Th FBI Story—Reign of Terror

J. Edgar Hoover Gets First Call

By DON WHITEHEAD

It was 12:01 p.m., Sept. 16, 1920. A horse and buggy stopped in front of the U.S. Assay Office in lower New York, opposite the J. P. Morgan building.

The driver secured the reins and stepped down, walking away unnoticed. The street began to fill with secretaries, clerks and businessmen pouring from the centers of finance for their lunch hour.

It was the usual noontime scene on Wall Street, and no one seemed to see anything unusual about the object, hidden by a covering, carried in the wagon.

Then the object exploded. It was a bomb made of dynamite and cast-iron window weights. The metal rods were hurled like shrapnel through the narrow street.

Men and women were mowed down in bloody, screaming heaps; 30 were killed, 300 injured. The Houes of Morgan was damaged and one employe inside the building was killed.

The specter of terrorism was seen again in America.

Terrorism was not new in these trying times of adjustment after World War I.

Earlier, on a soft summer night the lights winked out one by one in the fashionable homes on Washington's R Street, NW. It was nearing midnight.

A car drove through the treelined streets and swung into a garage. Asst. Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt stepped out and entered his home.

Across the street, the new attorney-general, A. Mitchell Palmer, and his wife had switched off the lights in their first-floor library and had gone upstairs.

Then the Palmer house was shaken by a mighty explosion. The blast blew in the front of the house. Windows were blown out in the Roosevelt residence and the house next door was badly damaged.

In the wreckage were bits of the bodies and clothing of two men, apparently the dynamiters, destroyed by their own infernal machine. A fragment of one body fell on the Roosevelt doorstep.

The blast was echoed by eight other explosions that June night—in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, New York, Boston, Cleveland, Newtonville, Mass., and Paterson, N. J.

At the scene of almost every bombing police picked up handbills reading:

The powers that be make no secret of their will to stop here in America the worldwide spread

The Pontiac area today was swallowing Old Man winter's second dose—yesterday it was an extra-heavy portion of snow, now a season record blast of near zero temperatures.

Residents can look forward to no great relief over the weekend. Temperatures during the day will range around the 20-degree mark, but at night readings around 10 can be expected, the Weather Bureau reported.

Some light snow might arrive also.

At midnight last night, the mercury shivered down to a low of 7 degrees, a season low. This was mild compared to Joliet, Ill., near Chicago, which reported 14 degrees below zero, one of the country's lowest readings.

The eastern half of the nation was pulling out of the wake of heavy snowstorms but was being faced with the arctic air blasts also. The storms were blamed for at least 22 deaths, seven in Michigan, eight in Illinois, four in New York, and three in Massachusetts.

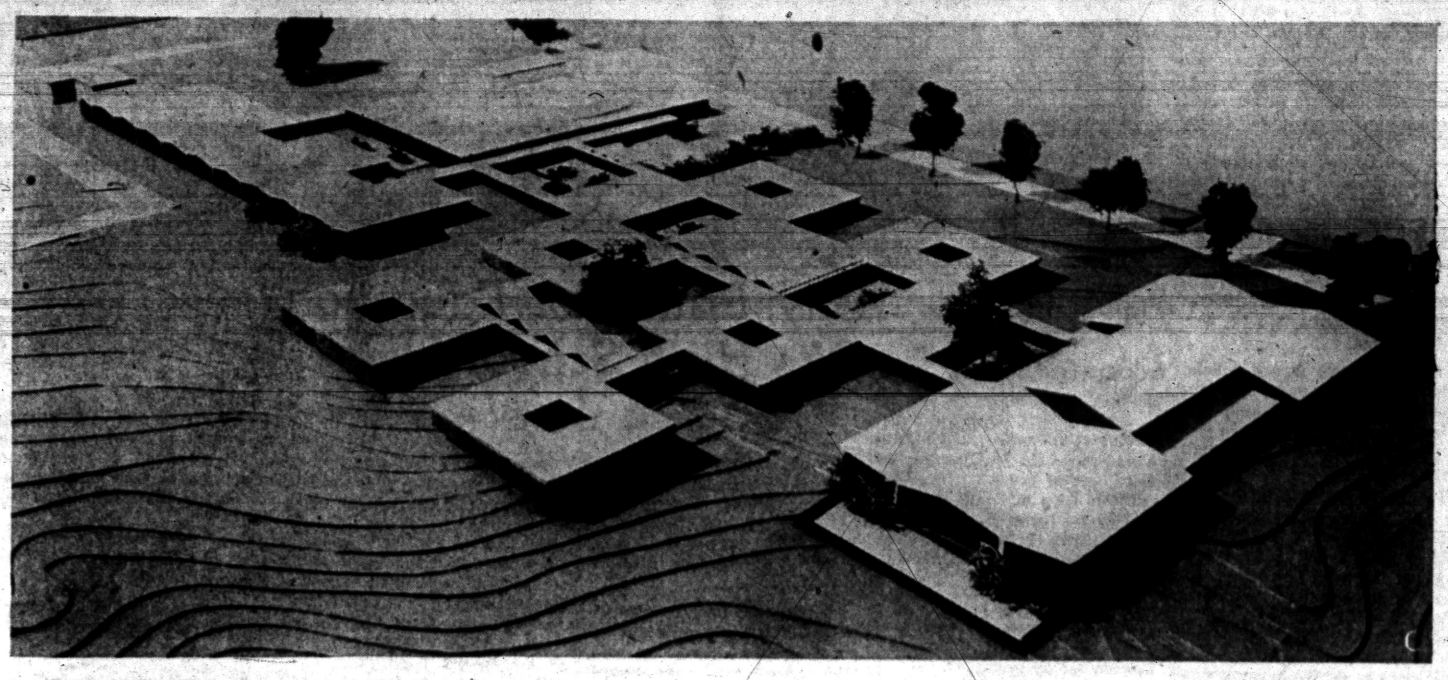

Joseph Jewell, superintendent of Pontiac's Department of Public Works, said city streets were generally cleared, but some slippery. "Were working now to haul the snow out of the downtown area," he said.

Major County roads were reported cleared but slippery. Several smaller arteries were still being plowed today, a road commission official said.

The five-day forecast shows that temperatures will average 4 to 6 degrees below normal.

Here's How Proposed New High School Will Look

NEW HIGH SCHOOL — This is how Pontiac's new northeast side high school will look eventually, as approved by the Board of Education last night. The $4,250,000 building for 1,600 pupils will be built along Arlene street (running from center right to upper left in picture), behind the present Madison Junior High School, with the first 1,000-pupil section to be ready by fall 1958. Classrooms are in the center, courtfilled section; gymnasiums, swimming pool and other sports facilities are at the right; and shops, music, auditorium and cafeteria are at the left. The board approved the model above and preliminary plans prepared by Eberle Smith Associates, Inc., Detroit.

$4¼ Million Tag Put on Structure of Novel Design

Inter-connecting Rooms Feature of Building Set for Use in Fall, '58

The Board of Education last night approved preliminary plans for the city's second senior high school, costing $4,250,000 and located in the northeast area.

It will be of novel design, according to plans, featuring low, inter-connecting classrooms and landscaped courts.

The first 1,000-pupil section, costing, $3,250,000, will be flanked at one end by gymnasium, swimming pool and a host of sports facilities.

At the other end will be auditoriums cafeteria, manual arts shops and a variety of music and special rooms.

Classroom additions costing $1,000,000 will bring the total capacity up to 1,600 pupils, giving the city adequate high school facilities for many years to come, the Board believes.

The building will be located along Arlene street next to the present Madison Junior High School. The first section is scheduled for opening in the fall of 1958 and the addition is contemplated within three or four years afterward.

Preliminary plans for the whole venture were approved as the climax to two and a half years of planning, Board president Louis F. Schimmel said.

"We're extremely proud how the new school has shaped up," he said. "It's going to be wonderful, I think — good for the school system, and especially for the students."

Trading Stamp Curb Is Urged in State Study

LANSING (AP) — Curbs of trading stamp companies are urged in a report to Gov. Williams by his small business advisory study commission.

Trading stamps were described in the report as a bane to the retailers who give them and the buyer who receives them.

"Housewives are as much victimized as are the merchants for they have been deluded into thinking they are getting something for nothing," the study group said.

The commission estimated cost of trading stamps at from two to 3½ per cent of dollar sales, a cost that must be absorbed by the business or passed along to the consumer.

May Annex 658 Acres

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The Clinton Township Board of Supervisors and the Mount Clemens City Commission have petitioned for the annexation of 658 acres of township farmland to the city of Mount Clemens. The petition is under study by the township attorney.

Three Injured, One Missing

13 Killed in 2 AF Crashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A U. S. B52 jet bomber and a B29 aerial tanker crashed last night, one in Canada and the other at its Texas base.

Thirteen airmen lost their lives. Thre are injured, and one is missing. One man parachuted to safety.

In Andover, N. B., a giant B52 Air Force jet bomber evploded in flight yesterday with a known loss of seven lives.

The bodies of six Air Force men were found immediately after the crash. The seventh body was found by searchers early today deep in the plane's wreckage.

One man is missing and the ninth man aboard the plane parachuted to safety and is reported in good condition at Loring Air Force Base, Limestone, Maine, the plane's home base.

Air Force officials said the bomber blew up while the pilot's vision was partially obstructed on purpose as part of a training test.

And in Austin, Tex., six crewmen died last night when a B29 aerial tanker crashed and burned while landing at nearby Bergstrom Air Force Base. Three others were injured, none seriously.

The plane crashed while nearing the ground after a refueling mission, hurling four crewmen out of the flaming wreckage.

Five men were killed instantly and a sixth died later in the base hospital. None of the victims was from Michigan.

In New Brunswick hundreds of heavily garbed men, including Air Force men, Royal Canadian Mounted Police and French — Cadian trappers and guides waded through snow-choked woods in bitter cold in search of the missing

Butler's Job Undecided

Macmillan Prepares to Reshuffle Cabinet

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan shaped plans today for a broad reshuffle of the shaken Conservative government he inherited from Sir Anthony Eden.

Macmillan was expected to announce his new government Sunday night or Monday. The Queen, who is at the royal country residence at Sandringham, Norfolk, will come up to London Sunday to receive Macmillan and look over the prospective cabinet list.

Near the top of Macmillan's agenda as he settled into his first full day in his new office was the question of a post for Richard A. Butler, his passed-over rival for Britain's highest political post.

Butler, leader of the House of Commons under Eden, was reported to be willing to serve Macmillan in a similar capacity. But Macmillan was said to be toying with the idea that Butler might be more usefully employed to succeed Selwyn Lloyd as foreign secretary.

Lloyd inevitably is associated with the disastrous consequences of the Egyptian military action launched by Eden and French Premier Mollet. It was not certain that Macmillan would decide to drop Lloyd, but his future at least was considered in doubt.

* * *

If Butler stays put as government leader in Commons, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd was tipped as a possible man for the Foreign Office.

SURE TO SERVE

Butler told a reporter he "will definitely serve in the new Cabinet, although the office I shall hold has not yet been decided."

* * *

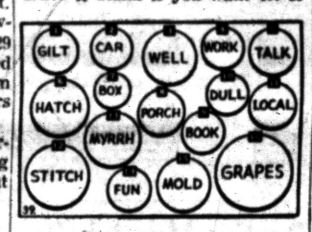

"In public life, one has to do one's duty," Butler added. "I would certainly not desert the ship at a time like this."

Butler's support is of crucial importance to Macmillan and the Conservative party.

$300 in the Pot! Don't Let Drifts Make You Late

From among 4,347 qualified entries, the judges found no winner for last week's puzzle, so you still have until Tuesday to send in your entry for Pot-O-Gold No. 32 in time to win the $300 in the pot.

Just remember that the twelfth answer will not be counted, so leave it blank if you want to. If you have all the other answers correct, you can win the money.

Just be sure to get your entries here on time. You don't want to be like 42 contestants this week who may have had the right solution, but failed to meet the deadline. To check the other rules, turn to the puzzle on page 22. Explanations for answers to last week's puzzle appear on page 18.

Presented to State Legislature

Bill Asks 5th County Judge

A bill to add a fifth judge to the Oakland County Circuit Court bench was presented to the Legislature yesterday by State Reps. Leslie H. Hudson of Pontiac, Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak, and Walter T. McMahon of Hazel Park.

The need for the additional judge, and a sixth within four years, has been expressed by County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Hudson outlined that the bill would be aired to the lawmakers for first and second readings when they reconvene after an 11-day recess Jan. 21. From there it would be referred to committee for further action, Hudson said.

If the bill is passed, the appointment would be made by Gov. Williams until the next general election scheduled for November 1958.

Hudson said he was "optimistic" of the bill's acceptance.

Allen and other officials have long urged the additions because of the county's increasing growth.

Seek Gambling Link to Detroit

See Numbers Racket as Padding Pockets of Out-of-City Men

Alleged Pontiac gambling is believed linked, at least in part, to big Detroit operators in the same way that Flint's is.

The lion's share of profits from a widespread and lucrative numbers racket, Vice Squad Lt. William F. Nesbitt said, would probably end up padding the pockets of a few top gamblers.

The extent of Detroit control "can only be guessed at," Nesbitt said. But police understand fairly well how the racket works and how the underworld chain passes on illegal profits.

The method is much the same, he said, as suspected in Flint, where a graft and gambling grand jury has been asked to investigate possible Detroit tie-ups.

A year ago, it was estimated 10,000 Pontiac residents spent $13,000 daily playing the numbers. Nesbitt could not say if these figures have changed.

About $9,000 was figured to be distributed to the gambling organization here. The rest went to Detroit.

"We're not positive, but I certainly believe the numbers are tied to Detroit," Nesbitt said. "It's certain that the profits go out of town eventually."

He said there is no evidence the Pontiac racket is directly connected with Flint's.

The Vice Squad, Nesbitt said, regularly makes arrests on the lowest levels of the numbers racket, faking in custody bettors and bookmakers. Occasionally there is an arrest of a writer with his collections and his book full of notations. But the higher ups in the racket have escaped prosecution, Nesbitt said.

An apathetic public is partially to blame, he said.

Warrant Sought on Holly Couple

Abandoned New Infant at Willow Run Airport, 'Thought It Dead'

A charge of child abandonment was pending today against a Holly couple accused of leaving their newborn baby in a wastepaper basket in the women's lounge at Willow Run airport Wednesday.

Ypsilanti State Police are seeking a warrant on the charge against Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Terryah, 5350 Groveland Rd., while continuing investigation of the incident.

Troopers are planning further questioning of the couple and another check of the room in which the baby was found while awaiting action from the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's office.

The mother, Patricia, 19, and the child are under treatment at Ypsilanti Beyer Memorial Hospital. Doctors say the infant has a good chance of surviving.

Her husband, Glenn, 24, has been held at the county jail since they were apprehended driving away from the airport less than 15 minutes after the baby was discovered by an attendant.

Mrs. Terryah told police she thought the baby was dead after giving birth unaided in the lounge. She said she had arrived by plane shortly before, following a trip which she falsely told her husband was made to see Arthur Godfrey who had promised them financial help.

In the Middle of a Muddle Are the British

LONDON (INS) — As Harold Macmillan began his new career today behind the well-worn, leather-covered Prime Minister's desk at No. 10 Downing St., a small crowd outside received a poignant reminder of Sir Anthony Eden's tenancy there.

Servants carried out several personal articles including Sir Anthony's favorite gray tweed topcoat and a parcel labeled "Lady Eden."

The articles were placed in an automobile to be taken to Chequers, the new residence where the former Prime Minister is waiting out the low ebb in his political fortunes.

LONDON (INS) — Mrs. Alice Klouda and Harold Macmillan got equal play in London pub conversations today.

Mrs. Klouda was driving her car in central London when it ran out of gasoline a mile from home. Lacking coupons to buy any more rationed petrol, Mrs. Klouda poured a bottle of whisky into the fuel tank and the car sped away leaving a trail of pungent fumes.

The London newspaper that vouched for the story quoted Mrs. Klouda as saying "it went like a bomb" — a Britishism somewhat like an American's "like a bat out of ——."

(Ed Note: Macmillan, the new Prime Minister, is the man the British expect to do something in a hurry about the situation that led to the crisis faced by Mrs. Klouda.)

LONDON (INS) — The staunchly Laborite London Daily Mirror doesn't like Harold Macmillan any better than it did Sir Anthony Eden when he was Conservative party chief and Her Majesty's First Minister.

The Mirror had this to say about the change in government leaders:

"Macmillan is the man who must now prune the roses, pull up the weeds and spread the manure in the Garden of Eden."

Too much water can be just as bad as too little for your grass crop. For best results, find out which forage crops are best suited to the moisture content of your land; then choose special grasses for the wet spots.

Lake Orion Remembers Martha

By PETE LOCHBILER

Lake Orion florists who delivered a wealth of flowers there remember easily where the grave is.

The village clerk can immediately finger the spot on the map of Eastlawn Cemetery, which lies just outside the village limits on Orion road.

Township police didn't ask any questions of the newspaper photographer who stood yesterday in a deep snow drift covering the cemetery's St. Joseph parish section.

Lake Orion hasn't forgotten the tragic death last summer of three-year-old Martha Little.

This week, the Lake Orion Lion's Club erected a white, marble monument over Martha's grave, nearly six months after her brutal slaying.

The monument represents the deep sympathies of hundreds of contributors, said James Sheldon, head of the club's Martha Little Memorial Fund.

The Lion's Club itself donated money for Martha's burial. It put on the long drive which netted the $385 that the monument cost, plus an additional $1,314 left over, Sheldon said.

The remaining money will be placed in escrow under trustees, he said, as a scholarship for Martha's oldest sister when she graduates from Lake Orion High School.

There was no ceremony Tuesday. "I was there and watched them set the monument up," Sheldon said. "It's a lovely thing. There's a plain stone with her name on it. Next to the stone there's the figure of an angel with a cross."

Martha's parents, Joseph and Helen Little, plan to visit the cemetery today to see the monument for the first time. "We've tried, but just can't thank everyone enough," Little said.

But he said he would ask the trustees to change the scholarship. "We've decided that something that would help the whole family would be best," he said, "so I'm going to ask them to let us use the money to help buy a new home. That was the original idea behind the fund, I think."

The Little's live at 66 Smith Ct. Besides Mary, 12, there are Margaret, 10; Raymond, 9; Richard, 7, and Robert, 11 months.

The tragedy occurred after dinnertime last July 27, when Martha was discovered missing from her sandbox. Her mutilated body was discovered next day in a field 11 miles from home.

The Little's nextdoor neighbor, Howard Wayne Moore, was convicted of her murder and began a life prison term last November.

Sheldon said thank you letters are being sent to those who contributed. The scholarship fund will contain what remains of the money after expenses for the letters and telephone calls are subtracted, he said.

Pontiac Man Admits 3 Area Breakins

A Pontiac man, who police say admitted he committed breakins at three area businesses this week because he "needed money for his family," was bound over to Circuit Court Thursday on a charge of breaking and entering in the nighttime.

James Andritsis, 24, of 293 Osmun St., father of two, was remanded to the county jail under $500 bond after waiving an examination at an arraignment before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green.

An investigation by Sheriff's deputies Paul Carpenter, Neil Blackmer and Charles G. Rahn led to his arrest by detectives. The deputies came upon the burglar attempting a fourth breakin and later traced him to his home despite a successful escape.

A total of $7 in cash, candy, gum, and oil reportedly made up Andritsis' loot from a gas station, fruit market, and laundry. He told detectives he lost the money while running from the scene when he saw a patrol car approaching the second gas station he was trying to enter.

Grace Baptist Church to Show Martyr Film

The Rev. Charles Whitfield of the Grace Baptist Church, 159 Brownell, Birmingham announces that there will be a showing of the color film "Martyred Men" on Sunday following a special musical program at 7 p.m. The picture concerns the five missionaries who were martyred in Ecuador last year.

Pontiac Deaths

Gilbert Lamont Lee

Gilbert Lamont Lee, 76, of 117 N. Johnson Ave. died yesterday morning at his home of a cerebral hemmorrage. He had been in ill health several years.

He was born in Romeo on June 26, 1880 to Henry L. and Charlotte Palmer Lee. In 1904, he married the former Delia Flint in Richmond.

Coming to Pontiac 46 years ago from Romeo, he was employed at Whitfield, Walter & Dawson for 28 years.

Mr. Lee was a member of All Saints Episcopal Church and a life member of Masonic Lodge No. 21.

Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, Arthur H. of Birmingham and Gilbert L. Lee Jr. of Ann Arbor; five grandchildren; one great - grandchild, a brother, Franklin Lee of Detroit; two sisters, Mrs. Emily Dodge of Plymouth and Mrs. Laura Kaiser of Lakeville.

Friends may call at the Huntoon Funeral Home until noon Saturday when Mr. Lee's body will be taken to All Saints Episcopal Church for service at 2 p.m. The Rev. C. George Widdifield, his rector, will officiate with burial following in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Jess Wallace

Word has been received of the death Tuesday of Mrs. Jess (Lillian A.) Wallace, 65, of 3353 SW 26th St., Miami, Fla.

A resident of Pontiac before moving to Miami 10 years ago, Mrs. Wallace is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Mamie Younger; a sister, Mrs. Lela Noelker, all of Miami; two brothers and two grandchildren.

Service was at 3 this afternoon in Lithgow Coral Way Chapel with burial in Miami Memorial Park.

$5,000 Burglary Case Still Puzzling Police

Waterford Township police still had little to go on today in a $5,000 burglary of an Elizabeth Lake road store believed to have occurred between Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

The money, which included $400 in change, was taken from a safe at Russ' Country Store, 4500 Elizabeth Lake Rd. The business is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jackson.

Mrs. Jackson discovered the burglary Thursday. Investigation by Township police disclosed the safe had been pried open with a chisel and file. Entry to the store was gained by smashing through the back door, according to Capt. Millard Pender.

City Board of Education OKs High School Plans

year, $21,000,000 building and rehabilitation program, the new high school is carefully tied to population estimates and the building needs of the entire school system, Schools' Superintendent Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said.

"It not only will relieve the tremendous overcrowding at the present senior high," he said, "but will take care of the needs of the mushrooming parts of our city for years to come."

The architects, Eberle Smith Associates, Inc. of Detroit, were authorized to prepare working plans to submit to contractors for bids.

Eberle Smith, president, and two aides presented the plans and scale models last night.

He said the building resulted from a long series of conferences with Pontiac teachers and school administrators. It's unique features are tied closely to school needs and to peculiarities of the site, he said.

APPEAR, LOW, LONG

As architects visualize it, the school will appear to the viewer as a long, long structure of light brick with an abundance of extra sized windows. Inner classroom corridors will look out through glass walls onto landscaped courts.

Related school subjects will be grouped in separate quadrangles, each with an inner court and partially separated from the rest of the school for privacy.

The school library will occupy the nerve center of the academic cluster of classrooms.

* * *

Tone of the new building will be set on entry from Arlene street, where the viewer will face a long glass wall and a wide inner court. To the left will be the classroom area. To the right will be facilities that also can be used for adult activities.

TWO AUDITORIUMS

The 1,000-seat auditorium and smaller 200-seat little theater will be there, along with the cafeteria, which often is used in connection with stage programs.

Students will find their music, speech, and radio studios there, handy to the auditorium.

Shops, with extra equipment to serve as vocational guidance classrooms for adults, will be in the same wing. As related subjects, homemaking, and fine arts classes will be held there.

* * *

At the other end of the building will be a full size gymnasium, with retractable seats for 2,000 spectators. A sliding center wall will provide two standard size gyms for boys and girls.

ENTER FROM HIGH LEVEL

The public will enter the gymnasium from an upper level to filter down evenly into the seats. This will help prevent the usual crowding at athletic events.

Opposite the gym will be the swimming pool, flanked by two handball courts and an archery-rifle range. Students will enter both pool and gym from a lower level where lockers, showers and other facilities are located.

The bi-level features are possible, Smith said, because this part of the site slopes downward. One two-level classroom quadrangle will be built to take advantage of the same slope.

Eventally, an auxiliary gymnasium will be built connecting the main gym and pool on the upper level.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, Assistant Superintendent of Schools in charge of business, who began planning the new school in the fall of 1954, said the cost of the first section is high because it includes almost all the special facilities.

"Eventually, the total cost will figure about $2,600-a-pupil for the completed building, which we consider very reasonable," he said.

* * *

There are 172,000 gross square feet in the initial section at a cost of $17 a square foot, he said, and 60,000 additional square feet in the contemplated additions.

In spite of the novel design, corridor space will be comparable if not actually less than in a traditional, multi-level building of equal size, he said.

Hufziger was authorized to study additional expenses for site development surrounding the new building.

Estimates furnished by the architects last night included such features as a driver training course, football field and running track, parking lots for 300 and 200 cars, and bleachers for 3,000 spectators.

The $4,250,000 price includes all site work, landscaping, walks and other development in the immediate high school area, plus much of the fixed equipment inside the building.

The present high school was built in 1914 for 2,100 pupils. There were 2,635 attending last semester.

Open House Saturday, Sunday

New Hospital Annex Ready

The new Pontiac General Hospital Annex will formally open its doors to the public tomorrow and Sunday.

Tours at 4 until 7 Saturday and 2 until 5 Sunday will be conducted through the hospital, the former Oakland County Contagious Hospital at 1075 N. Telegraph Rd., by members of the Women's Auxiliary.

* * *

On Monday, the first patients from the city hospital are expected to be transferred into the annex.

The city leased the new quarters to help relieve the cramped conditions at the West Huron building brought about by the construction of the new addition. When the old section was razed, the hospital lost the use of some 30 beds. Halls have had to be lined with beds made private by newly - installed curtains.

Eighty-five beds will be available at the annex, of which 25 will be allocated to contagious patients which, under the lease, the city staff agreed to care for. The city is paying $1,000 per month for the rental.

Harold B. Euler, member of the Board of Trustees and chairman of its public relations committee, stressed that the annex had been renovated in preparation for the influx of patients.

* * *

Euler, along with the rest of the members of the Board of Trustees, invited the public to the open house to inspect the changes.

The city will use the annex for patients past the acute nursing stage for 18 months or until the new wing is completed.

Renew Debate on Middle East

U.N. Committee, Kept From Hungary by Reds, Will Question Refugees

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A new round of debate on the explosive Middle East brewed today as the General Assembly launched another attempt to inquire into the causes and events of the Hungarian bloodbath.

The Assembly voted 59-8 over bitter Soviet bloc opposition to set up a watchdog committee to seek out the facts on the Hungary situation. The resolution, sparked by the United States, was sponsored by 24 nations.

* * *

Budapest radio said the committee composed of Australia, Ceylon, Denmark, Tunnisia and Uruguay—would be barred from Hungary, just as a previous fact-finding group named by the Assembly was. Instead, the new committee probably will interview refugees and other spurces in the United States, Austria, Italy and other European countries on this side of the Iron Curtain.

The Middle East dispute threatened to flare with new bitterness as leaders of the Arab-Asian bloc called a closed door conference to consider demanding immediate withdrawal of Israeli troops from Egypt.

crewman from the Canadian crash.

A spokesman said a team of Air Force flight safety experts from Norton AFB near San Bernardino, Calif., and officials of the Boeing Airplane Co. would take part in an investigation of the crash. Boeing builds the eight-million-dollar, swept-wing B52s.

In Washington, the Air Force said the pilot was undergoing a reflex test wherein the flyer's eyes are partly shielded and the plane put into an "unusual" position. The pilot then must right the craft.

The Washington spokesman said the plane apparently had been "placed in a position beyond its capability."

Airliner Sold for Junk

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The American Airlines Convair which crash-landed north of Tuisa Municipal Airport early Sunday, killing one person and injuring nine others, was sold for junk yesterday. American said it cost $750,000. Yesterday's sale price: $250.

Race Strife Halts Buses in Atlanta, Montgomery

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bus lines in two Southern capitals were shut down today because of violence in the racially tense South while Negro leaders from nine states continued a strategy meeting in Atlanta to map further moves for integrated bus seating.

Suspension of bus service in Montgomery forced thousands of white and Negro riders to seek other means of transportation in the Alabama capital. The City Commission ordered all bus service halted indefinitely after four Negro churches and homes of a white and a Negro minister were bombed.

Gov. James E. Folsom offered $2,000 reward for arrest and conviction of the bomb throwers and the Montgomery Advertiser said in an editorial:

"The issue now is no longer segregation on city buses . . . The issue now is whether it is safe to live in Montgomery, Ala."

Buses have been shot at six times since bus segregation was banned by Federal Court order Dec. 21 after a 381-day Negro boycott.

The editorial suggested that special police details be assigned to buses. "The prospect is that this violence will continue and swell in volume and daring unless there is decisive action. Sooner or later a stand will have to be taken and it will be easier now. Otherwise we face the prospect of retaliatory violence between groups."

At Tallahassee, Fla., Gov. Leroy Collins said he would order resumption of bus service there when he had determined that buses could operate in an atmosphere of "harmony, and peace and good will."

* * *

In Atlanta, more than 50 Negro leaders from Southern cities began the second day of a strategy meeting. A statement of decisions reached is expected tonight, at the end of the closed session.

At a mass meeting in the church last night plans were outlined for a drive to increase Atlanta Negro voter registration from the present 24,000 to 75,000. About 1,000 persons attended.

Novi Driver Killed in Livonia Collision

A Novi Township restaurant operator was killed yesterday when he collided with another car at a Livonia intersection.

George W. Leiter, 59, of 42050 Grand River, was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital following the accident at Seven Mile and Newburgh roads.

William D. Tippett, 40, of Livonia, driver of the other vehicle involved, told police the Leiter car rammed into him after running a stop sign. He was released after questioning.

B. F. Beach to Tour South American Farms

ADRIAN (AP) — B. F. Beach, president of the Michigan Producers Dairy Co., will undertake a four-week tour of South America next week on a government project to improve dairy production.

Beach is a former Pontiac resident, living here when he was secretary of the Michigan Milk Producers Association.

The Day in Birmingham

Cranbrook, Eton 'Good', Warns of Quarton Lake

BIRMINGHAM — Unless there is a drastic change in the weather, winter sports fans in Birmingham will not have to travel far this weekend. Wednesday night's snow storm and the ensuing sharp temperature drops have assured them of plenty of chances for outdoor exercises right at home.

Charles Gale city forester said tobogganing and skiing on the Cranbrook slope at 14 Mile was "pretty good." He said that markers had been placed showing people how to get there and what areas to use. The Eton artificial rink is in excellent condition.

Gale said the four outdoor rinks have been sprayed through the night and are in shape to offer excellent weekend skating.

"In regards to outdoor skating on natural ice, Gale said "we must again caution residents about the use of Quarton Lake. At this particular time," he said, "the lake may be perfectly safe. On the other hand, it may not." Gale said that unless a person had considerable knowledge of ice and its ways, Quarton always offers a certain threat.

The warm undercurrents will create thin ice in one spot while a few feet away it may be twelve inches thick. Since children do not have this knowledge we can only continue to ask parents to have their youngsters use the other rinks in the city.

Gale concluded by saying "slight temperature changes will also swiftly affect the ice at Quarton Lake. We are going to restudy the situation and see if some workable solution can be arrived at. It's awfully hard to keep youngsters off such a nice, big body of ice.

