More Victims of Congolese Slaughter Found

SHE PICKS 'EM — Mrs. Donald A. Bradford receives The Press Annual Football Contest winning award of a $500 U. S. Savings Bond from staffer Howard Heldenbrand.

Gal Grid Guesser

Press Pays the Winner

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND
No flesh - and - blood grid-iron clash ever had a more cliff-hanger windup than the Press' Annual Football contest that was decided Thanksgiving Day.

Of the four surviving contestants, three had pinned their hopes of sharing the $500 U.S. Savings Bond winner's award on Detroit's Lions.

The fourth, Mrs. Donald A. Bradford, of 2600 Woodbine, Waterford Township, saw the Chicago Bears in the victor's role that would give her sole possession of the prize.

But no coach ever sweated out a tougher tussle than did the contest winner when, with less than two minutes to play, the Bears moved in for a field goal and a three-point win to break a 24-24 tie.

With the contest victory a reality, Mrs. Bradford commented on past participation in the event.

"We've entered the Press competition for the past five years with five family entries," said the 39-year-old mother of four. "But until this year we have always been eliminated early."

NO SYSTEM
Questioned as to what approach she'd taken in picking winners, it appeared that there had been no "system" employed.

Each game had been weighed from every angle, with the predominant factors dictating choices.

Oddly enough, no mention was made of the much-vaunted mothers' intuition for deciding matters of paramount importance.

Mrs. Bradford's amazing feat of picking 14 consecutive winners — against which the odds loom astronomical — solidified the monopoly that the ladies hold as winners of the newspaper's yearly pigskin puzzle.

MALE HOUSEHOLD

But masculine contestants might salve wounded pride with the knowledge that the charming clairvoyant presides over a football-oriented male household, and that the astuteness she displayed was but the vicarious expression of their perspicacity.

(This doesn't sound very convincing, but it's the best we could do.)

What plans has the lady for spending the proceeds of her peerless prognostications?

Well, none specifically — but there was the impression that with a backfield of children, Christmas coming, and deferred purchase of a thing or two for the house, the winnings will fade like a Florida sun.

CHARLES SCHREIBER

Rifle Discharge Kills City Teen

A 13-year-old boy was accidentally shot and killed yesterday afternoon when a 22-caliber rifle discharged in the living room of a Pontiac home.

Dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital was Charles Schreiber, son of Mrs. Marjorie Schreiber of 781 E. Columbia.

The weapon was being held by John Perry Jr., 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, 801 E. Columbia, when the accident occurred. The shooting took place in the Perry home.

Police said Perry had brought his rifle downstairs to clean at about 2 p.m. yesterday. He was attempting to remove the bolt assembly when the single-shot weapon discharged.

Officers said the rifle was the type that necessitates pulling the trigger to release the bolt action.

HIT UNDER EYE

The bullet struck Schreiber, who was sitting in a sofa across the room, under the right eye and was deflected into his brain.

Perry's 12-year-old brother, Thomas, was sitting next to Schreiber when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Perry told police she was in the kitchen eating when the fatal shot was fired. She said that the two boys were close companions.

John was questioned by Pontiac police after the mishap and then released to the custody of his father.

Mars Probe Is Launched Successfully

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla.

(AP) — An interplanetary spaceship named Mariner 4 rocketed into space today, and the flight control center reported it apparently executed early maneuvers successfully on the start of an intended 7½-month journey to Mars.

The electronic explorer, which represents the United States' last chance for a close look at Mars for two years, was scheduled to fly across 325 million miles of trackless space before passing within 8,600 miles of the red planet next July 14.

During a 20-minute encounter, before Mariner 4 soars past Mars into orbit about the sun, a television camera is to take 22 pictures, and instruments are to study atmospheric density, radiation and other scientific secrets.

Jack James, Mariner project director, told a news conference three hours after launching that preliminary tracking data indicated Mariner 4 was progressing smoothly. He said that radio information on rocket and spacecraft performance was being fed into computers and tracking was continuing in order to calculate the trajectory precisely.

James reported that six instruments designed to explore secrets of interplanetary space throughout the journey were working and sending clear signals to the earth.

"We see nothing to alarm us at this time," James said. A spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said definite information was expected late this afternoon on whether Mariner's present course would have to be altered, as it could be, by firing a steering motor aboard the spacecraft.

ON ITS WAY

A towering, 100-foot Atlas-Agena rocket started Mariner 4 on its way, blasting off from Cape Kennedy exactly on schedule, at 9:22 a.m. EST, with a surge of flaming power from its three booster engines.

The control center reported radio data indicated no hitch with the protective covering today.

No Viet Nam Dramatics — LBJ

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson said today he expects "no dramatic announcements" to emerge from current Viet Nam policy talks. And he discouraged any speculation that the war might be expanded into Laos or North Viet Nam.

Johnson, holding his first post-election news conference at his ranch home, also defended his decision to allow American military intervention in the Congo. The President said it was a humanitarian move and added, "We think we've saved hundreds and thousands of lives."

Johnson said he was outraged by the massacre of hostages in the Congo and "We certainly hope the perpetrators of these outrages will be brought to justice."

CALLING CONTRIBUTORS — Mrs. Pat McCarrick of 201 Whittemore rings the bell calling customers to her bright red kettle. She seeks donations for the Salvation Army Christmas fund. Joan Wyant of 34 Crescent slips her contribution in the kettle at the corner of West Huron and Saginaw. Salvation Army lads and lassies will man the kettles until they have enough to provide food and fun for the needy at Christmas.

Millionaire Snubs Kin

Gets Wish to Share Loot

CHICAGO (AP) — A 78-year-old investor's wish to distribute about half of his $12 million fortune among 25 friends and business associates that "I may see them enjoy it" has been granted by a Chicago judge.

Lawrence L. Goddard, a retired head clerk for an insurance company, pointedly omitted a daughter, a niece and a nephew from his largesse and assured Circuit Judge Daniel A. Covel yesterday he knows what he is doing.

Goddard, from a wheelchair, told the judge he wanted to repay his friends for "kindnesses accorded the donor."

He said he had not received the same kindnesses from his daughter, Florence; a niece, Margaret L., and a nephew, Leiland. Goddard did not elaborate.

Goddard assured Judge Covel that he'll manage quite comfortably on the $21,000 annual income from the stock he retains.

COURT SANCTION

Originally, Goddard had arranged bequests of stock after his death under an irrevocable trust. For that reason he had to have court sanction for an immediate distribution.

But the original trust and the new arrangement stipulated.

White Death Total Is Now Put at 97; 300 More Still Held

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The discovery of new victims of slaughter by Congolese rebels has raised the total of known white victims to 97. Unofficial reports of another rebel massacre could mean nearly 150 foreigners were killed.

With the U.S.-Belgian rescue mission, which dramatically saved more than 1,600 white hostages in Stanleyville and Paulis, scheduled to close today, the fate of perhaps 300 whites still behind rebel lines depends on the mercenary-led Congolese forces.

There have been reports the huge American C130 transport planes might ferry Belgian paratroopers for a drop at Bunia, on the eastern Congo border, or Watsa, to the northeast.

But Belgian Premier Theo Lefevre said in Brussels that the rescue mission would be completed today.

The International Red Cross announced last night that 45 whites, including four Spanish nuns, were killed in a final rampage in Stanleyville's African quarter before government troops seized the section, on the left bank of the Congo River.

BODIES MUTILATED

The bodies were mutilated beyond recognition, with throats cut and cannibalism suspected in several cases, a Red Cross spokesman said.

The massacre was discovered when government soldiers crossed to the left bank in effort to flush out rebels still holding much of that part of the city.

One of five survivors was Camille Borry of Belgium, who said: "We bought our lives with beer and money. The killing began in front of the main market Wednesday. The sisters had nothing to give them."

ISSUE PROTESTS

African leaders and the Communist world continued to protest the U.S.-Belgium mission as "armed intervention."

At United Nations Headquarters in New York, the African group drafted a formal request for a Security Council meeting on the Congo situation. The Congo sided.

The request would not be presented, however, until the governments in Africa gave the go-ahead.

Morning Is Balmy, but Just You Wait

Don't be misled by this morning's balmy temperatures. The mercury's planning to hit a low of 10 to 20 tonight. Although the sun will shine tomorrow, it won't warm up the area. The high forecast is in the 20s.

There's a chance of rain or snow and little change in temperatures. This morning's low recording in downtown Pontiac was 42. The temperature at 2 p.m. was 43.

Crash Injury Proves Fatal to Area Man

A Waterford Township man died at 3:20 a.m. today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital from injuries suffered two hours earlier when his car overturned on the Square Lake Road exit of I-75, Bloomfield Township.

Dead is Sam Peter Cusumano, 29, of 2406 Ostrum.

Township police said that Cusumano's 1956 Volkswagen apparently went out of control when it touched the shoulder of the road.

There were no witnesses. The car turned over several times and Cusumano was thrown from the car, police said.

DEDICATION SPEAKERS — Howard Hill (left), deputy director of the State Highway Department, and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr., were two of several speakers whose remarks were a part of yesterday's dedication of Wide Track Drive. Both Taylor and Hill lauded the cooperation between city, state and federal officials in completing the perimeter route.

Rip Embassies in Red Capital

MOSCOW (U) — Rampaging Asian and African students attacked the U.S. Belgian and Congolese embassies today, screaming anti-West slogans and protesting U.S. and Belgian actions in the Congo.

A mob of 500 to 800 students brushed past police lines in front of the U.S. Embassy, smashed nearly every window on the first floor with rocks,

Four Deaths Add to State Weekend Toll

By The Associated Press

Four new deaths have lifted Michigan's traffic death toll to 15 for the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

One of the newly reported deaths was that of a man injured Thursday night in a collision which claimed the life of a passenger in his car.

The Associated Press tabulation of holiday weekend traffic fatalities began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and continues to midnight Sunday.

The victims: Clarence Cole, 69, of Howard City, was killed Friday when his car turned left into the path of another on M 46 in Montcalm County.

Edward H. Secunda, 21, of Dearborn, died Friday of injuries suffered in a two-car crash Thursday. The accident, which police said was caused when Secunda's car ran a red light in Dearborn Heights, earlier claimed the life of Secunda's passenger, Lawrence J. Lindner, 20, of Dearborn.

Sam Cusumano, 29, of Waterford Township was injured fatally Friday night when his car went out of control on the Square Lake Road exit from Interstate 75 and overturned in Oakland County.

Samuel Reed, 48, of Sandstone, W.Va., was killed Friday night when hit by a car on M54 in Grand Blanc outside Flint.

Quake Hits Tokyo; No Damage Reported

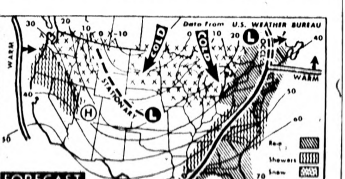

TOKYO (UPI) — A long, rolling earthquake was felt in Tokyo today at 9:52 p.m. 7:52 a.m. EST. It lasted about 90 seconds and caused buildings to sway. There were no reports of damage.

BREAKING TRADITION — Tradition, as well as a bright red ribbon, was broken yesterday when this 1965 Pontiac convertible officially opened Wide Track Drive. The conventional ribbon-cutting was replaced by a ribbon-breaking as the short drive marked the dedication of the perimeter road.

ing of Wide Track Drive will signal a new beginning for a new downtown Pontiac which we hope will achieve a good acceptance and high regard among the communities of this state," Taylor said.

The tear-shaped loop was paid for with city, state and federal funds. Pontiac paid $755,000 toward the construction of the multilane roadway.

The only remaining work to be done on Wide Track is at the Orchard Lake and Auburn connections. Taylor estimated that in about one week, the project would be completed.

late "the donor intentionally has made no provision whatsoever" for Goddard's daughter, niece and nephew because "he did not receive the same kindnesses from them."

Judge Covelli had postponed a decision earlier until Goddard could come to court.

He came to court in a wheelchair because of a recent leg operation and softly reaffirmed, "I want to see my friends enjoy the money now."

GREATER SHARE
Goddard's accountants said beneficiaries will actually receive a greater share under the new arrangement which is subject to gift tax, rather than the higher inheritance tax.

Goddard owns 213,018 shares of insurance company stocks recently quoted at $66 a share.

He intends to give away 101,174 shares — clear; pay gift tax himself out of what he keeps.

Under the now revoked trust, Goddard estimated beneficiaries would have been able to keep $4,556,000 after paying inheritance taxes amounting to $8,244,000.

Goddard's lawyer, Almore H. Teske, said it will take a few weeks to complete legal details of the transfers of stock.

In Kidnap-Slaying Arrest 3rd Suspect

CHICAGO (AP) — Diminutive Phillip Angelo Battaglia Jr. was formally accused Friday of taking part in a kidnaping that resulted in the slaying of an Indianapolis man whose sporty white car he craved.

The FBI, meanwhile, arrested a third man as an accessory in the abduction last month of William R. Loomis, 39, who lived in Indianapolis but maintained an apartment in Chicago. Robert Duane Lazzaro, 27, is charged with abetting the kidnaping.

In custody at Lebanon, Mo., is Ray Weddell Thorburn, 42, who signed a statement admitting he shot Loomis to death in Northern Michigan.

Battaglia, who weighs 70 pounds and is 4 feet 10, was jailed without bond after his attorney, Doris Conrad, waived preliminary hearing before U.S. Commissioner J. S. Bentley Pike.

Lazzaro's arraignment before Pike was to have been today. Federal prosecutors said Thorburn, who was known to Battaglia as Jerry Lee Rogers, will be brought to Chicago for trial on an aggravated kidnaping charge, a capital crime under federal law.

Federal officers and Prosecutor Arthur Dunne declined to reveal Lazzaro's role in the kidnaping. Lazzaro, a grocery clerk, was arrested at work.

Dunne said that Battaglia related this story: He and Thorburn went together to Loomis' apartment Oct. 15 after reading a newspaper advertisement in which Loomis advertised his white foreign car for sale. Thorburn grabbed Loomis and tied him up. The men put Loomis in the trunk of the automobile and drove to Upper Michigan.

There, Thorburn drove with Loomis to a nearby spot and returned alone. Sheriff Francis Murphy said at Lebanon that Thorburn admitted he shot Loomis and left him near Manistiquie where hunters discovered the body Sunday. Loomis' car was abandoned at Memphis, Tenn.

The Wayne County version of a bill permitting county home rule will be recommended to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at its next regular meeting Dec. 15.

A special committee on county home rule voted yesterday to recommend the bill, which is essentially the same one that died in the House Committee on Towns and Counties after being passed by the Senate in the 1964 session of the Michigan Legislature.

The bill provides that the board of supervisors of any county may submit the question of home rule to a referendum vote.

A primary election is held at the same time to nominate candidates for a charter commission of from 9 to 38 members.

The commission is then elected at the next regular primary election and given six months to draw up a home-rule charter for the county.

After approval by the governor, the charter is submitted to the people for adoption or rejection.

Pressure for county home rule has been mounting in the metropolitan counties of the state ever since the adoption of Michigan's new constitution.

The constitution only permits it, however, and enabling legislation will have to be passed before any county can adopt it.

Although classed as enabling legislation, the Wayne County bill is specific in its provisions for continuation of all the services, facilities, offices and ordinances of counties now in existence, unless the charter provides otherwise.

PART OF PROGRAM
If approved by the board of supervisors, the bill will become part of Oakland's legislative program to be submitted to the 1965 legislature.

Less opposition to county home rule legislation is expected in the upcoming session because of the possibility that Michigan boards of supervisors may have to be reorganized on a population basis.

This will be decided soon by the Michigan Supreme Court, which is scheduled to review a Circuit Court ruling that the Kalamazoo County Board of Supervisors is unconstitutional under the 14th Amendment.

12 Fliers Killed in Plane Crash

Bodies Strewn Over Alaska Mountainside

KODIAK, Alaska (U) — Twelve Navy fliers died yesterday when an antisubmarine patrol plane crashed into a mountain near the tip of Cape Newenham, 250 miles northwest of Kodiak.

A four-man rescue party found the wreckage of the burned plane and bodies of the crew strewn over about 500 feet of mountainside.

The group was led by Maj. Curtis Gruye, commander of the Cape Newenham, Distant Aircraft Control and Warning Station.

The crash was four miles west of the military site. The plane hit about 200 feet below the crest of the mountain, 800 feet above the sea.

The twin-engined P2V Neptune from Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Wash., was stationed at Kodiak on rotating assignment.

ROUTINE PATROL
It had taken off from Kodiak Naval Station on a routine coastal ice patrol.

Gruye said at the time of the crash visibility at the Air Force radar site was about one-half mile, and at the crash site it was about 30 feet. He said radar contact was difficult because the plane was "flying on the deck."

The search group had to descend a 1,000-foot cliff to reach the wreckage, and ropes will be needed to remove the bodies today, Gruye said.

He said a normal position report was received from the plane crew at the aircraft control site at 9:05 a.m. yesterday, and attempts were made later to radio the plane, but they were unsuccessful. Then a column of black smoke was seen rising through the overcast.

STARTED ON SEARCH
Gruye, T. Sgt. Joseph J. Kowalko, T. Sgt. at the radar site, and T. Sgt. Leland Snyder, a paramedic from Elmendorf Air Force Base at Anchorage, and a fourth man started on the search moments later.

FEDERAL WARRANT
He is to be arraigned in Madison on a federal warrant charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

The FBI said Wyngaard has a long record of convictions for burglary and larceny that have kept him in jail most of his adult life.

Evergreen School to Get Team-Teaching Program

BIRMINGHAM — Team teaching is on its way in the Birmingham school system.

While students are home for the Christmas recess, a core group of teachers will begin learning the rudiments of the new educational concept.

After more meetings during spring vacation and a two-week workshop in the summer, they will be ready to employ the method when Evergreen Elementary School opens in September.

The school now under construction is to be devoted entirely to team teaching, with about 530 students and 25 teachers involved in the program at its outset.

To insure enthusiasm for the project, School Supt. Dr. John B. Smith asked members of his staff to volunteer for participation.

Suspect in Robbery Found in Wisconsin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The arrest in Madison, Wis., of a robbery suspect who escaped from Detroit police last July was announced today by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Raymond L. Wyngaard, 27, one of the FBI's 10 most-wanted fugitives, was arrested in downtown Madison while riding in a taxi, the FBI said.

Wyngaard escaped while en route to a Detroit courtroom for arraignment on a robbery charge July 24. The FBI said he and an accomplice went on a three-day crime spree in Detroit immediately after the escape, robbing a gun shop and a supermarket, shooting and wounding a Detroit policeman and stealing three cars.

Thant Seeks to Avoid U.N. Showdown
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Secretary General U. Thant was reported today to have proposed that the United Nations avoid a political showdown on the financial crisis with Russia when it convenes next week.

Authoritative sources said Thant has proposed that the General Assembly perform only essential tasks without taking any votes, and then adjourn until February to seek a solution to the financial problem.

The United States insists that Russia be deprived of its assembly vote for refusing to pay anything toward the $32.6 million it owes for peace-keeping costs in the Congo and the Middle East.

A political showdown was expected the first time a vote was taken.

Second Quint Dies in Paris

PARIS (AP) — A second of the Samba quintuplets died today, the French Ministry of Health reported. The surviving three are suffering from respiratory difficulties.

Dominique, the fourth born and at 2 pounds 12 ounces the heaviest, stopped making spontaneous efforts to breathe Friday night. Doctors kept him alive by artificial means until noon today.

The quintuplets were born five days ago, two months prematurely.

Rice-Paddy Battle

'Smooth Job' Kills 46 Cong

CHAO GAO, South Viet Nam (AP) — A smoothly coordinated ground operation, supported by artillery and helicopter air strikes, left 46 Communist Viet Cong dead today in this lush delta area 27 miles southwest of Saigon.

Lt. Col. Hugh Hoffman, an American military advisor with the South Viet Nam 7th Division, described as "very successful" the battle fought in and near the rich green rice paddies almost ready for harvesting.

In addition to the 46 confirmed Communist dead, the enemy was estimated to have lost 90 in killed and wounded which were carried away. Seventy Viet Cong were captured, one suspected Viet Cong was seized and 14 weapons were collected.

South Vietnamese losses were placed at eight killed and 19 wounded.

BORDER ACTION
Government troops went into action Friday along the border of Dinh Tuong and Long An provinces after intelligence reports were received that two local Viet Cong companies were preparing to strike an isolated South Vietnamese outpost.

A Vietnamese marine battalion was moved along a main canal connecting the area with Saigon while an infantry battalion slugged its way through the rice paddies and other government troops landed by helicopter.

CHINESE GUN IN CONGO — Belgian paratroops examine a Chinese-made machine gun captured from Congolese rebels in Stanleyville. Auto Death Toll Near Normal Rate

By The Associated Press
Deaths on the nation's highways, after a heavy toll on Thanksgiving, appeared to be running near normal today at the halfway point in the extended holiday weekend.

The traffic death toll headed for the 300 mark and a possible record high for a four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Since the start of the count at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday, 289 persons have lost their lives in traffic accidents.

The 102-hour period ends at midnight Sunday. The record death toll for the holiday is 543; set in 1963. The National Safety Council records show the average daily toll in the first nine months this year was 126. On Thanksgiving about 150 persons were killed in auto accidents, compared to approximately 110 Friday.

Safety experts said the stormy weather in rocky areas and the return of work of the majority of Americans were major factors in the reduction of fatalities reported Friday.

The council did not make a preliminary estimate of traffic deaths for Thanksgiving or for the four-day weekend. It said the period does not involve much extra long-distance travel except for Thanksgiving Day.

