Pontiac Will Launch Second Shift

24 Hours to Go, With UF Short 38 Pct. of Goal

Need $188,881 to Hit Target; Plant Workers' Drive Incomplete

With less than 24 hours to go, the Pontiac Area United Fund still needs $188,881 to reach its minimum $501,000 goal.

Returns tabulated at Fund Headquarters this morning indicate the three major divisions have collected $312,119 or 62.2 per cent of goal.

This year's Tenth Anniversary Appeal kicked off on the evening of Oct. 20 and was scheduled to run until Nov. 11.

However, due to employment conditions the solicitation of employes at Pontiac Motor and Fisher Body Divisions of General Motors did not get under way until this morning.

It will be impossible to obtain any final results from these two plants by tomorrow, according to campaign chairman Philip J. Monaghan.

The giant Industrial Division has traditionally accounted for about 60 per cent of the final campaign returns. This year's incompleted returns show the division has collected $185,000 under the guidance of its chairman Semon E. Knudsen.

"It's just a matter of time with the Industrial Division," stated Monaghan. "I'm confident they'll go over the top this year. My real concern lies with the lagging returns in the Commercial Division."

The Commercial Division's solicitors, under the dual chairmanship of Judge Clark J. Adams and Berkeley Voss, have raised $103,711 or 57 per cent of their $179,371 quota.

Adams and Voss have issued a plea to all their workers to complete their calls and turn in the collections to United Fund headquarters today.

"We began this campaign on Oct. 20 with Nov. 11 set as our target date," stated Voss. "We have no one to blame but ourselves if we cannot exceed our goal on time."

100 Cars Crash in Pacific Coast Fog Nightmare

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Fog turned a stretch of Pacific Coast highway into a nightmare alley in which more than 100 cars collided. Two women were killed and 15 persons injured.

Motorists speeding south along the busy highway were taken unawares by the thick fog bank 20 miles north of San Diego. Moving abruptly from clear weather into the fog they piled up with frightening regularity over a six-hour period Sunday.

The two women killed were passengers in two cars involved in a minor rear-end collision. They were standing by the damaged cars when another car plowed into them.

Killed were Mrs. Barbara Tittle, 24, San Francisco and Mrs. Esther Anderson, 38, Los Angeles. Mrs. Tittle's husband, Robert, 30, was seriously injured.

The accidents all took place during the early morning on a 3½ mile stretch of the highway, which skirts the ocean. One series involved 25 cars in a chain reaction of rear-end collisions. Ten cars tangled in another pileup. In all 23 cars were so badly damaged they had to be towed away.

1,500 Workers Back on Jobs by Next Monday

Fisher Body Recalling 750 Seniority Employes on November 17

Production of the 1959 Pontiac will go on a two shift operation immediately, in all plants except final assembly, it was announced today by S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and Pontiac general manager.

The final assembly plant at Pontiac will commence two-shift operation on Monday, Nov. 17.

The record-breaking acceptance by the motoring public of the 1959 Pontiac car has been so great that an unprecedented back log of orders are waiting to be filled, it was reported.

"A second shift is necessary to assure quick delivery of our car to the long waiting lines of customers," Knudsen said.

"This latest hike in production schedules at the Pontiac Division calls for an increase of employment of 1,500 workers, all of whom will be on the job by next Monday," Knudsen said.

This work force addition brings the total of Pontiac hourly rated employes to 9,780 as compared to 6,855 employed when 1959 model production began on Sept. 7.

Fisher Body Pontiac Division will add a second shift on Nov. 17, recalling 750 seniority employes, it was announced by T.E. Weithorn, plant manager.

Rehiring is beginning immediately. Fisher's previous employment was 1,700.

22 Die on Michigan Roads, With 5 Killed in 1 Smashup

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Multiple-death accidents raised Michigan's weekend traffic fatality count to 22, highest toll in several weeks. There were only 16 accidents resulting in deaths, but one crash took five lives and two took two lives apiece.

"It was just one of those bad weekends when multiple-death accidents run up the count," said State Police traffic analyst Orrin Lucas. "There's nothing we can put our finger on as the cause."

Rain in some sections of the state may have contributed to the high accidental death toll, he said, but it appeared unlikely. There were no reports of unusually heavy highway traffic.

Lucas said the average number of deaths per accident in Michigan over the last three years is 1.22. But over last weekend the accidents took an average of 1.37 lives each.

The Associated Press count opens at 6 p.m. Friday and closes at midnight Sunday.

Lucas said the State Police count for the full three-day period—Friday through Sunday—was 25 deaths, same as the number of fatalities recorded in the corresponding weekend last year.

Five persons died Sunday in a two-car collision near Albion.

The victims were Philip A. Selim of Muskegon; his wife, Elizabeth; Mrs. Lucille Hasenbank, 41, Norton Township; her daughter, Beth Ann, 13, and James H. Beavers, 23, of Homer.

Police said the crash took place on M99 about two miles south of Albion. They said a car driven by Beavers came out of a side road and struck the other auto.

Mrs. Christena Johnson, 53, Harbor Beach, was killed Sunday when

U.S. Navy Search Plane Reports Hearing SOS Off Portugal Coast

LISBON (AP) — A U.S. Navy search plane today reported picking up a distress signal off Cape St. Vincent where a Portuguese flying boat is missing with 36 persons on board, including six Americans.

Lt. George Beaver, pilot of a Neptune rescue plane, reported hearing the signal but said it was so faint and garbled that he could not make it out. He could hear only six letters.

Beaver said the message was picked up on the international distress frequency about 180 miles west of Cape St. Vincent on the southern tip of Portugal.

Beaver said he sighted oil in the area but long low sweeps over the ocean disclosed nothing more—no sign of wreckage or life rafts.

This was the spot where the pilot of a twin-engined Portuguese flying boat bound for the resort island of Madeira radioed he was making an emergency landing in the sea at 1:20 p.m. Sunday, an hour after leaving Lisbon.

The American search plane reported the sea was rough this morning in the area and a 22-knot northeast wind blowing.

U. S. rescue planes operating out of the naval base in Port Lyautye, Morocco, stepped up their search covering a wide region off the North African coast.

Oakland Backs Sewer Projects

OKs $10 Million Credit for 8 Mile Road Drain, Evergreen Interceptor

Two major Oakland County sewer projects costing more than $10,000,000 to construct today received the approval of the Oakland Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors this morning pledged the county's full faith and credit financial backing of the $4,760,000 Eight Mile road storm drain sewer and the $6,175,000 Evergreen Sanitary Interceptor Sewer.

Only objection voiced to either project came from Southfield Supervisor C. Hugh Dohany.

Dohany, one of three supervisors who voted against the Eight Mile project, claimed the residents of his city would be bearing the greater cost of the Eight Mile road project while commercial and industrial developments would receive the greater benefit.

"Don't get us wrong in Southfield," Dohany said. "We need the project. But the residents feel they cannot stand these large assessments."

Voting against the Eight Mile road project along with Dohany was fellow Southfield Supervisor Emanuel Christensen and Northville Supervisor Sydney Frid.

Sharing the cost of the storm drain project will be the City of Southfield, City of Oak Park, residents of a drainage district made up of these two municipalities, the County of Oakland and the State Highway Dept.

Residents of Southfield are scheduled to pay more than 78 per cent of the Eight Mile road project. The vote on the Eight Mile project was 70-3 for passage.

Supervisors also this morning voted 73-0 in backing the north-south Evergreen sanitary sew-

BULLETIN

Ex-Teamster Herman Kierdorf was sentenced today to from 1 to 5 years in prison by Oakland County Judge Clark J. Adams.

Sentence was scheduled to be passed today on Herman Kierdorf, former Madison Heights Teamsters official, convicted by an Oakland County Circuit Court jury Oct. 22 of possessing a pistol silencer.

Judge Clark J. Adams was expected to hand down the sentence on the 68-year-old former aide of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa at 1:30.

Maximum sentence for owning a pistol silencer is five years imprisonment and a $2,500 fine.

Doctor, 2 Daughters Die in Ann Arbor Fire

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A prominent physician and his two young daughters died last night in a fire which destroyed their two-story frame home in a well-to-do residential section of Ann Arbor.

Three other children and their mother were rescued.

The University of Michigan Medical Center identified the victims as Dr. Aaron R. Edwards, 46, and his daughters, Kayron, 11, and Lucinda, 6. Saved were Mrs. Mary Katherine Edwards 41, and the couple's three sons, Martin, 15, Bruce, 9, and David 7.

All were hospitalized at the Medical Center. Doctors described their condition as fair. They were treated for slight burns, cuts and shock.

Police said they believe the family was asleep when the fire broke out and the father and the two girls failed to wake up.

The mother said she woke up and smelled smoke, then ran into the boys room and roused them. But flames and smoke kept her from returning to her husband's and daughters' bedrooms.

Police said the family maid, first feared to have been trapped in the blazing house, was away on her night off.

"It apparently started from the fireplace in the recreation room at the rear of the first floor," Fire Chief Ernest W. Heller said.

Fire officials credited a neighbor, John D. Devall Jr., with saving two of the boys. They said Devall put a ladder to an upstairs window and rescued the boys before firemen arrived. The entire interior of the structure was charred by fire and soaked by water. Damage was estimated at about $50,000.

About 35 firemen answered the alarm at 11 p.m. and battled in a rainstorm for 90 minutes before bringing it under control. At least several firemen were overcome by smoke and treated at the scene. One, Neal Roa, 30, was overcome, fell from the roof and was treated for bruises at a hospital.

"It was a big one," said Assistant Fire Chief Harold E. Gauss. "We got about 12 calls from neighbors in 10 minutes.

"The whole rear end was an inferno when we got there. We couldn't get in."

The house was situated near the University of Michigan campus. About 1,500 students thronged to the scene and many assisted the fire fighters.

Dr. Edwards, a pediatrician, used a portion of the first floor for his offices. Firemen said his equipment, most of it new, was destroyed. He was on the staff of the Medical Center and also on that of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Patrolman Donald Murray said Mrs. Edwards discovered the fire when she woke up and smelled smoke.

"She didn't want to wake the doctor up," Murray said. "But got out of bed and went to investigate. She went into the boys' room and aroused them and then couldn't get back into the hall because of the flames."

Murray said the doctor was found in his bedroom. He said Mrs. Edwards collapsed at an upstairs window and firemen pulled her to safety.

Mercury to Dip to 32 Tonight; Showers Likely

Pontiac residents had best have the anti-freeze ready tonight—the weatherman has predicted that the mercury will dip to a chilling 32 degrees before tomorrow morning.

Tomorrow will be mostly cloudy with showers likely by afternoon. The high will be near 50. Northwesterly winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour today will diminish tonight and become southerly at 10 to 20 miles per hour tomorrow.

In a five-day forecast, issued by the U.S. Weather Bureau, temperatures are predicted to average near the normal 48 high and normal 34 low. Wednesday will be somewhat colder with minor changes thereafter. Showers are expected again on Friday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 39. At 2 p.m. the mercury read 49.

Barnard Named to Counsel Post

Troy Attorney to Fill Merritt's Place as Top County Legal Adviser

Supervisors of Oakland County today appointed Norman R. Barnard, 43, of Troy as corporation counsel of the county.

The appointment followed action of the Board of Supervisors in combining Barnard's former duties as board committee clerk and legislative agent with the office of corporation counsel.

Barnard, who becomes top legal advisor for Oakland County, succeeds Harry J. Merritt, 62, who died Oct. 26 after nearly 20 years in the position.

Since April of 1956, Barnard has supervised the meetings of the board's 27 committees and served as liaison agent between the board and State Legislature in any action which might affect the county.

City, County Offices Closing Tomorrow

City and county offices will be closed tomorrow as Pontiac pauses with the rest of the nation to observe Veterans Day.

The central and branch offices of both Community National and Pontiac State Banks will be closed throughout the day. Also closed will be the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association offices.

The Pontiac Post Office will be closed all day, according to Postmaster Robert C. Miller. He said that no window service would be in operation and no deliveries other than special deliveries would be made.

Celebrations for the holiday will be limited mainly to annual breakfasts, open houses, or other gatherings at various local veteran group posts.

The Waterford Township office will also be closed.

Set Standards for Teacher-Training

Experts Map Goals for MSUO

By MAX E. SIMON

Four national experts on teacher training mapped out their dreams of an ideal curriculum for the Michigan State University Oakland students who will eventually become teachers of the future.

The experts came to a Saturday seminar at Meadowbrook Hall on the former Alfred G. Wilson estate, site of the new university, with long years of fruitful experience in the education field behind them.

They met with Dr. John A. Hannah, MSU president, and his top administrative aides in the second of four sessions designed to help in planning the new branch of MSU which will open next September.

The new university, the panelists believed, should aim at four major goals in preparing its students to teach:

1. An adequate liberal education for teachers. Students must have an understanding of the nature of our society and its heritage.

2. Students must receive intensive education in their fields of specialization—a foundation upon which they can do graduate work if they desire.

3. Students must learn the theories of education. They must understand how youngsters learn and be instilled with sympathy for the objectives of public school systems.

4. Students must acquire a thorough cultural, historical and logical understanding of the fields in which they specialize.

ENCOURAGE TEACHING

The panelists stressed that public school systems must not only use teachers but help to produce them. MSUO was urged to make "every effort" to encourage a program whereby education majors would teach for a semester in the public schools before obtaining their college degree.

The panelists urged that teachers should be encouraged to continue studies after graduating from college by attending summer or night school.

Members of the panel were Dr. Frank Keppel, dean of the graduate school of education, Harvard University; Dr. Henry H. Hill, president of George Peabody College for Teachers; Dr. Carroll V. Newsom, president of New York University; and Dr. Henry T. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation.

Moderator for the panel discussions was James C. Zeder, vice president of Chrysler Corp. and of the MSUO Foundation.

Belgian Priest Wins Nobel Peace Prize

OSLO (AP) — The Rev. Dominique Georges Pire, a Dominican father who has devoted years to helping refugees from Eastern countries, won the Nobel Peace Prize for 1958 today.

Father Pire, 48, heads an organization he calls Europe of the Heart. He is a Belgian, born in Dinant, a French-speaking city on the River Meuse.

The prize, worth $41,227, was awarded by the five-man Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament. As usual, the committee gave no reason for its choice, nor did it say which other names had been proposed.

The announcement winds up the award of prizes for 1958, made from a fund left by Alfred Nobel, the Swedish inventor of dynamite.

The awards ceremony is to be held in Stockholm Dec. 12.

Weather Stalls Hunt for State Men, Plane

SALMON ARM, B. C. (UPI)—Bad weather stalled the search for two Americans missing in British Columbia yesterday.

Fred Royce, the pilot, from Grand Rapids, Mich., and Clarence Janik, a heater company executive from Cadillac Mich. vanished aboard their twin-engined plane late Thursday on a flight from Calgary, Alta., to Kamloops, B. C.

Saturday's search by two helicopters and five planes failed to find the missing aircraft. Flares and a fire were sighted 30 miles east of here Friday night, but search planes were turned back by rain and snow.

FINISHING TOUCHES—Members of the West Pontiac Kiwanis Club are shown here putting the finishing touches on a winterizing project at the Boy Scouts' Camp Agawam, near Lake Orion. The club has spent about a month insulating the camp's main hall. The value of the building was raised an estimated $3,000 by the Kiwanis project. N. R. Barnard Named Counsel for County organized counsel office will be Charles A. Davis, who will keep his old position as first assistant corporation counsel, and Robert P. Allen, moved up from his legal duties with the Drain Commission office to assistant corporation counsel.

SALARIES SET

Supervisors set Barnard's annual pay at $12,500, Davis' at $11,500, and Allen's at $9,000. This will amount to a total increase of $5,700 more than what the three men received in their former jobs.

Only objection to the appointment-consolidation move came this morning from Cyril E. Miller, Avon Township supervisor. He argued the nomination of other possible candidates for Merritt's job was never considered.

Barnard, of 5945 Livernois Rd., was Troy Township justice of the peace (1939-45), township clerk (1945-51), and township supervisor (1951-56) before he took the clerk-agent position. He received his law degree in 1940 from the University of Detroit and was an associate with a Detroit law firm while he was supervisor.

Davis, 46, of Pontiac Township, has been with Oakland County 12 years. He began as a court clerk with Judge Frank L. Doty and joined the corporation counsel's office in October of 1951.

Allen is 31 and lives at 509 S. Pleasant St., Royal Oak. He started with Oakland County in 1956 with the drain office.

Some Die Screaming

Apartment Blaze Kills at Least 20 in Montreal

MONTREAL, Que. (AP) — Fire that may have started from an exploding gas stove and swept through an old brick apartment building was believed today to have claimed at least 20 lives.

Some of the 100 tenants and occupants died screaming as the blaze flashed from apartment to apartment early Sunday—so fast that a fireman said it was "like turning on a lot of switches."

Others jumped from third and fourth story windows. One man threw his 5½-year-old son out of a third story window into some bushes. The boy was only slightly injured.

Witnesses told of seeing a mother and her new baby appear at a window and then disappear into the flames.

Investigators dug grimly into the ruins of the four-story building in their quest for bodies. Only eight bodies had been recovered, and only three of those were identified.

13 LISTED MISSING

Police issued a list of 13 missing persons believed to have been in the building. But apartment dwellers said at least seven more persons were holding a party in one apartment before the fire.

Police expressed uncertainty about the final death toll until all the regular occupants—about 100 persons including several night club entertainers and recent emigrants from Europe — had been accounted for.

Detective Capt. Cecil Rowe, head of the arson squad, said preliminary indications were the fire was caused by a gas stove explosion on the third floor. He said a gas stove, with all its valve controls open, was found in the ruins.

The building on dead end St. Mathiew street, was known as the Oldfield and stood on a cliff overlooking a string of railway tracks 50 feet below. The fire started about 1:45 a.m. and for more than two hours 125 firemen fought to keep it from spreading to adjoining buildings.

Those who managed to get out of the burning building said they were too stunned to recall precisely what happened.

Marcelina Krzymowski, a Polish woman who came to Canada a year ago from Britain, told a reporter she and her roommate escaped after hearing "unearthly screams."

RAN FOR LIVES

"There was an explosion as we got out," she said. "We had to run for our lives."

Edgar Eisenbraun, 37, opened the front door of his third-floor apartment when he heard the screams.

"Flames came in at me. I opened the cupboard. Flames came at me. I threw my son out of the window. I aimed for the bushes and he landed in them."

His hair singed, Eisenbraun said his wife jumped and was taken to a hospital for treatment of fractures.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bates, in the next block, cared for seven survivors.

It was the third major blaze in three years at the Oldfield.

er, which is slated to serve 10 Oakland communities.

Eight of the communities have already entered into contracts with the county for their share in financing this project.

Benefiting from the Evergreen project, which runs north from Eight Mile Rd., generally along Evergreen road to its northern terminus at South buolevard, a distance of some 12 miles, will be:

City of Southfield, City of Lathrup Village, Westwood Village; the major portion of the City of Birmingham; all of the city of Bloomfield Hills; 5½ square miles of the city of Troy; all of Bloomfield Township; and 320 acres of Pontiac Township.

The Oakland County Department of Public Works, which is undertaking the Evergreen project, is still putting finishing touches on contracts with the two participating communities, namely, Bingham Farms and Franklin Village.

Before compasses were fixed on a pivot, they were floated in a liquid.

Ike Pledges Aid for Asia

Calls on Dems to Plan for Finances Helping Against Red Threat

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—President Eisenhower today set forth a five-point program of international economic aid for Asian nations. He pledged full United States cooperation in erecting "barriers against tyranny and the war which tyranny breeds."

The President put no over-all price tag on the program and he did not estimate this country's share of the cost. But he did call on the heavily Democratic new Congress to provide adequate—and additional — financial resources to help 700 million people in free Asia.

In speaking of tyranny he did not mention in so many words the threat of Communist aggression and economic penetration, but his meaning was clear.

Eisenhower outlined his aid plan in an address prepared for delivery at a meeting of top diplomats attending the 18-nation Colombo Plan conference on cooperative economic assistance for South and Southeast Asia.

Eisenhower recommended:

1. Expansion of international trade.
2. Wider sharing of technical skills, which he tabbed the bedrock of economic development.
3. Ever greater emphasis on private investment.
4. Greater provision for public loans on normal bankable terms — for projects such as highways.
5. Expansion of development financing to provide borrowers with greater flexibility regarding repayment terms.

The President noted that Congress last year created the development loan fund for such purposes. So far in two years about 700 million dollars have been provided, and the administration is planning to ask for a 225-million-dollar supplemental appropriation in January.

Experts May Goals at MSUO Seminar

ners in setting up ideal and modern courses at the branch.

The four panelists argued that greater opportunities for responsibility would result in more teachers.

"Teachers don't get enough of a chance to work with adults. They should be brought together and given a chance to air their ideas and try them out," said Dr. Keppel.

"Imagine a man of 21 going into the teaching profession. He will be put in a room with the door closed. And that is his prospect when he is 35—in fact, until he dies, retires, or gets out of the profession."

Dr. Heald, president of the Ford Foundation, said he hopes MSUO will lead in experiments to determine just how many students one good teacher can instruct.

"There is no factual evidence to show that really competent instructors in college can't handle 100 students as well as 20," he said. "If we could reduce the per-pupil cost of teaching, we could pay good teachers more."

The panelists said that an all-out effort must be made to keep teachers in the profession by offering higher pay and other inducements. More men must be interested in teaching, they stated.

Caught Under the Bed

LAURENS, Iowa (UPI) — Mrs. R. W. Lind served up pheasant to her family yesterday — the first day of hunting season and the first one she ever bagged. She found it under her daughter's bed.

The Day in Birmingham

To Recommend Purchase of 9 Cars by Community

BIRMINGHAM — Thomas C. Brien, Department of Public Works superintendent, tonight will recommend to Birmingham city commissioners that they approve the outright purchase of nine 1959 city automobiles from the Shalla Chevrolet Co. in Detroit.

One car will be used by the fire department, another will be leased to the Oakland Health Dept., and the other seven will be used by city administrative employes.

The Detroit dealer submitted the lowest of nine bids, offering to sell the autos for a total of $11,101.

Action on the purchase had been held over from last week's commission meeting after commissioners asked Brien to investigate whether it might be more economical to lease vehicles.

Brien's report, based on information from two leasing firms and reports from municipalities that have leased cars, showed the purchase of cars to be more economical.

In other business, the Commission will get a report from James Howlett, city attorney, indicating there would be no violation of the parking lot ordinance in following the Chamber of Commerce's suggestion to waive meter fees in two lots during Men's Shopping Night, Dec. 8.

The C. of C. has offered to pay the city $25 for free usage that night by shoppers.

Permits for construction of a 58-unit motel at Hunter boulevard and W. Maple avenue and for the Henry T. Dahlquist Co. office and warehouse on Cole street resulted in the city's second highest monthly total for building in the city, according to Andrew F. Butt, city building inspector.

Estimated cost of the 36 permits issued during October was $693,437.

South Oakland County Alumni Assn. of Kappa Delta will meet at the home of Mrs. David F. Robertson, 4725 Cimarron Rd., Bloomfield Hills, at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

An auction of white elephant gifts will be held. Proceeds will be used in the guild's projects.

Mrs. William P. Begg

Service for Mrs. William P. (Dorothy) Begg, 47, of 1420 Villa Rd., Birmingham, will be held at 3 p.m. tomorrow at Manley-Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Cemetery.

Mrs. Begg died at her home Saturday night following a heart attack. Her husband is plant chief at Michigan Bell Telephone Co.'s Birmingham branch.

She was a member of First Presbyterian Church and Westminster Guild.

Surviving besides her husband are three daughters, Mrs. Harry E. Cattran of Clawson, Mrs. Eugene Byers of Rochester and Miss Sue at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hines of Detroit and four grandchildren.

William W. Morrison

Service for William W. Morrison, 86, a longtime Detroit real estate broker, who died Saturday in Bloomfield Township, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Woodmere Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Morrison was a member of Palestine Lodge, F & AM; Moslem Shrine; Detroit Real Estate Board, Oakland Hills Country Club, and a life member of the Detroit Boat Club.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Wallace Dodds and Mrs. Paul D. Bell, both of Birmingham; a sister, three grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Well, Whadda Ya Know?

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UPI) — The Arkla Air Conditioning Corp. has bought the nation's biggest manufacturer of horse-drawn carriages, and that's no old-fashioned idea, its president said. W. R. Stephens, president of the air conditioning firm, said it had purchased the buggy division of the Huntingburg Wagon Works because the demand for buggies is increasing, among sportsmen and certain religious groups which use only horse-drawn transportation.

Soft Callas in New York to Collect Her Thoughts

NEW YORK (AP) — Soprano Maria Callas, holding her fortissimo temperament to pianissimo, is in New York to settle down for two days and collect her thoughts.

The fiery diva arrived by plane Sunday night from a triumphant engagement in Dallas.

As she smilingly answered newsmen's questions, her mien suggested the charm of a Violette from "La Traviata" rather than the fury and hauteur of a Druid high priestess from "Norma."

A storm of controversy has thundered about the singer since she was fired by the Metropolitan Opera last Thursday.

Will she discuss her contract severance with Metropolitan General Manager Rudolf Bing? "He took away that possibility by making his statements," Miss Callas said.

Would she prefer practicing art in Dallas rather than in New York? "I wish we could practice art in New York," she replied.

Will she discuss a contract with Carol Fox, general manager of the Lyric Opera of Chicago? "I understand she wishes to see me," Miss Callas said. "We have no definite appointment and I would like to settle down for two days and get my thoughts together."