Map Substitute for Ike Proposal

Dem's Mideast Security Plan Would Not Grant Requested Troop Power

WASHINGTON (AP)— A Democratic move took shape today to offer a substitute Middle East resolution along lines suggested by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

* * *

It would involve a congressional declaration of American concern with Middle East security and stability. And it would pledge congressional readiness to take up presidential proposals for economic, political and military measures deemed necessary for the area. But it would not have force of law.

* * *

The proposed Democratic substitute would stop far short of granting President Eisenhower's request for advance authority to use American troops to block any open Communist aggression in the Middle East. Furthermore, it would not authorize special military and economic aid to strengthen Middle East nations against communism. These too are sought by Eisenhower.

Remand Man to Jail as Robbery Suspect

Andrew Thompson, 34, no known address, was bound over to Circuit Court Thursday as the alleged fourth member of a gang which staged an armed robbery at the Fox & Hounds Inn in Bloomfield Hills in November, 1953.

* * *

Three other men are currently serving prison terms for the holdup in which they netted about $4,500.

Thompson was remanded to the county jail under $10,000 bond yesterday following an arraignment before Justice Alva J. Richardson of Bloomfield Hills. He will appear in Circuit Court Monday.

Bloomfield Reports Good Traffic Record

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Police here reported a total of only 141 accidents during 1956, with but one fatality. The mishap which claimed the life of 16 year old Roy Dominic Blasiola happened on Dec. 27, on Woodward avenue, a short distance from the youth's Trowbridge road home.

* * *

A police department spokesman said this morning. "With the thousands of cars that travel through here during the course of the year, that seems like a very splendid tribute to the drivers. The police would like it better if the total were even lower, but we feel this is something of an outstanding record."

Macomb Men Stand Indicted

Graft, Election Fraud Charged Against Two, Plus Perjury Count

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — The first indictments were returned yesterday in the seven-week investigation of graft and election fraud in Macomb County.

Named in the indictments were Louis A. Kelsey, 42, mayor pro tem of the new city of Warren, and Paul Puzzuoli, 49, former trustee of the township from which the city was incorporated.

Lengthy warrants accused both of lying when they denied under oath having solicited or accepted bribes.

They stood mute when arraigned on the perjury charges in justice court. Both were released under bond for examination later this month.

Conviction carries a maximum sentence of 15 years in prison.

Circuit Judge Timothy Quinn of Caro, Macomb County's one-man grand puror, accused Kelsey and Puzzuoli of lying in four separate appearances before him. He said at issue were "favorable votes" cast by the two men while they were members of the old township's board of trustees in 1955 and 1956. The votes were in connection with the rezoning of land developments and issuance of building permits, Judge Quinn said.

Kelsey, indicted on six counts, was accused of testifying falsely about alleged solicitation of at least $1,700 and the alleged acceptance of $700. Puzzuoli, facing four counts, is similarly accused in amounts involving $1,000 and $700.

Township Jaycees Pick 'Man of the Year'

Bosses' Night in Waterford

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its number-one party of the year—"Bosses' Night," at 7 p.m. Monday at the Golden Drumstick, in Drayton Plains.

Forty JC's will be hosts to their bosses' and their wives at a dinner and W. C. Robertson has lined up entertainment featuring a General Motors Review of Progress in the scientific and engineering fields.

Highlighting the evening's festivities, will be the announcement of Waterford Township's most outstanding "Man of the Year."

Nomination ballots have been distibuted throughout the township since mid-September and "picking a winner" will be quite a problem, according to president John Chase. The candidate is chosen according to his significant contributions made to Waterford Township during 1956.

* * *

Judges for selecting the township's most outstanding man are: Supt. of Schools William Shunck; Police Chief Frank Van Atta, Rev. W. J. Teeuwissen, Erwin Greer and Carlos Richardson.

Tom Belton, director of the Recreation department was Waterford Township's Man of the Year, last year.

The concluding feature of the evening, will be the reception of new members into the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Tax Guide to Help Out Small Business Firms

Small business firms, wishing to get up-to-date answers on tax problems, can now buy a simplified tax guide compiled especially for the small business firm.

The new booklet explains in simple language how to handle tax problems found in any small business venture, F. W. Pritchard, regional director of the Small Business Administration for this area, said today.

The guide may be seen at his office, 211 W. Congress, Detroit, or may be purchased from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D.C. or the Department of Commerce, Federal Building in Detroit, Pritchard said.

Kefauver Knows What Campaign Was for—Now

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defeated vice presidential candidate Estes Kefauver and other Democratic senators have received what they regarded as unearned invitations to President Eisenhower's inauguration.

Attached to the elaborately embossed invitations sent out by Robert V. Fleming, chairman of the inaugural committee, was the following note:

"This honorary invitation to the inaugural ceremonies comes to you in appreciation of your efforts in the campaign to re-elect President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon."

Kefauver said: "Golly, I don't think that's what we were doing, but maybe that's what it was."

Hit at Drunk Driving in Muskegon County

MUSKEGON (AP) — Alcohol mixed with gasoline contributed to 50 per cent of Muskegon county's 36 auto fatalities in 1956, according to figures released by the Muskegon County Crusade for Safety.

The annual analysis of traffic statistics is part of the Crusade program.

County Safety Director Louis Miesch reported on the analysis yesterday to the Crusade's executive committee. He said drunk drivers were involved in 18 fatal crashes in the county last year.

Excessive speed was termed a "definite factor" in 22 of the county's 36 traffic fatalities.

Test Missile to Arrive

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—The second test missile in the Earth Satellite Project will arrive at the Cape Canaveral launching site on the Florida East Coast next week. Thomas W. Green, chief civilian safety officer, said he doubts if the time of the satellite launching will be announced in advance.

Prison Sentence Issued in Fatal Beating of Son

LANSING (AP) — Kinney Tamaribuchi, 28-year-old Japanese-Hawaian student found guilty of manslaughter in the fatal father's day beating of his seven-year-old son, was sentenced to 12 to 15 years in prison today.

Judge Marvin J. Salmon, who heard the case without a jury, imposed the sentence in circuit court. "I see no justification for showing you mercy," the judge commented.

Tamaribuchi, from Waimea, Kavai, Hawaii, was a freshman agriculture student at Michigan State University.

Labor Columnist Finds Britons Thawing Out

Victor Riesel Becomes the Toast of London

By LEE CARSON

LONDON (INS) — Victor Riesel, blinded labor columnist, found himself the other day the most sought-after man in all England.

* * *

From the moment he arrived with a planeload of American businessmen and writers, the English public and press dogged his footsteps, insisted on shaking his hand, asked his opinion on everything from the Middle Eastern crisis to the price of pigs. If America ever had a hero and goodwill ambassador over here, it is Victor.

Within minutes of his arrival at London Airport accompanied and guided by Arnold Forster, long-time friend and founder of the Anti - Defamation League, the British press and crowds of people swallowed him. Only the polite but firm intervention of Forster sprung him in time to catch the bus into London.

The lobby of the Hotel Westbury thereupon became populated by newsmen, Laborites, television producers and members of Parliament "just waiting to have a word with Mr. Riesel."

* * *

The British Broadcasting Company put him on television three times, on the radio five and clamored for more. Victor easily equalled, if he did not top, Marilyn Monroe in drawing power. No one was more startled by this turn of events than Riesel.

MILDLY HORRIFIED

"I can't figure it out how and why would they know who I am or be interested? . . ."

* * *

A friendly, modest and convivial man, Victor was mildly horrified by the official attention. British labor leaders he could understand. They "just might" want to talk about unions in America. But the striped pants coterie alarmed him.

"Good lord, I'm no diplomat or government representative—and the things they ask!" he said in a puzzled way.

He was even more puzzled by the coveys of adult bobbie-soxers who sprang up wherever he went.

"It just doesn't seem likely. I don't get it."

* * *

Victor was also surprised and pleased by both the relaxing of the traditional English reserve and their very real interest in America and Americans.

OUT OF SHELLS

"Somewhere along the line — maybe it's young Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh—these people have come out of their shells—they are even chatty with absolute strangers like me," he remarked.

* * *

"They also seem to have unfrozen somewhat—I can tell by their voices—the formal manners remain but the condescension and aloofness have gone."

The typical and long-standing American idea of an Englishman, a cross between Colonel Blimp and the impeccable Eden, is due for an overhaul, Riesel said. The stuffing is out of the shirt and beneath it is a human being recognizable as such on Main street.

Fading fast is the era of gentry versus Cockney.

"Their guilds—the equivalent of our labor unions—are growing in strength and influence," he noted. "The gap between the working man and the so-called English gentleman is closing rapidly.

"There are some die-hards, of course, but I definitely sense a new attitude. The average working stiff here is getting a better break on wages, living standards and self-determination."

* * *

As one of America's leading experts on labor—in whose behalf he lost his eyesight—Victor Riesel, toast of Londontown, spoke with authority.

Singer's Wife to Fly West for Divorce

NEW YORK (AP) — Ballad singer Harry Belfonte's wife said that she will fly to Las Vegas, Nev., Saturday to start divorce proceedings.

"We have reached a very satisfactory property settlement," she said at her home in East Elmhurst, N. Y.

She said the grounds probably will be incompatability. They were married nine years ago.

A representative of Belafonte said the singer will not contest the divorce. Mrs. Belfonte, a model and a graduate child psychologist, will keep custody of the couple's two children, Adrienne, 7, and Shari, 2.

Scotsmen Prufurr Scotch — Even American Scotch

By ALVIN SPIVAK

WASHINGTON (INS) — Government experts, after Extensive study, have come up with the reason why people in Scotland would rather drink Scotch than American whisky.

They like it better. That's why.

This is explained in a "report on distilled spirits (whisky)" which the U. S. Tariff Commission has just sent to Congress, under express orders from the Senate.

The report says "It is expected that reports to the United Kingdom will increase" now that the UK has lifted a ceiling which used to allow less than $2,000 worth of American whisky to flow into the British Isles each year.

Under the "British token import plan" which restricted the inflow prior to last November, only a "negligible" amount of American distillations could go to the United Kingdom, so quantities are bound to rise, the report says.

But it adds: "It must be observed, however, that comparatively few people in the British Isles have developed a taste for American whisky."

PASSED RESOLUTION

Senators passed a resolution last year, calling for the report, on grounds it was unfair for the United Kingdom to bar American booze when so much Scotch and Irish whisky is consumed here.

The report notes that since 1947 imports of whisky into the U. S. have doubled, and the greatest part of this is Scotch.

These doubled imports, according to the report are among an average 145 million proof gallons of liquor of all kinds which Americans consume annually.

Since 1948, when production controls were lifted completely for the first time since prohibition ended in 1933, the amount distilled in the U. S. has ranged from 90 to 138 million proof gallons a year.

The tariff commission advised Congress that this has been turned out in 90 distilleries, with 95 per cent of domestic production in the states of Kentucky, Indiana, Illinois, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Won't Consider Cashing Check for Cash Refund

Jaycees Salute a Civic Leader

Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night honored James F. Nye as the "Outstanding Young Man of Pontiac in 1956."

The Press joins the Jaycees in saluting this civic-minded young businessman. Their choice for the annual award could not have been better.

★ ★ ★

Nye is a graduate of Culver Military Academy, of Michigan State University, and served our Nation as a paratrooper in World War II.

NYE

He is immediate past president of the Pontiac Kiwanis Club and worked the past year as chairman of the club's committee to aid underprivileged children. He is a vestryman at All Saints Episcopal Church; vice president and a director of the Boys' Club; was chairman of the Commercial Division for the past year's United Fund Drive (his division went over the top); was chairman of last year's B-I-E Day; is a former director of the Junior Chamber.

★ ★ ★

He is married and the father of two daughters and a son.

He is manager and partner in the Nye Dairy, one of the city's progressive locally-owned business firms.

At age 36, he can be proud of a highly creditable record in civic, business and personal life.

He is typical of a generation of civic-minded, capable young men who are assuming leadership in our community. For such young leaders the city can be grateful.

Australia Welcomes Tide of Immigration

Immigrants from many lands are pouring into Australia — more than 1,000,000 since the end of World War II.

This means that one out of every nine persons in that country's 9,428,000 population is a postwar immigrant. The government is asking an increased quota to boost the population above 28,000,000.

Australia is about the size of the United States. Yet it has only one-eighteenth as many inhabitants. Even if the government's goal is reached, the Land Down Under will be anything but crowded.

Eagerness for new settlers is caused by the need to develop natural resources says U.S. News & World Report, and the effects of immigration are quite apparent. Among the newscomers are thousands of skilled workers and highly educated professional men.

Once an agricultural country exporting wool and foodstuffs and importing manufacturerd goods, Australia now is producing 1,910,000 tons of pig iron and 2,339,000 tons of ingot steel a year, more than double the 1945 production.

Since 1946 the national income has risen 190 per cent and real income has increased an estimated 44 per cent. Even larger gains are the result of Australia's plowing back into production 28 per cent of its national income, one of the highest investment rates in the world.

Its biggest single industrial firm, General Motors-Holden, produced 70,000 cars in 1956. Of its 3,000 workers, 2,500 are immigrants. Oil refineries, aluminum and copper smelting plants are expanding rapidly.

H. E. Holt, Australia's Minister of Immigration, in speaking of the newcomers said that "immigrants have already made spectacular contributions to industry, to our work force, to improvement of our age structure and in so doing, to our defense potential."

★ ★ ★

New Australians are bitterly anti-Communist. Many of them are Iron Curtain refugees. When they are granted citizenship they usually vote conservatively in their unions and national politics. This most certainly will have a stabilizing and salutary effect on politics in that country.

Little by little the problem of what to do about, with, for or to teenagers is being solved. A New Orleans mother of three teen-age girls makes the last girl who returns home Saturday night prepare Sunday breakfast for the entire family.

David Lawrence Asks:

Economic Collapse Imminent?

WASHINGTON — Is an economic collapse coming in America? Is it a matter of a few months or a year or two? Are there already some signs of the crisis?

These questions are asked because of the very pointed statements made in the State-of-the-Union Message to Congress by President Eisenhower concerning the effects of the wage-price spiral now moving slowly but surely toward some kind of economic climax.

Buyers of all kinds of goods have been worried about the absence of any brakes on wages and prices. The two big economic forces — management and labor — have had the field all to themselves and no restraints have been applied by government.

Hence President Eisenhower has made an appeal for self-restraint. He uses the word "discipline" and means, of course, self-discipline. For the government is not prepared as yet to apply any restrictive measures against the organized greed that is gradually depreciating the purchasing power of the American dollar.

In many respects, Mr. Eisenhower's message on this phase of the economic outlook is the most important and the strongest that has been delivered since the depression days of the 1930's, when appeals were constantly made for voluntary action to help stabilize the economy.

The President sees a peril in terms also of the national defense. He says that "Any program that endangers our economy could defeat us." But the passage that needs to be read over and over again by the American people and especially by the managers of business and labor unions is as follows:

U.S. INTEREST FIRST

"The national interest must take precedence over temporary advantages which may be secured by particular groups at the expense of all the people.

"In this regard I urge leaders in business and in labor to think well on their responsibility to all the American people. With all elements of our society, they owe the nation a vigilant guard against the inflationary tendencies that are always at work in a dynamic economy operating at today's high levels. They can powerfully help counteract or accentuate such tendencies by their wage and price policies.

* * *

"Business in its pricing policies should avoid unnecessary price increases especially at a time like the present when demand in so many areas presses hard on short supplies. Of course, a reasonable profit is essential to the new investments that provide more jobs in an expanding economy.

But business leaders must, in the national interest, studiously avoid those price rises that are possible only because of vital or unusual needs of the whole nation.

"If our economy is to remain healthy, increases in wages and other labor benefits negotiated by labor and management must be reasonably related to improvements in productivity. Such increases are beneficial, for they provide wage earners with greater purchasing power. Except where necessary to correct obvious injustices, wage increases that outrun productivity, however, are an inflationary factor.

They make for higher prices for the public generally and impose a particular hardship not only on the active workman but on those whose welfare depends on the purchasing power of retirement income and savings. Wage negotiations should also take cognizance of the right of the public generally to share in the benefits of improvements in technology.

"Freedom has been defined as the opportunity for self-discipline. This definition has a special application to the areas of wage and price policy in a free economy. Should we persistently fail to discipline ourselves, eventually there will be increasing pressure on government to redress the failure.

By that process freedom will step by step disappear. No subject on the domestic scene should more attract the concern of the friends of American working men and women and of free business enterprise than the forces, latent and active, that threaten a steady depreciation of the value of our money."

* * *

This is the first time in a long while that an American President so pointedly has called on management and labor to consider the importance of the entire national economy — the public interest — above their own group interests. It is an appeal to the good sense as well as self-interest of those who today wield tremendous power in the economic arena.

If the appeal isn't heeded and an emergency develops, restriction by government order on prices as well as on wages will become inevitable. This means controls such as America in wartime and Britain, even since the war, have had to impose to avert national disaster.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Don't Vegetate and Vibrate Rid Yourself of Tremors

A doctor's mother sent me a testimonial which, I'm afraid did not exactly please her son. At any rate he didn't deign to express himself one way or the other. Some doctors are like that — I'm a stinker as portrayed in the editorial columns of the American Medical Associations medical and health magazines and that's the clue for all trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers — the businessmen of American medicine.

* * *

Wrote the doctor's mother:

"Three years ago I wrote you about the unsteadiness of my hands which shook so . . . Through my son, Dr. ——, you suggested (I ventured to write to the doctor giving details of the use of hyoscine and parathyroid) which I took for several months. My hands ceased to trouble me. My body seemed renewed in strength. I felt very well, almost young again. (The lady was about 80)

* * *

Last spring I visited ——, and the altitude affected me. I was ill for several weeks, lost strength and the trembling returned. I resumed the treatment for two months. Now once more I feel quite well, take care of my own home, go to whatever is going on. My friends call it a miracle. I'm 83 now . . ."

(Signed)

Don't ask the lady's name or her son's name. Don't ask me to tell any doctor anything. All I have to tell is in the pamphlet Parkinson's Disease, available on written request if you provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

From the lady's letter it might seem that her activity or busyness is the consequence of relief of the unsteadiness or trembling of her hands.

* * *

Maybe so, but on the other hand, as everyone with Parkinson's tremor (shaking palsy, paralysis agitans) should know, doing something, activity, playing a musical instrument, knitting, carpentering, shuffling cards, darning socks, embroidering, taking a walk, singing, doing regular calisthenic exercises, dancing, washing, ironing, cleaning and driving the car, in short any kind of physical activity or busy-ness tends to prevent rigidity.

Just sitting there vegetating, is the worst thing that can happen to anyone with Parkinson's tremor.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady; if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

What a marvelous impression the Department of Parks and Recreation offered to the people of Pontiac with their first program of the Burning of the Greens.

To listen to the young man explain the 12th day of Christmas and to see the young ladies carrying their symbol of Christmas to the fire for burning, really impressed upon the mind what Christmas really means, to see these symbols go up in smoke certainly made me feel I'd never want to complain how much extra time it takes from regular duties to participate in all one can do toward making Christmas a very merry holiday.

Please continue this 12th day of Christmas program next year, and people of Pontiac, offer your greens and attendance to something so impressive.

Urges Abolishing Required English

I wonder who determines the required curriculum for junior and senior high schools. Some colleges have done away with requiring English. I would like to see some of the local schools do the same thing and include it as a voluntary language course only. Perhaps it would be better to have a required course, especially in high school, called American Language, reading, writing and speaking it.

Red Explanation of Revolt Strays Far From Facts

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Hungarians inside and outside the country find grim amusement in attempts by Moscow and its Budapest puppets to explain the origin of the revolt.

* * *

The Kremlin and other Communists accuse Western "imperialists" of organizing the revolt. Yet the truth is many Hungarian refugees bitterly accused the Western powers of failing to help them make a success of their own spontaneous revolution against the Reds.

The Communists are finding their usual scapegoats, including men in their own ranks, in trying to explain the revolt.

For instance, Moscow-installed Hungarian Communist Premier Janos Kadar says that "the treason of the Imre Nagy government had paved the way for a counter-revolution . . ."

* * *

"Treason" in the Communist book means that Nagy, himself a Communist, was ripe for liquidation because he asked that Russia pull its troops out of Hungary and allow free elections.

OUSTED, ABDUCTED

The Russians, knowing that free elections spelled the doom of the Reds in Hungary, quickly kicked out Nagy and later abducted him.

* * *

It is known that a main cause of the Hungarian uprising was the ruthless policy of Matyas Rakosi and Erno Gero, the Moscow-trained Hungarian Communist Party secretaries. If the freedom fighters ever had caught them, they would have been executed quickly.

B. Ponomarev, Soviet head of the International Department of the Russian Communist Party's Central Committee, also blamed Rakosi and Gero in a recent article in Pravda.

He said they failed to heed the legitimate aspirations of the Hungarian peoples and therefore committed "serious mistakes."

* * *

But Ponomarev puts a strange interpretation on the behavior of the golden-toothed Rakosi and Gero.

He accuses them of making a very serious mistake in failing to obtain in advance "the information about the intentions of the counter-revolutionary forces and about their preparation to attack the people's Democratic order."

SIMPLY NOT THERE

Since it is clear, even to Communists outside the Soviet orbit, that the revolution was not premeditated, Rakosi and Gero are being charged with failing to see developments that simply were not there.

* * *

Ponomarev needed that particular argument to bolster his case that the Hungarian revolt was inspired and organized from abroad, that some 11,000 anti-Communist men rushed into Hungary from Austria to participate in the revolt.

It is doubtful that anyone other than the blindest Communists, inside and outside the Iron Curtain, will swallow Ponomarev's story.

By JAMES J. METCALFE

Can you define the word "success?" . . . What does it really mean? . . . A millionaire? A soldier brave . . . Upon the battle scene? . . . A statesman in the limelight of . . . Renowned publicity? . . . Or someone out of college with . . . A wonderful degree? . . . Yes, all of these could mean success . . . And yet perhaps not one . . . According to each character . . . And what is really done . . . Success is not achievement as . . . It merely brings you fame . . . But as your true unselfishness . . . Deserves that wide acclaim . . . As you have served your fellowman . . . And brought him happiness . . . So only do you now deserve . . . The title of success.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Gives Remedy for Enuresis

Ronnie is literally in a severe emotional crisis. But millions of school children are in the same boat, all because they are still slaves to a nuisance infantile habit. Send this case record to any family you know where a child is suffering like Ronnie.. Face such bugaboos and abolish them. "The truth shall make you free," Jesus said, so use it to free your children from humiliation and pain.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-371: Ronnie J., aged 13, is in a very miserable plight.

"Dr. Crane, Ronnie still is a victim of enuresis," his worried mother began.

* * *

"And he is panicky because his Scout Troop has been invited to appear in a parade at the State Capital.

"That means Ronnie will have to spend the night away from home. So he is petrified with fear lest he have an accident.

"Yet he can't very well get out of the ceremony for his pals depend on him.

"He is almost sick with fear and uncertainty. What can you suggest to aid Ronnie? The parade is not for six weeks yet."

BED-WETTING

Bed-wetting is a common experience of new babies. But by the age of three years, the great majority have been broken of this nuisance habit.

However, some 20 per cent still are victims of enuresis. And some of these 20 per cent may continue even into high school and college.

In fact, hundreds of men were discharged from military service in the past war because of bed-wetting!

And don't act so flippant or caustic in criticizing the bed-wetter, for it is just as hard to break that habit as for many of you corpulent mothers to break your own bad habit of over-eating at the dinner table.

And you dads who are still slaves to the nuisance habit of using tobacco or liquor, should recognize how difficult it is to break any well entrenched habit.

Bed-wetting like that of Ronnie usually has nothing to do with medical problems though it used to be called a sign of "weak kidneys". Actually there is nothing wrong with the kidneys as a usual thing.

ENURESIS EXPOSED

Enuresis develops exactly like the similar habit of many adults who ignore the ringing of their alarm clock.

Many a man will swear that his alarm clock never went off, yet his wife heard it plainly.

* * *

Such a husband has simply learned the bad habit of ignoring the signals on his ear drums of the ding-a-ling sound.

The bed-wetter has likewise learned that bad habit of ignoring the painful sensations that bombard his brain from a full urinary bladder.

The solution to bed-wetting is thus the same as that of retraining an adult to heed his alarm clock after he has once developed the bad habit of ignoring it.

Both victims must develop an intense desire and strong resolve to quit being a slave to such nuisance habits.

Parents, quit getting the chronic bed-wetter up to go to the bathroom in the middle of the night, for you are not helping him break the habit by thus encouraging him to lean upon you.

He must take over the responsibility for himself. And one quick way to do so is to let him place an alarm clock beside his bed.

Let him set it to go off after about one to two hours. He must be fully reponsible for this task and must likewise heed that clock!

In a matter of three nights of this technique, he can break his slavery to bed-wetting, as thousands have reported to me.

But mamma must not set the alarm and carry the responsibility of waking the child. No, the youngster must do the full job!

Another and more drastic method is to develop an electric shocking machine, with some dry cells and wire screening. Then the first few drops of urine will close the circuit and give the child a mild jolt.

Send for the "N-Uroclast Booklet" with instructions, and enclose 20 cent. You can build yourself my "N-Uroclast" for a few dollars. All it requires is a doorbell buzzer, a couple of dry cells and a little wire.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Quits Dry, Western Kansas

'I'm Licked . . . I'm Going Back to Denver'

(This is the 5th of six articles describing the human drama and economic devastation President Eisenhower will see when he tours the Great Plains drought area Jan. 13-15.)

By CHARLES DENTON

GARDEN CITY, Kans. (INS) — The dry, denuded plains of Western Kansas are beginning to shudder under the first dread caresses of winter winds that threaten to churn them into a 10-million-acre dust bowl.

More than half of the state's crop and grassland, once cloaked in golden miles of wheat and corn or mantled with pastures, now lies stripped and powdered by five years of drought in the path of winds that could blow their precious topsoil from beneath the plows of already distraught farmers.

If the onslaught comes in the next two months—and most authorities fear that it will—it will be the coup de grace for numerous farmers who already have been twisted to their knees by season after season without crops, falling farm prices and steadily mounting debts.

Like those elsewhere in the severely stricken Great Plains, the vast majority of farmers around Garden City, where President Eisenhower will stop on his tour of the nation's new dust bowl, are grimly hanging on because, as one explained:

"Farmers are just naturally optimists. If they aren't, they don't stay farmers. They always figure this year is going to be a big one."

WIND ALWAYS BLOWS

Cropless since 1952, they are searching out the few off-farm jobs available in this agriculture-dominated area, readying their arid land as best they can to withstand wind and erosion, and praying that the wind does not blow.

But as one agriculture expert warned, it has always blown before.

Most observers agree that there will be no mass retreat from the land, whatever happens, but not everyone is willing to risk another disastrous defeat in this region that formed almost one-fifth of the dust bowl of the 1930s.

O. D. Durbin, who watched the sky turn black with dust and people turn pale with fear and privation in those depression years, is clearing out.

'I'M GETTING OUT'

Standing dejectedly in the yard of his small, box-like gray stucco home, he dug a booted toe into a thin crust of snow and kicked up a tool, as he admitted, "I'm getting out right now."

He gestured toward a row of modern, well-oiled farm machinery standing on one side of the cluttered frosted yard, and added, "going to auction all this stuff off tomorrow.

"This part of the country run me off in the '30s, now it's running me off again. I been here 10 years this time."

Durbin's teenage son went silently about the yard collecting small pieces of equipment and storing them in the shed. A baby stared wide-eyed from a window of the house.

The ruddy cheeked, leather-capped farmer looked scornfully at the morose sky above and then at the light coating of snow on his fields. "This ain't going to help any," he said resignedly. "It could do more harm if the fields ice over. That would just make the soil that much looser so it will blow all the more. And when it blows around here—why it gets so bad you can't stay out in it at all."

BACK TO DENVER

Durbin said it took more than drought alone to drive him off the land for the second time. It was a combination of low prices, rising production costs and lack of moisture.

"Year before last I lost $1,200 trying to grow wheat and maize," he shrugged. "This last year I just managed to break even—I am outside combining and things like that.

"There is just nothing in it for the small man any more. Big business in the cities—that is where the money is. I am going back to Denver. I used to do some trucking around there and I will probably go back to that."

Durbin's painful decision is one many other farmers may be forced to make if the drought and wind continue their twin-bladed assault. Already some 60 per cent or more of the wheat land in Western Kansas has been placed in the soil bank.

The state's wheat production last year was a mere 144,600,000 bushels, compared with a 10-year average of 202,879,000. Corn production was halved. Livestock raisers in the West have sold off some 75 per cent of their beef cattle because the only available feed is too expensive to consider.

Business is declining in farm communities. And Herman Westmeyer, county agricultural agent in Dodge City, where slow drought has replaced the fast draw of gunmen as the chief threat to existence, said flatly:

"We do not have a chance to make a wheat crop. It looks to me like the income for next year is going to be the soil bank payments, and that is about it. Normal moisture is not going to help either. It is going to take more than that, a lot more."

How much more can the farmers be expected to withstand in their losing battle against nature's awesome destructive power?

"I'd say these boys around here are about down to the end now," Westmeyer said thoughtfully. "Another year is going to start weeding them out. Two more like this one and you're going to see quite a lot of shifting around. The surprising thing to me is that so many have stayed with it this long. I know lots of them have gone about as far as they can go."

(Next: The scythe of destruction cuts through Colorado.)

Lobbyists Outnumber State's Lawmakers

LANSING (AP) — The coat rooms and corridors of the state capitol and the nearby cocktail lounges were jam packed today.

But the press wasn't caused so much by the legislators as the lobbyists.

The "Who's Who" of the buttonhole boys, issued every year by the Secretary of State's office, showed 313 legislative agents are registered for the 1957 season.

This compares with 283 registering at the start of the session last year.

* * *

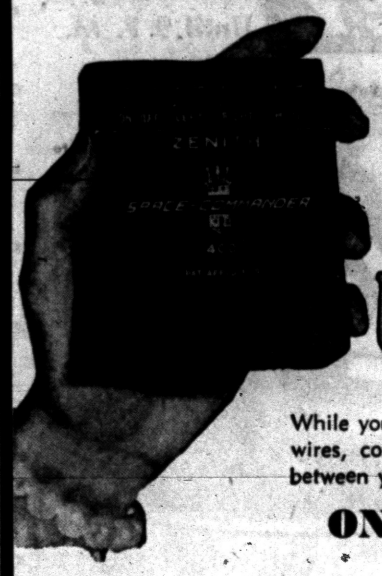

This count means there are two lobbyists for every one of the 110 House members and 34 Senators gathered to conduct the state's business—with a few left over as shock troops.

Before the session ends, another 30 to 40 representatives of special interest groups can be expected to register.

Michigan's lobby law, enacted 10 years ago, requires anyone employed to advocate or oppose any matter which might come before the Michigan Legislature to register with the Secretary of State.

A $5 fee is charged although representatives of governmental units are exempt from the charge.

WHICH TWIN ASSIGNED THE HOMEWORK? — Twin pupils in class have often confused teachers, but Maple Heights, Ohio, has a pair of identical twin teachers who have got their pupils looping. They are Edward Marus, left, math and science teacher and his brother, Robert, who teaches geography and English. Just to complicate matters, they exchange classes. The bewildered pupil between them is Sharon Drummond, 12, a seventh grader. The twins make a quick telephone check every morning to make sure they're not dressed alike.

