

Here's Miss Front Page for May

The month of May brings many pleasant things — balmy days, spring flowers — and a new Miss Front Page. The nod this month goes to 22-year-old Patricia Joan Parmenter, of 5520 Sunwood, Huntoon Lake, in Waterford Township.

The young lady is a sports enthusiast, with skiing (snow and water), swimming and golf holding top rating in her book.

She is a graduate of Waterford Township High School and for the past three years has been employed by Pontiac Motor Division, as invoice auditor in the accounts payable department. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Parmenter. A brother, Raymond, is in the Armed Forces of the U.S.

And boys, never mind the telephone number. There's another serviceman in her life, with whom she has an appointment at the altar one of these fine days.

Other County Areas Get OK

State Approves Bond Issue for Pontiac City Schools

A $2.7 million bond issue for Pontiac school construction was approved yesterday by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

The bond revenue will make up a part of the Pontiac School System's $5.2 million construction program started under the current budget and to continue during the 1957-58 fiscal year.

Included are the new senior high school, the Herrington Hills and Kennett road elementarys, and additions to the Malkin and Bethune Elementarys.

The commission also approved $25,000 in special assessment bonds for Walled Lake to be used for street improvements and $36,000 in special assessment bonds for Southfield Township to be used for the same purpose.

School District No. 5, which includes Farmington Township, was granted approval to issue $70,000 in notes for current operating expenses.

Pontiac will add 52 spaces to its growing off-street parking program with the addition of a new lot off West Huron and west of Pine street.

City commissioners last night authorized City Manager Walter K. Willman to continue negotiations for the lot from the Detroit Edison Co. for $25,000.

Willman said the city will spend approximately $750 per car space for the lot for the installation of meters and "islands." He added that the lot is already paved.

"This lot will be outside the city's parking bond issue," the manager said, "but eventually its income can work into the retirement of the debt."

Payment of the lot will come from the city's capital improvement fund, he added.

Pontiac presently has more than 1,000 off-street parking stalls.

It Matters Not the Age

Cupid Ushers In Spring

DETROIT (U) — Ninety-three-year-old William Ruff applied yesterday for a marriage license to wed 72-year-old Mrs. Nellie B. Smethers. "Nellie is partial to older men," Ruff told County Clerk Edgar M. Branigan. "I had to do most of the chasing, though," he added.

Ruff, twice a widower, is active in the real estate business in suburban Highland Park. Mrs. Smethers, a widow, lives with a daughter in Detroit. Ruff said they met at a social club for older people.

NEW YORK (INS) — Spring definitely has arrived. Tommy Manville, the marrying millionaire, took out his 10th marriage license in New York yesterday. Manville, 63, plans to wed 26-year-old Texas showgirl Patricia Anne Gaston on Sunday.

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — William Wallace Mein III, young heir to cattle millions, and a German immigrant who once cooked in his family home have wedding plans today but they're keeping them secret. Mein, whose family opposed the marriage before he turned 21 last February, and Isolde Constantini, 24, quietly obtained a marriage license here yesterday.

Opens Hearing on CAB 'Leaks'

Sen. Jackson Charges Stock Speculation After Vote for Northeast

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) opens today a public hearing he said will show some Civil Aeronautics Board employees "leaked" profitable secrets to stock market speculators.

A spurge of trading in Northeast Airlines stock last Aug. 3 which sent the price soaring set off the inquiry by the Senate Investigations subcommittee with Jackson presiding.

The trading started the morning after CAB had voted secretly to award Northeast the profitable New York to Miami air route over the rival bid of Delta Airlines. The decision was not announced officially until Aug. 10.

As the leadoff witness the subcommittee summoned Robert R. Snodgrass of Atlanta, Republican national committeeman from Georgia. Jackson said he will be asked whether he bought 1,000 shares of Northeast stock on Aug. 3; and if so, why he did and whether he profited.

"The subcommittee will show," Jackson said, "that there were leaks in connection with this award to Northeast Airlines; that CAB employees gave the information concerning the secret decision to certain outside individuals; that this was in violation of CAB regulations, and that as a result of the leak there was much stock activity on Aug. 3, 1956."

"Inquiry revealed that this was not an unusual case as there had been many leaks from the CAB in the past."

"It would appear," he added, "that some members of the CAB staff lied" in the course of the investigation.

Fair, Cooler Outlook for Tonight, Thursday

Fair and cooler tonight with a low of 44-48 degrees, is the prediction for the Pontiac area by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Tomorrow will be fair and cooler with the high temperature ranging from 58-62 degrees. Friday will be warm and partly cloudy.

Upper Michigan will be fair and cooler tonight with a chance of a few showers Thursday.

The lowest thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 53 degrees. The mercury rose to 62 at 1 p.m.

Seek Injunction to Safeguard Oil Firm Data

U.S. Antitrust Lawyers Want Court to Forbid Record Destruction

WASHINGTON (U) — Government antitrust lawyers have asked a federal court to forbid about 35 major oil companies from destroying records which may be needed in a grand jury probe of recent oil price increases.

The motion for an injunction, filed in Federal District Court in nearby Alexandria, Va., said possible litigation "may be frustrated and will be seriously impaired" by loss of pertinent documents.

Judge Albert V. Bryan has ordered a hearing on the motion tomorrow.

A Justice Department spokesman said the motion was based on the action of one company which destroyed some records.

He did not name the firm, but said about 35 companies were listed in the motion.

The department, in an affidavit supporting the motion, said many companies have a practice of destroying records they think are no longer needed.

It added that the company which destroyed some records got rid of documents dealing with oil pricing in 1955.

These were destroyed under the firm's "file destruction program," the affidavit added, after Atty. Gen. Brownell announced last January that there would be an investigation of price increases which followed the Suez Canal closure.

The motion specifically requests the companies be enjoined from destroying "any of its existing files and records relating to the purchase, distribution or sale of petroleum products, including all documents relating or referring to the determination, establishment, maintenance or change of prices for crude petroleum or for refined petroleum products."

Last week, Horace L. Flurry, the Justice Department lawyer who was handling the oil case, resigned after a disagreement with superiors over the investigation.

Not Political Weapons

CAIRO (INS) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) on U. S. refusal to sell Egypt urgently needed goods after the invasion: "Where there's want and suffering and the government is not openly hostile, food and medicines should not be used as political weapons either to influence or to punish."

Hussein Says Crisis Ended

AP Wirephoto

NEWS CONFERENCE — Seated at a long, glass-topped table in banquet hall of palace at Amman, King Hussein of Jordan, wearing dark suit, reads statement to crowded news conference today. The king told newsmen "I can assure you the crisis in Jordan is ended." Standing immediately behind Hussein, from left, are: Bahjat Talluni, chief of the royal cabinet; Col. Radi Abdullah of the Jordanian army, and Medhat Jomaa Foreign, undersecretary for the press.

U.S. Appears Unworried by King Hussein's Rebuff

WASHINGTON (U) — State Department officials professed today to be unworried by King Hussein's rebuff to President Eisenhower's Middle East program.

Hussein has accepted an American offer of 10 million dollars to help him strengthen his country's economy and finances and presumably also to assist in meeting the payroll for his army.

But he told a news conference at Amman yesterday that Jordan is not interested in the Eisenhower Doctrine.

He said he had declined a visit from Eisenhower's special ambassador in the Middle East, James P. Richards.

Officials here said acceptance of the program was not particularly important because Hussein is in fact working along the same lines.

U. S. policy laid down in a resolution by Congress in March is aimed at opposing the spread of Communist influence in the Middle East and promoting stability there.

Officials said Hussein has cut out Communist propaganda in his country as much as possible, has put known Communists in jail and has refused to establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet.

The King's inability to accept the Eisenhower program is, attributed here to the temper of public opinion in Jordan, which is highly nationalistic and strongly opposed to any act which would appear to link Jordan too closely with the United States.

More Vital Area Listed for U.S. Than in Russia

WASHINGTON (INS) — U.S. officials today greeted with mixed reaction the new Soviet disarmament proposal calling for aerial inspection of parts of Russia and the American mainland.

Some diplomats studying the plan, first proposed by the Russians at the United Nations disarmament subcommittee in London on Monday, were cool towards the idea.

They argued that the plan would permit the Soviets to inspect Alaska and all of the U.S. west of the Mississippi, including several highly populated areas, important industrial and atomic installations, and military bases.

On the other hand, they said, the U. S. would be permitted to operate the open skies inspection plan over only one-third of the U.S.S.R., a good part of which would be the icy wasteland of Siberia.

Other officials, however, were encouraged by the new proposal which was given wide publicity over Moscow Radio yesterday. They said it could be the basis for important negotiations which could start the ball rolling toward a general disarmament agreement.

Those who held this view added that it depends on whether the Russians would be willing to negotiate on the areas to be included in the aerial inspection to make it more equitable.

As presented by Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin, 2,780,000 square miles of Russia would be included in the inspection area and 2,730,000 square miles of Alaska and the Western U. S. would be opened to photoreconnaissance planes.

Pontiac Traffic Record Perfect

City One of 4 in State to Achieve Distinction in Month of March

Pontiac was one of four Michigan cities which marked up a perfect traffic record during March, according to the National Safety Council.

Hearing the council's report, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Capt. Joseph Koren, head of the Traffic and Safety Bureau, were quick to add that Pontiac has held such a record for the year. Pontiac and Lansing reported no fatalities in the 50,000 to 100,000 population class, while Muskegon claimed the same record for the 25,000 to 50,000 group. St. Clair was the fourth city with a perfect record in the 10,000 to 25,000 bracket.

"It is very gratifying to me," said Chief Straley, "and shows with the cooperation of all the citizens such a record is obtainable."