There have been reports Miss Fox has offered the soprano $10,000 for a single Chicago concert. Her Metropolitan contract called for $1,500 a performance.

There is also a possibility that Miss Callas will go on tour with the Dallas Civic Opera. It would not include New York.

Helps Cure Boys' Speech Troubles

Big Words No Problem for Ex-Stutterer

NORTHPORT (AP) — When John N. Clancy was a boy he had trouble saying his own name. Today, at 59, he can reel off polysyllabic words and complex phrases with faultless diction. He has helped hundreds of boys with stuttering problems do the same.

Clancy is founder and director of the University of Michigan speech improvement camp at Northport—first of its kind in the nation. The university conducts the camp as one phase of its general speech and language instruction courses.

How did he end his speech problems?

"All I knew," says Clancy, "was that I had to experience overcoming stuttering by trying to condition my new speech patterns into various contacts."

The technique is used at the speech camp.

Clancy spent 10 years as a businessman following his graduation from Notre Dame in 1921.

In 1931 his wife, Grace, agreed to his dream of opening a camp for kids with speech defects. The couple made a down payment on a 26-acre site at Northport and named it Shady Trails.

During the first summer four boys enrolled and total receipts amounted to $925. Last year 85 boys were on hand and the camp budget was $42,000. Some 1,600 boys in all have attended the eight-week sessions.

Originally all camp activities centered around a leased hotel which had been abandoned during the depression. Today 17 buildings accommodate 90 boys.

Clancy says the camp's primary objective is to build confidence.

"If a young fellow can't speak right he loses confidence in practically everything he does. We emphasize sports at Shady Trails and close contact with others who have speech problems. We've found that this helps build confidence.

"Building confidence is what it does. Each summer a group of stuttering, stammering youths arrive. Each fall they go home with a new hobby—debating."

Trolley Operator Takes Last Ride as Passenger

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A gaily decorated streetcar rolled through Pittsburgh streets for two hours Sunday but for the first time in 38 years Roy Anderson wasn't at the controls or collecting fares.

Aboard the chartered car some 60 relatives and friends chattered happily and congratulated Anderson on his retirement from the Pittsburgh Railways Co.

"This isn't my idea," smiled the portly Anderson. "If it weren't for my boys, I wouldn't be in on this."

The unusual tribute was planned for two months by Anderson's three sons: Robert, 30, a Cleveland bus driver; Donald, 23, a reporter from the Meadville (Pa.) Tribune, and Samuel, 32, a career soldier. It cost them about $25 an hour.

Anderson, who completed his last run Friday, said he was well satisfied with his career.

He met his wife, standing beside him as he spoke, on one of his runs in 1922.

"I was a conductor then, not a motorman," he said. "We had a lot of time to talk."

Roy was in uniform for the last run but he didn't take the controls. Helping his wife aboard, he said:

"I guess we'll be able to find a seat some place."

Lowdown Thief Takes Wallet of Trapped Man

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—City police are convinced they have come across a new low in thievery.

Joseph L. Sears, 65, who has a wooden left leg, told police his trouble began when he went to the trunk of his parked car at an intersection and was knocked to the ground by an oncoming vehicle. His right leg was trapped beneath a front wheel.

"As I was lying there," Sears said, "a group of people came up and tried to free me. I felt someone take my billfold from my back pocket but did not see who did it."

Sears was treated for bruises and a fractured right leg.

Police are looking for the thief and the wallet containing $150.

Algerian Filers Lean to Right

Most Candidates for Parliament in Favor of Integration With France

ALGIERS (AP)—Rightists favoring integration with France make up the vast majority of those running for 70 seats in the French Parliament from Algeria and the Sahara. There is no sign that any party or candidate seeking independence for Algeria is contesting the election.

A last minute rush before the deadline Sunday midnight wound up with 55 party lists filed from Algeria's 18 election districts.

Unofficial tabulations early today showed a total of 190 candidates—131 Moslems and 59 Europeans.

The last day of registration started slowly. Up to noon only nine party lists were turned in and 31 were filed between 9 p.m. and midnight.

Seventy deputies will be named to the French National Assembly in Paris in the elections Nov. 28-30. Algeria proper will have 67 and 3 will be from the Sahara, which is administered separately.

The proportion of Moslems to be elected has been fixed by law at two-thirds of the total. This will mean 46 Moslems will be sent to Paris, 44 from Algeria and 2 from the Sahara.

A preliminary check of the candidates whose backgrounds are known, and of the names on the party lists, showed the dominant tendency was right wing and favorable to the integration of France with Algeria.

Most of the parties were never heard of until the last few days. The majority of the candidates, especially the Moslems, are totally unknown outside their own areas.

Campaign Spending Again in Limelight

In the last Congress 83 Senators sponsored a bill to provide more effective regulation and disclosure of election campaign funds but the measure died for lack of interest on the part of Senate leadership.

The recent campaign brought renewed calls for strengthening the Corrupt Practices Act. As the law now stands an accounting must be made for contributions received and for funds expended by candidates. However, should a candidate choose to let the party committee for his state handle his finances, he may report no money received and none paid out even though his friends and supporters may have spent millions in his behalf.

The present act is unfair to candidates who make accurate reports of campaign expenses and endeavor to follow the spirit of the law. Through loopholes others may evade its intent.

Those who have studied the program agree that public disclosure of the details of campaign financing would be a deterrent to undue influence on our elected officials and prevent buying public office.

Current Recession Shows Sure Signs of Receding

There seem to be some definite signs that the recession itself is receding. The PRESS has been very careful not to offer this suggestion throughout the previous months for we had nothing significant to base the hope upon.

Now there are signs.

And the number increases.

One of the most recent straws in a favorable wind lies in the reports of the biggest stores in the New York City area. In October, sales climbed seven per cent upward in the city proper and eleven per cent in the overall area.

Also, the real estate tax levy stepped upward in the last report for this district, showing again that the climb is resuming. These signs aren't conclusive or all-embracing but they are encouraging and can be used as hard indications of betterment.

Russia Offers Egypt Aswan Dam Loans

Russia has announced loans totaling $100 million to help President NASSER of Egypt build the $1.5 billion Aswan High Dam.

This is a nice propaganda coup whether or not the fund materializes. If it does, Russia could be in a position to dominate Egypt's affairs regardless of President NASSER's likes or dislikes.

A unilateral program of this kind will make it difficult for the World Bank or free countries to participate. Initially Egypt was reported to be seeking a total of $400 million in foreign loans with the remainder of the cost being supplied by Egyptian labor and materials.

When the World Bank offered $200 million over two years ago under certain conditions, it was on the understanding that over a period of years grants from individual countries would equal that sum. The United States pledged $56 million and Britain $14 million toward building the dam.

Our offer was abruptly withdrawn two years ago on the ground that NASSER had bought from Communist sources more arms than Egypt could pay for. In resentment President NASSER seized the Suez Canal announcing that profits from its operation would be used to build the dam. Such profits are not sufficient for this undertaking even though the Canal is being run competently by the Egyptians.

There is another problem involved. In creating a reservoir for irrigating now arid land, a large area of the Sudan would be flooded. The Sudanese and Egyptians are far from reaching an agreement on this, NASSER recently having tried to appropriate part of northern Sudan.

The Aswan Dam is a long term project. Any sound plan should be multilateral and there is reason to hope that it ultimately will be underwritten by Arab banks in oil rich areas in cooperation with the World Bank.

The Man About Town

After 102 Years

And Our County Had a Big Hand on Both Ends

Nov. 11: That day in 1918 when we thought we'd ended all wars.

For the first time since 1856, Michigan is to have two Democratic Senators at Washington. When Oakland County's own takes over the office, he will join

Philip A. Hart

Patrick V. McNamara

at our nation's capital in that capacity,

Not since the days of

of Detroit, 102 years ago, when in company with

of Kalamazoo, also a Democrat, he held that position, have both Michigan Senators been of that political persuasion.

While never an actual resident of Oakland County, Cass was a top figure in its early development. He was the Democratic nominee for president in 1848, but was defeated by the Whig candidate, by an electoral vote of 163 to 127. Michigan has not had a presidential nominee of a major party in the 110 years since.

Cass also served as Michigan's governor and held positions in the president's cabinet. He restored the Oakland County area to settlement after it had been delayed 10 years by some lazy federal surveyors who came only to the Eight Mile Road and reported "Everything north of there is a hopeless morass."

He came out here himself and carefully looked over this area. In recognition, our county's largest lake was named in his honor, and Elizabeth Lake in honor of his wife.

A foursome that looks like a record is composed of

Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Whitfield and those other stellar citizens,

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Windiate

both couples celebrating their 60th wedding anniversaries only a few weeks apart. And each couple attended the other's wedding 60 years ago.

In absolute agreement is this column with a letter from which says: "This was the dumbest campaign in Oakland County history. All the Republican candidates did was sit pretty and let somebody else tear their shirts. They banked on the good sense of our voters that they would not be 'landslided' by a mess of manufactured bunk and hot air, as they never have been."

"Pioneer Political Observer,"

A pleasing echo of the depression of 25 years ago comes to owner of Griff's Grill. In an envelope with a Kalamazoo postmark was $30 in currency, "in payment of account of 1933." No name was signed.

Verbal Orchids to—

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Windiate of 1075 Union Lake Road; 60th wedding anniversary.

John Marvin of 62 Stout St.; 94th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Thornton of Highland; golden wedding.

"That'd Make a Dandy Nursery"

David Lawrence Says:

Intermarriage South's Real Fear

WASHINGTON — Poor Brooks Hays! One of the finest men in Congress — a spiritual leader as well as a statesman—went down to defeat last week at Little Rock.

LAWRENCE

But it was not a defeat intended to be administered to him as an individual For he was well liked and had made a good record in his 16 years in the House of Representatives.

It was a voting demonstration based on the principle of free expression by the people of a congressional district who were determined to use the opportunity of a last-minute "write in" vote to register their deep-seated opinions on the segregation issue.

Responsibility for the political tragedy rests to no small extent upon those outside critics who have provoked bitter resentments among the people of Arkansas.

It is not, for instance, a demonstration of the defiance of the law of the land—as one Northern critic called it last week—when the people of a district, by their votes, express themselves against integration or on any issue, no matter how controversial it may be.

It is this sort of extremism that has made the well-intentioned course of Brooks Hays as a "moderate" doubly difficult with his own people. The resentment of the voters of Arkansas has been intensified by what they regard as an unwillingness of people in other parts of the country to take into account the fears of the people of the South, especially the women folks, concerning the possible consequences of school integration.

When will the tragic dispute over desegregation be viewed realistically everywhere, and when will the fears that lie deep in the hearts of the southern people be fully understood, and the underlying facts of the controversy itself be revealed?

Certainly not as long as news about the conflict is suppressed, or public discussion is squelched, or the feelings of the people of the South are disregarded on the all-important subject of social life in the schools and possible intermarriage — the true barrier of integration.

On this very point, a significant speech was made recently by Allan Nevins, long-time professor of American history at Columbia University, a two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, and one of Adlai Stevenson's advisers in the last presidential campaign.

Professor Nevins is emphatically in favor of desegregation and calls upon the southern people to face reality, as he tells them that intermarriage between the races in the coming years is "inevitable."

Professor Nevins made his speech at Knox College, Galesburg, Ill., at ceremonies incident to the centennial of the Lincoln-Douglas debates. The authorized transcript, obtained from the Knox College offices, gives this report of what Professor Nevins said:

"Lincoln asked the South not to flinch from the hard fact that slavery must end; that the section must revolutionize its economic and social system.

"It was a very grim, cruel fact indeed. But we face one today just as harsh, and we flinch before it as Americans flinched in 1858.

"It is this: That once the Negro is as well educated, as well mannered, as well paid, as well dressed and well guided as the white man, once the colored race has become socially, economically and culturally the absolute equal of the white race, as it must become if we carry out the precepts of the Declaration of Independence, then intermarriage will become frequent.

"A mingling of the races will proceed with increasing rapidity.

"Nobody will advocate that as an object; but it will be an inevitable result.

"In broad terms, we must plan, North and South, to raise the Negro race to a plane in character, cultivation and manners where it will be entirely fit to intermarry with the white race.

"As a historian, I do not for a moment believe that, in our mighty American river of many nationalities, two currents can flow side by side down the centuries without ultimately becoming one.

"At first the fusion will be imperceptible; then it will be perceptible but slow; then it will move with a rush."

The Country Parson

"How can things seem so unimportant and commonplace to those who have them and so important to those who don't?"

Dr. William Brady Says:

Medics Sadly Mixed Up on Pathology of Arteries

Many a merchant of medicine gets front page mention by conjecturing that (a) cholesterol "deposits" in the arteries cause or constitute atherosclerosis or (b) "deposits" of calcium in the arteries constitute or cause arteriosclerosis.

DR. BRADY

In the first place I contend in good earnest that, so far as the arteries are concerned, they're all out of step but Brady. I mean that doctors who profess to believe that "deposits" of calcium in the artery walls cause or constitute arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) or deposits of cholesterol in the artery walls cause or constitute atherosclerosis (mushy softening of the arteries) either don't know pathology or don't give a hoot so long as their customers go for the funny notion.

The very name "athero-sclerosis" betrays utter disregard of pathology, for the word means soft hardening or hard softening. Probably the doctor who invented it meant to say arterio-atherosis but got tangled in his own verbosity.

Anyway medical literature, or what passes as such today, has latched onto this absurd word and will probably apply it in everyday business as long as it keeps the customers in line.

Any physician with a working knowledge of pathology (study of the nature of disease) knows that calcification ("deposit" of calcareous material in tissue or organ) occurs as a consequence of degeneration or wearing out.

In health, in youth, normally, the microscopic cells of the tissue or organ are constantly wearing out, dying and being replaced by new cells. This is life.

If the cells that wear out and die can no longer be replaced by functionally efficient cells, nature has to resort to repair by patchwork — calcification — and this process is called degeneration.

When degeneration overtakes the individual — why do ball players, prize fighters, tennis players, swimmers and track-and-field contestants consider a person past 37 "the old man"? — he indignantly rejects the suggestion that his trouble is degeneration and becomes a sucker for every new wonder drug the merchants of medicine prescribe for him.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Use 'Small Bite' Way to Succeed

George Sisler is a topnotch Applied Psychologist of the baseball diamond. Notice his "small bite" strategy and his use of a specific goal. This is the same admirable technique employed by A.A. in salvaging chronic drunkards. And you baseball stockholders better consider the last paragraph below!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Z - 367: George Sisler has been the expert batting coach for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

And he is a good Applied Psychologist, too, for he knows the value of reducing generalities to specific cases.

DR. CRANE

"The only difference between a .250 hitter and a .300 hitter," he told the players last season, "is just one extra hit per week!"

Anybody who can hit .300 or better is considered unusual, and his salary is generally increased for such superior batting.

Yet, it means just ONE extra base hit per full week of playing, for the mediocre hitters average about .250 for the season.

Heretofore, coaches have seldom got down to brass tacks the way George Sisler has done.

He has taken a positive attitude and focused his players' attention on the simple task of just one additional hit per week in their usual 20 times at the plate.

The average .250 hitter will get five hits in those 20 trips to the batter's box.

But a .300 hitter will rate six hits in those same 20 times at bat.

By the simple strategy of directing a player's attention to a definite goal of six hits vs. five, George Sisler gave his players something tangible to work on.

TAKE SMALL BITES

Alcoholics Anonymous has helped thousands of chronic drunkards get back upon the water wagon by the same "small bite" method.

In other words, the new recruit for A. A. isn't urged to stay sober for an entire year or even a month or a full week.

No, he is encouraged to set his goal at remaining off the bottle "just for today."

Such a goal is not so discouraging. And when the drunkard wins success, he is praised liberally. This is positive psychology in action!

Next morning he sets up a new goal for himself and again it involves remaining off liquor "just for today."

This "small bite" method is good psychology to employ on children, too, for they are often discouraged by being given large tasks that cannot be completed quickly.

Children live on a day-to-day basis, yet many parents and teachers forget that fact and set up weekly, monthly and even yearly quotas, with no breakdown thereof into daily units.

We give them big bites, when they would accomplish far more by the "small bite" plan. And several small bites will then equal the single big bite, but their morale will remain far higher under the small bite formula.

SPORTS PSYCHOLOGY

Some of our greatest Applied Psychologists have been baseball coaches and managers, such as Frank Lane, Paul Richards, Leo Durocher, Casey Stengel and Bill Veeck.

On the gridiron, I also need mention only a few, such as the late Knute Rockne, Bob Zuppke, A. A. Stagg and Lynn Waldorf.

Many a valuable baseball pitcher may actually hurl a no-hitter one day and four days later be knocked out of the box. Why?

Psychology!

And many players become hypochondriacs who overly magnify minor injuries and trivial pains. Subconsciously they use these as an alibi.

This very fact means they are thinking negatively. A star player thinks POSITIVELY. And a positive outlook actually increases his available muscular power. (See tomorrow's case).

A good psychologist (family counsellor) attached to a team would probably raise the entire baseball team's batting average by at least 10 points during the season!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 6c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Wants Post Office to Alter Ruling on Returning Mail

I hope many other people in my position will write the Postmaster General in Washington to correct the ruling which authorizes the Post Office Department to return mail to senders that is addressed to Pontiac instead of a suburb outside of Pontiac, such as Orchard Lake, instead of forwarding the mail to the proper post office such as Orchard Lake.

I'm an interior decorator who moved into this area from Chicago. I have no way of advising the enumerable firms with whom I do business of my change of address from Pontiac to Orchard Lake, as this is only a post office listing change of address, and we're still listed in the Pontiac telephone directory. It's very confusing to out-of-town people.

I feel strongly that the Post Office Department should be sufficiently interested in the business people of this area to want to insure their receipt of mail and not return it to senders because of such a technicality.

Nixon Nomination in '60 No Longer a Certainty

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's cold comfort for Vice President Nixon to know that a score of Republican state chairmen consider him at this minute their No. 1 boy for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

Although Nelson Rockefeller suddenly became his rival — by winning the New York governorship last Tuesday—20 out of 38 chairmen queried by The Associated Press more or less named Nixon as their choice.

That's now. And it's no wonder. They're indebted to him for all the campaigning he did for them, himself and the party in every election since, and including, 1952.

But there's nothing sentimental about a political convention. By 1960—if Rockefeller makes a decent record in New York and looks like a better bet—the delegates will thank Nixon and pick Rockefeller.

Nobody has to tell Nixon this. He's not only a practical politician, he's a tough one. For proof: the kind of attacks he's made on the Democrats over the years.

Nixon is almost 46. Rockefeller is 50. Until Tuesday Nixon seemed to have the field to himself. Now he may lie awake nights, planning.

There's no reason to think the Republicans can win in 1960—after what has happened to them in the past three congressional elections —unless one or both of two things happen:

1. The Democrats, running Congress, split wide open or make a mess of legislation that is popular and needed.

2. The dazed and shattered Republicans can find a line that wins favor. They have no such line now. Where can they get it?

Hardly from President Eisenhower. He was provided meager leadership for the party, either because he doesn't know how to inspire it or because the party has been blind to his form of "modern Republicanism."

The task of leadership, it would seem, falls on Nixon. But he, despite his campaigning, couldn't help the Republicans escape a massacre in his own state of California Tuesday.

For six years he has remained pretty much within the shadow of Eisenhower. In that time he has not managed to project himself, or his thinking, in such a way that either has become a rallying symbol for the Republicans.

What can he do? Turn to the right? That's a bleak road. The right wing Republicans fell Tuesday like ducks on the opening day of the hunting season.

If he tries to follow a very liberal line—in the belief that is the contemporary and therefore popular thing to do—he'll lose the support of the right wing and its financial angels.

Rockefeller is expected to follow a fairly liberal line. Nixon, if he sounds too much like Rockefeller, may be accused of trying to imitate him.

Yet, Nixon has to get across to Republicans and voters an image of himself that both will want. These next two years won't be easy for a man as ambitious as Nixon.

Bob Considine Says:

One U.S. Department Still Making Money

WASHINGTON — About the only money-making department of the federal government is the money-making department.

"We make 145 one-cent pieces out of a pound of metal made of 95 per cent copper and the rest tin and zinc which costs us 30 cents," Assistant Director of U. S. Mints Leland Howard told us today.

"The alloy from which we make nickels — seventy-five per cent copper and 25 per cent nickel — costs us 40 cents a pound. We get ninety nickels to the pound, or $4.50. And so it goes. In our department we say that one way to unbalance the budget is to cut us."

Despite the rise in the cost of living, small change is more in demand than ever because of the upsweep of cash and carry grocery markets, sales taxes, excise taxes, parking meters and the spreading epidemic of the vending machine.

Nearly 70 per cent of the 33 tons of coins minted each day in Philadelphia and Denver are pennies — 1,400,000,000 of them each year. About $1,800,000,000 worth of nickels and dimes are punched out each year. Americans need more change in their pockets than ever before. A symbol of this need is the fact that 900,000,000 "white" pennies are still in circulation.

The "white" penny, homeliest coin in our annals, was minted only during 1943, some 1,093,000,000 of them. They were made of steel, plated with zinc to keep them from rusting. There was, of course, a copper shortage.

There has not been a coin change since the Benjamin Franklin half dollar in 1948.

No silver dollars have been minted since 1945. The only call for them, Howard said, is "around Las Vegas, Reno and a few places like that — for some reason or other." The treasury has 250,000,000 of them stacked and ready, in case the East ever becomes interested in them again.

Americans have given up on certain coins before they gave up on the "cartwheel." Long since fallen into discard are the half cent piece, the two cent piece, the three-center and the 20 cent piece.

There's always been a lot of trouble with the $2 bill, whose last remaining friend seems to be Boston, for reasons too inscrutible for the Treasury Department to fathom.

Two people wrote to the treasury saying in effect that they were giving up U. S. money because "In God we trust" was added to paper bills. But thousands wrote in indignantly when one enormous batch of new bills appeared without the legend. The treasury had to explain it had a temporary printing problem; that atheism was not involved.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing work around the clock printing new paper money. It has gone easy recently on $100,000 bills (which bear Woodrow Wilson's picture, as everybody knows). Banks hand them back and forth. There are enough to meet the demand.

There are 845 ten thousand dollar bills in circulation today. One hundred of them are immobilized in a showcase in Joe W. Brown's Gambling Hell in Las Vegas.

Joe tried to get 100 more of the grand notes not long ago, for a Las Vegas float in the Rose Bowl Parade, but the red-faced United States Government said it just didn't have that much money, at least in $10,000 bills. There's $3,340,000 floating around the country in $5,000 bills.

The treasury has recovered most of the more than one billion ounces of silver it lent during the war to the Manhattan Engineering District (A-bomb development), Defense Department and foreign governments.

The bomb people, who needed the stuff to substitute for copper in the magnetic separation of explosive and nonexplosive uranium atoms, have returned all but 60,000,000 ounces of the 400,000,000 borrowed.

Oddly, the foreign countries have coughed up the silver we gave them for their coins. Howard went to India last year and rounded up 10,000 tons of our silver in strange Indian coins.

"Good as new when melted down," he told us, contentedly.

Questions About Social Security

Veteran Asks About Pay

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From D.D. of Alliance, Ohio: "I'm near retirement and would like to know all the benefits which might be available to me from the federal government. As a World War I veteran, I believe I have some benefits coming. Where can I get an explanation of my rights as a veteran?"

The Veterans Administration puts out a booklet called "Fact Sheet—IS 1" which you can get by sending 15 cents to: Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C.

From Mrs. A.S. of Washington, D.C.: "My husband and I were never fortunate enough to have any children so we both have worked regularly since our marriage. He is 63 and I'm 60. If I stop working at 62 will I be able to get Social Security without regard to whether my husband quits at 65?"

Yes. But, your payments at 62 will be 20 per cent less than they would be if you continued until 65.

From Sgt. K.G.R. of Oakland, Calif.: "Please settle an argument. A friend and I have disagreed on whether the Social Security tax is applied to not only a military man's base pay, but also to his special allowances such as flight pay. I say we're only taxed on our base pay."

From R.M.B. of Cleveland, Ohio: "My doctor says I shouldn't be working because of my physical condition. I'm 52 and have not worked for the past 18 months, although I worked all my life under Social Security until then. The Social Security people say I'm not eligible for disability payments, yet I can't work. What can I do?"

Your first move should be to appeal the decision of the Social Security Administration that you're not eligible for payments. You start the appeal by asking for a reconsideration of the facts in your case. The Social Security people will advise you further if the decision isn't reversed after the reconsideration.

From M.G. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "From reading your column, I've found out that my February Social Security check will be $84 and that my wife's payment will be $42. If I should die, how big will my wife's check be?"

As a widow, your wife will be entitled to a check equal to ¾ the size of your $84 a month check. That's $63 a month.

From J.J. of Parosns, Kans.: "I'm past 65 and receiving monthly Railroad Retirement payments. My wife will be 65 in three months, but she's in an institution. Will I be able to collect payments for her?"

Yes. If you're not living together only because she's in an institution or if you've been contributing regularly to her support, your wife can receive Railroad Retirement payments.

Burglar Was Romantic

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Ernest A. Fisch, 26, told police a thief ransacked his apartment while he and his bride were on their honeymoon. He said the intruder made off with an old toaster and a clock-radio but didn't touch an array of wedding gifts.

The Dyna-Soar, the spaceship designed to orbit a man around the earth, will have a top speed of 18,000 miles per hour.

