Senate Unit Set to Act on School Aid

proposition proposed by Democratic Rep. Lucille McCollough of Dearborn, chairman of the House Education Committee.

D-Berkley, and two Democratic colleagues, Sens. Coleman Young of Detroit and James Gray of Warren, assailed the initial Republican proposal because they said it failed to meet the needs of urban areas.

Nixon Moves on Mafia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, proposing a $61-million war against organized crime, asked Congress today to make corruption of police and local officials and operation of large-scale illegal gambling rings federal offenses.

all federal agencies engaged in the investigation of organized crime and racketeering.

perhaps the most striking idea Nixon outlined was possible application of the antitrust laws, or new statutes incorporating their theories, to crack down on syndicate-controlled business enterprises.

Arm of Law Reaches Over Oceans

Safeguard Data Manipulated, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, a leading critic of President Nixon's missile defense program, says the administration is not allowing opponents of the Safeguard system the same access to classified material enjoyed by supporters.

Too often, the Missouri Democrat charged, the Pentagon refuses to disclose material on the Safeguard to its critics but lifts the security wraps to bolster the administration's position.

"When we want a reply, classification prevents our getting at the facts," Symington said. "It's always a problem."

SOVIET POTENTIAL

The figure was classified. He protested again after asking scientist William G. McMillan the source of his assertion that there is "considerable ABM potential" in the Soviet air defense system now being deployed. McMillan said that should be discussed privately.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, joined Symington in the criticism after former Defense research chief Dr. Herbert York testified he was first denied a Pentagon ABM briefing and then given one only after being called as a committee witness. York opposes Safeguard.

"I was very much concerned," Mrs. Smith said. She also expressed her concern "if President Nixon and Secretary Laird are stacking the cards against critics of the ABM now."

favorable toward the administration side of the argument.

Paul H. Nitze, once the No. 2 man at the Pentagon, told the committee Tuesday he does not think there is too much secrecy in the debate over deployment of ABM.

"Are you of the opinion that we are rather over-classified?" asked Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

"Not really," Nitze replied. "The amount of information which is available to the U.S. public is immense in relationship to the amount available in the Soviet Union."

He said the Armed Services Committee has access to all the information the Pentagon has.

Nitze and McMillan shared a microphone in support of ABM deployment. York and Dr. Wolfgang Panofsky shared another and opposed the system.

All four advocated arms control talks with the Soviet Union.

Nitze said Safeguard deployment would strengthen President Nixon's position in such negotiations.

With a delay of two or three years, Panofsky said, it would be possible to develop a more efficient system, one which would not be dependent on easily destroyed radars.

Said McMillan: "If Prof. Panofsky knows how to make these radars harder in that sort of a time span, I'm sure the Department of Defense would love to have that information."

Senate Panel Gears to Fight Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Post Office Committee says President Nixon's proposed one-cent hike in first-class mail rates is a scheme "to get the administration out of a budget bind."

"As I understand it," Sen. Gale W. McGee said in an interview, revenue from the boost from 6 to 7 cents "will not necessarily improve mail service at all. It will go largely to pay for capital improvements which should be financed by the government's general revenues."

However, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he agrees with the administration that the hike, included in a $811-million postal rate increase proposal, is necessary.

Dirksen said if McGee's committee doesn't approve the bill, he might attach it as a rider to some unrelated legislation.

'SOAK THE USER'

McGee, who called the proposal "a scheme to soak the first-class mail user," said a majority of his committee opposes the increase, expected in bill form Thursday or Friday.

When the bill is filed and when administration plans for revision of postal operations are clearer, McGee said, he'll hold hearings on the request.

McGee also said he was disappointed in Postmaster Gen. Winton M. Blount's testimony Monday before the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on the Post Office's budget requests.

"We have heard lots of statements from the new administration about how it was going to institute business practices in the Post Office Department," he said.

SAME OLD THING

"Yet when they presented their budget it turned out to be the same old thing."

McGee said the administration not only counted on revenue from the penny stamp boost which is not at all certain, but failed to include $272 million of pay increases for postal employees which he concedes are certain to go into effect July 1.

McGee also emphasized that the last increase in the first-class rate, from 5 to 6 cents, took place only a little more than a year ago.

Blount, in urging the 7-cent stamp, said Nixon simply followed President Johnson, who included the penny increase in his final budget submitted in January.

Top Jesuit Quits Post

ROME (AP) — The Rev. Mario Schoenberger, an advocate of a greater voice for young people in church affairs, quit one of the top 25 posts in the Jesuits yesterday.

Father Schoenberger, a 49-year-old Swiss, said he would remain a priest and a celibate.

Forgery Suspect Is Held on Coast

An Orion Township woman suspected of passing forged checks totaling almost $900 in Pontiac the past few weeks was arrested in Santa Monica, Calif., on a stolen credit card charge yesterday, local police said.

Pontiac detectives said they would get a warrant to hold Linda G. Wilkins, 25, of 3946 Robt. in jail there in connection with the local offenses.

City detectives said seven stolen checks, each for $126.48 and endorsed by Linda G. Wilkins, were cashed at stores in Pontiac.

They were part of nearly 300 checks stolen from Cabret Corp., 1015 Gold, Bloomfield Township, in February, township police said.

Santa Monica police informed Pontiac authorities the woman, who used an alias of Adams, was accused of forging a name to a Gulf Oil credit card issued to J. Namowitz, stolen from a Waterford Township service station.

She reportedly financed her motor trip to California with the stolen credit card, according to police.

State Delays Bond Approval

A delegation of Macomb County officials, present to hear how drain bond assessments are to be regarded in view of the recent attorney general's opinion, did not get its questions answered either.

Neither did Louis Schimmel, a recent intermediate schools appointee to the County Tax Allocation Board. Schimmel said a quick determination would be helpful to the allocation boards in all 83 counties, due to meet next month for the divvying of the 11-million allocated levy.

Also present from Oakland County were former County Supervisor Sidney Frid of Northville and James Wells, a Southfield attorney. Both spoke against the bonding request.

Slayings Link Probed

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Madison detectives left for Michigan yesterday to check the slayings of five young women there that authorities said might be connected with the unsolved murder of a University of Wisconsin coed last year.

L-W Police Chief Ralph Hanson said he has been in contact with authorities at Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, and the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, about the unsolved murders of three coeds and two other girls.

where she underwent abdominal surgery and later was released.

The charge temporarily was dropped by the prosecutor's office while he received mental treatment at Pontiac State Hospital, where he had once been a patient. It was renewed after his release.

In another case, the French government has been searching for Bruce Houle, nearly 22, of 415 E. Wallon, for two years to see if he wanted to cancel his French citizenship.

Sheriff's Detective James A. Patrick located him at Eastern Michigan University, according to the French consulate in Detroit.

11 MONTHS LATE

But the consulate says it's 11 months too late for him to cancel his citizenship since he is past his 21st birthday and now faces the problem of being drafted by the French army if he visits that country.

Houle was born in Pontiac of a French mother and American father, the consulate said. He is considered a French citizen and could have retained the citizenship up until the age of 21.

"It's unfortunate we couldn't locate him earlier," a consulate spokesman said.

Patrick traced him to his mother's current address in Pontiac from a 10-year-old address of the family given him by the consulate. It took Patrick one week, on and off, to find him.

DUAL CITIZENSHIP

As it stands now, Houle is both an American and French citizen. And he could be drafted by the American or French army—whichever gets him first.

GM Truck, Coach Has Record Sales

GMC Truck & Coach Division maintained its record selling pace with 4,457 truck and coach deliveries in the middle 10 days of April, Martin J. Caserio, a vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, reported today.

April is the seventh straight month of record GMC sales levels. The former mid-April sales high was 4,357, established last year.

Calendar-year truck and coach sales through April 20 totaled 45,300 units, 8.2 per cent above the previous record of 41,831 over the same span set in 1968, Caserio said.

Student Panel to Air Youth's View of Drugs

BIRMINGHAM — A youth's view of drugs will be discussed by a panel of Barnum Junior High School students tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the Barnum Auditorium, Frank and Purdy.

The six panelists are members of the school's eighth and ninth-grade independent study classes.

The presentation, sponsored by the Barnum PTA, was organized so parents and other members of the community could hear what youngsters are thinking about drugs and drug abuse.

Statistics reportedly show the greatest growth in drug use recently is among 13-15 year olds.

Birmingham public schools will offer a six week speech correction program, June 17 to July 25.

The program is open to preschool and school-age children in both public and nonpublic schools in Oakland County. Diagnostic testing and individual and group therapy will be provided.

Parents who feel their child has speech or language problems may contact the Special Services Office.

There is no fee. The special education program is financed by the state. Enrollment deadline is June 13.

Net profit at Kuhlman Corp. based here, for the first quarter ended March 31 totaled $456,461, a decline from the $638,070 reported for the same period a year ago.

Pontiac developer Charles Langs appeared for a "meet the critics" session of the City Commission last night.

He came on a commission request that he explain the financing of one of his largest projects, the building of some 545 units of rent supplement housing and housing for the elderly under construction on West Kennett west of Alcott School.

For the last three commission sessions, two commissioners, Robert C. Irwin of district 2 and Robert F. Jackson of district 5, have been questioning the special assessment rate in Langs' proposed North Hill Farms development.

The city is to assume $128,000 of $174,000 total cost of street improvements on the site.

"WINDFALL CLAIMED" Irwin and Jackson have charged that, under the assessment schedule, Langs' firm was realizing a "windfall" of some $57,000, because he could get money from his mortgage company, plus the charge to future tenants.

Langs reported that, in his approval from the officials at the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Federal Housing Administration (FHA), some $83,400 was the amount agreed for utilities on the project. He said he had already spent $14,000 over that amount.

Langs charged Jackson was "misinformed and not intelligent in this," meaning the financing of the project.

Jackson demanded to see Langs' books, but Langs replied: "It's none of your business."

He said Jackson had been trying to pry information about him from the FHA office. "They (FHA) told me that they wish you would cut them out," Langs said and all such information is confidential and cannot be legally released.

establish it... it's not a healthy thing."

Irwin said he was repeating objections about the PAPC that he has made "time and time again."

"I'm not getting much response," he admitted.

He was joined in voting against financing the PAPC by District 5 Commissioner Robert F. Jackson.

Jackson called the new bylaws "a good road map for an advisory committee." His objections to financing centered around his wish that the PAPC would remain more independent.

Legal Steps to Avoid Clinton Project Eyed

Pontiac may go to court to protect itself from being included in a giant improvement project for the Clinton River east of the city.

City officials claim Pontiac may be paying for improvements mainly benefiting Macomb County.

Joseph A. Neippling, director of public works and services has repeatedly warned the City Commission initial cost could be $500,000 to the city with much more due in the future.

The city's legal staff was ordered at last night's commission meeting to take any legal steps necessary to prevent being included in the assessment district.

The river improvement project is proposed by a drainage district called the Augmented Drainage Board formed by several down-river communities. The initial project to 18 months imprisonment for cost has been placed at $19 million.

Delegations from the city have been attending all hearings on the matter held in Mount Clemens, the latest one April 14.

Neippling reported other governments included in the drainage plan but apparently objecting were Pleasant Ridge, Avon Township, Almont and Brandon Township. Also reportedly objecting is the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Neippling said the city has already spent millions of dollars on the Clinton River in the city and plans to spend much more.

He charged the new drainage board has been withholding information on its plans.

He warned the city must take legal action by May 5 or forever be included in the district.

Sit-In Ended: Bay City Says Bias Exists

BAY CITY (UPI) — An estimated 200 persons, some of whom had occupied the city council chambers since Monday night, called off the sit-in early today after the council enacted a resolution that admitted race problems exist in Bay City.

The Rev. James Miller, a spokesman for the group, called the resolution "a very fine beginning."

Father Miller, a priest at St. Boniface Catholic Church, also said the group presented the city council with 10 "demands" to be discussed Friday.

Father Miller and about 45 other persons began the occupation Monday after the city council refused to enact a zoning change to permit progress on a 120-unit moderate income housing project sponsored by Regional Homes Inc., a non-profit corporate of eight local churches.

Beer License Narrowly OK'd

A grocery store SDM license (retail beer and wine) was narrowly approved by the City Commission last night, and a request for a Class C license (liquor by the glass) was unanimously denied.

Opposition to both licenses was led by District 4 Commissioner P. Jack Douglas.

"I'm against any new place to sell this type of beverage," he said. The city already has 100 SDM licenses.

The SDM license was granted for Sefa's Market, 1249 Baldwin with approval given 3-2. Voting against the proposal were Douglas and James Marshall.

District 7, T. Warren Fowler, District 1, abstained.

District 6 Commissioner Westley J. Wood was absent.

OWNER TRANSFER

Sought for WKNR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has received an ownership transfer application for radio station WKNR in Dearborn.

Control of the station is to be transferred from Nellie M. Knorr, executrix of the estate of Frederick A. Knorr, Walter O. Briggs Jr., Van Patrick and others to John Communications Inc.

It was reported that some 40 licenses for liquor by the glass were in operation in the city, eight others are in escrow and three have not yet been issued.

In other business, the commission:

• Was informed the Michigan Public Service Commission had set outdoor public hearings for 10 a.m. May 1 at the railroad crossing on Sanderson and then old lines deemed necessary before paving is done on the street.

• Reappointed three members to three-year terms on the planning commission: Daniel R. Veazy, 18 Illinois; F. Keith Hills, 38 Newberry and Howard F. Simmons, 130 E. Iroquois.

• Reappointed Neil McCormick, 38 Ellwood, to a four-year term on the Heating Board of Examiners.

• Sent two rezoning requests to the planning commission: 1415 N. Perry from residential to commercial; and 244 N. Perry from residential to office.

• Set a public hearing for May 9 at 8 p.m., for presentation of an assessment roll for construction of a sanitary sewer in Westway Drive from 97 feet south of Benson to Michigan.

Property owners with working septic tanks have been objecting to being included in any proposed sewer project.

• Approved a $20,000 water main project on 650 feet of Seneca, north from University.

Supervisors Can't Require Magistrates Be Lawyers

The County Board of Supervisors won't be able to specify that magistrates to assist Oakland County 32nd district judges must be lawyers, but they'll have final approval on any men the judges hire.

This is the result of findings by Corporation Counsel Robert Allen reported yesterday at a public meeting of the protection and judiciary committee.

Allen's opinion said the county could add no qualifications to state statutes which say only that such magistrates must be residents of the 32nd district and registered electors in that district.

The three judges, Martin Boyle of Walled Lake, Gerald E. McNally of Independence Township and Robert Shipper of Rochester, had requested part-time magistrates shortly after district courts were initiated at the start of the year. They had been requested to wait until work loads could prove their need.

The public protection and judiciary committee has now approved three magistrate positions, one for each judge. The magistrates, to work on a part-time basis at a salary of $9,000 a year, are to handle minor cases in the district.

School Board Post Is Filled

ROCHESTER — The school board here has appointed James Ludwick, 2341 S. Christian Hills, to fill out the term of resigning board member James McAlpine.

McAlpine, assistant director of alumni education at Oakland University, informed the board that he has accepted a position with the Episcopal Church in New York City. The balance of McAlpine's term on the Rochester school board is two years, two months.

Ludwick, a school board member for eight years who did not seek reelection last June, will serve the two-month interim period until the June 9 school board election.

Supt. Douglas Lund was presented a report recently to the board of education from the North Central Association that made no recommendations for improvements in the Rochester School District.

"It's rather unusual for North Central (a school accrediting agency) not to make improvement recommendations, for they have some pretty stringent standards. I guess no news is good news," Supt. Lund commented.

Huron Valley Vote Meeting Tonight

A steering committee will meet tonight to direct citizen efforts in support of the Huron Valley School District's request for a 6-mill increase and a 15-mill renewal.

The millage election is June 9. The group of concerned citizens was formed shortly after the 21-mill package was defeated last month by 165 votes out of 3,600 cast.

The public is urged to attend tonight's meeting at 7:30 at the Milford High School Library.

Reports on publicity and voter registration will be given for their precinct area.

A public meeting will be held Monday at 7:30 at the high school for all campaign workers. Final plans on publicity and finance will be approved.

Oakland Twp. Plan Aired

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — A definite consensus against more light industry for this township was felt by planning commission members last night at the first public hearing on a new zoning ordinance proposed for the entire community.

The proposal, the result of a two-year study, was presented for public comment. It would replace an existing zoning plan adopted in 1954.

More than 60 homeowners crowded township hall, mainly to protest the location of proposed light manufacturing land use, roughly at Adams Road and Silver Bell.

The township planning commission, host for the hearing, took no action. Chairman Lionel Watson said the commission would schedule future hearings.

The over-all plan was presented by David Allen of Urban Land Consultants Co., Utica. Allen's proposal calls, basically, for:

- The retention of single-family residential zoning for the majority of Oakland Township property.

- Retention of light industrial and general business zoning in the Goodison area.

- Upgrading several current single-family residential zones to dictate future larger minimum lot sizes.

- Adding three small general business (commercial) areas.

- Setting aside the ample and "relatively uninhabited" Adams-Silver Bell area for industrial use.

- Adding zones for the future development of four mobile home park sites adjacent to the Adams-Silver Bell industrial area.

EXPLAINS RECOMMENDATION

Asked by Miles West, 2451 Silver Bell, why he recommended light industry for Adams-Silver Bell, Allen responded: "After evaluating all possible sites, the Adams-Silver Bell area was found to be best. The proposed extension of Silver Bell straight out to I-94 was a plus sign for industry. Also, the area is relatively uninhabited."

The "relatively uninhabited" remark drew several muted jeers from area inhabitants who turned out in force to make their protest.

Floyd Warstler, 4161 Adams, who owns 64 acres, complained that if light industry were allowed to move into his area, "the beautiful Adams Road area would be spoiled with junk!"

Warstler's comment prompted a question by Dan Burgess, 5365 Brewster: "Why do we have to allow for light industry at all? Why can't we just have all residential?"

'BETTER PROTECTION'

The planning commission attorney, Larry Heitsch, explained:

"The township's zoning ordinance hasn't been updated since the 1950s. With a complete zoning plan for the entire township, an industrial concern could develop only within properly zoned and specific areas. The township's interests would be better protected this way."

"Also, state laws generally stipulate that a township must provide about 28 per cent of its land for light industrial use," Heitsch stated.

Heitsch gave a similar reason for mobile home parks, citing laws that forbid "discriminating against mobile homes, which are recognized, legitimate housing types."

Watson pointed out that the township presently has no such applications and was merely "planning for the future."

One woman arose to declare that the planning commission would "invile a rape of the scenic landscape" of Oakland Township if it proceeded to adopt the zoning proposal as is.

Several of the audience members asked if the planning commission had alternate total zoning plans on file.

"Isn't it rather dictatorial to suggest only one plan?" one man asked.

2 ADDITIONS PROPOSED

Watson reiterated last night's meeting was only the first.

Two additions to Allen's proposal were recommended.

Robert Kelly of Detroit Edison Co. pointed out that the zoning ordinance did not exempt from formal control development of such utility projects as power call boxes, conduits, water and gas mains, electrical towers and fire hydrants.

Another citizen called for minimum building size restrictions for industries, a facet of Allen's proposal that was admittedly lacking.

Imlay City Nixes 2 School Issues

IMLAY CITY — Two money issues went down to defeat — both by wide margins — in school election here, earlier this week.

A $2.7-million bond issue that would have provided funds for the building of a new middle school, site acquisition and additions to the high school was turned down by voters, 648-408.

A renewal of 4.5 mills was defeated by a 665-513 vote.

Supt. Bradley Henson said that the defeats would "be a topic at next Monday's school board meeting." The board could place the questions on a second ballot in June.

Shipment of Checks Draws a Risky Blank

FLINT (AP) — Three thousand checks, which could be worth for $1.5 million, are missing from a shipment to Flint by an Indiana printer, Flint police reported Monday.

Police said the checks actually were found missing a week ago at a Flint freight company's office.

They bear the names of three Michigan banks and are imprinted: "Chevrolet Motor Division, General Motors Corp., Flint Assembly." They also bear the imprint: "Not good for more than $500."

The checks are numbered 596,001 through 599,000.

Will Ask Only Renewal of 7.5 Mills

Birmingham Schools Cut Plea

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education took what it termed "a definite step backward" last night in adopting a resolution to ask only for renewal of 7.5 mills for five years at the June 9 school election.

An 11-mill proposal — 7.5 renewal and a 3.5 hike — was defeated by a 3-1 margin on March 24 — 8,232 to 2,758. It marked the first millage defeat for the school district in nine years.