MSU to Survey Need of Area

Seeks Aid of Schools to Determine Courses in Oakland Branch

An extensive survey started about May 15 in Oakland and Macomb counties by Michigan State University in cooperation with area school systems to determine the needs for post-high school education.

Initial plans for the survey are announced by school officials of the two counties and by MSU administrators.

The questionnaire survey among children, parents and other adults and area teachers and educators will have two objectives:

1. To survey interest of area residents for education beyond high school.
2. To determine area demands for various courses which might be offered at the projected MSU branch at the Meadowbrook Farms estate due to open in the fall of 1959.

MSU officials explain that the survey will be instrumental in analyzing the needs of the area and in planning for courses in such fields as engineering, business and public service, education and others.

Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president, has stated, "The willing cooperation of so many Oakland and Macomb citizens enables us to go ahead with the planning, secure in the knowledge that we will have the best of advice and guidance in making the new institution of maximum usefulness in the area it is intended to serve."

The proposed branch of Michigan State will be at the Meadowbrook Farms. Site studies are under way and the construction contract for the first building is expected to be let within the next year.

The gift of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of their Meadowbrook estate and a $2 million cash endowment to establish a branch was accepted in January by the governing board of Michigan State. Various advisory committees of area leaders have been selected to guide in the development of the plans.

Appoint Publisher of Adrian Telegram

ADRIAN — Appointment of C. Kenneth Wesley, business manager and secretary-treasurer of the Monroe Evening News, as publisher of the Adrian Telegram was announced today.

Wesley will succeed Stuart H. Perry, who died Feb. 15, as publisher of the Adrian Telegram. He will continue as business manager and secretary-treasurer of the Monroe Evening News and will reside in Monroe.

Wesley is a son-in-law of the late Stuart H. Perry and for several years was associate publisher of the Telegram.

Drop Threat Charge, Man Jailed and Fined

Joseph T. Young, 62, of 9151 Rattalee Lake Rd., Clarkston, detained Saturday for investigation of threatening to kill a man, was ordered to serve three days in the county jail and pay a $75 fine yesterday.

Young pleaded guilty to creating a disturbance when he was arraigned before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

He was arrested by Pontiac Police after a local bartender and another citizen disarmed him of a loaded rifle after a threat against Ray Fetteringer, 32, of 1173 Vinewood St.

The charge was reduced when Fetteringer declined to file a complaint.

Fire Victims Start Hunt for New Dwelling Place

Two mothers and their 14 children piled into one car late yesterday afternoon in search of a house somewhere in Rose Township which they could make into a home.

Their husbands, Frank Knowlton, 36, and Robert Benjamin, 28, both employed at Holly Coach, manufacturer of house trailers, had already left in the Knowlton car to search for the same necessity, a place to live.

Fire had swallowed up their eight room cottage before daylight yesterday morning.

All of the members of the two families escaped from the smoke-filled rooms except one, Elaine Knowlton, 2, who suffocated in her crib during the frantic evacuation.

Meanwhile, other people were thinking about the two distressed families.

Mrs. George Gibson, who lives across the road from the ruined house, on Pepper road said a room full of clothing, food and furniture had been brought to her house for the two families. Collections had started early yesterday morning following the fire.

"One man, Earl Van Leuven, of Davisburg, even called and offered a two story house to the families," she said today.

Michigan Man, Plane Missing One Week

GRAND HAVEN — A Michigan man was reported missing yesterday—a week after he took off in his single engine airplane on a flight to Elkhart, Ind.

William Layne, manager of the Grand Haven Airport, said Donald R. Miller, 38, of nearby Spring Lake, took off the afternoon of April 23. He was reported missing yesterday by his wife, June 26.

Layne said authorities at the Indiana Airport reported Miller did not arrive.

Mrs. Miller said her husband, a salesman, frequently went on extended sales trips. She said she became worried Saturday when he did not telephone as was his custom.

Unfinished School Damaged by Fire

MADISON HEIGHTS — Fire destroyed part of the Lessenger Elementary School now under construction at Campbell and Girard streets here late last night.

According to Capt. Joseph Sloan of the Madison Heights Fire Dept., the fire is believed to have started in a rubbish heap near the school. He estimated the damage at $2,500.

Woman Is Found Dead

Martha Lewis, 41, of 510 E. Montclair-St., was found frozen to death in a deep freezer in the basement of her home about 5:30 p.m. yesterday.

The woman was found by her husband Carlton Lewis when he returned for work Tuesday and found a suicide note in the upstairs bedroom from his wife, saying she was in the basement.

Central Region Manager Named by Pontiac Motor

The appointment of Lonnie H. Holmes as Central Region manager of Pontiac Motor Division, with headquarters in Pontiac, was announced today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager.

Previously, Holmes has served as regional manager in the Pacific and Midwest Regions. He succeeds Latham Clark, who is retiring.

Holmes joined Pontiac Motor Division in 1934 and held positions of responsibility in Pontiac's Charlotte, Washington and Memphis zones prior to becoming the Division's Atlanta zone manager in 1948.

He was named Pacific Region manager in 1953 and Midwest Region manager in 1956, the position he held until his new assignment.

Clark has been associated with Pontiac for 26 years.

STARTED IN 1931

He joined the Pontiac Motor Division as a district manager in 1931 and became zone manager in Buffalo in 1940. He served as zone manager in Boston before being appointed Central Region manager in 1954.

Clark is a native of Detroit and attended the University of Michigan. He is married and has one daughter. He resides in Birmingham.

The appointment of G. J. Schulte as regional manager of the Midwest Region, with headquarters in Chicago, also was announced. Schulte succeeds Holmes.

Schulte joined General Motors in 1933 and came to Pontiac in 1936. From 1936 to 1946 he held positions on the Pontiac central office sales staff.

In 1947 he was appointed zone manager in Kansas City and he later became manager of the Pontiac zone. He was appointed Chicago zone manager in 1956 and has held this position until his new assignment.

In other appointments, Walter J. McGrath was named zone manager of the Chicago zone, succeeding Schulte. John F. Malone was named to head the Cleveland zone, succeeding McGrath.

Golfer Finds Stolen Jug of Dangerous Acid

LANSING — A missing jug of dangerous hydrofluoric acid was found in a Lansing park last night by a golfer practicing his swing.

Police had put out a warning that the acid, stolen from a Lansing wholesale chemical firm, was potentially dangerous.

An official of the Carrier-Stephens Co. described the acid as "very volatile, very corrosive and highly dangerous." He said it could eat through flesh to the bone and possibly cause death.

The golfer noticed a five-gallon plastic jug containing the acid lying in weeds in St. Joseph Park on the west side of the city. Police were notified and an employee of the chemical firm recovered the acid.

Police were questioning juveniles suspected in the dangerous theft.

School, Health Funds May Fall Below Needs

A large audience in Royal Oak last night heard four experts make a somber comparison of available state funds with skyrocketing needs in education and mental health.

Speaking at George A. Dondro High School were Dr. James W. Miller, director of the State Department of Administration; Dr. Paul L. Lowinger, of Detroit's new Lafayette Clinic for mental health; Norman E. Borgerson, Deputy State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, president of Wayne State University.

Miller warned that an expected $35.8 million in unrestricted state revenues this year may be "unduly optimistic."

"Demands on the state for more money can create a serious problem if our revenues fall short of what is needed," he told the audience of 250 at a public meeting sponsored by several county educational, medical and civic organizations.

Lowinger said that "up-and-down" budgeting by the state legislature threatens to make jobs with Michigan institutions "unattractive" to new employees.

"Besides hitting operation of our new clinics and centers, it also hurts research programs, which should be a daily stimulus to everyone in the mental health department, and which in the long run are the biggest step we can take towards solving mental illness," the chief of out-patient service stated.

Borgerson cautioned that latest figures show a shortage of about $30 million for next year's school aid. This is reduced to a cut of about $20 less per pupil than school boards counted on in drawing up budgets.

Miller hit the present school aid law, saying it forced school superintendents to become "crystal ball gazers," with the result that an unforeseen decrease in sales tax revenues "has the whole program in dire straits."

Hilberry said the number of college enrollees has tripled to 129,000 since 1930, and promises to hit at least 307,000 by 1975.

"The needs for trained people are fast outstripping our supply. I know of no college that in any field is able to meet the demand."

The program was called by Hilberry as a public service, while the battle of the 1957-1958 budget is being fought in Lansing.

Ike Meets GOP Congress Heads

Faces Revolt in Party Over Economy Drive on Foreign Aid, Schools

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower meets with GOP congressional leaders today to renew his drive for a legislative program threatened by economy-minded legislators.

Eisenhower—tanned and relaxed after 12 days at the Augusta golf club—is faced with a revolt within his own party on such issues as foreign aid, federal school assistance and other spending programs.

The Chief Executive is particularly concerned over expected congressional drives to trim the record peacetime budget of $11.5 billion dollars by slashing the foreign aid program.

At today's meeting will be Senate GOP Leader William Knowland, who has openly broken with the Administration over the size of the budget. Both Knowland and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), reported at the windup of the congressional Easter recess that voters put federal spending and taxes at the top of problems they are concerned with now.

Eisenhower, on his arrival in Washington yesterday afternoon, held a conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and under secretary Christian Herter in the office-stateroom of his plane, the Columbine III.

Eisenhower is determined to save his foreign aid proposal. His conference today was expected to be followed shortly with a television-radio address to the American people on the need for this program.

The Chief Executive's physician, Dr. Howard McC. Snyder, said the 12 days at Augusta were "very beneficial" to his famous patient. The cough, which has plagued the President since inauguration day, Jan. 21, has virtually disappeared.

