Auto Production Resumed at 8 Ford Assembly Plants

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. resumed production of cars today at half of its 16 assembly plants following a 13-day strike by the United Auto Workers Union.

But it was uncertain how soon the company would be back in full production.

An insurgent group of tool and die makers at the Rouge industrial complex in Dearborn, Mich., defied orders of the UAW leadership to join a back-to-work movement of Ford's 126,000 production employees.

Instead, some 850 members of the unit attended a meeting at Local 600 hall to press their demands for job security. They claimed the company has been farming out jobs to subcontractors.

The same group, led by Jesus Chantres, chairman, staged two demonstrations last week, demanding that the union negotiators insist on a firm commitment from the company against farming out jobs.

INSIGNIFICANT

UAW President Walter P. Reuther described the demonstrations as "insignificant." He said the union for the first time had obtained an agreement from Ford to consult the union on subcontracting.

The UAW Executive Board Sunday ordered local unions to call off strikes at all but two of Ford's 85 plants. The board refused strike authority to the tool and die unit, ruling that its problems could be settled in further negotiations at the local level after the group went back to work.

Ford said the first car at reopened assembly plants came off the line today at the Michigan, N.J., plant.

The company hoped to have all its plants back in operation by Wednesday.

There was doubt, however, just how far Ford could go without settlement at one of the two plants still struck—the Walton Hills stamping plant outside Cleveland, Ohio, which employs 3,300 and makes pressed metal parts for all of Ford's car divisions.

A strike at Walton Hills a year ago began to take Ford assembly plants down in six days, and a union spokesman predicted today that if this plant were not back working in nine days, all Ford assembly lines would be affected.

Ship Rescues Cuban Refugees

45 Picked Up on Isle, Tell of Shots Fired by 2 Fishing Boats

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A report that a Cuban boat fired on 45 Cuban refugees after they landed on a small island, British island turned a routine Coast Guard rescue into a delicate weekend operation.

A 15-foot Coast Guard boat, with a U.S. destroyer standing by, took the refugees off the Bahamas island of Cay Sal, only 35 miles north of central Cuba, and brought them to Key West Sunday.

They were questioned for nearly four hours by the U.S. Immigration Service and then were sent by boat to Miami for more questioning, said British islanders not allowed to see them.

P. S. Willmore, chief immigration official in Key West, and Sir Robert Stapledon, governor of the British Bahamas, issued brief statements.

SPOTS EXCHANGED

The British governor, who sent policemen to the tiny island to investigate, said shots had been exchanged between "two Cuban fishing boats" just offshore after the refugees landed.

Willmore told newsmen: "I spoke with the Cuban political refugees, and they said that they were not shot at and that there was no shooting in their vicinity while they were on Cay Sal or while they were in the boat."

Tiny Cay Sal, because it is British territory and yet so close to Cuba, is considered a Brandenburg gate to freedom by many Cubans who fled Fidel Castro's regime in small, unseaworthy boats.

Beside authorizing workmen at Walton Hills to continue their strike in support of local-level demands, the UAW's international executive board told the 1,700 employees Sunday it represents in an engine factory at Wayne, Mich., they could continue their walkout for an at-the-plant settlement to supplement the national contract.

Con-Con Delegates Meet Tonight After Busy Days

LANSING (AP)—Organizational planning and committee groundwork were the immediate tasks facing Michigan's constitutional convention today as 144 delegates prepared to tackle the problem of rewriting the State's 54-year-old basic law document.

Most delegates, eager to get started on the substantive issues to be considered by the convention, spent the weekend doing their homework.

Since each delegate is on at least one of the nine committees named to deal with the constitution's substantive matters—such as legislative apportionment, finance and taxation, local government and education—the delegates have plunged into studies of historical background and pro and con arguments.

They return to Constitution Hall tonight at 8 to consider additional housekeeping details and organizational planning. Four substantive committees have scheduled meetings for Tuesday morning.

The convention set a fast pace during its first two weeks, accomplishing more in that period than the legislature usually gets done in a month.

But a respite is suggested that the convention wind up its work by the end of the year met with a noticeable coolness when it was introduced last week by Henry Woolfenden, a Bloomfield Hills Republican.

Woolfenden said the purpose of his Dec. 31 deadline proposal was to allow the convention's recommendations to appear on the April election ballot, when they would not have to compete for attention with a large number of other issues and candidates.

Throughout your long history we have come to recognize your determination to maintain freedom and integrity," Kennedy said. He lauded the Fims for "such qualities as courage, fortitude and perseverance," and said these qualities have been demonstrated by Fims who have migrated to this country.

CRASH LANDING—A wildly swinging propeller knocked this hole in the side of a Braniff Electra at Fort Worth, Tex., this morning when the turbo-prop aircraft with 49 passengers and crewmen aboard made a belly landing at Carswell Air Force Base.

Search at Sea Is Resumed for Missing Plane

Teams Are Also Probing Inland Areas for Sign of AF Jet Bomber

NEW YORK (AP)—The Coast Guard reported today that a one-man, yellow life raft has been sighted by a fleet of planes seeking an Air Force bomber that disappeared over the North Atlantic during Operation Sky Shield II. An Air Force plane sighted the raft at an undetermined distance off Cape May, N.J. There was no immediate indication whether the raft bore survivors.

NEW YORK (AP)—A force of 22 planes and four surface craft resume search today of a wide area of the North Atlantic for a trace of an Air Force jet bomber which disappeared with eight men aboard during Sky Shield II.

Additional military and civilian elements probed inland areas of the East Coast on the possibility the eight-jet B52G craft may have come down ashore. It was to have been in at low level somewhere between New York and Philadelphia.

The bomber, from the 421st Strategic Wing at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N.C., was listed as missing at 1 a.m. Sunday, an hour after the 12-hour nationwide air defense exercise had ended. It was at that time that the plane should have run out of fuel.

Eight Air Force headquarters of the Strategic Air Command at Westover Air Force Base, Mass., said the plane's last known position was about 850 miles off the New York metropolitan area.

A score of planes scoured the area Sunday without picking up a sign of the craft. A token force remained on the spot during the night, and orders were issued to increase the force to a total of one Coast Guard, two Navy and 19 Air Force planes at daybreak.

SHIPS TAKE PART

Four Coast Guard cutters—two from Norfolk, Va., and two from New York—also participated in the search.

49 Aboard Are Safe

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—A 35-million prop-jet Electra plane with part of its landing gear stuck in the "up" position and 49 persons on board made an emergency belly landing on a cushion of foam at Carswell Air Force Base today. Nobody was injured. The plane was Braniff International Airways Flight 562, bound from Dallas to Chicago, with stops at Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kan., and Kansas City.

The plane circled five hours and 31 minutes—3:45 a.m. to 8:10 a.m. Pontiac time, while the crew tried to get the landing gear down.

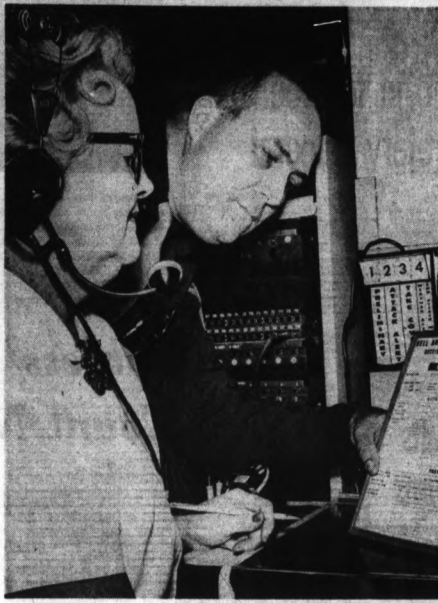

Part of the landing gear was stuck in the "up" position. Before Mills landed, he retracted the part that still worked, except for a few inches.

The plane landed at Carswell, rather than Love Field, Dallas, its home base, because Carswell has 14,500-foot runways and better fire-fighting equipment.

"It was a beautiful landing," an Air Force man who watched it said.

EXPLAINS WARNING SYSTEM—Pontiac state trooper George Plummer goes over the "bell and lights civil defense warning system" with Pontiac Press switchboard operator Frances McCue. The system, which would carry the message of any enemy aerial attack on this country through every switchboard simultaneously, is tested regularly by city and state police to insure its workability. When the warning is sounded lights blink on and a bell rings from the small black and yellow box shown here next to the switchboard.

Seesaw Weather to Slide Up to 68

Pontiac area residents can expect fair and warmer weather through tomorrow, the weatherman reports.

Winds variable 5-15 miles today will become southwesterly 10-20 miles per hour tomorrow.

Temperatures will average two to four degrees above normal high of 58 to 64 and the normal low 39 to 44, during the next five days, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau. It'll be warmer Tuesday cooler Thursday and warmer again on Friday.

Thirty-five degrees at 5:30 a.m. was the lowest temperature reading preceding eight o'clock today. By 2 p.m. the mercury had reached 58.

EDITOR'S NOTE: What chance of survival do people in Pontiac and the surrounding area have should an all-out thermo-nuclear attack ever be launched against this country? Stirred by a growing public awareness of the possibility of such an attack, The Pontiac Press has begun a concerted study of the local defense posture in search of the answer. The following article is the first in a series. The next article will appear Wednesday.

By DICK HANSON

"This is the Michigan state police post: EMERGENCY, this is an air raid warning. Repeat, this is an air raid warning. . . . Enemy missiles are over the DEW Line. The time to Pontiac is 30 minutes."

This foreboding call of imminent attack could arrive at the Pontiac police station at anytime.

It would have originated from Continental Air Defense Command Headquarters near Wichita, Kan., where any activity over the northernmost radar line would be instantly monitored by electronics relay.

The crucial moment would probably find children in school and family breadwinners in the plants, offices, shops and on the streets. Housewives likely would be at home or perhaps shopping in town.

The communications officer in the Pontiac police department would press a red button on his board and the air raid warning siren atop the Pontiac State Bank Building would commence its wail over the city.

As the warbling shriek climbed to full intensity, awareness that this was no practice would hit those below and in surrounding buildings.

MANY WOULD BE CAUGHT With little if any advance preparation of nearby shelters, there would follow a madly confused rush for home and an effort to round up loved ones at school and elsewhere.

Thirty minutes would shrink to zero, and the majority would be caught in full stride. A direct hit from an intercontinental ballistic missile carrying 20-megatons of atomic explosives, equal to 20 million tons of TNT, would end everyone's problems in a 5-mile radius.

The devastation would extend to a lessening degree in a 20-mile pattern similar to ripples circles caused by a rock dropped in a pond.

No conceivable shelter could protect the lives of persons caught at ground zero, i.e., within the 5-mile radius.

Reds Lay Blame on Mobilization of Laborers

Communist Urges End to Large-Scale Plant Transfers to Militia

From Our News Wires
BERLIN—The East German Communists admit that mobilization of the workers' militia to man the East Berlin barricades has dealt a serious economic blow.

Red economic chief Alfred Neumann told the party's Central Committee Sunday "the withdrawal of workers from a factory for outside activities not connected with their trade must be extremely stopped."

Neumann said industrial output was up three billion marks—$714 million at the official rate of exchange. But he said overall production was falling short of targets fixed in the regime's seven-year economic plan.

The Communist party organ Neues Deutschland published Neumann's 4,000-word report but otherwise gave only vague figures.

The brown-uniformed militiamen played a large role in building the wall dividing East and West Berlin when the barricades began going up Aug. 13. But early this month they seemed to disappear—apparently back to the factories.

JUMPED INTO TRUCK

Today East German police threw tear gas grenades at a West Berlin crowd after five East Berliners jumped from a second-story window into a border house into a sand-filled truck. West Berlin police said.

The incident occurred at Bernauerstrasse. There, apartment houses on one side of the street are in the Soviet sector, while the sidewalks belong to East Berlin.

Bernauerstrasse has been the scene of many dramatic escapes by East Berliners. The sand-filled truck was the latest innovation.

At around noon, the truck roared up to one apartment house. Seconds later three men and two women jumped into it. West Berliners standing nearby cheered. The East German police were taken by surprise but after realizing what happened tossed several tear gas grenades into the West Berlin crowd.

West Berlin police said the two women suffered minor injuries in the jump.

Communist police also barred six West Berlin construction workers from traveling to the tiny United States enclave of Steinstücken to build a new road there.

REFUSED PASSAGE

The workers were refused passage through one mile of East German territory separating the village of 120 persons from the American sector of Berlin. West Berlin police reported.

The Communist action raised the possibility that the U.S. Army might fly the workers to Steinstücken by helicopter. This method already has been used to get East German refugees out.

Britain Moves on Berlin Talks

Acts to Speed Action on Negotiations Despite French Slowdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today Western Big Four talks on Berlin will be continued in Washington and that ambassador to Moscow Lovell Thompson is staying in Washington to participate.

LONDON (AP)—Britain acted today to speed moves for a negotiated settlement of the Berlin crisis despite France's insistence on a slowdown.

John Russell, chief Foreign Office spokesman, announced Britain's top expert on German affairs, Sir Evelyn Shuckburgh, probably will join his American, French and West German opposite numbers in Washington soon for policy-making talks.

The date for this meeting has yet to be set, Russell told newsmen. He said it would replace the four-power Western meeting tentatively set for London Thursday but which the French blocked.

"The French government wanted more time for thought," Russell told reporters seeking the reasons for the cancellation.

The display of Allied differences this weekend over handling the Berlin crisis centered on the relatively minor matter of timing a meeting of Western experts, they said.

The development concealed a deeper policy rift between France and to a lesser degree West Germany and Britain, the United States and Britain on the other.

Russell declined to define the precise purpose of the meeting that had been planned in London.

Major U.S. Consideration

Viet Nam Action Would Break Pact

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) - If American troops are sent to South Viet Nam the act will mark a break with the 1954 Geneva agreement and one of Asia's most controversial organizations - the International Control Commission.

This is believed one of several major considerations involved in Kennedy Administration deliberations and the visit here of Gen. Maxwell Taylor.

There are others - including working out command arrangements with Vietnamese military leaders on who would direct any U. S. forces.

These considerations make some diplomatic observers doubt whether of American forces will be brought in unless the situation gets worse.

It's not that the three-nation control commission seems especially worth keeping. It is just that there would be trouble getting rid of it.

UNIT INEFFECTIVE
The commission is an effective instrument for keeping the peace is far outmoded for the situation in South Viet Nam today. It operates on something like a modified version of the Russian troika principle. Even without the veto, it shows how involved such a situation can get.

The commission is made up of India, Poland and Canada, India chairman. It was set up by the 1954 Geneva agreement that ended the Indochina War and French rule. It was supposed to supervise the truce that divided Viet Nam into Communist North and pro-Western South at the 17th parallel.

The group was designed to last until free elections could be held in 1956 to reunify the country.

Things never worked out that way. Elections never came because the South did not feel they could be freely held in the Communist North.

Although South Viet Nam did not sign the Geneva agreement, it did work closely with the commission, reporting in detail on U. S. military aid.

In contrast, the Communist North has not reported a single bullet of the vast military aid it has received from the Russians and Red China.

This can be done because of the highly involved bureaucratic procedures and inspection regulations of the control commission. Much more important is the guerrilla war, which has been carried on with increasing intensity so that today it threatens President Ngo Dinh Diem's government.

Ailing Priest Dies
EFFINGHAM, Ill. (AP) - The Rev. George Nell, 74, a Roman Catholic priest who founded the Rural Youth organization with chapters throughout the country, died Saturday after a long illness. He had served as pastor of St. Joseph's Church in nearby Illinois Grove for 38 years.

In recent months a number of its officers and former officers have been involved in a government action alleging the filing of false non-Communist affidavits.

Transistors Gaining

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 30 million portable radios will be sold in the United States this year, according to a study prepared for a battery maker. Tiny transistor radios are the best sellers and current estimates indicate transistor portables will outsell vacuum tube models 7 to 1 this year.

Business Is Growing

NEW YORK (UPI) — The interior decorating business is booming with the number engaged in it soaring from 10,000 to 25,000 in the past decade. Decorators themselves spend up to $1 billion of their clients' money on home furnishings annually and have a strong impact on the entire $27 billion interior furnishing market.

Tot, 9 Months, Unites Tribe

3,000 African Workers Name White Son of Manager as Chief

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — A 9-month-old white baby, Mark Solomon, has unified 3,000 chiefless black African laborers on one of the world's largest citrus estates.

The workers hailed from many different tribes and spoke many different tongues, but they always regarded themselves as a self-contained socio-economic unit.

The only thing that prevented them from reaching their cherished ideal of tribalhood was a chief acceptable to all concerned. Then young Mark, the son of the general manager, was born.

So the black labor force decided to appoint him as their chief. This is not merely an honorary degree. He will in fact be their leader, with all the authority of a born chief.

His father, Donald Solomon, said he and his wife were deeply honored. He added, "for us it is simple . . . our estate is the capital investment of the job-mongers . . . and Mark is now the third generation of men who have run the farm."

