Hoffa Ends Own Trial Testimony

Denounces Rights Bill

AP Wirephoto

ISSUES WARNING — Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) poses in his Washington office as he checks a speech prepared for delivery on the Senate floor. In the speech Byrd said the administration's civil rights bill "would make a 20th century American Caesar" out of Atty. Gen. Brownell if it passed in its present form.

Senators Dig In for Fight After Ike Backs Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opposing sides dug in today for the showdown fight over President Eisenhower's civil rights program after he reaffirmed his support of its basic provisions.

Eisenhower's statement was issued by the White House within minutes after the Senate voted 71-18 late yesterday to take up the legislation for debate and action.

"That's good," exclaimed Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), a leading supporter of the bill, when he saw the President's statement. Other senators backing the measure also hoped it would stiffen resistance to compromise moves.

Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said he didn't think more than five or six Republican senators would vote for any amendments to the administration bill, passed by the House last month.

But Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said the Southern opponents he is leading "were prepared to expend the greatest effort ever made in history to prevent passage of this bill in its present form."

SUPPORT DRAWN

The Dixie forces already have drawn support outside their own ranks, from Democrats and Republicans alike, to delete or modify key features of the bill.

But if they fail in that effort, they still will be free to filibuster against the bill — a last-resort course with which they have blocked all civil rights measures in the past.

To choke off a filibuster takes the votes of 64 senators — two thirds of the entire membership.

In rapid-fire order yesterday,

Elevator Kills Store Employe

Was on Fourth Floor, Head Caught in Shaft of Freight Lift

A 17-year-old stock boy was killed instantly this morning when his head was crushed by a department store freight elevator after he had stuck his head through an opening into the shaft.

Detective Sgt. Allen Noble, of the Pontiac Police reports the teenager, Leroy Crow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Crow, of 221 State St., had stuck his head through a 13 by 13-inch stationary opening used to relay messages from the fourth floor stockroom in Waite's.

The elevator came down from the floor above.

Deputy Coroner Isaac Prevette pronounced the youth dead.

The accident was discovered by John Chika, of W. Long Lake road, a fellow employe. Crow was graduated from Pontiac High School in June.

Crow, who had worked part time in the department store during scvhool, was employed full time pending a decision on future education according to a relative.

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo said today he was "certain" downtown Detroit would soon have a new, 1,000-room hotel in the heart of the Civic Center.

Foresee More Manpower Cuts in U.S. Military

Expected to Follow 100,000-Man Reduction Approved for This Year

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — Further military manpower reductions in 1958 were foreseen today following the 100,000-man cutback in the armed forces approved by President Eisenhower for this year.

The President gave his approval late yesterday to the 100,000-man reduction after Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson advised him that the cut would make possible a 200 million dollar slash in military budget requests before Congress without "materially affecting deployment of major combat units abroad."

Wilson ordered the services to effect the reductions by the end of 1957, and indicated that further manpower economies may be expected next year.

The defense secretary told the services to eliminate the jobs of 88,135 enlisted men and 11,865 officers, reducing the total strength of the armed forces from 2,800,000 to 2,700,000 men.

He added, however, that a total reduction of 20,000 officers is contemplated, which would leave a cut of 8,135 to be accomplished next year. And he spoke of reductions of "80,000 to 100,000" in the enlisted rank, which at the top leaves a possible further cut of 11,865 next year.

The cutback order was in line with Eisenhower's cut-to-the-bone economy directive to government agencies June 28.

Wilson, himself, had previously pointed out that a 10 per cent reduction in defense spending was necessary to stay within the budget. The secretary said this spending reduction would involve both manpower and weapons, and a sharp cutback in weapons already is being effected.

The Army was hardest hit by the reductions ordered yesterday. Its dream of maintaining a million-man strength indefinitely was destroyed.

Record-Setting Pilot Feels No Sensation of Speed

1,015 M.P.H. Like Sitting in Chair

(What does it feel like to fly across the U. S. at speeds of more than 1,000 miles per hour? Marine Maj. John Glenn Jr., who set a new trans-continental record yesterday, tells his own experiences in the following article.)

By MAJ. JOHN GLENN JR., USMC

FLOYD BENNETT FIELD, N.Y. (INS)—Flying at supersonic speeds is nothing like going on a roller coaster or driving a car on the highway.

Locked in my plane shooting along at speeds which hit 1,015 miles per hour is like sitting in a chair at home and looking at dials.

There is no sensation, no indication of speed at that altitude of around 50,000 feet.

Of course, you know you are going like a scalded duck when you look down and see you are passing an entire state in a couple of minutes.

But as far as feeling the speed, it is less than driving a car about 60 miles an hour.

This flight was certainly not a one-man show. It was part of a team operation.

There are an unbelievable number of details that go into a flight like this and refueling in the air is the most ticklish part of the flight.

TIMING IS VITAL

Timing is most important. Remember, I'm going at a speed of 350 miles per hour and must come up to within 10 or 15 feet of the tail of the tanker.

The tanker must be level and smooth in flight or when I come up behind the plane can be banged up if we don't work smoothly.

I didn't have too much time to think because I had plenty of problems to take care of, but I must say I was always thinking "where are the tankers?"

I had to hit the tanker rendezvous right on schedule because I had just enough reserve fuel to get me into a nearby base if anything went wrong with the refueling operation.

You can see how ticklish this thing is because my partner, Lt. Cmdr. Charles F. Demmler, had some trouble and had to land.

Going at 12 to 15 miles a minute keeps a pilot pretty busy. I was always worrying about my fuel supply.

My "old girl" was really performing perfectly. And this was a standard plane with the fleet and not a souped-up job.

You will excuse me for being a little prejudiced for feeling we have the best fighter plane in the world—the F8U1.

Others can go higher but none combines the speed, maneuverability and altitude which make up the best general combat plane in the world.

Given a break in the weather, we can make the same flight in under three hours.

The old cross-country record was 3 hours, 44 minutes and 53.88 sec-

Did Not Know Cheasty Worked for Committee

Hired Him as Lawyer on Fischback's Advice, Teamster Testifies

WASHINGTON (AP)—James R. Hoffa swore today he never knew that John Cye Cheasty worked for the Senate Rackets Committee until after he, Hoffa, was arrested on March 13.

"I was never apprised that he was working for the committee until I was arrested and taken downtown," Hoffa said.

This wound up Hoffa's direct testimony in his bribery-conspiracy trial.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Edward P. Troxell, the chief government prosecutor, then began cross-examining the Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union.

Hoffa is charged with conspiring to induce Cheasty to get a job with the committee, then bribing him to turn over its secrets to him.

Hoffa testified he gave Cheasty $2,000 on March 12 as monthly compensation as co-counsel for the Midwest teamsters in connection with the Senate investigation of union wrongdoing.

Several times today Hoffa said he had "no knowledge whatever" that Cheasty had a job with the committee before his arrest.

He said he never had any discussion concerning "Mr. Cheasty working for me in any other capacity than that in which I retaine him."

Hoffa said yesterday he hired Cheasty as a lawyer upon the recommendation of Hyman I. Fischbach, Miami attorney, who had been hired as counsel for the teamsters in Hoffa's jurisdiction.

Cheasty, the government's star witness in the case, already has testified he furnished Hoffa with information from committee files, but only after disclosing his identity and purpose to the committee and the FBI.

He said he cooperated with both in events leading up to Hoffa's arrest.

"Mr. Cheasty was to be co-counsel with Mr. Fischbach," Hoffa said.

Hoffa, taking the stand in his own defense yesterday, said he had never had any discussion either with Cheasty or with Hyman I. Fischbash about Chesty's getting a job with the committee.

Hoffa said he decided to hire Fischbach as a lawyer for the Teamsters because of Fischbach's past experience as an attorney for various congressional committees.

He said Fischbach brought Cheasty to see him in Detroit and suggested that Cheasty be hired as co-counsel. He quoted Fischbach as saying they had worked together in the past on lawsuits and would make a fine working team.

Ohio Wins Plant Monroe Wanted

Jones & Laughlin Steel Rejects Michigan Due to Tax Structure

DETROIT (AP) — Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. says it will locate a new plant in Ohio rather than Michigan because the tax outlook for corporations in Michigan is "not at all encouraging."

This development yesterday was the latest in a running dispute over whether industrial firms are bypassing Michigan in their expansion plans because of the state's tax structure.

Jones & Laughlin, which at one time considered Monroe as a site for its new plant, said the installation would cost 16 million dollars.

Mayor Milton H. Knabusch of Monroe said the plant would have meant 700 new jobs in the area around his town of 22,000 in southeast Michigan.

Monroe Requests Funds for Consolidation of Labs

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked Tuesday to appropriate $6,325 for the consolidation of public laboratories in the Pontiac City Hall, the Pontiac General Hospital Annex and the County Health Department administration building in Royal Oak.

County Health Director Dr. John D. Monroe wants all laboratory work moved to the new county health center in the Telegraph road service center.

The Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee, working with the Health Committee, is scheduled to ask for the funds to install laboratory facilities in the health center basement.

MORE EFFICIENT

The move would make laboratory work more efficient and economical, said Assist. Health Director Dr. C. A. Neafie.

The Pontiac City Commission has favored the switch, although official approval has not been given yet.

The city has been running its own small laboratory, although the city and county health departments have been merged under Dr. Monroe since 1952.

The Royal Oak and hospital annex (formerly the Contagious Hospital) operations are both under the county.

Dr. Neafie said consolidation is necessary in the face of the present shortage of trained laboratory technicians. It would eliminate duplication of work, too, Dr. Neafie said.

Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip are scheduled to visit North America next fall.

Sally Sharp Ousted as State Champion

Defending champion Sally Sharp of Birmingham was eliminated this morning from the Women's State Amateur tournament at Orchard Lake when she lost 2 and 1 to Miss Marge Watkins of Country Club of Detroit.

A holed-out chip shot from the edge of the 15th green was the shot that broke the match. Marge lifted her ball onto the green and it holed out for a par 5. Match was square at the 14th, closed out on 16th when Sally three-putted from 25 feet after hitting the green with a seven-iron shot. Marge also missed an easy putt here, but Sally dubbed her third from only 18 inches away.

Hospital Head Says 'Sirens of No Use'

DENVER (AP)—The manager of Denver hospitals wants sirens taken off the city's ambulances, which make an average of 10,000 runs a year.

"Nobody has shown me a case in which a life has been saved because of a siren," Dr. Lloyd Florio told a safety meeting.

Police Chief Walter Johnson recommended the sirens be kept because "people feel they are being cared for more efficiently."

It's a 'Bearcat' Says Theater Writer

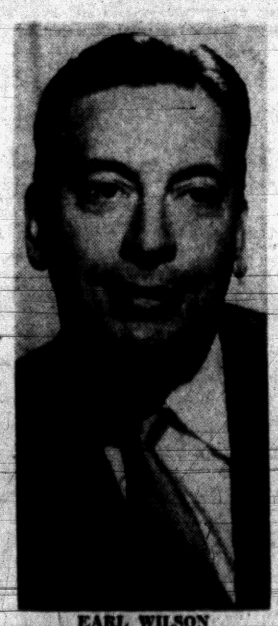

Earl Wilson Lauds Press Theater Tour Plans

By EARL WILSON
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

NEW YORK—That trip to New York which The Pontiac Press has lined up for 150 local citizens is a bearcat. Last week at the convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors in San Francisco, I bumped into the publisher and editor of The Press and they outlined the plan.

The list of shows which The Press has rounded up is the top list in town. I'd hate to have to dig up tickets to those five performances myself. New York is full of New Yorkers that haven't seen half of them and a lot of people haven't seen any.

"My Fair Lady"
"Happy Hunting"
"Bells Are Ringing"
"Tunnel of Love"
"Visit to a Small Planet"

EARL WILSON

That's a great array. I can promise all of you Pontiac visitors that you'll get a big kick out of the whole group. "My Fair Lady" has built up the largest reputation of anything in show business in the last several decades. Never in the history of the New York theater has any one found tickets as hard to get and commanding such fantastic prices.

I know of several specific instances myself in which people have paid as much for two tickets to this show as your New York visitors will pay for the whole trip. You're getting a tremendous bargain in this package deal which The Press is putting on.

I like that deluxe flight on the United Air Lines planes, too. That's the top in air flight today. After your party leaves Willow Run, you'll hardly have time to catch your breath before the hostesses will be telling you to look down on the skyscrapers of New York City.

I'm leaving shortly for South America but I expect to be back before you come down here in September and I certainly hope I can accept Mr. Fitzgerald's invitation to meet you at Leone's for an after-the-theater supper. I understand you're going to have some of the performers from the shows and I want to join the big shindig.

Good luck to all of you and you're facing a rare opportunity. I know. I live in this wonderful and expensive citadel. This is my territory and my beat as I report it to you every day in The Press.

Ask Dismissal in Knifing Case

Defense Makes Motion on Self-Defense Plea; Decision Due Tuesday

The defense concluded its testimony yesterday in the examination of Elmer F. Martin for second degree murder before Waterford Township Justice Donald Adams.

The defense counsel, Clarence Smith, asked Justice Adams to dismiss the charge against Martin on the grounds of self-defense. Adams took the motion under advisement and said he would rule on it July 23.

MARTIN TESTIFIES

Martin took the stand to give his version of the fatal stabbing of Joseph Compeau, 27, of West Bloomfield Township. Martin, 33, of 264 N. Saginaw, admitted stabbing Compeau June 1 at the Waterford Township Dump, but claimed it was self-defense.

He said he was walking toward a fire in the dump when Compeau suddenly appeared beside him and resumed a quarrel which had been going on since last fall.

He testified that Compeau picked up a "pipe or other blunt instrument" and struck him twice, over the head and under the arm.

Martin said he pulled a knife from his pocket and that while he stood there with it, Compeau pushed forward and stabbed himself on the protruding blade.

Martin denied earlier testimony by James E. Petty who works at the dump that he had called Compeau over before the fight began.

Petty had said he heard Martin call, "Hey, Joe, come over here."

Petty, too, said he heard Compeau's scream, but did not witness the stabbing.

Man Pleads Guilty to 3 Traffic Violations

A Detroit man, Wyman C. Hall, 48, of 8033 Rangoon St., pleaded guilty yesterday to three traffic violations Tuesday before Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle, and was sentenced to serve 10 days in the Oakland County Jail for each charge, after paying fines and costs totalling $125.

The charges were reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident, and driving with a revoked license. The jail sentences will be served concurrently.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What does color have to do with estimating distance, on earth and in the sky?

Take a look at the mountains next time you are 30 or 40 miles away, and out of them. At that distance they will almost surely be enveloped in a blue haze. At long distances on earth things take on a bluish hue.

In the sky the opposite is true, a secret of weather many people don't appreciate. The nearest clouds appear darkest, or bluest. The far away views produce red overtones.

At sunset, when you see clouds in the west, far away, quite often they will be all sorts of reddish colors. The sky is colored by the sun's reflection on the dust particles in the air when viewed from a distance.

With mountains, or earthly things, a bluish color denotes distance. In the sky, red is the color denoting distance.

Boy Found Dead 8,500 Feet Up on Mountainside

BRIDGEPORT, Calif. (AP)—The body of 2-year-old David Allen Scott was brought to this mountain community late yesterday after the youngster—dead of exposure and exhaustion — was found at the 8,500-foot level of Eagles Peak.

The boy strayed Saturday from the Sierra campsite of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of San Diego.

The body, clad only in a T-shirt, red, white and blue socks and one shoe, was found among boulders on the steep slope. He had climbed an incredible 3,000 feet higher than the camp, losing his other little red canvas shoe and his brown play trousers along the way.

Undersheriff Jack Gardner said the child apparently died Saturday night.

Since the Army is the only service at full strength, its actual reduction amounts to somewhat more than 50,000 men while the total actual cut distributed among the other three services is just over 39,000.

However, the army will automatically accomplish a reduction of 25 to 30 thousand men in the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Japan, which is to be completed by Christmas.

The program is tailored to fix minimum draft calls of from 6,000 to 12,000 per month during the balance of this year, compared with 17,000 monthly early in 1957.

Three members of the Senate Armed Services Committee said today they want to take a closer look at the Pentagon order.

But two members of the House Appropriations Committee — Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) and Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) — generally approved the reduction.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) of the Senate committee said he had not been informed in advance of the reduction plans.

Senators Line Up for Rights Showdown

after eight days of debate, the Senate voted to take up the House-passed bill and then rejected 54-35 a motion of Sen. Morse (D-Ore) to send the measure to its Judiciary Committee for a week's study.

This cleared the decks for getting down to action on the bill itself and the various amendments already proposed.

CALLS UP AMENDMENT

Ike Supporters Confident as House Begins Aid Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — House voting on foreign aid begins today with Eisenhower supporters expressing confidence they can beat further moves to cut deeply into the overseas program.

The Foreign Affairs Committee recommended a ceiling of $3,242,333,000, about 600 million dollars below what President Eisenhower asked and 375 millions less than the Senate approved for the new fiscal year.

A motion by Rep. Selden (D-Ala) to knock out the long-term feature of a new economic development loan fund provided the main threat to the authorization bill. The Senate has approved the three-year plan Eisenhower proposed. Selden is seeking to cut it to one year.

Both House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) and Minority Leader Martin (R-Mass) urged passage of the measure without substantial change.

A move to tie onto the aid bill a ban on foreign trials of GIs lost headway yesterday when Rep. Bow (R-Ohio), chief architect of the proposal, announced he himself would not offer the amendment.

Bow told the House he believes only a watered-down version of his proposal would be ruled germane, or in order, on the aid authorization bill. He said he prefers to have consideration of his proposal as a separate bill.

As approved by the Foreign Affairs Committee, the foreign aid bill would permit use of 500 million dollars a year for the next three years for a new loan fund for projects designed to promote economic development overseas.

Foreign aid officials say the long-range authority is essential to allow sounder planning for the projects.

Early Decision in Railway Case

Attorney for Residents Charges City, Railroad 'Conspired' in Plans

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick promised an early decision today in a suit aimed at blocking construction of a Grand Trunk Railroad switchyard in Pontiac's northside.

Nine residents who live in the vicinity of the proposed yard brought the suit against the railroad and the city, claiming the switchyard would be a neighborhood nuisance in violation of zoning.

WORK PROCEEDING

Construction of the $750,000 yard is proceeding under an agreement by the city and the railroad, which includes the sale of city-owned property on the switchyard sit, west of Baldwin avenue and south of W. Walton boulevard.

The railroad says the switchyard is needed to serve increased industrial traffic. The residents want an injuction blocking construction of the yard near their homes.

Judge Hartrick took the case under advisement following final arguments today.

The residents' counsel, Robert M. Hodges, of Pontiac, argued that a switchyard was ruled out under a broad section of the ordinance that prohibits anything "injurious, noxious or offensive" to the neighborhood.

Hodges claimed the switchyard would produce odor, dust, fumes, noise and vibrations during switching.

City Attorney William A. Ewart maintained that under the agreement by the railroad and the city, nuisance to the neighborhood would be kept at a minimum.

He pointed out that the ordinance covering the area, zoned as light manufacturing, did not specifically prohibit a switchyard.

CHARGE CONSPIRACY

Ewart scoffed at Hodges' charge that in working out the agreement the city and railroad, in effect, "conspired together" to violate zoning and abandon the extension of Stanley avenue across the switchyard site.

Ewart believed the city was not bound by law to maintain the right-of-way for Stanley, although Hodges said it is.

Hodges pointed out that while the railroad was apparently negotiating with the city for a site from 1955 through 1956, it already was buying up property in the site that was finally selected.

He maintains this showed that the railroad had already made up its mind on the final site, although pretending "to study" the final selection.

Ewart denied this, saying the negotiations were carried on in good faith, with the final site being selected because it best served industry.

Lee was committed to the Oakland County Jail for one day today after he failed to pay a $5 fine.

The Ohio business franchise tax is $5,000. The Michigan franchise tax for the firm would have been $37,000, plus a $38,000 business activities tax.

$200,000 IN ALL

"They kept telling us it would only be $70,000 in the beginning but by the time they built the other two plants they planned, it would be $200,000," Knabusch said.

The plant, for the cold finishing of stainless steel and strip, will be located at Louisville, Ohio, near Canton.

There are no plans to move existing plants out of Michigan, Schnurr said.

Sen. Brown's Kin Survive Hours on Raft

ST. IGNACE (INS) — Mackinac County Prosecutor James J. Brown said today he and his six-year-old son Bobby are alive only because of their faith in God.

The modest 36-year-old father of eight told a harrowing story of surviving four hours in the choppy waters of upper Lake Huron yesterday with the aid of a makeshift raft.

The prosecutor explained that he and his son were transporting a jeep on their 35-foot Navy surplus landing craft from St. Ignace to Marquette Island. The large door on the craft flopped open, scooping up water which sank the boat in less than a minute.

He said while they floundered in the chilly water, a wooden ladder and two pieces of plywood floated to the surface. He built the raft from these and placed the boy on it.

He said it would support only the boy so he pushed it with his chin while using a breast stroke. They landed safely on a beach near Brulle Pointe four hours later.

'BEATUP CHIN'

"A beatup chin and stiff muscles," Brown said, "are my only after effects.

"I never stopped swimming. I was afraid the wind would blow us farther out into the lake. Bobby cried a little, but I told him God would get us there safely. I think he got some encouragement from that."

Brown said one thought that ran through his mind while he was in the water was: "Can I deduct the expense of the $800 barge and the jeep from my income tax as a casualty loss . . . ?"

An air-sea hunt was organized, but Brown and his son had collapsed safely on the beach when searchers arrived.

The prosecutor is the son of former U. S. Senator Prentiss Brown, now board chairman of the Detroit Edison Co. and chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

Ike Would Like Zhukov Meeting

Tells Newsmen Confab With Sec. Wilson Could Be Fruitful

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today a meeting of Russia's Marshal Zhukov and Secretary of Defense Wilson might prove useful.

Eisenhower made the comment at a news conference which ranged into foreign affairs, but also dealt heavily with a prime domestic subject—the administration's pending civil rights bill.

On the latter subject, Eisenhower said he could not imagine any circumstances which would induce him to try to enforce school desegregation through use of troops. Some foes of the civil rights bill have contended it would open the way to military enforcement.

The President's suggestion that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting might be worthwhile stemmed from a request for comment on the recent shakeup of the Kremlin top command.

On that point, Eisenhower said in his opinion the shakeup resulted from fundamental changes within the Soviet government.

Eisenhower recalled that he and Zhukov, now Soviet defense minister, became quite well acquainted at the end of World War II. They were both in Berlin at the time.

The President went on to say that he and Zhukov at that time cooperated very closely, and that a Zhukov-Wilson meeting at this time might prove profitable by bringing together defense ministers of the two countries.

The first circulating library in the U.S. was organized in 1731 in Philadelphia, Benjamin Franklin was a customer.

Senate Prober Visits Pontiac

Seeks Meeting With President Harrelson of Local 614

An investigator from the Senate Labor Rackets Committee was in Pontiac today looking into the controversial affairs of Teamsters Local 614 here.

He was seeking a meeting with Leaun Harrelson, acting president of the local, which has been under the trusteeship of Teamsters' Vice President James R. Hoffa since 1953.

The investigator asked not to be quoted on the purpose of the visit.

PROBE 'CONSIDERED'

Back in May, Robert F. Kennedy, chief counsel for Sen. McClellan's committee, said an investigation of Local 614 was "under consideration by the committee."

The affairs of the 3,900-member union was brought to the attention of the committee in March when a group of insurgent members wired McClellan and asked for a probe.

They sought an accounting of one million dollars in union dues collected between 1942 and 1952.

OPPOSES HOFFA

The group has been seeking the end of Hoffa's control over the union, and an election from among the rank-and-file members.

They picketed the hall at 1410 S. Telegraph Rd. unsuccessfully for nine days in June.

A spokesman for the revellious members, reported to number 2,000, said they would rest their hope for a "cleanup" of the local on the Washington committee.

MSU Board Will Meet at Meadow Brook

EAST LANSING (AP)—The State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University, will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday at Meadow Brook Hall, to be the site of a new branch college in Oakland County.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson presented their 1,400-acre estate to MSU in January for the establishment of an Oakland County branch. Valued at more than eight million dollars, the estate was accompanied by a two million dollar cash grant to start construction on buildings.

The board will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Friday. The Wilson's maintain possession of the manor house and another small house on the estate for the rest of their lives.

