U.S. Protection Sent for Yanks in Viet Coup

ONE COLOR

SAIGON (UPI)—Diplomatic sources in Tokyo today confirmed that South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh Diem has been arrested and jailed, and his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu, powerful head of the secret police and husband of fiery Mrs. Nhu, was assassinated by rebel forces storming the capital city of Saigon.

From Our News Wires
SAIGON, South Viet Nam—Rebels Vietnamese Marines, Army and Air Force units staged a coup today aimed at overthrowing President Ngo Dinh Diem.

In Washington President Kennedy met in urgent conference with top military and diplomatic advisers today to evaluate the uprising.

United States forces in the Pacific were ordered to start moving toward South Viet Nam to protect American lives if necessary. The forces are primarily part of the 7th Fleet, but might also include some air and even ground units.

The United States already has an estimated 15,000 troops in Viet Nam.

At the United Nations, a Vietnamese source said Tran Van Chuong, Vietnamese diplomat, will state today that he and a shadow cabinet are ready to take over in South Viet Nam if called upon.

The informant said Chuong, his country's former ambassador to the United States, would make the statement after returning to Washington from Boston at 1:15 p.m. (Pontiac time). He is the father of Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, Viet Nam's controversial first lady.

Up to now, Chuong has said of reports of a shadow cabinet that they were premature. He resigned his ambassadorship weeks ago in protest at his government's treatment of Buddhists. His wife resigned the post of U.N. observer.

Fierce fighting raged in the streets of Saigon, and Diem's special forces "palace guard" was reported routed. Heavy casualties were feared.

Radio reports said Diem had taken refuge on a naval vessel in the Saigon River. There was no word on his brother and chief adviser, Ngo Dinh Nhu, head of the secret police.

Some elements of the army and the navy apparently remained loyal to the government.

Temperatures Pushed Toward Freezing Point

As daylight dwindles today temperatures will start slipping down toward a freezing 30 degrees.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with the thermometer registering a high of near 50 tomorrow.

Sunday and Monday are expected to be fair and a little warmer, then cooler air will move in again Tuesday and Wednesday.

North to northwest winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour today and tonight will diminish a little Saturday.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 42. At 2 p.m. the reading was 45.

Detroit Slips in Population

Estimate Shows Gain
in Five-County Area

DETROIT — The city of Detroit's population has declined by 50,144, while that of the five-county metropolitan area has grown by 140,280 since the 1960 census, the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission estimated today.

The loss would cut Detroit's population to 1,620,000 and the gain would increase the metropolitan area's to 1,760,000.

Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw counties make up the metropolitan area.

The commission estimated that as of last July 1 Macomb County had gained 87,196 since 1960; Oakland had increased 46,741; Washtenaw 44,769; Monroe, 7,880 and Wayne, 5,703.

WARREN LEADS

The city of Warren led individual communities in gain, with 38,454, and now ranks second in the metropolitan area with a population estimated at 127,700.

Royal Oak, the commission says, has passed Pontiac in Oakland County, 85,000 to 83,600.

Livonia's gain was reported as 14,454. Franklin Township's 6,694; 700; Jackson's 6,800; Southfield's 6,589 and Bloomfield Township's 5,070.

Top losses were reported for Royal Oak Township, 2,047; Highland Park, 1,983; Farmington Hills, 1,137; Mount Clemens, 1,015 and Keego Harbor, 51.

Death Due to Injuries

JFK Pledges to Keep GIs in Germany

Combat Divisions to Maintain Strength

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON—President Kennedy has given flat assurance that U.S. combat forces in Germany will remain there at present strength.

Moving to calm West German jitteriness caused by reports of a U.S. troop reduction, Kennedy told his news conference yesterday: "We intend to keep our combat forces in Germany as they are today; that is, more than six combat divisions."

In Bonn, West German government officials said today there could be no clearer statement than President Kennedy's on U.S. determination to maintain military strength in Europe.

They noted that reassurances had already come from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of the Army Cyrus Vance. The President's clear-cut reaffirmation yesterday was nevertheless welcome, they added.

Kennedy said that as part of a reorganization of the Army's European logistics (supply) forces, there are plans for some reduction of "noncombat" personnel.

"But we do not," he said, "intend to bring back any units of personnel whose return would impair the military effectiveness of our forces in Germany."

WERE OVERRULED

Pentagon sources indicated some combat reductions had at one time been proposed, but were overruled in the face of strong West German objections. Earlier yesterday reports from Europe had predicted return of 5,000 or more men, including an armored cavalry regiment from Germany.

3 German Miners Brought Out Alive

PEINE, Germany (UPI)—Three men trapped more than a week in a flooded iron mine rode a steel capsule one at a time to the surface today.

Officials said they went directly into a decompression chamber on top of the mine to prevent them from getting a case of the "bends" following their long ordeal under high air pressure.

Rescue worker Paul Syska went down in the capsule first through a 262-foot escape shaft punched through to the miners by an American-made drill early today in a precision operation. He helped them into the 10-foot-long capsule and they rode to the surface one at a time.

Coliseum Stands Erupt at Ice Show

From Our News Wires

INDIANAPOLIS — A gas explosion hurled flames and concrete slabs as large as pianos through a crowd watching an ice show finale last night, killing 62 and injuring 365.

Skaters were whirling into the grand finale of the opening night performance of "Holidays on Ice" when the explosions tore through the concrete floor beneath a section of $3.30-a-ticket box seats — the finest in the house. It was "Shrine Night" at the ice show.

Most of the Indianapolis victims were buried 40 to 50 feet through the air onto the ice as skaters began their grand finale. Other dead lay beneath twisted and torn steel at the south end of the coliseum.

The task of identifying the charred, broken, torn bodies continued well into the day.

The injured were taken in ambulances, taxicabs and private automobiles to six hospitals — where some of the victims later died.

BENEATH STANDS

The blast appeared to come from concessions stands beneath the south tier of box seats. The police and fire chiefs speculated that gas was to blame.

"This is the worst disaster I have experienced in my 25 years as a police officer," Police Chief Robert Reilly said.

"This is indescribable. I thought I had seen death, but I guess I was wrong. I don't care if you have seen five wars," Reilly said.

The blast which occurred today in Marietta, Ga., also was believed to have been caused by gas.

The crumpled bodies of more dead lay underneath the shredded steel of the south stands of the coliseum, where the blast had shattered the concrete floor.

Some of the dead lay huddled between empty beer cartons and popcorn boxes. They were charred, broken, torn.

City patrolman guard Jack Ohrburg said: "It's the first time I've ever had a 3-year-old girl die in my arms, crying 'Daddy, Daddy'."

A young woman pointed at a body lying on the floor and screamed: "It's my husband!"

The tragedy mounted in the six hospitals where cabs, private cars, ambulances — anything that could be pressed into service — brought the victims. The kluge lights still burned on the arena floor this morning, shining on 53 bodies stretched on the concrete floor. They were covered by canvases, coats, sweaters—anything which could hide the horror and lend dignity to sudden death.

Bodies were hurled 40 and 50 feet through the air onto the ice where chorus girls had pirouetted a moment before. Mink stoles lay among torn bodies; crumpled popcorn boxes and empty beer containers. In point of numbers killed it was the greatest tragedy in Indianapolis history.

Gov. Matthew Welsh and Coroner Dennis Nicholas promised an unstinting investigation until the cause of the blast is discovered. Welsh called it "a great tragedy" which "saddened the entire state."

Investigators indicated they already had plenty of clues.

The box seats, many of them occupied by prominent Indianapolis area residents, were directly above the concession area which is located in the basement of the barn-like State Fair Coliseum.

TANK TOPPLED

At least one coliseum worker said he saw a gas tank topple over there moments before the blast.

Cordons of police guarded other gas tanks and warned spectators to stay away after the disaster.

To the stunned city of Indianapolis, the reasons why seemed secondary for the moment.

The shocking and most important fact was a sheet of ice started with dead

Drugstore Explosion Kills Seven

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — An explosion ripped through a drugstore at the height of a downtown Halloween celebration last night, killing seven persons and injuring at least 25 others.

Firemen and civil defense workers worked through the night to clear debris in a search for other possible victims.

The front portion of the two-story, concrete structure threatened to collapse, hampering rescue operations.

Hundreds of children and adults had come to the town square in this northwest Georgia town for a Halloween parade and window-decorating contest.

NEAR ATLANTA

Marietta, with a population of near 30,000, is 18 miles northwest of Atlanta.

Officials said the death toll could have been higher if the blast had come a few minutes earlier, when many children were in the vicinity for judging of their costumes.

Indonesia Charged With U.S. Aid Theft

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American aid technician who has worked in Indonesia for more than three years has written an angry four-page letter to several congressmen alleging details of corruption, theft and conversion of American supplies by Indonesian officials.

"I am getting very tired of working three months of the year paying taxes so that the U.S. government can support corrupt governments — and Communist nations," the letter said.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., said he would ask the House Foreign Affairs Committee, of which he is a member, to investigate the charges.

The American made these specific allegations:

- There is a shortage of 6,000 tons of DDT, worth $4.2 million, which was supplied by the United States.

Counsel Nixes Area Booster

Industry Director 'Not Legally Justified'

Oakland County's plans to enter the stiff competition of attracting new industries to a particular area have dimmed considerably.

County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen yesterday voiced the legal opinion that there is no way for the county to justify its economic development program as proposed.

The program requires the hiring of a director to approach industries anywhere in the country that are contemplating an expansion move into new, as yet undeveloped, areas.

The director would be a high-class traveling salesman for the county, according to the program. Other areas already are actively engaged in this field.

MAIL BROCHURES
There is no legal justification for the county to finance the expenses that would be incurred in such a program, said Allen.

"In fact, the best the county could do is hire a director to mail out letters and brochures explaining the advantages of locating in Oakland County to industrial firms.

"The statutes don't allow paying travel expenses for such an individual," said Allen.

When reminded that Kent County has a director carrying out a program similar to that proposed here, Allen explained that this individual isn't being paid by Kent County.

BUSINESSMEN PAY
Allen said the Kent County director's salary and expenses are paid by interested businessmen through the local chamber of commerce.

Several Michigan cities, including Detroit, are also actively engaged in attracting new industries.

According to Allen, cities are not limited, as counties are, to carrying out only those duties allowed by Michigan statutes.

The county planning commission, as the proponent of the economic development program, is scheduled to consider the matter further at a meeting Nov. 13.

Bipartisan Meeting Slated on Area Reapportionment

By JIM DYGERT

Republicans and Democrats will meet tomorrow in an attempt to work out a bipartisan plan for the legislative reapportionment of Oakland County, The Pontiac Press learned today.

Idea for the meeting was first advanced by County GOP Chairman Charles L. Lyle, who suggested it to Democratic County Chairman Sander M. Levin about a week ago.

Confirming the scheduled meeting, Lyle said, "We felt if we could make a plan with mutual agreement, we could help the state reapportionment commission complete their work on time."

He pointed out that Oakland County "is one of the most difficult counties to reapportion because of its rapid growth."

DEMS TO ATTEND

James M. McNeely, Levin's executive assistant, also confirmed the meeting. He said he, Levin and nine members of the Democratic party's apportionment study committee would attend.

Both parties consider the meeting as an exploratory one to determine the chances of being able to reach agreement on a plan that would revise the county's districts to include three new House seats and two new Senate seats according to the 1960 census.

Both parties also had planned to meet without publicity at first, but word of the meeting leaked out today.

Democrats prefer to resolve Senate districts first because, with the new total of three districts, it would be easier. Republicans want to district the nine House seats first, so that Senate districts could then be shaped each to include three House seats.

CONSIDERATIONS

Republicans also think considerations of future growth are important, while Democrats feel that's too unpredictable and districting should be strictly on present population.

Democrats already have a plan worked out by their study committee, headed by McNeely, and approved by most local Democratic clubs. Republicans have five tentative plans drawn up by their research committee.

The Democratic plan has one Republican Senate district, one Democratic and one even. Its House districts split five and four in favor of the GOP.

But the GOP's plans for House districts have six Republicans to three Democrats. Both parties' plans have Pontiac and Royal Oak cities as complete districts.

The matter of legislative districts for next year's election is currently shrouded in confusion. Partisan disagreement could prevent the bipartisan apportionment commission from drawing new districts on time for the August primary.

Condition Critical After Cars Collide

Bernard J. Boncher, 47, of 2349 Harvard, Berkeley, is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with chest injuries suffered yesterday in an auto accident in Pontiac Township.

Boncher's car, traveling west on Auburn, and an east-bound car driven by Gerald Flowers, 25, of 8123 St. John, Ulica, collided at the intersection of Auburn and Opdyke at 4:30 p.m.

Flowers told sheriff's deputies that the traffic signal turned yellow as his car entered the intersection. Boncher was unable to make a statement due to injuries.

Flowers suffered a knee injury and is in satisfactory condition at the hospital.

Adult Education Rolls Show 9 Per Cent Rise

BIRMINGHAM — Fall enrollment in the continuing education program of the Birmingham Public School System marked a 9 per cent increase this year.

The total of 1,341 persons enrolled in 44 courses is 185 above last year's figure, according to Howard Malwitz, coordinator of the program.

New courses offered this fall include "Your Child and Reading," "Speculative Investments," "Drafting" and "Development of Western Culture."

The intermediate shorthand course is meeting two nights a week instead of one. A beginning sewing class is meeting once a week for three hours instead of two.

A former Birmingham mayor and past president of the county's Family Service agency has been elected to the 53-member board of the Family Service Association of America.

Carl P. Ingraham, a county supervisor, will help guide the association as a member of its board of directors.

Ingraham is a board member of the North Oakland planning division, United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

He also heads the legislative committee of the County Board of Supervisors and is a Birmingham city commissioner.

I. Lee Truax, a pioneer Birmingham businessman, will celebrate his 90th birthday anniversary Sunday.

Truax operated a hardware store on Woodward around the turn of the century.

After living in Idaho for 18 years, he returned to Birmingham and maintained the business until 1937.

He is now living at the home of one of his three daughters, Mrs. Clyde Dalton, 11560 Highland View, Los Altos, Calif.

monitored in Singapore and Tokyo identified the leader of the uprising as Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, 46, a former member of the Vietnamese general staff.

The reports said 14 generals and 10 colonels have announced support of the rebellion, which Radio Saigon said was prompted by the Diem regime's "treatment of the Buddhists and the students" and his alleged plans to "make a deal with Communist North Viet Nam."

LODGE CONFERRED

The broadcasts added that S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge conferred with Diem shortly after the uprising started.

They added that Gen. Duong broadcast an appeal to the people to support the rebels, who have imposed an 8 p. m. to 7 a. m. (7 a. m. to 6 p. m. Pontiac time) curfew on Saigon and the adjacent Chinese-populated suburb of Cholon.

The announcements added that all press cables from Saigon will be censored, and that all Buddhists, professors, school teachers and students jailed by the Diem regime had been released.

The rebels said other forces had surrounded Diem's palace and were awaiting orders to attack. They said rebellious marines had captured the national police headquarters and the Saigon radio station, while the navy and the palace guard had surrendered to other insurgents.

Gen. Duong declared in a brief communique that he and his committee of generals had "no political ambitions."

The travelogue will also be shown at the Community House tomorrow night.

William J. Mergeler, Service for William J. Mergeler, 67, of 1128 Chestnut, will be 10 a. m. Monday at Holy Name Catholic Church. Entombment will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield.

Mr. Mergeler died Wednesday after a five-month illness.

He was district sales manager of Kearney and Trucker Corp., Detroit, before his retirement in 1961. He was a member of the Detroit Boat Club.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p. m. Sunday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Surviving are his wife, Geraldine T., a daughter, Mrs. David Patria of Lakenheath, Eng.; two sisters and a brother.

Winning Call Was Almost Unanswered

A pretty, blue-eyed blonde, Deborah Cook, is the happiest 5-year-old in Pontiac today because her mother decided to answer the phone last night.

Debbie took top prize, a new bicycle, in the elementary classification in the Halloween Mystery Treat Contest.

The event was cosponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department, Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and Pontiac Board of Education.

When the phone rang at the Cook home at 230 Gage, Debbie's mother, Mrs. Curtis Cook, almost didn't answer.

SHE WAS TIRED

"I was tired and didn't feel like talking to anyone," she said, "but then I decided to pick it up anyway."

The call was for Debbie, a kindergarten pupil at Mark Twain School. She was home and that was all that was needed to make her the winner.

First prize in the older age groups (a wristwatch) went to Henry Russell, 13, of 495 Nevada, a seventh grader at Jefferson Junior High School, and Susan Forslund, 15, a 10th grade pupil at Pontiac Central High.

Henry Cerna, 9, of 455 Brooks, took the second-place prize, a radio, in the elementary group. Others taking second place were Linda Pickett, 14, of 133 W. Chicago, and William Millu, 15, of 1710 Lakeway.

They won pen and pencil sets.

Finishing third, with five silver dollars, were Clifford Thompson, 6, of 349 Howard McNeill, Cindy Beck, 13, of 2765 Genes, and Carol Rose, 16, of 646 Fourth.

In addition, each local elementary school had three winners who were home when contest officials called. There were 102 prizes awarded.

Joint Flight Possible—K

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union launched a new and sophisticated space craft today.

A short time later, Premier Nikita Khrushchev hinted the Russians might cooperate with the United States in a joint flight to the moon if additional concrete steps are taken to decrease international tension.

Khrushchev made his remarks at a diplomatic reception as the Soviets disclosed their latest space achievement.

They said the new craft for the first time in history carried out extensive orbital maneuvers by remote control without a man aboard.

New York's a Wonderful Town—for Some

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—How do you live here, nice as it is to visit? inquired the cozy critic. "Believe me, this place is for the birds—and I do mean pigeons. People no longer have a status here."

Well, she was a pretty girl, and I supposed she meant what she said. But—oh, dullness—how out of everywhere can you be? There are several kinds of people who knock New York.

There are the butter and egg men who arrive with a fist waving green and say they won't take any chicken feathers from anybody.

UGH! There are those from Chicago who say their museums have more places to park chewing gum than any we have here. And there are the high-class ladies from San Francisco who complain they get their tennis shoes dirty riding in the subway.

This is an attractive place to tour—in a way—and on a group basis, they sometimes remark, "but how and why would one want to live here individually?"

Actually, Manhattan has many attractions, and getting along isn't too difficult. The chief idea is that you have to walk a little faster than you do in other cities, and realize that it doesn't make any difference where you're going—just so you hurry.

VIEW LIFE

The second thing is to remember that you are a viewer rather than a participant in life. You should, after a while, regard the execution of a murder or the assassination of a favorite, operative aria with an equal sense of enthusiasm and non-participation.

The great aim is noninvolvement. It might be your luck, for example, to gaze across an apartment courtyard and see a stranger strangling his wife.

Interrupt him? Not for the world. That might be all right in Dubuque. But here you either look the other way, or break out in mild applause.

The pedestrian has a larger sense of adventure here, too. You can earn a merit badge by going across a street and back if you return without a truck tire's signature upon your back, or two foreign sports cars honking impatiently in your midriff.

NOT THE SAME

One who becomes accustomed to the faster tempo of this city is never quite the same again.

There are calmer spirits who say that "the New York pace" is a device for getting attention rather than distance. But that isn't so. There is a pace of possibility here—an electric sense of anything can happen, a gift of hope, a quest of unreasonable demand, a faith that you will soon meet Aladdin and he will rub his lamp and all you lodged for will come true.

That's what makes happiness for many here—living on bread crumbs while forestaging cake.

Excitement is a nutrition in New York.

Tobacco Firm Sued in Lung Cancer Case

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Leo A. McGraw, 52, seeks $2,536,000 damages from the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. on a contention that he contracted lung cancer from the firm's cigarettes.

McGraw filed suit Thursday, saying he smoked the company's cigarettes for 30 years at the rate of three packs a day. He contended the cigarettes gave him lung cancer in 1962 and that part of one lung was removed.

State Funds Show 22nd Rise in Row

LANSING, Mich.—The collection of state sales and use taxes increased in October for the 22nd consecutive month, reports the State Revenue Department.

State Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock said this reflected a general improvement in the state's economy. Car sales, retail sales and all phases of business were up.

"The continued upward trend demonstrates the strength of the Michigan economy," Lock said. Sales and use tax collections in October on September business totaled $44.85 million, $2.79 million more than the same month a year ago.

The percentages increase, Lock said, was 6.6 per cent, slightly less than previous months. The months of July, August and September showed an approximate 8 per cent increase over the same months last year.

Junior Editors Quiz on NEWSPAPERS

QUESTION: When were newspapers first produced and widely read?

ANSWER: It is said that the first newspaper—or publication regularly giving news—was the Chinese court journal, "T'ching Pao," which began in the 500s and ran until 1935.

Before this, the Chinese had started printing from blocks, and this is how the T'ching Pao was printed at first.

Movable type (2), with single carved type letters which could be put together into words, was introduced by Gutenberg and greatly stimulated printing.

In the 1600s, regularly issued papers appeared in Germany and in England, where the first full sized newspaper was the "Oxford Gazette."

The first American newspaper, "Public Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestic," began publication in 1690, but was suppressed by the English authorities.

However, by the time of the Revolution, there were at least 35 newspapers publishing and their importance was recognized by such leaders as Washington and Jefferson.

Newspapers, both large and small, appear in every part of America and are recognized today as one of the most important features of our American way of life.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you have an idea that newspapers are for grownups only look carefully through the pages of your local paper. You'd be delighted with many things that appeal to the interest of your own age group.

Air Force Lofts Minuteman

VANDENBERG AFB, Calif. (AP) — A Strategic Air Command crew launched a Minuteman intercontinental ballistic missile down the Pacific missile range Thursday, the Air Force said. It was the 19th training launch from this West Coast missile base.

The operational missile was fired by members of the 12th Strategic Missile Squadron, 341st Missile Wing, Malmstrom Air Force Base, Montana.

First short wave broadcast was heard in 1924.

Warmer in Alaska?

No, Mercury's Moved

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—It's going to be warmer in Anchorage this winter.

The U.S. Weather Bureau plans to move its thermometer from the airport to downtown Anchorage, a spokesman said Thursday. Temperatures recorded at the airport generally are several degrees lower than those taken in the city.

Last Week of UF Drive Calls for Added 'Push'

With the Women's Division already quota high, the 1963 Pontiac Area United Fund moves into the stretch drive with the need for both workers and contributors to stand together for the sustained push needed to chalk up another Fund victory.

The efficacy of the UF concept of charitable contribution is now so clearly established, the self-sacrificing efforts of the campaign chairmen and workers so manifest, and the generous response of contributors so heart-warming that the only threat to complete realization of the campaign goal would be over-confidence and relaxation of effort and interest.

Let's not, therefore, rest on our oars—and let George do it. Your social obligation to the needy and handicapped must be met squarely. In this case "George" is you and you.

The Press heartily commends the fine progress thus far made and, with two-thirds of the race run, bespeaks a "going away" finish as the campaign moves into its final week.

Adolphe Menjou

The death of ADOLPHE MENJOU brings a note of sadness to movie goers of a generation ago.

Hollywood's symbol of sophistication whose "uniform" was white tie and tails, MENJOU began his picture career with the old Vitaphone company after graduation from Cornell in 1912.

He achieved stardom by 1923, when he had leading roles in such silent classics as "The Three Musketeers" and "The Shiek." His last appearance was in "Pollyanna," filmed in 1960.

The actor was one of the few stars of the silent screen to make successful transition to the talkies.

The private life of Mr. MENJOU was most exemplary in contrast to the flamboyance that marked the personal careers of many of his contemporaries.

He answered his country's call to the colors in World War I when he volunteered for the Army ambulance corps, serving in France and Italy.

Always an outspoken foe of communism and a conservative in politics, he was initially a member of the John Birch Society, but subsequently disassociated himself with the group in disagreement with its founder.

The talent and character of ADOLPHE MENJOU were a fine contribution to the social mold of his times, and his death will be deeply mourned by all who knew him.

Tax-Free Food Issue - Something to Chew On

In anticipation of the exemption of food from the present 4 per cent sales tax, under the proposed Romney tax reform, experts are choosing up sides on the question of just what is food, and when is food not food.

We could pass on several pretty ominous paragraphs of gobbledygook that the experts have come up with—but we won't. It's doubtful whether you'd understand it either. But one thing is clear. Whether food qualifies for tax exemption may depend on the shape it's in when you buy it and where you eat it. For instance:

(a) A bag of popcorn purchased at a movie and eaten there would be taxable. But a bag bought at a grocery store and eaten at home wouldn't be.

(b) A pizza bought at a drive-in or at a restaurant would be taxable. But a frozen pizza bought at a grocery store would be tax-free.

So, in case trouble borrowing is one of your hobbies, here's one that you can really sink your teeth into.

DeGaulle Molds French Fantasy

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON—French President Charles de Gaulle, almost 73 now, said "old age is a shipwreck." But, if the waters of time are lapping at his decks, he is still on the bridge, still a captain, and very much a critic.

The Kennedy administration's duel with him, compared with de Gaulle's ominous and blunt suspicions about American defense of Europe, has an almost delicate elegance in its pointed but restrained thrusts.

Repeatedly the administration has criticized him without naming him, as if trying still to be neighborly with the man next door who keeps honking his horn all night and building fires on the side-walk.

De Gaulle, dreaming of a resurrected France since his father talked to him about it in childhood, must be realistic enough to know France lacks the resources to be a No. 1 power again, like the United States and Russia.

But reality beclouds a dream. And de Gaulle, perhaps out of frustration and injured pride, persists in making France sound bigger than it is if only by the tactics of obstruction and hostility.

ENDING ALLIANCE
He blocked Britain from joining the Common Market and endangers the Western alliance by suggesting Europe cannot depend indefinitely on the United States, its pledged ally, to stand beside it in time of danger.

Nevertheless, the Kennedy administration tiptoes around him. Not so Sen. J. W. Fulbright, an Arkansas Democrat who doesn't have to deal directly with the Frenchman.

De Gaulle recently boasted that France not only isn't borrowing from others, "particularly Americans," but also is paying off its debts to them and "even on occasion is granting them certain facilities."

REASSURED ALLIES
Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, replied in the Senate that France still hasn't paid the United States almost $6.5 billion it has owned since World War I.

On Oct. 27, Secretary of State Dean Rusk went to Frankfurt and reassured the allies of American loyalty. He told them they were not getting in NATO all the divisions they had promised.