For comparison purposes the Associated Press made a survey of a nonholiday weekend of 102 hours, from Nov. 11 to Nov. 15. There were 468 traffic fatalities.

Since AP started keeping count of highway deaths for the Thanksgiving weekend in 1958, the record low toll was 442 in 1960.

2 Quads Back in the Hospital

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—Two of the Lyons Quadruplets are back in the hospital where they were born after a brief stay at home in nearby Maury City, Tenn.

Lamar and Willie Lyons Jr., were hospitalized Friday for what hospital administrator T. Ray Jones called "observation due to head colds."

The quads were born Nov. 1 to the Rev. and Mrs. Willie Grant Lyons. Lamar and a sister, Carline, went home Nov. 19. Willie Jr. and Polly Ann left the hospital Monday.

Lyons is a part-time preacher who supplements his $28 a month salary doing odd jobs. A fund to aid the family has reached $7,000. Contributions of $1,377 Friday included a $250 check from Gov. Frank Clement and his cabinet.

Teachers Take Class to Curb Teen Drinking

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A Macomb County schoolteachers group is trying to do something about teen-age drinking.

The teachers will take an extensive course on alcohol from the University of Detroit, then pass on their new information to students and other teachers.

The project, sponsored by the Macomb Committee on Alcohol Education, follows public concern over youngsters' drinking and the reported discovery that 61 per cent of children from the high through 12th grades drink.

Dr. Margaret Clay, research psychologist for the State Board of Alcoholism, said this incidence of drinking by youngsters was disclosed in a survey.

Dr. Clay said the extent of drinking among the 61 per cent ranged from "only on holidays" to "often."

From two years of study Dr. Clay said it also was determined that students had little instruction about alcohol in schools and that the teachers themselves lacked knowledge of the subject.

The Macomb committee said the study course arranged for the teachers will be unique in Michigan and perhaps in the country.

Ninety per cent of Macomb's high school students have "some experience" with drinking before they graduate, Dr. Clay said her studies showed.

Quiz Witness in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate staff investigators in the Bobby Baker case examined a list of 20 witnesses today in preparation for hearings next week into charges that the former Senate aide was involved in a $25,000 political kickback.

Insurance salesman Don B. Reynolds was quizzed for 2 1/2 hours yesterday by Senate Rules Committee staff members to preview testimony to be aired at public hearings starting Tuesday.

Reynolds eluded newsmen after the session in the committee's office and left by a rear door in quick contrast to his stormy exit last Tuesday when he eluded a United Press International photographer in the eye after appearing to answer a committee subpoena.

Lemmon P. McClelland, committee chief counsel, told newsmen yesterday that about 20 witnesses may testify during the hearings which he said he hoped could be concluded by the end of next week.

Nearly 20 per cent of the country's energy needs is provided by electricity. By 1980 an estimated 30 per cent of the power will be from electrical sources.

Overdue Economy Seen as Military Bases Cut

Although communities and their congressional representatives have already voiced strong protests, we can only applaud the action of Secretary of Defense ROBERT S. McNAMARA in eliminating nearly a hundred superfluous military bases.

Together with a program of re-trenchment initiated in early 1961 that hit 574 bases considered surplus or obsolete, an annual saving of $1 billion is in prospect.

McNAMARA

A total of 63,000 military and civilian jobs will gradually be phased out of the Nation's defense establishment along with the abandonment of 600 square miles of land, which will become available for private, state or local government use.

Acknowledging that the cutbacks will be regarded as "bad news by particular areas because of loss of significant payrolls," McNAMARA pointed out that there is also good news in their announcement, not only for taxpayers and the citizens who are concerned about efficiency and economy in government but for residents of many of the affected communities.

He explained that the facilities to be closed will now be made available to be put to their best use, and that if returned to private ownership will make a substantial contribution to local tax rolls.

The forthright action of the defense secretary is a shining example of the sort of fiscal responsibility which so many political figures espouse but do nothing about.

He exemplified the acumen and determination that characterize the executive community of private enterprise which, incidentally, in his case moved him to the presidency of the vast Ford industrial empire.

We salute his conscientious and courageous championship of the public interest and only regret that it is made noteworthy by the general lack of it in government circles.

Clock Again Depicts Fantasy of Hamelin

One of the minor casualties of World War II was the famous Pied Piper Clock, destroyed during bombardment of the storied Westphalian village of Hamelin.

This happened in April 1945, one month before the end of the war in which the German people followed the most sinister Pied Piper of them all.

Today, donations by visitors, contributions from local residents have made possible the installation of a new clock.

High up in the gables of the town hall, 29 new cast bells sound the time while twice a day half-life-size figures of the Pied Piper and a procession of rats and children appear, just as of old.

One more scar of World War II is healed. Hamelin belongs to the kids again.

Summer Tourism Hit Record High in State

A new record was set last summer by motor travel in and out of Michigan.

There are, however, contradictory

trends in the statistics contributing to the over-all result.

Although some 3.5 million Michiganders took motor trips during the vacation months, fewer took them in their home state. But the unprecedented influx of motorists from other states more than offset the drop.

Altogether, a whopping 8.5 million summer tourists spent $610 million in the State, surpassing 1963's total number of tourists and the amount of money they spent by 12 per cent. Among state industries, tourism now ranks third.

"We have entered the inter-state tourist exchange era because of freeways," says JERRY E. FISHER, tourist manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan. "But freeways alone are not responsible for the interstate travel increase," he adds. "Our prosperity is also showing, because more people are finding it economically possible to take longer automobile trips than ever before."

Significantly, Michigan's recreation season is no longer confined to the summer months. With more than 80 ski centers alone, it is most appropriate that the State's 1965 motor license plates bear the new slogan: Water-Winter Wonderland.

Jungle Doctors Bring Hope, Life

By JOHN BARBOUR
WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a breed of American doctors who gather the world's poorest humanity in their hands and who leave their mark on the minds of men from the mountains of Southeast Asia to the steaming forests of Africa and South America.

And, save for the moments when they dramatically die, the Tom Dooleys and the Paul Carlsons labor largely unknown and unacclaimed by their fellow Americans.

One such dramatic moment came this week in a place called Lumumba Square in a city called Stanleyville in a country called the Congo.

It was a strange place to die for a man from a more common place called Rolling Hills, Cal.

But Dr. Paul Carlson — a man with something to give—had chosen to be there because he felt he was needed there.

So it is for a growing number of American doctors who forsake convenient American living and rewarding medical practice at home to serve for nearly nothing in the wildernesses of the world.

MORE THAN 2,000
There are more than 2,000 American doctors at work today—strange transplants into the frustrations of poverty, among diseases they never see at home, in places where suspicion is the rule and trust must be won, and where the most important mail from home might be a package of surplus drug samples.

Like Carlson, they may work in a jungle clearing, they may find their day beginning before dawn and ending beyond midnight, they may find the simplest needs for clean water, trained help hard to come by.

They certainly find no shortage of patients.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS

"O little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie!"

The words of this famous carol by The Rev. Phillips Brooks were inspired by a visit he made to Bethlehem at Christmas time in 1866. The beautiful tune for the carol was written by his organist, Lewis Redner, while Mr. Brooks was pastor of the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia. His faith has given us a carol for all time and a prayer that can be repeated again and again.

"O holy Child of Bethlehem!
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born in us today..."

Days of All Faiths:

Jews Observe Feast of Hanukkah

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER
When the Jews were forced to live in ghettos they had many problems, but there is one they did not have — the danger of becoming assimilated into the religious culture of the Gentiles around them. This happens only when they are free to live where they please and mingle with whom they please.

The ghetto gave protection. The Jews lived in isolation, but they were isolated as a group. They formed their own community and gave one another support and comfort.

But with freedom and equality there comes a difference. The Gentile culture has its customs, which require adjustment, and its attractions, which the individual Jew must face without the degree of support he used to get from his brethren. The pressures are overwhelming. Persecution makes for solidarity and unity among the persecuted, but these are in danger of disappearing when the persecution stops.

STARTED AS SOLSTICE FESTIVAL

This is what Hanukkah is now about, but it hasn't always been so. Probably in ancient days there was a Jewish festival at this time of the year. All the early peoples had a season of joy at the winter solstice, when the year has reached its darkest point and the sun turns back again and the days begin to lengthen.

Astronomy in those times was inexact and the date of the festivals only approximated the solstice. The Romans began their Saturnalia on December 17. Christians set Christmas as December 25. The Jews, with their lunar months, varied their winter festivities from early to late December. But the custom of rejoicing at the solstice was universal.

The time came, however, when the Jews' winter festival rose to a far greater significance. Late in the second century before Christianity their little country was invaded by the Syrian armies of Antiochus Epiphanes, whose aim was not only to possess the land but also to destroy the Jewish religion.

And, as is always the case, there were those who were ready to be collaborators. The story was the same then as it is now — pressures from the outside and weaknesses on the inside. An attractive, sophisticated, tempting culture all around them, and many Jews deserting the faith of their fathers for the glamorous new ways.

All this may seem small and remote to us today, but Cecil Roth, an eminent historian, says this little war determined the future of civilization. "The Battle of Emmaus (the greatest victory of the war) should be placed among the fifteen decisive battles of the world," says Roth, "because it decided that modern civilization shall have a Jewish-Christian ethic."

Because of Judah and his victory, Jews now have the religious festival of Hanukkah instead of a mere pagan welcoming of the sun's return at this season. They remember that they owe their very existence as Jews to the man who against impossible odds refused to be assimilated. And they rejoice with presents for the children, with special festive foods, and with plays, concerts, and balls.

Washington Notebook:

Wit of Late President Recalled

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON (NEA)—Friends and admirers of the late John F. Kennedy appeared to deem it fitting, rather than inappropriate, to take note of the first anniversary of his death by recalling his sparkling wit.

For example, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, recalled that when Kennedy's Catholicism became the principal roadblock in his quest for the presidency, the candidate once excused his tardy arrival at a Knights of Columbus banquet in New York City by saying he had gone first to the cardinal, who had taken longer than expected to clear his (Kennedy's) speech.

Church also recalled how the late President explained to the King of Afghanistan why the Constitution limited the president to eight years in office. The amendment had been adopted, Kennedy said, partly out of consideration for the well-being of the president, but mostly, he added, out of consideration for the well-being of the country.

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara has been declaring so many military bases surplus recently that two Pentagon officials were intrigued the other day when they noticed McNamara's huge word globe outside

'Romney Owes Explanation on Sales Tax'

If there is a leak in your budget it might be due to the change in Michigan Sales Tax levels. The tax remains at four cents on the dollar, but the last three taxable brackets start from six to nine cents sooner than former levels. Although this is within the letter of the law, it violates the spirit of the law and is intellectually dishonest. Governor Romney owes Michigan residents an explanation about how much tax revenue has resulted from this manipulated tax increase, how it is being allocated, and whether there are other areas of obscure tax increases.

Governor Romney did not publicly criticize nor discourage his volunteers from using his name in a way that was intended to defeat the 1964 Republican Presidential nominee and that insured a total Democratic victory in Michigan. Is he qualified to reunite the Republican Party?

Wants Opportunity to Vote on Tax Issues

The editorial on the tax increase ends: "What do you think?" I believe — and so do many thousands of other Pontiac property owners and taxpayers — that there is no need for further "clarification of the atmosphere." I am opposed to any tax increase, whether it be increased millage or the proposed income tax.

Our taxes have been increased too much. If anything, we should be getting a tax cut, such as the Federal Income Tax cut. Within proper management and "coming fruits" of Urban Renewal there should be adequate funds to run the city in an efficient and progressive manner. Give us a chance to vote on these pocketbook issues.

When Richard Scammon, head of the U.S. Census Bureau, told an audience President Johnson's Nov. 3 victory was a triumph for the "extreme center," he was asked who occupies that area.

To Consider New Man for Board

The appointment of William Dean Jr. to fill the vacancy on the Waterford Township Board will be considered by the board Monday night.

Dean's name will be offered for the board's consideration by Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin. The vacancy was created by the death of Allen Olson in September.

A University of Detroit graduate, Dean, 31, lives at 4355 Forest. He is a former president of the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In other business Monday, the board will review a police department request for permission to install no parking signs on Andersonville west of Dixie to relieve traffic congestion.

The board will consider holding a special meeting Dec. 9 to review proposed water system operating and rate ordinance revisions.

FORMER SYSTEM

Present ordinances were drawn for the former water systems bond issue. The revised ordinances would pertain to the township-wide central system now under construction.

A letter of resignation from Mrs. Ralph Eaton of the township's library advisory committee also will receive board attention.

Exam Is Slated in Bus Killing

DETROIT (AP) — Ex-convict James E. White, 32, was ordered held without bond Friday for examination Dec. 8 in the holdup slaying of city bus driver Lucian A. Fryling, 40.

A youth, 18, said to have been the one who gave information to a tipster in White's arrest, was ordered detained and held under $10,000 bond.

Police have withheld the identities of both the tipster and the youth. Fryling's union has offered a $5,000 reward in the slaying.

Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis entered a plea of innocent for White to a first degree murder charge after the defendant had stood mute. White told the court he could not afford counsel.

FATAL SHOOTING

Fryling was shot and fatally wounded by a holdup man who fled without any loot. The Amalgamated Transit Union (AFL-CIO) offered the reward for his arrest and conviction.

Cambodia to Meet With Reds, Having Failed on Big Parley

TOKYO (AP) — Frustrated in his bid to obtain an international conference to secure neutrality, Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has turned to Communist North Viet Nam.

A radio broadcast in Hanoi, Capital of North Viet Nam, announced today that the Communist regime and Cambodia had agreed to meet in Peking soon to discuss Cambodia's border dispute with South Viet Nam.

Sihanouk was expected to seek recognition of a frontier agreement with South Viet Nam's National Front for Liberation — the political arm of the Communist Viet Cong engaged in a guerrilla war with the U.S.-backed South Vietnamese government.

Cambodia wants a guarantee of its ill-defined frontier with South Viet Nam, which never has been formalized since the 1954 agreement ending the French-Indochina war. Border

Former Mental Patient Faces Murder Charge

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — A former mental patient faced a murder charge today following the stabbing of a young mother of two small children.

The body of Brenda Louise McSheffrey, 25, was found by her husband yesterday at the foot of a stairway at their two-story apartment in Hampshire Heights. Her husband, Donald, is a reporter for the Holyoke Transcript-Telegram.

incidents have been a constant source of friction between the two nations, which do not maintain diplomatic relations.

OFFICIAL PLEDGE

Sihanouk's overture to North Viet Nam may be based on his belief that the West can not be expected to help him define the frontier. He apparently feels it would be wise to get an official pledge from the Communists whom he believes will win the war in South Viet Nam and eventually gain control of South-east Asia.

It may also be Sihanouk's way of applying pressure on the United States when the two nations meet in New Delhi Dec. 7 to discuss the steady deterioration in relations between them.

Sihanouk has moved steadily

Dixie Store Supplies Snow for Santa Visit

charged that the United States was supporting Cambodian rebels based in South Viet Nam. The United States has denied the charge and said Cambodia was a passageway for Viet Cong troops and arms.

For more than a year the prince has demanded without success that a 14-nation Geneva-type conference be convened to take up the border problem. Except for France, the Western powers did not react sympathetically to the idea.

WITHDRAW CLAIM

Sihanouk also wants South Viet Nam to withdraw its claim to two coastal islands.

After a new outbreak by border incidents earlier this month, Sihanouk renewed charges that U.S. planes had attacked Cambodian villages along the South Vietnamese frontier. He threatened to break relations with the United States, recognize North

Viet Nam and ask Red China for military aid.

CLEAR INDICATION

So far Sihanouk has taken none of these steps. However, the announcement that Cambodia and North Viet Nam would meet on the border problem is a clear indication he does not intend to let the matter drop despite a slight relaxation of tension between Cambodia and the West in the past few weeks.

Radio Hanoi recently quoted Sihanouk that North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong had assured Cambodia of its readiness to recognize "the validity of the agreement to be signed between the National Front for Liberation and us on our common frontier and to respect its terms."

The Saigon government can be expected to denounce whatever agreement is reached between Cambodia and the Communist in Peking. What effect it would have on the movement of Viet Cong guerrillas across the Cambodian border — as South Viet Nam charges — remains an uncertainty.

Congolese Slaughter Climaxed Tragedies at Three Far-Reaching Spots on the Globe

By The Associated Press
Out of the dawn-brightened sky, Belgian paratroopers began jumping over the airport on the outskirts of Stanleyville. The rebellion in the northeastern Congo had reached its climax.

But the paratroopers were already too late to save some of the hundreds of whites held hostage for weeks or months by the rebels of Christophe Gbenye's "Congolese People's Republic."

Chanting "kill, kill" in Swahili, the rebels opened indiscriminate fire on hundreds of whites forced to mass in front of the Victoria Hotel. One of the first to fall was Dr. Paul E. Carlson, 36, of Rolling Hills, Calif., a medical missionary the rebels had condemned two weeks earlier as an "American spy."

By the weekend, new horror reports from the northeastern Congo raised the number of white hostages slain during the week to 97 known dead. Forty-five mutilated, and possibly cannibalized, bodies were found in Stanleyville's African quarter, and unofficial reports by white refugees said another 45 whites may have been slain in the remote village of Wamba.

The Congo drama began with the paratroop drop Tuesday. By noon on that grim Tuesday, the troops and a Congolese force led by white mercenaries had captured Stanleyville. More than 800 whites, mostly Europeans, were rescued.

Michael P. E. Hoyt, 35, the American consul at Stanleyville, freed from weeks of virtual arrest, told of his aides being beaten and forced to eat an American flag, of hearing rebels discuss what parts of the bodies of white hostages they would eat.

The Belgian paratroopers, carried again in U.S. Air Force planes, repeated their mission Thursday, dropping at dawn on the town of Paulis, 225 miles northeast of Stanleyville.

Here 211 white hostages were rescued, but it was again too late for 21 Belgians and one American, the Rev. Joseph W. Tucker, 45, of Lamar, Ark. He was slowly beaten to death in public, beginning Tuesday night, while others were hacked to pieces with machetes. The Rev. Mr. Tucker had spent 26 years in missionary work in the Congo.

In some parts of Africa, and throughout the Communist world, there was strong reaction to the intervention. In Cairo, a mob burned the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library, and damaged other parts of U.S. Embassy property. There were demonstrations in Prague and Nairobi, and in Moscow there were the usual staged protests. As if from nowhere, the signs popped up: "Hands Off the Congo," "Shame to the imperialists—U.S.A., Britain and Belgium." Red China said that it would take "all possible measures to aid the rebels."

It was clear the Congo would continue to be a hot spot, but most of the white hostages had been freed.

There were other tragedies, elsewhere in the world, but not premeditated one.

Late Wednesday night, the pearly white ocean liner Shalom, pride of Israel's merchant fleet, sailed out of New York Harbor with 616 passengers bound for a West Indies cruise. At the same time a gray-hulled tanker, the 583-foot Stolt Dagali out of Oslo, Norway, was plowing through a heavy sea headed for Newark, N.J., with a cargo of fats and solvents.

At 2:20 a.m. Thursday, in a thick fog 25 miles southeast of Asbury Park, N.J., the ships collided. The liner knitted through the tanker, shearing off the stern section, which sank quickly. In one terrifying moment, 33 members of the tanker's crew of 43 were pitched into the sea or clambered frantically around lifeboats.

Throughout the morning, helicopters and coast guard cutters picked up survivors. The Shalom, a 40-foot gash in her bow, limped back to her pier in New York, the cruise canceled. Of the tanker's crew, 19 men were killed.

And at Rome's airport a Boeing 707 jet, TWA's flight No. 800-22, roared down the runway bound for Athens and Cairo. Suddenly the plane faltered, skidded 1,500 feet and exploded into flames. The time was 2 p.m. Monday. Of the 73 passengers and crew members aboard, 46 died, including 27 Americans.

A year and a day after President John F. Kennedy was murdered, the commission that investigated the assassination released all the testimony it had taken.

For the first time Jacqueline Kennedy's version of her husband's death was disclosed. "My husband never made any sound. He had this sort of quizzical look on his face and then he — put his hands to his forehead and fell in my lap," Mrs. Kennedy said.

The commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren had already released a summary of its findings in a lengthy volume in September, but the 26 volumes made public during the week gave sometimes fascinating, sometimes horrifying form to one of the great tragedies of American history.

The rumors had been there: The pound sterling was in trouble. To quiet the talk, Britain's new Labor government directed the Bank of England to raise its interest rates to 7 per cent to stem the outflow of money. Still there was talk of possible devaluation. Then Thursday there was a dramatic $3-billion rescue package put together by the United States and the central banks of 10 other nations.

"We want to tell the speculators that we have more money than they have," said one Paris banker.

William O'Dwyer, an Irish immigrant who rose to be a general in the U.S. Army, mayor of New York City and ambassador to Mexico, died Tuesday in a New York hospital, at 74, of a coronary thrombosis. He had entered the hospital the previous night.

Quotes of the week:
"I have enlisted in this war for the duration." — Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam.
"We cannot, and will not, permit the FBI to be used to superimpose the aims of those who would sacrifice the very foundations on which our government rests." — J. Edgar Hoover.

Congo Rebellion Internal—Saved Consul

WASHINGTON (AP) — An American who was rescued from the Congo rebels says their revolt is an internal movement aimed chiefly at winning power and material gain for the leaders.

Michael Hoyt, who was U.S. consul at Stanleyville until Belgian paratroopers saved him from almost certain execution this week, found little support for the rebels among the populace.

"But they had guns," he added at a news conference Friday.