Chou Tells Warsaw Reds, 'Unite Under Soviet Lead'

WARSAW (AP) — Communist China's globe - crossing Premier Chou En-lai arrived today from Moscow, apparently seeking to bring Poland back in line with the rest of the Soviet bloc.

He told Polish government and party leaders who met him at a military airfield that Communist parties must unite to clear the road to socialism "under the leadership of the Soviet Union."

Chou added that Communist parties faced many difficulties both internally and in relation to each other. He said these must be overcome.

Polish Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka and Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz stood by unsmiling as Chou delivered his pronouncements before microphones on the snow flecked airfield.

* * *

Chou arrived as the Poles faced a crisis in both internal party affairs and in relations with their Communist - ruled neighbors.

Criticize Some Proposals

Dems Analyze Ike's Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats made it plain today President Eisenhower will have to fight for parts of his program despite the extent of his re-election victory last fall.

Influential Democrats took quick exception to some of the legislative proposals Eisenhower laid before Congress yesterday in his annual State of the Union message.

* * *

Applause interrupted Eisenhower's delivery of the 33-minute message only five times as he made his second personal appearance before Congress in less than a week.

Despite this obvious coolness, Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California said he is confident a "substantial" portion of Eisenhower's program will be enacted. Chairman Saltonstall (Mass.) of the Conference of All Republican Senators agreed. Republicans generally praised the President's proposals.

* * *

Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson promised the Senate will study the President's abbreviated proposals—to be enlarged upon in subsequent messages — "in a cooperative and constructive spirit."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) described the talk as a "message that would be hard to disagree with largely because it was so general."

* * *

But it was evident many Democrats were preparing for a battle.

As an example of how some of them felt, Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) predicted the Democratic Congress will ignore Eisenhower's suggestion for creation of a commission of private citizens to make a broad survey of the nation's financial system.

Instead, O'Mahoney said he is confident Congress will itself investigate the administration's "tight money" policies against which many Democrats have been complaining.

* * *

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) said it would be "a very proper thing" for the House Banking Committee to go ahead with such an inquiry.

Scouts Plan Aid to Handicapped

Will Distribute Bags for Used Clothes, Shoes to All Homes in Area

Approximately 1500 Boy Scouts and Explorers of the Clinton Valley Council will participate in a "Good Turn" project beginning Saturday for the benefit of the physically handicapped.

The purpose is to distribute 6,000 clothing bags to homes throughout Oakland and Macomb Counties and ultimately, help handicapped employes of Goodwill Industries of Detroit.

Household discards which need repair and can be sold provide employment for these 450 handicapped men and women. Due to winter, the collection of such materials decreases to the point where employment can not be maintained.

To offset the winter letdown, the Scouts and Explorers will distribute the bags and ask housewives to fill them with repairable clothing for immediate use in the Goodwill workshops.

"One of the biggest jobs we have in scouting is to develop a sense of community responsibility in our young men," explained Edward H. Leland, Scout Executive of the Clinton Valley Council.

* * *

Leland said it is hoped that participation in such a drive will help to develop an awareness of the need of others.

Scouts, in uniform, will distribute bags in Waterford Township, Clarkston, Lake Orion, Rochester, Milford, South Lyon, Walled Lake and Oxford.

Householders will be asked to phone the local Goodwill representative to pick up the bags after they have been filled.

Although shoes, hats, toys, small appliances and most types of furniture are acceptable, the greatest need at the present time is clothing, Leland added.

Prepare Autoharp Choir for Conference

By JAN HAYHOW

Webster School's Autoharp Choir which includes some 166 participating students has been invited to the University of Michigan Saturday to perform for the 12th annual Midwestern Conference of School Music.

It'll be a big day for the 106 autoharp players and the 60-member singing choir, according to their instructor, Mrs. Harold Laudenslager. This is the largest event in which the young musicians have been invited to participate.

The Webster Autoharp Choir began just three years ago with the purchase of one of the instruments obtained for supplementary activity in the singing program.

Now the choir is believed to be the largest of its kind in the country.

The lap instrument had an instant appeal with the children. They all wanted to learn to play it, Mrs. Laudenslager said. The fall following the purchase of the original instrument, the school bought two more of the autoharps to give more classes a chance to investigate its music.

The project mushroomed and at graduation the next spring, 15 students played together for the first autoharp performance.

Since that time numerous performances have been given by the ever-growing group. Parents of the children purchase the instruments.

There is no select group or any qualifications a student needs for the choir, Mrs. Laudenslager said. Anyone who has an instrument can join the choir at anytime during the school year.

The autoharp is played by strumming with a pick across strings while pushing down a button on a wooden cross bar. This automatically produces the basic chords in the music.

"The instrument is a simple one to learn to play," Mrs. Laudenslager said, "and the children just love it."

Also performing before the conference which is expected to attract some 2,500 persons will be the Pontiac High School bands under the direction of Dale C. Harris and the combined Junior High School Band of Pontiac conducted by Lewis Crew, Elson Rosegart and Frederick Weist.

WEBSTER AUTOHARPISTS — These six Webster Elementary School children are among 166 Websterites who will perform for the 12th annual Midwestern Conference of School Music Saturday in Ann Arbor. Airman First Class Willie McGowan recently was designated Airman-of-the-Month by the 2347th Air Reserve Flying Center, Long Beach, Calif.

McGOWAN

His mother, Mrs. Ruby L. Horn, resides at 276 Harrison St.

McGowan is now serving as a records clerk at the Center's Supply Section. He attended Pontiac High School prior to entering the service in 1952.

His wife is the former Sarah C. Milton.

Nebraska Bottle Floats to Europe

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — On the spur of the moment one day in October 1953, the LaVerne Sutton family of Alvo, Neb. placed a note in a bottle and tossed it into the Missouri River near Rulo, Neb.

Three years later the bottle turned up on the shores of the Eider River in North Germany, probably 8,000 water miles away.

The surprised Suttons learned about it in a German postmarked letter from one, Otto Andersen, who said "yor bottlepost" was found on the Eider's shore "by the peninsul Eiderstedt, Germany, near the town Tonning, sharp by the village Vollerwiek on the mouth of the Eider."

But Forgot an I.O.U.

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—Willie Lee Overton told police a man stuck a knife in his side and robbed him of $57 on a downtown street, then forced him to write a check for $100.

Prove Friendship Much Stronger Than Police Rules

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Patrolman J. P. Perrine was boiling when he jumped from his scout-car after it and another vehicle collided.

The driver of the other car, Phil Eisenhour, a former policeman, also jumped out ready for anything.

They were set with some pretty hot words when they recognized each other as old police buddies.

When accident investigator Bill Lewellen arrived at the scene, Perrine claimed he was at fault, forgetting to stop at the corner. Eisenhour said he was going too fast and went through a red light.

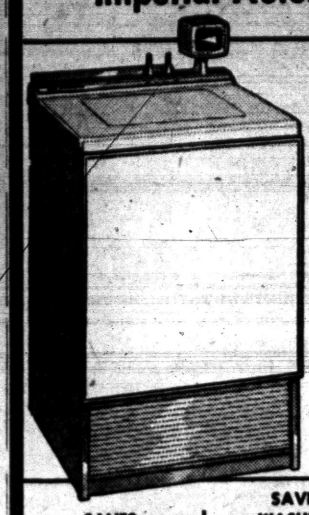

Lewellen, faced with such a situation for the first time, scratched his head and finally gave both men accident forms to fill out after they had more time to think.

Doctors Hypnotize Woman in Childbirth

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A 34-year-old woman gave birth to a seven-pound boy by Caeserean operation here yesterday while under a post-hypnotic suggestion that she would feel no pain.

Some 150 doctors and medical students watched the operation at Baptist Memorial Hospital on a closed circuit television. No sedation was given either during or after the operation.

The attending surgeon said he believed it was the first case in which a surgical patient has been awakened after being given a suggestion during a hypnotic spell.

The woman, Mrs. Wallace Covington, gave no indication of pain during the operation. "I feel no pain," she told doctors. "Only a sensation of pressure, like a weight on my stomach."

Car Crash Victim Dies

PORT HURON (AP) — Charles E. Tallman, 57, of suburban Wadhamn Township, died yesterday of injuries suffered Wednesday. He was found lying in the middle of a rural Port Huron road after his car hit a tree.

Dublin to Be Host to County Council

LEAD NATIONAL GROUP — Michigan's William S. Broomfield was yesterday named vice president of the Republican 85th Club, representative group of the entire United States, at Washington, D. C. Rep. Broomfield is pictured at the Capitol, (right) after the election with (from left) Rep. Edwin Y. May Jr. of Connecticut, who was named secretary-treasurer, and Rep. Robert H. Michel of Peoria, Ill., elected president. Purpose of the club is to acquaint members with various heads of departments and agencies, diplomatic and cabinet officials, enabling them to hear first hand the manner of operations of their respective offices.

Orion Cubs Set Tree Pick-Up

Plan Traditional Bonfire at Park; Songfest on Saturday Night

LAKE ORION — Residents here are grateful to the 21 dens of Cub Scouts who will gather Christmas trees in the village and put them in central places. On Saturday, Jan. 12, they will be picked up by truck and taken to Atwater Park where they will be burned at 7:30 p.m.

This is the fifth year of the bonfire—last year the pile of trees was about 7 feet high and nearly a hundred feet in circumference.

The ten members of den No. 14 the honor den chosen for their perfect attendance, appearance and conduct at den and pack meetings will light the huge fire with torches.

The Lake Orion Fire Department will stand by in case any sparks fly out of control, and to declare it a safe night for a fire. In 1956 the ceremony was postponed because of wind. If this happens this Saturday the event is scheduled for Jan. 19.

Spontaneous singing around the fire by the 163 local Cub Scouts, their leaders and bystanders has become traditional. A tug of war has provided additional entertainment.

The scout theme for this month is "Eyes to the Sky" and this night's activities will give the pack plenty of opportunity to star gaze and appreciate the beauty of night outdoors.

DELORES M. EPLER

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Epler of Leonard announce the engagement of their daughter, Delores Marie, to Gary Sutherby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Sutherby also of Leonard. No date has been set for the wedding.

County Deaths

Glen Elwood Stamper Jr.

ROCHESTER — Service for Glen Elwood Stamper Jr. two-day-old son of the Glen Stampers will be at 2 p.m. today at Pixley Funeral Home with burial at White Chapel. The baby was born in MacLaren Hospital Flint, and died Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles M. Shaw

TROY—Service for Mrs. Charles (Elizabeth Ann) Shaw, 65, of 3180 28 Mile Rd., Mt. Vernon, who died suddenly at her home on Jan. 9, will be held tomorrow from the Price-Bodamer Funeral Home with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Harry B. Dawson

Service for Harry B. Dawson, 72, of 13252 Dixie Highway who died in Ford Hospital Detroit, today, will be held from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel on Monday at 1 p.m. with burial in Port Huron.

Mr. Dawson, a former Oakland County resident, is survived by a daughter, Amelia of Tennessee; three sons Harry B. Jr. in the U. S. Navy, Florida, Glenn D. of Pontiac and Jack H. in the U. S. Navy, Honolulu. Also surviving are four grandchildren, and two sisters Mrs. Ruth McGarr and Fanny, both of Tennessee.

Frank W. Skinner

ORTONVILLE — Service for Frank W. Skinner, 77, 128 Church St., will be at 2 p.m. Sunday from the C. F. Sherman Funeral Home, here. Burial will be in Ortonville Cemetery. He died at his home Thursday after a long illness.

A lifetime resident of Oakland County who owned and operated a general store here until 1920, he was serving as village assessor at the time of his death. He was a life member of F&AM No. 39.

Mr. Skinner is survived by his wife Florence; a brother John, of Allen Park; a sister, Mrs. Catherine Woolman of Brazil.

Lathrup to Join Oakland Council

Campbell, Watchowski Are Made Delegates After Village Vote

LATHRUP — This village voted to join the South Oakland Council at its regular meeting this week.

Mayor John G. Campbell and Adminstrators Leonard A. Watchowski were appointed as delegates.

Lathrup is still without a quit claim deed to the city sewers Mayor Campbell said. The city has for some time been trying to get the deed from subdividers Charles D. and Louise Lathrup Kelley.

With the deed would go the title the Kelley's have to the sewers.

Campbell said he hoped that the legal complications involved would be ironed out in the near future.

He added that the conditions laid down by the Kelleys in turning over the quit claim deed to the city are acceptable to the commission as they now stand.

The council also agreed to draw up an application for a Federal grant for sewer treatment works.

The application is to be presented to the Water Resources Commission in Lansing, not later than Jan. 15.

Administrator Watchowski said he thought Lathrup qualified for a Federal grant-in-aid.

Lathrup is now under court order to abate pollution in the Rouge river.

Marra's Home Open to Group

16 Women to Form Cancer Society Club in Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — The home of Dr. and Mrs. John Marra was opened Tuesday to a group of sixteen women with the common interest of forming a branch of the National Cancer Society in Orion Township.

According to Dr. Marra cancer is a curable disease if diagnosed early and education will help find many cases in time. Simple tests are now available to doctors in the discovery of cases of many types.

• • •

Mrs. Edward Williams of Rochester, a volunteer worker with the branch there related her experiences in the past three years with organization and some of the experiences of other groups in less populated areas like Orion. The purpose of each branch is threefold education, research and service.

A branch in Orion would have available materials to help cancer patients and would be supplied with educational material for their use and distribution.

The women continued their discussion over tea which was poured by Mrs. Harry Slater.

A decision to meet again on Jan. 15 and take steps for actually forming the branch was unanimous.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Rochester, Orion Twp. and White Lake Meetings

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Dublin PTA will be host to the Oakland County Council of Parents and Teachers for its monthly meeting at 8 p.m., Tuesday in the all-purpose room of the school. Dr. Harry T. Hahn, director of the Reading Clinic for the Oakland County Board of Education, will be speaker.

Presidents and delegates from 29 PTA units throughout the county are expected to attend.

All members of the Dublin PTA are urged to be present if at all possible on this occasion, the first time the Council has so honored Dublin.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Rochester

The North Hill Elementary School PTA will hold the first meeting of the year in the school Monday, 8 p.m.

This is Father's Night and father vice president, Eugene Albright, will preside.

In the future, all meetings of the North Hill PTA will be held on the second Monday of the month instead of the third. The Executive Board will meet at 7 p.m. preceding the meeting.

Orion Township

Carpenter School PTA will meet at 8 p.m. Jan. 15 for a program of a film and discussion by Norman Smith, of the Exceptional Children's Program in Oakland Cojnty.

Facts concerning the sponsorship of a Cub troop will be presented by Mrs. Wallace Stevens, chairman.

Refreshments will be served.

White Lake Township

The regular January meeting of the Dublin PTA will be held at 12:30 p.m., Monday, Jan. 21, followed by a program in charge of Mrs. Philip McCullough. Afternoon tea will be served.

OK Sheriff Protection Raise at Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board Wednesday approved a request for increased monthly payments to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department for police protection.

Retroactive to Jan. 1, the new payments will be $775.39 per month. Previously, the township was paying $666.66 each month.

The request was in the form of a letter from Sheriff Frank Irons, who cited higher operating costs as the reason for the needed increase.

In other action the board approved an election board for a special election to be held on Feb. 5 for the purpose of deciding whether or not the Wixom area should be incorporated as a village.

U. S. Asks Bids for Post Office at Highland

The U.S. Post Office department is asking for competitive bids for facilities on a lease basis for the post office at Highland.

Space required for the office is 1200 square feet.

Notices were sent out to bidders on Jan. 9 and bids must be in by March 10.

County Deaths

Ervin J. Dowling

IMLAY CITY — Service for Ervin John Dowling, 20, will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at St. John's Lutheran Church, Capac. He died Wednesday. Burial will be in Imlay Township Cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, Mary Lou; two children; Terry Jean and Calvin Scott; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Dowling, Imlay City; 3 sisters, Mrs. Doris Budge, Karen Dowling, Imlay City, Mrs. Marjorie Kencik, Birmingham; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Stern, Aimont, and Mrs. Margaret Dowling, Milford.

Saturday Smorgasbord

SASHABAW PLAINS—The women of the Presbyterian Church here will serve another of their popular Smorgasbord dinners at the church, 5331 Maybee road, beginning at 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Donations will go to the church building fund. Public welcome.

Wayne U. Credits Given at Avondale

AVONDALE — This term Wayne University offers a recommended course in Local School Curriculum Planning in Social Studies. Two semester hours of credit will be given, in graduate and undergraduate work. Enrollment must be made by Jan. 21 at 4 p.m. in Avondale High School.

Bandit in Boots Robs Oak Park Bank of $6,811

OAK PARK—A gunman wearing a sporty tweed coat and high-top boots robbed the American Savings and Loan Association at 13700 W. Nine Mile here, of $6,811 Thursday.

Mrs. Lillian Zumberg, of Southfield Township, told police the bandit came to her tellers window and shoved a brief case under the grill. Displaying a gun, he ordered her to "fill it up." She put $4,000 in his bag and he motioned for her to pass it to the next teller.

Mrs. Nathanson, the other teller involved, put almost $3,000 in the bandit's bag. Then he fled.

The manager, John Hathaway, was in the rear office and unaware of the holdup, he said.

Firemen Assist Stork

DETROIT (AP)—A distraught woman's voice told Warren firemen at 4 a.m.: "Our car is stuck in the snow and it's time for the baby!" A Fire Department ambulance made it through and got Mrs. Florence Barlow to a hospital—in time.

More farmers are said to own their own land in Wisconsin than in any other state of the Union.

Gingellville Pair Speaks Vows in Japan Rite

GINGELLVILLE — A chapel in Fukuoka, Japan set the scene for the Dec. 26 wedding of SFC Leonard Van Camp and Elaine Flattery. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Van Camp of 3414 Gregory Rd. and she is from Tacoma, Washington.

The bride, who teaches the seventh grade in Japan, wore the traditional white gown for the ceremony.

Van Camp has been in the air force for eight years, and the couple plans to return to the United States in the spring of 1958.

Chloroform was developed for the first time in 1831.

Board, Engineer Meet

Plan New School Sketch

ROMEO — Representatives of the Detroit Architectural firm of Eberle M. Smith Inc. were instructed last night by the Romeo Board of Education to return Jan. 24 with preliminary sketches for a new high school.

The board met with mechanical engineer, Arthur Bersey and architect Wallace B. Cleland. After lengthy discussion they agreed upon a building to cover 43,000 $15 per square foot.

According to present plans the school will contain cafeteria, kitchen and gym, plus 14 teaching stations.

The architects were told to design plans with an alternate for two additional classrooms plus another alternate to include a band-room. Completion date is tenatively set for Spet. 1958.

Superintendent of Schools, T. C. Filppula, reported that investments and other receipts are expected to increase the $720,000 remaining in the bond issue passed last April to $745,000 in the next nine months.

Over $40,000 of the original $750,000 authorized by district voters has been spent to date for property, bonding attorney fees and advertising, he said.

Another architectural firm designed the school, due for completion next September. That firm was recently dismissed after bids exceeded the estimated $600,000 square feet. Estimated cost was budget by over $242,000.

This move necessitated a change in architects and starting over on the building program from the beginning.

Board members authorized the expenditure of $850 this year for auditors covering charges for quarterly and annual reports. The educators also said last night they would take over the task of naming Romeo schools in answer to a request by the Elementary Schools Club.

Vote 'Yes' on $165,000

OK Bond Issue at Marlette

MARLETTE — By an approximate four to one majority at Tuesday's special election, Marlette voters approved the issuance of $165,000 in general obligation bonds to help defray the cost of constructing a sewage disposal plant and some storm sewers. Revenue bonds will also be issued.

Proposition No. 1, authorizing the issuance of up to $100,000 bonds for building the disposal plant carried by a vote of 135 yes, 37 no.

Proposition No. 2, authorizing $65,000 in storm sewer construction bonds, carried 136 yes, 32 no.

There were nine spoiled ballots. The way is now cleared by the voters for the construction of a sewage disposal plant in time to conform to a court order.

Novi Citizens to Vote

May Zone 'Holcomb's'

NOVI TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has set Feb 18 — the date of the spring primary — as the time for voters of Novi Township to decide upon the zoning classification of a large parcel of land known as "Holcomb's property."

The issue will go before the voters unless some type of legal action changes the situation before the election, according to Township Clerk Hadley Bachert.

Petitions from township residents which carried more than the required number of signatures had been filed with Bachert asking for an election on the rezoning of the land. Rumors had been circulating that a race track might be erected on the site in question.

In December, the township board approved a change in zoning classification for the area to M-3, a heavy industrial category. Most of the property was classified as M-1, the symbol for a light industrial area, before the action was taken.

Estimating the size of the parcel at about 160 acres, Bachert said the property was bordered by Grand River, Meadowbrook, 11-Mile and Seeley roads.

The land is owned jointly by Dr. August Holcomb and his sister, Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, according to Bachert.

Governor Promises Better Ag Methods

EAST LANSING (AP) — Help in finding new markets and better methods of distributing Michigan farm products was promised last night by Gov. Williams.

Williams spoke at the ninth annual Michigan agricultural conference banquet at Michigan State University.

He said he would ask the legislature for funds for more extensive market research studies at MSU.

Four state legislators received citations for distinguished service to agriculture. Honored were Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), Sen. Charles T. Prescott (R-Prescott), Sen. Garland B. Lane (D-Flint) and Rep. Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City).

Airplane Bomb-Planter to Pay With Life Tonight

CANON CITY, Colo. (INS) — Colorado prison guards maintained a 24-hour vigil yesterday outside the death-row cell of John Gilbert Graham, alert to the possibility the young mass-murderer may attempt to cheat the gas chamber.

* * *

(A crumpled airliner lay on the earth on a frost-covered sugar beet field near Longmont, Colo., the night of Nov. 1, 1955. In and around the wreckage were the bodies of 44 persons, one of them 55-year-old Daisie E. King, heavily insured mother of "Jack" Graham.)

Graham, who will die tonight on a conviction of murder for placing a time bomb aboard a United Airlines plane, appeared calm, indifferent that he will never see the sun rise next week over the maximum security building of the Colorado State Prison.

(An eye-witness said the plane's mid-air explosion looked like the "sun coming up.")

Graham was the only occupant of death row. He spent his time listening to the prison radio, reading, or playing chess with guards.

(From a distance of a quarter-mile the crash scene looked like a pep rally for a football game. Flames were visible 50 feet in the air. The aircraft's motors lay half-buried in small craters 10 yards in diameter.)

FULL GUARD DUTY

Warden Harry Tinsley said every prison guard will be on duty during the execution, prepared to handle any convict unrest.

(More than a dozen ambulances sat idle on the perimeter of the wreckage, the drivers keeping the motors going so the heaters would work.)

The prison pharmacist has five gallons of sulfuric acid to be placed under the chair in the gas chamber. He has prepared 10 cyanide pellets which will be released to fall into the vat of acid to generate deadly gas.

(The twisted nose section of the plane rested more than 100 yards from the twin craters with the burning motors.)

The prison hospital has prepared a receiving room where Grahams body will be taken after the execution. Prison physician Dr. Corbin Robison will perform an autopsy. Grahams body then will be brought to Denver for cremation.

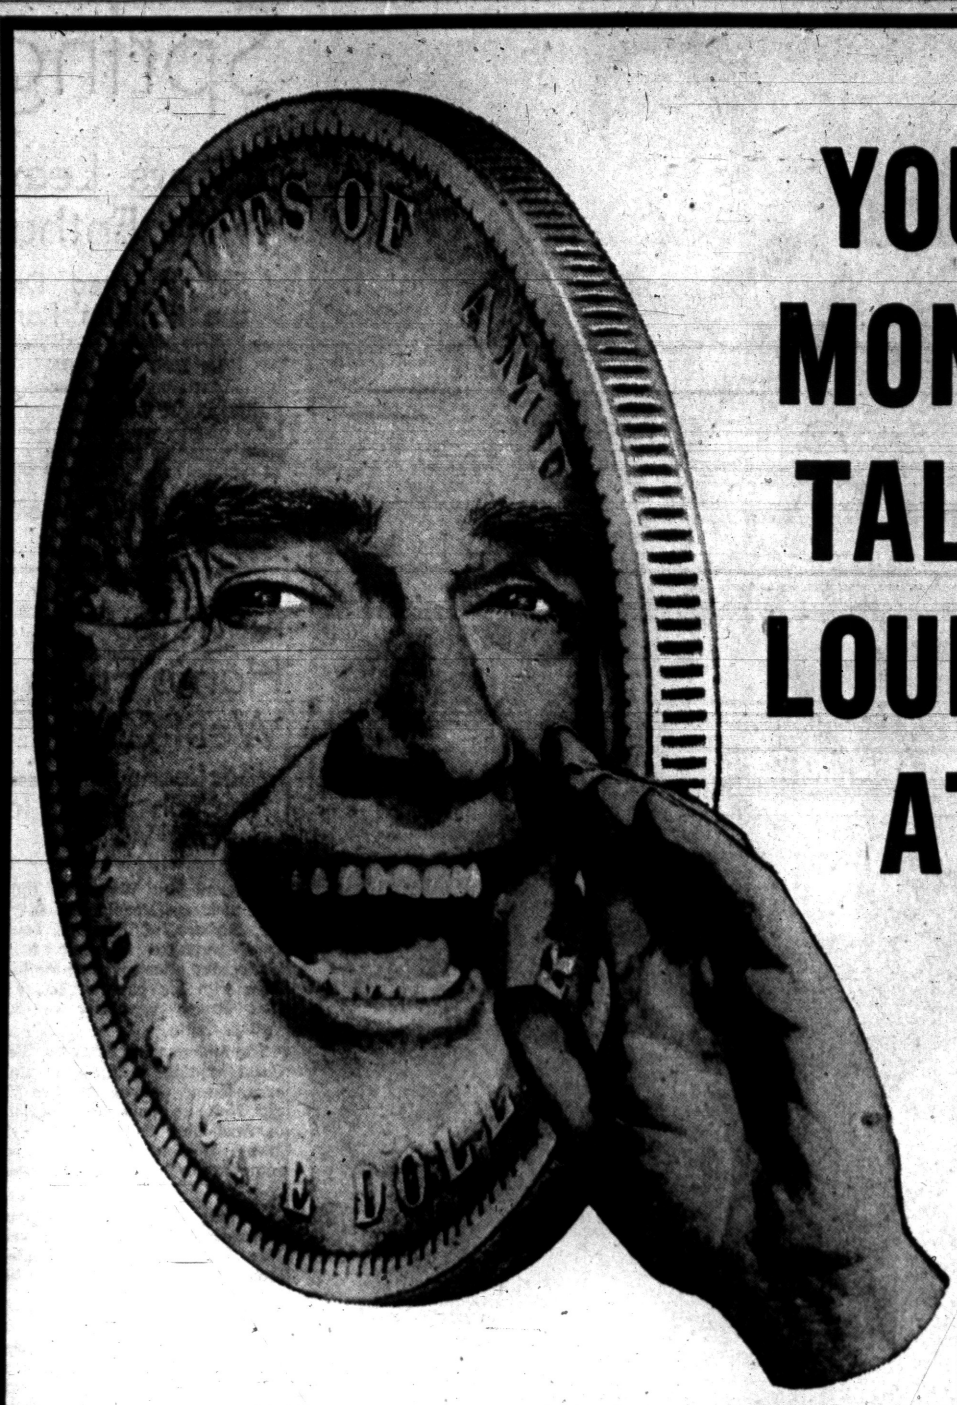

* * *

(Before sun-up a truck drove in and the bodies were collected. Some of the sacks wer small. The truck crew transferred the sacks to the ambulances. The ambulance caraban drove to a temporary morgue.

Grahams execution will be the 70th in the history of the Colorado State Prison.

Who's the Robin Hood?

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Bows and arrows taken from the Southern Illinois University have Dennis Perry looking for the Robin Hood who shot up his upholstery shop. He found 12 steel-tipped arrows that crashed through windows and stuck in the roof or glanced harmlessly off the brick exterior. The bows were lying in the back yard.

Spring Styles Stress Comfort

Editors Leave Previews With Enthusiastic Praise

Softly Fitted Dresses and Suits Lead the Fashion Parade for 1957

By DOROTHY POE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Weary members of the American fashion press wound up a strenuous week of spring style previews today and prepared to depart with good tidings for the folks back home.

* * *

You can relax and be comfortable in the new spring clothes. You won't have to go on a starvation diet or cinch yourself into a strangling waist-nipper to get into your new spring suit. The smartest way to look in 1957 is at ease.

After covering close to 50 fashion showings in five days, the 250 visiting editors were groggy but still on their feet and still enthusiastic.

They were even able to applaud the final showings of the hectic week: Nettie Rosenstein's softly feminine little black dresses and smooth suits; William Fox's distinguished costumes; Tina Leser's casual way with exotic fabrics; Anthony Blotta's precision tailored suits; Ben Reig's parade of expensive dresses; Harvey Berin's collection of exquisitely detailed customes.

* * *

They saw the cream of the crop of current junior fashions at a group luncheon showing, including the smooth, youthful styles of Suzy Perette, Anne Klein and Jack Horwitz.

LITTLE GIRL ATTIRE

And they got a final fill-in on little-girl dresses by Kate Greenaway.

* * *

These are the major impressions of the new fashions the editors will carry home with them:

Spring suits are slender in line, easy in fit, neither exaggerated nor tight, always soft and feminine.

Jackets are brief, ranging from bolero to hipbone length, skirts are slim but eased for comfort, fabrics are featherweight and handsome.

Daytime dresses also are slender in line, handsome in fabric, shaped to follow the lines of the body, often frosted with crisp, lacy lingerie touches.

* * *

There is no chnage in skirt lengths except for dinner and evening wear, when ankle and floor-length gowns are preferred.

Giant-plaided silk organza is used for this dance dress. Designed in black and white, the pleated skirt is widely-banded with black to match the low, collared neckline. From the William Fox collection, it was shown the visiting press by the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute this week.

The "suspender" dress in citron yellow shantung linen was presented during New York Press week by Adele Simpson. A flat belt is pulled through the "suspenders" which curve into pockets above a slim, sheath skirt.

Millers Are Home From West Coast

MacLeans Travel Through West for Several Weeks

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne C. Miller with their son, Ronald, and daughter, Barbara, of James K boulevard returned to their home Wednesday after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Miller of Sun Valley, Calif.

The Millers motored to the West Coast visiting at Carlsbad Caverns, Grand Canyon and Las Vegas, Nev., en route. At Disneyland in Anaheim, Calif., they were guests at Hotel Diseyland. They returned to their home by train.

* * *

Getting away from the winter weather for several weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dickinson of Lake Angelus Shores who are motoring to Florida.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer MacLean of Woodbine drive are motoring to Lawton, Okla., where they will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McKenzie.

Following several week's visit there, the MacLeans plna to tour either on through the West to California or to Texas and through the Southern states to Florida, returning home from there.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turner (nee Shirley Dunn) of Eldridge street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Sherri Renee, Jan. 4.

Maternal grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Dunn of Elizabeth Lake road. Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Turner of Monrovia avenue are the paternal grandparents.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Meilke of Lakena drive are the parents of a baby girl, Pamela Anne, born Dec. 25 at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Grandparents of the infant are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dornbush of Walled Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mielke of Drayton Plains.

Auxiliary Discusses 1957 Plans

The Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church of the Advent held its annual meeting at the church Thursday evening.