Chief Mark, whose African name means "Lord of the Lion" will be formally installed when he is a year old.

MOUNT TABOR, N. J. (U-P) — When the Post Office Department decided to build a new post office here many of the 400 families in town became alarmed.

Robert M. Hagerman, president of the Camp Meeting Association, said that not only was the present building adequate but "The old post office has been part of a meeting place ever since it was built in 1887."

The group was instrumental in getting the department to postpone action indefinitely. Some 364 persons signed a petition opposing the construction.

DEATH OF A POLICE VETERAN—"Grew," 17-year-old mount of Patrolman Thomas E. Keefe of the New York City mounted troop, is quieted by three members of the troop after he reared, kicked an automobile and threw his rider at Sixth Avenue and 48th Street. "Grew" injured his right foreleg and after nearly two hours during which traffic was tied up, a police veterinarian had to end his life with an injection.

Massive Jolt Can't Discourage Radio Enthusiast

CINCINNATI (U-P) — Joe Smith was so fascinated with his new radio hobby that a massive power jolt couldn't dim his interest.

Burns on his hands from an 11,000-volt power line sent Smith, 29, to a hospital for seven weeks of skin grafts.

But friends set up his citizens band transmitter and receiver in the hospital room and he returned calls, although limited to 5 miles around the hospital.

Smith, a refrigerator mechanic, was burned trying to install an antenna for his rig at his Aurora, Ind., home.

He won't have to go up on the roof again. He said, "I have a lot of friends and they promised many antennas would be up by the time I get home."

The prehistoric ginkgo trees of North America left a legacy in Washington State's Ginkgo Petrified Forest. Remains of trees, buried eons ago under lava, have turned into gemlike stone.

His Worms, No Anglers, Really Work for Living

FRANKLIN LAKES, N.J. (U-P) — Herman Dammers raises five million worms a year, but none should ever see the end of a fish hook.

Dammers sells his worms to organic gardeners from all over the world.

Worms recondition the soil, they die worms which hold moisture, and their castings make the finest possible topsoil, Dammers says. Organic gardeners use the worms instead of chemical fertilizers.

He's Little, but He Knows What He's Talking About

ELMHURST, N.Y. (U-P) — A local two-year-old boy, having this conversation while baby-sitting with a 4-year-old boy and his howling baby brother.

Baby down from heaven? Teen-ager, "Yes."

Child: "Did the angels send him?"

HIT BY STRAY DART.—Dr. Louis Vilseca examines a dart which struck 14-year-old Gilbert Lindo of Omaha while he played basketball alone in his back yard, and imbedded its ¼-inch tip in his head. Police investigation disclosed that another youth more than 200 feet away had tied a dart to a string and was whirling it around his head when it broke loose. Lindo's injury apparently was not serious.

Woman Dies, 3 Hurt in Detroit Shooting

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit woman was killed and three others were injured Sunday in a shooting at the woman's home.

James R. Pearson, 45, of Detroit was arrested near Jackson a few hours after the shooting and was held for investigation in the death of Mrs. Henrietta McCarroll, 36.

Critically wounded with a 32-caliber revolver was Mrs. McCarroll's husband, Kermit, 48. Their daughter, Ella, 18, and her date, Tommy Williams, 20, also of Detroit, were wounded seriously.

Detroit police said Pearson forced his way into the McCarroll home and accused McCarroll of

Managing Editor Tells Why He Built Shelter

Editor's Note: Below are some comments on a topic very much in the public mind right now—fallout shelters. Managing Editor Harry J. Reed was asked to give his reasons for deciding to build one.

By HARRY J. REED

Managing Editor, The Pontiac Press

"Why did you build a fallout shelter in your basement?" is a question I have been answering for my friends and co-workers for the past week.

Protection of my wife, two young sons and myself is the primary answer. Why we need this protection now, and didn't before, can be summed up like this:

• The Russians have resumed atomic testing. Although the Russians have been making their gains without fighting in many cases, I don't think they would hesitate to unleash the atomic punch if they thought they could win. I am convinced they mean to destroy our form of government, one way or another.

• The state of world tensions is at an all-time high, with buildups in Europe over the Berlin question, unrest in the Congo pressing problems in Southeast Asia.

• Dag Hammarskjöld's death has tremendously weakened the United Nations which has been on shaky ground anyway.

There is still another reason. Even if the chances that a shelter is even slim, I wanted to cover that possibility. For a hundred dollars or so, my family is protected. This is a cheap price for survival. Call it life insurance if you will. The food we will store can always be used when the threat passes, and the shelter does not take up much room. It still can be used for storage.

It's much harder to think of reasons why you shouldn't protect your family.

This Automation Thing May Get Out of Hand

Alas, alas, what they won't do to spoil a fellow's incentive to go to the office.

Disagreement rages over just how far automation will go in displacing white collar office workers. Rather conclusive evidence is turning up, however, that stenographers, at least, can look forward to rough prospects.

In a new Manhattan skyscraper, there is a startling stenographic recording system with a bank of 20 electrical disc machines. To dictate a letter an executive simply dials a special number, gets this impersonal "central," and records his spoken words on one of the discs.

This quite devastating efficiency would seem to doom the stenographers' pool and an executive's chances of being surprised by a pretty face he hasn't seen before.

On the other hand, it may mean we'll hear less in the future about the problem of "office wives." You can't very well ask an electronic recorder to sit on your lap.

Breweries Now Learn Folks Still Count Pennies

For two cents, the brewing industry in Michigan is getting a lesson in packaging.

Aroused by numerous complaints about smashed no-deposit beer bottles littering the State, the legislature has banned them after January 19, 1962. There was little or no problem when the empties were worth two cents deposit. But the new disposable bottles were a smashing success. All over.

It shows that for two cents, people will haul them back to the store, instead of sprinkling Michigan with brown glass.

Who'd have thought that two cents still means that much?

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. No Respector of Democracy

WASHINGTON — The United Nations is rapidly developing into a political cabal — an organization without respect for morality or the principles of democracy.

By a vote of 67 to 1, the U.N. has denied the right of free speech to one of its members — the Republic of South Africa — whose foreign minister expressed criticisms considered "insulting" by some other countries. But no such motion of "censure" was even offered when Nikita Khrushchev hurled insults in the U.N. General Assembly meeting. He, of course, also had a right to say whatever he pleased. For, as the United States representative, Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once wrote, freedom of speech is "freedom for the thought we hate."

The African countries didn't like what Foreign Minister Erik Louw revealed in his address. He told of the far better social and economic conditions enjoyed by the Bangs and other nonwhite groups in South Africa as compared to the rest of Africa.

He pointed out that many of the newly elected members of the U.N. had denied all their citizens — white and black — certain fundamental liberties. He didn't mind words in telling how the U.N. has become the center of intrigue and politics. He said in part:

"What does the record of the past fifteen years show? Instead of 'harmonizing the actions of nations,' and 'achieving international cooperation,' the annual assemblies very soon became battlegrounds for conflicting national interests and rival ideologies.

"THIRD FORCE" — The annual meetings provided opportunities for international intrigue, and for the formation of rival racial, geographical and ideological "blocks." Not content with "East-West rivalry," a so-called "third force" is in process of being established. All this is a far call from the injunction of the charter to "harmonize the actions of nations."

"There are member states that, at meetings of the General Assembly and elsewhere, pose as the champions of human rights and of human dignity, but who close their eyes to the fact that these principles are not honored in their own countries. Among these are the delegations from Russia and her satellites, who conveniently ignore conditions existing in Hungary, and in Russia's colonial or occupied territories.

"So also, they strongly urge the right of self-determination, provided it is supplied only to territories they desire to control."

The 67 votes of the majority came largely from the African states. Twenty members from other continents officially abstained, three were absent, and nine didn't participate in the voting. The United States, Britain, France and the Scandinavian countries were among those that didn't participate.

Mr. Louw called attention also to steps taken only last week "to convert Ghana into an authoritarian state," and added that the ruler of Ghana is "flirting with Moscow and Peking."

He said that Guinea has become "a disciple of Moscow" and that the State of Mali "appears to be going the same way," and so are other states in Africa.

AFRICANS GET TOGETHER — None of this was liked by the African delegates to the U.N., so they got together on a vote to censure. This is something unprecedented in U.N. history.

It is unfortunate that Mr. Stevenson didn't say this before the voting took place, so that some word from the largest democracy in the world might have been placed in the official record before the ill-fated voting.

Perhaps you remember the old joke about the uneducated merchant and the son he sent to college.

Returning to help his father in the store, the bachelor of arts discovered that the older man persistently shortchanged customers.

Waiting a favorable moment when the shop was empty, he patiently explained to his father that the change for 32 was four 5-dollar bills, not the three that he'd seen his father hand out just the day before.

To which the merchant replied, "You and your education! How do you think I managed to send you through college?"

This means you should employ stationery and envelopes of delicate pastel shades.

Outgoing Chief Praises Readiness of 7th Fleet

SANGLEY POINT, Philippines (U.S. 7th Fleet's outgoing commander said today his forces — the most powerful naval grouping in the Far East since World War II — are ready for any Communist threat that may be ordered in Communist-occupied South Viet Nam.

Expressing grave concern over the stepped-up Communist guerrilla warfare in Viet Nam, Vice Adm. Charles D. Griffin said in an interview:

"We are fully prepared to carry out the orders of our government. We are ready to undertake whatever the government wants us to do."

The mighty 7th Fleet patrols the sea adjacent to Red China and Soviet Russia's Far Eastern coasts and keeps an alert watch on any suspicious Communist moves in the area. Griffin has been transferred to the Office of the Chief of Naval Operations in Washington after 19 months as commander of the fleet. Vice Adm. A. Schoech takes over the fleet on Oct. 23.

NEVER BEEN STRONGER — "The 7th Fleet has never been stronger in peacetime than it is today," he said. "It was increased in size during the Laos crisis about eight months ago. Its striking power is the greatest ever in its peacetime history."

Griffin said the Reds had a combined strength of about 120 submarines in the area — about 100 Russian and about 20 Chinese. He said he believed the Russians had nuclear-powered submarines, but there has been no indication any are in the Far East.

The greatest concentration of Communist submarines appears to be in the Sea of Japan, he continued.

The admiral warned that Communist activities can be expected to intensify in the Far East now that the monsoon season is ending. "It's the time when military adventures take place in this part of the world as part of the combined Communist cooperative international movement," he explained.

"With the Berlin crisis at the European end, we may expect something out of here."

Asked how soon Polaris-firing U.S. submarines could be expected in the Pacific and Far Eastern waters, the admiral replied: "The Atlantic phase is almost completed, and we should expect Polaris out here soon."

Bear Escapes, Mauls Three

Eventually Shot by Boy in Park After Clawing Caretaker and Others

CONNEAUT LAKE, Pa. (AP) — A 250-pound black bear clawed and mauled three persons at a wild animal park Sunday before being shot and killed by a youth.

Ida Mae Kemp, 35, of McKees Rocks, near Pittsburgh, and John Hohl Sr., 35, of Conneaut Lake, the park's caretaker, were admitted to Spencer Hospital in Meadville in fair condition.

Robert A. Mahoney, 12, of Conneaut Lake, was treated at Meadville City Hospital and released.

State police said the incident occurred at Fairyland Forest, a park connected with Conneaut Lake Park in northwestern Pennsylvania.

They said Hohl was checking the bear's cage and Mahoney was with him when the bear suddenly grabbed the boy's right arm and pulled it through the fence. Hohl rushed to the cage and placed his hand in the bear's mouth.

The bear let go of Mahoney's arm and started clawing and mauling Hohl on the head, chest and back.

Hohl's son, John Jr., 15, then stunned the bear by hitting him on the head with a stick, enabling the elder Hohl to get away.

While the Hohls went to get a shotgun, the bear got out of the cage and attacked Miss Kemp, knocking her down. The bear started clawing at her neck and back.

The Hohl boy then fired two shots from a 12-gauge shotgun and killed the bear, which was nearly five feet tall.

Confident City Will Stand

Berlin Chief Tough Man

By ELTON C. FAY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Silver-haired Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commander in Berlin, has poise and humor and quotes poetry.

He's also a rough and tough fighting man, a veteran of two wars.

And he's very confident that West Berlin will continue to stand free and grow economically.

"I'm not worried one cotton-picking bit," he says.

Watson accompanied Gen. Lucius D. Clay, President Kennedy's personal representative in Berlin, on a tour of the city's Communist-controlled Eastern Sector Sunday night. This was an apparent demonstration of Western rights to move freely in all parts of the divided city.

Born Jan. 5, 1909, the former Mount Vernon, Ill., boy has packed a lot of action into his 52 years. There were the dirty, bloody days of World War II at Hollandia, New Guinea, Leyte and Okinawa. And then, less than a decade ago, the bitterly cold winters of war in Korea.

Watson started soldiering as an artilleryman, but the many assignments that followed have qualified him, literally, as a general officer.

Midway in his career he was a student and later a member of the faculty at the Army War College. Taught there are not only strategy and tactics but also geopolitics—the geographic, political and economic factors in military plans and doctrine.

Nowhere more than in Berlin does a man need understanding of international perplexities as well as battle plans.

Watson is no stranger to Germany. Before he was given the Berlin command last May he had served as commander of two infantry divisions stationed in West Germany. He had learned to speak some German. He has continued his studies and become reasonably fluent in the language.

Watson started out with the artillery when horses were still hauling gun carriages. He liked horses, and it was natural that polo should come easily to the young West Pointer.

The general also is rated as a fair to good golfer and tennis player. But Berlin these days is a busy place, and the time for polo, golf, or tennis is almost nonexistent.

Mrs. Watson is the former Anne Dunlap Bocher of Lewistown, Pa. They have two sons, Albert III and John B. Watson.

in a Greenwich Village coffee house. Later, there will be discussions for men engaged in military research, for executives of small businesses, for nurses, press agents and newsmen; just as there already have been conferences for doctors, labor leaders and lawyers. The meetings, called "Faith and Life Institutes," are attempts by the United Lutheran Church in America "to relate the Christian faith to vocational and public life."

NO PAT ANSWERS

The institutes so far haven't produced any pat answers or simple patterns of behavior for the participants to follow, and they don't seek to.

"We simply want to build a bridge between the world and the church," said The Rev. Herman G. Stumpfle Jr., who conceived the idea of the institutes. Rev. Stumpfle is associate director of the ULCA social action department.

"Our role is merely to provide a setting in which laymen can struggle with the basic perplexities and conflicts they meet in their daily occupations," he said. "We hope the result will be a keener sense of moral obligations."

U.N.-Katanga Pact Protested

Adoula Declares Aim of Taking Over Rich Secessionist Province

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula, protesting the new U.N.-Katanga pact strengthens President Mobutu Sese Seko K Ngbendu Ngbendu's determination to take over the rich secessionist province.

The U.N. meanwhile got a warning from Mobutu that unless the U.N. Advisory Committee on the Congo ratifies the agreement, he will hold as hostages the 184 U.N. troops taken prisoner in the recent fighting.

Dr. Suresh Limner, head of U.N. operations in the Congo, appeared harried after a heated two-hour conference with Adoula Sunday night.

A U.N. spokesman said Adoula was "not very happy" about the new cease-fire agreement signed Friday that, in effect, recognizes the right of Katanga to defend itself from attack by central government forces.

Adoula declared in a radio address that the Leopoldville government has a right to use "suitable means" to end Katanga's secession. He did not elaborate, but central Congolese forces are already massed on the Katanga border.

Says Defense Policy of Britain in Ruins

LONDON (AP) — George Brown, deputy leader of the opposition Labor party, asserted today recent British army exercises prove Britain's defense policy has broken down in ruins.

Brown, who speaks for Labor on defense policy, claimed the big-scale maneuvers in West Germany also showed up the British forces as being "dangerously ill-equipped" and "facing impossible tasks."

The blunt-spoken Laborite, addressing the Socialist society at Queen Mary College, demanded that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government decide at once to cut back its commitments and recast the armed forces.

U.S. Reported Ready to Scrap Bomber Planes

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Kennedy administration is preparing to scrap the Defense Department's manned bombers and rely solely on missiles for nuclear warhead delivery, the Chicago Sun-Times reported today.

In a dispatch from the newspaper's Washington correspondent, Thomas B. Ross, the Sun-Times said Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara has decided the bomber soon will be obsolete.

However, Ross wrote, final decision is being delayed pending study of Air Force objections and intelligence data on Soviet anti-aircraft defenses.

"But as of this moment it is known that McNamara has seen nothing to convince him that the manned bomber should be retained beyond the life of the currently operating B52s and B59s," Ross said.

Sound Warning to Legislature

U. of M. in Straits Over Low Faculty Salaries, Warns Two Groups

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan Legislature was warned Saturday that slashing appropriations for the University of Michigan was putting the university in a difficult position.

Marvin L. Niehus, U. of M. vice president, told the eighth annual conference of the University of Michigan Development Council that "some way" must be found to increase state support.