Hoyt, 35, of Chicago and four other staff members of the U.S. Consulate spent 52 days in the hands of the rebels.

"They intended to use us as a shield — as hostages — in the event of an attack on Stanleyville," he said.

The Americans were beaten with rifle butts, sticks and bayonets, jailed with criminals, and forced to eat an American flag, said Hoyt.

"Actually, we couldn't eat it, it was made of too durable material," added David K. Grinwis, the vice consul, who took part in the news conference. Grinwis, 35, is from Maplewood, N.J.

Despite such treatment, Hoyt said he did not think the revolt was aimed particularly at whites or the United States.

"Anti-Americanism was more for propaganda purposes," Hoyt said.

He said he had seen no evidence of Communist Chinese influence on the rebel leaders and felt their revolt was essentially "an internal movement, though not unsupported from the outside."

The consular staff was being rounded up with the other hostages for mass execution when the Belgian paratroopers flown in by U.S. transports arrived in Stanleyville and rescued them, Hoyt said. The Americans broke from the crowd and hid in a courtyard until the Belgians arrived.

Hoyt said Dr. Paul Carlson, the American medical missionary who was killed in the mass shooting before the paratroopers arrived, had been badly beaten as soon as he was taken captive.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Wed today in St. Benedict Catholic Church were Mary Kay Ermel, daughter of the Robert A. Ermels of Dick Avenue, and William Francis Devereaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Devereaux of Auburn Road.

MRS. WILLIAM F. DEVEREAUX

Honeymoon in North Follows Rite

Off on a northern honeymoon following a reception in the Coral Reef Room, Airway Lanes, are Mr. and Mrs. William Francis Devereaux (Mary Kay Ermel).

Vows were pledged before Rev. Richard W. Thomas today in St. Benedict Catholic Church.

With her Empire gown and train of white peau de soie, the bride wore a tiara of pure silk illusion and held a cascade of white carnations, Stephanotis and ivy.

ATTEND SISTER

Attending the sister were honor maids, Linda Ermel and Mrs. Bruce W. Smith, Falls Church, Va. They are the daughters of the Robert A. Ermels of Dick Avenue.

Donna Kaye, Rochester; Mary Loucharte and Kathleen Devereaux also were bridesmaids.

Flower-girl and ring-bearer were Patricia Jastinski, Youngstown, Ohio and Shawn McGuire, South Bend, Ind.

Richard Vida of Royal Oak was best man, for the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Devereaux Auburn Road, Charles Devereaux, Gary Payne, Thomas Miller and Elmer Weston ushered.

The bride has senior status at Western Michigan University and her husband attends Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Rude Not to Open Up All Gifts

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: My parents gave an engagement party for me last week. I received quite a lot of gifts.

Several of the guests gave money. I opened the presents at the party, but I did not open the envelopes containing money as I didn't feel it was the right thing to do.

I understand those who gave money were hurt because I didn't open their gifts along with the others.

Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: As you opened the other presents, it was rude to those who gave you money, to ignore their gifts and make it appear as though they gave you nothing at all.

In the situation you describe you should have opened the envelopes but not disclosed the amounts.

The Emily Post Institute is sorry it cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Parents Tell of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Marc Meyer of Gale Road announce the recent marriage of their daughter Sally to Eduardo Racines, son of Mrs. Lucia Bueno, West Huron Street, and the late Jaime Racines of Quito, Ecuador.

A reception for the immediate families in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Frederick Oates of West Rutgers Street followed the ceremony performed by Waterford Justice Patrick Daly.

The newlyweds are residing in Pontiac.

Hubby Staying in Shape — So He Can Play More Golf

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: You told that 26-year-old sports' widow to be patient.

ABBY

Well, I have been patient for many years. I am now 57, and I'm STILL patient, but I am also still a sports' widow.

When my husband's legs and wind gave out he gave up sports that required running, and turned to golf, which he plays from a cart, weather permitting.

When he comes home, he collapses and I serve his meals on a tray, while he watches sports events on TV, with the volume turned up high enough to transport him to the event he's watching.

He is now planning retirement — to a climate which will enable him to play golf every day.

He claims his reason for playing golf is to keep him "in shape." In shape for what?

STILL A SPORTS' WIDOW
DEAR SPORTS' WIDOW: To play more golf.

DEAR ABBY: With the holidays coming up, I wish you'd mention something in your column about my pet holiday gripe, which is shared by many. People who give parties in the basement!

You get all dolled up for a party, and when you get there you spend the evening in the basement.

Even though it is nicely furnished and decorated, it still smells musty and it's damp. Last year I had one cold after another from sitting in those basement recreation rooms.

I can't understand people with lovely, comfortable homes (upstairs) who entertain their guests in the basement.

Are they afraid someone will get a spot on the rug?

HATES BASEMENTS

DEAR HATES: Probably. Some lower level recreation rooms are every bit as comfortable as what's upstairs, but many are not.

And people who have gone to the expense of converting their basements into entertaining areas are the last to feel the dampness.

DEAR ABBY: I did a foolish thing and now I'm in a mess. I accepted an engagement ring from a guy before he went into the Navy.

I didn't wear my ring while I worked at a resort last summer. There I met another man who made me realize that I didn't love the sailor after all.

He gave me an engagement ring, too. I think about the sailor boy when I'm alone but I prefer the other one when I'm with him. What to do?

MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: Return both rings until the gobs make sense. Then, when the game's even again, pick the winner (if, by that time, either are still in the running).

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press.

John Pender.

Opera Group Gives Reminder of Scholarship

The scholarship committee of the Detroit Grand Opera Association issues a final reminder to singers interested in the Grinnell Foundation of National Council awards.

Completed applications must be returned before Tuesday to Mrs. Sam B. Williams, auditions chairman, Ford Auditorium, Detroit 48226. Forms may be secured from the same source.

First auditions will be held in the Masonic Temple, Detroit, on Dec. 5. Semi-finalists will audition again on Dec. 7, with the final auditions taking place on Feb. 11, 1965.

All awards are to encourage young singers in their careers, especially in the advanced study of voice and in opera technique.

Orion Man Is Wed

The University Presbyterian Church, Buffalo, N.Y., was the setting today for the vows of Judith Mae Binder and Jerry Michael Exline.

Reception at The Prime Rib in Buffalo, hosted by the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry E. Binder of Tonawanda, N.Y., followed the morning ceremony.

The bridegroom, son of the Royal Exlines, Indianwood Road, Orion Township, composed the wedding-march and processional for his wedding.

A silk illusion veil with crown of lilies of the valley complemented the bride's gown of white peau de soie.

With James F. Exline, best man, were the ushers Jack Berkey, Dallas, Pa. and William Holden of Hamburg, N.Y.

The couple was graduated in June from the Eastman School of Music. Teaching commitments necessitate a deferred honeymoon.

The competition in forensics, sponsored by the Illinois chapter, Pi Kappa Delta, national honorary speech fraternity, attracted over 800 collegians from 69 colleges and universities.

Jan D. Anderson, Pontiac freshman, also represented WMU in the tournament. He is the son of Edwin J. Anderson of Wenonah Drive and is majoring in business administration.

Melvin L. Toby, son of the Samuel Tobys of Canterbury Drive, has been initiated into Xi Theta chapter of Alpha Phi Omega fraternity at Ferris State College. He is a junior, majoring in marketing.

He also serves as captain and fellowship chairman of his chapter.

John Newton, son of the Robert Newtons of Orchard Lake has been named to the Hillsdale College dean's list. He holds membership in Student Federation and Delta Tau Delta fraternity.

Candles Flicker in Ceremonies of Christian Faiths Sunday

BOYS MAKE WREATH—Placing greenery around the base of the Advent Wreath are Charles and Michael Claus of 322 Auburn. Laura Claus reads the devotional service for the home and directs the boys in their task. The wreath will be used in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran Church, the children's parents. The first candle will be lit tomorrow on Advent Sunday.

Advent Opens Church Year

Thousands Prepare for Coming Season

Candles in Advent wreath will be lighted in thousands of homes and churches across the country tomorrow as those of the Christian faith prepare for Christmas.

Advent is the season of preparation for the celebration of the coming of Christ.

Four candles, three purple and one pink are placed in a wreath of evergreen boughs. During the first week one candle is lighted with a service of meditation, Bible reading and prayer both in the home and in church.

Each Sunday a new candle is lighted along with the first, until the fourth week all candles are burning.

Some wreaths include a fifth, white or red candle, to light on Christmas Day.

According to Rev. Ralph C. Claus of St. Trinity Lutheran Church, the wreath represents eternity and reminds us that Christ is the eternal Son of God who came to give us eternal life.

The greenery typifies life. The light of the candles is in remembrance of Christ. The purple candles denote that repentance, humility and penitence are the avenues on which Christ finds entrance to bless one's life, Pastor Claus said.

The one pink candle lighted on the third Sunday is in joyful anticipation of Christ's coming with forgiveness.

ORCHARD LAKE

Rev. Edward D. Auchard will begin a series of Advent services on Old Testament prophets tomorrow at the Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

The Westminster Choir composed of senior high young people will sing "Love Divine," a Welsh Choral. Marilyn Johnson, Nancy Shull and Don Sanderson are soloists. The Chancel Choir will present "Sing to His Name" by Drury.

The Senior High Fellowship will discuss "Is the Bible True?" tomorrow. The Session will meet to receive members at 8 p.m.

The Junior High Fellowship will meet for supper at 5 p.m. Thursday.

AUBURN HEIGHTS U.P.

"Advent and Advent to Come" will be the theme of services at the United Presbyterian Church in Auburn Heights tomorrow.

At 9:30 a.m. Rev. F. William Palmer will conduct a church information class discussing the belief of the church concerning Jesus Christ.

LIGHTS ADVENT CANDLE—Lighting the candles in the Advent Wreath as he will tomorrow in St. Paul Lutheran Church is Ralph Mowbray of 505 Third, an acolyte at the St. Paul Church. Midweek Advent services will be held each Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. with the general theme, "Candles of Advent."

Cranbrook Youth Host to Students

A Holiday Hootenanny to welcome the foreign students of a 10-church area reaching from the inner city of Detroit to rural Orchard Lake will be held at Christ Church Cranbrook on Dec. 6 from 5 to 9 p.m.

The young people of these Episcopal parishes will act as hosts and hostesses on behalf of the women of the churches who are sponsoring the entertainment.

Mrs. Charles F. Guilford, chairman of the affair, said "We want to have an introduction to the Christmas season come to these young people from the church, and a welcome in the name of Christ, to those who might otherwise mistake the holiday season as a department store promotional project."

"These students are not all Episcopalians, and some may not be too familiar with Christianity, there will be Christmas music and a brief service in the church at 5 p.m."

"Young people these days face so many barriers—international, economic, racial and social. We hope this type gathering will help pull up any roots of prejudice."

At 6 p.m. a stand-up, finger food, help yourself type supper will be served in the dining room, followed by hootenanny entertainment led by Rev. Martin Bell of St. David Episcopal Church, Southfield.

The Road Runners, a local rock and roll combo, led by Dad DeNador of Bloomfield Hills, and Mr. Martin with his guitar will provide the program.

The Marquis Youth Club at Christ Church is assisting with arrangements.

Mission Program Set for Springfield

Mrs. J. D. Blanton will conduct the mission program at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow in Springfield Missionary Baptist Church, 25 S. East Blvd.

Devotions will be led by Mrs. Laura Jordan and Mrs. Dorothy Cagle. Giving the welcome will be Mrs. Catherine Price. Rev. J. D. Blanton will read the Scripture and Rev. J. L. Jones, pastor will introduce the speaker, Rev. G. E. Moore of the Third Baptist Church, Detroit.

Mrs. Mildred McBride and Mrs. Rose Sarvoer will serve as ushers.

At 7:30 p.m. the Gospel choir and other musical groups will present a program.

BUSHED—Richard Moon of 1020 Brookwood, Birmingham keeps young people of Christ Church Cranbrook on the move getting ready for the Holiday Hootenanny from 5 to 9 p.m. at the church on Dec. 6. Mary Weir of 101 Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, left and Eva Peters, an exchange student from Sweden living with Mary, are checking kitchen equipment they will use. The Hootenanny will welcome foreign students of more than 10 Episcopal churches to the affair.

News of Area Churches

ST. TRINITY

The Walther Leaguers are making a large Advent Wreath to be placed in the chancel at St. Trinity Lutheran Church. Young people will light the Advent candle and offer a prayer at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. services.

Those participating tomorrow are Barbara Wightmann, Chris Allentann, Michael Filbrandt and Linda Sachel.

Others will be Geraldine Ramig, Michael Janson, Steven Barron, Carol Barron, Evelyn Klock, Harold Schreiner Jr., D'Arcy Gonzales, Linda Pankey, Amanda Meitz and Larry Kasal.

The Roger Morrisons and Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Starke are youth directors.

CENTRAL METHODIST
Families of Central Methodist Church are making Advent Wreaths in preparation for the prayer.

Persons who have received instruction will be received into membership at the early service tomorrow. They will be welcomed by members at the coffee hour following worship.

Rev. William Brady, associate minister, will present the morning message.

Catholic Mass in English

Lay to Take Part in Church Reforms

Priests in Roman Catholic churches will face the people while offering the Holy Sacrifice of Mass tomorrow. This dramatic change will be accompanied by the use of English in many parts of the liturgical service.

Authorized by the Vatican Council last year these sweeping changes will allow parishioners to join with their priest in praying the Mass together.

The use of the vernacular in the Sacrifice of the Mass will begin in all parishes of the United States tomorrow, the first Sunday of Advent, and the beginning of the church year.

According to Rev. Thomas Lowery of St. Benedict Catholic Church, those parts of the Mass which rightfully belong to the laity but through the passage of time fell to the role of the priest alone, are now being restored.

They include the entrance antiphon or introit, the Gloria to God, the Creed, and the Lord's Prayer.

In addition to these reforms there is but one reading of sacred Scripture, that is, the Epistle and the Gospel, and that in English. To the priest's greeting, "The Lord be with you," Catholics will respond "And with your spirit."

The primary aim of these reforms is to emphasize a greater participation of the laity in Sunday and weekday Mass.

This renewal restores to the laity their time-forgotten place as the people of God in the offering of the Eucharistic Sacrifice.

Christian Service is planning the annual Christmas Tea Wednesday. "Birthday of a King" is the program theme. Included will be special solos and appropriate readings.

BEAUTIFUL SAVIOR
A series of three Advent services scheduled for Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church, 5631 N. Adams, Bloomfield Township will be at 7:45 p.m. each Wednesday beginning next week.

The brief meditations, prayers, hymns and Christmas carols will be arranged in litany form. The Sanctuary Choir will also participate in services.

The Luther League is planning an Advent Christmas display along the canopied south entrance of the church. They are carving and painting Christmas scenes on wood panels designed by A. James Hanna.

The traditional lighting of the Advent Wreath in the church will be tomorrow.

CATHOLIC
Young people of Pontiac area Catholic schools are making Advent wreaths to use in the schools. Some families hold services in the home.

CHURCH OF ATONEMENT
A Father-Son Banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in the Church of Atonement, 3535 Clintonville, Waterford Township.

George Caronis, director of the youth assistance program in Pontiac, will be the speaker. The film "Reclaimed," shown at the Seattle World's Fair, will be featured.

The Women's Association will be in charge of the banquet. General chairman is James Andrews.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS
Rev. Olan Hendrix, home secretary of the Far Eastern Gospel Crusade, with headquarters in Detroit, will be guest speaker at the Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church, at both the 11 a.m. and 6 p.m. services tomorrow.

Sunday School with classes for all ages is at 10 a.m. and junior and senior high youth meet at 5 p.m.

Rev. Mr. Hendrix, a former Bible class teacher in the Bloomfield area, is well known by many of the congregation. Pastor Harold W. Gieske said the public is invited to all services.

PRIEST FACES PEOPLE Rev. Thomas Lowery of St. Benedict Catholic Church is shown as he faces the congregation while offering the Holy Sacrifice of Mass. This change from having his back to the congregation will officially take place tomorrow, the first Sunday of Advent, as it will in all parishes of the United States. Another sweeping change is the use of English in many parts of the liturgical service. Father Lowery is celebrating Mass with students of St. Benedict School this week so they will be familiar with the several changes tomorrow.

Weather Turns Wet in Nation

Warnings of Heavy
Snow in Effect in U.P.

By The Associated Press
Wet weather covered broad areas of the nation today with snow in northern and western areas and rain in the central and southern sections.

It also was cold in Montana and North Dakota and parts of Wyoming and South Dakota, with temperatures below zero.

Snow tapered off in Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas but up to seven inches covered the Duluth, Minn., and Marquette, Mich., areas. The snow belt extended across northern border states from Michigan to Washington. Two inches of snow fell in Spokane, Wash., in a six-hour period, increasing the total on the ground to five inches.

Heavy snow warnings remained in effect for northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan after falls measuring one to three inches in some areas.

DOUSED BY RAIN

Thunderstorms and showers doused areas from central Wisconsin and Lower Michigan to the lower Mississippi Valley. Nearly two inches of rain hit Peoria, Ill., St. Louis and Walnut Ridge, Ark. Tornado winds lashed rural areas 20 miles northeast of Monroe, La., but no injuries were reported. Hail pelted Bridal Cave, Mo., about 50 miles northeast of Springfield.

A disturbance off the Oregon coast set off rain in the central and northern Pacific Coast region. Fairly heavy amounts, about 1½ inches, was reported in a six-hour period at Cape Blanco, on Oregon's southwest coast, and at Crescent City, on the extreme northwest coast of California.

Generally fair weather prevailed in the Atlantic Coast states, most of the plains states and in the Southwest.

WHAT IF YOU HAVE TO START ALL OVER AT AGE 42?

When machinery replaces men—when new methods work more efficiently—that's progress. But opportunity for you is part of progress, too. There will be new jobs—new chances to earn a living. And a better one at that.

Suppose you have many years of experience on a job you like. But—next month or next year—the plant closes down or a new machine takes your place. What happens to you?

You won't get tomorrow's jobs with yesterday's skills

These new opportunities will demand something different. New skills. You'll want to re-train. Learn these new skills and abilities in order to fill one of the better paying jobs that progress brings.

It takes a little time and effort to re-train. Mostly, it takes the will to make a better future for yourself. Start by talking to the local office of your state employment service.

Antiques Temper Stark-Modern

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"When we were first married," said Mrs. William G. Teodecki of Bolingbroke Drive, Troy, "our home was decorated in stark contemporary."

"Later, after our daughters were born and the clutter of childhood arrived, the cold, unrelieved lines of contemporary didn't seem to fit in. By blending antiques with the modern pieces, we achieved a much more relaxed and livable decorating scheme."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Teodecki are artists and their home displays their interest in design and color.

When they moved to their present residence, the kitchen was completely walled-in and separate. "I favor open planning," said Mrs. Teodecki. "Particularly when your children are small. It's so much easier to keep an eye on them."

To remodel the house to their own liking, the Teodeckis knocked out the existing interior kitchen walls and cupboards.

A snack bar peninsula, which uses a butcher's block

as its top, now divides the living area from the kitchen. Cupboards above and beneath the eating area and in other parts of the kitchen are covered in a white plastic laminate for cleanliness and convenience. Side panels of the peninsula are finished in natural pecky cypress.

Introducing an interesting texture pattern in the kitchen and in the living room fireplace wall are pieces of sidewalk concrete mounted with the rough side exposed and painted a white-white.

Lighting the sink counter of white mosaic tile are three hanging globe lamps. The backsplash behind the counter stove features lipstick red tiles to add color spice to the room. All kitchen drawers are on rollers, another help for the busy homemaker.

Carpeted in a grey-green, the ell-shaped living area has white-white walls. A curtain drop, incorporating shades of royal blue, purple and red with an olive-green braid tie-back, simulates a divider effect.

Grouped about a cut-down antique table is a sectional sofa upholstered in a red, royal blue and purple plaid cotton. A round, white-white shag rug accentuates the colors in the furniture and wall paintings.

An antique desk in white creates an interesting contrast against the lipstick-red wall which sets apart the entrance foyer from the living area.

On the fireplace wall hangs a vivid oil color study by Jorge Fick. A massive hand-blown green bottle and teal-blue stack cushions bring bright spots of color down to the raised hearth.

In the adjoining dining room, rows of bottles in different sizes, shapes and colors line the ledges of the back window draped in natural linen panels.

Yvonne, 7, and Jenni, 5, share a pleasant room. White built-ins with the drawer faces finished in shocking - pink, white, yellow and orange provide an ample amount of drawer space and open shelves display the girls' toy collection.

A throw rug using a blend of red, orange and shocking-pink threads covers the white vinyl floor.

Three Important Steps to Successful Enamel Job

Did you ever find yourself wondering what to do with an old, but comfortable chair that's rather better looking? Don't throw it away!

Enamel it. With little more than a can of quality enamel, you can make old, tired furniture more stylish than ever, or give inexpensive, unfinished pieces the look of custom furniture. You can achieve the latest word in home fashions.

There are three important steps to be followed in obtaining a successful enamel job. First, you must choose a quality enamel. Second, you must prepare the surface properly. Third, you must apply the enamel properly.

Only a quality enamel made by a reputable manufacturer is your assurance of easy application, thorough hiding power, and a color—fast, durable and care-free finish. To be sure you get a quality product, consult your local reputable paint dealer.

Proper surface preparation involves the condition of the furniture. Wooden furniture in good condition simply requires a good cleaning with oilless paint thinner to remove oil, wax or polish. Afterwards, sand lightly.

