Vitamin A Curbs Lung Cancer in Animal Tests

TOKYO (AP) — Big doses of vitamin A can halt or prevent development of lung cancer in animals, a scientist reported today.

He has found a way of inducing lung cancer — the same kind that humans get — in hamsters. But when he also feeds them vitamin A, very few come down with lung tumors.

1966 Congress to Have Impact

All Americans to Feel Effects of Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1966 session of the "Great Society" Congress will have profound impact on all Americans — their hopes and fears, their pocketbooks, their way of life.

A stepped-up war on poverty, billions more for the Viet Nam war, sums to stake education at home, a boost in the minimum wage, auto safety, consumer protection, new remedies for ailing cities and public transportation, steps to clean up the air and waters, to beautify highways — these are just a few of the problems Congress tackled.

In Franklin D. Roosevelt's day, the cliché was that the New Deal affected people from cradle to grave. The Johnsonian Congress has expanded that, at least at one end.

The second session of the 89th Congress, which adjourned Saturday, specifically authorized Sargent Shriver, director of the war on poverty, to provide birth control devices upon request of a local community, and the women involved.

On the other end, Congress cut the excise tax on hearses from 10 to 7 per cent — but don't count on a cheaper funeral as a result.

TYPICAL FAMILY

To explore the effect of the programs enacted or extended this year, let's take a "typical" family living in Beaverville, a mythical Midwest city (pop. 15,000).

Some of the things the 1966 session did for, or to, this family:

Dad — His take-home pay dropped by $2.40 a week on May 1, because the income tax withholding went up from $20.80 to $23.20.

However, if he has $15,000 in the bank or savings and loan, it will now be fully insured, as compared with the previous $10,000 limit. If he's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

MANILA (AP) — The U.S. commander in Viet Nam told the Manila summit conference today the war is "far from over" and he will need more troops in the days ahead, but President Johnson said a display of unity by the allies here should provide new fuel for the cause of peace.

"Let the bullets of the world know that when they do attack their neighbors, the friends of their neighbors will be there to resist," the President said in this first day of meetings among the leaders of nations fighting Communists in Viet Nam.

Johnson was the last speaker of the day. His remarks came after Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, reported to the leaders that allied forces are increasingly effective in battling the Communists.

Westmoreland said troop morale was high.

"The troops are the finest ever fielded; they understand the conflict and appreciate their complex role as both fighters and builders."

The session in which Westmoreland and the President spoke was closed to the public, but their remarks were given to newsmen later by U.S. spokesmen. White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers gave the account of Johnson's remarks.

Johnson summed up what he portrayed as the four main principles which had stood out in the talks of those leaders who spoke before him. He listed them as:

• The determination of all that aggression must fail,

• Commitment to the job of pacification,
• Our commitment to and our awareness of regional cooperation among Asian countries, and
• The hope for reconciliation and a peaceful settlement.

It was then that he said unity and determination of the seven allies in Viet Nam should prove to be "new fuel for the cause of peace" either through negotiations or a halt by the Communist aggression.

Before Johnson spoke, Westmoreland was asked by one of the conferees if he would need more troops in Viet Nam. He replied that he would. But a top military informant explained later this need is due, at least in part, to plans to put increasing emphasis on clearing and holding areas of South Viet Nam for pacification and reconstruction.

A stepup in what President Johnson calls this "other war" to improve the living conditions of the South Vietnamese people and develop loyalty to the Saigon government is said to be a major concern of the seven allied governments meeting in Manila.

Allied forces in South Viet Nam now total slightly more than one million men under arms, according to officials in Saigon, while the Communist armed strength is estimated at 284,000 men.

The allied force includes 705,000 South Vietnamese, 331,000 Americans, 45,000 South Koreans, 4,500 Australians, 2,000 Filipinos, 150 New Zealanders and 150 from Thailand.

Westmoreland said the ratio of men killed in battle is becoming more favorable to the allies, the number of enemy soldiers surrendering in battle has increased, the number of enemy casualties left on the battle field rather than carried off is rising, and the stream of refugees choosing government security over Viet Cong domination continues to grow.

U.S. Asking Confab: Aid POW Swap

MANILA (AP) — The United States is asking the Manila summit conference to make a bid for some agreement to swap prisoners with Communist North Viet Nam, it was learned today.

The United States wants to include such a bid in the meeting's final statement, to be signed at the winding tomorrow. Officials in Washington believe North Viet Nam is holding more than 100 Americans.

North Viet Nam has spurned all attempts to talk about the American pilots it holds, even through a third party.

The International Red Cross has tried without success to get Hanoi to allow Red Cross representatives to see the Americans held prisoner in the North.

Although a hard liner toward negotiations with North Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam has shown a sympathetic attitude toward possible exchanges to free American fliers from Red captivity. The Saigon government has custody of most North Vietnamese captured in the ground fighting.

CAPTIVE SAILORS

The only North Vietnamese the United States is known to hold are 19 sailors picked up in international waters after their PT boats were sunk in action.

Hanoi has paraded captured U.S. pilots through the streets of the capital to whip up public anger at American air raids. North Viet Nam has threatened a number of times to try them as war criminals but has not gone through with its threat.

Agreement by the North Vietnamese to negotiate on the question of war prisoners could be a wedge for wider talks on the Viet Nam war itself.

It might also open the way to freedom for other Americans captured by the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Fair and Warmer Is 2-Day Forecast

The Pontiac area will be treated to a welcome serving of Indian summer as the weatherman predicts fair and warmer for tomorrow and Wednesday.

Tonight's low will range from 32 to 37 with tomorrow's high in the 60s.

Prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac, the low thermometer registered 38. By 2 p.m. sunshine warmed the mercury to 60.

'End Measles' Drive Called Big Success

There was much wailing yesterday as 35,000 Oakland County youngsters got the needle in a tricity "End Measles" campaign.

Thirty-eight clinics operated in Oakland County from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. to inoculate children over 1 year of age who had never had natural measles (seven-day measles) or a previous measles vaccination. Some of the centers were still open at 5 p.m. handling the overflow.

"The doctors and nurses in Pontiac did a terrific job. The drive exceeded all of our expectations," said Dr. Bernard Berman, director of the Oakland County Health Department and chairman of the program.

The campaign was organized by End Measles Detroit Inc., a nonprofit corporation chartered by the State of Michigan to promote and augment a mass inoculation funded by the state.

Measles, once thought to be a disease which gave one only red spots, is now known to cause serious complications including pneumonia, bronchitis, and varying degrees of brain damage.

The single-shot vaccine will give the recipient a simulated case of measles and provide full protection to those later exposed to virus Rubella, more commonly called red or hard measles.

CYCLICAL BASIS
Dr. Berman pointed out that measles outbreaks occur on a cyclical basis and that the winter of 1966-67 has been viewed as a high-incidence period.

Legislation was signed recently by Gov. Romney adding common measles to the inoculation list for all children entering school after Jan. 1, 1967.

No follow-up to yesterday's program is planned but measles vaccine can be obtained through private physicians or at health department clinics.

Kelley Asks Age Minimum for Cyclists

LANSING (AP) — Youngsters under 16 should not be allowed to drive motorcycles on Michigan highways, Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said today.

In a list of legislative proposals, Kelley also called for licensing a motorcyclist the same way an automobile driver is licensed and for courses in driver education that include motorcycle instruction.

They were among 12 proposed changes in the law recommended by Kelley as the result of a study of the mounting death and accident toll involving cyclists on Michigan roads.

In a letter to "several hundred interested individuals, agencies and organizations," Kelley said he will propose legislation that would require licensing, road tests, driver education courses, dual brakes, mufflers "in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise and annoying smoke."

Kelley conducted a series of hearings across the state with law enforcement officials, interested citizens and cyclists themselves before drafting the list of recommendations.

NEAR TO THE RIGHT
Another proposed law would change the present requirement that cycles ride as near to the right as possible "to provide that such person shall ride as near the center of the lane of traffic as is practicable."

"According to the motorcycle drivers," Kelley said, "this would help prevent accidents."

Other requirements would prohibit handlebars "that are more than 15 inches above the uppermost portion of the seat when depressed by the weight of the operator," require a listing of the gross brake horsepower of the vehicle on the title and registration certificates, and call for a horn on each cycle.

MEASLES CAMPAIGN — Little John C. Valance Jr., 2, of 3660 Alida, Avon Township, is comforted by his mother as nurse Mrs. Avis Green gives him a measles shot. The "End Measles" campaign was held yesterday in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties. Hundreds of volunteer doctors and nurses staffed nearly 200 clinics in the tricity area.

Soviet Union, Red Chinese Exchange Blasts

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused Red China today of practicing "an absurd bar-barism" and "a gang of renegades."

An article in the Soviet Communist party paper Pravda attacked Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung's "cultural revolution."

It asserted red communism has nothing to do with the type of activities undertaken in China's purge, which it described as "the destruction of monuments of ancient civilization, the destruction of masterpieces of world culture, the manhandling of workers and progressive intellectuals, the defamation of Communist party organizations, the implementation of the Mao Tse-tung personality cult."

The trouble, Pravda said, was that "petty bourgeois revolutionaries" had distorted the situation in China because of pressure created by a massive peasant population.

The Chinese attack against the Soviet Union was contained in an article in the Peking People's Daily which criticized the U.S.S.R. for expelling Chinese students.

Moscow ordered the ouster of the Chinese students Oct. 7, claiming it was in retaliation for the expulsion of Soviet students from China in September.

"The expulsion of the Chinese students is a new high in the Soviet anti-China tide and a present to please U.S. imperialism," the People's Daily article said. The article was broadcast by Peking's New China News Agency.

The score will have to be settled one day, said the article. "They will be made to pay for their unprincipled evil-doing."

Chinese Red Guards demonstrated Sunday night outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking, the Soviet agency Tass reported.

The Red Guards — the muscle behind the cultural revolution — passed a huge slogan across the street from the embassy saying: "We strongly protest against the expulsion by Soviet revisionist authorities of Chinese students who were studying in the Soviet Union," Tass said.

Traffic Diverted Island Will Face Commission

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission tonight will be asked to consider a traffic diverter island on the west side of Adams at Mohegan.

The administration has recommended that a traffic diverter, according to Assistant City Manager John Saeffe.

If the commission decides a diverter is needed, he said, the administration suggests a temporary island.

A date for a public hearing will have to be set if the commission decides on a permanent island.

The traffic diverter island would consist of reconstruction of the Adams pavement at Mohegan to form a lane for eastbound Mohegan traffic to turn south at Adams and a triangular-shaped traffic diverter island located between the two turn lanes and the Adams pavement.

THROUGH TRAFFIC

The engineering department plans to take a survey of residents in the Oakland area, from Woodward to Hunter, to determine if a relief sewer is needed before paving Oakland.

A slight increase in load will be placed on the sewer system when Oakland is widened and the department wants residents to report any flooding of their basements caused by an overloaded city sewer.

1966 Congress to Have Impact

Thinking of buying a new car in 1968, he can expect it to be more "crashworthy."

Meantime, the manufacturer's excise tax on new autos has gone up from 6 to 7 percent, and the tax on phone calls from 3 to 10 percent. As for recreation, if dad is a sports fan, he can look forward to seeing more pro football games.

Mom — The supermarket labyrinth will be a little easier to figure out, though not right away.

Labels will be easier to read, giant half-quarts and jumbo pounds are on their way out, and the air space in the top of the package seems likely to diminish.

Mom can hope for a better education for Nancy, and for the grandchildren, if any, in view of $2 billion in aid to elementary and secondary schools and $3.9 billion for colleges; if the goes touring she will be able to see more parks; if the family takes a cruise, it will be better able to avoid a fire-ship strike.

Operators of foreign liners must advertise whether they meet safety standards.

If mom and dad are interested in a painless way to finance presidential campaigns, they can check a box on their joint income tax return and $2 will go into a kitty for the purpose.

Deputy Aid to Polecat in Distress

An Oakland County sheriff's deputy declined to play "William Tell" yesterday, but succeeded in saving the life of a beloved skunk.

Deputy Gerald Reeves was called to a Pontiac Township residence about 10 a.m. where a skunk had reportedly gotten his head stuck inside a baby-food bottle.

Harry Huey of 3265 Pontiac asked Reeves if he could cut the neck of the bottle off the trapped animal's head without killing the skunk.

Reeves declined, saying he was called to a Pontiac Township residence about 10 a.m. where a skunk had reportedly gotten his head stuck inside a baby-food bottle.

I'll Fight to the End --O'Brien

LANSING (AP) — State Sen. Bernard F. O'Brien Jr. promises to fight his conviction on a charge of engaging in obscene conduct "just as far as I have to go."

The 31-year-old Detroit Democrat was convicted Saturday of "being a disorderly person by engaging in obscene conduct in a public place."

Lansing Township Justice George J. Hutter gave O'Brien the maximum sentence, 90 days in jail and a $100 fine, but suspended 80 of the 90 days.

O'Brien was released on $500 bond pending his appeal to Ingham County Circuit Court.

The jury reached its verdict after more than seven hours of deliberations, which began Friday.

'NOT A FAIR TRIAL'

O'Brien said he was surprised at the verdict and claimed the trial had not been fair. He was certain his conviction would be overturned on appeal, he said.

The prosecution contended O'Brien accosted Marion Lukens, 22, a Michigan State University coed from Santa Ana, Calif., on the MSU campus May 27 and asked her to agree to be photographed during sexual intercourse with movie stars.

O'Brien produced six alibi witnesses who said they saw or telephoned him at the State Capitol Building about four miles from the campus, at the time Miss Lukens alleged he was with her.

Four girls besides Miss Lukens testified O'Brien had also accosted them and three said he made similar proposals.

'INSURANCE LOBBY'

O'Brien, chairman of the Senate Insurance Committee, maintained during and after the trial that false charges against him had been engineered by "the insurance lobby."

O'Brien's wife, Mary Louise, burst into tears momentarily as jury foreman Betty Jane Riley announced the verdict. O'Brien showed little emotion.

The O'Brien's have four children and are expecting a fifth.

3 Nations' Chiefs Urge Bomb Halt, Troop Pullout

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The government chiefs of India, Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic called today for an immediate halt to the American bombing of North Viet Nam and the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Viet Nam.

In their closing communique, the leaders of the three non-aligned countries also said participation of the Communist Viet Cong in any peace talks was essential for the talks to be successful.

The communique was issued by Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Presidents Tito and Gamal Abdel Nasser after four days of talks.

They said they are convinced the implementation of the 1954 Geneva agreements and the withdrawal of all foreign forces would lead to peace.

Newsmen asked Nasser if the communique's request for the withdrawal of all foreign forces meant the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from the south and non-Vietnamese Communist forces from North Viet Nam.

DENY FORCES IN SOUTH

"The North Vietnamese say they do not have any forces in the south. It is not clear to us if they do," Nasser replied.

Tito, asked about reports that President Johnson had sent a note to New Delhi in connection with the opening of the Manila conference, said: "This meeting has nothing in common with the Manila conference."

Senior Citizen Units to Fete Rep. Farnum

Congressman Billie S. Farnum will be honored at a luncheon tomorrow by senior citizen organizations in his district.

The 19th District representative will be presented an award "for his leading role in the fight for Medicare, increases in Social Security benefits and the Older Americans Act."

The luncheon will be held in the CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake, Waterford Township.

Members of the sponsoring committee include Mrs. Eva Rose McCarthy, members of the Oakland County Senior Citizens Advisory Council; Marie Aldrich, secretary of the Pioneer Golden Age Club of Farmington; and George Cherry, program coordinator for senior citizens activities, OCCCO.

Others are Kenneth D. Conley, director of senior citizens activities in Northville; and Charles Kokotek, Pontiac area secretary for the National Council of Senior Citizens.

Crew Flees Fiery Ship; 7 Missing

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — Flames raged out of control through an oil and gasoline-laden tanker 60 miles southwest of here today, forcing the crew to abandon ship. The Coast Guard said seven of the 40 crewmen are missing.

The Gulf Stag, a 572-foot vessel, was settling and believed sinking at midmorning.

Another tanker, the Atlantic Prestige, picked up the Gulf Stag's captain and many of the crewmen.

The Gulf Stag's master, whose name was not available, said he believed all his crewmen had abandoned ship. He said seven crewmen are missing.

A Coast Guard helicopter took three badly-burned crewmen to a Morgan City hospital. A doctor at the hospital said the trio suffered second-degree burns.

The hospital identified the injured crewmen as Paul Berry, Wilton Guthrie and Jesse Jeffries. Their home towns were not available.

Coast Guard planes, helicopters and cutters converged on the scene after the Gulf Stag sent out an SOS, reporting a fire blazing fiercely in its engine room and pump room.

Rescue ships were forced to keep their distance by the danger of an explosion. The Gulf Stag reportedly carried 163,000 barrels of gasoline and intermediates.

Smoke and flames poured from the stricken vessel. The fire reportedly was feeding off bunker oil.

Fire-fighting attempts were abandoned after 8:30 a.m.

The Coast Guard declared the area around the burning ship a restricted zone and warned aircraft not to fly lower than 2,000 feet in the vicinity because of the danger of an explosion.

"I've already received a number of letters from women wanting to know more about what we're doing," said Mrs. Joseph Szeremet, 758 Otter.

On Saturday, Mrs. Szeremet led a score of pickets protesting low food prices at a new A & P supermarket in Keego Harbor.

"We'll resume next weekend at the store, and possibly others," she said.

Mrs. Szeremet, whose group is known as "Housewives for Lower Food Prices," said she believed that the picketing of the store was effective.

The boycott was one of several that has sprung up across the country since the movement to lower prices started in Denver, Colo., more than a week ago.

BACK IN COURT — Samuel H. Sheppard walks toward the Cuyahoga County Criminal Court Building this morning for the first day of his murder trial. Sheppard was convicted 13 years ago on the slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, but was released on bond in 1964 on a U.S. District Court ruling later upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court. He is being tried again, this time for second-degree murder.

Sheppard came to the second-floor courtroom shortly before 9 a.m., looking relaxed.

The defense had sought in vain to have his new trial transferred out of Cleveland. However, Talty directed that the case proceed to the extent of determining whether an impartial jury can be selected here.

A panel of 15 women and nine men was summoned for examination. Sheppard had risen and bowed in their direction when Talty introduced him along with the opposing lawyers.

The prospects heard a reading of the second-degree murder indictment which charges that on July 4, 1964, Sheppard, then a practicing osteopath, "unlawfully, purposely and maliciously killed Marilyn Sheppard."

"NO PREMEDITATION" — The indictment does not include the element of premeditation as it did in the first trial when Sheppard could have been sentenced to the electric chair.

The defendant was convicted by the original jury of second-degree murder and under the Supreme Court ruling any further first-degree prosecution was outlawed.

By chance, Severs, the first prospect to be examined, once worked for the late Thomas Reese, who was the father of Marilyn Sheppard.

Severs was temporarily seated as a juror by Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty, despite Bailey's objection that the panel member had been subjected to "general exposure" to the case through news media.

Lull in War Continues in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Small-scale fighting flared Monday in scattered sections of South Viet Nam, but the war for the most part continued in a lull. Thunderstorms of the northeast monsoon again cut heavily into U.S. air blows against North Viet Nam.

Although a general upsurge in Communist military activity and terrorism failed to develop to coincide with the opening of the Manila summit conference, a civilian bus hit a Viet Cong mine 22 miles north of Hue, killing 15 Vietnamese and injuring 20.

The Viet Cong made mortar attacks on four South Vietnamese outposts in the central highlands Sunday and two American positions in the northern provinces today.

