Nixon Vows 'Balanced' Court

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Nixon says he will press his fight "to restore the proper balance" to the Supreme Court despite the Senate's 55-45 rejection of his nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

But the President will wait until after Congress opens its new session in January to submit another nomination. Any nomination sent to the Senate this year would automatically lapse when the current session ends next month, unless confirmed before adjournment.

Nixon did not say if he would select another nominee with Haynsworth's conservative southern background, but he did say he would again apply criteria "consistent with my commitments to the American people before my election as president a year ago."

Expressing deep regret that the Senate had failed to confirm Haynsworth, the President said "the Supreme Court needs men of his legal philosophy to restore the proper balance to that great institution."

MOST SEVERE DEFEAT

The vote yesterday, which climaxed a bitter three-month struggle over judicial ethics and philosophy, was Nixon's most severe congressional defeat since he took office.

The 10-vote margin against Haynsworth was even wider than most of his opponents had expected.

Voting against confirmation were 38

Democrats, including Michigan's Philip Hart, and 17 Republicans, including GOP leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and his assistant, Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

Twenty-six Republicans voted to confirm Haynsworth's nomination, as did 19 Democrats. All the Democrats were southerners except Mike Gravel of Alaska and West Virginia's two senators, Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph.

EASY TO ASCERTAIN

A dozen senators had not taken a stand in advance of the vote, but once the roll call began it was quickly ascertained that Nixon's nominee was going to be rejected.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., was the first of the uncommitted called and he voted no. And so it went right down the line.

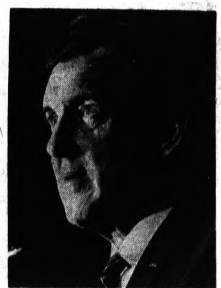

Among the previously uncommitted, only Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., voted for confirmation and he waited until the first call of the roll had been completed.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., who directed the floor fight for the nomination, told reporters that in his judgment the 57-year-old jurist would have been confirmed if it had not been for labor opposition.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who had been sharply critical of Haynsworth rulings in civil rights cases, said he hopes Nixon will submit a nominee who "will not seek to wrench the Supreme Court out of the context of contemporary history."

SEN. PHILIP A. HART

SEN. EDMUND S. MUSKIE

Agnew Is Target of Muskie Attack at Fete for Hart

By T. LARRY ADCOCK

The man who lost out to Spiro Agnew paid tribute to U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan in Detroit last night, between jobs at the vice president.

Edmund S. Muskie—first and only Democrat Maine sent to the U.S. Senate and the losing vice presidential candidate in 1968—was guest speaker at the "Salute to Phil Hart Dinner," a $100-per-couple affair, at Cobo Hall.

"It's difficult to take Agnew seriously, but I'll try," Muskie mused before beginning an attack on the vice president's recent blasts against the news media.

"Agnew would like to convert us all into silent people because the Nixon administration is most comfortable with silent people," Muskie charged.

DIVERTING ATTENTION

"He (Agnew) is diverting attention from the central point in his discussions of the press," Muskie said. "The president—no matter who he might be—by his very office commands the attention of television networks and the newspapers as no other individual can."

"Actually, the critics of the president are not given equal time to respond to the administration policies. The central point is that the critics must be given more time to criticize the president," Muskie declared.

Sen. Hart joined the Agnew lashing, in a bit more humorous vein.

"I ask you, wouldn't Ed Muskie have made a much better vice president than Agnew?" he said to the thundering applause of the partisan audience.

UNGED DEBATE

"But I don't think that Ed Muskie could match the new style of vice presidential irony, because Sen. Muskie gained his fame by inviting dissenters to engage in free and open debate," Hart said.

Judge Weighing His Future After Defeat in Senate

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., rejected 55-45 by the Senate Friday for a seat on the Supreme Court, will spend the next two weeks deciding whether he will remain on the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

An hour after the vote was relayed to Haynsworth by President Nixon on the telephone, the 57-year-old jurist released a 300-word statement, saying his future on the appeals court at Richmond, Va., may be in doubt. He is chief judge of the court.

The statement, drafted by Haynsworth in his law office and distributed by two law clerks, said the judge must now consider "whether my usefulness has been so impaired that I should leave the Court of Appeals and return to private life."

Haynsworth, who refused to see reporters after the President's telephone call, said in the statement that he would not make a decision "in the emotion of the moment." The decision, he said, will come in approximately two weeks.

'ORDEAL IS OVER'

"The ordeal of the last two months has ended," he said.

Some senators had criticized Haynsworth's investments in companies connected with suits before his courts, and labor and civil rights groups had attacked some of his decisions.

At a morning press session before the vote, Haynsworth seemed composed. But, as he sat afterward in a small office adjoining his large, paneled law office, he chain-smoked cigarettes and shuffled papers.

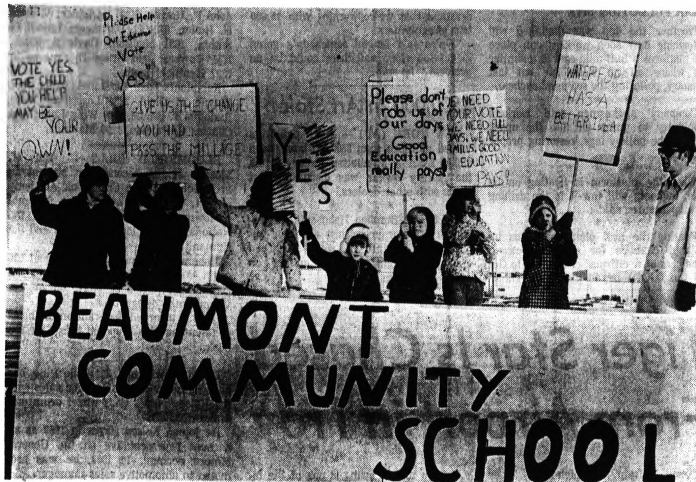

"He has kept all this bottled up for the past two months," said one law clerk. "It's hard to say just what he is feeling at this point."

'UNHAPPY OUTCOME'

Haynsworth's later statement added, "The resolution is an unhappy one for me."

Haynsworth said it was an honor to have been nominated by President Nixon "because the nomination was the result of an appraisal of my performance as a judge of a federal court of appeals."

"The honor, of course, is tarnished by the Senate's action," he added.

SUPPORT FOR MILLAGE—Children from Beaumont Community School in the Waterford School District display signs they made in support of Tuesday's millage election at a parade yesterday in Waterford Township. All the schools in the district were invited to participate in the parade, later followed by a rally supporting the millage issue that would insure full-day classes in the district. (Story, page A-2)

Waterford Millage Hike: How Much Will It Cost?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last of three stories examining the Waterford Township School District financial troubles and the proposed tax increase election Tuesday.)

By DICK ROBINSON

It will cost the average Waterford Township homeowner $90 to restore full-day school classes for 1½ years, starting in January, school officials say.

This would be the cost of the proposed one-year, 9-mill ($9 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) property tax increase on a home with a market value of $20,000.

Voters are being asked to pass the tax increase Tuesday, a few weeks before they receive their 1969 township tax bills. This year's tax bill will rise by nearly 25 per cent over last year. The rise, say township officials, is due to increasing land values.

The school tax hike, if approved, would go on the 1970 tax bill, school officials explain.

COST SAMPLING

Here's a sampling of the cost of the tax hike:

• A $18,000 home would be $67.50 on the 1970 tax bill. Total township, county and school taxes will be $345 this year compared to $259 last year.

• A $20,000 home would be $90 on the 1970 bill. Total township, county and school taxes will be $460 this year compared to $345 last year.

• A $25,000 home would be $112.50 on the 1970 bill. Total township, county and school taxes will be $575 this year compared to $441 a year ago.

MAY CHANGE

Market value may change from year to year because property usually becomes more valuable, tax authorities note.

The school tax increase can be figured by multiplying a property owner's property state equalized valuation (SEV) by .009.

The SEV is half the market value or Waterford Township's assessed valuation multiplied by the township's equalization factor of 2.63.

Waterford Township property owners will be paying a total township, county and school tax of 46 mills this year, according to Township Treasurer Mrs. L. Catherine Walters. That's $121.14 per $1,000 of township assessed valuation compared to $96.97 last year.

LACKS INDUSTRY

Waterford schools are expected to receive $5.18 million from local taxes (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

Weekend Perfect for Hikes, Jogging

Skies will be partly sunny and the air crisp over the weekend — just right for jogging or a hike in the country.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau official forecast the day-by-day weather picture looks like this:

TODAY — Partly sunny and warmer, high 41 to 46. Considerable cloudiness tonight, the low 28 to 32. Winds southwest at 15 to 22 miles per hour will become west to northwest at 10 to 16 miles late tonight.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and a little cooler, high 33 to 38. MONDAY — Generally fair, little temperature change.

Probabilities of precipitation are five per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and tomorrow.

A sunny 24 was the low recording before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 2 p.m. the mercury had reached 39.

24 Investigated in 'Viet Massacre'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says 24 U.S. soldiers and former servicemen, in addition to an officer and staff sergeant already charged, are being investigated in the alleged murder of approximately 100 Vietnamese civilians in 1968.

But the South Vietnamese Defense Ministry in Saigon said today there was no massacre, that U.S. artillery and air strikers had killed "about 527 civilians" in a battle which claimed 125 Vietcong.

Referring to some accounts being carried in the U.S. and foreign press, the South Vietnamese agency said: "Reports from newspapers and foreign news agencies recently that said 527 civilians were killed were completely inaccurate."

Pentagon spokesmen here had no comment on the Saigon announcement and indications were it caught them by surprise.

Only hours earlier the Army had issued a statement to "members of Congress where there is a growing demand-for an investigation of the raid."

In reference to the March 1968 raid near a hamlet known as My Lai, the Army said: "During the operation a small group of American soldiers reportedly shot many (possibly 100) Vietnamese civilians."

Three Americans who claim they witnessed the massacre have been identified as: Ronald Heaberle, 28, a former Army photographer, now a resident of Cleveland; Ronald Lee Ridenhour, now a student at Claremont (Calif.) Men's College; and Sgt. Michael Bernhardt, 23, who is now stationed at Ft. Dix, N.J.

The Army said that Lt. William L. Calley, 26, now stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., was charged in the incident and a decision would be made early next week whether he will face court-martial. Calley was leader of a unit involved in the operation.

SERGEANT CHARGED

A staff sergeant, David Mitchell, 23, of St. Francisville, La., has been charged with assault to commit murder.

Robert E. Jordan III, the Army's general counsel, said that another nine men still in the service and 15 others who have been discharged since the raid are under investigation.

He said the former soldiers could face court-martial under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

Senate Unit Sets Vietnam Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, after weeks of indecision, finally has decided to go ahead with a series of hearings on Vietnam next month.

There was no indication the hearings would feature the verbal slugging matches that marked such hearings during the Johnson administration.

Chairman J. William Fulbright told newsmen yesterday the new set of hearings would be confined to testimony on nine bills and resolutions introduced by both "hawks" and "doves."

He emphasized no "confrontation" was planned.

"The committee is following its normal procedures," Fulbright, D-Ark., said.

He said the purpose of the session was to "help the administration determine just what is the wisest future procedure" for ending the war.

Fears of Japan Seen in 1970s

More Vexing Than
China, Says Indonesia

TOKYO (AP) — Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik believes Japan will be "more of a vexing problem than Communist China" in the coming decade, the Asia Magazine reports.

Malik, writing in the magazine's Nov. 23 issue, discounted any military threat from Communist China in the next five to 10 years but added: "Japan, through its big and overwhelming economy, cannot be but an object of envy, suspicion and fear among its Asian neighbors, especially since the experience of almost all the Asian countries with Japan during World War II was none too happy."

"The fears against a probable Japanese economic domination are real. The Japanese have themselves to blame for this. It is the experience of a number of Asian countries that the Japanese still want to treat other Asian countries as the source of raw material for their industries and as markets for their manufacturing industries."

As a result, he continued, the present situation resembles past relations "between the colonies and the colonizing Western countries" and "inevitably creates resentment, frustration, suspicion and anger against Japan among the less developed countries in Asia."

COULD BE BULWARK

Malik said Asian countries should recognize that an economically prosperous Japan could be a bulwark for security in Asia. But he said if the Japanese also become a big military power, this "would certainly make many Asian countries apprehensive and insecure."

Malik noted that the United States has long wanted Japan to shoulder some of the responsibilities for Asian security but he warned other Asians against depending on Japan and the United States for protection.

Instead, he urged the nations of Southeast Asia to develop a "strong community among themselves which could be reckoned as a third force in Asia after Communist China and Japan."

Malik also said he believes that after the Vietnam war the United States will "not completely fade out of Asia" but will continue to maintain military bases in the Pacific.

He said he believes the Soviet Union will continue to try to gain a political and economic foothold in South Asia and that Communist China will continue to agitate against other governments in Asia. But he said Peking would be too concerned with internal problems to be a military threat.

California Eyes Ways to Protect the Consumer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California attorney general's office covers a wide field in consumer-protection laws. It says it plans to recommend to the legislature next year. Some examples:

- Travel agencies would be required to place customer airline fees in trust to make sure clients don't get stranded in foreign countries.
- Stores that advertise Spanish-speaking sales persons would have to print contracts in Spanish.
- A requirement that offers of free gifts make clear they involve a sales presentation.

Make U.S. Hope of World, Nixon Urges Businessmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, heartened by signs that near-runaway inflation is beginning to be checked, has appealed to businessmen to help "make America as it was in the beginning, the hope of the whole world."

Pacing almost 2,000 business leaders, the President pledged that the United States "can and will furnish the leadership that the world needs" despite its problems at home and burdens abroad.

Nixon spoke to the men—and a few women—who accepted his invitation to attend a "Briefing for Business" on what they could do to help bring price increases under control.

Leaving most of the talk about inflation to Cabinet members, Nixon focused on the nation's proper role in world affairs and its internal problems.

State Group Honors Waterford Official

The director of vocational education in Waterford Township was today given a life membership in the Michigan Occupational Education Association (MOEA).

Dr. Burton K. Thorn was given the honor at the association's annual meeting in Flint.

His citation said he has made "outstanding contributions" in vocational - technical education in Michigan and "installed a desire for excellence" in the MOEA when he was charter president.

concluding that neither is trouble—has been a persistent worry besome enough to "pull apart" of the administration.

In a firm defense of his decision to clamp on strict economic restraints to control inflation, Nixon warned that "those who bet on inflation are going to lose their bets ... and those who bet on cooling the inflation will win their bets because we are committed and we believe that that is the first step which is essential to deal with this problem."

The problem of an inflationary psychology—"betting on inflation" by spending heavily now on the assumption prices and increase rates will rise higher later—has been a persistent worry besome enough to "pull apart" of the administration.

The signs are plain enough for administration planners to begin looking ahead—as did Paul W. McCracken, chairman of Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, who predicted that by 1980 the economy will be produced goods and services worth $1 1/2 trillion a year at today's prices.

Scientists Are Delighted With Astronauts, Lunar Equipment

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The scientists who designed experiments in Apollo 12's nuclear-powered science station are delighted with both the astronauts and the equipment they set up in the moon's Ocean of Storms.

Perhaps happiest — and most puzzled — were the men studying the seismic waves. The impact of the recent stage of the moon lander had given them something they did not understand but which they believed was significant.

The seismometer was still recording reverberations from the impact about 40 minutes after the Intrepid slammed into the moon.

Scientists said this had never been observed on earth, and Latham said the observations were "unquestionably profound" in relation to the moon's structure in that region.

"FUNCTIONING PERFECTLY" Dr. John Freeman of Rice University, one of the designers of the lunar ionosphere detector, said the experiment which studies the charged particles in the almost nonexistent atmosphere "has been turned on and is functioning perfectly."

He said the instrument appeared to be venting gas as it heated up and any significant results would come after this was finished.

"We believe we were able to detect the gas deposition after the LM (lunar module) ascent," he said.

Dr. Douglas Clay of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the solar wind spectrometer, designed to measure the strength, velocity and direction of the electrons and protons which stream away from the sun, was operating normally.

School Vote Critical

Education in Waterford Township goes on trial Tuesday when the electorate votes on a one-year 9-mill property tax hike needed to restore the Township's school system to a full-time basis and protect its accreditation until the end of 1970.

With an admittedly high tax obligation now borne by township residents—in large part due to lack of a substantial industrial base to equalize the tax load—school district voters have during the past seven years defeated six tax-increase proposals. The system provides education for 18,502 students. It is the third largest in Oakland County.

School authorities limited the life of the tax boost to one year on the assumption that Gov. Milliken's education reform program would so relieve homeowners of school support that the 9-mill increase now proposed will no longer be needed. Should the Governor's plan fail in this respect, however, the Waterford Township School Board would be obliged to go back to the voters.

The tax increase on which Waterford voters will mark ballots would cost the average homeowner $5 a month for the duration of the increase, school officials say. This is much less than a smoker spends on his indulgence, likewise for average attendance at movies or Tiger Stadium, or an occasional restaurant dinner.

In such a context of values, when compared with the vital one of adequate education for a community's prized asset—its children—the 9-mill tax increase shrinks into insignificance.

The Press urges Waterford Township voters to give top priority to their children's scholastic welfare and approve the tax measure.

U. N. Spinning Its Wheels

There was a time when the annual East-West confrontation over admission of Communist China to the United Nations was a major event of the diplomatic year.

There was drama in the debate and suspense in the year-to-year changes in pro and con votes.

But times change, as this year's run-through of the China debate has just demonstrated. There was no drama and even less public interest.

For the record and for the 19th time, Peking has been rejected by the world organization. The vote, 56 against and 48 for, with 21 abstentions, was two less against and four more in favor than last year, but no one is reading anything significant into the slight gain. Since the United States always carefully sees to it that the vote is taken as an "important question" requiring approval by two-thirds majority of the 125 members, Peking still isn't even close.

The outcome surprises no one, least of all Red China which, thanks to its own truculent attitude toward the outside world, has about as much chance in the foreseeable future of being welcomed by the United Nations as Israel has of making the Arab League.

As Nationalist China's delegate pointed out to the General Assembly, the Chinese Communists "negate all the principles and purposes of the U.N. Charter and reject the ideals of peace and progress toward which the world's community has been striving."

Unfortunately, much the same can be said of many other countries which are technically members in good standing of the United Nations.

The attempt to combine the excessive idealism of the charter's words and aspirations with near universality of membership has resulted over a quarter of a century in something like institutionalized hypocrisy which, as much as any organizational failing, has sapped U.N. proceedings of real significance and which shows up most clearly in the Red China debates.

If the vote on admission is evidence of Peking's low standing currently, the absence of interest and significance in it also says something about the United Nations today.

Peking couldn't care less. The U.N. should.

Foreign Policy Changes Coming Hard

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This nation is groping seriously but in some puzzlement toward fundamental and highly significant changes in its foreign policy across the globe. But the going is hard and slow.

The Washington Monument march, huge though it was, does not represent the crucial evidence of the country's deeply changed mood.

The altered condition of the people's state of mind is less highly visible but much more impressive than the unnumbered tens of thousands who walked down Pennsylvania Avenue on a cold Saturday in November.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all text and photos appearing in this newspaper as well as all full-page photographs.

The change is of sufficient magnitude, affecting tens of millions of Americans across the broad age spectrum, to have caused President Nixon to assert in Guam on July 25 what he now calls a "major shift" in U.S. foreign policy.

It is great enough, too, to have led the politically-acute Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird to put the Pentagon on a downward spending course (though there are other reasons for this undertaking).

TREADING TENTATIVELY If what the President is saying and Laird is doing have not yet made heavy impact, it may be because they themselves have not fully measured the national mood and are treading tentatively.

These leaders find out how far these leaders really intend to go in pulling back or, in the current vague phrase here, "lowering the American profile" around the world. Most likely they have not decided.

The difficulty lies in the fact that the turn toward new directions must be set against a backdrop of national attitudes which until recently were quite different.

Until our large-army participation in the Vietnam war was widely perceived in America as a futile stalemate, if not an outright failure, countless millions accepted a foreign policy whose tone for 25 years has been strongly military.

SHOOKEN ALONE Shaken out of historic isolationism and left standing alone as a free world colossus after World War II, the United States could conceive of its burdens only when they bore the brand — "survival."

