

Rochester OKs City Charter by 4-1 Margin

ONE COLOR

By JEAN SAILE
Approving a proposed city charter by a 4-1 margin, village voters yesterday removed the last obstacle to cityhood for Rochester.

Seven councilmen, all unopposed, were also elected.

Councilmen elected were Roy Rewold (644 votes), John Boeritz (629), Thomas Case (619), Samuel Howlett (611), James C.

Hill (604), Burdette Lewis (601) and Harold Milton (570).

They will meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 13 — official first day of the new city—to elect a mayor.

LITTLE IMPACT
A last-minute effort by Avon Township supporters who hoped to see the village and township remain united failed to have much impact on the vote.

Petitions to incorporate the rest of Avon Township around Rochester were filed five days preceding the charter vote.

What the petition for incorporation will do is to keep the new 1.6-square-mile city from annexing any surrounding township property until a vote is called on township incorporation.

Rochester Village manager William Sinclair said he attributed a diminishment in opposition to the filing of petitions.

LESSER MARGIN
September's vote to investigate incorporation and to select a charter commission had passed by a lesser margin of 676 to 248.

The new charter is expected to change Rochester very little.

A municipal court will be set up — terms and salaries of councilmen will be doubled — the new city will do its own assessing and get its own county equalization factor.

Twisters Kill 6; Hundreds Hurt

By the Associated Press
At least six persons were killed and hundreds injured by tornadoes in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.

The violence erupted yesterday as the Midwest basked in springlike weather that sent the temperatures soaring into the mid-70s. It happened when a cold air mass collided with the unseasonably warm air.

A teen-age boy and two young girls were killed in Missouri and a 3-year-old boy died in Iowa. A policeman in Chicago and a farmer in downstate Illinois also died as a result of the fierce winds.

Damage was heaviest in the Kansas City, St. Louis and Orrick, Mo., areas where trees were uprooted, power lines felled, roofs caved in or were ripped off buildings, and various structures were demolished.

"I just heard the window blinds shaking and sounds like something falling," said B. M. Carpenter, superintendent of schools at Orrick, Mo. School clocks found amid the debris had stopped at 12:52 p.m.

TAKES BRUNT
The Orrick High School took the brunt of the first tornado reported. One student was killed and 14 other students, a teacher and two townspeople were injured.

Danny Gene Barber, 18, a senior, died in the main corridor of the school. He apparently was suffocated under rubble from the school's roof which fell on him as he left his typing class.

Tornadoes ripped into sections of southeastern Iowa and killed 3-year-old Byron Swyer on the western outskirts of Fort Madison when one of the twisters wrecked a converted school house in which he and his family lived.

"Glass was flying everywhere," said 17-year-old Faye Elliott, a classmate of Barber's. "Then it was over and all we could hear was the rain."

The storm front, gathering strength, spread over a wide area.

Fast Action Shown LBJ War Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's request for an extra $12.3 billion to finance the war in Vietnam is getting prompt attention in Congress.

The request reached the Capitol yesterday. Today, the Senate Armed Services and Defense Appropriations Committees hold a joint meeting to receive from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara more details on why the money is needed and how it would be spent.

The House Appropriations Committee, not yet formally organized, must originate the bill. Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., committee chairman, promised speedy action.

"We will report a bill as soon as we reasonably can after the necessary hearings," Mahon told a reporter.

Debris Literally Blankets The Ground In Maryland Heights, Mo.

NEED CLOSE LOOK
"We need to take a close look at how some of the money we have been providing has been spent," Jonas said. "If they can make a good case for it, we'll give them all they request and maybe more."

Jonas said he was concerned over the huge spending on construction programs in Vietnam.

The ranking Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee predicted, meanwhile, that when all the costs of the war in Vietnam are finally met they "will be at least $200 billion."

City to Meet Deficit With Surplus Funds

The City of Pontiac will spend nearly $540,000 more than it will take in during the city's current fiscal year, under terms of a revised preliminary budget presented to the City Commission last night.

A public hearing on the budget was set for Feb. 7.

The deficit, slightly more than 5 per cent of the $9.7-million budget, will be met with previously unappropriated surplus funds, according to City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

Warren, who described use of the surplus monies as a "one-year, one-time action," predicted "a much reduced schedule of operations" in 1968 unless the city initiates new revenue measures this year.

City officials and a citizens' committee are drafting plans at present for either a millage increase or income tax proposal. The former would require voter approval probably at a spring election.

Pending the outcome of such efforts, city tax rates will like (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 8)

Current Budget to Top $1 Billion---Romney

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's current budget will climb past the $1-billion mark for the first time in history, owing to increased expenditures for school aid and Medicaid, Gov. George Romney said today.

Romney said $1,025,000,000 will have been spent from the general fund budget by June 30, the end of this fiscal year. The Legislature estimated the amount at $974 million last spring.

The governor is to present his fiscal 1967-68 budget to the Legislature Feb. 2.

He indicated he does not want it to be described as Michigan's first billion-dollar budget.

He added a teacher payroll miscalculation made by the State Department of Education accounted for some $11.2 million of the difference between anticipated and actual expenditure this year.

GENERAL FUND OUTGO
Altogether, Romney said, general fund outgo for school aid was about $33 million higher than anticipated and an $18 million supplement for the state's Medicaid program has been found necessary since the federal government established standards for the program.

State Budget Director Glenn Allen said the Department of Education's payroll estimate, including pensions and Social Security, was $763 million for the year, about $54 million too low.

Because of this underestimation, Romney said, the general fund had to provide $11.2 million more than expected in pension and Social Security payments.

Another $5 million extra was spent because some 21,000 more students were enrolled in Michigan's public schools last fall than had been estimated.

A supplemental school aid appropriation of about $8 million to benefit Detroit and some other high-tax cities also increased the planned $974 million, Romney said.

Romney termed the Department of Education miscalculation "one of the largest errors we've had . . . a very costly error in terms of the budget."

But he declined to criticize the department. "You're dealing with projections 18 months ahead," said Romney, noting that when he was in the automobile business, auto firms used to be off in their production estimates as much as 20 per cent.

Fire Contained at Pontiac Div.

A two-alarm fire last night at the heat treatment plant of the Pontiac Motor Division, complicated by the internal power failure that apparently caused it, took city firemen four hours to extinguish.

Facing the threat of spreading and a possible explosion, firemen contained the blaze in oil tempering furnaces in the plant building near Saginaw and Montcalm.

Four firemen, overcome by heat exhaustion, were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. All four were treated and released. No one else was reported injured.

The first alarm was called in at 8:52, minutes after a transformer in a plant substation blew out, causing a heat buildup in the ovens and giving off noxious fumes, plant spokesmen said.

Bolt Hits Substation, Service Back in Hour

An electrical power failure early today in Pontiac cut service to 4,415 Consumers Power Co. customers for an hour and resulted in a rash of minor breaking and enterings and an arrest.

Charles F. Brown, Pontiac Division manager of Consumers Power Co., said the company's Rapid Street substation apparently was struck by lightning, causing the power lapse at 12:28 a.m.

"Service was fully restored about an hour later," Brown said.

He added that one of the transformers at Detroit Edison Co.'s Bloomfield substation, a power source to the Consumers Power substation, also failed due to the lightning.

Barry Repeats Nixon Support

MIDLAND (AP) — Former presidential candidate Barry Goldwater repeated yesterday his pledge to support Richard M. Nixon for the presidency if Nixon decides to become a candidate.

Goldwater, on his first Michigan visit since his 1964 race as the Republican candidate for president, called Nixon the "best trained to be president."

"And he has a thorough grasp of politics," Goldwater said.

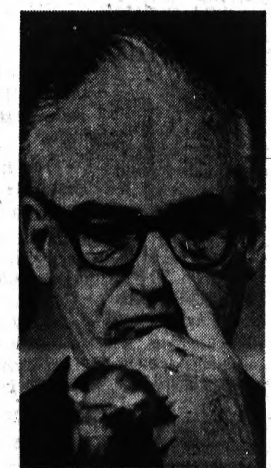

Gov. George Romney of Michigan has been mentioned as a top prospect for the GOP nomination for president in the 1968 convention, along with Nixon.

Goldwater said he would have no trouble supporting any GOP nominee, including Romney—who refused to endorse Goldwater in 1964.

He offered Romney some advice, saying that the time to decide whether to run is now. He added that the Michigan governor should be looking at such issues as right-to-work laws and the nation's Vietnam policy.

SEES OPEN CONVENTION
Goldwater predicted that there will be four or five top candidates in 1968, each without an early majority.

"The next convention will be the most open of the century," he said. "This will be a fun election."

Goldwater said that if ex-Gov. George Wallace of Alabama carries out tentative plans to run on a third party platform, it will be "disastrous" for the GOP.

"That's not because of racism but basically because of conservative Republican views on economics and other considerations," he added.

BOMBING STEP-UP
Goldwater, just home from Vietnam, said the United States is winning the war. He praised America's fighting men, but called for stepped-up bombing of North Vietnam.

"We are winning this thing militarily and we are winning more rapidly than a year ago I would have thought possible," said the former U. S. senator from Arizona.

U.S. Displays Big Cong Mine

NHA BE, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Navy today displayed a New Year's Eve present from the Vietcong — the first contact mine found in the main shipping channel to Saigon. The Navy said the Russians made it.

The 1,000-pound, covered with barnacles, was one of a number of enemy mines the Navy has fished out of the Long Tau River and put on exhibit on a barge at this installation 10 miles south of Saigon.

Contact mines are exploded when a ship hits one of several horns projecting from the mine's casing. All others found in the Long Tau have been types detonated by remote control or crude devices attached to vessels and set off with a timing device, the Navy said.

"We don't know where the contact mine was assembled," said Capt. Paul Gray of St. John, Kan., assistant chief of naval operations in Vietnam. "It could have been assembled any place. Judging from the barnacles and other signs, we think it may have been kept hidden in a river in the Rung Sat special zone, then towed into the Long Tau."

SPECIAL ZONE

The Rung Sat special zone is an area of rivers, canals, salt marshes and swamps south of Saigon from which the Vietcong have launched many attacks on shipping heading up river toward the capital.

Several intensive military operations have been staged in the region recently, but progress has been slow.

Gray said a minesweeping boat cut the big mine's anchor line Dec. 31 and the mine bobbed to the surface. It was towed to the shore, and Lt. Frank Talarico, Red Bank, N.J., set about disarming it.

NAVY VETERAN

"I spent about two hours in the river working on it," said Talarico, a 21-year Navy veteran and a demolitions expert. "It took it mighty easy, you know. It was quite a New Year's Eve."

Gray said the mine would be sent to the United States for study.

"It's a constant fight to keep the channel open," said Gray, a Navy aviator who was shot down five times in the Korean War.

A few hours earlier and a few miles off, a Vietnamese navy minesweeper had been blown up by a mine on the Long Tau. The blast wounded five Vietnamese and their U.S. adviser is missing.

With 35 to 40 commercial ships flying the Long Tau daily, "we sweep and patrol the river constantly day and night," Gray said. "It's a tough, grim, monotonous job. The men are constantly exposed to small-arms fire because they have to go in close to the river bank."

CONTACT MINE — A barnacled 1,000-pound contact mine is displayed aboard a U.S. Navy barge today at Nha Be, about 10 miles south of Saigon. It was fished out of the shipping channel of the Long Tau River, running from Saigon to the South China Sea.

Soviets Publish Excerpts From Uncut JFK Book

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet magazine today published excerpts from the uncut version of William Manchester's book "The Death of a President."

The Literary Gazette, a weekly put out by the Soviet Writers' Union, carried part of the text from the latest issue of the West German magazine Stern.

Stern refused to eliminate material that Mrs. John F. Kennedy objected to and was sued by Look magazine, which sold the publication rights to the German magazine. A Hamburg, Germany, court ruled Monday that Stern may continue to publish the unabridged serialization.

"The text which appeared in Look magazine has been changed on the demand of the Kennedy family," said a preface to the excerpts in the Literary Gazette.

DAY BEFORE DEATH

"Stern magazine refused to make any changes. In spite of a suit by Look magazine the editors of the West German weekly published the original version."

"Here we offer to the readers' attention some excerpts published in the latest issue of Stern magazine."

The excerpts described events on the day before President Kennedy's assassination.

Evan Thomas, editor of the book, confirmed Tuesday in New York that he had requested Manchester to make some revisions in it.

"VIOLATED RELATIONSHIP" — "The Manchester book was revised in response to many of the editorial comments made by the Kennedy readers and myself," said Thomas, who is chairman of the editorial board of publishers Harper & Row.

However, Thomas said one of Mrs. Kennedy's advisers violated a "personal and private" relationship when he made public passages from a letter written by Thomas to Mrs. Kennedy's representatives.

Thomas' letter, dated May 16, was addressed to John Seigenthaler, editor of the Nashville Tennessean, and Edward Guthman, of the Los Angeles Times. Both had served in the Justice Department when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was attorney general.

Nader Says U.S. Bowing on Auto Safety Standards

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is bowing to pressure from the auto industry to relax its proposed safety standards, Ralph Nader said yesterday.

Nader, a leading critic of the auto industry, said Dr. William Haddon Jr., chief of the National Traffic Safety Agency, apparently "will concede to the industry" on a number of standards, including mandatory head restraints.

"Indications from Detroit are that Dr. Haddon will come to an accommodation with the industry," Nader said in a statement.

Baby Heart Ills, Virus Linked

Study Offers Hope for Preventive Vaccine

DETROIT (AP) — A not-uncommon virus appears to be a significant cause of heart defects in babies, two researchers find.

The study offers hope, in time, for a preventive vaccine, which women would take before or at the beginning of pregnancy, they add.

Research pointing to the Coxsackie B type of virus as a culprit was described in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Tommy N. Evans, chairman of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Wayne State University here, and Dr. Gordon C. Brown, professor of epidemiology at the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

Coxsackie B viruses can cause mild symptoms, or the infections may go unnoticed.

The virus causing German measles is known to produce congenital defects of various kinds if women become infected during the first three months of pregnancy.

Women undergoing Coxsackie B virus infections during these early months of pregnancy are found, statistically, to run a higher risk of having babies whose hearts are damaged, the researchers find.

The defects include damaged valves, holes in the heart's chambers, and constricted blood vessels.

Fire Confined to Furnaces at Pontiac Div.

The second alarm was sounded when oil from the furnaces ignited while fire fighters already on the scene were cooling smoke stacks and walls with water lines.

CHEMICAL POWDERS

This brought the remainder of the four city fire vehicles that responded into action with chemical powders used for oil fires.

Three engines and a ladder truck were used, in addition to Pontiac Motor Division apparatus. Firemen left the scene at approximately 12:50 a. m. today.

Asst. Fire Chief Lee Nye said the main concern was preventing spreading to the plant's roof. This was accomplished when power was restored at approximately 10:30, the point, according to Nye, at which the fire came under control.

Damage was described as slight by fire department officials, who attributed this to the containing of the blaze to the furnaces.

MUCH WORSE

"It would have been much worse if the roof had caught," said Nye.

He described the smokestacks as "red hot about two-thirds of the way up."

Plant officials said the fire started after the power failure knocked out furnace electrical controls, thus allowing a tremendous buildup of heat.

The ovens are used to condition metals for high-heat usage, such as in crankshafts. Normal plant operations were reported resumed today.

Parking Fee Changes Viewed

BIRMINGHAM — A reevaluation of parking fees is under consideration by the City Commission.

Recommendations have been made by James Purkiss, finance director. The suggestions were aimed at increasing the use of the new five-story structure, Lot 5, on Woodward.

Purkiss explained many employees of the downtown area are using metered spaces meant essentially for shoppers.

One of his plans is to increase the meter charge and at the same time to decrease the charge in Lot 5. He favors monthly permit parking at $10 and a maximum daily charge of 75 cents.

His report also recommends the encouragement of validation of employee parking by employers.

The commission referred the matter to the merchants' committee. A report by them is expected Feb. 6.

Brief Session in Lansing Will Trigger Flood of Bills

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators interrupted a 16-day recess today, returning to the Capitol to introduce the first of what promises to be a flood of bills covering issues from income tax to time.

There was no clear indication of how many bills would be introduced during the afternoon session. Lawmakers estimated as few as 150 or as many as 400 measures could be thrown into the hopper before they adjourn until Jan. 30.

However, Donald Hoenshell, head of the Legislative Service Bureau—responsible for drafting bills—said Tuesday that 486 bills were ready for introduction in both Houses today.

As an indication of what is to come, Hoenshell said the bureau has received 1,040 bill requests from legislators, with more expected.

18 BILLS

At least 18 bills were on file in the House clerk's office last Tuesday, but none had been filed with the secretary of the Senate. Rules call for filing bills three hours before the start of the day's session in which they are to be introduced. In the House, Democrats were expected to attend to routine housekeeping chores.

Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, said the business of party organization along with any proposals to discipline Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, probably would wait until next week.

POLICE REPORT

A total of seven breaking and enterings and three more attempted burglaries were reported to city police during the temporary blackout and in the following predawn hours.

Police officials said this was "a little more such activity than normal" for a week night, pointing out the fog as another possible factor.

One arrest was made. Scheduled for arraignment today on a breaking and entering charge is Ronald C. Lamotte, 24, of 107 Elm.

Lamotte was observed inside the City Beverage Co. at 17 Turk and arrested at 4 a. m., according to police.

Blackout Not a Show Stopper

The show went on last night at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre during a power failure which members of the John Fernald Company estimated at less than a minute.

The brief blackout occurred between 9:30 and 10 p. m., toward the end of the first act of "The Caucasian Chalk Circle."

Barely pausing, the actors carried on through the moments of darkness.

ly remain constant at $17.78 per $1,000 of assessed valuation, based on the proposed budget.

Most of the $538,500 budget hike is tagged for wage boosts for city employees, who were granted a 9 percent increase retroactive to Oct. 30, 1966.

The commission also unanimously approved salary boosts for top administrative personnel totaling over $7,000, including a $1,500 raise for Warren, bringing his annual pay to $23,000. These boosts were okayed last night.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley was raised $1,186 to $10,000; Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck $993 to $12,500; Finance Director Marvin M. Alward $597 to $14,000; and City Attorney Philip A. Rowston $500 to $18,000.

JUDGES ADVANCES

Municipal judges Cecil B. McCallum and Maurice E. Finnegan were each advanced $1,350 to $16,350.

The budget was the second preliminary estimate drawn together for fiscal 1967.

The first budget was rendered "obsolete," Warren said, by three major decisions made by the city in addition to the general pay raise:

- Transfer of the airport to the county, with accompanying changes in both revenues and expenditures;

- A policy decision on rental of office space for the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO);

- Agreement on an increased bus service subsidy to the Pontiac Transit Corp.

Loss of the airport property is expected to cost the city some $100,000 in rentals and fees.

This should be more than offset, however, by shedding of about $106,000 in operational costs, according to the proposed budget.

The commission, in related action last night, overrode two dissenting votes in approving a six-month extension of rent payments for the OEO office at 7 West Lawrence.

The $800 monthly payment had been challenged at a previous meeting by commissioners Leslie H. Hudson and Robert C. Irwin.

VOTED AGAINST

Although voting against continued rental payments for the county, neither commissioner offered comment on the issue last night.

The preliminary budget includes a $15,000 boost in subsidy payments for bus service in the city.

The move, tentatively agreed to informally at a meeting with regional American Transit Corp. Manager Kenneth Totten, brings to $35,000 the city's annual commitment to support of the bus company.

NATIONAL WEATHER — A widespread band of precipitation is expected tonight for much of the nation. Bonanza for World War Vets

(Special to The Press)
NEW YORK — World War veterans in Oakland County will have their financial status improved this year to the tune of $1,543,200.

That is the approximate sum they will receive out of a total of $211 million that will be paid to veterans of World War I and World War II who have maintained their GI insurance policies.

The money has become available for distribution because the death rate among policyholders continues to be lower than the rate on which the premiums were gauged.

Interest earned on the accumulated dividends has also been a factor. It has helped to build up reserve funds, enabling the Veterans Administration to make the return to the policyholders.

Sharing in the distribution will be 4,222,000 veterans of World War II who hold National Service Life Insurance policies and 196,000 World War I veterans who are covered by U.S. Government Life Insurance.

Of the 160,759 veterans in Oakland County, according to the latest government survey, only about 32,150 of them will be on the receiving end.

As for the local area residents who saw service in the Korean War, they will not participate in the dividend, the Veterans Administration says. The policies they hold do not provide for it.

Nationally, only a fraction of the GIs, about one out of every five of them, has the insurance to qualify.

Those who do will receive an average of $76 each, if they are World War I vets, and about $46 if they are veterans of World War II.

IMPACT ON BUSINESS

For the 32,150 in Oakland County, the total is estimated at $1,543,200.

Much of it, it is expected, will reach the cash registers of local retail stores in short order. Its impact on business activity will be several times as great, however, because of the multiple effect that new money has when put into circulation.

For those ex-servicemen who are eligible to receive dividends, the Veterans Administration points out that their checks will arrive on the anniversary dates of their policies.

It adds that the preparation and distribution of the checks will take place automatically and that no application for them is necessary.

Junta Tries to Head Off Crisis After Ousting General

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnam's ruling military junta tried to head off another political crisis today following the ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co. He had been deputy premier, defense minister and the leading southerner in the junta dominated by refugees from North Vietnam.

Informed Vietnamese sources said 20 to 30 supporters of Co, most of them military personnel, had been put under house arrest, and assistants of his on the defense staff were being transferred or watched by security police.

SAIGON, although filled with rumors, was quiet and there was no indication that the director of ruling generals was breaking up. But some disgruntlement at the ouster of the southern general was reported among southern leaders in Saigon who resent the northerners' domination.

No troop movements were reported. Some officers of the 7th Vietnamese Division headquartered at My Tho, 30 miles south of the capital, were among those arrested, sources said.

ENDING TOUR

Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu was reported traveling in the Mekong Delta. Premier Nguyen Cao Ky was winding up a tour of New Zealand and was expected back late Thursday or early Friday.

Despite Ky's statement to newsmen Tuesday that no governmental reshuffle was taking place, Vietnamese sources said Ky was present when the junta met before he left and decided to fire Co.

Co was on an official visit to Formosa when the junta cabled him Sunday not to return to Vietnam. The message suggested he visit Tokyo and Seoul.

Co got as far as Hong Kong today but was intercepted there and taken to a hotel to see Security Minister Linh Quang Vien, who had hurriedly flown to Hong Kong after word was received that Co planned to re-

56 Arrested in Dope Raids Near WSU

DETROIT (AP) — Fifty-six persons, most of them described as Wayne State University students, were arrested in a series of simultaneous narcotics raids carried out by federal, state and city agencies Tuesday night.

The raids, aimed at uncovering LSD and marijuana users, were concentrated in the Wayne State area.

Inspector Joseph Brown of the Detroit Police vice squad said 17 of those arrested were women, 18 to 33 years of age, and that four of those taken into custody were under 17. The latter, he said, included three girls and a boy.

Brown said the raids followed weeks of undercover work in the use of LSD and marijuana in the mid-city Wayne State campus area.

Study Likely on Mail Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's proposed postal rate increases appeared headed today for a searching study by congressional critics demanding improved mail service and higher rates for magazines and so-called "junk mail."

Senior members of congressional committees that will handle the proposal appeared split on the President's recommendation that first class letter rates be raised to 6 cents, air mail to 9 cents and other classes except parcel post by 20 to 30 per cent to bring in $700 million annually.

JUSTIFICATION SOUGHT

"I want them to give some good justifications for their expenses and explain why the mail service has broken down so badly before I make any commitment to support an increase," said Rep. H.R. Gross of Iowa, second ranking GOP member of the House Post Office Committee.

Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., another high-ranking committee member, said he opposes "an increase in the first class category without comparable or higher adjustments in all other classes of mail."

State GI Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Tuesday that Pfc. Marvin M. Dicks, son of Richard L. Dicks of Livonia, Mich., has been killed in action in Vietnam.

Board to Get Sanford Reply by This Friday

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Duane K. Sanford, who resigned his position as township supervisor last week, today refused to elaborate on his reasons.

"It is my intention to give my full reasons to the board by Friday as they have asked," he said, "but until then I am not giving any information to news media."

Sanford, who was appointed to the job last summer when former supervisor John C. Rehard resigned, was elected to the position in November. His next term would have begun in April.

He said the problems which brought about his resignation existed at the time he chose to run for election but he felt they could be corrected. Also, he said, the Republicans did not have a candidate.

The position of supervisor is a responsible one, he said in his letter of resignation, but the board retains the authority which in many cases should be in line with these responsibilities.

There are other factors involved in his decision, he told the board, but they are still unresolved.

BEST INTERESTS

He said that for the "best interests of everyone involved," he must resign and return to the status of private citizen.

He said he has returned to his former job with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Renewal Head Resigns in Utica

UTICA — Urban Renewal Director Stanley Swierczynski has submitted his resignation effective Feb. 17 following the city's rejection of urban renewal in a vote last week.

Swierczynski said he would become director of city planning at Beloit, Wis.

AREA NEWS

8 in Troy Vie for Seats on Commission

TROY — Eight candidates have filed for the Feb. 20 primary seeking two seats on the City Commission.

The field will be narrowed down to four contestants for the April 3 election. The commission seats will be the only issue. Winners will serve for three years on the six-member commission and receive $10 per meeting.

