Viets Overrun Cong Position

DAI NGAI, South Viet Nam (AP)—Government forces overran a major Viet Cong position yesterday, killing at least 67 guerrillas and capturing 10 others as well as a large stock of weapons.

It was one of the most significant government successes in the past year.

U.S. officers believed that the position, 75 miles southwest of Saigon, was a Viet Cong zone command headquarters. The Communists have divided South Viet Nam into seven zones.

The government forces suffered 11 dead and 42 wounded. Among the wounded were seven U.S. Army helicopter crewmen hit by small arms fire.

(Ten other Americans were reported wounded in other actions in the Mekong Delta yesterday. Two were reported in serious condition.)

Capt. Robert W. Butler of Frederick, Md., who went into action at Dai Ngai, said of the government success: "This is as good a Christmas present as I could have wished for."

RADIO SMASHED

A radio he had carried on his back was smashed by a machine-gun bullet. He was not hurt.

The attack began when militiamen in the rice-land hamlet beside the Mekong River called for help after exchanging fire with the guerrillas.

Thirty-six helicopters, half of them armed with rockets and heavy machine guns, dropped on top of the Viet Cong position, discharging two battalions in seven quick waves.

★ ★ ★

Air force planes poured bombs and cannon fire into the area. About 650 government troops took part.

2 BATTALIONS

Viet Cong strength was estimated at two battalions under the command of a major general. It was not known whether he was among the dead.

Government troops were still recovering bodies today as sporadic fighting continued.

The heavy Communist casualties were attributed partly to a new type of fuse on the government's bombs. These burst in the air and scatter shrapnel over a wide area.

★ ★ ★

Vietnamese officers speculated that the Communists had been massing for an attack and were caught off guard.

Steel Firm Joins in Price Boost

National Announces $6-Per-Ton Increase

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — National Steel Corp. joined four other steel producers and announced an increase of $6 per ton in the mill price of carbon and high strength galvanized sheet, effective at midnight tonight.

★ ★ ★

Last week, U. S. Steel Corp., the nation's No. 1 producer; Republic Steel of Cleveland, Ohio; Inland Steel Corp., Chicago, and Granite Steel Co. of Granite City, Ill., announced the same hike on galvanized sheet.

National Steel said the increase would apply on sheets produced at its Weirton steel plant at Weirton, W. Va., and at its Midwest division mill at Portage, Ind.

Galvanized sheet is used in the automobile, air-conditioning and construction industries and makes up about 5.2 per cent of the nation's steel output.

★ ★ ★

If other galvanized producers fall in line, about 12 per cent of total steel production will have gone up in price.

ALSO EXPECTED

Other producers of galvanized sheet, such as Youngstown Sheet & Tube, also were expected to announce price increases, which would boost the cost of sheet to between $155 and $160 per ton.

★ ★ ★

The industry made its last selective price increase in April 1963, one year after an across-the-board hike was beaten back by the late President John F. Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

The 1962 increase amounted to $6 per ton across-the-board and was triggered by U. S. Steel shortly after the industry had reached a peaceful contract settlement with the United Steelworkers Union (USW).

★ ★ ★

That increase was rescinded under pressure from Kennedy.

Five Walk Away From Plane Crash

By L. GARY THORNE

A Bloomfield Township family of five escaped serious injury yesterday when their airplane crashed into a back yard just north of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

★ ★ ★

Piloted by Robert C. Hollenbeck, 35, of 3076 Betsy Ross, Bloomfield Township, the single-engine Bonanza Beechcraft clipped a power line and uprooted a tree before landing back of a house at 2231 Ellery, Waterford Township.

Hollenbeck told police the plane's aileron, a control flap on the wing, failed to function after he had made a 90-degree left turn.

All were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. While the rest of his family was treated for minor injuries and released, Hollenbeck was held for observation.

His condition was listed as fair.

The crash occurred at 9:25 a.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"We were just fixing to leave for church," said B. F. Walden, 37, of the Ellery address.

HOUSE MOVED

"I first thought it hit the end of the house because when it hit the wires it jerked the house.

"It sounded like an explosion when it hit," added Walden.

He said he rushed out to aid the crash victims, but they emerged from the wrecked plane by themselves.

★ ★ ★

HEARD SOUND

The officer's daughter, Kathy, 14, said, "I thought it was a car too, but I saw a flash of light on our wall when the wing hit the wires."

★ ★ ★

APPROPRIATE PAGE

3 Girls Killed in 2 Separate Road Mishaps

Two of Victims Were Struck Down by Auto on Orion Highway

Three young girls were killed in two separate traffic accidents yesterday, bringing Oakland County's holiday death toll to 11, the highest county total in the state.

Dead are Barbara Bailey, 12, of 236 Baldwin and Kathyrn M. Spezia, 14, of 460 Baldwin, both of Orion Township, and Julie Ann Lietke, 17, of 140 E. Jackson, Lake Orion.

Five members of one Flint family, including a mother and her three sons, were killed in a single accident early Saturday on I-75 in Independence Township.

The two Orion Township girls were killed last night at about 6:45.

Sheriff's deputies said the two were walking on Baldwin near Indianwood in Orion Township when they were struck by a southbound vehicle.

The driver of the car, Vincent C. Brill, 47, of Oxford Township, told officers he was passing another car when he suddenly saw the two girls in front of him.

He said he braked his car, but was unable to stop.

Mrs. Princess Conn, 40, of 3200 Baldwin, Orion Township, the driver of the car being passed by Brill, told deputies the girls were in the northbound lane of Baldwin walking against traffic.

POINT OF IMPACT

The Lietke girl was killed yesterday morning shortly after 2 a.m. She was a passenger in a car driven by Joe O. White, 19, of 3212 Schoolhouse, Waterford Township.

Deputies said the White car failed to negotiate a curve on Baldwin south of Clarkston in Orion Township, skidded more than 250 feet and struck a tree and a pole.

White and a second passenger, Odell A. Peak, 19, of 704 Kenilworth, are both in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

Foreign Policy Is Boosted to Top of LBJ's Agenda

He also planned to get in more work on the federal budget and his State of the Union message.

Associates said Johnson intends to devote considerable time today and during the remainder of the week to reviewing U.S. relations with nations around the world, including policy on loans, aid and cultural exchanges.

A source close to Johnson said he is closing out the year with a rather optimistic view of most the world situation despite the problems in Viet Nam and Congo.

He is known, for example, to feel that relations with the Soviet Union are less antagonistic than they have been at times in the past and sees fewer crises than have plagued the world in recent years.

He feels relations with Eastern Europe have improved and that the North Atlantic alliance is in better shape than it has ever been.

★ ★ ★

Johnson is known to be pleased about what he regards as improved relations with nations of the Western Hemisphere, including Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship in Cuba, the major fly in the ointment.

STATE VISITS

As part of his efforts to bolster relations with various nations, the President is working on dates for visits from a large number of chiefs of state during the coming months. These visits are expected to average about two a month during the next year.

In addition, Johnson is known to be considering the appointment of a large number of new ambassadors.

It was indicated as many as 15 or 20 posts might be involved.

★ ★ ★

The State of the Union message, the first of the "big three" messages going to Congress in January, is "pretty well bracketed out," a qualified source said, and the actual writing has been started.

WELL ALONG

Work also is well along on the budget, but some major decisions remain to be made by Johnson.

These include the amount of money to be asked for what the President calls his "antipoverty program," whether to propose a pay increase for government civilian workers and the amount of an education package.

In a letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara released for publication yesterday, Johnson said he wanted the last vestige of racial discrimination ended in the armed forces.

He told McNamara the De-

Orion Doctor Free on Bond in Tax Case

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. John J. Marra, 51, of Orion Township, was free on $1,000 bond today pending sentencing in U.S. District Court on a charge of income tax evasion.

★ ★ ★

William H. Merrill, assistant U.S. Attorney, said Dr. Marra pleaded guilty Nov. 19, to one of three counts in an indictment charging Dr. Marra with evading income taxes over the three year period 1959-61.

★ ★ ★

Judge Wade McCree set no definite date for sentencing, pending a probation report.

★ ★ ★

Merrill said Dr. Marra paid an income tax of $19,413 on reported earnings of $48,534 in 1961. Merrill said the government claimed Dr. Marra's tax for the year should have been $26,142.

Dr. Marra is currently director of laboratories at Pontiac General Hospital.

In North California

Snow Blocks Flood Relief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A thick snowfall blocked flood relief flights in northern California today and prolonged the isolation ordeal of stranded refugees into an eighth day.

The colder weather did put a brake on rivers that had rampaged from the mountains into the Pacific Ocean and in the hardest hit area — Oregon and northern California.

A force of 25 helicopters ordered to Yreka, relief operations center for Klamath and Salmon River refugees, could not take off from Stead Air Force Base in Nevada because of the storm.

The turn to cold dropped the snow level to 1,000 feet elevation.

The flood threat appeared over in Idaho but the little town of St. Joe, population 75, in the Panhandle, still was without electricity.

In Nevada the Truckee River withdrew its threat to Reno.

Warmer, Rain Is Prediction

The weatherman has offered a forecast for warmer temperatures, which means exchanging of outsize or unwanted Christmas gifts should be less arduous. However, if you received an umbrella, keep it handy tomorrow.

Increasing cloudiness with rain is likely by late afternoon or early evening. The high is expected to range from 28-35 with the low 25-32.

Wednesday will be cloudy with rain. Temperatures are expected to drop in the afternoon.

The lowest temperature in Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 22. At 2 p.m. the thermometer read 26.

In the town of Mo Cai, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, a Viet Cong grenade exploded in a cafe, wounded four Americans and 15 Vietnamese and killed a 12-year-old Vietnamese girl.

One of the Americans, Van Bucher, the son of Jules N. Bucher of the U.S. Aid mission in Saigon, was reported in critical condition. Bucher is in his early 20s.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander of the Vietnamese forces, issued a holiday message of thanks to U.S. forces in South Viet Nam. The message warmed a little the chilly relations between Khanh and U.S. authorities in Saigon.

CRITICIZED TAYLOR

Khanh last week criticized U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor for demanding that the Vietnamese generals restore full power to the civilian government.

"On behalf of all the members of the Republic of Viet Nam's armed forces," Khanh said in his message, "I bring to our American comrades in arms our warmest season's greetings and our grateful appreciation for what they have been, are and will be doing to assist us in our struggle for the defense of freedom."

He addressed the message to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam. However, Khanh and his military colleagues showed no sign of acceding to American demands that they reinstate the legislative High National Council and release political prisoners they arrested in the purge Dec. 20.

All but eight of the Americans wounded Thursday in the terrorist bombing of an American officers' hotel in Saigon have been released from the hospital. Those still in the hospital were reported in good condition and it was expected they would be released soon.

IN HOSPITAL

They are: Capt. Lino F. Demichieli of Indianapolis, Ind.; Capt. Richard A. L. Sturdevant of route 5, Puyallup, Wash.; Lt. Col. John H. Fulmer, Carlisle, Pa.; Maj. George M. Tarr, box 114, Cooks Town, N.J.

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, the military commander closed all shops and schools for at least one day after students distributed leaflets calling for a general strike against the government.

The city was quiet. The military commander's move appeared to have caught the agitators off guard.

Off-Base Bias Said Not as Acute Now

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army spokesman said today that a report to President Johnson describing an acute problem of racial discrimination near American bases in Germany is "not reflective of the current situation."

"We would certainly not regard this problem as acute at the present time," said the spokesman at the Army's European headquarters.

He said the report apparently was based on information collected on a tour of European bases two years ago.

In a final report, made known Sunday, the President's Commission on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces notified Johnson that racial discrimination in public accommodations and housing near bases was "particularly acute in Germany and certain areas of the Far East." It said vigorous action should be taken by base commanders to eliminate discrimination affecting soldiers off base.

TREMENDOUS STRIDES

But the headquarters spokesman pointed out, "The heat has been on this situation for 2½ years and we feel we've made tremendous strides."

* * *

The Army has set up committees of white and Negro soldiers and of Germans and Americans to tackle the problem.

"We've met with excellent cooperation in every quarter and have made very considerable progress," the officer said.

STILL EXISTS

"We do not deny that there are still places where discrimination exists, but they are very, very few."

As a specific example of progress the spokesman pointed to Bad Kreuznach, where the 8th Infantry Division is stationed.

* * *

"Two years ago there was open discrimination in at least three bars there, practiced by the bar owners. Now there is none. The signs restricting service have disappeared as a result of a local community relations effort between Germans and Americans."

fense Department has "done an excellent job in resolving many aspects of the general problem of discriminatory treatment of those in the armed forces," but added:

"I would hope that the momentum already achieved . . . would continue until every last vestige of the problem is eliminated."

FINAL REPORT

Johnson wrote McNamara in connection with the filing of a final report by the President's Commission on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces.

The six-member committee, headed by Gerhard A. Gesell, Washington attorney, dealt with discrimination in facilities near overseas bases and in the National Guard.

The committee said progress has been made in integration of National Guard units, but much remains to be done.

'Protect Public in Land Deals'

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney said today he was asking Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley and the State Highway Commission to make sure public and private interests are protected when land is acquired for highway purposes.

Romney made his statement at a news conference after State Sen. Charles Youngblood, D-Detroit, charged buildings have been thrown up in the path of I-696 by contractors who intend to make a profit later when the property must be condemned for right-of-way.

Romney said he was writing letters "about matters of concern" asking the attorney general and the Highway Commission to take a look at "this right-of-way problem as reported in connection with I-696."

The governor said he was seeking to determine if under current law there is anything more that could be done than is being done to avoid the high cost in securing new right-of-way."

When asked if he thought it was proper for contractors to acquire land intended for right-of-way and then to build in it, Romney said, "Any such practice ought to be carefully investigated to determine whether it involves leaks of information or an effort to profit at public expense."

11 Die on Mercy Flights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hundreds of flood-isolated residents have been evacuated and countless more are being dropped food, heating and medical supplies in a mercy airlift that has cost 11 lives in waterlogged Northern California.

Military authorities confirmed Sunday that four persons drowned when a Marine helicopter crashed into the Eel River 40 miles south of Eureka Saturday.

* * *

The only survivor of the Saturday crash was the pilot, Marine Capt. Richard Gleason, 33, of Tustin, Calif., who spent an hour and 10 minutes in the frosty Eel River as he was swept two miles downstream. A civilian helicopter pilot rescued him.

VICTIM LIST

The victims were Marine Lt. William L. Arbogast, 26, of El Toro Marine Base, Calif., copilot; Cpl. Joseph W. Binkley, 23, of Orange, Calif., crew chief; Alonzo A. Slaughter, 31, a Navy photographer from Long Beach, Calif., and civilian Ervin A. Hadley, 50, a prominent Eureka electrical contractor who headed the area's Civil Air Patrol office and was a former county supervisor.

Rear Adm. Robert McPherson, joint commander of military operations in the disaster area, said at a news conference in Eureka that Arbogast was at the helicopter's controls at the time of the crash and that Gleason was navigating.

* * *

Arbogast was the son of Edward F. Arbogast of Hampton, N.J., and Mary E. Reed, Dade City, Fla.

* * *

Binkley was the husband of Sandra Rae Binkley of Orange, Calif. Slaughter was the husband of Lucille Slaughter of Long Beach, Calif.

The military coordinating information office at San Francisco said that hundreds of missions had been flown by 40 military and civilian helicopters.

CARRIER BASE

Additionally, Air Force Flying Boxcars and giant cargo planes have airlifted everything from highway patrol vehicles to 20,000 pounds of mail.

Oregon reported 18 deaths from flood action.

The Red Cross listed 16,300 families as suffering major losses to homes, businesses or farms in Oregon, California, Idaho and Washington.

No official estimate of damage was available, but rough guesses by leaders of relief and rescue operations put it at close to $1 billion.

500 STRANDED

Five hundred persons — miners, loggers and their families — were marooned in several communities along the Klamath and Salmon rivers at the northern tip of California.

"They're beginning to run short of food," reported William Sowle, Civil Defense director at Yreka.

A storm that dropped two feet of snow on Yreka yesterday halted helicopter flights in the area. The prediction was for continued snow today.

"We'll have to airlift supplies or evacuate soon," Sowle said.

'HARDY LOT'

He called those isolated in the mountainous, heavily wooded country "a pretty hardy lot."

About 100 passengers on two Greyhound buses found themselves stranded by highway washouts last Monday after a lunch stop at the Terrace Gardens resort 10 miles south of Garberville on U.S.101 in California's Humboldt County and about half of them still were awaiting rescue today.

Some walked or were lifted by helicopters to Garberville and others were flown to Eureka farther north.

Slick Airways has flown 120.

Those who stayed spent Christmas crowded into the resort's motel quarters.

Food shortage was the problem throughout the northwestern corner of California.

Area Couple Hospitalized After Crash

Admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Diane Strine, 18, of 1065 Holbrook, and Ralph W. Groves, 21, 1020 Holbrook, also of Waterford Township. She is listed in satisfactory condition and Groves in fair.

Groves was driving one of the vehicles in a three-car crash at Telegraph and Hood shortly after 11 p. m.

His car hit the rear of one driven by William R. Chissus, 20, of 1798 Warwick, Sylvan Lake. The two in turn were hit by a third northbound car driven by David W. Galligan, 22, of 6594 Cherrylawn, Independence Township.

York with 39, Michigan 35, Texas 34 and Pennsylvania 32.

SLACK OFF

Multiple deaths pushed the toll upward in several states.

In California, a three-car crash on rain-slicked U.S.101 near Oceanside took five lives.

Three persons lost their lives in a collision in Wisconsin Rapids and three others were killed in a smash-up in northern Illinois.

NEW RECORD

The three Wisconsin deaths plus five other fatalities there in separate accidents, helped set a new 12-month record.

The toll in Wisconsin now stands at 1,048 for 1964, well past the previous high of 957 in 1962.

Four other states also have topped earlier year-long records: Oklahoma stands at 773, compared to 762 last year; Minnesota has reported 819 deaths so far this year, breaking the old mark of 801 set in 1963; Colorado fatalities now total 551, compared to a record 508 in 1963 and Tennessee reports 1,046 deaths so far this year compared to 941 last year.

Cut Your Own Taxes—1

New Law Brings Sweeping Changes and Assorted Benefits

(EDITOR'S NOTE — "Forget all you learned about income tax last year." With this statement, tax expert Ray De Crane begins "Cut Your Own Taxes." In the 14-chapter series, De Crane details the new tax rulings and how they affect an individual's return. The series will appear three times a week in The Pontiac Press.)

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Under no circumstances will you use last year's income tax return as a guide for this year.

These two sentences sum up the best advice that can be given as we all prepare to file our annual tax return by April 15, 1965.

The new tax act passed by Congress in 1964 includes sweeping changes and varied benefits so that the best thing to do is to start to learn all over again.

Rates have been reduced across the board for everyone. The tax rate in the lowest bracket has been reduced from 20 per cent to 16 per cent for 1964.

TOP RATE

The rate at the top has been trimmed from 91 per cent to 77 per cent. And in 1965 these rates will be further reduced to 14 per cent at the bottom and 70 per cent at the top.

A new minimum standard deduction has been introduced. This will be a break for large families with total incomes less than $10,000.

Formerly the taxpayer who didn't itemize his deductions could take a standard deduction of 10 per cent of his gross income.

* * *

The new minimum standard deduction gives him still another option. Instead of settling on 10 per cent for deductions he may deduct $200 plus an additional $100 fo reach exemption.

* * *

For example, the $7,000-a-year man with four dependent children will be able to deduct $800 on his joint return instead of the $700 allowed a year ago.

Other revisions in the law provide new rules for reporting the income on stock dividends.

For the family with modest stock holdings it probably will mean that all of its dividend income will be tax exempt. Those with substantial stock holdings and retired couples may find they will be paying a higher tax than formerly on dividends.

* * *

Golden agers were remembered in several instances by the tax law writers. They will find special provisions for them on liberalized retirement income credits, new rules for medical expenses and the once-in-a-lifetime special tax rules they may follow when they sell their personal residence at a substantial profit.

FIRST BENEFITS

Most of us felt the first benefits of the new tax reductions last March when a smaller bite was taken out of our pay checks for the withholding tax.

Many taxpayers will learn to their regret when they file their annual income tax return that the added take-home pay they started to receive last March was too generous.

Many will have to return a part of it now with payment of additional tax when they file their returns.

* * *

This situation results because the reduced withholding tax tables are attuned to the lower 1965 rates but were too generous for the 1964 tax rates.

ACCURACY

Never before has there been such a need for accuracy in the filing of returns.

With the requirement of suppling your social security number to banks where you have savings accounts, corporations from whom you receive dividends and all employers who pay you wages or salary the federal government has a near-perfect check on virtually all your income.

With its new electronic equipment Internal Revenue agents can feed into a computer all the cards bearing your social security number and determine in seconds if all these items of income are reported on your return.

* * *

This year a fresh start is necessary.

* * *

In these articles we will try to point out every possible deduction and taxsaving device for you. You will report everything which must be shown on your return but will take full advantage of every tax-saving opportunity.

Important Holiday 'Lull'

Busy Period for State Leaders

LANSING (AP) — State government winds up its 1964 year and ushers in 1965 this week with a fistful of activities uncharacteristic of the business world's Christmas-to-New Year's lull.

* * *

But the most significant could be Wednesday's meeting at which Republican Romney and Democratic party legislative leaders will discuss state programs for 1965.

Romney and the Democrats have already sat down once to talk budget. Both sides said they were optimistic that harmony could reign next year despite the Democrats' overwhelming control of the House and Senate.

DEMS HUDDLE

The Democratic leadership is scheduled to huddle Tuesday to plan its strategy for the Romney meeting and, in part, for the legislative session.

* * *

They'll work from a statement of program goals prepared by the party's State Central Committee. It's mainly a wrapup of the party's 1964 state platform. Priorities have yet to be determined.

* * *

Practically all observers expect the Democrats to put main emphasis on state aid to education, revision of workmen's compensation, mental health and property tax relief for the elderly.

Romney also is talking in these areas. Thus, his meeting with the Democrats could be harmonious, if, like the last, it doesn't delve too deeply into the program specifics on which disagreement is likely.

The governor will take his oath for a second two-year term from the steps of the State Capitol. The swearing-in of the new Board of Education and Court of Appeals, plus the usual presence of other statewide elected administrators, will make the inauguration the biggest in state history in terms of participants.

This week Romney will tell a legislative committee what he thinks about an executive residence for the governor. The constitution requires such a building but it isn't likely to be finished during Romney's present term in office.

Rep. David Upton is expected to report on his House Mental Health Committee's investigation of Ionia State Hospital. The Legislative Audit Committee will try again for a quorum to consider a resolution by Sen. Joseph Smeekens, R-Coldwater, that suspended National Guard officers Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald and Brig. Gen. Carson Neifert be reinstated.

Hundreds of Projects in the Mill

Shriver Sees Big Gains in Poverty War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The War on Poverty is now under way in earnest and "from here on out, we'll be moving ahead very rapidly," Sargent Shriver said today.

Shriver is director of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO), a new federal agency which Congress established to coordinate nine programs intended to alleviate basic causes of chronic poverty.

The OEO has $784 million to spend by next June 30. So far, Shriver has allocated $117 million of it to 212 different projects.

He said in an interview with UPI that hundreds of additional projects are already in the mill, and all of the money provided by Congress will be committed before the end of the fiscal year.

Q. Is there any truth to the published reports that President Johnson is dissatisfied with the pace of the antipoverty program, and has been prodding you to get a move on?

A. No, that is not true. The President told me personally that he is totally satisfied with the way the program has been managed, and he has never implied anything to the contrary.

Q. Do you feel the program has been slow getting under way?

A. On the contrary. I've been told that no major new federal program has ever been geared up in such a short time. You must remember that it has been only 11 weeks since Congress gave us our appropriation. It would have taken some doing just to put together a functioning agency in that period. But we've already got some projects under way, and will have dozens more going into action during the next few weeks.

JOB CORPS CENTERS

The projects already under way include setting up 62 Job Corps centers — three big ones near cities and 59 small ones in rural areas — at which unemployed youths will receive basic education and vocational training to prepare them for jobs.

Shriver said he hopes to have at least 150 of the centers in operation by next summer. They will be able to enroll about 40,000 young people during the first year, and up to 100,000 a year thereafter.

The rural centers are located in national parks and forests, and youths enrolled in them will work on conservation projects.

The urban centers are being established at former military bases and will concentrate on equipping youths with skills marketable in an industrial economy.

