City Police Continue Hunt in Arms Theft

Pontiac police said today they are concentrating on personal contacts in the investigation of the burglary of weapons from the Army Reserve Center discovered Sunday.

"We've got some promising leads we're working on and at least one person who might have been a witness will be interviewed today," said Capt. Charles Gale, chief of city detectives.

At least 58 items were stolen from the center at 40 Walnut, including more than 45 military rifles and pistols and four bazooka-type rocket launchers.

Officers from the State Police, Army Intelligence and the Federal Bureau of Investigation joined local authorities at the scene shortly after the break-in was reported about 8 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Gale said all four agencies are continuing to combine forces in the investigation.

MADE DISCOVERY

The burglary was discovered by Lt. Donald Dudick of 2077 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, whose unit was scheduled for Sunday morning drill.

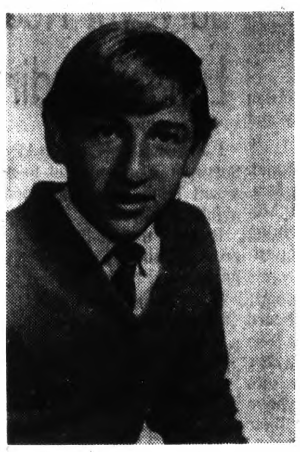

After officers had gone over the scene for more than 10 hours, arrangements were made to ship the center's remaining weapons out for safekeeping until repairs to the building are completed.

The inventory of missing items is still not official, according to Gale.

Pontiac detectives James Fritz and Branton Dennis described the break-in method as fairly routine, emphasizing that common burglary tools were used.

★ ★ ★

The building was entered by prying open a rear overhead door, probably with crowbars. Similar instruments were used to force open a safe after wire caging was opened with bolt cutters.

JAIRO GALLEGO

Bloomfield Hills Collision Is Fatal

A Bloomfield Township youth became Oakland County's fifth 1968 traffic fatality yesterday when the car in which he was riding stalled on Woodward in Bloomfield Hills and was struck from the rear by another vehicle.

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Jairo Gallego, 14, of 804 W. Long Lake.

Bloomfield Hills police said the car, driven by Gallego's mother, Judith, stopped just south of Trowbridge, and was sitting in a southbound high-speed lane when the mishap occurred at 5:30 p.m.

Gallego's sister, Demarys, 22 was sitting in the right front seat, police said, and the boy was seated in the rear.

★ ★ ★

Both Mrs. Gallego and Demarys were treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released, as was the driver of the second vehicle, Paul D. Parker, 24 of Berkley.

Commuting Up on Grand Trunk

Commuter carryings on the Grand Trunk Western Railroad between Detroit and Pontiac were up more than 25 per cent in 1967 as compared to 1966. This is the first such gain in 13 years.

More than 140,000 people rode the trains to Detroit and more than 137,000 people rode the return trains to Birmingham, Royal Oak and Pontiac the railroad reported.

There were 56,301 more carryings than in 1966 — reversing a downward trend that had continued since 1954.

Part of the growth in commuter traffic was accounted for by the introduction of the new Shoppers' Specials in November.

Over-all commuter carryings (including Shoppers' Specials during November) were up from 39,165 in 1966 to 56,997 in 1967, in December, from 39,525 in '66 to 54,811 in '67, the railroad said.

Grand Trunk operates eight commuter trains daily, including two shoppers' trains, between Detroit and Pontiac.

The high day for this travel during the 11-month period was Nov. 24 when 2,916 people rode Grand Trunk commuter trains. This was the day after Thanksgiving, one of the heaviest shopping days of the year.

★ ★ ★

The previous '67 high was Feb. 3, when 2,435 persons rode the trains during heavy snowfalls. During '66 the year's high was 1,757, set in August.

Area Gets Respite From Biting Cold

The weatherman is giving Pontiac area residents a breathing spell from harsh biting winds and bitter cold temperatures.

The forecast calls for snow flurries or light snow and warmer. The low tonight is expected to be 10 to 15 above zero.

Partly cloudy and continued cold with the high in the 20s is the outlook for tomorrow. Some snow is likely Thursday.

Winds southeasterly to south at 15 to 25 miles will become north to northwest tonight.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 90, tonight 50, tomorrow 20.

The temperature was 11 in downtown Pontiac at 6 a.m. today. By 2 p.m. it was 18.

SCENE OF HOLOCAUST—Smoke still drifts from a first-floor paper carton firm in a Brooklyn tenement which was ravaged by fire early today, killing at least 13 persons. Scores of dwellers were forced to flee to safety in near-zero cold. Firemen said the blaze apparently started on the ground floor and spread upward.

Open Housing Issue in Legislative Toss

LANSING (AP) — Which chamber — the House or the Senate — should be first to pick up the thorn-studded open housing issue when the 1968 legislative session convenes this week?

The House, which defeated such a bill last month although falling just nine votes short of passage?

Or the Senate, which refused even to take up the question last year, but whose members have an advantage in handling a controversial issue because they are not up for reelection this year?

On the eve of this year's regular session, which begins tomorrow at noon, the question reportedly has not been decided, although leaders of the Legislature's Republican majority continued to discuss the upcoming issues.

House Speaker Robert Waldron and Senate GOP leader Emil Lockwood planned to huddle today with the chairmen of the Legislature's two judiciary committees, probably to discuss which chamber should be first to work on reorganization of the state's lower court.

EMOTIONAL ISSUE

If one house was awarded the task of concentration on the big, complex court question, it might leave the other free to debate the emotion-ridden issue of a statewide open occupancy law.

"If the Senate can pass a strong bill fast enough, then I wouldn't be adverse to letting them have it first," said House Minority Leader William Ryan, D-Detroit, a firm backer of the housing bill.

Ryan said senators might be willing to vote for a tougher version of the controversial measure because they won't face the voters again until 1970. House members are up for reelection next November.

★ ★ ★

But Ryan added he thought the House, which defeated its housing bill 47-55 last month, could pass the measure this year.

Gov. George Romney has pledged his aides will push for adoption of the housing bill again this year. Romney's office probably will have a voice in deciding which chamber will consider the measure first.

Besides housing and court reorganization, the Legislature will face at least two other issues this year: crime legislation and the annual budget battle.

GM Truck Has 2nd-Best Output

GMC Truck & Coach Division built 130,659 trucks and coaches in 1967 to chalk up its second best production year for civilian-type vehicles, reports Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager.

He said last year's output was topped only in 1965 when 136,705 vehicles rolled off the division's assembly lines.

It marked the fifth consecutive year that GMC Truck & Coach production has surpassed the 100,000 mark.

Post Office Has 6-Centers--Now

"A sufficient supply of six-centers have arrived," Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today.

The new six-cent stamps, featuring a portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt, arrived yesterday.

The new domestic postal rates, raising the price of a first-class letter from five to six cents, went into effect Sunday.

"We have 750,000 six-cent stamps in sheets and another 800,000 in coils of 100."

Donaldson said he thought the delay in receiving the stamps from the Bureau of Engraving in Washington, D.C., was caused by insufficient lead time.

"The date for the new rates was determined last fall when Congress anticipated this bill being passed and signed, but the bill wasn't signed until just before Christmas," he said.

"The Bureau of Engraving couldn't start the stamps till then," Donaldson added.

"After all, it's a tremendous job to print and supply stamps for 32,000 post offices in the country in the time that was alloted."

Postcards are now five cents each. Airmail rates have been increased from eight to 10 cents an ounce and airmail cards from six to eight cents each.

All first-class mail over 13 ounces and all airmail over seven ounces will be merged into a single category and charged a flat rate of 80 cents up to one pound. The heavier pieces, subject to the single rate schedule, will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

Nine of Victims of Slum Inferno Were Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Flames raced through a Brooklyn tenement in the predawn hours today, forcing scores of persons to flee in below-zero cold and leaving 13 dead. All but one member of two families perished.

★ ★ ★

Dead in the city's worst fire since 46 died aboard an aircraft carrier in 1960 were Mrs. Modesta Diaz and her five children, aged 3 months to 9 years; Francisco and Juanita Mojica and their four children, aged 4 to 9 years, and 85-year-old Victoria Moreno, the grandmother of the Mojica children.

Francisco Diaz, 29, the only surviving member of his family, said he was watching television with his children when he saw smoke flowing under the door of his second-floor apartment. In minutes the building was engulfed in flames, he said.

Firemen battled the five-alarm fire for 4½ hours before getting it under control.

★ ★ ★

The flames were fueled by paper cartons on the first floor of the five-story building.

SIFT THROUGH DEBRIS

In late morning, firemen continued to sift through the charred, twisted debris but it was thought no more bodies would be found.

When he saw the smoke, Diaz said, he ran upstairs to the top-floor flat of Mojica, his brother-in-law.

The Mojica family, he said, was huddled in the smoke-filled hallway.

★ ★ ★

Diaz said he tried to open a window, but panicky children and their elders barred the way.

JUMPED TO SAFETY

Diaz said he shouted to the Mojica family to follow him as he ran to the roof of the burning structure. When he saw no sign of them, he said, he jumped to safety to the roof of an adjoining building.

Diaz, a Puerto Rican, spoke to newsmen through an interpreter.

The fire marked the worst New York City fire disaster since 46 died in a blaze aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation at the New York Navy Yard in Brooklyn on Dec. 19, 1960. Twelve firemen were killed in a blaze in October 1966.

★ ★ ★

Fire Commissioner Robert O. Lowery said the blaze was under investigation, adding:

"The difficulty in fighting this fire was due to several factors—the age of the building, the rapidity with which the fire spread, the delayed alarm, the late hours and, of course, the temperature."

SPOTTED BY PATROLMEN

The fire was spotted by two patrolmen cruising in their radio car. They turned on their siren as they got to the burning building to awaken its residents.

Almost simultaneously, three male passers-by spotted the blaze.

When the first contingent of firemen raced to the scene, an official said, flames were shooting through many of the windows.

Voters Revolt on School Taxes

By DICK ROBINSON

Oakland County voters and those throughout the nation appear to be revolting against increased school taxes.

★ ★ ★

Figures for 1967 show that the county's electorate defeated half of the school millage and bond issues compared to about 20 per cent the previous year.

ROBINSON

And observers are not optimistic for a better year in 1968.

Area voters will be apprehensive toward proposed school tax hikes because of probable raises in state, federal and social security taxes and costs of living, predicts Mrs. Polly Carithers, Oakland Schools director of public information.

★ ★ ★

Last fall's teacher strikes and the likelihood of further "militancy" on the part of teachers by midyear may also influence voter actions, she says.

1967 RECORD

All in all, the 1967 millage and bond referendum record for districts within Oakland Schools Intermediate District looked like this:

- Increased operating millage elections — passed in six districts, defeated in seven districts, many by paper thin margins.

Three districts resubmitted defeated issues which then passed, while Holly and Troy registered double defeats.

★ ★ ★

- Bond elections for new facilities —three passed and three were defeated.

In 1966, eight millage proposals were approved and three defeated, including a double defeat in Waterford Township.

Three out of 15 bond referendums failed, two times in Waterford.

Millage is a property tax levied to raise revenue for school districts to operate school programs. One mill is $1 per $1,000 of assessed property value.

★ ★ ★

Approval for issuance of bonds increases debt of individual districts.

VOCATIONAL CENTERS

Looking back on 1967, county educators say they were lucky to get vocational education centers approved in a countywide vote.

Eight of 28 districts (one district was evenly split) voted "no" on a half-mill tax to build the centers. The vote was close, though, passing only by a 5-to-4 margin.

Oakland County trends are no different from those anywhere in the United States, authorities point out. A growing number of taxpayers are rebelling against mounting costs of public education.

Only 11 per cent of the nation's school bond issues went down to defeat in 1960, according to the U.S. Office of Educa-

Heart Recipient Worsens

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Mike Kasperak, beset with many complications after his heart transplant operation, is in critical condition today.

The 54-year-old ex-steelworker received a new heart Saturday night to replace his failing one.

★ ★ ★

His condition became critical Monday when he began to bleed from the stomach and intestines. Blood transfusions and other measures appeared to have stopped the bleeding, which his doctors attributed to a severe preexisting liver disease.

Physicians said he was suffering some kidney failure also.

Though conscious and able to signify responses, Kasperak needed help breathing—a tube in his throat—because of lung disease.

"These many complications are severe but soluble as long as the heart function is good," said Dr. Norman E. Shumway, head of the Stanford Medical School team that made the transplant.

Doctors said Kasperak's cardiac output was only slightly below normal and the heart appeared to be functioning very well.

His condition was satisfactory from the end of the operation until the internal bleeding began.

WATCHES TV

Kasperak even watched 10 minutes of a televised news conference about the operation, nurses said. Drs. Shumway and Donald C. Harrison, head of the medical school cardiology division, held the conference at Stanford Sunday afternoon.

The patient's wife, Ferne, has visited him three times.

Kasperak's diseased heart forced him to quit work 18 months ago. He and his wife moved from Cleveland to East Palo Alto, near Stanford.

He received the heart of Mrs. Virginia White, 43, of nearby Santa Clara two hours after she died. Mrs. White, mother of two, suffered a stroke—a brain hemorrhage—the night preceding the heart transplantation. She lapsed into a coma and never recovered consciousness.

AGREED TO TRANSPLANT

Her husband, Charles W. "Bill" White, daughter Judy, 18, son Rickey, 12, and her mother, told that Mrs. White was dying and there was no hope, agreed to the transplant.

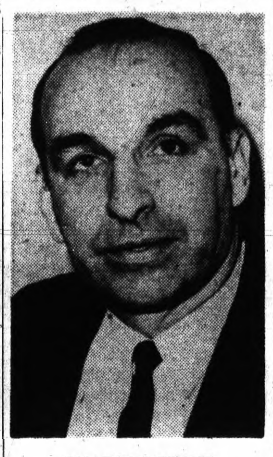

"She was the type who would want to do this," White said. He added that their grief was eased in knowing she was helping another.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. White, in death, also gave a kidney to another patient who was dying at the hospital. The kidney patient's name was not disclosed, but the operation was termed successful by hospital spokesmen.

Parking Facility Bonds OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night approved the sale of more than $1.5 million in bonds to finance construction of a 710-car parking structure in the downtown business district.

The revenue bonds were sold to the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago for an average interest rate of 4.59 per cent.

The interest will cost the city about $1,073,000 during the next 25 years.

Construction of the new facility will begin tomorrow with the removal of 232 parking meters from the municipal parking lot at Pierce and Merrill where the five-level structure will be located.

Immediately after awarding the bond sale to Northern Trust, the lowest of five bidders, Mayor William Roberts signed a contract with the A. J. Etkins Co. to carry on the construction.

BID 'FAVORABLE'

The construction contract was awarded to the Oak Park firm two weeks ago.

City Finance Director James Purkiss termed the Northern Trust bid as "favorable" and noted that there was only a difference of $11,500 between the high and low bidder.

The parking structure is to be paid off from parking meter revenues and a 10 per cent assessment against property owners in the central business district.

★ ★ ★

It will be the city's second enclosed parking facility.

ZONING AMENDMENT

The other, a 560-car structure at Woodward and Willitts, has been in operation for more than a year.

In other business, the commission adopted an amendment to the zoning ordinance which will allow the construction of row-type housing.

The city planning board will later recommend specific areas where the new zoning classification can be applied.

★ ★ ★

Postponed for two weeks was a discussion on the sale of city property located in Troy on Coolidge between Lincoln and 15 Mile Road to the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority for a transfer site.

The delay was requested by two home owner groups who wanted time to bring the proposal to the attention of members.

U.S. War Toll Rate Shows Gain in '67

NEW YORK (AP) — The casualty rate among U.S. troops in South Vietnam climbed significantly in 1967 over 1966. It increased both in the over-all total and on a percentage basis, despite a prediction the percentage rate would decline.

A comparative survey showed today that troop strength, greatly augmented during the year, averaged 448,200 against the 1966 average of 299,281. Casualties in 1967 totaled 9,353 killed and 62,004 wounded, a percentage of 15.9. The percentage killed was 2.08, wounded 13.8.

Total casualties in 1966 were 5,008 killed and 30,093 wounded, or 11.7 per cent of the average number of men engaged. The percentage killed was 1.66 per cent, wounded 10.05.

Henry Cabot Lodge, then U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, predicted last January the percentage of casualties would drop during 1967.

PROGRESS PREDICTED

"I believe the purely military part of the war, which is what the Americans are engaged in, will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said in an interview at that time.

At the end of the year the number of American dead since 1961 stood at 15,997 and the number of wounded at 99,742. Another 878 were listed as missing or captured.

Some men were wounded more than once, which somewhat inflated the total, and in many cases the wounds were minor. For example, of 437 wounded during Christmas week, 130 did not require hospitalization.

Christmas week dead totaled 185.

WORST WEEK

The bloodiest week so far for U.S. troops was May 14 to May 20 when 337 were killed and 2,282 wounded.

As of Dec. 30 the Pentagon reported a U.S. troop level of 486,000, compared with 389,000 a year previous.

In 1965, when the U.S. armed forces in the South Vietnamese arena totaled fewer than 200,000 casualties were 1,369 killed and 6,114 wounded.

Johnson Peace Quest Doubted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright expresses strong doubts the Johnson administration is aggressively pursuing the possibility of peace talks with North Vietnam.

"The administration is only interested in surrender," he said Monday in an interview.

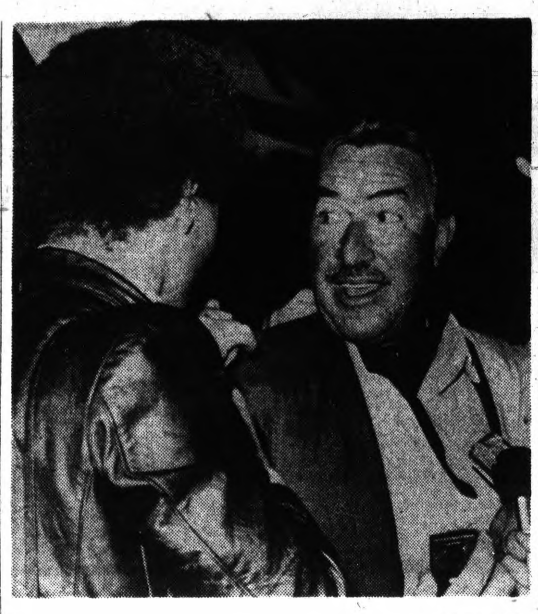

★ ★ ★

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he did not expect the White House and State Department would follow up on the recent Hanoi statement that peace talks will result if the United States ends its air strikes and other acts of war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said the administration is trying to determine whether the statement was an actual step toward negotiations or a propaganda move.

Asked whether he agreed with other Vietnam war critics who have urged a bombing halt to test the enemy's intentions, Fulbright said he had advocated that course consistently in his long-standing opposition to administration policy.

POWELL VISITS WATTS—Adam Clayton Powell arrives in Los Angeles last night for a walk through the streets of Watts and speeches at several colleges. At a news conference, Powell accused Congress of reversing its position on civil rights since his expulsion from the House of Representatives March 1. He said Congress is now cutting away earlier civil rights gains. The dapper Harlem preacher-politician has been at his island retreat in the Bahamas since his self-imposed exile in 1966.

Levin to Seek Dem OK to Quit Post in Senate

LANSING (UPI) — State Sen. Sander M. Levin said today he would ask his fellow Democrats to allow him to step down as Senate minority floor leader so he can devote more time to being state party chairman.

Levin said he will ask to be relieved from his position at a caucus of Senate Democrats at 8 tonight.

"If the matter of a replacement can be resolved without disrupting the caucus, I would prefer to resign and have someone else take my place," the senator from Berkley said.

But Levin indicated he would keep his position as No. 2 man in the caucus hierarchy if it appeared his departure would open a bitter battle for a successor.

★ ★ ★

State Senate Republicans also were scheduled to meet in caucus today while House members planned to mark time before the start of the 1968 legislative session tomorrow.

On the agenda for the Senate GOP caucus was the filing of important committee vacancies left by the death of Sen. Harold J. Volkema of Holland.

Opened by Volkema's death were the chairmanship of the Senate Education Committee and a seat on the State Affairs Committee.

Budget Chief Resigns Post

'Principal Assistant' Is Appointed by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Director Charles L. Schultze of the Budget Bureau has become the second top presidential economic adviser to resign within a week.

Schultze's resignation—effective after the new budget is presented to Congress—was announced Monday night by the Texas White House seven days after it reported that Gardner Ackley would step down as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

★ ★ ★

Named by Johnson to succeed Schultze in the $30,000-a-year post was Charles J. Zwick, 41, currently assistant Budget Bureau director.

Zwick was described as Schultze's "principal assistant and adviser on economic policy matters."

FORMER PROFESSOR

A native of Plantsville, Conn., Zwick formerly taught economics at Harvard University. He joined the Budget Bureau in October 1965 after working for the Rand Corp., Santa Monica, Calif.

Ackley was named ambassador to Italy. Schultze plans to join the Brookings Institution, a private research organization based in Washington, and to return to part-time teaching at the University of Maryland, where he formerly taught economics.

Schultze, 43, said he began talking about leaving the director's job as early as last June but agreed to stay on until completion of work on the new budget for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

That is scheduled for presentation to Congress Jan. 29.

The director said his leaving should not be construed as any break with the administration over economic policy.

Irons, Supervisors Guilty of Unfair Labor Practices

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons and the Board of Supervisors have been found guilty of unfair labor practices by the State Labor Mediation Board for refusing to bargain with a public employes union.

It was the labor board's first decision on the right of public employes to belong to unions.

In handing down a split decision, the board ruled that an agency shop — one in which all employes represented by the unions pay dues whether or not they are union members, is the only legal type of union to which public employes may belong.

It also said that bargaining leading to binding arbitration between a government agency and its employes union is a legitimate and "mandatory subject of bargaining."

★ ★ ★

The decision is the first on the public employes bargaining question handed down by the board. It is consistent with a Berrien County Circuit Court decision on the legitimacy of arbitration.

CONFLICTS WITH OPINION

But it conflicts with an opinion from Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley last May 29. In that opinion Kelley ruled that boards of education may not enter into contracts providing for binding arbitration at the end of the grievance procedure.

The Oakland County decision was handed down yesterday and released today.

It involved a suit by Council No. 23 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, representing workers in the sheriff's department.

★ ★ ★

Irons and the county board had refused to bargain on union security for the workers and also refused to enter into negotiations which would have had an arbitration as their end point.

The sheriff and the county contended that the subjects were illegal in any contract between a public employer and a union. The union brought unfair labor charges on June 9, 1966.

The board ruled that a public employer is required to bargain for an agency shop. It ordered the sheriff and the board to do so.

Model Homes Vandalized in Waterford

Vandals caused an estimated $5,000 to $7,000 damage to three model homes on Pleasant Drive in Waterford Township, Pontiac State Police learned yesterday.

Owned by Blachura General Contractors, Inc., of 3538 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, the homes are located at 5851, 5861 and 5871 Pleasant in Huntoon Shores No. 3 Subdivision.

State Police said the furniture, fixtures and interiors of the homes were damaged extensively. All three were broken into.

In one of the homes, living room furniture was extensively damaged, tables were broken, three pictures were removed from the wall in the family room and smashed and papers were strewn throughout the house.

★ ★ ★

In another of the homes, furniture was overturned in the family room and a glass display was smashed.

SMASHED PICTURES

In the third home, the damage also included smashed pictures and overturned and slit furniture.

An open house was held in the houses Sunday with more than 200 persons attending, State Police were told.

Board of Realtors Annual Banquet Tomorrow Night

The Pontiac Board of Realtors 47th annual banquet is 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Elks Lodge, 114 Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Thomas Stephens Haggai, a noted lecturer and radio personality will be the main speaker.

Incoming President Albert J. Rhodes will receive the Realtor of the Year award. Rhodes, current vice president, owns Albert J. Rhodes, Realtor, 258 W. Walton. He is assessor for the village of Lake Orion.

Officers for the 1968 term will be installed at the banquet.

Tickets are $6.50. Additional information and tickets may be obtained from any Pontiac realtor or Warren Newton at First Federal Savings of Oakland, 761 W. Huron.

Surveyor Nears Lunar Landing

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 7 appears set to make a soft landing on the moon tonight.

It will make the last U.S. probe of the moon before man heads there himself.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory will attempt to put the craft down near the rugged highlands north of the crater Tycho.

It carries a television camera, a small scoop to dig trenches, a device to analyze soil with radiation and magnets to detect iron.

If things go well, the 2,288-pound space vehicle will be slowed from 6,000 miles an hour by retrorockets so that it will be going 3 m.p.h. 13 feet above the lunar surface. It will free fall the last 13 feet.

LANDING TIME

Landing was expected about 8:15 p.m. EST.

The mission of the Surveyor, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., early Sunday, is to see if there is any significant difference between the Tycho area and the equatorial plains chosen for manned landings planned for as early as next year.

'Six-Centers' Arrive at City Post Office

Higher rates are also in effect for other categories of mail used primarily by large-volume mailers. These include bulk third-class advertising mail rates, special rates for books, films and records.

MEETING TOMORROW

Any commercial mailers, dealing in any form of bulk mailings, who have questions about the new rates, may attend a 3 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the post office where questions will be answered.

Cancellation of Hearing to Be Asked

City commissioners will be asked to cancel a scheduled Jan. 16 public hearing on the 1968 city general fund budget and make temporary appropriations for payroll and expenditures at their meeting tomorrow night.

Recent court action eliminated an expected referendum election on Pontiac's income tax and an order that the tax went into effect Jan. 1 made the budget presented three weeks ago obsolete.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said he would revise the budget as soon as practicable taking into account new tax money to be received from the income tax.

Since the fiscal year has already ensued, Warren said, temporary appropriations are necessary until a budget can be adopted.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners are also expected to:

- Consider a lease agreement with the Pontiac Transit Corp. which would continue a subsidy for bus service in the city.
- Receive an agreement from the State Highway Department designating Auburn as a city street.
- Receive details concerning a suit brought against the city on behalf of three youths arrested Nov. 26.
- Confirm the special assessment roll for construction work done on the Galloway Creek Sewer Trunk Line recently completed by a construction firm.

Strike Dates May Be Set

Strike deadlines can be set after midnight tonight if local contracts are not agreed upon at the two largest General Motors plants in Pontiac, according to union officials.

Still without local contracts today are Local 594 at GMC Truck and Coach Division and Local 653 at Pontiac Motor Division.

Today was the target date for agreement on a local contract between negotiating teams.

After today, both unions said they will seek strike permission from the international and a date will be set after which time workers will be taken off their jobs if a local agreement has not been reached.

★ ★ ★

The national agreement was approved by vote of the UAW workers and still at issue are local issues not involving wages.

To be settled, according to union spokesmen, are rules on seniority, working conditions, treatment of workers, layoff procedures and grievances — 69 unsettled at Truck and Coach and some 500 at Pontiac Motor.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow is forecast tonight for the Great Lakes, the Northeast, and the northern Rocky Mountain area. Rain is due in the southeastern section of the country. The northern third of the nation will continue in the grip of cold temperatures. A warming trend is expected over the southern sections of the country.

County School Issues Hit Voter Snags

tion. But in 1966, more than 25 per cent were defeated.

WATERFORD DISTRICT

Waterford School District in the past two years has had the most trouble in the county to get a millage or bond issue approved.

Voters in that district, the fourth largest in the county, have flatly said no to eight out of the last nine issues. The latest was a 7½-mill, five-year property tax in November.

Troy is also having problems. Twice a 7-mill increase failed last year along with vocational education. Now a third 7-mill increase has been scheduled for Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

Since 1964, five of nine millage, bond or special or vocational education issues have been rejected.

HOLLY DEFEATS

Holly in 1966 and 1967 turned down three of four millage increases and one $5.2-million bond issue last October for a junior high school.

Other districts, such as Walled Lake, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills, have unblemished records since 1964.

Walled Lake in the past four years has not defeated one out of nine millage, bond or annexation elections. They were one of the larger districts to pass a millage increase — 7 mills renewal and 3 mills increase — last year.

★ ★ ★

Both Birmingham — the third largest county district — and Bloomfield Hills did not hold local revenue elections last year, but teacher strikes in both districts last fall could affect future balloting, observers say.

FARMINGTON DEFEAT

Farmington voters closed out 1967 by vetoing a 5-mill increase — their first millage defeat in at least five years — while at the same time approving $9 million of bonds.

Pontiac School District — the largest in the county with about 24,000 students — has not had an additional millage election since 1960 when the issue was defeated or a bond referendum since 1929.

A millage and bond election is expected to be set soon there for balloting in late winter.

★ ★ ★

Royal Oak School District, like Pontiac, has not put many millage or bond proposal before the voters in recent years, the last coming in 1965. A 6-mill increase election is scheduled for Feb. 20 for the county's second largest district.

ELECTIONS

Besides the two largest districts, at least a half dozen other county districts are expected to hold millage elections early in the year.

The year 1968 appears to be an important one in determining the future of education in Oakland County.

Consumers Method Conserves Energy

By LOIS FRIEDLAND

Voltage reduction is one of Consumers Power Co.'s newest techniques for conserving electric energy during peak loads.

★ ★ ★

The method involves reducing amounting to only three or four volts on a 120-volt basis, in certain sections of the city.

"Voltage reduction does not constitute an emergency condition, but rather is a precautionary measure of short duration," emphasized C. F. Brown, Pontiac division manager for Consumers Power.

"Customers should not be affected by the reduction," he added.

"On a few occasions during this past year we have deemed it advisable to utilize voltage reduction," said Brown.

★ ★ ★

He explained the method has been used only during the day. Peak load periods are usually during midmorning and midafternoon when housewives are cleaning, and offices and plants are operating fully.

The total number of kilowatts used is traditionally highest in December due to the use of increase of ordinary lights used because of the darker days, according to the division manager.

"The acceptable range of a voltage supply, or line pressure if you prefer, on the system will vary somewhat according to the magnitude of the load.

★ ★ ★

"Occasionally, it is desirable from an operating point of view to conserve energy during peak thermal loads," he said. "This method of voltage reduction is one way of keeping our power system secure yet continuing to provide reliable electric service to our customers during the heavy-load period," Brown said.

"We don't want, nor do we expect Michigan to encounter anything like the New York blackout of 1965," he added.

All classes of electric customers locally utilized a total of 719,097,112 kilowatt hours during 1967, according to Brown.

Residential electric customers utilized a record 46,532,782 kilowatt hours during the last year.

Brown indicated that the company's skilled work force capably handled this record demand for electricity, including a record construction and maintenance program.

New operating techniques and new modern equipment were utilized, including the handling calls, tree clearing, street light installations and a new style of overhead line construction.

Consumers Power is computerized to give information on and run periodic checks on the current amount of the energy load, according to Brown.