DULL GLOSS
This will dull the gloss and will provide a surface to which the new finish can adhere. Be sure the furniture is clean and dry before applying the enamel. If the wood furniture is in poor condition, it should be completely stripped of its old finish.

Use a good paint remover and follow the directions carefully. Be sure that you are working in a well-ventilated room. Fill any holes or cracks with plastic wood or water putty and let dry thoroughly. Finally, sand smooth as possible and apply an enamel undercoat. When this is dried, you are ready to apply the enamel topcoat.

Unfinished furniture is usually factory sanded. But it's a good idea to sand it lightly before you apply the enamel undercoat. If you apply a second undercoat, sand lightly between coats.

To renew wrought iron and other metal furniture, clean thoroughly first. Next, and away any traces of rust. Prime the spots of bare metal with a quality metal primer such as zinc chromate. Let the primed areas dry, then apply the enamel. Follow the same procedure for aluminum furniture.

The final step to a bright new finish is the proper application. Load your brush generously; flow the enamel on to the surface in long, smooth strokes with the grain.

Don't reload, cross-stroke. Then, with your nearly dry brush go over the surface with the grain, once again using long, smooth strokes. This method provides even coverage and eliminates any excess which might cause runs.

Here are a few additional hints. Remove hardware, drawer pulls and metal fittings beforehand. Those which can't be removed should be covered with masking tape. If the pulls and handles are to be enamelled it's easier and more efficient to take them off and enamel them separately.

Place chairs and small tables upside down on a bench; it's a more convenient height. Do the underneath surfaces first, then put the pieces right side up and finish.

Cut Narrow Strip Without Trouble

NEW YORK (UPI)—If you need a narrow strip of building paper or roofing felt, instead of tediously measuring and cutting the length of the strip, simply measure the required length, cut it off and roll it up again.

Then measure the width needed and saw through the entire roll.

Nation's Home Builders Plan Chicago Show

The leading home builders of the United States will converge on Chicago's McCormick Place for the 21st annual convention and exposition of the National Association of Home Builders on December 6 and NAHB officials are unanimous in predicting that this year's show will top all those which have preceded it.

More than 30,000 attended this best-of-all shows for homebuilders last year and attendance in excess of that figure is expected for the exposition which will run through December 10.

With advance registration for the big show running well ahead of a year ago, Melvin E. Kimmy, Chairman of the Convention Committee, reports that at mid-September exhibitors had contracted for 95 per cent of the 130,000 square feet of space available at the NAHB show.

"With its appeal to aggressive home builders who want to get the latest and best ideas in home building techniques," the NAHB Show always draws well," said Kimmy. "This year is no exception for, due to the current state of the home-building market, members will be especially interested in checking the newest and best equipment which will be exhibited at the show."

Kimmy also noted that the convention sessions covering all phases of home building are scheduled with some of the best-known authorities in the country speaking on a variety of topics. The sessions will run from 9:30 to 11:30 a. m. and from 2 to 4 p. m.

EXHIBIT HOURS
Exhibit hours on Sunday, December 6 will be from 1 to 5:30 p. m. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 7, 8 and 9 exhibit hours will be from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. and on the last day of the show, December 10, 3 p. m. will be the official closing hour.

Big Family Living in One-Story Ranch

A big family that likes to do all its living on a single level will do so on this house.

It's a four-bedroom, three-bath, one-story ranch house. More than that, architect Rudolph A. Matern has created an exterior with a bold display of stone, shingles and vertical boards, accentuating the length with a long, low planter and a straight-line roof eave.

And he has molded an interior which combines comfort with a touch of glamour.

A typical example of the extra designing that has gone into this latest House of the Week is the manner in which the kitchen and family room are interlocked without losing their separate identities.

Set side by side at the rear of the house overlooking the porch, these two rooms have a sweep of 28'.

WORK AREA
The work area of the kitchen is a combination of the "U" shape and double-island layout,

H-59 STATISTICS
Design H-59 has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, work room, rear porch, four bedrooms, three baths, large foyer, service porch and two-car garage for a total of 1900 square feet of habitable area not including the garage. The over-all dimensions are 85 feet five inches by 32 feet one inch.

A full basement can be reached from stairs next to the kitchen or outside stairs off the rear porch.

Note how attractive the garage is from the front of the house, with its three high windows and plant arrangement.

Hydronic Questions Answered

Thinking about modernizing your house? If you are, you'll probably have some questions about home heating and cooling. To answer these, and other questions, the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, information center of the hydronic (hot water) heating and cooling industry here, offers a guide designed for the homeowner titled, "Hydronic Your Home With Hydronics."

The 16-page color booklet explains why hydronics is especially suitable for modernization in older houses, with diagrams showing how finger-size tubing is easily "snaked" through wall spaces or through old ducts and pipes for a neat, completely concealed installation.

One section of the booklet is that a homeowner can have the optional extras with hydronics, including zone heating, snow melting, swimming pool heating, and greenhouse heating. Also illustrated are a variety of methods for summer cooling.

The booklet may be obtained by sending ten cents to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10017.

Home Office for Efficiency

Christmas is confusing. It's confusing because most people don't come to grips with the paperwork that the holidays demand.

But this year, why not make confusion a thing of Christmas past by becoming a super secretary, complete with convenient, well organized office space.

The office is a necessary ingredient for smooth operation and relaxed enjoyment of this season of seasons. You need the office for work space — greeting cards, gift wrapping, personal notes, menu planning.

You need it for storage—wrapping paper, ink, cards, decorations, tape, ribbon, formal and informal note paper. You need it for filing—gift lists, prices and places of purchase, the appointment calendar, guest lists, decorating notions.

An ideal home office can consist merely of a single desk-like built-in added to any available wall space, preferably near the home's work center, yet away from the general family hubbub. Dining room, living room, laundry, and master bedroom are good possibilities.

STANDARD HEIGHT
The unit should be built to standard desk height, 30 inches. A 20-inch depth will yield best work and storage space; in length, try for at least six feet. If more space is available, include it in the desk unit and use whatever is not required for paperwork for storage.

Be sure to design the unit with drawers of different sizes to care for a variety of contents, and include a general supply cupboard and at least one filing drawer.

A special cupboard may also be included for the typewriter, which can be kept on a locking pull-out board that becomes the typing stand. A standard kitchen mixer unit may be used for a lightweight typewriter.

The home office can be a standout decoratively if designed in a finely grained prestige wood like clear finished prestige hemlock, Douglas fir, or for an Early American home, knotty pine.

Door and drawer fronts can be built of edge-glued material or wide, inch-thick boards. The writing counter similarly can be built of edge-glued material and finished with a tough plastic Laquer to provide a smooth, hard surface.

For the final finish, continue the wood above the desk top as paneling on the back wall. Tongue- and groove boards used here are easy to handle and highlight the handsome, custom design of the unit.

Recessed lights can be built into the soffit over the desk top to provide shadowless, glare-free lighting.

Window Treatment Gives Room Lift

Framing an old-fashioned window with radiator below it, are banks of fruitwood shutters by Joanna Western, with fabric, cane or metal mesh inserts concealing storage units. A window shade laminated with a glamorous fabric in melon and lemon yellow floral pattern has scalloped and fringed trim, with matching cornice called a "Topper."

Natural Look Seen in Room's Decor

NEW YORK—Following hard on the heels of the current trend in feminine fashions—pale lipstick, toned-down makeup and loose, casual clothes—this season's newest decorating ideas feature the "natural look."

Borrowing a page from fashion's book, decorators are beginning to favor the "undecorated" type of room—a simple, uncluttered setting lit with sparkling colors, featuring natural textures and finishes, and highlighted by the discreet addition of a minimum of carefully-chosen accessories.

The resulting interiors are unabashedly fresh and livable, and unquestionably in tune with today's way of life. They abandon the somber hues and the tedious "cluttered" look of bygone days, which is best relegated to mothballs and memory books.

The "natural look" in rooms begins, usually, with walls painted a clear, fresh white. This gives any room a bright, clean look and makes an excellent background for a choice selection of wall-ornaments.

A perfect accent, here, would be an impressive pair of dimensional plaques.

If you have a prized family portrait, or a fine painting, hang it in a key spot and place an attractive framed mirror on the opposite wall, where it can reflect the painting, and double its impact.

Bare floors are the rule in the new "natural" rooms—with beautifully-waxed wood or tile a refreshing change from the monotony of wall-to-wall carpeting. Then, you may provide dramatic accents at will with today's lush and elegant area rugs—to vary with the seasons for a change of pace.

In furniture arrangement, the new idea is to provide as much free space as possible—for a feeling of spacious simplicity. An aid to the elimination of that old-fashioned look of "too-many-legs" in the room is today's new wall-hung furniture, designed to provide storage space, display shelves, and work areas without cluttering the room.

Fabrics in the height of fashion this year have a plenitude of color and texture, and frequently look to nature for design inspiration. Jack Lenor Larsen's most recent "African" collection is a brilliant tour-de-force of rich colors and dramatic, decorative motifs.

Other manufacturers are featuring unusual prints reminiscent of Art Nouveau designs, and textured translucent easement fabrics to hang at windows for a light, airy look.

The finishing touch in a "natural" room should be in the form of real foliage—perhaps a grouping of potted ivy atop a table or on a windowsill, or an exotic tropical plant sweeping impressively out of an unfurnished corner. Just a single accent of live greenery is enough to furnish a fresh reminder of the outdoors, and a pretty decorative fillip as well.

Surface Will Wrinkle

if Point's to Thicken

If you apply too thick a coat of paint, your finished surface will probably have wrinkles in it.

You can avoid this by carefully brushing or rolling out your paint sufficiently.

Turkey Roost Due to Keep Popularity

Turkey roosts are what some architects facetiously call those cute little gimcracks which are being used to break the sometimes stiff lines of the contemporary house.

Actually, these little shadow frame roof extensions, which is the form most of them take, add a lot of charm and interest to houses which need just that.

Made of small 2x2 pieces with necessary lengths of boards, these small concessions to variety are becoming more and more popular with the new home-seekers. You can build them with an Oriental flavor, or you can use your own imagination to get variety.

It looks like the turkey roost style of gimcrack is here to stay and, frankly, a lot of people are real happy with these decorative additions to their homes. Western woods lend themselves ideally to building these additions.

Here are ideas going to intrigue the owner, of an old-fashioned apartment or home, with former waste space around an ugly radiator under a stock window. By flanking the window in a suitwood shutters with contrasting inserts of yellow linen, and by using cane inserts across lower part of window, with metal mesh inserts in front of radiator which permit heat to circulate, the window becomes decorative and useful.

Storage units were carefully planned, with upper cabinets for television on right and record storage on left. Below the open bookshelves are spaces for record player on left and radio FM stereo on right. In the large cabinets below are twin stereo speakers.

The shade at the window is laminated with a handsome stylized floral fabric which is repeated on the crisscross stool. The lemon yellow of shade and linen inserts is echoed in the yellow textured carpeting. With ideas and design elements, a stock window over a radiator can be transformed into an area of high style, including entertainment center and enjoyment for friends and family.

Workmanship Is Important Factor

Floor installation specialists working as consultants to the Technical Services Committee of the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association, have some very definite observations to make concerning floor laying procedure in today's modern buildings.

They emphasize the fact that sound floor installations are the result of just two things—quality materials and efficient workmanship, according to MFMA.

The specialists point out that two floor installations may look alike, but one floor lasts a few years and the other floor lasts a lifetime. The explanation: "One floor was installed right and the other wasn't."

Poor installation methods are the biggest cause of floor headaches. Building and home owners invest in quality floorings, but they often minimize the importance of workmanship. Floor installation is a job for skilled labor and for professional supervision.

Unionville Youth Wins Scholarship in Chicago

Severed Ship Towed to Port

Reason for Collision Is Still a Mystery

NEW YORK (AP)—A tug towed the severed bow of the tanker Stolt-Dagali to Gravesend Bay today. Sixteen of her crew returned home to Norway by air. And damage to the Israeli liner Shalom, which knifed into the tanker, was being assessed.

Still a mystery were details of the collision between the two ships early Thanksgiving Day in dense fog off the New Jersey coast. Nineteen crewmen from the tanker died.

The captains were under orders not to discuss the collision, which was in international waters, and thus beyond the jurisdiction of the U.S. Coast Guard.

Not known were the speed of the vessels, their courses, whether evasive action was taken, how radar was used and whether whistle signals were sounded or heard.

INQUIRY BOARD

Norway and Israel were considering setting up an international board of inquiry to investigate the accident and assess damages.

The Shalom, one of the world's most modern liners, knifed into the smaller tanker, severing her stern section where most of the crew's quarters were.

The Coast Guard and Navy and the Shalom rescued 24 of the crew from lifeboats and from the bow section.

Among the 16 Norwegians who left for home Friday was Mrs. Bergljot Haukvik, 51, the tanker's stewardess, who was making her first trip. She was the wife of the ship's carpenter, who was among the six still missing and presumed dead.

SHIP SALVAGE

The next step in salvaging the bow section of the Stolt-Dagali is to try to empty her tanks of vegetable oil.

At pier 32 on the North River, surveyors and divers examined the 40-foot gash in the Shalom's bow.

Most of the ship's 616 passengers were given refunds, which totaled about $300,000. The ship had been headed for a 10-day Caribbean cruise.

A representative of the ship said the Shalom "was fully insured against all claims."

Record Month for Drugstores

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's drug stores had their biggest business month on record during October, a retail drug trade publication has reported.

The Journal, Drug Topics, said the 52,008 drug stores in the United States had total sales of $791.76 million, an increase of 8.1 per cent above September and 9.9 per cent ahead of October, 1963.

Prescription sales accounted for $238.59 million of the total, some 10.7 per cent ahead of October last year.

Store Chain Profits

DETROIT (AP) — E.J. Korvette Inc., a department store chain, reported net earnings of $1.3 million, equal to 31 cents a share, for the 13 weeks ended Oct. 31. This compared with $953,767, or 23 cents a share, in the similar 1963 period.

Cancer Victim in New Battle

CLEVELAND (AP) — Now that her battle against cancer, which cost her a leg, has been won, Christine Simko, 14, will have another adjustment to make — in a children's home in Fort Wayne, Ind.

Christine's plight from hip cancer became widely known when she ran away from the hospital just before her leg was to be amputated.

The operation was necessary to save her life, doctors said. Her mother refused to allow it and it had to be ordered by Juvenile Court Judge Walter G. Whitlatch.

But Christine is unhappy over the prospect of living at the home, which she visited last month.

"All these institutions are the same," she said. "You really don't know what they're like until you're in them and can't leave."

Placing her in the Protestant Home for Dependent Children is the Cuyahoga County Division of Child Welfare. She has been in county hospitals here for almost a year.

NEW YORK—Miss Pamela Tiffin is "different" in many ways.

After several blissful years of wearing contact lenses, Pamela suddenly switched and started wearing glasses . . . and having miserably flunked her driver's examination in California, Miss Tiffin is now bravely taking flying lessons.

WILSON

"I don't really care about driving a car, anyway," says the 22-year-old film beauty, peevishly, concerning flunking that driver's exam in Los Angeles.

"Motorists," she states icily, "are very rude. They try to go around you. People around airports are very courteous. They wait for you to take off, and they never yell rude remarks at you."

Miss Tiffin, one of the prettiest girls who ever came out of Chicago, got to flying while making a picture. "They were flying the film over to Albuquerque every day and I got to riding along," says Pamela. "I like cowboys and pilots and outdoor men. The pilot said, 'Would you like to take the wheel?' Pretty soon I decided to start flying lessons . . ."

Well, I'm not supposed to tell precisely what happened — but one day she got a wire saying she wasn't supposed to fly any more.

The wire seemed to be from Los Angeles. She takes it that somebody heard she was having a delightful time cavorting in the sky and was worried about her.

Miss Tiffin came home to her husband, Clay Felker, a newspaper executive, thoroughly bitten by the flying bug—also wearing glasses which he hadn't seen her in before.

"I don't think he'll like me in glasses," she fretted to me. "Why, when I was flying with my contact lenses on, sometimes they would fog up, and I couldn't see the instrument board."

This, of course, was something of a handicap to flying, and fortunately Pamela wasn't soloing yet.

Stolen Talking Bird Found

DETROIT (AP)—Blackie, the Detroit 'zoo's talking Mynah bird, is back in his cage today, after being abandoned on a suburban Southfield doorstep. The bird was stolen Friday.

Charles R. Byrne, a Southfield real estate man, found the bird perched inside its cage in the doorway of his office. Southfield police, notified by Byrne, called zoo officials who reported Blackie unharmed.

The window-breaking thieves also took a screech owl from the zoo's bird house, but left snakes alone though they broke plate glass doors of the reptile house. The owl has not been found.

Zoo Director Frank McInnis said Blackie is a particular delight to children. He speaks and whistles. Once he was kept in confinement until he could forget bad language he had picked up.

The recent discovery of oil in Castile has spurred an oil fever in Spain, according to Marquis de Merry del Val, ambassador to the United States.

'Hot Line' Planned for Pope Visit

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI will have his own "hot line" to keep contact with the Vatican while he is in Bombay attending the International Eucharistic Congress next week.

The actual center of Church power will shift with the pontiff to India, but in case something urgent arises, technicians have set up direct telecommunications between the Vatican and the residence of Valerian Cardinal Gracias, archbishop of Bombay, with whom the Pope will stay.

Vatican sources said the line to Bombay will be manned around the clock, but they do not anticipate any emergency requiring its use.

During the pontiff's absence Dec. 2 through Dec. 5, the Vatican Congregation and other administrative bodies will carry on routine business.

LONG ABSENCE

It will be the longest papal absence since Pius VII returned to Rome in 1814 after five years in France as a prisoner of Napoleon.

Pope Paul's two top administrators will accompany him to India.

They are Amleto Cardinal Cicognani, Vatican secretary of state, and Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the College of Cardinals.

Pope Paul is expected to be so busy in Bombay that he and his aides will put aside all but the most pressing Church affairs.

Six members of a fanatic Hindu organization were arrested in Bombay today by police squads assigned to guard the Pope during his Indian visit.

Twelve members of the Hindu Mahasabha group are now behind bars. Scores of others have been ordered to stay out of Bombay when the Pope arrives. The Hindus claim the Pope is making the journey to convert the Indians.

Throughout the whole World Bridge Olympiad, the Philadelphia pair of Bobby Jordan and Arthur Robinson demonstrated that they are one of the finest bridge pairs if not the best in the world.

Today's hand is a real bidding gem and shows them at their best.

JACOBY

The first bid that requires comment is Bobby's second round pass. In their system, an immediate bid over East's two clubs would have shown a better hand than Bobby held.

At his next turn, Bobby took out his partner's business double of two hearts. This clearly showed a good diamond suit and not much of a hand.

Arthur was still interested in game. He might have tried three no-trump, but he had no stopper in either black suit so Arthur bid three hearts as a cue-bid.

This asked Bobby to bid three no-trump if he could stop both black suits, but Bobby could stop spades only. Hence, Bobby bid three spades to show his spade stopper. He was not afraid that Arthur would get interested in a slam. Bobby already had shown weakness when he passed over East's two clubs.

The three-spade bid forced Arthur to go to four diamonds. Bobby thought this over and passed. He was pretty sure of two club losers and one spade loser.

Four diamonds was not a lay down. Bobby had to take a heart finesse to bring the contract home, but the finesse was marked on the bidding. At the other table, North played three no-trump and the defense crashed five clubs and a spade before giving up the lead.

Army Calls for Drafting of 5,400 in January

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today called for the drafting of 5,400 men in January.

The quota is part of the 13,600 enlisted men with no prior service that the Army estimates will be needed from Selective Service and volunteers for that month. The 5,400 compares with 7,800 for December. The highest quota for this year was 16,000 last January; the lowest was an August quota of 3,300.

Dominates Waterford, 74-48

Central Continues Cage Hex

By FLETCHER SPEARS
Pontiac Central continues to hold a hex over Waterford on the basketball court.

Central's Chiefs and the Skippers opened the 1964-65 campaign on the Waterford floor last night and PCH came away with a 74-48 decision.

The victory over the Skippers was the seventh in a row for the Chiefs. Since the 1957-58 season, the teams have met five times on the tournament trail (including last night's tilt) twice during the regular season. The Chiefs have won them all.

The win also snapped a one-game losing streak for Central. The Chiefs, who have won 11 of their last 12 games, were dumped by Benton Harbor in the state tournament semifinals last spring, their final outing of the season.

The issue at Waterford was never in doubt.

EARLY LEAD

Central jumped off to a 21-11 first quarter lead and was never threatened. PCH held a 62-30 margin at intermission.

Both squads were chilly in the opening frame, with Waterford a little more on the icy side.

The Skippers notched their first point on a foul shot by Dick Miller at 4:20, and their first field goal came with 3:48 remaining in the period.

Guard Carl Arnold, a 5-8 speedster, paced the Chiefs' attack in the opening half with 16 points and he wound up tied with John Hooper for team scoring honors with 17 markers.

SLOW START

Hooper, after a slow start, started skipping around the backboards with authority in the second half and he also collected 14 of his points in the closing quarters.

Guard Rick Ziem was the Skippers' most consistent performer.

The junior sharpshooter led all scorers with 18 points, 12 of them coming in the second half.

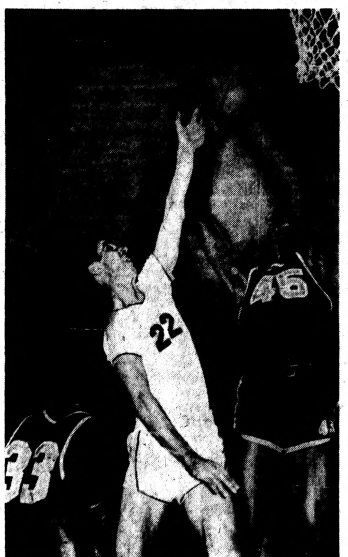

Giving Ziem an assist with the scoring were Bill Lemaux (12) and Dick Miller (10).