OFFICE WORK

For example, a center being opened at Camp Kilmer, N.J., will train 2,500 young men a year for office work, equipment maintenance, metal working, selling jobs, culinary occupations and health services. These fields were chosen because there are jobs available in them for young men with a modest amount of training.

Through the Labor Department, Shriver has also allocated funds for 31 neighborhood Youth Corps projects which will provide part-time jobs for some 23,000 young men and women who might otherwise drop out of school. By June, it is hoped that 150,000 youths will be gaining work experience in this fashion.

Sponsored by the public school system, it will offer part-time jobs (averaging 12 hours a week) to 5,000 boys and girls as custodial aides, garage helpers, teachers' aides, library assistants and clerical assistants.

THIRD FRONT

Shriver said 45 such programs have been approved to date and "hundreds of other applications are being processed."

Typical of the community action programs is an educational project in eastern Kentucky. About 1,200 college students will teach reading to deprived mountain children.

★ ★ ★

Many of the community action projects will be staffed in part with volunteers recruited by VISTA, a domestic version of the Peace Corps.

For example, 23 VISTA volunteers have already been assigned to migrant farm worker communities in California. They will give preschool English training to Spanish-speaking children, and stimulate self-help projects in migrant camps.

Shriver's office is authorized to recruit up to 5,000 VISTA volunteers by June 30. More than 4,000 applications have already been received — along with 3,000 requests for VISTA personnel.

It Seems to Me . . .

New York Studies New Tax Method to Pay Current Bills

New York city is sorely pressed for municipal income. And they need it in large gobs. Practically every hamlet in the Nation faces the same problem.

We do in Pontiac.

In New York a commission was named to study the situation and present recommendations and this group approached it from a variety of angles.

Certainly, the need exists.

★ ★ ★

Here are the suggested methods in Gotham:

Increase water and sewer charges "substantially."
Reimpose the city auto registration fee.
Remove beer from the food tax exemption.
Broaden the present 4% sales tax.
Increase the real estate tax.

★ ★ ★

The Commission concluded its report by saying it hadn't had sufficient time to study the merits of a city income tax. The proposals listed here are their specific suggestions to the city fathers and taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

Financial problems are a concomitant part of all civic existence today. Citizens are demanding more and more in the way of public service. Further, nationwide inflation and cost increases demand more current revenue. When a city is hamstrung like Pontiac with an outmoded mill limitation on the basis of property taxation, the problem is serious.

★ ★ ★

Hymnal Suicide . . .

What goes on!

The Church of England (Anglican there and Episcopal here) plans to toss certain time-honored hymns into the ash-can.

Here's the list:

"Nearer My God to Thee"
"Lead Kindly Light"
"From Greenland's Icy Mountains"
"I Want to be Like Jesus"

★ ★ ★

The new hymnal proposes to ditch these revered old tunes and the reasons sound as farcial as the movement in its entirety. For example, "Nearer My God to Thee" is adjudged "doctrinally vague."

Well, isn't that something!

(I think it's for the birds.)

★ ★ ★

The New York News calls it "hymnal suicide," and I suspect my Gotham brethren might be a wee mite guilty of understatement.

★ ★ ★

I applaud vigorously.

But in the meantime, my own church (the Episcopal) is planning these ecclesiastical eccentricities that astound and dismay the plodding hoi-polloi like me. "Lighten our darkness, we beseech thee, O Lord; and by thy great mercy defend us from the perils and dangers of this blight."

★ ★ ★

Acting Director . . .

Michigan's State Highway Commission, activated by our new constitution, has named HOWARD E. HILL as acting director.

★ ★ ★

According to information that filters through to the Pontiac area, Howard E. Hill is the top highway engineer in the country and worthy of the full title without equivocation or side-stepping. This position has been exceptionally capably filled in the immediate past by Commissioner John C. Mackie and it is important that someone conversant with his current plans and his procedures carry on.

★ ★ ★

As time passes this post becomes increasingly important. The work on great arterial thoroughways across the State and Nation is in its infancy. As an automotive community we have a big stake in this office and are anxious to see it filled with an especially capable executive officer.

★ ★ ★

We must build and build and build new highways until cars no longer block each other. We're entitled to sufficient room to move about in the great products which this community helps supply.

And in Conclusion . . .

One of the big laughs of the hunting season is the local nimrod who finally shot a rabbit in exasperation and draped it over the hood of his car like a deer. It produced continuous giggles until a game warden frowned, hailed the hapless hunter into court where he was fined for small game hunting without a license. . . . . Toy stores say this is the noisiest Christmas in history. More toys went "bang, bang" and "biff, boom, bah" than ever before. . . . . It was HORACE GREELY who said: "I didn't say all Democrats were saloon keepers. I said all saloon keepers were Democrats."

★ ★ ★

Scouts advise me Nancy Ward deserves mention as an attractive young lady in the area . . . . . New York theatrical circles are begrudgingly admitting the Fisher theater in Detroit is about 11 times as sumptuous as anything in Gotham and it's a favorite spot for tryouts. . . . . Newspaper pals tell me Jack Paar and NBC call it quits after this year . . . . . I'm told "by experts" that the new flicker "Kiss Me, Stupid," crashes perceptibly beyond the bonds of good taste.

Nancy

One of the ironies of 1964 was the buffet supper Mr. and Mrs. EDWIN ANDERSON scheduled weeks ahead and which took place the very day the Lions let our five coaches go. Host "ANDY" was very late because of a press conference and Prexy BILL FORD was the last arrival after his Grosse Pointe jaunt. And were they buried under an avalanche of queries. . . . . Overheard: "My son's at the awkward age—too old to be a dropout and too young to be a college rioter." . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—Santa Claus; the J's—No jeers, due to the happy holiday season.

David Lawrence Says:

VP Influence Will Be 'Liberal'

WASHINGTON — Sometimes it's an informative experience to disregard the method of historians who usually evaluate past occurrences from the standpoint of hindsight, and to try instead to gauge events on the basis of what was being said at the time they actually LAWRENCE were taking place.

This correspondent, in doing some research the other day, came across some dispatches he wrote prior to and during the Democratic National Convention in July 1960, and found in them some comments that seem pertinent today.

One of the most interesting excerpts of a prophetic nature was quoted in this correspondent's dispatch of July 20, 1960.

It reported that, when word was being passed around the convention hall that Lyndon Johnson had accepted Mr. Kennedy's offer of the vice-presidential nomination, a close adviser of the Texas senator approached this correspondent and said:

"I know you will be surprised about this, but last night several of us had a talk with Sen. Johnson and discussed very frankly what we were up against.

"Bear in mind that Jack Kennedy will make a campaign on virtually a socialistic platform. He may be less radical if elected, but he will be plenty radical in the campaign.

RESTRAINING INFLUENCE

"Well, many of us in the Johnson camp felt he just had to get in there and exercise a restraining influence. I tell you his influence will be exerted toward safe and sane policies, and he will be in there pitching.

"We told him he just had to accept the vice-presidential nomination if offered to him. He had nothing to lose if defeated, because he would remain as majority leader."

The situation is somewhat reversed today in the case of vice President-elect Hubert Humphrey. He is given enthusiastic support by the liberal elements in the Democratic party, while many independent voters feel that at heart Lyndon Johnson is a conservative.

★ ★ ★

Now Mr. Johnson, as the elected president for a four-year term, has announced that he will delegate to Humphrey certain responsibilities for coordinating various governmental activities in connection with the new civil rights law.

ONE WAY

This is one way to satisfy the civil rights groups pressing for action and to remove any suspicions that the President might slow down their projects for equal employment or intensive integration in the schools or equal treatment in hotels, restaurants, theaters, and other public accommodations.

It is interesting to note that the liberals expect Vice President-elect Humphrey to exercise considerable influence with President Johnson, just as the latter was supposed to do with President Kennedy.

The role of Humphrey, of course, will be to try to improve the liberal position, whereas Mr. Johnson in 1960 was presented as sympathetic to "conservative" principles in the hope of holding the South.

Now that five states in the South have gone Republican and there is a rift inside the Democratic party it is an open question how far President Johnson is willing to let Sen. Humphrey go in achieving some of the liberal goals of the Democratic party.

Erhard Could Be Hurt by 'Rubber Lion' Label

By JOHN WEYLAND

BONN, Germany (AP) — Some of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's actions have provoked an old taunt that he's a rubber lion, and that may be hurting his chances for reelection next fall.

★ ★ ★

Germans use the term rubber lion to mean a man who talks tough but backs down rather than fight. It was often used against Erhard during his years as economics minister.

Erhard's friends argued that he simply acted like other politicians, altering a decision if it turned out to be unwise.

★ ★ ★

But for much of the public he got stuck with the rubber-lion image. Doubts existed that he would show the required firmness if he became chancellor.

★ ★ ★

TOO MUCH STRAIN

He said the budget could not stand the strain and the nation's economic stability had to come first.

Then the veterans staged a mass march on the capital.

★ ★ ★

HEAVY CRITICISM

It was heavily criticized within the country on the ground that Communist East Germany had been allowed to gain prestige.

The chancellor then rejected a similar agreement for Easter.

Public opinion started running the other way, because of sympathy over the continued separation of Berlin families.

NEW PASS

Erhard then entered into a new wall pass agreement a bit different from the first.

DE GAULLE THREAT

Then French President Charles de Gaulle threatened: lacking a reduction, France would pull out of the Common Market.

The chancellor agreed to accept lower prices.

Erhard and the Cabinet decided that the statute of limitations on Nazi war crimes could not be extended beyond mid-1965. An extension was described as contitutionally impossible.

There was hostile world reaction. Erhard then said it is a problem for Parliament to decide.

The chancellor's record also shows examples of steadfastness.

★ ★ ★

'Deprived Children Need To Be Taught'

In answer to "Disgusted:" How does she know a white child would not have stolen from her car? Why did the grandmother dare to leave a five-year-old child alone with her purse? That is tempting fate in itself.

★ ★ ★

I teach 24 Negro children (at my own request) and find that we must help them build a good image for themselves. One way we can help is to educate. No child steals from me. If I know a child really needs something, he gets it. Deprived children of any race have to be taught. These children benefit from our contributions. Are you going to discontinue contributing to all funds that help our children?

I am not ashamed to sign my name, as I am only disgusted with "Disgusted."

Disagrees With Commissioner on Buses

City Commissioner Hudson says he doesn't think there is a demand for bus transportation in Pontiac. How does he think people like myself who live on Social Security, plus a small pension, and don't drive a car, could get any place?

I used to enjoy walking downtown, but that is almost impossible now. Since they have torn out the sidewalks, putting that Wide Track Drive in, there is no place to walk safely. The cab fare to my home costs more than it used to because the cab must drive farther.

We need bus service in Pontiac.

'Voice of People Must Be Voice of God'

"Wondering" asks whether a person has a legal right to protect himself, those he loves and his possessions. Mr. Goldwater touched on this serious matter during his campaign when he charged the present administration and United States Supreme Court with failing to stop or reverse the trend toward a Godless nation. Being familiar with religion and such authors as John Locke and Thomas Jefferson, Goldwater recognized that a collision was taking place between the laws of nature and liberal executive and judicial decisions.

As long as the present administration and United States Supreme Court continue to deny the law of nature and nature's God by placing a liberal interpretation on the United States Constitution and restricting freedom of the individual to protect himself against wrong-doers, the protection of oneself in home and possessions will continue to be difficult until such time as the voice of the people and their representatives and judiciary become the voice of God.

What ever happened to that wonderful type of woman who couldn't stand a man underfoot when she was doing housework?

Sounds Fantastic

The Flint Journal

The latest income tax idea that reportedly is being weighed in Washington is that people be paid not to pay income taxes.

That's right. Paid for not paying taxes.

Don't laugh. It may come to pass.

Mr. X makes $2,500 a year. He has a wife and four children.

He can, under the new proposal, forget about paying an income tax, since the plan sets up an automatic $3,000 tax exemption.

Mr. X can do more than forget about paying an income tax. He can claim exemption of $600 for each member of his family from the tax he's not paying.

Six times $600 equals $3,600.

On top of this, he also can claim a minimum standard deduction of $800.

But remember — if you're still with us — that Mr. X has earned only $2,500 during the year. Well, under the proposed plan the government would pay him for not having earned as much income as the total of the exemptions he could have claimed had he earned enough to pay an income tax, which he hadn't.

It would pay him 15 per cent — the 1965 rate for an equivalent amount of taxable income — of the $1,900 difference between actual income and total exemption.

This would come to $285.

So Mr. X would be handed a government check for $285 for not having had to pay any income tax.

★ ★ ★

You say such a proposal is fantastic? That it could never happen?

The mayor met the principal of the toughest school in town. The principal was downcast, the mayor asked him why. "School's been open only a short time," the educator explained, "and already we've had 39 dropouts."

"It's that bad?" the mayor said. "You're in the roughest section of town."

"That's the trouble," replied the principal, "thirty-eight of the 39 dropouts were teachers."

Just Walking Along . . .

The Louisville Courier-Journal Magazine

Walking along a dimly lighted street, a man was surprised by a stranger who slipped out of the shadows and stopped him.

"What do you want?" asked the passerby.

"Would you be so kind," was the reply, "as to help a poor, unfortunate fellow who is out of work and very hungry? All I have in the world is this gun!"

These Stories Didn't Have It in '64

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — During the week between Christmas and New Year's Day, it is customary to review the highlights of the past year and otherwise engage in reflection activities.

WEST

United Press International has already presented its list of the biggest news stories of 1964. I would now like to follow up on that by presenting several stories that didn't get into the papers at all:

★ ★ ★

CLODS, Vt. — Mrs. Rhode Flingdinger recently dropped two envelopes into a downtown mailbox. One was addressed to her sister in California.

The other was addressed to a department store located just a few blocks away.

Mrs. Flingdinger subsequently learned that the letter sent across the continent was delivered the next day. But the envelope sent across town was delivered the same day she mailed it.

BUTTERMILK SPRINGS, Ga. —Mrs. Mossy Belle Youall, who was about to have a baby and whose husband was out of town, telephoned at midnight for a taxicab to take her to the hospital.

★ ★ ★

The cab driver, a bachelor, knew nothing at all about delivering babies. Nevertheless, he drove Mrs. Youall to the hospital in plenty of time for her obstetrician to deliver it.

BUTTERMILK FALLS, Wis.— Two years ago, Harvey Lungbuster, who says he knows nothing about art, bought an old painting in a second hand store for $10.

Recently, a friend saw the canvas and advised Lungbuster to take it to an art dealer for appraisal. He did so, and was startled to learn that the painting actually was worth $2.50.

LAKE TUBBY, Ore. — Four years ago, while fishing in Lake Tubby, Rancid McGrease dropped his watch, a valuable heirloom, into the water and was never able to recover it.

★ ★ ★

Last week, McGrease returned to the lake on another fishing trip and caught a 20-pound trout. He cut open the fish and, much to his surprise, did not find the watch in the fish's stomach.

★ ★ ★

SINKING HILLS, Mont. — Owly Sue Cranny, a wealthy spinster who lived alone with 17 cats, died last week.

When her will was probated yesterday, it was learned that she had left her entire $670,000 estate to an orphanage. The cats get nothing.

GRITS, S. C.—For more than 54 years, Perline (Pomegranate Perly) Pemmican sold pomegranates on the streets of Grits. She died yesterday, ostensibly penniless.

★ ★ ★

But when police broke into the hovel she occupied on the edge of the city dump, they found a small safe carefully hidden behind an old trunk. It was empty.

New VA Chief 'Knows Ropes'

Served in Two Wars; Had GI Bill Schooling

WASHINGTON (AP) — William J. Driver, who will guide the far-flung affairs of America's veterans, is a veteran. He is married to a veteran. He is a grateful beneficiary of the GI Bill.

★ ★ ★

Driver, 46, named by President Johnson to become the first career man to head the Veterans Administration, expressed himself today as "delighted that you can make it all the way."

★ ★ ★

"I wouldn't have made it through law school without the GI Bill," Driver said in an interview. "So you might say I wouldn't be here today without it."

Driver will succeed Administrator John S. Gleason Jr. Jan. 1, when Gleason returns to the First National Bank of Chicago.

2-WAR VIET

A rangy 6-foot-3, 190-pound veteran of World War II and Korea, Driver looks on his new mission as more administration than innovation.

★ ★ ★

"There won't be many changes," he said. "Coming up through the echelons I've had a large share in what's happened so far. The laws and the benefit areas are up to date."

★ ★ ★

"We've a lot of old hospitals that ought to be closed," he said. "The veteran population — especially the older fellows — is shifting south into the warmer climate. So we ought to close down some of the older places up north and rebuild where the veterans are going."

HIGH PRIORITY

Driver gives this task high priority because "these hospitals make a major contribution to society, medically and otherwise. And so I think this can be a large part of the Great Society the President is talking about."

Driver was born May 9, 1918, in Rochester, N.Y., the son of a Baltimore & Ohio Railroad engineer. He worked his way through Niagara University, attending night classes as he was later to do at George Washington University in earning his law degree.

★ ★ ★

Summoned to duty in World War II, Driver served in Europe and was decorated by the governments of France, Great Britain and the United States. He met his future wife, a WAC captain, in London in 1943.

★ ★ ★

Driver joined the VA in 1946 as a management analyst. His career was interrupted by two years of service during the Korean war, from which he emerged as an Army lieutenant colonel.

U. S. Skyraiders Blast Cong

Prop-Driven Planes Get Share of Glory Over Viet

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Helicopters have been used so freely in Viet Nam that it is sometimes called a helicopter war. But air strikes by conventional aircraft play a big part in operations, as this story of a typical strike discloses.)

By PETER ARNETT

BIEN HOA, South Viet Nam (AP) — The quartet of Skyraider fighter bombers cruised the leaden Mekong River delta skies like seagulls.

Suddenly they became hawks. One of the chunky, gray planes peeled off from the formation and dived abruptly at a tangle of trees and huts at a canal intersection in the paddyfields 5,000 feet below.

* * *

The young Vietnamese pilot smiled grimly as he rammed the stick forward in the screeching power dive. U.S. Air Force adviser Capt. James T. Harwood of Jonesboro, Ark., already had selected the armament.

NAPALM BOMB

It was the fiery death, napalm.

Diving In For The Kill

"Keep your eye on the far treeline," Harwood told the pilot over the intercom as he watched the altimeter. As the ground rushed up at them there was the familiar crackle of Viet Cong groundfire.

* * *

At 100 feet, the pilot jerked back on the stick, his face contorted with the G-forced dragging at him.

A split second later, at 300 knots, they were over a cluster of huts. Two cylinders dropped from the Skyraider's wings.

BALL OF FIRE

For 20 seconds a ball of fire raced among the huts as the jellied petroleum sought out holes and crevices where the Viet Cong were hiding.

* * *

"You rolled that stuff among them pretty well," Harwood told the pilot.

The second of the death-dealing quartet already was on its way down.

DAISY CUTTER

It was loaded with 500-pound bombs known as "daisy cutters" because of the steel probe welded onto their noses. They detonate before they penetrate the ground.

The Vietnamese pilot was cautious. He released a bomb at 2,500 feet and then pulled out of the dive. Five seconds later the plane trembled as the bomb exploded, leaving a huge crater where a hut once stood.

* * *

Three passes later the quartet left the shambles and flew back to Bien Hoa base.

THE RESULTS

This mission was over. The results?

The forward air controller, who had pinpointed the target with smoke rockets thrown from a tiny spotter plane, reported 10 structures destroyed and seven bodies sprawled in the wreckage.

* * *

"Better than fair," Harwood commented when he heard the report.

This mission was one of 14,343 sorties flown by the Vietnamese Air Force against the Viet Cong in four months. Four squadrons — each with 25 planes and based at Bien Hoa, Saigon, Pleiku and Da Nang — flew the missions.

ALL SKYRAIDERS

The Skyraider is a much more dangerous weapon. Each plane can carry 7,500 pounds of explosives. The armament includes high explosives, fragmentation bombs, napalm, white phosphorous, and cannon. The napalm cylinders contain seven to eight gallons of jellied gasoline, much of it produced from waste petroleum at Bien Hoa base.

* * *

About 6,000 U.S. Air Force men help the Vietnamese fly their combat missions. American ground crews take care of the Skyraiders, which have two seats — one for the Vietnamese pilot and another for the American adviser. Single-seat Skyraiders flown exclusively by the Vietnamese are serviced by Vietnamese.

The only Americans who officially fly combat missions with the Vietnamese are the colorful Air Commandos, a group of about 30 pilots who have spent a year at Bien Hoa. Several Air Commandos have been killed this year in the 16 Skyraiders downed by Viet Cong groundfire. Altogether this year the Vietnamese Air Force has lost 70 aircraft, some due to groundfire and others to accidents. Viet Cong 50-caliber machine guns scattered all over the country have done the most damage.

RELIABLE PLANE

American Air Force men say that next to jets, the Skyraider is the best plane for South Viet Nam. It is simple to handle, and pilots can be trained quickly. It can use short landing strips and take a lot of hits. It also is a steady platform for its four guns and rocket pods.

* * *

Each month the Skyraiders drop 6,500 tons of explosives on Viet Cong positions.

They also could easily bomb targets in Laos if the decision is made to hit Communist guerrilla supply lines.

2 Viet Leaders Seek Solution

TOKYO (AP) — South Viet Nam's two top civilian officials announced today they hope to "find a fitting solution to escape from the present crisis" resulting from the partial coup by younger leaders of the armed forces.

* * *

A joint communique issued by Chief of State Phan Khac Suu and Premier Tran Van Huong did not repudiate the action of the young generals. But it said the two officials are "awaiting full civilian government to avoid disappointing the people's expectations."

The communique was published by Viet Nam Presse, the official Saigon news agency.

* * *

The communique said that when Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh turned over full power on Oct. 27 to a civilian administration, "the nation had many hopeful prospects to escape from chaos, and progress towards genuine democracy."

DEC. 20 PURGE

Heiress' Kin Weds Again

CALVERTON, N.Y. (AP) — Woolworth Donahue, 51, married wife No. 3, actress Mary Hartline Carlson, 36, in a private ceremony at his Long Island estate Saturday, the Daily News said today.

* * *

Donahue, a cousin of Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton, was last wed to Judith (Baby Doll) Church, a cocktail waitress whom he met in a Palm Beach, Fla., nightspot. They were married in 1960 and divorced last year.

It was the third marriage for Miss Hartline.

A filing clerk's desk, driven by an electric motor, moves vertically or laterally enabling the clerk to work at any file without leaving her seat.

Dickens Will Marry

LONDON (AP) — Charles Dickens, great-great-grandson of the author, has announced that he will marry Hungarian-born countess Jeanne Wenckheim in February. Dickens, 27, is an employe of the foreign office.

Report Atmospheric Tides May Be Affecting World's Weather

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

MONTREAL, Quebec — New evidence was reported today that capricious tides in the atmosphere — caused by the same moon and sun which produce oceanic tides — may affect the world's weather.

* * *

A U.S. Weather Bureau scientist who reported this indicated that whereas high tide at the beach is the best time for seaside fun, high tide in the wide blue yonder may be a good time to get out your umbrella.

* * *

Meteorologist Glenn W. Brier told about it in a report to the 131st meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He amplified his report at a news conference and said an examination of U.S. weather records for more than 60 years was involved.

He and meteorologist Max A. Woodbury of New York University, who collaborated on some of the research, stressed that their concept — even if proved — could not reliably forecast day-to-day rainfall.

They voiced confidence, however, that their reasoning is sound and said the theory could offer a means of forecasting periods of exceptionally heavy rainfall, at least in the United States.

* * *

Brier indicated that all the evidence suggests that there are tides-within-tides in the atmosphere. Each of three listed by him depends upon the relative positions of the sun, moon and earth in a given lunar month of slightly more than 29 days.

* * *

1. A main one that apparently peaks near the middle of the first and third weeks of the lunar month — especially on the third to fifth days after both the new and full moons, when the sun, moon and earth are lined up on a straight line.

The studies showed there is a marked tendency for extreme precipitation to occur in North America at those times. The effect is heightened when the moon, in its orbit around the earth, is at perigee — that is, closest to the earth.

2. A lesser force that apparently acts when the moon's individual tidal forces are at a maximum at the particular time in a solar day most favorable for precipitation on earth.

The most favorable time for rainfall for the United States as a whole is about 3 a.m. solar time, with 5 p.m. as runner-up. So, if the moon is in the right position, rain would be even more likely.