In one shelling, the Reds fired 30 to 40 mortar rounds against the command post of the U.S. 7th Marine Regiment about two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

RETURN FIRE

The Leathernecks replied with counter-mortar fire, and a 7th Fleet destroyer fired 100 rounds of five-inch shells. Marine casualties were reported light; results of the counterfire were not announced.

A unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade received 15 rounds of Communist mortar fire eight miles northwest of Da Nang airfield. A U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers had light casualties.

U.S. troops reported killing 100 Communist soldiers in small unit clashes in scattered areas Sunday and today. One company of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division killed 17 Viet Cong in sampans in four separate firefights Sunday night. The fighting took place seven miles north of Saigon.

U.S. spokesmen said American casualties were light in all the missions.

SI MISSIONS

U.S. airmen flew only 51 bombing missions over North Viet Nam Sunday, one of their smallest days this year. A spokesman said the raids were limited by the monsoon rains, which also reduced the allied tactical air strikes in South Viet Nam.

Pilots reported 28 cargo barges and junks destroyed or damaged in the North and two bridges knocked out in the Dien Bien Phu area near the Laotian frontier.

Syria Blamed in Mine Raids

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Israel blamed Syria today for two more mine-laying raids into her territory and said they proved the need for preventive action by the U.N. Security Council.

Israeli Ambassador Michael S. Comay wrote a letter on the incidents to Lord Caradon of Britain, the current president of the council who was planning another council meeting Tuesday on Israeli charges against Syria made Oct. 12.

Comay's letter said an army vehicle in northeastern Israel was damaged Sunday by a mine laid opposite the Syrian military position of Tel Azaz Irt and only three yards from another land-mine explosion reported last Tuesday.

"Mine-laying outrages at this same spot in less than seven weeks" at distances of 600 to 900 yards from the Syrian position.

BORDER PATROLS
The Beirut, Lebanon, paper Al Moharrer reported today that Israeli and Jordanian border patrols are cooperating to capture Arab guerrillas responsible for raids into Israel. There was no confirmation of the report.

Three guerrillas were killed recently by Jordanian soldiers, and 15 others were arrested, the paper said, quoting a "reliable source."

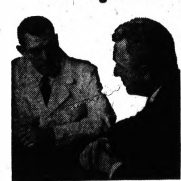

British Steel Process Eyed

CLEVELAND (UPI) — U.S. and Canadian steel producers are taking close looks at a British process which eliminates the need for steelmaking furnaces, Steel magazine reported today.

Molten metal from a blast furnace is directly converted into finished steel in the process. The spray steelmaking process is said to offer truly continuous processing, resulting in higher production rates and lower handling costs; substantially lower capital costs through elimination of huge furnace facilities; reduction in heat losses because it is a one-step process, and longer refractory life.

The process, developed by the British Iron and Steel Research Assn., has been tested since May at a pilot plant at Millom Hematite Ore and Iron Co., Millom, Cumberland, England. Steel said Millom has been processing metal at a rate of about 24 tons an hour. It planned to have a capacity of 3,000 tons a week by the end of 1968, and 9,000 tons in the 1970s. A continuous casting plant is to be built next to the blast furnace building and the two processes will be integrated.

Romney's Optimism Is Growing

By the Associated Press
Gov. George Romney said today "As we near the final stages of this campaign, I am more and more optimistic about the final results."

Romney, running against Democrat Zolton Ferency for election as governor, today began what his aides called the "stretch drive" of his campaign.

After riding with commuters on a train from Bloomfield Hills to Detroit and speaking to a Girl Scout convention in Detroit, the governor planned to spend the afternoon in his Lansing office.

Ferency, who has concentrated his campaign among union members and other usually Democratic audiences, scheduled a 12-hour series of campaign visits to city workers and Detroit residents today.

CLEAR CHOICE
The Detroit Free Press today supported Romney for election to a third term as governor.

describing him as "the clear choice" over Ferency. The newspaper said Ferency is "the most articulate of the major candidates" and is the wisest. But it said he has "three strikes against him and, in this ball game, that's out." The "strikes," the Free Press said, are that Ferency has been unable to generate any debate over issues, "simply because there aren't any genuine issues in the gubernatorial campaign," he has a temperament which

Paper Will Fold
DETROIT (AP) — Only one locally published Negro newspaper will be left in Detroit, as the result of purchase of the Detroit Courier by Sengstacke Publications of Pittsburgh. Sengstacke, publisher of the Michigan Chronicle, the other Detroit Negro paper, said Saturday the Courier either would be discontinued or run as an edition of the chain's national publication.

"leads him into hasty decisions," and Romney "has indeed been an excellent governor, one of the best."

OPEN SCHEDULE
Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., aiming for votes from both normally Republican and Democratic sources, planned to visit plant workers in Pontiac and Rochester today besides speaking tonight at a dinner in his honor in Pontiac.

Boycotts

going on all around the country over the increasing higher prices

you're reading about it every day—food boycotts are spreading all over and retailers are being forced to bring prices down because people are tired of paying higher and higher prices on everyday necessities.

SIMMS Again Takes the Lead in Holding Prices Down—Why? Because we sincerely feel that the public deserves to gain any savings we make. And we make our savings because we own our building—no high rent to pay, we don't have fancy fixtures and interior which add to the upkeep costs, we don't have swivel chair executives—ours work on the floor, and our buying power makes us selective, we won't take a price increase by passing it on to you . . . we battle our suppliers to sell us quantities of the lowest price in order to maintain our low selling price to the public. Novi Board Awards 3 School Contracts

NOVI — Three contracts totaling $479,645 were awarded last week by the board of education for an addition and alterations to the high school building. The general construction contract went to D. M. Kitchen Co. for a base bid of $308,500 plus an alternate of $3,200.

The mechanical contract was awarded to Brady Plumbing and Heating Co. for $119,000 plus an alternate of $4,000. Gillis Electric Inc. received the electrical contract in the amount of $43,445 plus an alternate of $1,500.

Two other alternates accepted by the board were a folding partition in the gymnasium for $16,940 and a football field and track for $62,150.

THREE TABLED
Three other alternates were tabled for further study. They were a precast canopy for $11,700, bleachers for $11,400 and a fence for $9,100.

Built-in equipment bids were also accepted for the science room at $17,488, the drafting room for $3,367 and music room for $4,514.

The work is to get under way in about two weeks, according to Schools Supt. Thomas Dale, with completion expected in August 1967.

Completion of the addition will allow the district to conduct a K-12 program. The present K-10 program will expand to include the 11th grade next year and 12th grade the following year.

Eleventh and 12th graders presently attend Northville schools.

The building now houses 400 students. When the addition is completed, 750 students can be accommodated.

Milford Pastor Joins the Staff at St. Paul's

ROCHESTER — Rev. Howard F. Short of Milford has been appointed associate minister at St. Paul's Methodist Church effective Nov. 1.

His appointment was announced this week by Rev. William Rickard, district superintendent of Port Huron District of the Methodist Church.

A graduate of Michigan State University and Boston Theological School, Rev. Short was ordained in 1957 and has served churches in Genesee as well as Milford.

Previous to his ordination the new pastor served several years as personnel manager for a large insurance firm.

Rev. Short will join a staff presently composed of Rev. J. Douglas Parker and Rev. A. P. Rickard, minister emeritus.

He, his wife and two children will live at 417 Parkdale.

Lions Will Host Halloween Party

The Auburn Heights Lions Club will host its 19th annual Halloween party next Monday for the area.

A parade starting at 7:30 will be judged for best costumes, and a party will follow at Auburn Heights Elementary School.

Ground Is Broken for Industrial Park

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Ground was broken recently on the first two sections of the Farmington Freeway Industrial Park near 10 Mile, I-96 and Halsted.

Thirty-eight industrial sites ranging from one to 10 acres, will be developed in the two sections by Thompson-Brown Co. of Farmington.

The 106-acre site marks the initial use of a 700-acre parcel zoned for use as an industrial park, according to Township Supervisor Curtis Hall.

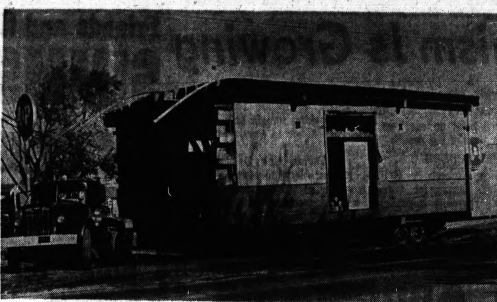

Thompson-Brown Executive Vice President William W. Bowman said that the initial development will include, in addition to the 38 industrial sites, an elaborate service center, a house a clinic, banking institution, restaurant and additional facilities to provide services to the industrial community. It will contain Detroit water and sewers, heavy duty paved concrete roads, Consumers Power Co. gas and Detroit Edison electric power.

Bowman pointed out that while the ground-breaking ceremonies mark the start of the formal service center, a number of firms have already completed plants or are in the process of actual construction.

They include Diamond Automation, Peabody, Inc., Moore Industries, Automatic Valve, Posi-Cut, Inc., Bonch, Inc. and Omni Spectra.

In addition, several firms have purchased property and have scheduled construction to begin late this year or early next year. They are Multi-El-

Old Lake Orion Depot Cut In Two For Moving

Will Become Barn

Depot on New Track

LAKE ORION — An Orion Township farmer has what he thinks will be a good sturdy barn to house machinery and feed for livestock.

Earl McCollum, 465 Credition, Orion Township, is the new owner of the Lake Orion train depot.

For the sum of $1 plus moving costs, which he says will probably amount to $1,000, he's purchased the old New York Central (NYC) depot, which sat just off M24 near Flint Street.

About a year and a half ago, village officials asked the NYC to remove the building because it was an eyesore.

The depot had not been used since the

BUILT EARLY IN CENTURY
NYC public relations people say the depot originally was built by the Michigan Central Railroad which early in this century was taken over by the NYC.

McCollum says signatures on the wall near the old freight scales date back to 1900.

In order to make the move, the old building had to be cut in two pieces.

McCollum says he'll nail them back together again and you'll never be able to tell the difference.

U.S. Sewer Grant OK Awaited

WALLED LAKE — Paper work on a federal grant application for a proposed $4.4-million sewer system has been completed and now all city officials can do is sit and wait.

PRIORITY LIST
He said he hopes to get final word on the application within a month. He said the city is high on the priority list because the State Water Resources Commission has cited it for water pollution.

Both communities have been given until June 1, 1969 to correct their pollution problems. Downey said, "If we work real fast, the proposed system can be completed by 1968."

WATER BILL
"In other words," he said, "if a Demonstration cities bill share will be $3,447,000, according to Downey.

He said the federal grant is approved, the remainder of Wall Lake's share will be financed through a metered water system. Downey said 80 percent of the water bill will go for sewer service. He said it would entail an increase in the water bill.

Joseph Carmody, 65, of near Middletown who suffered fatal injuries Saturday in the collision of two cars at an intersection near Wayland.

Mrs. Lora Johnson, 86, of Grand Blanc, when she was struck by a car Friday night while crossing M21 near Davison.

JCs Will Host Candidates
Auburn Heights Area Jaycees will host a "Meet the Candidates" evening at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Avondale Junior High School.

Co-chairmen for the event are Patrick A. Elwell and Sam R. Sheehy.

The program calls for candidates to state their qualifications, the selection of questions on township government from a question box, and a direct audience-candidate question period.

Sheehy stressed the importance of the event. "The Jaycees have just completed an extensive survey of the community. We are aware of the concerns of the people. Now we are giving the residents an opportunity to take their concerns to the officials — before election!"

"For too long," he continued, "officials in most townships have been elected on the basis of service popularity, or the quality and quantity of their campaign literature, or on the basis of service club or fraternal lodge memberships."

"Due to the extreme growth of Pontiac Township, the residents should be concerned with the election of qualified, sincere, and dedicated individuals," Sheehy said.

Orion Twp. Girl Is County Entry in Queen Contest
ORION TOWNSHIP — Miss Janet Lessiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lessiter, 501 S. Baldwin, has been chosen Oakland County's entry for Michigan Farm Bureau queen.

She will compete Nov. 8, 9 and 10 for the title.

A graduate of Lake Orion Community High School, she is presently a junior in the Honors College at Michigan State University, majoring in elementary education.

Janet has been active in the East Orion 4-H Club and was 4-H county queen in 1964. This past summer she worked as a camp counselor at Camp Oakland and in the Michigan State Fair Junior Department.

She serves on the teen board of Farm Journal magazine.

Ejection Idea Patented

By Science Service
WASHINGTON A system for tossing film packs and other small containers from space satellites and rising rockets was patented by the U.S. Patent Office.

The invention is an improved assembly for opening the stabilizing flaps that help cushion the film capsule's free-fall through the earth's atmosphere.

The capsule is automatically ejected at a predetermined time and altitude. The system, granted patent 3,282,245, has been used on Saturn I and Atlas flights, and is scheduled for use on the powerful Saturn V rocket flights.

patented system is used to eject film capsules from these satellites also.

CAPSULES DISSOLVE

If not picked up within a predetermined length of time, capsules from the Air Force satellites, with their film, dissolve in the ocean waters in which they fall.

Alfred P. Warren of Huntsville, Ala., and Billy D. Lawson of Madison, Ala., assigned rights to their patent to the government through the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The patent covers not only a way of storing the capsule before ejection, but also a device for sending it earthward (with stabilizing and decelerating flaps that open and lock automatically). The flaps are so arranged that they cannot collapse.

It Seems to Me:

Johnson Politically Inactive as Election Day Approaches

LYNDON B. JOHNSON has no intention of throwing himself into the current political campaign. Several weeks ago assurances from the White House suggested he would become an assertive figure this fall.

As November 8th approaches, he has shown no inclination to stump for hardly anyone, and his current program sees him visiting Manila, Australia and other distant points in the fleeting weeks ahead.

The grandstand quarterbacks are assigning a variety of reasons for abstaining. Some say he simply intends to place the burden on the candidates themselves. Others, including both Republicans and Democrats, suspect that he is slowly reconciled to a sizeable loss in the House and Senate and feels he would weaken his personal standing if he went all out to help his party—and then suffered a sharp re-education at the polls.

Off year elections usually result in gains for the party that's "out." Currently, the soothsayers are predicting that a minimum of 25 Democrats will be swept from office and a few exuberant and enthusiastic

GOP leaders predict as high as 65. I don't know anyone less qualified to guess than your struggling scrivener; therefore, I freely forecast a turnover in the House and Senate that runs around 35. (Major Hoople, please copy.)

In the Congressional primaries across the Nation, eleven office holders were discarded even before they faced the finals—three in the Senate and eight in the House.

Both political parties will watch eagerly to see how those unpredictable, silent and enigmatic voters act at the polls. Look magazine suggests there were 2 million voters who stayed away in 1964 as they looked with high disfavor on both Johnson and Goldwater and refused point blank to vote at all.

Both sides concede the unspoken vote is harder to predict this fall than ever before. Unquestionably, the recent civil rights "backlash" will play a definite part, but the extremists and the irrational radicals are calming down through political necessity and actual alarm. This will be an interesting "off year."

Nightmare . . .

Statistics show that at the peak of World War II, this nation was spending $300 million a day, the bulk of which went into the war effort.

Today, our spending totals $280 million a day. How can top ranking Government executives go to sleep at night in the light of this appalling revelation? They must have cast iron constitutions or be wrapped in a cloak of absolute indifference.

Of course, they don't have to disgorge the money, personally. You—and you—do that.

Russian Hypocrisy . . .

Periodically, word "gets out" that the Russians are "softening" in their hostile attitude toward the United States.

It seems they aren't as anxious to "bury us" as they were in the past.

Phooey! What a farce!

One Leonid I. Brezhnev, the head red, just finished a conference with some of his henchmen which resulted in new pledges to increase the aid in North Viet Nam. Further, the conference developed the sobering fact that Soviet exports to the same spot leaped upward the minute our bombers shook some of the foundations in North Viet Nam a few months ago.

Friendly? Those international pirates? Even their propaganda smells.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Overheard: "If these modern movies get 'more-so,' they'll have to equip the theaters with seat belts." . . . Well, the Russians are certainly "progressing." They are now considering holding all-out bull fights. . . . Remember—you can't vote if you aren't registered. November 8th is ballot day. . . . Overheard: "I wish my 1967 car had 1947 parking spaces." . . . Montreal comes up with a new one: a bank solely for the feminine contingent. Only the manager will be a male.

Trusted scouts tell me Diane Downing deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . It's surprising how many "female" athletes who've won international competitions turn out to be males. Russia's two greatest stars, the Press sisters, dropped out permanently when female observers were stationed in dressing rooms to watch. . . . Insider's Newsletter says GM has an answer to Ford's electric car in a "chemical conversion of liquid fuel into electricity."

Detroit's own HANK GREENBERG says FELLER was the greatest pitcher of them all until KOUFAX came along and he now rates them equals. . . . Overheard: "If parking spaces are so hard to find, how is it a million drivers find one before I can." . . . Remember: it's nice to be important; but it's more important to be nice. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—AL WATROUS retiring from golf with one of the cleanest, finest names in the golfing world; the J's—cluttering up the countryside with political signs.

David Lawrence Says:

Campaign Finances Bill a Mess

WASHINGTON — Congress, in its hurry to adjourn, passed a law which is a hodgepodge that will never accomplish the main purpose of the legislation — to stop bribery of elected officials through campaign contributions.

The President has signed the bill and would be well advised to give it what is called a "pocket veto." This would require Congress next time to make a careful study of the use of campaign funds and write a truly effective law.

If the new law were to cut out all private contributions and prevent any organization or individual from buying seats in Congress for candidates committed to vote for legislation sought by vested interests or special groups, such a statute might well receive wide support. But the bill just passed doesn't do away with private contributions. It merely supplements them.

Nor is there any system set up to finance congressional campaigns. The money derived from the voluntary income-tax contributions would be supplied to the two major political parties on an equal basis to be used for presidential candidates only.

No restriction has been imposed on the use of funds which are collected ostensibly for candidates for state, county or city offices but which play a big part in lining up votes for candidates running for the presidency or for Congress.

MISUSE OF FUNDS No provisions in the new law deal with misuse of the funds.

Nor is there any way that a Democrat or a Republican can indicate on his income-tax return that he wants his dollar used entirely for the party of his own choice. Actually, he finds himself in the position of contributing half of the money to the party that he will be voting against.

There is, moreover, no reason why the citizen shouldn't be allowed to give more out of his taxes to a political party in whose principles he believes.

If it is a proper use of taxpayers' money to finance campaigns, then out of the $130 billion appropriated during the last session of Congress, the Treasury can be authorized to set aside $60 million for campaign use.

COULD BE INCREASED

If necessary, the sum could be increased so as to eliminate some of the bribery going on now through the use of large contributions collected, directly or indirectly, from the members of associations or groups set up for the purpose of raising large sums for political campaigns.

Certainly there is need for reform on the whole subject of campaign contributions.

Some members of Congress have said they didn't like the law submitted to them last week because it had not been given thorough study in committee, but they also declare that, after all, "it's a foot in the door."

Unhappily, however, it opens wider the door of political corruption in the American system of financing campaign expenses. (Copyright, 1966, Publishers Newspaper Syndicate)

Bob Considine Says:

Supreme Court Wronged Sheppard Trial Newsmen

NEW YORK — God save the Supreme Court, every last hardened artery on it! But it was wronged than a three-dollar bill with Warren Harding's picture on it when it accused the press of making a sorry shambles of the first trial of Dr. Sam Sheppard.

The presiding judge of the new murder trial has made it clear he agrees with Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark's astonishingly inaccurate majority opinion to the effect that the first trial was "marred by 'disruptive influences in the courtroom' and 'constant commotion within the bar' and by 'booming mouth of the participants in the trial, especially Sheppard.'"