This could be interpreted as a slap at de Gaulle, since he has not assigned to NATO all the divisions France promised it years ago. For that matter, no country except the United States has kept its promise.

Rusk didn't say it was a slap, but Fulbright was direct. He said, "For too long France's voice has been a voice of negation and dissent within the Western community."

Putting His Money Where His Mouth Is!

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Used Senator to Tell Policy

WASHINGTON—An unprecedented method of attack has been employed to influence General de Gaulle to change the policies of the French government so they will be more pleasing to the United States government.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who is chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has just made a speech that expressed views which, it might have been expected, would be uttered only by the President or secretary of state.

For the executive branch of the government has heretofore jealously guarded its prerogative to conduct foreign relations.

It is conceivable, of course, that the Fulbright speech was cleared in advance by the State Department. For it would seem incredible that a speech of this importance, attacking an allied government, would be made without the knowledge and consent of the executive branch of our government.

Another surprising thing about the speech is that it was given this week, but discussed statements made by de Gaulle on July 29. It thus has the appearance of a carefully prepared attack, which may have been assigned to Sen. Fulbright to carry out.

This will not assist in the solving of difficulties between the United States and France. In fact, within the last 24 hours, word has come from Paris that de Gaulle has abandoned any idea of visiting the United States during the next several months, as had been previously reported.

LIBERALIZE POLICIES
The whole purpose of the Fulbright speech was ostensibly to persuade de Gaulle to liberalize his trade policies. But it remains to be seen whether this form of attack will be persuasive with the strong-minded head of the French government.

While Fulbright asserted that the United States has not the slightest intention of standing aside if Europe is attacked and overrun, and although he reiterated that this country is committed "unilaterally to the defense of Europe," he pointed out that the more likely outcome would be a Soviet assault on the United States from which Europe would be spared.

He insisted that Europe, including France, must commit itself to a unified defense of the West. He added that, while the United States is committed to such a defense, "this does not mean that it cannot be driven from Europe." He declared:

"If our partners pursue protectionist trade policies and decline to carry a proportion of the military and foreign aid burdens commensurate with their resources, the United States will be left with no choice but to reduce its commitments."

This is, to say the least, a most unusual commentary on the policies of an allied government and specifically on the attitude of the head of that government. For certainly it doesn't make negotiation easier, and it is an un diplomatic way to conduct the foreign relations of the United States.

Bob Considine Says:

Put Parachutes in Plane, You'd Lose Passengers

NEW YORK—It is the opinion of the airlines—and has been since the days of the tri-motored Fords and Fokkers—that if management offered a parachute to each passenger, more persons would be repelled than attracted to air travel.

Probably true. Fly more miles than certain species of birds — the Great Auk comes swiftly to mind — but the only time I've fretted about whether we'll get there is when I'm flying with the military.

They are fine. But they alone insist that you wear a chute. As a rule, they don't tell you how to throw the damned thing.

They buckle you into it (the straps are adjusted to fit only Eddie Arcaro and Willie Shoemaker) and leave you there trussed like a criminal.

Most of the time, they don't tell you where the door or hatch is, out of which you are presumably expected to leap with a searing cry of "Geroino!"

A chute is uncomfortable physically and mentally, particularly in the mind. It inserts in the mind a quivering doubt that did not exist there before.

The most detailed instruction I've ever heard about the use of a chute came from a bearded youth in the China-Burma-India theater near the end of the war. GRUESOME TALE

A bunch of us were about to fly over the Hump from a field in India's Assam Valley to Kunming. The young lieutenant in charge of the briefing made it all pretty gruesome, including how to survive amid bomb contractions and tigers if we chucked down into the lowlands of the Himalayas, and how to get along on a diet of ice if we came down on some airless peak.

"But the big thing is getting out of the burning plane," he said, the first knowledge we had had that the plane planned to burn.

"The flight sergeant will fight his way to the door and jettison it. (We thought he was momentarily tempted to add, "and he'll be the first out, that lucky boy.")

The question also arises whether it makes superfluous the two American ambassadors in Paris — one accredited to the French government and the other to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

(Copyright 1962, New York Herald Tribune Syndicate, Inc.)

Hold your stomachs with the other hand because there will be a terrible job when the chute opens. Any questions?"

Oddly enough, there was one. A lady correspondent old enough to be the lieutenant's grandmother, snapped, "I have a question, young man."

"What is it, madam?" the boy asked, somewhat tolerantly.

"When I'm doing all those things you just mentioned, what do I do about my valves?"

That boy was never heard from again.

Adenauer Praised

Life
When Konrad Adenauer resigned his 14-year chancellorship, everybody repeated Churchill's estimate of him: "the greatest since Bismarck."

Why stop at Bismarck? Later historians could reasonably find Adenauer the greatest German statesman of them all.

Bismarck created the modern German nation by imposing Prussian rule on a nest of small, peaceful, independent principalities. The feat took him nine years and three wars. He answered for his power to a kaiser, not the German people. Bismarck, said Gladstone, "made Germany a great and German small."

Adenauer had something going for him — namely the U.S., which thrust him back into the German political scene. The Germany he took over was the world's most hated nation, in physical and moral ruins. The 14 peaceful years of his chancellorship have seen the birth of a new Germany. Its government is democratic. Instead of playing its neighbors against each other, Bismarck-style, Adenauer has committed the new Germany wholeheartedly to what he calls "the community of free and democratic peoples of the Christian West." He has made Germany a respected and indispensable pillar of that community.

'Godfrey Out of Bounds in Criticizing Lansing'

On Arthur Godfrey's program he criticized Lansing people for the treatment given that elephant that got loose. He said it broke his poor little heart and he just could cry to think that they would kill the beast.

Well! Mr. Godfrey goes out West and kills the elk for fun and then comes to Michigan and kills our deer. They don't go to him—he goes to them. Oh, yes, he even goes on a safari to Africa to hunt elephants. What a great humanitarian!

If Arthur eats and drinks and uses all the things he talks about on the radio, as he says he does, he doesn't need to diet, I'll take. The Pontiac Press adds any time for the truth about advertising.

More Discuss Waterford Incorporation

Dr. John Naz said in The Press that no community can exist on resident taxes alone. We moved to live in the country 24 years ago. Do we want a lot of factories? How do we know for sure industry will settle here? How do we know what property they will take? Will they condemn some? Will we have a factory in our back yard? Do we really know the right people to put in office? We pay their salaries and with a city there would be more departments. Do we want higher taxes?

If a lot of people living in Waterford want a city let them move back to Pontiac. Give Waterford back to its old-time owners. We aren't ready for a city.

People are under a false impression about the share of gasoline and weight taxes Waterford Township would receive as a city. Waterford has no road maintenance except for one truck. Our roads are under the Oakland County Road Commission. It is their policy to maintain all primary roads and in six months relinquish all local roads when a township becomes a city. Using 50,000 as the population Waterford would receive gasoline and weight tax revenue as follows:

Major streets (43 miles) $64,500; local streets (191 miles) $76,400; population (50,000) $228,000; equivalent municipal trunkline mileage $135,000.

Oakland County receives a portion of this to maintain the primary roads. As a city we also pay 12.5 per cent of all construction on state trunklines. Example—the construction that is to be done on M59.

None of this money can be used on sidewalks, parking lots or buildings. If the $135,000 is not used on state trunklines it can be used for major streets only.

Is our portion of this $405,000 going to be enough to buy road equipment, trucks, plows, gravel, sand, salt and buildings to house this equipment?

Next thing we will be hearing is "What the city of Waterford needs is a city income tax."

Mrs. Chifford

Says Animal Shelter 'Didn't Wait'

Our dog is dead because the Oakland County Animal Shelter couldn't call to find out if we wanted him. They picked him up on a Wednesday and called to ask if we were going to pick him up. I told them we would.

When my husband came home I found we didn't have enough to pay the fine. When we went after him Friday they told us they had guessed him. They knew we wanted him because I told the woman. They didn't even keep him a full three days.

After all, we do pay their salaries.

Average Yale Freshmen

The New York Times

Today's Yale freshmen on average, according to statistics cited by Dean George May of Yale, are bigger and smarter than were their fathers 25 or 30 years ago.

The average Yale freshman today is about one inch taller, 12 pounds heavier and two months younger than was the case in 1933. In those old days, only 23 per cent of Yale freshmen knocked down grades of 80 or better; last year, 43 per cent did so.

All this is good news, and probably it applies nationwide. Youngsters by and large are growing bigger all the time, what with vitamins, orange juice, milk, and well-rounded diets, and we're at least entitled to hope that their brains are growing in proportion, despite the handicaps imposed on them by some educational methods.

For all of which, the present generation of parents can take a bow, and be quietly proud of having done so well by their children.

His real work was completed several years ago; but even in his reluctance to yield power, this stern, stiff, moral old man gives Germans a new archetype to encourage their best instincts to what he calls "the community of free and democratic peoples of the Christian West." He has made Germany a respected and indispensable pillar of that community.

Heart Ills Worsened by Smoking

CHICAGO (AP) — "Real harm is done by smoking" among men with severe coronary disease, a physician said today.

"Even in those in whom coronary disease is minimal, other actions of nicotine . . . probably outweigh the 'packaged exercise' effect and explain in part why men who smoke a pack a day die earlier than nonsmokers, and die more often from coronary disease," Dr. William Dock wrote in the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA).

Dock, Brooklyn, N.Y., said that for a few sedentary men who have normal blood pressure and show no rise in blood pressure when smoking, a cigarette might substitute for exercise.

The main effect of nicotine on the heart parallels that of physical exertion, causing a rise in the heart's output of blood and in coronary flow.

HARMFUL EFFECT

In a few men with severe coronary disease, however, the increase in cardiac work caused by smoking is not accompanied by a rise in coronary flow, causing harmful effect, he said.

Dock's conclusions were based on a study he reported in the October JAMA Archives of Internal Medicine in which the effect of smoking on the heart was traced by means of a device for measuring heart output.

Although previous studies indicated a correlation between coronary disease and abnormal heart beat patterns, Dock said his study showed the most commonly found abnormality was due to the relaxation of the patient when he begins to smoke.

The only abnormal heart beat pattern produced by smoking which indicates organic disease was found almost exclusively in men with severe coronary disease, he said.

Retire Spies, Says House

WASHINGTON (AP) — What should a U.S. spy come home to after laying aside his cloak and dagger for keeps?

As far as the House is concerned, he should enjoy an early retirement system and pension plan second to none.

The House passed and sent to the Senate this week a bill which would allow some agents of the Central Intelligence Agency to retire after 10 years of employment, of which five must have been on hazardous duty, and begin drawing payments at once, regardless of age. Others could retire at age 50.

Home Cookin' Sought in Jail

FARGO N.D. (AP) — The city jail may lose its catering service.

Police Chief Edwin Anderson said he has proposed eliminating the noon meal — which is handled through a catering firm — in order to save money. Anderson suggested giving the inmates dry cereal for breakfast and frozen dinners for supper — all prepared in the jail.

Protective Guidelines Set for Processing State Fish

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan food officials and fish industry representatives agreed yesterday on fish processing guidelines to protect the public against possible botulism poisoning.

The agreement came at a meeting called by Gov. George Romney aimed at revitalizing a fish industry stricken with unemployment after botulism sickness traced to smoked Great Lakes fish caused seven deaths.

The committee issued a statement after the meeting stressing that "fresh and frozen and commercially canned fish are not under suspicion and can be consumed without fear of botulism poisoning."

Guidelines proposed by the foods and standards division of the State Agriculture Department were discussed. The committee recommended that food processors comply with those guidelines.

NOT IMPOSED

The State Agriculture Department will advocate — but will not impose — the processing guidelines, a spokesman said.

"Botulism poisoning can be prevented by adequate preparation, processing and handling of smoked fish," the statement said.

Additional and accelerated research into the botulism problem also was stressed by the committee. "The research should be coordinated," it said, "among government agencies, universities and industry."

The committee also noted that smoked fish from the Great Lakes presently on grocery or pantry shelves should be destroyed. The longer the fish remain on shelves the more chance the botulism bacteria have to develop, the spokesman said.

A followup meeting was suggested to evaluate and apply further information which becomes available as research progresses.

One specific meeting the committee is watching was believed to be scheduled for today in Washington, D.C.

Federal agencies involved in research in the food field were to discuss what further research is needed, the spokesman said.

Montana Can Boost a Valuable Crop

Montana, known as the Treasure State, has produced more gem sapphires than other states, with important commercial deposits at Rock Creek, in Granite county; Yogo Gulch, in Judith Basin county; and Cottonwood Creek, in Powell county.

The cornflower blue sapphires of Yogo Gulch are world famous, and at one time 88,000 ounces were recovered annually. Green, yellow, red, and aquamarine sapphires, rubies, garnets, and agates also are plentiful.

Australia's coastline extends about 12,200 miles and includes the nearby island state of Tasmania.

Dean Raps 'Sex Parties' in Harvard Dormitories

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—Harvard University students defended the moral climate of their hallowed, ivy-covered halls today even though a dean contended coed visits to men's rooms permits "wild parties and sexual intercourse."

University rules allow girls to visit male students' rooms behind closed bedroom doors if they wish—but the undergrads deny this has led to sexual excesses at the nation's oldest and perhaps most staid university.

Harvard men charge that attention focused on a letter to the student newspaper from Dr. John U. Monro, dean of Harvard College, had created a distorted, largely false impression of what goes on at the alma mater of a succession of American luminaries from John Hancock to President Kennedy.

Monro also called the attention of eastern university presidents to a report by a Harvard psychiatrist which concludes that sex relations between college men and coeds are becoming more prevalent.

BEDROOMS AVAILABLE

Dr. Graham B. Blaine Jr. of the university's health services blamed the trend on the easy accessibility of bedrooms in college dormitories. Monro sent his mimeographed article to Harvard administrators and to presidents of Radcliffe, a women's college which shares classrooms with Harvard, and other East Coast schools.

Replying to an editorial urging liberalization of girls' visiting hours, Monro wrote in his letter to the Harvard Crimson that he and Dean of Students Dr. Robert W. Watson were "badly shaken" by some severe violations of rules and recent standards of behavior.

"Trouble has arisen," Dean Monro said, "because what was once considered a pleasant privilege (entertaining women in men's rooms) has now, for a growing number of students, come to be considered a license to use the college rooms for wild parties or for sexual intercourse."

According to the Crimson, Monro warned students after the college opened in September against "orgiastic parties" and "abandoning girls in the houses." He said that intimacies "between unmarried individuals is an abuse the college can not tolerate."

Pontiac Osteopath Serves

Haiti Ignores People's Plight

By JIM LONG

The people of hurricane-ravaged Haiti are in desperate need of medical attention, but they will not get it under Duvalier's dictatorship, a Pontiac osteopath said today.

An alarming lack of concern of the Haiti government for the victims of hurricane Flora was cited by Dr. J. J. Robb, who has just returned from two weeks in the Caribbean nation.

Robb, of 2375 Hiller, West Bloomfield Township, went to Haiti after his offer of volunteer service was accepted by the government there.

"When he arrived in the island country Oct. 12, a week after the storm, thousands still had not received medical attention, he said.

TREATED 4,000
During his stay, Robb estimates that he treated 4,000 persons of all types of injuries and illnesses. He was working under direction of Dr. Philippe Cavale, chief coordinator in Haiti for the World Health Organization of the United Nations.

"The terrible part of this whole mess was that most of all the supplies that were needed were in Port Au Prince," said Robb. "Nothing was done by the Haiti government to see that they were distributed."

Robb said he had his own medical supplies sent to Haiti because he had been led to believe by the consul in Chicago that they were needed.

The only salvation to doctors and missionaries in the field were six U. S. Navy helicopters that airlifted the supplies to villages in the mountains, Robb said.

"Many of these supplies that were delivered showed up later on the black market in Port Au Prince," he added.

CONTROLS NEEDED
"Controls are needed. If they are not initiated, the supplies will only make more millionaires in Port Au Prince."

Robb, 50, said that when he arrived in Fonds des Nigres, a village which was to be his base, his supplies, food, clothing and bedding were stolen by natives who swarmed around him a moment after he got out of a helicopter.

"After that, I camped wherever I could," he said. "Each morning when I awoke, I would find at least 600 men, women and children outside my door wanting treatment."

"Those practicing voodoo would not accept medical aid," added Robb.

"And you had to be careful not to tell a person that he was going to die. If you did, his family would poison him to speed it up."

SERVICES OVERLAP

Robb said that there is an overlapping of medical services. "There is a lack of cooperation and coordination between religious denominations and health groups in providing care."

The only American doctor working in the jungle following the storm, Robb said there were doctors from Europe and South American countries, but none from Haiti "though there were doctors practicing in Port Au Prince."

"Without Duvalier's cooperation, there is no objective to dropping supplies," Robb said.

He said a report is being prepared for the President recommending that no further aid be given until the people work for it. "They could build roads to provide a mainline of supplies to villages."

FORESEES FAMINE

"Unless something is done, there will be a terrible famine in Haiti within six months," he said.

Robb said that there was no typhoid when he was in Haiti, but the incubation period is over and it may be appearing now.

Kennedy Approves Mental Health Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy signed into law yesterday the second phase of his "bold new approach" to attack the problems of mental illness and retardation.

The bill provides $329 million in federal grants over a four-year period to help states build community health centers and facilities for treating the mentally disturbed and to step up teacher training and research into the causes of mental problems.

Kennedy earlier signed a measure that authorizes an additional $355 million for improved maternal and infant care as a means of preventing mental retardation.

Saginaw Man Gets Lawyer

3 Kidnap Charges Faced in Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Saginaw construction worker John Clay, charged with three counts of kidnaping, will be represented by his own attorney rather than the court-appointed lawyer he first requested.

Clay has demanded examination on the charge that he abducted "five-year-old" Michelle Moran. The examination is set for Nov. 6 in Lansing Municipal Court.

John O'Brien, a Lansing attorney with 20 years of experience, was appointed to represent Clay by Circuit Court Judge Marvin Salmon after the accused said he had no funds to hire a lawyer.

Clay's wife visited him at the Lansing jail Wednesday night with Saginaw Attorney James Brisbois. Brisbois said yesterday he has been retained by the wife to represent Clay.

LAWYER 10 YEARS

Brisbois, a practicing attorney for 10 years, is a former assistant prosecutor. He said he previously had represented Clay in a civil suit.

Brisbois said he had not yet planned his defense and has scheduled more interviews with Clay.

U.S. Tax Revenue Hits Record in Fiscal 1963

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service reports it collected a record $105.9 billion during fiscal year 1963.

Collections from individuals of $52.9 billion was the biggest revenue source. Corporate taxes amounted to $22.3 billion and, with other income from employment, estate, gift, and excise taxes, helped total $6.5 billion more than last year.

U.S. Retains Too Much Control

Alliance Makes Little Impact on Latins

(EDITOR'S NOTE—John M. Hightower, Associated Press chief diplomatic correspondent in Washington, is on a swing around South America.)

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP)—The spearhead of U.S. foreign policy in Latin America is the Alliance for Progress, a multibillion-dollar aid program designed to trigger social reforms, promote political stability and raise the living standard of the people.

A great many Latin American leaders think the aims are excellent but, that the program isn't working out very well.

One of the most articulate critics of the enterprise is Argentina's new foreign minister, Miguel Angel Zavala Ortiz, who discussed his views in an interview.

The Alliance for Progress, Zavala Ortiz said, "he remained suspended as a hope, and it has not penetrated Latin America either as a mysticism or as a concrete plan."

"To be successful," he said, "it must do both. Sometimes the wishes of our people here are not understood. For example in the U.S. Senate there is the argument that 'we have given enough.'"

"It's not a question of more or fewer dollars, but a question of the correct feeling for the situation."

Zavala Ortiz said the most successful Latin American policy launched by the United States was the good neighbor policy proclaimed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt 30 years ago.

It was successful, he said, because it asserted respect for the determination of Latin American countries to work out their own destinies.

PRESTIGE HIGHEST

"No money was spent by the United States for this friendship," Zavala Ortiz said. "But never was as much prestige gained for the United States as through the good neighbor policy."

Zavala Ortiz said the Alliance for Progress should become a partnership, with the Latin American nations having a greater voice in determining the policies and operations of the aid programs. Throughout his aid and other criticisms runs the implication that the United States exercises too much control.

"Argentina," he said, "is one country that is not standing with its hand out asking for aid. This country and the other countries of Latin America have domestic capital and savings to make a jump toward development, but this cannot be done if it is dependent on United States approval of a plan or dependent on United States financial aid."

The Alliance for Progress, which was started by the Kennedy administration more than two years ago, has provided many millions of dollars for schools, housing, roads, agricultural improvements, health programs and the like.

DOESN'T CATCH ON

The disappointment, which even some U.S. officials in South America privately admit to, is that the undertaking has not caught the imagination of the people. It has failed to make an impact.

An average adult has half an ounce of sugar in his blood.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do a lot more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines for it—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses!

And if that combination of modest weight and potent power gives you the idea that this is one frisky car indeed, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car with a generous amount of space for legs, hips, shoulders, hats and luggage. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too. Just listen to the solid thunk of a door closing or look at the neat seams and smooth metalwork. You'll see what we mean.

Sound good so far? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this doesn't strike you as one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

Homecoming Ceremonies Sparkle at Central and WKHS

Evening Ends With Dance

Parade Starts Festivities at PCH

By DIANE OLSEN
Tonight, Pontiac Central High School will sponsor a parade, ceremonies at the game with Flint Southwestern and a dance—all part of its traditional homecoming.

The parade will originate in Crofoot Elementary School parking lot and wind its way to Winder Stadium. Central's band, under direction of R. L. Morse, will lead the procession of decorated convertibles entered by various homeowners and organizations.

The chief and princess, with members of their court, will ride to the game on a three-tiered float. Chief Craig Zadosko will stand on the highest platform, backed by three giant feathers.

The middle and lowest section will be occupied by the court.

Against the white sides of the float, orange letters will spell Anteneban, the Indian word for fall festival.

During half time ceremonies, the court is to be introduced, and last years chief, David Colonna, will present the new chief with his lance.

Monita will receive a necklace from Mary Lou McLaughlin, Central's princess of two years ago.

Donald McMillen, assistant principal, will host the presentations followed by the chief's war dance.

Following the game, a dance will be held in the main gymnasium. Jeff Bowman, assisted by Chris Fitzgerald, is chairman of the dance, entitled "Shades of Autumn."

Val Fox, head of entertainment, has engaged the Coronados to provide music.

Val is also in charge of refreshments. Other committee heads are Mark Papazian, Nancy Jack and Glenn Sutt.

Officers include Ross Moore, president; Nancy Weber, vice president; Jeff Bowman, secretary; and Craig Heichel, treasurer.

Rolling down the highway tomorrow to Mount Clemens for a yearbook laboratory at L'Anse Creuse, High School will have four journalism students and their adviser, Mrs. Barbara Shupe.

TO HEAR EXPERTS

Varsity club jackets are both new and exclusive this fall. Of navy blue wool with dark blue letter sleeves trimmed in gold, these garments are worn only by varsity club members.

Achievers in the Pontiac General Hospital cardiac stripe program are some 25 WTHS students, who are part of a group of 225 participating from area high schools.

Bowling Under Way at WTHS

By MARY BARNINGHAM
Things are rolling at Waterford Township High School, with eight mixed bowling teams Wednesday and meeting Wednesday afternoons at Airway Lanes under sponsorship of William Fuller.

PNH Vocal Group Prepares for Annual Autumn Concert

By SUSAN KILLEN
Various vocal groups at Pontiac Northern High School are working toward their deadline of Nov. 11. This is the date when all music must be ready for the annual fall concert of the various high schools.

At this year's fall concert, Don Craig, professor of music and director of choir at Iliaca College in New York, will be the guest conductor.

Craig will lead the massed choirs of Pontiac Northern and Pontiac Central in the opening numbers.

The massed girls and massed boys will each have two numbers to perform. Also, the various mixed ensembles from the two schools will present pieces.

UNDER DIRECTION
The PNH choir, under the direction of Michael Dempsey, will perform "Holy Lord, God of Hosts" and "Rockin' Chair."

The concert will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the Central gym. Tickets may be obtained from any vocal music student.

The ski club will hold its organizational meeting Monday. Under the direction of Anne Sheppard and Madeline McConnell, the group will choose officers for the coming year.

A local ski area will be selected for this year's activities and the day and time of meetings will be discussed.

OUTSTANDING FLOAT
At the homecoming game, it was announced that the winner of the varsity club trophy for the most outstanding float was the PNH choir.

The choir's float was entitled "Be Sharp and Flatten 'Em" and featured a 12-foot husky, the school mascot.

To aid in the observance of National Education Week, the PNH administration has announced an open house for Monday. Beginning at 7 p.m. the parents will first have time to visit each of their children's classrooms and observe various types of teaching methods applied by the respective teachers.

Time will be allowed for parents to observe the new addition or to speak to one teacher privately.

Oxford Class Planning Play

By SHIRLEY EVANS
The senior class of Oxford High School is presenting a play entitled "The Curious Savage" Nov. 15 and 16. Literature teacher Nancy Sweeney is directing the production, which includes eleven students.

Plans are being made for the future Sadie Hawkins dance to be held Dec. 6 by the juniors. Robert Parenti, junior class president, is chairman.

The future nurses club has put up posters around the school announcing Michigan Nursing Week.

Speakers Due at BHHS

Psych Classes Plan Visits

By TERRY SEIBERT
Senior psychology classes at Bloomfield Hills High School in the coming weeks will visit two local hospitals and hear lectures by guest speakers.

Mrs. Maxine Baumhart, psychology instructor, is coordinating the activities.

Robert James will speak at the high school Tuesday and Nov. 26 concerning the problems of young people in society today. James is associated with the Child Guidance Department of the Family Service for Oakland County.

Students will visit Pontiac State Hospital Nov. 18. Following a tour of the hospital, a lecture concerning the work of the hospital will be given.

Prior to the psychology class trip to Northville Hospital Dec. 2, Louis Schindler, community relations director of the hospital, will address students concerning the institution Nov. 22.

Club, Class Action Fills St. Frederick

By KATHY CARRV
Although sports and goblins have claimed the week, class and club activities have not been hindered at St. Frederick High School.

Seniors voted on class symbols at a recent meeting.

Final selections were: class color, blue and white; class flower, white rose; class song, "Exodus"; patron saint, St. Jude; and class motto, "God grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, courage to change the things I can and the wisdom to know the difference."

The seniors have also decided that caps and gowns for '64 will be blue and white.