Red Chinese Guns Silent on Even Day

TAIPEI (AP) — This was an even-numbered day of the month, a non-shelling day for the Quemoys in the Communists' calendar of warfare. For the fifth consecutive even-numbered day the Reds stuck to the calendar, not even bombarding areas outside the Nationalist Chinese islands' supply beaches and airstrip.

Even Sunday, an odd-numbered day, the Reds were almost asleep at their guns. They fired only 568 shells at the Quemoys and 21 at Kaoteng in the Matus group 150 miles to the north.

Warning of Russia's Trade Offensive, U.S. Budget Peril

Secretary Weeks Bows Out Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sinclair Weeks bows out as secretary of commerce today with a parting plea for "old fashioned" balanced budgets and a sober warning about Russia's trade offensive.

The 65-year-old Weeks, who has headed the Commerce Department since January, 1953, as part of the original Eisenhower "team," officially ends his work at the close of business today. Tomorrow he and Mrs. Weeks leave for a Florida vacation and then private life back in Boston.

The New England businessman will resume active duties about the first of the year in his old firm, United-Carr Fastener Corp. His successor, former Atomic Energy Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, is slated to take over the secretaryship later this week.

Weeks' departure leaves only three of the original Eisenhower cabinet still in office—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield.

Weeks, who said he is not sorry to leave the hurly-burly of a cabinet post after six years of service, indicated he—like the President—foresees a conflict over government spending between the heavily Democratic 86th Congress and the GOP administration.

In an interview with United Press International, he spoke with feeling about "people who are ready to vote money regardless" of the size of the federal budget or its lack of balance (12 billion dollars in the red anticipated for this fiscal year).

"I'm old fashioned, but I believe the budget has to be balanced once in a while," he said. "There's got to be a lot of soul-searching about where to cut it. If we don't sober off a little it won't be good for the country or the economy or the value of the dollar."

Weeks indicated a cutback in spending wouldn't be easy. He noted defense costs are rising and various groups are persistent in demands for government help. He declined to spell out places he thinks spending can be cut because "it might seem like I'm giving gratuitous advice just when I'm leaving."

The departing secretary said Russia is carrying out Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promulgation a year ago of economic warfare, and is selling goods cheaply to the so-called uncommitted countries to establish trade links and win influence.

"Their industrial potential is growing rapidly," he said of the Russians. "They have a system that doesn't worry about making a profit and they use slave labor. So they have goods to throw on world markets at prices that will help achieve their political goals.

"Our people are too complacent about the future. They want to live and let live. But the Soviets are not willing to live and let live. They have stated their aim repeatedly—to communize the world. The trade offensive is one of their newest tools."

He said one of the most effective counter-measures available to this country is the present U. S. reciprocal trade program which allows this country both to develop markets abroad and help its allies.

Ex-City Couple Killed in Crash

Louis Carpenter, Wife Were on Way to Visit Daughter in Florida

Former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carpenter of Beulah were killed Saturday in a two-car collision at Oneonta, Ala. They were en route to Pompano Beach, Fla., to visit their daughter, Mrs. Ray Fisher.

Carpenter, 57, a former Grand Trunk Railroad employe here, and his wife, Mae, 59, lived in Pontiac from 1922 until moving to Beulah last January.

They were members of the First Baptist Church in Pontiac.

Besides their daughter, Mrs. Carpenter leaves two brothers, Ersil Wilson of Pontiac and Darwin of Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. George Ross of Owosso.

Mr. Carpenter is survived by a sister, Mrs. Charles Norris of Pontiac.

Service will be held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Jennings-Lyons Chapel in Owosso. Burial will be in Oakhill Cemetery there.

IS YOUR ENGLISH HOLDING YOU BACK?

"Many intelligent men and women are held back in their jobs and social lives because they use poor English or can't speak and write effectively," says Don Bolander, director of English at Career Institute, Chicago.

"Adults who realize that their English is holding them back use our new home method to stop making embarrassing mistakes in English, to improve their writing, to increase their vocabularies, to speed up their reading, to acquire the techniques of fluent conversation. But the use of effective English pays off in unexpected ways," says Bolander, "because language is a tool of thought as well as a tool of expression.

"You use words with which to think. The more you learn about words and how to arrange them to express your ideas, the better your thinking becomes. The improvement of your English—including your thinking—can lead to amazing personal achievements."

Write today for free 32-page booklet, How to Speak and Write Like a College Graduate. It explains the importance of English in your personal, social and business life. It shows how the new Career Institute Method can help you achieve your special goals quickly in your spare time at home. Send a card or letter to Don Bolander, Dept. PM-1, Career Institute, 30 East Adams, Chicago 3, Illinois. The booklet will be mailed to you promptly.

Works to Keep Families Together

"Our marriage is all finished. I've failed my family," the wife said tearfully. "My husband never stays home anymore. He just doesn't love me anymore," she wept to the marriage counselor.

A friend had wisely suggested to Mrs. Thompson that she talk to someone at the Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, a United Fund agency.

The trained counselor understood Mrs. Thompson's plight and knew that all was not "lost." First the counselor tried to reaffirm Mrs. Thompson's faith and confidence in herself by showing her the many things she HAD accomplished as a wife and mother of four.

After several fact-gathering interviews of both husband and wife, both stories were put together and counselors came up with the real problem in this marriage. It was not a lack of love, as so often couples think it is.

A year or so ago Thompson had been working a lot of overtime and bringing home a sizeable paycheck. As the result, he and his wife had enjoyed a good deal of financial freedom. They bought several items on time payments and Mrs. Thompson was able to afford some outside help around the home.

Suddenly, with a changing economic atmosphere, Thompson was notified he would not work any more overtime. The Thompsons had to "cut-back" many expenses.

The debts they had incurred had to be settled. Mrs. Thompson had to give up hired help at home and some social activities. Her reaction was to keep asking for more help from her husband —taking care of the children and doing household jobs in his leisure time.

He too had cut our many recreational activities and rebelled at her piling more responsibilities on him. Rather than go home to her "complaining" as he put it, Thompson began dropping off at a local bar to "see the boys" on his way home.

One day Thompson ran into an old female friend he hadn't seen for over 10 years. They went to a local cocktail lounge to have a few drinks and "talk over old times." The friend offered to drive Thompson home, as his wife had the car that day.

He agreed and Mrs. Thompson saw him arrive home, being driven by a strange woman with whom, she said, he seemed "very chummy." This was the breaking point. Mrs. Thompson came to the Catholic Social Services Pontiac Office on Franklin boulevard for help.

After several months of counseling, both parties began to see the "other side" of the situation. Mrs. Thompson saw what her husband's problems at work were. She saw how she had been unknowingly piling more responsibilities on him and adding to his mental strain and worry.

The husband also saw what a great amount of added responsibility had been placed on his wife by their changed financial status. They both were introverts, or "reserved" personalities, and couldn't cope with these problems by "talking them out."

When they realized the value of a serious talk, or "putting their cards on the table," both understood each other much better.

Today, the Thompsons know that there is no lack of love between them. Discovering the root of their past problems has led them to a much happier, fuller married life.

The Catholic Social Services organization, with United Fund support, handles cases like this every day. Marriage counseling, adoption service, foster home care, and service to unmarried mothers are but a few of the departments in which they offer trained help.

Pontiac Press Photo

TYPICAL PROBLEM — This scene posed by employes at the Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, shows a typical problem which faces many married couples. The man and wife have ignored the value of "talking" and can only shout at each other and turn their backs on the real problems. A scene such as this might not have taken place had the couple used the marriage counseling facilities of the Catholic Social Services in Pontiac, a United Fund agency.

Now all their time is their own

The day that had been planned for 43 years

No need to gulp down good coffee this morning. Or to eat a warmed-over dinner late tonight. No worries about work. Perhaps no worries at all.

Perhaps? Yes, retirement—real retirement—doesn't just happen. It has to be planned. Mentally. Physically. Financially. And it's an encouraging sign that more and more Americans are beginning to prepare for this day years before it arrives.

Pension plans and Social Security are helping to solve the money needs of retirement. So is life insurance. In thousands of instances the additional income at retirement from life insurance policies has meant the difference between semi-dependence on one's children and an independent old age.

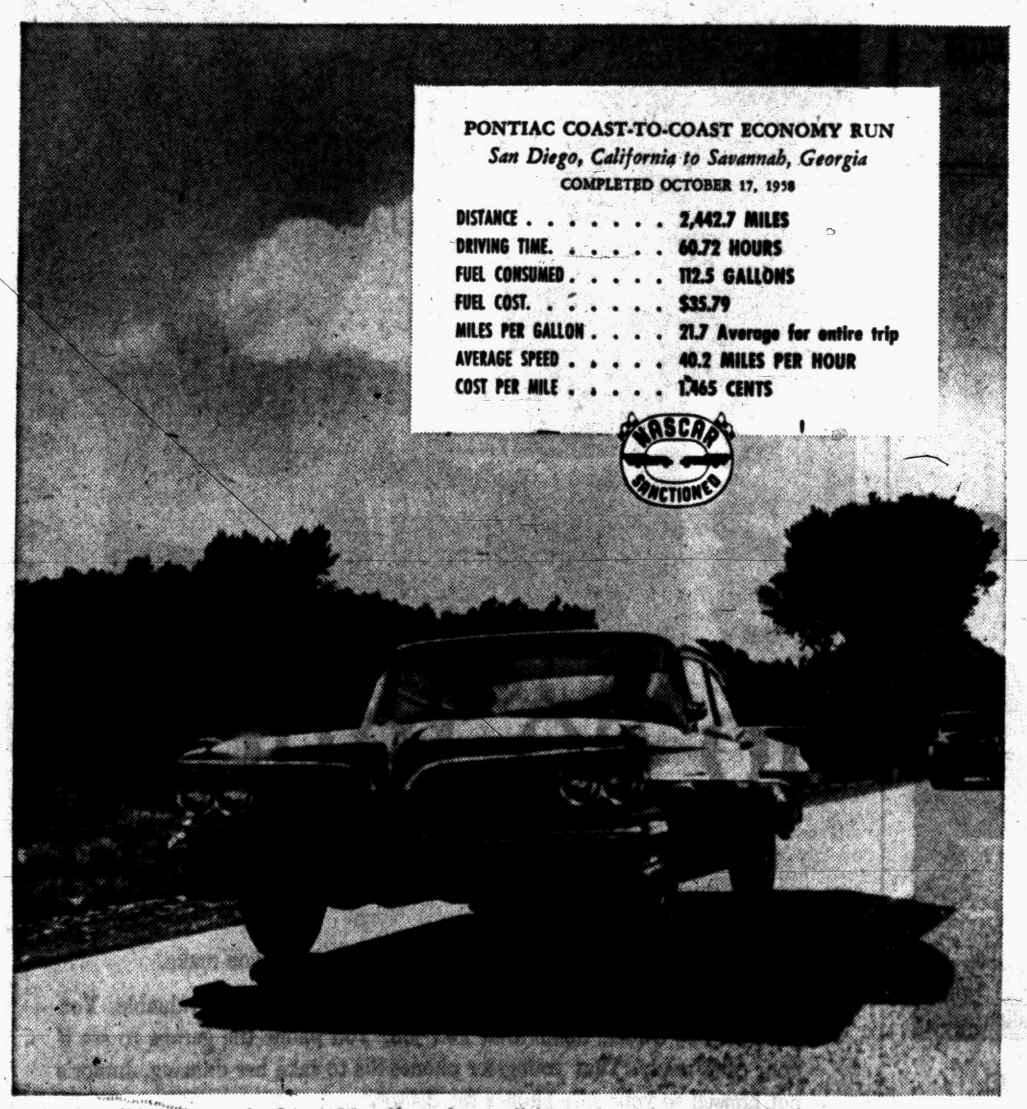

Isn't it reassuring to know that the life insurance you own for your family's protection today may help support you in later years?

COAST TO COAST ONLY 1½ CENTS PER MILE FOR GAS!

Pontiac's new Tempest 420E V-8 sets the year's most important economy mark—Here's the story and what it means to you!

"No two people drive alike—if you have a light touch or drive slower than I did you might even top my 21.7 miles per gallon. But no matter how you drive—or where you drive—you'll be amazed at the mileage you get from this big, roomy full-powered Pontiac V-8."

We asked one of America's most respected automotive writers and car testers—"Uncle Tom" McCahill—to put a standard Pontiac Catalina Sedan with our new economy V-8 to the test . . . coast to coast.

And with only one specification—that the run would be exactly like you would drive coast to coast yourself—in mountains, in city traffic, across deserts, buying gas wherever the tank ran low.

And here's the phenomenal story in every complete detail—all supervised and officially certified by NASCAR, America's top automobile competition authority.

What does it mean to you?

Arrest Juvenile as an Arsonist

13-Year-Old Boy Admits Setting Six Fires on Dixie Highway

A 13-year-old Waterford Township juvenile was arrested Saturday as the arsonist who set fire to six different buildings on Dixie Highway last September.

Waterford Township firement extinguished fires at the Schramm Storage House, 2549 Dixie; four abandoned cabins and a gas station on the Camp Inn property at 2765 Dixie.

After questioning the owner of the property, William Feldman, of Detroit, members of the State Arson Squad turned the investigation over to Waterford Township Lieutenant William Stokes and State Trooper Alfred Strilecky.

After screening several arson suspects, the police were informed of who set fire to the buildings by an anonymous tipster.

The boy admitted the crimes upon apprehension and questioning. He was turned over to Juvenile Court this morning.

Township firemen estimated a total of $3,000 damages caused by the fires which occurred on the nights of Sept. 25, 26 and 29.

Nothing's New for John Kasper

Segregationist Pledges More Law Jostling After 3rd Conviction

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—John Kasper, professional segregationist from New Jersey, gave no indication of changing his ways after his third conviction on charges stemming from his part in school integration disturbances.

A jury of 12 white men convicted him Saturday of inciting to riot on the opening day of school here last year, and set his punishment at six months in the workhouse and a $500 fine—just half the maximum.

As he waited for the verdict, Kasper said he intended to go to Memphis to test the threat police have made to arrest him if he tries to speak there.

After the verdict was announced Kasper's followers crowded around him. But he soothed them, saying:

"It's all right, folks. I appreciate what you've done. We're going to win the next one."

He also is free in bond pending appeal from a six-month federal court sentence resulting from his second conviction for violating a court injunction in connection with Clinton, Tenn., desegregation two years ago.

He has finished serving a one-year sentence for violating the same injunction—with time off he was released last August.

Car Hits Culvert, Killing Woman

Driver - Husband Hurt in Crash on Van Dyke North of Almont

ALMONT — A 53-year-old Harbor Beach woman was killed instantly and her husband seriously injured Sunday morning when their car left the road and hit a culvert on Van Dyke near Dryden road, just north of here.

Mrs. Christina Johnson was pronounced dead at the scene of the accident. She suffered a fractured skull and broken neck.

Her husband, Franklin, 67, a retired Cadillac Motor Division employe, had broken ribs and possible broken back. He was taken to Bishop Hospital, Almont.

Kenneth Bohr, of 3671 Van Dyke, who was standing in the field near his home and saw the accident, told Romeo State Police Mrs. Johnson had attempted to bring the auto back onto the road after it had gone off on the right shoulder.

The vehicle swerved, he said, shot across to the left side of the road and into the ditch. It struck a cement culvert, throwing Mrs. Johnson partly out of the door and pinning her underneath.

LORRAINE ANNE RIOUX

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Rioux of 9997 Davisburg Rd., Davisburg, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine Anne, to James Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dahl of Union Grove, Wis. The bride-elect is a senior at Taylor University, Upland, Ind. Her fiance was graduated in June from Taylor. They are planning a June wedding.

All-Day Poker Game Banned by University

BIRMINGHAM, England (UPI) —Birmingham University has banned all-day poker games which kept students away from classes and meals and sometimes led to the gambling away of scholarship grants the London Sunday Graphic reported yesterday.

The newspaper said members of the university's two student clubs now are limited to bridge, whist or patience between the hours of noon to 2 p.m. and 6 to 10 p.m. University officials admitted the all-day poker players were few, but they feared the practice would spread, the Graphic said.

Moon Travelers Will Lose Radio News, Bulletins

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — You will not hear soft radio music or news bulletins on your trip to the moon or beyond.

Communications between your space ship and earth will be only by very high frequency radio waves which can penetrate through the upper electrified air known as the ionosphere.

"The space traveler will have to renounce the reception of most broadcast stations as soon as he passes the ionosphere," Dr. Walter Dieminger of the Max Plenck Institute for Aeronomy, Lindau-Harz, Germany, told the second international symposium on physics and medicine of the atmosphere and space.

"Personally, I should feel very happy to be screened off from the intelligence content of some broadcast transmitters on earth for some time," Dr. Dieminger said.

"On the other hand, the sky will be opened for all the radio frequency emissions from the stars and galaxies. I don't expect celestial music, on the other side of the ionosphere," but perhaps to hear radio signals "about events of still unknown origins and dimensions in interstellar space."

Aussie Population Rises

CANBERRA — The population of Australia totaled 9,747,471 at the start of 1958, an increase of 78,-73? by immigration and 135,405 by natural increase over the previous year. The total gain was 2.25 per cent compared with an increase of 2.36 per cent in 1956.

It is estimated that insects nullify the work of at least one million men each year in this country.

Engine Conks Out Over Lapeer

Lands Balky Plane in Field

LAPEER — A pilot on a cross-country flight made a forced landing in a Lapeer corn field last night when the engine of his four-seater Cessna 180 failed at 9,000 feet.

David Vacter, 36, a commercial pilot from Shaker Heights, Ohio, walked away from his plane after dropping it down shortly before 11 p.m. on the field owned by Arthur Lynch on the west side of Lapeer. He told Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies he used parachute flares to find the field.

En route from New York City to the Tri-County Airport in Saginaw, Vactor planned to resume his flight today.

Lapeer's only airport is located on the opposite side of the city, two miles away.

Baby Found Dead in His Crib Sunday

LEONARD — The three-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Cowell, 4461 Haven Rd., was found dead in his crib early Sunday.

Mrs. Cowell told Romeo State Police she had fed the infant his bottle at 1:45 a.m. and when the family went into his room at 7:45 in the morning he was dead.

Dr. Harold Stahl of Oxford said the baby died of suffocation. The body is at Moore Chapel of Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Auburn Heights.

Wed at Westminster in Detroit

WALLED LAKE — William L. King claimed Audrey Joan Bartold as his bride in an evening ceremony Saturday at Westminster Church in Detroit. The rite was performed by the Rev. John A. Visser.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Arthur R. Bartold of W. Outer drive, Detroit, and the late Mr. Bartold. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. King of 8849 Edgewood Park Dr., Walled Lake.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white net over a taffeta skirt, featuring a white lace bodice. She carried a bouquet of white mums and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Alflen of Lansing and bridesmaid was Miss Carolyn Wood of Alma.

Robert Alflen of Lansing was the best man, while ushers were John E. DeCou of Novi and James Mayer of Farmington.

The reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony.

Upon return from their honeymoon in Northern Michigan, the newlyweds will make their home at 9270 Commerce Rd.

Both attended Alma College, where the bride was affiliated with Alpha Theta Sorority and her husband, Delta Gamma Tau Fraternity.

Pontiac Will Observe Retarded Children Week

Mayor Philip E. Rowston has proclaimed Nov. 16-27 as Retarded Children's Week in Pontiac.

"Our local chapter of the Michigan and national associations for retarded children should be commended for its efforts in bringing before the general public the essential facts about mental retardation," said Rowston.

"It has inspired public cooperation for a broad concerted attack upon this major social problem," he said.

GI, Wife Die of Injuries After West Berlin Fire

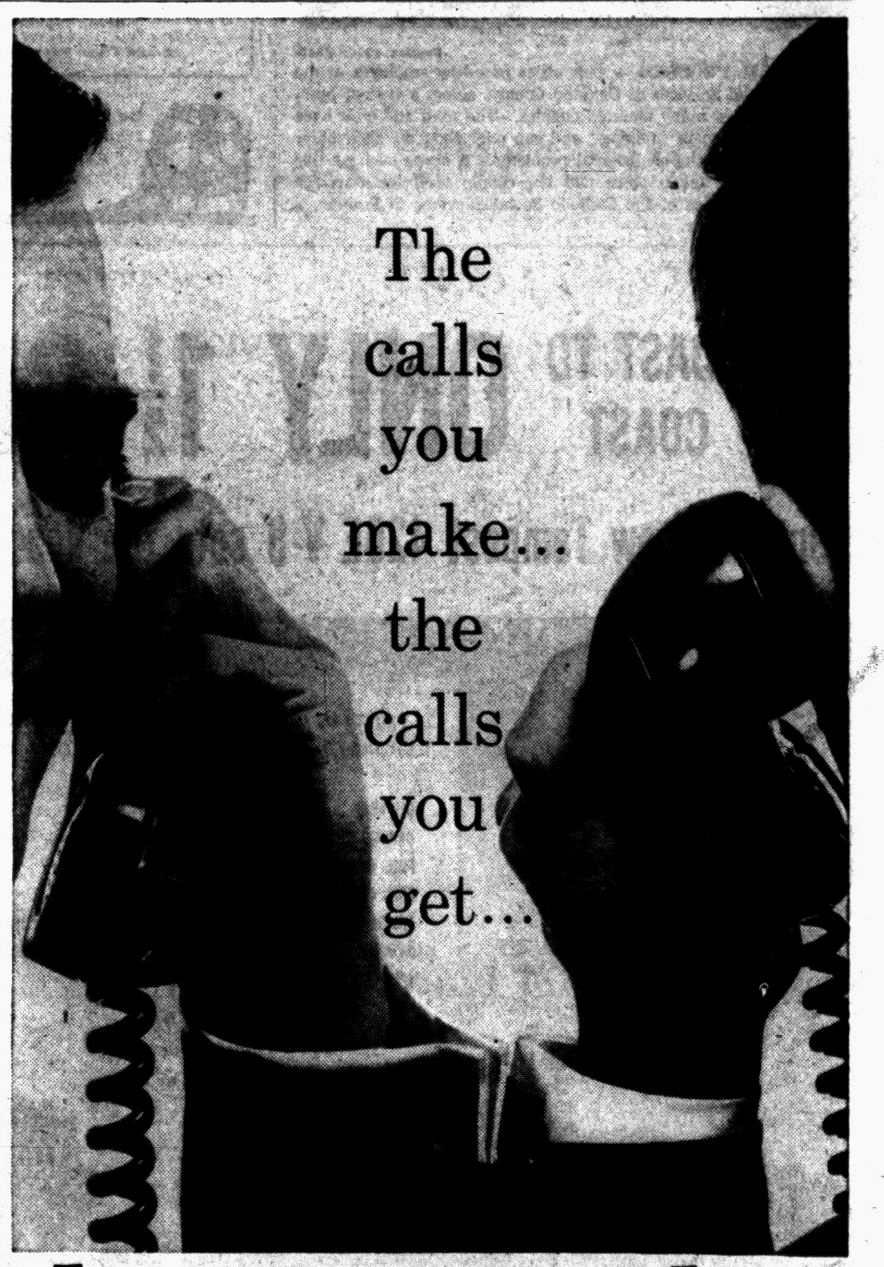

BERLIN (UPI) — M. Sgt. Rolla E. Durand, of Ellendale, N. D., and his German-born wife, Ingeborg, died yesterday from severe injuries they suffered in a fire in their West Berlin apartment, A U. S. Army spokesman said today.

The fire, which broke out early in the morning, was confined to the bedroom. It was believed to have been caused by smoking in bed, the spokesman said. The couple leaves three children, the oldest 10.

do so much...
yet cost so little!

The calls you receive are often as valuable as the calls you make.

It's this two-sidedness that makes your telephone so valuable. You get word, by phone, about that new job. You phone the garage to see if your car's ready. That youngster phones Sis to take her dancing. Junior's not himself so your wife phones the doctor.

Each time one of the family takes or makes a call, the telephone proves its usefulness over again. Day after day its value adds up to much more than it costs.

California Styles New, Individual!

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—California is not challenging the other fashion centers of the world, but is simply following the individualistic pattern it started in fashions back in 1840, William Maxfield, executive director of California Apparel Creators, said today.

"Los Angeles now ranks ahead of Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Paris and London and is second only to New York, both in number of firms, unit production and dollar sales," Maxfield said. "And we achieved this position by individualistic designing — that is, simply putting women in beautiful clothes, not creating grotesque 'new looks.'

"We do not follow Paris dictates. In the last 10 years our sports clothes, swimwear and casual clothes styles have risen to lead the nation in sales and are sold in 25 foreign countries."

The popular belief that the apparel business in California started approximately 25 years ago is not so. The real birth of California fashions, like its gold rush, started in Sutter Mill in 1840. A young man named Levi Strauss designed a new type work trousers for the miners—now a household word — levis.

"From this growth the practical, comfortable clothing built and dominated our market," said Maxfield. "Then the movie industry with its couture designers brought in the first glimpse of "high fashion, thousand-dollar dresses, and a raised eyebrow from the rest of the fashion centers."

This "raised eyebrow" interest from other fashion areas has stimulated interest in the California market over several years and this year has brought some 68 fashion editors from across the nation to attend the 8th annual California Fashion Creators national press week fashion shows.

The week-long series of shows opened Sunday with a reception in the grand ballroom of the Ambassador Hotel, headquarters for the premiere showings.

BIG QUESTIONS

The Number One questions asked by most editors of this "upstart" in the couture fashion world will be the same as they are asking in Paris, Rome, London and New York . . . Just where will our hems be, above or below the knee? . . . Shall we have our waistline around our hips or shall we have it up under our arm pits? . . . Are we flattening our bosoms or is Hollywood's size 38 still in vogue?