★ ★ ★

Loads grow through the years, however, with the frequent addition of new electrical appliances to the circuit, and occasionally go over the capacity of the transformer.

OVERLOAD

"The mere addition of a new stove or refrigerator would not cause an overloaded circuit, but the addition of a new room might," Brown emphasized.

Anyone adding major electric additions, as electric heating units, should contact Consumers Power so allowance for the increased load can be made if necessary.

First indications of an overloaded circuit could be a general dimming of light bulbs throughout the houe, much lower than normal radio volume, or even a shrinking of the picture on a television set.

★ ★ ★

"Our computer and procedures for checking overloads generally warn us before such indications occure Brown reemphasized. He added that lighting and other natural elements beyond the company's control could also cause such problems.

Lady Bird to Give Memorial Lecture

WASHINGTON (AP) — A committee headed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman didn't have to look far in selecting the recipient of a new award—only across town to the White House.

★ ★ ★

The committee named Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson Monday to give the first B.Y. Morrison memorial lecture on a date not yet set. The lecture series will honor the plant explorer, landscape architect and writer who died in 1966.

★ ★ ★

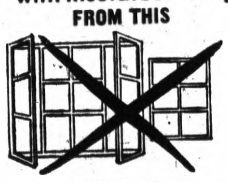

The five-member committee —which included two other Agriculture Department officials as well as Freeman-called the President's wife "the single most powerful influence on ornamental horticulture that this country has ever known."

Clarkston Board Ends Series of Code Revisions

CLARKSTON — The last of a series of updated codes, preparing the way for possible village annexation of surrounding township land, was adopted by the council last night.

Accepted with minor changes was the Oakland County Road Commission's procedures for plat development which included road specifications.

The adoption of the plat development procedures had been delayed from a special meeting Dec. 28 when the council put in process a new zoning ordinance and map enlarging the present business district.

At that time the village also adopted the township's building code including plumbing and electrical codes and the Oakland County Department of Public Work's construction specifications for sewer and water mains.

★ ★ ★

Present at last night's meeting was C. L. Reichert, 75 Clarkston, who questioned the legality of allowing the village's police department to operate from a private home.

TRAFFIC

He said traffic to and from Chief Robert Phillip's residence blocked their shared driveway and created a distur bance through the evening hours.

★ ★ ★

Councilmen said they would ask police for better cooperation on the matter.

Farmington Holds Sign-Up for Adult Education Classes

FARMINGTON — Registration for a wide variety of adult education classes here can be made at the Farmington High School, 32000 Shiawassee, today from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The courses begin next Monday. They include pilot training ground school to be taught by Leroy Bartman, the school district's personnel director and an experienced pilot.

Other new courses are auto mechanics, charm and poise, code for amateur radio, electronics, beginners' German, square dancing, volleyball and wood finishing.

Courses will also be on income tax, business, slimnastics and yoga, fine arts, and homemaking.

★ ★ ★

The school district joins with Central Michigan University in offering a course in supervision of student teaching and with the Clinton Valley Boy Scouts to provide Scout leader training.

The University of Michigan will cooperate with courses on education of exceptional children and personality development.

Lectures on the adult's role in sex education will be presented by Dr. Armin Grams of the Merrill Palmer Institute which set up the sex education program in the district.

W. Bloomfield JCs Set Fair Housing Debate

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Jaycees here will sponsor a discussion of open housing on Jan. 17 at 7:30 p.m.

The discussion will be at K-Falls Lounge and Restaurant, 1990 Hiller. It will feature a representative of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth and the Pontiac Board of Realtors.

The latter will be represented by Bruce J. Annett, Pontiac realtor and board president.

Rezoning Hearing Set

WOLVERINE LAKE — The village council has set a public hearing on rezoning three-quarters of an acre for apartments on Oakview Drive for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 12.

Robert Korthas was appointed auxiliary police officer by the council last night.

School Issue on Feb. 19 Ballot

Avondale Board Asks 12.7 More Mills

By BETTY ANN SCHULTZ

The Avondale Board of Education last night announced that it will ask voters for a 12.7-mills increase next month.

The request, which has the unanimous approval of the board, will be on a Feb. 19 ballot as previously decided. The increase, planned for a five-year period, would bring in $500,000 per year.

The announcement came after an hour-long board presentation on why the district needs more funds.

The tax hike drew immediate fire from a self-appointed citizens group and several members of the audience of about 100.

★ ★ ★

The millage increase is necessary, said Supt. John W. Dickey, because of the increases in enrollment, teaching staff, wages for school personnel and educational services.

SCHOOL OPENING

Funds will also provide for the March opening of the R. Grant Graham Elementary School in Bloomfield Orchards.

Although the district has not had a millage increase since 1962, every year since then, there has been a millage renewal vote.

In addition, bond issue proposals were approved in 1962 and 1966.

★ ★ ★

The board had not asked for a millage increase since 1962 because the district didn't need them every year, said Board President Ray A. Isanhart.

NO RENEWAL

The 12.7-mill increase request is made this year because no millage will come up for renewal this year, explained the board's pro-tem president, Herbert E. Mills.

★ ★ ★

District residents are now paying a total of 30.1 mills. This includes 23.1 mills for operating expenses and the remaining mills for debt retirement.

Board Trustee Jesse H. Holmes brought out that the assessed valuation of $8,974 behind each pupil in the Avondale School District is lower than its neighboring districts and the state average of $12,738.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Dickey stressed that the cost of educating a pupil in Avondale has increased from $348 in 1962 to $634 in 1967. Further, the schools' enrollment in 1962-63 was 2,987 and now stands at 3,805, he reported.

SHARED COSTS

A board report states that the owner of a $30,000 home paying the 23.1 operating millage, provides only $346 for a child's education. The difference of $287 is handled by state aid and taxes of property owners who don't have school children.

The report also listed an estimated 1967-68 budget deficit of $115,078. The expenditures are expected at $2,472,203 and income at $2,067,000.

Considering projected 1968-69 expenditures of $2,737,945, the district would accumulate a $617,358 deficit at the end of the following school year.

★ ★ ★

The 12.7 millage is expected to bring in $508,000.

AID INCREASE

The board's financial projection adds a 10 per cent increase in state aid of $109,358 to entirely liquidate the some $600,000 deficit.

Robert Thor, 3238 Donley, Avon Township, voiced strong opposition from the floor to the tax request.

Thor claimed he represented the feelings of 1,800 residents.

He presented the board with four recommendations from the Committee for Fair Taxes. They are:

★ ★ ★

- Personnel positions should be fully investigated to see whether or not they can be eliminated.

★ ★ ★

- As much as possible, luxury should be cut out of buildings to be budgeted.
- The board should consider adding onto the present high school and junior high and thus eliminate new buildings at the present time.

★ ★ ★

- No more millage should be asked until the above recommendations are considered.

★ ★ ★

The board president said that the board had already considered the recommendations.

ICEBERG, AHOY — Iceberg builder Mike Morey, 23, of 8470 Wise, Commerce Township, estimates that his 20-foot high work is made up of tons of water. The monster is a result of 16 days of spray from a hose attached to a base support of pipe, boards and pine boughs. It stands in front of Morey's home, where he lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morey.

Birmingham Board Hears High School Growth Needs

BIRMINGHAM — Further expansion of high school facilities in the Birmingham district is a necessity, Board of Education members were told here last night.

The board received a report on secondary school facilities from Supt. of Schools Dr. John B. Smith.

According to a recent study of the district made by Vilican-Leman & Associates, Dr. Smith said, approximately 1,000 new secondary students must be accommodated by 1971.

The report went on to list two main alternatives which are available to the board — addition to the two existing high schools, Seaholm and Groves, or construction of a third high school.

Primary disadvantage to enlarging the present facilities, the report continued, would be the maximum use of land areas at both high schools, almost certainly ruling out any further expansion should projections be low.

★ ★ ★

Also, the expansion would place a possibly prohibitive burden on "core facilities" at Seaholm and Groves, such as heating and electricity, and improvement would be necessary.

Construction of a new high school, the report said, would leave further alternatives open to the board. If the present 6-3-3 grade distribution (grades 10-12 in high school) were maintained, each should have a student body of about 1,700.

This is 400 students less than the present facilities at Groves and Seaholm were plannd to handle. However, should the district decide to change to a 5-3-4 distribution, with sixth graders attending junior high and ninth graders moving up to high school, each school would contain about 2,000 students.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Smith also presented a timetable for the proposed expansion to the board, calling for the appointment of a citizen-administration group to study available alternatives.

The timetable projected by the superintendent also anticipates a bonding election later this year, in order that construction be completed by the desired date of Sept. 1, 1971.

2nd Orion Hearing Likely on New Zoning Ordinance

ORION TOWNSHIP — A second public hearing on the township's proposed new zoning ordinance and map is likely soon.

The township planning commission has recommended changes along Baldwin reinstating commerical zoning there and along M24 in accordance with landowners' requests. It has also recommended relaxation of proposed restrictions for the keeping of horses.

★ ★ ★

The date of the second hearing will be picked at the commission's next meeting Jan. 17, according to township spokesmen.

★ ★ ★

Preliminary approval of plats for a possible 160 homes was recommended to the township board. The plats involve the proposed Dan's Countryside subdivision on Heights Road west of Hemingway involving 14 lots, and the Marina Lake Estates on the old Kelly farm on Heights Road involving 120 acres and 145 lots.

★ ★ ★

Approval for the first hinges on an expansion of lots in the Louise Court area to meet R-2 zoning requirements, and in the second on a report from Vilican-Leman Planning Consultants of Southfield.

Four GOP Candidates to Vie for 3 Positions on Romeo Council

ROMEO — Four candidates will vie for three council positions in the village primary Feb. 19.

Filing besides incumbent trustees Kenneth Smith, Martin Durham and John F. Kegler is Forrest Clark. All candidates are Republicans.

Since no Democrats filed by deadline, a primary victory will virtually guarantee election.

Other Republican incumbents running without opposition are Merlin J. Kerr, president; Norman L. Engel, clerk; Elaine M. Hosner, treasurer; and Fred Ebeling, assessor.

Trustees will be elected for a two-year term. Other officials will be elected for one year.

Meeting Tonight on Annexation

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Officials of the township will discuss tonight the election next Tuesday proposing annexation of about 10 square miles of the township to the city of Walled Lake.

The meeting will be at 8 at the Township Hall, 2840 Fisher.

The areas of the township in question are to the west, east and southeast of Walled Lake.

Also up for annexation are about one and a half square miles of the Village of Wolverine Lake.

Five Candidates File Petitions for Council Positions in Leonard

LEONARD — Five candidates will seek three two-year terms on the Village Council at the March 11 election, according to Clerk Mrs. Calvin Scheall.

★ ★ ★

Filing as Republicans were incumbents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pease plus newcomer Eugene Mallia. Democrats include Julius Terry, incumbent, and Calvin Scheall.

★ ★ ★

Cecil Liestman has filed again for the position of president; Mrs. Scheall for clerk; and Dwight Patterson for assessor. Mrs. Julia Binning seeks for the first time the position of treasurer. Mrs. Mary Vore, treasurer for the past three years, did not file nominating petitions.

HEROES — Charles W. Trombley, 16, and his sister, Charlotte, 17, Walled Lake High Shcool students, were honored last night by the Wolverine Lake Village Council for saving an 8-year-old boy after he fell through ice on a canal near Wolverine Lake Dec. 15. Charles and Charlotte are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Trombley of 1065 Lakeview, Wolverine Lake.

Water Cut Off in Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — The entire village of Lake Orion was without water for two-and-a-quarter hours during the dinner period last evening.

★ ★ ★

Manager John Reineck said electrical problems at the main village plant had blown out one motor and that a pump froze at the Swiss Village station which serves Bellvue Island.

The latter incident was attributed to window breakage in the pump house over the weekend, Reineck said.

Fire Departments from Oxford and Orion Township Gingeville stations were alerted to stand by in case of emergency.

★ ★ ★

Reineck said auxiliary equipment had been put into use by 7 p.m. last night to alleviate the situation.

PRIMARY ELECTION

The village council met in regular session followng the emergency and called for a primary election in the village Feb. 19. Reineck said nominating petitions would be available Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The resignation of Dr. R. A. McNeil from the planning commission was tabled in an effort to get him to change his mind, Reineck said.

Avon Twp. Park for Mobile Homes Is Nearer Reality

AVON TOWNSHIP — The likelihood of establishing a mobile home park on Auburn Road between Leach and Harvey has moved closer to reality.

★ ★ ★

Reportedly acceptable to nearby neighbors, the park was thwarted by zoning restrictions which called for a buffer zone all around the property.

★ ★ ★

The township planning commission has tabled for further study a proposition that Sidney Lockhart be allowed to build the park from M59 to the rear of his property on I-75 with allowance for a multiple buffer zone on only the easterly limits. Industrial zoning abuts on the west of the 103 acres involved.

★ ★ ★

A Feb. 21 hearing was set on a request to allow multiple construction on 1.32 acres of McGregor property west of the city of Rochester. The land had previously been zoned for residential.

★ ★ ★

Slavik Developers asked that a second similar request involving 36 acres remain tabled for further work.

Pontiac Township Signs COG Papers

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Roy Wahl announced yesterday that he had signed membership papers for the township in the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

★ ★ ★

Voted by the Township Board last August, membership was delayed by Wahl, he said, until the supervisor studied the organization further. He said present membership is on a trial basis.

★ ★ ★

The application was accompanied by a $200 check for membership dues for a year, Wahl said.

Board OKs Vocational Center

CLARKSTON — A required resolution approving the Clarkston School District as a site for one of four voter-approved vocational education centers in the county was unanimously approved by the Board of Education here last night.

Following a discussion of what such a center could mean to the district, board members agreed with Dr. L. F. Greene, schools' superintendent, that the new program could in no way jeopardize Clarkston's present vocational program and that the facility would provide another learning center in the community.

Other such centers have been proposed for Pontiac, Walled Lake and Royal Oak.

Greene expected that much of the organization, construction and control of the center would be left to the Clarkston Board of Education, with the Oakland Intermediate School District reimbursing Clarkston for all construction and operation costs.

In other business, the board voted to sell 2.5 acres from a 40-acre parcel along Orion Road to the Independence Township Public Library as a site for its proposed new building.

COST APPRAISAL

The cost of the land is to be determined by an impartial appraiser.

The remainder of the land, located south of Orion Road across from the Ben Powell property, is proposed as the site of a new schools administration building and a future elementary school.

A safety report of school traffic along Waldon Road, arising from a recent accident to a junior high school student, revelaed that Michigan State Police officers would patrol the road two days a week temporarily.

★ ★ ★

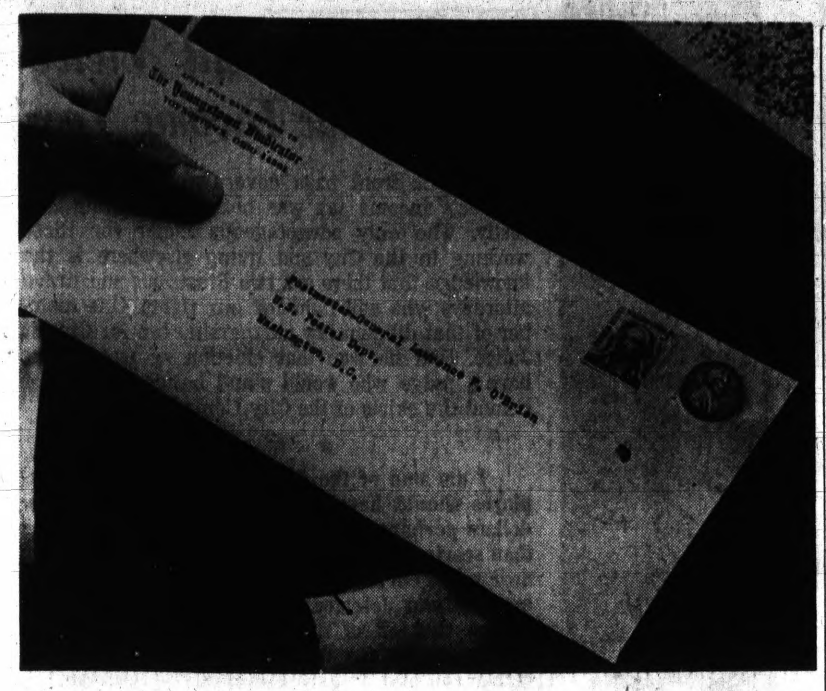

An enforcement of vehicular and pedestrian traffic is sought.

SPEED LIMIT

George Barrie, assistant superintendent, reported that the idea of reducing the speed limit in the area from the present 35 miles per hour to 25 miles per hour had been discarded as being impractical.

A safety education program for students was also promised.

Tenure was granted two district teachers, and four others were placed on second-year probation.

PENNY FOR THE THOUGHTS—A letter pleading for quick delivery of new six-cent stamps is on its way to Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien from the Youngstown Vindicator with a shiny penny affixed. The Youngstown Post Office hadn't received the new six-centers and had no one-centers.

Foreign Leaders Back Dollar Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign government and banking leaders have generally endorsed President Johnson's measures to reduce the U.S. balance of payments as "necessary, essential, courageous and absolutely unavoidable," presidential emissaries report.

But many of them warn, the U.S. officials say, that controls on overseas investment and tourism won't work well without a domestic tax increase.

★ ★ ★

One of the touring officials, Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach, said in a news conference Monday Johnson's restrictions to defend the dollar will be sustained largely by the response of nations with balance of payments surpluses.

Immediately after the restrictions were announced Johnson sent Katzenbach and three other officials overseas to explain the move. Katzenbach toured seven European countries.

MOVE EXPLAINED

Undersecretary of State Eugene Rostow visited Japan, Australia and New Zealand. Treasury Undersecretary Frederick L. Deming talked with heads of central European banks. William Roth, presidential adviser on trade negotiations, also saw European financial leaders.

The officials acknowledged there is concern in many countries about the effect of the measures. Rostow said there is some fear they will result in a money shortage and might "trigger the revival of protectionism."

★ ★ ★

They said leaders in all the nations they visited urged the United States to increase taxes.

Katzenbach said one possible way to increase exports and decrease imports is to levy a tax on imports and issue a rebate to exporters, provided they are within the rules of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

RESTRICTIONS

The President's proposed restrictions include mandatory control of overseas investments, an appeal to American tourists not to travel outside the Western Hemisphere, pressure to offset the cost of maintaining U.S. troops abroad by inducing the host nation to buy more American arms or U.S. Treasury bonds, and undisclosed measures to raise exports and curb imports.

Katzenbach said there is no question of placing restrictions on the amount of dollars tourists can take overseas. He declined to spell out what measures will be proposed to Congress but agreed that a head tax, increase of passport fees, and a fee for each day spent abroad are being considered.

★ ★ ★

He suggested students, teachers and persons who have not traveled abroad for a certain number of years might be exempted from the restrictions.

Post Offices Are Hit by Stamp Rush

NEW YORK (AP) — Queues formed at post offices yesterday as Americans adjusted to higher postal rates.

The lines at postal windows were made up mostly of those wanting to buy penny stamps or those costing 6 or 10 cents. The confusion mostly involved letter-writers trying to blend stamps already on hand into the new rates which became effective at midnight Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

At Waterbury, Conn., one letter turned up in the post office bearing a nickel stamp with a penny taped on the envelope next to it. Michael Nolan, foreman of mail, said:

"It could be sent back as illegal, but we'll give the sender the benefit of the doubt this time. I'll just go upstairs and buy a one-cent stamp with the penny."

A flurry of heavy mailing preceded the Saturday night deadline when first-class rates went up from 5 to 6 cents for a letter, 8 to 10 cents for airmail and 4 to 5 cents for a postal card. Third-class bulk mail went up from 2⅞ cents a piece to 3.6 cents.

In Buffalo, N.Y., 600,000 letters were dumped through the slots—400,000 more than the usual Saturday collection.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for New York's Manhattan post office said 3.5 million pieces of mail—seven times as many as usual—were deposited on Saturday. The crush included not only first-class letters but a heavy influx of third-class bulk mail, mainly advertising circulars.

Los Angeles had 5.1 million piece of first-class mail on Friday, compared with the average 4 million, and 1.5 million on Saturday, when the normal take is 1 million.

SOLD OUT

The post office at Neosho, Mo., sold out its one-centers and had to borrow 20,000 from neighboring Joplin.

Clerks were put on overtime to handle the six-center rush at Cincinnati's main post office. Harry Weingarten, assistant superintendent, said he had laid in a supply of 250,000 and was hoping the customers ran out of enthusiasm before he ran out of stamps.

★ ★ ★

Postmaster Joseph Benucci of Newark, N.J., said, "It looks like Christmas has hit us all over again."

One bemused housewife asked: "How much are the five-cent stamps now that the rate has gone up?"

Double Taxation for Some

Land Transfer Levy Explained

By ED BLUNDEN

A tax on land transfers that will mean approximately $355,000 in extra revenue to Oakland County also means double taxation for a few unlucky persons.

The tax is not a new tax as explained by John D. Murphy, county clerk-register of deeds. It is a tax that was formerly imposed by the U. S. government, but expired.

The State Legislature imposed a similar law apparently to give local governments more revenue, Murphy said. The tax goes into the county general fund.

The levy, which has some widespread ramifications, is 55 cents per $500. The amount is not large ($16.50 for a $15,000 home) except in the million-dollar-deal range. However, with some 400 to 600 deeds or contracts recorded daily in the county, it mounts up.

★ ★ ★

The double taxation for some came about with changes in the law as to when the fee should be paid. Until Dec. 31, the U.S. stamp had to be affixed at the time of execution of the deed (when it was signed and notarized). Under the new law payment is to be made at time of recording at the county office.

LATE-COMERS

Thus, all persons who purchased the U.S. stamp and executed their deed prior to Dec. 31, but didn't record it at the county office will face a similar fee when they show up, according to Murphy.

Murphy says that in the week prior to the new year, his office was working night and day to record deeds as mortgage firms knowing of the impending situation crowded his office. Some 1,600 transactions were recorded in the last two days, he said.

"Most people dealing with property were aware of the situation and wanted to save their clients money. However, others didn't or couldn't make the deadline and will have to pay twice," he said.

★ ★ ★

A ramification of the state law may prove of interest as regards studying property values, particularly in Oakland County. Murphy said the tax requires a statement as to exactly how much money the land purchase involved.

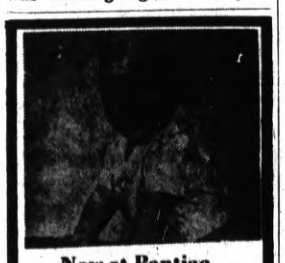

Thus those responsible for assessing property according to market value (also a relatively new state law requirement) will be able to get a clearer picture of what land and property is selling for, after a reasonable length of time.

★ ★ ★

Also, those who feel they are being assessed too highly could build a case for themselves by examining transaction records at the county office.

★ ★ ★

The State Tax Commission estimates $3.6 million will go to state counties this year with the new tax. Wayne County will get about $1.2 million and Macomb County $235,000.

THE NO-CALORIE DIET

No fats, no carbohydrates, no proteins, no nothing. That's the kind of diet (or close to it) 10,000 men, women and children in underdeveloped countries are dying on every day.

Simply because there's not enough food to go around. And not enough know-how to grow more.

What you know about farming (or what we can teach you) can mean the beginning of the end of starvation to people in the 50 nations where the Peace Corps works. What you know about planting, for instance. Or irrigating or fertilizing or crop rotation or growing livestock. Or anything else you can help them help themselves with.

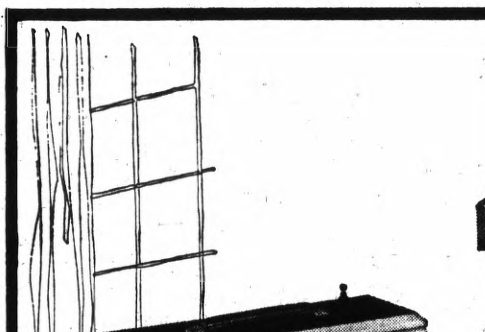

What will you get out of it? Two years of being completely on your own in a completely strange environment. Hard work and challenge and frustration. But maybe for a lot of people you'll have changed a diet of ignorance into one of knowledge. Sickness into health. Despair into hope. And can you think of a better diet?

Gun Theft Indicts 'Center' Security

The theft of more than 50 weapons ranging from bazooka-type rocket launchers to automatic pistols from the Pontiac Army Reserve Center is to be viewed in much more serious light than that of the generality of burglaries.

Not only is it a haul of considerable extent, one that could well have lethal consequences for an area already suffering the depradations of armed criminals, but it poses two questions awaiting answers:

• Why was the "small arsenal" not stored in a theft-proof vault?

• If not that, why were the Center premises not humanly guarded against such a break-in?

★ ★ ★

Regardless of the fact that no ammunition was stored in the armory and that the majority of weapons were inoperative without procurement of missing components, the implicit threat to the community is little reduced.

In this day of organized crime, it is a safe assumption that both ammunition and parts could readily be obtained to make the weapons effective in the hands of those of evil intent.

★ ★ ★

Government authorities responsible for the local Army Reserve Center as well as those throughout the State should take immediate action to safeguard military equipment against a repetition of an occurrence so inimical to the safety of the citizenry.

Racial Prejudice the Loser in Heart Transplant

The color of CLIVE HAUPT'S skin made no difference to dying PHILIP BLAIBERG, who, with HAUPT'S beating heart inside him, became the second in history to undergo a successful heart transplant operation.

It made no difference to Dr. CHRISTIAN BARNARD, leader of the medical team which performed both operations in Capetown. Blood type, not racial type, was his overriding concern.

★ ★ ★

It made no difference to the race-conscious government of South Africa, any more than did previous kidney exchanges between Negroes and whites that have taken place in that country.

Finally, clergymen in Capetown said they have no objections to the operation on a racial basis. Presumably, then, God also approves.

★ ★ ★

And it is safe to say that race would have been no consideration in the two transplants recently performed in the United States.

But why should it make any difference?

If there is any logical validity in classifying and segregating men according to race, as they are by the precise laws of South Africa and the customs and attitudes of other countries, why should the internal organs be excluded from this discrimination?

★ ★ ★

If blood, kidneys and hearts are interchangeable, just how important are the superficial variations of skin color, lip shape, hair type?

As long as one man's "white" blood flows through his veins by the grace of another man's "colored" heart, it will be a constant rebuke that these questions are unanswered.

Science, by virtue of the rapid social and technological changes it inspires, is rendering many of our cherished beliefs and prejudices obsolete. Those who cry out, "Where is science taking us?" could do worse than begin to emulate the inquiring, open-minded attitude that made this second historic medical feat possible.

Cost of Christmas 'Spirit' in Steady Rise

Americans spent something like $20 million on gifts the Christmas just past.

That's $20 million, not for the gifts themselves but just to wrap them — in tons of brightly printed, expensive, heavy foil; miles of shiny ribbon; millions of perfectly formed machine-made bows and other decorations.

★ ★ ★

It's a sign of our national affluence, we suppose, when wrappings can cost so much in proportion to what's wrapped. It's a form of conspicuous consumption a lot of people are finding themselves participating in whether they want to or not.

How many seasons has it been since the stores displayed that cheap, flimsy red and green tissue paper we used to think was so pretty and suitable for its purpose?

★ ★ ★

You can't hardly find that kind any more, for any amount of money.

Romney 'Spring Training' Is Over

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—"This is the end of the Grapefruit League. The real season is just starting."

Thus George Romney shrugged off the past months in the preseason race for the Republican presidential pennant and reached for a heavier bat to try to knock Richard M. Nixon out of the park in New Hampshire.

The Grapefruit League, for nonsports fans, is the spring training competition between major league baseball teams before the official, money-on-the-line season opens.

It can be a fantasy time. Burned-out pitchers find their fast ball again—for a couple of weeks. Batters who can't hit their hat wallop dents in the fences. Losers cavort like winners, and winners look like losers.

★ ★ ★

And George Romney, whose grapefruit season seemed a bit of a lemon, would not mind seeing Richard Nixon give a sore-arm performance in New Hampshire and be forced to take an early shower.

THIN ODDS

The odds are thin indeed, however.

A Romney aide acknowledges the Michigan governor has—in the past seven months of sometimes intense activity—fallen farther behind Nixon.

"There was a poll taken that showed Romney in a more unfavorable position than a poll taken in June," the aide said.

★ ★ ★

"But it was more of a matter of a Nixon gain than a Romney drop."

3-TO-1 EDGE

Reportedly, the private poll shows Nixon approaching a 3-to-1 edge, making gains in the ranks of the undecided.

Romney acknowledges he is an underdog. But he contends the position has an advantage—that he isn't expected to win in New Hampshire so a loss won't be devastating and that the only direction he can go is up.

But there is another direction: down and out. Many feel that will be the only direction left to the jut-jawed Michigan governor if he is clobbered by Nixon in New Hampshire March 12.

★ ★ ★

Both Romney and Nixon strategists see New Hampshire made to order for the Michigan governor's pavement-pounding, face-to-face campaigning.

CAMPAIGN EXPERT

"Romney is one of the most effective campaigners in the country," says a Nixon adviser, "and New Hampshire is a small state which lends itself to the type of campaign at which Gov. Romney is expert."

The governor, Romney associates say, will try to shake every hand in the state.

"The New Hampshire primary is crucial," says an adviser to the governor. "It's good it's a small state."

★ ★ ★

Didn't the poll results discourage him?

"I'm not smiling broadly," says the Romney man," but I'm not throwing in the sponge, either."

HIDDEN CONFIDENCE

On the other hand Nixon people obviously don't want to show overconfidence.

"If I were a betting man," says one who apparently prefers football to baseball, "I would say Richard Nixon by one touchdown or less in New Hampshire."

(James Marlow, who usually writes this column, is ill.)

Things Weren't Bad Enough Before!

David Lawrence Says:

Citizens Must Obey the Law

WASHINGTON — There is a difference between speaking out publicly against a law deemed unwise or undesirable and urging citizens to disobey that same law. But strangely enough, five otherwise knowledgeable persons have been indicted by a federal grand jury because they presumably do not know the difference.

LAWRENCE

When the cases are heard in court many citizens may similarly learn what the schools and the colleges should long ago have taught — that laws must be obeyed even though the citizen may disapprove of them.

Since the indictments were returned against the five individuals charged with conspiring to encourage and aid young persons to evade the draft, the defendants have again done an unusual thing in arguing their case in public before a trial in court has begun.

One of them frankly said the Selective Service Act should be resisted and that, if the government issues "orders contrary to the interests of humanity," citizens should resist them.

There is no question about the "right of revolution." Anybody may "rebel" against the government. But he has to take the responsibility for his acts and accept the punishment that the law-abiding majority may impose upon him through the courts or by military action.