The teen club, under athletic director Guy Soda, has made plans for a bowling league.

Teams will bowl every Saturday beginning Nov. 16 at the 300 Bowl. The club is also planning to charter buses to travel to Greenfield Village in the near future.

CAR WASH
Varsity club, headed by Bernice Gross, president; Marcello Gallardo, vice president; and Mike Dean, secretary-treasurer, is sponsoring a car wash tomorrow in the church parking lot from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Proceeds will help buy their varsity jackets.

Last-minute reviews are being staged in classes as the end of the first quarter approaches.

In keeping with the spirit of Michigan Nurse Week, the future nurses club will be represented at an open house at Pontiac General Hospital Nov. 9 from 1 to 4 p.m.

SOCIETY FUNCTIONS
The functions of the Society for Mental Health of Pontiac will be discussed Dec. 11 by F. R. Wollager, representative of the Child Guidance Clinic of the society.

Mrs. Fran Zalants, who is associated with the Pontiac Alcoholism Center, will speak Dec. 18 on the alcoholic and the role that mental health plays in combating alcoholism.

Mrs. Baumhart attended the third annual Michigan Psychological Association Conference Oct. 25, which was held at the Warren Valley Golf Club in Dearborn.

Included in the program were discussions of the values of psychotherapy and the implications of the new Michigan Mental Health Act.

Harold Krohn and his band will provide music for the event.

Troy Slates Fall Choral Presentation

By LOIS MOSER
The Troy High School vocal music department will present a fall choral concert Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Marlene Johnson will be director.

Performing groups are the advanced choir, the girls' chorus and the mixed chorus for beginners. Accompanists are Stephanie McColeman, Barbara Hall and Joanne Lauck.

The choir will sing such selections as "Tropical Serenade," with percussion accompaniment, and "Three Folk Songs" by Brahms, which will be conducted by students Charlene Gammon, Barbara Hall and Kathy Rose.

The girls' chorus will perform such well-known pieces as "Swanee" by George Gershwin. A sextet will sing "Autumn Leaves."

The mixed chorus, comprised mainly of freshmen, will sing "Steal Away" with Earl May as the featured soloist. The male members will sing "Standin' in the Need of Prayer."

GUARDED SECRETS—Sue Elliott stands guard at the barn door to halt any intruders as Roberta Reppuhn and Bob Bogert work on a homecoming float for Waterford Kettering High School.

Varsity club jackets are both new and exclusive this fall. Of navy blue wool with dark blue letter sleeves trimmed in gold, these garments are worn only by varsity club members.

Achievers in the Pontiac General Hospital cardiac stripe program are some 25 WTHS students, who are part of a group of 225 participating from area high schools.

W. BLOOMFIELD

By SUE GOTSCHALL
If you were surprised to see an overgrown hobgoblin or devil on your doorstep at Halloween, it was only a member of the West Bloomfield High School Girls Athletic Association collecting candy for children in nearby hospitals.

Officers for the organization are Carolyn Bull, president; Jan Paddy, vice president; Barbara Carlson, secretary; Cindy Conn, treasurer.

Six WBHS student council members attended a recent exchange day with Milford High School. Council officers Kathy Asher, Michael Cady, Lynne Brockman and Steve Ali, and two council representatives, Margaret Penney and Marty Foxman, were accompanied by David Vivian, history instructor, and sponsor of the student council.

WALLED LAKE

Following the game, the families will go with the team and coaches to the school for refreshments. The thespians will sponsor a dance at the youth center following the game.

Seniors will be having pictures taken today through Wednesday. Underclassmen pictures will be taken Wednesday and Thursday.

The seniors will sponsor a dance which is open to all Oxford students next Friday.

Exams Given at St. Michael

By MICHAEL OMANS
This week, students at St. Michael High School buckled down for quarter examinations.

One bright spot in the school this week is the high school corridor. Under supervision of Sister Marie Paul, sophomore girls' homecoming teacher, the corridor has been transformed into a gigantic bulletin board.

The future teachers-club will travel to the University of Detroit tomorrow for a meeting of all future teachers clubs in this area.

The future nurses club sponsored a popcorn sale Wednesday. Proceeds were put into the club treasury to help finance other activities.

The first meeting of the Michalcille, the school newspaper, was held Tuesday.

Writing for clubs are Margie Heck, Nancy Fetter and Deborah Linsenman. James Donely is the business manager and Leon Hairpathian will write one of the special columns.

Reporters include Patricia Klein, Paula Ashbaugh, Mary Roetger, Nancy Koktino, Michael Omans, William Gottschalk, Robert Vanover and John Hurren.

System Continues Growing

Ohio to Soo Via Michigan Freeways

Remember your daydreams about a freeway through Detroit with no traffic lights. A highway from Lansing to Benton Harbor with no three-lane sections. A direct freeway route north?

Another one of those dreams was realized today with the opening of a stretch of interstate 75 in the Upper Peninsula.

You can now drive exclusively on freeways from Ohio to Sault Ste. Marie. The only toll charge is the Mackinac Bridge Fee.

The route is somewhat zig-zag after it enters Michigan on the U.S. 23 near Lambertville in Monroe County.

NORTH ON 23
It continues north on U.S. 23 past Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor and beyond Flint to the interstate 75 freeway.

Continuing on I-75 past Saginaw to Bay City, the route turns west just outside Bay City on the U.S. 10 freeway, which merges with I-75 just south of Grayling.

There are no more zig-zags as it continues north over the Mackinac Bridge to the foot of the Soo Bridge into Canada.

Between Grayling and the Straits of Mackinac is an area acclaimed in a national magazine as "America's most scenic new highway."

$10 MILLION ROAD
The section opened today is 22 miles between M123 and M48. The project cost about $10 million.

Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow, they'll open new sections, further quickening your former pace across or up the state.

Interstate 75 still has two great gaps—between Wyandotte and Pontiac, and between Bay City and Grayling.

The first stretch, which includes a partially completed freeway through the heart of Detroit, should be completely contracted for by 1966, the State Highway Department says. The section between Madison Heights, a Detroit suburb, and Pontiac will be open in December.

SECOND STRETCH
The second, to go near Standish through Ogemaw and Roscommon counties to a point south of Grayling, should be contracted for in 1966-67.

Total mileage on I-75 will be 393.5. Average construction cost for one mile of freeway is about $800,000 per mile.

Interstate 94, which will cover 275.8 miles, now zips from New Buffalo, at the Indiana border, through Detroit to the Wayne-Macomb county border.

It passes Benton Harbor, St. Joseph, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Jackson, Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, on the way eliminating city travel time at each area.

DRAIN SLOWDOWN
But drain-building slows the route in south Macomb County. Conflicting claims on how much the department will pay for the drains have resulted in numerous late lawsuits. As a result, there is no estimate on completion of I-94 through the area.

The stretch between Mount Clemens and Port Huron will open before the end of 1963, the department says.

Interstate 96 is complete from Detroit's northwest suburbs to Grand Rapids.

Route 1963 freeway from Grand Rapids to Muskegon also is complete, and when the department's number change recommendation takes effect, the 200-mile freeway will be called I-96 from Detroit to Muskegon.

DIP IN ROUTE
Under the present numbering system, I-96 is to dip from Grand Rapids to Holland to Benton Harbor.

By the end of 1963, the department plans to have a five-mile gap near Saugatuck. The route from Holland to Grand Rapids is to be put under contract in 1967.

At the other end, I-96 will cut through Detroit to the foot of the Ambassador Bridge to Canada.

The department hopes to let contracts on the project by the late 1960's but has no final route as yet.

LOOPS AND SPURS
Numerous loops and spurs of interstate freeways also will go into or through cities.

Such projects are planned or partially complete in Battle Creek (194), Grand Rapids (296), Flint (475), Lansing (496) and Saginaw (475).

The Metropolitan Detroit area, served by Interstate 75, 94 and 96, also will have three additional interstate connectors, two state freeways and the John Lodge Freeway.

The controversial link (696) between I-75 and I-94, to run through Detroit's northern suburbs, already is completed at its west end to Orchard Lake Road. But its route through the suburbs is still unsettled.

OTHER LINKS

• A spur (375) connecting I-75 to downtown Detroit will be open before the end of the year.

• A route (275) to connect I-75 at Monroe with the intersection of I-96 and I-496 in northwest Detroit still is in the planning stage, but is expected to be contracted for in 1968.

• The Southfield Freeway (M39 connecting I-94 with Northwestern Highway) should be completed to Eight Mile Road Jan. 1.

• A freeway (M33) from 18 Mile Road north to Imity City in Lapeer County is nearly ready to be contracted for at some sections and still being planned at others.

• The John Lodge Freeway is to be completed from downtown Detroit to just south of Eight Mile Road, and also from Nine Mile Road to its intersection with I-96 near Telegraph, by the end of 1963.

NEW INTERCHANGE—Morsehoe Bay, at top of Lake Huron, and lush Upper Peninsula forests surround this new Interstate 75 interchange at M123 north of St. Ignace. Completion of I-75 in the UP today provides continuous freeway north from Ohio to Sault Ste. Marie.

Romney Lifts LP Fire Ban

LANSING (P)—Gov. Romney has lifted the emergency ban on outdoor fires and smoking in Lower Peninsula forests and wildlands.

The governor's action Tuesday came after rains soaked the area.

He had issued a proclamation Oct. 15 prohibiting fires because of a severe forest fire hazard caused by a prolonged drought. The ban was lifted for the Upper Peninsula on Oct. 22.

Romney acted on recommendation of the State Conservation Department.

ROMNEY'S STATEMENT

"In his proclamation, the governor stated:

"Rain in varying amounts has fallen generally throughout the Lower Peninsula. This rain, coupled with nightly frosts or heavy dew, makes it possible to revoke the emergency fire proclamation."

Romney urged all citizens to still be careful while smoking, burning brush, rubbish or debris. Dangerous fire conditions could continue to build up, he said.

Grass Roots Segregation

Selma, Ala., Is On a Racial Collision Course

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Spreading racial unrest has brought token desegregation in the South, mostly in the large urban areas, but it triggered drives last summer in the rural areas and the smaller towns where any change would be highly significant. This is the third and last in a series.)

By DON MCKEE

SELMA, Ala. (AP)—A racial collision course is laid out for this aristocratic old town where integration inroads would deal a severe blow to the white man's cherished way of life in the Alabama grassroots.

The white man's not going to give in and the Negro is determined to get his way—a collision course," said Father Maurice F. Ouellet, a Roman Catholic priest whose parish is Negro. He has been active in the Negro drive.

Situated in the heart of the black belt, named for its rich soil, activities in Selma are far more significant to Alabama's rural white population than are the ones in Birmingham, Mobile or Huntsville where token integration has come.

Selma is the seat of Dallas County, where the cotton fields and pastures are watered by the Alabama River and where the white people are outnumbered by Negroes. The ratio is nearly 64.

MAJORITY LARGER

In the surrounding counties, the Negro majority is larger. Negroes are pushing voter registration in the wake of Selma's first street demonstrations. Pickets at downtown stores were arrested and jailed.

The white populace, despite its minority, controls the government and the economy—and has not the slightest intention of accepting any desegregation.

"Selma does not intend to change its customs for way of life," was the blunt, brief comment of Mayor Chris Heinz. The voter drive helped precipitate late Selma's slow-boiling crisis but it is only part of the picture. In a long list of requests presented months ago to the City Council, the Dallas County Voters League called for a non-segregation policy in all public buildings, efforts toward better jobs for Negroes—including their employment as policemen and firemen—and formation of a biracial committee.

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS SPECIAL REPORT

This was summarily ignored. NO BIG WEAPONS

The Negro unrest over the small number of Negro voters has been building up for years; there have been several court moves and federal steps aimed at getting more Negroes on the rolls.

Of the 56,667 county residents, only about 300 Negroes are registered. White voters number about 9,500.

TOUGH PLACE

"It's a tough place," said Worth Long, 27, a college student from Little Rock, Ark., and staff coordinator for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, which likes to take on the tough places.

SNCC held its first mass voter registration meeting while Sheriff James G. Clark and more than 100 possemen ringed the church. Clark, whose policy is to arrest all demonstrators, organized his civilian posse several years ago after racial troubles in Montgomery, 50 miles north-east.

Long, a Negro, said he could not guess at what chances of success his movement had. "It depends on the federal government," he said. "We have dramatized the situation."

NO BIG WEAPONS

The Negroes do not have any big weapons here. Their buying power is significant but Selma is a wealthy town and can absorb considerable dollar loss. Efforts at a Negro boycott have not hurt business substantially. "The economy still is agricultural with industrial and commercial overtones. Craig Air Force Base, a pilot training facility, adds a large share to the economy."

What will happen? "I'm like the majority of Selma's white persons who have grown up and lived with this problem," Hare said. "We don't have the ultimate solution."

Unemployment and low wages greatly influence the Negro unrest here as elsewhere. Farm mechanization and diversification have made the situation worse.

When Negro workers at a rest home demanded a salary increase and later walked out, every one was replaced by a white worker.

STORE PICKETED

Druggist Harmon Carter, whose store was picketed by Negroes, said the demonstrations would not help the Negro's cause.

"They haven't gained a thing in the world," he said. "They've got a lot of people hating Negroes that never hated them before."

A white Protestant clergyman, asking not to be identified, said the developments were politically inspired. But he added, "I think there should be some changes; but it will not be done overnight."

The white Catholic church accepted four Negroes recently but communicants immediately got up a petition and tried to thwart a repetition. A Presbyterian church accepted Negro worshipers and touched off a furor among members. A white businessman shook his head when he talked of Selma's racial problems. "The trouble comes," he said. "It goes into this stage. And you have to choose up sides."

Gastronomical Taste LONDON (UPI)—National Chamber of Trade President James Parke said today that "The ultramodern miss dresses to kill and is reputed to cook the same way."

Chief Raps Road in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE—Police Chief James A. Decker has been complaining about traffic hazards.

This wouldn't be an unusual activity for a police chief, except he's pinpointing them along Pontiac Trail, which the State Highway Department worked on for most of the summer.

The finishing touches are just now being put on the job, and those concerned with the work directly or indirectly, are still receiving complaints.

Decker, for one, said the high-

MORE DANGEROUS

The new smooth surface encourages speeding and the curves are more dangerous, he said. To top it off, when patrolmen do spot a violator, there is no shoulder to pull him onto, Decker added.

"I'm not blaming the contractor," the chief said. "The road is beautiful on the straightaway. But on the curves, it's lousy."

The highway department renovated M218, which includes Pontiac Trail, in preparation for turning it over to the county.

The work included considerable changes at the West Road corner. A traffic island was created there where M218 changes direction.

ANOTHER ISLAND

A similar island was built where Ladd Road meets the two-lane highway.

"The county won't accept it with those islands," Decker maintained. He did say, however, that his problems have diminished since the highway department installed signs.

Before the signs were put up, there were three serious personal injury accidents at the corner of Pontiac Trail and West Road within two weeks," Decker noted. "There had never been anyone injured at that corner before."

William Atchison, engineer for the work, said the modernization included adding a foot to each side of the pavement, making it 22 feet wide, and replacing the seal-coating with blacktop.

The road was also reditched and realigned, he said.

WERE RESTRICTED

"Working within the existing right-of-way made the job very difficult. We were restricted on what we could do," he said. "We could have done a better job if we could have relocated the road."

The 12.5-mile stretch runs between Orchard Lake Road south of Keego Harbor to Wixom.

Highland Girl, 16, Killed in Crash; 4 Are Injured

Sixteen-year-old Judy Runyon of Highland Township died last night after an automobile accident east of Brighton.

The girl of 6015 Tippeco sustained head injuries in the accident which occurred on Academy Drive about 10 p.m. She died about an hour later at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Judy was a passenger in a car driven by Charles McLucas, 21, of Brighton. Four of the five other passengers, all from Brighton, were injured.

State police at the Brighton post said the vehicle swerved off the roadway and struck a utility pole.

WILL SHOW TREASURES — Mrs. Helen Williams of 421 Second, Rochester, proudly displays contents of the trunk she recently inherited from her uncle, vaudeville star Arthur McWatters, of the oldtime team, McWatters and Tyson.

The showtime memorabilia will be on exhibit Tuesday through Thursday at the St. Andrew's fifth annual antique show in Rochester. The event will take place in the church hall, 231 Walnut.

Highlight of Antique Show

Mementos of Vaudeville Duo

ROCHESTER — "Ladéez and gentlemen — without further delay (ladies, please remove your hats) — here they are! Presenting that world-famous, rib-splitting comedy couple — McWatters and Tyson!"

Today the name brings a smile to the faces of only a few, most of whom possess hair streaked with gray or even white.

However next week the public will have a chance to share the memory which brings that smile.

BIGGEST CONTRACT

The famous headlines of the early 1900s stopped performing on the eve of signing the biggest contract of their spectacular career.

On that night, 22 years ago, Grace Tyson, in real life Mrs. Arthur McWatters, collapsed and died.

Last July her partner in business and life joined her. He was 92.

At the height of their career McWatters and Tyson — impersonators — played along with such all-time greats as Will Rogers, Sophie Tucker and John Drew.

Their performances took them to New York City, Chicago, the London Opera House and even South Africa.

Those who saw her remember Grace Tyson as she was billed, "The Girl with the Most Beautiful Eyes on Stage."

The sparkling eyes, blended with an unforgettable countenance, were used in quick change scenes which brought the audiences to a roar every time.

One clipping in the couple's memorabilia tells how the actress took out a $4-million insurance policy on her eyes, with Lloyds of London.

MANY TALENTS

McWatters, an accomplished musician, was also a singer, dancer and composer.

He is credited with writing a Spanish-American War song, the original copy of which is owned by the Detroit Public Library.

In addition to transcripts of the song, all that remains of the couple's fabulous journey across the stage are memories and a trunk full of costumes, playbills and posters. Mixed in are a few newspaper clippings and copies of sheet music.

FIRST SHOWING

First showing of the colorful posters and other articles in the trunk will be at the fifth annual St. Andrew's antique show at the church hall, 231 Walnut.

Mrs. Williams, is McWatters' niece and sole heir to the trunk and treasures it holds.

The public will now have the opportunity to view the collection which has drawn the interest of officials of the Walter H. A. Memorial Library, New York, and Bing Crosby. Among others they have expressed a desire to purchase the historical items.

Antique dealers from throughout the state will also sponsor displays at the show, to be open from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday.

Supervisors Study Group to Eye Area Air Pollution

DETROIT — Air pollution in southeast Michigan is under investigation by a six-county supervisors group after hearing that the federal government may step in on the problem.

The group ordered a special study yesterday with a view to future control legislation, possibly including state legislation.

The county representatives acted after Mort Sterling, head of the Detroit Air Pollution Control Bureau, said the federal government might move in because local government has been inactive.

The supervisors group includes representatives from Wayne, Monroe, Washtenaw, Oakland, Macomb and St. Clair counties.

BEING CONSIDERED

Sterling said federal legislation is being considered to give the government a weapon against industries which he said are causing air pollution while local governments have done nothing to protect against it.

"The federal government may step into this vacuum and do the job for us if we fail to," Sterling said.

Sterling said Detroit has had an effective program against air pollution, but suburbs have not done the same.

Sunday Pledges Asked to End Church Crusade

ROCHESTER — Families of the St. Paul's Methodist Church parish will be asked to "dig deep" for pledges at Sunday's worship service. The service climaxes St. Paul's financial crusade.

A 1964 budget of $97,896 has been set by the church. Included in the planned spendings are funds to pay off the present building and start financing the next unit.

OES Plans Dinner

NORTH BRANCH — Members of Chapter No. 149, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold their annual banquets and turkey dinner, and bazaar from 5 to 8 p.m. tomorrow in the American Legion Building.

Back to School Night for Clarkson Parents

CLARKSTON — The annual "Parents Back to School Night" at Clarkson Junior High School is slated for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Parents may visit their children's classrooms and meet the teachers. Refreshments will be served.

Romeo Set for Thorny Session

ROMEO — The Village Council is preparing for discussion of two controversial issues at Monday's meeting — rezoning for multiple dwelling here and the Sisson Street problem again.

A special hearing on amending the village zoning map will precede the actual meeting. Balder Harold Fritz has proposed construction of a 16-unit apartment at 377 N. Main.

It is expected that some residents of the street, represented by legal counsel, will attend the session to protest.

Residents of Sisson have been invited to return to Monday's meeting and hear continuation of discussion of the current feud between the people and the Romeo Building Materials Co.

TRUCK TRAVEL

Fighting heavy truck travel on the street, homeowners staged a sit-down blockade recently challenging truck drivers to use the thoroughfare as a northern route in and out of town.

The village council has already granted one concession, reducing the speed limit to 15 m.p.h.

The council has also received assurance that the materials company, which has a plant on Sisson, will take measures to eliminate much of the dust and hazards on the property and many of the so-called "nuisance" factors.

Residents have contended for years that the street is too narrow between Benjamin and West St. Clair to handle the big trucks without endangering the lives of neighborhood youngsters.

Police Investigate Hit-Run Accident

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Police here are investigating a hit-and-run accident in which a Birmingham man was injured early this morning.

Jack Hafendorfer, 37, of 3611 Putnam reportedly was walking across 12 Mile at Middlebelt when struck by a car shortly after midnight.

Hafendorfer, who sustained a fractured right leg and multiple abrasions, was listed in satisfactory condition at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak this morning.

Witnesses described the accident vehicle as a small car.

Area Artist in Exhibition

ROCHESTER — Julius Kusey, member of the Rochester Community Schools art department, has an entry in the Third Biennial Exhibition of the Michigan Printmakers at Hanamura's Gallery, Detroit.

On display is Kusey's woodcut called "Shadows."

The exhibit will be shown at six galleries in the state, next being at Eastern Michigan University after Nov. 14.

Miss Holiday Contestants Face 12 Days of Anxiety

ROCHESTER — Twelve days of anxious waiting are ahead for the 23 girls who are official entrants in the Miss Holiday contest here.

The title seekers have been notified that their first screening will be at a qualifying tea Nov. 13.

The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., 404 W. Third, at 8 p.m.

While enjoying the purely social event, the contestants will be informally rated on poise, personality and beauty. Then, from this group, finalists will be picked to vie for the coveted crown.

VILLAGE QUEEN

The Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the competition to pick a girl to reign as Rochester Village Queen beginning Dec. 7 and continuing through 1964.

On Pearl Harbor Day, the finalists will make their first official appearance riding in the chamber's 12th annual Christmas parade through the heart of town.

They will vie for the Miss Holiday title that evening in the Rochester Senior High School lounge, appearing in

Church Sets Fall Bazaar

FOUR TOWNS — The Women's Society of Christian Service of Four Towns Methodist Church will hold its annual fall bazaar tomorrow afternoon.

The event, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Lawrence Siermas, is scheduled for 4-7:30 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church on Cooley Lake Road.

Fancy work and baked goods will be featured with white elephant and Christmas booths. A ham dinner will be served at 5 p.m.

Bloodmobile Date Set

NORTH BRANCH — The LaPeer County Bloodmobile will be at the North Branch Legion Hall Tuesday from noon to 6 p.m.

FINISHING TOUCHES—Laborers wrapped up landscaping and other work on the Troy National Bank, at Livernois and 15 Mile, prior to ribbon-cutting ceremonies early today. The bank is open 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. including Saturdays, and Friday until 6 p.m. The young business boasts of over $4.5-million in assets. Just a short time ago transactions were conducted in a converted gas station on the corner.

WHO'S DRIVING? — A back-seat driver comes into his own in this Century three-wheeler—one of only 10—for a moment of glory. He runs things! P. S. Soteriou of Cyprus (left) and R. Rentanen of Finland, students at College of Aeronautical and Automobile Engineering at Kent, England, try out the vehicle in preparation for the annual London-to-Brighton veteran car run Nov. 2.

Disguised in Blonde Wig

Rumor Mme. Nhu Slipped Out

BEVERLY HILLS (UPI) — The visit of the first lady of South Viet Nam to this country took on an air of mystery last night when it was reported she had slipped out of her hotel suite disguised in a blonde wig to attend a secret GOP meeting and to go house hunting.

Aides to Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu had insisted throughout the day that she had remained in her suite, resting and reading mail.

But according to a story in today's Los Angeles Times, she had put on a blonde wig over her black hair to elude news-men assigned to the hotel and slipped out unnoticed.

The Times story said Mme. Nhu met with about a dozen "high level" Republicans at a "hush-hush meeting" which the newspaper said an unidentified source insisted "would be denied if we were asked about it."

PRIVATE WORD

The source was quoted as saying the meeting was called to ask Mme. Nhu if she had anything to say privately which she might fear to say publicly "for fear of reprisal from the Democratic Kennedy administration," which she apparently did not.

Mme. Nhu then was reported to have gone on a house-hunting tour so that she could have private quarters for the remainder of her stay in the United States.

Her aides were unavailable for comment.

A spokesman had said earlier, however, that there were no further commitments for the remainder of her stay in the United States.

No definite time has been set for her return to Saigon.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yurty came to Mme. Nhu's defense yesterday and criticized the United States government for treatment accorded her during her visit.

ASKS INVITATION

He made public a telegram to President Kennedy in which the mayor suggested Mme. Nhu be "invited to Washington for a courteous conference" before her return to South Viet Nam.

"If the First Lady of the United States were treated by the administration in Viet Nam as the first lady of Viet Nam was treated by our government, such action would be resented here," Yurty declared in the wire.

Mme. Nhu and members of her party are staying at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

Malnutrition in Children Hit

Lawyer Says Neglect Worse Than Assault

CHICAGO (UPI) — A physician said today "depriving a child of adequate nutrition is 'equally, and probably more, dangerous to the child's welfare' than physically assaulting him.

"And it is just as culpable under the law," Dr. Lester Adelson, Cleveland, Ohio, chief deputy coroner of Cuyahoga County, wrote in the Journal of the American Medical Association. Adelson studied five cases in which infants under nine months of age died of starvation after prolonged neglect.

Investigation showed long periods of willful neglect and "callous disregard" for the child's plight, coupled with unwillingness and failure to seek readily available medical attention, Adelson said.

None of the children had been seen by a doctor or visiting nurse for at least three to four months before death, he said.

UNHEALTHY SIBLINGS

Three of the five infants were born out of wedlock, came from unkept homes and had brothers or sisters in fair or poor condition, he said. The other two infants came from "reasonably clean homes and had healthy, well-fed siblings," he said.

The singling out of a child for neglect in a home where there are several children has its counterpart with some "battered" children, Adelson said.