Virtually all our voices of aid, most of our diplomatic pacts with other nations, had to be given a "military cast" or fail.

We — often with public but sometimes hypocritically private encouragement from many foreign leaders — created the massive military.

Joe Kennedy: Man Behind Sons

MADISON, Wis.—Now that Joseph P. Kennedy is reunited with his three eldest sons, the impregnable power structure in the place where they are gathered is liable to be tested.

Old Joe will be rounding up the "Irish dukes" who may be around, assessing the personalities in charge, putting two and two together in his canny way, and talking it over with his sons in his crackling, positive voice. If he sees a move, he's likely to be urging one of them to make it.

For Joseph Kennedy was more than a father to his sons; he was a powerful stimulant.

He seemed patriarchal as he sat at the head of the table or came down hard on a point of criticism, but he did not, despite the power of his personality, dominate.

CHALLENGED HIS BOYS

He challenged his boys argued with them, spoiled them, and communicated with them constantly. His concern was first to build their assurance and then to help them in every way he could, sometimes with an invisible hand. The big thing was to keep the pressure on.

Paul Fay, visiting JFK in Palm Beach over Christmas in 1959, was surprised to hear the father say as they watched the news on television one evening that he hated to see Jack climb into the ring with Richard Nixon because the Republicans had so much going for them.

The conversation stopped as JFK came into the room, and the father, to Fay's amazement, completely changed his line. Within minutes he was telling Jack why Nixon was going to be a pushover.

GOOD JUDGMENT

Raised to respect good judgment, the Kennedy sons found so much of it in their father that their ties to him stayed taut.

There was a wonderful scene on the evening of Lyndon Johnson's nomination as vice president in Los Angeles.

The sons, still jolted by the Texan's willingness to take the second spot, were gloomy because they feared the ticket had lost its attraction for the liberals.

The father, dressed in velvet slippers and a smoking jacket, stood in the doorway of "Marion Davies" studio mansion. The last rays of the sun flashed in his blue eyes. "Don't worry Jack," he said. "In two weeks they'll be saying it's the smartest thing you ever did." It barely took that long.

MADE HIMSELF HEARD

And the patriarch could make himself heard when he wanted.

The question of where to put Bobby in the administration puzzled both brothers. The father's strong feeling that he should be the attorney general was questioned by JFK, sensitive to the storm that would be stirred, and by obby himself, not eager to contend with the controversies of desegregation. But the father saw his son's potential for the job and flatly insisted.

Joseph Kennedy sired sons who were idealists and prodiged them into becoming memorable men and activists. The respect and love which they bore him is his greatest epitaph.

Smiles

Now is just about the time when the Christmas club you didn't join pays off.

Nothing ruins a soft job like lying down on it.

Hippies may reject the Establishment, but we've never known one to refuse a square meal.

Say 'Safest' to Protect Children From Smallpox

The point of view expressed in a recent news story by Drs. Lane and Millar of the National Communicable Disease Center, on smallpox vaccination, is held by a minority of workers in the field of immunizations. Both the American Academy of Pediatrics and the Communicable Disease Center recommend the vaccination.

Smallpox is still a serious threat in several parts of our small world. "Adequate containment measures" are not likely to be prompt enough. Many exposures could take place before a person carrying the disease into the country is detected.

Although smallpox vaccination is the most undesirable immunization we must give, the safest age to receive it is between one and two years. A safer vaccine is being researched, but until found, the best policy for our country is to continue using the present vaccine.

New Concept of School Financing Needed

The state legislature is now considering programs that would provide school funds based primarily on an ability-to-pay basis. This is Waterford's major problem; how to raise school funds with a small tax base because of lack of industry and (2) inequitable and outdated assessed valuations.

The long range solution is to have school board members and voters tell their representatives in Lansing that they must move toward ability-to-pay revenue sources.

The voters should urge township trustees to do a better job of assessing and perhaps broaden Waterford's tax base by attracting more industry.

"NO" VOTER FOR BETTER EDUCATION IN WATERFORD

YWCA Board's Fund Vote Is Explained

The National Board of the Young Women's Christian Association voted to raise a fund of $100,000—half of which will go to the Inter-religious Foundation for Community Organization, and half will support the YWCA's own program in the area of racial justice.

This will be a voluntary fund given by members who expressly wish to support this cause and will have nothing to do with United Fund money.

Resolutions adopted at the recent Young Adults conference in Lansing will have to be voted upon by the entire YWCA of the United States.

Need for Large-Scale Research on Aging Told

NEW YORK (UPI)—To Dr. the "unsavory history" of research on aging could eventually "extend man's life expectancy well beyond 100 years of active and healthy life."

Yet, he complains, neither the scientific community nor the public do much of anything to encourage such a research effort, possibly because of "the complexity of the problem" and on aging should be considered at least as important as research on cancer. Particularly, there is an increasing need for research in the biology of aging at the molecular level."

WORKING IN LAB

He himself is working on aging at that level in his laboratory at the University of California at Los Angeles.

He and his associates are guided by modifications of an old theory that aging results from an accumulation — or lack of elimination of — "toxic" substances.

Center Offers Psychological Aid to Clergy

MONTREAL (AP) — Many people go to priests and ministers for help. What about members of the clergy who need help themselves?

Since September Montreal has had a center to offer psychological assistance to those in religious life.

Because of the nature of that life and the kind of people attracted to it, "there's an awful lot of suffering, suffering without any sense," says Dr. Lucien Auger, a director of the Centre Interdisciplinaire de Montreal.

He adds, by way of explanation: "One girl who came to us had entered a nunnery to alone for having sexual relations with her brothers when she was young. Because religious life didn't suit her, she was miserable for 20 years."

"TRUE TO HIMSELF"

"To be productive, a priest or nun must be true to his or her self. We try to help them develop their potentialities as well as cure the problems."

Response to the center's weekend seminars throughout the province indicates an interest in the work it is trying to do.

Psychologists at the seminars give talks relating individual and community life to religious The $9.2 million freeway project, vows of poverty, obedience and including 14 bridges and an chastity. Persons attending also interchange, extends the M78 can receive individual counsel.

Seminar registration fees and this is predominantly a Roman Catholic area. Within a five-mile radius of its Montreal location there are 12,000 nuns and 3,500 religious brothers and priests.

Similar centers in New York and Chicago are sponsored by Roman Catholic dioceses. "We want to have our hands free," Auger says.

PSYCHOLOGISTS' IDEA
The idea was conceived a year ago by a group of psychologists who realized the need for a service to meet problems facing the clergy.

There are 15 full-time staff members, including 11 qualified psychologists, counselors and researchers. Most of them speak French.

Auger says help is available to persons of any religion, but

Continue Giving Friendship Is Advice Given by Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a young neighbor I'll call Mary. She's a very polite and quiet thing, but not too bright. Mary says I remind her of the mother she "never knew" because she was orphaned as a small child. She is expecting a baby, and I feel sorry for her, so I make her welcome and try to be good company for her, but I keep wishing she would go home so I could get my work done.

There are other neighbors all around us, most of whom are neerer to Mary's age, but Mary comes only to me. Is there some nice way I can tell her not to come so often and stay so long?

BUSY HOUSEWIFE
DEAR BUSY: Probably not. Be glad that you are the one who is able to bring comfort to one who so desperately needs it. There are worse things in life than being kept from one's work, you know. Namely, finding yourself neither wanted, needed, or contributing to the happiness of another. Continue to extend your kindness, and make Mary welcome. When her baby comes, she won't have so much free time.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for a little more than a year and a problem came up which has me completely baffled.

Last night my husband told me that I had to make a choice between HIM and my girl friend, Abby. Jenny has been my best friend all through school. She stood up for me at my wedding, and I stood up for her at hers. We are as close as sisters, and I can't see ending our friendship just because my husband doesn't like her.

He refuses to give me any reasons why he doesn't like her. He just says it's a choice between HIM or Jenny!

Knowing that my husband didn't especially care for Jenny, I've never asked him to socialize with Jenny and her husband in the evenings. I see Jenny only during the day time when my husband is at work.

So what is your advice? Don't tell me to try to talk to him. I have, and he walks out of the room.

DEAR BAFFLED: I don't know how old your husband is, but he has a lot of growing up to do. Tell him that unless he gives you a better reason for insisting that you end your friendship with Jenny, you intend to continue the friendship. And if he would terminate your marriage on such flimsy grounds, either he is looking for an excuse to do so, or something is wrong with him.

DEAR ABBY: Re BROKE. HEARTBROKEN AND ALONE, whose military husband has dumped her.

First, she has free access to the legal office of ANY military installation. Although these attorneys cannot represent clients in civil court, they can certainly give her sound guidance and counsel.

Also, ANY chaplain on ANY base will help her. The old joke, "Tell it to the chaplain" is more than a joke. It's true.

Something new has been added in the coloring book field. Written to interest children in symphony concerts, the text is clever and will catch the attention of youngsters eight and older. There's even a page on rock 'n' roll. Martha Sisk, 9, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Sisk of Montclair Street, and Bruce Lagerquist, 8, son of the Walter Lagerquists of Lakewood Drive, are the first children in Pontiac to see the books. The Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony is selling them at Tuesday's concert. Proceeds from the venture go to the Symphony. The books may also be obtained from the Pontiac Symphony office in the Riker Building.

Wife of U.S. Attorney General Notes His View of Peace Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The wife of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says that, her husband saw enough last Saturday's demonstrations outside the Justice Department "looked like a Russian Revolution."

Mrs. Mitchell said in a CBS television interview filmed in the Mitchell's Washington apartment that she had not witnessed the demonstrations herself. "I will tell you that my husband made the comment to me that looking out of the Justice Department, it looked like a Russian Revolution going on," she said in the interview broadcast Friday.

"I don't think the average Americans realize how desperate it is when a group of demonstrators, not peaceful demonstrators, but the very liberal Communists move into Washington," Mrs. Mitchell said.

"As my husband has said many times of some of the liberals in this country, he'd like to take them and change them for the Russian Communists," she said.

MORATORIUM

The demonstrations held in Washington Nov. 13-15 climaxed the second nationwide Vietnam moratorium. An estimated 250,000 persons took part in the first march on Saturday and they were mostly peaceful.

A splinter group of militants demanding an end to the Chicago trial of seven persons charged with conspiracy to incite a riot during the 1968 Democratic National Convention later clashed with police at the Justice Department.

MRS. JOHN MITCHELL

Mrs. Romney Starts Confab

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. George Romney, wife of the secretary of housing and urban development, invited some 150 students from eight states to "give of yourself and your talents in helping others" as the Southwest Regional Conference of the National Student Volunteer Program began at the University of Tulsa Friday.

"I believe you when you say that everything isn't right out there and things are not what they should be," she told the young people.

"We need your lives, your hearts, your spirit. We have tried other ways. Great outlays are not enough."

The Student Volunteer Program was started by President Nixon and assigned to HUD. Its purpose is to mobilize volunteer students in solving social problems.

"Fifty per cent of the major crimes in this country are committed by youths 16 years or younger," Mrs. Romney said, "and moral suffering is at a new high."

"We must be concerned with the motivation of the child down the street because he can knife me or you because we didn't care enough about him."

The conference at TU, the first in a series to be held throughout the country, will continue through today.

Consult First With Parents of the Bride

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Our son and his future bride are planning a spring wedding. Is it proper for the groom's mother to buy linens or silver for them between now and the wedding? My family said it is the bride's family who should do that and that I may hurt some feelings? — Mrs. J.

Dear Mrs. J.: You may certainly buy linens and other household furnishings for the young couple, but you should consult the bride's family first. They may be planning on giving her, for example, her flat silver, and it is their prerogative to choose what their gift will be. As far as other things go, discuss it with the bride.

ARMCHAIRS

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a new dining room set. I placed one master chair at the head of the table, another at the opposite end, and two occasional chairs on each side. The delivery man said when the table is not in use, the proper arrangement is to put the master chairs against the wall and place the other chairs around the table. Is he correct? — Marian

Dear Marian: Your delivery man is wrong and someone should tell him so, if he is going to continue delivering dining room sets. The two armchairs remain at the ends of the table, and one chair is removed from either side and placed against the wall when the table is not in use.

The only exception would be to use the armchairs as "occasional" chairs in another room.

LODGING

Dear Mrs. Post: We are invited to an out-of-town wedding. What are the duties of the host and hostess concerning lodging. What are our obligations? — Eloise

Dear Eloise: It is up to the hostess to arrange that you stay with relatives or friends, or to make a motel or hotel reservation for you. If you cannot be accommodated in someone's home, it is your obligation to pay for your own lodging.

Dear Mrs. Post: How may I answer a person who asks the price of an article I own, when I do not wish to disclose the cost? — Connie

Dear Connie: If you wish to play up the value of the article say, "More than I probably should have paid for it." If you wish to play it down say, "Not as much as you may think."

Pennsylvania Women Back 'Speak Out' Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Republican Women of Pennsylvania adopted a "speak out Americans" program designed in part to support Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's speak-out policy.

The women said Friday they "think Vice President Agnew is wonderful."

The group said it also wishes to promote "interest and understanding in President Nixon's efforts at home and abroad."

Volunteer Work Takes Over

Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

The world needs volunteers of all kinds. Fortunately, the kind of volunteer work that dismisses one person is a source of delight to another.

During World War II, the Gray Ladies program was popular; scores of women participated.

One who tried and found it not her cup of tea was Ruth Flanders. She found she was taking on all the aches and pains of those with whom she was associated in the hospital.

It was while she and her lawyer husband, Phillip, were entertaining his boss at their summer cottage that her volunteer work was settled once and for all. The field was music; the year, 1939.

Now, 30 years later, Mrs. Flanders is completing her second two-year term as president of the Southeast District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. Among the 70 clubs under her jurisdiction are Birmingham Musicales, Pontiac Tuesday Musicales, Farmington Musicales, Rochester Musicales, and Oxford Musicales.

Phillip and Ruth Flanders have had no children, but Mrs. Flanders says, "I guess you could say that my volunteer projects and services over the past 30 years have been my children. I like to think that what I've done has given Detroit area children more cultural opportunities."

A native of Breckenridge ("my husband calls me the duchess of Breckenridge"), Ruth Flanders is a graduate from Highland Park High School and went off to finishing school in the East. She also studied voice at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

OU Orchestra Will Perform

The Oakland University Orchestra will make its first appearance of the season in a pre-Thanksgiving concert on the university campus. The Monday evening concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Dodge Hall auditorium.

Admission to the concert is without charge. The program will include works by Haydn, Schubert, and Richard Strauss, as well as some very untraditional concert-hall fare by Eric Satie, Charles Ives and John Cage.

New conductor of the orchestra this year is David Daniels, who has come to the Oakland University faculty from Knox College in Galesburg, Ill. where he was conductor of the Knox-Galesburg Symphony. He holds a degree from Oberlin College, Boston University, and the University of Iowa.

PREMIERE

The most unusual piece on the program is John Cage's "Atlas Eclipticalis," which is believed to be a Detroit-area premiere. This 1961 work utilizes elements of chance, or "indeterminacy," a procedure that Cage has been experimenting with for many years, and which other modern composers have more recently adopted.

The Cage work is intended to be played by any combination of instruments and can be made as long or short as the performers desire. Each individual player is given certain notes to play and is directed to start playing them at a particular point in time.

However, the performer himself may decide in what order to play these notes, and how long to hold each note. He may,

But her practical mother insisted she not only train her lyric soprano voice, but also her fingers so that she could make a living. She came back to Detroit in the depression and landed a job as a secretary.

She met Phillip Flanders through her job; they were married in 1934 and she continued to work for seven more years.

In 1939, during the above mentioned summer vacation, the boss insisted the young couple join the Fine Art Society of Detroit where Ruth could use her voice in musicals and plays.

This she did. Later on, she was to have a short career in radio with her own program originating from Dearborn Inn on station WEXL.

In addition to the artistic roles she played in the Fine Arts Society, Ruth began to assume more prosaic jobs.

Perhaps this blend of artistry and business is unusual, but it has been the driving force for Ruth Flanders ever since.

CLUB MEMBERS

She and her husband are still active members of the Fine Arts Society. She joined the Tuesday Musicales of Detroit and initiated many new projects to obtain and interest members. She sang for eight years in its choral ensemble.

When the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra was founded, she was on the board of directors. She is now a life member of the auxiliary of that organization, the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony, of the Michigan and National Federation of Music Clubs and of the Women's Division of Project Hope.

Her other interests include membership in and work for the Women's City Club of Detroit and the Village Woman's Club. She is immediate past president of the West Oakland Hills Lawyers Wives. She is on the scholarship committee of Oakland University.

The list goes on and on.

Hours outside her volunteer work and her husband's career have been devoted mainly to sports. Her husband taught her to like football and they attended most of the University of Michigan games; now they see them on TV. They are also fans of the Lions and the Red Wings.

A Kerry Blue Terrier and a toy poodle share their home in Bloomfield Hills.

The years of retirement have now come to Ruth and Phillip Flanders, but not the years of inactivity. Although they are diverting themselves of jobs that demand large chunks of their time weekly, they have plans to keep busy. Travel is in the books for next year.

EXPLORER: FOLK MUSIC

And Ruth has a new project. She has been appointed by the National Federation of Music Clubs to explore the folk music of Michigan. This is a field she has not delved into before and she is excited. It's still music; it's a project that may be useful to young people.

She has never lost her belief that music is a valuable outlet and reliever of tension for everyone.

MRS. PHILLIP FLANDERS

in fact, decide to omit some of the notes — or even all of them!

The conductor, in the meantime, channels the flow of time by making clock-like gestures with his arms.

Cage's intention in this and other works is that one should accept joyfully and without prejudice all the sounds and silences that one encounters in the concert hall or outside of it. To such a listener, all of life would become an endless concert.

Cage is highly influenced by the philosophy of Zen Buddhism.

MRS. GEORGE ROMNEY

The engagement and Feb. 21 wedding date of Karen Lee Taber and Donald Clifford Widajewski is announced. She is the daughter of Mrs. John R. Driver of Westcombe Street, West Bloomfield Township and Kenneth Taber of Morlington Road. He is the son of Leo P. Widajewski of Millersburg and the late Mrs. Widajewski.

Morning Rites Unite Couple

Mrs. Rolfe Smith of Dixie Highway and former Pontiac resident, Caldwell A. Beattie, now of Clearwater, Fla., were wed this morning in Clark, where the wedding was held at the United Methodist Church.

A family brunch reception followed in Independence Square Club House for the couple who left for a honeymoon in Jamaica.

Citrus Color Is a Pleaser

According to decorating experts, a teen-ager likes any color — as long as it's orange, or yellow, or olive.

For curtains and spread in a teen-age girl's room, choose a washable cotton print with big splashy flowers in shades of yellow and orange. The National Cotton Council suggests you select a fabric with plenty of white in the background to cool down all the hot color.

For the same reason, paint walls white and use accent colors of white and olive green in pillows, flowers, and other accessories.

For a boy's room, use cotton duck or denim striped in eye-catching gold and orange. Or make the spread and curtains from bright yellow cotton duck — and use toss pillows in assorted colors.

Shallow Skillets Boon to Cook

Skillets set the stage for gourmet cooks, be they French omelet stars or scrambled egg fans. One maker's new matched set of chef's shallow skillets are solid aluminum and lined in black with scratch-resistant finishes.

The slim skillets also are good for sauteing vegetables and meats and for regular home frying. The sizes: eight and 10-inch.

Grandparents buy about one out of every 10 toys sold.

Attention to Safety a Must for Holiday

CHICAGO — More Americans will be eating the same thing for dinner on Thanksgiving than on any other day of the year. Cranberry sauce as well as turkey with dressing and gravy are almost certain to appear on the table.

Thanksgiving dinner should be enjoyed by everyone, even the lady of the house, whose job it is to prepare the meal. To make the cook's life as easy as possible, and to prevent an accident from spoiling the holiday, the National Safety Council has some advice for Thanksgiving cooks.

"Fatigue and stress can cause holiday accidents," warns Sharon Bush, home economist in the Council's home department. They also can spoil holiday fun. Miss Bush suggests that pre-party planning can keep this from happening.

Plan to assign each member of the family a task such as making the table centerpiece, setting the table, or collecting chairs for the dining room.