★ ★ ★

It is apparent that some of the defendants feel that the publicity given their cases will increase the sentiment against the war in Vietnam, and hence "martyrdom" is welcomed.

Dr. Benjamin Spock, one of those indicted, said: "If going to jail helps the movement, I'm for it."

But will it help the movement? Millions of people throughout the United States are learning that the antiwar sentiment inside this country is helping to extend the war.

The enemies of the United States in Southeast Asia are erroneously assuming that the protests will be effective. This means the conflict actually will be prolonged at a higher and higher cost in human lives.

★ ★ ★

The recent indictments handed down by a federal grand jury allege that there was a conspiracy calling for a nationwide program of draft resistance through the organization of demonstrations to interrupt the induction process at draft centers, advising draft resisters how to avoid induction, and helping them surrender their draft or classification cards.

Some of the acts mentioned occurred when more than 350 draft cards were delivered to the Justice Department with the request that the group which submitted them be arrested, so as to exhibit sympathy with the antiwar movement. The maximum penalty on conviction is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The Supreme Court has again and again declared that demonstrators are immune from punishment only if they themselves do not incite to violence. But individuals have been arrested and punishments have been meted out for failing to get permits or for refusing to obey the requests of police that groups disband when violence ensues.

Bob Considine Says:

Our Friends Help China to Increase Its Threat

NEW YORK — There are several reasons behind the administration's decision to build a "thin" multibillion dollar anti-missile defense against Red China's dawning rocket capability.

CONSIDINE

One of the reasons is that our friends are helping our enemy, China, to increase its threat to the free world.

The friends are not necessarily selling Mao Tse-tung the technological gizzards which stuff his missiles. But they are selling China the stuff that goes into the men who devise the missiles, or into machines which fashion them.

Japan let its semiofficial trade pact with Peking expire as the new year approached, but it will be business pretty much as usual nevertheless.

In 1967 that business meant $560 million in Japanese machinery, steel, chemical fertilizers, electronic gear, transistor radios, textiles, and Chinese food and ore.

UP TRADE

Two other choice associates in the family of free nations, West Germany and Italy, upped their trade with China in 1967, Germany by 83.9 per cent and Italy by 63.7 per cent, a New York Times survey shows.

Indeed, in certain Japanese business circles there is an angry feeling that Germany, Italy and other western European powers are selling goods to China at a loss in order to cut into Japan's lucrative sales.

Canada continues to sell wheat to China. Our friendly neighbor would benefit, of course, if there is ever a need to make use of the "thin" anti-Chinese missile facilities.

So, as President Johnson often retorts, "Well, boy, what would you do?"

NEED FRIENDSHIP

We need the friendship of the three powers we resurrected after World War II, Japan, West Germany and Italy. It goes without saying also that we need to remain friendly with Canada, Greece, Norway and the others who are giving aid and comfort to a foe considered by us and the Russians to be the most menacing power on earth today.

Should we attempt to assert our authority over European allies? Shall we cut old ties over a relatively piddling sum of dollars?

Friendly British Hong Kong means about a billion dollars a year to the economy of China. The crown colony is a vivid microcosm of the whole vexing problem of trading with the enemy.

A large percentage of the water Hong Kong drinks comes from mainland China, plus nearly all the chickens, pigs and other produce on which it feeds.

MUDDLING ALONG

Miles of textiles and lace flow into Hong Kong from Canton every day. But an American traveler to Hong Kong, having survived in part because of Red Chinese goods and services, could be prosecuted if he purchased a 50-cent Chinese-made handkerchief and attempted to bring it to the United States.

Voice of the People:

Readers Submit Views on Pontiac Income Tax

Recent front page coverage of the City of Pontiac's income tax was both enlightening and costly. The only advantageous factor for those working in the City and living elsewhere is the knowledge that there are two illustrious and brave attorneys who will fight for our rights. One member of that diligent law partnership ran for Circuit Judge. Had he won that election we would now have a judge who would stand beside us and not behind the skirts of the City Commission, etc.

★ ★ ★

I am one of the first to agree that City employes should have decent wages, but having tax dollars perhaps misspent is much more disgusting than scaring the City residents into believing that near negligence will occur if this ridiculous tax is opposed and defeated. It has been meritoriously proven that all of the surrounding law enforcement agencies, fire departments, etc., working together can and do have the ability to perform.

If this area had more men and women like Cunningham and Coon who speak out and do what is right for the people, this area would be the greatest place in which to live, but not the most expensive.

MARJO VANDERKOOY
836 TYRONE

Thanks to the Voice of the People, it is possible to let City Hall know that I do not agree with the manner in which the recent City income tax was forced down our throats. I agree that a City income tax is probably the fairest and easiest way to obtain additional funds which are apparently needed. However, instead of more spending, perhaps the answer is spending more wisely. Policemen and firemen are grossly underpaid. I would not subject myself to the dangers, abuses and ridicule they go through for the salaries they receive. The thought of laying off policemen and firemen from an already undermanned force is beyond comprehension.

★ ★ ★

My "morale would be high" too if I had the power to force something upon upwards of 80,000 citizens, not to mention the 1,900 citizens who in good faith signed the petition calling for a vote. I wish the City of Pontiac had defended the right to vote on this tax half as much as they defended the need for the tax. It would have restored my faith in the democratic way.

JOHN G. BISHOP
114 E. HOWARD

Thousands living in Pontiac petition for a referendum on the City income tax and because of some alleged legal flyspeck are summarily brushed off. They are of no account. After all, they do nothing but pay the tax. Other thousands of us outside of Pontiac have no opportunity to vote at all. This is what the Boston Tea Party was all about—taxation without representation.

R. F. DOHNER
725 GERTRUDE

So the registered voters of Pontiac who signed the referendum petitions pertaining to a City income tax thought they had that right. Just because the City charter states you have a right to referendum you felt you were privileged to exercise that right. Now do you not feel a bit foolish for entertaining such an idea?

Referendum is defined as: "the principle or procedure of referring or submitting measures already passed on by the legislative body to the vote of the electorate for approval or rejection." Your petitions let it be known you wanted to exercise what you thought was your right. However, legal maneuvering nullified your petitions and Judge Beer ruled that Pontiac does not have to hold a special election on the City income tax. Really, voters, do you feel you are entitled to a say in such matters as taxes?

'Right-Winger News Should Be in Headlines'

A few weeks ago a person complained that you gave the left-winger all the publicity and none to the right-winger. Your reply was that you'd give the right-wingers publicity if they made the news. Which is of more legal significance — a certified copy of a birth record (delayed record of birth) issued by the Department of Public Health, State of Illinois, in 1951 or a check of the 1920 census by the U.S. Census Bureau when establishing one's age?

RALPH GRIFFITH LAKE ORION

REPLY

We assume you need this information for Social Security purposes, and we talked with Mrs. Hanson at the Social Security office in Pontiac. She says both would be used to establish your age, but the Census check would be of more significance because it was established earlier in your life.

(Editor's Note: Information given us earlier by a police officer concerning BB guns in the City of Pontiac was incorrect. We were told there is no age limit on possession so long as they are not shot within the City limits. However, we have learned there is a City ordinance which prohibits use, or possession, of air guns, air pistols, bows and arrows and sling shots by anyone under 18. It is unlawful for a parent or guardian to knowingly permit such use or possession, and anyone violating this ordinance is subject to $25 fine, or 10 days in jail if the fine is not paid.)

Navy Captain Trades Top Sea Post for Shore Duty

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the Navy's most promising—and controversial—captains has traded the scheduled prestigious assignment as commanding officer of the battleship New Jersey for shore duty in Boston, the New York Times said today.

The Washington story said Capt. Richard G. Alexander listed "personal reasons" in asking for the switch in assignments.

★ ★ ★

It said Alexander refused to discuss the reasons in a telephone interview Monday night. He was quoted: "All I can say is that I regret having to get a transfer. No real Navy man likes to go ashore. No assignment can equal the New Jersey."

Alexander, 45, has been in the Navy for 24 years. His rank is equivalent to a colonel in the Army.

TIMES STORY

The Times story said in part: Defense Department sources said Alexander's reassignment could be viewed only as the latest development in a complex case that began almost two years ago when another skipper was summarily relieved of command of a radar picket ship.

Alexander fought for reinstatement of the relieved officer, Lt. Cmdr. Marcus Aurelius Arnheiter. But the struggle, which became bitter at times, has been unsuccessful. According to various sources, Arnheiters problems arose from the manner in which he tried to whip his crew into shape.

House to Air Crackdown on Aid to Enemy in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would set stiff new penalties for those whose opposition to U.S. policy in Vietnam extends to aiding the enemy will kick off House debate on the war this year.

The measure sponsored by Rep. Joe R. Pool, D-Tex., would provide penalties up to $20,000 and 20 years imprisonment for persons convicted of helping the North Vietnamese or Vietcong The penalties could reach $10,000 and five years for those who block or try to block U.S. troops trains.

★ ★ ★

It is one of only two bills that already have cleared the rules committee and this is ready for House consideration when Congress reconvenes next week.

Backed by all but one member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, the bill generated administration opposition—plus a flurry of patriotic oratory—when the House voted last Nov. 17 by a 211 to 27 margin to consider it.

'SWAMPS OF VIETNAM'

While U.S. soldiers "wade through the mire and the muck and the swamps of Vietnam," Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., said then, "some people over in this country are sabotaging the efforts those boys are putting forth."

★ ★ ★

Noting administration opposition to the bill, Rep. James H. Quillen, R-Tenn., said: "They are not reaching out with their hearts in memory of these men fighting and dying for the red, white and blue of our flag."

★ ★ ★

Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo., an opponent of the legislation, said, "It is possible for a person to disapprove of this bill and oppose this bill and to be a perfectly loyal, committed and dedicated citizen."

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and other administrative officials have maintained the bill is unnecessary, a stand supported by only Rep. John C. Culver, D-Iowa, among the nine committee members.

FLOOR FIGHT

Culver says he'll wage a floor fight against the bill by warning it actually undermines U.S. troops in Vietnam "by acting contrary to constitutional principles we all advocate in meeting a problem for which better solutions exist."

HUD Funds OK'd for State Projects

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) yesterday awarded loans and grants totaling more than $4.7 million for projects in Michigan.

A $3 mililon loan was approved for Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant for the construction of two dormitories. The university will contribute $208,000 of its own funds.

HUD approved a $1,036,608 grant to Detroit for development of the Forest Park urban renewal project into low-rent housing for large families.

Special news for owners of paid-up* John Hancock Weekly Premium Life Insurance

John Hancock has made a basic change in one of its oldest life insurance plans protecting families all across the United States. This change is another example of our continuing attention to the insurance needs of the families and businesses that count on their John Hancock man for the finest in life insurance service.

*If your weekly premium policy is paid-up — that is, no further premiums are required as of December 31, 1967 — your benefits resulting from death or dismemberment may have been increased from five to as much as twenty percent, depending on when you purchased your policy. Your policy cash value may have increased too. (These increases apply only to policies issued prior to 1962, and will be included in benefit payments made after December 31, 1967.)

If you own a paid-up weekly premium policy purchased prior to 1962, see your local John Hancock District Agent for all the details, or write us at the address below.

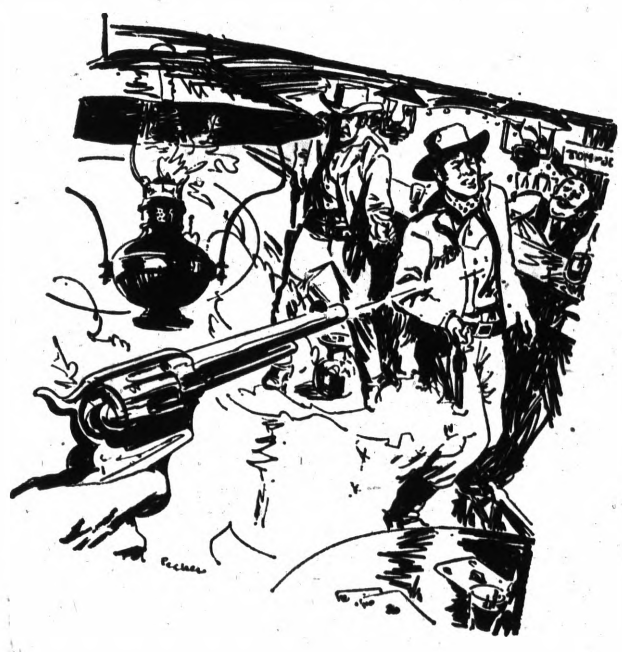

You may be surprised how special this news will be.

Lyon Twp. Man Injured in Blast

Listed Critical After Gas Station Explosion

A 31-year-old man is in critical condition in Wayne County General Hospital from burns received when a gas station exploded and burned Sunday in Lyon Township.

The fire started when the victim, Melbourne Cash, 31, of 29720 Milford, Lyon Township, dropped a light bulb which broke near a gasoline container, said New Hudson Fire Chief F. J. Knapp.

Cash, at the time, was repairing his car in the pit of the Sunoco gas station at 57017 Grand River. The station is owned by Mrs. C. Erwin Pettengill and operated by Edward G. Fitzsimmons.

There is no monetary estimate of the damage yet, said Knapp.

★ ★ ★

The New Hudson fire department put about 7,000 gallons of water on the fire during about two and a half hours until the fire was under control, said the chief.

A tanker truck from Novi assisted the New Hudson department.

Aimed at Developing Waterford Activities

The second session in a series of discussions aimed at developing activities guidelines for Waterford Township's young people and their parents will be held at 7:30 tonight at Pierce Junior High School, 5145 Hatchery.

★ ★ ★

Cosponsored by the Greater Waterford Community Council and the Waterford Township Youth Assistance Committee, the meetings are open to the public. Interested parents and secondary school students are urged to attend.

Topics to be discussed are parent-youth relationships; allowances; social events and hours; dating; curfews; duties and responsibilities toward the family, school and community; telephone use; driving, drinking; school relationships; and public behavior.

At the first session on Dec. 12, the turnout included 27 students from five of the township's eight public and parochial secondary schools.

★ ★ ★

They discussed the various topics, but made no decisions.

RECOMMENDATIONS

For tonight' meeting, the students were asked to come prepared with written recommendations to be compiled and presented for final discussion Jan. 17.

The topics will be discussed in small groups, the students and parents separated.

Chairman of the youth assistance committee's youth code project is Mrs. John Scott. Rev. Lawrence Kaiser of Our Lady of the Lake School is cochairman.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Kingsley Montgomery, assistant superintendent of children's services for the Waterford Township School District, moderates the panels.

Area Boy Scouts Reach a Record Membership

Area boy scouting is on the increase.

Year-end figures show 11,565 boys enrolled, a new membership high for the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The council observes its 50th anniversary this year.

Membership total represents a 9.2 per cent gain, or 969 boys over the total at the end of 1966.

"The year 1967 was an exciting one. We are making great progress and it's wonderful to know that more boys than ever are enrolled in scouting here. But we also realize that much work has to be done. Our drive to bring scouting to all interested boys will continue," said George A. DeCourcy, council president.

Boys wishing information on scouting may contact leaders of their local units or the council office at 132 Franklin Blvd.

Members of the Chippewa Lodge of the Order of the Arrow elected new officers for the upcoming year at a recent annual winter meeting at Camp Agawam.

Elected chief was Charles Horsch, 6595 Eastlawn, Clarkston; Lonnie Bone, 1634 Inverness, West Bloomfield Township, vice chief; Dave McGeen, 552 Lake Angelus, Pontiac Township, secretary; and Paul Rickey, 21985 Leyte, Farmington, treasurer.

New Virgil Honor candidates cited for exceptional leadership are Horsch, Art McQuinn, 3390 Loon Lake Shores, Waterford Township; Glenn Tincknell, 990 North Rochester, Lake Orion; and Cal Meyers, 255 West Cornell.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
$1,000,000.00
THE BOARD OF EDUCATION OF OAKLAND SCHOOLS
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN
BUILDING AND SITE BONDS, SERIES 1967

Sealed bids for the purchase of Building and Site Bonds, Series 1967, to be issued by the Board of Education of Oakland Schools, Oakland County, Michigan (formerly known as the Intermediate School District of Oakland County and hereinafter referred to as the "School District"), of the par value of $1,000,000, will be received by the undersigned, at the Board of Education offices in said school district, Campus Drive, Oakland County Service Center, Pontiac, Michigan, until 4:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, the 25th day of January, 1968, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated September 1, 1967, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each or in larger denominations at the option of the original purchaser, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 5% per annum, payable on May 1, 1968, and thereafter semi-annually on November 1 and May 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ or 1/20 of 1% of any combination thereof. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only and shall be represented by one coupon only for each coupon period and all bonds maturing in the same year shall carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially in principal amounts as follows: $250,000 on May 1, 1971; $500,000 on May 1, 1972, and $250,000 on May 1, 1973. Bonds maturing in the year 1973 will be subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the school district in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after May 1, 1972, at the par value thereof and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds, and bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company, qualified under the laws of the State of Michigan or the Federal Government to serve as paying agent, as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds. A co-paying agent likewise so qualified may also be so designated. The designation of the paying agent and co-paying agent shall be subject to the approval of the School District.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of defraying the cost of completing the construction and equipping of the building presently being erected to provide office and other facilities for the school district, and will be the general obligations of the School District, which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount, as provided in the Constitution of Michigan.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from Feb. 1, 1968 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $20,000, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of The Board of Education of Oakland Schools, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds, with the legal opinion printed on the back thereof, will be paid by the school district. There will also be furnished the usual closing documents, including a non-litigation certificate, dated as of the date of delivery of the bonds. Bonds will be delivered at school district expense at Detroit, Michigan, or at such other place as may be mutually agreed upon. Payment shall be made in Federal Reserve funds if so requested by the school district.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

W. J. EMERSON,
Secretary of The Board of Education of Oakland Schools

Five professional nitpickers criticize the Javelin.

"Javelin is a world apart from the other ponycars in styling, comfort, space and features...the car turned and cornered as if it were nailed to the road...Nearly every interior dimension is larger than its competitors, and three in the full width back seat is a reality...Performance of our test car was just short of surprising...Too few cars have brakes equal to the optional front disc/rear drum power units on the Javelin..." —Motor Trend, January, 1968

"BRAND NEW IMAGE BUSTER...transmission responds well to hard active operation and the synchromesh is all but faultless...driving the Javelin is an interesting and satisfying experience...the ability to bring a howl from the rear wheels in any of the lower gears is undeniably exciting...the Javelin has a lot of things going for it..." —Car Life, December, 1967

"AN EXCITING NEW SPORTSTER...A real racy-looking car...shows up well on the road-handling course...fun to drive... particularly liked the action of the optional power steering...The Javelin reacts almost the same at high speed as it does during low-speed maneuvers." —Popular Science Monthly, September, 1967

"AN AMERICAN DREAM...seat is surprisingly soft...On long series of tight right-and left hand curves, the quick response, the time it took to go from one steady state to another, was pleasingly impressive...Javelin's brakes were all we could want...optional heavy-duty suspension and wide tread tires really work wonders...you could feel and even control the point at which tire adhesion gave way..." —Hot Rod Magazine, December, 1967

"FRONT END OF JAVELIN IS MEAN LOOKING...Fresh, clean lines and a luxurious interior...interior appointments very comfortable and well-laid out...visibility forward is excellent...has a lot more legroom than is generally associated with pony cars..." —Motorcade, November, 1967

'Gimmick Night' Set

By DONNA FURLONG

Waterford Kettering High's Student Council will sponsor the first activity of the new year.

The event will be called "Gimmick Night at W-K" and be held from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Students will be able to play tug-of-war, twister and other games. The Electric Blues will furnish the music.

Thursday morning the band will perform at an assembly for the school. This is the sixth assembly in a series to familiarize students with the different aspects of music. Thursday's theme will be "Partners in Music."

★ ★ ★

During the presentation three phases, composition, performance and communication will be discussed.

FEATURED ON PIANO

Featured on the piano will be Judy Thompson in the Hungarian Folk Suite. Bob Gohl will solo in Seascape. Student conductor is John Hascall.

Don VanDyke will narrate "Meet Our Band," which will introduce each instrument and section.

Drum majors Tom Reinhart and Dave Perkins will take over the marching band. Twirlers Sue Lynn Robinson, Wanda Corey and Rosemary Corey will twirl to Gridiron Heroes.

Solos will be played by Curt Darling, Bill Daugherty, Sandy Onglehart, Scott Parrot, Tom Reinhart and Judy Thompson.

ACTIVITY NIGHT

Monday, the Girls' Athletic Association Letter Club will hold an activity night in the gym. Admission is by membership only.

Officers for the Swim Club are Nancy Hogarth, president; Ed Jordon, vice president; Mona Haviland, secretary, and Marcia Steehler, treasurer.

Today during sixth hour an assembly was held to "boom" spirit for the game against archrival Waterford Township tonight.

Saturday College Board Testing will be given.

Exams Charted at Rochester

By KARIN HEADLEE

As Rochester High School students returned from their Christmas vacations, they were greeted with the 1968 exam schedule. Set for Jan. 23-25, exams will be given from 8-11:10 a.m. with two tests daily. Friday has been set aside as a teachers' records' day and a holiday for students.

The traffic jam commonly found between the new and the old buildings at RHS has been alleviated. The glass partitions and framework for the doors were removed from the hallway.

Rochester High believes in equality for all. Not only have the girls recognized boy cheerleaders, but they are sharing their cooking utensils and kitchen with the boys.

Utica Ski Club Really Jumpin'

By LOIS HADLER

What costs $5 and is worth it? Membership in the Utica High School Ski Club! At least 189 students seem to think so.

★ ★ ★

Not being a typical club that does just what its name implies, the Ski Club carries on many activities including skating, tobogganing and anything that has to do with snow, ice or winter.

This year during the semester break, a limited number of members and the Ski Club sponsors will spend several days skiing in the Boyne Mountain area.

The trip is being arranged by Dave Sergeant, northern trip chairman, with approval by the sponsors.

★ ★ ★

Ski Club sponsors are Jerry Thomas, Mrs. Keith Isaacson, Anton Bucan, James King and Mary Jane Seaman.

★ ★ ★

The Ski Club also contains those fleet-on-their-feet students known as the Utica High Ski Team. Marlene Beck, president, Dave Dina, treasurer and the rest of the club conducted an all-out campaign this fall to "Stamp Out Summer." The club motto is "Think Snow."

NFHS Club Plans Outing

By ANNE KILLEEN

Snowy slopes will welcome North Farmington High's skiers tomorrow evening. This will be the Ski Club's first venture to the hills this year.

Organization came to the 1968 Skiers last fall with the assistance of Mrs. Gerald Crossmyer and Don Robison.

Elections were held, and Norman Allen captured the '68 presidency. Jan Davis was elected vice president; Sue Reder, secretary; and Kathleen McArthur, treasurer.

NFH skiers decided to plan trips to Brighton Resort and Alpine Valley tomorrow and Thursday evenings to let students patricipate who had jobs or sports commitments.

★ ★ ★

Beginner lessons are required for anyone who hasn't previously skied. Lessons are available for only 50 cents.

JACKET SALE

North Farmington Raider jackets are now on sale. Student Council is sponsoring the sale of brown nylon jackets, with the North Farmington Crest monogram.

The Varsity Club is taking orders for brown NFH sweaters.

Seniors with cramped hands, racked brains and flat wallets are signs that senior pictures have arrived at North Farmington. A once new stack of wallet-size pictures is being quickly depleted by the ever raising crys of: "I want one too!"

"Kismet," the 1968 spring musical, will be presented May 10, 11, 17 and 18, according to Lawrence Haver, instrumental director at North Farmington. Auditions will begin soon after semester exams.

James Hunt of the vocal department is assisting singers with the vocal score and characters.

Lahser's 'Page' Has New Format

By GRETCHEN HAAS

A striking change has come about since the Bloomfield Hills Lahser High School newspaper staff decided to alter the format of the school's newspaper, The Page.

The latest issue, put out before the Christmas holidays, was assembled as a magazine differing in appearance and content from the earlier newspaper. It proved to be a big step toward the unconventionality stressed by the staff.

Sixteen pages in length, the issue contained added features, such as students' opinions, answers to questions submitted by readers, and creative writing by staff members.

There are tentative plans to continue designing most of the remaining 10 issues in this magazine format.

A new staff has been organized to work alternately with the original staff in the production of subsequent editions. This will allow more time and ideas in preparing each issue.

Members of the staff are discussing the possibility of having a press at Lahser, but lack of funds and a need to further explore the availability of presses has limited their plans.

Ski Club Is on Go at Brother Rice

By GARY MILLER

With the advent of snow and cold temperatures, the Brother Rice High School Ski Club is beginning to take to the slopes.

This year the Brother Rice Ski Club joined with the Academy of the Sacred Heart Ski Club. Brother F. R. Stoehr and Bea Stumpf of the Academy of the Sacred Heart are the moderators.

The ski clubs make weekly trips to Pine Knob and are planning a weekend ski trip for members of the two clubs on Feb. 22-24 in the Walloon Lake area.

With the close of the first semester not far away, students registered for the second semester last week. Students were allowed to pick the courses which they desired and also the times they wish to take them.

Tom Vittiglio and Mike Sansone are in charge of intramural hockey which began last week. Brother W. T. Gartner is moderator.

Injuries Hit PCH Ski Club on First Big Outing of Year

By JAN GODOSHIAN

Pontiac Central High School's Ski Club spent its first big ski trip of the year recently at a lodge near Petoskey.

Injuries, minor and major, plagued the travelers' advisers. Bud Domurath sprained his ankle, Nick Leland sprained his shoulder and Barbara Ferguson broke her ankle.

Next semester an Independent Studies Program (ISP) will be instituted at Pontiac Central. Open to seniors with a 3.0 average, this program will enable students to carry on research in a field of their choice.

Research and experimentation may be carried out in any field, history, science, language, art, music and many more.

ISP will be scheduled along with students' other classes. A student may take five academic classes and schedule ISP as his sixth hour.

Each student must secure a faculty sponsor. The faculty member will serve as a resource person, guide and evaluator.

A copy of the outline should be given to the faculty sponsor and coordinator Judy Ungvary, a biology teacher, by Jan. 29.

The annual clothing drive began yesterday and will continue throughout the week. The goal is to beat Pontiac Northern in the number of pounds of clothing. There will also be competition between homerooms.

Varsity debaters will leave Thursday for a debate tournament at Flint Northwestern High School.

Beverly Bacak and David Barker will debate on the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That Congress shall establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures."

Carol Sempere and Jan Godoshian will debate the affirmative side. Nancy Appleton, who debates both sides of the question, is going as an alternate. Also accompaning the team will be Walter Smith, coach.

The date for the District Debate Finals has been set for Jan. 16, at Pontiac Central High School from 3:30 to 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Parts in the annual Dolphin show have been announced. Seniors Kathy Doig, representing Greece, and Joy Pepper, representing Scotland, will do solo numbers.

Sue Straight and Sandy Pack, seniors, will be Siamese twins in their duet. A trio composed of juniors Linda Hess, Jinny Hawkins and Lynn Webb will portray Egypt.

Representing Africa will be Kris Byrd, Karen Jones and Debbie Olsen. Dolphins are keeping the main theme and decorations a secret.

Students at Marian Find Their Play Is the Thing

By PATRICIA POLMEAR

"All work and no play makes Jane a dull girl" is the philosophy of Marian High School's 400 physical education students. Freshmen and sophomores weekly don blue gym suits and tennis shoes for an hour of vigorous exercise and sports participation.

Marian's physical education program provides knowledge of the basic fundamentals of a variety of sports during a two-year period.

Freshmen learn the game rules and basic techniques, while sophomores concentrate on advanced techniques, improving accuracy, coordination, and perfecting style.

Black-and-blue marks on freshmen's shins served as battle scars after their first field hockey game. But the desire to win and the exhilaration of fresh air brings the girls out on the field time and time again.

However, with the arrival of winter the gym has become the center of activity.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Nets and a large white ball can only mean volleyball and the beginning of intramural sports.

Six teams from each class vie for the title and trophy of school champion. Students who are not team members, serve as scorekeepers, referees and cheerleaders.

Basketball, which is next on the agenda, rates highest on the popularity charts.

Following intramural basketball competition, the top ranked team battles the faculty team. Chaplains, layteachers and sisters join forces to play the students. With the help of ladders and quick-handed maneuvers, the faculty has managed to pile up an impressive history of wins.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Class is not the only source of sports participation for interested students. The Girls' Athletic Association (GAA) serves as the backbone of all other sports activities.

The 28 GAA members under the leadership of Meg McElfresh, president; Madeline Ruessmann, vice president; Kathryn Gillooly, treasurer and Joyce Murray, secretary, are responsible for the annual fall Field Day. This offers students an opportunity to display their athletic ability and gives each class a chance to express their spirit in the song, banner and float contests.

Friday nights, weather permitting, means a ski trip to Pine Knob Ski Lodge. Beginners, as well as the more experienced, enjoy the long bus ride, the hours of uninterrupted practice and the warmth and comfort of the lodge.

★ ★ ★

Gutterballs, along with strikes and spares, cause shouts of joy and sighs of defeat during the bowling season. Competition between teams and individuals brings trophies to the winners.

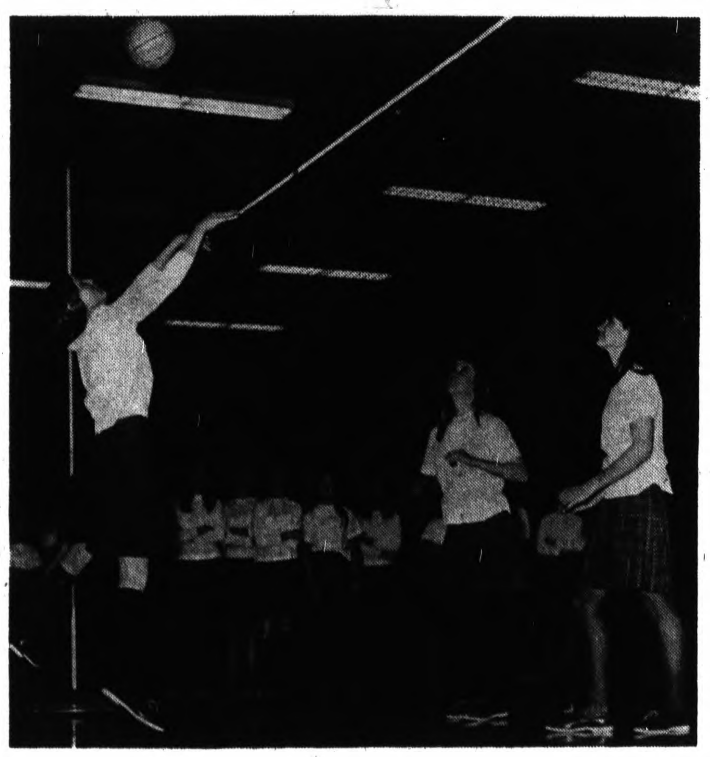

CANOE TRIP

The annual canoe trip is one of the most popular events of the year. Students arrive on the day of the trip at school early, armed with picnic lunches, a variety of camera equipment and extra clothing in case of a casualty.

