Riled Ike Off to Make Dems Eat Their Words

Ziegler Wins Long Battle

Turnpike Authority Shelves North-South Road Project

By PETE LOCHBILER

The Michigan Turnpike Authority and its plans for a north-south toll road past Pontiac were put on ice in Ann Arbor yesterday.

The Authority cut off the services of high-paid consultants, voted for a skeleton staff, reduced expenditures from about $5,000 to $2,000 a month and put its traffic surveys and highway plans on the shelf.

It adjourned a "show-down" meeting without further date.

It all but spelled the end to hopes of toll roads in Michigan and to three years of planning for a "pay-as-you-go" expressway from Rockwood to Saginaw.

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler appeared the victor in a long-standing feud.

He said in an eight-page statement criticizing the Authority that the Highway Commission plans a number of free highways in or near the turnpike "corridor."

These include an expressway along the Southfield road route north to Drayton Plains and the extension across Oakland County to Fenton of Northwestern Highway.

MTA Chairman George N. Higgins, of Ferndale, said conflicting highways planned by Ziegler were responsible for the refusal of bonding companies to back the Authority.

ASKS STATE FOR MONEY

Higgins has been trying to get legislation which would satisfy the bonding companies. The MTA adjourned with a resolution asking the legislature for a $5 million revolving fund which would guarantee the turnpike's financial success.

Ziegler said in the statement, "As of now, toll roads are unnecessary to the future economic development of Michigan." The statement was read by Chief Deputy Highway Commissioner George M. Foster, who has attended meetings in Ziegler's stead.

An ex-officio member of the Authority since its first meeting in July, 1953, Ziegler has consistently stayed away from meetings.

MTA Commissioner Carl H. Smith Sr., former circuit judge of Bay City said Ziegler's statement was a reflection on Ziegler himself. "I place the responsibility for failure of the Authority squarely at the door of the State Highway Commissioner," Smith said.

Higgins said that the Authority's plans were available to the State Highway Commission. He said, "If this authority has expedited the construction of highways, we have served a good purpose."

SPENT MORE THAN $500,000

The Authority has spent $500,000 in funds originally allocated by the legislature plus part of a $150,000 "shot-in-the-arm" voted this spring.

Yesterday, former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner—once State Highway Commissioner—lost his $12,000 - a - year consultant's

Scotland Yard Probing Reports of Mass Killer

EASTBOURNE, Eng. (INS)—Scotland Yard investigators today dug into circumstances surrounding the deaths of some 300 women following reports that a mass killer was living undetected in the Eastbourne area.

Detective Superintendent Herbert Hannan headed the inquiry into the deaths, records and wills of the women, many of them rich widows.

Hannan's special investigative team collected copies of wills of women who died in the Eastbourne locality since 1936.

At least 500 persons were scheduled to be interviewed as the detectives checked a chain of rumors, gossip, suspicions and letters sent to Scotland Yard about the wholesale slayings.

Weatherman Says: Mostly Fair Tonight

Mostly fair is the prediction for the Pontiac area tonight, with a low of 52 to 56 degrees.

Tomorrow will be somewhat warmer with a possibility of a few light showers in the afternoon. The high will be 72 to 76 degrees.

The lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 51 degrees. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 72 degrees.

Grosse Pointe Farms to Vote on Fluoridation

DETROIT (AP) — Restoration of a fluoridated city water supply will go on the ballot in Grosse Pointe Farms in this Nov. 6 election. Fluorides are added to drinking water to strengthen teeth against decay.

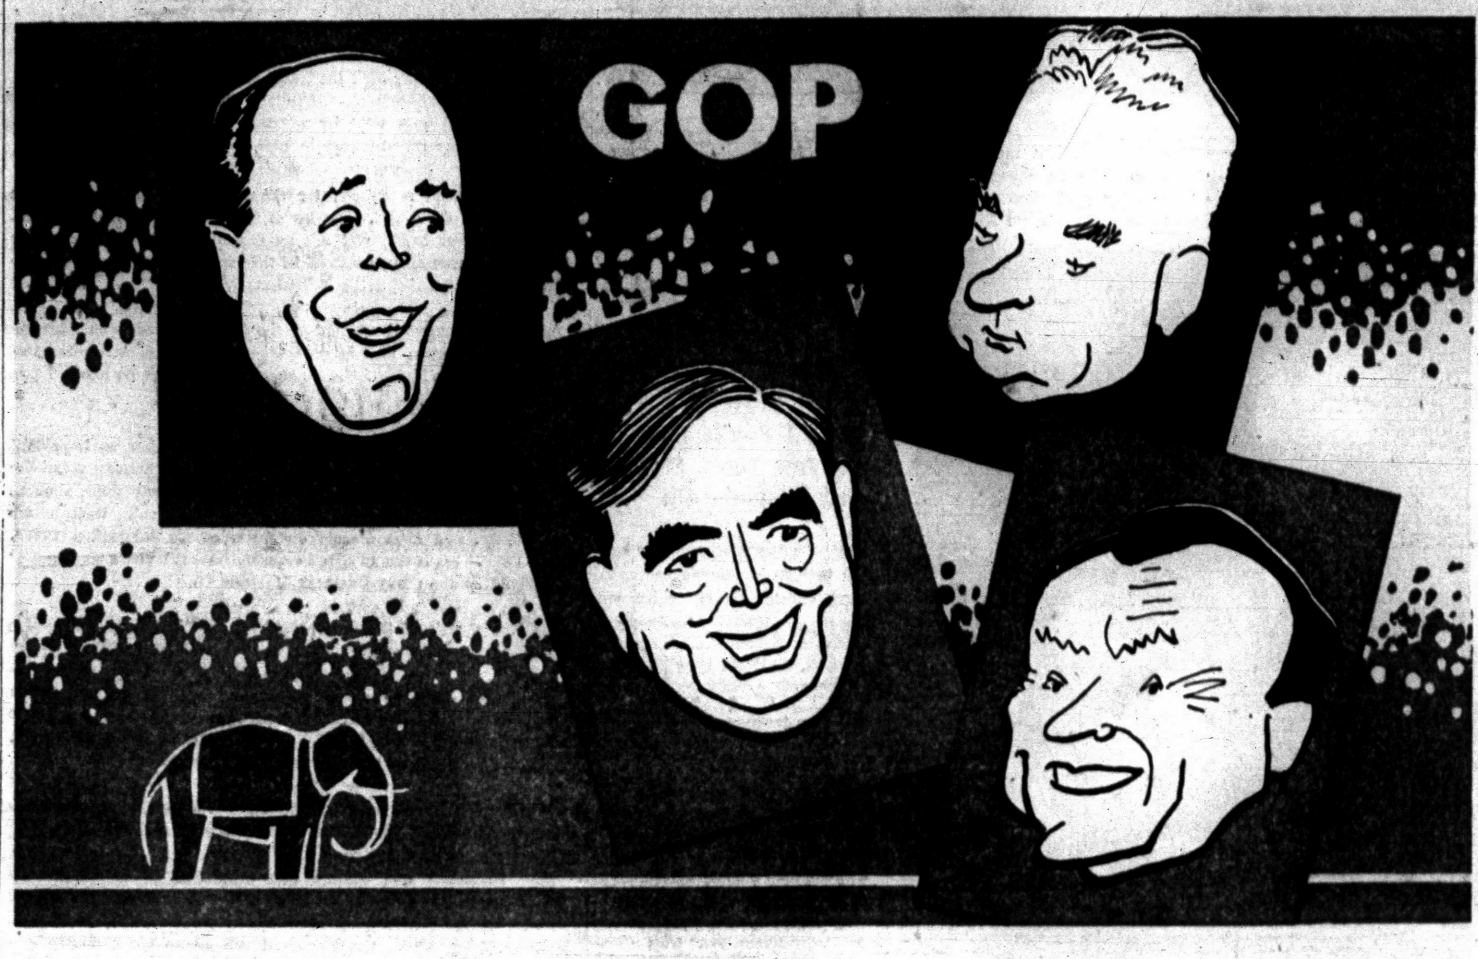

An advisory vote held in April of 1955 resulted in the end of the three year fluoridation program in the suburb. Petitions were presented to the city council last night containing 355 signatures.

The council decided to ask for another advisory vote on the matter.

Session on Wednesday Will Select Electors for Convention

Oakland County delegates to the state Democratic convention will be selected at a meeting in the county office building at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

The county this year has a quota of 86 delegates. The convention Saturday in Grand Rapids will nominate state candidates not included on the primary ballot.

These are candidates for secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and state treasurer.

Two justices of the State Supreme Court will be nominated to run on a non-partisan ticket in November.

The convention will choose electors for president and vice president of the United States.

Precinct delegates attending tonight's meeting were elected in the August 7 primary.

Montana Sends Women

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Montana leads the list percentagewise in the number of women delegates to the Republican National Convention. The 14 women—7 delegates and 7 alternates—make up 50 per cent of the Montana delegation. Miss Bertha S. Adkins, a GOP official, said 555 women are attending the convention either as delegates or alternates.

Ann Will Meet Ike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The youngest member of the Eisenhower family, tiny Ann Barger Eisenhower, is to meet her great uncle Dwight D. this week. Ann is the daughter of Lloyd Eisenhower, a San Francisco attorney whose father Roy was the President's brother.

Moral, Spiritual, National

GOP 1956 Purpose---Leadership

CONVENTION HALL, SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington told the Republican National Convention last night that the party's purpose in the 1956 campaign is to give the American people leadership—"not to 'Give 'Em Hell.'"

In a keynote address designed to lay the groundwork for the GOP drive for votes in November, Langlie charged that the Democratic party is "a coalition of antagonistic factions who periodically get together just long enough to try to get themselves elected."

The Democrats, he said, have made "a naked admission that they are addicted to the principle that loyalty to a political party comes ahead of devotion to our beloved country."

"We reject that false concept," he said, "and so, I believe, do the overwhelming majority of American citizens."

The Republicans, he added, will be thrown out of office "when, if ever, they copy the Democrats and put the party first and America second."

TO MAKE PLEDGE

"Our concern," he said, "is for the individual." And, he added: "We reject the idea that any American is a 'common' man. No man is 'common' and no man is 'average' in the sight of God."

The governor from the Northwest declared the Republican Party is gathered at San Francisco to make a pledge to the people.

That pledge, he said, is for "four more years of honest, efficient administration of our government by the fine men and women who have been called to serve them at Washington—four more years of our crusade for a finer America in a better world."

And in hitting hard at the address made at Chicago a week ago by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, Langlie called it a pouring of "scorn, abuse and ridicule on such great public servants as Dwight D. Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles."

He then recalled Dulles was used for important diplomatic work by two Democratic presidents and that President Roosevelt called on Gen. Eisenhower to lead the armies of Europe and that President Truman offered him his party's presidential nomination in 1948.

SPIRITUAL LEADERSHIP

On leadership, Langlie praised President Eisenhower as a man who (1) Gives dignity to that high office; (2) Respects those who disagree with him; (3) Knows how to enlist "some of the most able people in America" to help him; (4) Has won the respect of people in other lands, and (5) Exemplifies "the qualities of character, leadership, and citizenship that really make America strong. . . ."

"Above all else," said the governor, Eisenhower knows "how to provide moral and spiritual leadership by the example of his own acts."

The 56-year-old governor, who is running for the U. S. Senate in Washington against Democratic Sen. Warren Magnuson, was presented by Sen. William F. Knowland of California, who also lambasted the Democrats.

In the 48 years he has lived, Knowland said, there has been peace under five Republican presidents and war under three Democrats.

* * *

Peace was his main theme but he also accused the Democrats of attempting "usurpation" of offshore state oil lands. He cited more than a dozen GOP advances."

Adlai Answers Langlie

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson today accused GOP Keynoter Gov. Arthur Langlie of having "shamelessly confused facts and falsehoods" in his address last night.

17 of 22 Support U. S. Canal Plan

4 Nations Swing Behind Dulles for International Control Board

LONDON (AP)—The U.S. plan for solving the Suez Canal crisis got new support today from four nations—Pakistan, Turkey, Iran and Ethiopia.

* * *

As the 22-nation conference neared its end, only five countries held out against the U.S. proposals. They are Russia, India, Spain, Ceylon and Indonesia.

The four new supporting nations presented minor amendments to Secretary of State Dulles' plan for an international board to operate the waterway. Dulles immediately accepted the changes.

Dulles then invited the four to become associated with the plan.

* * *

Despite the parade of support to the plan advanced by Dulles on behalf of the United States, Britain and France, V. K. Krishna Menon of India declared Egypt would reject it.

Menon, who visited President Nasser in Cairo before coming to the conference, told a press conference the Western plan was "entirely impracticable."

The Indian envoy yesterday put a compromise proposal before the 22-nation conference called to deal with the Suez dispute. The Indian plan would give Egypt full control of the 103-mile waterway, with an international body to act only in a consultative and advisory capacity.

Health, Nixon Rumors Anger the President

Speculate He'll Insist Anyone Wanting to Run Gets a Chance

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

SAN FRANCISCO — President Eisenhower flies to the Republican National Convention today determined to make the Democrats eat their charges he is "dictating" selection of Vice President Richard M. Nixon as his 1956 running mate.

He reportedly is angered by Democratic barbs, not only on the vice presidential issue but in the matter of his health. He is due in San Francisco from Washington at 8:30 p. m. Pontiac time, 24 hours earlier than originally planned.

An overnight rain had let up but the skies were overcast as Eisenhower took off at 12:16 p.m. aboard his private plane Columbine III.

Special Convention Pages 10, 11, 15

Word was passed from high GOP sources that Eisenhower, while standing firm on his satisfaction with Nixon, will insist any qualified aspirant for second spot be given the cance.

He also is eager to demonstrate in private talks with grass roots leaders that Democratic innuendoes implying he has been seriously weakened by his heart attack and ileitis operation are sheer fiction.

The "open door" policy toward the vice presidential nomination is not even expected to slow up Nixon's victory. He already has the backing of more than 1,000 of the 1,303 delegates.

Ike's imminent arrival sent the convention really rolling into its second day. Delegates expect the nation to see, via television, that their leader's health is good, his vigor great and his spirit high.

STASSEN LOOKS FOR LIFT

White House Disarmament Aide Harold E. Stassen, whose attempt to force Nixon off the ticket is the sole threat to convention harmony, hints mysteriously that his cause—which now looks lost—hopes to get a shot in the arm with the President's arrival.

Stassen and his supporters insist Eisenhower is bringing a list of half a dozen "acceptable" vice presidential possibilities.

There were reports, with no confirmation, that names on the list include Nixon; Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts, Stassen's choice; Senate Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California; Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams; former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado, and Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations.

* * *

Stassen is expected to be at the airport along with Nixon, party dignitaries and White House officials when the President and the First Lady arrive. Stassen has let it be known he will seek an early conference with Ike at the St. Francis Hotel.

Republicans will be summoned today to "work and fight" to regain control of Congress and KEYNOTER POINTS A FINGER — Gov. Arthur Langlie of Washington wagged a finger toward the delegates as he delivered the keynote address before the Republican Convention last night in San Francisco. He called for continued Republican administration and its "crusade" for peace and prosperity.

State Delegation Turns Out in Force on Opening Day

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

SAN FRANCISCO—A full-strength Michigan delegation was in its place on the convention floor when Chairman Leonard W. Hall called the 26th national convention of the Republican party to order shortly before noon Monday. Michigan delegates held a breakfast caucus earlier at their headquarters hotel. They will caucus again each day before going in special buses to the Cow Palace.

With National Committeeman Clifford O'Sullivan presiding, routine business was disposed of. Leading the agenda was nomination of the state's two members on the national committee for the next four years.

As had been expected the delegation unanimously renominated Mrs. Rae C. Hooker of Mt. Pleasant, and O'Sullivan of Port Huron. The nomination will be verified by the convention at its Wednesday session.

The delegation learned that Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo will fly to the convention and is expected late tonight. Plans have been made for two busloads of Michigan people to greet him at the airport.

The opening session got under way with reasonable promptness, considering the magnitude of the task of herding some 14,000 people the 6½ miles from downtown hotels to the convention hall.

Special buses transport members of the press. State delegations have their own bus service.

The huge Cow Palace, built with a high arched roof to avoid any interior obstructions is impressive from size alone. Its interior is about the size of a football field. While as many as 17,000 have attended some events here, about 14,800 are accommodated for the convention.

The speakers' stand is in about the center of the arena, raised well above the floor. Occupying the space behind and on either side of the speakers' stand are working tables and seats for almost 1,000 daily newspaper and news service correspondents. Several thousand other writers and communications people are elsewhere in the vast hall. The front half of the arena floor accommodates the state delegations. (You'll find the Michigan standard to the speakers' right). Completely surrounding this central area are the tiers of seats for alternate delegates and visitors.

* * *

From the center of the delegates area on the floor rises a towering platform on which are mounted the big-bertha news cameras. Other camera stations for all media, including TV, are around the edge of the hall. The music and special entertainment you may hear on your radio and TV comes from a huge elevated platform at the rear of the hall.

Such facilities are built in heroic proportions,

Tickets will be available through early tomorrow morning for the same feature, "Chief Crazy Horse," to be shown tomorrow morning at the three theaters. School age children can get tickets when accompanied by a parent by requesting them from the merchants.

STASSENS AND NIXONS MEET AT PARTY — There were greetings all around when Vice President Richard Nixon and his wife met Harold Stassen and his wife at the reception-buffet at the Civic Auditorium last night in San Francisco. Stassen has been waging a one-man campaign to remove Nixon from the Republican ticket. The couples were near each other in the receiving line, and the handshakes resulted after photographers suggested it. The reception was given by Gov. Goodwin Knight of California.

City May Fight Grand Trunk Suit

Whether the Pontiac City Commission will intervene in a Grand Trunk Railway condemnation suit filed in Oakland County Circuit Court is slated for possible action at tonight's weekly commission meeting.

City Attorney William A. Ewart has drafted a resolution which would authorize him to initiate a petition to the court to contest the suit filed last week. The resolution needs commission approval before further action is taken.

The railroad filed suit last week to force acceptance by the city of a $700,000 industrial support yard planned for the city's north side. City commissioners have been reluctant to permit construction, as the yard will block a city project to extend Stanley and Carlisle streets north to Walton Boulevard.

Included also on the 22-point agenda facing the commissioners are second readings and possible adoption of ordinances regulating the sale of "near beer" in the city and one which will provide for a $3 daily pay increase for Municipal Court jurors.

LOT DEED ACTIONS

Action is slated on a deed for three lots at 35-37 W. Lawrence St. and the assignment of a lease for the same property which is being converted for use in the city's $600,000 off-street parking program.

A warranty deed from Fred E. and Bertha E. Kirk for the easterly part of the lot at 48 S. Parke St. to be used for Civic Center purposes, is expected to be accepted by the City Commission.

Further action is expected on a quit claim deed to Steve Soditch for 10 lots in Perry Park Subdivision No. 1 and on a land contract for the purchase of one lot in Crofoot Western Addition.

OTHER PUBLIC PROJECTS

A resolution will be offered by City Clerk Ada R. Evans on old-age and survivor's insurance for city employes, which is a step toward formulating a recently approved charter amendment supplementing the city's pension plan with Social Security.

A public hearing will be conducted on intention to construct curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work on Clinton River Drive from the east line of Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision to the west line of lot 65 of the subdivision.

Other public improvement projects to be acted on include possible acceptance of one special assessment roll and confirmation of five other rolls.

A new ordinance will be introduced for first reading which will amend the city's parking meter law by increasing the time from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on some meters in the city.

* * *

Appointments to the Police and Fire Trial Board will also receive the attention of the city commission at tonight's session.

Final business will include naming of a street off Orchard Lake Avenue and the authorization to advertise for bids for the sale of the city-purchased house at 48 S. Parke St.

Cow Palace Is Cavernous

but to the eye they are dwarfed by the very magnitude of this vast hall. No one here, even a speaker, can possibly take in the entire picture at a glance. If any of you TV watchers wonder why many vacant spots appear in the press sections, be sure their holders likely are at work in the cavernous areas which flank the convention hall.

Some 20 newsmen are pounding out copy in an alcove where this dispatch is being written, and this is just one of numerous work areas. The Associated Press and International News Service, whose dispatches you also read in The Press, have quarters nearby. One need walk only a short distance to find wire or telephone facilities to any point in the world.

CONNECTIONS EVERYWHERE

Some correspondents with deadlines pressing have telephone and wire extensions at their desk in the convention hall.

Most Michigan newspapermen have a little more leeway in filing dispatches as sessions for the rest of the week will start at 5:30 p. m. Pontiac time. The convention arrangements committee has determined to keep affairs moving at a brisk pace. Some of the best entertainment talent has been secured and will be heard before the call to order, in the hope that delegates will be in their seats promptly.

Each session opens with a parade of some sort through the aisles. Either you get your seats or you get trampled. The plan seems to be working. Correspondents who have covered other conventions predict this one will not drag if the first day's experience continues.

Student Body Reaches Record

18,780 Pupils Enrolled for Fall Term Starting on September 6th

Some 110 new teachers have been hired to help handle an estimated record enrollment of 18,780 students for the 1956-57 school year in the Pontiac School system, says J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools.

* * *

The new teachers bring the total number of 735 an increase of about 60 over the past year.

The expected student enrollment shows an increase of 950 more than the 1955-56 school year, Cox said.

The 110 new teacher recruits who hail from Maine to Florida to Wyoming and back to Michigan will begin their school year with a pre-school get-acquainted program, Friday, Aug. 31, Cox said.

WELCOME MEETING

Theme of the all-day meeting will be "A Preview of Our Community and Its Schools," and will be conducted as an orientation for the new instructors.

Cox will preside over the meeting in the Vocal Music Room of Pontiac High School.

Heading the program will be welcome addresses from Mayor William W. Donaldson; Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Board of Education; Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools; Dr. George Petroff, president of the Chamber of Commerce; and Melvin Eller, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Other welcome words will be heard from Mrs. Socrates Sekles, president of the Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. William Mihalek, president of the Pontiac PTA Council; the Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson, president of the Pontiac Ministerial Assn. and Mrs. Ann Galbraith, president of the Administrators and Supervisors Assn.

GENERAL MEETING

The new teachers will be feted at a luncheon at the Frank DuFrain residence on Cass Lake following the morning session.

Tuesday, Sept. 4, all 735 teachers will gather at Pontiac High School for a general meeting, with Cox presiding. Main event on the program will be an address by Dr. Allison Davis, professor of education, University of Chicago. Dr. Davis will speak to the teachers on "Creating an Environment for Effective Learning."

In the afternoon of the same day faculties will report to individual buildings except for second and third grade teachers who will meet in the Longfellow School auditorium to discuss penmanship practices.

Wednesday, Sept. 5 faculties will report to their schools except for a 2 o'clock meeting for fourth, fifth and sixth grade teachers who will meet with the handwriting consultant at Longfellow.

SCHOOL BEGINS SEPT. 6

Regular classes will begin Thursday, Sept. 6 except for kindergartners. Classes will be held for all students Friday except for first graders.

* * *

First grade teachers will meet that Friday for an all-day workshop at Owen School gymnasium.

Narcotics Ring Trial May Be Dismissed

Consideration of a motion to dismiss the case against 15 suspects in an alleged city narcotics conspiracy will be taken up tomorrow in Municipal Court.

Two of the suspects, Eddie May Yates, 28, and Paul Baity, 27, may be bound over to Circuit Court on charges of sale and possession of heroin, according to Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Taylor had built the case on the expectancy that testimony of Miss Yates and Baity would incriminate the others, but the pair failed to testify. Defense Attorney Milton R. Henry asked that the charges be dropped last week following the presentation of evidence by Taylor.

Notes With A Local Touch

Joe Martin Record Grows

By ROBERT B. TARR
Managing Editor, Pontiac Press

SAN FRANCISCO — If rumors of favorite-son nominations for second place on the ticket all materialize, the Republican party will have more nominations for Ike's running mate than GM has vice presidents.