Two incumbents in the non-partisan race are seeking reelection. They are Clancy Fonesh, 38, of 314 Lyons and David E. Grattop, 54, of 272 Fabius.

The other six hopefuls who filed before the Monday deadline are: Alphonse Bajjier, 47, of 110 Paragon; Hilbert Hirschfield, 60, of 2680 Brethby; John M. Huber, 41, of 3551 Newgate; Gerald R. Hershberger, 49, of 285 E. Long Lake; Andrew R. Horvath, 41, of 229 Wilton; and John Kokalis, 31, of 445 Colebrook.

10 Over-All in County

Troy '67 Road Toll at 5

Road deaths in Oakland County have not shown an abrupt change over last year except in one community — Troy.

Five road fatalities have occurred within that city's boundaries as of yesterday. The rest of the county has had five for a total of 10.

Last year's toll at this period was nine for the county, and none had occurred yet in Troy.

The rest of the county is about 19 times the size of Troy. All last year, 12 deaths were counted in Troy and 152 total in the county.

Police Chief Forrest Fisher Jr. said he can't think of any added factor that would cause an increase in traffic deaths in his community.

"I seriously doubt the rate will continue and would be happy if there were no more," he said.

The first death in Troy was Arthur D. Gladych, 37, of Madison Heights, on Jan. 5. Chief Fisher said evidence indicates the man suffered a heart attack before his crash on Dequindre.

Other deaths include George C. Simpson, 35, of 90 Tacoma, Troy after a crash Jan. 14 on Big Beaver; Mrs. Jennie S. Yourchock, 41, of 750 Bloomer, Avon Township, and William T. Cooper, 22, of Detroit, after a crash Jan. 20 on John R.; and John M. Davis, 17, of 1025 Larchwood, Troy, after a crash Jan. 22 on Big Beaver.

Police Link Seven Teens to Shelby Burglary Wave

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Apprehension of seven teen-agers by township police with the cooperation of departments from Sterling Heights and Utica is believed to have solved at least four recent burglaries here.

Shelby officers were on patrol early yesterday morning and while checking Berry's Marathon station at Ryan and Auburn, discovered two men inside the building. The two were arrested and chase was given to two more who were discovered running through the field behind the building.

In flushing out those two, officers discovered three others taking radiators from H & S Auto Parts, 3575 Auburn. They also ran but were apprehended by police of the three departments.

All seven suspects were placed in Macomb County Jail. A plea of not guilty to breaking and entering charges was entered in justice court at their arraignment yesterday.

The four arrested in connection with the gas station robbery are being questioned about earlier burglaries at the Pixie Drive-In and Novak's Restaurant on Auburn Road.

LOOT

Police said loot had been taken from Berry's station and from Novak's Restaurant and that $80 to $100 was reported missing from the Pixie Drive-In.

Held are Edward J. Eleau, 18, of 2814 Weaverton, Avon Township; David A. Taylor, 17, of 16½ E. Huron, Pontiac; Terrance Dehoff, 19, of Holt and Richard W. Stanton, 17, of Lansing.

The three found at the auto parts store had no connection with the first group, police said. They are William C. McKinney, 18, David E. Newling, 19, and Kenneth A. Skinner, 18, all of Detroit.

PROPOSED PARK — Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey inspects a model of the proposed city park for the north end of the city. It will include two natural lakes for fishing and skating, baseball diamonds, picnic areas, swings and slides and other facilities which residents suggest.

Walled Lake Turns Attention to Parks

WALLED LAKE — A city hall, sewers and water are all essential ingredients for proper community development but a well-rounded city needs the "beauty of open space."

Now that the first three factors are on their way to becoming a reality, city officials are turning their attention to the fourth, a city park for leisure time activities.

The first of three such parks, to be located in an area roughly bounded by Pontiac Trail, Decker and South Commerce, is now in the planning stage.

It will be situated in a completely built-up neighborhood, according to City Manager Royce Downey, who said that half the population of the city will be within walking distance.

The natural terrain of rolling hills, trees and two bodies of water will be maintained along with such man-made facilities as picnic areas, swings, slides, and areas for fishing and skating.

GIVEN VOICE

Residents of the community are being given a voice in planning the 11-acre park. A meeting has been set up for 8 p.m. Feb. 15 at Walled Lake Junior High School.

Suggestions will be solicited on what to include in the park.

City officials also want residents to write to the Parks and Recreation Commission suggesting names for the park along with their reasons for the suggested name.

Downey said the Junior Cham-

Holly Council Sets Hearings on Construction

HOLLY — Two public hearings were set for Feb. 7 on construction projects in the village at last night's council meeting.

A $77,000 preliminary cost estimate was placed on the Baptist Hills sewer project in the southwest area. Cost of sewer, water and street paving project for Klempp Drive was estimated at $30,000.

It was announced that a new well will be added to the water supply system, pending approval by state officials.

Two street paving projects were approved, $24,517 for Cog-sall from Maple to Fenwick and $4,200 for Thomas with costs to be placed on assessment rolls.

ber of Commerce has a committee studying the possibility of a community building in the park to be used by various groups.

READY THIS SUMMER

The park, which will be equipped with $2,300 set aside in the budget, is to be ready for use this summer. Downey said that each year for the next five years, funds will be set aside in the budget for the proposed parks.

"Our philosophy is that with more leisure time, man must have a place for relaxation and recreation," said Downey.

The park is part of an extensive plan to update the city.

Included in the plan are town houses, garden type apartments, a 10-story highrise apartment building on land facing the lake, a mall-type shopping area and an industrial park which is already partially in existence.

GRANT APPROVED

A $1,001,000 federal grant was recently approved for construction of a joint sanitary sewer project with the village of Novi.

Wells are already being installed to expand the city's water system.

New Program in Farmington

Adult Sex Education Starts

By JANICE KLOUSER

FARMINGTON — Sex education for adults is the aim of a new program just launched here by school officials.

Although there are no plans to establish a specific sex education class for pupils, the purpose of the new program is to reach children through the adults.

School officials have adopted the philosophy that adults must get the word first in order for sex education to be effective for children.

Working with this philosophy in mind, school officials, with the help of representatives from the Merrill Palmer Institute in Detroit, have set up a pilot sex education class for parents, teachers and other adults in the community.

The course, which started last week is the culmination of a two-year study headed by Dr. Armin Grams of the Merrill Palmer Institute.

PROGRESS REPORT

In a progress report to the board of education Monday night, Dr. Grams called school officials "courageous" and "truly pioneers" for moving ahead of others in an area of controversy.

Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison said the study began "because of the dissatisfaction and frustration on the part of the staff with what was being done in sex education."

The study was originally aimed at school children but the focus changed early to adults.

"To have an effective program you must involve parents of young children," said Dr. Grams. "You have to have the trust of the community and informed parents to do a good job in school."

SPRING CLASSES

Last fall, the first training session for teachers was conducted. From this, two teams of teachers were chosen to teach the six-week pilot class.

Four classes will be formed in the spring. Officials hope to conduct the class once or twice a year in each elementary school "to completely saturate the community."

Dr. Grams said the course does not simply spell out the facts of life. It forces the parents to evaluate where they stand and to reexamine their own attitudes, beliefs and convictions.

Study Asked on Auto Lots

LAPEER — The City Commission has asked for a study in regard to camouflaging lots where damaged cars are towed and stored pending accident investigation.

A petition from the Home Circle Woman's Club requesting fencing or shrubbery around such lots was referred to the Citizens' Advisory Committee and to the Planning Commission.

The commission, in other business, directed that a road be built into the new Trayco factory on South Court.

City Manager Arnold Whitney was asked to learn the selling price of the Cary property adjacent to the city parking lot on Court.

An expansion of the parking lot was implied, Whitney said.

SUPERVISORS

Mary Smith, Dana Perkins, John Hanner and Raleigh Woodward were appointed to the County Board of Supervisors. Leon EnEarl was named alternate supervisor.

David DuHummel, county sanitation officer, was appointed assistant city health officer. Fred Wilder was named to the board of review.

An amendment to the traffic ordinance, setting $10 and $25 fines to regulate driving in parking lots, was passed.

Milford Bridge May Be Fixed

MILFORD — The River Street Bridge — excluded from an unsuccessful bond issue last fall to repair several village bridges — may be renovated after all.

The Village Council, in a 4-3 vote, has decided to have specifications drawn up and receive bids for repair of the bridge which has been closed since it was destroyed in an accident last year.

Cost of repairing the bridge is estimated at $12,000 according to Village Manager Joseph S. Brophy.

He said it was left out of the bond issue because it is only about 150 feet away from the Huron Street Bridge which was to be widened if the bond issue had been approved.

In other recent action, the council set a public hearing for Feb. 13 on a request to rezone 22 acres at the corner of Highland and Commerce roads from single family residential to multiple dwelling.

DEVELOPMENT PLANNED

The Church of Christ Scientist wants to build a senior citizens development which would eventually hold about 230 residents.

The rezoning was recommended by the planning commission last week.

The 15 auxiliary policemen employed by the village received a verbal pat on the back from Brophy who said they have done a tremendous job during the past year.

He said they worked 3,429 man hours last year and relieved the regular police force of a lot of extra work in addition to walking patrols and having regular patrol duty on the weekends.

The auxiliary police receive $10 a month for their work.

Grant on Plant OK'd for Wixom

WIXOM — An $18,300 grant has been approved for the city for the purchase of a sewage treatment plant site.

The grant, from the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration, was announced yesterday by the State Water Resources Commission.

Application for a grant to cover the construction of the sewer was turned down previously.

retary Harold Wilson are shown after ending a two-hour talk on British entry into the European Common Market at Paris' Hotel Matignon yesterday.

France Again Closing Market to Britain

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle is shutting the gates of the European Common Market on Britain again for an indefinite time to come.

This seems the only conclusion to draw from his treatment of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's mission arguing the case for British entry.

Wilson flies home tonight with no more than an undertaking from De Gaulle to consult France's five Common Market partners but not before April, a month after the French parliamentary elections.

The encounter between the French and British leaders has been, behind the formalities, a battle for the high ground of European politics.

TO LOOK INWARD

A French-led Europe would end to look inward, toward the Ural Mountains on the east. It probably would resist the capture of industry after industry by the Americans.

A British-led Europe almost certainly would gaze across the western and southern oceans, seeing the world as one, cherishing its links with the New World.

The British are fairly sure they can count on the other five nations of the Common Market — West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg — to back any formal application they make to join their thriving customs union.

But the French hold a trump in the reality that the Common Market is a going concern in which all members are prospering and anxious to preserve that prosperity, while Britain is decidedly not prospering.

PERFECT HOST

As usual, De Gaulle played the perfect host. He received Wilson and foreign Secretary George Brown graciously at the Elysee Palace Tuesday, invited Wilson to talk first and listened courteously while Wilson made Britain's case for a European destiny.

Then the frost began to descend.

De Gaulle declined to comment on the broad themes made by Wilson. He asked a few pointed questions, then set the issue aside for three months, until leaders of the Common Market states hold a summit meeting in Rome.

Bus Scares Horse to Death; Rider OK

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Deborah Dunaway, 15, was riding a horse near her home in suburban Colerain Township Tuesday when a school bus came up behind her.

Authorities said the horse reared up in fright — and suffered a fatal heart attack.

Deborah was thrown, but landed on the road, unhurt. The horse fell against the bus, causing some minor damage.

The pacing of animals within zoo cages does not necessarily mean they are unhappy; the rhythmic movement gives them pleasure, zoo keepers say.

Key Element of 'Painless' Drink Found

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Researchers at the University of Pittsburgh say they have isolated a key ingredient of kava kava, a South Seas drink that reportedly produces a peaceful, happy feeling — with no hang-over.

The ingredient, called F1, was described Tuesday as "extremely potent" by Pitt's Dr. Joseph P. Buckley.

He explained that F1, unlike other substances derived from kava kava, is water soluble — an important point, because South Sea islanders dissolve the kava kava root in water and drink it. In other words, it might be F1 that gives kava kava its kick.

F1 was tried out on some mean laboratory rats, Dr. Buckley said, and the results were dramatic.

RATS CHANGED

The rats were made vicious by brain lesions, said Dr. Buckley, adding, "The rats were so wild we couldn't hold them without heavy gloves."

But F1 changed them remarkably, he said. No longer were they biting, rage-filled fighters. They became quiet and docile.

What's more, he said, the rats, under the influence of F1, could walk along a rotating rod without losing their balance.

Electrical impulses from the brains of the rats showed the F1 had acted on a much more primitive brain center than does alcohol, Buckley said.

Alcohol affects brain areas concerned with reason, balance and coordination, said Buckley, but F1 acted on areas associated with such things as rage and hate.

"Maybe this explains why the South Sea islanders who take kava kava lose their anger and feel peaceful and happy," remarked Buckley.

Metro to Get New Runways

DETROIT (AP)—Addition of two new runways at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, estimated to cost from $13 million to $15 million, has been approved by the Wayne County Road Commission.

The expansion was proposed by the commission's consultants, Landrum & Brown, as the best way to prepare for 450,000 aircraft movements annually expected at the airport by the 1970s.

The expansion must be approved by the airlines using the airport.

Charles O. Landrum, in detailing the consulting firm's proposal, said the first of the new runways would be completed before 1970. He said one will be a 9,000-foot long strip that will be only 1,000 feet south of the present east-west runway, which will be lengthened from the present 7,500 feet to 10,000 feet.

EXPANSION PROGRAM

The other new runway would be 5,000 feet east of the existing northeast-southwest instrument runway and parallel to it. It would replace an existing northeast - southwest runway which is 3,800 feet east of the instrument runway.

6 Rockets Relay Space Data

to earth from six payloads hurled high above the earth during a flurry of rocket activity.

Six Nike-Tomahawk rockets sped away from a Cape Kennedy launch site during a 16-hour period Tuesday to investigate a region of space where most satellites and manned spacecraft travel. The payloads reached altitudes of 240 miles before plunging back to earth.

The region studied is called the thermosphere, extending from 75 to 230 miles high. The payloads recorded particle density, temperatures, pressures and wind variations — information that could help in predicting how long a satellite can remain in orbit.

Angelo J. Taiani, project director for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, reported good signals were received from all six probes during their nine-minute flights.

Two other research rockets were launched Tuesday by the Air Force to gather weather data.

Registrations Being Accepted for CD Course

Registrations are now being accepted for a 10-week course in radiological monitoring, John Reineck, director of the Pontiac Office of Civil defense, announced today.

The course will be held from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays, beginning Feb. 8, at the Main Post Office, 735 W. Huron.

The public can enroll in the course by contacting Ralph Florio in the city health department. There is no charge.

The course will include instruction in basic concepts of nuclear radiation, use of radiological survey instruments, dose rate calculations and decontamination practices.

LBJ Budget Biggest in History

There were no surprises in the proposed 1968 Federal budget submitted yesterday by President JOHNSON.

The amount of spending called for, $135 billion, had been pretty well discounted by tentative estimates emanating from Washington during past weeks, as had the proposal of a 6 per cent surtax on income taxes, a hike in Social Security tax to finance Administration proposals to increase pension benefits, and an increase in postal rates.

JOHNSON

of $9.7 billion — second biggest since World War II.

Spending for defense accounts for most of the anticipated deficit, a total of $72.3 billion being earmarked for that area. The figure, which includes $22.4 billion for prosecution of the war in Vietnam, is up $5.3 billion from the 1967 budget.

The President echoed his State of the Union message in stressing determination to carry on uncurtailed the social programs embraced by The Great Society, asserting that to minimize them could well impair the seventh year of prosperity the Nation is entering.

There is little to cheer about in the new budget picture, and skeptics might question how firm it will prove. If Federal revenues continue to slide and expenditures mount — both strong possibilities — the actual deficit for the year ahead could assume shocking magnitude.

Reflecting a projected deficit of $8.1 billion for the fiscal year beginning July 1, budget figures indicate income of $126.9 billion as against outgo of $135.503 billion. The resulting deficit compares with the revised 1967 red figure

To Mark a Ballot, Don't Mark Time Registering

Paraphrasing an old baseball adage, "You can't get a hit if you don't go to bat," the City and Township clerks of Pontiac and Waterford warn eligible voters that they can't mark a ballot if they don't qualify.

Many voters apparently are unaware of a recent change in a voting law making it mandatory for voters to re-register every two years if they haven't voted during that period.

More than 9,000 local voters — one of every five — and 5,713 Township electors were recently

"purged" from eligible voter rolls for that reason, and notices sent of their delinquency. Those notified have a 30-day period to get back in good standing by registering.

Never has there been a time when so many issues on all levels of government demand the earnest consideration of the electorate. Those who nullify their privilege to be heard at the ballot box by failing to register mark themselves as second class citizens.

Death of Iron Horse Greatly Exaggerated

When a basic industry that carries nationwide impact reports a record-breaking year, it holds significance for the Country at large.

The American railroads have turned in such a report for 1966, setting a string of records that should silence the few remaining skeptics who view the iron horse as a transport relic.

Freight volume for the year was 7 per cent above 1965 and 32 per cent above 1961. The 1966 freight traffic of 743 billion ton-miles exceeded even the all-time high set in 1944. Rail spending on plant and equipment soared to a new record of $1.9 billion, bringing the industry's postwar capital outlay for modern facilities to over $23 billion.

In terms of additional equipment, 1966 expenditures meant the addition of over 100,000 new and rebuilt freight cars — a 40-year record. It also meant 1,400 new locomotives.

The resurgence of the rails is due in great part to what amounts to a revolution in techniques and technology of railroading.

Such things as piggybacking, rail hauling of new motor vehicles, unit train movements and other innovations, have changed the face of railroading.

It's good to see the iron horse kicking up its heels with such spirit.

Fulbright Trips in Criticism

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON — Like Socrates of old, Sen. J. W. Fulbright tries to be a gadfly on the conscience of the community.

But sometimes there seems to be more buzz than bite.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, has been President Johnson's steadiest critic on foreign affairs.

He flailed Johnson for his handling of the crisis in the Dominican Republic.

He has never let up on Johnson's handling of the war in Vietnam.

Now he has put his ideas together in a just-published book, "The Arrogance of Power."

It's an enlarged version of his lectures at Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies last year.

But Fulbright, as a critic, has been sometimes vague and, to this writer, unrealistic. This shows up in his book, too.

As an example of some of his past unrealism: More than a year ago, the Red Chinese outlined a plan for the conquest of the world by communism revolutionaries in underdeveloped countries that could be used to encircle and defeat capitalist nations.

Nevertheless, Fulbright suggested trying to make a deal with Red China under which this country would withdraw its forces from Southeast Asia if the Chinese would let their neighbors alone.

CONCEALED WAY

The trouble with this is that the Chinese, while proclaiming innocence, could help in a concealed way the Communists in a backward country, particularly one bordering Red China, to take it over. And so on, step by step.

Now, in his book, Fulbright outlines a plan for restoring peace in Vietnam although, if you follow him to the end, it's a plan which could wind up solving nothing and leave the United States completely baffled.

Boiled down, this is his idea: The United States, South Vietnam, the Vietcong and Communist North Vietnam should try to work out peace.

The American side would first seek a cease-fire and stop the bombing of North Vietnam.

In this arrangement, Fulbright seems to put the Vietcong on the same plane of power with North Vietnam, although the Johnson administration considers North Vietnam the main adversary.

And, Fulbright suggests, the United States should pledge to remove its forces from South Vietnam.

That is what Johnson did at the Manila Conference last fall, provided peace was restored.

If no peace agreement is reached, according to Fulbright, the United States should consolidate its forces in certain fortified areas, or enclaves.

But that would leave the Vietcong free to roam the rest of the country.

David Lawrence Says:

Government Feels Inflation, Too

WASHINGTON — Inflation is certainly expensive for the average man. But it is getting to be costly for the government, too. The biggest anti-inflation subsidy ever supplied by the government — 4.5 billion dollars — has just been recommended by President Johnson. It is intended to help retired people to offset the rise in the cost of living and the decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar.

LAWRENCE

The average worker who retires under Social Security today draws $84 a month, which is nearly four times as much as the average of 22 dollars which the individual received in 1940 when retirement benefits were initiated.

Today's beneficiary under Social Security, however, is not four times as well off as the worker who retired in 1940. For the cost of living since then is up about 135 per cent, and the dollar has lost 57 cents of its buying power.

Today's dollar is worth only 43 cents in terms of its purchasing power in 1940. This means that a retirement benefit today of $84 will buy only about as much as $36 would have bought nearly three decades ago.

This is why the President has proposed an average rise of 15 per cent in Social Security payments so as to protect beneficiaries for some time ahead. It's a form of insurance against further inflationary costs.

Indeed, there are members of Congress who are suggesting that benefits should be tied to the cost-of-living index and should rise automatically as living costs go up.

In an inflationary economy, the government finds itself obligated to protect those groups whose incomes do not keep pace with the rise in living costs. This is happening not only in Social Security but in welfare and relief of all kinds.

Thus, aid to the poor has risen from $9.9 billion in 1960 to an estimated $25.6 billion for fiscal year 1968.

Many people, however, who do not get any federal handouts have been hurt by the rising cost of living. Lots of persons, for example, who are retired from state or local government payrolls or are living on private pensions do not get any increase in income after retirement starts.

There are many other workers whose incomes do not keep pace with living costs. Examples are to be found among unskilled employees in agriculture, hotels, retail trade, laundries and other types of business. Many of these workers get pay raises only when the minimum-wage base is pushed higher.

Plainly, inflation is not just a trite word in the economic vocabulary of the day. It is affecting vitally the future of many a citizen who little realizes what lies ahead as the dollar declines.

Bob Considine Says:

It's White, Red and Blue, Not Red, White and Blue

NEW YORK — News of a big storm over the changing of Cities Service to Citgo has just come to light and we must pass it on for collectors of minutiae.

CONSIDINE

The trouble arose over a film that was to be made to commemorate the corporate name-changing of the big gas and oil company. The vice president representing the client objected to the script.

The scriptwriter, noting that the company's new symbol was to be a red pyramid on a white background with Citgo in blue, had written that the newly renamed company's colors were red, white and blue.

"They're not red, white and blue," the vice president said crisply. "That's got to be thrown out of the script or we don't do the film."

"But what are they?" the bewildered writer whimpered.

PRAYS FOR STRENGTH

"Our colors are white, red and blue," the man snapped. "Get that straight."

The scriptwriter closed his eyes and prayed for strength. It came from an unexpected source, a Madison Avenue type who was present during the clash.

"The client is right," Madison Avenue said. "The colors are white, red and blue. You know, like Doodle Yankee Dandy."

The big three of the automotive industry, as well as all the little ones left in that sternly competitive field, are engaged in a costly race to be the first to market a practical electric car.

The stakes are colossal. The Gallup Poll has indicated swarms of motorists would buy such a vehicle.

"We're gung ho on the electric," Arjay Miller, president of Ford Motor Co., told us at Dearborn the other day. "We have gone all out."

RIGHT BATTERY

"Mike Perence, head of our research division, has been told to come up with the right battery. A battery that makes sense."

"We ought to have an electric in production within 10 years. Sooner, we hope."

"Mike has been told that he has no budget; that he can spend anything, hire anybody, experiment anywhere, until he comes up with the answer."

"Invention has undergone a remarkable change in recent years," Miller said.

"In the past, most inventions were stumbled upon. They were often accidentally arrived at."

"Nowadays, with all of our technical know-how, you simply tell your people what you want and they find it in time."

"You say something like, 'I want to go to the moon,' and they find a way to do it — machines and methods that had never existed before."

"Cancer, for example, is sure to be licked soon. The laboratories will study it to death. We'll get our battery too."

Good Reading

The Denver Post

The first installment of William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President," in Look magazine has been doomed for months to appear as an anticlimax.

After being fought over so dramatically by some of the most famous people in the nation, it could not possibly have attained the explosive impact that the battle seemed to forecast.

The test of a book, however, does not lie in its power to surprise or to shock; and Manchester's work deserves to be judged on more worthy grounds.

The first installment is a powerful and absorbing account of one of the most dramatic and moving episodes in American history. The promise is already firm of a valuable and fascinating book.

Even if a reader were familiar with every detail connected with the Kennedy assassination, he could not fail to be deeply affected by reliving the experience through Manchester's prose.

Aristotle suggested more than 2,300 years ago that the essence of tragedy is in the fall, not of an ordinary man, but of a man greater than ordinary men.

Readers Are Disturbed by Telephone Salesmen

Having an unlisted number just isn't the answer to eliminating unwanted calls from salesmen. A few years ago we had our number changed and unlisted. I still get those calls, although maybe not as many.

A telephone is a necessity when used properly and it is a shame we have to put up with unwanted calls. If there was anything to stop them I wish the company would do it. If I didn't need my phone so badly for important calls, I'd have it removed.

MRS. S. P. CHRISTIAN
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

There is a nice way of stopping the unwanted telephone salesmen. If you let on to them that you need the article they sell, they will send a salesman to your house. Don't be home. If they call again, have them come to your home again and then tell them you only buy products from ads in newspapers. If enough people can keep the salesmen on wild goose chases, they will give up.

R. DOBSON
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

Having an unlisted phone number doesn't stop sales people from calling. We have an unlisted number and may not get as many calls, but when we ask how they got our number, they hang up fast.