In planning the menu, try including food from packaged mixes or food that can be made ahead of time and frozen.

STAY OUT

To minimize confusion, the kitchen be off-limits for tasters, snoopers, and sniffers during the busiest time of preparation. One or two helpers can be appointed to assist just before serving dinner by carrying in cranberry sauce, salad, or relishes.

Avoid having children carry anything hot or heavy such as a casserole dish; if one slipped out of the child's hands and fell it could be disastrous.

No matter how efficient the design of your kitchen, it can become a dangerous place to work unless you have careful work habits. Try to keep the work counter clear by putting away the tools of your work and washing the dishes as you go along. And remember to wipe up spills immediately.

Before the guests arrive, get out all the appliances and utensils that will be used for the dinner, and have the serving pieces ready.

If the serving dishes are stored on high shelves, use a step ladder to reach them. A telephone book balanced on a kitchen chair is a poor substitute, since it can set the stage for a nasty fall.

Also, check ahead of time to see if the serving pieces need to be rinsed off or washed before they are used. They put them on a cart or tray so they'll be within reach when you need them. Using a serving cart will help to eliminate extra steps, too.

SHARPEN KNIVES

"Don't be afraid of a sharp knife," says Miss Bush. "Actually it's safer to use a sharp knife than a dull one, since the sharp knife does not require as much pressure to do the cutting job and is less apt to slip out of your grasp."

Some general precautions for using a knife are these: Always pay attention to what you are cutting, and keep your fingers out of the path of the blade. Wash and dry knives separately and store them in a special rack in a drawer or mounted on the wall.

If you leave them with other utensils when they are being washed or when they are stored, you might reach to grab a utensil and end up with a bad cut.

Nap Fabrics Need Special Board

A needle pressboard is an invaluable aid when you are sewing with pile or nap fabric, says the National Cotton Council. This includes cotton velvet and velveteen, velour, corduroy, cotton sude, and cotton-backed fake fur.

Pressboards are studded with needles set in a pliable mat backing.

To use, put the right side of the fabric to be pressed down on the needles. Press the wrong side of the fabric lightly, lifting the iron and placing it on a different spot each time.

Practice safety precautions as you get ready for Thanksgiving dinner. The National Safety Council poses a model to show the right way to get to high shelves. Place a stepladder squarely in front of the cupboard and use it for climbing (left). Let children carry in salad and relishes, but not hot food. That's Mom's job.

The holiday turkey is prepared for eating. The carver uses a long, narrow knife with a pointed guard to prevent the hand from slipping on to the blade. The fork is used to hold the bird in place.

One Mouse, No Eight Mice, Yes

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Eve Titus may have made a career out of mice, but she's afraid of a plain old mouse.

The mice she likes are the characters in her eight Anatole books. Her first book, "Anatole," began as a bedtime story for her young son to explain his questions about the oyster white, antique gold, moss business world that daddies vanished into each day. The yellow, bayberry and ebony books are fantasies about mice.

New Colors Go Into Bathroom

The latest bathroom seats separate the seat cover from the seat ring for decorating flexibility. The new line makes it as easy to change seat lids as it is to change the color decor of a bathroom with towels and characters in her eight Anatole shower curtains.

The new accessories come in books. Her first book, "Anatole," began as a bedtime story for her young son to explain his questions about the oyster white, antique gold, moss business world that daddies vanished into each day. The yellow, bayberry and ebony books are fantasies about mice.

Cowboys, Rams in Key NFL Contest

Rival QB's Meet Top Pro Defenses

By the Associated Press
The Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams, two clubs who have .38 caliber defenses when it comes to gunning for opposing quarterbacks, will meet Sunday in what could be a preview of the National Football League's championship game.

Craig Morton of the Cowboys and Roman Gabriel of the Rams will be facing pass rushes that each have thrown quarterbacks 38 times. The Cowboys also have intercepted 17 passes, while the Rams have picked off 18.

SELLOUT CROWD

Dallas will go into the nationally televised game before a 76,000-plus sellout crowd at the Los Angeles Coliseum with an 8-1 record and a three-game lead over Washington in the Capitol Division. Los Angeles, 9-0, holds a four-game lead over Baltimore in the Coastal Division.

The Cowboys probably will play the Cleveland Browns, who have a 6-2-1 mark and a three-game lead over St. Louis in the Eastern Conference title, while the Rams likely will meet the Minnesota Vikings, who are 9-1 and hold a two-game lead over Detroit, for the Western Conference crown.

Pittsburgh, 1-3, is at Minnesota, 3-6, at Cleveland Sunday, while in other NFL action Detroit, 6-3, is at Green Bay, 5-9; Atlanta, 3-6, at Washington, 4-3-2; Baltimore, 5-4, at Chicago, 1-8; San Francisco, 2-6-1, at New Orleans, 2-7; and Philadelphia 3-5-1, at St. Louis, 3-5-1.

On Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, Detroit hosts Minnesota and Dallas entertains San Francisco.

In the American Football League, Oakland is at Kansas City, Cincinnati at the New York Jets, Houston at Miami, Denver at San Diego and Buffalo at Boston.

On Thursday, Denver is at Kansas City and San Diego visits Houston.

Los Angeles will count heavily on Gabriel, the NFL's third leading passer and first in touchdown tosses with 18, and the kicking of Bruce Gossett, second in the league with 82 points, in a bid to become the first NFL team to win its first 10 games since Green Bay in 1962.

Dallas will counter with the passing of Morton, Rookie Calvin Hill, who ran for a club record 150 yards in 41-28 victory over Washington last Sunday and leads the NFL with 807 yards, is listed as a questionable starter with a jammed toe.

BEST OF THE LEAGUE — Michigan's only public high school soccer league, the Northwest Suburban High School League, made up of schools in the Oakland County area, named its second annual all league soccer team, according to coaches' votes. Bloomfield Hills Andover, the 1969 league champ placed three boys on the first team while second place Lahser and Cranbrook each had two boys named to the first team.

Cousy's Return Unimpressive

Royals Bounce Chicago, 133-119

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Bob Cousy returned to professional basketball as a player Friday night in a performance he felt was far from the style that brought him fame as one of the game's best — ever — backcourt men.

The fans loved him. Cousy, 41, tallied three points as he made his only field goal attempt and lone free throw. He added two assists and two rebounds during a 10-minute stint in the third period of Cincinnati's 133-119 victory over Chicago.

"I think I'm capable of playing a lot better than that," said Cousy who has not played for six years since he helped the Boston Celtics to one of many world championships. "I didn't do too bad defensively." Cousy received a standing ovation when he got off the bench to enter the game and the crowd continued to roar when he made a good pass or a shot.

In the night's other NBA games, Atlanta trimmed Detroit 118-108. Cincinnati squashed Chicago 133-119. Baltimore whipped Phoenix 126-116. Los Angeles tripped San Diego 100-88. Milwaukee edged Seattle 117-115 and San Francisco topped Boston 118-115.

Baltimore blew a 15-point lead after sinking 12 of their first 14 shots, but rallied in the second half for the victory over Phoenix. West Unseld and Jack McInnis pocketed 26 points to lead the Celtics' offense. Dick Van Arsdale had 26 for the Suns.

Chattanooga Cracks Citadel

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — Defensive play by the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga was better than the Citadel's defense last night, and the Moccasin won a non-conference football game, 10-5. Citadel quarterback Tony Passander was held in check much of the night by the Chattanooga defense and completed only eight of 27 passes. The game, played in temperatures in the 30s, ended with the Citadel unable to complete four passes in the last minute of the game after getting the ball at the Moccasin 35.

Knicks Net 14th Win as 76ers Yell 'Foul'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The New York Knicks won their 14th straight National Basketball Association game Friday night as the Philadelphia 76ers screamed "foul."

The game boiled to the final five seconds after the Knicks had lost all but two of what had been a 13-point lead starting the final period.

Philadelphia in - bounded at mid-court and set up a play for Hal Greer, one of the league's top jump shooters. Greer shot from about 16 feet and the ball traveled about 10 feet into the hands of New York's Willis Reed.

Reed was fouled from behind by Philadelphia's Darrall Imhoff and made two, insuring a 89-84 Knicks' victory. It boosted New York's Eastern Division leading record to 19-1.

KNICK VERSION — Controversy swirled around what happened on Greer's flustering duck shot. The Knicks' version given by Bill Bradley, who was that Bradley and Dick Barnett double-teamed Greer with Bradley partially deflecting the shot.

"Is that what he said?" asked Greer. "I've never made a shot like that unless I've been hit," said the 76ers' guard. "Someone grabbed my arm or hit me or something."

Philadelphia coach Jack Ramsey was visibly upset as his team lost its fifth straight and

And today's second round of the 54-hole tourney figured to favor Scully since he was to play at Sahara Nevada and Powell at Paradise Valley.

Martin Bohlen, White Plains, N.Y., was second with a 68 after the first round and third at 69 was Joe Porter of Grants Pass, Ore.

The $18,750 tournament concludes Sunday.

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Bullets optioned seldom-used Bob Quick to Sunbury of the Eastern League today.

MIAMI (AP) — Miami crushed Wake Forest last night with a variety of touchdowns ranging from a "volleyball" pass to a busted punt that turned into a 70-yard run to stroll to a 49-7 victory in the Orange Bowl.

Sophomore Kelly Cochran fired two passes to the George M'ira's school record of 10 in one session.

Miami improved its record to 4-5 with a Nov. 29 date remaining against Gator Bowl-bound Florida. Wake Forest finished its season at 3-7.

Miami halfback Tom Sullivan gave a sign of events to come when he took a pitchout from Cochran, came to a lead stomp and threw a 38-yard TD bomb to Dave Kaline.

FAKED TO GROUND — Bobby Best faked cornerback Terry Kuharchek to the ground on a swing pass from Cochran and tipped up the sideline 45 yards to score.

Then came the "volleyball" play. Cochran, with two seconds left in the half, heaved a tremendous pass from inside his 25. It skipped off the fingertips of Kaline and two Demon Deacons into the hands of Ray Bellamy, who walked into the end zone on the 66-yard play.

Then Miami punter Pat Barrett bobbled the ball at his 18 and ran 70 yards from scrimmage to score.

TAKES LEAD — This big buck had 14 points, but the dressed out weight of 196½ makes it the leader in The Pontiac Press big buck derby. John Widerquist of 4274 Wendell, Orchard Lake bagged the big deer near Manistee on Tuesday. It was Widerquist's third deer in four years of hunting and his first entry in The Press contest.

ONCE THE LEADER—Richard Thompson of Pontiac once held the lead in The Press Derby with his 183 pound deer. The field weight was 256 pounds but it dressed out at 183. Thompson shot the 12 pointer in Dickinson County near Escanaba. The new leader is John Widerquist with a 196½ pounder.

Black Hawks Tie Bruins in Final 10 Seconds, 2-2

By the Associated Press
The new-look Chicago Black Hawks, playing tenacious hockey, extended their undefeated streak to eight games Friday night when they came up with a game-winning goal with 10 seconds to play to battle Boston to a 2-2 National Hockey League stalemate.

Lou Angotti, who got off a crucial pass before suffering a vicious check into the boards, sent the puck to Stan Mikita whose shot was tipped in by Eric Nesterenko with the clock showing 10 seconds to play.

The goal climaxed a riotous, fight-filled game in which Referee Vern Sweeney called a total of 46 minutes in penalties, 36 of them coming in the second period with Keith Magnusson and Ray McKay of the Hawks battling with Bobby Orr and Derek Sanderson of the Bruins.

Nesterenko, again aided by Angotti, put the Hawks in the lead at 1:36 of the first period with a jump-off goal of 10 difficult obstacles to win the championship and $1,000.

Competing for the prize in the final round was teammate Jim Esposito of the Canadian equestrian team Friday night won the Canadian individual championship in tough international jumping at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair.

Jim Elder of Aurora, Ont., riding the immigrant, completed a jump-off round of 10 difficult obstacles to win the championship and $1,000.

Then Miami punter Pat Barrett bobbled the ball at his 18 and ran 70 yards from scrimmage to score.

The New Yorkers had only an 84-80 lead with three minutes left, but Tard poured in four points as the Nets outscored Los Angeles 10-3 to put it away.

That dropped the second-place Stars 1½ games back of idle New Orleans in the tight Western chase.

Pittsburgh knocked off Kentucky 112-108, Carolina coasted

He Has 300 Game in 2694 Total

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Ritger of Hartford, Wis., was the leader Friday night at the end of the second round of the $50,000 Bellows-Vallier Professional Bowlers Association Tourney.

Ritger fired a nighttime six-game block 1323 to take a 12-game total of 1371 for a 12-game total of 2694, 16 pins ahead of Richard Peckham of Schenectady, N.Y.

During his early round, Ritger, who once won back-to-back PBA tourneys, fired a perfect 300 game and at one time over a three-game span had 20 strikes in a row. His highest game of the second round was a 279.

The top five after today's play will vie for the $8,000 first prize in tomorrow's finals.

The leaders after 12 games: 1. Dick Ritger, Hartford, Wis., 2,794; 2. Richard Peckham, Schenectady, N.Y., 2,678; 3. Tim Mahoney, Tampa, Fla., 2,544; 4. S. Bill Allen, Fresno, Calif., 2,530; 5. Norm Arbo's Drive-In, 2,510.

Victory Streak by Thompson

Paces 4-2 Win

REALLY IN THE Pontiac Table Tennis Association league has a streak going.

For the 8th straight week Thompson has won his singles match in leading Dorris to a 4-2 win over Mr. Steak and enabling his team to keep pace with American Division Leader Capital Barber.

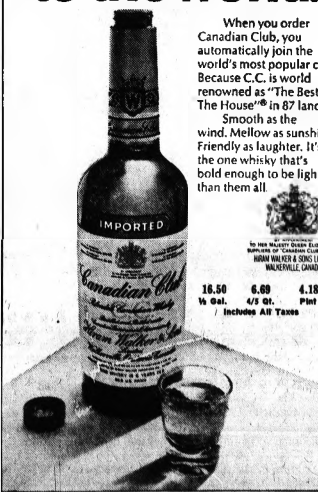

Capitol leads the division by two points over Dorris while West Side Mobil holds a three point lead over Richardson's Dairy in the American Division.

Bridge Tricks From Jacobys

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

Here is a hand that caused a lot of discussion in a couple of Bridgeport, Conn., homes.

West opened the king of five-card suit. West continued that should please some of the spades. South's five with the queen. East discarded a heart. South First. We can't blame South won the trick and, after draw for ducking the first spade. East trumped, tried the club. That would have been the finesse. It lost but South was ready play if West held only five able to discard his last spade on spades.

dummy's fourth club and make his contract.

When the arguments began, West wanted to know why East hadn't ruffed the second spade. North wanted to know why spot.

South hadn't taken the first spade. East explained that he didn't think that South would have ducked with the ace of spades, et cetera, et cetera.

Someone got the idea of the ten the five-spot lead would writing to us to try to settle the matter, so here goes something five-spot lead could do no harm.

Stop Weeping Over War, Briton Advises U.S.

LONDON (UPI)—Former British Foreign Secretary George Brown told Americans today to "stop weeping" about Vietnam and for Britons to quit criticizing the United States about it.

"I wish Americans would stop weeping. They have taken over a role that Britain has played so long. And we played it tough and strong. Why don't the Americans get on and finish the job," Brown said in a radio interview broadcast by the British Broadcasting Corp.

Brown quit as foreign secretary in March 1968 in a personal row with Prime Minister Harold Wilson. But he stayed on as deputy leader of Britain's governing Labor party.

Brown plunged hard into a red-hot controversy touched off in Britain by reports of alleged massacres committed by U.S. troops in Vietnam.

MIGHT FORCE PROTEST

Both lawmakers and press lashed the United States. Political sources predicted the uproar might force Wilson to protest to President Nixon when they meet in Washington in January.

Brown said the alleged atrocities were "terrible," if they occurred.

In the winter, a man's best friend is his snow pup. This little fellow can throw snow up to 15 feet. Clean a 50-foot driveway in ten minutes flat. Yet he weighs only 22 lbs. So even the wife and kids can use him with ease. No chute to clog. No storage problem, either.

Why not bring home a SNOW PUP (for only $109.95) and put him to work?

He'll have you whistling a new tune. . . "It's so nice to have a pup around the house."

Union Vows Aid to GE Strikers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An emergency convention of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers has pledged to provide more than $800,000 a week for support of its 85,000 members on strike against the General Electric Co.

The unanimous action by 500 delegates meeting in New York City called Friday on each member of the 330,000-member union who is working to contribute one hour's pay per week to the support fund.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, addressing the convention, reiterated his proposal that each of the federation's 13.5 million members contribute $1 to aid the IUE and 11 other unions on strike against GE.

About 133,000 GE production workers walked off the job Oct. 27 at most of the company's plants in 135 cities in a strike spearheaded by the IUE and the independent United Electrical Workers, which has 16,000 members at GE.

GE, the nation's fourth largest industrial corporation, says it has kept its plants open for 187,000 nonstriking workers but production has been cut by two-thirds.

Paul Jennings, IUE president, said the delegates' financial pledge Friday plus contributions from other unions would provide the aid needed to keep the strike going.

"The strike will be won on the picket line," he said. "We're going to get acceptance from this corporation of the fact that there is a role for a union. This union has come of age and we're going to win."

John H. Shambo, head of the IUE negotiating team, told the convention: "The day of starving workers back to work is over."

HUNGRY ENOUGH
Later Shambo went to Schenectady, N.Y., to confer with local union leaders. He said he expected the company to time a new contract offer for "when our people are hungry enough to accept it."

GE has made one offer of 20 cents an hour in the first year of a three-year contract, with wages reopened for bargaining in the second and third years, and up to 25 cents additional for special skills.

The union seeks 35 cents the first year, 30 cents the second year and 25 cents the third year with up to 50 cents for special skills. The average wage of GE workers has been $3.25 an hour.

GE's chief negotiator suggested Friday that negotiations, adjourned Wednesday, be resumed Monday. He said agreement came "only at the bargaining table."

OTHER JOBS

Meanwhile many of the strikers were reported working at part-time or full-time jobs, while union locals pursued various programs to alleviate the financial hardship.

An IUE spokesman in Bridgeport, Conn., said all but 40 or 50 of the some 2,800 members on strike there have part-time or full-time employment and the others are collecting relief.

In Pittsfield, Mass., a local spokesman said up to 400 of the 5,000 strikers have full-time jobs, some as far away as Boston and White Plains, N.Y. About 2,500 of the strikers are getting $24 a week for picket duty.

Locals in Los Angeles have begun a drive for merchants' contributions. They plan a Christmas toy rummage sale beginning Dec. 1.

In Louisville, Ky., Jefferson Circuit Court Judge Daniel Marshall ruled this week that strikers are eligible for federal food stamps if they meet all other criteria.

Surgeons soon will be able to replace key joints in the human body with plastic and steel spare parts.

Legislative Panels Sift Ed-Reform Bills

LANSING (UPI) — which proposals had more pros than cons," said Senate Microscopic scrutiny of Gov. William G. Milliken's education reform proposals continued yesterday as three special legislative subcommittees worked throughout the day in what one participant called "a spirit of willingness."

The fission process, which began when the 24-member joint Senate-House committee broke into four subcommittees, progressed when the subcommittee to study the governor's billion-dollar school aid plan set up a splinter committee to look specifically at school appropriation formulas.

One sticky topic touched on yesterday was teacher strikes and teacher salaries. The governor's proposal would give the state review powers over school districts' budget and critics have maintained this would result in the state setting all teacher salaries.

"We did not begin to say designate the salary should be discussed in public. At a public meeting yesterday, Wharton said "The basic issue is whether or not an individual can maintain his integrity. I assure the trustees that I intend to do everything I can do to do that."

Two Democratic members of the board — Clair White of Bay City and Warren Huff of Plymouth — who boycotted the regular Thursday night secret board meeting, insisted that all discussion of the president-

Both Republican and Democratic legislators seemed hopeful the committee could wind up its work by Christmas even if it means they have to put in some weekend work. Currently, the committee members are mulling over the possibility of working over the Thanksgiving weekend. "SOMEWHAT UNACCEPTABLE" Senate President Pro Tem Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, said his subcommittee is examining the governor's school aid bill including $25 million for parochial "because it seems somewhat unacceptable to some House members."