★ ★ ★

Among Michigan delegates attending is John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, candidate for the GOP nomination for secretary of state at the Aug. 31 state convention. Among others who have been mentioned for the job are Paul Bagwell of East Lansing, an MSU faculty member; Joe Parisi of Kalamazoo, president of the Michigan Assn. of County Supervisors; Ferris Tucas of Port Huron and William Creger, mayor of Wyandotte.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, permanent chairman of the convention, will hold that position for the fifth consecutive time. He wielded the gavel in Philadelphia in 1940, in '44 in Chicago, at Philadelphia again, and in Chicago four years ago. Previous record was held by another Massachusetts leader, the elder Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge in 1900, 1908 and 1920.

★ ★ ★

The convention secretary, for the third consecutive time is a woman, Mrs. Gladys E. Knowles of Montana. Rep. Katherine St. George of New York, will act as parliamentarian. This is the first time a woman has served in this spot for a Republican convention.

★ ★ ★

Address by former President Herbert Hoover has been advanced on today's program and is now scheduled to follow immediately one by chairman Martin. Best guess is that it will be about 7 p.m. Pontiac time.

★ ★ ★

A former Pontiac young man, Beal Jacobsen, has an important assignment with the local Young Republicans in helping stage the convention. He is in charge of all outside demonstrations, such as those arranged to welcome VIPs on their arrival. Beal is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jacobsen of 160 Interlaken Drive, Pine Lake. He came to San Francisco several years ago and is employed by the Clary Business Machine Co.

★ ★ ★

Pat Nixon, wife of the vice president, was in the audience Monday afternoon and received a big ovation when introduced.

★ ★ ★

You need have no worry about any speaker forgetting his lines. That boxlike stand with microphones protruding from it conceals a device which throws the speech in large type on a screen. We can see it from the press section.

★ ★ ★

Only trouble is we can't tell from our vantage point any better than you can from yours how much there is still to come.

★ ★ ★

The President and Mamie are scheduled to arrive in the presidential plane between 6:15 and 6:30 this evening. An official welcoming party will meet them and form an escort to the St. Francis Hotel, where the President will make his headquarters.

★ ★ ★

The presentation of the colors at the opening of the afternoon session Monday was an impressive sight as 200 Young Republicans marched into the hall with American and state flags. It was especially significant in that it calls attention to the increasing interest young men and women are taking in affairs of government.

State badges take interesting forms. Kansas people are wearing large sunflowers. Saw one made into a hat, with black felt top and yellow petals. Really looked better than the inflated innertube type of thing which appears to be in style now.

Eleven New Classrooms Ready for Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM—New space for music and radio workshop study besides 11 new classrooms will be ready when Birmingham High School students report for school at 8:10 a.m. on Sept. 6.

The music space in the lower level of the new addition that stretches about 250 feet west from the high school's main entrance, was being occupied by teachers today.

Furnishings were installed last week in the music section and the classrooms on the main level of the new addition.

The 11 new rooms will boost the school's capacity from 1,800 to 2,000, according to Dr. Richard Featherstone, assistant superintendent in charge of building. Classroom total will be raised only 10, he explains, since one old one has been converted into a counseling office.

"Another remodeling has been changing the north end of the art room into space for the radio workshop because the workshop had outgrown the stage of the little theater," he says.

Landscaping around the high school and seeding of grass is planned for this fall.

The swimming pool addition at the high school, not to be complete for this fall's use, is being financed by the bond issue passed last year, while the classroom addition is part of a 3-section project under an earlier bond issue.

Earlier completed sections, housing a cafeteria enlargement, study hall, library and eight classrooms, went into use last year.

On the high school schedule, is a pre-school conference for teachers on Sept. 4 and 5, and the opening date on Sept. 6. Students are all registered, and new students have been being enrolled all summer.

Parking Lot 3-A Battle Ends With Assessments

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

BIRMINGHAM — An era ended last night, or so it seemed to commissioners and property owners of the area of Parking Lot 3-A, subject of much argument over many years' time.

But the discussions ended with the residents winning a 60-40 division of costs for extending Ferndale street through to Hamilton from the lot, and for widening Park street, taking a portion of the Gafill property.

The 60 share was enough for residents to pay, the property owners contended, rather than the 85 suggested early in the commission session last night.

"Extension of Ferndale while it may not have been brought about except for Parking Lot A is still a part of the city streets," contended Commissioner Carl Ingraham.

He held for the 85-resident and 15-city division of the costs of putting the street through.

Property owners contended "it was a hindsight on the city's part not to put through Ferndale ten years ago," "we've been penalized enough," and "if the parking lot is a public utility need, why not the access streets, too?"

They included Paul and George Averill, Sam Bruni, an attorney for John Gafill, and several others.

After the hearings on Ferndale's extension was completed, with the 60-40 ratio passed, owners on Park took up the cry that they wanted the same ratio, winning their point.

Paving on Ferndale was voted at 75 to 15 ratio, and for Park, although several residents contended that the easterly sidewalk was unnecessary since parking lot users would walk on the west side.

"Couldn't we make Park one way?" a query by Ingraham, nearly threw out the Park improvement, with Commissioner Charley Renfrew agreeing that the widening and straightening was "not necessarily necessary."

The decision to go ahead with the project was voted unanimously, after also voting down a one-way Park Street suggestion.

Rivalry grew among property owners present, with one claiming part in eight and another nine special assessment districts to do with the lot's development.

The levy needed towards the first payment for the Twelve Town drain was set at one and a half mills. The city's share of the proposed drain cost was tentatively approved.

A purchase of a new car for radar traffic work was approved.

City Manager Harold Schone, who was welcomed by Mayor James Allen to the city's service, was named to the board of supervisors as of Sept. 1. Clarence Bienman, who resigned to make the appointment possible, was thanked for his work on the board.

Awards by the current court jury for land purchases for parking lot No. 4 were approved officially last night by commissioners.

Ziegler Wins Fight: Toll Road Shelved

Job and former Auditor General Murl K. Aten was dismissed as secretary at $10,000 a year.

Both were retained on call to be paid $100 a day if needed.

Leonard D. Schram lost his $7,800-a-year post as director of public relations and the $15,000 job of Chief Engineer was abolished. The former engineer, Thomas Baker, quit last month to take a highway job in Pennsylvania.

* * *

Foster said that Ziegler had supported the turnpike right along, if it could market bonds, but insisted that as an elected official he had no right to hold up highways in the turnpike "corridor" to make the toll road a profitable investment.

Highway plans, detailed in Ziegler's statement, may be completed by 1959 or 1960, Foster said. These include:

An extension of the Detroit-Toledo expressway north to the Detroit Industrial Expressway, near Southfield, for which financing contracts have been signed;

An extension of this expressway north "on or in the vicinity of Southfield" to Northwestern, construction which is given "top priority";

And a further extension north from Southfield by-passing Pontiac on the west, ending near Drayton Plains and to be connected with an eventual expressway north.

The extension of Northwestern will be undertaken with the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and Road Commission, Foster said, and a section as far north as M59 may be under contract for next year.

"eliminate the political opposition that has prevented the drama of Republican progress from being played to the fullest."

That call to battle will be sounded by Martin in a speech prepared for his installation late today.

NOT AGAIN

"The setback suffered in 1954 when the control of Congress slipped from our hands will not happen again," Martin will say.

"Never again must we allow complacency to become the plague of our political faith."

At no point will he directly mention the Democratic party, but will say "for many years prior to our victory in 1952, we struggled as a minority party to overturn . . . those forces bent on creating an alien, socialist state in America."

* * *

"We halted state socialism," he will claim. "We now have it on the run. We will keep it on the run."

Later in his speech, he will say: "Few of you . . . want to return this nation to the leadership of the past that despoiled our heritage with the indelible stains of corruption and communism," adding:

"We do not want another taste of the raw deals."

State Guard Enters Second Week

Another busy week of training and hard work got underway for Pontiac National Guardsmen yesterday as the Fifth Army's summer training program went into its second week at Camp Grayling.

The 207 men and officers of the Company M infantry unit and the 107th Ordinance Company are part of 10,000 Guard troops participating in the summer encampment. Troops return home Saturday by truck convoy.

Both Pontiac units turned in outstanding showings during the initial week of training and marched in the Governor's Day review Saturday, according to inspecting officers.

Company M men spent the first week qualifying in such weapons as the rifle, pistol, heavy machine gun, mortars, and recoilless rifle along with attending various other training sessions.

Forty-five members of the unit took part in a combined firing exercise for guests and new soldiers Saturday prior to Governor's Day ceremonies.

The Infantry troops will end a two-day bivouac in the field today with a total of 2,070 troops performing tactical and training exercises. Training sessions will be completed the rest of the week with preparation for departure, beginning Friday.

The 107th confined most of its first week to repairing vehicles of all types which is a busy task since the unit supports four major battalions.

An overnight field problem is scheduled for Wednesday with the Pontiac men operating as a support unit for a tank battalion. The operation will include moving into an assembly area and setting up a perimeter defense. The problem will also include a complete movement under blackout conditions.

All units in camp are being rated in all phases of training by a team of regular army inspectors under the direction of Col. Humphrey Verasco, Senior Army Adviser of the Wisconsin National Guard. Col. Verasco has had high praise for the desire to learn shown by the Michigan troops thus far.

"Our men have shown great interest. I am very satisfied with the way things are going. It is the best unit we have had in several years," says infantry commander Capt. A. J. Largent.

Ordinance Capt. Yurling told the Pontiac Press: "The men have really been putting out. The unit has received several compliments from high oficers on their performance. The men are getting plenty dirty and tired but they love it."

Movies, baseball, softball, archery, badminton horseshoes and swimming are some of the other pastimes at the camp which is located on the southern tip of Lake Margurethe in Crawford County.

The training program all comes to an end Saturday when the troops pack and leave. The men will receive government pay before leaving and another check will be presented each man by the state in the near future. The double pay days will result in the payment of checks totaling a least $75 for the lowest private.

Laos Refuses to Join Anti-Red Alliance

HONG KONG (AP)—Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos told Red China's leaders today his Indochina kingdom would not join any military alliances against the Communist world.

Peiping radio quoted him as saying:

* * *

"Laos is a small country, but it is aware of the duties deriving from its geographical position and it would not do anything that could be felt as a threat by its neighbors."

The Premier is on a seven-day official trip to Red China.

Idaho's Ex-Senator Lagging in Primary

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Virtually complete returns gave Boise Atty. Frank Church a 169-vote lead over former Sen. Glen Taylor for Idaho's Democratic nomination for senator today—one week after Idaho voters went to the polls.

* * *

Church had 27,959 votes to 27,790 for Taylor, who ran for vice president as a Progressive in 1948 and lost a comeback bid for the Senate in 1954.

Church declined to claim victory. Taylor says he will ask for a recount if he loses.

Two Area Men Named by GM

Philip E. Cartwright, Robert W. Stapleton, Are Appointed

Two Birmingham men were among five executives of the Detroit Transmission Division of General Motors who have been appointed to new positions.

Philip E. Cartwright, 1385 Brookwood Lane, is appointed to the newly created position of director of quality control.

He joined General Motors in 1935 at the Fisher Body Division in Lansing, and from 1941 to 1952 was with the Oldsmobile Division. He was then transferred to the Detroit Transmission Division as director of work standards, methods and plant layout.

Robert W. Stapleton, 32234 Auburn Rd., has been named assistant chief engineer, in charge of current design. He joined the Transmission division in 1940, and from 1954 until the present, he has been general supervisor of methods engineering and plant layout.

Others appointed were Robert F. Perry, succeeding Cartwright; Thomas E. Dolan, named experimental engineer; and Walter B. Herndon, appointed director of sales and engineering.

4 Auditoriums to Be Studied for Centennial

A three-car caravan of Pontiac Chamber of Commerce members will journey to Flint, Midland, Grand Rapids, and Lansing tomorrow to study civic auditoriums in these cities in a move toward a "Centennial Auditorium" for Pontiac in 1961.

Going on the all-day trip will be the members of a recently-appointed Chamber of Commerce Centennial Committee under the direction of Ralph T. Norvell.

This committee was established to study the possible site, architectural design, and means of raising money to build an auditorium in celebration of the city's 100th anniversary.

A list of questions has been compiled by the committee to be asked at each city from which a summary will be made when the members return, John W. Hirlinger, Chamber manager, said.

5,000 Motels in Canada

OTTAWA — Canada now has about 5,000 motels compared with just a few hundred at the end of World War II. For example, Ontario had 75 or them in 1949, now has 700. The average Canadian motel establishment has from 10 to 20 rooms and varies in price from $200,000 to $400,000.

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A private room and board for six days in a hospital for $10.50 is pretty reasonable by present day standards. So is a bill for 20 cents for medicine for the same period. These modest sums is the reason St. Luke's Hospital has the bills posted in the lobby—paid by a Mrs. Bonham on July 26, 1892.

Glowing With Self-Assurance

Margaret Helps Husband With GOP News

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Margaret Truman Daniel, working stiff, is the pluckiest "copy girl" ever to cart coffee to a sagging clump of newsmen until 5 o'clock in the morning.

* * *

She is especially plucky. Considering she isn't getting paid, and her work hours are punctuated with nothing more stimulating than an occasional sip of the brew from the cardboard container belonging to her husband, Clifton Daniel, special correspondent.

"I guess it's love," she says.

And there is no one, except possibly papa, who could object to her working this hard in behalf of the clear reporting of a Republican National Convention.

Margaret is a Democrat by heritage and a Republican by environment. She is being forced presently to brush elbows with men her father would scarcely talk to, in stern times like these; and she is looking fresher and more enthusiastic than Leonard Hall in a discussion of Ike's prospects.

* * *

Like all the other lady working stiffs here assembled, Margaret is working the dirvish time schedule. She operates out of a small New York Times workroom in a hotel basement.

BETTER DISPOSITION

Maybe she's better dressed than the rest of us. Maybe she's got a better disposition because—really—she could knock off the job any time she'd a mind to.

* * *

Maybe she even gets a certain hammy kick out of having Republican congressmen reach out their palms and quip, "Hey, spy, what are you doing here?"

But the fact is she's working hard in the little basement alcove office of her husband.

For the first time since she married she's had a chance to prove that when Daniel caught her eye and her hand, he caught them for earnest, and neither sleet nor storm nor political gossip is going to keep her from her appointed duties as helpmate.

* * *

Margaret Truman, before her marriage, was an ambitious career girl. She was both thwarted and helped in her ambitions by a U. S. President for a father, and always she was in the position o being labeled a "professional free-loader."

* * *

LESS SUFFERING

I am sure she would have liked it the other way. She would not have gone so far, but she would not have suffered as much. She might have been only a good choir soloist, but she'd have had that satisfaction.

* * *

As it was, she was treated too harshly and criticized as an "opportunist." Till finally — though she has not admitted it even today—she gave up her dreams as a singer.

Today Margaret has no quarter to beg of anybody. She is a new woman, even more assured in the inside than she once was on the surface.

There is no one she need account to but herself and her husband, and it is obvious, to look at her, that Margaret at last is in her element.

* * *

Now she is working with newspaper people, instead of ducking shrewdly around their questions. She is flustering over deadlines, and learning about objectivity in the news.

* * *

She is not sleeping, and yet is feeling great. Whether it's love or her new-born independence, she is looking shinier and softer than ever before.

In fact (may Harry forgive us) she looks exuberant as a Republican.

Go Blow Your Horn — Detroit Loves Weddings

DETROIT (INS)—The Detroit Police Department had adopted a "hands off" policy regarding the horn blowing antics of wedding parties.

Deputy Police Superintendent Miles Furlong, who could order such parties ticketed under the city's current noise ordinance, said:

"The blowing of horns by wedding parties has become a traditional rite and we hesitate to incur the antagonism of these young people by giving tickets."

Bob Considine Says:

Republicans Hardly Mention Ike's Illnesses

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—If anybody had told you after President Eisenhower's heart attack and ileitis operation that the President's health would hardly be mentioned at the Republican convention, you would have said he was off his rocker.

Yet it is hardly mentioned as the delegates attend their first sessions, predicting victory, pointing proudly to the past, and appointing committees designed to let the air out of the inflated seat cushions when the convention is over.

Topic A is Dick Nixon. His renomination, perhaps by acclamation on the first ballot, is almost but not quite out of the woods.

So many men secretly covet the role, some because of the President's recent health history, and so many other men would like to be responsible for putting a tiger of their own in that spot, that Nixon will not be able to get a good night's sleep until the last hurrah has been counted.

The strangest contradictions have emerged from the efforts of big, lumbering, ambitious Harold Stassen to de-horse Nixon.

ROUNDLY HATED

Stassen is roundly hated around convention headquarters for plugging for exactly what Eisenhower, Nixon and other party leaders have urged—a free and unfettered race for the vice presidential nomination.

* * *

Big Harold says, "Great idea—I've got just the boy for you, fellow named Herter." So nearly everybody says, "Boo!" including Herter, though the tired and arthritic governor of Massachusetts does acknowledge that he would accept a draft.

Here's another: Nixon is loved and respected much more 3,000 miles from home than he is in California. It took an extraordinary decision on the part of the 70-vote California delegation to avert what certainly would have been 20 or more anti-Nixon home-state votes in Wednesday's balloting.

These are the votes controlled by Gov. Goody Knight, a personable soul who thinks Nixon is a blank or blankety blank and who is inclined to drool in happy anticipation when anyone suggests that an Eisenhower-Knight ticket would sweep.

Somebody suggested that just to keep the Democrats off their necks the Republicans should run what is called, around the horse parks, a boat race.

Four or five close friends of Nixon would declare themselves to be vice presidential hopefuls including Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. They'd all make aggressive sounds, throw a lot of punches, and then quickly fold and urge their supporters to vote for Nixon.

DEWEY BARKS

"Phony idea!" Tom Dewey, the middle - aged elder statesman, barked with a fierce black and white smile that may have scared everybody out of the race.

* * *

But what does that do to the President's and the vice president's calls for an open race?

And what ammo does it supply to the Democrats, who had a real knock-down and drag-out fight for their vice presidential choice, and probably made a lot of friends doing it?

New (I hope) description of an egg-head: A fellow who thinks of Marilyn Monroe and Mrs. Arthur Miller.

Former movie star Rex Bell, now lieutenant governor of Nevada and a good bet to go higher, dropped by INS headquarters here the other day and somebody asked him how he thought the Stevenson ticket might go in Nevada.

Rex showed his dimple and in his best cowboy manner said, "How many votes do you think Sen. Kefauver will get in the great golden gambling state of Nevada?"

End of statement.

Join Egypt's Free Forces ---Lose Your Citizenship

WASHINGTON (INS) — The State Department has warned that any American who joins Egypt's new volunteer liberation army faces loss of his citizenship.

* * *

A spokesman issued the warning after an Arab source in Washington claimed that "a number" of U. S. citizens are among the "volunteers" from many nations that have offered to help Egypt defend the Suez Canal.

The source refused to specify how many Americans have applied to fight for Egypt in the "Foreign Legion" which was formed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser after he seized the Suez Canal and Britain and France began to make preparations for possible military action.

The Arab diplomat also added that he didn't know whether any of the U. S. volunteers have already left for Cairo.

The State Department immediately jumped on the suggestion that Americans may fight for Egypt by saying "it is strictly against U. S. law."

NO AMERICAN

A spokesman noted that the Nationality Act of 1940 ruled that if any American "enters or serves" in the armed forces of a foreign state without authorization of the U. S. government, he is liable to lose his citizenship.

He added that "absolutely" no Americans have applied for passports to go to Egypt to join the liberation army and that if they did, they would be turned down.

The Arab source said applications from Americans were received both directly in Cairo and by the Egyptian embassy in Washington.

The secretary of the Egyptian Youth Movement, Maj. Ahmed Shoheid, said Sunday that "thousands of completely trained" young men from Russia, Yugoslavia, Red China, Pakistan and Indonesia have volunteered to join Egypt's million man liberation army.

* * *

He did not mention any volunteers from the U. S. but the Egyptan newspaper Akhbar El Yom said that "offers also have been received from North and South America."

* * *

Shoheid said that thank you notes have been sent to all applicants and he promised to call them in the event of war since "we must all stand together."

Straits Bridge Signs Warn Trespassers

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Straits of Mackinac bridge officials have said "no trespassing" signs will be posted to ward off possible injury to unauthorized persons who attempt to investigate the huge project.

* * *

The move resulted from an account by two Manistee men who recently climbed atop one of the 552-foot main towers supporting the center span.

* * *

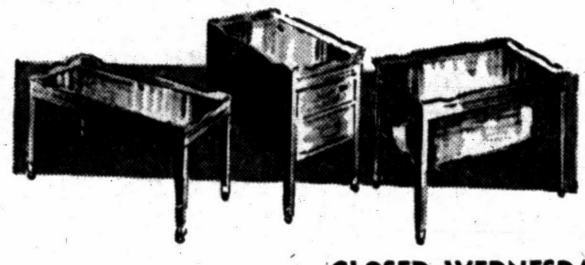

Dan Kline, project manager for the American Bridge division of United States Steel Corp., said signs earlier were posted at Upper and Lower Peninsula approaches to the gigantic bridge works.

He said boaters also had been warned against cruising near the project while work was under way, but said no signs had been placed at the towers to word off anyone who approached by boat when workers had a day off.

Harmony, Confidence Mark GOP Convention

If ever a Republican National Convention could be said to have started auspiciously, it is the party's centennial conclave in San Francisco.

Hours before National Chairman Hall's gavel called the gathering to order, it was apparent that harmony and confidence in November victory would dominate the sessions in the Cow Palace. Delegates and leaders have no worries about the ticket. Everybody expects acclamations for both President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon.

★ ★ ★

Adding to the delegates' feeling of satisfaction was the knowledge that danger of at least two fights had subsided. Harold Stassen's one man "dump Nixon" campaign seems to have fallen as flat as Happy Chandler's presidential boom. Also, the platform committee has approved a compromise civil rights plank acceptable to both Northern and Southern delegates.

★ ★ ★

Announcement that President Eisenhower would reach San Francisco today, 24 hours earlier than he had first planned, has heightened delegate and public interest. Another arrival today of special interest to Michigan is that of Mayor Albert E. Cobo. As the gubernatorial candidate of the GOP, he will be featured on television and may address the convention.

★ ★ ★

Absence of worry over the ticket doesn't mean Republicans aren't taking the coming campaign seriously. Not only is their objective to hold the White House, but recapture control of both the House and Senate. To that end they are ready to adopt a platform based on President Eisenhower's middle of the road program of dynamic conservatism.

They have the ticket and before sunset will have the platform that will bring the GOP decisive victory come November.

State to Get Park Site

Announcement in Chicago that Michigan soon is to acquire a 100 acre Upper Peninsula tract for another State Park site is good news for this outdoor minded commonwealth.

It is especially interesting because the property in Alger County includes scenic Laughing Whitefish Falls and long has been sought as a park site by the Conservation Department. The probability that it soon will be donated to the State became known following a meeting between Celotex Corporation president O. S. Mansell and Gov. Williams.

★ ★ ★

At that meeting Mr. Mansell revealed his generous plan to recommend that his board of directors transfer the tract to the State. It also was announced that the idea of trading 700 additional acres of the company's land adjoining the falls for an equal area of State owned land elsewhere is being considered.

★ ★ ★

The company recently acquired 240,000 acres in the Upper Peninsula from the Ford Foundation. In operating its new wall board plant at L'Anse it plans to harvest the timber on a sustained yield basis.

We hope the suggested trade goes through. It would do much to increase the recreational value of our magnificent State Park system which now offers splendid vacation facilities in 58 carefully chosen areas.

Can Mickey Do It?

Strangely enough in this convention period one of the leading topics of the day has nothing to do with politics.

For the information of the distaff side the question being asked most frequently by an impressive percentage of Americans is:

Can Mickey do it?