★ ★ ★

At the end of a long day battling the rough waters of the Rifle River, canoers enjoy a bonfire and barbeque before their return.

Kingswood

By MARY STEWART

Kingswood's Foreign Exchange Committee claims that Saturday's pancake supper will be the best since the project's initiation four years ago.

In addition to the seemingly endless amount of pancakes and sausage, the FEC has planned entertainment for the evening.

Ski fashions, modeled by Kingswood and Cranbrook students, and ski movies will be presented in the auditorium.

Following that, class booths will be opened in the festively decorated gymnasium.

Each class, except the seniors whose booth is traditionally a cafe, has been working on a new idea for the theme of its booth.

SOCK HOP

The evening's activities will conclude with "The Eccentrics" providing the music for a sock hop in the gymnasium.

Students on the Foreign Exchange Committee are: Vickie Anderson, chairman; Cindy May, Lisa Frank, Robin Sandler, Tina Rich, Stevie Adamson, and Leslie Penny, class representatives.

Tickets are now on sale at school for supper which will be served from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from this project will help finance the foreign exchange program at Kingswood.

The Foreign Exchange Committee has also been selling note cards as a fund-raising activity.

MARGARET RUSSELL

Today's Woman

Public Relations Her Beat Now

By JEANNE NELSON

It's almost axiomatic that public relations type folk and newspaper type people aren't exactly standing 'round brightening up each other's corners from day to day. But inconsistencies being what they are, here's one exception that makes breaking the rule a pleasure.

Her name . . . Margaret Russell. Occupation . . . public relations officer for Cranbrook. Qualifications . . . 24 years a newspaperwoman.

★ ★ ★

One should almost have some sort of previous training course before meeting Margaret because, well . . . as a few thousand others have said before me, she sort of comes on like "Gangbusters."

There's a certain assistant to the managing editor around The Pontiac Press city room who insists that practically nothing and no one is unique. He obviously hasn't met Miss Russell.

Just after her graduation from Marygrove College, this would-be wordsmith applied for a job at the now defunct Detroit Times. When she was asked to send in her resume, she replied with all the confidence of a sophisticated journalist, "Sure, but what's a resume?"

End of career? Nope, just the start of a very colorful one. For beginners, there was a sport column on golf and another on roller skating, along with selling ads in her spare time.

REPORTING

But it wasn't too long before she was covering the general beat cityside and wrapped in the everyday folds of murder, robbery, local politics and vice.

In 1950 she received the coveted Page One Award for Individual Reporting dealing with the most controversial story of the year.

While it might appear that public relations work for Cranbrook would pale in comparison, Margaret has a way about her that attracts excitement wherever she is.

Being responsible for the hundreds of releases to the press, writing and laying out the annual 32-page brochure-type newsletter of the Art Academy and coordinating advertising for the Academy in five national magazines are just parts of the overall job.

★ ★ ★

In addition, she is also the executive secretary to the Public Relations Council of Cranbrook which sets policy for the six institutes housed on the 300-acre campus.

For fun, she still likes to golf whenever the weather permits. Credits in this sport include winning the finalist in the Women's Western Golf Amateur Association one year and being named women's champion 15 times at Oakland Hills Country Club.

A day at home in her Birmingham house which she shares with her mother, includes romping in the yard with her wire haired terrier and gardening. She admits she can't boil water, doesn't like the looks of a broom and has an incurable fear of clean ashtrays.

Once a newspaperwoman, ah well . . .

Prissy white ruffled stock and cuffs trim this navy silk crepe dress designed by Victor Costa for Suzy Perette's spring 1968 collection. Shirtmaker tailoring styles the belted dress with full bias skirt.

Bonnie, Clyde Influence the Spring Trends

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — Geoffrey Beene has designed a wardrobe patterned after gangster styles.

At the spring style shows held by the American Designer Series Monday bold broad stripes were borrowed by Beene for stark coats and jacket suits cut short over black stockings and with striped fedoras to match.

★ ★ ★

His Sicilian widows were properly sad but fashionable in midilength dresses of black lace, sashed at the middle.

The costumes Beene created for spring are considerably different from the elegantly simple one which he made for Lynda Bird Robb's White House wedding last month.

Those grand old colors — red, white and blue — are marching back to fashion's front ranks for spring.

"OLD GLORY"

With the "old glory" colors, it's easy. Navy never did go out. Red stays around. Ditto for white. But when you combo them and add brass buttons, it's a beauty look.

A must part of the great suit look: navy stockings and flat black patents. These set off the "old glory" plaids, checks, stripes and plains.

★ ★ ★

Typical, in the Townley collection: a horizontally striped "old glory" jacket over a white gathered skirt with pockets. The jacket was shaped like a shirt that wasn't tucked in.

The military touch in the Originala collection came in a white suit with stand-up military collar and brass buttons.

And the Bride Wore Mayonnaise: How's That for a Hair Raiser

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for exactly one month. The other night I discovered that my wife uses MAYONNAISE on her hair before she goes to bed. She has the preposterous idea that it makes her hair grow faster. She claims that lots of women use it.

ABBY

I have never heard of this before, have you? I would like to find out if what she says is true, as I don't care to smell mayonnaise all night.

NEW HUSBAND

DEAR NEW: I am informed by my hair-raising experts that mayonnaise contains a protein property which is beneficial to the hair. But there are hair conditioners on the market which are more effective, and smell better. Tell your wife that when you go to bed with a tomato you prefer to do it without the mayonnaise.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: When my mother-in-law baby sits with my children, I always find later that she has done some "house-cleaning." Scrubbing the kitchen and bathroom floors, cleaning out cupboards and closets, or something of that nature.

The problem is, my husband and I take different views on how I should react to this. Regardless of how good her intentions may be, I am irritated and resentful because I think she is trying to tell me that I am not a very good housekeeper. Abby, I may not be the world's greatest, but believe me, I am clean and neat, and nobody has to help me.

Now, whenever I know that she is coming to baby sit, I feel compelled to clean extensively before she arrives. And even then, she always finds some "work" to do.

My husband says that I am wrong—that anyone else would be delighted to have such a mother-in-law. I know I can't change her, but I would like your point of view. IRRITATED

DEAR IRRITATED. It is bad manners to "house clean" another's home under these circumstances. You may not be able to "change" his mother, but either you, or your husband, could ask her to change her ways in this regard.

DEAR ABBY: My heart went out to that mother who wrote to say that her husband's constant criticism of their two small boys at the dinner table upset them so terribly they could scarcely eat, and often left the table in tears.

My husband was a fine man in many ways, but he too insisted upon making the dinner hour the time for criticizing our son. Today, at the age of 20, our son is suffering from stomach ulcers — probably from long years of bickering at the dinner table.

He is a fine young man, and he and his Dad really love each other. I realize that my husband was only trying to teach the boy, but how much better it would have been had he chosen another time.

I hope that mother can persuade her husband to keep meal time a pleasant, relaxing occasion, and to save his criticism for later.

A film on sex education "From Parent to Child About Sex," will be shown Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Alumni House of Pi Lambda Theta on the campus of Wayne State University.

Sponsored jointly by Alpha Pi and the Alumni chapters, the meeting, which will include discussion, is open to the public.

Chicago Show Accents Home

Monday was the opening of the 1968 International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago. The show runs through Saturday.

Carpets and rugs are being shown by many companies. Offerings will suit every taste, every age and every pocket book.

★ ★ ★

Mod is "IN" but not so heavily as a year ago. The traditional look comes in strongly again, often combining old patterns with new yarns and new techniques.

Colors range from a family of greys created by Lees Carpets to all the bright and happy colors loved by young, modern homemakers. But you may have black carpeting if you really want it.

SMOOTH OR SHAG

Texture ranges from the smooth velvety look, through a wide range of sculptured rugs to the short or long shag.

Pattern is important, especially in the area rugs.

Once they proved their usefulness and versatility, the outdoor-indoor carpets have gone over big. This year, there are new colorful patterns to use poolside, on the patio, in the garden or the terrace — or inside, if you like.

Wool holds its own as a favorite fiber, but all the other fibers now established for carpet and rug use — acrylic, nylon, cotton, polypropylene, polyester — are available.

A local note of interest is that Eleen Auvil of Romeo is now designing rugs for Regal. Her high pile free form rug comes in antique gold and verdian green.

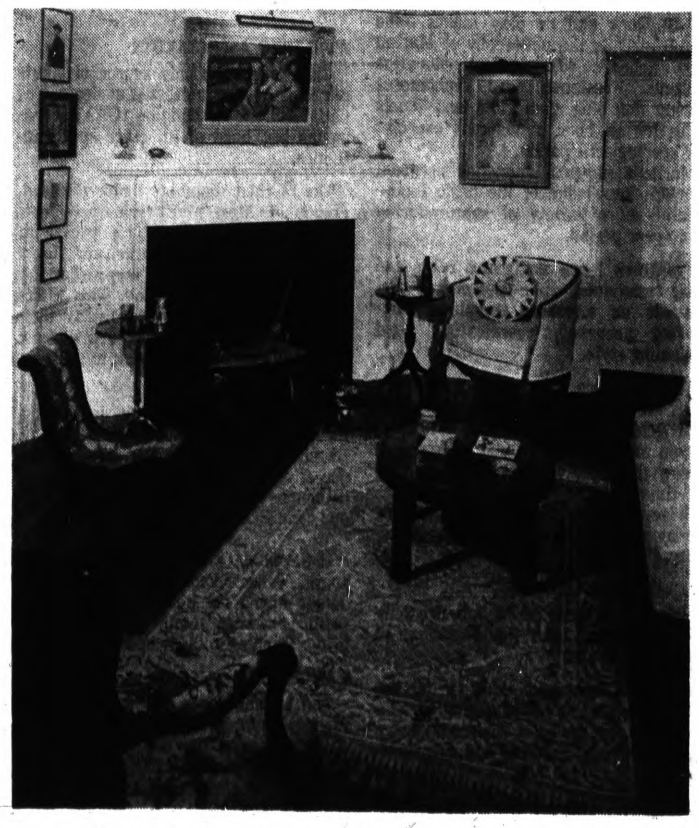

Danish Modern is making another visit with its sunshine colors and blond finishes. This living room has a scrubbed Scandinavian freshness, through its straight-line blond wood furniture and gold, tangerine and pale green wool mark rug. The wool shag, "Danish Delight" by Laurelcrest, has a "rya" quality, while the gold, rust and grey plaid wool upholstery fabric adds to the lively natural look.

A romantic dining room setting has a Mediterranean heritage. The wool rug by Edward Fields is sculptured in soft green, champagne and nougat. Palladio's famous Romanesque arches are also abstracted in the scenic wallpaper.

Geometric squares on the rug and furniture combine with traditional wallpaper in today's decorating scheme. "Glad Plaid" by Regal is tufted in 100 per cent Caprolan nylon. The angular mood is repeated in the "At Home" furniture by Kroehler Manufacturing Co.

Traditional furnishings never lose their appeal. French tapestries of the Aubusson period inspired this new rug by Lees. "Le Tapis," made of continuous filament nylon, comes in seven colors. In this room for an art collector, pastels, light wood finishes and white walls create a tastefully subdued color mood; blue is the main color with chrome yellow as a secondary color.

Area Residents Defy Cold to See Exhibit

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Although last Sunday evening was one of the coldest of the season a good crowd attended the reception preceding the opening of the Swedish exhibit, "Living With Wood," at the Cranbrook Art Galleries.

The exhibit was viewed with a great deal of enthusiasm.

The collection is on a nationwide tour, circulated by the Smithsonian Institute and prepared and sponsored by the Swedish Institute for Cultural Relations. It is open Tuesday through Sundays from 1 to 5 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Although reception chairman Mrs. Charles E. Letts Jr. was busy with last minute details, she and her husband entertained their close friends from Grosse Pointe, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott H. Phillips and their two children at an afternoon dinner.

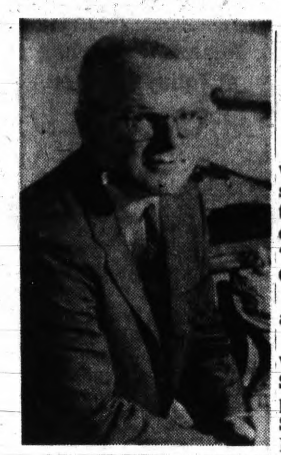

Dr. and Mrs. Gunnar Geijerstam of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Sixten Ehrling, Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Aronsson and Mr. and Mrs. Ata Berker were guests at Svea Kline's studio, later joining other guests for dinner at the home of Mrs. Gunnar Karlstrom.

The LeRoy W. Dahlbergs, who had spent a long weekend at the Otsego Ski Club, hurried home to the reception and later were guests for an evening supper at the home of Consul and Mrs. Edward Johansson where other Scandinavian consuls and their wives gathered.

RECEPTION GUESTS

Some of those attending the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. James Beresford, Miss Ruth Cumming, Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard, Mr. and Mrs. Wright Tisdale, the Denton Andersons, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Swanson, Mrs. Hooper Truettner and Mrs. Glen Michaels who came with Dr. and Mrs. Herman Linn. Mr. Michaels is in New York.

Dr. and Mrs. David DiChiera and their daughter Lisa are back home after a holiday visit in California with Dr. DiChiera's parents. Dr. DiChiera also participated in the American Musicological Society at the University of California in Santa Barbara. Mrs. DiChiera is continuing her teaching of music history and literature to the third graders in a Birmingham school as part of her Junior League work.

What to Eat? Let Science Do Selecting

Can your appetite tell you what to eat? Not entirely, the smart adult depends a great deal on science to tell him what and how much to eat.

★ ★ ★

Science is constantly finding out more about the kinds and amounts of nutrients the body needs, the types of foods that contain these nutrients and how the nutrients work together in your body.

★ ★ ★

Appetite can tell you how much to eat . . . if you weigh too little or too much, you need science to help tell you how much to eat and what kinds of food are best to eat. Following the "Basic Four" food groups each day is scientific assurance that you are meeting your daily nutritional requirements.

Newlyweds Honeymoon at Ski Resort

Following a ski trip to Boyne Mountain, Robert Frederick Pant and his bride, nee Karen Deniese Fliss, will make their home in Kalamazoo while completing their studies at Western Michigan University.

For the ceremony in the Congregational Church of Birmingham, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Fliss of Rochester wore an ivory gown of satin fashioned with a chapel length train.

★ ★ ★

Reembroidered Alencon lace graced the bodice and side panels of the skirt.

Carrying a bouquet of ivory roses with Stephanotis, the bride complemented her attire with a matching lace headpiece and a floor length French illusion veil.

Honor attendants for the recent double ring ceremony were Mrs. Joseph Stefanski, Katherine Snyder and Clark Matthews.

Kay Pant and Kathie and Nancy Fliss assisted as bridesmaids with Penelope Purvis as flower girl.

Attending on the bridegroom's side were ushers Charles Townsend, Donald Baldwin, Edward Fliss, and Gary Downey. Robert Grider was ring bearer.

Prior to their wedding trip departure, the son of the Frederick J. Pants of Thorncrest Drive, Bloomfield Township and his bride were honored at a reception at the Elks' Lodge in Rochester.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

How would you like to look from five to 10 years younger just eight weeks from now? That's a silly question! What woman wouldn't? However this promise isn't silly. You can!

Over and over again I have watched pupils in my classes change — from overweight to a lovely figure, from fatigue to pep, and from self-consiousness to self-confidence, and all in eight weeks. I have also received tens of thousands of letters from my readers telling about their successful reducing and the happy effect it had on their lives.

★ ★ ★

I am currently bringing you my Eight Week Beauty Improvement Plan (BIP for short). If you would like to join thousands of other women in the adventure of seeing how much you can improve your appearance in eight weeks, if you would like to lose from 15 to 20 pounds in the next eight weeks, read "Why Grow Old?" carefully and follow directions.

YOUR MEASUREMENTS

Yesterday I told you how to find out what your ideal weight is. Today, we will think about your measurements.

The beauty of a figure depends on measurements rather than on weight. But, let's face it, if you are overweight, your measurements are not apt to be lovely. Nevertheless, it is possible for the measurements of an overweight woman (although all too large) to be in ratio and those of an underweight woman to be out of proportion.

So, measurements are important. When reducing concentrate on any measurement which is out of line. Correct this with special exercises while losing pounds.

HOW TO

When measuring your bust pass the tape measure straight around the fullest part of your bust. You can measure with or without a bra. I thing without one is better but if you wear a bra, be sure to wear the same one each time you measure.

When you measure your waist, pass the tape around your natural waistline.

Measure around the fullest part of your hips.

Be careful when measuring that the tape does not dip down or up and try to pull it to the same tauntness each time you measure. Don't kid yourself.

The usually accepted standard for a perfect figure is that the hips and bust measure the same (although the bust has gotten a little out of bounds in recent years) and that the waist be 10 inches smaller than the hips. Not every woman can achieve this because of bony structure. However, it gives you something to shoot for.

REDUCING MENUS

Tomorrow, I will tell you how often to measure and how often to weigh yourself. Today I want to give you some sample reducing menus so that you will know that you can eat quite well and still lose those unwanted pounds.

SAMPLE MENUS

Breakfast

8 ounces orange juice
1 poached egg on toast — ½ teaspoon butter
Coffee, with one teaspoon sugar

Luncheon

Seafood salad — 10 meduim size shrimp — ½ cup crabmeat — a reducing dressing
1 hard roll
Teaspoon butter
8 ounces skim milk

Dinner

1 meduim slice of baked ham
8 asparagus stalks
Salad of shredded lettuce with lemon dressing, lemon or tomato juice with chopped parsley, onion and a dash of paprika
1 roll with teaspoon butter
½ cup applesauce sweetened with artificial sweetener
Total calories for the day—1158.

A late June wedding is planned by Cheryl Anne Cooper and Richard E. Morse. The bride elect is the daughter of the Raymond H. Coopers of Highland. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Morse of Bradenton, Fla., formerly of Union Lake.

Local Resident Claims Bride

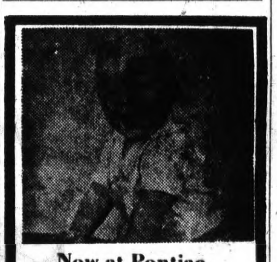

Newlyweds, the Rick Charles Lyonses, nee Becky Allene Millis, are residing in San Diego, Calif., where he is a student at San Diego State University.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mr.. A. B. Millis of San Diego. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lyons of St. Mary Street.

Place a folded thick turkish towel in the bottom of your sink before washing fragile glassware. Use plenty of suds with half the usual amount of water.

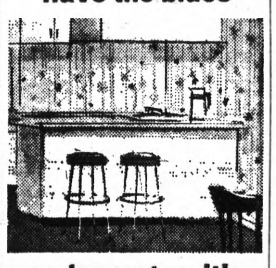

Talcum Box Shaker

Use a pin to prick tiny holes in the paper that covers a box of dusting powder. Shake powder out on puff just as you would from a talcum can.

Class of '48 Planning Gala

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bauman of Wyman Street will be hosts at 8 tonight to the committee planning the 20th class reunion for Pontiac Central High School classes of 948.

Cochairmen, the Wayne Whites, are asking any interested class member to attend the meeting. Information about the class members may be sent or phoned to Mrs. Frank Doll, Draper Street, or Mrs. White.

Cancel Meeting

The Pontiac Area Hammond Organ Society will not have a January meeting, because of remodeling taking place in the downtown Grinnell store. Regular meetings will resume in February.

Exhibit of British Art

DETROIT (UPI) — British Ambassador Sir Patrick Dean Monday ushered in a show of "Britains Century of Art Masterpieces" at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

★ ★ ★

Dean was the official representative of Queen Elizabeth II at a preview of the show sponsored by the Queen and President Johnson.

Officially titled "Romantic Art in Britain — Painting and Drawings, 1760-1860," the show has been greeted in this country with critical acclaim.

More than 100 of the master works in the exhibition have never before been seen in America. The 236 works have been borrowed from the Royal Collection, major British and American museums and from major private collectors.

The show includes works by Reynolds, Gainsborough, Romney, Turner and Blake.

★ ★ ★

Opening to the public today, the exhibition will run through Feb. 18.

U.S. May Bar Airliner

PARIS (UPI) — The Anglo-French supersonic Concorde airliner will be barred from U.S. skies unless it is substantially revised, Rep. Lester Wolfe, D-N.Y., said yesterday.

Wolfe was heading a five-member study mission from the House Space Committee. The group includes Rep. Guy Vander Jagt, R-Mich.

The congressman claimed the take off and landing noise of the Concorde would be the worst American airports had ever experienced.

Total taxes collected by federal, state and local governments during 1966 amounted to $160 billion, up from $145 billion the previous year.

DID HE MAKE A WISH?—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, blows out a candle on a birthday cake during the Financial Dinnerama of the Greater New York Councils of the Boy Scouts of America yesterday. With Nixon are Michael Lunsford, 14 (left), and Stephen Rappaport, 14. The event took place at New York's Americana Hotel. Nixon received the "Good Scout" award.

Says Conflict Runs 'Very Deep'

Nixon Sees Race War in '68

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon says the nation can expect "not riot in the streets, but war in the streets" next summer.

★ ★ ★

He says a riot is spontaneous, but "a war is subject to advance planning and the radicals are presently planning the destruction of public facilities and the bringing of great cities to their knees."

★ ★ ★

The former vice president also told 800 persons at a Boy Scout fund-raising dinner Monday night that the United States is "torn apart by a race conflict that runs very deep."

Nixon, a leading but unannounced contender for the Republican presidential nomination, told his audience that his speech, which included a summary of the world situation as well as domestic problems, was "nonpolitical."

Nixon said at a news conference later that he based his warning about next summer on "investigations that have been made, the reports on these investigations and on various quotations from various individuals who quite blatantly—and here I'm speaking of a small, virulent group, I guess the Black Power groups — who talk in terms of revolution instead of in terms of progress and peaceful change."

Nixon told the audience of executives in the financial community and their wives at the $50-a-plate dinner that short-range programs, such as police programs, must be developed because radicals have warned that they want war. Long-range programs must be developed to deal with the causes of riots, he said.

Riot Law Manual Mailed

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today sent a manual of Michigan laws on civil disorders to all law enforcement officials in the state.

"Full knowledge of the law pertaining to riots and speedy access to terms and provisions could be a decisive factor in the early control of civil disorders," Kelley said.

★ ★ ★

"I hope and expect this manual will provide law enforcement officials with fast and firm measures to help stop riots."

The manual details more than 50 laws available to combat various aspects of riots. It also contains forms to be used for arrest warrants in such cases.

OUTLINE OF POWERS

In addition, the manual contains an outline of the governor's powers to deal with disorders together with forms for a declaration of state emergency and executive orders setting up curfews and limitations of possession of weapons, as well as provisions for the closing of places of public amusement.

Kelley said there are many steps that must be taken to prevent such outbreaks.

★ ★ ★

"But once they occur they must be dealt with swiftly, and the full force of law must be brought on those who participate in them," he said.

"This manual provides the legal basis for such speedy action. It should save many valuable minutes or even hours at a time where every minute counts. It could play a part in preventing a minor disturbance from developing into a major riot."

Kelley said copies of the 27-page manual are being sent to all prosecuting attorneys, the State Police and local law enforcement authorities.

Soviet Ships Lead Trade in N. Vietnam

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Charles Chamberlain, R-Mich., said yesterday Russian vessels had replaced Communist Chinese ships as the leading traders in North Vietnam ports.

★ ★ ★

Chamberlain, citing Defense Department figures, also attacked President Johnson for not doing more to curb North Vietnamese trade with the non-Communist world.

The figures, which Chamberlain said were released at his "insistance," showed that last year 387 ships docked in North Vietnam's ports—185 Soviet, 93 Red Chinese, 31 East European and 78 from the free world.

But the year before, Chamberlain said, the Chinese led with 138, followed by 122 for Russia, 45 East European and 74 from the free world, for a total of 379.

★ ★ ★

Chamberlain acknowledged in a telegram to Johnson that there had been "some progress" over 1965 and 1964 when 257 and 401 free world ships visited North Vietnamese ports, but added:

SHIPPING PROBLEMS

"If we are to keep faith with our servicemen, more must be done to choke off the shipping being carried by vessels flying free world flags. For every cargo unloaded on the docks of Haiphong makes our job that much more difficult."

FROSTY THE FIRE TRUCK — A Schenectady, N.Y., fireman appears to be standing atop an ice statue as he battles an early morning, general alarm fire that destroyed two buildings yesterday. Subzero cold and high winds decorated the truck with ice.

Laos Is Spawning Ground of Political Fiction, Gossip

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Don't fret if a mingling of fact, fiction and gossip on the situation in Laos confuses you. It often confuses experts in Asian affairs.

Even veteran diplomats in Vientiane, the administrative capital, say they experience difficulty in sifting the truth from rumors.

★ ★ ★

Vientiane, with a population of about 250,000, is not only the biggest city in that landlocked nation of three million. It is also the center of one of the world's most intriguing diplomatic muddles.

Typifying the chaotic situation were the recent reports that first declared and then denied Communist forces, including battalions of North Vietnamese regulars, had captured two Laotian towns, Nam Bac and Phalane.

CONFUSION

The government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma termed the situation serious. But Laotian military men and diplomatic sources within the country said the reports of Communist attacks, wholly denied by Hanoi, were erroneous and exaggerated.

This is normal for Laos.

Communications are slow upcountry and made even worse by the fact that Communist troops control possibly half the country.

Vientiane is always buzzing with rumors of coups — there have been about six coups and coupettes since 1962—and North Vietnamese military activity.

RUMORS GRASPED

These rumors are eagerly seized upon at diplomatic functions, where it is not unusual to see an American diplomat talking in a group with the North Vietnamese while the South Vietnamese ambassador looks discreetly away.

The Russian ambassador may nod to the Communist Chinese, who are also likely to look the other way.

★ ★ ★

The Laotian Communists, the Pathet Lao, are usually well represented as are the other two factions, the rightists and neutralists who make up the government. The Reds boycott it, though they were supposed to share in the ministries under the Geneva agreement of 1962.

Such incongruities abound.

Laos gets the highest per capita aid from the United States in the world, but an estimated 40,000 North Vietnamese troops roam freely up and down the eastern section of the country.

Their presence would appear to be a direct breach of the Geneva convention which neutralized Laos.

★ ★ ★

However, according to the International Control Commission set up to safeguard Laotian neutrality, there is no evidence to support any charge of a breach.

★ ★ ★

Canada, Poland and India make up the commission. The Communist Poles consistently refuse to make inspection tours on the ground that the Geneva convention said such tours should be made at the request of the tripartite government.

INSPECTIONS BLOCKED

The rightists and neutralists would like to see such inspections carried out. But the Pathet Lao refuse to give permission so the commission is grounded.

★ ★ ★

So are the commission's four white helicopters, which have not been used for nearly a year.

★ ★ ★

A further incongruity is that Air America, a semisecret semiofficial charter airline which handles clandestine U.S. Central Intelligence Agency contracts, has hired one of the ICC helicopters.

★ ★ ★

There are twice weekly ICC flights to Hanoi, North Vietnam's capital.

FLIGHTS

The plane takes off from the airstrip used by Air America. It is likely to be carrying North Vietnamese officers, American peace agitators or Soviet newsmen on the way back to Hanoi from rest and recreation in Bangkok.

★ ★ ★

The round trip to Hanoi is $75, if you can get a visa.

West Looks Over Dates

'Bissextile' Year Sounds Fun

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It says here in the Farmers' Almanac that 1968 is going to be a "bissextile" year. Sounds like fun.

WEST

But before you go out and do something you may later regret, perhaps I had better explain what the term means. My dictionary defines it as follows:

"An intercalary day in the Julian calendar added to February every fourth year. It followed Feb. 24, the sixth day before the calends of March, and hence was counted as a second sixth day."

Now pause here a moment and try to visualize two sixth days. Sort of drives you up the wall, doesn't it?

★ ★ ★

I mean, a second sixth day can make for one hell of a confusing week. But don't worry about it.

EVEN WORSE

We don't use the Julian calendar any more. Now we use the Gregorian calendar. Which in some ways is even worse.

In the Julian calendar, February was the last month of the year. By the time people got to the end of the year, they were already so tired that an extra sixth day or two didn't much matter.

But in the Gregorian calendar, February is the second month. We are off to a fresh start. Breezing along toward March under a full head of steam. Then the bissextile comes along and slows us up.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the intercalary day now follows Feb. 28, rather than Feb. 24, doesn't make us less resentful. Nor does the fact that we now refer to the bissextile as "leap year." It still throws us off stride.

BETTER WAY

What I'm trying to suggest is that there must be a better way of doing things. What we need, obviously, is an entirely new calendar.

Several proposals along that line already have been submitted. But none in my opinion satisfactorily solves the bissextile problem.

After giving much thought to the matter, I have about concluded that rather than throw in a complete extra day every fourth year, we should add six hours to each year.

★ ★ ★

This year, for instance, we would celebrate New Year's at midnight. Next year, we would celebrate at 6 a.m. The next year at noon and the next year at 6 p.m.

ADD VARIETY

Think of the variety this would bring to New Year's parties.

There is only one drawback I can foresee. I don't think I could stand hearing Guy Lombardo play "Auld Lang Syne" for breakfast.

About 3.1 million people move daily in and out of the downtown and midtown sections of New York City.

Indians Win Claim –103 Years Late

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Uncle Sam has finally settled with Oregon's Tillamook and Nehalem Indians.

An 1851 treaty set aside 97,250 acres for the two tribes. But the U.S. government, which never ratified the treaty, began selling the Indian lands to homesteaders and buyers.

The Indian Claims Commission, 103 years later, has ruled in favor of the Indians and declared an award of $155,620. The government has begun paying each Tillamook and Nehalm $620.

Ruling Is Asked on Roadblocks

TRENTON, New Jersey (AP)— The New Jersey Supreme Court has been asked to determine whether roadblocks set up to check drivers' licenses and registrations are constitutional.

★ ★ ★

The request, made by the New Jersey branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, is an appeal of an Appellate Division ruling that the need for roadblocks to apprehend unlicensed drivers outweighs their intrusions on privacy.

Forecasters estimate that there will be no rise in net farm income in 1968.

Are You A Slow Reader?