Eight of the Chiefs denied the scoring column.

Trailing Hooper and Arnold in the scoring were Jesse

Evans (13) and Ross Ludwick (10). Central gained a 77-37 edge in rebounds.

PCH takes on Flint Central at home Tuesday night in the opener of the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Army-Navy Clash to End Word Battle

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—any gimmicks he feels gives the Middies a psychological lift. From the propaganda in the past 10 days it has been difficult to determine if Army and Navy will play in their annual football classic today, or if the two coaches are going to settle the whole thing in a midfield debate.

The usual crowd of 100,000 is expected for the nationally televised game (1:30 p.m. EST).

Coaches Wayne Hardin of Navy and Paul Dietzel of Army haven't exactly camouflaged mutual dislike for each other.

Dietzel says Hardin is a man of gimmicks and rubs it in unnecessarily when he wins. Hardin suggests Dietzel mind his own business, that he will use

But despite this and other salty comments by the opposing coaches, the 66th game in the service series will be settled on the field at John F. Kennedy Stadium.

Realistically, with both having poor seasons, the outcome is significant only to the brigade of Midshipmen and the corps of Cadets. There are no national rankings or bowl bids in the wings this year for Navy, 3-5, or Army, 3-6.

QUARTERBACKS

The attacks of both teams are built around stout quarterbacks. Army's Rolfe Stichweh, and halfback Tom Leiser, all sophomores.

will attempt to end Navy's five year dominance of the game and give Dietzel his first service victory.

But he'll have to outduel Jolly Roger Staubach, 1963 All-American, who has recovered from injuries that made him comparatively ineffective this season. Even with his injuries, Staubach has collected 1,046 yards in total offense this season.

Navy and Staubach are a touchdown favorite to make it six in a row over Army and the long rivalry which now stands 30-25-5 for the Cadets.

Staubach will be aided and abetted by halfback Calvin Huey, fullback Danny Wong, and halfback Tom Leiser, all sophomores.

Pontiac Press Photo

SKIPPER MOVES—Waterford's Rick Ziem (44) moves by Pontiac Central's Willie Adams en route to a basket in third quarter last night. Ziem led the Skippers in scoring with 18 points, but PCH won the game, 74-48.

Pros Draft Gridders Today

NCAA Warns Professionals

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pro Football could be headed for serious trouble from a source it never dreamed of—the NCAA—if it actually has been up to any hanky-panky.

That was the blunt warning issued to the pros today by William Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten and long-time chairman of the NCAA's committee on college and pro football relations.

Reed made his remarks in Chicago upon hearing a report that the American Football League held a sneak telephone draft two weeks ago in advance of Saturday's regularly scheduled one.

"If that's true," Reed said, "It would affect practically every college football player in the nation. The majority of teams still had not completed their schedules two weeks ago."

"If there is clear-cut evidence of evasion of agreements they have with us the NCAA to avoid premature signings, I

NATIONAL ON DEFENSE—Guard John Hannett of the Pontiac Nationals can pose problems with his defensive agility for the Pontiac Nationals. He'll be in action along with the rest of his North American Basketball League teammates tonight at 8:15 on the Pontiac Northern court.

Host to Chicago Pro Team

Pontiac Hoop Team Plays Tonight

The Pontiac Nationals will be eyeing a climb in the standings tonight when they tangle with the Chicago Bombers in a North American Basketball League game at the Pontiac Northern gymnasium.

The Pontiac quintet won its first game. Thanksgiving night at Muskegon and now will attempt to square its NABL mark at 2-2 and climb possibly as high as second place in the standings.

The visiting Bombers are 1-1, having lost to unbeaten Benton Harbor (3-0) on the Sallors court Thursday, 123-106. Pontiac lost, 107-102, there last Saturday.

Tonight's other NABL tilt will see winless Muskegon (0-2) visit Grand Rapids (1-1). An upset win for the Panthers and a Pontiac victory would leave the Nationals a game and a half behind idle Benton Harbor.

Game time for the PNH clash is 8:15. The doors will open at 7 p.m. and pregame festivities will start at 7:30. Tickets are available at the door. The top price is $1.50.

Several outstanding sports personalities from Pontiac will be in the pregame and intermission activities.

Pontiac is led by captains Willie Merriweather and Henry Hughes, and the league's leading rebounder Charley North. The player-coach is 6-10 center Bob Bolton, present varsity mentor at Walled Lake High School.

ADDS SPARK

The insertion of 6-2 guard Manny Jackson into the starting lineup did much to aid the Nationals' cause in Thursday's win over Muskegon.

The little speedster put spark into the offense with his playmaking and contributed 17 points. Dick Diaz, 6-6, 230-pound front court performer has been a valuable rebounder and scorer as the No. 1 reserve up front.

Al Cech, Frank Chickowski, Felix Brooks and John Hannett are the reserves in the back court. Brooks is a former Pontiac City League star.

Chicago has Porter Merriweather as one of its top scorers. He is a cousin to Pontiac's Willie. Jackie Fitzpatrick is another top point producer for the visitors.

Willie Bond, 6-8 center, has been a key performer for the Brown Bombers. They are coached by Clarence (Dad) Cash, diminutive veteran mentor from the Windy City.

The turnout at tonight's game will have a big bearing on the future of pro basketball in Pontiac. Several key prospective supporters are awaiting tonight's fan response before deciding how far they will go in backing the Nationals.

Brown Shoots for Record in Crucial Game

By The Associated Press

When Jim Brown scored his first National Football League touchdown in 1957, the Cleveland Browns were on the way to their seventh Eastern Conference championship in eight tries.

Sunday, Cleveland hopes to nail its first division crown since Brown's rookie year while the great fullback shoots for an all-time touchdown mark. The Browns can clinch the Eastern title and a championship playoff date with Baltimore by beating the Philadelphia Eagles if the St. Louis Cardinals fail to end a 12-year jinx at Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile, the Colts, who clinched the Western Conference title last Sunday, risk their 10-game winning streak against the New York Giants. Green Bay, Dallas and Minnesota Los Angeles pairings complete the schedule.

The Browns, whose championship drive was stalled by Green Bay last week, will be at full strength for their final home game.

Jimmy Brown's next touchdown will be his 165th, tying Don Hutson's career record. The former Green Bay star established the mark in 11 seasons.

The Cardinals beat the Steelers at St. Louis earlier this season but haven't won at Pittsburgh since 1948.

Giants Act Fast, Sign No. 1 Pick

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Giants signed Auburn fullback Tucker Frederickson, their No. 1 choice in the National Football League draft, only a few minutes after putting his name on the draft list today.

The San Francisco 49ers went next and took Ken Willard of North Carolina, another fullback.

Wellington Mara, Giants' vice president, said a Giant representative had met Frederickson in a Birmingham hotel and got his name on a contract. Mara would not reveal the terms or say whether the contract had a no-cut provision.

"We signed Frederickson because we consider him the best all-around fullback in the country," Mara said. He said the Giants had also considered Dick Butkus, Illinois linebacker; Craig Morton, California quarterback; and Joe Namath, Alabama quarterback, for the No. 1 selection before deciding on Frederickson.

Butkus was chosen by the Chicago Bears and Morton by Dallas in the first round of the NFL draft.

The Chicago Bears, acquiring Illinois linebacker Dick Butkus, Kansas halfback Gale Sayers and Tennessee guard Steve DeLong in the first round, indicated Saturday they are confident of signing this trio of National Football League draft choices.

Owner Coach George Halas disclosed he had conferred with Butkus in Chicago Friday. The brilliant Illinois linebacker was elected by Denver of the rival American Football League in the second round.

"I don't see why we won't be able to sign Butkus," said Halas, an alumnus of Illinois. "Dick is in New York for football activity for the next three or four days, but I expect to be in touch with him soon."

The Green Bay Packers, using most of their allotted hour before making a choice, picked Don Anderson, a future Anderson has not yet completed his college eligibility although his original choice will be graduated this year, thus making him eligible for the pro draft.

The Packers used a draft choice acquired from Philadelphia in making this selection. They also got a second pick in the first round.

The Minnesota Vikings also required nearly an hour to make Jack Snow, Notre Dame's star pass-catching end, as their first choice and No. 8 in the league.

The Los Angeles Rams, picking ninth, chose Clarence Williams, Washington State halfback who rushed for 783 yards on 147 attempts to rank 14th in the NCAA individual statistics.

Patriot Coach Sees Chance

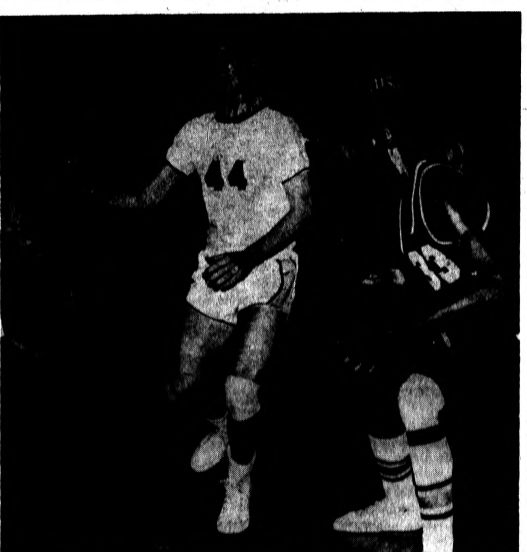

By The Associated Press

"The Eastern race isn't over yet," Mike Holovak, coach of the Boston Patriots, talked of his club's chances as the team left for Houston to battle the Oilers Sunday in the American Football League's top game of the day.

The Patriots, 8-2-1, must whip the Oilers to keep alive their hopes of overhauling the first place Buffalo Bills, 10-1, who edged San Diego 27-24 on Thursday.

The Oilers, 2-9, have lost eight in a row but Coach Sammy Baugh believes the home field advantage and George Blanda's quarterbacking will stop the Pats. "If we have as good a game as the last time we'll beat them."

He referred to Boston's 25-24 victory over the Oilers at Boston several weeks ago when Gino Cappellotti kicked a 41-yard field goal to win the game with just one second left to play.

SKIPPER MOVES—Waterford's Rick Ziem (44) moves by Pontiac Central's Willie Adams en route to a basket in third quarter last night. Ziem led the Skippers in scoring with 18 points, but PCH won the game, 74-48.

Irish, Southern Cal Risk Cherished Hopes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Notre Dame, only one victory away from a perfect season and the national collegiate football championship, met Southern California's Trojans today in a game certain to end the hopes of one team.

The Irish, enjoying their most successful season since 1949, put a 9-0 slate on the line against a 6-3 record owned by the Trojans.

Southern California needs a victory to keep its Rose Bowl hopes alive—a hope already dimmed by semi-official recommendations that Oregon State might make a better representative to meet Michigan in the New Year's Day classic in Pasadena.

Today's game was the 30th meeting between the schools, dating back to 1908. A crowd of more than 80,000 was expected to witness the final regular season game for both schools.

Led by Heisman Trophy winner John Huarte, Notre Dame has come a long way from a dismal 1963 season when its record was two wins against seven defeats.

Southern California, national champions a scant two years ago, is a decided underdog with a 6-3 record mark.

And Southern Cal has almost as much at stake as does national leader Notre Dame.

The conference decided to hold off a vote until after today's match, but Trojan Coach John McKay has no doubts if the team loses there'll be no bowl bid for USC.

Oilers Take Receiver

NEW YORK (AP)—Larry Elkins, Baylor's pass-catching star, was the first pick in the American Football League draft today, going to the Houston Oilers.

The New York Jets, acquiring the second pick in the first round in a trade with Houston, chose Alabama quarterback Joe Namath and gave the Texas club rights to Tulsa's celebrated passer, Jerry Rhome.

SECOND ROUND—1. Denver, Dick Carlson, Illinois fullback; 2. Houston, Malcolm Walker, Rice fullback; 3. Oakland, Fred Biletnikoff, Florida State and 4. New York, John Huarte, Notre Dame. THIRD ROUND—1. Kansas City, Jack Chapple, Stanford; 2. Houston, Jerry Rhome, Baylor; 3. San Diego, Allen Brown, Mississippi State; 4. Buffalo, Al Atkinson, Villanova; 5. Cleveland, Arneson linebacker.

FOURTH ROUND—1. Houston, Ernie Roy, Texas fullback; 2. Denver, Dennis Hunter, Penn State; 3. Oakland, Fred Biletnikoff, Florida State and 4. New York, John Huarte, Notre Dame. FIFTH ROUND—1. Kansas City, Jack Chapple, Stanford; 2. Houston, Jerry Rhome, Baylor; 3. San Diego, Allen Brown, Mississippi State; 4. Buffalo, Al Atkinson, Villanova; 5. Cleveland, Arneson linebacker.

SIXTH ROUND—1. Houston, Ernie Roy, Texas fullback; 2. Denver, Dennis Hunter, Penn State; 3. Oakland, Fred Biletnikoff, Florida State and 4. New York, John Huarte, Notre Dame. SEVENTH ROUND—1. Kansas City, Jack Chapple, Stanford; 2. Houston, Jerry Rhome, Baylor; 3. San Diego, Allen Brown, Mississippi State; 4. Buffalo, Al Atkinson, Villanova; 5. Cleveland, Arneson linebacker.

EIGHTH ROUND—1. Houston, Ernie Roy, Texas fullback; 2. Denver, Dennis Hunter, Penn State; 3. Oakland, Fred Biletnikoff, Florida State and 4. New York, John Huarte, Notre Dame. NINTH ROUND—1. Kansas City, Jack Chapple, Stanford; 2. Houston, Jerry Rhome, Baylor; 3. San Diego, Allen Brown, Mississippi State; 4. Buffalo, Al Atkinson, Villanova; 5. Cleveland, Arneson linebacker.

TENTH ROUND—1. Houston, Ernie Roy, Texas fullback; 2. Denver, Dennis Hunter, Penn State; 3. Oakland, Fred Biletnikoff, Florida State and 4. New York, John Huarte, Notre Dame. ELEVENTH ROUND—1. Kansas City, Jack Chapple, Stanford; 2. Houston, Jerry Rhome, Baylor; 3. San Diego, Allen Brown, Mississippi State; 4. Buffalo, Al Atkinson, Villanova; 5. Cleveland, Arneson linebacker.

CHOSEN—Former Pontiac Central star and 1964 All-Big Ten tackle at Michigan State Jerry Rush was picked by Boston on the first round of the American Football League draft this morning.

Des Moines Hikes Puck League Lead
By The Associated Press
Two victories by Des Moines this week, while second place Fort Wayne was splitting a game, have extended the Oak Leafs' lead in the International Hockey League to six points.
Des Moines, with 12 victories and a tie in 17 games, has 23 points, compared to 17 for the Komets.
Fort Huron, with a victory in its only game played, moved to within a point of the third place Toledo Blades which dropped two games.

A HELPING HAND—Bill Logan (13) of St. Fred and St. Mike's Mike Perry (23) for a rebound. In background is Seaholm's Jim Snider. Seaholm won, 82-62.

St. Fred, St. Mike Win; Seaholm Rolls by Groves

A second-half surge carried St. Michael to a 49-36 triumph over Detroit St. Agatha last night, and the win pushed the Mikemen into first place in the Northwest Catholic League.

In other games, St. Frederick's Rams jumped Emmanuel Christian, 45-28; Birmingham Seaholm rolled to an 82-62 triumph over Birmingham Groves; Royal Oak Dundero jumped R. O. Kimball, 70-64; Brother Rice downed Detroit Cathedral, 58-49; Marine City romped to a 66-44 win over Anchor Bay; and Imlay City turned in a 48-39 decision over Brown City.

St. Michael's Shamrocks left the floor at intermission trailing, 23-15, but the team exploded for 19 markers in the third quarter to take a 34-28 lead.

St. Michael kept the pressure on in the fourth stanza, outscoring the losers, 15-10.
Rick Lavoie paced the Shamrock attack in 19 points. Bill French and Greg Glynn tossed in nine apiece.

Mike Roemer collected 17 for St. Agatha.

St. Frederick jumped off to a 27-12 lead at halftime and coasted to victory.

Piston Squad Comes Home to Meet 76ers
DETROIT UPI — The Detroit Pistons return home to night after a five-game road trip to meet the Philadelphia 76ers at Cobo Arena.

The Pistons ended the road trip on the West Coast last night on the receiving end of a 117-111 verdict by the Los Angeles Lakers.

The Pistons led for the first two quarters, but the Lakers put on a second-half surge and took the victory. Jerry West and Elgin Baylor led the way.
West connected for eight straight points during a 90-second span and the Lakers were off and running to a 70-62 margin midway in the third quarter. Baylor accounted for 11 points in the third period.

Player-coach Dave DeBusschere was in for his first harsh criticism by the press on the trip.
When the Pistons dropped a 100-117 decision to the Lakers Wednesday night, Merv Harris of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner criticized the team and said, "The grand experiment of port basketball by the Detroit Pistons apparently is a colossal dud."

SUMMING UP
"In their present situation," Harris said, "the Pistons present a basketball anarchy, lack of authority, lack of discipline."
DeBusschere was irritated and said, "I don't mind being criticized but I think this guy is way off base."

Benton Harbor Five Blitzes Opening Foe

Best Mentor's Squad Closed With 4 Wins

By The Associated Press
Defending Class A state high school basketball champion Benton Harbor exploded into another prep season Friday night with a record blitz, but two other defending titlists may have a hard time making it to East Lansing next March.
Led by L.C. Bowen, the Tigers crushed Muskegon Mona Shores 106-68. Bowen notched 30 points.
Meanwhile, Grosse Pointe St. Paul, defending Class C champ, was soundly whipped by Hamtramck St. Florian 55-35, and Britton-Macon, Class D champ for the past two years, was edged 47-44 by Adrian Madison. The loss snapped a 17-game winning streak for Britton.
Defending Class B champion River Rouge did not play.
Powerful Benton Harbor served notice they again are the team to beat in Class A by setting a school scoring record with their 106 points. John Rudley, a senior guard, backed up Bowen by scoring 25 points.
Rudley was tied for second-highest point honors by Mona Shores center Ted Huebner who also scored 26.
Two other teams passed the century mark. Carleton-Airport beat Gibraltar Carlson 107-52 and Detroit St. Thomas defeated Roseville Sacred Heart 108-80. Airpark's 107 points set a school record.
Grosse Pointe St. Paul, winner of the Class C title the past three seasons, fell behind St. Florian 25-17 at halftime and couldn't catch up. Lakers' top scorers Bill Bigham and Dave Letscher were held to seven points each.

In another top game, Lansing Sexton defeated Grand Rapids South 72-56.

NAIA Names All State Team
Best Mentor's Squad Closed With 4 Wins
MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—Northern Michigan University football coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca has been named NAIA District 23 Coach of the Year for the second straight year.
Announcement of Ferzacca's award and selection of a 22-man All State team, made up of NAIA member schools, was announced Friday, Nov. 27.
Ferzacca's freshman and sophomore-dominated team reeled off four straight victories at the close of the season to finish with a 5-3 record.
Hillsdale College dominated the All State team with eight selections.
Dales named to the offensive team were end Larry Murphy and Bill Murphy, tackle Bob Mallendick and halfback Bruce McLenna. Tackle Larry Scroby, guard Dennis Korwin, line-backer Doug Sattler and back Jerry Simmons were named to the defensive team.
Others on the offensive team were tackle Jim Hadley, guard Barry Rubin and center Richard Willing of Eastern Michigan; guard Pat Stump and Quarter-back Terry Nugent of Northern Michigan; fullback Bruce Wyman of Central Michigan, and back Emery Welch of Ferris State.

End Bernie Schmitt and tackle Allen Ische of Northern Michigan; guard Ken Bickel, line-backer Frank Goldberg and defensive back Jamie Gent of Central Michigan; back William MacGillivray of Eastern Michigan and end Mike Warren of Ferris, round out the defensive team.

Racer Marshman Burned Critically in Track Crash
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Race driver Bob Marshman, 28, of Potlown, Pa., was in extremely critical condition today with burns over 85 to 90 per cent of his body.
The 1964 racing veteran, who placed 13th in Sunday's 200-mile Bobby Ball Memorial Race at Phoenix Raceway, crashed into the track wall Friday during a practice run.
Witnesses estimated Marshman hit the west retaining wall at about 140 miles per hour. Marshman was sprayed with flaming gasoline as the car exploded.
Two asbestos-suited firefighters pulled Marshman from the wreckage and sprayed him with foam. The Lotus Ford was destroyed.

4 Share Lead in Mexico Golf
MEXICO CITY (AP)—Four players—Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo and the United States' Art Wall, Al Besselink and Jim Ferree—tied for the lead at the halfway point of the Tournament Friday with 139s after 36 holes.
DeVicenzo, who had shared the lead with Canada's George Knudson on opening day, had trouble with his putter Friday and could turn in no better than a par 72 while the Americans were shooting sterling sub-par scores.
Wall shot a 68, Besselink 69 and Ferree 70.
Knudson went to a four-over-par 76 and dropped back into the pack.

Bond Prices Show Decline

Investors Still Wary at End of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices declined in all markets last week after the British and United States governments raised central bank interest rates.

The U.S. Treasury Bond prices tumbled into a steep slide on Monday after the British raised their interest rate from 5 per cent to 7 per cent. The U.S. Federal Reserve late the same day raised the American rate from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent.