Fans are buzzing about the chances the Yankee's meteoric center fielder has of breaking Babe Ruth's 1927 record of 60 home runs.

★ ★ ★

Interest is natural inasmuch as only two modern major leaguers have closely approached the Babe's feat. In 1932 Mr. Jimmy Foxx and in 1938 Mr. Hank Greenberg each blasted out 58 home runs.

From this distance it looks as though the odds are in Mantle's favor. Right now he is hitting .369 and his 106 RBIs lead both leagues. With more than five weeks of the regular season left, he already has homered 42 times.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, it shouldn't be forgotten that in setting his record, the Babe had to get 17 of his four base blows in September. If the talented Mantle can get two or three more in August, the baseball world well might see a brand new homerun record this year.

Good Luck, Mickey!

David Lawrence Says:

Stevenson Statements Aid the GOP

SAN FRANCISCO—The Republicans have been expecting Adlai Stevenson's academic type of campaigning to help them as in 1952—but they didn't think he would furnish them with vulnerable statements.

* * *

Adlai Stevenson is capable of better speeches than he delivered at Chicago. He grips issues directly and with less of the "high brow" style which caused many in his own party to remark that he talks "over the head of his audiences."

Unfortunately, he started out by knocking his country—a mistake in politics. Most voters don't like to hear that the "prestige" of the United States abroad "has probably never been lower," or "we are losing the cold war."

Yet the Democratic nominee declared that "we must move rapidly to repair the ravages of the past four years to America's repute and influence abroad."

* * *

But how? Will it be done by war, by sabre-rattling and bluster, by appeasement and, if not, then by what method can the unscrupulous men in the Kremlin be made to stop their infiltration into the free world. Grants of money and bigger foreign aid programs have not done it, as Yugoslavia or India or Indonesia or Egypt might be cited to prove.

BUT HOW?

Four years ago, Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles were speaking about the need for "liberating" satellite countries from Communist enslavement, but the word "liberation" was seized upon by Stevenson and Acheson as forecasting a "war of liberation." Now, apparently aware of the voting power of Eastern European groups, he says:

"We must help other peoples out of Communist or colonial servitude along the hard road to freedom."

But how—by force or by peaceful methods of diplomacy which are today the theme of the Eisenhower-Dulles policies?

IS IT INDIGNITY?

There was another passage, however, which will plague Stevenson more. He said Republicans are planning to "merchandise" their candidates "by shows, slogans and the art of advertising," and that this is "the ultimate indignity to the Democratic process." But since when has advertising suddenly become an "indignity to the Democratic process?"

It's the same old clique which the "egg heads" in the Stevenson camp have inserted in the speeches of various Democratic spokesmen. The Democratic National Committee also will have to use advertising, in order to reach voters not reachable by personal canvass.

The Stevenson speech laments the fact that there are still "30 million Americans" with incomes under $2,000 a year. He didn't say this represents only 8.3 million families and unattached individuals or that the corresponding figure was 11.3 millions when the Democrats were in power in 1950.

VERY LITTLE ARDOR

"Once we were proud to confess that an American is a man who wants peace and believes in a better future and loves his fellow man." There doesn't appear to be much ardor in America just now for anything," Stevenson said.

He suggests "It's time to elect a Democratic Administration and a Democratic Congress."

Adlai Stevenson may have put his finger on the biggest political fact looming up in this campaign —the apathy of the voters.

* * *

Maybe the Republicans will be stimulated to indulge in a little of the ardor of yesteryears and dust off some old slogans which the Democrats used so effectively: "You never had it so good—Don't rock the boat—it's not the time for change."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Growing Pains Indicated by Deficiency in Calcium

In reply to my request for proof that mature adults can remember incidents of early childhood (before the ages of four years) and not just hearing their elders' stories, I received a lot of interesting reports from people who seem, let me say, a little too sure about it. Or, perhaps I should say they seem as sure as I was that I remembered many such incidents of my early childhood—until I undertook to confirm some of my recollections by asking some of the principals involved in them whether they could recall the incidents. In three such attempts I drew three total blanks.

Certainly I had aches or pains in the legs about bedtime or in the night perhaps after an unusually hard day's play, when I was in primary school or earlier. It is the custom to call such aches or pains "growing pains."

Medical authorities have long believed that recurring "growing pains" in children were "symptoms of rheumatism, less in the joints themselves than in (muscles), nothing characteristic about them except their occurence in damp weather"—Holt and Rowland Diseases of Infancy, '22.

The Father of Pediatrics, Dr. Abraham Jacobi, made more sense of "growing pains" than any other physician-author, I think. In the 3rd edition of his textbook, Therapeutics of Infancy and Childhood, Jacobi said:

"The . . . term growing pain dates from the medical nomenclature of past centuries, and ought to have been dropped long ago. What has been called by that name is of variable origin and nature. Sometimes it is fatigue only . . . sometimes rachitical" (that is, due to rickets) . . . "Still, the large majority of attacks of 'growing pain' mean rheumatism."

The 3rd edition of Griffith & Mitchell's Textbook of Pediatrics, '41, dismisses growing pains lightly, thus:

"Growing pains" (so - called) "may be found as frequently in children who do not have, or who never develop, any other signs of rheumatism as in children in the rheumatic group."

I see such pain in a light which was not available when these recognized medical authorities were forming opinions about it—the light of our newer knowledge of nutrition.

And so I say they were all out of step, but, you know me, "Growing pains" are a manifestation of calcium deficiency. Calcium deficiency is more or less inevitable in children or adults who subsist on a low calcium diet and-or inadequate exposure to skyshine or inadequate daily intake of vitamin D.

This is nutrition, not medicine. If you take calcium in any form as medicine for a week or a month, don't delude yourself that I advise it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Has City of Pontiac Right to Promise Union Work?'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When did the labor unions buy into the government of the City of Pontiac? A news item in your columns recently has the City of Pontiac apologizing to the sheet metal workers union for using a non-union contractor on a city job and promising not to do it again.

Does the union pay more taxes, do better work, do it for less money or in any way have a better right to city contracts than non-union men or contractors? Does the City Commission owe something to the unions?

What right does the City of Pontiac have to promise the union contractor the city business if the non-union contractor's bid is lowest and his work fulfills the contract?

What are these public servants thinking? We all have read of the vast sums sent all over the world of taxpayers' money to aid the destitute in many lands, but is it Christian to neglect those here in need?

There are great numbers on Social Security which they have paid for in the past. This state, by sales tax, takes from all these people three per cent of that money, as they also take that much from those on old age or social relief rolls. So what the right hand gives, the left hand takes away.

In the budget of assistance, the food allowance is $1.20 per person per day. I wonder how many of our lawmakers exist on that small amount. To my mind it was the greed of commercialism that caused poverty in many lands and to me it is the same cause that creates poverty here. Big business exists on Federal charity, directly and indirectly, and if they, out of their vast profits, were made to pay their share as a working man does, there would be more justice in this nation.

R. A.

Hal Boyle Says:

Gals With Light Fingers Plague American Stores

NEW YORK (AP)—The American housewife, who has many virtues, also leads the nation in one form of crime—shoplifting.

Light-fingered customers cost department and specialty stores at least 300 million dollars a year, and probably much more.

GUILTY HOUSEWIFE

"The greatest loss comes from the housewife," said Mrs. Mary Congemi, one of the nation's top store detectives. "She is a good customer in many ways. She pays her bills, keeps up her charge accounts—but she steals, too.

* * *

"And if she keeps at it she soon learns all the tricks of the professionals," said Mrs. Congemi, special agent for William F. Alexander, a former infantry officer who acts as a security consultant for 34 department stores throughout the United States, has caught nearly 5,000 shoplifters in the last 10 years.

"Most shoplifters are amateurs," she said, "but the amateurs account for 75 per cent of the losses.

* * *

"They range in age from 8 to 80. A lot are teen-agers, but most are housewives between 20 and 40."

OUTNUMBER MEN

Women shoplifters outnumber men at least five to one. But in either sex the person who actually steals from hunger is unusual.

* * *

Many people believe that most shoplifters suffer from kleptomania, or an irresistible compulsion to take something that doesn't belong to them, whether they have any real need for it or not. Mrs. Congemi grimly says this is purely a legend.

"Kleptomania, if there really is such a thing, is very rare," she said. "I've never encountered a kleptomaniac. Shoplifters simply want something for nothing.

* * *

"They often have the muddled idea that taking something from a big department store really isn't stealing. They don't understand the real moral issue until they are caught.

"But I'll say this about the average housewife who turns amateur shoplifter. Once she has been caught, even though she may have stolen many times before, she usually swears off forever."

* * *

Shoplifters are common in all walks of society, from the slum kid to the wealthy dowager.

Recently, in one men's store here the following were picked up for shoplifting within a 20-day period: an insurance company executive, a lawyer, a doctor's wife, a factory owner, the manager of another store, and a federal employe.

* * *

Mrs. Congemi, dark-haired and attractive, is married to a locksmith and has two children.

TRAINING COURSE

Recently Max Hess, owner of an Allentown, Pa., department store, gave a training course in shoplifting techniques to 1,600 employes.

* * *

Then, to put them to the test, Mrs. Congemi, who was unknown to them, went through the store to see what she could shoplift.

"In an hour and a half I filled three shopping bags with more than $400 worth of merchandise," she recalled. "I had lifted everything from ash trays to expensive dresses."

* * *

Wearing a mask over her head to hide her identity, Mrs. Congemi then confronted the sales personnel at a specially called meeting and showed them the results of her safari through the store.

$20,000 HAUL

"Salespeople themselves don't appreciate the extent of shoplifting until you actually show them what can be done," she said, and cited the case of one 20-year-old girl who stole sportswear valued at $20,000 from one store in a single season.

* * *

One other odd fact about shoplifting:

"It reaches its peak around the two greatest religious holidays — Christmas and Easter," said Mrs. Congemi.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Check Sight if Child's Very Shy

Lois was shy, friendless and undernourished, all because she needed glasses and her parents hadn't dreamed of that diagnosis. Myopia can make bookworms out of your children, as they compensate for their social and athletic deficiencies. So check their vision; then launch them into the field of "HR," as outlined below. And do it now!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-344: Lois L., aged 11, is a very quiet girl.

"She is a bookworm and has very few playmates," her mother informed me.

* * *

"She doesn't obtain enough exercise to whet her appetite, so she is also thin and undernourished.

"We try to get her interested in other children, but she leads a solitary existence.

"Dr. Crane, how can we make her more sociable and popular?"

ORGANIC DEFECTS

"Better have her eyes tested," was my first suggestion, for when children become bookworms and shun athletic games, it often means they have visual defects.

An optometrist soon reported that Lois was so nearsighted she couldn't even identify people across the room.

Myopia (nearsightedness) is thus a common cause for shy, bookworm children.

For they can't see a flying ball with sufficient accuracy to excell in sports. More or less inevitably they become athletic wallflowers.

* * *

And because they can't recognize people, they innocently ignore their neighbors and friends even when the latter may smile or nod in their direction.

Since they are not wearing glasses and those friends don't dream that such persons can't see them clearly, the friends may quickly decide these bookworms are snobbish and egotistical.

As a result, people like Lois soon become social wallflowers, too.

Barred, therefore, from games, and shut off from social affairs, they may naturally gravitate to books, which they devour.

* * *

It isn't the reading of books which makes so many scholars

nearsighted. On the contrary, it is their myopia which originally starts them on the hobby of excessive reading.

EYE TESTS

Many backward pupils who are making poor school grades, have been found to need glasses.

They haven't been able to see the blackboard well enough to observe the examples or problems which the teacher writes thereon.

Being somewhat timid, too, may hesitate to confess their defect, so they remain on rear seats when they should occupy the front row.

When we psychologists administer I.Q. tests, we always want to be sure the children have normal vision, normal hearing, etc.

For our I.Q. ratings are predicted on a child's being in "normal" contact with his surroundings.

Obviously, a child who has been nearsighted since he entered kindergarten, has missed many stimulating items in his environments. Thus, his wits have not been whetted as often as have those of his pals.

* * *

So lock the barn before the horse is stolen! Have your children's eyes tested as a first step to find out why they aren't athletic or popular.

And launch the whole family on the Compliment Club plan, whereby you pay three honest compliments each day. Report at the dinner table.

This is an ideal adventure in making friendships, as well as in producing better poise and conversational skill.

"HR," or human relations, is now becoming the most popular field of study in our colleges, but you can all join in, just by starting the Compliment Club.

So send for the Compliment Club booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. But get your eyes checked, too, as the first step.

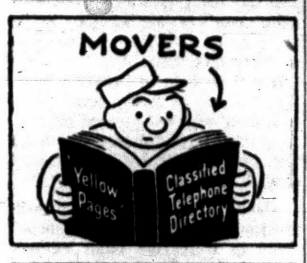

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological carts and pamphlets.

Will Harold Follow Harry's Script?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The Republican national committee — confident that Vice President Nixon will win renomination on the first ballot tomorrow—is secretly preparing to give Harold Stassen the convention microphone immediately afterwards to deliver an impassioned plea for party harmony.

Stassen, the man who has done more than any other Republican to fester party wounds, will thus be assigned the "peacemaker" role belatedly grabbed by wrench throwing former President Truman at the Democratic conclave last Friday.

A top politico with few illusions told this correspondent: "Stassen simply has to have the spotlight to live, and in the interest of the coming campaign, we've agreed to keep him alive by letting him speak."

EYEING '60 RACE

He said party leaders are convinced that the only reason Stassen launched his drop-Nixon boom in favor of Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts was to keep his own name alive for 1960.

Stassen himself has a different explanation. The one-time "boy governor" of Minnesota who ran frantically for the presidency in 1948 and 1952 told this correspondent:

"My own destiny is unimportant. What counts is the peace of the world and the victory of President Eisenhower. I am simply trying to do what I can to assure the best possible running mate for our great chief executive."

Stassen said it was love of the party that made him offer himself as a sacrificial lamb to the "pro-Nixon wolves." Herter, who had earlier insisted that he was positively not a candidate for vice president, conceded on his arrival here that any loyal party man can be "drafted" for the post.

This was all that the inexhaustible Stassen needed to set off on a frenetic Sunday which included five television appearances and an address to a Baptist Church congregation across the bay in Oakland.

The tenor of his TV pitches was an urgent appeal to all listeners to wire their state delegations demanding the nomination of Herter —not Nixon.

HAS "NO ANGLE"

Although Stassen himself has been dubbed by some politicians, "the peremnial sophomore" of the Republican party, he repeatedly plugs Herter as a man to whom "maturity" came early in life.

Stassen, a young-man-in-a-hurry who set his political sights on the presidency at the age of 21, insists that he has "no angle" now except "the good of the country."

He says he will return to the Eisenhower administration immediately after the convention, and regardless of the vice presidential outcome will give his all to helping elect the Republican ticket.

"But it's not too late to give us a better slate," he says doggedly. "If enough loyal Republicans wire their delegates before Wednesday, we can sweep the nation with Eisenhower and Herter this fall."

Annoyed Republican "regulars," equally confident of victory with Ike-and-Dick, would just as soon sweep Stassen into the Democratic fold.

Motorcar Carriers Men Honored for Safety Work

Some 159 drivers of Motorcar Carriers, Inc. of Pontiac were honored for their safety record at a luncheon yesterday.

The drivers have cut their accident rate to less than one mishap per 100,000 miles of operation. More than 2 per 100,000 is average in the trucking industry, a firm spokesman said.

L. W. Patterson, vice president and general manager of the firm told the drivers that their combined total of years driven without an accident amounts to 443 years, covering some 33 million miles.

Pontiac driver Russel Hindman, who has 10 years without a chargeable accident, was one of three drivers winning ten year awards.

Patterson, along with Walter W. Bryant, Market Service, Inc. a national insurance highway patrol service, and Harold K. Halbrooks, accident prevention director of the National Automobile Transporters Assn. of Detroit distributed cash awards and merchandise to the drivers for their achievements.

Morocco's Istiqlal in State Control Bid

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The nationalist Istiqlal party made a strong bid today to take over the government of Morocco.

The national council of the newly independent country's major party called for formation of an all-Istiqlal government after voting to pull out of the coalition Cabinet of Premier Mohammed Bekkai.

The Istiqlal, which held 10 to 19 spots in Bekkai's Cabinet, charged the Premier had not taken steps to develop real independence in Morocco.

The strong Moroccan workers' union joined with the Istiqlal in the attack on Bekkai's administration, and both groups demanded withdrawal of French troops from the country.

Revenue, Debts Rise in States

Census Bureau Shows Local Governments in Red 14 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reported today that although revenue of state and local governments rose in 1955, they went 14 per cent deeper in debt.

A record $44,300,000,000 of their bonds and other debts was outstanding at the end of the year, the bureau said.

The report estimated that while revenues rose 6 per cent, spending was up 10.3 per cent to a record of nearly 40½ billions. Of this amount expenditures for education accounted for more than one-third of the total or about $77 for each man, woman and child. Education costs rose nearly 1½ billion to a total of nearly 12 billions last year.

Highways and streets accounted for the next biggest share. For these items, spending was up 925 millions over 1954 to a total of about 6½ billion dollars. This amounted to $39 on a per capita basis.

Spending decreases were reported only for housing and redevelopment activities, state payments to veterans and air and water transportation facilities. These are minor parts of total spending.

The bureau said that spending amounts last year and the percentage increase over 1954 by the various types of governments were:

States $14,371,000,000, up 10.5 per cent; municipalities $10,436,000,000, up 6.4 per cent; school districts $8,192,000,000, up 13.8 per cent; counties $4,722,000,000, up 10.7 per cent; special districts $1,573,000,000 up 18.1 per cent, and townships $1,081,000,000, up 8.9 per cent.

Townfolks Plan Welcome Party for Kefauver

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — This little town nestled in the shadow of the Great Smoky Mountains prepared a rousing welcome today for its son who grew up to become the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

First step on the senator's crowded schedule was a visit with his 86-year-old father, Robert Cooke Kefauver, four-time mayor of Madisonville, who has been ailing for some time and now has influenza.

Kefauver planned to make his first public talk since his nomination at Chicago last Friday.

Harmony, Confidence Mark GOP Convention

If ever a Republican National Convention could be said to have started auspiciously, it is the party's centennial conclave in San Francisco.

Hours before National Chairman Hall's gavel called the gathering to order, it was apparent that harmony and confidence in November victory would dominate the sessions in the Cow Palace. Delegates and leaders have no worries about the ticket. Everybody expects acclamations for both President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon.

★ ★ ★

Adding to the delegates' feeling of satisfaction was the knowledge that danger of at least two fights had subsided. Harold Stassen's one man "dump Nixon" campaign seems to have fallen as flat as Happy Chandler's presidential boom. Also, the platform committee has approved a compromise civil rights plank acceptable to both Northern and Southern delegates.

★ ★ ★

Announcement that President Eisenhower would reach San Francisco today, 24 hours earlier than he had first planned, has heightened delegate and public interest. Another arrival today of special interest to Michigan is that of Mayor Albert E. Cobo. As the gubernatorial candidate of the GOP, he will be featured on television and may address the convention.

★ ★ ★

Absence of worry over the ticket doesn't mean Republicans aren't taking the coming campaign seriously. Not only is their objective to hold the White House, but recapture control of both the House and Senate. To that end they are ready to adopt a platform based on President Eisenhower's middle of the road program of dynamic conservatism.

They have the ticket and before sunset will have the platform that will bring the GOP decisive victory come November.

State to Get Park Site

Announcement in Chicago that Michigan soon is to acquire a 100 acre Upper Peninsula tract for another State Park site is good news for this outdoor minded commonwealth.

It is especially interesting because the property in Alger County includes scenic Laughing Whitefish Falls and long has been sought as a park site by the Conservation Department. The probability that it soon will be donated to the State became known following a meeting between Celotex Corporation president O. S. Mansell and Gov. Williams.

★ ★ ★

At that meeting Mr. Mansell revealed his generous plan to recommend that his board of directors transfer the tract to the State. It also was announced that the idea of trading 700 additional acres of the company's land adjoining the falls for an equal area of State owned land elsewhere is being considered.

★ ★ ★

The company recently acquired 240,000 acres in the Upper Peninsula from the Ford Foundation. In operating its new wall board plant at L'Anse it plans to harvest the timber on a sustained yield basis.

We hope the suggested trade goes through. It would do much to increase the recreational value of our magnificent State Park system which now offers splendid vacation facilities in 58 carefully chosen areas.

Can Mickey Do It?

Strangely enough in this convention period one of the leading topics of the day has nothing to do with politics.

For the information of the distaff side the question being asked most frequently by an impressive percentage of Americans is:

Can Mickey do it?

Fans are buzzing about the chances the Yankee's meteoric center fielder has of breaking Babe Ruth's 1927 record of 60 home runs.

★ ★ ★

Interest is natural inasmuch as only two modern major leaguers have closely approached the Babe's feat. In 1932 Mr. Jimmy Foxx and in 1938 Mr. Hank Greenberg each blasted out 58 home runs.

From this distance it looks as though the odds are in Mantle's favor. Right now he is hitting .369 and his 106 RBIs lead both leagues. With more than five weeks of the regular season left, he already has homered 42 times.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, it shouldn't be forgotten that in setting his record, the Babe had to get 17 of his four base blows in September. If the talented Mantle can get two or three more in August, the baseball world well might see a brand new homerun record this year.

Good Luck, Mickey!

David Lawrence Says:

Stevenson Statements Aid the GOP

SAN FRANCISCO—The Republicans have been expecting Adlai Stevenson's academic type of campaigning to help them as in 1952—but they didn't think he would furnish them with vulnerable statements.

* * *

Adlai Stevenson is capable of better speeches than he delivered at Chicago. He grips issues directly and with less of the "high brow" style which caused many in his own party to remark that he talks "over the head of his audiences."

Unfortunately, he started out by knocking his country—a mistake in politics. Most voters don't like to hear that the "prestige" of the United States abroad "has probably never been lower," or "we are losing the cold war."

Yet the Democratic nominee declared that "we must move rapidly to repair the ravages of the past four years to America's repute and influence abroad."

* * *

But how? Will it be done by war, by sabre-rattling and bluster, by appeasement and, if not, then by what method can the unscrupulous men in the Kremlin be made to stop their infiltration into the free world. Grants of money and bigger foreign aid programs have not done it, as Yugoslavia or India or Indonesia or Egypt might be cited to prove.

BUT HOW?

Four years ago, Eisenhower and John Foster Dulles were speaking about the need for "liberating" satellite countries from Communist enslavement, but the word "liberation" was seized upon by Stevenson and Acheson as forecasting a "war of liberation." Now, apparently aware of the voting power of Eastern European groups, he says:

"We must help other peoples out of Communist or colonial servitude along the hard road to freedom."

But how—by force or by peaceful methods of diplomacy which are today the theme of the Eisenhower-Dulles policies?

IS IT INDIGNITY?

There was another passage, however, which will plague Stevenson more. He said Republicans are planning to "merchandise" their candidates "by shows, slogans and the art of advertising," and that this is "the ultimate indignity to the Democratic process." But since when has advertising suddenly become an "indignity to the Democratic process?"

It's the same old clique which the "egg heads" in the Stevenson camp have inserted in the speeches of various Democratic spokesmen. The Democratic National Committee also will have to use advertising, in order to reach voters not reachable by personal canvass.

The Stevenson speech laments the fact that there are still "30 million Americans" with incomes under $2,000 a year. He didn't say this represents only 8.3 million families and unattached individuals or that the corresponding figure was 11.3 millions when the Democrats were in power in 1950.

VERY LITTLE ARDOR

"Once we were proud to confess that an American is a man who wants peace and believes in a better future and loves his fellow man." There doesn't appear to be much ardor in America just now for anything," Stevenson said.

He suggests "It's time to elect a Democratic Administration and a Democratic Congress."

Adlai Stevenson may have put his finger on the biggest political fact looming up in this campaign —the apathy of the voters.