There was sufficient legal ground to warrant giving Dr. Sam another chance to pin the murder on a "busby-haired intruder." But by legal osmosis or eerie evolution a prime "cause" of the high court's action has been this completely fabricated accusation against reporters who covered the two-month long trial of a dozen years ago.

There was a related and equally unfair castigation of Edward Byrnes, the big Scot who presided over the first trial. Actually, he ran his court quite sternly.

"What we feel is a moral obligation to speak in defense of a dead judge and in behalf of trial reporters everywhere," reads a communication to the Supreme Court signed by nine out-of-town reporters who covered the Cleveland trial.

CONDUCT

"This letter is about courtroom conduct only; we have no other issue to raise. We do not believe the (Supreme) Court was deliberately misled.

"We do believe that in the 12 years the Sheppard case shuttled among the courts, this one phase (the press's conduct) ballooned out of proportion to the facts.

"We were in the courtroom. So was the chief defense counsel, the late William J. Corrigan, whose affidavit in support of motion for a new trial, made in 1954 when the trial was still fresh in his mind, never mentioned noise . . . Judge Byrnes's courtroom was run with a decorum comparable with the best we have seen . . .

"We are speaking purely as members of the out-of-town press at the trial, whose reports were for readers who in no regard could be connected with the case. . . . At the time of the trial, we never believed that the American press as a whole would be condemned 12 years later for local stories about revelations made by police, defense and prosecuting attorneys, and the coroner in one city in the Middle West. . . .

Voice of the People:

'Remove Identity Shield of Juvenile Criminals'

The raid by young hoods on the Bingham Farms home is incredible. The public should refuse to tolerate this kind of behavior.

One way to sharply reduce juvenile crime (let's drop that namby-pamby word "delinquency") would be to make public the names, addresses and parents' names of all juvenile offenders. Paltzy fines have no effect, but publicity and loss of face at the country club just might do so.

Spurns National Council of Churches Stand

The General Board of the National Council of Churches adopted a resolution calling for the admission of Communist China to the United Nations and the granting of United States diplomatic recognition to the Peking regime.

What does this stand for appeasement do to the morale of our young Americans against whom Communist China's weapons are being hurled?

What does the National Council of Churches say to Red China's primary condition for joining the United Nations — the expulsion of the Republic of China? Have they ever denounced the cruel aggressions, assassinations, and slaughters committed by Communist China? Do they speak for the protestant churches of Pontiac? Which local churches support this Council with money? I want to be sure that none of my money goes directly or indirectly to this National Council of Churches.

GEORGE A. LUNENBERGER
9 ORIOLE ROAD

Wants Changes in Road Commission Setup

Oakland County needs a change in our Road Commission and a way of replacing commissioners by election if they perform unsatisfactorily. They are now appointed by the Supervisors and the office has become a featherbed for past supervisors. The people should directly elect one commissioner, preferably an engineer, let him appoint the assistants he needs and hold him responsible.

Bataan Drive is only a short gravel road. It has been scraped once since spring and the weeds have never been cut. With Square Lake closed all summer Bataan has taken many times as much traffic as ordinarily, so that the gravel we paid to have spread is now pushed to one side where it is a foot higher than the road and the road is full of bumps and holes. We need this gravel on the roadbed. Repeated calls get no satisfaction.

Has the airplane Oakland County purchased helped on crime or traffic study and is it being used now?

REPLY

Sheriff Irons tells us the plane, which was donated for County use, proved too expensive to operate for the amount of benefit it afforded, and has been turned back to the donor.

Junk Removal . . .

The Grand Rapids Press

Another major step toward neighborhood renewal in the city's blighted areas is the action by the City Commission clearing the way for adoption of an amendment to the city code to provide for clearing "junkers" and other disabled motor vehicles from residential areas.

The "junkers" have been a long-time accumulation, making unsightly back yards and front yards of many local housing accommodations and generally creating neighborhood eyesores. In countless cases, the "junkers" have been inherited by renters and tenants, unable by themselves to finance the removal job and therefore unable to get the city authorities to do anything about the problem.

The city's action in taking one more needed step to re-

is a practical demonstration to the low-income residents of long neglected areas that Grand Rapids, as represented by its city government, does care about conditions under which its people live.

Edward C. McCobb, chairman of the Ordinance Committee, describes the city's action as a "worthwhile forward move." It is indeed a significant advance in the campaign against substandard housing a campaign that must move ever forward.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all local news printed in this newspaper as well as all AP news dispatches.

Demonstrations

The (Portland) Oregonian

A few noisy youngsters disrupted church services in Brighton, England, the other day by shouting, "Hypocrite!" at Prime Minister Harold Wilson as he sought to read part of the service to a congregation including Labor Party leaders.

The demonstration, which broke up the services, was aimed at Mr. Wilson's support, albeit lukewarm, for U.S. policies in Viet Nam.

The same stupid episodes occur on this side of the Atlantic. For every convert won by such displays, hundreds are repelled and affronted. One cannot escape the implication in Wilson's comment that some so involved really do not intend to serve the "cause of peace."

High Quality Work Student Prerequisite

By DR. LESLIE J. NASON

Dear Dr. Nason:
Our 9th grade daughter has an I.Q. well above average. The school she attends expects high grades, since most of its graduates eventually enter college. However, our daughter is satisfied with less than a C average.

She completes all of her assignments, but they are not very well done. At this rate, she will not be eligible for college when she completes high school.

How can we arouse her interest in her studies?

D. D., Pasadena, Calif.

Answer:
Merely passing her courses is apparently the success story which your daughter aims at. Either she does not realize that, upon high school graduation, she will want to continue on to college with her friends or she does not feel capable of better work.

I suggest that you talk the matter over with her school counselor. If possible, get him to set up a program, under which each of your daughter's teachers would demand a higher quality of work.

The counselor may need to discuss study and test-taking techniques with your daughter to help her meet these new demands. In this way, he should get to the root of the matter and show her that she must start now if she hopes to get into college and succeed.

Dear Dr. Nason:

Our son graduated from high school in June of last year with a low C rating. He was accepted at a technical school but, perhaps because of his poor high school preparation, he found the work very difficult and withdrew. He is now registered in an evening class, but would like to get a college education.

How can he build up a background to be accepted and succeed in a regular four-year college?

C. C., Sarasota, Fla.

Answer:
To be accepted, your son must present evidence to the college admissions officer that an improvement in his scholarship has taken place. Once in college, he will not succeed unless he has learned to be a better student.

In many evening schools, counselors are available. I suggest that he ask both his teacher and counselor the best way to study the course that he is now taking. When they realize that he is sincerely interested in becoming a better student, they will give him help.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Some Cortisone Cures Must Continue

Q — Will cortisone, if started early in the course of an inflammatory disease, cure it or will the disease come back on the drug?

A — A short course of one of the cortisone-like drugs will greatly hasten the cure of the acute inflammation in conditions such as bursitis and sprains but when taken for chronic arthritis, bursitis and other diseases of this type it must be taken continuously or the symptoms will return. The disadvantages of such prolonged treatment include the development of "moon face," peptic ulcers and softening of the bones.

Q — My wife has taken cortisone for over a year. She is angry all the time and has gained 45 pounds. Would cortisone cause this?

A — Yes.

Q — My internist says I have low blood sugar. He put me on a high-caloric diet with food every two hours but I still have occasional blackouts. Is there anything else I should do?

A — The treatment of low blood sugar depends in part on whether the condition is due to an inborn error of metabolism, acquired by over-indulgence in sugars and starches or caused by alcohol or certain drugs.

Attacks may be triggered by such emotions as worry, grief or fear. In most victims the condition can't be cured but can be controlled with skillful treatment.

Your high caloric diet should not permit sugar, pie, cake, starchy vegetables, foods of the macaroni family, dates, raisins, coffee, tea or alcohol.

The most difficult requirement in such a diet is to omit wheat products. Foods allowed include meat, fish, fowl, eggs, milk, margarine or butter, cheese, nuts, decaffeinated coffee, very weak tea, sugar-free soft drinks, vegetables and fruits not on the prescribed list and soybean products.

A recent study indicates that injections of glucagon into the hip muscles stimulate a release of sugar into the blood of the sugar stored in the liver. This you could be taught to do for yourself in an emergency.

Q — My doctor says I have blood sediment. My count is 64 and it should be around 10. What could cause this and what can be done about it?

A — Your doctor determined your sedimentation rate which normally is less than 15 (or less than eight, depending on the technique used).

In some persons the cause of an increased rate cannot be determined. More often than not, however, it indicates rheumatic fever or rheumatic heart disease and is a valuable guide to the effectiveness of the treatment used.

Voting Record to Stay Intact After 70 Years

JACKSON (AP) — Horacio O. Moffitt, applying for an absentee ballot, told election officials he hasn't missed an election in 70 years. He will be 94 Nov. 9, the day after this year's general election.

For three quarters of a century, Moffitt says he has voted straight Republican and doesn't intend to switch now.

"We have always had better times under Republicans," he said.

He thinks Teddy Roosevelt and Dwight Eisenhower were outstanding presidents, but added: "They've all been good men I guess—even the Democrats."

Moffitt's main concern these days is high prices, he said. He retired from farming 22 years ago, but said he still eats well and takes short walks.

Junior Editors Quiz on SPACE

QUESTION: What is space?

ANSWER: Space is said to begin at a point, about 100 miles up, where Earth's atmosphere is so thin it has no effect on objects passing through it.

Then comes cislunar, translunar and interplanetary space — lonely regions through which the moon and the planets travel. Such space ends about 50 billion miles away, where the sun ceases to exert any gravitational pull — the outer edge of our solar system.

Beyond this, outer or interstellar space extends through infinity. Science penetrates these outer regions with the radio telescope, which is able, by gathering radio waves, to give us information about galaxies and mysterious heavenly objects which exist at the outer limits of our known universe.

We show three specially important contributions science has made to our understanding of the closer zones of space (bottom picture).

Rockets (1) can lift off Earth's surface, releasing (2) satellites or capsules, often with men inside, and (3) probes which can penetrate to some of the other planets, sending back signals which can be translated into photographs.

Thant Urges Statesmen to Abandon Power Politics

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — "We must face up to the lack of confidence and the persistence of power politics, which continue to dominate international relations," he said. "We must face up to the appalling dangers of nuclear armament and proliferation."

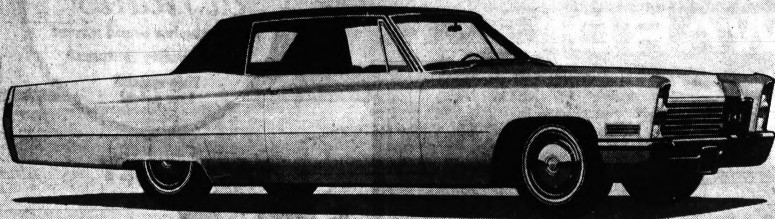

"We must face up, whatever our particular views may be, to the fact that the war in Vietnam is not only a disaster for the Vietnamese people, but also a constant threat to world peace. Peaceful solutions must be found to this and to other persistent conflicts."

MARKS RATIFICATION The anniversary marks the ratification of the U.N. charter by the original 51 member countries in 1945. The membership today stands at 121.

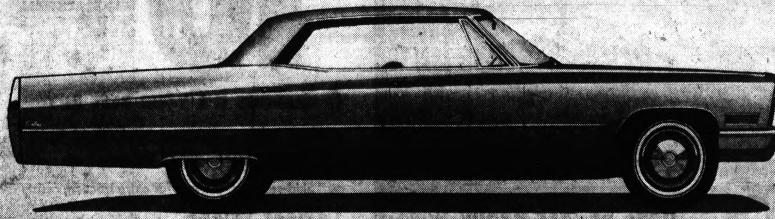

In the traditional observance at U.N. headquarters the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra directed by William Steinberg will present a concert in the General Assembly Hall. Mirella Freni, Italian soprano, is the soloist.

Sound System Could Find Fish Over Mile Away

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — Underwater sound detection systems capable of locating a single codfish more than a mile away could result from research at Birmingham University in England.

Laboratory experiments there show that the technique, called "nonlinear acoustics," could give a completely new look to undersea communications and research, as well as to exploration and exploitation of the ocean's untapped riches.

Sound waves are now widely used to transmit signals under water, but usable band widths are narrow. Another drawback is that highly directional sound beams are produced easily.

To get a directional beam using relatively low frequencies, which are necessary to obtain ranges greater than a few thousand feet in water, large and expensive equipment is required.

What is needed for good communications is a pencil-like beam of low frequencies with a wide available band width.

Mrs. Ben Mills Resigns as Committee Head

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: While taking a trip, my husband considered himself extremely lucky to spot a vacant parking place near the inn. He started to drive into it and a young woman came up to him and said that she was saving the space for her boyfriend's car. (She was on foot and there was no sign of a car.)

I was very annoyed when my husband acquiesced and drove on. The other couple in the car agreed with me that he should have ignored her and taken the space. We were unable to find another one in the area and this put all of us in a bad mood. What should he have done?—Frances K.

Dear Mrs. K.: If it were just for a moment or two while a driver may be turning around or dropping off another passenger, his companion might quite correctly try to hold a parking space for him.

Otherwise, I think you're right; spaces in public parking lots should not be reserved.

At a brunch Sunday in the lakeside dining hall at Oxford's Camp Oakland facilities, Carl O. Barton, president of the camp announced that Mrs. Ben D. Mills, chairman of the Women's Committee for the past eight years has resigned.

A framed letter of thanks was presented to her on behalf of the entire board of directors of which she now has become a vice president.

The Women's Committee has been credited with providing the special touches that has made the camp a real home for under privileged children.

Barton also gave thanks to Mrs. Mills for the leadership qualities she showed in planning five outstanding benefits in Detroit for the camp's buildings and equipment funds.

ADDITION

Announcement was also made of the addition to the dormitory housing boys in the work education program. The addition will accommodate nine more 16 to 19-year-olds who have dropped out of school.

More plans include extending the summer camp session two weeks to permit 128 more children to attend.

A new arts and crafts center is also planned, made possible by the Bargman Foundation. It will be named for the late Theodore and Mina Bargman.

65 Per Cent on Friday

UF Women Near Goal

UF volunteers working on the residential campaign are close to the finish of their 10-day drive and preparing for the women's victory luncheon on Thursday, at the Elks Temple.

Results of Friday's report date place the women at 65 per cent of their $36,000 quota with a raised amount of $23,025.

Over the weekend and during the next few days, the women are rushing to complete their calls, tallying the results and reporting their totals to chairman in anticipation of meeting their quotas.

REPORTS DUE

Mrs. James H. Cowen, women's campaign chairman, reminds workers that the final report is due tomorrow.

will be recorded up to the time of the victory luncheon to allow chairman to qualify for an Indian Oscar award given to chairman meeting their quotas.

The women's division, which began its drive, Oct. 11, is considered the pace setter of campaign units, traditionally finishes first, and celebrates this achievement early.

Lake Orion leads women's units with 97 per cent of the goal. Mrs. Gilbert Adams is chairman of the Lake Orion drive.

Waterford women at 68 per cent are in second place. Mrs. Paul Atkins, Waterford chairman reported.

Independence Township has reached the 65 per cent mark

Benefit Is Set for Wednesday

The theater benefit sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary to Society will take place Wednesday evening.

Tickets for the musical, "Walking Happy" at the Fisher theatre, may be obtained from Mrs. Ralph Wigent, Mohawk Road, or Mrs. Vernon C. Abbott, Illinois Avenue.

Proceeds go into the group's fund for nursing scholarships.

English Actress Has a New Stage Setting

By JANET ODELL

Jenny Laird Fernald brought her clothes, some books, a few pictures and half a dozen Wedgewood cups and saucers to make a home in the United States.

The London-born wife of John Fernald, director of the Oak Meadow Brook Theatre at Oakland University is settling a house and adjusting to a new life in a new country.

Her husband has been here since July, working on the thousands of details that go into a new production. Mrs. Fernald, who is an actress, had a stage commitment at the Edinburgh Festival until September.

Leaving behind her a home and daughter, she flew to join her husband in a project she finds as exciting as he does.

Daughter Karin who's 21 is touring in England with the play, "Barefoot in the Park." That she will come here for Christmas is her parents' hope.

The couple has been buying furniture here and there, some antique, some more modern.

They have gone to several auctions.

SOLD TO THAT LADY

"But I couldn't understand a word the auctioneer was saying," she complained. Her relief was coming when we told her that almost nobody can understand his singsong speech.

Translating American money into English pounds is not difficult for this resident alien.

"I never know whether I'm getting a bargain or paying too much. And your prices vary so from store to store."

There are times when a writer goes out on an interview, meets his subject, asks the necessary questions and leaves.

Then there are times when the interviewer and the subject find common areas of interest and talk on and on, forgetting the clock. That is what happened last week in the Squirrel Road home of the Fernalds.

We started with coffee in the study and hours later wound up with tea at the kitchen table.

This English couple has taken happily to instant tea. But Hohn Fernald insists on a tea cozy to keep the pot warm; theirs is a gaudy red and blue striped one.

Mrs. Fernald says in her lilted English accent that she adores the deep freeze in her "frig." But the push-button electric stove has her a bit baffled. She hasn't figured out all the buttons yet.

The fact that local utility companies give free bulbs and repair appliances simply amazed her. At first, she didn't believe it.

FULL HOUSE

Some members of the theater staff and a few actors will be living in the delightful rambling farmhouse with the Fernalds. The upstairs and part of the first floor are being remodeled into efficiency apartments.

John Fernald is a restless man who does not adjust well to working in a rut, says his wife. He likes to plunge into difficult new ventures and she backs him up. She shares his enthusiasm and his ideas about what the perfect repertory theater should be — one without stars.

"To be creative is the greatest thing; it is really the only thing that matters, isn't it?"

Mrs. Fernald hopes to act in some of the plays to be given at OU, but not for a while. Her major concern now is to keep a peaceful environment for her husband and to keep the other actors happy.

"Actors are really children at heart; keep them happy and you can do anything with them, even pay them less." This is an actress speaking, remember.

"Anyone who acts is really showing off, isn't he? I remember when I was just a little girl. I had on a pink costume and was prancing around the room, doing nothing at all but showing off."

"But it is when you decide to make that showing off a profession and spend the time learning and accept the disciplines, that you become a real actor."

This small trim woman with the coiled reddish-brown hair and hazel eyes feels deeply about life. Dedicated to producing illusions on the stage, she is realistic and concerned about society's problems.

As working mothers, we traded feelings of guilt we had experienced. Mrs. Fernald told of the time when she was set to go on stage for the first act of a play her husband was directing and word came that their daughter had been injured by a truck.

"Nothing must be allowed to stop a performance," she said firmly. Three acts later, the worried parents could rush to the hospital where Karen was being treated for a concussion.

The Fernalds have been in the United States several times, but this is their first visit to the middle west.

"I feel so good here, so healthy. London is really an awful city for anyone with allergies. But the air here is so clear."

WANTS SNOW

"Do you have lots of snow here? I love snow and am looking forward to it here in the country. We like to ski and hope to find some time for that. We went to Norway last year."

We assured her that there would probably be snow and that Michigan abounds in ski resorts, some which make snow when Nature is stingy with it.

The Fernalds are impressed with the way civic leaders take over voluntary jobs for such things as the Meadow Brook Theatre.

And the work of the woman volunteer impresses her.

"Women don't do that kind of volunteer work in England. Oh, they sit on committees, but they don't make a career of it. I think it's healthy."

In summing up her reaction to the move she and her husband have made, she said, "I think it's providential that we came here at this time."

We're inclined to agree with her. But we think she's going to become Americanized quicker than she realizes. She can't find anyone to help with the housework.