By the end of the week some of the losses had been pared. Investors were still wary of further developments, both international and national, that could have a broad effect on oil prices.

The major international depression after the British bank rate boost came as selling pressure built up on the British sterling. But 11 nations, including the United States, pledged a $3-billion pool to defend the pound. By the end of the week the pressure had evaporated and the exchange value of sterling had recovered its normal position.

AND PRICES
In the New York Stock Exchange corporate bond prices declined. Of the 479 issues listed during the week 318 dropped in price, 85 advanced and 76 were unchanged.

because of the Thanksgiving day volume was a par value $30.08 million compared to $18 million last week.

municipal bond prices declined sharply during the week. At one point, they ranged as much as two points. But, like other bond categories, they recovered the losses by week's end.

Short Circuit Cause of Fire in Area Home

Fire yesterday caused by a short circuit in an electric organ speaker attachment in a house at 4015 Sawyer, Waterford Township, resulted in extensive damage to the front area of the house and destroyed the organ.

Total damage to the $14,000 two-story house and contents has not been determined.

The house is owned by Arnold J. Nienstead.

Firemen said the blaze erupted in the living room at 12:54 p. m. when the house was unoccupied.

Half Training at Stricken Fort

FORT ORD, Calif. (UPI) — A two-month suspension of basic training begins at Ft. Ord next week as part of a battle to control a meningitis outbreak that has caused 15 deaths on the Army post this year.

A total of 105 soldiers and dependents have been stricken with the disease during the year, and several other cases were reported among off-base civilians who had contact with Ft. Ord trainees.

The Army earlier had planned to suspend basic training here for the month of December, but a spokesman said yesterday that the suspension will continue through Jan. 31 because "We want to make certain" the disease is wiped out.

A medical program is being prepared to make sure there is no new outbreak after Jan. 31.

The last group of trainees is leaving the post this weekend after completing their eight-week course.

During December and January, trainees from Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico, Idaho, Hawaii, Washington, Oregon and California will probably be sent to Ft. Polk, La., or Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

Boy, 9, Hit by Car Listed Satisfactory

A 9-year-old Commerce Township boy is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital after a car-pedestrian accident yesterday afternoon.

William H. Krass of 4235 Blue Bird was injured, deputies said, when he ran into the side of a car traveling north on Union Lake Road in Commerce Township.

The driver of the car, Barbara A. Dingman, 2829 Red Arrow, Commerce Township, told officers she did not see the boy until it was too late.

Junior Editors Quiz on YOUR LANGUAGE

QUESTION: Where did the English language come from?

ANSWER: The main base of our language was the speech of the Germanic tribes who invaded the British Isles beginning about 450 A.D. They spoke different dialects or variations of a language known as low German.

The Angles and Saxons were the most important of these invading tribes and their speech became known as "Anglo-Saxon."

It was the Angles who called the new country "England," later shortened to "England," and they called their special tongue "Englisc," from which we have "English." The various invaders had met Romans in Europe and so brought along many Latin words. When William the Conqueror took over England in 1066, French became the language of the upper class and the law courts, while the ordinary people spoke Anglo-Saxon.

French influence did not as the races merged to develop the English nation; three different dialects developed: the Northern, Middle and Southern.

The great poet Chaucer wrote in the Middle Dialect (center) and helped to turn this into modern English. Spreading out over the world, English acquired many words from other sources.

FOR YOU TO DO: Our words "moccasin" and "wigwag" come from the American Indians; "chocolate" and "tomato" from the Mexicans. Open a dictionary and look at a few words; you can usually find their origin just after the word, such as "Old French."

Although the giraffe has the longest neck of any modern mammal, it has only seven neck bones. This is the same number found in the cow and the mouse.

Available at Red Cross

Offer Message-to-Gl Service

Wives, parents and children of county men and women on active military service overseas or confined in a service hospital anywhere, can send a "voice from home" Christmas greeting without charge starting Monday through Dec. 11.

This free service is offered by officials of the Oakland County chapter of the American Red Cross.

Carlton C. Patterson Jr., chairman of the Oakland chapter, invites members of servicemen's families to come to chapter headquarters at 118 Franklin Blvd., or the branch office at 315 W. Sixth, Royal Oak, to make the recordings on equipment and discs supplied free by the Red Cross.

Each Christmas message on a recorded disc will be air-mailed without charge in a special protective envelope to be received by the addressee on or before Christmas day.

The home service division of Red Cross suggests they be called for appointments between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

PLAN MESSAGE

Discs can record a fifteen minute message from one or several members of the family. It is suggested that the message be planned in advance; which members will talk on what subjects, and in what sequence.

Families are also requested to bring the correct and complete address of the individual to whom the recording is to be sent.

News in Brief

Police are investigating the recent theft of a tape recorder, valued at $99, from Christian Literature Sales at 35 Oakland.

Rummage Sale: December 3, 8:30-12, by St. Monica's Guild at St. Andrews Episcopal Church. —adv.

Asks Detroit to Tighen Bel

Mayor Sees Tax Loss Due to Revenue Cut

DETROIT (AP) — Citing an anticipated yearly tax loss of $2.8 million from the downward adjustment of Detroit's city income tax, Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh today ordered a belt-tightening by all municipal departments.

Cavanagh, calling for reduced spending for the remainder of Detroit's fiscal year, said anticipated reductions in the city's assessed property valuations also required economizing.

In addition, he said, an elimination of taxation of the municipal transportation system will reduce the city's revenues.

Cavanagh said preliminary projections indicate it will take $12 million more to operate the government in fiscal 1965-66 than will be available from all revenue sources.

HIGH ACTIVITY
He said this would take place despite the fact that "economic activity continues at a high level."

The mayor also directed all city departments to prepare alternative budgets with 5 to 10 per cent spending reductions for the next fiscal year. The city's fiscal year runs to July 1.

Michigan's new Constitution limits Detroit's income tax to one-half of 1 per cent on nonresidents. The same limitation applies to all other city income taxes.

Detroit's tax has been a flat 1 per cent on both residents and nonresidents. The reduction for nonresidents takes effect Jan. 1.

DETROIT DEFICIT

Cavanagh said Detroit's deficit has been reduced to $3.3 million compared to its original $3.5 million. He said it should be cut in half by the end of this fiscal year and eliminated by the end of fiscal 1965-66.

'China Helped Start Fire at U. S. Library'

CAIRO (UPI) — The Chinese Communist Embassy in Cairo said today that the fire which destroyed the United States Library here, two reliable American sources claimed today.

There was no immediate official comment on the report.

The library, considered the best in Cairo, was gutted Thanksgiving Day by African students in a demonstration against the Western rescue mission in the Congo. The library was located within the U.S. Embassy compound.

About $250,000 worth of books were destroyed in the fire and officials have estimated total damage to the library and other U.S. buildings at $500,000.

The African sources said the students who participated in the demonstration told them they started the blaze with materials given them by the Peking embassy in Cairo.

Earlier today, Vice Premier Mahmoud Fawzi of the United Arab Republic called in U.S. Ambassador Lucius D. Battle, presumably to discuss an American protest over the incident.

Aquinas College Sees Hope for Student Center

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Aquinas College hopes to acquire a new $800,000 student center following receipt of a Friday that the government has given tentative approval to a loan for the project.

Gene J. Kennedy, Aquinas director of development, said final approval of the $800,000 self-liquidating loan is expected by the end of the year from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency. A gift from an area foundation is expected to cover the balance of the cost.

Kennedy also announced that the college trustees have approved a study committee report on the need for an Aquinas field house and assembly building estimated at $600,000. He said construction on this project cannot proceed until 75 per cent of the funds are pledged.

Israel-Syria Rift Spurs Proposal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Accusations by Syria and Israel that the other was to blame for the Nov. 13-14 border clashes prompted Britain's new chief delegate Lord Caradon to urge marking the frontier.

Caradon, the former Sir Hugh Foot, also told the U.N. Security Council Friday that the Israeli-Syrian mixed armistice commission should be restored as "practical steps to prevent any such violent and dangerous explosions in the future."

Rafik Asaf, Syria's chief U.N. delegate, said Syria considered Israel's jet attack an act of war and said his country would hold Israel solely responsible for "all the consequences which might ensue from such an adventurous course."

Israel's chief envoy Michael S. Comay said his country's role in the incident was entirely defensive.

Gen. Odd Bull of Norway, chief of the U.N. truce supervisory organization for Palestine, said heavy firing erupted on both sides after a single shot was fired from Syria toward an Israeli armored personnel carrier on an Israeli-built road which Syria said intrudes into Syrian territory.

BRUSSELS (AP) — A deadlock over appropriations for the Dutch joint nuclear research center at Petten today prevented the European Atomic Energy Community — Euratom — from agreement on a 1965 budget.

The council instructed Euratom's managing commission to carry on until the end of January and agreed to meet again on the issue, probably early in January.

A West German spokesman said, "Euratom is in a difficult position but there is no crisis." The Netherlands opposed a cut in funds for the Petten center, where work is performed in the field of advanced gas reactors.

GANGTOK, Sikkim State (AP) — An announcement by King Jigme Wangchuk of Bhutan, announcing all powers and dismissions, acting prime minister Lhendup Dorji, was received here today.

The king's proclamation said he had asked his half-brother, Dasho Wangchuk, to take charge of Bhutan's army.

An official Bhutan announcement said some army and civilian officers had fled Bhutan "under exaggerated fear of action to be taken against them on the king's return from Switzerland, for dereliction of duty during his absence." It said that Quartermaster Gen. Agye Tsering is under house arrest.

The announcement said security measures have been heightened along the frontiers. Hollywood actress Shirley MacLaine told Friday in Calcutta how she attempted to smuggle an Indian citizen out of Bhutan with her and succeeded only after obtaining clearance from the king's staff.

PARIS (AP) — U.S. Undersecretary of State George W. Ball arrived here today for talks on the Atlantic alliance.

Ball will meet with French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville next week in the first high-level contact between French and American officials since the American presidential elections Nov. 3.

High among the likely subjects for discussion are nuclear questions of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the European Common Market.

Ball will stay only about 24 hours in Paris to confer with American officials in NATO, U.S. sources said before flying to London Sunday.

He will attend the annual ministerial meeting of the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development Wednesday and Thursday.

JAKARTA (AP) — Indonesia today declared seizure of all British-owned enterprises in this country.

There was no indication whether any compensation will be made.

Police and club officials tried to beat off the attackers with chairs. The bandits grabbed piles of envelopes filled with money. Then they dashed through the broken down.

One man was arrested.

PARIS (UPI) — Allied officials today pondered a hint that Britain may pull out or part of its troops out of Germany, further weakening the already-undisputed strength of the Atlantic alliance (NATO).

2-YEAR PACT
A two-year agreement signed July 27 committed West Germany to buy as much equipment in Britain as possible.

Callaghan's statement appeared to mean the British government finds this help inadequate.

NATO officials said a British troop pullout would be a severe blow to U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, the NATO Supreme Commander.

Lemnitzer has been trying to persuade NATO nations to station 30 divisions in Central Europe — the minimum goal set years ago by his predecessor, Gen. Lauris Norstad.

This is only one-half of the target of 60 divisions set earlier in the history of the 15-year-old alliance, but even this goal has never been reached.

Fallen Short
Current NATO strength in Central Europe is equivalent to about 25 divisions — 12 West German divisions, 7 United States divisions, 2 French divisions, 2 British divisions and Canadian, Belgian and Dutch units amounting to about 1½ divisions.

Lemnitzer has been seeking to compensate for manpower weakness by increasing the atomic firepower of his forces. He has enjoyed some success in this direction, due to the addition of the latest types of American tactical nuclear weapons to the NATO arsenal.

Detroit Girl Found Slain

DETROIT (TAP) — An 18-year-old girl was found slain on the near east side Friday. Police said she had been raped and robbed. The body was found at the rear of a residence in the Woodward Avenue-East Grand Boulevard area.

Police identified her as Cleora Jones, 36, said her daughter had attended a party the night before. Miss Jones had been beaten on the head. Her wallet, ripped open, was found near the body.

More Victims of Congo Rebel Slaughter Found

SHE PICKS 'EM — Mrs. Donald A. Bradford receives The Press Annual Football Contest winning award of a $500 U. S. Savings Bond from staffer Howard Heldenbrand.

With the Bears' Thanksgiving Day defeat of the Lions, the faultless forecaster had picked 14 consecutive winners.

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

No flesh - and - blood gridiron clash ever had a more cliff-hanger windup than the Press' Annual Football contest that was decided Thanksgiving Day.

Of the four surviving contestants, three had pinned their hopes of sharing the $500 U. S. Savings Bond winner's award on Detroit's Lions. The fourth, Mrs. Donald A. Bradford, of 2600 Woodbine, saw the Chicago Bears in the victor's role that would give her sole possession of the prize.

But no coach ever sweated out a tougher tussle than did the contest winner when, with less than two minutes to play, the Bears moved in for a field goal and a three-point win to break a 24-24 tie.

With the contest victory a reality, Mrs. Bradford commented on past participation in the event.

"We've entered the Press competition for the past five years with five family entries," said the 39-year-old mother of four. "But until this year we have always been eliminated early."

MALE HOUSEHOLD

But masculine contestants might have won with the knowledge that the charming clairvoyant presides over a football - oriented male household, and that the astuteness she displayed was but the vicarious expression of their perspicacity.

(This doesn't sound very convincing, but it's the best we could do.)

What plans has the lady for spending the proceeds of her peerless prognostications?

Well, none specifically - but there was the impression that with a backfield of children, Christmas coming, and deferred purchase of a thing or two for the house, the winnings will fade like a Florida sunbat.

Crash Injury Proves Fatal to Area Man

A Waterford Township man died at 3:20 a.m. today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital from injuries suffered two hours earlier when his car overturned on the Square Lake Road exit of 1-75, Bloomfield Township.

Dead is Sam Peter Cusumano, 29, of 2406 Ostrum.

Township police said that Cusumano's 1966 Volkswagen apparently went out of control when it touched the shoulder of the road.

There were no witnesses.

The car turned over several times and Cusumano was thrown from the car, police said.

Officers said the rifle was the type that necessitates pulling the trigger to release the bolt action.

HIT UNDER EYE

The bullet struck Schreiber, who was sitting in a sofa across the room, under the right eye and was deflected into his brain.

Perry's 12-year-old brother, Thomas, was sitting next to Schreiber when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Perry told police she was in the kitchen eating when the fatal shot was fired. She said that the two boys were close companions.

John was questioned by Pontiac police after the mishap and then released to the custody of his father.

Mars Probe Is Launched Successfully

Last Chance for Look at Planet in 2 Years; Due Next July 14

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (P) — An interplanetary spaceship named Mariner 4 rocketed into space today, and the flight control center reported it apparently executed early maneuvers successfully on the start of an intended 7½-month journey to Mars.

The electronic explorer, which represents the United States' last chance for a close look at Mars for two years, was scheduled to fly across 325 million miles of trackless space before passing within 8,600 miles of the red planet next July 14.

During a 30-minute encounter, before Mariner 4 soars past Mars into orbit about the sun, a television camera is to take 22 pictures, and instruments are to study atmospheric density, radiation and other scientific secrets.

Although preliminary data indicated early phases of the launching were successful, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said several hours would be required to determine whether the craft was on a precise course, or whether radio signals would have to be sent to fire a steering motor to jockey it onto the correct path.

A spokesman said definite information was expected late this afternoon.

ON ITS WAY

A towering, 100-foot Atlas-Agena rocket launched Mariner 4 on its way, blasting off from Cape Kennedy exactly on schedule, at 9:22 a.m. EST, with a surge of flaming power from its three booster engines.

A critical hurdle was cleared five minutes, 22 seconds, after launching, when a protective metal shroud separated from the spacecraft.

Structural failure of a shroud made of weaker material ruined the Mariner 3 launching to Mars earlier this month.

Goddard, from a wheelchair, told the judge he wanted to repay his friends for "kindnesses accorded the donor."

He said he had not received the same kindnesses from his daughter, Florence, a niece, Margaret L., and a nephew, Leonard. Goddard did not elaborate.

Goddard assured Judge Covelli that he'll manage quite comfortably on the $21,000 annual income from the stock he retains.

COURT SANCTION

Originally, Goddard had arranged bequests of stock after his death under an irrevocable trust. For that reason he had to have court sanction for an immediate distribution.

But the original trust and the new arrangement stipulated.

Expect Hint of LBJ Viet Policy

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson was expected to give some clue today to his view of the major foreign policy problem of his administration — the future of the anti-Communist war in South Viet Nam.

Johnson invited reporters to his ranch home near here for a full - dress, announced - in - advance news conference — the first of its kind in several months.

It was certain that the prickly Viet Nam dilemma would

Johnson, who will confer Tuesday in Washington with Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, acted in advance of the news conference to discourage speculation that he plans to order a major expansion of the Vietnamese conflict.

A White House source, who declined to be identified, said yesterday the purpose of the Johnson-Taylor meeting "is not to make horrendous decision."

LBJ ENCOURAGEMENT

This individual quite obviously spoke with the authority and encouragement of the President. It was equally apparent Johnson had been disturbed by published speculation that he might be on the brink of ordering a dramatic expansion of the war effort.

Taylor consulted yesterday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara. The ambassador, who was slated for more talks at the State Department today, avoided any public statements and avoided newsmen.

There had been reports the huge American C130 transport planes might ferry Belgian paratroopers for a drop at Bunia, on the eastern Congo border, or Watsa, to the northeast.

But Belgian Premier Theo Lefevre said in Brussels that the rescue mission would be completed today.

BODIES MUTILATED

The bodies were mutilated beyond recognition, with throats cut and cannibalism suspected in several cases, a Red Cross spokesman said.

The massacre was discovered when government soldiers crossed to the left bank in an effort to flush out rebels still holding much of that part of the city.

ISSUE PROTESTS

African leaders and the Communist world continued to protest the U.S.-Belgium mission as "armed intervention."

At United Nations Headquarters in New York, the African group drafted a formal request for a Security Council meeting on the Congo situation. The Congo desisted.

The request would not be presented, however, until the governments in Africa gave the go-ahead.

Morning Is Balmly, but Just You Wait

Don't be misled by this morning's balmy temperatures. The mercury's planning to hit a low of 17 to 26 tonight.

Although the sun will shine tomorrow, it won't warm up the area. The high forecast is 30 to 36.

There's a chance of rain or snow and little change in temperatures Monday.

This morning's low recording in downtown Pontiac was 42. The temperature at 1 p.m. was 54.

Following the speeches, a 1965 red Pontiac convertible drove through the ribbon stretched across the roadway.

This officially opened the loop which appeared on the design boards seven years ago.

In his remarks, Taylor pointed out that Pontiac was the first major city in this state as well as many other states to complete a perimeter route.

"We are hopeful that the opening of this route will be a part of the opening of the state's perimeter route."

White Death Total Is Now Put at 97; 300 More Still Held

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (P) — The discovery of new victims of slaughter by Congolese rebels has raised the total of known white victims to 97.

Unofficial reports of another rebel massacre could mean nearly 150 foreigners were killed.

With the U.S.-Belgian rescue mission, which dramatically saved more than 1,600 white hostages in Stanleyville and Paulis, scheduled to close today, the fate of perhaps 300 whites still behind rebel lines depends on the mercenary-led Congolese forces.

There had been reports the huge American C130 transport planes might ferry Belgian paratroopers for a drop at Bunia, on the eastern Congo border, or Watsa, to the northeast.

But Belgian Premier Theo Lefevre said in Brussels that the rescue mission would be completed today.

Rip Embassies in Red Capital

MOSCOW (AP) — Ramping Asian and African students attacked the U.S., Belgian and Congolese embassies today, screaming anti-West slogans and protesting U.S. and Belgian actions in the Congo.

Yanks Freed From Prison in Tanzania

DDAR ES SALAAM, Tanzania (AP) — Five Americans held in custody for 72 hours were released here today, looking haggard, unshaven and dirty.

They were: The Rev. Robert E. Ward and Mrs. Ward, of Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. Rowland W. Renner, who have been in Tanganyika since 1946 and who work in a leprosy sanatorium and formerly lived in Pasadena, Calif.; and Jon Morris, 25, from West Virginia University.

His father is a missionary in Tanganyika and he is doing a study for Morogoro Agricultural College — 120 miles from Dar Es Salaam.

All five were connected with the Board of World Missions of the Lutheran Church of America.

They were arrested when they drove into a Mozambique Liberation Front camp near Singida in Central Tanganyika.

Plans for Study Are Completed

Plans for a transportation and land-use study, projected to 1980, for Oakland and five other metropolitan area counties were completed yesterday.

The study which will cost an estimated $3.6 million is to be recommended to the federal government. The government would finance 60 per cent of its cost.

Termed the largest proposed urban survey in the nation by its sponsors, it would call for a coordinated transportation and land-use plan.

The study design was drawn up by the Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission in cooperation with the State Highway Department, City of Detroit, Supervisors' Intergovernmental Committee and the Metropolitan Fund, Inc.

Other counties included in the study are Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe.

Quake Hits Tokyo; No Damage Reported

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is due tonight over Atlantic coast, eastern Gulf region and central Pacific Coast and snow is due over northern Pacific Coast, northern Plains, northern and central Rockies, northern Plains, northern Mississippi Valley, western Great Lakes and upper Ohio Valley. It will be warmer in the southwest and cooler in Plains, Mississippi Valley, western Lakes, Ohio and Tennessee valleys.

BREAKING TRADITION — Tradition, as well as a bright red ribbon, was broken yesterday when this 1965 Pontiac convertible officially opened Wide Track Drive. The conventional ribbon-cutting was replaced by a ribbon-breaking as the short drive marked the dedication of the perimeter road.