* * *

Maybe the Republicans will be stimulated to indulge in a little of the ardor of yesteryears and dust off some old slogans which the Democrats used so effectively: "You never had it so good—Don't rock the boat—it's not the time for change."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Growing Pains Indicated by Deficiency in Calcium

In reply to my request for proof that mature adults can remember incidents of early childhood (before the ages of four years) and not just hearing their elders' stories, I received a lot of interesting reports from people who seem, let me say, a little too sure about it. Or, perhaps I should say they seem as sure as I was that I remembered many such incidents of my early childhood—until I undertook to confirm some of my recollections by asking some of the principals involved in them whether they could recall the incidents. In three such attempts I drew three total blanks.

Certainly I had aches or pains in the legs about bedtime or in the night perhaps after an unusually hard day's play, when I was in primary school or earlier. It is the custom to call such aches or pains "growing pains."

Medical authorities have long believed that recurring "growing pains" in children were "symptoms of rheumatism, less in the joints themselves than in (muscles), nothing characteristic about them except their occurence in damp weather"—Holt and Rowland Diseases of Infancy, '22.

The Father of Pediatrics, Dr. Abraham Jacobi, made more sense of "growing pains" than any other physician-author, I think. In the 3rd edition of his textbook, Therapeutics of Infancy and Childhood, Jacobi said:

"The . . . term growing pain dates from the medical nomenclature of past centuries, and ought to have been dropped long ago. What has been called by that name is of variable origin and nature. Sometimes it is fatigue only . . . sometimes rachitical" (that is, due to rickets) . . . "Still, the large majority of attacks of 'growing pain' mean rheumatism."

The 3rd edition of Griffith & Mitchell's Textbook of Pediatrics, '41, dismisses growing pains lightly, thus:

"Growing pains" (so - called) "may be found as frequently in children who do not have, or who never develop, any other signs of rheumatism as in children in the rheumatic group."

I see such pain in a light which was not available when these recognized medical authorities were forming opinions about it—the light of our newer knowledge of nutrition.

And so I say they were all out of step, but, you know me. "Growing pains" are a manifestation of calcium deficiency. Calcium deficiency is more or less inevitable in children or adults who subsist on a low calcium diet and-or inadequate exposure to skyshine or inadequate daily intake of vitamin D.

This is nutrition, not medicine. If you take calcium in any form as medicine for a week or a month, don't delude yourself that I advise it.

'Has City of Pontiac Right to Promise Union Work?'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When did the labor unions buy into the government of the City of Pontiac? A news item in your columns recently has the City of Pontiac apologizing to the sheet metal workers union for using a non-union contractor on a city job and promising not to do it again,

Does the union pay more taxes, do better work, do it for less money or in any way have a better right to city contracts than non-union men or contractors? Does the City Commission owe something to the unions?

What right does the City of Pontiac have to promise the union contractor the city business if the non-union contractor's bid is lowest and his work fulfills the contract?

What are these public servants thinking? We all have read of the vast sums sent all over the world of taxpayers' money to aid the destitute in many lands, but is it Christian to neglect those here in need?

There are great numbers on Social Security which they have paid for in the past. This state, by sales tax, takes from all these people three per cent of that money, as they also take that much from those on old age or social relief rolls. So what the right hand gives, the left hand takes away.

In the budget of assistance, the food allowance is $1.20 per person per day. I wonder how many of our lawmakers exist on that small amount. To my mind it was the greed of commercialism that caused poverty in many lands and to me it is the same cause that creates poverty here. Big business exists on Federal charity, directly and indirectly, and if they, out of their vast profits, were made to pay their share as a working man does, there would be more justice in this nation.

R. A.

Hal Boyle Says:

Gals With Light Fingers Plague American Stores

NEW YORK (AP)—The American housewife, who has many virtues, also leads the nation in one form of crime—shoplifting.

Light-fingered customers cost department and specialty stores at least 300 million dollars a year, and probably much more.

GUILTY HOUSEWIFE

"The greatest loss comes from the housewife," said Mrs. Mary Congemi, one of the nation's top store detectives. "She is a good customer in many ways. She pays her bills, keeps up her charge accounts—but she steals, too.

* * *

"And if she keeps at it she soon learns all the tricks of the professionals," said Mrs. Congemi, special agent for William F. Alexander, a former infantry officer who acts as a security consultant for 34 department stores throughout the United States, has caught nearly 5,000 shoplifters in the last 10 years.

"Most shoplifters are amateurs," she said, "but the amateurs account for 75 per cent of the losses.

* * *

"They range in age from 8 to 80. A lot are teen-agers, but most are housewives between 20 and 40."

OUTNUMBER MEN

Women shoplifters outnumber men at least five to one. But in either sex the person who actually steals from hunger is unusual.

* * *

Many people believe that most shoplifters suffer from kleptomania, or an irresistible compulsion to take something that doesn't belong to them, whether they have any real need for it or not. Mrs. Congemi grimly says this is purely a legend.

"Kleptomania, if there really is such a thing, is very rare," she said. "I've never encountered a kleptomaniac. Shoplifters simply want something for nothing.

* * *

"They often have the muddled idea that taking something from a big department store really isn't stealing. They don't understand the real moral issue until they are caught.

"But I'll say this about the average housewife who turns amateur shoplifter. Once she has been caught, even though she may have stolen many times before, she usually swears off forever."

* * *

Shoplifters are common in all walks of society, from the slum kid to the wealthy dowager.

Recently, in one men's store here the following were picked up for shoplifting within a 20-day period: an insurance company executive, a lawyer, a doctor's wife, a factory owner, the manager of another store, and a federal employe.

* * *

Mrs. Congemi, dark-haired and attractive, is married to a locksmith and has two children.

TRAINING COURSE

Recently Max Hess, owner of an Allentown, Pa., department store, gave a training course in shoplifting techniques to 1,600 employes.

* * *

Then, to put them to the test, Mrs. Congemi, who was unknown to them, went through the store to see what she could shoplift.

"In an hour and a half I filled three shopping bags with more than $400 worth of merchandise," she recalled. "I had lifted everything from ash trays to expensive dresses."

* * *

Wearing a mask over her head to hide her identity, Mrs. Congemi then confronted the sales personnel at a specially called meeting and showed them the results of her safari through the store.

$20,000 HAUL

"Salespeople themselves don't appreciate the extent of shoplifting until you actually show them what can be done," she said, and cited the case of one 20-year-old girl who stole sportswear valued at $20,000 from one store in a single season.

* * *

One other odd fact about shoplifting:

"It reaches its peak around the two greatest religious holidays — Christmas and Easter," said Mrs. Congemi.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Check Sight if Child's Very Shy

Lois was shy, friendless and undernourished, all because she needed glasses and her parents hadn't dreamed of that diagnosis. Myopia can make bookworms out of your children, as they compensate for their social and athletic deficiencies. So check their vision; then launch them into the field of "HR," as outlined below. And do it now!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-344: Lois L., aged 11, is a very quiet girl.

"She is a bookworm and has very few playmates," her mother informed me.

* * *

"She doesn't obtain enough exercise to whet her appetite, so she is also thin and undernourished.

"We try to get her interested in other children, but she leads a solitary existence.

"Dr. Crane, how can we make her more sociable and popular?"

ORGANIC DEFECTS

"Better have her eyes tested," was my first suggestion, for when children become bookworms and shun athletic games, it often means they have visual defects.

An optometrist soon reported that Lois was so nearsighted she couldn't even identify people across the room.

Myopia (nearsightedness) is thus a common cause for shy, bookworm children.

For they can't see a flying ball with sufficient accuracy to excell in sports. More or less inevitably they become athletic wallflowers.

* * *

And because they can't recognize people, they innocently ignore their neighbors and friends even when the latter may smile or nod in their direction.

Since they are not wearing glasses and those friends don't dream that such persons can't see them clearly, the friends may quickly decide these bookworms are snobbish and egotistical.

As a result, people like Lois soon become social wallflowers, too.

Barred, therefore, from games, and shut off from social affairs, they may naturally gravitate to books, which they devour.

* * *

It isn't the reading of books which makes so many scholars

nearsighted. On the contrary, it is their myopia which originally starts them on the hobby of excessive reading.

EYE TESTS

Many backward pupils who are making poor school grades, have been found to need glasses.

They haven't been able to see the blackboard well enough to observe the examples or problems which the teacher writes thereon.

Being somewhat timid, too, may hesitate to confess their defect, so they remain on rear seats when they should occupy the front row.

When we psychologists administer I.Q. tests, we always want to be sure the children have normal vision, normal hearing, etc.

For our I.Q. ratings are predicted on a child's being in "normal" contact with his surroundings.

Obviously, a child who has been nearsighted since he entered kindergarten, has missed many stimulating items in his environments. Thus, his wits have not been whetted as often as have those of his pals.

* * *

So lock the barn before the horse is stolen! Have your children's eyes tested as a first step to find out why they aren't athletic or popular.

And launch the whole family on the Compliment Club plan, whereby you pay three honest compliments each day. Report at the dinner table.

This is an ideal adventure in making friendships, as well as in producing better poise and conversational skill.

"HR," or human relations, is now becoming the most popular field of study in our colleges, but you can all join in, just by starting the Compliment Club.

So send for the Compliment Club booklet, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. But get your eyes checked, too, as the first step.

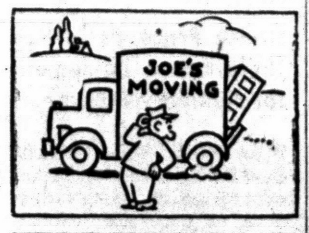

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological carts and pamphlets.

Will Harold Follow Harry's Script?

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The Republican national committee — confident that Vice President Nixon will win renomination on the first ballot tomorrow—is secretly preparing to give Harold Stassen the convention microphone immediately afterwards to deliver an impassioned plea for party harmony.

Stassen, the man who has done more than any other Republican to fester party wounds, will thus be assigned the "peacemaker" role belatedly grabbed by wrench throwing former President Truman at the Democratic conclave last Friday.

A top politico with few illusions told this correspondent: "Stassen simply has to have the spotlight to live, and in the interest of the coming campaign, we've agreed to keep him alive by letting him speak."

EYEING '60 RACE

He said party leaders are convinced that the only reason Stassen launched his drop-Nixon boom in favor of Gov. Christian Herter of Massachusetts was to keep his own name alive for 1960.

Stassen himself has a different explanation. The one-time "boy governor" of Minnesota who ran frantically for the presidency in 1948 and 1952 told this correspondent:

"My own destiny is unimportant. What counts is the peace of the world and the victory of President Eisenhower. I am simply trying to do what I can to assure the best possible running mate for our great chief executive."

Stassen said it was love of the party that made him offer himself as a sacrificial lamb to the "pro-Nixon wolves." Herter, who had earlier insisted that he was positively not a candidate for vice president, conceded on his arrival here that any loyal party man can be "drafted" for the post.

This was all that the inexhaustible Stassen needed to set off on a frenetic Sunday which included five television appearances and an address to a Baptist Church congregation across the bay in Oakland.

The tenor of his TV pitches was an urgent appeal to all listeners to wire their state delegations demanding the nomination of Herter —not Nixon.

HAS "NO ANGLE"

Although Stassen himself has been dubbed by some politicians, "the perennial sophomore" of the Republican party, he repeatedly plugs Herter as a man to whom "maturity" came early in life.

Stassen, a young-man-in-a-hurry who set his political sights on the presidency at the age of 21, insists that he has "no angle" now except "the good of the country."

He says he will return to the Eisenhower administration immediately after the convention, and regardless of the vice presidential outcome will give his all to helping elect the Republican ticket.

"But it's not too late to give us a better slate," he says doggedly. "If enough loyal Republicans wire their delegates before Wednesday, we can sweep the nation with Eisenhower and Herter this fall."

Annoyed Republican "regulars," equally confident of victory with Ike-and-Dick, would just as soon sweep Stassen into the Democratic fold.

Motorcar Carriers Men Honored for Safety Work

Some 159 drivers of Motorcar Carriers, Inc. of Pontiac were honored for their safety record at a luncheon yesterday.

The drivers have cut their accident rate to less than one mishap per 100,000 miles of operation. More than 2 per 100,000 is average in the trucking industry, a firm spokesman said.

L. W. Patterson, vice president and general manager of the firm told the drivers that their combined total of years driven without an accident amounts to 443 years, covering some 33 million miles.

Pontiac driver Russel Hindman, who has 10 years without a chargeable accident, was one of three drivers winning ten year awards.

Patterson, along with Walter W. Bryant, Market Service, Inc. a national insurance highway patrol service, and Harold K. Halbrooks, acicdent prevention director of the National Automobile Transporters Assn. of Detroit distributed cash awards and merchandise to the drivers for their achievements.

Morocco's Istiqlal in State Control Bid

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — The nationalist Istiqlal party made a strong bid today to take over the government of Morocco.

The national council of the newly independent country's major party called for formation of an all-Istiqlal government after voting to pull out of the coalition Cabinet of Premier Mohammed Bekkai.

The Istiqlal, which held 10 to 19 spots in Bekkai's Cabinet, charged the Premier had not taken steps to develop real independence in Morocco.

The strong Moroccan workers' union joined with the Istiqlal in the attack on Bekkai's administration, and both groups demanded withdrawal of French troops from the country.

Revenue, Debts Rise in States

Census Bureau Shows Local Governments in Red 14 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reported today that although revenue of state and local governments rose in 1955, they went 14 per cent deeper in debt.

A record $44,300,000,000 of their bonds and other debts was outstanding at the end of the year, the bureau said.

The report estimated that while revenues rose 6 per cent, spending was up 10.3 per cent to a record of nearly 40½ billions. Of this amount expenditures for education accounted for more than one-third of the total or about $77 for each man, woman and child. Education costs rose nearly 1½ billion to a total of nearly 12 billions last year.

Highways and streets accounted for the next biggest share. For these items, spending was up 925 millions over 1954 to a total of about 6½ billion dollars. This amounted to $39 on a per capita basis.

Spending decreases were reported only for housing and redevelopment activities, state payments to veterans and air and water transportation facilities. These are minor parts of total spending.

The bureau said that spending amounts last year and the percentage increase over 1954 by the various types of governments were:

States $14,371,000,000, up 10.5 per cent; municipalities $10,436,000,000, up 6.4 per cent; school districts $8,192,000,000, up 13.8 per cent; counties $4,722,000,000, up 10.7 per cent; special districts $1,573,000,000 up 18.1 per cent, and townships $1,081,000,000, up 8.9 per cent.

Townfolks Plan Welcome Party for Kefauver

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — This little town nestled in the shadow of the Great Smoky Mountains prepared a rousing welcome today for its son who grew up to become the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

First step on the senator's crowded schedule was a visit with his 86-year-old father, Robert Cooke Kefauver, four-time mayor of Madisonville, who has been ailing for some time and now has influenza.

Kefauver planned to make his first public talk since his nomination at Chicago last Friday.

Here Are the Official Platform Planks Outlining Present Republican Policies

By ROSE McKEE

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Republicans launched a strong bid for votes today with a platform that pledges tax reductions, a balanced budget, and a powerful military defense program that will deter aggression.

* * *

The statement of official party policy, drafted by the Resolutions Committee, was to be voted on later in the day at the GOP centennial convention.

It followed directly down the middle-of-the-road with President Eisenhower on all major issues, and primarily was a restatement of administration policy.

The one break with the Republican past in the document was a recommendation for immediate statehood for Alaska. In years past, the GOP has urged only that Hawaii be admitted into the union at once, stating always that Alaska must make further efforts to qualify for statehood.

In the agriculture plank, the committee said the GOP would continue to seek full parity for farmers in the market place through the flexible price support program and expand research efforts.

The platform stated the following planks as GOP policy:

Government spending must be reduced without weakening the defenses of the nation or "depreciating the quality of essential services of government to our people."

* * *

Continued balancing of the budget must be sought and the national debt should be gradually reduced.

Tax reductions, favoring low and middle income families, should be forthcoming.

Private enterprise should be stimulated, and the government should make further effort to withdraw from business activities.

* * *

An atomic-powered peace ship, such as Congress turned down earlier this year, should be built.

Congress should enact legislation enabling the government to scrutinize more closely business mergers "which have significant or potential monopolistic connotations."

Procedural changes must be made in anti-trust legislation to facilitate enforcement.

"Unwavering vigilance" against corruption and waste in government must continue.

Pledge the GOP to continue the fight to put the postal service on a more self-sustaining basis.

Submission by Congress of a constitutional amendment providing equal rights for men and women.

American Indians should continue to gain material and social advantages of birthright and citizenship.

* * *

Inequities in the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act should be corrected and unused quotas should be redistributed to nations that have long waiting lists of persons wanting to enter the U.S.

The Refugee Relief Act of 1953, which opened the door for aliens without a home, should be extended.

The government must "strive for acceptance of realistic proposals for disarmament and the humanitarian control of weapons of mass destruction," while maintaining and strengthening the security of the nation.

America's defense mechanism must include a jet-powered long-range air force; effective guided and ballistic missiles; a modern navy; a mobile army "without equal", and bases strategically dispersed about the U.S. and the world.

* * *

Veterans with service-connected injuries should continue to receive government aid and a pension maintained for disabled war veterans in need and for their widows and orphans.

The Eisenhower "partnership" attitude toward power development, which calls for participation of both private industry and the government, should be continued.

Public bodies and cooperatives must continue to get preference in the marketing of federally-produced power.

* * *

America should guarantee Israel's physical borders and seek peace in the Middle East.

The Taft-Hartley Law should be amended to make it fairer to labor, management and the public.

The Supreme Court's school anti-segregation ruling should be carried out, but without force.

The document stressed with pride the administration's defense program, which has been under critical attack by many Democrats.

* * *

It said also that Eisenhower is equipped by training, temperament, and experience in war and peace to continue a defense program in which the people will have confidence.

Hodge Enters Illinois Prison

Ex-State Official Gets 12 to 15-Year Sentence for Check Fraud

CHESTER, Ill. (AP) — Former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, free-spending state official who once aspired to the governor's chair, today surveyed the cold regulated life of Menard Prison as Inmate No. 25303.

* * *

Hodge, once a leader in the Republican administration, entered Menard last night. Earlier in the day, he was sentenced to serve 12 to 15 years after pleading guilty to charges of taking $637,000 in state funds in a check-writing scandal that involved more than a dozen state and federal investigations.

Hodge, 51, appeared dazed and glassy eyed on arrival at the prison. He was given his first prison meal and remarked to newsmen that he felt "much better."

Asked if he thought his sentence was severe, Hodge replied: "I don't know." Later he said, "I think the judge (Circuit Judge Clem Smith) was fair."

Adlai Talk in Detroit Rests With Unionists

DETROIT (AP)—A union group may decide today whether Adlai Stevenson will be invited to make a Labor Day speech in Detroit.

* * *

A joint AFL-CIO committee in charge of arrangement stor the Sept. 3 observance meets at 4 p.m. and one member said he would recommend that the Democratic presidential nominee be asked to speak at the ceremonies.

A report that the invitation already had been issued and accepted was denied yesterday by Stevenson aides, state Democratic leaders and labor officials.

A spokesman at Stevenson's headquarters in Chicago said the Democratic nominee would formally open his presidential campaign Sept. 13 in a city yet to be determined.

Although he made no reference to the reported Detroit address, it has become almost traditional in the past few years for the Democratic candidate to kick off his campaign with a speech here on Labor Day. Stevenson did it in 1952 and former President Truman in 1948.

However, union men have said the celebration this year would be non-partisan.

* * *

Edward J. Holstine, 25, of 2281 Ray Rd., died of severe injuries suffered when his car went off the road and struck a pole early Sunday.

Mrs. Lamarr Phillips of Independence Township, told deputies yesterday she saw the Holstine car struck and forced off the road Sunday by a car which kept going. She said the hit-run vehicle was green with Indiana plates.

Mrs. Phillips told deputies she was riding behind the Indiana auto when the crash occurred. She said she was riding with another woman from Oxford and two men from Detroit. The men refused to stop to see if they could aid the injured driver, she said.

The Sheriff's Department began an investigation of the accident yesterday after maroon paint was found on the fender of the cream colored Holstine car.

Cobo Off to Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo flies to San Francisco today to meet with the Michigan GOP delegation to the Republican National Convention.

Then There's a 'Roll Call' --- Coffee Break

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—So many political terms are floating around these days that the newspaper reader and television watcher may find himself confused.

To add to the confusion, here are some meanings that could be attached to the commoner terms:

Open convention — Anybody is perfectly free to stick his neck out if he wants it chopped off.

Streamlined convention — Adding Ethel Merman, Irene Dunne and other entertainers to the program.

Spontaneous and unrehearsed—We could have routined this better if we had a couple more days.

Cow Palace — An air-conditioned barn where people act as stand-ins for cows.

Demand that the delegation be polled — Look, Ma, I'm on television.

Stassen, Harold E. — The Republicans' answer to Harry S. Truman.

Reception, tea party, caucus — Interchangeable terms meaning "martini, very dry, please."

Chicago convention — Say that again, Junior, and I'll wash your mouth with soap.

Stevenson — Author of "Treasure Island."

Civil rights — Aw, look. We were getting along fine. Why start an argument?

Burning issue — Let's get out of this madhouse. Where shall we have dinner tonight?

Ed Sullivan Enters Connecticut Hospital

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Ed Sullivan, nationally syndicated newspaper columnist and television personality, entered Grace-New Haven Community Hospital last night to be treated for what the hospital described as "some congestion in the lower right lobe of his lung." His condition is not serious.

The hospital said:

"His recuperation from a recent auto accident was interrupted by an elevation of temperature, and he was transferred from his Southbury home to the hospital. He is not in serious distress and his removal to the hospital is made primarily in order to take advantage of the diagnostic facilities there because of some congestion in the lower right lobe of his lung."

Sullivan and three others were injured in a two-car accident early Aug. 6 in Seymour and spent nearly two weeks at Griffin Hospital, Derby.

Slate Aug. 22 Wiener Roast

Lakeland Ladies to Bowl

KEEGO HARBOR—The Lakeland Lady Bowlers will meet here tomorrow for their general fall meeting.

Women of the League will begin the meeting at 7 p.m., in the home of Naomi Johnston, with a weiner roast. Business of the day will be taken up at 8 p.m.

League bowling will open at Spillwood Lanes on Sept. 12.

Persons wishing to join may attend the meeting or call secretary Bonnie Kuzak, FE 8-0179.

Signs and posters from intersection of Orchard Lake and Commerce roads will point the way to Mrs. Johnston's home at 1185 Windside Dr., on west Cass Lake.

Two Remain Critical Following Collision

Two of three persons critically hurt in a Sunday afternoon accident remained in critical condition and a third was improving today in area hospitals.

Still on the critical list at Flint's Hurley Hospital are Harold Haggadone, 40, and his wife Margaret, 29, of Brown City, both of whom suffered multiple fractures and lacerations of the entire body.

Lowell R. Hannon, 13, of Ferndale, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with multiple injuries.

The trio were among eight people hurt in a headon collision on M24, two miles south of Lapeer. Mrs. Lillie Hannon, 39, mother of Lowell, reportedly crashed into the Haggadone auto when she attempted to pass another vehicle. She is being treated at the Lapeer County General Hospital for a fractured arm and body cuts.

Wild Motorcycle Brings Broken Leg to Rider

A motorcyclist broke his right leg when his motorcycle went wild yesterday and crashed into the cement foundation of a home at 4 Clark St.

Bobbie G. Garrison, 20, of 775 Stirling Ave. was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital and listed in good condition, authorities said.

Garrison told Pontiac police that details of the accident were blurred.

Not Well Rehearsed

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Ethel Merman got through her familiar rendition of "Great Day" without a hitch on the convention floor, but when it came to singing "Alexander's Ragtime Band" with special lyrics honoring President Eisenhower, she had to dive for the music. Harold Stassen's adherents probably noticed, too, that the campaign tune contained no mention of Vice President Richard Nixon.

