Makes Most of Fun in the Sun

HEADS FOR GOLF COURSE—A sun-tanned Kennedy-Clifford today will be for a crowd in front of his vacation home at Palm Beach, Fla., Sunday, as he headed for an afternoon on the golf course. The vacationing

Kennedy, nattily attired in sports clothes, has sun glasses perched atop his head. He was to confer today with Clark Clifford, his chief liaison man with the outgoing Republican administration.

Confers With Liaison Man

Jack Eyes Control Shift

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The big task of shifting government control from the Eisenhower administration to the new Democratic regime gets President-elect John F. Kennedy's personal attention today.

Kennedy arranged to confer most of the day at his Atlantic shore home with Clark Clifford, his chief liaison man with the outgoing Republicans.

Clifford, who served as special counsel to President Harry S. Truman, was picked by Kennedy shortly after his nomination last July to make a study of the problems of transition from one administration to another.

Clifford had the study well under way when Kennedy won the Nov. 8 election. Since then, Clifford has conferred twice with President Eisenhower's chief aide, Wilton B. Persons.

These conferences and the Kennedy-Clifford talks today will be climaxed soon by a meeting of the president-elect and Eisenhower for a top level discussion of the changeover.

From his two advisers Kennedy will get a list of some 120 top positions for which he will be choosing appointees between now and his inauguration Jan. 20, or immediately thereafter. Hundreds of lesser jobs also must be filled.

Clifford, who arrived Sunday afternoon, had still another Kennedy assignment. He represented the president-elect at a conference with a delegation sent here by the Louisiana Legislature.

The group was under instructions to find out Kennedy's views on a federal court order enjoining the legislature from interfering with school integration in New Orleans. The delegation outlined its mission to Clifford, who simply listened and promised to report to Kennedy.

Labor members of Parliament and some conservatives have questioned the wisdom of the deal on the ground that Detroit could call the tune for British Ford and even lay off workers if it suits the company's over-all production plans.

Critics are unhappy at the already significant segment of the British economy controlled by U.S. firms through their British subsidiaries.

Ford officials have stressed that they plan to expand rather than contract operations of British Ford.

Lloyd said if the American company were denied full ownership of its British subsidiary this might prompt Ford to concentrate on development of its wholly owned West German company.

British Ford, with its big production works at Dagenham on the Thames, employs 47,000 workers. A study by efficiency experts at Dagenham set off a strike there during the past week.

Workers held a mass meeting outside the factory gates today and voted to return to work beginning with the night shift.

With Smathers, the president-elect talked over the menace of communist penetration in Cuba and other Latin American countries.

Jap Vote to Conservatives as Ikeda Retains Office

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's pro-U.S. ruling conservatives rolled back to control of Parliament today but failed to get the all-out backing they had asked of the nation's voters.

The conservatives claimed their victory was a broad endorsement of the U.S.-Japan security pact and other close ties with the West.

Their leftist opponents claimed defeat gave proof just the opposite.

The nationwide Sunday balloting that returned Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's Liberal Democratic (conservative) to power followed the same general pattern of elections in Japan since World War II.

It showed a conservative majority battling a slowly but steadily increasing leftist minority. A middle-road appeal, made by the Democratic Socialist party, was crushed as Japanese voters repeated their sharp swing to the right and left.

REVS REST IN 10 YEARS
The Communists made their best showing in 10 years, increasing their vote from 2.6 to 2.9 per cent and winning three seats.

The vote came against a background of mob scenes in Parliament, violent demonstrations against the U.S.-Japan security pact and President Eisenhower's canceled visit to Japan.

While party leaders played on foreign policy themes during the campaign, regional and domestic issues and personalities were, as always, important.

With all but one of 467 parliamentary seats decided, the unofficial count gave this breakdown:

Liberal Democrats 296, Socialists 165, Democratic Socialists 16, Communists 3, Agrarians 1, Independents 5.

The five independents elected are considered in the conservative camp.

With 96 per cent of the popular vote tabulated, the Liberal Democrats had 23,106,735 or 57.8 per cent; the Socialists 10,468,248 or 27.4 per cent; Democratic Socialists 2,319,087 or 5.9 per cent; Communists 1,008,673 or 2.6 per cent; minor parties 134,511 for 0.3 per cent and the Independents 1,898,944 for 4.8 per cent.

While the outcome gave Ikeda and his Liberal Democratic a solid victory, they failed in their announced aim of boosting their House strength to 312. That would have given them the two-thirds majority needed in the 467-member house to carry out long-range plans for amending the constitution to strengthen the status of the army and the emperor.

U.S. Exports to Red Bloc Are on Decline

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government-issued licenses for exports to Soviet bloc countries declined in July, August and September.

Commerce Secretary Frederick H. Mueller reported Sunday night that licenses for American goods valued at $19,536,000 were approved during the three months.

This compared with $24.5 million in April, May and June and the record $35.4 million in the first three months of 1960.

Commerce department officials said there had been no stiffening of regulations and they saw no connection between the decline and cold war developments.

WILLIAMSTON (UPI)—Police said today two sticks of dynamite, "enough to do a whale of a lot of damage," were found in the locker of a 14-year-old boy at the Williamston High School.

GOP Tax Leader Willing to Listen

HOLLAND (UPI)—The chairman of the powerful tax committee of the State Senate today adopted a conciliatory attitude toward Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson's tax program.

Swainson announced a four-point plan for state taxes before he left for a Florida vacation Saturday.

Senate Tax Chairman Clyde H. Geerlings, R-Holland, after digesting the program during the weekend, said he agreed with other members of his party that the program was "extremely vague."

But he predicted the program would be received with "open-minded good will" by the Republican-controlled Legislature.

JUDGED ON MERIT
"As far as the Senate committee is concerned," Geerlings said, "I promise that his bills will be considered strictly on a basis of merit, judged on equality and public acceptance."

In outlining his new program, Swainson:

—Confirmed that he will propose that the legislature use its newly granted power to raise the 3 per cent sales tax to 4 per cent.

—Recommended easing the tax burden on business by trimming locally-imposed personal property taxes and substituting a "sound and equitable" state tax which would be given to local communities.

—Proposed enactment of legislation at the state level to permit local governments to meet rising demands for service, perhaps opening the doors for local income taxes.

—Reiterated his desire for an overhaul of the state's business taxes to shift from fixed-cost taxation to taxes based on "ability to pay," like the corporation profit tax recommended unsuccessfully for so long by outgoing Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Ex-NL Catcher Piloted Cubs Three Seasons

Reportedly Gets 2-Year Contract for $35,000 to Replace Joe Gordon

DETROIT (AP)—Bob Scheffing, ex-major league catcher and manager of the Chicago Cubs three seasons, today was named to manage the Detroit Tigers.

The 45-year-old former backstop for the Cubs, St. Louis Cardinals and Cincinnati Reds agreed to a reported $35,000 salary. Reports also said the contract is for two years.

The signing of Scheffing ended a long search by the Tigers for a successor to Joe Gordon, now manager of the Kansas City Athletics.

Scheffing is the eighth Detroit manager in 10 years.

The Tigers were left high and dry when Gordon suddenly quit Oct. 2, two months after leaving Cleveland in the unprecedented managerial trade for Jimmy Dykes.

Gordon brought the Tigers to sixth in the American League. To become skipper at Detroit, Scheffing had to seek his release from the Milwaukee Braves.

He was a coach for the Braves since the Cubs let him out at the end of the 1959 season and already had signed with Milwaukee for 1961.

Tiger President John Peter, who acquired control of the club last month, turned his attention to Scheffing only after he failed to sign Casey Stengel.

Stengel, let loose by the New York Yankees after winning 10 pennants in 12 years, decided last week not to take the Tigers' offer.

Scheffing managed the Cubs from 1957 through the 1959 campaign. He brought them home in the second division all three seasons.

Although his entire eight-season playing career was spent in the National League, Scheffing is no stranger to the American League. He was a coach with the old St. Louis Browns in 1952 and 1953.

In 1954, he returned to the Cubs as a coach but became manager of their Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific Coast League early in the 1955 season.

With two years of managerial apprenticeship, he became coach of the Cubs after the 1958 season.

Scheffing never was a great hitter, posting a lifetime batting mark of .283. But he was regarded as a fine catcher and a good handler of pitchers.

HE'S THE MAN—Bob Scheffing poses in a Detroit Tiger jersey at a news conference today after the club revealed he is its new manager. The number is misleading. It might better have been an "8," since Scheffing is the eighth Tiger manager in the last 10 years. This may be the handwriting on the wall for Tiger third baseman Eddie Yost, who has worn No. 1. Yost is on the draft list of Tigers available to new teams in the American League.

Father of 5, Woman Found Dead in Crash

A Pontiac Township father of five children and a woman passenger were found dead Sunday morning on Mt. Clemens Street, hours after the car in which they had been riding crashed into a tree.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital at 7:15 a.m. were William D. Billiter, 30, of 2634 Genes Drive, Pontiac Township, and Mrs. Joseph (Ann) E. Nard, 30, of 688 Linda Vista Drive.

Dr. Donald S. Smith, deputy coroner, said that Mrs. Nard's life might have been saved had she received emergency treatment soon enough after the accident.

The bodies of the pair were discovered shortly after 7 a.m. by Herbert Wildgoose, 1273 Mt. Clemens St., who notified police.

Police were unable to fix the exact time of the accident, but estimated it at around 4 a.m. The bodies and the car were on the east side of the street on lawns from 1249 to 1263 Mt. Clemens St.

Several residents in the neighborhood told police they'd heard a crash in the night, but hadn't bothered to investigate.

Officers learned that Billiter, an IBM operator for the Pontiac Motor Division, and Mrs. Nard, a waitress at the Green Parrot restaurant, had left the restaurant together shortly before the accident.

Police believe that Billiter, driving north on Mt. Clemens, apparently missed a curve, traveled 217 feet before striking the tree, and then went another 180 feet before coming to a halt.

Mrs. Nard, the mother of one child, suffered a severe scalp laceration, a probable fractured skull, a fractured leg, and multiple internal injuries.

Billiter suffered fractured ribs, multiple internal injuries, and a broken neck. Dr. Smith doubted that Billiter's life could have been saved had he been discovered earlier.

Johnson Quiets Fears of NATO
PARIS (AP)—Vice President Elton B. Johnson drew cheers today as he told legislators from Atlantic Alliance countries that the United States stands by President Eisenhower's Atlantic policies.

Johnson said the U.S. election in no way was "a repudiation of President Eisenhower's support for the instruments of mutual strength in Western Europe."

The tall Texas senator was loudly applauded as he strode into the assembly room of the parliamentary conference of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

His vigorous bipartisan speech was frequently interrupted by applause of legislators drawn from all over Western Europe and Canada.

Johnson made a political tour of the hall, shaking hands all about at the conference's opening session. He strode across the hall to warmly shake hands with French Premier Michel Debre, who spoke just before Johnson.

Debre disclaimed any attempt on the part of French President Charles de Gaulle to weaken NATO parliamentary conference which opened today.

Johnson was loudly cheered as he told the delegates that the new U.S. administration will stand by President Eisenhower's Atlantic policies. At right is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, (D-Ark.)

Congolese Slab Two Americans

Angry Crowd Descends on 3 Men, Woman After Fatal Bike Accident

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A crowd of knife-wielding Congolese Sunday fell upon three American men and a woman whose car accidentally killed a Negro cyclist. Two of the Americans were wounded.

CWO Clyde St. Lawrence of New Bedford, Mass., a member of the military attaché staff at the U.S. Embassy, was stabbed three times as he ran from the car he had been driving.

Frank Carleton of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., political officer at the embassy, stayed at the scene as the others fled.

He was stabbed in the back and beaten before he jumped aboard a passing bus.

U.S. military attaché Lt. Col. Edward Dammert and his wife pushed through the crowd until while it went after St. Lawrence. The latter was picked up by a U.S. vice consul, Allen Palmer, of Amityville, Long Island, N.Y., who happened to be passing in her car.

St. Lawrence was taken to Lovanium Hospital and given a blood transfusion. His condition was described as not serious. Carleton required three stitches.

Use Wire Services in New Alert System

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's newest alert system is being advanced to the missile age today with a signed agreement providing for a nationwide alert in less than 10 minutes.

Signatories to the agreement here are the Air Force, the Federal Communications Commission, The Associated Press and United Press International.

The agreement will integrate the entire facilities of the new alert system for use as an alert system in event of a national emergency.

Under the new system of Conelrad, virtually every radio station in the nation could be notified in three to eight minutes after it was determined by the Air Force that an enemy attack was likely of under way.

Snow Storm Hits Washington With Up to 6 Inches

By The Associated Press
An early snowstorm whipped into western Washington by powerful winds Sunday dumped up to six inches of snow on parts of the state.

The storm dined power and communications lines in several sections. Olympia, the state capital, measured six inches. Three inches of snow fell in Seattle. Gale-force winds lashed much of Washington and Oregon, in some areas exceeding heavy rain.

The storm diminished today when generally fair weather prevailed across the nation. Cloudy skies dimmed the central Atlantic states. Ohio River Valley and parts of the Southwest.

Civil Service Pay Hike of 7 1/2 Pct. Sought in State

LANSING (UPI) — A proposal for a 7 1/2 per cent wage hike for state civil service employees was expected to be presented to the Civil Service Commission tomorrow at a public hearing.

Spokesmen for union organizations who have members among state employees were expected to join the Michigan State Employees Association, in the recommendations which would add $12.7 million to the state's annual payroll for its 30,000 civil service workers.

Commission officials said no decision on wages would be made until at least the December meeting.

Details of a survey of wages paid by private employers in the state and civil service units across the country were to be disclosed at the meeting.

Soviet Union Expels U.S. Air Attache

MOSCOW (AP) — Maj. Irving T. McDonald, assistant U.S. Air attaché, was ordered today to leave the Soviet Union on the charge of conduct unbecoming a military attaché.

The Russians accused McDonald of engaging in activities considered here as espionage.

He is the second U.S. Air attaché expelled from the Soviet Union in recent months.

Minister Counsellor Edward J. Press was called to the foreign office this afternoon and told that McDonald must leave as soon as possible.

Here it was supposed that the expulsion order was in retaliation for the arrest of Igor V. Melnik, chief of the Russian translation section of the United Nations, in the case of espionage.

Eyes Special Session on Nuisance Taxes

BUCHANAN (UPI) — Rep. Don R. Peary, R-Buchanan, speaker of the Michigan House, said he wants a special session of the legislature to take up repeal action on Michigan's "nuisance tax" package.

Peary said he will send an official communication tomorrow to Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Gov.-Elect John B. Swainson asking that the legislature meet back the expiration date of the "nuisance taxes" to Dec. 31 of this year, from the original June 30, 1961 date.

The legislature is expected to act on the special session in time to act on the recent vote approval for raising the state sales tax ceiling from three per cent to four per cent.

Peary said it is likely a higher sales tax would be in effect for it to become effective Jan. 1.

The "nuisance tax" package brings in about $55 million. The higher sales tax has been estimated to bring in about $118 million.

Relax, Says Dr. White

LONDON (UPI) — Boston's Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who treated President Eisenhower when he had his heart attack, said Sunday that it's how you relax while playing golf and not the game itself that gives medicinal value to the sport. White said it's the "relaxation—not the exercise—counts."

Western Europe Holds Key to Future of Dollar

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nations of western Europe now have it in their power to rock the American financial system any day in the week.

All that stands between crisis and stability is an intangible called "confidence" that the U.S. dollar will remain "as good as gold."

Foreign governments and their citizens own about $15 billion of Uncle Sam's money. Most of these dollars are owned by Western Europeans and are deposited or invested in the United States.

Theoretically, all could be used to buy American gold.

If all were used for this purpose, Uncle Sam's supply of bullion would be wiped out. There is only $18 billion of gold in the government's coffers.

Rayburn Sees Congress and Kennedy in Harmony

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., predicted today that the new Congress would pass bills to aid depressed areas, housing and school construction and raise the minimum wage.

Rayburn also listed a farm bill and medical care for the aged as among "the principal things that we will try to get early in the session and get through with as early as possible."

The veteran House leader indicated he foresees no chance of a tax cut but said he hoped Congress would close some tax loopholes. He said he did not look upon the all depletion allowance as a loophole, however.

Rayburn, 78, who has served as speaker longer than any man in history, made the statements in a copyrighted interview with the U.S. News & World Report at his home in Bonham, Tex.

He predicted that President John F. Kennedy and the Democratic leadership in Congress would work together. The fact that the White House and Congress will be controlled by the same party "will aid a tremendous difference," he said.

Shelley Seeks an Englishman as Her Next Love

LONDON (AP) — Actress Shelley Winters fell into London over the weekend all set to "make a movie and fall in love with an Englishman."

Miss Winters, who divorced actor Anthony Franciosa Friday, came to Britain to play the role of the mother in "Lolita," the film of the novel by Vladimir Nabokov.

"I'm seriously considering coming to live over here," she told newsmen. "The pace is so much slower in Britain than in America."

"You've got so many intellectuals," she added. "And another thing, I'm single and I like to fall in love with an Englishman."

Osage Residents Shiver as Gas Heat Is Cut Off

OSAGE (AP) — "Br" was the word around this Western Michigan community.

About 1,800 homes lost their gas service Saturday night, Michigan Utilities Co. said an automatic regulator broken at Allegan, shutting off the flow to Osage and Plainwell.

The company restored service to about half the homes Sunday. The rest will get service within a day or two, a gas company spokesman said.

Cuban Shoots U.S. Official

HAVANA (UPI) — A new diplomatic clash appeared shaping up today between the United States and Cuba over the shooting of an unarmed American embassy aide by a Cuban army officer during a dispute in a Havana nightclub over a U.S. $5 bill.

Wayne E. Henderson, 24, of Pasadena, Calif., an embassy communications officer, was reported in "relatively satisfactory" condition following surgery at the police hospital for the wound suffered Saturday night.

His assailant was identified as Capt. Jorge Robreno Mariquez of the army's technical investigation department. Robreno was taken into custody by police and held for questioning at La Cabana Prison.

Henderson was shot by a 45-caliber pistol held against his stomach. Hospital authorities said the slug went through his body, entering the stomach over the left hip and emerging from his back, narrowly missing the spinal column.

American and Cuban authorities, while agreeing the argument was over money, gave conflicting versions of the incident.

Sources here expressed belief that in view of the bad blood between Cuba and the United States, the revolutionary Cuban regime may file formal charges against Henderson, accusing him of attempting to pass a counterfeit U.S. banknote.

U.S. Embassy officials were reported prepared to reject the accusation, on the basis of a report on the shooting given by Henderson's companion, Marine Cpl. William E. Tompkins, of Warren, Ohio, an embassy guard.

Others attending: Edward Karlov, chairman of the committee; James P. Dickerson, chairman of the subcommittee on industrial development; and committee members James Spence, Bert Henson and Mark Harper.

Dog Gets Needle After Reaction to Pal's Death

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Baron, a two-year-old Dachshund whose brown body and mongrel friend was killed by a car, was placed under sedation Sunday night.

The little Dachshund dragged the mongrel, Jenny, from the street into his yard. Then he stood over her for 90 minutes, not letting anyone near her.

Police dragged him away and locked him in a store room at his owner's home. A veterinarian later placed him under sedation.

The Commerce Department said Sunday night the yearly rate of output in goods and services—the gross national product—now was $503.5 billion, up $50 million from the initial estimate for July, August and September that was issued a month ago.

The GBPA is dedicated to preserving the Gettysburg Battlefield Park and to insure the future safety of important battle sites now privately owned and available for housing and commercial development.

Flack, of 200 Larches Drive, is one of seven men heading state committees of GBPA. At the annual meeting, plans were discussed to expand the organization to include all 50 states.

The interest in keeping the battlefields a symbol of American courage and valor has even spread overseas with the recent announcement of the formation of a GBPA group in England.

At the meeting Allen reported: "We had hoped that by now Congress would have taken a firm hand in this alarming situation. But the restrictions tied to the federal appropriations in the form of local zoning requirements prevent the adequate use of these funds by the National Park Service."

"I believe that our record of the names of more than 45,000 contributors from every state in the union is a firm petition for public funds to save the battlefield," he added.

He said the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has organized the GBPA program, is ready to launch a publicity campaign in behalf of the organization.

Allen lauded the efforts of television personality Cliff Arquette (Charles Weaver) as chairman of the GBPA Emergency Committee, for his success in raising funds for the project.

Urges Christmas Boycott of Unmixed S.C. Stores

COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — The South Carolina chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has announced a boycott during the Christmas season of stores with segregated lunch counters and rest rooms.

Ray Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, asked at a meeting Sunday that all the state's colored citizens refrain from buying Christmas gifts at stores which practice segregation, and was loudly applauded by about 1,000 Negroes attending.

Republican Appeal

Speaking at the opening of the annual conference, Johnson made a vigorous bipartisan appeal for a new long step toward a richer meaning for freedom.

The Texas senator told 200 assembled legislators from NATO's constituent states of legislation is still in America.

"A new generation of Americans — who came to early maturity fighting for freedom on the fields of Europe and the islands of the Pacific — is coming to power in the leadership of our land," Johnson said.

"In their hearts is a determination to make the most vigorous use of America's resources and capacities to assure their children, and the children of all nations a peace."

Johnson stressed that he was speaking as senator and not specifically outlining policies of the administration of President-Elect John F. Kennedy. However, Kennedy read the speech when he and Johnson met last week in Texas.

Anti-U.S. Chanting in San Salvador

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Thousands of workers, peasants and students, chanting "No country yes, Yankees no," took part in a massive demonstration of support for the ruling military junta Sunday night.

The demonstration included a mass meeting and a march past the presidential palace. The demonstrators shouted slogans of loyalty to the junta which overthrew the regime of President Jose Maria Lemus earlier this month. They denounced "Yankies," Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, "big office planters," "big land owners" and "reactionaries."

Use Wire Services in New Alert System

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's newest alert system is being advanced to the missile age today with a signed agreement providing for a nationwide alert in less than 10 minutes.

Signatories to the agreement here are the Air Force, the Federal Communications Commission, The Associated Press and United Press International.

The agreement will integrate the entire facilities of the new alert system for use as an alert system in event of a national emergency.

Under the new system of Conelrad, virtually every radio station in the nation could be notified in three to eight minutes after it was determined by the Air Force that an enemy attack was likely of under way.

Relax, Says Dr. White

LONDON (UPI) — Boston's Dr. Paul Dudley White, the heart specialist who treated President Eisenhower when he had his heart attack, said Sunday that it's how you relax while playing golf and not the game itself that gives medicinal value to the sport. White said it's the "relaxation—not the exercise—counts."

Child Injured, Home Lost

It was Friday that the little girl suffered a blow on the head when what apparently was a normal childhood fall.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wagner, 683 Cedarlane St. in lay, gutted by a 3 a.m. fire.

Their only child, Minnie, 14 months old, when she was in the hospital, victim of a possible brain concussion.

The couple's attempt to give the baby medical care helped lead to the fire.

West to Go Slow on Summit Confab

The reason is that the West wants no repetition of last spring's Paris fiasco and will take plenty of time to prepare, probably urging that the first contact with Russia be at the foreign ministers' level.

Moscow's latest maneuverings suggest that Khrushchev aims at a quick Berlin "settlement" at the next summit session, and a foreign ministers' conference preceding it could help determine the chances for success.