* * *

3. Still another lunar-solar tidal relationship that appears to be associated especially with relatively rare, exceptionally heavy rainfall.

Brier stressed that he and his associates have no beliefs that the atmospheric tides actually cause rainfall.

* * *

He said the theory is that the tidal forces, when at their strongest, act as a triggering, "last straw" mechanism to make a naturally developing weather occurrence take place sooner — or perhaps later in some cases.

Claims Cabinet Satisfies LBJ

But He Seeks Talent for Lower Positions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is reported satisfied with his Cabinet for now but is looking for some new faces for sub-Cabinet ranks.

That was the word Sunday from a source close to the President, as Johnson instructed his talent scouts to look both within and outside the government for men and women qualified for high-level jobs.

* * *

Although "there will be plenty of exceptions," the source said, "a good number" of the resignations formally submitted by undersecretaries and assistant secretaries at the beginning of a new administration will be accepted by the President.

* * *

Among the exceptions are two men Johnson is known to think well of — Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

DRIVER PROMOTED

The President hopes to promote men from within government service — as he did Saturday by promoting William J. Driver from deputy administrator to veterans administrator.

Johnson plans to announce soon his choice for deputy attorney general — a job that has been vacant since Nicholas Katzenbach became acting attorney general Sept. 3. Still unanswered is whether Katzenbach will become permanent attorney general.

* * *

Johnson already has decided on how to fill at least one of two vacant undersecretaryships in the Treasury. He is withholding the announcement until a routine security check is completed.

The source said reports that former Deputy Secretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric will replace John A. McCone as director of the Central Intelligence Agency are wrong. The source said Johnson has never had any indication that McCone may be leaving the job.

A Junior Editors Quiz About Science

QUESTION: Do heavy objects fall faster than light objects?

ANSWER: One might think they did, for we know the force of gravity makes objects fall toward the center of the earth, and we might think more gravity was pulling on a heavy object than a light one.

In (1) John has released a quarter and a bit of very light tissue paper at the same time. The heavier coin is falling much faster. Prove this by repeating John's experiment.

The Greek philosopher Aristotle reasoned from such experiments that the speed of a body's fall was in proportion to its weight and this view was held for 2,000 years until disproved by the Italian astronomer Galileo.

There is a legend that Galileo dropped two iron balls, one larger and heavier, from the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and they reached the ground at nearly the same time.

He then realized that the resistance of the air is what makes different objects fall at different speeds. Further proof came in 1650 when a pump was invented to take air out of a tube.

Without air, it was found that objects of different weights fall at exactly the same speed (upper right). Now try John's second exepriment; wad the bit of tissue into a tight ball; it will fall almost as fast as the coin. With less size, there is less air resistance to slow it up.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try still another experiment: find a bit of flat metal and cut a piece of cardboard the same size; drop them together. The metal falls faster — because air resistance works the most on objects light in proportion to their size.

Destructive fires took a total of 11,800 lives and close to $1.8 billion in property last year in this country.

Structural shapes, such as beams, usually made of steel, are being made of glass-reinforced plastic.

35 State Holiday Road Deaths

By The Associated Press

Two Lake Orion girls were struck and killed by a car as they walked along a street near their homes Sunday night, boosting Michigan's Christmas holiday traffic toll to 35, the third highest in the nation.

A Flint mother, her three young sons and a youth all died in a one-car accident Saturday.

California led the nation with 59 traffic deaths during the period, followed by New York with 36 and Michigan with 35.

The Associated Press tabulation of fatalities began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ended at midnight Sunday.

FIGURES COMPARED

The 1964 Michigan toll compares with 32 fatalities each in 1960 and 1961, the most recent comparable 78-hour Christmas weekends. Last year 17 persons died in a 30-hour holiday period.

The victims include:

Kathern Spezia, 14, and Barbara Bailey, 12, were killed when struck by a car on Baldwin Avenue in Orion Township.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Office said the girls were walking almost in the middle of the two-lane street when they were struck by a car driven by Vincent Brill, 47, of Oxford.

DARK CLOTHING

Brill told authorities he did not see the girls, who were wearing dark clothing. He was not held.

Mrs. Gloria Miller, 27; her three sons, Deland, 8, Glenn Jr., 6, and John, 4, and Michael Carter, 20, all of Flint, died Saturday when the car in which they were riding struck a bridge support a mile north of Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

Kendall Brooks, 88, of Mount Pleasant died in a city hospital Sunday of injuries suffered Christmas Day when his car ran off M20 and struck a utility pole.

Lorri Ann Wissmueller, 7, of Jackson was killed Saturday in a two-car collision on Spring Arbor Road west of Jackson.

DETROIT DEATH

Edward Jackson, 43, of Chicago was killed Saturday in Detroit when struck by a car as he stepped out of his own car.

James Walker, 58, of Detroit was killed Saturday when he was struck by a car in Detroit.

Julie Ann Lietke, 17, of Lake Orion was killed Sunday when a car in which she was riding left a road seven miles north of Pontiac and struck a tree.

Mrs. Doris Mae Althoff, 37, of rural Dundee was killed Sunday in a two-car crash on a rural Monroe County road one mile north of Ida.

PEDESTRIAN HIT

Fred Yager, 81, of Cadillac walked into the path of a car along US131 north of Cadillac and was killed Sunday.

Detroiter Held in Fatal Knifing

Admits Fight With Warren Companion

WARREN (AP) — Douglas Elliott, 22, of Detroit, whose brutality charges against Warren police earlier this year were rejected after an investigation, was held on a second-degree murder charge today in a companion's fatal stabbing.

Elliott and Barc were principals in a fracas with police at a drive-in restaurant last July 19 during which Elliott allegedly disarmed an officer.

Elliott charged that police manhandled him when he was arrested the next day.

★ ★ ★

IN RUCKUS

Police said Elliott and Barc fought yesterday in a quarrel over the July 19 incident. Barc died of a chest wound.

Elliott admitted fighting with Barc but denied stabbing him, police said.

Elliott stood mute in Justice Court and was held without bond for examination Jan. 13.

Man Injured in Area Crash

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A Muskegon man is hospitalized today with injuries suffered in an accident which began in Shelby Township and ended in Avon Township early yesterday morning.

Shelby Township police said that George T. Robinson, 38, apparently lost control of his car while driving west on 24 Mile Road at about 2:15 a.m.

That road ends at Dequindre, the dividing line between the two townships, and is marked with a stop sign.

Robinson went through the stop sign and into the ditch when the road disappeared.

DISPEL SMOKE — After bringing an early morning fire under control yesterday at 401 Shady Oaks, Orion Township, firemen from the Orion and Oxford departments concentrated on emptying the home of billowing smoke. The home belonged to Mrs. Harry Ahlborn, a widow, who escaped injury from the fire which completely gutted the structure.

To Hear 2 Requests From Board in Troy

TROY—The City Commission tonight will consider two possible actions which, if taken, could benefit users of the Troy Public Library.

The library board has requested that the commission allow it to overspend its 1964-65 budget in view of the receipt by Troy of additional income from the state in the amount of $3,430.

The board has also asked the commission to consider its request for putting a 1-mill tax proposal on the spring general election ballot.

The tax would be for library use, covering both new facilities and operating expenses.

AGENDA ITEMS

Also on an agenda crammed with important matters are the appointment and reappointment of a number of committee and board members.

Members whose terms expire in January and for whom such action may be taken are as follows:

● Election committee — William Jenkins (D) and Warren H. Smith (R).

● Traffic and safety committee—Edward Romanowski, Douglas P. Ferguson and Kenneth Henning. Henning has resigned his post in order to take his place on the City commission.

● Board of review—Maurice Haven.

● Liquor committee—George H. Thompson and Hazen Stephens.

● Building authority—Welling Akin and Ernest W. Gray.

Animals to Dispense Own Feed and Water

Improved mechanization will allow farm animals to activate devices for dispensing their own feed and water, according to Carl W. Hall, Michigan State University agricultural scientist.

Hens, he says, take only one-twentieth of the time required for conventional feeding method when the system is properly mechanized.

Widow Flees Home Blaze

Morning Fire Strikes Orion Twp. House

ORION TOWNSHIP — A 65-year-old widow has reason to be thankful she is not a heavier sleeper.

A fire completely gutted the home of Mrs. Harry Ahlborn of 401 Shady Oaks at 2 a.m. yesterday, but she was already safely outside when a passing motorist noticed the blaze.

Orion Township and Oxford fire departments responded to the alarm turned in by a neighbor, and brought the fire under control in about 30 minutes.

Low temperatures created slippery working conditions for the firemen, who were at the scene for about three hours.

★ ★ ★

Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor said the cause of the fire "could have been wiring. . .it started in a corner of the kitchen."

The 1½-story frame home was insured against fire damage, which was estimated by Caylor at between $6,000 and $8,000.

To Maintain Participators' Incomes

Grain Program to Keep '64 Support Levels

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has announced the major provisions of the voluntary 1965 Feed Grain Program, including the decision to keep total price - support levels for cooperators the same as for 1964.

Within total price - support rates, loan levels were decreased with corresponding increases in payment rates. The diversion payment rate will be the same as for 1964.

Department officials said the 1965 program is designed to maintain participators' incomes at least as high as current levels.

They also stressed that the program will help maintain overall feed grain income for producers at near current levels, or about a billion dollars a year higher than with previous feed grain programs.

★ ★ ★

Changes within the total price support rate were made to encourage greater participation in the program by farmers.

PARTICIPATION

Department officials noted the success of the program depends on the level of participation being sufficiently high to offset program costs by reduction in public investment in government feed grain inventories.

For the 1965 program, a larger proportion of price support will be in payment form with some reduction in the average loan rate for all three feed grains.

The acreage substitution feature for wheat and feed grain acreage, which is new to the program for 1965, gives producers a more flexible range of cropping opportunities and income possibilities.

Participation in both the Wheat and Feed Grain Programs will bring more returns than nonparticipation, USDA officials said.

The total national average price support for cooperators for 1965 — crop corn will be $1.25 per bushel — composed of loan and purchase value of $1.05 per bushel and $.20 per bushel support payment based on normal (1959-63) production of acreage planted for harvest. Other feed grain price supports are adjusted according to their relationship to corn.

The following 1965 loan and price support payments (national averages) were announced for the 1965 Feed Grain Program. For comparison purposes the 1964 rates are also indicated:

	Loan Rate		Support Payment		Total Support
	1965	1964	1965	1964	1965	1964
Barley (per bu.)	0.80	0.84	0.16	0.12	0.96	0.96
Sorghum (per cwt.)	1.65	1.77	0.35	0.23	2.00	2.00

★ ★ ★

Program participants, since they cut government costs by diverting acreage to conserving use and thus reducing production, not only can get price support loan and purchases, but also price support payments and acreage diversion payments.

REDUCE TOTAL ACREAGE

To participate in the program producers need to reduce their total acreage of corn, sorghum and barley in 1965 by at least 20 per cent.

Diversion payments, if less than 40 per cent of the base is diverted, will be the county support rate on one-fifth of the normal production for the first 20 per cent diversion, and on one-half of the normal for the remaining percentage.

Sign-up for feed grains and for spring wheat will be from Feb. 8 through March 26, at the Oakland ASC County Office, 63 Oakland, Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

During the sign-up period winter wheat producers who signed up in the Wheat Program last fall may change their intentions.

Filing Deadline for 4 Villages

Candidates for office in four area villages were to file nominating petitions today before the 4 p.m. deadline set by village charters.

Incumbents and other office-seekers in Romeo, Holly, Lake Orion and Oxford had to meet the deadline for their names to appear on the ballot for the March 8 general election.

Where the number of candidates requires a primary to determine partisan or nonpartisan candidacy for each open position, they will be held on Feb. 15.

In home rule villages such as Rochester and Milford, candidates have several more weeks before their petition filing deadline arrives.

★ ★ ★

Rochester and Milford hopefuls have until Jan. 23 at noon to submit petitions to the village clerks.

In Clarkston, Leonard, Ortonville, Metamora and Dryden, caucuses will be held, mostly in early February, to nominate candidates.

Police Hunt 2 Robbers of Flint-Area Station

FLINT (UPI) — Police searched today for two men who beat and robbed a Flint-area filling station attendant early Sunday and escaped with about $230.

Dallas D. Thorn, 24, was treated in McLaren General Hospital for head and rib injuries. He told police that the two men, one armed, beat him and fled with the cash.

Stroke Takes Historian

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Harry J. Carman, 80, a historian and dean emeritus of Columbia College, died of a stroke Saturday. He was the author of the two-volume work, "History of the American People," published in 1950 in collaboration with Harold C. Syret.

Teen Killed in Wreck

WHEELER (AP)—Wayne Allore, 18, of Alma was killed today when his car ran off North Wheeler Road and struck a railroad signal in this Gratiot County community.

The working life span of men increased by about 10 years since 1900.

Last Escapee Still at Large Said Not Breakout Type

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — The one man remaining at large of seven who tunneled to freedom from the Washington State Penitentiary Nov. 22 is a young killer described by Warden Bob Rhay as "the last man in the world you would take along on a prison break."

★ ★ ★

"He didn't know the underworld," Rhay said over the weekend regarding Donald Mesaros, 24. "The only reason the others took him along is that he was in the same cell with three of them."

★ ★ ★

Mesaros was last seen in Portland, Ore., Nov. 27 when police captured Neil Wallen, a Spokane killer. Mesaros, holed up at a cheap hotel with Wallen, broke away and disappeared.

Two escapees, Harold Thomas, 38, serving life for murder, and Richard Loux, 26, convicted of automobile theft, were recaptured Nov. 24 in Payette, Idaho.

DOZING IN TRUCK

Arthur St. Peter, 37, was picked up while dozing in a stolen truck near Colfax, Wash., about 70 miles northeast of Walla Walla.

Vertis James Barrett, 35, was the latest to be arrested. Ironically, he was also the one with the most distinctive identifying characteristic. He has only one arm; the other was shot off in a previous escape try. Barrett was arrested Dec. 14 in a Boise, Idaho, hotel.

Mesaros was sentenced to life imprisonment April 7, 1962, for the first-degree murder of Charles R. Johnson, 60, a Seattle service station operator, during a $35 holdup.

MESSENGER

Mesaros, 5 feet 11 inches and weighing 143 pounds, worked in Seattle as a messenger for the Boeing Co. He was born in Pennsylvania. His parents now live in Fairbanks, Alaska. His father is an automobile body and fender man.

"He's a hard guy to describe," Warden Rhay said. "The best word is nondescript.

★ ★ ★

"He always had his nose in a law book in the library here. He seemed to be looking for an angle for a new trial."

Executive Succumbs

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Col., William Eric Phillips, 71, board chairman of Massey-Ferguson, Inc., died Saturday. Phillips, whose home was in Toronto, also was an executive with many other firms, including board chairman of the giant holding company, Argus Corp. Ltd.

New Road to Foul Up His Farm

LIBERTR, Mo. (AP) — After Interstate Highway 35 is built across his farm, Edgar N. Petty figures he'll have to drive eight miles to go from his house to his barn.

The barn is 400 feet from the house. The highway will go between them. The highway department is scheduled to take possession of the 295-foot-wide right-of-way Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Petty said the road also will:

Eliminate two stock ponds.

Put the farm on a dead-end lane.

TOO EXPENSIVE

"I can't possibly assess all the damage," Petty said. "And it's so expensive to go to court."

GROWING FAMILIES need more room!

Italy Opera Audience Has 'Ears Burned' by Baritone

PARMA, Italy (AP) — American baritone Cornell MacNeil and the superintendent of Italy's Parma Opera House have agreed that MacNeil will never sing there again.

* * *

The two came to blows after the opera star stormed off the stage Saturday night and forced cancellation of the season's opener at Parma's Regio Theater.

The Parma audience, which has made the city known as the "lions' pit" of opera, had heckled MacNeil and his Italian costars, tenor Flaviano Labo and soprano Luisa Maragliano, through the first two acts of Verdi's "Masked Ball."

Said MacNeil: "If Parma wants to hear good singing, the spectators must learn to behave. I will never sing again at the Regio Theater.'"

NEVER AGAIN

Said Giuseppe Negri, the superintendent of the opera house: "MacNeil will never again be allowed to set foot in the theater as long as I am its director."

MacNeil, 42, one of America's leading operatic baritones, became infuriated when a burst of catcalls stopped him and the orchestra at the beginning of his third-act aria.

* * *

"Creitini! Idiots!" he shouted and stalked off the stage.

The fans set out after the American. For 15 minutes police struggled with the angry, shoving crowd that jammed the narrow corridor outside the singer's dressing room. The police finally escorted MacNeil to his hotel but not before he and Negri tangled inside the dressing room.

ASKED TO RETURN

"I got to MacNeil's dressing room a second before a crowd of spectators had forced their way there, to plead with the singer to return to the stage, offer apologies to the public and continue the performance," Negri said.

"He refused. He argued. He argued. Then the baritone, in a fit of temper, hit me with closed fists on the face and arm, although slightly."

* * *

OTHER VERSION

"Negri barged into my dressing room, insulting me. He actually punched me once in the stomach and kicked me twice in the shins, as my son tried to hold him and push him out of the room."

Negri apologized to the audience, saying the performance had been canceled because of "unusual, offensive behavior by baritone MacNeil toward his colleagues and the public."

NOT WELCOME IN PARMA — American baritone Cornell McNeil started a near riot in Parma, Italy, Saturday, by calling his audience "idiots." The audience was heckling a performance of Verdi's "Masked Ball." He was told he would never sing again at the Parma opera house.

20th Ballot Unsuccessful

Italy Socialist Widens Lead

ROME (AP)— Deputy Premier Pietro Nenni, a Socialist backed by the Communists, widened his lead in the Italian presidential race today as the country's parliament took a 20th and still unsuccessful ballot.

Nenni's Socialists, the Communists and the small Socialist Party of Proletarian Unity joined to give the former Stalin Peace Prize winner 385 votes, his highest total since the unprecedented marathon balloting began 13 days ago.

Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat, a Democratic Socialist backed by the leaders of Italy's divided Christian Democrat party, slipped to 323 votes — 19 less than he received yesterday.

That and an increase of blank ballots, from 86 yesterday to 100 today, indicated a renewal of a revolt in Christian Democratic ranks.

14 Factories Opened in 1964, Cubans Claim

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana Radio said Sunday night 14 factories representing a total investment of 38 million pesos had been opened in Cuba this year. A peso is officially pegged at a dollar but brings much less on the open market.

* * *

Servicemen Pleased With Bob Hope Show

MANILA (AP) — The Bob Hope troupe got an enthusiastic reception from 10,000 American sailors and their dependents at the Subic Bay Naval Base today.

Hope is scheduled to play nine holes of golf at Clark Air Base tomorrow and then put on another show. The group leaves for Guam tomorrow night. It arrived from Saigon last night.

Restrictions Lessen in Tense Philippines

MANILA (AP) — American servicemen were allowed out of Clark Air Base today after a weekend of restrictions imposed by the U.S. Air Force because of a protest rally in the nearby town of Angeles.

Some speakers at the rally Sunday urged removal of U.S. military bases from the Philippines and the recall of U.S. Ambassador William McCormick Blair Jr. There was no violence.

The rally, attended by about 2,000 Filipinos, was called to protest the killing of two Filipino trespassers by guards on U.S. bases and Blair's charge that two Filipinos had tried to bomb an American school at Clark.

The call for removal of U.S. bases was taken up by several congressmen, including Rep. Benjamin Ligot, a member of President Diosdado Macapagal's Liberal party. He recommended that the United States "put a fleet around the Philippines" as it does around Formosa.

Justice Secretary Salvador Marino was reported planning to start Saturday on an investigation of the incidents ordered by President Macapagal. Marino and other Philippine officials have urged calm and sobriety. Macapagal has taken the position that no action can be taken until all the facts are known.

Col. Diosdado Garcia, provincial constabulary commander, reported Sunday that his investigation had confirmed that a World War II Japanese mortar shell was thrown into the American schoolyard at Clark Base on Dec. 18 but that the shell's fuse had been removed.

Garcia said the shell could not explode and that it probably had been thrown to harass the Filipino civilian guard at the school.

The organizer of the rally in Angeles, City Councilman Carlos Sandico, has been campaigning for Blair's recall, asserting that he fabricated the bombing charge to divert attention from the shooting of the two Filipinos. During the rally a caricature of Blair straddling a bomb was burned.

N-Force Decision Seen Long Time Off

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Long drawn-out consultations on the U.S.-proposed integrated nuclear force for NATO will put off a final decision on that controversial issue until well beyond the middle of next year and possibly later.

NEWSOM

With 40 per cent of America's powerful nuclear weaponry assigned to the defense of Europe, many Europeans are wondering what the fuss is all about regarding creation of a special NATO nuclear force. It would add little militarily to the already existing nuclear overkill.

* * *

Much hinges on the Germans who are still more interested than anyone else in Europe in getting a say in nuclear strategy.

MORE TALK: Dates for a whole series of top-level European diplomatic talks are being held up pending the next meeting between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, and the fixing of a date for the January U.N. General Assembly session.

TOUCH DE GAULLE: The French government is likely to get tougher next time if the labor unions attempt another public utilities strike in January similar to that which crippled national life for 24 hours Dec. 11.

* * *

The government may requisition key electricity workers. Failure to obey a requisitioning order is as serious an offense as desertion from the armed forces.

AILING SUKARNO: President Sukarno of Indonesia is expected to go to Viena in February for medical treatment for his kidney ailment.

The February date is mentioned because he must be in Algiers for the second Afro-Asian conference scheduled for March 10.

* * *

It is assumed by informed sources in Jakarta that he will not want to spend too much time outside Indonesia after his September, October and November tour.

FILIPINO SIMMERINGS: Manila reports that the current agitation there over the fatal shooting of two Filipinos inside American military bases recently is expected to simmer down eventually.

Heated reaction has been limited so far to some Manila newspapers and to some officials, none of influential rank.

* * *

Anti-American statements appear sporadically in Philippines newspapers which are among the most free-wheeling in the world.

Gifts Come to Area in Appalachia

WHITESBURG, Ky. (AP) — Ten tons of clothing, toys and food, that arrived in two Air Force cargo planes from Detroit, plus other gifts expected this week "will allow us to reach the real desperate needs of the people in the remote mountain hollows," Lt. Col. Roy Barer of the Salvation Army, said Sunday.

About 50 volunteers worked Sunday to sort the gifts so distribution by truck and jeep could start early today.

* * *

Deliveries will be by people "who are interested enough to take time to wish the families well," Barber said. "We expect to deliver everything with a God Bless You."

* * *

He said about 1,000 families who could come to Whitesburg had been given presents donated from throughout the nation in response to a television program on the economic plight of Appalachia at Christmas.

MAILED GIFTS

More gifts by mail and express are expected through this week, Barber said. The bulk of shipments have been clothing and toys and "food is having to be bought," he added. "We need funds."

The Salvation Army is working through a community committee with representatives of churches, schools and hospitals to determine the needs.

Taking 'em Longer to Thaw Out Dinner

Wife in Kitchen More Than Man on Job?

By HAL BOYLE

Someone has discovered — or at least claimed — that the average U.S. housewife spends 2,188 hours yearly in the kitchen. Whereas her husband, if he worked a 40-hour week, 52 weeks without vacation, would spend only 2,080 hours on the job. The only conclusion is that it is taking women longer and longer to thaw out those appetizing dinners.

BOYLE

And if someone gave you a million dollars in one dollar bills, what is the first thing you'd do? Count it, of course. And how long would it take you? Well, on a 40-hour-week basis, it would take you seven weeks to find out how rich you were.

Russians spend half their earned income on food. Americans spend only 19 per cent — and are still too fat.

SURPRISING FACT

Here is a surprising fact that may have escaped your attention: Greek writing originally went from right to left, later one line went from left to right and the next from right to left, but after about 500 B.C. all lines went from left to right.

Quotable notables: "Life is a fortress," said Napoleon Bonaparte. Senaca, the Roman seer, said existence was "a state of warfare," and E. B. White described life as "a sentence that begins and ends with a yawn." The Bible says life is "a vapor that appeareth for a little time then vanisheth away," and Irving Berlin put it this way, "It is 10 per cent how you make it, and 90 per cent how you take it."

STEALS CAR

Every 1½ minutes by day and by night somebody somewhere in the United States steals an automobile. And have you also brooded over the fact that in our country we have only one cow for every nine Americans?

What do you think is the most effective tool ever devised by the kindness of Mother Nature? Why, of course, it is the human hand. A runner-up is the elephant's sensitive trunk, which contains 40 thousand muscles.

