public works, presented a progress report on creation of the disposal system.

Alexander, who indicated the necessary contracts probably would be approved within 30 to 45 days, said two communities — Orion and Waterford Townships had approved the contract for the system.

He said he was optimistic, that others would follow adding that differences were minor and could be ironed out.

Commissioner Leslie H.
Hudson disagreed. He thought the differences with Avon Township on apportionment of the system's costs were major, minor.

While a joint city-county effort on the Galloway Creek sewer if it wasn't unlikely that there might be a delay of months and even years with seven other communities having to approve the Clinton-Oakland system and its cost.

Alexander said he could see no reason why the Galloway project couldn't proceed in the same length of time as a joint project that it could as a joint project.

KEY TO DEVELOPMENT

Hudson added that the city could not avoid any more delay. He said the city sewer was the key to the development of some 1,900 acres in the northeast corner of the city.

"The District 4 commissioner, indicating the city's view, said that for a time period of 30-45 days no one would consider scuttling a project the size of Clinton-Oakland."

Included in the area to be served by the Galloway sewer is a projected Pontiac Catholic Central High School, now planned to open next spring, according to city officials.

Alexander said construction of the city's portion of the Clinton-Oakland system probably could begin next spring.

ONE YEAR BEHIND

Harold Kelley of Jones, Henry & Williams, said the city was about one year behind in the timetable to construct the Galloway Creek trunk sewer.

AWARD WINNER—The attractive oak-paneled and cobblestone front of Gwynn's men clothing store at 112 S. Woodward, Birmingham, won first place today in the retail division of the city's Beautiful Birmingham campaign. Both the exterior and interior were designed by owner Robert Gwynn.

He, along with winners in three other categories, received awards at a noon luncheon in the Community House. Others were industrial and professional structures and an apartment building. The campaign was conducted in conjunction with Michigan Week.

Teachers Back Pact Demands

450 Demonstrate at Birmingham Meeting

Between 450 and 500 teachers of the Birmingham School System demonstrated in the rain in support of their contract demands during last night's board of education meeting at the Hill School, Chester and Martin.

The teachers began to gather well before the 8 p.m. board meeting. They milled about in an orderly fashion, receiving support from Waterford Township teachers who stated they supported the Birmingham Education Association's stand.

The B.E.A. is spokesman for the teachers.

Don Cameron, spokesman for the B.E.A., read to the board from a letter that was passed out among the demonstrators.

"We, the teachers of Birmingham, have gathered here tonight 700 strong, to demonstrate our conviction that excellence cannot be attained by aiming at anything other than excellence," the letter said in part.

FULLY AWARE

The board told Cameron that "We are fully aware of the progress of the negotiations, and will endeavor to give careful study to all requests as soon as possible."

At a general meeting held at the Groves High School May 12, the B.E.A. stressed satisfactory progress had not been made with the school board.

The meeting was attended by some 700 teachers, who voted at that time to authorize B.E.A. leadership to take whatever action was necessary short of striking to attain successful negotiations by June 1.

A decision by the group was made to withdraw services from the Birmingham Public Schools in September if the contract has not been successfully concluded.

NOT STRIKE THREAT

"We do not consider this to be a threat of a strike," said Cameron.

Also rejected at the May 12 meeting was the board's salary offer, which was termed inadequate and "not what it appeared to be."

The board made an offer to raise salaries $200 per teacher.
According to Cameron, only a portion of the teachers would receive the full amount.

A counterproposal from the B.E.A. was submitted to the board, according to Cameron, but to date there has been no answer.

In other action last night, Dan Hagon, spokesman for the school custodians, cafeteria employees and bus drivers, stated in a letter he read "Many of the employees feel they are being ignored completely and there are to be no increases or benefits this year at all."

Board spokesmen suggested to Hagon that the two bargaining unions for the group resolve their differences and the board will then endeavor to meet with spokesmen and come to a satisfactory decision for all concerned.

ment building, a lumber yard, a bank and a men's clothing store city's first "Beautiful Birmingham" judging.

