Nickerson Court-Martial Continues

Of Soldiers and Missiles!

Nickerson Still on Stand; Troop Withdrawal Pushed

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson claims "there is no ban on anything" in modernizing U.S. arms in Korea, and promised a "real push" to bring as many soldiers as posible home from overseas.

The Pentagon chief, although denying that any "general withdrawal" from overseas positions will be touched off when U.S. troops leave Japan, said there will be a reduction in Europe and elsewhere.

Under questioning, the secretary also said he neither approved nor disapproved the Army decision to drop charges of espionage and perjury against Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. who has pleaded guilty to lesser charges of leaking secret information at Huntsville, Ala.

—Said the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Japan, agreed upon last week by President Eisenhower and Premier Kishi, was "not a sudden decision, but part of a long-term plan related to the build-up of Japanese security forces."

—Said 25,000 to 30,000 troops will be withdrawn by Christmas, that some will move forward into Korea, and a large number will redeploy rearward in Hawaii and the U.S.

Wilson said emphatically that he believes manpower in U.S. military overseas can be reduced 12 per cent during the year beginning July 1. He is expected to issue an order soon calling for this reduction.

The defense secretary went on to say that as weapons of greater power are introduced there will be a downward trend in all manpower requirements.

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — The court-martial of Army Col. John C. Nickerson Jr. was up to its ears today in Pentagon politics and the interservice feud over rules and missions.

Nickerson took the witness stand in his own behalf yesterday.

The defense has sought to paint Nickerson as a staunch patriot. The prosecution has been building toward a picture of the 41-year-old combat veteran as a stubborn man of poor judgment with selfish interests.

Nickerson, who wears two Silver Stars for gallantry in World War II, already has pleaded guilty to and been convicted on 15 charges that he permitted unauthorized persons to see secret defense data.

The 10-man court-martial, headed by Maj. Gen. Crump Garvin of Atlanta, now is hearing "evidence in mitigation" before fixing punishment.

If given the maximum sentence, Nickerson could be dismissed from the service and imprisoned for 30 years.

Nickerson sought to have Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson reverse a Nov. 26 decision

You're Closer, but Pot Retains Its $1,400 Bulge

Although none of the Pot-O-Gold entries had all the answers right, the judges seem to be finding more and more that are coming close.

With over 10,000 entries this week and probably more in the weeks to come, you can't expect the big prize money to hold out much longer, so now's the time to send in your entry. It's worth $1,400 now.

Don't forget—if your entry isn't postmarked by midnight July 2, it won't be counted. And don't expect a winner if you send your entry in an envelope. Unless it's on a postcard, it will be disqualified.

Ziegler Vacates Highway Office

By PETE LOCHBILER

Charles M. Ziegler left his office in Lansing today, probably for the last time.

Although his term as highway commissioner does not officially terminate until midnight Sunday, Ziegler plans to take the weekend off as usual.

After 14 controversial years as administrator of the state's roads, Ziegler appeared in an unusually mellow role—that of retiring senior statesmen. He said:

"I think I'll go trout fishing first. I love fishing but haven't had a real session at it in 10 years."

And as for the problems presently facing the highway department — well, that's commissioner-elect John C. Mackie's worry now.

Ziegler is 69 and has guided the state's highways since World War II days. In terms of service, he's the state's oldest elective office holder and he thinks he's done a good job.

One of his proudest boasts is that he has been fair to people in all parts of the state, building new stretches of road where they were most needed, instead of concentrating state money and construction on only a few areas.

"I have never built a political road, nor made a promise I did not keep," the Republican veteran said.

OUTSTANDING JOB

During the lean years, when highway funds were "pitifully" low, the highway department did "an outstanding job to preserve our road system," Ziegler observed.

Michigan now is rated among the top ten states in the progress made under the accelerated national highway program, he said.

When Ziegler took over his job in 1943, his first big task was the completion of the Detroit Industrial Expressway from Detroit to the Willow Run bomber plant.

That project, a model of its kind in its day, has been overshadowed since by the bigger projects made possible by the increased diversion of gas tax money for road construction.

Ziegler thinks the money made available to him has been spent judiciously, economically and fairly.

Some of the bigger Oakland County projects during his administration:

IMPROVES ROADS

Resurfacing and widening of Dixie Highway north of Pontiac; widening of Telegraph to four lanes from Long Lake road to Eight Mile road; rebuilt Auburn road from Pontiac to Auburn Heights; widening of Huron street in Pontiac and to Elizabeth Lake road;

Princess Leaves Ball, Then Fisher Requested to Sing

LONDON (INS) — Eddie Fisher made a special flight from Paris last night to attend a London charity ball only to be cold-shouldered and kept from singing until Princess Margaret had departed.

The handsome young American was Margaret's favorite crooner until a couple of days ago when his press agent told the charity sponsors Fisher would attend the ball only if he received a personal invitation from the Princess.

Buckingham Palace quickly let it be known it considered the press agent's bid a bit cheeky even for an American and that Margaret was annoyed. Fisher said he knew nothing about the deal his press agent tried to work.

Nevertheless, when Fisher arrived at the ball he was placed near a door and far away from Margaret, Billy Wallace and other of the Princess' companions.

$6 Ton Increase in Steel Prices to Start Spiral

Hike by Top Producer Seen as Pacesetter for Other Firms, Users

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A new round of price increases in the steel industry—the 11th since 1941—begins Monday.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's biggest steel producer and traditional industry pacesetter, announced it will increase its basic prices about $6 a ton.

Other steel firms are expected to make similar price adjustments.

Although steel products vary widely in price, the new composite price will be an estimated $146 a ton. It is the sixth boost in as many years. Last year the industry hiked prices $8.50 a ton.

The increase came just a day after President Eisenhower said inflation may become a "real danger" unless management and labor show restraint in wage and price boosts.

Officials in Washington had anticipated a much higher increase, possibly as much as $12 to $14 a ton. Most of them took the attitude that the increase might have been worse, but all agreed it will be inflationary.

★ ★ ★

Consumers can look for the probability of higher prices on items made of steel.

Chief among industries directly affected by steel price increases are automobiles, construction, oil and appliances. It's likely many firms in these industries also will increase prices.

Under the new price structure cold rolled sheets, used extensively in the auto and appliance industries, go up $6 a ton to $120.

While auto industry officials have not said how much, if any, of the increase will be passed on to consumers, statisticians figure the cost of steel going into a $3,000 car will be raised by $11.58. After steel prices were increased last year the cost of 1957 models advanced $10 to $300 over 1956.

★ ★ ★

Structural shapes, used in construction of buildings and bridges, were increased $5.50 a ton to $105.50.

The price of steel pipe known as oil country tubing advances $10.25 a ton. U. S. Steel said there will be "proportionate increases" in other grades and types of oil industry piping.

Steel plate for ship building and railroad freight car construction moves up $5 to $102 a ton.

EAST LANSING (AP)—A total of 5,443 students have enrolled in the 44th annual summer school session at Michigan State University, and the final figure is expected to exceed 5,500.

Cream of Hit Plays Awaits Press Special

If all the New York critics were to filter out the top-notch hits currently exciting the Big City, they'd agree the 1957 Pontiac Press Theater Special has picked the cream of Broadway's crop.

Hilarious Tom Ewell in "Tunnel of Love" has Dave Garroway saying: "I never heard an audience laugh louder, longer or more often. I recommend it to everybody."

One of three musicals headlining the Sept. 9-14 journey has critics ranking it as the "rebirth of Ethel Merman." This of course is "Happy Hunting." Handsome Fernando Lamas will keep the feminine motors purring in this one.

Need we say anything about "My Fair Lady?" Tickets to this masterpiece of Broadway productions are as hard to grab onto as a gold brick from Fort Knox. But not so for theater trip playgoers.

Orchestra seats for these three, plus "The Bells Are Ringing" and "Visit to a Small Planet," are awaiting the "lucky 150" who will wing their way to Manhattan in two fleet United Airlines planes.

Although the plays are the big attractions, sights of Gotham will be at the fingertips of travelers.

A visit to the U. N. Building, gatherings in some of the city's famous eating spots, a private boat trip along the Hudson River, and plenty of "free time" just to do the city, await all.

The price for all this is a rock-bottom $182. Already 100 are signed up. There is room for 50 more. Watch for a reservation coupon in next week's editions of The Pontiac Press.

Contracts Let for High School

Saginaw, Detroit Firms Top Bidders on Pontiac $2,967,324 Building

Bids totaling $2,967,324 for the new Pontiac senior high school were accepted last night by the Board of Education.

Construction of the 1,000-pupil building will begin shortly, with completion scheduled for the fall of 1958.

In accepting the bids, the board turned down three of four alternates to the basic construction contracts. Rejected were a 300-car paved parking lot, terrazzo floors for the corridors, and steel sash instead of aluminum.

Accepted was the use of acoustical tile ceilings in the corridors. The board split on the terrazzo floors, with four members favoring asphalt tile over the recommendations of the administration.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

The general trades contract for $2,052,500 went to Spence Brothers, Saginaw. Broedell Plumbing and Heating Co., Detroit, won the mechanical trades contract for $592,200, while the electrical award went to Hamill Electric Co., Detroit, for $322,624.

★ ★ ★

A separate contract for kitchen equipment went to Gold Star Products, Detroit, at $43,781. Action pending an investigation of lockers on metal lockers was deferred offered by the low bidder, Lyon Metal Products, for $23,400.

Total cost of the high school, including the lockers and excluding kitchen equipment, will be $2,990,724. This is about $100,000 under advance estimates of

Area Weather for Weekend: Rain, Rain, Rain

The weather man dropped by this morning, bumbershoot tucked neatly under his arm, to report that a soggy weekend is in the offing.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms are expected today and tonight, with a low of 64 to 68 due tonight.

Tomorrow again will be cloudy with rain and a high of 74 to 78 degrees.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 65. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 68.

City Resident Dies in Accident

2 Detroiters Also Killed, 1 Hurt as Cars Collide West of Ann Arbor

A Pontiac resident, Charles H. Stevens, 40, of 200 E. Pike St. and two Detroit men were killed in an auto accident last night on US-12, 20 miles west of Ann Arbor.

Besides Stevens, the dead are Willie Clayton, 49, and Walter Morris, 31.

Washtenaw County Sheriff's deputies said Stevens' car was apparently hit broadside by a car driven by Clayton. Morris was a passenger in Clayton's vehicle.

Injured in the accident was Clark S. Davis, 15, son of Ernest Davis, 26 Rose Ct., Pontiac. He is in University Hospital, Ann Arbor, in a semi-conscious state.

He suffered a dislocated right hip and a cut on his forehead. His condition cannot be diagnosed until this afternoon, doctors said. Two Detroiters were also injured.

Weather Bureau to Send Experts to Storm Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau has come up with a plan to send experts barging in where most people fear to tread — in or near the path of tropical storms.

★ ★ ★

The bureau said it is putting into service today two mobile weather stations mounted on trucks.

They will be located at Weather Bureau stations along the Atlantic Coast or Gulf of Mexico until a storm threatens.

Then they will be dispatched to coastal locations near the storm's path to supplement observations made by the regular weather bureau stations.

★ ★ ★

Each of the mobile stations will be manned by two weather observers who can report every hour, day or night, to the nearest hurricane forecast office.

All doors, windows and joints of the units are sealed for water-proof protection, and facilities have been provided to tie the trucks down during hurricane force winds.

The trucks are equipped with devices to measure the force and direction of the wind, temperature and humidity, air pressure and rainfall. Each unit also is equipped with a radio receiver and transmitter.

Invite Ike to Mackinac

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Senate voted last night to invite President Eisenhower to set up his summer White House on Mackinac Island as a guest of the state.

Senators to Probe Court FBI Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Judiciary subcommittee joined the legislative rush today to do something about a Supreme Court decision prying open secret FBI files to defendants in some criminal cases.

Atty. Gen. Brownell was called as the first witness on a list which also includes FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Members said they had no intention of allowing the subcommittee to be used as a forum for broadside attacks on the Supreme Court or its opinion. Nor were they bent on attempting to nullify the decision.

But they were concerned, along with President Eisenhower, Brownell and many others in and out of Congress, about a ruling which cast a haze of uncertainty and confusion over the prosecution of all sorts of criminal cases —and raised a likelihood that some criminals may go unpunished.

100 Lives Lost as Tidal Waves Hit Coast City

Waters Inundate Texas, Louisiana Marshlands; 3-4,000 May Be Dead

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) —Hurricane Audrey's death toll climbed to the 100 mark today and a deputy sheriff said the storm's victims could reach 3,000 to 4,000.

The greatest concentration of casualties from rolling tidal waves that followed in the hurricane's wake was at the remote city of Cameron where 87 were presumed dead.

The hurricane roared into the Texas and Louisiana coasts yesterday and earlier reports said 18 were lost and presumed dead.

Weary rescue teams probed the marshlands for victims or survivors. Some reports said bodies were located floating on debris miles from Cameron.

The parish is located some 40 miles south of Lake Charles and about 250 miles southwest of New Orleans. It is sparsely dotted with towns bearing picturesque French names.

Deputy Sheriff D. P. Vincent was among 40 tattered survivors who reached here today from the Cameron area which lies on a ridge only a few miles from the edge of the Gulf of Mexico.

"I believe 3,000 or 4,000 drowned," Vincent said as he was brought off a Coast Guard vessel. Chief Boatswain's Mate E. L. Begler, skipper of the Coast Guard boat Blue Bonnet, shrugged when told of Vincent's estimate and said:

"It's hard to tell how many died," he said. "So many people talk of losing families of six or nine."

"I lost all my six children," one old woman mumbled and counted them on her fingers.

Vincent said "There's not a house left in Cameron."

Begler said three other Coast Guard boats were in the area picking up survivors. Three other boats headed for the Cameron area with supplies.

George Martin, general manager of radio station KROF in Abbeville, said one resident of the Pecan Island area told him "Everything was washed away and just floating around."

Audrey lashed Louisiana and Mississippi with high winds and heavy rains as it veered to the northeast. It was located 60 miles south of Memphis, Tenn. this morning.

5 New Babies in Boat

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—An Air Force helicopter left here today for storm-ravaged Cameron, La., where 16 persons, including 5 new-born babies, were reported adrift in three small boats in marshlands.

24 Hours Left to Get Hot in July Weather Contest

Less than 24 hours remain in which to submit your estimate of the hottest moment in July.

All entries in the contest must be in the Press office by 2 p.m. tomorrow.

You don't need to guess the temperature. Simply write the date, hour, a.m. or p.m., and forecast, with your name and address, and mail to:

Weather Man
Pontiac Press
Box 40
Pontiac, Michigan.

Everyone except employes of the Press and their immediate families may participate, but only one entry per person, please.

If you miss the last mail pick-up tonight, you still can deliver your prediction in person at the Press before 2 p.m. tomorrow, you know!

For a crack at that savings bond, the few extra steps will be well worth the effort.

Remember the date — 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Why not try your luck? You may surprise yourself, and what could be a finer treat than winding up with some extra smackers for that long awaited vacation.

Umbrella Weather Continues at Western

DRESS OF THE DAY — Umbrellas and rain coats were the dress of the day yesterday and also today in Michigan and at the Plum Hollow Golf Club where an estimated 4,000 fans braved the weather to watch the 54th annual Western Open Golf Championships. A steady drizzle kept up during the day, but it didn't cool off the putters of the pros as 56 golfers shot par or under in the first round of the tournament. Play continues through Sunday at the Oakland County course on Lahser and Nine Mile Roads. Pontiac Press Photo

Announce Drop in Employment

State Manufacturing Work Down 20,000 but Service Jobs Up 22,000

DETROIT (AP) — A 20,000 drop in manufacturing employment in Michigan from April 1956 to April of this year was reported yesterday by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The Commission said the drop was offset by a gain of 22,000 service jobs in the same period.

Average manufacturing employment two months ago was 1,075,000 compared with 1,095,000 for April of the previous year, the MESC said.

The figures for service jobs were 1,276,000 last April compared with 1,254,000 the previous year. The MESC said unemployment in Michigan in mid-April totaled 181,000.

Here are the MESC figures for manufacturing employment in Michigan since 1950:

| | |
|---|---|
| 1950 | 950,000 |
| 1951 | 1,164,000 |
| 1952 | 1,086,000 |
| 1953 | 1,266,000 |
| 1954 | 1,088,000 |
| 1955 | 1,174,000 |
| 1956 | 1,095,000 |
| 1957 | 1,075,000 |

Here are the MESC figures for service employment in Michigan since 1950:

| | |
|---|---|
| 1950 | 1,061,000 |
| 1951 | 1,132,000 |
| 1952 | 1,158,000 |
| 1953 | 1,215,000 |
| 1954 | 1,244,000 |
| 1955 | 1,235,000 |
| 1956 | 1,254,000 |
| 1957 | 1,276,000 |

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Which is the heavier, wet air or dry air? Why does the weight of the air play such a large role in the production of our weather?

Wet air, it would seem, would be heavier than dry air. Wet paper, or wet cloth, is heavier than its dry counterpart, so why not heavier wet air? But the reverse is true. Wet air is lighter than dry air.

If you want to understand this process thoroughly you can pick up a copy of "Eric Sloane's Weather Book," which explains the weight of air with excellent diagrams and drawings. But if you are not interested in looking further than this article, here is a brief explanation.

Because wet air is lighter than dry, it tends to rise and this starts the mechanism which forms clouds. Likewise, this movement produces winds, which are also produced by the sun's heat.

The heaviest air is cold, dry air, and the lightest wet, warm air. This explains why a cold front travels over the earth with its leading edge slanting backward above the earth's surface. The warm front moves in with its leading edge leaning forward — and arriving overhead before its mass actually reaches you on the ground.

Boycott Leader to Be Honored

Rev. Martin Luther King to Receive High Award From NAACP

DETROIT (AP)—The Rev. Martin Luther King, who led the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott, will be honored by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People at its convention tonight.

The Baptist minister will be awarded the group's J. E. Spingarn Medal, named for a former NAACP president, at a mass meeting in the Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Awards to NAACP branches for achievement in human relations were presented last night at a "Freedom Fund" dinner in the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel attended by nearly 1,000 members.

★ ★ ★

First prize for branches without paid personnel went to the Washington, D. C., branch, which was cited for its part in combatting "unfavorable propaganda" growing out of a congressional subcommittee hearing on desegregation in District of Columbia public schools.

Detroit was the winner among branches with paid personnel. It was cited for setting "an all-time record for total funds raised in memberships and contributions with a combined gross income of $93,707."

Olympic Ski Champ to Appear in Films

VIENNA — Toni Sailer, Austrian holder of three Olympic skiing records, will be able to appear before cameras in Vienna this year — just so long as he does not appear on skis in any movies.

★ ★ ★

On his return from touring America with the Austrian national team, he was scheduled to play a leading role in the film "Das Leben ist doch Schoen," which will go into production later this year.

★ ★ ★

Sailer has also given his approval to two other film projects. In his second he will appear with Hans Soehnker and the third will be the story of a young auto racer. In order not to lose his amateur status with the International Ski Association, he will shed his skis.

Ziegler, 69, Steps Aside

resurfacing of Highland road to the county line; resurfacing of the Telegraph road cutoff.

Completed is the widening of Lapeer road from Pontiac north to Lake Orion. The Farmington-Brighton Expressway along U. S. 16 is nearing completion.

One big bridge, at Woodward avenue and Eight Mile road, is in operation and the Orchard Lake-Telegraph road underpass should be finished in December.

BONDS FLOATED

Bonds have been floated for the 35-mile extension of Northwestern Highway as a limited access expressway across Oakland County from Detroit to another expressway near Fenton.

And there have been more than 100 smaller, local improvements made during Ziegler's term in office.

Ziegler first joined the department in 1919 as an assistant division engineer and served in various engineering capacities until his appointment as deputy state highway commissioner in 1930.

Between 1933 and 1943, Ziegler was employed as an engineer on building construction projects at Michigan State University

He has been one of the chief opponents of toll roads in Michigan. Although Ziegler claims he has nothing against toll roads in principal, he continually asserted that he was committed to the building of free highways.

He says that with the new state and federal funds available for roads, a toll road "does not fit into Michigan's economic needs."

AFFECTS COUNTY

This attitude also has affected the Oakland County highway picture. The Michigan Turnpike Authority's plans to build a north-south toll road through Oakland County and Pontiac have been consistently stymied by Ziegler.

Ziegler has said that the highway department is planning a toll-free, north-south expressway more or less paralleling the toll road and threatening to cut fatally into its revenues.

The MTA and the highway commissioner have been maneuvering against each other for several years. Neither side has won the battle and, as a consequence, Oakland County is still without the much needed traffic artery.

Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the state's second oldest office holder in terms of service, has been peppering away at the highway department since he was first elected governor in 1948.

He has said Ziegler's refusal to concentrate on a few roads at a time has resulted in a "bits and snatches" highway program. Long distance travel over major routes, Williams says, has suffered at the expense of small, local improvements scattered over the state.

The governor's big barrage came in 1949, when he accused the Republican department of $100,000 in shortages.

Ziegler weathered that storm and every other one since. He's been re-elected to office four times, in the face of William's growing control over the state's elective and administrative offices.

MOOT QUESTION

How he would have fared in the spring's overwhelmingly Democratic election is a moot question. Democratic candidates, including Mackie, captured the last few state administrative posts still held by Republicans.

But Ziegler announced his retirement plans to spend more time with his family and at trout fishing in the pleasant streams of Lake County near Baldwin, where he has a summer cottage.

The only trouble nowadays with fishing, Ziegler observes, is the same as the trouble with highways: streams and roads are both too crowded on weekends.

Nickerson Blasts Wilson's Actions

which took the 1,500-mile intermediate range ballistic missile (IRBM) development program away from the Army and assigned it to the Air Force.