These and other questions will be given some Land O' Sunshine answers during the week when 35 designer-manufacturers, including Rose Marie Reid, Koret, Edith Small, Howard Greer, Irene, Addie Masters, Helga, Don Loper and Werle, give a series of lavish, concentrated style shows.

At the end of the week, the Men's Apparel Guild of California will take over with a one-day show for the editors at Coronado, Calif., to show the latest in men's togs as well as the coordinates in men's and women's wear.

Roomer Will Be Accepted

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband passed away a little over a year ago. My children are all married and living away from home. I am entirely alone in this big house and have been thinking of renting one of the rooms. Would it be proper for me to have a young man roomer, about the age of my son? I not only could use the income but having someone in the house would take away some of the loneliness I feel.

"Everyone has urged me to have a roomer but they probably meant a girl or woman. I would prefer a man as women are more trouble, wanting kitchen privileges, washing, ironing, etc. I have lived here over thirty years and have a good name. I would very much like to know what you think about this."

Answer: As long as the young man, like you, has a good name, works seriously at his job, is sober and there is nothing about his manner or behavior that can be criticized, your neighbors will probably accept your taking him for a roomer as being proper.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am leaving soon on a cruise. I would like to send post cards to some of my office associates while I am away. Most of them are men and some of them married. Because I'm an unmarried woman do you think I should send these to Mr. and Mrs. even though I don't know the wives?"

Answer: Sent to your office associates alone and addressed to the office will be best. The messages on them should be very impersonal.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother and I are having a disagreement on the following question and would very much like you to settle it. Is it proper for a girl to accept jewelry from a boy to whom she is not engaged?"

Answer: A girl may not accept jewelry of value from a a boy to whom she is not engaged. Inexpensive "costume" jewelry would be acceptable.

Bride-Elect Is Honored at Shower

Mrs. Jack Nicholas entertained at a pink and white bridal shower Saturday evening at her home on Edgefield drive, honoring bride-elect Karen Gorsline.

Miss Gorsline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gorsline of Pioneer drive, will become the bride of George Courtney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Courtney of Draper avenue, Nov. 22 at Grace Lutheran Church.

Guests attending were Mrs. Gorsline, Mrs. Courtney, Mrs. Letta Akred, Mrs. Al Schultz, Mrs. Roger Maison, Patricia Stitt and Ruthann Webster.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Al Dorr, Mrs. Bruce Eickenburg and Mrs. Kenneth Hocky of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Laura Richer of Detroit.

State Hospital Employes Fete Mrs. O. E. See

One hundred employes of Pontiac State Hospital gathered to honor Mrs. Oswald E. See, who is retiring after nearly 38 years of service, Friday evening at Hi-Land Manor.

Mrs. Roland E. Gegoux was accepted for membership.

Guests of the chapter were Mrs. Harold G. Fuller, Mrs. Lucius Howlett, Margaret Wilmot, Iva Jane Price, Mrs. Charles Whipple and Rosamond Haeberle.

Husband Has Her Hooked—Abby

Shouldn't Have to Break Arm to Prove She's Faithful Wife

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: If there is ever a contest for the most jealous husband, I want to enter mine. I've heard that jealousy is a sign that your husband loves you, but I would almost rather he didn't love me so much. He was late in getting home from work the night we were going to a Masonic dance so I was already dressed. I was wearing a dress that needs to be hooked up the back. He had always hooked it for me. He asked, 'Who hooked it for you?' I told him, 'Nobody. I hooked it myself with much difficulty.'

ABBY

"He unhooked the dress and made me prove to him I could hook it myself. I perspired all the makeup off my face and almost dislocated my shoulder. How do you handle a man like that?" STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Don't let him "hook you" for any more demonstrations. A faithful wife shouldn't have to break her arm in order to prove her fidelity.

"DEAR ABBY: How did the "Trick-or-Treat' racket ever get started? I have grown to dread Halloween. One doesn't dare go any place, but must stay home and protect his property unless he wants to spend the next few days washing soap off screens and windows and cleaning up garbage that has been dumped on his lawn and porch.

"I haven't much extra money but I am forced to buy a large supply of candy bars and taffy apples to give to overgrown hoodlums who ring my doorbell and demand a hand-out in payment for not damaging my property. Where are the police?" IRATE CITIZEN

DEAR IRATE: I see no harm in handing out penny candy to little tykes under 12 who ring my bell to show off their masks and costumes. But "overgrown hoodlums" who demand hand-outs as "protection" against damaging property should be tossed in the cooler. The police departments work hard maintaining law and order on that night, and might appreciate extra reinforcements from volunteer groups such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, etc.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a hairdresser by profession and I get enough hairdressing six days a week, eight hours a day. Every Sunday we go to visit my husband's people. They all line up for free haircuts, touch-ups and permanents. Even the men.

"I did nine heads last Sunday and I am plumb fed up. I don't mind doing my mother-in-law, but the others are young and healthy enough to go to a beauty parlor and pay for it. Should I tell them off and if so, how?" TIRED

DEAR TIRED: If you don't want them in your hair forever, stay out of theirs. Tell them in plain English you don't want to spend your only day off working.

"DEAR ABBY: I have seen letters from ladies complaining about men without manners. Where, may I ask, are ladies with manners? When I go to open an automobile door, I find my 'lady' is already out of the car. Our hands frequently meet on knobs and door handles. My shins have been rapped by chairs going backwards before I can help the lady, and if I stand when she stands she asks, 'Going somewhere?' Please print this to let ladies know that gentlemen like to help ladies if they will only allow them the privilege." A GENTLEMAN

DEAR GENTLEMAN: Not all women are "ladies" . . . but then, neither are all men "gentlemen."

"DEAR ABBY: I am a boy that rides the bus to school. Every time I get on the bus, the next door neighbor girl saves me a seat beside her. How can I tell her I don't want to sit with her without hurting her feelings?" BUS RIDER

DEAR BUS: You can't tell her you don't want to sit with her without hurting her feelings. If she annoys you too much to make polite small talk—open one of your books and "study."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WORKING GIRL": If you are one of the working girls Heaven is supposed to protect, heaven help the poor fellow on whom you are working.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookdealer to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Camp Fire Girls Prepare to Launch Candy Sale

Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls will launch its eighth annual candy sale Nov. 17 with proceeds to be used to improve facilities and equipment at the group's Camp Oweki. Displaying the two kinds of candy, peanut butter and chocolate, that will be sold are (left to right) Kay Ridley and Connie Vanderland.

Pontiac Press Photos

"Buy a box of candy to help support our camp," will be heard next week as Pontiac Council of Camp Fire Girls launches its eighth annual candy sale, Nov. 17.

Proceeds from the sale of peanut butter candy and chocolates, will be used to improve facilities and equipment at the organization's Camp Oweki.

The youth agency is supported by the United Fund except for its camp which is maintained through registration fees, contributions from Pontiac service clubs and civic-minded individuals and the annual candy sale.

A small amount of the candy sale profit is kept by the group for supplies, trips and group projects.

SKIT GIVEN

At the rally held Saturday at the Community Services Building for Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds, the AK-TA-ME-TU Camp Fire group from Emerson School staged a skit showing girls the art of salesmanship.

Slides of camp activities were shown by Jane E. Strom, field director. Mrs. John Wilson, candy sale chairman, showed individual prizes and group awards that will be given as selling awards.

Mothers handling the sale received their kits and instructions for keeping records from Mrs. Doris Beck, executive director. The sale ends Dec. 6.

On Saturday, a rally was held at the Community Services Building for Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls to explain the candy sale. Looking at the model of Camp Oweki, for which funds are being collected, are (left to right) Shawn Zelinski, Rebecca Durso and Theda Sjoblom.

Pi Omicron Unit Meets in Drayton

Phi Kappa Tau Chapter of Pi Omicron national sorority met at the Drayton Plains home of Mrs. Robert Scharf Thursday.

Mrs. Gary Peters was announced sunshine chairman for the Pontiac area.

Mrs. Robert Hausman presented the first degree to the new pledge, Mrs. Gene Schell.

A Christmas party will be held Dec. 11 at Hotel Waldron. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robert Young.

Now's the time for fashion conscious women to go through your closet and weed out last year's winter hats.

How Much Buildup Do You Give Mate

By RUTH MILLETT

What do you do to make your husband feel important?

Do you make a real effort to greet his home-coming each evening by having a good meal ready to put on the table, by looking your prettiest just for him and by giving him a warm, happy welcome?

Or, instead, do you frequently rush in from a meeting or a bridge session five minutes before your husband gets home from work to frantically throw a hurried meal together?

Do you take your husband's suggestions about the children seriously? Or do you just defend the children no matter what they do or what they demand?

Are you as quick to entertain your husband's friends and relatives as you are your own? Or do you make entertaining his boss or having his mother visit you for a week seem like an awful chore?

Do you build your husband up to others whenever you have a chance? Or do you enjoy complaining about him or giving the impression that you are the practical, common-sense member of the partnership?

Do you stand up for your husband when the children resent his discipline or doing the chores he sets for them? Or do you try to get on the good side of the children by telling them you understand how they feel, giving them the idea that you, too, think their father is being hard or unreasonable?

Do you show your appreciation for all the things your husband has worked to give his family? Or do you keep harping on the things you want but haven't got?

When the two of you go out together for an evening do you try to make it a gay, carefree time? Or do you spend the evening worrying about the children, bringing up problems, and acting like a harried housewife — instead of like a woman who is in love

Whenever we parents feel obliged to try to buy other children's friendliness toward our youngster, the chances are we are pretty uncertain of our own worth.

We may be over-eager to do favors to other people regardless of whether we need their approval or not. And we accept all kinds of obligations to avoid friction and the loss of their good opinion.

Sometimes it is our love for our children that opens our eyes to our own problems.

HELP SELF FIRST

So Mrs. T.'s rebellion against her little boy's submissiveness is fine. But to help him overcome it, her rebellion will have to start rousing her against her own fear of disapproval.

It won't be enough to want him to shove other children away from his hoop. She'll have to know that she wants to shove bullying people away from herself. And begin to do it.

The pain we experience when we see a little son or daughter bullied is never entirely felt for the child. We are feeling it for ourselves, too.

To his fear of risking abandonment by other children, we are merging all our own past fears of abandonment by people we dared not displease.

Floor treatments can break visually long areas into squarer ones. Hotels use this trick in corridors by using patterns or different colors in front of doors, giving the entrance area a square effect.

Ani Chapter Meets at Enfield Home

The agenda was discussed and approved by members of the Ani chapter of the Armenian Relief Society of Pontiac when they met Thursday evening at the Roselawn street home of Mrs. William Enfield, president.

Members sewed cancer pads for the Cancer Society and the Club has planned to have Christmas dinner at Town and Country.

Pennsylvanians Meet

Pennsylvanians of Pontiac met Sunday at the Parkhurst street home of Peter Slabinski. All area residents interested in meeting other former Pennsylvanians are invited to join the club. For further information call Mr. Slabinski or Alfred Salfi.

Crisp fried bacon pieces mixed with cottage cheese and served on rye bread is always a good snack.

Bagley School Plans for Fall Conference

"Let's Keep Up with the Children" will be the theme at Bagley School during American Education Week Nov. 9-15. Parents have been invited to participate in the school's activities this week.

Cheese, Cream Produce Velvety Smooth Cake

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cheese cake has become a popular dessert in this country. The old German recipe called for cottage cheese and a zweiback crust. The modern recipes use cream cheese and graham crackers.

Mrs. Harry Laschen of Huron Woods uses this cream cheese version often when she entertains. Incidentally, it keeps well in the freezer; take it out just long enough to cut off a portion and return. Mrs. Laschen is the secretary of the neighborhood association. She enjoys sewing for her small daughter.

CHEESE CAKE
By Mrs. Harry Laschen

1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs
½ teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Mix together well and press firmly into bottom of 8-inch pan.

3 eggs, well beaten
½ cup sugar
1 pound soft cream cheese
1 teaspoon vanilla

Blend until smooth and pour over cracker crust. Bake 25 minutes in 350-degree oven. Let cool 10 minutes.

½ pint sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix and spread evenly over top of baked cheese cake. Return to 350-degree oven for five minutes. Cool and chill before serving.

Being Different Means Just Being One's Self

"Do you dare to be different?"

That's the question a national magazine asks teenage girls in a special article discussing the pros and cons of conforming vs. breaking away from the flock.

"Being different" can mean as many things as there are faces on the globe, the magazine explains, but one thing it doesn't mean is acting just plain selfish or anti-social.

Conformity, on the other hand — like wearing orange stockings to the game because all the other girls are—can be fun and offer security, the publication points out.

But, sometimes you have to stand up for what you believe, and then — if you want to live with yourself and like it — being different pays off.

Explaining that a girl can "dare to be different" and still be popular, the article suggests that doing something different does not have to mean a break with the crowd or a noisy career as a nonconformist. Some of the things it can mean are:

Taking a new look at your attitudes. If you secretly hate rock and roll, build your record collection with the sweetest ballads and coolest jazz. The gang will still gather at your house—it'll be that relaxing.

Developing your own skills in your own special way. If all the girls decide to get Saturday selling jobs downtown, but you'd rather be creative and bake brownies, be different. Stay home and bake. You may even earn more money this way.

Offering kindness to others even if your classmates don't. Befriend the new girl everyone snubs because her clothes are too provincial or because her shyness makes others uncomfortable. Getting to know her may be one of the most rewarding things you've ever done.

Simply asking "Why?" Think for yourself. Bring a fresh eye to a lot of things that are taken for granted and find out why things are so on your very own.

Is it hard to be different? Usually it's just a matter of being yourself.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Charles MacIntosh, Mrs. C. H. Latta, Mrs. Thomas Ogden, Mrs. H. V. Harcourt, Mrs. Joseph Dugas, Mrs. Homer Moran, Mrs. Howard Redman, Mrs. Vernon Harcourt, Mrs. Dean Jergonson, Mrs. Claude Ruark, Mrs. Alex Penilo, Mrs. Edward Phillips, Mrs. Frederick Laub Jill Graham, Mrs. Robert MacIntosh, Catherine McDonald and Mrs. Graham.

Milady's Shoes 'Sparkle Plenty' for This Year

Evening shoes go exotic this season. Look for lots of beads, sequins, and sparkles. One shoe manufacturer shows a red satin pump with a high vamp, resembling a boot, which is cut out and traced with sequins.

Beaded flowers decorate toes, and large rhinestones sparkle everywhere. Daytime shoes have a dressy look, and some are lined with gold kid.

At-home mules come in printed cut-velvet, outlined in multicolored sequins, gold lame, and paisley cut-velvet, or are studded with brilliants.

Officers Named

New officers of Kappa Chi Alpha Sorority are Mrs. Sandy Patterson, president; Mrs. Sandy Cook, vice president; Mrs. Jean Kistner, secretary; and Mrs. Barbara Lee Mitchell, treasurer.

A Positive Thing

Inner Beauty Gives Outer Glow

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Not long ago one of my readers wrote to me saying, "I read you very carefully, especially when you philosophize, and I find that we have mutual ideas about what ages women most; namely, wrong attitudes, tantrums, uncharitableness or poor dispositions.

"You see, long ago I made up my mind that if I couldn't be beautiful from the outside I would try very hard to be beautiful from within. I found that pettiness of soul and cattiness would not give me the face I wanted to see looking back at me from the mirror. Maybe I 'ain't' beautiful, but when I am being good, most people smile when they see me coming."

I imagine that ALL of them smile because there is nothing quite so magnetic as an outgoing, happy, tolerant receptive spirit. The woman who is keenly aware of others, who has decided that she cannot afford the clutter of petty emotions and give to life or get from it what she wants, never lacks for friends.

Negative emotions such as envy, sensitiveness, irritability, jealousy and intolerance do clutter our outlook so that we miss a great deal of the beauty and fun of everyday living. There is no telling what they do to our health. We suspect that they can upset our hormone balance.

"I found that pettiness of soul and cattiness would not give me the face I wanted to see looking back at me from the mirror," writes a reader.

We know that they have an effect on our complexion, the chemistry of our saliva, our respiration, heart beat and blood pressure, and that stress raises the cholesterol content in our blood. This is evidence enough that we cannot afford them if we wish to have fine health.

The indulgence in such emotions and attitudes so dulls perception that it is like looking at the sun through dark glasses. We all run into irritating situations and people who are unkind and unfair, but these lose much of their sting when exposed to the larger view.

HAVE GLOW

Thinking of inner and outer beauty, it seems such a loss that so many women fail to develop their personalities because they are not born beautiful or pretty, especially in this day when we can do so much to help nature along with permanents, makeup, hair and clothes styling and figure molding!

But even if we had no beauty aids, the woman who has given up the petty emotions has a glow which far surpasses any physical loveliness. Anyway when people love us they do not really know how we look, but only how they see us.

Tomorrow: "When You Get Facial Lines Depends on Many Things."

Mrs. Lewis Honors Baptist Missionary

Mrs. Karl Franklin was honored with a pink and blue shower given by Mrs. William Lewis at her home in Farmington.

Mrs. Franklin is a Wycliffe missionary linguist of the First Baptist Church, now serving with her husband in New Guinea.

Patricia Ellen Steward Weds Barry D. Hampton

Patricia Ellen Steward wore a ballerina-length gown of ruffled net and lace over taffeta for her marriage to Barry Dean Hampton at Zion Church of the Nazarene Friday evening. The Rev. Robert North officiated.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Austin Steward of Wall street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hampton of North Shirley street.

A Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves accented the bodice of the bride's dress, and a ballerina-length veil held her sequined half crown headpiece. She wore pearl earrings, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried carnations centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Hefner of Clarkston was matron of honor. She wore a gown of peacock blue nylon over taffeta with a beaded pearl bodice, and matching headpice. She carried a cascade bouquet of portrait carnations.

Carl Messer was best man.

Following a reception held at the Shimmons road home of the bride's brother, the new Mrs. Hampton changed to a blue pleated jersey dress with black accessories.

Mrs. Steward wore a dusty blue crepe ensemble with black accessories and a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hampton chose a blue dress with black accessories and also wore a pink carnation corsage.

The couple is residing on South Marshall street.

Mrs. Clifford Hostess to Music Club

Mrs. Carl Clifford was hostess to members of Senior Group of Chopin Music Club Saturday afternoon at her North Telegraph road home. Carol Wagelin assisted with refreshments.

Duets were played by Carole Cole and Judy McLane and Joan Whims and Marilyn Wagner.

Mariann Engel reported on the Sherwood Music School Seminar she attended in Chicago last summer.

Other members present were Sarah Jo Faxton, Nancy Parsons and Dianne and Judy Hillman.

Spadea's american designer pattern

Clothes by David Goodstein always have a smooth look, deft detailing that gives them the sure stamp of style in the truest form. This easy-to-make dress is a case in point with its step-in front opening and a shaped collar band that tops sunburst darts.

Set low, this treatment seems to longthen and slenderize the wearer's neck. Top stitching outlines the band where it meets the bodice and also trims the open split cuffs on the sleeves.

The perfect day-in, day-out dress, it works up beautifully in thin wool, smooth or textured, any of the new miracle mixtures, surfaced silks and novelty cottons. From this chart select the one size best for you.

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½

Size 12 requires 4½ yards of 39 inch material for dress with ¾ length sleeves.

Kitty Caught in Trap Poses Tough Quiz

ATLANTA (AP) — A two-year-old cat named Tennie has been trapped for eight days now in a deep, narrow crevice between two downtown Atlanta buildings.

Authorities fear she may never be rescued.

Tennie is lodged in a hole 30-feet deep between two concrte walls less than four inches wide.

Her master, Clarence Coursey, 67, a retired restaurant operator, drops food down the hole regularly.

Nobody knows how the cat happened to fall into the hole. Coursey lives in a small hotel room nearby.

Firemen, policemen and members of the Humane Society all have made unsuccessful rescue attempts.

America's Wagon Specialists!

Here's the fresh new direction in wagon design: hardtop styling. And how your neighbors will love it!

For '59 all six Ford wagons are bigger . . . over 7 inches longer inside with over 13 cu. ft. more cargo space riding on a 2-inch longer wheelbase. They're far easier to open and load, too, than other wagons in Ford's class. They have a still-larger glass area. And thanks to Ford's unique thin-pillar design, you get hardtop styling for that wide-open, modern look! What's more, Ford is the only manufacturer of the most popular three who knows how to provide comfort—and still keep all seats facing forward!

As for economy, both of Ford's standard engines for '59—Six or Thunderbird V-8—are designed to thrive on regular gasoline, save you up to 5¢ a gallon. New aluminized mufflers will normally last twice as long as conventional types. Full-flow oil filtration means an oil change only every 4000 miles. New Diamond Lustre Finish is so durable you won't have to wax it—ever. New Tyrex cord tires are cooler running and easier riding. And all are standard on all Ford wagons!

With all their economy . . . all their hardtop styling . . . you'll still find these 59 Fords a masterpiece of underpricing! Why not come see them . . . today?

GOP Chairmen Confident

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican state chairmen say unanimously their party will revive from the shattering impact of last week's election losses and make a strong comeback in 1960.

But their ideas vary widely on how to rebuild the GOP ranks decimated by severe setbacks in Senate and House contests.

An Associated Press canvass of 38 GOP state chairmen disclosed that some of them, mostly in the South, want their party to turn back to the conservative policies of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Others want to revitalize the Republican organization, and its candidates, to modernize the party's appeal to the average voter.

Still others are confident that the Democrats, with their oversize congressional margins, will trip over their own feet and more or less let the Republicans back in by default.

Vice President Nixon, who is expected to command efforts to refurnish the party, was picked by 20 chairmen in varying degrees of firmness as the leading candidate now for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination. The chairmen will have a large voice in the selection of delegates to the national convention two years away.

The canvass showed Nixon with a strong backlog of strength in the South and Middle West.

However, 10 chairmen representing all sections of the country said they regard as almost a toss-up what they see as a prospective contest for the nomination between Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller, elected governor of New York last Tuesday. Two chairmen in the East viewed Rockefeller as a front runner. Several were undecided on any candidate.

Suggestions for modernizing the party's setup came from two chairmen in states where the Republicans were able to turn the Democratic tide and elect GOP governors.

Rhode Island Chairman William T. Broomhead said the Republicans have got to "strengthen everyday relations with people." In his state Christopher Del Sesto ousted Democratic Gov. Dennis J. Roberts as an aftermath of a 1956 ballot count controversy.

"I have found this to be true," Broomhead said, "that the Republican party talks about grass roots but on the whole doesn't even know what grass looks like."

Knowland Not Done in Politics—Brown

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's Gov.-elect Edmund G. (Pat) Brown says Sen. William F. Knowland is not through with politics.

After Brown defeated Knowland by more than a million votes in the governorship race last week, Knowland, retiring Senate Republican leader, said he was leaving public life for the family newspaper, the Oakland, Calif., Tribune.

But Brown, appearing Sunday on a television program CBS' "Face the Nation," described Knowland as: "an important publisher with a great national reputation and many friends.

"He represents a strong majority of the Republican party, and you haven't seen the last of him by any means."

Hanover once was temporarily New Hampshire's capital. In 1795 the Legislature met here and Governor John T. Gilman was inaugurated in the Dartmouth College chapel.

Farm Program Changes Asked

National Grange Head Seeks End to Federal Production Subsidies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The head of the National Grange called today for changes in federal farm programs that would free taxpayers from government subsidies on agricultural production.

Herschel Newsom, master of the nation's oldest farm organization, said farm income must come from the users of farm products and not from taxpayers.

In an address prepared for the Grange's 92nd annual convention, Newsome added: "We believe that Americans have both a moral and economic obligation to pay an American price for products which they use or consume from American farms. We do not believe that those same Americans, as taxpayers, have an obligation to subsidize total agricultural production and then pay additional subsidy on that portion not consumed through private trade channels to dispose of it in foreign markets or otherwise."

The farm leader told Grange delegates present programs have not given farmers a fair income in relation to their contributions to the public welfare.

The convention, which will close Nov. 18, is the first of a major farm group to be held since the Republicans suffered heavy losses in farming as well as other parts of the country at the recent congressional elections.

Doctor Has 1,625 Patients but None of Them Talk Back

HAVE A SHOT OF THIS — Dr. William K. Appelhoff, veterinarian at the Detroit Zoo, gives a shot of vitamin B 12 to a giant tortoise from the Galapagos Islands.

Photos by Tom Gerls

By MAX E. SIMON

This is the story of a doctor with 1,625 patients. None have ever paid him so much as a single cent for his medical services.

It's about a doctor who, despite his large practice, doesn't worry about one of his patients calling him out on a case in the middle of the night. It never happens.

In fact, he never makes house calls.

Like any other practicing physician, he has some patients who need quite a bit of attention and others who are healthy most of the time.

Take lions, for example. They lick their own wounds and nurse themselves. No trouble at all.

Of course, not many doctors have lions under their care, but for Dr. William K. Appelhoff there's nothing unusual about it. Dr. Appelhoff has been veterinarian at the Detroit Zoo since 1946.

His job is a staggering one. It's to keep the zoo population in tip-top shape.

"Animals have to be healthy to reproduce successfully and that's always difficult in captivity," he points out.

All animals arriving at the zoo are quarantined for 10 days, except the larger ones because of a space shortage.

They are given the most thorough of examinations during this period, but sometimes still bring in disease.