'Our Family Found Enjoyment Without TV'

Have you ever thought what it would be like if your television set went "pffft" and you were faced with no picture or sound? Our family has experienced just that for a few days and we like it. Our vacation is planned for June, we solved many world problems, and even got to the thought that maybe there is some form of life on other planets.

Our children had the entire day to use their own imaginations. We played family games and enjoyed our peaceful day in this fast-moving age. We cannot decide whether to call the repairman, but I imagine in the end "Batman" will win out.

Press Reader Pays Tribute to Walt Disney

I wish to pay my deepest respects to Walt Disney, one of the great Americans and perhaps the most praiseworthy since the death of General MacArthur. When a man dies in greatness, it is strange that so little should be done, especially by a people so bent on creating national heroes and martyrs. Even naming halls, schools and highways after Walt Disney would never do justice to this man and what he has done as an apostle of good will on earth.

Question and Answer

My girlfriend and I are secretaries and interested in any spelling rules we can come by. She remembers from secretarial school there are only five words that drop the final "e" when "ment" is added to the word. Three of those words are judgment, argument and acknowledgment. Can you help us find the other two?

LOUISE HECK
101 S. JESSIE

REPLY

Abridgment and lodgment are the ones we found. Impede also drops the "e" but adds "i" to become impediment. However, better check the rules from time to time. Language is changing so fast they may be out of date. One authority now says the "e" should be left in judgment except in legal and judicial references. Might be a topic for lunch hour debate.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

ters in the story are famous and powerful figures of our time. It is the story of an illustrious and successful leader, who stood out above the other leaders of his day, and how he was brought low by one of the most despised and ineffective men in our society.

It is a story that would have appealed to William Shakespeare and that will undoubtedly be undertaken by a great many writers besides William Manchester.

Useful Therapy

Los Angeles Times

Now that 1966 has become enshrined in history — some of it good, too much of it bad — recapitulating might be useful therapy.

On the international scene, the United States, with a handful of loyal allies, continued to stand against Communist aggression in far-off Southeast Asia. Our steadfastness, which cost us dearly in lives and treasure, brought us into diplomatic conflict with many who are considered our friends.

Nevertheless, the United States indeed has a definite role, an historic interest, in that area of the troubled globe. Our presence is desired by our Asian partners, as the Manila conference amply proved. Our military strength must remain the shield behind which meaningful economic and political progress can be made — if we are to win the battle for men's minds and hearts.

We, of all people, want the Vietnam war to end. We want to withdraw our massive troop commitment. We want peace for that ravaged land.

But surrender is not peace, and no approach to a permanent solution for the Vietnam dilemma can come until Hanoi and its Vietcong cohorts are willing to talk.

The Times supports the U. S. effort; urges a manful prosecution of the war until North Vietnam expresses a wish to end it, and agrees with the thesis that our unilateral withdrawal from Asia would simply be the prelude to a Communist takeover.

Matters of east-west trade, peaceful uses of outer space, halting nuclear proliferation, finding better ways to communicate with our mightiest potential adversary must be dealt with with enlightened U. S. interests in mind.

Senate Will Raise Curtain on Congress Streamlining

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate opens debate today on a bulky reorganization bill designed to improve the operations of Congress and make more information available about its actions.

Consideration of the measure follows directly a two-week Senate floor tussle over its anti-filibuster rule.

This ended Tuesday with the defeat of a bloc seeking to change Senate rules so a filibuster could be shut off by a three-fifths majority instead of two-thirds as now required.

Supporters of the rule change tried to cut off a talkfest against a motion to bring up the three-fifths plan. The effort obtained only a 53-46 vote, or 13 short of the needed two-thirds.

DEM LEADER

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield then announced he was going to shift to the second major piece of floor business for the 1967 session — the reorganization bill.

This measure, worked out by a special Senate-House committee during the past two years, would make about 100 changes in present congressional procedures. Mansfield estimated it would take the rest of this week and next to act on it.

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okl., chief Senate sponsor of this legislation, agreed. He said he had been optimistic the Senate would approve most of the changes, but added he now is concerned about a flood of threatened amendments.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., long a critic of congressional procedures, already has submitted 26 amendments.

FILIBUSTER

One would raise again the filibuster issue by writing into Senate rules the "previous question" procedure. This plan, used in the House, permits a majority to end debate.

Another controversial Clark proposal would end the present system of selecting committee chairmen by seniority. His amendment would empower the members of the majority party on a committee to elect the chairman by secret ballot. It would bar a senator who has reached age 70 from serving as chairman.

The reorganization bill as approved by the joint committee would:

— Permit a committee majority to require a chairman to call meetings and to permit action on legislation.

— Require more public hearings, make public all committee votes taken in closed session and provide longer advance notice for committee hearings.

ASSISTANTS

— Furnish an additional legislative assistant to each senator.

— Tighten present law on regulation of lobbying.

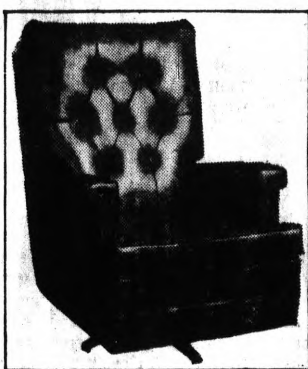

— Provide new tools for congressional control over the President's budget.

— Give Congress a one-month vacation each August except when war had been declared.

Mutual Aid Set

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A mutual aid program in which Chippewa, Luce and Mackinac counties will help each other during storms, fires, and floods has been announced by the Sault Ste. Marie City Commission. Under the agreement, Sault Ste. Marie, St. Ignace, Newberry will rent men and equipment to distressed counties that ask for help.

What's Going On in Red China—3

Civil War Very Close Last Summer

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The lines of conflict in China are becoming discernible. How the "cultural revolution" has skirted the edge of civil war is reported in this analysis by an AP specialist in Communist affairs. It is the third article of a five-part series.)

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

How close did Red China's current convulsion come to civil war?

Closer last June and July than it is now—closer than at any time since communism took over the vast nation, say students of the scene.

Study of Red Chinese documents has led these analysts to conclude that last summer a division from north China was moving on the Peking-Tientsin area and was stopped only at the 11th hour.

The documents also indicate that in some respects what is going on now in China is a Chinese version of what happened in Moscow in 1957, when Nikita S. Khrushchev came within a hair of being thrown out by an opposition group he labeled "antiparty." There is a similar "antiparty" group in China now.

OUTLINES EMERGED

The story of the Red Chinese regime's close brush with civil war, as the students of China piece it together, goes back to November 1965. That is when the current phase of the developing upheaval began, and the outlines of a power struggle became clearly discernible to the outside world.

The evidence is that every time party Chairman Mao Tse-tung faces political trouble, he disappears from Peking, he takes himself to his Shanghai stronghold to weather the storm and plot countermeasures. He did this in 1954, when a grab for power by the onetime boss of Manchuria, Kao Kang, resulted in a political clash and purge. He turned up in Shanghai when the battle lines were being drawn late in 1965, and again only recently, when the confusion of his "great proletarian cultural revolution" was reaching a peak.

Mao would return from Shanghai to Peking when the time of decision was near: When a Central Committee session or some similar meeting was about to take action.

As Mao disappeared from Peking in November 1965, Wu Han, the playwright and deputy mayor of the capital, was being denounced for his 1961 drama, "Hai Jui's dismissal." The play, in essence, had been a symbolic protest—understood by millions of Chinese—against Mao for purging those who disagreed with him.

IMPORTANT VICTIM

Wu became the first important victim of a new purge. Then his chief, Mayor Peng Chen, a power in the Politburo, was brought down in disgrace. The evidence indicates Peng was purged in April last year, since he was not in his accustomed place for the important May Day parade at which he invariably had been a dominating figure.

The first attacks on Wu and

INSPIRED BY MAO—The caption accompanying this picture from Red China says that these young women pledged their loyalty to the thoughts of Mao Tse-tung forever. The mass rally was staged in Peking on China's National Day, in October, and was reportedly attended by 1.5 million people.

Peng appeared in the Shanghai paper, Wen Hui Pao, suggesting Mao's hand. This probably was because Mayor Peng and President Liu Shao-chi still controlled the central press in Peking.

Then Liberation Army Daily, the paper of Lin Piao's Defense Ministry, mounted a vicious attack on intellectuals, concentrating on editorial boards of the main papers, including the most important, People's Daily, the mouthpiece of the party. It accused the staffs of trying to protect Wu Han and his colleagues in crime and plotting against Mao's leadership in the critical 1961-62 period of economic woe which resulted mainly from the dismal failure of Mao's "great leap forward."

This attack brought down several other high-ranking people, including Lu Ting-yi, head of the party's propaganda department, and his deputy, Chou Yang, the head of Peking University and the editorial staffs of practically all Peking papers. All these were accused of trying to influence China's youth to turn away from Mao's "thinking."

NOTHING SURE

Nothing is sure about Communist politics, but it appeared that both Premier Chou En-lai and party Secretary General Teng Hsiao-ping had thrown in their lot with Mao and Defense Minister Lin. Teng was in Shanghai when the purge movement began.

The situation in Peking became tense as summer neared. There was evidence of discontent among army officers and of opposition to Mao's policies from Lo Jui-ching, the chief of staff.

Lo is believed to have issued orders to a division in northwest China to move down toward Peking. Defense Minister Lin, aware of this, is believed to under communism, all indoctrinated from the cradle, all too unsophisticated to know what really was going on, and all spilling for a binge of reckless violence with a license from on high. The intellectuals, the trade union people and the middle-aged "young Communists" would be no match for them.

Lin turned their wrath on the party apparatus at province and local levels. Swarming into the streets by the hundreds of thousands in city after city, they beat and humiliated many a lower-level party leader accused of straying from "Mao Tse-tung's thinking." And they terrorized urban populations.

Lin, meanwhile, broke up the Peking city party committee and repopulated it with his own men, thus depriving the opposition of command over the Peking garrison. He fired the Central Committee of the Young Communist League and abolished the organization. He shook up the staffs of all important provincial papers. He purged universities. He decreed suspension of all higher education in September so that students could devote themselves to the cultural revolution and "Mao's thinking."

MOST DANGEROUS

Peng Chen had been an early purge victim because he probably was most dangerous to Lin and Mao. His position was not unlike that held by the Soviet secret police chief, Lavrenty Beria, in Moscow when Stalin died. Beria had command of an army of his own — the MVD — and could himself have struck for power. Peng might have been able to do likewise with the Peking garrison.

President Liu had been close to Peng. But Liu was much less vulnerable, after so many years as Mao's heir-apparent, and with so much support in the party apparatus and the trade unions.

But all this was only the beginning.

Medicare Owes Hospitals in State Millions—Survey

LANSING (AP)—Uncle Sam owes Michigan hospitals more than $21 million for Medicare bills and some hospitals have had to borrow money to pay their nurses, the Michigan Hospital Association said today.

In addition, the association said, the hospitals have had to boost their annual payrolls by a total of more than $2 million to hire clerks to process Medicare claims and the necessary patients records.

The association recently asked 228 acute general care hospitals across the state about Medicare problems and 80 have responded.

Slow payment led the list of complaints, it said, and estimates based on the 80 replies indicate that after six months of Medicare, Michigan hospitals are waiting for $21.5 million in unpaid bills.

BORROW

"In a number of cases, hospitals have had to borrow money at high current interest rates in order to meet payrolls and other expenses," said Allan Barth, the association's executive director.

"Even though the entire financial problem cannot be attributed to Medicare, Medicare payment bottlenecks have contributed to the hospital's fiscal difficulties," he added.

Inflation and new legislation on wages and hours for hospital workers also have contributed to financial troubles, he indicated.

U.S. Viet Force to Level Off at 470,000, Says McNamara

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is telling Senate defense experts that U.S. forces in Vietnam will level off at about 470,000 troops toward the end of this year, informed sources said today.

McNamara's estimate of U.S. strength was made during his annual presentation before closed sessions of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Military Appropriations subcommittee.

He returned for a third day of testimony before the two groups today.

The strength estimate was an elaboration of a McNamara statement earlier that the level-off point was approaching in Vietnam.

In telling newsmen Monday that no supplemental money request was expected next year, McNamara said it was now possible to "look ahead to the time when the buildup will level off, forces will stabilize and the draft will be reduced."

Some 400,000 U.S. troops are now in Vietnam. The estimate of 460,000 to 470,000 at year's end was understood to apply to troops in Vietnam itself—not to naval forces in the area or to other forces in Southeast Asia.

Congress got a double-barreled defense package yesterday in President Johnson's $73.1-billion defense budget for the year beginning July 1 and his request for an additional $12.3 billion to finance the Vietnam war in the year ending June 30.

There was little doubt that the President will get just about all he requested.

In the defense budget, the President disclosed tentative plans for building an anti-ballistic missile (ABM) defense system.

TO BE HELD UP

McNamara later explained that production and deployment of the fabulously expensive ABM system would be held up pending discussions with the Russians on curbing the arms race.

McNamara noted, however, that $375 million in production money had been requested—on top of $500 million in research and development funds—for use in discussions with the Russians were unsuccessful.

In that event, he said, the United States may want to build an anti-missile system for its offensive missiles.

McNamara told newsmen he has "complete confidence" in U.S. ability to penetrate defenses in Russia where limited ABM systems are being deployed.

LEGHORN, Italy (AP) — Six prisoners chopped a hole in the ceiling of their cell in Leghorn's jail Tuesday night and escaped via a neighboring monastery.

Police said the prisoners climbed through the hole to the roof, then walked to the terrace of the monastery and down the stairs to the street. The four monks in the monastery at the time did not see the prisoners.

First Grandchild Arrives for the Luther R. Leaders

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
The first grandchild of Dr. and Mrs. Luther R. Leader has arrived. Stephen Luther was born Jan. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. Bruce O. Wilson of Franklin. Mrs. Wilson is the former Susan Widman Leader.

In the one group there are Mesdames: Paul M. McKenney, John Kerr, Samuel E. Gawne, Benjamin W. Jayne and Robert G. Wingerter. Another group has Mesdames: Bruce Craig, Darrell Roberts, Charles L. Wilson Jr. and H. Roby Wilson.

Rushing home next weekend from Washington D.C. to see her nephew is Jane Leader. Mrs. Treffley Bartlett of Charlton Heights, W. Va. arrived on Monday. She is Dr. Leader's cousin.

OPERA LUNCHEON

Many area women will be attending the Detroit Grand Opera Association luncheon Monday at the Detroit Institute of Arts when Francis Robinson of the Metropolitan Opera Company will talk about the Met's visit to Detroit in May.

Mesdames Kenneth W. Cunningham and Henry Whiting Jr. are co-chairmen for this area.

Following the luncheon, auditions for the Grinnell Foundation competition will take place. Mrs. Sam B. Williams who is chairman of the competition will entertain for dinner with her husband at the Detroit Athletic Club Monday evening.

Guests will be the out-of-town judges: Jean Dickinson, former soprano with the Metropolitan but perhaps better known for her radio programs; Carolina Segre, formerly with the La Scala in Milan and now living in New York, and Plato Karayanif who is with the Metropolitan National Opera Company. Mrs. John MacLellan is assisting Mrs. Williams.

An enthusiastic tennis group meets Wednesday mornings at the Bloomfield Tennis House.

Usually it's, "Them what has gets!" But last night at cooking school Mrs. M. B. Frye, Mark Street, won this sewing machine given by Richman Brothers. With eight children, six of them boys—and a sewing machine "as old as my marriage," Mrs. Frye needs and welcomes a new machine. Son Christopher is a Pontiac Press newsboy.

Mrs. Jay Tindall, Holly Road, Springfield Township, will have a wig similar to the one held by Donnell of The Pontiac Mall. This was a grand prize at Tuesday's afternoon session of the cooking school.

Jills Plan Meeting

The Weight Watching Jills of TOPS, Inc. will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Pontiac Unity Center. Open to any woman wishing to lose weight.

Lose Blubber, Find a Lover, Is Advice to Miserable Gal

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You are my last hope. I am 29, considered intelligent, "a lot of fun," and everyone admires my jolly, outgoing personality. I have had a few dates, but no man has ever taken me seriously.

I am the "pal, buddy and big sister" the men come to for advice about the girls they could "care about."

To get to the point, I weighed myself yesterday for the first time since Sept., 1965, and the needle hit the highest number and just stayed there. It was one of those inexpensive bathroom scales, but it goes up to 300. Need I say more?

I have played Santa Claus at our office Christmas party for the last time, Abby. In plain language, can you give me a diet I can stay on? Don't tell me to see a doctor. The last one I went to weighed more than I did.

FAT AND MISERABLE

DEAR FAT: If you want my advice, DON'T tell me what NOT to tell you to do. You MUST see a doctor! Find a thin one if a fat one inspires no confidence. But follow his instructions to the letter — and no cheating.

Don't expect miracles. It will take all the will power and self-control you can muster. But anything that's worth having is worth working for. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: I am a senior in high school and my parents still treat me like I was two years old. Last Friday night I went to a basketball game with some kids and I said I'd be home by 12:30. Well, I didn't get home until 1:25, but it wasn't my fault. The kid who owned the car went for a ride afterward and I couldn't get home without him.

When I got home my mother was practically in hysterics. My father said if I'd been gone another five minutes they'd have called the police.

I've been grounded for three months. I tried to explain that it wasn't my fault and if they'd let me off this time it would never happen again, but they wouldn't listen. Don't you think their punishment is too rough for what I did?

DEAR JEFF: Yes, but accept their decision like a man, and perhaps they'll be impressed with the maturity of your behavior and reconsider.

DEAR ABBY: Three years ago I was engaged to marry Carl. I even bought my wedding gown and veil. Well, something happened and the wedding never did come off. Here's my problem.

I am now engaged to marry Virgil, and Virgil says flatly that he does not want to marry me in the gown I picked out to marry Carl in. I think he's being extremely childish about the whole thing, but he won't change his mind.

Should I go ahead and wear it against his wishes? Or should I wear it and tell him it's a "new" one. He's never seen it and wouldn't know the difference. I just can't see buying another one.

VIRGIL'S BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: If you hadn't mentioned the gown in the first place, you could have quietly worn it to marry Virgil. But since you DID mention it, and Virgil vetoed it, don't wear it.

To do so against his wishes would be unwise. And to try to fool him would be worse. P.S. If "something happens," and this wedding doesn't come off, don't mention the gown to the next one.

DEAR ABBY: Before we were married I converted to the faith of my fiancé. It was partly to make his parents happy, and partly because I honestly believed it was the faith for me. However, a few months after we were married I was very miserable with my new faith and rather than stay on as a hypocrite, I made a neat break with it.

This was done with the blessings of my wonderful husband. That was two years ago.

The problem now is that his parents do not know. They are not very understanding when it comes to religion, and they might make things very unpleasant for us. I'm so afraid if we don't tell them, they'll find out some other way. What do you suggest?

MIXED UP
DEAR MIXED UP: Tell them and get it over with.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

For a personal, unpublished reply, inclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1.00 to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Flatter Yourself This Subtle Way

Next time you give a party try this: select the colors that are most flattering to you, the hostess, and carry it out in the party arrangements.

For instance, if you are a redhead, select green and white. Add a little gold color for a bit of razzle-dazzle.

The John Hornings of West Maple Road, West Bloomfield Township, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Marie, to Glen A. Paull. His parents are the Erhardt Paulls of Hawks. A September wedding is planned.

Sigma Betas Think Back on Founding

Six area chapters of Sigma Beta national sorority observed Founder's Day at a dinner-meeting, Tuesday in the Elks Temple.

Sophia Maier Johnston organized the sorority in January of 1923 at Fort Wayne, Ind. There are now 59 chapters divided into five provinces with more than 1,000 members.

On the national level, Sigma Beta has contributed $75,000 to Indian education in Arizona along with a $5,000 donation to the Kidney Foundation.

The group has also sponsored a mental health film titled "The Key" to be shown in high schools and before civic organizations.

Grants have been received by the Hearing Foundation with help for student education in this area.

Among Pontiac, Highland and Detroit members who have served as national officers are Mrs. Wallace Williams, Mrs. Charles Fournier, Mrs. Eugene Russell, Doris Brown and Mrs. Helen Shannon.

Mrs. James DeFlorio, Mrs. Ezio Bisogni, Mrs. Morgan Siple and Mrs. Millie Feltner have been province officers.

Teacher Lack Grows Critical

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Just how serious the teacher shortage is can be shown, among other things, by contacts to college placement.

W. R. Horsley, director of Texas A&M University's placement office, said 568 schools contacted him in the 1965-66 school year asking for teachers. Dr. Paul Hensarling of the A&M education and psychology department said 1,423 job calls came from elementary and secondary schools in the year.

Beautiful Illusion

The woman who prefers to wear short fingernails should wear her bracelets farther up on her arm. This gives her hand the illusion of greater length.

New Wool Is Machine Washable

It is logical that Australia, which supplies much of the world's wool, should be the country to develop a new treatment which makes it possible to machine-wash wool knitwear with less than 1 per cent shrinkage, regardless of water temperature or agitation.

This process, applied before the combed fibers are spun, has been successfully tested Down Under after 18 years of research.

Pending its widespread application, American home-makers should continue to launder wool knitwear in the usual way — with warm soap or detergent suds and gentle handling — unless the manufacturer's hangtag recommends machine-washing.

CONNOLLY'S Jewel OF THE WEEK

APPEALS TO STUDENTS — Bettina Aptheker, admitted Communist and leader in Berkeley Campus disturbances, talks to 2,000 University of California students during a rally yesterday. She urged students and faculty to organize into a power bloc so they could have the say on who will be the next president of the university, after the firing of Clark Kerr last Friday. Speaking of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, she told the group at the rally, "We have to push Reagan right back to the wall. If we have to we will push him right through the wall."

1,000 Profs, Teachers Hit Firing of California U. Head

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — "won't be sullied by partisan politics because this governor has no intention of ever overruling the regents."

Reagan in his campaign for governor last year charged that Kerr had permitted political activity on the campus in behalf of Reagan's Democratic foe, then Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Sharply worded resolutions passed Tuesday by the academic senate at the Berkeley campus and at the campus at Santa Barbara were the loudest academic outcries since 14 members of the board of regents, including Reagan, voted last Friday to end Kerr's career as head of the 87,000-student, nine-campus university.

In Sacramento, Reagan called the firing "ill-timed but necessary" and said that Kerr initiated the confrontation which led to the ouster vote.

Reagan, who had feuded with Kerr over proposals to cut the university budget and impose tuition, said the university dismissal of President Clark Kerr by the board of regents. The Senate also opposed the tuition plan suggested by Reagan. It has asked the legislature to provide adequate financial support for the university and has demanded that the faculty have a voice in the selection of a successor to Kerr.

The Academic Senate at Berkeley, a few hours later, passed a resolution by an overwhelming hand vote charging the Kerr firing was political intervention which "threatens the survival of the University of California as an institution of higher learning."

The assembled educators then passed 429-246 another resolution charging the regents had "betrayed" the faculty trust.

"As of today no reputable educator would assume the presidency of that university which yesterday was the envy of every other state," the resolution said. "We, the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley, condemn utterly the firing of President Clark Kerr by the board of regents. The Senate also opposed the tuition plan suggested by Reagan. It has asked the legislature to provide adequate financial support for the university and has demanded that the faculty have a voice in the selection of a successor to Kerr.

The academic senate at the Santa Barbara campus, on a 237-13 vote, charged Kerr's dismissal was "wrong and the manner of it brutal." The resolution said the regents' action "constitutes a damaging surrender to political pressures on the affairs of the university."

Students at several of the other University of California campuses met during the day to plan ways to protest Kerr's dismissal.

Statements of support for Kerr and criticism of the events came from educators across the nation.

In Washington, D.C., the American Association of University Professors said Kerr's firing had "shocked the academic community" and that California's higher education system may be in danger.

In New York, the Carnegie Foundation announced details of a study on higher education which Kerr will head on a part-time basis.

A spokesman said, "Since Mr. Kerr was invited to chair the Carnegie Commission, nothing has happened to change our view that no man is better qualified than he to lead a study of higher education's future in this country." Kerr had disclosed the Carnegie Foundation post in San Francisco on Jan. 7.

The California Federation of Teachers said in San Francisco that 10,000 educators, students and parents would participate in a march in Sacramento Feb. 11 to "resist Gov. Reagan's attack on public education."

President Wallace Sterling of Stanford University referred obliquely to the University of California situation in his "State of the University address" when he said no university should "become a political instrument or pawn."

Sterling also said he took delight in student activism, which has occurred at both Stanford and Berkeley, "because it speaks concern about the welfare of mankind and a desire to be of service."

A different view came from Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor of the UCLA campus, who said Kerr's dismissal was caused by "extremists at the Berkeley campus."

Kin of Oswald Threatens Suit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald has threatened to file a slander suit against author William Manchester for describing her in "The Death of a President" as the mother of an assassin and a "shifter of bodies and bedpans."

Mrs. Oswald held a news conference yesterday at the shop of an autograph dealer who sold one of her son's letters for her and declared that nobody has proved in court that Lee Harvey Oswald shot President Kennedy.

She said she would not accept a description of herself as the mother of an assassin unless it is modified by "alleged" or "suspected."

"If they prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that he was an assassin, then fine," she added.

Mrs. Oswald also said she objected to the description of herself in the Manchester book as a "shifter of bodies and bedpans." She said she is a practical nurse, "a high profession."

Mrs. Oswald was visiting New York to tape a broadcast for a Dutch radio station.