Score propaganda:

The Communists have drawn up plans for establishment of a civil defense air raid corps in East Berlin. The step is in line with the Communist campaign to convince East Germans they are threatened by an attack from West Germany.

Gaitskill wine:

Hugh Gaitskill, at least temporarily, has quashed his opposition among Britain's laborite parliamentary delegation.

He now can be expected to go all out to attempt to convince the national party that it must drop its newly-adopted policy favoring unilateral nuclear disarmament.

He is expected to argue that Labor's poor showing against the traditionally weak liberal party in this week's by-elections show that voters won't support a leading party or one favoring unilateral disarmament.

The by-election laborite candidates who feared worst were those who opposed Gaitskill's firm allegiance to NATO.

Diplomatic blunder:

The Nationalist Chinese face a major diplomatic challenge in establishing smooth and cordial relations with the administration of U.S. President-Elect Kennedy.

Since World War II, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has found

Finnish President Visits Moscow on West Trade

some of his staunchest American supporters among the Republicans.

Conversely, they fear the Democratic party to be too liberal to stand firm against the Communist Chinese.

The Nationalists apparently believed Richard Nixon would win the election and allowed themselves to become careless.

Three weeks before the election, the Nationalist foreign ministry issued a statement calling Kennedy's views on the offshore islands "ridiculous" and "incredible."

Red China trade:

Tokyo observers are predicting stepped-up trade between Japan and Communist China.

An increasing number of ruling liberal-Democratic party members are lining up trips to Red China, apparently in the belief the new U.S. administration will take a more flexible view toward Red China.

HERE'S YOUR NEIGHBOR

Your neighbor was down the other day, you may have noticed him, loaded down with dozens of parcels right in the thick of his Christmas shopping. You no doubt wondered why your neighbor... who makes no more than you do... was able to afford such a buying spree; was able to get such a jump on his Christmas shopping. You perhaps figured he was living beyond his means. That of course would be a wrong guess, if he were one of the millions of other families who live better than their neighbor on no greater income simply because they make better use of their income and their credit privileges.

You can enjoy more of the newer things now without waiting for accumulated cash by buying wisely on credit and paying all bills as agreed. Plan today to shop the modern way.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the elasticity that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shriveled that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style salts and stimulants may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and stimulants may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and stimulants may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief.

Road Officials to Meet Nov. 28

2,000 to Hear Speakers at Detroit Convention Talk on Freeways

DETROIT (UP)—Some 2,000 highway officials from the United States and Mexico are expected to pour into Detroit next week for the 46th annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials, according to Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Mackie termed the Nov. 28-Dec. 3 meeting "one of the most important in the history of the organization."

The meeting, he said, will be held on the eve of a congressional session of the Interstate Highway program "which some would like to see slowed down."

"Highway officials at the meeting will map plans to convince Congress the 41,000-mile interstate program must be completed on schedule in 1972," Mackie said.

Four congressmen, all active in highway legislation, are scheduled to speak, he said. They are: Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich.; Rep. George E. Fallon, D-Md.; Rep. John A. Blatnik, D-Minn.; and Rep. Gordon H. Shriver, R-Ohio.

Mackie pointed out that when the final gap in Interstate 94 is completed later this year, Michigan will be the first state to have a border-to-border interstate freeway (Detroit to St. Joseph).

It will be the longest continuous stretch of toll-free interstate freeway in the country (203 miles), he added.

Average adult has about 22 pounds of blood and each pulsation of the heart sends about 10 pounds flowing through the veins and arteries.

FTA SPEAKER—Proper operation and administration of school safety patrols will be the topic discussed by Joseph Zabecki, Automobile Club of Michigan safety education consultant, at the Monday meeting of the Carpenter School Parent-Teacher Association. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the school. A film on safety education and operation of safety patrols also will be shown.

Better Not Buy Him Pet Skunk

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Raymond J. Matthews, manager of the Kent County Animal Shelter, is unhappy about the status mice, hamsters and skunks have attained as pets.

Matthews said his office has received an increased number of bite case reports involving the three types of animals, which are purchased at pet shops.

"I'm not trying to prevent a pet shop owner from making a living, but when many children are bitten this office feels the public should be warned of the danger when such rodents or animals are purchased as pets," Matthews said.

The danger of hamsters and mice having rabies is remote, but seven skunks have been found to be rabid in Michigan this year, he said.

Matthews reported one pet shop operator reported selling as many as 150 mice a week at 47 cents each.

"If people want pets for children, we have many dogs and kittens that will bring just as much joy into their homes as a mouse or skunk," Matthews said.

Many Gifts Swamp Jack and Jackie

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gifts from across the country and elsewhere in the world have flooded down on the residence of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

A spokesman reported that many of the presents have been for the Kennedy's daughter Caroline, who is 3 years old today or for their second child who is expected next month.

The gifts range from a religious statue from Italy, a stuffed donkey from Scotland, homemade sausage and steaks to a can of peanuts.

Rights of Migrants Concern Churches

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Council of Churches has announced a 10-year plan to "eliminate the injustices" suffered by America's migrant farm workers.

The program, formulated by the council's national study conference on the church and migratory labor, attacked the problem both on political and religious levels.

It called upon the church to press for federal legislation which would make migrant workers eligible for a minimum wage and Social Security benefits. The conference report also seeks to prevent the use of child labor among the migrants.

What Killed 5 Charred Men?

Bodies in Car Beside Lonely Kentucky Road
Yield Metal Fragments

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (U) — Metal fragments have been found in the charred bodies of five men found sitting in a car on a lonely road near this Southeastern Kentucky community.

State Police Director David Espe said at Frankfort today the metal fragments had not been positively identified, but they could be either shotgun pellets or rifle bullets.

Meanwhile, autopsies were arranged to determine cause of the deaths.

The bodies were found Sunday by an unidentified little girl walking along Greasy Creek Road about 17 miles southeast of Pikeville. The car, with the interior scorched, but undamaged otherwise, was found in a creekbed. There was very little water around it.

Little was known about the five unemployed men except that they lived in the isolated Greasy section of the county.

A state trooper said he believed two of them, Harvey Ratliff, about 24, and Harmon Robinson, about 35 — were married. However, the trooper said he didn't know if the men had any children.

Two of the men—Buddy and Louie Hopkins were brothers. The fifth victim was Denver Yates, about 25.

Coroner Raymond Call said the dead men "were sitting just as though they'd just gotten into the car."

The coroner said the bodies were so badly burned it was impossible to determine without autopsies and X rays whether the men had been shot or otherwise met with foul play.

Nixon's California Edge to Top 20,000

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—With only 1,200 absentee votes still to be counted Vice President Nixon had a lead of 21,351 today over President-Elect Kennedy for California's 22 electoral votes.

Nixon was more than 34,000 behind at the end of the regular counting. Absenteeism gave him 151,890 to 96,238 for Kennedy. The totals were Nixon 3,229,167; Kennedy 3,217,816.

Chrysler Hits Back on Tank Charges

DETROIT (UPI) — Chrysler Corp., fighting to maintain its future as a tank builder for the Army, Sunday defended its past against a congressional subcommittee's charges that its Korean War tanks were not up to par.

A House Armed Services subcommittee charged Saturday that the tanks built for the Korean War had serious deficiencies and suggested that the auto industry was not geared for tank building.

It also suggested that makers of bulldozers and other earth-moving machinery might be better equipped as tank makers.

Chrysler, replying to the subcommittee charges, said the company engaged in a crash program with the Army and built the tanks under Army supervision and to Army specifications on engines, transmissions, track, fire control and armament.

Moreover, said Chrysler, the tanks met all army requirements, met production schedules, were inspected and accepted by government inspectors.

Sleeping Beauties' Mom Goes on Trial Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The trial of Lillian Fratanantonio, 29, interrupted after five days last September because of the judge's fatal illness, begins anew today with selection of a juvenile court jury.

Charged with child-neglect in the dragging of her "sleeping beauty" daughters, Venita, 5, and Bernadette, 3, Mrs. Fratanantonio has pleaded innocent. If convicted, she could receive a maximum sentence of a year in jail and a $300 fine.

A mistrial was declared on Sept. 28 because of the illness of Judge Margaret J. Spellacy, which resulted in her death two weeks after she killed 62 persons.

In the mean time the hillyaby of bird flocks at Logan Airport will be shot down by roving crews which have been stationed there to keep large flocks off the runways.

The Fish and Wildlife Service, using so-called cannon and mist nets, will capture and mark birds landing on the airport runways and then set them free after the birds have been colored with harmless dyes.

Helicopter flights and ground observations will then be made daily to record the movements and habits of the birds so that officials may learn how to control the huge flocks of birds considered by some investigators as responsible for the Electra crash that killed 62 persons.

Body of Pal Is Removed

Dog Breaks Death Vigil

The black dog's vigil over the dead body of the brown dog ended abruptly a few minutes after nine o'clock this morning.

A policeman tossed the stiff carcass into an open pickup truck. The shaggy black dog had lain or stood next to the body since sometime Sunday, when the brown one was struck by a car.

The spot was the bus stop on the east side of Woodward Avenue, opposite St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Dozens of passing drivers, bus passengers and hospital employees noted the long vigil.

As sometimes happens, the living dog refused to leave the dead one.

Both were mongrels. The brown dog wore no collar or license tag. The black one was wearing a 1959 Pontiac tag, but was too skittish for the policemen to examine it.

When the policeman neared the pair, the black dog broke his vigil for the first time, trotting cautiously out of reach.

The policeman's voice was friendly as he held out his gloved hand to the black dog. The dog, unsure, retreated a little farther.

There apparently was no making friends. The policeman turned his attention to the dead dog, picked up

Astronauts Watch Escape Gear Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — America's seven Mercury astronauts watched the escape equipment designed to protect their lives in space flight fail for the second straight time today as a Mercury-Redstone rocket malfunctioned on the launching pad.

There was no man inside the space capsule in today's test but all seven of the astronauts picked to ride into space sometime next year were on hand to watch the test.

A cluster of three rockets designed to jerk the one-ton space capsule free of the giant Redstone in event of major failure, such as an explosion, went off by mistake when the Redstone only failed to fire. The attachments apparently broke and the escape rockets soared out of sight, leaving the man-capable behind.

Car Thieves Stay in Lucrative Rut —but, Too Long

NICE, France (AP)—Three men have been arrested for dealing in stolen cars—using the same car. Police said their system was to steal a car, repaint it, sell it again but keep a spare key. When the new owner left it unwatched they would steal the car back, repaint it and sell it again. They sold the same car seven times, according to the charges.

Making the Turkey a Year Round Bird

The Pontiac area through all of its history has been a big producer of turkeys.

When the first white settlers came here, the forest teemed with wild turkeys.

They were a main article of food, so much so that they were exterminated.

Then the domestic species was introduced, and for many years was a prime delicacy.

When Oakland County was largely devoted to agriculture, it offered an ideal setting for the tame turkey which, in spite of the inroads of civilization, was still a nomadic bird.

It was raised by farmers, as a side issue, in flocks of a dozen or more.

It required but little care, after the first hectic weeks of its life.

It roamed the countryside, largely subsisting on grasshoppers, helping to subdue that pest as it developed its white meat and drumsticks.

A flock, always under the leadership of a strutting king gobbler, would get several miles away every day, but always returned to the home roost at sundown.

They often battled other flocks and were the source of many neighborhood feuds.

The turkey killing just before Thanksgiving furnished the sole Christmas fund in many farm homes.

But locally there has been a drastic change in turkey raising and turkey consumption.

The Pontiac area no longer has much of the open countryside for turkey roaming.

And modern refrigeration has put the turkey on the year round menu.

Now the birds are raised on large turkey farms, where well balanced feeding and other scientific methods have replaced the grasshopper diet and wandering habits, and produced more succulent meat.

Nearly all of the fatalities in the early life of this most temperamental of all fowl have also been obliterated.

The young turkiet formerly often keeled over and died if there was a thunderstorm. In fact, it often died for absolutely no apparent reason. Less than 75 per cent reached maturity.

Keeping in step with the changing times, Oakland County now is producing more turkeys than ever before, maintaining its position as one of the top growing areas in the entire nation.

U.S. Giving Up Bases on West Indies Islands

At a joint conference in London the United States has agreed as a friendly gesture to turn over to the new West Indian Federation most of the bases which we still hold on the islands of Jamaica, Antigua, St. Lucia and Trinidad. Only a few will be retained as necessary to hemispheric defense.

The bases were acquired on a 99 year lease under a 1941 agreement with Britain in exchange for 50 overage destroyers. Many of the bases already have been turned back with the U.S. reserving the right to reoccupy them in an emergency.

Of particular strategic importance to the U.S. is retention of the 18 square mile $300 million base at Chaguaramas on Trinidad. The Federation would like the site with all its modern improvements for a capital.

The West Indies soon will be completely independent from Britain and will then have the right to form its own alliance. However, the Federation has expressed eager willingness to cooperate in "the continuing defense of the Western Hemisphere as part of the defense of the democratic world."

In the meantime to counteract any isolationist pressure and assure efficient defense, waters around the Bahamas Islands are being surveyed with a view to establishing a joint U.S.-British naval testing center in that area.

Compromises must be worked out to satisfy the Federation's new sense of sovereignty and at the same time strengthen defenses in the Caribbean.

The Man About Town

Deer Season Notes

Readers Report Some Queer Happenings in This Regard

Thanksgiving: When we should drive so that everybody will be thankful that we drive.

The family dog of

Mr. and Mrs. Butler Breazley has struck up a friendship with a pair of deer that sought refuge in their barnyard out Joyn Road until the shooting ends.

A deer that darted across the Dixie Highway about 10 miles northwest of Pontiac the other night, and just missed being struck by the automobile of Elmer Crawley of Clarkston, already was missing a front leg.

A card mailed at St. Helena comes from George Freeman of Waterford, and says that the hunters are more plentiful than the deer, "and may find it necessary to begin shooting at each other."

According to a letter from William Foerster of Rochester, the only exciting thing that has happened on his deer hunt was a fight between two men at Mancelona as to who shot the buck.

Back with his buck, which he shot on the opening morning of the season near Roscommon is Gulford Preswell of Waterford. He secured it the same woods where last year there was so much shooting at sunrise that he feared for his life, and returned home empty handed. This time there were very few hunters.

Among the many commendations received on the election covering of this paper, that of William G. Philor of Rochester is the strongest. He defies any paper in the entire nation to show a better job.

Today's boost comes in a letter from Mrs. Charles Hahn of Almont, who writes that she has been reading this column for many years and enjoys it every day.

Here's today's item to keep the Pontiac area's claim among the tops in the nation. Michigan is to close the 1950 season as the greatest road building state in the USA, and its Highway Commissioner is

John C. Mackie, formerly of our Holly Township. He tells me that Texas is in second place.

David Lawrence Says:

Bishops Spot Vital Weakness

WASHINGTON—When the Catholic bishops of the United States meet in Washington every year, they usually have something to say which is of interest not only to their coreligionists but to others as well.

The meeting which has just been concluded has resulted in a statement of significance to Americans and to peoples everywhere.

For the bishops have placed an emphasis on "the personal responsibility" of each man and woman, while not spelled out in detail, has an implicit meaning of transcendent importance.

Lawrence portance today. The bishops, moreover, have put their finger on a weakness in many countries, including the United States, where there is a tendency to rely on organizations and economic pressure groups to obtain special favors and benefits.

There is a word of politics in the bishops' statement, but the text of it, when read carefully, has an indirect bearing on many subjects in the realm of education, labor and management, as well as of government.

"If our future is to be worthy of our past," says the statement, "if the fruit of America's promise is not to wither before it has reached maturity, our present, pre-eminent need is to reaffirm the sense of individual obligation, to place clearly before ourselves the foundation on which personal responsibility rests, to determine the causes of its decay and to seek the means by which it can be revived."

LEADERSHIP LAGS While the bishops speak of the decline of "personal responsibility" in the family and the failure of parents to fulfill their responsibilities in the home, stress is placed on the "evidence of decline in the sense of responsibility within our industrial organization and in our general economic life."

"At a time when so much depends upon the soundness of our economy and upon our ability to produce to meet the needs of a rapidly developing world, we have been faced by a frequent lack of truly responsible leadership, both on the part of management and of labor."

"Among the evident instances of the breakdown of personal responsibility most deplorable has been the widespread cynical reaction to the recent revelation of dishonesty, waste and malfeasance in industrial relations."

Of significance, too, is what the bishops say about the pressures that "are growing for a constantly greater reliance on the collectivity rather than on the individual."

Their statement continues: "In perhaps three or four cases in a hundred, joint disability of long duration (over a year) may be purely traumatic, derangement or impairment of joint function resulting from injury, sprain or strain, and the only treatment at all likely to be worthwhile in these cases is ischiopod surgery."

In 96 or 97 cases in a hundred, joint disability of long duration (over a year) in degeneration of joint tissues, in rheumatism, the consequence of nutritional deficiency through the years from childhood up to the present."

The only prophylactic or remedial treatment at all likely to be worthwhile in these cases is correction of the nutritional deficiency. The regimen for rheumatism is

"An inordinate demand for benefits, most easily secured by the process of organization, has led to an over-growing number of our people to relinquish their rights and to abdicate their responsibilities."

"This concession creates a widening spiral of increasing demands and pressures with a further infringement on personal freedom and responsibility."

MASS BENEFITS "Intensive socialization can achieve mass benefits, but man and morality can be seriously hurt in the process."

A great deal may be read into that particular paragraph in the light of recent pressures to have government furnish financial aid "from the cradle to the grave" not only in this country but in Great Britain and in other countries of the world.

Pertinent, too, is the application by the bishops of the phrase "personal responsibility" to the conduct of international affairs.

"This tendency to delegate excessive responsibility to an organization is discernible also in the realm of international affairs."

"Some manifest no sense of personal responsibility in the affairs of the international community."

"On the other hand, many citizens seem to feel that our mere adherence to the United Nations absolves us from further responsibility in the international order and that decisions made by the United Nations, regardless of their objective value, are always to be regarded as morally right."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Joint Disability Results From Defective Nutrition

A Massachusetts reader reports: "I should like to thank you for the relief I have had from the terrible aches I have suffered in hands and shoulders for more than three years. My doctor called it arthritis and advised me to take so much aspirin as necessary as to ease the pain."

Dr. BRADY On the regimen for rheumatism, as prescribed in your booklet Chronic Joint Disability and I am happy about it. I get complete relief. I should like to encourage others by saying it was five or six months before I got complete relief.

"One cannot expect results overnight. As you emphasize, the regimen is nutrition, not medicine."

Signed A. J. S. Neither the Massachusetts reader's doctor nor any other doctor, so far as I can learn, knows the cause of chronic joint disability, whether he calls it "arthritis" or rheumatism. If a doctor pretends to diagnose such joint disability as "arthritis," he is merely stringing the patient along.

The doctor's advice that the patient take as much aspirin as necessary to get temporary relief from aches or pain was good advice. In my opinion, I'm sure that if I had chronic joint disability—which I call rheumatism—I'd take just as much aspirin as necessary to get temporary relief of aches or pain.

In 96 or 97 cases in a hundred, joint disability of long duration (over a year) in degeneration of joint tissues, in rheumatism, the consequence of nutritional deficiency through the years from childhood up to the present."

The only prophylactic or remedial treatment at all likely to be worthwhile in these cases is correction of the nutritional deficiency. The regimen for rheumatism is

"The surest way to help a man defeat you is to get mad at him."

Funny how many people have little luck when they look for a four-leaf clover.

There are always a few people opposed to any change just because it is a change. Let the future have some leeway in setting up a program. If a child could get a complete education by going strictly "by the book" there would be no need of having inspired teachers.

Improve Memory With Exercise

Bert is only 75, not 35 as per his alert brain. Everybody can improve his memory quickly by using the advice below. For memory requires daily calisthenics. And even a wheelchair person can keep his memory whetted, even if he cannot exercise all his muscles. Send for the booklet below, for it can zoom your sales as well as your popularity within 3 months!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE CASE G - 63: Bert G., aged 75, is an alert business man. "Dr. Crane," his junior associate, aged 42, began, "how is it possible for a man of 75 to have such a remarkable memory for current events, especially when so many folks past 50 have trouble recalling such facts?"

"Do you think it is a matter of heredity? If not, how can a person improve his memory?"

Memory, like your muscles, develops by exercise! Since old folks usually cut down on their physical activity, their muscles thus grow smaller and weaker.

But you can always exercise your memory, even if you sit in a wheelchair!

So never let your brain grow rusty just because your medical ailments may make you a semi-invalid.

"Age," said Emerson, "is a matter of where you dwell in your thoughts."

Explains Why Attendance at PCH Games Is Poor

At the beginning of the football season this year, Coach Delverio of Pontiac Central had an article in the paper criticizing Pontiac fans for the poor attendance at the PCH football games. Being a part of one of his bench-warmers and a loyal fan I would like to make some comments.

First, how can you expect to hold public interest with the poor schedule at the beginning of the season? In the first five weeks they had one home game.

Second, in watching the game with Flint Central it is hard to understand why the so-called regulars were allowed to stay in the entire game when it was apparent to everyone (except the coaches) that they had no desire to block, tackle, "mix-it-up" in any way, instead of using the stronger stringers who would at least have given it "the old college try." The fans would rather see a team of mediocre players who have the desire, than a few individual stars who give up after they get a few points behind.

'We're Lucky to Have Inspired Teachers'

Those concerned about the future of education should watch closely the results of the present Will Rogers school incident!

Here is a case where a very small minority has practically put the school out of business. The reason? Objection to the methods of progressive teaching.

One point in particular is the method of holding personal conferences with parents, rather than issuing report cards. This system is wonderful. The full story of a student's progress cannot be conveyed on a simple ABC basis of reporting. Nothing will ever take the place of personal contact.

There are always a few people opposed to any change just because it is a change. Let the future have some leeway in setting up a program. If a child could get a complete education by going strictly "by the book" there would be no need of having inspired teachers.

"Age," said Emerson, "is a matter of where you dwell in your thoughts."

"If you chronically live in the past, you are old, regardless of the calendar."

"But if you are thinking and planning ahead, you are young."

On the contrary, if over 80 per cent are focused on the future, you are young, despite your grandchildren or even great-grandchildren!

To help rejuvenate an older's mind, steer his thinking OUTWARD from his own self and toward his attention to his "in-laws."

Which of these two greetings is thus better when addressing an older? "Grandpa, how are you feeling today?" "Grandpa, where are you going to spend Christmas?" Obviously, the second is superior. For the first turns his mind upon his in-laws and thus leads him inward upon a recital of his aches and pains.

"Reputation is simple repetition," runs an old adage that shows why his constant parade of his aches soon makes him believe he is unable to get around. So turn your attention OUTWARD and you'll feel less pain. That's the animals seldom make a sound except at the instant of breaking a leg, for thereafter their attention is so overtaxed they actually feel little pain.

Apparently people do not realize that there is a price to pay for all these above things - intellectual freedom! If instructors are not allowed to exercise their conscientiousness through the mail, then of thought and speech, they will not linger long at MSUO.

MSUO will become a diploma mill and a haven for the mediocre.

She Voted for Marin Woman Mayor Ordered to Do Public Penance

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—In head of the party, was re-elected mayor of San Juan, Felisa de la Cruz, despite the fact that she had voted for the other party, to do public penance before she can receive Communion because of the way she voted Nov. 8.