Danish Premier Hans Christian Hansen's answer said: "The Soviet government's conception of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is based on a fundamental mistake. NATO is and will remain a defensive alliance. Denmark could not associate itself with a policy having aggressive aims."

Hansen told Russia her fears were groundless and that every nation had a right to adapt its defenses as it saw fit.

Hansen told Russia that the crushing of the Hungarian uprising by Soviet troops had lessened Danish hopes of increased East-West cooperation.

Quarles, Douglas Take Oaths Today

WASHINGTON — In the presence of President Eisenhower and top Pentagon officials, Donald A. Quarles was sworn in today as deputy secretary of defense.

James H. Douglas took the oath as secretary of the Air Force at the same ceremony at the White House.

Eisenhower thrust out a hand to each of the two men in turn and presented them their commissions.

"You've been moving around quite a bit," the President told Quarles. "Stay in this one for a while."

Quarles has been secretary of the Air Force and before that was assistant secretary of defense for research and development. Douglas moved up from undersecretary of the Air Force.

$7.8 Million for State in Military Spending Bid

WASHINGTON — The Defense Department today included a $7,800,000 appropriation for Michigan in asking Congress for military authority to spend $1,561,388,000 on military construction.

Michigan projects in the request, all Air Force, and the amount sought, include Kinross Air Force Base, Sault Ste. Marie, $1,118,000; K. J. Sawyer Municipal Airport, Marquette, $905,000; Selfridge AFB, Mount Clemens, $2,898,000; and Wurtsmith AFB, Oscoda, $2,908,000.

PARIS (INS) — Main units of the U.S. Sixth Fleet were reported sighted today by civilian airlines pilots, Agence France Presse said, about 60 miles off the Lebanese coast.

The exact whereabouts of the atomic-muscled fleet centered around the carrier Forrestal had been unknown since the fleet pulled out of French and Italian ports last week at the height of the Jordanian crisis.

AFF quoted the pilots who landed in Beirut as saying they saw the Forrestal and some 30 other units of the Mediterranean fleet off the Lebanese coast. The pilots said the ships and jet aircraft appeared to be maneuvering.

Six ships detached from the main body of the fleet and docked yesterday in Beirut for a three-day visit.

Price of Milk Drops

DETROIT (INS) — The price of milk dropped a half-cent a quart in most of the Detroit area today, reflecting a 25-cent a hundred-weight cut in the price paid farmers for whole milk.

Child Hit in Driveway, Injuries Prove Slight

Lewallen Joel Benjamin, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Benjamin, of 1224 Scott Lake Rd., Waterford Township, was hit by a car driven by Jean Mahew, of 2665 Watkins Lake Rd., Waterford Township, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Mayhew told Waterford Township police she was backing from her driveway next to the Benjamin home when Lewallen was struck.

More Revolts Due—Nixon

CHICAGO — Vice President Nixon says that last year's uprisings in Poland and Hungary were just the beginning of an internal revolt that will ultimately sweep away the Communist empire.

"The leaders of the Kremlin know their armies are not reliable," Nixon said in a speech last night.

"They realize that unrest and dissension are barely hidden in their colleges and universities. They are aware of the grumblings and doubts in the ranks of the Communist party itself."

Nixon spoke to a joint meeting of the American Jewish Committee and the Antidefamation League of B'nai B'rith.

The Day in Birmingham

Pass Assessment Roll for E. Maple Widening

BIRMINGHAM — Commissioners drew charges of insufficient knowledge Monday when they approved the assessment roll for the E. Maple avenue widening. The roll was spread on the basis of 85 per cent of the cost against abutting property owners and 15 per cent against the city at large. A total cost of the assessment roll is $41,900.

The city, however, has adopted a new "standard" for street projects with 37 feet designated for commercial. The Maple stretch between Hunter boulevard and Adams road is slated to be 45 feet leaving but eight feet for the special assessment district.

Property owners said they felt they will not reap enough benefit from the widening to warrant what they consider an unfair assessment. They added that a parking ban on the street might actually be detrimental to their businesses.

Mayor William Roberts said he was not aware that any immediate banning of parking was planned. He reminded the group of the share the city already has assumed.

The existing 31 foot strip will be torn up and replaced with an additional six feet to bring it to the newly accepted standard of 37 feet. This will be a city at large cost.

Birmingham's Junior League was honored this afternoon when Mayor William Roberts extended thanks to Mrs. Gene White, league president for the group's work. The formal presentation took place at the open house of the Birmingham Child Guidance Clinic. The mayor thanked league members for the part they played in activating the clinic in Birmingham.

"It is something we needed here," Roberts said, "and your members have done the community a great service by bringing it to us."

Persons not season members using the Springdale Golf Course, will be asked to pay for extra rounds this summer. City Manager Harold K. Schone said that under the present set-up it is entirely possible for a person or group to monopolize the course for the day at only one fee. The proposed charge for additional rounds is 50 cents.

Jonella Z. Curd

Widow of William C. Curd, Mrs. Curd, 72, of 967 Ridgeland, died yesterday in Bloomfield Hospital. She was a native of Texas.

Private service was held this afternoon from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. with burial in Parkview Memorial Cemetery, Livonia.

There are no immediate survivors.

Overflow of Sabine River Causes Oil Well Shutdown

DALLAS — The upper Sabine River, at its greatest height in history, went out of its banks around Gladewater but the threat of major floods on other Texas rivers eased slightly today.

Oil wells in the petroleum-rich Gladewater area stopped pumping because of high water. The river flowed out three-quarters of a mile on the southwest side of town. There were no residents in the immediate area.

Meanwhile, the drowning toll climbed to 13 in the 14 days of Texas floods. Latest victim reported was Earl Thomas, 27, a prison trustee who was sent out to "make tracks" for bloodhounds training and drowned in a flooded ravine.

Absence of further damaging rains west of the Sabine helped relieve flood threats on the Colorado, Nueces, Guadalupe, Trinity and Brazos rivers.

But families still were being evacuated in some low areas, the floods crept over bottom land fields which were in the drought disaster area only a few weeks ago, and some persons still were isolated by high water.

Police Sgt. Melvin Farrar said in Gladewater, "The Texas Co. has shut down some 60 old oil wells, and may close some more."

"The river is easing on out," he said. "Eleven families have been evacuated as a precaution, and there will be several more before it's all over with. If it keeps going, it will threaten the federal housing project, which has about 150 people living in it. People are storing stuff, and moving up town."

The main part of Gladewater is protected by levees.

Civilian Pilots Spot Sixth Fleet Near Lebanon

PARIS (INS) — Main units of the U.S. Sixth Fleet were reported sighted today by civilian airlines pilots, Agence France Presse said, about 60 miles off the Lebanese coast.

The exact whereabouts of the atomic-muscled fleet centered around the carrier Forrestal had been unknown since the fleet pulled out of French and Italian ports last week at the height of the Jordanian crisis.

AFF quoted the pilots who landed in Beirut as saying they saw the Forrestal and some 30 other units of the Mediterranean fleet off the Lebanese coast. The pilots said the ships and jet aircraft appeared to be maneuvering.

Six ships detached from the main body of the fleet and docked yesterday in Beirut for a three-day visit.

Price of Milk Drops

DETROIT (INS) — The price of milk dropped a half-cent a quart in most of the Detroit area today, reflecting a 25-cent a hundred-weight cut in the price paid farmers for whole milk.

Child Hit in Driveway, Injuries Prove Slight

Lewallen Joel Benjamin, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Benjamin, of 1224 Scott Lake Rd., Waterford Township, was hit by a car driven by Jean Mahew, of 2665 Watkins Lake Rd., Waterford Township, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Mayhew told Waterford Township police she was backing from her driveway next to the Benjamin home when Lewallen was struck.

More Revolts Due—Nixon

CHICAGO — Vice President Nixon says that last year's uprisings in Poland and Hungary were just the beginning of an internal revolt that will ultimately sweep away the Communist empire.

"The leaders of the Kremlin know their armies are not reliable," Nixon said in a speech last night.

"They realize that unrest and dissension are barely hidden in their colleges and universities. They are aware of the grumblings and doubts in the ranks of the Communist party itself."

Nixon spoke to a joint meeting of the American Jewish Committee and the Antidefamation League of B'nai B'rith.

Red Inspection Plan Exposes Vital Area

The state department had no official comment on the proposal and indicated that if any was forthcoming it would be made by Harold E. Stassen, who is representing the U. S. at the London talks.

Officials said that one hopeful indication of the possible seriousness of the Russians was that the proposal was presented formally to the meeting in London 24 hours before it was made public.

The disarmament subcommittee is made up of the representatives of the U. S., Russia, Britain, France and Canada.

The French delegate was not as reticent as the U. S. representative in commenting on the Soviet plan. He said flatly that it was unsatisfactory because the Russians did not propose opening up an area comparable to what the U. S. was asked to permit to be inspected.

The Soviet Union, being a much larger country, should permit a greater portion of its territory to be inspected, he said.

This is likely to be the U. S. position when all the studies of the new proposal are completed, but American officials are drawing what encouragement they can from the fact there is a new proposal.

PROPOSED BY IKE

The "open skies" disarmament inspection idea was first voiced by President Eisenhower at the 1955 Geneva summit conference.

The Soviets offered last year to establish a 1,000-mile-wide belt for aerial inspection along the boundaries separating East from West Europe. But the U. S. said the area was too limited because it took in no Russian territory.

Other provisions of the Russian proposal presented the conference by Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin yesterday call for:

—Establishment of control posts in the Eastern U. S. and NATO and Warsaw Pact nations.

—Divorcement of a nuclear test ban from the general disarmament question.

—Placing limits on the armed forces of the major powers.