Fiery Pile-Up on Freeway in Detroit Fatal

DETROIT (UPI) — A fiery three-car crash on a Detroit freeway last night killed one man and injured six others despite valiant efforts of bystanders to rescue them.

Police said six persons were riding in a station wagon that plowed into the rear of an abandoned, delapidated car on the expressway. A taxi then crashed into the wreckage.

Four of the men managed to crawl from the burning station wagon, aided by motorists who were using their coats to beat out the flames on the victims.

A fifth man was pulled from the wreckage by two off-duty firemen and an off-duty suburban Detroit policeman.

Killed was James Fraser, 60, of Detroit. One of the injured, Grady Wimberly, 50, Romulus, was in critical condition today with third-degree burns.

The cab driver suffered only minor injuries.

Surgeon Advises Full Use of Eyes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The best thing for your eyes is to use them, not save them, an expert says.

And, contrary to some belief, reading in poor light doesn't harm the eyes.

Dr. Albert E. Sloan, who said this Tuesday, is an eye surgeon at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and chairman of the School Vision Problems Committee of the National Association for the Prevention of Blindness.

Risk Insurance Buyer Warned

LANSING (UPI) — The "high risk" driver who plans to buy liability insurance has been advised to "attend to it today" by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

If "high risk" drivers wait until February to make arrangements, Hare said, they might not receive policy approval before the February 28th license plate deadline and have to pay a $35 uninsured motorist fee.

Hare said it usually takes at least three weeks for some of the "nonstandard" insurance companies and Michigan's assigned risk plan to check driving records and approve policy applications.

Hare said the "high risk" driver has two alternatives: "He may apply for insurance through one of the few non-standard companies doing business in Michigan, or he may apply through the assigned risk plan, in which all the standard companies doing business in Michigan take high risk drivers on an assigned basis from a pool."

use a planimeter in measuring the dimensions of an aerial map, the strategy that led to conquest of the Mighty Green Giant.

County's Size Found

'Green Giant' Subdued

By JOE MULLEN

Wow, what a struggle. Tenacious men, armed with planimeters, have been battling the "Mighty Green Giant" for years.

Now, the jubilant planimeter wielders are claiming victory over their monstrous foe.

The Giant has been subdued.

"George, could you throw a little light on this subject just in case some readers don't have a clear-cut picture at this point of the man-Giant struggle?"

FITTING NICKNAME

"I'd be happy to," said George N. Skrubbs, director for the Oakland County Planning Commission.

"We have given Oakland County the Mighty Green Giant nickname because it still is 66 per cent undeveloped and this is substantially field and forest area," Skrubbs explained.

"Our planning department people have put in a great deal of effort measuring 'The Giant' so we will have the exact size as a basis for our operation."

To the layman, measuring the size of an area appears to be a simple task. It seems that multiplying the dimensions would provide the answer.

"I'm afraid it's not quite that simple," Skrubbs said.

"We must consider sea level in measuring Oakland County and this varies considerably," he explained.

"The only accurate method is to measure aerial photographs, adjusted to compensate for sea level elevation, and the planimeter instrument is used for this task."

In September 1965, Skrubbs sent a letter to the U.S. Department of the Interior Geological Survey asking for its measurement of the "Mighty Green Giant."

FIGURE OFFERED

A letter came back a month later offering the figure of 580,434 acres as the total county area, but with the regret that this was not a perfectly accurate measurement.

The Washington letter explained that if the original Land Office surveys filed in 1823 had contained no errors it would have been possible to accurately compute the county dimensions.

In presenting its figure of 580,434, the Geological Survey Office noted that this is the accurate measurement at sea level.

It added that Oakland County has a mean elevation of approximately 800 feet above sea level and offered a multiplication factor of 1.0000382.

EXACT FIGURE NEEDED

Using this factor, the county area would be 580,479 acres. "This would be our closest approximation of the gross area of Oakland County," the letter concluded.

But in this age of computers, Skrubbs needed an exact measurement on which all future planning and land use studies will be based.

Besides the measurement of aerial photos conducted in recent years, data needed for the exact county size began to be accumulated 10 years ago.

In 1957, the planning department began land computation in the Clinton River Basin extending from Waterford Township east to Pontiac in advance of the establishment of the County Department of Public Works the next year.

COMPREHENSIVE STUDY

This was followed by a comprehensive study of the Huron River Basin from White Lake Township southward.

The two basin studies were completed in 1960 and field work for the entire county took place between 1960 and 1965.

The field work and aerial photo measurements resulted in an established size of 580,955 acres for the Mighty Green Giant.

As far as Skrubbs, his five planning associates, five engineering aides, two secretaries, a historian and the computers are concerned, these are the eternal dimensions of The Giant.

Some interesting observations in a close examination of The Giant are that Waterford is not the lake leader of the county and that the original townships, supposedly 36 square miles each vary over 1,000 acres in size.

West Bloomfield Township contains the most lake area, 3,998, followed by Waterford with 3,083.

Avon, with only 3.2 acres of lake, ranks at the bottom while Royal Oak Township has nine lake acres.

The largest township is Novi with 23,869 acres, followed by Commerce, 23,825; Troy, 23,776; and Independence, 23,704.

Oxford is The Giant's smallest township with 22,614 acres. Next in size are Milford, 22,655; Lyon, 22,682 and Pontiac, 22,766.

PIN-WORMS A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Powell Lawyer: Ouster Illegal

House Right to Deny Seat Is Challenged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's attorneys have challenged the constitutional authority of the House of Representatives to deny the Harlem Democrat his seat in Congress.

A legal brief requesting the seating of Powell was accepted without comment by Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of a special House committee named to investigate Powell's qualifications for seating.

The brief was presented Tuesday at the committee's first meeting. Celler said the panel decided only to hold its hearings in public, unless witnesses ask to testify in closed session. A special counsel, hearing dates and witnesses are yet to be announced.

The committee has until Feb. 23 to make its recommendation to the House, which then will vote on whether to seat Powell. Powell is receiving his $30,000 annual salary but cannot vote or speak in the House.

COURT CASE

The House refused to seat Powell pending the investigation, expected to center on his New York criminal contempt of court conviction and his use of House funds.

The contempt conviction stems from a $164,000 libel judgment won by a Harlem widow Powell once called a graft collector for corrupt police.

Powell says profits from a new record album he has made, entitled "Keep the Faith, Baby," will go to pay off the judgment. In the album, he compares his troubles to the fall of Julius Caesar, saying "Caesar was stabbed to death by a band of his colleagues."

... and Loud Complaints

Unclogged NY Streets Bring Cheers

NEW YORK (AP) — Protests have mounted against the mid-Manhattan auto towaway program, with the loudest complaints coming from the handicapped and doctors. But city aides, traffic cops and bus and taxi drivers were pleased over the unclogged streets.

More than 160 drivers with physical handicaps took advantage Tuesday of Mayor John V. Lindsay's offer of police taxi service to and from work, but criticism flowed freely.

Attorney Daniel Fields, a polio victim who has held a special parking card for 14 years, said, "It's inhuman and it's not accomplishing anything."

But, said taxi driver Bernard Robins, "I used to wince when I got a crosstown job. Now I don't mind it at all."

IMPORTANCE

Philip Guba, 43, a polio victim who drives to work from Garden City on Long Island, commented that "a car is more important to us than a car to a diplomat."

Arthur Palmer Jr., city transportation administrator, said a plan might be worked out where by handicapped drivers would be allowed to park in certain towaway areas. He said it would take considerable research, however, before deciding on a site.

Diplomats and foreign consuls were among the first of the previously privileged to feel the ban on parking in restricted areas bounded by 34th and 66th Streets and the East and Hudson rivers. However, those with diplomatic or foreign consul license plates need not pay the tow charges, which can amount to $40 to $50.

Newsman with special plates were getting the towaway treatment, too.

A WNEW radio mobile unit, covering a protest meeting of the New York County Medical Society, was towed away.

Dr. John A. Lawler, president of the society, with 7,000 member doctors in Manhattan, said the ban against physicians parking while on emergency runs could bring "chaos to the practice of medicine and is a threat to the health of the city."

At his news conference Tuesday, Mayor Lindsay claimed the no-parking campaign was bearing fruit. "Already traffic is beginning to move," he said.

Lindsay said there have been indications that many wives of doctors used the special parking privilege to do their shopping.

John Cassese, president of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, said he was joining with many rank-and-file policemen in criticizing the taxi service for handicapped persons provided by patrol cars.

LBJ May Skip Two Big Trips

Major Tax Overhaul Is Aimed at Elderly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson may not make either of the trips he had contemplated this spring, to Europe or Latin America.

The chief executive, who scored a huge personal success in the Far East last fall, had looked forward to the new ventures abroad as a step toward rebuilding his popularity overseas and at home.

But events have been coming in the way of his plans for travel in the old world and in this hemisphere.

He had been invited to West Germany by former Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, and, as a possible reflection of a hope to expand that journey to cover other countries on the continent, Johnson said last Nov. 13, "I expect to be going to Europe in the spring."

But West Germany has undergone a change of government and Erhard has been replaced as Chancellor by Kurt-Georg Kiesinger. Now, the White House says:

"The President indicated to Chancellor Erhard last year that he hoped to visit him this year. As of today, the President has made no further plans. When and if he makes and decision involving this matter, we will inform you promptly."

Dies of Injuries

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Robert C. Evans Jr., 38, of LaSalle died Tuesday at the University of Michigan Hospital of injuries suffered earlier in the day when he lost control of his car and crashed on a rural road five miles south of Monroe.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson is proposing a major income tax overhaul for the elderly so the well-to-do would pay more and those struggling to make ends meet would pay less.

The proposal to shift the burden of income taxes paid by the elderly attracted little attention when submitted to Congress earlier this week as part of Johnson's Social Security message, but it could have far-reaching effects.

The tax overhaul has nothing to do with Social Security. It applies to all taxpayers over 65, regardless of whether they are retired or covered by Social Security.

The President's proposal would reduce income taxes for almost 3 million persons over 65, taking about 500,000 persons off the tax rolls altogether.

It would raise the tax bills of more than 1 million affluent persons over 65.

At present, federal income tax forms contain a special one-page supplement dealing with the elderly, who get special tax treatment at age 65.

For example, the taxpayer over 65 is entitled to a double exemption of $1,200 for himself and $1,200 for his wife, instead of the $600 exemptions allowed taxpayers under 65.

In addition, there are special allowances for investment dividend and pension income of the elderly that are not granted for money earned in wages.

The net result, according to the Treasury Department, is that the rich are getting special treatment they don't need, the poor are paying more than they can afford, and an elderly person who has to work pays more in taxes than one who lives off stock dividends.

The Treasury gives this example:

Under the existing system, an individual over 65 who works starts paying income taxes after he has earned $1,600 in a year, but an elderly person who lives on dividends doesn't start paying taxes until his income reaches $3,100.

Johnson's proposal would change all this. The double deductions for the elderly and the special treatment for certain types of income would be abolished.

Instead, the President would give persons over 65 a flat exemption of $2,300 for an individual or $4,000 for a married couple, regardless of the source of income — wages or investment.

The effect would be to remove from the income tax roles all single persons over 65 with incomes up to $3,200 a year, and married couples with incomes up to $5,800 a year.

1967 Will Be Good Year for Oranges

Put Frozen Orange Juice in Various Beverages

Thanks to modern freezing and canning methods developed in the Sunshine State, stores and supermarkets nationwide are constantly assured of ample stocks of fresh-frozen Florida orange juice concentrate.

After the fresh fruit is picked, it's trucked within an hour or two to concentrate plants where it is immediately processed before any of the fine flavor and valuable vitamin C are lost.

The Florida citrus industry has raised the requirements for processed frozen orange concentrate, a wholly pure, natural product.

Each 6-ounce can now contains the juice of nearly one additional orange, making the product sweeter, richer and more flavorful than ever before.

Delicious, nutritious ways to serve and cook with frozen orange concentrate are many and varied. When used thawed and undiluted in recipes, the quick-frozen orange juice enriches with full, fresh flavor, enhances with sunny color.

For a refreshing treat, whip up a bubbling Orange Ice Cream Soda or Orange Nog, frothy with a beaten egg.

If any family member doesn't like solid food upon arising, or is in too much of a hurry in the morning, you can solve this breakfast problem with a delicious All-Go Breakfast Shake.

Whipped up in a blender, it provides all the necessary morning nourishment. The shake makes a good quickie lunch, too, for mother on her busiest days.

Orange Ice Cream Soda
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
1 pint vanilla ice cream
Gingerale or carbonated water, chilled

Put 2 tablespoons of the undiluted concentrate into each of 6 tall glasses. Spoon in vanilla ice cream. Fill to top with gingerale. Stir well. Yield: 6 servings.

Orange Nog
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
4 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons sugar
Nutmeg
Reconstitute orange juice. Separate one of the eggs; reserve white. Add yolk and remaining whole eggs to orange juice; beat well. Pour into 4 tall glasses. Beat reserved white until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar

Covered Jar Keeps Noodles Crisp

When you have canned chowmein noodles left over, put them in a small jar, cover them tightly and store in the refrigerator. Heat briefly in the oven before serving as a garnish for practically any creamed dish.

Is Egg Fresh?

If the egg you break is of good quality, it will have a high-standing yolk that is well centered and banded in thick white. A poor egg, when broken, has a flattened yolk and the white is watery and thin.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Have you ever seen better oranges than are in the stores this year? They're not only good, but the USDA tells us the crop is 57 per cent above average. That's good news.

We get oranges all year, but this is the peak season. From Florida we are getting juice oranges and Valencias for eating.

From California and other parts of the west come navel oranges; their Valencias start later in the year and continue into fall.

And, of course, all year around there is frozen orange juice. Happily, the price has come down after the disastrous freeze several years ago sent prices soaring.

Oranges are your best source of vitamin C. This is one vitamin that is not stored in the body and that needs replenishing daily.

On this page you'll find orange recipes that will appeal to every taste.

ORANGE CHIFFON MOLD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, separated
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
½ cup sugar
½ cup heavy cream, whipped

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water in top of double boiler to soften. Add salt and egg yolks; mix well. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens slightly and gelatin dissolves, about 3 to 5 minutes.

Remove from heat; add undiluted orange concentrate. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture; fold in whipped cream.

Turn into a 6-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with orange sections and additional whipped cream if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

SHRIMP SALAD IN ORANGE SHELLS

3 large oranges, cut in half
Head lettuce
Shrimp salad
Fresh parsley
¼ cup orange sections for garnish

Lift pulp (in one piece) from halved oranges, using sharp knife. Cut oranges into sections. Reserve 1 cup orange sections. Use ¼ cup for Shrimp Salad and ¼ cup for garnish. (Remaining orange sections may be used in favorite fruit cup.)

Place orange shells on lettuce on individual serving plates. Fill centers of orange shells with shrimp salad. Garnish with fresh parsley and ¼ cup orange sections.

Eggs Are Fixed a la Benedict

Split, toast, and butter 6 English muffins. Place on each a thin slice of fried ham. Top with 1 hard-cooked egg, sliced. Pour on Mock Hollandaise.

To prepare Hollandaise, combine 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of vegetable soup with ¼ cup mayonnaise and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Place over low heat, stirring constantly. Makes 6 servings.

Rice takes on extra savor when it is cooked in well-seasoned chicken stock instead of water.

Shrimp Salad

2 cups cold cooked shrimp, diced
1 cup chopped fresh celery
½ cup reserved orange sections, diced
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground black pepper
1 tablespoon fresh orange juice
¼ cup mayonnaise

Combine all ingredients. Toss lightly and chill. Yield: 6 servings.

ORANGE STUFFED SWEET POTATOES

6 medium (2 pounds) baked sweet potatoes
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup diced fresh oranges
¼ cup shredded fresh coconut
½ teaspoon grated lemon peel
6 teaspoons butter or margarine

Cut off tops from baked sweet potatoes. Scoop out inside, keeping the shell intact. Mash sweet potatoes with butter. Add salt, sugar, oranges, coconut and lemon peel. Mix well.

Spoon into sweet potato shells. Dot each with 1 teaspoon butter. Bake in preheated hot oven (450 degrees) 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Yield: 6 servings.

ORANGE SUNDAE

Vanilla, chocolate or coffee ice cream
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted

Put scoops of vanilla, chocolate or coffee ice cream in serving dishes. Spoon one or two tablespoons of undiluted orange concentrate over each serving. Yield: 6 servings.

RAINBOW FRUIT PLATTER

2 cups grapefruit sections
¼ pound grapes

2 bananas, sliced lengthwise
2 red apples, cut in thin wedges (peel left on)
2 cups melon balls
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted

Arrange fruit on serving dish. Spoon undiluted orange juice concentrate over fruit. Other canned, frozen or fresh fruit in season may be used with the grapefruit sections. Yield: 6 servings.

FRESH ORANGE BAVARIAN

3 oranges
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, separated
1½ cups milk

Cook over boiling water stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice and vanilla. Chill mixture until consistency of unbeaten egg whites.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold gelatin mixture into stiffly beaten egg whites. Fold 1 cup orange sections and whipped cream into gelatin mixture.

Turn into 6 orange shells and chill until firm. Yield: 6 servings.

Newsman Will Eat Michigan-Grown Food

EAST LANSING — Michigan editors will get new insight into the delightful texture and delicious flavor of Michigan's home-grown, hickory-smoked hams during their 99th annual meeting at Michigan State University, Jan. 27-28.

Colorful baked Michigan ham, boneless and lean, with a garnish of golden mustard sauce, will play the leading role in the All-Michigan Dinner, at which the newsmen are to be regaled Saturday night.

Mrs. Evelyn Drake, director of cuisine at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education, where the mid-winter gala is held, recommends that you cook Michigan hams slowly, that you baste them frequently with the juice from Michigan's spiced apples or peaches.

Here's Mrs. Drake's recipe for Bonanza Ham with Mustard

Sauce. Allow 15 to 20 minutes per pound of ham, baking time, plus a few minutes setting time before cutting, she suggests.

BONANZA HAM

1 boneless ham (about 5 pounds)
MSG
Spiced crabapple juice

Trim off any extra fat. Rub the surface of the ham with brown sugar and MSG. Score the fat side of the ham. Bake in a 350-degrees oven, fat side up, until light brown (about 35 to 45 minutes).

Then, baste with spiced crabapple juice or spiced peach juice every 15 to 20 minutes until done (perhaps another 45 minutes). Makes 12-14 servings.

Mustard Sauce

¼ cup sugar
2½ teaspoons dry mustard
1 tablespoon corn starch
Salt to taste
1 cup evaporated milk

2 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons prepared mustard

Sift together the dry ingredients. Heat the milk and add to the dry ingredients. Cook in a double boiler until thickened. Add the prepared mustard. And last, add the vinegar, just before serving. If the sauce needs thinning, add a small amount of vinegar.
Serve with ham slices. Makes 8 servings.

WHEAT GERM BREAD—The new "coolrise" method of making bread is used for a recipe that includes wheat germ. This gives the bread a delicate nutty taste. Try it soon.

Wheat Germ Is Good in 'Coolrise' Loaf

A new and convenient way of making bread keeps right on interesting cooks.

Introduced last year and called the coolrise method, this technique allows yeast bread to rise in the refrigerator. After two to 24 hours, the loaves are ready to bake and they come out of the oven with excellent flavor, texture and shape.

WHEAT GERM BREAD

2 packages active dry yeast
¾ cup warm water
1½ cups milk, scalded and cooled to lukewarm
½ cup honey
1 tablespoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine, soft
5 to 6 cups unsifted regular flour
1 cup regular (unsweetened) wheat germ
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind

In a large warm bowl dissolve the yeast in the warm water. Add warm milk, honey, salt, butter and 2 cups of the flour. Beat with rotary mixer at low speed until smooth — about one minute.

Add 1 cup more flour. Beat vigorously with wooden spoon (150 strokes) or electric mixer at medium speed (2 to 3 minutes) until thick and elastic; occasionally scrape sides of bowl.

Bargains Wait for Shoppers Who Are Alert

Even with the rising cost of food, budget conscious homemakers can find bargains aplenty waiting at the produce counter of your grocery store — if you know what to look for, says Mrs. Carl C. Kurth, Extension Home Economist in the Tri-County area.

Some fruits and vegetables don't LOOK as good as others but they're just as good to eat and they're often lower priced according to food specialists at Michigan State University.

Those oranges with greenish or russet skins and grapefruit with rust-colored skins shouldn't be ignored if they are offered at reduced prices. These fruits will taste just as good as "perfects" and save you money.

The specialists say a similar bargain can be found at the apple counter. Generally, the redder the skin, the more the apples cost. Yet color of skin makes little, if any, difference in the taste.

Two other bargain vegetables to look for are onions that are lopsided or otherwise misshapen and heads of lettuce that are loose.

The loose heads of lettuce can even prove to be a double bargain. They usually have more green leaves inside, and that means more food value.

With a wooden spoon stir in wheat germ and lemon rind. Then gradually work in the remaining flour; use just enough flour to make a soft dough that leaves sides of bowl, adding more if necessary.

Turn out onto floured board; round up into a ball. Knead 5 to 10 minutes or until dough is smooth, elastic and no longer sticky.

Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel. Let rest for 20 minutes on board. Punch down. Divide into 2 equal portions.

Roll each portion into an 8-by-12-inch rectangle. Tightly roll up into loaves beginning with 8-inch edge. Seal final seam and edges well.

Place in 2 greased 8½ by 4½ by 2½-inch loaf pans. Brush surface of dough with salad oil. Cover pans loosely with oiled wax paper, then plastic wrap; do not tuck ends under.

Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours at moderately cold setting.

When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover. Let stand for 10 minutes while preheating the oven. Just before baking puncture any surface bubbles with an oiled toothpick.

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven for 35 to 40 minutes. Use a lower oven rack position for best results.

If the bread seems to be getting too brown, place a piece of foil loosely over the crust. Remove immediately to wire racks to cool.

Rice and Meat Mix in Cones

There are cones for every season like the ones with greenery for the winter holidays, the ice-cream filled cones so popular especially in summer.

Here come Fiesta Cones, also edible. Made with a combination of both ground beef and pork, these cones have a special appearance because of the rice in them, says Reba Staggs, home economist.

Fiesta Cones
1 pound ground beef
1 pound ground lean pork
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk
2-3 cup uncooked rice
2 teaspoons chili powder
3 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
2½ cups water
2 tablespoons chopped onion

Combine beef, pork, egg, milk, rice, 1 teaspoon chili powder and 2 teaspoons salt. Shape into cones. Brown in melted lard.

Add tomatoes, water, onion, 1 teaspoon chili powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cover and cook slowly 1½ hours. Yield: 8 cones.

Peach Slices Go in Bologna

We're not putting you on when we report that the newest cool food fad is hot cling peaches with hamburgers! Just heat in their own syrup and serve right on the plate with the burger and chips and you have a snack that's really a meal!

Date-Bait Burgers is another new approach using everyone's favorite bologna on your burger bun with a topping of canned cling peach slices. "Way out? Not at all — 'way in's more like it!"

Date-Bait Burgers

1 can (1 lb.) cling peach slices
½ cup catsup
¼ cup stuffed green olives, sliced
1 lb. (16 slices) bologna
4 burger buns cut in half
1 package (3 oz.) cream cheese

Drain peaches. Combine peaches, catsup and sliced olives in a sauce pan. Heat and keep warm. Fry bologna slices. (They will form a cup shape.) Place two slices on each half of burger bun. Spoon peach sauce into "cup." Cut cream cheese lengthwise into four pieces and each piece into 6. Place three pieces of cheese in each sandwich. Makes 6 servings.

Fish, Stuffing Baked Together, Get Saucy Top

Enhance the delicate flavor of fish with a delectable sauce made from frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup. This exquisite fish casserole will prove irresistible with your family and guests. Serve it with broccoli, tossed green salad, lemon meringue pie, and coffee.

Sophisticate's Stuffed Fish

In saucepan, melt ½ cup butter; pour off and reserve 3 tablespoons. Cook ½ cup finely chopped onion in remaining butter until tender. Remove from heat. Blend in 2 cups herb seasoned stuffing mix and ¾ cup boiling water.

Place stuffing in center of shallow baking dish (13x9x2"); arrange 2 packages (1 pound each) frozen haddock or cod fillets, thawed, on top. Brush with reserved melted butter. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake at 400 degrees 30 to 40 minutes or until fish is done.

Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine 1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup, ½ cup milk, and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. Heat; stir often. To serve, cut fish into portions; pour sauce over. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Red Wine Vinegar Improves Taste

This is how a former White House chef sometimes makes salad dressing.