A noted publisher in Chicago reports there is a simple technique of rapid reading which should enable you to double your reading speed and yet retain much more. Most people do not realize how much they could increase their pleasure, success and income by reading faster and more accurately.

According to this publisher, many people, regardless of their present reading skill, can use this simple technique to improve their reading ability to a remarkable degree. Whether reading stories, books, technical matter, it becomes possible to read sentences at a glance and entire pages in seconds with this method.

To acquaint the readers of this newspaper with the easy-to-follow rules for developing rapid reading skill, the company has printed full details of its interesting self-training method in a new booklet, "How to Read Faster and Retain More," mailed free. No obligation. Send your name, address, and zip code to: Reading, 835 Diversey, Dept. 377-011, Chicago, 60614. A postcard will do.

COSTS INCREASE — New Social Security legislation taking effect in February with the first bigger checks arriving in March, provides for the largest increase in benefits in the history of the program and affects some 23.8 million Americans. The cost will be $3.6 billion a year. Major points are an increase of the present payroll tax base, a progressive hiking of the payroll tax (paid by both employe and employer) and a gradual rise in the maximum payroll deduction.

Survivor Benefit Up

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the seventh of a series analyzing the changes currently being made in the Social Security and Medicare regulations.)

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Publications

WASHINGTON — Some five million survivors of deceased workers are drawing Social Security payments in this country.

The face value of the survivorship insurance program is said to range upwards of $700 billion. About 95 per cent of mothers and children in the nation have protection under it.

There was a time when the whole government burden for caring for dependent children fell upon out-and-out welfare programs. But this has changed.

In mid-1940, only 18,000 orphans under age 18 were drawing Social Security survivors' benefits. The total now is in the range of two million.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the number of orphans getting strictly welfare payments under the aid-to-dependent-children program has been slashed in half. (For other reasons, this latter program has grown, over-all.)

AID TO WIDOWS

Social Security officials stress that maintaining Americans' incomes in old age is not just a matter of retirement benefits but is, crucially, a question of survivors' insurance for widows. They can get little other help than that provided by Social Security.

If these women have worked, they tend usually to have been "secondary earners" who have left the labor market at a fairly early stage.

Under present law, widows who are not disabled can begin drawing Social Security survivors' benefits as early as age 60. But if they apply for this payment before age 62, their benefits are somewhat reduced.

★ ★ ★

At 62, the widow of a worker who was properly insured under Social Security is entitled to 82 and one-half per cent of her husband's "primary benefit" — what he would have received if he had lived to retire at age 65.

EARLIER RATES

If she decides to start collecting at 60, she gets olny 71½ per cent of her late husband's primary benefit. If she chooses age 61, she gets 77 per cent.

Of course, if the widow has an unmarried child under 18 or a disabled child who suffered the disability before age 18, she can begin getting survivors' benefits even earlier than age 60.

Social Security has another name for these, however—mothers' benefits. They amount to 75 per cent of her deceased husband's primary benefit. And, unless she has in her care a disabled child who qualifies under the law, the mothers' benefits stop when her youngest child reaches 18.

★ ★ ★

Thereafter she cannot resume collecting Social Security checks until she herself becomes 60 — provided also that she is not remarried at the time.

REMARRIAGE CUT

A widow aged 60 or older does not lose all survivors' benefits if she remarries. But, again, her payments may drop. Ordinarily entitled to 82½ per cent of her husband's basic benefit if she waits until she is 62 to collect, she will find this percentage cut to 50 if she is remarried.

On the other hand, if she rates more on the basis of her new husband's Social Security record, she will get the higher amount.

When a worker dies, his parents can also collect survivors' benefits. To qualify, a parent has to be at least 62 and must have received at least half of his financial support from the deceased worker.

★ ★ ★

The payment to one such dependent parent is 82½ per cent of the worker's primary benefit. If there are two surviving parents, each gets 75 per cent.

WIDOWER BENEFITS

Occasionally, too, a widower qualifies, but he likewise must be at least 62 and must show that he depended on his late wife for at least half of his financial support. The widower gets 82½ per cent of her basic benefit.

Since retirement benefits all go up under the 1967 law, survivors' payments are correspondingly lifted to higher levels.

Loyal Fans Will Be Watching

It's 'Avengers' to the Rescue

(EDITOR'S NOTE—It's the imperturbable John Steed and the sexy Emma Peel to the rescue. The heroic stars of ABC's satiric superspy series, "The Avengers," once again leap into the dangerous world of network television to replace a fallen colleague, victim of the bloody ratings battle. It's the third time the network has called on the British-made series as a mid-season replacement.)

NEW YORK (AP) — A popular hit is greatly to be desired, but in the world of network television, the next best thing is a series that builds what is called a "hardcore" audience.

★ ★ ★

Thus, there will be rejoicing in some seven million American homes next Wednesday with the return of "The Avengers" for the third consecutive season.

"The Avengers," a British import, will be back, not only because its fans bombarded ABC with letters when it was retired last fall, but because there is evidence that, no matter when or where it was spotted in the network schedule, they were watching it.

★ ★ ★

It is a terribly British, sophisticated and witty adventure show, and after six years, remains one of the most popular English TV series. Starring a pair of offbeat superagents, the hero is the imperturbable John Steed, whose casual demeanor and ornate dress and manners conceal his brilliant detective powers. The heroine is Emma Peel, young, beautiful and avant-grade in everything from dress to fighting techniques — and she gets into almost as many battles as Batman.

SCOFFING QUALITY

But, around the imaginative, deliberately preposterous plots, there is a throwaway, scoffing quality to the light dialogue that sets it apart from others in the superagent category.

★ ★ ★

In its third comeback, "The Avengers" is facing some real-life dangers that it has never before encountered. It is a mid-season replacement for "The Legend of Custer," a fictionalized Western which did almost as badly in the ratings as the real Custer did at Little Big Horn. The British agents' prime mission is to restore the anemic time-spot to ruddy good health.

AP Newsfeatures Photo

FEMININE FINESSE — This is a sample of the feminine finesse Diane Rigg uses in "The Avengers," which makes its long-awaited return to television screens tomorrow night at 7:30 on Channel 7. Because Miss Rigg will be leaving the show after nine episodes to return to more serious acting, a new feminine interest will be added. She is Linda Thorson, a young Canadian actress. And the word from England is that the new girl will be even more womanly than Miss Rigg's Emma Peel.

The question is whether a public, beginning to be surfeited by the antics of Ian Fleming's master agent James Bond and Napoleon Solo and Illya Kuriakin, of the recently-canceled "The Man From U.N.C.L.E." will continue to be charmed by Steed and Peel.

★ ★ ★

In past seasons, too, the series has appeared in the late evening, practically assuring an adult audience. This time it moves into the earliest prime-time spot — 7:30-8:30 p.m. EST — which is when children are believed to control the set. Will the kids find it amusing that Steed neatly dispatches villains with his furled umbrella or the steel brim of his bowler? Will they enjoy the athletic Mrs. Peel's use of judo, karate and gung futo foil the evildoers?

PENDING DEPARTURE

Then there is the pending departure of Diana Rigg, who has played Mrs. Peel since 1965. Miss Riggs, assocated with the Royal Shakespeare Company at Stratford-on-Avon, is eager to return to more series acting. But with her beauty, mod wardrobe, fighting and comedy skills, she has been one of the show's big assets.

Patrick Macnee, of course, will continue to play the urbane Steed and will be joined, after nine episodes, by a new companion in adventure, Linda Thorson, a young Canadian actress.

★ ★ ★

The series, however, has survived change nicely before. At the outset, Macnee was one of two male costars playing the character he practically invented for himself: a formal aristocrat of Edwardian tastes and a deceptive dilettante's manners. After the first season, the costar left the series, and Steed acquired his first feminone accomplice. They dressed her in leather, established some suggestions there was a romantic attachment between them and let her do some judo battling. The result was that the actress, Honor Blackman, left in two seasons — to play James Bond's sexy adversary in the film "Goldfinger."

NOT FASHIONABLE

Now, however, leather-dressed girls are no longer so fashionable and one TV series about a fighting female private eye — "Honey West" — went down the rating drain. So last summer Mrs. Peel was more restrained. And the word from England is that the new girl will be even more womanly.

★ ★ ★

ABC never could do much bragging about the size of the audience, but it stayed remarkably constant whether it was shown on Monday, Thursday or, most difficult night of all, Friday. When it moves into an early Wednesday spot, when the number of sets in use is higher, ABC anticipates the size of the audience will jump from seven million to over 10 million homes.

★ ★ ★

If it does, it would pull a rating of 18 or more— that's almost hit status — and automatically become a top candidate for renewal as a regular series next season.

'Laws to Boost Aquaculture Are Needed'

Legal changes are vitally necessary to make it more profitable for private industry to raise food in the sea, according to the ranking biologist at the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution.

★ ★ ★

Because of the lack of such laws, and because of "the traditional attitude, almost unique to the United States, that fishing grounds are in public domain," the U.S. lags far behind the rest of the world in aquaculture, reports John H. Ryther, chairman of the Woods Hole biology department.

Less than 5 per cent of U.S. oyster grounds, for example, are privately owned, he points out, yet more oysters are harvested from those 165,000 private acres than from the more than four million acres of public grounds.

★ ★ ★

An area the size of Long Island Sound, if devoted to the raft culture of shellfish, could produce an annual crop of mussel meat equivalent to the commercial fish landings of the entire world, he declares.

Gains Outnumber Loses

Mart Resumes Broad Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market resumed a broad advance in active trading early this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up1. 6 at 328.7 with industrials up 3.2, rails up .3 and utilities up .6.

★ ★ ★

Gains outnumbered losses by a ratio of well over 2 to 1.

The market still was powered by the new leadership which came into evidence last week as prospects of peace talks in Vietnam began to seem warmer. This was still a major hopeful force under the market.

SIGNS OF STRENGTH

Signs of growing economic strength and normal January reinvestment demand also supported buying power.

The long-neglected blue chip issues showed continued strength as contrasted with the glamor issues which took to the background.

★ ★ ★

Papers, retail-mail orders, building materials, oils—especially a group of low-priced speculative oils on the American Stock Exchange—were in favor.

Prices resumed their advance in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Cubic Corp. showed a resumption of Monday's stre gth, adding another 2 points. Low-priced Burma Mines edged upward in very heavy trading again. Mary Carter Paints "A" advanced more than a point in active trading. Vigorously traded fractional gainers included Conerama, Great Basins Petroleum, Bishop Industries and Megallan Petroleum. National Industries dropped 1.

Street Light Assessment Set

A special assessment district street-lighting project for parts of Watkins Hills No. 4 Subdivision was established last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Eight street lights will be erected, seven on Lorena and the other on Terness.

Total annual charge will be $336, with benefiting residents paying $302.40 and the township $33.60.

Based on 30 assessments, annual expense to property owners will be $10.08 per assessment.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night, the board upgraded the classification of police department employe Mrs. Myrtle Burnia whose annual salary was increased from $5,512 to $6,866, including a $480 increment for this year.

EXPERIENCE CITED

Trustee Robert E. Richmond said he favored the wage increase for Mrs. Burnia because of her experience in police work.

The annual salary of Assistant Fire Chief Russell See also was increased from $9,422 to $10,701 which includes a hike of $800 for this year.

The increase places See's salary on the same level as Police Capt. Frank Randolph, who, like See, is second in command of his department.

Also last night, the board renewed an automobile dismantling license for Schram Auto and Truck Parts, 2549 Dixie, for one year.

NOTICE READ

First notice was read on a request by Lighthouse Lanes, 4443 Dixie, to serve liquor on the bowling alley concourse and for a dance permit.

Tabled last night for one week was action on a purchase order for 13,000 feet of plastic water service tubing for this year. The tubing is to be used for connections from mains to property lines.

49 Permits Issued for Building

The Waterford Township Building Department issued 49 permits for new construction, additions and alterations estimated to cost $792,548 last month.

★ ★ ★

The total far exceeded building in December 1966 when 32 permits were approved for construction worth an estimated $214,540.

Total valuation of construction approved last year was a record - shattering $20,242,490, bettering the previous high of $15,031,037 established in 1965.

In 1966, by comparison, permits were granted for construction to cost $9,928,827.

★ ★ ★

Last month's totals included the issuance of 16 permits for new home construction worth an estimated $319,948.

APARTMENT COMPLEX

A permit also wss issued for an apartment complex estimated to cost $204,000.

Four permits each were granted for new commercial construcion worth an estimated $107,000 and additions and remodeling to commercial buildings estimated to cost $103,500.

The proposed commercial establishments are a $60,000 restaurant at 49 N. Telegraph; an All-State insurance office on M59, $22,000; a $20,000 storage building on Pontiac Lake Road, and $5,000 for the foundation and basement for a porposed office building on M59.

★ ★ ★

The alterations at existing commercial buildings are for Galen Tube, 2260 Scott Lake, $60,000; the John R. Lumber Co., 7940 Cooley Lake, $25,000; a dental clinic at 5624 M59, $18,000, and a dental office at 3125 Sashabaw, $500.

MISCELANEOUS PERMITS

Other permits issued last month were eight for home additions, $24,142; one for fire repair to a commercial building, $13,000; 10 for remodeling to houses, $12,698; one for a garage and an addition, $4,700; two for garages, $3,560, and two for inspections to move buildings.

Detroiter Is on Trial in '66 Store Murder

DETROIT (UPI) — Donald Larry, 21, accused of stabbing a clerk in a crowded department store in 1966, went on trial yesterday in Recorder's Court.

★ ★ ★

Larry is charged with second degree murder in the death of William Frederick, 30, Royal Oak. Frederick, a clerk at the J. L. Hudson downtown department store, was knifed in front of crowds of Christmas shoppers in 1966.

The trial is before Judge Robert J. Colombo.

2 More Enter Senate Race

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The eighth Republican and a second Democrat were added Monday to the list of announced candidates for the 23rd District State Senate seat vacated by the death of Harold J. Volkema, R-Holland.

★ ★ ★

There were Robert Scheuerle, 30, Grand Haven Attorney, a Republican, and Chester Harmsen, 52, a union representative from Holland, a Democrat.

★ ★ ★

Earlier Monday two other Republicans, Ottawa County Sheriff Bernard Grysen and Hudsonville real estate broker Gary Byker, announced they were candidates

★ ★ ★

The primary is scheduled Jan. 23 with the general election Feb. 10 to pick a senator for the heavily Republican district which includes the counties of Allegan, Ottawa and Van Buren and part of Barry County.

News of Waterford

Fire Total Is Down, Damages Up in '67

The Waterford Township Fire Department handled 99 fewer fires last year than in 1966, according to a report accepted by the Township Board last night.

The report indicated that township firemen responded to 424 fires last year compared with 523 in 1966.

However, direct damage attributed to fire last year totaled $234,113 against $190,785 the preceding year.

Two persons died in fires each year, but 10 persons were injured in blazes last year compared with two in 1966.

★ ★ ★

Total alarms answered by fire fighters, including rescue and emergency runs, were 670 last year against 782 in 1966.

MONTH'S FIRES

Firemen battled 35 fires last month compared with 27 the preceding December and 35 in November 1967.

Eleven of last month's fires occurred in buildings, 10 in motor vehicles, and two in brush and grass. Twelve fires were classified as miscellaneous.

★ ★ ★

Firemen received 66 total alarms last month, 23 more than in December 1966 and 17 more than last December.

Liquid Peril Brings Plant Vigil in Flint

FLINT (UPI) — Police and firemen kept a watch on the city's sewage disposal plant yesterday after a car-truck accident dumped thousands of gallons of an explosive liquid into the Flint River.

Police said the double tanker truck slammed into the rear of a car which had been involved in another accident on the I-75 expressway.

The two tanks tipped into the median of the highway, spilling coke oil into a ditch. The ditch emptied into a nearby creek which in turn emptied into the river.

Change Hailed

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Association of School Administrators has commended the State Board of Education for its recent change in the Teacher Certification Code, permiting increased use of substitute teachers in areas of teacher shortage. Jame Rossman, association president, thanked the board for permitting extension of special teacher certificates. He said this action was necessary to prevent program curtailment and half-day sessions in many school districts."

Bids Opened by Board on 9 Vehicles

Bids for six new police cars, a station wagon for the fire department, a one-half ton truck and a one-ton truck were opened last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Ten firms took part in the bidding, although not all of them submitted quotations for all the desired vehicles.

All bids were referred to the township vehicle committee for analysis and a report back to the board.

John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., of Pontiac was the apparent low bidder for the police cars with a combined proposal of $8,910, including a $6,040.14 trade-in allowance for five cars now being used by policemen.

★ ★ ★

The McAuliffe firm also submitted an apparent low bid of $2,438.95 for the station wagon. The bid included a $50 trade-in allowance for a 1961 station wagon.

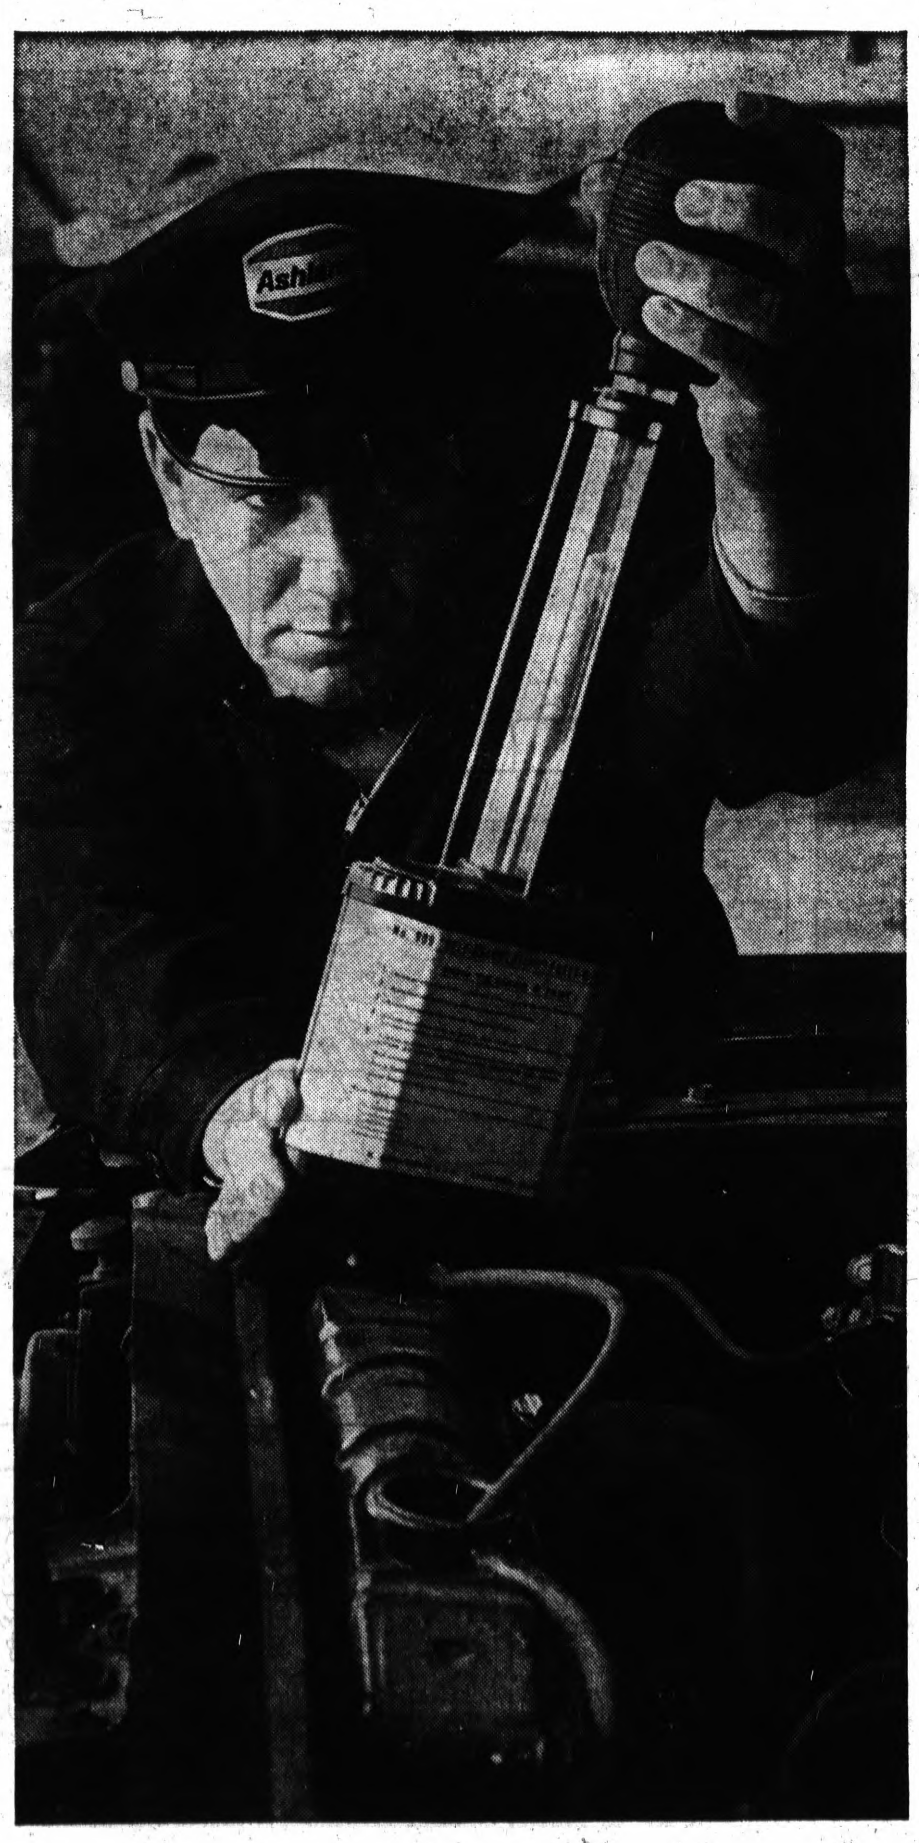

TRUCK BIDS

Matthews-Hargreaves Chevrolet of Pontiac turned in the apparent low proposal of $2,571 for the one-ton truck, including an offer of $150 for a used township truck.

★ ★ ★

Spartan Dodge, Inc., of Pontiac was the apparent low bidder for the one-half ton truck with a proposal of $1,820.35.

By Oswald and James Jacoby

Life is not all beer and skittles for the expert bridge player. Sometimes the best technical play loses while an inferior play wins, sometimes a proper final contract is wrecked on the rocks of distribution and once in awhile the expert makes a mistake of his own that turns out to be a humdinger.

JACOBY

No one plays perfectly and no one is ever going to play perfectly. This applies at every game and sport. The best golf players miss short putts, the best tennis players double fault, and the best pitchers get knocked out of the box. All we know is that the better you are, the less often these things happen to you.

Then, there are some things that don't happen to bridge experts. At least, if they do happen to the expert he is not the victim of anything but his own nonexpert play.

Six spades is a normal contract with the North-South cards. We don't know that all experts would get there all the time, but we do know that any really good player would make 12 tricks with either spades or no-trump as the final contract.

★ ★ ★

The reason is that there is an automatic safety play in the spade suit. Unless all four spades show up on one hand, declarer has no problems at all. If all four show up in the East hand there is nothing to be done about it, but declarer can protect himself from four spades in the West hand by leading his queen of spades at trick two.

West will take his ace and lead anything. It makes no difference to South who will get to his hand with the ace of clubs to lead a second spade.

West's best play will be to put up the nine or ten, but it won't help him. South will get back to his hand with a diamond, pick up West's last two spades, and go on to the next rubber.

Pass	3 N.T.	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ J 4 ♦ K 10 9 5 4 3 ♣ 7 5 4 3
What do you do now?

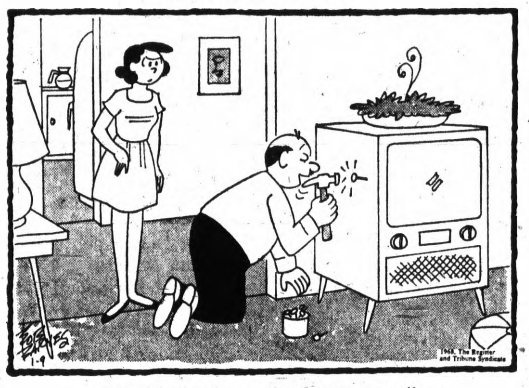

A—Pass. You may be missing a diamond slam, but three no-trump should be a more comfortable contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of raising you to three no-trump, your partner rebids to three spades. What do you do now?

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Wednesday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Your own findings about money, profits, income potential are apt to be more reliable than outside information. Realize this. Don't commit yourself to program by expert.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Opposition today could come from group or individual who is deceived. Get facts on table. Then you win backing. Hesitate at deal which involves get-rich-quick scheme.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Probe behind the scenes. Find out why certain events have occurred. One in a position to provide you with information should be encouraged. Do so with praise. Show appreciation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Promises of friends may lack substance. Realize this. Do some investigating on your own. Key is to be versatile. Evening is one in which you could be swept off your feet.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You are able to win over family members. Be frank. State facts as they exist. Then any opposition is likely to boomerang in your favor. Accent on projects which enhance security.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Avoid tendency to run in too many directions. Check facts, figures. Be sure of instructions. Try to find out where you are going and why. Some try to provoke a wild-goose chase.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be on lookout for deception where cash, possessions are involved. Promise made to family member should be fulfilled. Home responsibility comes first. Keep that in mind.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): See persons, situations as they actually exist. Temptation is to fill in the pieces with wishful thinking. Accent on public relations, response to challenge. Be calm, collected.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Some who ordinarily are reliable may be hiding or unavailable. Realize this. Utilize past experience. Applies especially to job, basic tasks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You are apt to change your mind about what is really required, desired. One phase of activity is finished. Realize this—act accordingly. Look ahead, not backward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Strive to break from routine. You have been surrounded by red tape. Today do some cutting—get more room, attain greater freedom. Then you make youself and loved ones happy.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Avoid unnecessary journey. What you seek is close at hand. Could be mix-up in messages, correspondence, calls. Consult individual who was there in person. Don't be fearful of truth.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "We've got a mink. Come and see it. We've never had one before," an excited worker at the Women's Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals telephoned a reporter Monday.

★ ★ ★

The reporter went to see the animal which WSPCA employes found on a West Philadelphia sidewalk. So did Fred Ulmer, curator of mammals at the Philadelphia Zoo.

★ ★ ★

"It's a ferret...They're built like minks and people do keep them for pets," Ulmer announced to the disappointed staff after a look at the animal.

But one worker was undaunted by the news. "Of course, we've never had a ferret here either," she said.

Junior Editors Quiz on HARD WATER

QUESTION: How can hard water be softened?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When water comes from wells deep in the earth, if often contains minerals which make the water "hard" and difficult to wash with. Most people like their water "soft" with these minerals removed.

Houses which have hard water from individual wells often have some kind of softener to treat their water. We illustrate one type.

The hard water passes through the filter tank which contains minerals called zeolites. Sodium ions in the zeolites (an ion is an atom with an electrical charge) exchange themselves for the calcium and magnesium ions in the water, which then becomes soft.

After awhile, the sodium ions in the zeolites are used up. Then the filter material must be "regenerated" by allowing very salty water to flow through it, removing the calcium and magnesium and adding a fresh supply of sodium.

Jack, in the picture, is adding new salt to the brine tank. Jack has to go through this process of regenerating his softener every two weeks or so. With some modern softeners, the process is almost completely automatic.

SMOOTH CAPTAIN — One of the key performers to date in Kettering's 4-1 record has been Joe O'Connor, a 6-1 senior forward, who will see a lot of action tonight when the Captains take on Waterford.

Pullins Returns to WTHS Lineup

One bit of good news for Waterford's Skippers could create some problems for Kettering's Captains when the two square off tonight in basketball on the Skippers floor.

Waterford, with a 2-2 record, will be a trifle stronger for this game, since the team's starting center will be back in action after a bout with pneumonia.

Returning is Gary Pullins, a 6-3 performer, who went out of the lineup early in December and who is fully recuperated and now ready for fulltime duty.

The other juniors joining Pullins in the lineup will be Bruce Carlson (6-3) and Bill Foley (6-3) at the forwards, along with Bob Finkle (6-0) and Mike Sheldon (5-9) at the guard slots.

★ ★ ★

Both squads are returning to action after a lengthy holiday layoff.

TALL PROBLEM

With that tall lineup, coach Bob Taylor and the Skippers could take some of the play away from the Captains on the boards and dull the team's impressive record to date.

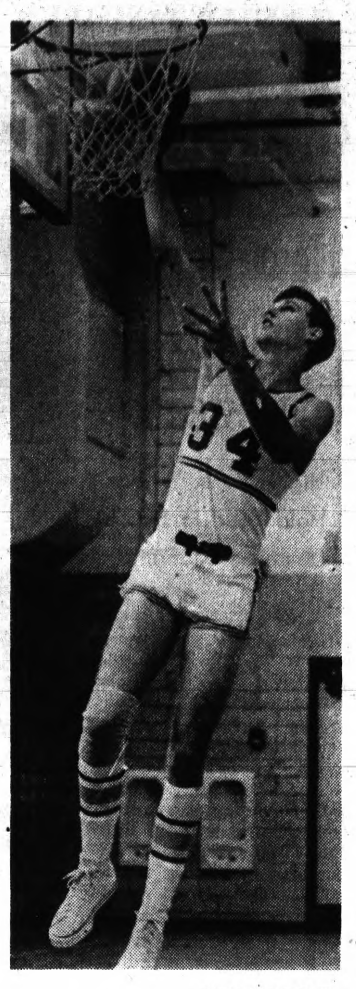

★ ★ ★

Coach Joe Duby, supposedly trying to rebuild after a 17-1 record last season, has guided the squad to a 4-1 season and the team is getting stronger with each game.

The spark in the Captains attack is senior Pete Evans, a regular last year, who stands 6-1 and holds down a guard position.

Joining Evans will be Bill Penoza (6-0), while Joe O'Connor (6-1) and Gene Panker (6-2) will work at forward with Dave Powell (6-3) at center.

The game, slated for an 8 p.m. tipoff, is a sellout.

Pontiac Press Photo

LEADING SCORER — Much of the offensive load at Waterford Township has been carried by junior forward Bill Foley (6-3) this season. Foley is averaging slightly more than 12 points a game. He and his teammates entertain township rival Kettering tonight.

Packer Coach Lauds AFL Rival

Lombardi Calls Raiders 'Fine Defensive Unit'

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) —Vince Lombardi, boss of the National Football League champion Green Bay Packers, must be getting soft toward the rival American Football League.

Lombardi was kind and cautious Monday in calling the Oakland Raiders, opponents of the Packers in Sunday's Super Bowl game, "very fine and very quick on defense."