Sorority Has Pledge Party

Mrs. Clyde Haskill opened her home on Woodbine drive for the recent pledge party for Zeta Eta chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Mrs. Dennis Lowes was cohostess.

Highlights of the recent state convention in Traverse City were given by Mrs. Jack Barker and Mrs. Joseph Galarini.

Mrs. Norman Richards and Mrs. Robert DeBahl were guests.

Mrs. Charles F. Collison, Lenox Street (left) wears two hats during the United Fund campaign. When she isn't out collecting in her area, she baby sits with two-month-old Roberta Ann Neigebauer while Mrs. Robert Neigebauer of Spence Street (right) does her stint as Pontiac Area IV chairman. The little girl is the star attraction in her family with four older brothers.

Mrs. Ben D. Mills of Bloomfield Hills and Diane Large, a resident at Camp Oakland's Girl Ranch, discuss the former's resignation as chairman of the Women's Committee for Camp Oakland. Mrs. Mills will remain on the board of directors and continue to work on programs of the camp for underprivileged children.

Post Chapel Is Scene of Swint Vows

Mollie Jane Anderson and Gregory Lee Swint, U.S. Army Warrant Officer, were married Saturday evening in Fort Wolters Post Chapel, Mineral Wells, Texas.

Their parents are the Robert E. Andersons, Bloomfield Hills and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Swint of Fox Hills Drive.

A dinner reception in the Twelve Oaks Hotel followed the double-ring family ceremony performed by Protestant Chaplain John W. Hulme of Jackson, Tenn.

Warrant Officer Swint will later be assigned to helicopter flight training for eventual duty in Viet Nam. He attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and Eastern Michigan University.

His bride attended the University of Oklahoma and Oakland University.

Home Life Education Is Needed

A legislative committee in California, after exhaustive studies of family-related problems, has come up with an interesting proposal to add two dollars to every marriage license and five dollars to every divorce fee — with all money thus collected to be spent for family life education in schools and colleges.

This indicates that family education is failing to teach youngsters the importance of home discipline — including good housekeeping standards and practices. The divorce rate might recede appreciably if today's parents would pass on knowledge about the importance and responsibility of home cleanliness—which their children so sadly lack.

Polly's Pointers

Use Silver Cream

DEAR POLLY—Silver cream makes an excellent cleaner for enameled refrigerators and stoves which have yellowed. This gets them white without dulling or scratching.

When knitting sweaters leave long ends at the start of each garment piece when casting on and use these ends to sew the seams when the garment is completed. There are then many less yarn ends to "run in" when finishing.

I disagree with the Pointer about cutting out sewing patterns with the pinking shears. This is all right for simple garments but anything which requires precise joining such as set-in sleeves, collars and so on are easier to get perfect with straight cut pieces. I usually pink the seams right after they are joined and before pressing them open. — MARY ANNE

DEAR POLLY — Has anyone discovered a successful way to mend rubber gloves? Often a tiny slit ruins a glove and this is both expensive and frustrating. I have tried many things but none were successful. — CAROL

DEAR POLLY — I keep a wooden mixing spoon handy at my sink to use for pushing the odd shaped pieces that do not fall through the opening in the rubber gaskets at the top of my garbage disposal.

This unfinished wood does not get slippery with use and the round curve of the bowl does not damage the rubber. It also saves possible injury to the fingers. — MILDRED

DEAR GIRLS — Betty, my right hand helper, also thinks a rubber spatula or scraper is as good or, she thinks, even better for this. If you don't have one of these, try the other. — POLLY

Anyone submitting a Polly's Problem, a solution to a problem or a favorite homemaking idea will receive a dollar if Polly uses the item in Polly's Pointers.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Dault of Eastview Drive, Independence Township, announce the marriage of their daughter Anne to James E. Farnum, Friday, in the First Church of the Brethren.

The bridegroom is the son of the Kenneth Farnums of Holbrook Street.

For the evening ceremony, the bride chose a street-length dress of avocado sheer wool and a veiled headpiece. She carried white and yellow roses.

Attending the couple who left for a northern wedding-trip were Karen Bray and Terry Stocher.

MRS. R. W. ROSE

Lace Accents Ensemble for Mrs. Rose

Venise lace accented a gown and cape-train of ivory satin for Leigh Ann Wagner who became Mrs. Robert William Rose, Saturday, in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Rochester.

Imported ivory illusion fashioned her veil. She carried yellow tea roses, chrysanthemums and white pompons.

The newlyweds' parents are the Otto Wagners, East Gunn Road, Oakland Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Rose, Livernois Road, Avon Township.

Linda Smith was honor maid at the double-ring ritual followed by a church reception.

Bridesmaids were Margaret Rose, and Karen L. Thompson, Doris Rose was flower girl.

With Charles Meagher, his cousin's best man, were the ushers, Roger O. Wagner and John Rose.

The couple will reside in Madison Heights.

A clown-decorated sandwich board costume is created from two cotton pillowcases. Slip cardboard into each case, and join them at top with shoulder straps made from fabric scraps. Draw on clown features with laundry marker; trim with scraps.

A bright orange cotton pillowcase is the basic ingredient for this witch costume. Cut neckline and armholes with pinkish shears. Pull corners of case through cafe curtain rings to adjust fit. Use scraps for witch's face; yarn for hair. Designed by Harry Pepperell.

For rocket-propelled trick or treaters, a striped cotton pillowcase forms the basic costume. Loops of wire in the hem and top give it a rounded shape. Rocket "nose" is cut from cardboard.

Pillowcases Become Halloween Costumes

What do you do when your own little goblins demand quick transformation into a witch or fairy princess . . . a space man or a demon?

Here's a quick trick from the National Cotton Council: use a bright-colored cotton pillowcase for a basic costume. Slip out armholes and a neckline with pinkish shears. Then proceed to decorate as the children's imagination dictates. Little or no sewing is required.

To make a witch's costume, for example, form a neckline by cutting a 12-inch slit in the center top of the pillowcase.

Mark the pillowcase five inches down from the top on each side. Then use shears to cut an eight-inch opening down from each mark for armholes.

Pull the top corners of the pillowcase through cafe curtain rings to fit at the shoulders. Use curtain rings that are three-fourths of an inch in diameter to assure a snug fit.

To decorate the costume, cut out facial features of a witch from fabric scraps and glue in place. Outline features with a laundry marker.

YARN HAIR

Make the witch's hair by cutting a skein of cotton yarn into 30-inch lengths and arranging it across the top of the pillowcase. Stitch across, catching each strand of yarn, and then trim as desired.

A bumpy-face costume can be made in the same manner. For longer cars, start armhole cut-outs nine inches down from the top. Form rabbit whiskers from pipe cleaners.

Another variation is the "astro-spook"—a rocket-shaped costume for the space-minded. Use a striped pillowcase to form the body of the rocket. Give it a rounded shape by inserting loops of wire into the top and bottom of the pillowcase.

Use the pillowcase hem for one loop, and make a one-inch cutting at the bottom of the other. Shoulder straps can be made from bias tape. Add a cone-shaped hat cut from cardboard.

Make the costumes from old pillowcases you have on hand . . . then replenish your supply with some of the new fashion-oriented cotton percales.

Store's Cleanliness Attracts

A trade magazine, Progressive Grocer, has released findings from research on why shoppers shop where. Second only to the first factor of a large selection, came cleanliness—which rated ahead of courteous service, low price, and quality of perishables.

It seems logical that women who rate cleanliness so high where they shop, should also apply this principle at home. No husband enjoys a home that does not measure up to the best cleanliness standards—no matter how courteous the service or how fresh and good the food.

MRS. L. T. MOEHLMAN

Miss Watts Takes Vows on Saturday

Marjorie Carol Watts and Larry Troy Moehlman were wed Saturday in St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, Lake Orion, and later greeted guests in the church undercroft.

Attending the candlelight rite were their parents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Watts, Joslyn Road, Orion Township, and the Robert F. Moehlmans, Lake Orion.

LACE GOWN

With her floor-length gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bride wore a bouffant illusion veil. Her spray bouquet held white carnations and a white orchid.

With honor maid, Victoria L. Ryckman, were bridesmaids Linda L. Bracken, Trudy Wiseman and Lori Nixon, flower girl. Steve Watts carried the rings.

Robert E. Moehlman was his brother's best man. Ushers were Howard Paulson and Kenneth Pearce.

Three Brush Wardrobe

By DOROTHEA ZACK HANLE
Editor, HairDo Magazine

The prettiest hairdos you've ever seen has enjoyed superior "brushmanship." That lovely, controlled, super-smooth coil depends for its appeal on luster, sheen and texture — the result of absolute cleanliness and diligent brushing.

WHICH BRUSH?

What kind of brush should you own and use? Or should you have more than one? When you choose yours, consider these factors: Is your hair wavy, wild, coarse? You need a tough-bristled brush that grips the hair and gives you scalp a thorough workout. Baby-fine, wispy hair? A gentler-bristled brush for you — but with long and short natural bristles to stroke as well as stimulate.

Hair that lies flat and limp most of the time? Even it up with a synthetic-bristle brush to improve its health and condition.

Ideally, the minimum wardrobe of brushes should be three — one for before-shampoo brushing (the grime-getter), one for nightly conditioning and a little one for styling and touching up (nice to carry in your handbag).

Very few people really know how to brush hair properly. Begin by brushing hair firmly back from face. Brush next up and away from the neck, never down. Throw head forward as you bend from the waist.

Brush briskly from the nape of the neck to the very ends of the hair. Keep the stroke steady — don't tear at the wrist as you brush. This makes a brush stroke with a rolling motion that grips the hair, gently tugs the scalp to stimulate circulation.

The upward, outward movement raises the hair, enabling bristles to massage and cleanse the scalp. Be sure to complete every stroke with the very ends of the hair.

How many times? Two hundred? That's "brushmanship" if you're doing it right with the right brush for your hair. One hundred? That's grandmother's rule. The more, the better — but we'd say you'd have a pretty healthy scalp with a mere 50 good, professional strokes.

GUIDE TO BRUSHOUT

You'll begin a brushout, of course, with hair that's bone-dry. Your equipment, spanking clean and thoroughly dry, too: a firm-bristled hairbrush; a comb or slim teasing brush; a rattail comb. And you've a can of hair spray handy, too, properly selected for your kind of hair.

Now, follow the pictures and directions for a professional-looking brushout:

Remove clips and rollers, please and papers — gently, please, without tugging or tearing. If hair's been dryer-dried, replace each curl in roller form, let it cool that way. Start right at the hairline and brush straight back — in long, vigorous strokes, blending all the curl lines together.

If your hair tends to dryness, dab a bit of cream hair-dressing on the palm of one hand, rub hands together, then run them through your hair this way: slide fingers back from the hairline, up from the nape, close to the scalp. Brush again, now blending the curl lines still more, and being sure to carry your brush

Now, with your brush, begin to guide your hair into the lines defined by your setting. Details are not important now; work for over-all direction, moving the hair in large sections, concentrating on top and sides. Stop and check your progress now; use a hand mirror, and examine your coil from all sides. What to look for: those areas that seem to be resisting your coaxing into

Now for the final molding and smoothing. Let fingers help, too, in drawing out a slim cheek curl, draping a wave, curving a flip. All done, just as you like it? Spray — an even misting all around, holding the can upright and as far away as label directs.

Before the spray is quite dry, use the flexibility it gives you to adjust those last little touches: lift very, very lightly with rattail comb to pouf where fullness is needed — at the turn of the bangs or the rise of the crown; use fingers to fan out a flip or guiche, if needed.

Club Slates Market Sale

Members of the Dirt Gardeners Club have been making useful and decorative articles for a four-hour bazaar which will open Saturday at 8:00 a.m. in the Farmers' Market.

Fungi have been treated to be used as wall plaques and for turkey table centerpieces. Other novelties are cornhusk dolls, gourds, nuts and fruits arranged on a tree-slab.

Proceeds from the sale which also features wild fruit jellies, aprons, baked goods and linens will further the club's civic projects which include assisting with the landscaping of the Waterford Township Library.

As U.S. Pushes for Quick Finish

Signs Point to Doubling of Viet Gl's

EDITOR'S NOTE — UPI foreign news analyst Phil Newsum has just returned from two months in South Viet Nam — his fourth visit there since mid-1962).

By PHIL NEWSUM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
A turn is coming in the long and frustrating war in Viet Nam which could nearly double U.S. forces there and, at least for a time, lead to a substantial increase in American casualties.

With no sign that the Communists are ready to negotiate, the change will be a part of a new U.S. effort to end the war as quickly as possible.

It will reflect a gradual shift in tactics under way for several months and a new role for the armed forces of South Viet Nam. It will not be announced.

This does not mean that the military phase of the three-way war in South Viet Nam is not doing well.

It is doing better than expected. But the pacification phase is lagging and, in coming months, will get special attention.

ON CONCLUSIONS

After a fourth visit to South Viet Nam since the United States began stepping up its efforts there, these are among the conclusions reached by this correspondent:

• U.S. forces, now at around 325,000 in South Viet Nam, probably will go up to around 600,000 barring the unexpected, namely, negotiations.

• U.S. forces will take over the striking role as South Vietnamese troops begin playing a bigger role in pacification. In the last year and a half, U.S. forces have taken over more and more as primary strike forces.

Vietnamese success in providing at least partial security to Vietnamese voters in the Sept. 11 elections will give the idea added emphasis. It is the old idea of the one-two punch.

• U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have been killing their Viet Cong enemy at a rate of about 6-to-1 over their own losses. They believe that, in coming months, they can kill the VC and the North Vietnamese at a rate faster than the Communist can infiltrate.

Nonetheless, pacification, that by American experts on the ground as "not inconsequential." It is a negative phrase figured only at the rate of which means that gains have been made but the program continues to be plagued by Vietnamese corruption and by inefficiencies.

• Economic gains, the third phase of the war, are described

Bus Rides Included in 'Y' Program

An after-school bus program offering swimming and gym classes has been organized at the YMCA, 131 Mount Clemens for fourth, fifth and sixth graders from eight elementary schools.

Pontiac elementary schools participating in this program are Lebaron, Bagley, McCarrroll, Whitfield, Webster, Irving and Emerson.

Cherokee Hills Elementary in Waterford Township is also participating.

"Y" buses pick up 318 boys at 3 p.m. on an assigned day each week during the 10-session program.

After two 45-minute instructional and recreational gym and swim classes the bus returns the youngsters to their school yard by 6 p.m.

OPENINGS EXIST

There are still openings in this program at LeBaron, Whitfield, McCarrroll, Emerson and Bagley.

The program fee is $4 for nonmembers and $8 for members.

Children will be considered "Y" members during the 10-week session ending Dec. 16. Members may participate in other programs, providing their own transportation.

Contact the YMCA for further information and registration.

Gun, $850 in Cash Stolen From Home

Loss of a .38-caliber revolver and $850 in cash was reported to Pontiac police yesterday following a break-in at a city home.

Elmer Yarbrough, 42, of 328 Crystal Lake told police his house was ransacked while he was absent from the home Saturday night.

Police said entry to the house had been gained by prying off a kitchen storm window.

RETURN OF NATIVES — Discussing the 16th annual Pontiac Educators Conference with Assistant Schools Supt. William J. Lacy (center) are two reading experts who also are former Pontiac residents, Kaye Stickle, now working on her doctorate at Michigan State University, and keynoter Dr. Harold Herber of Syracuse University were among the resource persons who conferred with Pontiac educators this weekend in Sarnia, Ont.

Importance of Reading Stressed to Educators

The importance of reading at all grade levels and in all subject areas was emphasized at the 16th annual fall Pontiac Educators Conference this weekend.

Participating in the sessions were 204 persons, including 176 teachers and school administrators.

The conference, which began Friday evening and continued through Sunday morning, was held in Sarnia, Ont.

Because of larger accommodations, attendance was double what it has been for any of the previous conferences, which have been held at Higgins Lake State Recreation Area.

Keynote speaker Dr. Harold Herber introduced the conference theme, "Every Teacher's Role in Reading."

A Pontiac native, Herber is an associate professor of education at Syracuse University in New York.

Among the books he has written are "Success With Words" and "Learning Your Language." With a U.S. Office of Education grant, Herber recently produced a film series for teachers entitled "Reading Instruction in Secondary Schools."

Herber stressed the importance of interdisciplinary cooperation in improving the reading abilities of students.

Reading teachers should know something about the various subject areas in order to prepare youngsters for the textbooks, he said.

On the other hand, subject-area teachers should be aware

U.N. Week Observance Is Planned

ROCHESTER — Church bells rang yesterday to herald the start of United Nations Week in the Rochester area.

The observance will move into the schools Monday with special films and literature for the elementary group provided by Mrs. Robert W. Gaines, 2567 Stoddleigh.

Richard McGowan, 227 William, former president of the area chapter, will head up activities in the secondary schools.

U.N. posters, made by schoolchildren, will be featured in a downtown exhibit.

Climax of the week's activities is a panel discussion at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Room 130, Oakland University. Dr. Richard Tucker of the OU staff, with John Houston, Pontiac attorney, and Rev. Wilbur C. Schutze, rector of St. Philip's Episcopal Church, will discuss "U.N. and the U.S. and Viet Nam."

Rev. Robert Jacobson, pastor of First Congregational Church, is U.N. Week chairman. He is assisted by Mrs. Alex Duffield and Robert C. Rowland.

2 City Youths Face Charges in Area Break-In

Two Pontiac youths were arrested by Waterford Township and city police yesterday morning shortly after a burglary at the Elizabeth Lake Pharmacy, 3801 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township.

Scheduled to be arraigned on breaking and entering charges today are Berlin W. Batey, 18, of 408 N. Saginaw and Douglas L. Runyon, 19, of 796 Crittendon.

The suspects allegedly took 12 bottles of whiskey, valued at $83, from the store.

Three youths, who saw the suspects flee from the store, informed the owner after obtaining the license number of the getaway car.

Gun Accident Hurts Woman

A bullet wound suffered when she was accidentally shot by her husband hospitalized a Pontiac woman.

Mrs. Erwin F. Gates, 39, of 85 W. Columbia is reported in fair condition in the intensive care unit at Pontiac General Hospital.

Pontiac police were told the woman was injured about 5 p.m. Saturday when a .22-caliber rifle was accidentally shot by her 33-year-old husband accidentally discharged.

Gates, police said, would be charged with possession of an unregistered gun.

24 per cent of the adult population is classified as illiterate, according to government statistics.

By Nixon, RFK, Douglas

Backlash Is Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Republican candidate who is riding the backlash.

M. Nixon says "the Democratic party now nationally has become the party of the backlash." But Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a Democrat, says Republicans are trying to stir a backlash against him in the Illinois Senate race.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., warned white politicians against exploiting white backlash.

Nixon spoke in New York Sunday on a television interview program, Douglas was on another program from Chicago and Kennedy was campaigning in Berkeley, Calif., for Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Also in New York, Sen. Gale McGee, D-Wyo., was accusing extremists of spending $12 million in congressional races to spread "hate and bigotry."

COLLECT $1.2 MILLION

And a report Sunday night from the National Committee for an Effective Congress, which calls itself nonpartisan, said "right wing extremists have been able to collect over $1.2 million" for the congressional campaign.

Nixon said Democrats had become the party of backlash by refusing to disavow segregationist gubernatorial nominees Lester G. Maddox of Georgia and Jim Johnson of Arkansas, Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama and open housing foe George Mahoney, candidate for governor of Maryland.

Nixon declared, "I don't know

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N.Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so—even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®. In addition to actually shrinking piles—Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Dinner is the perfect time to talk about re-electing Thomas M. Kavanagh and Otis M. Smith to the Michigan Supreme Court.