The Rev. Thomas Maisonet, pastor of San Juan Cathedral, said in an interview between Masses Sunday she must publicly repent by radio, television or newspaper to receive the church sacrament.

The mayor did not attend any of the five Masses at the cathedral Sunday. She was reported to have spent the weekend at her beach cottage in Vega Baja and to have sent in priests against administering church. She made no public comment on Father Maisonet's demand that she do public penance.

AP Photo/Edwin W. Gockley, 49, of Reading, Pa., Saturday showed police where he said he buried bodies of two persons last March on the grounds of a tennis club he operates near Reading. Police said that under questioning he admitted shooting Clement J. Smith, 41, in an argument over how to dispose of the body of the other victim, Mrs. Mabel K. Klein, 84, who he said died of natural causes.

Wants City Folks to Realize Most Farmers Not Subsidized

State Grange Master William J. Brake, which is being observed through Thursday.

"It has been claimed that the U.S. Department of Agriculture's 1959 appropriation of $7 billion went into the farmers' pockets."

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Brake asserted.

The state grange master said about $1.5 billion of that sum goes for foreign aid and approximately $600 million is used for loans which are paid back with interest.

"Some $850 million goes for research, meat inspection, pest control, market development, protection of soil and water in world history," he said. "Rising costs of farm machinery and other supplies also have forced farmers into more efficient production."

"The American homestead pays nine per cent more for food than 10 years ago due to the increased cost of handling, processing and marketing after it leaves the farm."

However, a comparison shows the farmer earning 12 per cent less than he did 10 years ago, according to Brake.

"It is the American public which benefits," Brake said. "Never before has the average American's hourly pay bought so much and such high quality food."

In noting the Farm-City Week observance, Brake called for a greater understanding between city dwellers and farmers.

The grange master said he hoped that the meetings, tours and programs being held by both civic and farm groups during Farm-City Week would help clear up much of the misunderstanding.

Farmington Will Host Teachers' Workshop

FARMINGTON — Teachers from 18 Oakland County school districts will participate in the annual workshop for the improvement of teaching skills to be held Dec. 1 in the Farmington Public Schools, it was announced today.

The morning program for the selected group of teachers will include visits to classrooms in six of the elementary schools in the district, according to Minnie Zielke, director of elementary education in the Farmington District.

During the visitation periods, the Farmington teachers will explain how they have been able to expand their teaching skills through the use of fine arts in the classroom.

In addition, Miss Zielke said, the visitors from all parts of the county will be given an opportunity to explore the various media used in fine arts.

"This opportunity will be in the form of a do-it-yourself workshop in the afternoon session," she said.

Climaxing the activities of the day, Dr. Harry T. Babin, director of curriculum for Oakland County and Miss Zielke will conduct a panel discussion to answer questions about the Farmington school problems.

It is expected that approximately 200 teachers will take part in the in-service training program.

Waterford Eyes Planning Body

Board Also to Ponder Electrical Code, Budget for Fire Department

The Waterford Township Board tonight will discuss placing of a proposal for a township planning commission on either the February or April ballot.

A bill passed by the legislature last session allows townships the size of Waterford to have such a commission for solving water, sewer, zoning and other township problems.

The board also is scheduled to approve recommendations of the electrical code to adopt a code for all electricians making new installations and alterations, effective Jan. 1.

The code would require detailed plans showing the number of circuits and switching arrangements, wattage per outlet and proposed method of construction.

Fire Chief Elmer Fongebner will present a recommended budget for 1961 for the fire department.

A plan for Watkins Mills subdivision No. 4 will be ready for approval.

Home Is the Hunter, but, Where's the Buck?

A Pontiac deer hunter's luck turned sour this morning.

Stanley Chinen, 20, Lansing, stopped off at a bar at Walton Boulevard and Optics Road on his way home from a hunting trip.

Up north, leaving a dead buck tied to the trunk of his car.

When he came back to the bar, the deer was gone. He notified sheriff's deputies.

Earlier three doctors who visited in him said Sir Winston "continues to improve."

One of them, Lord Moran, said "we hope he will be out of bed by his birthday."

Three Royal Oakers Killed Over Weekend

ROYAL OAK — Three Royal Oak residents, including an elderly couple whose car plunged over a 175-foot embankment, were killed in traffic accidents over the weekend in Kentucky.

Dead are Mrs. Mirabel Gaul, 41, of 301 S. Edison St.; Ralph H. Ellis, 40, of 301 E. 16-Mile Road; and his wife Florence, 67.

Mrs. Gaul died yesterday when the car, she was driving, collided with another auto on U.S. 27 about three miles north of Lancaster, Ky.

The Harrisons were fatally injured Saturday when their car plunged over the embankment on U.S. 25, near London, Ky.

"The $600 million school milk and lunch laws are also public benefit programs," he pointed out.

Brake said that about half of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's total budget actually benefits the farmer.

"The USDA Extension and Research programs have helped farmers produce food more efficiently than ever before in world history," he said. "Rising costs of farm machinery and other supplies also have forced farmers into more efficient production."

4-H Clubbers to Display Livestock

Some 450 4-H Club members are expected to exhibit animals in the 31st annual Michigan Junior Livestock Show, Dec. 6-8 at the State Fair Coliseum in Detroit.

The show will open at 1 p. m. Dec. 6 with the lamb judging. Some 1,000 animals will be displayed.

The Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel will be the setting for the annual exhibitors banquet the following night.

All events will be at the coliseum except the carcass evaluation which will be at the Wolverine Packing Co. Dec. 8 at 10 a. m.

Highpoint of the three-day show will be the animal auction at 1 p. m. on the final day.

In Clarenceville

Bonds to Be Retired Early

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Two school bond issues totaling $1.15 million will be retired considerably in advance of maturity dates, the Clarenceville Board of Education announced today.

The 1952 and 1954 bond issues for the purchase of building sites and school equipment will be paid off five and seven years, respectively, ahead of schedule.

In 1952 the school board issued $700,000 worth of bonds and in 1954, $450,000 in bonds. The 1952 bonds had been scheduled for retirement in 1963, the 1954 bonds in 1970.

School Supt. Louis E. Schmidt said that increased valuation in the school district since the indebtedness was incurred, investment of reserves of each fund and a constant levy had made it possible to retire the two bond issues before the normal maturity dates.

All this has enabled calling in the bonds even though the school district has had other bonded indebtedness since 1952 and 1954.

Hope Churchill Can Quit Bed by Nov. 30

LONDON (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill's doctors hope to get him out of his sickbed for the celebration of his 86th birthday Nov. 30.

Britain's World War II leader has been lying propped up in a special adjustable bed since last Tuesday when he stumbled in his bedroom and broke a small bone in his back.

Lady Churchill told newsmen Sunday night Sir Winston was "very much better," eating well and reading the newspaper.

Earlier three doctors who visited in him said Sir Winston "continues to improve."

One of them, Lord Moran, said "we hope he will be out of bed by his birthday."

CORNERSTONE LAYING — Officiating at the laying of the cornerstone at the new First Congregational Church, Rochester, yesterday were (from left) the Rev. Robert H. Jacobson, minister; A. R. Musson, moderator; and Lewis B. Arscott, chairman of the building council. The copper box to be sealed in the cornerstone will contain mementoes, bulletins and historical records of the church.

placed there yesterday by chairmen of church committees. The first unit of the new church, being erected on North Pine Street, across from the parsonage, is designed primarily for educational purposes. It will cost about $25,000 furnished and equipped. The second wing will house the chapel, church parlor, fellowship hall and kitchen.

Youths Recuperating Traffic Mishaps Hurt Three Near Almont

ALMONT — Three area youths who were hurt in weekend traffic accidents near here were reported recuperating today at nearby Community Hospital.

In satisfactory condition are Daniel Larson, 17, of 3241 Boardman Road, Dryden; and Randall Forbes, 20, of 4741 Howland Road, Almont.

Larson received fractures of both legs when his car skidded, went off the road and overturned on a curve near the Lapeer County line, about three miles east of here.

Forbes, a passenger in the car, suffered severe lacerations about the face.

Romeo post state police said Larson's car was traveling at a high rate of speed when the accident occurred early Sunday morning.

Allen Anderson, 15, of 718 S. Main St., Almont, was reported in fair condition after being involved in another accident Friday night on Mill Road, a half mile south of Dryden Road.

Anderson was riding on the front bumper of a car driven by Charles Hagen, 20, of 708 S. Maple St., Almont, when the car suddenly stopped, hurling Anderson to the pavement.

Hagen told police he had been pushing another car and that the Anderson boy had been riding on the front of the car to weigh down the front bumper.

WCSO Will Gather

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Women's Society of Christian Service of Commerce Methodist Church will meet tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. for its monthly program and to use a film entitled "None Goes His Way Alone."

Ceremony at Guardian Angels

TROY — Residing in Madison Heights following their recent wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Cyr who exchanged their marriage vows at Guardian Angels Catholic Church, Clawson. The Rev. William J. Keveney performed the double ring rites.

The bride is the former Joan Marie Marceau, daughter of St. Mary's, and Mrs. Romeo Marceau of 746 Trivinity St. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cyr of 327 Englewood St., Royal Oak.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace, featuring a bustle back which swept into a chapel train. The bodice was adorned with a scalloped neckline of cut roses embroidered with sequins and pearls.

A matching crown of Chantilly lace encrusted with seed pearls held her finger veil of French silk illusion. She carried a mother-of-pearl rosary and a cascade of pink roses, stephanotis, green gerberas and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Frank W. Coppenhagen of Utica; Laura Marceau, sister of the bride, and Elizabeth Vanhook of Royal Oak were bridesmaids.

First steps to establish a system of federal civil service were undertaken in 1872 during the administration of President U. S. Grant.

Dem Chiefs to Talk on 40 Federal Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic leaders will meet here about Nov. 29 to discuss scope of federal jobs in Michigan that will be up for grabs in the next few months.

The list includes 30 postmasterships, U. S. district attorneys' jobs in Detroit and Grand Rapids and the federal judgeship now held in Detroit on an interim appointment by Judge John Feltens, former Republican state chairman.

Among top Democratic candidates for the job are Congressman Thaddeus Macrowicz of Hamtramck or Cresskill Judge Wade H. McCree.

Democratic leaders scheduled to attend the session here include Democratic State Chairman Neil Shaebler, who has said he might relinquish the office he has held since 1950; Sens. Patrick V. McNamara and Phillip A. Hart; the state's seven Democratic congressmen; Governor - Elect John B. Swainson; and Thomas E. Quimby, Democratic national committee chairman from Michigan.

Supports Draft of Women for Social Service

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (UPI) — President Thomas C. Mendenhall of Smith College for Women says he supports the idea of selective service for women.

"If we have equality of the sexes, why don't women have an obligation to serve society as do the men?" he said in an interview published in the current issue of the student newspaper, the Soaphian.

Mendenhall suggested women be considered for such activities as social work, hospital work and use a film entitled "None Goes His Way Alone."

SUNDAY RIDE — Taking advantage of yesterday's balmy weather to give two small boys a ride in a cart made from a Model T Ford auto body was Robert C. Ellis of 11300 W. St. Clair St., Pontiac (left). With him (from left) are his son, 3, a friend David Cole, also of Romeo, and Cole's 5-year-old son Richard. Ginger, the Ellis' horse, appeared ready for a brisk canter on the bright Sunday afternoon. She was reined in, however, and her gait was kept to a slow trot.

Air France to Use Jets on Mexico-NY-Paris Run

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Air France has announced its Mexico City-New York-Paris flights will be operated with Boeing 707 jets beginning Jan. 15.

Flying time to Paris will be reduced by 30 per cent. Flights to New York from Mexico City will take four hours and 15 minutes instead of the present six hours and 30 minutes.

The French airlines will be the third to run jets on the dense New York route. Aeromarine de Mexico and Eastern Airlines inaugurated DC8 service Sunday.

The Winnipeg River within Manitoba to Lake Winnipeg has a total drop of 271 feet and it is a major source of hydroelectric power in that area.

There's Always Next Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market is over its brief election fling and is back trying to guess what business will be like when spring comes.

What the new administration will want to do and what it actually will do will play a part. But the market seems to be saying that a greater role will be taken by business and consumer forces. What the majority now think, right or wrong, is that the forces pulling the economy down in the last six months or so will have lost their strength in another six and that spring or maybe summer will find things generally on the upgrade.

What optimism this generates among stock traders is pretty well tempered just now by the prospect of continued dragging in many lines for the immediate future. And for the long run there is the growing tendency for consumers to spend more of their money for services of all kinds and less proportionately for the goods that factories turn out.

The stock market's post-election fling was relatively mild. For two weeks before stock prices had been rising most of the time.

On the day before the polling The Associated Press 60-stock price index stood at 213.4. The day after the election it rose to 213.4 and the next day, Nov. 10, to 215.3. Then it backed away and alternately rose and fell, until on Nov. 18, after eight days of post-election trading, it closed at 214.3. On a chart the whole process would even out pretty much along the rising line it had been taking before the voters acted.

Some of the mildness of the reaction to Sen. Kennedy's election is likely due to uncertainty as to just what he will actually propose and, more important, just how he'll propose to go about it. And there's considerable doubt that the strong conservative bloc in Congress would let him take any really radical steps.

Today many stock analysts are taking this tack: Stock prices have been depressed because the economy slackened off; but since the decline of the last six months was relatively slight, prospects for a recovery fairly soon are that much brighter.

At home the economy still has to shake off these downward pressures: the hand-to-mouth inventory policy which holds new orders at a minimum; the over capacity built into many industries in the last few years; the consequent drop in plans for more plant and equipment spending; the still rising costs that crimp profits because competition is too keen for prices to rise at a like rate; and a tendency on the part of some consumers to wait and see before spending much beyond

Luck of the Irish Is All Blarney, Says Last Draftee

LONDON (UPI) — The luck of the Irish deserted Brendan Rafferty. He became the last draftee in the British Army.

The government has decided that it can get enough volunteers for its trimmed-down army, which eventually will number 165,000 men. The draft that began in 1939 was ended, 5,300,000 men later.

Last man to be called was Rafferty, a 25-year-old truck driver, married and the father of three.

He was among 2,000 men who entered barracks for a tour of duty ranging from 18 months to two years.

"I think they could have gotten along very well without me," said Rafferty.

America Optimistic Over Stocks

Prefer 'Social Studies'

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York's public schools once again will use the term "social studies" which was dropped 10 years ago in favor of "citizenship education." The Board of Regents said Friday the term "citizenship education" implied that other subjects did not contribute to citizenship training.

Await Ruling on Integration

Southern Judges Mull Over Future of Schools in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—An uncertain quiet prevailed in this troubled Deep South city today as it waited for a three-judge federal court to rule on school integration. The three Southern judges considered these paths of action:

1. A school board request to suspend integration until federal-state differences are settled.

2. A federal move to enjoin state officials and prevent their interference with school integration. A temporary restraining order, now effective, expires when the court rules.

3. A state motion calling for dismissal of action against Louisiana officials and the return of schools to their traditionally segregated basis. The motion stems from a rarely used interposition act which advocates say gives the state power to use its sovereignty as a shield to block the federal integration order.

Judge Richard T. Rives of Montgomery, Ala., chief judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, declined to say when the ruling would be handed down.

While city and state officials awaited a court decision, New Orleans public schools closed for a week's holiday.

Police reported a calm weekend in sharp contrast to five stormy days that followed the admission of four Negro first graders to two white schools last Monday.

A financial squeeze was expected this week against the money-beset New Orleans School Board, faced with a $2-million teacher payroll.

The state was reported ready to transfer $1.5 million of school board funds from New Orleans banks to state-chartered banks in Shreveport. That would put the money beyond the jurisdiction of federal courts in case the government attempts to freeze the funds.

Say Teacher's Rights Violated

ACLU Hits Method of Handling UP Instructor Accused of Obscenity

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) has sharply criticized state police, the Michigan Education Association and an Upper Peninsula school board for their handling of a case of a school teacher acquitted on a charge of obscenity.

The union said there was a violation of the civil liberties of Franklin C. Olson, 25, an elementary school teacher fired from his job at Thompson, in Schoolcraft County.

Olson was charged with distributing obscene literature because he gave a copy of the novel, "The Stranger," by French author Albert Camus, to a reading group of five boys ranging in age from 11 to 13.

The novel tells of the trial and sentence to death of a clerk in Algiers who became involved in the senseless murder of an Arab. Camus was a 1957 winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature.

Olson was convicted of the obscenity charge by a justice of the peace but was acquitted when he appealed to circuit court.

In a letter to the Michigan Education Association, the ACLU charged there were three main violations of academic freedom and civil liberties in the case. It said these were:

1. The school board bringing in state police to investigate before determining itself whether teaching proprieties had been violated.

2. The state police searching without a warrant, "and contrary to the guarantees of the fourth amendment," Olson's classroom and cottage and the destruction of a number of the teacher's pocketbooks. One of the books was Dostoevsky's "Crime and Punishment."

3. The school board's dismissal of Olson after his arrest "which had been instigated by the board" and his temporary imprisonment.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special)—The first time a patient was found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while getting relief from actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place, most and amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" and "I am now free of hemorrhoids!"

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthesia or strapping of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world famous medical innovation. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation II®. Ask for individually sealed, convenient Preparation II Suppositories or Preparation II Ointment with special applicator. Preparation II is sold at all drug counters.

Transit Strike Is Over in LA

But Commuters May Have to Pick Up Tab in Increased Fares

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The transit strike that snarled Los Angeles' traffic and jammed its freeways is over, but the commuter's worries aren't.

The 400,000 persons who daily ride the Metropolitan Transit Authority's buses and streetcars may have to pick up the tab in the form of increased fares—as a result of the settlement.

For five days the commuters, spread over a four-county area the size of Maryland and Delaware, had no bus or streetcar transportation because of a strike by 300 MTA mechanics.

Sunday both sides—the MTA, a public agency, and the Amalgamated Transportation Union—agreed to a new 15-month contract which provides higher wages, improved working conditions and prospects for a pension plan.

During the strike workers got to their jobs by forming car pools. Transit authorities set up impromptu passenger loading zones for commuters needing rides and newspapers ran public service notices about rides needed and offered.

Employees got to work late and downtown merchants complained of lagging business, but parking lots reported a five-day bonanza. The union voted 451 to 73 to accept the agreement. It will raise the pay of top-scale mechanics from $2.61 an hour to $3 an hour by July 2. The union said the raises will range from 46 cents to 64 cents an hour in wages and other benefits.

Before the strike started, MTA offered a wage and benefit package increase of 41 cents an hour.

The union sought a package that MTA estimated would cost $1.11 an hour.

The MTA said unless it gets some form of subsidy, it will have to raise fares.

Sounds Kind of Fishy

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Look a fish in the eye to tell if it is fresh. Michigan State University home economists say the eyes of a fresh fish are bright and clear. The eyes tend to become cloudy and sunken as it loses its freshness.

SILENT FILM STAR DIES—Actress Phyllis Haver of the silent films was found dead in her Sharon, Conn., home Sunday. State police said the 60-year-old ex-movie queen is suspected of committing suicide. At left she is shown as a Mack Sennett beauty when she was the pin-up girl of many World War I doughboys. At right she leaves court in Reno, Nev., in 1945 as she ended her 16-year marriage to William Seeman, wealthy New Yorker. She appeared in such films as "What Price Glory," "Chicago" and "The Way of All Flesh."

Calls Hearings on Teamsters

Sen. McClellan Wants to Know Why Rackets Still in Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new series of hearings involving the Teamsters Union has been called by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

McClellan said over the weekend the hearings would start Dec. 13 and would concentrate on New York City Teamsters operations. He said he expected to call union president James R. Hoffa "to explain the continuance of racket control of teamsters locals under his jurisdiction."

A Florida grand jury also has resumed its investigation of Hoffa's alleged misuse of $400,000 in Teamsters funds in a Florida real estate project.

Hoffa previously was investigated by another McClellan Senate committee whose chief counsel, was Robert Kennedy, brother of President-Elect John F. Kennedy. Hoffa actively opposed Kennedy's election and has repeatedly attacked Robert.

AMERICA'S
6-PASSENGER CAR!

Sometimes I amaze myself!

FALCON TUDOR SEDAN, with standard trim, is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car.* Car shown has deluxe trim and whitewall tires, optional at extra cost.

Even more amazing, Falcon is priced as much as $505† less than the new-name compacts recently introduced. But maybe you think more money means more compact car? No! Fact is, Falcon gives you more—much more—of what you buy a compact for.

You see, these new high-priced compacts are just too big and heavy to handle and park as easily as Falcon. That's why they make extra-cost power brakes and steering available. With all their excess bulk, how would they go up to 30 miles on a gallon like Falcon? And although they're bigger outside . . . where you don't want it . . . they have about the same room as Falcon inside. Falcon takes 6 people in the same comfort and luxury as the highest-priced compacts.

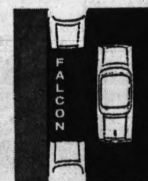

Pay more? What for! Only Falcon has that winning combination of compact features. That's precisely why Falcon is America's best-selling compact car . . . over 500,000 richer owners already!

†Based on similar comparison of deluxe 4-door sedans equipped with radio, heater and automatic transmission

The Seating's The Same. Falcon or new high-priced compact, inside they measure about the same. Only difference is the price of admission.

Falcon Fits Where The Others Have Fits. It's around the block 3 more times for the new-name compacts. They're too big to take a Falcon's spot.

More Weight Means Bigger Engines—Bigger Engines Need More Gas. The new-name compacts are too heavy to go up to 30 miles on a gallon like Falcon. Only Falcon has all the economies you buy a compact for.

Some Happenings in Northern Michigan Deer Hunting Camps

SUCCESSFUL HUNT — Harold Brown Sr. (left) and Burton Taylor, both of Troy, said they saw fewer deer this year, but did connect on a 4-pointer and a doe. They hunted north of Commins in Oscoda County. Taylor shot the buck. Harold Brown Jr., also of Troy, was along on the hunt.

Shooting Does, Fawns Protested by Hunters

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press
Conservation Department officials might have a more difficult time rallying future support for their deer management program which allows hunters to take does and fawns in many areas of Northern Michigan.

During the first five days of the current season, hunters reported seeing fewer whitetails than last year. And many of these nimrods are placing the blame squarely on the "antlerless deer" permits issued the last few seasons.

It can't be anything else but this special doe season," said Roland Wiechert, 6475 Dixie Hwy., Clarkson. "Six of us hunted at my place on Lake Geogebie in the Porcupine Mountains.

"We saw only 12 deer in four days. Last year, one of us saw that many in one day."

Wiechert reported that snow covered the ground in the area hunted until 5:30 a.m. opening day. But even with the snow, deer signs were not plentiful, he added.

"There is plenty of food for the deer," explained Wiechert, "but they just aren't around like last season. They're allowing too many does to be killed in our area."

One deer and one bear were killed by hunters with Wiechert. Both animals were shot by Eldon Klesdore, 7021 Williams Lake Road, Waterford.

Burton W. Taylor of Troy feels the same way as Wiechert.

Hunting on state owned land north of Commins in Oscoda County, Taylor also said he saw fewer deer. His observation was echoed by his hunting companions, Harold

Brown and his son, Harold Jr., both of Troy.