Maltreatment by starvation is more subtle and covert than other forms of physical abuse, he said, and is more difficult to discover, diagnose, and rectify.

October's Exit Proves Festive

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
Ghosts, gremlins and flickering jack-o-lanterns greeted guests of Mrs. M. M. Burgess when she entertained 65 of her friends for luncheon at the Village Women's Club Tuesday. The Halloween motif was carried out in the table setting—a black taffeta cloth laden with colored fall leaves, grapes etc., and the style of food served which included orange and black decorated petit fours.

Over the week-end Mrs. Burgess also entertained for her houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Laughlin and daughters Janie and Nancy, from Portland, Ind.

Association's Ways and Means Committee on Wednesday. The event took place as planned with Mrs. George Cary filling Mrs. BeGole's place since Mrs. BeGole was delayed in Washington, D.C.

Members of the committee are: Mesdames: George Cary, chairman Robert Flint, Luther Leader, Howard B. Barker, Gunnar Karlstrom, Alexander Wiener and Harold Beatty (these two from Grosse Pointe); Herman Scarney, Maurice Garabrandt, Edward Proctor, Harold Mack and Fredrick Sparrow from Ann Arbor.

The project will be the play "A Man For All Seasons," taking place at the Fisher on April 21. Mrs. Archie Crowley is the chairman of the Michigan region for the National Cathedral Association.

Parent Is Important as Teacher

CHICAGO (UPI)—A child's reading skill is connected closely with his physical development and the background for learning he brings to his first day of school, teachers say.

"Parents are teachers" and "the most important partners of the school," according to a booklet published by the education department of Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, Ill.

Parents can teach visual, auditory and mechanical skills that are necessary foundations for reading instruction.

Visual and vocabulary skills can be developed with picture collections of animals, cars, people, birds, vegetables and fruits.

A child should be taught to recognize likenesses and differences in colors, shapes of blocks, toys, buildings, and other items common to his experiences.

Even though Thursday was a rainy day, many from this area took part or made their purchases at the Planned Parenthood Christmas Mart in Detroit (Veterans Memorial Bldg.) Some were pretty models in sport and evening clothes entertaining the lunch guests who were seated at attractive tables decorated with large arrangement of eucalyptus and a combination of red and yellow flowers.

Among those attending were: Mesdames: Roger Kyles, D. McLay Marshall Fredericks, James M. Booth, John D. Richardson Jr., LeRoy W. Dahlberg, Hugh Martin, Samuel Gawne, Thomas Wilson, Theron Van Dusen, Richard Van Dusen, Robert Martin, B. J. Mauck with her mother Mrs. Jesse McBride.

First Lady's Coiffure Too Long for Fashion

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI)—That long straight coiffure the nation's first lady has been wearing puts her "completely out of fashion" as far as one influential hairdresser is concerned.

"If she were 20 or 21, she could get by with it," said Buddy Walton, styles director of the official hair fashion committee, the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.

"But she's not," he continued. "And that long bob isn't becoming to her. Mrs. Kennedy is completely out of fashion so far as I'm concerned."

CURLED FAMED HAIR

Walton, 40, is a St. Louis hairdresser who has coiffed a lot of famous heads including those of Margaret Truman, Pat Nixon, the late Eleanor Roosevelt, Bob Hope's wife, the comedienne Phyllis Diller, actress Linda Darnell, and Rose Stevens, the opera star.

He praised Mrs. John F. Kennedy for the elaborate evening hair styles she usually wears—Kenneth of New York, Jean Louis of Washington and Alexandre of Paris—all have had a hand in these.

But he called on her to return to "a semi-short, casual cut for daytime."

"She's usually a great influence on what other women wear," said Walton. "But this shoulder length bob won't catch on."

Walton suggested that Mrs. Kennedy could wear most becomingly the "dandy," which is the association's choice of hair styles for fall and winter.

He described it as "a little bit reminiscent of the hairdo Garbo wore"—close to the head, close to the nape of the neck, a slight rise through the crown.

The hair falls three to four inches from the temple, and the line at the ends is horizontal instead of tapered. In many versions the ends are curled a bit and swept forward over the cheeks.

'HIDDEN SUPPORT'

It requires little teasing, Walton said. But for most women even though the line is one of oily slight wave, a soft permanent gives "hidden support."

Walton predicted in an interview that curly hair is coming back—not a return to the tight, kinky poule of the 1940's, but to soft curls.

"We're getting away from that stiff, lacquered look," said Walton. "And we always go back in styles, you know. But we keep them updating."

"I wouldn't be surprised to see little girls in Shirley Temple curls," he continued. "And the Jean Harlow platinum blonde definitely is coming in."

Walton, born in Potosi, Mo., about 75 miles from St. Louis, is the son of a retired postmaster. One of five brothers, including his twin, he is the only hairdresser in the family and has a shop in the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel. He also operates a beauty salon for dogs in the same hotel.

Camp Oakland Inc. Holds Organizational Meeting

Camp Oakland Inc. will elect 16 directors and a slate of officers at its annual meeting, Sunday, at Oxford.

The shareholders in the nonprofit organization who are friends and supporters of Camp Oakland have been invited to a brunch to be arranged by Mrs. Ben D. Mills and the women's committee at 12:30 p.m. in the camp dining hall.

By-laws amendments to be voted on would increase the number of directors from 48 to 60 and the number of vice presidents from two to four.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore and Carl O. Barton of Bloomfield Hills, are currently serving as vice presidents of the corporation.

Some 200 Camp Oakland shareholders are expected to hear a report on building plans for a new Boys' Ranch. Young wards of the court who make their permanent home at Camp Oakland would be housed in the new structure.

Other shareholders expected to attend the session are Oakland County Circuit Judge and Mrs. Philip Pratt; Oakland County Probate Judge and Mrs. Donald E. Adams; and Mrs. Donald E. Fitzgerald, a member of the Camp Oakland board of directors.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of Rochester will attend with her son Richard, and granddaughter Judy Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Arman R. Simone and the James O. Hunts will also be on hand. Mr. Hunt is Oakland County Juvenile Director.

Susan Euler Born

The Harold B. Eulers, Ottawa Drive, are rejoicing over the birth of a new granddaughter, born Oct. 28. Susan Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Euler, (Nancy Gray), Syracuse, N. Y. Mrs. Moffatt A. Gray, Birmingham is her maternal grandmother.

'63 Skiddo' Theme Sparks U. of Michigan Homecoming

By BARBARA GRIFFIN

The University of Michigan campus will go back to the "good old days" this week-end to celebrate the 40th annual Homecoming, '63 Skiddo." With mid-term exams just completed, students will be in a gay mood to participate in many events like those at Michigan's first Homecoming in 1923.

Among the many activities planned are a bed-rolling contest across the Diag, a scramble for silver dollars in a haystack, and a tricycle race with the riders being at least six feet tall. Teams from men's and women's housing units will participate with trophies being given to the group with the most overall points.

Scheduled for Friday night is a pep rally, fireworks display, and a cheering contest at Ferry Field. Winding up the day's events will be a snake dance around campus. This custom was banned several years ago when a fire engine found its way to the roof of an Ann Arbor theater. This year's dance promises to be more orderly.

RIVER WAR

Early Saturday morning the annual tug-o-war across the Huron River will take place between Gomburg and Taylor House. Keith Cooley of Montana Street, who will be pulling for Gomburg, is hoping the water won't be too cold in case his house should lose the event.

Following the tug-o-war the traditional rivals Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta will clash in the annual Mud Bowl game, at which a Mud Bowl "Queen" from one of the fraternities is chosen. At half time Kappa Alpha Theta and Collegiate Sorority sororities will stage their traditional homecoming soccer game.

Thetas playing soccer Saturday morning will be Jane Leader, of Cranbrook Road, Jennifer Greene of Country Club Drive, and Lynne Carey of Middlebelt Road. Supporting the Sorority team will be Barbara Shadley of Ottawa Drive, Julie Fitzgerald of Cranbrook Court, Mary-Love Russell of Lone Pine Road, and Barbara James of Percy King Drive.

GRIDIRON BATTLE

The high spot of Homecoming Weekend will be the gridiron battle between the Wolverines and the Northwestern Wildcats. To keep with the theme of Homecoming the Michigan Athletic Band will present a pre-game show of music from the 1920's.

To conclude the weekend, Louis Armstrong will perform in Hill Auditorium followed by a "Marching Twenties" dance in the Union. Attending the concert and dance with his date will be Mark Lightfoot of McClintock Road. Ann Livingston of Berkshire Road and her date will attend a party at Sigma Chi fraternity, following the concert.

Sigma Nu fraternity is also planning a party Saturday night which Bruce Wigent of Mohawk Road and his date will attend. Phi Kappa Taus Ed Haroutunian of Douglas Drive and Clark Lefurgy of Colrain Drive and their dates will enjoy themselves at a dance party at the house.

HOMECOMING DISPLAY

The Homecoming displays built by the housing units will be one of the most colorful aspects of the weekend. Wood, wire, crepe paper and hours of work will create 51 displays to be judged by a faculty committee.

Working on the Phi Gamma Delta display, "An 'Ara' Comes and Goes" this week was John Kerns of Lake Angelus Drive and Sally Colman of Erie Drive and Judy Ward of Starr Avenue were among the Chi Omegas helping to assemble their display. "I Want to be Loved by You—and Beat North-western Too!"

Ernest Humphreys of East Tennyson Street will be helping to put up the Wenley House display, "Michigan Spirits," which will feature a 30 foot Northwestern wildcat dipping into a hot kettle.

December vows are planned by Alyce Cogan, daughter of the Edward Cogan of Chicago, Ill., and Paul Irwin Kampner, son of the Morris Kampers of East Iquoquis Road. She is an alumna of National Teachers' College. Her fiancé holds a law degree from Northwestern University.

January vows are planned by Marydith Ann Pilditch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Pilditch of Birmingham, and Timothy J. Draves, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Draves of Saginaw. She is an alumna of Western Michigan University where her fiancé is a senior.

The temperature may be going down, but the altar fund is almost to the top. St. Hugo Altar Guild will present fashions by Hilda Boutique Wednesday at a noon luncheon at Oakland Hills Country Club. Mrs. Oakland Fontana, Bloomfield Hills (left) is ticket chairman and Mrs. Kenneth H. Duerr, East Square Lake Road, one of the models. The luncheon is open to the public and reservations may be made with Mrs. Fontana.

Tale of Two Neighbors

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a happy bachelor and here is my problem.

Two neighbors, one right next door to me on my left, and the other right next door to me on my right, are divorcees.

They both tell me their troubles and cry over both fences whenever they catch me outside.

Now my back yard is flooded with their tears and my grass is drowning. How can I keep these two husband-lovers from ruining my yard?

HAPPY BACHELOR

DEAR HAPPY: Grow rice.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister who isn't the smartest person in the world, but I love her.

She tells me her troubles and cries on my shoulder. She has a husband, but he's no help. (He cries on his mother's.) Well, my sis called me at 4:15 this morning and scared my husband out of his wits.

She wanted to know if she should call the police to look for her 18-year-old daughter who went out on a date and wasn't home yet.

She was hysterical, Abby. I'll admit she's called at odd hours for reasons like there was a mouse in her bedroom, she is terrified of thunder storms, etc.

But this time she really needed me, and my husband refused to drive me over there to calm her down. (I don't drive.)

He said if anything like that ever happens again, I can go live with my sister. Who was unreasonable? Him or me?

BIG SISTER

DEAR SIS: I won't blame your husband for being fed up with your sister's hysteria. Tell sis to lay-off the notion.

Soak Them Gently

Wash fragile pieces such as lace doilies and tea napkins by shaking them clean in a jarful of soap or detergent suds.

tural S.O.S.s, or you will lose your happy home.

DEAR ABBY: I have the perfect solution for the busy housewife who was embarrassed by the thoughtless person who just happened to be in the neighborhood so she thought she'd drop in and pay a social call.

Bake a pie or something and take it over to her house. But don't give her any notice. Just ring her bell like she rang yours, and see how SHE likes it.

Keep Baskets Empty, Clean

One common household item which needs frequent freshening, and which is too often overlooked, is the wastebasket. Simply emptying it regularly isn't enough, particularly when overflowing ashtrays are occasionally dumped into it or youngsters carelessly toss in the cores of their after-school apples. One way to keep the wastebaskets in your home clean is to wipe them out often with a cellulose sponge which has been squeezed out in a baking soda and water solution.

This will kill any stale odors which may linger even after the wastebasket contents have been disposed of in the trash.

Never dunk pearl jewelry to clean it. If your pearls need cleaning badly, lay them out on a padding of sponge cloth and then go over them carefully with a cellulose sponge which has been squeezed out in mild lukewarm suds.

The gentle yet forceful action of the sponge will easily rid the pearls of any crusty bits of dirt so that they are lustrous and beautiful as new.

A million-dollar look can be yours in this three-piece outfit. The leather front vest over a turtle-neck sweater epitomizes the sporty look. In black and white or brown and white wool tweed with leather to match. By Country Set, it is available locally.

Imaginative Food Buying Eases Living

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant
Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: You say that a couple with a retirement income of $300 per month can pay $115 for rent. The part I do not understand is how they can get by on $82 a month for food.

With prices the way they are today, could you please explain this to me. Or maybe you could give me some sort of menu or some ideas as to the foods to be bought.

I read your column all the time and enjoy it very much. The reason I am interested in this special column I refer to is because my husband is planning to retire on about the same pension.

Mrs. J. M. O'B.,
Astoria, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. O'B.: In the particular case you refer to, that couple wanted that $115 apartment more than they wanted anything else for their money. So they were willing to cut other expenses right down to the bone in order to keep it.

The $82 figure for food is realistic enough — but you certainly can't be temperamental about your likes and dislikes!

You'll have to shop where the prices are cheapest, and think in terms of such foods as these: lamb shanks, anywhere from about 30 to 40 cents a pound (these, incidentally, were served barbecued at a big luncheon a company gave for its employees recently, and were pronounced delicious by one and all!); oatmeal for breakfasts, less than two cents a serving; beef liver; beef kidneys; a box of spaghetti, about 14 cents at chain supermarkets; and enough for two served with homemade sauce of leftover meat and vegetables; tuna fish in various ways; green beans, potatoes, onions and a few pieces of bacon all cooked together for an hour or so (this is excellent); many kinds of fresh fish and homemade soups.

SHEER NECESSITY

Keep in mind that many of the famous dishes and gups from various parts of the world which gourmets rave about were invented through sheer necessity — with ingredients easily obtained at little cost. So approach your food shopping and preparation with an inquiring mind and toss all your prejudices out the window.

In your metropolitan area you can contact the Department of Markets' consumer service for suggestions. Also, make use of the food pages in your newspaper and watch the ads for specials. Why not try eating on $82 a month before your husband retires, and see how you come out.

Dear Miss Feeley: My husband and I are both in our middle 30s and have three children. For 10 years we have owned a two-family house. The rent we receive, plus a compensation check, takes care of the mortgage plus our heat. If we were to sell this house, we would clear $10,000 at least.

We have invested $2,500 in a trust fund and $1,000 in the bank.

Now because we need more room, my husband wants to sell and put $10,000 on a new house. I would like to remortgage this house, and take about $6,000 out for a down payment.

WILL LOSE

In remortgaging, we will lose our 4 1/2 per cent interest but the bank agrees to give us 5 1/2 per cent on the old mortgage and 5 per cent on the new.

This way we'll still have some equity in the old house, plus the fact that the tenants will be paying for the whole mortgage.

Which way do you think will benefit us most?

Mrs. L. C., Boston

Dear Mrs. C.: Remortgaging the two-family house and taking $6,000 out of the deal for a down payment on a new house sounds thoroughly plausible.

Here's the "if"—if the two-family house can carry itself with the rent from the tenants. This would have to include mortgage with the higher interest rate, taxes, heat if it is supplied, general maintenance, any needed repairs.

It becomes an investment in real estate, and thereby you have to assume responsibility facing up to the possibility of a vacancy. But from what you tell me, it's a reasonable risk.

Consider, too, that you will be an absentee landlord. Keeping an eye on the property will involve more time and effort than if you still shared the house. If this doesn't present a problem, then go ahead.

(You can write Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions of widest interest will be answered in future columns.)

Betty Hutchinson (right) won $50 for growing an enormous pumpkin. Betty has been a patient at the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults since she was two. This generous 14-year-old (her birthday's today) gave the check to the society to use in helping others. With Betty is Mrs. Gerald Kirby, director of the society. Betty's parents are the Robert Hutchinsons, Corunna Street.

Spot-Clean Those Separate Belts

Now that shifts have popularized separate belts, learn to spot-clean your leather belts by applying thick soap or detergent suds with a sponge. Wipe with a clean, damp cloth and then polish with a dry cloth.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

As a woman grows older she is usually less active. She may give up sports and eat more rich food because she indulges in more social life. Her glandular system also slows down.

As my readers know, I am publishing my Trick AND Treat Diet in my column this week. This gives you a loss of five pounds in seven days. Here are the menus for Saturday:

BREAKFAST
Six ounces tomato juice
One poached egg on toast, with a little butter
Coffee with one teaspoon sugar

LUNCHEON
One cup vegetable soup (fat skimmed off top)
One medium hamburger (lean meat)

DINNER
Three moderate slices of Canadian Bacon

Three-fourths cup cauliflower, seasoned with dry mustard or marjoram
Shredded lettuce with sprinkling of crumbled Roquefort cheese and two or three tablespoons tomato reducing dressing

One-half cup Jello with table-spoon whipped cream (cream should be made from non-fat, dry milk crystals)

If you have missed some of this diet or would like to have it in a small booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Trick AND Treat Booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Death Valley, situated in eastern California, is 210 feet below sea level and it is about 150 miles in length and up to 35 miles in width.

By Training Nurses

New Center Aids Community

By MIRIAM NEAL

Mrs. Maude Beck is 48 years old, the mother of five children and grandmother to eight. She is the sole support of two daughters, 15 and 17.

She tried training to become a secretary. She was a natural typist, but no amount of effort helped her proficiency at shorthand and filing. She says now it was because she had "no enthusiasm" for being a secretary, that she wanted more than "just to earn money."

After checking with Mrs. Patricia Underwood, supervisor at the Pontiac branch of Michigan Employment Security Commission, Mrs. Beck decided to apply for training at the Pontiac Practical Nurse Center.

CENTER CREATED

This center was created because of four factors: Local hospitals were looking for nurses. The MESC was looking for ways to handle the unemployment problem. The Manpower Development and Training Act had funds available for a training program. And the Pontiac Board of Education had voted the need for stable employment for heads of families.

Last spring, Raymond Graff, director of vocational and adult education, and William J. Lacy, assistant superintendent, both from the board of education, called in Mrs. Ralph Sherrod, R.N., to help draw up plans for the practical nurse center.

When created, the center answered two needs of the community and the participants' need for meaningful employment. Pontiac needed job openings and nurses. Mrs. Beck's case best defines the term "meaningful" employment.

To apply for the program, Mrs. Beck took a specific aptitude test at the MESC. She and 399 others passed out of 650 tested. Then the applicants were screened again on the basis of need and dependability. Forty-nine were referred to Mrs. Sherrod at the center.

There Mrs. Sherrod, now director of the program, tested them on reading ability, observation, ability to think, and general fitness. Work references were checked and the final selection was made. Thirty were chosen, Mrs. Beck among them.

These 30 (25 women and 5 men) started the 45-week course on July 29. The course entails 16 weeks preclinical instruction where nursing fundamentals, physiology, the family, community health, vocational relationships, and nutrition are studied.

During this period, students spend five hours a week at the Oakland County Medical Care Facility for practical experience.

CLINICAL TRAINING

The next 32 weeks are to be spent in clinical training at Pontiac General Hospital. There medicines, surgery, obstetrics, and pediatrics are taught. Theory is to be discussed 10 hours a week during the second period.

At the end of the course, the students receive a diploma and take the state examination. After passing this, they become licensed practical nurses.

Mrs. Beck said that the program means a new start in life for most of the participants. To her, it was an opportunity for a useful life, serving the spiritual and mental as well as physical needs of other people.

She noted that most patients never know nurses by name, only as 'the nurse', but that she will know she has helped. Besides Mrs. Sherrod, there are three faculty members, all registered nurses. They are: Mrs. Melvin Colman, Mrs. Elmer Fuller, and Mrs. Ivan Cotcher. Mrs. Beck said that the faculty makes a real effort to understand each student and set up a harmonious relationship among them.

The center will run three sessions involving 30 people each during the year. The future of the center depends on continued support through the Manpower Development and Training Act.

The important thing, both to the community and to the individuals, noted by both Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Sherrod, is that the program center is training these area residents in a permanent vocation, not just a temporary way to make money.

Creating a nutritional menu, Mrs. Beck works with a flannel board. This is but one of the subjects she and 29 other students are learning.

Use What You Have for a Dream House

There's a little bit of Mr. Blanding — that man who built the dream house that was a disaster right from the ground up — in everybody's home. But for most home owners, construction problems are few and often easy to correct — an ugly radiator, an irregular floor, high ceiling, narrow windows.

Alice D. Kenny, decorator for the model homes of Levitt communities, offers advice on how to improve interiors in several areas.

- The ugly radiator. Build a wooden cover with an open front. Have separate units of the same height and depth on either side to give a good line to the wall.
- To make them less obtrusive, paint the units to match the color of the wall.
- The too-high ceiling. Break the height of a room with paneling, wallpaper or even two colors of paint, making a deep cornice of a contrasting color around the top of the room.
- The too-low ceiling. Strive for vertical lines to give the illusion of height. Use striped wallpaper or draperies, and hang draperies from the ceiling rather than the window line.

Three pictures hung one above the other will lead the eye upward. Avoid squatly furniture. Choose slender-looking pieces such as a secretary to give height, a banjo clock for the wall.

Lighting is an important factor, too. Select lamps with shades that are wide at the top to throw light to ceiling.

Duchess of Windsor Pattern

#44

The Duchess recommends for winter dinners and winter parties, the subtle sorcery of the easy-fit tunic. The look is almost daytime, but in velvet or brocade, you'll be transformed into midnight magic.

Size 12 requires 1 1/2 yards of 50" fabric without nap for two-piece dress and 1 1/2 yards of 36" fabric for lining. To order Duchess of Windsor Pattern No. 44, state size, send $2.00.

Other suggested fabrics are lame, faille, satin, lightweight woolen, silk or rayon crepe. And for resorting, novelty cottons or linen. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size chart.

Pattern Books Nos. 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25 and revised Duchess of Windsor, are available for 50 cents each or any 3 for $1.25 or all 7 for $3.00. Add 10 cents postage for each book. Duchess of Windsor silk woven label available for $1.00.

Address SPADEA Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P-6 DW, New York 1, N.Y.

Garden Groups

Club Observes 10th Year

The Foxcroft Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, will observe its 10th anniversary which falls on Nov. 30, at Monday's meeting in the Franklin Community Church.

Mrs. Alice Wessels Burlingame, specialist in horticultural therapy, will speak on the success of the program in this area.

She will also tell of her European lecture tour this past summer at the invitation of President Kennedy's People-to-People-Program Committee.

CHARTER MEMBERS

Charter members, many of whom are still Foxcroft residents, will be honored. They include Mrs. James Bennett, Mrs. John S. Black Jr., Mrs. C. F. Buschagen, Mrs. Richard Carter, Mrs. Frederick E. Fleming, Mrs. Francis O. Gadd, Mrs. James A. Hall, Mrs. Robert J. Hickson and Mrs. Joseph S. Howell. Mrs.

Harold G. Haines is now of Youngtown, Ariz.

Social chairman of the branch, Mrs. Michael Johnson Jr., will be hostess for the day. Assisting will be Mrs. George S. Montoth, Mrs. William Jackson and Mrs. John H. Hohnke. Mrs. Buschagen and Mrs. Howell will pour.

BLOOMFIELD HEIGHTS

Members of the Bloomfield Heights Branch, WNF&G, showed colored slides of their garden beauty spots at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Colton Hutchins on Pine Tree Trail. Cohostesses were Mrs. Robert A. Winter and Mrs. Edward P. Barrett.

Mrs. R. E. Harris showed slides of area wild flowers taken by her daughter Mrs. Milbry Benedict of Ann Arbor.

A cotton canopy gives this colonial bed new life. Red and blue plaid cotton is coordinated with a plain blue cotton. Created by David Eugene Bell, AID, for Manhattan's Skyview-on-the-Hudson, the room takes unity from the use of identical fabrics at the window and on the chairs. You can do the same thing in your home.

Two handsome cotton fabrics by Waverly are used in this window treatment. The almond color in the cotton cafe curtains and in the laminated shades is enhanced by complementary floor to ceiling draperies.

MINORU YAMASAKI

Yamasaki to Lecture at Oakland

Minoru Yamasaki, world renowned architect, will speak at Oakland University at 8 p.m. Monday in the Gold Room of the Oakland Center.

Mr. Yamasaki's lecture on architecture will be the third presentation in this fall's world report lecture series, sponsored by the Oakland University scholarship committee.

Theme of the series is "Contemporary Trends in the Arts."

A resident of Oakland County, Yamasaki has received honors and awards from organizations throughout the world.

Classic examples of his work in the Detroit area are the Reynolds Metals Company building, the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company building and the McGraw-Hill Memorial Community Conference Center at Wayne State University.

A limited number of individual tickets are available for this address. Requests should be directed to World Report, Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan.

Scrub Oriental Rugs Very Well

A real Oriental rug deserves the finest care you can give it — which means a good sudsy scrub! Spread the rug on a clean, hard surface — such as the patio or the garage floor — and hose it until thoroughly wet. Then scrub it with soap or detergent suds, hose again for rinsing, and allow several days for it to dry.

To Conserve Water Try This Gadget

If water conservation is a must in your household, consider investing in an inexpensive gadget called a shower water saver.

This permits turning the water off while sudsing up, then turning it on again for rinsing at the same temperature — without having to touch the hot or cold water faucets.

GOOD REASONS TO BUY AN ELECTRIC DRYER...NOW!

Europe Counts Its Money as Tourist Season Closes

LONDON (AP) — The first wisps of winter fog sneak along the Thames and shroud the bridges of the Seine. Italian beaches are silent.

The tourists have gone home, and Europe's tourist spots are checking up to see who came out on top in the contest for dollars, marks, pounds and francs.

A meeting of Italian tourist office managers was told that some Italian areas had an alarming drop in foreign visitors.