The preliminary views of the majority of Western nations were that the Soviet proposals were worthy of detailed examination if presented as a serious basis for negotiation.

Iraq Favors Aid to Jordan as Big Step in Blocking Reds

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP)—Pro-Western Iraqis view the U. S. offer of financial aid to neighboring Jordan as necessary — and perhaps overdue — proof to the Arab world that a firm anti-Communist stand will be rewarded.

Iraq's strongly anti-Red government has often shown it fears Communist infiltration of the Arab Middle East more than out-right Soviet intervention.

Iraq has continuously sought to bring the United States into the Baghdad Pact, now embracing Britain, Iraq, Iran, Pakistan and Turkey. Short of this, Iraqi officials have urged U. S. aid — financial or otherwise — in fighting Communist subversion. The U. S. offer to Jordan would appear to be the first concrete move in this direction, said one well-placed source.

Iraq's leaders appear confident that King Hussein has control of the situation in his crisis-torn country. This confidence is bolstered by the view in Baghdad that the young King next door is following Iraq's own successful course in combating Communist subversion.

When Iraqi Premier Nuri Said cracked down on the Reds in 1954, his first step — like Hussein's — was to dissolve all political parties.

Nuri also had Iraq's young King Faisal, Hussein's cousin and friend, temporarily dissolve Parliament. Hussein has suspended his.

Last fall, during the Suez invasion, Nuri declared martial law in Iraq and this is still in force. Hussein also has taken this step. Iraqi leaders also are heartened by the closer relations apparently developing between Hussein and King Saud of Saudi Arabia. They feel that the three kingdoms of Iraq, Jordan and Saudi Arabia could develop a strong bloc against communism within the Arab world.

Closer ties between the three kingdoms also would represent a setback for Egypt's President Nasser, whose ambitions and deals with Communist countries are feared by many Iraqis.

Hussein has been in close touch with Iraqi leaders during the recent crisis and has been given assurance of Iraqi military support if needed.

Malaya will issue stamps in August to mark Merdeka Day, her day of independence, Kuala Lumpur learns.

Ford Local Members Vote Through Friday

DETROIT (AP)—Some 35,000 members were expected to cast ballots in the three-day election of officers of Ford Local 600 of the United Auto Workers union.

The polls opened at 6 a. m. today and will close at 6 p. m. Friday. Six candidates, including incumbent Carl Stellato, are in the race for local president. Stellato, a long-time opponent of UAW President Walter Reuther, is seeking his sixth term as head of the huge Ford local.

Fabulous news for fat folks! Now available for sale without prescription!

NEW APPETITE CONTROL TABLET FOR EASIER, FASTER REDUCING

Clinically tested and used by doctors with remarkable results on many patients in treatment of obesity. Works automatically to depress appetite. Lose weight you want to take off—safely, rapidly, more comfortably. Get positive results or money refunded.

It sounds almost too good to be true! Yet the miracle has been accomplished — as proved and confirmed by clinical research and tests by doctors on many overweight patients. Yes, here at long last is a truly fast, safe, effective reducing aid for fat folks... a reducing aid that really works for people who have never been able to reduce before.

Just think of it! You can take off pound after pound after pound of unwanted fat simply by taking a tiny tablet that depresses your appetite so that you eat less. Do it without the same physical and mental torture of fighting the temptation to overeat that otherwise accompanies cutting down on food.

Doctors who have prescribed this appetite control drug report their obese patients lost substantial amounts of weight — 10, 20, 30 even up to 40 pounds. Your overweight may be equally responsive to this treatment. Because of the convincing medical evidence we are so confident it can produce results for you that we dare to make this irrevocable guarantee:

You decide how much weight you want to lose. Then use these appetite control tablets as directed. They must work for you, must produce the results you desire, you must be completely satisfied OR YOU PAY NOTHING!

Here Are the Medical Facts on Why This Appetite Control Tablet Must Work for You

Your doctor will tell you there is only one sure way to reduce and that is to limit your caloric intake. In plain English: eat less. Nobody has to tell you that takes a lot of will power if you have a big, healthy appetite and find it hard to resist sweets, butter, gravy, rich desserts and other high caloric foods that are taboo when on a reducing regime.

So from time to time you've probably tried so-called reducing capsules, bulk producing pills, fat diets, exercise, massage — in fact, anything and everything that promised to take off those unwanted pounds. As you know from sad experience they did little or nothing for you. Meanwhile you had to endure constant hunger pangs and struggle to resist all the foods you love to eat. All because no reducing plan you tried could keep your appetite down. Net result of your efforts: failure and frustration.

Doctors have never recommended these ineffective, hard-to-follow methods. Instead they often prescribed such drugs as thyroid extract or amphetamine together with diets for their overweight patients. While such drugs proved effective as aids to reducing, there were unpleasant side effects, such as dizziness, headaches, nausea, nervousness and insomnia. Hence they could be used only under close medical supervision and were available only by prescription.

Cautious doctors recognized the possibilities and began the search for something that worked as well without the harmful effects. There is a well-known drug called Phenylpropionolamine, Hydrochloride — which has won widespread recognition and use in the control of symptomatic hay fever allergy and bronchial asthma. However, patients for whom this drug was prescribed often complained that it seemed to depress their appetites. Which gave some doctors an idea: why not try it as an appetite depressant for their obese patients who found it difficult to control their eating? Early tests proved highly promising. This led to more extensive and critical tests by some hospitals, clinics and individual physicians.

Since it was found devoid of stimulating effect on the central nervous system and free of objectionable side effects, it was considered safe for use without medical supervision. Hence it is now available for sale without prescription under the name of TRIMET.

Now Trimet Works Automatically to Help You Lose Weight Faster, Easier than Any Other Reducing Aid You've Ever Tried

TRIMET tablets contain no bulk producing ingredients, nothing to irritate your stomach, nothing to upset your normal routine of living. They do just one thing: help to control your appetite, which is a basic physiological principle essential to safe, rapid, effective reducing.

You take one tiny TRIMET tablet—smaller than an aspirin—a half hour before meals. At mealtime, while you enjoy every mouthful, you quickly notice that your appetite does not seem to be so ravenous. Without hardly realizing it, you stop eating before you have consumed your usual quantity. Gone is the very great temptation to overeat. All thanks to the automatic appetite controlling power of TRIMET!

Within a short time, you'll discover to your surprise and delight that

MEDICAL PROOF!

In the course of their tests doctors prescribed the basic appetite control drug found in Trimet in varying doses for their obese patients. Here are a few typical case histories as reported in medical journals:

Miss K. P. — Treated by other drugs and placed on a 1500 calorie diet. Complained of appetite and was switched to Phenylpropionolamine (the basic drug in Trimet). Four days after she had

Lost 8½ pounds

Mrs. R. S. — Weighed 178 lbs. on Jan. 4. Placed on 1600 calorie diet and treated with Thyroid and Pituitrin. On Jan. 23 complained of severe appetite. Switched to Phenylpropionolamine. Jan. 29 reported no appetite and weight at being 161 lbs.

Lost 17 pounds

Mrs. J. B. — Stated: "I have enormous appetite, eat all the time". Advised to take Phenylpropionolamine 20 minutes before each meal. No diet was prescribed. Started treatment April 12 and by June, 25 had

Lost 20 pounds

Miss S. T. — Started with Amphetamine. After 5 days complained of nervousness and insomnia. Switched to Phenylpropionolamine and 2 months later had

Lost 33½ pounds

These medical results prove that you, too, can lose weight safely, more easily, thanks to the appetite depressant effectiveness of TRIMET Tablets, even if all other reducing aids have failed you in the past.

*Doctors note: Bibliography sent upon request. Write Rhodes Pharmacol. Co., 75 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill.

TRIMET makes it easier to cut down on fattening foods. No longer have you the same great weakness for sneaking snacks between meals, the same great urge for icebox raiding at bedtime. You feel better, work better, sleep better while losing weight. And as you see the astonishing results day after day you enjoy a renewed zest for life!

The Dawn of a New Day for Unhappy Fatties

Yes, this is it! A safe, appetite depressant for overweight people who have despaired of ever finding anything that could help them. If you have been disappointed by pills, powders, fat diets, reducing candies or cookies, exercise, stomach bloating capsules... if you have failed to get promised results despite your sincere efforts and hunger pangs... TRIMET, we believe, can be the final solution to your problem.

We can't blame you for being a bit skeptical after so many past failures. But you owe it to yourself to give yourself one more opportunity. Start taking TRIMET tablets today. You can use this medically tested appetite depressing reducing aid with complete confidence in its safety. Results will convince you this is exactly the product you have always dreamed about. For the sake of your health, your appearance, your peace of mind, do it now. Get TRIMET tablets at your drug store today.

You Have Nothing to Lose But Fat. Convince Yourself with Full MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

You needn't risk one penny to find out what TRIMET can do for you. We guarantee it will do more for you than any other reducing aid you've ever used. If you don't lose a worthwhile amount of weight within a reasonable time... if you don't agree TRIMET is the fastest, easiest, most comfortable most effective appetite depressant you have ever tested, return it and get a full refund on the purchase price.

Costs Only 15c a Day

IMPORTANT!

Trimet can be safely used by any overweight person in ordinary good health

Trimet is not a dietary supplement, not a pill loaded with stomach filling cellulose to give you a false feeling of satiety. It works to help you reduce only by controlling your appetite—the safest medically approved way to lose weight. When you take Trimet before meals you start to eat less because your appetite is less, without the same amount of conscious effort that ordinarily accompanies a reducing diet. Trimet curtails your appetite, naturally, automatically. And off come pounds and inches of ugly, health-damaging fat!