★ ★ ★

It is Nickerson's contention that the Army's battle requirements demand employment of an IRBM, that the Air Force isn't particularly interested in it, and that the Army can build one quicker and at a saving in excess of 100 million dollars.

In any case, Nickerson, a 1938 graduate of West Point, admitted going outside Army channels in an effort to "bring the facts" before Wilson.

He told the court yesterday he believed that to have gone through channels would have taken too long and, besides, that such a course had already been tried.

Asked if he thought Wilson was incompetent in making such a decision, Nickerson replied, "No." He then observed that "the secretary of defense has to make so many decisions he can't make them all right."

★ ★ ★

Capt. Charles H. Taylor, assistant government prosecutor, asked if Nickerson thought Wilson erred in assigning the IRBM to the Air Force.

"I know he's wrong," the colonel said.

Earlier in his testimony Nickerson had charged that the aircraft industry working through the Air Force was seeking to gain control of the Army missile program for private profit.

The Army missile program is operated by men on the government payroll; the Air Force missile program is handled by the aircraft industry.

In commenting on Wilson's decision, Nickerson said that "all the documents in this case were not shown to Mr. Wilson."

The prosecutor asked if Nickerson thought Wilson had the best advice available. Nickerson replied: "He had considerable advice from the Air Force and the Navy for six months and then for about two weeks he had advice from the Army."

Whale Lived on Land

BOSTON — The whale, although a descendant of land animals that were hairy and four-legged, has a naked skin except for a few scattered hairs on the head. The only trace of hind limbs is a few tiny bones hidden at the base of its powerful tail.

Contracts Awarded for New High School

the architects, Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc. of Detroit.

Smith told the board that the high school design will be a trend-setter for Michigan and throughout the country. His statement was echoed by Schools Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

"It's a good plan; we're going to build it, and it will be paid for," commented Board President Louis H. Schimmel.

2 PRINCIPALS NAMED

In other action, the board named two principals and an intern principal for next fall. Mary Morse, teacher at McCarroll School, was named principal of Wisner School.

Lewis J. Sullivan, Willis teacher, was appointed principal of Emerson School, and Effie Mitchell, Rogers School teacher, intern principal at the new Herrington Hills School.

★ ★ ★

The board also entered into a contract with the Oakland County Board of Education whereby the county will build a room for the mentally retarded at the new high school and a room for the hard of hearing at the Herrington Hills School.

Bill Wright, Mark Twain School principal was given a $600 salary increase to direct the Pontiac special education program four weeks longer than the regular school year.

The board also discussed its building program for next year and decided upon the erection of a new elementary school of eight classrooms and two kindergartens, including a multipurpose room, on the Franklin Road site.

Condemnation proceedings for part of the site have been started.

The board also informally agreed an addition to the Owen School would be built, to contain five classrooms and one kindergarten.

MEET WITH PARENTS

The superintendent was asked to meet with a group of parents at the Whitfield School. The parents have petitioned the board to find an alternative to transporting a class from the overcrowded building to Webster School.

The board also awarded insurance contracts to low bidders. Noyce Strait Jr. Agency received the fleet insurance for $1,962.62, while Michigan Mutual Liability Co. was awarded the workmen's compensation liability insurance at $9,778.90.

By a vote of four to two, the board decided to refund the election recount deposits put up by Schimmel and Lloyd Ludy. Schimmel and Mrs. Lola King voted against the refund.

Safety Building Nearly Done

Second Civic Center Edifice to Be Finished in Mid-August

A tentative completion date of mid-August has been set for Pontiac's new $875,000 Public Safety Building.

Leo J. Heenan, architect for the building, said it would probably be around Sept. 1 before occupancy.

Major jobs going on now are installation of acoustical ceiling and wood paneling of two municipal courts and judges' chambers.

The building — the second milestone in the city's Civic Center progress — will house the police department, headquarters for the fire department, and municipal court.

It is situated next door to the City Hall, also designed by Heenan.

Already installed on the second floor of the brick edifice is the city's first jail, with provisions for around 25 prisoners.

The Day in Birmingham

June Balloting Approves School Districts Merger

BIRMINGHAM — There is one less school district in Oakland County following the early June balloting when voters approved consolidation of the Hickory Grove district with Bloomfield Hills.

The merger brings to the Hills system a new building dedicated only a few months ago which will continue to serve elementary grades.

High school juniors and seniors now enrolled at Birmingham, may continue there if they so desire with Bloomfield Hills picking up the tuition tab. Others in the old Hickory Grove district will enter Bloomfield Hills High School.

School district officials said that Nathan Hargett will continue on as principal at the Hickory Grove elementary school, Bloomfield Hills will honor all teaching contracts at the same amounts, according to Eugene L. Johnson, Hills superintendent.

The books of the old district have been consolidated into the records of the Bloomfield Hills system and full arrangements are completed, ready to go into effect with the September opening.

Beginning Monday, July 1, summer hours will go into effect for the Birmingham YMCA. The office will be open from 8:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and on Saturday for business transactions only from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Boys and girls holding "Y" membership cards will be permitted to use the lounge for group games even when weather is favorable for outdoor play. The Little Giant program of the "Y" will use the lounge on rainy days.

Appointments for evening activities may be arranged through Edwin F. Kirbert, executive secretary.

Birmingham toastmasters club awarded basic training diplomas to Lloyd Smith, John Kotchian, George Motsenbecker, Ken Jones, James Beall and Robert Bowen this week.

Ed Kirbert, only charter member remaining in the six year old club gave the awards.

Mrs. Harry Moodt

Mrs. Harry (Ann) Moodt, 46, of 1310 Haynes died Thursday in Beaumont Hospital following a short illnes. She was a member of Northminster Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Judy Ann and Carol Jean, and two sons, Bernard and Robert, serving with the U. S. Army in Holland. Four sisters and a brother also survive.

Service will be at 1 p.m. Monday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with the Rev. MacKay Taylor officiating.

Wright N. Whittemore

Former resident of Bloomfield Hills, Wright Nelson Whittemore, died at his home in Santa Barbara, Calif. Tuesday.

Noted horticulturist and lapidist, several of his specimens are at the Cranbrook Museum.

Surviving are his wife, Marjory and a daughter, Susan Blanche, of Detroit. Arrangements for service and burial are pending.

Reveal Effort to Obtain Land

State Highway Office Eyed Strip for Widening Orchard Lake Road

An effort by the State Highway Dept. to acquire 27 feet along the front of the Whitfield School site near Sylvan lake for the widening of Orchard Lake road was revealed at last night's Pontiac Board of Education meeting.

Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent, told the board the highway department also was planning to empty a new storm sewer on adjacent property where the water would drain onto a low area of the school site which is already swampy.

Hufziger said that the Highway Department, in October, 1954, when an addition to the the school was being studied, said widening of the road would occur on the south side only.

Two weeks ago, he added, a right-of-way agent for the department approached the school administration for the north side strip in front of the school. He was turned down.

WIDENING DROPPED

The widening was apparently dropped when Sylvan Lake and other communities objected. The underpass double lane road will end just before the Whitfield property.

The highway department then asked for an easement for their storm sewer across the school site, but delayed the request until construction was under way. This meant that the sewer work had to be started before the board of education would meet.

The highway people, Hufziger went on, then bypassed the school property with the sewer line to avoid a job delay.

Concerned about the water problem, the board instructed the administration to immediately ask the County Drain Commission to continue the line north and empty the storm water into Sylvan Lake.

Pontiac Man to Appeal Drunk Driving Verdict

Bobbie G. Dunican, 23, of 130 S. Josephine St., found guilty of drunk driving yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, will appear in Circuit Court July 8 to appeal the verdict.

McCallum freed Dunican on a $100 bond until he appears in the higher court. The judge's sentence was $100 fine or 20 days in jail.

Add Rescue Methods and You're Set to Go

Back Stroke Is Safety Factor for Swimmer

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a five-part series on learning to swim presented this week by the Press. This article discusses the backstroke and some basic rescue methods.)

By GERALDINE IRWIN
PHS Swimming Instructor

A swimmer should learn to propel himself on his back as well as his front. A back stroke may serve as a safety factor as well as add variety to swimming ability.

★ ★ ★

Earlier in the series you learned to float on your back, which is the basis for this back stroke. You also learned to flutter kick on your front so now practice it on your back.

STROKE IS SAME

The arm pull employed here is the hand-over method, similar to the front crawl stroke sytem.

The arms should be straight and they stroke alternately. The fingers are together and palms face the bottom. Reach out above your head and slightly to the side, pull down and them up.

Your face is out of the water during this stroke. Keep your chin on your chest in the breathing pattern.

Practice swimming on the front and rolling over on your back to continue with the back stroke. Relax when swimming and enjoy it.

RESCUE METHODS

To conclude this series, here are some rescue methods.

1. Try to reach for the victim but be sure you have a secure position before you attempt it.

2. If the victim is out of reach, try to wade to him. Never wade out farther than you can balance yourself. Lean toward shore.

3. If the victim is out of reach of wading, find something to throw to the victim and then tow him in to shore. A rope, stick, towel, shirt, pole or buoy can be used.

4. If a boat is handy, row to the victim and have him hold onto the boat while you tow him to shore.

5. No one should attempt to swim to a drowning person unless he is a fully qualified lifeguard.

6. If the rescuer has a companion, send him for help immediately. Your life is the most important.

★ ★ ★

I wish you luck with your swimming and I hope you don't become discouraged if it takes all summer to learn how to swim.

Endurance, confidence, relaxation and practice are the most important factors in learning to swim.

ON THE BACK—The back stroke is important to any swimmer and is similar to the front crawl. Using a flutter kick, put one hand above the head and pull down and then up to the thigh. The other arm is always opposite of the pulling arm, as shown in the picture.

Where Would You Choose to Live?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Reverie at the typewriter keys:

What did Alexander the great and John Barrymore have in common?

A thing shared by Kubla Khan, Guy de Maupassant, Martin Luther, John Wesley and Isaac Newton. It also knit together Charles Darwin, Talleyrand, Samuel Johnson, William Pitt, Alfred Tennyson, Gen. Winfield Scott, Edward Gibbon, Francis Bacon, and William Harvey, who discovered the circulation of the blood.

All these famous men—soldiers, statesmen, scientists, poets, philosophers and scholars—are linked by one thing: They all suffered from gout, the disease of greatness.

---

A question that fascinates many people is "If you could afford to live anywhere in the world, where would you choose?"

I have asked this question of hundreds of people I have interviewed—and many have promptly thrown it right back to me.

Far places lure many people. But when they get right down to facts, most of them admit these are places they merely want to see. When it comes to steady living, most of them want to live right where they are—at home.

The only thing that interests many Americans today more than the size of their stomachs is what they put into it.

In a time of prosperity, such as now, they can afford to experiment with exotic foods—and they do. But even in expensive restaurants, they still sell 10 plates of corned beef hash to one order for pheasant under glass.

One of the quickest ways to reduce is to pick a favorite food—and eat nothing else, day after day.

The food that cloys the palate least in long periods of hunger is probably the food that forms the staple diet of most of Asia's teeming millions—rice.

Once I interviewed an American officer who subsisted for nearly 70 days behind the enemy lines in Korea largely on rice alone. By an odd coincidence, he was served rice at his first meal after being rescued.

"It's all right," he said. "I never got tired of it."

O'Dwyer's Tax Report Incorrect

Ex-Mayor of New York, Wife Didn't List Entire Income, Court Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Tax Court has ruled that former New York Mayor William O'Dwyer and his former wife Sloan Simpson failed to report $11,500 in taxable income for 1949 and 1951.

The court directed them yesterday to recompute their tax liability for those years and also for 1950. The court held that some of O'Dwyer's 1950 tax deductions were not permissible.

★ ★ ★

In connection with the allegedly unreported income, the court said O'Dwyer in 1949 was handed $10,000 in cash by John P. Crane, president of the Uniformed Firemen's Assn. of New York City.

The court said there was evidence Crane turned over the money to O'Dwyer as a campaign contribution, but "the record is devoid of evidence showing the disposition of these funds."

★ ★ ★

If the $10,000 was used in a re-election campaign, it would not be taxable, but the court said O'Dwyer in declining to testify at his tax trial failed to establish the money was not taxable.

The court said the then Mrs. O'Dwyer received $1,500 from "some undisclosed source" in 1951, and also has not explained whether it should be regarded as taxable income.

O'Dwyer now lives in Mexico City.

Eddie Fisher Loses Invitation to Royal Affair

LONDON (INS) — Eddie Fisher won't be singing for Princess Margaret tonight because his press agent tried to make a "deal" with Buckingham Palace.

Fisher had been invited by an official of the group sponsoring a charity ball at the Savoy Hotel tonight to take part in a royal performance for the Princess.

Fisher, who is Margaret's favorite crooner, apparently accepted but his press agent told the ball sponsor the young American would attend only if invited personally by the Princess.

Buckingham Palace reacted swiftly and angrily, according to an official of the charity who announced:

"The Palace said there could be no question of a personal invitation from the Princess."

The official added that it was unofficially made clear that the Princess was very annoyed.

Fisher, in Paris, said it was a "great shock" when he was told his name had been dropped from the ball list, adding, "I didn't ask for an invitation from the Princess."

Mother, 2 Children Found Dead in Auto

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP)—The bodies of Mrs. Margaret Gebhardt, 31, and her two young daughters, were found today in the family automobile parked in the garage at their home in nearby Gypsum. The motor of the car was still running.

Coroner C. R. Wood returned a verdict of homicide and suicide in the deaths of the mother and daughters—Donna Marie, 10, and Barbara Jean, 4. He said carbon monoxide poisoning was the cause of death.

Sheriff Hetrick said an unsigned note in Mrs. Gebhardt's hand-writing was found on the kitchen table. It said: "God, forgive me, but I can't go on like this."

The sheriff said the mother had been in ill health and under a doctor's care for some time.

Army Official Hits Pontiac

Calls Education Board Shortsighted in Denying Site for Center

An Army official in Detroit today said the Pontiac Board of Education was "very shortsighted" in rejecting a 4½-acre site adjacent to Madison Junior High School for a new Army reserve training center.

"They don't realize that this building will be for their own kids," said Col. Paul L. Jolley, acting chief of staff of the Michigan Military District.

Six board members last night unanimously turned down a request of the Army, saying the plot was to close to the present school, and also that the center might interfere with site development plans of the proposed high school in that area.

"We don't want any tanks clanking around our school children," Monroe Osmun, board member stated.

HAS NO PLANS

Col. Jolley this morning said the Army has no plans to use the building for other than classroom activities at night. "All the meetings will be at night when school is out," he said. "There won't be any use of equipment outside the structure at all."

The rejection of the site is another in a series of setbacks the Army has faced in trying to build its $320,000 center in Pontiac. Reservists now train at 37 W. Lawrence St.

"All we need is a piece of property, that's all," the colonel said.

★ ★ ★

The Army was forced to give up an Orchard Lake avenue site when it was discovered it would have to spend an additional $65,000 for special footings. This was necessary, officials said, because the land was a former city sanitary fill.

Col. Jolley said his office would go after one more plot in the city. He would not disclose the location because of fear of possible rising real estate values.

"This place will exhaust our locations there," he said.

★ ★ ★

"If we don't get that," he continued, "we'll have to report to the Department of Army that no site is available in Pontiac."

Bing Raps Music Choice on Television and Radio

Bing Crosby told the U.S. Senate that "much of the music on radio and television is trash."

Der Bingle is so right.

He just understates the case.

★ ★ ★

This testimony came about in an investigation of charges that a musical organization owned by the radio-TV industry favors its own tunes to the exclusion of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers.

★ ★ ★

The opposition charges that Crosby is prejudiced in behalf of his own group. We know nothing about the merits of the case. We know nothing about Crosby's motives. We do know that he bears an honorable reputation in the radio, movie and TV world and among people in general.

★ ★ ★

And we do know that a horrible potpourri of sheer trash is perpetrated day after day and night after night. Also, some of the current "arrangements" strive so desperately for "originality" that they could conceal the beauty and splendor of "Silent Night" and The National Anthem.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Crosby, we don't understand your motives, but we understand your language.

You are too, too correct.

You speak a simple truth.

★ ★ ★

"It just galls me exceedingly to see so much trash on our airwaves and TV screens while the work of the talented, dedicated song writers is crowded out of the picture," he told the Senate committee.

★ ★ ★

Of course, there is one steadfast defense.

It ALWAYS works.

It never fails.

You can twist the dials or snap off the button entirely. Thereafter, you have peace.

U.N. Troops in Korea to Get New Weapons

When the Korean armistice was signed in 1953, both sides agreed to allow inspection of their areas and not to strengthen their forces in any way nor bring in new equipment or troops, except as replacements.

Communist truce team members moved freely all over South Korea and finally had to be barred on charges of spying. However, the Reds refused to allow U.N. teams in North Korea. An American officer stationed in South Korea says:

"When the truce was signed the Communists had no jet aircraft in North Korea. They had agreed not to bring any in. Now they are so openly flouting the agreement that they put out propadanda boasting that their jets chase our observation planes when they get close to the border."

★ ★ ★

There is plenty of evidence to show that the Communists have 800 new planes in North Korea, 500 of them jets—all in violation of the truce—and 36 new airfields. Large shipments of new weapons have been received and the Korean Communists army now stands at 400,000, supported by 350,000 Red Chinese in North Korea and a million or more in nearby Manchuria.

★ ★ ★

For four years the United Nations has observed the truce agreement to the letter. But because of repeated Communist violations over a long period, the U.N. now is equipping its troops with modern weapons as a necessary defense step.

It is good to know that our troops no longer will be left along the defense line with outmoded equipment, some so old that it can't even be repaired.

Benson on Farm Plans

"I don't believe in paying farmers not to produce," says Agriculture Secretary Benson, "but I think they realize that the soil bank program is a temporary emergency program."

★ ★ ★

However, he states that agriculture is faced with the necessity of reducing stocks of farm products owned by the Government and of using our abundant production constructively. Price supports of the past, he declared, are partly responsible for the present overexpansion of agriculture.

While the Secretary does not propose scrapping present farm programs, he hopes for expansion of markets and less farmer reliance on rigid price support levels.

★ ★ ★

The soil bank costs money and no doubt there are many abuses of it. But at the present time it seems to provide the best basis for a reasonable farm policy and hope for stabilizing agriculture production.

But communism is making continual inroads into China, where it was introduced by the Russians. There is no Chinese brand of communism—they have only the Russian brand.

But there is no danger that Russia can ever take over China. No other country in all history has ever been able to do that—and Chinese history runs back for many thousands of years.

Dr. Cheng was Chiang's personal physician for four years, and well understands his background, executive ability and sentimental feelings.

David Lawrence Says:

Court Doesn't Do What It Preaches

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court of the United States doesn't practice what it preaches.

From time immemorial it has been a rule of law that, when an expert witness testifies in court, he must be present for cross-examination by the other side.

LAWRENCE

The Supreme Court has just said, moreover, that, when the FBI puts on a witness in a criminal case, the other side must have access to anything and everything about the witness which is in the files of the law-enforcement agency so that the credibility of such a witness may be tested in court.

But the Supreme Court of the United States doesn't allow this in its own proceedings. Thus, the famous decision on school integration violated all the rules of modern courts by declaring that it was based on the "authority" of witnesses who never were revealed in court at all.

Some of these "witnesses" were connected with Communist-front organizations, and one of them was a Swedish Socialist who bitterly tion. The lawyers for the several tion. The awyers for the several sovereign states who argued the case before the Supreme Court were not told that the court had any "secret witnesses" or "experts" up its judicial sleeve. Only when the decision was printed did the American people learn what "witnesses" had influenced the Supreme Court's conclusions.

BITTER BATTLE

Today one of the bitterest controversies in American history has grown out of the same Supreme Court decision, which says candidly that its ruling was based on information derived from certain "experts."

The decision says that "whatever may have been the extent of psychological knowledge" at the time (1896) that the opinion (Plessy V. Brown) was handed down which permitted "separate but equal" school facilities, the new finding "is amply supported by modern authority."

The Supreme Court, in its opinion, then cited six "authorities" and said in a footnote: "And see generally Myrdal, 'An American Dilemma' (1944)."

Senator Eastland of Mississippi, Democrat, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has placed before the Senate a resolution containing information which nobody was evidently permitted to place before the Supreme Court during the time the case was being argued.

He says that a "provisional investigation of the authorities upon which the Supreme Court relied reveals to a shocking degree their connection with and participation in the worldwide Communist conspiracy, in that Brameld and Frazier, listed in the group of six authorities, have no less than 28 citations in the files of the committee on un-American Activities of the United States House of Representatives revealing membership in, or participation with, Communist or Communist-front organizations and activities."

Eastland pointed out that Myrdal, the Swedish Socialist, declared — in the book cited by the Supreme Court — that the United States Constitution was "impractical and unsuited to modern conditions" and that its adoption was "nearly a plot against the common people."

Eastland said he was convinced the Supreme Court has been "indoctrinated and 'brainwashed' by left-wing pressure groups."

Whether one does or does not agree with Eastland's contentions, the fact is that nobody could cross-examine the "authorities" cited by the Supreme Court nor introduce other experts to present a contradictory interpretation.

For the Court didn't tell anybody who its "witnesses" were. It kept them secret until the decision itself was announced. So there wasn't any opportunity for "confrontation" or "refutation." Yet that's the rule the Supreme Court insists on whenever anyone in the lower courts brings in witnesses and no opportunity for cross-examination is given.

Instead of performing a review function, the Supreme Court has introduced its own "experts," and the other side could not cross-examine them or evaluate their expertness or credibility. This certainly wasn't "due process" — the Court's favorite phrase, which it used pointedly in a recent decision crippling the powers of congressional investigating committees.