Oak Park to Decide Outdoor Pool Issue

OAK PARK (INS) — Oak Park citizens will again be asked in the November election to approve construction of an outdoor swimming pool in the city's park.

The voters approved a $150,000 bond issue last year to finance an indoor-outdoor pool at the site. Since then, councilmen decided it would be better to have an outdoor pool.

Pine Lakers Organize Against Fishing Debris

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Over 100 residents of the Pine Lake area have expressed interest in forming an association to protect lakeside property owners from commercial encroachments, according to Charles A. R. Rogers.

Rogers invites all residents and property owners of the lake area to attend a meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at West Bloomfield Township town hall on Orchard Lake Road. He is acting as temporary chairman.

"Increasing popularity of the lake during recent years," he says, "has brought three boat liveries and an inn. It is rumored that an 110-room motel will be attempted in the near future."

"Such commercial ventures tend to attract people not personally interested in the welfare of property owners," he says.

"On weekends, the lake is crowded with fishermen and other transients who fill the water with their waste, beer cans, bottles, and so forth," he adds.

Listed as goals of the proposed association are a battle against debris tossed into the lake, keeping zoning restrictions for residential use, controlling commercial ventures with all possible regulations, and providing better police protection.

A committee of sponsors includes Philip Maxwell, J. S. Couzens, Frank Haage, George F. Curran, L. J. Haig, R. C. Haughton, Sam Frankel, Irving Cohen, Al Blumenfeld, John Bates and Charles Rogers.

'Fair Lady' Flattening Her Stars

By EMILY BELSER

NEW YORK (INS) — "My Fair Lady," the Broadway hit, has broken all records in knocking down its stars like tenpins in a bowling alley.

Not only has the play felled its two stars, Rex Harrison and Julie Andrews, with ailing throats, but Harrison's understudy, Tom Helmore, bit the dust Saturday night when he too was stricken with vocal nervous nellies.

Next in line may be Lola Fisher, the Long Island Cinderella who pinch-hit five times for Miss Andrews.

"It will probably get me too," Lola predicted, "because I'm not used to the nervous strain and the high tension."

BLAME INTRICACIES

Only veterans of "Lady" to keep going without a break are Stanley Holloway and Cathleen Nesbitt, who blame the big casualty list on the vocal difficulties of the show.

"I don't know any other musical," Miss Nesbitt said, "where so much of the drama is centered in the speaking voice. In 'South Pacific,' for instance, the dramatics revolve around the singing and the action. But in 'Lady,' the cast must change constantly from the singing to the speaking voice.

"It's a very unusual play and a very difficult one."

Theater-goers got their money back Saturday night when Helmore's voice failed him in the middle of the first act. He was the third performer in the space of a week to bow out of the show.

Helmore went on the first time Friday when Harrison begged off with a high fever. Harrison finally called it quits and flew off to Bermuda for a week's rest leaving his understudy with the lead role and a throat almost as bad as the star's.

Earlier last week, Miss Andrews, the show's female star, surrendered her role of Eliza to young chorus girl Lola Fisher, who took over on a half-hour's notice and became an overnight sensation.

Lola said:

"It's anybody's guess what will happen this week. I may have to go on again for Julie because she told me yesterday she was exhausted.

"This is not just an acting role—it's a triple-threat marathon. A player has to use not one, but three voices—a legitimate singing voice, a speaking voice and guttural histrionics."

She said Harrison (who has had no formal voice training) told her he had considered going to a vocal coach to study breath control, but apparently decided against it. He also told her he felt in need of a rest.

"I never realized until I played opposite him," Lola declared, "just how much energy he puts into his role."

The play's "mother," Miss Nesbitt, blamed part of the laryngitis epidemic on the air contitioned theater, but Miss Fisher said:

"It's mostly strain and nervous tension."

Security for You

Women Are Now Eligible at 62 to Receive Benefits

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Under the new changes in the Social Security law, women may be eligible to retire at 62 and start getting Social Security payments. The minimum retirement age has been 65.

This and the next two columns in this special series will explain the details of what these changes mean to the working women, widows, wives and dependent mothers who may be affected.

The first payments to women who qualify for them will be made for the month of November. But, the Social Security people say it's too early to predict how soon after that the first payment checks will go into the mail.

In any case, if you're eligible, you'll have until November, 1957, to apply and still get all the payments you have coming. Back payments up to 12 months will be permitted.

The government estimates that about 800,000 women will start drawing payments under the early retirement age during the first year it's in effect. Included among them will be some 300,000 working women.

Just what is a "working woman?"

To your Social Security office, you're a working woman if you've worked and paid Social Security tax on your earnings.

But, whether you'll be eligible to draw Social Security payments at 62 as a working woman, depends on how long you've worked under Social Security. At least 1½ years of work will be required, but not more than 10 years. Generally, the nearer you are now to 62, the less time you'll need.

For example: In general, if you're 62 or over by November you'll be eligible for payments if you've worked under Social Security:

1. Continuously since Jan. 1, 1955, or

2. At least a total of two years and nine months since Jan. 1, 1937.

What'll your payments be as an eligible "working woman?"

Only your Social Security office can give you your exact official payments.

They could range from a minimum of $24 to a maximum of $108.50 a month.

Your Social Security office will figure your payments on whether you retire at 62 or continue to work beyond that age and the average monthly earnings on which you paid Social Security tax either (A) between Jan. 1, 1937 and the time you retire, or (B) between Jan. 1, 1951 and the time you retire.

Your age at retirement is involved because if you retire between 62 and 65 your monthly payments will be lower than if you wait until 65 to retire. How much lower will depend on exactly when you retire between your 62nd and 65th birthday.

For example: If you choose to have your payments start as soon as you reach age 62, they'll only be 80 per cent of what you'd get if you waited until 65 to start drawing them. For each month you delay in retiring after 62 the amount of your future payments will be increased until they level off at 65.

If your choose to take your payments before you reach 65, you'll continue to get the reduced payments even after you're 65.

Processing of naturalization applications, which formerly required from nine to 12 months, now takes an average of about 45 days.

Guardsmen Like Camp, and Above All — Chow

Newcomers and oldtimers alike are having the moment of their lives and learning a little more each day as Pontiac's two National Guard units take part in the annual two-week summer encampment at Camp Grayling.

Questioned about the camp after the conclusion of the first week of training, here is what some of the boys had to say:

Pfc. Wayne C. Tanks, a company clerk with Company M of the 125th Infantry Regiment: "The camp is going great. I am learning a lot going to clerk school here."

Cpl. Robert Herr, a motor pool man attending his eighth camp with the Infantry company: "Things are really running smooth. There is a lot of work but we have plenty of time off and the chow is the best ever here."

Pvt. Frederick Eshildon, of the 107th Ordinance Co.: "I like it fine now that I am used to it."

"I like summer camp very well and I'm really beginning to feel like a soldier," was the comment of another 107th man, Pvt. Richard

Sp3. Ray Lemp, of the 107th Ordinance, calls the camp "about the best" of the five he has attended. "We are getting a chance to play a lot of ball and the chow is great," he added.

A fellow getting a lot of enjoyment out of the training and time off is Pvt. Deneen Louis of Company M, "I like the training and recreation here very much and have been able to get out and see the sights. It is real nice up this way," remarked Louis.

Lemp is a resident of Mount Clemens and Eshidon lives in Birmingham. The remainder of the group are Pontiac boys. All of the privates mentioned are participating in the summer training grind for the first time.

Delegates Swill Tea

Suez Conference Is Dry While They Talk Water

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)— The Suez Canal conference—dealing with 103 miles of salt water flowing through a desert—is the driest international conference for many years.

"The delegates," said David R. Owen of the London catering firm handling the bar, "are drinking practically nothing alcholic. But we're dishing out great lashings of tea and fruit juice."

Members of a number of delegations at Lancaster House agreed little alcohol is being consumed, but they differed sharply on the reasons.

"I've looked all over the place for a whisky," said a thirsty American, "and I just haven't been able to find it. I decided it must be a dry conference in deference to the Moslems attending."

Alcohol is prohibited to orthodox Moslems and there are Moslems in at least three of the 22 delegations.

"There's plenty to drink," said Sir George Young, spokesman for the host British delegation, "but no gentleman would think of drinking spirits at 4:45 in the afternoon."

The conference has an intermission at 4:45 every afternoon. The following 30 minutes is the period during which the delegates may refresh themselves.

"We haven't hidden the bar," said the caterer, "but it's not located in what you might call the middle of the conference room of Lancaster House. It's in an anteroom."

At the three big Geneva conferences held during the last two years international elbow-bending was a popular feature of every day's refreshment break. The consumption of cocktails, highballs, vodka, beer and aperitifs was no small matter.

* * *

"This is a strange conference," said the caterer. "The drinks are free to the delegates, yet they aren't drinking them. Now down at the press house we charge for them and the business is what we're pleased to call extremely brisk."

IT'S A RELAXED DEWEY IN 1956 — Back a short eight years ago, at the 1948 Republican convention, it was a rare event when Thomas E. Dewey laughed this way. THEY'RE NOT ALWAYS THIS COMPATIBLE — Vice President Richard Nixon gets a handshake from a vigorously pointing Gov. Urge GOP Women to Fight for Republican Congress

Talk Opens Convention Ladies' Day

Luncheon to Honor Pat Nixon; Speech Slated Tonight

By MARTHA COLE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Republican women got a warning today against apathy or overconfidence and a pep talk to fight for the Republican Congress for President Eisenhower.

It was their breakfast fare at the Republican National Convention. The other two-thirds of the ladies' day:

* * *

Noon: An Eisenhower rose luncheon given by Citizens for Eisenhower with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, wife of the vice president, as guest of honor. Decorations feature a pink rose named for the President.

Evening: 14 women speaking on the convention program. They limited to two minutes apiece — well, that's what the program said.

"Campaigning" was the general theme for the breakfast briefing session arranged by Miss Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the Republican national chairman.

Republican congresswomen in their prepared speeches, asked the women to get out and help win a Republican Congress.

Rep. Frances Bolton of Ohio said it was generally conceded that "We Republican women and the independents we brought to Republican cause were responsible for Mr. Eisenhower's election."

"But we failed to give him a Republican Congress," she said. "There must be no mistake this time or we endanger not only the life of our nation, but her position of responsibility in the great family of nations."

Rep. Cecil Harden of Indiana said "We have given the American people four years of responsible, progressive government. The vast majority of Americans don't want the Democrats to take that away.

"It is up to us to see that they do not."

Rep. Katharine St. George of New York said polls show more and more of organized labor and young people favoring Eisenhower and the Republicans.

"These are good, solid heartening signs," Mrs. St. George said, "but we must not allow them to lull us into apathy and overconfidence, two habits of mind that we Republicans are all too prone to fall into."

Advice of a candidate's wife came from Mrs. Douglas McKay. Her husband, the former secretary of the interior, is running for U. S. senator in Oregon.

"When you are campaigning with your husband, try to forget your aches and pains and troubles — as he has plenty of his own," Mrs. McKay said.

But Keeps Innate Sincerity, Love of People

Wife of Nixon Has Gained Polish, Rare Charm

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The drab little wren whom fate cast in the surprise role of second lady four years ago is no more.

In her stead is a poised, sparkling, self-assured young woman who has dined for four years at the right hand of chiefs of state—and shows it.

Patricia Nixon, as unspoiled and thoughtful as she was on the day she first landed in Washington as the wife of "the greenest congressman" is enchanting even the most blase convention-goer with her 1956-variety charm.

At news conferences which she prefers to call "coffee klatches," she skips around the room to find chairs for her guests.

* * *

At dozens of state receptions where she invariably outranks all others, she stands endlessly in spike-heeled pumps, shakes thousands of strange hands without wincing, and somehow manages to reserve a fresh and special smile for each guest.

LOOKS BELIE ENERGY

Forty-three-year-old Pat Nixon is a phenomenon of American politics. Her frail good looks belie the tireless energy which makes her a match for Eleanor Roosevelt.

* * *

A former clerk, school teacher and government girl who worked her way through the University of Southern California and kept right on bringing home the paychecks after her marriage to struggling young attorney Nixon, she could now afford to take life easy.

Instead, as the mother of two pre-teen daughters, she does all of her own cooking, scrubbing and bottle-washing without benefit of a servant.

Pat Nixon knows the value of a dollar, and of a nest-egg for her children's education.

A devoted wife, she has long since stopped reading the more vitriolic attacks on her controversial spouse because—to use her own words—"I know he's doing the very best he knows how, and I never did like to gossip."

YEARS KIND

These frenetic fours years have dealt kindly with Pat. In 1952, as the wife of a very junior senator, she slipped in and out of convention teas without so much as a whispered, "There's Mrs. Nixon."

"I'd heard silly rumors that Dick might be picked for vice president," she confided today, "but he said they were preposterous, so we didn't give them a second thought."

It's a different story in 1956. With her peripatetic husband she has since circled the globe four times, skip-hopped around Latin America, entertained visiting heads of state as a stand-in for First Lady Mamie Eisenhower, and been toasted from Pakistan to Podunk.

Outwardly, the enviable experience has lent polish and luster to Pat's innately shy personality. Inwardly it has left her unchanged.

Pat Nixon—if fate decreed that she should step from the limelight—could fade back into a schoolroom or office without so much as name-dropping "Nehru" or "Mohammed Ali."

She has nothing but good to say of the Christian Herters, whom Harold Stassen is frantically trying to substitute as the second family.

Face-to-face with Mrs. Stassen in a receiving line, Pat flashed her a warm smile and an "It's so nice to see you" aloha.

She likes people. She seldom analyzes motives, preferring to believe that everyone is doing what he believed to be "for the best."

Her incredible vitality amazes the aching-footed delegates who stare at the 110-pound dynamo with something like bafflement.

To her own wonderment, she has discovered that she thrives on politics—even though she refuses to talk it.

"Someone would think I was expressing Dick's view," she explains modestly, "and I might not be. You see, we have so little time to discuss things these days."

What makes Pat Nixon tick? The pretty titian-haired charmer with the limpid brown eyes has only two real interests in life: To help Dick, and to assure that their two moppets remain unspoiled.

She has made a good start with both aims. The vice president can bless the day he found the young school marm at an amateur playhouse. The children — riding the bus to public school in Washington—had to help with the household chores to earn money for camp this summer. Pampered? They sometimes wish they were!

And of what does Pat sometimes dream on these hectic, exhausting nights?

"Someday I want a quiet little ranch in California," she confesses, "where I can love all the animals.

Republicans Mix It Up at Party

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Republicans went partying last night and forgot their few differences in a swirl of evening dress, music, champagne and crab newburg.

White-gloved waiters met guests at the door with a glass of champagne—California made, of course—when Gov. and Mrs. Goodwin J. Knight entertained some 8,000 Republicans here for their national convention.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon shook hands with presidential aide Harold E. Stassen, the man who wants to replace Nixon on the GOP ticket with Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts. Herter was there too.

A life-sized elephant made of fresh chrysanthemums revolved on a stand in the middle of the dance floor at Civic Auditorium.

Opera star Helen Traubel sang "I Could Have Danced All Night." Comedians cavorted around the stage. Dacers tapped their way across it.

Some 150 waiters zigzagged among the crowd with bottles of glasses.

Mary Jean Brown Wed Saturday

In a candlelight ceremony at Central Methodist Church Saturday evening, Mary Jean Brown became the bride of M. Bruce Srigley.

The Rev. Lee F. LaLone of the Donelson Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. Calvin C. Rice performed the ceremony in the presence of 350 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brown of South Tilden avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Srigley of Heyden drive are Bruce's parents.

For the double ring ceremony, the bride wore a gown of embroidered nylon organdy over taffeta, fashioned with a basque bodice and a full skirt that fell into a chapel-length train.

Her double silk illusion veil was held secure by a pearl tiara and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a crescent-shaped arrangement of white glamellias, stephanotis and miniature chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Byron Barnes was matron of honor. Her gown was of powder blue silk organdy over taffeta designed with the bell silhouette featuring a back fullness.

She wore a matching colored horse-hair hat trimmed with blue roses and carried a bouquet of pink glamellias, blue feathered carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. William J. Brown Jr., Mary Lou Lackie and Barbara Meriss were the bride's other attendants. They wore gowns of Cotillion blue designed identical to the honor attendant's and carried similar bouquets.

A pale blue silk organdy frock with matching colored accessories was worn by Patricia Goff for her duties as flower girl. She carried a nosegay of miniature pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Rodger Srigley served his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Theodore White, Arthur Antisdel and Robert House. Billy Brown, nephew of the bride, acted as ringbearer.

Mrs. Albert Langdon sang the bridal recital.

Greeting guests at the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Brown wore a Dior blue lace dress over taffeta with matching colored accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Srigley wore a mauve lace dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was also of pink cymbidium orchids.

The bride changed to a toast-colored nylon voile dress with beige accessories for her wedding trip to Niagara Falls. The couple will reside on Spokane Villa upon returning.

Out of town guests were present from Canada, Almont, Birmingham, Detroit and Flint.

Mary Jean Brown became the bride of M. Bruce Srigley Saturday evening at Central Methodist Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brown of South Tilden avenue, and Bruce is the son of the Harold J. Srigleys of Heyden drive.

High Heels or Low Is Big Question

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Most women have a heel in their life, in fact two heels. There seem to be heels for every occasion, both in human relationships and in physical comfort. A letter before me brings up the question of whether or not a woman should wear high heels when she is the same height, or taller, than her husband.

The woman who wrote is the same height as her husband but with high heels she is much taller. Yet she does not feel dressed up when wearing low-heeled shoes even though they are dressy and attractive.

This certainly seems to me to be an individual matter. It depends not only on how you feel but even more on how your husband feels about it.

Remember, many men like their women in high heels even if it does make them taller.

Some men must tower over their wives or dates in order to feel comfortable and manly. Others do not think in terms of height at all.

If being taller than the man in your life makes either you or him self-conscious then by all means wear low-heeled shoes. There are certainly all kinds of beautiful and graceful ones on the market, for all occasions. This is a small concession to make to romantic happiness.

Many women, too, feel self-conscious and therefore, are less charming when they are taller than the man they are dating.

The truth of the business is that most women are more graceful when wearing low heels. Remember that smooth performance in motion and in personality is a big part of chicness and charm.

BEST TO ALTERNATE

You should alternate low and high heels frequently. When a woman has worn high heels habitually and then changes to low heels she will experience some discomfort and fatigue since the back leg muscles will have shortened.

As I said, weather to wear heels which make you taller than your husband or date must depend on the reaction of both parties concerned. Remember, though, that many men like their women in high heels even if it does make them taller.

Also a discussion of the subject may make your date or husband feel deficient in his height.

* * *

The following exercise will stretch your back leg muscles so that you can change more comfortably from high heels to low.

Stand with your left side toward the wall and place your left hand on the wall. Swing our right leg forward-upward. As you do so pull your toe back toward your body.

Lower leg. Continue. After a while stand with your right side toward the wall and swing your left leg forward-upward and then down.

* * *

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14, "Take Care of Your Feet," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Anna Gordon WCTU Has Picnic Meeting

Mrs. Joseph Green was hostess at her home at Pontiac Lake on Friday to members of Anna Gordon Unit WCTU. Myrtle Dever presided at the business meeting held following a picnic luncheon.

Mrs. Lula Marian gave the opening prayer and Mrs. Herbert Flemington presented devotions.

During the program portion of the meeting, members of the YTC group presented musical selections. Sadie Patten closed the meeting with prayer.

A family night is planned for the next meeting.

First day of school may well be a rainy one. Excavate the closet beforehand and corral the rubbers, umbrellas and raincoats.

List Picnic Gear

Keeping a list of equipment handy will save time in rounding up picnic gear when the family decides to take off on a jaunt. Paper plates, cups and napkins are a must, and you'll find a box of cleansing tissues indispensable.

Mrs. Martin J. Davis (left) greeted guests as they arrived at the Friday afternoon tea held at the home of Miss Georgia Hoyt on West Lawrence street. Janet Marshall, Edward Cuthrell Speak Vows

Janet Louise Marshall became the bride of James Edward Cuthrell in a ceremony performed Aug. 11. The Rev. Carl Nelson performed the ceremony in Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Harry Turnbull of Arlington road and Fred Marshall of Quillen drive.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cuthrell of Lake Orion.

Elaine Willson attended the bride as her only attendant. Alfred F. Cuthrell, brother of the bridegroom served as best man while Thomas A. Cuthrell, another brother, and George F. Hooper, brother-in-law of the bride, seated the guests.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the new home of the newlyweds on Daffodil drive immediately following the service.

No 'Sissies' Under 6

Under age six, babies and children don't differentiate between boys' and girls' toys. So if a little boy wants a doll or a little girl wants a truck, there's nothing to fret about. It's silly for a parent to hold back a wanted toy on the basis it's for the wrong sex.

Mrs. Ida Reeves of South Johnson avenue, Lelah Thorpe of Mt. Clemens street and Mrs. Fred Ziem of Elizabeth Lake road enjoyed tea at the benefit held for the Michigan Animal Rescue League Friday afternoon. Georgia Hoyt opened her 100 year old early American home on West Lawrence street for the affair.

MRS. DAVID MAX COOK

Mr. and Mrs. David Max Cook were married Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church. The bride, the former Sandra Jean Clark, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Clark of Exmoor road. David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Max A. Cook of Oakcliff drive.

Sandra Clark Becomes Bride of David Max Cook

First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the wedding of Sandra Jean Clark and David Max Cook. The Rev. Edward Auchard performed the 7:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening in the presence of 220 guests.

Sandra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Clark of Exmoor road. Mr. and Mrs. Max A. Cook of Oakcliff drive are David's parents.

For the ceremony, Barbara wore a Dupioni antique silk gown fashioned with a V-shaped bodice inset with Alencon lace. The neckline of the gown and her elbow-length gauntlets were edged with sawtooth pleating.

A Juliet headpiece of pearl droplets secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Fugi chrysanthemums.

Joyce Perkio, as maid of honor, wore a coral crystalette waltz-length gown fashioned on princess lines. A matching colored Juliet headpiece with nose veil and crystalette mitts completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of garden flowers including baby breath and pink rosebuds.

BRIDESMAIDS IN ROSE

Margaret Dow, Margaret Hessler of Detroit, Evelyn Cook and Rene Cook were the other bridal attendants. Their rose pink gowns were identical in style to the maid of honor's.

* * *

A rose colored waltz-length gown with coral accents, fashioned with a large bow at the back was worn by Gretchen Platz for her duties as flower girl. She carried a basket of pink rose petals.

Max Arthur Cook, brother of the bridegroom, performed the duties of ringbearer, and Kenneth Ish sang the bridal recital.

Serving as best man was Richard Tims. Raymond Campbell, Robert Cook, Thomas Healy, James Lesar, Kerry Keating, D. Roscoe Hendry and Larry Wigner seated the guests.

RECEPTION AT CHURCH

At the reception held in the church parlors, Mrs. Clark greeted her guests wearing a sheath dress of white lace over aqua taffeta with a matching silk duster.

To complete her ensemble she wore white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds and baby chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Cook chose a gown of powder blue and white stripes fashioned on princess lines for her son's wedding. She wore a matching colored crystalette duster coat, white accessories, and a corsage of rosebuds and chrysanthemums.

Following a wedding trip to Hubbard Lake in Northern Michigan the couple will reside on Ward road.

Cardigans and collarless coats with jewelry worn outside are seen on fashion-conscious women. Chains in antique gold and pearls are high-style.

Parisiennes wear jewelry outside their full-length coats and it's terrifically smart and flattering on collarless necklines. Many splendored pearls and delicate chains in gold are draped close to the throat.

To reside in Ann Arbor are Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Van Duyne who were married Saturday. The bride is the former Shirley A. Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Petersen of Dakota drive. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Van Duyne of Kansas City, Mo.