He was disappointed because Green Bay and Oakland exchanged game films of only their last three games of the season.

WANTED MORE

"I would have preferred a broader swap," Lombardi told a news conference. "But if I hadn't agreed, I'd be what they accuse me of . . ."

Last year Green Bay and Kansas City swapped films of "any" three games and Green Bay won the game 35-10.

Lombardi gave the young AFL a thumping endorsement.

"People call the AFL a junior league," he said. "It may be a junior league in terms of years, but I don't think there's a helluva great difference between eight years and 40 years in our business. You get to be a pretty good veteran in eight years."

Lombardi said Oakland has an excellent offense; great speed by the cornerbacks, ability among the front four and linebackers, and a good pass rush."

PACKERS TIRED

He said that after 22 games, his players are fatigued both mentally and physically, but he believes they will overcome fatigue for Sunday's finale in Miami's Orange Bowl.

"I am as proud of this team as any I ever coached," he said. "It has accomplished a great deal. This team has more speed capability.

"It's true we depend more upon the pass than ever before, but this is partially due to the injury situation."

Lombardi agreed that veteran quarterback Bart Starr had been thrown for a number of losses during the season, but he said:

"We're going to get caught, but it doesn't bother us. We have a different philosophy, and it just doesn't bother us. We send out more receivers. Sometimes we will get caught; sometimes they will get caught."

★ ★ ★

Lombardi said he feels good physically and has no plans for retirement.

"At this time, I see no retirement," he said. "I have too many other things to think about, primarily Oakland."

He had one other parting shot for the newsmen.

"I never like losing," he said.

"I'm not very pleased losing to my wife at gin rummy."

Quarterback Daryle Lamonica was in bed with the flu and end Billy Cannon was missing when the Raiders opened drills Monday at Boca Raton.

AT SCHOOL

However, Coach John Rauch said Cannon was detained at dental school in Memphis, Tenn. and was expected on the practice field today.

Rauch hoped Lamonica would be back, too, but was concerned over the virus his quarterback caught last Thursday.

"If he had an ingrown toenail, I'd be worried," Rauch said. "I think he's getting over this flu. But he had a bad case of it, and rest is the only real cure."

Rauch slipped in an impromptu practice Monday morning but the field was swarming with visitors for the afternoon session, the only one open to the press and public.

NCAA Conference Has Big Agenda

NEW YORK (AP) — Taking time out for a couple of angry words at the Amateur Athletic Union, the annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association began to talk about a national football championship, rules changes and a dozen and one other topics.

The meetings officially got under way Monday and both NCAA President Marcus Plant and the head of the U.S. Track and Field Federation, Father Wilfred Crowley, voiced their displeasure with the AAU.

★ ★ ★

Plant contended that AAU had repeatedly violated the moratorium on the feud between the USTFF, an arm of the NCAA, and the AAU over the control of amateur track and field. The moratorium was to last until a federal panel worked out a permanent solution.

Father Crowley, in the meantime, said that if the AAU interfered in any way with the federation's annual indoor track championships, set for Madison Square Garden next month, the USTFF would take the issue to court.

Last year, several foreign athletes who attended American colleges were threatened with suspension if they competed in the federation meet and pulled out of the competition.

NATIONAL PLAYOFF

A proposal for a series of playoffs to decide a national football champion is coming under serious discussion at the convention. Conceivably, the plan could be put into effect as early as the fall of 1969.

"Our purpose," said Paul Brechler of the Western Athletic Conference and chairman of the committee studying the plan, "is to find out if there is a workable plan and, if so, to submit it to the convention a year from now.

"If it's found impractical, that's the report we'll make. We have many differences of opinion on the committee but all of us have determined to tackle the project affirmatively. We're not going to say, 'It can't be done' "

One of the proposals under consideration is for holding the playoffs under the present bowlgame system, with semifinals at two bowls on Jan. 1 and the final the week afterwards in what is already being called the NCAA Super Bowl.

Another suggestion is to hold playoffs the first three weeks in December and finish up before New Year's. Breechler said, however, that this would take some luster off the present bowl system.

Jack Curtice of the University of California at Santa Barbara, secretary of the rules committee of the Football Coaches Association, said there was strong sentiment for retaining the current unlimited substitution rule.

Wings' Crozier Set to Return?

BRACERIDGE, Ont. (AP) — Roger Crozier, the Detroit Red Wings' reluctant goaltender has indicated his retirement is about to end.

The 25-year-old carpenter, who likes everything about hockey except playing, returned home Monday after working out earlier in the day at the Detroit Olympia and said he would return to Detroit for further practice today.

★ ★ ★

Crozier, rookie of the year in the National Hockey League two seasons ago, abruptly retired last Nov. 6, saying he was finished with hockey because his nerves couldn't stand the strain.

Sunday he was in the stands to watch the Red Wings take a 4-3 lacing at the hands of Montreal. It was the first game he'd seen since leaving the club.

After the Monday session, Detroit Manager-coach Sid Abel said he and Crozier had a talk "but he didn't say anything about returning and I didn't press him about it. It's up to him as far as I'm concerned."

BACK TO MINORS

Abel did say Crozier would have to win back his job from 30-year-old rookie Roy Edwards and backup goalie George Gardner. The Wings' pilot indicated Crozier probably would have to work his way back to the NHL from the minors.

Edwards, called up from Fort Worth of the Central League the day before Crozier's retirement, has posted a 2.78 goal-against average for Detroit.

When he promoted Edwards, Abel was ready to send Crozier to Fort Worth, but the goalie said he felt he would not have helped the minor league club.

Crozier has been working since his retirement as a carpenter at Utterson, Ont., a community just north of Bracebridge, and "enjoying life for the first time in a long, long while."

Waterford Wrestlers Push Record to 6-0

Waterford's Skippers (6-0) remained unbeaten in wrestling in dual competition last night by downing Southfield, 26-24.

The Skippers piled up an early lead and held on as Southfield made it close with falls in the final two matches. The clincher for the Skippers came in the 165-pound class where Jim Main posted a 3-2 decision over Southfield's Steve Watts.

Ski Wins Posted by Lakers, Barons

Bloomfield Hills Andover won the girls' event and West Bloomfield prevailed in the boys' division yesterday in high school skiing competition at Mt. Holly.

Andover posted a combined time of 1:43.3 to set the pace in the girls races, followed by West Bloomfield (1:53.0) and Waterford (2:02). A time of 2:03.7 brought victory for the West Bloomfield boys. Waterford placed second and Andover third.

Setting the individual pace for the girls was Marlen Jarosz of Andover with a time of 42.7 Julie Crary of Waterford (46.2) was second and Barbara Goode of Andover (47.0) third.

Tom Carter (37.9) placed first and teammate Larry Walter (41.6) third to pace West Bloomfield. Garry Edwards of Waterford (40.5) was second.

ABA Holds First All-Star Tilt

Indiana Plays Host to Newest All-Loop Game at Butler U.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The new American Basketball Association — with a multicolor ball and three-point basket — stages its first All-Star game here tonight.

The most eye-catching of the ABA's innovations — the red, white and blue ball — will get its first major television exposure in a color telecast to the league's other 10 cities, plus Los Angeles and New York.

More than 2,000 tickets have been sold by the host Indiana Pacers for the game in the 14,900-seat Hinkle Field House of Butler University.

Preceding the game were league meetings among owners, coaches and officials, and a noon luncheon featuring the Rev. Bob Richards, two-time Olympic pole vault champion, as guest speaker.

Among points discussed by league owners were the possibilities of arranging telecasts of future league games this season and the setting of postseason playoff patterns.

Nothing is expected to be determined about the telecasting until an evaluation is made of the All-Star showing which will be handled by KTTV of Los Angeles.

TOP FOUR

The playoff pattern will include the top four teams in the Eastern and Western divisions, with No. 1 team playing No. 3 and No. 2 meeting No. 4 in best-of-5 series. The title series will be best-of-7.

The three-point basket, made from beyond 25 feet, has been a headline-maker for the ABA.

The most electrifying shot was when Indiana's Jerry Harkness heaved the ball 92 feet for a three-pointer that beat Dallas in the final second.

Jim Pollard, the former all-pro for the old Minneapolis Lakers of the National Basketball Association, will coach the East All-Stars and Babe McCarthy will direct the West. Pollard's Minnesota Muskies lead the Eastern Division and McCarthy's New Orleans Buccaneers head the West.

Probable starters for the East will be center Mel Daniels and guard Don Freeman of Minnesota; guard Fred Lewis and forward Roger Brown of Indiana, and forward Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh.

The West probably will open with Levern Tart, the league's leading scorer from Oakland, and Denver's Larry Jones at guard; center Red Robbins and forward Doug Moe of New Orleans, and Cliff Hagan, the league's oldest player and the Dallas player-coach, at the other forward spot.

British Tennis Federation Suspended for 'Rebellion'

LONDON (AP) — British tennis officials got the official word Monday that the British Lawn Tennis Association has been suspended, effective April 22, for its decision to hold an open Wimbleton tournament and looked to other countries to join them in the big rebellion.

Maj. David Mills, secretary of the All-England Club which is planning the first open Wimbledon next June, said: "We regret the decision to suspend Britain, but we still hope other countries will permit their players to come and play here."

Britain's suspension as from April 22 had been announced in Rome, in stern language, by Georgio di Stefani, president of the International Lawn Tennis Federation.

April is the date Britain plans to abolish the distinction between professionals and amateurs. It has angered the ILTF by taking this decision in defiance of the international rules.

The suspension means that foreign amateurs will be forbidden to compete in Britain. The British, in turn, will be banned from the Davis Cup and from all tournaments overseas.

The British were not surprised to hear they were being suspended. But John Eaton Griffith, Britain's delegate to the ILTF, commented:

"The ILTF is precipitant and shows every lack of good will."

As things stand now, Wimbledon would be confined to professionals and British amateurs.

U.S. HOLDS KEY

The British hope the Americans will back them by voting for open tennis at the annual meeting of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Feb. 3. That could change the whole situation.

Meanwhile, Australia, holder of the Davis Cup has to decide whether to include Britain in the draw for this year's tournament Jan 20.

Prep Federation Adopts 8 Rules

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Eight new rules will go into effect for the 1968 football season as a result of action last weekend by the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations.

Under the new rules:

—A team with a player on the field without all required protective equipment will be assessed a 15-yard penalty.

—If a kickoff is touched illegally by a member of the kicking team before the ball has traveled 19 yards, the receiving team may take control at the point of contact.

—On a double foul, both fouls must be made during live ball.

—Video tape or any mechanical visual aid is prohibited during the game.

BEYOND CONTROL

—A game interrupted by a cause beyond the control of game officials will continue at the point of interruption unless both teams agree otherwise.

—All ineligible receivers will be required to remain in or behind the neutral zone until a pass beyond the line of scrimmage is in flight.

—A player who signals for a fair catch is prohibited from blocking an opponent on that down.

—Polyfoam pylons or flags may be used to mark the intersection of the sidelines with the goal lines.

PRACTICE BREAK — Coach Bill Norton of Birmingham Brother Rice and a few members of the Warriors' basketball team relax with small talk during a break in practice. The team has been on the short end of a few close scores in a 1-5 season. Next on the Warriors' schedule is a home game against Detroit Cathedral Friday night.

Frenchman Wins Giant Slalom Run

ADELBODEN, Switzerland (AP) — With a dazzling second run today, French world champion Jean-Claude Killy won the combined giant slalom event counting for the World Alpine Cup competition.

The 24-year-old customs man from Val D'Isere scorched down the second run in the sensational time of 1:34.17 minutes, more than two seconds ahead of his nearest rival, Kurt Schnyder of Switzerland in 1:35.64 followed by Stefan Kaelin of Switzerland in 1:36.22, and Gerhard Prinzing of Germany in 1:36.28.

Edmund Bruggmann of Swtizerland, winner of the first race, followed in 1:36.41.

Killy's winning combined time was 3:02.61, followed by Bruggmann 3:04.16 and Stefan Kaelin of Switzerland 3:05.48.

Billy Kidd, Stowe, Vt., timed in 1:36.83 in the second race, took over-all fourth place in 3:05.73.

STARR IN LIMELIGHT — Quarterback Bart Starr of the Green Bay Packers is surrounded by autograph seekers in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where Green Bay is practicing for Sunday's Super Bowl game against the AFL champion Oakland Raiders. The Raiders are working out at Boca Rotan for the game in Miami's Orange Bowl Sunday.

Local '5s' Gain Spots in Polls

A pair of Oakland County squads are among the top ten teams in the state in their respective classes, while a couple others aren't far off the pace in the Class B lineup.

Southfield (8-1) occupies the No. 10 spot in the Class A poll, while Orchard Lake St. Mary (6-1) is ranked ninth in the Class C section.

Not far off the pace in the Class B rankings are Romeo (6-1) and West Bloomfield (6-0).

Southfield's lone loss of the season was inflicted during a Christmas tournament by Ypsilanti, the No. 4 ranked team in Class A.

Orchard Lake St. Mary dropped its first start of the campaign to Hamtramck St. Ladislaus — a team ranked among the top 20 in Class B — and has since reeled off six wins in a row. The Eaglets lead the Northwest Parochial League.

TOPS 'A' POLL

Leading the Class A is defending state champion Detroit Pershing (5-0), followed by East Lansing (6-0) and Flint Central (4-0).

Menominee (7-0) is setting the pace in the Class B poll, trailed by River Rouge (6-2), Sturgis (7-0) and South Haven (4-1).

In the Class C division, Detroit All Saints (9-0) and Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart (5-0) occupy the top two positions, while Adrian Catholic (9-1) and Lawton (5-1) rank one-two in the Class D lineup.

Home Streak Continues for Tennessee 5

Highly Rated Wildcats Hold Lead in SEC by Downing Alabama

By The Associated Press

It was enough to make members of the Orange Tie Club dangerously tighten their knots and the Rally Girls faint away, but the Tennessee basketball team once again proved there's no place like Knoxville.

With the Orange Tie Club, a boosters organization, and the Rally Girls rooting them on, the fifth-ranked Volunteers sank four foul shots in the last 3½ minutes and edged seventh-ranked Vanderbilt 64-62 Monday night for their 29th straight home-court victory.

★ ★ ★

The victory gave the Volunteers, the defending Southeastern Conference Champions an 8-1 over-all record and a 2-0 conference mark. Vanderbilt now is 10-3 over-all and 3-3 in the SEC.

Fourth-ranked Kentucky, the only other Top Ten team to play Monday night, rolled to an 84-76 road victory over Alabama and stayed a half-game in front of Tennessee with a 3-0 SEC record. The Wildcats are 9-1 over-all.

SIX TIES

Tennessee built up an eight-point halftime lead, but the Commodores from Nashville, Tenn., fought back to tie the game six times, the last at 60-60.

Then, Billy Hahn and Larry Mansfield made two foul shots apiece and the Orange Tie Club could relax. Gene Lockyear scored for Vanderbilt at the buzzer for the final margin.

Bill Justus led the Volunteers with 22 points and Tom Hagan topped Vanderbilt with 16.

BIG SPLURGES

Phil Argento broke loose with 23 of his 24 points in the second half, two of them coming on foul shots to put Kentucky ahead to stay at 78-76 with 1:12 remaining. Mike Nordholz paced Alabama with 21.

Pistol Pete Maravich shot in 42 points, 20 in the last nine minutes as visiting Louisiana State nipped Georgia 79-76.

Calvin Murphy, of Niagara, one of the nation's hotshot sophomores along with the likes of Maravich and Purdue's Rick Mount, had his troubles against Villanova.

Murphy was held to his season low of 24 points, hitting on just five of 23 field goal attempts, as Niagara lost 84-57 to Villanova at home.

Hockey Stars Divide Cash

Top NHL Scorers, Goalies Share Dollars

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita earn their salaries at the expense of National Hockey League goaltenders. Philadelphia's Bernie Parent and Doug Favell make their living at the expense of Hull and Mikita.

Between them, the four are $1,000 richer today—after doing their particular jobs better than all others during the first half of the NHL season.

Hull and Mikita, the Black Hawks' prolific scoring stars, will pocket $500 and $250, respectively, for finishing atop the first half individual point race. Each reached the 37-game midway mark last week with 43 points, but Hull will get the larger league bonus because he scored more goals.

DIVIDE PRIZE

Parent and Favell, the Flyers promising young goaltending tandem, will divide a $250 prize for posting the lowest goals-against average through 37 contests. They allowed 77 goals for a comfortable margin over Johnny Bower and Bruce Gamble of Toronto.

The leading scorers:

Top Grid Teams to Be Honored

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern California, the nation's No. 1 team, and Fairmont State College of West Virginia will be honored by the Washington Touchdown Club Saturday night at its annual awards banquet.

Southern California, with a 9-1 regular season record and victor over Indiana in the Rose Bowl, will receive the award as the outstanding major college team.

Fairmont, undefeated and untied in 11 games, will receive the award as the outstanding small college team of the year.

NBA Hawks Get 'Assists'

NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks are on top of the National Basketball Association's Western Division at the season's halfway mark, with a big assist from Len Wilkens.

The veteran guard leads the NBA in assists with 330 and is 14th in scoring with 866 points for a 20.6 per game average, it was revealed by league statistics released today.

Dave Bing of Detroit continues to lead the scoring race with 1,126 points and a 27.5 average.

Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia, second in scoring with 1,018 points, leads in field goal percentage, .564, and rebounds, 1,050. Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati has the best free throw percentage, .862.

Wings Blast Hamilton 6

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)— Alex Delvecchio scored four times, each time with an assist from Gordie Howe, as the Detroit Red Wings defeated the Hamilton amateur club 5-3 Monday night. Howie Young got the other Detroit goal and Ron LeClerc had two goals for Hamilton. George Gardner, playing the first two periods, allowed one goal and Roy Edwards gave up two in the third period. Detroit outshot the amateurs 42-32.

LANSING (AP) — The Billiard Congress of America announced Monday its third annual United States open billiard championships will be held in Lansing Oct. 6-11.

Close Cage Tilts in Waterford Loop

Three close contests highlighted play last night in Waterford Township's National League basketball action.

O'Neil Realty (4-0) stayed atop the loop by edging the L.L.B.'s, (1-3) 45-41, Drayton Drug (2-2) nipped Lighthouse Lanes (2-2), 82-81, and Irwin Realty (3-1) downed the Cougars (0-4), 59-53.

Dennis Brosseau paced O'Neil Realty, while Tom Wood tossed in 18 for the L. L. B's.

★ ★ ★

Two free throws in the final 40 seconds by Steve Schyck enabled Drayton Drug to eke out the win over Lighthouse. John Saum (33) and Mike Miley (25) paced the winners while Jim Scherer picked up 22 for the losers.

Gary Adams (18) and Jim Rechnagel (15) paced the Irwin victory. Jerry Moore picked up 12 for the losers.

Just a short while ago, colleges around the country were clamoring because pro football recruiters were toying with college players long before the season had ended.

Much of that came during the heat of the battle between the NFL and AFL in their bid for player talent, and it ended with the merging of the two leagues plus a common draft, but at its peak, the practice of early recruitment created some sticky problems for the college coach.

Over the weekend, a recruiter from Iowa State, whether knowingly or not, created a few problems for head basketball coach Wayne Case at Rochester High School.

The situation was that the schools team captain and leading rebounder was invited by Iowa State assistant football coach Art Steele to visit the campus at Ames, Ia., over the weekend.

The young man went. Leaving on Friday, he consequently missed his team's game Friday night, which, incidentally, was won by the other team.

★ ★ ★

Whether the young man's presence would have made a difference in that particular game is of no real concern here.

The real issue is the lack of responsibility shown by Iowa State in general and Steele in particular in dealing with what is normally a simple procedure. Obviously, Steele should have selected a time that would not have conflicted with the Rochester basketball schedule.

Iowa State, or any other college or university, should pay particular concern when scheduling such visits by an athlete to insure that such a visit would not interfere with his responsibility to the high school he's attending.

What, do you suppose, would be Iowa State's reaction, if, say some Saturday when it's football team is playing, a pro squad would invite a key player on the team to watch it play some other pro team in another part of the country on a Saturday afternoon or night?

Wherever the athlete goes, he'll be a good catch. He's a good basketball player and a top football prospect, and to go with his athletic ability, the young man carries a near-All A average in the classroom.

MOON

Former Cranbrook School soccer player, Dick Moon, is one of the mainstays on the Dartmouth College varsity squad this season.

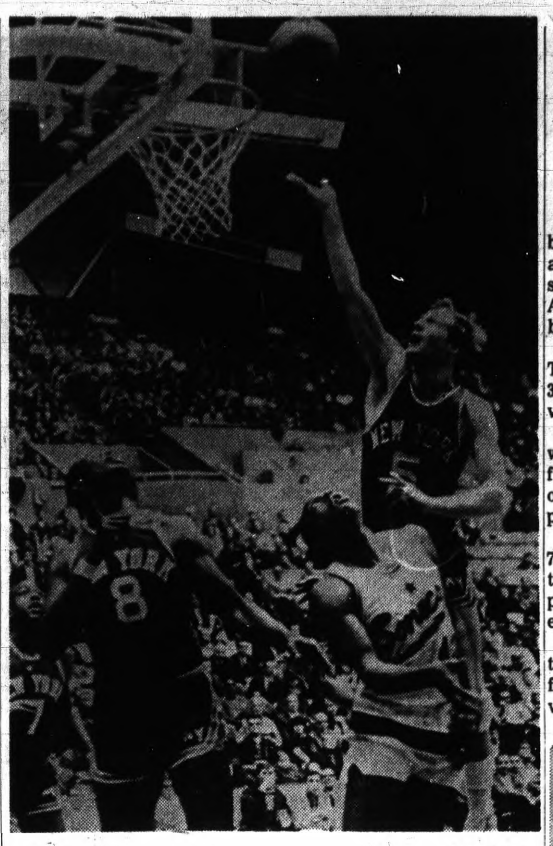

Moon's a junior and he figures prominently in coach Alden H. 'Whitey' Burnham's plans for 1968.

Bruce Hall, graduate of Bloomfield Hills Andover, is the sixth-leading scorer on the Central Michigan University freshman basketball team.

Four county runners were recipents of letters this fall for their efforts with the Michigan State University cross-country team.

Varsity performer gaining letters were Dale Stanley of Avondale and Ken Leonowicz of Hazel Park. Freshmen earning the awards were Kim Hartman of Southfield and Daniel Simeck of Ferndale.

Earl Hook, a product of Waterford Kettering, leads the Hillsdale College basketball team in assist as with 69 through 13 games.

HEADS UP — Seattle's Walt Hazzard (42) bends over backward to watch a shot made by New York's Dick Van Arsdale (5) with Walt Bellamy (8) getting position for a rebound in event the shot misses. The game was played in Seattle and the Knicks won 119-113.

BOWLING

The women grabbed much of the bowling spotlight last week in the Pontiac area with three excellent series efforts.

Heading the list is Bess Anthony of the Tuesday Nite Mixed League at Sylvan. Her 244-208—642 performance is the third best reported on the distaff chart this season.

It is Sylvan's best series by a woman and ties her for the top game (but eighth best in the area) this campaign.

At Huron Bowl Thursday night, Lucille Myers rolled a 213-224—627 and Jo Gohl was close behind with 200-235—625. The action came in the Huron Ladies' Classic. Bonnie Nugent added a 229 game, Peg Carter a 594 series and the house team hit 945—2656 totals.

★ ★ ★

The North Hill Lanes Wednesday night Men's Classic began its second half as Jerry Hoffman led the way with 238-222—651. Joe Myers hit 231-219—638, Karl VanDeMoortell a 236, Bob Zelezic a 235, Fran Bertram a 234 and Chuch James 232—633.

The City Glass Service squad posted a 1045.

Win City League Games

Conn Clothes and Club 1 Spot racked up victories last night in Pontiac American League men's recreation basketball.

Booth Homes fell to Conn, 79-63, while Club 1 Spot downed Perry Drugs, 66-59.

Mel DeWalt scored 26 points, 19 in the first half, in sparking the Conn quintet. Chuck Phillips tossed in 18 and Doug Maxim added 14 for the losers.

Harvey Rewon pitched in 20 to pace Club One while Sammy Soles paced the losers with 18.

★ ★ ★

In National League games, Chuck Freels collected 20 points and John Daniels 18 to lead the Questionables to an 82-52 win over the Petrolanes, while Sam Allens gained a forfeit decision over Auburn Hills in the other game. Charlie Robison tossed in 21 markers in a losing effort for Petrolanes.

★ ★ ★

In a couple of International League contests, Coulacos Insurance downed Pontiac Police, 45-37, and Local 596 slipped past Local 653, 56-55.

RALLY PAYS OFF

Trailing 45-34 after three quarters, Local 596 rallied for 22 points in the fourth period while holding the losers to 10. Willie Peck sparked the rally by canning 16 of his game-high 27 points in the fourth period. Teammate Jerome Crift added 23.

UCLA Still First

Top 3 Quints Hold Spots

By The Associated Press

There was a game of basketball chairs, but UCLA, Houston and North Carolina remain seated in the front row of The Associated Press' major college basketball rankings.

UCLA, 10-0, still tops the Top Ten poll, released Monday, with 389 points and 38 first place votes.

Houston, 15-0, remains second with 351 points and the other first place vote, and North Carolina, 9-1, retains third with 301 points.

Kentucky beat Vanderbilt 94-78 last Saturday and replaced the Commodores in fourth place. Vanderbilt dropped to eighth.

Tennessee moved from sixth to fifth, and Utah advanced from seventh to sixth. St. Bonaventure jumped from ninth to seventh, while New Mexico, 10th last week, moved to ninth. Columbia is the only newcomer to the Top Ten, taking over 10th place after trouncing two Ivy League opponents.

Oklahoma City, eighth last week, lost twice and dropped from the rankings.

St. Bonaventure, 11-0, and New Mexico, 13-0, along with UCLA are the only unbeaten members of the Top Ten.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records through games of Sunday, Jan. 7, and total points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. UCLA (38)	10-0	389
2. Houston (1)	15-0	351
3. North Carolina	9-1	301
4. Kentucky	8-1	256
5. Tennessee	7-1	183
6. Utah	11-1	159
7. St. Bonaventure	11-0	135
8. Vanderbilt	10-2	114
9. New Mexico	13-0	89
10. Columbia	9-3	44

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically; Army, Boston College, Cornell, Davidson, Drake, Duke, Georgia, Kansas, La Salle, Louisville, Marquette, Ohio State, Oklahoma City, Oregon State, Princeton, St. John's N.Y., Texas-El Pason Toledo, Western Kentucky.

RFK Withholding McCarthy Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — His fellow Vietnam war critics in the Senate apparently are going to give Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy little public support in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said in New York Monday he'll remain on the sidelines in the Minnesota Democrat's primary campaigns. And Kennedy said he'll back President Johnson if the chief executive is the party's nominee.

★ ★ ★

Said Kennedy of McCarthy's campaign: "I expect that President Johnson will be the nominee, but I think this can be a healthy influence, and I am not taking a position during the period of time the primaries are going on."

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said in an interview he won't decide until late March whether to become a favorite-son candidate in Indiana in opposition to Johnson's war policies.

NOT A SPLIT

Kennedy said he thinks the debate on Vietnam stimulated by McCarthy's candidacy is "healthy for the party." He added "it divides us but it does not split us."

Kennedy said he saw no inconsistency in supporting Johnson if he's the nominee and agreeing with McCarthy's criticism of the President's war policies.

"I have to analyze how I can accomplish more good and be the most useful," Kennedy said. He added that "my judgment at the moment is that I don't further the cause of peace" by backing McCarthy.

Hartke made clear he doesn't believe McCarthy has come up with an alternative to Johnson's course of applying military pressure on Vietnam that the voters can accept readily.

He said he thinks that as of now only Johnson and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, among potential candidates, have firm positions on Vietnam.

"There is one thing about the President and Nixon," he said. "You know where they stand on Vietnam. You may not agree with them, and I think a lot of people don't, but you know where they are."

Nixon, considered a front-runner for the GOP nomination, has supported Johnson's basic premise that the war is being fought to stem Communist aggression, a position Senate war policy critics have generally challenged.

McCarthy hinted at the possibility of a third-party movement in taking issue with an observation by National Chairman John M. Bailey to the Democratic National Committee in Chicago that "we will return next August to nominate our President . . ." He made clear he meant Johnson.

SETS STAGE

"Bailey's high-handed and arbitrary attempt to block an open Democratic convention helps more than anything else to set the stage for a third-party movement," McCarthy said.

A Republican war critic, Sen. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, shied away from taking sides in the May 28 Oregon primary where Vietnam may be an issue.

SENATOR SPEAKS OUT—New York Sen. Robert F. Kennedy addresses students and faculty at Manhattan Community College in New York yesterday. Kennedy said he is remaining on the sidelines in the Democratic primaries, although his views on Vietnam coincide with those of Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn. Kennedy added that he is prepared to support the Democratic presidential nominee, presumably President Johnson.

Romney Hits Bomb Pause

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. George Romney, making plans for his race in the New Hampshire GOP presidential primary, said yesterday he opposes a bombing pause in North Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Talking to newsmen after conferring with Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., and other GOP lawmakers, the Michigan governor said there should be no pause "unless we have some basis for a peace settlement on a satisfactory basis."

Romney, who recently returned from a trip to Vietnam, also said he thought his prospects in the New Hampshire primary were "very good."

He said he had a "good organization" good plans, good issues" for the March primary, the first in the nation.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he planned to step up his campaign, described by some as lagging, Romney said he had long thought of himself as "an underdog."

Surgeons Set Heart Confab Via Phone

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Dr. Christian Barnard planned a 9,000-mile telephone conference today with California heart transplant surgeon, Dr. Normnn E. Shumway, perhaps to compare notes on preparation for Barnard's third transplant operation.

★ ★ ★

A radio-telephone hookup between Barnard and Dr. Shumway in Palo Alto, Calif., originally had been scheduled for last night but no radio circuits were available. The surgeons were classmates at the University of Minnesota.

Barnard's second tarnsplant, patient, Dr. Philip Blaiberg, 58, was in good condition a week after receiving the heart of Clive Haupt, 24, a factory worker.

Barnard said yesterday he was contemplating a third transplant, perhaps on a man suffering from a disease almost exclusively restricted to black Africans, cardiomyopathy.

★ ★ ★

Shumway performed his first heart transplant and the world's fourth Saturday, transplanting the heart of a 43-year-old housewife to Michael Kasperak, 54, a retired steelworker.

One of the many hats of Consumers Power CONSCIENTIOUS PEOPLE

Many different men and women work for Consumers Power Company, but they have one thing in common. They are working for people. For their neighbors. For you.