City Loop Road Is Dedicated

ing of Wide Track Drive will signal a new beginning for a new downtown Pontiac which we hope will achieve a good acceptance and high regard among the communities of this state," Taylor said.

The tear-shaped loop was paid for with city, state and federal funds. Pontiac put $755,000 toward the construction of the multi-lane roadway.

The only remaining work to be done on Wide Track is at the Orchard Lake and Auburn connections. Taylor estimated that in about one week, the project would be completed.

Millionaire Gets Wish to Share Loot With Friends

"the donor intentionally has made no provision whatsoever" for Goddard's daughter, niece and nephew because "he did not receive the same kindnesses from them."

Judge Covelli had postponed a decision earlier until Goddard could come to court.

He came to court in a wheelchair because of a recent leg operation and softly reaffirmed, "I want to see my friends enjoy the money now."

GODDARD SHARE

Goddard's accountants said beneficiaries will actually receive a greater share under the new arrangement which is subject to gift tax, rather than the higher inheritance tax.

Goddard owns 213,018 shares of insurance company stocks recently quoted at $66 a share.

He intends to give away 101,174 shares — clear, pay gift tax himself out of what he keeps.

Under the now revoked trust, Goddard estimated beneficiaries would have been able to keep $4,566,000 after paying inheritance taxes amounting to $8,244,000.

Goddard's lawyer, Almore H. Teske, said it will take a few weeks to complete legal details of the transfers of stock.

A previous trial jury decided that smoking was one of the causes of Green's death. But it said the tobacco company was not to blame because it could not have known at the time that cigarettes might cause cancer.

12 Fliers Killed in Plane Crash

Bodies, Strewn Over Alaska Mountainside

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — Twelve Navy fliers died yesterday when an antisubmarine patrol plane crashed into a mountain near the tip of Cape Newenham, 250 miles northwest of Kodiak.

A four-man rescue party found the wreckage of the burned plane and bodies of the crew strewn over about 500 feet of mountainside.

The crash was led by Maj. Curtiss Grupe, commander of the Cape Newenham Distant Aircraft Control and Warning Station.

The crash was four miles west of the mountain's peak. The plane hit about 200 feet below the crest of the mountain, 800 feet above the sea.

The twin-engine P2V Neptune from Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Wash., was stationed at Kodiak on rotating assignment.

Less Bank Saving

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Money in the bank" is no longer as important to the average family, the Labor Department says, even though the typical urban family is saving twice as much now as in 1950.

Instead of putting cash in the bank, most families are saving in different ways — sinking their money into life insurance and housing.

This is a key finding of the department's first detailed study of consumer habits in 15 years.

MORE DONATIONS

The study also shows that most Americans are giving more money away, in the form of gifts and charitable contributions.

"The average family is less impelled to accumulate cash savings and other liquid assets to tide them over emergencies," said a report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

"Moreover, as home ownership has increased, the family's equity in a home and its equipment has constituted a growing share of its savings," the report added.

Another major form of saving today is in insurance, including Social Security. Group insurance plans sponsored under labor agreements provide "an almost automatic form of workers' savings," the report said.

SIGNIFICANT CHANGE

The most significant change in spending habits found in the survey was in housing. The average urban family spent nearly $1,600 for housing in 1960-61. That was about $550 more per year than in 1950.

Over-all, average consumer spending jumped 42 per cent from 1950 to 1960-61 to a total of $5,390 a year.

After allowing for price increases in the same period, there was a net gain of about 14 per cent in added goods and services, the report said.

STARTED ON SEARCH

Grady, T. Sgt. Joseph J. Kowalk, "Sire" chief at the radar site, and T. Sgt. Lehigh Snyder, a paramedic from Elmendorf Air Force Base at Anchorage, and a fourth man started on the search moments later.

He said a normal position report was received from the plane crew at the aircraft control site at 9:05 a.m., yesterday, and attempts were made later to radio the plane, but they were unsuccessful. Then a column of black smoke was seen rising through the overcast.

FEDERAL WARRANT

He is to be arraigned in Madison on a federal warrant charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

The FBI said Wynagard has a long record of convictions for burglary and larceny that have kept him in jail most of his adult life.

Pressure for county home rule has been mounting in the metropolitan counties of the state ever since adoption of Michigan's new constitution.

The constitution only permits it, however, and enabling legislation will have to be passed before any county can adopt it.

Although classed as enabling legislation, the Wayne County bill is specifically in its provisions for continuation of all the services, facilities, offices and ordinances of counties now in existence, unless the charter provides otherwise.

PART OF PROGRAM

If approved by the board of supervisors, the bill will become part of Oakland's legislative program to be submitted to the 1968 legislation.

Less opposition to county home rule legislation is expected in the upcoming session because of the possibility that Michigan boards of supervisors may have to be reorganized on a population basis.

This will be decided soon by the Michigan Supreme Court, which is scheduled to review a Circuit Court ruling that the Kalamazoo County Board of Supervisors is unconstitutional under the 14th Amendment.

Such a reorganization of heavily populated counties under the present township supervisor system would be impractical, if not impossible.

Support of the ruling, issued last September by Kent County Circuit Judge Fred N. Seal, would, in the opinion of some authorities, make county home rule a necessity for counties like Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Genesee.

Evergreen School to Get Team-Teaching Program

BIRMINGHAM — Team teaching is on its way in the Birmingham school system.

While students are home for the Christmas recess, a core group of teachers will begin learning the rudiments of the new educational concept.

After more meetings during spring vacation and a two-week workshop in the summer, they will be ready to employ the method when Evergreen Elementary School opens in September.

The school now under construction is to be devoted entirely to team teaching, with about 520 students and 25 teachers involved in the program at its outset.

To insure enthusiasm for the project, School Supt. Dr. John B. Smith asked members of his staff to volunteer for participation.

The aims of team teaching are specialization and concentration of strength and the regrouping of children according to their ability," he said.

PLACE EMPHASIS

Emphasis is placed on a teacher's working with both very large and very small groups.

For instance, Smith said, a teacher with a special interest and ability in mathematics might lecture on the subject to a class of 100 youngsters. The group then would be broken into smaller units for detailed discussion.

With Evergreen designated as the pilot team-teaching school, the method may be introduced in the new additions to Valley Woods and Meadow Lake schools which are soon to be completed, Smith said.

All have been designed for the flexibility necessary to a team teaching program, he noted.

Nab Escapee From Detroit

Suspect in Robbery Found in Wisconsin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The arrest in Madison, Wis., of a robbery suspect who escaped from Detroit police last July was announced today by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Raymond L. Wyngaard, 27, one of the FBI's 10 most-wanted fugitives, was arrested in downtown Madison while riding in a taxi, the FBI said.

Wyngaard escaped while en route to a Detroit courtroom for arraignment on a robbery charge July 24. The FBI said he and an accomplice were on a three-day crime spree in Detroit immediately after the escape, robbing a gun shop and a supermarket, shooting and wounding a Detroit policeman and stealing three cars.

He is to be arraigned in Madison on a federal warrant charging him with unlawful interstate flight to avoid prosecution.

The FBI said Wyngaard has a long record of convictions for burglary and larceny that have kept him in jail most of his adult life.

By virtue of his election to the state legislature, Nov. 3, Smith is required to resign any other public office by Jan. 1. He has submitted his resignation as school superintendent effective in January.

Hackett will serve Smart's term on the college board, which expires in June, 1965.

A member of the Avovalde Board of Education, the Michigan Bell Telephone technician is expected to resign his school board post at the next regular meeting.

He is a graduate of the University of Detroit and has taken business administration courses at Oakland University.

Married, he and his wife have seven children.

Hackett, who ran for the college board in 1963 and 1964, finished eighth each time. Six were elected.

Second Quint Dies in Paris

PARIS (AP) — A second of the Sannor quintuplets died today, the French Ministry of Health reported. The surviving three are suffering from respiratory difficulties.

The quint was born five days ago, two months prematurely.

Rice-Paddy Battle

CHAO GAO, South Viet Nam (AP) — A smoothly coordinated ground operation, supported by artillery and helicopter air strikes, left 46 Communist Viet Cong dead today in this lush delta area 27 miles southwest of Saigon.

Lt. Col. Hugh Hoffman, an American military advisor with the South Viet Nam 7th Division, described as "very successful" the battle fought in and near the rich green rice paddies almost ready for harvesting.

In addition to the 46 confirmed Communist dead, the enemy was estimated to have lost 90 in killed and wounded which were carried away. Seventy Viet Cong were captured, one suspected Viet Cong was seized and 14 weapons were collected.

South Vietnamese losses were placed at eight killed and 19 wounded.

BORDER ACTION

Government troops went into action Friday along the border of Dinh Tuong and Long An provinces after intelligence reports were received that two local Viet Cong companies were preparing to strike an isolated South Vietnamese outpost.

A Vietnamese marine battalion was moved along a main canal connecting the area with Saigon while an infantry battalion slugged its way through the rice paddies and other government troops landed by helicopter.

About 30 armed personnel carried on in attacking the Viet Cong entrenched near a stream connecting into the main canal.

By virtue of his election to the state legislature, Nov. 3, Smith is required to resign any other public office by Jan. 1. He has submitted his resignation as school superintendent effective in January.

Auto Death Toll Near Normal Rate

By The Associated Press
Deaths on the nation's highways, after a heavy toll on Thanksgiving, appeared to be running near normal today at the halfway point in the extended holiday weekend.

The traffic-death toll headed for the 300 mark and a possible record high for a four-day Thanksgiving weekend. Since the start of the count at 8 p.m. local time Wednesday, 289 persons have lost their lives in traffic accidents.

The 102-hour period ends at midnight Sunday. The record death toll for the holiday is 543, set in 1963. The National Safety Council records show the average daily toll in the first nine months this year was 126. On Thanksgiving about 150 persons were killed in auto accidents compared to approximately 110 Friday.

Safety experts said the stormy weather in many areas and the return to work of the majority of Americans were major factors in the reduction of fatalities reported Friday.

"The council did not make a preliminary estimate of traffic deaths for Thanksgiving or for the four-day weekend. It said the period does not involve much extra long-distance travel except for Thanksgiving Day."

For comparative purposes the Associated Press made a survey of a nonholiday weekend of 102 hours, from Nov. 11 to Nov. 15. There were 468 traffic fatalities.

Since AP started keeping count of highway deaths for the Thanksgiving weekend in 1958, the record low toll was 442 in 1960.

2 Quads Back in the Hospital

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—Two of the Lyons Quadruplets are back in the hospital where they were born after a brief stay at home in nearby Maury City, Tenn.

Lamar and Willie Lyons Jr., were hospitalized Friday for what hospital administrator T. James Jones called "observation due to head colds."

The quads were born Nov. 1 to the Rev. and Mrs. Willie Grant Lyons. Lamar and a sister, Carline, were home Nov. 19. Willie Jr. and Maury left the hospital Monday.

Lyons is a part-time preacher who supplements his $28 a month salary doing odd jobs. A fund to aid the family has reached $7,000. Contributions of $1,377 Friday included a $250 check from Gov. Frank Clement and his cabinet.

Teachers Take Class to Curb Teen Drinking

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—A Macomb County schoolteachers group is trying to do something about teen-age drinking.

The teachers will take an extensive course on alcohol from the University of Detroit, then pass on their new information to students and other teachers.

The project, sponsored by the Macomb Committee on Alcohol Education, follows public concern over youngsters' drinking and the reported discovery that 61 per cent of children from the 10th through 12th grades drink.

Dr. Margaret Clay, research psychologist for the State Board of Alcoholism, said this incidence of drinking by youngsters was disclosed in a survey.

Dr. Clay said the extent of drinking among the 61 per cent ranged from "only on holidays" to "often."

From two years of study Dr. Clay said it also was determined that students had little instruction about alcohol in schools and that the teachers themselves lacked knowledge of the subject.

The Macomb committee said the study course arranged for the teachers will be unique in Michigan and perhaps in the country.

Ninety per cent of Macomb's high school students have "some experience" with drinking before they graduate, Dr. Clay said her studies showed.

Quiz Witness in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate staff investigators in the Bobby Baker case examined a list of 20 witnesses today in preparation for hearings next week into charges that the former Senate aide was involved in a $25,000 political kickback.

Insurance salesman Don B. Reynolds was quizzed for 2 1/2 hours yesterday by Senate Rules Committee staff members to preview testimony to be aired at public hearings starting Tuesday.

Reynolds eluded newsmen after the session in the committee's office and left by a rear door in meek contrast to his stormy exit last Tuesday when he punched a United Press International photographer in the eye after appearing to answer a committee subpoena.

Lexus P. McClinton, committee chief counsel, told newsmen yesterday that about 20 witnesses may testify during the hearings which he said he hoped could be concluded by the end of next week.

Overdue Economy Seen as Military Bases Cut

Although communities and their congressional representatives have already voiced strong protests, we can only applaud the action of Secretary of Defense ROBERT S. McNAMARA in eliminating nearly a hundred, superfluous military bases.

Together with a program of re-trenchment initiated in early 1961 that hit 574 bases considered surplus or obsolete, an annual saving of $1 billion is in prospect.

McNAMARA

A total of 63,000 military and civilian jobs will gradually be phased out of the Nation's defense establishment along with the abandonment of 600 square miles of land, which will become available for private, state or local government use.

Acknowledging that the cutbacks will be regarded as "bad news by particular areas because of loss of significant payrolls," McNAMARA pointed out that there is also good news in their announcement, not only for taxpayers and the citizens who are concerned about efficiency and economy in government but for residents of many of the affected communities.

He explained that the facilities to be closed will now be made available to be put to their best use, and that if returned to private ownership will make a substantial contribution to local tax rolls.

The forthright action of the defense secretary is a shining example of the sort of fiscal responsibility which so many political figures espouse but do nothing about.

He exemplified the acumen and determination that characterize the executive community of private enterprise which, incidentally, in his case moved him to the presidency of the vast Ford industrial empire.

We salute his conscientious and courageous championship of the public interest and only regret that it is made noteworthy by the general lack of it in government circles.

Clock Again Depicts Fantasy of Hamelin

One of the minor casualties of World War II was the famous Pied Piper Clock, destroyed during bombardment of the storied Westphalian village of Hamelin.

This happened in April 1945, one month before the end of the war in which the German people followed the most sinister Pied Piper of them all.

Today, donations by visitors, contributions from local residents have made possible the installation of a new clock.

High up in the gables of the town hall, 29 new, cast bells sound the time while twice a day half-life-size figures of the Pied Piper and a procession of rats and children appear, just as of old.

One more scar of World War II is healed. Hamelin belongs to the kids again.

Summer Tourism Hit Record High in State

A new record was set last summer by motor travel in and out of Michigan.

There are, however, contradictory

trends in the statistics contributing to the over-all result.

Although some 3.5 million Michiganders took motor trips during the vacation months, fewer took them in their home state. But the unprecedented influx of motorists from other states more than offset the drop.

Altogether, a whopping 8.5 million summer tourists spent $610 million in the State, surpassing 1963's total number of tourists and the amount of money they spent by 12 per cent. Among state industries, tourism now ranks third.

"We have entered the inter-state tourist exchange era because of freeways," says JERRY E. FISHER, tourist manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan. "But freeways alone are not responsible for the interstate travel increase," he adds. "Our prosperity is also showing, because more people are finding it economically possible to take longer automobile trips than ever before."

Significantly, Michigan's recreation season is no longer confined to the summer months. With more than 80 ski centers alone, it is most appropriate that the State's 1965 motor license plates bear the new slogan: Water-Winter Wonderland.

Jungle Doctors Bring Hope, Life

By JOHN BARBOUR

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a breed of American doctors who gather the world's poorest humanity in their hands and who leave their mark on the minds of men from the mountains of Southeast Asia to the steaming forests of Africa and South America.

And, save for the moments when they dramatically die, the Tom Dooleys and the Paul Carlsons labor largely unknown and uncelebrated by their fellow Americans.

One such dramatic moment came this week in a place called Lumumba Square in a city called Stanleyville in a country called the Congo.

It was a strange place to die for a man from a more common place called Iolting Hills, Calif.

But Dr. Paul Carlson — a man with something to give—had chosen to be there because he felt he was needed there.

So it is for a growing number of American doctors who forsake convenient American living and rewarding medical practice at home to serve for nearly nothing in the wildernesses of the world.

MORE THAN 2,000

There are more than 2,000 American doctors at work today—strange transplants into the frustrations of poverty, a mong doctors they never see at home, in places where suspicion is the rule and trust must be won, and where the most important mail from home might be a package of surplus drug supplies.

Like Carlson, they may work in a one-man, cinder-block hospital in a jungle clearing, they may find their day beginning before dawn and ending beyond midnight, they may find the simplest needs for clean water, trained help hard to come by.

They certainly find no shortage of patients.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODY ISHMAEL

THE CHRISTMAS STORY IN CAROLS

"O little town of Bethlehem,
How still we see thee lie!"

The words of this famous carol by the Rev. Phillips Brooks were inspired by a visit he made to Bethlehem at Christmas time in 1866. The beautiful tune for the carol was written by his organist, Lewis Redner, while Mr. Brooks was pastor of the Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia. His faith has given us a carol for all time and a prayer that can be repeated again and again.

"O holy Child of Bethlehem!
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born in us today..."

Days of All Faiths:

Jews Observe Feast of Hanukkah

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

When the Jews were forced to live in ghettos they had many problems, but there is one they did not have — the danger of becoming assimilated into the religious culture of the Gentiles around them. This happens only when they are free to live where they please and mingle with whom they please.

The ghetto gave protection. The Jews lived in isolation, but they were isolated as a group. They formed their own community and gave one another support and comfort.

But with freedom and equality there comes a difference. The Jewish culture has its customs, which require adjustment, and its attractions, which the individual Jew must face without the degree of support he used to get from his brethren. The pressures are overwhelming. Persecution makes for solidarity and unity among the persecuted, and these are in danger of disappearing when the persecution stops.

STARTED AS SOLISTICE FESTIVAL
This is what Hanukkah is now about, but it hasn't always been so. Probably in ancient days there was a Jewish festival at this time of the year. All the early peoples had a season of joy at the winter solstice, when the year has reached its darkest point and the sun turns back again and the days begin to lengthen.

Astronomy in those times was inexact and the date of the festivals only approximated the solstice. The Romans began their Saturnalia on December 17, Christians set Christmas as December 25. The Jews, with their lunar months, varied their winter festivities from early to late December. But the custom of rejoicing at the solstice was universal.

The time came, however, when the Jews' winter festival rose to a far greater significance. Late in the second century before Christianity their little country was invaded by the Syrian armies of Antiochus Epiphanes, whose aim was not only to possess the land but also to destroy the Jewish religion.

And, as is always the case, there were those who were ready to be collaborators. The story was the same then as it is now — pressures from the outside and weaknesses on the inside. An attractive, sophisticated, tempting culture all around them, and many Jews deserting the faith of their fathers for the glamorous new ways.

ONE FANATICAL LEADER
But there was one fanatically loyal leader who by his tremendous courage almost single-handedly saved Judaism. Judah Maccabee, whose story can be read in the Books of the Maccabees, gathered a tiny army of zealots like himself and by their extraordinary daring and with the help of God they defeated the mighty Syrians and restored both country and religion.

All this may seem small and remote to us today, but Cecil Roth, an eminent historian, says this little war determined the future of civilization. "The Battle of Emmaus (the greatest victory of the war) should be placed among the fifteen decisive battles of the world," says Roth, "because it decided that modern civilization shall have a Jewish-Christian ethic."

Because of Judah and his victory, Jews now have the religious festival of Hanukkah instead of a mere pagan welcoming of the sun's return at this season. They remember that they owe their very existence as Jews to the man who against impossible odds refused to be assimilated. And they rejoice with presents for the children, with special festive foods, and with plays, concerts, and balls.

Washington Notebook:

Wit of Late President Recalled

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Friends and admirers of the late John F. Kennedy appeared to deem it fitting, rather than inappropriate, to take note of the first anniversary of his death by recalling his sparkling wit.

For example, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, recalled that when Kennedy's Catholicism became the principal roadblock in his quest for the presidency, the candidate once excused his tardy arrival at a Knights of Columbus banquet in New York City by saying he had gone first to the cardinal, who had taken longer than expected to clear his (Kennedy's) speech.

Church also recalled how the late President explained to the King of Afghanistan why the Constitution limited the president to eight years in office.

The amendment had been adopted, Kennedy said, partly out of consideration for the well-being of the president, but mainly, he added, out of consideration for the well-being of the country.

'Romney Owes Explanation on Sales Tax'

If there is a leak in your budget it might be due to the change in Michigan Sales Tax levels. The tax remains at four cents on the dollar, but the last three taxable brackets start from six to nine cents sooner than former levels. Although this is within the letter of the law, it violates the spirit of the law and is intellectually dishonest. Governor Romney owes Michigan residents an explanation about how much tax revenue has resulted from this manipulated tax increase, how it is being allocated, and whether there are other areas of obscure tax increases.

Governor Romney did not publicly criticize nor discourage his volunteers from using his name in a way that was intended to defeat the 1964 Republican Presidential nominee and that insured a total Democratic victory in Michigan. Is he qualified to reunite the Republican Party?

Urges Support for Antismut Campaign

Police Chief William Stokes is to be commended for his antismut campaign in the Waterford area. With some action from the officials in Clarkston, and the Pontiac Police Department, we could rid this area of all obscene material.