The controversial proposal has already passed the Senate but has been held up for a veto when the upper chamber reconvenes Dec. 2.

Schweigert said his subcommittee will "try to come up with as many as three alternate school aid proposals." Subcommittee members also discussed the governor's proposed regional school district plan. Legislators expressed doubt as to whether a regional school district would be an agent of the state or of the local district.

Wharton Will Detail Finances

EAST LANSING (UPI) — President-designate Clifton R. Wharton settled a dispute between members of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees yesterday by agreeing to make public all details of his earnings.

He is to become the first black president of a major American university when he officially takes over MSU in January. The board then voted to discuss the contract at the December meeting. It is estimated that from 8,000 to 10,000 lives could be saved annually in automobile accidents if the occupants wore seat belts.

Reporter Freezes When Subject Turns to Nudity

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—One of the best young movie actresses, my big hang-ups as a journalist is how they feel about being in the nude. This defect has all but destroyed my effectiveness as an interviewer of pretty young movie actresses, a task I once performed with grace, dignity and elan.

There seems to be some sort of unwritten law that you can't interview a pretty young actress without asking how she feels about cinematic undress. A few years ago, young actresses merely were asked if they would be willing to appear in skin flicks. But things have changed a lot since then.

Nowadays, asking a pretty young actress if she would be willing to be filmed in the nude is like asking Buster Keaton if he would be willing to get hit in the face with a custard pie. So you ask them how they feel about it. Only I can't do it. Every time I start to ask a pretty young actress how she feels about being filmed in the nude, I freeze up.

Like the other evening I was given an opportunity to interview Margot Kidder, a pretty young actress who is appearing in "Gaily, Gaily," a new picture based on the early life of Ben Hecht.

"You are a splendid specimen of young womanhood," I told Miss Kidder. "and I would adore inquiring into your life and times, which must be intensely interesting. But it would not work. I could never ask you how you feel about being filmed in the nude."

UNDERSTANDING
Miss Kidder was amazingly understanding for one so young, and promptly took me off the hook. If I wanted to, she said, I could pretend I had asked her that question and then I would manufacture a quote from her. She said she would leave her reply entirely to my discretion.

Her generosity gave me a strange sense of power. With carte blanche authority to put words in her mouth, I could have her say anything I wanted her to say.

At the same time, however, I damage.

Deciding how Miss Kidder feels about being filmed in the nude was not a matter I took lightly. After much agonizing thought, I concluded that any girl as trusting as Miss Kidder would answer the question truthfully.

"I have no qualms about being filmed in the nude because I trust the audience not to peek."

St. Joseph Police Will Probe Fire

ST. JOSEPH (AP)—Firemen say they have asked police to help them investigate a "mysterious" and "suspicious" fire which damaged a large number of record players Friday at the Voice of Music Manufacturing Co. here.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage but a police spokesman said the loss would run into thousands of dollars. Firemen credited an internal sprinkler system with saving the building from any extensive damage.

Adrian Resident Is Arraigned in Tavern Slaying

ADRIAN (AP)—A 25-year-old Adrian man was arraigned on an open charge of murder Friday in connection with the killing of another Adrian man at a tavern on Tuesday.

A preliminary examination for Don Lewis was scheduled for next Wednesday in Adrian district court. Lewis is being held in the Lenawee County jail without bond. Lewis is accused of killing Grady Scott, 35, in an Adrian tavern. Sheriff's officers said Lewis turned himself in the day of the killing.

Aid to Macomb

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has announced approval of $4,332 in federal economic opportunity grants to the Macomb County Board of Supervisors. The grants include $15,033 for a family planning program, $5,313 for a senior opportunities and services program, and $63,386 for a legal services program.

What makes so many quarterbacks yellow?

It isn't fear of the red-dog ■ It's your color TV set ■ It turns their faces yellow, or green, or purple ■ And when the action moves from the sunny to the shady corner of the stadium, all sorts of crazy colors appear ■ Not so if you're watching on a new Magnavox with Total Automatic Color ■ TAC automatically keeps the color right, all the time—even when you switch channels or when the scene changes ■ TAC also keeps the picture perfectly tuned—automatically ■ With TAC, there's no more jumping up and down to adjust the color right in the middle of a long punt return ■ You just set it and forget it ■ One more thing: The new Magnavox Bright Tube brings you a lot brighter picture, too ■ So this weekend, watch your favorite quarterbacks on a Magnavox with TAC ■ They may be running scared—but they'll never look yellow!

Carters Antiqued Dining Room Furniture Blue

Couple Enjoys 'Antiquing' for Home

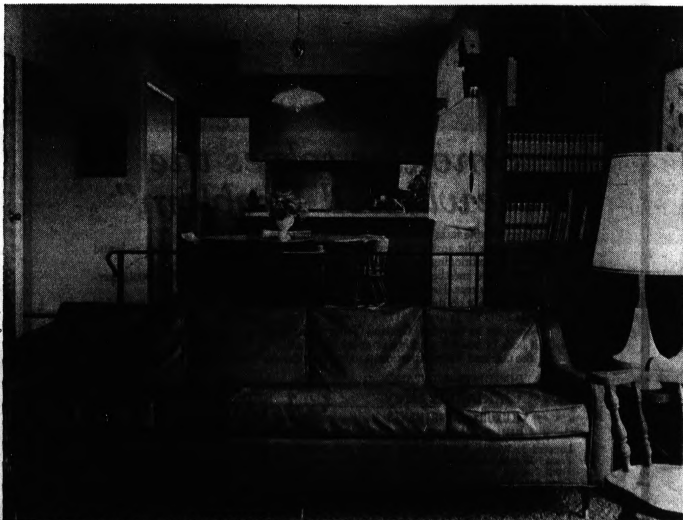

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
"We're do-it-yourselfers and bargain hunters," said Mrs. Chester Carter as she strolled through her three-bedroom home in Orion Township.
"Neither my husband nor I can pass up poking through an interesting antique shop."
"Take our dining room furniture. It was very inexpensive. We bought the table and chairs and then my mother donated the buffet. We didn't like the finish, so we antiqued the entire set in blue."

Because they enjoyed working with their hands, the Carters reap a double satisfaction, the fun of the actual project and the beauty it brings to their home.
The scarlet plush carpeting of the dining room is carried through the living room as are the scarlet and royal blue draperies.

The ivory damask sofa in the living room was another "find." Richly carved acanthus-leaf detail in walnut highlights the down-cushioned piece.
Emphasizing the blue tones used in the room, the Parisian street scene above the sofa is flanked by antique-gold masks and ceramic shadow-box interpretations of the four seasons.
Avocado and brass lamps on the pecan end tables repeat the acanthus detail of the sofa. Two gold button-back chairs covered in velvet complete the room's seating arrangement.
The kitchen, informal dining area and family room flow into one another making the floor plan an ideal one for a young mother with three daughters, Pamela 9, Gina 8 and Christine 7. Their play can be observed without leaving the work area.
Shades of green tweed carpeting in the recreation area blend happily with the warm wood tones of the paneling. Collectibles include the milk can before the raised hearth, the ceramic butter churn and the antique butter bowl on the table near the black leather chair and ottoman.
"That's our reading bowl," chuckled Mrs. Carter. "Our daughter suggested using it for papers the girls bring home from school or other things that should be read by the family."

Women Work Toward Ideal Design

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

How many times have you walked through a model home only to overhear a feminine voice say with a sneer, "you get 50 women together to design this place."

Too many! Bert L. Smokler and Co., builders of residential homes, decided to do something about it and give women their day in court before completing plans for Smokler's new condominium-townhouse development which will be built soon in the Bloomfield area.

The buzz session was held Thursday following a luncheon at the Oakland Hills Country Club with Smokler's hosting 50 women from the metropolitan Detroit area.

The status of the two men ran the gamut from the new bride to the young mother with small children, to the matron with teen-agers, to the women with grown children, to the woman without children and the businesswoman.

Ages ranged from early 20s to late 60s. All carried a common motivation, the design of a townhouse to fit their needs. Conference coordinator Byrne Benson, Smokler vice president in charge of marketing, soon found out, however, that when the women were asked to plan the "ideal" floor-plan you get 50 ideas as to what is "ideal."

Chosen on the basis of letters written to Smokler's Townhouse Advisory Panel, many of the women were confused as to the meanings of condominium and townhouse.

"A townhouse," explained Benson, "is two or more dwelling units attached with a common wall."

CONDOMINIUM
"Condominium is a legal term representing a method of ownership. The individual property owner owns everything within the walls of the unit."

"The exterior grounds and common areas such as sewer and water systems are owned jointly and administered via a homeowners' association."

"Upkeep of these jointly owned areas is in addition to mortgage payments. The amount of the monthly maintenance assessment is determined by the developer on the basis of the services provided."

Mention of the common areas and plumbing triggered a barrage of comments.

"Smokler," said Benson, "is very conscious of the noise factor and goes to great pains to see that it is kept at a minimum using staggered studing and blankets of insulation."

"However," he continued, "if a neighbor insists upon a blaring stereo, you're going to get noise and there's really nothing a builder can do about it."

In polling the desirability of an ancillary club house for residents' convenience, the audience had mixed emotions.

"You will find that you live differently when you move into an apartment," said a resident of Troy's Somerset Park.

"When you think about the move, you think you will really need and take advantage of a laundry area was in the basement."

A low rumble soon turned into a loud roar as the women considered the number of times they would have to walk up and down the stairs.

"In my opinion," said one mother of young children, "the laundry facilities should be near the bedroom area not in the basement. That's where the greatest amount of laundry is picked up . . . even if the bedrooms are on the second floor."

MAINTENANCE WOE
"Second floor laundry rooms could present a real problem," said Benson, "should the washer overflow, you could while adding comfort and practicality. Comfort comes from a special foam layer under the surface which gives a real feeling of softness underfoot. Practicality enters in through the easy care characteristics of a vinyl floor. For this family with four children who use the den for watching television — and any other activity — a non-stainable floor is a housekeeping boon."

Two out of three new homes have more than one bath. In homes of quality, the floors, walls and countertops of these bathrooms are surfaced with a durable material, such as ceramic tile, that will hold up through the years.

Ceramic tile is waterproof, resists stains and scratches, and is easily cleaned. It now comes in a wider selection of colors, shapes and patterns than ever before.

"But when you are actually there, the average family gets little if any use of the community building. It's too much trouble."

"I'd rather skip the community building," said one young woman, "and put the money saved into improving the quality of each individual living area."

"The amount spread over each family in a complex of this sort," said Benson, "is really not large. It's approximately $400-$500. And when you are going into a venture such as this, you must consider the resale advantages."

"The availability of a community club house could be a definite asset to an individual selling his townhouse."

POOL, A MUST
When it came to the necessity of swimming pools, the women were in complete accord. A swimming pool is a must for today's living.

Where to put the laundry? In the proposed floor plan of the upwards of $80,000 dwelling, the laundry area was in the basement.

MASCULINE — A man's domain, the den, paneled and beamed in oak, surprisingly has vinyl on the floor. This pattern inspired by an old ceramic tile has an antique quality in texture and irregularity of grouting and coloring which allows it to blend beautifully with the wood walls and leather chair. Through color and design, the flooring retains the room's feeling of warmth while adding comfort and practicality. Comfort comes from a special foam layer under the surface which gives a real feeling of softness underfoot. Practicality enters in through the easy care characteristics of a vinyl floor. For this family with four children who use the den for watching television — and any other activity — a non-stainable floor is a housekeeping boon.

Homeowner Builds Value While Getting Rid of Tension

There are some real values in cynicism. "Greater enjoyment, nails and filling the holes with one hobby open to any home for the family now and greater monetary value — capital gain — for the future."

The average home owner can enjoy the relaxation of paneling a porch, converting a basement into a recreation room, landscaping his property, building a fence or painting his garage.

"Working with the hands is a most reliable way to relieve tensions from an office job, selling and similar activities," says John Concord, home improvement consultant to Mascoite Corporation.

"Considering the high cost of labor and its scarcity nowadays, it makes plain sense for the home owner to build future values in his property while enjoying the doing-it-himself therapy of improving his home's appearance and utility as the result of his own skills."

TWO-WAY VALUE

An improved home has a better value in two ways, he for the family now and greater monetary value — capital gain — for the future."

Even the home owner who has only minor skills in carpentry finds it quite simple to apply modern paneling for an interior face-lifting in his basement, attic or elsewhere in his residence.

"Take the matter of drilling holes in concrete basement walls for furring strips that go up before the panels. It used to be real hard work, but now Mascoite brand adhesive does the job and no nails are required. The wood strips adhere lastingly to any kind of wall — concrete, block, brick, plaster."

There's some sweat and some sweat equity, too, when a man sets out to make his home more livable, but the activity simulates a satisfying hobby.

Modest Two-Story Features Livability

No more than a glance is necessary to establish that this four-bedroom house has the wholesome charm typical of a two-story Colonial.

Yet its finest feature is not its traditional cheery exterior, but the amount of livability it packs within its modest dimensions of 59' by 38' 8". Figures that include the two-car garage.

In addition to all the traffic circulation advantages of a well-designed, modern home, architect Samuel Paul has included a number of distinguishing highlights including a cathedral ceiling in the living room and an attractive circular-style stairway to the second floor.

Buy or Rent: Big Question

If you're planning to move but are undecided as to whether to rent or buy, these considerations should help you form sound judgment.

Figure out the total cost of a home of your own on a monthly basis — taking into account payments on your loan, interest, taxes, electricity and all other costs of home ownership. If the monthly stipend for the house of your choice does not exceed one week's salary or income, the purchase should fall within your financial range.

You may also be pleasantly surprised to learn that the monthly cost of your own home is actually less than you would have to pay for an apartment of sufficient size for your family.

Unlike rental dollars, housing dollars build equity. Since demand for homes and property values are expected to soar in the years ahead, a house you buy today would be worth far more at resale three or five years hence, especially if it's a well-constructed dwelling in attractive surroundings.

ULTIMATE VALUE
If you regard the purchase of a home as an investment — a hedge against inflation — you should give close attention to factors which will affect its ultimate value.

According to the Southern Pine Association, the most important single consideration here is structural soundness. A home that is structurally sound has built-in resistance to the ravages of time and wear.

Even when exterior walls and roof are surfaced with nonwood materials, most homes are supported and held together by structural frameworks of lumber. The quality of this lumber has far-reaching impact on the overall performance and durability of the home.

If an appropriate species and grade is used, if the lumber has been properly dried and pre-shrunk before being surfaced to final, size, your investment is secure.

The entrance to the home is via sheltered arched portico.

NARROW SIDELIGHTS
The front door is flanked by a pair of narrow sidelights.

Inside the front door is a roomy reception foyer, to the left of which is the living room and an optional fireplace.

It is a "dead end" room so that traffic can pass through it on the way to some other part of the house.

Windows at the front and rear assure plenty of natural light and air.

FAMILY ROOM
To the right of the foyer is the dining room, with a door-way to the kitchen.

And directly ahead of the foyer is a family room with another log-burning fireplace, sliding glass doors leading to a rear patio and a pair of folding doors which connect to the living room so that both rooms can be combined for a large function or keep completely separate.

An attractive and efficient U-shaped kitchen overlooks the rear patio and is adjacent to the family room, dining room and laundry area.

It includes a bay-windowed dinette section and, in all, is 18' 6" long, which should make the woman of the house glow with pleasure at the prospect of handling her cooking and serving chores in a sizable area.

FOUR BEDROOMS
The laundry-mud room includes a half-bath, a service door to the outside and entrance to the garage.

Upstairs, there are four bedrooms, two full baths and plenty of closet space.

The master bedroom, located at the end of a hall, has an enormous walk-in closet and a private bath.

The circular-style staircase terminates at a balcony with a railing overlooking the entrance foyer.

WOOD SHUTTERS
The two-car garage is covered by the same roof that stretches across the front portico.

The exterior combines brick and shingles and has such Colonial features as an arched garage door jamb and double-hung windows flanked by wood shutters.

A full basement provides an abundance of recreation and storage space without the necessity of going downstairs to handle the laundry.

See Floor Plan Page C-8

S-20 STATISTICS

Design S-20 has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen-dinette and foyer on the first floor with a total habitable area of 1,885 square feet. Also at ground level are a laundry-mud room, lavatory and two-car garage. There are four bedrooms and two bathrooms upstairs, totaling 908 square feet. Overall dimensions, which include the garage, a rear patio and a front portico, are 59' by 38' 8". There is a full basement.

Bath's Now Status Symbol

The bath has become the new status symbol of the American home. Decorators and fixtures manufacturers have combined their crafts to produce stunning new rooms. And that plural is intended: the 2½ and 2-bath house is almost standard in middle income housing now.

For the first time we can enjoy bathrooms designed for the modern age. Believe it or not, sinks have been installed at the same height for almost 100 years, although Americans are now several inches taller than their great-grandfathers!

If you are planning new bathrooms, or redoing an old one, you should approach this decorating job as you would any other room in your home.

In Decorating Fashions

Elegance and Ease Combined

The emphasis on today's backgrounds, as marble and traditional furniture and ageless beauty. The mood and home decorating fashions is richly figured woodgrains can be teamed up to provide change as its occupant grows and changes, by varying casual living with classic elegance.

One reason for the resurgence of classic motifs is their versatility. They are not limited to one room and they are enduringly appropriate. In brief, classic elegance wears well.

The classic elegance of today, however, is a far cry from the 18th and 19th Century "don't touch" variety. For the classic decor of this age is built to take the rough wear of active family living and still look beautiful.

For example, traditional

WALL COVERING

The interplay of exciting wall covering and laminated plastic panels in woodgrains such as Black Walnut, Mediterranean Cherry on a dining room wall combine well with splashes of color in the carpeting and accessories.

'Fixed' Leak Still Dripping

QUESTION: I recently put a new washer in one of our kitchen faucets. It stopped the very bad leak we had, but there now is a tiny, infrequent but steady drip.

ANSWER: A faucet dresser, or seat dresser, or any one of several other names, is a small tool used for smoothing the seat on which the faucet washer goes up and down.

CORRODED, IRREGULAR If this seat has become corroded or irregular or otherwise marred, the washer doesn't sit on it properly and some water gets by even when the faucet is turned off.

Ceiling Suspended

Suspended acoustical ceilings are one of the quickest and easiest ways to add new beauty, luxury and quiet to any home. Professional builders use them in new homes and apartments.

A do-it-yourselfer can install one in almost any room in about a day — no special tools needed.

Suspended ceilings were once thought of as only for lowering a ceiling that was too high. But a system engineered by Owens-Corning Fiberglas can be installed within two inches of an existing ceiling. It eliminates the need for wood supports and exacting carpentry work required by "staple up" systems.

No framing, furring or shims are needed. The existing ceiling does not have to be leveled.

The system also eliminates time-consuming sawing operations because lightweight Fiberglas panels can be cut with a knife. A Fiberglas backing and acoustically-engineered surfaces combine to absorb up to 85 per cent of noise striking the panel surface.

Panels are framed and supported by a steel grid system secured to the ceiling above by wires. Long sections of steel grid are in the shape of an inverted "T". "L" shaped grid members support the panels along sidewalls.

SET IN FRAMING

Once the gridwork is in place, the panels are simply set into the framing. This suspended ceiling system can be used to conceal plumbing, wiring and ducts without extensive carpentry work. It provides easy access to the overhead area because the panels can simply be lifted from their frames. The ceiling material does not have to be destroyed to make an overhead repair as it does in some systems.

With a little planning, a suspended ceiling can achieve any number of decorative effects. If a room is too narrow, extra long panels can be installed at right angles to the length of the room. The effect — a room that appears wider and more comfortable. One of the newest decorator panels available is "Spanish Stucco" — a white panel with the clean lines of a Spanish mosaic. Fiberglas suspended ceiling panels are manufactured by Owens-Corning in various sizes with many decorator patterns.

Vinyl clad wood grain beams also can be added to give a room a massive warm effect.

Spren Hints He May Be Leaving Soon

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Commissioner Johannes F. Spren has indicated he may not remain in office when Mayor-elect Roman S. Gribbs takes office in January.