Deaths Elsewhere

PHILADELPHIA — Rabbi Jerome Labovitz, 50, executive director of the Philadelphia branch of the United Synagogue of America and former executive director of the Jewish Educational Alliance of Savannah, Ga., died Monday. He was born in Minneapolis.

RICHMOND, Va. — Mrs. Virginia Buckley Cooke, 62, of Richmond and Manistee, Mich., widow of Mortimer C. Cooke of New York, died yesterday.

Women Drivers Collide at Area Intersection

Two women drivers collided at the intersection of M-59 and Telegraph road at 11 a.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Helen M. Becker, 51, of 600 Commerce St., Milford, and Priscilla L. Hamilton, 17, of 53 Church St., Clarkston, told Waterford Township police each thought she had the green light when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Becker was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with scalp lacerations, treated and released.

Firemen Stymied in Effort to Trap Attic Rattlesnake

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Mrs. Robert E. Zink was sure she heard something like a snake crawling around in her attic, so she moved in with relatives. A neighbor declined to look into her attic for her. Said he was scared, too.

Firemen put on hip boots and spent several hours watching for the snake Monday night. Nothing showed up.

Yesterday they returned. One of the men wore an asbestos suit. Sure enough it was a snake, and a rattler at that. But it slithered down into a wall.

They brought back a skin the snake had shed to prove it.

Mrs. Zink and the firemen are wondering what to do next.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — While being swung to his partner's shoulder in a rock 'n' roll demonstration at a private party, Walter Raymond Walls, 25, fell and broke his neck. He died in a hospital.

Machinists Strike Parke, Davis Co.

DETROIT — Lodge 1288 of the International Assn. of Machinists struck the Parke, Davis & Co. pharmaceutical firm today in a new contract dispute.

The union represents 300 of the company's 3,500 employees. Their contract expired at midnight last night.

A company spokesman said Parke, Davis offered a package deal including a 5 per cent general wage increase, four weeks vacation after 25 years, an additional half-holiday, increased shift premiums and improved funeral allowances.

The union said unresolved issues included wages, additional holidays and sick leave, liberalized vacations and the elimination of outside contracting. The machinists average slightly more than $2.50 an hour, the company said.

Negotiations continued between the company and Local 11-176 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers which represents 1,700 production employees.

Their contract also expired at midnight last night but no strike notice had been filed.

2 Injured in Accident Treated for Minor Cuts

Two were injured in an accident last night at W. Maple and Haggerty roads. William J. McKibbin, 21, of 1266 W. Winchester St., Detroit, and Jack Z. DeLoe, 21, of 10121 Hart St., Huntington Woods, were treated for minor cuts and bruises and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

They received the injuries when their car, which was going west on Maple road, struck one driven by Joseph A. Deimling, 46, of 2765 Benstein Rd., Walled Lake, as he pulled into Maple road from Haggerty road, said Oakland County deputy reports.

General Electric Walkout Ends

20,500 Return to Work After Company, Union Agree to Arbitration

LYNN, Mass. (AP)—A decision to arbitrate differences has ended a five-day strike that idled 20,500 working on defense contracts at the five Lynn and Everett plants of General Electric Co.

The factories make jet engine parts and steam turbines.

A committee of 15 clergymen summoned management and union negotiators to try for a quick settlement of the strike.

The grievances, now to be sent to arbitration, involved compulsory overtime, suspension of a shop steward and company policy of employee transfers. The union involved is the International Union of Electrical Workers.

Meanwhile, a General Electric work stoppage went into its seventh day at plants at Hudson Falls, N. Y., and nearby Fort Edwards, N. Y. The plants employ about 1,625 workers. Of that number, the United Electrical Workers Union (independent) claims to represent 725 production workers.

Members of the union's Local 332 voted 395-346 to continue a strike yesterday.

The New York plants make electric motors and capacitors for fluorescent lights. The work stoppage grew out of a dispute over reduction of piecework parts in one department.

Birthplace of H.S.T. Purchased by UAW

LAMAR, Mo. (INS) — The birthplace of Harry S. Truman — a small white frame house in Lamar — was purchased today by the United Auto Workers Union which plans to make it a shrine to Missouri's first president.

was sold to the union for $6,000 by owner Mrs. Everett Earp, widow of the nephew of famed Marshall Wyatt Earp.

The house, framed by a white picket fence, has been marked by a sign since Truman became President.

Russell Letner of St. Louis, Midwest Regional UAW Director, and John E. Rinkenbaugh of Kansas City, represented the union at the sale.

IONIA (AP) — In one day Ionia County Supervisor Bernard Ardis had telephone calls notifying him of the death of three relatives and a fourth call that an aunt had fallen and broken both hips. Calls on the deaths of two aunts and an uncle were made to Ardis within the space of two hours.

George Washington died at the age of 68.

India Searches for Oil and Gas

Romanian Crew Sinks Test Well in Foothills of Himalayas

romanian drill biting into the earth of the Himalayan foothills has embarked India on an ambitious government search for oil and gas.

"This is the beginning of a great venture," Prime Minister Nehru messaged the drillers.

India plans to spend more than 300 million rupees (63 million dollars) to hunt oil during the second five-year plan, started in April 1956.

Areas of eastern India, Bengal and Assam—which have India's only producing field—still are staked out for private enterprise. The government will control the rest of the country and take the profits, if any.

India is calling on several nations, both Communist and non-Communist, to help in the big search.

A Romanian crew ran the drill which began turning near Jawalamukhi, a hill town in the Himalayan foothills.

All officials warned against over optimism. It is only a test well. India's production is less than three million barrels a year, a drop in the world's oil bucket.

India spends 750 million rupees (almost 158 million dollars) in foreign exchange each year for petroleum products.

American and British oil companies cooperated in a program to train technicians. Experts from Romania, Soviet Russia, the United States, Britain, Canada and West Germany have given help.

The Soviet Union drew up the oil exploration program to fit India's second five-year plan. Three Russian crews, with Russian drilling rigs, will start work soon.

Politician's Daughter Still on Critical List

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New York congressman's daughter who reportedly shot herself in a downtown hotel yesterday remained in critical condition today.

Police said Mrs. Malcolm Hurn, 27-year-old daughter of Rep. William B. Williams (R-NY), locked herself in a ladies room of the hotel and shot herself in the abdomen with a .22-caliber rifle.

Mrs. Williams told newsmen her daughter had been depressed and under medical care for several months. She said the young woman was married April 2 to Malcolm Hurn, a Utica, N. Y., advertising man.

Mrs. Hurn had been employed both in Utica and Washington offices of her father, who has represented New York's 24th Dist. since 1951.

Gas Workers, Gulf Reach Agreement

DETROIT (AP)—Representatives of the Gulf Refining Co. and Local 289 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers union today announced an agreement in a labor dispute that shut down the company's Detroit area plants almost two months ago.

Ratification of agreement was scheduled for today. If the agreement is ratified, it will end the last of strikes against seven major gasoline and fuel oil companies supplying the Detroit area.

Hyman Parker, state labor mediator, who aided in a 12-hour negotiating session culminating in the agreement, said the settlement followed the pattern of earlier agreements with the other oil companies.

The workers will receive 5 per cent pay increases, 2½ days' pay for holidays, four week vacations for 20-year employees and eight paid holidays a year.

Dump Problem Solved

DETROIT (AP)—The problem of where to dump Detroit's vast quantities of industrial waste is being solved with transport of the material as fill for a Canadian real estate development on Peche Island. A Detroit engineering firm which contracted for the work estimated that a million cubic yards of waste will have been dumped by the end of the year. The project will require 5,000,000 cubic yards of fill.

KEEP YOUR FACE YOUTHFUL

One question asked of us each week is: "What can I do for my aging face?" The answer is: "A little more care." Nature has given you a beautiful face, but it must be kept in good condition. It brings to the face the material it needs for repair and renewal, and carries away the waste. To keep your face in good condition, you must keep it clean and free of dirt. This is accomplished by exercise and massage. Making faces is good for muscle tone and stretching the skin. Exercise is good for the face. Raise chin high in the air and lift head from side to side. To make this one more effective lie on your back on the bed raising your head an inch and turn it from side to side. Drop head back over the edge of bed and raise. Massage should be daily and don't worry about tanning the facial muscles; you can bunch, push, shove and pinch the flesh of the neck and face until it glows and only good will come of it. If you do it daily the muscle tone of your face and neck will gradually improve. Your skin will take on a velvet smoothness. Be careful avoid any moles.

'Free Expression' Hard on Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The letter says, "My 5-year-old grandson is being raised by the modern theory of 'free expression.' Two days ago, he insulted an old friend of mine he had met for the first time.

"When she offered to untangle a string for him that had gotten snarled in a toy, he told her to go home — that he didn't like her. His mother justified this by calling it his 'honesty.' What do you think of such 'training'?"

I think it is pretty hard on the little boy.

If his parents continue to encourage such uncontrolled expression, he is going to attract more criticism than his 5-year-old confidence can take.

One of these days his "honesty" will provoke somebody else to a "free expression" of resentment that will shock him rather cruelly. Such an experience could end, not only in distrust of his parents' ability to protect him, but in rejection of honesty as a reliable quality.

It's unfortunate that the theorists of "free expression" ever suggested that a child's emotional health depends on his "doing" or "saying" anything he feels. Because it isn't true.

FALSIFIED FEELINGS

His emotional health, like ours depends not on telling other people what he feels but on his knowing what he feels. It is when we make him falsify his feelings that the moral damage is done—when we make him PRETEND to like Grandma's friend when he doesn't like her.

So long as we respect his right to dislike her, we can ask him to refrain from expressing the feeling when the expression is unwise.

So what we might say to this little boy who must learn when silence is golden is this: "It is all right for you to dislike Grandma's friend. It is all right for you to wish she'd go home."