A revised bond proposition calling for $3.7 million to build additions to the district's two high schools will also be on the June ballot. The bond issue request was reduced from the original $4.5 million, which lost by a 5,976-to-4,774 vote in the March election.

The move to seek only the renewal came after considerable discussion on a proposal by board member Charles Halstead, who believes the board should have asked for at least 9 mills in order to provide funds for a "bargaining tool" in current negotiations with the Birmingham Teachers Association (BEA).

SALARY INCREASES

About 70 per cent of the new money sought in the previous millage request was intended for teacher salary increases.

The initial package proposed by the BEA asks for a total economic increase of $2.31 million, including fringe benefits. The salary increase would total $1,736,000.

Board president Pell Hollingshead said, "It is not realistic to make provisions for a millage increase at this time. The simple fact is that the public doesn't realize the need."

Hollingshead added there is considerable evidence that many voted against the last millage request because they felt the additional revenue the district would receive from increase property valuations would provide adequate operational finances.

COMMUNICATION GAP

"We simply failed to communicate on this point. Most of the additional $1 million to $1.5 million provided in the valuation increase will go for normal salary increases beyond (new) salaries bargained for and other normal operational expense increases," Hollingshead said.

He added the board will be considerably handicapped in teacher negotiations and meeting other operational expenses. Considerable cutbacks throughout the system are anticipated with possibly up to 60 teacher cutbacks likely in physical education, art, music, and the school libraries.

Board member George Schmidt said the millage defeat has taken the momentum out of the school district's drive for continuing quality. He said the voters will in the long run be paying more than the 3.5 mills they defeated.

He said the only answer to avoid complete financial chaos in the Birmingham district and other districts in Michigan is for voters to pressure legislators into fiscal tax reform.

County Unit to Seek Bids for New Complex and Jail

The Oakland County Building Authority yesterday voted to advertise for bids to construct a new law enforcement complex and jail estimated to cost near $9 million.

The complex is to be built on Service Center property on N. Telegraph.

Action was taken prior to obtaining Michigan Municipal Finance Commission approval for sale of the 30-year bonds required to finance the facility.

County administrators said application for MFC approval would be made before bids are awarded. The bids are to be received May 28.

QUESTION ARISES

A question regarding the county's ability to get approval for the bonds arose with the issuance earlier this year of a state attorney general's opinion.

The opinion contended that Oakland County could not levy nonvoted taxes outside the 15-mill limit to pay for bonds, except in cases of financial emergency.

The county has financed the east wing addition to the courthouse with such funds. Mrs. Maxine Virtue, an assistant attorney general who wrote the opinion, said earlier that unless a financial history could prove the county's intent to keep such funds within the 15-mill limit, the application for sale would be refused.

Dryden Voters Pass 2 of 3 School Issues

DRYDEN — Voters approved two of the three money proposals on the school ballot here and defeated a proposed 4-mill increase by only three votes.

Proposal One, a 6-mill renewal question, was passed by a 155-96 vote; proposal two called for the 4-mill increase, failing, 124 yes to 127 no; and proposal three asked a 1½-mill building and site acquisition bond issue for five years, passing 129-123.

Walled Lake Details School Tax Needs

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

WALLED LAKE — The opening and operation of the new Western High School, inflation, and increased enrollments are listed as reasons for the additional 5 mills being asked in Walled Lake's school tax election Tuesday.

A 1-mill renewal, also sought, would put the district's total tax at 35.3 mills. The present school tax is 30.3 mills, with 23.3 going for operation and 7 mills for school construction bonds.

About 3 of the additional 5 mills are needed to open and operate the district's second high school. Another half-mill will go to set up a community schools program. The remaining 1½ mills would take care of increased enrollments, higher costs due to inflation and competitive teacher salaries.

"Failure of the millage would mean a reduction of our program at both the elementary and secondary levels, a cut-back in our staff and, because we would not be able to open the new high school, half-days for all 9-12 graders," said Assistant Supt. Rolland J. Langerman.

TO EASE OVERCROWDING

The opening of the new high school, on Beck near Pontiac Trail, will reduce serious overcrowding at Walled Lake Central High School, Smart Junior High, and Walled Lake Junior High.

Enrollment for next year in grades 9 through 12 will be close to 3,000. Central High School can house only 1,300 students. Western will house 1,700.

Plans call for removing ninth graders from the two junior highs and placing them, with grades 10 through 12, at the senior high schools.

Should the millage proposition fail, the only feasible solution to housing 9-12 graders next year would be to place these students on half-day sessions at Central High School, according to a school board spokesman.

"At the time the bond issue for the construction of the Western building was passed in 1966 the school district stressed that it would need operating moneys for the school some time in the future, Langerman explained.

"We did not ask for operating millage then because we were not certain how much costs would increase over a period of three years, nor did we know how much state aid and other income would be available at the time the school opened."

"Also, we did not need the money during this three-year period and did not want to levy millage for which we had no existing need. This is in line with the general philosophy supported by the board," he said.

Inflationary pressures are particularly noticeable in the area of teacher's salaries, which represent 75.28 per cent of the school budget, he said. Salaries of all personnel serving the district total 87.35 per cent of the budget.

Langerman pointed out that the quality of the educational program of a school district depends largely on the quality of its teachers and often the quality of the teachers depends on the salary the district is able to pay.

Close to 60 per cent of those area residents replying to a recent board survey of attitudes said they thought teacher salaries should be competitive with surrounding districts. Another 20 per cent said they thought salaries should be among the highest, to attract the best teachers.

14 PAY MORE

Current beginning salary for a Walled Lake teacher with a bachelor's degree is $6,850. Fourteen of the 28 school districts in Oakland County pay more. The beginning salary for a teacher with a master's degree is $7,330. Nineteen other county districts pay more.

"This 1½ mills amount to close to $200,000 in tax revenue. The loss of this money plus the loss of the one-mill renewal would require deleting approximately $445,000 from the budget," said Langerman.

AN LOI, Vietnam (AP) — The Buddhist monk blew a whistle, and a swarm of youngsters with shaved heads and wearing fluttering yellow pants hurried from their classrooms into slit trenches.

Without shoving or pushing, they fell in line and crouched low, heads between their arms.

"It's an unusual way to run an orphanage," said Nguyen Van Su, "but we have to do our best to keep these poor children alive when the shooting starts around here."

Su, 44, is a Catholic layman who heads a unique village for 1,630 orphaned or abandoned Vietnamese children.

CARVED FROM JUNGLE

The village 15 miles east of Saigon was carved from the jungle by Su and voluntary helpers — Buddhist monks and nuns, Catholic social workers, members of half a dozen Vietnamese sects — almost two years ago.

Despite the presence of huge U.S. Army bases, a Thailand army division and Vietnamese outposts less than a mile away, the war is still being fought at the doorstep of the children's sanctuary.

"Every other day woodcutters working in our area see Vietcong soldiers in the jungle — but we can't tell the Americans because they may start a battle here, and the war could easily spill over into the orphans' village," said Su.

He recounted how two months ago the Vietcong ambushed a Vietnamese convoy right outside the gates of the orphans' village on Route 15.

DODGE BULLETS

"When four wounded soldiers dragged themselves through our gate to get medical aid from the monks, the Vietcong fired after them. Some days later a truck full of American soldiers was blown 30 feet high on the same spot, when a Vietcong mine exploded."

"For several days American soldiers fired into the brush when they passed. Many bullets flew overhead. But we were lucky. So far only one child has been wounded."

Last week the elders of the orphans' village wrote President Nguyen Van Thien and the Vietcong's National Liberation Front, asking both to take the site of the orphanage out of their combat zones for the duration of the war. Neither has replied yet.

Now the only protection for the children is the slit trenches and large signs posted around the village reading "Please Don't Shoot at the Orphans' Village." They are Vietnamese, English, Thai and Korean.

'SOLDIERS' CHILDREN' Referring to these multi-lingual signs a Buddhist nun said, "I wish the soldiers knew that their own kids are living here, we have eight American babies, some Koreans and two Filipinos. Three French children and a German boy, all 15 years old, were left over from the French-Indochina war. Three Japanese kids were born when Japanese engineers built the power plant north of here. Since intensified fighting resumed with this year's Viet-These abandoned children of con population of the orphan village of all corruption," Su told an American officer who asked how his soldiers could help.

DON'T WANT MONEY From the beginning, the village has not sought monetary help from anyone. Gifts of lumber, tin roofing, medicine or machinery are welcomed but not money.

A big picture displayed in the center of the village shows Christ shaking hands with Buddha. "Money to us is the beginning

Nguyen Van Su, leader of the village for orphaned and abandoned children, admits it's an unusual way to run an orphanage. "But we have to do our best to keep these poor children alive," he says.

Time Debate Not Ended by Upcoming Switch

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's little light and no joy to those to whom the annual switch-over to Daylight Saving Time is a burden. There are also those who—the name of crime prevention and other claimed benefits — would have the government double the time and give the nation an extra hour of afternoon daylight all year long.

But in Michigan — where the proposal was narrowly defeated at the polls — more people will be happy with the switch than unhappy, if the results of the vote can be thus interpreted.

The issue fell in November voting, and a subsequent recount of key precincts failed to overturn the decision.

Father Saves Life of Son Hurt in Baseball Game

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The life of an injured high school baseball player apparently was saved Monday when his father rushed from the stands to perform an emergency tracheotomy.

The injury came as young Anthony Durham, 18-pound freshman second baseman for Donelson High School was tagged in the throat as he tried to steal third base in a game with Tennessee Preparatory School. He reportedly suffered a fractured larynx.

His father, Donald, an aero medical superintendent for the Tennessee Air National Guard, ran from the stands and used a pocket knife to open his son's throat and give him air.

The youth was listed in fair condition at General Hospital.

Files at the Department of Transportation, which sets the nation's time guidelines, are bulging with letters from people who, in the words of one aide, "all have their own magic position or dealing with time, and a lot of other problems as well."

The department is charged with implementing the law which now calls for uniform daylight saving six months of the year.

Several pending House and Senate bills would change that span at one or the other end of the period which now runs from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

At least one bill, by Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., would make daylight saving a year-round affair.

In a letter to the White House first proposed by Benjamin Franklin in 1784, says an extra hour of afternoon light would provide more outdoor leisure for adults and more playtime for children in fall and winter.

He too has been promoting the step as an anticrime measure. He says also it would save on electric bills.

A Junior Editors Quiz About DIESEL ENGINES

QUESTION: How do diesel engines work?

ANSWER: The ordinary engine in a car is of the spark-ignition type. Electric sparks inside the cylinders ignite the gas vapor which is drawn in. Explosions force the pistons down.

The diesel engine does not have an electrical system to set off the fuel. Instead, it uses the principle that when air is suddenly compressed, its temperature will rise.

Look at (1) in our cross section of the diesel engine. At upper right, a valve has opened, allowing air to rush in. In (2), as the piston moves up, this air is compressed, becoming as hot as 900 degrees.

In (3), fuel from the fuel jet at left is injected and burns in an explosion as the hot air sets it afire. In (4) the piston having been forced down, rises again. The valve at upper left has opened to allow the burned exhaust vapors to move out.

Diesel engines use inexpensive fuel oil and give a greater return of mechanical energy produced for fuel consumed than can gasoline engines. That is why they are used for so many heavy-duty jobs, such as moving trains and trucks and the heavy equipment used in building roads.

'Oil Slick' From State Fouls Lake Erie

ROCKWOOD (AP)—A 35-square-mile portion of Lake Erie was covered today with a floating substance variously described as a waste oil slick, a water-soluble chemical or "some kind of gop."

The material was discharged accidentally Tuesday from a waste storage pond at Chrysler Corp. plant in Trenton, between Detroit and the point where the Detroit River empties into Lake Erie.

The Coast Guard said it had located the patch of oil between midchannel and the Canadian shore at the mouth of the river. Corp. said it had tested the discharge in the river and discovered no trace of oil but found it consisted of a water soluble chemical called Dresinate, which he said is harmless to humans and wildlife and is used to break down oil.

SOME KIND OF GOP

"We know there's a big patch of some kind of gop out there on the lake, and we've got two boats in the middle of it right now trying to figure out what it is," the Chrysler spokesman said.

The spokesman later said experts had determined the patch consisted of mostly Dresinate with "as few as two gallons of oil."

"That's their contention," said a Coast Guard spokesman, "but there is an oil slick."

Laurence O'Leary, director of the local office of the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration said that "close to 200,000 gallons of polluted material" flowed into the lake.

Of that, he said, more than 10,000 gallons was oil.

THREATENS BEACHES

Changes Campus

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dr. Seymour Parker, professor of anthropology and social science at Michigan State University, has been named chairman of the Department of Anthropology at the University of Utah. The appointment, effective July 1, has been approved by Utah's Board of Trustees.

Waggett said the slick was threatening beaches on the Canadian side of the lake and river mouth, but added that none had washed up on shore.

The Chrysler spokesman said a total of some 72,000 gallons of material was pumped out of the storage basin into the river. Material normally is pumped from the bottom of the pond, he said, but the waste sludge remains afloat on the top and does not escape until it is trucked away and burned.

The valve carrying the material from the basin was left open accidentally for 24 hours, the spokesman said.

The threatened area is dotted with private and public beaches. Across the channel on the Michigan side are beaches and a game preserve.

The Water Resources Commission spokesman said that some 20,000 ducks also were threatened by the substance. "I don't know of any duck mortalities yet, but we've found some birds with oil on them," he said.

A private firm was retained by the auto company to contain the patch and skim it from the surface of the water, Chrysler said.

FTC to Probe Radio Setup

Is All-News Operation an Antitrust Violation?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If a network-affiliated radio station owned by a big newspaper starts an all-news operation in competition with a privately owned local station, are federal antitrust laws being violated?

For the first time in history, an agency of the federal government plans to look at a situation along these lines.

It involves charges by WAVA, a 1,000-watt daytime station in suburban Arlington, Va., that it was unfair competitively for Washington, D. C., station owned by the Washington Post Co., to go into all-news programming.

WAVA has been a full-time news station since 1965. WTOP went to that format last month.

NEVER MADE PUBLIC

The Federal Trade Commission voted 3-2 to examine the WAVA charges — a decision never made public by the agency but published by the Post, the capital's only morning daily newspaper and a party to the action.

Chairman Paul Rand Dixon and Commissioners Everett MacIntyre and Mary Gardiner Jones voted in favor of the investigation. Commissioners Philip Elman and James M. Nicholson opposed it.

FTC staff investigators have declined comment, apparently embarrassed that news of the investigation leaked out.

Arthur W. Arundel, president and owner of WAVA, has used the station to editorialize against what he calls the "Washington Post Combine: a Question of Excessive Power."

'SELF-SERVING'

WTOP has answered through the pages of the Washington Post that Arundel's editorials are "self-serving" and contended there was "no reason why WAVA should be immune from competition in all-news programming. Such immunity would indeed produce a kind of monopoly — for WAVA."

Arundel countered: "The Washington Post Co. not only now dominates the news industry here but is inexorably suffocating its competition. The important issue is not whether one agrees with the Washington Post Co. editorially; it is that the nation's capital is steadily losing the availability of diverse news sources and diverse editorial opinion."

Besides the morning newspaper and WTOP, the Post owns one of Washington's three largest television stations, WTOP-TV, and Newsweek, the national weekly news magazine. Arundel owns a small AM-FM combine in Charles Town, W. Va., and publishes the Loudoun (Va.) Times Mirror.

BIG BACKING

The Washington Post announced WTOP had launched its all-news format March 10 with a news staff of "70 persons, backed by CBS News, Westinghouse Foreign News Service and the 10-City Private Line News Exchange." The exchange is a tie-up with CBS-owned stations in several major cities.

WAVA began a type of all-news programming in January 1962, and went to a total all-news format in 1965. It has a staff of 18 plus "stringers" — newsmen on radio stations covering for them — in Richmond, Va., and Baltimore and Annapolis, Md.

Both stations take the domestic wire services.

The only other large city where a similar situation exists is New York. WINS, the first station in the nation to go to all-news broadcasting, now has competition from WCBS. Neither station is connected with a newspaper.

Dealer Tells Senators New-Car Defects Rising

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin J. Mullane, a Ford dealer in Newark, N.J., told senators Tuesday new cars are arriving from the factory "in worse condition" than in the past.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., opening a new round of hearings on auto repair problems, had asked him whether cars are arriving from factories with more or less defects.

In his reply, Mullane rattled off a list of 30 defects he said his shop had found Monday in checking newly delivered cars.

He did not say how many cars were involved, but said repairs had to be made to correct leaks, brakes, electrical systems, wheel alignments and other items.

He said he was entitled to factory compensation on only 10 of them because the others were among 87 items for normal pre-delivery repair checks to get cars in shape for customers.

PAYMENTS TO GO UP

Hart said auto makers have agreed to increase payments to dealers so car buyers can have a better chance to get the war-ranly repairs they pay for when they buy a car.

Hart said Ford, Chrysler and General Motors also have started action in Detroit to put more emphasis on making new cars and easier to fix. He described this as a start toward solving the problems.

But Mullane and several other witnesses before Hart's Senate antitrust subcommittee said that has not been enough.

Piggyback movement of freight, in truck containers by railroad flatcars, was up 12 per cent in 1968 over 1967.

DPOA Is Wary of Court Ruling

Crockett Says Decision Vindicates His Action

DETROIT (AP) — If a Supreme Court decision limiting the ability of police to take fingerprints means "you could not use some form of elimination of suspects, I think law and order has been dealt a final blow," says the head of the Detroit patrolmen's union.

Carl Parsell, president of the Detroit Police Officers Association, said he could not make a final assessment of the effects of Tuesday's high court edict until he knew more about it.

"If the court means to protect people from being harassed and picked up on the streets wholesale, then we're in support of that, as we always have been," Parsell said.

But the DPOA chief said he would not like to see the decision regarded as support of Detroit Recorder's Court Judge George Crockett, who recently sparked a controversy by ordering the release of a number of police suspects because he said tests to determine if they had fired weapons had been administered unconstitutionally.

SUSPECT'S RIGHTS

The decision places fingerprints in the same category with other evidence gathered by police and specifies that they cannot be used as evidence if they are taken without informing a suspect of his right to an attorney.

Crockett said the decision vindicates his release of the suspects arrested by police in the shot-out outside an inner city church last month after a rally of the black separatist Republic of New Africa.

The Recorder's Court judge said he felt the nitrate tests administered by police were improper in the same manner city fingerprints were in the case heard by the Supreme Court.

"I view the decision as drawing a distinction between getting identifying information and getting information from a potential defendant for use against him at trial," Crockett.

"I think nitrate tests and fingerprints would sometimes fall in the second category," he added.

Cabdriver Gives His Passengers Added Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington cabbie Nick Aravantis is a hunkie who gives service with a smile—and something else besides.

Arrayed across the back of the front seat of his cab in plastic containers are 14 different brands of cigarettes, four packs of cigars, gum, candles and cough lozenges.

"My name is Nick. Welcome my cab. Hope this free service makes your day a little happier. Help yourself," proclaims a sign.

A final touch—the morning newspaper lying across the back seat with the handwritten note, "Good morning!" placed to its top right corner.

Mayor Testifies in Assault Suit

Cavanagh Claims Attack by Wife, In-Law

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh took the stand in his own defense Tuesday in a $100,000 assault suit and testified he had been attacked by his former wife and her sister-in-law during an argument in 1967.

"They were in a frenzy, like wild people," Cavanagh said of Mary Cavanagh and Ruth O. Martin.

The argument was over who should keep custody of one of the Cavanagh sons. The mayor is being sued by Mrs. Martin, who charges she was assaulted.

Cavanagh said he and his six sons were living in Manooogian Mansion, the mayor's official residence, while two daughters were living with Mrs. Cavanagh.

One day in July 1967, Cavanagh testified, he was sitting at the mansion's pool in only a bathing suit talking with the city's public works commission-

When the two women arrived, the mayor said, he followed them into the bedroom of a son, Philip, who was then five years old. Mrs. Cavanagh said the boy was going to live with her, the mayor testified.

Cavanagh said he told her the boy was staying with him and Mrs. Martin responded by calling the mayor "a fat, pink lobster."

"But it was not in tones of endearment," Cavanagh said.

Judge Edward S. Piggins turned down a request by Mrs. Martin's attorney for a change in location of the trial. The attorney had argued that Cavanagh would be favorably treated if there were any Negroes on the jury.