"Some people are blaming the weather," said Taylor. "The rain didn't help things but I still don't think it was the reason for seeing fewer deer. Too many does and fawns are being killed. That's got to be the answer."

"Last year we saw plenty of deer. This time we had to work for them."

Taylor shot a 4-pointer and the Browns had a doe to show for their efforts.

A store owner in Lewistown said, "This should be the last year of the special doe season for a while. There are fewer deer around here than ever before. This area is more noted for its fishing than hunting, but tourists like to drive around the back roads during the summer and look for deer. They aren't seeing many because the deer are no longer here."

Commercial interests, and some farmers, in Northern Michigan have always voiced strong opposition to the taking of "antlerless deer." Many farmers have favored the move because food shortages in the woodlands has forced the deer to move into grain fields and orchards, all but destroying crops in some areas.

This shortage of food, especially in the severe winter months, is the key to the problem.

Conservation Department statistics, based on field surveys, estimate 17,000 whitetails died from starvation or by causes directly connected with an improper diet.

The department feels the taking of bucks, does and fawns in 33 food shortage and farm crop destruction areas, will take many deer from the herd which would otherwise die during the winter. The more deer taken before the critical winter months would also mean less competition for the limited food supply.

The food shortage problem has been a big one in the club area west of Hubbard Lake. Many Pontiac hunters are in these camps and lodges.

For a couple of years, the lodges had hay spread in certain areas during the winter. But this did not prove too successful.

This year, many camps joined together in a project to clear timber from certain areas on their lands. This has provided "down-timber" and browse for deer. The elimination of many dead and old trees has opened more space for seedlings to grow instead of being crowded out.

These young trees and plants provide food for whitetails.

Poor weather, fewer hunters and a late spring which may have curtailed the fawn output, are some reasons given for fewer deer being seen.

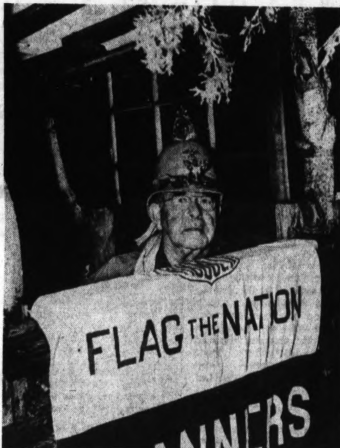

Although they aren't seeing as many deer, hunters are bagging about as many as last year according to Conservation Department field checks. The number of hunters was down during the week, but the ratio of success was about average, one deer killed by every four hunters.

There are conflicting reports on the condition of deer being taken. One report from Northern Michigan stated hunters felt the deer weren't in as good condition as last year. Successful hunters contacted by this writer felt the deer they had bagged were "nice and fat."

The question of bucks vs. does will continue long after the season closes Nov. 30.

FIRST BUCK — Fred Wilkins of Orchard Lake is shown with the first deer he has ever shot. This 8-pointer was downed opening day. Fred is staying at the Hut Shut Club near Lewistown.

BRING ON THE DEER — V. E. Blakeslee of Camp 24 temporarily claimed a deer blind on Sleepy Hollow property. He is shown wearing a helmet used in the flag raising ceremony. The Sleepy Hollow banner can be seen hanging on the front of the blind.

Bowmen's property north of Lewistown when they arrived at the "OO" Club for the meeting. Because so many Pontiac Optimists deer hunt from this club, a regular meeting is held each year.

Foremost Fur Fashions Follow Feminine Figure

This youthful design by Jack Zimmerman is the new cropped jacket in black-dyed Southwest African Persian Lamb. It is trimmed in black mink and proportioned for the petite woman 5'5" or under.

Schiaparelli's newest jacket features a large notched offset collar and is double-breasted. Meticulously tailored in mocha-dyed Southwest African Persian Lamb, it is worn with dash with a John Fred-erics' surah hat.

By MARJORIE EICHER
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

The important little fur in fashion news this season—and many a feminine heart will be afire to find a fur wrap beneath HER Christmas tree next month.

Silhouette shape is the biggest news—and never has there been such variety. Foremost among fur fashion al-louettes are the princess line (not closely modeled but delicately shadowing the figure); the cape coat with full-ness in back, cut in one with short sleeves; the soft coat, full across the back but tapering to a slim hemline; and the slim coat with mandarin line, simple and sleek.

Collars range from none to deep cape style that can be pulled up into hoods. Sleeves are generally short, wider and uncut. There is much use of contrasting fur for trimming.

In length, jackets are coming to the fore. These range from hip-bone to below just at the waist.

The stole is being replaced by mobile capelets and global capes.

The pelts themselves come from every part of the world, offering the greatest versatility. The spotted look for fun and excitement is found in ocelot, leopard, cheetah and jaguar from Africa and Mexico. For sheer drama and geographical conversation there is even the stripe of the tiger and the civet cat.

Fluffy, bulky furs are high style, too. They are found in Australian opossum and fox from the United States, Canada and Norway.

South American otter dyed beige or natural brown and Southwest African Persian Lamb give that sleek, slim-ling look... so hard to achieve in a fur. Supple natural sheared fur seal from Alaska is in this group, too.

Mink, both wild and dark, and in all the glorious muta-tion shades, as well as chinchilla, sable and fitch are high on the list for evening glamour.

A final fur forecast — don't be surprised to see unusual fur styles in ponchos, dresses, vests and even dinner trousers. The great fur future is on.

Reynard's cabochon bolero is the essence of evening glamour. Long haired furs such as this Saga Norwegian Blue Fox are highest fashion. The skins are intricately worked, enhancing the luxury of the little wrap.

Couple Honeymooning in Mountains

Wargelin-DeCavitt Vows Exchanged

Honeymooning in the Pocono Mountains are John H. Wargelin and his bride, the former Altha Elaine DeCavitt of Grosse Pointe Park who were married Saturday evening in the Holy Cross Lutheran Church of Detroit.

The Rev. Raymond Wargelin, uncle of the bridegroom performed the candlelight ceremony assisted by the Rev. F. Richard Pickett.

Hosts at the reception in the Whittier Hotel were the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. DeCavitt of Pemberton Road, Grosse Pointe Park.

Attending the bride were her sister, Mrs. William Sand of East Detroit, her mother; with Patricia Kowalcuk and Sally Taylor of Grosse Pointe and the bridegroom's sister Carol of Pontiac, serving as bridesmaids.

Crescents of dark red roses and garnet tea roses with dracaena foliage and ivy, complemented their dresses of aqua lace with matching tulip overskirts of taffeta.

Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent pellets enhanced the bridal gown of white silk mist tulle which swept into a chapel train. The molded bodice was styled with Sabrina neckline and long hand tapered sleeves.

MRS. JOHN H. WARGELIN

A pout circular shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was caught by a bonnet cap of re-embroidered Alencon lace. White roses, stephanotis and ivy comprised the cascade bouquet.

Philip B. Wargelin stood as best man for his twin brother. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. Wargelin of Voorhees Road. Seating guests were the bride's brothers Frank of Warren and Duward of Grosse Pointe, with Thomas Hayes of Pontiac.

Black and white accessories accented a raspberry wool walking suit selected by the new Mrs. Wargelin for traveling.

White cypridum orchids accented Mrs. DeCavitt's sheath dress of beige lace worn with chocolate brown accessories.

Mrs. Wargelin's shell-pink silk sheath dress was styled with bodice of Chantilly lace em-broidered with pink seed pearls. She wore a pink feather headpiece and corsage of white rubrum lilies.

The young couple are both graduates of University of Michigan. The bride is affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority and her husband with Theta Chi Fraternity. They will live in St. Clair Shores.

Club Slates Yule Party

Officers for the Ladies Auxiliary of the Metropolitan Club will be elected at the annual cooperative dinner and Christmas party in the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Does Her Ad Pay Off?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
"DEAR READERS: On Oct. 5 I ran the following letter."

DEAR ABBY: I am a 55-year old spinster, and I want to buy me a husband. I am not bad looking. I can give him a car of his own choice, a good allowance to do as he pleases and no questions asked. I want a man between 40 and 45 who doesn't drink. I own four houses and a drive-in and have money in the bank. . . .

There is nothing wrong with me. He doesn't have to work. . . .

And he can sleep late as he pleases. I am sick of playing hard to get. I believe in putting all my cards on the table and I want a man who will do the same.

JUST PLAIN LONESOME

Here are some of the replies:

DEAR ABBY: I am 20, a premed student, and crave the company of a mature woman. Love is only a state of mind. I know I could truly love a woman with her qualifications.

PREMED STUDENT (Madison, Wis.)

DEAR ABBY: My client is interested in the party who signed herself "Just Plain Lonesome." He is a mature, responsible, 33-year-old citizen who will furnish character references. Please contact this office.

NAME WITHHELD— Attorney at Law, San Mateo, Calif.

DEAR ABBY: Tell "JUST PLAIN LONESOME" he is in love with her. He's in his late 20s, likes to sleep, doesn't care for work, would appreciate a car and an allowance, would like to come and go as he pleases with no questions asked, and prefers women who are "not hard to get."

"JUST PLAIN FED-UP"

DEAR ABBY: We are not for sale, but we are for rent. There are seven of us who will offer

Waterford Man Weds Lansing Girl

Candela tied with white satin bows against a background of greens graced the altar in Alumni Memorial Chapel of Michigan State University for Saturday vows of Karen Milligan of East Lansing and Francis D. Robinson Jr. of Waterford Township.

The Rev. Roy Schramm of the People's Church, East Lansing, performed the ceremony before some 100 guests.

Daughter of Mrs. Jack Mil-ligan of East Lansing and the late Mr. Milligan, the bride was given in marriage by her brother Richard. The Francis D. Robinson of Angleton Drive, Waterford Township, are parents of the bridegroom.

The bridal gown of white peat tulle featured a bateau neckline and a deep yoke of re-embroidered Alencon lace above a princess waistline. Lace materials were set into the bouffant skirt styled with French pout and chapel train.

French silk illusion veiling fell from a Swedish crown of pearls and crystals which complemented the bridegroom's gift of pearls. A white orchid and stephanotis rested on the bride's white Bible.

Matron of honor Mrs. Dean Webb and Mrs. Kenneth Ronda, bridesmaids, both of East Lansing, are college friends of the bride. Mrs. Gerald Evans of Pontiac, sister of the bridegroom, also served as bridesmaid.

Each attendant in emerald green peat satin styled with understated pleats and a cab-age rose, wore a cabbage rose headpiece. All carried bronze and gold Fuji chrysanthemums.

MRS. F. DEAN ROBINSON JR.

James Giegler performed the duties of best man, with Clare Carlsien and Gerald Evans seating the guests.

After the chapel reception, the new Mrs. Robinson changed to a mist green wool suit and dark brown accessories for the honeymoon trip to New York.

She is a graduate of Michigan State University, East Lansing. Her husband attended Ohio Military Institute at Cincinnati, where he was a member of Chi Sigma Chi Fraternity. They will live on Mill Street in Rochester.

A wide satin collar and or-orchid accessories complemented Mrs. Milligan's sheath dress of plum silk crepe worn with an orchid shoulder corsage. The mother of the bridegroom chose a bouffant light Royal blue pure silk dress, matching shoes and clutch bag. Her feather hat and gloves were white. Pink and white shat-tered carnations were worn at the shoulder.

Promise to Return to Restaurant

Emily Post
Good Taste Today

Question: Last evening a friend and I went into a restaurant for dinner. We were shown to a table and handed a menu. While we were looking at the menu the waiter filled the water glasses.

Neither of us could find anything on the menu that we liked and so we asked the waiter to leave and go somewhere else. My friend thought it would be very ill-bred to walk out once we had been seated and the waiter poured the water, so we stayed and had a very unsatisfactory dinner.

Would it have been wrong to leave?

Answer: If you could really find nothing on the menu that you liked and the waiter did not suggest some special dish for you, it would not have been wrong to have left, probably saying:

"We're sorry, but there is nothing on the menu we like. We'll come back another day."

Question: What can I do to show my gratitude to a man who gives me a lift to my office five days a week, and home again in the evening if I happen to be ready? True, he doesn't have to drive to my office, but he does, and it is a great convenience to me and saves me traveling in the crowded subways.

We work for the same company. He is married. I am not. Would a present be out of order?

Answer: If you know of some impersonal item that he has been intending to get, especially something for his car, or perhaps a carton of cigarettes (if he smokes), it will be quite proper to give it to him.

Question: I am going to be married at six o'clock in the evening and the men will wear tuxedos. However, none of the men own tuxedos and there fore will have to rent them. I would like to know if the bridegroom is responsible for the rental of the clothes. It is a question of the bridegroom to place the tea bag into the saucer?

Answer: No, they pay for their own clothes. If any of them cannot afford this ex-pense they will have to decline to take part.

Question: When served tea with a tea bag in the cup, is it permissible, after lifting the tea bag out with the spoon, to hold the string attached to it around the tea bag and with it gently squeeze as much as possible of the tea into the cup before placing the tea bag onto the saucer?

To place a dripping tea bag onto the rim of the saucer, fills it with a good deal of liquid which usually drops onto one's clothes when lifting the cup to drink the tea.

Answer: Faced with the situation you described, it seems to me that what you suggest, although not correct, is prob-ably the best thing you can do. Correctly, tea should be served from a teapot and any tea bags in it—unused.

Jackie's Days May Daze White House

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK (UPI) — The next first lady will do a lot of entertaining, predicts a longtime friend who on Jan. 1 will join the White House official family.

Letitia Baldridge, who will serve as social secretary to her brother Malcolm Jr. and his wife at their Woodbury, Conn., farm where she is trying to complete a novel before she moves to Washington.

It will be her second book—her first, "Roman Candle," was based on her years in Rome with Mrs. Luce.

Miss Baldridge talked of her long friendship with the next first lady.

They first met in Washington, she said, and the friendship continued through boarding school at the fashionable Miss Porter's in Farmington, Conn., at Vassar College in Pough-keepsie, N.Y.; and at the Sor-bonne in Paris where Mrs. Kennedy studied for a year.

Miss Baldridge was working for Ambassador Bruce at the time. The woman who succeeds Mrs. Mary Jane McCallister as spokesman for the first lady is a statuesque (nearly 6 feet tall) blonde interested in many of the same things as her new boss.

Miss Baldridge, like Mrs. Kennedy, is an authority on art. She majored in its history in college.

Both women are linguists—Miss Baldridge speaks fluent French and Italian. Both are the manner born. The mother was president of the Junior League in Omaha; Tish is a member of the league in Washington.

Tish said she approaches her new job with "absolute joy and awe. . . to be a member of the team of this incredible man and his wife."

Of her new boss, she adds: "She is a woman who has got everything including the next president."

Her parents now live in Washington.

By MUREL LAWRENCE
This week I want to write more about what goes on in a child to whom promises are persistently broken.
Suppose you are the child. In the corner store you have seen a red pencil box you passionately covet. I am your mother; you ask me for the dollar to buy it.
I say: "I'll give it to you when you get home from school this afternoon." On your arrival home from school, I say, "I had to give all the change in my purse to the milkman."

You expected this disappointment. You now know that I don't really want you to have the pencil box.

But you have to believe that I wanted you to have it. You have to believe that I've told you the truth. You are 7 years old.

You are dependent on me, not only for your physical survival but for orientation in this overwhelming grown-up world.

To know that I lie to you about wanting you to have things that I don't want you to have would equal chaos for you. It would be the shattering awareness that all my words may be as false and treacherous as quicksand.

So you must reject your secret knowledge that I have lied again and accept my excuse. You bury the knowledge deep where you hope it will not trouble you and cling to me with what seems to be renewed and unpolished trust. But that buried knowledge begins to make itself felt in an increase of haunting anxiety.

You may start biting your nails. You may find it hard to concentrate in school. You may have fantasies about my being your step-mother.

You become defensive with other people. Somehow, you can't feel safe with them.

Around adults and children alike that buried knowledge of my unreliability diffuses itself in a constantly uneasy suspicion that they are hiding critical feelings toward you that make them different from what they seem to be.

This sense of mysterious threat will become acute whenever others make promises to you. You will know that it derives from their buried knowledge that they will break their promises.
You will often feel this uneasiness in the course of your life because your trust of unreliable people will continue to involve you with them.
You may never discover the root of this anxiety.

MSUO Secretaries Set Fashion Show

Secretaries at Michigan State University Oakland will stage a fashion show Nov. 29 at the school's student center.
Hard-to-fit sizes, along with apparel for all ages and occasions, will be modeled by Detroit area women.
Stores in Pontiac, Birmingham and Rochester will provide the fashions. Entertainment and door prizes will be featured.
The secretaries hope to raise $700 for scholarships for needy students from the show's proceeds.
Tickets may be obtained by calling the university.

Clothes Industry Issues A to Z Fashion Guide

NEW YORK (UPI)—The garment industry is out with an "A to Z" compilation of fashion tips to aid the woman seeking a letter-perfect wardrobe.
The tips are included in a "How To Be Well-dressed" booklet, which is the first in a series of style guides the International Ladies Garment Workers Union will compile for the consumer.

Here are some of the highlights:

A — The all-of-a-piece is the look to aim for. Achieve it by coordinating your colors, cutting down on "extras."
B — Basic styles with interesting accessory changes can double the size of your wardrobe.

C — Casual clothes in elegant materials can take you everywhere in comfort and style.

E — Extremes are dangerous, unless you can afford to throw away a dress when it begins to bore you.
G — Glitter, the kind you get from satin and sequins and dazzling jewelry, is strictly for after-five.

K — Knitted clothes are handsome, easy to pack, easy to care for, but be sure they are easy on your figure.

N — Necklines should flatter your face and the length of your neck; soft, rounded collars if you are thin; scoop or V-necklines (no turtle-necks) if your face is full, above a short neck.

O — Old fashioned: the idea that redheads can't wear red, that tweeds can't come to the city, that cotton is just for summer, that shoes and handbags must match, that black kid gloves are "old."

P — Pants, to be worn only if you look well in them fore, aft and sideways.

Q — Quick dry and no-iron fabrics are important, especially if you travel a lot. To be at your best in them, slick up the edges with an iron to matter what the directions promise.

U — Underneath it all, efficient underpinnings: strapless bras and half-slips if there's even a suspicion a strap might show; dark slips with dark clothes; full slips for gossamer fabrics.

W — White touches are flattering, but keep them beautifully white.

Z — Zero hour. Never wait until then to shop. Even before you are ready to make your purchase, shop around, know where to go for the things you want and take the time to try them on.

Michigan was the first state to let women serve on juries, the act passed in 1915. Maine and Utah legislatures followed shortly thereafter with similar enabling acts.

It Determines Happiness
Examine Your Personality

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Personality is so complex and so subtle and it has such a terrific effect on our happiness and success that it seems we sometimes should investigate our own.

We all have some characteristics which draw others to us and some which drive them away. What are a few of these in each category? Of course just plain friendliness has magic power to make others like us and seek us out. If we truly like people, we will be interested in what they are saying, what which draw others to us and some which drive them away. What are a few of these in each category? Of course just plain friendliness has magic power to make others like us and seek us out. If we truly like people, we will be interested in what they are saying, what Gaiety or a joyous outlook makes a meeting a happy occasion for others. Most folks have so many problems that they bless the person who can lift their spirit even for a few minutes.

BE CONSISTENT

Consistency in attitude toward others is important. If we act as though we are glad to see a person one day and as though we had never met him the next, he or she will not feel very secure in our friendship. In fact, after a few such encounters he will write the whole thing off.

Often this inconsistency is due to not feeling well or to some nagging trouble or discouragement, but people do not know this.

What about the characteristics which repel others? Most of them are just the opposite of the happy traits I have mentioned. They include being self-centered and much more interested in our own conversation, thoughts and plans than in those of others; being critical and intolerant of others, spreading gloom with a pessimistic outlook; a continual recital of our troubles; and being inconsistent in our attitude toward others.

Of course there are many other unpleasant characteristics which could be added to these, such as being argumentative. A good running argument among close friends is fun, but in our general contact with others it can be fatal to popularity.

I would like it if you would write to tell me what personality traits you find attractive and unattractive in others, and in doing this you will become aware of your own traits, good and bad. I will print some of the letters I receive, but will not print the name of the sender.

If you would like to have my 10-cent booklet "Your Bust" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your troubles; to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. This booklet is informative on proper care of the bust and tells how to make your bust line more attractive.

News of Area Folks

Hosts at a preholiday party at The Sign of the Best Eater in Royal Oak Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lajoie of Fairfax Road, Birmingham and the Jack Jolits of Detroit. A late buffet supper was enjoyed by some 200 guests after an evening of dancing.

Joyce F. Spears of Edgemoor Drive, Drayton Plains, was a recent visitor at Virginia's famous Skyline Caverns near Front Royal.

The Ralph Listers of Mark Street entertained for their house guest Airman I.C. Robert Crance of Castle AFB, Calif., last weekend. He is a close friend of their son, Airman 2.C. Robert Lister, currently stationed at Southampton, England.

Their guests included Thomas Terrill of Leper, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Simmons and family of Utica, also Joyce, Karen and Bryan Edwards of North Branch.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Handren Jr. of Riverside Drive, Birmingham, left Thursday to be the weekend house guests of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Murphy of Columbus, Ohio. The foursome attended the Michigan State football game Saturday as they have done for the past eight years, alternating as hosts.

The Hawley G. Hallmans have moved recently from their home on Ramona Terrace to Orionville Road, Clarkston.

The Norton Marshalls and daughter Yvonne, formerly of Charnwood Drive, Birmingham, are now making their home in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Thirty members of the Birmingham alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority were luncheon guests of Mrs. William Phelps Thursday in her new home on Fieldbrook Road, Orchard Lake.

A poetry workshop followed a recent luncheon for area members of the Detroit Women Writers' Club who were guests of Mrs. Norman A. Lall of Batchewanna Drive, Clawson. Tuesday's meeting will be in the Women's City Club, Detroit.

Mrs. Norman Buckner of Pine Lake Drive entertained members of the immediate families at dinner Saturday evening, honoring Mr. Buckner on his birthday.

Christmas Fete Is Scheduled by the WCTU

A Christmas party was planned by members of Anna Gordon Unit, Women's Christian Temperance Union, Thursday at the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Peter Niemi and Mrs. Lorne Warner will be program chairmen for the party, which will feature a cooperative dinner. Decorating committee members are Mrs. Winford Sheraton and Mrs. Nettie Christie.

Mrs. William Carls led in group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Edna Matheny at the piano. Mrs. Ira Davis read devotions from the 42nd Psalm. Members voted to send a contribution to the state treasurer, Mrs. Clara P. Todd of Plymouth, for a Christmas party at the Battle Creek Veterans Hospital.

Reporting on the Oct. 26-28 state WCTU convention at Owosso was Mrs. Frank Deaver. Mrs. Matheny, a past president, also attended the convention.

It Should Fit

Every item you buy for the living room should fit into that room. Home economists recognize that you may not be able to redecorate the entire living room at one time. But they suggest you make a long range plan which will guide you with each new purchase.

