Outline Future Plan for Pontiac General

By PETE LOCHBILER

With the Pontiac General Hospital financial picture brightening this month, James Clarkson, chairman of the board of trustees, has outlined a three-point fiscal program aimed at keeping the hospital out of the red next year.

Occupancy is now at the highest point this year and, as a result, operating costs are reaching a more profitable level, trustees were told last night by Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator.

"We are still existing on a hand-to-mouth basis, so to speak," Euler cautioned, "but I can see a definite ray of hope now."

Another development reported that might ease hospital financing from the point of view of City Hall.

Euler said that he and City Manager Walter K. Willman are arranging a hearing early in November with the Detroit Area Hospital Council on a bid for a $300,000 grant to help cover unexpected repair costs in the building expansion program.

Clarkson said accomplishment of his fiscal program was his "major aim" during his coming year as board chairman. The three-point program calls for:

- 1—A balanced budget for the first time since hospital finances were thrown out of kilter by the building program in 1956.
- 2—A new, modern accounting system that can keep hospital records current and up to date on a daily basis, "eliminating guesswork and theory" about finances.
- 3—The cost of operations must be brought into "proper proportion" so that it will be comparable to other hospitals in the Pontiac area.

Clarkson said these objectives "have got to be accomplished by us during the coming year. There is no question about this in my mind."

If accomplished, Clarkson said, the hospital would find itself in a position to begin rebuilding the cash reserves which today are non-existent.

"The utopia we are striving for is to be in position to fund depreciation, which means having actual cash on hand to draw upon when old equipment breaks down or new, modern equipment is desirable."

Clarkson warned, however, that hospital finances will remain in serious trouble next year unless the expansion program is completed.

"The completed building program would add 182 beds to the hospital and these would provide the cream of our revenues," Clarkson said.

Clouding the picture at present are extra costs to repair worn-out heating, plumbing and electrical installations in the old hospital building where the 152 beds would be located.

To meet the extras, the hospital and city are trying to cancel remodeling contracts and proceed with repairs on a time-and-material basis. Euler reported last night that contractors are still studying how much financial credit to allow the hospital if present contracts are canceled.

He said there was no assurance that the Detroit Area Hospital Council would be able to help the hospital out, but believed that it was worth while for the city to attempt to get a grant.

The city has held off forming a definite plan to raise money for the extra repairs until a final decision on their cost.

TV Quizzer '21' Dropped, Victim of 'Fix' Charges

NEW YORK (AP)—The NBC television quiz show "21" was discontinued after Thursday night's performance a victim of rigging charges by former contestants on several TV quiz programs.

It thus joined two other big-money giveaway programs in oblivion—Dotto and The $64,000 Challenge.

A spokesman for Pharmaceuticals, Inc., sponsor of "21" said the show's viewer rating had been falling steadily in the last five weeks.

He said the company had concluded that the widespread quiz show probe was the reason for the waning interest.

Pharmaceuticals, Inc., said it will replace "21" with Concentration, an audience participation show that awards mostly merchandise prizes. The program—8:30 to 9 p. m., New York time, Thursdays—will have "21's" emcee, Jack Barry.

Concentration also will continue with its present daytime show, 11:30 a. m. to 12 noon, Monday through Friday. Hugh Downs will

Students to Hear Psychologist

Students at Pontiac Central High are in store for a rare treat Tuesday in the way of school assemblies when Dr. George W. Crane, noted psychologist and lecturer, appears.

Dr. Crane's subject for the 2:30 talk will be "Be a Good Ape." Curiosity surely should encourage all students to attend to find out more about this unusual topic.

The speaker's appearance at the high school auditorium in the afternoon will be a prelude to a talk at the same place at 8 p. m. that day. The title of Dr. Crane's evening lecture will be "Sex Problems in Marriage."

Both appearances in Pontiac are being sponsored by The Pontiac Press.

Dr. Crane's advice to young and old alike is a popular feature in daily editions of The Press. Tuesday you can listen to the author and columnist in person. Both the

Dr. Crane, who has earned degrees as a Doctor of Philosophy and Medicine, is recognized as one of the most outstanding psychologists in America today. His revised textbook "Psychology Applied" has had classroom adoptions in over 700 colleges and universities in 46 states, and in Canada.

First Witness Against Kierdorf Takes Stand

Judge Adams Refuses Adjournment, Mistrial Bids by Defense

Defense motions for adjournment and mistrial failed yesterday as the prosecution placed on the stand its first witness to testify against Herman Kierdorf, one-time Teamster Union aide in Detroit.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams denied a request of Detroit attorney Eric E. Zisman for a postponement in the trial of Kierdorf, who claimed he couldn't get a fair trial due to all the headlines given the Kierdorf case.

Zisman also charged the prosecution with moving the trial of his client just before election to make a "political goat" of him. The judge said he found "no unusual" shuffling of the case on the criminal court docket to place it before him now.

Kierdorf, 68, of Madison Heights, is charged with owning a pistol silencer which is punishable by five years in prison and a $2,500 fine.

Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr. called for his first witness, late yesterday, John D. Tyler, 35, of 29078 Spoon St., a next door neighbor of Kierdorf's.

TEAMSTER TESTIFIES
Tyler, a Teamster himself as a bakery salesman, identified a briefcase which he said Kierdorf asked him to keep last July after the former member of Joint Teamsters Council 43 learned he was to testify before the Senate Rackets Committee in Washington.

Tyler said he got curious as to the contents of the case two weeks later and opened it to find a holster with a .38 caliber pistol in it, blasting caps, and "a length of pipe with a fitting on the end of it."

More Fair Weather for Area Tomorrow

The weatherman predicts continued fair for Pontiac tonight and Saturday with little change in temperature. Tonight's low will be around 40 degrees.

For the next five days temperatures will average four degrees above the normal high of 61 and normal low of 42. Tomorrow's high will be about 68. Sunday and Monday will be a little warmer with Tuesday cooler. Precipitation will total about one-fourth inch with scattered showers Tuesday and Wednesday.

The mercury dropped to a cool 46 degrees before 8 a. m. in downtown Pontiac. At 1 p. m. the reading was 64.

Jet Clipper America Makes Historic Trans-Ocean Flight

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Pan American World Airways inaugurated American transatlantic jet passenger service today with a Baltimore-Brussels flight that averaged about 540 miles per hour.

The Boeing 707 jet airliner with its crew and 39 guest passengers landed here at 8:15 a. m. (2:15 a. m., EST), completing a 3,910-mile flight in 7 hours 15 minutes flying time.

The altitude was between 25,000 and 38,000 feet. (Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press was one of a group of 40 newspapermen participating in this first commercial jet flight to Europe.)

Before its takeoff from Baltimore Thursday night, the 165-passenger plane was christened Jet Clipper America by Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower in a Washington ceremony.

The 707 has a rated cruising speed of 575 miles an hour, and Pan American officials had hoped the trip would take only about 6 hours 15 minutes. Local officials of the airline requested a later landing so the official greeters would not have to get up so early.

Pan American plans to inaugurate regular transatlantic jet service Oct. 26 and to begin daily service Nov. 17.

FLIES WITH EASE

Basil L. Walters, executive editor of the Chicago Daily News, commented: "It was amazing to notice how easily the plane handles. We could hardly feel the takeoff and landing, and once in the air everything is so quiet on board. It is a great improvement over piston engine flying."

The passengers will stay here until Sunday.

British Overseas Airways' Comet jets got the jump on Pan American, inaugurating once weekly New York-London service Oct. 4. BOAC also had planned to be first with daily service, beginning Nov. 14. But maintenance men at London Airport struck Monday against the British airline, and BOAC said it would be unable to complete training of Comet crews in time to make the schedule.

For its first flight the Clipper carried a passenger load of editors, publishers, airline officials, Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.) and Baron Robert Silvercruys, the Belgian ambassador to the United States.

Pan American has bought six planes like the America and has ordered 17 others with somewhat more power. On luxury flights the big ship will carry 86 passengers in economy service, 165 passengers can be carried.

JET LANDS AT BRUSSELS—Jet airliner rests on strip at airport in Brussels today after flight from Baltimore marking the inauguration of American transatlantic jet passenger service. The plane, with crew and 39 passengers, made the 3,910-mile flight in 7 hours 15 minutes flying time.

1,600 Strike at Grand Rapids American Motors, UAW Fail to Beat Pact Deadline

DETROIT (AP)—American Motors Corp., only automaker to have a good year in 1958, bargained through the night with the United Auto Workers Union in an effort to reach agreement on a new labor contract.

The AMC agreement expired at 10 a. m. EST today after being extended on a day-to-day basis since last spring. Two weeks ago the union set today as the deadline for a settlement. The negotiators recessed for breakfast.

The 13,000 AMC union employees, at American's plants in Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis., and Grand Rapids, Mich., have authorized strike action. No strike date has been set.

In Grand Rapids, about 1,600 workers of the Kelvinator Division of American Motors Corp. walked off their jobs at 10 a. m. today when the strike deadline passed without an apparent settlement.

The Kelvinator workers, members of Local 206 of the United Auto Workers Union, immediately set up picket lines outside the big appliance manufacturing plant.

Presumably, failure to agree by the morning deadline would leave AMC in the same position Ford, General Motors and Chrysler were in through the summer when they operated without UAW contracts.

American Motors moved from red ink to black this year on the strength of its undersized Rambles.

Although it is nowhere near the size of the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—American Motors was the only U.S. carmaker that produced more cars in the slack 1958 year than it did the previous year.