MSU officials have been working with a committee of Oakland County leaders to plan an academic program for the Oakland branch.

Nice Timing

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Michael Madin, 26, expecting her first child next month, went downtown to shop for baby clothes — and not a moment too soon. She gave birth to a 6-pound, 8-ounce girl in a bus station washroom. Mother and child were doing fine.

Did It Pay Billing Cost?

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Uncle Sam sent a bill to druggist J. A. Monroe. Monroe says he'll pay it without any fuss. It's for one cent, the amount the government says he still owes on his income tax.

College Boards to Meet

LANSING (AP)—The six boards that run the nine state-supported colleges and universities will get together in Ann Arbor Oct. 24 to talk over proposals for setting up an organization of their own.

The Day in Birmingham

School Bus Drivers End 12 Hours of Instructions

BIRMINGHAM — School bus drivers have completed the 12 hour course of instruction in bus operation under the direction of David H. Soule, field service coordinator from Eastern Michigan College and Homer A. Earl, consultant from Western Michigan University.

Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, Birmingham School Superintendent, said the 32 drivers met for four hour sessions three days at Torry School. He said the program has been launched to improve driver conditions in the men and women operating the more than 5,300 school busses on Michigan Highways.

Highway safety, first aid, state bus policies and the state vehicle code were among the subjects. A member of the State Police reviewed the motor vehicle code stressing those sections pertaining to school busses.

Detroit's Problems Delay Toll Meeting

Plans for a meeting of State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie and the Michigan Turnpike Authority were delayed yesterday.

At a preliminary conference with authority chairman George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, the new highway commissioner said he wanted to work on the current Detroit expressway controversy before tackling the toll road problem.

Mackie gave assurances that he wanted to meet with the authority "in the near future," Higgins said, to hear its bid to include a toll road in Michigan's highway plans.

The authority's financial backers have asked for the meeting to determine whether a toll road would be financially feasible.

Milk Producers Ask Rate Boost From Creameries

The Michigan Milk Producers Assn., wants dairies in the Detroit area to pay more for wholesale milk it buys from the association's 10,000 members in the Detroit milkshed.

The increase, if granted, may mean a boost in the retail price of milk in the Detroit area, which includes Pontiac and Oakland county.

The association opened negotiations yesterday with representatives of the 63 southeast Michigan dairies it serves.

The association's proposal would increase the price of wholesale milk from the current $4.65 per hundredweight to $5 per hundredweight. A hundredweight contains 46½ quarts.

The current price of homogenized milk in the area is 23½ cents delivered to the home.

If accepted, the increase would go into effect Aug. 1.

The dairy owners had no immediate comment on the proposal.

MSU Tickets Going Fast

EAST LANSING (AP) — Season football ticket sales at Michigan State University already have passed the 1956 mark, Warren Burtt, ticket sales manager, reported today. Deadline for season ticket purchases is July 31.

G. Gilmore of General Detroit Corporation gave a demonstration in fire fighting. Many of the drivers had an opportunity to use the extinguishers in putting out gas and oil fires.

Considerable discussion was held Monday night regarding the development of training section and tower for the Birmingham Fire Department. City Manager Harold K. Schone was authorized to make application to the Federal Civil Defense Administration for their possible participation in costs to the amount of 50 per cent.

Original figures for the completed project were estimated at $21,620. A change of plans extending additional space to form the tower on the fire hall rather than as a separate building has revised the figures to $17,800.

When completed the area will provide a place where men may keep in top flight training in the use of all fire-fighting equipment. It also will be provided with adequate draining to eliminate the flow of water from practice sessions on to the street.

The training center at the Bowers station would service both that and the Chesterfield station. Its completion will eliminate the need of firemen conducting practice sessions on public streets as they have done in the past.

On to Miss Universe Contest

Miss U. S. A. to Be Selected Tonight

LONG BEACH, Calif. (INS) — "Miss U.S.A.," the girl who will represent America in the "Miss Universe" contest, will be chosen tonight from a corsage of 15 of the nation's loveliest beauties.

Included in the 15 girls selected last night from a field of 44 entries representing nearly every state was Miss New York, Sanita Pelkey, who remained in the contest despite her father's death.

The home-grown contestants paraded their considerable charms before a packed house at the Long Beach Municipal Auditorium last night as the formal competition in the sixth annual affair got under way.

In the strictly "American affair," two foreign girls, Miss Germany and Miss Canada, received more than their share of the spotlight.

Miss Germany, 19-year-old Gertie Daub, a willowy blonde, was selected as the contest's "most photogenic" entry. She was the second consecutive Miss Germany to win the honor.

MOST POPULAR GIRL

Gloria Noakes, 18-year-old Miss Canada of Toronto, was named as the "most popular girl" in the traditional kick-off parades that opened the weeklong round of activities.

Miss Canada won the title carried off last year by Carol Morris, of Iowa, who won both the "Miss U.S.A." and "Miss Universe" titles.

The American girls appeared first in evening gowns, forming a vivid array of color as they promenaded past the judges.

They then changed into bathing suits, and with the 32 foreign entries relegated to the sidelines, the contest was on.

BURST INTO TEARS

When the 15 semi-finalists were announced, Miss New York burst into tears and sobbed:

"I'm so happy I won. It made staying here worth while."

The father of the statuesque beauty, who has measurements of 38-24-37, died in New York of a heart attack shortly after his daughter arrived in Long Beach.

76 Reported Dead in Wake of Typhoon

MANILA (AP) — The government said today 76 persons were known dead and 300 missing in the flood that swept part of Pangasinan province in the wake of typhoon Wendy.

The Philippine News Service reported earlier that 230 persons drowned and more than 1,000 were missing in the area.

The government announcement said the flood struck at night while residents slept and that most of the victims were children.

The area hardest hit was in the vicinity of the town of Mabini and nearby small villages. Officials estimated at least 10,000 houses were destroyed. Military and police units were rushing relief supplies into the region.

Pangasinan is north of Manila on the west coast of Luzon Island.

Detective Admits Botching Raid Aimed at Marilyn

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former private detective Barney Ruditsky says he is the one who crashed the wrong door in the botched raid aimed at Marilyn Monroe.

"I'll take the fall for the whole thing. My only trouble was that I acted on bum information," he said.

Ruditsky, 58, told newsmen he had admitted his participation in the raid before a county grand jury yesterday.

The jury is currently investigating the November 1954 raid to determine if any laws had been broken.

Singer Frank Sinatra and ex-baseball star Joe DiMaggio, Marilyn's former husband, did not join the actual raid, Ruditsky said.

"DiMaggio was not even inside the apartment house and Sinatra was at least a block away," the detective told newsmen.

Navy Planes Sink Atomic Waste Can

NEW YORK (AP) — Machine-gun fire from Navy planes sank a drifting container of radioactive waste yesterday. The big steel cylinder had menaced shipping in the Atlantic 185 miles southeast of here.

The planes flew out from Norfolk, Va., and strafed the 21-by-6-foot container. It blew up when water poured through the bullet holes and reacted explosively with the 20 tons of sodium inside.

The container was dumped with others Sunday but charges intended to sink it failed to go off. The containers came from the General Electric Co. atomic plant at Schenectady, N.Y.

Sailors Reject New Contract

Union Members Okay Strike Against Three Freighter Lines

CLEVELAND (AP) — A proposed three-year contract was rejected yesterday by crewmen on 48 ships of the Hanna, Cleveland Cliffs and Columbia freighter fleets.

With ballots from all but two ships tabulated, the vote to reject was: Hanna, 164-78; Cleveland Cliffs, 191-151; Columbia, 274-157.

Representatives of the Lake Sailors Union said they would seek to renew contract negotiations. Union members authorized a strike in balloting before contract negotiations were concluded early this mnth, but no date for the walkout was set.

The proposed contract included wage increases of five to seven cents an hours this year, five cents next year and a wage reopener clause for the third year; increased life insurance and hospitalization benefits and a seniority bonus. Curent wage scales were not announced.

Involved in the contract negotiations are unlicensed men on the three Great Lakes fleets — deckhands, wheelsmen, watchmen, coal passers, wipers or maintenance men, firemen, oilers, porters, second cooks and some boatswains.

Christmas trees are at least a $60 million a year business, it is estimated, and some concerns have made them a major source of annual production.

Question Future of Ferry Fleet at Mackinac

LANSING (AP) — Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) said today he hoped to meet soon with Defense Department officials to talk over the future of the Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet.

Goulette heads an interim house committee which is considering what to do with the state-owned fleet when the straits bridge is completed this fall.

"I hope to go to Washington in the next two or three weeks to see if the Defense Department can be persuaded to subsidize the fleet—whether it's kept in operation or put into mothballs," he said. "We're hoping that part of it at least can be put into service in northern Lake Michigan, from Menominee to Frankfort, or Menominee to Manistique."

Goulette estimated it would take $100,000 a year to keep the five ferries in mothballs.

"We need to have it in readiness in case something should happen to the bridge," he said.

Boy Scout Jamboree Maker of Memories

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—What a maker of memories is this fourth National Boy Scout Jamboree!

Long after the speeches and the panoramic scenes have blurred, the boys will remember with poignant clarity the warm, intimate episodes, the glints and gleams of comedy, the sudden and grateful expansion of casual acquaintance into friendship that endures beyond the encampment.

On a broad canvas, Jamboree City will be memorable as perhaps the only community of some 51,000 persons in which no one feels the need for happiness pills. The happiness is built right in.

Getting down to vignettes:

Can't you imagine Jack Davis, 17-year-old Scout from South Webster, Ohio, telling his grandchildren, in the far future, of how he almost kept a puppy in camp. Jack got a pup named Venus in a trade. Then the health and sanitation supervisors found out, and, because certain kinds of pets are not allowed, Jack was told he'd better do an outside swap for something socially acceptable here.

But Jack already was too fond of his pup for that. He telephoned his parents, asking if he might ship home a favorite bit of barter. They said yes. They'll probably be surprised, as Jack didn't say what he was sending.

Texans seldom get their comeuppance, but there's an instance of it on record here now.

Some of the boys from the Lone Star State smuggled fireworks into camp against the rules. They traded the fireworks and thought that was the end of the matter. But that night the receivers of the explosives lighted them, pitched them back into the Texas tents, and took off. After quiet was restored, the camp leader read the riot act to the ebullient Texans.

Canal Zone Scouts will be sorry to see the end of the jamboree, for many reasons. One of them is the eight-foot boa constrictor the Scouts brought along. The big snake has been a winner for drawing the crowds. It is about the only object in camp not up for swapping.

"Trade our mascot?" said one of the boys. "Not unless somebody offered the state of Idaho."

Too bad boys can't take the boa back home. Just too much to cope with both ways. The Scouts will donate it to the Philadelphia Zoo.

On long winter nights many years hence aging Scouts will enjoy the recollection of their ingenuity in making musical instruments out of the oddest materials. Such as a kind of tally-ho horn fashioned from a bathtub hose and spray with reed mouthpiece attached. Or a ram's horn transformed into a species of piccolo. Or a you-name-it, put together with a strip of bamboo and a common, everyday tin funnel.

Community Chest Folds in Cheboygan County

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — It was two strikes and out for the Cheboygan County Community Chest.

The two-year-old chest failed to make its quota either time. Chairman James Christian of the Cheboygan County Chest, Inc., announced that since no one could be secured to head up the chest for 1957, United Fund raising will be abandoned for this year.

Participating agencies last year were the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Boys Club, Cheboygan Youth Center, Mackinaw City Youth Center and Michigan United Fund.

Deadly Rattlesnakes Do Exist in Michigan

A recent notice sent out by the Michigan State Health Department calls attention to an often forgotten fact. Michigan does have rattlesnakes.

The Michigan variety is known as the Massassauga rattler. It is small in size, usually about two feet long, gray-brown with black blotches. It is found mostly in swampy places or meadows. It may frequent basements, woodpiles and evergreen plantings.

The Health Department reports that bites from these snakes may prove fatal if not treated promptly. Serum is kept at three points in the state, at the State Health Department offices in Lansing, at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor and at the branch state laboratory at Powers in the Upper Peninsula. It will be rushed by State Police to the aid of a victim anywhere in Michigan if one of these offices is notified.

In case of a snakebite, the department advises calling a doctor at once, keep the patient quiet to prevent spread of the venom in the body, place a tourniquet above the wound, open the wound to let blood flush out the venom and apply suction to the wound for fifteen minutes of each hour.

Nobody expects to be bitten by a snake, but it is wise to know what to do if one is bitten and where the serum can be obtained.

Dewline Nearly Ready

Protection of United States cities, industries and military installations from possible attack by Russia has passed another milestone. The Dewline has been completed.

The word Dew is a contraction of distant early warning. The Dewline is the furthest north line of radar and other electronic equipment stretching across the North American continent from Alaska to Baffin Island, facing Greenland. Two other lines, further south, were previously set up and have been in operation for some years.

The Dewline will soon be undergoing extensive tests. It probably will be ready to go into actual, normal operation by late fall or winter. An extension of this line through Point Barrow southwestward along the Aleutian Islands, is still under construction. It had not been included in the initial program, but a glance at the world map reveals its vital importance.

These three observation lines are designed to provide electronic warning to Canada and the United States in case of enemy attack across the North Polar area. Not only are they expected to disclose enemy airplanes, should any approach from the north, but part of their task also would be to direct planes from our northern defensive bases which would seek to intercept such an attack.

Development of guided missiles has brought great changes in the defensive program, but tremendous importance still rests on early warning of an impending attack. Thus the completion of Dewline is encouraging to our air men.

International Tourism Benefits All Nations

The Department of Commerce has just issued a report showing that American tourists spent $1.8 billion for foreign travel last year.

Of this sum $300 million was paid to U.S. flag carriers and the balance, $1.5 billion, to foreign countries or foreign flag ships. Europe and the Mediterranean area got the largest share, $473 million. Canada came next with $316 million and then Mexico with $279 million.

With more trans-Atlantic ships and larger planes to accommodate tourists, this year's total is expected to rise to $2 billion. Money spent by tourists helps the economy of foreign countries.

United States exports last year totaled $18 billion. Tourist money paid for nearly 10 per cent of foreign countries' imports thereby decreasing their dependence on loans, aid or exports to maintain dollar balances.

Tourism has become big business and it benefits all countries economically as well as promoting better international understanding.

ANY ultimate consumer knows that those who refer to current inflation as "creeping" are poor judges of speed.

The Man About Town

County's Oldest

Ancestors of Many Pontiac Families Worshiped in It

Summer: A season not famous for averaging the mercury.

The bells of Oakland County's early history ring next Sunday noon at the 117-year-old

White Lake Church,

the occasion being the annual picnic of its members. We wonder if this isn't a top record for local organizations. This was the first Catholic mission west of Detroit, and Pontiac residents of that faith went there to worship, that being before they had such a gathering place here. Included among them were the ancestors of many present Pontiac families.

Scion of a prominent Pontiac family who manufactured implements here a half century ago was

Mrs. Anna May Bacon Parker,

who died last week at her home at Washington, D. C. She taught in the Florence Ave. school here before her marriage to research engineer, who survives her. She also leaves two sons, daughter, brother and sister.

In the 70 years ago Holly news I learn that of Pontiac, popular probate clerk, delivered the July 4 address in that village. His son,

Clarence K. ("C") Patterson, will undoubtedly claim that he doesn't remember it.

Their neighbors have called my attention to the family of

Mr. and Mrs. Gerard E. Thibodeau of 1295 Ox Bow Lake Road, whose twelfth child was recently born at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

My very reliable Brown City scout,

Murdock McLennan,

sends word that its annual Farmers' Festival takes place Aug. 15, 16 and 17.

The honey bees are swarming in Pontiac's down town, according to

of 11 Gingell Court, who says they're storing honey in the walls of our oldest building, the former Hodges House block, erected over 100 years ago.

We've discovered a champion of the weeds in

of Drayton Plains, who says that if it hadn't been for the water they soaked out of the ground he would be unable to cultivate his garden without a boat.

After chasing automobiles for many years, the family dog of

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Hawn

of Rochester was struck by one and badly mussed up. He now runs the other way when he sees a car coming.

Verbal Orchids to—

The Gun Behind the Man

David Lawrence Says:

Needed: New Federal Brain Trust

WASHINGTON — Senator Kerr, Democrat, of Oklahoma, raised a very delicate issue in the Senate the other day—the subject of "brains." He said that President Eisenhower doesn't have "brains" in matters of government finance.

LAWRENCE

This brings up the question of who really has "brains," anyway, on fiscal policies today. Senator Capehart of Indiana, Republican, said that Senator Kerr should be "ashamed" to say what he did about the President.

Kerr retorted that he was applying the remark solely to financial matters. As for those who have "no brains at all," the Oklahoma senator declared he was reserving that "broad and sweeping accusation" for some of his colleagues in the Senate.

The average man may possibly derive from this the impression that perhaps there are some men in the Senate without "brains." This would be a regrettable inference. For it does take a good deal of brain power, after all, just to get elected nowadays, though cynics argue, of course, that it doesn't require much "brains" to fool the public in an election campaign.

Various senators, to be sure, have in their speeches from time to time in history hinted that maybe some of their colleagues didn't have "brains." So Kerr's size-up of some present-day senators has precedent on its side.

JUST NO BRAINS AT ALL

In fact, there have been senators who frequently have gone so far as to let it be known that they really didn't think the President of the United States, when he happened to be a member of an opposite political party, possessed any "brains." Partisanship used to "end at the water's edge," but now it begins there, and no subject is immune from partisan diagnosis—even the inside of a presidential cranium.

When it comes to the "brains" of a chief executive, it must be conceded that discussion has never been inhibited. With unconcealed modesty, the late Franklin D. Roosevelt once confessed to a nationwide radio audience that whatever errors he had made were "mistakes of the mind rather than of the heart."

Nor did he hide the shortcomings in his knowledge of various public questions. He assembled a staff which was popularly known in the 1930s as a "brain trust." It was responsible for much of the New Deal "economics" that has left a residue of inflationary devices to plague the nation today, though many Democrats now evidently favor the further use of those same devices.

As a matter of fact, what is most needed currently is a new kind of "brain trust"—one that believes in the simple truth that it isn't right to rob Peter of his wages to pay Paul a subsidy out of the government treasury.

The trouble really is that the people as a whole haven't any "brain trust" to help them ferret out the deficiencies of some of their elected representatives. There is, of course, the press, which in the main can be helpful, but even here it will be gladly conceded that omniscience is not attainable.

Strange as it may seem, there are still many questions on public affairs to which nobody has as yet found the answers.

But even when "brains" are definitely discovered and isolated, what can be done in matters of fiscal policy, for instance, to persuade various senators, especially the Democrats, to accept as disinterested the policies laid down by such a body of brainful experts as the Federal Reserve Board?

Notwithstanding the fact that the Federal Reserve Board has, on its own initiative, put into effect the so-called "tight money" policy—the natural operation of interest rates in a free economy—marking the emancipation of the Board from the political influences of 20 years of New Dealism, there are Democrats in Congress who hold the President responsible for whatever the Federal Reserve Board does.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Chew Food, or Expect Ulcers, Sour Stomach

Here's a composite of many queries:

"I need a remedy for a sour stomach I seem to get after eating. I have a sour choking feeling in my throat that won't move, also a great deal of gas. I have been to the doctor, but no results. I have so much heartburn . . ."

DR. BRADY

First, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet on Yankee Stomach.

What I call "yankee stomach" is this symptom complex: Hyperacidity, hunger pain, heartburn, waterbrash, acid eructations, uneasiness from fullness after eating, bloating by gas, general irritability and impatience.

MAY BE ULCER

In some instances these symptoms do indicate ulcer in stomach (peptic or gastric) or in the intestine a few inches beyond the stomach outlet (pylorus)—where it is called duodenal ulcer.

To the best of my knowledge, the diagnosis of "ulcer" is wrong in two cases out of ten. The general hygiene, diet and medicinal treatment for Yankee stomach is much the same as the treatment for ulcer.

Following a meal, the stomach contents are normally very acid or "sour" in a healthy person. Therefore, should some emotional occurrence retard, arrest, or reverse the digestive process — especially peristalsis, the churning or rhythmic movements of stomach and intestine—the individual is likely to realize how very "sour" or acid the chyme (digesting food) or gastric juice is.

PRIMARY CAUSE

A primary cause of Yankee stomach which is generally ignored by patients and physicians alike is loss, impairment, or neglect of mastication. Doctors and people easily forget, if indeed they ever learned, that digestion begins in the mouth—provided food is properly chewed.

During mastication and for half an hour or longer after the food is swallowed digestion of starch by the enzyme ptyalin in the saliva occurs. If the food isn't chewed there is little starch digestion—which means the burden is shifted to the duodenum, where the pancreatic juice and the bile have to do the work that should have been done in the mouth and upper portion (fundus) of the stomach.

In the Yankee Stomach pamphlet I do recommend what I believe is the most satisfactory and least objectional antacid for relief of the symptoms mentioned above. But it is childish to hope that this, or any other medicine, will cure such trouble.

Signed letters; not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Civil Service Voter Vetoes Investigation by Outsider

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

I am a city taxpayer and I also vote. We recently voted for and passed the Civil Service Amendment for the police department, to keep the department out of politics. By its passage we gave the policemen the right to keep their own house in order without fear of reprisal from politics.

We now read the Civil Service bill is no good. The Civil Service commissioners are called amateurs. A movement is being made to bring in an outsider to recommend to the police chief how to run his department. We already granted the authority to correct conditions within the department by passing the bill. The commissioners don't need an investigation at taxpayers' expense, neither have they asked for one. The charter is there. They have a responsibility and I'm sure they'll do what's right in their minds and that's all we ask.

Does the present administration refuse to accept the bill as voted in? Is the real reason to bring in an outsider to investigate an indirect attack on the bill. We don't want our tax dollars wasted in useless investigations. We want a good police department. We want a chief that is honored and respected by his men and the public. We expect our decision by the majority vote to be accepted by the administration and the Civil Service commissioners to be allowed to function properly without interference.

I am very happy at the fact Lloyd Syron gave Pontiac a state championship in golf. This is our first. Syron comes from a fine family and we can all be proud of what he has done.

Oakland County has really done well with amateur golf. The finalist in the national amateur championship last year was an Oakland County man and he is now on the U.S. Walker Cup team, Chuck Kocsis.

No Repeat of Selling Frenzy

Car Makers Expecting Cleanup of '57 Models

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Most of the nation's car makers look for an orderly clean up of outgoing models during the weeks immediately ahead. They appear so confident of this they have scheduled high level output for the current month.

The industry did not have the advantage of a traditional spring upsurge in new car demand, but retail sales are estimated to have averaged a healthy half million units a month during the January-June half. Most producers and many leading retailers are saying July sales will maintain this average and possibly better it.

There has been no indication so far that any car maker will advance the date of introduction of his 1958 model cars. In most, if not all instances, the introduction dates generally will be approximately the same as they were with the 1957 models.

First to reach the market, however, undoubtedly will be Ford's new entry in the medium-priced field — the Edsel model. A definite date for its introduction has not been disclosed by Ford, but its details will be announced on Aug. 27.

Lacking in the automotive picture as the industry gets the second half drive under way is any sign of serious distress selling that would bring the drastic production cutbacks that marked most of 1956.

BRIGHT VIEW

The more optimistic viewpoint of the car makers reflects the drop in dealer inventories reported as of July 1. At that time dealer stocks, as computed by Automotive News totaled 744,315 units, compared with a revised figure of 787,748 units on June 1.

This year's July 1 total tops that of the comparable date last year, when 679,588 cars were in dealers' hands or enroute to them from the factory. But the factories last year had sharply cut their production schedules to help get dealers out from under the record-smashing inventory of 904,000 units they had on March 1, 1956.

There continues to be a lot of speculation as to just how many cars will be built and sold this year. Generally the figure of six million units is used in both instances. That volume appears certain of realization if the November-December totals approximate expectations. Wards Automotive Reports has just estimated the total at 6,200,000 units.

A six million unit year would be profitable for all divisions of the industry's "Big Three" of General Motors & Ford and Chrysler — and for most of the new car retailers throughout the country.

Selling and buying automobiles has become something of a bargaining proposition on both sides since the industry caught up with the demand piled up during World War II when there was no civilian car production.