"But it was unwise to tell her so. It just started her disliking you and wishing you'd go home. So unless you want to be disliked yourself, don't tell strangers you don't like them."

Parents who refuse to put any controls on a child's free expression, whether it be a wagging tongue or a kicking foot, are self-motivated by interest in his honesty.

They are far more interested in using him to express their own resentments of conventional authority. Not daring to defy it themselves, they take a second-hand satisfaction in the child's defiance of it. They themselves are victims of emotional dishonesty.

Want Your Clothes to Look Expensive?

Paris fashion experts suggest avoiding certain styles when buying cheaper clothes, to avoid a "cheap" look. Do not buy draped dresses, since draping must be done expertly and fitted to your individual figure in order to look well.

Also avoid eccentric prints, which are rarely elegant. Choose plain fabrics that are what they say they are rather than imitations of expensive clothes.

MR. and MRS. JAMES A. DUBRE

Sally LeBarge Becomes Bride in St. Michael Rite

Honeymooning at Niagara Falls following their marriage Saturday are Mr. and Mrs. James Allen Dubre. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Joseph Immel in St. Michael Church at 10 a.m.

The bride, the former Sally LaBarge, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. LaBarge of East Tennyson avenue. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Merchant of Elizabeth Lake road.

For her wedding Sally wore a gown of tissue satin fashioned with a basque waist and full skirt that fell into a chapel sweep.

Venetian lace edged the scooped neckline and the short sleeves of the gown. Floating panels accented the sides of the skirt.

A pill-box headpiece of sequin and seed pearls held Sally's finger-top veil of silk illusion. Her bridal bouquet was of carnations, daisies and snapdragons.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS

Attending the bride were Dorothy Burch as maid of honor and Nancy, Cathy and Judy LaBarge, her sisters, as bridesmaids. Their ballerina-length gowns of dotted swiss were in yellow, pink, blue and orchid, respectively.

Their tiny nose veils were secured to matching crown-style headpieces. Each carried a basket of spring flowers in shades that matched her gown.

Ronald Wilhelm served as best man. Seating the guests were Floyd Weiss, Douglas LaBarge and Leroy Mirovsky.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. LaBarge chose a gown of gray lace over pink taffeta with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Merchant's choice was a gray and pink print with blue accessories. Her corsage was also of pink roses and white carnations.

An evening reception was held at Amvets Hall.

School Aid Gets Close Scrutiny

House Committee Sees Long Discussion Ahead; Fears Federal Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—A two-billion-dollar school construction bill came up today for close scrutiny by the House Education Committee.

Chairman Barden (D-NC) said he expected members would "have a lot of questions to ask" and he had no idea how long the committee would work on the measure.

In preliminary discussion before Congress took its Easter recess, some Southern members expressed fear of federal control.

In addition, some economy-minded congressmen have doubted that the government should start a new spending program to add to a record peacetime budget.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, listed several bills yesterday which he said would not be taken up by that body until the House completed action on them. One of the measures he mentioned was the school aid bill.

The school measure, as approved by subcommittee, would authorize:

1. A five-year program of 400 million dollars in annual grants to the states to help build public schools.

2. A 750-million-dollar fund for government purchase of school construction bonds of local communities unable to market their bonds otherwise at reasonable interest rates.

3. Federal advances of funds up to a total of 150 million dollars to state school financing agencies.

FEPC Voices Protest to Slashes in Budget

LANSING (AP)—Proposed budget cuts will mean cutting its educational program and slowing the processing of complaints, the state Fair Employment Practices Commission complained yesterday.

The commission asked for $229,247, had $207,381 recommended by Gov. Williams and is earmarked for $137,928 under the proposed Republican budget.

The commission reported that 15 claims of discrimination in employment were adjusted since its last meeting and 17 cases were dismissed on the basis of insufficient evidence.

Mrs. Wheaton Starts Press Post Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Anne Wheaton, back from a vacation, takes over her new job today as associate press secretary in the White House. She is the first woman to serve in the post.

No formal ceremonies were scheduled for the occasion.

Mrs. Wheaton will occupy the executive wing office previously used by Murray Snyder, now in a top Defense Department press post.

A former newspaperwoman from Utica, N.Y., Mrs. Wheaton has been director of women's publicity for the Republican National Committee.

Woman Electrocuted While Watering Garden

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Thompson, 26, was electrocuted while watering her garden. Sheriff's deputies said her wet feet touched an electric wire strung by her husband to keep the dog out of flower beds.

Detective Sgt. Ray Hopkinson said the husband, Neil, had hitched the wire to a series of 60-watt bulbs, believing that would cut voltage down to a harmless level.

Pair Discover Blonde Lolling in Their Bed

NEW YORK (AP)—A Bronx baker and his wife found a blonde barmaid lolling in their bed yesterday. She was munching a cracker and enjoying a fruit cocktail.

The baker, Edward Hennessey, 30, and his wife, Betty, 26, returned to their apartment after a long weekend on Long Island, walked into the bedroom and there was the shapely stranger propped up in bed.

She was wearing Mrs. Hennessey's lounging robe.

"What are you doing here?" the astonished couple blurted.

The blonde casually dipped up a spoonful of fruit and nibbled thoughtfully on the cracker.

"I'm tired," she said.

Finally she finished and stood up.

"I'll think I'll get dressed now," she said. "If you'll just step out of the room."

The nonplussed couple stepped out.

In a few minutes the blonde came out, wished the Hennesseys good night and said: "I'm going now."

But Hennessey grabbed her and his wife called police.

Police said she identified herself as Marion Darmanin, 23, an unemployed barmaid. She told them she entered the apartment via a dumbwaiter earlier in the day because she was hungry and had no money.

She was booked on a burglary charge.

Catfish in Cotton Patch

EDCOUCH, Tex. (AP)—Ray Guinn went out in his cotton patch and caught six catfish on a hook and line. He said he didn't know whether they were "adventurous catfish" that swam in from a flooded canal after weekend rains or displaced catfish dumped by a small tornado.

Pink Bloomers Conceal Two Stolen Suits

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Austin Ashton Jr., 37, was taken into court on a shoplifting charge. There his topcoat was flipped open, revealing a pair of spacious pink bloomers strapped around him.

Two store officials testified that Ashton was poking two suits (men's, price $70 apiece) into the bloomers when he was spotted.

The magistrate held him on $5,000 bail for court action.

Trio Arrested in Raid on Still

Discovered on Farm in St. Clair County After 18-Month Search

PORT HURON (AP) — Three men were arrested last night in a raid on what federal agents said was the biggest still to be discovered in Michigan since 1938.

Charles R. Peterson and Leonard Coker, of the Chicago office of the Federal Alcohol and Tax Commission, led the raid on the still found on a farm near Yale in northwest St. Clair County.

Coker said the still had a capacity of 7,000 gallons.

Arrested and held in the St. Clair County jail on liquor law violation charges were William DiNardi, 34, of Yale, Ralph J. Orzel, 23, of Detroit and Thomas Bounce, 42, of Detroit.

Coker said DiNardi, owner of the farm, was arrested at the time of the raid. Orzel and Bounce were arrested shortly after when they approached the farm.

St. Clair County sheriff's deputies and state police aided in an 18 months investigation which uncovered the location of the still, Coker said.

He said the still was concealed in an artificial hayloft in the barn.

DiNardi, Orzel and Bounce were to be arraigned today.

They're Cheaper by the Dozen—Refugees Taken

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Mama Czapar got more than she bargained for when she and her husband agreed to sponsor a Hungarian refugee family.

At the railroad station the other night, a Hungarian family of six stepped off the train. Then two more Hungarians, both men. Then a couple with two children. All 12 were bound for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Czapar.

The Czaps, none of whose relatives escaped from Hungary, agreed to the extra family of four at the last minute because the Catholic Relief Service said the child has asthma and needs the climate of the Southwest.

One family is living in a house owned by the Czaps, the other with Mrs. Czapar's daughter, the two men with the Czaps themselves.

"We always got room for one more," said Mrs. Czapar. "Besides, we own a grocery store."

Friendly Restaurant Houses Small Riot

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — They call it the Friendly Restaurant, and the management is pretty proud of that reputation. Yesterday began as did every other day, everybody real friendly.

Then, according to testimony in Magistrate Court, pleasantries among a couple of groups of men and girls turned to jeers and then to even worse. Saucers, plates and salt shakers whistled back and forth.

A police sergeant tried to break it up. He took a beating. Somebody sent out what amounted to a riot call. That brought 14 more policemen. They put an end to the fight.

Six men were charged with disorderly conduct but eventually were discharged by Magistrate M. Philip Freed.

'Scared' Groom Flees, Bride Gets Annulment

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A groom pecked his bride off only an hour on the cheek, whispered "I'm scared" and left for his mother's home in Lake County. That was in 1954.

The bride, Mrs. Sherry (Sherry) Martinez, told Superior Court Judge Ben Currier that so far as she knows her husband still is on the solo honeymoon.

"I guess some men are just mama's boys," said Sherry.

The judge granted an annulment.

Operates on Zoo Tiger

DALLAS (AP) — A 350-pound Bengal tiger named Princess was reported today after a Caesarean operation. Princess, who lives at the Marsalis Zoo, lost her two kittens but came through the operation in good condition. Dr. Jack Brundrett, zoo veterinarian, performed the surgery.

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov assured a vast May Day gathering in Moscow's Red Square today that Russian military forces have "all the modern means of combat necessary to rout any aggressor."

Zhukov also accused the West of "craving powers of rejecting Soviet peace bids and charged the United States with bringing war nearer by deciding "to station atomic units on territories of other countries."