Strike-troubled General Motors, biggest of the car makers, looked forward to its first production of 1959 model cars in two weeks.

Settlements of local disputes within the last few days have brought to 118,491 the number of UAW workers back on their jobs in 50 plants. At full speed, GM has 275,000 workers in 126 plants. The local walkouts shut down

Williams Meets Bagwell at Rally in Battle Creek

By The Associated Press
Gov. Williams and his Republican opponent, Paul D. Bagwell, met on the campaign path last night for the third time.

It was a peaceful enough meeting. They shook hands at the bidding of a photographer and then parted.

The meeting occurred at a Junior Chamber of Commerce political rally in Battle Creek. Both Williams and Bagwell were invited to deliver 15-minute speeches.

Warns Race for Moon Could Start New War

BAY CITY (UPI)—The race to determine who is going to own the moon could "become the basis for a great world war," the East Michigan Tourist Assn. was told yesterday.

B. F. Coggan, vice president and San Diego, Calif. manager of the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., told the association's 48th annual meeting. "In our life time our children will take the step of man's colonization of the universe. You and I have got to see to it that we are mentally ready."

Ike and Mamie on Flying Trip to West Coast

6-Day Campaign Opens With First Speech at Cedar Rapids Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower left today on a flying six-day trip to the West Coast, to put pep into his party's drive to recapture control of Congress.

His plane, the Columbine III took off at 8:20 a. m. EST.

The President starts his first 1958 campaign swing with a speech in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, today.

Then he will visit Kansas and Colorado before going on to the coast for speeches in the vital California campaign.

He speaks Monday and Tuesday in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The concluding speech of the presidential tour will be Wednesday night in Chicago.

In advance of his own tour Eisenhower sent word to Vice President Nixon to keep on hammering away at Democratic attacks on administration handlings of foreign policy.

Mrs. Eisenhower accompanied the President. She wore a blue dress and blue hat and carried a fur coat on her arm. The campaigning chief executive was dressed in a gray suit, gray hat, and blue tie.

The President forgot to duck and bumped his head as he entered the plane from the ramp. The collision knocked his hat askew but apparently did not hurt him.

The Columbine III was due 10 Cedar Rapids in about 3½ hours. AT CEDAR RAPIDS
At Cedar Rapids, in the heart of the farm belt, Eisenhower planned an informal talk at the National Corn Picking Contest.

Mrs. Eisenhower, making part of the tour with the President, will visit the Cedar Rapids school where she attended kindergarten.

From Cedar Rapids, the President and his wife travel to Abilene, Kan., for an overnight stay in the town of his boyhood. No formal speeches are scheduled there.

The Eisenhowers will spend Saturday and Sunday in Denver visiting with the First Lady's ailing mother, Mrs. John S. Doud. Mrs. Eisenhower will stay on for a time after the President leaves.

"The Abilene White House," answers the telephone operator at the Sunflower Hotel in Abilene.

The Sunflower doesn't have the Ionic portico or the famed Blue and East reception rooms of the White House, but tonight it will have President Eisenhower. For Abilene that's enough.

Downtown Market Set

Farm Displays Coming

The farm will come to downtown Pontiac tomorrow in the form of a special event planned by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce. From 100 to 150 Oakland County farmers and their families will invade downtown Saginaw street from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m., bringing choice harvest produce into the heart of the city.

Chamber officials expect that tomorrow's scene will resemble a farmers' market.

The city has granted permission to close down Saginaw parking meters so that farmers' trucks, laden with produce, can line the curbs during the hours that "Downtown Farm Day" is scheduled.

In addition, most farmers are expected to lay out their offerings on sidewalk tables, in the same way that fresh produce is displayed at farm markets.

"We are sure that this colorful, unusual spectacle will be of great interest to Pontiac citizens," said John H. Hurlinger, chamber man-

Behind "Downtown Farm Day" lie two aims, Hurlinger said.

The first is to promote the downtown area as an attractive place for shoppers.

The second is to encourage a greater feeling of cooperation and mutual interest between Oakland County farms and downtown merchants.

In this connection, he said, a banquet is being planned for participating farmers and the Downtown Merchants Assn., which is sponsoring tomorrow's event.

Walkout Halts Capital Flights

Mechanics Strike Hits Entire Airlines System as Talks Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capital Airlines, the nation's fifth largest air carrier, halted all flights today because of a systemwide strike of its mechanics.

Meanwhile, company and union representatives planned to go back into negotiations in hopes of reaching agreement on a formula for ending the day-old walkout. No progress was reported in sessions Thursday.

Capital continued to run flights during the first 24 hours of the strike, but decided to shut down operations at midnight. No new flights were started after that time, although some in progress were completed. The airline serves 51 cities east of the Mississippi.

Directly involved in the strike are about 2,500 mechanics represented by the International Assn. of Machinists. The dispute, involving wages and other issues, dates back a year.

Capital has accepted a White House emergency board recommendation calling for a 9 per cent wage boost. The mechanics now average about $2.46 an hour. However, the union has demanded a bigger wage boost than the board recommended. The union also seeks such benefits as a company-financed health, welfare plan—something the White House board did not recommend.

hower can't stay in the frame house on the South Side where he lived as a boy. It has been a national monument since 1947 and, anyway, the Eisenhower brought along too many people.

When hotel manager Mike Biggs finished setting aside rooms for the President and his wife, press secretary James Hagerty and members of the White House staff, he had only six left.

"It got so bad that some of the Secret Service agents had to be moved out into private homes," Biggs said. "I guess the press boys are going to sleep on cots wherever we can put them."

The President is only going to stay the night—a stopover on a nationwide tour. But the preparations started two weeks ago and more than likely there'll be hammering going on when Ike's motorcade enters town at 4:30 p.m.

The Sunflower looks like a communications office.

More than 40 news correspondents had to be accommodated, but the 19 telephones installed also are a security matter. Their primary purpose is to make certain that the President is instantly informed of important foreign or domestic developments.

A big black number hangs over each telephone, but there's nothing sadder about the instruments.

PHONES IN COLOR

"We got telephones in every color of the rainbow," said a telephone company spokesman. "We decided we might as well go first class and give them the best. Why use black when we had these?"

The Eisenhower will tour the Eisenhower Museum and the boyhood home, then will visit with old friends and top state Republicans. They leave Saturday morning for Denver.

For Waterford Township Suggests $5 Million School Building Plan

A plan for a $5 million Waterford Township school building program plus a 5-mill increase for school operation was presented by Superintendent William Shunk at last night's Board of Education meeting.

Shunk stated that a bond issue and additional millage covering the program could be put into operation without any increase in taxes provided the assessed property valuation in the school district remained the same.

Board members authorized Shunk to proceed with the plan to gather facts relative to construction costs, and present specific recommendations to the board as soon as possible.

The proposal would be put to a vote of the people at a special election prior to the spring election or sometime in late February.

The possibility of just how the extensive school building program could be put into effect without a

Backs Approval of Convention

Several From County on Committee Urging Constitution Confab

A group of citizens, including several from Oakland County, have formed a committee urging voters Nov. 4 to cast a yes vote for a constitutional convention.

Committee chairman is former United States Sen. Prentiss Brown Sr. of St. Ignace.

Among the local members on the committee are Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams; Mayor David C. Calhoun, of Huntington Woods, past president of the Michigan Municipal League; former Rep. Theodore Hughes, of Berkley; Mrs. Irene Murphy, University of Michigan regent from Birmingham; and Mrs. Howard Livermore, from Birmingham.

Included also is former Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, also of Birmingham. "It is time for a change," declared Van Wagoner, who appointed a constitutional revision commission to make recommendations on the matter during his administration as governor.

The only state question on the fall ballot is for Michigan voters to decide whether the state's 50-year-old constitution should be re-written. The issue appears on the ballot only every 16 years.

Businessmen, educators, clergy, judges and attorneys, municipal and township officials, housewives and salaried workers are also represented on the new committee.

Cool Air Ending Brief Interlude of Summer Heat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cooler air spread across North-central sections of the country today from the Rockies to New England, breaking a brief spell of summer-like weather.

Fairly mild weather continued in many parts of the country and a heat wave clung to Southern California and the Southwest desert region.

The leading edge of the cooler air extended from the southern Great Lakes with temperatures dropping below freezing in parts of Northern Michigan.

Readings were mostly in the 30s and 40s from the northern Rockies to the northern Great Lakes. South of the advancing cooler air, temperatures in the 60s prevailed from northern Missouri to the lower Great Lakes and southern New England.

The cool air was expected to move from the central Plains eastward across the southern Great Lakes and Ohio Valley into the north Atlantic states.

Drayton Plains GI Hurt in Auto Crash

A Drayton Plains GI was listed in fair condition today after being involved in an auto accident near Fort Chafee, Ark., Thursday.

Specialist 4 C. Robert F. Bickford, 24, of 5207 Dixie Highway, was admitted to the base hospital at Fort Chafee, where he is stationed.

Bickford, son of Mr. Donald Bickford, was inducted into the Army January 1957.

He was in a car that reportedly plunged down a 12-foot embankment. Killed in the smashup was Specialist 4 C. Franklin D. Barnett, 21, of Fort Gibson, Okla.

Also injured was Pfc. Charles D. Monroe, 20, of Oconomowoc, Wis.

Trying to Reduce? They're 'Wonderful'

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The latest twist in the pretzel industry is the push to get the pretzel out of the saloon—the reducing salon, that is.