Dr. Appelhoff recalled that in 1954 a bison which appeared healthy during the quarantine period was responsible for a whole herd coming down with pink eye. Ten of them had to be killed when they lost their sight and began to run into trees.

Animals brought in from abroad are quarantined on the coast from 30 to 60 days, and so are usually safe when they arrive in Detroit, Dr. Appelhoff said.

One of the big needs of the zoo right now, according to Dr. Appelhoff, is an animal nutritionist, as not too much is known about the proper foods for various animals. It's difficult to become an authority in the field because there are so many species of animals, each with its own problems, he said.

The zoo is presently experimenting with foods in an attempt to add sheen to animals' coats and flesh on their bodies, in cooperation with animal food companies.

Dr. Appelhoff said that more skylights are being added in the animals' living quarters to let in more light and air.

He doesn't deliver many of the zoo offspring, and often he has trouble learning of a birth. Animals form a screen around the young arrival.

Dr. Appelhoff says that there is little trouble from animals swallowing foreign objects. "Animals seem to have good judgment about that, and about how big an object they can swallow," he said.

He's had some trying experiences in his work. Once he removed porcupine quills from a golden eagle.

Admitting that was a task, Dr. Appelhoff said, "It's even harder to work on a porcupine."

Several years ago he pulled a seven-inch tooth from a tiger—an unusual job for which he finally used horse molar extractors.

He has very little dental work because careful diets for the animals prevent cavities.

Cuts are a frequent problem for Dr. Appelhoff, as many animals such as wolverines fight fiercely.

Fractures are frequent in birds' bones. A simple one heals in two weeks after splits are put on, Dr. Appelhoff said.

Among his routine tasks are deodorizing skunks, sawing off elephant tusks to lessen the danger of fighting, and cutting the toenails of the large cats to eliminate the danger of their clawing each other.

An animal psychologist at the zoo to help them with their personal problems—such as the eternal "triangle" which keeps popping up—is considered a necessity by Dr. Appelhoff.

Animals without worries are healthier, he believes.

There's not too much surgery. When there is an operation, a roll-over crate is used to hold down animals. The crate presses tightly against the sides of the patient.

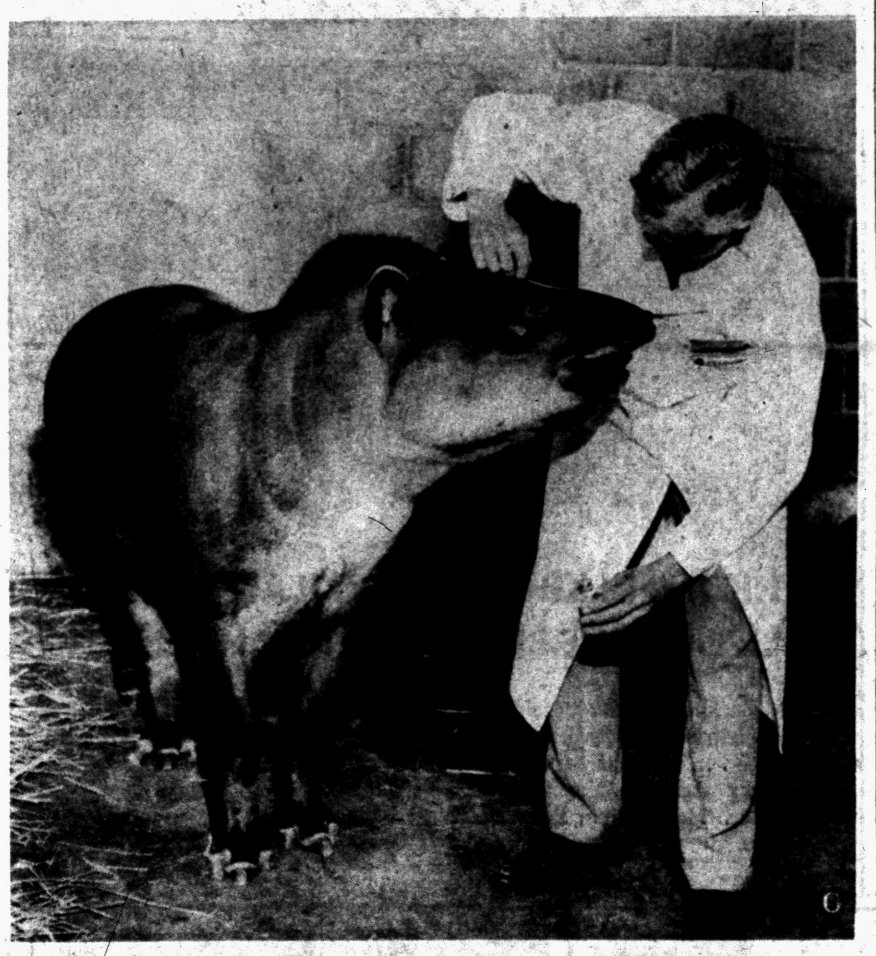

Once the animal is turned over on its back, it usually stops struggling.

Maybe his patients won't call him in the wee hours of the morning, but their keepers will. The doctor has often tumbled out of bed to tend to an ailing zoo resident.

But he still has one consolation: All 1,625 of his patients live within five minutes from him. His home is right across from the zoo.

PUTS UP STRUGGLE — It's not that Sammy, one of the zoo's chimps, dislikes the vet, but he does object to having his teeth yanked out. The chimp is held down by trainers George Theuer and Ernie Soderberg while Dr. Appelhoff works on his patient.

IT STINGS A BIT — Dr. Appelhoff swabs the nose of a tapir after the animal bumped it against a wall in the zoo hospital. After medication was applied to the cut, the tapir appreciatively nuzzled the doctor.

Fabulous Hope Diamond Due in Washington Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States today acquires the fabulous Hope diamond for permanent display in a museum known as the nation's attic.

The deep blue stone—linked perhaps by chance with tragedy for more than three centuries—was to be turned over to the Smithsonian Institution by New York jeweler Harry Winston.

Although the 44½-carat gem is valued at close to one million dollars, Winston is giving it to the federal government for nothing. He hopes it will further the establishment of a great national jewel collection similar to Britain's crown jewels.

The Hope diamond actually was put into Uncle Sam's hands Saturday when it was mailed from New York to its destination in the Smithsonian's natural history building on the Washington Mall.

The Postage on the diamond was more than $150 since it was insured for a million dollars for the registered-mail trip. Post office officials declined to give any information about details of the delivery.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield, asked last night by United Press International if the jewel had arrived safely, said he didn't know.

"I could determine that but, because of the nature of the shipment, I honestly would rather not right now," he said.

He added he would be present personally at the jewel's presentation to the Smithsonian later today and "we'll have a story for you."

Winston says he has been virtually trouble-free since he acquired the Hope diamond in 1949 from the estate of Evalyn Walsh McLean, the late Washington socialite who owned the diamond for 40 years. He scoffed at the gem's alleged curse.

Yet Mrs. McLean's life was one misfortune on top of another after her husband bought the stone in 1911 for $180,000.

Two McLean children died violent deaths and McLean himself died in a mental institution.

Other owners of the Hope diamond who contributed to its tragic legend:

—French adventurer Jean Tavernier, who smuggled it out of India in 1642 and was killed by a pack of wild dogs.

—King Louis XVI and Marie Antoinette, beheaded in the French Revolution.

—Turkish Sultan Abdul Hamid, who lost his throne and control of the diamond without getting a cent for it.

The Smithsonian plans to exhibit the diamond behind a bullet-proof glass panel and lock it up behind a steel door under 24-hour guard when the museum is closed.

Millions of tourists were expected to view the diamond which once decorated a Hindu idol. It was named for a London banker, Henry Thomas Hope, who bought it early in the 19th Century.

Two Michigan Dentists Head National Groups

DALLAS, (AP) — Two Michigan dentists have been named presidents-elect of major professional groups in preliminaries to the American Dental Assn. convention here.

They are Dr. William E. Brown of Ann Arbor, who was chosen by the American Society of Dentistry for Children; and Dr. C. V. Tossy of Lansing, selected by the American Assn. of Public Health Dentists.

'Nice of You to Drop In for Tea'

HORNCHURCH, England (UPI) — Mrs. Mabel Vaughan was having tea under the apple tree in her garden when all the trouble started.

Ronald Black, 29, and a friend Mary Holmes, 27, were flying about the countryside in an American-built, single-engined Aeronca monoplane when the engine began sputtering.

Black zigged and zagged over the local golf course, sending golfers running for cover. Watchers sucked in their breath as the plane hit a 60-foot elm tree, spun twice and plopped right into Mrs. Vaughan's apple tree.

Black and Miss Holmes clambered out, uninjured except for a slight cut on Black's forehead.

Mrs. Vaughan sprang to her feet and quickly sized up the situation.

"Would you like a cup of tea?" she asked.

"Yes, please," they said.

They had their tea, left the plane in the garden and went home by cab.

LEAVE GO, DOC — Gabby, a woolly monkey, prefers the quiet of her cage to the attentions of Dr. Appelhoff. Although Gabby was quiet when this picture was snapped, she was wiggling and squirming to get free of the vet.

MSU's Old Watches Recovered by Police

DETROIT (AP) — Valuable antique watches missing from the Michigan State University Museum at East Lansing since last July were recovered today by State Police.

Officers said the watches—about 150 of them — were found in two packages in a garage behind the home of Ray O. Williams of Detroit.

The discovery followed the seizure of a former MSU student in Lansing.

State Police declined to identify the former MSU student, but said he admitted taking the watches.

Williams was held on a charge of possession of stolen property.

Estimates of the value of the watches range from $20,000 to $100,000. They are part of MSU's Chamberlain Collection.

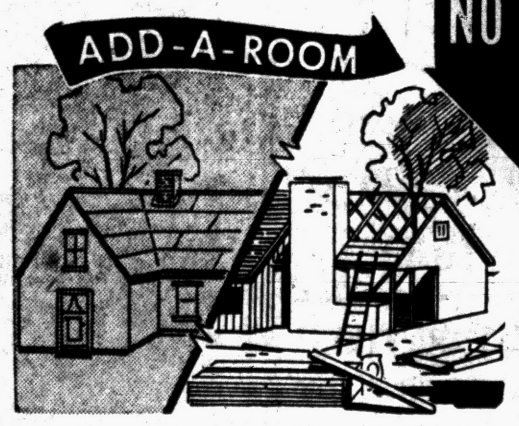

CLIPPED WINGS — Dr. Appelhoff inspects a West African crown crane, whose wings are periodically shortened so that the bird cannot escape. The vet goes through this procedure with all birds living at the zoo.

Retired Merchant Finds Joy in Painting

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—It takes a man of young heart to wear a burr haircut at the age of 63 and still look fastidiously congruous.

It takes a man of jubilant psyche to paint canvasses-ful of gay flowers, though he knows the world well and has observed that it doesn't always smell of posies.

This, then, is the remarkable Mr. David Nemerov, lately retired president and chairman of the board of one of New York's largest store operations, Russeks. Mr. Nemerov, jubilant and crew-cut, arrived in New York this week to present a one-man show of 50 primitive paintings, opening tomorrow at Gallery 28.

"You are talking," he informed his friends, "to the happiest, the richest man in the world.

"I would not hesitate to say that painting — good or bad — is the greatest therapy for a harrassed businessman. And for a retired businessman . . . it takes the place of a doctor. It leaves no room in your mind for your ills."

Nemerov was a famous man before he stepped down, from chairman of the board, on Dec. 1, 1957. He was known not only as a clever businessman, but as a civic and philanthropic leader in New York City.

It would have been quite a wrench if he had retired, abruptly, into anonymity — even the Palm Beach, have-yacht-can-travel variety of anonymity. So instead, he took up painting ("my hobby on rainy Sundays and for six years before") and found it the greatest imaginable boost to the ego.

The thrill of painting is that nobody has to like it except the painter, if he has inner confidence. As Nemerov puts it, "When you create, I don't care what—a book that will never be published, a song that will never be performed, a painting that will never be sold—you are living at the highest peak. It is a satisfaction far deeper than making money."

Of course, it helps if the paintings are admired. In this case, in less than 12 months of using his palette knife and canvass, the one-time big businessman has finished 92 studies of flowers. He has sold 42, at prices from $350 up. Modestly, he considers this as much a matter of mood as of style.

"In other words, I think people want more gaiety in their lives. They need to feel happy, just as I do. I paint everything with flowers in it. And I don't do abstracts; I consider them phony. And I don't like realism; a photograph can do better."

Nemerov's family includes a son, Howard, who is a college professor in literature and poet and novelist; and two daughters, one a sculptress, the other a successful fashion photographer. As a businessman, he always was larger of bank account, but smaller of ego.

Now, he arises daily at 6 a.m., often works late into the night ("though I charge myself overtime after 12"), and probably is busier — certainly more fulfilled — than ever before.

"I'm out of a life I loved every minute of," he says, "and into a life where every second is a joy."

She's Mother of 18 at Age 22

Takes Charge of 14 Brothers, Sisters After Pledge to Dying Mom

CHICAGO (AP)—A young mother of four babies took over the role of a second mother today for 14 of her brothers and sisters—in fulfillment of a pledge to her dying mother.

Mrs. Albert Williams, 42, died Saturday after failing to recover from the delivery of twin daughters, her 22nd and 23rd children, on Oct. 19.

Her eldest daughter, Mrs. Marie Smith, 22, took them home to their brothers and sisters and her own four babies. She and her husband and her father live in a six-room basement apartment on the near North Side.

"These children are mine now and I'm keeping them," said Mrs. Smith. "I'll fight anyone who comes to the door to take them. Mom begged me on her death bed with tears in her eyes to keep them together.

"She was the most wonderful mother in the world. She loved children. That's why she had so many."

Mrs. Williams and her husband, Alonzo, 58, came to Chicago five years ago from Atlanta. Williams is a plasterer but for two years he has been unable to work because of an intestinal disorder.

Williams said he receives $414 a month from Cook County relief funds to help support the youngsters. Several of the Williams children are married and others live away from home.

Mrs. Smith's husband is a filling station attendant who earns $60 a week.

"It'll be tough," he said, "but we'll manage."

The first animal in history to walk on two legs was the dinosaur.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Against Browns, Lions Play Like Champs

Detroit Attack Sound in 30-10 Triumph Sunday

Paul Brown Is Unable to Crack 'Jinx' of Motor City 11

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Coach Paul Brown said the 30-10 defeat his Cleveland Browns suffered at the hands of the Detroit Lions yesterday was "as sound a defeat as we have taken in some time."

Cleveland now is 0-4 in regular season and 1-3 in championship game competition against Detroit. The Browns hold an edge in their series with every NFL club except Detroit, but Brown won't admit it's a jinx.

"I don't think there is any kind of jinx connected with our losses to the Lions," he said. "Detroit has a fine veteran quarterback (Tobin Rote) and he made the difference.

"Our ball club has been dead the past two weeks. The way we played both times (against the New York Giants and Lions), we didn't deserve anything better."

George Wilson, Detroit's coach, doesn't agree with Brown about the jinx.

"As a result of the numerous times we have beaten the Browns, I think the Lions have the psychological advantage," he said. "The Lions think they can beat Cleveland."

The Lions halted Jim Brown and the entire Cleveland offense yesterday. Brown, who never gained less than 115 yards in six previous games, got only 83 yards.

It was the Lions' game all the way.

Jim Martin kicked 43, 37 and 48-yard field goals, Tobin Rote threw scoring passes to Jim Gibbons, Hopalong Cassady and Gene Gedman, Gibbons and Jim Doran made circus catches and the defense played like the unit that was the scourge of pro football last year.

That it was only the second victory for Detroit since they beat the New York Giants two-and-a-half months ago was forgotten in the triumph. For the first time this year, the Lions looked like the world champions. The Browns got in Lion territory only three times.

A brilliant goal-line stand at the end of the first period with the Lions leading 3-0 turned the tide although the Browns tied the score.

Cleveland had a first down on its own 14, lost eight on the next play when Brown was swarmed under, and then drove to a first down on the Lion five.

Leroy Bolden plunged to the three and Brown hammered to the two but the defense stiffened with Jim David slicing through to nab Bolden for a two-yard loss back to the four and Lou Groza was forced to kick an 11-yard field goal.

The Browns didn't threaten again until the Lions had wound up their scoring and 1:07 was left to play when Milt Plum passed to Ray Renfro for Cleveland's lone touchdown.

After Groza kicked his 11-yarder on the first play of the second period, the Browns touched the ball only 15 times the rest of the quarter as the Lions piled up 17 more points.

Martin booted a three-pointer from the 37 early in the period and then Detroit caught the Browns napping with an onside kickoff by Cassady that rookie Dave Whitsell covered on the Brown 46: It took seven plays with Rote hitting Cassady for a key 20-yard gain and then firing to Gibbons in the corner of the end zone for the final four yards.

Yale Lary intercepted a Jim Ninowski pass on the Lion 18 and ran it back 30 yards to set up the next touchdown that consumed three plays.

John Henry Johnson, who turned in his best effort of the year both running and blocking for Rote, hit the line for no gain but Rote then clicked on an 18-yard pitch to Doran and a 34-yard TD strike to Cassady.

Things were even worse for the Browns, who had been running wild in the Eastern Division, in the third period. The Browns had the ball for just eight plays. A penalty halted one Lion drive but a 63-yard march culminated in Rote's 13-yard flip to Gedman made it 27-3 and Martin added his final field goal early in the last quarter.

CHUGGING LION — Gene Gedman of the Detroit Lions grabs a pass from quarterback Tobin Rote and goes chugging toward the sidelines. Defensive halfback Ken Konz (22) moves in for the tackle. Two plays later in the second period Rote fired to Hopalong Cassady for a TD. The Lions won over the Cleveland Browns, 30-10, in the Ohio city yesterday.

Ex-Lion Passes for 4 TD's; Giants Nip Colts

New Battery--Layne to Tracy

From Our Wire Services

New battery mates for the Pittsburgh Steelers are really old teammates. The pitcher is Bobby Layne and the catcher is Tom Tracy, who started the training season together with the Detroit Lions and are now giving their old coach Buddy Parker a lift at Pittsburgh.

Layne threw three touchdown passes to Tracy as the Steelers defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 31-24.

Meanwhile the New York Giants are living up to their name "Giants" by knocking the unbeaten into the beaten ranks.

For two straight weeks the Giants have knocked off the league leaders, last week the Browns and yesterday they dumped the Baltimore Colts 24-21 before 71,163 at Yankee Stadium. This was the largest crowd ever to see a pro football game in New York, and the Giants now are tied with the Browns in the Eastern Division with 5-2 records.

Pat Summerall's 28-yard field goal with 2:40 to go provided New York's victory margin after Sam Huff of the Giants stole one of George Shaw's passes.

The Bears took advantage of New York's triumph by whipping the Green Bay Packers, 24-10.

The Rams crushed the San Francisco Forty-Niners, 56-7, before 95,082 at Los Angeles and Eddie Lebaron's five touchdown passes paced the Redskins to a 45-31 victory over the Chicago Cardinals at Washington.

Sunday's action produced an N.F.L. six-game attendance high of 342,734, bettering the record of 295,000 set last week.

And the turnstiles probably won't slow down as the league moves toward a record attendance total for the seventh straight year. The Steelers and Redskins (both 3-4) are just two games behind the Giants and Browns and the Rams (4-3), who get two cracks at the Colts, are just two games behind Baltimore.

Shaw, playing quarterback in place of the injured John Unitas, threw touchdown passes to Lenny Moore and Ray Berry to give the Colts a 14-7 halftime lead.

But Charley Conerly, 38-year-old quarterback hero of New York's second half rally at Cleveland, made it 14-all with a 25-yard pass to Kyle Rote. Conerly then directed a 57-yard march and ran interference as Frank Gifford swept 13 yards around end to give the Giants a 21-14 third period lead. Shaw completed a four-yard scoring pass to Moore early in the final period and had the Colts on the New York 23 when Huff made his key interception.

Rick Casares ran 64 yards for a touchdown to lead the Bears to victory before 48,424 at Chicago. He gained 113 yards by rushing while the Green Bay ball carriers totaled only 52.

Billy Wade threw two touchdown passes to Del Shofner, one apiece to Jim Phillips and Leon Clarke and ran for another as the Rams recorded their biggest victory over the Forty-Niners.

Layne, the lad the Giants face at Pitt stadium next Sunday, threw three scoring passes to Tracy and one to Ray Mathews. Lebaron tossed three scoring passes to Joe Walton and two to Jim Podoley.

NEW YORK (AP)—Statistics of Sunday's Baltimore-New York game:

	COLTS	GIANTS
First downs	19	18
Rushing yardage	166	167
Passing yardage	238	168
Passes	12-30	13-20
Passes intercepted by	1	1
Punts	2-37	4-43
Fumbles lost	0	1
Yards penalized	10	35½

BATTERY MATES — Two former Lions were the battery mates for the Pittsburgh Steelers yesterday. Quarterback Bobby Layne (above) did the pitching and Tom Tracy did the catching. They combined for three touchdown passes as the Steelers won.

Red Wings Lose Two at Olympia Over Weekend

Maple Leafs Complete Clean Sweep With 2-0 Shutout Win Sunday

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT—Who said home ice is friendly?

The Detroit Red Wings didn't find it that way over the weekend in the familiar confines of Olympia Stadium.

Home atmosphere meant nothing to the Detroiters as coach Sid Abel watched his Redshirts drop two National Hockey League games preparatory to leaving for a three-game road jaunt.

The Wings dropped a tough-luck 4-3 decision to the Chicago Black Hawks on Saturday in a nationally televised matinee attraction, then the Toronto Maple Leafs handed them a 2-0 whitewashing here last night.

There were 10,123 spectators on hand to see the lifeless Wings take a blanking from Toronto goalie Ed Chadwick with a pair of 1st-period goals by Dick Duff providing the winning cushion.

The victory was only the 6th for Toronto in six seasons at Detroit and the 1st time the Wings have been shutout on Olympia ice since early last season—Oct. 27 to be exact—when Chicago turned the trick, 3-0.

A tie in seven games was the best that the Maple Leafs could do here last season, but Duff and Chadwick joined forces Sunday to end the drought.

It was the 3rd shutout of the season against the Wings, who were held scoreless only eight times during the entire 1957-58 campaign. Yesterday's setback evened their record at 6-6 and pushed them into 5th place in the NHL standings.

The Wings never did get well organized last night and only one line—John Wilson, Charlie Burns and Nick Mickoski—drew any applause from the crowd.

Assorted hoots, jeers and boos were directed at the rest of the Red Wings and Gordie Howe played his worst game of the year in Detroit.

Duff's goals were less than three minutes apart to end a scoring slump for the Toronto left winger. Duff had tallied only once before this year and that was also against the Wings in a 3-0 win at Toronto on Oct. 25.

Red Wing goalie Terry Sawchuk had little or no chance to stop either shot.

The 1st goal came at 4:36 as Duff took Gary Aldcorn's pass from behind the Detroit cage and beat Sawchuk with a 15-footer from point blank range. Duff clicked again at 7:13 when he intercepted Warren Godfrey's cross-rink pass and angled a hard 20-footer into the net.

Now the Red Wings must evacuate their own arena for most of this month. The ice follies invade Olympia and the Wings have to play seven of their next eight games on the road.

AP Wirephoto

SQUEEZE PLAY — Charlie Burns (21) of the Red Wings forces Maple Leaf winger Frank Mahovlich (27) into the net while trying to pass out to front of net. Leaf goalie Ed Chadwick pushes the disc away. Toronto won, 2-0, at Olympia.

Hawkeyes Win Big Ten Title

Iowa Officials Begin Rose Bowl Preparation

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — University of Iowa officials will begin mapping plans this week for the Big Ten champion Hawks' New Year's Day trip to the Rose Bowl.

Transportation and tickets to the Bowl will be major items to be considered. Four special trains carried students, university personnel and fans to Iowa's 1957 bowl game.

The "I" club scholarship Rose Bowl Special will leave the night of Dec. 25 on an 11-day train junket, according to Al Coupee, president of the group.

Reflecting the anticipated trip to the West Coast, UI President Virgil Hancher announced that Christmas vacation at UI will be extended one day to Jan. 6 "for those who may have some traveling to do."

"I'm as ready as you to smell those roses," Hancher told the fans and team Saturday night on their return from Minneapolis, where the Hawks clinched the Big Ten title with a 28-6 victory over Minnesota.

Meanwhile, Coach Forest Evashevski is giving top priority to current business: The job of getting ready for Ohio State next Saturday, then Notre Dame.

Evy said he had no preference of Pacific Coast Conference teams to oppose in the Bowl.

"We couldn't start scouting teams yet because, with two games left, we need all the coaching help we can get," he said.

"If the West Coast picture clears up after the Ohio State game," Evy added, "we might possibly be able to send out men to look at two games."

Campbell Snaps World Record

CONISTON, England (UPI) — Donald Campbell of Britain, overcoming the handicap of a stalled engine, today steered his jet-powered Bluebird to a world water speed record of 248.62 miles per hour on Lake Coniston.

Campbell bettered his old mark of 239.07 m.p.h., set Nov. 7, 1957.

His new record was announced by the official timekeepers after Campbell spent a nerve-wracking period waiting for the verdict, based on the compilation of the average of two runs.

Campbell made three runs to raise the record to nearly 250 m.p.h. As the mist lifted over the vast lake, he sent his speedboat roaring off on the outward journey of the record attempt but could reach only 188 m.p.h.

"The water still is not right, I am afraid," Campbell said.

Then he made a return run and his speed of 243 m.p.h. raised his hopes to setting a new record. He came in for a hurried refueling to make another dash within the required hour after finishing his second run.