MRS. ROBERT JAMES VAN DUYNE

Shirley A. Petersen Wed to Robert J. Van Duyne

Shirley A. Petersen wore a bridal gown of embroidered crystalette over white taffeta for her marriage to Robert James Van Duyne Saturday afternoon.

The gown, designed and made by the bride's mother, featured a Sabrina neckline fashioned with scallops extending in a V-shape at the back. The hemline, also scalloped, was ballerina-length in the front tapering to floor length at the back.

The bride's fingertip veil of nylon illusion was secured by a Juliet cap of Italian lace and satin, trimmed with seed pearls. She carried an arrangement of garnet roses surrounded by pink Pinocchio roses and pink streamers on a white prayer book.

Shirley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Petersen of Dakota drive, and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Van Duyne of Kansas City, Mo.

RITE AT ANN ARBOR

The Rev. Wilbur R. Schutze performed the 2:30 o'clock ceremony in the Chapel of St. Andrews Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor.

* * *

Mrs. Edward A. Notman of Flint was the bride's only attendant. Her gown was of turquoise crystalette in a ballerina length, fashioned with a scoop neckline and bouffant skirt.

She wore a matching colored satin headpiece with a nose veil and carried an arrangement of buff colored Fugi chrysanthemums and a deeper shade of pompons with brown streamers.

E. Willets Van Duyne served his brother as best man. Seating the guests were Morley E. Russell of Ann Arbor and Harry F. Cosway of Toledo, Ohio.

A reception was held at Canterbury House on the campus of the University of Michigan immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Peterson greeted her guests wearing a mauve lace sheath dress with matching jacket and black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Van Duyne chose a navy blue sheer dress with beige accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of yellow roses and chrysanthemums.

Assisting at the reception were Marion Riley of Detroit; Carole Kaiser of Port Huron, Mrs. James Morrow of East Lansing, Virginia Levely of Pontiac and Anne Kay Patterson of Columbus, Ohio.

* * *

For her wedding trip to Northern Michigan, the new Mrs. Van Duyne changed to a dark brown sheath dress with brown and white accessories, and she wore the pink rose corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will make their home in Ann Arbor on their return.

Perfectly Ordered House May Not Be Real Home

Some Clutter Natural in Place That's Center of Activity for Family

By RUTH MILLETT

Here's good news for all less than perfect housekeepers whose homes often have more clutter than just a proper "lived-in" look.

A home management expert in speaking at a recent meeting of the American Home Economics Association knocked the perfectionist housekeeper right off her well-dusted pedestal.

Said she: "The perfectionist housekeeper may overtax her strength and antagonize her entire family by her desire for perfection. She is frequently a person who has lost sight of the forest for the trees."

That assurance, coming from an expert, ought to give a lot of comfort to the average housewife.

PLACE TO RELAX

For most women want their houses to be real homes, where husband and children can relax, putter in the kitchen, clutter up the living room with their work and hobbies.

They want them to find places to put their treasures even though they don't always add to the decor—like the mounted deer's head in Junior's room and the coffee table Pop built that no one has to be told was his first attempt at cabinet making.

But even though they turn over their houses to their families, housewives sometimes yearn for a house that looks as neat as the one down the block.

Often the not-perfect housekeeper comes home from a visit in a perfectly groomed house looking down her nose at her own standards.

But she needn't do that any more.

She has an expert's word for it that a home isn't primarily a showcase but a place for family living.

So long as her way of keeping house keeps her family happy, relaxed and homeloving, she need never be ashamed of her home.

Bridal Gown Proper for Rectory Rite

Veil, Formal Dress for First Wedding Always Correct

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "A very dear friend of mine is planning to be married soon. However, she and the bridegroom are of different faiths and therefore they are going to be married in the rectory of the church.

"It has always been her dream to wear a long bridal dress and veil, but she has been told by several friends that this would be incorrect for a wedding in the rectory and that she should wear either a suit or afternoon dress and hat. Will you please tell me if this is true?"

"It is never incorrect for a bride marrying for the first time to wear bridal dress and veil, even if no one is to be present but the clergyman and two witnesses.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I am engaged to a young man who travels a good deal. He is away at the present time on a business trip.

"The other evening a man I know called and asked me if I would go with him to a party which is being given by the company in which he is employed. Would it be proper to go with him or might this cause gossip?"

Answer: Yes — if your fiance understands and approves, if the man you are going with understands your status, and if you don't go out too often!

Dear Mrs. Post: "The other evening I had several guests in to dinner. While we were eating one of the women wiped her lipstick on one of my best linen napkins. I was furious when I saw this, but, of course, said nothing.

"When I mentioned this later to my husband he said that's what napkins are for. I know it can't be helped at times to get traces of lipstick on the napkin, but isn't it bad manners to deliberately wipe one's lips across the napkin leaving heavy lipstick stains on it? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

* * *

Answer: As you describe what she did, your friend certainly seems to be inconsiderate, but after all napkins are given to use and not for looks.

Birds Eye Quickie Coolers

BY KATHRYN KENNEDY
Wrigley Food Reporter

"Come on in—the refreshments are fine" is an invitation easy to issue when you keep your freezer stocked with a selection of Birdseye quick-frozen concentrated fruit juices and fruit ades.

The juices, when reconstituted with three cans of water, make one and one-half pints of pure, fresh-flavored juice; the ades call for more water to make a full quart of refreshing beverage.

Serve them solo in tall glasses over tinkling ice cubes, mix two flavors together or try them in compatible combinations such as ice cream, gingerale or sherbet.

* * *

FROSTY COOLERS can be made without reconstituting the frozen juices when crushed or shaved ice is used. To prepare for guests ahead of time make up a dozen or so of these drinks using all the flavors you will find in Wrigley's Frozen Food Department.

For your rainbow of finished frosteds you can have orange, lemon, a blend of the two, tangerine, lime, lemon, or grape. All available in the handy storage six ounce cans that take up so little freezer space.

* * *

TO PUT your drinks on a production line basis spoon three tablespoons of any desired concentrate, undiluted, into several tall glasses. Fill each glass almost to the top with crushed or shaved ice then add one-fourth cup of cold water and stir vigorously. Garnish each glass with fresh mint sprigs and maraschino cherries if you wish.

To add a special touch of elegance to your Birdseye coolers, you might like to know about this trick of frosting the edges of the glasses.

POUR TWO tablespoons lemon juice into a one-pint bowl. Place two tablespoons of fine granulated sugar in another bowl. Dip each glass rim first in lemon juice and then quickly in the sugar. Place glasses in the refrigerator to chill and harden the sugar. The mixture is enough to frost eight glasses.

* * *

For garnishing your cold drinks use fresh mint sprigs, lime wedges, whole strawberries, slices of oranges or lemon, fruit kabobs (spear toothpicks with melon balls, lime wedges, berries or cherries).

Two favorites join refreshingly in Frosted Grape Juice Whip when you combine Top Frost vanilla ice cream and Welch's frozen concentrated grape juice.

Empty one six-ounce can of the concentrated grape juice into a one-quart container and add three cans of cold water, stirring to blend well. For each serving place a liberal scoop of Top Frost vanilla ice cream in a glass, add three-fourths cup Welch's grape juice and whip together until ice cream is thoroughly dissolved.

* * *

For that refreshing moment on a midsummer afternoon choose tall, frosty glasses, tinkling with ice and filled with one of the Birdseye coolers, always on tap in the freezer in a variety of fine fruit flavors. Orange, grape, lemon and lime make up the quartet here — an inviting reason to rest on the porch or in a shady spot. Make your drinks attractive with icy rims on the glasses.

Pink lemonade made with Birdseye concentrated lemonade and either cranberry juice or maraschino cherry juice for coloring is a favorite refresher.

For That Refreshing Moment

Long Live Pink Lemonade!

As welcome as a summer breeze for sailing is a chilled punch filled with a tasty combination of Birdseye concentrated frozen juices or ades.

For a party occasion, make it pink lemonade. This simple variation on the lemonade theme calls for cranberry juice to give a delicate color, a delightful flavor.

Combine two cans of Birdseye concentrated lemonade with water according to label directions on the can. Add two bottles of cranberry juice, one bottle Kool Sip chilled gingerale and pour over ice ring in a punch bowl.

To make the ring pour a little water into a ring mold and freeze solid. Arrange strawberries, cherries, mint leaves in the ring and carefully add a small amount of water. Freeze again then add water to fill up ring and freeze solid. Unmold and float in punch bowl.

Garnish the punch with fresh lime slices or other fruits.

Another inviting idea is to transform an ice cube by freezing it around a red cherry or a pale yellow lemon slice. Green minted cherries, mint leaves, curls of oranges or lemon peel or raspberries also make enticing garnishes.

Some Tricks to Try For Kiddies' Parties

"Mom, can we have a party?" is the persistent echo from small fry and it's a wise mother who is prepared to meet the demand.

To insure a good party with no "tummy" aches, keep the food on the simple side. Many mothers are coming to the sensible conclusion that as long as youngsters are going to eat, it might as well be food that is good for them.

Decked out cookies, milk or fruit juice beverages, ice cream, sandwiches made with a variety of breads and fillings and simple cake add up to a successful party.

Here's one of those easy - to - fix drinks to serve with a flourish — tall, gay and frothy.

FOAM

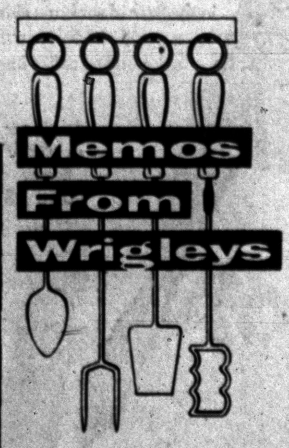

1 can Birdseye Lemonade
3-4 drops green food coloring
2 unbeaten egg whites

Blend Birdseye Lemonade with water, following directions on can. Add green food coloring and unbeaten egg whites. Place in shaker, cover closely and shake vigorously until mixture foams. Pour into four or six tall glasses and serve with colored straws.

State Republicans Jubilant Over Rights Plank

By ROGER LANE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Michigan Republicans exulted today over the civil rights plank recommended by the Platform Committee of their party's national convention.

* * *

William Brooks Jr., of Detroit, a Negro delegate from the First District, declared "This can be enough to give us back the office of governor and the State Administrative Board."

Paise Gitcho, the other First District delegate, figured in his area it would mean a five per cent swing of Negro voters from Democratic to Republican ranks.

* * *

State Chairman John Feikens hailed the plank as far superior to the "weak kneed, watered down" version adopted by the Democratic Convention in Chicago last week.

DIGGS FOE HAPPY

Willis Ward, who will oppose Rep. Charles Diggs Jr., in a contest between 13th District Negroes, also was elated.

Northern liberal forces at Chicago, sparked by Michigan Democrats, forced a floor fight on civil rights but lost. Afterward they professed to feel that the plank, while not what they wanted, nevertheless was "strong."

Brooks asserted the "Democratic plank doesn't say anything. You cannot vote Democratic in Michigan and help solve the Negro program in America."

* * *

Of the Republican plank, Brooks said "It's a wonderful thing and gives us what the Democrats refused to give."

Michigan Republicans saw as key words language saying the Supreme Court antisegregation decision should be "accomplished" with "all deliberate speed."

They pointed also to use of the word "implementation," rejection of force and the following passage:

* * *

"This progress must be encouraged and the work of the courts supported in every legal manner by all branches of the federal government to the end that the Constitutional ideal of equality before the law, regardless of race, creed or color, will be steadily achieved."

At Chicago, Michigan Democrats lost in a bid to insert in their plank the pledge to "carry out" Supreme Court decisions in the civil rights area.

They further failed to get incorporated an explicit promise to seek federal legislation assuring a right to equal opportunity of employment.

Brooks, who heads up the Republican Negro organization under State Committee Headquarters, said "For the first time in 20 years we've got something to sell" to Negroes who deserted Republicans for the Democratic Party 20 years ago.

* * *

"The Republican party, through this platform plank, has proved beyond all doubt that Republicans are haters of segregation and believers in true democracy," Brooks said.

Michigan Republicans also were highly pleased with the committee's farm plank, particularly as it relates to dairying.

The plank, to be submitted for final convention adoption today, approved the administration's farm programs which include flexible price supports and a soil bank program designed to curtail production.

The emphasis on farm programs that are fair to "all" farmers was interpreted as of especial benefit to dairy operators, who have experienced hard going in Michigan in recent months.

One paragraph pledged "every effort to develop a more accurate measurement of farm parity."

MICHIGAN DELEGATION — The color guard is shown passing the Michigan delegation location on the floor of the Republican National Convention yesterday afternoon during the second session of the San Francisco gathering.

California Votes to Go to Nixon

Gov. Knight's Refusal to Back Vice-President Is Holding Delegation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)— Vice President Nixon, already assured renomination support from many state delegations, seemed certain to add today that of his home state of California.

That he hasn't bagged California before this was attributable to Gov. Goodwin J. Knight's insistent refusal to endorse him until, or unless, President Eisenhower designates his choice of a running mate.

A Knight lieutenant conceded the governor probably couldn't prevent California from joining the Nixon bandwagon.

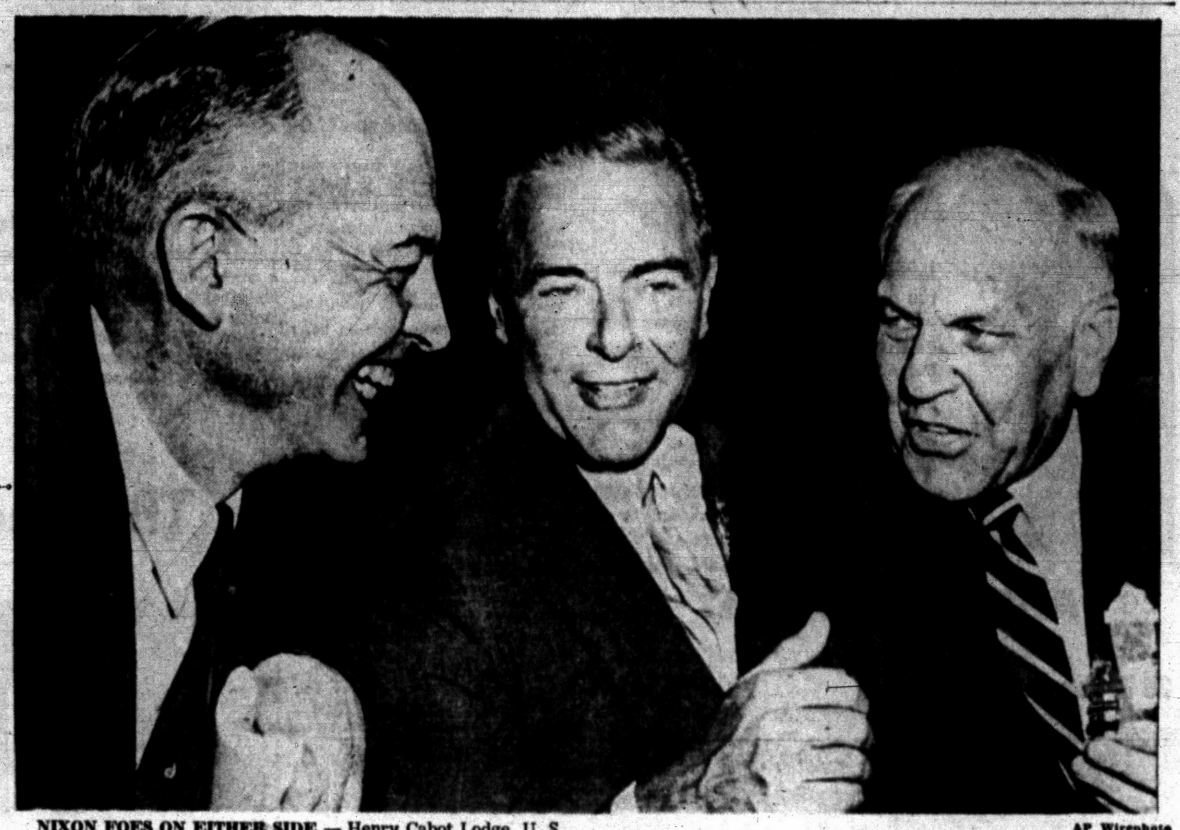

Eisenhower's scheduled arrival from Washington late today heightened interest in the vice presidential question — the only one with a trace of suspense in a convention overwhelmed with harmony.

Nixon said he planned to meet the plane, but emphasized to newsmen he has had no communication of any kind from Eisenhower on the selection of the nominee for the No. 2 job.

The California delegation —controlled one-third each by Knight, Nixon and Sen. William F. Knowland— agreed upon the governor as chairman but voted to adopt the unit rule.

The action made it a foregone conclusion the state's convention vote, second in size only to New York's, would swing to Nixon. Knowland already has come out vigorously for his former senate colleague.

Nixon continued to avoid any mention of Harold E. Stassen, Eisenhower's disarmament aide who took a leave to campaign for Massachusetts' Gov. Christian A. Herter for vice president. Herter repeated he is not seeking to take Nixon's place.

President's Prayer Read by Actress

COW PALACE, San Francisco (AP)—A prayer written by President Eisenhower was read by screen star Irene Dunne at the close of last night's session of the Republican convention.

* * *

The President offered it at the beginning of his inaugural address in 1953.

* * *

The prayer:

"Almighty God, as we stand here at this moment we beseech that Thou make full and complete our dedication to the service of the people in this throng and their fellow citizens everywhere.

* * *

"Give us, we pray, the power to discern clearly right from wrong, and allow all our words and actions to be governed thereby and by the laws of this land.

* * *

"Especially we pray that our concern shall be for all the people, regardless of station, race or calling. May cooperation be permitted and be the mutual aim of those who, under the concept of our Constitution, hold to differing political beliefs so that all may work for the good of our beloved country, and for Thy glory. Amen."

Behind the Scenes With TV

By SAUL PETT

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Through a variety of gadgets and ulcers, the television industry is swamping this convention city just as it did Chicago last week.

* * *

You trip over TV cables in hotel corridors, you're stopped by traffic clustered around delegates being interviewed for live cameras in lobbies, and, on the floor of the convention itself, you can't move down an aisle without running into men carrying Martianlike mobile equipment.

* * *

One delegate, intrigued by an outer-spacetype of portable transmitter in the hands of a network reporter, walked up and demanded, "Take me to your leader."

* * *

In all, more than 1,200 people with about 100 cameras are providing TV coverage from inside the Cow Palace, on the streets, in the hotels and at airports.

* * *

John Daly of ABC is the only TV commentator operating directly within the convention hall. He and a dozen assistants work in a tiny booth up near the roof.

* * *

"We're sitting on each other's shoulders," he said, "but we feel that being right here in the hall is the only way to cover it—getting a first, not second-hand view, of things as they happen. The other networks, by being off the floor, have to become slaves to their cameras. Here, the cameras follow the narration which follows the events on the floor itself."

* * *

Marshall Diskin, the director, coordinates ABC's coverage in a master control room beneath the stands. Thus far, he hasn't had a moment as bad as one in Chicago last week when an ABC camera caught a closeup of an obviously pregnant woman. On her shoulder was a big pin, "Harriman is the man."

* * *

"We did just edit it out in time," Diskin said. "It never got on the air."

Walter Cronkite, CBS' anchor man, operates from a studio off the convention floor. In front of his desk is an "electronic window," about 4 feet by 7 feet, on which a live picture of the floor activity is superimposed while Cronkite talks.

* * *

Also on the ground floor and a good distance from the assembled delegations are NBC's Chet Huntley, Dave Brinkley and Bill Henry. They work before a huge photomural, an air view of San Francisco.

Gavel From Church

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — When Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts gavels the Republican National Convention to order today, he'll do it with a mallet made from oak from the original North Church steeple in Boston.

Pravda on Nob Hill

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Readers of Pravda, the Russian Communist party paper, can look forward to reading about the Republican National Convention. Fedor Orekhov of Moscow, a Pravda reporter is here.

2 'Gales' Out of Harmsworth Bid

DETROIT (AP)—With the two powerful "Gales" out of the running, four U.S. power boats compete today for the right to defend the Harmsworth trophy against a strong Canadian bid this weekend.

Gale V and Gale VI were withdrawn yesterday by owner Joe Schoenith of Detroit because of mechanical difficulties.

Three other Detroit boats will compete today against Shanty I, owned by Texas oilman W. T. Waggoner, in the five-mile elimination race against time over the Detroit River Harmsworth course.

Each boat will take a turn alone between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. over the normally choppy waters. The U.S. defender won't be announced until Friday, after a 10-member selection committee evaluates the times and other factors.

* * *

The committee can also name a driver for the Harmsworth other than the one in the qualifying boat.

The Detroit fleet competing with Shanty for U.S. representative are George Simon's Miss U.S. II, Horace Dodge's Dora My Sweetie and Jack Schafer's Such Crust III.

The Canadian challenger is Miss Supertest, owned by J. Gordon Thompson of London, Ont. The Harmsworth plaque symbolizes the unlimited class speedboat championship of the world.

* * *

Lt. Russell Scleeh, the Air Force pilot who will drive Shanty, expressed confidence the Texas entry will perform well despite the Detroit River's rough water.

He said Shanty, winner of the Seafair Regatta at Seattle, has been "run quite a bit in rough water during trial spins. The conditions here do not worry us."

Mechanical difficulties that developed during the silver cup race here last Saturday forced withdrawal of the two Gales. Gale V tore a gear box at Seattle and the replacement was not satisfactory. Gale VI broke a propeller and cracked a strut in the Silver Cup.

Schoenith said his boats could not be put in top condition in time for the Harmsworth.

Tiger Hopes of First Division Spot Fades

DETROIT (AP)—If the Detroit Tigers can't conjure up several quick victories soon, their new owners will take over a second division club Oct. 1.

The Bengals have been wallowing along in 5th place and are now 7½ games behind 4th place Boston going into the tag end of the season.

Tonight the Detroiters take on the 7th place Nationals in the first of two night games at Washington. The Tiger's Jim Bunning will be looking for his 4th victory. Veston Stewart (4-5) is scheduled to start for Washington.

The Tigers got an unscheduled rest last night when rain forced cancellation of an exhibition game with the Charleston Senators. But the big-leaguers made good use of their West Virginia sojourn.

* * *

The visit to the Detroit farm club in the American Assn. was like old home week for many players on both clubs. Eight former Tigers now play for Charleston and several Tigers moved up to the parent club from the Senators.

Despite the rain, some of Detroit's top hitters went through batting drills at the Charleston Park to provide a little action for disappointed fans.

DETROIT (INS)—The president of the Harness Tracks of America protested to the racing commissioners of 12 states against the use of the name "Hanover" in connection with trotting horses.

HTA president Donald D. MacFarlane said the name was used "as an advertising stunt" by L. B. Sheppard, who is a shoe manufacturer as well as president of the U.S. Trotting Association.

McFarlane's protest was directed to the racing commissioners of Michigan, Ohio, California, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York.

Little Fellows Feature Shoot

Class Championships at Stake Today in Grand American Tourney

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The little fellows get their chance at gold and glory today as the week-long 57th Grand American trap shoot swings into its 2nd day.

Class championships in which all shooters fire against those of comparable ability instead of against the hotshots were to be decided in a 200-target, 16-yard race.

Cash and trophies galore were offered with the 20 high guns in each class sharing in the purse and added money and the top five in each division receiving a trophy.

A year ago, 782 fired in the class races but more than 800 were expected to jam the firing line today.

Six of the country's best known marksmen tied at 200 of 200 in yesterday's "introductory." They were Ned Lilly, who passed up the ensuing shootoff; Joe Hiestand, of Hillsboro; Dan Orlich of Reno, Nev.; Bueford Bailey, Big Springs, Neb.; Mercer Teneille, Shreveport, La., and George H. Newmaster, Lebanon, Pa.