The mayor "had made a play for certain minority groups, the benefits of which are bound to come to him," the attorney

Also named to the subcommittee of the House Civil Rights Committee were Democratic Reps. Nelis Saunders and William Ryan, both of Detroit, and Rep. William Jowett, R-Port Huron.

Reagan Fears an Invasion of Indigents

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Ronald Reagan says a Supreme Court decision has thrown California open to a mass invasion of the poor from other states.

He foresees a situation in which roaming indigents will use California as a vast winter resort, returning to their points of origin to spend their summers.

Reagan said at a news conference Tuesday that at the very least the Supreme Court decision voulding residence requirements for welfare applicants

Until now, California has enforced a one year waiting period before placing needy persons from outside its borders on paid relief.

MIGRANT POOR
Reagan aides estimated the Supreme Court's elimination of such requirements would add 3,000 to 4,000 migrant poor to California welfare rolls each month.

For the 800,000 poor who are either unemployed or make less than living wage, aid to families with dependent children in California average $48.40 a person each month.

The figures cited by Montgomery showed that Mississippi pays an average of $8.50 a month, Arkansas 19.25, Alabama $15.35 and Texas $18.35.

California pays the 292,000 elderly poor on old age assistance an average of $106.75 a month. In Mississippi, Montgomery said, the average monthly payment is $35.74 a month and in Texas it is $60.

"Secretary of the Year" of Pontioak Chapter, National Secretaries' Association (International), Mrs. Henry C. Smith of Second Avenue, will be honored by her chapter this evening at Bedell's Restaurant.

Ruth Smith, recording secretary of the chapter, performs secretarial duties for Dr. Gerald G. Freeman and Dr. Milton J. Hill in the Speech and Hearing Clinic of Oakland Schools.

Ruth has served on many committees of the chapter, has been on the board of directors since 1966.

The Smiths and son, Keith, are looking forward to the trip they have planned this summer which will take them to Alaska and Jasper Park Lodge in British Columbia, Canada.

Ruth's favorite activities are sewing, cooking, collecting recipes and playing the organ.

Human Traits Quartered for Sensitivity Look-In

By JUNE ELERT
Along with a lot of other people Tuesday, I took a peek through the Johari window.

This exotic-sounding device was invented fairly recently by a couple of behavioral scientists who pockishly combined their given names, Joe and Harry, to give it its identification.

Graphically speaking, it is a window of four numbered panes, each depicting an area of human personality; that of free activity known to both self and others; the blind spots that we do not recognize in self; the hidden areas we bury from the view of others and the unknown activities which spring from the unconscious.

The window was displayed on the blackboard in the Gold Room at Oakland University, drawn there for the edification of about 200 women and six men who attended the one-day conference for "People Alone."

REACTIONS
Under the direction of behavioral scientists Drs. Mildred Peters and Orlan Worden, we began the micro-lab in sensitivity training by sitting alone and writing out a description of a recent experience and our reaction to that experience.

From that point, which is termed the "soliloquy," we merged into groups of three and took turns attempting to elucidate, elaborate, advise and offer alternatives to the written experiences and reactions.

Though we started off with uncertainty and some determination, I was amazed at the marvelously high degree of rapport that was achieved between "we three" in a very short time.

An hour flew by. We felt we had barely begun when the call came to join up with another group of three and continue our discussion.

The discussion skidded off into such general exchanges as, "It helps if you have children," and "Do you do volunteer work or raise flowers?"

The purpose of the day was stated as "to help people to understand others through honest interaction and to be as honest as possible in their responses to situations."

I have some difficulty equating the supposed lack of this ability with the state of loneliness.

MOOD CHANGES

Following lunch, the group expanded to a "fishbowl" group of 16, with eight in an inner circle and the others observing from vantage points around the outside. The tone declined to a nice-niceness that reminded me of a kaffeeklatsch with all members present.

I asked a number of people if they felt they had been helped by the experience. One man replied that "he wasn't quite so afraid (at the end of the day) as he had been."

Of the others, all women, they said, "Not really," but several added hastily, "Of course, I've enjoyed it very much." The participants were of varied ages and types, their singleness being caused, about equally, by divorce and death.

Loneliness was the common factor; getting back into the world the common goal. A great deal was said about the frustrations of people alone in a society designed for pairs. No miraculous solutions were proposed — and none expected.

We were served an absolutely scrumptious lunch.

Consider Age a Big Factor in Question

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: If a young couple have a two-door car and they pick up an elderly lady friend, should she be asked to climb into the back seat or should the young lady sit in the back and let the older person sit comfortably in front? — Mrs. H.

Dear Mrs. H.: In spite of all the jokes about "mother-in-law seats," an agile younger woman should not ask an elderly person to climb into the back of a two-door car, and this applies whether the older person is a man or a woman.

For a short trip, with today's wide automobiles, all three might ride in front, but for a longer trip, the younger woman should use the back seat.

EXCUSING SELF

Dear Mrs. Post: How do you excuse yourself to go to the ladies' room when on a date with a boy? — Jan

Dear Jan: Don't make a production of it. Don't giggle, blush or try to pretend you're going some place else. Simply say, "Excuse me a second, I'll be right back," or "Excuse me, I'm going to the ladies' room for a second."

Sister Starts Family Feud With Tales of Infidelities

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you, but I guess everybody says that.

My 17-year-old sister was having problems at home in the east so my husband and I let her come live with us and our two children as we had plenty of room.

She gave me nothing but trouble from the beginning with late hours, borrowing the car, etc. She was graduated from high school here, and married a real bum. Anyway, she came over one day last week and started telling me how "cozy" she had been with my husband while she lived here. She said she didn't tell me at the time because she was afraid I would send her back east.

My husband is young and good looking and craves affection, but I never dreamed he'd touch a 17-year-old kid who always looked like a slob, and would probably tell me about it.

I questioned my husband; he said she was lying. I got them together and they both swore on a Bible the other was lying. Who should I believe? I am going crazy. I've never mistrusted my husband before, but why should my sister want to lie to me? CAN'T SLEEP

DEAR CANT: Believe your husband. Your kid sister is probably miserable, and misery loves company.

DEAR ABBY: Right now my eight-year-old daughter is sitting in her room sulking. Why? Because I won't buy her a brassiere! Take my word for it, she has nothing to put in it, but she wants one anyway. She says all her friends wear them. I've seen her friends and I wouldn't know why any of them would be wearing a brassiere.

Should I give in and buy her one just to improve her disposition?

WATERLOO MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Mothers who give in to improve their children's dispositions are letting themselves in for an endless improvement program. Tell your eight-year-old that when she needs a brassiere, you'll buy her one — but not until.

DEAR ABBY: A very good friend of mine promised her husband she'd quit smoking. She did, but now she chews tobacco instead, which I think is even worse. It's bad enough to see a man chewing, but a chewing woman is a disgrace.

She claims a lot of women chew tobacco, but nobody knows it because they don't spit in public and they are careful not to let the tobacco juice gather in the corners of their mouth or "drool" like men do.

I have told her she wasn't fooling anybody, they know she is chewing, but she insists I'm wrong. I fear she has the habit so bad she can't quit. Will you please ask your readers to pray for her?

LUCY
DEAR LUCY: The whole world could pray for her but unless the Lord has her cooperation, she'll continue to chew.

Recent Immigrant Joins Effort to Assist Milford Auto Victim

Mrs. Pero Prusac of Milford speaks very little English; she understands some. Although she has lived in the United States only a short time, she is pitching in to help a neighbor whom she has probably never met.

Duane Applebee, a young man paralyzed in an auto accident last fall, has just been released from the Detroit Rehabilitation Center. His friends and neighbors in Milford are helping him meet his $20,000 medical bill.

On Saturday, there will be an International Food Fair at Milford High School from 3 to 7 p.m.

Organized by the Milford Jaycee Auxiliary, it includes practically every civic, social, educational, church and fraternal group in the area. Proceeds will go to the Duane Applebee fund.

Milford has no ethnic groups as such. But the various organizations preparing to set up booths have chosen foreign countries and planned accordingly.

Through friends and the International Institute in Flint, they have contacted a number of persons who will provide music and dancing for entertainment.

Mrs. Prusac has volunteered to make all the desserts that will be served in the Yugoslavian booth. Although her niece, Mrs. Ronald Foster, has offered her help, along with that of other members of the Jaycees, Mrs. Prusac refuses it.

"She says we can shell nuts," Joanne Foster laughs. She adds that her aunt uses a gram scale to measure ingredients which is enough to puzzle any American cook.

Joanne will wear national Croatian costume while she works at the fair. The skirt, blouse, shawl and headscarf are all heavily embroidered in gold and silver thread.

"I hope Saturday isn't a hot day," she says.

Through Joanne, who interpreted, Mrs. Prusac told how people of means in Yugoslavia put their money into ducats or gold dollars. These are made into necklaces and one can see at a glance how wealthy the wearer is. Joanne is gathering all the "gold" chains she can find from friends to wear in place of these ducats.

Mrs. Prusac's husband, daughter and grandson are all in Milford too. The adults, who work in the Huron Valley schools, have recently purchased a house.

Individuals attending the fair will be able to get a full meal or just a snack.

To satisfy youngsters who are not always venturesome about food, there will be a hot dog booth. Coffee and punch will be served. And the Milford WCTU is preparing a New Zealand tea table.

Mrs. Pero Prusac, Milford, hands a plate of Krafna (raised doughnuts filled with preserves) to her niece, Mrs. Ronald L. Foster, also of Milford. Mrs. Prusac will make Yugoslavian pastries for an international Food Fair Saturday in Milford. Mrs. Foster will wear this beautiful Croatian costume while she works in the pastry booth. The public may attend the 3-7 p.m. event in Milford High School.

Admission is by advance ticket only. Articles will go on display Friday, May 9, at a reception for the artists, patrons and those who have made dinner reservations. Sealed bids will be accepted at that time. Further information may be had by calling the BAA.

Seafarer's Teens Holed Up With Rockin' Radio

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — Robert Henry, the former Cleveland newspaperman who sailed across the Atlantic Ocean alone in a 13-foot boat four years ago, says there is a generation gap in his own family.

Manly, his wife and two teen-aged children took a 12-month trip on their 37-foot yawl through the inland waterways of the U.S. last year.

"There we were," he said, "traveling through some of the most beautiful country in America, and they (his children) wouldn't look at it."

He said his 17-year-old daughter, Robin, and 14-year-old Douglas spent most of their time below deck listening to rock-and-roll music on a portable radio.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

We are trying to decide about what fabric to use for my daughter's high school prom formal. Will you please tell us what fabrics are appropriate and if chiffon is a good choice. I have never had any luck with chiffon and would like to use any other fabric you would suggest. I'm sure there are many mothers everywhere who are faced with formal for May Day celebration as well as the series of spring dances.

Mrs. G. F.

Dear Mrs. G. F.:

First, I would suggest you look at the ready-made formal to check on the fabrics that are currently being used. I personally wouldn't suggest chiffon, first because of the difficulty in handling and secondly, because it is too old for a high school girl.

With the return of the truly feminine look, may I suggest embroidered organdy, pique, or voile. There are also lovely satin striped voiles, embroidered organdies, etc. If you make the dress in a plain fabric, you can use some of the gorgeous wide ribbons for sashes etc. One of the loveliest dresses I have ever seen was made with a soft, full skirt in voile. There were 6 vertical stripes of 6-inch wide decorative ribbon stitched to the fabric before it was gathered at the waist. The bodice was solid colored linen to match the skirt and a contrasting color was used for the sash at the waist. This is just one suggestion. This is the time to try to use your imagination so that your daughter will have an outstanding dress with individuality.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

No matter what deodorant I use, I ruin everything I wear because of perspiration marks. I am forced to wear dresses with sleeves so that I may wear dress shields. Is there any solution from your readers about this problem?

Mrs. M. M. S.

Dear Mrs. M. M. S.

Unfortunately, there are many women who share your problem; I can only offer a suggestion that has worked for some friends of mine. Perhaps you will be lucky and it will work for you. Before wearing a new dress, literally saturate it with a new water-repellent spray that is made especially for clothing. It won't spot or leave a ring on your fabric. After your garment has been cleaned, you must repeat this process.

Because there are so many products that are similar, and I am not allowed to mention brand names, I would suggest you try the spray on a scrap of fabric before you take a chance with your new garment. Hope this will prove to be a satisfactory answer to many of you; if it does, please let me know.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I know your column is basically a sewing column but occasionally I do see where readers have asked you other questions concerning some type of hand work. I finished an Afghan and want to use a contrasting wool yarn and embroider a vine of ivy the length of the Afghan in two places. I simply can't find any pattern in any of the needlework books for an Afghan, could you help me?

Mrs. E. E. H.

Dear Mrs. E. E. H.

My suggestion to you would be the same as the one I would suggest if you are looking for an unusual pattern for an applique for children's clothes. A great source of ideas for design can be found at the wallpaper shops. They have many books that have anything from stripes, provincial patterns, and all types of flowers, figures, animals, etc. Just browse through their books. I don't think they would mind your getting a few ideas; besides you may find just the wallpaper you have been looking for to use in your own decorating.

The questions most frequently asked by the home sewer are answered in Mrs. Farmer's booklet, "Twenty Questions." This is available to you by sending 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P. O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

The engagement of their daughter, Shirley Marie, to Christos Kyriakides, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Willard Davis of Woodland Street. The intended bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Athenodoros S. Kyriakides of Going Street. Late summer vows are planned.

The Uhlers, who were married April 23, 1910, have 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Abortion Hearing Draws Intense Interest

By JEANNE NELSON

If it proved nothing else, Monday's long public hearing on abortion pointed out the stalling people with a cause have when the chips are down. Sen. Lorraine Beebe, chairman of the hearing, never once lessened her intense concentration. She was not alone. Most of the audience, which was an orderly one, had been mentally retarded children at there since early morning and by 6 p.m., you could still hear a pin drop in the auditorium of Detroit's City County Building.

Seated before the committee, Mrs. Bryce Alpern, husband, who is on the staff of Children's Hospital, and the faculty of Wayne State University School of Medicine.

"The rights of children outweigh all other considerations. Children have the right to be born WANTED; to have the chance to be healthy mentally and physically.

"We must face the fact that Children's Hospital wards are handling a steady flow of battered babies, many under four years old. These infants are treated for skull fractures, body injury and broken bones."

"For every underfed child, there are 10 more being emotionally starved and abused. Most of these are injured by parents who did not want them in the first place.

"If we take the position that every child—no matter the circumstances—must be allowed life, then we must be willing to take these unwanted children from the parents and by double or tripling our taxes, pay for their keep."

"We cannot allow children to be born on a junk heap and be left on a junk heap."

A crippled girl, Marlene McNeil, representing the St. Francis Catholic Society, spoke in a mixture of tears and words of her volunteer work with mentally retarded children at Plymouth State Home and Training School.

She asked the committee, "Will retarded children also be on trial? This talk of a new law makes me ashamed to be different."

CHANGE WORDING

Mrs. Paul Dumpey represented the YWCA of Metropolitan Detroit who suggested that Bill No. 287 would be strengthened by stating in addition, "all the social circumstances, or the total environment of the pregnant woman be taken into account when determining whether or not the pregnancy would seriously impair the physical or mental health of the mother."

"We believe the addition of this provision would help end the discrimination against women as a sex and the poor as a class and be a step toward reducing the toll of misery produced by illegal abortions."

Dr. James T. Keyes of Birch Run had this to say "... liberalizing abortion laws could mean: who shall decide who shall live? I sympathize, but is that enough to take a life?"

Mrs. Gladys McLean who spoke for a group of Planned Parenthood, Worldwide, told of having a physically defective child. She pointed out that her husband was cooperative and loving, and their finances provided for this child to have excellent care.

NASA Ousts 'Voice of Apollo'; Former Newsman Gets Post

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Apollo moon flight program is getting a new narrator.

Paul Haney, "The Voice of Apollo," said he had been boot- ed off the job after a series of acrimonious exchanges with Julian Scheer, chief of public af- fairs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

In Washington, the agency an- nounced that a former news- man, Brian Duff, was taking over Haney's assignment.

Haney told newsmen at a conference Tuesday he had received orders to report to Wash- ington Monday for a new job in ment.

NASA headquarters.

AFTER BADGERING

Haney said the move came after weeks of "badgering" from Scheer.

Scheer confirmed that Haney was getting a new job, but had no comment on Haney's account of what happened.

Scheer said Haney's new job would be to coordinate public af- fairs programs under develop-

Haney had been chief of public affairs for the Manned Spacecraft Center, the working home of the nation's astronauts, at an annual salary of $21,000.

He acted as the mission com- mentator for the first two Apollo missions, interpreting the space flights for the world and playing tapes of astronaut radio talk.

Haney, 40, said he was stunned by the job reassignment Scheer called him a "goddamn liar" and that it might be "a govern- mental way of firing someone."

He said that in a meeting with Scheer March 28, the public af- fairs chief gave him two alter- natives: quit or take a lesser po- sition. Haney said the conversa- tion was heated and at one point Haney said he declined to make a choice and a week later Scheer revised the alternatives: handle only general public af- fairs at the Manned Spacecraft Center or handle only the space missions.

Haney said Scheer began tele- phoning at all hours of the day and night, demanding a decision.

Last week, Haney said, he told Scheer he would take the job dealing only with missions but was told by Scheer "he couldn't accept the decision."

Haney said that Monday Dr. Robert S. Gilruth, director of the center, sent him a letter which ordered him to report to month before Apollo 10, an eight-day flight to a near ap- proach of the moon's surface, and less than four months be- fore Apollo 11, the lunar landing flight.

Asked about Haney's state- ments, Scheer said only that "We have made a move that we feel strengthens the organiza- tion. This is a simple case of us- ing two very good people where they can best serve our needs."

The move comes less than a month before Apollo 10, an eight-day flight to a near ap- proach of the moon's surface, and less than four months be- fore Apollo 11, the lunar landing flight.

Duff is a former Associated Press newsmen and has served as Washington correspondent for the Copley News Service.

'Sonic Booms Make Houses More Sound'

ANAHEIM (AP) — There's nothing like a mild sonic boom now and then to tone up a house, says a boom expert.

"The booms slow down deteri- oration and aging of houses," J.H. Wiggins Jr. told a meeting of the Institute of Environmen- tal Sciences Tuesday.

No one knows just why booms do what they do for houses, he said, but one theory is that a shake now and then relieves ac- cumulated stresses.

Wiggins directed government boom tests at White Sands, N.M., in 1964 and 1965 and has spent five years studying their effects.

Repeated sonic booms, he said, have actually lowered the rate at which defects show up in buildings.

Underneath it all, we're just plain folks.

Will success spoil Osmun's?

Just ask Howard Hughes.

Of course, we haven't reached the point where we hide from the public.

But have we gotten so successful that we think we're more important than our customers are?

Obviously, we don't think so, or we'd never ask the question.

We ask it to underscore an idea.

That is that even though we've grown from one small men's shop in Pontiac to four good-size men's stores in three cities, we're just the same as we were in 1931 when we unlocked the door and hoped for that first customer.

Today, everyone who walks into Osmun's store is treated like our first customer.

We're pretty glad to see him.

Because no matter how big we get, no matter how many thousands of customers we have, there's just no letting up on our appreciation that you came here instead of going to another men's store.

And there are a lot you can go to.

Success, to Osmun's, is a time to keep reminding ourselves that without you we'd own four of the world's largest clothes closets.

We know that we're supposed to sell stuffed shirts, not be one.

Like to have a stuffed shirt? You can have this blue one, by Alter Six, for $14.95

we know there are other men's stores in town

Three of our stores are open evenings 'til 9: Tel-Twelve Mall (Telegraph and 12 Mile in Southfield), Tech-Plaza Center (12 Mile and Van Dyke in Warren), and Tel Huron Center (Telegraph and Huron in Pontiac). Our downtown Pontiac store is open Friday evenings 'til 9. Look around. Bring your Osmun's or Security Chargecard, Michigan or Midwest Bankard, or money, if you like.

The deep-felt pride of ancestry among Black Americans has inspired this offering of African recipes. The fried pastry called Chinchin and the West African Stew are from a former Cameroon Peace Corps home economist. The Americanized peanut butter bread was first tasted at the popular African pavilion at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair. The Cous Cous came by way of the African operation of an American food company that makes the farina called for in the recipe. Cous Cous is often described as a stew served with steamed grain. The stew may be almost any type of meat or poultry and the grain (which is the Cous Cous) may be almost any type of grain depending on which grain is popular and available in the country. It is traditionally cooked in a two-tiered pot with the top tier being the steamer for the grain. A simple steamer can be improvised, as suggested in the recipe, by the use of aluminum foil.