* * *

At the installation ceremony conducted by the Rev. John Wigle, Mrs. John Black, president, was presented the gavel by Mrs. Franklin B. Read, retiring president.

Others installed were Mrs. Hugh MacDuff, vice president; Mrs. George Tucker, recording secretary; Mrs. Leonard Woods, corresponding secretary, and Jean Arnoldi, treasurer.

In the business meeting, annual reports were given and plans were made for the coming year's program.

* * *

Plans were completed for the reception to be held Saturday following the ordination of the Rev. Mr. Wigle to the priesthood. Mrs. Read is serving as general chairman of the reception.

* * *

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. MacDuff and Mrs. Clements White.

Officers Elected by Guild Five

Mrs. Julia Fitzgibbons and Mrs. Thelma Erb were cohostesses at the recent evening meeting of Guild Five of All Saints Episcopal Church held in Stevens Hall.

* * *

Mrs. Ariel Davis was elected president of the guild for the coming year. Assisting are Mrs. Fred Honeycutt, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Allcorn, secretary, and Mrs. P. Grier Chambers, treasurer.

* * *

Plans were completed for a pancake supper to be served at Stevens Hall on March 4.

Moose Group Hears Lecture on Nephrosis

Stanley Allen spoke on "Nephrosis" at the meeting of Pontiac Chapter 360, Women of the Moose. The speaker also showed pictures to illustrate his talk. Mrs. Bernard Danton, child care chairman, was chairman of the Monday evening program.

Initiated into the group were Mrs. Lon Shano, Mrs. Percy Presnell, Mrs. Lee Presnell and Mrs. Gordon Wells. This group was initiated in honor of Mrs. John Denihan.

Announcement was made of the ritual practice to be held at Moose Hall on Jan. 14. Plans for the mid-winter conference will be made at this meeting.

The conference is scheduled for Jan. 28 at Port Huron, with Mrs. Floyd Yeaman serving as leader.

Layered silk chiffon is Nettie Rosenstein's idea for a short black dinner dress. From her spring and summer collection, the dress features a cowl draped low-squared neckline.

Dirt Gardeners Meet at Library

Mrs. George Lasley and Mrs. Chester Sloan were cohostesses when the Dirt Gardeners Club met at Adah Shelly Library recently.

* * *

For the program, Mrs. Clarence Phillips read an article from a national horticulture magazine entitled "New Plants for You to Discover in 1957."

Slides were shown illustrating the different varieties of European roses, and Mrs. Lasley, conservation chairman, read an article on Michigan's woodlands and streams.

Norman Roth will show slides of flowers at the February meeting at Adah Shelley Library.

Speaker Tells Sorority About Agency's Work

Mrs. Harold Sibley opened her James K boulevard home for the Wednesday evening meeting of Omega Alpha sorority.

* * *

Mrs. Leon Skelly of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children showed pictures and explained the work of the organization.

The speaker emphasized the need for an educated heart as well as an educated mind, and stated "that only during the past 25 years has a program for these people been developed."

"Music is being taught now according to the physical limitations of the persons," the speaker remarked.

Concluding, Mrs. Skelley said, "Great emphasis is being placed on acceptance, success and love for these persons."

* * *

The group voted a contribution to the March of Dimes. Plans were made for a theater party.

Mr. Matus Tells About County's Camp Program

William J. Matus of Camp Oakland and Boys' Ranch of Oakland County showed films of the camp program and conducted a question and answer period at the recent meeting of Chapter AW, PEO Sisterhood.

* * *

Mrs. Norman Allen was hostess for the meeting at her home on Newberry street.

Mr. Matus explained that a Girls' Ranch, to be established within the next three years, will make Oakland County a leader in this type of child welfare and rehabilitation.

Announcement was made of the Oakland County cooperative luncheon commemorating Founders' Day to be held Jan. 31 at Birmingham Community House.

* * *

Mrs. A. D. McKillop of Gladwin and Mrs. Kay Williams were guests at the meeting.

Mollie Parnis designed this gray and white glen plaid silk and wool "soul-mate" jacket costume for her spring 1957 collection. The trim jacket, bone-buttoned, fits snugly over a brief-sleeved dress with self-cummerbund and bateau neckline.

Guidance Group Gathers

Mrs. Robert Dorman opened her home on Ogemaw road Wednesday evening to members and guests of Parent Guidance Club. Mrs. Harold Wert assisted the hostess.

The four major fields of education, college preparatory, commercial, vocational and general, were outlined and discussed by Gerald Hunt and Raymond Graff.

Mr. Hunt is chairman of the Mathematics Department and boys' counselor at Pontiac High School, and Mr. Graff is superintendent of trade and industrial education.

The speakers stressed the importance of parents and teachers consulting with the counselors to determine the students' curriculum and requirements for entering college or any vocational field.

Mrs. Melvin Renfrow invited members to her home on Ogemaw road for the Jan. 23 meeting.

Designer Estevez Likes Latin Elegance for Spring

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS)—Cuban-born Luis Estevez, the 26-year-old designer who won the Fashion Critics Award last year, favors Latin elegance for spring.

* * *

He offers both bold flamenco prints and sentimental serenade gowns in his "Pan-Americana" collection for Grenelle—but never forgets the revealing necklines and outlined shapes that made him famous.

Estevez' necklines are more intriguing than ever. In addition to the popular halter neck with bared shoulders, he has ring hatters, V-band straps, cross-straps and "keyholes" which offer a peek way down.

Back necklines also get the Estevez treatment. He either curves them, plunges them or just eliminates them.

* * *

But Estevez, who says he hates belts and buttons, is hedging a little on belts this year. He has put some high belts on easy sheaths — setting the "belts" loose and just under the bosom. Otherwise, his soft slim dresses still lack belts and buttons.

STAR TREATMENT

The tunic dress for spring gets star treatment from Nettie Rosenstein. It's double-tiered, finely pleated, and extremely graceful in both solid and printed silks.

* * *

The Rosenstein collection has plenty going on above the tunics, too.

High-rising snug midriffs flatten the mid-section and "lift" the bustline, while skirts have added fullness just over the tummy to hide bulges.

Rosenstein dresses keep the belt at the waistline, though, even when midriffs range far up and far down.

* * *

As for hemlines, Nettie Rosenstein has adopted the 8-inch hem for evening, but she sticks to 14 off the floor for daytime.

ENSEMBLE NEWS

The capelet is making ensemble news at William Fox. It's waist-length, softly draped, and usually lined with a fabric that matches the trim of the dress underneath.

The dresses are sheaths with the high-waisted empire look accented with banding just under the bust.

* * *

For evening, when lace capelets aren't topping cocktail sheaths, the news is puffed sleeve for a little-girl effect.

The small puffed sleeves, on ingenue pastels, are most often sheer —adding to the portrait of innocence.

Plans Made for Sno-Ball February 15

Alpha Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority completed plans for the annual Sno-Ball dance when members met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Duane Chamberlain on Williams Lake road.

* * *

Mrs. Constance Benson is serving as chairman for the dance to be held Feb. 15 at Elks Temple. A local orchestra will furnish music for dancing from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m.

Others serving on committees are Mrs. C. M. Beavers, decorations; Mrs. Robert Terry, orchestra and hall; Mrs. Kenneth Miller, tickets; Mrs. Michael Gallogly, favors; Doris Ball, patrons, and Barbara DeWolfe, publicity.

Members of Zeta Eta Chapter who were present for the meeting were Mrs. Thomas Mosely, chapter adviser; Mrs. Richard Smith, Mrs. Burt Rockwell, Mrs. C. Bud Shelton and Mrs. Richard Hague.

* * *

Yolanda Grimaldi was also a guest for the evening.

Catholic Women Name Directors

Newly elected directors of the League of Catholic Women, as announced at the recent meeting held at the League Building, include Mrs. Roble Sailers, Mrs. Frank O'Neill, Mrs. C. W. Wagner, Mrs. Joseph McCarthy, Mrs. Robert Gallo, Mrs. William Donahue and Mrs. Michael Koren.

* * *

A slate for election of officers was also announced at the meeting. Names were submitted by Mrs. Thomas L. Carry, chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Mathew Gill and Mrs. William B. Dean.

* * *

Election will be held following a dinner Jan. 21 at Elks Temple honoring new board members. Mrs. Carry is handling reservations for the affair. Mrs. Fred Gottschalk will serve as chairman for the election.

Dieter Asks, 'What Is a Calorie?'

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

This week I am giving the Question Box over to questions from Marathon entrants.

Q. "Just what is a calorie?"

A. A calorie is a unit with which we measure the fuel value of foods. When we consume more calories than we need, the excess is then stored as fat.

* * *

Q. "Shall I wear my girdle when exercising?"

A. No. Take your girdle off.

* * *

Q. "Does it matter how I divide my calories? Will it make any difference in my success in reducing?"

A. No. Just be sure to hold your daily intake to not more than 1,400 calories a day. Most women reduce most successfully, and without discomfor , on 1,200 a day.

* * *

Q. "Should I take steam baths and have massages in order to lose 20 pounds in eight weeks?"

A. Steam baths give you only a temporary loss, a water loss, and there is a great deal of doubt as to the value of massage in reducing. Your exercises and your calorie counting will turn the trick.

* * *

Q. "What about water? Is it fattening?"

A. No. Water has no calories.

* * *

Q. "When shall I begin Marathon?"

A. Begin just as soon as you receive your booklet. Read all of the instructions carefully and start immediately.

You shouldn't wear your girdle while exercising.

Q. "How soon will I see a difference in my figure?"

A. Women differ in this. However, your weight probably will decrease a few pounds by the end of the first week, and your measurements will show quite a difference in two weeks.

* * *

Q. "When should I weigh and measure?"

A. Weigh yourself and measure yourself before you begin Marathon. From then on weigh at the end of each week and measure at the end of each two weeks. It is discouraging to weigh every day because the scales do not show a loss each day. Weigh in the morning after going to the bathroom and before dressing.

* * *

Q. "Shall I exercise during my menstrual period?"

A. It is best to skip exercises for a couple of days or when the flow is heavy.

* * *

If you would like to join my eight-week self-improvement Marathon, which can assure you a loss of 20 pounds in eight weeks, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Not too Late, You Still Can Enter Marathon."

Two-Step Recipe Is Practical

Mrs. Hollenbeck's Lemon Chiffon Pie Quickly Mixed

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

There's really no trick to making a delicious lemon pie. It's such a popular dessert that all cooks should have a good recipe for it in their files. Do try this one from Mrs. Roy E. Hallenbeck.

With the interests of her two children at heart, Mrs. Hallenbeck is active in the PTA of the Williams Lake School. She enjoys sewing and doing all kinds of hand work.

LEMON CHIFFON PIE
By Mrs. Roy E. Hallenbeck

Juice and rind of one lemon
3 tablespoons water
½ cup sugar
3 eggs, separated
⅓ cup sugar
Baked 9-inch pie shell

Beat egg yolks, add lemon juice and rind, then add first half cup of sugar and water. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until it boils. Cool slightly.

Beat egg whites stiff, add second half cup of sugar. Fold into cooled custard and pour into baked pie shell. Brown in a 375-degree oven.

BEVERLEY JUDD

Mrs. Lena B. Judd of Norton avenue announces the engagement of her niece, Beverly Judd, to William E. Carlson. William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Carlson of Cameron avenue, is stationed with the U.S. Army at Ft. Bliss, Tex. No date has been set for the wedding.

Dinner to Honor Mothers, Sons

Plans for a Feb. 14 mother and son banquet were made at the executive board meeting of Wever School PTA. Mrs. Kenneth McQueens was appointed program chairman to be assisted by Mrs. Irwin Mills.

Other committee heads are Mrs. Gordon Mathews, decorations, and Mrs. James Dodd and Mrs. Keith Pawley, food. Ticket sales will be handled by homeroom mothers and members of the executive board.

Serving will be taken care of by PTA fathers under the direction of Ronald Carr, and publicity posters will be made by Wever boys, with prizes to be awarded at the banquet.

Mrs. William Hill, Mrs. McQueen and Curtic Cheek were selected as members of the nominating committee at the recent meeting.

Announcement was made that the Wever School Otyokwa Camp Fire Girls have volunteered to take charge of a playroom for youngsters to enable PTA mothers to attend meetings.

Mrs. Bennett Explains Plans to Medical Unit

Mrs. Mildred Bennett spoke to members of the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society Wednesday evening when they gathered at Devon Gables.

* * *

Mrs. Bennett, executive secretary of the Oakland County Branch of the American Red Cross, discussed the blood program and told how the agency is preparing to handle disasters such as floods and tornadoes.

Mrs. John Williams, president of the auxiliary, conducted the meeting and discussed plans for the annual dance to be held following Lent. Social chairman for the evening was Mrs. Harold Stahl.

News From Birmingham

Husbands Invited to League Meeting

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham Junior Leaguers are in the throes of polishing off details for their January meeting, which is to be a combination of vital statistics and accent on fun.

Husbands, you see, have been invited.

Purpose of inviting the men (gathering to take place Tuesday evening at the Birmingham Country Club) is to better acquaint them with the workings of the league. Hence, board members will give brief descriptions of their jobs, and the placement chairman will report on volunteer work.

Following the business sessions, everyone plans to stay on for refreshments.

And while all this is going on at home, Mrs. R. Jamison Williams will be presiding over a two-day meeting of Region Four of the Junior Leagues of America at the Youngstown Country Club, Youngstown, Ohio.

Mrs. Williams is past president of the Birmigham Junior League and a member of the board of directors of the Association of Junior Leagues of America. She was elected director of Region Four last May.

She will be accompanied on her trip Tuesday by Mrs. Maxwell Matthews, Mrs. Harter Williams and Mrs. D. Pierson Smith.

* * *

Mrs. Wesslau Wright and her 11-month-old son, Skipper, have returned to Birmingham from Los Angeles and plan to spend the winter here.

Over the holidays they divided their time between Mrs. Wright's sister, Mrs. Edward Allen of Lakewood, Ohio, and the Bethel B. Kelleys of Henley drive. They are now settled in an apartment in the Colonial Courts.

Mrs. Kelley, incidentally, is already looking ahead to March, when she and daughters Nancy and Mary Beth will take off for the Kelley winter home in Naples, Fla.

They'll be joined there in April by Trish, and spring vacation from Kingswood, and by Mr. Kelley whenever he can make it.

And from Ancorage, Alaska, comes news of a brand new little citizen born on Dec. 22. His name is Donald Martin Roberts, third child of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Roberts (Sue Pomeroy), both of whom used to live in Birmingham.

Contest Dinner Held by Philathea Class

Fifty-one members and friends attended the contest dinner and class meeting held by the Loyal Philathea Class of First Baptist Church at the church. Mrs. Edith McKee introduced Kyle Wilson who gave devotions entitled "The Steps of Prayer."

* * *

Musical selections were presented at the recent gathering by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson accompanied by Helen Barnett. Joan Whims presented several piano selections and Mrs. Mabel Wiser led community singing.

* * *

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Iscaa Wideman. Prayer requests were received by Mrs. William Carls.

Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Geil of Rochester announce the engagement of their daughter, LaDonna Joan, to Ronald Edward Guyett. He is the son of Mrs. Mildred Guyett of South Astor street. The couple plans a March 2 wedding.

McCarroll PTA Meets

"School Reports to Parents" was the topic discussed by a visiting panel at the Wednesday evening meeting of McCarroll PTA held at the school.

Lester Stanley, Perry Ninotti, Mrs. Wiliam Anderson, Mrs. Wayne Weaver and Mrs. William Mihallek were guest panelists. Following the panel talk, the audience divided into small discussion groups, later gathering and reporting to the group.

Mrs. Robert Galbraith was appointed to prepare a program from the school to be given Feb. 5 at the Pontiac PTA Founders' Day dinner. Mrs. Farris Stevens and Mrs. Carl Rosell are handling reservations from the school.

Refreshments were prepared by Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Daniel Smith and Mrs. George Polasek. Mrs. and reporting to the group. Stevens and Mrs. Harold Brown presided at the tea table.

Beauty Hint

Most men dislike long, blood-red fingernails. If you don't believe this, just ask the man in your life. They regard the fairly short, oval nail as the prettiest and they like paler shades in polish.

Parents Teach Child to Rationalize

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When company comes to dinner Edith, aged 14, and Sissy, 11, wash and dry the dishes. Later their mother puts them away.

* * *

One evening after a company dinner that included leg of lamb, Edith decided not to wash the roasting pan. Coldly greasy, it looked so disagreeable that she didn't want to touch it.

So she left it on the stove, hoping her mother would not find it until she'd gone to bed—and then wash it herself.

But her mother found it before Edith went upstairs. Calling her, she asked, "What's this pan doing here unwashed?"

"I thought you might want to save what was left of the gravy in it," Edith said.

EVADING CRITICISM

This answer was what psychologists call "reationalizing"—the attempt to make ourselves acceptable to the other fellow by denying what we are. It's purpose is evasion of criticism.

By rejecting herself as a girl who dislakes nasty chores and appearing as one virtuously concerned only with her mother's wishes, Edith hoped to avert attack for the unwashed roasting pan.

She didn't succeed. As usual, her mother was irritated by her evasiveness and snapped, "Don't give me that! You just didn't want to wash it."

Irritation with the "rationalizing" child's evasiveness does not help him outgrow it. All it does is suggest that we are his moral superior—and force him to insist on his false virtuousness more aggressively than ever.

* * *

If we want to teach him how to give us the less pleasant truths about himself, there's only one way to do it—give him the less pleasant ones about us.

HORRID CHORE

As we prepare to wash that roasting pan ourselves, we say to Edith, "I don't blame you for not wanting to scour this pan. It's a horrid chore. I'd like to avoid it myself. The only difference between us is that I'm older than you. I've had longer to learn that it's silly to avoid what has to be done."

Children learn "rationalizing" from us. If our youngster goes in for it, we should be glad to know he's probably got the trick from us.

Our resentment at him is our resentment against the moral values that have forced us to "rationalize," pretending we like nasty chores we dislike, that we always do everything right and have no more progress to make in this earthly experience.

It can be the best thing that ever happened to us when a child shows us the absurdity of our claim to faultlessness by claiming it himself.

Welcome Rebekah Lodge Holds Installation Service

Mrs. Richard James was installed as noble grand of Welcome Rebekah Lodge 246 Thursday evening in Malta Temple. Mrs. John Balch, lodge deputy, conducted the installation.

* * *

Others installed in the semi-public ceremony were Mrs. Woodrow Sutton, vice grand; Mrs. Ferman Huston, recording secretary; Mrs. William Fyfe, financial secretary, and Mrs. Eugene Elkins, treasurer.

Mrs. Robert Vassold is conductor, Mrs. Wilfred Flemming, chaplain, and Mrs. Balch, musician.

Appointive positions are held by Mrs. Irene Bowen, Mrs. Verne McFarland, Mrs. Richard Young, Mrs. Russell Hertzer, Mrs. Arthur Farley and Mrs. Elwood Cahoon.

* * *

Past noble grands assisting Mrs. Balch with the installation were Mrs. Orley Bruff, Mrs. Lester Bell, Mrs. Hattie Roat, Mrs. Alfred Marczan, Mrs. Harvey May, Mrs. Richie Johnston, Mrs. Neil Cairns, Mrs. Albert Kugler, Mrs. Eva Mathews and Mrs. Orion Hettinger.

Mrs. Richard Young, Mrs. Lena Biskner, Mrs. Arthur Farley, Mrs. Martha Hudson, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Ray Brown, Mrs. Iva Proctor and Mrs. Margaret Crew were escorts, and altar-bearers for the occasion were Mrs. Cahoon, Mrs. Richard Rohrer, Mrs. Irving Quackenbush and Mrs. Verne McFarland.

MRS. RICHARD JAMES

Mrs. John Whitmaker assisted Mrs. Randall Wilson during the social hour.

Girl Scout Troop Elects New Officers

Girl Scout Troop 59 of Central School elected Jewell Reynolds president at a recent meeting. Also elected were Paula Notch, vice president; Ruby Milliken, secretary, and Carol Putman, treasurer.

* * *

Marilyn Bouren and Virginia Smith were selected as door custodians; Judith LaClair, first patrol leader, and Carolee Martin, second patrol leader.

* * *

Troop members plan to stuff dolls, sew cancer pads and complete requirements toward their first aid badge as projects for this year.

Unexpected Visits Aren't Appreciated

By EMILY POST

A wife writes as follows: "I would like to know if it is proper or not for relatives to drop in for an evening visit without telephoning first? I think it is very inconsiderate of them to do so. When I have visitors I like to serve refreshments and these unexpected visits often find me totally unprepared.

My husband says that since the relatives are brothers and sisters of his and they live in this vicinity, it isn't necessary for them to let me know they are coming beforehand. I would appreciate it if you would let me know if I am wrong in feeling as I do."

Answer: As this informal visiting seems customary in your husband's family, I advise you strongly to adjust yourself to their dropping in. If you insist that they call you before paying a visit they will not feel free to come as often and perhaps even may stay away and thus make your husband unhappy.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Please advise what the hostess should do when she is called to the telephone while she has a visitor? The other day I was the guest and my hostess talked on the telephone almost 15 minutes during my visit."

Answer: This depends upon the telephone message. If it is something of real importance, it might be impossible to cut it short. But ordinarily the hostess explains: "Some people are here with me now. May I call you back later?"

News From the University of Michigan Campus

Students Will Enjoy Last Fling This Weekend Before Tackling Their Final Exams

By MARCIA THOMAS

ANN ARBOR—As exams draw near, University of Michigan students are enjoying their last fling before settling down for the long grind ahead.

* * *

Musical activities hold the campus spotlight this weekend.

"Blue Book Blues," a traditional Michigan Union dance, will provide students with a break from studying tomorrow night at the Union Ballroom.

The dance is held every semester just before final exams. Its purpose is to calm those final exam jitters which students usually experience at this point in the school semester.

Among the students attending the dance will be Richard Moats, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Moats of West Iroquois road, and Robert Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Proctor of Kirkshire road.

TO ATTEND CONCERT

Virginia Haroutunian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haroutunian of Ferry street, will be one of the music lovers at a combined concert featuring the Michigan Singers, the band and the orchestra at Hill Auditorium tonight.

Among the numbers presented will be excerpts from Verdi's "Requiem" and the "'M' Rhapsody" arranged by Floyd Werle.

* * *

Jan. 26 is an important day in the life of all graduating seniors. On that day they will receive their diplomas in the first winter the university.

Mary Ann Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Lee Thomas of Elizabeth Lake road, will be one of the seniors receiving her diploma then. She will get her bachelor of arts degree in political science.

Presently feature editor of The Michigan Daily, Mary Ann is also a member of Mortar Board, national senior women's honorary society, and Phi Sigma Alpha, national political science honorary society.

Other honoraries to which she belongs are Wyvrn, for junior women, and Alpha Lambda Delta, freshmen scholastic honorary society. She will enter Graduate School this February for a masters' degree in international relations and Near Eastern studies.

CLUB PLANS TOUR

Singing at the exercises will be the University Men's Glee Club, directed by Prof. Phillip A. Duey.

Other activities planned by the club include a tour of the West Coast from Seattle, Wash., to San Diego, Calif., which will start April 3 and last until the 13th. The tour will be an outstanding part of the club's 97th season.

Accompanying the club member son their tour will be John Wargelin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Wargelin of Voorheis road.

Basin street, complete with American jazz, comes to Michigan Feb. 4 and 5. With "La Rue Basin" as its theme, the 1957 J-Hop promises to be gay and exciting.

Duke Ellington and Buddy Morrow will provide the music for the gala affair.

Wife Who Works Needs Her Private Bill of Rights

Husband Should Be Willing to Share the Homemaking Responsibilities

By RUTH MILLETT

Judging from my mail, what the working wives of America need is a bill of rights.

* * *

Letters pour into this column from wives who are holding down full-time jobs with one hand and with the other trying to be good homemakers and mothers.

Their big complaint is that their husbands gladly accept their help in bringing home the bacon but want no part of helping with the nightly and weekend housekeeping.

A typical letter is from a working wife with a 3-year-old child and another on the way.

* * *

After working all day she comes home to the demands of a child hungry for attention, to a house that needs cleaning, to cooking, laundering, etc.

ONLY GRUMBLES

Her husband not only grumbles if she asks him to help with the dishes or give the child her bath but claims his wife is lazy because their home isn't run as efficiently as it might be.

* * *

Such letters come to this column so frequently I am convinced the working wife needs her own bill of rights.

Some of the points that should be included in it are:

"As a working wife I will not be as efficient a homemaker as I would if I could give the job my full attention. Therefore, I expect no complaints on that score.

"Since I am helping to earn a living for the family I expect my husband to share in homemaking responsibilities.

* * *

"Since neither of us is at home during the working day, our children need attention and care from us both when we are at home.

SOME OTHER WAY

"Any time my husband becomes unwilling to share the homemaking load as I am sharing the job of bread-winning, I expect him to figure out some way whereby I can stay at home and be full-time homemaker."

* * *

American men might as well know they can't have their cake and eat it, too. If they expect their wives to help earn a living, then they should know that their wives expect help in the running of the home.

Parliamentary Club Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Dale Moats presided at the meeting of Parliamentary Study Club held Wednesday afternoon at Masonic Temple. Appointed to serve on the program committee for the year were Mrs. Lester Oles, Mrs. Leonard Saari and Mrs. Robert Howey.

* * *

The group voted to change the special meeting scheduled for 2 p.m. on Feb. 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Feb. 5.

* * *

An actual demonstration of special and regular meetings and amending constitutions and bylaws was the lesson presented by Mrs. L. E. Lacy and members of her committee. Short impromptu speeches by each member completed the lesson.

Check Your Puzzle Solution Here

The following are right answers and explanations for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 31, which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. GILT is right. A Hilt is an integral part of a sword, which would be incomplete without a handle. So you should choose GILT. The GILT on a sword must be more expensive to put on than to leave off.

2. CAR is better. A CAR can be absent from the road and this situation could lead a reckless driver (of another car or a motorcycle) to try the dangerous limit of his speed, taking advantage of an opportunity offered by a "clear field." So many roads are without Tar (concrete, asphalt, dirt roads, etc.) that you can't safely choose that word.

3. WELL is all right. Since a WELL can obviously contain water or oil, it varies greatly in value. A Will has no material contents, but rather directions for the disposition of material wealth, and its legality depends on the validity and not the contents.

4. WORK is sensible. Some road WORK forces a detour on drivers. Other road WORK, as on the shoulder of a road, merely narrows the way for a time. A Fork in the road can lead a driver astray, but this could not be called a detour. A detour is a deliberate or forced rerouting, and a fork in the road requires a decision by the driver.

5. TALK is a good choice. A college class is very unlikely to indulge in a Lark, or escapade, although some members may well do so after class. Besides, it would be redundant to call a lark gay. A gay TALK would be a lively, amusing one, and would be most welcome in class.

6. HATCH is more likely. The captain should always be grateful for a good Chart, as it is possible to run aground even in fair weather. In a storm, he will be glad to have a good HATCH to keep the below-deck area dry. The word "boat" is relevant to HATCH. A ship can have many HATCHES.

7. BOX is better. Hunters need not be seeking a Fox. And a single fox would obviously not be adequate for an entire hunting season. A BOX, in the pertinent sense, is a shooting BOX, or hunting lodge. This suits the idea of being a necessity for use in an entire hunting season.

8. PORCH is wiser. You need a lighted PORCH for nighttime use, for comfort's sake and in order to avoid accidents. You need a Torch for fire or for light. But a torch (flame or flashlight) is used in daytime, too, as in a dark cellar, a cave, attic, etc. And fires are used at any time.

9. BOOK is a good choice. Why have a policy of favoring the Rook in chess? It's better to favor the king and queen. One who favors the BOOK (a manual on how to play, in the relevant meaning) would be a keener student of the game than one who doesn't favor it. He would have a distinct advantage.

10. DULL is the answer. Many people may not be satisfied to have a DULL life, but they certainly seem so, especially because they do nothing to change their DULL lives. It goes without saying that people who have a Full life of interesting activities not only seem to enjoy it but actually do.

11. LOCAL is fine. Any choir must make Vocal efforts, being a singing group. As for being appreciated, the LOCAL efforts are heard by friends and relations, who are most likely to be biased in their favor. A nonlocal effort would be heard by strangers, who would judge the choir on quality alone, without having a predisposition to be indulgent.

12. STITCH fits the phrasing. For a failing comedian to be prepared for a Switch in time, he would have to be a radio or TV performer. We cannot assume this by any means. As for a gag switch (conversion of an old joke), a single switch won't do much good. A STITCH in time i.e., a timely action, would be a remedy before it's too late.

13. MYRRH is more poetic. One of the most common references to Rhyme is in the phrase "without rhyme or reason," which refers to logic, not poetry. The common reference to MYRRH (an aromatic spice of the Bible) is usually in a poetic passage, such as the mentioning of gifts of "frankincense, and MYRRH," in Matthew, Chapter 2, 11, and elsewhere in the Bible. This is decidedly poetic.

14. FUN is better, for it is an enjoyable aspect of any season of the year, and especially applies to the outdoor recreation possible in summer. Summer Sun is not always rated enjoyable, for its heat is sometimes unbearable and dangerous.

15. MOLD is better. In Gold, use (as a ring, coin, decoration, etc.) must determine shape, for gold is shapeless at first (dust or nuggets). In a MOLD, its shape determines its use. A MOLD is a form, and in the natural form, as a hand, for example, the shape came first, its usefulness being determined by that shape. This applies equally well to any MOLD or pattern after which something is formed.

16. GRAPES must be chosen. The use of the word "stylized" points to GRAPES. Anything that is stylized is somewhat changed from its natural appearance by an artist. GRAPES are a part of nature, and to stylize GRAPES would be to represent them arbitrarily for artistic purposes. Drapes are not natural forms.

THE BERRYS — By Carl Grubert

U. S. Welcomes Selection of Macmillan to Top Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials today welcomed the appointment of Harold Macmillan as new British prime minister. He is regarded as a friend of the United States who will work for improvement in U.S.-British relations.

Macmillan probably will be invited to come to Washington for talks with President Eisenhower early in the year.

Eisenhower had rebuffed efforts by former Prime Minister Anthony Eden to visit Washington immediately after the U.S.-British split over Egypt, but high officials said Macmillan would be made welcome whenever he is interested in coming over.

Queen Elizabeth's bid to Macmillan to succeed Sir Anthony contained a slight element of surprise for some authorities here. For weeks the dominant belief in Washington had been that Eden's successor would be Richard A. Butler, lord privy seal.

* * *

This expectation apparently was based on reports from London about the internal political situation and not necessarily on any American preference for Butler over Macmillan.

Macmillan is well-known to President Eisenhower, Secretary of State Dulles, Treasury Secretary Humphrey and other U.S. leaders.

Macmillan was Eden's foreign minister during the 1955 summit conference at Geneva which brought together Eisenhower, Eden and the leaders of France and Russia. He worked closely with Dulles at that time as he did later during the four-power foreign ministers meeting at Geneva following up the summit talks.

Dulles and Macmillan are on a first-name basis. They exchange visits when possible and letters as occasion requires. They last met during the conference of North Atlantic Treaty members in Paris in December.

Macmillan's relations with Humphrey have been similarly close. As chancellor of the exchequer, Macmillan spoke for Britain in meetings here in September of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund. He impressed American representatives then, as he had before, with his frankness in handling delicate financial and economic problems.