Cook Modern Turkey in Slow Dry Heat

Today's high quality birds make it easy for even the inexperienced to have excellent results. If the turkey purchased carries specific instructions for handling and cooking (on the wrapper or insert sheet), follow those recommendations. True roasting is slow cooking by dry heat on a rack in an open pan. And no water, no cover nor searing is required. Variations of this method also give satisfactory results. Whatever the method, always complete roasting in one continuous cooking period.

Follow these simple steps for open-pan, low heat roasting...

1. Have bird completely clean. Rinse with cold water. Pat dry.
2. Preheat oven to 325 degrees (slow).
3. Rub cavity of bird lightly with salt. Do not salt, if stuffed.
4. Fill wishbone area (neck) with stuffing, if used.
5. Fasten neck skin to back with skewer.
6. Stuff cavity lightly if stuffing is used.
7. Push drumsticks under band of skin at tail; or tie them to tail.
8. Place turkey on rack in roasting pan. Brush skin with fat. Place in oven.
9. If desired, baste or brush occasionally with pan drippings—especially any dry areas. Baste quickly in order not to lose oven heat. When turkey is $\frac{1}{2}$ done, cut cord or band of skin at drumsticks.
10. Continue roasting until done. Turkey is done when meat at thickest part of drumstick feels very moist when pressed with protected fingers. This timetable is a guide to the approximate total time.

Timetable—325 Degrees (slow) Oven
Purchased ready-to-cook wt.	For stuffed turkeys*
6 to 8 lb	3 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 4 hours
8 to 12 lb	4 to 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours
12 to 16 lb	4 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours
16 to 20 lb	5 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 7 hours
20 to 24 lb	7 to 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours

*Shorter time $\frac{1}{2}$ to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours for unstuffed turkeys the shorter time for birds up to 12 pounds and the longer time for birds over 12 pounds.

Husbands Require a Bit of Aloneness

By RUTH MILLETT

The nagging wife is practically an extinct species, says a prominent French physician. That's because women have been warned so often against nagging their husbands that they have overcome that wifely tendency.

But, says the doctor, they've replaced nagging with an even worse habit. They've become "aggressively companionable." For a man, that's harder to cope with than nagging.

After all, a man can walk out on a nagging wife, slamming the door behind him. He can even yell, "Nag, nag, nag; that's all you ever do" before he bangs the door.

But what can a poor guy do when he comes home to a wife who is so determined to be helpful and companionable and understanding that she won't give him a moment's peace?

He can't slam the door on a wife who greets him with, "Darling, you look tired. You must have had an awful day. Sit down here in my chair and tell me all about it."

No, he can't forget his work when he leaves his office if his wife insists on asking "Interested" questions and offering unasked-for advice.

He can't even sit down with the evening paper and read it in peace and quiet if his wife is so determined to be companionable that she chatters at him all the while he is trying to read.

The doctor who deplores the "togetherness" trend in marriage thinks wives ought to be made to understand that what a husband needs most at the end of the day is to be left alone—at least long enough to cast off his workday worries.

He is convinced that never being able to get away from an aggressively companionable wife can make a man physically ill, because it's a problem a husband doesn't know how to cope with.

Apparently the only one who can correct the situation is the aggressively companionable wife. And all she has to do to set matters right is to stop insisting on so much "togetherness" and give her husband the gift of a little "aloneness."

Lions 'It Won't Happen Again' Rematch 'Dec. 18 With Bears

Ninowski Gets Rough Time in Pass Attempts

Detroit Gains Only 14 Aerial Yards in 28-7 Rout by Chicago

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Lions' quarterback Jim Ninowski, still reeling from the beating the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions put on one of the dandiest free-all fights seen in these parts for a long time.

The Lions' inability to get their passing going was a major cause of their 28-7 defeat at the hands of the Bears. While outshining the Bears, 133 to 129, and almost matching them in first downs—48 to 46—the Lions had 11 compared to Chicago's 12—Detroit could produce only 14 yards passing while the Bears run up 204.

The Bears put the big rush on Ninowski, throwing him for a record 127 yards in the game. The Detroit quarterback finished the game with 16 completions on 36 tries for 121 yards.

Unable to win on the field, the Lions challenged the Bears to a re-match which, lasted for nearly three minutes.

With less than two minutes left in the game both benches erupted in a fury of punching, kicking and pushing. Chicago end John Aven and Detroit back Bruce Mahler starred in the headline bout which sprang apparently from a collision between the two gridder holders during a punt to midfield.

Chicago rubbers—Doug Atkins, Bill George, Fred Williams and Phil Bishop—three Ninowski for losses eight times and limited the Lions to 14 net yards on passes.

Except for Nick Pietrosanti's three-yard touchdown sprint in the second half, the Lions never got close, resorting to field goal attempts of 40, 56 and 43 yards by Jim Martin. None paid off.

Pietrosanti's touchdown came right after a 52-yard burst through the Bear line and made the score 14-7.

The Bears took a 14-0 lead in the first half when end Willard Derwelle mugged a 45-yard pass play with Ed Brown in the second period.

The Bears served up the game in the last quarter with two touchdowns. Brown dashed 36 yards and three plays later sneaked scores from the one-foot line and Johnny Morris ran 36 yards from scrimmage following an interception of Ninowski's pass by Larry Morris on the Lion 40.

The loss was the Lions' fifth this season against three victories.

Chicago now is 4-3 for the season. Detroit will meet its traditional Thanksgiving Day opponent—the Green Bay—Thursday at Briggs Stadium.

Pontiac Lifter Sets 3 Marks

Bill Posey, Pontiac light-heavyweight, remained unbeaten in the Western Open Power Weightlifting contest, held Saturday night at Detroit Western YMCA.

Posey, 171 pounds, set three new state records for his class. He equaled the state mark on the bench press at 330 pounds. He set marks in the deep knee bend at 480 pounds, the dead lift at 500 pounds and the three lifts at 1330 pounds.

He and three other state champions will compete at the National meet in Milwaukee next week-end.

Other Pontiac lifters did well. Doug Hills totaled 1255 pounds to tie for second place in the middle heavyweight division. Winner was Vic Hansen of Ann Arbor with 1265 pounds. Hills bench pressed 315 pounds, lifted 465 on the knee bend and had a dead lift of 535.

No Declared Winner in Lions-Bears Battle

CHICAGO (AP)—Nobody knows how it started and nobody was named the winner but the Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions put on one of the dandiest free-all fights seen in these parts for a long time.

Incidental to the melee was the fact that the Bears won 28-7 to keep alive their slim hopes for the Western Division title in the National Football League.

With a little more than a minute left to play, the Bears punted to Detroit and Terry Barr was brought down near the Lions' bench.

One fight broke out in front of the Detroit bench between a couple of unidentified gladiators. On the other side of the field, halfback Bruce Mahler of the Lions and kicking specialist John Aven of the Bears were going at it but good.

One fight broke out in front of the Detroit bench between a couple of unidentified gladiators. On the other side of the field, halfback Bruce Mahler of the Lions and kicking specialist John Aven of the Bears were going at it but good.

Suddenly both benches erupted in the field. Players were swinging, kicking, jumping on each other and in some cases chasing one another to the delight of the crowd of 46,267.

Before order could be restored, Joe Fortunato of the Bears was led off the field with a cut face and Mahler and Roger Davis of the Bears were ejected from the game.

Things got so hot at one stage of the battle that Dick (Night Train) Lane and Gil Mada—both of Detroit—were tussling with each other.

Once the final gun went off, players from both teams met in the middle of the field. However, this time it was just to shake hands.

Mahler, in the dressing room, said he had no choice but to get the Bears out of the game.

St. Ben Takes Big 19-13 Win Over Berkley

St. Benedict concluded an outstanding CVO football season by beating Berkley Our Lady of Lancelotti 19-13 Sunday afternoon in a battle of league champions. Each had won a Suburban division.

After having a 13-0 halftime lead wiped out in the third quarter, the Pontiac Bulldogs clinched the issue early in the final period on a 35-yard pass by Jerry Ogden—his and touchdowns of the game. Mike Hamilton garnered the PAT.

Coach Bob Gallo of visiting St. Ben called it his team's "best game in three years." He praised the work of his line in the bruising tussle.

Overlooked Player Causes Damage

Field Goal Jolts Green Bay

By The Associated Press
Plucky Danny Villanueva, one of a family of 12 children, a mediocre college football player and a pro overvalued finally signed by the Los Angeles Rams, has spent many of his 23 years seeking attention. Today the spotlight was shining in his face.

The rookie from New Mexico State, overlooked by many National Football League scouts, kicked four field goals Sunday the last a 9-yarder with 22 seconds left that beat Green Bay 23-31 and dealt the Packers' title chances a stunning blow.

Villanueva, a 5-foot-11, 200-pounder from Tucuman, N.M., also booted key field goals of 25, 17 and 31 yards in the upset that pushed the Packers a full game behind Western Conference leading Baltimore. The Colts were idle.

Meanwhile the Philadelphia Eagles took a 14-game lead in the East by knocking off the runner-up New York Giants 17-10 in the first of their crucial back-to-back meetings.

Pittsburgh kayaked Cleveland's Eastern title hopes with a 14-10 victory over the Browns but Chicago stayed within striking range in the West with a 28-7 thumping of Detroit. St. Louis beat Washington 24-14 and San Francisco kept Dallas winless by the same score.

The Rams (3-5-1) built a commanding 30-1 lead by the third period on three Villanueva boots and a trio of Billy Wade touchdowns before the Packers (5-3) struck back and finally pulled ahead 31-30 in the final quarter on Paul Hornung's two-yard TD smash.

But, Hornung, the league's scoring leader with 119 points, soon became the goat. After bursting short yardage for two TDs, kicking a field goal and four conversions, the former Notre Dame star muffed a 22-yard field goal attempt with 4:44 to go and then fumbled to start the drive that sent Villanueva's clincher.

The Giants (5-2-1), who may have lost first-string halfback Frank Gifford with a concussion, took an early lead on Joe Morris-son's 1-yard plunge and Pat Sumner's 25-yard field goal. The Eagles tied it on a 35-yard scoring pitch from Norm Van Brocklin to Tommy McDonald and Bobby Walston's 12-yard field goal in the final quarter.

Then Jim Carr picked up a fumble by New York's Mel Triplett with 24 minutes left and stunned a Yankee Stadium crowd of 63,571 by rambling 36 yards for a touchdown and the Eagles seventh consecutive triumph since opening game loss to Cleveland.

The Browns (3-5) were beaten by the clock, winding up on the Pittsburgh 9 when time ran out after Tom Tracy's 4-yard touch-down jaunt around end gave the Steelers (3-5-1) the lead with 2:15 left.

Johnny Roach bombed the Redskins (1-5-2) with touchdown aerials of 27, 7 and 37 yards to Sonny Randle. Washington scored on Ralph Guglielmi's 10-yard TD pass to Joe Walton and Gary Glick's fumble recovery in the end zone.

C. R. Roberts' 20-yard touch-down run in the fourth quarter proved the clincher for the Bears (4-4), who got a four-field goal performance from Tommy Davis against Dallas (0-9).

Big Period Aids Red Wings

NEW YORK (AP)—Staging a three-goal rally in the second period, the Detroit Red Wings edged the New York Rangers 4-3 last night at Madison Square Garden.

Gordie Howe started things off in the middle period. The big right-winger blistered the puck past goalie Lorne Gumpow. Worsley with the period only 12 seconds left.

Marcel Pronovost scored at 9:18 and Howie Glover hit at 9:58 to put Detroit out in front 4-2.

The Rangers drew first blood, Andy Hebenton beating Detroit goalie Hank Bannister with only 52 seconds. Allan Johnson tied it up for Detroit about 10 minutes later. But the Rangers bounced back to take a 2-1 lead on George Sullivan's goal.

There was no scoring in the third period until only 25 seconds remained. Then Ranger Camille Henry emerged from a goal-mouth scramble and whipped a close shot past Bannister.

The Rangers were playing without a goalie at the time, removing Worsley for an additional forward.

The victory was the Wings' fourth in their last 11 games and Bannister made some fine saves in the final period to preserve it.

Howe's goal, his first in nine games, and an earlier assist, gave him 800 regular season points, adding to his own record, Maurice Richard, now retired, has 1,091 total points in regular season and playoffs and Howe has 1,069.

What College Team Will Be No. 1 This Week?

By The Associated Press
A mad scramble for the national college football championship suddenly developed today out of the demise of Missouri with more than a half-dozen teams revealed in the running for the coveted title.

Last week Missouri had one foot in the throne room door. The Tigers had rampaged through all nine opponents and needed only to get past twice-beaten Kansas to take the crown.

But Kansas plastered the Tigers, 23-7. So Missouri finished with a 9-1 record, 50 did Washington, Iowa shows 8-1 as does Minnesota, Navy and Auburn. Mississippi, the only one of the group that has not been defeated shows an 8-1 record with one game to go.

No nothing really can be settled until after the Mississippi-Mississippi State game Saturday. If the Rebels win, they will have a good talking point in that they will have gone through the season unbeaten.

Missouri, of course, is not out of it. The Tigers just happened to be the last of the big boys to bite the dust. Iowa was ranked No. 2 in the Associated Press poll last week, behind Missouri and looked powerful in blanketing Notre Dame, 28-0.

But what of Minnesota? The Gophers whipped Wisconsin, 26-7. In their finale to the Iowa for the Big 10 title. Further, Minnesota was the only team to beat Iowa during the season.

Washington barely edged Washington State, 8-7. Navy was idle, waiting for the big one against Army Saturday, while Auburn clattered Florida State, 37-21.

The bowl situation is just as confused. Five teams have been tapped officially—Washington for the Rose, Arkansas for the Cotton, Missouri for the Orange, Florida for the Gator, and Penn State for the Liberty.

The Rose Bowl appears ready to break its long tradition—there is no more official contract—with the Big 10 and invite Navy if the Middles beat Army. That would leave both Minnesota and Iowa, both of whom are hoping to make the westward trek, out in the cold.

Syracuse officials met Sunday night and decided to postpone any action of bowl bids. The Orange have been invited to the Gotham Bowl in New York and the Liberty Bowl in Philadelphia.

With all the speculation in the air, the eight major bowls could wind up like this:

Rose—Washington vs. Navy, Cotton—Arkansas vs. Oregon, Orange—Missouri vs. Duke, Sugar—Mississippi vs. Rice, Gator—Florida vs. Tennessee, Gotham—Syracuse vs. Alabama, Liberty—Penn State vs. Texas, Blue Bonnet—Baylor vs. UCLA.

Big 10 clubs are not permitted to play in any post-season game other than the Rose Bowl.

There are all sorts of "ifs" to the list. The main one, perhaps, is that Navy won't get the Rose Bowl invitation unless it beats Army. If Army should lick the Middles, Navy will pass post-season play.

The Orange Bowl committee also wants Navy and has made Syracuse its No. 2 choice.

Again, Duke won the Atlantic Coast Conference championship, but lost its final game of the season to North Carolina last Saturday, 7-6. That gave the Blue Devils a 7-2 record, and they probably will be third choice behind Navy and Syracuse for the Orange Bowl.

Only two major teams in the country managed to finish unbeaten and untied, Yale crushed Harvard, 36-0, to wind up its first perfect season since 1923 with a 9-0 record. But Ivy League teams don't play post-season games.

New Mexico State won ninth without defeat, thrashing Hardin-Simmons, 40-3. State still has one game, against Texas Western Saturday. Utah State lost its first of the season last Saturday after running up nine in a row. Utah turned the trick, 6-0.

New Washington Team in AL Chooses Vernon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington's baseball baby has been provided with guardians for the weekend of peripatry in both major and minor leagues—Mickey Vernon and Ed Doherty.

The signing of Vernon as field manager and Doherty as general manager gave American League expansion plans a boost. But the other half of the double play—a move into Los Angeles—is still to be completed.

Club owners and league officials meet in New York Tuesday to award the Los Angeles franchise. They put off action just weeks after storm signals were raised by Commissioner Ford Frick.

Frick hinted that the American League had better do business with Walter O'Malley, owner of the National League's Los Angeles Dodgers, before moving onto his lush acres. As a result, Ed Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, is in Los Angeles to talk with O'Malley.

Webb hopes to obtain O'Malley's terms for a peaceful settlement of the issue so the matter of awarding the new franchise can be dealt with.

Ike Ponders Invitation to Go Quail Hunting

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported considering today a one-day quail shooting trip as a windup to his two-week Georgia vacation.

The White House said the President had not yet firmly decided whether to accept an invitation to fly Tuesday to Albany, Ga., 250 miles southwest of Augusta, on the hunting expedition.

W. Alton Jones, board chairman of Otter Service Corp., has been urging Eisenhower to visit the Jones' Blue Hill plantation near Albany.

Emotional First Aid Stations Advocated

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stockholders, management and workers would all benefit if industry would set up "emotional first aid" stations for those employees whose behavior reveals constant emotional disturbance, in the view of Dr. R. W. Waggoner of the University of Michigan, who adheres to the psychological sciences of human behavior.

He recognized at once that industry has been disappointed in some of the results it has had from the science of psychology in other fields.

But it was "oversold," he said, if expected too much.

Behavioral sciences are now advanced enough to identify po-

stantial emotional disturbers at the time of hiring and to be of help to them after they're hired, in his opinion.

The techniques will have to be worked out, he continued. But there are firm scientific foundations for them. In the matter of screening job applicants, "it is a generally accepted fact that the seeds are sown in early childhood or in adolescence for the development of emotional and behavioral disturbances."

Of course, not everyone who had a stormy childhood has been marked by them—by any means.

But a point of interest in "screening" is whether or not there was a "pattern of excessive rebelliousness against authoritarian figures such as parents or teachers." Caution is indicated, however. "To some extent this exists with all of us," he said.

As for candidates for industrial "emotional first aid" stations, he suggested certain types of on-the-job behavior might nominate them.

He listed "insubordination, general unreliability, absenteeism, trouble-making, drinking, laziness, violation of rules, carelessness, irritability and fighting, dishonesty, misconduct, loafing and dissatisfaction."

On the other hand, other types of on-the-job behavior make people better workers on certain jobs than those who are more "normal." He cited "the obsessive or compulsive person required by his neurosis to do the best possible kind of work with particular attention to detail."

And "the individual who appears to be shy and retiring can often do by far the best kind of job in research or in areas where mixing with a large group is not required."

You have to keep in mind that a person "who in general might be considered as normal" might not be able to stand up emotionally to a job which isolated him. Waggoner was not advocating that the "screening" should be so fine it would pass only one narrow variety of so-called "normal" person. And he definitely was not advocating "emotional first aid" as a means of getting rid of troublesome employees.

His view was that in general proper attentiveness of management to the emotions of workers would improve morale and thus increase productivity—and profits.

The "emotional first aid" would be rendered by psychiatrists or other social scientists. The recipients of the first aid would be "referred," but he indicated a certain amount of coercion might be needed to get some of them to accept it, since emotionally disturbed persons are often not conscious of it.

He advanced his plan in the technical journal, "Industrial Medicine and Surgery."

Nehru Warns China Planes Will Fall

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said today India will shoot down Communist China planes crossing its borders "when we can." It was the toughest stand he has taken on the long-simmering border dispute. The government reported last week it had protested to Peking over 101 air violations of Indian territory in eight months. The Chinese denied the planes were theirs.

Nehru made his threat to stop the violations with force under questioning in Parliament.

When John Quincy Adams ran for president for the first time in 1820 he received only one electoral vote. Monroe had a total of 231.

The American Red Cross was founded in 1881.

You'd Better Eat the Chocolate Creams

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press House Editor

"Candy is to eat," is what one of Art Linkletter's small TV guests might say. Sure, but it can be used in recipes too.

What started this trend of thought is the fact that the Campfire Girls are selling candy right now. We wanted to see what new recipes we could invent, using peanut brittle and chocolate creams.

Our Better Half took a dim view of the entire proceedings.

"Tell your readers that the candy is good the way it comes. Why bother with all this fooling around?" That was while he was eating a cupcake in which we had hidden a chocolate cream.

The Twelve-Year-Old, being at the stage of constant starvation, ate two of the same cupcakes after school — so did his pal. No complaints from them!

Said cupcakes were made by putting a large spoonful of cake batter in the pan, dropping in a candy and covering it with more batter. We used a plain cake recipe and had to beat it by hand because the mixer is away for repairs. (We're getting lazy.)

We put more creams in the sherbet glasses before we poured the peanut brittle. It doesn't work but boiled custard over them. We thought the candy would melt. It didn't. Better not try that one.

One idea we figured out was making holders for candles on a birthday cake. If you will gently poke a hole in the top of a cream with the end of a wooden skewer, you can fit a tiny birthday candle in easily. Arrange the appropriate number of candles on top of the frosted cake. Youngsters will love the thought of eating the candle holders.

We fared a little better using brittle into it for a quick and delicious dessert.

Use the crushed brittle to garnish puddings or applesauce.

Our experiment gets "B" for Effort, but not much more. The candy is good, though, whatever you do with it.

Fancy Cutsouts

If you have tiny cutters in different shapes you can make attractive miniature cutouts from slices of preserved ginger. Use the ginger garnishes on a bowl of sliced oranges or canned or frozen peaches.

If your cake has a heavy streak in it, the chances are that your batter was undermixed.

Save Time With Short-Cut Stuffing

While we like to keep family traditions alive at Thanksgiving, there is no need to use old-fashioned, time-wasting preparation methods. Why not consider buying stuffing that is as good as the kind Grandmother used to make after spending hours crumbling bread and chopping onions and celery? Save yourself at least thirty minutes by getting the packaged, herb-seasoned stuffing.

Add your own touches to your own taste, as in these suggestions:

PARSLEY STUFFING: Mix stuffing according to directions. Add 1/2 cup snipped parsley, per package.

WATER CHESTNUT STUFFING: Mix stuffing; add 1 cup sliced canned water chestnuts, per package.

CRANBERRY STUFFING: Mix stuffing; add 1 cup chopped raw cranberries, per package.

In case you want extra helpings for seconds on stuffing, try baking some in a pan by itself after mixing it this way:

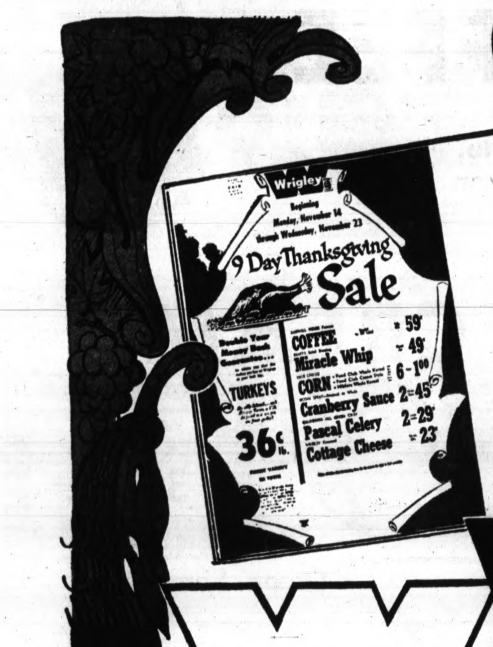

Simmer one stalk chopped celery and 1/2 medium onion, chopped, in about 1 1/2 cups water until celery becomes tender. Add 1/2 cup snipped parsley, per package. Empty bag of prepared packaged stuffing into liquid.

Add one beaten egg and stir with fork until crumbs are thoroughly moistened. Place mixture in a buttered baking dish, dot with butter and bake thirty minutes in a medium oven.