Meter reader, repairman, switchboard operator, clerk, engineer, accountant, computer expert, home consultant . . . each is dedicated to giving you good service, service you can depend on. That includes keeping our rates low by constantly improving our efficiency and managing our business well.

Why does this good neighbor service mean so much at Consumers Power? For one thing, you can't see our product — the energy that we deliver to your home day and night, ready to serve you whenever you need it. But you can see our people.

You can see something else, too, although most times you may not give it a thought. The millions of dollars in taxes that Consumers Power pays each year to local, state and federal governments come back to you . . . in the form of better schools, better roads, and better public services.

Because you depend on us in so many ways, we try to be agreeable and helpful neighbors. Every day . . . 24 hours a day.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR RELATIVES, friends, neighbors, pallbearers, Mr. A. Miller —Chaplain, and the Veterans of World War I for their act of kindness, floral and food offerings and expression of sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement in the loss of my husband and our brother, Joseph P. Bowers. Rosalie Bowers and Family.

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR heart-felt thanks to our friends, neighbors and relatives, for their many acts of kindness and floral offerings, to Pontiac General Hospital for their wonderful care, to Reverend Robert Shelton, during our recent bereavement, Mrs. Estell McGhee and Son, and Mrs. Albert Hardebeck.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DAVID Turner, who passed away Jan. 9 1960.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Rememberance keeps him near.
Sadly missed by niece and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LAURA May Maynard, who passed away, Jan. 9, 1961.
What would I give to clasp her hand,
Her happy face to see,
To hear her voice and see her smile,
That meant so much to me.
Sadly missed by Mother and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GLEN F. Allen who passed away 7 years ago, Jan. 9, 1961. Sadly missed by wife, Lerah and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FRED Coe who passed away 2 years ago January 8, 1966.
From our happy home and circle
God has taken one we love,
Born away from sin and sorrow
To a better home above
Sadly missed by his wife and daughter.

Australia's Next Leader Elected Head of Party

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — Sen. John Grey Gorton, described by colleagues as hard working, good humored and sharp in debate, was elected leader of the Liberal party today, assuring his installation as Australia's next prime minister.

It was expected that Gorton would be sworn in as prime minister Wednesday. Since Prime Minister Harold E. Holt disappeared while swimming in rough surf Dec. 17, the government has been headed by his deputy, John McEwen.

Gorton, 56-year-old minister for education and science, had been been favored over three other candidates to succeed McEwen. The latter is leader of the Country party, the junior member of the Liberal-Country party coalition that has governed Australia since 1949.

Gorton's election is unlikely to result in any change in Australia's foreign policy, particularly in its military contribution to the Vietnam war and its support of U.S. policy there.

The new government leader told a televised news conference shortly after his election by the Liberal party's 81 members of the House of Representatives and the Senate: "Tomorrow I have no doubt that we will continue in this country as we should—arguments, perhaps quite bitter arguments, as in goals, as to differing priorities in differing fields of national endeavor."

★ ★ ★

His countrymen "can be sure that I will try my best and I will look to them for strength successfully to conclude what we start," he said.

A party spokesman said William McMahon would continue as deputy leader of the Liberal party. Normally McMahon would have succeeded Holt, but the Country party disagreed with him on several issues and threatened to break up the coalition if he became prime minister. He did not enter the election for party leader.

Candidates who ran against Gorton were Foreign Minister Paul Hasluck, 62; Leslie Bury, minister for labor and national service, and Billy Snedden, 41, minister for immigration. Bury and Snedden were eliminated on the first ballot, and Gorton won on the second.

Networks Ask Court 'Equal Time' Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — With an eye toward this year's presidential race, two major networks want the Supreme Court to take a new look at federal equal-time regulations.

The court was asked to decide before next spring whether Federal Communications Commissioners rules requiring broadcasters to provide free time to individuals or groups to answer "personal attack" and political editorials" don't violate freepress constitutional guarantees.

★ ★ ★

An appeal to the high court was filed Monday by the Columbia Broadcasting system and National Broadcasting Co., along with the Radio Television News Directors Association and eight operators of radio and television stations.

FCC rules require every station that broadcasts a statement attacking the honesty, character, integrity or like personal qualities" of any individual or group to notify the individual or group, furnish a tape, script or summary of the attack and offer free broadcast time for an answer.

EDITORIAL APPLICATION

The same applies when a station broadcasts an editorial favoring a specific candidate.

The appeal said certain programs—such as interviews—contain many editorial statements.

It maintained that allowing replies to each such statement would prove impossible.

The net effect of the so-called fairness doctrine would be to force stations to eliminate such statements altogether, said the appeal.

It noted requests for free time would be likely to increase sharply as this year's political campaigns get under way.

Hospitalized Vietnam GIs Keep Spirits High by Banter

By EARL WILSON

PLEIKU, South Vietnam—The hospital tours you take here reveal what a wondrously brave young army of GIs is fighting this war. As one white-haired nurse said, "Some of them are just babies."

WILSON

But there's no whimpering. They're smiling. One of them grinned up at me, said he was from New York and New Jersey, and asked what was new on Broadway.

"What happened to you?" I asked.

"Oh," he laughed, "I bit into some of that Vietnamese food—and it bit back."

A rather plump patient from Philadelphia, smoking a cigar, was getting out of the hospital tomorrow. And one from Chicago said:

"I'm afraid I'm gonna get well. Anyway, I'm not sick enough to get sent home. I don't know how you get sick enough to get sent home—but I'm trying to find out."

One boy had been shot in the fanny and while it wasn't hilarious to him, it was to everybody else, and even Bob Hope, visiting him, remarked about him getting the lead out, and the boy laughed.

But Elaine Dunn, the singer and dancer, Raquel Welch, Barbara McNair, Miss World and other girls, came out of the hospital with eyes that were wet.

A huge Chicagoan, Lloyd Jimerson, was the center of attention. The suregons took a two-pound chunk of ammo as big as a baseball out of his broken right leg.

"You mean that came out of YOU?" an astonished general asked. Another boy got shot in his wallet—in his shirt pocket. The bullet went through his money.

★ ★ ★

Another boy had shot himself.

"He did it accidentally—I think," chuckled the GI in the next bed.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Richard Burton and Liz Taylor fly here from Austria for the "Dr. Faustus" premiere and supper party Feb. 6 at the Plaza (benefit of Philip Burton's drama project) . . . A friend says: "Only Frank and Mia know whether they're permanently reconciled after their holiday togetherness." Frank's due here this week, then will do a St. Pete, Fla., benefit.

Leslie Uggams' "Hallelujah, Baby" folds Jan. 13; others may follow in the current Broadway slump . . . Cary Grant's skin-diving now at Treasure Cay, Grand Bahamas, before returning to N.Y. . . . Pretty Pat Marand will do the matinee shows of "Man of La Mancha"; Bernice Massi'll continue the rugged role in the evenings.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Can you imagine if Howard Hughes took over the state of Nevada? Our flag would have 49 stars and a pair of white sneakers.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: There's one thing you can always learn from the mistakes of others—how to make mistakes.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Don't marry for money—you can borrow it cheaper."—Scotch proverb.

EARL'S PEARLS: Wayne Kline of Evansville, Ind., says a radio station broadcast a civil defense air raid signal—and every teen-ager in town rushed to the record shop to buy the New Sound.

Joan Rivers overheard it: "Aren't you glad now, honey, that we got married?" . . . "I guess so. After all, how long can I hold a grudge?" That's earl, brother.

State Building

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A proposed 10-story state office building in downtown Grand Rapids' Vanderberg Center may be under contract next fall, city officials were informed Monday. The state purchased the land last April with the understanding that construction would begin within a year but state financial problems created delay.

Gadget Trails Temperature

DETROIT (AP) — It got so cold so fast in Detroit that the Weather Bureau's newfangled electronic temperature indicator couldn't keep up.

The device was found early yesterday to be "reading four to five degrees too high," a Weather Bureau official said. The electronic gadget is located at Detroit City Airport and gives inner-city temperature data.

The temperature dropped to a record low of eight degrees below zero yesterday, but the electronic gadget was off target.

After the equipment failure was noted, the Weather Bureau quickly obtained the real temperature reading.

It just relied on the old-fashioned mercury thermometer, the kind with the red line that goes up and down with the temperature.

Lenore: Ike Disavowed Anti-Romney Remarks

DETROIT (UPI) — Mrs. Lenore Romney, wife of Republican presidential hopeful Gov. George Romney, said yesterday former president Dwight Eisenhower had denied making statements attributed to him by the New York Times.

Mrs. Romney, appearing on a television show Lou Gordon, WKSD, Kaiser Broadcasting said she had talked to Eisenhower after the Times story appeared.

The article reportedly quoted Eisenhower as saying that Romney was not fit for the presidency.

She said her husband had not talked to Eisenhower "But I have since then.

"The President called me and he said, 'Why Lenore, you know I wouldn't say that about your husband. I did not mention panic. I did not mention that he had been on various sides of the issues'," she said.

★ ★ ★

She said Esienhower was critical of Romney's statement that he had been "brainwashed" on an earlier trip to Vietnam. She said the former president said that statement "could be damaging because it sounded like he had been on two sides."

She said Eisenhower described her husband as "a man that one trusts."

Indianan Guilty

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) —Samuel J. Stover, 32, of La Porte, Ind., was found guilty Monday by a federal district jury of the interstate transportation of a stolen car from La Porte to New Buffalo, Mich., on Nov. 29. He was remanded to jail by Federal Judge Noel P. Fox to await presentence investigation.

A Look at TV

Sea Series Beautiful

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Sharks, said Jacques-Yves Cousteau in the warm and almost reverent voice he used for everything about his beloved ocean, are "splendid savages—magnificent inhabitors of the seas."

They are also fierce and frightening fish turned into ripping, tearing creatures by the scent of blood or the sight of prey. An hour report on the investigation of these predators of the deep by the French oceanographer and the crew of his laboratory ship opened "The Undersea World of Jacques-Yves Cousteau" on ABC Monday night.

★ ★ ★

The photography, much of it filmed with special equipment in "man's last frontier on earth," was startlingly beautiful, and what it showed was often brutal. Shown in great detail were experiments indicating that sharks—"who have come out of the remote past virtually intact"—are attracted to food by scent, have sharp vision, and feel and react to vibrations in the water.

The awesome climax of the program was unique film of a "feeding frenzy" when a pack of hungry sharks were teased by food bait into attacking even each other. Most impressive were the daring divers working with practically no protection close to sharks in order to tag them for a study of their migratory habits.

SPIRITED START

It was a spirited, impressive start for a series which will be shown at irregular times over the next five years.

Monday's episode of ABC's "Peyton Place" should not go unobserved. For better or for worse, it was the 400th episode now healthily into its fourth year with no signs of structural fatigue.

The most dramatic defection was that of Mia Farrow two seasons ago. But most of the cast who started out are still around, still suffering—Dorothy Malone, Ed Nelson, Ryan O'Neal, Barbara Parkins and a few more.

Monday's News From the Capital

By the Associated Press

THE GOVERNOR

Was in Washington, conferring with political advisors concerning his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination.

THE SUPREME COURT

Ruled that Gov. George Romney acted "contrary to law" in dismissing Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald as state adjutant general.

State Dept. Hit on Internal Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate internal security subcommittee accuses the State Department of dealing mildly with three of its officials who allegedly bugged the office phone of Otto F. Otepka, the department's demoted security chief.

The subcommittee said in a report released today that the department "allowed two witnesses who had lied to the subcommittee to resign with no prejudicial material in their personnel files to prevent further government employment, and it retained in its employment one of the trio on its payroll."

★ ★ ★

Otepka was demoted, reprimanded and reassigned for having furnished the subcommittee's counsel, J. G. Sourwine, with classified material in 1963. He appealed to the Civil Service Commission after Secretary of State Dean Rusk decided the case last December.

The subcommittee said because of the "soft treatment" of the three employes, "the impression has inevitably been created—and only the State Department can undo this impression—that it regards perjury before a committee of Congress as a quite minor matter."

NO COMMENT

The State Department had no comment.

The charge was made in the second part of the subcommittee's report summing up findings of its 1963-65 hearings on State Department security in general and the Otepka case in particular. The report reprints testimony made public earlier, interposing the subcommittee's opinion about witnesses and their testimony.

The three officials were John Reilly, former deputy assistant secretary for security; Elmer D. Hill, former head of the division of technical services in Reilly's office; and David I. Belisle, then Reilly's special assistant.

The subcommittee said Reilly and Hill first denied but later admitted they had installed a listening device in Otepka's office. Belisle, who was out of the country when the bug was installed, denied any knowledge of it, but later said he was told about it after his return, the report added.

1968: Goodyear announces the Polyglas tire

The tire that can double your mileage

Goodyear's new Polyglas tires can give you DOUBLE THE MILEAGE of the tires that come on your new car.

Like the polyester cord tires introduced in 1962, Polyglas tires have the smooth ride of rayon and the strength of nylon.

Why Polyglas Tires Can Double Your Mileage. Polyglas stands for a *poly*ester cord body and a fiber*glass* belt (4 plies under the tread). The *poly*ester cord body has the ride of rayon and the strength of nylon. The fiber*glass* belt is, pound for pound, stronger than steel. This Polyglas combination—polyester cord and fiberglass belt—holds that wide tread firmly on the road, so it squirms less, wears less.

Do Polyglas tires cost any more? Yes, somewhat more—but what a bargain for the extra miles you get!

Any disadvantages? Yes. This new tire—called the Custom Wide Tread Polyglas—may not fit some cars. But in a few months, Goodyear will have a Power Cushion Polyglas tire to fit all cars. Check your Goodyear Store or Dealer for your requirements.

The Polyglas Tire Fights Squirm. Squirm is the main cause of tire wear. You can't see it. But it's always happening to your tires. Squirm nibbles away at the rubber the way an eraser rubs itself off on a piece of paper.

Polyglas tires virtually eliminate squirm. So they can last twice as long as tires that come on most new cars. If you've been getting 15 thousand miles, you can get 30 thousand—if 20, you can expect 40. And you get all that extra safe mileage from Polyglas belted tires along with a smooth ride. What's more, this Polyglas tread is up to one-third wider than conventional treads—for more safe traction.

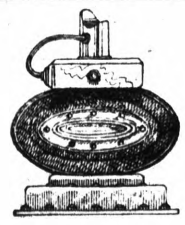

The Polyglas tire—Goodyear's Custom Wide Tread—is already standard or optional equipment on some of the finest 1968 cars. It's years ahead of its time—the tire of the future today.

See your Goodyear man and place your order for Polyglas tires now. They can double your mileage.

Polyglas, Custom Wide Tread, Power Cushion Polyglas, Super Cushion, Vytacord—T.M.'s The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company, Akron, Ohio.

Super Cushion

1938: Rayon Cord Tires were introduced by Goodyear. Roads were rough and the rayon cord tire helped to smooth them out.

1947: Nylon Cord Tires were introduced by Goodyear. They were much stronger than those made with rayon—a welcome safety feature for the new superhighway speeds.

1948: Radial Ply Belted Tires were introduced in Europe. The belt gave these tires the advantage of increased mileage and economy. The disadvantage: a harsh ride at lower speeds.

1962: Polyester Cord for tires was introduced by Goodyear under the trade name "Vytacord." For the first time, Americans could buy a tire that combined the smooth ride of rayon with the strength of nylon.

Legislators Toss for Open Housing

LANSING (AP) — Which chamber — the House or the Senate — should be first to pick up the thorn-studded open housing issue when the 1968 legislative session convenes this week?

The House, which defeated such a bill last month although falling just nine votes short of passage?

Or the Senate, which refused even to take up the question last year, but whose members have an advantage in handling a contreversial issue because they are not up for re-election this year?

On the eve of this year's regular session, which begins tomorrow at noon, the question reportedly has not been decided, although leaders of the Legislature's Republican majority continued to discuss the upcoming issues.

House Speaker Robert Waldron and Senate GOP leader Emil Lockwood planned to huddle today with the chairmen of the Legislature's two judiciary committees, probably to discuss which chamber should be first to work on reorganization of the state's lower court.

EMOTIONAL ISSUE

If one house was awarded the task of concentration on the big, complex court question, it might leave the other free to debate the emotion-ridden issue of a state wide open occupancy law.

"If the Senate can pass a strong bill fast enough, then I wouldn't be adverse to letting them have it first," said House Minority Leader William Ryan, D-Detroit, a firm backer of the housing bill.

Ryan said senators might be willing to vote for a tougher version of the controversial measure because they won't face the voters again until 1970. House members are up for re-election next November.

★ ★ ★

But Ryan added he thought the House, which defeated its housing bill 47-55 last month, could pass the measure this year.

ROMNEY PLEDGE

Gov. George Romney has pledged his aides will push for adoption of the housing bill again this year. Romney's office probably will have a voice in deciding which chamber will consider the measure first.

Besides housing and court reorganization, the Legislature will face at least two other issues this year: crime legislation and the annual budget battle.

Romney's State Crime Commission last week recommended several new laws — ranging from riot protection for firemen to eavesdropping powers for police.

JAIRO GALLEGO

Bloomfield Hills Collision Is Fatal

A Bloomfield Township youth became Oakland County's fifth 1968 traffic fatality yesterday when the car in which he was riding stalled on Woodward in Bloomfield Hills and was struck from the rear by another vehicle.

Oakland Highway Toll in '68
5
Last Year to Date 1

Dead on arrival at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Jairo Gallego, 14, of 804 W. Long Lake.

Bloomfield Hills police said the car, driven by Gallego's mother, Judith, stopped just south of Trowbridge, and was sitting in a southbound high-speed lane when the mishap occurred at 5:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Gallego's sister, Demarys, 22 was sitting in the right front seat, police said, and the boy was seated in the rear.

★ ★ ★

Both Mrs. Gallego and Demarys were treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released, as was the driver of the second vehicle, Paul D. Parker, 24 of Berkley.

Commuting Up on Grand Trunk

Commuter carryings on the Grand Trunk Western Railroad between Detroit and Pontiac were up more than 25 per cent in 1967 as compared to 1966. This is the first such gain in 13 years.

More than 140,000 people rode the trains to Detroit and more than 137,000 people rode the return trains to Birmingham, Royal Oak and Pontiac the railroad reported.

There were 56,301 more carryings than in 1966 — reversing a downward trend that had continued since 1954.

Part of the growth in commuter traffic was accounted for by the introduction of the new Shoppers' Specials in November.

★ ★ ★

Over-all commuter carryings (including Shoppers' Specials during November were up from 39,165 in 1966 to 56,997 in 1967, in December, from 39,525 in '66 to 54,811 in '67, the railroad said.

Grand Trunk operates eight commuter trains daily, including two shoppers' trains, between Detroit and Pontiac.

The high day for this travel during the 11-month period was Nov. 24 when 2,916 people rode Grand Trunk commuter trains. This was the day after Thanksgiving, one of the heaviest shopping days of the year.

★ ★ ★

The previous '67 high was Feb. 3, when 2,435 persons rode the trains during heavy snowfalls. During '66 the year's high was 1,757, set in August.

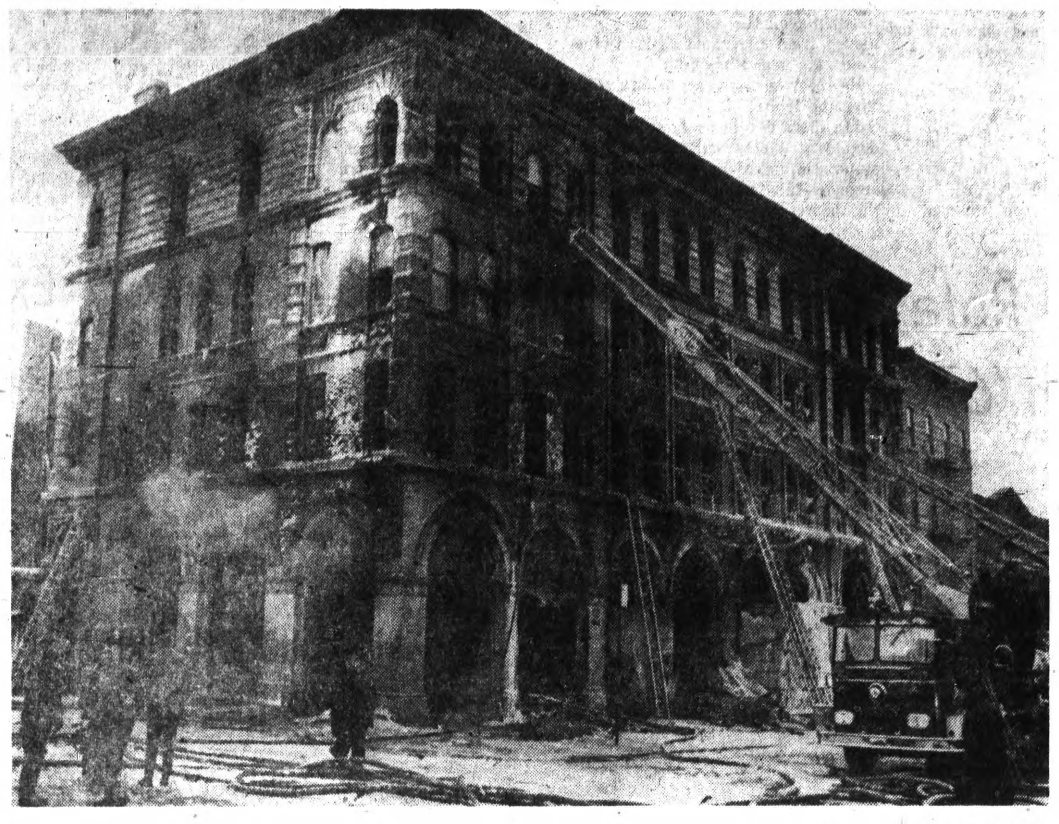

Sanctuary for Deserters

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden granted sanctuary today to four American deserters who jumped ship in Japan to protest the Vietnam war.

The decision by the Aliens Commission was unanimous. In its verdict it did not consider the Americans as political refugees but that they would be allowed to remain in Sweden for "humanitarian reasons."

SCENE OF HOLOCAUST—Smoke still drifts from a first-floor paper carton firm in a Brooklyn tenement which was ravaged by fire early today, killing at least 13 persons. Scores of dwellers were forced to flee to safety in near-zero cold. Firemen said the blaze apparently started on the ground floor and spread upward.

Nine of Victims of Slum Inferno Were Children

From Our News Wires

NEW YORK — Flames roared unimpeded through a four-story slum tenement today on the coldest Jan. 9 in New York history.

Most of the 125 residents scrambled to safety in zero weather but the swift spreading fire trapped others in a flaming tomb.

At least 13 persons, their bodies charred beyond recognition, perished. Nine of the victims were children.

Frenzied residents, standing on fire escapes on the second and third floors of the grim, gray brick building, screamed for help as the flames tore up through the structure.

★ ★ ★

Three police officers, first on the scene, trained a high-beamed flashlight which barely sliced through the black, billowing, choking smoke.

'THEY WERE JUMPING'

"They were jumping from the second floor toward the light," said Patrolman William Petrillo. "It was all they could see through the smoke."

Patrolman Ralph Sorrentino said he ran to the alley in the rear where men and women on the second floor began throwing children to him.

He said he caught at least 20 children but missed others. "It was so difficult stumbling through the ice and darkness." One woman who jumped fell on him, he said.

★ ★ ★

A man and a woman perched on a third floor ledge against a blazing backdrop were plucked to safety by firemen with the aid of a ladder.

The temperature stood at a record low of 2 degrees for the day when the fire broke out about 12:30 a.m. and fell to 1 degree below zero later.

Police said 14 firemen, two policemen and 15 civilians were treated for a variety of injuries at Greenpoint Hospital.

Fire Commissioner Robert O. Lowery called it "almost a miracle" that more residents did not perish in the flames.

★ ★ ★

Fire fighters poured hundreds of gallons of water on the flames, but as the water hit the building, the structure was transformed into an eerie ice sculpture.

Fire officials said the blaze erupted in a paper factory immediately behind the gray brick tenement. Flames, fanned by winds gusting to 15 miles per hour, leaped quickly to the apartment house.

Pontiac Police Continuing Search for Stolen Weapons

Pontiac police said today they are concentrating on personal contacts in the investigation of the burglary of weapons from the Army Reserve Center discovered Sunday.

★ ★ ★

"We've got some promising leads we're working on and at least one person who might have been a witness will be interviewed today," said Capt. Charles Gale, chief of city detectives.

At least 58 items were stolen from the center at 40 Walnut, including more than 45 military rifles and pistols and four bazooka-type rocket launchers.

Officers from the State Police, Army Intelligence and the Federal Bureau of Investigation joined local authorities at the scene shortly after the break-in was reported about 8 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Gale said all four agencies are continuing to combine forces in the investigation.

MADE DISCOVERY

The burglary was discovered by Lt. Donald Dudick of 2077 N. Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, whose unit was scheduled for Sunday morning drill.

After officers had gone over the scene for more than 10 hours, arrangements were made to ship the center's remaining weapons out for safekeeping until repairs to the building are completed.

The inventory of missing items is still not official according to Gale.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac detectives James Fritz and Branton Dennis described the break-in method as fairly routine, emphasizing that common burglary tools were used.

★ ★ ★

The building was entered by prying open a rear overhead door, probably with crowbars. Similar instruments were used to force open a safe after wire caging was opened with bolt cutters.

Area Gets Respite From Biting Cold

The weatherman is giving Pontiac area residents a breathing spell from harsh biting winds and bitter cold temperatures.

The forecast calls for snow flurries or light snow and warmer. The low tonight is expected to be 10 to 15 above zero.

Partly cloudy and continued cold with the high in the 20s is the outlook for tomorrow. Some snow is likely Thursday.

Winds southeasterly to south at 15 to 25 miles will become north to northwest tonight.

★ ★ ★

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 90, tonight 50, tomorrow 20.

★ ★ ★

The temperature was 11 in downtown Pontiac at 6 a.m. today. By 12:30 p.m. it was 20.

Post Office Has 6-Centers--Now

"A sufficient supply of six-centers have arrived," Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today.

The new six-cent stamps, featuring a portrait of Franklin D. Roosevelt, arrived yesterday.

The new domestic postal rates, raising the price of a first-class letter from five to six cents, went into effect Sunday.

"We have 750,000 six-cent stamps in sheets and another 800,000 in coils of 100."

Donaldson said he thought the delay in receiving the stamps from the Bureau of Engraving in Washington, D.C., was caused by insufficient lead time.

"The date for the new rates was determined last fall when Congress anticipated this bill being passed and signed, but the bill wasn't signed until just before Christmas," he said.

"The Bureau of Engraving couldn't start the stamps till then," Donaldson added.

"After all, it's a tremendous job to print and supply stamps for 32,000 post offices in the country in the time that was alloted."

Postcards are now five cents each. Airmail rates have been increased from eight to 10 cents an ounce and airmail cards from six to eight cents each.

All first-class mail over 13 ounces and all airmail over seven ounces will be merged into a single category and charged a flat rate of 80 cents up to one pound. The heavier pieces, subject to the single rate schedule, will be delivered by the fastest available means of transportation.

GM Truck Has 2nd-Best Output

GMC Truck & Coach Division built 130,659 trucks and coaches in 1967 to chalk up its second best production year for civilian-type vehicles, reports Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager.

He said last year's output was topped only in 1965 when 136,705 vehicles rolled off the division's assembly lines.

It marked the fifth consecutive year that GMC Truck & Coach production has surpassed the 100,000 mark.

Voters Revolt on School Taxes

By DICK ROBINSON

Oakland County voters and those throughout the nation appear to be revolting against increased school taxes.

★ ★ ★

Figures for 1967 show that the county's electorate defeated half of the school millage and bond issues compared to about 20 per cent the previous year. And observers are not optimistic for a better year in 1968.

ROBINSON

Area voters will be apprehensive toward proposed school tax hikes because of probable raises in state, federal and social security taxes and costs of living, predicts Mrs. Polly Carithers, Oakland Schools director of public information.

★ ★ ★

Last fall's teacher strikes and the likelihood of further militancy on the part of teachers by midyear may also influence voter actions, she says.

1967 RECORD

All in all, the 1967 millage and bond referendum record for districts within Oakland Schools Intermediate District looked like this:

- Increased operating millage elections — passed in six districts, defeated in seven districts, many by paper thin margins.

Three districts resubmitted defeated issues which then passed, while Holly and Troy registered double defeats.

★ ★ ★

- Bond elections for new facilities —three passed and three were defeated.

In 1966, eight millage proposals were approved and three defeated, including a double defeat in Waterford Township.

Three out of 15 bond referendums failed, two times in Waterford.

Millage is a property tax levied to raise revenue for school districts to operate school programs. One mill is $1 per $1,000 of assessed property value.

★ ★ ★

Approval for issuance of bonds increases debt of individual districts.

VOCATIONAL CENTERS

Looking back on 1967, county educators say they were lucky to get vocational education centers approved in a countywide vote.

Eight of 28 districts (one district was evenly split) voted no on a half-mill tax to build the centers. The vote was close, though, passing only by a 5-to-4 margin.

Oakland County trends are no different from those anywhere in the United States, authorities point out. A growing number of taxpayers are rebelling against mounting costs of public education.

Only 11 per cent of the nation's school bond issues went down to defeat in 1960, according to the U.S. Office of Educa-

Heart Recipient Worsens

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Mike Kasperak, beset with many complications after his heart transplant operation, is in critical condition today.

The 54-year-old ex-steelworker received a new heart Saturday night to replace his failing one.

★ ★ ★

His condition became critical Monday when he began to bleed from the stomach and intestines. Blood transfusions and other measures appeared to have stopped the bleeding, which his doctors attributed to a severe preexisting liver disease.

Physicians said he was suffering some kidney failure also.

Though conscious and able to signify responses, Kasperak needed help breathing—a tube in his throat—because of lung disease.

"These many complications are severe but soluble as long as the heart function is good," said Dr. Norman E. Shumway, head of the Stanford Medical School team that made the transplant.

Doctors said Kasperak's cardiac output was only slightly below normal and the heart appeared to be functioning very well.

His condition was satisfactory from the end of the operation until the internal bleeding began.

WATCHES TV

Kasperak even watched 10 minutes of a televised news conference about the operation, nurses said. Drs. Shumway and Donald C. Harrison, head of the medical school cardiology division, held the conference at Stanford Sunday afternoon.

The patient's wife, Ferne, has visited him three times.

★ ★ ★

Kasperak's diseased heart forced him to quit work 18 months ago. He and his wife moved from Cleveland to East Palo Alto, near Stanford.

He received the heart of Mrs. Virginia White, 43, of nearby Santa Clara two hours after she died. Mrs. White, mother of two, suffered a stroke—a brain hemorrhage—the night preceding the heart transplantation. She lapsed into a coma and never recovered consciousness.