Statistics showed that tourists often shunned normally popular spots, like Portofino, Capri and Ischia. Venice had 10 per cent fewer visitors than last year. At Stresa the number dropped more than 15 per cent.

SOME REASONS
High prices, noise, and fear of being cheated reduced the tourist flow, the meeting was told.

Spain, on the other hand, had its best year ever—despite an increase of 30 per cent in hotel prices. The Spanish Ministry of Information and Tourism estimates tourist income at more than $600 million spent by more than 10 million tourists in 1963.

This figure is believed high because the authorities count even passengers in transit.

But hundreds of new hotels and apartment blocks are being built for 1964, especially along Spain's Costa Del Sol and the Costa Blanca on the Mediterranean coast.

France found itself caught in a two-way squeeze. More French people are going abroad for their holidays while foreign tourists are spending less time in France.

BALANCE DEFICIT
The result is an increasing deficit in the French balance of payments from tourism.

Many Americans find French prices high.

In recent years, France entertained about six million visitors annually—but recently they have been staying only 2½ days on average.

The result is reflected in tourist spending which declined from $200 million in 1960 to $198 million in 1962. Figures for this year are not complete but they give no cause for optimism.

One of the biggest upsurges in the French tourist industry has been in winter sports areas.

BRITISH INCREASE
The British Travel Association reports an annual growth of about 7 per cent in the number of overseas visitors since World War II. This year it is expected a 10 per cent rise, on the basis of preliminary figures.

In 1962 1,955,500 visitors spent more than $543 million. Said an association spokesman: "Most of the visitors don't expect much in the way of good weather—but they

Prohibitionist: Lose Vote, Win Cause

HILLSDALE (AP) — "I'd rather lose in a cause that eventually will win, than to win a cause that eventually will lose," the Prohibition party's 1964 candidate for president said this week in accepting nomination.

He is Earle Harold Munn Sr., 59, a Hillsdale College faculty member for 34 years and a widely known Free Methodist layman. He won the nomination over Prof. Milton Conover of the Seaton Hill law school at the party's convention in August.

Munn's formal acceptance speech, "Lose your vote successfully" was delivered this week at a meeting attended by the Rev. Mark R. Shaw of Melrose, Mass., the Prohibition party's vice-presidential nominee, and Dr. D. D. Gibbons, chairman of the party's national executive committee.

Vault Gets Airing Across the Street

HESSTON, Kan. (AP) — The Hesston State Bank's vault, with the money in it, sits out in the open air without so much as an armed guard during the night.

During office hours, when the bank needs cash, an official accompanied by two shotgun-carrying guards crosses the main street from its offices, and takes out whatever he needs.

***

This awkward procedure became necessary when the bank building was torn down. They left the vault sticking up like a sore thumb in the rubble where a new bank building soon will be erected.

"We don't keep any full-time guards," said Bob Ruth, president. "It's well exposed and well lighted all the time. The insurance company approved the arrangement."

That's a Lot of Mustard

LONDON (UPI) — The sponsors of National Hot Dog Month predicted today that enough frankfurters would be eaten in November to girdle the earth or make a mound bigger than the ocean liner Queen Mary.

13 Dead, 36 Injured in Madagascar Storm

TANANARIVE, Malagasy Republic (AP) — Thirteen persons were killed and 36 injured Thursday in the first storm of the summer, officials reported. Some of the victims were in a crowded market building near the town of Antsirabe when it was struck by lightning.

'Wouldn't Bet on Soviet Intentions'

Kennedy Leery on Red Moon Plans

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has questioned whether the Soviet Union is abandoning the moon race.

Kennedy told a news conference Thursday that he "would not make any bets at all upon Soviet intentions" despite Premier Khrushchev's statement that his country would not race to the moon but, rather, would profit from American experience in that field.

"I think that our experience has been that we wait for deeds unless we have a system of verification, and we have no idea whether the Soviet Union is going to make a race for the moon or whether it is going to attempt an even greater program," the President said.

"I think we ought to stay with our program. I think that is the best answer to Mr. Khrushchev."

TROOPS IN CUBA

Kennedy reported a marked decrease in the number of Soviet troops in Cuba since Jan. 1, he and Goldwater are opponents in the 1964 presidential election.

Commented with some sarcasm that it wouldn't be fair to reply to a charge of news management leveled against him by Goldwater because, said Kennedy, the senator "has had a busy week selling TVA," advising on nuclear policy, "attacking the president of Bolivia, and involving himself in the Greek election."

Said that, "yes," he wants Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson on the 1964 Democratic ticket and expects Johnson to have the No. 2 spot.

Discussing Soviet space efforts, Kennedy said he could not read into Khrushchev's statement at a Moscow news conference last Saturday any announcement that the Russians are abandoning their moon program.

Instead, the President concluded that Khrushchev was saying the Russians would not go to the moon without adequate preparation, a point on which he voiced agreement.

"The fact of the matter is that the Soviets have made an intensive effort in space, and there is every indication that they are continuing and that they have the potential to continue," Kennedy said.

NO CONFLICT

On other points Kennedy said Fred Korh, a former Texas banker who has resigned as secretary of the Navy, was not involved in any conflict of interest through participation in the controversial decision to give the TFX warplane contract to the Texas plant of General Dynamics Corp.

Said some white voters in Philadelphia's mayoral election next Tuesday might try to punish the Democrats for pushing civil rights. But Kennedy said both major parties, historically and now, take a similar position on civil rights.

Expressed willingness to resume diplomatic relations with the Dominican Republic, recently taken over by a military junta, if "restoration of constitutional government" is assured.

Expressed the hope that U.S. Steel Corp. would "use its influence on the side of comity between the races" in Birmingham, Ala., where it has major plants. Roger Blough, the corporation's board chairman, has suggested this is not the responsibility of the company, Kennedy described Blough as "an influential citizen" and said "I am sure he will do the best he can."

JFK Won't Answer Goldwater Charges

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said it would be unwise to reply at this time to Sen. Barry Goldwater's sharp charges against administration's handling of government news.

Goldwater, a possibility for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, charged the Kennedy administration Thursday with "blackouts, distortions, fabrication and falsification" of news.

He said that Kennedy had weighed government actions on the "basest" of political motives: to remain in power.

While he didn't answer these charges, Kennedy couldn't resist zipping off a fusillade at the Arizona Republican some of the President's friends say he would be most happy to have as his opponent next year.

BUSY WEEK

Kennedy said Goldwater had had "a busy week selling TVA and giving permission to or suggesting that military commanders overseas be permitted to use nuclear weapons, and attacking the president of Bolivia while he was here in the United States and involving himself in the Greek election."

There was a laugh as the President added: "I think it would not be fair for me this week to reply to him."

Goldwater recently proposed that the Tennessee Valley Authority, which former President Dwight D. Eisenhower once described as an example of creeping socialism, be sold to private enterprise.

He suggested that overseas commanders be given more authority in the use of nuclear weapons. He called for an end to U.S. aid to Bolivia, characterizing President Victor Paz Estenssoro of that country as a despot and "no proven friend to freedom."

VIEWS INTRODUCED

An interview Goldwater gave to a reporter for the Athens Daily Post was construed in some quarters as introducing the senator's views into the Greek election.

Actor's Wife Charges
He Won't Leave House

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jane Valentine, estranged wife of actor James Craig, says her husband insists on living in her house against her will.

Miss Valentine, 28, asked a judge Thursday to order Craig, 51, to show cause why he should not be held in contempt. She is suing him for divorce.

Funeral Rites Set for Actor Menjou

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif.

(UPI)—Funeral services were scheduled today for Adolphe Menjou, 73-year-old movie actor for more than four decades.

Menjou died Tuesday of chronic hepatitis—inflammation of the liver. He had been ill for nine months. Services at the All Saints Episcopal Church will be followed by cremation and burial at Hollywood Memorial Cemetery.

The leaves of Victoria regia, a giant South American water lily, are about seven feet in diameter and are strong enough to support a child.

Army Contracts Go to General Motors

WASHINGTON (AP)—General Motors Corp. has received $8.8 million in new Army contracts for work to be done in Detroit and Flint.

Sens. Patrick V. McNamara and Philip A. Hart announced two new contracts yesterday. One is for $6,999,855 for more than 5,000 engines to be made in Detroit. The other is for $1,886,400 for 1,200 engine and transmission assemblies for the Chevrolet Division at Flint.

Ring Lost 57 Years

Returned to Owner

LEOTT, Kan. (AP)—More than half a century ago, newly-married Mrs. Alex Appl lost her wedding band near the sod house she and her husband lived in. Now, at the age of 81, she finally has it back.

The ring was found 57 years later by her granddaughter.

Mrs. Dale Appl, near their farmhouse, once the site of the Appl sod house. She noticed a glint on the ground and picked up the dirt-encrusted ring.

Castor Oil Is Useful

Castor oil is an ingredient of many industrial products, among which are paint, lipstick, hair-dressing, nylon and type-writer ribbons.

Romans Step Out; No Need for Diets

ROME (AP)—The real Roman is a gourmet who would never dream of giving up his good food to stay slim.

Dieting isn't necessary here, he insists. Rome, he claims, can keep you trim. And he cites:

The 560 steps up to the dome of St. Peter's Basilica, the 190 steps to the top of the Marcus Aurelius Pillar, the 137 steps of the "Spanish stairs" to Trinita Dei Monti, the 122 steps of the Ara Coeli—and the 28 Holy Steps.

The latter doesn't sound like much of a strain—but you are supposed to go up them on your knees.

During part of the Revolutionary war, the Liberty bell was hidden in an Allentown church.

Warehouse Worker Enjoys the Scenery

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Harry N. Shapiro can enjoy the scenic wonders of such places as Samoa and Hawaii without ever leaving his job in a furniture warehouse here.

He has papered the drab walls of the warehouse with 12 by 25-foot posters depicting exotic travel settings.

Meg's Son to Mark 2nd Birthday

LONDON (UPI) — Princess Margaret's son, David Albert Charles, Viscount Linley, will be 2 years old Sunday.

There's going to be a little family party for him with a two-candle cake and among the friends on hand to share it will be David's cousin, Prince Andrew, Queen Elizabeth's son who will be 4 in February.

As was true on little Lord

Linley's first birthday a year ago, speculation continues as to when Princess Margaret and her husband Lord Snowdon will have another child.

The speculation is "when" rather than "if" since Margaret is known among friends to want at least two children and, hopefully, not too far apart.

HEALTHY BOY

At age 2, Lord Linley is a small healthy boy with his mother's big blue eyes and his father's features. Photos show he bears a close resemblance to his father at the same age.

The baby is fifth in line of succession to the throne, coming behind Queen Elizabeth's three children and his mother. With the queen now expecting her fourth child early next year, he soon will be shoved down a notch.

Space Pair Reported Will Wed Tomorrow

MOSCOW (UPI) — Chestnut-haired Valentina Tereshkova, the world's first spacewoman, has been reported ready to marry Soviet spaceman Andrian Nikolayev tomorrow.

There has been no official announcement on the marriage, but the romance between the two space pilots has been an open secret in Moscow for weeks.

Valentina, or Vallya as she is known to her friends, is 26 years old and has indicated that she wants to continue space flights even after she gets married.

Nikolayev, 33, orbited the earth 64 times in August, 1962. He was the nation's most eligible bachelor and No. 1 pinup boy until Valentina captured his affections.

BOTH OFFICERS
A rugged former lumberjack, Nikolayev is an air force major. His bride-to-be recently was promoted from junior lieutenant to captain.

According to the reports, the couple plan to marry in one of Moscow's two palaces of marriage, where up to 250 civil weddings are performed daily and end with traditional champagne toasts.

But it was considered unlikely the ceremony would be open to the press.

However, the whole space community could be expected to turn out for the event, and no one would be surprised if Khrushchev showed up.

Prison Faces Bank Mates

DETROIT (AP) — Two former bankers got prison terms yesterday for embezzlement. Officials of the same bank, they stole money simultaneously with each unaware of the other's thefts, according to the prosecution.

The sentences were given Herbert A. Schmidt, 37, of Royal Oak, former executive vice president of the Hamtramck Bank of Commerce, and James M. Mathes, 44, of Detroit, former chief auditor.

Schmidt, who admitted embezzling $11,000, was given two years in prison. Mathes, who pleaded guilty to taking $88,160 received four years. Sentences were passed by U. S. District Court Judge Talbot Smith.

U. S. Atty. Lawrence Gubow said each bank official was so busy protecting his own defalcations that he did not know of his colleague's thefts.

James Ritty of Ohio invented the cash register in 1879.

Sassy as Ever

Charlie McCarthy Now 40

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The world's most famous blockhead, Mr. Charles McCarthy, is celebrating his 40th year in show business, and he's just as sassy as when he started.

Charlie and his boss, Edgar Bergen, can be seen Saturday night on the Joey Bishop Show. Despite their longevity, they seem little changed. Edgar is just as reticent and conciliatory and Charlie is still Charlie.

Bergen was reminiscing about his long partnership with the dummy. It started back in 1922, when Edgar was in high school in Chicago. He made a sketch in his history book of a new boy who sold papers in front of the school. A wood carver fashioned the head for the budding ventriloquist.

AP Photos

"Charlie has had four bodies, but the head has remained the same with a few coats of paint added," Bergen said. "I have tried to have him recarved, but no one could capture the same features. Only recently have I been able to make copies by using plastic molds."

Bergen and McCarthy played some amateur dates around town, but their first step into show business came when they toured the Chautauque circuit in the summer of 1923. Edgar remembers playing to a tribe of Indians in South Dakota—"and if you've ever tried to make an Indian laugh, you know what we were up against."

He attended Northwestern University, then launched into vaudeville for a 10-year stand. Then came Charlie's golden years in radio when he reigned as the No. 1 attraction. Memories of his exchange of insults with W. C. Fields still warm the hearts of comedy fans.

Bergen was one of the first radio stars to tinker with television, yet he and the dummies Mortimer Snerd and Elsie Klinker were added to the troupe—never clicked in the new medium. Their only regular stint was a two-season run with a quiz show, "Do You Trust Your Wife?"

"The dummies presented a problem in television because they were static," he said. "I could carry them around, but that was awkward. Also, ventriloquists got to be so common on television."

He has contented himself with occasional guest spots and night club dates. Recently he has branched out with lectures on the nature of humor, illustrated by routines with Charlie and Mortimer.

PHYSICALLY FUNNY
"Strangely enough, Mortimer seems to go over better than Charlie nowadays," Bergen said. "I believe that is because Mortimer is physically funny, while Charlie is not. People miss the national comedy we used to have with such physical comics as Charlie Chaplin, Fat-

BLOCKHEAD'S BIRTHDAY—As Joey Bishop peers over Edgar Bergen's shoulder, natty dressed Charlie McCarthy reminds Bergen that he's ready to celebrate his 40th birthday. The official celebration of Bergen's long association with Charlie will be on Bishop's TV show, which stars Abby Dalton (in back).

ty Arbuckle and Harry Lang- stage for a bow after the play. For Edgar there is no getting away from him.

"We have intellectualized comedy too much. Most of the top comics now are successful because of what they say, rather than what they do. Bob Hope and Jack Benny are not funny in themselves, but only because they choose magnificent material."

Bergen has sometimes tried to escape Charlie in their 40 years together. He tried a dialect act in vaudeville and was canned after one performance. He went straight in "I Remember Mama" and other films, and last summer he did "You Can't Take It With You" in stock.

But Charlie always came on.

Of Indiana Explosion

Witnesses Tell Horror

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—"I've never seen anything like it. It's the worst tragedy in the history of Indianapolis," said Indianapolis Mayor Albert Lausche. This is his account.

It must have been some sort of gas explosion, but I don't know for sure. Ordinarily, I would have been sitting in the section that blew up. I always get 10 Shrine Night tickets on the south side of the coliseum, but this year I was late buying my tickets and ended up on the extreme north side.

Everybody was enjoying the show, but all of a sudden there was a terrific explosion and flames started flying onto the ice. Bodies were shooting 25 to 30 feet into the air.

Fumes started building up, and people were screaming and trying to get out. The aisles were all jammed, and it was very difficult to get out of the building.

FIRST FIREMEN

Just about the time I got my guests outside, the first firemen showed up to put out the fire.

"They had this special where you buy two tickets and get two free. My folks got the tickets and invited me to bring my girl," said Richard Crowell, 20, an Indianapolis college student. He said:

Dad got box seats that were right above one of the main sections. In front of us, there were about 10 rows of wooden chairs with people right next to the ice.

The show was superior to any we had seen before. The skit just before the finale involved two comedians who slid off the ice with firecrackers going off.

Then the finale began, and just when the stars were going through their final spins, there was this great noise — like a huge firecracker.

SMOKE, DUST
All around us was the smell of smoke and the dust of the explosion. About 15 feet away was a geyser of flame. I didn't know where my mother or father was but Karol (his 17-year-old girl friend) was on my right. She was half buried in the rubble. I was thrown up in the air. I lost my glasses.

"I hadn't been holding onto my glasses, but I probably wouldn't have found her."

I pulled her out by the arm-pits; she was unconscious. My left leg had been wedged into the rubble; I sprained it when I pulled it out.

There was popcorn from the concession stand beneath us all over us.

STILL STANDING

I carried Karol to a section that was still standing. I could see people screaming and running. Legs and arms were sticking out of the rubble.

On the way out, we had to cross persons I believe were dead. One man had his head sticking in the flames.

When we got outside, Karol was crying. Dad met us and feared another explosion. We heard ambulances but decided it would be quicker to go by car.

Dad drove us, honking through several red lights, down to St. Vincent Hospital. We were among the first to arrive at the hospital.

Every person I saw later looked 10 times worse off than us.

"Bodies were thrown 30 to 40 feet onto the ice. It was pretty bloody with arms and legs scattered about," said Dr. James Hamlin, one of the spectators.

Quotes from other witnesses:

Mrs. Ruby Cornell: "We (she, her doctor husband and two children) were enjoying the comedy acts on the ice. We heard the explosion and people were hurled through the air. We tried to shield our bodies from the hurtling concrete and bodies."

Tony Lang: "I was starting to leave when there was an explosion and a sheet of flame. It looked like the whole side was coming down. Moments later, nothing but bodies on the ice."

BIG PUSH

Jack Sleeth: "I felt a big push and was hurled over a rail. I'm lucky to be alive."

An unidentified rescue worker (pointing to the twisted bleachers): "There's not much chance of anyone being alive there."

Woman Aids Felled Officer Outside Store

Ice Show Firm President Suffers 2nd Misfortune

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indiana's evening then a cheer price of firewood these days, you can't afford to let smoke go to waste.

That was the crash of a Northwest Airlines Electra near Tel City, Ind., on March 27, 1960.

The victims included Chalfen's wife, their three children and the family maid.

MAJOR STOCKHOLDER
Chalfen, a resident of Minneapolis, is majority stockholder of Holiday on Ice Shows Inc.

The multiple-death explosion Thursday night during a performance of one of his shows at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum topped the 63 deaths in Indiana's last major disaster.

Members of the show reported Chalfen was either in Europe or New York City Thursday night. He also is promoter of the Russian circus tour of the United States.

Nationalist China U2 Downed, Reds Claim

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today the Chinese air force shot down a U.S.-made U2 high altitude reconnaissance plane that intruded over Hualung near Shanghai.

Peking Radio, in a broadcast monitored in Tokyo, said the plane belonged to the Nationalist Chinese and added that the U2 was on a "harmless mission." It gave no other details.

Holland UF Over Top
HOLLAND (UPI) — The United Fund-Red Cross drive for 1963 went over the top yesterday with collections of $108,406. The city had set a goal this year of $104,440.

On an average winter day, it is estimated six million open, women and children are incapacitated by some form of injury or temporary illness.

Where There's Smoke, There's West

Fireplace Leaves Him Cold

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — When it comes to good old American know-how, the home heating industry is right up there with the best of them.

The past few decades have produced truly marvelous improvements in home heating. Technological progress heaped on top of more technological progress.

Good, clean, cheap, warm heat is readily available. You can have your heat coming from the ceilings, the floors, the walls or the baseboards.

You can heat with gas or oil or electricity or coal or, as far as I know, corn shucks.

BURN LOGS
As a result of all this rapid advancement in the home heating field, more and more people are burning logs in fireplaces.

beat his home with a fireplace if any other means were available. But central heating systems have made it possible to view the fireplace as esthetic rather than utilitarian.

What is more pleasant on a winter's evening than a cheery blaze behind the hearth, the aroma of hickory smoke billowing through the house, sparks burning holes in the carpet?

Trudging out into the snow to bring in more logs. Trudging out into the snow again to carry out the ashes. These are a few of my favorite things.

SOME TIPS

In case you have been depriving yourself of the joys of an open fire, in your living room and are thinking of adding a fireplace to your home this winter, here are some tips that may prove useful:

• Make certain the fireplace is located close to the thermostat that controls your furnace. The heat from the fireplace will cause the thermostat to shut off the furnace, thus permitting the rest of the house to become ice cold. You may freeze all night, but what a saving on fuel bills!

• Learn to operate the damper. If you leave the damper open, the smoke will escape up the chimney rather than pour into the adjoining rooms. At the price of firewood these days, you can't afford to let smoke go to waste.

• Pay no attention to your wife. Women don't know a thing about starting fires. Go ahead and use a little gasoline. After all, they're your eyebrows.

LIE ON FLOOR

• For maximum enjoyment, lie flat on the floor in front of the fireplace. The air is better down there.

• Make certain your fire insurance premium has been paid.

• Inspect the fireplace carefully at the onset of winter to make sure no bears are hibernating in the chimney.

• Have all members of the family become proficient in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

Terror Filled the Night

Halloween, a time of screams and shrieking ghosts for millions of imaginative boys and girls, turned into an evening of real terror last night.

Most little hobgoblins and sprites, swashbuckling pirates and junior witches scampered about safely on their "trick or treat" rounds.

Others never came home.

An explosion ripped through a huge section of a coliseum at Indianapolis, Ind., where thousands of parents had taken their children for a special Halloween "treat" — a visit to an ice show.

Massive chunks of concrete and tiny bodies flew through the air, showering the glittering ice with dead and injured. At least 67 persons were dead and 272 injured.

CRIES DADDY

"It's the first time I've ever had a 3-year-old girl die in my arms crying 'Daddy, Daddy,'" a city patrolman said.

Another explosion shattered a drug store filled with shoppers and children dressed in Halloween costumes at Marietta, Ga., killing seven persons and injuring others.

The blast came as hundreds of persons gathered for an informal Halloween parade. Boys and girls in gawdy and grotesque costumes milled about as ambulances screamed back and forth in the night.

A speeding car at Chattanooga, Tenn., swerved out of control on a street corner and slammed into four young girls making "trick or treat" rounds.

Two of the girls, aged 6 and 14, were killed. The other two were seriously injured.

OTHERS KILLED

Other boys and girls were struck and killed by cars at Los Angeles, Tex., Southampton, Mass., Wadsworth, Ohio, and Broussard, La. A 4-year-old girl wearing a scary mask darted between parked cars at Detroit, Mich., was hit by another car and critically injured.

A 10-year-old boy was found hanging in his bedroom at Groveland, Mass., a short time after his parents told him he could not go to a Halloween party. The death was ruled a suicide.

A woman at Collingswood, N.J., gave boys and girls about 500 pills and capsules ranging from sleeping tablets to drugs used in the treatment of heart victims. She said she thought the capsules were candy.

Halloween pranksters kept police busy in many parts of the country.

Large crowds marched up Hollywood Blvd. in Hollywood, Calif., and pelleted police and passers-by with eggs.

The main street in Truro, Iowa, was filled with farm machinery, school buses with flat tires and farm wagons.

Unidentified ghosts set a bridge afire at Kansas City, Mo., and a policeman fighting the blaze suffered a leg burn.

Bandits took advantage of Halloween to stage hold-ups. Two bandits, one wearing a black Halloween mask, robbed the owner of a hot dog chain of $1,500 at Johnston City, Ill.

Two men wearing masks stole $11,000 in gems from a jewelry salesman at Prairie Village, Kan.

Skippers All-Girl Crew

Rime of the Envied Mariner

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The man who skipped a yacht with an all-girl crew through the South Seas flew in from Tahiti last night and had comments including:

"Girls make able seamen — but some are more able than others."

"I don't think I had a harem — a harem should be a few more."

"I'm going back and am definitely open for more girl crew members. My wife may be one of them."

Lee Quinn, 28, Los Gatos, Calif., a former stoopjockey, sailed the 45-kelch Neophyte from San Francisco to Hawaii, then on to Tahiti, using four female crewmen on the way.

With him as he stepped from the plane was Mrs. Bernice Berkson of Rancho Santa Fe, Calif., who crewed on the Hawaii-Tahiti run. When newsmen asked Quinn if there had been shipboard romances, he asked her to reply.

Said she: "I think all the girls had a crush on Lee."

HOME TO MARE
Mrs. Berkson was headed home to rejoin her husband and three children.

Quinn had this to say: "There were no fights or spat among the girls. I didn't permit that... or any differences of opinion."

"They were a very congenial group. It wasn't all solemnity and storms and hanging on."

"I rigged the boat differently than I would have for a crew of men because the women were physically less strong. And I had them stand shorter watches."

"No, I don't think it was the prey of any woman. I was quite capable of sailing the Neophyte alone."

"I'd always wanted to sail a boat single-handedly to Hawaii. My wife suggested I take a crew. I said I'd take a crew of girls."

NOT SURPRISED
"Well, I did. My wife, Mary Ann, wasn't surprised. After being married to me for 17 years, she knows me quite well."

"She couldn't go because at the time she was in Honolulu competing for a surf-boarding contest."

"I've always wanted to go on an aimless peregrination around the Pacific. . . most people may think I'm some kind of a nut. . . As for sailing with a crew of girls, people are going to think what they think, anyway."

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Ah, that lovely October that just went by, has spoiled everyone especially the golfers. Now they're asking—November to be half as kind.

Ed Morey reported the biggest October golf business in his history at Morey's GC and is looking forward to a good "weather" field of golfers in November.

Other area courses are in mutual agreement about the October golf play, but bowling establishments have complained that the warm weather had hiked attendance on the lanes.

BOWLERAMA INTEREST GROWS

Speaking of the bowling, interest in the Press Bowlerama is getting keen for the final weeks. The big Bowlerama shindig for presentation of prizes and checks is slated for the 300 Bowl Saturday night, December 7.