Even Pinwheels

To make well-filled and uniform pin-wheel rolls, roll dough into a long narrow rectangle 1/4 inch thick and spread with filling; roll up lengthwise, cut in 1-inch slices and place in buttered muffin tins.

You Can Roast Bird Wrapped Up in Foil Turkey, Fruit Are Layered in Mold

When large families gather, holiday feasts are often served in the spacious family or recreation room of modern day homes. Here a richly-carved plank may hold the pump turkey and other informal ways of serving be used for holding the array of wonderful foods.

Autumn Leaves: Use two 5" x 7" pieces of foil, one on top of the other. Fold in half; then cut elongated half circles. Open out, turn up edges and flite to look like a leaf. Use to hold smashed sweet or white potatoes or squash.

Turkey Roasted in Aluminum Foil: Preparation: Prepare turkey for roasting, defrosting thoroughly, if frozen. Stuff turkey or not, as desired, and truss in usual manner. Simmer giblets and neck in covered saucepan with one quart of water, seasonings and a small onion, until tender. Remove liver after 30 minutes. Use this broth in the gravy.

Wrapping: Use heavy duty aluminum foil and wrap turkey carefully. 18-inch-wide foil will wrap turkeys up to 16 pounds eviscerated weight. Two 18-inch widths may be spliced for larger turkeys.

Lay turkey on its back in middle of foil. Brush all over with soft shortening. Season with salt and pepper. Place small folds of foil over the ends of legs, wing tips and tail to prevent puncturing. Bring long ends of foil up over the breast of the turkey and overlap 3" or more. Close open ends by folding underneath foil up and over the top piece.

Let it extend up 2 to 4 inches so drippings will not run into pan. Large turkeys may have as much as 3 pints of drippings. Place turkey in a shallow pan in oven; roast according to chart.

TIME TABLE FOR FOIL ROASTING

10-12	425 deg.	180 deg.	2 1/2 to 3
12-14	425 deg.	180 deg.	3 to 3 1/2
14-16	425 deg.	180 deg.	3 1/2 to 4
16-18	425 deg.	180 deg.	4 to 4 1/2
18-20	425 deg.	180 deg.	4 1/2 to 5
20-22	425 deg.	180 deg.	5 to 5 1/2
22-24	425 deg.	180 deg.	5 1/2 to 6

Browning: 20 minutes before end of roasting time, open and fold back foil. Spoon juices in bottom of foil over turkey and let turkey brown.

Gravy: Remove turkey to plunk. Ladle juice into a saucepan, add broth from giblets, seasonings to taste, and thicken in the usual manner.

Turkey, Fruit Are Layered in Mold

After the family has had its various innings with the holiday turkey, you have only to salvage two cups of diced meat to produce this delicious Cherry Topped Salad Wreath — a perfect highlight for a luncheon or light supper.

Cherry-Topped Salad Wreath: 1 x 200 (1 lb.) can water pack red cherries
1 1/2 cups water and juice
1 1/2 cups package cherry flavored gelatin dessert
1 1/2 cup softened almonds
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 cup hot chicken broth or bouillon

1/2 cup salad dressing
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups diced cooked turkey or chicken
Drain cherries. Add water to juice to measure 1 1/2 cups, and heat. Add cherry gelatin; chill until partially set. Fold in cherries and almonds. Pour into a 6-cup ring mold and chill until firm.
Soften gelatin in cold water; add broth and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool, add salad dressing, milk, salt, celery and turkey or chicken. Chill until partially set; pour over cherry mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with lettuce. Yield: 8 to 8 servings.

Ever add cooked corn kernels to cornmeal muffins? If you use canned corn, drain before adding to the muffin mixture.

Apple Chutney Can Garnish the Turkey

Roast turkey and stuffing, sweet potatoes, and pumpkin pie are the favored traditional foods for Thanksgiving Day and Christmas.

Variety on the menu comes from the green beans with little pearl onions. Apples, hollowed out and heaped high with a spicy, sweet fresh chutney are the salad or garnish for the tender roast turkey.

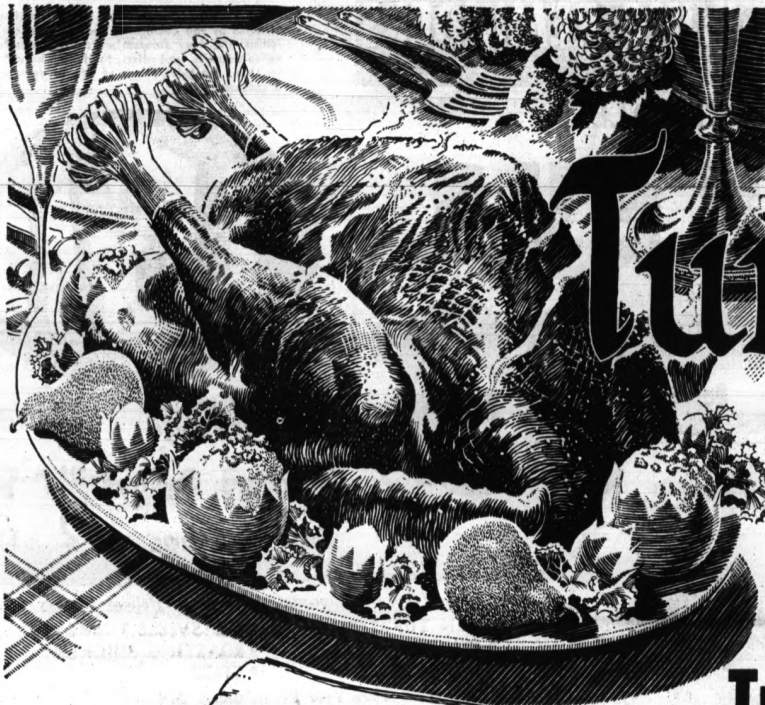

Apply Chutney: Slice off tops and bottoms of 8 kin pies. With a sharp paring sugar and use for filling the core-knife remove the cores and enough cavities of apples to be baked or of the apples to leave only 1/4 inch in a Brown Betty.

thick shells. Brush cut surfaces of the apples with a little lemon juice. Chop remaining apple and combine with 1 cup chopped celery, 1 cup white seedless raisins, 1/2 cup broken walnuts, 1/4 cup chopped candied citron, and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Stir in 1/2 cup strained honey, and 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Chill apples and chutney mixture until ready to serve. To serve, place each apple shell in a crisp lettuce cup. Heap apples high with the chutney mixture. Yield 8 servings.

Pumpkin-pie spice tastes a long time when it is used only for pumpkin pies? Mix a little of it with tart apples. With a sharp paring sugar and use for filling the core-knife remove the cores and enough cavities of apples to be baked or of the apples to leave only 1/4 inch in a Brown Betty.

Nantucket Cooks Proud of Cranberry Dishes

With the most abundant cranberry crop in history, it's time to pan. Cook 20 minutes. Force into sterilized jars; seal. Makes 4.

Combine ingredients in sauce- through food mill or sieve, pour half pints.

Fresh Cranberry Conserve
4 cups fresh cranberries
1/2 cup water
2 cups sugar
1 medium orange, thinly sliced
1/2 to 1/4 cup brandy
1/2 cup pecans

Combine cranberries, water and sugar. Cook until berries pop, about 10 minutes. Add orange slices and simmer until mixture is thick, about 20 minutes. Stir in brandy. Pack into hot sterilized jelly glasses; seal with paraffin.

(Makes a welcome Christmas gift.)
Makes about 5 6-oz. glasses.

FRESH NANTUCKET — Cranberries by the far promise good eating for months to come. They include cranberry jam, catsup and conserve.

Quick Cranberry-Apricot Jam
4 cups fresh cranberries
8 cups apricot preserves
1 cup light brown sugar
1 teaspoon ground ginger

Combine ingredients in sauce- pan; simmer 20 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars; seal. Makes 5 half pints.

Cranberry Catsup
4 cups fresh cranberries
8 cups apricot preserves
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup water
1 cup vinegar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper

Small Turkey Fine Barbecued

Who is to say that a turkey must always be stuffed and roasted? Some may not wish to stuff and roast this turkey at all. Some may prefer to buy the smaller bird (4 to 6 pounds) and cut it into serving pieces to be barbecued in a spicy sauce in the oven.

Barbecued Turkey
4 to 6 pound turkey, cut up
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 stick 1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup shortening
1/2 cup barbecue sauce

Dip turkey into mixture of flour, salt, paprika, and pepper. Melt butter and shortening in a shallow baking pan in a hot oven (400 degrees F.). Remove baking pan from oven. As pieces of floured turkey are placed in pan, turn to coat with butter, then bake side down in a single layer. Bake in the hot oven over 30 minutes. Turn turkey. Pour Spicy Barbecue Sauce over all. Bake uncovered 30 minutes longer, or until tender.

Spicy Barbecue Sauce:
Combine 1 medium onion, sliced, 2 tablespoons EACH sugar, vinegar, and Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon chili powder, 1/2 teaspoon black pepper, 1 cup catsup, and 1/2 cup water. Simmer 15 minutes.

Serving Cheese

Do you know the correct way to serve Gouda or Edam cheese when it is offered with crackers at the end of a meal or as a snack? This cannon-ball shaped cheese, with its gay outer red covering, should have its top cut off; then eaters can help themselves by scooping out pieces of the cheese.

Rotisserie Can Be Used to Cook Turkey

Some may wish to turn out a tender, golden turkey with crispy skin by cooking it on the rotisserie. The unstuffed turkey weighing 6 to 9 pounds is just right for cooking in this modern way.

TO ROTISSERIE-COOK A TURKEY: Thaw the unstuffed turkey. Free the legs and tail from the tucked position. Remove the neck and giblets from the body and allow 2 to 3 hours for a 6 to 9 pound unstuffed turkey. No basting is needed but if a barbecue flavor pleases you, brush a sauce onto the turkey about 30 minutes before the end of the cooking time.

A roast meat thermometer may be used to check the doneness of the bird. The thermometer should read 190 degrees F. when inserted in the thickest part of the thigh close to the body as it turns on the spit. Insert the spit through the thick tail first. Cutting a slit in the tail with a knife before attempting to insert the spit is helpful. Run the spit through the cavity just below the breast bone and out through the neck skin. Fasten the turkey firmly with the prongs at both ends of the spit. Test the balance by turning the spit slowly.

The turkey is now ready to be put into place in the oven. It is wise to follow the directions for time and temperature which accompanied the range. If these are not available, set the thermostat control at 350 degrees (moderate) and allow 2 to 3 hours for a 6 to 9 pound unstuffed turkey. No basting is needed but if a barbecue flavor pleases you, brush a sauce onto the turkey about 30 minutes before the end of the cooking time.

A roast meat thermometer may be used to check the doneness of the bird. The thermometer should read 190 degrees F. when inserted in the thickest part of the thigh close to the body as it turns on the spit. Insert the spit through the

Four Pacifists Protest Polaris

Path of New Submarine on Tuesday

GROTON, Conn. (UPI)—Four pacifists plan to ride a canoe into the path of the Polaris missile-firing atomic submarine Ethan Allen Tuesday when she comes down the ways during a launching ceremony.

The quartet are members of the committee for nonviolent action, which has been holding demonstrations since June here and elsewhere in protest against this nation's missile program.

The four are Robert Swann, 43, of nearby Norwich, Joseph Glynn, 28, of Somerville, Mass., William Henry, 28, of Lodi, Wis., and Richard Zink, 20, of Ambler, Pa. They will conduct what they call a "civil disobedience" phase of the project, challenging arrest by authorities.

The same team was in Charleston, S.C., last week when the pioneer Polaris missile sub George Washington left fully armed with 16 missiles for a two-year roving assignment. Henry dived into the Cooper River in an attempt to swim into the path of the submarine.

Besides the canoe, which will be in the Thames River, site of the Ethan Allen launching, there will be at least one other boat on picket duty. Other members will carry signs and distribute leaflets at the gates of the electric boat shipyard where the ceremony will take place.

"We're focusing attention on these submarines because the United States is relying on them for massive retaliation in case of attack," said CNVA member Kenneth Meister.

"We believe that massive retaliation is not the right way to handle our problems. It will wipe out civilization. Disarmament is the answer."

A Navy spokesman said the civil disobedience participants will not be arrested, as in the past, because it would only be giving them more publicity.

Last week, however, the Navy sent the group a letter warning that if members attempted to board a Polaris submarine they would face a one-year jail sentence and or a $5,000 fine. CNVA followers boarded two such vessels briefly last month in an attempt to set up a "peace vigil."

GETTING STARTED — Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen of Drayton Plains made her cranberry relish last week. Standing a few days always improves its flavor. The Teeuwissen family will have a traditional Thanksgiving dinner this Thursday. Mr. Teeuwissen is minister of the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church.

ROMAN BLEACH—Favorite Bleach of Millions

John is a freshman at Alma this year and will be coming home for his first holiday. Peter, a sixth grader, is preparing to be his brother's campaign manager, should he ever run for President.

The Teeuwissen's dinner will be the same as they have always had. Turkey, of course, with savory stuffing; mashed potatoes; gravy; relishes; molded salad; and pumpkin pie—that's John's favorite kind.

Mrs. Teeuwissen made her cranberry relish last week. She uses a lemon instead of an orange and adds a small can of crushed pineapple.

Mrs. Teeuwissen leads an active life. In addition to her duties as a minister's wife, she does a great deal of writing, both prose and verse. She is a member of the PEO Sisterhood.

Here is her recipe for an unusual fruit gelatin mold:

GOLDEN MOLDED SALAD

By Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen, Jr.
2 packages orange gelatin
1 can mandarin oranges
2 cups boiling water
No. 10 can apricots
No. 5 can pineapple chunks
12 marshmallows cut in 4's

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add 1 cup mixed apricot and pineapple juice from canned fruit. Put apricots through a sieve. Fold sieved fruit, pineapple, oranges and marshmallows into cooled gelatin. Pour into square pan and chill.

Topping

1 cup mixed pineapple and apricot
1/2 cup sugar
1 beaten egg
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup cream whipped

Cook first five ingredients together until thick. Stir constantly. Cool. Fold into whipped cream. Spread over molded salad. Sprinkle with grated cheese if desired. Serves 10-12.

Spanish Deviled Eggs

For your next cocktail buffet, this Spanish version of deviled eggs will make a hit. Remove the yolks from hard-cooked eggs and blend with an equal amount of minced cooked or canned shrimp, blend with enough Spanish olive oil to make a creamy paste and season with salt, pepper and little crushed oregano. Refill the egg whites with the mixture and place a sliver of canned sweet red pepper or pimento over the top of each.

Mashing bananas for a cake, cookie, bread, muffin or nut shake? Try using your pastry blender for the job.

How Much Chicken?

You can usually count on a large stewing chicken yielding about 4 cups of diced meat after it is cooked. Use the cooked chicken for salad, chow mein, chicken loaf or combined with noodles.

Hollywood Says: Who's Next?

Death on No Holiday in Filmland

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Death is declining the ranks of Movietown, ringing down the curtain on the golden age of the movies.

More than two dozen stars, directors and producers have died since Jan. 1, 1959, including Clark Gable, Cecil B. DeMille, Ethel Barrymore, Kay Kendall, Paul Douglas, Errol Flynn, Mario Lanza and Victor McLaglin.

Curiously, a large percentage of those who left the scene during this time were under 60 years old. Mario Lanza was only 38 when he died Oct. 7, 1959.

Kay Kendall's meteoric career ended Sept. 8, 1959, at the age of 33, after a downhill fight to save her health.

The death of Wayne Morris, a youthful, vigorous 46, shocked Hollywood on Sept. 14, 1959.

Pioneer moviemaker Mack Sennett lived into his 80s as did veteran character actors Fred Stone, Taylor Holmes and Edmund Gwenn.

The old show business superstition of deaths running in threes may or may not be true, but it is fascinating to dwell on the proximity of some of the movie deaths.

For example: In March 1959, three actors drew their last breath — Eric Blom, 71; Lou Costello, 52, and Fred Stone, 85. In April of the same year, it was James Gleason, 72, and producer Irving Cummings, 70.

June, 1959 found Ethel Barrymore, 79, and director Charles Vidor, 58, dead.

Five stars died in September 1959—Miss Kendall, Gwenn, 85, Douglas, 52, Morris and Holmes, 84.

Errol Flynn followed Lanza's death by seven days, passing away Oct. 14, 1959, in Vancouver, British Columbia.

McLaglin, 72, and Margaret Sullivan, 48, died in November. The deaths this month of Gable, 59, Sennett, Ward Bond, 57, and Walter Catlett, 71, brought home to Hollywood the stunning realization that its ranks were being thinned rapidly by death.

Clara Kimball Young, America's first lady of the spotlight, died Oct. 15, at 70. Four days before her death, actor

Richard Cromwell, 50, succumbed.

Before them, on May 30, veteran character actor Edward Brophy, 65, died.

DeMille was the first of the big movie people to die in 1959. He died on Jan. 21 at the age of 77. He was followed on Feb. 4 by character actress Una O'Connor, 78, and on Aug. 6 by director Preston Sturges, 60.

Next year, next month, perhaps even tomorrow, more celebrities will be summoned for the final curtain call and many a nervous Hollywoodite is wondering if he or she will be among them.

Thomas Jefferson died July 4, 1826, just 50 years after the adoption of the document which made him famous in American history.

Move Deadline on N-Reactor

AEC Allows Builder Seven More Months to Finish Plant in State

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Atomic Energy Commission has extended for seven months, to next July 15, the completion date for the controversial nuclear reactor at Laguna Beach, Mich.

The AEC originally set Dec. 15, 1960, as the deadline for completing the "fast breeder" nuclear reactor, to be located 30 miles south of Detroit on Lake Erie.

A group of labor unions opposed the project, however, contending that its location near a metropolitan area would be an ever present danger to thousands of persons living in Detroit and its suburbs.

The U. S. Court of Appeals upheld the unions and ruled that the commission could not authorize building such a project in a populous area.

The AEC appealed the ruling to the Supreme Court, which agreed to review the case.

Turkey Stockpile 279 Million Pounds

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Pre-holiday stocks of turkeys on Nov. 1 were a record 279 million pounds, according to the Crop Reporting Board's cold storage report. The previous record of 255 million pounds occurred on Nov. 1, 1958.

Total frozen poultry stocks on Nov. 1 were a record 411 million pounds. Frozen vegetable stocks also were a record—one billion pounds.

The Nov. 1 stocks of frozen foods were 13 per cent greater than the 1955-59 average and 8 per cent above a year earlier.

Stuff That Turkey Just Before Roasting It

Turkey takes precedence over all other meat and fowl this week. Although it has become a year-round food, the mighty gobbler reigns supreme at Thanksgiving time.

You will find directions elsewhere for roasting turkey. Last week Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Information Agent in Oakland County, told you something about buying turkey. All that's left is the stuffing.

You can make your own from dry bread or you can buy the packaged stuffing. Which ever you do, don't stuff the bird until you are ready to put it in the oven.

Get everything ready, but don't mix the stuffing until you are ready to use it. Like custard dishes in summer, stuffing is the perfect breeding ground for dangerous food poisoning germs.

As soon as dinner is over, remove all stuffing from the turkey carcass and refrigerate it. Refrigerate the leftover turkey too.

Lots of people like to bake their stuffing in a separate pan. It's a good idea when members of the family can't agree on the kind of dressing they prefer.

Orange-Almond Stuffing
 1 stick (1/2 cup) butter or margarine
 1 cup toasted bread cubes
 1 cup fresh orange sections
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/2 cup chopped celery
 1/2 cup salted, sliced almonds
 1/2 cup poultry seasoning
 1/2 cup salted savory
 Dash of pepper
 2 eggs, beaten

Melt butter in a saucepan. Combine bread, orange sections, almonds, onion, and seasonings. Pour melted butter over bread. Add eggs and blend well. Stuff bird just before roasting.

An entirely different kind of dressing is this one made with salt pork. This recipe is enough for an 8-pound bird.

Salt Pork Stuffing
 1/2 pound salt pork, finely diced
 1/2 cup chopped almonds
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 2 quarts bread cubes
 1/2 cup salted savory
 Dash of pepper
 1/2 cup water or chicken bouillon

Saute salt pork in skillet; add giblets and onion. Continue cooking until tender. Combine salted bread cubes, poultry seasoning, pepper and parsley. Add salt pork mixture and mix well. Beat eggs slightly. Blend into stuffing. Add water. Mix well. Makes 2 quarts.

Have you ever used rice instead of bread crumbs in your poultry stuffing? This is only enough for a small turkey, but you can double the recipe.

Savory Rice Stuffing
 3 teaspoons MSG, divided
 Dash pepper
 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 1 cup chopped onion
 2 cups dried celery
 4 to 5 cups cooked rice
 1/2 teaspoon sage
 1 teaspoon thyme

Sprinkle body and neck cavities of turkey with 1 teaspoon of the MSG, salt and pepper. Sprinkle skin of turkey with 1 teaspoon MSG. Let stand while preparing stuffing.

Melt butter in large skillet or saucepan. Add onion and celery; cook until tender but not brown. Remove from heat. Mix in cooked

Luncheon Dish

NEW YORK (UPI)—Spicy egg cake casserole is a custard-like casserole dish adapted from an old Viennese recipe. Combine 1 1/2 cups of milk with 6 well-beaten eggs, 2 (4 1/2-ounce) cans of deviled ham, 1 tablespoon of chopped onion, 1/4 cup of chopped green pepper, 1/4 teaspoon of salt and 1/4 teaspoon of pepper. Toss lightly with 2 1/2 cups of soft bread crumbs and bake in a well-greased casserole in a 350-degree oven 45 minutes, or until set and nicely browned.

Fish Sticks Amandine

Saute frozen fish sticks in hot olive oil until well-browned on all sides. Remove. Add 1 small minced onion and 1 or 2 garlic cloves, and cook in olive oil until tender. Add 1/4 cup minced fresh parsley and 1/4 cup coarsely-chopped shelled almonds. Cook 1 minute longer. Serve onion mixture as relish over fish sticks. Sprinkle with lemon juice.

For something extra good, add a half cup of chopped pecans to a 2-cup flour wafer recipe and bake until brown and crisp. Serve with almond-maple syrup.

Priest Pleads Guilty in Traffic Fatality

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Rev. Andrew Pawlczak, 59, a Catholic priest from Warren, pleaded guilty in Circuit Court here Friday to a charge of manslaughter stemming from a traffic accident.

Edward McBain, 91, was killed in the accident last August when the car in which he was riding collided with one driven by the priest. Police charged the priest's car had crossed a double-yellow line before the accident.

More Turkeys Figured to Mean More Groans

CHICAGO (UPI)—An old American Thanksgiving custom and modern poultry statistics add up to a record-national stomach-ache, the Baking Soda Institute predicts.

The Institute, sponsors of National Indigestion Week starting after Thanksgiving dinner Nov.

21, said a 1 1/2 per cent population increase figured against a 9 per cent jump in 12-pound turkeys means stomach-aches will be 1 1/2 per cent more bothersome this season.

He Was One of a Kind

What Leading Man Can Take Gable Spot?

(Editor's Note: This is the final installment in a series on the legend and life of Clark Gable. He was the "king of Hollywood" and the nation's first "movie star" who will be missed.)