"The pretzel is a low calorie, high protein diet item," said Donald McCollough, Lancaster, Pa., pretzel maker today. "Wonderful way to fill your stomach without adding pounds."

"Let's face it. In the old days, the pretzel was strictly for beer drinkers. It's no longer a barroom item. It's a family snack. Why, around Lancaster, doctors prescribe pretzels and ginger ale for babies with upset stomachs."

70 Convicts Fail in Escape Try

Heavily-Armed Officers Quell Major Uprising in Denver County Jail

DENVER (AP)—Seventy prisoners, at least one of them a confessed murderer, made a desperate but vain bid to escape from the Denver County Jail late Thursday.

More than 100 officers, armed with submachineguns, riot shotguns, tear gas and football helmets, quelled the uprising in little more than two hours.

Four guards suffered cuts and bruises. None were believed seriously injured. The prisoners were uninjured and suffered only from heavy doses of tear gas.

The end came when the last of some 25 prisoners who had holed up in a penthouse atop the jail's maximum security block apparently retreated through the same small hole they had cut to gain entrance during the riot's early confusion.

The men who took refuge in the brick enclosure housing the jail's air-conditioning system and those who stubbornly held out in the cell block were a shouting, howling mass of humanity. They protested what they termed brutal treatment from guards.

One prisoner shouted through a small window in a door at the rear of the cell block: "They're slugging us and dragging us out and working us over one at a time."

Guards discovered the hole in the cell block ceiling leading to the penthouse shortly after the riot broke out. As darkness closed in, Fire Department spotlights showered the small structure with daylight brilliance and a stream of tear gas shells was fired into the penthouse.

When more tear gas was poured into the cell block below, the last desperate face disappeared from the window. All avenues of possible escape had vanished. Stillness reigned.

Banfe Trying for Record Plane Running Rough

TOKYO (AP)—Charles F. Banfe Jr. reported today the engine of his small orange airplane was running rough as he flew over the north Pacific in an attempt to set a nonstop distance record for single-engine planes.

Banfe took off from Tokyo at 7:31 a.m. (5:31 p.m. EST Thursday) and headed toward the Aleutians. His Florida destination—Miami, Fla.—was 7,022 miles and an estimated 52 hours away.

He radioed the engine report to a passing airliner 7½ hours after takeoff. A rough engine often smooths out by itself in flight, and the report did not necessarily mean serious trouble.

The airliner could not determine his exact position. An hour earlier Banfe told another plane he was 840 miles northeast of Tokyo and his speed and the weather were better than expected.

From Shemya the route crossed Fairbanks, Alaska; Winnipeg; Minneapolis; and Chicago. Counting on tailwinds, the 39-of pipe" is a workable silencer attachable to the German luger. Kierdorf's co-counsel, William F. Doehny, says it is "a plumbing fixture."

CALLS FOR MISTRIAL

It was Doehny, of Pontiac, that made the motion for a mistrial because he claimed Barry in his opening statement to the nine women and three men jurors had insinuated Kierdorf possessed an unregistered gun.

Kierdorf, who disappeared for 12 days after threatening to find the man who caused his nephew Frank to be burned, was described by Tyler as a "good, friendly neighbor."

Frank died Aug. 7 from burns suffered in what police believe was a bungled arson job on a cleaning establishment outside Flint. Frank Kierdorf was a business agent for Film Teamsters Local 332.

After Tyler yesterday identified the contents of the briefcase, Zisman made a continued defense objection that the briefcase was seized illegally without a search warrant from the Tyler home.

Judge Adams overruled this objection.

Press Carrier Wins $100 Prize for Drawing

An Eastern Junior High eighth grader is $100 richer today for a little drawing he turned out at school.

It wasn't just an ordinary drawing that a teenager might sketch, and to the Ford Motor Co. it was tops. It was so great that Larry Schultz captured first prize for it in the Ford Industrial Arts contest.

The Pontiac Press carrier's drawing was judged the best in the entire country for entries submitted in the seventh-eighth grade mechanical drawing division.

"We're mighty proud of Larry," said Ray Lowry, his drafting instructor at Eastern.

Larry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence H. Schultz, of 227 Chandler Ave., not only received the top award in his age division, but was leader on a team of 18 Eastern students who also walked off with prizes in the contest. These were from the 4,500 finalists of the 45,000 entries submitted.

Larry's drawing was of a spiral clip, a piece of machinery, Lowry explains. It was drawn while Larry was a seventh grader in Lowry's class in mechanical drawing.

The happy winner, who takes home straight A's from Lowry classes, receives, besides the $100 check from Ford, a gold pin, and certificates for himself, Lowry and his school.

The Pontiac school won more prizes than any other single junior high school in the country.

Finishing right behind Larry was James Burwell, 13, of 506 Bay St., whose second prize drawing of a latch, staple and hook won him $80 in the same division.

The September deficit was $17,841, while August's was $37,538.

T. W. Bradford, board treasurer and finance committee chairman, reported that his committee is studying question of installing a new system of mechanized accounting equipment. A recommendation may be forthcoming in 30 to 90 days, Bradford said.

The board adopted the committee's recommendation that next year's budget be prepared on the basis of four-week financial periods, instead of the monthly basis now in use.

This would give us financial periods of equal length, and provide a better comparison of one period with another," Bradford said.

Clarkson said the board definitely intends to submit a prepared budget to the city for next year. Faced with shifting financial problems this year, no budget was ever submitted, although seven tentative budgets were prepared, Clarkson said.

William P. Babcock, chairman of the personnel committee, said that an offer by the union to help out the hospital's finances would be considered when negotiations on the annual working agreement begin Saturday.

The union offered to let the present wage agreement ride until next July, waiving any raises it might obtain in January, when the agreement normally would expire.

Hoffa Says Jealousy Behind Labor Rift

NEW YORK (AP)—James R. Hoffa, Teamsters president, says his union's ouster from the AFL-CIO resulted from jealousy on the part of rival labor leaders and political opponents trying to destroy the labor movement.

Hoffa spoke last night at a testimonial dinner given by the Teamsters Joint Council 16 in honor of John O'Rourke, council president and international vice president.

The dinner was part of a fund raising drive in behalf of the cerebral palsy committee of New York City. A check for $75,000 was given to the Cerebral Palsy Fund.

Hoffa attributed "ambition and jealousy" of other labor chiefs in the Teamsters' expulsion last December from the combined labor organization. These labor leaders, said Hoffa, "have done more in the last year to destroy organized labor than the National Assn. of Manufacturers and all enemies of labor."

The Day in Birmingham

Lightning Strikes School, 2 Houses in Bad Storm

BIRMINGHAM — A school and two houses were struck by lightning during the severe storm which lashed the Birmingham area last night. Each was struck in the chimney.

They were the Vaughn Elementary School in Bloomfield Hills; the Henry Ziff home, 3580 Berkshire Rd., Bloomfield Township, and the Jack Boyce home, 459 Elmwood St., Troy.

The lightning also pierced the roof of the school, permitting rain to seep through it and causing the school to be closed today. There was no fire.

The Ziff home chimney was shattered into small pieces, firemen said. Damage to the chimney and the side of the house was estimated at $1,400 by firemen.

At the Boyce house, damage was set at $1,000. This includes some

Weatherwax Is Busy Campaigning Locally

Allen G. Weatherwax, Republican candidate for state treasurer, shook many hands and drank many cups of coffee as he roamed through Oakland County today on a busy campaign trip.

After an 11 o'clock coffee hour in Birmingham with several county candidates, Weatherwax, 51, a Jackson druggist, immediately hopped over to the Pontiac City Club for a luncheon engagement at noon.

His afternoon stops included one in Waterford Township with Congressman William S. Broomfield, a meeting in the Washington Square Building in Royal Oak, and a South Lyon civic homecoming and Kiwanis pancake supper at the South Lyon High School.

Planned for the evening was a visit to the Hazel Park Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 23025 Carlisle St., and also, if time permits, at the Berkley VFW Post, 3025 Coolidge.

Briggs Top Planner for VFW Conclave

Looking ahead to a deluge of Detroit visitors for the 1960 convention of Veterans of Foreign Wars, Walter O. (Spike) Briggs of Bloomfield Hills got plans under way yesterday.

Briggs took over the post of running the convention which is expected to draw between 30,000 and 80,000 veterans.

In case construction of Cobo Hall isn't finished, Briggs has secured Olympia and the University of Detroit Memorial building between Aug. 21 and 26.

Briggs heads the committee planning the convention.

Reveal Moon Rocket Relays Radio Signals

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—The device hurled about a third of the way to the moon last weekend was used as a radio repeater station to relay signals between Hawaii and England.

The Air Force, disclosing this Thursday, said: "This accomplishment validates the idea of using space vehicles of various types to improve vastly the effectiveness and reliability of methods of worldwide communications."

The 84-pound instrument package named Pioneer was hurled 79,120 miles into space from Cape Canaveral, Fla., before it fell back and presumably burned up in the earth's atmosphere.

When it was near its farthest point out, a radio signal was beamed at it from the Hawaii tracking station, repeated by the transmitter in the device and picked up by the Manchester, England, tracking station. Signals also were similarly transmitted from Florida to England and Hawaii, a spokesman said.

Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, commander of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, said: "Improvement in worldwide communications by using a satellite or space station as a connecting link between two distant points on earth has been discussed by scientists for years as a genuine possibility.

"This was the first practical proof that such a system is feasible."

Detroit Polio Cases Reach Total of 590

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's polio case count for 1958 stands at 590 with three new cases reported Thursday. Two new cases were reported in Wayne County outside the city, bringing the county total to 181.