History lesson: Can you name the first U.S. president born outside the borders of the first 13 states that made our original Union? He was Abraham Lincoln, born in an area known then, and now, as Kentucky.

Odd legislation: Word has reached me that you can be arrested in Ohio if you seek to cool your feet by sticking them out of the window of a moving automobile.

ONE DOG OR TWO?

Folklore: Only a poor man keeps one dog — a really poor man keeps at least two. Idiots are favored by God. A horsehair put in water will fester into a snake in six weeks. If you meet a barefoot woman as you start on trip, turn back immediately or she will bring bad luck to your journey.

You are an unusual fellow if you can name seven forms of mammal life that chew their cuds. These are potential answers: cows, deer, sheep, employes, goats, giraffes and antelopes.

It was Helen Hayes who remarked, "There is only one terminal dignity — love. And the story of love is not important. What is important is that one is capable of love. It is perhaps the only glimpse we are permitted of eternity."

N-Sub Roams Asian Waters

★ ★ ★

The Defense Department has confirmed that the submarine Daniel Boone has been deployed in the far western Pacific.

The Boone's 16 nuclear-tipped missiles, which have a range of 1,800 miles, could reach half of China. The ship later will be refitted with new 2,800-mile missiles.

★ ★ ★

Six other Polaris submarines are expected to join the Boone on regular assignment in Asian waters.

Snow SOS a Surprise

An Air Force snow vehicle carried sheriff's men to the farm where the surprised owners, bachelor brothers William and Olaf Jorgenson, assured the would-be rescuers they had no problems.

'2 Nations Aid Rebels in Congo'

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Premier Moise Tshombe charges that Algerian and Egyptian army officers are leading contingents of the Congolese rebels who seek to overthrow the Tshombe government.

In a letter to the United Nations Security Council, dated Dec. 4 but sent Saturday night and made public yesterday, Tshombe said his government considered "the actions perpetrated by these two states as a veritable declaration of war."

The letter charged that officers from the two African states had entered the fray at various points along the Congo, where new rebel units reportedly are being trained.

Radio Leopoldville said copies of the letter had been sent to Diallo Telli, secretary general of the Organization for African Unity (OAU), and to the governments of 22 African states.

* * *

Tshombe asked that the new charges be added to a previous Congolese complaint to the United Nations saying the Sudan, Algeria and Egypt are supplying arms to the insurgents.

FOREIGN WEAPONS

Reliable sources said government troops have captured quantities of foreign-made weapons from the rebels including Soviet rifles, assault weapons, light machine guns, and Communist Chinese heavy machine guns.

Intelligence reports said the arms were being flown into the Sudan in large Soviet cargo planes, and delivered to the Congo by truck convoys from the southern Sudan town of Juba.

Reliable sources said the modern weapons have had noticeable effect in the renewed rebel assaults on government-held positions in the northeast Congo.

* * *

There has been no official documentation of the Tshombe charge that foreign officers are leading rebel units. It was noted that Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria had promised to send both arms and men to aid the rebels.

Negroes Picket at Detroit Talk

Label Former Congo Teacher 'Uncle Tom'

DETROIT (UPI) — Carrying placards which read: "Don't lie Tom — Dr. Carlson was a Spy" and "Tshombe is an Uncle Tom Murderer," a group of Negroes picketed the Scott Methodist Church Sunday.

The object of the picketing was Robert Bell, a former teacher at a U.S.-financed school in the Belgian Congo.

He described his experiences in the Congo and spoke critically of the revolutionary movement there.

* * *

'LIED TO PEOPLE'

A spokesman for the Afro-American Student Movement said that Bell, a Negro, "has lied to the people about the Congo situation."

The pickets described Carlson as an agent of the Central Intelligence Agency and called Bell an "Uncle Tom."

A policeman was summoned to quiet the youths, but the Rev. Clarence T. R. Nelson asked the patrolman to leave, then Nelson invited the dissenters to attend a church-sponsored public forum on the Congo at a later date.

* * *

Of the pickets, Bell said "I don't know what they were after. Carlson was not a government agent. He was one of the most dedicated men in the Congo. The first thing the rebels do is knock off anyone who looks educated."

Negotiations on U.N. Financing Now at Crucial Stage

* * *

The negotiators hoped to work out some agreement before the assembly's next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday morning. The Security Council cannot function after Thursday — New Year's Eve — unless agreement is reached on the basic issue or unless two disputed council seats are filled without a vote so as to avoid a challenge of the Soviets' right to vote.

* * *

The Soviet Union has refused to pay assembly assessments to finance the Congo and Middle East peace-keeping operations because it contends the Security Council alone has the right to start and finance such operations. It is more than two years behind in its total assessments.

The United States says that if a vote on anything is called in the assembly, the Soviet Union must suffer the penalty set out in Article 19 of the U.N. Charter, which states that any member two years behind in assessments shall have no vote in the assembly.

NO VOTING

To avoid a showdown, there has been no voting since the assembly convened Dec. 1. All necessary business has been done by general consent. Diplomatic sources, said however, Assembly President Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana had failed to get agreement to elect Security Council members the same way.

There is no problem concerning two of the four seats that become vacant at the end of the year on the 11-nation council. Uruguay and the Netherlands are unopposed candidates for the seats held by Brazil and Norway.

Delegates were hopeful some way would be found to get around Indonesia's demand to be allowed to vote against Malaysia, which is otherwise unopposed to replace Czechoslovakia.

* * *

They said Quaison-Sackey had failed to resolve a contest between Jordan and Mali for Morocco's seat. They said Mali had rejected his suggestions that a preliminary informal poll outside the assembly decide which candidate would be elected by acclamation in the assembly.

USUAL VOTE

Jordan's chief delegate Abdul Monem Rifa'i told a reporter that if no agreement could be reached on some informal method by Tuesday he would demand in the assembly that the election be decided before Friday by the usual vote. That would bring on the big-power showdown.

As of New Year's Day, the Soviet Union will have to pay $26,534,236 to avoid being two years behind in its assessments. U.S. chief delegate Adlai E. Stevenson has said the United States would be satisfied with a voluntary contribution from the Soviets, even if it was not specifically earmarked for peace-keeping purposes.

Johnson Heads Into '65 With Cautious Confidence

By ALVIN SPIVAK
United Press International

JOHNSON CITY, Tex.—President Johnson approaches the new year with cautious confidence that he will achieve at least the beginnings of success in building a great society at home and peace in the world.

★ ★ ★

Johnson presided over last week's sessions hammering out his new budget and legislative program at a picnic table there under a live oak tree.

Hhile working on those long range matters, Johnson also has displayed busy concern with such immediate international dilemmas as Viet Nam and domestic problems like a steel price rise.

★ ★ ★

He has kept his telephone lines to Washington humming but has pressed no panic buttons.

PATIENT MOOD

His mood, according to people who have talked to him lately, is one of patience and forebearance on even the stickiest issues.

The budget for the 1966 fiscal year, which begins next July 1, is Johnson's current major concern.

On its totals — which Johnson is still striving to keep from setting new spending records — will depend the scope and speed of the early phases of his Great Society.

★ ★ ★

What these figures will be, and what his legislative program will encompass, are secrets Johnson is refusing to unlock until he goes before a joint session of Congress — and a national television-radio audience — to deliver his State of the Union address at 9 p.m. EST, January 4. The budget message will follow later in the month.

FURTHER LIGHT

Johnson's inaugural address on Jan. 20 is expected to shed further light on his goals and the rate at which he hopes to attain them.

It became known recently that his present inclination, despite his overwhelming election majority, is to offer his new proposals to the House and Senate in easy stages, to plant legislative seeds that will bloom bigger through the years.

On the domestic front, his highest priority items include last year's leftover measures for financing medical care for the aged through Social Security, for aiding economically depressed areas of Appalachia and for increasing old-age benefits.

★ ★ ★

A vast program of federal aid to education, particularly at university levels but going down through the lower grades, is high on the agenda. So is a major step-up in the antipoverty program which Johnson got off the ground last year.

TO RENEW PLEA

The President is expected to renew his plea for Congress to take stronger action to improve life for city dwellers.

He would like to increase river development projects and expand conservation programs. He hopes to follow through on the crash program he has ordered for conversion of salt water into fresh water at low cost.

These are among major measures which Johnson and his aides have mentioned in describing what lies ahead.

★ ★ ★

They are only part of the Great Society program. How much will be added is a matter that remains to be determined.

LBJ DECISIONS

Johnson's decisions over coming weeks will hinge in large part on how much can be spent, and over how long a time.

Johnson has no illusions that poverty can be wiped out overnight, that jobs can be provided for all Americans at one fell swoop or that there is any immediate way to guarantee a college education for every qualified youngster. But success next year, he believes would come in making a start toward those goals.

With enlarged Democratic majorities in the House and Senate as a result of the November elections, Johnson looks forward to a large measure of success — if he does not cause a congressional commotion by asking too much too soon.

PAST MASTER

As a past master in coaxing disputants to "come let us reason together" he hopes —and mildly believes — he can apply to the world scene the same peacemaking tactics he has employed at home.

According to one recent published report (in the New York Times) Johnson specifically has ordered the State and Defense departments to do all they can in 1965 to bring the Atlantic allies together and refrain from any words or deeds that might alienate them.

The big problem is to find a way to work out differences with French President Charles de Gaulle over nuclear, trade and other NATO issues. There have been reports Johnson would like to try a personal approach by visiting de Gaulle in Paris, probably in the spring.

★ ★ ★

And there have been other reports of prospective Johnson travels in the coming year, ranging from West Germany to Australia. Nothing has been announced and few hints have been given by Johnson.

★ ★ ★

But a trip to Europe next year is considered likely by those around Johnson because of his firm conviction that the strengthening of NATO is a major key to assuring world peace.

An overriding foreign policy puzzle, of course, is the long-running struggle this country is involved in to block Communist aggression in South Viet Nam.

One crisis after another, in military losses and government upheavals, has plagued Johnson over the past year and he has emphasized that there will be no quick solution.

★ ★ ★

But Johnson also has said over and over that the United States can neither pull out of Viet Nam nor risk expansion of the war to the Communist north.

RIGHT ONE

He has insisted the present U.S. policy of aid for the South Vietnamese is the right one and has given no public indication that this will change — though it is under constant review.

On the broad question of foreign aid, Johnson undoubtedly looks for a battle again next year to get all or most of the program approved by Congress.

But the administration has let it be known that he expects to ask for even less than the $3.5 billion which he described in 1964 as rock-bottom and almost all of which was granted by Congress.

★ ★ ★

Johnson won't let up on 1965 on his cost-cutting drive and served notice of this several weeks ago by saying that "controlling waste is like bailing a boat — you have to keep at it."

BRACED FOR BATTLE

The President is braced for a battle with Congress over Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's decision to do away with Army Reserve units by merging them into the National Guard.

★ ★ ★

The President has endorsed this plan as "prudent and wise" just as he has supported McNamara's controversial closings of numerous military installations. He is hoping for more such economies in the future.

Johnson's attitude in this regard is that the more he can reduce military spending and other huge outlays, the more he can apply to his Great Society projects.

Weather Spurs Big Europe Toll

LONDON (UPI) — Snow, fog and freezing rain caused at least 223 deaths in Western Europe over the Christmas weekend, it was reported today.

Bitter weather blanketed the British Isles and continental Europe from the Iron Curtain to the North Sea. There were no immediate reports on conditions in Russia and its European satellites.

The heaviest casualties were reported in Icebound Britain, where at least 98 persons were killed in highway accidents alone. Many more died in various weather-connected accidents.

The weather around Madrid was so bitter a policeman shot a wolf that had been driven into the city by the cold. The only place in Western Europe reporting good weather was southern Spain, which basked in spring-like temperatures around the 60-degree mark.

France reported 35 traffic deaths and several near escapes. Twenty-two persons were killed in Sweden and at least 20 in West Germany, and Finland reported 11 deaths each in various accidents. Spain had 9 deaths, Italy 5 and Holland 3. These and earlier reported tolls made up the total.

Cuts Off Boy's Head, Stabs Girl in Belgium

SCHELLE, Belgium (AP) — A 15-year-old boy beheaded a 9-year-old boy with a bread knife during the weekend and injured an 8-year-old girl with a pocket knife, police said today.

The girl ran to tell an uncle who notified police. The girl is expected to recover.

Oscoda Sheriff Dies

MIO (AP) — Sheriff Alford M. May of Oscoda County died Saturday of a heart attack. May, 59, had been sheriff six years.

Manufacturers used more than 700 million pounds of oils in making salad dressings last year, 47 per cent soybean, 22 per cent cottonseed, and 3 per cent corn, safflower or peanut.

Manistee Crash Fatal

Says U. S. Can Win Viet War

Senator Gives Ideas After 3-Week Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., believes the United States eventually will win the war in Viet Nam and that abandoning it "would be an act of idiocy."

He did not estimate how long the war would last but at one point he said 20 or 30 years meant little to the Communists.

★ ★ ★

Monroney, who has just completed a three-week Asian tour, was interviewed Sunday night on the CBS radio and television program, "Face the Nation."

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, 105 Washington area clergymen and religious leaders revealed that they had sent a petition to President Johnson urging an immediate cease-fire and a negotiated political settlement in South Viet Nam.

ASKS LIMITS

Another Democratic senator, Frank Church of Idaho, said in an interview with Ramparts magazine that the United States should have limited its military intervention in Asia to the island chain off the continent. In the interview, published Saturday, Church said the United States should have stayed out of the Vietnamese war.

★ ★ ★

Church said the Viet Nam war could be won but that this would require a joint military venture in Laos to seal off South Viet Nam.

N.Y. Town Honoring Viet Hero

SAUGERTIES, N.Y. (AP) — Today is "Donlon Day" in Saugerties, an old Dutch village in the Catskill Mountains where the homefolk will turn out to welcome back the defender of Nam Dong.

★ ★ ★

Both the village and the township of Saugerties have proclaimed the day because "the citizens of a grateful community have been honored by one of its own."

★ ★ ★

He is Capt. Roger H. C. Donlon, first American to win the Medal of Honor for action in South Viet Nam.

Saugerties, a community of 4,000 on the Hudson River 100 miles north of New York City, has been welcoming heroes home since some of the townsmen fought the British at Saratoga in 1777.

GREEN BERET

Capt. Donlon, 30, a tall, blond who wears the green beret of the Special Forces and paratrooper's wings, was decorated Dec. 5 by President Johnson for directing "a successful defense of the camp" of Nam Dong. Donlon was wounded four times in a five-hour night attack July 6 by a Viet Cong battalion.

★ ★ ★

Today, a motorcade starts at the captain's home at 3 p.m. and winds through the principal streets to the Municipal Building. There, the auditorium of the combination village offices, police and fire station will be renamed for the officer — Capt. Roger H. C. Donlon Auditorium.

LEGION PLAQUE

Next scheduled was a dinner by the Rotary and Lions clubs, at which the captain was to receive a shield-shaped plaque from the American Legion in the name of the citizens.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The captain is a 10-year Army career man who attended West Point for a time, joined the regular Army, was commissioned from the officer's school at Ft. Benning, Ga., and served at Ft. Wainwright, Alaska, before volunteering for Viet Nam.

Invited to the motorcade along the flag-decked streets and past stores closed for the occasion were Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating and Sen.-elect Robert F. Kennedy and other officials.

★ ★ ★

Among those riding with Donlon will be his mother, Mrs. Marion Donlon, who said, "He's always worn my medal of honor."

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — A bright blue outfit with two bold stripes singled Jacqueline Kennedy out through the swirling mountain snows at Aspen Sunday, as she and her two children took ski lessons on 7,900-foot Buttermilk Mountain.

Below-freezing temperatures and icy highways approaching this winter resort area combined with Secret Service men to keep crowds at a minimum. Photographers who approached Mrs. Kennedy were quickly dispersed by a Secret Service agent, Frank Mayes.

* * *

Mrs. Kennedy, obviously enjoying her second attempt at skiing, went up Buttermilk Mountain on a lift and, with the aid of an instructor, skied back down.

Caroline, 7, and John Jr., 4, stayed on the lower part of the mountain with two other instructors.

REGULAR SKIER

Sen.-elect Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., a regular skier and veteran at Aspen, took to the more advanced slopes with four of his children who flew in from Washington with him Saturday.

The Kennedy party, planning to spend eight days here, will be increased today with the arrival of Mrs. Stephen Smith and Mrs. Peter Lawford, sisters to the late president, with their children.

* * *

Mrs. Grosvenor, 86, died of a heart ailment Saturday at her home in nearby Bethesda, Md.

Born in London while her father, Alexander Graham Bell, was demonstrating the telephone to Queen Victoria, Mrs. Grosvenor had been around the world by the time she married Gilbert Grosvenor in 1900.

He said a Jordanian advance position east of Budreus village opened fire with light weapons on an Israeli patrol, who returned the fire.

* * *

The second clash occurred east of Kafr Kasem village, the spokesman said. No Israeli casualties were reported.

Kiss in Store Sparked Marriage of 50 Years

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Arthur Gradwohl was dressing a window in a downtown department store when a pretty girl walking by stopped, strolled into the store and gave Gradwohl a big kiss in the store window.

That was a long time ago. Gradwohl and the pretty girl yesterday celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

150 Volunteers to Begin VISTA Program Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of the new domestic peace corps has received 4,500 applications, but the program will get under way with only 150 volunteers in the first training class.

Director Glen W. Ferguson of the Volunteers in Service to America — VISTA — said each candidate would be given preliminary screening and training and then would be sent to an impoverished area for four to six weeks.

* * *

By that time, Ferguson said, the volunteer should be able to decide for himself whether he is qualified for work.

Interviewed on the radio program, "From the People," Ferguson said Sunday that volunteers would be permitted to give birth control information to impoverished persons if the work is part of a local program.

* * *

He said he hopes to assign 50 per cent of the volunteers to rural areas.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mariner 4 has zoomed past the 50-million-mile mark on its arching flight to Mars, but it still has 275 million to go.

* * *

The space agency said Sunday Mariner 4, launched Nov. 28, was operating normally and sending back a steady stream of information. It is expected to pass within a few thousand miles of Mars next July on a photographing mission.

WASHINGTON (AP) — An easing of the rate of business expansion in the last half of 1965 could cause unemployment to begin climbing again.

* * *

This warning light was flashed Sunday by the National Planning Association, a privately supported research organization.

* * *

The group's annual forecast said, "It is important to recognize that a desirable rate of economic growth cannot be taken for granted."

The organization said higher prices would cut into some of the 1965 growth but it did not observe any signs of a hazard from rampaging inflation.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of businessmen will benefit from a Treasury tax ruling scheduled about mid-January. It was learned Saturday that the ruling will liberalize the regulations which govern how much businessmen may deduct for cost of equipment.

Companies probably will save $200 million to $400 million on returns filed after June 30.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller of New York, the Republican vice presidential nominee this year, is willing to serve the GOP in any capacity — except as a candidate for elective office.

Miller said in a radio interview on Storer Broadcasting Company's "Report to the People," Saturday that he planned to practice law in his home town of Lockport, N.Y., and in Buffalo, N.Y.

War in the Congo Borrows a Little From All Centuries of Man

(EDITOR'S NOTE — For months now, the Congo has been wracked by a brutal rebellion which has Communist support. In this first of three articles on the Congo, an AP special correspondent tells about this war without mercy, and the mercenaries who fight it.)

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent

* * *

"Are you religious?"

"Not particularly," he said.

"Why the crucifix?"

"Oh, that. I took it from a rebel who no longer needed it," the young man said. "He came at me from about 15 yards with a Mauser. I fired at his head with an automatic rifle. It was hard to miss. In a manner of speaking, you might say I ventilated his think box."

NOT WORTH IT

The young man gave his name as Leonard Woods, 22, of Johannesburg, South Africa; former occupation, pipe fitter; present occupation, white mercenary.

"When we were going into Stanleyville," said another young man with an Ivy League cut and the earnest look of a divinity student, "the major told us there would be no looting or raping, that we could get shot for either."

* * *

He paused, watching a girl in a bikini go by.

"There was nothing worth raping," he said with a small smile.

INCONGRUOUS PAUSE

The second young man gave his name as Lance Fin Mills, 27, also of Johannesburg, also a mercenary. We were sitting at the side of a swimming pool at the Funa Club in Leopoldville, during an incongruous pause in an incongruous war.

Some 700 miles to the east, in the equatorial rain forests of the Congo, the war was still going on, still borrowing a little from all the centuries of man.

* * *

It is a war where neither side takes prisoners for long; where both rebel and Congolese government troops torture captives; where thousands of blacks caught up in a century they never made have been killed, their bodies rotting in the tall elephant grass or left to the mercies of the crocodiles in the muddy rivers.

It is a war where rebels have practiced cannibalism beyond human comprehension, where they have marched down a town street with the organs and blood of their victims on their hands, while a police band played. It is a war where old planes on loan from the United States, flown by contract Cuban exile pilots, attack with rockets and, down below, on the side of a dusty road, a rebel group counterattacks by stirring up a hornets' nest, convinced that one winged creature can bring down another.

MUCH LOOTING

It is a war where the looting is prodigious on both sides; where there are no immutable realities; where Moise Tshombe now heads the central government he fought more than two years; where a government soldier deserts, joins the rebels, later rejoins the government army, demanding — and receiving — retroactive pay for his desertion time.

* * *

It is a war where Stanleyville, a city of 300,000, fell to 100 rebels in six trucks; where other towns fell as the result of a telephone call which scared off the defenders. It is a war where the rebels began with spears and knives, convinced their "magic" made them immune to bullets; where they now fight with captured government weapons and some rifles from Algeria and Red China.

* * *

It is a war where black men on both sides know little of their weapons and fire rifles, it is said, with their eyes closed; a war where a handful of white mercenaries — 500 at peak strength — have made the differences so far and driven the rebels to the northeast. It is a war where human sensitivity is, at best, relative, where handsome young white men, brutalized by life in a brutal continent, come from South Africa, Rhodesia and Kenya to fight in the Congo for money and adventure.

* * *

It is a war where young white men as pleasant-looking as those at the swimming club in Leopoldville have been known to take their sport and target practice by firing at and sinking scores of bloated black bodies drifting down the river.

ROCK 'N' ROLL

It was Sunday at the Funa Club and rock 'n' roll music thundered from the loudspeakers. Men were playing tennis while their wives sipped drinks at the side of the pool with an eye on the children in the water. Only a few Congolese were here, only a few could afford the small admission price. The young mercenaries, who were in Leopoldville to recover from a touch of malaria, appeared quite relaxed although they were reutrning to the fighting front the next day.

* * *

"I joined up for the money and to get away from my wife," Leonard Woods was saying. "And if she doesn't improve as a housekeeper and a mother for our kid, I'll sign up for another six months."

"I came for the money and the adventure," said a tall, attractive blond boy from Nairobi, who is 20 and calls himself Ian without mentioning his last name. He used to travel with a magician's vaudeville act.

WHITE AGRICAN

A mercenary's salary ranges from about $450 to $1,500 a month, depending on his rank, dependents and combat time. The salary often is incidental.

* * *

"Ah, those lovely American dollars," said one mercenary, fingering a roll of $100 bills more than a quarter-inch thick. Subsequent conversation revealed the dollars used to be Congolese francs (official rate: 150 to the dollar, 300-1 in the black market) and the francs used to reside in various bank safes in Kindu and Stanleyville.

The mercenaries, who share their loot, make little secret of the safes they blow or the shops they loot in the course of recapturing rebel territory. They regard this as the legitimate spoils of war. They said if they didn't loot it, the Congolese would.

At Kindu, they said, they found a Mercedes that was used by Gen. Nicholas Olenga, the rebel commander in chief. In the trunk, they said, they found one million francs in 100-franc notes.

* * *

"The rebels blow safes, too," said Leonard Woods. "They're quite crude about it, with their hammers or crow bars or dynamite. We simply shoot a hole above the lock, drop in a grenade and there's the door gone. Very neat.

"In Stan, we shot a rebel paymaster who had a trunkfull of francs. My share should be about 500,000 francs. In Kindu, we picked the pockets of one dead rebel who also had 500,000 francs stuffed in his clothes. Incidentally, I picked up a nice microscope in an army kit bag next to a dead rebel at the railroad station."

"I doubt there is a safe still intact in any bank, post-office or store in Stan," said Lance Fin Mills. "I know one bloke, a mercenary, who already has accumulated $150,000 for himself. Me? Oh, I've done all that well. I have some cameras, tape recorders, whisky and then there's the 375,000 francs I found in a suitcase in an apartment we shot up in Stan. There'll be more coming when the other boys get back."