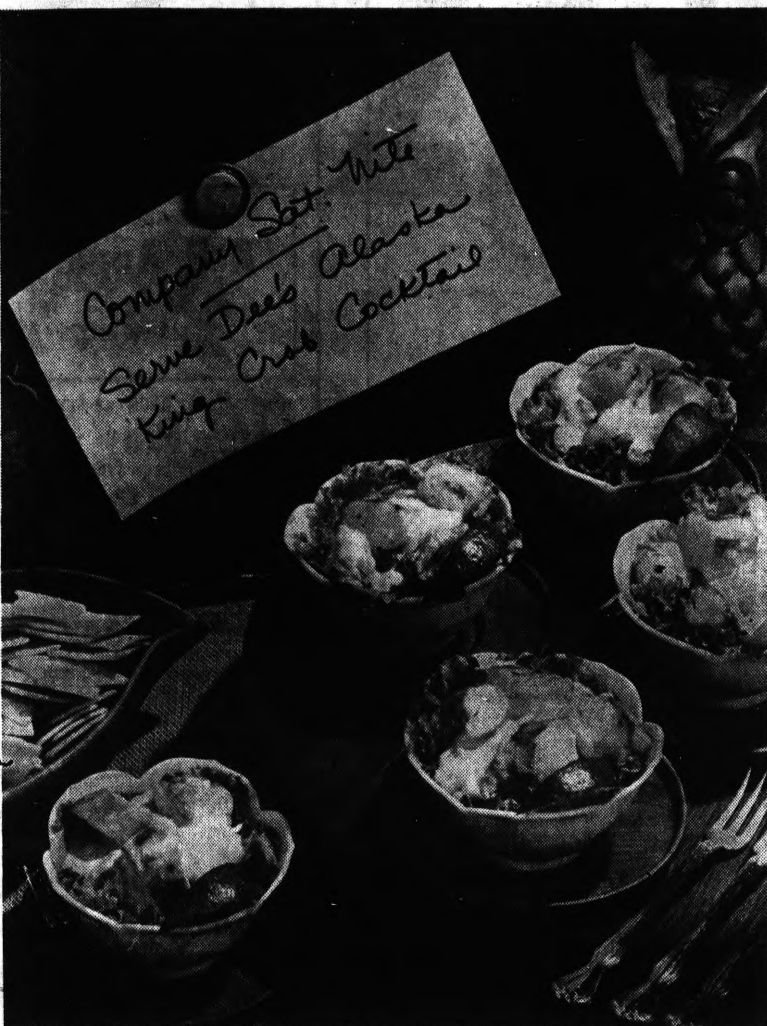

Rene Verdon's Salad Dressing

¼ cup red wine vinegar
2 teaspoons prepared Dijon mustard
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
¾ cup olive oil

Thoroughly whisk together all the ingredients. If not used at once, cover tightly and refrigerate; whisk again before serving. Makes 1 cup.

Note: To make this dressing in an electric blender, place all ingredients except the oil in the blender container. Blend on high speed about 1 minute; stop blender and add olive oil. Blend on high speed just until oil is combined — about 20 seconds.

If dressing separates during refrigerator storage, blend on high speed just until combined.

DEE'S KING CRAB COCKTAIL — Chill and drain two cans Alaska King crab or defrost and drain one pound frozen Alaska King crab. Cut into bite-size pieces. Place in lettuce-lined cocktail dishes. Combine one cup dairy sour cream, one-fourth cup chili sauce, one tablespoon lemon juice, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon horseradish, one-eighth teaspoon coarse ground pepper and dash of Tabasco. Chill one hour. Spoon over crab. Garnish with lime wedges. Makes six cocktails.

Caviar Rules Are So Simple

Caviar is made by adding salt to sturgeon roe. The caviar sold from the shelf in glass jars has enough salt added to preserve the caviar without refrigeration.

Fresh caviar however is only lightly salted and must be kept under refrigeration. It is sold in white glass jars and can be stored, unopened, at 35-40 degrees in the home refrigerator for at least a month.

But once a spoonful has been taken out the caviar should be eaten within two weeks, otherwise it may turn sour. Each time some of the caviar is removed from the jar the remaining eggs should be carefully levelled with the back of a spoon and the surface covered with a circle of waxed paper. This will help prevent air from coming in contact with the caviar.

Caviar freezes at 24 degrees and care should be taken to avoid this. Freezing destroys the egg sacs and the caviar turns to soup.

To serve fresh caviar place the jar in which it was purchased in a bowl of crushed ice. The eggs are very fragile and it is best not to disturb them by moving them to another dish.

Freshly made melba toast is the only necessary accompaniment, but small dishes of finely minced sweet onion and chopped hardcooked egg may be served too.

Caviar does not need butter, but some people serve sweet butter with fresh caviar simply because they enjoy the combination of flavors.

Chilled champagne is delicious with fresh caviar.

Caviar may also be served with blinis, thin buckwheat pancakes 2-4 inches in diameter. These can be made with a buckwheat pancake mix. Champagne, caviar and blinis can be served as a first course for dinner or as a pre-theatre supper.

A spoonful of fresh caviar is delicious on Steak Tartar — scraped beef served raw with capers and minced onion.

Mix Rutabaga, Apple in Salad

A root cellar filled with sunshine was grandmother's way of preparing for winter. Nowadays, that same brand of sunshine is as close as the supermarket and it can be purchased without casting an eye toward wintry skies. It also comes pre-packaged by nature — the golden rutabaga with its buff and purple colored wraps.

In combination with bits of apple and a subtly seasoned dressing, this root vegetable goes a long way towards brightening cold weather meals in the guise of winter sunshine salad.

Rosemary, the herb associated with "remembrance" will be remembered long as the seasoning for the salad dressing.

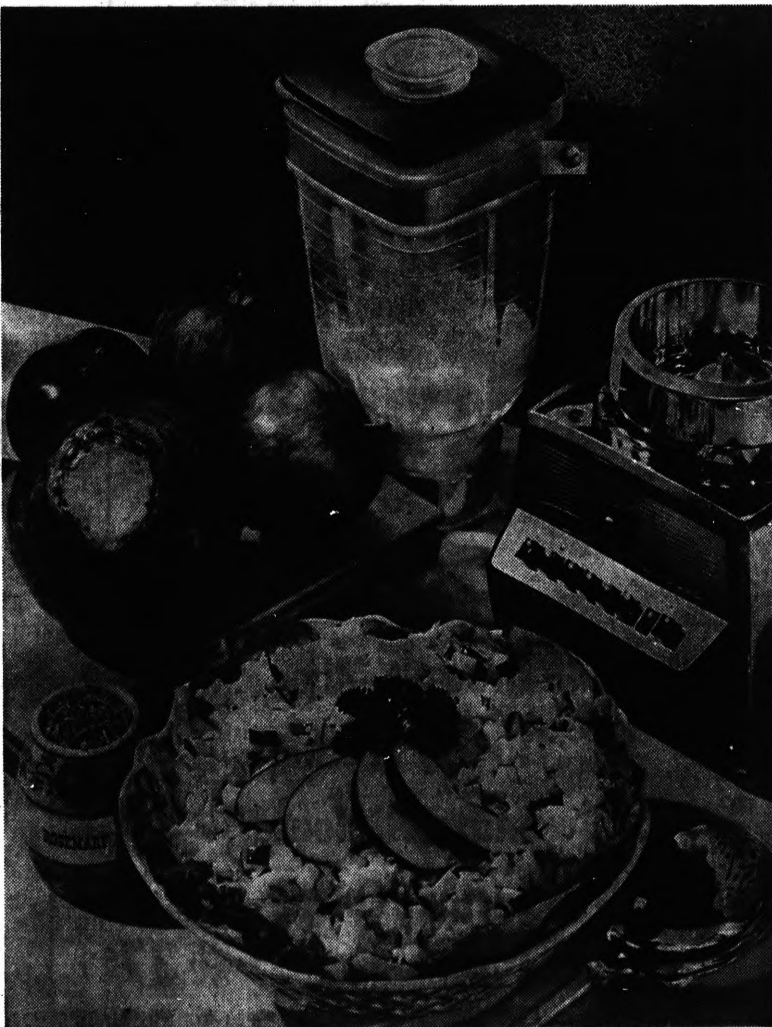

It's a sunny blend whirled up in a blender with evaporated milk, oil and vinegar in smooth emulsion and the smallest bit of herb to do big things for flavor.

Winter Sunshine Salad

½ cup salad oil
¼ cup evaporated milk
3 tablespoons vinegar

¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon rosemary
Dash of pepper
3 tablespoons sugar
2 cups finely diced unpeeled apple
2 cups shredded rutabaga

Place oil, evaporated milk, vinegar, salt, rosemary, pepper and sugar in container of electric blender. Cover and blend a few seconds until thickened. Pour over apple and rutabaga in a medium size bowl. Mix well. Chill before serving. Makes 6 servings.

WINTER SUNSHINE SALAD: A salad to remember is Winter Sunshine Salad with just the faintest hint of rosemary to give it a flavor lift. Grandmother's standbys for cold weather eating — rutabaga and apples — are much more at home in this modern setting of salad dressed with a creamy, herb flavored emulsion.

Steamed Cranberry Pudding Has New England Origin

It was a one-legged New Jersey schoolteacher with the picturesque name of "Peg-Leg" John Webb who discovered by accident, some 125 years ago, this unique characteristic of good cranberries.

Peg-Leg gave them a really tough test — he tossed them down a long flight of stairs. The ones that landed in fine shape he packed for market.

Peg-Leg's best customers were whalers bound for the Seven Seas and the antipodes. They were happy to pay $50 a barrel, for they had discovered that here was a sure cure for the dreadful scurvy which sickened and killed so many men on long voyages.

At that time nobody had ever heard of vitamin C or any other vitamins or minerals in foods. They had just noted that cranberries, fresh or cooked, caused a miraculous improvement in the health of these men who lived on hard tack and salt fish.

Fresh Cranberry Grunt

2 cups fresh cranberries
¼ cup water
1 cup sugar
1½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon ground mace
½ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup milk

Cook berries in water. When soft add sugar and cook 5 minutes longer. Place in a buttered mold with tight-fitting cover.

Sift flour, baking powder, ground mace and salt in bowl. Cut in butter or margarine with 2 knives or pastry blender. Add milk to make soft dough. Place over fruit, fit on tight cover and set in large pot of boiling water. (Water should be within 1-inch of the top of the mold.)

Steam 1 hour keeping water at boiling point all the time. Serve hot with New England Nutmeg Sauce.

New England Nutmeg Sauce

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Combine sugar, flour and salt. Add boiling water gradually, stirring constantly. Add butter or margarine and cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat, stir in nutmeg. Serve cool or warm over Fresh Cranberry Grunt. Yield: 6 servings.

Black Walnuts Go in Cookies

Children love nothing better than coming home to find the cookie jar filled with freshly-baked cookies. To keep the children happy, creative cooks from a nut company have developed and "child-tested" this new caramel cookie recipe.

These cookies are "refrigerator cookies," so you can make a double batch to freeze and bake later.

CARAMEL REFRIGERATOR COOKIES

1 cup soft butter
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon soda
1 cup finely chopped black walnuts

Cream the butter, sugar, egg and vanilla together until light and fluffy. Sift flour, salt and soda together. Stir into butter mixture. Mix in black walnuts.

Form into roll 2½ inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper. Chill until firm. Heat oven to 400 degrees. Slice ½ inch thick.

Bake on ungreased cookie sheet for 8-10 minutes or until cookies are lightly browned.

Red Wine and Mushrooms Go Into Meat Sauce

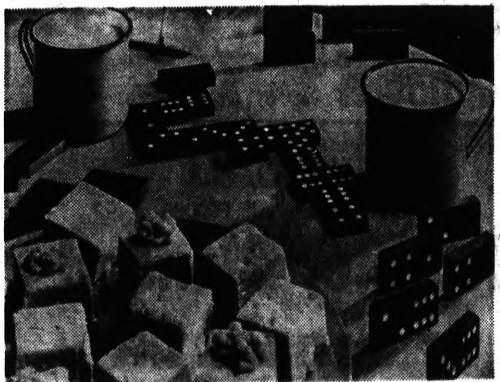

Potted Swiss Steak is different from the ordinary style as no tomatoes are added. It is simply braised in a flavorful sauce of wine, onions and mushrooms. The flavor is so unusual you'll want to serve it as company fare.

Potted Swiss Steak

2 pounds round steak flour salt pepper
2 large onions, chopped
1 cup water
1 4-ounce can mushrooms
1 cup red wine

Into swiss steak, pound flour, salt and pepper. Brown the steak on both sides. Remove steak and brown onions. Add steak and place onions around it. Add wine and water.

Cover and bake at 325 degrees for 1½ hours or until done. Add mushrooms last ¼ hour. Serve with onion-wine sauce. Add more water if necessary during cooking. Makes 4 servings.

PEANUT-SCOTCH FUDGE—Combine two 6-oz. packages butterscotch pieces, one 14-oz. can sweetened condensed milk and 16 marshmallows in top of double boiler. Stir over boiling water until melted and smooth; remove from heat. Stir in one-half cup peanut butter, one teaspoon vanilla and one-eighth teaspoon salt. Pour into buttered 8-inch pan. Chill until almost firm. Mark into squares and press walnut half in each. Continue to chill until firm. Makes 2½ pounds.

Oswald: "Here is a hand which really shows the American team trials players at their best. Looking at all the cards one can see that North and South can wrap up either seven clubs or seven hearts and that it should not be hard to get to one of those grand slams."

Jim: "The great trouble is that in this type competition no one is left to his own devices."

Oswald: "There was plenty of bidding static from East and West. The toughest series of bids came from Mike Lawrence and Lew Stansby. Lawrence overcalled with four spades. Marshall Miles bid four no-trump with the North hand and Stansby, sitting East jumped to six spades!"

Jim: "This type of bid is known as a premature sacrifice. Stansby was going to go to six spades in any event. He decided to bid it early and hope for the best."

"The best happened. South passed to give his partner a chance to go to seven hearts but North decided to double and take a sure profit. It was a point profit since 700 plus was low score and meant a loss of 12 International Match Points."

Oswald: "The next best East-West score went to Kehela and Murray. Kehela overcalled with two spades, which did not keep North and South from getting to seven but Murray showed why he is one of our most successful com-

The Endless Summer

Surfing Film Ranks With Epics

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

DANA POINT, Calif. — Recently, a film called "The Endless Summer" placed No. 10 on Variety's weekly list of the country's money-making films which included "The Sound of Music," "Doctor Zhivago" and "The Bible."

These epics cost more than $10 million apiece. "The Endless Summer" ran up a total bill of $50,000.

Dubbed "Fellini of the Foam" — New York Times — and "Bergman of the Boards" — Time magazine — Bruce Brown has accomplished what appeared to be impossible. He took his simple, beautifully filmed movie to New York and achieved reviews that many a producer of epics would trade his yacht for.

After eight months, "The Endless Summer" is still playing at the Kips Bay Theater in Manhattan, and it has broken records in other key cities. It is up for an Oscar as best documentary of 1966.

INDEPENDENCE I dropped down to this sun-swept community, 70 miles south of Hollywood, to find out if success had spoiled Bruce Brown. It hasn't. He remains the same independent soul as when he was showing his surfing films in high school auditoriums of Southern California.

"Yeah, there has been a lot of action since 'The Endless Summer' was accepted by a mass audience," he conceded. "Producers call me with ideas for movies, all of which I don't want to do."

"The other day I was up at MGM talking to Ivan Tors (producer of 'Flipper,' 'Daktari,' etc.) He told me if I wanted to make a television series about surfing, he could sell it in a minute. I told him, 'I don't want to make a television series about surfing.'"

"What I want to make is a movie about commercial fishing for swordfish. But every time I mention it to people in the movie business, their eyes glaze and they say, 'Nobody wants to see a film about fishing.'"

WORLD SEARCH For a couple of years, the same persons were telling Brown, "Nobody wants to see a film about surfing." But Brown figured there would be general interest in his movie, which concerned the around-the-world search of two young surfers for the perfect wave. He hooked everything he owned to finance the New York opening, and the gamble paid off.

"If it hadn't, I would have lost everything — my house, my business, the whole works," he says. "I was up to my eyeballs in debt."

Everything is coming up roses now. He can afford a 40-foot commercial fishing boat and an ocean runabout, four motorcycles and a Jeep to prowling the nearby hills. A slim man of 29 with sun-bleached hair and a constant tan, he prefers the ocean or mountain life to work in smog-bound Hollywood. He lives in a cliff-hanging house with his pretty wife and three children.

"Me work in a studio?" he muses. "Not a chance."

Rights Leader in Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Stokely Carmichael, a leader of the black power movement in the United States, lent his support Tuesday night to the movement for Puerto Rican independence.

Addressing several hundred persons at a street corner rally, Carmichael said: "We want to state unequivocally that we are behind the people who are fighting for the independence of Puerto Rico."

Carmichael, outgoing chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, is on a three-day visit to Puerto Rico. He was invited by the University Pro-Independence Federation, a leftist, pro-Castro group, and the Pro-Independence Movement.

Both Carmichael and leaders of the independence movement asserted at the rally that Puerto Rican independence and civil rights in the United States are closely allied.

"The Negroes are a colony within the United States," Carmichael said. "You in Puerto Rico are a colony outside the U.S."

GAMBLER AND WON — This is Bruce Brown, a man of 29 who produced a movie, "The Endless Summer," for a total figure of $50,000. Brown was in debt when the picture was finished. Things now, however, are different. The movie recently was placed tenth on Variety's weekly list of money makers, including such epics as "The Sound of Music" and "The Bible."

Directors OK Bank Merger

DETROIT (AP)—Directors of the Detroit Bank and Trust and the Commercial Savings Bank of Roseville approved a proposed merger Tuesday.

The agreement provides for operation of all offices of the Roseville bank under the name of the Detroit Bank and Trust Co.

It is subject to approval of two-thirds of the shareholders of both banks and by their regulatory agencies.

Sophia at Work After Baby Loss

ROME (UPI) — Film star Sophia Loren is back at work only 13 days after suffering a miscarriage, movie studio officials said today.

They said Miss Loren wanted to complete her part in the film "A Likely Story" before leaving for a rest in Switzerland.

They said the 31-year-old actress has recovered from the physical and mental shock of losing the child.

Pact Ratified at Greyhound

CHICAGO (AP)—The threat of a strike by Greyhound bus drivers appears to have finally ended following ratification of a contract affecting workers in 15 states.

Drivers and terminal and maintenance employees of Greyhound Lines' Eastern Division voted 2,900-1,377 in favor of the two-year contract, a company spokesman announced Monday.

Details of the contract, retroactive to Nov. 1, were not released.

The contract, affecting Amalgamated Transit Union members in 15 states from Chicago and St. Louis to the East Coast and north of the Mason-Dixon Line, was the second one to be proposed. Union members rejected a nearlier contract just before Christmas.

A strike was averted by one hour when negotiators agreed to extend the contract day by day during negotiations with a federal mediator.

Summer Job Twist: Student Does Paying

NEW YORK (AP) — Most high school and college students used to look forward to summer jobs as a way of earning tuition for the following term.

The new twist now is for students to pay for a summer job in an African village or a Mexico City slum, McCall's magazine said today.

Lynda Bird Johnson and two other editors for McCall's 25 years, and only the older ones remember a season of peace.

And this long visit of war not only has conditioned the character of the people, but also the nature of their economy.

The adults, and many teenagers, are trained to use a rifle or a machine gun. The ministers in the government are trained to bear arms. Even the barmaids at the hotel are skilled at lifting a rifle and running into the courtyard to shoot at the American planes.

JAPAN OCCUPATION You could say that the modern guerrilla society was established when the Japanese occupied Vietnam during World War II. The Japanese collaborated with the French residents, or most of them, and a Viet underground was fashioned to fight them both.

Later, the guerrilla society took on the French, and the world knows of the historic battle of Dien Bien Phu, where the Vietnamese astounded the French by transporting heavy artillery and other needs of war.

Among the "jobs you pay for" listed in the magazine were slum rehabilitation in New Windsor, Md., and Cyprus; community service tutoring sponsored by the Methodist Church; Luther League work camps in this country and Honduras; remodeling a church in rural Missouri; and building a recreation center on an Indian reservation.

Firm Is Robbed

DETROIT (AP) — A bandit slipped a teller at the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association a note threatening her life if she failed to fill a paper bag with money Tuesday. She stuffed the sack with $2,740. He fled. One customer and five other bank tellers were unaware of the robbery.

HANOI, North Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnam is a guerrilla society.

The people here have been at war, mostly guerrilla war, for 25 years, and only the older ones remember a season of peace.

Onetime Star of Jet Fleet Being Taken for Granted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you don't believe fame is short-lived take a look at N503, a onetime star, now just a drudge. N503 isn't a convict, or a computer. It's a plane, one the historians may consider special. But to the transcontinental commuter, it is just a way of getting from coast to coast in five hours.

Only eight years ago, N503 was being feted and fawned over. Everyone in the airline industry was talking about it. Passengers were on a long waiting list to get a seat, and every where it landed, people pointed it out.

Now, no one could care less. N503 is not exactly a has-been. In fact it is far from it. But what N503 did so spectacularly in 1959 is now commonplace.

What did it do? Well, N503 was the plane that introduced commercial transcontinental jet travel to the United States.

Since then the American Airlines Boeing 707 has flown the equivalent of 52 trips to the moon. Or 522 trips around the world. When it was built, it cost $5 million. Since it started flying it has earned $80 million in gross revenues.

But it had its share of wear over the years. Its jet engines have been changed 131 times. It had five major overhauls, and made a total of 5,960 scheduled flights, not to mention the number of training and test flights it needed.

It has visited more cities more often than a senior traveling salesman. It went to Los Angeles 1,540 times, New York 1,248 times and Chicago 940 times.

A Junior Editors Quiz About SNAILS

QUESTION: Why does a snail move so slowly?

ANSWER: Most animals can lift their bodies up in the air and run along rapidly on their legs. If you took the position of the boy in our picture and tried to move ahead just on your body, without using arms and legs, you wouldn't get very far. This is the position the snail is in.

The snail moves by stretching his body as far forward as he can. There is a kind of foot inside it which he keeps close to the ground so as to get a grip. He is also able to lay down a sticky solution which helps the foot to take hold. Then the snail contracts his body and this draws him, shell and all, up to the place where his foot has taken hold. He will then extend his body and repeat the process.

The fact that he can only inch ahead a very short distance each time is what makes him so slow. The sticky solution he lays down acts as a kind of road bed, for it protects his soft body from sharp things which might injure it. In times of danger, a snail can withdraw inside his shell, sealing the opening with a kind of hard door he carries on his body.

Sherbet and Cake Are Natural Pair

Know how popular milk ices and sherbets are at the supermarkets these days? They're really easier to make than to shop for with the new strawberry punch flavor gelatin. Just add dissolved gelatin to milk and freeze, beating once midway in the freezing process to make the sherbet smoother.

Serve the gay pink sherbet with squares or rectangles of Red Devil's Food Cake and Mrs. Minnesota's Chocolate Frosting, a delicious dessert for bridge club. (Yes, recipe for frosting came from namesake state.)

Chief difference between this new strawberry punch flavor gelatin and your old favorite strawberry is the addition of pineapple and orange flavors. Just as a squeeze of lemon juice bring out flavor in melon, pineapple brings out strawberry flavor.

Strawberry Punch Sherbet

1 package (3 oz.) strawberry punch flavor gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup boiling water
2 cups milk

Dissolve gelatin, sugar, and salt in boiling water. Chill until slightly syrupy. Add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Pour into an 8-inch square pan.

Freeze until mixture is frozen about 1/2 inch around edge—about 1 hour. Pour into chilled bowl. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy but not thawed.

Return to pan and freeze until firm—5 hours longer. Makes about 3 cups or 6 servings.

Red Devil's Food Cake

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 1/4 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups sugar

1/2 cup shortening at room temperature
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs

3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted

Sift flour with soda, salt, and sugar.

Stir shortening in bowl to soften. Sift in dry ingredients. Add 1/2 cup of the milk and the vanilla and mix until all flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at medium speed of electric mixer or 100 vigorous strokes by hand.

Add eggs, melted chocolate, and remaining milk. Beat 1 minute longer in mixer or 150 strokes by hand.

Pour into a 13x9-inch pan that has been lined on bottom with paper. Bake at 350 degrees about 40 minutes. Cool 10 to 15 minutes in pan; then remove from pan and cool thoroughly on rack.

Spread frosting over top and sides. Cut in squares or rectangles.

Mrs. Minnesota's Chocolate Frosting

5 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

1/2 cup milk
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar

Melt butter and chocolate over low heat in heavy saucepan. Blend in brown sugar and milk. Cook and stir until mixture comes to a boil; reduce heat and boil gently 4 minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent scorching.

Remove from heat and beat in confectioners' sugar. Let stand to cool slightly, beating occasionally until of spreading consistency. Spread immediately over top and sides of cake.

Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Note: If frosting hardens before spreading, add 1/4 to 1 teaspoon hot water and beat until smooth.

BRIDGE CLUB DESSERT — Pink and pretty dessert for bridge club, sherbet made from strawberry punch flavor gelatin to serve with chocolate cake and frosting.

Kids of All Ages Will Enjoy These

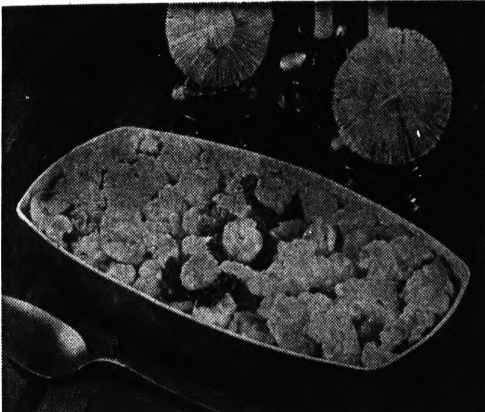

Here's a mid-afternoon snack idea. Called Crispy Date Cookies, they are especially designed to please the youngsters.