There have been 19 deaths in Detroit and one in Wayne County attributed to polio this year.

Detroit had 174 cases and two deaths in the similar period of last year and the county had 74 cases and one death.

Refuses to Tell What Happened to Ike's Tooth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The chief oral surgeon at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington says the whereabouts of a tooth he removed from President Eisenhower's jaw is a secret.

"I am not allowed to discuss anything about the President's tooth; that was told me by the commanding general," said Col. Robert B. Shira, who pulled a molar from the President's mouth last February.

"I don't know where it is; I'm not free to tell you where it is," he said.

He didn't say why the tooth was removed or why its whereabouts is secret.

Shira's remarks were made

Thursday in response to a newsman's questions while he was here to address the Louisville District Dental Society.

Approaching Train Fails to Scare Boy on Bridge

BALTIMORE (AP) — Six-year-old Jackie Dorn was walking across the Patapsco River railroad bridge when a train approached.

But young Jack didn't panic. As a matter of fact, said conductor Robert Kirby, "he was quite unconcerned about it all. He didn't get excited until we gave him a ride in the locomotive."

The train crew was able to stop the Baltimore and Annapolis Railroad freight in time, picked up the tike and deposited him on the other side of the span.

No Discuss Need for Convention on State Constitution

The one state question on the Nov. 4 ballot—whether or not a constitutional convention should be called to rewrite Michigan's 50-year-old constitution—will be the topic of a program Tuesday at Christ Lutheran Church on Williams Lake road in Waterford Township.

The Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service will not only stage a one-hour panel on this question (10 a.m.-11 a.m.), but will also have discussions following on township and county governments.

The sponsoring Extension Service has engaged a whole host of representatives of state, county and township government to take part in the program.

D. Hale Bruke, president of the Michigan Institute of Local Government, will be moderator for the many discussions planned for the day. It is open to all free of charge.

Backyard Furnaces Boost Steel Output

By JOHN STROHM

NEW YORK (NEA) — Almost everywhere you go in Red China your nostrils are assailed by a sulphurous smoke that reminds you of Gary or East Chicago.

Red China is out to make the "great leap forward" in steel production by twin programs, one old, one new.

In farmyards, on school playgrounds, college campuses and vacant lots, the belching vest-pocket blast furnaces of the old way polka-dot the landscape with smears of smoke. And those who stoke them with hand-crushed ore, coal and limestone are the farmer and his wife, the schoolchildren and college kids.

STROHM plodded in size.

I must have seen more than 1,000 of these furnaces during my tour of Mao's domain. They range from three feet to 30 feet high, their output from 100 pounds to 100 tons daily.

Red China's economists reasoned thusly: to save transport, take the furnace to the raw materials and only move the pig iron to the factory. The iron pigs are fed to the great new rolling mills like those I saw at Hankow and Anchan.

But Red China is by no means betting on its backyard iron-mongers. At Anchan I visited a sprawling mill where 100,000 workers make an average of $32 a month turn out one-third of China's iron and steel.

They mine their own ore, get nearby coal and make pig iron, steel, iron rails, steel beams and seamless tubing.

Indeed, the Chinese are demonstrating an aptitude for manufacture that few Westerners once would have believed. I talked with businessmen from Denmark, Britain and Germany and the consensus was: "Chinese learn fast, can operate machinery well."

Several Red engineers and plant managers told me they keenly desired to see U.S. plants and methods but realized that was impossible, because, as one put it, "Your Mr. Dulles has erected a Bamboo Curtain that would prevent it." (This assertion that the Bamboo Curtain was erected by the U.S. and not Red China is a recurrent Red refrain.)

Before the liberation, a Chinese plant official told me, "we produced only 923,000 tons of steel and 1,800,000 tons of pig iron. Last year we produced 5,300,000 tons of steel. This year's goal is 10 million tons and next year's is 20 million — almost as much as Britain."

Who knows whether the goals are solid prospects or wishful planning? One only sees today that there is a vast flexing of muscle, a tremendous state-directed upsurge of effort and that the first signs of an industrial civilization are beginning to stamp themselves upon mainland China.

China's industry may not look impressive to an American but there are indications the Russians have begun to sit up and regard it with some seriousness. (It could, if increased, make Peiping as independent of Moscow industrially as it has begun to be ideologically.)

And the visitors from the rice paddy and ox cart countries of Asia who come here to visit stand around in goggle-eyed amazement at Red China's trickle of industrial wonders.

There's an atomic reactor (which I did not see) and they're turning out television sets, jet planes, automobiles, tractors and machine tools.

Although they manufacture trucks, the bulk of commerce teeters along in baskets slung from shoulder poles or on two-wheeled carts drawn by two or three human horses.

China makes the "East Wind" automobile but you can't own a car in China so everyone except high government officials walk, bicycles or goes by pedicab.

An industrial exhibition showed a giant crane with a five square yard bite. But out on the dams and irrigation ditches construction by tens of thousands of men and women, digging, carrying and tamping in ways no different than when the Great Wall was built in 300 A.D.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One hundred and forty-five teenaged American boys are traveling abroad this summer in the 11th annual International Air Cadet Exchange program.

There is something that clutches the throat in the sight of 20 or 30 thousand human ants swarming over one of these great earth-moving projects. The earth is tamped by lifting a heavy concrete block and letting it fall, in time to a sad rhythmic song that sounded much like the chant

I'd heard in a Peiping Catholic church.

The biggest problem seems to be capital. What help the Chinese get from the Russians and other "people's democracies" costs

RED CHINA FLEXES HER MUSCLE — The big load still falls on the backs of human ants. These are laborers on a bridge project northwest of Peiping — not far from the Great Wall which was built in 300 A. D. in ways not much different from today's sweat and brawn.

dearly. So therefore her industrial expansion must be based largely on what can be wrung from the hides of peasants who have struggled for centuries just to keep alive.

And over it all beams the benign face of Mao Tse-tung, who said four years before he took over the mainland government: "Without industry there can be no people's welfare and no national prosperity and power."

Half of Pupils in Private Class

Closing of Schools in Virginia Sends 5,500 to Makeshift Facilities

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Nearly half the 12,700 pupils affected by Virginia's anti-integration school closures now are receiving instruction under private, emergency arrangements set up by their elders.

Estimates of the number of children enrolled in private classes today ranged from about 5,500 to 6,000. But for the rest of the pupils left without public classrooms in Norfolk, Front Royal and Charlottesville, the prospects were uncertain.

In the fifth week after Warren County High School became the first school in the state to close under Virginia anti-integration statutes, classes began in Front Royal Thursday for 102 Warren High seniors. The makeshift classroom was a local youth center; the teachers, substitute instructors to be paid with funds privately contributed.

Almost all the 1,700 pupils left without schooling in the university city of Charlottesville when Lane High School and Venable Elementary School were closed already were receiving private schooling. Classes in Charlottesville are being taught in basements and churches. Public school teachers—still on the state payroll—are being utilized.

In Norfolk, schooling arrangements have been varied. Some 500 pupils from six closed schools are estimated to have enrolled in public schools outside the city. Another group of about 900 are being taught at night in the classrooms of South Norfolk High School. Perhaps 3,000 more are enrolled in private tutoring groups. Few public school teachers have volunteered to serve.

Charlottesville's educational set-up appeared in danger of disruption, with the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People holding the key to continuation of the private classes there. U.S. District Judge John Paul has ruled that public school teachers paid by state may not be used as instructors in private facilities not open to Negroes as well as whites. Presumably the application of a Negro to enter any one of the private schools in Charlottesville could close it.

Betsy Metcalf of Providence, R. I., is generally credited with turning out America's first straw bonnet in 1738, when she was 12 years old.

Symbols Give Dems Big Edge in Navajo Tribe

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — It's hard for Navajos to understand the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties.

So Mrs. Annie Wauneka, a member of the Navajo Tribal council, decided to simplify her political teaching by using the party symbols—the Democratic donkey and the GOP elephant.

But, she said, this procedure gave the Democrats a big edge with the Navajos.

Navajos much preferred the donkey because donkeys are good workers "and you could eat the young ones." On the other hand, the Navajos had seen elephants only at circuses "and even then their hides were repulsive."

To Air Tax Charges Against Three Stars

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The government will air its income tax claims against three entertainment celebrities in federal court Monday.

The Internal Revenue Service claims that Gordon MacRae is $139,939 in arrears for 1952 through 1954, Van Johnson $117,497 for 1953 and 1954, and Nanette Fabray $12,009 for 1952.

MacRae, Johnson and Miss Fabray are challenging the government's claim and exercising their right to a hearing.

Grave Problems Ahead

Many Cares for Next Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The next pope faces problems perhaps as grave and far-reaching as any in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, Vatican sources said today.

The fight to the death against Communism and a need to shore up the inner structure of the Church were the two major problems threatening the Church.

GREATEST THREAT

The Vatican readily admitted that Communism poses the greatest threat to its existence. The Church has faced. However, much of the speculation on the new pope to be selected by the conclave of cardinals meeting here Oct. 25 was based on problems not connected with the Communist menace.

A strong current in Vatican circles believes the new spiritual leader of the world's 466-million Roman Catholics should be a "Pastor" pope who would concentrate on the major internal Church problems. Pope Pius XII, who was buried Monday, was regarded as a "diplomatic" pope.

A High Vatican source, after stressing the over-riding importance of the struggle against Communism to which the late pope dedicated himself, cited three main problems the new pope must face:

—A shortage of priests, missionaries and religious orders all over the world. The shortage is particularly grave in some Latin American countries and in Africa. Ireland and Spain are considered the only nations which do not have a serious lack of priests.