The finals, of course in the Bowlerama handicap and Actual's invitational, are scheduled one week prior to this, Nov. 30 and December 1st.

DONDERO HEDGING

A recent newspaper story quoted Jim Manilla, Royal Oak athletic director, as saying "We're happy in the Border Cities League and don't intend to initiate a move out of it."

The key word seems to be initiate, because Manilla admits that if another school dropped out of the league first, it would fold.

The story in Royal Oak was written in regard to a possible new league setup with Dondoro, Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern, Kettering, Groves and Oak Lake, with a possibility of exchanging a couple teams with the new lower county class A league, starting next year.

Dondoro's position in the Border Cities League, is like Pontiac Central's in the Saginaw Valley. No one really cares about the other teams in the respective leagues.

COACHES PROTEST

Several area football coaches have called this department in regard to the column two weeks ago declaring the Michigan High School Coaches Association to be in poor judgment for accepting the all-state team of one newspaper to be its "official" team.

"This is not the decision of the coaches," said one area mentor, "it stems from a select few coaches. No one ever took a poll of the coaches to see which all-state team should be recognized as official."

When we said that by doing this the coaches were giving their local newspapers a kick in the teeth, we did not refer to the individual coaches but to the association which is their representative body.

There are 34 newspapers in Michigan which print the Associated Press all-state team as the "official" team, which we recognize as the best representative team.

AN INTERESTING NOTE

Three weeks ago Tobin Rote was called the "Player of the Week" in the American Football League; two weeks ago John Hadl, runner and passer of the same San Diego team was named for the honor and last week Jack Kemp of the Buffalo Bills received the distinction.

All three were Lions' property, Hadl being the No. 1 stead, three years ago, having decided to go to the AFL in stead.

Rote and Hadl are moving the Chargers to the AFL title this year, and Rote is being compared to Y. A. Tittle by AFL people. They recall Rote leading the Lions to the NFL title in 1967 after defeating Tittle in the playoff with the 49ers and they also imply that with two years of "youth" over Tittle, Rote would be just as capable of bringing the Lions back as Y.A. did with the Giants.

2 Area Horses Win at Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States jumping team, already ahead on the tote board has a powerhouse entry in tonight's finals of the President's Cup, a feature event of the Washington International Horse Show.

The Americans so outnumber competitors from Argentina and West Germany that they seem assured of retaining the perpetual challenge cup, which they won last year.

With the six-day horse show moving into its fourth day, 29-year-old Frank Chapot of Wall-pack, N.J., is leading point scorer among the international riders, with a tally of 12. His team mate Kathy Kusner, 23, of Arlington, Va., is second with 10 points and West Germany's Herman Schridde is third with nine points.

Two Michigan horses won their classes Thursday—one of them in competition against a horse ridden by Mrs. Robert Kennedy.

METAMORA WINNER

Irish Bill, owned by Edgar R. Thom of Metamora, won a class for lightweight green conformation hunter.

Miss Kusner and U.S. team captain William Steinkraus, 29, of Noroton, Conn., tied Thursday night in the qualifying round for the Cup and won the People to People Sports Committee Trophy in the $1,000 Imperial prize event.

In a jump-off among 12 horses, they each had clean rides over 12 fences, timed in 40 seconds.

Wings' Firepower Halts Rangers

Detroit Gains in Race With 4-1 Victory

Gordie Howe Felled by Jacques Plante in Record Goal Bid

By JERE CRAIG

DETROIT—The Detroit Red Wings fired 52 shots at Jacques Plante of the New York Rangers Halloween night—enough to spook any masked marvel—but only four went into the net and none by Gordie Howe.

The four good shots by the Wings were enough for a 4-1 victory and third place in the National Hockey League standings; but they weren't enough to satisfy the 10,012 fans who witnessed the game.

Actually, the fans were content with the victory but not with the meager four chances Howe had since he did not break Maurice (Rocky) Richard's all-time regular season goal mark.

Now the Detroiters take to the road for games in Montreal and Boston this weekend.

Howe had two good shots on goal in the first period and one good and one weak chance in the second period last night.

FANS ROOTING

With the fans obviously pulling only for the record breaker in the last period after Detroit moved ahead 4-1, big No. 9 had one good chance. The puck was loose in the crease, Plante was off balance and Howe was in front of him.

But the puck was behind the star right winger and he never put a stick on it.

There were several good faces to the contest on the Wings' side. They skated well on offense and protected Terry Sawchuk well although he had to make 35 saves.

Howe, in fact, picked up an assist while covering up for his sprawling goal tender. The winger, too, was down on his side when he reached out with his stick to bat the puck to captain Alex Delvecchio in the left corner.

Delvecchio took off down the sideline and beat the Ranger goalie with a blizzy slapshot from the blue line. It made the score 3-1 at 2:39 of the third period and the home team was never in much trouble thereafter.

All three regular lines produced scores in the game for the Wings, a balance they have missed this season.

Billy McNeill, on in place of Bruce MacGregor, scored the first one in close order on the sprawling Plante. He tallied on a rebound off a shot by Larry Jeffrey.

Alex Faulkner also assisted on the play.

KNOT SCORE

The Rangers tied it when Andy Bathgate's slap shot from the right point fooled Sawchuk and sailed over the ducking netminder high into the net.

Camille Henry and Doug Harvey assisted at 7:36 of the second period with Faulkner in the penalty box.

Only 2:17 later Norm Ullman scored during a battle in front of the Rangers' net.

Lowell MacDonald and Bill Gadsby earned assists.

Delvecchio's goal began third period and at 5:51, Doug Barkley countered on a slap shot from the right point for a power play goal.

Marcel Pronovost and Delvecchio assisted. Vic Hadfield had elbowed Andre Pronovost to set up the power play.

Gadsby was the only visible casualty in the contest, requiring three stitches over his left eye after incurring a penalty by falling on the puck midway through the first stanza.

But he returned to play a strong defensive game, earn an assist and get one of the three game star nods. Ullman and Plante were also honored.

'Letdown' Key Word at Flint

"Letdown" may be key word for the Flint Central football team this week.

After the vital 25-16 victory over previously unbeaten Bay City Central last week, coach Bob Leach's team is the odds-on favorite to win the class A state championship.

Boasting a 6-0 record, Flint Central can walk off with one of prep sports most coveted titles by winning its final three games, starting with tonight's clash against Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Flint Central has rolled up 214 points in six games while holding its opponents to just 34 and 17 different players have broken into the scoring column.

Arthur Hill will be a big underdog but if Flint Central has a letdown and overlooks the lumberjacks after the big win over Bay City, it might be interesting.

Arthur Hill turned in a surprising 26-0 triumph over Midland last week but still only has a 3-4 record and isn't given much of a chance to stop the passing wizardry of Tiny Laster.

Local Skaters in World Meet

A 19-man team, including four of Pontiac's top skaters, will carry U.S. hopes in the World Invitational Roller Skating championships set for Nov. 6-7 at Las Vegas, Nev.

Joining the U.S. squad from Pontiac are Sue Welch, now Mrs. Charles Wahlig; David Schafer, Gerry McNeive and Cecilia Darimont.

The local foursome will leave Sunday for Las Vegas along with Dianne Hackett of Flint.

Mrs. Wahlig and Schafer, U.S. mixed pairs champions, will team up in the pairs competition Wednesday evening. Miss Darimont and McNeive will vie for honors in the free and compulsory dance events on Thursday.

Miss Hackett will take the floor Wednesday in the ladies' free skating competition.

The meet has attracted 50 of the world's top skaters, and it marks the first meeting of American champions and the European stars.

The Pontiac skaters have been in training at the Rolladun under the direction of Bert Anselmi, who left for Las Vegas Wednesday to assist officials in setting up the skating schedule. The two-day meet will be televised Dec. 14 on "Wide World of Sports."

STILL TRYING—Red Wing star Gordie Howe (9, right) tries and just misses a score against the New York Rangers in his attempt to break the all-time scoring record of 544 goals he matched last Sunday. Goalie is Jacques Plante of the Rangers with Alex Delvecchio (10) trying to help and New York's Al Langlois hindering the attempt. The Wings won, 4-1.

PNH Has Tough Tuneup Game

Huskies Face Wyandotte 11

Northern Has PCH as Final Fo

The final tuneup for Pontiac Northern's gridders before the traditional battle with Pontiac Central doesn't loom as an easy one.

The Huskies will tangle with Wyandotte's Roosevelt High School Saturday night at 8 p.m. under the Wisner Stadium lights.

The Wyandotte team has a 4-1-1 log and is champion of the tough Border Cities League.

The Bears' only loss was to non-league foe Trenton in the opening game; since then they have only been tied by a 7-7 Royal Oak Dondoro eleven, good.

PNH faces the prospect of having to defeat the favored Bears and Central—whom it has never beaten in football—to close with the school's best grid mark.

TOP MARKS

The 1961 Huskies were 6-3 under coach Ed Heikkinen; while this year they have won five of their first seven for newcomer Bob Dingman.

PNH tied with Berkley for second place in the Inter-Lakes League race. Northern has not been beaten at home or in a non-league game this season.

PNH is blessed with a big line and better than average backfield speed, but may find itself outweighed by the Wyandotte visitors who reportedly are a big team that likes to hit hard.

The Huskies must prime their defenses to stop both a good running game and adequate passing attack. The defense has not been the best in the last two games, yielding seven touchdowns.

Their offense appears to be back on the right track following the five-touchdown outburst against Farmington. That spurt equaled the total output in the preceding three games.

Hard-running fullback Steve Daniels produced two of the scores in the last game and has been the top runner for Dingman in recent weeks.

Don Weyer and Mike Samulow are capable halfbacks with the latter's speed making him a threat for the deep pass reception. Quarterback Jim Kimmel has also connected with both Tom Nichols and Dean Souden for key strike-punters this season.

Saturday night's clash will mark the first grid struggle between the Northern squad and Wyandotte's Roosevelt Bears.

Lions Return to Single QB System

SAN FRANCISCO—The Detroit Lions are back to the one quarterback system today for the first time since the days of Bobby Layne and the man in the saddle—Earl Morrall—wants to keep it that way.

Once the ugly duckling of the Lions' aerial corps, Morrall has had an up-and-down professional career. Considered a good relief man, Morrall never prospered in a starting role—until last Sunday.

With the Lions slumping

Wrestling at Keego Set Saturday Night

Wrestling will have a respite at the Pontiac Army this weekend, but the moaners and groaners of the mat will be featured at West-Bloomfield High School gym, Saturday night.

Sponsored by the Loufers Club of Keego Harbor for the benefit of Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, the feature will include The Great Mephisto against Leaping-Tarry Ceph.

Five other bouts are scheduled including tag team wrestlers and six man tag team.

It's title time on the prep grid front and three area elevens, without a league championship since 1955, will have an opportunity to pick up loop crowns in action tonight.

Bidding for titles after an eight-year drought are Clarkston, Birmingham Seaholm and New Haven.

The weatherman has promised clear skies, but near-freezing temperatures for tonight's grid card.

Clarkston will journey to Northville in search of the Wayne-Oakland crown. The two are tied for the lead with 5-1 marks, and coach Ralph Kenyon and the Wolves are favored to wear the crown on the return trip to Clarkston.

Roseville is the only stumbling block in Seaholm's quest for the Eastern Michigan crown.

The Maples are 5-0-1 in league competition and must win to gain the title. A loss would give Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball a shot at the title.

New Haven has shared the Southern Thumb championship for the past two seasons and the Rockets are anxious to reign alone this year.

To pick up the title, the Rockets (6-0) will have to turn back a high-scoring unit from Anchor Bay (5-1). A win for the Tars would give the team a share of the title.

Another title that will be put away tonight is the Oakland A crown which Fitzgerald can wear with a win over Warren Cousino.

West Bloomfield plays host to Bloomfield Hills in a seasonender and the Lakers can grab a share of second place in the

BASEMENT BATTLE

Pontiac Central's Chiefs will have a chance to move out of the Saginaw Valley Conference basement in a meeting with eight-place Flint Southwestern at 8 p.m. at Wisner Stadium.

Rochester entertains Troy in another Oakland A tilt and the Falcons can move to a third place in the league with a favorable decision.

Other O-A games have Clawson at Avondale and Madison at Lake Orion.

Inter-Lakes champion Walled Lake plays host to an old foe tonight—Plymouth—and a coach Dave Smith and the Vikings need a win to keep their unbeaten string intact.

Waterford's Skippers move to Lapeer for a non-conference battle with the Panthers.

In other games, Romeo entertains Lutheran East, Oxford travels to North Branch, Memphis is at Dryden, Almont at Capric, Genesee at Orionville, Brandon Lakesview at Utica, and Brother Rice at Detroit Catholic Central.

BIG GAINER—New Haven goes after the Southern Thumb championship tonight at Anchor Bay and one of the most versatile and best backs in lower Michigan is runner, passer, kicker, Dwight Lee who has 16 touchdowns and 12 extra points, and over 1,000 yards to his credit.

Major Hoople High on Big 10 Shakeup

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Expert on Interference

Egad, friends, we're headed for another exciting weekend of football.

The Big 10 standings are due for a shakeup as all 10 teams engage in intraleague warfare. Elsewhere, such traditional foes as Louisiana State and Mississippi, Missouri and Nebraska, and Florida and Auburn are scheduled to bump heads.

And a spanking new traditional battle gets its baptism by fire as the Air Force Academy and the Army meet for the first time on the football field.

The Air Force Falcons will be up for this one. In fact, they will be up in the air from the opening whistle on the good right arm of Perry Isaacson. Quarterback Isaacson is as fine a college passer as your humble correspondent has seen since he took time off to tutor Gus Dorais at Cedar Point one summer long ago.

You may remember what a memorable event followed that summer's instruction. With Dorais passing and Knute Rockne receiving, little-known Notre Dame routed the heavily favored Army eleven, 35-13—hark!

But back to the present! I predict the Falcons will soar to a 28-21 victory over the EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Wisconsin-Michigan State football battle here Saturday is a live-or-die issue to both teams in the dog-eat-dog Big Ten football race.

Michigan State, in a three-way tie for first place, is a surprise contender for the title. Wisconsin, the defending champ, is hurt and angry after an edging by Ohio State last week.

The fans and coaches along the Red Cedar river already are talking up the Rose Bowl since the Spartans jumped in the tie with Illinois and Ohio State for top honors.

The best advice is to wait and see what the Badgers do here Saturday.

Michigan State will match a splendid defense against an all-around Wisconsin offense.

The Spartans also have a one-man gang in little Sherm Lewis, the 152 pounds of determination who scored both touchdowns in the MSU win over Northwestern last week.

GANG UP

The MSU coaches know Wisconsin will be ganging up on Lewis using a rover defense man to try and catch him at every run. But the Spartans have several other agile backs including Dewey Lincoln, a track star who has been mostly assigned to blocking roles.

The Spartans also have their Hawaiian punch-210-pound full-back Roger Lopes, the top ground-gainer at 382 yards. Lopes, a husky Honolulu import, averages 5.2 yards a carry.

Lewis has 261 yards and also is the best receiver on the squad with 10 catches for 216 yards. Wisconsin has the best offense in the Big Ten.

Southpaw quarterback Harold

Brandt has a bevy of receivers and has hit them for 537 yards to date. Top rusher is Lou Holland with his 310 yards.

Grid Dreams Broken for U-M, Wildcats

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—It's been a season of broken dreams for the Northwestern and Michigan football teams this fall.

Northwestern was dreaming of riding the passing arm of Tom Myers all the way to Pasadena on New Year's day for the Rose Bowl.

But the 15-7 loss to Michigan State last week crushed the Wildcat Big Ten title hopes and doomed them to staying in Evanston this New Year's day.

The Michigan dreams were much more modest. After a 2-7 record last season, the Wolverines were hoping that they would be able to move back toward the respectability of a 500 record.

But after consecutive losses to Purdue and Minnesota, Michigan is in danger of posting a worse record than last year and the alumni are starting to clamor for Bump Elliott's job.

That's the background for the 36th meeting of the two clubs here Saturday which is expected to attract about 51,000 fans. And it's a key game for both Northwestern, which is 4-2 overall and 2-2 in the Big Ten and Michigan, which is 1-3-1 overall and 0-2-1 in the Big Ten.

PASSING KEY

"The key to this game is simple—can Michigan stop the passing of Myers?"

The passing of Navy's Roger Staubach and Purdue's Ron Di Gravo was the key factor in two of the Michigan defeats.

Staubach picked up 237 yards and while Di Gravo got 198 yards and a TD.

Even Southern Methodist's Dan Thomas picked up 213 yards while losing to Michigan 27-16. And Michigan State's Steve Judy, whose strong suit isn't passing, scored the only touchdown in the 7-7 tie through the air.

Since the Michigan offense has produced only 32 points in the last four games since running up those 27 points in the opener against SMU, the Michigan defense must contain the Northwestern air game to pull an upset.

Cadets in Chicago Soldiers Field.

My card for this Saturday includes not one but three starting players. In the East, it will be Syracuse over Pittsburgh. In the Midwest, Michigan State will take the measure of Wisconsin, 25-21. And down south, favored Auburn will fall before Florida, 19-16—hark!

Now go on with the forecast.

Browns Meet Eagles in 'Comeback' Game

By The Associated Press
Veteran Cleveland kicker Lou Groza trudged into the Browns' dressing room after last Sunday's 33-6 walloping by the New York Giants and said:

"Sometimes it does a team good to take a beating like that. We may come back stronger than ever and beat the daylight out of some teams."

The first to test the accuracy of Groza's statement will be the injury-riddled Philadelphia Eagles, who've found themselves locked in a revolving door by the National Football League schedule-makers.

The Eagles will be up against a conference leader for the third straight week—and their prospect for success will be no better this Sunday than it was the first two. They lost to the Browns 37-7, to Chicago 16-7 and now face a Cleveland team looking to hold onto its one-game Eastern Division lead.

LEADERS ON SPOT
Meanwhile, the defending league champion Green Bay Packers and the Bears, tied for the Western Conference lead with 6-1 records, tackle tough opponents. The Packers meet Pittsburgh at Milwaukee while Chicago is at Baltimore.

The Packers also will go with a reserve signal-caller, John Roach, who filled in ably for injured Bart Starr in a 34-20 victory over Baltimore last Sunday. Tight end Ron Kramer also may be out of action, but half-back Tom Moore is expected back.

NEED HELP
As quarterback insurance, the Packers acquired Zeke Bratkowski from Los Angeles this week. The big passing load in the game probably will be carried by Ed Brown, the Steelers quarterback who threw four TD passes against Dallas last week. Pittsburgh, 4-3-1, needs a victory to stay in the Eastern race.

Player Shares First in Aussie Open Golf

MELBOURNE, Australia — South Africa's Gary Player shared the lead in the Australian Open Golf Championship after the second round today.

Player, defending champion, returned a second successive four-under-par 70 on the tough 6,642-yard Royal Melbourne East course to join John Davis, young Sydney professional with a two-round total of 140. Davis had a 72 today.

Two shots back is another Sydney pro, Fred Ball, who had a 73 for a 142 followed by Bruce Devlin, 143 and Peter Thomson at 144.

The Eagles have had their own offensive problems. Starting quarterback Sonny Jurgensen has been sidelined with a shoulder injury, and sub King Hill suffered a mild concussion last week. That might leave the passing duties to Ralph Guglielmi, picked up from New York.

prep up the defense before the season started.

He gives stars which are worn on the players' helmets for individual tackles, intercepted passes and recovered fumbles.

"The boys like the idea," reported Laurent, "and I believe it has accounted for the number of passes we have intercepted."

Anchor Bay has picked off 13 opposition aeriels while compiling a 6-1 record.

"I think the stars have made them aware of their defensive play. They take more pride in playing defense," said the coach.

Top star getters are linebackers Al Godin (14) and Tom Stanek (13) and guard Dave Kronke (13).

Basketball rules meetings for coaches and officials in the Oakland County area will be Nov. 11 at Port Huron, Nov. 12 at Flint Central and Nov. 13 at Ferndale. All meetings start at 7:30 p.m.

Cranbrook's soccer team has a big game coming up Saturday in Buffalo. The Cranes (2-1) are tied for first place with Nichols (2-0) with four points.

A Cranbrook victory when the teams meet Saturday would assure the Cranes of at least a share of the Interstate Prep League title. Nichols will have one more game to play.

Now that the high school football season is drawing to a close, it's time to see how well the "experts" did picking the top teams in each league.

These pre-season prognostications appeared in 'The Press' annual football section printed Sept. 10.

Following is a rundown by leagues to date. The top two teams (or three in case of ties) are given with their preseason rating in parenthesis.

SAGINAW VALLEY — 1. Flint Central (4th), 2. Bay City Central (1st), INTER - LAKES — 1. Walled Lake (1st), 2. Pontiac Northern (2nd) and Berkley (last).

NORTHWEST CATHOLIC — 1. Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows (4th), 2. Royal Oak St. Mary (1st) and Detroit St. Agatha (last), WAYNE - OAKLAND — 1. Northville (5th) and Clarkston (2nd), 3. West Bloomfield (1st) and Milford (last).

TU - COUNTY — 1. Kettering (1st) and Oxford (last), 2. L'Anse Creuse (2nd).

OAKLAND A — 1. Fitzgerald (3rd), 2. Clawson (4th), EASTERN MICHIGAN — 1. Seesholtz (2nd), 2. Kimball (1st) and Ferndale (3rd).

SOUTHERN THUMB — 1. New Haven (1st), 2. Anchor Bay (3rd), SOUTH CENTRAL — 1. Dearbornville (2nd), 2. North Branch (1st), NORTHWEST SUBURBAN — 1. Groves (2nd), 2. Franklin (last).

The Tri-County, Inter - Lakes, Suburban and Catholic League seasons are complete.

The "experts" have surveyed the results of their analysis and are quite content to stand on their laurels (?). They take the play of such upstarts as Berkley, St. Agatha, Milford, Oxford and Franklin as something "to be expected."

STARS FOR STARS

Anchor Bay coach John Laurent, who is preparing the Tars for their invasion of New Haven Friday, added a little context to

Time Running Out in Bowlerama The ## BOWLING

A 289-243-675 performance by Leon Pincumb Monday in the Collier Lanes House League set a new season high for actual series.

His effort helped produce an eight-point sweep for Maguire Auto Service. Roark Mobil Service leads the league by four points, helped by 659 and 641 efforts this week by Fred Collier and Ed Martin, respectively. Bob Betson had a 246 game.

In the Rolling Pin League at Huron Bowl Tuesday afternoon, Jane Mazza rolled a 533 series. The Huron Theater team leads by one game.

Harold Jones's 217-542 and Clara Geck's 211-537 topped the Lake Oakland Heights Mixed League Monday night at 300 Bowl. The Pioneer League that night had a 203 by Ida-Hope and Marjorie Hopp hit 202-500.

Jeanne Douglass and Jeanne Fincannon had 201s in the Tri-All Girls League at "300" while Pam Terry converted the 6-10 split Monday.

The 300 Mixed League also saw a 6-1-10 conversion by Gary Collins, and Virginia Gok's 228 was a recent high mark.

School Mixed league reports Ronald Coleman has the season's high game and series marks with 214 and 524 totals.

In the West Bloomfield High School Mixed circuit there are 16 teams. A 196 is the top game to date.

At Birmingham Recreation Monday night Ethel Larson's 604 led the Women's Senior House League. Dick Crossman rolled 246-227-690 at Northwood Lanes last week.

At Fairgrounds Bowling, Beverly Kuschel hit 242-590, in the Thursday Nite Ladies League last week. The Monday Nite Mixed-Star Series.

Ethel Newcomb bowled 206-560 in the Thursday league and Chuck Heimke had 218-233-641 Monday.

The Wednesday night 300 Bowl Ladies Classic League had a 223-510 duo by Clare Olsen, while Margaret Demetrak had a 559 series and Dot Chambers had a 212 game to lead the Friday night Ladies All-Star Classic.

TEACHERS' LEAGUE

Among the Thursday night Pontiac Teachers' League members, Max Caldwell had a 500 series and Dave Craig, a 286 game. The twilight League had a 201 by Chuck Curry and Jim Lewis had two 200s en route to a 559.

Dave Lamson had 235 and Lee Farley 265 in the Double Trouble Mixed League last week. Fran Keller had a 508 series in the 300 Hops Cats loop; Vicki Lane rolled a 109 triplicate in the Royal Bowlettes and John Wallace picked up the 4-7-10 split in the Thursday Nite Mixed circuit.

FINER POINTS — At a recent tire convention in Denver, Colo., Fred Gauller (left) of Pontiac's Motor Mart store had a chance to chat with Don Carter about bowling. The conversation could prove beneficial since Gauller sponsors a team in the Ball 'n' Chain League at Auburn Lanes and now is "qualified" to coach the squad when it hits a slump.

Showdown Contests Set on 3 MIAA Gridirons

By The Associated Press

While one Michigan school, Michigan Tech, has already won a league championship, at least three others will be looking for a share of a football title Saturday.

All three are in the MIAA, which enters its last Saturday with Albion, Hope and Kalamazoo tied for first with 3-1 records. None of the three face each other, but all can expect tough games, especially Albion which is at Alma. The Scots are 2-2 and have a mathematical chance at a tie if they can get past Albion—and if Adrian upsets Kalamazoo and Olivet wins its first game at the expense of Hope.

The MIAA has had a three-way tie for the top only once before. That was in 1958 when Hillsdale, Hope and Albion shared the honors. Hillsdale has since departed from the league.

Michigan Tech, which captured the northern intercollegiate conference crown last Saturday, closes out its season with a game at home against Wisconsin-Milwaukee branch. Two other state schools also will be ringing down the curtain. Ferris State closes out against Ohio Northern in a night game at Big Rapids, while Northwood ends its successful season at Findlay, Ohio.

MAJORS

Three of the bigger schools will be playing on their home fields. Wisconsin is at Michigan in Big Ten games, State and Northwestern at Michigan in Big Ten games, while Western Michigan is host to Marshall in a Mid-American conference contest.

Detroit is at Houston. The Titans, held to a 14-14 tie by Dayton last week, will again be without the services of backs Bob Burdhardt and Gary Vischer and Tom Sledzacek. Dan Assenmacher, another back, is a questionable starter.

Three schools will be holding their annual festivities along with their afternoon games. In Detroit, Wayne State meets Thiel (Pa.), in a President's Athletic Conference game. Central Michigan is at Eastern Michigan and Eastern Illinois at Hillsdale in the others.