But much of his speech, broadcast by Moscow radio, was filled with protestations of the Kremlin's peaceful desires and pleas for peaceful coexistence.

As usual, the Kremlin parade some of its military might, through the square while jet fighters and bombers zoomed overhead.

Foreigners were banned from taking pictures of the parade, leading to speculation in Moscow that the Soviets might unveil something new in military weapons. The broadcast did not indicate whether this was done.

The broadcast said leaders of the Soviet Communist party and government reviewed the parade from atop the Lenin-Stalin mausoleum in the square but did not give the names of those present.

In his speech, Zhukov said: "Following Lenin's principles of peaceful coexistence, the Soviet government is persistently pursuing a peaceful foreign policy and is doing its utmost to ease international tension. The Soviet Union is an ardent champion of peace and friendship among all peoples. We are against the policy of a cold war, against military blocs."

He added, however, that the Soviet people consider it their duty, "in reply to the aggressive intrigues of the imperialist circles, incessantly to increase the fighting capacity of their troops which form part of the (Communist bloc) armed forces set up in conformity with the Warsaw Treaty

On relations with the West, Zhukov said: "Our proposals for a reduction of the armed forces, for the suspension of the tests of nuclear weapons and their prohibition, and for the extension of international economic and cultural relations reflect the vital interests of all mankind."

But the imperialist circles, headed by the reactionary forces of the U.S.A., stubbornly reject these proposals of the Soviet Union.

"Striving to create regimes which suit them and through which they would be able to conduct their reactionary policy, the imperialists are trying by every means to split the Socialist camp and weaken its power.

"Pursuing a policy of restoration of the old colonial system, they are doing everything to isolate the Arab countries from each other and to break their will in their struggle for independence."

Arlene Dahl Sues Movie Firm Says Photos Go Too Far

NEW YORK (AP) — Red-haired screen siren Arlene Dahl says promotion pictures for her latest movie are too revealing for a respectable actress like herself.

The shapely star made a demure appearance in State Supreme Court yesterday. She testified as trial opened in her million-dollar damage suit against Columbia Pictures Corp.

Her handsome husband, actor Fernando Lamas, was a spectator.

Miss Dahl, 31, alleges the movie firm pasted up composite advertising shots showing her pretty head attached to some other woman's scantily clad body. The pictures were for the film "Wicked as They Come."

She is charging libel and invasion of privacy in the suit on grounds that the pictures are "obscene, degrading and offensive."

"Any decent, self-respecting woman would object to these composite ads told Justice Henry Clay Greenberg. "The movie people shouldn't be allowed to go so far."

Commented the judge: "I don't think you ought to take it on yourself to reform the motion picture industry."

An attorney for Columbia showed Miss Dahl 20 other pictures of her and asked what she thought of them. She described them as "leg art" and "candid shots" but didn't object to them.

Greenberg asked if she desired to be considered a "refined, de-

Drop Commerce Rezoning Request

After Public Protests Track

Developers' Spokesman Considers Public Wishes in Transaction

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The request for the rezoning of property in Commerce Township to permit construction of a race track was rescinded today by Edward A. Beaupre, real estate broker representing the developers.

In making the announcement, Beaupre declared that the action was taken because of the strong public opposition to a proposed race track. This opposition was voiced by 150 township residents at a public hearing held Monday night in Commerce Township Hall.

"I feel it is an obligation of a businessman to consider the public's wishes in a transaction of this scope," Beaupre said.

"It is evident that public sentiment outweighs the advantages of financial revenue to Commerce Township from a business of this type."

The Commerce Township Zoning Board has cancelled a public hearing scheduled for May 20 at Walled Lake Senior High School.

The property under discussion is located south of Oakley Park road, at Haggerty road in Commerce Township.

It is now classified as agricultural. The rezoning request had asked for a heavy industrial classification.

Keego Scouts Slate 'Feast' for Families

KEEGO HARBOR — Members of the Girl Scout and Brownie troops of the Roosevelt school will serve their families a "May Day Feast" tonight at 6 o'clock at the school.

Each girl is to fix her contribution for a pot luck supper and be responsible for the dishes and silver for her family to use.

The girl scout troop is a newly formed group and is under the leadership of Mrs. W. F. Fuller and Mrs. William Sturgeon. Leaders of the Brownies are Mrs. Charlotte McGinzie, Darlene Mathews, Mrs. Edward Penney and Mrs. R. A. Griffen.

Each troop will give a demonstration of what they have learned during their meetings, as part of the program.

Rochester Auxiliary Forms Service Guild

ROCHESTER — A new organization called the Wesleyan Service Guild, an auxiliary of the WSCS of the Methodist Church, has been formed at the Methodist parsonage on Romeo road and will henceforth be a part of the program of St. Paul Church.

Fourteen members formed this new organization which is made up of full time employed women. At their next meeting at the home of Mrs. Ralph Bentley, 247 Rockdale on May 23, at 8 p.m., a slate of officers will be chosen and a program of activity discussed.

Romeo Couple Married in Candlelight Service

ROMEO — Judith Ann Hough and Kenneth John Battani exchanged marriage vows in the living room of her parents' home at 3 o'clock Saturday before the fireplace decorated with palms, carnations and snapdragons. The Rev. Thomas Toy of the First Congregational Church, Chelsea, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Hough. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Battani.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk tulle with modified V neckline, lace flowers with iridescent sequins attached to each shoulder and chapel train. The shirred bodice, drop waistline and buttons down the back were other designer details.

The bride's long sleeves ended in points over her hands. Her double fingertip veil was held by a lace Juliet cap with open crown edged with seed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Marilyn Lein of Ann Arbor. Katherine Elliott of Detroit was the bride's only other attendant.

Best man was the bride's brother, James Porter Hough. Seating the guests were Charles Bainton and Hal Carlin, both of Lake Orion.

A buffet supper for close friends and relatives was held in the Hough home on Fisher road after the ceremony.

The newlyweds are residing at 174 S. Bellevue Dr., Lake Orion.

Council Gets Largest Budget in Royal Oak

ROYAL OAK — A tentative budget of $3,739,086 for 1937-38 has been presented to the city council here, the largest in Royal Oak's history.

City manager E. M. Shafter said it would cost the average home owner about $3 more in city taxes if the budget is approved without major change.

This is $238,649 more than the 1936-37 budget.

A tax rate of $12.25 for each $1,000 assessed valuation will be required to meet the city's assessed valuations of $178,661,320.

Of that amount, $2,184,586 must be raised by property taxes.

Among other things the increased budget will cover an additional $163,508 for city employees pay and the hiring of new employees; an increase of $19,416 to the employee retirement system; an increase of $9,000 for rubbish disposal and $562,500 to the police department.

McLeod Questioned on Qualifications

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department security chief Scott McLeod was recalled today by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee for more questioning on his nomination as ambassador to Ireland.

Democrats on the committee expressed little enthusiasm for the appointment. But there was no indication that it would arouse enough opposition to forestall his confirmation when it reaches the Senate floor.

McLeod, onetime administrative assistant to Sen. Bridges (R-NH), began his testimony yesterday after the committee voted quick and unanimous approval of the nomination of Charles E. (Chip) Bohlen as ambassador to the Philippines.

'Impossible' Straits Bridge Almost Ready

BY A. F. MAHAN JR.
ST. IGNACE (AP) — Michigan has begun its final dash to bridge the Straits of Mackinac, where once people said no structure could be built that would withstand the stormy winds and winter's tremendous ice pressures.

One of the wonder bridges of the world, the Mackinac Straits Bridge is scheduled to open to traffic Nov. 1, although the final finishing touches won't come until mid-1958.

The straits of vagrant and violent currents divide Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas and connect Lakes Michigan and Huron. The stupendousness of the structure that will bridge the gap makes one gape.

On April 20 steel — big steel — is scheduled to move out by barge to be fitted into the last approach spans to suspension towers that reach 552 feet above the water and 200 feet below it. To weld the tower steel 1,740,000 rivets were driven.

HIGH ABOVE WATER
The height above water is as tall as Michigan's tallest building, the 47-story Penobscot in Detroit. Total tower height is only 40 feet less than New York's Woolworth building, once the world's highest.

On May 22 the first of 86 120-foot sections of the suspension span is slated to go out for placement. Each is 68 feet wide and 38 feet deep. When their overlaps are connected workmen will have used around a million high tensile bolts on them and approach spans.

The suspension span will hang from 2-foot thick cables already in place and each made up of 12,876 strong wires. In all, the wire wound into the cables would be enough to tie around the world at the equator and make a generous bow: 41,000 miles.

From cable anchorage to cable anchorage, the Mackinac Bridge will dwarf any other in the world. The distance between anchorages is 8,614 feet, compared with 6,450 for San Francisco's Golden Gate. Mackinac's overall suspension will measure 7,400 feet, compared with 6,540. Between towers however, the Golden Gate is 4,200 feet; the Mackinac 3,800.

The concrete Mackinac anchorage piers, 115-by-135 feet, reach up 118 feet from bedrock. Half as large as a city block and as tall as a 10-story building they weigh 145,000 tons and take the strains of the cables.

The Mackinac's suspension takes off 138 feet above the straits and arches normally to 155 feet in the center, but winter's contraction of metal will lower the center seven feet and summer's heat rise it as much.

Including approaches, the bridge

Low Income Bracket Would Get $700 Exemptions

Sen. Byrd Urges Reductions in Taxes Based on Budget Cutback to '55 Level

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today that if Congress would cut President Eisenhower's spending budget back to 1955 levels it could reduce taxes $6,355,000,000.

"It is possible we cannot reach the 1955 level in the coming year," he said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, "but we can work toward that goal."