Smiles

There really is more health packed into a sunny weekend trip than in the average medicine bottle.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Be Sure Water Is Pure Before You Drink Any

In extraordinary circumstances, it may be necessary to know how to make questionable water safe to drink. Water from brook, spring, river, lake, well, or wayside faucet or fountain may require disinfection to give the tourist, traveler, or newcomer the benefit of the doubt until he can learn from the local health authorities whether the water is safe to drink.

DR. BRADY

Boiling for not less than one minute is the simplest and best way to disinfect water for drinking. Boiling destroys any disease germ which might be in the water. Make sure the water has actually boiled one minute. Then let it cool for drinking.

Next best way to disinfect questionable water for drinking, say while camping for a week more or less, is by adding chlorinated lime. Dissolve in a quart of water a rounded teaspoonful of chlorinated lime from a freshly opened can of chlorinated lime.

Use a level—well, you can't very well use a heaping spoonful of liquid, can you?—put a teaspoonful of the solution in each gallon of water and let it stand for a while. The water will then be safe to drink. Though it may have a slight taste of chlorine such as municipal tap water sometimes has.

A third way to make questionable water safe to drink is by adding to a quart of the water two or three drops of Mild Tincture of Iodine (approximately 2 per cent iodine strength), shaking it up and letting it stand 15 minutes before drinking.

Municipal water everywhere is safe nowadays. So a tourist who will need drinking water between towns should carry a supply with him.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Answers Questions on Stuttering

Are southpaws more inclined to stutter than right handed youngsters? And is it dangerous to change a lefty into a right hander? These and similar moot questions are answered below, so scrapbook this Case Record or mail it to your friends who are facing this dilemma at present. For this column tries to free you from anxiety by giving you facts.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-323: Jerry K., aged 3, is a bright youngster, but his mother is worried about him.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, Jerry is left handed," she spoke apprehensively, "and I am afraid that may be what makes him stutter.

"He frequently gets excited and stutters a little. I have hesitated to correct him, but I don't want him to continue as a stutterer all his life.

"And if being left handed is what makes him stutter, how can I change him so he will use his right hand?"

DR. CRANE

Jerry's mother was really worried and unhappy. For most parents want their children to be as perfect as possible. And mothers will do almost anything to improve their children's success in life.

★ ★ ★

But many of these maternal fears are based on false notions. It is ignorance that causes much of the world's woes.

That's why your editor runs this clinical column on practical psychology, for it helps clear up unnecessary dreads and actually serves in many cases as "vaccination" against neurotic ailments, as well as divorce.

For example, stuttering in toddlers is normal. For at that age their "speaking" vocabulary simply lags behind their "understanding" vocabularly.

★ ★ ★

A few additional years will usually remedy the matter entirely, if parents and other relatives don't "set" the habit of stuttering by shouting at the child and making him unduly self - conscious about his speech.

SOUTHPAWS STUTTER?

Surveys a few years ago revealed that stutterers were often recruited from southpaws (left handed).

But we now know that this was not due primarily to their being born with a tendency to use the left hand instead of the right.

★ ★ ★

No, it seems to have resulted from the chronic parental yelling, such as:

"No, no, Johnny, use your right hand."

If, therefore, you tactfully change a left handed youngster into a right hander by offering him toys on his right side and always stimulating his right hand, he will not be any more inclined to stutter than the child who was born right handed.

DON'T SET STUTTERING

When parents shout at children as the youngsters are in the act of using their left hand, or when they always yell at the normal toddler stutterers when the latter start to speak, the parents hamper those youngsters.

They set up a bad habit that causes the child to inhibit or check his movements, either of hand or throat.

And this may "set" that innocent and quite normal toddler stuttering so it will not disappear when the child reaches kindergarten age.

Don't make your child unduly self-conscious, therefore, by shouting negatives in his direction, except in such needed situations as when he tries to venture upon a fast automobile highway.

And if you wish to change a left hander into a right handed youngster, don't say a word about the matter.

★ ★ ★

Simply place desirable toys on the right side so the child will use the right hand more often.

As soon as you get the right hand into greater use, the youngster will begin to prefer it.

In fact, one theory about the greater number of right handed children is that even in the womb, they are suspended so they have greater freedom to move that right arm. Thus, it has been used more often than the left prior to birth.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Agrees About Parking Lot, Calls Attention to Street

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I agree the City Hall parking lot is a big mess, but worse than that, it is a waste of money and wilful disregard for the taxpaying public. However, one thing was overlooked—the street leading into it.

With all the emphasis on congested traffic, the "expert planners" failed to widen Hill Street when it was paved less than a year ago. Not only did they extend parking islands into an already too narrow street, but they built a flower garden in the center. I'll admit flowers in bloom are inspiring and the gardener really knows how to grow them, but the center of the street is hardly the place to display them.

It's good to know Mr. Scott paid the license fee on his pooch. If enough others did the same, maybe there'd be enough money to install a P.A. system on top of the City Hall wtih proper hillbilly music and a caller to aid motorists in sa-shaying their cars through all that fantastic maze.

Tells Shortcoming of Penal System

The killer of the little girl in Detroit is a good example of the shortcomings of our penal system. The man said he had worried about being unable to control his depraved emotions when he got out of prison, and yet he didn't get any treatment while he was there. What good does it do to stick a man in a cell and let him sit for 15 or 20 years unless something is done to help him in the meantime? You may say it costs too much to supply proper psychiatric care for such people in prisons, but it might have saved the expense of this trial and the expense of sending him back to prison. And it might have saved that little girl's life.

'Television Isn't Movies' Downfall'

The movie industry can complain all it wants about TV taking business away from theaters, but that isn't the problem at all. Have you taken a good look at the choice of pictures they're offering lately? There have been plenty of times that I felt like going to a good movie, but a quick glance at the movie programs convinces me that anything offered on TV would be better than the shows downtown. Get a few good movies with good casts and people will attend the same as ever.

Supports Decision of Supreme Court

The recent Supreme Court decisions represent a bright ray of sanity through the noxious miasma of a decade of Congressional inquisition, witch-hunt hysteria and character assassination. Generations of Americans to come will remember June 17, 1957, as a great day for democracy and as a palinode for McCarthyism.

The world's sure finding out that if you want to win a pennant, you have to beat the Yankees on and off the field. Why don't the Tiger fans stop crying? Just because they beat the Yanks three out of four in Detroit, they expect everybody in the league to concede the pennant to them. Maybe they forgot Baltimore and Kansas City games count, too.

U.S. Jets Fly in South Korea

Arrive Only One Week After U.N. Decision to Bring In Arms

SEOUL (AP) — Sleek supersonic American jet fighter planes ranged over South Korea today, one week after the U.N. Command announced it was bringing in new arms to match the Communist military buildup in North Korea.

★ ★ ★

But the U.S. Air Force quickly announced that the aircraft — banned by the 1953 armistice — would not be based in Korea. They will fly over on "training" flights and return to their Japanese bases, landing in South Korea only for refueling or in emergencies.

The first of the new planes sighted were four faster-than-sound F100 Supre Sabre Jets, which flashed over Seoul shortly after midday. Flights of other modern fighters and bombers were expected later.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Air Force announced that "all types of aircraft now in use by the 5th Air Force (based in Japan) are or will be flying the skies and using the airways of South Korea."

The announcement emphasized that the flights were "of routine training nature" and said the planes "flying these missions were not assigned to Korean bases but were using these bases as needed in their training."

Christian Unity Asked by Church

New Denomination Ends First Meeting Indicating Future Aspirations

CLEVELAND (AP)—Aspirations of the new United Church of Christ today were echoed in two forms—a prayer and a song.

The prayer: For the worldwide unity of all christendom.

The song: "Lead On, O King Eternal. . ."

With the pulse-quickening strains of the hymm, founders of the newly merged denomination late yesterday ended their first, formative meeting.

The appeal for Christian unity was sounded by new denomination's General Synod in a closing message to all churches around the earth.

In a separate resolution, the meeting took note of the opposition of some Congregational Christian Churches to the merger, and spoke a word of conciliation.

"The uniting General Synod expresses . . . its continuing affection and respect for all those who at any time through the years since negotiations began have entertained questions or uncertainties as to the union. . ." it said.

Britain Sends Rocket 50 Miles Above Earth

Burglars Work Hard, Find Crime Doesn't Pay

PASSAIC, N. J. (AP)—Crime didn't pay for a couple of burglars here yesterday.

The burglars, apparently thinking they were breaking into a vault, bored through a three-foot cement wall to the offices of the City Motors Co.

Once inside, they used a sledge-hammer to knock the combination off the safe. But this added to their troubles by setting off tear gas.

The would-be robbers fled empty-handed and sore-eyed.

$2,000 Salary Increases Announced by College

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP)—Faculty salary increases ranging up to $2,000 a year have been announced by Swarthmore College. The new salaries are believed to be among the highest in the nation for college teachers.

Dr. Courtney Smith, president of the school, said the salaries will now range from $4,500 for instructors, up to $14,000 for some professors. Professors were raised $2,000; associate professors, $1,500; assistant professors, $1,000 and instructors $500.

ARTHRITIS OR RHEUMATISM?

READ THE FOLLOWING TRUE STATEMENTS TAKEN FROM TESTIMONIALS FOR O-JIB-WA BITTERS. THESE ARE BUT A FEW FROM THOUSANDS OF SATISFIED CUSTOMERS.

MRS. KNACK—FLINT—"I have read in the Bible how God created herbs for the service of man, and after trying other medicines, I know that nothing compares with O-Jib-Wa Bitters for arthritis."

MRS. DANIELS—WAYNE—"For what O-Jib-Wa has done for me, I'll sing its praises from the house top. Arthritis formerly hurt me so bad I almost fainted from the pain."

MR. BENJAMIN—WEST BRANCH—"I'm 72 years old and thanks to O-Jib-Wa Bitters, my arthritis is gone, and I'm able to do all my own work around the house."

MRS. ST. PETER—KINGSFORD—"My knees were swollen to about twice their normal size, and pained so I could hardly walk. I took O-Jib-Wa, and haven't been bothered since."

MR. SIMONS—KALAMAZOO—"Your wonderful herb medicine began to help me in about a week. My trouble was diagnosed as arthritis, so I know first hand how much it can help a person."

MRS. STANDRIDGE—FLINT—"I'll recommend O-Jib-Wa Bitters as long as I live, as before using it, arthritis pained me so fiercely, it often made me cry."

MRS. WOJCIK—DETROIT—"I was ready to believe that there was no help for rheumatism and arthritis, but now know different, as O-Jib-Wa certainly does what they say it will."

MR. CARRIVEAU—GRAYLING—"My wrists were stiff and swollen so badly that I could hardly use my hands. After years of suffering, O-Jib-Wa gave results in just 10 days."

MRS. BROWN—OWOSSO—"For a lady of 82, I'm in really wonderful health. Before using O-Jib-Wa, I couldn't climb stairs or walk a block."

MR. AGENTA—DETROIT—"Before using this amazing medicine, I couldn't put my arms behind my back to put my coveralls on."

MRS. COX—BATTLE CREEK—"O-Jib-Wa Bitters did more for me in just two weeks, than everything else I tried put together over the past 25 years."

MRS. SLY—DETROIT—"Everyone I have ever talked to who has tried O-Jib-Wa, has found this medicine all they claim it to be. I personally know this to be true, for it sure made me better."

MRS. NEWCOMB—JACKSON—"Before I discovered O-Jib-Wa, I thought I would spend the rest of my life in a wheelchair."

MRS. TAYLOR—LOWELL—"I'm certain that anyone trying your medicine for rheumatism, arthritis or stomach trouble will soon see why I praise O-Jib-Wa so highly."

MR. PROCTOR—GRAND RAPIDS—"I tried many other medicines and treatments before O-Jib-Wa, and am sorry now that I wasted both time and money. Before using your medicine, I was barely able to dress myself or even walk."

MR. STUBBS—DEARBORN—"After suffering for such a long time, it's great to be up and around again. I'm so thankful for what O-Jib-Wa did for me."

Portland Trial Draws to Close

Perjury Case Against Mayor Schrunk May Go to Jury Today

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP)—A Circuit Court jury is expected to begin considering later today the case of Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk, charged with perjury.

The maximum penalty for conviction is five years in prison.

Closing arguments by the prosecution and defense today will end the 10-day trial of the 44-year-old mayor on a charge of lying when he denied under oath the accusation that he accepted a gambler's bribe.

★ ★ ★

The prosecution, handled by a staff of special assistant state attorneys general, put 23 witnesses on the stand. Their combined testimony indicated that Schrunk —when he was county sheriff— raided the 8212 Club in Portland the night of Sept. 11, 1955, and gambling club paid him off for not arresting patrons.

★ ★ ★

The witnesses said that Clifford O. Bennett, the club's operator, placed $500 in an envelope, walked across the street and dropped it by a drinking fountain. Several said they saw Schrunk walk across the street a few minutes later and pick up the envelope.

Schrunk denied all this and said it was a political plot aimed at defeating his 1956 mayoralty campaign. He said that gamblers feared his election because he would drive them out of town.

Bill Seeks to Stop Trial of GIs Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) was reported today to have given the green light for Foreign Affairs Committee approval of a bill aimed at forcing an end to foreign trials of GIs.

★ ★ ★

The Democratic leader's sanction, plus a view by some congressmen that the bill is politically untouchable, led to predictions of House passage perhaps within the next two weeks.

The measure by Rep. Bow (R-Ohio) won committee approval 18-8 late yesterday amid renewed attacks on the Eisenhower administration decision to allow Japanese trial of Army Specialist 3.C. William S. Girard.

★ ★ ★

The Supreme Court has arranged a special hearing July 8 to determine whether Girard should be tried by Army court-martial or by Japanese courts on a charge of killing a woman collecting metal from a firing range in Japan.

Raft Made of Pine Trees Starts Across Atlantic

BORDEAUX, France (AP)—A raft made of the trunks of seven pine trees set out across the Atlantic today.

Its crew, Guy Gouttepirfre and Rene Lescombe, hope to reach South America in four of five months, then explore the Amazon.

Chicago Police Captains Going on Owl Shift

CHICAGO (UP)—The captains of Chicago's 38 police districts will go on the night shift Monday.

Police Commissioner Timothy J. O'Connor changed their hours from the day shift because the crime rate is higher at night.

"With the captains on the job, we might be able to cut down on crime," he said.

American families own two-thirds of the world's life insurance.

Western Teamsters Vote Rule Change

SAN DIEGO (UP)—The Western Conference of Teamsters last night voted to adopt a new constitution shifting control from appointive to elective officers.

The constitutional change is subject to ratification of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters convention in Miami, Fla., in September.

Frank Brewster, 60, of Seattle, meanwhile remains in control of the 385,000-member conference as chairman reappointed Monday by International President Dave Beck.

★ ★ ★

Brewster was convicted Wednesday by a Washington, D. C. federal court of contempt of Congress for refusing to answer an investigating committee's questions about union matters.

The conference has jurisdiction of the 11 Western states, Hawaii, Alaska and British Columbia.

Family Adopts Korean Orphan Loved by GI

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Sin-ja Lee is now Mary Jane Lignore.

And behind the change in names for the 5-year-old Korean War orphan is a story of a big-hearted American family.

Twenty-year-old Richard Lignore, a GI, first saw Sinja three years ago in the Little Flower Orphanage in Pusan. It was a case of love at first sight.

The son of a big family—his parents have five children, Richard didn't see why the Lignores couldn't add one more. He urged his parents by letter to adopt the tike.

His father Joseph agreed. After the red tape was finally cut, Sin-ja arrived in this country in January of last year. Richard, who was back from overseas by this time, was on hand to greet her.

Sin-ja became a ward of the Catholic Children's Bureau here but temporary custody was given the Lignores. Yesterday's formal adoption ceremony in court completed the process.

Judge Victor J. Dinubile in Municipal Court was happy to give Sin-ja a new American name to go with the starched pinafore, Mary Jane shoes and American accent she was displaying.

Economic Trail Ended for RFC

Spending and Lending Colossus Had Ready Money in Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Reconstruction Finance Corp., a spending and lending colossus that primed the depression-dry pumps of American business in the 1930s, breathes its last gasp today.

The RFC has been a dying organization for two years. Today is its last day of business, although its corporate life doesn't officially end until Sunday midnight.

★ ★ ★

RFC came into being Jan. 22, 1932, when President Herbert Hoover signed a bill just passed by Congress. It started with a capital of 500 million dollars and authority to borrow 1½ billions more.

No one is quite sure even yet just how much RFC pumped into the economy in the years that followed. It was at least 50 billion dollars, possibly more.

Jesse Jones, the Texas millionaire who headed the RFC for years, described this picture of the depression scene upon which RFC entered:

★ ★ ★

Five thousand banks had failed and 7,000 others were in trouble, heavy industrial production had shrunk to nearly nothing. Consumer buying was about as low as it could go if the nation were to keep body and soul together, farm prices had hit bottom and about 12 million persons were unemployed.

Eugene Meyer, then a governor of the Federal Reserve system and now chairman of the board of the Washington Post Co., was RFC's first chief.

★ ★ ★

Under his leadership the RFC first jumped into the banking crisis, then expanded to other fields.

In the years that followed, RFC spending and lending touched almost every facet of American life.

When the United States got into the war, RFC organized, financed and even operated badly needed defense plants.

★ ★ ★

But RFC eventually outlived its usefulness. Its lending activities were halted Sept. 28, 1953, and it began to liquidate its affairs. On June 30, 1954, it lost its independent status and became a unit of the Treasury Department to continue its liquidation. Last April 29 President Eisenhower sent to Congress a reorganization bill for the final abolition of the RFC, to be effective in two months.

That reorganization plan called for the transfer of remaining liquidation functions to other government agencies.

The sleek new Corvette—and Chevrolet Bel Air Convertible

Every Chevy is a Corvette at heart!

...because every Chevrolet shares Corvette's sports car steering, its quicksilver responsiveness, its ready-for-anything roadability.

In plain fact, a Chevy does give you an unseen bonus you don't get in other cars. It's the built-in stability, the accurate handling, the geared-to-the-road security that derive from our experience building America's only true sports car.

This doesn't show in the showroom, of course. But you can feel it the minute you wheel a Chevy out on the road. There's an extra sense of confidence that comes from its beautifully balanced weight distribution, a new relaxation that stems from its precise, instant response to steering, brakes and throttle.

This is a real bonus—you don't have to give up anything to get it. Take it away and Chevy would still be ahead of the field in ultra-efficient engine design, in the craftsmanship of Body by Fisher, in the quiet good taste of styling, in the velvet hush of its ride and the solidity of its construction. But you can't separate that Corvette feeling from any Chevrolet—it's built in. Try one and see!

Junior Editors Quiz on MONKEYS

QUESTION: How far can a monkey jump?

ANSWER: Some kinds of monkey can jump quite far. The Asiatic gibbon shown here, one of the apes, can jump 40 feet.

Apes are just one branch of the monkey family. Monkeys come in many sizes and shapes. Some have long tails that they use like an extra hand. The apes, however, seldom have tails at all. The gibbon is one of these.

On the ground he walks on his hind legs, balancing himself with his outspread arms. But in the trees, he can travel fast, swinging from branch to branch. Since monkeys generally are social animals and like to live in groups, they live well in captivity.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: The next time you go to the zoo, count the number of different kinds of monkeys there are. Color the picture of the gibbon, remembering that his coat is silvery grey.

South African Vessel Passes Through Soo

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — A two-masted sailing ketch, skippered by a red-bearded South African, was tucked in among the Lakes freighters that went through the Soo locks Thursday.

The ketch was the White Seal, hand built by 35-year-old Jerry Trobridge of Durban, South Africa, for a leisurely world cruise that has already covered 21,000 miles in four years.

★ ★ ★

Trobridge said he plans to go fishing in Lake Superior before heading for Cuba by way of Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River. He left home in February 1953, and is working his way as he goes by taking jobs as a pipefitter.

His companion on the cruise is Ron Shetelle, 25, of Toronto plumber. The two met eight months ago when Trobridge stopped off to work in the uranium fields at Blind River, Ont.

Trobridge, who never sailed a boat before building his 36-foot steel craft in 1951, said he is in no hurry to finish his tour.

Hotel Executive Opposes Wagner

NEW YORK (AP)—Hotel executive Robert K. Christenberry, picked by the Republican leaders to run for mayor in this heavily Democratic city, said, "I do not feel like a lamb being led to slaughter."

★ ★ ★

"I believe I will win," the 58-year-old one-handed World War I veteran said after he was designated yesterday by the GOP leaders of the city's five counties. (He lost his right hand in France with the Marines.)

★ ★ ★

Christenberry will face Mayor Robert F. Wagner, son of the late U.S. Sen. Robert F. Wagner, who sponsored the Labor Relations Act and much other important New Deal legislation.

East Germans Sentence Man as Spy for U.S.

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist newspaper Volksstimme today reported that Heinz Sacks, a 32-year-old East German, has been sentenced to four years in prison for spying on the Russian armed forces for the United States.

The paper said Sacks was tried in Magdeburg, an industrial city 95 miles southwest of Berlin.

Arizona has 13 million acres of public domain.

Two Waive Examination on Bad Check Charges

Two Pontiac men were bound over to Circuit Court Wednesday after they waived their examination on bogus check charges.

Eugene Elmy, 21, of 235 Voorheis Rd., and Ronald W. Naberette, 24, of 806 Corwin Ct., remained free on $50 bonds until arraignment in the higher court Monday.

★ ★ ★

The two are accused of being involved in passing over $125 in bogus checks in Pontiac.

Consolidate Production

DETROIT (AP) — Consolidation of production operations has been announced by Crawford Door Co. and Wood Parts Inc., both of Detroit. Crawford will take over output of the Wood Company's plants at Cadillac, Terrel, Tex., and Williamsport, Pa. Final assembly will be done at Crawford plants in Detroit and Memphis, Tenn.