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The death of Clark Gable leaves a void in the motion picture industry which may never be filled.

Studio chiefs and producers could spot a "Gable script" a mile away. It called for a handsome, rugged leading man who also could be tender and convincing in a love scene.

An exponent of the straight-from-the-shoulder school of acting, Gable wanted no part of "method" performances. He played a man's man in a man's world as opposed to the Marlon Brando types who portray mixed-up, emotionally unstable weaklings.

Whether it was drawing room comedy, romance or horse opera, Gable attacked each role with the authority of a man for the world with an eye for pretty girls and a good brawl with the "beauty."

The new batch of stars called him a "personality performer" and frequently belittled his acting ability.

But he won an Oscar in 1934 for "It Happened One Night," and his performance as Rhett Butler in "Gone With the Wind" was one of the most memorable in screen history.

Who, then, can play Gable roles, sweeping leading women off their feet and eloping along from the girls in the audience?

Can you picture Paul Newman swaggering into a saloon and announcing he can whip every man in the joint? Or Brando? Or Tony Perkins? Or Tab Hunter?

KIRK DOUGLAS?

How about Kirk Douglas taking Boris Day into his arms and coming through with a Gable-like twinkle in his eye? Or Burt Lancaster? Or Rock Hudson? Or Charlton Heston?

Does Frank Sinatra fit the picture of a responsible, respected leader overcoming adversity? Does Dean Martin? Or Pete Lawford? Or Robert Wagner? Or Tony Curtis?

Gable was one of a kind. John Wayne could play some of his roles, so could Jimmy Stewart and Bill Holden. But they couldn't match Gable's versatility.

As the last of the true superstars, the dashing celluloid figure of Clark Gable brings down the curtain on an era. A product of the early 30s, Clark represented an heroic figure both on and off screen.

His heyday was a less sophisticated one than entertainers enjoy today.

There was no television during most of his career, and the roles he played were uncomplicated. He seldom did die at the end of a picture, and audiences left theaters with the belief that courage and good would triumph over evil.

He stood out in the era of "pretty boy" stars—Yvonne Power, Robert Taylor, Robert Montgomery and Errol Flynn.

When he first was tested at Warner Brothers he was told, "Your ears are too big, kid. You haven't got a chance."

But his masculinity captured feminine hearts and evoked admiration from men. He combined the best qualities of silent stars Douglas Fairbanks and Rudolph Valentino, representing he-man prowess in every one of his 99 pictures.

Not only did he hold his own opposite the most beautiful glamour girls in Tinseltown, he proved his metal against such highly respected performers as Charles Laughton, Leslie Howard and Spencer Tracy.

M-G-M Studios used his powerful voice to introduce new personalities. It was a means of insuring newcomers wide exposure to a vast audience. Lant Tur-

He played were uncomplicated. Ava Gardner and Deborah Kerr were among them.

His first leading lady was Norma Shearer, who started off his screen career with a slap in the face (as called for in the script). Gable made his boxoffice flop, among them some really bad pictures. But he took them in stride, never refusing a role at the studio, never demanding script approval or drawing a suspension from the bigwigs.

STILL COOPERATIVE

Even after leaving M-G-M he continued his reputation for cooperativeness and fair play.

On his last picture, "The Misfit," costarring Marilyn Monroe, he put up with outrageous delays, temperamental from the other stars, and miserable working conditions. Uncomplaining, he finally decided he had had enough.

Without fanfare he quietly told the producers he felt the picture was completed and quit.

Hollywood agrees his like will not be seen again. There was only one Clark Gable. Movietown will miss him professionally and personally.

PET DOCTOR
By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our 5-month-old part split, part water spaniel dig large holes in our yard. How can we stop him? Ned F. Letts of Maywood, Ill.

A. Dogs have individual motives for such actions. The dog, with wanderlust will dig under fences in his bid for freedom.

Others try to get to the roots of plants, trees, etc. because they like the taste, and many dogs consider the good earth the ideal spot for bones. Then there is the mischievous excavator. In the case of your well fed, cared for, and exercised pet, I suspect the latter.

When your dog must be outside alone, I'd suggest tying him on a hard surface (such as the driveway) for a few months. There is a product available in pet stores that can be used on flower beds, shrubs, etc. It will usually repel and discourage the dog from further digging.

Ticket-Fearing Workers Cause Rush-Hour Furor

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Patrolman William Sturges didn't let the keening from the workers stop him ticketing cars parked near a factory Friday.

But he did stop when an employee leaned from a window of the Electric Storage Battery Co. plant and yelled: "There's an emergency. A man's been caught in the conveyor belt."

Inside the plant, however, they found no one caught in a conveyor belt.

THE GIRLS

"I've come to the conclusion that the only way to get anything worthwhile on a television set is to sell it."

Anti-Kennedy Dems Target of Purge Move

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A behind-the-scenes effort is on to purge from posts of legislative power the five Democratic congressmen who campaigned against the election of Sen. John F. Kennedy to the presidency.

The object is to increase chances for enactment of Kennedy's legislative program.

A small group of influential pro-North hopes soon to persuade Speaker Sam Rayburn (Tex.) to give the go ahead for the purge.

If Rayburn refuses, there will be no purge. If he consents, action undoubtedly will be taken against the five congressmen when the new Congress convenes in January.

Rayburn has given no public indication of what stand he will take.

Fronzidi Rap Cuba
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Arturo Frondizi emphasized to touring United States governors that his government is opposed to pro-Communist regimes like that in Cuba. Governors from 27 states left Argentina today for Brazil after eight days of sightseeing. Frondizi defined his position toward Cuba in a farewell meeting held Sunday at his suburban residence.

Audie Murphy Talks of Men...and Dogs

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After the war, they took Army dogs and rehabilitated them for civilian life. But they turned soldiers into civilians immediately and let 'em sink or swim.
This was an ex-soldier talking. Not just any ex-soldier, but Audie Murphy, who collected more medals than any GI in World War II.
"I can remember back in North Africa when we were trained to be a razor's edge," he said. "We were mean and raw. They told us to be ready to kill everyone in sight when we invaded Sicily—men, women and children. They thought that might be the only way we could take the island."

"You can't just tons that training aside overnight. I still had some of it when I came here to Hollywood. I remember one night at a party when I got in a bed with Larry Terney. If somebody hadn't stopped me, I would have very happily killed him."

Audie's postwar adventures form the basis of a screen story "The Way Back," written by his good friend Spec McClure. Universal owns it but has no plans to film it. This despite the fact that Audie's war biography, "To Hell and Back," was made for $1,200,000 and has earned $10 million.

"They're afraid of the cost," Audie explained. "It would run about twice what a cheap picture would cost. The studio thinks there is room in today's market only for cheap pictures or super-specials."

"I think they're wrong. To me the postwar story is more interesting than 'To Hell and Back' (which he terms a Western with uniforms). I'd like to buy it from them and make it with my own company."

Audie is back at work for Universal after a year and a half on one of the strangest TV deals in recent times. He spent the time making 26 episodes of a series named "Whispering Smith," which has yet to be seen by the viewing public. It has been held back by schedule shiftings but may finally reach the screen via NBC next January, when some of the new situation comedies are expected to reach untimely ends.

Audie's current chore is a feature called "Posse From Hell." It's a Western, natch, and that's unusual, too. Audie is the only star left who is still making Westerns for theaters.

"I think there's still a market for them," he remarked. "Westerns are still a good escape from everyday life, and we can give 'em color and scenery that they can't get on TV. And Westerns are still steady sellers in Europe and Japan, where they don't get so much TV."

'Loser' Finds He Really Won After 2 Weeks

SEATTLE (AP) — "Somebody told me just now that I won the election. Is that true?"

It was Democratic Rep. Don Magnuson who had declared the official winter Sunday after having been all but counted out in Washington's 7th District.

The election was the last congressional race to be decided. Democrats will have a 261-176 edge in the House, a loss of 22 seats compared with the last Congress.

State Republican Chairman William C. Goodloe indicated the GOP might seek a recount.

King County Auditor Robert Morris, a Democrat, said he saw no basis for a recount. He said discovery of errors in unofficial tabulations had given Magnuson a 116-vote edge.

The totals were 56,639 for the fourteen congressmen and 56,839 for Republican John Stender, an international vice president of the boilermakers union.

Denies British Fly Bombers Over U.S.

BOSTON (UPI) — A spokesman for the North American Defense Command says he has no knowledge of British Aircraft flying undetected over the United States targets.

"If we can't see them they aren't there," Maj. Sam West told newsmen here. He was commenting on a story in the Sunday Dispatch in London.

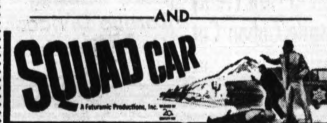

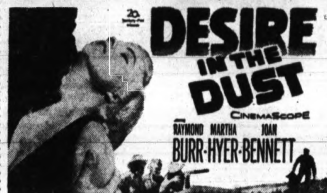

Speaking from Colorado Springs, West said the defense command would certainly know of flights by British bombers over New York, Detroit, San Francisco and other major United States cities named in the newspaper.

The first vessel to complete passage through the Panama canal was the crane boat named Alex LaValley on January 7 in 1914.

INSURED SAFETY.

The safety of your savings at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association is insured to $10,000.00 by an agency of the Federal Government.

AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.

Pontiac Federal regularly holds cash and securities more than sufficient to cover six months normal savings withdrawals. Over the years, funds in savings and loan associations have been readily available. There is no reason to not believe that Pontiac will continue to make saver's funds available whenever wanted or needed.

RATE OF DIVIDEND.

Since Safety is Insured and Availability of funds is assured it leaves only rate of return as a point of difference.

"SHE CAN COOK, TOO" — On their belated honeymoon in New York, Nancy (Sinatra) and Tommy Sands say they are having a ball, but actually prefer the quieter life in California, now that they are married. Tommy proudly claims she is a good cook. And Nancy says she doesn't mind the girls swooning over Tommy because she loves him so much, she swoons too. They say her father Frank does not plan to interfere or try to arrange careers for them.

Deliriously in Love

Nancy and Tommy 'Together'

By PHYLIS BATELLE

NEW YORK — One of Frank Sinatra's classic recordings is "Nancy With the Laughing Face." Its popularity made his daughter, then a sub-teen, the most famous girl since the inebriously happy Eddie Dinwiddie.

Well, I met Nancy the other day and discovered she isn't laughing it up any more. She doesn't even giggle. She only smiles with the womanly complacency of a bride who has been assured her pet roast is magnificent and she will never be called upon to darn a sock.

As every teenager knows, last Sept. 11, Nancy Sinatra, now 20, rebelled the young female world of a young male named Tommy Sands, 23.

He is a singer over whom berserk teenagers squeal almost as passionately as teen-agers of yesterday squealed over his father-in-law, Frank.

Nancy sings too, and they're both handsome youngsters, so you can bet her life it was called "the perfect marriage."

Nancy and Tommy sat down over a couple of lemonades to describe how it's working out. Since so many millions will be vitally interested, the report is verbatim.

Question: Since you two are settled down, do teen-agers still swoon over Tommy?

Tommy: Oh, yeah, it happens. But we have a ball. We walked Nancy: Do I mind? No, I'm delighted. Don't ask me if I swoon — 'cause I love him. Naturally I swoon all the time.

Question: Will Nancy have a career too?

Tommy: Sure, if she wants it. I think whatever she wants is okay with me, just so we don't have to be apart.

Nancy: I enjoy working, but I don't want ever to interfere with his career. I just want to be where he is.

Question: Then Tommy is the boss of the family?

Tommy: Yeah.
Nancy: Certainly.

Question: Will you sing together as an act?

Tommy: Maybe sometime, in someplace, somehow. Right now her voice is low for a girl and mine is high for a man, so we're going to have dinner alone tonight in our hotel room. Boy!

Question: Do you like New York?

Tommy: I loved it when I was young. But now that I have Nancy, I like the quieter life in California.

Sarnoff of NBC Wants TV Debates to Be American Campaign Tradition

NEW YORK (UPI) — Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the National Broadcasting Co., said today he would like to see television debates between presidential candidates become an American institution.

Referring to the debates between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and President-Elect John F. Kennedy prior to the election, Sarnoff said, "The programs have won almost universal recognition as a major innovation in the democratic process."

"By any criterion, they achieved tremendous impact," Sarnoff said in a monthly letter to television and radio editors.

"The interest they stimulated in the campaign was, in my opinion, a key factor in the heaviest rejection and the largest voter turnout in the nation's history."

The debates, Sarnoff admitted, "also attracted a small swarm of qualms and quibbles."

But he said, "As so frequently happens in television, much of this criticism was inconsistent and even contradictory."

"The criticism — which was greatly outbalanced by the praise — was directed mostly at the format," said Sarnoff, but "the format was the only one the candidates themselves would accept."

"It has been objected that the broadcasts left it mainly to the viewers rather than to the candidates themselves to determine the issues for discussion," Sarnoff noted.

However, he said, "A study of the debates will show they covered every issue that the candidates raised in their own campaigning all over the country; the only exception was the religious issue, on which both men had made their positions clear repeatedly before the debate began."

"The American people should, and I believe, will demand that the format be improved."

Since it was on color film, I was disappointed by the failure to surround the central characters with a mantle of light, mist and shadow, which the words and moods of the words and moods were magnificent.

Many interior shots were punctuated with superb textures of twilight-touched scenes. But too often, attention to closed, internal conflicts was disturbed by a too close background achievements.

The imagination wasn't aroused. The dripping, demented world that emerges from a reading of "Macbeth" rarely emerged on the TV screen.

Of course, much cutting and scene changing was required in order to get the play into its required length. Some of the editing hurt.

I thought, for example, that Macbeth's last meeting with the witches should not have been so clearly defined as a nightmare for it resulted in the loss of badly needed servings of earth-trembling laments and a other-world illusion.

As Macbeth, Maurice Evans was clear, artistically correct, but not inspired or moving. I'd like to have seen a more powerful, more forceful and more intense performance. Evans, Michael Hordern's portrayal of Banquo was thoroughly effective.

Quiet About Rockets as He Flogs U.S. for Sending Ships

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro says of U. S. warships to the Caribbean is criminal and "unpatriotic United States puppets in Central America."

But the younger brother of Prime Minister Fidel Castro in an angry speech Sunday refrained from rattling Soviet rockets as a threat to the United States. The omission was in line with a trend noted recently in speeches by other top figures in the Castro regime.

The softer tone lent weight to speculation that Moscow had nudged Castro to take the Soviet Union out of the Cuban revolution's front lines to preserve other Soviet inroads in Latin America. Premier Khrushchev himself said recently his rocket offer to defend Cuba was "symbolic."

The younger Castro told his audience of petroleum workers that Eisenhower's order of last week, made in response to requests by Guatemala and Nicaragua, represented "a warning by Yankee imperialism to all the peoples of Latin America that it is not going to permit Cuban-style revolutions."

Castro said Cuba supports countries in revolt in Latin America but he denied that Cuba had given any direct military assistance to rebels in the recent uprisings in Guatemala and Nicaragua.

President May Clamp Down on Cash Tourists Can Spend

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The government may cut down on spending by U. S. tourists if the loss of dollars and gold to foreign countries is not stemmed by measures this week.

One possible action held in reserve, officials say, is to reduce substantially the $50 tariff exemption allowed each U. S. traveler abroad. Cutting this exemption would have the effect of discouraging American spending overseas.

Some officials said it is conceivable measures could be imposed restricting the amount of money tourists could take abroad and otherwise make it difficult for Americans to travel. But these measures are so extreme they have not been considered seriously, so far, the officials added.

Eisenhower administration officials, however, speculate that any new moves or any changes in the Eisenhower program to meet the dollar-gold emergency will be up to President-Elect John F. Kennedy's administration.

Kennedy was informed, prior to the announcement Thursday, of President Eisenhower's decision to reduce the number of dependents of U. S. military forces abroad and to impose a "buy American" policy on the Defense Department and the Foreign Aid Administration.

Since then there has been continuing discussion of the whole problem of gold and dollar losses between Eisenhower and Kennedy administration officials.

Before last week's announcement of steps to cut U. S. spending abroad, officials said, a variety of measures came up for consideration.

Eisenhower and his advisers ruled out any cut in U. S. overseas troop strength. They also decided against any reduction in the amount of money spent on the program of aid to other countries.

However, the order to the defense and foreign aid agencies to buy their supplies in this country to the fullest possible extent will eventually cut many millions of dollars from the income of some of the chief supplying nations, such as those of Western Europe.

The Eisenhower program will become effective in January though plans for putting it into force are now being made. Its impact will not be known for months after that.

U. S. Department of Commerce figures have estimated that U. S. tourists spent $1.99 billion abroad in 1959. Foreign tourists spent only $995 million in the United States — a "travel gap" of one billion dollars.

On the basis of first half 1960 figures, officials say, this gap for the full year could amount to $1.2 billion.

If Canada and Mexico are excluded, foreign tourists spent only $544 million dollars in the United States in 1959. Visitors from Europe and the Mediterranean extended $233 million, while travelers from the West Indies, Central and South America, spent $20 million. Tourists from other areas accounted for another 68 million.

Ex-Admiral, Crew Safe Aboard Derelict

FLORENCE, Ore. (AP)—A retired admiral and his crew of four today were reported safe aboard the storm derelict 12 miles off the Oregon coast.

A Coast Guard lifeboat found Admiral Robin Wagstaff's new 47-foot yawl helpless in heaving seas, its masts broken and hanging from wind gusts that reached 100 miles an hour.

Chief Tom McAdams of the lifeboat radioed that he would tow the yawl Suddenite to port, probably to Coos Bay, 12 miles to the southwest.

Wagstaff, who had the boat built two months ago for a projected trip around the world, was out on a trial run when the storm struck.

Aboard with Wagstaff were Carl Yost, a retired commander and a classmate with Wagstaff at the U. S. Naval Academy; Leon Muhle, Roseburg, Ore.; Terry Korn, Eugene, Ore., and Stephen Hart, 17, Eugene.

Sees Big Bloc of Conservatives

Rep. Halleck Expects GOP Coalition With Southern Dems to Stick

RENNSELAER, Ind. (AP)—A conservative coalition will be an important force in the next session of Congress, says Rep. Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., House minority leader.

Halleck said in an interview in his home town here Sunday that the attitude of the coalition group will hinge on what is best for America.

"But there will be no blocking of legislation important to the nation," he added. "Instead it will seek sanity in the operations of government."

Halleck said he would see Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., House Rules Committee chairman, when he goes back to Washington, but had no immediate plans to see him before the next Congress convenes in January.

"I expect business with him to be as usual," Halleck said.

Rep. Smith is a leader of the Southern conservatives.

The Democrats have a majority in Congress but could be outnumbered by a coalition of Republicans and conservative Democrats from the South.

Two State Legislators Three Pontiac Schools

A group of state legislators today toured three Pontiac schools as a preview to a statewide program of inspection to be conducted by the Michigan Association of School Administrators.

Members of the House of Senate Education Committees were invited by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac public schools, to visit the facilities at Pontiac Northern High, Owen Elementary and Madison Junior High Schools.

"The emphasis will be on our instructional programs," Whitmer said.

The lawmakers were to see firsthand the arithmetic instruction program carried on at Owen, the instruction of English at Madison, and to witness the team teaching programs at Pontiac Northern.

Whitmer is chairman of the state committee of the MASA.

He said today's tour was "sort of a dry run" of what will take place possibly next month on a larger scale in other state public schools. The inspection is planned to let legislators see the instructional programs being carried on.

Frank Carlucci of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., political officer at the embassy, stayed at the scene as the others could get away.

He was stabbed in the back and beaten before he jumped aboard a "bussing bus."

U.S. military attaché Lt. Col. Edward J. McLaughlin, who was rushed through the crowd without it when he went after St. Lawrence. The latter was picked up by a vice consul, Allison Palmer of Amityville, Long Island, N.Y., who happened to be passing in her car.

St. Lawrence was taken to Lovington Hospital and given a blood transfusion. His condition was described as not serious. Carlucci's wound required three stitches.

Civil Service Pay Hike of 7 1/2 Pct. Sought in State

LANSING (UPI) — A proposal for a 7 1/2 per cent wage hike for state civil service employees was expected to be presented to the Civil Service Commission tomorrow.

Spokesmen for union organizations have members among state employees were expected to join the Michigan State Employees' Association in the recommendation which would add $12.7 million to the state's annual payroll for its 30,000 civil service workers.

Commission officials said no decision on wages would be made until at least the December meeting.

Details of a survey of wages paid by private employers in the state and civil service units across the country were to be disclosed at the meeting.

Snow Storm Hits Washington With Up to 6 Inches

By The Associated Press
An early snowstorm whipped into western Washington by powerful winds Sunday dumped up to six inches of snow on parts of the state.

The storm downed power and communications lines in several counties. Olympia, the capital city, received six inches. Three inches of snow fell on Seattle.

Thunder-force winds lashed much of Washington and Oregon, in some areas escorting heavy rain.

The storm's rain diminished there when generally fair weather prevailed across the nation. Cloudy skies dimmed the central Atlantic states. Ohio River Valley and parts of the Southwest.

Child Injured, Home Lost
Fate dealt a young Waterford Township couple a double blow today.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wagner, 68 Cedarlawn St. in Waterford, was destroyed by a 3 a.m. fire.

Their only child, Minnie, 18 months, was in Pontiac General Hospital, victim of a possible brain concussion.

The couple's attempt to give the baby medical care helped lead to the fire.

It was Friday that the little girl suffered a blow on the head in what apparently was a normal childhood fall.

Sunday evening, the swelling increased and the baby had a hard time breathing.

The parents turned on an electric vaporizer to help her breathe.

Western Europe Holds Key to Future of Dollar

By FRANK CORBIER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nations of Western Europe now have it in their power to rock the American financial system any day in the week.

All that stands between crisis and stability is an intangible called "confidence" — confidence that the U.S. dollar will remain "as good as gold."

Foreign governments and their citizens own about $15 billion of Uncle Sam's money. Most of these dollars are owned by Western Europeans and are deposited or invested in the United States.

Thereof, they all could be used to buy American gold.

If all were used for this purpose, Uncle Sam's supply of dollars would be wiped out. There is only $18 billion of gold in the government's coffers.

VIRTUALLY IMPOSSIBLE
Such a disaster is virtually impossible.

For one thing, foreigners do not do much business with the United States that they couldn't afford to exchange all their dollars for gold.

Furthermore, to do so would mean a major crisis merely by exchanging all their dollars for gold.

This does not mean, however, that the current anxiety over Uncle Sam's persistent loss of gold is misplaced. The simple fact is that relatively small cause a major crisis merely by exchanging a relatively small proportion of their dollars for gold in the span of a few days.

If foreigners bought $1 billion of U.S. gold in a single week, this would be taken as a vote of "no confidence" in the dollar. Perhaps even a lesser amount would trigger the sale.

It is this possibility which last week prompted President Eisenhower to impose unprecedented

Urges Catholic Laymen as Teachers of Doctrine
BOSTON (UPI) — Richard Cardinal Cushing has proposed paying trained laymen to teach Roman Catholic Church doctrines throughout the world because of a shortage of priests.

The Cardinal said Sunday he would ask the next Ecumenical Council in Rome to establish the paid corps of laymen to help combat Communism.

"A priest has no monopoly on the science of theology," he said. "The day when the laity was outside the church looking in, as it were, is over."