The mercenaries I talked with, those named as well as others, said they themselves don't particularly enjoy killing Africans, "although others might." They said they all come from good homes and are not ashamed of anything they're doing in the Congo. They said most of the thugs and perverts who had joined originally have been weeded out though some mercenaries with police records remain.

"I know one South African called Frenchie," said Leonard Woods. "I'd say he enjoys the killing. I'll bet he has killed 300 blacks himself. He just opens up with a machine gun from an armored car. I've seen him laughing when he does it."

"I don't think much about the killing," said Allen Webster, another South African. And then he and his friends told this story:

They were drinking beer in a Stanleyville hotel room when they heard a thump overhead. It was a sniper who had fallen through the thin asbestos roof. They heard him running on the ceiling and they followed the sounds from room to room until they finally got him with several machinegun bursts.

He fell through the ceiling, dead at their feet, with six holes in him. They carried the body out of the hotel, dumped it in the bush, returned, washed the blood off their hands, and resumed drinking beer.

TOMORROW: Slapstick Congo style.

Fire Fatal to Woman

DUNDEE (AP) — Mrs. Edna Fracisco, 81, was found dead Sunday after a fire in her home where she lived alone. Volunteer firemen said her clothes had caught fire apparently from the igniting of a can into which she had emptied the powder from shotgun shells for some unknown reason.

Cong Claim Hard to Dispute

SAIGON (AP) — Leaders of the rebel Viet Cong claim the guerrillas fighting the government of South Viet Nam control three-fourths of the country and more than half the people as the year nears an end.

Chairman Nguyen Huu Tho made the claim in a statement to the ruling Politburo of the Viet Cong Central Committee.

* * *

The statement would be difficult to challenge.

He added that the balance of forces was shifting in favor of the Viet Cong, and this, too, coincides with available information on the Saigon side.

NUMERICAL EDGE

On Dec. 20, 1960, when the Viet Cong formally organized itself, the guerrillas had at most 2,000 men under arms, opposing national armed forces of some 400,000. Today, Viet Cong strength is estimated at around 120,000 against a government force of some 615,000 men under arms, including police. Although the government still holds the numerical edge, its ratio is worse.

Each time during the past four years that the government has sought to wipe out the guerrillas in some given area, Saigon has bitten off more than it could chew. The mobility provided by U.S. troop-carrying helicopters has helped, but not enough.

* * *

Saigon and its Washington ally spent tens of millions of dollars in 1962 on a project called "Operation Sunrise," aimed at cleaning out a key Viet Cong base area 30 miles north of here.

The operation was a nearly complete failure, and the Viet Cong now is stronger in the area than ever.

HAMLET PROGRAM

Later in 1962 and 1963, the government and U.S. advisers launched the nationwide "strategic hamlet program," aimed at bringing one community after another under government control.

Until President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown in a military coup Nov. 1, 1963, the statistics from this program looked encouraging. But U.S. officials found at that point that only a very small fraction of the hamlets supposedly pacified were really in operation.

* * *

Then came Premier Nguyen Khanh's "pacification plan" in February. It concentrated on only 13 provinces in the Mekong River Delta. But even this concentration proved inadequate.

Three months ago, the area was whittled down to five provinces all suburbs of Saigon, to be pacified under the "Hoc Tap" — cooperation — plan. To help out, most of the 25th Division was pulled out of central Viet Nam for service in the Hoc Tap area.

Since then, central Viet Nam — roughly the northern half of the republic — has deteriorated at an alarming rate, at least partly because of increased Communist infiltration in the area. And the deltas and suburbs of Saigon, the key targets of the new government program, show little if any sign of improvement.

* * *

While the Viet Cong apparently has had no difficulty maintaining a united drive against the government, Saigon has been beset with constant political upheavals and coups, leaving its base of military resistance in chaos much of the time.

* * *

By all appearances, the war is being lost.

* * *

It Was Lucky for Her, but Not for Everyone

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Husband neighbors watched, and maybe prayed a little, as fireman Jerry Green held an oxygen mask to the face of the near-dead smoke victim, Cindy.

For 50 minutes, Green pumped the inert victim's chest. Finally, Cindy opened her eyes, stretched her coal black body and padded off on cat's feet to conjure up some bad luck.

Beauty Added to War in Viet

Girl Paratrooper Unit Serves as Nurses

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam has its own Florence Nightingales of the air, a platoon of hardy girl paratroopers trained to jump with the troops in combat.

They are all trained nurses.

* * *

Their talents were demonstrated in a recent exhibition when they leaped out of lumbering C47s high over Saigon and landed in the Saigon River.

They were right on target.

SWAM TO BANK

Dragging waterproof medical kits behind them, they swam to the river bank and were soon administering first aid to several paratroopers who were injured in the jump.

But not before they showed they were women first. They attended to such feminine requisits as lipstick and combing their hair before tending to first aid.

* * *

No doubt they were working on the premise that a wounded soldier wants a nurse as beautiful as she is competent.

The paratroop nurses are given the same rigorous training as male paratroopers and are trained also in the use of weapons.

* * *

* * *

"We want to be as self-contained as possible," an airborne officer told newsmen.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Talk Sure When Boy Stays On

By the Emily Post Institute

Q: I am in my mid-twenties and have my own three-room apartment. Every so often I give a party to repay some of my social obligations.

My boy friend is of course always invited to these parties. After the guests leave, he stays on to help me clean up.

★ ★ ★

There has been some "talk" about his staying after the others go home. It never occurred to me that anyone could possibly think anything wrong in this and, frankly, I am very disturbed over it.

Will you please tell me if there is any impropriety in this situation?

A: For your boy friend to stay on alone with you after the other guests have gone home is, I'm sorry to say, not the proper thing to do, and as you have found out, almost certain to lead to unpleasant "talk."

Q: We recently moved to this town from another state. My husband's superior and his wife called on us a week after we arrived. She brought me a box of homemade cookies.

My husband and I intend to return this visit soon and I would like to know if I should take anything to them in return for their gift.

A: It is not necessary to take anything in return for her welcoming gift to you.

On the other hand, if you would like to bring her a little something, such as a few flowers or a jar of homemade preserves, etc., it would be both proper and friendly.

★ ★ ★

LYNDE SUE HARTMAN

Ignore Gossips

Keep Sense of Humor

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been best friends with the couple next door for years. We play bridge together, have taken trips together and our children play together.

One night (a few weeks ago) the husband went to bed early so his wife came over to watch TV with us.

ABBY

She went home around midnight, but forgot her house key and was locked out. Her husband, being a very sound sleeper, didn't hear the doorbell.

She came over to our bedroom window (not wishing to awaken our children by ringing our doorbell), and shouted up to us to help her get into her house. My husband put on his bathrobe and went outside to try to find an open window in their house while I kept ringing their phone, hoping to wake up her husband.

★ ★ ★

I finally succeeded and my husband was home in five minutes.

One of the neighbors must have seen my friend under our bedroom window, and watched my husband join her in his bathrobe, and now we find ourselves in the middle of a big scandal!

Anyway, the talk is all over town and we are afraid our children might hear it from their playmates.

I can't go up and down the streets yelling it isn't true. What can we do? We can't all leave town. We own our homes, our husbands' jobs are here, and we can't afford to move.

INNOCENT VICTIM

DEAR INNOCENT: Don't do anything. If you could afford to leave town, the move would only make you appear guilty.

Worthwhile people neither believe gossip nor spread it. And the most wholehearted denial has yet to still one vicious tongue.

★ ★ ★

IN BLUE SATIN

★ ★ ★

Hugh Brown came from Toronto, Ont. to be his brother's best man. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Brown of Alvinston, Ont.

Seating their sister's guests were, Philip E. Moody, III, John W. Moody, and Daniel J. Moody.

RECEPTION

The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan where her husband will continue graduate studies. He holds a degree from the University of Western Ontario.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)— In the day of plumed hats, long skirts and high-laced shoes, Mrs. Grace Shawhan Stage cried out to her father, "I want a man's job because I don't like to cook and sew."

Methods of Courtship

It's been a long time since a knight slew a dragon for his lady fair, but bachelors have never been at a loss for romantic deeds.

Back in the 17th century, a smitten Englishman gave his girl a six-story tower as a love token. William Latimer was courting a school girl, and constructed a miniature castle in Suffolk to, more or less, capture her attention.

★ ★ ★

A Parisian artist, courting an aristocratic lady, put his amorous sentiments on paper and in 1875 composed the longest love letter ever written.

The letter contained only three words — "I love you" — but Marcel de Leclure repeated them 1,875,000 times, a precise thousand times greater than the date on his letter. Monsieur de Leclure hired a secretary to write the message, but the artist himself diligently dictated every line.

In this country, Diamond Jim Brady is remembered as one of the most dashing swains of modern times. Dazzled by Lillian Russell, he courted the songstress with a solid gold bicycle sprinkled with rubies and diamonds and sent her dozens and dozens of American Beauty roses.

Gold bicycles excepted, Miss Russell had nothing on the modern girl. Bachelors are still wooing their ladies with red roses. Even when the courtship is long-distance, the romantic message of flowers can be wired anywhere in the country or abroad in a matter of hours.

Some courtships can't get started without flowers. In Baroda, India, a special day is set aside for weddings, but the day comes just once in 12 years.

A girl may escape this restriction by contracting a marriage to a bouquet of flowers. When the flowers fade, the girl is free to receive the attentions of eligible bachelors. Fresh flowers are very big in Baroda.

Thief Repays With Interest

COFFEYVILLE, Kan. (AP) — When Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill were opening congratulatory letters on celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary they found an anonymous note which was attached to two $1 bills.

The note said the sender, during World War I, had stolen three oranges from the couple, who at the time operated a small grocery store.

SPADEA DESIGNER PATTERN

Tiffeau & Busch

So beautifully wrapped in Jacques Tiffeau's exciting coat which blends fine tailoring with the prevailing soft touch of the new design. The flattering silhouette follows a straight and narrow front line with all fullness swept to the back.

Sure to get a unanimous vote for its seasonless good looks and wearability, it is equally effective whether made in conventional coating fabrics for town and travel or in glamorous fabrics for party fare.

Sizes	Bust	Hips
Small (8-10)	32-34	34-35 in.
Medium (12-14)	35-36½	36-37½ in.

Although the short formals are acceptable — for real glamour, at the New Year's Eve party wear a long gown. Glitter, Beads, Shimmer and Tinsel, signify the Holiday spirit.

Do try a ring of Holy in your upsweep hair style. Wear an "at home" costume to receive guests . . . it's the new thing in hostessing.

Don't Spend More Than Husband Makes!

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

"Will you please get tough with my wife?" asks a reader in a large eastern city. "I make $12,000 a year, but she thinks the answer to our financial problems is for me to take a second job at night."

MARY FEELEY

He goes on to say — in a letter too long to print here — that they have a $40,000 home to keep up, five children, and a "money-oriented" approach to life that has him going under for the third time.

"All my wife wants," he adds, "is everything that money can buy."

Sure, I'll get tough. It's time somebody did. If you've been reading this column for any length of time, you may have gotten the idea that I'm prone to bawl out the husbands for being too stingy with the household money.

But when the wife sets the family living standards beyond the husband's earning ability, I think she's at fault. And when she encourages the children to do the same, she's compounding the crime.

"The last straw," this harried husband declares, "was when my young son said "What kind of new car are we getting this year, Dad?" Our present car, Miss Feeley, is in fine shape and only three years old."

A lot of the financial problems that come my way can be traced to this one sad fact: the breadwinner doesn't have the say as to where and how the family lives.

* * *

This doesn't necessarily mean the man who makes the money is a weakling. A misguided devotion to his family can prove a tragic trap.

For this very reason, it's up to the wife to stand guard over the family finances, and know when to call a halt on spending. She, too, can fall into a trap—by "helping" her husband present a prosperous front with status symbols he can't possibly afford.

* * *

Let me remind you wives that a good credit rating is one of the finest status symbols any man can have!

TOO MUCH HOUSE

What this wife needs to know is that a $40,000 home on a $12,000 income is out of line. When a family takes on a house that costs more than 2-½ times the annual income, the whole scale of living becomes unbalanced.

When there are five children to raise and educate, even that estimate is too high. When a new car seems more important than saving for college, the wife's values are due for an overhaul.

A second job for the husband is not the answer, by any means. The real solution is a second look at the budget, and a few second thoughts on the part of the wife. What she needs is pencil and paper and time out to do some figuring.

* * *

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have a five-year-old son who is retarded. Can you give me some information regarding a bank account and the buying of stocks and bonds in his name?

Mrs. F. M., Sparta, N.J.

* * *

Dear Mrs. M.:

Since there is a possibility that a retarded child might not be competent later on to handle any of his own affairs, it's not a wise idea to have a bank account or other investments in his name.

* * *

Your lawyer will handle this so that the boy benefits in the way you want him to. If sizable funds are involved you might want to create a voluntary trust.

* * *

(You can get Mary Feeley's handy leaflet on Building Financial Stability by writing to her in care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Inside Important

Before you buy washable quilts or other "stuffed" items make sure that the filling is a resilient type which will resist flattening, lumping, or matting after repeated laundering.

Stubborn Jobs Done Faster With Few Tips

Gold or platinum banded glassware should not be washed in a strong detergent.

In order to prevent breakage when pouring hot liquids into a glass, a spoon should be placed in the glass while pouring. Diluted ammonia cleans vinegar cruets effectively.

* * *

Stains in water bottles, decanters and pitchers are easily removed by placing tea leaves soaked in vinegar, together with a few grains of uncooked rice, into the piece and shaking vigorously.

* * *

To prevent cracking, candles set in crystal candlesticks should not be permitted to burn lower than three inches from the top of the candlestick. A tiny nick can be smoothed by rubbing softly with fine emery paper.

* * *

To deodorize a flower vase, use a little chlorine bleach in the rinse water. Rub a piece of lemon over the surface to remove stains on glasses.

* * *

Deeply cut glass that resists cleaning with dish mop or brush may be effectively cleaned by using a cotton-wrapped toothpick.

Door Mats Save Carpet Wear and Tear

WASHINGTON, D.C. — To help preserve the appearance and life of your carpeting the National Institute of Rug Cleaning advises that you use a mat in front of all outside entrances to your home.

* * *

A good door mat, if used, will greatly reduce the sand and gritty type dirt which can shorten the life of your rug or carpet considerably. Soil and wear are generally noticeable in heavy traffic areas such as an entrance way, and a good mat will help to reduce this problem.

* * *

The National Institute of Rug Cleaning also warns that as soon as traffic areas (and especially around entrances) begin to show soil, they should receive professional cleaning.

* * *

If the soiling is allowed to continue and become more noticeable, the dirt may actually be ground into the fiber making removal almost impossible. Such areas would then become dull and gray looking detracting from the overall appearance of the carpeted area.

Browns Make Fable Out of Colts' Offensive Power for NFL Title

Cleveland's Defense Tough in 27-0 Rout

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

CLEVELAND — The experts said for weeks that the Cleveland Browns didn't have a defense to stop the most powerful offensive machine in pro football, the Baltimore Colts.

They also said quarterback John Unitas would pick Cleveland secondary apart with his passing and his great corps of receivers.

But, the Eastern Division Browns proved these beliefs to be as fabled as Santa Claus as they routed the Western Division Colts, 27-0 before 80,000 in cold, windy Municipal Stadium.

For former Detroit Lions' assistant Don Shula, in his second year as head coach at Baltimore, it was a bitter defeat as he tried to defeat his former teacher, Blanton Collier for the National Football League championship.

All of the odds were against the Browns, who had to struggle right up to the final weekend to win the title in the "weaker" Eastern Division of the NFL, while the Colts were running away with the Western section.

* * *

Jimmy Brown, pro football's greatest runner of all time; Frank Ryan called the "hot and cold" quarterback of the NFL and Gary Collins, a lanky three-year end, snubbed by most all-pro choices, made believers out of the experts and the Baltimore defense.

Both teams muffed scoring opportunities in the scoreless first half, but the Browns outwitted the Baltimore defense in the final two stanza's with Collins taking three touchdown passes and ageless Lou Groza booting two field goals and three PAT's to account for all of the scoring.

Midway in the first quarter, the Browns reached the Colt 34, but Don Shinnick intercepted a Ryan pass to stop the threat.

Baltimore moved to the Cleveland 42, and with Unitas hitting on his first five passes, it appeared that the powerful Colt offensive machine was ready to start picking apart the Browns' defense.

LOSE FG CHANCE

Passing to Ray Berry and picking up good yardage himself, Unitas took the Colts to the Browns' 21. Just as the second period started, Lou Michaels lined up for a 25 yard field goal. Bobby Boyd dropped the snap from center and as he tried to run it out, he was hit on the 28 and the Browns took over.

This ended any threats for the first half.

A poor punt of only 24 yards against the strong wind, gave Cleveland the ball on the Baltimore 47 and six plays later, Groza split the uprights for a 3-0 lead from 43 yards.

Another punt was forced and the Browns took over on their own 32. Jimmy Brown took a pitchout from Ryan, swept end and reached the Colt 18 for a 46 yard gain. Before Baltimore knew what happened, Ryan hit Collins for the 18 yard touchdown.

* * *

Three plays later another Baltimore punt followed and again the Cleveland defense enabled its offense to take over. On the second play from scrimmage, Collins got by Boyd and Ryan hit him all alone at the 25 to complete a 40-yard touchdown play to make it 17-0.

After the kickoff the Colts' finally crossed midfield but Lenny Moore fumbled and Cleveland's Paul Wiggin recovered on the 48.

The 4th period started and in four plays the Browns reached the Baltimore two yard line. Taking out the two corner linebackers, coach Shula threw in six huge linemen to stop the touchdown. Three plays netted the Browns a minus two yards and so Groza added three points from the nine.

There were six minutes left when Ryan again connected with Collins over the head of Boyd for a 51 yard touchdown play to ice the victory.

The Browns were superb. It was their first NFL championship since whipping the LA Rams in 1955, 38-14 and it was a personal accomplishment for Jimmy Brown.

CATCHER — Flanker Gary Collins handled the 'catching' chores for the Cleveland Browns in their triumph over the Baltimore Colts in the National Football League championship game. Collins reached for the ball (above) for a third-quarter score. The rangy end snared three TD passes.

Beach Is Lauded for Job on Berry

* * *

CLEVELAND — Pontiac and area grid stars sparkled for both the victorious Cleveland Browns and the defeated Baltimore Colts in yesterday's NFL championship.

Coach Blanton Collier paid a personal tribute to Pontiac's Walt Beach, who had the task of following one of the game's greatest ends Ray Berry.

"Walt did a great job on Berry," said Collier, "because Unitas looked for him several times but found Walt sticking to him. This forced him to run or to throw more hurriedly to someone else."

Berry got away from Beach on a 13 yard pass, when Walt slipped in the first quarter, and Berry took a short flare pass for 12 yards in the second quarter. But, just before the half ended, Beach broke up two long passes to Berry and Moore.

* * *

He had one of the two Cleveland interceptions and he outplayed his counter-part Bobby Boyd, all-pro cornerback of the Colts.

GOAT'S ROLE

Boyd would probably have to take the goat's role in the game. He muffed the Colts' first scoring chance by losing the snap on an attempted 25 yard field goal; he was called for pass interference twice and he let Gary Collins get by him on two touchdown passes.

Kanicki a defensive tackle hit Len Moore to cause a fumble and he constantly put pressure on Unitas and the Colts' running game.

* * *

Stonebreaker, drafted by Minnesota after a great pass receiving career at U. of D., was traded to Baltimore in pre-season and he has been given much of the credit for Baltimore's defensive work all season.

"This was the biggest thrill of my football career," said the 29-year-old Beach, who will receive an $8,000 share of the championship money, the largest individual shares per player ever made from the NFL title game.

SHULA DISGUSTED

The loser's each will receive $5,000, but the result of the game was evident in the disgusted tone of voice of coach Don Shula.

He credited the Browns with doing a fine defensive job but he also said, "It was a complete lack of offense as well. We had zero on the scoreboard and I wasn't satisfied with anyone."

* * *

He said the Browns showed him nothing new in the way of defense, admitted that "We messed up own defense on those first two touchdowns by Collins, but that third one was a great catch."

AIRBORNE — Cleveland's Jimmy Brown (32) is knocked off his feet by a Baltimore tackler after ripping off some long yardage in the title game yesterday. Brown had over 100 yards rushing while the entire Baltimore ground game gained only 82 yards, as the Browns won, 27-0.

PCH's Margin 12-2 in City Series

Wings Break Even in Weekend Tilts

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, survivors of a three-game-in-three nights killer series, still hold a solid grip on third place in the National Hockey League.

Floyd Smith's winning second period goal over the sensational net minding of New York's masked marvel Jacques Plante for a 3-1 victory Sunday night staved off near disaster for the Wings.

* * *

Detroit, which has tied and lost in the previous two games, had to win to keep pace with the runner-up Chicago Black Hawks in the pursuit of the league-leading Montreal Canadiens.

Chicago won Sunday night from Boston 6-2 in the only other NHL action. The Hawks now trail the Canadiens by two points and the Red Wings lag by four. Detroit holds third place by three points over Toronto.

* * *

The Wings' Sunday night victory, before a standing room only crowd of 14,125, came after a 6-3 drubbing by Montreal at Montreal Saturday night. The Wings had tied Montreal 2-2 Friday night at Detroit.

Smith, scoring his eighth goal of the season, beat goalie Plante at 19:26 of the third period in breaking a 1-1 tie. He assisted on Ron Murphy's first period score for Detroit.

EMPTY NET

Norm Ullman, scoring his 14th, shot into an empty New York net in the last 21 seconds of play as the Rangers benched their goalie for an extra man up front.

The lone New York goal, by Vic Hadfield in the second period, spoiled Roger Crozier's hopes for a fourth shutout. Crozier came back to action after sub goalie Carl Wetzel absorbed Saturday night's loss.

* * *

Plante, who made 41 saves to Crozier's 25, was the night's top performer though in a losing cause as the Rangers dropped their eighth in the last 10 games.

The Ranger goalie stole at least half a dozen goals from Detroit in the first two periods, stopping virtually point-blank shots, and in the third period he fended off an almost sure goal by Alex Delvecchio.

Vet Goalies Get Pelted in AHL Tilts

By The Associated Press

No one can blame goalies Hank Bassen of Pittsburgh and Gump Worsley of Quebec if they complain about working conditions in the American Hockey League.

The conditions were such Sunday night that the Buffalo Bisons fired 52 shots at Bassen in their 9-0 victory over the Hornets and the Rochester Americans pelted Worsley with 51 shots in their 7-1 triumph over the Aces.

* * *

Cleveland stopped Hershey 3-1 and Providence whipped Baltimore 6-3 in other games.

Bassen was particularly plagued by Len Lunde, Art Stratton and Pat Hannigan as he allowed four goals in each of the last two periods. Lunde scored three goals within eight minutes in the second period, assisted on each by Stratton and Hannigan.

All told, Lunde tallied four points and Stratton and Hannigan five each. Ray Cullen contributed two goals within 30 seconds early in the final period.

The Aces' loss was their worst of the season. Curiously enough, Worsley turned away 35 shots while trailing only 3-1 through the first two periods. Then in the fourth, the Americans fired in four goals while taking only nine other shots.

Rain Hampers Practice for Rose Bowl Elevens

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Michigan Coach Bump Elliott who said he just wanted his team to "run around a little bit and stay in shape" Sunday, promised stiffer practice sessions again, starting today.

The Wolverines, who meet Oregon State in the Rose Bowl Friday, worked on offense and defense and reviewed game plans in the 75-minute practice session Sunday.

"We'll work harder starting tomorrow (Monday)," Elliott said, "although we probably won't hit hard again this week."

Following dinner Wednesday, the Wolverines will move out of their Pasadena hotel headquarters to a secluded spot near Los Angeles. They'll stay there until after the game, when they return to Pasadena.

Both offensive and defensive teams drilled for two and one-half hours on the UCLA field, concentrating heavily on offense.

DRIPPING SKIES

Prothro blamed the disappointing workout in large measure on the dripping skies, which by now have turned the practice field into a sea of mud with few patches left that haven't been chewed up.

Prothro's chief complaint was that the muddy footwork makes it impossible for the Beavers to hone their timing to a fine edge.

Missing Sunday were guard Joel Heacock and end Mike Sullivan, both of whom were bedded with the flu.