Purdue Coach Angry

No Handshake From Hayes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Ohio State coach Woody Hayes, already on unfriendly terms with at least two Big Ten coaches, apparently has added another foe in Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue.

The Boilermaker coach did a slow burn when Hayes failed to shake hands with him Saturday after Purdue and Ohio State battled to a 14-14 tie here.

"This is the first time in my 12 years in the Big Ten where a coach was too damned big or busy to come around and shake hands," he told newsmen. "It seems to me coaches should be civil. We represent two fine institutions and should act like gentlemen."

It's no secret that Illinois coach Ray Eliot and Iowa coach Forest Evashevski aren't on too friendly terms with Hayes.

The controversial Ohio coach said he didn't shake hands with Mollenkopf after the game because he "couldn't find him." But Mollenkopf was far from pacified.

"I don't owe the guy any favors and I hope Iowa beats the hell out of them next week . . . and Michigan too for that matter."

Mollenkopf's furor about the after-game incident probably had its inception in a pre-game incident between the two coaches. The Purdue coach said he chased Hayes all over the field prior to the game to find out which end to use in warm-ups.

"He ran around like a dog chasing sheep. I finally caught up with him," Mollenkopf said, "and with a 50-mile wind blowing all he said was 'nice day.'"

Shue Scores 45 Points

Pistons Win, 136-133

DETROIT (UPI) — "Two for Shue," intoned the Olympia public address announcer yesterday afternoon. By the time the Detroit Pistons subdued the Boston Celtics 136-133, he'd given the rhythmic "two for Shue" 14 times. And the Pistons guard added 17 free throws for 45 points.

It was the second highest output by a guard in the history of the National Basketball Association and the best individual mark of the season. Fittingly enough, it was on national television.

Carl Braun of the New York Knickerbockers holds the NBA record for a guard with 47 points.

The Pistons smashed all sorts of records but barely made it past the Celtics for the first time on their own court. Detroit, hitting an amazing 54 per cent of its first half shots, held a 79-57 intermission lead. The 79 points is a new NBA standard. The Pistons also hold the second half record of 83 points. The two-team total of 269 points also is a record.

The total of 136 points is a team record for the Pistons, four better than in a game against Minneapolis last year.

Detroit outscored Boston 19-1 during one point in the first quarter but the Celts came racing back in the third period to cut the margin to five points. Shue stopped that with eight straight points to send the Detroiters into a 109-92 lead.

Bill Russell and Bill Sharman started the Celts again as Boston scored 13 straight points and cut the lead to five points with six minutes left but Earl Lloyd and George Yardley put the Pistons out of danger.

Yardley had 28 points and Phil Jordon 18 for Detroit while Russell led the Celts with 32, Tommy Heinsohn had 23 and Sharman 22.

Daugherty Joins Company of 'Hung' Coaches

Beat Kazoo, 20-13

There's Joy in Olivet: A Win After 29 Losses

OLIVET (AP) — Now that it has happened, coach Henry Paul admits he was beginning to wonder if his Olivet College football team ever would win another game.

His Comets beat Kalamazoo College 20-13 Saturday night when fullback Lee Soncrant ran 62 yards for a tie-breaking touchdown in the last four minutes.

The victory snapped a nightmarish losing streak that dates back to a 19-6 decision over Grand Rapids Junior College on Oct. 8, 1955, the season before Paul took charge.

"I always felt it was just a matter of time until we would win one," Paul said. "But, jeepers, though, I was beginning to wonder how much time it was going to take."

Paul said the Comets had been pointing for Kalamazoo, which hasn't won a game this season. In fact, they spent so much time thinking about Kalamazoo that they took a 61-0 beating at the hands of Hope College the week before.

"I wasn't too hard on them after that Hope game," Paul said. "I knew they were thinking about Kalamazoo."

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. says the record for consecutive losses is 41 held by St. Paul Poly of Lawrenceville, Va. It set the mark between the end of the 1940 season and the middle of the 1953 campaign.

The last time Olivet beat a senior college was 40 games ago early in the 1953 season.

Soncrant's game-winning touchdown was his second. He scored earlier on a three-yard run. Jim Dillon plunged two yards for the other Olivet touchdown.

This small town in south central Michigan erupted into a wild celebration one minute before the game ended. That was when Olivet intercepted a Kalamazoo pass and wiped out the last chance of losing.

After the game the entire Olivet football team went to the campus chapel and took turns ringing the bell. Even the dean of the college joined the bell-ringing celebration.

After that the students and townspeople moved to the downtown section where horns blared and firecrackers popped and an impromptu snakedance wriggled down the main streets.

UP FOR GRABS — Michigan halfback Reid Bushong (right) outfought halfback Marshall Starks (22) of Illinois for the ball on a Michigan pass play Saturday, but the 28-yard gain didn't help the Wolverines. They lost, 21-8 to the Illini.

'Frustrating,' Says Duffy in Loss to Indiana

EAST LANSING (AP)—"Frustrating" is the description given by Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty of the 6-0 beating by Indiana.

"That game topped them all as far as frustration was concerned," said Daugherty.

"We dominated the game from beginning to end," Daugherty complained. "We should have beaten Indiana, but it was just one of those days that little things happened when they shouldn't happen."

Michigan State had all the edge in the statistics. The Spartans scored 17 first downs to eight for the Hoosiers, were ahead on rushing 231 yards to 131 and even had a slight edge in passing yardage.

"But we just couldn't capitalize on our scoring opportunities," Daugherty said.

Spartan Stadium Site of Duffy's Effigy Hanging

MSU Mentor Is Fourth Big 10 Coach 'Strung' Up This Year

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Duffy Daugherty has joined select company. At 12:20 this morning, under a scoreboard in Spartan Stadium, the Michigan State football coach became the fourth Big Ten mentor to be hung in effigy this fall.

Daugherty's predecessors were Bennie Oosterbaan of Michigan, Murray Warmath of Minnesota and Woody Hayes of Ohio State.

A placard hung around the neck of the dummy read: "Good-by Duffy, bring back Biggie."

The reference was to Spartan athletic director Biggie Munn who moved up to the administrative post prior to the 1954 season. Since then, Daugherty's clubs have won 29, lost 14 and tied one and won one Rose Bowl crown.

But the Irish elf of the Red Cedar River has fallen on hard times this year with the Spartans skidding to the Big Ten cellar at breakneck speed. State is in ninth place. The Spartans tied Michigan in their conference opener and then lost the last four Big Ten games including shutouts at the hands of Illinois and Indiana.

MSU, ranked high in the preseason polls, has beaten only Pittsburgh and California this year. Ironically, both the Panthers and Golden Bears are prime contenders for bowl berths.

State lost to Indiana, 6-0 Saturday, a team it had scored 107 points against the past two years. MSU has managed to score only 25 points in five conference games this season and unless it beats Minnesota Saturday, will have its worst record since entering the conference.

State's last poor season was 1954, Daugherty's first, when MSU won only three of nine games and one conference game.

But in 1954, the Spartans were able to slip past the Hoosiers, 21-14. After winning by 54-0 and 53-6 scores in 1956 and 1957, the Spartans couldn't even get three points Saturday and when they did try, it turned into a 92-yard touchdown for the Hoosiers.

End Earl Faison, a 6-foot, 5-inch sophomore, gathered in Dan Folis' blocked field goal attempt and lumbered all the way for the only score of the game.

Pror to the season in commenting on the new conversion rule, Daugherty punned that "Confucius says he who scores many touchdowns doesn't worry about extra points." But the Spartans have scored only four touchdowns in the Big Ten this year—and only one extra point.

Headed for Worst Big Ten Year Since 1936

'M' Needs Miracle Finish

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Michigan is headed for its worst Big Ten season since 1936 and its first second division finish since that date unless the Wolverines can perform a major miracle and beat Indiana and Ohio State in their final two games.

The Wolverines are 1-3-1 after losing 21-8 to Illinois. The 1936 club was winless in five conference starts and finished last.

A play the Wolverines practiced against all last week worked to perfection against them Saturday.

"They didn't exactly catch us by surprise," Wolverine coach Bennie Oosterbaan said of Illinois' three scoring strikes to end Rich Kreitling that gave the Illini a 21-8 victory.

"The men were assigned but they just weren't with them. Maybe they got lost watching the play develop in the backfield instead of meeting Kreitling at the line," Oosterbaan said.

The 6-foot, 2-inch end scored on passes of 83, 14 and 60 yards. The final one, coming on the first scrimmage play in the second half, collapsed the Wolverines and they just seemed to give up the ghost.

"We can win the statistics but not the game," Oosterbaan said sadly.

Michigan held a two-to-one play margin over Illinois, controlling the ball for 80 plays to 40. But, as against Iowa last week, it was the quick thrusts that left the Wolverines gasping.

The injury-plagued, talent-thin 1958 team has yielded more points than any club in Michigan's 79-year football history.

The 1892 team, which played 12 games, gave up 172 points but 183 have been scored against Michigan this year with two more games to go.

Illinois overcame its own big injury problem to pull out the victory. Sophomore John Easterbrook, a 5-foot, 8-inch, 150-pounder from Champaign, ably took over for the injured Bob Hockey and threw the two long passes to Kreitling. "He just laid them in my arms," Kreitling said.

Bob Ptacek, certainly the player of the year for Michigan, did everything possible to bolster the sagging Wolverines but he couldn't do it alone.

Ptacek directed a 73-yard drive in the second period and, aided by a penalty that moved the ball from the 18 to the one, went in himself and passed to Gene Sisinyak for two points and a short-lived 8-7 lead.

Kreitling came back to take a 14-yard toss from sophomore Russ Martin with 37 seconds to play in the half.

"It was a sloppy game on a sloppy day," a not-too-happy Illinois coach Ray Eliot said. Aside from the three scoring passes, Illinois showed little on offense to 58,778 fans and a midwest television audience. With rain pouring down in the second half, only a few thousand were left in the stands when the game ended.

Rochester Rolls to 35-0 Victory

Five different players scored touchdowns as Rochester rolled to a 35-0 victory over L'Anse Creuse in a Tri-County League football game Saturday at Mt. Clemens.

The Falcons scored in every quarter, hitting pay dirt twice in the 1st period and once in each remaining stanza, to clinch 2nd place in the Tri-County loop with a 2-1 record. Rochester's overall season record is now 3-4.

Ted Knapp opened the touchdown parade with a 20-yard jaunt and Larry Hummel followed with a 15-yard scamper. Then Joe McDaniels galloped 36 yards, Dave Hecht ran six yards and Reggie Dixon tallied the final TD on a 10-yard pass from Hummel.

Rochester converted on runs after all five TDs with Hecht making three extra points and Knapp and Dixon getting one apiece.

Lose to Rangers in Sunday Tilt

Bruins Miss Big Chance

By The Associated Press

The National Hockey League season is just a month old and already it shapes up as one of the tightest races in recent years.

Only six points separate the league-leading Montreal Canadiens and the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs today with the other four clubs bunched in the middle of the heap.

The Maple Leafs capped a successful weekend by blanking the Detroit Red Wings 2-0 Sunday night after they had throttled the Boston Bruins 5-3 the previous evening.

The runnerup Bruins, meanwhile, missed a golden opportunity to climb into first place, losing to the New York Rangers 5-1 in the only other game played Sunday. The Rangers' victory, coupled with Detroit's setback, boosted them into fourth place as the Red Wings dropped to fifth.

New York started the weekend by edging Montreal 6-5 Saturday night. In a nationally televised game Saturday afternoon, the third-place Chicago Black Hawks nipped Detroit 4-3.

The Rangers, in handing the Bruins their first home defeat of the season, broke up a close game with two goals in the middle period by Andy Bathgate and Wally Hergesheimer.

Penicillin-Bolstered Pro Collected $8,500 With Bonus

ATLANTA (AP)—Julius Boros, bolstered by a shot of penicillin, made his return to the golfing world a triumphant one yesterday by winning the Atlanta Open.

The muscular "moose" from Mid Pines, N. C., had complained earlier in the tournament of illness and considered dropping out. But the pencillin injection returned him to winning shape.

The victory was worth $8,500—$3,500 for first place and a $5,000 bonus for being a repeat winner. He is the first to claim the bonus in the six-year history of the tournament.

Local Kegler Hits 298 at Jackson

Andy Heimbring of Pontiac missed a perfect game by leaving two pins standing to finish with a 298 competing in the Legion of Moose tournament at Jackson Sunday.

The 170-average kegler hit 11 straight strikes but missed the pocket on his last roll. The big game enabled him to hit a 671 series competing in doubles play. He followed with a 560 in singles.

Shrine Ends Season With 21-6 Victory

Rebounding after two loss-ridden seasons, Royal Oak Shrine has just completed a remarkable year with its sixth victory against a single defeat.

Shrine yesterday defeated Mt. Carmel, 21-6, to wind up in the first division Catholic League runnerup spot.

Bishop passed to Dick Whitney for the first TD with Seymour running the PAT to start scoring. Seymour went 28 yards in the 3rd period for the 2nd counter and Mike Glynn ran the conversion. Seymour, Whitney and Glynn combined for a drive that ended with Bishop scoring from the one. Ed Seymour ran the PAT.

Mt. Carmel scored in the last minute, with Tom Tonk making the tally.

City's Parochials Win SCL Final Tests

RAMS CONVERGE ON VIKING — Three St. Frederick players converge upon a hapless St. Rita Viking in yesterday's SCL finale at Wisner stadium. Ball carrier (35) was Bob Peckham. Chuck Guibord (61), Tom Nesbitt (middle) and Jere Dirker (41) stopped the Viking in early game action. Rams won, 19-0, to share the SCL championship.

St. Fred Enjoys Best Season in 9-Year Span

North Siders, St. Bens Also Are Victors, Get Share of Title

By H. GUY MOATS

It was all over but the shouting today for the Suburban Catholic League. Most of the jubilation came from the two Pontiac parochial schools whose football teams yesterday came through with victories to conclude the best seasons for both in years.

St. Frederick defeated an unusually tough St. Rita squad 19-0 in a game at Wisner Stadium that offered a big audience some spectacular play, plus a comedy of errors in the last minute.

St. Michael, at Royal Oak St. Mary's field, had a field day on long TD sprints, blasting the Royal Oak club 39-0. The area's other school, Orchard Lake St. Mary, ran into trouble at Center Line and took a 26-20 loss, with the winning touchdown coming in the last 20 seconds of the game with St. Clement.

The St. Benedict-St. James (Ferndale) tilt wound up in a wild free-for-all, but Ravens won, 20-12 to protect their third share of the SCL crown. Officials called the game, which had seven minutes left, after a fight started on the field. Both benches were emptied and some fans got in the scrap before the melee was halted.

Rams' victory gave the Gene Wright coached club its best season since the 1949 2nd Division championship club that was unbeaten. They finished with 6-1, same as St. Michael and St. Benedict.

Rams started their scoring Sunday near the end of the 1st period, Tom Nesbitt going 39 yards on a reverse for the TD. Two minutes from halftime Tom Derocher grabbed a pass from Jim Kennedy, raced 30 yards for the marker. Good blocking helped clear the way but Tom had to shake off several tacklers along the route.

Starting the 2nd half, St. Rita's coach Angelo Corratti, apparently told his club to open up. A whole series of unusual spread plays was thrown at Rams, but the local defenders stopped them.

There was no scoring in the 3rd period, but the Rams' final counter came with 22 seconds left of the game, when Jack Lyon made his only tally of the day, a one-yard plunge. That plunge, however, followed one of the wildest bits of action seen on Wisner field this fall. Five times the ball changed hands on fumbles, all made within the 10-yard stripe. Rams started it, on the way to a TD. Ritas recovered and promptly fumbled, Rams getting the ball on the one. Lyon fumbled on a dive, then Ritas ran one play and Jack Stefani gave it back to Kennedy. Rams' Lyon hung on to the next try, and went over. Just as the game ended Tom Nesbitt took a Kennedy pass on the 30, went to the 15, where time ran out.

Shamrocks had an easier time. Tom Dabbs fired a pass to Paul Pruente five minutes after the start, Paul going all the way. Three minutes later Gary Sonnenburg recovered a St. Mary fumble on the RO 30, and Bill Flanigan scampered rest of the way on a off-tackle run. Jim Zugras booted the PAT for a 13-0 count.

Flanigan got off another dash in the 2nd session, for 71 yards and the 3rd tally, and Zugras booted another conversion. A recovered St. Mary fumble at midfield set up the 3rd counter. Mike Flynn snatched an aerial from Tom Dabbs, went in for the TD, leaving the halftime score 26-0.

St. Michael scored once in the 3rd period, a pass to speedy Chuck Steinhelper being good for the TD. Chuck outran the RO defenders for 65 yards. Zugras passed to Dabbs for the PAT.

In the final session Dabbs fired another pass to Steinhelper and the Mikes' scoring ace went for his 2nd 65-yard TD gallop. One more TD was cancelled out when Dabbs hit Chuck with a pass and the Shamrock went all the way. Shamrock backs were in motion.

Only 9 Berths Remain Open

17 Teams Bowl Contenders

By The Associated Press

Louisiana State or Iowa for the national championship, and almost a score of teams to pick from for nine remaining bowl berths.

That's the way things look in major college football after a weekend that saw unbeaten and top-ranked LSU smash Duke, second-ranked Iowa collect the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl trip, Pitt and Georgia Tech return to bowl consideration and Washington State snafu the Pacific Coast Conference race to the Rose Bowl.

With the Cotton, Sugar, Orange and Gator bowls still looking for two teams and the Rose Bowl looking for one, no less than 17 clubs are lookin' pretty.

There are, in addition to LSU, Pitt, Georgia Tech and Washington State, such possibles as Oklahoma, Missouri, Texas Christian, Rice, Southern Methodist, Mississippi, Clemson, North Carolina, California, Oregon State, Syracuse, Air Force and Rutgers.

LSU, now 8-0, couldn't help but pick up backers for the national title, decided by the final Associated Press poll, after whipping Duke 50-18. It was the highest total in 21 years for the Tigers, who get back to the business of winning the Southeastern Conference title and a shot at the Sugar Bowl against Mississippi State this weekend.

Auburn, still second in the SEC after beating Mississippi State 33-14, is on NCAA probation and can't be considered for a bowl. Auburn, in the running for a repeat national crown, plays Georgia after padding its once-tied but unbeaten string to 20.

Mississippi, which plastered Houston 56-7, is third in the SEC and plays Tennessee. Ole Miss could be a bowl pick without winning the SEC. So could Georgia Tech, now 5-2-1 after dampening Clemson's hopes a big 13-0. Tech plays Alabama next.

Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference leader, returns to league play against North Carolina State. North Carolina, second in the ACC and riding a six-game streak after thumping Virginia 42-0, makes its big bid against Notre Dame — a club the Tarheels haven't beaten in eight tries.

Notre Dame also figures in Iowa's plans. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten by beating Minnesota 28-6, now shoot for the national title against Ohio State and Notre Dame.

The Irish, headed neither for a bowl nor the national title, were handed a third defeat, 29-26 by Pitt. That brought the Panthers, beaten by Michigan State and Syracuse and tied by Army, out of hiding with a chance to make a bowl with only Nebraska and Penn State left.

Syracuse, a sure bet for a bowl, is 6-1 after whipping Boston University 42-0 and has only Colgate and West Virginia remaining.

Army, third ranked in last week's poll, beat the heat and Rice 14-7. The Cadets now have a breather against Villanova before the Navy game. (Navy, incidentally, shrugged off that 40-20 defeat by Notre Dame and clobbered Maryland 40-14).

TCU meets Texas after beating Marquette 36-8. SMU elbowed into the title fight by creaming A&M 33-0. The Mustangs play Arkansas next.

Oklahoma beat stubborn Iowa State 20-0, while Missouri walloped Colorado 33-9. That left the Sooners and Mizzou tied for the big eight lead at 4-0—and they play this weekend at Oklahoma with the title and Orange Bowl berth on the line.

California regained the PCC lead by beating UCLA 20-17 while Washington State upset Oregon State 7-0. California, 4-1 in the league, has beaten Washington State (5-2), but was beaten by Oregon State (4-2). To make it tougher, Southern Cal (4-2) also has a chance.

Air Force is the surprise club with a 6-0-1 record—that tie is Iowa—after defeating Denver 10-7. Wyoming, the Skyline leader, is next for the Falcons.

Pontiac Press Photo

JOY IN RAM-VILLE — St. Frederick High School football fans enjoyed one of their best seasons in a decade as the Rams posted a 6-2 record and they climaxed it with a 19-0 victory over St. Rita at Wisner Stadium yesterday. The win, along with victories for St. Mikes and St. Benedicts, produced a 3-way tie in the Suburban Catholic League. These St. Fred fans express their sentiments.

Central's Loss Leaves Trio Deadlocked in IIAC

MIAA Has 1st Triple Tie in History

By The Associated Press

Defensive men too seldom get credit for winning football teams, but they are the toast of the campus at Albion College today.

It was the fired-up defensive unit that won the honors Saturday in the Britons' 18-13 upset victory over previous-undefeated Hope College.

The triumph snapped Hope's seven-game win streak, dashed Dutchmen hopes for the school's first perfect season and produced the first triple-tie in the 50-year history of the MIAA.

Albion, Hope and Hillsdale each wound up with a 4-1 league record.

Hillsdale beat Adrian Saturday night to grab a share of the title.

Hope's ground-eating offense, best in the MIAA, was held to a mere 46 yards on the ground while Albion was racking up 208 yards in the mud and rain of Alumni Field at Albion.

Don Van Gilder ran for two touchdowns and passed for the third to spearhead the Albion offense.

Van Gilder, senior halfback from Van Dyke, flipped a 16-yard pass to end Garth Rickey of Okemos for the first touchdown early in the first quarter.

He also scored twice on runs of one and eight yards in the second and final quarters.

Hope, taking to the air when its ground game failed, scored in the second quarter when Paul Mack, sophomore quarterback, capped a 64-yard drive with a one-yard sneak. Bill Huigregste's extra point put the Dutchmen briefly in the lead. Hope scored once more in the dying minutes of the game when Jack Faber tossed a 25-yard pass to Ron Bronson, who sprinted another 25 yards for the score.

Defending champion Hillsdale has won the MIAA title the last four seasons. Albion was the titlist in 1952 and Hope in 1953.

Hillsdale gained its share of the MIAA crown with Earl O'Shaughnessy scoring two touchdowns in the Dales' 32-6 victory over Adrian.

Southern Illinois beat Central Michigan 24-7 and Western Illinois trimmed Eastern Michigan 27-6, throwing the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference race into a three-way tie.

Now at the top with identical 4-1 conference records are Southern Illinois, Central Michigan and Western Illinois.

Central Michigan's loss to Southern Illinois was its first defeat in conference play in 21 games, a streak dating back to 1951.

Carver Shannon led the Southern Illinois scoring with three touchdowns.

Mike McFarland tossed three scoring passes to Jack Anderson in Western Illinois' victory over Eastern Michigan. Day scored Eastern Michigan's only touchdown on a five-yard plunge.

Turnstiles Hum Busy Tune for Pro Gridders

Professional football probably had its greatest turnout of fans Sunday when the six games reported a total attendance of 342,734.

The figures exceeded the previous Sunday's 326,431. On that day NFL Commissioner Bert Bell reported a paid attendance in excess of 291,000 for a single day high. No figures were available on this Sunday's paid attendance.

The largest crowd was at Los Angeles where 95,082 saw the Rams defeat San Francisco. Detroit and the Browns played before 75,563 at Cleveland. And a record New York crowd of 71,163 was at Yankee Stadium for the Giants-Colts game.

Detroit Team Leading Match Game Duel

DETROIT (UPI) — The challenging Cunningham team of Detroit today was leading defending champion Steelcase of Grand Rapids in the first half of a battle for the women's state match game bowling title.

Cunningham took a 710 pin lead yesterday, winning the first block by 215 pins, picked up the second by 208 and went on to take the third by 287.

The last three blocks will be bowled in Grand Rapids next weekend.

His Big Day Little Help

Some days you can't make a nickel. Ask Bob Anastas of American International. He completed 26 of 43 passes for 442 yards and five TDs—but lost. New Haven teachers won the game, 78-42.

Syracuse Wins Weekend Pair

Nats Sweep Five-Point Decisions; New York Boasts 5-1 Record

It was a very successful weekend for the Syracuse entry in the NBA. The Nats toppled Philadelphia 103-98 Saturday and followed up with a 101-97 conquest of Minneapolis Sunday to pick up two games on the defending champion but now last place Boston Celtics.

The Warriors, however, regained their winning ways by bowling over the hapless Cincinnati Royals 106-92 in the only other game Sunday. New York remained atop the Eastern Division with a 108-100 triumph over Minneapolis Saturday to boost its record to 5-1.

Johnny Kerr supplied the impetus in Syracuse's success against the Lakers. The lanky red-head sank a hook with two minutes left to put the Nats ahead to stay and then iced the verdict by converting a pair of free throws with two seconds to go.

Rookie Elgin Baylor starred in a losing cause for the Lakers with 34 points to take game scoring honors.

Paul Arizin put on a one-man show in triggering Philadelphia to its victory over Cincinnati. The jump-shooting specialist found the range for 42 points — 26 in the first half — as the Royals went down to their fifth straight loss.

Our Lady Wins Final

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows finished what had been a dismal season on a happy note Sunday by blanking Ypsilanti St. John 20-0. Tom Wade ran 27 yards, Bob Unks 25 and John Urbain 62 on a punt return for the touchdowns. The victors finished with a 2-6 record.