The United States at that time was pressing, as it had done many times before, for the British government to move as fast as possible toward making the pound sterling readily exchangeable with other currencies. Macmillan said bluntly the United States would have to take a stronger lead in cutting tariffs and stepping up imports if it seriously wanted to achieve the goal of convertible foreign moneys.

* * *

To the disappointment of American officials Macmillan held out little hope that the pound might soon be made convertible.

Macmillan's estimate proved to be more correct than the U.S. view. As a result of Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal and the subsequent British-French military action, Britain was gripped in a new financial crisis by late last year.

The United States has been pleased with Macmillan's policy of meeting the latest crisis by domestic belt-tightening and borrowing abroad rather than by measures which would have cut back Britain's foreign trade and moved away from eventual convertibility of British currency.

In foreign affairs Macmillan has hewed to the well-established lines of British policy. He has evidently considered close association with the United States as a foundation stone of Britain's world position. He has fought the spread of Communist power.

The favorable reaction to Macmillan's appointment served to underscore the already apparent views of Eisenhower and Dulles on Eden's removal from the scene.

Marines Take Over

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The U. S. Marines are taking over a new task here—that of raising and lowering the flag at the Federal Building every day. The change was approved by the local office of the General Services Administration. The Marines requested the job.

Incident a Co-incident

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It really wasn't any great surprise to Harold Greenberg, 30, when his wife Dorothy, 28, picked Wednesday as the day to give birth to a daughter. Their son David was born Jan. 9, 1954, and their other daughter Donna was born Jan. 9, 1951.

Agents Despicable —or Just Speakable

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hollywood press agents are mad. They say they are being maligned—by the motion pictures they help publicize.

Don Boutyette, president of the Hollywood Publicists Assn., said he was outraged by a film in which Tony Curtis plays a press agent "who is a thoroughly despicable character."

"This," said Boutyette, "is the latest example of unfair film treatment of publicists which dates all the way back to the original production of 'A Star Is Born'." He added:

"Nowhere in the history of motion pictures can we find a publicist presented as . . . humane, conservative, loyal — or even penitent. . . In other words, he was always a louse."

Said Harold Hecht, Curtis' producer, "I have nothing against press agents."

Magic Mardi Gras Dance to Attract PHS Seniors

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Pontiac High School Seniors will crescendo their brief stay at PHS this Saturday night from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. with the "Magic Mardi Gras Ball."

It will be held in the Girls Gym amid decorations similar to the Mardi Gras. Life size silhouettes will be placed around the gym and a simulated fountain will be the center of attraction.

Senior committees were recently selected on the basis of class contribution during the three years they have spent here.

Gloria Johnson was chosen chairman of the announcement committee. Assisting her will be: Nancy Ohanesian, Margaret Christenson, Lawrence Dean, David Allen, Marjorie Doyle, Robert McDonald, Gay Ann Cornell, Sharon Johnson, and Art Poe.

Cap and Gown committee consists of: James Patterson, chairman; assistants: Gary Wyllie, Nola Rogers, Joel Thome, Charles Spann, Roland Smith, Darlene Joyce, Patty Herzog, Norman Mallory, and Robert Kelley.

On the Class Day committee, headed by Judy Humphrey, are Judy Wood, Betty Montgomery, Dick Kors, Norma Jones, Emil Frish, Margaret Pfeiffer, Terry Smith, Charlene Owens, Myra Goines, and Joanne Murray.

Radio Workshop broadcasting week will start off with "Fun with Magnets" in the "More Wonderful Than Magic" series on Jan. 14. The cast includes Donna Chilvers, Judy Lacy, Frank Taylor, and Ron Cochrane, as announcer.

The schedule entitled "It's Story Time" will present "A Boat for Pepper" Jan. 16, with Alycemae Stephens as the Story Princess.

Others in the cast are Toby Gilbert, Lynn Carson, Carl Code, and Sandra Lilliquist. Sharon Mow will be the sound engineer.

In the "Within Our Land" collection next week on Jan. 18 the story of Glauster Bay will be given. Carl Code will announce while Janet Elender engineers the musical background.

* * *

In the cast are Myrna Light, Carol Venner, Lynn Carson, Chuck Williams, and Ron Cochrane.

Troupe 499 of the National Thespians Society held their formal candlelight ceremony early this week to initiate the new members. This is the troupe of Mary Parrish of Pontiac High.

* * *

Speaking in the ceremony were Judy Lauckner, president; Janet Eilender, vice president; Helene Prizant, secretary; Donna Chilvers, treasurer; and Phebe Henderson, clerk.

* * *

Miss Parrish led the Thespians Pledge in initiating Judy Baker, Joanne Dearing, Clarice Graves, Judy Levine, Dick Mann, Nancy Ohanesian, Sophia Skinner, Bob Thompson, and Helaine Wolfe.

The Lab Assistants at their last meeting chose the new member to head their department; Carolyn Leacher. Also, pins were awarded to members with two semesters service credit.

Receiving pins were Judy Humphrey, Carol Cox, Ted Johnson, Carolyn Leacher, Janet Wiltgen, Karen Denham, Kay Johnson, Lee Patterson, Norma Passage, Evelyn Brown, and Barbara Monteith.

* * *

A $25 U. S. Savings Bond will be awarded to the winning entry in the "Anastasia" Contest for PHS Seniors. The reviews will be judged by high school teachers with Betsy McDonald as chairman of the judges.

Entries will be judged on appreciation and content rather than merely journalistic writing. The Tomahawk (PHS Newspaper) will publish the winning entry.

* * *

The new Tomahawk staff has been named. Returning as co-editors are Pat Zielke and Sharon Holland. Robert F. Beauchamp is the faculty adviser.

On the advertising staff are Alan Higgins and Linda Gaylord; Becky Nichols, resumes the duties of circulation manager; The printing is done by PHS Print Shop students under the instruction of Ted Carlson.

Junior Highs Name Council Officers

Election of student council presidents and vice presidents was the big news in the Junior High Schools this week.

AT EASTERN

News at Eastern this week has been of a political nature. On Monday morning Ed Kellogg won first place in a primary election which was held for president of the Student Assn. Council.

Kay Slater won second place. The six candidates running for office were Judy Bray, Ed Kellogg, George Rendziperis, Kay Slater, Nancy McKown and Tom Schrodi.

Final returns of the election which was held today were not available.

Less than three weeks remain in this semester and members of the 9-A graduating class are making eager preparation to enter Pontiac High School. One last hurdle remains — final examinations.

On Thursday afternoon the Eastern Redskins basketball team played the Washington Braves at Washington Junior High.

AT LINCOLN

All the students at Lincoln returned after the holidays for a four week stretch to the end of the semester on Jan. 25.

The big talk around Lincoln is "Who is getting your vote?" at a nominating convention held Monday, three representatives from each home room met to select six candidates from a field of 24 possible office holders to run for school president and vice president.

The following candidates were chosen after holding six balloting sessions: Linda Tabor, Sharon Nichols, Kim Nixon, Mary Pike, Tom Devaney and Boyd Ferguson.

Campaign managers were appointed by each candidate and activities for vote-getting were planned for the week. Friday morning each candidate presented his platform to the student body at two assemblies. The polls opened following the assemblies and closed at 2 p. m. for counting of ballots.

* * *

The Jefferson Warriors invaded the Lincoln gym after school on Thursday for Varsity and Junior Varsity basketball games. The Railsplitters have been going through extensive drill sessions following the lay-off over the vacation.

AT MADISON

Madison's basketball team is playing Rochester today at Rochester. Team and students are looking forward to getting new bleachers for the gym so spectators can attend home games.

Students are making plans for the all school PTSA Festival coming Feb. 8.

* * *

Mrs. Patricia Clark's speech class is preparing a play to be presented to the student body.

AT WASHINGTON

For the past week campaigning has been carried on for the offices of student council. The candidates running for various offices are as follows: president: Judy Dearing, John Roush, Sherry Fink; vice president, Kenneth Shaw; secretary - treasurer, Connie Crozier, Carolyn Harrington.

Starting Monday, these candidates posted posters and signs throughout the halls. Then on Wednesday the student body heard the speeches presented by the candidates. Elections were held Friday during home room which decided the Student Council officers for the coming semester.

The 9A's, home room - 217, will move on to the high school at the close of this semester Jan. 25. There are 38 pupils in the group.

The group is busy now planning for their final assembly on Jan. 24. They are also writing class history, prophesy and will for the special 9A edition of the Tom-Tom which will be released on Tuesday, Jan. 22.

Coming Final Exams Scare Away Area Social Life

The threat of coming final exams has put a damper on extra curricular activities in the area schools this week.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale High School's junior class recently announced the date for the annual J-Hop. The formal dance will be held Saturday, Jan. 26, in the school gym.

Class president Gerry Poynter has appointed Judy Ward and Glenna Dyer co-chairman of the decorations committee. The girls will be assisted by the class.

Avondale principal Roscoe Crowell has released plans for bringing a foreign student to Avondale next year.

The plan was discussed at a recent student council meeting according to council president Don Davis. The American Field Service of the Red Cross will arrange for a student to come to this country upon application by a school.

The school must find a home for the student and must provide $650 expense money. Several homes are being considered, with the AFS making the final decision on the home. The $650 is being raised among community organizations.

With the first semester drawing to a close, students once more are faced with examinations.

Avondale athletic director Frank Crowell has announced Jan. 16 as the date for the All Sports Banquet. The dinner, honoring participants in all sports, will be at 6:30 in the high school gym.

* * *

Speakers for the evening will be Bill Kelly, head football coach at Central Michigan College, and Gary Stauffer, basketball coach at Alma College.

Steak with all the trimmings is on the menu, and tickets may be purchased from an Avondale athlete or coach.

AT WEST BLOOMFIELD

Students at West Bloomfield High School are looking forward to Career Day Wednesday, Jan. 16.

The all-day meeting will be attended by representatives of fields of engineering, armed services, airlines, business, homemaking, cosmotology, agriculture, education, government, technical and professional.

Several members of the Future Teacher Club will observe classes in several of the neighborhood schools beginning Monday. The club will soon vote on a constitution now being drawn up.

West Bloomfield students the baton twirling Dreyer sisters, took top honors in the first annual Orange Bowl twirling contest.

Final exams are coming up at West Bloomfield the 22 and 23 of this month. A two day vacation follows.

AT LAKE ORION

Lake Orion students are at a low ebb because exams are coming up next week, Wednesday and Thursday. Few plans are being made this week for any activities.

The youth center held a dance last Saturday night following the game. Sponsored by the sophomore class the dance featured Flint disc jockey, Alan James. He gave away 75 recordings during the evening.

* * *

Lake Orion basketball fans are extra happy this week. The Orion team swamped ace rivals, Oxford, Tuesday night 75 to 56.

* * *

The council is also planning a homecoming celebration for the Roseville basketball game Jan. 25 in Lake Orion. A queen will be chosen to reign over the event.

AT WALLED LAKE

It's talent searching time at Walled Lake. The reason is the approaching date of the annual talent show annually sponsored by the Student Council.

Jan. 30 will find those who have been selected performing for the school. All types of acts are desired, singing, dancing, instrumental solos or combinations, readings, or other novelties. The sponsors are asking that those trying out for the show should if possible provide their own accompanists.

The Walled Lake Teen Club board of directors will sponsor another of their fund raising dances. The affair will take place Saturday, Jan. 26. The club is hoping to raise enough money to procure a building where the teens in the area may plan and organize recreation.

Students are looking forward to the end of the month. All will have vacations from classes on Jan. 24 and 25 while teachers grade exams and put grades on the books. Then they will also receive a bonus day on Jan. 28 while teachers participate in an all-system workshop. The new semester will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 29.

Basketball Tops St. Mike News

Girls' Team Swamps St. James; Rival St. Fred Next Foe

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

With the holidays over, students of St. Michael returned to the old grind of pushing pencils and borrowing books.

Although SMH lost its first game with St. Fred, the team is more determined to win the next one.

Last Sunday the girl's basketball team beat St. James with the score of 32-17, High scorers were Mary Raymond with 15 points, and Joyce Dropps with 13. Pat Martin also played good defensive work scoring four points. This Sunday St. Michael girls play the rival St. Fred at the high school gym.

The Michaelite staff held a meeting Tuesday to formulate plans for the second issue of the school paper.

The Dad's and Booster Clubs are sponsoring a dance tomorrow night for all the parishioners.

Thespians Initiate at Waterford High

By SANDY WHITE

New members of the Waterford Township High School Thespians society spoke their vows during the semi-formal initiation last evening. A candlelight buffet dinner was served preceding the ceremony.

Twice a year members of Dramatics Club showing outstanding interest and ability in some field of dramatics become members of the Thespians society.

Admission is based on the number of points a student has earned during a dramatics function.

New members are: Margie Neubeck, Kenneth Young, Karla Stoddard, Sandy White, Barbara Tallerday, Frank Seed, Roger Reynolds, Jane Martini, Sandra Seconder, Diane Dahl and Nancy Richards.

Rehearsals for the operetta "Patience," to be presented Jan. 31 and Feb. 2 by the a'capella choir, show promise for this musical's success.

Leading parts include: Arlene Butler and Carol Hillman as Patience; Stephanie Hill, Barbara Tallerday as Saphire; Bonnie Revoir, Sandy Feiler as Angela; Carol Tynan, Sharlene Authier as Ella; Marjorie Neubeck, Sandy Seconder as Jane; Jim Bray, Ken Young as Bunthorne; Dick Heltsley as Grosnenor; Jim Fish as Colonel; Jerry Peter as Duke; and Jack Nelson as Major.

Acting as solicitor will be Dennis Alden and the student director is Nancy Allen. Double casting has been done on some of the major roles.

The Quill and Scroll National Honorary Society of Journalists received these new members during an informal initiation last Tuesday:

Barbara Tallerday, Margie Neubeck, Karla Stoddard, Marlene Noe, Sandy White, Barbara Hutchings, Jean Elkins, Diana Dahl, Nancy Rose, Virginia Valentine, Jackie Kosky, Yvonne Briggs and Joanne Doyle are the new members.

Convening this Wednesday, Jan. 16, will be the second of three PTSA meetings. Entertainment will be Act III from the "Barretts of Wimpole Street," portrayed by dramatics members.

Skippers' basketball squad received cheers for victory from students today during a pep rally. The Walled Lake Vikings oppose us tonight at 8 in the gym.

Barbara Martin will act as student chairman for the Senior Prom on May 18. Suggestions for a them are now being considered.

The office sees a new face as Mrs. Marie Palazini takes over duties as secretary for Mrs. Emma Olson who is vacationing in Florida for three months. Mrs. Palazini is studying to acquire a degree in psychology.

Try-outs for the next two plays that Dramtics Club will be sponsoring were held in combination this past week. The plays are to be "Guest in the House," a psychological mystery to be presented in March and "Brigadoon," a musical featured in May.

St. Fred Council Holds Session

Discuss Problems of Faculty, Student Body at Meeting

By MARGARET DRAKE

A Student Council assembly was held Monday morning at St. Frederick to discuss student problems and how the students together with the faculty could solve them.

Various topics were brought up on educational and social aspects. The student body gave opinions too. Attending the meeting were officers, faculty, council advisors and the priests.

Senior pictures were taken this week.

Semester exams are next week. Following this, all high school students will make a three-day retreat. Retreat Master is Father Raymond Schlinkut.

A Future Teachers Club has been organized. First observation experiences for the new members were this week.

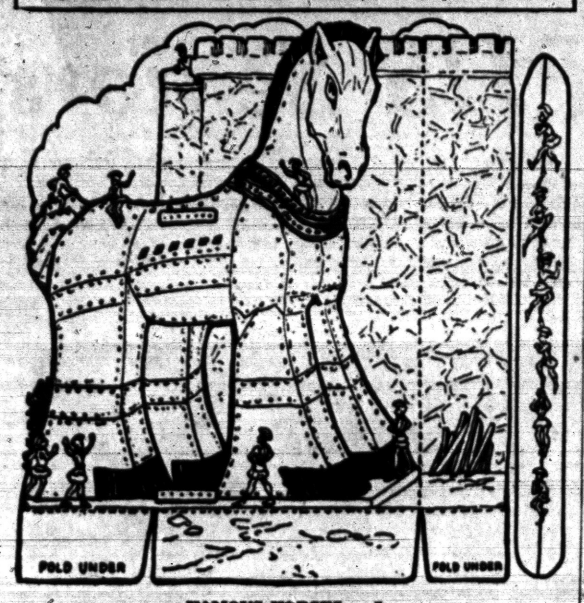

The Yearbook Patron Drive also started this week. Sponsored by Sister Emily Joseph, plans for the drive were begun last week with a yearbook meeting held at the home of Dick Thompson.

A buffet supper and sock hop honored members of service squads. Over 150 attended.

Last Friday afternoon the high school cheered long and loud at a pep meeting. Their cheering wasn't in vain as St. Fred Rams brought back a basketball victory from across - town rivals, St. Michael.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

FAMOUS HORSES — 5

The Wooden Horse of Troy

Do you remember the story of Helen, the most beautiful woman in the world, who was taken to Troy by the Trojan prince Paris?

To get Helen back, the Greeks attacked the walls of Troy for 10 years, but they could not take the city. Finally Ulysses, one of the Greek leaders, had a huge wooden horse built. Greek soldiers were hidden inside it. The great horse was left outside the gates of Troy and the other Greek troops pretended to sail away.

The curious Trojans dragged the horse inside the city. That night the soldiers crept out of the horse, and opened the city gates to the returning troops. By morning proud Troy lay in ruins.

Here is a picture of the Trojan horse. Paste it on cardboard and color it with crayons. Paste the string of climbing men on stiff paper. Cut out the parts carefully.

Fold under the end panels and bring the center panel forward. Fold back the end panel of the wall. Cut the slit at the bottom by the horse's feet and slit near the top, directly above it.

Insert the string of soldiers into the bottom slit from the back and pull it up over the side of the horse to the slit at the top. Then pull the strip through to the back and the soldiers will disappear into the opening.

School Aid Bill to Go to Senate

Upper House Expected to Lead in Acting on Construction Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) —Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today he believes the Senate will take the lead in this Congress in acting on school construction legislation.

Smith, senior Republican on the Labor Committee which handles such legislation, said he understood leaders in both branches had agreed the Senate should try to handle the touchy issue first this time.

* * *

Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex) told reporters, however, he hoped that a school bill would be one of the first things acted on by the House this session.

And a Senate Democratic source predicted that the Senate, as it did last year, would wait until the House acts before passing on the proposal.

* * *

President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message yesterday, urged that the Congress give "high priority" to a school construction bill to meet the nation's classroom shortages.

He told the lawmakers he hoped the measure would not be complicated by tying to it provisions dealing with the "complex problems" of racial integration of schools.

Such a provision, sponsored by Rep. Powell (D-NY), led to defeat of a school construction bill in the House last year.

* * *

Smith said he plans to introduce the administration's school bill in the Senate Monday. He said it would call for the same 1¼ billion dollars of federal allotments as the 1956 version, but that the amount would be split over four years instead of five as in last year's bill. The new measure also is expected to contain some loan features as did the 1956 version.

* * *

Smith said it was felt that the Senate should work on the legislation first this time because it would be easier for that body to defeat any proposed integration amendment.

But he said it probably would be easier to beat such a proposal in both branches this session because "this is not an election year."

Radio 'Ham' 33 Years, Still Enthusiastic

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Not too long ago, a perplexed waiter at a local restaurant scratched his head in amazement as he overheard the following conversation:

"Well, W8BQG, how have you been?" "In the pink, W4ZRT, thank you." "By the way, W4ZRT, I haven't received your QSL yet," said W8BQG.

This puzzled fellow was trapped in the middle of a gathering of "ham" radio operators conversing in a manner common for a member of this growing and fascinating sect.

Ready to vouch for its popularity is F. Keith Hills, 48, of 36 Union St., who got the "bug" when he was eight years old and has steadily advanced to the stage where he spends seven evenings a week in this manner: "I turn on the set to warm when I get home, grab a bite to eat, return to the set where I sometimes remain until 2 a.m."

* * *

To 600 "hams" in Oakland, Macomb, and Wayne Counties, and 160,000 others across the nation, Hills is known as W8BQG. "Hams" seldom refer to each other, either while on the air, corresponding, or in person, other than by these call letters.

YEARS BRING CHANGE

What Hills, launched into this hobby with is a far cry from the set that graces his den today. His first radio sparks came from used auto coils connected with a two-quart jar of salt water as a transformer.

Now hovering over his frame home on Union street is a huge antenna which is attached to a modern single side band suppressed carrier set. All equipment cost Hills $3,500 and about $15 monthly to operate.

"And just like the automobile owner, we turn in our sets when new ones come in style," Hills said.

Emerging from all this fun of the "hams," is the serious aspect that $110 million worth of these sets have been ordered by the armed forces. These sets are more powerful than most commercial radio stations, Hills explained.

The compact 11 x 15 x 17 inch set of Hills is composed of a two-section transmitter, a receiver, a microphone, and an antenna rotator which has a small globe on top to tell Hills in which direction his antenna is mechanically-pointed.

* * *

Through Hills' set has gone welcomed voices to servicemen from this area stationed around the world. Lt. Edward Ehrlich, and his parents, who live in Oak Park, were brought closer to each other although the lieutenant is stationed some 10,000 miles away at the South Pole at Little America.

MAKE TELEPHONE LINKS

To a layman, these connections are made by "phone patches." The "ham" at the Pole hears Hills on the air and asks if he would contact the Ehrlichs. After a few plugs are inserted, Hills dials the Oak Park number and then both parties converse like any telephone conversation.

(In this manner while sitting at my Press desk, I spoke to Gen. "Butch" Griswold, assistant to the Strategic Air Command's Gen. LeMay, while flying at 17,000 feet and two hours away from the Azores.)

A friend of Hills made as many as 3,000 "phone patches" during 1956.

Gen. LeMay has the "bug" also, as does radio and television star Arthur Godfrey. President Eisenhower's train has a set installed, and recently hundreds of "hams" spoke with a member of Ike's campaign party.

After all conversations, monitored by the Federal Communications Commission like commercial broadcasts, "hams" exchange QSL cards as acknowledgement of the talks. Hills' desk is stacked high with these colorful cards. His prize one is from Little America, he said.

* * *

"It's not uncommon to have North America, South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand on the same frequency all talking to each other," Hills said.

He had contact with a soldier in Mukden, Manchuria the night the U.S. moved out. He hasn't heard from this station since.

RUSSIANS DON'T TARRY

"Russians use mostly code and are fast to change frequency and call someone else when we ask them where they are located," he said.

Because of his wide radio experience, Hills supervised installation of radio and radar equipment in B24 bombers manufactured at Willow Run during World War II.

Hills estimated that he has made thousands of friends over the 33-year span he has spent before his set. "I've talked to 200 countries, ships on all the oceans, and planes everywhere," he said.

The popularity of this twist-the-knob and turn-the-dial hobby is evidenced that only 3,000 "hams" were licensed when Hills began, compared to the 160,000 now.

"We get a black eye from the public because they say our sets interfere with their radios and television sets," Hills stated. "But we have every conceivable device on our sets to stop this."

While he isn't turning knobs, Hills cuts hair at his barber shop at 98 E. Huron St.

"THIS IS W8BQG . . ." — This is the usual sight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Keith Hills at 36 Union St. Here, Hills spends many enjoyable hours exercising his hobby as a "ham" radio operator, a hobby he has been enjoying for 33 years. Pontiac Press Photo

All this equipment, plus an antenna mounted on the roof, cost Hills $3,500 and $15 monthly to operate. "I've talked to just about every point in the world where 'hams' are," Hills said.

Bennett Estate Near Clare Sold

Report $150,000 Paid to Former Ford Man for Mansion, Acreage

DETROIT (INS) — The summer home of Harry H. Bennett — for many years said to be the No. 2 man in the Ford Empire — was sold yesterday.

The home, located on M115 near Clare, was sold to Samuel B. Solomon of Detroit, president and manager of United States Steel Sales.

One of Bennett's last appearances in Detroit was as a witness before the Kefauver Crime Investigating Committee where he saw a parade of ex-hoodlums who were allegedly at one time linked with his famous service organization within the Ford plant.

Bennett left the Ford Company in bitterness in 1945 after Henry Ford II took over. He is believed to have visited his summer retreat last in 1953 with his family, friends, four cats, a collie dog and a racoon named Chico.

His permanent home now is Palm Springs, Cal.

SOLD FOR $150,000

The sale price of the property reportedly was $150,000, but friends of Bennett said the place had cost him at least $250,000.

The estate, known as "S-Tar", named for Bennett's wife, Esther, includes 3,000 acres of land, a 20-room house of simulated logs, with stables and a swimming pool.

* * *

Bennett bought the property in 1938 from the late John Gillespie, capitalist, whose promotion schemes were amazing for even Detroit in he roaring twenties.

The place is about 20 miles north of Clare.

To Study Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Committee for Economic Development President J. B. Hatton Jr. has announced a forthcoming study of the Grand Haven-Spring Lake-Ferrysburg communities to determine the area's potentialities. The program is designed to make the Grand Haven area "a better place to live and work" and to provide for its "consistent and orderly growth."

Adenauer Asks H-Weapon Ban

Sees Arms Pact as First Step Needed to Settle International Problems

BONN (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today called on the world powers to clear the way for settlement of international problems by banning thermonuclear weapons.

"Thermonuclear weapons no longer can be considered as a means of waging war," the 81-year-old Chancellor declared at his first news conference of 1957.

A "definite solution" of world problems, Adenauer said, can be attained only by the complete banning of thermonuclear weapons as instruments of war.

On its face, Adenauer's statement appeared to represent a major break with the Western position on control of nuclear weapons and an alignment with Soviet views. He made no mention of the controls the West demand, before disarming, or of the Western position that it cannot give up its strongest weapon until the Communists' overwhelming superiority in standing armies is reduced. The Communists long have called for a ban on hydrogen and atomic weapons but balked on inspection and controls.

Adenauer referred several times to thermonuclear — hydrogen— weapons as those he felt should be banned. He did not speak of atomic weapons.

Appeals Dog's Sentence

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Businessman Albert Diephouse, owner of a Wiemaraner dog sentenced to die for biting four persons, has appealed the sentence imposed by Municipal Judge Jacob Ponstein and awaits a new hearing date. The dog is accused of having bitten three children and an adult. The Judge also ordered Diephouse to pay costs of executing the animal, plus court costs and medical bills for two biting victims.

Appoint Traverse Man

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The tri-county health committee has named Traverse City Commissioner Loren Bensley as its administrative head until a physician is engaged to take over the work. The unit includes Grand Traverse, Leelanau and Benzie counties. Former Traverse City Manager Clarence Anderson held the director's post for several months after the resignation in 1956 of Dr. Gerald Behan.

Forget Minimum; Provide Essentials

Michigan's Schools Need Adequate, Certain Income

LANSING (AP) — Not only more money but also a guaranteed source of income is needed to finance Michigan's school program, the legislature and the governor were told today.

* * *

The recommendations were included in the annual report from Dr. Clair L. Taylor, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"It is time to forget minimum legal requirements," Taylor said. "It is time, instead, to provide the money, the legislation and the programs essential to the best interests of our children and youth."

Taylor said that enrollments in the public schools are increasing at the rate of 70,000 a year. School costs also are rising, he said, just as costs are generally.

"It is obvious therefore," he said, "that there is a need for increased expenditures if Michigan schools are to continue to provide the type of educational program now being offered."

* * *

Taylor said that the present two sources of school revenue — the primary school interest fund and the earmarking of two cents of the three cent sales tax for school purposes—are not sufficient.

"It is now becoming apparent that the sales tax source is not able to provide sufficient funds to meet the state's fundamental responsibility," he said.

"If school districts are to operate efficiently, it is necessary that they have reasonable certainty that the state's fair share of the cost will be forthcoming.

"To bring this assurance to local school districts, it is necessary that future state appropriations be placed on a guaranteed basis. This, of course, means other state sources must be tapped in order to supplement the funds which are available for the constitutional school aid fund.

Taylor said he would recommend that the legislature amend the school aid act to require that if sales tax collections are insufficient to meet the required appropriations, such deficiency shall be appropriated from the state general fund.

Further recommendations on financial aid to the schools will be made after a report is received from a study committee reviewing proposals for the school aid program, Taylor added.

Sir Anthony Eden Once Called 'First Rate Second-Rater'

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Blue-blooded Sir Anthony Eden has stepped into Britain's political shadows in humiliation over his failure to unseat a former Cairo street mobster, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The 59-year-old aristocrat gave health as a reason for resigning the prime ministership he waited so long for in the shadow of Sir Winston Churchill.

VICTIM OF POLITICS

But he is mainly a victim of Middle East politics as vividly illustrated in a London newspaper cartoon depicting Nasser self-satisfiedly reclining on a divan while a grinning servant presents Eden's severed head on a platter.

It is true that Eden is and has been ill. His doctors say he is suffering from "abdominal symptoms."

But members of his own Conservative Party have demanded the scalp of the veteran politician. The Egyptian government-controlled press also has demanded it as a price of Suez negotiations.

Eden quit at a time when domestic troubles also were engulfing him. There is anger over gasoline rationing, labor layoffs, and multi-million-dollar pay hike demands are looming—all pressure on the economy resulting from the blocked Suez Canal.

Great hopes were held for Eden when he inherited the premiership in 1955 from his illustrious predecessor and teacher, Sir Winston Churchill.

Eden did not have the color and flair of Churchill. Unlike the elder statesman he was practical, not romantic. Eden attended to detail rather than the grand historical sweep.

IN CHURCHILL SHADOW

The man who had stood so long in the shadows of Churchill's dominance was noted for concentrating on patient, diplomatic negotiating in any quarrel. He was credited with being successful in getting some concessions from those most stubborn negotiators—the Russians.

Eden's standing rarely had been higher than when he succeeded Churchill. And the voters proved it a short time later in an election in which Eden's Conservative regime was the first in 30 years to be returned with an increased majority in the House of Commons.

The question then was: "Will Eden make a good prime minister?

Nobody could answer that question, of course, and the enormity of the troubles he had inherited from Churchill may have been under-rated.

It was under Churchill that Egypt first unilaterally abrogated its defense treaty with Britain and demanded that the British military get out of the strategic crossroads, the Suez Canal zone. It was under Churchill—with some American prodding—that the British did agree to withdraw their troops.

At the time, Churchill belittled the importance of the Suez Canal in an atomic war age. Nobody then forecast that Nasser would nationalize the Suez Canal Company which was owned mainly by Britain. Nasser did this after the United States and Britain withdrew their offers of financial aid to build the Aswan dam on the Upper Nile, a favorite dream project.

HAD HOT TEMPER

Eden, who has a hot temper when aroused, was very aroused.

He told the nation after the Egyptian seizure: "Our quarrel is not with Egypt, still less the Arab world. It is with Col. Nasser."

When Nasser had gained power after overthrowing King Farouk, Eden said, "We felt no hostility toward him . . . we hoped he wanted to improve the conditions of life of his people and to be friends with this country."

But Eden called Nasser a dictator, a man whose word could not be trusted, and said the question of oil through the Suez Canal could not be left to "the mercy of one man . . . this is a matter of life and death . . . with dictators you always have to pay a higher price later on—for their appetite grows with feeding."

RELATED TO ROYALTY

The six-foot, elegantly dressed Eden once was known as the "boy wonder," the "golden boy" and the "white knight of Geeva."