Crispy Date Cookies

1 cup margarine
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 package (1 pound) pitted dates, cut
2 tablespoons vanilla
4 cups rice crispies

Melt margarine in skillet. Add sugar, eggs and cut dates. Simmer about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool to lukewarm. Add vanilla and rice crispies. Mix well.

Form into small balls, about 1 1/4 inches in diameter. Roll cookies in chopped pecans or coconut if desired.

COLOSSAL CAULIFLOWER—Slip two 10-oz. packages cauliflower frozen in cheese sauce in cooking pouch into boiling water. Bring to second boil; continue cooking 16 minutes. Do not cover pan. Pour into serving dish and stir in one 2 1/2-oz. jar cocktail shrimp, drained. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Uses Canned Meats

Stuffing for Fowl Is Different

Here's the stuffing that food editors found so delicious at the Boston dinner given by the William Underwood Company.

The dinner commemorated the 100th anniversary of the development of Deviled Ham, an Underwood family recipe which was introduced to the public in 1867.

This is an up-to-date adaptation of a delicious (or should we say devilicious!) stuffing that was served that evening. It's used with Rock Cornish Hen but you'll find it equally good for squab.

"Devilicious" Stuffing

4 Rock Cornish hens (1 lb. each)

1/4 lb. fresh mushrooms,
2 tablespoons green onion, chopped

Butter

2 4-oz. cans deviled ham

1 4-oz. can liver spread

1 clove garlic minced

1/2 teaspoon pepper

2 egg yolks

2 tablespoons dry bread crumbs

1 tablespoon cognac

Remove neck and giblets from birds. Saute' livers with mushrooms and onions in small amount of butter until just tender. Cool and chop very fine.

Combine deviled ham, liver spread and remaining ingredients. Add to liver mixture, blend well. Use to stuff 4 Rock Cornish hens. Makes about 2 1/2 cups stuffing. Bake Rock Cornish hens at 400 degrees F. for one hour.

Asparagus and Chicken Make Fine Eating

This is nice when a few of 'the girls' come for a noon visit.

Asparagus Divan

1 package (10 ounces) frozen asparagus spears

1 1/2 tablespoons each butter (or margarine) and flour

1 cup milk

Salt and white pepper to taste

3 servings sliced cooked chicken (white meat)

1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Paprika

Cook the asparagus according to package directions; drain, cover and keep warm. Make a white sauce of the butter, flour and milk, adding salt and pepper.

Arrange the asparagus in a deep 8-inch glass pie plate; cover with chicken. Pour sauce over chicken; sprinkle with Parmesan and paprika.

Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven until bubbly—about 20 minutes. Makes 3 servings.

Need Two Kinds

Rubber spatulas come with wide and narrow blades and both sizes are needed in the kitchen. Use the wide-blade spatula to scrape down batter from a large mixing bowl, the narrow-blade spatula for mixtures in small bowls.

The narrow-blade spatula is also efficient to use in scraping down mixtures in an electric blender.

For a delightful winter compote, mix sections of fresh oranges and grapefruit with sugar to taste and top with slivered syrup-preserved ginger.

Made Fresh Daily in Flint by Flint People!

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Lamb crown roast.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. It contains the whole rib section of lamb. It can be recognized by its circular "crown" shape. Smaller than the pork crown roast, the lamb crown weighs approximately 3 1/2 to 4 pounds. Lamb crown roasts are not seen too often at the meat market and it's wise to order in advance.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting. Place the roast, rib ends down, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours. Turn roast so rib ends are up and fill center of crown with bread or bread-fruit stuffing, if desired. Insert roast meat thermometer into center of thickest part of roast, being careful the meat thermometer does not rest in fat, on bone or in stuffing. Continue roasting 1 to 1 1/4 hours or until meat thermometer registers 175 degrees F. to 180 degrees F.

'Finest Game' Yields 65-60 Win

PCH Upsets Saginaw High to Take Lead in Valley

By FLETCHER SPEARS

The idea of afternoon basketball may catch on at Pontiac Central.

If coach Fred Zittel could be certain the Chiefs would play the way they did yesterday, he'd insist that all games be played hereafter while the sun's up.

Playing by far their finest game of the season, the Chiefs knocked off Saginaw, 65-60, handing the Trojans (8-1) their first setback of the season, and moving ahead of the losers in the Saginaw Valley Conference race.

Central, winning its fifth in a row, is now 6-1 in SVC play and 8-2 over-all, while the Trojans are a half game back in the league race at 5-1.

"It's just the finest game we've ever played," Zittel was saying amid the wellwishers.

COACH BEAMS

Zittel was beaming and with good reason. Not only had the Chiefs kayoed the No. 3 ranked team among the state's Class A powers, but the feat had been accomplished early enough to enable him to get home in time for dinner.

The game was originally slated for 8 p.m. but moved to 3:30 following an incident after the Flint Northern game Jan. 13.

Central, giving away height on the backboards and lacking the bench strength of Saginaw, stirred the small, partisan crowd by outplaying the Trojans in the first half and gaining a 35-28 lead at intermission.

Perhaps Zittel sensed that the Chiefs might be too tired to stand the pressure of another 16 minutes against the tall Trojans.

"It's the best half we've had," he said just before the Chiefs moved back onto the court. "We had our lucky shots in the first half and I just hope we can keep it up."

SAGINAW MOVES

With 5:24 left in the game, it seemed as if the Trojans were ready to overpower the Chiefs.

After trailing most of the way, except for a brief 3-0 and 5-3 leads early in the game, Sag-naw, down 47-37, battled back to tie the game at 50-all with 5:24 left.

Moments later, the Trojans were in front, 52-50, but the Chiefs tied it at 4:20 and went ahead for good (53-52) on a free throw by John Childs with 4:11 remaining.

PCH built the lead to 61-54 at the 1:49 mark, but the Trojans battled back within two points, 62-60, with 25 seconds showing.

At that point, the Chiefs' Prentice Hill was intentionally fouled and made the first but missed the second for a 63-60 lead. PCH gained the rebound with 11 seconds left and Hill was fouled again. Again, he made the first and missed the second making it 64-60.

FOULED AGAIN

A jump ball resulted when Hill missed his second and PCH got the tip. The Trojans again fouled Hill and he made the final point from the charity stripe.

It was their shooting from the free throw line plus tight defensive work on the Trojans that spelled victory for the Chiefs.

PCH hit on 23 of 36 shots from the charity stripe, while Saginaw collected only six of 16.

Forward Alton Wilson, a 6-1 junior, wrecked the Trojans in the first half.

Wilson hit from close range, on long jumpers and from the foul line to roll up 19 points before intermission. He teamed with Gordon Hamilton (6-3) and Walter Causey (6-3) to give the Chiefs a 37-36 edge in the rebounding department.

STRONG JOB

Childs turned in a strong defensive performance as he held All-Valley guard Charles Kelly to eight points and bottled up much of the little (5-4) playmaker's passing.

Wilson finished with 25 points to lead the Chiefs. Hill picked up 19.

Senior Jim Haines led the offensive effort for the Trojans with 18 points. Adrian Prince, a 6-6 center, managed only eight, a figure matched by 6-2 forward Larry Pershay.

Central played a deliberate ball-control game, and a few stray passes early in the game let Saginaw move in front.

But the Chiefs settled down and took the lead for the first time at 8-7, and after falling behind 11-9, they tossed in four quick buckets to take a 17-11 lead after one quarter.

Saginaw went to a pressing defense, midway in the second period and stayed with it the rest of the game, but it had little effect on the Chiefs who picked up several buckets when players were left unguarded.

BIGGEST LEAD

Central enjoyed its biggest lead, 44-32, with 5:17 left in the third stanza.

For the game, Saginaw hit on 46 per cent of its shots, 27 of 58, while PCH connected on 21 of 50 (42 per cent).

PCH is idle this Friday and travels to Flint next Tuesday to meet Southwestern in a night game. Saginaw entertains Southwestern this Friday.

Olympic Outlook Is Favorable

Mexico City Games Official Makes Report

Arenas, Village Due for Completion in 18 Months

CHICAGO (AP)—The chairman of Mexico's Olympic Organizing Committee submitted Tuesday what International Olympic Committee chairman Avery Brundage described as a favorable progress report on the 1968 games.

At a crowded news conference Pedro Ramirez Vasquez reported that Mexico City was well under way in preparation for the next Olympics, Oct. 18-27.

Vasquez held a two-day conference with Brundage, who will report on the current status of the games preparations to the IOC's executive board in Copenhagen Feb. 11-12.

Vasquez, speaking through an interpreter, spent more than an hour in outlining the status of Mexico City's planning and preparation for the games.

He said that within 18 months, work will be completed on four additional arenas and on an Olympic village which will house an expected 6,000 athletes and 7,000 officials and press representatives from throughout the world.

The arenas include a sports palace for basketball seating 23,370; an Olympic pool with 10,000 seats; a velodrome with 6,000 seats; and a gymnasium for volleyball seating 5,000.

SLEEPING CAPACITY

Vasquez said that greater Mexico City will have a capacity of 50,000 beds for Olympic visitors.

Both Vasquez and Brundage, in response to a question from the floor, minimized the effects of Mexico City's high altitude on the athletic performances.

Brundage said "In concentrated events shorter races times may be better. In the longer distance events the times normally may be slower. It might be recalled in the winter games at Squaw Valley, which has a higher altitude than Mexico City, a Norwegian skier smashed the 10,000 meter world record."

Vasquez estimated the entire Olympic program would cost $32 million compared with $3 billion which the 1964 Tokyo Games reportedly cost Japan. He emphasized that the Olympic Village would be used for future regular housing in Mexico City.

Cage Coaches Say Officiating Varies

CHICAGO (AP)—Varying types of officiating in different parts of the country force basketball coaches to make adjustments when their teams are on the road.

Several of basketball's top collegiate mentors agreed Tuesday that the main disadvantage in playing away from home is not the partisan crowds but the type of officiating encountered.

Johnny Dee of Notre Dame went so far as to tell Chicago basketball writers that "winning on the road is almost unheard of these days."

"There is a great lack of uniformity in officiating," he said.

"The key to any college boy becoming great is his ability to adjust to the different officiating. It's the mechanics between two officials working a game."

"I would like to see one official work one side of the court and the other take the opposite side, letting each call them in his own way. They could switch sides when there is a free throw or time out. There then would be uniformity in calls on either side of the court and not overlapping of calls and judgment."

Johnny Wooden, UCLA — "There is more of a closeness in types of officiating than there was 10 years ago, but there still are different opinions and philosophies in how they call them."

"In the Midwest officials protect the offense more. A good, hard charging man can do no wrong. There are more calls on offense on the West Coast. However, I think in the Midwest the officials are more consistent in making calls — not that I always agree with the calls they make."

Stan Watts, Brigham Young — "We have to make adjustments when we go on the road to try to compensate for different interpretations on calls."

"This is the hardest thing about preparing for away games. Officiating clinics have helped in uniformity, but getting officials to adhere to what they learn is another matter."

"In the Big Ten and on the West Coast play seems rougher on the boards. In the East there is more officiating attention to pick-off plays. In the South they are more lax in calling traveling."

ALBION (AP)—Eastern Michigan, the winningest college basketball team in the state, rolled right over Albion Tuesday with an 85-67 victory.

Albion led briefly at the start but by halftime the Hurons had built up a 43-27 lead.

The Britons surged forward in the second half and came within seven points of tying before the Hurons pulled away for keeps.

EMU's Harvey Marlatt was high scorer with 25 points. Ed Stephens led Albion with 17.

Eastern has a 13-3 record. Albion is 3-11.

Schutsky, a 6-foot-2 junior from Hillsdale, N.J., exploded for 15 straight points to cut short a second half rally by Massachusetts at West Point.

That upped Army's overall record to 7-6. If the Cadets can follow through against Boston University, Fordham, Penn State, Manhattan, St. John's, Rutgers, NYU and Navy in their remaining games, they are virtually certain to land a postseason tournament berth.

IN SEMIFINALS

In each of the last three seasons they reached the semifinals of the NIT.

In other home court victories on Tuesday's slim program, Cincinnati crushed Centenary 100-76, East Carolina beat George Washington 79-73, Arizona State humbled Hawaii 79-64, and San Francisco downed San Francisco State 75-64. On the road, Georgia Tech defeated Clemson 88-77. All the Top Ten teams in The Associated Press poll were idle.

Schutsky, a 6-foot-2 junior from Hillsdale, N.J., exploded for 15 straight points to cut short a second half rally by Massachusetts at West Point.

That upped Army's overall record to 7-6. If the Cadets can follow through against Boston University, Fordham, Penn State, Manhattan, St. John's, Rutgers, NYU and Navy in their remaining games, they are virtually certain to land a postseason tournament berth.

Clarkston Breezes to 90-53 Triumph Over Lakers

Cranes Upset Country Day

Highly regarded Country Day of Birmingham paid a penalty for being a private school Tuesday afternoon when it journeyed to Cranbrook for a basketball game.

The host Cranes unleashed their "secret" weapon on Country Day and posted their biggest victory of the season, a 54-47 upset triumph that reiterated the importance of the home court in prep hoop action.

Ron Fallon, a junior transfer who is only eligible to play against private schools, and Jon Pavloff sparked the Cranes in a fourth-quarter sensational shooting spree that produced the victory.

Cranbrook raised its season record to 5-3 after two opening losses with a 9-for-12 last-period shooting effort.

Pavloff hit two 15-foot jumpers in a four-for-four output and Fallon two 20-foot-plus one-handers and a driving hook shot in a three-for-four effort. Curt Mann tossed in another jumper from 20 feet during the surge.

CLOSE DUEL

The hot shooting enabled the home quintet to pull away in the closing two minutes after a nip-and-tuck duel most of the game.

The off-target Yellow Jackets (now 7-2 and whose only two defeats have come in the two games they've been held under .0 points) led, 10-1, at the outset before Cranbrook warmed to its mission.

Earlier this season, the Class C Country Day squad trimmed

CLUTCH SHOT

Cranbrook's 6-5 center Jon Pavloff, a four-year regular, has proven his ability under pressure with key baskets in the last two games. His field goal beat South Lyon in the closing seconds last Saturday, then he hit eight of his 16 points in the final period of yesterday's 54-47 upset win over Country Day.

Jerry Olsen Registers 37 for MCJC

Jerry Olsen poured in 37 points last night in leading Michigan Christian Junior College to a 79-73 victory over visiting Philadelphia College of Bible.

The win was the fifth in a row for MCJC and ran the team's over-all record to 9-7. The squad entertains Kentucky Christian 8 p.m. Friday at Rochester High School.

The Philadelphia quintet grabbed a 39-37 lead at intermission, but MCJC pulled it out in the second half.

Olsen tossed in 17 field goals and added three free throws for his 37 points. Teammate Ray Hudson added 20.

Rod Furman picked up 26 for the losers.

Briton Wins Bout

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (AP) — Jack Bodell, a southpaw challenger for Henry Cooper's British heavyweight title, stormed to a 10-round decision over Ray Patterson Tuesday night.

Patterson, who now fights out of Sweden, is the younger brother of former world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson. He weighed 194 pounds, 4 less than the Briton.

Baylor Leaves Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers of the National Basketball Association was discharged Tuesday from Massachusetts General Hospital after suffering a stomach upset Sunday night.

Moe Iba Agrees, Too

NEW YORK (AP) — The basketball coach at Memphis State shies away from scheduling Oklahoma State.

"Their coach is a lot smarter than me," he said in a telephone interview, "and I hate to get beat."

The Oklahoma State coach, also reached by telephone, readily agreed. "He's right about my being smarter, and I wouldn't want to beat him."

As possibly the only father-son college coaching combination, what else would you expect Henry Iba and Henry (Moe) Iba to say?

They came close to meeting in the Memphis State Classic, but the host team won its first game and Oklahoma State lost its opener in the four-team tournament.

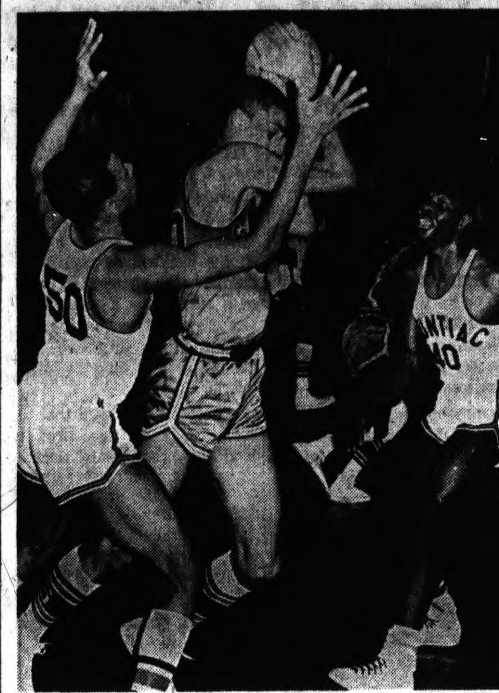

"You never want to play against a relative or anyone you've coached," father Hank said. "You don't get any joy from beating them, and they wouldn't like beating you."

BY WORD IS DEFENSE

Of course, a meeting this season between young Iba and his famous father could be embarrassing to the old master, who has made defense his byword in 40 years of coaching, 33 at Oklahoma State.

Moe learned his lessons so well while playing under his father for three years at Oklahoma State, he has Memphis State leading the nation in defense with an 11-4 record in his first season as a head coach.

Rains Could Help Los Angeles Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rain may help the usually dry Los Angeles Open golf tournament providing the downpour doesn't continue Thursday, opening day.

Last week, observers said the Rancho Park municipal course fairways seemed too hard and would have been easy marks for the long-hitting pros. Since then, Los Angeles has had a good drenching. So good that several fairways were under water Tuesday, but the forecast was for clearing skies.

Favorites in the 142-man Open field are, of course, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Bill Casper. Nicklaus just picked up $16,000 by winning the Bing Crosby tournament on the Monterey Peninsula, and Palmer and Casper were not far behind.

Palmer, in particular, should be looking forward to the $100,000 Los Angeles Open. It was in the third round of the Open last year at Rancho Park that he shot 29 on nine holes, totalling 62 for 18 holes, both records for the 1966 pro tour.

TWO WINS

Palmer has won the Open twice, with 273 last year and 274 in 1963.

Nicklaus will be on hand for the first time in five years. He turned pro at this tournament in 1962 but hasn't been back since.

Casper, the 1966 golfer of the year, is seeking his first Los Angeles Open victory.

All top 10 money winners and 45 of the top 50 from 1966 will attack the 6,821-yard layout, which has par of 36-35-71.

Phil Rodgers holds the Ranch record—268—scored when he won in 1962.

Other top pros entered include Doug Sanders, Frank Beard, Al Geiberger, Miller Barber, Paul Harney, Bob Charles, Ken Venturi and Gene Littler.

All but 18 spots in the field have been filled by players exempt from qualifying. The rain washed out qualifying Tuesday, so it was rescheduled with the pro-amateur tourney today.

This will be the third stop on the 1967 tour. The San Diego Open kicked things off, and the Crosby event wound up Sunday.

Brighton Tops Holly, 80-79, in Overtime

Fife Sparks Wolves to Sixth Straight With 38 Points

Clarkston breezed to victory while Brighton was pushed into double overtime before extracting a decision last night in Wayne-Oakland League basketball action.

The Wolves of Clarkston posted their sixth win in a row and ran their league-leading record to 8-0 with a 90-53 romp over West Bloomfield.

Brighton (3-5) blew a 17-point lead in regulation and then rallied from a five-point deficit in the second overtime in subduing Holly, 80-79.

Clarkston hit on nine of its first 10 shots and zoomed to a 22-12 first quarter lead and upped it by a point at intermission, 39-28.

It was all over in the third quarter as the Wolves tossed in 33 points to 11 for West Bloomfield (1-7), which suffered its sixth loss in a row.

PULLS STARTERS

Coach Bud McGrath pulled his starters in the third and the reserves finished for Clarkston.

Oakland County scoring leader Dan Fife pushed in 38 points, hitting on 14 of 22 from the field and 10 of 10 at the charity line. He was the only one in double figures for the Wolves.

Ted LaPratt collected 17 points for the Lakers. Pat Windey tossed in 14 and Larry Ainding added 11.

Guard Larry Lemorie, a 5-9 senior, was the big gun for Brighton and a thorn for Holly (4-4).

Lemorie tuned loose a 15-foot jumper with four seconds left for the winning basket. Earlier, he scored both Brighton buckets in the first overtime to force an 81-81 tie, and in the second extra period with Holly ahead, 76-71, he led an attack that produced a brief Brighton lead, 78-77.

HOLLY LEADS

Moments later, Holly's Greg Averyhardt pushed in a pair of free throws to put Holly in front, 79-78. Lemorie's basket came just seconds later.

For the evening Lemorie collected 24 points to take game scoring honors, followed by teammates Rick Wellman (23) and Randy Needham (19).

Averyhardt tossed in 23 for the losers. Mike Beelby chipped in with 17 and Dennis Walters added 14.

Father Claims He's Smarter

NEW YORK (AP) — The basketball coach at Memphis State shies away from scheduling Oklahoma State.

"Their coach is a lot smarter than me," he said in a telephone interview, "and I hate to get beat."

The Oklahoma State coach, also reached by telephone, readily agreed. "He's right about my being smarter, and I wouldn't want to beat him."

As possibly the only father-son college coaching combination, what else would you expect Henry Iba and Henry (Moe) Iba to say?

They came close to meeting in the Memphis State Classic, but the host team won its first game and Oklahoma State lost its opener in the four-team tournament.

"You never want to play against a relative or anyone you've coached," father Hank said. "You don't get any joy from beating them, and they wouldn't like beating you."

BY WORD IS DEFENSE

Of course, a meeting this season between young Iba and his famous father could be embarrassing to the old master, who has made defense his byword in 40 years of coaching, 33 at Oklahoma State.

Moe learned his lessons so well while playing under his father for three years at Oklahoma State, he has Memphis State leading the nation in defense with an 11-4 record in his first season as a head coach.

PROPER BILLIARDS

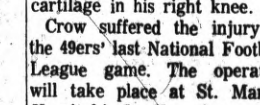

by Jim Lidey

There are about a dozen different versions of the pocket billiard game. These include straight pool or 14-1, rotation, one pocket and 8-ball.

I have found that the game most often played is 8-ball. This game can be played by either two or four players. In the four-player game, there are two sets of partners. Whether the game is played two or four-handed, here is the procedure used:

First a coin is tossed to see who will break the racked balls. After the first ball has been pocketed (let's assume it's the No. 1 ball), the player making it is then committed to pocket all the solid balls—numbers one through seven.

WOLL Entertains Holy Cross Tonight

Lakers' Macomb Title Drive Reaches 'Must' Stage

Time is running out on Waterford Our Lady of Lakes' bid to reign as champion of the Macomb Catholic League basketball race, but the Lakers can gain some ground tonight.

They entertain a dangerous Marine City Holy Cross quintet in a game, the Lakers must win to retain any chance for an outright Macomb crown.

Waterford OLL currently is 8-1 in the league to unbeaten St. Michael's 10-0 mark. The Mikemen have two circuit contests remaining and WOLL has three.

WOLL's Lakers will play Friday night and the Shamrocks Saturday night in league clashes. Then they will collide head-on Feb. 3 in what looms as the elimination battle for the Detroit Catholic League's Macomb Second Division playoff berth.

PARALLEL

The current situation closely parallels last winter's race when the same two contenders, plus St. Frederick, finished in a tie for first place.

The Lakers earned the playoff berth based on comparative scores during the season. Assuming both teams continue to win until their meeting next week, WOLL would have to beat St. Mike by three points in that game (thus tying for the title) to earn the spot.

The Shamrocks won the first meeting last month, 59-57, in double overtime. They will have the home court advantage in the rematch and are favored to take the championship.

Still, coach Jim Niebauer and the Mikemen must have haunting memories of last season when they lost the outright title and playoff berth in the final game of the regular schedule.

This year's Macomb champ will play the second place finisher from the Northwest Catholic circuit 6:30 p.m. Feb. 5 at the University of Detroit Memorial Building in the opening round of the Second Division eliminations.

At the moment, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Ferndale St. James and Orchard Lake St. Mary are contending for the top three places in that circuit. Farmington OLS is assured of a berth in the playoffs since it can finish no worse than second.

The Lancers pace the Northwest loop with a 9-2 mark. OLSM is 8-2, and can tie for first place with two closing wins but must defeat St. James in the finale to be assured of a playoff spot.

The Dales dumped St. Mary in an earlier meeting, but now trail the Eagles by one game in the standings. Both are heavy favorites to win Friday night.

That would make their meeting at Orchard Lake the following Friday a duel involving the top three places in the standings plus one of the two playoff berths.

The Northwest winner will tangle with All Saints, the Metro Catholic League winner, at 3:30 p.m. Feb. 5 on the U. of D. court.

Pro '5' Delaying Move on Coach

SEATTLE (AP) — Officials of Seattle's new National Basketball Association team said Tuesday they would not name a coach until the end of the current season.

"We now will be in position to consider coaches whose jobs may be in jeopardy for one reason or another," said Seattle general manager Don Richman. No specific prospects were mentioned.

Should OLSM and Sorrows Friday Anchor Bay Catholic slate. finished tied for first place, St. will visit WOLL and St. Fred The Northwest card Friday Mary would be the top quintet will go to Holy Cross. St. Mike's has FOLS at St. Benedict, St. trip to Richmond St. Augustine Francis de Sales at St. James is Saturday on the Macomb and OLSM at St. Rita.