It used to be that you had to run around in circles trying to collect damages if you were harmed by some product you bought. People in the chain of manufacturing and distributing had big legal loopholes to hide in.

Men like Thomas M. Kavanagh and Otis M. Smith have helped plug those loopholes with decisions that protect the consumer—you—whenever you buy something in Michigan. That means things like food, tools, machines and vehicles, have to be safe for the use they're made for. And if they aren't, it's now possible for you to find the right party to sue if you're injured. This is one of many landmark decisions the nationally recognized Michigan Supreme Court has made to protect you and your rights.

Now, it's up to you to keep Michigan's Supreme Court moving ahead. To do this, you have to vote for two present Supreme Court Justices, whose continued membership is vital to Michigan's continued progress.

LBJ Likely to Sign Most of Last Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign into law virtually all the legislation passed in the rush to adjournment by Congress.

Much of it is for his "Great Society" program — and some is greater than he asked.

Some key programs could be signed by Johnson even before he returns to the United States Nov. 2 from his Pacific-Asian tour.

The lengthy second session of the 89th Congress ended late Saturday afternoon after two years of record spending and government involvement in new fields.

RACE HOME

Most of the lawmakers who had stuck it out to the end in Washington raced back home for two final weeks of campaigning before the Nov. 8 election which will choose an entire new House and 35 senators.

The final outpouring of legislation included a $6.1-billion elementary and secondary school aid bill for the next two years that is a whopping $1.7 billion above what Johnson asked.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do — won late approval at $1.26 billion, less than half what he asked.

Lawmakers voted each major political party a potential $30-million kitty for the 1968 presidential election campaign. The program would permit taxpayers to divert $1 from their income tax to the campaign.

STILL CLACKING

The adding machines are still clacking away trying to figure out how much Congress went over or under Johnson's recommendations in specific areas.

The two-year appropriation total of $263 billion stands as a record, with this year's $144 billion a close second to the one-year record of $147 billion set in 1942, the first full year of World War II.

After the Medicare and voting rights blockbusters of 1965, this second session of the 89th Congress seemed a step slower.

And there was greater preoccupation with talking about the war in Viet Nam.

LABOR SHUT OUT

Labor, perhaps the key bloc in Johnson's and the Democrats' victories in 1964, oddly was shut out on two other major demands: Repeat of state right-to-work laws and broadened and standardized unemployment compensation.

And Negroes, who went overwhelming Democratic in 1964, saw their string of civil rights bill successes snarled when a controversial open housing provision led to shelving of this year's rights bill.

The 89th Congress had better than 240-1 Democratic majorities. But some of the President's program squeaked by narrowly, especially in the House. Loss of 20 liberal Democratic seats in the November election could eliminate that narrow working majority if many Republicans join with Southern Democrats to fight certain programs, as they often have done.

One controversial Johnson favorite, the antipoverty program, won authorization for another year at $1.75 billion — only about half what the antipoverty agency wanted.

Even before adjournment, the word was out that when the 90th Congress convenes Jan. 10, a first major order of business will be increasing Social Security benefits.

SAN FRANCISCO — It was a bright sunny day in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium yesterday, but for nearly 15 minutes after the game Karl Sweetan found himself in a dark limbo.

He had just put on an outstanding performance in his debut as the Detroit Lions' No. 1 quarterback.

However, the Lions still lost 27-24 and the players, many hiding their emotions, rushed to the locker room with the doors quickly closed behind them.

Sweetan stopped momentarily to talk to some friends.

When he entered the long concrete tunnel which went from the field to the edge of the locker room, the gate was closed behind him.

However, when he got to the other end, the big wooden door was also locked.

Amid the bedlam of screaming 49er fans, his pounding finally got the locker room guard to open the door.

Slowly he walked from the tunnel door, head down, drenched in perspiration and carrying his jersey No. 14.

"I guess I didn't mind being locked up in the dark for a few minutes. Everything looked so bright just moments earlier."

"I just don't believe we lost," he said as he walked into the quiet locker room.

"I'm not blaming anyone for any mistakes. I made quite a few out there and someday I'll make a big one and then everyone will try to hang me."

NEUROUS AT FIRST

Sweetan admitted he was nervous when he started the game. "I didn't sleep too well the night before, and the more I tried to tell myself not to get nervous, the worse I got."

"My hands were just soaked with perspiration."

Not too far along into the game however he said he felt fine.

"The guys (Lions' players) really picked me up, encouraging me and by the 4th period I had the confidence that we were going to score and win the game."

Coach Harry Gilmore, who has seen the Lions take five losses in seven games, with performances going from poor to outstanding, said, "Karl was cool and he certainly showed the courage. He sure came up with the big call. (Referring to his bootleg rollout and the TD pass to Jim Gibbons for a 24-20 lead with 51 seconds left)."

When Pat Studstill scored on the 73-yard strike which put the Lions to within three, 20-17, Sweetan raced the length of the field to catch the little receiver.

"I was so happy I could have squeezed him to death," said Sweetan. "And then when Gibbons took the other TD pass, goose pimples covered me, I just couldn't find the right words."

RECEIVES PRAISES

San Francisco writers and 49er coaches heaped praises on Sweetan.

"It was a shame to lose after his showing. What a priceless souvenir he would have had in the winning game ball," said one writer.

As the United Airlines charter jet zoomed high above San Francisco, Sweetan quickly looked down at the lighted city.

Up to this point on the plane, no one could hardly find the right words that might soothe the heartbreak he was enduring.

"What are you thinking of Karl," he was asked.

"Just what a beautiful city it is down there, and what a memory it will be for me probably for my lifetime," he replied.

"But you know, I'm gonna be back here someday and I'm gonna replace that memory I know with a better one."

ing Taylor and the third period.

Taylor acknowledged that the handsome bonus paid to Grabowski had a bearing on his salary demands.

"Sure it does," Taylor said. "It has a bearing both on your pride and your performance as an individual."

He denied he was trying to obtain a contract matching Grabowski's and declined to discuss how far he and Vince Lombardi, coach and general manager, were apart in their contract talks.

"We're still negotiating," Taylor said. "No, I don't think it's likely I'll sign before the season ends."

Taylor said he has no other team in mind if he wins his right to bargain as a free agent.

In the NFL, a player can win individual bargaining rights by "playing out his option" or declining to sign a contract for one full season.

End Ron Kramer played out his option with Green Bay in 1964 because he wanted to play with Detroit. The Packers traded him to the Lions.

Middle linebacker Ray Nitschke said last season he was playing out his option, but signed a Green Bay contract a few days after disclosing his plans.

Slow Start Baffles
Red Wings' Coach

DETROIT (AP) — Just a week ago, Detroit Red Wings Coach Sid Abel was talking about a glowing National Hockey League season with the Wings in a battle for second and a chance for first.

Today, he's wondering what happened. The Wings have dropped three straight and are the only NHL club without a point.

Detroit plays the Maple Leafs at Toronto Wednesday and there may be some changes.

Abel said before Sunday's 4-1 loss to the Black Hawks at Chicago that he'd wait and see how they did in that one before doing anything drastic.

Asked about the possibility of a trade, Abel replied, "definitely."

Detroit lost Bryan Watson for a week or two with a twisted knee. Bart Crasley was out with the flu Sunday and Val Fonteyne broke his thumb a week ago and will be out for a while.

Ab McDonald was called up from Pittsburgh, and he scored the first goal Sunday.

CROZZER OUT

Hank Bussen played goal for the Wings against Chicago after Roger Crozier gave up seven goals Saturday at Olympia.

The victory kept Chicago two points in front of the defending champion Montreal Canadiens, who edged Boston 3-2 on a late goal by penalty-killer Jean Guy Talbot.

Ed Giacomin, New York's second-year goaltender, registered the season's first shutout — and his first in NHL play — as the Rangers nipped Toronto 1-0 in Sunday night's other game.

Saturday night Dennis Hull scored twice in Chicago's 7-4 triumph over the Red Wings while the Canadiens trounced Boston 3-1 in their season opener and the Rangers played the Leafs to a 4-4 standoff.

Dennis Hull, a 6-foot, 185-pound strongboy, sent the Hawks in front to stay Sunday night with the same blistering slap shot his brother has developed into hockey's most potent weapon. Dennis and Bobby each have scored three goals for the hungry Hawks, only NHL team which has never won a regular season title.

S49ers Get Winning TD
With Three Seconds LeftBy BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. — Karl Sweetan, Jr., left a broken, dejected heart in San Francisco last night.

The young Texan who went from the Pontiac Arrows for the bigtime pro football stage, made an auspicious debut as No. 1 quarterback of the Detroit Lions yesterday.

His performance was tremendous, but a couple mistakes in his supporting cast turned a tentative brilliant victory into a stunning 27-24 defeat at the hands of the San Francisco 49ers.

With the poise and confidence of a tested veteran, rather than the 23-year-old rookie that he is, Sweetan brought the Lions back from a 20-10 deficit to a 24-20

"sure-triumph" with 51 seconds left in the game.

He fired a 73-yard touchdown pass play to Pat Studstill to make the score read 20-17 with 7 minutes left in the game. Then with the style of another Texan, his boyhood idol Bobby Layne, Sweetan marched the Lions 62 yards in 11 plays for what looked like the winning TD.

On the two-yard line, he bootlegged the ball, faked a run then flipped to Jim Gibbons for the touchdown.

But winning wasn't in the cards for Sweetan or the Lions.

LATE MARCH

After the ensuing kickoff was run back by Kermit Alexander to the 30, John Brodie flipped a screen pass to Ken Wilard. The 49er fullback was hit at the 35 by corner linebacker Wally Hilgenberg, but regained his balance and made it to midfield, with 22 seconds left on the clock.

Brodie then passed over the middle to Monte Stickles for 15 yards. On the play, Hilgenberg was called for piling on and the personal foul penalty not only stopped the clock to save them precious seconds but gave the 49ers the ball on the Detroit 21.

A pass from Brodie was broken up by Dick LeBeau and 8 seconds were left.

Brodie then passed over the middle to Stickles who took the ball on the 10 went into the end zone and scored. The clock stopped with 3 seconds to play, but the shock had already hit the Lions whom coach Harry Gilmer later praised for "playing their hearts out."

As they have been all season, penalties were costly, but none so disastrous as that personal foul in the final seconds.

Hilgenberg went into the linebacker spot, when veteran Wayne Walker was ejected early in the game for slugging Stickles. "There's no doubt Walker's absence hurt us," Gilmer said, "but I'm not going to second-guess the officials or pinpoint any player on that penalty."

EXPLAINS EJECTION

Walker explained his ejection from the game.

"Stickles was slugging with his knee and I was just about to give every play," Walker said, "so I told the referee."

"The referee told me, 'Take care of it yourself.'"

"Sure enough on the next play he gave me the elbow again and I slugged him and got thrown out."

Ironically, it was Stickles who later brought the 49ers a personal foul penalty which helped to set up the Lions final touchdown.

It happened when Bruce Mahler intercepted the 4th Brodie pass of the game on the two-yard line. He returned it 21 yards and when he was hit, Stickles came at him with his foot after Mahler was already down.

This put the ball on the Detroit 28 from where Sweetan guided the touchdown march.

WOLL Gains Title Share in Grid Loop

St. Michael Whips Holy Cross; St. Fred Tops Anchor Bay

Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, St. Michael and St. Frederick each was a Macomb Catholic League football winner Sunday with the Lakers and Mikemen both having special reasons to celebrate.

Waterford OLL clinched a share of its second straight title by pounding Detroit St. Rose, 39-0, with Don Guibord showing the way.

St. Michael's homecoming observance included its 27-14 last-period win over Marine City's Holy Cross. The Mikemen virtually clinching second place.

St. Fred's Rams retained their hopes for third place in the race by tripping Anchor Bay Catholic, 19-6, to move within a half game of Holy Cross entering their meeting next Sunday afternoon.

Waterford's Lakers can clinch their second unbeaten season by defeating weak Richmond St. Augustine Sunday afternoon.

Guibord yesterday rushed for 232 yards in eight tries and tallied the first two touchdowns on 69 and 60 yard sweeps behind Jerry Methner's trap blocking.

OTHERS

He also added a 15-yard score later. Vic Tersigni and Roy Lilly both ran for 25-yard touchdowns. St. Siraigh hit Brian Haskins on a 37-yard pass for the final score.

STATISTICS

The Lakers so dominated the game that the last two quarters were trimmed to eight minutes.

St. Mike built a 14-0 lead on plays by Glynn behind left tackle Bill Brock's blocking, then saw Holy Cross rally for two third-period touchdowns to tie the game.

But Glynn again went over behind French from three yards out with about seven minutes to play, and freshman Tim Boyer skirted left end for a 35-yard run for four minutes to go for the Mikemen.

Quarterback Bill Florence of the Crusaders took a crossfield aerial from halfback Bill Groff for the first Holy Cross score, then passed to John Dietlin for the second touchdown, in addition to kicking the two key PATs.

RAMS WIN

Mike Carey of St. Fred ran the conversion after John Guilean plunged for the first Ram touchdown, then sped 20 yards for that boosted the lead to 13-6.

STATISTICS

Arrows Turn Back Dayton, 23-14

Special to the Press

DAYTON, O. — Pontiac's Arrows virtually secured their fourth championship in five years in the Midwest Football League with a 23-14 victory over Dayton Saturday night.

Quarterback Bill Harrington, guiding the ball club after regular Tommy Myers was recalled by the Detroit Lions, directed the ball club to three touchdowns and a field goal to keep the Arrows unbeaten at 7-0.

Tony Odneal, a 6-2, 215-pound end, moved to halfback for the game and responded with a 28-yard touchdown run. Halfback Chuck Wiseman and fullback Willie Jones pushed across the other Arrows scores.

The Arrows went in front 6-0 early on Odneal's run, and Dayton cut it to 6-2 when a pithout from Harrington was covered by Pontiac in its own endzone. Dayton went ahead moments later, 8-6, on a short scoring run by Chuck Malloy, but Ed McQueen, a 215-pound defensive end and kicker, boomed a 40-yard field goal to put the Arrows back in front for good, 9-6.

McQueen later suffered a head injury and was taken to the hospital in Dayton. Team officials said the injury was not serious.

In other games, Ypsilanti kept its faint tie hopes alive by knocking off River Rouge, 26-7, and Flint scored three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to hand Lansing's All Stars a 39-25 setback.

Ypsilanti, running its record to 6-2 can take the title only by winning its final two games and if Pontiac drops its final two outings to Lansing and River Rouge.

Mace Segal passed for three touchdowns in sparking the Flint victory. The Blue Devils moved in front with five minutes left in the game. Jim Long scored twice for the winners.

Sam Eyde scored twice and passed to Dave Johnson for two other touchdowns for Lansing.

Birmingham Brother Rice was no match for an inspired Harper Woods Notre Dame eleven Sunday in their showdown for the Central Division South Bowl berth of the Detroit Catholic League.

Brother Rice earned a brief 6-6 tie on Dan Parks' short plunge before Notre Dame pulled away to a 19-6 halftime lead that ballooned into a 53-12 final score.

Mike Vito tallied twice for the winners. Bill Rose added the Warriors' second score in the closing half. A crowd estimated at 7,000 watched the contest.

DOUBLE DUTY MEDICATION FOR PAIN OF HEMORRHOIDS

the hospital-type medication

Because tranquo is both anesthetic and antispasmodic, it serves as a double-duty medication for hemorrhoids and related discomforts. Tranquo's high, pain-killing potency comes from its hospital-type formula of 12% benzocaine. It actually relieves pain in seconds and retains relief for hours. Tranquo's antispasmodic properties help fight infection and speed up the healing process.

Western Michigan 11 Stays in Title Picture

By the Associated Press
Western Michigan continues to show that it's a team to watch in Mid-American Conference football and the Broncos can thank Dave Hudson for its fifth victory in six games.

Yank Gals Post World Golf Victory

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Shelley Hamlin, 17-year-old Fresno, Calif., schoolgirl, is just one of a bevy of wild kids who are going to make their presence felt in the next individual golf in the next few years.

They tear into a ball as if they want to smash the cover off it. They are bold and cocky. They are completely devoid of nerves.

Shelley was the fast-finishing spearhead that carried the United States to the world women's amateur golf team championship here over the week-end.

After starting with a jittery 80, she settled down to a 72-72 and mark herself as the most exciting player in the field of 57 from 19 nations the last days.

The United States, with strong assists from both Mrs. Theodore Boddie of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Davis Welts of Mt. Vernon, Wash., won the event by nine strokes with a score of 580.

LITTLE TIGER

Canada, led by Mrs. Marlene Streit, the Little Tiger, was second at 589, followed by defending champion France, 597; Belgium, 611; Britain-Ireland, 614; and Mexico, New Zealand, South Africa and Italy, tied at 613.

Mrs. Streit, past winner of both the U.S. and British women's titles, won individual honors with 289, beating out Mrs. Boddie by three strokes, but she finished, second in her head-to-head duel with Miss Hamlin in the final round Sunday over the Mexico City Country Club course. Shelley shot a 72, Mrs. Streit a 74.

"She's marvelous," acknowledged the Canadian star. "She hasn't played enough to be scared yet. She hits a long ball, the waker, light temperamental, fine all-around game. I predict wonderful things for her."

Winnipeg in Playoffs

WINNIPEG (AP) — The Winnipeg Blue Bombers clinched a playoff berth in the Western Division of the Canadian Football League by defeating the British Columbia Lions, 16-7, Sunday.

Title Picture Blurry After Mexico Bout

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Sugar Ramos may be the world's lightweight champion, but Carlos Ortiz of New York still is the 135-pound title holder as far as the World Boxing Association is concerned.

That's what Robert Evans, president of the WBA, said in Louisville, Ky., Sunday night in the wake of the controversial decision here Saturday night by which Ramos was declared the champion when Ortiz refused to re-enter the ring after the fight had been stopped in the fifth.

Referee Billy Conn, the former world light-heavyweight champ from Pittsburgh, Pa. had stopped the fight with Ramos bleeding profusely from a cut over his left eye. He declared Ortiz the winner and still champion by a technical knockout.

Ortiz went to his dressing room and refused to return when Ramos Velasquez, secretary of the World Boxing Council, ruled that the fight should continue since Ramos was able to go on. After a 10-minute time limit Velasquez declared Ramos the world champion.

Conn's decision started a wild demonstration, which took on the proportions of a riot before

Western nipped Toledo 14-13 in an MAC game as Hudson blocked a passing attempt for a two-point conversion with 52 seconds to play.

In other weekend games, Wayne State defeated Western Reserve 27-24, Albion blanked Kalamazoo 22-0, Alma took Hope 13-4, Olivet demolished Adrian 43-0, Northern Illinois nipped Hillsdale 14-7, Central Michigan beat Illinois State 20-6, Michigan Tech upended Mankato State 27-7. Eastern Michigan dumped Ferris State 21-6, Lincoln, Mo., edged Northwood 15-12 and Dayton shutout Northern Michigan 10-0.

Hudson's heroics, much disputed by Toledo, topped Western's MAC mark to 3-1 before a record conference crowd of 20,500 at Kalamazoo.

Coan is the one-time problem child halfback who has been nothing but trouble for opposing linemen around the American Football League.

He rushed for three touchdowns and caught a Pete Beasly pass for his fourth TD of the day. The 28-year-old running back gained 111 yards along the ground and moved into fourth place among the AFL's rushers.

His performance keyed a ground-out Kansas City rushing game that produced 300 yards — the second best one game rushing output in AFL history.

It was Coan's second 100-yard day of the season. He gained 101 in the opener against Buffalo. "He's had his heartaches and disappointments," said Stram. "It's just great to see him pulling himself out of the jungle."