Awards were presented to the owners and officers of each at a luncheon in the Community House as part of Michigan Week
"Livelihood Day" ceremonies.

The winners were the Paterson Square Apartments, fronting on Oak and Woodward; Erb-Restrick Lumber Co., 425 Elton; Birmingham Bloomfield Bank, Maple near Adams; and Gwynn's, 112 S.
Woodward.

City Commissioner Ruth Mc-Namee, chairman of the Beautifying Birmingham Committee, presented the civic awards in behalf of the commission.

Over-all attractiveness, maintenance and cleanliness were the factors established by the commission and used by a panel of four judges in selecting the top-rated building in each category.

HONORABLE MENTION

In addition to the first-place winners, 24 other business establishments received certificates of honorable mention as a result of remodeling or rebuilding.

Mrs. McNamee said the goal of the Beautiful Birmingham Campaign "is to harness the enthusiasm and energy of every person who lives in Birmingham in a common effort which will result in a cleaner, healthier, safer and more attractive community."

Four home owners will receive awards Saturday following a parade in the downtown area.

The resignation of Mrs. Garvin Bawden Jr., 97 Gordon, as a director of the League of Women Voters of Michigan was

Barry Exhorts Conservatives

CHICAGO (AP) — Former Johnson administration is engaged "in a relentless drive for new call for conservatism Tuesday night and charged that the."

The 1964 Republican presidential candidate urged conservatives to reaffirm traditional values and work against socialism.

In what he called one of the most important speeches of his life, Goldwater addressed the Free Society Association, a conservative political education group that he founded last June.
He is honorary chairman of the organization.

In attacking the Johnson administration, Goldwater warned that it threatens "to engulf American freedom. For all the folksy benevolence emanating from Washington, the objective is control for purposes of political power."

1,000 IN ATTENDANCE
About 1,000 persons attending a $10-a-plate dinner gave the one-time Arizona legislator three standing ovations and resounding applause.

He reminded the crowd of his presidential campaign when he said he was tired of conservatives saying it is no longer worthwhile to fight.

"Let me tell you," Goldwater said, raising his voice and departing from his prepared text,
"27 million people didn't think that two years ago."

He said the 1965 Congress
"took greater strides toward the socialization of America than in any comparable period in the history of our country," calling it "a dizzy, headlong plunge, accelerated by cries of 'emergency' and accomplished through an executive insistence upon consensus."

The meeting was the first of four regional fund-raising and membership sessions scheduled by the association.

Soap Factory Blast in Detroit Takes 2nd Life

DETROIT (AP) — Burns from an explosion in a Detroit soap factory have claimed a second life.

Sanford Ross, 52, of Dearborn, a vice president of Wayne Soap Co., died Monday night in University of Michigan Medical Center.

The blast at the soap plant
May 10 earlier killed Joseph Sajewicz Jr., of Southgate, an employee of the firm.

The explosion caused more than $250,000 damage to the plant, injuring about 100 persons including about 75 school children who were cut by glass that blew out windows in the school three blocks from the plant.

Senate Unit Votes Watchdogs on CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted yesterday to assign three of its members to the watchdog group that oversees the Central Intelligence Agency.

The move, which already has stirred up a big jurisdictional scrap, is subject to Senate approval.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., has bluntly told the committee members they aren't wanted on the seven-man watchdog panel that he heads.

The CIA group now consists of top-ranking members of the armed services and appropriations committees.

Both Russell and Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., chairman of the appropriations committee, have served notice they will try to sidetrack the resolution before it can be brought to the floor.

Russell, who insists the proposal must obtain clearance from his own armed services committee, said a move will be made to send it to the Senate Rules Committee which is believed opposed to the resolution.

Despite these threatened roadblocks, McCarthy predicted "we will get action on the floor before the end of the session."

He pointed out that he modified several features of his measure to circumvent any parliamentary snafus.