"My tenure as a police commissioner is drawing to a close," Spren said yesterday in citing the reason for changing his mind and making a speech at a police promotion and awards ceremony.

Spren was appointed police commissioner by outgoing Mayor or Jerome P. Cavanagh. It was his first hint that he may not continue in his post when Gribbs becomes mayor.

In the speech, Spren said police get little praise from citizens or public officials, despite the hardships they encounter. He said "shallow politicians" have been criticizing police only to serve their personal or political ends.

HOAGY CARMICHAEL

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "Lady," and "Georgia on My Mind," Hoagy Carmichael, whose gift for melody made him a millionaire, is 70 years old today—but he's still composing and says, "I don't feel any different from 12 or 15 years ago."

No sad songs for Hoagy. He's got too much going for him.

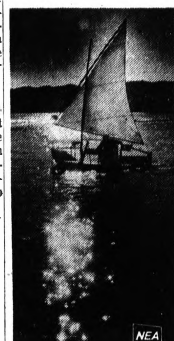

Tanned and dapper in a bright sport coat, Carmichael recalled a late polo breakfast Friday that it has been 38 years since he wrote "Stardust."

There's a long list of other songs he composed: "Old Bird," "Skylark," "Lazy River," "Rockin' Chair," "I Get Along Without You Very Well," "Little Old Lady."

In 1961, he won an Oscar for "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," from the movie "Here Comes the Groom." Hoagy also displayed his nasal baritone and piano-plunking in such films as "To Have and Have Not" and "Best Years of Our Lives."

Carmichael divides his time among his Hollywood penthouse, overlooking the Sunset Strip; a $145,000 showplace home at Palm Springs, which fronts on the Thunderbird Country Club golf course; and pechaire, "I Get Along Without You Very Well," "Little Old Lady."

He is engaged in real estate calls, the collection valued at ventures in Palm Springs and $25,000. The composer, divorced 14 years ago, has two grown sons, Hoagy Bix and Randy—the latter a talented piano player.

Carmichael's efforts at the piano currently are in the Hawaiian vein.

On the younger composers, he said: "I resent the repetition in tune and the inadequate lyrics."

And he does have one regret. "I could have written at least two or three times as many songs if I'd really spent the time at it."

But even with such partners as Johnny Mercer and Frank Loesser, he said, "We'd just sit and wait for an idea to come. It doesn't. You have to work your tail off."

De Gaulle Turns 79 Today, Remains Secluded at Estate

PARIS (AP) — Charles de Gaulle is 79 today but as usual there will be no birthday celebration. The man who twice led France out of chaos remained secluded at his country estate in Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises.

No visitors are expected in the isolated mansion where the former president lives with his wife Yvonne and their elderly housekeeper.

Even while he was president, his birthdays passed unnoticed and his family and staff carefully avoided reminding him of his birthday. He once said of his old enemy, Marshal Philippe Petain, the head of state of Nazi-occupied France, "Old age is a shipwreck."

There is widespread interest in the memoirs he is writing, but no publication date has been set and there have been no leaks about their contents.

DISAPPEARANCE TO LIXING

The memoirs, following his monumental personal history of World War II, will deal with his return to power in 1958, the decolonization of French Africa and France's odd-man-out role in the Atlantic alliance under his leadership.

His disappearance from public view probably is much to his liking. Friends say he seems to think the voters treated him with ingratitude when they defeated his plan for regional reform. He resigned April 28.

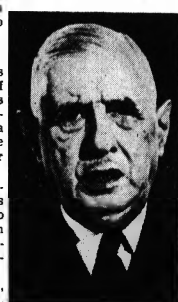

Since then his successor, President Georges Pompidou, has quietly been steering the country back to economic realism and closer cooperation with neighbors and allies, despite the objections of diehard Gaullists like former Defense Minister Pierre Messmer.

His disappearance from public view probably is much to his liking. Friends say he seems to think the voters treated him with ingratitude when they defeated his plan for regional reform. He resigned April 28.

After his visit, Couve de Murville told newsmen De Gaulle no one is allowed to approach him.

Couve no longer held any political office. "Gen. De Gaulle wanted to avoid any suggestion that he is interfering in French political life," Couve said.

Except for short outings in eastern France, De Gaulle has left Colombey only once since his resignation — for a six-week vacation in Ireland during the campaign for the election of his successor. He took no part in the campaign, but sent Pompidou a message of congratulations.

A handful of police and private watchmen guard the Colombe residence and keep all strangers away from the closed residence. The villagers see De Gaulle only when he goes to Mass in the local church or goes for a stroll in the woods nearby.

6 Years After Death

Crowds Visit JFK Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — No special services were planned, but one was needed to draw people to the grave of President John F. Kennedy today.

It has been six years since that Nov. 22 in Dallas, Texas, when the president was assassinated.

Since his burial in Arlington National Cemetery, an estimated 25 1/2 million persons have visited the gravesite, according to military authorities charged with supervising the area.

More thousands could be expected to continue the procession today.

MEMORIAL MASS

Across the Potomac River in Washington, a memorial mass

was scheduled for noon at Holy Trinity Church, the parish church Kennedy attended before he became the 35th President of the United States.

Kennedy also was being remembered in the prayers of the priests at St. Matthew's Cathedral, where world leaders gathered for his funeral in 1963.

Most members of the Kennedy family were in the Cape Cod Mass., area today mourning another death, that of the late president's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who died Tuesday.

Judy Carne Hopes to Lose 'Sock-It-to-Me' Girl Label

NEW YORK — "Sawck-it-to-me" Girl Judy Carne is endeavoring after 53 appearances on the "Laugh-In" show which made her celebrated all over the English-speaking world to get rid of that label and become known simply as "an actress."

Judy, now 30, chose "Cabaret" at the Westbury Music Fair as one way to shake off the label... but it's hard for her to forget that she was an expert on getting belted with pies and with water on the Rowan & Martin show for almost 3 years.

"On Kraft Music Hall the other week," she said, "Tom Seaver of the Mets was getting hit with a pie and it wasn't sticking. 'Four or five times he did it. I suddenly spoke up, and said, 'Speaking as a stunt runner, you're not doing it right. It bounces off. You're trying not to get messed up. You've got to get messed up.' I told him what to use. Whipped cream. Seaver, after he'd got messed up, turned to me and smiled and said, 'Thanks a lot.'"

After three years of doing funny, Judy said that "my discipline for learning lines had gone" and she found it difficult to memorize a whole book show — "I put everything down on a tape recorder — I played it in the bath and everywhere... I should have swatted it up a bit."

"What's swatted it up a bit?" we asked.

"Homework. When they asked me, I just thought, 'Oh, I'll do it, of course, and I'll be adorable.'"

"Laugh-In," she said, "was such a velvet rut. You work so hard to get to the top and get a name — and then you have to work so hard to lose it."

She hoped that she wasn't leaving "Laugh-In" forever. That there would be guest appearances. She and George Schaller, the producer, are on the best of terms.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Tiny Tim's Mgr. told Manny Zwaai (who's giving the wedding reception at his Ground Floor restaurant) not to be upset if Tim doesn't eat at the party: "He never eats in public" — Lager Stevens'll have her first topless scenes in "A Dream of Kings."

Petula Clark'll get one day off from her Waldorf engagement to attend the "Mr. Chips" premiere in London, then jet right back to N.Y. — Impressionist David Frye's first album will be titled "I Am the President."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bill Rosen got a fund solicitation letter addressed to "Occupant." So he sent a $5,000 check — and signed it "Occupant."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The typical budget nowadays is a plan to save enough money next month to pay for last month.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "It's a woman's duty to provide for the inner man, and a man's duty to provide for the outer woman."

EARL'S PEARLS: Singer Terri Stevens bought La Vie en Rose restaurant, and Tony Bennett — who has a chain of clothes — asked, "You mean you own only one restaurant?"

Danny Thomas says movie morals have changed: "When I was a kid, a film was obscene if the horse wasn't wearing a saddle." That's earl, brother.

No State Rec Funds in '70 County Budget

Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission is counting on little if any money from the state recreation bond fund for its 1970 budget.

"We have been pretty much disappointed," said Kenneth VanNatta, director of the parks and recreation department.

He said there might be a chance that the county will be included later under a pilot project.

A budget based on a projected $1.7-million income was adopted yesterday by the parks and recreation commission.

FUNDS MAY BE FREED

No improvements are contemplated at this time for Independence-Oaks, however, commissioners noted that should the Waterford-Oaks swimming pool become eligible for grants, some $180,000 would be freed for use either at the Independence or Addison sites.

Projected income is based on $905,886 to be raised from the special quarter mill tax voted for parks, the federal matching funds and $150,000 which will be left over in December of this year.

The commission anticipates making full payment for the Addison-Oaks site by repaying the county $325,000 which it borrowed and $385,200 on a land contract.

Employe Pact Is on Agenda at Waterford

A noneconomic section of the Waterford Township employees' contract is scheduled to come before the Township Board again for approval Monday.

The section was tabled by the board last Monday because three out of its seven members were absent.

Other items set to come before the board are a resolution of two rezoning requests and requests for police photography equipment, a commercial vehicle dealer's license and a lot split.

Zoning requests to be introduced would authorize a gas station on Dixie Highway at Ledgestone and an auto sales and service business on M59 near Pontiac Lake Road.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. in the library of Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake.

Suspect Charged in Double Killing

HUNTINGTON WOODS (UPI)—Karab Vapourcyan, 74, was charged with first-degree murder yesterday in the knife slayings of his daughter-in-law and granddaughter.

Vapourcyan, an Armenian immigrant, was arrested Tuesday after the bodies of Mrs. Klavka Vapourcyan, 40, and her daughter, Anni, 2, were found in the vestibule of their home. His court examination in Huntington Woods Municipal Court was postponed until Dec. 1.

The Soviet Union is planning to fire rockets to study the upper atmosphere next year.

Reassignment at OU Okayed

The reassignment of Jerry Dullman as administrative director of the Oakland University School of Performing Arts was approved by the Michigan State University Board of Trustees yesterday.

Dullman, 265 South St., Rochester, has been director of the university's off-campus program. His salary was not released as a matter of OU policy.

Trustees also accepted $453,556 in gifts and grants to Oakland University, including $417,740 from the U.S. Office of Education to support three financial aid programs under the dean of students office.

The three federal grants were $255,232 to provide student loans under the National Defense Student Loan Program, $108,660 to pay wages to students under the Work Study Program, and $53,836 for educational opportunity grants for needy students.

Among the other gifts and grants was one of $7,500 from Christ Church Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills in support of the Pontiac Black Cultural Center.

It is expected that the new census next year will reveal that there are fewer than three million farms in the United States.

Memorial tributes may be sent to the First Presbyterian Church of Troy building fund.

Waterford Voters: We Care... Do You?

We, the students at Cray Jr. High School in Waterford Twp. care about our education.

Today, with all the pressure on staying in school to get ahead, we ask, how can we get ahead, when our learning hours are cut down, sometimes in half?

We need that time in school. There is so much we need to learn, and we need our education now! It can only help us in the future.

All we are asking for is our education. Please, vote Yes on the Waterford millage election on November 25.

We have 18,501 reasons to vote yes. Can you think of that many reasons to vote No?

Parents, Children Praise God at Home and Church

The Stanley A. Munroe family, trace of his real parents was of Oxford has an extra reason to be thankful this year.

Recently, the family was reunited with a young man who entered the Munroe household briefly as an abandoned child more than 20 years ago.

In April 1949 the Port Huron daily newspaper carried a front page story of a baby boy abandoned in St. Joseph's Catholic Church. The baby was left with only the clothing he had on and a bottle of milk beside him.

No information was left with him. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley A. Munroe of Oxford, then living in Port Huron with no children of their own, decided they would like to become the baby's foster parents.

The baby was given to the Munroes to care for and the new parents gave the child the name of Joseph because he was left in St. Joseph's Church. Joe Munroe became his legal name. According to Munroe, no trace of his real parents was ever found.

"He was ours until just before Christmas of 1948 when he became ill. The Probate Court in Port Huron had Joseph taken to a hospital in Ann Arbor for treatment and we were allowed to see him on Christmas Day and that was the last time," said Munroe.

"When we tried to get permission to see him, authorities told us he was too ill and it would be better if we were not involved. We tried to explain how we needed him and he needed us, but our pleading was to no avail."

Munroe went on to say he and his wife packed Joe's clothes and finally took them to the hospital.

"We never forgot about Joe because he filled a need in our lives. But God was good to us and gave us three other children — Kathy, who is now 20, Rick, 18, and Cindy, 14," said Munroe.

"A few weeks ago the Frank Gonzales Crusade was holding out special services at Mandon, Lake Community Church, Union Lake and my wife's sister, Mrs. time the connection just didn't Valera Hinder, was helping fit. Later that same evening he about Joe. Gonzales told her his years later and he was 6 feet 3 inches tall.

"When we went up to him after the service and gave him some of his baby pictures, the very first thing he said was 'Why didn't you adopt me?'"

"She hurried home and got in platform he looked much the same except now it was 21 surprise. I don't remember what I said. My wife told me I said 'It wasn't that we didn't want to Joe.'"

"After service we went to the Hinder home and ran off movies of Joe when he was a baby. It was amazing that for the past two weeks Joe had been requesting special prayer and asking Frank Gonzales 'Do you think I will ever find anyone who knew me as a baby?'"

"Munroe said the family saw him every night during the remainder of the Crusade and had him in their home."

"The Bible verse that kept running through my mind was 'All things are possible through Christ Jesus,'" said Munroe.

Costello was the name of the Spanish family he was given to after his release from the hospital. Joe grew up in the Costello home—all the time searching for some connection with his past.

And Costello's home in Waterford Township was only six miles away all those years.

HOME FOR THANKSGIVING—Thankful to be reunited after 21 years are the Stanley A. Munroes of Oxford. Joe Costello (left) carves the roast while the rest of the family enjoy just looking at him. Joe was given to the Munroes when a baby but later taken away when he was hospitalized. Shown with Joe are (from left) Cindy, Mr. Stanley, Mrs. Kathy Hopps with baby Brent and Mrs. Munroe. Joe, whose legal name is Munroe, will be with the family for two weeks.

Neighbors and friends in the community are invited to the service and refreshment hour which follows in fellowship hall.

'His Mercy Endureth Forever'

'O Give Thanks Unto the Lord, for He Is Good'

Although Thanksgiving Day is a national holiday instead of a Church Holy Day, congregations of Christian churches and Jewish synagogues and temples gather to praise God for his many blessings.

Men, women and children remember those less fortunate than they by bringing food and sometimes clothing to fill baskets for deserving families and church homes for children and the elderly.

Pontiac area families will worship tomorrow with services of thanksgiving and on Thanksgiving Day. Here are a few reports:

Pontiac Unity
Everett A. Dell, minister of Pontiac Unity Church, reports there will be no Thanksgiving service at the church Thursday but there will be a Thanksgiving dinner.

"The idea behind having only the dinner is that there are those in the congregation who simply do not have any place to eat the Thanksgiving meal and that these people might like to get together."

"We know some people will want to eat dinner with their family or in the home of friends. We made this plan for those who have no plans."

Pastor Dell said John Williams is general chairman for the dinner.

St. Andrew's Episcopal

Twenty-two persons will be confirmed at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Waterford Township at 10 a.m. tomorrow by the Rt. Rev. Archie Crowley, a suffragan bishop of Michigan, officiating.

A reception will follow the service.

The Rev. James Dawe former interim rector of St. Andrew's Church, will preach at the 10 a.m. service on Thanksgiving Day. He is now serving as interim pastor of St. Martha's Episcopal Church, Detroit.

Grace Lutheran

The senior choir under the direction of Melvin Honkus will sing "Prayer of Thanksgiving" by Kresser and "The Beautitudes" by Evans at the 10 a.m. Community Thanksgiving service in Grace Lutheran Church, 114 S. Genesee.

The women's choir directed by Mrs. R. G. Stuckmeyer will of

All Saints Episcopal

A service of Choral Evensong with sermon is scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday in All Saints Episcopal Church, Williams at Pike.

The Liturgy of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day.

The congregation will make an offering of white-wrapped gifts or boxed foods for the pantry of St. Peter's Home for Boys at both services.

Mother Charlesetta Waddles who operates the Perpetual Help Mission in Detroit will speak in Pontiac tomorrow. She is coming to Pontiac to help married persons and those expecting to be married to attend being started by the Rev. Addie this worship service with his or her companion. The public may attend the meeting in Christ Mission, 396 Orchard Lake.

Why I Go to Church

By MRS. WILLIAM R. BROWN
Homemaker

In his first epistle to the Thessalonians the Apostle Paul expresses thanks for those who receive the word of God — "not as the word of men, not as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh in you that believe."

Whether something "works" seems the soundest test of worth in life's pursuits. Paul's words perhaps best explain my church attendance and Christian faith. Very simply — it works.

I attend church understanding that the church Christ founded is not sectarian in nature. It is the collective body of Christian believers, desirous of good works and the proclamation of the good news of Christ, united in love for one another and the world.

As a Christian I feel an urgent personal responsibility to the church of Christ, for I see the church as myself. If the Christian be God's true abode, the world must see Him in my daily conduct or church attendance is vain.

I attend church hoping that, in spite of my frequent human folly and failure, God's love and light may tell in my life.

Attending church affords a share in financing God's program. Considering themselves but stewards of all that God provides, Christians find untold blessing in giving faithfully as unto God of their income. In this, God abundantly proves Himself.

Hypocrisy of the church seems the husk and cry of this "Tell it like it is" age. Perhaps it is because man is looking to man for perfection, rather than to the One who was perfect for man.

Thanksgiving Youth Hike at Brighton

Young people of Auburn Road Church of the Nazarene, Avon Township, will meet at the church 1 p.m. Friday before leaving for a Thanksgiving Hike at Kensington Park near Brighton.

The group, along with Pastor Alvin D. Richards, will join other teen-agers of the Eastern Michigan District of Nazarene churches for the day's activities.

Following the hike the young people will gather at Millard High School for a chicken dinner and an informal sing-along.

SERVICES

The Rev. P. L. Liddell, an elder in the Church of the Nazarene in the field of evangelism, will conduct special services Tuesday through Nov. 30 at the Auburn Road Church 7:30 each evening.

A graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, the guest preacher began his ministry as an evangelist in 1949.

Besides revival meetings, he speaks at youth rallies, and camp meetings.

NEW BUS — The Rev. Alvin D. Richards, pastor of Auburn Road Church of the Nazarene, shows young people of the church the new bus recently purchased. The bus will transport teen-agers to Kensington Park near Brighton Friday for the Thanksgiving Hike slated for all teen-agers of the Eastern Michigan District. Reservations should be in no later than tomorrow.

Members Express Gratitude Thursday

A Thanksgiving Day service, speaking on "Thanksgiving 1969" at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow in First Baptist Church, Oakland and Saginaw. The Chancel Choir will sing.

Missionaries home on furlough will share in the 7 p.m. service. Music will be by Mrs. Norma Bauer, the Carol Choir, Radio Ensemble and Mrs. Conrad Morrow.

These include the Carl Franks, David Cliffe and Dr. Franks, Dwight Slater and family.

There will be a reception for members of the congregation and community to meet the honored guests.

UNITARIAN BIRMINGHAM

The Cass Technical High School Brass Ensemble, music by the choir and a reading of the background and account of the first Thanksgiving will be featured during the 9:30 and 11:15 a.m. services tomorrow in a 3 p.m. service on Nov. 30.

PONTIAC UNITED HOLINESS

A service of Thanksgiving is planned for 7:30 Tuesday evening at Pontiac United Holiness Church, Mariva at Auburn. Pastor D. M. Kiffer will preach on "The Missing Nine."

A Thank Offering will be received for the support of the Faith Missions whose headquarters are in Bedford, Ind.

The Girls' Trio will sing at 9:45 and 11 a.m. tomorrow and again at 7 p.m. Guest speaker such television shows had made for evening worship will be the "it" thing to come to the Rev. Dewayne Coxon, dean of crusade. They said the stigma Wesleyan Bible Institute, Cedar Springs

Jesus was often criticized by the religious leaders of His day for spending too much time with publicans and sinners and outcasts.

His strategy was to go where they were in order to reach them, without compromising with their evil deeds.