As 'M'-MSU--Titans Flop, Alumni Moan

From Our Wire Services

NEWTON, Mass. — The University of Detroit's football season is more than a disappointment now. It's bordering on a flop.

The Titans, who went into the season with hopes of an 8-1 or 7-2 finish, took a 40-0 shellacking at the hands of Boston College's Eagles here Saturday.

Their record now is 3-4-1 and they must win their remaining game against Dayton on Nov. 22 to finish with a .500 mark.

Injuries, inconsistent passing, a shortage of fast-running backs, a line that didn't pan out as expected and a lack of staying power when the breaks went against them — these are the reasons the ambitious Titans are well down in the ranks of the also-rans.

There were reported grumblings among U. of D. alumni who turned out at the season ticket windows for a school record of 7,500 books in hopes of seeing the best campaign in many years.

There have been no incidents on campus as have taken place at both Michigan and Michigan State and there have been no comments from school officials in regard to coach Wally Fromhart's position.

One Detroit writer wrote that the Titan coach blamed over-optimism on the part of the alumni as responsible for much of the blame. "They were built up so high, they never recovered from the Air Force defeat," the coach was quoted by the writer.

Against Boston College, the Titans never even mustered a threat.

"Just like it's been before," said Fromhart, "We didn't get the blocking we needed and we didn't have enough speed in the backfield."

Quarterback Don Allard, described by Fromhart as "one of the finest passers in the country," led the Boston College assault. He passed for three touchdowns and scored one himself. All told, he completed 10 of 18 aerials for 161 yards and gained 40 yards rushing on five carries.

Bruce Maher, the bulwark of the Titans' running game all season, played only about half the game because of a bruised arm. First-string fullback Jerry Leszczynski missed the game because of injuries.

Boston College's record now is 5-2.

Buffalo Drubs Wayne

DETROIT — "They're as good as we thought they would be — maybe even a little better."

Wayne State's head football Coach Herb Smith was reflecting Saturday on the solid 44-14 thumping his squad had just been given by the University of Buffalo.

A capacity homecoming crowd turned out to see why Buffalo is rated the top small college team in the East and leading contender for the Lambert Cup. The Bulls wasted little time proving their point.

They moved 36 yards on the ground to a touchdown the first time they had the ball. A pass interception by quarterback Gord Bukaty set up the initial tally. Bukaty cracked over from the one for the TD.

By the end of the first half, Bukaty had again romped across the goal line, from 33 yards out, and thrown scoring passes of 21 and 26 yards to halfback Ken Born and end Nick Bottini for a 30-0 lead.

A steady downpour and driving winds in the second half equalized the contest and virtually emptied the stands. Buffalo scored on a 14-yard Bukaty-Bottini pass and a 27-yard sprint by halfback Paul Szymendera.

Tartar quarterback Mike Soluk tossed six yards to halfback Jim MacMillan with 6:19 left in the third quarter for WSU's first touchdown in three games. Soluk hooked up with end John Poplawski on a pass from the 12 late in the fourth period.

Teacher Writes on Education Week

Sputniks Boosted Math Here

(Editor's Note: The following is the first of a serie of three articles written by members of the Pontiac Education Association about the Pontiac school system in observance of National Education Week beginning today. This article sums up the mathematics program.)

By JOYCE SWEET
Pontiac Central High School
Mathematics Instructor

Public interest in mathematics was stimulated by Russia's satellite last year. For years, however, mathematicians and educators had studied the place of mathematics in the general education program. Today, the importance of mathematics is recognized by all thinking people.

Professionally minded teachers in Pontiac are seeking constantly to raise the level of mathematical literacy of all pupils. Therefore, some changes in curriculum are in an experimental stage; others are being considered.

The major feature of the elementary arithmetic program is emphasis on teaching for understanding. The processes of arithmetic must become understandable, not merely sets of arbituary rules.

Then it is possible for children to gain skills with less dependence on sheer memory. They become confident and satisfied.

Many materials have been added to the elementary schools which are designed to help children gain the manipulation of concrete objects.

This year a program in primary arithmetic is being tried experimentally in six classrooms of four schools: LeBaron, Central, Bagley and Whitfield.

In junior high, emphasis is on the applications of mathematics in solving problems common to all. Here pupils become familiar with the symbolism of mathematics when they are introduced to formulas and algebraic expressions.

This year five experimental classes are being held for selected seventh graders. Attention is given to methods of developing greater insight into the number system, methods which show promise of leading to improved teaching techniques and curriculum organization throughout the school mathematics program.

The senior high in Pontiac curriculum offerings include plane and solid geometry, intermediate and advanced algebra and trigonometry, for students going into highly mathematical fields, like physical sciences and engineering. In the past years a class in advanced mathematics has been available to seniors who completed this mathematics program and showed outstanding ability. This course introduces analytic geometry and calculus, and aids in preparing students for advanced work and college honors courses.

Courses in applied mathematics include vocational mathematics required for the industrial curriculum and business mathematics for those on the commercial curriculum.

A course in consumers mathematics for seniors is offered. This fall experimental classes in mathematics improvement are offered for the first time to juniors who are deficient in the arithmetic fundamentals.

The problem of curriculum planning, in mathematics as in any subject, revolves about an organization that provides continuity of experience and broadening and deepening of experience. There must be, when possible, integration of this subject with other fields, such as science, business, economics, and industry.

Nationally, wide differences of opinion exist concerning the nature of effective learning activity, organization for teaching, and the amount of mathematical knowledge and skill essential for general education.

There is no question of the importance of mathematics today. Because of this agreement, the mathematics program at every level is being more actively studied then ever before, locally and nationally.

'It's a Monster,' Insists Driver After Attack

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP)—Maybe Hollywood isn't kidding with the weird creatures it's currently starring in horror movies.

Charlie Wetzel saw something the other night that would get top billing in any cast of monsters and he was miles from the nearest movie—and the nearest bar.

In a report to police Sunday Wetzel told of driving on a lonely road near Riverside Saturday night when something jumped in front of his car.

"It had a round, scarecrowish head," said Charlie. "The eyes were all shining like something fluorescent and it had a protuberantmouth. It was covered with scales, or leaves.

"It had a longer arm than anything I'd ever seen. It reached all the way back to the windshield and began clawing at me."

The terrified Wetzel said he stepped on the gas and sped off as the thing fell back with a gurgle.

For a while police thought Wetzel might have startled a vulture eating a dead rabbit in the road, but a check of the scene didn't turn up even a feather.

Police are puzzled as to what to do next. Here's a suggestion: turn the case over to a Hollywood talent scout.

Hollywood Headlines

Beatnik Joint Features Grim Youths and Music

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Let's go watch the beatniks," my friend said.

It sounded like a good idea. After all, this was a phase of my own beat, the entertainment field. Coffee houses are springing up like mushrooms on Hollywood and Sunset boulevards and other byways of the beat generation. So we went.

The joint was nestled among the agents' offices and steam baths on the Sunset Strip. It was dark, narrow and loud with the efforts of a three-piece combo of questionable jazz talent. The small tables were tightly packed with young people. They glowered over their coffee cups.

We felt square in our coats and ties. The males were in shirt sleeves with blue jeans or corduroy pants; I had the feeling that anyone in a gray flannel suit would have been banished. The girls were in peasant skirts, Capri pants, pedal pushers, clam diggers and whatever else they call those pants.

A fellow in an open-necked shirt and Ivy League pants came forward and reported in a Marlon-Brando-like mumble that there might be a table in the balcony. We continued through the place and into the back patio. It was filled with tables surrounded by more of the same. They watched raptly as a young fellow plunked a guitar and talked folk songs.

There was a balcony above this scene and a vacant, rickety table where we ordered Italian coffee and chocolate at 65 cents a cup. At those prices, beatniks can't be poorniks.

We sat on the balcony and watched the crowd as two other folk singers took over with their guitars. "Why don't beatniks laugh?" I asked.

"Because life is grim, life is earnest," my friend said. "They can find nothing to laugh about in this age of anxiety when the bomb may fall any moment."

We had to admit that every generation—lost, beat or whatever—is compelled to seek its own flavor. We had beer, Glenn Miller and Betty Grable. They have coffee, Elvis and the shade of Jimmy Dean.

Only one thing concerns me: Why don't they laugh?

Veterans Day Message From Brucker

U.S. Must Remain Strong to Prevent War

(In a special Veterans Day message, a veteran of World War I and a former Michigan governor who is now Secretary of the Army, points out America's path to peace.)

By WILBER BRUCKER
Secretary of the Army
(Written for the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—It seems almost inconceivable that 40 years have passed since the 11th hour of that historic 11th day of November, 1918, when the guns all along the western front in France fell silent and World War I was finished.

That dramatic moment will be ever vivid in my memory.

The regiment with which I had the privilege to serve as a lieutenant throughout the war—the 166th infantry of the 42nd (Rainbow) Division—was marching to cross the Meuse River when the thrilling word came:

"The Germans have accepted the armistice! The artillery has orders to cease fire at 11 o'clock!"

We were stunned. We could scarcely believe the good news.

Suddenly, for the first time in what seemed eternity, everything was calm and quiet. We had all felt so long that we might never again see America, and our loved ones that we could not realize there was no more fighting to be done.

Prior to sailing for France, my mother and I had a little personal compact that the 91st Psalm should be our link of understanding. When the pilot of my troopship dropped off Sandy Hook on the outbound voyage, he had carried with him a letter to her marked "91." Every time the Rainbow went into action there was a "91" letter on its way back to Michigan.

Now the message of this great Psalm came to my mind with new force and meaning: "I will say of the Lord, he is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in Him will I trust."

Perhaps it was as well, while the last smoke of the cannon drifted away, that our eyes could not penetrate the mists of the coming decades and see an even greater global war fought, and later—after 40 years—an even more formidable enemy challenging anew everything we hold dear. Sufficient unto that day was the victory which had been won.

More than a million and a half American soldiers came back to America united in that strong and meaningful bond of fellowship which stems from sharing the dangers and hardships of ground combat.

GUARDS UNKNOWNS — An Army sentry walks his post at the Tombs of the Unknowns in Arlington National Cemetery. Remains of the heroes of the Korean War (left) and World War II (right) were reinterred at Arlington on Memorial Day this year. They flank the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of World War I.

We brought back a lasting sense of personal identification with all the soldiers of armies not yet mustered, upon whose shoulders would rest the major responsibility for the security of America in the years to come.

We brought with us from the grim battlefields of France a fuller appreciation of the cost and value of the freedom we had fought to preserve, and a high resolve to carry on in the spirit of our comrades-in-arms who had fallen at our sides.

We dedicate our solemn annual observance of Veteran's Day to the perpetuation of that spirit!

As we think of all the brave men who died to preserve America and the splendid ideals for which America stands, we bow in humble reverence.

When we contemplate the great human tragedy of war, how could we fail to strive with all our power to advance the cause of true and enduring peace?

That is the most important task facing our nation today.

It is not easy in this age of peril. It is not one for the faint-hearted.

It is not a task for those who would seek a bargain of ignoble expediency or appeasement—for nothing can assure true peace but the triumph of principle.

For us to bargain for a peace without justice and honor would be tragic. Such a false peace would be no more than a prelude to disaster!

America has always been in the forefront of the struggle for human liberty and universal recognition of the dignity and worth of the individual man. We have always kept the faith with those who have offered up their lives for America. We seek peace, not from distrust of our own powers, but from a sense of moral obligation deeply rooted in the principles upon which our country was built.

Our nation, our freedom, our lives, and everything we hold dear are menaced today by the military might of the Communist conspiracy, the most dangerous the world has ever known.

If we are to prevent that might from being used to commit armed aggression — and once again scourge the world with a terrible war—we must be strong, and we must stay strong as long as its shadow darkens the horizon of the future.

Our only salvation in this momentous hour of history is the maintenance of predominant military strength which will successfully deter an aggressor from making war because he will unmistakably know in advance that he has no chance of winning.

In all probability World War I, World War II and Korea would not have occurred if the aggressors had been certain that we would fight for the right, and that we were capable of mobilizing the strength to win. That must never happen again!

We have the military strength today to meet the military threat we face, but our mighty armed forces are more than the outward manifestations of the real power of America. In a larger sense, it is the spiritual strength and resolution of the American people which are now, as always the foundations of our security.

The safety of America and American ideals today and through all the years to come depends upon the indomitable spirit of millions of Americans — in and out of uniform, in every walk of life—willing under any circumstances to stand up and be counted for America, and to take the hard road for the sake of their country.

We must believe in America and our destiny under God with unwavering confidence. If we are to preserve and continue to enhance our great heritage, and lead the world to a peace founded upon justice and honor, we must go forward with the words of the psalmist emblazoned upon our shield:

"I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God; in Him will I trust."

Henry Clay, who almost but did not quite become president of the U.S., won his law degree at the age of 21. He was still under 30 when appointed to the U.S. Senate in 1806.

Demand End of Bottling Up of Bills at Congress' Door

WASHINGTON (AP) — A showdown fight to curb the powers of the conservative-dominated House Rules Committee may develop when Congress convenes Jan. 7.

It's a fight congressional leaders wish to avert, but fear they cannot.

Under that provision the Rules Committee could not bottle up for more than 21 days any bill approved by a standing committee of the House. After that the bill could be called up for floor action without Rules Committee approval.

The Rules Committee serves as a steering committee or traffic cop, determining which legislation goes to the floor for a vote and under what limitations governing debate and amendments.

That committee has been dominated for years by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. With Congress under Democratic control, it is composed of eight Democrats and four Republicans. Two of the Democrats are Chairman Howard W. Smith of Virginia and Rep. William E. Colmer of Mississippi.

Smith and Colmer, along with the four Republicans, have effectively bottled up in committee many bills they opposed.

Legislation not cleared by a majority of the Rules Committee has difficulty reaching the House floor for a vote.

The 21-day rule was adopted in the 81st Congress, when Democrats had a 263-171 margin in the House. The new House is divided 281-153 Democratic, with one race in Illinois still undecided and one member still to be elected from Alaska.

The rule lasted only two years. When Democrats sought to continue it in the 82nd Congress, they were blocked by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. In that Congress there were 199 Republicans.

House rules will be adopted in the opening day of the new Congress. Again, there will be enough Republicans and Southern Democrats to block any rule change if they get together.

If they do, supporters of legislation bottled up by the Rules Committee will have one other chance to force action. They can get a vote on anything by filing a petition in the House and obtaining the signatures of 219 members a majority. This is a tedious and difficult procedure.

Minnesota, known as the "Land of 10,000 Lakes," has 11,007 of them, each covering 25 acres or more. It has about 4,000,000 acres of surface water—more than any other state.

Mount Clemens Girl in a Coma for Over 7 Years

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — The mysterious years-long sleep of Delores Schmittling goes on, and on.

It has lasted seven and a half years.

Delores, 25, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmittling, is the victim of what doctors have diagnosed as malignant hypertension, a kind of high blood pressure.

She fell into a coma in April 1951 and never has regained consciousness.

Dr. John S. Meyer, chairman of the neurology department of Wayne State University, said doctors always hope there will be recovery.

"But after a coma lasts a year, hope of recovery is faint," Dr. Meyer said.

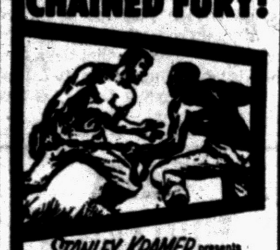

Delores' father, a social worker, goes to her at the hospital five days a week after his working day. The mother sees her on weekends.

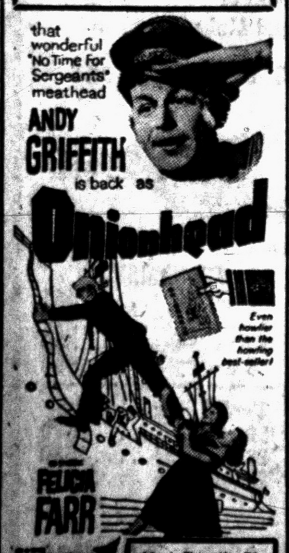

Shortly after she graduated from high school, Delores became ill and complained of headaches.

There was an operation to sever nerves in her back in an effort to control her high blood pressure.

Delores' seven and a half years if sleep is not a record for comas. Dr. Meyer said one man slept 18 years.

$500,000 Bowl Dug Up in Iran

Lost for Almost 3,000 Years, Vessel Is Found by U.S. Archeologists

TEHERAN (UPI) — An archaeological team from the University of Pennsylvania has accomplished what a horde of Assyrian raiders couldn't manage to do almost 3,000 years ago — although some of them died trying.

As a consequence, the Americans and their Iranian associates have come up with one of the biggest archaeological discoveries in recent years, a golden bowl just under eight and a half inches high and valued at half a million dollars.

It was located in September by a team under Robert Harris Dyson Jr., curator of the Pennsylvania University museum. The expedition, composed of three Americans and two Iranians, worked for nearly two years on the project.

According to the archaeologists, a band of nomadic Assyrians heard of the same vase 2,800 years ago and came to the little village of Hassanlou in northern Iran in an attempt to snatch it from the peaceful Mannaen tribesmen who lived there.

The team from the University of Pennsylvania found out what happened in that scuffle. They discovered the $500,000 bowl clutched in the skeleton hand of one Manaen. Two other skeletons lay near by. One was holding a dagger stuck into the back of the other.

The Assyrians went on a rampage of murder and looting in the village, which they finally burned to the ground.

Original excavations by an all-Iranian team were started in the same area 10 years ago, but had to be halted because of lack of funds.

The bowl stands 8.4 inches high and has a circumference at the mouth of 24.4 inches. It was handed over to the Iran Archeology Department, but will be loaned to the University of Pennsylvania.

Test Epilepsy Types in State Mobile Unit

CHICAGO — Mobile units have become popular as a way of bringing better medical care to people in out-of-the-way places. They have been used in programs dealing with chest x-rays, hearing and speech disorders, diabetes detection, blood donation and dental research.

Now the Michigan Epilepsy Center and Association has a mobile unit for the evaluation of epileptic patients.

The unit carries an electroencephalograph, the delicate instrument that measures the electrical activity of the brain. One of its main uses is in helping to determine the degree and type of epilepsy a person has.

Writing in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, three officials of the Michigan organization said they know of no other reported instance in which a mobile clinic uses the EEG instrument.

The program originated in 1951. For 10 weeks each year the unit tours areas without facilities for the study of epilepsy. Local physicians refer their patients to the unit for EEG readings and neurological investigation.

Ever Seek Better, Faster Ways

Automatic Machines Hum to Speed Mountain of Mail

WASHINGTON—The voice of the machine is humming louder in the United States Post Office Department and itis branches throughout the country.

As the deluge of mail and packages mounts year by year, postal authorities seek better and faster methods to keep it flowing.

Among devices introduced in recent years are coin-fed robots that stamj, postmark, and mail letters; automatic mail sorters and conveyors; and three-wheeled, red-white-and-blue motor carts that take the load off the backs of foot-sore postmen.

In 1880, when the infant Post Office Department moved from Philadelphia to the nation's new capital, Washington headquarters counted only nine men, says the National Geographic Society.

Today, an army of more than half a million men and women works for the department. It maintains more than 36,000 post offices and 8,400 branches and stations. Its mail routes total 2,250,000 miles.

No less spectacular has been the growth of the job. A survey made by the United States Bureau of Standards reports that in 1847 each person sent about six pieces of mail a year. By 1957, this figure had jumped to 350 pieces. In 1980, it is expected to reach 700. Altogether, the postal service handled 60,000,000,000 pieces of written or printed mail last year, plus 1,00,-000,000 packages.

"Do-it-yourself" Mailomats stand in the lobbies of more than 70 main post offices. These big metal boxes with instructions, assorted slots, and hadles take a patron's money, print on the envelope the amount of the postage, the date and city, and send it on its way.

Two electro-mechanical sorters were installed recently in Washington and near-by Silver Spring, Maryland. The mail passes in front of keyboard operators who punch out a 3-digit code that tells the machine where to deposit each letter. Eleven more advanced models have been ordered.

So far, no machine is in sight to match wits with whimsical people who address letters in Morse code or musical and chemical symbols.

On duty here and there, however, are a few talented Stamp-masters that not only make change but conversation. Recorded messages advise a customer to mail early, explain regulations, and say "Thank you." One remarkable machine announces, "These stamps are sanitary."

Rayon Tire Holding Its Own

By JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — Chevrolet's enthusiastic endorsement of tyrex, the new super-supercord rayon, has enabled rayon producers to hang on to the cherished market for original-equipment tires for at least another year.

But even the existence of the new super-strong cord shows how hard nylon producers are pushing the rayon industry to hold the market.

Chevrolet considered using nylon tires on its 1959 cars at one time because of many outstanding characteristics of nylon which rayon was unable to match.

But then a group of rayon manufacturers got together to form the American Tyrex Corp., a non-profit organization to promote the use of the yarn in tires.

The new yarn is similar to a cord called "super condura, type 272" which was produced originally by Du Pont. But Du Pont declined an invitation to join the American Tyrex Corp. because it is a longtime producer and champion of nylon for tires.

Nylon has already invaded the replacement tire market but still has not been able to penetrate deeply into the original-equipment market.

It was expected to move into the original-equipment market this year until tyrex was developed and promoted with widespread publicity.

Tyrex tires are credited with giving a 10 per cent improvement in tread wear over previous rayons without increasing the thickness of the tread.

The Tyrex Corp. claims this is achieved because the new cord is substantially stronger and thinner, making it possible to build a lighter and cooler-running tire.

A thinner cord improves tire safety at turnpike speeds and reduces wear because less heat is developed by the tire and because thinner cords have greater "give," decreasing the possibility of rupture and impact breaks.

These are precisely the advantage the nylon tires previously held over rayon tires.

If the claims prove to be true when the tires are put to the test of consumer use, rayon may have staved off the invasion of nylon for more than a year, or at least until further improvements are made in nylon tires.

The major handicap of nylon tires is that they tend to develop a "flat spot" on the bottom of the tire when the car has been parked for a long time after the tires were heated. This "flat spot" works out of the tire when it becomes heated by use again but in the meantime it causes a bothersome thumping.

Another handicap of nylon is that it costs more than rayon but its greater strength has made it necessary to use only two-thirds as much nylon cord in a tire to equal the strength of a rayon tire and this has made up for the difference in cost.

A third handicap is that nylon tires are apt to be more noisy than rayon tires.

With tyrex improving the qualities of rayon tires, nylon now will have to make similar improvements to again challenge rayon's dominance of the original-equipment market.

Work Resumes at Dodge Plant

Strike Looms Ahead for Tool and Die Shops in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Regular production resumed today at Chrysler's big Dodge main plant.

A strike, meanwhile, threatened scores of Detroit area tool and die shops.

At Dodge main, laid off workers caused a work stoppage Saturday in protesting overtime work for some employes. Saturday work is at overtime rates.

United Auto Workers Local 3 officials, however, said there would be no further protest appearances and that differences would be worked out in negotiations.

A strike of 8,000 tool and die workers at 79 plants was voted yesterday by members of two UAW skilled worker locals. Wages and overtime work have been the issues.

UAW Local 155 and 157, which negotiate contracts with the Automotive Tool and Die Manufacturers Assn., says they are protesting overtime for some workers while others with greater seniority are laid off.

No stike date was set. Any strike would require approval of the United Auto Workers International in order to be legal.

Detroit had its last general strike of tool and die workers in 1953. The strike lasted five weeks.

To Open Bids in Waterford

¾-Ton Pickup Truck Sought; Sewer Plant Plan to Be Studied

Bids on a new ¾ ton pickup truck for Waterford Township will be opened at tonight's regular board meeting.

There have been only three bids submitted as of today, however estimates will be accepted until tonight's 8 p.m. opening deadline, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

In other business board members will discuss a request from the Lorraine Manor Garden Club to place a green belt in front of the subdivision's sewer plant located near Elizabeth Lake road and M59.

The club has agreed to pay for half the cost of the trees if the township will pay the balance.

A request to install a new gas chlorinator in the Coleman-Friedman sewer plant located in back of Isaac Crary Junior High School will also be discussed.

Seeterlin explained that a gas chlorinator is cheaper to operate and the present machine would be used in the Watkins Hill subdivision plant.

Several estimates for the re-roofing of township fire station No. 2 on Walton Blvd. will be presented and the board will discuss a date for accepting sealed bids for the project.

Republic Steel Corp. Increases Production

NEW YORK (AP)—Republic Steel Corp. put another open hearth into operation at Buffalo today as steel makers reported a pickup in demand for some products.

While November steel shipments are slipping behind the October rate, industry sources attribute this to lagging automotive steel buying. This, in turn, reflected sporadic strikes in the auto industry.

Excluding taxes, the price of automobiles has risen 21 per cent since 1924.

Report Liz Taylor Plans to Wed Ed Within Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor plans to marry singer Eddie Fisher within a month, the New York Post said today in a dispatch from Hollywood.

"That comes from the best of sources," said the story by Sidney Skolsky.

"Ever since Eddie's September breakup with Debbie Reynolds, he and Liz have been practically inseparable," Skolsky wrote. "He's always over at her house, and the crowd that travels with him is often there, too."

He added that Fisher may seek a quick divorce in Mexico.

"Lawyers for both are working to effect a settlement, and Debbie is not playing hard to get along with," Skolsky said. "In fact, it looks as if Debbie has some plans of her own and is as anxious as Eddie to get the divorce."