He added that the support has "fallen so much that it is jeopardizing the basic strength of the university."

Niehus revealed that some members of the U. of M. faculty have been offered 20 to 30 per cent salary increases by competing institutions.

The University of Michigan is no longer the salary leader in the Big Ten and competition for its top faculty members is growing at an exciting rate," he said.

ISSUES WARNING

A panel of university administrators and alumni issued another warning. It said that failure by the legislature to provide the U. of M. with adequate funds could make it impossible to keep top scientists on the staff.

Panel members said the scientists needed assurance that they would be provided adequate research facilities.

Responding to the statements, state Rep. Charles A. Boyer, R-Manistee, chairman of the joint legislative interim committee on higher education, said state-supported institutions had not sold themselves to the people.

Two Area Men Escape Crash

Light Plane Smashes Up in Waterford Field in Emergency Landing

Two Pontiac area men consider themselves very lucky today after their light plane crashed in a vacant field in Waterford Township at noon yesterday. The plane had taken off from Pontiac City Airport.

Pilot of the plane, Gerald D. Clark, 30, of 3073 Commonwealth St., Waterford Township, and Richard A. Young, 31, of 3047 Margaret St., Auburn Heights, told township police they were headed for Allen Airport, Giddings at Brown Road, 9 miles east of Pontiac Airport.

Clark said that the plane, owned by Giovanni Leone, of 285 Auburn Ave., began to lose oil pressure about a mile and a half northwest of the Pontiac City Airport. He was attempting to return to the airport when the engine began to sputter and vibrate.

Clark said he attempted to land in the only available field at Tubbs and Pompey roads. The plane hit a rut and flipped over burying the nose 3 feet in the earth.

The two men were taken to Pontiac General Hospital where Young was treated for minor face lacerations and Clark was examined.

Supreme Court Hits Hard

Slaps at Louisiana Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision holding unconstitutional two acts of the Louisiana Legislature designed to aid that state's efforts to prevent racial desegregation. The decision was given May 4, 1961, by a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans. It was appealed to the high tribunal by Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack P. F. Gremillion.

The Supreme Court, however, affirmed the special tribunal's ruling without the hearing of arguments. In a brief order, the high court said a motion by the United States to affirm was granted. The action apparently was unanimous.

The special court ruled two acts of the 1961 second extraordinary session of the Legislature were "invidious weapons of a state administration dedicated to scuttling the modest program of desegregation which has been initiated in Orleans Parish."

It added that the legislature clearly wanted parents, teachers and other interested persons to understand they would be punished if they had any contact with an integrated school.

QUESTION AUTHORITY

Gremillion's appeal questioned, among other things, the Justice Department's intervention in racial litigation in federal court in Louisiana. He contended the United States took part in such cases without authority in law and equity.

Five times previously, since Dec. 12, 1960, the Supreme Court has ruled against Louisiana moves to block desegregation.

The two Louisiana laws involved are known as "Acts 3 and 5" of the 2nd Extraordinary Session of the Louisiana Legislature for 1961.

The special three-judge court said Act 3 purported to create a new crime entitled "bribery of parents of school children."

It called for punishment for giving to, or acceptance by, any parent of "anything of apparent present or prospective value" as an inducement to sending his child to a school operated "in violation of any law of this state."

INTERFERENCE

The companion offense listed by Act 5 was labeled "intimidation and interference in the operation of schools."

The conduct condemned by that law was "the offering to do or doing of any act" to a child, parent, teacher, or other school employee which might influence that person to do any act in violation of any law of Louisiana. Both acts granted immunity from prosecution to informers and promised a money reward to them.

U.S. Schedules Two Space Debuts

The United States plans two major space tests this week that could significantly advance the U.S. space program if successful.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Scientists plan to launch this week the first Saturn superrocket on an eight-minute flight which will start the United States on the long road to manned landings on the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reports the firing will take place within a few days if no problems arise. With 1.5 million pounds of thrust—about 30 million horsepower—the first Saturn is three times more powerful than any previous U.S. rocket.

The maiden flight will test the first stage only. Two upper stages will be filled with 23,000 gallons of water to simulate weight of the operational rocket.

The flight plan calls for the 162-foot, 46-ton Saturn to accelerate to a speed of 3,700 miles an hour during the 1 minute 57 seconds burning time of its eight big engines. In that time it will consume 300 tons of fuel.

TO COAST UPWARD
When the engines cut off, the vehicle will coast upward on a ballistic trajectory to an altitude of 85 miles before plunging back into the Atlantic Ocean 23 miles to the southeast. No recovery attempt will be made.

The rocket has been wired to radio information on 510 aspects of performance during the flight.

NASA said the upcoming flight is the first of 10 research and development launches leading to an operational Saturn C1 rocket, with a thrust of 15 million pounds, in 1964.

Cautioning against overoptimism on the early test, officials said: "It is reasonable to expect a total of 5 successes in the 10 launches. In this first attempt, invaluable experience and engineering data will be achieved even though the flight path is not completely fulfilled."

1ST HEAVY BOOSTER
Saturn is the United States' first entry in the heavy booster field. The Soviet Union has been using for some time an operational space rocket with estimated thrust of one million pounds.

When ready in 1964, the two-stage Saturn C1 will be capable of placing a 10-ton satellite in earth orbit. Advanced C3 rockets will be able to send 40 tons into orbit or 15 tons on probes to the moon, Mars or Venus.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Scout rocket designed to climb 4,500 miles in one hour will be fired this week. Its aim: to explore the ionosphere and send back important data for radio communications and for the tracking and guidance of space craft.

The solid fuel Scout, a four-stage rocket 72 feet high and weighing more than 18 tons, will be launched from Wallops Island, Va. It will carry aloft a 94-pound package of instruments.

The rocket's final stage will remain attached to the eight-sided scientific package. They are expected to fall into the South Atlantic, 1,300 miles from the launch site. No recovery attempt will be made.

STUDIES IONOSPHERE
The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the probe, designated the P21, will measure the density of electrons and other characteristics of the ionosphere—electrically charged area starting 40 miles above the earth and gradually merging with outer space.

NASA said ionospheric data is "very scarce" for the area between 200 and 600 miles up and virtually nonexistent above that height.

During the ascent the probe will broadcast on two frequencies, 12.267 megacycles at 1 watt of power, and 7.6 megacycles at half a watt.

NEW YORK (UPI) — An estimated 60 million pairs of sun glasses will be sold this year ranging in price from 25 cents to $25 and higher for sales of approximately $170 million. Nearly 80 million Americans wear glasses, and another half million wear sun-filtering contact lenses.

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI) — Taxi drivers are the latest dispensers of trading stamps in Dayton. One company's drivers have to hand the stamps out to customers in addition to making change, answering questions and threading through traffic.

Here Freedom Ends

BERLIN (UPI) — It's quiet along the wall on a Sunday afternoon. Talk is hushed and sobs muffled.

'Wall' Grows Higher and Longer

As in the presence of someone very sick.

The wall itself seems almost a live thing because it keeps growing. From Sunday to Sunday it gets wider as the Communists who started it Aug. 13 add another roll of barbed wire, another line of cement posts, another barrier to prevent trucks approaching the line and repair the old wire where it has snapped or has been cut.

At the Wilhelmstrasse this Sunday afternoon, one lone West Berlin policeman stands guard. On the other side of the wall five Vopos (Communist People's Police) stand guard while two more walk rapidly along the wall towards the next post and three others tightened strands of barbed wire.

Because Berliners are forbidden to cross the wall, most take lip-molecular when they visit it. Looking through the glasses at Wilhelmstrasse, they see the three Vopos repairing the wire wipe the sweat from their brows.

GREETINGS VARY
The three suddenly realize they are being watched. One grins and wiggles his fingers in a greeting. A second man in an obscure gesture. A West Berlin woman gasps and drops her glasses.

UAW Reaches Agreement With IH in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The United Auto Workers and the International Harvester Co. reached a tentative agreement on a new three-year contract today, about seven hours before a scheduled strike by 25,000 workers at company plants in 11 cities.

Spokesmen for the company and union said the new contract is subject to ratification by the union's Harvester Council and by the UAW locals. They said it provides for an annual wage increase of 2½ per cent or 4 cents an hour, whichever is greater, and other increased benefits.

Under the old contract, which expired Oct. 1, hourly wages for production workers averaged $2.30.

Youth Admits Slaying 2 Boys

Teen-Ager Is Wounded Trying to Flee After Shooting of Ex-Friends

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A moody youth—shot by state troopers as he attempted to flee from his Adirondack Mountains hide-out—has admitted he killed two former chums, police report.

The youth, Charles E. Warner, 18, seriously wounded by police fire Sunday, is in a hospital here.

'HAD A FIGHT'

"We had a fight a long time ago," he said as he reportedly admitted the fatal shooting Saturday night of Philip Lindroth and Howard Lindstadt, each 17.

The violence began between two banks on the main street of this picturesque resort community—ended at the birthplace of baseball—and ended at an Adirondack cabin on Big Moose Lake.

Warner had driven from Cooperstown to the lake-side cabin, about 110 miles north of Cooperstown, after the shooting. When state police approached, he attempted to drive off, they said.

DOESN'T KNOW WHY

Warner was shot in the back, leg and shoulder, and the car smashed into trees.

Herbert Warner, father of Charles, said he did not have "the slightest idea what brought this about."

None of the boys had been in trouble previously.

Residents of Cooperstown said the three had been inseparable companions until about a year ago, when Charles left the group. He was described as a loner and moody. His teachers said he was an average student.

Lindstadt, a better-than-average student, was described as outgoing and a leader. Lindroth, residents said, was a quiet youth and an average student.

Warner and Lindstadt lived in Bowerston, about a mile south of Cooperstown, and Lindroth lived in Hartwick, about eight miles to the south.

In the wrecked car, police found a pistol, two rifles, a 12-gauge shotgun, all loaded, and hundreds of rounds of ammunition.

Secretary Udall Leads Officials Up a Mountain

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—U.S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall showed up at a meeting here Sunday in boots and blue jeans and announced he was going to climb Mt. Rose near Lake Tahoe.

"Who is hiking with him?" someone asked Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev.

"Grant is," Sen. Bible said. Gov. Grant Sawyer quickly replied, "No, the senator is."

In the end, most of the federal, California, and Nevada officials and newsmen at the session removed their coats and ties for the hike.

The meeting in Nevada's state capital was to discuss a federal proposal to set aside lakeshore and seashore areas to preserve their natural beauty.

SANE Group Plans 'Shelter for Peace'

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy announced Sunday creation of a "Shelter for Peace" program and asked each SANE member to contribute the money he would spend for a fallout shelter to the committee's "peace race."

The committee announced the program at the window of its fourth annual conference. It suggested that each member contribute $120—the approximate cost of a fallout shelter.

Conference Executive Director Homer Jack told the 200 delegates at the meeting the money would be used to "help dispel the notion that any nation can win a nuclear war."

National Guard, Reserve Groups Start Training

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two National Guard divisions and 249 lesser reserve and guard units have started a stretch of active duty that could last up to 12 months.

Called to duty Sept. 19, the units reported Sunday to Army posts scattered across the country. In all, about 75,000 Army reservists and guardsmen were involved, bringing to 153,000 the number of Army, Navy and Air Force Reserve called to duty to increase U.S. military strength.

Both the 32nd Infantry Division of Wisconsin and the 48th Armored Division of Texas reported Sunday. The 32nd will train at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 48th at Ft. Polk, La.

TO BE COMMISSIONED — The carrier Constellation, scarred by fire last Dec. 31, gleams anew in this stern view of the mighty warship at the Brooklyn Navy Yard in New York. The 75,000-ton ship is scheduled to be commissioned Oct. 27, only six months later than initially planned.

Friendship Is Urged With West by Reds

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet operation between the people of the Union published an appeal for friendship with the United States, Britain and France today, within 24 hours of opening the big Communist party congress.

The appeal was one of the many slogans the country publishes each year in advance of the Nov. 7 celebration of the anniversary of the 1917 Bolshevik Revolution. There are 101 slogans this year.

While the congress will adopt a program calling for Soviet economic and cultural development aimed at spreading communism over the world, the party Central Committee not only proposed peace and friendship between East and West but even invited friendship with the people of West Germany.

"Long live friendship and co-operation from China." The ideological schism of the Soviet and Chinese parties continues and appeared to be reflected in Mao's absence and the cooling of relations between the Soviet Union and Little Albania, which these days is taking its principal guidance from China.

The Dye Was Cast for Star

HOLLYWOOD UN — Actress Dolores Hart is managed to keep her long blond tresses intact through eight motion pictures.

But for her role, as a young Jewish refugee in Mark Robson's film, "The Inspector," the comedy actress was told she must become a brunette. So when she reported to the 20th-Century Fox make-up department for the change, two male apprentices — drafted about to leave for boot camp — were assigned to her.

Quipped one of them: "Miss Hart, we who are about to salute, dye you."

Author Warns Can Win Without War

By GAY BAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Raymond Clapper says the Soviet Union need not go to war to dominate the world eventually.

Rather, they can communicate it by the propaganda of plenty.

"In 1954, when I went around the world for CARE," she said, "I came home convinced the Russians didn't need to go to war — that in perhaps 10 years they would have moved in to the utterly depressed parts of the world. I still feel that. There's a terrible differential between the needs of the world, and the time we have to help meet them."

HELPS DIRECT FFP

Olive Clapper, 66, a resident of Washington, is the widow of the famous newspaperman killed in a bomb crash in 1944 while he was covering the war in the Pacific.

She is a member of the board of directors of CARE, the contribution-supported organization which sends food and clothing to the needy abroad. And now, she's busy on another project—helping to direct President Kennedy's Food for Peace (FFP) program.

Part of the food for peace plan is to appeal to American business and industry to supply implements and the technicians to aid backward peoples of the world.

TARGETS FOR REEDS

"Sixty per cent of the world's population is going to bed hungry," said Mrs. Clapper. "These are people whose economy now provides them no hope... they can't work, they're lost, and beautiful, beautiful targets for communism."

"These millions who live drearily day by day suddenly are told how fine life is in the Soviet Union. Certainly, they're getting a false interpretation... but how do THEY know it. The Soviets are better propagandists than we are."

"You can't have experienced things I've seen and ever all back in a rocking chair," she said. "I've seen mothers standing in line waiting for even a little powdered milk for their children... and faint from hunger as they stood. I've had babies die in my arms."

LOCKED IN ONE ROOM

"I cannot help thinking," she continued, "that the lives of two small boys whose family live in a cave in Libya, with not even a straw mat for a bed... I cannot help but believe that their future is intimately tied in with the future of my two small granddaughters."

"As Ray always said, the whole world is locked in one room."

After Clapper's death in 1944, his widow turned to lecturing and writing and has had several books and articles published.

LATEST BOOK

She came to New York for the publication of her latest work, her autobiography called "One Lucky Woman" (Doubleday).

The book is a candid, personal account of her marriage to Clapper (they were wed in 1913 in Kansas City, Kan.) and of a life closely linked to the personalities and events in the nation's capital where Clapper spent most of his reporting career.

He had been Washington manager for United Press and at the time of his death was a columnist for the Scripps-Horn and Newspaper Alliance.

ELENT TO DO

"On this thing of being a widow," said Mrs. Clapper, "every day I have women come up to me and say, 'what will I do with my time... I'm going crazy.'"

"I tell them, show up to-morrow at my office at CARE, or at any other volunteer agency. Agencies need help desperately."

"There is so much need for so many more volunteers. I don't see how anyone can be happy not doing."

Make List Before You Take Trip

(NEA)—The woman who is planning a trip is always faced with the problem of packing enough clothes and grooming essentials in the usually limited luggage space. Traveling light makes any trip simpler. If you're traveling by air, it's a must.

MAKE A STUDY

Study your clothing needs before you pack your travel wardrobe and make a list of really essential garments. Choose those that will serve a variety of uses and occasions and take basic accessories that will go with these outfits.

When packing grooming essentials, put them in hand luggage, for a freshly made-up face can be a great comfort when it's not possible to freshen your clothing. Use of make-up foundation is especially beneficial when traveling as it makes powder applications last longer and also helps protect skin from the elements.

In addition to cosmetics, have a small container of cleansing cream or lotion and some tissues with you. Also skin freshener. But don't take large quantities of beauty aids if they are the kind that can easily be purchased at your destination.

Leave Habby Alone, Abby Says

Stamp Collecting Is Fine

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 46, and my husband is slightly older. We have been married 20 years. My husband, at his age, is still collecting stamps. He spends hours filling stamp albums.

How embarrased am I when I tell my friends my husband is busy with his stamps? For a young boy, this hobby is fine, but not for a full-grown man. Please set my husband straight.

MRS. G.
DEAR MRS. G.: I am afraid it is YOU who should be set straight. Stamp collecting is a very worthy hobby for a person of any age. Why don't you take a leaf out of your husband's book? This is a hobby that really sticks!