The recipe for Chinchin calls for frying the pastry in corn oil, but Pat Vass, our home economist friend who served in the peace corps, tells us that the true African way to cook Chinchin is in palm oil, a reddish colored, strong flavored oil much favored among Africans. Her West African Stew is pleasantly peppery hot with the subtle flavor of peanuts derived from the addition of peanut butter. In parts of Africa where peanuts are an important crop, cooks are accustomed to cooking with groundnuts as they call peanuts. Although you can serve the stew over rice, most Africans would prefer it with pounded Yam Foofoo.

Names like Cous Cous and Chinchin play a role in the ancestral heritage of Black Americans. They are favorite African dishes. Shown here are West African Stew in the black cast iron pot, Cous Cous in the two-tiered copper pot, Peanut Butter Bread and Chinchin on the board. The African mask is from Mali.

| 3 1/2 cups boiling water                                |                                                         |
| 2 tablespoons corn oil                                  |                                                         |
| 1 broiler-fryer chicken,cut up                      |                                                         |

Brown lamb pieces on all sides in large saucepot over low heat. Stir in soup mix, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, ginger, cayenne and 3 1/2 cups boiling water. Cover; simmer 45 minutes. Meanwhile, heat corn oil in large skillet. Add chicken; brown lightly on all sides over low heat. Add chicken and turnips to simmered lamb; reserve chicken drippings. Cover meat and turnips; simmer 15 minutes. Add 2 cups boiling water and 1/2 teaspoon salt to farina; let stand 5 minutes. Spoon farina into steamer section of Cous Cous pot.

Add carrots and zucchini to simmered meat and vegetables. Place steamer over stew. Cover; simmer 15 minutes. Remove farina. Heat reserved chicken drippings; add farina and toss until lightly browned. Arrange serving platter with farina, meat and vegetables. Serve stock as beverage or thicken and use as gravy. Makes 6 servings.

To Improve Steamer: Prepare double thick piece of aluminum foil that will cover top of pot and fold down about 1-inch into pot. Make small holes throughout area that covers top to make a colander. Spoon prepared farina or other cereal onto foil. Place foil steamer over saucepan, securely fastening edges and keeping foil above level of the meat and vegetables. Cover.

| 1 cup milk                          | 1 package active dry yeastor 1 cake compressedyeast |
| 2 tablespoons sugar                 | 6 cups sifted flour (about)                                 |
| 2 teaspoons salt                    | 1/2 cup creamy or chunk stylepeanut butter              |
| 3 tablespoons corn oil              | Margarine, melted                                           |
| 1 cup warm water (105 to115°F.) |                                                             |

Scald milk, then stir in sugar, salt and corn oil. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into warm mixing bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Blend in lukewarm milk mixture. Add 3 cups flour; beat until smooth. Add remaining flour or enough to make an easily handled dough. Turn out dough into lightly floured board or cloth. Let rest 15 minutes. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in oiled bowl, smooth side down. Then turn ball of dough so smooth side is up. (This lightly greases the top.) Cover with clean towel. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour 20 minutes.

Punch down. Divide dough into two equal parts. Roll out on lightly floured board or cloth to 6-inch square. Spread each half with 1/4 cup peanut butter. Roll up. Pinch dough to seal edge. Bring ends together and overlap side by side about one inch, forming a ring. Tuck inside end into center; seal. Tuck outside end under ring from outside.

Place on greased cookie sheet. Cover; let rise as directed above until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Brush with melted margarine. Score top with knife, making 1 1/2-inch squares. Bake in 400 degrees F. (hot) oven until brown and crusty, about 40 minutes. Makes 2 loaves.

| 1 pound stewing beef,cut in 1-inch cubes   | 1 teaspoon salt                      |
| 2 cups water                                   | 1/2 teaspoon crushed redpepper   |
| 1/4 cup creamy or chunkstyle peanut butter | 1 tablespoon corn starch             |
| 1 large tomato, halvedand sliced           | 2 tablespoons water                  |

Heat corn oil in large skillet over medium heat. Add beef; brown on all sides, turning as needed. Add 1 cup water. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Add remaining 1 cup water; gradually stir in peanut butter. Add tomato, onion, salt and pepper. Bring to boil. Cover; reduce heat and simmer, stirring occasionally, 25 minutes. Mix together until smooth, corn starch and 2 tablespoons water; gradually stir into stew. Bring to boil and boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chinchin

| 1 1/4 cups sifted flour    | 1 egg, slightly beaten   |
| 2 tablespoons sugar        | 2 tablespoons milk       |
| 1/2 teaspoon baking powder | 1 quart corn oil (about) |
| 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg        | Confectioners sugar      |
| 1/4 cup margarine          |                          |

Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and nutmeg together. Cut in margarine with a pastry blender or 2 knives until fine crumbs form. Mix together egg and milk; stir into flour mixture to form a soft dough. Knead dough on floured board or cloth until smooth. Roll out to 1/16-inch thickness. Cut into 3/4-inch strips and make diagonal cuts at 2-inch intervals. Cut 3/4-inch slit in center of each strip, then pull one end through slit to make a knot. Pour corn oil into sturdy deep fryer or skillet, filling utensil 1/3 full. Heat over medium heat to 375 degrees F. Fry Chinchin, turning once, 2 to 3 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with confectioners sugar. Makes 8 dozen.

School Board to Discuss Cuts

At least four areas affected by austerity cutbacks stemming from the recent millage defeat will be subjects of superintendent's meeting of tomorrow's recommendations at tomorrow's meeting of the Waterford Township Board of Education.

Recommendations for the 1968-69 school year relative to staff appointments, resignations; administrative contracts and a study of the feasibility of year-round classes will be aired.

Also scheduled for the 7:30 p.m. meeting at the school district administrative offices, 6040 Pontiac Lake, is a discussion of pending financial reform legislation and the tentative April 29 public meeting on reform.

Public Hearing on Lawyer Held

State Bar's Misconduct Probe Is First of Kind

FERNDALE (U)—A former assistant prosecutor for Oakland County would have been the first defendant to face a public misconduct hearing by the Michigan State Bar grievance committee.

But the accused, Birmingham lawyer James E. Nichols, failed to show up or send a representative to the hearing, held in Ferndale Municipal Courtroom Monday.

The chairman of the grievance committee, Maurice F. Cole, said he could not accept a resignation offered by Nichols until the State Bar procedure is complete. Nichols lives at 3000 Sunset, Troy.

Two witnesses testified Nichols has failed to pay money to a client from an accident settlement and converted to his own use an 18,000 estate for which he was a trustee.

DECLINED TO SAY
Cole said after the public hearing—the first ever conducted in the state under a State Supreme Court edict barring private misconduct hearings—was followed by a unanimous recommendation. But he declined to say what the recommendation was.

Gary Crowder, 22, of Warren testified Monday that Nichols failed to tell him that he had won a settlement of an auto injury suit started in 1966. Crowder also said Nichols signed his name on the settlement check without authorization.

Crowder said a $500 check he received from Nichols last September bounced twice and added that he has received none of the settlement money.

Bloomfield Hills lawyer Walter R. Denison testified he was a co-signer of a bond when Nichols was named trustee of an $18,000 estate. Denison said it was later discovered that a false account had been filed with Oakland County Probate Court. Denison said full restitution was made to the estate.

CRIMINAL CASE
Nichols also is a defendant in a pending criminal case, in which he is charged with larceny and passing bad checks in connection with a $5,000 settlement in another accident suit.

Patricia A. Kaska of Madison Heights said the settlement was reached in December 1967, but she did not hear of it until last October.

A check for $5,000 offered by Nichols in February bounced twice, she said.

Pretrial examination on the criminal charges are set for April 29.

A tomato five inches long and two inches in diameter has been developed. A major benefit of the bolognato tomato would be easier adaptation to machine-picking.

ergy, he keeps on the go riding horses, playing golf, bowling or swimming.

He just finished a two-month night school course in real estate to qualify as a salesman.

If he can dig up the money he plans to take flying lessons.

He relaxes to seldom his doctors have had to tell him to take it easy.

TWICE THE MAN
He feels he is physically twice the man he used to be.

And McKee is doing all this on another man's heart.

Last August 31, the 51-year-old engineer became the world's 38th heart transplant patient.

In an operation at Stanford Medical Center he received the heart of Dr. William Sample of Menlo Park, Calif., acting director of the Children's Health

Council in Palo Alto. Dr. Sample, 39, had died of a brain hemorrhage.

McKee says he had a heart murmur from childhood. Three years ago he suffered the first of three heart attacks.

"I was considered for a transplant long before the first one in South Africa, but had to wait 10 months for a compatible donor," he recalls.

Before the transplant, "I had to rest halfway from the parking lot to the doctor's office. Now I could walk to San Francisco if I had to." That would be a 35-mile walk.

"Offhand," says McKee, "I would say my physical capacity is 200 per cent over what it was before I had any heart attack.

In his spare time he has addressed various organizations on the subject of the surgery which saved his life.

"I'm interested in promoting the use of transplant science as much as possible," says McKee. "If it weren't for that science, I wouldn't be here now."

Supreme Court Ruling on Welfare Could Cost $175 Million

By the Associated Press
The Supreme Court ruling ending residence requirements for welfare recipients will add $125 million to $175 million a year to relief costs around the nation, government sources have estimated.
The high court's decision Monday, however, could result in savings on the part of states who pay lower benefits through migration to states offering higher payments.

Between 100,000 and 200,000 persons around the nation will benefit from the decision, which strikes down all one-year-or-higher-residency requirements in order to receive welfare. Forty states and the District of Columbia have them. Some of the states affected have residency requirements of up to five years.
Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch, commenting on the decision, said the 40 states "really are going to have to scramble to meet the extra budgetary load."

The federal government pays about 55 per cent of the total welfare load.
Officials in such states as Mississippi and Arkansas foresee a migration of poor people from their states to others paying higher welfare rates.

"We will not have much of a problem... because we have mostly outmigration," said a spokesman for the Mississippi Public Welfare Department.
Arkansas Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock commented, "Quite a few of the people who are on welfare in Arkansas may want to migrate to a state where the welfare benefits are much greater than they are here."

SIMILAR REACTION
Reaction was similar in Georgia where a state official said, "Georgia is not one of the high payment states. If anything, there would be a tendency to migrate out of this state... However, Louisiana Welfare Commissioner Garland Bonin declared, "There is no doubt that it will increase our rolls and cost us more money."

Welfare directors in Michigan, Oklahoma, Washington State and Indiana said they feared their states would suffer financially and, in some cases, cut back in the amount of assistance.

"This is going to raise the cost of welfare beyond our ability to pay," said Earl Schoenberger, chairman of the Florida Welfare Board, adding: "It's going to make it more difficult to pass medical, even though medical deletes residency, because there will be a mood of antagonism toward social welfare legislation among members of the legislature."

SPECIFIC TARGETS
The Supreme Court's ruling dealt specifically with residence requirements in Pennsylvania, Connecticut and the District of Columbia.

Pennsylvania and Connecticut earlier dropped their one-year residency requirements after they were struck down by lower court rulings.
The District of Columbia suspended its one-year requirement June 2, 1968.

Niagara Falls Due Diversion, Inspection

WASHINGTON — First it was London Bridge falling down. Now it's Niagara Falls — or part of it — drying up.

Sometime in 1969, engineers plan to shut off the United States portion of Niagara Falls, known as the American Falls. A temporary dam will divert the water to the Canadian Horseshoe Falls.

The gargantuan project, to take about six months, will permit close inspection of cracks and other imperfections on the face of the falls. Geologists fear that unless countermeasures are taken, erosion will slowly destroy the ancient scenic wonder.

Since the Ice Age, erosion has gnawed back the 193-foot-high falls about seven miles from the Niagara Escarpment.

Niagara represents more than aesthetic values to the United States. The river's flow of some 200,000 cubic feet of water a second powers the largest hydroelectric complex in the Western World, the National Geographic Society says.

Measles Epidemic to Continue in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — One out of five cases of measles reported in the country so far this year have been in New York City, and the epidemic here was expected to continue through May, health officials said Tuesday.

On April 12, a total of 8,449 cases were reported in the country, of which 1,883 were in New York.

The latest total for the city is 2,227. Last year, only 448 cases were reported in New York during the same period.

6 Copters Lost in Viet Combat

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command today announced the loss of six helicopters, including a fiery midair collision that killed 16 American and South Vietnamese soldiers and left no survivors.

The other crashes killed three U.S. soldiers and 20 South Vietnamese.

The collision about 1 a.m. to day 35 miles north of Saigon was between two U.S. Army choppers carrying South Vietnamese infantrymen on a night assault. Eight American crewmen and eight South Vietnamese soldiers were killed when the helicopters plunged to the ground in flames.

U.S. headquarters said the cause of the crash is being investigated.

Youth Gets 7-25 Years for Robbery

A Pontiac youth who robbed a drugstore to pay for narcotics was sentenced yesterday to 7 to 25 years in state prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley.

Charged with armed robbery in the Jan. 16 holdup of the Arrow Discount Pharmacy, 450 E. Pike, Bobby Love, 20, of 137 Wall last month was allowed to plead guilty to a lesser offense of assault with intent to rob and steal while armed.

According to Pontiac police, the more than $400 stolen in the robbery has never been recovered.

Love was arrested within two days of the robbery after being identified by a customer who had gone to school with him, police said.

He later told authorities that he needed the money to support a $200-a-week heroin habit.

Another charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm is still pending against Love. He and several other prisoners are accused of attacking two inmates at the county jail.

U.S. Replies to Soviets on Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has responded to Soviet concern over the U.S. naval buildup in the Sea of Japan by pointing out President Nixon's pledge to protect future reconnaissance flights off the North Korean coast.

The Pentagon revealed Monday a fleet of 23 U.S. warships has been formed in the sea to protect American reconnaissance planes such as the EC-121 that was shot down last week by North Korean MIG fighters.

The buildup followed Nixon's orders that the flights be continued and his pledge at a news conference last Friday that "they will be protected."

Carl Bartsch, a State Department press officer, reported Tuesday night Soviet diplomats have expressed their concern both here and in Moscow, over the buildup.

But Bartsch said the complaint, expressed orally in Moscow to Ambassador Jacob Beam by Deputy Foreign Secretary Vasily Kuznetsov, stopped short of being a formal protest.

Bartsch said the Soviet concern was expressed here during a call by Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin on Under Secretary of State Elliot Richardson.

Both U.S. officials "responded along the lines of President Nixon's statement that the reconnaissance flights would be protected."

The Tass news agency was more critical in its report of Nixon's decision to protect future reconnaissance flights, saying it "is further proof that official Washington does not intend to abandon its international ventures which in the past repeatedly ended in disastrous defeat."

2nd Jail Term for Area Man

A Birmingham man who has been apprehended twice inside Pontiac bars following break-ins yesterday was sentenced to a second 3-to-5-year prison term.

James R. Anderson, 26, of 1592 Ruffner, will serve the sentences concurrently.

The latest sentence was ordered by Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley.

Anderson was charged with breaking and entering the Chatelet Inn, 79 N. Saginaw, on Feb. 26, but earlier this month was permitted to plead guilty to attempted breaking and entering.

BURGLARY SENTENCE

Last month, Anderson was sentenced by Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem in connection with the burglary of the Avenue Par, 137 Oakland, on June 1, 1968.

In both cases, Pontiac police captured Anderson in the buildings.

In the Chatelet case, a charge is still pending against a companion with Anderson. Police said that both men were intoxicated.

When the housewives learned yesterday a suspect had been arrested, they clamored to the police for a nude lineup. How could they possibly finger the real Mr. Bare, they argued, if they saw him clothed?

No dice, police said.

UNFAIR TO INNOCENT

"They'll just have to identify him with his clothes on," one policeman said. Police said if everybody in the lineup had to doff his duds it would be "unfair to innocent persons."

The nighttime visitor, clad only in moonlight, rings the doorbell of an apartment, waits until a woman answers, grins, and then runs.

"The man is in his early twenties and is a very fast runner," said Policewoman Mrs. Lanny Stephenson.

Occasionally, the caller dresses more formally, wearing tennis shoes with the smile.

The women in the area formed "Operation Nude" to catch the prowler. A telephone call or a note in the area in the neighborhood sent women running to peering through curtains, but cutters to cut the chains from the couplers, which were in operation. The chains and locks also were missing.

2 Traffic Counters Are Taken by Thief

A thief made off with two Pontiac traffic counters padlocked to posts yesterday, it was reported to city police. Each is valued at $500.

A spokesman for the city's traffic engineering department said they were taken from Florence Street between Cass and Norton between 5 p.m. Monday and 8 a.m. yesterday.

Police suspect the thief used bolt cutters to cut the chains from the couplers, which were in operation. The chains and locks also were missing.

Hart Assails Nixon Plans for Job Corps Cutbacks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said today the nation cannot afford the Nixon administration's decision to close 59 Job Corps centers, particularly those on Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Hart, in a speech prepared for delivery to the Senate today, said the price in terms of broken commitments to corporations, shattered dreams of self-improvement and growing cynicism among the youth is too high.

Women Keep Eye Peeled for Nude Prowler

"It's a perfect example of how the government can promise something, then snatch it away," he said.

Hart was to read a letter from a Job Corpsman at the center at Northern Michigan University, Marquette, describing the hope generated and advances made.

CLOSING PROTESTED

A number of NMU and Marquette officials have protested the closing of the center.

Hart was also critical of plans to close the Ojibway center near Marquette, an economically depressed area.

"It should not be difficult to guess what residents of Marquette are thinking about an establishment which asks depressed areas to pay for the light against inflation in an affluent society," he said.

Hart was cosponsor of a resolution to be introduced today asking the administration to delay closing any center until Congress has a chance to act on authorization and appropriations for the program.

Romney Raps LBJ for Lag in Model Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — George W. Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, said Tuesday the Model Cities program is lagging because the Johnson administration launched it on a "phony" basis.

Romney was discussing the Model Cities program with a group of Ohio mayors and state officials when Graham Watt, city manager of Dayton, complained the program is moving slower than expected.

Romney said the program was handicapped because the cities named for grants under the program—including nine in Ohio—were selected before the administration was ready to go ahead.

"To show you how phony those things were," said Romney, "they went ahead with these nine cities before they even had the plans. They rushed them through as publicity agencies without the plans being developed."

"STATE OF EXPECTANCY"

Watt had complained that contracts for Model Cities programs had been held up and the program appeared frozen. "We have brought our citizens to a high state of expectancy," he said.

Romney said he is optimistic that the program can be speeded up.

"We have no freeze on the Model Cities program," he said. Romney noted the Nixon budget for next year earmarks $675 million for Model Cities. He said that is double the amount of money available this year from supplemental appropriations funds.

Judges to Wait on Grand Jury in Lazaros Case

The Oakland County Circuit Court bench will wait until authorities complete their investigation before deciding if a grand jury will be called to probe allegations made by Peter Lazaros of Troy, an underworld informer, about public officials.

Following a meeting yesterday, the judges released the following statement:

"We are informed that law enforcement agencies have this matter under consideration and until their work is resolved we are continuing this matter under advisement."

The grand jury was petitioned by Arthur J. Brandt of Bloomington Township, president of the Oakland County Conservative Club, and David Bradbury, a councilman in Orchard Lake.

Their petition, received last month by the judges, asked that a full-scale inquiry be made into statements made by Lazaros.

Lazaros has accused several officials in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties with being corrupt. Among those he has named is former Oakland County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bruns, who is a judge on the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Youth Wins Prize in Drafting Contest

James Hunnath, an eighth grader at Madison Junior High School, took one of eight grand prizes in the annual Michigan Industrial Education Society drafting contest last Saturday.

James, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Mary Hunnath of 533 DeSota, submitted one of 10,000 original entries in the state and became the only Pontiac grand prize winner in this contest.

He was awarded HUNNATH with a plaque for his "outstanding drafting contribution" and also received a $100 U.S. savings bond.

Big Best-Seller 'Hawaii' Inspires a Second Movie

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Mirisch Brothers have discovered a gold mine in James Michener's "Hawaii." The big best seller has now inspired a second movie, "The Hawaiians."

Film buffs can probably find an example, but I can't recall an instance where a single novel has provided plots for two movies. Sequels yes — "Return to Peyton Place," "Beyond the Valley of the Dolls," etc.

"But I want to get the message across: 'The Hawaiian' is not a sequel," insists Walter Mirisch, the professional-looking producer of both Michener films. "A sequel uses the same characters and moves them beyond the time span in the original movie. Our picture will use entirely new characters in another period of Hawaiian history."