—The need to adapt the ancient machinery of the church to the vast changes in life during the current century.

—The restoration of the zeal that can propagate the church in such great territories as Africa, and the need to strengthen religious instruction and the participation of the faithful in liturgical rites.

The source, however, did not discount the Communist menace against atheistic Communist could hold the key to the survival of the Catholic Church as a major influence in world affairs.

Denying Child Helps His Mental Growth

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

As a baby, when John felt hunger, his mother behaved as though she felt it too. He'd wake up from a nap to roar for relief from his stomach's emptiness — and she'd rush to fill it. Sitting down with him and his bottle, she'd smile into his eyes, sharing his bliss as the warm milk soothed the hunger.

He was nearing three the day he discovered that his mother no longer shared his feelings.

She was pushing her shopping cart up the front walk when he spied a discarded lollipop half-hidden under the hedge. To find that it tasted like other lollipops thrilled him. It delighted, not just his sense of taste, but his sense of achievement.

But when his mother turned to see him sucking it, instead of sharing his bliss she ran to him, snatched it out of his mouth, crying, "Where on earth did you get that filthy thing?"

John fought her for repossession of his lollipop. The violence of his opposition upset her terribly.

Yet if a little child doesn't express opposition to us, he cannot grow. It is through his opposing feelings that he begins to develop his own identity.

Out of long experience as a child psychiatrist, Dr. Frederick

H. Allen has written some very important words for parents.

"Through giving AND WITHHOLDING," he says, "the mother defines herself as a separate person and the child gains thereby a feeling of his own separate-ness."

I have deliberately capitalized

the words "AND WITHHOLDING." If we understand their importance, they can rid us of our fear of discipline.

We have to withhold things from children as often as we give them. If, every time we do say "no," we fear that we are being mean and unkind, our "no" becomes infused with anger at the child who forces us to say it.

This is very hard on him. He may begin to feel that there's something bad about differing with other people and, to avoid our angry "no," start pretending he feels no opposition to anyone.

That's when we start having real problems.

Browned Pork Chops in Tangy Tomato Sauce

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Pork chops are good autumn fare. An easy way to prepare them is to follow Mrs. Lewis Wrenn Jr.'s recipe for spicing them. This is an oven dish and you can plan the rest of your meal accordingly.

Mrs. Wrenn belongs to her sorority alumnae group and a Bridge group. Her hobby is a beautiful hooked rug she is making. The Wrenns have a year-old son.

SPICED PORK CHOPS
By Mrs. Lewis Wrenn Jr.

6 pork chops
1 cup catsup
1/2 cup vinegar
2 cups water
1/2 cup brown sugar
6 slices lemon

Brown chops. Place in shallow pan and put a slice of lemon on each one. Mix rest of ingredients and pour over chops. Bake one hour at 325 degrees.

Dames of Malta Group Plans Oct. 29 Bazaar

Plans for a bazaar to be given Oct. 29 by Corinne Sisterhood 184, Dames of Malta, were discussed at the meeting Wednesday evening.

Birthdays in October were honored.

On sale at the bazaar will be fancywork, aprons, baked goods, greeting cards, candy, plants, and there will be a fish pond. Dinner will be served from 5 to 7 p.m.

Mrs. Don Bussard is general chairman assisted by Mrs. Clyde Matthews; fancywork and aprons; Mrs. Christian Theis and Mrs. Mable Erickson, baked goods and candy; Mrs. Margaret Daugherty, cards and plants, and Mrs. Elsie Bailey and Mrs. Edward Schran, fish pond.

Mary Lyon Group Plans Workshop

Mrs. Delbert Burnett of Cameron street opened her home Wednesday evening for a meeting of the Mary Lyon Group of First Congregational Church. Twelve members were present.

Plans were made for a handicraft workshop to prepare articles for the church's Christmas bazaar. Mrs. Janet Odell, home editor of The Pontiac Press, was speaker for the evening.

Real 'Gone West'

Co-eds Are Riding Tall in Saddle These Days

Clothes that were once only at home on the range are big fashion news on campus.

The Western Look is an important new look for teen sportswear, according to a national magazine, which has correlated a collection of clothes and accessories that bear the unmistakable brand of the wide open spaces.

Among the fashions currently riding eastward are horse-blanket plaids and cowpunchers' jackets, the calf-high boot and the ten-gallon hat.

FANCY PANTS

But the clothes are no longer as rough-hewn as they were back at the ranch. Die-hard denim shows up in lady-like shades of ivory, sturdy sheepskins turn out to be synthetic pile, riding pants have a silky-sueded finish and the ten-gallon hat is more likely to be just one gallon deep.

Thus, a campus cowpuncher doing herself up in Western attire might wear the traditional cowboy shirt in a new paisley print, sport riding pants of vivid orange and complete her ensemble with boots of corduroy rather than leather.

"HORSEY" HARDWARE

A girl who doesn't want to "go west" from top to toe might limit herself to a stirrup pin of shiny gilt, a red cotton bandana or a suede harness belt with "horsey" hardware.

Other fashionable possibilities borrowed from today's not-so-wild West are a gambler's weskit of jacquard red cotton paired with plaid-patched "hobo" pants or a "sheepskin" pullover coupled with blazing plaid wool paddock pants.

Wisner PTA Sees Program on Libraries

A program, "Our Liberty in Action," was presented by school librarian Doris Haynes, teachers and pupils of Wisner School, when the PTA met Thursday.

Mrs. William Wright, program chairman of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, explained the purpose of the proposed constitutional convention and urged parents to vote.

Mrs. James Burton was introduced as new secretary of Wisner PTA, and Mrs. Orville Gauthier, head city librarian, announced a book fair to be held at Crofoot School Oct. 22 and 23.

Mrs. Martin Bacak, Mrs. Paul Maddox, Mrs. Palmer Mullen, Mrs. Reuben Dextrom, Mrs. James Webb, Mrs. Fred Goines, Mrs. Paul Webster, Mrs. Wilbur Hinsperger and Mrs. Robert Quance assisted with refreshments and greeted guests.

Called to Albany

Mrs. Nelson C. Wiley of LaSalle avenue and Mrs. Ethel Wright of Holbrook avenue have returned from Albany, N.Y., where they were called by the illness of Mrs. Alice Frisbie.

McConnell PTA Sees Safety Film

Officer Albert Foster Jr. of the Pontiac Police Department spoke at a meeting of the McConnell School PTA Thursday afternoon. Highlighting the program was a film, "The Patrol Boy." Mrs. Walter Bennett explained to the group the school's safety program. Margo Champine and Donelda Archer explained the duties of the service squad. Service Squad girls Darlene Lutzkiw, Judy Daugherty, Marjorie Justin, Barbara Dorman and Linda Niedowicz acted as hostesses.

Students Present Musical Program

Students of Will Rogers School presented a musical program under the direction of Jean James at the PTA meeting held Thursday evening in the school's gymnasium.

Dr. Ross Cox, professor of social studies at Wayne State University, was speaker. His topic was "Evaluation of Will Rogers Community School."

The School Fair will be held Nov. 7.

Don't Hedge, Parents, Say 'No'--and Mean It

By RUTH MILLETT

It's a parent's duty to decide what is right for a child and then see that he does it.

It is not a parent's duty to persuade the child that he "wants" to do what the parent says he must, or doesn't "want" to do what the parent says he can't do.

When parents once again accept that fact, then they won't be in such a constant turmoil, and bringing up children won't be such a frustrating business.

A widowed mother writes: "I would like your advice on how to make my daughter, 14, realize she is too young to date a boy of 19."

My answer to that is that the mother doesn't have to make her daughter "understand." It very well may be impossible to make her understand.

What the mother has to do is much more simple and down to earth. She just has to say "No, you can't date him because he is too old for you," and make it stick.

If the mother is convinced she is right, she doesn't have to argue, or persuade, or explain, or try to make her daughter like her decision. Because if she is sure she is right she can be firm in her judgment. And if she is firm and refuses to argue, the girl will accept her "No" answer, whether she likes it and understands it or not.

It isn't a parent's duty to make a child see things from an adult point of view, yet a surprising number of today's parents feel that it is. And all too many of them end up by accepting the child's viewpoint instead of persuading him that theirs is right. It's a wise parent who realizes that he doesn't always have to explain why when he says "No," and that it isn't necessary to make a child understand an adult decision. All that is required is to make it stick.

Former Resident Charlene J. Sund Is Married

Charlene J. Sund and James P. Ruhlig were married Saturday evening at St. John's Lutheran Church, Taylor. The Rev. Walter B. Strand, formerly of St. Trinity Lutheran Church, Pontiac, and now of St. John's Lutheran Church, States Center, Iowa officiated.

The bride is the daughter of former Pontiac residents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sund of Taylor and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ruhlig of Romulus.

Janice C. Sund was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Virginia Kanaack of Wyandotte, Barbara Prill of Romulus and Helga Falk. Flowergirls were Karen and Katherine Zandstra, of Grand Rapids.

Martin E. Ruhlig of Romulus, was best man assisted by ushers Arnold Ruhlig of Taylor and Odell Sund of Grand Rapids, and Jerry Prill of Romulus.

Try Hair Cream

Weekly Shampoo May Be Wrong

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "All my life I have been troubled with hair that splits at the ends. I brush my hair and wash it once a week, but it splits just the same. Is there anything I can do?"