Prothro said he would hold afternoon drills Monday (only a half hour if rain continues), Tuesday and Wednesday, the last being a light drill.

PATH BLOCKED — New York's Larry Cahan (5) blocks the approach of Detroit Red Wings' Bruce MacGregor (16) who tries to come in for a rebound shot after goalie Jacques Plante fell to the ice in first period of game at Olympia last night. Northern Hosts Central Cagers

Prep Tourneys Open in Area Tonight

Pontiac Northern will be seeking to cut the lopsided margin Pontiac Central carries in the city basketball series when the two teams meet tomorrow night in the PNH gym.

It will be the first of two regular scheduled meetings. The second is slated Feb. 9 at PCH.

* * *

Central holds a 12-2 edge in the series which started in 1958. The Chiefs posted the biggest margin of victory in the first cage meeting that season, winning 78-40.

The Huskies' two victories were recorded during the 1962-63 campaign. That was the season the teams split during the regular season and PNH took the regional championship.

Tickets for tomorrow's game went on sale this morning at Northern. They are $1 for adults and 75 cents for students. A capacity crowd of over 2,000 is expected.

VACATION TIME

Although this is a vacation period for most high school athletes around the county, there will be a surprisingly heavy amount of basketball action during the next three nights.

Walled Lake, Farmington, Southfield, Berkley, Cranbrook, Northville and Detroit Thurston begin tourney action tonight.

Walled Lake plays host Redford Union at 8:30 p.m. today after Berkley meets Livonia Bentley at 7 p.m. in the annual Northwest Invitational.

Co-host Farmington is entertaining Wayne in the 8:30 p.m. nightcap there following the Southfield-Ypsilanti opener.

* * *

The River Rouge Invitational pairs Northville and Thurston in an 8 o'clock tilt tonight. Cranbrook plays Schafer at that same time in the Riverview Invitational.

Utah Coach Slugged

Cage Squabble in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — A squabble over assignment of officials threatened to disrupt further the brawl-scarred Rainbow Classic basketball tournament today.

Utah State Coach Ladell Andersen was slugged by Jimmy Aiona, 46-year-old executive secretary of the Hawaii chapter of the International Association of Approved Basketball Officials after the first game of the tourney here Saturday night.

"Aiona has been relieved of his duties in this tournament," Leahey said. "This was a hard thing for us to do. Over the years, Jimmy has done a great deal for basketball in the islands but his action Saturday night leaves us no other choice."

MAY BOYCOTT

Aiona claimed that Leahey doesn't have the power to remove him and indicated there might be an officials' boycott of the tournament which resumes with a doubleheader tonight.

"It's a real squabble," said Red Rocha, former National Basketball Association star and now head coach at the University of Hawaii which is sponsoring the classic. "I don't know what's going to happen now," Rocha added.

It all started after the opening game of Saturday night's first round doubleheader when Andersen approached referee Creighton (Fuzzy) Richards to complain about "poor" calls in the Aggies 94-91 overtime loss to the Hawaii Marines.

Andersen was talking to Richards at center court when Aiona, who had been seated at the scorer's table, came up to join the discussion.

"He gave me a couple of elbows in the ribs," Aiona said, "and also was calling me all kinds of names. I don't stand for that."

★ ★ ★

Aiona, who retired as an active official at the end of last season, is Richards father-in-law.

Aiona was at the scorer's table to make a critique on the officiating and also to check on the operation of the new scoreboard at Honolulu International Center Arena.

★ ★ ★

"I didn't know he had any connection with the tournament," Andersen said.

Coach Strack Plots NY Festival Crown for No. 1 Wolverines

There's good reason for it. His mighty Wolverines own the No. 1 ranking among the nations' collegiate teams and are heavily favored to take the title against what may be the best field ever assembled in the 13-year history of the tourney.

★ ★ ★

"We've got a good team," Strack said. "We only lost one starter, a 5-10 backcourt man, from last year's team, and we finished third in the NCAA tourney then.

"We've got good height in (Bill) Buntin and (Oliver) Darden, strength, rebounding, a good bench and Cazzie Russell."

Then Strack went on to talk about Russell, his 6-foot-5 ace who led the team as a sophomore last season, and was one of the players invited to the U.S. Olympic trials, but was not chosen for the team.

SORE ANKLE

"He should have been," Strack said. "There aren't 12 basketball players in this country better than he is. He had injured an ankle in the NCAA tourney, but still led us past Kansas State in the game for third place.

"Then he went to the Olympic trials with the ankle sore and swollen and perhaps didn't look as good as he could have. But he's 100 per cent now, and when Russell's 100 per cent, that's something."

Russell, accompanied by the burly 6-7 Buntin, the celver Darden, also 6-7, and 6-5 Larry Tregoning, the other returnee from last year's team, have compiled a 6-1 record. The only loss was a one-point upset by Nebraska.

Michigan goes against a hopeful Manhattan team, 5-1, in the first game of tonight's doubleheader, at 7 p.m. with Cincinnati, 6-1, meeting Temple, 5-2, in the nightcap.

The tourney opened this afternoon with St. John's, N.Y., 4-2, playing LaSalle, 5-1, and Princeton, 4-2, with All-America Bill Bradley, meeting Syracuse, 1-5.

Bowl Track Program Amateur War Victim

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Sugar Bowl officials—whose track meet is the first casualty of post-Olympics AAU-NCAA war—aren't shedding any tears in public over their Olympics-depleted field.

★ ★ ★

"There's no use crying about something you have no control over," said meet director John Oelkers. "We've wound up with a good meet."

Sprinter Richard Stebbins of Grambling and 400-meters ace Theron Lewis of Southern—first Negroes to run in the year-end outdoor games—are stars of Tuesday's eight-event meet.

Bad luck has dogged the show. Last year, the Sugar and Orange Bowls track dates conflicted. Vaulter John Pennel and dash king Bob Hayes, courted by the Sugar people for their 30th annual games, ended up in the fledgling Miami carnival.

This year, the renewed feud between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association has forced the Sugar people—virtually at the 11th hour—to limit the meet to college runners.

The pole vault had to be dropped. And so did invitations to such cinder greats as Ralph Boston, Dyrol Burleson, Jim Grelle, Bill Dellenger, Blaine Lindgren, Billy Hardin and Ulis Williams.

★ ★ ★

Oelkers, who had the field in his pocket in September, had to start all over in mid-November.

"Of course, I'm deeply disappointed at not being able to bring the Olympic starts here," said Oelkers. "This would have been the greatest meet ever for the Sugar people."

Clifford H. Buck, president of the AAU, said at Granby, Ohio, he hadn't received detailed word on the Sugar Bowl meet. But he felt "open competition could be held if the MacArthur plan were followed."

★ ★ ★

The late Gen. Douglas MacArthur's compromise authorized the AAU to be the only sanctioning body for open meets—that is between AAU and college runners.

Jinx Confronts Coach at LSU

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Charlie McClendon will be trying to break a precedent when his Louisiana State football Tigers clash with Syracuse in the 30th renewal of the Sugar Bowl New Year's day.

McClendon will be the fourth man to coach a team in the Sugar Bowl after having appeared in the New Orleans post-season classic as a player.

★ ★ ★

The other three — Arkansas' Frank Broyles, Texas' Darrell Royal and former LSU coach Gaynell Tinsley — all lost when they brought their teams to the Sugar Bowl.

The 41-year-old McClendon, a soft speaking Arkansas native who never played football until he got to college after World War II, was a cornerback on Paul (Bear) Bryant's Kentucky team which upset national champion Oklahoma 13-7 in the 1951 Sugar Bowl.

Total of 3,091 for Team Title

Chicovsky's 690 Tops Bowlerama Event

Led by Chico Chicovsky's 690 actual, the team event of the Pontiac Bowlerama concluded at 300 Bowl yesterday as Robbie Roberts, Gary Williams, Garry Crake and Billy "G" combined for a 3091 total and the first price of $320.

Chicovsky's 690 was the lone total over 600. Roberts had 583 Williams 522, Crake 540 and Billy "G" 556. Four of the second place team were over 600, led by Kirkland's 622 actual.

Blue-Gray Future Cloudy

College 11s Kick Off Bowl Season

By The Associated Press

While a quartet of seniors on Georgia's Sun Bowl winners looked forward to bright futures in professional football, storm clouds lingered over the Blue-Gray all-star game at Montgomery, Ala.

Armchair quarterbacks, meanwhile, savored the prospect of a television marathon New Year's Day and Saturday, when six classics — Rose, Cotton, Orange, Sugar, Gator and East-West Shrine — will be beamed nationally.

The Philadelphia Eagles signed fullback Lankewicz, who scored the game's only touchdown on a two-yard plunge and 225-pound tackle Rismiller, their second-round draft choice. Wilson, a 245-pound tackle who spearheaded Georgia's tenacious defense in the Sun Bowl and was named the outstanding player in the game, and Swinford signed with the San Francisco 49ers.

BECOMES COWBOY

At Montgomery, where Penn State quarterback Gary Wyd-man passed the Blue stars to a 10-6 victory over the Gray in the rain, game officials — facing a loss of prestige because of their segregation stand — pondered a possible lifting of the racial barrier which has cost them a national television contract.

A Blue-Gray source said Sunday he believes the future of the 27-year fixture will be insured only if Negro gridders are invited to participate.

Saturday's game, which drew a crowd of 16,000 and was televised regionally into six states on a special network, was a defensive battle decided by Wydman's 30-yard scoring pass to Bill Cronin of Boston College in the third period.

The touchdown gave the Yankees a 10-0 lead — Minnesota's Mike Reid had kicked a 28-yard field goal earlier — and offset a Gray score on VMI quarterback Bob Schweikert's five-yard pass to John Brotherton of Texas A&M.

The Orange Bowl pairing of Texas and Alabama, the 1963 and 1964 national champion, respectively, heads the New Year's bill and completes an NBC triple-header. The Miami attraction, to be played for the first time after dark, has an 8 p.m., EST, kickoff.

★ ★ ★

The Crimson Tide, unbeaten in 10 regular-season games, and the Longhorns, winners in nine of 10 starts, follow an afternoon card that matches Louisiana State, 7-2-1, and Syracuse, 7-3, in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans; Arkansas, 10-0, and Nebraska, 9-1, in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas and Michigan, 8-1, and Oregon State, 8-2, in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

Soccer Fan Killed During Beirut Match

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A spectator was shot fatally Sunday by another spectator who didn't like a referee's decision in a soccer match between the Mazraa and Safa teams of Beirut. Two other matches were brought to a halt by fights.

The disgruntled spectator began firing a pistol, protesting the referee's call. When several members of the crowd tried to stop the shooting, the unidentified man shot into the crowd, killing one man and wounding another, police said.

At another game in the city, spectators attacked a player after he scored a goal against the favored team. The game broke up in a near riot. A third game was suspended when the crowd surged into the field and prevented play from continuing.

Linebacker's Two Plays Key Buffalo Title Victory

BUFFALO (AP) — Mike Stratton, 230-pound Buffalo linebacker, was the key man in two crucial plays that pointed the Bills to a 20-7 victory over San Diego and their first American Football League championship.

Both the losing coach and quarterback, Sid Gillman and Tobin Rote, named Stratton's play as decisive in their reviews of the championship game Saturday.

"If I hadn't underthrown that pass in the second quarter, we might have gotten some kind of score and turned the game in a different direction," said Rote, a 36-year-old veteran of three professional leagues who had played his last game.

He referred to a first down play in the closing minutes of the first half. Buffalo had a 13-7 lead, but the Chargers were driving from the Bills' 15. Stratton picked off a Rote pass to end the threat.

TURNING POINT

"If there was a turning point," Gillman said, "that pass interception was it.

"The loss of Keith Lincoln also hurt us. I would say, if anything, his loss helped Buffalo a great deal—we lost a lot of our football team when Lincoln was injured."

In the first 6½ minutes he had picked up 47 yards rushing and had taken a pass for 11 more. Then Stratton nailed him with a crushing tackle and the San Diego fullback lay writhing on the ground. He eventually made his way to the sidelines and was through for the day—a right rib broken.

San Diego, sparked by Lincoln, swept 80 yards on a touchdown drive the first time the Chargers got their hands on the ball. Lincoln accounted for the first 54 yards, including a 38-yard run, and Rote hit Dave Kocourek with a 26-yard touchdown pass.

★ ★ ★

Pete Gogolak got the Bills back in stride with a 12-yard field goal, Wray Carlton slammed over for the go-ahead touchdown a few minutes later and the Bills were ahead to stay.

Jackie Kemp, who completed 10 of 20 passes for 188 yards, sneaked over from the one for the other Buffalo touchdown and Gogolak added another field goal from the 11.

Buffalo fullback Cookie Gilchrist, who carried 16 times for 122 yards and took two passes for 22 more, was non-committal over reports that he may retire.

Hughes Scores 36 Points

Pontiac Nips Muskegon in Overtime

MUSKEGON — Defense has not been a strong point with either the Pontiac Nationals or the Muskegon Panthers, but both proved their offenses were not to be slighted Saturday night.

Pontiac won a 150-145 overtime thriller that set scoring records for the North American Basketball league. The visiting Nationals spurted out five points in the last 35 seconds of the overtime period to sew up their third win.

★ ★ ★

Al Cech cashed one of two free throws to break a 145 deadlock at the 4:25 mark of the overtime. Willie Merriweather hit two charity tosses with 11 seconds to play.

Then Manny Jackson dribbled in with a stolen pass to finish the scoring on a layup with only two seconds showing.

The triumph spoiled an outstanding scoring performance by the home team's "Big Ed" Burton who put in 40 points on 13 of 22 field goals and 14 of 23 free throws — the top individual showing of the season.

But Pontiac had two sharpshooters who more than offset Burton's efforts. Merriweather and Henry Hughes, the Nationals' cocaptains, combined for 71 points.

TEAM RECORDS

Hughes had a season high of 17 field goals on 25 attempts (68 per cent) and a game high of 15 rebounds while tallying 36 points. All except the rebound totals are season highs for the team.

Merriweather connected on 12 of 22 from the floor (54 per cent) and a remarkable 10 straight free throws after missing his first try. The foul shots and successful tries are both team highs, also.

Pontiac also set a team high for the league with its 150 points. The previous high was 139 which Benton Harbor hit against both of the Saturday night combatants.

The winners trailed after one period, 36-28.

Then Hughes got hot. The former Adrian College star hit seven of nine from the floor in the second quarter as the Nationals scored 39 points and took a 67-64 lead at halftime. The third quarter saw the 6-5 co-captain hit six of eight.

It was the winners' best quarter of the season — 42 points and 19 baskets on 32 tries for 59 per cent — and the Nationals led, 109-99, after three periods.

Muskegon caught fire and fought back in the last session, but Merriweather had 17 of his points during the last quarter and overtime to carry Pontiac past the crisis.

★ ★ ★

The winners are now 3-4 with games New Year's night and Saturday this week. The win moved them into third place since Chicago lost, 101-83. Christmas night in Grand Rapids and 109-106 Saturday in Benton Harbor.

Celts Nip Pistons, Pad League Lead

By The Associated Press

Even the Boston Celtics like to get some help now and then. Baltimore has been most obliging.

The Bullets obliged again Sunday night, knocking off Cincinnati 126-119. And the Celtics added another full game of their Eastern Division lead in their methodical march toward a seventh straight National Basketball Association title.

The mighty Celtics wiped out an 18 point deficit at Fort Wayne, Ind., and edged Detroit 112-106, extending their Eastern Division lead to six games over Cincinnati. St. Louis rallied for a 99-89 decision over the Knicks in New York in the only other game played Sunday.

Boston's victory was its sixth without loss against Detroit this season, and the Celtics' 11th in the last 12 games.

STRONG RALLY

The Pistons had a 57-54 halftime advantage, and increased the lead to 18 before Boston started back, paced by Sam Jones. Jones missed his first four field goal attempts in the second half, then hit 12 of 14 the rest of the way and finished with 40 points.

John Havlicek nailed it down with a couple of jump shots, breaking a 104-104 deadlock, with just over a minute left.

Baltimore scored its third victory in four starts against Cincinnati, snapping a five-game Royal winning string. Gus Johnson and Walt Bellamy each scored 32 points for the Bullets, off-setting a 48-point performance by Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson.

★ ★ ★

St. Louis trailed 52-45 at halftime, then out-scored New York 22-5 opening the third period and wasn't headed again in breaking a four-game losing string. Len Wilkens had 24 points for the winners, Jim Barnes 21 for the losers.

N.Y. Netter Duels Champ

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Herb Fitzgibbon of Garden City, N.Y., has the hot seat in today's round of the Sugar Bowl Tennis Tourney.

Fitzgibbon faced defending champion Ham Richardson of Dallas, the No. 1 seed again this year, in the quarter-finals.

Fitzgibbon barely made the quarter-finals. He defeated New Orleans' Frank Lamothe 8-6, 6-4 in the opening round Sunday.

Penn State After 2nd Motor City Crown

DETROIT (UPI) — Penn State will be trying for its second straight Motor City basketball tournament championship tonight when it meets Houston in the opening round of the tourney's 13th edition.

★ ★ ★

Tournament host Detroit will meet Valparaiso in the first game. The consolation and championship games will be played Tuesday night.

Penn State won the Motor City crown last year and has a 5-2 showing so far this season.

Penn State already has one tournament title, having beaten Kansas and Kansas State on successive nights to take the Sunflower Festival.

Houston, which will enter tonight's game with a 6-4 mark, also has won a previous four-team tournament. The Cougars defeated Auburn and Texas A&M for the Bluebonnet Bowl championship.

BALL CONTROL

The Penn State-Houston game will feature ball-control offenses and zone defenses while the Detroit-Valparaiso tussle will be a run-and-shoot affair.

★ ★ ★

In posting a 5-3 record Detroit has averaged 96 points per game, only one-tenth of a point off its pace of last season when it reigned as the nation's top offensive team.

Valparaiso, unbeaten in six starts, has averaged 89.9 points a game while holding opponents to an average of 59.4.

Detroit will be looking for its seventh tournament championship. The Titans last won in 1961 when they beat St. Bonaventure.

Last year Penn State edged Detroit in the finale, 88-83, behind sharpshooting guard Bob Weiss. Weiss, who returns with the Nittney Lions, tossed in 35 points and was named the tourney's Most Valuable Player.

Russians Down Canadian Team in Hockey Tilt

COLORADO SPRINGS (AP) — The Russian National hockey team posted its second straight victory in the three-team international tournament at the Broadmoor World Arena by turning back a determined, hard-hitting Canadian sextet 5-3 Sunday night before 4,500 fans.

Yuri Volkov, combining with Stanislav Petukhov on a breakaway against the rugged Canadian defense, broke up what had been an airtight game with his second goal of the contest to give the Soviets a two-goal lead with six minutes to play in the game. That all but wrapped it up for the current Olympic and world champions.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets added another marker deep in the third period to go out in front by three, with Vladimir Yurzinov pounding in a 12-footer. That made the final Canadian tally by Ross Parke only 14 seconds later of token value to the losers.

Self-Expression Difficult for Poor Pupil

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

"How can you question my son's ability to express ideas?" demanded the parent. "He talks on the telephone for an hour at a time!"

DR. NASON

The teacher replied: "It is not his flow of words I am deploring, but his inability to control his thoughts and express them in writing."

The inability to write letters, reports or even intelligible memoranda is often charged against high school graduates by employers.

Even college freshmen are not free from criticism in this regard. Their first attempts at composing a paragraph on specified subjects leave much to be desired.

* * *

Evidence of lack of the ability to express thoughts in writing can be found in college students' notebooks. After a day or two, when the notes are "cold," the student himself often has difficulty making sense out of them. Yet, good note-taking skill is always an asset.

Schools face a complex problem in providing a remedy. Note-taking is a complicated process for some students. At one and the same time, a student must understand what the professor is saying, organize and summarize it in his mind, and translate these thoughts into writing.

To use several skills simultaneously, the student must have gained facility through practice in each.

His ability to write good notes thus depends on the amount of practice he has given himself in translating ideas from books and lectures into his own words. It depends even more heavily on his facility in writing, which can be gained only through practice.

The student who is a poor writer not only fails to practice, but avoids writing at every opportunity. Unfortunately, students are too often allowed to do this.

REVIEWED BOOKS

Recently I reviewed two notebooks prepared by junior high school boys. Although both notebooks received above-average grades, neither contained more than a half dozen lines of written material.

They were filled with pictures and charts either cut from magazines or drawn by the student. In one notebook, the student did sign his name in cursive writing. The other few lines were hand-lettered rather than written.

While this inability to express thoughts in writing was overlooked by the teacher's grading of the notebooks, it was the major cause of the boys' generally low grades.

Both made rapid improvement in their school grades when they took the following steps:

They practiced 10 minutes a day training their hands to write easily and well. In addition, they practiced writing numbers.

They wrote and rewrote assignments, striving for clarity of statement and neat appearance.

They restated in their own words the ideas presented in reading assignments. Each day they wrote out a few of the statements just for the practice.

By OSWALD JACOBY

The weirdest hand of 1964, if not of all time, appeared in the Men's Pair event of the Summer Nationals in Toronto.

JACOBY

It was bid in almost as many ways as there were pairs that got to play it. The bidding in the box was about as normal as any.

East was down five at seven spades for a loss of 1,400 which was the best East and West could do since seven hearts was a lay down and worth 2,210 points.

Curiously enough, while a few North players were allowed to play six hearts and score 1,460 points, not one who bid seven was permitted to collect the grand slam bonus.

A few East players decided on unusual action with their seven-card spade suits and jumped right to five spades over the opening two-heart bid. This made it impossible for North and South to use Blackwood and a couple of South players went to seven no-trump after East defended at seven spades.

East doubled and South redoubled, thereby producing just about the largest swing under the present scoring rules.

One West player decided that East was doubling for an unusual lead and opened a diamond, whereupon South scored 880 plus 500 plus 50 or a total of 2,930 points. The other West player decided that his partner was just making an ordinary penalty double and led a spade to set the hand seven tricks and collect a 14,400-point penalty.

♥♠ CARD Sense ♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♣	Dble.	Pass	?

You, South, hold: ♠7543 ♥A54 ♦QJ108 ♣432

What do you do?

A—Bid one spade. This hand is worth two bids and you want to show the major suit first.

TODAY'S QUESTION

No Sign of Rally

Market Slips in Dull Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market weakened somewhat in dull trading early this afternoon.

There was no sign of the traditional year-end rally developing as the year's last week of trading began.

★ ★ ★

Granite City Steel, which joined in the spreading price increase for galvanized sheets, advanced slightly. U.S. Steel and Jones & Laughlin were up almost half a point.

Public Service of New England lacked on half a point while American Telephone was ahead by a lesser fraction.

The price rise of gold in London was reflected in gold mining stocks. American South African added a point and Dome picked up almost a point. McIntyre-Porcupine and Homestake were up slightly.

★ ★ ★

The rails were mixed with Atlantic Coast Line and Southern Pacific losing about the same.

In the nonferrous metals group, Kennecott, American Smelting and International Nickel made minor gains.

The drugs were mixed with Merck up about half a point and Schering off about the same.

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Chromal gained about a point. Fractional advances were made by Continental Telephone, Cutler Fotochrome, Lynch and Syntex.

Corporate and Treasury bonds declined.

Airlines Head for Big Year

1964 May Be Most Profitable in History

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's scheduled airlines may wind up 1964 with the most profitable year in history by carrying a record 82 million passengers.

★ ★ ★

Final figures will not be in until some time after Jan. 1, but the Air Transport Association (ATA) lists the industry's net profit from January through September at more than $173 million after taxes. The final 1964 figure could reach $200 million.

★ ★ ★

When jets first began flying six years ago, they needed about a 60 per cent load factor to break even — load factor being the percentage of seats occupied by paying passengers. Now the break - even load factor is down to about 45 per cent and on some carriers even lower.

DOMINANT CARRIER

It was in 1963 that the airlines became the dominant interstate common carrier, hauling about 51 per cent of all such intercity traffic.

They have consolidated their position in 1964, with air transportation accounting for nearly 55 per cent of common carrier passenger miles.

The past 12 months have seen a continuing trend toward lower-priced coach and economy service.

★ ★ ★

Only a decade ago, about one out of four passengers flew coach. The 1964 record shows three out of every four customers using the lower-priced services, a 5 per cent decline over 1963.

SLIGHT DECLINE

This meant a slight decline in average revenue per passenger mile. But the decrease was swallowed up by the jets' expanding efficiency and a whopping boost in total passengers carried.