PROBLEMS

The problems for the United States continue to mount as we move from crisis to crisis. Inflation, crime, the war in Vietnam, racial tension, and the revolution are deeply disturbing millions of Americans.

If there was ever an hour that we needed spiritual renewal and revival, it is now."

Dine Tuesday

The Daughters of Isabella Circle No. 479 will meet at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Wide Track and Saginaw, for a pollock dinner and games at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Graham Writes of Crusade

Here are excerpts from a letter sent to The Pontiac Press their long hair, beards, and church editor by Billy Graham, girls in their miniskirts and telling of the Southern Crusade:

"We have just closed the Southern California Crusade in Anaheim—the home of the California Angels, Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm. In many ways it was the deepest and most penetrating evangelistic crusade we have ever held."

I am convinced that there is a new "depth" to these crusades. The sermons were strictly Biblical, and people came forward with more feeling than I have ever seen.

The attendance record at this great and beautiful stadium was broken three times during the crusade. We now hold a record for having the largest crowd for any single event in the history of the Anaheim Stadium.

More people responded to the appeal to receive Christ in the ten days than in any other similar period in our ministry. Most of the people attending were under 25—and an average of over 2,000 responded to the appeal to receive Christ every night.

Daily Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Saturday, Nov. 22, the 326th day of 1969 with 39 to follow.
The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.
The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.
The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.
On this day in history:
In 1852, the second French empire gained recognition when more than 7 million persons voted to back the regime of Emperor Napoleon III.
In 1950, a train wreck just outside New York at the peak of the evening rush hour killed 79 persons.
In 1990, the United States launched the "Ethian Allen," its then most powerful atomic submarine.
In 1963, President John Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas. Vice President Lyndon Johnson was sworn in as chief executive a short time later.
A thought for the day: General William Sherman said: "I am tired and sick of war. Its glory is all moonshine. It is only those who neither fired a shot nor heard the shrieks and groans of the wounded who cry aloud for blood, more vengeance, more desolation. War is hell."

Crash Kills 1

WATTON (AP) - August Saari, 62, of Watton, was killed Thursday in a two-car collision at an intersection near Watton in Baraga County. Police said Saari was a passenger in one of the cars in the crash at the intersection of M-26 and a county road.

Ex-News Exec Has a Solution to TV Problems

By the Associated Press
Continuing debate among accelerating and government officials over development of a publically owned Vice President Spiro Agnew's criticism of the news media has produced a proposal for increased noncommercial broadcasting during a speech at the California Institute of Technology.
Fred W. Friendly, a former Friedman, currently Edward R. president of CBS news, said Friday, Murrow professor of broadcast day that increased noncommercial television may provide a partial remedy to some of the problems Agnew mentioned. At the same time, Friendly rejected some of Agnew's criticism, saying it was his suggestion that the media ought somehow to be a conduit for the views of the government, or merely a reflector of it, or merely a reflector of public opinion.
NBC newscaster David Brinkley said during a panel discussion Friday at the Sidwell Friends School in Washington, D.C., that he thinks Agnew's criticisms will have no effect on television news coverage.
"We've been thinking about these problems quite a long time," Brinkley said. "I've been thinking about it for 30 years and I haven't got the answers. If Agnew has the answers, I'd like to hear them."
"ALREADY AFFECTED" Federal Communications Commission Chairman Nicholas Johnson, also speaking at the panel discussion, said he saw signs of television news programs in the past that have been affected already by Agnew's criticism.
He said the networks had avoided broadcasting comment on Agnew's speeches and even threatened from a regulating agency. But he has been assiduously replying to Agnew's comments in the past, saying he was sure that the networks provided no live coverage of last Saturday's peace rally in Washington.
"It's frightening," he said again. "We view it as an imminent threat from a regulating agency. But I have been assiduously replying to Agnew's comments in the past, saying he was sure that the networks provided no live coverage of last Saturday's peace rally in Washington."
CBS newsmen Walter Cronkite expressed a divided reaction to Agnew's criticism Friday during an appearance before the Chamber of Commerce of St. Joseph, Mo.
While he said television is "not going to pull in its horns" because of the criticism, he added that he agreed with Agnew that newsmen should re-examine their objectivity and that news reporting should be clearly separated from analysis and from editorial comment.

NATIONAL POLICY
Friendly said, "The FCC national policy by demanding more, not less, public service."

People in the News

By the Associated Press
President Nixon's 23-year-old daughter, Tricia, says her generation is "going out and making positive contributions."
As for "those few who are going out and doing negative things," Miss Nixon said on "The Merv Griffin Show" last night, "well, they're very few."
She described her contemporaries as a "very vocal and concerned generation" and for the most part I'm very proud of my generation."
A cousin, David Eisenhower, 21, Miss Nixon's brother-in-law, agreed with her

Lewellyn Thompson Arrives for Arms Talks

Lewellyn Thompson, a leading expert on Russia and former U.S. ambassador to Moscow, has arrived in Helsinki to take part in the strategic arms limitation talks.
Asked on his arrival yesterday about the prospects for the Soviet-U.S. talks, Lewellyn would say only: "I am an optimist."
He is expected to rank just below Gerard C. Smith, the chief U.S. negotiator, on the American team.

Composer Sues for Possession of Sketches

Russian-born composer Igor Stravinsky is suing for possession of original sketches of some of his works and other valuable papers allegedly reposing in a safe deposit box.
Named as defendants in the Superior Court action filed yesterday in Los Angeles were the 87-year-old musician's son-in-law, Andrei Marlon, and attorney William Martopart. Marlon has been Stravinsky's business manager in recent years.
The complaint said the defendants were given the papers in 1967 for safe keeping.
Included, said the suit, were musical manuscripts dating back to 1904, Stravinsky's 1916 Russian passport and a rough sketch of his 1919 "Firebird Suite."
The composer contends he was refused access to the material when he and his wife decided to move to New York City earlier this year.

Bible Once Illegal; Now Most Popular

NEW YORK (UPI) - Publishing the Bible in everyday language once was a capital offense.
Clerics condemned John Wycliff for heresy when his followers brought out the first complete English translation of "God's law" in 1382. When William Tyndale dared publish a second English edition in 1526, copies were put to the torch. So was he.
Despite early setbacks, the Bible has proven to be the world's most popular book. A billion copies have been printed in more than 1,000 languages since Gutenberg invented movable type in the 15th Century.

NCC Budget Set at 5-Year Low

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) - The National Council of Churches (NCC) has set its 1970 budget at $21.5 million, lowest in five years. The 1969 budget was $23.6 million.
Dr. R. H. Edwin Espy general secretary of the NCC, said in his report that the "overall fiscal situation poses some of the most critical problems which the council has confronted in this area during its history and certainly during the past decade."

While viewers this week plan to parade to Thanksgiving dinner for turkey and dressing, the networks are cooking up a few tantalizing dishes of their own through the week and stuffing Turkey Day with parades and football.

If your parade route leads you to the television set, Channel 2 offers coverage of four parades beginning at 9 a.m. Thursday. Macy's in New York will be followed by Gimbels' in Philadelphia, J. L. Hudson's in Detroit (see the cover), and Eaton's in Toronto.

On Channel 4, the Hudson's parade telecast runs from 10 until 11 when it will be followed by Macy's.

Professional football Thanksgiving afternoon sends the Denver Broncos against the Kansas City Chiefs at 1:30 and the San Diego Chargers against the Houston Oilers at 4, both on Channel 4, and the San Francisco 49ers against the Dallas Cowboys at 6 p.m. on Channel 2. On the college front Texas Tech faces Arkansas at 2:45 on Channel 7.

MISTEROGERS SPECIAL

One of the week's specials will be dished up by Misterogers, who caters to the age 3-to-8 set, when he explores with the young fry the sights, sounds, fantasies and feelings of "Nighttime" Monday at 7 p.m. on Channel 56.

Later the same evening Tennessee Ernie Ford holds forth as the Peapicker in Piccadilly. The 60-minute telecast set in England features Davy Jones, Terry-Thomas, Harry Secombe, the Brothers and Sisters and the Ambrosian Choir. It starts at 10 on Channel 4.

The show will include a miniversion of Gilbert & Sullivan's H.M.S. Pinafore.

"How Life Begins," using stills, films, and drawings to illustrate animal courtship and human reproduction including the development of the embryo and delivery of a child will be presented Friday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7 in a reappearance. The narrator is Eddie Albert.

The program will also study the challenge of survival for the newborn and the secrets of heredity.

Lorne Greene and Betty White will be cohosts for NBC's live coverage of the 43rd annual Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade Thursday at 10 a.m. on Channel 4.

A child discovers one of the keys to the secret of life in a baby chicken. The mysteries of the reproductive process in single-celled organisms, plants, fish, birds, animals and humans are examined on the special, "How Life Begins," at 7:30 p.m. Thursday on Channel 7.

Nixon Vows 'Balanced' Court

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Nixon says he will press his fight "to restore the proper balance" to the Supreme Court despite the Senate's 55-45 rejection of his nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

But the President will wait until after Congress opens its new session in January to submit another nomination. Any nomination sent to the Senate this year would automatically lapse when the current session ends next month, unless confirmed before adjournment.

Nixon did not say if he would select another nominee with Haynsworth's conservative southern background, but he did say he would again apply criteria "consistent with my commitments to the American people before my election as president a year ago."

Expressing deep regret that the Senate had failed to confirm Haynsworth, the President said "the Supreme Court needs men of his legal philosophy to restore the proper balance to that great institution."

MOST SEVERE DEFEAT

The vote yesterday, which climaxed a bitter three-month struggle over judicial ethics and philosophy, was Nixon's most severe congressional defeat since he took office.

The 10-vote margin against Haynsworth was even wider than most of his opponents had expected.

Voting against confirmation were 38

Democrats, including Michigan's Philip Hart, and 17 Republicans, including GOP leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and his assistant, Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

Twenty-six Republicans voted to confirm Haynsworth's nomination, as did 19 Democrats. All the Democrats were southerners except Mike Gravel of Alaska and West Virginia's two senators, Robert C. Byrd and Jennings Randolph.

EASY TO ASCERTAIN

A dozen senators had not taken a stand in advance of the vote, but once the roll call began it was quickly sensed that Nixon's nominee was going to be rejected.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., was the first of the uncommitted called and he voted no. And so it went right down the line.

Among the previously uncommitted, only Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., voted for confirmation and he waited until the first call of the roll had been completed.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., who directed the floor fight for the nomination, told reporters that in his judgment the 57-year-old jurist would have been confirmed if it had not been for labor opposition.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., who had been sharply critical of Haynsworth's rulings in civil rights cases, said he hopes Nixon will submit a nominee who "will not seek to wrench the Supreme Court out of the context of contemporary history."

Judge Weighing His Future After Defeat in Senate

GREENVILLE, S.C. — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., rejected 55-45 by the Senate Friday for a seat on the Supreme Court, will spend the next two weeks deciding whether he will remain on the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals.

An hour after the vote was relayed to Haynsworth by President Nixon on the telephone, the 57-year-old jurist released a 300-word statement saying his future on the appeals court at Richmond, Va., may be in doubt. He is chief judge of the court.

The statement, drafted by Haynsworth in his law office and distributed by two law clerks, said the judge must now consider "whether my usefulness has been so impaired that I should leave the Court of Appeals and return to private life."

Haynsworth, who refused to see reporters after the President's telephone call, said in the statement that he would not make a decision "in the emotion of the moment." The decision, he said, will come in approximately two weeks.

'ORDEAL IS OVER'

"The ordeal of the last two months has ended," he said.

Some senators had criticized Haynsworth's investments in companies connected with suits before his courts, and labor and civil rights groups had attacked some of his decisions.

At a morning photo session before the vote, Haynsworth seemed composed. But as he sat afterward in a small office adjoining his large, paneled law office, he chain-smoked cigarettes and shuffled papers.

"He has kept all this bottled up for the past two months," said one law clerk. "It's hard to say just what he is feeling at this point."

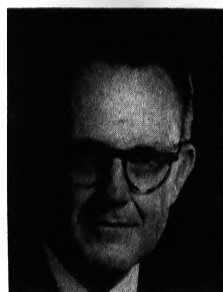

'UNHAPPY OUTCOME'

Haynsworth's later statement added, "The resolution is an unhappy one for me."

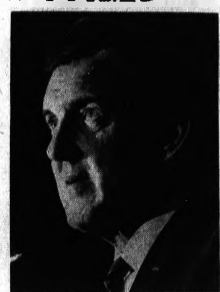

Haynsworth said it was an honor to have been nominated by President Nixon "because the nomination was the result of an appraisal of my performance as a judge of a federal court of appeals."

"The honor, of course, is tarnished by the Senate's action," he added.

Agnew Is Target of Muskie Attack at Fete for Hart

By T. LARRY ADCOCK

The man who lost out to Spiro Agnew paid tribute to U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan in Detroit last night, between jobs at the vice president.

Edmund S. Muskie—first and only Democrat Maine sent to the U.S. Senate and the losing vice presidential candidate in 1968—was guest speaker at the "Salute to Phil Hart Dinner," a $100-per-couple affair, at Cobo Hall.

"It's difficult to take Agnew seriously, but I'll try," Muskie mused before beginning an attack on the vice president's recent blasts against the news media.

"Agnew would like to convert us all into silent people because the Nixon administration is most comfortable with silent people," Muskie charged.

DIVERTING ATTENTION

"He (Agnew) is diverting attention from the central point in his discussions of the press," Muskie said. "The president—no matter who he might be—by his very office commands the attention of television networks and the newspapers as no other individual can."

"Actually, the critics of the president are not given equal time to respond to the administration policies. The central point is that the critics must be given more time to criticize the president," Muskie declared.

Sen. Hart joined the Agnew lashing, in a bit more humorous vein.

"I ask you, wouldn't Ed Muskie have made a much better vice president than Agnew?" he said to the thundering applause of the partisan audience.

URGED DEBATE

"But I don't think that Ed Muskie could match the new style of vice presidential irony, because Sen. Muskie gained his fame by inviting dissenters to engage in free and open debate," Hart said.

Apollo 12's Journey Home Speeded by Earth Gravity

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 12 moon explorers streaked homeward today as earth's gravity pulled their Yankee Clipper spacecraft faster and faster toward Monday's splashdown.

Charles (Pete) Conrad Jr., Richard F. Gordon Jr. and Alan L. Bean, weary from their successful lunar excursions, were allowed to sleep as long as they liked.

They went to sleep shortly after firing a powerful rocket burst behind the moon yesterday to break the lunar gravitational embrace and plunge earthward.

While they slept, the Yankee Clipper came under the dominance of earth's gravity. The spacecraft picked up speed and was to be 200,000 miles from earth by midmorning today, moving at more than 2,000 miles an hour.

TO GAIN SPEED

Apollo 12 will continue to gain speed until Monday afternoon when it sears into the earth's atmosphere at 36,000 miles an hour and parachutes to a landing in the Pacific Ocean near American Samoa.

The astronauts spent their last day in lunar orbit photographically surveying three craters which future Apollo crews may use as landing sites.

One of the craters, Fra Mauro, is a few hundred miles from the Ocean of Storms, where Apollo 12 landed, and is expected to be the destination of Apollo 13 next March.

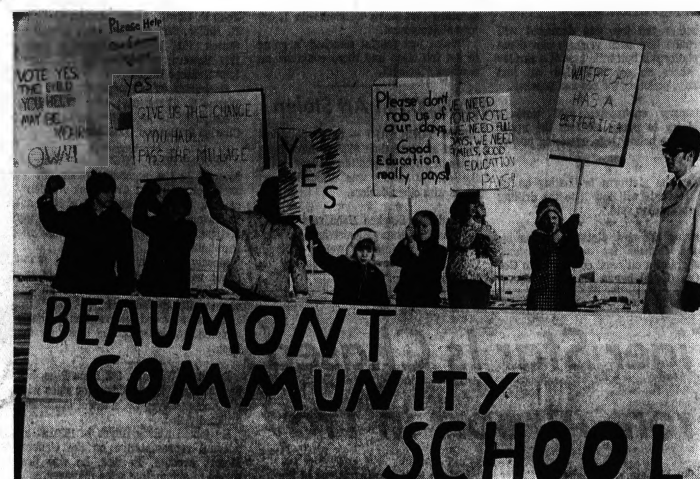

Also photographed were Descartes and Lalande, both of particular interest to scientists because they may be composed of some of the oldest material on the moon.

On their 45th orbit of the moon, the astronauts fired their powerful rocket engine. The rocket firing occurred behind the moon and as the spacecraft reappeared it was fleeing homeward at more than 5,000 miles an hour.

SLOWED BY MOON PULL

Gravitational pull of the moon slowed it until about 10 p.m., EST, when the earth's gravity took hold and Apollo 12 started downhill toward home.

The astronauts are returning with what they went to the moon to get—a spacecraft packed with precious moon rocks, film magazines full of lunar navigation photography, and proof that the Apollo lunar lander can be touched down on the moon almost precisely where it's aimed from earth.

SUPPORT FOR MILLAGE—Children from Beaumont Community School in the Waterford School District display signs they made in support of Tuesday's millage election at a parade yesterday in Waterford Township. All the schools in the district were invited to participate in the parade, later followed by a rally supporting the millage issue that would insure full-day classes in the district. (Story, page A-2)

Waterford Millage Hike: How Much Will It Cost?

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last of three stories examining the Waterford Township School District financial troubles and the proposed tax increase election Tuesday.)

By DICK ROBINSON

It will cost the average Waterford Township homeowner $90 to restore full-day school classes for 1½ years, starting in January, school officials say.

This would be the cost of the proposed one-year, 9-mill ($9 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) property tax increase on a home with a market value of $20,000.

Voters are being asked to pass the tax increase Tuesday, a few weeks before they receive their 1969 township tax bills. This year's tax bill will be up nearly 25 per cent over last year. The rise, say township officials, is due to increasing land values.

The school tax hike, if approved, would go on the 1970 tax bill, school officials explain.

COST SAMPLING

Here's a sampling of the cost of the tax hike:

• A $15,000 home would be $67.50 on the 1970 tax bill. Total township, county and school taxes will be $345 this year compared to $239 last year.

• A $20,000 home would be $90 on the 1970 bill. Total township, county and school taxes will be $490 this year compared to $345 last year.

• A $25,000 home would be $112.50 on the 1970 bill. Total township, county and school taxes will be $575 this year compared to $441 a year ago.

MAY CHANGE

Market value may change from year to year because property usually becomes more valuable, tax authorities note.

The school tax increase can be figured by multiplying a property owner's property state equalized valuation (SEV) by .009.

The SEV is half the market value of Waterford Township's assessed valuation multiplied by the township's equalization factor of 2.63.

Waterford Township property owners will be paying a total township, county and school tax of 46 mills this year, according to Township Treasurer Mrs. L. Catherine Wolters. That's $121.14 per $1,000 of township assessed valuation compared to $96.97 last year.

LACKS INDUSTRY

Waterford schools are expected to receive $5.19 million from local taxes (Continued on Page A-2, Col. 3)

Weekend Perfect for Hikes, Jogging

Skies will be partly sunny and the air crisp over the weekend — just right for jogging or a hike in the country.

According to the U.S. Weather Bureau official forecast the day-by-day weather picture looks like this:

TODAY — Partly sunny and warmer, high 41 to 44. Considerable cloudiness tonight, the low 26 to 32.

Winds southwest at 15 to 22 miles per hour will become west to northwest at 10 to 16 miles late tonight.

TOMORROW — Partly cloudy and a little cooler, high 33 to 38.

MONDAY — Generally fair, little temperature change.

Probabilities of precipitation are five per cent today, 20 per cent tonight and tomorrow.

A sunny 24 was the low recording before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. By 12:30 p.m. the mercury had reached 39.

24 Investigated in 'Viet Massacre'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says 24 U.S. soldiers and former servicemen, in addition to an officer and staff sergeant already charged, are being investigated in the alleged murder of approximately 100 Vietnamese civilians in 1968.

But the South Vietnamese Defense Ministry in Saigon said today there was no massacre, that U.S. artillery and air strikers had killed "about 20 civilians" in a battle which claimed 125 Vietcong.

Referring to some accounts being carried in the U.S. and foreign press, the South Vietnamese agency said: "Reports from newspapers and foreign news agencies recently that said 127 civilians were killed were completely inaccurate."