A. This is often due to extreme dryness. For this reason I suggest that you shampoo it less often and use a cream shampoo when you do. Brushing should be helpful since it distributes the oil of the scalp over the hair. If your scalp is very oily, use one of the tonics for the scalp.

Also every day apply one of the creams especially designed for dry ends to the ends of your hair. Be sure, too, that you eat a well-balanced diet.

Q. "Is it bad for the skin to change makes and shades of powder often?"

A. No, not so long as you are not allergic to some.

Q. "What is the difference between a deodorant and a non-perspirant?"

A. A deodorant simply takes away the odor of perspiration while a non-perspirant decreases perspiration.

Q. "I have black hair and brown eyes and a fair skin. I love red but do not know whether since your skin is fair. Yellow and or not I should wear it." cream and certain blues will be flattering also.

A. Red is one of your best colors. You can wear many colors. Q. "I have heard that one should not cut the cuticle around the nails. Is this true?"

For dry hair that often splits at the ends, brushing should be helpful since it distributes the oil of the scalp over the hair.

A. Sometimes it is necessary to cut a hang nail or roughened cuticle. However the ideal to shoot for is to keep the cuticle soft and away from the nail. In order to accomplish this you will have to use cuticle cream or oil each night if the cuticle is rough and push the cuticle gently back from the nails as a part of the treatment.

Q. "My hip bones stick out. What can I do to remedy this? It looks awful!"

A. We cannot change the bone structure. Usually this condition exists when a girl or woman is quite underweight. If this is true, gain those pounds!

Q. "I had an operation not long ago. How soon can I take exercise? I am anxious to diet and exercise because I was in the hospital some time and gained weight and spread out."

A. You must follow your doctor's advice in this matter. Do not begin exercises until he tells you it is safe for you to do so. He probably will be anxious for you to follow your routine as soon as you can.

Dolphins Make Big Splash in Pontiac Central Pool

More Mermaids Join Swim Club

By JOANNE WOOD

Dolphins take to the water like a group of fish. The old members have chosen their new swimming partners for this semester. Initiation for the new members was held October 13. The new members were required to dress as sea animals and depict a story concerning their costumes during the initiation.

Election of officers was held and those elected were: Nancy Donaldson, president; Barbara Patterson, vice-president; Gail Gibson, treasurer; Kathy Hunter, secretary; and Shirley Hychison, historian.

New members were selected from both Central and Northern schools. They are Carol Ashley, Kathy Beebe, Becky Bryce, Karen Buchman, Carol Chamberlain, Linda Dorris, Susan Dunlay, and Johnnie Fort.

Still others are Charlotte DeRousse, Sheila Goldberg, Sandra Hilderley, Sally Huntoon, Judy Kern and Janet Johnson.

Others are Janet Lichvar, Sandra McDowell, Joan Monteith, Char. Osmun, Carol Petroff, Ann Phillips, Carolyn Rouse, Phyllis Suhr, Sandra Turrell, Linda Underhill, Lynn Vrieck, Judy West, Kay Whitfield and Rada Youngblood.

The Dolphins are under direction of Nelma Wood.

Pontiac Central's vocal department has organized a mixed choral group of 16 voices to be known as the "Song Spinners."

Sopranos Judy Cantarella, Jeanette Ohanesian, Sharon Pike, and Marilyn Vernon. The alto section includes Gary Bowers, Kay Jerome, Karen Oxley and Kiki Seckles.

Tenors are David Sustin, Eugene Stone, Tom Schiordi and John Watson. Basses and the baritones are Gary Bowers, Ed Haroutunian, Mike Godwin, and Don Mann. The vocal assistant is Michael Dempsey and Deanne Relyea is accompanist.

St. Frederick Pays Tribute to Pope

By JUDY COSGROVE

St. Frederick's paid its tribute to Pope Pius XII last Friday afternoon at assembly. A panel composed of seniors and moderated by Mike Metty, Student Council president, discussed the different phases of the Pope's life, his years in the papacy, and his many achievements.

Taking part in the panel were Mary Jean Brandt, Cynthia Moloney, Tom Lufkin, and Gary Sebaske.

Many high school students took part in confirmation Wednesday, acting as sponsors or singing in the glee club, under the direction of Edward Higbee. Joanne Goodsell, Carol Lawler, and Mary Louise Theeringer, all seniors, helped with Catechism instructions for the confirmation class.

Find Decision Hard to Make

Northern Students Ballot on Class Ring Designs

By BARBARA SHAVER

Getting class rings is a big event at any school, for it seems to give the feeling of getting closer to graduation day.

This week Northern seniors have been busy deciding on a crest for their rings. This task has been difficult for the committee looking at styles. Those on the committee are, Anida Bowers, chairman; Richard Bradshaw, Bud Bihl, and Beverly Donato.

The student body was given a choice of four by the committee. Students were urged to look at the designs and decide on that they liked best. Designs were posted on the window of the school office all last week and this week.

Thursday the students passed by in homeroom classes to once again view the choices. Then they proceeded to vote.

The husky emblem was also chosen this week. Art instructor John Silvonen made a sketch of the design, which was then perfected by professional designers. This emblem is going to be worn on the back of the basketball jackets. It is the head of a husky in the form of a "V" with the words Pontiac Northern under it.

Northern has been losing its shiny look from the inside, for drapes are being put up. Each classroom will gradually receive its own, but it takes a lot of time and hard work, so the only rooms to get them right now are the classrooms in the front of the building and the counselors' offices.

Troy High Planning for Homecoming

By JUDY FERGUSON

Half-time ceremonies of the Troy-Clawson football game next Friday will spotlight the coronation of Troy's second homecoming queen.

The queen will be chosen from three senior candidates—Sue Sloan, Naia Coons and Barbara Wass. The royal lady will be selected by the 30 varsity members of the football team. She will be crowned by co-captains Dave Stokes and Chuck Steele.

Members of the queen's court will be Sally Wilcox and Ina Campbell, juniors, and Mary Jesson and Sharon Williams, sophomores. These girls were chosen by the students of their classes.

Oswego, N.Y., is the easternmost American port on the Great Lakes.

Waterford High Sophs Choose Class Officers

By JEAN REXFORD

Election of sophomore class officers was recently held at Waterford Township High School.

Bob Newman was elected president; Sue Mobey, vice-president; Paulette MacAbee, secretary; and Carolyn Klender, treasurer.

The fourth annual Homecoming was held last weekend. A pep assembly kicked off the affair with the announcement of homecoming king and queen.

Sue Kuhn and Dick Finkbeiner reigned over the various activities of the weekend. The royal pair were crowned at the "Coronation Ball" which was held last Saturday.

The 1958 edition of the Waterlog, the school yearbook, received the highest rating given by the National Yearbook Association in Columbia, Missouri, which is sponsored by the University of Missouri.

Rochester High Girls Planning Charity Ball

By LOUISE HENRY

For the annual Charity Ball this year, the Jr.-Sr. girls of Rochester High have chosen "Candyland" as the theme. The ball will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight on Nov. 7.

Committees have been chosen, and chairmen appointed. The chairmen are as follows: Paul Simon, theme and decoration; Carolyn Adler, publicity; Mary Way, tickets, and Joann Hill, refreshments.

The group has contracted a fourteen-piece orchestra from Grosse Pointe.

BIG DECISION — Pontiac Northern students went to the polls this week to choose one of four designs as the school's class ring. The four on which the student body voted were selected by a special committee. Committee members (left to right) Beverly Donato, Richard Bradshaw and Bud Bihl examine some of the prospective designs.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

The Capitol people have arrived on the scene with their finest array of LPs in many a month.

For those who like their singing with a "belt," "Politely" (T-1073) by Keely Smith is a gas. Keely (Mrs. Louis Prima) is a vocalist in the Eydie Gorme fashion and does some great stuff here with Billy May's Orch. belting out the orchestrations.

A rocking LP of good and happy jazz is "The Big Horn" (T-1098) by Sam Butera. Backed up by a swing outfit called The Witnesses, Butera (a sax man) has a ball with such standards as "Around the World in Eight Days."

Rounding out some of the top LPs is a new Jackie Gleason LP, "Rebound" (W-1075) which is one of his best, and an album of great pastel moods, "The Ballad Style of Stan Kenton" (T-1068).

FIVE ACES: Tops in the Pontiac area is "Topsy" (Part 2) by Cozy Cole. There is no close race for first spot with Cole's little gold mine out in front by a long shot.

In second is "Tom Dooley" by The Kingston Trio, a disc that's been growing more popular in recent weeks. In third spot is "It's All In The Game" by Tommy Edwards, fading slowly from the limelight.

Fourth spot is a tossup. Tied for honors are "It's Only Make Believe" by Conrad Twitty and a new Ricky Nelson disc "Lonesome Town" and "I've Got A Feeling."

It looks like the Nelson disc is going to be another hot one. In fifth spot is "You Cheated" by The Shields.

Edged from the top five are "Poor Boy" by The Royaltones, "The End" by Earl Grant, and "Tea For Two Cha Cha" by the Tommy Dorsey Orch.

New discs by Pat Boone ("I Remember Tonight") and Johnny Mathis ("Call Me") look like good possibilities.

St. Michael's Newspaper Makes Bow on Monday

By SHELAGH O'ROURKE

The first edition of the school paper, the Michaelite, has been printed and is now being readied for distribution Monday.

The Michaelite is staffed by Shelagh O'Rourke, editor; John Fortier, co-editor; Pierre Mascicci and Russell Greenless, business managers; and Barbara Ardelan, art editor.