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is fair for parents to put their children in boarding schools and leave them? I started in the first grade, and now I am a senior. If you've spent only four years all told with your parents, could you love them? I can't.

I have had all the material things that any child in this world could want but, in my opinion, the poorest child who lives in the slums has more than I will ever have. He has "love."

Thank you, Miss Abby, for letting me get this off my chest. I could never say this in confusion without being punished. May God's love for you be eternal, and may Mary bless you. Am I wrong?

UNLOVED

DEAR UNLOVED: Perhaps you are. Most parents do what they feel is best for their children. You are not expected to understand the full meaning of this until you, too, are a parent. Save this and remember it.

DEAR ABBY: Every boy I take an interest in starts telling me his troubles as though I were his sister. I listen sympathetically, but am very much annoyed when the evening turns out to be nothing more than an advice session. How can I establish the fact that I am not simply a shoulder to cry on, and have troubles of my own?

EVERYBODY'S SISTER

DEAR ABBY: Quit acting like a sister — and the boys won't react like brothers. A girl can't expect to play the romantic lead in the life of every boy she meets, but if she is ALWAYS handed the sister part — there is something too sisterly about her approach.

DEAR ABBY: I know you are going to say that this is just puppy love, but believe me, it is not. I may be only 14 years old, but I know this is the real thing. Peter is 16, and he feels the same way about it. Our parents laugh at us when we say we are in love, and want to get married when we are through school. We have gone together for four months, two weeks and three days. How can we prove to the world that this is really love?

DEAR J AND J: Go with each other for another FIVE YEARS.

What's troubling you? Write Abby, care of The Pontiac Press. Include self-addressed stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Setting Up Camp Fire Groups

The Pontiac Council of Camp Fire is instituting its annual membership program by establishing new groups in schools and churches and by offering leadership courses for interested mothers and friends.

In the Camp Fire program, inaugurated some 50 years ago, girls ages 7 through 18 are provided with a varied program for the different age groups.

The youngest girls or Bluebirds start with creative character-building activities at the second grade level.

SEVEN CRAFTS

The Camp Fire or middle group has a program built around the seven crafts: creative arts, home, outdoors, citizenship, games and sports, frontiers and business.

A program geared to teenage interests is for the older girls enrolled in Horizon Clubs.

Camp Owlet, a beautiful, wooded, 120-acre site near Clarkston is available to all groups, especially in the summer when both resident and day camp programs are offered.

Persons interested in the establishment of new Camp Fire groups or enrolling in leadership sessions may contact Mrs. George Felice.

No Gifts Expected 2nd Time

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My son has been married and divorced and is now planning to marry for a second time. It will be the first marriage for the girl and her parents are planning a rather large wedding and reception. They have asked us for a list of guests we wish to invite. My son's first wife had a large wedding and reception and all of our relatives and friends were invited to it.

Would it be proper to invite them the same guests a second time?

A: As there is no obligation to send a wedding present to anyone for the second time, all these relatives and friends should be invited to your son's forthcoming marriage.

If you fail to do so they will almost certainly be offended at being left out.

Q: Recently a group of teenagers was discussing dating manners. One of them said that it was not good manners for a girl to hold the arm of a boy while walking on the street.

Most of them, including myself, disagreed with her and think she is wrong about this. Will you please set us straight?

A: A girl should not take a boy's arm unless, because of her high spiked heels or an icy street, there is danger of her falling.

Q: I am going to be married in two weeks and after the rehearsal at church a supper will be served at my house for the members of the wedding party.

Three of those taking part in the wedding are married. I would like to know if it is necessary to invite their respective spouses to the rehearsal supper?

A: If you can possibly make room for them you should invite them. It would be inconceivable of you to leave any of these husbands and wives to dine alone on that evening.

Q: My boy friend has invited me to one of the big football games at his college. The college is in another state and it will be much too long a trip for one day. My boy friend has married friends who live near the college and he said they would be glad to put me up for the night. I have never met these friends. My mother thinks this will be improper for me to go and stay with people I have never met. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: If you receive a personal message from the wife inviting you to stay with them, there would be no impropriety in your going. You cannot, however, go on your boy friend's invitation alone.

Directions for eating spaghetti as well as other difficult foods will be found in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance." To obtain a copy, send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to The Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

'Nagging' Isn't Shameful When Necessary

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Editor

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My 15-year-old girl accuses me of nagging whenever I ask her to do anything. Now my husband and younger girl have picked it up.

The girls all look at each other when I say to gather up the Sunday papers from the floor or something like that. I have the feeling that they talk about me behind my back. I don't know what to do except try harder to ask them nicely to do things.

ANSWER: Why do you feel hurt when your daughter accuses you of nagging?

Sometimes nagging is the only way we can make demands on other people. Though it's certainly not the most effective way to ask for what we want, it IS demand for ourselves.

Being accused of it should not disturb us — unless we are ashamed of wanting something for ourselves. Then, of course we'll get all defensive and hurt as though we'd been charged with a crime.

But what is upsetting is not the child's accusation. We're upset by our secret conviction that we shouldn't have to demand what we want.

Usually, we're a person who tries to be so nice to other people that they will give us what we want, absolving us from the need to demand or fight for it.

If we feel comfortable with ourselves as a demanding person, we don't give a whoop if a child accuses us of nagging. We say:

"You bet I want those Sunday papers collected from the floor. You bet I'm nagging. If you don't pick up those papers from the floor and put them on the table, I'll pick them up myself and take them out to the incinerator."

So, if we are hurt by a child's accusation of nagging, we need to get over it. Instead of assuming that he has charged us with fault, we need to find respect for the demand contained in the nagging. We need to say to ourselves:

It's No Halloween Prank

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

October is the month we think of "Trick OR Treat." My Trick AND Treat Diet is no Halloween prank because it gives you treats on your menus and tricks the pounds you want to lose. This is a diet of short duration, only seven days, but it will bring you a loss of about 5 pounds.

I think that it is much easier for a woman to stick to a diet which is planned for her than to count calories, especially if the diet gives her a quick loss. That is why I sometimes offer such diets in my column.

If you have only five pounds to lose, you can do so in seven days. If you have more to lose, a quick loss gives you an encouraging start. If you have a lot of weight to lose, you will have to count calories for the long pull and do it more gradually.

Every day this week I will print the menus for the following day. Here are the menus for tomorrow.

MENUS FOR TUESDAY

Breakfast

Six ounces orange juice
One poached egg on toast (one tablespoonful of chili sauce or egg or sprinkling of grated cheese)
Coffee with one teaspoonful of sugar

Luncheon

Toasted cheese sandwich (two thin slices of bread and a thin slice of American cheese — the equivalent of two heaping table spoons of the same)
One eight ounce glass skim milk
One-half cup cole slaw

Dinner

One cup consommé (canned)
Four ounces of lean beef (broiled)
Sliced tomato
One baked potato, seasoned with onion salt and parsley
Two small pieces of hard candy

If you would like to have my complete Trick and Treat Diet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the convenient, pocketbook-size booklet. Address: Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Omega Alpha Hears Talk

Mrs. Elliott Plante, Lenox Street, was October hostess for Omega Alpha Sorority. Eulalia Valentine was cohostess.

Mrs. Lena Wischman of the Pontiac General Hospital Gray Ladies spoke at the Wednesday meeting, explaining the need for volunteers and the program which trains women and girls for the work.

After a report on a recent benefit sale by Mr. Harold Sibley, the group planned a trip to the Yates Memorial Cancer Clinic, Detroit. Plans were discussed for a Christmas bazaar for a needy family. The group has contributed to the Pontiac Area United Fund.

"At least I've asserted my wish to get the Sunday papers off the floor. That's something. That's fine. Now why couldn't I follow through on my wish? Why have I spent half the day begging this child to serve my wish instead of serving myself? Why have I nagged her?"

Try Trick and Treat Diet

This dinner menu featuring meat and potatoes illustrates the treat part of the Trick and Treat Diet. The trick comes in the preparation, seasoning, accurate portions and in the general tips which Josephine Lowman gives you in her booklet.

Freedom of The Press Is Your Protection and Your Responsibility

An emerging free press in Colonial America paved the way for our three great freedoms set forth in the Bill of Rights . . . Freedom of the Press . . . Freedom of Speech . . . and Freedom of Religion. Today the Free World is dependent upon the free press to keep it politically free.

Political freedom will not long endure without freedom of expression.

The "right to know" is not a special privilege for newspapers; it is the inherent right of free people in a democracy, and newspapers historically have been champions of this right.

NEW AND FUN—Waterford Township pupils attending the Pierce Junior and Kettering High schools are finding that learning to speak foreign languages is not only educational but fascinating. The instructor, Christian Noordhoorn, is shown manipulating the control board as pupils listen, then repeat what they've heard on a special tape recording. He can cut in on any one of the 30 electronically-equipped booths in the classroom.

New Method at Pierce Junior

Youngsters Learn French Quickly

By RERA HEINTZELMAN

There was dead silence in a Pierce Junior High School classroom in Waterford Township then 30 young voices spoke perfect French in complete unison.

This procedure was repeated for more than a half hour as a new approach to teaching foreign languages locally got under way. Each of the eighth graders was seated in an individual booth. They were earphones and heard a French instructor talk from a tape recording controlled from a large electronic board in front of the classroom.

The pupils are taught to listen to French words and phrases that are spoken from the tape into the earphones, then repeat what they've heard into an individual microphone in the booth. Later they discuss what they've heard and repeated, in an intense drill session.

LEARNING QUICKLY

The students are not only fascinated by this concentrated way of teaching, but are picking up the French language much more rapidly than the conventional type of textbook training, according to their young teacher, Christian Noordhoorn.

He said, "The new theory goes back to a youngster's early years. In order to learn how to talk, he listens first, then speaks.

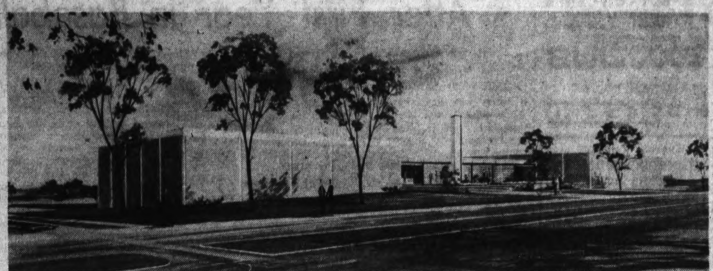

Later in school, he learns to read and write."

Known as audio-lingual instruction, the Waterford Township school system is one of the first in the country to install this type of learning, Noordhoorn said. A language laboratory has also been installed in the new Waterford-Kettering High School.

During class instruction, tape recordings from foreign lands are used. After the listen-repeat session is finished, students discuss what they've heard and translate entire paragraphs.

Spanish is also taught in the same manner at the Pierce school. More than 250 pupils have enrolled in the two languages.

The last ten minutes of a class period is usually devoted to singing French folk songs in the original language. Even while singing, these teen-agers get "just that right accent" to every word in the song and particularly in their favorite—"Alouette."

GYM FOR MSU-O—Next year at this time, students and faculty at Michigan State University Oakland hope to be using this $1.5-million Intramural Building for which excavation started last week. The structure will contain a swimming pool, four basketball courts, three indoor tennis courts, a combination of exercise and weight lifting room, a combination wrestling and gymnastics room, and facilities for volleyball, handball, badminton and tennis. Completion is expected by Labor Day, 1962.

Medical Society in Oakland Plans New Offices

New headquarters will be occupied by the Oakland County Medical Society by Dec. 1.

The society offices, now located at 285 E. Brown St., Birmingham, will move to a two-story building at 346 Park St., Birmingham.

The new building is expected to quadruple present floor space of 600 square feet which is rented. A total of $48,000 was appropriated for the purchase at the September meeting of the society.

Dr. Chauncey G. Burke, president of the society, told members at the Oct. 5 meeting he hoped to occupy the building by Nov. 15. However, the Dec. 1 date is now seen as more likely, according to society officials.

MEDICAL SOCIETY TO MOVE—This is the two-story building at 346 Park St., Birmingham, which will be new headquarters for the Oakland County Medical Society. Offices are scheduled to be moved by Dec. 1 from 285 E.

Brown St., Birmingham. Remodeling is possible for the future, but is not being considered immediately, according to Dr. Chauncey G. Burke, society president.

City Employees Take Administration Class

Forty-six Pontiac city employees are going back to school this fall. They are enrolled in a course on "Supervisory Methods in Municipal Administration" offered by the continuing education division of Michigan State University Oakland.

Among the "students" are 22 members of the fire department and nine from the police department.

The men are attending ten evening classes conducted by Alice Capalis, personnel director of the Bendix Research Laboratories, Southfield. Capalis has also taught at the University of Michigan and Wayne State University.

Included in the course is instruction in technical skills of supervisors, the scope of supervision in the municipal environment, motivation, communications, delegation and the human relations aspect of supervision.

Key Assignments Open

Start New AF Reserve Program

Key assignments in a new Air Force Reserve program are now available to men from the Pontiac area with prior military service, it was announced today.

LT. Col. John L. Underwood, 495 Payton Road, Waterford Township, commander of the 9613th Air Reserve Squadron headquartered in Pontiac, said the assignments are open in the new "Air Recovery" program of the Continental Air Command.

Objective of the plan is to organize alternate drafts for U.S. aircraft in case primary bases are destroyed in an enemy attack, explained Lt. Col. Underwood.

He said greatest demand is for veterans in specialized skills such as administrative specialists, air police, ground radio operators, communications center specialists and others.

LT. Col. Underwood said the Pontac Air Reserve squadron also has openings in its program if general training for both airmen and officers. This program features classes designed to keep reservists abreast of military developments and world conditions, he said. Two Airmen Rip Flag of Striking Japanese at Base

TOKYO (UPI)—Two teenage U.S. airmen ripped up a union flag carried by Japanese strikers at Itazuke Airbase Sunday night, the U.S. Air Force announced today.

A 1-C Jon D. McCabe, 18, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., and a 3-C Inkster, Mich., were arrested by air police when the strikers complained.

The Air Force said no other untoward events had been reported so far in the 24-hour strike by Japanese employees of the U.S. armed forces that began last night.

The union is demanding wage increases amounting to about $14 a month for its members, revision of ration allowances and revision of the wage system.

Force Paper to Remove Story on Bizerte Crimes

PARIS (UPI)—French authorities today seized the first edition of the Paris morning newspaper "Libération," containing a report of an international commission of jurists accusing French paratroopers of atrocities during the battle of Bizerte last July.

The second edition appeared on the streets with holes in the first and last pages where the story had appeared.

France has categorically rejected the commission report.

More than 750,000 Americans have rheumatic fever or its common complication of rheumatic heart disease, medical statistics show.

Gene Autry Is Riding High After First Year in Baseball

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD—Gene Autry rode to fame with his recording of "That Silver-Haired Daddy of Mine." I expected him to look like the song after a year in big league baseball.
But no. His sandy hair was merely flecked with gray. His step was sure, even in his high heeled boots.
"I'm not aging," he said calmly.
N u m e r o u s experts predicted he would be, after his first season with the Los Angeles Angels. He and associates put up $2.5 million to found the new American League team. What they got was a grab bag of players from other teams and an undersized—20,000 capacity—ball park to play in, Wrigley Field.
"But we'll show a profit on our first season," Autry reported. "I think we did pretty good, considering."
SURPRISE TO MANY
"Lots of folks were predicting we'd only win 40 or 50 games. We won 70. I think we would have done even better except for some bad luck."
"The team went East early in the season and got rained out several days. That meant they were not getting enough practice, and then they had to play a lot of doubleheaders, which is hard on the pitching staff. By the time they got back here, they practically had to have spring training all over again."

Home attendance was a disappointment, he acknowledged—about 600,000 while 800,000 or more had been hoped for. The location of the park was the principal cause, he said.
But wait until next year, Autry said, echoing a familiar phrase: In 1962 the Angels become stadium mates with the National League Dodgers in Walter O'Malley's Chavez Ravine Stadium, capacity 56,000.
EXPECTS MILLION
"I think we should draw a million next year," the cowboy star said resolutely. "We have the Yankees for nine games, and they should pull 50,000 a game. The location of the new stadium is much better, and it should give all our games a big lift."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Encouraged by their private polls, Democrats are putting new punch into efforts to defeat Republican nominee James P. Mitchell in the New Jersey governor's race.
Mitchell, former secretary of labor in the Eisenhower Cabinet, generally is regarded as the favorite over Democrat Richard J. Hughes in one of the few contests that hold national significance in this year's elections. Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner has held the office since 1953 and was not eligible to run again this year.
Democrats at national headquarters here are talking more and more confidently about the possibility of a Nov. 7 victory which would be a blow to Republican revival hopes in the industrial East. They say their polls show Hughes making significant gains.
If Mitchell can win the New Jersey governorship, the Republicans hope to go into the 1964 presidential election with New York and New Jersey state house control, which carries with it organizational benefits denied to the Democrats.