Michener's tale of the 50th state has had a curious career in the film world. Fred Zinnemann was originally scheduled to make the movie. Overwhelmed by the immense story — from the geological beginnings of the islands to statehood — he decided it could be told only in two separate films.

DROPPED OUT

"But our financial people decided we could only do one picture at a time, so Fred dropped out of the picture," recalled Mirisch. George Roy Hill was enlisted as director.

Midway in the location filming, the Mirisches decided Hill was proceeding too slowly, and he was removed. But a threatened mutiny by the native actors restored Hill to command. "Hawaii" finished far over budget and opened to rather unkind notices, even in Hawaii.

"Nobody liked it but the people," Mirisch remarked happily. Aided no doubt by the popularity of Julie Andrews, the film has already grossed over $20-million, with more expected from reissues and television.

The producer admitted that he was too weary at the completion of "Hawaii" to think about another film based on the Michener novel. But the picture's receipts buoyed his spirits, and last year he began preparations for "The Hawaiians."

COVERS 35 YEARS

"The title came to me in the middle of the night," he said.

James Webb wrote the script and Tom Gries ("Will Penny") will direct. The new story covers 35 years, picking up about 30 years after the end of "Hawaii." Charlton Heston will play Whip Hoxworth, son of the character portrayed by Richard Harris in the first film. The films. "A sequel uses the same characters and moves them beyond the time span in the original movie. Our picture will use entirely new characters in another period of Hawaiian history."

"Most of the story is centered on the Chinese," said Mirisch. "I plan to cast the picture true to race, as we did with the first film, and I have been interviewing Chinese in London and New York; now I'll be looking at those in San Francisco and here. I plan to use largely unknowns, and so far I've come

Chief of Police Quits in Sparta

SPARTA (AP)—Police Chief Eugene W. Heugel, celebrated his 19th anniversary as a policeman Tuesday — by resigning effective May 31.

Heugel, 47, said he resigned because of "tensions and unrest developing on the force" of three full-time and two part-time officers. He said these had created "internal problems."

across some very promising talent."

Filming begins July 14 on Oahu, then moves to Maui. The bulk of the location will be on the island of Kauai. Mirisch declined to reveal the budget "because I'll look like a jerk if it gets changed in the middle of shooting." An educated guess: $8 million.

And after "The Hawaiians," what? He admitted that the Japanese and earlier Polynesian sections of the book offer splendid possibilities for film subjects.

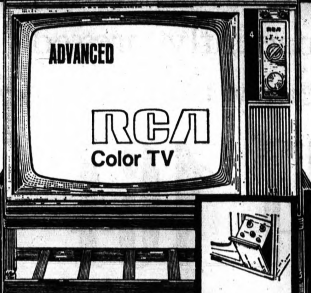

The population grows in China at the rate of 1.4 per cent a year.

World Champion Tigers Haven't Lost Magic Touch

Bengals Rally in Ninth to Nip Senators, 4-2

BALTIMORE (AP) — Looking like the world champions of 1966, the Detroit Tigers invade Baltimore for a baseball contest tonight which could propel them into a first place tie with the Orioles in the American League's east division.

The last minute magic which was the Tigers hallmark last year glittered again Tuesday night as Detroit scored three runs in the top of the ninth inning to topple Washington 4-2.

"It's just like last year," said relief pitcher Don McMahon. "We hung in there and our hitters came through."

Pitcher Denny McLain, last year's 31-game winner who has a 2-2 mark this season, starts for Detroit tonight, with Miguel Cuellar, with a 0-2 record, on the mound for the Orioles.

GAME BEHIND

Detroit has an 8-4 win-loss record, one game behind Baltimore with an 11-5 mark.

The Tigers didn't look like winners through the first eight innings in Washington Tuesday night as the Senators held a 2-1 lead, scoring single runs in the second and third innings.

Washington pitcher Camilo Pascual stifled Detroit batters during the first eight frames allowing only Bill Freehan's leadoff home run in the third.

But Tom Matchick, pinch hitting for Don Weri, opened the ninth with a single to center. Gates Brown, another pinch hitter walked.

"In a situation like that, it's the manager's option," said Dick McAuliffe, the next batter, after the game. "Mayo had me hitting away on the first pitch and Pascual threw me a fast ball for a strike."

BUNT SIGN

"He wanted me to bunt on the next pitch and Pascual threw me a curve ball that was low," said McAuliffe.

McAuliffe hit it up the alley in left center to the fence, Detroit scored two runs and the Tiger second baseman had a standup triple. Al Kaline scored McAuliffe with a sacrifice fly.

CAUGHT IN SQUEEZE — Detroit's Dick McAuliffe (3) is an easy out as he tries to get back to first base in the first inning of the game with the Washington Senators in Washington last night. Taking the throw from second baseman Bernie Allen in the rundown is first baseman Mike Epstein who applied the tag. McAuliffe was trapped halfway between first and second when teammate Mickey Stanley fanned and Senators catcher Paul Casanova made the throw to Allen. Tigers won, 4-2.

'Hawk' Going to Cleveland

Tribe Celebrates—by Losing

By the Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians, given one last chance, proved again that only good can come from finally landing The Hawk.

After Ken Harrelson decided to forego retirement Tuesday evening and report to Cleveland the Indians went out and celebrated in what has become their accustomed way—by losing.

Showing why they need Harrelson's big bat, the Indians were grounded by the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 Tuesday night for their seventh consecutive defeat and 11th in 12 games this season.

Meanwhile, the Boston Red Sox showed again they can win without Harrelson, unloading four home runs to beat the New York Yankees 8-3 for their second victory in three starts since trading Harrelson last Saturday.

OTHER GAMES

In other games, the Detroit Tigers rallied for a 4-2 decision over Washington, Kansas City fought for a 2-1 victory over Seattle, Oakland trounced Minnesota 7-0 and California mauled the Chicago White Sox 8-0.

The Indians, desperately needing some fire power after scoring only 24 runs in 12 games, this time rolled over and died for Tom Phoebus and Pete Richert.

Phoebus, raising his record to 3-0, yielded only three hits before walking the bases full with two out in the eighth inning, but Richert came on to retire Max Alvis on one pitch and blank the Indians in the ninth.

Cleveland needed a walk, stolen base, passed ball and an error to get one run and Larry Brown homered for the other.

But the Orioles, who humbled the Indians 11-0 the night before, won this one on Boog Powell's first homer that broke a 2-2 deadlock in the fifth inning.

Boston, on the other hand, showed little affect from losing the American League's run batted in champion of 1968 as Mike Andrews, Rico Petrocelli and Carl Yastrzemski slammed solo homers and Tony Conigliaro belted a three-run shot in the fourth, breaking a 2-2 tie.

The attack against Stan Bahnsen, 0-4, made it easy for unbeaten Ray Culp, who won his third in a row with a four-hitter. Only Joe Pepitone's two-run homer troubled him.

Kansas City used Pat Kelly's elusive slide home on Lou Piniella's short sacrifice fly in the fifth inning to break a 1-1 deadlock for its victory, but not before a battle royal.

The benches and bullpens of both teams emptied with numerous fights in the fourth inning after the Royals' Elie Rodriguez bowled over second baseman Tommy Harper of the Pilots on a force play. First Rodriguez and Harper squared off, prompting their teammates to join them.

The two were ejected and then Harper had to be restrained from charging umpire Russ Goetz.

Montreal Coach Declines to Make Cup Prediction

MONTREAL (AP) — "These rookie coaches, it takes them a while." The remark was made with a wry smile, as Harry Sindén, Boston Bruins' second year coach assessed some rather uncomplimentary phrases uttered about him in The Montreal Canadiens' dressing room.

Sindén's smile had to be wry, because he had just watched his Bruins drop a 4-2 decision to, hustling Montreal—a decision that sends the Canadiens back to Boston for the sixth game of their best-of-7 Stanley Cup semifinal with a 3-4 lead.

Sindén's remark came after Claude Ruel, Montreal's first-year coach, had been disturbed during the course of his congratulatory trip around the Canadiens' room by a questioner asking him to make a prediction on the final outcome of the series.

The prediction was not forthcoming from the emotional Ruel and the point was pressed. It was fueled by a simple answer that he did not make predictions, but sticks to winning hockey games.

PERSISTENT QUESTION

When the interrogator pursued the matter with a question about Boston's tough brand of hockey, Ruel became indignant. He had just finished watching his club get a first-period goal by defenseman Jacques Laperriere, second-period goals by J. C. Tremblay and Claude Provost, while the Bruins outshot the Canadiens 26-10, and another by Provost in the third period to wrap it up.

In that hectic second period, Ken Hodge, of Boston, had scored twice on a harassed Rogatien Vachon in the Montreal goal.

Provost's second goal was a unanimous effort, as the veteran winger and penalty-killer, banked a perfect carom off Boston's Bobby Orr and behind a startled Gerry Cheevers, the Bruins' goalie.

"Listen, I leave those predictions to the other guys," Ruel told his persistent heckler. "These other guys are always going to beat us in six or we're not going to win another game this year. I don't pay any attention to them."

Answer Near for LA Lakers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thanks to an investment of about $1 1/4 million, the Los Angeles Lakers feel they have the answer to the problem of how to win a National Basketball Association title.

Tonight the Lakers meet the defending champion Boston Celtics at the Forum in the opener of their best-of-seven final playoffs series.

Five times since they moved West, the Lakers have met the Celtics and Big Bill Russell. All five times the end result has found Boston in front.

After the Celtics beat the Lakers in the finals last year, four games to two, Los Angeles owner Jack Kent Cooke acquired Wilt Chamberlain, the 7-foot-2 star from Philadelphia.

Chamberlain, the Lakers felt, would be the answer to Russell.

LAKERS FAVORED

With Wilt, the Lakers beat the Celtics four of six games during the regular season and are quoted 11-5 favorites to win this final series.

How does Wilt feel about meeting his longtime rival again?

"Don't get me wrong," he said. "I have all the respect in the world for Russell. But I do know his limitations and what to expect from him."

"The guys I'm worried about are Bailey Howell, Sam Jones, and John Havlicek. They do most of the Celtic's scoring."

Grid Playoff Plan for Colleges Dying

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A plan for national playoffs to determine the national college football champion appears to be dead.

Harry Cross, the National Collegiate Athletic Association president, said Tuesday that the NCAA executive committee has discharged a special committee studying the proposal.

Cross, of the University of Washington, commented: "Which means the possibility of that playoffs being presently developed is ended."

The 19-member executive committee held its annual spring business meeting here.

Cross said the committee studying the playoffs did not make specific recommendations to the executive committee.

Joe Frazier Keeps Bout Brief

HOUSTON (AP) — Now that he has disposed of a bricklayer with two vicious swings of his wicked left hand, the question before boxing circles today was whether Joe Frazier is ready to risk his share of the world's heavyweight title against rugged Jerry Quarry.

It took the quick-dwelled Frazier only 96 seconds to destroy unknown and unranked Dave Zygiewicz Tuesday night in the Philadelphia's third title defense.

A press conference was called for noon, EST, today by the Madison Square Garden Boxing, Inc. for "an important announcement concerning a major title."

Speculation was that Frazier had been offered a quarter of a million dollars to meet Quarry, the No. 2 World Boxing Association heavyweight, June 23 in the Garden.

STILL DICKERING

Yancey "Yank" Durham, Frazier's manager, said, "We're still dickering. It looks pretty good. That much money would sure be hard to turn down."

Quarry, who posted an impressive 12th round knockout over Buster Mathis March 24 in the Garden, is 31-2-4 with 18 knockouts.

Frazier, now unbeaten in 23 bouts with 20 knockouts, quickly ended Zygiewicz's record of never having been knocked down. Dave's record is 28-1.

The champion caught the former Navy Atlantic Fleet champion with a blistering left hook and down he went.

ANOTHER HOOK

After a mandatory eight count, Zygiewicz was doubled over with a right and then lashed with another left hook and it was all over.

"I never felt nobody hit as hard," said Zygiewicz. "He's real fast. I never saw the knockout punch coming."

Frazier said, "There's nobody I can't beat. He (Zygiewicz) has a lot of heart. I think he was a good fighter to get to."

Pesticide Scare Won't Deter Avid Anglers

Trout Samples Show Low Residue County, Depends on Area

LANSING (AP) — The pesticide scare isn't likely to frighten any of Michigan's fanatic trout fishermen away from their favorite lakes and streams this weekend.

That's the thinking of fish experts in the state Department of Natural Resources, including Dave Gorgeson, trout and salmon specialist.

"We won't really be able to tell until we get a pretty good check on license sales—around the middle of the year," Gorgeson said.

"But my guess is the trout fishermen will be out as usual on opening day."

AFTER MIDNIGHT

The regular season for brook, rainbow and brown trout in most of the state's lakes and streams starts one minute after midnight Friday.

Encouraging news for the fishermen is that samplings of brown trout taken from several rivers showed they contained a very low pesticide residue.

Some showed a pesticide level as low as one-tenth of one part per one million. Others ranged up to 2.7 and 3.0 parts per one million.

This is considered a safely low level.

Gorgeson said he only could assume the level would be about the same for brook and rainbow trout in these rivers and other favorite trout streams in the northern Lower Peninsula and the Upper Peninsula.

MORE SAMPLING

Gorgeson said much more extensive sampling is needed to determine the pesticide level for fish in all of Michigan's inland lakes and streams.

Steelhead trout, the fish expert said, contain fairly high levels since they enter the streams from the Great Lakes.

Tests conducted in Wisconsin showed—as expected—that fish pesticide levels were highest in urban areas and areas of concentrated farming.

The lowest levels and cleanest waters were found in the wilderness area.

This general rule of the thumb probably also will apply to Michigan waters, Gorgeson said. Fish taken from waters of the Upper Peninsula and streams portion of the northern Lower Peninsula logically can be expected to contain the lowest pesticide levels.

HIGHER COUNTS

Waters near industrial, farming and orchard areas probably will contain fish with a higher pesticide count.

Any standard set by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration for the allowable pesticide limit in fish will apply only to commercial fishing. The speculation now is that the federal agency will declare unsafe fish with a pesticide level about 3.5 parts per one million.

The sports fisherman is not covered by any ruling the federal agency might make.

Whatever he is fishing for—trout, salmon, pike, smelt or suckers—the fisherman can make up his own mind on whether to keep and eat his catch. "I don't think this pesticide business will scare off any of our dyed-in-the-wool fishermen," concluded Wayne Todt, chief of the Department of Natural Resources Fish Division.

DUE IN MICHIGAN — The Kirtland Warbler — one of the world's rarest birds — is expected back in Michigan starting next week after wintering in the Bahamas. Only about 1,000 of the little blue-grey birds are left. All nesting is done in sections of jackpine near Mio.

Special Regulations Change on Streams

When the general trout season opens Saturday changes in special trout regulations will be in effect covering quality fishing areas on the Au Sable and Manistee rivers.

Under one change, the legal size limit on brook trout has been lowered from nine to seven inches in two areas on the North Branch of the Au Sable River, and from 10 to seven inches in two quality fishing stretches on that river's Main Stream and South Branch.

Waters coming under this lower size limit include a 14.9 mile area on the North Branch down from Samans Landing to the mouth in Crawford County, a 4.2 mile stretch on that same branch from Dam 2 down to the Otego County Line, a 6.7 mile area on the Main Stream from Burton's Landing down to Wakeley Bridge, and a 18.4 mile span on the South Branch from Deer Heart Valley Road down to the mouth.

The last two areas are in Crawford County.

ANOTHER CHANGE

The first two areas on the North Branch are covered by another change in which the brown trout size limit has been raised from nine to 10 inches.

New as a quality trout fishing area this season is a 7.5 mile stretch on the Manistee River from Yellowtrees Landing down to CCC Bridge in Kalamazoo County.

Special regulations adopted for this area limit action to flies-only fishing, establish a creel quota of five trout, and set size limits at seven inches for brook trout and 12 inches for all other trout species.

The extended trout season for this section of the Manistee River runs through Oct. 15, same as for the other special trout areas.

A stretch of the Little Manistee River between Bear Track Campground and Nine Mile Bridge has been dropped as a quality trout fishing area to round out this year's changes for these special waters.

That leaves special trout fishing regulations the same as in 1968 on northern Michigan's remaining two quality areas—the Little Manistee River from Spencer Bridge downstream to Johnson's Bridge in Lake County, and the Mio area of the Au Sable River's Main Stream from the power line in Sec. 7, T26N, R3E, down to McKinley Bridge in Oscoda County.

Lists covering all of northern Michigan's quality trout areas raised from nine to 10 inches. New as a quality trout fishing area this season is a 7.5 mile stretch on the Manistee River from Yellowtrees Landing down to CCC Bridge in Kalamazoo County.

Size, Creel Limits Changed This Year

Rain the last two days hasn't helped the stream situation in Northern Michigan, but it hasn't dampened the enthusiasm of trout fishermen.

The regular season opens Saturday — the third "first day" of the year — and a large number of anglers are expected to be on favorite waters at dawn come rain or shine.

Several streams opened to year-around rainbow, salmon and brown trout fishing March 1. More streams joined the legal list April 5 for early steelheading.

The size and creel limits have been changed this year.

Many northern streams are high and discolored with some out of their banks. A couple of days of clear weather should lower and clear the water. However, levels will remain high.

FISHED DEEP

This means that 10 brookies-spinner fishermen probably will score best. Wet flies, streamers and nymphs fished deep should be productive on some waters.

Rainbows and browns must be 10 inches long this season. Brook trout remain at seven. The creel limit has been reduced to five in any combination plus five more brook trout.

This means that 10 brookies can be taken daily if there are no rainbows or browns in the bag.

AREA STREAMS

Portions of three streams in Oakland County contain trout — mostly browns planted last summer. These are Kearsley, from Lake Louise north to the county line; Palm, from Lake Orion to Rochester; and Clinton, from Hatchery Road to Cass Lake.

Five special trout ponds open — Davisburg, Bald Mountain, Pettibone and two at Fenton. These ponds can be fished only with artificial lures and the limit is two trout seven inches or better.

Fishermen heading north would do well to include a smelt net with their gear. Heavy runs of smelt are reported from the Tawas area and around Manistee. These runs are expected to continue through the weekend.

Other good runs the last few nights have been at Port Huron, Port Sanilac and Harbor Beach.

Stormy weather curtailed salmon fishing in lower Lake Huron last weekend. Cohos and chinook are still in the Port Huron area and Department of Natural Resources test nets have caught both species at Port Sanilac. Some coho are being caught in Anchor Bay.

Fish experts report the salmon are feeding on smelt and alewives near the surface and suggest lures be trolled three to four feet down.

The sucker runs continue, but are hampered by high, muddy water. Perch fishing has tapered off in Saginaw Bay and Lake St. Clair because of the weather.

There is fair perch fishing in the Detroit River. Bluegills are being caught on Pontiac, White, Orion and Lakeville lakes, but are on the small side.

SUCCESSFUL ANGLER—LaVan Ryder, 331 Pioneer, is shown with the 70-pound steelhead he caught on a recent trip to Florida. The fish was caught off North Miami and was entered in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament.

DNR Cool on Plantings

Grand River Yields Kamloop Trout

GRAND RAPIDS — bow trout, were 45 inches long steelhead are migratory and generally return to the river only to spawn.

Although 100,000 Kamloop trout were planted in the Grand Street Dam in Grand Rapids River last summer by a private group, it appears doubtful that many fishermen will ever get a chance to catch the colorful R. C. Schwaiger of Grand Rapids, state chairman of the Citizens Committee on Clean Water for Michigan and one of the individuals instrumental in the planting.

Prime reasons are the state's reluctance to approve further plantings and also because the state has indicated it may plant steelhead trout in the river.

"If we can grow fish under such adverse conditions, what could we have without pollution?" Schwaiger said. "We could have a mecca in the Grand River."

This spring fishermen in the Grand Rapids area have been somewhat successful in catching the Kamloop, with catches ranging from 13-17 inches long and weighing up to 2 1/2 pounds. The Kamloop, a native of British Columbia waters and species of rainbow trout, were a surprise when planted without being marked.

Kamloop, he said, are a non-migratory fish that would provide good year-round fishing in the Grand River, where as Dave Gorgeson of Lansing, a state fishery expert, said no plans have been made to study the Kamloop and no possibility is foreseen — unless fishermen suddenly began catching large quantities of the trout.

"There is no way that I could go in there and investigate the Kamloops," he said, since the fish were planted without being marked.