Reporters are Tonya Hurst, Jane Rindfusz, Gloria Barnowsky, Joan Gibb, Bob Hellner, Marilyn Biallas, Joe Gallardo, Marsha Vanover and Chuck Clevering.

Sister Mary Callista is the faculty advisor. The paper is published on a monthly basis.

The year's first Student Council assembly was held this week with the entire high school in attendance. Mike Flynn presided as president.

Elected to represent their various classes were Chuck Clevering, sen-

Jerry Guerin, Jerry Randall, Shelby Lockery, Vivian McKinnon, Judy Nelson, Jerry Rowland, Pat Castor, Ken Koonce, John Baggett, and Mary Kavin.

Brandon Students Set for Gala Homecoming

By DORIS GIRDLEY

Homecoming with Oxford is the big event this week at Brandon High.

The traditional chili supper will be held at 5:30 tonight in the Masonic Hall. A parade will follow. A homecoming dance will be held immediately following the game for all from Brandon and Oxford.

The crowning of king and queen will take place during the dance at 10:30 p.m.

Walled Lake Starts Special Program

By SALLY COLLINS

Progress in education is a byword at Walled Lake. This year for the first time an advanced English course is being offered the more capable sophomore students. Ninety sophomores are presently enrolled.

There are three classes of advanced pupils. Their studies include English grammar plus American literature, which is normally a junior subject. Students will be required to do advanced theme writing and special research work.

Those enrolled in these classes are serious academic students who have a very high reading and comprehension rate. For the first time, the faster students will be able to progress at their own rate rather than be held back by slower sophomores.

The combined choruses of the Walled Lake Senior High School will sponsor a dance, "The Fall Flip," from 8 to 11:30 p.m. tonight in the gymnasium.

Floats, Queens to Greet Avondale High Alumni

By CAROL MAZUREK

Homecoming is tonight at Avondale. Floats and queens promote the festive air that welcomes alumni. Homecoming queens are Pat Parker, Wanda Welch, Pat Castor, Sally Maddix, and Carol Mazurek. The Kim-Tones will play at the dance to be held in the gym after the game with Fitzgerald.

The cast for the senior play, "The Curious Savage," has been selected. Theaters are Bill Cassel,

To Tear Down City Eyesores

Scout Leaders to Take Kennett Rd. Buildings to Camp Agawam

A "wrecking bee" is set for Saturday when Boy Scout leaders of the Clinton Valley Council gather on Kennett Road to dismantle buildings recently donated by Oakland County supervisors.

Ten buildings are to be torn down and the lumber transported to Camp Agawam for camp construction work. The site vacated will then be leveled and "spruced up."

Eight other old houses, in fairly good condition, will be transported in a few days to the camp, which is near Lake Orion.

Pontiac City Manager Walter Willman announced "the whole-hearted support of the City is in this activity which will relieve a blight on the Kennett Road neighborhood. The Scouts benefit from the buildings and lumber," he said, "and Pontiac residents gain by the removal of a public eyesore."

At the camp additional construction on the foundations which already have been laid for placement of the eight buildings will be made.

Several of the new buildings will be used for staff quarters during the summer season and as troop lodges during the rest of the year. Other buildings will be used for a workshop for the camp ranger, hospital and tent storage.

Egan Given The Bird

Aurora Mayor Appoints Parrot Chief of Police

AURORA, Ill. (AP) — Mayor Paul Egan, described by friend and foe alike as vociferous, vitriolic and vituperative, was virtually speechless Thursday.

It seems that the mayor, who has been up to his elbows in trouble with his police department, was given the bird, A parrot, no less.

And for the first time since he became mayor nearly five years ago, he didn't have any comment. Egan had announced Wednesday he was appointing as police chief Senor Carr, described as a swashbuckling, cavalier adept at sword play, gun play and catch-as-catch-can combat.

It developed that Senor Carr is a talkative bird that earned a reputation in New York night club for calling on the cops, not calling them names.

The parrot reportedly is 100 years old and was said by the night club press agent to have prevented two burglaries.

Senor Carr was the third police chief Egan has appointed since he fired Chief Donald Curran a couple of weeks ago. However, Curran didn't quit. Neither did the 68 policemen Egan fired. Curran and the cops have the backing of the Aurora City Council in their feud with the 60-year-old mayor.

Curran jailed Egan last Tuesday night on a charge of disorderly conduct in connection with a meeting the mayor had called in the City Council chamber.

Detroit Paper Hints Air Force Cover-Up

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press said today the Air Force is "trying to cover up" a report "which contains findings of mismanagement in the ballistic missiles program."

The story, written under a Washington dateline by a member of the newspaper's Washington bureau staff, said, "A storm is working up in Congress over the Air Force's refusal to permit examination of the report by General Accounting Office auditors."

It said the report was made after a study of the missile program by the Air Force inspector general's office. Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, head of the GAO, was said to have complained about the suppression to Congress and was quoted as saying, "Withholding information permits concealment of adverse conditions by those basically responsible."

The story also said Air Force Secretary James H. Douglas told Campbell, "The public interest would best be served by not releasing the report."

It quoted "informed sources" as saying such terms as "mismanagement," "Shortcomings" and "inefficiency" were contained in the inspector general's report.

The population of the U.S.S.R. (Union of Soviet Socialist Republics) is about 193 million.

4 Helicopters Forced Down by Hailstorm

TEMPERANCE, Ill. — Four giant helicopters made emergency landings in a soybean patch near this southeast Michigan town last night because of high winds and a hailstorm.

No one was hurt.

The twin-engine 'copters were en route from New River Marine Base at Jacksonville, N.C., to Detroit. One of the Marines, Gene Ellison, 21, found himself just two miles from home. His parents live in Erie.

Lions Have Backs to Wall in NFL Race

Baltimore Has Thoughts Set on '58 Crown

Briggs Stadium Game Is Key to Detroit's Stay in Chase

DETROIT — With their backs literally against the wall in defense of their World Championship, the Detroit Lions take on one of the chief threats to the title in the Baltimore Colts, Sunday in Briggs Stadium.

Kickoff is 1:30 p.m. (EST) and a crowd of 55,000 seems assured for the second meeting of the year between the two clubs.

Baltimore opened the season with a 28-15 decision over the Lions and has continued to roll with consecutive victories over the Chicago Bears, 51-38, and Green Bay, 24-17. Detroit, meanwhile, is looking for its first triumph of the year after losing to the Colts, tying Green Bay, 13-13, and dropping a 42-28 decision to the Los Angeles Rams.

The Colts must be considered as definite title timber on the strength of their victory over Green Bay last week. Down 17-0 early in the game, Baltimore retained its poise and fought back to tie the score on a field goal in the last four minutes and then go on to the win on a long pass interception return for a touchdown by Andy Nelson.

Detroit and Los Angeles staged one of the most hotly-contested offensive battles in recent years before the West Coast club stopped a Lion drive with a pass interception late in the fourth period and went on to win in the closing minutes.

As was the case in 1957, the Colt game may well hold the key to whatever success the 1958 Lions are to enjoy. Last year, Detroit scored a sensational 31-27 comeback victory with two touchdowns within a 75-second period and with less than a minute remaining. The Colts had raced to a 27-3 edge in the middle of the third period, only to see that margin vanish when Bobby Layne and Hopalong Cassidy combined efforts for two scoring aeriels in the closing moments.

Walled Lake Winner of I-L Harrier Title

In one of the closest Inter-Lakes harrier meets in years, Walled Lake high school runners yesterday ran off with their 6th straight league crown. Don Smith's boys were paced by Jack Hobbs who finished 6th. Other Vikings in the top list included George Beeman, 8th, and Chet Valentine, 10th. Ray Taubles, 11th, and Mike Cosgrove, 13th.

Individual winner was Berkeley's fine Steve Meyers at 10:50.5, followed by Southfield's Don Karr. Al Krumm of Berkeley, Jerry Liebler of Southfield, Larry Chapman of Waterford (5th), Dale Perry of Berkeley (7th), Charles Teaney of Van Dyke (9th). Meyers went into the lead over Karr at the last 600-yards, finished well up.

Team standings were: Walled Lake 48, Berkeley 59, Southfield 61, Waterford 77, Van Dyke and Farmington tied at 133.

REC PROGRAM — Part of the Pontiac Recreation program being offered this winter includes fencing, swimming, weight lifting and table tennis. Top photo shows fencing instructor Eldon Gardner giving three members of his group, Mary Lou St. Clair, Carol Grimes and Mary Lee Meginley, instruction in the art. Swimming instructor Glorine Harris has Bob Perry and Dwight Taylor in her clinic.

Activities at PCH Rec Program Is Offered

Four recreational programs are being offered by the Pontiac Recreation department and the Board of Education at Pontiac Central for children and teenagers.

A swimming program for beginners is offered for all 5th graders. Mark Twain, Herrington Hills, Kennett Road, Malkin, Emerson, Trinity Lutheran, Emmanuel Baptist, St. Frederick, St. Michael and Franklin Schools each Monday and Wednesday at the PCH pool.

Girls meet at 6:30 on Mondays and boys on Wednesdays. Children must have their own towels, suits and caps for girls.

Qualified instructors conduct the program.

For physical fitness or weight-lifting, boys can join the program held at PCH on Tuesday and Thursday sessions from 3:30 to 6:00 p.m., under the supervision of Al Thomas.

A fencing program under the guidance of Eldon Gardner is offered each Wednesday in the girls' gym from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. at PCH.