Lumber comprises 80 per cent of the construction material used in the U. S.

Girard to Wed in Japan

KAGOHARA, Japan (AP)—Haur (Candy) Sueyama said today she and American soldier William S. Girard will be married "in three or four days" at his Army camp. Girard is restricted to Camp Whittington, awaiting a decision by the U.S. Supreme Court on whether he should be turned over to a Japanese court to be tried for killing a Japanese woman scrap collector while on guard duty on a military firing range. The case has kicked up an international furor.

Miss Sueyama said the wedding would be "quiet and simple." The couple had planned to marry in March, but Army permission was delayed because Girard had not obtained the required birth certificate from his home in Ottawa, Ill. The certificate arrived Tuesday.

An officer at Camp Whittington said all necessary documents had been submitted to Girard's unit headquarters in Tokyo, but there was no indication when permission for the marriage would be given.

Miss Sueyama said the wedding would be at the Camp Whittington chapel or at the home of a sergeant friend inside the camp, where the couple have spent their evenings while Girard has been confined to the base.

She said the sergeant will be Girard's best man but she has not chosen a bridesmaid.

"I don't understand western customs," she explained.

She said she has no idea where they will live after their marriage.

Girard is 21 and Miss Sueyama 27.

Girard's brother Louis said in Ottawa he had urged the young GI by telephone to marry Miss Sueyama "right away" before Prime Minister Kishi returns from a current visit in the United States. The brother declined to say what connecton he thought Kishi's return had with the wedding. The Prime Minister is due in Tokyo July 1.

Citizens Rally Behind Young Traverse City College

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Northwestern Michigan college has no alumni organization and only six years of tradition—that commodity which helps provide the breath of life for most higher education institutions.

But this little college with 352 students struggling and growing in the north woods of Michigan's Lower Peninsula, has something that would make academic mouths water from the Ivy League to the smallest Texas cow college.

It's a feeling among the people in this town of 17,000.

This feeling for the college produced 1,400 cakes from the ovens of Traverse City housewives to raise money for the school's building fund.

It brought out 4,600 persons—a fourth of the population—to an outdoor barbecue dinner on a cloudy and chilly day to drum up dollars for the college.

MERCHANTS CHIP IN

This feeling caused Traverse City merchants, like supermarket operator Jerry Oleson, who has no connection with the college, to donate tons of beef, beans and potato salad, cases of cabbage and celery, and gallons of relish for the benefit dinner.

When money ran low during construction of a new 10-classroom building, this feeling for the college brought out volunteers with paint brushes.

The willingness, the enthusiasm and the determination of this town spread to the Michigan legislature. A community college bill, making available $1,200,000 in state matching funds, went into effect in 1956.

★ ★ ★

Republican State Rep. Arnell Engstrom of Travrese City, who sponsored the bill, said:

"The bill was started and pushed through for this community. If it wasn't for their enthusiasm, it probably would not have come this far."

★ ★ ★

The nucleus of the college spirit is the Wigwam Club and its 1,800 members. Harold L. Votey Jr. a University of Michigan graduate who heads the Wigwam Club, calls it a "synthetic alumni group."

★ ★ ★

The Wigwam Club sees the practical value of Northwestern Michigan College in two lights.

TWO YEARS

First, from the standpoint of the youth of northern Michigan, the college provides two years of higher education—and the promise of four years in the future—for many who can't travel south to one of Michigan's larger universities. Northwestern Michigan College is the only college betwen the Straits of Mackinac 100 miles to the north and Ferris Institute at Big Rapids, 91 miles to the south.

In the eyes of the townspeople, who are betting their money, time and energy on the growth of the college, Northwestern Michigan Colege offers the best way to keep the youth of Northwest Michigan home. Too many go to the populous centers in southern Michigan for their education, take a job there, and never make it back to the land around Grand Traverse Bay.

Educators like the idea. They think additional small colleges are the way to solve the problem of soaring college enrollment, rather than planning for student bodies of 50,000 or so at such schools at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

The state government gives an official smile to it. Aside from the legislation that opened the state pocketbook to community colleges, Gov. G. Mennen Williams has signed a bill making it possible for five adjacent counties to join with Grand Traverse County in voting tax support of Northewestern Michigan College.

Syrian Government OKs Oil Refinery Contract

DAMASCUS—The Syrian Council of Ministers has approved a contract with a Czechoslovak company for construction of an oil refinery in Syria.

★ ★ ★

The plant, with a capaicty of 750,000 tons a year, will be erected near the pipelines passing the city of Homs. Part of the cost will be paid in the form of Syrian exports of raw cotton.

Mom With Career Does as Much as Stay-at-Home

Survey Shows That the Working Wife Performs Household Chores Faster

ST. LOUIS—(INS)—A new pilot study of working mothers versus stay-at-home mothers indicates that both get the same amount of work done around the house.

The working wives just do their housework faster.

Results of the survey, taken in central Pennsylvania, were the highlighted disclosures at the 48th annual convention of the American Home Economics Association closing today in St. Louis.

Dr. Ruth Honey, professor of family economics and housing at Pennsylvania State University, told a "working mothers" panel that interviewers found the "chief difference between mothers who work and mothers who don't is that job-holders' household practices are speedier."

The survey was taken in four towns and surrounding rural areas in Penn Valley, about 25 miles from the university.

Sixty-six families with women who had one or more children under 18 were found to be working more than 30 hours a week. Also quizzed were 200 women who stayed home, in town or on the farm.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Honey said the feminine jobholders were "older than full-time homemakers (indicating the latter had smaller children) and had husbands with more formal education."

In general, Dr. Honey said, "Even farm women are doing less baking and sewing. All families are using packaged mixes."

Working mothers are using more frozen foods than some who stay at home, she reported, but in general all employ these practices around the house:

"They dry dishes with towels, shop once a week or less, don't iron bed sheets, and very few use vacuum cleaner attachments for dusting."

Dr. Honey said the women who stay at home usually wash and dry dishes three times every day; women with jobs wash dishes only once or twice a day.

"Interviewers could not tell from outward appearance whether a woman worked or not in visiting her home," he declared, and explained that mothers with or without jobs were "doling out some of the tasks" to husbands and children, who didn't seem to mind.

Conferences Are Useful to Families

They Sit Down and Talk Things Over Like Executives

ST. LOUIS (INS)—American families apparently sit down and talk things over together like executives do in big business.

★ ★ ★

The conference table has become an important part of family relations, according to Mrs. Stanly Castle of Alton, Ill.

A widowed home economist who spent 40 years as a farm wife after being brought up in Chicago, Mrs. Castle told a meeting on current family practices at the 48th annual American Home Economics Association convention in St. Louis:

"No one person does all the decision-making in a family these days. Every member has a voice in finances, budgets, education and recreation."

★ ★ ★

But, just as major business executives withhold the right to make the final decisions in conferences, so should parents.

Or says Mrs. Richard L. Morse of Manhattan, Kan., who holds a degree in child development and is the mother of three daughters, aged 7, 9 and 11. She said:

"The democratic view of exchanging opinions and voting is fine. But you are in trouble on casting votes if you have more than one child.

★ ★ ★

"With one child, the parents still can outvote the youngster. But when there are more children than parents, it causes less friction to go back to the old rule of father and mother know best."

"Parents should not expect a child, say aged 10, to vote in favor of setting aside a fund for college instead of buying a new bicycle," she said.

"Nor for that matter," she asserted, "can parents count on teenagers giving up a car or saxophone for education in the future."

★ ★ ★

"Old fashioned give-and-take should be used by husbands and wives who have agreed to share different expenses around the house," said Mrs. Morse, wife of a college professor.

She added: "I know a couple who has decided that she is responsible for recreation out of her budget and he is responsible for car expenses.

"When it comes to a family automobile outing, the one who makes the suggestion first pays for the gasoline and oil."

★ ★ ★

Smiling, she asked: "Can't you just picture them standing around in the living room on a Sunday, each waiting for the other to make the first move?"

Janet Keppel to Become Bride

William attends the University of Michigan. No wedding date has been set.

Keeping Busy Heals Broken Heart

By ANNE HEYWOOD

June is the month of marriages, but it is also the month of non-marriages—that is, engagements that are broken for one reason or another.

★ ★ ★

About this time last year, two girls I know went through this devastating experience.

Both had planned June weddings, but both of them were—what used to be called—"jilted." The men just decided they didn't want to marry them.

The way they each reacted is the point of this story.

★ ★ ★

Connie was heartbroken. On top of that, her vanity was demolished. She grew bitter and told her girl friends the whole heartbreaking story, down to the exact words with which he dealt the final blow.

She warned them to trust no man and carried on as if she were the only person in the world who had ever suffered.

DIDN'T RECOVER

She got the family to send her on a trip to get over it, but she didn't get over it, largely, I suspect, because she didn't want to.

★ ★ ★

When she returned, she knuckled down to snaring another husband, fast. She got one, but he was the wrong one for her.

Now Connie is divorced and telling all her friends the heartbreaking details about that.

Betty, who had essentially the same problem, has recovered entirely.

★ ★ ★

She was engaged to a man she adored, the date was set, and then he up and fell for somebody else.

BETTER BEFORE

Betty was heartbroken, but she tried to convince herself that it was best to find out before the wedding than after. That was slim comfort, but she clung to it the best she could.

★ ★ ★

She didn't talk about her tragedy. She moved to another city for the summer, to visit her aunt who lived there and to go to typing school.

"I can't keep my mind on anything," she told me, "but if I don't try, I'll go out of my mind. Some days I don't accomplish a thing, but at least I sit four hours a day in front of that machine, in a nice noisy room full of other typing students. And nobody knows me or my troubles, which is a blessing."

This June, Betty is in an interesting job and has a good many beaux, one of whom seems pretty serious.

Retired Home Economist Scolds Working Mothers

Families Should Come Before Appliances

ST. LOUIS (INS)—The leader of 4,000 trained home economists, now full-time homemakers, spanked working wives today for "putting dryers, TV sets and automobiles ahead of husbands and children."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ezra Howard, the wife of an engineer and mother of two grown children, declared that "women ought to stay home if there are growing children unless it is a matter of real financial hardship."

Mrs. Howard is a member of the executive board of the American Home Economics Association and represents home economists who gave up careers for families.

★ ★ ★

In an interview at the AHEA's 48th annual convention in St. Louis, the Kansas City, Mo., chairman of home economists in homemaking asserted:

"If something goes wrong with a mother's children she must take the responsibility if she is working outside the home. Children are hard to keep up with — not only at an early age but in their teens.

"A mother should stay at home at the sacrifice of dryers, TV sets and a second automobile. She should not choose these conveniences and risk having her children in the streets."

In Mrs. Howard's opinion, working mothers are a "definite factor" in the rise of juvenile delinquency. She said:

"Since wives have been going out of their homes in droves to work there has been a parallel increase in juvenile crimes."

"Few women," said Mrs. Howard, "are strong enough to run a home and do justice to her husband, her family, her job and her community."

★ ★ ★

The exodus of women to jobs, complained Mrs. Howard, is throwing the load of church, civic and charity activities on "full-time" housewives. She said:

"I get letters from every state from homemakers who are working double-time to take up the slack in community affairs. In Scout troops, 10 out of 20 boys' mothers are holding down jobs and leaving their son's guidance to stay-at-home wives.

"Working mothers don't even carry their share of financial responsibility in organizations working for the betterment of children, home, church or community."

★ ★ ★

"It's very seldom," said Mrs. Howard, "that a working mother comes across with five dollars to support any activity." She said:

"I grew up in an old-fashioned home with tranquility and stability. My mother was always there. You can't have that kind of home when a woman isn't around to hold the family together."

Mrs. Howard is the only mother who is attending the convention with her daughter, Peggy, 23, who also holds a home economics degree. Like her mother, Miss Howard believes wives with children ought to stay home. The daughter said:

"One of the things I look forward to in marriage is children. I'm not going to go off and let some stranger rear them."

JUDY STEVENSON

The engagement of their daughter, Judy, to Steve Nyhof Jr. is announced by Mr. and Mrs. George Stevenson of Lowell street. Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nyhof of North Johnson avenue. A Sept. 7 wedding is planned.

Will Standing Take Off 10 Pounds?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "One of my friends tells me that she has absolutely lost 10 pounds by standing for 15 minutes after each meal. Is this possible? I would much rather do this than diet."

A. Sorry to disappoint you but this is not so. Perhaps your friend had the attitude of reducing and therefore cut her food intake without realizing it.

Q. "I am a secretary and I sit a great deal of the time. I am 5 feet 2 inches tall. I am not overweight but I can see that I am getting a thigh and hip spread from sitting so much of the time. Some of the clothes I have do not look well on me any more. Can you help me?"

A. In the first place, change your position when sitting. Part of the day sit on the edge of your chair. This is quite comfortable if you keep your back straight.

Part of the time sit far back in your chair with your hips touching the back of the chair, back straight. This does not exert nearly so much pressure on the thighs and hips as it would if you slumped down in your chair. Also do these two exercises:

1. Lie on the floor on your back. Make large circles with your left leg. After a while make large circles with your right leg. Make the circles as complete and as big as possible.

2. Lie on the floor on your back. Your arms extend straight out from your shoulders and rest on the floor, palms toward the floor. Keep the hips on the floor and your legs straight as you roll from side to side, going as far in each direction as possible.

Hips and thighs spreading? Try this: Make large circles with your left, then right leg. Make the circles as complete and big as possible.

Q. "Please give me an exercise for nearsightedness."

A. I only give exercises for resting the eyes. There are some eye defects which can be improved or corrected with exercises of a special type. You would have to see a specialist in this line.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I had very light hair but I can see that it is getting darker all the time. What can I do about this?"

A. All hair turns darker as the years pass. A general health routine with adequate nutrition and scalp massage and cleanliness will keep the hair healthy. Lemon rinses are supposed to be an aid and, of course, you can have vegetable rinses.

Shades of Fu Manchu!

Beaded Curtain Is Back

NEW YORK (INS — Shades of Fu Manchu, the beaded curtain is back again.

Come to think of it, beaded curtains are even logical. Everything in today's most modern decor is based on the proposition called the "light look." And what could be lighter than substituting strand after strand of beaded hangings for big, heavy doors?

These unsubstantial "doors" give less of a closed-in look, provide partial privacy without shutting off air and light. And they can look pretty and add color.

The fanciest, lightest-looking of these new beaded curtains feature iridescent crystal beads combined with amber toned wood and bamboo.

Another of these styles mates silver filagree with wood in hot tropical colors for a flashy looking beaded curtain.

Although you miss some of the exotic swaying motion associated with doorway beaded curtains, you can also use them to decorate bare walls or frame a portion of the wall you want highlighted.

Prices range from $9 to $18 per square foot at the retail level.

Shower Honors Brenda Burder

Joan Jarrad and Annis Breadon honored bride-elect Brenda Burder Thursday evening with a shower. The event was held in the Fellowship Hall of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Thirty guests attended.

Brenda will marry Alfred O. Mitchell on July 27 in St. Paul Lutheran Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Burder of Third avenue, and Alfred's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Mitchell of Jones road.

U. S. electric output multiplied by almost exactly six times during the quarter century from 1926 to 1951.

Doris I. Brooks, Jack Hutchings Repeat Vows

Doris Irene Brooks became the bride of Jack Hutchings in the Emmanuel Baptist Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Malone.

★ ★ ★

For her June 15 wedding the bride wore a ballerina-length gown with lace panels and tulle over satin. The bodice was also lace over satin. An elbow-length veil of French silk illusion fell from a crown of sequins and pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of snowdrift and rapture pink roses.

Judith Ann Brooks, sister of the bride, served as the maid of honor, and Avery Findley served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd B. Brooks of Brooks avenue, and his parents A reception was held following the ceremony in Fisher Hall for 100 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Welch of Silver Lake road announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy, to Thomas Berry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Berry of Ferndale. The couple plans a Sept. 14 wedding. Nancy is a graduate of Michigan State University and her fiance is an MSU senior.

Her Heart Is Misplaced If She Snubs Underlings

Beware of Woman Who Acts Unkind to Those Who Are Serving Her

By RUTH MILLETT

Her heart is not in the right place if —

She passes along damaging gossip about a young person on the pretext of feeling "so sorry" for the parents.

★ ★ ★

She tells one "best friend" all of another "best friend's" shortcomings.

She is Johnny-on-the-spot to offer sympathy but always points out the flaws in anything good that happens to her friends.

She can always be counted on to tell her friends unpleasant truths for their "own good" or because she is sure they would "want to know."

★ ★ ★

She is quick to take advantage of the person who is in no position to defend himself. She goes to the manager about the salesperson who didn't please her.

She works the cleaning woman overtime without extra pay — if she can get by with it. She highhats the people who serve her. Yet she is "oh-so-charming" to those she thinks are important or can do her some good.

DROPS FRIEND

She quickly drops a friend who is no longer useful to her.

★ ★ ★

She sits silent when another person is being criticized, even though she is in a position to put in a good word.

She gives compliments grudgingly and only when she is forced into it.

She can't wait to "get even" with anyone she thinks has in any way slighted her.

By watching who she is nice to at the moment, you can pretty well figure out what she wants.

★ ★ ★

Women who do any or all of these things may have hearts — but they aren't in the right place. And they should never be counted on as good friends.

SALLY SEBASTIAN

Mrs. Anna Sebastian of South Tasmania avenue announces the engagement of her daughter, Sally, to William Cole. He is the son of Mrs. Leslie Cole of Carpenter court. No date has been set for the wedding.

Little Man Stepping Out in Fine Style

The youngest set is going in for the sporting look this summer, as junior steps out in slacks, shirts and leisure outfits just like Dad's.

The littlest boys will be wearing dark Ivy League striped shirts with button-down collars this season, matching them up with belts and caps in the best collegiate manner.

They're going for husky toggle jackets and matching slacks, in wash-and-wear fabrics that can be tossed into the washing machine.

Sun-tan cottons and dark plaid and striped shirts are the rule for the kindergarten crowd as well as their elders.

And young sportsmen also have discovered the swank of white duck slacks and colorful caps.

Gift Tablecloth Deserves Care

Don't let spots and stains on your wedding-present tablecloth ruin your first dinner party as a new bride. If the cloth is either white or colorfast, the stain can be removed.

Soak cloth 5 to 15 minutes in warm sudsy water and safe-action bleach in stain removal strength. Follow directions on the label exactly. After soaking, launder cloth in machine or tub.

This should take care of fruit stains, spilled coffee and lipstick left on napkins.

Scented Fabric Resists Stains

Stain resistant, spot resistant, and scented. All three properties are being applied to a new washable cotton fabric for summer dresses.

The perfume is said to be bonded into the fiber by means of a resin finish, and will not wash out.

The scented fabrics include sturdy broadcloths and delicate sheers —in sudsable solid colors, prints, and tweedy patterns.

Caring for Roll-Pad

To keep the roll-pad on your ironer in good condition, try "reconditioning" it periodically in your automatic dryer. Just remove the pad, place it in your dryer and allow it to tumble freely for 20 to 30 minutes. The roll pad will come out soft and resilient — all ready to smooth the way for easier ironing.

Leave undisguised the lines of a perfect figure. Black crepe with black Chantilly lace flatters summer tan.

Most important fabric as July nears is black crepe. Easy and elegant, suiting town and country equally well, black crepe when teamed with cob-webby Chantilly lace is flattering to almost any woman and makes her outstanding.

Barbecued Hot Dogs Are Quick

Carolyn Anderson, Skillful With Skillet Pinch Hits for Mom

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Today's cook is a teenager who just loves to cook. Carolyn Anderson, a ninth grader at Washington Junior High School takes over for her father and three brothers whenever her mother has to be away at meal time. She hopes to be a home economist some day.

Right now she's interested in playing the piano and swimming. She earns her spending money by baby sitting. If they're old enough, the babies would surely enjoy Carolyn's Barbecued Hot Dogs.

BARBECUED HOT DOGS
By Carolyn Anderson

1 onion, minced
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon chili powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup catsup
¼ cup margarine
½ cup water

Put all ingredients in skillet. Bring to a boil. Add hot dogs and simmer ten minutes. To serve: put hot dogs in rolls and pour sauce over them.

Shy Mrs. Smathers Charms Capital

(This is the last of six articles in which a noted Washington correspondent takes you behind the scenes on the capital's cocktail circuit to meet the city's most exciting women.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—Shyness, modesty and beauty are unusual attributes to be found in one woman—at least in this party-loving, power-hungry capital.

Perhaps that helps to explain the unusual charm of Mrs. Gorge Smathers, who might otherwise be overshadowed by the handsome, dynamic senator from Florida.

As it is, Rosemary bedazzles loquacious solons and ambassadors who dote on an attentive audience—particularly when the listener is intelligent and winsome.

The blond, blue-eyed Southerner is a former Powers model who pined to pose for slinky siren pictures, but inevitably wound up portraying wholesome college girl types, and brides.

★ ★ ★

TOOK ONE LOOK

Visiting her sister in Miami Beach, she took one look at the bronzed young man strolling the seashore and persuaded her brother to "accidentally" prompt an introduction. George, alas, fails even to recall the encounter.

★ ★ ★

A year later, on a subsequent Florida visit, Rosemary suddenly turned on the charm for a bemused college student when she learned that his roommate at the state university was none other than Smathers.

The hunch paid off. In no time at all, he had invited her to a college dance where this time George did, indeed, remember her.

Rosemary, newly returned from a trip through Germany and Russia in lieu of a senior year at the University of Wisconsin, admittedly impressed the ambitious young law student, but he was in no marrying mood.

★ ★ ★

Not until, during a boat trip to Hawaii, Rosemary sent him published pictures of herself dining and dancing with actor Cary Grant did his interest really begin to sparkle.