Place in Outfield Preferred by Tresh

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Tom Tresh became the first member of the New York Yankees to sign his contract Tuesday and set two goals for the 1967 season — hitting more homers and keeping himself out of the infield.

And, he drew a relationship between the two.

Tresh, who moved in from left field to play third base for the Yankees in the early part of the 1966 season, hit only .223 but slammed 27 homers. The batting average was the lowest of his career but the home run total was his highest.

"I had my taste of third base last year and I don't care to be back in the infield again," Tresh said by phone from his home in Mount Pleasant, Mich. "Last year was proof enough to me; it kind of upset my year as far as statistics go."

19 HOMERS

It was while he was concentrating on learning how to handle third base that he was unable to get untracked. But he did hit 19 of his homers over the second half of the season.

"The first part of the year I hit the ball good, but they weren't going anywhere," Tresh said. My average was down mainly because I didn't hit in that first part. I was horrible. "But the homers indicated I'm getting stronger and more mature and I should be able to hit more homers this season. I'd like to hit over 30 homers — and I think I can."

Tresh also said he thought the key to the Yankees' chances of moving out of the American League cellar — and even challenging for the pennant — was how well he, Joe Pepitone, Mickey Mantle and the rest of the Yankee sluggers hit.

Don't Read It!

More Michigan drivers buy the Exchange policy at the Auto Club than any other automobile insurance policy sold in the State.

Then, the majority don't read it.

We think it's because the words used in the policy are not nearly as familiar as our reputation for leadership, integrity, fair-dealing and value.

If you have one of our policies, you should read it—sometime. It's full of advantages you may have forgotten about.

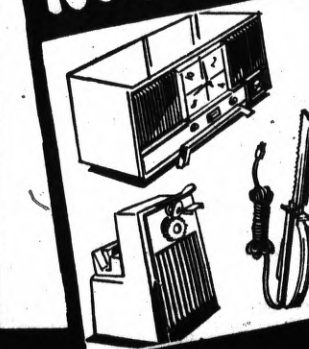

If you don't have an Exchange policy, buy one! It's a most interesting story of protecting your car and yourself.

Weather Puts Damper on Ice Fishing, Hunting

The annual January thaw has put a damper on ice fishing and curtailed the activity of rabbit hunters.

Although ice on most area lakes averages six to 10 inches, the extremely warm weather accompanied by yesterday's thunderstorm has left it honey-combed and very soft.

On several lakes the ice around the shoreline has melted, keeping anglers from getting to more firm footing out. A few shanties are starting to sink through the ice.

Two or three days of sub-freezing temperatures will soon tighten the ice up, but one cold night won't do it.

There is no fishing on Anchor Bay because there is no ice in many places. It has started to break up, either taking shanties with it or sending them to the bottom.

Last weekend's 50 degree weather had anglers out in large numbers.

Good catches of pike were reported at Lake Orion. Perch and pike were active at White Lake.

BIG PIKE

Elwyn Leece, Hadley Road, Brandon Township, speared a 10-pound northern pike last week at Perry Lake. He took a seven-pounder earlier in the season.

Don Bliss, 7405 Pontiac Lake, White Lake Township, picked off a seven-pounder at Pontiac Lake.

One spearman had to resort to the hook and line method to bring an 11-pound northern into the shanty at Lake Oakland.

Dick Cloutier, 2875 Newberry, was using a large minnow hooked through the back as a decoy. The pike came in too fast for Cloutier to zero in his spear.

Fortunately for the angler, the pike hooked itself when it grabbed the decoy and was hauled out.

Action on Saginaw Bay has slowed considerably although a few pike are being speared between Bay Port and Sebwaing. A few rabbit hunters went out, expecting to find the bunnies sunning themselves. The rabbits, however, had other ideas and the gunning was poor.

Newcomers Bolster Canine Show Rings

When an area has 25 per cent of the entries in a dog show and wins only one-eighth of the breed competition, some people may wonder about the quality of the canines from that area.

This isn't always the case.

Many of 146 entries from Oakland County in Sunday's Pontiac Kennel Club show are relative newcomers to the show ring. Unless the owners and dogs can gain the necessary show ring experience practically overnight — and this seldom happens — it will take a little time for their presence to be felt.

The Oakland and Macomb county entries took up almost half of the 653 total in the PKC show. This is the most encouraging sign, according to dog show followers, because it indicates more people are becoming interested in the show ring.

County residents claimed 10 breed championships:

- German wirehaired pointer, Ch. Jagersbo Mill Dietrichstein, owned by Erik Bergishagen Jr. Birmingham; fourth in sporting group.
- Flat-coated retriever, Lord Broken Chips of Pembroke owned by Donald A. Shell, Birmingham.

- Labrador retriever, Ch. Jagersbo Dana, owned by Bergishagen.
- English springer spaniel, Ch. Sallyn's King Hi, owned by Mrs. B. W. Ziessow, Oak Park; second in sporting group.

- Long-haired dachshund, Ch. Marconheim's Dante, owned by Mort Conrad, Rochester.
- Norwegian Elkhound, Ch. Nikkita av Stranalund, owned by Alena B Stranahan, Drayton Plains.

- Great Dane, Ch. Baron von Koeningstein, owned by Anson R. Baker, Highland; second in working group.

- Great Pyrenees, Prince Andre de Montbleu, owned by Duncan G. Wright, Bloomfield Hills.
- Yorkshire terrier, Ch. Devanvale Sunshine, owned by Lynne Devan Devanvale Kennels, Birmingham.
- Bulldog, Vardona Delight.

Waterford Mother in Tip-Up Festival

A Waterford Township mother of four has made several trips to the annual Tip-Up-Town festivities at Houghton Lake but she'll likely remember last weekend's activities more than the others.

Mrs. Leona Hundley, 3751 Mariner, an office worker at Pontiac Motor, didn't have much luck with her fishing but she did catch one of the two berths on the court of the Tip-Up-Town queen.

The wife of Holley Hundley, she received a trophy in recognition of her selection and participated officially in the weekend's celebration.

May Cause Heavy Toll

Snow Hampers Deer

LANSING UP — Severe winter conditions in northern Michigan could take a heavy toll of the deer herd, warns the State Conservation Department.

Snow depths up to four feet in the Upper Peninsula forced deer into their yards early.

In the Crystal Falls, Iron County, Dickinson and Menominee areas, deer are yarded more tightly than any year since 1962 — the last real bad winter.

"This is shaping up as a somewhat similar winter," said Dave Arnold, State Conservation Department game biologist. "We're watching the situation with fingers crossed."

Temperatures in the Upper Peninsula last week dropped as low as 18 degrees below zero. Although temperatures rose later in the week, this will not affect the snow depths.

Deer still were able to range out for food in the northern Lower Peninsula, except in the Gaylord district.

The department is making 35 cuttings of trees and brush in the area to help supply deer with food. Commercial loggers also are cutting over some 13,000 acres in the area to help provide browse for the white-tails.

Wildlife Group Forms in State

Creation of the Michigan Wildlife Foundation has been announced by Judge Louis McGreggor of Flint, first president of the new conservation education foundation.

By its articles of incorporation, the MWF will use its funds to "educate the public in the proper means of the wise use of wildlife and natural resources by presentation and distribution of literature, lectures, radio and television programs and other educational methods."

Vice President of MWF is Paul Wendler, executive of Saginaw Steering Gear Division of General Motors.

Named to Panel

Preston Mann of the Metamora Shoot, Inc., will be a panelist next Wednesday during a Michigan State University program featuring shooting preserve management.

The warming weather, Arnold said, will enable the loggers to continue such operations.

Another cold spell could mean worsened conditions for the deer, Arnold warned.

When the snow crusts over, deer are unable to roam about to look for browse. A freeze also would make it difficult for the deer to get at what acorns remain on the ground — a main source of food.

Arnold said there are no reports yet of deer starvation. Some dead deer have been found, but these were hit by

Three State Fish, Game Men Promoted

Three veteran state fish and game men have taken up new duties in the Conservation Department's Lansing staff office and its regional headquarters for southern Michigan.

Named to head the fish hatchery section of the fish division is Thomas B. "Brad" Durling, regional fish biologist for the southern Lower Peninsula since October, 1964.

Replacing him is Jack R. Hammond who has served as the district fish biologist at Cadillac since November, 1964.

In another move, John D. Byelich of Roscommon will join the Game Division in Lansing to fill the newly created post of deer range management specialist.

He has been the regional game biologist for the northern Lower Peninsula for more than two years.

cars or were wounded during the hunting season.

The deer and fawn quota allowed hunters was cut down last season to reduce the kill total to about 90,000. This was compared with the hunter take of about 112,000 the previous year.

"The deer have one thing going for them," said Arnold. "There was a tremendous acorn crop last fall, so the deer went into the winter in good physical condition."

Business Brisk for Area CO's

The work of a conservation officer isn't all checking hunters and fishermen.

Various other complaints and investigations take up most of his time. Following is the 1966 report issued by George H. Bruso, District 14 (Oakland, Macomb, Wayne and part of St. Clair counties) law supervisor:

Dredge or landfill application investigations—347; pet permit inspections—115; breeder's license inspections—106; complaints of damage by wild animals and birds—681; miscellaneous complaints—718.

The district's nine officers checked 10,404 fishermen and 5,113 hunters. They arrested 348 persons for conservation law violations and served 152 warrants for officers from other parts of the state.

The officers picked up 87 car-killed deer, attended 185 meetings and helped train 4,220 boys and girls in gun safety.

Hunting Tag Sales Drop Noted in '66

Figures through last December show mixed returns for Michigan's sale of 1966 sporting licenses, underscored by a drop of about $725,000 in total receipts compared with the year before, the Conservation Department reports.

Bright spot in the license picture are fishing sales.

Purchases of these licenses, which slumped for 10 straight years prior to 1965, have continued to show gains in all categories but the temporary non-resident fishing license.

As of Dec. 31, slightly over 719,000 resident fishing licenses had been reported sold by dealers, topping the year-before total by about 23,000.

Trout stamp sales through this period were also up, numbering 192,960 for an increase of more than 6,000.

The year-end figure for annual nonresident fishing licenses was 110,650, about 1,800 higher than 1965.

HUNTING DECLINE

Outweighing gains in fishing license purchases are losses in hunting license sales whose final figures in recent years have ranked Michigan as the nation's second most popular state among gunners and archers.

Compared with totals for the end of 1965, sales of small game, bear, firearm deer and archery deer licenses are all down.

Reflecting the biggest come-down are firearm deer licenses totaling about 422,500, some 100,500 below the year-end figure for 1965.

Another decline shows up in small game license sales which at about 501,000 are off last year's pace by nearly 50,000.

Citizens Hit Conditions

Traffic Problems Protested

Protests from a group of citizens in the Chapman-Orchard Lake area focused City Commission attention last night on traffic congestion problems in that area. Appearance of four representatives at the commission meeting followed by one week allegations that a no left turn sign at Chapman and Orchard Lake was forcing residents as much as five blocks out of their way to get home.

Other complaints presented to the city included settlement of sidewalks in the area down to Walnut, it's just as hard to get off Orchard Lake and by then we've gone four or five blocks out of the way."

TELL OF HAZARDS
Other citizens told of driving hazards presented by church and Army Reserve on-the-street parking and vehicle unloading near the intersection by an automobile dealer.

Joseph E. Neippling, director of public works and service, submitted a written recommendation to the commission that the month-old turn prohibition be retained.

Neippling's report cited nine accidents in the immediate Chapman-Orchard Lake area last year.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., however, asked for additional study of the traffic situation, promising "further consideration" of the turn prohibition.

OTHER BUSINESS
In other business, the commission voted to retain an accounting consultant to work with the city's urban renewal project.

Arthur A. Ninke of Urban Technical Staff Associates will be paid up to $3,600 for budgetary and auditing assistance on the city's R20 and R44 projects.

Preparing for the further work on the city's downtown urban renewal, commissioners also voted to formally vacate six street portions in the central business district.

Streets affected include East Alley, Pike to the old Clinton River, and West Alley, Auburn to the old river; Auburn from Parke to Saginaw; Wessen from Parke to Saginaw; O'Riley between Osmun and O'Riley between O'Riley and Perkins; Parke from Judson to Auburn; and Perry from Auburn to Wat-

ASSESSMENT HEARING
A hearing was held on a special assessment roll for construction of a sanitary sewer in Durant Street from Pershing to Inglewood.

Formal approval was given for sale and issuance of R44 Urban Renewal temporary loan notes in the amount of $1,014,000.

Low bidder on the notes was the John Nuveen & Co., Inc. and First National Bank of Boston, with a bid of 2.82 per cent and a $17 premium.

Arson of Car Is Investigated

The fire occurred when she attempted to start her car, which was parked in front of the administration building at Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes Campus.

Damage, which was confined to the vehicle's engine compartment, was estimated at $150. The fire started at about 5:30 p.m.

Following inspection, firemen disclosed that the gas line had been disconnected from the carburetor and that a spark plug wire had been placed near the gas line.

Firemen said that when the motorist tried to start the car, the wire sparked and ignited the gas.

Library Unit in Waterford Elects Head

Carroll Appel was elected president of the Waterford Township Library Advisory Board last night at the group's annual election of officers at the Community Activities, Inc., building.

Appel, of 70 S. Avery, Waterford Township, replaces Roger Rapelle who has served as acting president since the resignation last July of Robert Dieball.

Also elected to office for 1967 were Michael Patterson, vice president, and Mrs. William Crommett, secretary.

The election results were announced today by Jean Andrews, Waterford Township librarian.

Planners Back Zoning Change

The Waterford Township Planning Commission conducted only one public hearing last night, submitting a favorable recommendation to the Township Board on that rezoning request.

Recommended for approval was a request to change the zoning from single family residential (R-1B) to restricted office district (R-01) of two vacant lots on Myrtle Street between Josephine and Tilden.

The applicant, Leon Blachura, wants to establish an office building on the property.

An amendment, passed by the planning commission, states that ingress and egress to the property should not involve Myrtle Street.

In other business, a public hearing was set for Feb. 28 on a request to rezone from local business (C-1) to general business (C-2) a four-acre parcel on the southeast corner of Cass Lake Road and Pontiac Lake Road.

The applicant, Robert Curran, wants to build retail shops and a service station.

City Grocery Hit by Bandit

A man, wielding a hand gun robbed a Pontiac grocery store of $112 last night, city police said.

A clerk at the Felicia Market, 331 Rockwell, told police the bandit entered the store at about 7:30, pulled what is believed to be a 32-caliber pistol and demanded the money from the cash register.

Investigators said the man apparently fled east on Rockwell on foot.

Building Costs Explained

The estimated cost and size of a proposed new administration building in the Huron Valley School District are only rough figures and place no commitment on the board of education, more than 100 concerned citizens were told at a board meeting last night in Milford.

The citizens were questioning the increase in cost and size over what had originally been planned when they approved an $8.3 million bond issue last year.

Original plans called for a 6,500-square-foot building at a cost of about $190,000.

Rough estimates by the architects increased the size to 7,760 square feet at a cost of about $270,000.

Schools Supt. Dr. Truman Owens explained that the central office functions have increased over what they were a year ago and also that hope-

OU Young Dems Urge Agreement on Mental Health

The Young Democrats of Oakland University are the latest group to urge agreement between the Oakland County Community Mental Health Services Board and Pontiac State Hospital on a jurisdictional dispute.

At issue is the transfer of primary jurisdiction over approximately one-fifth of the county population by the board to the hospital.

A federal grant of $259,000 has been approved for the hospital but release of these funds hinges on signing of the agreement.

Board to Air Choice of Firm for PCH Study

The Pontiac Board of Education will be urged tonight to hire a Birmingham architectural firm to study Pontiac Central High School and make recommendations about its future.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer will recommend that the board employ architects from O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., for the study.

The study will be the basis of a board determination on whether the 52-year-old building should be rehabilitated for continued use as a senior high school or converted to some other use.

Included in the architects' report would be a cost estimate for rehabilitation.

Educational specifications for a new high school adopted by the board two weeks ago will be used as the standard for judging the high school facility.

The board's meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Pontiac School District Administration Building, 350 E. Wide Track.

Chinese Woman, 26, Is Music Conductor

NEW YORK (AP) — Helen Quach, newly selected as an assistant conductor of the New York Philharmonic, is a pretty 26-year-old Chinese who likes rock 'n' roll but doesn't wear miniskirts.

"I like rhythmic and energetic dances," she says, "but my work is pretty taxing and it is only once in a blue moon that I go. I used to go dancing quite regularly in Australia where I had a regular life. But now I've been on the go for two years."

"I have nothing against miniskirts," she explains. "I just don't wear them. I think they are too cold for winter. In the summer, I suppose they would be perfectly fine."

Mis Quach was born in Saigon, South Vietnam, July 4, 1940. She was raised in Sydney, Australia, where she began her musical career. Her father, a retired businessman, and her mother live in Sydney.

A TOP WINNER

She is one of the four top winners of the fifth annual Dimitri Mitropoulos music competition and one of the three selected to work with the Philharmonic during the 1967-68 season.

Miss Quach, who is 5 feet 2 inches, will appear next with the Houston (Tex.) Symphony Feb. 4. She conducted the orchestra last August.

"I have a boyfriend," she says. "It's nothing too serious." "In other words," she added with a laugh, "I'm still looking for another one."

Miss Quach explained that her boyfriend is in Nationalist China.

BACKGROUNDS DIFFER

"Our educational backgrounds are completely different," she said. "He doesn't speak English. I can't write Chinese."

"I haven't met any man I feel I could share my life with. I would like to very much."

"In New York I don't have

Approving a proposed city charter by a 4-1 margin, village voters yesterday removed the last obstacle to cityhood for Rochester.
Seven councilmen, all unopposed, were also elected.

The vote was 689 in favor and 166 opposed, providing a victory margin that left even backers of the measure surprised.
Councilmen elected were Roy Rewold (644 votes), John Boeritz (629), Thomas Case (619), Samuel Howlett (611), James C.

Hill (604), Burdette Lewis (601) and Harold Milton (570).
They will meet at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 13 — official first day of the new city—to elect a mayor.
LITTLE IMPACT
A last-minute effort by Avon Township supporters who hoped to see the village and township remain united failed to have much impact on the vote.

Petitions to incorporate the rest of Avon Township around Rochester were filed five days preceding the charter vote.
What the petition for incorporation will do is to keep the new 1.6-square-mile city from annexing any surrounding township property until a vote is called on township incorporation.

* * *
Rochester Village manager William Sinclair said he attrib-ed a diminishment in opposition to the filing of petitions.

LESSER MARGIN
September's vote to investigate incorporation and to select a charter commission had passed by a lesser margin of 676 to 248.

The new charter is expected to change Rochester very little.
A municipal court will be set up — terms and salaries of councilmen will be doubled — the new city will do its own assessing and get its own county equalization factor.

6 Killed as Tornadoes Hit Midwest

Wrecked Shell Remains After Tornado Hit Orrick, Mo., High School

Hundreds Hurt as Winds Rip Into 3 States

Unseasonable Storms Erupt in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois

By the Associated Press
At least six persons were killed and hundreds injured by tornadoes in Missouri, Iowa and Illinois.
The violence erupted yesterday as the Midwest basked in springlike weather that sent the temperatures soaring into the mid-70s. It happened when a cold air mass collided with the unseasonably warm air.
A teen-age boy and two young girls were killed in Missouri and a 3-year-old boy died in Iowa. A policeman in Chicago and a farmer in downstate Illinois also died as a result of the fierce winds.
Damage was heaviest in the Kansas City, St. Louis and Orrick, Mo., areas where trees were uprooted, power lines felled, roofs caved in or were ripped off buildings, and various structures were demolished.
"I just heard the window blinds shaking and sounds like something falling," said B. M. Carpenter, superintendent of schools at Orrick, Mo. School clocks found amid the debris had stopped at 12:52 p.m.

Fire Contained at Pontiac Div.

A two-alarm fire last night at the heat treatment plant of the Pontiac Motor Division, complicated by the internal power failure that apparently caused it, took city firemen four hours to extinguish.
Facing the threat of spreading and a possible explosion, firemen contained the blaze in oil fed furnaces in the plant building near Saginaw and Montcalm.
Four firemen, overcome by heat exhaustion, were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. All four were treated and released. No one else was reported injured.
The first alarm was called in at 8:52, minutes after a transformer in a plant substation blew out, causing a heat buildup in the ovens and giving off noxious fumes, firemen said.
All 1,100 company employees on the third shift were evacuated immediately.
The second alarm was sounded when oil from the furnaces ignited while fire fighters already on the scene were cooling smoke stacks and walls with water lines.
CHEMICAL POWDERS
This brought the remainder of the four city fire vehicles that responded into action with chemical powders used for oil fires.
Three engines and a ladder truck were used, in addition to Pontiac Motor Division apparatus. Firemen left the scene (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 5)

Power Failure Is Felt in City

Bolt Hits Substation; Service Back in Hour
An electrical power failure early today in Pontiac cut service to 4,415 Consumers Power Co. customers for an hour and resulted in a rash of minor breaking and enterings and an arrest.
Charles F. Brown, Pontiac Division manager of Consumers Power Co., said the company's Rapid Street substation apparently was struck by lightning, causing the power lapse at 12:28 a.m.
"Service was fully restored about an hour later," Brown said.
He added that one of the transformers at Detroit Edison Co.'s Bloomfield substation, a power source to the Consumers Power substation, also failed due to the lightning.
GMC Truck & Coach plant protection workers saw the lightning reaction at the Consumers Power substation and described it as a "fireworks display".
POLICE REPORT
A total of seven breaking and enterings and three more attempted burglaries were reported (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 7)

Winter Blows Back Into City

Winter's blowing back into Pontiac after a spring-like spell that brought a blanket of fog and overnight scatter of thundershowers.
Windy and turning colder was today's forecast for the state as a whole, with temperatures dropping back to below the freezing line tonight. The local low is expected to register 22 to 30.
Mostly cloudy and seasonably cool with a chance of rain by late afternoon or evening is predicted for tomorrow. Rain changing to snow and turning colder is the outlook for Friday.
Forty-eight was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 1 p.m. the mercury had dropped to 36.

LBJ War Request Gets Prompt Attention

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's request for an extra $12.3 billion to finance the war in Vietnam is getting prompt attention in Congress.
The request reached the Capitol yesterday. Today, the Senate Armed Services and Defense Appropriations Committees hold a joint meeting to receive from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara more details on why the money is needed and how it would be spent.
The House Appropriations Committee, not yet formally organized, must originate the bill.
Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., committee chairman, promised speedy action.
"We will report a bill as soon as we reasonably can after the necessary hearings," Mahon told a reporter.
The acting senior Republican on Mahon's committee, Rep. Charles R. Jonas of North Carolina, agreed that prompt action was needed but cautioned against undue haste.
NEED CLOSE LOOK
"We need to take a close look at how some of the money we have been providing has been spent," Jonas said. "If they can make a good case for it, we'll give them all they request and maybe more."
Jones said he was concerned over the huge spending on construction programs in Vietnam.

Nader Says U.S. to Yield on Car Safety

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government is bowing to pressure from the auto industry to relax its proposed safety standards, Ralph Nader said yesterday.
* * *
Nader, a leading critic of the auto industry, said Dr. William Haddon Jr., chief of the National Traffic Safety Agency, apparently "will concede to the industry" on a number of standards, including mandatory head rests.
"Indications from Detroit are that Dr. Haddon will come to an accommodation with the industry," Nader said in a statement.
He added that the industry's idea of an "accommodation" was to get its way with the government.
* * *
Under the law, the government will issue its final draft of the safety standards Jan. 31. These will be applicable to 1968 models. However, the industry has said that it cannot meet all of the government requirements by then.

Romney Must Enter Primaries--Backers

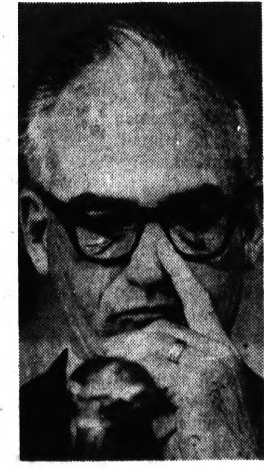

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. George Romney's supporters among GOP National Committee members agreed Tuesday he will have to test his strength in the primaries if he hopes to win the 1968 party presidential nomination.
* * *
National chairman Ray Bliss wound up a two-day campaign planning session of the committee with a news conference appeal to the party's presidential hopefuls to be kind to each other in next year's primaries.
* * *
"I take a dim view of any candidate's attacking another candidate of his party," Bliss said. "Our candidates should campaign for president on what they are going to do to solve the nation's problems."

Barry Repeats Nixon Support

MIDLAND (AP) — Former presidential candidate Barry Goldwater repeated yesterday his pledge to support Richard M. Nixon for the presidency if Nixon decides to become a candidate.
Goldwater, on his first Michigan visit since his 1964 race as the Republican candidate for president, called Nixon the "best trained to be president."
"And he has a thorough grasp of politics," Goldwater said.
Gov. George Romney of Michigan has been mentioned as a top prospect for the GOP nomination for president in the 1968 convention, along with Nixon.
Goldwater said he would have no trouble supporting any GOP nominee, including Romney—who refused to endorse Goldwater in 1964.
He offered Romney some advice, saying that the time to decide whether to run is now. He added that the Michigan governor should be looking at such issues as right-to-work laws and the nation's Vietnam policy.