Experienced and novice fencers are welcome to attend the sessions which includes instruction in foil, epee and sabre. Tennis shoes are required.

An organized table tennis instruction and league program is also under way at Pontiac Central. Activity takes place in the girls' gym each Thursday evening from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. under the supervision of Perc Secord and the Pontiac Table Tennis Association.

Those desiring to participate in these programs can inquire about registration by calling Leonard Buzz at the Recreation Department at FE 3-7131.

Chief Harriers Trail Indians in Valley Meet

Facing a terrific job against a quartet of runners generally regarded in prep circles as the state's best, Pontiac High's harriers turned in a fine effort, yesterday, in the annual Saginaw Valley Conference cross-country meet. Flint Central's favored squad won the title with 23 points and Dean Wilson's Chiefs were runnersup with 67 over the Swartz Creek CC course.

Central's harriers took the first three places, plus eighth and ninth, led by Bill Milm who set a meet record of 10:26 to erase the former mark of 10:28 made by Darby of Arthur Hill. George Fredericksen was 2nd, Gary Cronshaw 3rd, Bill Foster 8th and Buck Wiley 9th.

Chief's sophomore Joe Anderson was 4th (10:26), John Jefferson 6th, and Maurice Johnson 10th. PCH's Jim Patterson was 17th and Jim Nelson 30th.

Other teams finished as follows: Flint Northern 90, Arthur Hill 95, Bay City 104, and Saginaw High 137.

Northern's reserves won the JV meet. Order of finish was — Northern 20, Central 37, Pontiac 109, Arthur Hill 122, Saginaw 202 and Bay City 244.

S-P-Foe Wants to Check Vote

Charges Firm 'Fixed' Ballots of Stockholders to OK Refinancing

DETROIT (AP) — Sol A. Dann, a shareholder and attorney for a group of Studebaker-Packard dissidents, requested the Securities and Exchange Commission to investigate voting in which Studebaker-Packard Corp. reported stockholders approved a refinancing and diversification program.

Dann, long at odds with Studebaker-Packard management and out of court, asked the SEC to impound ballots and proxies voted yesterday.

He said in a telegram to SEC Chairman Edward N. Gabsby that the stockholder meeting was improperly conducted and votes improperly counted.

Dann also claimed management resolutions lacked a required two-thirds majority and accused management of "false statements now appearing in the press that are contrary to the vote announced at the meeting."

Studebaker-Packard reported that 98 per cent of its 6,000,000 shares were voted in favor of the refinancing and diversification program.

GM Division Reveals New Sealed Headlight

ANDERSON, Ind.—Guide Lamp Division of General Motors announces an improved sealed beam headlight that produces "more light, aimed right" for automobiles that do not have the four-lamp headlighting system.

Byron L. Stewart, Guide Lamp general manager, said the new seven-inch lamp will provide more light and better illumination in the lower beam for two-headlamp vehicles. The new lamp carries the trade name, "Guide T-3 Power-beam 30 Headlamp," and may be identified by the numeral "30" impressed in the lens face.

For sale to motorists as a replacement part, it will be made available to local distributors Nov. 1 through the marketing program of GM's AC Spark Plug Division.

Plastic Bag Is Lighter

PUNCTURE SEALING POWDER—Tubeless tire shown above becomes puncture sealing with addition of a rubber powder developed by United States Rubber Co. Powder becomes a fine rubber 'mist' as tire revolves when car is in motion. If tire is punctured, the powder quickly plugs the hole and allows motorist to drive safely for 48 hours or hundreds of miles. Tire has been deflated and pulled away from wheel rim to allow entry of powder.

Robert L. Eriksen Honored as Carrier

Sixteen-year-old Waterford High School senior Robert L. Eriksen is one of 10 Pontiac Press carriers honored recently for excellence in service, salesmanship, citizenship and courtesy.

His interests include archery and electronics, and he is a member of the chemistry club at school, in addition to running the movie camera and tape recorder.

Robert plans to study electronics after graduation.

A Pontiac Press carrier at Crescent Lake since August, 1956, he lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eriksen, 4846 Gilbo St., Waterford Township.

Porch Fire Smoke Suffocates Brothers

MONROE (AP) — Two bachelor brothers suffocated last night when thick smoke from a porch fire swept through their frame home.

The victims were John J. Kerr, 38, and Robert P. Kerr, 40.

The brothers lived alone in a seven-room house on Stony Point Peninsula about 10 miles north of Monroe.

Monroe County Sheriff Charles G. Harrington said the fire began on a glassed-in porch at the front of the house. He said the blaze spread only a little way into the house proper before it was brought under control by volunteer firemen.

Harrington said John's body was found lying in the kitchen and Robert's in a bedroom. He said smoke apparently overcame the two men before they could escape. Neither man was burned.

The blaze was believed touched off by a cigarette.

Only Soybeans Unsteady Grain

CHICAGO (AP) — With the exception of soybeans, grain futures were mostly steady on the board of trade today.

There was early buying of wheat which was attributed to a bullish Department of Agriculture report that showed more than 380 million bushels of wheat under government support at the end of September. Some mills were purchasers of futures, but the overall trade was light.

Corn started steady, mainly on favorable weather for conditioning the crop and expectations that much of this year's production, because of its excellence, will be placed under loan until prices advance.

Soybeans were weak in a quiet trade with no special feature. Rye followed wheat.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Dec. $1.95 1/2; corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, old style Dec. $1.13 1/2; oats 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Dec. 64 1/2; rye 1/4 to 1/2 higher, Dec. $1.29 1/2; and soybeans unchanged to 1/2 lower, Nov. $2.14 1/2.

Nations Claim 3 Miles Up to 200 Miles

Today's Boundary Disputes Concern Water

WASHINGTON — The high seas are open to all. But the world's most troublesome "no trespassing" signs are those planted in water.

A perennial question — "How much of the ocean can a nation call its own?" — has puzzled jurists for years. The 3-mile limit is traditional. But any state is free to stake out a bigger claim and enforce it if possible. There is no international authority to say who's right.

For the mariner, the result is a crazy-quilt pattern of out-of-bounds waters with new signs going up in every direction.

NEW CLAIMS IN '58

The year 1958 has brought these developments: Communist China has extended its territorial waters from 3 to 12 miles—a claim that not only affects Nationalist-held islands but air-sea traffic to the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong.

Iceland seeks to bar British fishermen from its new 12-mile belt of forbidden waters.

An 86-nation conference in Geneva ended in deadlock (as did the previous world conference in 1930) on the problem of changing the 3-mile limit and establishing fishing rights.

Saudi Arabia broadened its coastal zone from 6 to 12 miles.

Other recent events bearing on coastal sovereignty: Indonesia claimed all waters in and around its 3,000 islands; Argentine warships depth-charged an unidentified submarine in coastal waters.

U. S. STANDS PAT

Numerous nations, notably the United States, the United Kingdom, western European powers, and Commonwealth countries, stand pat on the old limit of one league or 3 nautical miles. That limit was originally geared to defense, supposedly the distance a land-based cannon could shoot. The principle was set forth by the Dutch authority Bynkershoek in 1703 and is the only one on which there has been anything like common agreement.

Its proponents refuse to recognize other claims. The United States objects to a drastic change on several grounds, including economy. Patrolling a 12-mile width of territorial waters would cost the United States an additional $180,000,000 each year, not to mention the initial outlays for buoys, fog signals, channel markers and the like.

Moreover a 12-mile limit for all nations would reduce the high seas by 2,500,000 square miles—an area roughly the size of the United States.

More than 30 countries have asserted their sovereignty over zones ranging from 4 to 12 miles. Scandinavian powers have decreed a 4-mile zone for their irregular coastlines. Fifteen widely scattered nations claim 6 miles. The Soviet bloc, in particular, claims 12.

CLAIM 200 MILES

Six Latin American states—Chile, Costa Rica, Ecuador, El Salvador, Honduras and Peru—have extended their territorial waters 200 miles seaward in the past decade.

Panama, Nicaragua and South Korea claim as private property all waters covering their continental shelves. (The United States claims the right to exploit and explore the seabeds of its continental shelf, but doesn't outlaw anyone from the waters or air space above.)

Claims and unrecognized claims create confusion. In 1954 alleged trespassing off South America tossed this bizarre case into the laps of international jurists: Four whalers owned by an Argentine citizen of Greek origin and identity who resides in France, and whose ships flew the Panamanian flag, were manned by German crews and carried British insurance, were set upon by Peru in an action backed by Ecuador and Chile.

Ordinary Pencil Can Draw Line 35 Miles Long

NEW YORK (AP) — A plain old ordinary seven-inch pencil will draw a line 35 miles long before you run out of lead and begin scraping your knuckles.

The pencil industry turns out 1½ billion pencils a year, enough to draw a line 52½ billion miles long or two million times around the earth.

That's just a sample of some of the facts and figures that the pencil people's statisticians have calculated (with a pencil, of course) to amaze us ordinary users.

For instance: There are 350 different kinds of pencils made in the United States in 19 different degrees of hardness. They come in 72 different shades of colors, including the ever-popular yellow.

They range in design from the large round ones for little children, who like to grasp them like a broom handle, to the precise hard lead jobs used by engineers and architects.

Pencils are scarce in many parts of the world but in the United States each of us uses an average of nine per year — and that includes those that are chewed and tapped on desks.

But there's one thing the statisticians haven't figured out. If there are that many pencils kicking around, why is it so many telephone conversations open with the words:

"Wait a minute. Wait until I find a pencil."