Coan's controversial back-ground including a celebrated transfer from TCU to Kansas and a recruiting squabble that ended with Kansas stripped of its Big Eight title.

Eventually he quit college and signed with San Diego, after being dealt to Kansas City.

Coan stormed out of camp in 1963. He returned but in three years he had gained just 293 yards. This season he has been a new man.

"The holes were there," said Coan. "If I hadn't done like I did it would have been poor playing on my part."

Larry Garon was the hero for the Patriots, scoring three times, two of the touchdowns on 53-yard bombs from Babe Parilli.

Jim Nance, the league's leading rusher, gained 108 yards in 25 carries and Parilli picked the Chargers' defense apart for 250 yards through the air. It was San Diego's third straight winless game on its swing through the East.

Two SECONDS
Hewitt Dixon plunged into the endzone with two seconds to play as Oakland caught the Jets. The TD came on a fourth down play after New York's line had yielded only one yard in three shots.

The winning TD was set up by a 42-yard Tom Flores-Art Powell pass that came on a broken play. "It was a short pass, first down pattern," Powell explained. "But I broke it and Tom saw me."

Powell beat Dainard Paulson to the pass and brought the ball to New York's 24 with 1½ minutes left. Dixon caught a 22-yard setting up the Jets' goal line stand that eventually surrendered the last two yards.

Three different quarterbacks guided Miami to the second straight victory. George Wilson Jr. and Rick Norton each put points on the scoreboard for the Dolphins against Houston before being injured. Dick Wood took over and marched Miami into position for two Gene Mingo field goals that wrapped it up.

Cookie Gilchrist, making his debut for Miami, carried 10 times for 32 yards and caught a 13-yard TD pass from Norton.

Emmanuel Christian delighted in his homecoming crowd at Wiser Stadium Saturday in taking a 6-0 halftime lead with the Lancers' first touchdown of the season, but Novi rallied for a 13-6 win.

Emmanuel's Len Loveless scored seven yards in the second quarter for the team's first six-pointer in a winless campaign.

But after the halftime festivities, Novi's sophomore-freshman squad won a third-period lead as John Van Wagner plunged over from the one and Gary Boyer ran the conversion.

Mike Farah clinched the Wildcat's first victory in their varsity history by going over from the two-yard-line in the last session.

Novi is playing a mixed varsity-reserve schedule this fall.

Cranes, Jackets Victors

Cranbrook and Country Day of Birmingham continued their offensive explosions with high-scoring triumphs Saturday out of the state.

Cranbrook journeyed to Western Reserve in Ohio to record a 40-2 Inter-State Prep League conquest that leaves the Cranes alone atop the grid standings.

Country Day won its fifth straight by pounding Maumee Valley Country Day in Ohio, 30-0 as Bob Davenport ran for three touchdowns and a two-point conversion.

Craig Tallberg and Craig Tuohy each posted two six-pointers for Cranbrook who won its fourth straight. Tallberg scampered 40 and 70 yards on sweeps in the first half. Ted Lowrie ran 15 yards.

Tuohy then went 25 and 10 yards in the third quarter. He also ran three two-point conversions and Tallberg made two more.

Cranbrook will entertain perennial nemesis University School in its 1:30 p.m. homecoming game Saturday with the league title at stake.

Country Day (5-1) scored its first touchdown by driving 65 yards with the opening kickoff. Davenport went over from the four. He added a seven-yard touchdown in the second quarter and a 10-yarder in the third.

Chuck Booth ran 30 yards with a pass interception. Steve Tarczyk scored two conversions.

Comedienne Nurses Wounds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Comedienne Martha Raye, a front-line trouper for 24 years, changed her routine last week. She donned fatigues and worked for two days in an Army field dispensary, cleansing wounds, changing bandages and comforting GIs wounded in a Mekong Delta battle.

The twangy-voiced brunette, who has gone from outpost to tiny outpost throughout Viet Nam to entertain American servicemen, sang, danced and ribbed the men of two Army aviation helicopter companies stationed in the Mekong Delta town of Soc Trang.

The next morning, the chopper pilots and their crews delivered Vietnamese soldiers to the paddy fields and marshlands of the delta to charge the entrenched Viet Cong. As the first helicopters settled into the landing zones, they were met by intense fire. The landing zones were in the stronghold of a Viet Cong battalion.

Additional troops were brought in, and in the battle that followed four American helicopters were shot down and 20 were damaged. American casualties began arriving by 8 a.m. at the small Soc Trang dispensary.

Miss Raye, a former nurse, arrived about the same time, dressed in Army fatigues and volunteering for duty.

"She worked all day — until that night — doing everything she could," one corpsman said.

One of the first things she did was donate a pint of blood to a badly wounded sergeant. Then it was hour after hour of scrub, surgery, helping the surgeons, changing bandages, and cheering up men awaiting evacuation to field hospitals in Vung Tau or Saigon.

Miss Raye's show did not go any.

on that night. The next morning she was back at the hospital in her stained fatigues, helping the one doctor and eight corpsmen care for the patients.

SHE DID A LOT

Shortly before noon, when the work eased, Miss Raye flew 80 miles north to Vinh Long and performed that night for another unit of Army chopper crews who fly Vietnamese troops into battle.

"She did a lot for the morale of the men who'd been shot up, and she did a lot for ours, too," said a corpsman at the dispensary.

Sheppard Judge a Man of Few Words

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A man who has known Judge Francis J. Tally for years describes him as "free, outgoing — a good companion for conversation, sharp and witty."

New acquaintances of Judge Tally, 46, a bachelor, may doubt that description. Especially if they want to talk about Samuel H. Sheppard's new trial, which is being conducted by Tally.

Beneath a distinctive crown of gray hair that weathers his brow in a way suggestive of a Roman senator, Tally's eyes twinkle less frequently these days. He is reserved, serious, and guarded words and not much time for those.

One of his first actions after being assigned the Sheppard case Sept. 19 was to refuse to be interviewed.

NO CONFERENCES

And he ruled out question-answer conferences with newsmen in a group. Notebook at hand, he listened to individual complaints and problems involving news coverage of the trial.

Although he acknowledges there is "widespread and extensive public interest" in the 12-year-old Sheppard case, Tally said he hopes to conduct the new trial as routinely as possible.

In a journal entry setting strict rules for newsmen, Tally

Urban Chief Cites World Potential of Model Cities

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Robert C. Weaver, secretary of housing and urban development, said today the new demonstra- tion cities program has world-wide potential, even in such war-torn city as Saigon. In a talk prepared for a United Nations seminar on urban problems, Weaver said to American cities but to cities around the world. "I can think of no better place where a total approach of this kind could apply than in Saigon," the secretary said.

"This is a city where not only the usual urbanization process is going on, but where the pressure of war have added thousands of refugees to an already overburdened city."

WORLD PROBLEM

Weaver told planning, housing and public works officials from 26 nations that the urban crisis is a world problem and solutions common to U.S. slums and blighted neighborhoods could well be applied in foreign cities.

A projection by the United Nations showed a 25 per cent population increase in Viet Nam's urban areas of 20,000 or more between 1960 and 1970 and even this projection now is considered modest because of the expanded war, Weaver said.

He noted that President Johnson pointed early this month to the necessity of a major rehabilitation in Viet Nam.

Urban programs in most countries now are directed only at a single problem, Weaver said.

ANOTHER PATCH

"It's like patching up an inner tube," he added. "Every time there is a blowout, we apply another patch. Meanwhile, the pressure builds somewhere else, and the fabric wears thin, and we have another blowout."

GIs Prefer Homemade Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP) — From Da Nang to Darmstadt, the gifts U. S. servicemen abroad want most from their families are those with a homey touch.

The desire for homemade things was No. 1 on the gift parade in a survey made by American Red Cross field directors stationed with U. S. troops in the United States and at far-flung outposts in South Vietnam, West Germany, South Korea, Newfoundland and the Azores.

Red Cross officials said today their survey showed the average GI prefers homemade things because they are more personal and meaningful than luxury items, which often can be bought for much less money at military post exchanges.

Family gifts should vary according to where a man is stationed, the Red Cross said. Perishables such as soft candy, cookies or cakes are not very practical for men in distant tropical areas like Southeast Asia.

In stateside military bases, however, Mom's homemade goodies, often arrive safely if properly packed and bring joy to a son's heart," the Red Cross said.

POPULAR PRESENTS

"Other popular family Christmas gifts — some again depending on the climate — include sweaters, socks, towels and washcloths, metal mirrors, recorded messages, family photographs, school periodicals and home town newspapers."

Santa Claus is going to have to pay his own way to Viet Nam this Christmas, but still the flood of gifts for U. S. servicemen there is expected to reach record proportions.

There will be no free airlift as there was in 1955. All packages will have to be sent regular mail — surface or air — at standard postal rates.

Doctors Alerted to Dystrophy-Like Disease

HARRIMAN, N.Y. (AP) — The nation's physicians were urged today to be alert for a prime "masquerader" of tragically crippling muscular dystrophy — lest they miss or delay attacking a treatable disease.

The "mimic" disease — treatable by drugs of the cortisone family — is a muscle-weakening malady called "polymyositis."

And it can often be confused by the unwary with muscular dystrophy, for which there are no drugs or other effective treatments, said Dr. Carl M. Pearson, professor of medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles school of medicine.

ADDRESSING CONFAB

He told about it in addressing an unusual international conference on "Exploratory Concepts in Muscular Dystrophy and Related Disorders," and he amplified in an interview.

The conference, sponsored by the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, is being held at Arden House, a mountaintop mansion given to Columbia University by now Ambassador W. Averell Harriman as a site for conferences on "complex national problems" in various fields.

Nearly 100 scientists are attending. Pearson said this is the prospect with the "masquerading" disease if diagnosed early: "You can expect some improvement and in a few cases nearly full recovery of strength (of muscles) in about 70 per cent of PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovaks had the highest beer consumption in the world last year, the Czechoslovak news agency C.T.K. reported.

On an average, the Czechs drank 130.4 liters per person, but in West Bohemia (where the Pilsen brewery is located) the beer consumption was an average of 191.4 liters.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY
 In arguments between bridge partners we have noticed that on many occasions the man who is loudest in criticism of his partner is blind to his own errors.

East cashed the ace and king of diamonds and shifted to the four of clubs. South won with the queen of spades he should have led a heart, not the five of diamonds. It was up to him to see that he was not going to defeat the four-spade contract unless the deuce on his partner's club lead had managed to continue showing club weakness by playing the three and five in order.

East played his five of diamonds. South ruffed and proceeded to run off his last three trumps and the good clubs. The last club lead squeezed West. He had discarded down to king-queen of hearts and nine of diamonds while dummy was holding the ace-king of hearts and seven of diamonds behind him so that no matter what card he discarded dummy would make the last two tricks.

East really lit into his partner for not opening the king of hearts. He pointed out in several thousand words that if West had just opened a heart there would have been no way for South to develop that squeeze.

East was correct about that, but he was entirely wrong in blaming his partner for the unfortunate result of the hand. He would make the same lead West did but would not have played the defense as East did.

When East was in with the queen of spades he should have led a heart, not the five of diamonds. It was up to him to see that he was not going to defeat the four-spade contract unless

Chief Justice Urges Federal Age Limit

DETROIT (AP)—The chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court says mandatory retirement in all three branches of federal government would benefit the nation.

Justice Earl Warren told a news conference in Detroit Saturday that he advocates compulsory retirement in the legislative, executive and judicial branches but did not suggest an age limit. He said that 60 is too young for persons to be required to leave government service.

Warren was in Detroit to help dedicate Wayne State University's $2.5-million law school building. He received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the university.

Plans Affecting Grand Canyon Under Review

HOUGHTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Stewart Udall says federal officials are taking another look at proposals to build dams that would flood the Grand Canyon.

Udall said his department "may come up with a new proposal which would not disturb the canyon." Udall, at Houghton this weekend, was replying to a question of why the natural beauty of the Grand Canyon must be disturbed by damming the waters of the Colorado River.

Conservationists have opposed building two proposed dams. They would generate electric power and furnish water for irrigation.

Dutch Princess to Bear 1st Child

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Crown Princess Beatrix of the Netherlands is expecting her first child in April, the Dutch government announced today.

Beatrix was married March 10 to Claus Van Amelsberg, a West German. A spokesman for the government information service said the 28-year-old heiress to the throne was in excellent health.

Debate Victors

DETROIT (AP)—A Wayne State University debate team Sunday won the Motor City Invitational Debate Tourney at the University of Detroit. Runnersup in the competition among 60 teams from 33 colleges were, in order, Albion, Michigan State and Northwestern University. The teams debated whether the United States should substantially reduce its foreign policy commitments.

Samuel Colt invented the revolver in 1835.

Week Is Launched With Mailbag Tidbits

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Patients at the University of Alabama Hospital are now served five meals a day. Physicians say the extra meals boost morale even though they are planned so that the patient's total intake remains the same.

Politicians are finding it more expensive to serve the public. A race for a Senate seat from a large state now can cost a candidate and his supporters more than a million dollars — with no guarantee of victory.

The skin is the largest human organ. On a big fellow, its area equals that of a 9 by-12 foot rug.

MORE EDUCATED
We're getting more educated. One proof is that more than 20 per cent of U.S. families now have had some college training.

Beatnik-looking teen-agers get a lot of attention, but they are a minority. Polled on what they expected in a date, teeners stressed physical cleanliness, proper dress and a neat appearance. That surprise you?

Quotable notables: "Fating people is like burning down your own house to get rid of the rats" — Harry Emerson Fosdick.
You're living in a fool's paradise if you think your fat child will normally shed his fat as he grows up. Unless dieting measures are taken, the odds are four to one that an obese child will become an obese adult. And the odds rise to 28 to 1 if he doesn't trim down during adolescence.

The military services are in no danger of running out of potential draftees. Every day, 5,200 U.S. boys turn 18.
Prosperity note: America's middle class is getting larger. The number of U.S. families rose only 6 per cent since 1961, but the number of families earning $10,000 or more a year increased by 51 per cent.

Police Recover Seaman's Body

CHICAGO (AP) — The body of Cinar Randa, 32, merchant seaman from McGregor, Mich., who fell into the Calumet River Monday night while attempting to board his ship, was recovered Sunday. A police marine unit recovered the body after it was spotted by a passerby floating at 11th Street.

Randa was carrying two packages under his arms when he lost his balance, toppled backward, struck his head on a dock 35 feet below and plunged into the river.

Shot Proves Fatal

SAGINAW (AP) — Patrick Zuel- lieg, 18, of Millington died Sunday in a Saginaw hospital of injuries suffered in a hunting mishap. State Police said Patrick was struck in the left side Saturday by a blast from a 20-gauge shotgun held by an 11-year-old companion. The boy, turned over to juvenile authorities, told police he did not know the safety catch was off when he pointed the gun at Patrick, police said.

in ice water, or press an ice cube against it.

Know your language: Ever wonder about the term "fly by night"? In the early 19th century, a horse-drawn cab was called "fly." Anyone who wished to escape his creditors would wait until dark and then flee in a fast fly.

MONEY TO BURN

Worth remembering: "Seems strange that the man who has money to burn can't take it with him."

One reason for taking it easy: A study of 133 men who suffered heart attacks disclosed that 94 of them were "excessively aggressive, ambitious, and competitive."

History lesson: Can you name the only signer of the Declaration of Independence who became a U.S. president and also had a son who was President? He was John Adams of Massachusetts.

Why landlords sometimes act like landlords: They claim that up to half their tenants never pay their rent until it is two weeks overdue.

It was Voltaire who observed, "Animals have these advantages over man: They have no theologians to instruct them, their funerals cost them nothing, and no one starts lawsuits over their wills."

Fall Proves Fatal

DOWAGIAC (AP) — Kenny Crawford, 24, of Dowagiac died Sunday a few hours after he was thrown from a horse near here. Cass County sheriff's men said the horse apparently tried to jump over the hood of a car and missed. A medical examiner's report said Crawford died of a cerebral hemorrhage caused by a blow on the chin.

N. Korea Warns LBJ

TOKYO (AP) — Communist North Korea warned today that the "No. 1 U.S. war criminal," Joseph Stalin, called Johnson the "No. 1 U.S. war criminal." It charged that Johnson's Far Eastern tour is "to expand the Viet Nam war, pour in more mercenaries and finally internationalize the war."

Cannon Blast Kills Performer

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Shankar Prasad, the "human cannonball" of the Gemini Circus, was blown to bits during a recent performance in the northern India city of Lucknow.

Reports of the incident said the 25-year-old performer was killed when a charge inside the circus cannon exploded prematurely before Prasad had left the barrel. Two circus hands were also hurt by the blast.

The FBI reported a 6 per cent increase in crime January through March of this year over a corresponding period for 1965.

House Break-In

DETROIT (AP) — Assistant Wayne County prosecuting attorney Luvania Dockett told police Sunday that thieves broke into her house and stole two portable television sets, liquor, two mink wraps and a radio.

Mock Election Delayed Due to Past 'Forecasts'

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (AP) — A mock election by North Vernon High School pupils has been postponed because local politicians feared the results would influence adults.

Both Democrats and Republicans have objected to the mock balloting which has been held prior to the general election since 1956, school officials said. In past years, the youngsters predicted upset victories by "electing" Sens. Vance Hartke and Birch Bayh and former Gov. James Whitcomb Harrison. All were considered upsets. The youngsters this year won't vote until Nov. 8, the same day as the general election.

Bum Crashing 'Apple Tree' Quickly Given Bum's Rush

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — An unkempt panhandler with a cigaret hanging from his lips weaved past doorman and ushers during the second intermission of the very dressy opening of "The Apple Tree" at the Shubert the other night . . . and sprawled out in a seat belonging to one of the world's Best Dressed Women, Mrs. William S. Paley, wife of the CBS radio chairman, or one of her guests.

When he dropped his lighted cigaret on the carpet, people in the exclusive down-front section began wiggling.

A couple of husky dinner-jacketed theater operatives carried him bodily to the sidewalk, almost bumping into the Paleys, returning to their seats, and to Jolly Joe Levine, who is Mrs. Rosalie Levine's favorite film producer.

I chased out and asked a ticket taker, "Who was that?" "Some bum," shrugged the ticket taker, "Probably a relative of mine."

One of the astronauts is reported planning to marry an Eastern Airlines stewardess. (But who isn't marrying an airline stewardess these days?) . . . Irving Berlin's birthday greeting to Groucho Marx is going around the world: "The world would not be in such a snarl if Groucho's name had been Groucho instead of Karl."

I figured out watching lovely Barbara Harris and Alan Alda in the delightful musical, "The Apple Tree," that in one quick-change scene they must have had to use doilies. They denied it — but asked me not to print it! Figure it out yourself when you see it — as you must.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Garry Moore flew to L.A. to TV-tape his Oct. 30 show with Dick Van Dyke, returned to N.Y. the same day for a script conference . . . French film star Anouk Aimee was barred from Monsignore — she wore slacks . . . Walter Matthau told Paramount he won't do the "Odd Couple" film unless Jack Lemmon; his "Fortune Cookie" co-star is in it, too. . . James Roosevelt left a UN meeting to phone the Joey Gold agency for "Man of La Mancha" tickets for his boss, Ambassador Goldberg . . . Maurice Chevalier, introducing the much younger Charles Aznavour at the Empire Room, said, "I'd be proud to be his father. I'd be even happier to be his son!" . . . The Doug McClure finally reached a property settlement.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: This season's crop of dull TV shows just proves that people would rather look at anything than each other. — Ray Fine.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: — The trouble with today's housewife (claims Winnie Haggerty) is she's so busy pushing buttons she has no time to sew any on.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "When you're average, you're as close to the bottom as you are to the top."