Northern Michigan, m-y-a move while, will be trying to improve its 2-1 record against unbeaten St. Norbert at West De Pere, Wis.

Shares Golf Lead

Double Eagle for Rookie

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—Bob Hiskey, a rookie professional who was born on a golf course, defied odds of 15 million-to-one with a double eagle Thursday and still wasn't happy.

"I thought I might shoot 60," the 21-year-old University of Houston graduate said after his 35-31-66 gave him the co-lead with veteran Dutch Harrison in the $25,000 Almaden Open as today's second round began.

Hiskey, from Pocatello, Idaho, was upset about three bogies on his final six holes. But the gallery, virtually none of whom saw the shot, was excited about the 195-yard iron shot Hiskey holed on the par five, 545-yard 13th hole.

12TH TOURNEY

The tall, slender youngster, playing in only his 12th pro tournament, played the back nine first at Almaden Golf and Country Club and blasted a 350-yard drive on the dog-leg 13th. His second shot, with a No. 2 iron, bounced once and rolled into the cup.

Gene Bone of Pontiac fired a 39-35-74 in his first round. Hiskey figured he might hit 60 when he stood seven under par after 11 holes, but then came the bogies. He played only seven of the 18 holes in par.

A check for $375 is the only money he's made officially despite a solid amateur background. Hiskey's literal birth golf came at Burley, Idaho, when he failed to give his mother sufficient notice of his impending arrival.

The double eagle was only the second of the year on the pro tour.

Harrison, 52, old enough to be Hiskey's father, didn't take a single bogey on the 7,045-yard, par, 36-36-72 course. The former San Francisco now playing out of St. Louis took only 29 putts and chipped accurately.

Saturday Qualifying Nears End

Those county residents who think there is a lot of time left to enter this year's Press Bowlerama should be forewarned that the Saturdays are running out.

True, the Sunday qualifying squads will run for four more weeks; but even that means only three more days at the favorite houses.

Tomorrow's squads at Airway Lanes, 300 Bowl, North Hill Lanes, Wonderland Lanes, Montclair Bowling Centre and Howe's Lanes will be the last Saturday sessions there.

Following Sunday's bowling at Maple Lanes, Collier's Lanes, Lakewood Lanes, West Side Lanes, Huron Bowl and Cooley Lanes, there will only be one more Saturday and one Sunday of qualifying at those establishments.

In fact, there will be no more Saturday qualifying after Nov. 9th.

Each of the 12 participating establishments have had one Saturday and one Sunday of qualifying on their five-date slates.

INCREASE

Increased entries at all houses are expected as the Indian summer weather apparently has been driven off by chilly fall days. But the 17 scores to date of 670 and above prove that it is not too soon to attempt qualifying for the Dec. 1st finals.

Included among those 17 are three 700s (a 736 by Don Krause), a 685 by Marvel Sot, and a 683 actual by Monroe Moore. Last year's champion, E. C. Richards, has a 647 to lead the bowling at 300 Bowl, scene of the finals.

Further competition in the new Mixed Doubles Actuals and the Travelling House Trophy team event is expected this weekend.

Bowlers may enter at any of the participating houses right up until squad time. All entrants are reminded to mark clearly on their first entry blank any partner in the doubles class or any house team they represent.

Anyone who anticipates trying to qualify this weekend is requested to notify the establishment of their choice in advance to facilitate the arranging of squads.

This does not require the payment of an entry fee or the turning in of an entry blank at the time of notification.

One-eighth of the total scores at each house will qualify for the handicap finals. Top prize is $700, and the guaranteed prizes range down to $150 for fifth place.

Entrants are requested to put their full mailing address on the blank to insure their receiving any winnings through the mail.

Birmingham Bowler Shows No Preference

Howard Felton doesn't show much preference when it comes to bowling in the Birmingham Recreation and Northwood Lanes league. Felton hit a 705 series (245-256) in the Northwest Senior House League last week, then came back with a 704 (253-229) in the BR Senior House League early this week.

The Press and county bowling proprietors who cooperate to run the Bowlerama each year agreed to a policy change this time that now threatens to backfire on them if some measure of cooperation is not forthcoming from the entrants.

In an effort to make things easier for the bowlers entering the qualifying competition, entries for the first time are being accepted on the day of the qualifying.

But a problem that threatens to get worse before it improves now confronts the administrators at each establishment. It is difficult to arrange for scorekeepers.

Unless each house knows approximately how many klegers are going to bowl in its squads (particularly the first one each day), it is very tough to have enough scorekeepers present for duty.

Neither the Press nor the proprietors want to deny the participants the privilege of entering on the day they bowl.

The request must be made, however, that those bowlers who feel they want to bowl a given day at a particular establishment advise the house or The Press sports section in advance whenever possible.

No entry blank nor money need be turned in until the bowler appears for his squad; but the prior notice would facilitate

Oxford Harriers Up Record to 6-1

Oxford's cross-country squad ran its season record to 6-1 with a 24-33 win over Waterford Township Thursday afternoon.

Waterford's John Meyer picked up individual honors for the Skippers with a winning time of 11:53, but the Wildcats grabbed five of the next six positions to seal the victory.

Pacing the Oxford team was Bill Benedict (2nd), followed by Richard Evans (4th), Jim Burr (5th), Tom Swett (6) and Rob Parent (7th).

Ron Potter ran third for the Skippers.

Tight Harrier Duel Now at State Level

Birmingham Seaholm and Milford carry their tight battle of the cross country course to Washington County Club at Ypsilanti tomorrow in the State Class A run.

The two finished one-two at Redford Union with the Maples taking first place by a slim 50-51 margin.

That was only the second defeat suffered by Milford all season as the perennial W-y-a-Oakland champions captured their fifth loop crown. Seaholm topped the Redskins in the Oakland County meet.

Seaholm, winners of nine of the last ten Eastern Michigan League titles, also reigned as league champion and will be favored to annex the state crown in the 11-30 a.m. race tomorrow LANEPS.

Carrying the Birmingham school's colors will be Jim Olson, Jamie Dennis, Pat Richardson, Bill Schoen and Bill Batchelor with coach Kermit Ambrose leaving his final two positions open at present.

Milford coach Lee Averill is pinning his hopes on Bill Nelson, Harold Fought, Ron Hardy, Don Boyd, Don Groomes, Tom the administrative details at each participating house.

TOURNEY TEAM
For the first time the United States will have a bowling team entered in the Federation Internationale des Quilleurs World Tournament.

There are a couple interesting sidelights to this development. The tournament is being staged in Mexico City starting Sunday, and is for "amateurs."

Of considerable interest will be the handling of the tournament by the Mexican officials, since Mexico City recently ousted Detroit, Buenos Aires and Lyon, France for the 1968 summer Olympic Games.

At least 15 nations (none Communist) are expected to participate in the week-long affair.

Plans call for the bowling journey to be divided between Mexico City and Cuernavaca, a nearby resort city.

A ruling change by the federation's governing body after last year's tournament permits the American Bowling Congress and the Women's International Bowling Congress to consider regular division competitors from their annual tournaments as "amateurs."

Thus, the members of Chicago's Old Fitzgerald squad that won the ABC regular division team title in Buffalo last winter now are in Mexico City.

With the big money that goes to the winners in both tournaments and the strict control placed on amateur athletes in the U.S., the rulings seem rather generous.

At least, the red-white-and-blue uniforms American will be treated as amateurs in the World meet. Only medals and trophies will be awarded the winners.

Needham and probably Bill Morrison. Only the first five finishers will count in the scoring.

The individual race will find Bloomfield Hills' Tom Richards a chief contender, with 1959 Lawrence of Pontiac Central and Girmay Pedla of Rochester also striving for a strong finish.

Royal Oak Kimball will, also, be competing in the Class A race.

The Class C-D finals are slated for 10:30 a.m., followed by the Class B at 10:50 a.m., the individuals' race at 11:10 a.m. and the "A" finals at 11:30 a.m.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The U.S. Auto Club cleared big car racing champion A. J. Foyt Thursday of charges that he slugged another driver.

Old Fighter Missed Opportunities

Socialist Saddened Over Italy's Future

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI-Foreign News Analyst

Pietro Nenni is a bald, hook-nosed man in spectacles who wears a worker's beret instead of the bourgeois hat.

More than 54 of his 72 years have been spent in the turbulent arena of Italian politics, most of them in opposition.

In his career, he has been a close friend and then bitter foe of Benito Mussolini, a member of three post-war governments under the late Alcide De Gasperi and then a leader of its opposition, an admirer of Josef Stalin and winner of the Stalin Peace Prize—an award which he returned in disillusionment after the Russians crushed the revolt in Hungary.

Last week, as Italy's socialist met to decide the terms upon which they would enter into a new center-left government and Nenni girded for what he believed would be his last battle, he looked sadly back upon his own and his party's history.

WASTED OPPORTUNITY

"If I had to say in one sentence what struck me most in my long life as a fighter and a militant," he told the party Congress, "I would say it is the drama of the wasted opportunities, of the things that could be done . . . and were not . . ."

Since Hungary, Nenni has sought to lead his party away from close ties with the Communists and toward collaboration with Italy's Christian Democrats, who, though fragmented, remain the country's largest political party.

This week was to be the climactic battle.

Nenni won it, but with a victory margin over his pro-Red opponents so narrow and so hedged about with conditions that Italy's future again is, in doubt.

The Socialists promised to refrain from attacks on Italy's ties with NATO, but attached other qualifications which the Christian Democrats would find hard to swallow. They included:

• Opposition to all forms of nuclear armament in Europe.

• A demand for a state-planned economy that would increase the real income of workers.

• Establishment of regional governments throughout Italy. The first would close the door to Italian participation in the U.S.-proposed multinational NATO navy armed with nuclear weapons.

The second arouses fear of a new wage-price inflationary spiral, increased nationalization of industry, reduced foreign investments and a flight of capital—the same elements blamed for Italy's current economic difficulties.

And the third could result in whole regions falling under control of a Communist-Socialist coalition, for the Socialists made no commitment against Communist support and retained their ties with the Communist-led General Confederation of Labor.

These are the conditions which the Christian Democrats are asked to swallow in return for Socialist help.

Together, the Socialists and the Christian Democrats could form a government.

For years, Italy has suffered from a series of a weak and short-lived coalition government. But the solution offered by the Socialists seems to make the cure more dangerous than the ailment.

To Be 'Piped Over the Side' Today

Korth Leaves Post as Navy Salutes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Navy Secretary Fred Korth, backed by praise from President Kennedy, was to be "piped over the side" by the Navy today with full honors at his last official appearance at the Pentagon.

The centuries-old Navy ceremony was to be conducted (4 p.m., Pontiac Time) at the Pentagon's main entrance with nine admirals and a general taking part.

Korth unexpectedly announced his resignation, effective today, shortly after Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara informed the Navy Oct. 11 that he had ruled against its bid for another nuclear-powered super-carrier.

Instead, McNamara ordered the Navy to proceed "forthwith" with construction of a conventionally powered super-carrier. In the background were congressional charges that Korth was, at the least, "indiscreet" in using official Navy stationery to conduct his personal business.

Many of the letters, which Korth made public, dealt with the affairs of Continental National Bank of Fort Worth, Tex. He was president of Continental until his appointment as Navy secretary nearly two years ago.

Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations, and Gen. David M. Shoup, commandant of the Marine Corps, were to escort Korth to the "piping" ceremony.

Eight flag officers, designated as "sideboys," were to stand, four on each side, on the steps of the Pentagon as the retiring secretary walked to his automobile.

Though Korth at one time planned to return to the Fort Worth bank, he now says he will remain in Washington for some time to consider other employment possibilities. He may practice law in Washington or New York.

A system for unloading moving ships, by helicopter has been developed by the Army.

SPCA's Still Using

That Greasy Pig Stuff

TULSA, Okla. (U)—One of the oddest drives made in Tulsa was the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals' collection of bacon grease.

With over 200 dogs to feed, the SPCA wanted the grease to mix with other dog foods. While collecting the grease, they also took any meat people had left in their deep freezers too long to be safe for human consumption.

Teachers Drive for Signatures

5,000 in Waterford
Sought on Tenure

Waterford Township teachers have launched a petition drive for 5,000 signatures in conjunction with the statewide Michigan Education Association (MEA) campaign for a change in the state teacher tenure act.

Members of the Waterford Education Association (WEA) will continue their campaign until Nov. 22.

Presently, 27.5 per cent of the state's teachers are protected by tenure.

OPTION BASIS

The MEA campaign is aimed at getting the State Legislature to change the tenure act from its present optional basis. The act now allows tenure but it is optional with individual school districts.

Tenure provides for a teacher probationary period of from 2 to 3 years. Within that time, local school officials can dismiss a teacher without following procedures established by the tenure act.

Teachers with tenure still can be dismissed, but only after given a 60-day notice, a written statement of the dismissal charges and a hearing.

Hospital Board Picks Area Lawyer

Attorney John B. Poole, 1820 Rathmore, Bloomfield Hills, was elected to the William Beaumont Hospital Corp. at its recent annual meeting.

Poole, member of a Detroit law firm, was the only new member added to the corporation of 30 members that controls the Royal Oak hospital.

Irving B. Babcock, 260 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, was named to the new position of chairman of the board of trustees. Arthur F. Bassett, 117 Sutherland, Birmingham, was elected president and becomes chief board executive officer.

Diem Ouster, Nhu Death Reported in Coup

MAKE OVER PAGES

TOKYO (AP)—A military revolt erupted in Saigon, South Viet Nam, against President Ngo Dinh Diem, and there was an unconfirmed report today that he has been ousted.

A U.S. military source in Tokyo said he had heard—but could not evaluate—a story that Diem was deposed and his adviser brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, killed by dissident South Vietnamese.

Heavy fighting was reported around Diem's yellow stucco palace. Marines in battle dress surrounded the police headquarters in Saigon and took over outlying police stations, apparently without resistance.

The fighting erupted at Saigon's luncheon and siesta hour. Half a dozen high-flying planes drew fire from antiaircraft batteries near navy headquarters and from troops in the streets, but there was no confirmation that any were hit. There was scattered firing throughout the city.

In Washington, President Kennedy summoned his top military and diplomatic advisers to the White House to assess the situation.

U.S. officials in Washington called it a coup of "real proportions" that appeared to be moving fairly far, though there still was no way of knowing whether it would be successful.

A qualified source said top military figures, though not necessarily all of them, headed the rebel movement.

CUT OFF

Most communications from Saigon to the outside world were cut off.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, representing a war ally of South Viet Nam critical of Diem's strong-arm actions against Buddhist and student opposition leaders, saw Diem shortly before the shooting started.

Lodge originally had planned to leave Saigon yesterday for consultations in Washington. He disclosed Wednesday he was postponing his departure until tomorrow.

Accompanying the ambassador to the talk with Diem was Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of U.S. Pacific forces, who was returning from a meeting of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

62 Dead, Hundreds Injured in Blast

JFK Says Troops to Stay in Germany

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
WASHINGTON — President Kennedy has given flat assurance that U.S. combat forces in Germany will remain there at present strength.

Moving to calm West German jitters caused by reports of a U.S. troop reduction, Kennedy told his news conference yesterday: "We intend to keep our combat forces in Germany as they are today; that is, more than six combat divisions."

Romney Sees Action on Tax

House Looks Certain, but Senate Unmoved

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has joined Republican legislative leaders in predicting House action next week on tax reform—but there were no apparent signs today of a thaw in the Senate's deep-freeze of the revised program.

Romney said yesterday he expects House Republicans to agree in their Monday night caucus to move the bills out of committee for debate and a possible vote before the end of the week.

The caucus roll-call promised by House Speaker Allison Green, R-Kingston, also will determine the extent of GOP support in the House for the revamped package of bills, he said.

Romney acknowledged that in the House where the GOP holds a 58-33 edge, some Democratic support will be needed to get a program, but he said it can be done with "only a fraction" of the Democrats.

Green has said at least 15 Democrats would be needed to get any program with an income tax through the House.

Whether the Democrats will take a caucus position and vote as a unit—for or against the program—hasn't been decided, House minority leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, said yesterday.

Bodies Of Victims Cover Ice After Tragic Explosion

AP Photo

Tragedy Ends Ice Program

INDIANAPOLIS — A gas explosion hurled flames and concrete slabs as large as pianos through a crowd watching an ice show finale last night, killing 62 and injuring 385.

Skaters were whirling into the grand finale of the opening night performance of "Holiday on Ice" when the explosions tore through the concrete floor beneath a section of $3.30-a-ticket box seats—the finest in the house. It was "Shrine Night" at the ice show.

Bodies were hurled 40 and 50 feet through the air onto the ice where chorus girls had pirouetted a moment before. Mink stoles lay among torn bodies, crumpled popcorn boxes and empty beer containers. In point of numbers killed it was the greatest tragedy in Indianapolis history.

Drugstore Explosion Kills Seven

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP)—An explosion ripped through a drugstore at the height of a downtown Halloween celebration last night, killing seven persons and injuring at least 25 others.

Firemen and civil defense workers worked through the night to clear debris in a search for other possible victims.

The front portion of the two-story, concrete structure threatened to collapse, hampering rescue operations.

NEAR ATLANTA

Marietta, with a population of near 40,000, is 18 miles north west of Atlanta.

Officials said the death toll could have been higher if the blast had come a few minutes earlier, when many children were in the vicinity for judging of their costumes.

Gov. Matthew Welsh and Coroner Dennis Nicholas promised an unstinting investigation into the cause of the blast is discovered. Welsh called it "a great tragedy" which "saddened the entire state."

Investigators indicated they already had plenty of clues.

The box seats, many of them occupied by prominent Indianapolis area residents, were directly above the concession area which is located in the basement of the barn-like State Fair Coliseum.

TANK TOPPLED

At least one coliseum worker said he saw a gas tank topple over there moments before the blast.

3 German Miners Brought Out Alive

PEINE, Germany (UPI)—Three men trapped more than a week in a flooded iron mine rode a steel capsule one at a time to the surface today.

Officials said they went directly into a decompression chamber on top of the mine to prevent them from getting a case of the "bends" following their long ordeal under high air pressure.

Rescue worker Paul Syka went down in the capsule first through a 262-foot escape shaft punched through to the miners by an American-made drill early today in a precision operation. He helped them into the 10-foot-long capsule and they rode to the surface one at a time.

Indonesia Charged With U.S. Aid Theft

WASHINGTON (AP)—An American aid technician who has worked in Indonesia for more than three years has written an angry four-page letter to several congressmen alleging details of corruption, theft and conversion of American supplies by Indonesian officials.

"I am getting very tired of working three months of the year paying taxes so that the U.S. government can support corrupt governments—dictatorships—and Communist nations," the letter said.

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Mich., said he would ask the House Foreign Affairs Committee, of which he is a member, to investigate the charges.

The congressman who furnished a copy of the letter to the Associated Press asked that the aid technician's name be withheld so there would be no possible reprisal against him.

The technician called for "complete removal of all the present top Indonesian government officials, from President Sukarno down to the lowest corrupt official."

Area Temperature to Tumble Down

As daylight dwindles today temperatures will start slipping down toward a freezing 30 degrees.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts partly cloudy tonight and tomorrow with the thermometer registering a high of near 50 tomorrow.

Sunday and Monday are expected to be fair and a little warmer, then cooler air will move in again Tuesday and Wednesday.

North to northwest winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour today and tonight will diminish a little Saturday.

The low recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 42. At 1 p.m., the reading was 45.

Detroit Slips in Population

Estimate Shows Gain in Five-County Area

DETROIT (AP)—The city of Detroit's population has declined by 50,144, while that of the five-county metropolitan area has grown by 140,280 since the 1960 census, the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission estimated today.

The loss would cut Detroit's population to 1,620,000 and the gain would increase the metropolitan area's to 1,770,000.

Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw counties make up the metropolitan area.

The commission estimated that as of last July 1 Macomb County had gained 67,196 since 1960, Oakland had increased 44,741; Washtenaw, 14,700; Monroe, 7,380 and Wayne, 5,703.

WARREN LEADS

The city of Warren led individual communities in gain, with 38,454, and now ranks second in the metropolitan area with a population estimated at 127,700.

Royal Oak, the commission says, has passed Pontiac in Oakland County, 85,000 to 83,600.

Livonia's gain was reported as 14,454, Nankin Township's 9,994; Ann Arbor's, 6,860; Southfield's, 6,569 and Bloomfield Township's, 5,070.

Top losses were reported for Royal Oak Township, 2,897; Highland Park, 1,363; Hamtramck, 1,137; Mount Clemens, 1,016 and Keego Harbor, 61.

Death Due to Injuries

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Mrs. Amelia M. Armstrong, 50, suffered fatal injuries on her way to work here today when she was thrown from her car after it skidded into a ditch.

DELIGHTED DEBBIE — It looks like the elementary age winner of the 1963 Halloween Mystery Treat Contest will have to grow into her prize: Deborah Cook, 5, of 230 Gage, tries her new bicycle on for size with a little help from Fred Dean of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Winning Call Was Almost Unanswered

A pretty, blue-eyed blonde, Deborah Cook, is the happiest 5-year-old in Pontiac today because her mother decided to answer the phone last night.

Debbie took top prize, a new bicycle, in the elementary classification in the Halloween Mystery Treat Contest.

The event was cosponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department, Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and Pontiac Board of Education.

When the phone rang at the Cook home at 230 Gage, Debbie's mother, Mrs. Curtis Cook, almost didn't answer.

SHE WAS TIRED

"I was tired and didn't feel like talking to anyone," she said, "but then I decided to pick it up anyway."

The call was for Debbie, a kindergarten pupil at Mark Twain School. She was home (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

MAKE OVER PAPER COUNSEL NIXES AREA BOOSTER

Industry Director 'Not Legally Justified'

Oakland County's plans to enter the stiff competition of attracting new industries to a particular area have dimmed considerably.

County Corporation Counsel Robert Allen yesterday voiced the legal opinion that there is no way for the county to justify its economic development program as proposed.

The program requires the hiring of a director to approach industries anywhere in the country that are contemplating an expansion move into new, as yet undecided, areas.

The director would be a high-class traveling salesman for the county, according to the program. Other areas already are actively engaged in this field.

There is no legal justification for the county to finance the expenses that would be incurred in such a program, said Allen.

In his opinion, the best the county could do is hire a director to mail out letters and brochures explaining the advantages of locating in Oakland County to industrial firms.

"The statutes don't allow paying travel expenses for such an individual," said Allen.

When reminded that Kent County has a director carrying out a program similar to that proposed here, Allen explained that this individual isn't being paid by Kent County.

Several Michigan cities, including Detroit, are also actively engaged in attracting new industries.

According to Allen, cities are not limited, as counties are, to carrying out only those duties allowed by Michigan statutes.

The county planning commission, as the proponent of the economic development program, is scheduled to consider the matter further at a meeting Nov. 13.

1,468 State Road Toll

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 1,468 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,343.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Clear to occasionally partly cloudy skies are expected over most of the country, with showers for the Pacific Northwest and from the Ohio valley to New England. A few showers are forecast also for portions of the Carolinas. A warmer trend is expected over the northern and central Rockies and Plateau as well as New England with warm readings in the extreme Southeast and Southwest. It will be generally cooler elsewhere.

Birmingham Area News

Adult Education Rolls Show 9 Per. Cent Rise

BIRMINGHAM — Fall enrollment in the continuing education program of the Birmingham Public School System marked a 9 per cent increase this year.

The total of 1,341 persons enrolled in 64 courses is 105 above last year's figure, according to Howard Malwitz, coordinator of the program.

New courses offered this fall include "Your Child and Reading," "Speculative Investments," "Drafting" and "Development of Western Culture."

The intermediate shorthand course is meeting two nights a week instead of one. A beginning sewing class is meeting once a week for three hours instead of two.

A former Birmingham mayor and past president of the county's Family Service agency has been elected to the 52-member board of the Family Service Association of America.

Carl F. Ingraham, a county supervisor, will help guide the association as a member of its board of directors.

Ingraham is a board member of the North Oakland planning division, United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

He also heads the legislative committee of the County Board of Supervisors and is a Birmingham City Commissioner.

I. Lee Truax, a pioneer businessman, will celebrate his 96th birthday anniversary Sunday.

Truax operated a hardware store on Woodward around the turn of the century. After living in Idaho for 18 years, he returned to Birmingham and maintained the business until

He is now living at the home of one of his three daughters, Mrs. Clyde Dalton, 11560 Highland View, Los Altos, Calif.

A councilman when Birmingham was a village, Truax has been a member of Birmingham Masonic Lodge No. 44 for 63 years. He is also a past patron of chapter No. 220, Order of the Eastern Star.

Democracy already have a plan worked out by their study committee, headed by McNeely, and approved by most local Democratic clubs. Republicans have five tentative plans drawn up by their research committee.

The Democratic plan has one Republican Senate district, one Democratic and one even. Its House districts split five and four in favor of the GOP.

But the GOP's plans for House districts have six Republicans to three Democrats. Both parties' plans have Pontiac and Royal Oak cities as complete districts.

The matter of legislative districts for next year's election is currently shrouded in confusion. Partisan disagreement could prevent the bipartisan appointment commission from drawing new districts on time for the August primary.

and that was all that was needed to make her the winner.

First prize in the older age groups (a wristwatch) went to Henry Russell, 13, of 496 Nevada, a seventh grader at Jefferson Junior High School, and Susan Forslund, 15, a 10th grade pupil at Pontiac Central High.

Ricky Cerna, 9, of 453 Brooks took the second-place prize, a radio, in the elementary group. Others taking second place were Linda Pickett, 14, of 133 W. Chicago, and William Millu, 15, of 1710 Lakeway.

They won pen and pencil sets.

Finishing third, with five silver dollars, were Clifford Thompson, 6, of 349 Howard McNeill, Cindy Beck, 13, of 2785 Genes, and Carol Rose, 16, of 946 Fourth.

In addition, each local elementary school had three winners who were home when contest officials called. There were 102 prizes awarded.

organization at Bangkok, Thailand.

NOT APPARENT — Exactly how the U.S.-backed armed forces were split was not immediately apparent, but South Korea's Embassy reported to Seoul that members of a marine division and some army troops fought off the uprising.

The Korean report said marines, in addition to occupying the police headquarters, took over the government radio station, navy headquarters and the international telephone office.

"Diem's ambassador-designate in Washington, Do Van Ly, expressed deep concern at reports of the revolt. He said the fighting, coming on top of government reverses afield in the past few days, might give the Communist guerrillas opportunity to build themselves up again in South Viet Nam."