With few exceptions car buyers now expect price concessions. Most of them shop around for the best deals they can get. There may be some further price slashing as the end of the 1957 model year approaches. But there is no indication there will be a repetition of the selling frenzy that marked the windup of the 1955 and 1956 model years.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Faint Heart Won't Tame Tigress

Janet behaved like a tigress. She scratched and even bit her gallant fiance. But the worm had turned, so she found herself up against a real man. And he used the ancient Greek trick of lifting her off the ground, so her ire melted away and she finally purred like a contented kitten. This is just a modern version of Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-339: Jerry F., aged 27, is the cultured fiance of nagging Janet, whom I described yesterday.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I can't understand Janet," he said when he came to me a few weeks later.

"I worship the ground she walks on. She is the loveliest girl I ever met.

"But she treats me like a doormat. And last Sunday she got so angry she took off my engagement ring and threw it at me.

"Then she began to cry, but when I tried to comfort her, she scratched me like a tigress and told me to go home.

"She acts like the devil gets into her at times, but I can't give her up. So what would you suggest?"

TAMING THE TIGRESS

Well, I told Jerry that he would probably lose Janet if he continued as a doormat.

Then I explained why Janet was needling him and irritating him.

"She wants you to assert yourself," I added. "She feels that your constant chivalry is possibly a sign that you are sissy.

"So she is trying to infuriate you into seizing her in your arms and showing her that you are physically the boss.

"Get one more date with her and if she doesn't walk a chalk line, then tame the tigress. She'll probably purr like a contented kitten after you dominate her."

"But, Dr. Crane, what if that just infuriates her further," he protested, fearfully. "I don't want to lose her, you know."

So I told Jerry he had already lost her. If some other attractive male were to come along and really make her cry by his selfish, domineering, she'd be ready to fall into that stranger's arms.

FAINT HEART

And I reminded Jerry about the old adage that "Faint heart never won a fair lady."

"Shoot the works," I advised. "You have lost her if you don't, and this may win her back.

"Women also feel more helpless and dominated when you pick them up in your arms, which is one reason why new brides like to be carried over the threshold.

"So if she starts her former nagging, just grab her roughly and kiss her. And don't even hesitate to give her a paddling, which she richly deserves. Don't be so ultra genteel."

This was a radically new viewpoint for Jerry. He finally took a big breath to reassure himself and vowed he'd get another date with Janet.

"The very first time she tries to cross your wishes, have your showdown," I added, "for if you don't, you may forget your new role and slip back into your meek manner as a matter of habit."

JERRY'S SHOWDOWN

Jerry later informed me he managed to coax another date out of Janet. They went to a drive-in movie. Afterwards, he suggested they dine at a certain restaurant.

But she insisted they go to a different place to eat. So he told her bluntly they were going where he wanted.

She started to argue. They got into a violent quarrel. She even scratched and bit him on the arm when he tried to keep her from getting out of the car.

So he followed her. He grabbed her and whirled her around. Then he kissed her as he had never kissed her before.

She tried to pound him with her fists, so he lifted her off her feet and kissed her some more. Finally, she quit beating with her fists.

It ended with her fervently kissing him and going to the restaurant where he had first suggested they dine. And she took back his engagement ring.

Safety Council Rates Michigan Motoring

Raps Licensing Methods

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's driver licensing methods came in for strong criticism yesterday in a report by the National Safety Council.

Lack of an effective state-wide, public-supported safety organization also was cited in an analysis of Michigan's traffic safety activities presented at a meeting of the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee.

These areas were the only two in which Michigan slipped backwards from last year, the Safety Council report showed.

Michigan was given an overall score of 72 points, against an ideal total of 100, in competition with a group of other high population states. This compared with a 73.9 score last year.

Michigan was fourth in its classification, following Texas, with 79 points; California, 77, and Inidana, 76.

Trailing Michigan in the scoring were Ohio, 71 points; New York, 69; Illinois, 66; and Pennsylvania, 55.

PRESENT CERTIFICATES

Certificates of achievement were presented to Gov. Williams and State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs for improved performances by the state in the fields of school traffic safety education, accident records and police traffic supervision.

The state also will be cited for achievements in highway traffic engineering. Norman Olman, dirtrict director of the Safety Council, reported.

In the field of driver licensing, the state's rating dropped from 72.3 to 69, in public safety education from 82.3 to 78 and in safety organization from 85.7 to 66.

"One criticism of Michigan's driver licensing is that examiners are only given instructions for about two hours. The National Safety Council recommends 12 days of training," Olman said.

Eye examinations given drivers in Michigan also often are inadequate, he said.

"Driver licensing is probably our weakest area," conceded Secy. of State James M. Hare. "The trouble is we have no control over the examiners. We just about have to certify whoever is recommended by the chief of police or the sheriff.

"In some rural areas," Hare said, "the examiners are doing an atrocious job. In some cases licenses are renewed by telephone and I believe we have some drivers who are also receiving aid from the blind."

WANTS CENTRALIZATION

Hare, who has long recommended centralization of driver licensing in his office, said, however, that the proposal has always had the violent opporition of the county sheriffs.

In the area of public support of safety drives, it was recommended by the National Safety Council that Michigan establish a state-wide citizens progarm with an adequate staff and budget able to organize support at a local level and provide advice and assistance to local city safety groups.

The Citizens Action Committee for Traffic Safety announced that regional traffic safety conferences would be held Aug. 15 at Iron Mountain, Aug. 19 at Traverse City, Aug. 22 at Flint, Aug. 26 at Battle Creek and Aug. 29 at Holland.

Battle Creek Sends Cameron Supplies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. T. A. Thompson (D-La) was notiifed yesterday that four carloads of supplies and materials will leave Battle Creek soon for Cameron Parish, La., recently ravaged by hurricane Audrey.

The supplies, Thompson said, are gifts from the people of Battle Creek.

He said he already had expressed his personal thanks to Battle Creek for this "wonderful expression of sympathy."

"It exemplifies the true American spirit of caring for your neighbors in time of distress," he said.

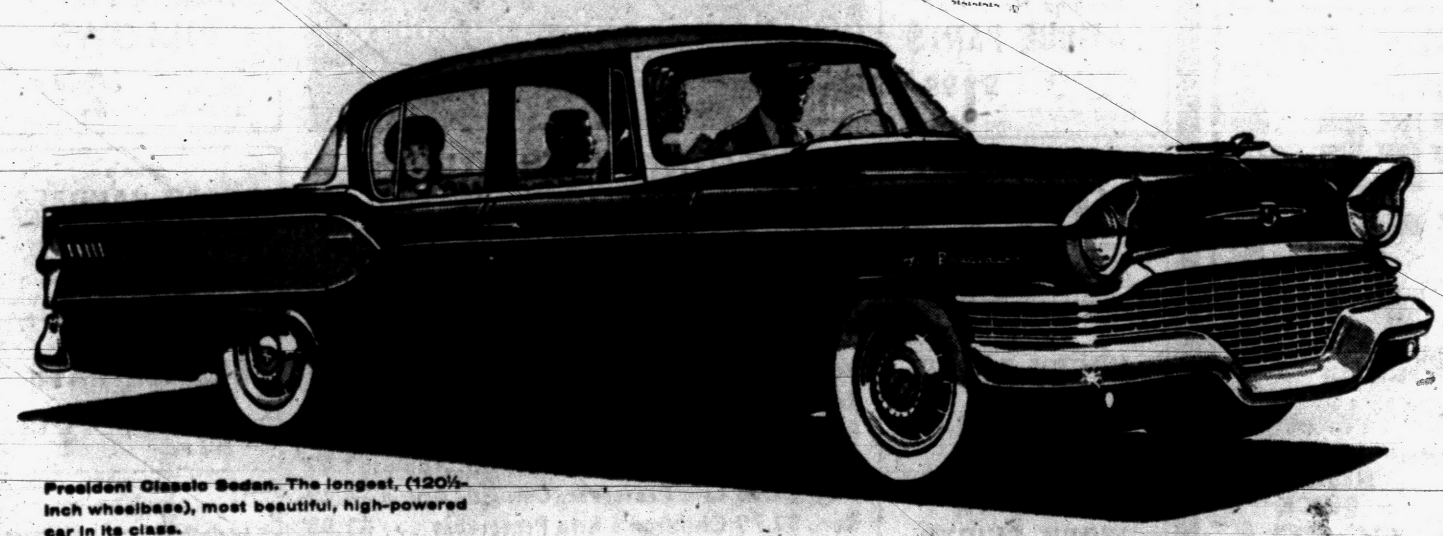

In the shipment, he said, will be building materials, food and canned goods, toys, stoves and sinks and cereals from the Kellogg Company.

The supplies whic hwill go to Lake Charles, La., warehouses, will be of "great assistance," he said.

Jury Acquits Union Official

Oregon Teamster Chief Charged With Taking Bribe While on Council

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The head of the Teamsters Union in Oregon was acquitted last night of a charge of conspiracy to accept a bribe while serving on a Portland city commission.

Clyde C. Crosby, dropped his head on his chest when the verdict was announced, closed his eyes momentarily and then flashed a broad grin at the jury.

The State Circuit Court jury of seven women and five men deliberated 2 hours and 48 minutes before returning the unanimous verdict of not guilty. The jury took only one vote.

Thus ended the latest major trial stemming from Portland's lengthy vice investigation.

Crosby, the Teamsters' international representative in Oregon, had been charged with conspiring to place the site of an eight-million-dollar sports center here. The prosecution said Crosby and others conspired to obtain property options at the site.

The 42-year-old Crosby said he favored the Broadway-steel bridge site here. That was where, the state said, the options were obtained.

But the commission charged with selecting a site chose another location, only to have the Broadway area picked at a general election.

The prosecution told the jury in its closing argument that its entire case rested on the testimony of racketeer Big Jim Elkins.

Elkins had testified that Crosby was in on a plot to obtain options at the sports center site. Crosby denied the charge from the witness stand.

Of the major trials thus far in the probe, two have ended in verdicts of innocent. Earlier, Mayor Terry Schrunk was acquitted of a perjury charge.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Kent County Airport Board of Control voted Monday to seek about $419,000 in federal aid, which was ordered withheld more than a year ago by the Civil Aeronautics Administration until the airport met specified safety requirements. The educational project was sponsored by the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Detroit in cooperation with school officials.

From Heel to Hero

Deputy Becomes Bandit to Catch Bank Robbers

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Deputy Sheriff William A. Buyers had to work hard to become a "heel," but he became a hero almost overnight.

The 27-year-old deputy posed as a disgruntled cop and would-be bank robber for a year to help break a bandit gang as an FBI undercover man.

His heel-to-hero story was revealed yesterday in a copyrighted story in the Buffalo Evening News.

Buyers' undercover work was instrumental in smashing the gang and sending the alleged leader to prison.

The alleged gang leader, Frank R. Coppola, 24, Niagara Falls, was convicted last week in the $52,529 holdup of a branch bank here and was sentenced to 20 years.

Buyers became involved in the case shortly after his marriage to Donna Cuttaia Feb. 1, 1956, four days before the bank holdup for which Coppola was convicted.

When the FBI fingered Coppola as a suspect in that and other robberies, Buyers refused to believe that Coppola, his wife's cousin, could be involved. But when the FBI showed him the suspect's record he agreed to help.

At the request of the FBI, Buyers continued his part-time law studies at Canisius College, retained his full-time job as deputy sheriff, and worked his way into the gang and Coppola's confidence.

At the same time, he had to make a happy home for his wife while complaining about his job and his superiors and trying to make himself as obnoxious as possible to his fellow police officers, in order to remove any suspicions of the gang.

His marriage and studies both suffered.

At one time, he was suspected of tipping off FBI agents about some members of the gang and Coppola threatened to kill him. But Buyers succeeded in casting suspicion upon another gang member.

It was a tip from Buyers that finally trapped the gang Jan. 11 as it was en route to a tavern holdup that was to have financed another bank holdup. Byers was in class at college at the time.

"Faust," adapted by Gounod from Goethe's play, has been performed more times than any other opera.

Art Association Fights Battles With Brushes

LIVERMORE, Calif. (AP) —The Livermore Art Assn. doesn't just argue over opposing theories of painting. It fights with brushes.

Six women members recently tackled the drab wall of the association's rented buiulding. In jig time the wall was ahloom with gaudy yucca plants, cacti and prickly pears.

The association president, Dr. James Paul Wesley, a theoretical physicist, took one look and "foamed at the mouth," he reported.

The yuccas, he shuddered, were a sickly yellow, the cacti a bilious green; the lines were bad, the taste poor.

He recruited another male member, Ray Gighofer. They speedily covered the ladies' proud handiwork with brown paint.

The women, far from defeated, washed off the brown paint and tenderly restored the desert scene.

"At least he recognized that the design included cacti and yuccas," remarked Mrs. Alice Corbett, chairman of the Decorations and Party Committee.

"I quit," said Dr. Wesley, writing his resignation.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROPE BRIDGES

QUESTION: How long does a rope bridge last?

ANSWER: You'd think that a bridge made out of rope would rot away in a couple of years. It would—if it weren't cared for constantly. Actually, rope bridges have been known to last for more than 200 years.

That was true of the famous bridge of San Luis Rey in Peru. It was built originally by the Inca Indians, who made many such spans. Weaving natural vines and fibers together, they carried one line across a gorge, and then two more for handholds.

To make sure that the bridge remained strong, the Incas ordered a certain village to take the responsibility of renewing the ropes about once in two years. The villagers took their responsibility so seriously that they continued the work for hundreds of years after the Inca empire had fallen.

FOR YOU TO DO: Make a model rope bridge, using string tied between two chairs. Then if you have some toy soldiers or Indian figures you can help them across the bridge.

Prince Aly Khan Leaves Yasmin to Attend Funeral

NICE, France (AP)— Prince Aly Khan flew here Tuesday from Geneva with his daughter, Princess Yasmin, and Bettina, the French former model to whom he is reported engaged.

He plans to leave Yasmin on the Riviera with Bettina while he attends the funeral of his father, the Aga Khan III, at Aswan, Egypt. He said the weather was too hot in Egypt for the 7-year-old child, born of his marriage to actress Rita Hayworth.

He will return to Geneva today and board a special plane taking the body of his father to Aswan, where the funeral will be held Friday.

In Geneva his son, Prince Karim, now Aga Khan IV, received Ismaili Moslems who came to pay homage at the bier of the late Aga. The widow, the Begum, remained in seclusion under a doctor's care for nervous exhaustion.

The dense fogs in England are caused when the warm waters of the Gulf Stream come in contact with the cold winter air of the north.

Hal Boyle Says:

Want to Make Your Life Seem Endless?

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the great goals of science today is to make man live longer.

Some people even entertain the fond hope a way will be found to permit them to clutter up the world forever.

Rare indeed does a scientist such as Enrico Greppi of Italy arise to sound a note of caution to these would-be seekers after eternal life.

Addressing an international convention in Rome on the problems of gerontology, Greppi said:

"Old age is a fate we must accept. We gerontologists must not be asked to bring along a theory on how to achieve new youth. It would be undignified and morally wrong."

There is a great common sense in this observation. And to tell the truth, science, for all its victories in enabling man to live out his normal span, has done little really to extend that span.

There may come a time when some magic pep pills will enable us to run a four-minute mile at the age of 100, suffer the pangs of a new-found puppy love at 150, and retain some kind of wheezy breath in us until we are 499.

But inevitably, be it at 70 or at 570, the pep pills will wear out, and so will we. Then we shall die, as all before us have done, foolishly hoping for an impossible fountain of youth.

Actually, when in our right senses, most of us calmly accept death as a fact of life and realize that after a fullness of years it comes as a releasing boon, not a punishment.

But, for those who egotistically aspire to live forever, is there no answer? Why, of course there is.

The trick is for them to live so that life seems like it is going to go on forever. After all, as we know, age and time are really only relative. We are as young as we feel. A moment or a day or a year can seem long or short, depending on how we feel.

Here are a few tips on how to make your life seem endless.

1. Marry a woman who prides herself in never getting anywhere on time. Every night you take her out, as you sit on the sofa waiting while she dresses, you can live several lifetimes.

2. Don't take a job that is fresh, exciting or challenging. Pick one that is dull, routine and safe. The deeper in a rut you get, the longer it will take every day to crawl by.

3. Borrow money. Buy everything on the instalment plan. Remember, a man in debt can't afford to die.

4. Avoid friends, make all the enemies you can. Friends have a habit of dying young, and leaving you mournful. But enemies spur you on with a desire to outlive them.

5. Engage in all the lawsuits you can. A man who is always suing everybody is looking for justice, and you know how long it takes to get justice in this world.

6. Be afraid of everything you can. Every minute of fear seems like an eternity. The brave man dies but once. Be a coward and you can live through a thousand deaths.

7. Do something wrong every day to build up your sense of guilt. There's nothing like a guilty feeling to make each day wear longer.

8. Avoid joy, seek boredom. Time always weighs heaviest with the bored, but a guy having fun is so busy he hardly realizes he's living.

Anyone who conscientiously follows these rules is bound to come as close to a feeling of personal immortality as human nature allows. He may not live forever, but he will have the feeling his dreary existence is endless, and his life will seem 10 times as long as life does to the fellow who fritters it away enjoying himself.

There are 171 U. S. national parks containing a combined area of approximately 21 million acres.

French Assembly OKs Building of Ocean Liner

PARIS (AP) — The National Assembly today approved construction of a new superliner for the Atlantic route to replace the aging Ile de France. The estimated cost is almost 86 million dollars.

The new vessel is to be named the "France."

The decision was taken on a show of hands ballot with little opposition.

Decide to Take 'English' Out of English Walnuts

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department decided today that English walnuts will be "English" no longer. From now on they will be called just plain "walnuts."

In revising its standards for walnuts, the department noted that the name "English" is a "misnomer carried over from the time when the walnuts were brought to this country in English ships."

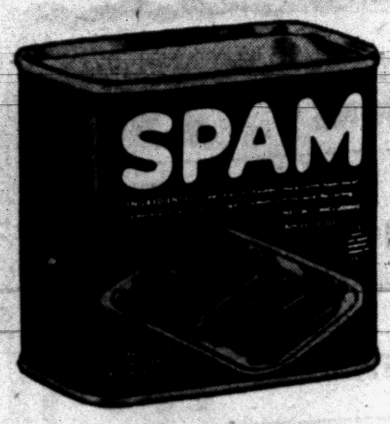

Artificial ice for commercial purposes surpassed natural ice in the United States for the first time in 1914.

Northern Ireland shipyards are building two tankers, of 15,000 tons and 12,500 tons, for an Oslo, Norway, shipping firm.

Cereal Comes Before Rubber in City's Affections

Akron Knows and Loves Its Oatmeal

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

AKRON, Ohio (INS)— This story is dedicated to all the finnicky little children in America who refuse to eat their oatmeal in the morning, declaring it too gloppy for words.

You will be interested to know, kiddies, that Akron, Ohio, is the "home of oatmeal." And proud of it, so there.

You may have associated Akron with rubber, tires, or dirigibles, or a newspaper elaborately named the Beacon-Journal — but oatmeal comes first, and everybody here with any loyalty and appetite eats his.

What do you think made Mr. Firestone and Mr. Goodyear and Mr. Goodrich so big? Money isn't everything.

The story begins back in 1850, when there wasn't much life or refinement in Akron. The whites had chased off the Iroquois reds, who had previously disposed of the Erie warriors, but they hadn't done much to develop the territory.

GERMAN IMMIGRANTS

The most solid residents in those days were German immigrants who had fled their homeland's 1848 revolution — but they were having a rough time getting started in non-existent industries.

They spent most of their time playing lieder tunes, as lieder lovers will, on the second floor of the only hotel in town.

It was into this distressing picture that Ferdinand Schumacher, later to become "the oatmeal king," moved in 1851.

He was a young refugee of 28, just out of Hanover, and homesick. First he opened a notions store, then a neighborhood grocery. He made enough to eat on, but not enough to eat his favorite food — which had to be imported from the old country at fabulous prices.

TRIED HIS SKILL

One day, desperate for a taste of the food he loved, Schumacher took unto his skill and imagination a panful of oats. He toasted them for an hour over a slow fire until they took on what is described in historical documents as a nutty flavor, and then rubbed off their hulls.

He took the groats that were left and chopped them into tiny cubes, his mouth watering but his patience holding strong.

By the handsful, he dropped these into a heavy iron kettle and left them cool: slowly for hours. Finally ecstatically, he could wait no longer and he took the result — you think YOUR oatmeal is gloppy! — and added cream and sugar, and partook thereof.

Well, children, it was a taste delight. Not like German oatmeal precisely, but better. Or so, anyway, thought Herr Schumacher in his hungry, self-confident state. He immediately set to stirring up more batches of oat brew and putting them into glass jars. Which he sold.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, a fellow German named Erhard Steinbacher — an oatmeal devotee — was appointed chief purchaser of supplies in the Ohio area for the Union Army.

ENEMY CORNMEAL

As one of the nation's first press agents, he sold the quartermaster corps on the fact that cornmeal, until then the chief American breakfast food, was a Southern sort of dish not worthy of the Yankees.

The result was that Schumacher gave Steinbacher a year's supply of oatmeal (and some leftover notions) and opened a factory to supply oats to the Army.

He feared the soldiers might not like it, but they took to it immediately; by the end of the war, Akron was "the home of oatmeal" and Schumacher the wealthiest man in 10 counties.

The moral is: What's good enough for great-big soldiers and filthy-wealthy millionaires is good enough for you kidides.

Ex-FBI Agent Found Red Cell in Steel Plant

WASHINGTON (INS)—A former FBI undercover agent said that a Communist cell in the Bethlehem Steel Company engaged in industrial espionage as recently as 1953.

Harry G. Walters of Kintnersville, Pa., told the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that Reds in the cell were assigned him to gather information about the "most vital spots" of the big steel plant.

Walters, a shop steward for the AFL-CIO Steelworkers at Bethlehem, Pa., said he joined the party in 1952 at the request of the FBI and remained an informant until last year when he testified at a Philadelphia Communist trial.

Bob Considine Says:

Original Atomic Test Completely Secret

NEW YORK (INS) — In the weeks leading up to the test of the first A-bomb, July 16, 1945, the cost of the great enterprise — about which Congress and the people knew nothing — reached the $2,000,000,000 mark. Money had never before been spent as massively and as secretly.

A good sized city had been built in Tennessee — at Oak Ridge — to separate the uranium-235 atom from the uranium-238 mass, an excruciating task. One method of separating the chemically alike atoms was abruptly abandoned after perhaps $300,000,000 had been sunk into the project.

Another city and enormous plant bloomed at Hanford, Wash., for the creation of man's first element—plutonium. To cool some of the equipment needed in that colossal task, the Columbia River had to be "borrowed."

A third thriving community had appeared at Las Alamos, N.M., built around a commandeered boys school. Here a brilliant young scientist, Robert Oppenheimer, chosen with full knowledge of his association in the past with left wingers, headed up a scientific effort that had no parallel in history.

The brains of the free world had been picked and re-picked in extension of the stunning discovery of the Germans Hahn, Strassman and Meitner that the atom could be split and, further, the work of Fermi and his associates proving that a chain reaction of trillions of bursting atoms could be controlled.

DIFFERENT MEANINGS

The latter experiment had meant to some of the scientists involved that an atomic bomb could be built (Einstein thought of it as being so massively complex that it would have to be carried by boat into an enemy's harbor).

It had meant to others that one day the atom would unleash torrents of peaceful power.

Unnerving additional steps had been taken by the handful of men in charge, notably Gen. Leslie R. Groves. When there was no copper to serve as an electrical conductor for the unbelievable magnets used in an accepted method of separating the atoms that would fission from those that wouldn't, Groves borrowed almost all the silver the U.S. Treasury Department had available—and had it worked into parts of an atomic machine that covered acres. He signed for the delivered silver personally.

Even the F.B.I. was barred from the inner recesses of the Manhattan Engineering District. The atom group had its own secret police. They roamed the world, sat in on lectures on the atom in neutral countries, worked on the French communist scientist Joliot-Curie to keep him from publishing his considerable knowledge.

They wouldn't ask for draft board deferment for young scientists whose number came up, because Selective Service personnel couldn't be told why.

They'd have the drafted scientist re-assigned to his old work, after his dreary basic training, and sometimes at a fraction of what he had been paid before.

They caused the recall to active duty of a blabber-mouth scientist who had taken an ROTC course years before, and shipped him to a lost island in the South Pacific.