EARL'S PEARLS: — "Inexcusable errors" are made by employees. What the boss commits are "justifiable mistakes." A Russian woman recently reached her 129th birthday — and if she's like other women, it'll be years before she admits she's 130 . . . That's earl, brother.

No Clues to Killer of Educator, Daughter

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The killer of a Florida Department of Education official and his 12-year-old daughter in their fashionable home left no clues, and Sheriff William Joyce said today no motive had been found.

Killed Saturday night were Robert W. Sims, 42, director of data processing, and his daughter, Joy Lynn. Each had been bound, gagged and shot once in the head. The daughter had seven stab wounds in the chest and abdomen.

Sims' wife, Helen, was bound, gagged and shot twice in the head and once in the leg. She was in "very critical" condition at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital.

All three were blindfolded and their hands tied behind their backs before being shot with what was believed to be a 38-caliber pistol.

"At this point we can find no motive," Sheriff Joyce said. "There was no sign of disorder in the house and the money and valuables were intact."

DISCOVERED BY DAUGHTER

Another daughter, Norma Jeannette, 17, discovered the two bodies and her wounded mother when she returned home from a football game about 11:15 p.m. Saturday. The ranch-style house, in the $25,000 class, is at 641 Muriel Court, a short, circular street in the Parkside subdivision, six blocks from a high school.

Sims was lying on the bed in the master bedroom and his wife and child on the floor. They had been gagged and bound with ties and socks.

Sims was dressed in slacks, a sport shirt, socks and shoes. His wife wore pink slacks and a blouse.

A neighbor reported that she heard high-pitched screams about 10:45 p.m., but thought they came from children. Other residents of the area said they heard nothing.

Another daughter, Judith, 16, returned home from a baby-sitting job after the bodies had been found. Norma called an ambulance and it was driven by Russell Bevis, an undertaker.

Pickets Charge Rental Bias

ANN ARBOR (AP) — More than 30 pickets, mostly University of Michigan students, marched at the home of an Ann Arbor couple Sunday.

The demonstrators charged that Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wagner attempted to evict two coeds from a house in which they are part owners because Negroes visited the coeds.

Police stood by after white youths in a passing car hurled eggs at the pickets.

The Wagners are co-owners of a house occupied by Carol Sue Oakes, 25, of Mount Vernon, Ohio, and Sharon Johnstone, 24, of Binghamton, N.Y. Both women are graduate students in social work at U. of M.

CHARGES FILED

Miss Oakes and Miss Johnstone earlier this month filed charges of racial discrimination against Mr. and Mrs. Wagner with the Ann Arbor Human Relations Commission.

The coeds accused Mr. and Mrs. Wagner of ordering them to leave the rental property because of pressure from neighbors who objected to the visits by Negroes, said David Cowley, commission director.

and his son, Rocky. They called police, who were on the scene within minutes.

HOME OF COLLEGE

Tallahassee is a city of 48,000 in North Florida, about 18 miles from the Georgia line. In addition to being the seat of the state government, it is the home of Florida State University and Florida A. & M. University.

The Parkside area of university professors and higher-income state officials was shocked. The street where the Sims family lived was closed to traffic after hundreds of sightseers converged upon it.

The city assigned a policeman to patrol the street on foot and residents kept their house lights on throughout the night.

Sims, a native of Meridian, Miss., was a graduate of Mississippi Southern and received his doctor's degree from FSU in 1961.

He had taught in high schools at Seminary, Miss., and Cairo, Ga., and was principal of the high school at Meigs, Ga., for two years before moving to Florida.

Sims went to work for the education department in 1956 on a part-time basis and joined the department full-time in 1958.

Mrs. Sims is a native of Mid-dleton, Tenn.

Fire at Airport Hits Building

JACKSON (UPI) — Fire of undetermined origin Saturday night damaged the Jackson Flight Service's building at Reynolds Municipal Airport.

The Flight Service, operated by the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), transmits weather and other flight conditions to aircraft in the area.

A FAA spokesman said no aircraft were in danger when the communications were knocked out by the fire in the basement of the two-story building. There was no immediate dollar estimate of the damage.

Vitamin A Curbs Lung Cancer in Animal Tests

TOKYO (AP)—Big doses of vitamin A can halt or prevent development of lung cancer in animals, a scientist reported today.

He has found a way of inducing lung cancer — the same kind that humans get — in hamsters. But when he also feeds them vitamin A, very few come down with lung tumors.

His findings, he stressed, are by no means an invitation for cigarette smokers or people living in air-polluted areas to start gulping down vitamin A, or lots of carrots which are rich in the vitamin. Too much vitamin A can be harmful to humans.

Dr. Umberto Saffiotti, Italian born pathologist now at the Chicago Medical School, described his research at opening scientific sessions of the Ninth International Cancer Congress. He amplified them in an interview.

He turned up evidence that dust particles in the air, or in cigarette smoke, can be the "carriers" to take cancer-causing chemicals into the lungs.

Using hamsters, he prepared inert dust particles to which were attached crystals of a potent cancer-caused benzpyrene. Benzpyrene is found in smoke or exhausts from industrial plants, automobiles, coal furnaces, and also in cigarette smoke.

He injected this material down the windpipes of hamsters, rather than let them breathe it in over a period of months or years. He could follow what happened because the benzpyrene fluoresces.

The dust particles mostly became lodged in the walls of bronchioles and alveoli, or air sacs. Soon the benzpyrene dissolved and spread through the lungs.

The chemical attacked the bronchial tissues from the inside, in a sneak backdoor approach, avoiding the surface mucosa or cilia that could have a sweeping-away action. Normal cells began changing to cancerous cells.

Hamsters given dust only, without benzpyrene, did not get tumors. Looking for a way to prevent the cancers, Dr. Saffiotti gave some hamsters — already treated with combined dust — two 5-000-unit feedings of vitamin A. Only one developed a tumor, compared with 20 per cent of a group of dusted mice not getting the vitamin.

TYPICAL FAMILY

To explore the effect of the programs enacted or extended this year, let's take a "typical" family living in Beauville, a mythical Midwest city (pop. 15,000).

Some of the things the 1966 session did for, or to, this family:

Dad — His take-home pay dropped by $2.40 a week on May 1, because the income tax withholding went up from $20.80 to $23.20.

However, if he has $15,000 in the bank or savings and loan, it will now be fully insured, as compared with the previous $10,000 limit. If he's (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

MANILA (AP) — The U.S. commander in Viet Nam told the Manila summit conference today the war is "far from over" and he will need more troops in the days ahead, but President Johnson said a display of unity by the allies here should provide new fuel for the cause of peace.

"Let the bullies of the world know that when they do attack their neighbors, the friends of their neighbors will be there to resist," the President said in this first day of meetings among the leaders of nations fighting Communists in Viet Nam.

Johnson was the last speaker of the day. His remarks came after Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander, reported to the leaders that allied forces are increasingly effective in battling the Communists.

Westmoreland said troop morale was high.

"The troops are the finest ever fielded; they understand the conflict and appreciate their complex role as both fighters and builders."

The session in which Westmoreland and the President spoke was closed to the public, but their remarks were given to newsmen later by U.S. spokesmen. While House press secretary Bill D. Moyers gave the account of Johnson's remarks.

Johnson summed up what he portrayed as the four main principles which had stood out in the talks of those leaders who spoke before him. He listed them as:

• The determination of all that aggression must fail,

• Commitment to the job of pacification,

• Our commitment to and our awareness of regional cooperation among Asian countries, and

• The hope for reconciliation and a peaceful settlement.

It was then that he said unity and determination of the seven allies in Viet Nam should provide to be "new fuel for the cause of peace" either through negotiations or a halt by the Communist aggression.

Before Johnson spoke, Westmoreland was asked by one of the conferees if he would need more troops in Viet Nam. He replied that he would. But a top military informant explained later this need is due, at least in part, to plans to put increasing emphasis on clearing and holding areas of South Viet Nam for pacification and reconstruction.

A stepup in what President Johnson calls this "other war" to improve the living conditions of the South Vietnamese people and develop loyalty to the Saigon government is said to be a major concern of the seven allied governments meeting in Manila.

Allied forces in South Viet Nam now total slightly more than one million men under arms, according to officials in Saigon, while the Communist armed strength is estimated at 284,000 men.

The allied force includes 705,000 South Vietnamese, 331,000 Americans, 45,000 South Koreans, 4,500 Australians, 2,000 Filipinos, 150 New Zealanders and 150 from Thailand.

Westmoreland said the ratio of men killed in battle is becoming more favorable to the allies, the number of enemy soldiers surrendering in battle has increased, the number of enemy casualties left on the battle field rather than carried off is rising, and the stream of refugees choosing government security over Viet Cong domination continues to grow.

U.S. Asking Confab: Aid POW Swap

MANILA (AP) — The United States is asking the Manila summit conference to make a bid for some agreement to swap prisoners with Communist North Viet Nam, it was learned today.

The United States wants to include such a bid in the meeting's final statement, to be signed at the windup tomorrow. Officials in Washington believe North Viet Nam is holding more than 100 Americans.

North Viet Nam has spurned all attempts to talk about the American pilots it holds, even through a third party.

The International Red Cross has tried without success to get Hanoi to allow Red Cross representatives to see the Americans held prisoner in the North.

Although a hard liner toward North Viet Nam, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky of South Viet Nam has shown a sympathetic attitude toward possible exchanges to free American fliers from Red captivity. The Saigon government has custody of most North Vietnamese captured in the ground fighting.

CAPTIVE SAILORS

The only North Vietnamese the United States is known to hold are 19 sailors picked up in international waters after their PT boats were sunk in action.

Hanoi has paraded captured U.S. pilots through the streets of the capital to whip up public anger at American air raids. North Viet Nam has threatened a number of times to try them as war criminals but has not gone through with its threat.

Agreement by the North Vietnamese to negotiate on the question of war prisoners could be a wedge for wider talks on the Viet Nam war itself.

It might also open the way to freedom for other Americans captured by the Viet Cong in South Viet Nam.

Fair and Warmer Is 2-Day Forecast

The Pontiac area will be treated to a welcome serving of Indian summer as the weatherman predicts fair and warmer for tomorrow and Wednesday.

Tonight's low will range from 32 to 37 with tomorrow's high in the 60s.

Prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac, the low thermometer reading registered 38. By 1 p.m., sunshine warmed the mercury to 59.

FIRST WORKING SESSION — This is a general view of the first working session of the seven-nation summit meeting in Manila's Malacanang Palace. 'End Measles' Drive Called Big Success

There was much wailing yesterday as 35,000 Oakland County youngsters got the needle in a tricity "End Measles" campaign.

Thirty-eight clinics operated in Oakland County from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. to inoculate children over one year of age who had never had natural measles (seven day measles) or a previous measles vaccination. Some of the centers were still open at 5 p.m. handling the overflow.

"The doctors and nurses in Pontiac did a terrific job. The drive exceeded all of our expectations" said Dr. Bernard Berman, director of the Oakland County Health Department and chairman of the program.

The campaign was organized by End Measles Detroit Inc., a non profit corporation chartered by the State of Michigan to promote and augment a mass inoculation funded by the state.

Yesterday's campaign immunized more than 175,000 youngsters in the tricity area including Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

The total response was so overwhelming that more vaccine was rushed in from Lansing.

With the aid of REACT and RACES, amateur mobile radio operator groups, who handled the communications between Oakland County inoculation sites, vaccine was rushed from one center to another to meet specific demands.

Measles, once thought a humorous disease which only gave one red spots, is now known to cause serious complications including pneumonia, bronchitis, and varying degrees of brain damage.

The single-shot vaccine will give the recipient a light case of measles and provide full protection to those later exposed to virus Rubella, more commonly called red or hard measles.

Conservative legislators served notice they will seek to ensure the government for failing to keep Blake under closer wraps.

Sentenced in 1961 to 42 years as the most dangerous spy of the postwar years, he was kept without special security in a jail from which eight escapes already had been made this year.

Blake broke the bars of a window on a second-story landing, apparently with some tool which has not been traced, dropped into an exercise yard and climbed a rope ladder over the 20-foot prison wall.

ONLY 2 REAL CLUES

Police believe a car was waiting by the wall for him.

The plotters left only two real clues.

One was a pot of geraniums in the road outside the prison. Detectives believe it was either a marker for the getaway car or was carried by Blake's accomplices to suggest they were visiting Hammersmith Hospital across the road.

The other clue was 20 steel knitting needles, size 13, which were used to reinforce the rungs of the rope ladder.

Blake's unprecedented sentence was for nine years of spying for the Soviet Union while he was employed by the British Foreign Office.

Soviet Union, Red Chinese Exchange Blasts

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union accused Red China today of practicing "an absurd baroque-style communism," and Peking described the Soviet leadership as "a gang of renegades."

An article in the Soviet Communist party paper Pravda attacked Chinese Communist Chairman Mao Tse-tung's "cultural revolution."

It asserted red communism has nothing to do with the type of activities undertaken in China's purge, which it described as: "The destruction of monuments of ancient civilization, the destruction of masterpieces of world culture, the maddening of workers and progressive intellectuals, the domination of Communist party organizations, the implementation of the Mao Tse-tung personality cult."

The trouble, Pravda said, was that "petty bourgeois revolutionaries" had distorted the situation in China because of pressure created by a massive peasant population.

The Chinese attack against the Soviet Union was contained in an article in the Peking People's Daily which criticized the U.S.S.R. for expelling Chinese students.

Moscow ordered the ouster of the Chinese students Oct. 7, claiming it was in retaliation for the expulsion of Soviet students from China in September.

"The expulsion of the Chinese students is a new high in the Soviet anti-China tide and a present to please U.S. imperialism," the People's Daily article said. The article was broadcast by Peking's New China News Agency.

"The score will have to be settled one day," said the article. "They will be made to pay for their unprincipled evil-doing."

Chinese Red Guards demonstrated Sunday night outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

The Red Guards — the muscle behind the cultural revolution — pasted a huge slogan across the street from the embassy saying: "We strongly protest against the expulsion by Soviet revisionist authorities of Chinese students who were studying in the Soviet Union," Tass said.

Traffic Diverter Island Will Face Commission

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission tonight will be asked to consider a traffic diverter island on the west side of Adams at Mohegan.

The administration has recommended against such a diverter, according to Assistant City Manager John Saeftig.

If the commission decides a diverter is needed, he said, the administration suggests a temporary island.

A date for a public hearing will have to be set if the commission decides on a permanent island.

Lull in War Continues in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Small-scale fighting flared Monday in scattered areas of South Viet Nam, but the war for the most part continued in a lull. Thunderstorms in the northeast monsoon again cut heavily into U.S. air blows against North Viet Nam.

Although a general upsurge in Communist military activity and terrorism failed to develop to coincide with the opening of the Manila summit conference, a civilian bus hit a Viet Cong mine 22 miles north of Hue, killing 15 Vietnamese and injuring 20.

The Viet Cong made mortar attacks on four South Vietnamese outposts in the central highlands Sunday and two on American positions in the northern provinces today.

In one shelling, the Reds fired 30 to 40 mortar rounds against the command post of the U.S. 7th Marine Regiment about two miles south of the demilitarized zone.

RETURN FIRE

The Leathernecks replied with counter-mortar fire, and a 7th Fleet destroyer fired 100 rounds of five-inch shells. Marine casualties were reported light; results of the counterfire were not announced.

A unit of the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade received 15 rounds of Communist mortar fire eight miles northwest of Da Nang airfield. A U.S. spokesman said the paratroopers had light casualties.

U.S. troops reported killing 100 Communist soldiers in small unit clashes in scattered areas Sunday and today. One company of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division killed 17 Viet Cong in sam-pans in four separate firefights Sunday night. The fighting took place seven miles north of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said American casualties were light in all the actions.

51 MISSIONS

U.S. airmen flew only 51 bombing missions over North Viet Nam Sunday, one of the smallest days this year. A spokesman said the missions were limited by the monsoon rains, which also reduced the allied tactical air strikes in South Viet Nam.

Pilots reported 28 cargo barges and junk boats destroyed on the rivers in the North and two bridges knocked out in the Dien Bien Phu area near the Laotian frontier.

U.S. B-52 bombers struck just before midnight at suspected Communist headquarters and supply areas 18 miles southwest of Hue.

The traffic diverter island would consist of reconstruction of the Adams pavement at Mohegan to form a lane for southbound Adams traffic to turn west at Adams; a lane for eastbound Mohegan traffic to turn south at Adams; and a triangular-shaped traffic diverter island located between the two turn lanes and the Adams pavement.

The engineering department plans to take a survey of residents in the Oakland area, from Woodward to Hunter, to determine if a relief sewer is needed before paving Oakland.

A slight increase in load will be placed on the sewer system when Oakland is widened and the department wants residents to report any flooding of their basement caused by an overloaded city sewer.

I'll Fight to the End ---O'Brien

LANSING (AP) — State Sen. Bernard P. O'Brien Jr. promises to fight his conviction on a charge of engaging in obscene conduct "just as far as I have to go."

The 31-year-old Detroit Democrat was convicted Saturday of "being a disorderly person by engaging in obscene conduct in a public place."

Lansing Township Justice George J. Hutter gave O'Brien the maximum sentence, 90 days in jail and a $100 fine, but suspended 80 of the 90 days. O'Brien was released on $500 bond pending his appeal to Ingham County Circuit Court.

The jury reached its verdict after more than seven hours of deliberations, which began Friday.

'NOT A FAIR TRIAL'

O'Brien said he was surprised at the verdict and claimed the trial had not been fair. He was certain his conviction would be overturned on appeal, he said.

The prosecution contended O'Brien accosted Marion Lukens, 22, a Michigan State University coed from Santa Ana, Calif., on the MSU campus May 27 and asked her to agree to be photographed during sexual intercourse with movie stars.

O'Brien produced six alibi witnesses who said they saw or telephoned him at the State Capitol Building about four miles from the campus, at the time Miss Lukens alleged he was with her.

Four girls besides Miss Lukens testified O'Brien had also accosted them and three said he made similar proposals.

'INSURANCE LOBBY'

O'Brien, chairman of the Senate Insurance Committee, maintained during and after the trial that false charges against him had been engineered by "the insurance lobby."

O'Brien's wife, Mary Louise, burst into tears momentarily as jury foreman Betty Jane Riley announced the verdict. O'Brien showed little emotion.

3 Nations' Chiefs Urge Bomb Halt, Troop Pullout

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The government chiefs of India, Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic called today for an immediate halt to the American bombing of North Viet Nam and the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Viet Nam.

In their closing communique, the leaders of the three non-aligned countries also said participation of the Communist Viet Cong in any peace talks was essential for the talks to be successful.

The communique was issued by Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Presidents Tito and Gamal Abdel Nasser after four days of talks.

They said they are convinced the implementation of the 1954 Geneva agreements and the withdrawal of all foreign forces would lead to peace.

Newmen asked Nasser if the communique's request for the withdrawal of all foreign forces meant the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces from the south and non-Vietnamese Communist forces from North Viet Nam.

DENY FORCES IN SOUTH

"The North Vietnamese say they do not have any forces in the south. It is not clear to us if they do," Nasser replied.

This, said about reports that President Johnson had sent a note to New Delhi in connection with the opening of the Manila conference, said: "This meeting has nothing in common with the Manila conference."

Store Boycott Spread Is Seen

Area Woman Tells of Food Price Campaign

A Keego Harbor woman who is spearheading a local drive to lower food prices said today that she expects the campaign to spread throughout Oakland County.

"I've already received a number of letters from women wanting to know more about what we're doing," said Mrs. Joseph Szerebet, 78, Otter.