Sukarno to Undergo Surgery in Austria
JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — President Sukarno probably will leave Thursday for Vienna to undergo surgery for a serious kidney ailment, it was reported today.
Informed sources said Sukarno has been suffering from the kidney ailment at least since early 1958. Medical sources said the president appears to be suffering from kidney stones.
Next to prescriptions, cigarettes and cigars are the drug store's best selling items, with over $604 million worth having been sold through these outlets in 1960. Cigarette and cigar manufacturers helped all retailers selling their brands with a $34½ million newspaper advertising expenditure last year.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An Indian said today East Germans are angrier at the West for not knocking down the wall that divides Berlin than they are at the Communists for putting it up.
Mulgoskar of the Hindustan Times, who just returned from Germany, said West Berliners also think the West could, and should have demolished the wall the moment it was erected.
"Communists boss Walter Ulbricht could have done nothing," he quoted West Berliners as saying.
Mulgoskar said East Germans think the West did not act because "they were worried about endangering their wretched property."
"Their radios asked us to offer peaceful resistance — yes, but what end?" he quoted East Germans as saying.

Teamsters Cook Up Merger With Bakers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamster's President James R. Hoffa has invited the so-called Bakery & Confectionery Workers (BCW) to merge with the giant truck union.
Hoffa made the proposal to the executive board of the scandal-torn Bakery & Confectionery Workers (BCW) at his recent meeting in Montreal, it was learned Sunday.
Minutes of the session published in the bakers' newspaper said Hoffa threatened to issue charters to defunct BCW locals unless the affiliation was approved by January.
The BCW was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957, along with the Teamsters, on charges of domination by corrupt influences. Since then it has been battling for members with the rival American Bakery & Confectionery Workers

Missed 21-Yard Field Goal Dooms Los Angeles

Lions Accept Generosity of LA Rams, 14-13

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Special Editor, Pontiac Press
The Detroit Lions are taking the "Worry Out of Being Close," thanks to Lady Luck.

In winning their third game of the season, by a total of five points the Lions must be thankful to the over-generous Los Angeles Rams, whom they defeated, 14-13 at Tiger Stadium yesterday.

Both teams were in a charitable mood as they presented each other with bread, but it was the Rams who finally won the battle of giveaways—bless their souls! The setup couldn't have been more perfect for the Rams to accept the victory.

With the Lions leading 14-13 and less than five minutes to play, Jim Ninovali elected to pass from his own 32 yard line. Les Richter intercepted and the Rams had the ball on the Detroit 30 after a run-back of 16 yards.

Three plays took the Rams to the 16, with a few sandwiches in between. The ball was in perfect position for a field goal and at a distance which seemed almost impossible to miss in pro football.

Dan Villanueva came in and lined up the ball from the 21 yard line. The Lions appeared doomed. Of course it shouldn't have come as a surprise in as much as they made the last generous gesture by passing from their own 32.

The Rams refused to be the ungrateful guest. Villanueva's kick was a hard drive, but not straight. It went wide to the left and the Lions had no choice but accept the victory.

At this point on the sideline, coach George Wilson opened his eyes toward heaven while Bob Waterfield, coach of the Rams, got ready for the fastest catch ever made by a visiting coach.

When the writers tried to find out Waterfield, 10 minutes after game time at the dressing room, he had completely vanished. The story was he sneaked out the back way.

Right from the start, after Dick Bass returned the opening kickoff to the Detroit 35, the two teams started awarding each other gifts, with fumbles, interceptions, missed field goals and poor quarterbacking.

Villanueva booted a 35-yard field goal with only 3:47 gone and the Rams had a 3-0 lead.

Earl Morrill started at quarterback and his first pass of the day from his own 24 was intercepted by Clendon Thomas who carried to the 37.

The Rams could do nothing against the Lions' defensive line and Villanueva's try for a 45-yard field goal was wide.

Jim Ninovali came in for the Lions. A couple 15-yard passes to Jim Gibbons was the extent of the Detroit offense after the first period.

Midway in the second period, the crowd of 45,735 saw a bit of, rattle-dattle that moved the Lions into the lead. With a first down on the LA 43, Ninovali handed off to Pietro, who handed off to Terry Barr, who in turn handed back to Ninovali, who then threw a pass to Gail Cogdill, running all alone at the five yard line. Cogdill made an overhead catch of the ball and easily scored.

A 45-yard field goal try by Wayne Walker was the only other offensive threat of the half. The Rams did intercept two of Ninovali's passes, both by Linden Court at the goal line.

The Lions started fast in the second half. In nine plays after the kickoff, Nick Pietrosante hit four yarders for the touchdowns to make it 14-13 with Walker's point.

Frank Ryan replaced 3-0-0 Bradshaw and guided the Rams to their first touchdown of the game. He threw a long pass to end zone for a 20 yard TD. It was 14-10.

Later in the third quarter Cog-dill made a spectacular catch of a 40-yard pass for a first down on the LA 23, but seven plays later the Rams had no choice but to try for a 29 yard field goal by Walker. It was wide to the left.

The Rams got to the Detroit 8 yard line at the start of the 4th quarter but had to settle for a 15 yard field goal by Villanueva.

The rest of the final stanza was spent in frustration for both teams, until the interception of Ninovali's pass the failure of Villanueva to get the 21 yard field goal.

The Lions still had a chance in the closing minute but captain Joe Schmidt, intercepted Ryan's pass on the Detroit 39 and the Lions held for three plays till the gun sounded.

"Talk about luck, we had it," said coach Wilson, obviously upset over the quarterbacking.

"We'll stick with the quarterback shuffle," he noted afterward, "even if we have to substitute between downs."

For Waterfield it was the second week in a row he did a vanishing act after the game. After taking a 35-0 beating from the Packers a week before, one of the writers asked Dick Bass where Waterfield was. "He's out notifying the next of kin," Bass replied.

Yesterday, one of the LA players commented, "Guess he's going to punish us on the trip back. He must have gone today without taking a shower."

The Rams had lost to the Colts earlier this season in a 27-24 game.

which saw a couple short field goals missed as happened yesterday.

Meanwhile, back in the Detroit dressing room, which had the atmosphere of defeat, the question was brought up, "Will the Lions make a fast move to try to get a quarterback?" No one denied it admitted it.

Expect Oilers to Pick Lemm

Defending AFL Champs Fire Rykmus, Wallner After Poor Start

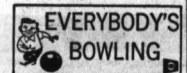

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Oilers are scheduled to name a new head coach today and all the rumors point to little Willy Lemm.

Lou Rykmus was fired as head coach Saturday and Fred Wallner—earlier mentioned as a likely candidate to replace Rykmus—got his walking papers Sunday night.

K. S. (Bud) Adams, the millionaire owner of the American Football League's defending champions, said Rykmus was fired for not using the talent available to him in the best way.

He said Wallner, defensive coach, was fired because of Houston's poor defensive showing in recent games.

Houston has won one game and tied another in five starts. Lemm was Houston's defensive coach last year but resigned this spring to go into the sporting goods business near his native Chicago.

Four-Time All-Star Winner

If, at the second step, the ball is at the right knee or just passing the knee, your timing is right and your delivery is in the half-way point of being perfect.

By the time, too, the left arm has dropped to the side to provide balance as the ball goes into the backswing.

Make sure you're relaxed and in full control of the body.

Check the second step often. It's a fast way of finding out whether your timing is too fast, too slow or just right.

Bayer Wins Playoff for Ontario Crown

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP)—Eric Monti, big George Bayer and young Bobby Nichols will pick up where they almost left off—dead even—when they begin play Thursday in the $30,000 Orange County Golf Open at Costa Mesa.

Monti, of Los Angeles, grabbed $2,800 first money in the Ontario Open Sunday, but had to play two extra holes against Bayer and Nichols and sink an 8-foot birdie putt to wrap it up.

The trio had tied for first over the regulation 72 holes at 277. Bayer had once been far out in front but lost ground on the last nine holes.

Jon Gustin of Gladwyne, Pa., finished fourth with 278 and tournament favorite Gary Player of South Africa tied for fifth with Billy Maxwell of Dallas at 280.

'Shotgun' Offense Stopped by Bears

CHICAGO (AP)—San Francisco's "shotgun" offense will not be anything new to the Chicago Bears when the two National Football League contenders meet next Sunday.

The Bears were initiated to the offense Sunday in defeating the Baltimore Colts, 24-10. When Johnny Unitas and the Colts lined up in the "shotgun" on the first play of the game, there were groans of surprise from the crowd of 46,179.

But it came as no surprise to the Bears and Coach George Halas.

"We expected something like that," said Halas. "And we worked on it during the week. We expected some sort of change because of the tremendous rush we put on Unitas last year."

Although the Bears won with a pair of touchdowns in the final quarter, Unitas, working out of the "shotgun" and the T-formation, had a great day. He carried six times for 31 yards and completed 19 of 38 passes for 278 yards.

"Anyone who says that Unitas isn't great anymore is dead wrong," said Halas. "He's still great."

Halas' remarks were pointed to reports that the Baltimore field general was slipping and losing the touch which provided the Colts with Willie Gailimore broke open the game late in the final quarter when he took a screen pass and went 34 yards for a touchdown.

But Halas was thankful for the hand-to-hand look at the "shotgun" offense in which the quarterback is all alone in the backfield and takes a direct snap back from center.

"You might say this was splendid preparation for next week's game with San Francisco," laughed Halas. "We learned a few things about that offense. No, I'm not saying what we learned but I'm sure it'll be a big help when we play San Francisco."

Halas' Bears now have a 3-2 record and trail San Francisco and Green Bay by one game. The leaders of the Western Conference are tied with 4-1 records.

Spartan Romp Team Victory

Several Players Shine in 28-0 Breeze at 'M'

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Duffy Daugherty admits Bump Elliott has the best Michigan team he's seen in years. So just how good does that make Daugherty's Michigan State eleven?

The answer is very good, perhaps great. The Spartans, in their 28-0 victory over the Wolverines, displayed enough power, speed, depth, defense — and yes, even passing to win the Big Ten title.

Tron, Michigan State got breaks to Michigan's disadvantage. But nobody in the crowd of 103,198 could have doubted the Spartans' vast superiority.

The Spartans got a couple of other breaks — these from the schedule-makers.

They don't play Ohio State and Iowa, presently their strongest combatants for the conference crown. And Michigan State plays seven Big Ten games, Iowa and Ohio State play just six — one against each other Nov. 4. The Hawkeyes and Buckeyes play Michigan, too, and by November Elliott's team may be improved just enough to help the Spartans.

Seven conference games permit Michigan State to get up close somewhere along the way and still go to the Rose Bowl unless there is a team with an unbeaten record. Even a letdown after the Michigan victory won't hurt any more than the Spartans' pride — and hopes for an unbeaten season. They play Notre Dame, unbeaten and the way back as a national power, this weekend at East Lansing. Their next conference game is in two weeks against Indiana.

Depth, probably, is Michigan State's strongest factor. Daugherty kept throwing new men at the Wolverines and the fresh troops kept the team moving without let up.

Backs such as Pete Smith, playing a week after his father's death, George Salinas, Dewey Lincoln, Gary Ballman, Herman Johnson, Sherman Lewis, Carl Charon, Ron Hatcher, give Daugherty flexibility. Injuries shouldn't hurt the Spartans; there's always somebody else to take over.

Ed (Rocky) Ryan, the team captain and best defensive back, was knocked out of the game in the first quarter. His shoulder may sideline him for six weeks.

The Spartans gained control of the game right at the end. Benjie McRae fumbled on Michigan's second scrimmage play and Wayne Soon after, the Spartans got another break and this took the last signs of life out of the Wolverines.

Smith recovered a fumble for Michigan at the 35. Five plays later McRae scooped 23 yards on a double reverse into the Spartan end zone. But the touchdown was nullified by a penalty and the Spartans took over at the 26 two plays later.

Four backs shared in the scoring and Art Brandstatter added four conversions.

Eleven bruisers on the defensive line wouldn't let Michigan sneeze three yards to the goal line in four tries.

Thirteen backs carried and every man on the 38-man traveling roster saw action—37 of them in the first half.

It was Daugherty himself, however, who named quarterback Pete Smith as "Spartan of the week."

"He matured as a quarterback with that game," Daugherty enthused. "Smith has come into his own. Any reservations I ever had about him are now removed."

Smith hit four of six pass tries and the two runs by his receivers were right on target. He passed for one touchdown 10 yards into the end zone to Carl Charon and set up another with a 43-yard completion to end Mike Norton.

He showed a readiness to gamble on yardage on fourth down, and made it pay off. He even showed pass yardage running—unusual for a quarterback.

A few more pass completions and it would be proper to revive a nickname that was quietly dropped after Smith showed little passing in early games — "Pistol Pete."

Daugherty is already talking among the Irish, especially since Notre Dame is unbeaten with the latest win a 30-0 rout of Southern California.

Pittsburgh Coach Hung in Effigy After Upset

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Coach John Michelosen of Pitt was hanged in effigy Sunday for the second time in three football seasons.

A dummy with a sign saying, "Take a hike, Mike," was found hanging from a flag pole on the Pitt campus. The action, taken by unknown persons, followed the Panthers' 204 upset loss to West Virginia, a bitter rival, Saturday. It was the Panthers' third straight loss against one victory this season.

Former Champs in Action

By The Associated Press

Three former champions, trying to move back into the fast spotlight, resume action this week.

The three are Sugar Ray Robinson, former welterweight and middleweight champion; Virgil Akins, sometime welterweight king and Brian London, the ex-hillbilly heavyweight titleholder. It's not going to be an easy work for any of them.

Robinson, 41, and engaged in his umpty-umpty comeback, takes on Denny Meyer, speedy, 22-year-old middleweight from Portland, Ore., in a television ABC-TV event. EST, 10-rounder Saturday night at New York's Madison Square Garden.

U.S. Netters Eliminated by Italian Cup Squad

ROME (UPI) — Italy defeated the United States in the Davis Cup tennis match that today and earned the right to meet Australia in the challenge round when Nicola Pietrangeli defeated Jim Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

Pietrangeli's victory gave Italy an insurmountable 3-1 lead in the best of five series and rendered meaningless the second of today's singles matches pitting Wilfrid Reed of Alameda, Calif., against Fausto Gardini.

The Italians had split the opening day singles matches and won the doubles.

ROME (AP) — To 25-year-old Jim Douglas, the sixth ranked U.S. tennis player, fell the job today of halting Nicola Pietrangeli's one-man drive to take Italy into the Davis Cup Challenge Round.

Douglas and the 25-year-old Pietrangeli, Europe's top amateur, were matched in the first singles match as the Davis Cup challenge round against Australia for the second year in a row.

A victory for Pietrangeli would clinch the competition for Italy and put the Italians in the Challenge Round against Australia for the second year in a row.

A victory for Douglas would leave the teams tied 2-2, and would depend on the second singles match between Wilfrid Reed of Alameda, Calif., and Italian champion Fausto Gardini.

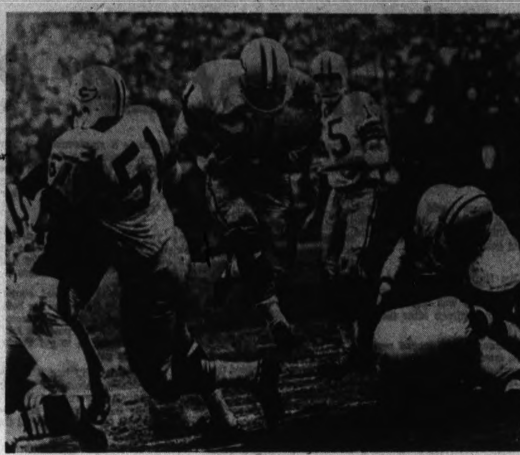

Considerable drama was packed into the Douglas-Pietrangeli

Nelson Tops Albion Meet

Milford's Ted Nelson was the top runner Saturday in the 14th annual Albion College Invitational Cross Country meet.

Nelson was timed in 8:52.5 over the two miles. This was the best clocking among the 200 participants. His victory enabled Milford to finish fifth in Class B with 164 points.

Howell successfully defended its 'B' crown by placing seven runners in the top 20. Rick Zemper was the best Howell Harrier, placing second with 109 points to Howell's 66. Ecorse with 110 was third and Riverview was fourth with 177.

Green Bay Crushes Cleveland, 49-17

Taylor Wins Fullback Duel

By The Associated Press
Jim Taylor won his head-to-head duel with Jimmy Brown and there won't be many dissenting opinions today as to who is the best fullback in the National Football League.

Taylor scored four touchdowns, picked up 145 yards and stretched his lead as the NFL's leading ground-gainer as he led the Green Bay Packers to a 49-17 beating of the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

Brown, who has been undisputed king of the NFL rushers the past four years, didn't score and gained only 72 yards in 18 tries. He has now gained 587 yards in 96 carries while Taylor has rolled up 881 in 81 tries.