Shelley Seeks an Englishman as Her Next Love
LONDON (AP) — Actress Shelley Winters flew into London over the weekend all set to make a movie and "fall in love with an Englishman."

Miss Winters, who divorced actor Anthony Franciosa Friday, came to Britain to play the role of the movie in "Lolita," the film of the novel by Vladimir Nabokov.

"I'm seriously considering coming to live over here," she told newsmen. "The pace is so much slower in Britain than in America."

"You've got so many intellectuals," she added. "And another thing, I'm single and I'd like to fall in love with an Englishman."

But she ruled out actors — "I think they do not make good husbands."

Osgood Seeks Shiver as Gas Heat Is Cut Off
OTSGO (AP) — "Br" was the word around this Western, Michigan community.

About 1,600 homes lost their gas service Saturday night. The gas utility, said an automatic regulator broke at Allegan, shutting off the flow to Otsego and Plainville.

The company restored service to about half the homes Sunday. The rest will get service within a day or two, a gas company spokesman said.

Temperatures were dropped to the mid-30s at night.

The Day in Birmingham Local Resident Describes Progress at Gettysburg

BIRMINGHAM — Two of the most historic sites at Gettysburg have been saved from commercialization by the Gettysburg Battlefield Preservation Association.

It was announced today by James K. Black of Birmingham, Michigan director of GBPA.

The two sites, revealed by Macshall F. Allen, executive director of the organization at the first annual meeting of the GBPA at Gettysburg, are the 55-acre Wolf Tract and the 118-acre Meade Farm where GBPA stopped a large housing development which had started on the property.

The GBPA is dedicated to preserving the Gettysburg Battlefield Park and to insure the future safety of important battle sites, now privately owned and available for housing and commercial development.

Black, of 280 Larches Drive, is one of seven men heading state committees of GBPA. At the annual meeting, members discussed to expand the organization to include all 50 states.

The interest in keeping the battlefields a symbol of American courage and valor has even spread overseas with the recent announcement of the formation of a GBPA group in England.

At the meeting Allen reported: "We had hoped that by now Congress would have taken a firm stand in this alarming situation. But the restrictions tied to the federal appropriations in the form of local zoning requirements prevent the adequate use of these funds by the National Park Service."

"I believe that our record of the nation's more than 4,000 contributors from every state in the union is a firm petition for public funds to save the battlefield," he added.

He said the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce, which has endorsed the GBPA program, is ready to launch a publicity campaign in behalf of the organization.

Allen lauded the efforts of television personality Cliff Arquette (Charles Weaver) as chairman of the GBPA Emergency Committee, for his success in raising funds for the project.

Anti-U.S. Chanting in San Salvador
SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Thousands of workers, peasants and students chanting, "Our country yes, Yankees no," took part in a massive demonstration of support for the ruling military junta Sunday night.

The demonstration included a mass meeting and a march past the presidential palace. The demonstrators shouted slogans of loyalty to the junta which overthrew the regime of President Jose Maria Lemus earlier this month. They denounced "Yankies," Guatemalan President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes, "big coffee planters," "big land owners" and "reactionaries."

Urges Christmas Boycott of Unmixed S.C. Stores
COLUMBIA, S.C. (UPI) — The South Carolina chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has approved a boycott during the Christmas season against stores with segregated lunch counters and rest rooms.

Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, asked at the state meeting Sunday that all the state's colored citizens refrain from buying Christmas gifts at stores which practice segregation and were loudly applauded by about 1,000 Negroes attending.

Pontiac C. of C. Will Send 6 to Romeo Contab
A six-member delegation from the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce is scheduled to attend an industrial development workshop in Romeo tomorrow.

The workshop is sponsored for community representatives from seven counties by the Michigan Department on Economic Development and the Romeo Area Improvement Association.

Leading the Pontiac group is L. Claire Uley, chairman of the chamber's industrial affairs committee.

Conservatives, Ikeda Win Japan Election
pact and President Eisenhower's canceled visit to Japan.

While party leaders played on foreign policy themes during the campaign, regional and domestic issues and personalities were, as always, important.

With all but one of 467 parliamentary seats decided, the unofficial count gave this breakdown:

Liberal Democrats 258, Socialists 145, Democratic Socialists 18, Communists 3, Agrarians 1, independents 5.

The five independents elected are considered in the conservative camp.

With 96 per cent of the popular vote tabulated, the Liberal Democrats had 22,106,735 or 57.5 per cent; the Socialists 16,400,248 or 42.4 per cent; Democratic Socialists 3,313,025 or 8.7 per cent; Communists 1,005,678 or 2.5 per cent; minor parties 12,811 or 0.3 per cent and the independents 1,004,944 or 2.5 per cent.

While the outcome gave Ikeda and his Liberal Democrats a solid victory, they failed in their announced aim of restoring the House strength to 312. That would have given them the two-thirds majority needed in the 467-member house to carry out long-range plans for amending the constitution to strengthen the status of the army and the emperor.

What Killed 5 Charred Men?
Bodies in Car Beside Lonely Kentucky Road Yield Metal Fragments

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Metal fragments have been found in the charred bodies of five men found sitting in a car on a lonely road near this Southeastern Kentucky community.

State Police Director David Esple said at Frankfort today the metal fragments had not been positively identified, but he could be either shotgun pellets or rifle bullets.

Meanwhile, autopsies were arranged to determine cause of the deaths.

The bodies were found Sunday by an unidentified little girl walking along Greasy Creek Road about 17 miles southeast of Pikeville.

The car, with the interior completely undamaged otherwise, was found in a wooded area. There was very little water around it.

It was known about the five unidentifiable men except that they lived in the isolated Greasy Creek area of the county.

A state trooper said he believed two of them — Harvey Ratliff, about 24, and Harmon Robinson, about 35 — were married. However, the trooper said he didn't know if the men had any children.

Two of the men—Buddy and Louie Hopkins were brothers. The fifth victim was Denver Yates, about 25.

Coroner Raymond Call said the dead men "were sitting just as though they'd just gotten into the car."

The coroner said the bodies were so badly burned it was impossible to determine without autopsies and X rays whether the men had been shot or otherwise met with foul play.

Road Officials to Meet Nov. 28

2,000 to Hear Speakers at Detroit Convention Talk on Freeways

DETROIT (AP)—Some 2,000 highway officials from the United States and Mexico are expected to pour into Detroit next week for the 46th annual meeting of the American Association of State Highway Officials, according to Michigan Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie.

Mackie termed the Nov. 28-Dec. 3 meeting "one of the most important in the history of the organization."

The meeting, he said, will be held on the eve of a congressional review of the interstate highway program "which some would like to see slowed down."

"Highway officials at the meeting will map plans to convince Congress the 41,000-mile interstate program must be completed on schedule in 1972," Mackie said.

Four congressmen, all active in highway legislation, are scheduled to speak, he said. They are: Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich.; Rep. George H. Fallon, D-Md.; Rep. John A. Blaine, D-Minn.; and Rep. Gordon H. Sherer, R-Ohio.

Mackie pointed out that when the final gap in Interstate 94 is completed later this year, Michigan will be the first state to have a border-to-border interstate freeway (Detroit to St. Joseph).

It will be the longest continuous stretch of toll-free interstate freeway in the country (203 miles), he added.

Average adult has about 28 pounds of blood and each pulsation of the heart sends about 10 pounds flowing through the veins and arteries.

PTA SPEAKER—Proper operation and administration of school safety patrols will be the topic discussed by Joseph Zabelski, Automobile Club of Michigan safety education consultant, at the 36th meeting of the Carpenter School Parent-Teacher Association. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the school. A film on safety education and operation of safety patrols also will be shown.

Better Not Buy Him Pet Skunk

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Raymond J. Matthews, manager of the Kent County Animal Shelter, is unhappy about the status mice, hamsters and skunks have attained as pets.

Matthews said his office has received an increased number of bite case reports involving the three types of animals, which are purchased at pet shops.

"I'm not trying to prevent a pet shop owner from making a living, but when many children are bitten this office feels the public should be warned of the danger when such rodents or animals are purchased as pets," Matthews said.

The danger of hamsters and mice having rabies is remote, but seven skunks have been found to be rabid in Michigan this year, he said.

Matthews reported one pet shop operator reported selling as many as 150 mice a week at 47 cents each.

"If people want pets for children, we have many dogs and kittens that will bring just as much joy into their homes as a mouse or skunk," Matthews said.

Many Gifts Swamp Jack and Jackie

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Gifts from across the country and elsewhere in the world have flooded down on the residence of President-Elect John F. Kennedy.

A spokesman reported that many of the presents have been for the Kennedy's daughter Caroline, who is 3 years old today or for their second child who is expected next month.

The gifts range from a religious statue from Italy, a stuffed donkey from Scotland, homemade sausage and steaks to a can of peanuts.

Rights of Migrants Concern Churches

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Council of Churches has announced a 10-year plan to "eliminate the injustices" suffered by America's migrant farm workers.

The program, formulated by the council's national study conference on the church and migratory labor, attacked the problem both on political and religious levels.

It called upon the church to press for federal legislation which would make migrant workers eligible for a minimum wage and Social Security benefits. The conference report also seeks to prevent the use of child labor among the migrants.

Laos Goes Backward by Her Coalition Deal

By RENE GEORGES INAGAKI
TOKYO (AP)—Laotian premier Souvanna Phouma's agreement to set up a coalition government with the pro-Communist Pathet Lao turns back the clock three years.

Inclusion of Communist members in the royal government represents a return to the "Vientiane agreements" of 1957 which were purported to achieve reunification of Laos.

On Nov. 30 of that year Prince Souvanna Phouma formed a coalition cabinet with the Pathet Lao after lengthy negotiations, giving Cabinet posts to his pro-Communist half-brother Prince Souvanna Vong and his deputy.

The agreements provided for the disbanding of Pathet Lao armed units which controlled the two northern provinces of Phong Saly and Sam Neua except two battalions which were to be integrated into the royal Laotian army.

Disputes led to the rebellion of one of these battalions in the spring of 1959 and to the Laotian crisis later in the summer.

Earlier, the government of pro-Western Phou Souvannakone had ousted the two Pathet Lao members from the Cabinet.

The situation differed then in that the royal government did not have to fight on two fronts. Now, neutralist Souvanna is faced with rebellion from the right wing under former Defense Minister Gen. Phoumi Nosavan which controls an undetermined but important following in the country's armed forces.

Because of that, Premier Souvanna today is far more vulnerable.

Udelite Corp. Declares 4th 25-Cent Dividend

DETROIT (UPI)—Udelite Corp. has declared a dividend of 25 cents per share of common stock to stockholders of record Dec. 1, payable Dec. 15.

An average American eats his own weight in salt about every 17 years.

able to Communist pressures that he was three years ago when all the country rallied behind him. His latest moves have clearly shown as much. He has yielded to practically all demands the Pathet Lao made last September as prerequisites to opening talks with the royal government. Those were a mixed bag of demands: Pathet Lao members; establishment of diplomatic relations with North Viet Nam and Communist China, besides the Soviet Union; purge of all elements supporting the right-wing group of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan at Savannakhet; and no talks with Savannakhet.

But while the political situation in the capital is swinging left, the military balance of power may be tipping right. The military government of the royal capital of Luang Prabang has broken away from Viet Nam control and Army Chief of Staff Gen. Ouan Rathkone has joined the right wing rebels.

Freighters Face Fast Freezing

Ice Soon to Stop Seaway Ships

WASHINGTON — Winter's shipping curfew is near on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Soon, perhaps by the end of November, the heavily traveled inland water route will be frozen for four months. Tankers and freighters must complete their voyages or face entrapment by ice.

As if deliberately trying to slow the last-minute traffic rush, the Great Lakes stir savage storms and gales in November and December.

On Nov. 18, 1958, a 60-mile-an-hour windstorm wrecked a 620-foot freighter in Lake Michigan. Only two of the 35 crewmen lived to describe the horror.

A strong gust sank four ships in November 1940. In 1913, a 16-hour storm sank 11 ships in midlake and smashed 26 more that were docked along the shores. Some 255 persons died, states the National Geographic Society.

The freeze comes immediately after the storms. In the northern portion of the Great Lakes, ice closes passages rapidly.

A resolute captain who tries to get one more load of grain, oil, coal, or steel to an industrial port may find his ship suddenly jammed by ice. Thirteen vessels were trapped this way in 1958. It took weeks of effort by icebreakers to rescue them.

The closing of the Welland Canal, the passage between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, usually signals the end of traffic in the Seaway and the southern portion of the Great Lakes.

However, for the first time in the St. Lawrence's navigation history, Quebec City was kept open all winter in 1959 by icebreakers.

DAREDEVILS PLAY

During the freezing months, the vast water route becomes a popular playground for the fishermen, skaters, and daredevils who enjoy spinning their automobiles on ice. The annual icebreakers' race in March starts another season of shipping on the Seaway and the Great Lakes. From the Gulf of St. Lawrence the powerful boats inch their way upriver to Montreal. Meanwhile, other icebreakers perform the same task on the Great Lakes.

Residents along the St. Lawrence River pay close attention to the race. Newspapers publish daily reports of ships' progress, and gamblers offer odds on the exact time the first icebreaker will reach Montreal. In the past few years, the boats have been arriving in the first week of April.

Ironically, while man is able to conquer the rapids of the St. Lawrence River, the uneven water levels of the Great Lakes, and transform inland cities into seaports, he has yet to find a practical way of preventing the vital waterway from freezing.

Engineers are studying a daring plan, called the "air bubble" method. Underwater pipelines are sunk along the route, and compressed air is released to send relatively warm water to the icy surface.

The method has been successfully tested near St. John, New Brunswick, and Thule, Greenland. But the cost of equipping the Seaway—an estimated $838,000,000—discourages the hope of putting the scheme into early use.

They'll Dye Trying

Reach for Gull Solution

BOSTON (UPI)—Passengers taking off from Logan Airport may soon see green sea gulls as the federal government begins a research project aimed to control bird flocks which threaten jet aircraft.

The Fish and Wildlife Service, using so-called cannon and mist nets, will capture and mark birds loitering on the airport runways, and then set them free after the birds have been colored with harmless dyes.

Helicopter flights and ground observations will then be made daily to record the movements and habits of the birds so that officials may learn how to control the huge flocks of birds considered by some investigators as responsible for the Electra crash that killed 62 persons.

In the mean time the lullaby of bird flats at Logan Airport will be shotgun fire by roving crews which have been stationed there to keep large flocks off the runways.

It Determines Happiness

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Personality is so complex and so subtle and it has such a terrific effect on our happiness and success that it seems we sometimes should investigate our own. * * *

We all have some characteristics which draw others to us and sometimes they are doing and what they are thinking.

The attitude of "live and let live" is also an endearing characteristic. If you have this, you will not expect others to think just as you do or conduct their lives according to your individual pattern. This greatly increases the breadth and variety of your friendships, and enriches your own experience.

Gaiety or a joyous outlook makes a meeting a happy occasion for others. Most folks have so many problems that they bless the person who can lift their spirit even for a few minutes.

BE CONSISTENT

Consistency in attitude toward others is important. If we act as though we are glad to see a person one day and as though we had never met him the next, he or she will not feel very secure in our friendship. In fact, after a few such encounters he will write the whole thing off.

Often this inconsistency is due to not feeling well or to some nagging trouble or discouragement, but people do not know this.

What about the characteristics which repel others? Most of them are just the opposite of the happy traits I have mentioned. They include being self-centered and much more interested in your own conversation, thoughts and plans than in those of others; being critical and intolerant of others, spreading gloom with a pessimistic outlook, a continual recital of our troubles; and being inconsistent in our attitude toward others.

Of course there are many other unpleasant characteristics which could be added to these, such as being argumentative. A good reason for argument among close friends is fun, but in our general contact with others it can be fatal to popularity.

I would like it if you would write to tell me what personality traits you find attractive and unattractive in others, and in doing this you will become aware of your own traits, good and bad. I will print some of the letters I receive, but will not print the name of the sender.

If you would like to have my 10-cent booklet "Your Bust" send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. This booklet is informative on proper care of the bust and tells how to make your bust line more attractive.

Ruth Unit Hears Gospel Reading

A study of the third chapter of St. Mark's Gospel was conducted by Mrs. Murray Schaeffer at Thursday's meeting of Ruth Unit, Augustana Lutheran Church Women of St. John's Lutheran Church.

After devotions by Mrs. Erzell Kohlhaas, plans for the annual Christmas cooperative luncheon Dec. 15 were discussed. Hostesses were Mrs. John Carlson, Mrs. John Frost and Mrs. John Austermann.

The Pontiac building here has a cubic volume of 90,746,000 feet and it occupies a square mile of land. It is said to contain about 16 1/2 miles of halls and corridors.

Mr. and Mrs. George V. Carless of South Hammond Lake Drive were photographed in Paris as they left their jet for a 10-day holiday with a party of 800 appliance dealers who made the trip as an award for outstanding achievement in air conditioner sales. The dealer trip was estimated by airline officials to be the largest transatlantic jet airlift in its history.

You'd Better Eat the Chocolate Creams

Pontiac Press Home Editor
"Candy is to eat," is what one of Art Linkletter's small TV guests might say. Sure, but it can be used in recipes too.
What started this trend of thought is the fact that the Campfire Girls are selling candy right now. We wanted to see what new recipes we could invent, using peanut brittle and chocolate creams.
Our Better Half took a dim view of the entire proceedings.
"Tell your readers that the candy is good the way it comes. Why bother with all this fooling around?" That was while he was eating a cupcake in which we had hidden a chocolate cream.

The Twelve-Year-Old, being at the stage of constant starvation, ate two of the same cupcakes after school — so did his pal. No complaints from them!
Said cupcakes were made by putting a large spoonful of cake batter in the pan, dropping in a candy and covering it with more batter. We used a plain cake recipe and had to heat it by hand because the mixer is away for repairs. (We're getting lazy.)
We put more creams in the sherbet glasses before we poured the peanut brittle. It doesn't work hot boiled custard over them. We in the custard, though, the peanuts thought the candy would melt. It get soft.

Better not try that one.
One idea we figured out was making holders for candles on a birthday cake. If you will gently poke a hole in the top of a cream with the end of a wooden skewer, you can fit a tiny birthday candle in easily. Arrange the appropriate number of candles on top of the frosted cake. Youngsters will love the thought of eating the candle holders.

Arrange the appropriate number of candles on top of the frosted cake. Youngsters will love the thought of eating the candle holders.
We fared a little better using brittle into it for a quick and delicious dessert.

Use the crushed brittle to garnish puddings or apple sauce.
Our experiment gets "E" for Effort, but not much more. The candy is good, though, whatever you do with it.
Fancy Cutouts
If you have tiny cutters in different shapes you can make attractive miniature cutouts from slices of preserved ginger. Use the ginger garnishes on a bowl of sliced oranges or canned or frozen peaches.
If your cake has a heavy streak in it, the chances are that your batter was undermixed.

Save Time With Short-Cut Stuffing

While we like to keep family traditions alive at Thanksgiving, there is no need to use old-fashioned, time-wasting preparation methods. Why not consider buying stuffing that is as good as the kind Grandmother used to make after spending hours crumbling bread and chopping onions and celery? Save yourself at least thirty minutes by getting the packaged, herb-seasoned stuffing.
Add your own touches to your own taste, as in these suggestions:
FANSELY STUFFING: Mix stuffing according to directions. Add 1/2 cup snipped parsley, per package.
In case you want extra helpings for seconds on stuffing, try baking some in a pan by itself after mixing it this way:
Hinner size stalk chopped celery and 1/2 medium onion, chopped, in about 1 1/2 cups water until celery becomes tender. Add 1/2 cube chicken bouillon and 1/2 stick butter. Empty bag of prepared packaged stuffing into bag. Add one beaten egg and stir with fork until crumbs are thoroughly moistened. Place mixture in a buttered baking dish, dot with butter and bake thirty minutes in a medium oven.

Even Pinwheels
To make well-filled and uniform pin-wheel rolls, roll dough into a long narrow rectangle 1/4 inch thick and spread with filling; roll up lengthwise, cut in 1-inch slices and place in buttered muffin tin.

Holly Youth Injured
as His Car Rolls Over

A 19-year-old youth was injured when his car veered out of control and rolled over in a Springfield Township field along Ormond Road Sunday evening.

Michael J. Hall, 201 Grant St., Holly, suffered a fractured collarbone in the crash. He was in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Hall told sheriff's deputies he fell asleep at the wheel. The accident occurred near the Davenport Road intersection.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, on Nov. 21, 1960 at 10 o'clock a.m. at the City of Pontiac, Michigan, will hold a public hearing on the proposed plat of a 100-acre parcel of land, known as the "Holly Tract," located in the Township of Springfield, County of Wayne, State of Michigan. The plat is for the purpose of subdividing the land into lots, and the same is being filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Wayne, Michigan.

DOG PACK CHews UP 20 Sheep in Area
A pack of wild dogs went on a rampage in Addison Township Saturday night and left a trail of 20 dead and dying sheep in a farm field.

The damage was discovered next morning by farmer Paul Travis of 1400 Mack Road. He told sheriff's deputies five of his sheep were dead, and that he would have to destroy 15 others.

He estimated his loss at $700.

Miracle told police he was driving south on Perry when he noticed the dog pack in the street. He was not held.

Rum to Flow Freely Despite Cuban Cui

NEW YORK (UPI) — A self-imposed boycott of Cuban rum by its U.S. importer as a result of Castro's seizure of the industry will not lead to any shortage of the drink, rum fanciers were assured today.

H. B. Estrada, president of Bacardi Imports, Inc., said Cuban imports represented only about 1 percent of the total U.S. consumption of imported rums.

The importer, who handled 95 percent of all Cuban rum imports to this country, said he is confident that the loss of Cuban supplies can be made up by increased sales of Puerto Rican rum.

The properties and inventories of Company "Ron Bacardi," S.A. of Santiago de Cuba, valued at $85 million recently were expropriated by the Cuban government.

News in Brief

A break-in at the Robert Hall Clothing Store on Dixie Highway near Clarkston over the weekend netted thieves about $100 from a cabinet and several men's shirts, it was reported to the sheriff's department this morning. Entry had been gained through a patched hole in the roof from a previous break-in.

Burglars broke into the Thomas Economy Furniture Co., 361 S. Saginaw St., it was reported to Pontiac police Saturday. Nothing was stolen.

Annie Bailey, 555 Delwood Ave., reported to Pontiac police Saturday that a purse containing $17 was stolen in a downtown Pontiac store.

Albert Moody, 55 Wesson St., reported to Pontiac police Sunday that a combination radio-phonograph valued at $100 and $15 cash were stolen from his room.

Noble Tossman, 71 W. Princeton Ave., reported to Pontiac police Sunday that her purse containing $278 was stolen in a Pontiac bar.

Darrell Freedman, 40 Oakland Ave., reported to Pontiac police Sunday that Christmas decorations and clothing valued at $200 were stolen from his home.

Stanley Rowe, 5018 Thornapple St., Waterford Township, told police yesterday that someone had broken into his home the night before, the windshield of his car, parked in his driveway.

Mrs. Ruth Toulga, 5044 Tuscola St., Commerce Township, told sheriff's deputies yesterday that $33 was stolen during a break-in at her home the night before.