Enters Regionals

Waterford Wins Class C

Waterford won the Class C district softball tournament at Drayton Plains last night with the back-to-back hitting of Jerry Hesse and Marshall Rose supplying the winning punch.

In the first game of a twinbill, Roseville handed Waterford a 3-2 setback to force the tourney into another game. Each team had one defeat in the double elimination tourney.

Harry Witgen won the opener and this was his 5th appearance on the mound in three days. His record was 3-1 after the win.

In the second game with Roseville leading 4-0, Rose doubled in Hesse with the tying run in the 4-run outburst of the 4th inning.

The game went into extra innings tied at four-all, but in the bottom of the 9th, Hesse tripled with one out and Rose drove an infield single to second to score Hesse with the wining run.

Witgen who relieved Klein for Roseville was the losing pitcher.

Next weekend Waterford enters regional play at Owosso, with the winner here going into the state Class C finals at Coldwater the following weekend.

'Birdie' Boils Over

Accuses Lew Burdette of Breaking All Rules

CINCINNATI (AP)—Lew Burdette, fidgety ace of Milwaukee's vaunted pitching staff, was accused by Birdie Tebbetts today of violating every pitching rule in the book as he beat the Cincinnati Redlegs for the fourth time this season 3-1 last night.

The free-speaking Redleg manager was fairly fuming as he told newsmen "there isn't a pitching rule Burdette doesn't break. He spits on the ball, he spits on his glove, he spits on his hand, he rubs rosin on his glove and he rubs the ball on his uniform. All these things are in direct violation of rule 8.02. Yet the umpires let him get away with all those things.

"This is what rule 8.02 states: 'The pitcher shall not be allowed to apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball, expectorate either on the ball or his glove; rub the ball on his glove, person or clothing, deface the ball in any manner . . . .'

"The umpires admit he does all those things but they say as long as he goes to the rosin bag after doing all those things, it's okay.

"I have complained time and again to the umpires but it doesn't do any good. The umpires say to take it up with the league office."

Three times Tebbets rushed out from the dugout to complain to the umpires about Burdette's tactics last night. Each time, Plate Umpire Bill Engeln, together with Larry Goetz, first-base umpire, examined the ball, demanded to look at Burdette's glove and even had the pitcher take off his cap. But they didn't find any indication Lew was throwing a spitter.

Players Want Exhibition Pay

Ram Boycott Averted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The intervention of National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell has helped avert a possible Los Angeles player boycott of Friday's exhibition game here between the Los Angeles Rams and the Cleveland Browns.

* * *

Ram players had demanded $75 a week for veterans and $50 weekly for rookies during the exhibition season, whereas the Los Angeles club never has paid salaries until after the first league game. Ram player representatives told General Manager Tex Schramm they didn't intend to play exhibition games unless they were paid for them. The Rams, who won their division title last year, open their NFL season Sept. 30.

Bell called the Rams' payer representatives at their Redlands camp and asked them to delay any reprisal in connection with their money demands, saying he would speak with club owners.

* * *

Later, Schramm agreed to arbitrate the exhibition games salary matter at the close of the season, but this agreement had to await his conferences with the four embattled owners, Dan Reeves, who is standing against Ed Pauley, Fred Levy and Hal Seley. When disagreements arose, Schramm had to go back and forth between the owners' camps, and it was last night before Schramm was able to go to the Redlands camp and tell the players that their salary demands would be arbitrated.

* * *

In their original demand Saturday, Ram players specified that exhibition salaries would have to start at once or they would not play in the game against Cleveland.

The Rams took a 39-21 shellacking from the Washington Redskins last week but Coach Sid Gillman said the player demands had nothing to do with that. Gillman stayed clear of the player demands, saying it is a "front office situation."

Lions Beat 'Riders

VANCOUVER (AP)—The British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union were in first place with a 2-0 record today as a result of their 20-9 victory over the Saskatchewan Roughriders last night.

Ed Vereb, former University of Maryland star, scampered for two touchdowns to lead the Lions before a near-record 28,825 fans.

Bada Low for GMT

Fighting weather conditions on Saturday, and playing a very tough course for the final round Sunday, at Milwaukee, Pontiac General Motors Truck & Coach golf team fired a 647 aggregate. The quartet was playing in the annual Midwest Industrial Golf Championships, and was rated about 5th when it left. Final standing will not be available for some time, according to Al Latozas, GMT recreation head.

Paul Bada's 74-78—152 was the best for the team, that also included Walt Latozas, Joe Adamczyk and Charlie Barker.

Miss Junior Crown

Boys' Club Bows in Finale

Pontiac's Class F baseball representative in the Michigan Recreation tournament at Jackson yesterday made a gallant effort for a state crown, but just didn't have enough to win the finale.

Boys' Club nine, city "F" champions for the third straight year, started well, with a fine win over Wyandotte, 6-4, to reach the title stage. In this hectic battle the lead changed hands four times, with big 5th and 7th frames for the Pontiac club settling the issue. Title score was 3 to 1.

But the windup in the evening was a different story.

A big Battle Creek club got only four hits off starter Darrel Thorpe, but took full advantage of three BC misplays to score its three runs. Bill Coulacos' club connected with the home plate on only one trip, in the 4th, when Dan Kimmel dragged a bunt down the 3rd base line for a single, moved to 2nd base on a steal and went home on Ken Shaw's long double to left field.

Battle Creek counted singles runs in the 1st, 3rd and 6th.

Coulacos said the turning point came in the 5th, on a ruling that nullified Dave McClintock's scoring attempt. The umps ruled a throwin from the outfield after an overthrow on Dave's double at 3rd had caught Dave at the rubber. Ruling stuck despite vigorous protests from BC managers. Run would have tied the count at 2-2.

Semifinal:

Pontiac BC	010	120	2	6	4
Wyandotte	002	100	1	4	2

Dave Jones, P. Jones; Vorniak, Cole.

Championship:

Battle Creek	101	001	0	3	1
Pontiac	000	100	0	1	5

Thayer, Smith; Thorpe, D. Jones (5th).

DeMarco Given Edge on Ford in TV Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Favored former world lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco tries the mettle of Jimmy Ford tonight in a 10-rounder major test of the Miami boxer.

* * *

Ford has won eight of 14 bouts this year, most of them in Latin-American rings. DeMarco, who won the lightweight crown from Jimmy Carter in 1954, and lost it back to Carter the same year, has won, lost and drawn once each this year.

Roseville Wins District Title

Blanks Royal Bar in Class B Finale, 8-0 at Beaudette

A 2nd inning, four-run blast settled Royal Bar's status in the district Class B softball tournament at Beaudette Park, last night. The Pontiac entry fell before a hepped-up Roseville club 8-0, to capture the sectional crown.

Royals had runners on the paths in four of the seven frames but couldn't bunch its hits, or get the breaks in time to produce tallies. Roseville combined 14 hits off Attwood and Reynolds to account for its total, that included four runs in the 2nd and four mroe in the 4th.

Game was well played, with only two errors marring the action. All the hitting were one-basers.

Championship:

Roseville	040	400	0	8	14 0
Royal Bar	000	000	0	0	2 1

McEvoy, Perry; R. Reynolds, Attwood (5th) and Kothe, Beck.

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

While travelling down the Garden State Parkway to watch Nashua run at Atlantic City, somebody said, as we approached Red Bank: "You know, Gertrude Ederle is staying only a hop, skip and a jump from here. This is the 30th anniversary of her Channel swim. Why don't we stop off and say 'hello'?"

The car then cut off the toll road and into the Atlantic Highlands. We found Trudy in her hotel at Sea Bright. It is a good thing we stopped, too, because Nashua never got on the track.

★ ★ ★

Gertrude, the first woman swimmer to conquer the English Channel, hasn't changed as much as you would expect in 30 years.

★ ★ ★

She has the same broad shoulders and the same eight-inch chest expansion, which is more than any fighter in the ring today. But she has put on the normal amount of weight you might expect after three decades.

Now, at 49, her bobbed hair, for which she fought so strenuously when she was 15, has gray sprinkled throughout. Yet her round, jovial face still breaks out in the most pleasant smile when she remembers back to 1926, one of the better years of the roaring, tumultuous 20s.

The only visible grim reminder of those days is a thin black and silver cord dangling under her hairdo. Trudy is completely deaf, the result of her battles with the tides and elements, and she must wear a hearing aid.

Her back, too, bothers her at times, a painful remembrance of the broken vertebrae which ended her money-making career at its height.

Completely bedridden for four years, she was told by 19 doctors that she never would walk again. Her powerful muscles and even more powerful determination proved the medicos wrong.

★ ★ ★

Through her efforts in pools in Queens and the Bronx, she got herself back into condition and now is able to go on 18-mile hikes and four-mile swims.

Trudy's days of glory started in 1922 when she won the Joseph P. Day Cup in a long distance swim.

As a 15-year-old, she was a decided underdog to stars like Bea Wainwright, she didn't even want to enter the race. But her father said she could have his permission to bob her hair if she entered. She accepted the "bribe" and won the event by 50 yards going away.

★ ★ ★

Victory after victory followed, including a gold medal in the 1924 Olympics. She held 18 world swimming records, at least one of which still stands, that of setting seven records in one race.

Financial Fireworks

Scrap Looms on Booster Group Aid in NCAA Meet

DENVER (AP)—Firm restraints on the financial enthusiasm of college athletic booster groups are proposed by the athletic council, one of three committees of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. meeting here.

* * *

Fireworks were expected today in a report of the council's infractions committee, fact-finding agency for the NCAA's enforcement program.

This committee was expected to report and make recommendations on violations of the athletic code by some of the NCAA's 486 member schools, among them several in the strife-ridden Pacific Coast Conference.

The 18-member athletic council recommended yesterday that booster clubs be required to register with the college or university whose teams they support. The school then would be responsible for conduct of the group, and for an accurate record of its expenses.

* * *

This was viewed as a firm rein on such clubs in recruiting and giving financial aid to promising athletes.

* * *

Clarence P. Houston of Tufts University, council president, said the proposal will go to the NCAA's full convention in St. Louis Jan. 9-11.

Two other rules relating to the courting of high school athletes by college representatives were adopted by the committee. These also will be submitted to the NCAA convention.

* * *

One would require that a school representative obtain permission from the high school principal before contacting a prep athlete enrolled at that school.

The second would allow a high school athlete sought by a college or university only one visit to that school's campus before making his selection.

U. S. Net Stars Not Conceding

Seixas, Richardson Set to Play as Number One Doubles Team

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Ageless Vic Seixas and youthful Ham Richardson, the key players on the U. S. Davis Cup team, let it be known today they aren't conceding anything to Australia in their challenge for tennis' most coveted trophy later this year.

"We have a chance—and will be going to Australia looking to win," said Seixas, 33-year-old member of the U. S. team since 1951.

Seixas and Richardson, paired together this year for the first time as America's No. 1 doubles team, said they need "only more work together" before the Davis Cup Challenge Round in December.

Hoad and Rosewall are seeded No. 1 just ahead of Seixas and Richardson in the 75th National Doubles tournament at Longwood. Hoad and Rosewall drew a first-round bye, while the American tandem swept by England's Roger Becker and Mike Davies, 6-4, 9-7, 6-2.

Chasing The Home Run Records

Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees — 41 (seven games ahead of Babe Ruth's pace of 1927 when he hit 60).

Cincinnati Redlegs — 176 (major league team record is 221 set by New York Giants in 1947).

New York Yankees — 156 (AL team record is 193 set by Yankees in 1936).

National League — 946 (record is 1,263 set in 195).

American League — 851 (record is 972 set in 1950).

Little Mo Big Help

Sparks Giants to Victory

BOSTON (AP)—A healthy Dick Modzelewski can go a long way toward strengthening the defensive line of the New York Football Giants.

* * *

Little Mo took matters into his own hands last night to launch the Giants toward a 28-10 triumph over Baltimore before 21,000 at Boston University field in a National Football League competition.

* * *

With the Giants trailing 10-7 in the second period, Modzelewski, acquired in a recent deal to strengthen the New York tackles, fell on a fumble at the Colts' 26.

In four plays, New York scored what proved to be the winning touchdown as Alex Webster boomed 9 yards into the end zone.

Modzelewski recovered another fumble early in the third period and when Don Chandler missed a field goal, Modzelewski took charge again.

Baltimore earlier had defeated Philadelphia, 24-13.

Biggest Grid Year Seen

Prep Ranks Growing

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Michigan's director of high school athletics says the state is "only at the fringe" of its biggest problem in years: What to do about the tremendous growth that has jumbled the system of classifications.

* * *

"We had to freeze class A for one year to give ourselves some breathing time to try and plan ahead on this thing," said Charles Forsythe, executive secretary of the Michigan High School Athletic Assn.

"Communities and schools are growing so rapidly that we won't really feel the full impact of this enrollment change for three or four years" he added.

Now there are about 62 class A schools — enrollments of 900 or more. In the class B section (375 to 899 enrollment) there are about 200 schools. There are about 250 in class C (175 to 374 enrollment) and about 200 in the class D classification.

In the past, class A schools have managed to avoid district basketball tournaments. When the number of class A schools tops 64, district meets will be necessary.

"We had to freeze class A," said Forsythe, "because the schools had already made commitments and contracts ahead of time. Now, we have told them to keep open the district tournament time for the 1957-58 school year, just in case."

The state association said between 550 and 575 high schools will be playing football this fall in what Forsythe calls "the biggest year for high school football in Michigan history."

* * *

Rules will be essentially the same as last year, except for a few minor changes.

Between 25,000 and 28,000 boys will be trying out for the teams, said the director.

JC Linksmen Chasing Young Indiana Player

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Some of the nation's finest teen-age golf stars took out after a par-busting Indiana lad today in the second day of qualifying for the 1956 Jaycee International Junior Golf Tournament.

* * *

Leading the race toward a place in the 100-man field for the 72-hole championship flight is Glen Combs, Seymour, Ind., who shot a 2-under-par 70 yesterday.

* * *

The 17-year-old Hoosier didn't show any of his potential in the warmups over the weekend, shooting a 79 and 82. But he played the narrow fairways and big greens on Edgewood Municipal Course like he owned them when they put the chips down.

Masonic Nines Collide

LAKE ORION — DeMolay and Masonic Temple nines will play a baseball game at 6:30 p.m. today at Atwater Park. DeMolay seeks to square things with the Masonic Lodge No. 46 who were winners two weeks ago.

SLIPPERY GALS — Vicki Van Hook, left, won the girls' tricks title last year at the age of 11. The Long Beach, Calif., lass defends the crown in the American Water Ski Association National Championships at LaPorte, Ind., Aug. 24-26. Leah Marie Rawls Atkins, 1953 women's over-all champion, returns to the national scene after a year's absence. The Birmingham, Ala., star holds the women's world jumping record at 70 feet.

First Tourney Successful for Pontiac Golfer

James Taylor of Pontiac found the winning ways in his first attempt at tournament golf.

In the Forest City Golf Association tournament held in Cleveland over the weekend, Taylor captured honors in the 2nd flight with a 27-hole total of 123.

He had rounds of 47-38-38. One 9-hole round was rained out on Saturday.

Taylor has been golfing for 2½ years and this was the first tourney he had ever entered.

Other Pontiac golfers at the meet were Bill Pembroke and Butler Cooper who finished 4th and 6th in the Championship flight.

LL World Series Begins

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A field of veteran Little League teams and new challengers squared off today for the opening of the 10th annual Little League World Series.

Four of the eight teams were in the World Series last year, something that has never happened before. But, ironically, the 1955 champion, Morrisville, Pa., was eliminated in preliminary competition.

* * *

All of the teams will be contending through the week for the world baseball championship among boys between 8 and 12 years of age. They are the cream of more than 4,000 franchised teams in every state but South Carolina and in a dozen foreign countries.

The repeating teams this year are Delaware Twp. N. J.; Hamtramck, Mich.; Auburn, Ala., and Winchester, Mass.

* * *

All but the Michigan entry were in the semifinal round last year. Auburn beat Winchester, 1 - 0, in the consolation game.

* * *

The opening 1956 game matched Eastchester, N. Y., and Delaware, Twp., N. J., today. The New Jersey team was last year's runner-up.

* * *

Other first-round games, leading to Friday's final, are scheduled for Wednesday. The pairings: Hamtramck vs. Colton, Calif.; Auburn, Ala., vs. Winchester, Mass., and Upper Darby, Pa., vs. Roswell, N. M.

* * *

In addition to Delaware Twp., another national runner-up is in the field. Colton lost to Schenectady, N. Y., in the final two years ago.

FIRST TIME — His first golf tournament was a winning effort for James Taylor of Pontiac. Taylor won the 2nd flight of the Forest City Golf Association tournament held in Cleveland over the weekend with a 27-hole total of 123. He has been playing golf for 2½ years.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: In the neck

DIAGNOSIS: Poor balance

TREATMENT: It's provoking to miss a short putt, or to fluff a shot in the rough, or to top the ball. But nothing is as exasperating as the short pitch-iron "shank." If you've hit the ball in the neck of the club to send it off at right angles, and most of us have, you know the deep down, awful feeling.

To avoid shanking, the stance should be re-examined thoroughly to be certain that the weight is back on the heels instead of being forward in tip-toey manner. Tilt on your toes and your body will lose its proper center of gravity on the backswing and move toward the ball. Boom—you contact the ball in the neck.

Another possible cause for the shank shot is a far-too-quick break of the wrists in the backswing, as the sketch shows. The lift is so abrupt that the wrists roll out of position to open the face of the club widely. It isn't possible to hit the ball anywhere but in the neck—or even on the club hosel.

* * *

To cure a shank settle back on your heels, keep the head steady, and sweep the clubhead back low along the turf with the left arm in charge, exactly as you'd do with any other club. Be certain that the grip with the left hand is firm all the way putting a little extra pressure on the middle, third and little fingers to prevent the grip from "opening up" at the top of the swing. Then pull down with the left arm. Smoothly, mind you. No jerk; no sudden lunge at the ball.

On Wednesday night old models and hardtops will run, with qualifying at 7 and 1st race at 8:30 p.m. A special event will be a greased pig chase in which fans may take part.

Motors Softball Club Loses Tournament Bid

The 1956 softball season for General Motors Truck & Coach crew, city league representatives in the Class A district tourney at Mt. Clemens is all wound up. Truckers were eliminated in the semifinal round Sunday, 3-1 by Roseville for the finale. Previously Motors lost to Southfield on Friday night, and Sunday's was the 2nd of the two-loss-knockout series.

Roseville got four hits off Motors, Pontiac one less off the winners. Pontiac scored in the 5th to tie the count at 1-1, but a hit, walk, error and a double accounted for the winning tallies for Roseville in the 6th. Lynus Grant, usually a GM hurler, a fielder Sunday, got two of the Pontiac hits.

Hurler Signed for Tigertown

HOWARD CITY (AP)—Dale Spence, 17, Howard City High School pitcher, has been signed by the Detroit Tigers and will report next spring to the Tigertown rookie camp in Florida.

Spence had a 19 won, 6 lost record in his school career, including five no-hitters and six two-hitters. He struck out 159 batters in 145 innings pitched during his last two years.

GM Nine Captures 1st 'Leg' of Series

First "leg" of a series to name an opponent for a proposed set of baseball games with a Tri-County club was won last night by unbeaten General Motors Truck & Coach, 6-0. Coachers were favored to take the 2nd, and deciding contest tonight over Griff's Grill, Monday's losers.

* * *

Tonight's game is set for Wisner Field starting at 5:30 p.m.

In last night's contest Motors bunched all its runs in one frame. Griffs blew up in the field, committing three errors to go along with Coachers' three hits, including Hermie Bishop's triple, scoring the first and winning counter, with Bob Swindell crossing the rubber.

Motors got seven hits off two Grill hurlers while Bishop scattered three singles.

Retired Businessman Paces Seniors Event

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Medalist Weller Noble today led a field of 32 qualifiers into first rounds of match play in the National Senior Amateur Golf Tournament.

* * *

Noble, 65, a retired Oakland, Calif., businessman, had eight one-putt greens that brought him a 72 yesterday over the par-70 Somerset course. He had rounds of 34 and 38. Only a stroke back, at 35-38, was 57-year-old J. Clark Espie, Indianapolis, a four-time winner of the Indiana Senior crown.

Charles Hodgman, Wayzata, Minn., had 74. Two more visitors were tied at the 75 mark, George Studinger, Burlingame, Calif., and Fred Wright, Watertown, Mass.

Pension Plan Gets Approval

Major League Players to Receive Additional Medical Benefits

CINCINNATI (AP)—A new pension plan providing greater payments and fringe benefits was unanimously approved yesterday by representatives of the 16 major league baseball teams.

The new schedule will provide for a life insurance policy, and medical, hospitalization and disability benefits.

The enhanced benefits are made possible by a new 16½-million dollar, 5-year television and radio contract for the All-Star and World Series games. The contract goes into effect next April 1 at the same time the new pension plan will begin.

A ball player may elect to retire at any age between 50 and 65. The older he is at retirement, the more money he'll get.

A player retiring at the age of 50 who has been in the major leagues for five years would receive $83 a month. The scale is graded upward according to age and length of service so that a 20-year man retiring at the age of 65, would receive $550 monthly.

The team representatives agreed to have eligibility for the plan reach back to 1947 when the first pension schedule was proposed. It would include all players active, inactive and retired since 1947.

New plans with increased retirement and medical benefits were approved.

Nashua Again Hit by Colic

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Nashua, the millionaire colt who is insured for more money than most people make in a lifetime, was resting comfortably in his stall today following an attack of colic.

His 82-year-old trainer, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, still held out hope that he would be able to start in the Saratoga Handicap on Saturday. The decision will be made tomorrow.

Nashua, who is insured for $1,251,200 at a premium of $50,048 a year, was stricken yesterday for the second time in 10 days. A week ago last Saturday, he had to be scratched from the $100,000 Atlantic City Handicap for the same ailment.

Dozen Area Boys Seek Junior Title

By H. GUY MOATS

A field of 180 players set out this morning over the difficult University of Michigan course at Ann Arbor, on the opening 18-hole round of a 36-hole qualifying test. A similar round of 18 will be played Wednesday, with match play starting Thursday at 18 holes. Friday's round will be 18 holes also with the finale on Saturday a marathon 36 holes.

Pontiac and Oakland county are well represented today in the first round of action in the star-studded field of the Western Golf Association's 39th annual junior golf tournament.

Pontiac area entries include Jack Reynolds of Waterford, Rollie and Richey Weyand of Birmingham, Fred Howting of Birmingham, Jeff Cornish of Huntington Woods, Pete Green of Franklin Hills, Steve Circa, Gerald Fitzgerald, and Bob Smith of Birmingham and a pair of Howell players, John McLoskey and Charles Helkins.

One of the favorites is Dave Hill of Jackson. Defending champion Jerry McFerren of Silver Springs Md., and Dean Demen of Washington, D. C. with Bernie Magnussen of Winnetka, Ill., the 1955 runnerup, also figuring in the early predictions.

Players are entered from 24 states.

Kuharich Juggles Talent to Replace Injured Stars

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coach Joe Kuharich is juggling talent today in order to present an able-bodied backfield when his Washington Redskins meet the San Francisco 49ers at Kezar Stadium Sunday.

* * *

No. 1 quarterback Eddie LeBaron is still nursing his ailing left knee. No. 2 quarterback Al Dorow and halfback Vic Janowicz are reported out of action for a month. Both are in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital under treatment for injuries suffered in separate traffic accidents.

For Janowicz' left-half spot Sunday, Kuharich might move Leo Elter from fullback or use safetyman Joe Scudero or Michigan State rookie Jerry Musetti.

The team physician said Dorow suffered two broken ribs and injuries to his back, hip and kidney in an accident last Sunday near San Bernardino in which his mother-in-law, Mrs. Bernardine Allison, Ontario, Calif., was killed. Janowicz suffered a severe concussion in an accident early last Saturday, returning from a party celebrating the Redskins' 39-21 victory Friday night over the Los Angeles Rams.