But as much as the former Louisiana State star meant to Green Bay, Bill Kliner did just as much for the San Francisco 49ers, also scoring four times in a 28-24 slugfest over the Minnesota Vikings. The Packers and 49ers are tied for the Western Conference lead with 4-1 records.

New York and Philadelphia are deadlocked for the lead in the East after the Giants routed Dallas 31-10 and Philadelphia won over St. Louis 20-7. Both have 4-1 records as Dallas and Cleveland dropped to second place with 3-2 marks.

Pittsburgh won its first game, 17-0 over Washington, the only NFL club without a win while Detroit eased by Los Angeles 14-13 and Chicago's resurgent Bears clipped Baltimore 24-10.

Green Bay scored touchdowns the first four times it had the ball, and Taylor got three of them on runs of 25, 7 and 45 yards. Paul Hornung, the NFL's leading scorer, got the other and upped his point total to 77 with six extra points.

The Browns had not allowed a touchdown on a ground play until Green Bay's tremendous offense rolled in before 75,042 at Cleveland Stadium, the day's largest NFL crowd. When it was finished, the Packers had ground out 216 yards, nailing down the triumph with three third period touchdowns that were set up by a pass interception and two recovered Browns' fumbles.

Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr completed 15 of 17 passes for 266 yards, one 45-yard toss to Max McGee for a touchdown.

Kliner, the rookie from UCLA, scored on runs of 1, 2, 5 and 20 yards as the 49ers' shotgun offense rattled Minnesota's defense for 56 yards, 300 of rushing. Hugh McElhenny scored twice for the Vikings who led at one time 17-7.

The Giants, tied 10-10 at the half, stormed home in the second half behind its great defense. Erich Barnes 101-yard run with an interception of one of Eddie LeBaron's passes paced the assault, while V. A. Tittle tossed a pair of touchdown passes to Alex Webster and Kyle Rote.

Sony Jurgensen helped the Eagles avenge their only NFL loss, leading for touchdowns to Billy Barnes and Tommy McDonald. Bobby Joe Conrad got the Cards score with a 75-yard joint return while John David Crow made his first regular season appearance after fracturing an ankle in training. He didn't run the ball but gained 69 yards on five pass receptions.

Rudy Bullock passed for both Pittsburgh touchdowns, eight yards to Preston Carpenter and 23 to Buddy Dial as the Steelers defense also pitched in with six interceptions.

Ed Brown's 84-yard screen pass play to Willie Gailimore defeated the Colts, who put quarterback Johnny Unitas as a tailback in a new shotgun offense. Unitas scored Baltimore's only touchdown on a seven-yard run but Brown's eight-yard pass to Johnny Morris and Rick Casares plunge for TDs gave the Bears more than enough.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM PRESIDENT — Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State University, offers his congratulations to the Spartans in the dressing room after their 28-0 triumph over Michigan Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Hannah said the goal line stand by MSU when U. of M. was on the Spartan one-yard line was the greatest he had ever seen. Coach Duffy Daugherty is at Hannah's right.

United States Wins Cup

The U.S. golfers had taken a 6-5 lead in Friday's foursome competition, so Saturday's results gave them the cup, 14½ to 9½ points.

"We expected to win by three points so we did better than we thought we would," said Barber. "The competition was actually closer than the final point-total indicate. I was very surprised by it."

Four St. Olaf and one Ripon player went out with injuries perhaps for the rest of the season.

Winning 'Is Only Thing' in AFL

The oldie that "winning isn't everything—it is the only thing" seems to be working in the American Football League. And it seems to them all so there'll be no San Diego and K. S. (Bud) Adams, doubt it.

Adams demands that his team win or else there's a new coach—a tie won't get the job done.

Not even if it's a 31-21 tie that turns into the wildest, most thrilling offensive struggle of the year.

Adams reportedly told his Coach Lou Rymkus that he had to beat Boston last Friday night or he was through. Hence the firing of Rymkus since there was only a tie.

Another coach, Frank Flick of Denver, may have escaped the axe when Jack Hill kicked two field goals in the final three minutes and the Broncos beat Oakland 27-24.

Oakland's coach had nothing to worry about although the team has won only one game. Coach Eddie Edelezaty already has been fired and new Coach Marty Feldman hardly will be relieved since he can't do much worse.

Dallas, which has gotten into more fights than anybody this season, had a couple of good ones while losing to Buffalo 27-24 Sunday.

The loss was a crippling blow to Dallas hopes. It dropped the Texans to 1-4, the worst record in the Western Division race.

San Diego rolled merrily onward with a 25-10 victory over New York. It was San Diego's third straight and was achieved like most of the others—on the strength of Jack Kemp and the running of Paul Lowery.

San Diego's luck did not drop. He Titans out of first place in the Eastern Division but it did cut to half-game its margin over second place Buffalo.

None of the leaders will be playing each other this week. Friday night Buffalo and Boston meet. Sunday's Super Bowl pits San Diego at Oakland, New York at Denver and Dallas at Houston.

Port Huron Beaten 21-3 by Sarnia Team

PORT HURON (UPI)—Sarnia's Golden Bears took a firmer hold on the American Football Conference lead yesterday by out-defending the Port Huron Raiders in a 21-3 battle.

Sarnia's record is now 7-0 while Port Huron's stands at 5-2.

Sarnia held Port Huron to a total of minus 30 yards rushing.

The Raiders, however, picked up 313 yards passing.

A Port Huron win would have given the Raiders a tie for first place. But the win by the Golden Bears gave them a virtual lock on first place in the AFC as they've now beaten every team in the conference.

Port Huron's lone tally came on a 35 yard field goal by Darrell Harper. Sarnia's TD's were scored by Tom Taber, on a pass play, Jerry O'Neil on a 31 yard kickoff return and Tom Shanahan on a run. Lamar Lee kicked the extra points.

It was a very gloomy Sunday for the local members of the Suburban Catholic League.

St. Michael, St. Fred and Our Lady of the Lakes all went down to defeat. Orchard Lake St. Mary was not scheduled. St. James overpowered Royal Oak St. Mary, 34-14. Royal Oak Shrine blew a 7-0 lead and bowed 32-23 to Detroit Shrine.

Saturday, Emmanuel Christian dropped its 26th straight 26-0 to Centennial Catholic School. St. Michael won 34-0 at Winner. Royal Oak Shrine was embarrassed 28-0, Cranbrook outscored Nichols 14-0.

Buffalo 47-34 and Lutheran East whipped Lamphere, 27-6.

St. Mike turned in a strong performance in dropping a 20-12 verdict at St. Clement.

The Shamrocks missed two golden opportunities to score due to a lost fumble and a damaging penalty in the crucial battle of unbeatens.

It was the 13th straight triumph and this fall in the SCFL for the Crusaders. The lone dumped Mike to 2nd place behind victorious St. Rita.

St. Michael got off to a 6-0 lead when Gary Hinz ran 55 yards on the team's 1st play from scrimmage and completely dominated the opening period. A penalty foiled another TD threat.

St. Clement bounced back for two 2nd quarter tallies on the same type of play. Dave Delamueliere went 29 and 31 on reverses. He and Bill Vigneaux ran the extra points to make it 14-0 at halftime.

A 50-yard scamper by Jerry Martin set up the other 3M touchdown early in the 3rd quarter. Bill Haggard went over from the 1 to make it 14-12, but Vigneaux put it on ice scoring from the 3 to end a 66-yard march. The Shamrocks had a long drive halted by a fumble at the 6 in the final period.

The losers had a 230-190 rushing edge featuring 125 by Martin for a 2 average and 68 for Hinz for a 1.5 mark. St. Mike coach Jim Vigneaux had praise for his entire team singling out the running-back and defensive play of Jim Hurren, Gib Hoffman and Charlie Dault.

"We were outmanned," he told The Press. Class B St. Clement had a big edge in size and numbers. Several Shamrocks were shaken up during the game. Quarterback Larry Sonnenberg missed a lot of action due to being hurt.

John Bierline's 65-yard run avoided a shutout. Three other good chances failed. Walter Walker, a freshman, and soph Jim Ahrens started in defeat. Charley Dean punted well again getting off one for 58 yards. St. Fred is now 0-5.

St. Rita continued its perfect record to stay on St. Clement's heels by romping at Our Lady of the Lakes, 38-0.

Chuck Lowther passed 10 yards to Dave Kovach and John Godard went 35 after stealing the ball for the Shrine Teds. An interception sparked the Shrine comeback.

Irish Remain Among Ranks Of Unbeaten

Notre Dame Next for MSU

By The Associated Press

Don't go away—the fun's just started. A college football season already replete with its fair quota of excitement and surprises teams toward the midway point, picking up momentum like a spring-loaded football.

This Saturday's program, for example, offers a number of highlights. Notre Dame, returned to elite status in a hurry, takes on Michigan State in a meeting of all-winning teams powered by regiments of stylish runners and lines to match. Texas carries its perfect record into Arkansas, where the giant-killing Razorbacks are waiting. Mississippi's nationally top rated Rebels play Tulane and third-ranked Alabama meets Tennessee in Southeastern Conference features and Iowa-Wisconsin and Ohio State-Northwestern top the Big Ten card.

Michigan State and Notre Dame built up pressure for their forthcoming collision with impressive victories Saturday. The fifth-ranked Spartans smothered Michigan (No. 6) 28-0 behind Pete Smith's smart quarterbacking, a swift and strong attack paced by George Solinas, and a big mobile line. The Irish, eighth nationally, utilized 22 backs in rolling over Southern California 30-0.

Arkansas staged a Southwest Conference surprise for the second week in a row, moving into a 10-0 lead on the passing of George McKey and Billy Moore and tripping misfired-backyard Bear 23.

The Razorbacks upended Texas as Christian the week before, and Texas Tech kept the Horned Frogs reeling by stopping them Saturday night 10-0.

Texas' fourth-ranked Longhorns with an offense led by Mike Cotten, and Jim Saxton, clouted Oklahoma for the fourth successive year, 28-7. Ole Miss, showing off its platoons of talent on the ground and overhead, crushed Houston 47-7 with a 34-point second half. Pat Trammell guided 'Bama to its 2-7 victory over North Carolina State, passing for two touchdowns and running for another.

Iowa, second in the nation although riddled by injuries, displayed its depth as Matt Saykowitz took over for quarterback Wilburn Hollis and helped lead the Hawkeyes to a 25-8 victory over Indiana. Seventh-ranked Ohio State overwhelmed Illinois 44-0, with All-American fullback Bob Ferguson cashing in on four touchdown plunges at short range.

North Carolina, bounced 10-ranked Maryland, 14-8, in a game of lobsie-the-ball. All touchdowns were set up by fumbles, and the Tarheels recovered two others of their own in the end zone for their touchdowns.

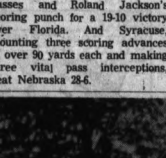

Elsewhere in the upset category—Dick Heyde's placekicking provided Army's margin of victory in its 10-6 conquest of Penn State. California capitalized on a blocked punt for a touchdown in the closing minutes and topped Washington 21-14. Two third-quarter touchdowns by Roger Holdinger enabled West Virginia to overcome Pitt 20-6. Sophomore fullback Al Butts sparked Ohio State's victory over Michigan State 21-14 as it ended Yale's eleven-game winning string, 11-0. And a Georgia boy named Doug Messer made good on an 18-yard field goal, giving Florida State a 3-0 triumph over Georgia.

Duke, Florida and Nebraska all suffered their first setbacks of the season. Sophomore Joe Auer starred in a second half surge that carried Georgia Tech over Duke, 21-0. Rice came from behind twice with the aid of stolen passes and Roland Jackson's scoring punch for a 19-10 victory over Florida. And Syracuse, counting three scoring advances over 30 yards each and making three vital pass interceptions, beat Nebraska 28-6.

MSU's FIRST SCORE—Gary Balfman (14) cuts inside Michigan's left end for Michigan State's first touchdown in Saturday's game at Ann Arbor. The ball was on the two-yard line following a series of plays after MSU recovered a fumble by the Wolverines' Bennie MacRae.

Former League Doormat Meets Albion Saturday

Oliver Prepares for MIAA Showdown

By The Associated Press

The day of reckoning has arrived in Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association football—little brother has grown up and is sporting muscles second to none.

Oliver, famous for one of college football's longest losing strings not so long ago, is sporting a 5-0 record this year. The Comets breezed to their fifth victory Saturday by trouncing Huron 20-8.

The victory set the stage for this Saturday's Albion-Olivet clash, a game which could decide the MIAA title. The Britons are another undefeated club.

If you need to know how to organize learning, these things will help you.

In conclusion, a word of consolation: You aren't the first stu-

Fractional Losses Top Gainers

Irregular Mart Drifts Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed irregularly lower early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Losses of fractions to a point or so outnumbered gains among pivotal issues.

As Chrysler faced what promised to be tough negotiations with the United Auto Workers, the stock fell about 2 points, dampening other Big Three markets.

Steels backed away unevenly as prospects for a lag in steel output continued. In view of the auto work stoppages, Airlines took drifting of losses. The edge was to the downside among tobacco and retail.

Airports were steady to a bit higher. Wall Street had its fingers crossed as to what new development would come out of the Communist Party Congress which starts in Moscow tomorrow.

Ford and General Motors lost fractions while American Motors and Studebaker-Packard held fairly steady.

Bond Prices Hold Still

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were steady in light transactions at the start of the week's trading.

Over the counter dealers in U. S. government securities posted no changes in intermediate or long term issues at the opening.

There were few price movements among corporate trading on the New York Stock Exchange. Utilities showed the smallest possible up edge while railroads and industrials were irregular.

About the only movements amounting to a full point were gains of 1 by Hudson & Manhattan refunding 3s at 75 and Detroit Eds 2s at 88 and 74.

Rail Hearings Open in CA

Santa Fe Renews Fight With Southern Pacific To Buy W. Pacific

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Representatives of several shipping firms were to testify before the Interstate Commerce Commission today when it begins a new three-day round of Western Pacific Railroad hearings.

The second round of the clash between Southern Pacific Railroad and Santa Fe Railway ended Friday in San Francisco.

The past two weeks were devoted primarily to cross-examination of two competing carriers, both of which seek ICC permission to acquire stock control of Western Pacific and its 1,189-mile line.

Principal testimony to be given here was expected to be over maintenance of the Bieber, Calif., route that is Western Pacific's link between the Santa Fe and Great Northern systems. The link connects with Southern Pacific's Coast route.

There has been speculation that the hearings may set patterns for a revolution in the railroad industry. Rail executives have been warning of a "merger fever" that might leave the country with only a few super-giants in another decade.

Wheat Export Call Fires Up Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Export demand for wheat brought today and prices for the nearby deliveries firm in early transactions. Other grains except soybeans were lower.

Brokers representing export houses bought December, March and May wheat around the opening. The early demand for futures was attributed to sales of 4½ million bushels of the bread grain to Turkey.

In soybeans, a large mixed trade was in evidence with prices little changed in early dealings.

Tax Allowances on Wear and Tear

JFK, Business Close on Hot Issue

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy administration and business are getting closer together today on at least one disputed, long-standing issue: Tax allowances for wear and tear on machines and plants.

MORE FAVOR

In return for this promised

The Treasury now indicates it will be more liberal—as many businessmen have been asking—writing off for tax purposes.

It has taken the first step by cutting the write off time for many kind of textile machinery to as low as 15 years from the previous

3 years. It is studying other industries burdened with plants and machinery made obsolete in recent years by the big speed-up in technology.

But businessmen aren't primarily interested in this untold device. What they have sought is an updating of the depreciation rules, last revised in 1942. Today they are cheered by the concession to the textile industry for the as-urance of Henry F. Fowler, undersecretary of the Treasury, that other industries are being studied.

This is how the shorter depreciation time works: If a company must write off a million dollar equipment purchase over 25 years, it can take a depreciation allowance for tax purposes of $40,000 a year. But if it can write off the cost in 15 years, it can deduct about $67,000 a year.

BIG DIFFERENCE

With the corporate income tax rate of 48 percent, this difference of $27,000 means that the company has about $33,000 more cash available each year.

The Treasury would get less tax dollars through the faster write off period. But business spokesmen argue that shorter or longer schedules work out in the long run to the benefit of the taxpayer. Assuming the machinery is in use through the allowed depreciation period.

Businessmen also contend that today's machinery becomes obsolete much faster than in calmer years when the tax rules were made. A number of industries have told Congress they are stuck with obsolete machinery valued for tax purposes at the original price but which can't be replaced at even twice that cost.

Steel made a point of this in its dispute with President Kennedy over a new purchase. American companies complain that their old plants can't compete with the modern ones recently built in Japan. The head of the Japanese

Now the administration seems to be moving nearer to the business view that depreciation time schedules are as obsolete as much of the nation's plant and equipment.