HUNG OUT SHINGLE

Three years after they met in 1936, George hung out his shingle in Miami and the Smathers set up housekeeping in a Cocoanut Grove cottage with a two-story living room, a balcony bedroom and a swimming pool. Both nostalgically recall that the rent was $45 a month.

★ ★ ★

During the war years, while George headed the ground crew for the 1st Marine Night bomber Squadron in the Pacific, Rosemary tended their two baby sons in Miami. George returned with a consuming interest in politics, which Rosemary encouraged because she "thought it would be short-lived."

Instead, he won election to the House in 1946, was re-elected twice more, and in 1950 became the junior senator from Florida. The voters renewed his lease on the Senate last year, and he now heads the powerful Senate Democratic Campaign Committee, along with his legislative assignments.

On arriving in Washington to live, Rosemary was baffled by the parties where everyone seemed to know each other and no one bothered with introductions.

At last George gave her sage advice: "Other people are probably as lonely as you are. Pick out another person who looks as shy as you are and strike up a conversation with him."

Rosemary was game. At the next three parties she adopted the new strategy, and with unerring taste happened to select David Lilienthal, Gen. Omar Bradley and author John Hersey. By this time, she was well into the Washington swim.

★ ★ ★

Besides her busy life nowadays as the wife of a prominent senator, Rosemary knits dresses and sweaters, changes electric plugs for the sheer enjoyment of "doing things" with her hands, reads mysteries, keeps a fond eye on their teenaged sons, nurses a secret longing to "write letters to editors," and dotes on mathematics.

Because of the latter "hobby," her bank balances always check to the penny, and she winds up as treasurer of every organization, including the Junior League, to which she belongs.

Rosemary insists that she is "too shy" to aid George in a political way, but she finds Washington fascinating for a unqiue reason:

"I have never met anyone here who was bored with what he was doing, and being a sedentary person myself, I enjoy being with people who do things."

A modest charmer, indeed!

Repairman Friend Has Grievance

Woman Neglects to Introduce Him to Social Caller

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The husband of a friend of ours does television repairing as a side job. The other evening he was at our house repairing our television when a friend of mine dropped in to see me. I did not introduce him to this friend simply because I thought an introduction was unnecessary as he was not there on a social call.

"However, his wife called me the next day and said that her husband was very much hurt because I did not introduce him to my friend and that he thought I was 'ashamed' of him. Was an introduction necessary under the circumstances? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: I'm sorry to have to say that your behavior was very unkind. Had he been a stranger entering your house to do a job, you would certainly not have introduced him. But as a friend you should definitely have introduced him, saying, "This is Mr. Smith, a friend of ours who is fixing our set."

"Dear Mrs. Post: The telephone has become a well-known medium for soliciting business and also for raising funds for charitable organizations.

"I receive many such calls and it is very time-taking, especially when the person on the other end is persistent and won't take 'no' for an answer. Will you please tell me how I can tactfully end these conversations without being rude?"

Answer: Say something like, "I'm very sorry, but I can't do anything about that now" and then hang up.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am new in this town and was asked to an acquaintance's house where some friends of hers were invited especially to meet me. We had a very nice afternoon. Now should I call on the ladies who were her other guests, or should they call on me?"

Answer: They should call on you.

Who 'Owns' Child's Possessions?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A month ago, to get Kay up in time for school, her mother bought her a white enamel clock radio.

This week Kay's little brother developed a cold. By his second day in bed, his crayons, comics and puzzles bored him. He began to fuss. He refused more orange juice. Then he flatly refused some chest rubbing.

His mother went to Kay's room got her radio and plugged it into the outlet beside Steve's bed. Then while he happily tuned in and out of soap operas, she rubbed his chest with camphorated oil.

The radio was blaring hillbilly music when Kay got home. Dropping her books, she cried, "What's that? Is that my radio?" Then, pushing past her mother on the stairs, she rushed to Steve's room.

★ ★ ★

She was pulling the radio's plug from its socket when her mother arrived, crying, "Of all the selfish girls I ever knew, you're the worst! Go on, take it. Take it away from your sick little brother, you mean sister, you!"

WASN'T MORAL

This indignation which sounded so moral wasn't moral at all. In the eyes of Kay's mother, the radio was not Kay's possession but hers. It belonged to her—the person who had paid for it.

If we examine our indignation when a child refuses to share his things with a brother or sister, we'll find that it stems from our secret conviction that his things are ours, not his.

If you don't believe me, consider your feelings when Uncle Bill refuses to let Steve play with his watch. You're not especially outraged, are you? That's because you've acknowledged Uncle Bill's right to dispose of the property he paid for as he wishes. He doesn't strike you as "selfish" at all.

Unending troubles are caused by parents' unconscious sense of ownership in children's possessions.

When the child refuses to share them with their other children, they remain unaware that it's their own challenged sense of possession that makes them so indignant.

★ ★ ★

But they have to justify their anger, somehow. They do it by making it appear very moral and superior. Vengefully they accuse Kay of the very selfishness of which they themselves are guilty.

'Bet You Never Really Saw the Dirt on Your Divan Before'

Ad Readers Face Frightening World

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It's a frightening, soul-searing experience today—reading the advertisements in your friendly family newspapers and magazines.

★ ★ ★

The colors in the ads are beautiful, the copy sparkling, the products appetizing, but there's an ill-hidden threat behind each that makes you forever leery of your potentially dark future.

If you are a female, for instance, you know (from the moment you learn to read) that you must be prettier and daintier than other females—by virtue of leg cream, wooday perfume or what haven't you—lest men who shave with twice the speed will pass you by.

If you are a man, you must ride a car the switch is on to, and smoke a he-man cigarette, of course, or there is little hope you will be well regarded by your associates.

★ ★ ★

If you happen to be a child, either get mother to buy you know what cereal, or you know who will never make the big leagues.

DOG DOLDRUMS

If you're a dog, or an associate of one, malnutrition is in your future, unless you woof up for the economy-size capsules here illustrated.

★ ★ ★

What is particularly troublesome in today's ads is the intimation that you may not only lose your reputation as a clean, wholesome, chic and wealthy modern American, but that you are dim-witted in the bargain.

You don't mind it so much when they challenge, in bold white type, "Do you really know your bourbon?"

Since there are a number of Easterners and Westerners who go through an entire lifetime without knowing a sour mash from sour stomach, you can quite easily dissociate yourself from this approach.

★ ★ ★

But when they say "Bet you never really saw the dirt on your divan before," that's when a body gets offended. And with the pained pride comes a guilt complex that falls right into line with all the other ad approaches: You're not modern, charming, intelligent, cultured unless you use this, that, these, those products.

MOST SORELY HIT

It's the woman who is most sorely hit by this "better yourself" attitude, if she stops to worry about such things. (If she stops to worry, however, she can't have time for the strenuous and dazzling life she is challenged—yea, ordered under penalty of spinsterhood in a dingy apartment with dirt in the upholstery—to lead.)

★ ★ ★

When she is young, she must be the center of attention, using the proper dazzling makeup, playing the proper, mellower piano and dancing the proper, graceful dance steps.

Once she has got a husband through use of such devices, she still cannot let up. Now she must feed him the proper, non-fattening foods and see that he selects the proper, pink car and serves the proper, perfumed wines.

Kiddies come along, and it is her duty to send them to the proper schools with the proper vitamins to shove between their properly cleaned teeth.

When she grows older, can she rest? Nay, not if she reads the ads; now is the time to cultivate people, charm, new culinary schools and her aging complexion.

There is no peace . . .

Except peace of mind. You can buy that in book or tablet form almost anywhere. Consult your daily advertisements.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). # Van Atta to Request Trial Board Hearing

Former Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta wants a trial board hearing to get back on the police force.

Van Atta, whose $7,100-a-year job was eliminated along with two patrolmen's positions 11 days ago, said he will file a request with the Township Clerk today for possible action by the board at its Monday night meeting.

LARGE TURNOUT

The 44-year-old law enforcement officer's advisers hope for a large popular turnout to observe the board's reaction to this new move.

Van Atta, who organized the department when it was formed in 1954, says he has been denied a trial board hearing and a chance at the one remaining detective's position left in the township.

The board counters that Van Atta's position was eliminated for economic reasons and therefore a hearing before the trial board, which considers only disciplinary matters, is inappropriate.

BETTER MAN

Board members have said that the former captain of detectives was a "better man" than Van Atta for the one remaining senior officer position.

Van Atta, who was appointed chief by the former Republican board, charges that the real motive of the present Democratic board is political.

"A trial board was set up in Waterford Township to take politics out of the police force," he observed.

★ ★ ★

The township board has denied this charge, saying that up to $100,000 a year has been cut from the township budget by an attorney general's ruling on justice court costs.

In its three months of existence, the board has cut the former 16-man police department down to a force of four officers and one civilian.

Van Atta's supporters have asked why economy cuts were made only in the police force and not in other departments. Last night, they talked of a possible recall move, but no decision was made.

★ ★ ★

It was decided to hold up circulation of petitions demanding Van Atta's rehiring until the trial board question is answered.

Milford Man Sent to Prison

Father of Five Jailed on Bad Check Charge, Given 2-14 Years

A Milford father of five today was sentenced to 2-14 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan.

Harry C. Cherry, 56, of 2458 W. Maple St., was sentenced by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland on a charge of uttering and publishing bad checks.

Cherry, a former shop committee chairman at the Detroit DeSoto plant, had admitted stealing and cashing more than $5,000 in checks from the office of Local 227, UAW. He had been laid off last January for leading a wildcat strike.

Missing from the state since the bad checks were discovered in February, Cherry gave himself up to Michigan State Police in Redford June 18, saying he was "tired of running."

He pleaded guilty Monday to the specific charge of cashing a $124.32 check at the Novi Hardware in Novi.

Missing Sheriff Captured Here

A former sheriff in Kentucky, Hampton Palmer, 52, of 92 Granview Blvd., who allegedly fled nearly two years ago with $9,000 in county tax funds, was captured on Sylvan Lake yesterday.

★ ★ ★

State troopers said that two men from Kentucky saw the Kentucky license plate on Palmer's car parked at a boat livery. Upon seeing him fishing on the lake they recognized him as being wanted by police and informed state troopers who took him into custody.

He is being held at the Oakland County Jail on a fugitive warrant for Kentucky authorities.

Seeks Opinion of Waterford Citizenry

Cultural Center Wanted?

Calling all citizens of Waterford:

What do you think of Frank Steere's proposal?

It was Frank Steere who offered to give Waterford 18 acres of the most beautiful land in the Township for a bird sanctuary and a library.

Mr. Steere made one stipulation:

The Township should erect a $200,000 library in keeping with the character of the land and the cultural aspects of the situation.

"I have had many calls from Township residents," said Steere to The Press. "The opinions that come to me are almost unanimous in support of the move and enthusiastic. However, I want to know all the angles and if there are flaws in the proposal, I'd like to have them uncovered."

This section has been neglected in the reception of donations and benefactions. Many other Michigan cities have been more fortunate. The general area is in need of greater cultural developments of this type.

What do the residents think?

Mr. Steere and the area are interested.

Lakes Chapel Groundbreaking Set for Sunday

WALLED LAKE — A groundbreaking ceremony will be held following the 11 a.m. service Sunday at the Lakes Presbyterian Chapel, 1505 Welch Rd. in front of the chapel. The ground will be broken with an old fashioned plow which will be pulled by the members of the congregation.

Also included will be representatives from the various Sunday Church School classes, participants from the Presbytery of Detroit, and elder representatives from the Presbyterian Churches of Birmingham Orchard Lake, Pontiac, Milford, Northville and South Lyon.

File for Gas Tax Refund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is advising farmers that July 1 is the date when they can begin to file applications for refunds on federal gasoline taxes. Farmers will be entitled to a refund of 3 cents a gallon of gasoline bought for farm production purposes during the 12 months ending June 30.

8 Eagles Off to Jamboree

Awards Given 4 at Milford

Tops in Troop to Have Special Recognition at Valley Forge

Eight Eagle Scouts from Troop 33 in Milford, are getting set to "spread their wings" for the National Jamboree to be held at Valley Forge this month.

The top-ranking Boy Scouts, Paul and Fred Heil, Edward Stoughton, William Unruh, Lyle See, John Smith, John Oakden and Scout master William Genette, will leave July 7 for a two-day stay in New York City and Washington, D. C. From there they will attend the two-week jamboree at the famous battleground.

At the quarterly court of honor held at the Legion Hall this week, four 'veteran' Eagles presented the four new Scouts with Eagle awards. This is the first time that so many Boy Scouts have been honored at one time, in Milford, according to Scoutmaster Genette. There are 30 members in troop 33.

The eight Eagles from Milford will receive special recognition at the jamboree, for their outstanding work in scouting, according to Michigan officials in charge of the programming.

Other Milford Scouts attending the convention will be Michael Herren, Larry Strouse, Peter Stoughton and James Price.

Briton Couldn't Be Run Into by Nicer Guy

Wham! Crazy Driver? No, It's Prince

LONDON (AP) — A motorist in a position to know said today you could hardly ask for a nicer guy to run into you than the husband of the Queen of England.

From all accounts, however, Queen Elizabeth II was not amused.

The motorist is Ronald Sutcliffe, an officer of the Royal Customs and Excise Service.

He was tooling along in his pint-size sedan of prewar vintage two evenings ago at Staines, near Windsor Castle, when wham!

"When I felt the knock," Sutcliffe told a reporter, "I got out of my car thinking, 'Some stupid clod's hit me.'

"I was expecting an argument." Sutcliffe walked around his sedan and found a big sports car with one of its head lights knocked off.

MAKES SPEECH

At the wheel was Prince Philip — who had just made a speech at a safe-driving meeting in London. "The Duke," Sutcliffe related, "was so pleasant he took the wind right out of my sails.

"'It's all right,' he said. 'It was my fault.'

"There was a lady by his side who I now realize was the Queen. But I've only seen pictures of Her Majesty smiling — and she certainly wasn't smiling then.

"When I told my wife all about it later I said, 'She looked just as disapproving as you would if I had accidentally run into the back of another car.'

"Their spotlight was smashed and the glass strewn over the road, but the only damage I had was a small dent in the luggage grid at the back."

Sutcliffe said he probably won't bother to have the dent ironed out.

"It's almost what you would call a royal souvenir," he explained.

British law requires drivers involved in accidents to exchange names and addresses. Sutcliffe said he was sending the prince a letter providing this information and adding: "Don't bother about the dent on my car. It was a pleasure to meet you."

Boy Will Get Shots if Cat Isn't Found

Doctors and Bloomfield Township police today are seeking a huge black and tan striped cat which bit seven-year-old James Bedard on the arm four times last night.

The boy was bitten as he tried to break up the fight of two felines in his back yard in Ward's Orchards, 1490 Delrose St.,

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital doctors treated the boy with penicillin and a tetanus shot today. They said that, although the boy has had rabies shots once before in his life, they must start giving them to him by tomorrow (within 48 hours) night if the tomcat is not found.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the animal is urged to contact Bloomfield Township police, MI 4-5555, or Mrs. Shirley Bedard, FE 5-4342.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (INS) —Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said emphatically today that the U. S. does not intend "under present conditions" to recognize or establish trade or cultural relations with Communist China.

Clinton River Tests Ordered

Need of Extra Sewage Treatment Plant Asked by Water Commission

Tests have been ordered taken of the Clinton River to determine the need of an auxiliary sewage treatment plant in Pontiac.

The State Water Resources Commission meeting in Lansing yesterday requested a report from staff members and from the State Health Dept. as to the possible degree of pollution of the river. The report is expected to be presented at the July 30 commission meeting.

Milton P. Adams, executive secretary of the commission, reported the outcome of the May 20 vote here at which time voters rejected a $2,700,000 board issue to finance the new plant.

"The report commissioners asked for," Adams said, "will inform them of the up-to-date status of the situation in Pontiac."

Back in 1951, the Water Resources Commission ordered expansion of the city's sewage treatment system to stop the overflow of untreated sewage into the river.

The first phase of the order was fulfilled in 1953 when the Featherstone-East boulevard plant's capacity was boosted to 15,000,000 gallons a day.

Because this failed to relieve completely the overflow, the city took steps to construct a second plant at Opdyke road and Auburn road.

NEW ST. ALFRED AT ORION — The doors of this Episcopal Church on M 24 and Indian Lake road will open to the congregation for the first time Sunday. Architect Joseph Dworski styled the structure after simple buildings of Scotland and Scandinavia. The site was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson and Frances Hall and cost of the edifice was $33,000.

Orion to Open $33,000 Edifice

By LAOMA SANFORD
Lake Orion Correspondent

LAKE ORION — St. Alfred Episcopal Church on M-24 at Indian Lake road, a mission of the Michigan Diocese, has since its founding in July 1954, gained the strength to build this unusual $33,000 edifice to be used for the first time Sunday.

The architect, Joseph Dworski, of Birmingham, styled the church like the simple peasant buildings of Scotland and Scandinavia, using one beam on another for support, with the variation of the end walls of glass.

A small room near the center houses the kitchen, office, boiler room, and facilities. It also serves as a partition and the roof of the inner room becomes the balcony-choir loft.

Because of the family members all attending at once, the road end of the church is the worship center and the other smaller end the Sunday School.

★ ★ ★

Three years ago, July 4, the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emerick appointed the Rev. Raymond E. Bierlein, curate, and the Rev. Canon Charles Braidwood, vicar of St. Alfred mission. They are from Dryden and Lapeer, respectively.

The June 30 service will complete their ministry here, while the new resident clergyman, Rev. William O. Swan, will be ordained as a deacon at the 11 a.m. service of the St. Paul Cathedral, Detroit, the same morning.

St. Alfred is built on land donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jackson and Frances Hall, who gave the use of a large chicken coop as the church's first quarters. The conversion to a chapel by 20 members was a milestone for the beginning church.

Now about fifty families comprise the congregation and the church has an Altar Guild, an altar boys' group and an organization for young people.

Legislators to Call It Quits After Few Minor Issues

LANSING (AP)—The 1957 legislature was ready today to call it quits for good after solving a number of minor problems, including two on school aid and highway money.

Sine die adjournment was set for noon.

The lawmakers, returning for the last gasp after five weeks at home, quickly repaired a technical fault in the 1957-58 school aid bill, and dispatched it to Gov. Williams' desk.

The governor, expected back in the state Monday after a 10 days absence, has said he will not block enactment of the measure, which provides for 25 million dollars in new taxes.

BUMPS TAX

The bill would bump the state cigarette tax from three to five cents, and slap a 4 per cent excise tax on whisky, both effective Monday. Proceeds would be earmarked for school aid.

The highway money fix took the form of a resolution saying the legislature intended funds allotted in an appropriation bill were intended to follow a new distribution formula set up in another bill.

The House and Senate adopted the resolution in routine fashion. The new distribution formula channels about $7 million a year in state gasoline and motor vehicle weight fees now received by the state highway department to counties and cities.

★ ★ ★

The lawmakers agreed to establish several special interim study committees, including separate units in the Senate and House to seek means of tighter control over sex criminals.

In other developments yesterday:

1—The lawmakers authorized Michigan State University to go ahead with plans for an eight million dollar bonding project for construction of married housing units for 800 couples.

2—The Senate reconsidered a previously rejected conference committee report, and completed legislative passage of a bill to allow sale of sausage with ascorbic acid added to make its appearance more attractive. The bill would also remove a cloud over the legality of sales of chili con carne in the state.

COMPLETES ACTION

3—The legislature completed action to raise the pay of the state revenue commissioner from $15,000 to $17,500 a year. However, the incumbent commisioner, Louis M. Nims, will not benefit.

★ ★ ★

4—Finally passed and sent to the governor a bill to give probate judges greater discretion in deciding whether to send apparently mentally ill persons to diagnostic centers for examination and screening.

★ ★ ★

5—Confirmed 16 appointments by the governor, mostly to minor boards, councils and commissions, and rejected two of his choices for extended tenure on the state apple commission, both now serving on the unit.

Driver Pays $100 Fine After Charge Reduced

Frank Orsini, 38, of 61 N. Ardmore Ave., paid a $100 fine instead of 10 days in jail yesterday after Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum reduced a drunk driving charge to reckless driving.

Orsini was arrested by Pontiac police May 28 after being stopped because the bumper on his auto was rubbing against the tire.

He later admitted to police his auto had struck a parked car in front of 665 W. Huron St. and he had left the accident.

They're Off, Running at Monmouth

MONMOUTH PARK, Oceanport, N.J. (INS) — The horse for you, the authority said, is Irish Dash. It's a sure hunch, of course, and beyond that it's backed up in the past performances. If it loses they investigate.

★ ★ ★

Look what it done at Gulfstream March 7 on a sloppy track. Finished second and would have taken all if he hadn't got bumped. Just look at that slop out there they call a track today. Irish Dash loves this kind of track.

Then, of course, you're Irish, you had to dash to get to Monmouth, and the sire is Cassis, which is some kind of French drink. You like drinks.

The mother was Lucky Jean, and your niece Jean has been lucky enough to have five kids. Send it in good on Irish Dash and you won't have no more worries.

★ ★ ★

(Ten minutes later, the same authority happens to be standing in line ahead of you at the seller's cage. You wink and say something like good old Irish Dash, B.C., 2 by Cassis-Lucky Jean ridden by J. Chestnut, post posg. 9.)

Are you out of your mind, he wants to know with a snarl. Irish Dash is for the birds, the square birds. The big horse is No. 5—Chas. McAdam Jr., B.G. 2, Charlie McAdams-Some Pep, ridden by W. Blum, post pos. 5.

But you said . . .

★ ★ ★

I don't care what anybody said. Chas. McAdam Jr. closed faster than a door in a bums' face his only time out. And how can you let a hunch bet like that pass?