Sir William Eden, an eccentric known as the "bloody baronet," was his father. The seventh baronet of West Auckland lived in the County of Durham at Windlestone Hall; the family seat for four centuries, and the birthplace of Anthoy.

Robert Anthony, the third of four sons, was born June 12, 1897, to Lady Eden, a famous society beauty of her day. Through his mother, he is related to the dukes of Norfolk and the earls of Westmoreland.

Young Anthony was good but not a brilliant scholar. He had a fleeting interest in theology at Eton.

Before entering politics, World War 1 came and young Eden joined the King's Royal Rifle Corps in 1915.

Eden, who saved the life of a sergeant in the desperate battle at Ypres, emerged from the war with a Military Cross. He was full of ambition and hope and entered Christ Church at the University of Oxford, as several generations of Edens before him had done.

He studied, of all things, Persian and Arabic and got first class honors in them. And by this time the handsome young man who was sporting a bushy mustache also showed some interest in politics.

By 1926 Eden was parliamentary private secretary to Sir Austen Chamberlain, then foreign secretary, and a man who is quoted as saying of Eden: "A first rate second-rater who some day may be a big man."

By 1931 Eden was under-secretary, then lord privy seal, then minister for League of Nations affairs and a cabinet member in June 1935. Six months later he was foreign secretary.

He broke with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain one fateful night in 1938 because of Chamberlain's appeasement policy toward Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini. Most of his political life since has been engaged in fighting pre-war, war-time and post-war dictators.

Because he considers the 39-year-old Nasser a dictator and threat to his nation, Eden took the bold decision to invade Egypt. He felt ered under the anger of the United States and the United Nations, and the threat of Soviet counter-action. Then he agreed to the cease-fire and withdrawal of troops.

But Eden still thinks that history one day will prove that his invasion decision was justified.

Viscount and Lord Extol Prime Minister

LONDON (INS)—Viscount Woolton, a top Conservative Party man, said he believed newly-appointed Prime Minister Harold Macmillan "will be able to lead a united party with strength and wisdom."

He expressed "great satisfaction" in Macmillan's appointment.

Lord Rea, Liberal Party leader in the House of Lords, said:

"Under Macmillan's premiership we hope that all parties will work together to reestablish our position both in the domestic and international fields."

What Is It—Vitamartini?

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Irrepressible Tallulah Bankhead, appearing in the play "Eugenia" here, surprised patrons of a Philadelphia restaurant the other night by popping a vitamin pill into her mouth while she sipped a martini. She explained: "I like to build myself up while I tear myself down."

Put Your Name on $300 Check for Pot-O-Gold

Make your leisure time pay off for you by trying your hand at this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle. The clues below will help you decide which word will best fit the solution, and the rules will tell you the deadline for entry and the proper mailing procedure. Read both carefully and send us your answers. $300 may be your reward.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be acepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 32 must bear a Tuesday, January 15, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10 Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

March of Dimes Campaign Starts

Mailers Sent Residents, Coin Collectors Out in Drive to Fight Polio

The 1957 March of Dimes campaign in the county is now under way with 105,000 mailers sent to county residents urging contributions for the fight against polio.

Rosalind Wildgen, executive secretary of the Oakland County Chapter, of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said that donations should be returned to the chapter office at 75 W. Huron St., Pontiac. Each community will receive credit for returns from their areas, Miss Wildgen said.

Iron Lung coin collectors and dime boards are also being distributed throughout the county, she reported.

Chairman of the campaign in Pontiac for the second stright year is John A. Benson.

March of Dimes chairmen for the rest of the North Oakland County area include Mrs. Walter Newby, Auburn Heights; Ransford Bromley, Addison Township; Mrs. LaVerne Borst, Ortonville; Edward Smith, Waterford Township; Marion Cooper, White Lake Township; and Fred Stevens, Oxford.

Others include Mrs. Henry McNalley, Rochester, Avon and Oakland Townships; Mrs. Jesse Colegrove and Mrs. Laurence Keigh, Milford and Highland; Edward Porter and Glenn Gregerson, Holly and Davisburg; Mrs. Everette Dennis and Mrs. Jerry Montruiel, Clarkston; Percy G. Burnett, Birmingham, Bloomfield Township and Franklin and Robert Hauxwell, Lake Orion.

Find Signatures in Synagogue 17 Centuries Old

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Kilroy wasn't in the near Eastern city of Dura-Europos in 253 A.C., but Artva, Rasnak and Aparsam were. They can prove it.

They wrote their names on the wall of a synagogue and the signatures are still there, 17 centuries later.

Archaelogist Carl H. Kraeling tells about it in a new book published by the Yale University Press. Not accusing Artva, Rasnak and Aparsam of being mere "Kilroy was here" wall scribblers, he surmises that they were officers with the Persian army which overran Dura-Europos in 252. Apparently, says Kraeiling, they were impressed by Jewish murals in the synagogues and signed their names as a warning to soldiers not to damage them.

Dura-Europos, abandoned in 256, eventually disappeared beneath desert sands until its re-discovery in 1921.

Gets Wrong Radiator

HONG KING (AP)—Chan Pak-hing, 20, stole the radiator from the wrong auto. The car belonge to the Commissioner of Police K. A. Bidmead.

Bidmead reported the radiator missing and police hid out for seven days in the area, finally catching Chan in the act of dismantling another radiator from an auto.

Chan pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 14 weeks in jail.

Deborah Kerr Overjoyed About Role With Olivier

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I seldom have heard Deborah Kerr more excited about any motion picture than she is about "Separate Tables," which she will make with Lancaster in English this summer.

"I'm changed from the bathing girl routine to play the shy spinster in the second half of 'Separate Tables.' My part is in 'Number 7' and in that Laurence Olivier plays the major.

"The two Terence Rattigen playlets are knit together. Olivier will also direct the second half. He gets here, as you know, the last of February and Terence will be here at the same time.

"I expect to go to London and take the children right after school is out," said Deborah, "to see the family. They will live there while we are making 'Separate Tables' at Pinewood Studios in August."

Certainly glad Charlie Laughton is going to play the role Francis X. Sullivan created in "Witness for the Prosecution." Sullivan was great and Laughton will be just as great.

Arthur Hornblow made a special trip to New York to talk to Charles who is appearing in "Major Barbara"—both directing and acting in it—on Broadway.

Charles will be in mighty good company since the Agatha Christie murder mystery co-stars Tyrone Power and Marlene Dietrich.

TO TOUR THE SOUTH

In two weeks Fred MacMurray and June Haver take off for the South to beat the drums for "Gun for a Coward" which stars Fred and is a "sleeper."

This, in a way, will be a vacation as well as a business trip, but Fred was told he has to be back the middle of February to start "Decision at Durango," with the same group, Gordon Kay, director, and Al Zugsmith, producer, working with MacMurray.

"Decision at Durango" is based on a magazine story by John Cunningham and has the same excitement as "Gun for a Coward," which was rated very good reviews.

Representing the Turkish government in the filming of "Ataturk," M. Adil Ozkaptah paid me a visit. He said after "Ataturk" is made by U-I in Istanbul he looks to see other pictures also filmed in Turkey.

Mr. Ozkaptah is married to Eleanor Bernstein, a California girl whom he met when he was a student at Stanford. He is a graduate of Stanford and speaks perfect English.

He says President Bayar has asked him to assure Aaron Rosenberg, who will make the picture in Istanbul next summer, of every cooperation. He said everyone in Turkey wants to be an extra in the film, for they look upon Ataturk as the man who saved their country.

My column appears in Turkey, and I was pleased at the messages Mr. Ozkaptah brought me.

$10,000 FOR DENISE

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Denise Darcel, who is marrying George Scrimshaw Feb. 22, is picking up a quick $10,000 for an engagement in Florida before the nuptials.

It rained all the time the "Pylon" company was on location, and Robert Stack, who expects to become a father any edition, was very glad to get home.

One of the most determined holdouts against TV, Clark Gable has been reading a TV script based on "Men in White," a picture that was a box office hit when he appeared in it in 1935.

Grace and Abel Green arrived from Mexico today on their annual visit. He's editor of Variety.

Frances Faye, who closed in Las Vegas tonight, opens at Ciro's tomorrow night. It's a return engagement.

Actress Tina Louise and David Wolper are talking serious language in New York.

Ferde Grofe, composer of "Grand Canyon Suite" and other tunes, and his wife, the former Anna Mae Lampton, celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary Saturday by remarrying at the chapel of the New Frontier.

TB Institutions' Ruling Set Down

Tuberculosis Hospitals Cannot Convert Beds to Treat Other Disease

LANSING (AP)—State and county tuberculosis hospitals cannot convert excess beds to the treatment of other diseases, an attorney general's opinion holds.

The opinion by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, held that the hospitals may only treat the diseases specified in the statutes authorizing their establishment and operation.

* * *

Hospital operating under other statutes, Kavanagh said, may convert excess beds with the approval of the governing body of the particular institution.

In other opinions, the attorney general held that:

School districts may employ traffic officers to safeguard youngsters on their way to and from school under the provisions of the 1955 school code.

A pension of $20 a month by a blind daughter of a Civil War veteran, must be considered as income in considering eligibility for an old age pension.

The State Municipal Finance Commission has the power to deny applicants permission to issue municipal bonds on the grounds the fees are excessive.

Justices of the Peace cannot refuse a property bond and insist on a cash bond from convicted defendants seeking a review in Circuit Court.

The state treasurer may not use excess funds in the hospital bond redemption fund to purchase State of Michigan hospital bonds for purpose of cancellation.

Sight Returns After 10 Years of Blindness

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Ten years of blindness apparently was ended today for John Howard Griffin, a well-known author whose sight eclipsed after a World War II injury.

Griffin, 34, whose novel "The Devil rides outside" was a best-seller in 1952, said his vision suddenly returned to him yesterday while he was working on another novel on his parent's farm here. He said his first reaction was joy, and disbelief.

* * *

"It was a terrible shock. I had received no jar, no bump. I started walking from my workshop toward my parents' house. Suddenly everything looked like red sand in front of my eyes.

"Then I saw the outline of the door. I went inside and called a Mansfield doctor who rushed right over. I was near collapse."

He said the doctor asked him to identify the color of the doctor's coat, which he did. It was blue.

* * *

"Then came the clincher," Griffin said. "He asked me to read a note in his pocket, and I did it."

"The 'note' was a doctor's prescription. We laughed, figuring reading it was the supreme test."

Griffin said an eye surgeon told him a 12-year blockage of circulation must have suddenly been broken. His sight returned, he quoted the doctor as sayig, when blood flowed through the optic nerve.

* * *

Griffin went blind in 1944 while serving as an Air Force sergeant in the South Pacific. He suffered a concussion when a B24, loaded with bombs, caught fire and blew up as he ran from it.

He was told soon afterward he would lose his sight. His vision faded gradually until he was totally blind in 1946.

Griffin saw his wife and children, Johnny 1, and Susan 2, for the first time yesterday.

New Farm Occupation

MENDOTA, Ill. (AP)—Will Smith, a 77-year-old retired farmer, has taken up art as a hobby. He took it up three years ago and now has one wall of his barn and another on his shop covered with paintings that show a square dance, a flock of peacocks, a buffalo and a covered wagon drawn by oxen.

This Motorist Couldn't Read but Could Ride

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — William Spangenbur, 52, admitted in City Court yesterday he had been driving since his operator's license "ran out 13 or 14 years ago."

* * *

Why didn't he renew it?

He would have liked to, said Willis, Trouble was he couldn't read and, while he could see the letters on an eye chart all right, he couldn't tell the examiner what they were, the defendant said.

* * *

Nothing unusual about the case he said and volunteered:

"I've got a brother in Syracuse who has been driving without a license for 18 years.

"He can't read either."

City Judge Walter J. Relihan said he did not know how the Spangenbergs had obtained a license in the first place.

Bogey Physically Ailing but Financially Chipper

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—When somebody asked the stricken Humphrey Bogart how he's fixed financially, Bogie exploded—with all his old humor and spirit—"Money! That's all we DO have!" . . . A job I don't want is being one of those detectives who have been tailing Joe Louis—for parties unknown.

Elvis Presley's reported asking price for another three TV shows is $100,000—but "Cunnel" Tom Parker denies it, saying he wants no more such commitments. Ed Sullivan isn't booking him again (some members of the Ford family are anti-Elvis), though Elvis got a 72.4 share of the audience Sunday. While Elvis is now 22, Parker thinks of him as still a teenager.

"This boy likes to play . . . if he didn't it wouldn't be normal," Parker tells me. "He's done pretty well for not knowin'!"

(My wife's daffy about him and thinks he's cute. She even thinks he can sing.)

BILL

Twelve prosperous years in Hollywood have surely matured Bill Holden—as proved by some pictures of him we've found that were taken when he was an Army private and 24 years old . . . Abby Lincoln, wears the same gown Marilyn Monroe wore in "How to Marry a Millionaire"—and off her it also looks good.

PEOPLE & THINGS: Henpeck, O. (pop. 20) wants the Ohio Highway Dept. to put a sign at each "entrance" to the village so motorists'll know when they're in Henpeck and out of it . . . Lou Lurie ("Mr. San Francisco") is trying to get his city to appoint young singing star Guy Cherney as official greeter . . . Bette Page, the Nashville-born pinup beauty, is being developed into Lili St. Cyr's "successor" by her agent, Miles Ingalls. Bette's working out her act now and says, compared to Lili, "It won't show so much of me."

ABBEY

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Baseball writers are mostly peeved about Jackie Robinson 'cause they have to rewrite the script for their annual show . . . Beverly Garland, the new movie honey, dates Lew Ayres, the old movie honey . . . Marilyn Monroe's veep, Milton H. Greene, wife and baby, flew to Jamaica to vacation—and also see MM.

Ray Ryan's wedding gift to Patti Page and Charlie O'Curran was a Thunderbird . . . A reporter interviewing George Gobel got the story—and mumps from George's kids . . . Sinatra's honey, Peggy Connelly, came to town a few days before he did . . . Gregg Sherwood Dodge offers a free week in plush Palm Springs to top entertainers who'll work her Heart Fund benefit ball . . .

Tito's Washington trip is off indefinitely—church pressure . . . Lady Iris Mountbatten's dating Don (Composer) Elliott . . . Gussie Moran may marry her former fiance, Ed Hand, after all . . .

EARL'S PEARLS . . .

One of the things that worry businessmen these days is the number of unemployed on the payroll.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "My idea of a good neighbor is one who, when he wants to borrow your corkscrew, asks you to bring it over."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Remember," asks LaVerne Baker, "when to be a success you studied for a career instead of a category?" That's earl, brother.

Meeting Competition

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — L. B. Smith, who runs a grocery store here, found a way to get even with a competitive store which cut the price of coffee below cost.

He advertised in the paper for kids who wanted to make money that he would buy unopened cans of standard brand coffee for 94 cents.

Hal Boyle Says:

Educator Blames Idleness for Delinquency

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid all the suggestions on how to cure the nation's growing problem of juvenile delinquency, Dr. Laurence C. Jones offers a simple, old-fashioned prescription:

"The only solution is to keep the young people busy. Give them something worthwhile to do. Then they'll stay out of trouble."

Does this remedy sound too easy? Dr. Jones says it has worked unfailingly with 6,000 boys and girls he has educated since 1909.

In that year Dr. Jones, a Northern Negro with a college degree, $1.65 in cash, a few clean shirts—and a lot of faith — started the Piney Woods Country Life School.

The site was a clearing in the woods 22 miles southeast of Jackson, Miss. His first desk was a stump. His first class consisted of three boys who could neither read nor write. The ceiling of his open-air classroom was a cedar tree.

NATIONALLY FAMOUS

Today Dr. Jones, known as "The Little Professor of Piney Woods," and his "work-as-you-go" school are nationally famous. Other educators listen with respect when he says:

"The boy gangs we have now are just a result of not giving our young people enough to do.

"They have energy and have to do something — good or bad. In the old days they had chores. They don't have enough chores at home anymore to keep them occupied."

"You have to keep them busy. You can't build enough boys' clubhouses to give them all the recreation they need. It would cost too much. But there are plenty of public schools already built that stand empty at night.

* * *

"Why not keep them open in the evening and provide them with programs to keep the young people busy? It would be a big help."

At 72, Dr. Jones, his brown face a lamp of kindness, is anxious to see more common-sense understanding applied to the problem of curbing juvenile delinquency.

* * *

In nearly a half century, helped by more than 50,000 individual contributors (both white and Negro), he has built up a million-dollar endownment for his own school, which now has 500 students, a faculty of 46, and a $250,000 plant consisting of eight buildings on 1,700 acres of farm and woodland.

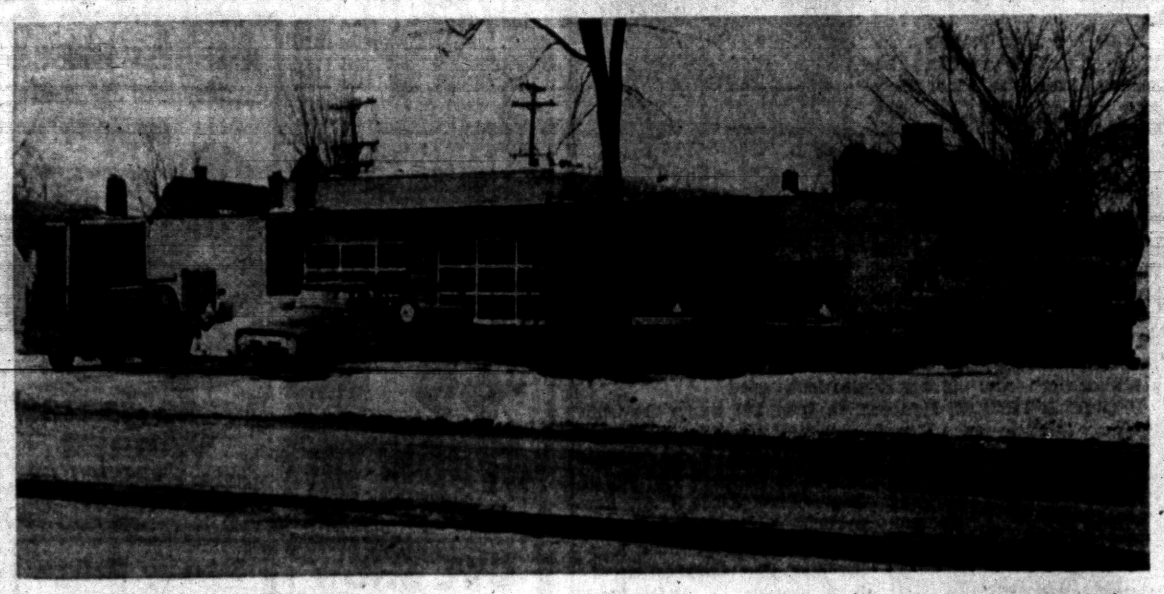

* * *

For his efforts Gov. Hugh White at a testimontial meeting in 1955 acclaimed him "Mississippi's first citizen."

Design Air-to-Air Missile

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — A new air-to-air guided missile has been developed by Hughes Aircraft Co., which says it will outmaneuver any enemy aircraft. It is designed to be launched from a jet interceptor. It is capable of soaring at supersonic speed to altitudes far above that of any interceptor plane, the company says.

Largest desert in the world is the Sahara in North Africa. It includes an area of about three million square miles.

Pontiac Press Photo

NEW FIRE STATION — It won't be long now before a force of firemen and trucks will be occupying the city's newest and fifth fire hall being constructed at Genesee and West Huron. City Manager Walter K. Willman said the $100,000 station should be completed by spring. Work on the modern 89 by 74-foot structure began Oct. 13 by the Chissus Construction Co. of Birmingham. It is being financed from funds from the city's 1956 and 1957 capital improvement program. The brick and cinder block building will house up-to-date living quarters for 14 men.

Legislators Pay 2 Men to Clean Out Cuspidors

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A man who has been cleaning up after members of the Texas House of Representatives for 61 years says the lawmakers are tidier these days.

"I remember when most of them wore long beards, stained with chewing tobacco and beer," says "Uncle" Henry Blair, head porter of the House and the oldest Texas capital employee.

"Last session I had only four tobacco chewers, but, of course, we still provide cuspidors and I have two cuspidor men."

Uncle Henry began work at the Texas Capital in 1895.

Probe Parakeets, Catfish

Develop Cancer Research

By RENNIE TAYLOR
A. P. Science Reporter

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Parakeets with huge brain tumors and catfish with cancer of the lip may help medical science to learn more about the cause of malignancy.

And the absence of cancer in some animals is as striking as its presence in others, a researcher from Ohio State University reported today.

"Cow udders are singularly free of cancer despite the fact that they are subjected to alternate periods of swelling and dryness and to injuries from milking. But in humans and mice, breast cancer is common. Canaries seldom develop malignancy, but one out of every seven chickens has a cancer or tumor.

Somewhere in this puzzling picture there must be clues to the origin of malignancy, Dr. Hans G. Schlumberger told a seminar sponsored by the Arizona division of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. Schlumberger could offer no theories to explain the strange findings which he has made in several years of research.

Parakeets develop many tumors of the pituitary gland, the tiny organ at the base of the brain which influences other glands in the body. Some of these growths become so large that they almost crowd the brain out of the skull and cause the eyes to bulge from their sockets, the researcher reported.

* * *

The prevalence of lip cancer in catfish may mean that there is a cancer-causing chemical in the rivers where they live, Dr. Schlumberger said. But no such chemical has been found so far.

Cancer in chickens and other meat animals is no hazard to humans who consume them, he said, since a cancerous chicken cell is destroyed by the human digestive system if not killed by the heat of cooking.

If the recent selections of All-American high school football players is any criterion, then Pennsylvania still remains as the the hot bed of prep football.

Of course Texas, which in recent years has challenged the claim of the Keystone State, would probably argue over using the All-American team as any judge, especially since Pennsylvania leads in the total list.

There were 55 players from Pennsylvania, 53 from Texas and 48 from California on the list of teams and honorable mentions.

These were the big three. Michigan had 17 listed and Vermont had none.

Other big states were Alabama with 27, Illinois with 24, Ohio with 20, Oklahoma and New York with 16 and Iowa with 18.

The players were selected by 1,229 daily newspapers, 1,009 radio stations, 307 telecasters, 123 college football scouts, and 310 football officials.

PENNSYLVANIA STILL THE HOTBED

One official noted that the Pennsylvania angle is especially strengthened by the fact that players from that state are on teams all over the country, while the majority of Texas prepsters stay in the home state.

It was also noted that one reason why Pennsylvania boys are more sought after is due to the fact that they can play in most any type climate, whereas many Texas boys would find it pretty rough playing often in snow and slush.

Of the Michigan boys listed on any of the teams or given mention, three were from Bay City Central, John Hallstead, Namon Smith and Dick Syring.

Some of the others given honorable mention were John Walker of Walled Lake, Alex Iloncaie of Almont, Al Luplow of Saginaw St. Andrew, John Sharp of Flint Northern, Hans Mercer of Alpena, Ralph Allswede of Midland, Paul Sabatin of the Soo, Norm Shamly of Port Huron and Fred Boylen of Grand Rapids CC among the noteworthy.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

Many of the state's top amateur fencers will appear at Pontiac High School from 1 to 7 p.m. in an elimination tournament which will determine the best in the ranks of men and women fencers.

The art of fencing is becoming quite popular in college and high school ranks.

In March, Detroit will be host to the National Collegiate Fencing Tournament, giving Michigan a boost as one of the states where the sport is growing the fastest.

Tam O'Shanter Golf Pro Aide Gets Ohio Post

Michigan Section PGA President Warren Orlick today announced that Ted Huffman, recently elected Michigan Section Secretary-Treasurer and his asistant at Tam O'Shanter for the past two seasons, has been appointed the golf professional at the Sunningdale Country Club in Toledo, Ohio.

Ted moves on to Sunningdale after serving his apprenticeship under Rod Munday, Harry Moffitt, Horton Smith, and Warren Orlick.

The Secretary-Treasurer vacancy, which was necessitated by Ted transferring from the Michigan Section to the Northern Ohio Section, was filled by Lou Powers who was approved by the Executive Committee.

OCSC Presents Wildlife Film

Members of OCSC are highly elated over recognition accorded Saturday's first game habitat work bee, a film version of which will be an important part of Michigan's observance of national wildlife week, March 17-23.

Conservation department has assigned chief photographer Robert Harrington to cover the work Saturday at the Ortonville, Holly and Bald Mountain recreation areas. Cutting brush, trees and building brush cover is the big job for this project.

Others will follow during the winter, all designed to assist the state in improving and preserving game habitats in this section. Saturday's job is an all-day affair.

OCSC and conservation officials met last fall to discuss the offer to help from the OCSC. It was accepted and the club is now full-length involved in the project.

The filmed version will go on some 16 stations in Michigan during the national wildlife week, OCSC secretary Howard Shelley says.

Maples Boost Edge in EML Tank Race

Throwing up a wake that swamped Mt. Clemens Bathers by a 69-22 count, last night in the Birmingham pool, Maples tank crew hung up its 2nd straight win. Jay Myers' lads are now 2-0 at the top of the Eastern Michigan League. Hazel Park and Ferndale tied yesterday to leave the Bathers and the Parkers tied for 2nd with 1-1-1 marks.

Three pool records fell to Maples and every first place but one was taken by Myers' team.

Myers considers the 200-yard freeystyle mark of 1:59.4 by Tom Bechtel probably the best in the area this winter. It broke the old BHS mark of 2:03.5 and is under the state record of 2:01.5 by a good margin.

Pete Sintz swam the 100-yard butterfly in 1:38 to wipe out a pool and school mark of 1:54. Both Bechtel and Sintz beat the old pool and school mark of 1:41.9 for the individual medley with times of 1:40.3 and 1:41.5 respectively.

Wings Beaten 2-1 to Lose NHL Lead

DETROIT (AP) — Don't look now, but there are some new tenants in the first spot in the National Hockey League standings.

While the Detroit Red Wings were taking a 2-1 loss at the hands of the Boston Bruins last night at the Olympia, the Montreal Canadiens skipped up into first place by edging the Toronto Maple Leafs by a similar count on the Montreal ice.

But Detroit general manager Jack Adams—never one to hold back the criticism when things are going rough for his club—put the blame on lady luck.

"We haven't had any breaks in weeks," Adams complained. "We might get a little something extra here and there, but more often than note lately everything has been going against us."

Actually, it was a stroke of good luck that brought Detroit's goal in the second period when Ted Lindsay's 20-footer bounced into the nets after caroming off the foot of Boston's Doug Mohns.

* * *

The Bruins, thoroughly outplayed in the first two periods and getting only 24 shots on goal, were a mighty group in the late going. With only eight shots in the third period, they made good on two of them to capture their second victory at Olympia. No other team has been able to whip the Wings on Detroit ice this season.

"We skated well enough to win by three goals," said Adams. "the puck just wouldn't bounce for us. Those rebounds just seemed to jump to Boston players every time."

Real Chevrefils' 19th goal and Leo Boivin's first brought the Bruins from behind in the third period for the triumph that earned for them a second-place tie with Detroit. Boivin's was the clincher and it climaxed a great Boston rush following the goal less than three minutes before by Chevrefils.

"Chevy" converted Leo Labine's pass to the front of the goalmouth into one score and minutes later Johnny Peirson's pass came to Boivin just 10 feet from the nets, and Boivin shoved it past Glenn Hall.

There were just four minor penalties in the contest, and the 12,319 spectators were treated to a sparkling contest highlighted by the goaltending of Red Wing castoff Terry Sawchuk.

Supposedly still suffering from the effects of an illness that sidelined him for a time, Sawchuk showed no signs of weakness last night. He turned back 35 Detroit assaults—once losing his stick and defending without it for about 30 seconds while the action centered around the Boston goal.

* * *

Detroit used four forwards, then pulled goalie Hall with 1:46 remaining in an effort to square the count. The Bruins never let the Wings come close, and nearly had an insurance goal against the open Wing nets but a long poke by Jerry Toppazzini sent wide by inches.

WING ATTEMPT FAILS — Red Wing Len Kelly (4) attempts to get one into the net but the save was made by Boston goalie Terry Sawchuck in last night's game at the Olympia. Gordie Howe (9) tries to get shot at the rebound but fails. Boston won the game, 2-1, to knock Detroit from 1st place.

Howell Praises Conerly at Pros' Pre-Tilt Party

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Very tall and personable Jim Lee Howell of the champion New York Giants football team reeled off the names of the outstanding players he is coaching for the seventh annual East-West pro-bowl game Sunday in Memorial Coliseum.

"And I purposely saved the best one for last,' said Howell, and added, "Charlie Conerly, our quarterback."

* * *

Howell, appearing at a post season Los Angeles Ram fan club luncheon which honored the 64 all-star players here for the game, declared:

"Conerly was our bread and butter player. He was the one most booed and hissed when the Giants were having their bad seasons.

"He was the one who took the abuse and the rushing when we had no line up front to protect him, but I always knew he was the most deserving player we ever had.

"This year we had a line to help him and he came through, just as most of us knew he would when he had the proper support."

So it was no surprise today when Howell named the 32-year-old veteran from Mississippi as his starting back for the East in the pro-bowl.

* * *

"Whatever credit I receive for our championship team belongs to Conerly," Howell added, and the player, seated at a table a few feet away, ducked his head and blushed.

Paddy Driscoll, coach of the Chicago Bears who lost to Conerly and Co. for the title, read off his roster of West stars—a starting backfield that includes Ed Brown at quarterback, Hugh McElhenny and Lenny Moore at halfback, and Rick Casares at fullback.

Driscoll named some others such as his ends, Harlon Hill, Billy Wilson and Bill Howton.

* * *

"The easiest thing for me to do now after listening to Paddy is concede the game and go on back to Arkansas," said Howell in his finest Ozark drawl.

* * *

Howell admitted he has some fancy backs himself, of course, leading off with the great Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals, who won the player of the game award last year, and Frank Gifford, the Giant halfback named as the most valuable player this season in the National Football League.

Washington-Nebraska Argue Over Coach

Hassle Develops at NCAA

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A hassle between the University of Washington and the University of Nebraska over the football coaching services of young Pete Elliott is the most lively topic at the wrapup session of the NCAA's 51st convention today.

Elliott, 32, an assistant to Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma before taking the Nebraska job a year ago, is the middle man in the controversy.

* * *

He has a polite "no comment" reply to all questions about it.

He doesn't deny, however, that he's been contacted by Washington officials and has talked "coaching" with a representative of the Pacific Coast Conference school.

Nebraska's Athletic Director, Bill Orwig, charged yesterday Washington had followed an unethical procedure in soliciting Elliott as successor to Darrell Royal, who recently took over the head coach's job at the University of Texas.

* * *

Orwig said he felt "a school seeking the services of an employe of another school should show the courtesy of first contacting the head man of the department involved."

George Briggs, Washington's athletic director, said:

"The football coaching job at my school is wide open. I'm still interviewing people."

Briggs acknowledged he contacted Elliott about the coaching job last month. He said he first called Orwig but Orwig wasn't available at the time.

* * *

The pot still was boiling with rumors over a number of other football coaching vacancies, among them the jobs at California, Indiana, Southern California, and Houston.

* * *

As for the convention itself, the important matters of recruiting procedures and financial aid to student athletes were before the general assembly of the NCAA.