Fowler says the Treasury is

Avon Twp. Unit Studies Joint Civil Defense Plan

AVON TOWNSHIP — A special liaison committee, created by the Avon Township Board of Trustees will meet tomorrow to study a recommendation to adopt a joint civil defense ordinance with the Rochester Village Council.

Trustees Wayne C. Frink and Earl W. Dean were appointed to the committee.

The plan which is under study is similar to one linking Orion Township and Lake Orion under a common civil defense authority.

The plan's objective is to coordinate efforts by local, township, county and state authorities in case of an emergency.

The Orion Township-Lake Orion ordinance specifies how martial law could be invoked in an emergency. It sets up authority for temporary legislation in the district and covers the requisitioning and covers the requisitioning and commandeering of supplies and facilities.

In addition it outlines the powers and duties of a single civil defense director and his staff.

The liaison committee for Avon Township will work over the recommendations and return to the governing body with suggestions for the adoption of the plan.

The Avon Township Board has heard recommendations from the cemetery committee that the cemetery fees for public lots be raised. The committee is to consider prices to be charged and other things involving maintenance of the township's cemeteries and to report back to the board.

Approval also has been given for a township donation of $100 to the Rochester Kiwanis Club for its annual Halloween "Flare Night" program.

2 in Lapeer Die in Auto Mishaps

William Hutchins and Mrs. Clarence Drake Killed; 1 Other Hurt

Two Lapeer County residents were killed and one person injured in two separate traffic accidents over the weekend.

Dead was William C. Hutchins, 24, of 418 Oak St., Mettoman, and Mrs. Clarence Drake, 46, of 462 Dryden Road, Dryden.

Hutchins was killed in an accident at 9:35 p.m. yesterday on M14, four miles northeast of Roscommon.

According to Houghton Lake State Police, Hutchins lost control of his pickup truck while attempting to pass a car.

His truck, they said, ran off the left side of the road, hit a culvert, flipped over and then landed right side up against a tree.

Continue Strike Over 'Safe' Crew at Mahon Plant

DETROIT (UPI) — A strike, touched off last Friday because of a labor-management feud over safety, continued today at the R.C. Mahon Co. plant here.

The workers, represented by Local 127 of the United Steel Workers union, voted yesterday to continue their walkout after the firm fired three men in a loading crane who refused to work because the company cut the crew from five to four members.

Dominic Ferrara, president of the local, said a five-man crew is necessary to handle the loading of steel safely.

Ferrara, whose union numbers about 700 employees, said he will try to talk to management today. Walter F. Sheetz, of 12250 W. Gates St., Romeo, company board chairman, said the management would not talk with the union until the workers returned to their jobs.

Utica Board Gets School Site

No Immediate Plans for 10-Acre Lot; Expect Elementary Facility

UTICA—The Utica Board of Education has taken another step forward in its plans for expansion of the district's school facilities.

The board's offer of $1,800 per acre for a site of about 10 acres near the intersection of Shelby and 24-Mile roads has been accepted.

Although the board has no immediate plans for development of the site, it is expected that a new elementary school will be built there. Supt. Fred M. Atkinson said.

The site is on the east side of Shelby Road about 300 feet west of the intersection. It was purchased from realtor John W. Knapp, of 43109 Van Dyke.

Purchase of the plot will add to an extensive school construction program already under way. The schools involved in the project are two new elementary schools and a junior high school.

The program has been financed by a $3.38 million bond issue passed by a 19 vote margin in the District 5 special election in the school district.

LIGHTING STUDY
In addition, the board has given its approval to study proposed lighting in the parking lot at Eppler Junior High School. Also accepted are architects' recommendations for new safety devices in the boiler room of the high school auditorium.

A PTA conference day, to arrange individual meetings of parents and teachers in the elementary schools, is scheduled for Jan. 24.

Farmers Will Cut Wheat

EAST LANSING (AP) — Indicators point to a Michigan wheat acreage reduction just slightly above the 10 per cent required by the 1962 wheat stabilization program, say observers here.

Dr. Layton V. Nelson, Michigan State University farm crops expert, says the amount of foundation seed wheat that has gone out this fall has helped dispel a fear of a shortage of the nonimport, soft white Michigan wheat.

Small-scale growers produce the bulk of this variety, he pointed out. And some observers — especially — have been apprehensive that they would find the new federal program attractive.

Since Michigan produces about 75 per cent of the soft white wheat in the Mississippi, any substantial reduction here could have serious effects on a market in which supply and demand always have been pretty much in balance.

The wheat is much in demand for use in cakes and pastries.

AGREE AND SIGN
Ed Lundie of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) says most of the Michigan farmers who have signed to participate in the new federal program so far have agreed to take the maximum allowed acreage out of production.

These are small farmers whose maximum is about 18 acres. Full-time wheat growers with money invested in their own equipment probably would take out of production only about 10 per cent of their acreage, said John N. Ferris, MSU agricultural economist.

Bond Issue on Ballot

School Expansion Awaits Romeo Vote

ROMEO — The Romeo Community School District electorate will vote tomorrow on a $650,000 bond issue for school expansion and on a proposed 3 mill tax increase for 1962.

Polls in the Washington Township halls in Washington and Romeo and the Davis School will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

This is the second bond issue presented to district voters this year. The first, for $750,000, was defeated in a special election Feb. 3 by a vote of 636 to 415.

The proposed building program has been revised with extensive remodeling and more additions planned for existing facilities.

This is a substitute for a new elementary school in the original program.

Some 20 rooms plus equipment will be added at the district if the present bond issue is approved.

Three classrooms, a guidance counseling room and three other rooms would be added at the high school, and six classrooms, a large science room, boiler room and laboratories at a junior high.

PLANS FOR WASHINGTON
Proposed for the Washington School are five regular classrooms, a multipurpose room and additions to the disposal system and kitchen. Remodeling of the present corridor area to provide a library, special correction room, and health clinic also is planned.

If the bond issue passes, two classrooms will be added at the South School and the remodeling of the special education room at the North School will be undertaken.

The special education room moved out of the North School should be added to the South School, making it a 3-room wing there. Special education rooms also would be built onto the Washington School and Junior and senior high schools.

If the bond issue is approved, the expansion program is due for completion by fall of 1963.

Planning Talks by Missionaries

5 Nights of Lectures Will Start Tuesday at Pontiac Trail Church

WALLED LAKE — The annual missionary conference at the United Missionary Church, 1795 Pontiac Trail, begins tomorrow and will continue through Sunday.

Each 7:30 p.m. public lecture will be preceded by a half-hour showing of slides of the respective countries where the missionary for that night's program has served.

The stage will be decorated differently each night to depict the various nations to be discussed. Native costumes will be displayed.

The missionaries scheduled to appear at the conference are Rev. John Kurtz of India, Tuesday; Beulah Cordell of Formosa, Wednesday; Rev. Grant Sloss of Nigeria, Thursday; Ruby Wilson of Mexico, Friday. There will be no program Saturday.

Speaking at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday will be Rev. Alan Doner of Nigeria and the featured speaker for the evening will be Rev. Earl Hanson of Japan.

The pastor, Rev. Robert Eagle, will give the opening address at each program.

Speed Trap Charge Probed by County

Complaints that a speed trap exists in Royal Oak County are being investigated by Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Taylor said Sunday tickets issued by township police increased from 90 a month to 335 in September.

He added, "It appears that no residents of the township were among those ticketed in the September output."

The dedication program began at 8 p.m. with a parade led by the South Lyon High School band and followed by firemen and equipment from the local department and neighboring communities.

Fire Marshal Bernard Snell was master of ceremonies at the dedication program. City officials gave brief talks.

Recognition was given the Michigan Seamless Tube Co. for its gift of a flag pole for the fire hall site.

Fire officials said the fire siren will remain on top of the city's water tower but plans are being made to install a 1,000-pound bell used at the original fire hall, at the new building.

Claude Tapp is chief of the South Lyon Fire Department, which has 23 volunteer firefighters.

A request to rezone from residential to commercial 35 feet from eight lots in the Floradale subdivision for additional store-parking space, and to rezone from recreational to residential five lots on the Cass Lake Highland subdivision will be discussed.

For the last two years the board has considered hundreds of requests for rezoning township land, stating they want to hold spot-zoning. Board members are working on a blanket-plan for better control.

In other business the board will get a time and place for a public hearing on the 1962 budget which must be ready by Nov. 1.

The board will consider a request of James and Paul Felton for a new liquor license to be held in conjunction with the 1961 beer and wine license for a new business at 1116 W. Huron Street.

Waterford Twp. Board Must Deal With Pair of Land Requests

The Waterford Township Board will again be faced with problems of rezoning land at tonight's regular weekly meeting, according to Clerk James E. Seeterlin.

A request to rezone from residential to commercial 35 feet from eight lots in the Floradale subdivision for additional store-parking space, and to rezone from recreational to residential five lots on the Cass Lake Highland subdivision will be discussed.

Plan Ahead in Wiring Home

Standards Association
Warns to Leave Space
Allowance for Outlets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Too many homeowners fail to plan ahead when they arrange for wiring in new homes or rewiring of old ones, according to the American Standards Association.

The association, which sets standards for the manufacture and use of all manner of equipment, ranging from ladders to lawn mowers, recommends that owners leave in the electrical plan of a home to allow for additional circuits for lights, wall outlets and heavy appliances that might be desirable in the future.

The idea is to handle the needs not only of today but of the future as well.

Good indications that a home needs rewiring are the absence of lights on stairways and entrances, the use of "octopus outlets" and the need to grope in the dark to find light switches.

Another sign of need comes when a homeowner finds he is installing a 15 ampere fuse where only a 10 ampere fuse should be used. He does this because the 15 ampere fuses are blowing out under the load put on them, and he takes a dangerous step when he up-grades them.

A rule of thumb offered by the association for determining the number of outlets that should be included in any room is to divide the total area by 150. If a room is 300 square feet in size, divide by 150 and arrive at an answer of 2. Add one as the minimum for that room. That means installation of at least three outlets.

He Throws Light on Landscaping

Illumination Specialist Knows What Electricity
Can Do for a Garden

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — By day, the back-yard Japanese garden at the home of John Watson is not much different from another. At night, a control board with 100 switches and dimmers is used to light the garden as a showcase of landscape illumination. Four miles of underground wire help do the job.

Watson is a landscape illuminator who has planned lighting for parks, businesses, homes and gardens from Canada to Mexico City.

His biggest current project is lighting the Queen Victoria Park at Niagara Falls on the Canadian side.

"Over 370 light units will be placed in the park, which is one mile by one-tenth of a mile wide," Watson said. "The total cost will exceed $150,000."

Watson received a master's degree in landscape architecture from Texas A&M College, studied in Europe and spent four years with a lamp company headquarters before launching his own business.

He started out in the field of decorative lighting, including the illumination of night clubs, restaurants, apartments, farms and garden areas and parks.

His works include illumination of the lush, tropical gardens around Acapulco's resort hotels as well as modern, contemporary buildings and drive-in banks such as the First National Automobile Bank in Tulsa, Okla.

Watson said that landscape architects must be allies of landscape illuminators, not competitors. He never plans a garden, although qualified to do so.

He prefers to call the work landscape illumination, because of the professional approach.

"It's garden lighting when you do it yourself," Watson said.

Warns Women
Not to Bury Intellect in Home

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — "The home should not become the grave-yard of the average woman's intellect," warned Mrs. Paul Douglas, wife of the U.S. Senator from Illinois.

She told a group of university women that "women must keep their interest fresh, even when their children are young, lest they be unable to recapture the time comes of the 'new leisure' time comes."

"It is not the lack of opportunity, but lack of the knowledge of what to do with all the opportunities which leads to frustration and the dead end of discontent," she said.

A local fellow says he's gonna use the straight ticket this year as soon as he finds out which party is going straight. "Quit talking — I'm peddling as fast as I can. One man we know is so hecked he has to wash the paper plates after a picnic. — Earl Wilson

Russia to Embark on New 20-Year Plan

MOSCOW—Nikita Khrushchev this week launches 24 million Soviet citizens into a 20-year program of hard work, seeking to end shortages in Russia, to overtake the United States in production, and spread Communism widely over the world.

The outline for all this is laid out in 47,000 words of a party program for the 22nd congress of the Soviet Communist party opening Tuesday.

It is the first overall new program for the party laid out since Lenin wrote the broad outlines of Soviet Socialism in 1919. The program is clearly intended to put the Khrushchev stamp on the coming two decades.

"This is a program for a nation leading the whole Communist world—part of it willingly and part not. The meeting can be expected to adopt the program with no changes of importance."

In comparison with the United States, salaries here are low, public assistance more extensive and dreams of owning an automobile. More cars are promised in the coming 20 years. But mobility the program calls for more motor pools where people can rent cars or get taxis. But meanwhile taxis have decreased in Moscow during the past year.

Here, in sum, is what is promised at the end of 20 years: Free maintenance of children at children's institutions and boarding schools. Maintenance of disabled people. Free education at all educational establishments.

FREE MEDICINE

Also free medical services for all citizens, including the supply of medicines and the treatment of sick persons at sanatoriums. Rent-free housing and, later, free public services (gas, electricity). Free public transport facilities (buses, street cars).

Also reduced charges for holiday homes, boarding houses and tourist camps, and perhaps some of this free. Gradual introduction of free public catering (mid-day meals at factories and offices, and for cooperative farmers at work).

"The Soviet state will thus demonstrate to the world a truly full satisfaction of all the growing material and cultural requirements of man," says the program.

The use of the word "free" is questionable. A pair of cheap shoes that can be had in the West for $5-6 costs $28-30 here. The balance goes to the government to help, among other things, subsidize housing. Dresses, coats, poor-nylon stockings (at $3.50 a pair) run into money.

Yet the whole program of promised free social service is an important matter, and much of it will be provided just as it says in the book. That can be said because some of it is already on the way. There is much free medical help, including hospitalization. Rent is subsidized now and is through every switchboard simultaneously, is tested regularly by city and state police in sound of such an attack. The warning is sound of black and yellow box shown here next to the switchboard.

'EMERGENCY' for Pontiac... Yes!

EDITOR'S NOTE: What chance of survival do people in Pontiac and the surrounding area have should an all-out nuclear attack ever be launched against this country? Stirred by a growing public awareness of the possibility of such an attack, The Pontiac Press has begun a concerted study of the local defense posture in search of the answer. The following article is the first in a series. The next article will appear Wednesday.

By DICK HANSON

"This is the Michigan state police post: EMERGENCY. This is an air raid warning. Repeat, this is an air-raid warning."

Fair, Warmer Is Forecast for the Pontiac Area

Pontiac area residents can expect fair and warmer weather through tomorrow, the weather man reports.

Tonight's low of 45 will be followed by a high of 68 Tuesday.

Winds variable 5-15 miles per hour tomorrow.

Temperatures will average two to four degrees above normal high of 68 to 74 and the normal low 39 to 44, during the next five days, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau. It'll be warmer Tuesday, cooler Thursday and warmer again on Friday.

Thirty-five degrees at 5:30 a.m. was the lowest temperature reading preceding high 6'clock today. By 1 p.m. the mercury had reached 55.

Search at Sea Is Resumed for Missing Plane

Teams Are Also Probing Inland Areas for Sign of AF Jet Bomber

NEW YORK (AP)—A force of 22 planes and four surface craft resume search today of a wide area of the North Atlantic for a trace of an Air Force jet bomber which disappeared with eight men aboard during JS Shield II.

Additional military and civilian elements probed inland areas of the East Coast on the possibility the eight-Jet B52G craft may have gone down ashore. It was to have been in at low level somewhere between New York and Philadelphia.

The bomber, from the 424 Strategic Wing at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N.C., was listed as missing at 1 a.m. Sunday, an hour after the 12-hour nationwide air defense exercise had ended. It was at that time that the plane should have run out of fuel.

Eight Air Force headquarters of the Strategic Air Command at Westover Air Force Base, Mass., said the plane's last known position was about 330 miles off the New York metropolitan area.

A score of planes scoured the area Sunday without picking up a sign of the craft. A task force remained on the spot during the night, and orders were issued to increase the force to a total of one Coast Guard, two Navy and 19 Air Force planes at daybreak.

SHIPS TAKE PART
Four Coast Guard cutters—two from Norfolk, Va., and two from Seattle, Wash.—also participated in the search.

Officials at Seymour Johnson identified those aboard the missing plane as: Capt. Roland C. Staff Sgt. Helmut Christ, Rosch aircraft commander; 1st Lt. Kenneth L. Payne, Carey, Idaho, pilot; Capt. Paul B. Fellows Jr., Sprague, N.Y., navigator; 1st Lt. Richard C. Wiksell, New York, navigator; 1st Lt. Dean A. Upp Greenfield, Ohio, electronics warfare officer; Staff Sgt. William J. The proposed meeting of senior officials from the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in London this week to work out a common negotiating position had been tentatively agreed on, a State Department spokesman said Saturday.