Wants Opportunity to Vote on Tax Issues

The editorial on the tax increase ends: "What do you think?" I believe — and so do many thousands of other Pontiac property owners and taxpayers — that there is no need for further "clarification of the atmosphere." I am opposed to any tax increase, whether it be increased millage or the proposed income tax.

Our taxes have been increased too much. If anything, we should be getting a tax cut, such as the Federal Income Tax cut. Within proper management and the "coming fruits" of Urban Renewal there should be adequate funds to run the city in an efficient and progressive manner. Give us a chance to vote on these pocketbook issues.

Visitor Comments on Odor From Dump

I am a houseguest in a pretty area of Union Lake. Twice in the past week we have been unable to sleep with our window open due to the smell and smoke coming from a dump on Cooley Lake Road.

In a township where they build beautiful schools and where the roads are well kept, it seems funny they would allow such a thing.

Some Defense Department employees professed to be disappointed that the Pentagon was not included in the latest list of bases to be closed.

Addressing the Conference on Extension of Legal Services to the Poor, acting Attorney General Nicholas Katzenbach summed up recent advances in the field.

In the middle of his speech, Katzenbach paused and told the audience:

"I'm pleased to see that this group consists of experts in administration, sociology and welfare — not just lawyers," he said. "This is a good sign, because Thomas Jefferson once remarked that for 150 lawyers to do business together is not to be expected."

Commerce Secretary Luther Hodes' first reaction to an invitation to address the fall meeting of the Aerospace Research Applications Center was to decline it as quickly as possible. "Why do they want me?" he asked an aide. "I don't even know a nose cone from a chafing dish."

"But Mr. Secretary," the aide replied, "most cooking utensils are made of the same materials developed for rocket nose cones."

"O.K.," answered Hodes quickly. "I'll accept."

When Richard Sarason, head of the U.S. Census Bureau, told an audience President Johnson's Nov. 3 victory was a triumph for the "extreme center," he was asked who occupies that area.

Replied Sarason: "I would say those who are militantly opposed to violence and violently opposed to militancy."

Cambodia to Meet With Reds, Having Failed on Big Parley

TOKYO (AP) — Frustrated in his bid to obtain an international conference to secure neutrality, Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, has turned to Communist North Viet Nam.

A radio broadcast in Hanoi, Capital of North Viet Nam, announced today that the Communist regime and Cambodia had agreed to meet in Peking soon to discuss Cambodia's border dispute with South Viet Nam.

Sihanouk was expected to seek recognition of a frontier agreement with South Viet Nam's National Front for Liberation — the political arm of the Communist Viet Cong — engaged in a guerrilla war with the U.S.-backed South Vietnamese government.

Cambodia wants a guarantee of its ill-defined frontier with South Viet Nam, which never has been formalized since the 1954 agreement ending the French-Indochina war. Border incidents have been a constant source of friction between the two nations, which do not maintain diplomatic relations.

Former Mental Patient Faces Murder Charge

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — A former mental patient faced a murder charge today following the stabbing of a young mother of two small children.

The body of Brenda Louise McSheffrey, 25, was found by her husband yesterday at the foot of a stairway at the two-story apartment in Hampshire Heights. Her husband, Donald, is a reporter for the Holyoke Transcript-Telegram.

Analysis

Sihanouk's overture to North Viet Nam may be based on his belief that the West can not be expected to help him define the frontier. He apparently feels it would be wise to get an official pledge from the Communists whom he believes will win the war in South Viet Nam and eventually gain control of Southeast Asia.

It may also be Sihanouk's way of applying pressure on the United States when the two nations meet in New Delhi Dec. 7 to discuss the steady deterioration in relations between them.

Sihanouk has moved steadily closer to Communist China since he canceled U.S. economic and military aid last year. He charged that the United States was supporting Cambodian rebels based in South Viet Nam. The United States has denied the charge and said Cambodia was a passageway for Viet Cong troops and arms.

For more than a year the prince has demanded without success that a 14-nation Geneva conference be convened to take up the border problem. Except for France, the Western powers did not react sympathetically to the idea.

WITHDRAW CLAIM

Sihanouk also wants South Viet Nam to withdraw its claim to two coastal islands.

After a new outbreak by border incidents earlier this month, Sihanouk renewed charges that U.S. planes had attacked Cambodian villages, along the South Vietnamese frontier. He threatened to break relations with the United States, recognize North Viet Nam, and ask Red China for military aid.

CLEAR INDICATION

So far Sihanouk has taken none of these steps. However, the announcement that Cambodia and North Viet Nam would meet on the border problem is a clear indication he does not intend to let the matter drop despite a slight relaxation of tension between Cambodia and the West in the past few weeks.

Radio Hanoi recently quoted Sihanouk that North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong had assured Cambodia of its readiness to recognize "the validity of the agreement to be signed between the National Front for Liberation and us on our common frontier and to respect its terms."

The Saigon government can be expected to denounce whatever agreement is reached between Cambodia and the Communist in Peking. What effect it would have on the movement of Viet Cong guerrillas across the Cambodian border — as South Viet Nam charges — remains uncertain.

Firm Lowers Price for Copper Products

NEW YORK (AP) — Mueller Brass Co. and Wolverine Tube Division of Calumet & Hecla, Inc., have reduced prices about 1 1/2 cents a pound for copper water tube and other copper tube items used in plumbing, refrigeration and air conditioning. The moves cancel part of price increases of about 3 1/4 cents put into effect in October.

Antiques Temper Stark-Modern

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"When we were first married," said Mrs. William G. Teodecki of Bolingbroke Drive, Troy, "our home was decorated in stark contemporary."

"Later, after our daughters were born and the clutter of childhood arrived, the cold, unrelieved lines of contemporary didn't seem to fit in. By blending antiques with the modern pieces, we achieved a much more relaxed and livable decorating scheme."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Teodecki are artists and their home displays their interest in design and color.

When they moved to their present residence, the kitchen was completely walled-in and separate. "I favor open planning," said Mrs. Teodecki. "Particularly when your children are small, it's so much easier to keep an eye on them."

To remodel the house to their own liking, the Teodeckis knocked out the existing interior kitchen walls and cupboards.

A snack bar peninsula, which uses a butcher's block

as its top, now divides the living area from the kitchen. Cupboards above and beneath the eating area and in other parts of the kitchen are covered in a white plastic laminate for cleanliness and convenience. Side panels of the peninsula are finished in natural pecky cypress.

Introducing an interesting texture pattern in the kitchen and in the living room fireplace wall are pieces of sidewalk concrete mounted with the rough side exposed and painted a white-white.

Lighting the sink counter of white mosaic tile are three hanging globe lamps. The backsplash behind the counter stove features lipstick red tiles to add color spice to the room. All kitchen drawers are on rollers, another help for the busy homemaker.

Carpeted in a grey-green, the ell-shaped living area has white-white walls. A curtain drop, incorporating shades of royal blue, purple and red with an olive-green braid tie-back, simulates a divider effect.

Grouped about a cut-down antique table is a sectional

sofa upholstered in a red, royal blue and purple plaid cotton. A round, white-white shag rug accentuates the colors in the furniture and wall paintings.

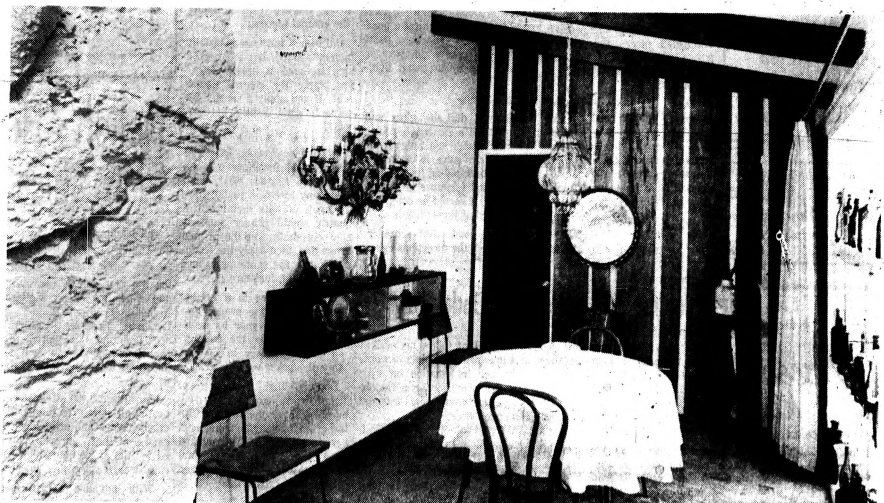

An antique desk in white creates an interesting contrast against the lipstick-red wall which sets apart the entrance foyer from the living area.

On the fireplace wall hangs a vivid oil color study by Jorge Fick. A massive hand-blown green bottle and teal-blue stack cushions bring bright spots of color down to the raised hearth.

In the adjoining dining room, rows of bottles in different sizes, shapes and colors line the ledges of the back window draped in natural linen panels.

Yvonne, 7, and Jenni, 5, share a pleasant room. White built-ins with the drawer faces finished in shocking pink, white, yellow and orange provide an ample amount of drawer space and open shelves display the girls' toy collection.

A throw rug using a blend of red, orange and shocking-pink threads covers the white vinyl floor.

Central Continues Cage Hex

By FLETCHER SPEARS
Pontiac Central continues to hold a hex over Waterford on the basketball court.

Central's Chiefs and the Skippers opened the 1964-65 campaign on the Waterford floor last night and PCH came away with a 74-48 decision.

The victory over the Skippers was the seventh in a row for the Chiefs. Since the 1957-58 season, the teams have met five times on the tournament trail and (including last night's tilt) twice during the regular season. The Chiefs have won them all.

The win also snapped a one-game losing streak for Central. The Chiefs, who have won 11 of their last 12 games, were dumped by Benton Harbor in the state tournament semifinals last spring, their final outing of the season.

The issue at Waterford was never in doubt.

EARLY LEAD
Central jumped off to a 21-11 first quarter lead and was never threatened. PCH held a 62-39 margin, at intermission.

Both squads were chilly in the opening frame, with Waterford a little more on the icy side.

The Skippers notched their first point on a foul shot by Dick Miller at 4:20, and their first field goal came with 3:48 remaining in the period.

Guard Carl Arnold, a 5-8 speedster, paced the Chiefs' attack in the opening half with 16 points and he wound up tied with John Hooper for team scoring honors with 17 markers.

HOOPER, AFTER A SLOW START, started sweeping rebounds off the backboards with authority in the second half and he also collected 14 of his points in the closing quarters.

Guard Rick Ziem was the Skippers' most consistent performer.

The junior sharpshooter led all scorers with 18 points, 12 of them coming in the second half.

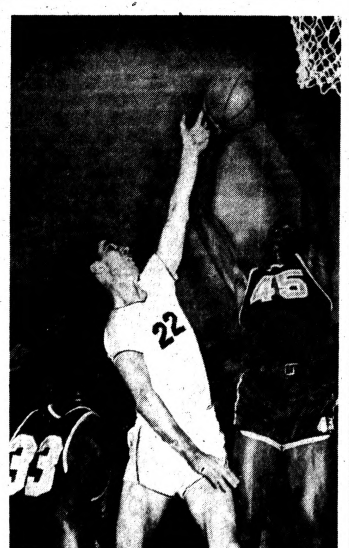

Giving Ziem an assist with the scoring were Bill Lemaux (12) and Dick Miller (10).

Eight of the Chiefs denied the scoring column.

Trailing Hooper and Arnold in the scoring were Jessie

Evans (13) and Ross Ludwick (10). Central gained a 77-37 edge in rebounds.

PCH takes on Flint Central at home Tuesday night in the opener of the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Army-Navy Clash to End Word Battle

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — From the propaganda in the past 10 days it has been difficult to determine if Army and Navy will play in their annual football classic today, or if the two coaches are going to settle the whole thing in a midfield debate.

The usual crowd of 100,000 is expected for the nationally televised game (1:30 p.m. EST).

Coaches' Wayne Hardin of Navy and Paul Dietzel of Army haven't exactly camouflaged mutual dislike for each other.

Dietzel says Hardin is a man of gimmicks and rubs it in unnecessarily when he wins. Hardin suggests Dietzel mind his own business, that he will use any gimmicks he feels gives the Middles a psychological lift.

But despite this and other salty comments by the opposing coaches, the 65th game in the series service will be settled on the field at John F. Kennedy Stadium.

Realistically, with both having poor seasons, the outcome is significant only to the brigade of Midshipmen and the corps of Cadets. There are no national rankings or bowl bids in the wings this year for Navy, 3-5, or Army, 3-6.

QUARTERBACKS
The attacks of both teams are built around stout quarterbacks. Army's Rulie Stichweh, a fine runner who also can pass, will attempt to end Navy's five year dominance of the game and give Dietzel his first service victory.

But he'll have to outduel Jolly Roger Staubach, 1963 All-American, who has recovered from injuries that made him comparatively ineffective this season. Even with his injuries, Staubach has collected 1,946 yards in total offense this season.

Navy and Staubach are a touchdown favorite to make it six in a row over Army and tie the long rivalry, which now stands 30-29-5 for the Cadets.

Pros Draft Gridders Today

NCAA Warns Professionals

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pro Football could be headed for serious trouble from a source it never dreamed of — the NCAA — if it actually has been up to any hanky-panky.

That was the blunt warning issued to the pros today by William Reed, commissioner of the Big Ten and long-time chairman of the NCAA's committee on college and pro football relations.

Reed made his remarks in Chicago upon hearing a report that the American Football League held a sneak telephone draft two weeks ago in advance of Saturday's regularly scheduled one.

"If that's true," Reed said, "it would affect practically every college football player in the nation. The majority of teams still had not completed their schedules two weeks ago."

"If there is clear-cut evidence of evasion of agreements we have with the NCAA to avoid premature signings, I think there are devices the colleges can use and should use," Reed added.

"It may be nothing more than withholding a degree of cooperation from the pros, but that could be a mighty effective sanction when it is spelled out."

Both the National Football League and the American Football League have an agreement with the NCAA and the American Football Coaches Association to hold off their drafts until the final full Saturday of the collegiate schedule.

Host to Chicago Pro Team

Pontiac Hoop Team Plays Tonight

The Pontiac Nationals will be eyeing a climb in the standings tonight when they tangle with the Chicago Bombers in a North American Basketball League game at the Pontiac Northern gymnasium.

The Pontiac quintet won its first game Thanksgiving night at Muskegon and now will attempt to square its NABL mark at 2-2 and climb possibly as high as second place in the standings.

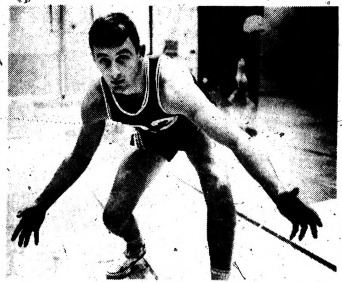

The visiting Bombers are 1-1, having lost to unbated Benton Harbor (3-0) on the Sallors court Thursday, 122-106. Pontiac lost, 107-102, there last Saturday.

Tonight's other NABL tilt will see winless Muskegon (0-2) visit Grand Rapids (1-1). An upset win for the Panthers and a Pontiac victory would leave the Nationals a game and a half behind idle Benton Harbor.

Game time for the PNH club is 8:15. The doors will open at 7 p.m. and pregame festivities will start at 7:30. Tickets are available at the door. The top price is $1.50.

Several outstanding sports personalities from Pontiac will participate in the pregame and intermission activities.

ing rebounder Charley North. The player-coach is 6-10 center Bob Bolton, present varsity mentor at Walled Lake High School.

ADDS SPARK
The insertion of 6-2 guard Manny Jackson into the starting lineup did much to aid the Nationals' cause in Thursday's win over Muskegon.

The lithe speedster put spark into the offense with his playmaking and contributed 17 points. Dick Dzick, 6-6, 230-pound front court performer has been a valuable rebounder and scorer as the No. 1 reserve up front.

At Cech, Frank Chichowski, Felix Brooks and John Hannett are the reserves in the back court. Brooks is a former Pontiac City League star.

Chicago has Porter Merriweather as one of its top scorers. He is a cousin to Pontiac's Willie. Jackie Fitzpatrick is another top point producer for the visitors.

Willie Bond, 6-8 center, has been a key performer for the Brown Bombers. They are coached by Clarence (Dad) Cash, diminutive veteran mentor from the Windy City.

The turnout at tonight's game will have a big bearing on the future of pro basketball in Pontiac. Several key prospective supporters are awaiting tonight's fan response before deciding how far they will go in backing the Nationals.

Brown Shoots for Record in Crucial Game

By The Associated Press
When Jim Brown scored his first National Football League touchdown, in 1957, the Cleveland Browns were on the way to their seventh Eastern Conference championship in eight tries.

Sunday, Cleveland hopes to nail its first division crown since 1957, the year the Browns' rookie year while the Cleveland Browns were on the way to their seventh Eastern Conference championship in eight tries.

Meanwhile, the Colts, who clinched the Western Conference title last Sunday, risk their 10-game winning streak against the San Francisco 49ers. New York, Washington, Green Bay, Dallas and Minnesota Los Angeles.

les pairings complete the schedule.

The Browns, whose championship drive was stalled by Green Bay last week, will be at full strength for their final home game.

Jimmy Brown's next touchdown will be his 165th, tying Don Hutson's career record. The former Green Bay star established the mark in 11 seasons.

The Cardinals beat the Steelers at St. Louis earlier this season but haven't won at Pittsburgh since 1948.

Oilers Take Receiver

It home was chosen by New York in last year's draft as a future — a player who still has original eligibility although his college class has graduated.

The Oakland Raiders, in a surprise, picked Harry Schuch, offensive tackle from Memphis State. It was thought the Raiders would go for California quarterback Craig Morton, who reportedly had been offered a highly lucrative contract by the club.

The Jets, with their own pick in the opening round, selected Tom Nowatzki, Indiana's star fullback.

Clubs Have Cash Bags All Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — Full-back Tucker Frederickson of Auburn was named by the New York Giants as the No. 1 choice in the National Football League draft today.

The San Francisco 49ers went next and took Ken Willard of North Carolina, another fullback.

The Chicago Bears, with three of the next four picks, started off with Dick Butkus, Illinois' ferocious linebacker.

NEW YORK (AP) — Spin the wheel and roll out the money bags — the pro football draft is on today. Before the day and night have faded away, the negotiating rights to some 300 college players will have been allotted to clubs in the National Football League and the American Football League.

Even before the drafting is over, 20 rounds in the 14-club NFL, 20 regular rounds in the eight-club AFL, plus seven rounds of future choices, the real competition will start. With check books in hand, the owners and their representatives will beard the athletes in their dens, or penthouse suites, and try to sign them.

Jerry Rhume, the Tulsa passer who kept on breaking records all season, will be the central figure in the bidding. Jerry was drafted a year ago as a future, with a year of eligibility — 1964 — remaining. Dallas in the NFL and the New York Jets in the AFL have the rights, plus a club in the Canadian League.

Dick Butkus, Illinois' fine line-backer, is in town to be honored as a member of the Football Coaches' All-America team. Just in case, Butkus has lined up a lawyer to handle the bidding when his name is drafted.

The AFL denied it had held a sneak preview draft that ran as long as 10 rounds. It countered with the suggestion that the NFL had been romancing college players and hiding them away beyond the reach of AFL phone calls. The NFL, through Commissioner Pete Rozelle, said it had heard that the AFL already has allocated the rights to a number of prominent players.

Except for the 76 who were drafted as futures or red shirts last year, all the seniors whose original college class graduated in June, 1965 will be eligible. That covers a lot of territory, including the likes of Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest, Bob Timberlake of Illinois, Joe Namath of Alabama, Archie Roberts of Columbia, Craig Morton of California, John Huarte and Jack Snow of Notre-Dame and a long, long line of others.

Because of deals the Chicago Bears wound up with three of the first six first-round picks in the NFL, having acquired both Pittsburgh's and Washington's in previous deals, Green Bay and San Francisco each had two first round choices.

The Packers have the most selections, 25, and Washington the fewest, 14, in the NFL.

TOP TWO
Houston, having acquired Denver's first round choice in the Jack Lee deal, had both first and second picks in the AFL. Houston and Kansas City each had 23 choices in the 20 regular rounds and Oakland had only 15.

To speed the draft, both leagues fell back on telephone communications instead of personal appearances of club officials. The NFL operated out of the Summit Hotel, the AFL from its Fifth Avenue office with news relayed to press headquarters at the Waldorf Astoria.

Most of the coaches were on the scene of Sunday's regular season games, keeping in touch with the home office or draft headquarters.

Patriot Coach Sees Chance

By The Associated Press
"The Eastern race isn't over yet," Mike Holovac, coach of the Boston Patriots, talked of his club's chances as the team left for Houston to battle the Oilers Sunday in the American Football League's top game of the day.

The Patriots, 8-2, must give the Oilers to keep alive their hopes of overhauling the first place Buffalo Bills, 10-1, who edged San Diego 27-24 on Thursday.

The Oilers, 2-9, have lost eight in a row but Coach Sammy Baugh believes the home field advantage and George Blanda's quarterbacking will stop the Patriots. "If we have as good a game as the last time we'll beat them."

He referred to Boston's 25-24 victory over the Oilers at Boston several weeks ago when Gino Cappelletti kicked a 41-yard field goal to win the game with just one second left to play.

Kansas City is at New York and Oakland at Denver in two other Sunday games that have no bearing on the race.

SKIPPER MOVES—Waterford's Rick Ziem (44) moves by Pontiac Central's Willie Adams en route to a basket in third quarter last night. Ziem led the Skippers in scoring with 18 points, but PCH won the game, 74-48.