It's considered unlikely, however there will be any fireworks on these matters on the floor of the convention.

* * *

Yesterday, Tom Hamilton, athletic director at the University of Pittsburgh and chairman of the youth fitness committee, advised the nation's athletic leaders they should increase their efforts and expenditures to avoid putting American youth in a bad state of affairs.

Carter Favored to Whip Baker

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Carter, an ambitious, young heavyweight on the way up, is a 9-5 choice to whip bulky Bob Baker, onetime leading challenger, in a 10-round bout tonight that could move the winner close to a title fight with champion Floyd Patterson.

* * *

Hurricane Tommy Jackson, the No. 1 contender, is believed to be set for the June crack at Patterson unless he runs into trouble because of his automobile accident. If the unorthodox Hurricane can't make it, Carter or Baker stand as good a chance as any of earning the lucrative shot.

* * *

The Carter-Baker fight, postponed from Nov. 16 because Baker came down with the virus, will be broadcast and telecast, NBC, 10 p.m. EST, coast to coast from Madison Square Garden.

* * *

When Pittsburgh Bob couldn't go on the original date, Carter defeated young Jack Johnson instead for his third straight victory.

* * *

With victories over Bob Satterfield and Johnny Summerlin, Carter, a 22-year-old Sunday school teacher from Linden, N.J., advanced to a No. 4 contender's rank with the NBA and third in the Ring ratings. Baker, now 30, still is the second contender in the NBA ratings and sixth with Ring.

Braves' Logan Sees Hot Race in Senior Loop

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves doesn't agree with teammate Billy Bruton's 'Birdie Tebbetts-like statement that the National League race could be a runaway "if Cincinnati gets a little pitching help."

* * *

"I don't see it that way at all," said shortstop Logan today, "Far from a runaway for any team, I think it'll be another three or four team race right down to the wire just like last season."

* * *

Bruton was quoted in Detroit Wednesday as saying all the Redlegs possessed tremendous power, a beautiful defense and "all they need is a little more pitching." He laso said he didn't think Brooklyn would be as strong in 1957.

Chiefs Meet Northern Tonight

PHS Foe Hit With Suspensions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor Pontiac Press

A long standing jinx may come to an end tonight when unbeaten Pontiac High School shoots for its 6th straight victory against Flint Northern on the Chiefs' court.

Northern, always a tough customer for Pontiac, had its basketball team hit with disciplinary action. Coach Jack Marlette suspended four players on the team for at least a week as a disciplinary measure.

* * *

Two of the four were regulars, the loss of whom could hurt the Vikings tonight. Forwards Cliff Carr and Ron Warren were the two regulars suspended along with guards Maurice Woodson and Earl Bryant.

Marlette took the action yesterday after the players failed to report to drills Wednesday, the day following Northern's loss to Flint Central.

How much their loss will hurt the Vikings remains to be seen. Marlette has used an average of 10 players a game enabling them to gain some experience.

Pontiac almost had a problem of its own when center Hud Ray came down with flu and was not able to practice a couple days this week.

"He feels better, and he should be ready for this game," said coach Art Van Ryzin.

Van Ryzin, pointed to the fact that despite Northern's poor shooting percentage against Central this week, the Vikings still got away nearly 80 shots.

"If they can get that many shots and have a hot night, we could be in trouble," said Van Ryzin.

The Chief coach also pointed out that Northern only permitted Central to take 47 shots.

With Roosevelt Alexander on the reserve team, Van Ryzin decided to go along with Dick Whitmer and Jim Skinner at the forwards. Skinner played his first game, since gaining eligibility, against Bay City.

"He can help us on the boards, and if he don't then we can put Terry Zellhart back at the position,' said Van Ryzin.

A victory tonight could put Pontiac within striking distance of the school's longest winning streak which stands at eight straight wins.

"What I'd like to do for change is take the lead and stay out in front," said Van Ryzin in reference to the five games to date in which PHS had fallen behind in the opening minutes in each instance.

A capacity crowd is expected to jam the PHS gym with the tipoff slated for 8:00 p.m.

Shamrock Quintet Enjoys 70-39 Rout of St. Mary

Something amounting to a good practice session took place in the Pontiac High School gymnasium last night when St. Michael cruised to a runaway 70-39 victory over Royal Oak St. Mary in a Suburban Catholic League basketball game.

* * *

The Shamrocks got off to a flying start with a 22-5 1st quarter lead and the visitors were never in the contest. St. Mike's halftime advantage was increased to 34-13.

It was the 3rd league win in four starts for the Shamrocks, keeping their SCL title hopes alive, and gave them an overall record of 4-1. The defeat was St. Mary's 2nd in three attempts.

* * *

St. Mary's closest approach to the Mikes was in the 3rd quarter when coach Bob Mineweaser poured substitutes into the battle. The Irish came within 10 points before the St. Mike regulars again took charge.

Although 11 Shamrock cagers saw action, five of them accounted for all the scoring. Four players hit double figures. Chuck Brown and Dan Dropps each fired 20 points, Bob Mineweaser scored 16 and Ken Halpin tallied 11.

* * *

St. Mike enjoyed an accurate evening at the free throw stripe, making 28 out of 40. Brown did the best job, a perfect 10 for 10, while Halpin had a flawless five for five. Dropps collected eight in 11 tries.

* * *

St. Mary's junior varsity defeated the Mike reserves, 41-26, in the preliminary game. Schaven scored a dozen points for the Irish.

GANG WRESTLING — St. Michael cager Dan Dropps appears to be taking on the entire Royal Oak St. Mary basketball team in a wrestling match in their game last night at Pontiac High. St. Mike won the encounter, 70-39, for its 4th win in five games.

Jefferson, Braves Trounce Loop Foes

Jefferson waltzed to its 3rd straight win and defending champion Washington had no difficulty with Eastern in Pontiac Junior High League basketball games Thursday afternoon.

* * *

Unbeaten Jefferson handed Lincoln Junior High a 29-20 setback on the Lincoln court. The Braves coasted to their 2nd victory without defeat, a 30-23 decision at home, behind Adolphus Houston's 10 points. Fred Brooks scored 11 for Eastern.

* * *

In Junior Varsity games, Washington walloped the Redskins, 46-28, and Lincoln bowed to the Warriors, 24-19.

Top Sports Men at Bust

A long list of outstanding sports celebrities will be represented at the annual Father and Son banquet to be held Thursday night, January 17th at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

The affair, always one of the banquet highlights of the year, drew a record crowd last year and is expected to equal any previous marks next week.

Alger Conner is chairman of the banquet with sportscaster Bob Reynolds acting as toastmaster.

Among the sports figures on the guest list, which is still incomplete, there are such names as Billy Pierce, Sid Abel, Fred Knorr, Lou Creekmur, Dorn Dibble, Chuck Davey, Chuck Speiser, Lloyd Brazil, Bob Dove, Bob Calihan, Doug Weaver, Muddy Waters, Bob Holloway, Lt. Gov. Phil Hart and Dave Smith, Oakland County's Prep-Coach-of-the-Year.

A special guest will be "Milky," the Twin Pines magic clown.

The dinner will get under way at 7:00 p.m. and tickets are available at the lodge or from members of the Elks.

Numerous athletic awards including autographed footballs by the Detroit Lions will be presented as prizes.

Fencers Duel Sunday

A rare visitor to Pontiac — fencing — will put in an appearance here Sunday at the Pontiac High School boys gymnasium.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Fencing Club and the Michigan Division of the Amateur Fencing League of America will conduct a prep class tournament at that time from 1 to 7 p.m.

Contestants will be here from several Michigan cities, including Pontiac, for this tournament, which is a required event for swordsmen desiring to fence in other types of tourneys.

Entries are expected from Detroit, Dearborn, Lapeer, Ann Arbor, East Lansing, Flint, Saginaw and Birmingham as well as Pontiac. Between 50 and 60 are anticipated.

Outstanding city fencers who will compete Sunday are Richard Bell and Emmanual Johnson in the men's division and Barbara Martin and Mary Lee McGinley in the women's group.

At stake will be two prep class championships — men's and women's. The affair is open to all fencers who have not competed in any previous open amateur tourney.

Robert Derderian, president of the Michigan Division of the AFLA is tourney chairman, assisted by Eldon Gardner, Parks and Recreation Department fencing instructor. Tournament officials will be ranking fencers from the Pontiac area.

The public is invited to attend and there is no admission charge.

Tourist Association Meets at Mt. Holly

Eastern Michigan Tourist Association officials, ski area publicitors and newspaper people will take part in a conference next Wednesday at Mt. Holly Ski Park, Mort Graddis, Mt. Holly head announced today.

State's newest ski layout will be inspected and visitors will try the slopes.

Heaviest Prep Card of Season on Tap

By BILL CORNWELL

Undefeated Walled Lake moves warily into Waterford and St. Frederick spreads out the welcome mat for Orchard Lake St. Mary to share the spotlight on tonight's crowded prep basketball program in the Oakland County area.

* * *

A total of 32 high school games cram the agenda, including complete cards in eight leagues, and an evening chocked full of excitement is in view.

The Walled Lake - Waterford clash promises to be a dilly. A Viking powerhouse which has brushed aside five opponents, two in Inter-Lakes Conference action, faces the prospect of a fired-up Skipper quintet for tonight's top I-L encounter.

To Walled Lake it will be another stepping stone on the way to the Inter-Lakes title, a feat already accomplished on the gridiron. For Waterford it will be something of a grudge match.

Last fall the Skippers and Vikings met on the football field in a showdown battle for the I-L crown. Walled Lake won a thriller, 12-7, and carried on to an unblemished record and a handful of post-season honors.

So it will be a case of Waterford seeking revenge for something it lost — the Inter-Lakes grid championship. An upset win tonight won't bring back the title, but it would soothe a lot of ruffled feelings in Skipperland.

* * *

St. Fred, away to its finest season in recent years, meets another unbeaten power in St. Mary. The Eaglets boast a 2-0 record in the Suburban Catholic League and an overall mark of 4-0. The Rams have a 2-1 league standing and 4-1 record in all.

Two contests of great importance are on tap in the Eastern Michigan circuit. Defending champion Port Huron, stunned by Ferndale last Friday, invades Birmingham while East Detroit and Ferndale collide at East Detroit.

Despite Northville's running start towards the Wayne-Oakland Conference crown, a hectic W-O slate is promised. Two winless teams, West Bloomfield and Milford, square off at West Bloomfield and Clarkston and Holly, two evenly-matched squads, lock horns on the Holly court to highlight the card.

The Oakland B League program appears to be the dullest one of the bunch, although Madison's trip to Clawson could prove interesting. Avondale again tries to find the winning combination at Roseville and unbeaten Troy hosts Fitzgerald.

Pace-setting Almont's journey to Armada features the Southern Thumb League schedule, which also includes Dryden at Memphis and Capac at Brown City. North Branch plays host to winless Oxford and Ortonville entertains Millington in South Central Conference play.

Tonight's No. 1 independent attraction matches Rochester and Lapeer on the Rochester floor. Romeo and Cranbrook meet ot Romeo in a return engagement while Bloomfield Hills faces a rough assignment at Harper Woods. Utica returns to action against visiting Mt. Clemens St. Mary.

Pontiac's duel here with Flint Northern tops the Saginaw Valley Conference slate and Farmington's tussle at Berkley is of high interest in the Inter-Lakes race.

PRIME FOR UPSET — An upset of powerful Walled Lake will be the goal of these four Waterford High School basketball players when the Skippers collide with the unbeaten Vikings tonight in an Inter-Lakes Conference game at Waterford. From left to right are Chuck Gillis, one of Oakland County's leading scorers; John Herrington, whose red-hot 2nd half led to Avondale's defeat last Tuesday night; Ron Seets and Jim Devine.

Excellent Skiing, Good Ice Fishing in County's Area

By H. GUY MOATS

Winter's heaviest snowfall in this area has brought excellent skiing on the several recreation area layouts in the county, with from eight to 24 inches of good snow on a packed base.

Drop in temperature has also made a lot of good ice on many area lakes, with consequent improvement in the ice-fishing sport. However, conservation officers report that there is not yet heavy enough ice to permit driving cars on the surfaces.

Fishermen are also warned to watch for thin ice over airholes. Perch, bluegills and cisco are being taken on a number of lakes. Oxbow, particularly, is producing some nice cisco. Some have been taken on pearl lures; small Russian spoons, or similar jigging lures, that hit from 2 to 4 pounds.

* * *

Pontiac Ski Club at Teeple Hill, Highland Recreation area, is now in full swing, with excellent skiing, all tows in operation. Mt. Holly's 12 to 24 inches of "made" snow over the natural 6-inch fall has made for the best skiing of the winter so far at the new area, 18 miles north of Pontiac.. Fine ski sports are also reported for Kensington Metro park area, but there will not be any skating at Kensington until the weekend.

All upstate ski resorts and sports areas today reported excellent conditions for all winter activities, skiing, skating, fishing.

Avondale All-Sport Banquet Is Slated

Avondale High School will hold its annual all - sports banquet, Wednesday evening January 16th, starting at 6:30 p.m. with an invitation for all Yellow Jacket fans to attend.

Bill Kelly, Central Michigan football coach and Gary Stauffer, basketball coach at Alma College, will be the guest speakers.

A total of 140 athletes of all the Jacket athletic teams will be honored.

Canadiens in 1st Place

Near Riot at Montreal

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

You'd think it was Stanley Cup time the way the top teams in the National Hockey League are battling these days. And in Montreal, even the fans aren't content to wait for completion of the regular 70-game schedule before reaching peak form.

Last night they vocalized strongly and threw programs as the Canadiens grabbed first place from the Detroit Red Wings by edging the Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1.

Canadiens' supporters, who usually save their most heated outbursts for the playoffs, became incensed at the work of referee Frank Udvari and eventually turned their wrath on league president Clarence Campbell. In March 1955 Campbell suspended Canadien star Maurice (Rocket) Richard and provoked a riot in the Montreal Forum.

Perhaps the only thing that prevented another one was Don Marshall's goal with six seconds left. It meant victory for Montreal and soothed the fans somewhat.

* * *

Richard scored the other Montreal goal at 17:12 of the second period and he later was penalized for high sticking.

When he returned to the ice he began arguing vehemently with Udvari. He slammed his stick to the ice, breaking it cleanly, and Udvari handed him a 10-minute misconduct penalty, and the fans, who already had demonstrated twice with shouting and program throwing, let loose again.

After the penalty against Richard some fans began to gather near in the aisles near the box where the president sat with his wife. Policemen and ushers stood guard around the box at the end of the game when the crowd demonstrated for a fourth time.

NCAA Okays Track Marks

ST. LOUIS (INS)—Dave Sime, Duke University sprinter, was credited with three new records today as the NCAA approved 10 new national marks.

* * *

Sime shared a new record of nine and three-tenths seconds for the 100-yard dash with Leamon King of California.

Sime also set new standards in the 220-yard dash and the 220-yard low hurdles.

* * *

The new records approved are:

100 yard dash, 9.3 seconds, Dave Sime, Duke, and Leamon King, California.
220-yard dash, 20.0 Dave Sime.
220-yard low hurdles, 22.2, Dave Sime.
One mile run, 3:58.6, James Bailey, Oregon.
Shot put, 60 feet, 3¾ inches, Bill Neider, Kansas U.
Pole vault, 15 feet, 3¾ inches, Don Bragg, Villanova.
Hammer throw, 204 feet, 5½ inches, Albert Hall, Cornell U.
Hop, step and jump, 51 feet, 4¾ inches, Ira Davis, LaSalle.
440-yard relay, 40.1 seconds, University of Texas (George Schneider, Jerry Prewit, Bobby Whilden and J. Frank Daugherty).
880 yard relay, 1:24.0, Abilene Christian (Don Cander, Bill Woodhouse, James Segrest and Bobby Morrow).

Drayton Rallies to Beat Louie's

Late rallies brought victory to Drayton Drug and Matthews-Hargreaves in Waterford League basketball games Thursday night at Isaac Crary Junior High.

Drayton Drug staged a 4th quarter uprising to edge Louie's Tavern, 51-48, and move into a tie for 1st place with Philgas on a 5-1 record. Matthews-Hargreaves 4th period surge nosed out Johnson & Anderson, 57-54.

The Drug quintet, which trailed Louie's at halftime, 30-13, and 42-30 going into the last period, took the lead for good in the final minute of play on a basket by Mike Haines.

Bill York with 14 points and Bob Pickett with a dozen were high scorers for Drayton. Jim Robison tallied 12 for Louie's club.

Jerry Bradley netted 20 points to spark the Matthews-Hargreaves quintet, Johnson & Anderson's top point-maker was John Newcombe with 16.

Lions Now Turn to Cage Games for Polio Fund

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions' basketball team, loaded with brawn but lacking in finesse, begins its winter-long campaign this month with a pair of polio benefits.

The team features Dorne Dibble, Jug Girard, Sonny Gandee, Jerry Reichow, Charlie Ane, Lou Creekmur, Oliver Spencer, Bill Bowman and Gene Gedman. It will play March-of-Dimes games in Mt. Clemens and Wyandotte, and has other contests scheduled in Royal Oak and Romeo.

PHS Swimmers Scent Victory

Invade Vikings' Pool Tonight Seeking First Conference Win

There was optimism today in the ranks of Pontiac High School swimming squad over prospects for the club's first Saginaw Valley Conference victory of the season. Bob Boyce's crew goes to Flint Northern tonight to splash against the winless Vikings. Meet is the first between the schools, as this team is Northern's first of all time.

Hopes for a win are based on the showing made by Northern on Wednesday, and by Pontiac, against a common opponent. Vikings were sunk by Flint Central's co-leading Valley club 77-19. Chiefs bowed to Alex Crane's tankers 64-32. Northern lost to Arthur Hill, 80-17 while PHS was defeated 63-33 by the 'Jacks.

In other Valley matches of significance for tonight, Indians and 'Jacks put their leadership on the line against Trojans and Wolves, with Central drawing possibly the hardest opponent.

Freestyler Jim Conforth, a mid-term loss for Chiefs, still has tonight's meet and the Jan. 18 Saginaw meet left. One replacement for the versatile Conforth is Dennis Roberts (soph.) being groomed for the 40-yard freestyle. Others in the lineup will include about the same crew that swam the Bay City match on Dec. 19.

'Sweetpea' Gets Draw

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rallying in the last four rounds, Billy (Sweetpea) Peacock gained a draw in 10 rounds last night against Larry Bataan, former bantamweight champion of the Philippines. Bataan weighed 124½, Peacock 123. The bout drew 2,000 at Olympic Auditorium.

Plenty of Snow Means Happy Skiing Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Skiers can look forward to excellent skiing throughout Michigan this weekend, thanks to a heavy fall of fluffy snow Thursday.

Slides in upper Michigan already had plenty of snow. The Michigan Tech Ski area, at Houghton-Hancock, had two inches of powdery snow over 12 inches of packed base. Night skiing is scheduled Wednesdays under lights. All tows are operating.

A fresh snowfall of nearly a foot, with freezing temperatures to keep it intact, was a boon to skiing in the Detroit area. Reports from resorts in the Detroit area include:

MT. HOLLY SKI AREA, 20 miles north of Pontiac on Woodward, U.S. 10—12 to 24 inches base, six inches new powder. Six electrically operated tows. Skiing excellent.

KENSINGTON Metropolitan Park area —Six inches powder snow. Tobogganing and skiing fair to good. No skating before weekend. Good ice fishing.

TEEPLE HILL area operated by Pontiac Ski Club, 12 miles west of Pontiac on M59 — two inches base, 11½ inches new snow. Five tows operating. Excellent skiing.

SKYLINE, near Roscommon — 6-inch base, 1 inch new snow. Skiing excellent.

HIGHLAND RECREATION Area — 9 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

PIONEER HILLS, near Roscommon — 6-inch base, 3 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

SHERIDAN VALLEY, Woodridge Ski area and Silver Beach Ski resort, near Lewiston — 6-8-inch base, 2 inches new snow. Skiing excellent. (Electoral ball Saturday for Lewiston winter carnival queen.)

SILVER VALLEY, near the Tawases — 2-inch base, 2 inches new snow. Skiing fair.

GRISWOLD MT., near Indian River—8-10-inch base, 1 inch new snow. Skiing excellent.

HOUGHTON LAKE snow bowl, near Houghton Lake — 7-inch base, 1-inch new snow. Skiing good.

SNOW VALLEY, Waters Ski Village, Sylvan Knob, Au Sable Ranch & Ski Club, Gay El Rancho Ski Club, and Otsego Ski Club, all near Gaylord — 10-inch base with 4-6 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

SNOW SNAKE MT., between Clare and Harrison — 4-inch base, 2 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

BLACK MT. ski area, between Cheboygan, Onaway and Rogers City — 7-8 inch base, 6 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

GRAYLING winter sports park, Lovell's winter playland, near Grayling — 5-inch base, 3-4 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

MIO MT., near Mio — 5-inch base, 2 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

OGEMAW HILLS, near West Branch — 5 inch base, 2 inches new snow. Skiing excellent.

IRON MT. ski area, in Upper Peninsula — 7-14 inch base, 4 inches powder. Skiing excellent.

Canadians Lead Curling Series

DETROIT (AP) — Canadian Rinks held a 20-4 lead today after the first round of competition for the J. Ahern cup, the top trophy in the 71st International Bonspiel.

* * *

Only two rinks from the host Detroit Curling Club were able to take first round matches for the United States yesterday.

Some 40 rinks — 20 each from the United States and Canada—are competing in the Bonspiel which ends Sunday.

The United States has won only once in eight tries for the Ahern cup. The cup is awarded on total points scored by U.S. and Canadian teams during the four day Bonspiel.

Seal Quits Swim Job

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A seal won't be teaching boys to swim faster any more at Monsignor Bonner High. Jack Seal resigned as swimming coach yesterday.

Wings Sign Youngster

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—Bob Geddes, 19-year-old hockey player, has signed a tryout contract with the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and will report to their training camp next fall.

Star Swimmers Engaged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two of the nation's outstanding aquatic champions, Marley Shriver of Glendale, Calif., and Gary Tobian of Hollywood, have announced their engagement.

Big-Name Stars in Tennis Show to Help Larsen

NEW YORK (AP)—Nine of the big names in tennis will compete in five exhibition matches tonight at the Seventh Regiment Armory to raise money for the Art Larsen Benefit Fund.

All proceeds will go toward defraying the medical expenses of Larsen, former national singles champion, who was critically injured in a motor scooter accident in California last November.

Larsen, one of the most colorful and popular of the world's touring amateur players, has recovered enough to be moved to his home in San Leandro, Calif., but remains partially paralyzed and is able to speak only a few words at a time.

Junior Hockey Tourney Renews Activity Saturday

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's Junior Hockey Tournament will resume Saturday morning with three games at the North Side ice skating rink. A single contest is scheduled Sunday morning.

Six teams from a starting field of 14 now remain in the double-elimination tourney, held each weekend on North Side ice.

In tomorrow's action, Dean's Waterford Hardware plays the White Lake Flyers in the 8:30 a. m. opener, Nestor's All-Stars meet the Boys Club at 9:30 and Rogers' Triggers face Dick & Wes at 10:30 o'clock.

The Nestor's All-Star-Boys Club encounter matches the only undefeated clubs left in the tournament.

Sunday's lone game, scheduled at 9 a. m., pits the Nestor's-Boys Club loser against the Dean's-White Lake winner. Single games will be played on the following Saturday and Sunday mornings at 9 o'clock. If another game is required to decide the championship, it will be held Saturday, Jan. 26, at 9 a. m.

The winner of the tourney will participate in an exhibition contest at the annual Pontiac Ice Carnival, co-sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department and the North Side Community Club.

Wiffi in Debut as Pro Golfer

SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — The $5,000 Sea Island Invitation tournament—first of 34 events in 1957 to be sponsored by the ladies Professional Golfers Assn.—opened today with a field of 66 entrants.

Marlene Bauer Hagge, who won eight tournaments and raked in a record $20,235 in purses last year, headed an impressive list of 21 pro participants.

Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio, winner of the 1956 Tam O'Shanter World Amateur tournament, was the amateur favorite.

Mrs. Hagge, won the third playing of this tournament last year, will have to contend again this trip with such veterans as Louise Suggs, the host pro, Patty Berg, Betsy Rawls and Fay Crocker.

Wiffi Smith, 1953 British Amateur champion and this country's top amateur for several years, made her pro debut today together with two others—Ruthie Jessen of Seattle and Diane Garrett, youngest member of the tour at 19.

Finsterwald Leads in Panama Tourney

PANAMA, Panama (AP) — Dow Finsterwald took a two-stroke lead into the second round of the 72-hole Panama Open today. The Athens, Ohio, pro started off poorly in yesterday's opening round but scored eight birdies on the last 14 holes for a 5-under-par 67.

Defending champion Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., Mike Fetchick, Mahopac, N.Y., and Fidel Deluca of Argentina were tied for second with 69.

Three strokes behind Finsterwald, the No. 2 money winner last year, were Doug Ford of Mahopac and Doug Sanders of Miami.

Joe Conrad, former British Amateur champion making his professional debut, shot a 72.

Union to Foot Bill for Top Bands at Inauguration

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Federation of Musicians says it is rounding up "a dozen or more of the country's top-name musical units" for President Eisenhower's inauguration — and the union will foot the bill.

* * *

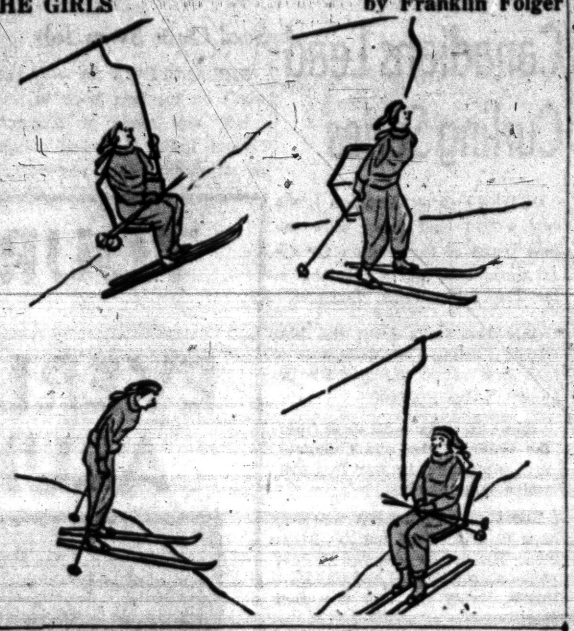

James C. Petrillo, AFM president, said yesterday the union will spend about $100,000 on the music for various inaugural events in Washington Jan. 19, 20, and 21.

* * *

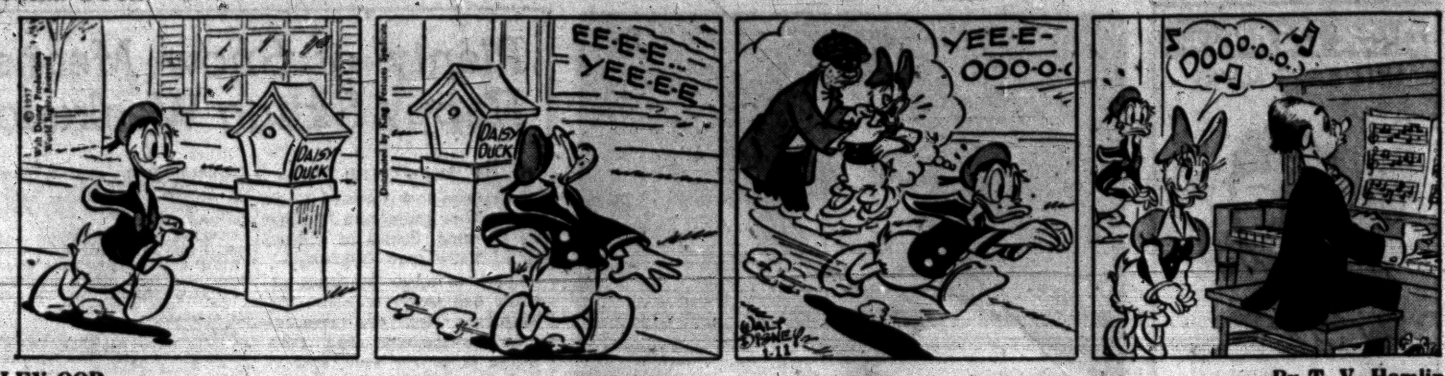

Among the musicians the union said would take part are Lawrence Welk, Guy Lombardo, Fred Waring, Meyer Davis, Louis Armstrong, Emil Coleman, Lionel Hampton and Phil Spitalny.

Market Moves Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Slightly higher prices prevailed in early stock market trading today.

* * *

Pivotal stocks made small gains in fair turnover. After an active opening the pace slowed.

There was a scattering of small losses and some larger gains by specialties.

* * *

The market on average was still hovering just below the iterim high reached in September, a point which has offered resistance on three past occasions.

While there were indications of easier money which ordinarily would spur buying, brokers said that the usual caution prevailing before a weekend was noticeable.

* * *

Steels, oils and a number of leading rails were mostly ahead and aircrafts were steady.

International Nickel registered a gain of about a point and Schering's advance was beyond that.

* * *

General Motors eased but other motor stocks were firm. Caterpillar dropped around a point. Pan-American World Airways and United Airlines posted fractional gains.

Bethlehem Steel, Gulf Oil and Texas Co. were up major fractions. Kennecott, Homestake, Westinghouse Electric and Northern Pacific also gained. Union Pacific dropped a fraction.

* * *

Opening blocks included U. S. Steel up ¼ at 70¾ on 1,500 Lowe's off ⅛ at 21 on 1,200 shares, Philadelphia Electric off ¼ at 36½ on 3,000 and Radio Corp. up ¼ at 33⅞ on 1,000 shares.

Grains Gain, Then Retreat

CHICAGO (AP) — A brisk buying flurry at the start and in the first few minutes ran into plenty of opposition on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

Prices firmed fractionally to more than a cent early and then retreated when it became apparent quite a lot of grain was for sale at slightly above previous closing prices. Dealings were active.

* * *

Soybeans led the early advance and generally acted better than the rest of the market, helped along by continued strength in soybean meal.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ higher, March $2.41⅜; corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, March $1.36; oats ¼ to ½ higher, March 79; rye ¼ to ¾ higher, March $1.47½; soybeans ½ to ⅞ higher, January $2.49½, and lard 8 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $15.47.

Displays, which included many Pontiac Motor employes and their suggestions, were viewed enthusiastically by hundreds of delegates from organizations from all over the nation.

H. G. Kolpien, promotional award chairman for the National Association of Suggestion Systems, presented the promotional award plaque to William J. Malinowski, suggestion chairman of Pontiac Motor Division.

Quiz Suspect in Barron Death

Husband of Fan Said to Have Made Threats Against Disc Jockey

RICHMOND (INS)—State Police today were holding the husband of one of Lonnie Barron's fans for investigation of the 24-year-old hillbilly disc jockey's murder.

* * *

Roger L. Fetting, 36, of Lexington Heights, which is about 43 miles from the cottage near Muttonville in which Barron's body was found Wednesday night, steadfastly denied the slaying.

However, police have located three persons who said that Barron told them Fetting had threatened his life.

Fetting is a brother of Mrs. Jeanne Kerr, head of the fan club dedicated to spreading the fame of the "Mississippi farm boy" entertainer.