Pizzas Are Quick

Since the end of World War your family the best in balanc- II, American kitchens have undergone what might be termed an Italian renaissance. Both in restaurants and in homes, foods which feature tomato sauces, delicately flavored with basil or robustly accented with oregano, Italian sausages, fish and cheese, have come to figure more and more prominently in American menus. A few short years ago, pizzas were practically unheard of on this side of the Atlantic. Today, they are almost as well known as two earlier Italian specialties, spaghetti and macaroni. Originally, the term pizza was applied to any bakery product which was round and flat. As time progressed, however, the world became a synonym for large flat pastries covered with assorted aromatic and savory foods.

A new idea in pizzas, which is rapidly catching hold of the American fancy, returns to the original meaning of pizza and takes advantage of bakery English muffins for the round, flat base. It also takes advantage of the convenience of canned salmon for a colorful, tender topping.

Canned salmon is a convenience product that you can count on for many a quick, nutritious luncheon dish or mid-night snack. It's a great party idea when a hungry crowd appears!

SALMON PIZZAS—New twist to the pizza uses tender flakes of canned salmon in place of meat. English muffins form the base of this quick nutritious luncheon dish or mid-night snack. It's a great party idea when a hungry crowd appears!

Float Tiny Puffs on Soup for Elegant French Touch

The French call the little "profiteroles" and fill them tastily, or leave them crisply alone, to add excitement to simple fare. Mini-Puffs, an easy version of profiteroles, turn any soup into a gourmet's delight.

Baked until golden brown, these dainty delicacies are made by dropping half-teaspoonfuls of cream puff batter onto a baking sheet. As they bake, the batter puffs into crisp, golden pastry bubbles.

Float Mini-Puffs whole, or press in their tops and nestle a dab of your favorite "dip" into the cavity. Either way, they add a touch of elegant goodness to soup lovers will welcome.

STORE IN FREEZER

Best of all, Mini-Puffs can be made ahead and kept on hand for ready use. Unfilled, they store for days in the refrigerator, months in the freezer. Unused extras can be frozen for a fresh bowl of soup some other day or filled with dips for snacktime.

Be sure to use "enriched" flour when you make Mini-Puffs. Enriched flour contains a nutritional supplement of three

MINI-PUFFS

1 cup water
1/2 cup butter
1 cup enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 eggs
Desired soup
Favorite dips
Bring water and butter to boil, stirring until butter melts. Add flour and salt all at once. Reduce heat. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and forms a soft ball, 1 to 2 minutes. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Drop batter by level 1/2-teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet.

Bake in preheated 400 degree oven 15 to 18 minutes, or until firm. Cool. Float whole puffs on desired soup or press in tops and fill with favorite dips. Makes 14 dozen small puffs.

Spoon flour into dry measuring cup, level. Do not scoop. . . NOTE: Drop batter by level teaspoonfuls for snack or appetizer size. Freeze extras. When thawed, fill with dips.

MINI-PUFFS—Topping hearty soup with crisp little cream puffs is a delightful French custom.

Dragging Auto Sales Gear Down Output, Speed '70 Unveilings

RECORD NOT LIKELY
All things considered, the prospects now for 1969 sales matching those of 1968 are not very bright, in spite of predictions made by most car makers at the beginning of the year.

It's also ironic that Henry Ford II, board chairman of Ford Motor Co., and Chrysler's Lynn Townsend forecast that 1969 auto sales should match or possibly exceed 1968, while James Roche, board chairman at General Motors, estimated a slight falloff in sales.

As of now, Ford and Chrysler are running behind 1968, but General Motors is running a shade ahead in spite of Roche's pessimism for the over-all market.

The sagging prospects that spring sales this year will match the frantic pace of a year ago has caused the auto companies to adjust production schedules and plan earlier introductions for their 1970s.

New-car inventories, that is, cars already built but not sold, are running at a record high level of 1,775,000 units.

Normally, the companies build up big stockpiles of cars in the spring so they will have cars to sell during the model changeover period. But the inventories on hand now amount to an average 64 days supply, based on present selling rates.

And it's also the earliest time on record for the peak of such inventories. Normally this comes in late May or June, shortly before changeover shutdowns.

As of early April, dealer stocks were about 300,000 units ahead of what they were last year. To cut that down, the auto companies have reduced production plans in the April-May-June period to slightly below the January-February-March level. Present plans now call for producing 2,315,000 units, compared with 2,318,000 in the first three months of the year.

The auto makers hope this will dissipate the present excess of inventory without a big buying surge. But it can be tricky. If a buying surge did develop in spite of signs to the contrary, they could be caught with not enough cars to tide them over the model changeover period.

SALES SURGE
That happened two years ago when the industry went into model changeover with about 1.3 million cars on hand, and the sales surge was so great that some dealers were out of cars to sell before the 1968 models went on sale.

To hedge against that, the companies are planning to bring their 1970 models out a week or more earlier this year than they did last year.

Changeover shutdowns will start on some models in June, and spread through the entire industry in early July. That will give a minimum of six weeks and as high as 10 weeks for changing over plants and building up a backlog of 1970 models before the cars actually go on sale during the closing days of September. Ford's cars are due to go on sale this year.

Sept. 26. Last year it was Oct. 5.

Press previews of the 1970s also will be earlier. Among the Big Three, Ford's Lincoln Mercury is planning the earliest preview at Newport, R.I. Aug. 20-21. Then follows Chevrolet Aug. 25, with Chrysler having its preview introduction at Dallas Aug. 28-29. Ford division will preview its 1970 models Sept. 2-4, with General Motors following with its other divisions, Pontiac, Buick, Oldsmobile and Cadillac Sept. 5-6.

Contab at OU to Sift Current Campus Issues

What's happening on campus? What does the university want? What do the students want? Can we narrow the communications gap?

These and other questions will be discussed at the Cornell Day Conference at Oakland University Saturday on "The 1969 University Student: Ivy League to Inner City."

The conference for all concerned parents, students and citizens in the area will feature talks by Cornell University's Mark Barlow, vice president for student affairs; Steven Brock, assistant director of the Cornell Special Education Program; and Duncan Sells, dean of students at Wayne State University.

James Edgar, president of the Cornell Club of Michigan, will be moderator.

TOPICS TO BE COVERED

Topics covering current headlines concerning student activity on campuses include "The Role of the Student in the Decision Making Procedures of the University," "The Role of the student in the Urban University — The Role of the Urban University in the Community," and "Minority Groups on Campus — Cornell's Approach."

Academic pressures, student moral codes, drugs, radicalism, minority pressures and the power of the student press will be discussed.

Those interested in attending the Cornell Day may contact OU's Conference Department.

East cleared the suit and established his fifth spade which became the sifting trick after he got in with the ace of diamonds.

South remarked, "I knocked out the wrong ace first."

South was correct to the extent that if the minor suit aces were reversed and the defense went the same way, he would have made his contract. But South should have attacked the diamond suit first anyway.

He was almost sure to get in one diamond trick if he had led that first because neither opponent would take the first diamond.

With one diamond in he could

'Cheating' Got Book Published

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Rachael Maddux, author of the novel "A Walk in the Spring Rain," the movie version of which is being filmed near Gatlinburg, says she cheated to get her first book published.

Speaking as one of several prominent writers at the Chattanooga festival of writers, librarians and readers, she said Tuesday she had received 13 rejections on her first book, "The Green Kingdom," which took 18 years to write.

Mrs. Maddux said she was told by a publisher to cut the book in half, so she got a typewriter with smaller print, wrote with smaller margins and re-submitted the book.

It was then published.

Bay City Post Safest on Road

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Bay City district has been judged the winner of the Michigan State Police fleet safety award for 1968.

The district had only 16 accidents judged preventable in more than 5.1 million miles of travel. The Paw Paw district was second and the Rockford district third.

Jury's Omission Brings New Trial

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Court of Appeals has ordered a new trial for a Bay County man earlier sentenced to three to 10 years in prison.

The court Tuesday said James W. Moore should be retried because his indecent liberties conviction involved allegations of assault and battery which the jury did not consider.

Economical Beef Cuts—Delicious Eating

Food Editor, The Pontiac Press
While food prices have not climbed as fast as some of the other necessities of life, they are disturbing. Every time you shop, you get a new shock.

Probably nowhere is this more apparent than in meat buying, and that's where most people start planning their menus.

Let's talk about beef buying today.

We'll dismiss steaks. If you want steak and can afford it, you will buy it and you don't need our advice.

If your budget says you plan most of your beef meals around hamburger, you won't need this advice either.

But if you like beef and want to serve it a couple of times a week, here are a few ideas on how to get the most for your money.

TENDER OR NOT

Everyone wants tender meat. Some cuts, because they come from parts of the animal that is not muscular, are naturally tender. Meat, with T-shaped bones is more tender than cuts having round bones or other long bones.

Tender cuts are cooked by dry heat, while less tender ones need moist heat. Or you can tenderize the latter and cook like the former.

Sliced Carrots and Apples Are Good Twosome

An easy way to enhance your vegetable course is the Gingered Apples and Carrots. Both carrots and apples are cooked together with the ginger, complementing fruit and vegetable flavors, but the carrots must be thinly-sliced so they'll cook in equal time with the apple crescents.

Gingered Apples and Carrots

2 medium size Washington State apples
6 medium size carrots
¼ cup water
3 tablespoons butter (or margarine)
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons grated green or candied ginger
Butter
Parsley

Peel and core apples; slice into thin crescents. Scrape carrots and slice very thin. Cook apple crescents and carrots covered, in heavy pan with water, butter, salt and ginger, until water is absorbed. Apples and carrots should be tender-crisp.

Place in serving dish, dot with butter and garnish with parsley. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

There is no difference in nutrition or amount of protein between the two types of cuts. Grade-wise, if you buy choice grade, you get more tender meat than if you buy good or commercial. The amount of fat marbled throughout the meat makes the difference.

There are countless ways to serve delicious beef dishes without wrecking the budget.

TENDERIZE FIRST

Many cooks like to use tenderizers, plain or seasoned. Others prefer to tenderize their meat by marinating it in wine, a spicy marinade or even French dressing.

Try the first method with top or bottom round, flank or chuck steak, all less tender cuts.

FROSTED STEAK
2-3 lbs. top or bottom round or sirloin tip* cut ½ inch thick, instant meat tenderizer.

For Topping:

1 small onion, finely chopped
Juice of ½ lemon
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten or flank steak may be used long bones.

In a small frying pan, sauté onion in butter until golden about 5 minutes. Add lemon juice, bread crumbs and egg; blend well. Prepare all surfaces of the meat, one side at a time as follows:

• Thoroughly moisten the meat with water. You may pat the water on from the faucet with your fingers or draw a wet pastry brush across the surface of the meat. Sprinkle instant meat tenderizer evenly, like salt, over the entire surface of the meat. Use no salt.

• To insure penetration and retain meat juices, pierce the meat deeply and thoroughly with a kitchen fork at approximately ½-inch intervals. Meat is ready for cooking immediately.

• Place meat on broiler rack set 4 inches from heat source; broil 10 minutes; turn and broil 5 minutes. Then spread topping evenly on top of steak; broil an additional 5 minutes.

• To serve: slice meat in ¼ to ½-inch thick diagonal slices.

BAKED BARBECUE SHORT RIBS WITH VEGETABLES

1 cup catsup
¼ cup (packed) brown sugar
¼ cup finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

½ teaspoon liquid smoke, optional
2 drops Tabasco
¼ cup water
1½ teaspoons salt
3 pounds beef short ribs
2 cups diagonally cut (1-inch long) carrot chunks, cooked and seasoned

4 large-size zucchini squash, sliced diagonally (½ inch thick), cooked and seasoned
24 large green onions, 6 inches long, cooked and seasoned

Combine first seven ingredients, ¼ cup water and ¼ teaspoon salt in small saucepan. Simmer very gently to blend flavors, about 10 minutes. Sprinkle remaining 1½ teaspoons salt evenly over short ribs.

Arrange ribs, fat side up, in shallow baking pan; brush with ½ of the barbecue sauce. Place in hot oven (400 degrees F.) to brown, 35 to 40 minutes, turning and brushing ribs with sauce 2 or 3 times during browning.

COVER TO BAKE

When ribs are brown, brush with remaining sauce and add ¼ cup water to pan; cover tightly; return to oven and bake ribs until they are fork tender, about 1 hour. Arrange ribs on large serving platter.

Drain excess fat from drippings and spoon sauce over ribs. Arrange hot, freshly-cooked vegetables attractively around ribs. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Round steak makes an appearance, not as swiss steak, but in a new meat and potatoes casserole.

STEAK AND POTATO BAKER

2 pounds potatoes
2 pounds lean round steak
Salt and pepper
1 medium onion, sliced
¼ pound small mushrooms
2 bouillon cubes
1½ cups boiling water
1½ cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon oregano
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Water to Cover

Many recipes call for egg whites, and you find you have no way of using the egg yolks right at that time. You can keep them, and they will be as fresh as ever when you do want them, if you put them in a container and add a small amount of water or cooking oil.

Marinate California seedless raisins a couple of hours in sherry wine. Drain and serve as condiment with beef, lamb or poultry curries.

Peel potatoes, slice ¼-inch thick and cover with cold water. Cut meat into serving size portions. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Sear meat on both sides in a hot frying pan.

Place meat in 6 individual casseroles or 1 large casserole. Cover and bake in a 350-degree oven 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until meat and potatoes are tender. Makes 6 servings.

Dissolve bouillon cubes in boiling water. Combine with tomato juice, salt, pepper, oregano and parsley. Divide mixture evenly between casseroles. Cover and bake in a 350-

STEAK AND POTATOES—Individual steak and potato casseroles are designed to be easy on waistlines, as well as budgets.

Idaho U. in the Market to Produce Money

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Chartered as an agriculture landgrant college more than 80 years ago, the University of Idaho is returning to the land from which it sprang in order to keep pace with the rising costs of education.

The 6,000-student university, laid out across rolling hills in northern Idaho wheat country, has launched a unique program of educational fund-raising.

It is asking its graduate farmers and other alumni to donate chickens, hay, cattle, hogs, peaches, apples, wheat—anything marketable—to the university's three-year fund drive.

However, the university is not about to have pigs scampering across its campus or be flooded with tons of wheat. Agreements have been drawn whereby farmers can take their products to market and the university will receive the current market price, less commissions.

"We'd look very silly if a ton of wheat were dumped in front of the Agriculture Building here," said Frank C. Jones, the schools 62-year-old development director.

A 15-year veteran of fund-raising campaigns in the Midwest, Jones said he had tracked down 1,500 University of Idaho graduate farmers who are likely candidates for contributions.

The university is state-supported but Jones said appropriations have been insufficient to meet rising educational demands.

Arizona Project Seeks Agriculture Beachhead on Persian Gulf

LONDON (UPI) — A project which may solve a major problem of oil-producing areas in desert countries — the fact that harsh physical and climatic conditions prevent any large-scale agricultural development — has been set up by the government of tiny, oil-rich Abu Dhabi, on the Persian Gulf.

It has made a grant to the University of Arizona in Tucson, to the amount of $3.16 million for the construction of a power-water-food facility on the island of Sa'adiyat.

Arizona has an environmental research laboratory which is working under sponsorship of the Rockefeller Foundation to develop techniques which will provide these vital facilities to coastal areas of desert countries.

The Abu Dhabi Project will be the first large-scale unit of this type. A pilot scheme has been set up at Puerto Penasco, Sonora, Mexico.

The proposed complex would be powered by five diesel generators providing 1,000 kilowatts. Waste heat from the diesels would be captured for the desalination plant, and the fresh water thus produced would sustain the growth of a variety of vegetables planted directly in the beach sand and protected from the environment by air-inflated plastic enclosures.

There will be a two-section water-desalination unit to provide 64,000 gallons a day. The growing area would be about 50,000 square feet, enough to provide not much less than 1,000 tons a year of fresh vegetables.

The construction of the basic components will take place in Arizona. They will be shipped to Abu Dhabi, assembled and trial-operated. Meanwhile, local staff will be recruited and trained for six months before the whole complex is handed over to them some time in the latter part of 1971.

There are between 60,000 and 71,000 millionaires in the U.S.

Burden Eased, School Programs Squeezed

Waterford Tax Revolt Cuts 2 Ways

By MEL NEWMAN
Waterford Township voters recently joined the taxpayers' revolution and successfully fended off two attempts to increase their property taxes. Unfortunately, the township's school program was the casualty.

On Dec. 7, NEWMAN 1968, both a two-year, 9-mill increase and a $10.8-million bond issue were defeated. Voters, marching to the polls in record numbers, clobbered a repeat effort for the millage March 26.

But if these were victories, subsequent cutbacks would tend to make them rather hollow.

The result is an austerity program in Waterford's schools during 1969-70 and, beyond that, the threat of a major crisis if the financial trend continues.

Significant cutbacks in subject choices and class hours for many students, plus a higher teacher-pupil ratio and several more adjustments, which will generally devitalize the education program, are certain.

The potential impact of continued denial of funds is forboding.

The Youngstown, Ohio, school system ran out of money, and 28,000 students were closed out of classrooms for five weeks beginning last Thanksgiving.

Crisis or near-crisis situations exist in Philadelphia, Oakland, Calif., New York, Detroit and other cities where severe class time cuts or complete closings seem imminent.

Lack of money in Waterford Township is the same as being broke in Youngstown — You're unable to get what you want or can't pay for.

And taxpayers are increasingly less willing and/or able to pay.

On the other hand, the cost of education, paid for (aside from state aid) in Waterford Township and throughout Michigan by property taxes, is continually rising. Factors are:

- More than 80 per cent of the cost of maintaining a school district is in salaries. Teachers and administrators, like other public employees, are demanding and receiving pay increases.

- The cost of education in every grade from Kindergarten up is rising with the constant increase in the number of pupils, currently being felt most in the junior and senior high school levels.

- Pupils are staying in school longer than ever before.

- Higher-cost programs, such as vocational education, counseling and special programs for the disadvantaged, have been implemented.

EASY TARGET

It is perhaps easy to see why taxpayers in revolt have made education costs their target. It is the target one can reach — perhaps the single routine tax cost which can be directly refused.

As one school official put it: "Every week, people take home pay checks with chunks already taken out for federal, state, and often city income taxes. They have little control over how much is withheld or over where those monies go."

"But these same people who are sick and tired of tax-diminished pay checks can go right to the voting booth and just say 'no' to school millage and that's that."

INCOME TAXES

First, Waterford residents pay the same amount of income taxes people pay elsewhere, plus paying much more in property taxes than residents of industrialized communities.

There simply isn't any heavy industry in Waterford to absorb the property tax burden, so the people pay.

Second, booming land values in the township have assured a 24 per cent increase in the tax bills of next December. An increase in the state equalization factor from 2.08 to 2.18 is in the offing, because of fast-rising real estate prices.

Thus, of all the taxes on township residents, taxes on property are the fastest-growing.

And on the local front of the taxpayers' revolt, school millage is the enemy.

In addition to Ordinary Hospital Insurance, anyone who has been in the hospital recently knows ordinary hospital insurance—even Medicare—simply will not cover everything. You have to pay many "extras" out of your own pocket—and it can add up to hundreds of dollars in a frighteningly short time.

But even if your ordinary hospital insurance covers most of your medical and hospital bills, what about the bills that keep piling up at home? If you, as husband, father and breadwinner are suddenly hospitalized, your income stops, your expenses go up. Even if you have some kind of "salary insurance" it probably won't come close to replacing your full-time pay.

If your wife is suddenly hospitalized, who will look after the family, do the laundry, the marketing, the cleaning? You may have to take time off from your job or hire full-time domestic help—to take care of things at home.

If one of your children is suddenly hospitalized, you will certainly spend no expense. You wouldn't even think of the cost.

If you're over 65 and are suddenly hospitalized, Medicare, fine as it is, won't pay all of your hospital expenses or any household expenses. Most senior citizens won't want to use savings they may have taken a lifetime to accumulate—they want to retain their independence and not become a "burden" to their children or community.

Without "extra cash" protection, a hospital emergency can leave you with extra cash, delay when you can't pay, peace of mind shattered—even your recovery can be seriously delayed by worry!

How The Plan Protects You And Your Family
Now, with the unique "extra cash" protection of The Doctors Hospital Plan you can avoid these worries because you can be assured of extra cash income when you or any covered member of your family goes to the hospital. No matter how large your family, no matter what your age or occupation and without any qualifications whatsoever, you can choose any of the four low-cost plans shown at right to meet your family's special needs.