★ ★ ★

ATA estimates that by the end of the year, the scheduled airlines will have carried 82 million passengers, 10 million more than in 1963. The preliminary figures for freight, express and mail show increases of 26, 11 and 3 per cent, respectively.

Grain Prices Down in Early Trading

After about an hour soybeans were ⅜ to 1½ cent a bushel lower. January $2.90¼; wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cents lower, March $1.50¾; corn unchanged to ½ lower, March $1.25¾; oats ⅜ to ¼ higher, March 71½ cents, and rye was unchanged to ⅛ lower, March $1.25.

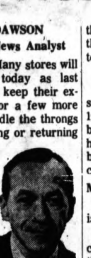
Swaps, Clearances Keep Stores Busy

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Many stores will be as crowded today as last week. Many will keep their extra clerks over for a few more more days to handle the throngs bent on exchanging or returning Christmas presents.



DAWSON

Merchants also are preparing for upcoming clearance sales with more items added to the list, while others will have bigger price discounts this time than last.

Some stores have tighter rules than formerly about exchanging those gifts that aren't quite right. They're making sure the goods were really bought where the exchange is sought.

Most take the rush in stride. They put up with the unprofitable business of exchanges, hoping that many of those coming in to get a more wearable necktie will be leaving with some extra merchandise. That's known as impulse buying generated by traffic through store aisles.

BIG VOLUME

The big volume of December sales probably has left less distressed merchandise on hand than usual. But a number of merchants already have laid plans for bigger than normal clearance sales. Some items will be marked down more than last year. Often the weather calls the tune. Where there was a surprisingly balmy autumn, merchants may have unsold overcoats. Toys moved very well this December. But January markdowns will be common.

Merchants also are eager to take advantage of their customers currently free-spending mood as long as it's running strong. High-priced luxury items moved particularly well this December. In January the merchants will be aiming at the bargain hunters.

★ ★ ★

And a few will admit privately that some of the goods to be put on sale at hopefully attractive prices in the days and weeks ahead were bought for that purpose and weren't part of the stock displayed on the counters in December.

★ ★ ★

Retailers also are counting on sales in the first few months of 1965 topping this year's figures by about 5 per cent. With overhead fairly steady, that could bring them a 10 per cent increase in profits.

MAJOR BUSINESS

But today the major business is exchanges.

The usual run of customers crowding the stores will be those who got gift garments of the wrong size or in colors they loathe or objects they couldn't possibly use. Some will be returning gifts and asking for credit against future purchases.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes the credit from certificates or returned goods is made on charge accounts, sometimes credit slips are issued, in a few cases these slips are called store money.

NO EXCHANGE

Most stores now thwart some of the old tricks of crafty customers. Their goods are marked so that someone who bought an item in a popularly priced outlet can't pass it off for exchange in a prestige store. Certain items can't be exchanged at all in many stores — evening dresses, cosmetics, food, costume jewelry, sealed items with the seal broken — nor, of course, tree decorations.

Nor will all receivers of Christmas ties be in today's rush to the exchange counters. Conceivably a few fathers may not make it downtown at all, they will be still at home, struggling to assemble the mechanical marvels purchased for junior.

The Federal Trade Commission has labeled this "the Christmas Eve battle of the bruised knuckles." A family head here and there may still be battling it out on that line, even though it already has taken all weekend.

Charge Peking Aids Indonesia

Malaysia Says Reds at Work in Borneo

KUALA LUMPUR (UPI)—Malaysia charged today that a Red Chinese "fifth column" in Borneo is aiding Indonesian efforts to "establish . . . a Communist dictatorship" on the divided island.

★ ★ ★

A government announcement said captured Communist documents place all members of a so-called "National Liberation League" under the direct orders of a Red underground group.

The documents, written in Chinese, instructed the organization to recruit its membership from Malaysians of Chinese origin.

It was told to accept non-Chinese members only with strict caution.

★ ★ ★

The government said it would outlaw the organization on grounds it is "simply and solely a tool of the Communists in their campaign, in alliance with the Indonesians, to enslave the people and to establish in Borneo . . . a Communist dictatorship under the directorship of Mao Tse-tung and the government of Red China."

PAPERS CAPTURED

According to the announcement, the documents were captured on Nov. 1 and Nov. 5 in two villages in Borneo.

★ ★ ★

An estimated 1,000 Chinese residents of Malaysian Borneo crossed the border into Indonesian territory in 1962 and 1963, allegedly for training in guerrilla tactics to support Indonesian efforts to "crush Malaysia."

Thieves Raid Home of Queen's Cousin

TIVERTON, England (AP) — A pair of burglars raided the country home of Mrs. Denys Rhodes, a cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, and made off with money belonging to the Maharani of Sikkim.

Police didn't disclose the amount of money taken from the Maharani, who is the former Hope Cook, a New York socialite. The thieves also took some of Mrs. Rhodes' jewels, including a brooch given to her as a wedding present by the queen.

India Denies U. S. Arms Used Against Pakistan

NEW DELHI (AP) — Defense ministry spokesmen today denied Pakistan's charge that Indian troops are using American-made weapons in clashes with Pakistani troops along the cease-fire line in Kashmir.

U.S. military aid was granted India in 1962 with the understanding it would not be used against Pakistan.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: The Dip-Needle.

NEEDED: A long needle, a short needle, a cork, a drinking glass, a magnet.

DO THIS: Stick both needles through the cork and make them balance exactly on the rim of the glass. Magnetize the small needle by rubbing the eye of it on one end of the permanent magnet.

When the needles and cork are again placed on the glass, with the small needle in a north-south direction, they will not balance level as before.

HERE'S WHY: The needle will dip, to show that the earth's magnetic lines do not run parallel to the surface of the earth, but extend downward to a point inside the earth.

The amount of dip will vary according to the locality on the earth in which the experiment is tried. There is no dip at the equator.

The newest collection of these experiments is in book form called "Science Circus No. 2." It is available at bookstores or from Bob Brown, care of The Pontiac Press.

She Finds Wildlife Is Too Wild

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Raymond Carter thought the lake which almost surrounds her home needed a little wildlife. She didn't know it already had some.

She ordered 15 baby ducks. They arrived at her home, age 3 days. For five weeks, she kept them huddled beneath a bedroom lamp and 12 of them survived. Then she let them out.

Ducks kept disappearing. One day she noticed what appeared to be a log trailing her waddlers. After that she penned them up a night.

But one night the ducks wouldn't come home. About 11 p.m., she says, she heard a great snorting, quacking commotion. She rushed outside and found seven very excited ducks, and two dead ones.

That did it. Mrs. Carter has appealed to the county wildlife officer to make her lake safe for her ducklings by removing the original inhabitant, an alligator.

The educational attainment gap between the whites and nonwhites is slowly narrowing. In 1940, the difference in the median school years completed by persons of each race over age 25 was 2.7 years, in 1960 it was 2.1 years.

Mother Is In Jail

Abandoned Baby Placed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Tammy Lee Jones, the 14-month-old baby found after being abandoned in a cotton field two nights and one day, has been placed in a foster home.

Police Sgt. Evan Wilson said the child, once presumed dead, suffered only a "light case of sniffles" and was discharged from a hospital yesterday.

Police began a search for the child on Christmas Eve after her mother, Mrs. Wayne Gregory, 27, reported that Tammy was kidnaped in front of their home in nearby Mesa.

Wilson said Mrs. Gregory later admitted she had left the child in the field after finding her limp in the family car and believing her dead. Tammy was found after 37 hours.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gregory is serving a 30-day jail sentence for giving a false report.

Paper Strike Sets Record

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A strike by American Newspaper Guild Local 11 against the Youngstown Vindicator Sunday night passed the 131-day record set last fall in Detroit for a strike against a metropolitan newspaper.

★ ★ ★

An exchange of statements marked the occasion, with each side blaming the other for the lack of negotiations in their dispute and calling for a renewal of talks. The last bargaining session, one of only a few widely spaced meetings, was held in mid-November. No new sessions are scheduled.

About 450 employees of the afternoon daily, including 110 guildmen, walked out Aug. 18 after a breakdown in efforts to negotiate initial coverage provisions for a group of 42 outside circulation employes who voted in a National Labor relations Board election last spring to have the guild represent them.

Use of the expression "down to brass tacks" to imply getting down to the actual fact started with sailing. The reference was to the cleaning of the hull of ships so thoroughly that the brass-colored bolts on the bottom were exposed.

Tony Curtis Not 'Sour' About Uncooperative Actor Award

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — "Gee, you'd think they'd let me know about it," said Tony Curtis of his election as most uncooperative male star by the Hollywood Women's Press Club. "The first thing I knew of it was when I read the news in the paper."

Tony was dealt the club's Sour Apple award, along with Doris Day — most cooperative stars: Donna Reed, Lorne Greene. The Bronx lad's reaction was a mixture of surprise, bewilderment and faint amusement.

THOMAS

"The girls gave me the Golden Apple twice for most cooperative star," he reflected. "Now the Sour Apple. You gotta say this: I'm versatile."

* * *

What happened to turn Tony from sweetheart of the press ladies to pinup boy on their dart boards?

"When I first started in this business, I did everything they told me to," he said. "Look — it was great for me. I was a young punk who almost got arrested for loitering by hanging around on street corners in the Bronx. I didn't have the stuff to come through as an actor, so it was the best thing for me to have all that publicity exposure.

DID LAYOUTS

"I went to the beach and did layouts in my bathing suit, on sets, with my dog. I was a big star — in the magazines."

But publicity isn't everything — if it were, Jayne Mansfield and Zsa Zsa Gabor would be the biggest stars in Hollywood. Tony realized he'd have to produce on the screen, as well as in the gossip columns, and he devoted himself to that end.

* * *

His film fortunes improved immensely and he became one of Hollywood's big-money stars. Still he played the publicity game — until his divorce from Janet Leigh.

"That's when some of the fan magazines started getting very nasty," Tony said. "They started printing stories that hurt not only me but my daughters and my wife Christine Kaufmann.

NO MORE

"That's when I decided no more of that jazz. I used to wear my heart on my sleeve, but I won't do it any more. I do my job at the studio the best I can. The other part of my life is my own property now. I'm not going to let them come into my home."

Tony emphasized that his relations with the general press remain cordial and the "uncooperative" tag does not extend to his attitude toward his fellow workers. It's the fan mag writers who find him unhelpful, he said, and that's how it will remain.

"Right now I'm coaching Jack Lemmon in how to win the Sour Apple next year," he added in a lighter tone. "In fact I'm working up a set of rules that would make him a sure winner."

Overfeeding of Pets Big Fat Mistake

CHICAGO (AP) — Have you a bloated bloodhound?

It's not surprising if you have, says the managing director of the Anti-Cruelty Society. Chunky chihuahuas, flabby tabbies and pudgy parakeets are getting more common every day, living the soft city life.

The director, J. J. Shaffer, said in an interview he thinks people feed their animals the same way they feed themselves, accounting for the amusing sight of the well-fed man and his portly pet who look a lot like twins.

Scientific diet and exercise, Shaffer added, are the only solutions for both.

WADDLING DOG

"If your dog starts waddling around like a duck and looks as big around as a balloon, it's time to consult your veterinarian," Shaffer said.

The society's veterinarian concurred.

Galen said fat animals have the same heart, liver, blood pressure and laziness problems that affect humans.

FOR THE BIRDS

Shaffer said obesity warnings "go double for birds."

He said owners think it cute to feed their parakeets martinis.

"It isn't such a joke when the bird begins to lay the fat on," Shaffer warned. "A lot of people have fed birds to a short life.

* * *

He conceded that cats generally are dainty eaters, but "there are a few gourmands around."

BALANCED DIET

The solution? A balanced, curtailed diet — preferably from a veterinarian — and longer walks, Shaffer said. But no crash dieting. It's as hard on Rover as it is on the master, he said.

And no people food.

Priest Picks Exile After 'Silencing'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest says he is going into "self-imposed exile" from the Los Angeles archdiocese "as the strongest protest I can make" because "I was ordered to maintain a silence on racism."

★ ★ ★

The Rev. John V. Coffield, 49, called his departure "a solution to an impasse between my cardinal (James Francis Cardinal McIntyre) and myself."

★ ★ ★

The cardinal was not available for comment.

Father Coffield said in a farewell statement to his parishioners that he was ordered to take a five-month "enforced vacation" from California earlier this year because he had spoken out against controversial Proposition 14.

NULLIFIED LAWS

The proposition, upheld by voters last November, amended the state constitution to prohibit any abridgement of an individual's choice to whom he might sell or rent a home or apartment. In effect, it nullified state antidiscrimination housing laws.

★ ★ ★

"Scarcely anyone knew of the shocking way I was ordered out of California after I had spoken out against Proposition 14," Father Coffield said in his statement.

★ ★ ★

"I was ordered out on June 22 and was not allowed back until Nov. 15," he said. "I was hopeful that silent acceptance of the injustice to me and my parishioners would help defeat the proposition. I was so wrong. I should have fought it openly.

"I want to have no part in the continuing silence and lack of repentence which is daily driving away many excellent people.

"On Saturday, Nov. 14, I was ordered to maintain a silence on racism. I chose instead a self-imposed exile from the diocese as a gesture of protest against, and rather than be a part of, the continuing evil of silence.

★ ★ ★

"I also accept my exile as a solution to an impasse between my cardinal and myself."

Ex-Actor Waits Offstage for Senate Entrance Cue

By EARL WILSON

LOS ANGELES—"Senator Murphy returning your call . . . ," a voice on the telephone sang out cheerfully.

Song-and-Dance Man George Murphy wouldn't be sworn in for over a week, but at least some of his staffers were functioning as though he had already been seated in the U.S. Senate. The senator-elect got on the phone himslf and gave off with a groan, or maybe a sigh.

"Gee," he said, "I thought the campaigning would be worse, but I don't know. I'm starting to get those 'fringe benefits' . . .

"All those people who have just got to see you," he explained. "The mail piles in at about 400 letters a day. If I can get sprung here," he went on, "I can meet you . . ."

"You're too busy," I said. "Just tell me a few things . . ."

When Mr. Murphy goes to Washington" it will be rather simple and dignified—no big pilgrimage as had been reported. There'll be the Murphy family, including George Murphy's son Dennis, 25, a former cameraman at the Disney studios who will be on his father's Washington staff, and a brother, "Mike" Murphy, a Detroit steel executive, and a sister from Grand Rapids. They'll be going to the capital Jan. 2 for the swearing-in . . . the first time, so far as anybody can remember, that an actor will have become a U.S. Senator.

"Does this mean that other show people might get into politics and run for office in California?" I asked Murphy . . . reminding him of a Friars Club joke that Ronald Reagan and Milton Berle might oppose each other for governor.

"I don't know," Murphy said. "I never thought about running myself until about a year ago. But with a little good luck I think I can do some good. I know the problems of the state which is the reason I was elected."

Amendments to Unemployment Act Big Factor

Michigan Said Most Desirable Among Eight Industrial States

DETROIT (AP)—A researchers' report says Michigan is the "most desirable" among eight comparable industrial states for new industry because of amendments to its strike-related unemployment compensation laws.

* * *

The W. E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research comes to this conclusion, assuming "all other factors" are the same.

The Kalamazoo institute made the report public on the weekend. It was the last in a series of five studies on aspects of Michigan's economy.

Upjohn Institute said it arson.

The other states were Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, rived at its findings from comparing the amended Michigan Employment Security Act with the statutes of seven other comparable states. Court decisions were included in the comparilight of the 1963 amendment to the Michigan act resulting from the controversial Supreme Court decision in the 1959 Ford-Canton strike.

* * *

Under the court decision nonstriking Ford workers in Michigan who were laid off in a strike at the Canton, Ohio, Ford foundry were given unemployment compensation. Ford said the Michigan layoffs were necessary because of a strike-caused lack of supplies from the Ohio plant.

* * *

'MOST DESIRABLE'

Upjohn Institute said the act's amendments have made Michigan the "most desirable among the selected (eight) states for industrial plant location, assuming that all other factors influencing such management decision-making remain the same in comparison."

* * *

Exception was taken by the Employers' Unemployment Compensation Council to the Institute's conclusions. The Council represents approximately 1,000 Michigan employers.

Colin Smith, executive secretary, criticized the institute's selection of other states for comparisons. Smith said these states have "looser provisions" in laws bearing on unemployment compensation in strikes.

Five Walk Away From Plane Crash

By L.GARY THORNE

A Bloomfield Township family of five escaped serious injury yesterday when their air plane crashed into a back yard just north of Pontiac Municipal Airport.

★ ★ ★

Piloted by Robert C. Hollenbeck, 35, of 3076 Betsy Ross, Bloomfield Township, the single-engine Bonanza Beechcraft clipped a power line and uprooted a tree before landing back of a house at 2231 Ellery, Waterford Township.

Hollenbeck told police the plane's aileron, a control flap on the wing, failed to function after he had made a 90-degree left turn.

MINOR INJURIES

All were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. While the rest of his family was treated for minor injuries and released, Hollenbeck was held for observation.

His condition was listed as fair.

The crash occurred at 9:25 a.m. yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"We were just fixing to leave for church," said B. F. Walden, 37, of the Ellery address.

HOUSE MOVED

"I first thought it hit the end of the house because when it hit the wires it jerked the house.

"It sounded like an explosion when it hit," added Walden.

He said he rushed out to aid the crash victims, but they emerged from the wrecked plane by themselves.

★ ★ ★

HEARD SOUND

The officer's daughter, Kathy, 14, said, "I thought it was a car too, but I saw a flash of light on our wall when the wing hit the wires."

★ ★ ★

APPROPRIATE PAGE

By The Associated Press

The toll was well below the 1955 record of 609 deaths, but within the range predicted by the National Safety Council.

State Toll, Page B-1

during the 78-hour period that began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ended at midnight yesterday.

The safety council had estimated that between 550 and 650 holidays travelers would perish.

★ ★ ★

SLACK OFF

Multiple deaths pushed the toll upward in several states.

Three persons lost their lives in a collision in Wisconsin Rapids and three others were killed in a smash-up in northern Illinois.

NEW RECORD

The toll in Wisconsin now stands at 1,048 for 1964, well past the previous high of 957 in 1962.

Four other states also have topped earlier year-long records: Oklahoma stands at 773, compared to 762 last year; Minnesota has reported 819 deaths so far this year, breaking the old mark of 801 set in 1963; Colorado fatalities now total 551, compared to a record 508 in 1963 and Tennessee reports 1,046 deaths so far this year compared to 941 last year.

Viet Cong Position Is Overrun

DAI NGAI, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces overran major Viet Cong position yesterday, killing at least 67 guerrillas and capturing 10 others as well as a large stock of weapons.

It was one of the most significant government successes in the past year. U.S. officers believed that the position, 75 miles southwest of Saigon, was a Viet Cong zone command headquarters. The Communists have divided South Viet Nam into seven zones.

(Ten other Americans were reported wounded in other actions in the Mekong delta Sunday. Two were reported in serious condition.)

Capt. Robert W. Butler of Frederick, Md., who went into action at Dai Ngai, said of the government success: "This is as good a Christmas present as I could have wished for."

RADIO SMASHED

Thirty-six helicopters, half of them armed with rockets and heavy machine guns, dropped on top of the Viet Cong position, discharging two battalions in seven quick waves.

Air force planes poured bombs and cannon fire into the area. About 650 government troops took part.

2 BATTALIONS

Viet Cong strength was estimated at two battalions under the command of a major general. It was not known whether he was among the dead.

The heavy Communist casualties were attributed partly to a new type of fuse on the government's bombs. These burst in the air and scatter shrapnel over a wide area.

Foreign Policy Is No. 1 on LBJ Agenda Today

He also planned to get in more work on the federal budget and his State of the Union message.

Associates said Johnson intends to devote considerable time today and during the remainder of the week to reviewing U.S. relations with nations around the world, including policy on loans, aid and cultural exchanges.

A source close to Johnson said he is closing out the year with a rather optimistic view of most the world situation despite the problems in Viet Nam and Congo.

He is known, for example, to feel that relations with the Soviet Union are less antagonistic than they have been at times in the past and sees fewer crises than have plagued the world in recent years.

He feels relations with Eastern Europe have improved and that the North Atlantic alliance is in better shape than it has ever been.

★ ★ ★

Johnson is known to be pleased about what he regards as improved relations with nations of the Western Hemisphere, including Fidel Castro's Communist dictatorship in Cuba, the major fly in the ointment.

STATE VISITS

As part of his efforts to bolster relations with various nations, the President is working on dates for visits from a large number of chiefs of state during the coming months. These visits are expected to average about two a month during the next year.

In addition, Johnson is known to be considering the appointment of a large number of new ambassadors.

It was indicated as many as 15 or 20 posts might be involved.

★ ★ ★

The State of the Union message, the first of the "big three" messages going to Congress in January, is "pretty well bracketed out," a qualified source said, and the actual writing has been started.

3 Girls Killed in 2 Separate Road Mishaps

Two of Victims Were Struck Down by Auto on Orion Highway

Three young girls were killed in two separate traffic accidents yesterday, bringing Oakland County's holiday death toll to 11, the highest county total in the state.

Dead are Barbara Bailey, 12, of 236 Baldwin and Kathyrn M. Spezia, 14, of 460 Baldwin, both of Orion Township, and Julie Ann Lietke, 17, of 140 E. Jackson, Lake Orion.

Five members of one Flint family, including a mother and her three sons, were killed in a single accident early Saturday on I-75 in Independence Township.

The two Orion Township girls were killed last night at about 6:45.

Sheriff's deputies said the two were walking on Baldwin win near Indianwood in Orion Township when they were struck by a southbound vehicle.

The driver of the car, Vincent C. Brill, 47, of Oxford Township, told officers he was passing another car when he suddenly saw the two girls in front of him.

He said he braked his car, but was unable to stop.

Mrs. Princess Conn, 40, of 3200 Baldwin, Orion Township, the driver of the car being passed by Brill, told deputies the girls were in the northbound lane of Baldwin walking against traffic.

POINT OF IMPACT

The Lietke girl was killed yesterday morning shortly after 2 a.m. She was a passenger in a car driven by Joe O. White, 19, of 3212 Schoolhouse, Waterford Township.

Deputies said the White car failed to negotiate a curve on Baldwin south of Clarkston in Orion Township, skidded more than 250 feet and struck a tree and a pole.

Orion Doctor Free on Bond

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. John J. Marra, 51, of Lake Orion, was free on $1,000 bond today pending sentencing in U.S. District Court on a charge of income tax evasion.

William H. Merrill, assistant U.S. Attorney, said Dr. Marra pleaded guilty Nov. 19, to one of three counts in an indictment charging Dr. Marra with evading income taxes over the three year period 1959-61.

★ ★ ★

Marrill said Dr. Marra paid an income tax of $19,413 on reported earnings of $48,534 in 1961. Merrill said the government claimed Dr. Marra's tax for the year should have been $26,142.

Flood Relief Hampered

Snow, Winds Lash Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavy mountain snows and gusty coastal winds lashed the Northern California flood area yesterday at the end of a week of unprecedented torrential rains, adding to the suffering of hundreds still marooned and hampering relief and rescue work.

But the colder weather has put a brake on rivers that had rampaged from the mountains to the Pacific Ocean in the hardest hit area — Oregon and Northern California.

★ ★ ★

The flood threat appeared over in Idaho but the little town of St. Joe, population 75, in the Panhandle, still was without electricity.

★ ★ ★

In Nevada the Truckee River withdrew its threat to Reno.

19 DEAD

California counted 19 flood dead with the confirmation yesterday that four had drowned when a helicopter plunged into the Eel River 40 miles south of Eureka Saturday.

Oregon reported 18 deaths from flood action.

The Red Cross listed 16,300 families as suffering major losses to homes, businesses or farms in Oregon, California, Idaho and Washington.

★ ★ ★

No official estimate of damage was available, but rough guesses by leaders of relief and rescue operations put it at close to $1 billion.

500 STRANDED

Five hundred persons — miners, loggers and their families — were marooned in several communities along the Klamath and Salmon rivers at the northern tip of California.

"They're beginning to run short of food," reported William Sowle, Civil Defense director at Yreka.

Claim NASA Giving Away Patent Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new investigation is brewing in the Senate on charges that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is giving away valuable patent rights which belong to the taxpayers.

★ ★ ★

Complaints by some Senate and House members picture NASA as signing away to business firms the rights to patents developed at public expense and worth untold millions of dollars. They contend a recent policy change made the situation worse.