He's named for the son of a newspaper syndicate man, and what are you, a junk dealer? He's owned by Gene Constantin Jr., who's got to be some kind of relative even though he's rich. He's . . .

(The authority's attention is distracted by a man in rags who approaches him in line, whispers something, borrows two bits for a hot dog and leaves.)

★ ★ ★

Thanks (you say to the authority) for getting me off that goat Irish Dash and on to Chas. McAdam Jr., whose last was sharp and would have taken all but needed racing room as winner tired badly.

THEY'LL BE JEALOUS

Lots of fellow members of the Skeeters Club, a highly non-profit organization composed of Toots Shor and many of his friends in banking, will be jealous of me. I can hear them saying now, when I step away from the cashier's cage with all that money I won on Chas. McAdam Jr., that . . . huh? Chas. McAdam Jr., is no good?

It's too long a story to explain (the authority said) but I just talked to the smart money and they're socking it on Quiet Boy, Dk. Br. G. 2 by Colony Boy-All Quiet, ridden by G. Hettinger, post pos. 2.

He's right today because the track is firmer that far out from the rail. Post Pos. 1 is under water. Quiet Boy looked like he'd take it all the last nine times out, but had bad racing luck. Today they're going for the big bundle.

But look out for Charmador, Ch. C. 2, by Fly Away-Miss Stephanie, ridden by E. Monacelli, who is overdue. And put a little safe bet on Great Date, Br. F. 2, Burg-El-Arab out of Double Great, ridden by R. Lawless, Post Pos. 4, because that's your lucky number.

Anything else look dangerous? —you ask.

Yeah, watch Hypernic, Frank A. Sherman's dependable Br. C. 2 by Ace Admiral-Felicita, and better have something, too, or Red River Valley, bearer of Mrs. Louis L. Voight Jr.'s famed apple green, scarlet hoops, scarlet bars on sleeves and scarlet cap silks.

★ ★ ★

But you've now mentioned every horse in the race except Greek Star. Heard anything about Greek Star?

Buffalo Has Mystery of Missing Fig Leaf

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Vandals—or art lovers—have removed a fig leaf that was added to a park statue after complaints about the undraped version.

★ ★ ★

The statue is a reproduction of Michaelangelo's "David." Art lovers objected to the addition of a fig leaf. They said it made the statue an inaccurate copy. The addition was made several years ago.

Police reported that the leaf was chiseled from the statue yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Now we're back where we started," said Dr. Wilbur H. Glover, director of the Buffalo Historical Society. The society and the city jointly own the statue.

Ava Gardner Silent on Romantic Rumors

MADRID (INS) — There is a man in Ava Gardner's life but she isn't talking about him.

★ ★ ★

At least she wasn't yesterday when she returned to Madrid from New York and was met at the airport by newsmen.

The brunette beauty refused to say if it was true or not that recently she has been proposed to by three Spaniards—a nobleman, a bullfighter and a ballet dancer.

She refused to confirm reports she plans to marry her constant companion, Italian actor Walter Chiari.

★ ★ ★

She refused to discuss the progress of her divorce petition against Frank Sinatra.

Banks in Ontario estimate that currency in the mining districts get such wear and tear the bills must be replaced within eight months.

It's Going Up! Money in Pot Is at $1,400

This may be the last week you'll have to try for such a big pot in the Pot-O-Gold puzzle. With so many people trying, the pot's bound to explode right into some lucky winner's pocket. It could be you. Just send us your entry with correct numbers on it, and the $1,400 is yours. See what you can do.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securly to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 56 must bear a Tuesday, July 2, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features, Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

CHAPTER 29

Merle Turner's wagon was not far downstream from the pool where Nela and I had spent so many of our Sunday afternoons. He was not in sight. Neither were his horses, but a campfire was burning between the wagon and the creek.

I hesitated, a prickle running down my spine: he might be back in the brush taking a bead on me now. But Red had told him I wouldn't be back until evening, so maybe he'd cooked a meal here, then gone downstream to one of the other camps.

★ ★ ★

I was balancing the possibilities in my mind when Curly said: "Secore's got his cabin started, Will. Turner might be down there."

I nodded and swung down from Roanie. "Keep your eyes peeled," I said, and, gathering a handful of burning sticks, tossed them into the wagon. I had started to pick up some more, but then I saw it wasn't necessary. Inside, a straw tick had caught and blazed up.

I stepped into the saddle, saying, "Better move."

We went down the road on the run. I saw the smoke of Secore's campfire, then his wagon as we rounded a turn, the outfit at the other end of a straight stretch. A pile of peeled logs lay on the bank above the creek. Secore was notching one of them. Turner was on the other side of him, using a draw knife.

★ ★ ★

They didn't hear us coming until I fired a shot over their heads and yelled: "Harness up! You're rolling. Move!"

Secore jumped toward his rifle leaning against a wagon wheel, but he didn't make it. Red threw a shot that splintered a spoke next to the rifle barrel. Secore fell flat on his belly and lay there, his hands palm down in the mud.

But Turner was another story. He dropped his draw knife and pulled his gun. I fired and hit him in the side, the bullet turning him partly around, but he held onto his gun and took a shot at me, the bullet slicing through my coat just above my left shoulder. We were close then, all three of us shooting at him. He was driven back on his heels and on down to the ground, dead before he fell.

★ ★ ★

I reined up and dismounted. Secore hadn't moved, probably thinking I was going to shoot him. I kicked him in the ribs. "Up!" I said. "On your feet."

He struggled to his hands and knees and whimpered as he gripped the wheel behind him.

"You're a stout one," I said. "Didn't you think of this when Turner talked you into it?"

"No." He wiped a sleeve across his mouth. "We figured on you coming tonight. We was gonna set a trap at his wagon."

"Cut us down from the back," I said. "The four of you. That right?"

"That's right. Had a sure-fire deal. Turner and Dillingham was gonna pay us $1,000 apiece if we got all three of you."

★ ★ ★

Rage took hold of me then, and the red haze that swept in front of my eyes was so thick I could hardly see the man.

I shook my head, and the haze disappeared. I asked, "Where's Dillingham?"

"I don't know. So help me, I don't know. He pulled out this morning, but he was gonna be at Turner's wagon tonight."

I stared at him. Sweat poured down his face. I couldn't tell whether he was lying or not. Then he said, "Maybe he's in town."

I still held the gun, thinking that what he said was probably the truth; but apparently he thought he hadn't told me enough. He pointed a trembling finger at Turner's body. "He's got a money belt. It's filled with gold he got from Anchor cattle this summer, him and Dillingham. I mean, he's got his share on him."

★ ★ ★

I eased down the hammer of my gun and holstered it. "Harness up," I said. "Give him a hand, Red."

I walked through the mud to Turner's bullet-riddled body, unlatched his money belt, and jerked it free. Heavy! John Mathers was luckier than he had any right to be.

"Red, you ride alongside Secore," I said. "Keep him rolling. If he makes a bad move, plug him."

"Not me," Secore said. "I've got my bellyful of this country."

★ ★ ★

"You're going down the canyon," I said. "All of you. Tonight. If you ever come back, you'll swing. Savvy that?"

"I ain't coming back."

I jerked my head at Curly and we mounted. Troy's outfit was next. We found his wife and children, but no man. "Where is he?" I asked Mrs. Troy.

"In town," she said. "With Runyan."

I believed her. I asked, "Can you drive your team?"

"Yes," she said.

"Harness up for her," I told Curly. "Throw their stuff into the wagon." What kind of men were Troy and Runyan, I wondered, who had time to go to town with a cabin not even started and winter at hand? Then, as I mounted, the answer came to me. They had never planned to make their homes here. They intended to take the money Dillingham and Turner were going to give them to murder me and Red and Curly and get out of the country. Well, John Mathers had picked up some beauties to build his his Great Tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

"Ride alongside her," I ordered Curly, and as I started downstream I looked back and saw that Secore was in the road, Red riding beside him.

Mrs. Runyan was neither frightened nor defiant. She just seemed resigned. She looked at me, a big bony woman, her hands on her hips. She said: "You want us to pull out. That it?"

"That's it," I said.

I helped her hook up, and by that time Secore and Mrs. Troy were not far behind. I said: "I'm going after Runyan and Troy. You're taking your wagon down the canyon and you're going to keep right on rolling. Do you understand that?"

"I ain't stupid," she said. "Go easy on my man, will you? He ain't much, but he's the best I'll ever get."

I whirled Roanie back toward Carlton. If Dillingham saw me, the chances were he'd cut me down. But he wasn't expecting me back until tonight, so he probably wouldn't be watching.

I stopped in front of Delaney's and went in. I was lucky. Troy and Runyan were both there, standing on opposite sides of the potbellied stove as they talked to Delaney.

They didn't recognize me until I was within 10 feet of them. When they did, they were as scared as Secore had been. I said: "Turner's dead. Your wagons are on the way here now. You're leaving the valley today and you're going clear to the river before you stop. If you come back, you can figure on trouble like you've never seen."

★ ★ ★

"We won't be back," Troy said, and edged toward the door, Runyan following.

Delaney gave me a sneering look. He had backed against the wall to be out of the line of fire if anything broke loose.

I said, "You don't like it here any more, do you, Art? You'd sell out quick if you had a buyer, wouldn't you?"

"Yeah, you bet I would." The sneering expression was replaced by one of greedy interest. "What're you driving at?"

"I'll be back when I get these boys started down the creek," I said, and motioned them toward the door.

I held them outside on their horses, my gun in my hand until their wagons reached town. They tied their horses behind the wagons and got up on the seats with their wives. They turned down the creek toward the Arkansas, Red and Curly waving at me. I waved back and went into the store.

Will Beeson winds up a bargain and goes home to trouble. Continue "Gunlock" in this newspaper tomorrow.

No Big Flu Outbreaks Expected This Summer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The U.S. surgeon general says the Asian flu is "probably well seated" in the United States but no large scale outbreaks are expected this summer.

Dr. LeRoy E. Burney said in an interview that only mild cases of the disease had been reported among Navy personnel at Newport, R. I., and Norfolk, Va. The flu runs its course in about four days, he said.

Hollywood Headlines

Lana Signs Glamor Rival for Her Independent Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—When one glamor girl signs another girl for her own independent production, that's news. And that's what Lana Turner did today when she and her producer Joseph Kaufman signed British acress Glynis Johns to play the other woman in Lana's "Another Time, Another Place."

Glynis is well known to American audiences both in British and Hollywood movies having been here last year for Danny Kaye's "Court Jester."

Lana's film starts Oct. 1 at the MGM studios in London with Lewis Allen directing.

"What about Glynis as competition in the beauty line?" I asked Lana. She laughed, "When you're making you own pictures you want the best and don't worry about the competition."

---

Henry Koster, who leaves for Germany in two weeks to direct "Fraulein," tells me that he wants Dana Wynter as his star, she seems so right for the part.

"But she won't leave her husband, Greg Bautzer, will she?" I asked.

"We'll only be in Germany two weeks, and I am sure there will be no problem there," he said.

Dana said when I questioned her, "I seem to be the only one who doesn't know about 'Fraulein.' The wardrobe department and everyone at 20th seems to know I'm doing it."

"Well, will you?" I asked.

She said she might because her family is in Berlin and she hasn't seen them for months. I'd only be away from my husband such a short time," she added.

PLAY FOR BETTE

I was surprised to hear that Bette Davis is returning to the stage in "Look Homeward, Angel." the Thomas Wolfe play, with Tony Perkins.

The last time Bette was on the stage, she had such a grim time and was away from her professional work for several years with a serious illness.

Meanwhile, Bette and Gary Merrill are enjoying their dates as sweethearts and not as a married couple. That is, they enjoyed these rendesvous until Merrill returned to their Maine home.

I've always believed they would reconcile. Bette lost her temper, but any girl has a right to do that.

One Killed, 14 Hurt in Jersey

Bus Collides With Truck

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—A Greyhound bus collided with a tractor trailer on the New Jersey Turnpike early today, killed one passenger and injuring the driver and all of the 13 other passengers.

Dead on arrival at Middlesex General Hospital was Arthur Foxwell Tyler, 63, Baltimore. One of the injured, a woman tentatively identified by police as Marie Price, also of Baltimore, was in critical condition at the hospital.

★ ★ ★

Police said the bus, driven by Bernard Moran, 32, Wayne, Pa., and bound from Philadelphia to New York City, hit the tractor trailer from behind.

Tyler and the woman were sitting in the right front seats of the bus and were catapulted out through the windshield by the impact. They landed on the rear of the trailer and became entangled between its moving wheels.

Members of the Milltown rescue squad had to jack up the trailer and cut through part of its framework with acetylene torches to free the woman.

Middlesex Hospital, which admitted most of the injured, said the woman was in critical condition with repressed compound fracture of the skull, possible compound fracture of the right knee and multiple abrasions.

The condition of the other injured at the hospital was not serious, officials said.

Four of the injured, including the bus driver, were taken to nearby St. Peter's Hospital, where their condition was described as good.

★ ★ ★

Police said the driver of the tractor trailer, Thomas Salley, 54, Jersey City, was shaken but uninjured. He was on his way home from Philadelphia when the accident occurred.

Driver Pays $25 Fine After Pleading Guilty

Charles E. Cowley, 26, of 957 Woodside St., Clarkston, paid a $25 fine instead of five days in jail Wednesday after pleading guilty to failing to yield to the right-of-way which caused an auto-panel truck accident March 30.

Three persons injured in the accident at First and Barkell streets were: Cowley; Mary Ann Goodman, 11, and Betty Boles, 33, both of 736 Minock St., Detroit.

Compiles Tips on Fertilizing

A good time to fertilize rose gardens is right after the first flush of blooms has ended. For perennial blooming roses, this fertilization brings on a continued bloom with long stems and deep color until hot weather.

Roses do not bloom heavily during hot weather. A very scant handful of garden fertilizer should be sufficient for one plant. It should be scattered evenly beneath the branches of each bush, then water thoroughly.

★ ★ ★

For climbers and other spring blooming varieties, this fertilizer application should be made just before the buds begin to open. If you have not done so, make this application just as soon as the bloom is over.

When you have pruned out the old flowering wood, apply the fertilizer to the soil near the crown. This forces the new growth which will produce flowers next spring.

In addition to a well prepared and fertilized seed bed for garden vegetables, a July 4 addition of nitrogen is the answer to more growth and heavy yields. Side dressings using Ammonium Nitrate (20 per cent Nitrogen) or 10-10-10 (10 per cent Nitrogen) is very worth while. A 4" deep trench or pit near the plant gives excellent placing of the fertilizer.

★ ★ ★

Sweet corn: use one heaping tablespoon per plant or hill, a second in three weeks.

Peppers: one teaspoon per plant.

Cucumbers, melons, squash and pumpkins: sidedressings on each side of the plants, using one tablespoon full on each side.

Tomatoes and potatoes: one tablespoon full per plant at this time; a second in three weeks.

Beans, carrots, peas, spinach, onions, chard, beets: A trench near the row is most satisfactory here. Spread four cups (about three pounds) of fertilizer in 100 ft. of row.

These suggestions are for 10-10-10 and should be cut by one-third if Ammonium Nitrate is used.

The first brood of corn borers are now hatching on the leaves of corn. Now is the time to kill these pests with a DDT spray or dust on the leaves. Borers first feed on the leaves, before burrowing into the stem.

If the spray or dust is well down in the whorl of leaves these worms are easily destroyed. Borer moths continually lay eggs until mid-August, requiring repeated sprays to continually protect your plants.

Seven to ten day applications, using DDT emulsion at six teaspoons per gallon of water will easily control this pest.

Lawn grasses do not grow vigorously during the high temperatures of mid-summer; therefore, fertilizing at this time is not advantageous and may be undesirable if weeds such as crabgrass are present.

Most of the lawn weeds can utilize plant food more efficiently than the good grasses during the hot weather. To avoid helping the weeds, avoid fertilizing lawns in July.

Mowing is another important lawn job for July. The height of cut should be raised about an inch during the time the temperatures soar (not less than two inches).

Now is the time to conserve soil moisture in your garden. Do this by mulching heavily around plants in border beds or in your vegetable garden.

FENCE WITH VARIETY — When today's wife wants to sprinkle the lawn or attend to other yardwork, she can use a backyard fence that has a function beyond furnishing privacy. Every third panel is versatile "Peg-Board," on which various oft-used gardening equipment is kept handy. The well-ventilated fence may also serve as a convenient backdrop for barbecue parties or just plain relaxing. A free plan showing how to build this fence and similar ones may be obtained by writing a postcard to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting Plan No. AE-309.

Follow Simple Watering Tips for Picture Lawn

FARM News GARDEN

It would take you 24 hours of ontinuous watering to get the same amount of water distributed using a good sprinkler and 50 feet of hose. Yet, if the garden hose isn't as bountiful as rain, it is certainly more dependable, reminds the July issue of a home and gardens magazine. And, you can make it do more work by following several simple tips.

To get a "picture" lawn you need to water eight to 10 inches deep, but not too often. Sprinkling encourages crabgrass while soaking doesn't, so give your lawn extra water after light showers.

★ ★ ★

Shrubs and small trees will survive without supplementary water, but an extra supply pays off with more vigorous growth and more flowers. Water evergreens deeply two or three times during the summer, and more often when they're young. In dry weather, evergreens benefit from a weekly syringing. Use a sharp spray with full water pressure.

Shear Greens in June, July

Avoid Crew-Cut Look While Pruning Trees, Warns Expert

June and early July are good times for shearing decorative evergreens, but the weekend gardener should avoid giving some kinds that crew-cut look.

★ ★ ★

Fine growing ones often take severe cutbacks, although overzealous use of pruning shears may invite withering sun scald, B. D. Stamp, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co. warns. With coarse-growing evergreens like pine, spruce and fir, the haircuts should be adroit and conservative, if needed at all. This means trimming only about half to two-thirds current growth.

★ ★ ★

The lush, lacelike foliage of yews, arborvitae, falsecypress, junipers and hemlocks can more easily be shaped to desired form and size. That's because new shoots are formed freely from last year's wood and sometimes from two-year-old wood.

Even in the case of the finer, indeterminate growing evergreens, sheared plants should be allowed to expand slightly with some new growth from year to year.

★ ★ ★

All pines, spruces and firs are determinate in growth. Most kinds will respond nicely if they are allowed to develop naturally. Some few exceptions, such as Mugo pine and a few varieties of dwarf spruce, will lend more beauty to the home landscapee with annual shearings.

★ ★ ★

To preserve the pyramidal shape of Christmas tree types, the general trimming rules for coarse growing evergreens should be observed.

SAFETY MAKES SENSE

Summer care of house plants should include protection from insects which might slip in from the garden.

British railroads have some closed-circuit passenger coaches to show television programs to passengers on excursion trains.

Plum Hollow Is Hit With Par-Busters

BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

An army of par-busters hit Plum Hollow Golf Club yesterday in the opening round of the 54th annual Western Open, and as one bystander remarked, "this surely is no place for the poor par-shooter."

When the 18-hole round was completed after a day-long drizzle, a total of 35 golfers came in with sub par scores, led by Dow Finsterwald's 6-under 65.

Another 21 golfers finished in regulation 35-36-71. Should the course-ripping golf continue today it would mean that those who missed par by one stroke would fail to make the cut for finals rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Right behind Finsterwald was Billy Maxwell with 66. Four tied at 67 included Max Evans of Rochester Golf Club, Billy Casper of Bonita, California, Ken Venturi of San Francisco and Bob Lichardus of Hillside, N. J.

★ ★ ★

With 3-under par 68's were Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills, Gay Brewer of Cincinnati, Porky Oliver of Canton, Mass., Stan Leonard of Lachute, Quebec, Bob Hill of Rochester, N. Y., Joe Zakarian of Detroit, and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Eleven others were at 2-under par 69 and another 11 finished one under.

Many low rounds were expected, but even PGA officials were amazed at the onslaught on Plum Hollow's 6,800-yard course.

Finsterwald, one of the fastest rising pro stars who is shooting for a PGA record after having finished in the money 54 straight times, took the front nine at Plum Hollow in 30 strokes of the regulation 35.

With a total of seven birdies, including eleven one-putt greens, Finsterwald cut another stroke off the back as he came in with 35.

He would have tied the course mark of 64, but his bid for a birdie on the 18th fell short by two inches.

★ ★ ★

Currently the third leading money winner of the PGA with $16,125, Finsterwald is married and the recent father of twins, a boy and girl.

The unofficial streak for having placed in the money is credited to Ben Hogan whom a golf magazine source claims won part of the purse in 56 tourneys entered. Finsterwald would need only to finish in the money twice more to tie this.

★ ★ ★

Among the area contenders, 42-year-old Evans, who was off the circuit for a long time because of illness until recently, put together 34-33-67 in a four-way tie for third.

Burkemo finished with 33-35-68 and he just missed an eagle 3 on the 18th when the ball circled the lip and rolled an inch away.

Pontiac's Gene Bone, who last year tied the course record of 64, Jack Fleck of Rochester and Mike Ditz of Indianwood matched scores of 36-35-71.

★ ★ ★

Two of the early leading scores were turned in by Bob Keller of Royal Oak with 34-35-69 and Joe Zakarian, a transplanted Californian, living in Detroit with 33-35-68.

The top 50 pros including ties plus all the amateurs with similar scores will go into the final rounds tomorrow and Sunday.

RAIN? WHO CARES — This threesome waited under umbrella for tee-off time around the putting green without worrying about the constant rain which plagued the opening of the Western Open yesterday. Jack Fleck (left), Ed Furgol and Wally Burkemo (right), all came in with par or better.

NOT TOO GOOD—Pine Lake pro Elmer Prieskorn finishes signing his card at the 18th green after shooting 38-41—79 in the first round of the Western Open. "Not too good," he said.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Ed Furgol, the 40-year-old lame-armed wonder of the PGA, grimaces every time he takes a cut at the ball, but the veteran of 13 years is still an attraction on the pro tour.