Pentagon spokesmen here had no comment on the Saigon announcement and indications were it caught them by surprise.

Only hours earlier the Army had issued a statement to members of Congress where there is a growing demand for an investigation of the raid.

In reference to the March 1968 raid near a hamlet known as My Lai, the Army said: "During the operation a small group of American soldiers reportedly shot many (possibly 100) Vietnamese civilians."

Three Americans who claim they witnessed the massacre have been identified as: Ronald Hasbrie, 28, a former Army photographer, now a resident of Cleveland; Ronald Lee Ridenhour, now a student at Claremont (Calif.) Men's College; and Sgt. Michael Bernhardt, 23, who is now stationed at Ft. Dix, N.J.

The Army said that Lt. William L. Calley, 28, now stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga., was charged in the incident and a decision would be made early next week whether he will face court-martial. Calley was leader of a unit involved in the operation.

SERGEANT CHARGED

A staff sergeant, David Mitchell, 20, of St. Francisville, La., has been charged with assault to commit murder.

Robert E. Jordan III, the Army's general counsel, said that another nine men still in the service and 15 others who have been discharged since the raid are under investigation.

He said the former soldiers could face court-martial under the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

One Slain, 1 Wounded in Jailbreak

GALVESTON, Tex. (UPI) — Three "extremely dangerous" fugitives, all of them convicted or accused murderers, killed a youth who made a jailbreak with them and shot and left for dead a deputy sheriff they were holding hostage early today.

The deputy sheriff, Bob Williamson, walked two miles to a telephone, despite bullet wounds in the head and the chest, to help lighten the search.

Williamson and Joseph Joseph William

McMahon, 18, who was charged with burglary, were shot and left in a ditch. McMahon was killed and Williamson was left for dead.

The deputy sheriff told officers who took him to a hospital at Richmond, Tex., that the fugitives vowed not to be taken alive and said they wanted "to shoot a policeman."

SENTENCED TO DEATH

The three fugitives still at large are Carl Bruce Harris, 20, sentenced to die in the electric chair for killing his mother and his aunt last year; William "Butch" Alenworth, 25, charged with killing a man with a baseball bat, and Ronald Roper, charged with murder.

Along with a fifth man, George L. Howard, 28, they escaped from the Galveston County Jail before dawn yesterday. Howard was captured soon after.

The fugitives, as far as could be determined, still held as hostages Jac-

The men used a penknife and a pistol to break jail.

Alenworth tricked Sgt. Ernest Tutor by feigning illness in his cell. The other inmates overpowered the jailer. The prisoners then locked the jailer, another officer and a dispatcher in a cell and escaped.

Oil Firm Fishes for Platform as Protesters Hold 'Fish-In'

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Sun Oil Co. fished for a 15,000-ton drilling platform today a half-mile from where conservationists were holding a fish-in to protest its installation off their once oil-smeared shores.

The company sent a team of divers down overnight to see if the top of the 230-by-150-foot steel skeleton was damaged when it sank topsy-turvy in the Pacific yesterday afternoon.

Company spokesman said improper balance caused it to flip when workmen slid it off a barge. Its eight legs were poking from the ocean's surface six miles offshore.

"It's top might have been dented if it hit the bottom," a Sun spokesman said. "Or it might have been hung up on the bottom. It's in 195 feet of water."

NEAR POLLUTION SITE

Whether the top was damaged will determine how soon workers can place the platform a half-mile off of a similar rig where an oil well blew out last January, polluting the sea and beaches.

Company spokesmen said workers would try to pump air into the upper part of the hollow legs, restoring proper balance.

When the platform is floating on its side, tugboats will tow it to the drilling site, spokesmen said.

Fearing the new platform means increased chances for another blowout, members of a citizens' committee to Get Oil Out (GOO) began the fish-in Thursday. "We'll hold out," said GOO chairman Al Weingand.

Eight to 10 boats have taken turns anchored around the clock on the proposed drilling site in an effort to impede the company when it tows the platform into position. The boatmen held fishing poles over the side with lures on the lines. Only one reported catching anything.

The Sun spokesman said his company was "hopeful they (the protesters) will be mature and reasonable and understand that we're working with 15,000 tons of equipment."

"We're just fearful somebody's going to get too close and there could be an accident," he said.

$500,000 in Art Stolen

NEW YORK (AP) — Seven paintings valued at more than $500,000 have been stolen from a Manhattan gallery while the gallery owner was discussing art thefts with other dealers.

Art dealer Stephen Hahn said yesterday that the impressionist and post-impressionist paintings were taken Wednesday night from his gallery on Madison Avenue.

Birmingham

Masons Give 32nd Degree to 9 in Area

BIRMINGHAM — Nine Blue Lodge Masons from the Birmingham area were recently presented the 32nd degree in Scottish Rite masonry.

The local Masons were part of a class of 565 from Michigan's 11 southeastern Michigan counties to receive the honor.

Among those receiving the 32nd degree in Scottish Rite from Birmingham were John F. Howitt, 31988 Carleider; William H. Hollar, 6721 E. Dartmouth; Lowell L. Sutton, 1031 Madison; Davis S. Salah, 1711 Bowers; and Bruce H. Osterberg, 7227 Heather Heath.

Recipients from Bloomfield Hills were Wayne T. Diehl, 2254 Lost Tree Way; Rudolph F. Ranke, 5139 Wing Lake; and Charles S. Palaian, 1232 Maymar.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Hal M. Mosely Jr., a second-year student in architecture at the Cranbrook Academy of Art, has been awarded a National Endowment for the Arts grant by the National Foundation on the Arts and the Humanities.

Mosely will receive $3,000. Part of the grant will be used for tuition and the remainder to finance work on an environmental design book.

He was awarded the grant on the basis of talent and his proposed thesis for the book.

David P. Williams, 362 Lone Pine, has been named vice president for sales with the Kelsey Hayes Co.'s wheel drum and brake division.

He joined Kelsey Hayes in 1959 as an account representative on the General Motors account. In 1968, he was promoted to automotive sales manager.

Williams holds bachelors and masters degrees from Michigan State University.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Joseph F. Kerigan, 1565 N. Cranbrook, has been presented the "Distinguished Business Alumni" award of Michigan State University.

He is an executive at Chrysler Corp. and has been active in civic affairs.

Kerigan was graduated from Michigan State University's advanced management program in 1966.

John Konkall, 2762 Brady Drive has been elected vice president for engineering by the board of directors of Snyder Corp., Detroit-based designer and builder of special machine tools and automated equipment.

Konkall joined Snyder Corp. in December 1967 as director of engineering.

He is a graduate of Henry Ford Trade School.

'Parish Schools in Fund Crisis'

DETROIT (AP) — Catholic schools in at least 132 of the 350 parishes in the Archdiocese of Detroit are financially endangered, John Cardinal Dearden reported today.

Eight schools are listed in the Pontiac area including the year-old Pontiac Catholic High School.

Cardinal Dearden ordered "an immediate study in depth to establish priorities for possible curtailments, consolidations and closings." Affected would be about 65,000 pupils.

Schools on the endangered list either collected less than they spent last year or showed an income too small to meet anticipated increases in the cost of operations.

The study is to end Dec. 15, with recommendations to be submitted to the archdiocesan office by Jan. 31. Any changes would be for the next year.

The problem at Pontiac Catholic High is related to problems at surrounding elementary schools, diocesan sources said. Area elementary schools on the troubled list are St. Michael in Pontiac and St. Benedict and Our Lady of Lakes in Waterford Township.

Other troubled area schools are: Pontiac Township; Sacred Heart Elementary; Birmingham, Holy Name Elementary; Union Lake area, St. Patrick Elementary; Ulina, St. Lawrence Elementary.

HELPING HAND—Steven Dorris (right), 81, thanks Steve Kuehl, 13, for helping him to safety after he fell out of his boat while fishing on Sylvan Lake Nov. 9. Steve, a Pontiac Press carrier, was presented the paper's newspaperboy valor award for distinguished service yesterday.

Press Newsboy Honored in Rescue of Friend, 81

"I was mighty glad to see Steve. If he weren't there, I might have drowned," Steven Dorris, 81, said of the Pontiac Press carrier who pulled him out of Sylvan Lake on a recent cold Sunday morning.

Steve Kuehl, 13, of 301 S. Tilden yesterday was presented with The Pontiac Press' newspaperboy valor award for distinguished service in the rescue.

Steve delivers the paper to Dorris who lives along in the Tel-Clinton Trailer Court, 651 Telegraph.

Both own boats, and this common interest became a major source of conversation between the two friends.

Around 7 a.m. on Nov. 9 Steve was out fishing when he saw Dorris accidentally fall out of his boat. Within a few seconds Steve was pulling him out of the water. He followed Dorris to shore and helped him into dry clothes.

Dorris explained that he left the motor in gear while attempting to start it, the boat jerked forward and he was thrown into the water before the motor stalled.

He added that he goes fishing almost every day, leaving before dawn, "but I have only been out once in the last three weeks."

Millage Hike to Average $90

and $5.93 million from state aid this school year.

The school district has hardly any industry. The total tax base is therefore relatively low. Because of the low SEV, 1 mill raises only $11.44 per pupil, lowest of the seven largest school systems in Oakland County, figures indicate.

The 42-square mile school district, which includes Waterford Township and portions of Independence, White Lake and West Bloomfield townships, has a total SEV of $211.7 million.

Waterford property owners now pay a school operating levy of 21.63 mills. It produces $282 per pupil, lowest of the largest district.

LOWEST MILLAGE

Waterford, Pontiac (24,470 students) and Southfield (18,351 students) levy the lowest operating millages of the seven largest districts in the country. Birmingham, with 17,528 students, levies the highest of 30.38 mills.

State aid for Waterford is figured by this formula:

Students (18,562) times state allocated dollars ($549.50) minus SEV ($211,703,034) times a state-set millage (20 mills) equals $5,332,788.

That amounts to $321 per pupil, largest of the seven districts.

The other six largest districts in the county have more wealth per child than Waterford and thus are given less state aid per pupil than Waterford.

But of the seven largest districts having more than 10,000 students, Waterford ranks last in amount of income available — $602 — to spend per student. Tops is Birmingham with $902.

'WE'LL STILL BE LAST'

"If the millage passes, we'll still be last," comments Pagen.

An additional 9 mills would make available $671 to spend per child in Waterford, still short of the next lowest, Royal Oak's $696.

"We've always had less money to spend per child than the surrounding districts," Pagen said. "The millage will put kids back on full days but it won't give equality."

Pagen concluded: "We have an extremely serious financial situation. It is a matter of economics, price rises and lack of a comparable rise of income."

"This election is critical to the future of the school district because it would give the potential for a stable program, keep the high school accreditation, put youngsters on full days and enable us to plan better for next year."

Canada Will Extradite Romeo Killing Suspect

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — Vernon H. Jones, a former Walpole Island man charged with the slaying of a Romeo policeman Sept. 21, will be extradited to the United States, Lambton County Court decided yesterday.

Jones, an Air Force veteran, was committed to the provincial jail here for the 15-day waiting period required under the extradition act.

Jones was sought by police in the United States and Canada for three weeks in connection with the killing of Patrolman Omar Regazzari. He was arrested Oct. 15 in a London, Ont., hotel room.

Tiger Star Is Chased From Airport in Troy

Denny McLain, ace high-flying Tiger pitcher, has been chased out of Berz Airport in Troy and if he comes back he could be "banned" in the Oakland County jail.

Milton H. Berz Jr., operator of the airport, said this morning, "If I never see him again, it's all right with me."

Berz obtained a Circuit Court order yesterday restraining McLain from using the airport. Also pending is a civil suit for $600 McLain allegedly owes Berz for gas and storage.

A mild fracas occurred yesterday afternoon at the airport on East Maple and Crooks when McLain was served the court order.

McLain took a swing at one of the instructors, Berz said. But he was served the papers before he took off in a plane for an unknown destination, Berz said.

"If he tries to land here again; he would be in contempt of court and I'll have him arrested," Berz said. "We don't need to do business with that kind of people," he added.

McLain's attorney, Edward P. May, yesterday said, "If Berz doesn't want us at his airport, that's fine. I think Denny got the point." May also said his client was willing to pay any debt he may owe.

Right-hander McLain won 31 games for the Tigers in 1968 and 24 last season.

The two national Democratic spokesmen then called for disengagement in Vietnam, a redirection of national priorities and responsiveness in the Democratic Party to an impatient, young generation. Only one of the 40 persons at the head table was under 30.

"The passions and the doubts the war has raised are too strong and basic to be ignored by the president," Muskie said.

"Few Americans insist on peace at any price, but fewer still are now prepared to write blank checks to the commander-in-chief without questioning the price of the war they are buying."

SILENT MAJORITY

On the question of Nixon's "silent majority" support, Muskie declared: "There will always be a silent majority of Americans as long as the majority with full stomachs says nothing about the silent minority which is hungry; as long as the majority of American mothers whose babies get adequate care say nothing about the silent minority whose babies die; as long as the majority of Americans who will never have to fight in an intolerable war say nothing about the minority who may have to die."

Hart spoke of the time when both he and Muskie assumed their positions in the Senate—the "Class of 1958."

"Back in '58, we decided we would go to the moon. Well we did, on schedule and before the Russians. Let's establish another 10-year goal and mark off the progress—when more houses are built and fewer babies die," Hart said.

'RESTRUCTURE NEEDED'

"With our genius for technology and our resources, we should be able to restructure our barely living people to a group whose material needs are fulfilled," Hart said.

"The great danger is that we won't, but the greater challenge is that we can," Hart declared.

Making a big hit with the crowd was Hart's wife, Janie, who was arrested by Washington, D.C., police for conducting a prayer service in the Pentagon lobby as part of the Nov. 15 moratorium demonstrations.

Head table dignitaries included Detroit Mayor-elect Roman S. Gribbs, Gribbs' unsuccessful challenger Richard Austin, former Gov. and Mrs. G. Mennen Williams, the widow of the late Sen. Patrick McNamara, Michigan State University Acting President Walter Adams and Stan Kenton.

Continue Giving Friendship Is Advice Given by Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: My problem is a young neighbor I'll call Mary. She's a very polite and quiet thing, but not too bright. Mary says I remind her of the mother she "never knew" because she was orphaned as a small child. She is expecting a baby, and I feel sorry for her, so I make her welcome and try to be good company for her, but I keep wishing she would go home so I could get my work done.

There are other neighbors all around us, most of whom are nearer to Mary's age, but Mary comes only to me. Is there some nice way I can tell her not to come so often and stay so long?

BUSY HOUSEWIFE
DEAR BUSY: Probably not. Be glad that you are the one who is able to bring comfort to one who so desperately needs it. There are worse things in life than being kept from one's work, you know. Namely, finding yourself neither wanted, needed, or contributing to the happiness of another. Continue to extend your kindness, and make Mary welcome. When her baby comes, she won't have so much free time.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for a little more than a year and a problem came up which has me completely baffled.

Last night my husband told me that I had to make a choice between HIM and my girl friend, Abby. Jenny has been my best friend all through school. She stood up for me at my wedding, and I stood up for her at hers. We are as close as sisters, and I can't see ending our friendship just because my husband doesn't like her.

He refuses to give me any reasons why he doesn't like her. He just says it's a choice between HIM or Jenny!

Knowing that my husband didn't especially care for Jenny, I've never asked him to socialize with Jenny and her husband in the evenings. I see Jenny only during the day time when my husband is at work.

So what is your advice? Don't tell me to try to talk to him. I have, and he walks out of the room.

DEAR BAFFLED: I don't know how old your husband is, but he has a lot of growing up to do. Tell him that unless he gives you a better reason for insisting that you end your friendship with Jenny, you intend to continue the friendship. And if he would terminate your marriage on such flimsy grounds, either he is looking for an excuse to do so, or something is wrong with him.

DEAR ABBY: Re "BROKE, HEARTBROKEN, AND ALONE," whose military husband has dumped her:

First, she has free access to the legal office of ANY military installation. Although these attorneys cannot represent clients in civil court, they can certainly give her sound guidance and counsel.

Also, ANY chaplain on ANY base will help her. The old joke, "Tell it to the chaplain" is more than a joke. It's true.

Something new has been added in the coloring book field. Written to interest children in symphony concerts, the text is clever and will catch the attention of youngsters eight and older. There's even a page on rock 'n' roll. Martha Sisk, 8, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Sisk of Montclair Street, and Bruce Lagerquist, 8, son of the Walter Lagerquists of Lakewood Drive, are the first children in Pontiac to see the books. The Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony is selling them at Tuesday's concert. Proceeds from the venture go to the Symphony. The books may also be obtained from the Pontiac Symphony office in the Riker Building.

Volunteer Work Takes Over

Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press

The world needs volunteers of all kinds. Fortunately, the kind of volunteer work that dismisses one person is a source of delight to another.

During World War II, the Gray Ladies program was popular; scores of women participated.

One who tried and found it not her cup of tea was Ruth Flanders. She found she was taking on all the aches and pains of those with whom she was associated in the hospital.

It was while she and her lawyer husband, Phillip, were entertaining his boss at their summer cottage that her volunteer work was settled once and for all. The field was music; the year, 1939.

Now, 30 years later, Mrs. Flanders is completing her second two-year term as president of the Southeast District of the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs. Among the 70 clubs under her jurisdiction are Birmingham Musicale, Pontiac Tuesday Musicale, Farmington Musicale, Rochester Musicale, and Oxford Musicale.

Phillip and Ruth Flanders have had no children, but Mrs. Flanders says, "I guess you could say that my volunteer projects and services over the past 30 years have been my children. I like to think that what I've done has given Detroit area children more cultural opportunities."

A native of Breckenridge ("my husband calls me the duchess of Breckenridge"), Ruth Flanders graduated from Highland Park High School and went off to finishing school in the East. She also studied voice at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston.

But her practical mother insisted she not only train her lyric soprano voice, but also her fingers so that she could make a living. She came back to Detroit in the depression and landed a job as a secretary.

She met Phillip Flanders through her job; they were married in 1934 and she continued to work for seven more years.

In 1939, during the above mentioned summer vacation, the boss insisted the young couple join the Fine Art Society of Detroit where Ruth could use her voice in musicals and plays.

This she did. Later on, she was to have a short career in radio with her own program originating from Dearborn Inn on station WEXL.

In addition to the artistic roles she played in the Fine Arts Society, Ruth began to assume more prosaic jobs. Perhaps this blend of artistry and business is unusual, but it has been the driving force for Ruth Flanders ever since.

CLUB MEMBERS

She and her husband are still active members of the Fine Arts Society. She joined the Tuesday Musicale of Detroit and initiated many new projects to obtain and interest members. She sang for eight years in its choral ensemble. When the Detroit Women's Symphony Orchestra was founded, she was on the board of directors. She is now a life member of the auxiliary of that organization, the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony, of the Michigan and National Federation of Music Clubs and of the Women's Division of Project Hope.

Her other interests include membership in and work for the Women's City Club of Detroit and the Village Woman's Club. She is immediate past president of the West Oakland Hills Lawyers Wives. She is on the scholarship committee of Oakland University.

The list goes on and on.

Hours outside her volunteer work and her husband's career have been devoted mainly to sports. Her husband taught her to like football and they attended most of the University of Michigan games; now they see them on TV. They are also fans of the Lions and the Red Wings.

A Kerry Blue Terrier and a toy poodle share their home in Bloomfield Hills.

The years of retirement have now come to Ruth and Phillip Flanders, but not the years of inactivity. Although they are divesting themselves of jobs that demand large chunks of their time weekly, they have plans to keep busy. Travel is in the books for next year.

EXPLORE FOLK MUSIC

And Ruth has a new project. She has been appointed by the National Federation of Music Clubs to explore the folk music of Michigan. This is a field she has not delved into before and she is excited. It's still music; it's a project that may be useful to young people. She has never lost her belief that music is a valuable outlet and reliever of tension for everyone.

OU Orchestra Will Perform

The Oakland University Orchestra will make its first appearance of the season in a pre-Thanksgiving concert on the University campus. The Monday evening concert is scheduled for 8 p.m. in Dodge Hall auditorium.