Griffin Duties Are Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen.
Robert Griffin, R-Mich., Tuesday was assigned to the Senate committees on labor and public welfare, and public works. Griffin took his Senate seat Monday.
He was appointed to succeed the late Sen. Pat McNamara, D-Mich.

'M' Officials Ask Addition of $4 Million

LANSING (AP) — University of Michigan officials told a House committee Tuesday the school needs $4 million more than the Senate provided, part of it to help raise teachers' salaries by an average 8 per cent.

Michigan State University told the House Ways and Means Committee last week it needs a $1.7 million boost or it would have to consider a tuition increase.

In response to a legislator's question, Allan Smith, U. of M. vice president for academic affairs, said U. of M. would have to review student tuition and fees if the Legislature does not meet minimum needs of about $62 million.

Thus far, he said, no tuition increase has been discussed.
The school raised tuition last year to a base rate of $348 a year for Michigan residents and $1,000 for out-of-state students.

'NOT AGAIN'
"We certainly don't want to raise it again," said Marvin Nichuss, U. of M. executive vice president.

Meanwhile, Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, said he would introduce an amendment which, in effect, would prevent a state-supported college or university from raising tuition after the Legislature makes its appropriation.

Smith said faculty members received about an 8.7 per cent average pay increase last year.
Another 8 per cent boost is needed, he said, just for U. of M. to be able to compete with other schools. It would cost $4.9 million.

White Charged With Shooting at Home in Dispute Over Selma Sheriff

SELMA, Ala. (AP) — A 24-year-old white Selma man has been arrested in connection with the firing of three shots into the former home of Wilson Baker who is involved in a disputed election for sheriff.

A hearing was scheduled today in City Court for William W. Kilgore who is charged with assault with intent to murder and shooting into an occupied dwelling, Asst. Police Chief No-lan Chambers said.

The home into which the three shots were fired is now the residence of W. T. Lockett, a postal employee. However, it is still listed in official directories as Baker's home.

The former public safety director, now a candidate for the Democratic nomination for sheriff of Dallas County, moved to a house across the street. Baker's opponent is segregationist Sheriff James G. Clark.

Clark ran second to Baker, considered a racial moderate, in

a four-man race in the May 3 primary.

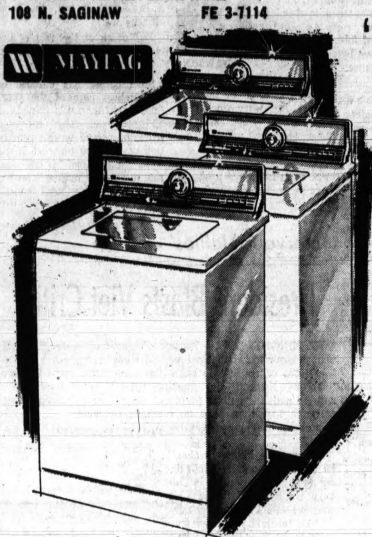

Proceedings began Tuesday in U.S. District Court to determine if six ballot boxes contested by Clark must be counted as part of the official returns of the primary. The boxes contain 1,400 votes for Baker and 200 for Clark.

The U.S. Justice Department challenged a decision by the county Democratic Executive Committee not to count the votes from Negro districts, after Clark's challenge.

Clark also has challenged the remaining 74 boxes in the county and, theoretically at least, Baker could win the nomination

through the court suit and then lose it in the committee, which meets Thursday to decide on Clark's challenge.

Police said they found the three fired shells in Kilgore's bedroom, and that they also discovered a .22-caliber German-made revolver.

Credit unions aren't in business to make big profits. They're in business to serve their members—and these members own the business. So all the earnings go back to them.

Credit unions pay generous dividends on savings. But dividends aren't the only advantage a credit union offers. All qualified members also get life insurance as an extra dividend at no extra cost.

Loans, too, are insured for all qualified members. If you die or are totally and permanently disabled, the loan is paid up in full. Insurance and assurance... they help explain why over a million persons in Michigan are now credit union members. Shouldn't YOU belong?