* * *

Barron's fiancee, Edna Gunter, said it was Mrs. Kerr who tipped off the slain man that Fetting was gunning for him. The reason given was that Fetting had been angered when he found a letter which his wife had written to Barron, but had not yet mailed.

Fetting, a carpenter, told police he was at a meeting of his union in Port Huron from 7:30 to 11 p.m. Tuesday. He said he drove to his home, about 25 miles north of Port Huron, after the meeting and that he did not leave home during the night.

Barron's body was found in the bathroom of his five-room bachelor cottage, slumped over several boxes of fan letters he had received as a disc jockey on Marine City radio station WDOG. He had been shot twice.

Puts Prize Tag on Honesty —Loses Out!

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Alderman William A. Thompson takes a dim view of people who put a price tag on honesty.

A woman appeared before him who refused to return a purse she had found because she thought the $5 reward was insufficient payment for her honesty.

Thompson told the lady to return the purse, which contained a set of contact lenses valued at $50. She lost her reward. And—bitterest blow of all — she was fined $11 court costs.

None of the parties were identified.

Originally the finder telephoned the loser and refused to give up the purse when she was told the reward was only $5. Prosecution on a charge of fraudulent conversion followed.

The charge was dropped but Thompson ordered the finder to pay costs of the hearing.

Stouffer to Expand

CLEVELAND (AP) — Plans for a $4 million expansion of the Stouffer Corp., national restaurant chain, have been announced by the board of directors. Vernon Stouffer, 55, co-founder of the 33-year-old Cleveland firm, assumed the post of chairman of the board, succeeding his brother, Gordon A. Stouffer, who died last June 6.

O'Rourke Heads Probe at Flint

Retained to Direct Graft Investigation Despite Removal Request

FLINT (AP)—Jerome F. O'Rourke, Genesee County prosecutor, was named yesterday to direct Flint's graft grand jury investigation.

Circuit Judge Michael Carland of Owosso, who is conducting the probe, said O'Rourke would be retained as special prosecutor.

* * *

It was O'Rourke who asked for a grand jury to look into allegations of protection payoffs to police by Flint gamblers.

The jury was called Monday after two Flint men were arrested on gambling conspiracy charges. They were Jacob M. Waldo, 55, a politician, and James B. Barrace, 44, a hotel owner.

A. Matthew Buder, Republican county chairman, had demanded O'Rourke remove himself from the investigatiion because of his previous friendship with Waldo. O'Rourke has replied that the fact he recommended a warrant against Waldo should answer "any criticism of my conduct as prosecutor."

TO RETURN WEDNESDAY

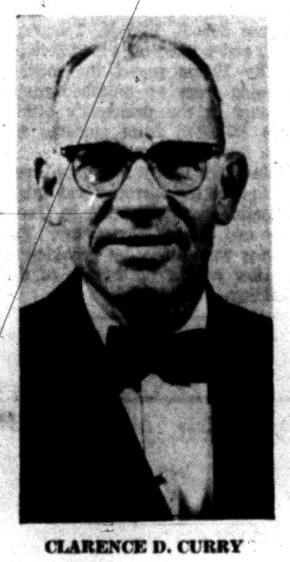

Fifty-three of 71 witnesses subpoenaed by O'Rourke appeared at the County Building yesterday. They were ordered to return Wednesday when Judge Carland will begin taking testimony.

The judge plans a four-day-a-week schedule, reserving Mondays to hear cases in his own circuit 25 miles distant.

* * *

Meanwhile, police continued their search for a woman telephone caller who warned O'Rourke to "lay off" the investigation or "meet destruction."

A special police detail is guarding O'Rourke's home.

CLARENCE D. CURRY

Officers Elected at Masonic Meeting

New president of the Quadrant Low Twelve Club, a Masonic organization, is Clarence D. Curry, 918 Canterbury Dr., Pontiac.

Officers were elected at the 11th annual meeting of the group held Wednesday at the Rooseevlt Temple on State street.

* * *

Other officers chosen for 1957 by club members, who originally formed to furnish immediate relief to beneficiaries of deceased members, include LeRoy Segnitz, vice president; Roy Wilson, treasurer and Lloyd Burnes, secretary.

George Thompson of Pontiac Lodge No. 21 was elected to a three-year term on the Board of Governors.

* * *

Also on the board are Harvey Perry of Roosevelt Lodge No. 510; Paul Kemp of Brotherhood Lodge No. 561 and the three worshipful masters of Pontiac's three Masonic Blue Lodges; William Anderson of Pontiac No. 21; Winford Bottom, Roosevelt No. 510 and Floyd Mortenson, Brotherhood 561.

Two Kids, Two Guns, 1 Stilled Heart

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A shotgun carried by a 7-year-old boy discharged accidentally yesterday, killing the youngster's 15-year-old brother.

Police said the two boys, Steven Schragg of Ceresco and his younger brother, Michael, were hunting near their home in Calhoun County seven miles southeast of Battle Creek.

Steven had been carrying a .410 gauge shotgun and Michael a B-B gun. The boys exchanged weapons and moments later the shotgun discharged. The blast hit Steven in the heart.

Police said the gun apparently was cocked when Steven handed it to Michael and the younger boy did not realize it.

Speedway Hikes Gas

DETROIT (AP) — Speedway Petroleum Corp. has joined Standard Oil of Indiana in boosting the wholesale price of gasoline a penny a gallon. Standard announced price increases Wednesday on all refined products.

Airport Manager Reports Past Year a Busy One

Business was good at Pontiac Municipal Airport during 1956, according to an annual report submitted by Homer C. Hoskins, airport manager.

There were 69,730 flight operations as compared to 62,560 in 1955. Personnel and cargo trips went up from 9,684 in 1955 to 11,860 during the past year.

The major improvement completed was that of the new 4,000 by 100-foot east-west which has paved the way for possible commercial airline service into Pontiac for the first time in the city's history.

Sale of gasoline at the local field picked up also. In 1956 there were 145,658 gallons purchased as compared to 136,679 in 1955. The money goes into the city's general funds.

Completion of the new runway, the longest at the field, as well as a paralleling 6,500 by 40-foot taxi strip, resulted in the leasing of three large plots of land where hangars are being constructed Hoskins reported.

"There was an average of 155 aircraft based at the airport" Hoskins said "nineteen of which were twin-engine." Eighty - two per cent of the planes are business or corporation owned.

The major maintenance project completed during the past year was the application of a new surface to the south-west and north-east runways. New 25-watt lights were aded to these two runways.

A 600 by 40-foot taxiway was graded and a gravel base applied to serve the new corporation hangar area.

"The outlook for 1957 is for another year of increased activity" Hoskins said.

State Hospital Worker Reports Wallet Stolen

Eslpeth Ireland, social worker at the Pontiac State Hospital, told city police her wallet containing $80 was taken from her desk Wednesday.

The woman said the black leather wallet must have been stolen rom the Social Service Room at the hospital between 8 and 9 a.m. A former address in Muskegon is used on the identification papers.

Suspected Pair Seized in Detroit

Doubting Relative Calls Police; Woman Robbed, Identifies Captors

DETROIT (AP) — Two escaped convicts who are accused of kidnaping a Jackson woman and driving her car to Detroit were captured last night.

A relative called police when she became suspicious of their story they had been released from Southern Michigan Prison to "help clean up the snow in the city."

Hilnard Lewis, 29, and Roosevelt Bloomfield, 26, who walked away from a trusty cell block outside the prison walls, were charged with kindaping.

Mrs. Bernice Aldrich, 39, said the pair forced their way into her car when it stalled in a snow storm near Jackson Thursday morning.

They made her accompany them to Detroit. They got out of the car and released Mrs. Aldrich unharmed when they reached the city's west side.

* * *

Police said the two walked around several hours and then went to the home of Bloomfield's cousin, Mrs. Alice Union. It was she who called police.

Mrs. Aldrich identified the pair as the two men who abducted her.

Mrs. Aldrich told police she was on her way home after visiting a friend when her car stalled on U.S. 12 on Jackson's eastern outskirts.

She said the men, both Negroes, forced their way into the vehicle, said they were armed and made her sit between them as they drove off for Detroit.

They took $5 from her purse before leaving her, she said.

Lewis and Bloomfield both had been sentenced to prison from Detroit.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS) — American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported today earnings by the Bell System of $763,877,472 — equal to $13.13 per common share — in the 12 months ended Nov. 30, 1956, compared with $673,532,481, or $13.01 per share, a year earlier. Revenue climbed more than $500,000,000 to $5,786,495,111. The company also reported a gain of about 3,250,000 telephones in 1956 and a 10 per cent gain in long distance calls.

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Walt Disney Productions showed a record consolidated net profit of $2,623,541, or $2.01 per common share, in the fiscal year ended Sept. 29, 1956, as against $1,352,576, or $1.04 a share, a year earlier. Gross income amounted to $27.8 million, compared with $24.6 million in fiscal 1955.

Plan Second Series for Clawson Schools

CLAWSON—School board members here are having resolutions drawn up for the sale of a second series of bonds, the money to be used for the completion of school buildings now under construction.

* * *

The board will borrow $250,000 said Myrtle Bungart, secretary to superintendent of schools, Paul Schaim.

The $250,000 will be taken from the remaining $750,000 left from the $1,250,000 bond issue approved by voters last March.

Wall Street Bombing Kills 30, Injures 300

of revolution. The powers that be must reckon that they will have to accept the fight they have provoked.

A time has come when the social question's solution can be delayed no longer; class war is on, and cannot cease but with complete victory for the international proletariat. . . .

A wave of fear and indignation swept the country, which had been shocked a month earlier when bombs were sent through the mails to 29 prominent persons.

One had exploded, injuring a servant of Sen. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hartwick of Georgia. No one else was injured by the bombs.

These 38 incidents, involving bombs either intercepted or exploded, had as their intended victims three members of the President's cabinet, four United States senators, two members of the House of Representatives, a U. S. district judge and two governors. Among others were John D. Rockefeller and J. P. Morgan, the symbols of private wealth.

IWW'S HAND SEEN

Newspapers saw in the bombings the hand of the IWW, and demanded action. Atty. Gen. Palmer decided on a course of action. He named Francis P. Garvan of New York as assistant attorney general in charge of all investigations and prosecutions dealing with the problem.

As part of Garvan's administrative staff, Palmer created a General Intelligence Division under command of 24-year-old Special Asst. to the Atty. Gen. J. Edgar Hoover.

Hoover was born in Washington, D. C., Jan. 1, 1895. He attended public schools and was graduated from the George Washington University Law School in 1916, where the following year he received his master's degree in law.

He was admitted to the District of Columbia bar and started work in the Department of Justice in 1917, at a salary of $990 a year.

CONSPIRACY REVEALED

Young Hoover was instructed to make a study of subversive activities in the United States to determine their scope and what action could be taken in the field of prosecution.

* * *

As he dug through the background of the Communists, he saw something which seemed clearly to him to be a conspiracy, centered in Moscow, and aimed at the overthrow by force and violence of all non-Communist governments throughout the world—including the United States.

He saw the Communist Party not as a political movement in the ordinary political sense. Neither was it an idealistic theory of government.

It was a conspiracy so vast, so daring, that few people at first could even grasp the sweep of the Communist vision. It was a conspiracy against history itself. It was a conspiracy to destroy totally and completely the religion, governments, institutions and thinking of the Judaic-Christian world, the Buddhist world, the Moslemic world and all religious beliefs.

SOCIALISTS SPLIT

American left-wing Socialists were split into two groups by an internal fight over tactics. One group wanted to form an American Communist Party. The majority favored capturing the Socialist Party.

The leftists met in two separate conventions. One group organized the Communist Labor Party of America on Aug. 31, 1919, while the other formed the Communist Party of America the next day.

Actually, except on minor points, there was little difference in the character of the two.

Hoover prepared legal briefs on the Communist Party of America and the Communist Labor Party, and Palmer chose these two organizations as his targets.

In its essentials, Hoover's argument was that the Soviet government was controlled by the same men who controlled the Russian Communist Party, that this party advocated the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence, and that the two Communist groups in the United States were linked directly with the Russian Communists.

ORDER RAIDS

Orders went out to Bureau of Investigation agents, signed by Frank Burke, assistant to then FBI Director William J. Flynn, calling for raids on Communist meeting places on the evening of Friday, Jan. 2, 1920.

Agents in 33 cities, armed with some 3,000 warrants issued by the Bureau of Immigration, rounded up approximately 2,500 aliens for deportation hearings. A total of 446 were deported in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921.

The outcry against injustices in these raids was to be heard for years.

Complaints rolled in not only from Communists and other extremists, but from lawyers, labor leaders and newspapers, who protested that bureau agents had invaded private homes and meeting places without search warrants; aliens and citizens had been arrested and held without warrants; and prisoners had been denied the right of counsel.

It was alleged, too, that agents were guilty of assault, forgery and perjury.

Palmer angrily defended his department, but this unyielding defense could not justify the abuses in the raids. Dean Harlan Fiske Stone of the Columbia University School of Law urged legislation to give aliens better protection from "arbitrary exercise of power."

Savings Stamps Money Taken From City School

Someone indirectly took money from the United States Government when he entered the Hawthorne School, 1400 N. Telegraph Rd., and walked off with $85.40.

City Police report the money, missing from an unlocked metal cabinet in the principal's office, was collected from students for U.S. Savings Stamps.

Mary Hill, 89 W. Colgate Ave., told police the currency was taken sometime between 6:30 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday. Entrance was made by breaking a window on the north side of the building.

Spain has about doubled its import duty rates, which were low, Madrid reports.

Collide on Icy M59

Two persons were injured yesterday when cars in which they were riding skidded on icy pavement and collided at the intersection of M59 and Pontiac Lake road.

Lulah McCully, 60, 42 Murphy St., was thrown out of a car driven by William C. Olmstead, 33, of 490 Decota Pl., when it hit one driven by Robert L. Miller, 31, 18 Edison Ave.

A passenger in the Miller car, Robert J. Seconder, 16, of 250 N. Cass Ave., suffered lacerations of the head. Both he and Miss McCully were taken to Pontiac General Hospital where Seconder was treated and released.

Miss McCully who suffered back and left foot injuries was reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

Pontiac Center to Show Films

Alcoholic Information Available to Education, Civic Groups

The sub committee of the Advisory Council to the Pontiac Alcoholic Information Center at a meeting yesterday decided to arrange for new fil showings to better educate local citizens on the problems of alcoholism, said Mrs. Frances Kessler, public health nurse who heads the project.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the completion of the eighth month of operation of the center, Mrs. Kessler said.

Problems the center has encountered in its early months were discussed and its job primarily as an information agency for alcoholics and persons with similar but lesser problems were reviewed.

Members of the sub committee include Dr. Leon F. Cobb, Pontiac physician; Mrs. Ruth Spurlock, home service chairman for the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross; Mrs. William Mihalek, president of the advisory concil of the Pontiac PTA; Harold Brady, chief of personnel at St. Joeph Mercy Hospital and Mrs. Kessler.

Mrs. Kessler said the informational films would be shown to civic organization and possibly industry and educational groups.

Now's Best Time to Vaccinate Dogs

LANSING (AP)—Now is the best time of the year to have a dog vaccinated against ribies, the State Health Department advised today.

The department said that rabies spreads most rapidly among dogs in the "dog days" of February, March and April.

Many counties in Michigan require anti-rabies vaccination before dogs can be licensed.

The health department said that last year 23 confirmed cases of rabies were reported. The last case of rabies in a human in Michigan occurred in 1948.

Reds Like 'America'

CLEVELAND (AP)—An editor of America Illustrated magazine says 50,000 copies are sold out every month in Russia, and "many more" could be sold if the Russian government would permit it. Andrew T. Falkiewicz said the fourth issue will be on newsstands in 80 Russian cities Jan. 22.

Educators to Go Abroad Wanted by Selfridge

The Air Force Overseas Placement office at Selfridge Air Force Base is now interviewing educators in the area for dependent schools overseas for the next school year.

Teachers with a desire to teach abroad and with the right qualifications will find positions open through Europe, parts of Asia and he Pacific islands. Purpose of hiring American teachers is to provide state-side public school educational opportunities for dependents of military and civilian personnel stationed overseas.

Applications which are available at the Post Office or any Civil Service Commission office or at most State Employment services can be submitted to the Overseas Placement officer, Civilian Personnel Office, Selfridge Air Force Base.

REGISTRATION NOTICE FOR BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP PRIMARY ELECTION MONDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1957

To the Qualified Electors of the Township of Bloomfield, County of Oakland, Michigan.

To the Qualified Electors of the Township of Bloomfield, County of Oakland, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Saturday, Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Thirtieth day before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

Notice is hereby given that I will be at the Bloomfield Township Office, 4200 Telegraph Road, Monday, January 21st, 1957, the last day for registration, from 9 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on the last day the Thirtieth day preceding said Election, (as provided by Section 498, Act No. 116, Public Acts of 1954,) for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors in said Township, City or Village as shall properly apply therefor.

The name of no person but an actual resident of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

Elector unable to make personal application, procedure Sec. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located, may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence, duplicate registration cards and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

Unregistered Persons Not Entitled to Vote.

Sec. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote. (As provided under Act 116, P. A. 1954).

Transfer of Registration, Application, Time.

Sec. 506. Any registered elector may upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request, stating his present address, the date he moved thereto, and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying in person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward and precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made within the (30) days next preceding any election or primary election, (unless such 30th day shall fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday in which event registration shall be accepted during the next full working day), provided that no such transfer shall permit any person to vote in any Township, City or Village in which he had not resided (30) days next preceding any election or primary election.

Transfer of Registration on Election Day.

Sec. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct of a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village shall have the right to make application to have his registration transferred on any election or primary election day by executing a request over his or her signature for such transfer and presenting the same to the election board in the precinct in which he is registered. Upon receiving such request, the inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and if the signatures correspond then the inspector shall certify such fact upon said request and the applicant for transfer shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct for that election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such voter's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of street in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR sincere appreciation and thanks to all who so nobly assisted and contributed in any way during the recent illness and passing of our dearly beloved, Mrs. Alice Daniels. Especially do we mention the ladies of the Wesleyan Methodist Church for the two very delicious meals, the dear neighbors and good friends, the Columbia Ave. Baptist Church folk who so graciously gave use of their dining room and kitchen, and to the Pursley Funeral Home for such excellent service. Also for the beautiful floral offerings. The Lord Bless You All. Curtis Daniels and Children.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOEL Sandstrom who passed away 7 years ago today.
Sunshine passes & shadows fall,
But love's remembrance outlasts all.
And though the years be many or few,
They are filled with remembrance, dear, of you.
Sadly missed by his wife, daughters, and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF HARriet Kimmins Walker, who passed away Jan. 11, 1954.
Loving memories never die,
As years roll on and days pass by.
In our hearts a memory is kept,
Of one we loved and will never forget.
Sadly missed by husband, Lewis; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimmins; sisters, Mary and Betty, brothers, Richard and Robert.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son & brother, Donald Michael Buddenbourg, who passed away January 11, 1955.
We loved him, ah, no tongue can tell;
How much we loved him and how well.
God loved him too, and thought it best,
To take him home with Him to rest.
Sadly missed by Mother & Father, Brother, Sisters & Grandmother.

GUN REPLACES SCALPEL — Richard Boone, the doctor hero of TV's "Medic," has become a Western-style television gunman. He's the star of a new Western series, "Have Gun, Will Travel," which is being lined up for network TV. As a good-guy gunman, Boone wears a trim mustache, Elvis-like haircut and fancy duds of an 1870 San Franciscan.

Iceman Wills $20,000 to City of New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A Brooklyn iceman, who came here from Italy 50 years ago, has willed $20,000 to New York City "in grateful appreciation for the opportunities the city gave me during my lifetime."

Gennaro Sorrenti, known to many of his customers as "Jimmy the Iceman" and "Jimmy the Gentleman," died in 1953 at the age of 68.

His will, approved for probate yesterday, left a three-family house in Brooklyn and some stocks—valued at a total of $20,000—to the city.

Another $5,000 in assets was bequeathed to relatives in Italy.

'Have Gun, Will Travel' Chosen as the Title for New TV Series

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The next TV Western star will likely be none other than Richard Boone, who is dropping his Medic scalpel for a six-shooter.

* * *

Boone recently made a pilot for a new series, "Have Gun, Will Travel." This one has a better than average chance to escape the common fate of pilots — to molder in the vaults — because:

1. CBS itself is behind it and putting up much cash.

2. The so-called adult Westerns are riding high in the TV ratings these days.

* * *

When I nabbed Boone for lunch, he was wearing a trim mustache, Elvis-like haircut and the fancy duds of an 1870 San Franciscan.

"When I put on this outfit, I feel sensational," he remarked. "Such class they had in those days, such elegance! They really knew how to live."

* * *

Boone explained that he was playing a hired gunman in the series, only this one is on the right side of the law. He advertises his services as listed in the show's title and serves as a literal trouble-shooter all over the West.

"He's a great character," the actor said. "He has a great sense of humor and is always quoting things. But he's a real pro, he doesn't empty his gun trying to hit someone. One bullet does the job."

* * *

If the new show succeeds, Boone will join a select fraternity of stars with two series (Robert Cummings, Wally Cox, Gale Storm). There are reports that Medic will resume on TV, but Boone will not be with it.

"My connection with the show has ended," he said. "I presume they'll find someone else to carry on. I wish them luck. I think it was an excellent show, the kind that deserves to continue."

Eden Resigns Commons Seat

Held Position 33 Years; Queen Offers Earldom to Retiring Premier

LONDON (AP)—Sir Anthony Eden resigned today from the House of Commons and was offered an earldom, the customary award made by the British sovereign to a retiring prime minister.

Quitting the Commons seat he had held for just over 33 years, Eden again pleaded ill health as he had when he quit the prime ministership two days ago.

But it was presumed he also was removing himself from active participation in front-line politics to prevent any embarrassment to his successor, Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

As an earl, Eden will sit in the House of Lords and no longer can be a candidate to head the government.

* * *

The offer of the peerage came from Queen Elizabeth II, who received his resignation as prime minister two days ago. Informed sources understood he has not as yet signified whether he will accept the title, but word that such an offer has been made usually does not get out unless the title is certain to be accepted.

Pulls Mother to Safety as Train Smashes Car

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Moments before a wrecked auto was smashed to bits on a suburban railroad crossing a 17-year-old boy pulled his 39-year-old mother to safety.

Police said Robert Spinello lost control of his car rounding a curve and the machine straddled tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. He was unhurt but, his mother, Mrs. Louise Augustine, was dazed when her head struck the windshield.

Spinello dragged his mother out of the machine just before a high speed freight hit it.

Waterford Toastmasters Grow in Membership

Waterford Toastmasters gave the weekly speech award to member James Potestio, 1870 Luneta Ct., last night.

According to president of the organization Elmer Lepp of Milford, the club has been averaging one new member a week. Arnold Gibson, 5370 Cecilia Ann St., is this week's new toastmaster.

Lepp said plans are about completed for the organizational meeting of the Waterford Toastmistress' group, to be held at the Golden Drumstick Restaurant on the Dixie Highway at 6:45 p.m. Feb. 28.

Brake Fire Delays Bus

SOUTH HAVEN (AP) — A Greyhound bus, carrying 40 passengers on a Muskegon to Chicago run, was delayed more than two hours Wednesday night at South Haven when its brakes caught fire. The driver halted at the service station, three miles south of the city, where firemen extinguished the blaze.

Mink Pelts Stolen

IRON RIVER (AP)—Thieves broke into Archie Beauchamp's mink ranch pelting house yesterday and stole 150 pelts valued at $5,000. Pelts were to have been shipped to market Thursday.

Police Pursue Clues in McDonald Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police are hoping to talk to a sandwich maker, a service station attendant and a landlord who might fit into Marie McDonald's story of being kidnaped from her home.

* * *

Detectives would like to find:

The person who made the turkey sandwiches Miss McDonald says her kidnapers fed her at one point.

The man who put gas in the old, green car the blonde movie actress says was used to transport her from a small house in Los Angeles to a desert highway near Indio, where she was found last Friday night.

* * *

And, possibly, the landlord of the house where she says two swarthy kidnapers held her while planning to ransom her for $80,000.

Police said yesterday that Miss McDonald told them the house had no food in it, and might not have been regularly occupied. This might indicate that the house was rented for a hideaway, detectives said.

Plucked to Safety

GRANBY, Que. (AP)—Traffic constable E. Brodeur zigzagged his motorcycle through heavy traffic and with one arm reached out and grabbed three - year - old Gerard Marquis, riding unnoticed on the back of his father's delivery truck. The child was losing his grip.

Ban Sunday Trucking Bill Proposed Again

LANSING (AP) — A stiff fight looms when the legislature returns Jan. 21 over a house bill to ban truck traffic on Sundays and holidays during summer months.

The bill, introduced by Rep. John Fletcher (R-Centerville), would ban highway truck travel on Sundays and holidays between May 15 and Oct. 1.

Fletcher introduced an identical bill a year ago. It was approved by the house committee on public utilities but was sent back to the committee, where it died when the session ended.

Under the measure, emergency vehicles, moving vans and trucks carrying newspapers, periodicals, or perishable goods would be exempted.

Fletcher said he thinks the bill stands a better chance of passing this session.

Mercury Dips to Record -65 in East Ontario

MATHESON, Ont. (AP) — The lowest temperature in Ontario's history was registered here yesterday when a sharp northwest wind from Hudson Bay dropped the thermometer to 65 degrees below zero. Matheson is 20 miles east of Timmins in east-central Ontario.

The lowest official temperature previously recorded was a 53 below reading at Kapuskasing. The Yukon community of Snag registered Canada's lowest reading in February, 1947, with 81 below.

'The FBI Story' — Sixth in a Series

Bureau Comes to Grips With

By DON WHITEHEAD

Bluff, handsome Warren G. Harding became the 29th President of the United States in 1921. Around him he drew his friends from Ohio, who had been his poker-playing pals and his political board of strategy.

It was hardly surprising that Harding named his old friend Harry Daugherty to the post of attorney general. Or that a boyhood friend of Daugherty, William J. Burns, was named director of the Bureau of Investigation.

Burns already was well known as president of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency.

* * *

But the next three years were packed with surprises. These surprises would almost wreck the Bureau of Investigation, and would leave the country disillusioned

Prosecutor Gets Another Threat

Menaced by Telephone After Starting Inquiry in Genesee County

FLINT (AP)—Another threatening telephone call has been received at the office of Jerome F. O'Rourke, Genesee County prosecutor who initiated a police graft grand jury here.

The call was taken yesterday by O'Rourke's secretary. The anonymous caller warned O'Rourke to "check your steering wheel before you drive."

A half dozen similar telephone threats have been received by O'Rourke, his wife and his secretary since the prosecutor asked for the grand jury probe Monday.

A police detail is guarding O'Rourke's home.

Meanwhile, Circuit Judge Michael Carland of Owosso, who has been named to conduct the one-man grand jury investigation, will hold an organizational meeting Tuesday with O'Rourke and Sgt. Carl Robinson of the state police racket squad.

* * *

The first of 71 witnesses will be called Wednesday.

O'Rourke petitioned the grand jury following the arrest of two Flint men on gambling conspiracy charges. The grand jury will look into allegations of protection payoffs to police by gamblers.

This Marriage Lasted a Month in Starts and Fists

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Annie E. Harris, 32, says that as she and salesman Louis C. Harris, 35, were driving away from their church wedding, "he started hitting me."

She said he threw the wedding bouquet in her face.

Later in the month, she told Superior Court in asking for an annulment, "he fractured my nose and a bone in my chest. He blacked both eyes and hit my foot with a chair so that I could hardly walk.

"I knew then," she testified, "the marriage was over." The annulment was granted.

Press to Publish Gambling Series

Want something for nothing?

It's a universal urge, and it's at the roots of a gambling fever that has reached white-hot peaks at various times in the U.S. and countries around the world. And the urge raises a host of questions—should gambling be legaized? Should the U.S. conduct a national lottery?

Famed reporter-columnist Bob Considine provides a fascinating look at the gambling craze at home and abroad, describes attempts to promote a national lottery in the U.S., in the new series —"gambling—billion-dollar urge" —starting Monday in The Pontiac Press.

Potter Urges Probe of Newsprint Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) today urged a congressional investigation of the newsprint industry, saying that "skyrocketing prices" are "working a hardship on the American press."

The Michigan senator asked for the inquiry after conferring with Chairman John Gwynne and other officials of the Federal Trade Commission.

Potter said FTC officials "are in agreement with me that a public hearing is in order to get to the bottom of a situation which has all the evidence of restrictive trade practices."

Potter asked Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash) of the Senate Commerce Committee to conduct the inquiry, citing recent increases by Canadian newsprint producers, who supply most of the newsprint used in this country.

Courtroom Space Big Problem

County GOP Eyes Proposal to Add Three More Judges

The possibility of a fifth and sixth Oakland County circuit judge and a second probate judge will get growing consideration by county Republicans, State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield Township said yesterday.

He said meetings are being considered with the Board of Supervisors and the four present circuit judges to discuss the question. Courtroom space is an important consideration in asking the legislature for new judicial posts, he said.

"Right now, we haven't got any space in the present court house to provide new judges with courtrooms," Roberts pointed out.

He said the conferences would consider room available in the proposed new courthouse. If it opens in December, 1958 as scheduled, and the long-range judicial needs of the county.

"In the past we've worked too much on an emergency basis," he believed. "We should study carefully what the future needs will be. It seems pretty sure we'll need at least two more circuit judges and a second probate judge at least, if we have the room for them."

Roberts said State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge and Rep. Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak are favorable to the meetings.

Brown, along with Reps. Leslie H. Hudson of Pontiac and Walter T. McMahon of Pontiac, signed a bill presented Thursday, calling for a fifth circuit judge.

The need for new jurists is based primarily on the recent upsurge in population, county officials say.

Murderer Walks Calmly to Death in Gas Chamber

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)— Coolly accepting his fate, John Gilbert Graham was executed last night in Colorado's gas chamber for destroying an airliner that carried his mother and 43 other persons to death.

The 24-year-old father of two children gulped the cyanid fumes and passed into unconsciousness in seconds. He was pronounced dead in 12 minutes.

Graham was convicted of murdering his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 53. She perished with 43 other men, women and children Nov. 1, 1955, when a United Air Lines DC6B was shattered by a dynamite bomb. It crashed in a sugar beet field near Longmont, Colo.

Although he never disclosed a motive for planting a dynamite device in his mother's luggage, Graham named himself beneficiary in a $37,500 flight insurance policy he took out on his mother's life.

The husky, dark-haired killer went to death "the calmest I've ever seen," said deputy warden William Kinney, who has witnessed all 26 executions in Colorado's gas chamber.

The Rev. Justin McKernan, Roman Catholic chaplain at the prison visited Graham for 40 minutes last night in the death row cell where the young Denver businessman spent his last days. Their exchange of barter was interrupted when Graham saw warden Harry Tinsley mount the ramp of his cell.

"Well, I guess it's time," Graham said with resignation.

"God bless you," Father McKernan said. "I hope God will forgive you your sins."

"Okay," Graham nodded.

Not once during his stay in the gray stonewalled prison did Graham allude to the crime.

With Tinsley leading the way, Graham walked erect and swiftly from his cell up a long ramp and into the penthouse death cell atop the prison's maximum security building.

He was led blindfolded to the waiting chair in the steel cocoon