OFFICIALS KNEW NOTHING

People in astonishingly high places knew nothing of this vast effort, among them Vice President Truman, the supreme commander in the Pacific, Douglas MacArthur, and Admiral Nimitz.

A few others knew and told, particularly Dr. Klaus Fuchs, part of the British team at Los Alamos.

F.D.R., who was to die before it happened, and who wanted the test scheduled for July 4, 1945, apparently never worried about the stunning cost. But others did.

"If it works," said Asst. Secy. of War Robert Patterson, "there won't be any (Congressional) investigation. If it doesn't, there won't be any either."

About a third of the scientists who were taken to the desert before dawn on that July day, 12 years ago, were sure it wouldn't explode. A group of others were of the opinion that it would explode and, in doing so, would set up an uncontrolled chain reaction in the earth's atmosphere and destroy all life, turning all matter into cinder as bleak as the moon.

The rest thought it would work properly. The fabled Fermi precisely predicted in advance it would be the equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT.

It was, and it changed your life, my life, and the lives of children beyond our wildest ken.

Firemen Save Man From Tower Leap

CHICAGO (AP)—A 20-year-old auto mechanic, reported by his mother to be upset after breaking up with a girl friend, threatened to jump 75 feet from a water tower for two hours early today but finally was overpowered by two firemen.

The two firemen, after grabbing the youth, James Vincent, tied his hands with a rope and carried him down the metal ladder leading to the water tower of the Sher and Peachin, Inc., building.

Vincent had stopped at a catwalk 75 feet above the ground and ignored orders from police to descend. Fireman Edward Welz, 28, and Joseph Saladino, 27, climbed the ladder four times and attempted to persuade him to climb down. He kicked at the firemen and refused to budge.

But on the fourth climb, the firemen overpowered him and carried him to the ground.

Police took Vincent to the Psychopathic Hospital and said he declined to talk. They said his mother Lillian told them he had been upset after a recent breakup with a girl friend and had been sick the last few days.

Says Reds Have Access to U.S. Communications

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Committee on Un-American Activities today begins an attempt to show that Communists have access to vital communications media in this country.

Richard Arens, committee director, said communications workers who are "friendly witnesses" will appear at the hearing.

"We expect them to lay the foundation to show the seriousness of the situation that exists, that Communists do have access to communications media," he said.

Eliminate Two for Post

WASHINGTON (INS) —President Eisenhower has eliminated Deputy Defense Secretary Donald A. Quarles and Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther from his list of potential candidates to succeed Charles E. Wilson as secretary of defense, it was learned today.

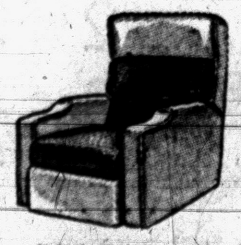

One year's cut of pulpwood in Minnesota, if stacked cord-style 4 feet wide and 4 feet high, would reach from the center of Minneapolis to the center of New York City.

Purge Pattern Hits Bulgaria

Also Oust 3 Leaders From Key Party Posts for 'Antiparty Activities'

VIENNA (AP) — Following Moscow's lead, Bulgaria has ousted three top leaders from key Communist party posts for "antiparty activities."

Swept out in the latest Red purge — Romania had one two weeks ago — were First Deputy Premier Georgi Tsankov, former Deputy Premier Dobri Terpetshev and former Gen. Janko Panov.

Tsankov was thrown off both the party's Central Committee and the Politburo. The others were purged from the Central Committee.

Announcing the shakeup, Radio Sofia last night accused the three of "systematic opposition against the policy of the party and its political unity." The Kremlin used much the same words to condemn V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov, L. M. Kaganovich and their associates who lost out for opposing Nikita Khrushchev's policies.

The broadcast said nothing about Tsankov losing his government posts of first deputy premier and chairman of the State Planning Commission, but this was considered certain to follow.

When the Russians staged their shakeup, the Bulgarian Central Committee said it would "creatively apply" the Soviet method. One main difference was apparent. None of the ousted trio has been linked with Stalinism.

Expect Settlement of Express Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — The strike of Railway Express Agency drivers in seven major cities appeared headed for settlement today as company and union negotiators were summoned for a meeting in New York with the chairman of the National Mediation Board.

Locals of the International Harvester Teamsters Union in five of the cities have reported approval of a new contract granting a total wage increase of 29 cents an hour. Two locals rejected approval of the proposed settlement formula made to union officials by Francis A. O'Neill, National Mediation Board chairman.

Can You Spare A Few Minutes to Win $1,700?

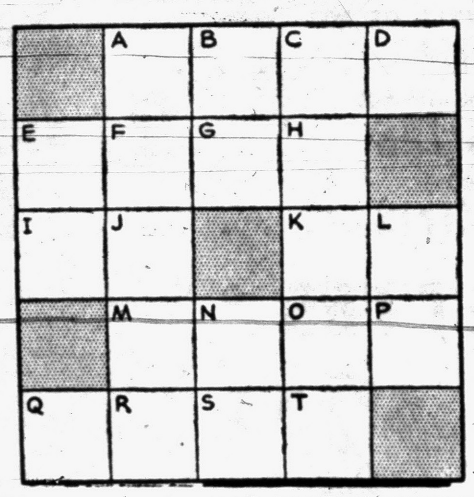

Well, if you can't spare a few minutes to win that much money, you're not like any of the people we know. For a little effort, you might be able to make the down payment on that house you've been wanting. Or maybe you want to be sure of your son's next year in college. And a lot of people would welcome just a good spending spree. Any of these will be yours if you can select the correct numbers for this week's Pot-O-Gold. Even if someone wins last week's puzzle and the big prize is taken, you can't complain too much about $100 for a consolation.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Orders Casting of Blank Ballots

Jailed Peronist Leader Calls for Demonstration of Political Strength

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Followers of exiled dictator, Juan Peron were told today to demonstrate their political strength by casting blank ballots in the July 28 voting for a constituent assembly.

The order was published in Peronist political papers in a letter attributed to Alejandro Leloir, president of the outlawed Peronist party. Dated July 13 from the national penitentiary where Leloir is under arrest, the letter said: "Our party, which is in the immense majority, is illegally outlawed and cannot participate (in the elections). . . . Only one road remains, to vote in blank."

The constituent assembly election called by Provisional President Pedro Aramburu will pick a 205-member assembly to reform the Argentine constitution along more democratic lines.

The Peronist order places the supporters of the deposed President against both Aramburu and Frondizi. Frondizi has been making an all-out effort to get the Peronists to support his assembly candidates.

Peron, who is living in exile in Venezuela, claims that 70 per cent of the Argentine population still supports him. Some sources speculated that a big blank vote tempt militant Peronists to stage an uprising to return the dictator to power.

Writes to Congressman —With 96-Page Letter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many people write to their congressmen, but an Ohio man used 96 pages in a handwritten letter to express his views.

The letter was sent to Rep. Ashley (D-Ohio), by Niles Wittenbrook of Alliance, a city in the district of Rep. Bow (R-Ohio). The letter covers numerous federal issues.

It required 12 cents postage.

Ships of 14-foot draft can sail from Duluth to the Atlantic.

White House Expects Randall to Keep Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—As far as a White House spokesman is concerned, Clarence B. Randall, foreign economic adviser to the President, will continue in the post.

The comment came from presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty when asked if Randall, former president of the Inland Steel Co., might succeed retiring foreign aid chief John B. Hollister.

Randall, in response to another report that he might succeed Secretary of Defense Wilson should the latter retire, had this to say: "I never comment on my relationship with the White House. I have said that for years — and that is all I can say now."

Award 3 Scholarships

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Three University of Michigan highway transportation students have been awarded scholarships totaling $1,000 by the Yellow Freight Lines of Kansas City. They are William E. Cox Jr., and William A. Corson, both of Ann Arbor, and Myron H. Nichols, St. Joseph.

BEE CAREFUL — Risking a bite to remember, Charles Yoder, of Leavenworth, Kan., points to the approximate location of the queen bee amid the swarm of thousands of bees that blanketed the inside of this cigar company truck. Just what it was that attracted the buzzing creatures was undetermined. The bees were later drawn away from the vehicle via some wax in a box which attracted the queen bee and then the rest of the swarm.

Asks Broader Agriculture Policy

WASHINGTON (INS) — Newly-appointed Assistant Agriculture Secretary Don Paarlberg reaffirmed today his department's opposition to agriculture programs that rely solely on high support prices to control surpluses.

Paarlberg said this "one-dimensional" approach has proved a failure.

In a speech prepared for presentation at the Western Farm Economic Assn. meeting in Las Cruces, N. M., he said that future agriculture policies will have to be broadened to include both price and volume of production, in order to take advantage of the vastly increased output each farmer can produce.

Paarlberg pointed out that in 1956 acreage allotments and marketing quotas were in effect for all eligible basic crops. The soil bank had begun to withdraw land from production, and severe drought baked the southwest.

"Yet," he said, "overall farm production reached an all-time record."

He added: "when acreage is restricted by allotments, farmers naturally select their best land, intensify operations and increase yields per acre."

Paarlberg, who succeeds Dr. Earl Butz Aug. 1, asserted that acreage controls are a natural result when high price supports stimulate farmers to increase production.

But he said that it is impossible to impose acreage controls on wheat, for example, that are low enough to match supply with demand. Next year's allotment is the minimum allowed by congress — 55 million acreas — but only 23 million acres would be needed to match demand.

Paarlberg said: "Farmers will not accept, legislators will not vote, and from a practical standpoint, administrators cannot impose the kind of controls which, at a price objective specified by law, would be necessary to bring production into line with market outlets."

Kids Ask for 'Yes' Vote on Proposal at Troy

On Monday, voters in Troy will decide whether their school district is to get an additional 2-½ mills for operation.

A poster contest sponsored by the Troy Citizens Planning Committee here has given children a chance to tell the voters of Troy how they feel about the issue.

Literature being circulated by the committee states that the money is needed to enable the school board to provide a full educational program. It states that a "no" vote will mean overcrowded classrooms, undeveloped talents, some classes on half-days, and reduced transportation. The latter hits hard because of the danger that exists in walking along the highways in Troy. If the vote is "no," all children in the district living within 1-½ miles of school will walk.

More than 30 posters were entered in the contest which was administered by supervisory personnel of the Troy summer recreation program. "Bring Our Schools Out of the Dark," "Keep Me Smiling," and "Save Our Schools" were among the slogans dreamed up by the young artists.

Posters will be on display in stores and other business places throughout Troy until election day.

Every poster entered was awarded a prize. Posters were judged last Friday, with three being declared "best of show."

Winning junior artists were Mary Ellen Howard, William Lance and Nancy Solem. Judges were Jack Muir, Ben Jones, Mrs. Lois Melchert, Stuart Baker and Boyd Larson.

Lapeer Minister Succumbs at 80

Preacher in Michigan Parishes Since 1922, Rev. Wilcox Dies

LAPEER—The Rev. Horton Wilcox, minister who preached since 1922 in community parishes of Michigan, died here yesterday at the age of 80.

The Rev. Wilcox died in the Lapeer County General Hospital following two months of illness.

The son of the late William Wilcox and Savilla Rousch Wilcox, he was born in Burnside, May 3, 1877. After attendance in Burnside schools he moved to Pontiac in 1917.

In 1922 he was ordained a minister in the Free Methodist Church. He served pastorates in Lansing, Corunna, Lum, Perry Carsonville, and Wolverine before his retirement about 15 years ago. He was preceded in death by his wife Lida (Gould) in 1947.

Rev. Wilcox is survived by one son, Floyd Wilcox, and a daughter, Mrs. William (Nellie) Cameron, both of Pontiac; six grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Service will be conducted Thursday at 2:30 p.m. at the Blackburn Funeral Home, North Branch. The Rev. Samuel Bowman and the Rev. R. Boileau will officiate. Interment will be in the Maple Grove Cemetery there.

The Pinners, who reside at 95 Brown Rd., Orion Township, were married 50 years ago today. They have six children, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Escape Death in Area Cave-In

Excavation Collapses Burying Two Workmen Near Cemetery

ROMEO — Two workmen narrowly escaped death yesterday afternoon when they were buried in an excavation cave-in on W. St. Clair street in front of the Romeo Cemetery. They suffered only minor cuts and bruises.

Stanley Strub, 45, of Hamtramck was completely covered with sand when a side wall of the ditch gave way. His co-worker Gregory Janik, 25, of Detroit was buried chest deep and lost consciousness.

Fellow workers started shoveling immediately and had both men partially uncovered before the Romeo Rescue Squad arrived.

Strub and Janik are employes of the Speedway Excavating Co. of Detroit which is laying sewer tile for the new high school. Heavy traffic passing on both sides of the opening was blamed for the cavein, Police said.

The two men were taken to St. Joseph Hospital, Mt. Clemens, and were treated and released.

Grant Permit to Build Club

Board at Independence Passes Group's Petition at Walters Lake

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Zoning Appeal Board has granted a permit to organize and operate a private country club at Walters Lake. The club, to be known as "Burning Tree Country Club" is located on property formerly known as Thendara Country Subdivision.

The present owners, the Garner Contruction Co., were represented by their attorney, Herbert Gordon, who said the club would be a non-profit organization and planned to make various summer and winter recreation facilities available to members.

The property would eventually be deeded to subdivision members who belong to the club. Residents of the area objected to this establishment on the grounds that the construction company was in violation of township zoning ordinance.—Attorney Sebastian Buffa represented them.

However, necessary permits have been obtained and no violation is present. The owners of the club property have obtained a ten-foot easement strip which had reverted to the state because of non payment of taxes.

The attorney for the country club said that this strip would be deeded back to the people, except for a certain portion right in front of the club house property. The board voted unanimously to grant the permit.

Orion Couple Wed Tuesday; Receive Aug. 10

LAKE ORION — The marriage of Karen Mehlberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wm. Mehlberg of 843 Fairview and Ronald Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Waite of 357 E. Flint St. was performed by the Rev. Fr. George E. Ging at the St. Joseph Catholic Church at 10 a.m. Tuesday, before the immediate families.

The bride chose a softly tailored lavender suit, with white accessories. She carried a white satin prayer book with a white orchid.

Mrs. Lorraine Haskins, sister of the bride from Keego Harbor, was her only attendant. She wore a pink gown with a ruffled bodice and flowing skirt. Her corsage was of rubrum lilies.

Larry Longpre of Orion was best man.

The couple left for a honeymoon in Upper Michigan after the ceremony, and will reside in an apartment on Flint street after their return.

The reception will be held at Gingellville Community Center on Aug. 10, when they will welcome their relatives and friends.

Increase Specialization

'Dual-Purpose' Chicks Are Becoming Extinct

WASHINGTON (INS) — Poultrymen can look during the next few years for increased specialization by hatcheries as the so-called "dual-purpose" chick becomes a thing of the past.

The Agriculture Department reports demand for chicks which can either be sold as broilers or kept as egg layers is falling rapidly as profound changes alter the hatchery business.

Specialist Edward Karpoff of the Agricultural Marketing Service says in an analysis released today that poultry farmers are demanding more personalized service from the hatcheries and the poultry breeders. One result is that hatcheries — like many other businesses — are growing fewer but larger.

Another result of the shift toward specialization is a growing difference in price between broiler chicks and "replacement" chicks—produced to replace egg-laying hens.

Broiler chicks cost less because there is a year-around demand, while replacement chick sales are seasonal. In Georgia, the leading broiler state, chick production last year was eight times the capacity of the incubators. Since some eggs did not hatch, this means that each "unit of incubator capacity" was used 10 times during the year.

New Jersey, on the other hand, produces more replacement chicks than broilers. There, the number of chicks hatched was only three times the incubator capacity.

The New Jersey egg-type chicks cost about eight dollars a hundred more than the Georgia broiler chicks.

About two-thirds of the two billion, 100 million chicks produced in 1956 were broiler types. In the 1930's, most of the chicks were replacement types.

Everything Just Ducky in Canton, Commies Report

LONDON (AP)—Everything is just ducky in Canton, the Chinese Communist radio reported today.

"Roast ducks, fresh from the spit, hissing hot and dripping with oil, are on display at thousands of the city's restaurant's and eating houses. Market places are flooded with live and dressed ducks," the brodcast explained.

"Canton is now consuming 2½ million ducks a month. Nearly half a million more are shipped to Hong Kong monthly. It is planned to send another 150,000 to the U.S.S.R. in refrigeration cars.

"Farmers in Kwangtung expect to raise 60 million ducks this year, the highest numuber ever in the history of this subtropical province," the broadcast said.

Olympic Official Going to Bulgaria

U.S. Bows to Brundage

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

The State Department has joined the long list of organizations, institutions and individuals who have bowed before the determination and sharp tongue of Avery Brundage.

The 69-year-old president of the International Olympic Committee received permission Monday to attend an Olympic meeting in Bulgaria, a country closed to travel by U.S. citizens.

NOT THROUGH YET

But Brundage is not through with the State Department. Only two weeks ago he warned the U.S. would lose the 1960 winter games at Squaw Valley if Washington does not reverse its stand on refusing to let in athletes from "a country whose government we don't recognize."

The balding, bespectacled Brundage, a superb athlete in his youth, has been closely connected with the Olympics since 1929, when he became a member of the U.S. Olympic Association and Committee. He served as president seven times until his election to the IOC post in 1952.

During those years, he won headlines and a reputation for being a "villain" as the man who threw swimmer Eleanor Holm off the 1936 team for sipping champagne, who declared Jesse Owens a professional and who suspended Babe Didrikson.

DEVOTED TO CAUSE

In fact, Brundage's devotion to the cause of non-professionalism in sports has won him the nickname "The Last Amateur."

Another favorite target for Brundage's wrath is the state of U.S. athletics and Youth. He has said:

"American kids are soft. They get into a car to go a couple of blocks. They sit in front of television sets instead of chopping wood."

Brundage has been able to spend so much time on amateur athletics because he is a millionaire, and a self-made one at that.

A civil engineering graduate of the University of Illinois (class of 1909), he built an amazingly successful Chicago construction company. He now has wide real estate and business holdings.

Brundage says he is aware he is not a popular man, but he explains his attitude this way:

"I know many times I'm going to be criticized. I'm also going to be blamed for a situation I had no part in creating. But as long as I'm spokesman for whatever organization I happen to be connected with, I'm the fellow who will accept the responsibility."

Dunbar Reappointed to State Historical Unit

LANSING (AP)—Re-appointment of Dr. Willis F. Dunbar of Kalamazoo to the State Historical Commission was announced today by Gov. Williams.

The appointment for a term ending May 21, 1963, needs Senate approval.

Williams also named Lawrence L. Farrell, his executive secretary, as a member of the Interstate Cooperation Commission. He succeeds John H. McCarthy, resigned.

No Decision Yet on Crusade Extension

Graham Tells of Road to Salvation

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham told a capacity audience of 19,200 at Madison Square Garden last night that he — like anyone else — cannot bring about his own salvation.

"Jesus Christ is the savior," the evangelist said. "God by His mercy and death on the cross has saved us — if you'll let him."

The filled arena, bringing total attendance of Graham's New York crusade to 1,055,200, forced Garden attendants to deny admission to another 2,500 persons waiting outside. Graham spoke a few words to the assembly prior to his sermon.

At Graham's call, 530 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ," bringing the over-all total of such decisions to 33,122. One elderly man fainted as he walked to make a "decision," and was revived by a doctor and crusade attendants.

Graham announced that the crusade executive committee would meet Friday to decide whether to extend the revival past its scheduled closing date on Saturday. No decision was made at yesterday's committee meeting, the evangelist reported. He said the committee would "pray for divine guidance" before reaching a final decision.

Since the crusade started May 15, Graham said, "the spirit of God is moving like a river in this city. It's not me, Billy Graham. It's Jesus Christ."

Graham chose Mark 10:46 as his text. It related to a blind beggar, Bartimaeus, who had his sight restored after declaring absolute faith in Jesus Christ.

Man has two sets of eyes, spiritual and visual, the evangelist said. People who do not declare themselves for God are "as blind as that man in the Bible," he said.

He said mankind is often blinded by worldly pursuits such as fame and fortune. Hollywood was cited as an example. He described it as "a rat race of the most miserable people on earth."

Graham said the Devil had blinded mankind's eyes to God. "Christ can open your eyes—if you'll let him come to you," he said.

Commission Progresses on Sewer, Paving Work

Bids on the $425,000 Perry Park Subdivision storm sewer and West Huron sanitary relief sewer projects will be due by 2 p.m. Aug. 12, the City Commission ruled last night.

The sewer projects make up the biggest part of the city's 1957 public improvement program, according to City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn.

Most other business taken up by commissioners last evening concerned this program.

PAVING UNCONTESTED

No further objections were aired on the proposed concrete paving of Featherstone avenue from Mt. Clemens street to the east city limits.

Last Tuesday, some 30 residents of the east side Herrington Hills Subdivision sought a ruling on how many of them would be assessed for work.

Oscar Eckman, city director of finance, last night said the city had $12,901 paid in escrow by owners of 37 lots on Featherstone, which would exempt them from being assessed.

Public hearings were conducted without discussion on proposed sidewalk construction work on Putnam avenue and Mt. Clemens street.

Commissioners set payments on nine blacktopping and sidewalk jobs either completed or nearly completed in the city.

EXTENSION OK'D

They approved an extension to Sept. 15 for the A & A Asphalt Paving Co. to complete blacktopping of Astor, Diston, Parkdale, and Washington streets.

Wrenn recommended the extension explaining that rain has hindered completion of the work.

A boxing match at Wisner Stadium July 25 was approved by the commission.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans set next Tuesday as the date for a public hearing on intention of the city to install curb and gutter on Fairmount avenue from Baldwin to Carlisle.

Contracts for the paving of Featherstone and Columbia avenues by G. Tocalino & Sons of Livonia were okayed by commissioners. The $262,536 project is expected to be finished by Nov. 15, according to the contracts.

A public hearing will be held Aug. 13 on the proposal to rezone part of Lot 1 (assessor's plat 85) in the Branch-Dick-Gillespie area to Commercial 1 and Residential 3.

City Attorney William A. Ewart was instructed to draft an agreement with Kopman & Hassin Builders of Oak Park and Birmingham for the installation of water mains for homes on Richton avenue north of Featherstone.

Representatives of the firm appeared before the commission to accept a compromise offer of the city that in addition to paying $2.25 a front foot for the work, they would pay $3,729.

The offer was proposed by City Manager Walter K. Willman when it was discovered the city would be paying $7,500 out of the total $12,286 project.

In final action, commissioners set July 30 as a continued hearing date for the proposed rezoning to Commercial 1 of 15 lots on the south side of Orchard Lake avenue.

Commissioners last week agreed to a month's postponement, but last night Commissioner Philip E. Rowston urged an earlier hearing upon the request of the attorney for the petitioner for the rezoning.

State Law Questions Shipboard Marriage

DETROIT (AP) — A Dearborn couple is honeymooning in Italy unaware their marriage at sea has embroiled the Wayne County Clerk's office in a legal problem.

John E. Maxwell, 62, and the former Mrs. Helen C. Hammond, 49, were married July 3 on board the S.S. Independence of the American Export Line. Capt. Hugh L. Switzer officiated.

When the marriage license was returned to the county clerk's office for registration, it bumped into a Michigan law that says a marriage license is isued only for a mariage within the state.

Under international law they are married, but County Clerk Edgar Branigan has asked the prosecutor's office if it is a legal marriage in Michigan.

Plan Early Hearings on Money Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hearings will be held "very early next year" on a bill to provide more than 250 million dollars in federal assistance for longtime unemployment areas, says Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich), sponsor of the bill.

Rabaut said yesterday he had received assurances from Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) and chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House Banking Committee that the hearings would come early next year.

Rabaut's bill would provide economic assistance to communities and industries in areas designated as "redevelopment areas." He says such areas would be those "where there has existed substantial and persistent unemployment for an extended period of time."

He cited Detroit as an example, saying it has more than 100,000 skilled workers out of a job.

Close Bridge to Rid Flies

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)—Swarms of flies caused the temporary closing of a bridge across the Mississippi. Attracted by the bridge lights, the flies landed on the roadway, resulting in slippery conditions. Three cars and a truck were involved in an accident on the bridge. Traffic was halted for an hour and a half until the surface could be sanded.

Old age pensions were adopted by Germany in 1854.

Second Person Walks Through Glass Wall

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—Jay C. Van Nuys, an architect, suffered minor cuts of the hand when he walked through a plate glass wall at Rutgers University.