Berlin Pull-Out Sought by Reds

Khrushchev Calls for End to Four-Power Division of City

NISCIW (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called today for an end to the four-power division of Berlin. He indicated the Soviets were ready to quit that city.

Radio Moscow quoted Khrushchev as telling a Polish-Soviet friendship meeting in Lenin Stadium: "The time has evedently come for the powers which signed the Potsdam agreement to give up the remnants of the occupation regime in Berlin and thus make it possible to create a normal atmosphere in the capital of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany)."

Khrushchev announced that the Soviet Union, on its part, will hand over to East Germany those functions in Berlin which are still handled by Soviet organs.

The Soviet leader said that the 1945 Potsdam agreement had been violated by the United States, Britain and France on all points except the four-power status of Berlin.

He accused the West of using Berlin to carry on subversive activity against East Germany, against the Soviet Union and other Warsaw Pact countries.

He said the West German government, a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, "is now treading a road dangerous to the cause of peace in Europe and fatal to West Germany itself."

West Germany, he said, "would not last a day in a modern war."

The Soviet Union, he said, does not want another military conflict. A war, he declared, would be destructive to West Germany and would bring untold sufferings to the peoples of other countries.

Only Two Lives, Not 9

GUILDFORD, England (UPI) — A mail sorter heard the package rustle. He opened it gingerly. Out staggered Patsy, a Rhode Island Red chicken, squawking dismally. Investgiation disclosed that Patsy had "died" on the Isle of Wight. Her owner shipped the body to the Ministry of Agculture's veterinary laboratory for diagnosis of the "fatal" ailment. Patsy is dead today. Laboratory surgeons killed her to find out why she looked dead yesterday.

Plans Indiana Plant

BUCHANAN (AP) — Clark Equipment Co. says it will build a factory in Michigan City, Ind., to manufacture truck trailers of its Brown Trailer Division. The new plant will also produce cargo van bodies and shipping containers. The company's Brown Trailer Division will make its headquarters at Michigan City. Completion of the plant is expected by May 1959.

Charges Filed in 'Pike Crash

Detroiter Denies Driving Wrong-Way Death Car on Ohio Toll Road

NORWALK, Ohio (UPI)—Traffic manslaughter charges have been placed against John M. Hines, 41, of Detroit, the only survivor of a head-on crash on the Ohio Turnpike in which seven persons were killed.

The charges were filed in nearby Milan Mayor's Court last night, less than 24 hours after the crash which was the worst in the history of the Turnpike.

Hines is reported in fair condition in Titus-Fisher Memorial Hospital here with a possible pelvic fracture, a compound fracture of the right arm and cuts and bruises.

Ohio Turnpike officers contend that Hines was the driver of a car headed east in the westbound lane when the grinding crash occurred.

However, Hines has denied being the driver when the car slammed into an auto driven by George Bentley, 32, Jamestown, N. Y.

Bentley, his wife Delia, 30, and their four sons, Norman, 12; Lavern, 14; Derrick, 2; and Darren, seven months, were killed in the crash.

The seventh victim was Mrs. Claudia Brooks, 45, also of Detroit, who was in the "wrong-way" car along with Hines.

Hines contends that she was driving when the crash occurred.

A funeral mass for the Bentley family will be held Tuesday at Falconer, N. Y.

Owner of Restaurant in Birmingham Dies

Casimo A. Martinelli, 48, owner and operator of Martinelli's restaurant in Birmingham, died Saturday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following a long illness.

Mr. Martinelli, who made his home at 106 Eileen Dr., was chef at Bloomfield Hills Country Club for 15 years prior to opening his restaurant.

He was a member of Holy Name Church in Birmingham; the Chefs, Stewards and Caterers Assn.; and the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce.

A native of Brazil, Mr. Martinelli moved to Birmingham 20 years ago from Akron, Ohio.

Requiem Mass will be conducted at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Holy Name Church, Birmingham. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery in Massillon, Ohio, at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday.

His body is at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, Mary L; his father, Giuseppi; seven brothers; and a sister, all in Italy.

Oil Men Hear Hymn; Selection Appropriate

CHICAGO (AP) — Nearly 1,000 persons joined in singing hymns at the 81st birthday of the Pacific Garden Mission in the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Then, hearing that the American Petroleum Institute was meeting in a room across the hall, the mission workers threw open the ballroom doors so the oil men could hear a hymn.

The selection: "Give Me Oil In My Lamp!"

Today's Market Mostly Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was generally higher in active early trading today.

Leading issues rose fractions to about a point. Scattered losses were in about the same range.

The market was mixed at the opening but a higher tendency prevailed and left the list moderately higher. The renewed rise followed some profit taking late last week.

Weekend reports included a satisfactory outlook for steelmakers, a jump in auto sales and the chance of a further rise in copper prices.

U.S. Borax was delayed in opening for 24 minutes under selling pressure generated by a dividend omission. It opened on a block of 4,000 shares off 3 at 37.

Steels, motors, coppers, utilities and selected issues were higher. Aircrafts declined. Oils, building materials and drugs were mixed.

General Dynamics aws down about a point following news of lower earnings, U.S. Steel was more than a point higher. Raytheon added about 2.

Nervous Card Player Cuts Wrist at Table

LINCOLN, Nb. (AP)— Even a water glass can be dangerous.

James L. Skidmore, 15, of Beatrice, Neb., was playing cards at the home of a friend in Lincoln.

Holding a water glass in his hand, he gave it a squeeze.

Skunk Causes Mishap

KENORA, Ont. (AP)—Glen Wiens of Steinbach, Man., stopped near here to let a skunk cross the road. Robert Sundquist of Keewatin, Ont., driving the car behind, wasn't able to stop and his car was badly damaged. The skunk was unharmed.

Munitions Cars Explode in Yard

Shunting Train Scrapes Another, Setting Off Series of Blasts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Exploding ammunition cars rained live artillery shells and hand grenades over a wide area at the Southern Railway's Norris yards Sunday and made the area hazardous.

The threat of additional explosions kept railroad officials at a distance.

Witnesses said five cars loaded with 105 millimeter shells and another with hand grenades were involved. Flames threatened two cars loaded with fuel.

Charles Clem, 25, a volunteer fireman, suffered a fractured skull on a flying fragment. He was listed in fair condition at University Hospital.

The explosions began when the string of ammunition cars sideswiped other cars while a train was being assembled. A railroad worker said he heard a small explosion. A roaring series of blasts followed.

The noise was heard as far as Leeds 14 miles away. Balls of flame billowed skyward as the ammunition went off, and redhot fragments shot through the air. The boiling smoke and continuous explosions drew thousands of spectators.

Fighters Attack Hussein's Plane

Jordan King Forced to Return Home Fleeing MIG Jets Over Syria

LONDON (AP) — Jordan radio announced today that King Hussein had returned to Amman after his plane was attacked by MIG jet fighters over Syria.

The boradcast said the plane, carrying the King to Europe for a vacation, was suddenly attacked by United Arab Republic MIG planes.

The attacking jets attempted to force the King's plane to land in Damascus, said the broadcast, monitored in London.

The pilot then turned the plane back toward Jordan and it "was treacherously attacked six times" before it crossed the border, the Jordanian announcer said.

According to an announcement in Amman before the King's departure, Hussein himself was piloting the twin-engine plane.

There was no report on whether the plane has been damaged.

The MIGs, described by the Jordanian announcement presumably were among those supplied by the Communist bloc to the United Arab Republic.

The air attack, Jordan radio said, occurred just 15 miles from Damascus.

Reports from Amman also said Hussein summoned a Cabinet meeting as soon as he landed.

Although officials would not give his immediate destination, it was reliably reported he had been headed for Cyprus where he planned to change planes for a flight to Switzerland expecting to spend three weeks with his family and celebrate his 24th birthday Nov. 14.

Sees Population Up 100 Million in 22 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government says the U.S. population may jump by nearly 100 million in the next 22 years—to 272,600,000 in 1980.

It also predicted there would be three million more women than men in 1980. The females now outnumber the men by about 1,500,000.

The estimates, released yesterday by the U.S. Census Bureau, were based on the assumption that there would be no war, epidemic major economic depression or other catastrophe which would kill off great numbers of people or sharply reduce the birth rate.

The bureau made four separate forecasts of future U.S. population in a 25-page book based on different birth rates. If the birth rate over the next 22 years was 10 per cent above the current rate it said, the population in 1980 would be 272,600,000. The population on July 1 was about 174,500,000.

If the birth rate continued at the current level, the bureau forecast the population in 1980 would be about 260 million. If it fell back to the average rate in the 1949-51 period, the 1980 population would be 245,500000. If it dropped further to the birth rate during World War II, there would be 231 million people in 1980.

The bureau foresaw continued substantial increases in the number of persons over 65. The number of elderly folks would increase by about 500,000 annually to 24,500,000 in 1980 it predicted. By that time there would be only 72 men over 65 to every 100 women.

At the other end of the age scale the census officials said there would be between 49 and 60 million school-age youngsters of 5 to 17 years old by 1975. There now are 42 million children in this group.

Special Show to Parade Stars

'Satchmo,' Anita O'Day Join Les Brown, Krupa and Host of Others

NEW YORK—Louis Armstrong, asked to define jazz, grinned, "Man, when you got to ask what it is, you'll never get to know!"

The gent, whose golden horn and gravel voice have already made him a musical legend in his lifetime, heads the list of fourteen of the world's top jazz artists who will perform on the next "Timex All-Star Jazz Show" on the CBS television network, 10 to 11 tonight.

Everything from swing to Dixieland to modern and experimental—more than 30 numbers—will be represented on this special program, which originates from the Americana Hotel in Miami Beach, Florida.

Hosts Bob Crosby and Hoagy Carmichael will each perform some of the numbers they have made famous. Bob Crosby's Bobcats will present "The Royal Garden Blues" and, with Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong, "The South Rampart Street Parade." Carmichael will be joined by the entire cast in a medley of his most famous compositions, from "Stardust" to "Georgia on My Mind."

Other highlights include Louis Armstrong's "I Love Jazz," with the Armstrong All-Stars, "The Day the Rains Came," sung by Jane Morgan, and "The One O'clock Jump" with the Les Brown band.

Lionel Hampton will be spotlighted in "Flyin' Home" and, with the Gene Krupa Quartet, in "Moonglow."

Krupa will join bass player Bobby Haggart in "Big Noise from Winnetka," and will team with Hampton, the Les Brown band and songstress Anita O'Day in "Let Me Off Uptown."

MAN, IT'S THE MOST! — Hoagy Carmichael (left) and Bob Crosby will co-host the "Timex All-Star Jazz Show" tonight on TV channel 2. The hour-long program will spotlight 14 of the world's top jazz artists, including Louis Armstrong, Lionel Hampton, Gene Krupa, Les Brown and his band, Anita O'Day and Crosby's Bobcats among others.

The Chico Hamilton Quintet has selected "The Morning After" and "Sleep" as two of their numbers, and the Les Brown band will take the stage for "From This Moment On."

Anita O'Day's additional selections will include "Four Brothers," and Jane Morgan will also sing the modern classic, "You Do Something to Me."

This lineup of stars will present a fast-paced picture of jazz' ever-evolving musical phases.

Music critics today believe that jazz is now in its most creative aspect. And of the classic or Dixieland jazz, which came to fruition in the back streets of the South, Louis Armstrong is undisputed king.

Jazz has been described as "the tension between freedom and discipline, between improvisation and order." But perhaps it is best described by Armstrong himself:

"Jazz is a lazy afternoon—it's the girl you love—it's boiling honey — it's Tchaikowsky's Sixth — and it's spinach."

"The Timex All-Star Jazz Show," the first jazz special of the season, will wind up with a finale that combines all of the show's stars.

Army Readies Moon Rocket

First of 2 Attempts Expected About Dec. 5 if All Goes Well

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Army pushed ahead today with plans for its first moon rocket launching after the latest Air Force attempt fell far short of success.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, said so far the Army is on schedule. Some of the equipment needed to blast a satellite around the moon already has been shipped to the Cape.

If all goes well, the Army probably will make the first of its two attempts about Dec. 5 when the planes of earth and moon again are in the best position.

The Air Force has had three tries and came closest on Oct. 11 when Pioneer I traveled an unprecedented 79,000 miles through space.

A special Jupiter intermediate range ballistic missile will be used as the first stage booster rocket for the Army probe. The fuel capacity and speed of the Jupiter has been increased for the big shoot.

Air Force missilemen pored over flight performance data to determine what caused a power failure in the third stage of the Pioneer II rocket early Saturday morning.

Instead of firing a satellite about 220,000 miles to the moon, the rocket fizzled at an altitude of 1,000 miles and disintegrated in the earth's atmosphere.

Flowers, Boos Make Sudol Feel at Home

FUKUOKA, Japan (AP) — Probably no member of the St. Louis Cardinals' party is enjoying the tour of Japan more than Ed Sudol, the 6-4, National League umpire.

At almost every game Ed, along with Manager Solly Hemus and the rival All-Japan team manager, receives a bouquet of flowers.

"It couldn't happen in the States," Ed said smiling. "The only thing an umpire gets there is a load of raspberries."

The game was attended by about 450 Navy and Marine personnel from the Iwakuni Marine Base. When Sudol received the customary bouquet they let out a great boo and never let up throughout the game.

'Bomb' Found on Porch of Jewish Building

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — An object which appeared to be a bomb was removed from the front porch of a Jewish student center at the University of Missouri Sunday. The highway patrol said the object was harmless.

Rabbi Abraham Pimontel, director of student work at the Hillel Foundation House, said he was sure the device was the work of a prankster.

The device was in a green shoebox. It contained a fuse, a motor powered by flashlight batteries, a timing device and a complex electrical circuit.

The apparatus was doused in water and later dismantled at police headquarters.

At least five Jewish buildings in the United States have been damaged by explosions this year.

Club Doorman Denies Claim Against Sinatra

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I won't let them do that to Frankie!

Police have been told by the Harwyn night club that a photographer's charge that Frank Sinatre ordered a chauffeur to run over him is false.

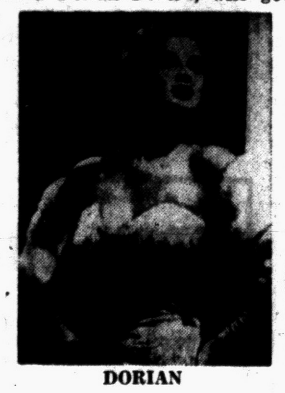

Joe Bernardi, the doorman, witness to the incident, said, "Frank didn't even use any swear words." When the photog said, "This is my job," Frank said, "Why don't you get another job?" —but that ended it.

WILSON

The photog, who claims to have been hit by Frank's fender, spent 45 minutes in the Harwyn after Frank left without mentioning the accusation he made later, so police were told. But he did say he'd had a run-in with Sinatra two years ago and was still angry about it.

A woman reader in New Bedford, Mass., Hilda M. R. Ellison, asks me to pray a little for the newspapers to print more religious news—more items about "being good."

I told her that such news is generally dull—and that the lively writing should be collected, and then it would be used. The don't-be-good boys wrote funnier. Mark Twain, for example, wrote, "Be good and you'll be lonesome," and added, "Truth is the most valuable thing we have. Let us economize it." Wordsworth said, "The good die first."

I can't remember anybody writing anything very breath-taking about the exciting time they had listening to a sermon, although I must say I was a caution when I was a kid cutting up at some of those Epworth League suppers. If you've got any witticisms, aphorisms or bon mots on the pleasure of being good and of going to church, rush 'em in to this sinner.

He has lost his looks and his voice has been impaired by his excesses. I just can't enjoy his program any more. A former fan of his . . . ."

Policeman Dies After Ambush

He's Shot Four Times by Robber-Suspect at Colorado Roadblock

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A rain of bullets cut down a city patrolman early Sunday at a roadblock where he and another officer had halted a car of suspected robbers.

Officer Raymond McMaster, 30, was struck four times. He died a short time later at Boulder Community Hospital.

Sheriff Arthur T. Everson said Revilo Robert Sides, 22, of Denver, was arrested here Sunday afternoon. He was questioned for more than two hours, then jailed without charge. Everson said officers here and in Denver are seeking Sides' brother.

McMaster and Patrolman Howard Grothjan halted the car north of this university city within an hour of a $1,500 armed robbery at a roadside cafe at Lyons, 16 miles north of here.

The officers first believed only one man was in the car. The driver emerged and stood mute. McMaster circled the car and was shot down by a gunman who had left the car unseen on the passenger's side. A third man may have been in the auto, Grothjan said.

The patrolman sprawled on the ground while the bandits fired at him. When another police cruiser approached, McMaster's killer jumped in the bandits' car and escaped. The original driver fled on foot across a field.

McMaster and Grothjan fired nine shots.

The getaway car was found abandoned near a liquor store in North Boulder. There were blood stains in the back seat.

Swarms of officers, joined by Navy ROTC students at the University of Colorado, joined in the search for the gunmen.

Burns Trash, Unaware $340 in Cash Included

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP) — The dough in the pie plate in Solitro's bakery was money.

Pasquale Solitro went to work Sunday, dumped the contents of a wastepaper basket into the incinerator and touched a match to it.

He didn't know that $340 of Saturday's receipts had fallen into the basket.

Solitro collected the charred remains of the money in a pie tin and appealed to the Treasury Department for fresh currency.

Explosion Rips High School

No One Hurt in Blast at Integrated Facility in West Virginia

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP)—A thunderous explosion ripped through an integrated junior high school in the small community of Osage four miles northwest of here early today.

No one was injured and there was no fire.

State police said the 2:15 a.m. explosion was set off deliberately, apparently with dynamite. The explosive is easily obtainable in Osage, a mining town of 400.

The school has 93 Negroes among its 400 pupils.

Charles Stevenson, superintendent of Monongalia County schools, did not rule out the integration issue as a possible motive but made light of it.

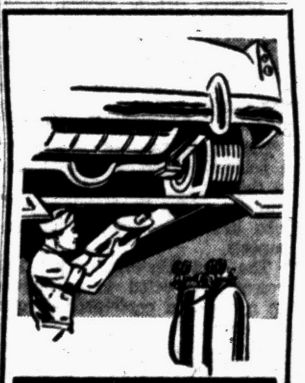

"Intergration here at Osage school has been going on for three years without incident," he said.

Stevenson said the two-story brick building was so badly damaged it will have to be torn down.

He said the explosive was planted in the main hallway of the first floor, just off the gymnasium. Every window in the building was shattered, partitions were knocked down and one of the outer walls was shoved off its base.

State Police Cpl. W. B. Snodgrass and Sheriff Charles Whiston said they found a wire, apparently used to detonate the explosive, leading out a window to the rear of the building.

Boy, 17, Dead in Street Melee

Hold Pennsylvania Youth in Switch-Blade Killing

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — A 20-year-old Chester laborer is bing held on a charge of murder following a bloody riot in which one youth was killed and several others injured.

The brawl broke out early Sunday morning outside a sandwich shop. It broke up just as quickly after a knife was flashed and two combatants stabbed. Those involved were a neighborhood group of Puerto Ricans and a white boy and two carloads of white boys who went to the shop after attending a dance.

The dead boy was Thomas Clemson, 17, West Chester, who police said recently quit high school to go to work. He died of a stab wound in the left chest.

The second stabbing victim, Bruce Kahler, 19, of nearby Downingtown, underwent emergency surgery in West Chester Memorial Hospital for a groin wound. His condition is reported as satisfactory.

Arrested for both stabbings was Estaban (Steve) Chamorro, 20, who police say has confessed after undergoing five hours of questioning through an interpreter. Chamorro, a Puerto Rican, speaks broken English.

Chester police gave this reconstruction of the riot:

Clemson and Kahler and nine companions attended a dance. Then they drove in two cars to the sandwich shop.

Chamorro and his brother, Dario 29, and several of their Puerto Rican friends already were in the shop. Also in the crowded place were some white and Negro youths.

Some uncomplimentary remarks were exchanged and then Dario and three of the white boys stepped outside. They were joined by Douglas Pierce, 24, Chester, who is white and backed up Dairo.

Then a wild melee broke out. The three white boys were joined by eight companions. Estaban came to the aid of Dario and Pierce.

Estaban pulled out a switchblade knife and began slashing. In shifting the knife from one hand to the other, he cut himself on both hands.

As the fight raged Clemson staggered aside and said he was cut. With that the boys panicked. Nine of them piled into an auto and it roared off. Arriving at Memorial Hospital they carried Clemson into the accident ward. He was dead. Kahler was taken to the operating room.

Police believe Clemson's life might have been saved had the boys stopped at Chester Hospital which they passed in their hasty flight of 18 miles to West Chester. By then the front seat of the car was covered with blood.

Police arrested the nine Chester boys, two of whom later were released.

This was the second such incident in the past few weeks in this industrial city of some 70000 people. Chester is about 30 miles south of Philadelphia. Halloween night, following a community parade, gangs of youths, both whtei and Negro engaged in scattered fights. Two policemen and a cadet from nearby Pennsylvania Military College who tried to break up the melee were hurt slightly. Police said the gangs did not battle each other but rather harassed other citizens.

Rebels Free 25 Air Travelers

30-Hour Truce Lets Cuban Red Cross Take Wounded to Shelter

HAVANA (UPI) — A 30-hour truce in rebel-ridden Oriente Province, ending at 6 a.m. (EST) today, cleared the way for the release of 25 "kidnaped" air travelers and the exchange of hundreds of other prisoners.

The Cuban Red Cross, which handled the exchange, sent a fleet of ambulances into the area to bring out wounded prisoners.

Although it was assumed that the 25 travelers, passengers on a Cuban airliner hijacked by the rebels last week, would be among the first persons released, it was impossible immediately to confirm that they have been freed.

They probably will be taken to Santiago, capital of Oriente and destination of the hijacked DC3, where those who wish to do so may board Havana-bound planes. The passengers include U.S. Naval air crewman Robert Montgomery, of Miami, and 10 Cuban women.

Wounded prisoners are scheduled to be flown from Santiago to hospitals here, while men who were captured unhurt come here by rail for a brief leave before returning to active duty.

It was reported today that the Cuban air force has located the missing plane, along with another DC3 stolen by the rebels last month, at an airstrip in Calabazas, 50 miles northeast of Santiago.

Informed sources said the two planes are parked under heavy camouflage alongside the 4,000-foot runway of the airstrip, which is believed to be a principal base for the smuggling ring which has run some 400 planeloads of arms in from Florida in recent months.

'U.S. Go Home' Red Price of World Warning Plan

GENEVA, (AP) — Russia today demanded sweeping nuclear disarmament and elimination of foreign military bases as its price warning system against surprise attacks.

Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Vassili Kuznetsov opened an East-West conference on prevention of surprise attacks with a thinly veiled denunciation of American foreign policy.

The appearance of Kuznetsov, a political expert, as a delegate at the conference in itself was a surprise to the Western delegates who are scientists and military experts.

The five Western nations represented expected to participate in a technical conference devoted to feeling out the capacity of the two sides for launching a surprise war, and to see if there is the technical means of preventing such surprise. They expected to engage in no political problems.

The five-week meeting, in which the Soviet bloc also is represented by five countries, could prove to be a fateful international card game, with each side gradually revealing a bit of its hand in the secret weapon category, especially missiles and bombers.

The Western delegates are not empowered to conduct disarmament negotiations or even discuss a possible future treaty for the prevention of surprise attacks. Their view is that such a treaty would be negotiated at a later political conference if the experts agree a warning system is technically feasible.

Warrant Sought for Arson Here

Pontiac Township Man Arrested by City Police After House Fire

Pontiac Police today are seeking an arson warrant against a Pontiac Township man arrested after a $1,400 house fire in the city Saturday night.

Held for investigation is Charles Jack Rhines, 33, of 1676 Taylor Rd.

Rhines was picked up after police received a tip from a person who said he had driven Rhines to the home at 1265 Cherrylawn Drive shortly before the blaze broke out.

The home is rented by a Jack Marsh. The fire was confined to the rear shed and kitchen of the house.

Rhines admitted going to the home before the fire, but denied that he was responsible for setting the blace.

Weren't They Piggish?

LONDON (UPI) — Kenneth Evans, 18, a piggery worker, looked around to see why the pigs were being so quiet while he cleaned their pen. Evans found they were eating his pay. He salvaged just $1 of the $15 that had fallen from his pocket.

Kidnap Officer in Mexico, Race Across Border

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Two Los Angeles men kidnaped a Tijuana policeman and sped across the border into the United States to avoid being jailed in the Mexican border town.

The officer finally grabbed the ignition key and halted the car a mile north of the border and John Lewis and William Tinker, both 23, wound up in a San Diego jail.

They said they were arrested in Tijuana for driving the wrong way on a one-way bridge Sunday. When they were unable to pay a $10 fine on the spot the officer got in the car and ordered them to drive to the Tijuana jail.

Instead Lewis, the driver, shot across the border past startled customs guards, refusing to stop even when the Mexican policeman pulled a gun.

"I told him to shoot," said Lewis. "I didn't want to go to the Tijuana jail."

They were taken into custody by San Diego police, who had chased them from the border, and booked on suspicion of kidnaping, violating the custom laws and drunkenness.

'Mommy, Jerry Hung Himself'—Proves True

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Charlotte Dowdy, 7, walked into her house and said her brother Jerry was hanging from a tree with a rope around his neck.

But, Mrs. Luther Dowdy told police, her 10-year-old son often scared his sister with the rope trick, so there wasn't much excitement. Just the same she checked.

She found Jerry, who had accidentally hanged himself, dangling from the tree limb. Hospital officials said the youth is in serious condition and may have suffered a brain injury.