"The muscle in my right arm is slowly ripping apart," explains Ed, "and one of these times when I swing, it's going to rip all the way through."

When this happens, the sun-darkened Furgol then admits he will take about an eight week rest, "to have the arm sewed up."

Furgol's crippled arm is actually the left arm. It was permanently injured in a childhood playground accident in his native home, New York Mills, N. Y.

The constant pressure on the right arm, and an elbow chip to the same limb as result of an auto accident in March has compounded his miseries.

Yet his arm troubles haven't cost him any distance off the tee. "I'm using my hips more, but the only trouble is I'm ripping all my golf slacks now," he says.

RYDER CUP TEAM HIS AIM

Furgol doesn't intend to take time out on the tour now, he has been playing well and there's a good chance he may make the Ryder Cup team, which is picked on the basis of points.

Last year was one of Ed's best in golf. He finished only behind Dr. Cary Middlecoff in Vardon Trophy competition with an average of 70.43 strokes per round. He was seventh among the money winners of the PGA with $22,823.

MARTY NO RELATION

They may have the same surname and the same home town, but another Furgol in the ranks, Marty, is no relation to Ed.

"We're good friends, but we never play together in the same pairing in tournaments, after all we wouldn't want to confuse the scorekeepers," he laughed.

Ed's biggest victory was the 1954 National Open and only two weeks ago in Toledo, he was in the thick of the race with 70-69 for the first two rounds, when he zoomed to an 80.

It isn't hard to tell when Ed is teeing off. You can know it's him from a distance by his "bent over" address and lunging swing which were forced on him by his handicap.

He sure didn't appear handicapped yesterday as he shot a 2-under par 69.

Comments From Western Open Players

Here's What They Said Afterwards

Some were happy, some were sad, some were angry and some were glad, but these were the comments which came out of Plum Hollow where 57 golfers shot par or under in the first round of the Western Open yesterday.

Bob Keller, assistant pro at Red Run: "That three footer I missed on the 18th would have given me a 68."

Joe Zakarian, who has lived in Detroit four years: "It must be this glass putter I used."

Mike Dietz, veteran Indianwood pro, "I sure dogged it on several holes." (He fired a 25-foot eagle-3 on the 18th)

★ ★ ★

Jack Fleck, Rochester GC pro: "Nothing like a little rain to make it interesting."

Billy Maxwell: "This is a beautiful setup at Plum Hollow."

Dow Finsterwald, the leader at 65: "I really did some putting, instead of punting the ball."

Wally Burkemo: "Trouble? Yes, I had too many pars."

Tommy Shannon, Orchard Lake pro: "Boy, this was just one of those goofy days."

★ ★ ★

Ray Maguire, Birmingham CC pro: "Last one in and just about last in score."

Ruby Horvath of Windsor: "Whew, this round couldn't end soon enough."

Max Evans, assistant at Rochester: "I'm just glad to be at 67, and I liked the drizzle."

★ ★ ★

Elmer Prieskorn, Pine Lake pro: "At least I got enough putting practice."

Gene Bone: "Those birds just kept going by that cup."

Jackie Burke, out of tourney play since the Open because of a torn hand ligament: "The way you guys are tearing up this course, I should have got in."

Plum Hollow official looking at score board: "You might call this 'Slaughter on Lahser Road.'"

One of the jokers among the writers after stories were written and last threesome checked in: "Guess what, a 64 was just turned in."

Shades of '39 Snead Takes 10 Strokes on 4th

Back in 1939, when Sam Snead lost the National Open in Philadelphia because of the fatal 8 strokes he took on the final hole, the veteran West Virginia pro never intended to have it happen again.

Yesterday at Plum Hollow with all the sub-par scores rolling in, the biggest roar from the crowd at the score board came when a big fat 10 was posted for Snead on the 4th hole.

Snead hit two out of bounds which cost him four strokes, his tee shot was a 5-lie, another shot went into the trap where he failed to get out on the first try and he two-putted.

It was his highest score for a hole in 20 years of competitive golf, "I can't remember anything bigger than 8," he said. He finished with 75.

Unbeaten Youngster Victim of KO Punch

BOSTON (AP)—Rocky Tomasello has answered the question whether Billy Ryan can be hit by knocking out the sensational newcomer to the light-heavyweight ranks.

Tomasello knocked Ryan cold at 1:45 of the 10th round last night at Mechanics Building.

Saginaw Bout Reset

Tigers in Boston for Crucial Series

First Division Struggle Looms in Red Sox Den

Maas Pitches Tonight; Bengals Leave Capital With 7-2 Defeat

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, their manager's straight talk on the dangers of "complacency" apparently forgotten, meet the Boston Red Sox tonight in a significant three-game series.

At stake is Detroit's precarious hold on the tail-end of the first division and the difference between a mildly disastrous road trip and a catastrophe.

The Tigers compounded their guilt yesterday when more-or-less fresh from a public scolding they let the upstart Washington Senators walk all over them 7-2 for their seventh defeat in 10 games on this unhappy tour of the East.

Duke Maas, Detroit's young righthander who has dropped four of his last five decisions following a six-game winning streak, will try to realign the record tonight under somewhat auspicious circumstances. The Tigers this season have whipped the Red Sox seven times in eight meetings.

Tom Brewer, who will start for Boston, was something of a Tiger killer winning five straight against Detroit before the tide was turned, 7-5, May 2.

Manager Jack Tighe couldn't have picked a more timely spot for his "get-with-it-or-else" crackdown Monday night just before Detroit went into a three-game series with the cellar-dwelling Nats. Other teams have been beating Washington with grim regularity this season.

And whether it was the exhortation or the opposition, Detroit took the first two games. Yesterday, something went wrong.

The Senators, snapping a current five-game losing streak, jumped on starter Paul Foytack and Billy Hoeft for nine of their 10 hits and six of their runs in the first three innings. Jim Lemon's 12th home run of the season added the Nats seventh tally in the eighth inning.

Only bonus player Steve Boros' two-run single in the sixth off Washington starter Camilo Pascual kept Detroit from being saddled with a shutout.

The defeat was Foytack's eighth in 13 starts.

Giants Shaking Up National

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Are New York's Giants for real? They're still in sixth place in that hectic National League race, but they've won 12 of their last 16—with half of the victories against Milwaukee and Cincinnati.

And they've been doing it with only one .300 hitter (Willie Mays, .317) and just three pitchers who have won more than they've lost (Ruben Gomez, 9-5; Al Worthington, 7-4; and Ray Crone, 4-2).

Mays and southpaw Johnny Antonelli, two leftovers from the 1954 pennant team, and rookie catcher Valmy Thomas moved the Giants within 3½ games of fifth place last night with a 7-2 victory over Cincinnati, which fell from second to third.

The St. Louis Cardinals retained first place, by half a game, as young Von McDaniel, the $50,000 bonus right-hander won his third in a 6-4 decision over fourth-place Philadelphia. Milwaukee took over Brooklyn 2-1 on Bob Buhl's four-second place, beating fifth-place hitter.

Pittsburgh defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-4 in 10 innings on an RBI triple by Jim Pendleton, who had three of the Pirates' six hits.

The American League race tightened, with Chicago and New York sharing the lead after Boston whipped the White Sox twice 8-3 and 9-2, and Cleveland's Early Wynn handed the Yankees their first shutout 2-0 with a four-hitter. Detroit salvaged only a half-game edge over Boston for fourth place after a 7-2 thumping at Washington.

Mays unloaded his 13th home run, with a man on, in the first against loser Don Gross and the Giants then made it 5-0 in the second with Thomas knocking in two runs. The Giants totaled 12 hits, including Whitey Lockman's solo homer.

Buhl won his fifth in a row for a 9-2 record, losing a two-hit shutout in the ninth on singles by Gil Hodges, who had two hits, and Gino Cimoli and an infield out. Hank Aaron's two-run triple in the eighth did it against Don Drysdale.

Frank Malzone drove in five runs for the Red Sox, counting three with a home run in a four-run nightcap first against Billy Pierce, who lost his fourth in a rwo for a 10-6 record. Mike Fornieles won it.

MAKES LIKE A BIRD — Dick Groat, shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates is known to go through many gyrations in a double-play relay. Here the sequence camera catches Groat making like a bird as he gets off a throw to first to complete a double play against the Chicago Cubs. Bucs won, 5-4. AP Wirephoto

Hagge, Bauer Tied at 72

Sisters Share 1st in Open

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP)—The unusual situation that found sisters sharing the lead in the 12th Women's National Open golf championship—also found a bunch of very tough tournament competitors chasing them into today's second round.

And from the appearance of the practice ground and putting greens at Winged Foot after the girls completed their opening chores, the other women pros don't intend to yield the honors—and $1,800 top prize money—to either Marlene Bauer Hagge or Alice Bauer without a struggle.

Mrs. Hagge, a 5-3, 110-pound girl who gets amazing results with a weird looking looping swing, and her older sister, who is an inch or so shorter and a few pounds lighter, are the ones to beat in this record size women's tournament.

Their rounds of 72—38-34 for Marlene and 34-38 for Alice—were the only ones that beat the tough par of 37-36—73 for Winged Foot's 6,246-yard East course.

Only one stroke behind them, going into today's second round was Gloria Armstrong, a power-hitting 180-pound pro from Oakland, Calif., who just matched par with a 37-36—73 round. Gloria a pro for three years, who flies her own airplane for pleasure, never has won a pro tournament but she has been getting into the money regularly this year.

Two strokes back were Betsy Rawls, who won the first USGA Women's Open in 1953 and has walked off with top money in three tournaments this year, and redhead Betty Dodd of Louisville, Ky., who has finished among the first five in eight tournaments this year.

* * *

After today's second round, the field will be cut to the low 40 and ties for the final 36 holes on Saturday.

Two Big Wins for Master Williams

By H. GUY MOATS

After two superlative performances in Thursday's biggest events for jumpers, Master William, the big gray gelding owned by Mrs. W. J. Barney Jr. of Greenwich, Conn., appears on his way to a Detroit Horse Show championship.

With Hugh Wiley in the saddle, the steady-going gray turned in a great bit of jumping over 12 obstacles in a very difficult course, to best out Mrs. Robert Haass' Beauty Ray, ridden by the Bloomfield Open Hunt favorite, Max Bonham of Grass Lake, in the fault and out event.

This test, over 4-feet-6-inch high obstacles was to the liking of the Master who went the route without a fault.

He then returned for the night's finale, the Open Hunt's "big jumping event" to win a jumpoff for the top spot. Jeb Wofford of Clayton Mo., rode his By Day to tie for the spot, but lost in the jumpoff when Master William went the three extra jumps faultlessly.

These two events, jumped in a steady drizzle that made the footing for the horses soft and the turf slippery, were thril-packed. Large fields contended in each and the fine riding, and splendid response by the horses drew plaudits from the many spectators who braved the rain.

In the BOH event, jumped under FEI rules, over obstacles that reached a height of 5 feet 2 inches, Bonham experienced some difficulty with his first mount. He was unseated after a wait prior to starting the course, then Dil Dou Kee fell when he slipped following a jump over an obstacle. Neither horse nor rider was hurt. Both resumed the course to a big round of applause.

Currently Bonham is the leading rider in the big show at the Open Hunt Club. He has compiled five wins. George Clarkston is also doing well with only a few less.

Two trophy events also marked Thursday's heavy card.

Patty Cassady of Toledo captured the Joan Coulson memorial trophy for working hunters exhibited by a junior. She rode her Miss Pat over the hard outside course to beat out a big field. Ladies working hunters class was won by Clarkston's Perforation, a solid, big bay gelding, ridden by the owner. The Blackthorn Memorial trophy went to the winner.

Today's events, as far as number of entries is concerned, is again dominated by the younger set, with at least a half dozen classes, headed by this morning's ASPCA horsemanship class. More than 50 jammed this event, competing for the late Alfred H. McClay's permanent championship trophy. Only children under 18 years of age were eligible, but the entries included most of the better young riders such as Joe Racine, Rick Otto, Sally Sample, Suzanne Wallace, Gail and Stephanie Altenburg and Kathy Bates.

Ten classes were in action this morning.

Leadline class for little folks (six years and under) opened this afternoon's program that also includes professional horsemanship for ladies' hunters; hunters (juniors) with 33 entries; open jumpers with "Moonlight" from the James R. Greene stables.

Open hunters and the knock-down-and-out for juniors; chairman's trophy, offered by Mr. and Mrs. Irving A. Duffy; handy working hunters and the first competition of the three-part Motor City Sweepstakes, mark tonight's program. Other competition s set for Saturday and Sunday.

Thursdays Results:

MASTER OF THE JUMPS — A big gray jumper gave rain-soaked horse show spectators one of the DHS's big thrills of the week, last night. Ridden expertly by Hugh Wiley, Master William (above, just after clearing a gate) won two of the show's biggest tests, without fault. He was master of the dozen five-foot high barriers in both the fault and out, and the Open Hunt's "big" jumping event. The Master won the last event by a perfect performance in a jumpoff.

Tourney Field May Reach 100

Chief Pontiac Skeet Test Rated Highly in State Circles

Seventh-annual Chief Pontiac Open Skeet Championships will be held at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club ranges Saturday and Sunday, July 20 and 21.

Originated in 1951 by past-president Jim Ashmore, the Chief Pontiac shoot has grown with each event and is rated as a top-flight shoot by veteran Michigan skeetmen.

The Pontiac Open Shoot annually serves as a preparation for the state and country's top shooters for national events. Around 100 shooters are expected for the Open, which will be trophy shoot with some added money.

Shooters may use all guns including the .410 gauge, .28 gauge, .20 gauge, and .12 gauge.

There will be four fields for shooting and one for practice rounds. According to skeet chairman Homer Coss, the ranges will be open Friday afternoon, July 19, for practice.

Watrous Ousts Grace, Later Joins Him

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UP)—Handsome Rex Baxter Jr. of Houston's national chimpions and gangling Ernie George of San Jose State were the favorites to gain the finals of the upset-studded 60th annual NCAA golf championships today.

But there wasn't a cinch match on the program as eight survivors teed off for the first of two rounds this morning on the Broadmoor course.

Upsets took a big toll yesterday in fiery duels that saw nine of the 24 matches settled either on the last hole or in a sudden-death playoff. The day's longest match went 22 holes.

Tom Watrous, 21-year-old senior from the U. of D., had one of his poorest tourney rounds against Joe Grace Thursday, but the Notre Dame golfer also fell badly off form and Watrous won, 4 and 3.

Tom was in eight sand traps, but managed to pitch out and one-put each of the first four traps. Watrous was even par 37 at turn, then bogeyed each of last six holes before closing out match on 15th hole.

"Joe wasn't swinging well, and had trouble putting," said Watrous. "He didn't hit any water holes, but was constantly inviting trouble by getting into rough, into poor lies. I had bad luck, but not that bad."

Then Donnell Adams, North Carolina, defeated Watrous, 1 up in 20 holes, in a third round match.

Baxter, the Trans-Mississippi champion, played smoothly and apparently without pressure in seeking a title that would provide a wedding present for him and his fiancee, Barbara Siler of Houston. They'll be married at Houston July 6.

The muscular Texan sailed with ease past two opponents yesterday while the two-headed Big Ten champion picked with him for this year's Walker Cup team fell in a big upset. Fire-ball Joe Campbell of Purdue, never ahead and erratic on the greens, lost to Yales' Peter Nisselson, 2 and 1.

Baxter, 21, downed teammate Frank Wharter, 3 and 2, in his third-round match.

George gained the favorite's role in the upper bracket by shooting sub-par golf in downing Bill Redding of Purdue, 3 and 2. The 6-foot-5 San Jose junior provided the tourney's first upset Wednesday in eliminating co-medalist Warren Simmons of Syracuse.

1st Hit in 11 Tries

Aaron Gets to Drysdale

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Before yesterday's game between Brooklyn and Milwaukee, three National League pitchers held the Indian sign over the Braves' Hank Aaron. Now there are two.

★ ★ ★

The young right fielder had collected at least one hit this season off every pitcher he had faced a minimum of four times — with the exception of Brooklyn's Don Drysdale, Philadelphia's Jack Sanford and Al Worthington of New York.

Drysdale was the Dodgers' starter yesterday.

Aaron, whose shuffling gait and rag doll slouch belie cat-like reflexes, espegially when he is up at the plate, was easy for Drysdale in his first three trips.

★ ★ ★

In the eighth inning, the NL's defending batting champion faced Drysdale again with two on and the score 0-0. Aaron swung and the ball sped into the right centerfield slot for a triple. Two runs scored. The Braves won 2-1 to give righthander Bob Buhl a season won-lost record of 9-2 and a won-lost record of 11-1 against Brooklyn over the span of two seasons.

★ ★ ★

Before hitting the three bagger, Aaron had faced Drysdale 10 times this year without getting a hit.

Fair Wins 3rd Straight Feature at Motor City

Pontiac's Joy Fair, scheduled to run in Sunday's opening race program at Pontiac Speedway, tuned up for the assignment by winning his 3rd straight Motor City Speedway feature last night. The race was halted after 19 laps because of rain.

Fair gained the lead on the 14th lap when pace-setting Rusty Kelly, also of Pontiac, threw a wheel. Don Lancto, Tom Houston and Skeeter Ross followed Fair across the finish line.

Packer Veterans Return

GREEN BAY, Wis. (UP)— Joe Johnson and Bill Roberts, veteran offensive halfbacks, have signed 1957 contracts with the Green Bay Packers, Lesle Blackbourn, coach of the National Football League club said today.

Qualify Today in Monza Race

Top American, British Drivers Aim for Speed of 170 M.P.H.

MONZA, Italy (UP)—Top American and British racing car drivers aimed for a 170-mile an hour target today as they qualified for tomorrow's 500-mile international Monza race.

The trials determine the post positions for what may be the world's fastest race scheduled to start shortly after 4 a.m. EST.

Ten American drivers, including some of the best from the Indianapolis 500, and three British aces led the field as pre-race activity reached a climax.

Only one drive of the 13 definitely in the race has qualified. He is Johnny Parsons of Van Nuys, Calif., who turned in a time of 160.598 m.p.h. in his Agajanian Special yesterday.

Several other drivers, however, have exceeded Parsons' time, serving notice that they are ready to take the 2.6-mile Monza circuit at speeds of 170 m.p.h. or more.

Pat O'Connor of North Vernon, Ind., hit 170.689 m.p.h. yesterday in his Sumar Special. Eddie Sachs, Allentown, Pa., did 168.571 the previous day in a Jim Robbins Special.

Nicholie Nine Rallies for 8-6 Softball Win

Trailing by two runs after five innings of play, Nicholie Realty bounced back to even the count in the 6th and added three runs in the 7th for an 8-6 triumph over Nubrite Plating in a Waterford Junior League softball game last night.

Jim Remez paced the victors the losers also had a trio of safeties.

3 of 4 Tigers Named in Local Poll May Start in All-Star Contest

Four Tigers were among the eight American Leaguers named to the starting lineup for the July 9 All-Star game at St. Louis in a poll conducted here by the Pontiac Press.

Only two were certain to win out in the national poll which concluded last night. They were Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn. Still in contention today as the final votes were being counted was young 3rd sacker Reno Bertoia, an easy winner here.

Ray Boone was the other Detroiter to top the Oakland County team with Frank House losing out by one vote on the final day to Yogi Berra. Neither Tiger was ever in the race in the overall poll.

Kaline edged Kuenn for the most local votes with 259 to 257. Mickey Mantle had 213 and Stan Musial led the NL contingent with 206. National pacesetter Ted Williams and Nellie Fox were the other American Loop stars selected here.

★ ★ ★

Final voting on the national level assured Kaline, Kuenn, Fox, Williams, Mantle, Berra and Vic Wertz of starting berths in the big battle of "dream" teams.

Williams was the individual leader throughout the poll holding a slight edge on Mantle. All positions were decided early with beating his nearest competitor Roy Sievers by over 71,000. Bertoia was the only Tiger besides the Kaline-Kuenn duo to top the 8,000 mark in national votes.

Area residents picked the National League group exactly as it is expected to take the field at Sportsman's Park next month. Besides Musial, there are Red Schoendienst, Al Dark, Ed Mathews, Frank Robinson, Willie Mays, Hank Aaron and Ed Bailey.

Falling short on the Tiger dominance, Milwaukee placed three in the senior circuit. The Cards and Redlegs added two men each and New York one.

The big battle in the National League has been at shortstop where Dark and Roy McMillan have been involved in a two-man struggle since the balloting began. There was very little question about the rest of the NL starters. The majority had starting jobs sewed up early.

Results of the poll for both leagues will be announced officially July 2. Rival Managers Casey Stengel and Walt Alston will name their pitching staffs that day.

U. S. Netters vs. Aussies

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (INS) — Three of America's surviving foursome collide head on with Australia's big guns today in the fourth round men's singles of the All-England tennis championships.

Vic Seixas, 35-year-old sixth-seeded Philadelphia who won the Wimbledon crown in 1953, faced Aussie Mel Anderson after a gruelling four-set victory over Japanese champ Kossi Kamo.

Budge Patty of Los Angeles, the 1950 Wimbledon titlist, faced a big test in fifth-seeded Neale Fraser and young Mike Green of Miami had perhaps the most difficult task of all.

The U.S. Davis Cup hopeful set out to try and stop Ashley Cooper, the Australian champion who is seeded second behind defending titleholder Lew Hoad.

Only seventh-seeded Herb Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., missed a showdown with the powerful Australian delegation. Flam met W.A. Knight of Britain.

Other top pairings included Hoad and his unseeded countryman, Roy Emerson; fourth-seeded Sven Davidson of Sweden and England's Bobby Wilson, and eighth-seeded Mervyn Rose and Venezuela's I. Pimental.