The wall, which apparently succeeds in being "invisible," is part of the university's ultramodern library.

Van Nuys is the second person in three months to miss seeing the wall. The last time, a young lady suffered minor cuts.

Blood-Red Watermelon Gets Man Acquitted

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Squashed watermelon figured in the aquittal of Edward S. Ferebee on a charge of disregarding a red light.

Ferebee, an attorney, told Judge Vernon D. Hitchings the watermelon, scattered across three traffic lanes at the intersection, was "blood red."

His first thought was that there had been an accident, he said, and his attention strayed from the red light.

Hot Rodders Use Radio to Outfox Lawmen

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Teen-age hot rodders who engage in illegal drag races on the highways around here have a new gimmick to evade the law, police say.

The young drivers keep track of squad cars by monitoring police radio calls.

State police say they rounded up 15 youths last weekend. The young speed demons in their radio equipped cars kept moving from place to place to keep ahead of the police.

Jewish Refugee Called Walking Blood Bank

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Herbert Schiftan, a Jewish refugee, is known as a walking blood bank at the Asheville regional blood center.

Schiftan left his native Germany in 1938, moving here in 1939. Unable to enlist during World War II, Schiftan began donating blood. His total now is 48 pints.

Schiftan says he will continue giving blood "as long as the doctor approves and I don't get in trouble with my wife."

Italians Put Emphasis Upon Skirts

Designers in Rome and Florence Set to Unveil Fashions

By CELE WOHL

FLORENCE (AP) — Italy's rival fashion centers, Rome and Florence, appear to have pinned their hopes this year on skirts with eye appeal.

The Rome showings open Thursday, the Florentine shows July 22. Emilio Federico Schubert, showing in Florence, says he'll show "bomb-shaped" skirts and make much use of slightly rounded tunics over narrow skirts.

SOFT WIDENING

In neither skirt will there be exaggerated fullness, just a soft widening over the hips between a narrow waist and somewhat tapered hemline.

Both color and line will be soft. Shoulders are natural and bodices small.

Roberto Capucci, boy genius of Italian fashion for five years now, says only, "lots of black and red."

In Rome, Gattinoni, who designs for Mrs. James D. Zellerbach, wife of the American ambassador, will come out with a slim skirt covered by a partial overskirt. Cut from one piece of draped cloth, it gives a sophisticated shepherdess look.

CASANOVA LINE

Fernanda Gattioni calls her line "Casanova." Wide-open necklines, "to make the woman look charming at dinner," and highly detailed sleeves go atop the important skirts.

Mingolini-Gugenheim speaks of a new skirt—"neither narrow nor full, but an oval"—small at the waist, rounded and restrained slightly at the hem. Bodices will be long and close-fitting. Coats will be straight and severe.

Eleanor Garnett calls her skirts "cupolas" or "cocoons" a nice, rounded line with no unnecessary fullness.

Busy Dads Must Make Time Count

They Should Plan Special Activities With Children

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

A father who tries to pay his bills by working at two jobs wonders sometimes if he is short-changing his children by staying away from home so much.

Some 3,700,000 Americans are on this grind. Census figures show 1 out of 18 workers has added a second job to his hours of toil.

While the breadwinner may feel he's meeting himself coming and going, his helpmate may hint she can stand a little help with child-rearing, especially when it comes to Scout work and baseball.

TIME BUDGETING

A close budgeting of time is suggested by psychiatrist William C. Adamson of Langhorne, Pa. Dr. Adamson is child study director of the Woods Schools and he finds that:

"Dad's relationship with the kiddies depends not so much on the amount of time he spends with them as how he spends it."

But first, he contends, the father must be able to "reach" his kids. This is rooted in a contact or "communication" established from birth. The infant whose father feeds and plays with him grows into a youngster confident that his father is interested in him.

With this tie, Adamson says, Dad can "communicate" satisfactorily why he is absent so much. And he can compensate when he's with the children—by making each minute count.

SCHEDULE FUN

Plan ahead, Adamson advises. Schedule picnics, trips and other family recreation. Even do-it-yourself chores can strengthen the ties if the junior carpenter is allowed to work alongside Dad.

Even 15 minutes before dinner provides Adamson — with his packed medical schedule—some fun with his children, Barbara, 6, and Christie, 4.

"Someone picks out a book," he relates, "and we read together."

Local Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds Enjoying Outdoor Living at Oweki

By PAT EVANS

Daily instruction in swimming, tenting and various other outdoor activities has pleased both Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds for the past week. Yes, these girls with their group leaders are enjoying day camp at Camp Oweki.

Located near Clarkston, the 120-acre camp was purchased through the proceeds amounting to $9,000 from candy sales by area Camp Fire groups, who also named the camp. In June of 1952 a down payment for Camp Oweki was made, the final payment being in March of this year.

110 ATTEND CAMP

Now attending the second of the three camp sessions, four units of Camp Fire girls and an equal number of Blue Birds, totaling 110, ride by bus to and from camp, leaving at 8:30 in the morning and returning home at 3:30 in the afternoon.

Between these hours the girls, ranging from the ages of 7 to 14, engage in various outdoor programs organized in accordance with their ages.

Nature is the sole background for the girls, who have created terrariums, with moss and ferns, blueprints of leaves, baskets woven from reeds, and floral decorations of seeds. They have exhibited painted weeds and grass dolls outside one of the shelters.

Other interests include swimming, cook-outs, hiking, boating and overnight tenting, the latter two activities reserved strictly for the Camp Fire Girls.

THOSE IN CHARGE

Supervising the groups are Mary Ellen Wasserberger, executive director of the Pontiac Camp Fire Girls; Doris Beck, day camp director, and Dawn Davis, waterfront director. Some 20 volunteers, including mothers who are group leaders and high school girls, assist in counseling.

The first session of day camp was held during the last two weeks in June. A four-day outdoor living and tenting session will be conducted for 12 Camp Fire Girls, ages 11-14, in the latter part of this month.

Camp Oweki is operated solely on the registration fees which cover the expenses of transportation, milk, insurance and supplies.

The Civitan Club of Pontiac, sponsoring club of Camp Oweki, contributed picnic tables and $4,500 in a trust fund towards permanent buildings. Tents, boats, two cabins and three shelters were donated by the Kiwanis Club.

An interesting fact to note is that Gulick Lake on which the camp site is located and which was named by its former owners, the Gulicks, is also the name of the national founder of the Camp Fire Girls, Luther Halsey Gulick, who founded the organization 47 years ago and is related to the Gulick family here.

No Longer Considered Vain or Sissy

Modern Men Use Grooming Aids

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This is a woman's column but many men read it and write to me. Ayway, if it is a woman's column that makes it a man's column, too, because the little ladies are trying to look like the men want them to.

I often have had letters from men asking me how to keep the hair on their heads. They also are interested in nutrition, in remaining youthful, in getting rid of the bay window, and in longevity.

For some unknown reason a man who was interested in his personal appearance used to be considered "vain." Medical science has robbed us of that idea by placing overweight as one of the No. 1 health hazards.

A man was also thought to be "sissy" if he used any cosmetics. Today the well-groomed man uses masculine after-shave lotion, after-bath powders and deodorants. AND WHY NOT?

Recently I have received several letters from men asking me to write about care of the masculine complexion. As a whole, men have thicker, ollier skins than women do. Therefore, soap and water cleansing several times a day is usually the best treatment.

It will be helpful, too, if the man with a complexion problem eats a well-balanced diet and leaves off rich, greasy foods. He might also apply a drying lotion at night.

ANTISEPTIC LOTION

Today there are antiseptic after-shave lotions which cut down on the number of infected hairs. If a man has dry skin or lives in a very dry, windy, or cold climate, there is no reason why he should not enjoy the comfort of cold cream on his rough face.

Thinning hair seems to be hereditary, at least to some extent. Some experiments quite a while ago indicated that some member of the vitamin B family may play a part in keeping hair on your head.

If any of you men who read this column would like to have my leaflet of exercises planned especially for you, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for "Short Routine for Men," leaflet No. 20 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Trouble Spots on Figure? These Exercises for You."

If Hubby Runs You Down, Do the Same Thing to Him

Just Answer Public Fault-Finding by Pointing Out Some of His Failings

By RUTH MILLETT

One of the meanest tricks a husband can pull is to try to make his wife feel inferior and to sell the world the idea that she isn't very bright.

Some men achieve this effect by victimizing their wives with their so-called humor. If their wives resent being made fun of, they are told they just don't have a sense of humor.

Other husbands tear down their wives by carping criticism.

The wife of such a man writes: "This may sound silly, but my husband makes me miserable because he is always telling me how stupid and dumb I am, particularly when we are around his relatives. Is there any way I can get him to stop?"

First of all, stop squirming when he sets out to make you squirm. Don't try to explain or justify yourself when he finds fault with you.

But the next time he tries to make you look stupid before his family or your friends, just look him in the eye and say, "Speaking of being stupid, let me tell you about the stunt George pulled the other day."

HIS DUMB TRICK

Then recount word for word the latest dumb trick your husband has pulled. You'll be able to think of one because everybody does stupid things at times.

When the evening is over ask your husband if he wants to go on talking about how dumb you are and let you low-rate him in return.

Or would he rather give you a buildup and let you talk about how smart he is?

The man who likes to make others feel small and stupid can't bear to be made to feel that way himself. That's your salvation.

Don't hesitate to give what you get. It probably won't be long until you are getting a buildup.

Passport Office Has Many Duties

Settling Nationality, Citizenship Cases Is Vital Function

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — There is no more precious document in the world today than an American passport, or a certificate attesting to an individual's registration as an American citizen, says Frances G. Knight, head of the U. S. Passport Office

While emphasis is given to better known functions of the office, namely the processing and issuance of passports, Miss Knight says an equally important function is the settling of nationality and citizenship cases of persons who reside abroad and claim American nationality.

Since World War II, the complexities in the field of citizenship and nationality have increased. In 1940 there were only two ways under then existing legislation by which an individual could lose American citizenship.

Since 1940, through the enactment of subsequent congressional legislation, there are now approximately 16 ways to lose it.

In addition to establishing nationality and citizenship claims of Americans who reside abroad, the department handles complicated cases involving claims that have to be settled in accordance with the Immigration and Nationality Act, or prior laws, treaties and regulations.

FOREIGN CITIZENSHIP

"We adjudicate cases where naturalized citizens request our help in casting off their foreign citizenship," Miss Knight explained.

"Some of them may be faced with induction into foreign armies, trial and imprisonment for military delinquency, or payment of taxes in lieu of foreign military service.

"We assist them by making formal or informal representations to foreign governments."

The office also records birth reports of children born abroad of an American parent or parents. These are prepared in the consular offices and sent to the Passport Office for review and official recording.

The office maintains these records and furnishes certification on them when requested. A report of this kind is a basic citizenship document, Miss Knight explains.

Certificates of nationality in the cases of native American citizens for use by them in judicial or administrative proceedings in foreign states are also issued.

The Mayflower II, replica of the Pilgrims' ship, will be berthed all summer at 41st Street, New York City.

Cosmetics Understated by Elizabeth

Queen Likes Pink Which Is Flattering to Her Clear Skin

AP Women's Editor

Women interested in skillful makeup could take some tips from Britain's Queen Elizabeth, says Thelma Holland, globetrotting beauty authority who supervised the makeup of the Queen and her ladies-in-waiting at the time of her coronation.

Elizabeth follows the rule of understatement in makeup, says Mrs. Holland—a safe rule for everyone. She has a flawless skin and doesn't need to plaster it with heavy foundation tints.

In general she likes pinky tones in lipstick and cosmetics, having learned early in life that pink is the most flattering tone for practically all women.

NATURALLY DARK

She does not go in for heavy eye makeup, since her lashes and brows are naturally dark and well shaped, and her blue eyes are one of her most attractive features.

Actually, says Mrs. Holland, Queen Elizabeth doesn't need much advice in how to make-up.

The problems of the coronation were different, because at that time the questions of correct makeup for television, newsreel and still cameras had to be considered, and a makeup had to be chosen which would be right both in outdoor daylight and inside Westminster Abbey.

In this didemma, pink won again. A medium tone of rose rachel foundation and powder was used, with a pink-toned lipstick.

One of the few times the Queen has deviated from her pink preference was during her visit to Denmark last spring, when she chose a coral lipstick to harmonize with a flame-colored dress.

Beauty Clinic

By Edythe McCulloch

DANDRUFF

The flakey scalp condition called dandruff is quite common but little understood by most people. Although it may affect the condition of the hair it is not contagious. Some flaking of the scalp is natural as the entire body is constantly shedding the outer layer of skin. This is noticed more in the hair because the hair keeps it from falling away. But the causes of excessive shedding are legion.

Soap left on the scalp will cause it to flake. Some people are sensitive to wave set. There is no known cure for excessive shedding of the scalp, but generally, it can be controlled.

Detergent shampoos are often at the root of the trouble. They irritate the scalp, in the same way that detergents burn the hands. Daily brushing with a natural bristle brush is often all that is needed to keep the scalp clean and healthy. There are treatments available, creme and non-oily, which are very helpful in controlling this problem. Call us for an appointment.

MR. and MRS. DONALD T. PORTER

Jane M. Flynn Becomes Bride of Donald T. Porter

White flowers decorated the altar of Central Methodist Church for the 8 p.m. wedding Saturday of Jane M. Flynn and Donald T. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren T. Flynn of Bloomfield Hills are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Thomas B. Porter of Willard avenue and Mrs. William Earle of North Saginaw street.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white nylon lace extending over the bodice and ending in a point which formed a chapel train. White sequins and pearls decorated the sweetheart neckline of the gown, which ended in short sleeves with scalloped edges.

Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of white sequins and pearls. The bride carried a crescent-shaped arrangement of pink sweetheart roses with stephanotis.

Goldie Palaian, serving as maid of honor, wore a white nylon ballerina-length dress over pastel blue silk. She carried white carnations with blue delphinium.

Bridesmaids Diane Crigler, Mary Jo Brannan and Barbara McSkulin were gowned in identical gowns in rainbow colors. They carried nosegays of carnations with sweetheart roses.

The flower girl, Terry Barker, wore a pink nylon dress with a crown of pink roses.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

Donald Worthy was the best man and Bill Flynn, Larry Flynn, Bob Fosmoen and Don Fosmoen seated the guests. Randy Compton served as ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Flynn wore a blue silk organza dress with a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. Mrs. Earle chose a pink silk dress and a white rose corsage.

Following a reception at Devon Gables, the bride changed to a beige suit with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Proficiency Group Holds Picnic Dinner

Mrs. Bert Weddle, Mrs. Myrtle Kath, Mrs. Edna Warden and Mrs. Meta McIlroy were members of the committee for the picnic dinner held Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Sweazey of Bradford street opened their home for the picnic attended by members and guests of Griffin Proficiency Group, OES 228.

Miss Merrell Weds

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Kline of Keego Harbor announce the marriage of her sister, Kathryn Merrell, to Alfred Sublett of Paddock street. The Rev. James Luther performed the June 29 ceremony in the parsonage of Silvercrest Baptist Church.

Poverty Stimulates Your Ingenuity

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There are a great many things that can be said against poverty—and I know them all from experience—but there is one thing you'll have to say in its favor. Poverty is a great stimulus to ingenuity.

Many people are now successfully occupied in a home business which they began purely and simply because they had a need to fill and no money with which to fill it.

There is a woman, for example, who makes mobiles for children's nurseries. It's a specialized field, of course, but she has as customers two decorators in her city and a swank children's shop which uses her mobiles for window displays.

She makes a small, but comfortable income from it, which helps out the budget considerably.

I'll call her Blanche, and I'll tell you how her home business came about.

JUST PROMISING

Blanche was an art student when she married. Her husband was a promising young accountant, but there was more promise than income. In short order they had two babies and were expecting a third.

"And there wasn't enough money," Blanche told me, "to decorate the nursery. The two children had beds, but their room was like an army barracks.

"And now with another baby coming, and even less to spend, I was desperate.

"I looked at the room. Fortunately it was huge, but it was so empty. That's when I got the idea of having mobile figures hanging from the ceiling.

"I used characters from nursery rhymes and fairy tales for my designs. My husband and I hung them up and were amazed to see the tremendous difference they made in the room. The children adored them!"

NOT THE ONLY ONES

As is often the case, the children weren't the only ones. Friends and neighbors saw them and asked for some.

Being a wise woman, Blanche made gift mobiles for her friends. She knew better than to expect them to pay money—and so she escaped an embittering experience which too many people have.

She also realized that the more friends she gave mobiles to the more free advertising she'd get.

It worked out that way, as it always does. People began talking about her mobiles. One shop offered to stock some and also to use them as window displays.

After that, it was only a matter of time before she was in business.

WHAT YOU NEED

"And just think," Blanche beamed, "I never would have done it—I would never have this fun and this money—if we had had a budget big enough to include some nursery furniture!"

If you want some home project, and can't think of one, look around and see what you yourself need but can't afford. It will give you a pretty good clue.

Neighbors Give Candy to Children

Mother Wondering How to Discourage This Practice

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have several neighbors who feed candy to my two young children all the time. Aside from not being good for their teeth, the candy spoils their appetites which are not too good anyway.

"They are well-meaning and of course the children love the candy and never refuse it, but it does create a problem for me. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully get these neighbors to stop giving them candy?"

Answer: Tell these neighbors that you are having difficulty in getting your children to eat their food, and ask each please not to give them candy between meals.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Four years ago I married and moved to this town. My husband, who has lived here all his life, had several large dinner parties for me so that I could meet his friends and relatives. Every guest invited came with a gift (house gift).

"Naturally when they returned our invitation, I, thinking it was the custom of this town, also took a house gift to the hostess, but only when we received a dinner invitation. This is still going on, and not only do I have an attic full of presents but I have to worry about duplicating my hostess' gift to me at some previous party.

"I discussed this with some close friends and told them how perfectly ridiculous I thought the custom was. I said I was going to write to you regarding it and that I for one would abide by your knowledge of the right thing to do. Will you please give me your opinion of this and how I can put an end to it?"

Answer: Tell your friends you have written to me and that I agree with you that the custom you describe is ridiculous. I hope that will help you to get them all to put an end to it.

The first railroad diner service was on the Pennsylvania Railroad in a baggage car in 1862. It served only oyster stew, doughnuts and coffee.

Mary Evelyn Grimm and Howard Leslie Rescoe were married Saturday in the First Baptist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Grimm and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hebert Rescoe.

MR. and MRS. HOWARD L. RESCOE

Mary E. Grimm Marries in First Baptist Ceremony

One-hundred and fifty guests witnessed the 7:30 p.m. wedding Saturday of Mary Evelyn Grimm to Howard Leslie Rescoe. The Rev. H. H. Savage performed the ceremony in the First Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Grimm of Willard street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rescoe of Richmond drive.

For her wedding the bride chose a white ballerina-length gown of nylon organza over satin and net. The fitted bodice was trimmed with Venice lace at the sweetheart neckline and the cap sleeves were accented with sequins and pearls. The gown was fashioned with a pleated panel skirt accented by Venice lace.

A silk illusion veil fell from a heart-shaped pillbox crown. The bride carried a bouquet of miniature red rosebuds and white feathered carnations on a white Bible.

Mrs. Richard Shea, a sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Vera Rescoe and Delores Lutzkiw. The matron of honor wore a ballerina-length pale pink nylon organza gown with scoop neckline and pleated panel accented with a bow in back. She wore a pink hat and carried aqua feathered carnations.

The bridesmaids wore ballerina-length gowns of aqua satin peau de soie. The gowns were fashioned with fitted waistlines, portrait necklines and full skirts. They wore aqua hats and carried pink feathered carnations.

Harold Rescoe, a brother of the bridegroom, served as the best man. Robert Kent and a brother of the bride, Daniel Grimm, seated the guests.

For a reception at K. of P. Hall Mrs. Grimm chose a dawn pink nylon and dacron shirtwaist dress with white accessories and a corsage of white feathered carnations. Mrs. Rescoe wore a nylon voile dress with pink accessories and a white feathered carnation corsage.

For Picnics—Frost Cake, Then Bake

Mrs. Anderson's Date Cocoa Loaf Has Sweet Nut Top

By JANET ODELL

Last week we featured Mrs. Kenneth Anderson as a homemaker who does an excellent job of feeding her family. Today we give you her recipe for a picnic cake. This requires no icing and is ideal to carry. The Anderson family rates it high on their list of favorites.

Mrs. Anderson does a good deal of church work. She belongs to a Home Extension group, an organization she finds both interesting and valuable.

Refinishing and caning chairs that are family heirlooms and making needlepoint for them is a favorite hobby. She likes also to collect copper.

Picnic Cake

By Mrs. Kenneth Anderson

1 cup dates, cut fine
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon soda
⅓ cup shortening
1 cup white sugar
2 eggs
1¾ cup sifted flour
1½ teaspoons cocoa
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cover dates with boiling water, add soda and set aside to cool. Cream together shortening, sugar and eggs. Sift flour, coca and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with the date mixture to the creamed mixture. Add vanilla. Pour into greased 9x13 pan. Sprinkle over top of batter:

½ cup chopped nutmeats
½ cup chocolate bits (more if desired)

Bake 30 minutes in 375-degree oven.

Hunt More Good Stories to Use Jimmy Cagney

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — It was as sure as death and taxes, after the successful preview of Jimmy Cagney's "Man of a Thousand Faces," that Universal-International would go on a hunt for more good stories for him.

The first move in that direction was made by producer Ross Hunter, who asked that "Bon Voyage," based on MaryJane and Joseph Hayes' current novel, be bought for Jimmy. Ross tells me the story calls for a luxury liner and is about an American family's first trip abroad.

However, before friend Jimmy makes this, he will star in a musical, "Never Steal Anything Small," which Maxwell Anderson and Rouben Mamoulian have collaborated on, for our Mr. Yankee Doodle Dandy.

Speaking of "Yankee Doodle," this is one of the best pictures the versatile Jimmy ever brought to the screen. Never was there a George M. Cohan as good.

The fame of Disneyland has spread to the four corners of the earth. Every visitor to our town puts down Disneyland as a "must." This unique amusement park has twice broken its own records in attendance.

Walt has kept his own watchful eye on this fabulous place, and in addition, he's buying stories right and left for the screen. His most recent purchase is "Banner in the Sky," by James Ramsey Ullman, a thrilling story of the climbing of the Matterborn.

Walt says he'll shoot it this coming winter in Switzerland with a whole raft of expert mountain climbers. Ullman is the author of "White Tower," which was another mountain climbing story filmed several years ago.

The socially prominent and very wealthy mother of "Bobo" Siquist, who disowned her daughter when she married decorator Gregg Jaurez, has forgiven all.

Bobo expects a baby the first of December and she will go to Nassau for the birth of her child. Her mother, who is in Juan Les Pines, will join Bobo there.

Gregg, who was formerly a press agent, has done very well as a decorator, and is now director of a new department installed by Barker Bros., with a staff of several noted British decorators.

Gregg and Bobo have bought the old John Barrymore house, more recently occupied by Joan Caulfield and Frank Ross.

Don Taylor did himself some good in Rio where he's making "The Amazon." Through his friendship with Marie Alicia Conteza, he was able to raise enough money to form a company to produce "Twilight in Rio," an original story by Jose Tello, a Brazilian author.

Don writes that he has joined the Rio Producers Association and that he will come home to sign some stars, then return to make his picture. He's aiming high. He wants Anthony Quinn and Carolyn Jones.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: U-I producer Sy Gomberg and pretty TV actress Maxine Cooper will tie the knot this coming weekend either at Las Vegas or Santa Barbara.

Pretty Erin O'Brien, as Irish as they come, will sing and dance two Yiddish numbers for her role in "Marjorie Morningstar" at Warners.

Yanks Fatten Up With 6 Runs in 10th

Detroit Rallies to Tie in 9th but Loses, 10-4

Paul Foytack Charged With Loss; Bunning to Pitch Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—The rich get richer and the poor—well, they try to figure out ways to get out of the second division.

The New York Yankees are threatening to make the American League pennant race into the runaway that most everybody predicted they would and the Detroit Tigers, victimized 10-4 by Yankee over-time power last night, are 13½ games behind the league leaders and only a step and a half out of sixth place.

A harried Jack Tighe, with 84 games behind him as rookie manager of the Tigers, reflected on his club's ups and downs and confessed "I'm at a point where I just don't know what to do."