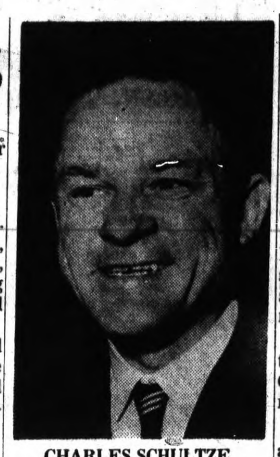

AGREED TO TRANSPLANT

Her husband, Charles W. "Bill" White, daughter Judy, 18, son Rickey, 12, and her mother, told that Mrs. White was dying and there was no hope, agreed to the transplant.

"She was the type who would want to do this," White said. He added that their grief was eased in knowing she was helping another.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. White, in death, also gave a kidney to another patient who was dying at the hospital. The kidney patient's name was not disclosed, but the operation was termed successful by hospital spokesmen.

Parking Facility Bonds OK'd

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night approved the sale of more than $1.5 million in bonds to finance construction of a 710-car parking structure in the downtown business district.

The revenue bonds were sold to the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago for an average interest rate of $4.59 per cent.

The interest will cost the city about $1,073,000 during the next 25 years.

Construction of the new facility will begin tomorrow with the removal of 232 parking meters from the municipal parking lot at Pierce and Merrill where the five-level structure will be located.

Immediately after awarding the bond sale to Northern Trust, the lowest of five bidders, Mayor William Roberts signed a contract with the A. J. Etkins Co. to carry on the construction.

BID 'FAVORABLE'

The construction contract was awarded to the Oak Park firm two weeks ago.

City Finance Director James Purkiss termed the Northern Trust bid as "favorable" and noted that there was only a difference of $11,500 between the high and low bidder.

The parking structure is to be paid off from parking meter revenues and a 10 per cent assessment against property owners in the central business district.

★ ★ ★

It will be the city's second enclosed parking facility.

ZONING AMENDMENT

The other, a 560-car structure at Woodward and Willitts, has been in operation for more than a year.

In other business, the commission adopted an amendment to the zoning ordinance which will allow the construction of row-type housing.

The city planning board will later recommend specific areas where the new zoning classification can be applied.

★ ★ ★

Postponed for two weeks was a discussion on the sale of city property located in Troy on Coolidge between Lincoln and 15 Mile Road to the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority for a transfer site.

The delay was requested by two home owner groups who wanted time to bring the proposal to the attention of members.

U.S. War Toll Rate Shows Gain in '67

NEW YORK (AP) — The casualty rate among U.S. troops in South Vietnam climbed significantly in 1967 over 1966. It increased both in the over-all total and on a percentage basis, despite a prediction the percentage rate would decline.

A comparative survey showed today that troop strength, greatly augmented during the year, averaged 448,200 against the 1966 average of 299,281. Casualties in 1967 totaled 9,353 killed and 62,004 wounded, a percentage of 15.9. The percentage killed was 2.08, wounded 13.8.

Total casualties in 1966 were 5,008 killed and 30,093 wounded, or 11.7 per cent of the average number of men engaged. The percentage killed was 1.66 per cent, wounded 10.05.

Henry Cabot Lodge, then U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, predicted last January the percentage of casualties would drop during 1967.

PROGRESS PREDICTED

"I believe the purely military part of the war, which is what the Americans are engaged in, will make tremendous progress in 1967 and that the percentage of American casualties will start declining," Lodge said in an interview at that time.

At the end of the year the number of American dead since 1961 stood at 15,997 and the number of wounded at 99,742. Another 878 were listed as missing or captured.

★ ★ ★

Some men were wounded more than once, which somewhat inflated the total, and in many cases the wounds were minor. For example, of 437 wounded during Christmas week, 130 did not require hospitalization.

Christmas week dead totaled 185.

WORST WEEK

The bloodiest week so far for U.S. troops was May 14 to May 20 when 337 were killed and 2,282 wounded.

As of Dec. 30 the Pentagon reported a U.S. troop level of 486,000, compared with 389,000 a year previous.

In 1965, when the U.S. armed forces in the South Vietnamese arena totaled fewer than 200,000 casualties were 1,369 killed and 6,114 wounded.

Johnson Peace Quest Doubted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright expresses strong doubts the Johnson administration is aggressively pursuing the possibility of peace talks with North Vietnam.

"The administration is only interested in surrender," he said Monday in an interview.

★ ★ ★

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he did not expect the White House and State Department would follow up on the recent Hanoi statement that peace talks will result if the United States ends its air strikes and other acts of war.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk has said the administration is trying to determine whether the statement was an actual step toward negotiations or a propaganda move.

★ ★ ★

Asked whether he agreed with other Vietnam war critics who have urged a bombing halt to test the enemy's intentions, Fulbright said he had advocated that course consistently in his long-standing opposition to administration policy.

POWELL VISITS WATTS—Adam Clayton Powell arrives in Los Angeles last night for a walk through the streets of Watts and speeches at several colleges. At a news conference, Powell accused Congress of reversing its position on civil rights since his expulsion from the House of Representatives March 1. He said Congress is now cutting away earlier civil rights gains. The dapper Harlem preacher-politician has been at his island retreat in the Bahamas since his self-imposed exile in 1966.

Levin to Seek Dem OK to Quit Post in Senate

LANSING (UPI) — State Sen. Sander M. Levin said today he would ask his fellow Democrats to allow him to step down as Senate minority floor leader so he can devote more time to being state party chairman.

Levin said he will ask to be relieved from his position at a caucus of Senate Democrats at 8 tonight.

"If the matter of a replacement can be resolved without disrupting the caucus, I would prefer to resign and have someone else take my place," the senator from Berkley said.

But Levin indicated he would keep his position as No. 2 man in the caucus hierarchy if it appeared his departure would open a bitter battle for a successor.

★ ★ ★

State Senate Republicans also were scheduled to meet in caucus today while House members planned to mark time before the start of the 1968 legislative session tomorrow.

On the agenda for the Senate GOP caucus was the filing of important committee vacancies left by the death of Sen. Harold J. Volkema of Holland.

Opened by Volkema's death were the chairmanship of the Senate Education Committee and a seat on the State Affairs Committee.

Budget Chief Resigns Post

'Principal Assistant' Is Appointed by LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — Director Charles L. Schultze of the Budget Bureau has become the second top presidential economic adviser to resign within a week.

Schultze's resignation—effective after the new budget is presented to Congress—was announced Monday night by the Texas White House seven days after it reported that Gardner Ackley would step down as chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers.

★ ★ ★

Named by Johnson to succeed Schultze in the $30,000-a-year post was Charles J. Zwick, 41, currently assistant Budget Bureau director.

Zwick was described as Schultze's "principal assistant and adviser on economic policy matters."

FORMER PROFESSOR

A native of Plantsville, Conn., Zwick formerly taught economics at Harvard University. He joined the Budget Bureau in October 1965 after working for the Rand Corp., Santa Monica, Calif.

Ackley was named ambassador to Italy. Schultze plans to join the Brookings Institution, a private research organization based in Washington, and to return to part-time teaching at the University of Maryland, where he formerly taught economics.

Schultze, 43, said he began talking about leaving the director's job as early as last June but agreed to stay on until completion of work on the new budget for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

That is scheduled for presentation to Congress Jan. 29.

The director said his leaving should not be construed as any break with the administration over economic policy.

Ex-Adjutant General Is 'Available for Duty'

LANSING (AP) — Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald, removed from his post as state adjutant general more than two years ago by Gov. George Romney was "available for duty" today, awaiting instructions from the governor.

Meanwhile, the state's legal officers sought to untangle legal questions and determine just who is Michigan's adjutant general.

★ ★ ★

The State Supreme Court ruled Monday that Romney acted "contrary to law" when he removed McDonald from his post in 1965 and that the removal proceedings "are void and of no effect."

Shortly after the high court's ruling was announced, a jubilant McDonald went to National Guard headquarters at the Lansing armory where he conferred with Maj. Gen. Clarence Schnipke, whom Romney had named named adjutant general to replace McDonald.

STATEMENT

"I have always been, according to law, adjutant general of Michigan," McDonald told newsmen.

Romney, contacted in Washington where he was conferring with aides on his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, declined comment on the ruling.

★ ★ ★

"I'm sitting right here," said Schnipke. 'This is the office of the director of the department of Military Affairs."

Schnipke, who also is department director, is unlikely to remain the state's official adjutant general until the Supreme Court issues a writ spelling out procedures in the case.

A spokesman for the court, who described the situation as "a little bit muddy," said such a writ should be issued within 30 days.

"I assume the ball is back in the governor's court," said George Bushnell Jr., attorney for McDonald.

There was speculation that if McDonald is reinstated with back pay and allowances, Romney might use his authority to ask the general to resign and retire with full benefits.

Bushnell indicated that should Romney take such action, the general would take no further legal action.

Model Homes Vandalized in Waterford

Vandals caused an estimated $5,000 to $7,000 damage to three model homes on Pleasant Drive in Waterford Township, Pontiac State Police learned yesterday.

Owned by Blachura General Contractors, Inc., of 3538 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, the homes are located at 5851, 5861 and 5871 Pleasant in Huntoon Shores No. 3 Subdivison.

State Police said the furniture, fixtures and interiors of the homes were damaged extensively. All three were broken into.

In one of the homes, living room furniture was extensively damaged, tables were broken, three pictures were removed from the wall in the family room and smashed and papers were strewn throughout the house.

★ ★ ★

In another of the homes, furniture was overturned in the family room and a glass display was smashed.

SMASHED PICTURES

In the third home, the damage also included smashed pictures and overturned and slit furniture.

An open house was held in the houses Sunday with more than 200 persons attending, State Police were told.

Surveyor Nears Lunar Landing

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 7 appears set to make a soft landing on the moon tonight.

It will make the last U.S. probe of the moon before man heads there himself.

★ ★ ★

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory will attempt to put the craft down near the rugged highlands north of the crater Tycho.

It carries a television camera, a small scoop to dig trenches, a device to analyze soil with radiation and magnets to detect iron.

If things go well, the 2,288-pound space vehicle will be slowed from 6,000 miles an hour by retrorockets so that it will be going 3 m.p.h. 13 feet above the lunar surface. It will free fall the last 13 feet.

LANDING TIME

Landing was expected about 8:15 p.m. EST.

The mission of the Surveyor, launched from Cape Kennedy, Fla., early Sunday, is to see if there is any significant difference between the Tycho area and the equatorial plains chosen for manned landings planned for as early as next year.

'Six-Centers' Arrive at City Post Office

Higher rates are also in effect for other categories of mail used primarily by large-volume mailers. These include bulk third-class advertising mail rates, special rates for books, films and records.

MEETING TOMORROW

Any commercial mailers, dealing in any form of bulk mailings, who have questions about the new rates, may attend a 3 p.m. meeting tomorrow at the post office where questions will be answered.

Cancellation of Hearing to Be Asked

City commissioners will be asked to cancel a scheduled Jan. 16 public hearing on the 1968 city general fund budget and make temporary appropriations for payroll and expenditures at their meeting tomorrow night.

Recent court action eliminated an expected referendum election on Pontiac's income tax and an order that the tax went into effect Jan. 1 made the budget presented three weeks ago obsolete.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said he would revise the budget as soon as practicable taking into account new tax money to be received from the income tax.

Since the fiscal year has already ensued, Warren said, temporary appropriations are necessary until a budget can be adopted.

★ ★ ★

Commissioners are also expected to:

- Consider a lease agreement with the Pontiac Transit Corp. which would continue a subsidy for bus service in the city.
- Receive an agreement from the State Highway Department designating Auburn as a city street.
- Receive details concerning a suit brought against the city on behalf of three youths arrested Nov. 26.
- Confirm the special assessment roll for construction work done on the Galloway Creek Sewer Trunk Line recently completed by a construction firm.

Strike Dates May Be Set

Strike deadlines can be set after midnight tonight if local contracts are not agreed upon at the two largest General Motors plants in Pontiac, according to union officials.

Still without local contracts today are Local 594 at GMC Truck and Coach Division and Local 653 at Pontiac Motor Division.

Today was the target date for agreement on a local contract between negotiating teams.

After today, both unions said they will seek strike permission from the international and a date will be set after which time workers will be taken off their jobs if a local agreement has not been reached.

★ ★ ★

The national agreement was approved by vote of the UAW workers and still at issue are local issues not involving wages.

To be settled, according to union spokesmen, are rules on seniority, working conditions, treatment of workers, layoff procedures and grievances — 69 unsettled at Truck and Coach and some 500 at Pontiac Motor.

County School Issues Hit Voter Snags

tion. But in 1966, more than 25 per cent were defeated.

WATERFORD DISTRICT

Waterford School District in the past two years has had the most trouble in the county to get a millage or bond issue approved.

Voters in that district, the fourth largest in the county, have flatly said no to eight out of the last nine issues. The latest was a 7½-mill, five-year property tax in November.

Troy is also having problems. Twice a 7-mill increase failed last year along with vocational education. Now a third 7-mill increase has been scheduled for Feb. 19.

★ ★ ★

Since 1964, five of nine millage, bond or special or vocational education issues have been rejected.

HOLLY DEFEATS

Holly in 1966 and 1967 turned down three of four millage increases and one $5.2-million bond issue last October for a junior high school.

Other districts, such as Walled Lake, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills, have unblemished records since 1964.

Walled Lake in the past four years has not defeated one out of nine millage, bond or annexation elections. They were one of the larger districts to pass a millage increase — 7 mills renewal and 3 mills increase — last year.

★ ★ ★

Both Birmingham — now the third largest county district and Bloomfield Hills did not hold local revenue elections last year, but teacher strikes in both districts last fall could affect future balloting, observers say.

FARMINGTON DEFEAT

Farmington voters closed out 1967 by voting a 5-mill increase — their first millage defeat in at least five years — while at the same time approving $9 million of bonds.

Pontiac School District — the largest in the county with about 24,000 students — has not had an additional millage election since 1960 when the issue was defeated or a bond referendum since 1929.

A millage and bond election is expected to be set soon there for balloting in late winter.

★ ★ ★

Royal Oak School District, like Pontiac, has not put many millage or bond proposal before the voters in recent years, the last coming in 1965. A 6-mill increase election is scheduled for Feb. 20 for the county's second largest district.

ELECTIONS

Besides the two largest districts, at least a half dozen other county districts are expected to hold millage elections early in the year.

★ ★ ★

The year 1968 appears to be an important one in determining the future of education in Oakland County.

Lyon Twp. Man Injured in Blast

Listed Critical After Gas Station Explosion

A 31-year-old man is in critical condition in Wayne County General Hospital from burns received when a gas station exploded and burned Sunday in Lyon Township.

The fire started when the victim, Melbourne Cash, 31, of 29720 Milford, Lyon Township, dropped a light bulb which broke near a gasoline container, said New Hudson Fire Chief F. J. Knapp.

Cash, at the time, was repairing his car in the pit of the Sunoco gas station at 57017 Grand River. The station is owned by Mrs. C. Erwin Pettengill and operated by Edward G. Fitzsimmons.

There is no monetary estimate of the damage yet, said Knapp.

★ ★ ★

The New Hudson fire department put about 7,000 gallons of water on the fire during about two and a half hours until the fire was under control, said the chief.

A tanker truck from Novi assisted the New Hudson department.

Death Claims Retired Area Postmaster

Aimed at Developing Waterford Activities

The second session in a series of discussions aimed at developing activities guidelines for Waterford Township's young people and their parents will be held at 7:30 tonight at Pierce Junior High School, 5145 Hatchery.

★ ★ ★

Cosponsored by the Greater Waterford Community Council and the Waterford Township Youth Assistance Committee, the meetings are open to the public. Interested parents and secondary school students are urged to attend.

Topics to be discussed are parent-youth relationships; allowances; social events and hours; dating; curfews; duties and responsibilities toward the family, school and community; telephone use; driving, drinking; school relationships; and public behavior.

At the first session on Dec. 12, the turnout included 27 students from five of the township's eight public and parochial secondary schools.

★ ★ ★

They discussed the various topics, but made no decisions.

RECOMMENDATIONS

For tonight' meeting, the students were asked to come prepared with written recommendations to be compiled and presented for final discussion Jan. 17.

The topics will be discussed in small groups, the students and parents separated.

Chairman of the youth assistance committee's youth code project is Mrs. John Scott. Rev. Lawrence Kaiser of Our Lady of the Lake School is cochairman.

Dr. Kingsley Montgomery, assistant superintendent of children's services for the Waterford Township School District, moderates the panels.

Area Boy Scouts Reach a Record Membership

Area boy scouting is on the increase.

Year-end figures show 11,565 boys enrolled, a new membership high for the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The council observes its 50th anniversary this year.

Membership total represents a 9.2 per cent gain, or 969 boys over the total at the end of 1966.

"The year 1967 was an exciting one. We are making great progress and it's wonderful to know that more boys than ever are enrolled in scouting here. But we also realize that much work has to be done. Our drive to bring scouting to all interested boys will continue," said George A. DeCourcy, council president.

Boys wishing information on scouting may contact leaders of their local units or the council office at 132 Franklin Blvd.

Members of the Chippewa Lodge of the Order of the Arrow elected new officers for the upcoming year at a recent annual winter meeting at Camp Agawam.

Elected chief was Charles Horsch, 6595 Eastlawn, Clarkston; Lonnie Bone, 1634 Inverness, West Bloomfield Township, vice chief; Dave McGeen, 552 Lake Angelus, Pontiac Township, secretary; and Paul Rickey, 21985 Leyte, Farmington, treasurer.

New Virgil Honor candidates cited for exceptional leadership are Horsch, Art McQuinn, 3390 Loon Lake Shores, Waterford Township; Glenn Tincknell, 990 North Rochester, Lake Orion; and Cal Meyers, 255 West Cornell.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE
$1,000,000.00
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN
BUILDING AND SITE BONDS, SERIES 1967

Sealed bids for the purchase of Building and Site Bonds, Series 1967, to be issued by the Board of Education of Oakland Schools, Oakland County, Michigan (formerly known as the Intermediate School District of Oakland County and hereinafter referred to as the "School District"), of the par value of $1,000,000, will be received by the undersigned, at the Board of Education offices in said school district, Campus Drive, Oakland County Service Center, Pontiac, Michigan, until 4:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, the 25th day of January, 1968, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated September 1, 1967, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each or in larger denomination at the option of the original purchaser, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 upwards, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 5% per annum, payable on May 1, 1968, and thereafter semi-annually on November 1 and May 1. Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ or 1/20 of 1% of any combination thereof. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only and shall be represented by one coupon only for each coupon period and all bonds maturing in the same year shall carry the same interest rate. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially in principal amounts as follows: $250,000 on May 1, 1971; $500,000 on May 1, 1972, and $250,000 on May 1, 1973. Bonds maturing in the year 1973 will be subject to redemption prior to maturity at the option of the school district in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after May 1, 1972, at the par value thereof and accrued interest. Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper of publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds, and bonds called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem the same. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company, qualified under the laws of the State of Michigan or the Federal Government to serve as paying agent, as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds. A co-paying agent likewise so qualified may also be so designated. The designation of the paying agent and co-paying agent shall be subject to the approval of the School District.

The bonds are to be issued for the purpose of defraying the cost of completing the construction and equipping of the building presently being erected to provide office and other facilities for the school district, and will be the general obligations of the School District, which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount, as provided in the Constitution of Michigan.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from Feb. 1, 1968 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $20,000, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the Board of Education of Oakland Schools, must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Dickinson, Wright, McKean and Cudlip, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds, with the legal opinion printed on the back thereof, will be paid by the school district. There will also be furnished the usual closing documents, including a non-litigation certificate, dated as of the date of delivery of the bonds. Bonds will be delivered at school district expense at Detroit, Michigan, or at such other place as may be mutually agreed upon. Payment shall be made in Federal Reserve funds if so requested by the school district.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

Five professional nitpickers criticize the Javelin.

"Javelin is a world apart from the other ponycars in styling, comfort, space and features...the car turned and cornered as if it were nailed to the road...Nearly every interior dimension is larger than its competitors, and three in the full width back seat is a reality...Performance of our test car was just short of surprising...Too few cars have brakes equal to the optional front disc/rear drum power units on the Javelin..." —Motor Trend, January, 1968

"BRAND NEW IMAGE BUSTER...transmission responds well to hard active operation and the synchromesh is all but faultless...driving the Javelin is an interesting and satisfying experience...the ability to bring a howl from the rear wheels in any of the lower gears is undeniably exciting...the Javelin has a lot of things going for it..." —Car Life, December, 1967

"AN EXCITING NEW SPORTSTER...A real racy-looking car...shows up well on the road-handling course...fun to drive... particularly liked the action of the optional power steering...The Javelin reacts almost the same at high speed as it does during low-speed maneuvers." —Popular Science Monthly, September, 1967

"AN AMERICAN DREAM...seat is surprisingly soft...On long series of tight right—and left hand curves, the quick response, the time it took to go from one steady state to another, was pleasingly impressive...Javelin's brakes were all we could want...optional heavy-duty suspension and wide tread tires really work wonders...you could feel and even control the point at which tire adhesion gave way..." —Hot Rod Magazine, December, 1967

"FRONT END OF JAVELIN IS MEAN LOOKING...Fresh, clean lines and a luxurious interior...interior appointments very comfortable and well-laid out...visibility forward is excellent...has a lot more legroom than is generally associated with pony cars..." —Motorcade, November, 1967

Laos Is Spawning Ground of Political Fiction, Gossip

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Don't fret if a mingling of fact, fiction and gossip on the situation in Laos confuses you. It often confuses experts in Asian affairs.

Even veteran diplomats in Vientiane, the administrative capital, say they experience difficulty in sifting the truth from rumors.

★ ★ ★

Vientiane, with a population of about 250,000, is not only the biggest city in that landlocked nation of three million. It is also the center of one of the world's most intriguing diplomatic muddles.

Typifying the chaotic situation were the recent reports that first declared and then denied Communist forces, including battalions of North Vietnamese regulars, had captured two Laotian towns, Nam Bac and Phalane.

CONFUSION

The government of Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma termed the situation serious. But Laotian military men and diplomatic sources within the country said the reports of Communist attacks, wholly denied by Hanoi, were erroneous and exaggerated.

This is normal for Laos.

Communications are slow upcountry and made even worse by the fact that Communist troops control possibly half the country.

Vientiane is always buzzing with rumors of coups — there have been about six coups and coupettes since 1962—and North Vietnamese military activity.

RUMORS GRASPED

These rumors are eagerly seized upon at diplomatic functions, where it is not unusual to see an American diplomat talking in a group with the North Vietnamese while the South Vietnamese ambassador looks discreetly away.

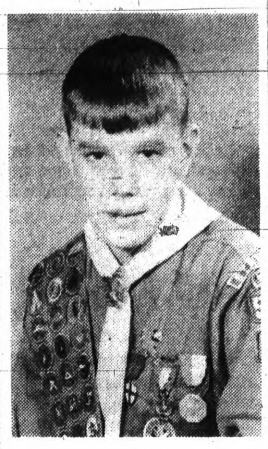

The Russian ambassador may nod to the Communist Chinese, who are also likely to look the other way.

★ ★ ★

The Laotian Communists, the Pathet Lao, are usually well represented as are the other two factions, the rightists and neutralists who make up the government. The Reds boycott it, though they were supposed to share in the ministries under the Geneva agreement of 1962.

Such incongruities abound.

Laos gets the highest per capita aid from the United States in the world, but an estimated 40,000 North Vietnamese troops roam freely up and down the eastern section of the country.

Pontiac Press Photo

EAGLE SCOUT — Richard Stockton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Stockton of 76 S. Avery, Waterford Township, recently earned the rank of eagle scout. An eighth grader at Crary Junior High School, Richard, 13, is a member of Troop 57 which meets at Stringham School. He also is the holder of a God and Country award and a member of the Order of the Arrow.

Their presence would appear to be a direct breach of the Geneva convention which neutralized Laos.

★ ★ ★

However, according to the International Control Commission set up to safeguard Laotian neutrality, there is no evidence to support any charge of a breach.

★ ★ ★

Canada, Poland and India make up the commission. The Communist Poles consistently refuse to make inspection tours on the ground that the Geneva convention said such tours should be made at the request of the tripartite government.

INSPECTIONS BLOCKED

The rightists and neutralists would like to see such inspections carried out. But the Pathet Lao refuse to give permission so the commission is grounded.

★ ★ ★

So are the commission's four white helicopters, which have not been used for nearly a year.

★ ★ ★

A further incongruity is that Air America, a semisecret semiofficial charter airline which handles clandestine U.S. Central Intelligence Agency contracts, has hired one of the ICC helicopters.

★ ★ ★

There are twice weekly ICC flights to Hanoi, North Vietnam's capital.

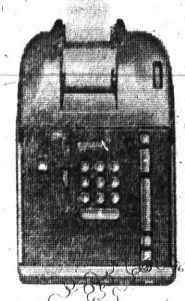

FLIGHTS

The plane takes off from the airstrip used by Air America. It is likely to be carrying North Vietnamese officers, American peace agitators or Soviet newsmen on the way back to Hanoi from rest and recreation in Bangkok.

★ ★ ★

The round trip to Hanoi is $75, if you can get a visa.

West Looks Over Dates

'Bissextile' Year Sounds Fun

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It says here in the Farmers' Almanac that 1968 is going to be a "bissextile" year. Sounds like fun.

WEST

But before you go out and do something you may later regret, perhaps I had better explain what the term means. My dictionary defines it as follows:

"An intercalary day in the Julian calendar added to February every fourth year. It followed Feb. 24, the sixth day before the calends of March, and hence was counted as a second sixth day."

Now pause here a moment and try to visualize two sixth days. Sort of drives you up the wall, doesn't it?

★ ★ ★

I mean, a second sixth day can make for one hell of a confusing week. But don't worry about it.

EVEN WORSE

We don't use the Julian calendar any more. Now we use the Gregorian calendar. Which in some ways is even worse.

In the Julian calendar, February was the last month of the year. By the time people got to the end of the year, they were already so tired that an extra sixth day or two didn't much matter.

But in the Gregorian calendar, February is the second month. We are off to a fresh start. Breezing along toward March under a full head of steam. Then the bissextile comes along and slows us up.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the intercalary day now follows Feb. 28, rather than Feb. 24, doesn't make us less resentful. Nor does the fact that we now refer to the bissextile as "leap year." It still throws us off stride.

BETTER WAY

What I'm trying to suggest is that there must be a better way of doing things. What we need, obviously, is an entirely new calendar.

Several proposals along that line already have been submitted. But none in my opinion satisfactorily solves the bissextile problem.

After giving much thought to the matter, I have about concluded that rather than throw in a complete extra day every fourth year, we should add six hours to each year.

★ ★ ★

This year, for instance, we would celebrate New Year's at midnight. Next year, we would celebrate at 6 a.m. The next year at noon and the next year at 6 p.m.

ADD VARIETY

Think of the variety this would bring to New Year's parties.

There is only one drawback I can foresee. I don't think I could stand hearing Guy Lombardo play "Auld Lang Syne" for breakfast.

About 3.1 million people move daily in and out of the downtown and midtown sections of New York City.

Indians Win Claim —103 Years Late

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Uncle Sam has finally settled with Oregon's Tillamook and Nehalem Indians.

An 1851 treaty set aside 97,250 acres for the two tribes. But the U.S. government, which never ratified the treaty, began selling the Indian lands to homesteaders and buyers.

★ ★ ★

The Indian Claims Commission, 103 years later, has ruled in favor of the Indians and declared an award of $155,620. The government has begun paying each Tillamook and Nehalm $620.

Ruling Is Asked on Roadblocks

TRENTON, New Jersey (AP)— The New Jersey Supreme Court has been asked to determine whether roadblocks set up to check drivers' licenses and registrations are constitutional.

★ ★ ★

The request, made by the New Jersey branch of the American Civil Liberties Union, is an appeal of an Appellate Division ruling that the need for roadblocks to apprehend unlicensed drivers outweighs their intrusions on privacy.

Forecasters estimate that there will be no rise in net farm income in 1968.

Every Tuesday and Friday special pages (with extra stories on other pages) report the student events and activities. The day after the game you get full details in our sports section. Regular readers do . . . why don't you?

Young Adult Conduct

Every day "Dear Abby" discusses boy-girl relationships in her column. Manners and etiquette by Elizabeth Post make interesting reading. Parents, Preachers, Judges, Neighbors and your own crowd give views, opinions and actions in Voice-of-the-People Letters. Have you been missing any of these? It's mighty fine reading.

Young Fashions

Knit is IN! Spring headliners . . . shirt 'n' skirt or shirt 'n' pants. Wear your mini's for casual and sports! Get the "as-it-happens" report from the fashion centers of the nation, it's like being there in person when you read our reports on the Social Pages. Keep up to date, others do, reading The Press every day.

Where The Good Skiing Is This Week

Thursday is Ski day in our Sports pages. Reports from the ski areas give snow conditions. Outdoor day is Wednesday . . . ice boating, skating, fishing and special features here for your information and enjoyment. What are your sports interests? You'll find news about them here!

It's the truth . . . young folks are finding more interesting, enjoyable reading every day in The Pontiac Press. Keeps them in the know. Shouldn't you be reading us daily, too?

THE PONTIAC PRESS

Oh! . . . the young adult reader above . . . that's Rosemary Hoenstine . . . Michigan State University and a Pontiac Press fan!

Trading Is Active

Stock Market Resumes Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its rally in active trading early today.

Gains outnumbered losses by more than 2 to 1.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average was up 4.68 at 913.60.

Most gains were fractional, some stretching to a point or so. The action was a resumption of broad-scale investment and speculative buying, with no particular group leadership.

★ ★ ★

Analysts saw the market as moving up to a challenge of the resistance in the area above 920 in the Dow Jones industrials.

The possibility of peace discussions for Vietnam still dominated thinking and was buttressed by good economic news including prospective increases in personal income, housing starts and household formations.

IBM gained about 3 points. Advances of a point or more were made by Studebaker Worthington, General Electric and Control Data.

American Telephone, up a fraction on good volume, continued to lead the way for the reviving utilities.

Also active and fractionally higher were International Paper, Pan American World Airways, Livingston Oil, Standard Oil (New Jersey), American Cyanamid, Kayser - Roth, McDonnell Douglas, Lockheed and Pacific Petroleums.

★ ★ ★

Standard Oil (New Jersey) opened on 10,600 shares, up ¾ at 71●. General Motors was off ● at 83 on 8,700 shares.

Prices advanced on the American Stock Exchange. Solitron gained a point. Fractional advances were made by Duro-test, Falcon Seaboard, Struthers Wells, Valley Metallurgical and Zapata.