Ly's predecessor, former Ambassador Tran Van Chung, departed in Boston, Mass., the reports came as no surprise to him.

LONG TIME — "I have known for a long time of the deep discontent of the whole population of Viet Nam," Chung said.

The former ambassador, a Confucianist, is the father of Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, Diem's sister-in-law and Viet Nam's first lady. She now is in Los Angeles at the windup of a tour of the United States to explain the government's religious crisis.

Condition Critical After Cars Collide

Bernard J. Boncher, 47, of 2349 Harvard, Berkley, is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with chest injuries suffered yesterday in an auto accident in Pontiac Township.

Boncher's car, traveling west on Auburn, and an east-bound car driven by Gerald Flowers, 35, of 8128 St. John, Utica, collided at the intersection of Auburn and Opdyke at 4:30 p.m.

Flowers told sheriff's deputies that the traffic signal turned yellow as his car entered the intersection. Boncher was unable to make a statement due to injuries.

Duchess of Windsor Pattern

#44

The Duchess recommends for winter dinners and winter parties, the subtle serenity of the easy-fit tunic. The look is almost daytime, but in velvet or brocade, you'll be transformed into midnight magic.

Other suggested fabrics are lame, faille, satin, lightweight woolsens, silk or rayon crepe. And for resorting, novelty cottons or linen. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size chart.

Garden Groups

Club Observes 10th Year

The Foxcroft Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, will observe its 10th anniversary which falls on Nov. 30, at Monday's meeting in the Franklin Community Church.

Mrs. Alice Wessels Burlingame, specialist in horticultural therapy, will speak on the success of the program in this area.

She will also tell of her European lecture tour this past summer at the invitation

CHARTER MEMBERS

Charter members, many of whom are still Foxcroft residents, will be honored. They include Mrs. James Bennett, Mrs. John S. Black Jr., Mrs. C. F. Buschagen, Mrs. Richard Carter, Mrs. Frederick E. Fleming, Mrs. Francis O. Gadd, Mrs. James A. Hall, Mrs. Robert J. Hickson and Mrs. Joseph S. Howell. Mrs.

Harold G. Haines is now of Youngtown, Ariz.

Social chairman of the branch, Mrs. Michael Johnson Jr., will be hostess for the day. Assisting will be Mrs. George S. Montooth, Mrs. William Jackson and Mrs. John H. Hohne. Mrs. Buschagen and Mrs. Howell will pour.

BLOOMFIELD HEIGHTS—1451

Members of the Bloomfield Heights Branch, WNF&G, showed colored slides of their garden beauty spots at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Colton Hutchins on Pine Tree Trail. Cohostesses were Mrs. Robert A. Winter and Mrs. Edward P. Barrett.

Mrs. R. E. Harris showed slides of area wild flowers taken by her daughter Mrs. Milbry Benedict of Ann Arbor.

Scrub Oriental Rugs Very Well

A real Oriental rug deserves the finest care you can give it — which means a good suds scrub! Spread the rug on a clean, hard surface — such as the patio or the garage floor — and hose it until thoroughly wet. Then scrub it with soap or detergent suds, hose again for rinsing, and allow several days for it to dry.

To Conserve Water Try This Gadget

If water conservation is a must in your household, consider investing in an inexpensive gadget called a shower water saver.

This permits turning the water off while sudsing up, then turning it on again for rinsing at the same temperature — without having to touch the hot or cold water faucets.

A cotton canopy gives this colonial bed new life. Red and blue plaid cotton is coordinated with a plain blue cotton. Created by David Eugene Bell, AID, for Manhattan's Skyview-on-the-Hudson, the room takes unity from the use of identical fabrics at the window and on the chairs. You can do the same thing in your home.

Two handsome cotton fabrics by Waverly are used in this window treatment. The almond color in the cotton cafe curtains and in the laminated shades is enhanced by complementary floor to ceiling draperies.

MINORU YAMASAKI

Yamasaki to Lecture at Oakland

Minoru Yamasaki, world renowned architect, will speak at Oakland University at 8 p.m. Monday in the Gold Room of the Oakland Center.

Mr. Yamasaki's lecture on architecture will be the third presentation in this fall's world report lecture series, sponsored by the Oakland University scholarship committee.

Theme of the series is "Contemporary Trends in the Arts."

A resident of Oakland County, Yamasaki has received honors and awards from organizations throughout the world.

Classic examples of his work in the Detroit area are the Reynolds Metals Company building, the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company building and the McGregor Memorial Community Conference Center at Wayne State University.

A limited number of individual tickets are available for this address. Requests should be directed to World Report, Oakland University, Rochester, Michigan.

From the Press BoxBY BRUNO KASARS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Ah, that lovely October that just went by, has spoiled everyone especially the golfers. Now they're asking November to be half as kind.

Ed Morey reported the biggest October golf business in his history at Morey's GC and is looking forward to a good "sweetest" field of golfers in November.

Other area courses are in mutual agreement about the October golf plan, but howling establishments have complained that the warm weather had lapsed attendance on the lanes.

BOWLERAMA INTEREST GROWS

Speaking of bowling, interest in the Press Bowlerama is getting keen for the final few weeks. The big Bowlerama shindig for presentation of prizes and checks is slated for the 300 Bowl Saturday night, December 7th.

The finals, of course in the Bowlerama handicap and Actual's invitational, are scheduled one week prior to this, Nov. 30 and December 1st.

DONDERO HEDGING

A recent newspaper story quoted Jim Manilla, Royal Oak athletic director, as saying "We're happy in the Border Cities League and don't intend to initiate a move out of it."

The key word seems to be initiate, because Manilla admits that if another school dropped out of the league first, it would fold.

The story in Royal Oak was written in regard to a possible new league setup with Dondero, Pontiac Central, Pontiac Northern, Kettering, Groves and Walled Lake, with a possibility of exchanging a couple teams with the new lower county class A league, starting next year.

Dondero's position in the Border Cities League, is like Pontiac Central's in the Saginaw Valley. No one really cares about the other teams in the respective leagues.

COACHES PROTEST

Several area football coaches have called this department in regard to the column two weeks ago declaring the Michigan High School Coaches Association to be in poor judgment for accepting the all-state team of one newspaper to be its "official" team.

"This is not the decision of the coaches," said one area member, "it stems from a select few coaches. No one ever took a poll of the coaches to see which all-state team should be recognized as official."

When we said that by doing this the coaches were giving their local newspapers a kick in the teeth, we did not refer to the individual coaches but to the association which is their representative body.

There are 34 newspapers in Michigan which print the Associated Press all-state team as the "Official" team, which we recognize as the best representative team.

AN INTERESTING NOTE

Three weeks ago Tobin Rote was called the "Player of the Week" in the American Football League. Two weeks ago John Hadl, runner and passer of the same San Diego team was named for the honor and last week Jack Kemp of the Buffalo Bills received the distinction.

All three were Lions' property, Hadl being the No. 1 instead.

Rote and Hadl are moving the Chargers to the AFL title this year and Rote is being compared to Y. A. Tittle by AFL people. They recall Rote leading the Lions to the NFL title in 1957 after defeating Tittle in the playoff with the 49ers and they also imply that with two years of "youth" over Tittle, Rote would be just as capable of bringing the Lions back as Y. A. did with the Giants.

2 Area Horses
Win at Show

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States jumping team, already ahead in the world, has a powerful entry in tonight's finals of the President's Cup, a feature event of the Washington International Horse Show.

The Americans so outnumber competitors from Argentina and West Germany that they seem assured of retaining the perpetual challenge cup, which they won last year.

With the six-day horse show moving into its fourth day, 29-year-old Frank Chopak of Wallpack, N.J., is leading point scorer among the international riders, with a tally of 12. His team mate Kathy Kusner, 23, of Arlington, Va., is second with 10 points and West Germany's Herman Schridde is third with nine.

Two Michigan horses won their classes Thursday — one of them in competition against a horse ridden by Mrs. Robert Kennedy.

The attorney general's wife rode in a greenworking hunter class, which was won by Boudie Fizz, owned by Miss Debbie Wilson of Bloomfield Hills.

METAMORPH WINNER
Irish Bred, owned by Edgar R. Thom of Metamora, won a class for lightweight green conformation hunters.

Miss Kusner and U.S. team captain William Steinkraus, 29, of Noroton, Conn., tied Thursday night in the qualifying round for the Cup and won the People to People Sports Committee Trophy in the $1,000 Imperial price event.

In a jump-off among 12 horses, they each had clean rides over 13 fences, timed in 40 seconds.

He entered the hospital after blacking out and suffering a head injury in a fall. Zale is 50 years old.

Later, with the attorney general watching, she led her hunt team over eight fences. Her black derby had bobbed off, but they placed fourth. The Tryon Hunt of Tryon, N.C. was first.

Mrs. Kennedy rode show president Charles A. Horak's placid hunter, Spanish Sea, in the walk, trot, canter of the afternoon hack class and got no ribbons. Her horse changed leads cantering in front of the judges and was marked down.

Wings' Firepower Halts Rangers

Detroit Gains in Race With 4-1 VictoryGordie Howe Foiled
by Jacques Plante
in Record Goal Bid

By JERE CRAIG

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings fired 52 shots at Jacques Plante of the New York Rangers Halloween night — enough to speak any masked marvel — but only four went into the net and none by Gordie Howe.

The four good shots by the Wings were enough for a 4-1 victory and third place in the National Hockey League standings; but they weren't enough to satisfy the 10,013 fans who witnessed the game.

Actually, the fans were content with the victory but not with the meager four changes Howe had since he did not break Maurice (Rocket) Richard's all-time regular season goal mark.

Now the Detroiters take to the road for games in Montreal and Boston this weekend.

Howe had two good shots on goal in the first period and one good and one weak chance in the second period last night.

FANS ROOTING
With the fans obviously pulling only for the record breaker in the last period after Detroit moved ahead 4-1, big No. 9 had one good chance. The puck was loose in the crease, Plante was off balance and Howe was in front of him.

But the puck was behind the star right winger and he never put a stick on it.

There were several good chances to the contest on the Wings' side. They skated well on offense and protected Terry Sawchuk well although he had to make 34 saves.

Howe, in fact, picked up an assist while covering up for his sprawling goal tender. The winger, too, was down on his side when he reached out with his stick to bat the puck to captain Alex Delvecchio in the left corner.

Delvecchio took off down the sideline and beat the Ranger goalie with a blazing slapshot from the blue line. It made the score 3-1 at 2:39 of the third period and the home team was never in much trouble thereafter.

All three regular lines produced scores in the game for the Wings, a balance they have missed this season.

Bruce McNell, on in place of Bruce McGregor, scored the first goal in close order on the sprawling Plante. He tallied on a rebound off a shot by Larry Jeffrey.

Alex Faulkner also assisted on the play.

KNOT SCORE
The Rangers tied it when Andy Bathgate's slap shot from the right point foiled Sawchuk and skidded over the ducking netminder high into the net.

Camille Henry and Doug Harvey assisted at 7:36 of the second period with Faulkner in the penalty box.

Only 2:17 later Norm Ullman scored during a battle in front of the Rangers' net. Lowell MacDonald and Bill Gadaby earned assists.

Delvecchio's goal began third period and at 5:51, Doug Barkley countered on a slap shot from the right point for a power play goal.

Marcel Pronovost and Delvecchio assisted. Vic Hadfield had allowed Andre Pronovost to set up the power play.

Gadaby was the only visible casualty in the contest, requiring three stitches over his left eye after incurring a penalty by falling on the puck midway through the first stanza.

But he returned to play a strong defensive game, earn an assist, and get one of the three game star nods. Ullman and Plante were also honored.

'Letdown' Key Word at Flint

"Letdown" may be key word for the Flint Central football team this week.

After the vital 25-18 victory over previously unbeaten Bay City Central last week, coach Bob Leach's team is the odds-on favorite to win the class A state championship.

Boasting a 6-0 record, Flint Central can walk off with one of prep sports most coveted titles by winning its final three games, starting with tonight's clash against Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Flint Central has rolled up 214 points in six games while holding its opponents to just 34 and 17 different players have broken into the scoring column.

Arthur Hill will be a big underdog but if Flint Central has a letdown and overlooks the lumberjacks after the big win over Bay City, it might be interesting.

Arthur Hill turned in a surprising 35-0 triumph over Midland last week but still only has a 3-4 record and isn't given much of a chance to stop the passing wizardry of Tiny Laster.

Local Skaters in World Meet

A 19-man team, including four of Pontiac's top skaters, will carry U.S. hopes in the World Invitational Roller Skating championships set for Nov. 6-7 at Las Vegas, Nev.

Joining the U.S. squad from Pontiac are Sue Welch, now Mrs. Charles Wahlig; David Schafer, Gerry McNeive and Cecette Darimont.

The local foursome will leave Sunday for Las Vegas along with Dianne Hackett of Flint.

Mrs. Wahlig and Schafer, U.S. mixed pairs champions, will team up in the pairs competition Wednesday evening.

Miss Darimont and McNeive

will vie for honors in the free and compulsory dance events on Thursday.

Miss Hackett will take the floor Wednesday in the ladies' free skating competition.

The meet has attracted 50 of the world's top skaters, and it marks the first meeting of American champions and the European stars.

The Pontiac skaters have been in training at the Rolladium under the direction of Bert Anselmi, who left for Las Vegas Wednesday to assist officials in setting up the skating schedule. The two-day meet will be televised Dec. 14 on "Wide World of Sports."

STILL TRYING—Red Wing star Gordie Howe (9, right) tries and just misses a score against the New York Rangers in his attempt to break the all-time scoring record of 544 goals he matched last Sunday. Goalie is Jacques Plante of the Rangers with Alex Delvecchio (10) trying to help and New York's Al Langlois hindering the attempt. The Wings won, 4-1.

Wyandotte 11Northern Has PCH
as Final FoeLoop Titles Beckon
Three Area Elevens

It's title-time on the prep grid front, and three area elevens without a league championship since 1955, will have an opportunity to pick up loop crowns in action tonight.

Bidding for titles after an eight-year drought are Clarkson, Birmingham Seaholm and New Haven.

The weatherman has promised clear skies, but near-freezing temperatures for tonight's grid card.

Clarkson will journey to Northville in search of the Wayne-Oakland crown. The two are tied for the lead with 5-1 marks, and coach Ralph Kenyon and the Wolves are favored to wear the crown on the return trip to Clarkson.

Roseville is the only stumbling block in Seaholm's quest for the Eastern Michigan crown.

The Maples are 5-0-1 in league competition and must win to gain the title. A loss would give Ferndale and Royal Oak Kimball a shot at the title.

New Haven has shared the Southern Thumb championship for the past two seasons and the Rockets are anxious to reign alone this year.

To pick up the title, the Rockets (6-0) will have to turn back a high-scoring unit from Anchor Bay (5-1). A win for the Tars would give the team a share of the title.

Another title that will be put away tonight is the Oakland A crown which Fitzgerald can wear with a win over Warren Cousino.

West Bloomfield plays host to Bloomfield Hills in a season-long battle for the title. The Tigers and the Lakers can grab a share of second place in the Wayne-Oakland loop with a decision over the Barons. Milford travels to Holly in an early W-O contest.

BASEMENT BATTLE

Pontiac Central's Chiefs will have a chance to move out of the Saginaw Valley Conference basement in a meeting with eight-place Flint-Southwestern at 8 p.m. at Winer Stadium.

Rochester enters Troy in another Oakland A tilt and the Falcons can move to a third place in the league with a favorable decision.

Other A-G games have Clawson at Avondale and Madison at Lake Orion.

Inter-Lakes champion Walled Lake plays host to an old foe tonight — Plymouth — and coach Dave Smith and the Vikings need a win to keep their unbeaten string intact.

Waterford's Skippers move to Lapeer for a non-conference battle with the Panthers.

In other games, Romeo entertains Lutheran East, Oxford travels to North Branch, Memphis is at Dryden, Almont at Capac, Genesee at Orionville, Brandon, Lakeview at Ulica and Brother Rice at Detroit Catholic Central.

PNH tied with Berkley for second place in the Inter-Lakes League race. Northern has not been beaten at home or in a non league game this season.

PNH is blessed with a big line and better than average backfield speed, but may find itself outwitted by the Wyandotte visitors who reportedly are a big team that likes to hit hard.

The Huskies must prime their defenses to stop both a good running game and adequate passing attack. The defense has not been the best in the last two games, yielding seven touchdowns.

Their offense appears to be back on the right track following the five-touchdown outburst against Farmington. That spurt equalled the total output in the preceding three games.

Hard-running fullback Steve Daniels produced two of the scores in the last game and has been the top runner for Dingman in recent weeks.

Don Weyer and Mike Samulow are capable halfbacks with the latter's speed making him a threat for the deep pass reception. Quarterback Jim Kimball has also connected with big ends Tom Nichols and Dean Souden for key six-pointers this season.

Saturday night's clash will mark the first grid struggle between the Northern squad and Wyandotte's Roosevelt Bears.

Lions Return to Single QB System

badly, coach George Wilson turned in desperation to Morrill, who had shared the job all season with Bill Plum, and he proved he can start fires as well as douse them.

Morrill threw three touchdown passes to lead the Lions to an urgently needed 23-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings. The veteran from Michigan State started the game and he was there at the finish — a sight Detroit fans had all but forgotten.

MORRILL'S JOB

Now, Wilson is finally convinced too many cooks ruin the stew. Plum is definitely out, Morrill in. "Earl earned the starting job," Wilson said yesterday. "I'm not going to change a thing."

Morrill, determined to keep the job, will try to guide the Lions past the San Francisco Forty-Niners here this Sunday.

They already hold a 23-3 victory over the Forty-Niners, who have beaten only one foe — surprisingly, the Chicago Bears — in seven games. Last week they returned to form and dropped a 28-21 decision to the lowly Rams.

The Lions, who are 3-4 in the National Football League's western division race, arrived in Palo Alto, their training site for the remainder of the week, late yesterday.

Morrill threw three touchdown passes to lead the Lions to an urgently needed 23-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings. The veteran from Michigan State started the game and he was there at the finish — a sight Detroit fans had all but forgotten.

Morrill, determined to keep the job, will try to guide the Lions past the San Francisco Forty-Niners here this Sunday.

They already hold a 23-3 victory over the Forty-Niners, who have beaten only one foe — surprisingly, the Chicago Bears — in seven games. Last week they returned to form and dropped a 28-21 decision to the lowly Rams.

The Lions, who are 3-4 in the National Football League's west-

Man Is Guilty in Boat Mishap

Hit Young Swimmer on Walters Lake

An Independence Township Justice Court jury yesterday found a Pontiac man guilty of driving his boat into a swimmer last July 10 on Walters Lake, causing critical injuries to Earl J. Brendle, 12, of 8809 Lakeview, Independence Township.

Warren Baker, 31, of 436 Boyd, will be sentenced Wednesday at 10 a.m. by Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp. The offense, reckless operation of a motorboat, is a misdemeanor.

The victim's left side and back were severely cut by the blades of the outboard motor and his left arm was nearly severed. The boy was swimming about 30 feet from a dock when he was struck.

The youth was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital after the accident and later transferred to Ford Hospital in Detroit where he spent 10 weeks.

State law forbids motorboats within 100 feet of a dock or swimming area unless they are traveling five miles per hour or less.

Key appointments within Ford Motor Co.'s labor relations staff have been given Manton M. Cummings, 753 Seaboard, Bloomfield Hills, and Donald E. Scriven, 466 Westwood, Farmington Hills, director of the labor relations administration.

Since 1959, was named director of the labor affairs office. He has served on all national council bargaining committees since 1945.

This new office has responsibility for all relationships with labor organizations representing Ford employees. Reporting to it will be the new department of union relations and labor affairs planning.

Scriven, former manager of the labor relations services department and a labor union member since 1946, will direct the hourly personnel office.

His new department will have compensation administration and planning.

Two members of the suggestions program staff of Pontiac Motor Division are attending the National Association of Suggestions Systems this week in Chicago.

They are Thomas C. Henson, 3880 Bald Mountain, Pontiac Township, and Floyd H. Sinkler, 6510 Irwindale, Woodward Township.

Recently named advertising director for Ward's Commercial Yearbook was Hyatt Eby, 986 W. Lincoln, Birmingham.

Eby, a Detroit advertising counselor, will be joined by his son, Hyatt Eby Jr., who will be advertising manager of the district section. The annual yearbook is a statistical review of the auto industry.

Edmund C. Risdon, operator of a real estate firm at 55 W. Maple, Birmingham, was recently accepted as a member of the Birmingham Board of Realtors.

Risdon, who lives at 1230 Northover, Bloomfield Township, is a past member of the North Woodward and Detroit real estate boards.

A cash dividend of 17 1/2 cents per share on class A common and common stock was voted last week by the board of directors of the Windelman Brothers Corp. The dividend is payable Nov. 20 to stockholders of record Nov. 5.

NEW YORK—Living costs are stuck on a plateau. Unfortunately for the consumer it's a record high one. And the prospects for change aren't impressive.

The consumer price index is 107.1 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This record was reached in July, held through August and September and apparently budget little if any in October.

The most optimistic note sounded so far is that there is little indication of a major upward move in the next few months at the consumer level despite a rash of price increases in some industrial materials and products.

The statisticians think consumer prices will react seasonally, or normally. By seasonally they mean the effects of weather on food prices. By normally they usually mean that some costs will go on rising a bit—the creeping inflation that for years kept the index always higher than a year ago.

For example, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that its food index in September was 0.6 per cent lower than in August because of seasonally lower prices for fresh fruits and vegetables. But the food index also was up 0.6 per cent from September 1962, largely because prices charged by restaurants have risen 1.9 per cent in the last year.

Some gasoline price wars and cuts in new auto prices also have dropped the transportation index 0.4 per cent in September from August, although it's still 0.1 per cent higher than the year before.

All other parts of the index rose, whether seasonally, or normally, or in belated reaction to price rises somewhere else along the line. Higher were the costs of housing, rents, apparel, medical care, personal care and reading and recreation.

The one-month advances were not large, but enough to offset the break the consumer got from the easing of food and transportation costs.

There's little that can be done about the weather. Hurricanes and tornadoes level sugar cane fields and damage fruit trees and vegetable crops. Droughts or floods cause havoc with food prices. But, overall, the government and the bad usually average out.

The United States has an ample or surplus food supply.

IN SERVICES
It's in the services that the consumer has been feeling most of the effect of creeping inflation. Medical costs are more than 2 per cent higher than a year ago. So are reading and recreation and a host of other services.

The statisticians think the big advances in service costs may be over, however—from now on any increases can be termed normal.

But government economists seem confident that recent industrial price increases, such as those in steel, are unlikely to do much to the cost of living.

Their argument is that while some wholesale prices have risen, others have slipped. The list as a whole has been remarkably stable for the last five years.

CAPACITY SURPLUS
And there is still a surplus of production capacity in many industries, meaning that competition will keep price rises in check.

Also, new equipment and plants have put many companies in position to cut production costs enough to absorb some of the recent material price boosts without passing them on to the consumer.

So it looks like more of the same—living costs may go on rising a bit, but if so the increases of one item or another can be labeled seasonal or normal.

Successful Investing

Q "About three years ago I bought 100 shares of Burroughs Corp. at 31 1/2. Whenever I mentioned it to my broker, he has always told me it's a good stock, and to hold."

A Burroughs has kept shrinking in price, while the market has been making new highs. Should I hold or sell?

T. D. Burroughs has been held back in price because its earnings have been restrained by heavy research, development, and marketing expenses—particularly in the field of electronic data processing.

There have been unconfirmed rumors that a turn-around is due here, but it has not yet showed up in earnings—which declined in 1962. In the first half of 1963, earnings were run down under year-earlier results.

I believe you have held Burroughs long enough. I suggest that you switch to a better acting issue, such as Interstate Department Stores.

Q "I have 67 shares of Republic National Life Insurance, Dallas, Texas; 137 shares of Republic Insurance of Dallas; 25 shares Allied Finance of the same city. I need high security and reasonably good income from my stocks. Would you advise selling any of these stocks in order to invest the money in other issues?"

Gains Mostly Fractional

Stock Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved generally higher in active trading early today.

Gains of key stocks were mainly fractional, some going to a point or more.

Steels, motors, chemicals, electrical equipments and rails showed a generally higher tone.

The market backdrop included an improved report on employment, a jump in manufacturers' new orders and another gain in auto output.

General Motors, whose directors report on dividend action Monday, opened unchanged at 87 1/2 on 11,500 shares and declined fractionally in later dealings.

International Nickel spiked 2 1/2 to 64 1/2 on an opener of 4,000 shares.

Yesterday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 8 to 281.5.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional gains were made by Data-Control Systems, Aerof-Germain, Fischer & Porter, Falcon Seaboard Drilling and Aurora Plastics.

Corporate bonds were irregularly higher.

Teachers Drive for Signatures

5,000 in Waterford Sought on Tenure

Waterford Township teachers have launched a petition drive for 5,000 signatures in conjunction with the statewide Michigan Education Association (MEA) campaign for a change in the state teacher tenure act.

Members of the Waterford Education Association (WEA) will continue their campaign until Nov. 22.

The statewide signature quota of MEA is 300,000 with 30,240 of these earmarked for Oakland County. Pontiac teachers are seeking 6,000 signatures.

Presently, 27.5 per cent of the state's teachers are protected by tenure.

OPTION BASIS

The MEA campaign is aimed at getting the State Legislature to change the tenure act from its present optional basis. The act now allows tenure but it is optional with individual school districts.

Tenure provides for a teacher probationary period of from 2 to 3 years. Within that time, local school officials can dismiss a teacher without following procedures established by the tenure act.

Teachers with tenure still can be dismissed, but only after given a 60-day notice, a written statement of the dismissal charges and a hearing.

Hospital Board Picks Area Lawyer

Attorney John B. Poole, 1820 Rathmore, Bloomfield Hills, was elected to the William Beaumont Hospital Corp. at its recent annual meeting.

Poole, member of a Detroit law firm, was the only new member added to the corporation of 39 members that controls the Royal Oak hospital.

Irving B. Babcock, 260 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, was named to the new position of chairman of the board of trustees. Arthur F. Bassett, 117 Sufield, Birmingham, was elected president and becomes chief board executive officer.

Other officers are Lawrence S. King, executive vice president and Thomas E. Wilson, William D. Downey, Franklin Fricker, Judge James S. Thornburn, Walter Gehrke and Theron Van Dusen, vice presidents.