The Tigers were fortunate to come as close to the American League leaders as they did and Tighe knew it. He said Yankee righthander Johnny Kuck's first eight innings of pitching "was the best performance I've seen all year."

The Tigers were able to send the contest into an extra inning due to the ineffectiveness of Yankee relief pitching and a squib base hit by Bill Tuttle that found a spot in short right field and drove in two important runs.

The defending world champions knew no such thing as ineffectiveness as the game wore past the three-hour mark. They rattled off five base hits—two off Paul Foytack who also yielded a walk, and three, including a three-run homer by Tommy Byrne, off Al Aber.

The five safeties and the walk produced six runs and the Yanks' fourth straight victory over the Tigers who gave the New Yorkers a peck of trouble in the season's early stages. Coupled with Chicago's loss to Baltimore, it put the Yanks four games ahead of the pack.

Neither Kucks, who went the first 8⅓ innings, nor his first two successors, sore-armed Bob Grim and Art Ditmar, could protect the Yankee lead. It was 4-0 going into the 7th when catcher Red Wilson doubled in a run, and 4-1 going into the 9th when the Bengals lashed out three straight singles to chase Kucks.

When the Tigers tied it in the 9th starter Frank Lary averted his 12th loss against four wins. Foytack absorbed the defeat, his 9th against the same number of triumphs. The two teams who drew 43,737 spectators meet again tonight with righthander Jim Bunning (11-2) working against the Yankees' Bob Turley (4-2).

TRICKY — This looks like a tricky balancing act of a tennis ball in Pancho Gonzales' head. Actually the ball is past him and Pancho goes back to return a lob hit by Ken Rosewall. Pancho beat the Aussie in the pro tournament at Forest Hills, 6-2, 8-6 and 6-4.

Ronnie Rothbarth, Pontiac's fine publinx golfer, who now lives in Clarkston, isn't certain he'll be making the trip to Hershey, Pa., after qualifying for the trip Monday in 36-holes at Birmingham and Plum Hollow.

"I wasn't even going to try to qualify," he said, but some of the guys at Fisher Body sent in my entry with the fee, and here I am. Now I've got to rearrange my vacation, otherwise no trip," he added.

PISTONS' BOSS OPENS DOORS

Fred Zollner, millionaire owner of the new Detroit Pistons pro basketball team, opens his doors at Olympia Stadium this afternoon to members of the press and radio.

On hand as guest was NBA president Maurice Podoloff, along with the Pistons' new general manager Fred Delano and publicist Fran Smith.

Part of the open house ceremony was to announce that WJR would be the official broadcast point for the Pistons' games this year. No announcer has been chosen as yet.

ABOUT ANNOUNCERS

One of the interested parties in doing play by play for the Pistons has been local announcer Gib Shanley.

Shanley carried an interesting style on Pontiac basketball for a couple of years, and the word is that he will be leaving Pontiac for a job in Toledo.

Successor appears to be Chuck Lewis.

FOREST LAKE DOES IT AGAIN

Forest Lake Country Club, which has in the past few years become the popular course for women's tournaments, appears to be pretty well set as being the site for the National Women's Amateur in 1958.

This incidentally is the big aim of youthful Birmingham starlet Sally Sharp now attempting to defend her state title at Orchard Lake. Sally has reiterated her past views on turning pro. "That kind of life is not for me," she said a year ago.

Sally is in the field of education at Michigan State and a crack at the National Amateur at her home course next year could put a finis to her competitive golf.

TOURNEY IN OFFING

Area publinx golfers are talking about staging a benefit best ball tournament in Pontiac, September 7th. None of the exact details have been made known as yet.

HOPE FOR A TENNIS CLUB

Several area tennis players have dropped a word or two about the possibility of starting a Pontiac Tennis Club, with the ultimate hope of getting a clubhouse site and adjacent courts.

Sally Sharpe Moves Up

Women's Title Field Halved

By H. GUY MOATS

All but one of the former champions, plus the defending queen, Sally Sharp, came through the opening round of match play in the Women's Michigan State Championships at Orchard Lake CC.

The lone defeat of a top-flight contender was handed Mrs. Harold (Rylma) Marquardt of Gowanie club. Rylma was turned back, 2-up by the veteran former champion Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit Golf Club. Miss Sharpe disposed of Knollwood's Mrs. Jane Israel and today starts the round-of-eight matches against Margaret Watkins, who defeated Mrs. B. G. Martell, Women's Metropolitan Golf Association entry.

Other first-round winners in the championship flight, yesterday were Mrs. Fonnie (E. O.) Reynolds of Lansing, a southpaw swinger, Mrs. Higbie (five times champion), Mrs. Susie (Keith) LeClair of Ann Arbor, Mrs. R. E. Babcock of Spring Lake CC; Mrs. Don Weiss of Flint (four times champion), and Mrs. Betty (C. U.) Wilson of Ann Arbor.

Observers were pointing to the LeClair-Wilson match as holding the best possibilities for a close, interesting and highlighted feature of today's action. The Higbie-Weiss match also had some interesting possibilities.

After today's round the field will be reduced to four. Along with Thursday's semifinals, a best-ball event will be played during the afternoon, and the finals, at 36 holes are set for Friday.

Championship flight players who were eliminated Tuesday will continue play in a consolation flight.

Today's top-flight matches began at 8:30 a.m. It was probable that par would stay at 76 as of Monday and Tuesday, No. 9 hole still had not dried out sufficiently for play. No. 18 (par 4) is played twice each round.

Tuesday's closest matches were the Reynolds-Helen Grinnell (1-up for Reynolds), the Higbie-Marquardt battle (3-1 for Mrs. Higbie), and Mrs. Don Weiss-Mrs. R. E. Michell (2-1 for Mrs. Weiss).

Mrs. Higbie allowed Rylma only two holes, and the Gowanie player didn't take another after the fifth. While the former five-time champion was playing fine golf all the way, Rylma ran into putting trouble.

Mrs. E. E. Leahy of Orchard Lake saw a 3-hole lead at the turn disappear on the back nine as she dropped her match, one-up to Mrs. Richard Babcock of Grand Haven.

12-Year-Old Too Young for Title Tourney

Little, but good, is the tag put on a young golfer who has had to remain on the sidelines while the Michigan Woman's Amateur title event rolls along at Orchard Lake.

There are several reasons why 12-year-old Lana K. Roberts isn't playing, although she had toured the Orchard Lake layout in the 80s several days ago.

No. 1 — She's not a Michigan resident, although she had entered from Three Rivers where she is staying for the summer with her grandmother. Her home is in Florida where she is rated very good.

No. 2 — She's too young for the event. Sixteen is the lowest age figure.

Now, says the youngster, she will try to get in the Women's Wolverine Open Tourney at Lochmoor, on July 25-28.

"She has a bright future in the game," said tourney official Mrs. Joseph Stapchinskas.

OH, HAPPY DAY — The Dodgers are on the loose again. Last night the Flatbush boys won their 5th straight with Carl Erskine (center) the winner. Duke Snider (left) and Gil Hodges each homered to beat the Cardinals, 7-5, and go up only one game from first place.

Full Slate for Softballers

Victories were scored by Select-A-Drink, Drive Inn Cleaners, CIO 653 and Franklin Products softball teams in the National League last night.

The CIO team gave Oxbow Pavillion seven runs in the first inning and then pecked away to score a 9-8 victory at Northside park. Oxbow got its last run in the bottom of the 7th but it wasn't enough.

Harrison led the CIO attack with three hits, and DeRouse got the victory.

The cleaners' team stopped Louie's, 6-3, with Fred Milliron and Don Dubats getting two hits each for the winners. Four runs in the 4th, highlighted by Milliron's triple with two aboard was the big blow.

Select - A - Drink outlasted Eddie's Bar 9-6 as four players each had two hits for the winners, Four singles by Bowers, Denison, O'Dell and Smith coupled with two errors, gave Select-A-Drink four runs in the first with Rondo the winning hurler.

The other softball clash saw Franklin Products romp over Lane's Drive Inn, 11-0, as Bob Tonto allowed only three hits.

Every Franklin player except Pat Treaster got a hit with Bob Langdon and Luther Gilmore each collecting a single and double.

Dierkes had two of Lane's three hits.

Phils Hold Slight NL Margin

Williams' Bat Sizzles for Red Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You have to figure thumpin' Ted Williams as the biggest boon to the aged since Bernarr MacFadden celebrated his 84th birthday with a parachute jump.

The Boston Red Sox slugger will be 39 next month, an old man in baseball, but the old gaffer is giving the kids a fit in the American League, wresting the home run lead from Mickey Mantle and closing within one point of the Mick in the batting battle.

Williams has hit 26 home runs and is batting .360. Mantle, the 25-year-old New York Yankee center fielder who last year became the first triple crown winner since Williams did it in 1947, has hit 24 home runs and is batting .361.

The thumper was at it again last night, belting his 26th homer in 90-degree heat—the stuff that's supposed to wilt old guys—at Kansas City to trigger a three-run ninth that beat the A's 4-3.

Mantle, complaining of feeling tired, was 0-for-3, but walked and scored the winning run in a 10-4, 10-inning victory at Detroit that padded the Yankees' lead to four games over Chicago. The White Sox were beaten 3-1 by Baltimore.

Cleveland made it five in a row with a 9-3 job on Washington.

In the National, Philadelphia held first place despite a 6-2 defeat by Milwaukee as Brooklyn beat second place St. Louis 7-5. Cincinnati lost 6-1 at New York, with Redleg slugger Frank Robinson suffering a concussion when beaned by Ruben Gomez.

Pittsburgh's Pirates took two from Chicago, winning 5-4 on Frank Thomas' home run in the completion of a June 16 suspended game, and then taking a regulation game 5-3 as Thomas rapped a two-run double in a three-run seventh after Bob Rush had one-hit them 'til then.

Williams, a four-time bat champ and Mantle have been at bat 40 times this month, but while Williams has hit at a .350 clip with 14 hits, Mantle has slumped along at .225 getting nine hits. Ted has really poured it on since last week's All-Star game, batting .625 in six games with 10 hits in 16 at bats, six homers and eight RBI.

He was 1-for-2 last night and put Virgil Trucks, who had an eighth-inning four hitter, on the ropes. A walk and Jackie Jensen's 12th homer followed to nail it. Ike Delock won it in relief, although tagged for Woody Held's second home run of the game in the ninth. Hec Lopez' hit streak ended at 22 games.

Loop Horseshoe Play to Start

Horseshoe season officially gets started in Pontiac Thursday night when the Parks & Recreation Department League begins play at Oakland Park.

All league matches, consisting of singles only, will be held Thursdays at Oakland. Three 25-point games will comprise a match. Any games rained out will be played off on Mondays.

Any person interested in joining can still do so. The deadline is Thursday. A $1 trophy fee will be charged each entry.

The league is set up on a round robin basis. Winners will be determined on total points at the end of the season. Three points are awarded for a win, while a loser can pick up one point by scoring at least 20 points in a game.

Official horseshoe rules will be followed.

Meet Shaw's at Wisner

Trout Stars Here Sunday

Dizzy Trout's Detroit Oldtimers will meet Shaw's Jewelers, leaders of Pontiac's Class A baseball league, in the feature game of a doubleheader on Amateur Day Sunday at Wisner Stadium, it was announced jointly today by the Pontiac Baseball Federation and the Parks & Recreation Department.

Trout's team will be loaded with major leaguers. He will likely be pitching with former White Sox star Mike Tresh handling the catching duties.

The feature contest will get underway at 3:30 following an opener between CIO Local 594 and an all-star team made up of the players on the other four league teams.

Funds from the twin-bill will be used to send this year's Class A champion to Battle Creek for the state tournament on Labor Day weekend. It will be the only day of the year admission is charged for local baseball.

Recreation officials estimate from $300 to $500 will be needed to send a Pontiac team to the state playoffs. Profits from admissions and a concession stand to be operated at the games and parking will go towards the trip.

Pontiac teams have a long record of success in state competition. John Abel's 1947 General Motors contingent went on to the national amateur championship, while several others won state honors and reached the national semi-finals.

Press, Coaches to Meet

'Football Kickoff' Planned

Members of Oakland County's press and radio clan along with the county high school football coaches will get together for a "football kickoff" session at the Detroit Lions' training camp at Cranbrook, August 20th.

The coaches and scribes will watch the afternoon sessions that day at Cranbrook, and then adjourn to the Pontiac Elks for a dinner and a get-together with several of the Lions' coaches as guests.

All the coaches and their staffs are being invited by mail to attend the football kickoff, and it will allow press and radio men to get a prospectus of all the county schools for the forthcoming football season, as well as watching the Lions work in their closed sessions.

Baltimore Veteran Challenges Medalist

OMAHA (AP)—Veteran Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore tossed a challenge today at medalist Barbara Romack Porter in the second round of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Glick, six times the Maryland champion and a former holder of the Cuban title, was rated a dangerous foe for the little Sacramento, Calif., blonde who never has gone beyond the second round in the Western.

4 State Golfers in PGA Field

DAYTON, Ohio, (AP)—Four Michigan Golfers are in the field of 30 teeing off today in the first round of 18-hole match play in the 39th annual PGA tournament at Miami Valley Golf Club here.

Jack Fleck of Rochester, Mich., faced Terl Johnson of Wilmington, Del., Walter Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Mich., met Toby Lyons of Jamestown, N. Y., Bill Nary of Wayne Mich. faced Jim Turnesa of Spring Valley N. Y., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., met Skee Riegel of Ithan, Pa.

Jack Burke, Jr., finding his injured wrist "O.K.," launches defense of his PGA title.

The Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., pro, a doubtful starter yesterday, was slated to tee off at 11:12 a.m. (EST) against home pro Gene Marchi in the 39th annual match play grind.

Burke played 18 holes yesterday over the 6,773-yard, par-71 course and said he felt much bitter after shooting "about two under par."

Best of the practice rounds was turned in by Art Jones of Baltimore, who fired a 35-31—66 which included eight birdies.

Burke and battle-hardened Veterans like Sam Snead, Mike Souchak and Doug Ford were afforded a slight edge in the field of 128 of Golfdom's mightiest stars but no one was considered a "shoo-in."

Skies were sunny and temperatures in the upper 80's as the gruelling, five-day competition opened.

One 18-hole match was to be played by all entries today over the rolling, well-trapped course, with two 18-hole rounds scheduled for Thursday and Friday for the survivors and 36-hole matches on tap for the semifinals and finals Saturday and Sunday.

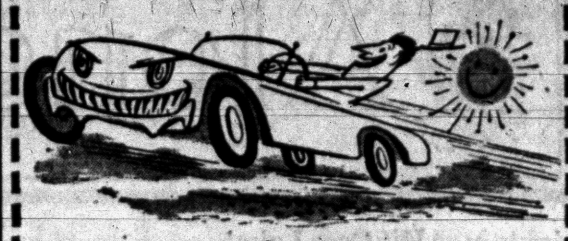

Being a match play tourney, one of the biggest challenges is rapid adjustment to different matches, with each round offering a "life or death" battle of its own. This makes the selection of a favorite virtually impossible.

Snead, who won the PGA crown three times—the last time in 1949—turned in a six-under par 65 Monday and a 70 in yesterday's practice round.

Only a handful of the "big name" golfers were scheduled for early matches today, as virtual unknowns dotted the opening day pairings.

Conspicuous by their absence in this year's tourney are Cary Middlecoff, Jimmy Demart, Ben Hogan, Gene Sarazen, the "old pro" who decided the long grind was too much for him at 55, and Lloyd Mangrum.

In a nearly full card of baseball action, last night, about everything in the book, including a tie contest between a pair of Class A City leaguers, was turned in.

Griff's chased in a single in the first, added two in the second frame to square Thomas Die & Stamping club's second inning collection. There the game stayed, going rest of the nine frames without a counter, in a fine pitching battle between Griff's DeWayne Sheffer, Jim Jones and Thomas' Jerry Sweat and Lynn Wright.

The Die hurlers gave up seven and Griff's two moundsmen were touched for one less. Game was called because of darkness and will be rescheduled later.

Three hits and several errors provided the three Thomas-counters. Two hits, including Harvie Caswell's triple, brought Griff's first run. Two more safeties, a balk, and base on balls figured in the 2nd inning pair.

Junior league arguments were marked by the 10-0 shutout by Boys Club over Little Eagles in the Midget (American) loop. Bill Crawford for the BC fanned 11. In another American setto Tigers won a 9-8 victory with a four-run last inning rally. Nicholie Realty took a 17-5 win from the National Orioles.

After trailing to the fourth, Pontiac Auto evened the count at 5-5 with their Class F opponents, Sheriff's Department, then scored the winning counters in the sixth for a 7-5 victory. Clarkston combined two big innings to dump Auburn BC 18-2 in another "F" game, while a Class E Clarkston nine handed Dick's Sales a 15-2 beating, with the 15 strikeouts by Bob Porritt the feature.

Redleg Beaned 8th Time, Goes to NY Hospital

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Robinson, Cincinnati's All-Star leftfielder who had the dubious honor of being hit by a pitched ball more times than any other National League batter last year, was in the hospital today recovering from being hit for the eighth time this season.

"There is no question in mind but that Robinson is thrown at," said Manager Birdie Tebbetts last night after his 21-year-old slugger was struck above the left ear by a Ruben Gomez fast ball in the eighth inning of the game with the New York Giants.

"I caught long enough to know the difference between a deliberate knockdown pitch and a brush back pitch." Robinson was hit 20 times last year.

Bolling Streak Intact

DETROIT (AP)—Second baseman Frank Bolling singled in his first trip to the plate in last night's contest between the Detroit Tigers and the New York Yankees and extended his hitting streak to 16 games. That's the high for the club and ties Ray Boone's 1956 mark.

Lightnings Hit Cass Lake!

PYC Host for Big 3-Day Regatta

By H. GUY MOATS

Michigan District Lightnings will "strike" Pontiac Yacht Club's Cass Lake headquarters last of the week for probably the biggest sailing event in years—at least in magitude of importance, for the Pontiac area.

Weather conditions permitting, and it is hoped that clear skies, brisk winds will be the situation, between 30 and 35 of the beautiful, speedy lightning class sailboats will test their "heels" in a three-day regatta. Two races are set for Friday over a six-mile, buoy-marked course on Cass Lake. Similar events are also scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, when the championship will be determined. Races start at 10-30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

This series also will determine the selection of five lightnings to represent the district in the Internationals to be sailed at Long Island in the fall.

There will be a new champion for the district this week. PYC's Mack Goodwin, who won the 1956 title at Bay View, is in Europe. However, there will be no want of capable contenders for the title.

Among them are Wes Wedrick of Bay View and Hank Cawthorn of Crescent Sailing Club. Hank is a former district and international champion (in 1953). Hern Nickels of Lake Fenton Yacht Club and his boat-building partner Clarence Holman are other tough competitors. This latter pair is credited with building most of the lightnings now sailing in the district.

The eight-boat PYC team is also rated right up with the top sailors for the regatta. They are the veterans Al Oberson, International official; Les Huntwork, former PYC champ.; Larry O'Dell, current fleet champion at PYC; Bob Flack, a relatively new skipper; Phil Klintworth, also a new skipper; Andy Roualet Jr., past fleet captain; Claude Bennett, old New England sailor and a tough competitor, and Al Gray, fleet champ and past commodore.

Boats are expected from Watkins Lake Yachting Association; Saginaw Bay Yacht Club (Bay City); Tawas Yacht Club; Devil's Lake Club; Gull Lake Club; South Haven Club; Ford Yacht Club (Dearborn); Lake Leelanau Club; Higgins Lake Club.

Regatta officials are:

PYC fleet captain and racing champion (Charles Chuck) Buck, with aides district commodore Warren Jones of Bay View and district secretary Lloyd Arnold of Higgins Lake. Jones will be chief judge, Buck chief starter. Commodore of PYC is Gene MacGracken of Birmingham. Ken Raymond and Bob Plew are co-chairmen for the event and Andy Roualet has charge of boats and berthing.

Solunar Tables

As an aid to selecting the best times for angling activity in the Pontiac area, fishing addicts in this section might consult the solunar tables at the end of this story. They were prepared especially for the area by noted outdoor authority John Alden Knight.

Major periods extend from the times mentioned for an hour and a half to two hours. Minor periods usually are shorter.

FISH GET SICK, TOO—Certain fish diseases often come to plague production of trout and warm-water fish at Michigan Conservation Department hatcheries. Here, Dr. L. N. Allison, stationed at Grayling hatchery, studies a few diseased fish in a laboratory tank. The studies continue throughout the year to provide healthier fish and a more efficient hatchery system for Michigan's angling public.

'Leave Camps Clean'

Timely Hints Offered Users of State Parks

ALL OUTDOORS (INS)—Michigan's camping season is in full swing and state conservation officials ask that you "leave your camp clean."

Debris such as tin cans, paper and bottles left behind mark you as a litterbug and poor camper. The fellow who leaves a clean camp sets an example for the next camper, even though the two never meet.

If you treat every camping area as if it were your property, which it is, Michigan would be a better place in which to live, work and play.

Here are some suggestions from the conservation department:

Put cans and other castoffs in one place. When you break camp, throw everything but glass in a fire. Carry the cans, after smashing them flat, to the main road. If this is not possible, bury the tins off main trails.

Smash bottles and jars into a deep, narrow hole. Fill it with earth, stamp down firmly and cover with leaves and brush.

Burying camp rubbish is an unsatisfactory practice. Wild animals have the habit of digging it out and scattering it. Also, soil is disturbed and grass is killed.

Don't pick wildflowers. Leave them for others to enjoy.

Be careful of fires. Never take a chance on starting a forest fire.

Michigan increased camping fees June 1 at state parks and recreation areas. All camping permits now cost 75 cents per day, plus 25 cents for electrical service, if used.

631 Acres Burned in Grassland, Woods

LANSING — Fourteen fires in Michigan burned 631 acres of state and private forests and grasslands during the last week.

Hardest hit was the northern lower peninsula, with 11 fires and damage to 623 acres. One fire, set off by a power line drop in Alcona county, burned almost 600 acres.

The latest fires hiked the damage total for the year to 4,905 acres.

Unpleasant Weather Hits Fishing in Canada

By JACK PATTERSON

After years of blaming our own local brand of foul weather on unwholesome air masses "moving down from Canada" we weren't too surprised to overhear in North Bay a couple days ago the remark that the generally unpleasant weather there was due to cold air masses "moving up from the States." So it would seem to be a matter of which side of the fence one is on.

Actually the area east of Georgian Bay has enjoyed an even less glorious early summer than we have here. We happened to be in the region the last few days on business other than fishing so didn't do any. There was no law against watching and listening though, and the fishermen's complaints sounded just like home. They had us beat on one count. We in Oakland County didn't get a show flurry on July 5th.

Lots of wind, plenty of rain and a good bit of plain cold weather have made the area rough for bass and walleye fishermen. Cool weather has extended the black fly season, too, and since we rank high on the list of delicacies where black flies are concerned, we found playing indoor games generally more rewarding than venturing astream or alake.

That old demon weather has kept the French River country from producing in the way that has made it famous throughout the land, although the fish are there for those who don't insist on Cat Cay weather.

Moving westward around the top of Lake Huron, bass fishing picks up. In our own "top of the lower" Great Lakes bass waters fishing is apt to be better than good.

In our trout country big Mayfly hatches are still a more or less nightly occurrance, in case anyone has ideas in that direction. Of more importance to the daytime trout fisherman than Mayflies, be they ever so plentiful, is the fact that grasshoppers are definitely now in season.

For some reason or other, perhaps because trout like them so much, grasshoppers are one live bait that even the purists don't frown on too much. Perhaps a "Michigan 'hopper" fly will work as well as the real thing — it certainly will work well enough for most purposes — but there is something about the sight of a live 'hopper, kicking and struggling in the current that fills the fisherman with confidence.

Surely no fish ever lived that could pass up such an offering. That's the way we feel about it anyway, even though we don't get a strike all afternoon.

The latest in the series of plastic nightcrawlers, ready-impaled on a worm gang outfishes the real McCoy, according to Ed Barrett who has been doing mean things to smallmouths up at Waugoshance Point the last few days. One nice thing, according to Ed is that only keepers fool with the imitation. Bait-stealers give it a wide berth.

Deadlocked for 1st

Mrs. Albert Bornak and Mrs. Earl Weber deadlocked for 1st place in low net and were also involved in a three-way tie for blind hole honors in the Silver Lake Women's League yesterday.