In addition to the "extra cash" hospital benefits, you get all these valuable "extra" features:

Your "Health-Bank Account" Grows Each Month

Here's a wonderful benefit, no matter which plan you choose—almost like having an extra "Bank Account." When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account."

Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, your benefits are subtracted from your "account." It's much like putting money in and taking it out of a bank account.

Enjoy Life-Long Security
For as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums, we will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—and we guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid.

You May Actually Come Out "Money Ahead"
Because The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any other company's health insurance you carry—individual, group or even Medicare—and because all your extra cash benefits are tax-free, you may leave the hospital many dollars ahead... money you don't have to account for to anyone. Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

Enroll For Only $1
Regardless of your age, the size of your family, or the plan you select, you pay your first month for only $1.00. If you choose the All-Family Plan—all your eligible children (including future additions) are included at no extra cost. (See box at right for low rates.)

Extra Cash Protection At Surprisingly Low Cost
How can a hospital plan offer so much for so little? The answer is simple: We have lower total sales costs. The Doctors Hospital Plan is a mass enrollment plan. All business is conducted between you and the company by mail. No salesmen will call. It all adds up to real savings we share with you by giving you high quality protection at low cost.

Offered By Physicians Mutual "The Doctors Company"

Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and reputation of the Physicians Mutual Insurance Company, "the doctors company," specializing in health and accident protection for physicians, surgeons and dentists for more than 65 years. Dunne's Insurance Reports, one of the leading insurance industry authorities in the nation, gives Physicians Mutual its highest policyholders' rating of "A Plus (Excellent)." Serving hundreds of thousands of policyholders throughout the United States directly by mail, Physicians Mutual has its headquarters in Omaha, Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental and insurance professions.

CHOOSE THE PLAN THAT SUITS YOU BEST

ALL-FAMILY PLAN $10,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized, $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized, $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If you are a young, growing family, we recommend the All-Family Plan. All your children (including future additions) between 3 months of age and under 21 are included at no extra cost as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

You pay only $7.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized, $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) when your wife is hospitalized.

If you have no children, or if your children are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the Husband-Wife Plan.

You pay only $6.45 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

On all plans, your "extra cash" benefits are paid from the very first day you enter the hospital, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, right up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you select.

Naturally The Doctors Hospital Plan will cover any new accident or sickness. New accidents are covered immediately. After your policy is 30 days old, you are covered for new sicknesses which begin thereafter. There are only three minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof

ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN $7,500 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized, $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each eligible child hospitalized.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the One-Parent Family Plan. This plan has been tailored to help meet your particular needs. It covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

You pay only $5.95 a month and you get your first month for only $1.00!

INDIVIDUAL PLAN $5,000 MAXIMUM

PAYS YOU: $100 weekly ($14.28 daily) extra cash when you are hospitalized.

If you are living by yourself, or if you wish to cover only yourself or one family member, choose the Individual Plan.

You pay only $3.95 monthly and you get your first month for only $1.00!

(unless you have the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, each of which covers maternity after the policy is in force for 10 months), war, military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or conditions covered by Workmen's Compensation or Employers Liability Laws.

Nebraska, and is licensed and incorporated in that state. Its Board of Directors is composed entirely of respected members of the medical, dental and insurance professions.

Easy To Enroll! No Salesman Will Call!

During this limited enrollment period there are no other qualifications other than to complete and mail the Enrollment Form below. We will issue your Doctors Hospital Policy (Form P322 Series) immediately—the same day we receive your form. This automatically puts your policy in force. Along with your policy you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. When you need your benefits, you can be sure that your claim will be handled promptly.

Protect Your Family—Enroll Now!

If Not Satisfied Your $1 Will Be Refunded
Take a moment now to fill out your Enrollment Form and mail it with only $1.00 for your first month. When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is honest and easy to understand. But if for any reason

SPECIAL EXTRA BENEFITS!

Whichever plan you choose, you get: 10% INCREASE IN YOUR CASH BENEFITS... If you or any member of your family is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction), coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion, or stroke (apoplexy).

If you choose the All-Family Plan or the Husband-Wife Plan, you get in addition: DOUBLE CASH BENEFITS! If both you and your wife are injured and hospitalized at the same time, you get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK! Important: Here is another real "plus"—if you have been told that anyone in your family is "uninsurable!" Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past—ailments that come back again and again, or are likely to recur—you will be covered for these pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force for one year!

IF YOU ARE OVER 65

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses it will not cover all of your needs. During this limited enrollment, you can get the extra cash protection needed during the high-risk senior years without any qualifications just by using the form below!

It's fact that people over 65 go to hospitals more often and have larger hospital bills. That's exactly why they need extra cash protection! And that's why some hospital plans won't accept them or charge rates beyond their means. But The Doctors Hospital Plan not only accepts you regardless of age, it gives you easy-to-carry protection that is within your means. If you are over 65 now, or when you become 65, the following monthly additional rate applies:

Female on All-Family or Husband-Wife Plan ..... $2.50
Female on One-Parent Family or Individual Plan ..... $2.50
Male on any Plan ..... $2.50

19 Important Questions Answered

ABOUT THE NEW DOCTORS HOSPITAL PLAN

1. What is The Doctors Hospital Plan?

The Doctors Hospital Plan is a brand-new, low-cost health protection plan—that pays extra cash direct to you when a covered accident or illness hospitalizes you or a covered member of your family.

2. Why do I need The Doctors Hospital Plan in addition to my regular insurance?

Probably your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital expenses, but even if it does, you still need help to cover all your household expenses when you are hospitalized.

3. Can I collect even if I carry other health insurance?

Yes, The Doctors Hospital Plan pays you in addition to any health insurance you carry, whether individual or group—even in addition to Medicare! And all your benefits are tax-free! Of course, you may have only one like policy with Physicians Mutual.

4. Is there a lot of red tape to qualify?

5. What plan should I choose?

You may choose any of four low-cost plans—you can actually select the exact plan that suits you best! If you are a young, growing family, we recommend the ALL-FAMILY PLAN. You and your wife are covered at once for accidents, for new sicknesses after 30 days, and for maternity benefits after 10 months. All your children (and future additions) between 3 months and under 21 are included, at no extra cost, as long as they are unmarried and live at home.

If you are the only parent living with your children, we suggest the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN. This covers you and all unmarried children living at home between 3 months of age and under 21.

If you have no children as yet, or if you have children who are grown and no longer dependent on you, you will want the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN.

Or, if you are living by yourself, choose the INDIVIDUAL PLAN.

6. If I become hospitalized, when do my benefits begin?

On all plans, your cash benefits are paid from the very first day of covered hospital confinement, for as long—and for as many times—as you are hospitalized, up to the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of the plan you choose.

7. How much can I be paid?

Each plan has its own "Aggregate of Benefits," what we

For example, under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $10,000—$100 a day ($14.28 a day) extra cash income for you; $75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for your wife; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for you; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for each of your eligible children.

Under the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, the maximum is $7,500—$75 weekly ($10.71 daily) for you; $50 weekly ($7.14 daily) for your wife.

Under the INDIVIDUAL PLAN, the maximum is $5,000—$50 a week ($14.28 a day) for you.

8. Are any additional benefits included in The Doctors Hospital Plan?

Yes. You receive a 50% increase in cash benefits if you or any covered family member is hospitalized for cancer (including Leukemia and Hodgkin's Disease), heart attack (acute myocardial infarction), coronary thrombosis and coronary occlusion, or stroke (apoplexy).

9. What are the "double" cash benefits?

If you and your wife are both injured and hospitalized at the same time and are covered by the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, you get double cash benefits. You get twice the amount—$350 A WEEK!

10. Does this plan pay in any hospital?

You will be covered in any hospital except nursing homes; convalescent, extended-care, or self-care units of hospitals; or Federal hospitals.

11. When does my policy go into force?

It becomes effective the very same day we receive your Enrollment Form. New accidents are covered on the date. After your policy is 30 days old, new sicknesses which begin thereafter are covered. Under the ALL-FAMILY PLAN and the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, childbirth or pregnancy or any consequence thereof is covered after your policy is in force for 10 months.

12. What if someone in my family has had a health problem that may occur again?

Even if one of your covered family members has suffered from chronic ailments in the past, pre-existing conditions are covered after the policy has been in force for one year.

13. What conditions aren't covered?

Only these minimum necessary exceptions: pregnancy or any consequence thereof (unless you have the ALL-FAMILY PLAN or the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN, when military service, mental disorder, alcoholism or drug addiction, or any consequence thereof).

14. Can I drop out any time? Can you drop me?

We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for health reasons—for as long as you live and continue to pay your premiums. We guarantee that we will never cancel, modify or terminate your policy unless we decline renewal or modify all policies of this type in your entire state or until the maximum (Aggregate of Benefits) of your policy has been paid. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.

15. Why is The Doctors Hospital Plan almost like having an extra "bank account"?

When your policy is issued, your insurance provides up to $10,000, $7,500, or $5,000—depending upon the plan you choose. This is your "Health-Bank Account." Then, every month your policy is in force, a sum equal to your regular monthly premium (including your first month) is actually added to your maximum. When you have claims, benefits are subtracted from your "account!"

16. Will my claims be handled promptly?

Yes. With your policy, you will receive a simple, easy-to-use Claim Form. Your claims will be processed quickly and your checks sent directly to you.

17. Why are the premiums so low?

With The Doctors Hospital Plan, you actually get all these benefits—at such a low cost—because this is a mass enrollment plan—and no salesman will call. Our volume is higher and our total sales costs are lower.

18. How much does my first month cost?

Only $1.00, regardless of your age, the size of your family or the plan you select. After the first month, if you are under 65, you pay only these low monthly rates: only $7.95 a month for the ALL-FAMILY PLAN; only $5.95 a month for the ONE-PARENT FAMILY PLAN; only $6.45 a month for the HUSBAND-WIFE PLAN; only $3.95 a month for the INDIVIDUAL PLAN. (When you are over 65, premiums increase. See modest increase in box above.)

19. Why should I enroll right now?

Because an unexpected sickness or accident could strike without warning—and you will not be covered until your policy is in force. Remember, if for any reason you change your mind, you may return your policy within 10 days and your $1.00 will be refunded immediately.

Young Black Actors Relive School Crisis

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (UPI)—The Negro girl dropped her school books and ran from the lowered bayonets of the white National Guardsmen.

"Lynch her! Lynch her!" a crowd yelled.

She ran until she could run no more, then dropped to a bus stop bench and sobbed.

The girl is an actress. The scene is part of a play. But a dozen years ago, real whites screamed real threats at another Negro girl and eight other Negro children who were trying to enroll in Little Rock's Central High School. It was part of the nation's first forcible school desegregation.

ONLY PLAY

The play is the only place in the repertoire of a group of young black actors in Pine Bluff, an Arkansas River city southeast of Little Rock.

The performers are mostly juniors and seniors in high school. It is their first try at acting. What they lack in professional delivery and enunciation they make up in emotional feeling for their parts.

EMOTIONS TAUT

Emotions, however, are as taut as if the bayonets, the mobs and even the bus stop—all of which the audience must imagine—were recollections from yesterday.

The scene from the 1957 Central crisis is part of a play entitled "I, Too, Sing America."

It is a play written for an all-black cast. Nearly all the characters are figures from three centuries of American history. Some of the names, however, are not found in the standard history books.

The play is a series of scenes separated by blackouts held together by a strand of black American history.

WHITE WOMAN'S IDEA

The experiment is the brainchild of a white woman, Mrs. Jennie Lemlich of Pine Bluff, the group's director.

Mrs. Lemlich, who worked as both an actress and director in New York City for several years, also directs Theater 'n Stuff, an experimental drama workshop that recently created a community stir by casting blacks in such "white" roles as Juliet and Hamlet.

"I, Too, Sing America" traces the history of the black man in America from the slave ships to the civil rights movement.

It was not "written" but rather evolved, as the young performers did individual research about the characters they portray. Some were easy: Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Nat Turner, Booker T. Washington.

OBSCURE FIGURES

Others, W. E. B. Dubois and Frederick Douglass were more obscure to Arkansas Negro youths.

Some like Dr. Daniel Hale Williams, who performed the first successful open heart surgery in Chicago in the 1890s, were virtually unknown.

Willie Carroll, who portrayed Williams, found that the surgeon was not mentioned in any of the usual reference works and had almost given up when he stumbled onto a magazine article.

"I found out he grew up in Chicago," Carroll said, "he wasn't well off, but attended medical school. Williams died in 1931 because he needed a blood transfusion—and could not find a hospital that would accept a Negro."

ADMIRE DUBOIS

The young performers have come to the decision that black educator Booker T. Washington

Cattle Feeding Up 6 Per Cent in State

LANSING (AP)—Michigan cattle feeders had 182,000 cattle and calves on feed as of April 1, the State Crop Reporting Service said today. The total was 6 per cent more than at the same time last year.

Placements of feeders during the first quarter of 1969 totaled 34,000 head, three per cent more than the first three months of 1968, the service said. Steers made up 86 per cent of the cattle and calves on feed April 1, while heifers accounted for 14 per cent.

The demand for petroleum products in the U.S. is expected to grow 3.2 per cent to 13.4 million barrels a day this year.

Senate Unit Set to Act on School Aid

LANSING (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee was expected today to report out an $844.8 million state school aid bill that is only $271,000 above Gov. William Milliken's "sacrosanct" recommendations.

The proposal would slash some $4.73 million from a measure offered by the Senate Education Committee.

It falls far short of the $904-million appropriation proposed by Democratic Rep. Incille McCollough of Dearborn, chairman of the House Education Committee.

The rewritten Senate proposal would rearrange several of Milliken's priorities, increasing his recommendations for basic school aid and "high tax levy" district monies.

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin,

D-Berkley, and two Democratic colleagues, Sens. Coleman Young of Detroit and James Gray of Warren, assailed the initial Republican proposal because they said it failed to meet the needs of urban areas.

Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood has said a vote could come by Friday.

Meanwhile, House Appropriations Committee Chairman William Copeland,

D-Wyandotte, planned work today or tomorrow on the lower chamber's version of school aid.

Copeland, irritated by early Senate action which breaks with the long-standing tradition that the school aid bill initiate in the House has said the Senate bill—if passed—would go to "the bottom of the pile" in measures to be considered by his committee.

Nixon Moves on Mafia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, proposing a $61-million war against organized crime, asked Congress today to make corruption of police and local officials and operation of large-scale illegal gambling rings federal offenses.

In a special message which said the leaders of the Cosa Nostra "are more firmly entrenched and more secure than ever before," Nixon said his administration is studying laws to cripple syndicate-owned operation of legitimate businesses financed by illicit revenues.

Nixon also said he wants the crime-fighting budget for the fiscal year starting July 1 to be increased by $25 million to a record $61 million.

"What would finance hiring more sleuths and help staff 'strike forces' being set up in 20 cities to coordinate activities of all federal agencies engaged in the investigation of organized crime and racketeering.

MORE CITIES

At least a dozen more cities will be added to the list within two years, he said.

Nixon also proposed the annual federal tax on gamblers be increased from $50 to $1,000.

WITNESS IMMUNITY

And in another request for legislation, he proposed "a new broad general witness immunity law." He said that, under this, a witness granted immunity could not be prosecuted on the basis of his testimony but would not be immune from prosecution based on other evidence.

Should the witness refuse to testify, he would be liable to a prison sentence for contempt.

Perhaps the most striking idea Nixon outlined was possible application of the antitrust laws, or new statutes incorporating their theories, to crack down on syndicate-controlled business enterprises.

"The arrest, conviction and imprisonment of a Mafia lieutenant can curtail operations, but does not put the syndicate out of business," he said.

OTHER LEADERS

"As long as the property of organized crime remains, new leaders will step forward to take the place of those we jail.

"However, if we can levy fines on their real estate corporations, if we can seek treble damages against their trucking firms and banks, if we can seize the liquor in their warehouses, I think we can strike a critical blow at the organized crime conspiracy," Nixon contended.

Nixon hit hard during his presidential campaign on the issues of violence, illegal gambling and organized crime's infiltration of legitimate business. And he called the nation's booming crime rate "a great national disaster."

Noting that not one of the 24 Cosa Nostra families has been destroyed, he said they are in fact stronger than ever.

"It is vitally important that Americans see this alien organization for what it really is — a totalitarian and closed society operating within an open and democratic one," he said.

PAPC Bylaws, Financing OK'd

The Pontiac Area Planning Council (PAPC) received official recognition and financial support from the City Commission at last night's commission meeting.

The PAPC's revised bylaws were accepted and payment of half of the year's budget of $36,635 for the fiscal year starting May 1 was approved.

The other half of the budget is to be paid by the Pontiac School Board, which is scheduled to act on it April 30. The two bodies formed the PAPC as an advisory group in October 1967. Supporting funds had previously been supplied by contributions from various industries and businesses.

The bylaws underwent a four-month long rewriting process after criticism from the City Commission last January. It was pointed out at that time the PAPC had not complied with enabling resolutions in submitting activities including budgets and bylaws back to the parent organizations.

IRWIN OPPOSED

Both accepting the bylaws and funding of the PAPC were opposed by District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin. He said the PAPC "is still not acceptable to my eyes... we were terribly wrong to

Arm of Law Reaches Over Oceans

R. B. SHAW

By DICK ROBINSON

The long arm of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department has stretched to Australia. And, in another matter, France's long arm has reached here.

Sheriff's detectives and others are working to extradite a 25-year-old Huntington Woods man from Australia on a charge of attempting to murder an Oakland University coed more than two years ago.

And a county detective located a Pontiac man the French government has been hunting for two years.

Law authorities have been on the look out for Roger B. Shaw since he failed to appear for trial Oct. 4, 1967, in the slaying of OU senior Janice E. Leveranz in a campus parking lot in January of that year.

HELD IN SYDNEY

He was picked up in Sydney, Australia on a charge of vagrancy, Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor John Davey said he was notified by the FBI last week.

Davey said he has begun involved extradition process to return him to the county jail to stand trial.

In addition to facing the original charge, which carries a maximum life sentence, the assistant prosecutor said he probably would be accused of fleeing prosecution.

About six months after he failed to appear for trial, police authorities thought they had traced him to Australia. But soon afterward, they thought their man was in Boston.

SOMEONE ELSE

Sheriff's Detective Sgt. Charles Whitlock explained that the man arrested in Boston on an assault charge had a similar name and physical appearance, but turned out to be someone else.

The search then returned to Australia but Shaw's whereabouts was unknown until he was arrested recently for vagrancy, according to Whitlock.

"There's a lot of red tape to get him back," Davey said. "It could take from one to six months."

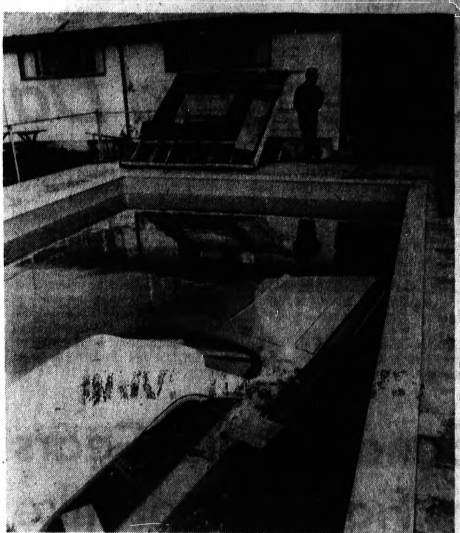

Gov. Milliken's office must make the request for return to the U.S. secretary of state, who must pass it on to Australian authorities, Davey explained.

Doctors Transplant Entire Human Eye

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A total human eye transplant, the first on record, has been performed at Methodist hospital.

John Madden, 54, yesterday received the eye from the body of O. B. Hickman, 55, of Houston, who had died 24 hours earlier of a brain tumor.

Dr. Conrad D. Moore, who performed the transplant, said Tuesday Madden, owner of a photography studio at Conroe, Tex., was in excellent condition. Moore added it was too early to tell whether the patient would be able to see with the eye.

Madden's left eye also has corneal damage but Moore said this probably could be corrected by a corneal transplant.

Eye transplant recipients, unlike heart recipients, face few organ rejection problems because the eye does not have as many exposed blood vessels, Moore said.

RARE CASE

"Even with a perfected procedure it could be used only with the loss of a whole eye, such as in an accident," he said. "The type case we had here might happen once in a thousand times."

Madden lost his right eye two weeks ago when a corneal transplant was unsuccessful because of bleeding. He was still hospitalized when the donor eye became available.

Despite loss of the eye, Moore said, it was found that the nerve essential to vision had not been destroyed. This led to the transplant in which the nerves of the donor eye were connected surgically with the Madden's optic nerves.