Althea Gibson, top-seeded in the women's division, opposes Britain's Gem Hoahing, and Miami model Karol Fageros faced Rosa Maria Reyes of Mexico in a battle of beauties.

Only four of nine American men survived yesterday's third round but the women swept six of their seven matches.

City Softball Activity Heavy Tonight, Sunday

Pontiac State Hospital clashes with Dostal Foundry at 7 o'clock and Eddie's Bar faces Loule's Tavern at 8:30 in City League softball games tonight at Beaudette Park. Thursday night's scheduled four-game program was postponed because of rain.

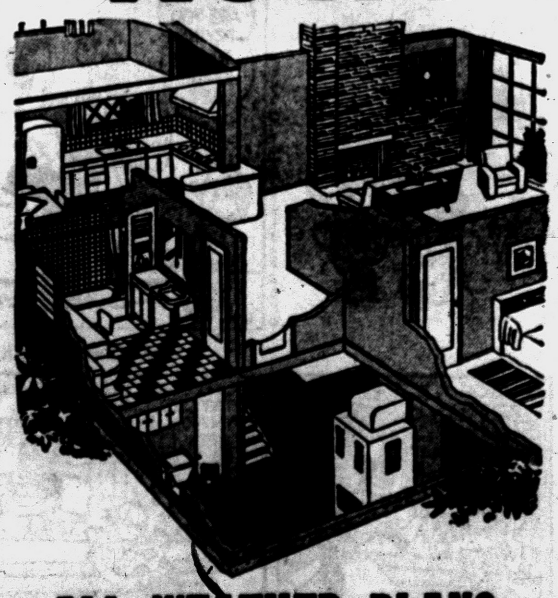

Four softball games are scheduled Sunday night. Included are: At Beaudette — Birmingham vs. Stadium Inn, 7 p.m., and Shaw's Jewelers vs. Elks No. 810, 8:30; at North Side — Drive-In Cleaners vs. Oxbow Pavillion, 7 p.m., and Lane's Drive-In vs. Deni's Corner, 8:30.

Games Are Rescheduled

DETROIT — Detroit Tiger General Manager John McHale announced today that the rained-out game with the Chicago White Sox of May 11, has been rescheduled as part of a doubleheader to be played on Sunday, August 18.

The Tigers also have twin bills set on Sunday, July 14, with Baltimore, and on Labor Day, September 2, with the Chicago White Sox.

Committee OKs Postal Salary Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $546-a-year across the board increase for some 518,000 postal workers received approval today of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

★ ★ ★

The increase would add about 350 million dollars a year to the federal payroll.

Chairman Murray (D-Tenn) announced that pay increases for the almost one million federal employes under the Classification Act schedule will be considered at hearings beginning next Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

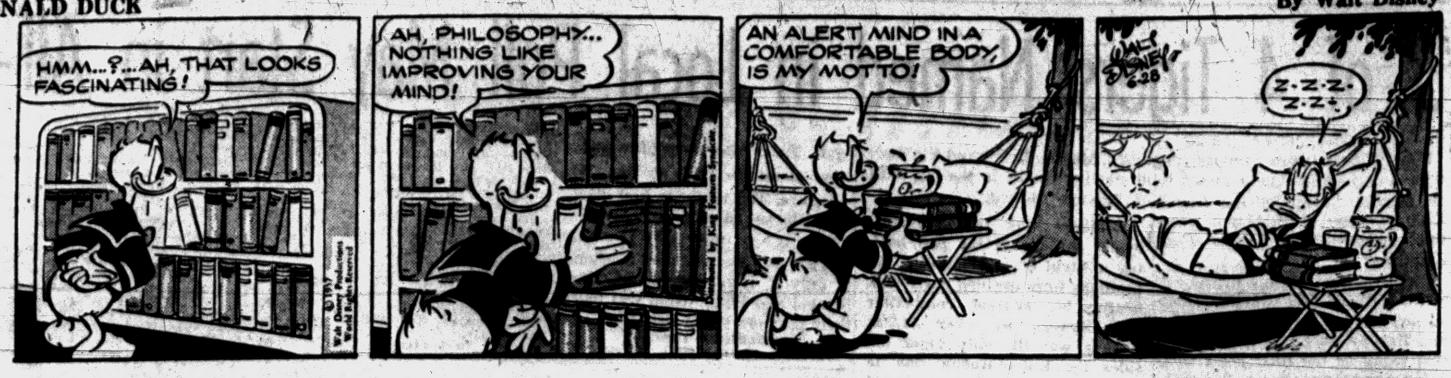

The administration has said it cannot recommend a general pay increase for federal employes at this time because of the inflationary pressures.

Array of Gains Marks Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed its advance early today in moderate trading.

Pivotal issues were ahead from fractions to around a point.

The opening was fairly active, then turnover slowed.

★ ★ ★

Steels and aircrafts were in demand and a bit higher. Railroads also made gains in fair turnover.

There were some losses among nonferrous metals. Motors were barely changed. Utilities, encouraged by American Telephone's comeback, had an array of fractional gains. Most leading oils were higher.

★ ★ ★

The $6-a-ton average increase announced by U. S. Steel, though anticipated by Wall Street, was a bullish element. Store sales were reported higher and freight carloadings were forecasted to be increased in the third quarter. But next week's Fourth of July holiday meant a week's vacation for many in financial circles and there was a tendency to slow down.

Josephine Baker Plans to Divorce Third Husband

SARLAT, France (AP)—A divorce action by Negro singer Josephine Baker and her third husband, bandleader Jo Bouillon, has been filed here. In keeping with French custom, court officials declined to say which party filed the suit, or specify the grounds.

The singer, now 51, married the white bandleader in France 10 years ago. She announced last year she was retiring from the stage to devote herself to her eight children, adopted in many countries. She now lives in a 12th century chateau near here.

Methodists to Celebrate Birth of Charles Wesley

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The 250th anniversary of Charles Wesley will be celebrated this year at the 45th annual meeting of The Methodist Church's Southeastern Jurisdictional assembly at Lake Junaluska, N.C.

A two-day hymn festival will be held to honor Wesley, who wrote more than 6,500 hymns. Wesley's brother, John, founded Methodism. The hymn-writer's birth will be celebrated by Methodists and other denominations around the world this year.

Rye Holds Back as Grains Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — All grain futures except rye moved ahead fairly sharply in extremely active buying and short covering on the board of trade today.

Further heavy rainfall in Kansas pushed wheat prices up another two cents a bushel at times. Crop reports also indicate further severe damage to the crop.

The rainfall, which also was heavy in the midwest, caused buying also in corn and soybeans. Oats rose in sympathy. Rye dipped early on selling influenced by the administration's rejection of lower rye import quotas for the next two years. Strength in other grains started moving rye upward, however.

★ ★ ★

Near the end of the first hour new style wheat was ⅛ to 1⅝ higher, July $2.14⅞, corn was ⅞ to 1⅛ higher, July $1.31 ¼, oats were ⅜ to ⅝ higher, July 67½, rye was unchanged to 1¼ lower, July $1.24¼, soybeans were 1⅛ to 1⅝ higher, July $2.36½, and lard was unchanged to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.92.

Job Accidents Drop

CHICAGO — Fatalities as a result of on-the-job accidents have dropped 25 per cent since 1928.

Here Are Pot-O-Gold Answers

The following are correct answers and explanations to the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) HASTENING. A girl who is left behind because she takes too long to dress will probably hurry a little more the next time. Chastening is a rather drastic word here, implying punishment; there is no wrong-doing involved in dressing too slowly.

B. (4) VALIANT. The captain of a ship during a hurricane has to take a Valiant course or way of action — i. e. be very courageous, fighting against the elements. One can't say that a Variant course is "usually" necessary; it isn't always possible to ride around the hurricane by a changeable course.

C. (6) FEATURES. Creatures — living animals — are of course FEATURES of the zoo, but a large zoo has other FEATURES to impress a child, such as poney rides, balloons, etc.

D. (7) HANDOUTS. Since most housewives are timid about feeding tramps, hoboes tell one another where the exceptions are. Hobo Hangouts — camping grounds known as "jungles" — are well established throughout the country, and all hoboes know where they are.

E. (9) ADMIRES. Whether an art lover Acquires — gets into his possession — a painting or not, if he ADMIRES it, he will take every opportunity to gaze at it.

F. (11) POWER. The POWER of an army often replaces one military dictator with another. The guns are there as a threat, but frequently there is no shooting, and the Powder in them is not used.

G. (14) SKIMPED. Cutting down on quantity at meals is the best way to reduce. If meals are Skipped, the result will be a more ravenous appetite for the next ones.

H. (15) LIFER. It's a dismal fate for a woman to be married to a man imprisoned for LIFE, particularly if she does not believe in divorce. A Loafer may have so much money he has no need to work, and many wives enjoy wealth and leisure.

I. (18) MUZZLING. The man who thinks he knows everything tries to convince you too. He's usually a pompous boor, and anyone would be delighted to make him shut up. There'd be little pleasure in Puzzling him because he'd insist that he knew the answer.

J. (20) SPECIFIC. An explicit, definite plan for settling international problems would be welcomed by everyone. Pacific, or peaceful, plans are impractical because they assume the co-operation of nations that are not pacific at all, but aggressive.

K. (21) SCOPE. A reporter who is given free range to develop a story has time to polish the writing; good writing of course is the kind that wins prizes. A reporter's Scoop is a headline story that he rushes into print before others get it; there is seldom time to worry about writing style.

L. (23) TALISMAN. An inscribed amulet or charm, supposed to bring good luck is likely to be a gift; any gift should be selected with care. A Talesman is drawn by lot for jury service; only if he is to serve on a case would any careful selection be needed.

M. (25) THICKENING. In industrial areas of California where there are factories aid oil-processing plants, the SMOG — mixed fog and smoke — is increasing along with industry. It is not Sickening as yet — but it certainly isn't healthful, and residents worry about its THICKENING.

N. (28) MONARCHY. Prior to World War I, almost all countries of Europe had hereditary rulers; now there is quite a group of former Monarchs. Since, in general, they were not succeeded by other monarchs, it is the system of MONARCHY itself which declined and gave way to other forms of government.

O. (29) PHASES. There will always be certain periods in one's life which are more memorable than others — more colorful, or more full of hardship. Even well-loved Faces grown dim with time.

P. (32) ALLOW. "Forced" to ALLOW that a disputed fact is true means that a flustered witness at court is cornered into admitting it. Avow means to declare openly — hardly the word when a statement is dragged reluctantly out of the witness.

Q. (33) TAKE-OFF. Revenge would be expected if one of a gangster mob took flight ("double-crossing" suggests "with the money.") A Rake-off, or commission, is usually pre-arranged.

R. (35) PARADE. A PARADE may be a line of marchers, not in costume at all, or even in uniform, but "sometimes" you see colorful costumes. A Charade is a parlor game of pantomime where words are acted out by gestures, and is rarely done in costume.

S. (37) DESIGNS. Some modernistic sculpture is so grotesque that it is useless to speculate how its creator Defines it. He makes no attempt to explain what it means. But one does wonder how he DESIGNS it — what goes on in his head when he is fashioning such a monstrosity.

T. (40) LITERAL. A legal technicality has prevented many a defendant from paying the penalty — some loophole in the law. A Liberal interpretation does not mean, in this sense, generous to the defendant, but rather that the judge does not cling too closely to the finer points of the law.

Stoner, an engineering graduate of Purdue University, received his master's degree in engineering from the University of Michigan. His most recent assignment has been that of chief engineer of New Departure. The division operates plants in Bristol and Meriden, Conn., and Sandusky, Ohio.

Signs Consent Decree in Bus Monopoly Case

CHICAGO (AP) — Greyhound Corp. and the government have signed a consent decree designed to end alleged monopolistic practices in intercity bus operations.

★ ★ ★

General Motors Corp. was named as co-conspirator but not as a defendant in the action in U.S. District Court yesterday.

A separate civil anti-trust suit is pending in Detroit against GM charging it with monopoly in the manufacture of intercity buses. Greyhound is named as co-conspirator but not a defendant in that action.

West Germany to Get A-Arms?

Depends on Outcome of London Conference, Defense Chief Says

BONN, Germany (AP) — Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss said today that the success or failure of world disarmament negotiations would decide whether West Germany arms with atomic weapons.

★ ★ ★

Strauss said this in an interview as the Soviet Union warned West Germany that atomic armament would doom any hope of German reunification. West German officials generally dismissed the Soviet note, delivered to Bonn's ambassador in Moscow yesterday, as another attempt to swing the election of a new parliament in September against Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

★ ★ ★

The NATO Allies have been reported weighing a plan for U.S. forces in Europe to keep a stockpile of American atomic warheads, to be given to the Allied troops instantly in case of war. This would sidestep U.S. laws that prevent the handover of American nuclear weapons to foreign powers.

Child Guidance Program Set by Eagle Club

The Eagles Club of Waterford Township have organized a new child guidance program in the community which will begin with a picnic Saturday at the Pontiac Lake Recreation area.

★ ★ ★

The new activities program is open to all children in the area, regardless of membership, according to Richard Morin, chairman.

During the year there will be baseball, picnics, Boy and Girl Scout troop, matinee shows, and various supervised activities for outdoor fun, Morin said.

★ ★ ★

The Eagles are building a new clubhouse on M59 near Crescent Lake road, with recreation facilities on the grounds. All labor has been volunteer help from the members, who also donated the funds to purchase the building materials.

Plans are being made for a September dedication.

Other instructive activities for Waterford Township children will include lectures on safety rules, hikes and tours in many factories. The conducted tours will transport the children by chartered bus.

The newly elected officers of the Eagles are Don Coffee, president and Ernest Holler, vice president. The chaplain is William Mackay and secretary is Duane O. Johnson.

Nick Ruffatto will be the treasurer with Harry Kuenzer, Inner Guard and Everett De Rosha, the Outer Guard. There are more than 400 members in the Club.

Phoenix-Project Grants

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan's Memorial-Phoenix Project, devoted to peaceful use of atomic energy, has made 11 grants to faculty members for nuclear research. The grants totaled $30,382.

Sentence Suspended in Embezzling Case

Dolores T. Wallace, 29, of Lansing, was given a suspended sentence Wednesday after she was found guilty by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum of embezzling approximately $66.

The Wallace woman was a former assistant manager of a local women's clothing store.

Contact Lenses Result in Bright, New World

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—For 20 years, I've been a Seeing-Eye Husband for my nearsighted wife. But now she can see across a crowded room . . . even a crowded dress . . . with her cornea lenses. She can even see me now.

★ ★ ★

"When I saw that shepherd dog the other day and thought it was Slugger, that did it!" she said.

Esther Williams and Hildegard had often whipped out their "new eyes," and I'd urged the wife to get some as as an anniversary present since all the glamor set's doing it.

ESTHER

"The first day I have to stay at the oculist's the whole day," she told me as she departed carrying a face towel—thinking it was her gloves.

She came home as happy as a N.Y. Giant fan. Everybody else's lenses worked — hers didn't.

★ ★ ★

"One eye's very bad—and that's where the lens kept popping out on the floor," she announced.

She had to go another whole day—and then it was perfect.

Sharp cries of "Don't move—I've dropped my left eye!" pierced the bedroom as we dressed for her to rush out and startle people by yelling their names from 50 feet away.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Robert Q. Lewis will undergo surgery on a "protuberance" . . . Jack Benny, following Jan Murray in Las Vegas, "After 35 years in show business, I wind up as summer replacement for Jan Murray" . . . They may ask Shirley McLain, gifted Hollywood comedienne, to be one of Jack Paar's "Tonight" helpers.

★ ★ ★

EARL'S PEARLS: It's still safer to cross a street than a wife. —John J. Plomp, Detroit.

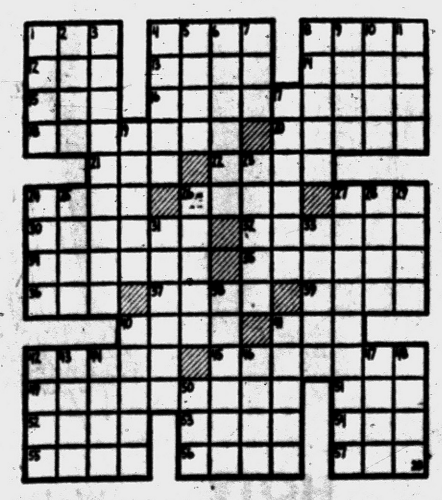

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A tourist resort's a place where no one knows how unimportant you are at home . . . That's earl, brother.

Duffs' Program Clings to Reality

'Mr. Adams and Eve' Uses Situations From Stars' Own Life

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Howard Duff and Ida Lupino, television's newest man-and-wife team, sighed today that the problems of mixing business with domesticity are the least of their cares.

★ ★ ★

With ratings, production expenses and the legal 24-hour limit on the day to worry about, they said, they haven't much time for marital misunderstandings, in or out of the studio.

In fact, their home life provides the basis for most episodes of their CBS-TV show, "Mr. Adams and Eve."

"Working together while married is the least of our troubles," the beauteous Mrs. Duff murmured after a short but spirited dissertation on the difficulty of competing with "spectaculars" and Greta Garbo movies.

★ ★ ★

"We haven't killed each other yet," her husky husband added with a bit more caution. "Of course, it means we're forced into taking business home with us, but at least we have no independent troubles."

PRACTICAL SYSTEM

When disagreements do arise, he said patiently, he has a highly practical—and time proven—system for handling them.

★ ★ ★

"I hate to say it because it sounds trite," Duff declared, "but we really don't have many basic disagreements. Oh, we may disagree occasionally on a bit of business or something like that, but I just give in, and that's that."

"Oh, phooey," his wife put in with typical wifely respect.

"You know," she went on as her husband assumed the typical husbandly posture of listening, "people are always asking us if our stories are real. I'll bet 7 out of 10 of them really happened to us."

"Well," her mate ventured, "I certainly think you can say our best shows have been based on things that actually happened to us. We try not to do anything TOO untrue to our own characters."

★ ★ ★

"The hectic side of our show," Miss Lupino said firmly, "is ABSOLUTELY true to our own lives."

PRODUCING TEAM

Hectic is the word. Like Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz, the Duffs are producing their own show, with Howard making his solo flight as a producer.

★ ★ ★

Their company, Bridget Productions, is named after their five-year-old daughter, who is on the books as president of the firm.

"It's interesting," Duff said with a wry smile, "but I must say it cuts into your leisure. I don't play as much tennis as I used to.

"But I don't mind it as long as the show is going ahead. I don't think I'd like to do it more than two or three years, though."

★ ★ ★

"Just so," his better half explained seriously, "our little girl has something out of it if, God forbid, something happens to us. We'll never be rich like Lucy and Desi!"

"Half as rich?" her husband asked hopefully.

Airman Convicted of Abusing Recruits

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Airman 2.C. John S. Williams, 20, Concord, N. C., yesterday was convicted on charges of drunkenness and mistreating two basic trainees at Lackland Air Force Base.

The Air Force court-martial sentenced him to three months confinement at hard labor, a total fine of $150 and a reduction in rank two grades to airman basic.

Williams, the fifth tactical instructor at Lackland to be tried on charges of mistreating recruits this year, had pleaded guilty to drunkenness, but denied mistreating the recruits.

Guilty of Drunk Driving, Appeals to Circuit Court

After he was found guilty of drunk driving yesterday by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum, Henry C. Brown, 36, of 369 Ditmar St., appealed the verdict to Circuit Court.

Brown, sentenced to serve 20 days in jail or pay a $100 fine, was freed on a $200 bond until he appears in the higher court July 8.

Physicians Run Tourist Hotel

Father - Son Combine to Operate 20 - Room Beaver Island Lodge

BEAVER ISLAND (AP) — A Jackson father and son physician team operate as weekend hotel keepers on this Lake Michigan offshoot of Charlevoix County.

Dr. John E. Ludwick, 61, and his son, Dr. John P. Ludwick, 31, spend their weekdays in medical practices at Jackson.

★ ★ ★

Their weekends are shared operating Beaver Lodge, a 20-room rourist hotel they purchased this year from Mrs. H. B. Johnson of Ludington.

The younger partner flies many of the hotel supplies from the Michigan "mainland" 33 miles in his private plane.

The sinior Mrs. Ludwick answers the question of why two successful physicians took on the headaches associated with operating a summer resort by saying:

"My husband always had to be doing things in addition to his medical practice. We owned a farm outside Jackson for many years. This is a new challenge for him and my son."

She and her daughter-in-law take an active share in the hotel's management, supervising housekeeping tasks and planning menus.

★ ★ ★

The Ludwicks' have been summer residents of the island for several years. They bought the hotel because "One thing we didn't want to see was some promoter taking it over and ruining it."

★ ★ ★

The younger Ludwick is a graduate of Harvard Medical School. His father was a member of the University of Michigan class of 1921.

Summer Brings Big Train Death Toll

A sometimes fatal attraction for speeding trains annually results in a long list of dead children, particularly during the summer months.

Again this year the Michigan Railroad Police Association has issued a warning to parents asking them to impress their children with these basic "Nevers" of pedestrian safety around railroads.

Never crawl under or pass around lowered crossing gates,

Never take a short cut cross railroad property,

Never attempt to hop rides on trains, or climb around cars,

Never use trestles or bridges for walking, and

Never in any way damage insulators or signal lights on the right of way.

Officials of the association point out that, although the toll is falling, the battle to keep children from being killed by trains is still important. In 1955, 49 children under 14 were killed and 78 were injured.

The problem increases markedly during the summer vacation, association officials say.

They point out that parents anxious about the safety of their children on busy streets would do well to add a strong word of caution about speeding trains.

Sees Good Resort Year

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council expects an increase of 5 to 10 per cent in tourist revenue this year—depending upon good weather—and predicts the state's tourist and resort business will total $625,000,000.