Calling Eisenhower's proposed $71,800,000,000 outlay for the fiscal year beginning July 1 "the most irresponsible budget submitted in my day," Byrd said Congress' goal should be a return to the $64,600,000,000 spent in the year beginning July 1, 1954.

If that level could be reached, the Virginia senator said, there also could be a payment of two billion dollars on the national debt.

Byrd, who heads the Senate Finance Committee, broke down his tax reduction proposals this way: Lower income bracket—an increase from $600 to $700 in income tax exemptions, saving all taxpayers a total of $2,800,000,000.

Middle income bracket — Revisions in bracket rates with a consequent one-billion-dollar tax cut. High income bracket—Reduction in the maximum rate from 91 to 65 per cent, saving 225 million dollars.

Corporations—Reduction in the present maximum of 52 per cent tax to 50 per cent, an $30-million-dollar reduction.

Small business — A "complex amendment" he did not explain which would cut 500 million dollars off the tax burden.

Excises—Reduction of a billion dollars "in the most burdensome excise taxes."

Byrd said as far as he is concerned any tax cut will "depend upon expenditure reductions sufficient to assure a balanced budget."

Holding out little hope for a tax cut this year, Byrd said an over-

City Dump Yields Find

is 5 miles and 44 feet long, and by en route from the Canadian border at Sault Ste. Marie across It will funnel U.S. 31, U.S. 23 Michigan's upper peninsula to and U.S. 27 from Mackinaw City Wisconsin. The bridge's four traffic lanes could handle a maximum of 6,000 cars an hour, and it'll be open year around.

The Mackinac Bridge Authority, a public agency created by the legislature is building it with $99,800,000 in revenue bonds to which only tolls are pledged. The state, however, has voted to allocate $417,000 annually for maintenance and operation.

Despite its massiveness, some still ask: "Yes, but is it safe? Will it stand the wind and ice?" To which its designer, David B. Steinman of New York, an internationally known bridge designer, replies: "It will be the safest in the world."

What would happen if a big steamship crashed into the steel-encased concrete tower piers or anchorages?" says the authority: "The boat would probably sustain severe damage."

Will it sway? "Not so a person driving over it would notice."

"Because the public had been alarmed by unscientific claims that no structure could withstand the ice pressure at the straits," Steinman said, "We added a further generous margin of ultra-safety."

He explained the highest maximum ice pressure ever obtained in the field was 21,000 pounds per lineal foot of pier width, while the highest producible in a laboratory is 23,000 pounds.

"So," he added, "We multiplied this higher figure by five and we designed the piers to be safe for a hypothetical, impossible ice pressure of 115,000 pounds per lineal foot."

Aerodynamically, Dr. Steinman says, no wind possibly could blow the bridge down.

Alcohol Center Seeks Director

Growing Use Requires Full-Time Employee for City Hall Office

The Pontiac Alcoholism Information Center is seeking to employ a full-time director because of increased use of the center.

"It has been growing and growing so that it requires a full-time leader," said Mrs. Frances Kessler, a member of the City Health Dept. who presently doubles as director of the center.

Pontiac city commissioners last night approved the move which will, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman, raise the city's share to about $4,800 yearly to support the center. It has been $3,250, he said.

Since the center was opened April 1956, the city and the state has shared its cost under a grant by the State Board of Alcoholism, and matching city funds.

With the city approval, Dr. John D. Monroe, acting head of the city department, will seek similar acceptance from the state.

The center, in the basement of the City Hall, offers advice to alcoholics and their relatives and others with lesser problems related to drinking. There is no charge for the service.

Dem Chairman Dispels Rumors

Butler Denies Intention to Quit Post, Hits 'Rift With Rayburn' Gossip

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler disclosed today that he has "absolutely no intention" of resigning his post and will delay until next year his decision whether to run for the Indiana Senate seat of GOP incumbent William Jenner.

Butler, on the eve of the full-dress National Committee meeting reported that he has lost the support of speaker Sam Rayburn and will be ousted from the chairmanship.

"Sam Rayburn is the best friend I have in Washington," Butler told this correspondent. "He is backing me to the hilt. So are most of the national committeemen."

Fireworks are anticipated at the upcoming meetings which will bring former President Truman, titular party leader Adlai Stevenson and most Democratic governors to Washington.

At a $100-a-plate dinner Saturday night, the featured gubernatorial speaker will be Michigan's G. Mennen (Soapy) Williams, who is anathema to Southern Democrats because of his strong backing from AFL-CIO Vice President Walter Butler said he expects a stormy three-day session over Dixie Sen. John McClellan's maneuver to tack a right-to-work rider on pending civil rights legislation.

Humphrey Confers With Nasser; 'Not Pessimistic' Over Mideast

Butler Denies Intention to Quit Post, Hits 'Rift With Rayburn' Gossip

CAIRO (INS) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) says he is "not pessimistic" about the danger of war breaking out in the troubled Middle East.

"The major powers don't want to engage in a suicidal war and there is not much chance of the smaller countries doing so," Humphrey told reporters last night after he talked almost three hours with President Nasser.

Humphrey, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on the Near East, is making a fact-finding tour of the area. He arrived in Cairo Monday.

The senator said he and Ambassador Raymond Hare were received "hospitably and courteously" at the Egyptian President's family home on the outskirts of Cairo and that the talk ranged over everything from Egypt's domestic program and future plans to Soviet arms deliveries, the Suez Canal and Egyptian-Israeli relations.

"I did not detect any note of belatedness or arrogance about anything on the part of Nasser," Humphrey said. "I found a man willing to talk freely about all problems."

The senator said he told Nasser the United States "wants to see tranquility and peace in the Middle East" and that the American attitude "always was and will continue to be in opposition to colonialism."

Humphrey said he also emphasized that the United States

"didn't seek to dominate in the Middle East but to cooperate."

He added that he came away from his talk with Nasser with these impressions of Nasser's viewpoint:

"The two main developments which have caused 'misunderstanding' between the United States and Egypt were America's withdrawal of financial aid offered for building the Aswan Dam and the manner in which it was done, and U. S. blocking of Egyptian funds which Nasser said were being used especially to buy wheat and medicines."

Humphrey said Egypt was desperately in need of wheat until it was supplied by Russia. He added that he hoped the "supply of food would be subject to review by the United States if Egypt wants it."

"Unhappy but not bitter" was the way Humphrey summed up Nasser's attitude about present Egyptian-U. S. relations.

Humphrey leaves tomorrow for Lebanon.

These findings were reported to the California Medical Assn. by a group of investigators headed by Dr. L. S. Goerke, assistant dean of the Public Health School of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The electrocardiogram had a batting average of only 29.3 percent in diagnosing heart disease in normal people who were found to have suspicious signs. It showed abnormal readings in 249 persons who later were found to have no heart trouble.

The study included X-ray examinations which showed 688 of the group had abnormal heart shadows but further tests determined that 544 of them had no cardiac trouble. Thirty months later 60 of these 544 had either heart disease or potential cardiac trouble or were dead. Not all of these deaths, however, were from heart causes.

Dr. Goerke said the tests indicated the prevalence of heart disease among the general population is 73 per 1,000 persons.

The commemorative exhibit has been set up in the main rotunda of New York's Pennsylvania Station. It depicts the history and growth of the industry since 1857.

The importance of the Kelly-Bessemer discoveries is shown by the immediate rise in American steel production. During the 33 years after 1857, annual production of Bessemer Steel had reached 2.8 million tons. The U. S. had become the world's greatest steel producer, a distinction it still holds.

The American Iron and Steel Institute, which is sponsoring the commemorative activities, noted that Kelly and Bessemer filed separate patents. Kelly contested Bessemer's American rights, and convinced the U. S. commissioner that he had earlier invented the process at his Eddyville, Kentucky, iron works.

But Bessemer was the better

NEW YORK (INS) — America's huge steel industry opens an exhibit in New York today commemorating the discovery that made possible the modern industrial world.

It was 100 years ago, in 1857, that William Kelly, an American, and Sir Henry Bessemer, an Englishman, patented their similar discoveries of how to make steel in large, economical quantities by blowing cold air through molten iron.

Italian Consul Fears Missing Son Dead

Count Barattieri Said He Believes His Son Would Have Returned Home By This Time If He Were Alive

CHICAGO (INS) — Italian Consul General Count Ludovico Barattieri said last night he fears that he may never see his missing 14-year-old son alive again.

The boy, Vittorio, has been missing since April 16 when he left home at 7:15 a. m., to attend classes at Loyola Academy in Chicago.

Count Barattieri said he believes his son would have returned home by this time if he were alive. The father said:

"We fear we may never see him again."

Count Barattieri said he places no credence in a theory that Vittorio had gone to the water skiing spa of Cypress Gardens, Fla. The Count said his son was not adept at the sport and had taken only six water skiing lessons.

DETROIT (INS) — Paul Silver, president of United Auto Workers Local 351 will try today to persuade employees of Detroit's Squa D Company to return to their jobs while grievances are processed through collective bargaining machinery.

The plant has been closed since last Thursday as the result of disciplinary action taken against 30 to 40 employees for their part in a wildcat strike.

Dr. White Flies to Aid of Lebanese Premier

ROME (INS) — Famed Boston heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White made an emergency change of plans yesterday and flew from Rome directly to Beirut to exam- ine ailing Lebanese Premier Sami El-Soh.

The 67-year-old premier, who is the most moderate and pro-Western of the Moslem leaders in tiny Lebanon, was stricken Sunday with pneumonia and possible heart complications.

White originally was scheduled to visit Turkey and later fly on to Beirut, but shifted his plans after receiving a message at Rome's Ciampino airport. He told newsmen he changed his schedule to visit Solh "as soon as possible."

Solh was reported to be out of danger.