Moore said the Madden's eyelids would

State Holds Up OK of Schools' Bond Request

By JEAN SAILE

Delegates from Oakland County yesterday failed to get an answer from the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission as to whether government bonding levies beyond the 15-mill limit will be allowed.

The commission delayed a decision on a hotly disputed $500,000 bond issue sought by the Oakland County Intermediate School District.

The commission staff already has recommended disapproval of the proposed bond issue; on the basis that the district is currently operating on taxes levied beyond constitutional limits.

However, a decision was delayed for at least a week because counsel for the school district was not present to answer objectors.

FOR COMPUTER SYSTEM

The intermediate district is seeking the bond issue to help pay for a computer system now being rented for $30,000 a month. The district reportedly proposes eventually to bond up to $1.4 million to finance the complete computer system.

Commission staff members pointed out that a $700,000 bond issue is to be retired this spring by the district and that Dr. William Emerson, district superintendent, has signified his intent as of May 1 to sell new bonds to that amount.

George Williams, former Oakland County welfare director and president of the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, led a small delegation opposed to the bond proposal.

"If you allow them to issue the bonds now, there is no way they can be retired unless they go over the tax limitation," Williams said.

'BACK DOOR APPROACH'

This, he said, would be "a rather shabby way to extend the debt to the taxpayers by a back door approach."

Instead, Williams suggested, the school district should go back to the people and let them vote on the bond issue.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, commission chairman, and Mrs. Maxine Virtue, an assistant attorney general, attended the Lansing meeting. Mrs. Virtue wrote a recent attorney general's opinion that neither the county nor the intermediate school district has authority to regularly levy nonvoted taxes over the 15-mill limit.

Kelley assured the protesters he was concerned about protecting the constitutional 15-mill limitation.

'NO CIRCUMVENTION'

"We don't want to circumvent the constitution by some subterfuge," he said.

Safeguard Data Manipulated, Senator Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, a leading critic of President Nixon's missile defense program, says the administration is not allowing opponents of the Safeguard system the same access to classified material enjoyed by supporters.

Too often, the Missouri Democrat charged, the Pentagon releases to disclose material on the Safeguard to its critics but lifts the security wraps to bolster the administration's position.

"When we want a reply, classification prevents our getting at the facts," Symington said. "It's always a problem."

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, joined Symington in the criticism after former Defense research chief Dr. Herbert York testified he was first denied a Pentagon ABM briefing and then given one only after being called as a committee witness. York opposes Safeguard.

"I was very much concerned," Mrs. Smith said. She also expressed her concern "if President Nixon and Secretary Laird are stacking the cards against critics of the ABM now."

Symington said he also was certain Pentagon briefings, when given, were favorable toward the administration side of the argument.

Paul H. Nitze, once the No. 2 man at the Pentagon, told the committee Tuesday he does not think there is too much secrecy in the debate over deployment of ABM.

"Are you of the opinion that we are rather over-classified?" asked Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

"Not really," Nitze replied. "The amount of information which is available to the U.S. public is immense in relationship to the amount available in the Soviet Union."

He said the Armed Services Committee has access to all the information the Pentagon has.

Nitze and McMillan shared a microphone in support of ABM deployment. York and Dr. Wolfgang Panofsky shared another and opposed the system.

All four advocated arms control talks with the Soviet Union.

Nitze said Safeguard deployment would strengthen President Nixon's position in such negotiations.

Panofsky said even if the ABM worked perfectly, the Soviet Union could offset it with an increase of about 10 per cent in its offensive capability, and both nations would be back where they started.

Senate Panel Gears to Fight Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Senate Post Office Committee says President Nixon's proposed one-cent hike in first-class mail rates is a scheme "to get the administration out of a budget bind."

"As I understand it," Sen. Gale W. McGee said in an interview, revenue from the boost from 6 to 7 cents "will not necessarily improve mail service at all. It will go largely to pay for capital improvements which should be financed by the government's general revenues."

However, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he agrees with the administration that the hike, included in a $611-million postal rate increase proposal, is necessary.

Dirksen said if McGee's committee

Student Panel to Air Youth's View of Drugs

BIRMINGHAM — A youth's view of drugs will be discussed by a panel of Barnum Junior High School students tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the Barnum Auditorium, Frank and Purdy.

The six panelists are members of the school's eighth and ninth-grade independent study classes.

The presentation, sponsored by the Barnum PTA, was organized so parents and other members of the community could hear what youngsters are thinking about drugs and drug abuse.

Statistics reportedly show the greatest growth in drug use recently is among 15-19 year olds.

Birmingham public schools will offer a six week speech correction program, June 17 to July 25.

The program is open to preschool and school-age children in both public and nonpublic schools in Oakland County. Diagnostic testing and individual and group therapy will be provided.

Parents who feel their child has speech or language problem may contact the Special Services Office.

There is no fee. The special education program is financed by the state. Enrollment deadline is June 13.

Forgery Suspect Is Held on Coast

An Orion Township woman suspected of passing forged checks totaling almost $900 in Pontiac the past few weeks was arrested in Santa Monica, Calif., on a stolen credit card charge yesterday, local police said.

Pontiac detectives said they would get a warrant to hold Linda G. Wilkins, 25, of 3845 Roch, in jail there in connection with the local offenses.

City detectives said seven stolen checks, each for $126.46 and endorsed by Linda G. Wilkins, were cashed at stores in Pontiac.

They were part of nearly 300 checks stolen from Cabret Corp., 1015 Gold, Bloomfield Township, in February, township police said.

Santa Monica police informed Pontiac authorities the woman, who used an alias of Adams, was accused of forging a name to a Gulf Oil credit card issued to J. Namowicz, stolen from a Waterford Township service station.

She reportedly financed her motor trip to California with the stolen credit card, according to police.

A delegation of Macomb County officials, present to hear how drain bond assessments are to be regarded in view of the recent attorney general's opinion, did not get its questions answered either.

Neither did Louis Schimmel, a recent intermediate schools appointee to the County Tax Allocation Board. Schimmel said a quick determination would be helpful to the allocation boards in all 83 counties, due to meet next month for the divvying of the 15-mil allocated levy.

Also present from Oakland County were former County Supervisor Sidney Frid of Northville and James Wells, a Southfield attorney. Both spoke against of the bonding request.

GM Truck, Coach Has Record Sales

GMC Truck & Coach Division maintained its record selling pace with 4,457 truck and coach deliveries in the middle 10 days of April, Martin J. Caserio, a vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, reported today.

Calendar-year truck and coach sales through April 20 totaled 45,380 units, 8.2 per cent above the previous record of 41,931 over the same span set in 1968, Caserio said.

City Developer Meets Project Critics

By ED BLUNDEN

Pontiac developer Charles Langs appeared for a "meet the critics" session yesterday at the City Commission night.

He came on a commission request that he explain the financing of one of his largest projects, the building of some 545 units of rent supplement housing and housing for the elderly under contract.

The city is to assume $128,000 of $174,000 total cost of street improvements on the site.

"WINDFALL CLAIMED"

Irwin and Jackson have charged that, under the assessment schedule, Langs' firm was realizing a "windfall" of some $57,000, because he could get money from his mortgage company, plus the charge to future tenants.

Langs reported that, in his approval from the officials at the office of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Federal Housing Administration (FHA), some $83,400 was the amount okayed for utilities on the project. He said he had already spent $14,000 over that amount.

Langs charged Jackson was "misinformed and not intelligent in this," meaning the financing of the project.

Jackson demanded to see Langs' books, but Langs replied: "It's none of your business."

He said Jackson had been trying to pry information about him from the FHA office. "They (FHA) told me that they wish you would quit bothering them," Langs said all such information is confidential and cannot be legally released.

establish it... it's not a healthy thing."

Irwin said he was repeating objections about the PAPC that he has made "time and time again."

"I'm not getting much response," he admitted.

Jackson called the new bylaws "a good road map for an advisory committee."

His objections to financing centered around his wish that the PAPC would remain more independent.

All six commissioners present (Wesley J. Wood of district 6 was on vacation) approved a PAPC resolution calling for a study of the possibility of having a joint bus system operated by the city and schools.

The staffs of both bodies are to meet with transportation officials to attempt to form a proposal, it was indicated.

A Junior Editors Quiz About DIESEL ENGINES

QUESTION: How do diesel engines work?

ANSWER: The ordinary engine in a car is of the spark-ignition type. Electric sparks inside the cylinders ignite the gas vapor which is drawn in. Explosions force the pistons down.

The diesel engine does not have an electrical system to set off the fuel. Instead, it uses the principle that when air is suddenly compressed, its temperature will rise.

Look at (1) in our cross section of the diesel engine. At upper right, a valve has opened, allowing air to rush in. In (2), as the piston moves up, this air is compressed, becoming as hot as 900 degrees.

In (3), fuel from the fuel jet at left is injected and burns in an explosion as the hot air sets it afire. In (4) the piston having been forced down, rises again. The valve at upper left has opened to allow the burned exhaust vapors to move out.

Diesel engines use inexpensive fuel oil and give a greater return of mechanical energy produced for fuel consumed than can gasoline engines. That is why they are used for so many heavy-duty jobs, such as moving trains and trucks and the heavy equipment used in building roads.

the name of crime prevention and other claimed benefits — would have the government doubt the time and give the nation an extra hour of afternoon daylight all year long.

But in Michigan — where the proposal was narrowly defeated at the polls — more people will be unhappy with the switch than happy. If the results of the vote can be thus interpreted.

The issue fell in November voting, and a subsequent recount of key precincts failed to overturn the decision.

Father Saves Life of Son Hurt in Baseball Game

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The life of an injured high school baseball player apparently was saved Monday when his father rushed from the stands to my cab. Hope this free service makes your day a little happier. Help yourself," proclaims a sign.

The injury came as young Anthony Durham, 98-pound freshman second baseman for Donelson High School was tagged in the throat as he tried to steal third base in a game with Tennessee Preparatory School. He reportedly suffered a fractured larynx.

His father, Donald, an aero medical superintendent for the Tennessee Air National Guard, ran from the stands and used a pocket knife to open his son's throat and give him air.

The youth was listed in fair condition at General Hospital.

Files at the Department of Transportation, which sets the nation's time guidelines, are bulging with letters from people who, in the words of one aide, "all have their own magic position or dealing with time, and a lot of other problems as well."

The department is charged with implementing the law which now calls for uniform daylight saving six months of the year.

Several pending House and Senate bills would change that span at one or the other end of the period which now runs from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October.

At least one bill, by Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., would make daylight saving a year-round affair.

In a letter to the White House last year a Baltimore doctor endorsed the idea and gave this prescription for reducing crime: "High intensity lighting has proven to be the best deterrent to crime. Even though the thief becomes more brazen every day, he still operates better in darkness and shadow. What we need then is more light!"

Hosmer, declaring that permanent daylight saving was first proposed by Benjamin Franklin in 1784, says an extra hour of afternoon light would provide more outdoor leisure for adults and more playtime for children in fall and winter.

He too has been promoting the step as an anticrime measure. He says also it would save on electric bills.

NASA Ousts 'Voice of Apollo'; Former Newsman Gets Post

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — The Apollo moon flight program is getting a new narrator.

Paul Haney, "The Voice of Apollo," said he had been booted off the job after a series of acrimonious exchanges with Julian Scheer, chief of public affairs for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

In Washington, the agency announced that a former newsman, Brian Duff, was taking over Haney's assignment.

Haney told newsmen at a conference Tuesday he had received orders to report to Washington Monday for a new job at NASA headquarters.

AFTER BADGERING

Haney said the move came after weeks of "badgering" from Scheer.

Scheer confirmed that Haney was getting a new job, but had no comment on Haney's account of what happened.

Scheer said Haney's new job would be to coordinate public affairs programs under development.

Haney had been chief of public affairs for the Manned Spacecraft Center, the working home of the nation's astronauts, at an annual salary of $21,000.

He acted as the mission commentator for the first two Apollo missions, interpreting the space flights for the world and playing tapes of astronaut radio talk.

Haney, 40, said he was stunned by the job reassignment and that it might be "a government way of firing someone."

'GODDAMN LIAR'

He said that in a meeting with Scheer March 28, the public affairs chief gave him two alternatives: quit or take a lesser position. Haney said the conversation was heated and at one point

Scheer called him a "goddamn liar."

Haney, 40, said he was make a choice and a week later told Scheer he would take the Scheer revised the alternatives: handle only general public affairs at the Manned Spacecraft Center or handle only the space missions.

Haney said Scheer began telephoning at all hours of the day and night demanding a decision.

Last week, Haney said, he was told by Scheer "he couldn't accept the decision."

Haney said that Monday, Dr. Robert S. Gilrueth, director of the center, sent him a letter which ordered him to report to Washington Monday.

Asked about Haney's statements, Scheer said only that "We have made a move that we feel strengthens the organization. This is a simple case of using two very good people where they can best serve our needs."

month before Apollo 10, an eight-day flight to a near approach of the moon's surface, and less than four months before Apollo 11, the lunar landing flight.

'Sonic Booms Make Houses More Sound'

ANAHEIM (AP) — There's nothing like a mild sonic boom now and then to tone up a house, says a boom expert.

"The booms slow down deterioration and aging of houses," J.H. Wiggins Jr. told a meeting of the Institute of Environmental Sciences Tuesday.

No one knows just why booms do what they do for houses, he said, but one theory is that a shake now and then relieves accumulated stresses.

Wiggins directed government boom tests at White Sands, N.M., in 1964 and 1965 and has spent five years studying their effects.

Repeated sonic booms, he said, have actually lowered the rate at which defects show up in buildings.

Underneath it all, we're just plain folks.

Will success spoil Osmun's?

Success, you know, can be dangerous.

Just ask Howard Hughes. Of course, we haven't reached the point where we hide from the public.

But have we gotten so successful that we think we're more important than our customers are?

Obviously, we don't think so, or we'd never ask the question. We ask it to underscore an idea.

That is that even though we've grown from one small men's shop in Pontiac to four good-size men's stores in three cities, we're just the same as we were in 1931 when we unlocked the door and hoped for that first customer.

Today, everyone who walks into Osmun's store is treated like our first customer.

We're pretty glad to see him.

Because no matter how big we get, no matter how many thousands of customers we have, there's just no letting up on our appreciation that you came here instead of going to another men's store.

And there are a lot you can go to.

Success, to Osmun's, is a time to keep reminding ourselves that without you we'd own four of the world's largest clothes closets.

Waterford Tax Revolt Cuts 2 Ways

By MEL NEWMAN

Waterford Township voters recently joined the taxpayers' revolution and successfully fended off two attempts to increase their property taxes. Unfortunately, the township's school program was the casualty.

On Dec. 7, NEWMAN 1968, both a two-year, 9-mill increase and a $10.8-million bond issue were defeated. Voters, marching to the polls in record numbers, clobbered a repeat effort for the millage March 26.

But if these were victories, subsequent cutbacks would tend to make them rather hollow.

The result is an austerity program in Waterford's schools during 1969-70 and, beyond that, the threat of a major crisis if the financial trend continues.

Significant cutbacks in subject choices and class hours for many students, plus a higher teacher-pupil ratio and several more adjustments, which will general devitalize the education program, are certain.

The potential impact of continued denial of funds is forboding.

The Youngstown, Ohio, school system ran out of money, and 28,000 students were closed out of classrooms for five weeks beginning last Thanksgiving.

Crisis or near-crisis situations exist in Philadelphia, Oakland, Calif., New York, Detroit and other cities where severe class time cuts or complete closings, seem imminent.

Lack of money in Waterford Township is the same as being broke in Youngstown — You're unable to get what you want or can't pay for.

And taxpayers are increasingly less willing and able to pay.

On the other hand, the cost of education, paid for (aside from state aid) in Waterford Township and throughout Michigan by property taxes, is continually rising. Factors are:

- More than 80 per cent of the cost of maintaining a school district is in salaries. Teachers and administrators, like other public employees, are demanding and receiving pay increases.

- The cost of education in every grade from Kindergarten up is rising with the constant increase in the number of pupils, currently being felt most in the junior and senior high school levels.

- Pupils are staying in school longer than ever before.

- Higher-cost programs, such as vocational education, counseling and special programs for the disadvantaged, have been implemented.

EASY TARGET

It is perhaps easy to see why taxpayers in revolt have made education costs their target. It is the target one can reach — perhaps the single routine tax cost which can be directly refused.

As one school official put it: "Every week, people take home pay checks with chunks already taken out for federal, state, and often city income taxes. They have little control over how much is withheld or over where those monies go."

"But these same people who are sick and tired of tax-diminished pay checks can go right to the voting booth and just say 'no' to school millage and that's that."

INCOME TAXES

First, Waterford residents pay the same amount of income taxes people pay elsewhere, plus paying much more in property taxes than residents of industrialized communities.

There simply isn't any heavy industry in Waterford to absorb the property tax burden, so the people pay.

Second, booming land values in the township have assured a 24 per cent increase in the tax bills of next December. An increase in the state equalization factor from 2.08 to 2.59 is in the offing, because of fast-rising real-estate prices.

Thus, of all the taxes on township residents, taxes on property are the fastest-growing.

And on the local front of the taxpayers' revolt, school

New Tax Goal: Do Good

Viet News May Hike Demand

Market Is Higher at Opening

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks moved higher at the opening today in moderately active trading.

Renewed Vietnam peace hopes may generate further demand following yesterday's late rebound.

Communist officials in Paris said a partial withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Vietnam.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers hinted at such a move.

However, monetary uncertainties in Europe and the virtual state of war in the Middle East could dampen enthusiasm.

INDICATOR UP
Shortly after the opening, the UPI stock market indicator was up 0.51 per cent on 359 issues on unchanged.

Honeywell rose 1 among the electronics, with Sperry Rand up 1/2. General Electric dipped 1/2, while Fairchild Camera and Westinghouse held unchanged.

IBM, up more than 4 in the previous session, also was unchanged.

Must Abolish Tax Loopholes

2 Key Congressmen Hit Nixon 'Timidity'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top Republican and Democratic members of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee both say President Nixon's tax reform proposals do not go far enough in eliminating tax shelters for the rich.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., and the committee's ranking Republican, Wisconsin Rep. John W. Byrne, said what is needed is the removal of exemptions and loopholes that allow some wealthy persons to avoid paying any federal income tax.

Nixon, they said, merely wants to limit the use of such tax shelters, not purge them from the tax structure.

They raised the issue Tuesday as Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker and Assistant Secretary Edwin S. Cohen went before the committee.

NEW THINKING
New thinking, rather than new proposals based on old thinking, is what some critics insist is needed above all today.

Trying to torture old ideas to fit new situations, they say, is what permits loopholes.

One of the most glaring inconsistencies was pointed out earlier by Joseph Barr, former President Lyndon B. Johnson's secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Barr, who disclosed that 21 individuals with incomes of more than $1 million a year paid no income taxes at all in a recent year.

But there are lesser-known areas of the federal tax code that increasingly are criticized.

Among the accusations: Tax laws promote slush. Major repairs of rental properties by landlords cannot be deducted as maintenance costs in one year, but must be depreciated gradually over a period of many years. This may discourage improvements.

Tax laws discourage saving and reward borrowing, because interest on savings and dividends on stocks are taxed, while interest paid on corporate loans is tax-deductible.

This is one reason why corporate take-overs often are paid for with borrowed money rather than in stock.

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Nixon's tax proposals are perhaps only the beginning of many more that will be brought forth in the next few years.

For the time being, the proposals are full of inconsistencies.

Experimentation and flexibility are likely to be far more common in the 1970s, for the overly simple thinking that viewed taxes as revenue-raiser only, and not tools for social change, seems old-fashioned now.

It isn't only what is wrong with taxes that attracts the attention of reformers. As big a goal is the good that can be brought by the wise collection and distribution of tax money.

This was recognized by Nixon in asking Congress to release $2 million per year-level Americans from paying income taxes.

This might not put much money in the pockets of the poor, $100 or so, but it is revolutionary thinking.

sons to carry an unfair burden, is also an innovation in tax forcing them in effect to subsidize marriages and babies. Because they can divide income between husband and wife, married couples pay lower taxes than single people.

Such apparent inconsistencies are among the reasons now for a great number of studies that encourage innovation in taxes, and some of these ideas are already near to practical application. This is the positive side of the story.

Nixon's proposal to release those in poverty from taxes, for example, is a big step toward the negative income tax, which signed to encourage plant expansion and modernization is not only an innovative category, even though many businessmen sincerely wish it were not.