DDGA Junior Crown to Lochmoor Player

Detroit District Golf Association's junior championships were determined yesterday over Oakland Hills testing layout, with Joe Brissom of Lochmoor the winner. Brissom turned back Ray Lovell of Birmingham two up in his semi-final.

Flight winners were—First, Jim Akers, Franklin Hills; second, Dave Marsh, Washtenaw; third, Bob Jones, Western; girls title won by Judy Andreen, Grosse Ile.

Pressure On in NL Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nobody's won the pennant yet in that hectic National League race, but as of today the pressure is definitely on Brooklyn and Cincinnati while the first-place Milwaukee Braves, loaded with the best pitching in the league, play it cool behind Burdette, Spahn and Buhl.

Those three top the NL's earned-run averages while Lew Burdette has managed to knock off Cincinnati's contending Redlegs four times without defeat and Bob Buhl has beaten Brooklyn's world champion Dodgers six times without a loss.

It was Warren Spahn and Burdette who combined to salvage an important split in the four-game series at Cincinnati. Spahn quieted the ambitious Redlegs Sunday, then came back in relief to get the final out as Burdette beat them 3-1 on a five-hitter last night.

The Braves, with a two-game edge over Brooklyn and a five-game bulge over Cincinnati in the fateful "lost" column, now have three games with the aroused last-place New York Giants and three games with Philadelphia's pesky Phils before taking on the Dodgers Sunday and Monday.

The Dodgers, again looking for steady pitching, open their final swing through the West tonight with the first of two at St. Louis, then head into Cincinnati for single games Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It's a make-or-break tour for the Brooks, who are below .500 (16-17) in the West this season.

Cincinnati, meanwhile, has a two game set with Pittsburgh before meeting the Dodgers. Then the Redlegs play two with the Phils while the Brooks are at Milwaukee.

The American League race may be set for the last stand of Cleveland's Indians. A long 8½ games back, the Tribe opens a two-game set against first-place New York at Yankee Stadium tonight, then heads for Boston. The Yankees, who have looked a bit tired lately despite their "three-deep" bench, meet the revived Chicago White Sox and then Detroit after Cleveland clears out of the Staduum.

Film Attendance Dips to Depression Low

KANSAS CITY (UP) — A movie industry executive says that unless business picks up the industry is headed for the poorest year since the depression.

Richard P. Brous, president of Fox Midwest Theaters, Inc., said average weekly paid attendance dropped from 82 million in 1946 to 46 million last week—a 45 per cent decline.

Brous spoke before the convention of the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes and Moving Picture Machine Operators.

Hollywood Headlines

Marie Windsor Laments About 'Matronly' Curves

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—"Women with too large bosoms, including Anita Ekberg and myself, look too matronly, we don't look well in clothes."

* * *

Marie Windsor matter-of-factly dropped this heretical bombshell the other day in this capital of reverence for the bountiful bosom.

The scene: An "ad art" session in a photo studio. I'd dropped in to see how they get those sexy, sensational shots of lovers clinching, murderers waving daggers, etc., that urge you from the movie pages to rush to the nearest theater for something!—Stupendous!!

"Left three-quarters," Lex Barker was instructing the photographer, simultaneously swiveling his rugged profile for such an almost full-face exposure, which he obviously considered his best angle.

I asked Miss Windsor, awaiting her turn at the camera, what she usually thinks when she sees her lovely likeness on a movie page.

* * *

"I usually check my nose," she said, explaining that too much profile exposes a bump on it which I hadn't noticed. "Then my bosom and whether I held my stomach in. After that I read the caption."

Bosom? What's wrong with it? I inquired alertly, and Marie dropped her bombshell. It's not that her 38-inch chest is, per se, objectionable, she explained, but that her 34-inch "rib cage"—the anatomy between bosom and waist—makes it seem unduly prominent. "Most women with a 38 bosom have a 36 rib cage," she added. "I've considered wearing false rib cages."

* * *

Lex, between poses, told me actors "hate" these still sessions. "They're long and dull and boring. Lana feels the same way," added Barker, the husband of Lana Turner.

Marie said, "I don't mind them too much because you're allowed to offer your own ideas for poses. When I was a fashion model they said, 'just sit. We'll do the thinking.'"

Anne Bancroft dissented: "I used to be a model, too. I became an actress to get away from this." She complained too that some shots are irrelevent: "Once Victor Mature had to carry me in his arms, with the bosom of my dress torn. It had nothing to do with the story."

State Defense Contract

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said today the Navy Department has informed him it has awarded a $1,777,669 contract to the Clark Equipment Co. of Battle Creek, Mich. for manufacture of gas powered fork trucks.

Shell Kills 2 Japanese

MAEBASHI, Japan (UP)— A 49-year-old scrap dealer and his son were blown to death today while taking apart an unexploded American howitzer shell in Momoi village, 110 miles north of Tokyo.

Light Primary Vote Seen for Wyoming

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UP)—A light vote was forecast today in Wyoming's primary election. The only statewide contest is a four-way race for the Democratic nomination for Congress.

The incumbent, Rep. Keith Thomson, is unopposed in the GOP primary.

Seeking the Democratic nomination are Jerry A. O'Callaghan, University of Wyoming professor; State Sen. A. M. Downey, 56-year-old Glendo rancher-machinist; Mrs. Dora Belle Harris, 66-year-old grandmother who barricaded a county road for nearly two years to protest a right-of-way award, and George W. K. Posvar, Casper rancher and bearded artists model.

Dock Workers Strike

COLOMBO, Ceylon (UP)—The entire labor force of 12,000 dock and harbor workers struck at Colombo Harbor today, paralyzing the port. The strike grew from the walkout yesterday of 4,000 workers asking double pay for working on a public holiday. Today the workers stretched their demands to include higher base pay, more holidays and removal of the port's labor manager.

AFL-CIO Executive Council to Decide on Candidate Endorsement Next Week

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The AFL-CIO will decide next week what position to take in this year's presidential election. One union official predicted the big labor organization will either endorse the Democratic ticket or take a neutral stance.

The decision will be made by the AFL-CIO executive council, meeting next week at Forest Park, Pa. It is the first time since the two unions merged last December that such a major political move will be considered.

As of today, an AFL-CIO official reported, "It looks as though there is a 50-50 chance it will be Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. If not, then we probably won't support anybody at all on the national ticket."

The informant, who asked that he not be named, said he thought there was little chance the labor group would support the Republican presidential candidate, 'especially if Vice President Nixon is on the ticket."

In 1952, the AFL and CIO gave separate endorsements to Stevenson in his unsuccessful campaign against President Eisenhower.

Support from the 15 million-member group could be a big factor in the fall campaign.

Stevenson already has gained substantial support from some individual AFL-CIO labor leaders, including Walter Reuther, head of the Auto Workers Union.

Reuther wielded his influence in the big Michigan delegation at the Democratic convention to help a swing to Stevenson.

As Stevenson battled Gov. Averell Harriman of New York for the nomination, Reuther made a formal announcement that he was for Stevenson. He cited the Illinois candidate as having "the broadest labor base of any candidate."

The CIO traditonally has backed a Democratic national ticket. The AFL, however, has been wary of getting too deeply into politics. It has backed only two presidential aspirants—by convention—one of them Stevenson in 1952 and the other Robert LaFollette, 1924 Progressive Party candidate.

Already actively campaigning for Stevenson is the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE). They opened a "Labor for Stevenson and Kefauver" office in the union's headquarters building here.

The decision on an official AFL-CIO position will be made by the 29-member executive council, headed by President George Meany, at sessions starting Aug. 27 at Unity House, Forest Park, Pa.

Canada UAW Local Takes Ford Contract

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Members of Local 240, United Automobile Workers, last night voted almost unanimously to accept terms of a new two-year contract covering office workers at Ford of Canada.

The 750 workers voted 94.5 per cent in favor of acceptance. The union and company reached a settlement on the contract five days ago.

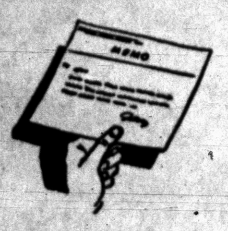

* * *

Included in the contract were salary increases of $10.40 a month, a $3.47-a-month cost of living allowance effective Aug. 21, and another increase of $10.40 a month to become effective Sept. 1, 1957.

Other benefits included two additional paid half-holidays, extended life insurance and pension plan provisions, and institution of a supplemental unemployment benefit plan for employes in the bargaining unit.

Stock Market Declines Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took a sharp turn into lower territory today with metals, aircrafts, chemicals and oils leading the parade.

Losses ranged from $1 to $5 a share toward midday with trading at a faster pace than yesterday's 1,770,000 shares.

In the background was intensified concern over the Suez Canal crisis, and over tightening money rates here at home, exemplified by higher interest charges set by New York and Boston banks on commercial loans.

Dealer Council Set for Local Meeting

Nineteen members of the GMC Truck & Coach Division's newly-elected Dealer Council will gather here Monday and Tuesday to discuss dealer-management problems.

R.C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager, will be moderator for the Monday and Tuesday Council meetings at the GMC home office.

He said the 19 GMC dealers were elected recently by the dealer members of each of 19 newly created GMC Zone Dealer Councils to represent them at the Divisional-level meeting.

"Our new dealer program establishes, at Zone and Divisional levels, a series of forms for discussing mutual matters and gaining the benefits of a free interchange of ideas and suggestions between management and the dealer organization," Woodhouse explained.

Grains Decline on Active Market

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains dipped on the Board of Trade today in dealings which were a little more active than in the very full previous session.

In rye the setback amounted to more than a dip. Losses ran to several cents on profit-taking following the very sharp advance of the past few weeks.

* * *

Wheat was steady at the start, most futures posting slow gains. But the bread cereal soon gave up its gains. These grains and particularly soybeans had an easier tone from the opening bell.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was: ⅛ to ½ lower, Sept. $2.20½; corn ⅜ to ⅝ lower, Sep. $1.51¼; oats ⅛ to ¼ lower, Sep. 74⅜; rye 1¼ to two cents lower, Sept. $1.47¼; soybeans one to 1½ lower, Sept. $2.47; and lard three to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, Sept. $11.82.

Building's Exterior Will Be Remodeled

The Knights of Pythias Building, 16-20 W. Huron St., will undergo a "face lifting" during the next five weeks when construction crews will remodel the entrance and fronts of two business places.

New exteriors of simulated black marble will extend over the 60-foot frontage bordered by Connolly's Jewelers, 16 W. Huron; Todd's Shoe Store, 20 W. Huron; and the entranceway.

Other features of the story-high project will be large windows, recessed lighting and a permanent marquee over the sidewalk.

Construction work will not affect business at either Connolly's or Todd's, both of which will remain open despite a temporary barricade. The project will get underway next week.

City Hospital Board Misses 2nd Session

Lacking a quorum for the second time in five days, a skeleton three-man Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees adjourned last evening without action on a monthly agenda.

The same three members of the seven-member board present at last Thursday's adjourned session waited last night for 40 minutes for a quorum to appear, but to no avail. Present were Chairman William P. Babcock, Charles E. Yaeger, and Harold B. Euler.

Missing were Joseph E. Jones, Harold S. Goldberg; Willis M. Brewer, and Mrs. B. B. Roush. Babcock explained last week it was the first time in five years that the board failed to act due to lack of a quorum.

Under new business on last night's actionless agenda were requests from Mrs. Roush and Brewer to be formally excused from last Thursday's meeting.

Court-Martialed for Overweight

Beefy Sergeant Beefs: 'I Was Sick as a Child'

FT. CARSON, Colo. (AP) — An Army mess sergeant says he's to be court-martialed because he's overweight.

* * *

Penalties for poundage were decreed by Maj. Gen. Thomas M. Waltington, who said a handful of his 8th Infantry Division officers and men failed to peel off excess fat as ordered.

Sgt. L. C. James Love, 34, a veteran of 12 years and two wars, is the only one protesting. He has asked a general court-martial rather than the customary summary court-martial. This, he said, will give him a better opportunity to explain his position.

* * *

Under summary court-martial procedure, only one officer hears the arguments. At least five officers are required in a general court-martial.

"I weighed 276 pounds when I returned to the States from Germany in October 1954," said Love, who is married and the father of four children. "Now I'm down to 212 and I'm going to be court-martialed."

The mess sergeant says he was ordered to trim down to 193 pounds, but no time limit was specified.

"I lost 25 pounds in the six months I've been here," he said, "and that's about my limit. I was sick as a child, and had a nervous breakdown. I've had to be careful about strenuous exercise.

* * *

"Well, one week I didn't lose any weight and my battery commander ordered me to exercise for two hours daily in the gymnasium."

Love, a native of Cincinnati, said he refused the order because he was "afraid of the reaction."

"They left me alone until last month, when the general put out an order that if a man didn't lose the prescribed amount of weight in a four-week period, he'd be placed before a board of officers and face special court-martial," the sergeant related.

* * *

"I was told I'd probably lose one stripe.

"I told my battery commander I'd lived through two wars weighing more than I do now. He said he appreciated that, but there was no war going on now."

Will 7-Year-Old Try for $32,000?

Marjorie Garmise Still Undecided About Her Next Move

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A man in New York wanted to talk about baseball to a girl in West Hartford, Conn., so he called her up. But she wouldn't speak to him. She was busy playing checkers with the boy next door.

* * *

Her mother, Mrs. Felicia Garmise, sounded quite embarrassed on the telephone.

"Marjorie has answered so many questions," she said, "that she doesn't feel there's anything more to say."

* * *

Marjorie has indeed answered many questinons — $16,000 worth. But it's still an open question her mother says, whether she'll seek $32,000 when the national political conventions permit "The $64,000 Question" to return to the air (CBS-TV, Tuesday evenings).

It is not certain whether the program will be on tonight.

Marjorie Garmise, who will be 8 Sept. 3 and enter the third grade a few days later, has fascinated numerous viewers with her unhesitating, correct answers to obscure questions about the life and baseball lore of Babe Ruth. She must have an extraordinary I.Q.

"I haven't the vaguest idea what it is," replied her mother. "She could read some when she entered first grade, though we didn't especially try to teach her. I don't believe in trying to push a child. But she was fascinated by baseball and began reading baseball cards such as they enclose in popcorn boxes. Her brother, Andy, who's 11-years-old, is enthusiastic about baseball too.

* * *

Marjorie began to read about baseball in the newspapers and she learned to read scores. No. I can't read baseball scores. I guess she just picked it up from Andy. Last year she read a book about Babe Ruth. She read it many times. She got a couple of more books about Babe Ruth and read them too. That's how she became an expert."

Mrs. Garmise said that neither she nor her husband, Morton, an engineer, have been coaching Marjorie for "The $64,000 Question." Marjorie, she said, "just studies things over some by herself."

Bob Crosby Lawyers to Work on Divorce

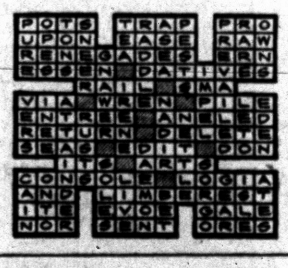

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Attorneys for bandleader Bob Crosby and his estranged wife June meet today in the first of a series of discussions which they hope will settle community property differences privately.

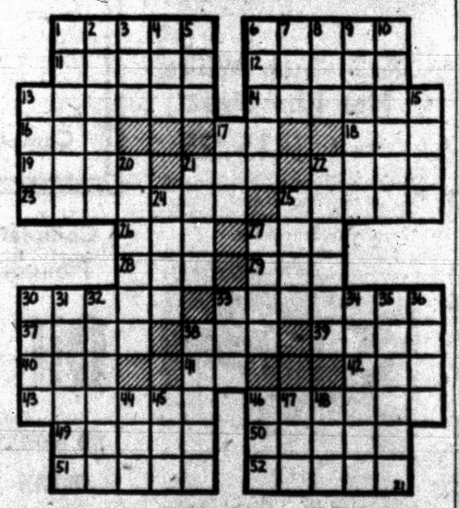

Ten days ago Mrs. Crosby sued for divorce and said her husband had threatened to cut her off "without a dime." She asked $3,155 monthly temporary alimony and support for their five children.

"We feel it will be in the best interests of the children as well as the mother and father if these discussions can be held other than in court," said Crosby's attorney Ben Erlich.

Automatic transmissions are found on nearly 75 per cent of the 1956 cars.

Chicago Delegate Kelly Is Proud Grandfather

By EARL WILSON

SAN FRANCISCO — Let me tell you about an interesting guy I saw in Chicago just before I flew out here.

I thought I was back in Monaco.

Through the hotel lobby—unrecognized by most people though they'd seen his picture scores of times—moved the famous "Father of the Bride," John B. Kelly, from Philadelphia, of course.

You could tell delegate Kelly for he was the loftiest, broadest-shouldered man in this den of din . . . save maybe for Jim Farley.

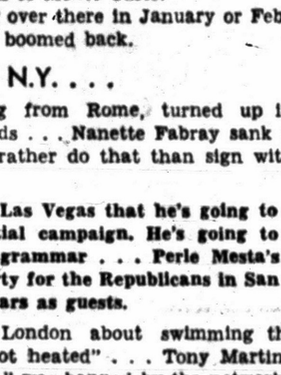

★ ★ ★

And if you think other grandfathers are proud! "How many grandchildren have you now?" I asked.

"Five and they're all girls. Maybe Grace will cross 'em up." He smiled slightly, for this would give him a grandson.

"Would you know all their first names?" I asked.

"We'll, there's Margaret Davis, the skater. She's 10 and won the Eastern this year." He went right down the list without uncertainty.

JOHN KELLY

"Liz's daughter"—he came to the last one—"is named Grace.

"And the reason she was named Grace is that Grace asked Liz not to call her Liz-Ann, because Grace wanted to name her first daughter Liz-Ann.

★ ★ ★

"Elizabeth Ann," he explained.

'So the famous Monacan heir will be Elizabeth Ann if a girl," I said. "And if it's a boy?"

"I guess it'l be named Rainier. Don't have me dictating names," he laughed. "That's not my department."

Princess Grace has been a wondrously dutiful daughter.

"I never used to get a letter from her when she was in the movies. Now I get at least two a week and Margaret always gets two. One letter to Margaret said, 'Tell daddy I'll be home in time for the big race.'

"That's the $100,000 United Nations race at Atlantic City Sept. 15," John B. said. "Swaps is in it."

★ ★ ★

I inquired if he would go back to Monte Carlo.

"Well, if there's a christening over there in January or February, what do you think?" he boomed back.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Joe E. Lewis flashed from Las Vegas that he's going to help out with the presidential campaign. He's going to teach Adlai Stevenson bad grammar . . . Perle Mesta's being urged to repeat her party for the Republicans in San Francisco, with Hollywood stars as guests.

Esther Williams, asked in London about swimming the Channel, says, "I can't—it's not heated" . . . Tony Martin's record, "It's Better in the Dark," was banned by the networks.

Vet Housing Slump Reported During July

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration (VA) said today that 45,526 GI home loan applications during July set a record for any month this year. But the rate is still below last year's.

* * *

July was the first 1956 month in which VA loan applications topped the lowest monthly total in 1955—45,514 last December.

A spokesman attributed the drop-off to a "tight money" market for home loans.

Another indication of a slowdown in the GI housing program was a VA report that it received 63,750 appraisal requests during July, a drop of 21,589 below July 1955. And down 2 per cent from the June 1956 total of 65,141.

Requests for appraisal of new dwelling units during July were the second lowest for any month this year.

One of Oldest Twins Dies of Heart Attack

RICHFIELD SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) —Floyd Palmer, 81, who said he and his brother, Frank, were the oldest twins among living American veterans, died yesterday in a nursing home. He had suffered a heart attack earlier in the day.

The brothers enlisted in the Army during the Spanish-American War. Floyd served in Puerto Rico and Frank, who lives in this Otsego County community, served in Cuba.

Kindergartens enrolled 5,500,000 children in the 1955-56 school year, a 40 per cent increase over the 1950-51 figure.

Find Boy Bit by Rabid Dog

Object of All-Out Hunt Found in Time to Save His Life

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—King Lear, a 6-year-old Dallas boy, was undergoing the series of antirabies shots today after a frantic weeklong search.

* * *

A dog bit 15 persons in the small city of Rockwall, 15 miles from here, last Tuesday. The dog was later found to be rabid. Witnesses said they remembered a boy being bitten when a family stopped for some cold drinks. The family was believed to have been traveling.

Wire services, newspapers and radio stations spread the story of the search.

Rabies treatments should be started within 14 days after infection. Without treatment, victims usually die in agony. By the time symptoms appear, it usually is too late, health authorities said.

* * *

Yesterday Mrs. Claude C. Lear, the boy's mother, heard a radio account and read an Associated Press story of the search. She recalled that King said he was nipped at when the family stopped at Rockwall for picnic supplies while on an outing.

The boy was rushed to Rockwall, where J. W. Cullin and Miss Pervis Lindsey identified him as the victim. He was then sped to the county health office for his first antirabies shot.

Lear said the boy had told him a puppy snapped at him, but the boy's leg, he said, apparently had not been scratched so the parents paid no further attention.

Three Officers Bitten by Man - - and a Dog

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Efforts to return a San Antonio man to a state hospital resulted in three policemen being bitten — two by a man and one by a dog.

* * *

Sgt. George Gonsalzes and Patrolmen Gene Dannish and Robert Vallastrigo answered a call to pick up a man to be returned to a mental institution.

* * *

Gonsalzes and Dannish were both bitten on the arms while subduing the man. Villastrigo left the house to call an ambulance and was bitten on the leg by a dog.

Killed Opening Drawer

DRYDEN, Va. (AP)—James Gates, 68, was tugging at a stubborn dresser drawer in his bedroom when the drawer suddenly came unstuck and its bottom fell out. A .22-caliber pistol dropped to the floor and discharged. The bullet struck Gates just below the heart, killing him.

LET'S TAKE A TRIP—2

Mount Rushmore

Mount Rushmore Memorial is a huge carving of the faces of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt on a granite cliff in the Black Hills of South Dakota.

The sculptor, Gutzon Borglum, supervised most of the work, which was long and difficult. Much of the cutting was done by workers swung high in the air on ropes.

Imagine men 465 feet tall and you will have an idea of the size of these great faces. They are so vast that they must be seen from a distance. People in passing planes get an excellent view of them.

Use your crayons to color the picture, making the rocks gray and leaving the faces white. If you have a sheet of blue cardboard, paste the lower part on to it so it will look like sky above the faces. Punch holes as indicated and hang it up with string.

Mount the plane on cardboard and cut it out carefully. Make holes in the plane as shown, and hang it over the mountains as shown in the diagram.

Politics in Argentina Foment Street Fights

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The right-wing Catholic Nationalist party bid at a mass meeting last night for support from the followers of deposed dictator Juan Peron.

Later a group of the Nationalists scuffled on a downtown street with a small number of supporters of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu. Police broke up the street fighting. No injuries were reported.

Some supporters of Aramburu's present provisional government call the Catholic Nationalists "Nazis" and "Fascists" because Argentina's extreme right wing was openly pro-Axis during World War II. The Aramburu supporters say the Nationalists are soliciting the support of Peron's mass of followers

Kaluzynski Named to Lead Area Handicapped Plan

RAYMOND KALUZYNSKI

The appointment of Raymond Kaluzynski to head up a recently-inaugurated rehabilitation program for the county's handicapped children has been announced by the Oakland County Board of Education.

* * *

The 31-year-old Lake Orion resident will serve as vocational rehabilitation field agent to youngsters enrolled in special education programs at Oakland County schools.

The program is a cooperative effort between the Federal government, the Michigan Dept. of Public Instruction and county school officials. It will be conducted for three years and then evaluated, according to Fred J. Beckman, president of the County Board of Education.

A graduate of the University of Miami, Fla., Kalizynski was formerly associated with the Division of Public Assistance for the State of Maine.