James E. Webb, NASA administrator, has countered with a claim that the agency is following federal law and guidelines laid down by President John F. Kennedy shortly before his death.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for a Senate Small Business subcommittee headed by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., told a reporter it will meet shortly after Congress convenes Jan. 4 to consider senatorial requests for an investigation.

OUTSPOKEN CRITIC

Warmer Weather, Rain Are Forecast

The weatherman has offered a forecast for warmer temperatures, which means exchanging of outsize unwanted Christmas gifts should be less arduous. However, if you received an umbrella, keep it handy tomorrow.

Increasing cloudiness with rain is likely by late afternoon or early evening. The high is expected to range from 28-35 with the low 25-32.

Wednesday will be cloudy with rain. Temperatures are expected to drop in the afternoon.

lated that the Communists had been massing for an attack and were caught off guard.

CAPTURED WEAPONS

Captured weapons included five 50-caliber machine guns, three recoilless cannons and three mortars.

In the town of Mo Cai, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, a Viet Cong grenade exploded in a cafe, wounded four Americans and 15 Vietnamese and killed a 12-year-old Vietnamese girl.

One of the Americans, Van Bucher, the son of Jules N. Bucher of the U.S. Aid mission in Saigon, was reported in critical condition. Bucher is in his early 20s.

Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, commander of the Vietnamese forces, issued a holiday message of thanks to U.S. forces in South Viet Nam. The message warmed a little the chilly relations between Khanh and U.S. authorities in saigon.

CRITICIZED TAYLOR

Khanh last week criticized U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor for demanding that the Vietnamese generals restore pull power to the civilian government.

"On behalf of all the members of the Republic of Viet Nam's armed forces," Khanh said in his message, "I bring to our American comrades in arms our warmest season's greetings and our grateful appreciation for what they have been, are and will be doing to assist us in our struggle for the defense of freedom."

He addressed the message to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam. However, Khanh and his military colleagues showed no sign of acceding to American demands that they reinstate the legislative High National Council and release political prisoners they arrested in the purge Dec. 20.

* * *

All but eight of the Americans wounded Thursday in the terrorist bombing of an American officers' hotel in Saigon have been released from the hospital. Those still in the hospital were reported in good condition and it was expected they would be released soon.

IN HOSPITAL

They are: Capt. Lino F. Demichieli of Indianapolis, Ind.; Capt. Richard A. L. Sturdevant of route 5, Puyallup, Wash.; Lt. Col. John H. Fulmer, Carlisle, Pa.; Maj. George M. Tarr, box 114, Cooks Town, N.J..

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, the military commander closed all shops and schools for at least one day after students distributed leaflets calling for a general strike against the government.

The city was quiet. The military commander's move appeared to have caught the agitators off guard.

Off-Base Bias Said Not as Acute Now

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — A U.S. Army spokesman said today that a report to President Johnson describing an acute problem of racial discrimination near American bases in Germany is "not reflective of the current situation."

"We would certainly not regard this problem as acute at the present time," said the spokesman at the Army's European headquarters.

He said the report apparently was based on information collected on a tour of European bases two years ago.

In a final report, made known Sunday, the President's Commission on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces notified Johnson that racial discrimination in public accommodations and housing near bases was "particularly acute in Germany and certain areas of the Far East." It said vigorous action should be taken by base commanders to eliminate discrimination affecting soldiers off base.

TREMENDOUS STRIDES

But the headquarters spokesman pointed out, "The heat has been on this situation for 2½ years and we feel we've made tremendous strides."

* * *

The Army has set up committees of white and Negro soldiers and of Germans and Americans to tackle the problem.

"We've met with excellent cooperation in every quarter and have made very considerable progress," the officer said.

STILL EXISTS

"We do not deny that there are still places where discrimination exists, but they are very, very few."

As a specific example of progress the spokesman pointed to Bad Kreuznach, where the 8th Infantry Division is stationed.

* * *

"Two years ago there was open discrimination in at least three bars there, practiced by the bar owners. Now there is none. The signs restricting service have disappeared as a result of a local community relations effort between Germans and Americans."

Foreign Policy Tops Agenda

These include the amount of money to be asked for what the President calls his "antipoverty program," whether to propose a pay increase for government civilian workers and the amount of an education package.

In a letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara released for publication yesterday, Johnson said he wanted the last vestige of racial discrimination ended in the armed forces.

He told McNamara the Defense Department has "done an excellent job in resolving many aspects of the general problem of discriminatory treatment of those in the armed forces," but added:

"I would hope that the momentum already achieved . . . would continue until every last vestige of the problem is eliminated."

11 Die on Mercy Flights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Hundreds of flood-isolated residents have been evacuated and countless more are being dropped food, heating and medical supplies in a mercy airlift that has cost 11 lives in waterlogged Northern California.

Military authorities confirmed Sunday that four persons drowned when a Marine helicopter crashed into the Eel River 40 miles south of Eureka Saturday.

* * *

The only survivor of the Saturday crash was the pilot, Marine Capt. Richard Gleason, 33, of Tustin, Calif., who spent an hour and 10 minutes in the frosty Eel River as he was swept two miles downstream. A civilian helicopter pilot rescued him.

VICTIM LIST

The victims were Marine Lt. William L. Arbogast, 26, of El Toro Marine Base, Calif., copilot; Cpl. Joseph W. Binkley, 23, of Orange, Calif., crew chief; Alonzo A. Slaughter, 31, a Navy photographer from Long Beach, Calif.; and civilian Ervin A. Hadley, 50, a prominent Eureka electrical contractor who headed the area's Civil Air Patrol office and was a former county supervisor.

Rear Adm. Robert McPherson, joint commander of military operations in the disaster area, said at a news conference in Eureka that Arbogast was at the helicopter's controls at the time of the crash and that Gleason was navigating.

* * *

Arbogast was the son of Edward F. Arbogast of Hampton, N.J., and Mary E. Reed, Dade City, Fla.

* * *

Binkley was the husband of Sandra Rae Binkley of Orange, Calif. Slaughter was the husband of Lucille Slaughter of Long Beach, Calif.

The military coordinating information office at San Francisco said that hundreds of missions had been flown by 40 military and civilian helicopters.

CARRIER BASE

Area Couple Hurt in Crash

Admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Diane Strine, 18, of 1065 Holbrook, and Ralph W. Groves, 21, 1020 Holbrook, also of Waterford Township. She is listed in satisfactory condition and Groves in fair.

Groves was driving one of the vehicles in a three-car crash at Telegraph and Hood shortly after 11 p. m.

His car hit the rear of one driven by William R. Chissus, 20, of 1798 Warwick, Sylvan Lake. The two in turn were hit by a third northbound car driven by David W. Galligan, 22, of 6594 Cherrylawn, Independence Township.

"We'll have to airlift supplies or evacuate soon," Sowle said.

'HARDY LOT'

He called those isolated in the mountainous, heavily wooded country "a pretty hardy lot."

About 100 passengers on two Greyhound buses found themselves stranded by highway washouts last Monday after a lunch stop at the Terrace Gardens resort 10 miles south of Garberville on U.S.101 in California's Humboldt County and about half of them still were awaiting rescue today.

Some walked or were lifted by helicopters to Garberville and others were flown to Eureka farther north.

Those who stayed spent Christmas crowded into the resort's motel quarters.

* * *

Food shortage was the problem throughout the northwestern corner of California.

Slick Airways has flown 120,000 pounds of foodstuffs to Eureka and scheduled another flight today with 200,000 pounds aboard a Constellation.

Six C119 cargo planes were to fly today from McClellan Air Force Base near Sacramento to Areata near Eureka with 21,000 pounds of telephone repair equipment, three fire trucks and four utility vehicles.

Pacific Telephone said its facilities in Northern California were damaged to the extent of almost $1 million during the Christmas week storm.

* * *

LOST HOMES

In Del Norte County at the north end of the 1,200-mile-long California coast about 3,000 persons either lost their homes completely or sustained major damage, Red Cross representative Karl Mahler reported.

Commission to Hear Development Requests

BIRMINGHAM — Requests for the vacating of Ridgedale Street and for the rezoning of property on Purdy will be submitted to the City Commission tonight.

Calvin M. Chamberlain and Norman J. Dahn, owners of six lots on Ridgedale, have asked that the street be closed to allow better planning "for future development."

* * *

AGENDA ITEMS

Heading the agenda for the 8 p.m. meeting tonight is a special assessment hearing for 1964 sidewalk construction.

The improvements covered both sides of Cedar and Edgewood near Catalpa and the west side of Southfield from Worthington to Southlawn.

Cost of the project is $3,364.

Dolls of all shapes and sizes, including new Christmas arrivals, will be heading toward Baldwin Public Library tomorrow in the arms of their "mothers."

The third annual doll party will be held at 2:30 p.m. in the Mary Lambie Room.

After the young guests introduce their favorite dolls to the group, they will settle back for an hour of stories and other special entertainment.

Seeks to Curb Builder Abuse

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Charles B. Youngblood, D-Detroit, said Sunday he will propose legislation to curb builders who he said try to profit from new state highways by putting up construction on planned rights-of-way.

* * *

Youngblood said he referred to builders who seek to profit through condemnation sales of such new construction. He said such construction has been reported along the route of proposed I-696 in Oakland and Macomb Counties. The State Highway Department announced the projected route last year.

Youngblood, a member of the Senate Highway Committee also said he will ask the Senate to create a special investigating committee to look into the matter when the legislature convenes Jan 13.

Almost half of the U.S. population five years old and over lived in a different house in 1960 than in 1955, and almost everybody lived in a house different than the one in which he was born.

Asks Advice on Buildings in Road Path

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney expressed concern today about reports that new construction will increase right-of-way costs in the path of the proposed extension of Interstate 696 in the Detroit area.

Romney said he will write the attorney general and the State Highway Commission about the matter, asking them:

—To determine if anything can be done under present laws to avoid increased costs of freeway right-of-way because of new buildings and improvements.

—To suggest what new laws might be recommended to protect both the public and private interests in such a situation.

The new constitution, Romney said, permits greater flexibility in dealing with the entire problem.

"I don't know enough about the specific facts to know if anyone is acting improperly," Romney said, "I don't know of any such specific instances. I'm addressing myself to the broad problem of a highway location being announced and then the lapse of time between the announcement and (right-of-way) condemnations."

A lot of people are caught in a period of confusion, Romney said, and reports suggest that a good look should be taken at the problem.

The problem isn't limited to highway construction alone, the governor said, but also relates to other projects such as urban renewal.

Cut Your Own Taxes—1

New Law Brings Sweeping Changes and Assorted Benefits

(EDITOR'S NOTE — "Forget all you learned about income tax last year." With this statement, tax expert Ray De Crane begins "Cut Your Own Taxes." In the 14-chapter series, De Crane details the new tax rulings and how they affect an individual's return. The series will appear three times a week in The Pontiac Press.)

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Under no circumstances will you use last year's income tax return as a guide for this year.

These two sentences sum up the best advice that can be given as we all prepare to file our annual tax return by April 15, 1965.

The new tax act passed by Congress in 1964 includes sweeping changes and varied benefits so that the best thing to do is to start to learn all over again.

Rates have been reduced across the board for everyone. The tax rate in the lowest bracket has been reduced from 20 per cent to 16 per cent for 1964.

TOP RATE

The rate at the top has been trimmed from 91 per cent to 77 per cent. And in 1965 these rates will be further reduced to 14 per cent at the bottom and 70 per cent at the top.

A new minimum standard deduction has been introduced. This will be a break for large families with total incomes less than $10,000.

Formerly the taxpayer who didn't itemize his deductions could take a standard deduction of 10 per cent of his gross income.

* * *

The new minimum standard deduction gives him still another option. Instead of settling on 10 per cent for deductions he may deduct $200 plus an additional $100 fo reach exemption.

* * *

For example, the $7,000-a-year man with four dependent children will be able to deduct $800 on his joint return instead of the $700 allowed a year ago.

Other revisions in the law provide new rules for reporting the income on stock dividends.

For the family with modest stock holdings it probably will mean that all of its dividend income will be tax exempt. Those with substantial stock holdings and retired couples may find they will be paying a higher tax than formerly on dividends.

* * *

Golden agers were remembered in several instances by the tax law writers. They will find special provisions for them on liberalized retirement income credits, new rules for medical expenses and the once-in-a-lifetime special tax rules they may follow when they sell their personal residence at a substantial profit.

FIRST BENEFITS

Most of us felt the first benefits of the new tax reductions last March when a smaller bite was taken out of our pay checks for the withholding tax.

Many taxpayers will learn to their regret when they file their annual income tax return that the added take-home pay they started to receive last March was too generous.

Many will have to return a part of it now with payment of additional tax when they file their returns.

* * *

This situation results because the reduced withholding tax tables are attuned to the lower 1965 rates but were too generous for the 1964 tax rates.

ACCURACY

Never before has there been such a need for accuracy in the filing of returns.

With the requirement of suppling your social security number to banks where you have savings accounts, corporations from whom you receive dividends and all employers who pay you wages or salary the federal government has a near-perfect check on virtually all your income.

With its new electronic equipment Internal Revenue agents can feed into a computer all the cards bearing your social security number and determine in seconds if all these items of income are reported on your return.

* * *

This year a fresh start is necessary.

* * *

In these articles we will try to point out every possible deduction and taxsaving device for you. You will report everything which must be shown on your return but will take full advantage of every tax-saving opportunity.

(NEXT: The Minimum Standard Deduction.)

A Junior Editors Quiz About Science

QUESTION: Do heavy objects fall faster than light objects?

ANSWER: One might think they did, for we know the force of gravity makes objects fall toward the center of the earth, and we might think more gravity was pulling on a heavy object than a light one.

In (1) John has released a quarter and a bit of very light tissue paper at the same time. The heavier coin is falling much faster. Prove this by repeating John's experiment.

The Greek philosopher Aristotle reasoned from such experiments that the speed of a body's fall was in proportion to its weight and this view was held for 2,000 years until disproved by the Italian astronomer Galileo.

There is a legend that Galileo dropped two iron balls, one larger and heavier, from the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and they reached the ground at nearly the same time.

He then realized that the resistance of the air is what makes different objects fall at different speeds. Further proof came in 1650 when a pump was invented to take air out of a tube.

Without air, it was found that objects of different weights fall at exactly the same speed (upper right). Now try John's second expriment; wad the bit of tissue into a tight ball; it will fall almost as fast as the coin. With less size, there is less air resistance to slow it up.

FOR YOU TO DO: Try still another experiment: find a bit of flat metal and cut a piece of cardboard the same size; drop them together. The metal falls faster — because air resistance works the most on objects light in proportion to their size.

Destructive fires took a total of 11,800 lives and close to $1.8 billion in property last year in this country.

Structural shapes, such as beams, usually made of steel, are being made of glass-reinforced plastic.

Stroke Takes Historian

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Harry J. Carman, 80, a historian and dean emeritus of Columbia College, died of a stroke Saturday. He was the author of the two-volume work, "History of the American People," published in 1960 in collaboration with Harold C. Syret.

Teen Killed in Wreck

WHEELER (AP)—Wayne Allore, 18, of Alma was killed today when his car ran off North Wheeler Road and struck a railroad signal in this Gratiot County community.

The working life span of men increased by about 10 years since 1900.

Last Escapee Still at Large Said Not Breakout Type

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP) — The one man remaining at large of seven who tunneled to freedom from the Washington State Penitentiary Nov. 22 is a young killer described by Warden Bob Rhay as "the last man in the world you would take along on a prison break."

* * *

"He didn't know the underworld," Rhay said over the weekend regarding Donald Mesaros, 24. "The only reason the others took him along is that he was in the same cell with three of them."

* * *

Mesaros was last seen in Portland, Ore., Nov. 27 when police captured Neil Wallen, a Spokane killer. Mesaros, holed up at a cheap hotel with Wallen, broke away and disappeared.

Two escapees, Harold Thomas, 38, serving life for murder, and Richard Loux, 26, convicted of automobile theft, were recaptured Nov. 24 in Payette, Idaho.

DOZING IN TRUCK

Vertis James Barrett, 35, was the latest to be arrested. Ironically, he was also the one with the most distinctive identifying characteristic. He has only one arm; the other was shot off in a previous escape try. Barrett was arrested Dec. 14 in a Boise, Idaho, hotel.

MESSENGER

Mesaros, 5 feet 11 inches and weighing 143 pounds, worked in Seattle as a messenger for the Boeing Co. He was born in Pennsylvania. His parents now live in Fairbanks, Alaska. His father is an automobile body and fender man.

"He's a hard guy to describe," Warden Rhay said. "The best word is nondescript.

* * *

"He always had his nose in a law book in the library here. He seemed to be looking for an angle for a new trial."

Executive Succumbs

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Col. William Eric Phillips, 71, board chairman of Massey-Ferguson, Inc., died Saturday. Phillips, whose home was in Toronto, also was an executive with many other firms, including board chairman of the giant holding company, Argus Corp. Ltd.

New Road to Foul Up His Farm

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — After Interstate Highway 35 is built across his farm, Edgar N. Petty figures he'll have to drive eight miles to go from his house to his barn.

The barn is 400 feet from the house. The highway will go between them. The highway department is scheduled to take possession of the 295-foot-wide right-of-way Tuesday.

* * *

Petty said the road also will:

Take 17 of his 160 acres.

Eliminate two stock ponds.

Put the farm on a dead-end lane.

Destroy the solitude of country living.

TOO EXPENSIVE

"I can't possibly assess all the damage," Petty said. "And it's so expensive to go to court."

'Control Most of People, Land'

Cong Claim Hard to Dispute

SAIGON (AP) — Leaders of the rebel Viet Cong claim the guerrillas fighting the government of South Viet Nam control three-fourths of the country and more than half the people as the year nears an end.

Chairman Nguyen Huu Tho made the claim in a statement to the ruling Politburo of the Viet Cong Central Committee.

* * *

The statement would be difficult to challenge.

He added that the balance of forces was shifting in favor of the Viet Cong, and this, too, coincides with available information on the Saigon side.

NUMERICAL EDGE

On Dec. 20, 1960, when the Viet Cong formally organized itself, the guerrillas had at most 2,000 men under arms, opposing national armed forces of some 400,000. Today, Viet Cong strength is estimated at around 120,000 against a government force of some 615,000 men under arms, including police. Although the government still holds the numerical edge, its ratio is worse.

Each time during the past four years that the government has sought to wipe out the guerrillas in some given area, Saigon has bitten off more than it could chew. The mobility provided by U.S. troop-carrying helicopters has helped, but not enough.

* * *

Saigon and its Washington ally spent tens of millions of dollars in 1962 on a project called "Operation Sunrise," aimed at cleaning out a key Viet Cong base area 30 miles north of here.

The operation was a nearly complete failure, and the Viet Cong now is stronger in the area than ever.

HAMLET PROGRAM

Later in 1962 and 1963, the government and U.S. advisers launched the nationwide "strategic hamlet program," aimed at bringing one community after another under government control.

Until President Ngo Dinh Diem was overthrown in a military coup Nov. 1, 1963, the statistics from this program looked encouraging. But U.S. officials found at that point that only a very small fraction of the hamlets supposedly pacified were really in operation.

* * *

Then came Premier Nguyen Khanh's "pacification plan" in February. It concentrated on only 13 provinces in the Mekong River Delta. But even this concentration proved inadequate.

Three months ago, the area was whittled down to five provinces all suburbs of Saigon, to be pacified under the "Hoc Tap" — cooperation — plan. To help out, most of the 25th Division was pulled out of central Viet Nam for service in the Hoc Tap area.

Since then, central Viet Nam — roughly the northern half of the republic — has deteriorated at an alarming rate, at least partly because of increased Communist infiltration in the area. And the deltas and suburbs of Saigon, the key targets of the new government program, show little if any sign of improvement.

* * *

While the Viet Cong apparently has had no difficulty maintaining a united drive against the government, Saigon has been beset with constant political upheavals and coups, leaving its base of military resistance in chaos much of the time.

* * *

By all appearances, the war is being lost.

* * *

Bridge Losers Win at Poker

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — The bridge columnist of the weekly English - language Geneva Tribune has been writing a column for several years entitled "How To Lose Money At Bridge."

He recently varied his offering with one called "How To Win Money At Poker."

His introduction stated: "After having been consistently told how to lose your money at bridge . . . we feel that the time has now come for us to tell you how to recover your losses at another, fascinating game — poker!"

Beauty Added to War in Viet

Girl Paratrooper Unit Serves as Nurses

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam has its own Florence Nightingales of the air, a platoon of hardy girl paratroopers trained to jump with the troops in combat.

They are all trained nurses.

* * *

Their talents were demonstrated in a recent exhibition when they leaped out of lumbering C47s high over Saigon and landed in the Saigon River.

They were right on target.

SWAM TO BANK

Dragging waterproof medical kits behind them, they swam to the river bank, and were soon administering first aid to several paratroopers who were injured in the jump.

But not before they showed they were women first. They attended to such feminine requisits as lipstick and combing their hair before tending to first aid.

* * *

No doubt they were working on the premise that a wounded soldier wants a nurse as beautiful as she is competent.

The paratroop nurses are given the same rigorous training as male paratroopers and are trained also in the use of weapons.

* * *

* * *

"We want to be as self-contained as possible," an airborne officer told newsmen.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Don't Spend More Than Husband Makes!

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

"Will you please get tough with my wife?" asks a reader in a large eastern city. "I make $12,000 a year, but she thinks the answer to our financial problems is for me to take a second job at night."

MARY FEELEY

He goes on to say — in a letter too long to print here — that they have a $40,000 home to keep up, five children, and a "money-oriented" approach to life that has him going under for the third time.

Sure, I'll get tough. It's time somebody did. If you've been reading this column for any length of time, you may have gotten the idea that I'm prone to bawl out the husbands for being too stingy with the household money.

But when the wife sets the family living standards beyond the husband's earning ability, I think she's at fault. And when she encourages the children to do the same, she's compounding the crime.

"The last straw," this harried husband declares, "was when my young son said "What kind of new car are we getting this year, Dad?" Our present car, Miss Feeley, is in fine shape and only three years old."

A lot of the financial problems that come my way can be traced to this one sad fact: the breadwinner doesn't have the say as to where and how the family lives.

This doesn't necessarily mean the man who makes the money is a weakling. A misguided devotion to his family can prove a tragic trap.

For this very reason, it's up to the wife to stand guard over the family finances, and know when to call a halt on spending. She, too, can fall into a trap—by "helping" her husband present a prosperous front with status symbols he can't possibly afford.

Let me remind you wives that a good credit rating is one of the finest status symbols any man can have!

TOO MUCH HOUSE

What this wife needs to know is that a $40,000 home on a $12,000 income is out of line. When a family takes on a house that costs more than 2-½ times the annual income, the whole scale of living becomes unbalanced.

When there are five children to raise and educate, even that estimate is too high. When a new car seems more important than saving for college, the wife's values are due for an overhaul.

A second job for the husband is not the answer, by any means. The real solution is a second look at the budget, and a few second thoughts on the part of the wife. What she needs is pencil and paper and time out to do some figuring.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley:

I have a five-year-old son who is retarded. Can you give me some information regarding a bank account and the buying of stocks and bonds in his name?

Mrs. F. M., Sparta, N.J.

Dear Mrs. M.:

Since there is a possibility that a retarded child might not be competent later on to handle any of his own affairs, it's not a wise idea to have a bank account or other investments in his name.

Your lawyer will handle this so that the boy benefits in the want him to. If sizeabe fun

★ ★ ★

Your lawyer will handle this so that the boy benefits in the way you want him to. If sizable funds are involved you might want to create a voluntary trust.

Cereal Replaces Meat in Main Dish Loaf

By JANET ODELL

Some time before the holidays, a cooking school was held in the Seventh-Day Adventist church. Shirley Gager told us about it and brought in a recipe.

Trading Is Mixed

Steels, Utilities Rise in Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and utilities were a little higher in a mixed stock market early today. Trading was fairly active.

As the last week of trading for 1964 got under way, there was cautious optimism for the traditional year-end rally. The general economic news background was fairly encouraging.

Granite City Steel strung along with the other steel companies which have raised the price for galvanized sheets and its stock edged higher.

Losses of about a point were taken by Xerox and Eastman Kodak. Control Data gained more than a point.

Opening blocks included: Texas Gulf Sulphur, up ⅞ at 54⅜ on 7,000 shares; and AT&T, up ⅛ at 66⅜ on 4,100.

On Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .3 to 322.8.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.