Both women had a low net of 31 and matched Mrs. Albert Looney for the par four No. 6 blind hole with fives.

Two Fishermen Land Big Trout

Air Force Captain Takes 3-Pounder From Oxbow Lake

Two fine rainbows and an unusually hefty "calico" were reported among the latest better-than-average catches on Oakland County waters.

Air Force captain Don Harper, 659 East Mansfield, home on leave with his wife and three youngsters, Chris, Niki and Tony, took a three-pounder on Oxbow Lake. A nightcrawler harness was the lure. It was his biggest trout. Capt. Harper is a career officer with 14 years service. With the AACS (Airways Communications Squadron) he's going to Thule, Greenland in August. He has been at Ellington Field, Tex.

J. J. Ashton, 4400 Cass-Elizabeth road took a 15-inch 'bow from Elizabeth Lake in front of his home. It was an unusually beautifully marked and colored fish, Ashton reported. His neighbor, Ted Ziehmer took a "mess" of nice bluegills, and one big perch. Ashton's fish became tangled in the boat's anchor rope and the fisherman had to haul up the anchor to retrieve his trout.

Biggest calico bass he ever caught was a 13-incher landed on Lake Oakland by Wallace Booze, 46 East Hopkins. Booze is an angler who likes night fishing.

Oregon New Fishing Hot Spot

Spin Rigs Big Aid in Sport's Boom

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At a season when some inland fishermen will boast of catches measured to the last fraction of an inch, West Coast anglers are doing business with lunkers where you can be casual about fractions of a foot.

And this is not limited to the quarter-million or so who take to the briny deep in the big fishing cruisers, although this is a pleasant time of year for them, too. Pickings on Pacific yellow tail and particularly on albacore off shore start looking up this time of year.

But it's the shore or just off-shore sports fisher that has grown up on the Oregon coast north of California in the past six or seven years that's drawing special attention, from visitors as well as natives.

The spinning system probably is responsible for most of the boom, although the "old methods" familiar to the East Coast still have some support.

But the boom has seen the stiff trolling rod, and that junior-grade utility pole known as the surf rod give way to limber spinning rods that can handle delicate baits right up under the nose of feeding salmon.

And what the change means in results can be read in such harvest report as the Umpqua River creel count a couple of seasons back when the sport started getting hot: 100 tons of salmon caught by more than 21,000 anglers during the summer season.

Salmon aren't the only prize, either. Oregon fisheries experts, as a matter of fact, are somewhat at a loss to describe just how good they've got it. The vast sports fishery there still is virtually untapped as far as volume is concerned.

SAVING THE BIG ONES—Conservation Department fish workers revive a largemouth bass netted during chemical treatment of a southern Michigan lake. The chemical treatment is designed to improve fish populations in overcrowded lakes by killing off excess panfish, allowing survivors to attain normal growth rates. When these "stunted fish lakes" are treated, many bass and other large gamefish are revived for replanting in the lake.

Busy Fall Schedule Ahead of Multi-Lakes

Five big events are scheduled for the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association archers for the summer and early fall. Club championship shoot is set for this weekend with 56 targets to be shot.

Annual Outdorama takes place Aug. 17-18. "Animal faces" club shoot is slated for Sept. 1; A similar event is set for Sept. 15 and the 28-target metropolitan shoot takes place Sept. 29. It is the only broadhead shoot in the area on that date say M-L officials.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Joey Giardello and Chico Vejar, who meet tonight in a nationally televised, scheduled 10-round fight, have one thing in common. They both need the win, and need it badly.

Giardello, currently ranked No. 3 among the middleweights, wants a shot at the championship. A loss tonight couuld imperil his chances.

Vejar could be through in the ring if he loses this one. He has lost two important fights this year.

The fight will be televised over ABC at 9 p.m. EST.

Big Eighth Inning Wins for Emmanuel

A big 8th inning of six runs gave Emmanuel Baptist a 7-1 victory over Drayton Drug in the Waterford Recreation League yesterday.

In another league game Weldon Thrifty nipped Gidley Electric, 5-4.

The big blow in the Emmanuel win was Daniel's triple with the bases loaded. Other runners reached base in the inning on an error, walk, passed ball, hit by pitcher, a single and a double.

Legion Playoff Tilt Tonight at Birmingham

Milford and Berkley Junior American Legion baseball clubs collide tonight at Birmingham to settle the 18th District first half of the season title. Winning team will go to the zone playoffs at Owosso.

The two squads wound up the first half schedule all even at nine wins and a single loss.

Hall of Fame catcher Gabby Hartnett caught 1,990 major league games and batted .298.

Pulver Leads Pontiac Team to Frisco Win

Away out in the Bay Area of San Francisco, Calif., former Pontiac Chiefs polo team player, Roy Pulver, is winning some matches with his Pontiacs. His latest victory was a 9-6 victory over the Golden Gates.

Pulver spearheaded the win, with four goals, to go along Lisle Nixon's five counters. Other members of Pulver's team were Tom Scobie at No. 1 and P. Hitchcock at No. 3. Pulver rode No. 4 and Nixon No. 2. The Pontiac team was a new arrival at San Francisco just prior to this contest last Sunday.

Big Pancho Has Little Trouble With 'Amateur' Pros

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—"I've always said the pros could beat the best amateurs in the world," said professional tennis champion Pancho Gonzales today, "but a lot of people laughed at me. I think we are proving it this week."

Big Pancho, who has temporarily put aside his money feud with promoter Jack Kramer, was referring to the going over he gave Ken Rosewall and Pancho Segura's victory over Tony Trabert in yesterday's matches in Kramer's Tournament of Champions.

A couple of years ago, Trabert was regarded as perhaps the top amateur in the world. Then he joined the pros and Gonzales slaughtered him in their world tour.

Last winter, it was Rosewall who turned pro right after the Davis Cup matches and he became Gonzales' sacrificial lamb.

And yesterday, just to make it emphatic, Gonzales whipped Rosewall, 6-0, 8-6, 6-4, while Segura outlasted Trabert 6-4, 7-5, 9-11, 4-6, 7-5.

"The pros go onto the court with more confidence," said Gonzales, who joined the pay-for-play troupe in 1949." If you have one big fault in your game, you'll lose on the pro circuit.

"Look at Rosewall and Trabert. It remains to be seen if they ever will become real top pros. But I'll tell you this. Rosewall doesn't have the power and Trabert is not fast enough.

"That's all they need — one flaw."

Gonzales even had an analysis for Segura, a pro since 1947. The bandy-legged little Ecuadorian didn't set the world on fire as an amateur, but he has held his own ever since as a pro.

"Well, for one thing, there's no denying the fact that there were a lot stronger amateur fields in Segura's day," admitted Gonzales. "But there isn't a player in the world who has a better forehand or volley. That's why he can take these fellows on the way he does."

The outspoken Gonzales obviously didn't think Trabert or Rosewall had earned their major "P" for pro yet.

As for Lew Hoad, Rosewall's Davis Cup partner, who signed with Kramer for a guaranteed $125,000 for two years, Gonzales said he was reserving his decision. "He sure seems like he's determined," said Big Pancho. "He may beat me, but I think I can lick him."

They play Sundway.

In today's matches, Trabert takes on Frank Sedgman and Segura meets Hoad.

Miniatures in Action

Model Cars Race Sunday

Annual summer races for model cars (miniatures) under auspices of the Pontiac Miniature Race Car Association will be held Sunday in the North Side skating rink Montcalm street. Public is invited to see these tiny, gas-powered miniature cars attain speeds close to 100 mph.

Racing begins at 10 a.m., continues to 4 or 5 p.m. H. S. Briggs, veteran PMRCA official and racer, says about 50 cars will take part. They will come from several states, Briggs says.

Only custom class cars will race here, including the .29 the .19 and small .09 classes. Event is nationally sanctioned.

In the recent Kokomo Ind. nationals Pontiac cars took top three places in the .29 class with the only speeds over 100 m.p.h. Pontiac cars also went 2-3-4-5 in the .19 and Briggs won the .09 class.

Phil Sauer will have three cars, Briggs several and he will also race Johnny Heitsch's .29 in sunday's meet.

NATO May Receive U.S. Atomic Arms

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is studying the possibility of providing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization with a stockpile of atomic weapons.

This is a possible answer, Dulles made clear at a news conference, to the objection of some European allies that a cut-off in atomic weapons production under a disarmament program would deny them such weapons permanently.

Britain and France especially have indicated such fears.

Dulles said he thinks it would be more proper to set up a NATO stockpile than to hand weapons over to individual countries.

Canada Seeks Trade With Other Countries

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Canada needs U.S. dollars to develop its vast resources and growing industries. It also likes and buys many U.S. products — more in fact than it sells us. It's less than entirely happy about either of these things.

The new regime in Canada—the Conservatives coming in after 20 years of Liberal rule—is reminding Washington that it plans to oppose some practices both by the U.S. government and by U.S. businessmen.

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker proposes to trade more with the British and less with us—about 600 million dollars a year less, in fact. He also squawks about our ways of selling farm surpluses abroad, which he says is unfair to Canadian farmers.

Since American investors have big stakes in Canada and are constantly adding to them, Secretary of State Dulles is going there in a couple of weeks to talk things over with the new boss men in Ottawa.

The squabble over farm surpluses grows out of Washington's attempt to squirm out from under the huge farm commodity stores by selling them abroad at the world price, which is considerably less than the U.S. government spent on them.

At first glance that would seem to hurt only the American taxpayer.

But Canada points out that Washington is selling its surplus wheat abroad for the currency of the purchasing nation. Canada sells its wheat only for the Canadian dollar—which is worth five cents more than the U.S. dollar.

Canada calls the U.S. practice a bargain basement tactic that is shutting Canadian wheat out of many foreign markets.

The trouble over trade between the U.S. and Canada is that we have been selling them well over one billion dollars more a year than we have been buying from them. And the deficit is growing. In the first five months of this year the gap was 670 million dollars.

The difference has been more than made up by American investors, who have bought Canadian securities and poured investment capital into our northern neighbor at so great a rate that the Canadian dollar is scarce in comparison with the Yankee dollar.

But the Conservative regime is happy about neither the trade gap nor the control that American corporations are getting over Canadian industries.

Americans, for example, control 70 per cent of Canada's gas and oil industry.

Canadians propose that U.S. corporations with Canadian subsidiaries admit Canadian investors to these firms, put more Canadians on the boards of directors and operate practically as Canadian concerns.

They aren't saying, "Yankee dollar go home." They just want to reduce the weight it throws around.

Work Underway on Biggest Dam

Feather River Barrier to Become Mighty Link in California Irrigation

WASHINGTON—Bulldozers have begun to gnaw at the banks of California's Feather River, clearing land for what is scheduled to be the world's biggest concrete dam.

When completed, 730-foot-high Oroville Dam will harness a stream that flooded disastrously in 1955. Its output of hydroelectric power will almost equal that of the Columbia River's Bonneville Dam. And it will become a mighty link in the irrigation system that turns the Golden State's Central Valley into a horn of plenty.

A green trough 500 miles long, Central Valley separates the Sierra Nevada from California's Coast Ranges, the National Geographic Society says. Nearly 60,000 farms and 2,000 factories thrive on its 12 million level acres.

Shasta Dam, massive keystone of the project, traps the Sacramento's northern headwaters. Canals slice across the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta where both rivers drain into San Francisco Bay. Pumps powered by Shasta's generators hoist Sacramento water into the San Joaquin basin.

Thus abundant northern water is funneled south, where it is needed. It replaces what the San Joaquin River system is constantly losing to irrigation. Concrete canals, one winding 153 miles, gurgle with diverted San Joaquin water. It ends up trickling through muddy ditches between citrus orchards, vineyards, and rows of California-size vegetables.

FLOW OF GREEN GOLD

By "moving the rains south," engineers have loosed a rich flow of green gold from the valley that yielded yellow nuggets in 1848. When the California gold rush subsided, many forty-niners discovered the good earth.

Cattle grazed on thousands of valley acres. Wheat filled the holds of square-rigged ships that ventured upriver, sometimes towed by hand. River shipping helped build Sacramento, the state capital.

Wheat Futures Prices Move Up

CHICAGO, (AP)—Buying by mills and commission houses pushed wheat futures prices upward another cent or more at times on the Board of Trade to-day.

There were reports of some flour sales, but they were said to be of family flour and not the big bakery business which traders have been expecting.

Other grains failed to display strength early, except nearby soybean contracts. July beans were up more than a cent at times on reports of export business.

Near the end of the first hour new style wheat was ⅛ to 1¼ cent higher, July $2.16⅝, corn was ½ higher to ⅛ lower, July 1.29⅛, oats were ¼ to ⅝ down, July 66⅞, Rye was ⅝ to 1 cent lower, July $1.33¾, soybeans were one cent higher to ¼ lower, July $.47¾, and lard was unchanged to two cents a hundred pounds higher, July $13.72.

Cash Dividend Omitted by New York Central

NEW YORK (AP) — Directors of the New York Central Railroad today omitted the usual quarterly cash divvidend and instead declared a dividend payable in common stock of the Reading Co.

In previous quarters the Central had paid 50 cents in cash. This time owners of Central common will receive one share of Reading common for each 25 shares of Central stock they hold. The dividend is payable Sept. 18 to holders of record Aug. 9.

Reading common closed yesterday on the New York Stock Exchange at $34 a share.

Two Stolen Benches Leave People Standing

WARRENTON, Ga. (AP) — It's standing room only today for Courthouse Square loungers in this east Georgia town because somebody stole two benches that were the favorite roosting places for folks with nothing to do.

A debate is on over whether the theft was the work of pranksters. Some feel, however, that the benches were removed in a careful plan to do away with "Courthouse Square farmers," noted for their endless talk.

Market Shows Lower Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was irregularly lower in moderately active early trading today.

Key stocks were generally lower by fractions, but there was a liberal scattering of small gainers.

The market was fairly active and mixed at the start, but a lower tendency made itself apparent very soon and extended in later dealings.

General Tire was one exception to the trend, rising around a point. United Aircraft was another one-point gainer. Revlon and Gulf Oil dropped about a point and Du Pont was off more than that.

Failure of the market to carry through its early advances of the past two sessions was disappointing to the bullish segment of Wall Street. Yesterday's decline after a initial rise was discouraging to them in view of the generous budget of good corporate news.

Atlantic Coast Line and Baltimore & Ohio lost major fractions.

Among losers were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Anaconda, American Cyanamid, Union Carbide and Standard Oil (New Jersey). Boeing was up a fraction. Raytheon improved slightly following the news it has developed a tiny instrument called the spacistor, heralded as an improvement over the transistor.

Big Rapids Manager Tells of Plan to Resign

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — City Manager George A. Granger has notified the Big Rapids City Commission of his plans to resign within 60 days in order to accept another position.

Granger declined to elaborate on the new post. He came to Big Rapids in 1947 from Grayling where he had been city manager 12 years.

Officials Invited to Visit Michigan

Army, Navy, Air Force Secretaries Asked to Attend Business Confab

WASHINGTON (AP) — The secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force were invited today to attend a Michigan business opportunities exhibit aimed at alleviating the state's unemployment problem.

The invitation came from Michigan's four first-year Republican House members, who are helping to sponsor the exhibit at Port Huron, Oct. 8-10. They are Reps. Broomfield, Chamberlain, Griffin and McIntosh.

The exhibit will be aimed at showing Michigan manufacturers how to obtain more defense department contracts with particular emphasis on small manufacturers who are eligible for subcontracts.

Michigan unemployment, the exodus of some industry from the state and failure to obtain some highly publicized defense contracts for Michigan has developed into a hot political issue. Republicans have blamed the situation on the policies of Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, and the Democrats have denied it.

However, an aide to Rep. Griffin said the Port Huron conference will be "strictly non-political."

"The purpose of the exhibit is with government needs and procedures so that Michigan can obtain a greater share of the 14 billion dollars spent each year for defense purchases," Rep. Broomfield said.

"Through this program, we hope to stop the flow of industry from the state and create new job opportunities in labor surplus areas . . ."

Many of the two million items bought by the defense department yearly will be displayed at the exhibit.

Find No Trace of Missing Plane

Air Force C47 Has 16 Aboard; Was Reported Down Near Taipei

TAIPEI (AP)—An intensive air, sea and ground search today failed to turn up any trace of a U.S. Air Force C47 missing with 16 persons aboard, all military personnel.

Radio contact with the plane was broken Tuesday night as it neared the end of a journey to Taipei from Clark Field, in the Philippines.

U. S. Air Force headquarters on Taipei said Wednesday afternoon —more than 20 hours after the plane vanished—there was nothing to substantiate Chinese police reports that it had crashed in the mountains between Taipei and the Formosa Strait.

The police earlier said they had heard an explosion and seen flames Tuesday night on Mt. Chiaopeng.

The missing C47 was attached to the U.S. air task force in Formosa. It was returning to Taipei on what headquarters said was a routine administrative support flight.

Kern's Department Store Sold in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Ernst Kern Co., one of Detroit's larger department stores, is under new ownership today.

Ernst P. Kern, general manager of the firm, said majority stock was bought yesterday by Sattler's, Inc., of Buffalo, N. Y. The stock was owned by Kern's father, Otto Kern.

Details of the sale were not disclosed.

Kern said his father, president of the company, wanted to be relieved of the responsibility of running the store.

Kern said he understood no major changes were planned in the operation of the 75-year-old department store, and said he believed it would retain its name.

Hormel Plans Branch

Geo. A. Hormel & Co., one of the nation's leading meat packers with headquarters in Austin, Minn., has announced it will establish a branch plant in Detroit early in August, utilizing the facilities of the Glendale Provision Company but remaining separate in operation from that meat packing firm.

Hot Summer Changes Staid Nation

England Goes Quite Balmy

LONDON (NEA) — Just let the temperature soar into the 90s, as it has here recently, and a sort of midsummer madness seizes this otherwise staid nation.

The hottest summer Britain has known in ten years is breaking down social barriers, melting the native reserve, revealing unexpected, almost Latin, traits in this fog-bound island people.

Perfectly sober Britons, overcome by the heat, break their silence in the underground tubes and buses, remark to strangers, "Isn't it a scorcher!" This is revolutionary.

In weather which sea lions at London Zoo find too hot for swimming, the Englishman is shedding his jacket for shirt-sleeves, leaving his bowler and brolly (umbrella) at home.

Ordinarily, nothing short of a major disaster would induce the Englishman to part with these symbols of respectability; but now, in a khaki bush shirt which is a relic of Indian Army days he is beginning to look quite human.

A few die-hards, however, intent upon proving that "mad dogs and Englishmen" can take it, stubbornly cling to their Yorkshire worsteds.

Of the same hardy breed are those who continue to frequent pubs and bars, despite the warm beer and despite the absence of even the most primitive air-conditioning. The majority of imbibers have fled to the sidewalks with their pints of stout and bitters.

Not unexpectedly, the heat wave has brought the Englishman's love for his dog to the fore.

DOGS BEAT DROWNINGS

Thus, the London Daily Express gives precedence to the two miniature poodles who died in 91 degrees of heat at the Windsor champion dog show over nine drownings which occurred the same weekend.

And horses. A suggestion that bonnets be provided for the mounts of the resplendent, red-tuniced Horseguards in Whitehall is contained in a letter from a woman reader of The Times.

Under the heading "animals," too, comes the suit brought by a 23-year-old mother against the tabloid Daily Sketch for alleging that she had posed nude in a lion's cage.

So far the "silly season" hasn't yet produced a saga equal to that of several years ago, when an Englishman, suffering heat srtoke, was taken ashore at Elsinore, Denmark, where the mercury registered over 100 degrees.

At the hospital to which he was removed attendants forcibly peeled from the reluctant Briton first a heavy winter overcoat, then a tweed suit, a pull-over, a flannel vest and a set of linsey-woolseys.

After a 24-hour rest, the Englishman, considerably refreshed, put on his vest, pull-over, tweeds and overcoat and continued his sightseeing in Denmark.

331 Near Collisions Reported by Pilots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pilots reported 331 near collisions between aircraft in the first three months of this year, the Civil Aeronautics Board says. In 71 of the near misses, the planes came within 100 feet of colliding. In 144 cases, they passed within 500 feet.

California had the most near crashes — 61. Florida and Texas had 26 each; Washington, 15; Illinois and Oklahoma, 14; Maryland, 13; Arizona, 11; and New Jersey and New Mexico, 10.

Aerial Audience Foils Unsuspecting Robbers

DENVER (AP)—It shouldn't take long, Denver police decided, to find the second of two men who robbed a drugstore.

The pair parked their car in an alley.

Watching their flight from vantage points, police said, were a tree trimmer and a telephone linemen. Both jotted down the car license and descriptions of the pair.

One man was taken into cusutody within a few hours.

Trucker Fined $40 for Reckless Driving

Truck driver Bert E. Overton, 38, of 61 W. End St., was found guilty of reckless driving in a Telegraph Road accident May 14 which injured a Wenonah drive couple.

Bakers Prexy Faces Lie Dare

Cross Hears Challenge From Witness, Lawyer to Pay Test Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) —Bakers Union President James G. Cross goes before Senate rackets probers today facing a dare to take a lie detector test.

Mrs. Nathan Ehrlich of the Bronx, N.Y., testified yesterday Cross once kicked her and slugged her husband. Cross denied her story.

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) announced he would ask Cross whether he is willing to take a lie detector test to see who is telling the truth.

Mrs. Ehrlich said Cross beat up her husband, president of the Bakers Union Local 51 in New York City, and kicked her when she went to her husband's aid. She said the incident happened in a hotel room in San Francisco just before the union's international convention there last October. Ehrlich was opposing Cross' re-election as union president.

When Cross denied even entering the Ehrlich hotel room, the woman and her New York lawyer Max Goldstone promptly challenged Cross to a lie detector test. They offered to pay the bill for a truth check for her, Cross and anyone else who might shed light on what really happened.

McClellan said, "It's just that simple — one of you is telling a falsehood. . .one of you is committing perjury." Cross declined to discuss Mrs. Ehrlich's dare with reporters yesterday.

Canadian Dollar Moves to New High

NEW YORK (AP) — The Canadian dollar moved up to another new high since November, 1933, yesterday.

At $1.05 3-16 in terms of U.S. currency the Canadian dollar was up 7-64 of a cent from Monday. In November, 1933, the Canadian dollar was worth $1.05 5-8 in U.S. money.

Investment by U. S. companies in Canadian industry has contributed to the rise in the Canadian dollar. An immediate factor is the presence of a 25 million dollars city of Montreal debenture issue on the market.

U. S. dollars paid by investors for these debentures must be converted into Canadian currency before the funds can be used in Canada. The resulting demand pushes up the price of the Canadian dollar.

In Re: Legal Assistance

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas construction drawings are nearing completion for the first unit of the new county building, and

Whereas it is desirable to take construction bids as soon as such plans are available, and

Whereas legal action has been instituted against Oakland County which questions the methods of financing such construction as contemplated by the Board of Supervisors, and

Whereas it is deemed to be in the best interest of the citizens and taxpayers of Oakland County to proceed with our needed improvements on a "pay as you go" basis, and

Whereas an unfavorable decision to the County as a result of the legal action taken would result in the County being forced to construct the needed facilities through an Authority by the issuance of Revenue Bonds which would increase the total cost of the project through interest payments by approximately 4½ million dollars, and

Whereas the questions raised in the suit against the County are, in the main, ones dealing with financing and the handling of funds, and

Whereas the Special County Building Committee, with the concurrence of the Corporation Counsel, feels that no stone should be left unturned to insure a successful conclusion to the litigation, and

Now therefore be it resolved that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors hereby authorizes the Ways and Means Committee to retain Mr. Claude Stevens as counsel to assist the Corporation Counsel's office in the trial of this litigation, and

Be it further resolved that Mr. Stevens be authorized to enter an appearance in this case on behalf of Oakland County.