SEES OPEN CONVENTION
Goldwater predicted that there will be four or five top candidates in 1968, each without an early majority.

"The next convention will be the most open of the century," he said. "This will be a fun election."
Goldwater said that if ex-Gov. George Wallace of Alabama carries out tentative plans to run on a third party platform, it will be "disastrous" for the GOP.
"That's not because of racism but basically because of conservative Republican views on economics and other considerations," he added.
BOMBING STEP-UP
Goldwater, just home from Vietnam, said the United States is winning the war. He praised America's fighting men, but called for stepped-up bombing of North Vietnam.
"We are winning this thing militarily and we are winning more rapidly than a year ago I would have thought possible," said the former U. S. senator from Arizona.

U.S. Displays Big Cong Mine

NHA BE, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Navy today displayed a New Year's Eve present from the Vietcong — the first contact mine found in the main shipping channel to Saigon. The Navy said the Russians made it.

The 1,000-pounder, covered with barnacles, was one of a number of enemy mines the Navy has fished out of the Long Tau River and put on exhibit on a barge at this installation 10 miles south of Saigon.

Contact mines are exploded when a ship hits one of several horns projecting from the mine's casing. All others found in the Long Tau have been types detonated by remote control or crude devices attached to vesseles and set off with a timing device, the Navy said.

"We don't know where the contact mine was assembled," said Capt. Paul Gray of St. John, Kan., assistant chief of naval operations in Vietnam. "It could have been assembled any place. Judging from the barnacles and other signs, we think it may have been kept hidden in a river in the Rung Sat special zone, then towed into the Long Tau."

SPECIAL ZONE
The Rung Sat special zone is an area of rivers, canals, salt marshes and swamps south of Saigon from which the Viet Cong have launched many attacks on shipping heading up river toward the capital.

Maoists Admit Minority Status

Use Guns on Foes, Backer Tells Troops

TOKYO (AP) — Defense Minister Lin Piao's propaganda outlet confessed today that Mao Tse-tung's shock forces are in the minority. Lin's Liberation Army Daily directed the 2.5-million-man armed forces to stamp out Mao's enemies "with the gun."

The army daily said the minority role of Mao's forces was only temporary and that the 73-year-old Communist chairman himself had issued "a vital call" for military help.

The Peking People's Daily reported Tuesday that Maoist forces, with the decisive help of the army, had seized the government of Shansi Province adjacent to Peking and the capital city of Taiyuan.

But wall posters in Peking, reported by Japanese correspondents, said that pro-Liu "Red Flag Guards" and another anti-Mao organization took over a military barracks, the provincial government offices and Communist party headquarters in Changsha, capital of Mao's native Hunan Province, after clashes with the army Jan. 15. The report said six soldiers and six Maoists were hurt.

The editorial in the Liberation Army Daily hinted at resistance within the military to throwing the massive power of the army into what began as a political and ideological conflict between Mao and government and party officials headed by President Liu Shao-chi.

"Some people use 'nonintervention' as a pretext to suppress the masses in reality," it said. "This is absolutely impermissible. The question is not whether or not to intervene, but which side to stand on."

Birmingham Area News

Parking Fee Changes Viewed

BIRMINGHAM — A reevaluation of parking fees is under consideration by the City Commission.

Recommendations have been made by James Purkiss, finance director. The suggestions were aimed at increasing the use of the new five-story structure, Lot 5, on Woodward.

Purkiss explained many employees of the downtown area are using metered spaces meant essentially for shoppers.

One of his plans is to increase the meter charge and at the same time to decrease the charge in Lot 5. He favors monthly permit parking at $10 and a maximum daily charge of 75 cents.

His report also recommends the encouragement of validation of employee parking by employers.

The commission referred the matter to the merchants' committee. A report by them is expected Feb. 6.

Brief Session in Lansing Will Trigger Flood of Bills

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators interrupted a 16-day recess today, returning to the Capitol to introduce the first of what promises to be a flood of bills covering issues from income tax to time.

There was no clear indication of how many bills would be introduced during the afternoon session. Lawmakers estimated as few as 150 or as many as 400 measures could be thrown into the hopper before they adjourn until Jan. 30.

However, Donald Hoenshell, head of the Legislative Service Bureau—responsible for drafting bills—said Tuesday that 486 bills were ready for introduction in both Houses today.

As an indication of what is to come, Hoenshell said the bureau has received 1,040 bill re-

18 BILLS
At least 18 bills were on file in the House clerk's office last Tuesday, but none had been filed with the secretary of the Senate. Rules call for filing bills three hours before the start of the day's session in which they are to be introduced.

In the House, Democrats were expected to hold a brief caucus to attend to routine housekeeping chores.

Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, said the business of party organization along with any proposals to discipline Rep. E. D. O'Brien, D-Detroit, probably would wait until next week.

O'Brien voted with Republicans in the equally divided House to allow a rules change which led to election of Rep. Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, as speaker earlier this month.

STATE INCOME TAX
Among bills awaiting introduction in the House was an income tax measure sponsored by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica.

The bill calls for a 3½ per cent personal income tax, a 6½ per cent corporate income tax and an 8½ per cent tax on net income of financial institutions.

Power Failure Is Felt in City

ed to city police during the temporary blackout and in the following predawn hours.

Police officials said this was "a little more such activity than normal" for a week night, pointing out the fog as another possible factor.

One arrest was made. Scheduled for arraignment today on a breaking and entering charge is Ronald C. Lamotte, 24, of 107 Elm.

Lamotte was observed inside the City Beverage Co. at 17 Turk and arrested at 4 a.m., according to police.

Blackout Not a Show Stopper
The show went on last night at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre during a power failure which members of the John Fernald Company estimated at less than a minute.

The brief blackout occurred between 9:30 and 10 p.m., toward the end of the first act of "The Caucasian Chalk Circle."

Barely pausing, the actors carried on through the moments of darkness.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

Malcolm E. Norris, 2830 Colonial Way, has been elected president of the United Home-owners Associations of the township.

The association represents about 90 subdivision groups.

Other newly elected officers are: Carroll Conner, vice president; William R. Yaw, treasurer; and directors, James Goldrick, Theodore Popowitz, Robert B. Lamb, John Pokorny and Clayton Kerr.

BIRMINGHAM — Robert H. Carey of 5623 Raven is participating in a round-table seminar on "What Makes Buyers Buy or Rent New Dwelling Units" in Dallas, Tex., today and tomorrow.

Carey is president of the Thompson-Brown Co., community developers.

Most of the $538,500 budget hike is tagged for wage boosts for city employees, who were granted a 9 per cent increase retroactive to Oct. 30, 1966.

The commission also unanimously approved salary boosts for top administrative personnel totaling over $7,000, including a $1,500 raise for Warren, bringing his annual pay to $23,000. These boosts were okayed last night.

City Clerk Mrs. Olga Barkeley was raised $1,186 to $10,000; Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck $993 to $12,500; Finance Director Marvin M. Alward $597 to $14,000; and City Attorney Philip A. Rowston $500 to $18,000.

JUDGES ADVANCES
Municipal judges Cecil B. McCallum and Maurice E. Finnegan were each advanced $1,350 to $16,350.

The budget was the second preliminary estimate drawn together for fiscal 1967.

The first budget was rendered "obsolete," Warren said, by three major decisions made by the city in addition to the general pay raise:

• Transfer of the airport to the county, with accompanying changes in both revenues and expenditures;

• A policy decision on rental of office space for the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO);

• Agreement on an increased bus service subsidy to the Pontiac Transit Corp.

Loss of the airport property is expected to cost the city some $100,000 in rentals and fees.

This should be more than offset, however, by shedding of about $106,000 in operational costs, according to the proposed budget.

The commission, in related action last night, overrode two dissenting votes in approving a six-month extension of rent payments for the OEO office at 7 West Lawrence.

The $800 monthly payment had been challenged at a previous meeting by commissioners Leslie H. Hudson and Robert C. Irwin.

VOTED AGAINST
Although voting against continued rental payments for the county, neither commissioner offered comment on the issue last night.

The preliminary budget includes a $15,000 boost in subsidy payments for bus service in the city.

The move, tentatively agreed to informally at a meeting with regional American Transit Corp. Manager Kenneth Totten, brings to $35,000 the city's annual commitment to support of the bus company.

Area NAACP Hits Powell Ouster Action

James E. Dyer, president of the Oakland County Chapter of the NAACP, said today that the chapter regrets the proposed ouster of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell from his congressional seat and his removal as a committee chairman.

Powell's numerous contributions to his constituency and his country are matters of record, Dyer said.

Three specific issues prevent "smooth sailing" for those responsible for the proposed congressional ouster as well as for our country and one involves a serious constitutional question, according to the (NAACP) Chapter.

• Does the Congress reserve the right to deprive citizens of duly elected representation?

• Does an indictment by any court constitute sufficient evidence to condemn anyone without benefit of trial, and thereby disenfranchise many citizens?

• Can even such an august body as Powell's congressional colleagues summarily take action of any kind against any of its peers without specific guidelines that can be universally applied to all the body?

Answers to all these questions must be a resounding "no," Dyer said.

"Not as a lawyer but as a layman, I see strong similarities with the case of State Sen. Julian Bond, D-Ga., whose seating in the Georgia body was upheld by the U.S. Supreme Court," Dyer said.

"I also wonder how this action by Congress might be subverting the legal action pending against Rep. Powell," Dyer added.

Tax on TV Sets Is Requested

To Pay for Shows That Are Noncommercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Congress was asked today to impose an excise tax on every television set manufactured in the United States to finance a corporation for production of programs on noncommercial television stations.

The Carnegie Commission on Educational Television said this federally chartered, but nongovernmental, nonprofit Corp. for Public Television—CPT—was the key to expansion of noncommercial viewing in the country. It estimated the tax would bring in $60 million during the first year when collected at a rate of 2 per cent, and $100 million a year when a 5 per cent rate is reached.

The commission urged that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare appropriate $68 million a year to provide basic facilities and operating funds for a national system of stations which would number 380 in 10 years. By that time, it said, the annual cost of operation would reach $166 million.

The national education television system, which would form the backbone of the new grouping, operated last year on $8 million, of which $6 million came from the Ford Foundation.

The commission said the new corporation for public television would continue to rely heavily for funds on foundation grants—it suggested that foundations set up a $25-million endowment fund to get CPT going—as well as on state and local governments and universities.

James R. Killian Jr., chairman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, headed the commission.

CONTACT MINE — A barnacled 1,000-pound contact mine is displayed aboard a U.S. Navy barge today at Nha Be, about 10 miles south of Saigon. It was fished out of the shipping channel of the Long Tau River, running from Saigon to the South China Sea.

Soviets Publish Excerpts From Uncut JFK Book

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet magazine today published excerpts from the uncut version of William Manchester's book "The Death of a President."

The Literary Gazette, a weekly put out by the Soviet Writers' Union, carried part of the text from the latest issue of the West German magazine Stern.

Stern refused to eliminate material that Mrs. John F. Kennedy objected to and was sued by Look magazine, which sold the publication rights to the German magazine. A Hamburg, Germany, court ruled Monday that Stern may continue to publish the unabridged serialization.

"The text which appeared in Look magazine has been changed on the demand of the Kennedy family," said a preface to the excerpts in the Literary Gazette.

DAY BEFORE DEATH
"Stern magazine refused to make any changes. In spite of a suit by Look magazine the editors of the West German weekly published the original version."

"Here we offer to the readers' attention some excerpts published in the latest issue of Stern magazine."

Fire Confined to Furnaces at Pontiac Div.

Asst. Fire Chief Lee Nye said the main concern was preventing spreading to the plant's roof. This was accomplished when power was restored at approximately 10:30, the point, according to Nye, at which the fire came under control.

Damage was described as slight by fire department officials, who attributed this to the containing of the blaze to the furnaces.

MUCH WORSE
"It would have been much worse if the roof had caught," said Nye.

He described the smokestacks as "red hot about two-thirds of the way up."

Plant officials said the fire started after the power failure knocked out furnace electrical controls, thus allowing a tremendous buildup of heat.

The ovens are used to condition metals for high-heat usage, such as in crankshafts.

Normal plant operations were reported resumed today.

Reinstatement of Ex-Policeman Denied by Court

Fired in November for refusing to obey an order, a former Waterford Township policeman has been denied his Circuit Court request for immediate reinstatement.

Judge William J. Beer said that the township did show cause for dismissing Ronald Freeman, a patrolman with the department for seven years, and the case will now go to trial, probably in six months.

Freeman was fired after disobeying an order to sweep the floor in the police station.

He contends that the procedure followed by township officials in discharging him was improper.

Bonanza for World War Vets

(Special to The Press)

NEW YORK — World War Veterans in Oakland County will have their financial status improved this year to the tune of $1,543,200.

That is the approximate sum they will receive out of a total of $211 million that will be paid to veterans of World War I and World War II who have maintained their GI insurance policies.

The money has become available for distribution because the death rate among policyholders continues to be lower than the rate on which the premiums were gauged.

Interest earned on the accumulated dividends has also been a factor. It has helped to build up reserve funds, enabling the Veterans Administration to make the return to the policy-holders.

Sharing in the distribution will be 4,222,000 veterans of World War II who hold National Service Life Insurance policies and 196,000 World War I veterans who are covered by U.S. Government Life Insurance.

32,150 TO BENEFIT
Of the 160,759 veterans in Oakland County, according to the latest government survey, only about 32,150 of them will be on the receiving end.

As for the local area residents who saw service in the Korean War, they will not participate in the dividend, the Veterans Administration says. The policies they hold do not provide for it.

Nationally, only a fraction of the GIs, about one out of every five of them, has the insurance to qualify.

Those who do will receive an average of $76 each, if they are World War I vets, and about $46 if they are veterans of World War II.

IMPACT ON BUSINESS

For the 32,150 in Oakland County, the total is estimated at $1,543,200.

Much of it, it is expected, will reach the cash registers of local retail stores in short order. Its impact on business activity will be several times as great, however, because of the multiple effect that new money has when put into circulation.

For those ex-servicemen who are eligible to receive dividends, the Veterans Administration points out that their checks will arrive on the anniversary dates of their policies.

It adds that the preparation and distribution of the checks will take place automatically and that no application for them is necessary.

Teacher Lack Grows Critical

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) — Just how serious the teacher shortage is can be shown, among other things, by contacts to college placement.

W. R. Horsley, director of Texas A&M University's placement office, said 568 schools contacted him in the 1965-66 school year asking for teachers.

Dr. Paul Hensarling of the A&M education and psychology department said 1,423 job calls came from elementary and secondary schools in the year.

New Wool Is Machine Washable

It is logical that Australia, which supplies much of the world's wool, should be the country to develop a new treatment which makes it possible to machine-wash wool knitwear with less than 1 per cent shrinkage, regardless of water temperature or agitation.

This process, applied before the combed fibers are spun, has been successfully tested Down Under after 18 years of research.

Pending its widespread application, American home-makers should continue to launder wool knitwear in the

1,000 Profs, Teachers Hit Firing of California U. Head

APPEALS TO STUDENTS — Bettina Berkeley Campus disturbances, talks to Apeker, admitted Communist and leader in 2,000 University of California students during a rally yesterday. She urged students and faculty to organize into a power bloc so they could have the say on who will be the next president of the university, after the firing of Clark Kerr last Friday. Speaking of California Gov. Ronald Reagan, she told the group at the rally, "We have to push Reagan right back to the wall. If we have to we will push him right through the wall."

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — "won't be sullied by partisan politics because this governor has no intention of ever overruling the regents."

Gov. Ronald Reagan in a news conference promised the university "won't be sullied by partisan politics."

Sharply worded resolutions passed Tuesday by the academic senate at the Berkeley campus and at the campus at Santa Barbara were the loudest academic outcries since 14 members of the board of regents, including Reagan, voted last Friday to end Kerr's career as head of the 87,000-student, nine-campus university.

In Sacramento, Reagan called the firing "ill-timed but necessary" and said that Kerr initiated the confrontation which led to the ouster vote.

Reagan, who had feuded with Kerr over proposals to cut the university budget and impose tuition, said the university dismissal of President Clark Kerr by the board of regents.

The Senate also opposed the tuition plan suggested by Reagan. It has asked the legislature to provide adequate financial support for the university and has demanded that the faculty have a voice in the selection of a successor to Kerr.

The Academic Senate at Berkeley, a few hours later, passed a resolution by an overwhelming hand vote charging the Kerr firing was political intervention which "threatens the survival of the University of California as an institution of distinction." There were more than 1,000 members present.

The assembled educators then passed 429-246 another resolution charging the regents had "betrayed" the faculty trust.

"As of today no reputable educator would assume the presidency of that university which yesterday was the envy of every other state," the resolution said. "We, the faculty of the University of California at Berkeley, condemn utterly the firing of President Clark Kerr by the board of regents.

Students at several of the other University of California campuses met during the day to plan ways to protest Kerr's dismissal.

In Washington, D.C., the American Association of University Professors said Kerr's firing had "shocked the academic community" and that California's higher education system may be in danger.

In New York, the Carnegie Foundation announced details of a study on higher education which Kerr will head on a part-time basis.

A spokesman said, "Since Mr. Kerr was invited to chair the Carnegie Commission, nothing has happened to change our view that no man is better qualified than he to lead a study of higher education's future in this country." Kerr had disclosed the Carnegie Foundation post in San Francisco on Jan. 7.

The California Federation of Teachers said in San Francisco that 10,000 educators, students and parents would participate in a march in Sacramento Feb. 11 to "resist Gov. Reagan's attack on public education."

President Wallace Sterling of Stanford University referred obliquely to the University of California situation in his "State of the University address" when he said no university should "become a political instrument or pawn."

Sterling also said he took delight in student activism, which has occurred at both Stanford and Berkeley, "because it speaks concern about the welfare of mankind and a desire to be of service."

A different view came from Franklin D. Murphy, chancellor of the UCLA campus, who said Kerr's dismissal was caused by "extremists at the Berkeley campus."

Kin of Oswald Threatens Suit

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald has threatened to file a slander suit against author William Manchester for describing her in "The Death of a President" as the mother of an assassin and a "shifter of bodies and bedpans." Mrs. Oswald held a news conference yesterday at the shop of an autograph dealer who sold one of her son's letters for her and declared that nobody has proved in court that Lee Harvey Oswald shot President Kennedy.

She said she would not accept a description of herself as the mother of an assassin unless it is modified by "alleged" or "suspected."

"If they prove beyond a shadow of a doubt that he was an assassin, then fine," she added.

Mrs. Oswald also said she objected to the description of herself in the Manchester book as a "shifter of bodies and bedpans." She said she is a practical nurse, "a high profession."

Mrs. Oswald was visiting New York to tape a broadcast for a Dutch radio station.

Fiery Pile-Up on Freeway in Detroit Fatal

DETROIT (UPI) — A fiery three-car crash on a Detroit freeway last night killed one man and injured six others despite valiant efforts of bystanders to rescue them.

Police said six persons were riding in a station wagon that plowed into the rear of an abandoned, delapidated car on the expressway. A taxi then crashed into the wreckage.

Four of the men managed to crawl from the burning station wagon, aided by motorists who were using their coats to beat out the flames on the victims.

A fifth man was pulled from the wreckage by two off-duty firemen and an off-duty suburban Detroit policeman.

Killed was James Fraser, 60, of Detroit. One of the injured, Grady Wimberly, 50, Romulus, was in critical condition today with third-degree burns.

The cab driver suffered only minor injuries.

Surgeon Advises Full Use of Eyes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The best thing for your eyes is to use them, not save them, an expert says.

And, contrary to some belief, reading in poor light doesn't harm the eyes.

Dr. Albert E. Sloan, who said this Tuesday, is an eye surgeon at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and chairman of the School Vision Problems Committee of the National Association for the Prevention of Blindness.

WOLL Entertains Holy Cross Tonight

Lakers' Macomb Title Drive Reaches 'Must' Stage

Time is running out on Waterford Our Lady of Lakes' bid to reign as champion of the Macomb Catholic League basketball race, but the Lakers can gain some ground tonight.

They entertain a dangerous Marine City Holy Cross quintet in a game the Lakers must win to retain any chance for an outright Macomb crown.

Waterford OLL currently is 8-1 in the league to unbeaten St. Michael's 10-0 mark. The Mikemen have two circuit contests remaining and WOLL has three.

WOLL's Lakers will play Friday night and the Shamrocks Saturday night in league clashes. Then they will collide

PARALLEL

The current situation closely parallels last winter's race when the same two contenders, plus St. Frederick, finished in a tie for first place.

The Lakers earned the playoff berth based on comparative scores during the season. Assuming both teams continue to win until their meeting next week, WOLL would have to beat St. Mike by three points in that game (thus tying for the title) to earn the spot.

The Shamrocks won the first meeting last month, 59-57, in double overtime. They will have the home court advantage in the rematch and are favored to take the championship.

Still, coach Jim Niebauer and the Mikemen must have haunting memories of last season when they lost the outright title and playoff berth in the final game of the regular schedule.

This year's Macomb champ will play the second place finisher from the Northwest Catholic circuit 6:30 p.m. Feb. 5 at the University of Detroit Memorial Building in the opening round of the Second Division eliminations.

At the moment, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Ferndale St. James and Orchard Lake St. Mary are contending for the top three places in that circuit. Farmington OLS is assured of a berth in the playoffs since it can finish no worse than second.

The Lancers pace the Northwest loop with a 9-2 mark. OLSM is 8-2, and can tie for first place with two closing wins but must defeat St. James in the finale to be assured of a playoff spot.

The Dales dumped St. Mary in an earlier meeting, but now trail the Eagles by one game in the standings. Both are heavy favorites to win Friday night.

That would make their meeting at Orchard Lake the following Friday a duel involving the top three places in the standings plus one of the two playoff berths.

The Northwest winner will tangle with All Saints, the Metro Catholic League winner, at 3:30 p.m. Feb. 5 on the U. of D. court.

Pro '5' Delaying Move on Coach

SEATTLE (AP) — Officials of Seattle's new National Basketball Association team said Tuesday they would not name a coach until the end of the current season.

"We now will be in position to consider coaches whose jobs may be in jeopardy for one reason or another," said Seattle general manager Don Richman. No specific prospects were mentioned.

Should OLSM and Sorrows finished tied for first place, St. Mary would be the top quintet since it whipped FOLS twice during the season.

Friday Anchor Bay Catholic slate.

The Northwest card Friday will visit WOLL and St. Fred. St. Mike's has FOLS at St. Benedict, St. Francis de Sales at St. James and OLSM at St. Rita.

Place in Outfield Preferred by Tresh

NEW YORK (AP) — Outfielder Tom Tresh became the first member of the New York Yankees to sign his contract Tuesday and set two goals for the 1967 season — hitting more homers and keeping himself out of the infield.

And, he drew a relationship between the two.

Tresh, who moved in from left field to play third base for the Yankees in the early part of the 1966 season, hit only .223 but slammed 27 homers. The batting average was the lowest of his career but the home run total was his highest.

"I had my taste of third base last year and I don't care to be back in the infield again," Tresh said by phone from his home in Mount Pleasant, Mich. "Last year was proof enough to me; it kind of upset my year as far as statistics go."

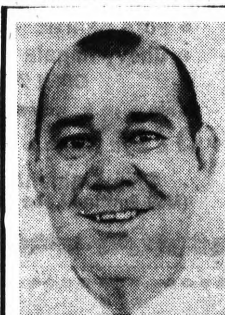

It was while he was concentrating on learning how to handle third base that he was unable to get untracked. But he did hit 19 of his homers over the second half of the season.

"The first part of the year I hit the ball good, but they weren't going anywhere," Tresh said. My average was down mainly because I didn't hit in that first part. I was horrible. "But the homers indicated I'm getting stronger and more mature and I should be able to hit more homers this season. I'd like to hit over 30 homers — and I think I can."

Tresh also said he thought the key to the Yankees' chances of moving out of the American League cellar — and even challenging for the pennant — was how well he, Joe Pepitone, Mickey Mantle and the rest of the Yankee sluggers hit.

Armada Overruns Richmond Cagers

Armada stepped outside the Southern Thumb Conference last night and handed Richmond an 81-60 setback.

The Tigers, down 18-13 after one quarter, outscored Richmond, 23-7, in the second frame to take a 41-25 lead at intermission.

Carl Reiter led the winners with 24 points followed by Dave Shaw (15), Lee Thompson (11) and sophomore Bill Dynslager (15). Jim Hollis collected 14 for the losers.

Don't Read It!

More Michigan drivers buy the Exchange policy at the Auto Club than any other automobile insurance policy sold in the State.

Then, the majority don't read it.

We think it's because the words used in the policy are not nearly as familiar as our reputation for leadership, integrity, fair-dealing and value.

If you have one of our policies, you should read it—sometime. It's full of advantages you may have forgotten about.

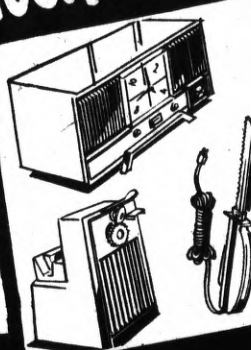

If you don't have an Exchange policy, buy one! It's a most interesting story of protecting your car and yourself.