NO DECISION MADE

Sunday the spokesman said there had been no decision on the high-level parity and, instead, the Big Four ambassadorial group had been meeting here regularly on the Berlin crisis "will continue here in Washington."

The Russian for the switch, informants said, was France, which objected that it would be premature to get into discussions on negotiations when the Kremlin has offered nothing the West can negotiate about.

The future of inter-allied talks remained obscure as the Western diplomats discussed what to do next. The United States had an invitation out to the proposed participants to come to Washington.

In London the Foreign Office said its delegate, Deputy Under-Secretary Sir Evelyn Shackleton, would go to Washington. A West German spokesman said over the weekend the Bonn delegate, Deputy Foreign Minister Karl Carstens, planned to leave for London Wednesday as scheduled. In Washington, Asst. Secretary of State Foy Kohler dropped his plan to go to London.

France's Jean Lalo, Director of European Affairs in the Foreign Ministry, apparently was going to no meeting on negotiations—either in London or Washington.

The French stand is that the Allies would weaken their bargaining position by rushing into negotiations with the Reds over a Moscow-caused dispute while the Kremlin is threatening Berlin and has displayed no willingness to negotiate on anything the West can give up.

The devastation would extend to a 100-mile degree in a 20-mile pattern similar to stippling circles caused by a rock dropped in a pond.

No conceivable shelter could protect the lives of persons caught at ground zero, i.e., within the 5-mile radius.

In addition to intense heat (equal to 100,000 degrees F., Oct. 3).

2 Key Ford Plants Still Out Aim to Gain Full Production

DETROIT (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. aimed today at having its 120,000 production workers back at their jobs by Wednesday, the United Auto Workers Sunday having ordered local unions to call strikes at all but two of Ford's 85 plants.

There was doubt, however, just how far Ford could go without settlement at one of the two plants still struck — the Walton Hills stamping plant outside Cleveland, Ohio, which employs 3,300 and makes pressed metal parts for all of Ford's car divisions.

A strike at Walton Hills a year ago began to take Ford assembly lines down in six days, and a union spokesman predicted today that if this plant were back working in nine days, all Ford assembly lines would be affected.

Reside authorizing workers at Walton Hills to continue their strike in support of local-level demands, the UAW's international executive board told the 1,300 employees Sunday it represents in an engine factory at Wayne, Mich. They could continue their walkout for an at-the-plant settlement to supplement the national contract.

Ford and the UAW reached agreement last Thursday on a new three-year national contract that carried wage and fringe improvements which the union estimated more than 12 cents hourly in take-home pay. Similar benefits had been won earlier at American Motors Corp. and General Motors Corp.

Chrysler Corp. is the next target for UAW bargainers. Chrysler negotiations, as had Ford's, have been allowed to slide while the union hammered away elsewhere.

On the strength of its national contract and a series of local settlements Ford summoned about a third of its 120,000 production workers back today. It said maintenance workers would be called to others, that most production workers would be back on the job Tuesday and all by Wednesday, it hoped.

Most delegates, eager to get started on the substantive issues to be considered by the convention, spent the weekend doing their homework.

Since each delegate is on at least one of the nine committees named to deal with the constitution's substantive matters—such as legislative apportionment, finance and taxation, local government and education—the delegates have plunged into studies of historical background and pro and con arguments.

They return to Constitution Hall tonight at 10 to consider additional housekeeping details and organizational planning. Four substantive committees have scheduled meetings for Tuesday morning.

The convention set a fast pace during its first two weeks, accomplishing more in that period than the legislature usually gets done in a month.

But a resolution suggesting that the convention wind up its work by the end of the year met with noticeable coolness when it was introduced last week by Henry Woolfenden, a Bloomfield Hills Republican.

Woolfenden said the purpose of his Dec. 31 deadline proposal was to allow the convention's recommendations to appear on the April election ballot, when they would have to compete for attention with a large number of other issues and candidates.

90-DAY RESTRICTION
The constitution provides that the convention's recommendations cannot be placed on the ballot until 90 days have elapsed after adjournment.

Woolfenden's resolution, which was sent to the rules committee for probable burial, also set Nov. 15 as the deadline for the offering of delegate proposals and the completion of committee hearings. Dec. 1 was recommended as the target date for all final committee reports.

Eighteen proposals already have been submitted by delegates. They include one, filed by Weldon O. Yaeger, R-Detroit, which would give property owners the right to sell, rent or lease real estate to whoever they choose, either directly or through a real estate agent.

The Coast Guard boat, with a U.S. destroyer standing by, took the refugees off the Bahamas island of Cay Sal, only 35 miles north of central Cuba, and brought them to Key West Sunday.

They were questioned for nearly four hours by the U.S. Immigration Service and then were sent by bus to Miami for more investigation. Newman was not allowed to see them.

P. S. Willmore, chief immigration official in Key West, and Sir Robert Shackleton, governor of the British Bahamas, issued brief statements.

The British governor, who sent policemen to the tiny island to investigate, said shots had been exchanged between two Cuban fishing boats' just offshore after the refugees landed.

Willmore told newsmen: "I spoke with the Cuban political refugees, and they said that they were not shot at and that there was no shooting in their vicinity while they were on Cay Sal or while they were in the boat."

They Cay Sal, because it is British territory and yet so close to Cuba, is considered a Brandenburg gate to freedom by many Cubans who flee Fidel Castro's regime in small, unseaworthy boats.

Almost daily one or two of these boats are beached on Cay Sal and other little island in the Cay Sal bank. By agreement with the British, the U.S. Coast Guard handles the rescues. Each morning a coast guard plane flies over the largely uninhabited island looking for stranded refugees.

Reds Lay Blame on Mobilization of Laborers

Communist Urges End to Large-Scale Plant Transfers to Militia

From Our News Wire
BERLIN—The East German Communists admit that mobilization of the workers' militia to man the East Berlin barricades has dealt a serious economic blow.

Red economic chief Alfred Neumann told the party's Central Committee Sunday "the withdrawal of workers from a factory for outside activities not connected with their trade must be extensively stopped."

Neumann said industrial output was up three billion marks—$714 million at the official rate of exchange. But he said over-all production was falling short of targets fixed in the regime's seven-year economic plan.

The Communist party organ Kreuzzeitung published Neumann's 4,000-word report but left out any vague figures.

The brown-uniformed militiamen played a large role in building the wall dividing East and West Berlin when the barricades began going up Aug. 13. But early this month they seemed to disappear—apparently back to the factories.

JUMPED INTO TRUCK
Today East German police threw one gas grenades at a West Berlin crowd after five East Berliners jumped from a second-story window of a border house into a sandfilled truck, West Berlin police said.

The incident occurred at Bernauerstrasse. There, apartment houses on one side of the street are in the Soviet sector, while the sidewalks below are in West Berlin.

Bernauerstrasse has been the scene of many dramatic escapes of East Berliners. The sand-filled truck was the latest innovation.

At around noon, the truck roared up to an apartment house. Sixteen East Berliners and two women jumped into it. West Berliners standing nearby cheered. The East German police were taken by surprise but after realizing (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Crippled Plane Comes in Safely

Electra With Jammed Landing Gear Damaged Slightly; None Injured

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—A prop-electra plane with stuck landing gear and 49 persons on board made an emergency landing on a cushion of foam at Carswell Air Force Base today. Nobody was hurt. The plane was slightly damaged.

The plane was Braniff International Airways' flight 987, bound from Dallas to Chicago, with intermediate stops at Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kan., and Kansas City, Mo.

It flew in circles over Dallas, its home base, for five hours and 25 minutes — 3:45 a.m., EDT, to 9:10 a.m., EDT, — before setting down at Carswell, a Strategic Air Command base west of Dallas.

"It was a beautiful landing," said an Air Force man who watched the pilot, Capt. Fred Mills, bring the plane in.

Mills had the passengers — there were 46 of them and five crewmen — sit with their heads in pillows, placed across their knees. He made them empty their pockets of everything sharp.

The plane slid down the long runway in a shower of sparks. It listed slightly as it stopped and the passengers were rushed through the exits.

"There was no sign of panic," passenger Rex J. E. Barwell, 27, pastor of the Venable (Tex.) Baptist Church said. "I doubt if there was anyone praying, but I was."

Taylor's Opinion Indicated Sees Troops for S. Viet Used Only as a Last Resort

HONOLULU (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, appearing before a Senate subcommittee on Tuesday, said he would recommend sending U.S. troops to South Vietnam only as a last resort to save that Southeast Asian country from communist domination.

This was the indication today as President Kennedy's personal military adviser paused here for a day of conferences before returning to his fact-finding mission taking him halfway around the world.

Two Area Men Escape Crash

Light Plane Smashes Up in Waterford Field in Emergency Landing

Two Pontiac area men consider themselves very lucky today after their light plane crashed in a vacant field in Waterford Township at noon yesterday. The plane had taken off from Pontiac City Airport.

Pilot of the plane, Gerald D. Clark, 30, of 2072 Commonwealth St., Waterford Township, and Richard A. Young, 31, of 2047 Margaret St., Auburn Heights, told township police they were headed for Allen Airport, Giddings at Brown Road, 9 miles east of Pontiac Airport.

Clark said that the plane, owned by Giovanni Leone, of 222 Auburn Ave., began to lose all pressure about a mile and a half northeast of the Pontiac City Airport. He was attempting to return to the airport when the engine began to sputter and vibrate.

Clark said he attempted to land in the only available field at Tubbs and Pompey roads. The plane hit a rut and flipped over burying the nose 3 feet in the earth.

The two men were taken to Pontiac General Hospital where Young was treated for minor lacerations and Clark was examined. Both men were treated and released.

Mites Make Misery
if in Air Conditioner

KANSAS CITY (UPI)—If you wake up one summer night with a burning, itching skin, you should have checked the air conditioner in your bedroom. There is a good chance this summer standby was flooding the room with mites.

A report published in the current issue of GP, Journal of the American Academy of General Practice, declares that the air conditioner is a perfect nesting place for birds, common mite carriers. To prevent a mite invasion, home owners are advised to screen both the air intake on air conditioners and the warm, dry ledges below the units. This stops birds from nesting there.

Parking Ticket
Stirs Pentagon

$2 Citation Journeys
From West Coast to Washington and Back

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—A $2 parking ticket issued against the operator of an Army recruiting car went clear to the Pentagon and back before the court collected the fine.

Municipal Court clerk informed the Pentagon that the citation apparently had been ignored. The Army went into action and determined the vehicle in question was "somewhere in California" attached to the 6th Army Headquarters in San Francisco.

Sixth Army authorities referred the complaint to its San Francisco recruiting office, and the complaint finally went back down the line to the Los Angeles recruiting officer and the Santa Barbara area recruiter.

When it got down to Capt. Cevan J. Fe Sieru of Santa Barbara, it could go no further and Le Sieru got down and paid the $2 himself.

Le Sieru said it was the first time he had heard about the matter, and it appeared the citation had either blown or fallen off his vehicle.

Unfortunates

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—What would you do if your son went chasing a fire siren and came home bringing the burned-out family — including the parents and 13 of their 14 children?

This is what happened to Mrs. Joseph Szabo Saturday night, and she not only welcomed the unfortunate family; she said she would be happy to have them stay until their problems were solved.

Her son, Nick, had been visiting at his parents' home when he heard the siren. Reaching the fire, he found that the George Barker family had lost all possessions in the blaze.

Touched by the plight of the Barkers, Szabo brought them to his parents' home.

Mrs. Szabo and her husband, a retired steelworker, have 13 children, "and we cared for a niece and nephew until they grew up," said Mrs. Szabo.

"This is the happiest time I have had since our children were grown," she added.

"I love families."

U.S. Schedules Two Space Debuts

The United States plans two major space feats this week that could significantly advance the U.S. space program if successful.

GAGG CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Scientists plan to launch this week the first Saturn spacecraft on an eight-minute flight which will start the United States on the long road to manned landings on the moon.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration reports the firing will take place within a few days if no problems arise. With 13 million pounds of thrust—about 30 million horsepower—the first Saturn is three times more powerful than any previous U.S. rocket.

The maiden flight will test the first stage only. Two upper stages will be filled with 20,000 gallons of water to simulate weight of the operational rocket.

The flight plan calls for the 162-foot, 462-ton Saturn to accelerate to a speed of 3,700 miles an hour during the 1 minute 37 seconds of its first stage.

The rocket has been wired to radio information on 510 aspects of performance during the flight.

NASA said the upcoming flight is the first of 10 research and development launchings leading to an operational Saturn C1 rocket, with a thrust of 1.5 million pounds, in 1964.

Cautioning against overoptimism on the early tests, officials said: "It is reasonable to expect a total of 5 successes in the 10 launchings. In this first attempt, invaluable experience and engineering data will be achieved even though the flight path is not completely fulfilled."

157th NAVY BOOSTER
Saturn is the United States' first entry in the heavy booster field. The Soviet Union has been using for some time an operational space rocket with estimated thrust of one million pounds.

When ready in 1964, the two-stage Saturn C1 will be capable of placing a 15-ton satellite in earth orbit. Advanced C3 rockets will be able to send 40 tons into orbit or 15 tons on probes to the moon, Mars or Venus.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Scout rocket designed to climb 4,500 miles in one hour will be fired this week. Its aim: to explore the ionosphere and send back important data for radio communications and for the tracking and guidance of space craft.

The solid fuel Scout, a four-stage rocket 72 feet high and weighing more than 18 tons, will be launched from Wallops Island, Va. It will carry aloft a 9-pound package of instruments.

He spent Sunday afternoon with Rayburn at Baylor University Medical Center in Dallas and said he was "better than on Saturday" and "still sharp."

Add 12 Local Dishes
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — To help feed the college student Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets who train here during the summer, Lockbourne Air Force Base added some new dishes at a chow hall — 12 local girls who assist with serving.

Lyle Allen, 25, Napoleon, was crushed to death Saturday when his clothing became entangled in the unloading mechanism of a cement truck. The accident occurred on the U.S.27 bypass being constructed near Charlotte.

William Hutchins, 34, Metamora, was killed Sunday night when his car left M14, 2 miles south of the M72 intersection in Crawford County and rolled over.

American Exchange Shows Pep

Market Weary After First Hour

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned mixed early today after starting on the upside. Gains and losses of fractions to a point outnumbering losers prevailed among most key stocks.

Chrysler led a fractional gain as it faced labor negotiations this week. Ford and American Motors were slightly higher while General Motors eased.

Steels were mostly lower as the lag in auto production cut steel output, chemicals moved generally higher, and rail, utilities, oil, aluminum and electronics were pretty well scrambled.

Tobacco and drugs also were regular. Airlines were unchanged to slightly lower.

The market had a vigorous tone at the opening, with gains of fractions to a point outnumbering losers. But more minus signs crept into the picture as the session went on.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mostly higher. Moderate gains were made by Technicolor, Giannini Controls, Draper, Heil-Coll, Loral Electronics and General Dynamics.

Figures at decimal points are slightly off.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bond prices were steady in light transactions at the start of the week's trading.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities posted no changes in intermediate or long term issues at the opening.

There were few price movements among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Utilities showed the smallest possible up edge.

While rail and industrial were irregular.

About the only movement among bonds was a fractional gain in the 10-year Treasury note.

Rail Hearings Reopen in A

Santa Fe Renews Fight With Southern Pacific To Buy W. Pacific

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Representatives of several shipping firms were to testify before the Interstate Commerce Commission today when it begins a new three-day round of Western Pacific rail hearings.

The second round of the clash between Southern Pacific Rail Road and Santa Fe Railway ended Friday at San Francisco.

The past two weeks were devoted primarily to cross-examination of two competing carriers, both of which seek ICC permission to acquire stock control of Western Pacific and its 1,188-mile line.

Principal testimony to be given here was expected to be about maintenance of the Bieber, Calif., route that is Western Pacific's link between the Santa Fe and Great Northern systems. The link competes with Southern Pacific's Coast route.

There has been speculation that the hearings may set patterns for a revolution in the railroad industry. Rail executives have been pointing to a "merger fever" that might leave the country with only a few super-giants in another decade.

JFK, Business Case on Hot Issue

By SAM DAWSON
AP News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kennedy administration and business are getting closer together today at least one disputed issue: Tax allowances for the wear and tear on machines and plants.

The President has been urging speedier modernization of industry to promote economic growth. Industry has been charging it is held back by obsolete tax rules.

MORE FAVOR

In return for this promised shortening of depreciation time schedules were found justified. Business leaders indicate they'll look with more favor on a Kennedy administration pet scheme.

A tax allowance as a reward for the purchase of new equipment is the President's proposed sliding scale giving the biggest tax allowance to firms making unusually heavy investments.

This was changed by the House Ways low as 15 years from the previous 5 years. It is studying other industries burdened with plants and machinery made obsolete in recent years by the big speed-up in technology.

At first the President proposed a sliding scale giving the biggest tax allowance to firms making unusually heavy investments.