On Saturday, Mrs. Szerebet led a score of pickets protesting high food prices at a new A & P supermarket in Keego Harbor.

"We'll resume next weekend at the store, and possibly others," she said.

Mrs. Szerebet, whose group is known as "Housewives for Lower Food Prices," said she believed that the picketing of the store was effective.

The boycott was one of several that has sprung up across the county since the movement to lower prices started in Detroit, Ohio, more than a week ago.

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — Flames raged out of control through an oil and gasoline-laden tanker 60 miles southwest of here today, forcing the crew to abandon ship. The Coast Guard said seven of the 80 crewmen are missing.

The Gulf Stag, a 572-foot vessel, was settling and believed sinking at midmorning.

Another tanker, the Atlantic Prestige, picked up the Gulf Stag's captain and many of the crewmen.

The Gulf Stag's master, whose name was not available, said he believed all his crewmen had abandoned ship. He said seven crewmen are missing.

3 HOSPITALIZED

A Coast Guard helicopter took three badly-burned crewmen to a Morgan City hospital. A doctor at the hospital said the men suffered second-degree burns.

The hospital identified the injured crewmen as Paul Berry, Wilton Guthrie and Jesse Jeffrier. Their home towns were not available.

Coast Guard planes, helicopters and cutters converged on the scene after the Gulf Stag sent out an SOS, reporting a fire blazing fiercely in its engine room and pump room.

Rescue ships were forced to keep their distance by the danger of an explosion. The Gulf Stag reportedly carried 163,000 barrels of gasoline and intermediates.

SMOKE, FLAMES

Smoke and flames poured from the stricken vessel. The fire reportedly was feeding off bunker oil.

Fire-fighting attempts were abandoned by 8:30 a.m.

The Coast Guard declared the area around the burning ship a restricted zone and warned aircraft not to fly lower than 2,000 feet in the vicinity because of the danger of an explosion.

The Gulf Oil Co., owns the ship. The Gulf Stag had left Port Arthur, Tex., Sunday for Tampa, Fla.

New York is the nation's busiest air traffic complex. On an average day 2,600 planes land or take off from its main airports — Kennedy International, La Guardia and nearby Newark. Another 1,500 fly daily out of Teterboro and Floyd Bennett airfields, both close to the city.

The hospital identified the injured crewmen as Paul Berry, Wilton Guthrie and Jesse Jeffrier. Their home towns were not available.

Coast Guard planes, helicopters and cutters converged on the scene after the Gulf Stag sent out an SOS, reporting a fire blazing fiercely in its engine room and pump room.

Rescue ships were forced to keep their distance by the danger of an explosion. The Gulf Stag reportedly carried 163,000 barrels of gasoline and intermediates.

SMOKE, FLAMES

Smoke and flames poured from the stricken vessel. The fire reportedly was feeding off bunker oil.

Fire-fighting attempts were abandoned by 8:30 a.m.

The Coast Guard declared the area around the burning ship a restricted zone and warned aircraft not to fly lower than 2,000 feet in the vicinity because of the danger of an explosion.

The Gulf Oil Co., owns the ship. The Gulf Stag had left Port Arthur, Tex., Sunday for Tampa, Fla.

New York is the nation's busiest air traffic complex. On an average day 2,600 planes land or take off from its main airports — Kennedy International, La Guardia and nearby Newark. Another 1,500 fly daily out of Teterboro and Floyd Bennett airfields, both close to the city.

BACK IN COURT — Samuel H. Sheppard walks toward the Cuyahoga County Criminal Court Building this morning for the first day of his murder trial. Sheppard was convicted 12 years ago in the slaying of his first wife, Marilyn, but was released on bond in 1964 on a U.S. District Court ruling later upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court. He is being tried again, this time for second-degree murder.

Jaunty 'Dr. Sam' Arrives Early for Second Ohio Trial

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Looking jaunty in a gray suit and puffing an extralarge stem pipe, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard arrived 10 minutes early today for his second trial in the courthouse where he was convicted of murdering his pregnant wife 12 years ago.

"Dr. Sam" walked with bouncy strides across the street with a member of his defense counsel team, Russell A. Sherman, 31, of Elyria, Ohio, preceded by newswire and television photographers.

The second act of the most sensational trial of this generation had been scheduled to start at 10 a.m. EST, but Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Tully scheduled a half-hour conference with attorneys to discuss preliminary motions and tactics.

Grieving Welsh Parents Disturb Inquest

ABERFAN, Wales (AP) — Shouting "They killed our children!" bereaved parents brought uproar today to an inquest for young victims of the coal slag slide that buried Aberfan's village school.

A man whose wife and two sons were killed in Friday's "black glacier" told the coroner to record a verdict of "buried alive by the National Coal Board."

The board, which runs Britain's state-owned mines, has been accused of neglect in allowing the giant slag heap to grow to the point where it collapsed.

To date, 143 bodies have been recovered, all but 17 of them children.

60 PARENTS PRESENT

Sixty parents were present at the inquest for the first 34 victims identified. In the uproar, women called out: "They killed our children."

Coroner Benjamin Hamilton tried to calm the distraught mothers and fathers by saying: "I know your grief is such that you may not realize what you are saying."

He reminded the parents "an inquiry will be held at a later date when you will be able to voice your grievances."

One father, his face twisted in sorrow, replied: "We had an inquiry on Friday night when we stood and saw our children murdered."

SOON AS POSSIBLE

British law, inquests on all violent deaths are held as soon as possible after the event. Officials estimated that more than 40 others were still under the waste and sludge that descended on the village school Friday from the man-made mountain of coal mine refuse.

Hundreds of miners and volunteers struggled on through the night, shoveling away the millions of tons of waste from the school and 16 nearby houses. The school was cleared, but rubble

Deputy Aid to Polecat in Distress

An Oakland County sheriff's deputy declined to play "William Tell," yesterday, but succeeded in saving a life of a suffering skunk.

Deputy Gerald Reeves was called to a Pontiac Township residence about 10 a.m. where a skunk had reportedly gotten his head stuck inside a baby-food bottle.

Harry Huey of 3265 Pontiac asked Reeves if Reeves couldn't shoot the bottle off the trapped animal's head without killing the skunk.

Reeves decided against taking a chance. Instead, he used a long pole to gently saw the glass.

The skunk, nearly unconscious, lay still for a few minutes, then got up and ran off, Reeves said.

It Seems to Me:

Johnson Politically Inactive as Election Day Approaches

LYNDON B. JOHNSON has no intention of throwing himself into the current political campaign. Several weeks ago assurances from the White House suggested he would become an assertive figure this fall.

As November 8th approaches, he has shown no inclination to stump for hardly anyone, and his current program sees him visiting Manila, Australia and other distant points in the fleeting weeks ahead.

The grandstand quarterbacks are assigning a variety of reasons for abstaining. Some say he simply intends to place the burden on the candidates themselves. Others, including both Republicans and Democrats, suspect that he is slowly reconciled to a sizeable loss in the House and Senate and feels he would weaken his personal standing if he went all out to help his party — and then suffered a sharp repudiation at the polls.

Off year elections usually result in gains for the party that's "out." Currently, the soothsayers are predicting that a minimum of 25 Democrats will be swept from office and a few exuberant and enthusiastic

GOP leaders predict as high as 65. I don't know anyone less qualified to guess than your struggling scribe; therefore, I freely forecast a turnover in the House and Senate that runs around 35. (Major Hoople, please copy).

In the Congressional primaries across the Nation, eleven office holders were discarded even before they faced the finals — three in the Senate and eight in the House.

Both political parties will watch eagerly to see how those unpredictable, silent and enigmatic voters act at the polls. Look magazine suggests there were 2 million voters who stayed away in 1964 as they looked with high disfavor on both Johnson and Goldwater and refused point blank to vote at all.

Both sides concede the unspoken vote is harder to predict this fall than ever before. Unquestionably, the recent civil rights "backlash" will play a definite part, but the extremists and the irrational radicals are calming down through political necessity and actual alarm. This will be an interesting "off year."

Nightmare . . .

Statistics show that at the peak of World War II, this nation was spending $300 million a day, the bulk of which went into the war effort.

Today, our spending totals $280 million a day. How can top ranking Government executives

Of course, they don't have to disclose the money, personally. You—and you—do that.

It seems they aren't as anxious to "bury us" as they were in the past.

which resulted in new pledges to increase the aid in North Viet Nam. Further, the conference developed the sobering fact that Soviet exports to the same spot leaped upward the minute our bombers shook some of the foundations in North Viet Nam a few months ago.

Friendly? Those international pirates? Even their propaganda smells.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Overheard: "If these modern movies get 'more-so,' they'll have to equip the theaters with seat belts." . . . Well, the Russians are certainly "progressing." David Lawrence Says:

Campaign Finances Bill a Mess

WASHINGTON — Congress, in its hurry to adjourn, passed a law which is a hodgepodge that will never accomplish the main purpose of the legislation — to stop bribery of elected officials through campaign contributions.

The President has yet to sign the bill and would be well advised to give it what is called a "pocket veto." This would require Congress next time to make a careful study of the use of campaign funds and write a truly effective law.

If the new law were to cut out all private contributions and prevent any organization or individual from buying seats in Congress for candidates committed to vote for legislation sought by vested interests or special groups, such a statute might well receive wide support. But the bill just passed doesn't do away with private contributions. It merely supplements them.

Nor is there any system set up to finance congressional campaigns. The money derived from the voluntary income-tax contributions would be supplied to the two major political parties on an equal basis to be used for presidential candidates only.

No restriction has been imposed on the use of funds which are collected ostensibly for candidates for state, county or city offices but which play a big part in lining up votes for candidates running for the presidency or for Congress.

MISUSE OF FUNDS
No provisions in the new law deal with misuse of the funds.

Nor is there any way that a Democrat or a Republican can indicate on his income-tax return that he wants his dollar used entirely for the party of his own choice. Actually, he finds himself in the position of contributing half of the money to the party that he will be voting against.

There is, moreover, no reason why the citizen shouldn't be allowed to give more out of his taxes to a political party in whose principles he believes.

If it is a proper use of tax-payors' money to finance campaigns, then out of the $130 billion appropriated during the last session of Congress, the Treasury can be authorized to set aside $60 million for campaign use.

COULD BE INCREASED

If necessary, the sum could be increased so as to eliminate some of the bribery going on now through the use of large contributions collected, directly or indirectly, from the members of associations or groups set up for the purpose of raising large sums for political campaigns.

Certainly there is need for reform on the whole subject of campaign contributions.

Some members of Congress have said they didn't like the law submitted to them last week because it had not been given thorough study in committees, but they also declare that, after all, "it's a foot in the door."

Unhappily, however, it opens wider the door of political corruption in the American system of financing campaign expenses.

Bob Considine Says:

Supreme Court Wronged Sheppard Trial Newsmen

NEW YORK — God save the Supreme Court, every last hardened artery on it! But it was wronger than a three-dollar bill with Warren Harding's picture on it when it accused the press of making a sorry shambles of the first trial of Dr. Sam Sheppard.

The presiding judge of the new murder trial has made it clear he agrees with Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark's astonishingly inaccurate majority opinion to the effect that the first trial was marred by "disruptive influences in the courtroom" and "constant commotion within the bar" and by "bouncing mind" of the participants in the trial, especially Sheppard.

There was sufficient legal ground to warrant giving Dr. Sam another chance to pin the murder on a "bushy-haired intruder." But by legal osmosis or eerie evolution a prime "cause" of the high court's action has been this completely fabricated accusation against reporters who covered the two-month long trial of a dozen years ago.

There was a related and equally unfair castigation of Judge Edward Blythin, the bleak Scot who presided over the first trial. Actually, he ran his court quite sternly.

"What we feel is a moral obligation to speak in defense of a dead judge and in behalf of trial reporters everywhere," reads a communication to the Supreme Court signed by nine out-of-town reporters who covered the Cleveland trial.

case shuttled among the courts, this one phase (the press's conduct) ballooned out of proportion to the facts.

"We were in the courtroom. So was the chief defense counsel, the late William J. Corrigan, whose affidavit in support of motion for a new trial, made in 1964 when the trial was still fresh in his mind, never mentioned noise . . . Judge Blythin's courtroom was run with a decorum comparable with the best we have seen . . ."

"We are speaking purely as members of the out-of-town press at the trial, whose reports were for readers who in no regard could be connected with the case. . . At the time of the trial, we never believed that the American press as a whole would be condemned 12 years later for local stories about revelations made by police, defense and prosecuting attorneys, and the coroner in one city in the Middle West. . ."

'Remove Identity Shield of Juvenile Criminals'

The raid by young hoods on the Bingham Farms home is incredible. The public should refuse to tolerate this kind of behavior.

One way to sharply reduce juvenile crime (let's drop that nappy-pammy word "delinquency") would be to make public the names, addresses and parents' names of all juvenile offenders. Paltry fines have no effect, but publicity and loss of face at the country club just might do so.

Spurns National Council of Churches Stand

The General Board of the National Council of Churches adopted a resolution calling for the admission of Communist China to the United Nations and the granting of United States diplomatic recognition to the Peiping regime.

What does this stand for appeasement to the morale of our young Americans against whom Communist China's weapons are being hurled?

What does the National Council of Churches say to Red China's primary condition for joining the United Nations — the expulsion of the Republic of China? Have they ever denounced the cruel aggressions, assassinations, and slaughters committed by Communist China? Do they speak for the protestant churches of Pontiac? Which local churches support this Council with money? I want to be sure that none of my money goes directly or indirectly to this National Council of Churches.

Oakland County needs a change in our Road Commission and a way of replacing commissioners by election if they perform unsatisfactorily. They are now appointed by the Supervisors and the office has become a featherbed for past supervisors. The people should directly elect one commissioner, preferably an engineer, let him appoint the assistants he needs and hold him responsible.

Bataan Drive is only a short gravelled road. It has been scraped once since spring and the weeds have never been cut. With Square Lake closed all summer Bataan has taken many times as much traffic as ordinarily, so that the gravel we paid to have spread is now pushed to one side where it is a foot higher than the road and the road is full of bumps and holes. We need this gravel on the roadbed. Repeated calls get no satisfaction.

Hairdo How-To: 7 Three Brush Wardrobe

By DOROTHEA ZACK HANLE Editor, HairDo Magazine

The prettiest hairdo you've ever seen has enjoyed superior "brushmanship." That lovely, controlled, super-smooth coil depends for its appeal on luster, sheen and texture — the result of absolute cleanliness and diligent brushing.

WHICH BRUSH?
What kind of brush should you own and use? Or should you have more than one? When you choose yours, consider these factors: Is your hair wavy, wild, coarse? You need a tough-bristled brush that grips the hair and gives your scalp a thorough workout. Baby-fine, wispy hair? A gentler-bristled brush for you — but with long and short natural bristles to stroke as well as stimulate.

Hair that lies flat and limp most of the time? Even it up with a synthetic-bristle brush to improve its health and condition.

Ideally, the minimum wardrobe of brushes should be three — one for before-shampoo brushing (the grime-getter), one for nightly conditioning and a little one for styling and touching up (nice to carry in your handbag).

Very few people really know how to brush hair properly. Begin by brushing hair firmly back from face. Brush next up and away from the neck, never down. Throw head forward as you bend from the waist.

Brush briskly from the nape of the neck to the very ends of the hair. Keep the stroke steady — don't tear at the hair. Give a slight twist to the wrist as you brush. This makes a brush stroke with a rolling motion that grips the hair, gently tugs the scalp to stimulate circulation.

The upward, outward movement raises the hair, enabling bristles to massage and cleanse the scalp. Be sure to complete every stroke to the very ends of the hair.

How many times? Two hundred? That's "brushmanship" if you're doing it right with the right brush for your hair. One hundred? That's grandmother's rule. The more, the better — but we'd say you'd have a pretty healthy scalp with a mere 50 good, professional strokes.

GUIDE TO BRUSHOUT

You'll begin a brushout, of course, with hair that's bone-dry. Your equipment, spanking clean and thoroughly dry, too: a firm-bristled hairbrush; a comb or slim teasing brush; a rattail comb. And you've a can of hair spray handy, too, properly selected for your kind of hair.

Now, follow the pictures and directions for a professional-looking brushout:

Remove clips and rollers, picks and papers — gently, please, without tugging or tearing. If hair's been dryer-dried, replace each curl in roller form, let it cool that way. Start right at the hairline and brush straight back — in long, vigorous strokes, blending all the curl lines together.

If your hair tends to dryness, dab a bit of cream hair dressing on the palm of one hand, rub hands together, then run them through your hair this way: slide fingers back from the hairline, up from the

strokes the full length of each strand.

Now, with your brush, begin to guide your hair into the lines defined by your setting. Details are not important now; work for over-all direction, moving the hair in large sections, concentrating on top and sides. Stop and check your progress now; use a hand mirror, and examine your coil from all sides. What to look for: those areas that seem to be resisting your coaxing into line, those that will need some special attention.

Now for the final molding and smoothing. Let fingers help, too, in drawing out a slim cheek curl, draping a wave, curving a flip. All done, just as you like it? Spray — an even misting all around, holding the can upright and as far away as label directs.

Before the spray is quite dry, use the flexibility it gives you to adjust those last little touches: lift very, very lightly with rattail comb to pouf where fullness is needed — at the turn of the bangs or the rise of the crown; use fingers to fan out a flip or guiche, if needed.

LBJ Likely to Sign Most of Last Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expected to sign into law virtually all the legislation passed in the rush to adjournment by Congress.

Much of it is for his "Great Society" program — and some is greater than he asked.

Some key programs could be signed by Johnson even before he returns to the United States Nov. 2 from his Pacific-Asian tour.

RACE HOME

Most of the lawmakers who had stuck it out to the end in Washington raced back home for two final weeks of campaigning before the Nov. 8 election which will choose an entire new House and 35 senators.

The final outpouring of legislation included a $6.1-billion elementary and secondary school aid bill for the next two years that is a whopping $1.7 billion above what Johnson asked.

The President's demonstration cities program — designed to show what an all-fronts attack on poverty can do — won late approval at $1.26 billion, less than half what he asked.

Lawmakers voted each major political party a potential $30-million kitty for the 1968 presidential election campaign. The program would permit taxpayers to divert $1 from their income tax to the campaign.

STILL CLACKING

The adding machines are still clacking away trying to figure out how much Congress went over or under Johnson's recommendations in specific areas.

The two-year appropriation total of $263 billion stands as a record, with this year's $144 billion a close second to the one-year record of $147 billion set in 1942, the first full year of World War II.

After the Medicare and voting rights blockbusters of 1965, this second session of the 89th Congress seemed a step slower. And there was greater preoccupation with talking about the war in Viet Nam.

But 1966 did bring creation of a 12th Cabinet department, transportation; a two-year plan to raise the minimum wage to $1.60 and broaden its coverage by 8 million workers; new safety standards for automobiles; a $3.7-billion attack on pollution, and requirements for so-called fair labeling of consumer goods.

LABOR SHUT OUT

Labor, perhaps the key bloc in Johnson's and the Democrats' victories in 1964, oddly was shut out on two other major demands: Repeal of state right-to-work laws and broadened and standardized unemployment compensation.

And Negroes, who went overwhelming Democratic in 1964, saw their string of civil rights bill successes snapped when a controversial open housing provision led to shelving of this year's rights bill.

The 89th Congress had better than 2-to-1 Democratic majorities. But some of the President's program squeaked by narrowly, especially in the House. Loss of 20 liberal Democratic seats in the November election could eliminate that narrow working majority if many Republicans join with Southern Democrats to fight certain programs, as they often have done.

One controversial Johnson favorite, the anti-poverty program, won authorization for