At a joint meeting of the Ways and Means and Buildings and Grounds Committees held April 12, 1957, the matter of the purchase of the following described property was discussed and it was the unanimous opinion of the members of the joint committees that said property should be purchased to provide additional facilities for the emergency juvenile housing program as recommended by Dr. Louis Friedland, consultant, and presented to the Board on March 8, 1957, by the Ways and Means, Buildings and Grounds, Welfare and Juvenile Affairs Committees.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas Edmund H. Waterhouse of Huntington Woods did capably serve Oakland County for sixteen years prior to October 1, 1955 as County Supervisor, and

Whereas he was well-known among his friends and associates by the characterization well expressed by the Daily Tribune in its account of his death, as "a blunt, forthright man", and

Whereas during his service on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, he was given many responsible assignments, of which possibly one of the most difficult was his service on the committee which recommended certain important organizational changes in the operation of county government, some of which were adopted and have proven very satisfactory; among the more important regular committees on which he served were the Juvenile Affairs Committee, the Salaries Committee, of which he was Chairman, and the By-Laws and Welfare Committees. As a member of the Board, Mr. Waterhouse was never a "Yes" man but courageously voted his convictions. Consequently, his opinions were received by his associates with respect whether or not they agreed with him.

Both as a city official and as a private citizen, he was universally regarded as a man of high integrity and rugged honesty. As a friend, he was sincere and loyal. As a neighbor, he was considerate and friendly. As a family man, he was devoted and dutiful. He was well respected by all who knew him best.

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Boundaries Committee respectfully reports as follows:

On March 1, 1957, certain qualified electors and freeholders residing within the Township of Bloomfield filed with the County Clerk petitions to incorporate certain lands in Bloomfield Township as a village.

Your Committee has examined the petitions and approved the same as to form and substance and recommends that the question of incorporation of said lands be submitted to the electors affected at a Special Election to be held on June 24, 1957.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Boundaries Committee, I move:

1. That this Board, by the adoption of this resolution, approve the form and sufficiency of the petitions above mentioned.

2. That the County Clerk be directed to take the necessary steps pursuant to the provisions of Act 278 of the Michigan Public Acts of 1909 as amended, to submit the question of incorporating the following lands as the Village of Westchester, to-wit:

The following Subdivisions located in the Township of Bloomfield, Oakland County, Michigan:

Westchester Village, the plat of which is recorded with the Oakland County Register of Deeds at Liber 75, pages 20-21.

Westchester Village Number 1, the plat of which is recorded with the Oakland County Register of Deeds at Liber 82, pages 6, 7 and 8.

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The County of Oakland acquired title to:

Lot 775 and Lot 776, Ward's Orchards, a subdivision of part of the north half of Section 6, Town 2 North, Range 10 East, Township of Bloomfield, Oakland County, Michigan, according to the plat thereof as recorded in Liber 23 on page 24 of Plats, Oakland County Records by quit claim deed and land contract assignment from Anna Matthew on December 5, 1956, in payment for hospitalization.

Said real estate had been previously sold on land contract by Anna Matthew to Edmund H. Blakeman and Gladys V. Blakeman, his wife, of 1155 Fairfax Road, Pontiac, Michigan, by contract dated March 29, 1956.

The said purchasers have now fully paid the County the balance due under the terms of said contract and are entitled to a conveyance of the legal title to the property above described.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, I move that the Corporation Counsel be authorized to prepare the necessary deed to convey legal title to said lots to Edmund H. Blakeman and Gladys V. Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas an easement for the construction and maintenance of the Twelve Towns Relief Drains was secured on July 17, 1956 from Gordon and Winifred Jean Peterson through Lot 42 of the Eyester and Howarth Clawson Plat No. 2, City of Clawson, and

Whereas the Lot 42 of Eyester and Howarth Clawson Plat No. 2, City of Clawson was in fact sold by the Petersons prior to July 17, 1956 to the Geneva Builders, Inc., and

Whereas the Geneva Builders desire to use a portion of the property for utility easement purposes, and

Whereas because of the proposed rerouting of the Twelve Towns Relief Drains into the City of Troy, it is improbable that the Twelve Towns Relief Drains will use any portion of the easement, and

Whereas if it appears it will be necessary for the Twelve Towns Relief Drains to use a portion of said property, the use of a portion by Geneva Builders, Inc. will not interfere with the Twelve Towns Relief Drains structures in the easement, and

Whereas Geneva Builders, Inc. have agreed upon release of the easement by the County of Oakland to Geneva Builders, Geneva Builders, Inc. will execute a new easement to the County of Oakland for the purpose of construction and maintenance of the Twelve Towns Relief Drains through said property;

Now therefore be it resolved that the Oakland County Drain Commissioner be and is hereby authorized to execute a release of right-of-way to the Geneva Builders, Inc. of the following described property.

Fifty-eight requests were granted to examine and weigh vehicles to determine legal loads allowed on County Roads.

Twelve special moves of extra large equipment were escorted by this department where normal permits might impair the flow of normal traffic.

At different times throughout the year and at different locations, numerous vehicles were examined to inspect safety equipment and safety devises. Twenty-three accidents were investigated at the Prosecuting Attorney's request to examine said vehicles and determine if defective equipment might have caused the accident. Four fines and one jail sentence resulted from such investigations.

Numerous complaints were investigated at the request of the State Highway Department and Michigan State Police concerning illegal vending on county and state road right of ways, the majority of these were on weekends and holidays.

There were 6,784 special permits issued covering the moving of extra large equipment on County Roads.

By Mr. MacDonald
In Re: Speed Limit Surveys
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the April 9, 1957 meeting of the Board, a request for speed limits on Avon Road was presented by Supervisor Cyril Miller and referred to your Roads and Bridges Committee.

Your Committee met on April 19th and again on April 24th to review the requests of the Avon Township Board for speed control signs on this road and the activities of the Oakland County Road Commission with reference to this request.

After the request was made to the Road Commission for the speed limits to be established, a joint survey, as required by state law, was ordered. However, according to a report filed with your Committee by the Traffic Engineer of the Oakland County Road Commission, there are only two officers of the Michigan State Police Safety and Traffic Bureau who are available to go out with the County Traffic Engineer, and they are not able to make these surveys as promptly as desired. There does not appear to be any responsibility on the part of the Road Commission for delay in having these surveys made.

The State Law covering the erection of traffic signs along the highways is found in the Michigan Vehicle Code, Revision of 1955, in Section 609 (b) which states: "No local authority shall place or maintain any traffic control device upon any trunkline highway under the jurisdiction of the state highway commission except by the latter's permission or upon any county road without the permission of the county road commission having jurisdiction thereof."

Legal speed control signs were erected on Avon Road by the Road Commission on April 19, 1957.

Your Committee recommends that a study be made as to possible changes in the state law to facilitate the making of traffic surveys in the County.

Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move that the matter of possible changes in the State Law relating to the conduct of traffic surveys be referred to the Legislative and Roads and Bridges Committees for further study and report.

In Re: Service Center Court House
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I understood that this was a special meeting and no business other than that for which the meeting was called could be transacted. However, since this is an adjoured meeting, I request your indulgence for a sufficient time to permit me to read a report on the status of the Court House situation and sufficient time for you to express your reaffirmation of the position of the Board in the past, as expressed in this report.

Tomorow, at 8:30 a.m., in this room, trial will start on the suit brought by the Oakland County Taxpayers League against this Board and the Board of Auditors, the object of which is to prevent moving the Court House facilities from the present site to the Service Center.

Since this Board determined to build the new Court House facility at the Service Center on Telegraph Road several years have elapsed and opponents to the move have brought up the following arguments, viz:

1. Lack of transportation.
2. Adverse effects to the businessmen on Saginaw Street in Pontiac.
3. Marketability of title of the Court House property.
4. Remoteness of the new site from the jail.
5. No other County seat has a Court House so far from the center of the City in which the County seat is located.
6. It has been intimated in several articles appearing in the press that the Board of Supervisors has overlooked some of the above mentioned factors in determining to place the new Court House facility on Telegraph Road.

There has been a considerably amount of publicity relative to moving the Court House and there are also quite a number of new faces on this Board. In order that these new board members may be acquainted with the background, may I again remind all of you of the following facts:

1. Since 1945, the Service Center has been definitely in the plans of the Board of Supervisors as the logical place to center all of the administrative functions of the County, primarily because of the ready access, room for present needs and room for expansion not only in the foreseeable future but beyond that. Additional lands were acquired in the intervening years to make the Master Plan possible. We now have 330 acres at the Service Center.

2. In the meantime, a County Planning Commission has been appointed pursuant to the law and this Commission has worked in close conjunction with the Board in its studies.

3. Since May of 1952, a Special Court House Committee has had under constant study the matter of new Court House facilities and, based on their recommendations, this Board, by resolution, definitely determined that the Court House should be built on the Service Center property. The choice of this site was not an impromptu matter but after mature consideration to all the factors involved:

1. Transportation was considered.
2. Parking facilities and accessibility.
3. Marketability of title to the present Court House property.
4. Difference in construction cost of the skyscraper type of building as compared with the lower type where plenty of land is available.
5. Remoteness of the site from the jail.
6. The fact that it is rather novel to place the Court House on the outskirts of the city rather than in the center.

However, it was the concensus of opinion of this Committee and the Board of Supervisors that the accessibility, with the unlimited parking space available, reduced expense of construction, and avoidance of the traffic congestion in the center of the City of Pontiac, were most persuasive. In addition, the heating facilities already existed, as previously planned. The arguments far more than offset any arguments which could be brought against the move.

Other arguments considered were the fact that the sale of the County-owned property in downtown Pontiac would result in its being placed on the tax roll and with such business as was located on the sites, any direct effect on the downtown Pontiac business would be offset to the point where it would be negligible.

The Corporation Counsel filed a formal opinion on the marketability of the Court House property, determined that the County can convey marketable title, and one of the title guaranty companies has expressed its willingness to insure title to the extent requested, viz: a half million dollars.

When the opponents say that mature consideration has not been given it is obvious that they are not familiar with the background of facts which influenced the decision of the Board.

Mr. Chairman, I believe it would be entirely in order that this Board reaffirm its decision to place the new Court House facility on the Service Center at Telegraph Road where, speaking generally, and having in mind all of the arguments pro and con, it is felt that the best interests of all of the people of the County will be served.

Wherefore be it resolved that this Board again, informally, go on record as favoring the location of the new County facility on the Service Center on Telegraph Road, and

Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of the resolution with its explanatory preface and urge that the Press give it as much publicity as possible.

Scholarship Sends Parents With Prodigy

Turks Use Unique Award to Develop Youthful Talent

PARIS (INS) — Turkey is giving out unique premiums to parents with bright children.

Boys and girls with unusual artistic ability are now granted foreign study scholarships that allow them to take their parents along at taxpayers' expense.

In effect, the Turkish Government says:

"If you want to see the world, get married and have child prodigies."

The first group of two Turkish boys and one girl benefiting from a generous law enacted in 1956 have just arrived in Paris to pursue their studies under French masters.

The girl is 12-year-old Verda Erman, pianist daughter of Ihami Erman, an inspector of the International Sleeping Car Company.

The two boys are: Hasan Kaptan, 14, an abstract painter, who has already had his work exhibited in New York, Paris, Istanbul and Ankara; and Ates Pars, also 14, a pianist and composer.

All three are accompanied by their parents.

The three gifted children were chosen by a 15-member Turkish governmental board after being nominated for the scholarships. Under the terms of the new law, no limit is set as to the length of their study.

The Turkish government grants each selected child and both their parents a monthly living allowance of 48,000 francs (about $137) in addition to their schooling fees.

Politics Charged in Union Probe

Reuther Says Senators Pushed Investigation of United Auto Workers

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther says the Senate Rackets Committee's decision to investigate the political activities and boycotts of the United Auto Workers Union "is politically inspired."

But, he said in a statement issued yesterday, the giant UAW will co-operate with the Committee because it "has nothing to hide."

Political pressure "from certain Republican senators, hostile to the labor movement," caused the Committee to turn its sights on the UAW, Reuther said.

He named these senators as Mundt (R-SD), Curtis (R-Neb) and Goldwater (R-Ariz).

They have "taken up where the late Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) left off," Reuther said, and are nursing a "forlorn hope" that the UAW can be smeared."

He said these senators "fear that the overwhelming section of the labor movement which is clean and free of corruption, including the UAW, could not be smeared by an investigation into racketeering and other unethical or illegal practices."

So, he said, they have turned the investigation to a study of the UAW political education program and three-year nationwide boycott of Kohler Co., a plumbingware firm of Sheboygan, Wis., that is being struck by the UAW.

Hillbilly Music Assumes New Nationwide Importance

CBS Appraises Country Tunes

Sleuth Discovers That Rural Artists Compose Their Own Material

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The definition of a hillbilly vocalist used to be somebody who sings through his nose by ear for money. But today things are different.

There are so many country music compositions regularly entrenched in the national "Top Ten" lists of radio, jukeboxes and home recordings. From country music beginnings so many people have soared to great heights — Elvis Presley, Pat Boone, Tommy Sands, Rusty Draper, Tennessee Ernie, Eddy Arnold, Jimmy Dean.

The phenomenon of country music is of special interest to the CBS Radio network because it plays host to the "Country Music Show" on Friday evenings.

It sent a sleuth down to the Blue Ridge country of Virginia to try to learn just what country music is. He found that:

Country music is commercially as durable as steel because it draws its vitality directly from the farmer, factory hand and small merchant.

The hillbilly performer doesn't depend on a professional songwriter for his material. He composes his own, even though he can't read or write a note of music. Of the 14 artists traveling hither and yon with the show, only one has not composed any songs and only one other has composed as few as 10. The rest have created anywhere from fiddler Dale Potter's 25 to singing star Carl Smith's 300. Here's how a country artist composes:

He thinks through the words first, then picks out the music on his guitar or fiddle, and finally performs it for his tape recorder or on a disk. He jots down the words on paper to help him remember the tune.

The creators of country songs will go on composing them in their present style simply because their audiences demand them.

California Boy Dies in Underwater Game

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — Corky Rhodes, 12, joined in a game of walking underwater at the Vallejo Plunge yesterday and lost his life.

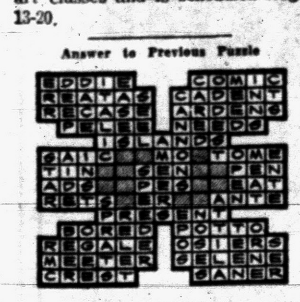

Corky, of San Leandro, Calif., followed his friend Thomas Roy Liscum, 12, of Vallejo, in walking on the bottom at the swimming pool's deep end.

Tom surfaced, missed Corky and called lifeguards. Corky was pulled from the pool after being underwater a matter of minutes.

2 Art Exhibits Slated

PETOSKEY (AP) — The Bay View College of Liberal Arts has announced its sponsorship of two art exhibitions this summer. The first, for Petoskey area artists is scheduled July 23-29. The second includes works done in Bay View art classes and is scheduled Aug. 13-20.

Parade of Hits Coming to City

'Bernardine' Starts; Hollywood Releasing Finest Films for Area

Butterfield Theaters throughout the state are staging a "Summertime Hit Parade" which promises unusual entertainment for the Pontiac area during July and August.

Some of the finest films ever produced in Hollywood have been booked for local showing, says Arthur Sanford, Pontiac theater manager.

Leading off the parade is "Bernardine," opening Thursday at the Oakland. Stars are Pat Boone, Terry Moore, Janet Gaynor and Dean Jagger.

Important pictures coming soon to local screens include:

"The Sweet Smell of Success" a powerful drama with Burt Lancaster, Tony Curtis and Susan Harrison and "An Affair to Remember," love story starring Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr.

"Night Passage," top-drawer Western in Technicolor with James Stewart, Audie Murphy and Dan Duryea, and "A Hatful of Rain," drama based on the long-running Broadway hit with the original stage cast, including Eva Marie Saint, Don Murray and Lloyd Nolan.

Also "The Pride and the Passion," Stanley Kramer's likely candidate for boxoffice king of the year, headed by Cary Grant, Frank Sinatra and Sophia Loren.

Many others, such as "Love in the Afternoon," "Fire Down Below," "The Prince and the Showgirl," "Beau James," "Jeanne Eagels," "The Sun Also Rises," "Silk Stockings," "Tammy and the Bachelor," and Walt Disney's "Johnny Tremain" are expected to command wide public attention.

Building Rise Continues

OTTAWA — Government estimates indicate total new construction in Canada during 1957 will reach 6.7 billion dollars, about 5 per cent more than in 1956. The expected rise, contrasting with a gain of 20 per cent in 1956, is largely credited to a slowing down in residential building, which is estimated at 15 per cent below 1956.

Dialogue of Celebrities Drowns Out Drinks

By EARL WILSON

LAS VEGAS—The wife and I take a trip down the strip here each night in this wondrous "Land of mink and money" but always return about 3 a. m. to "The Round Table," presided over by the gracious boss, Beldon Katelman. Sometimes a guy can hardly hear himself drink due to the dialogue of show biz celebrities.

"Eddie Fisher's trying to get Eddie Cantor to produce his TV show," a friend tells me. Cantor discovered Fisher—it would be perfect.

"Wasn't Jack Benny's closing night party something?" asks somebody else. It lasted till 5 a. m.

Jack'll probably repeat his engagement. I love his opening line to audiences: "My God, he looks so much younger on television.

"Mary's mother was supposed to be here. You've seen her in the movies anyway," he says, "under the name of William Bendix."

The Ray Bolgers are celebrating their 25th anniversary while he plays here. He calls this "a mink hole in the desert" and uses an airplane gimmick with stewardesses saying, "We are now landing in Las Vegas—please fasten money belts."

Sophie Tucker slides down at the Round Table and bawls me out for printing she had a blood clot.

"It's just hardening of the arteries," she says. Sophie's act is her greatest yet and she's turning 'em away. You can't stop in this business or you're through," she says.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Gary Cooper got a Lincoln for appearing on the Ed Sullivan show (plus a chance to boost his film, "Love in the Afternoon") . . . . Elvis Presley's manager, Col. Tom Parker, delivered Elvis' flowers to Judy Tyler's funeral . . . Marie McDonald, who's back with exhusband Harry Karl, will fly to French Morocco this weekend to do TV with Bob Hope . . . Rita Dimitri, the Viennese Lantern singer, is up for a role in Jack Carter's B'way show.

Little Richard, the rock 'n' roll star, has switched—he now preaches that r. 'n' r. is sinful . . . Tennis star Althea Gibson has turned down $500,000 worth of offers to turn pro.

EARL'S PEARLS: You only have to mumble a few words in church to get married, and a few words in your sleep to get divorced.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Forty is the most difficult age for a woman to pass. Sometimes it takes her ten years."

Money Fear Brings Voiding of Stamps

NEW YORK — The first stamps ever issued by the United States, put out under authority of a March 3, 1847 law, went on sale in New York City July 1, 1847. They were a 5-center with a portrait of Benjamin Franklin and a 10-center with a likeness of George Washington.

These stamps, together with the 10 stamps of an 1851 issue, were voided by Congress in 1861, apparently for fear Confederate sources would turn supplies of them into money. Thus they are worthless for postal purposes.

This was the only time such action was ever taken in this country. Any other U. S. postage stamps may be used for postage, regardless of age.

Television Set Called 'Deadly'

Unit That Killed Boy Gives Off Sufficient Current to Light Bulb

CHICAGO (AP)—A portable television set involved in the electrocution of a 6-year-old boy has been termed deadly by an authority on electricity.

Dr. Eric T. Gross, professor of electrical engineering at the Illinois Institute of Technology, yesterday made some tests of the set and said: "At this time there is certainly enough electricity coming from the top plate of the set to kill someone."

Walter McCarron, Cook County coroner, ordered the tests by Gross and other experts prior to the convening of a jury in two weeks to probe the circumstances of the electrocution of Howard Erenstein Jr.

Young Erenstein was killed by an electrical shock Sunday as he brushed against an aluminum cart on which the set had been resting in the Erenstein home. The family was watching TV in the kitchen of their home in suburban Skokie.

In the tests a light bulb was connected with the top of the TV set. Voltage from the set lit the bulb with a bright glow.

Another set identical to the one touched by the boy also was tested with a light socket. It failed to light the bulb.

Queries Stump U. of M. Experts in Geography

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Queries by the dozen float into the University of Michigan's geography department and often the professors are forced to admit they're stumped.

For instance, says Prof. Charles M. Davis, the department head, someone once asked: "Where is the geographical center of Michigan's thumb?"

The Thumb is the land mass that juts into Lake Huron between Port Huron and Bay City. Davis says it just has no geographical center and asks in return: "Can you locate the center of your own thumb?

"Trying to locate the geographical center of the Thumb is like attempting to describe the geographical limits of the Midwest," he says. "You just can't do it."

Often during World War II, anxious parents asked the professors to pinpoint the datelines in letters from their serviceman sons. One father asked: "Please locate San Sorigne — that's where he wrote from."

The professors checked and admitted they had been stumped. Then they dug some more and solved the puzzle of San Sorigne. They used poetic license and changed it first to Sans Origne." Translated from the French, it meant "origin unknown," which was in keeping with wartime regulations forbidding troops to reveal their whereabouts.

Recently, the geography department has been deluged with the question:

"What are the seven natural wonders of Michigan?"

"The answer to that one is easy," says Davis. "There aren't just seven wonders, but several. After all, isn't Michigan the 'Water Wonderland?' "

Told Milk Still Normal From Radioactive Hay

DURANT, Okla. (AP)—Farmers were assured yesterday their cows would not give atomic-tainted milk.

A Durant man examining rock formations with a Geiger counter reported the instrument became active when he neared hay in barns. Fear was expressed that fallout from atomic tests in Nevada had affected the fodder.

Dr. Seals L. Whitely, Bryan County health officer, said an engineer checked the hay. He reported it had a "mild concentration" of radioactivity but that it was "no more than we think is normal..."

Limited Dispersion of Funds Rejected

WASHINGTON (AP)—A suggestion that federal pollution control funds go only to districts whose congressmen voted for the money could "easily become a blackjack," says Rep. McIntosh (R-Mich).

The proposal was put before Rep. McIntosh in a letter from the Democratic-controlled Michigan Water Resources Commission.

McIntosh said such a plan would be "based on political considerations" and "could easily become a blackjack" to be used against opponents of federal aid to the states.

Under such a plan, districts represented by the eight Michigan Republicans who opposed the appropriation would receive none of the money. McIntosh is not one of the eight.

"I cannot believe that the Commission would seriously consider any such basis for allocation of federal aid funds," he said. The state should allot the money "on the basis of urgency and need," he said.

Michigan congressmen who voted against the appropriation were Reps. Bentley, Broomfield, Cederberg, Chamberlain, Ford, Hoffman, Johansen and Meader, all Republicans.

Nephritis Death Rate Curbed?

Two Specialists Find Treatments Which May Cut Fatalities

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Two specialists at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia have announced a treatment th[at] hope will cut the mortality [ra]te of nephritis among youngsters from 50 to 20 per cent.

Reduction of deaths from the kidney disease in children, "is now possible through the use of steroid hormones, chemicals from the small glands atop the kidneys," they said.

The specialists, Drs. Milton Rapoport and Wallace W. McCrory, said another important discovery under the technique was that doctors could determine early in the course of treatment whether the patient would recover or would die.

About 6,000 to 8,000 children are believed to be suffering from the disease in the U.S. The highest incidence is in the age group around two years.

The doctors reported that adrenal steroid hormones were introduced in the treatment in 1949. Studies showed that the treatment provided relief from body swelling, but not permanent effect was apparent in the first few years since the mortality rate remained unchanged at 50 per cent.

The doctors then modified the treatment and included the use of steroid drugs and cortisone, suited to individual needs.

The report noted that in a group of 30 children treated by the newly evolved, individually adapted technique, the mortality rate three years after the onset of the disease dropped to 20 per cent instead of the expected rate of 50 per cent.

Hungary Court Cuts Sentences

Seven Escape Death for Helping in Revolt; Seven Others Will Die

By CARL HARTMAN

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist Hungary's "People's Supreme Court" today reduced death sentences to prison terms for seven persons convicted of helping to hang Communist policemen from a Soviet war memorial during the anti-Russian revolt last fall.

Death sentences for seven other defendants were confirmed.

Sobs went up from the 200 spectators and a woman cried out something unintelligible about "justice" as the decision was read. The defendants were surrounded by 20 police, their tommyguns at the ready.

The court confirmed four life sentences given other defendants, increased prison terms for two and reduced the life sentence of Ilona Pinczel, a girl in her late teens, to 15 years in prison.

The 21 defendants were tried in May for taking part in riots last Oct. 2 6at Miskolc, Hungary's second largest city in the northeast part of the couptry. They were accused of being in an enormous crowd that attacked the police headquarters and tortured and hanged seven policemen.