Amision to the concert is without charge. The program will include works by Haydn, Schubert, and Richard Strauss, as well as some very untraditional concert-hall fare by Eric Satie, Charles Ives and John Cage.

New conductor of the orchestra this year is David Daniels, who has come to the Oakland University faculty from Knox College in Galesburg, Ill. where he was conductor of the Knox-Galesburg Symphony. He holds a degree from Oberlin College, Boston University, and the University of Iowa.

PREMIERE

The most unusual piece on the program is John Cage's "Atlas Eclipticalis," which is believed to be a Detroit-area premiere. This 1961 work utilizes elements of chance, or "indeterminacy," a procedure that Cage has been experimenting with for many years, and which other modern composers have more recently adopted.

The Cage work is intended to be played by any combination of instruments and can be made as long or short as the performers desire. Each individual player is given certain notes to play and is directed to start playing them at a particular point in time.

However, the performer himself may decide in what order to play these notes, and how long to hold each note. He may, in fact, decide to omit some of the notes — or even all of them!

The conductor, in the meantime, channels the flow of time by making clock-like gestures with his arms.

Cage's intention in this and other works is that one should accept joyfully and without prejudice all the sounds and silences that one encounters in the concert hall or outside of it. To such a listener, all of life would become an endless concert.

Cage is highly influenced by the philosophy of Zen Buddhism.

Michigan Outdoor Art, Carved Wood Decoys to be Shown in Village

Wildwood Studio and Gallery at Keatington's Antique Village is featuring handcarved wood decoys in an exhibit, Nov. 29 through Dec. 7.

Among the varieties available are miniature decoys, early Indian and folk art primitives. They can be used as decorative pieces or field decoys.

Phyl Ellison, founder and vice-president of the Michigan Decoy Association is the owner and exhibitor.

Original paintings and prints by Michigan outdoor artists, Dick Timm, will also be on display.

Hours are 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. except Mondays.

Wife of U.S. Attorney General Notes His View of Peace Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — The wife of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says that her husband thought last Saturday's demonstrations outside the Justice Department "looked like a Russian Revolution."

Mrs. Mitchell said in a CBS television interview filmed in the Mitchell's Washington apartment that she had not witnessed the demonstrations herself.

"I will tell you that my husband made the comment to me that looking out of the Justice Department, it looked like a Russian Revolution going on," she said in the interview broadcast Friday.

"I don't think the average Americans realize how desperate it is when a group of demonstrators, not peaceful demonstrators, but the very liberal Communists move into Washington," Mrs. Mitchell said.

"As my husband has said many times of some of the liberals in this country, he'd like to take them and change them for the Russian Communists," she said.

MORATORIUM

The demonstrations held in Washington Nov. 13-15 climaxed the second nationwide Vietnam moratorium. An estimated 250,000 persons took part in the final march on Saturday and they were mostly peaceful.

A splinter group of militants demanding an end to the Chicago trial of seven persons charged with conspiracy to incite a riot during the 1968 Democratic National Convention later clashed with police at the Justice Department.

Mrs. Romney Starts Confab

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Mrs. George Romney, wife of the secretary of housing and urban development, invited some 150 students from eight states to "give of yourself and your talents in helping others" as the Southwest Regional Conference of the National Student Volunteer Program began at the University of Tulsa Friday.

"I believe you when you say that everything isn't right out there and things are not what they should be," she told the young people.

"We need your lives, your hearts, your spirit. We have tried other ways. Great outlays are not enough."

The Student Volunteer Program was started by President Nixon and assigned to HUD. Its purpose is to mobilize volunteer students in solving social problems.

"Fifty per cent of the major crimes in this country are committed by youths 16 years or younger," Mrs. Romney said, "and moral suffering is at a new high."

"We must be concerned with the motivation of the child down the street because he can knife me or you because we didn't care enough about him."

The conference at TU, the first in a series to be held throughout the country, will continue through today.

Consult First With Parents of the Bride

Of The Emily Post Institute

Dear Mrs. Post: Our son and his future bride are planning a spring wedding. Is it proper for the groom's mother to buy linens or silver for them between now and the wedding? My family said it is the bride's family who should do that and that I may hurt some feelings? — Mrs. J.

Dear Mrs. J.: You may certainly buy linens and other household furnishings for the young couple, but you should consult the bride's family first. They may be planning on giving her, for example, her flat silver, and it is their prerogative to choose what their gift will be. As far as other things go, discuss it with the bride.

ARMCHAIRS

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a new dining room set. I placed one master chair at the head of the table, another at the opposite end, and two occasional chairs on each side. The delivery man said when the table is not in use, the proper arrangement is to put the master chairs against the wall and place the other chairs around the table. Is he correct? — Marian

Dear Marian: Your delivery man is wrong and someone should tell him so, if he is going to continue delivering dining room sets. The two armchairs remain at the ends of the table, and one chair is removed from either side and placed against the wall when the table is not in use.

The only exception would be to use the armchairs as "occasional" chairs in another room.

LODGING

Dear Mrs. Post: We are invited to an out-of-town wedding. What are the duties of the host and hostess concerning lodging. What are our obligations? — Eloise

Dear Eloise: It is up to the hostess to arrange that you stay with relatives or friends, or to make a motel or hotel reservation for you. If you cannot be accommodated in someone's home, it is your obligation to pay for your own lodging.

Dear Mrs. Post: How may I answer a person who asks the price of an article I own, when I do not wish to disclose the cost? — Connie

Dear Connie: If you wish to play up the value of the article say, "More than I probably should have paid for it." If you wish to play it down say, "Not as much as you may think."

Pennsylvania Women Back 'Speak Out' Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Republican Women of Pennsylvania adopted a "speak out Americans' program assigned in part to support Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's speak-out policy.

The women said Friday they "think Vice President Agnew is wonderful."

The group said it also wishes to promote "interest and understanding in President Nixon's efforts at home and abroad."

Pontiac Open Keg Sites Await Qualifying Squads

It's time to start claiming positions in the 13th annual Pontiac Open Bowling Championship as nine sites in the area prepare for their first qualifying squads Sunday.

Bowlers need only to reserve squad times with the establishments or go to the houses to be included on the respective squads whose times are listed.

Nearly 300 bowlers are expected to share in the Pontiac Open purse which starts with a guaranteed $1,000 first prize.

Only necessity in the qualifying rounds is to shoot a target score of 600 or better. This includes the bowler's handicap which is based on 70 percent scratch of 200 for three games.

There's also the "early bird" prize of a portable TV set for any bowler who qualifies tomorrow and is the top bowler among the leading first 10 in the finals.

These are Sunday's qualifying times:

FIREBIRD LANES (Huron Bowl) Squads at 9:30, 12:15, 1:30, 3:00, 4:30 and 8:30 p.m.
AIRWAY LANES Squads at 1:00, 2:30 and 4:00.
300 BOWL Squads at 11:00 a.m., 1:30 and 3:00 p.m.
COOLEY LANES Squads at 1:30 and 4:00 p.m.
COLLIER LANES Squads at 2:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.
BILLY G. LANES (Maple Lanes) Squads at noon, 1:30, 3:00, 6:00, 7:30.
HOWE'S LANES Squads at noon, 2:00 and 4:00 p.m.
NORTH HILL LANES Squads at noon and 9:15 p.m.
WEST SIDE LANES Squad at 3:00 p.m.

Revenge Is Constant Mood for Lions

Series With Packers Has History of Rough Game

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, The Pontiac Press

GREEN BAY, Wis.—Revenge is always a good motive for being "up" for a football game, but the Detroit Lions always seem to be in a revengeful mood against the Green Bay Packers.

Through the years the series between the Lions and Packers has been one of the hardest played in football and fans often recall the Lions' victories as upsets and "getting even."

One of the most famous games in Green Bay was in 1962 when the Lions lost a 9-7 game in the last seconds just after Herb Adderley intercepted a Milt Plum pass to set up the winning field goal.

Then came the revenge game

Thanksgiving Day of that year when the Lions routed Bart Starr 11 times for losses, the most Starr has ever been, in winning 26-14.

A few weeks back, the Lions had victory within grasp. Trailing 21-17 with seven minutes to play, the Lions attempted to block a punt and the roughing the kicker penalty gave the ball back to the Packers, who subsequently scored the icing touchdown.

"We'll get them the next time," said all-pro defensive tackle Alex Karras.

This is the next time and the Packers, as they have been in every game between the two teams since 1961, are listed as favorites.

The Lions under Joe Schmidt have been somewhat successful against Green Bay.

In their five meetings since Schmidt took over the head coaching job, the Lions have a 1-2-2 record against the Packers.

The two ties came in the season opener of 1967 and in a return game last year. In the game in Green Bay the Lions won 23-17.

This contest is more important for the Lions than for the Packers.

NEED VICTORY

The Lions have a 6-3 record, and are two games behind the Minnesota Vikings in the Central Division.

Green Bay is 5-4 and virtually out of contention so should the Packers pin another loss on the Lions it could give the Vikings clear sailing to the division title.

It was in the first Green Bay game this season that Bill Munson suffered a broken hand when he hit Willie Robinson's helmet on an attempted pass.

Since then Greg Landry has carried the Lions to a 4-1 record and he is expected to start Sunday despite the fact that Munson is returning to action for the first time since his injury.

The Packers also have quarterback problems with Bart Starr nursing a sore arm. Green Bay lost 8-7 last week to the Vikings on three field goals by Fred Cox, and even though Doug Horn is expected to start for the Packers and Landry for the Lions, both veteran quarterbacks, Starr and Munson are ready for duty if necessary.

The kickoff is at 2:00 p.m. Michigan time and another sellout is expected in frigid Green Bay Stadium.

The Lions, with the league's No. 2 defense, ride a three-game winning streak into Lambeau Field, climaxed by last week's 20-0 shutout of St. Louis. But they must play Minnesota, Baltimore and Los Angeles yet this season.

If anything, that puts the odds against the Lions. The Packers have lost two straight, and haven't lost three in a row since the first half of the 1959 season—the season when Vince Lombardi laid the foundation for his cathedral in Green Bay.

Landry will be passing into one of the most larcenous defenses in the league.

15 INTERCEPTIONS

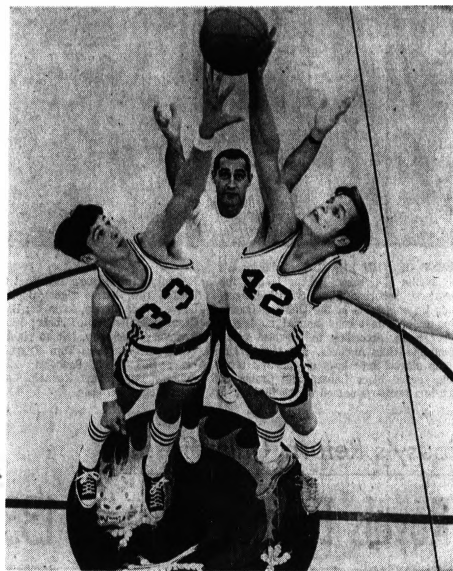

The Packers secondary has snared 15 passes intended for other teams this season.

FIRST TO TIP OFF—Basketball tips off the season in the area Tuesday night and among first schools to start their schedule at home are the Dragons of Lake Orion. Coach George Elias tosses the ball for the jump between two of his players, Ed Kubilus (33) and Jim Knapp (42), who will start against Warren Woods. The Dragons finished with a strong 16-3 record last year and 14-2 mark in the Oakland-A conference. There is a scattering of local games next Tuesday.

Tipoff Night Near for County Cagers

* Five local schools will open up their 1969 basketball season Tuesday night, four of the teams beginning league play in the Northwest Parochial League of the Catholic League's second division.

Lake Orion, 16-3 last year, will make its debut by hosting invading Warren Woods, in a non-league tilt for both teams while Waterford Our Lady of Lakes will travel to Detroit St. Rita, Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows hosts Royal Oak St. Mary and Orchard Lake St. Mary invades the St. James gym.

The Dragon cagers will be led by five returning lettermen including senior guard Garryl Roberts who will be seeking his third varsity basketball letter.

Roberts, 5-8 will be playing with another guard of the same height, senior Jerel Hollens. Seniors Ray Rogers, and Joe Kopecek and junior Ed Kubilus will fill the rest of the Dragon starting lineup.

YOUNG SQUAD

Orchard Lake St. Mary, fielding a relatively young squad, will open up its season with just three experienced players.

Seniors Mike Korgulecki and Rick Trzinski and sophomore Walt Sakowski will get the probable nod as starters, while Mike Paciorek, 6-2, Tom Wicker, 6-3, and Greg Strzalkowski, 6-1, will battle it out for the remaining starting positions.

Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes coach Dean Webster has a pleasant choice of choosing from six returning lettermen in the opening game against St. Rita's.

Pat McColgan and Dave Calme bring with them two years varsity experience while Jim Tracey, Mark Sibel, Roger O'Connor and Dave Boyea each return with one year's experience.

Although McColgan and Calme are 5-11 each, their one-two scoring punch should help WOL in its title bid this season.

McColgan averaged 14 points per game last season while Calme averaged 11.5. Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows will have the services of one of the league's better players to work with this season in senior Mike Hart.

Hart, a returning letterman with two years varsity experience, averaged 14 points per game last season and is expected to do just as well this year.

A 6-3 senior, Hart will start at the forward position in Tuesday night's game.

Detroit Tech Wins

on Last-Minute Score

TORONTO (UPI)—The last of Gary Johnson's six points, a bucket with 30 seconds remaining last night, insured a 70-68 nonconference basketball victory for Detroit Tech over host Ryerson Tech.

Detroit Tech, evening its season mark at 1-1, received 19 points from Raymond Lewis while Mike Bundy pulled down 15 rebounds and matched it with an equal number of points. Gord Wilson hit 22 points for the losers, now 3-4.

It Will Be Rosy-Nose Tilt

DETROIT (UPI)—Bill Bridges scored 27 points and ex-Piston Joe Caldwell added 26 Friday night as the Western Division leading Atlanta Hawks won a 118-106 National Basketball Association game from the Detroit Pistons.

After trailing 66-52 in the third quarter, Detroit outscored Atlanta 15-3 to come within two points at 69-67. However the Hawks spun 12-2 and coasted the rest of the game.

BALANCED SCORING

The Hawks got balanced scoring as six players scored in double figures. Guard Lou Hudson hit 19 while center Jim Davis bagged 18. Detroit was led by Howard Komives' 20 points. The Hawks have now won two straight while the Pistons have now dropped a pair back to -back.

Coach Richie Guerin of the Atlanta Hawks said Friday his team would "do something" regarding Commissioner Walter Kennedy's decision to replay the last second of their controversial Nov. 6 game at Chicago against the Bulls.

Kennedy ruled earlier in the day the game start again with one second to play and Atlanta having the ball out of bounds when the two teams get together again in Chicago, Feb. 8, 1970.

Tom Boerwinkle had tipped in a missed shot by Clem Haskins to tie the score 124-124 in the disputed game but referee Jack Madden said he had heard the horn sound ending the game and nullified the score. The Bulls protested and were upheld.

Middleweight Champ Defending His Crown in Italian Bout Today

ROME (AP)—Nino Benvenuti has never been beaten in any of his 75 bouts in Italy—and the world middleweight champion was taking every precaution to make sure that string wasn't snapped tonight when he defended his title against top-ranked Luis Rodriguez.

The outspoken champion appeared nervous and unusually tight-lipped on the eve of the fight, cloistering himself in a hotel room and refusing to talk with anyone about the match with his Cuban opponent, now based in Miami.

"I've said all I have to say about this fight," said the 31-year-old Benvenuti before going into libation.

The fight will be telecast live via satellite to the United States, where it will be shown on ABC's Wide World of Sports program. The bout is scheduled to begin about 4:30 p.m., EST.

Football in the Air but Skiing as Well

The resorts are Bear Mountain at Grayling, Caberfae near Cadillac and Indianhead near Ironwood, the Automobile Club of Michigan said.

The other Michigan ski resorts are expected to open in the first half of December.

Three Michigan ski resorts open today.

Ann Arbor watching the big game between Michigan and Ohio State.

The weather forecast for today's game says it won't get up much beyond the freezing mark until late morning or early afternoon.

Opposing coaches Woody Hayes of the Buckeyes, favored by 15 points, and Glenn "Bo" Schembechler of the Wolverines won't have to worry about adverse weather in the form of snow or rain. Partly cloudy skies are called for with a high in the low 40s.

The game, which is being broadcast on a one-shot basis into KINY in Juneau, Alaska (the station manager there was worried over whether his feed was exclusive and had to be assured his closest competition was 4,000 miles away), could produce two winners.

BUCKEYES FAVORED

An expected victory by Ohio State would give the Buckeyes their second straight national championship, 23rd consecutive win and 18th in a row in the Big Ten.

At the same time it would send 12th-ranked Michigan to the Rose Bowl since Ohio State can't repeat the trip and Purdue, only other team with a chance to tie the Wolverines, lost to those Buckeyes, 42-14, and to Michigan by a 31-20 count.

Schembechler is expected to attempt what no other foe has been able to do to the Buckeyes this season—run on, over, around or through Hayes' giants.

But no matter, unless Ohio State does into Michigan much worse than the Indians did onto Custer, a rare sight will be viewed by the more than 100,000 persons. Roses could bloom on an artificial turf, as they did in the famous snow storm of 1959 in Columbus.

Hillsdale Tapped for Berth in NAIA Football Playoffs

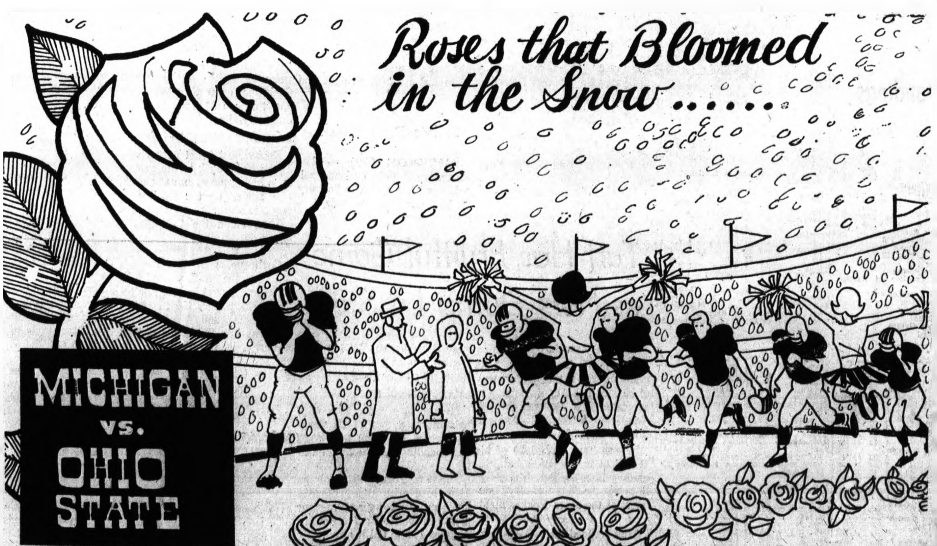

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics has named two more football semifinalists to the NAIA Champion Bowl.

They are Concordia (Minn.) with a 9-0 record this season, and Hillsdale 8-1. New Mexico Highlands was announced Friday. The fourth and final semifinalists team will be announced this weekend.

New Mexico Highlands was ranked first in the final NAIA poll, Hillsdale fourth and Concordia fifth.

Hillsdale last only to Northern Michigan, 27-13. The Chargers have played in the NAIA bowl series twice before. They lost 27-26 to Pittsburg State (Kan.) in the 1957 finals, and were shut out 20-0 by Texas A.&I. in the 1959 semifinals.

Concordia won the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championship. The Cobbers beat Sam Houston State (Tex.) 7-7 in the 1964 Champion Bowl for the NAIA co-championship.

Carters Antiqued Dining Room Furniture Blue

Couple Enjoys 'Antiquing' for Home

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"We're do-it-yourselfers and bargain hunters," said Mrs. Chester Carter as she strolled through her three-bedroom home in Orion Township.

"Neither my husband nor I can pass up poking through an interesting antique shop."

"Take our dining room furniture. It was very inexpensive. We bought the table and chairs and then my mother donated the buffet. We didn't like the finish, so we antiqued the entire set in blue."

Because they enjoyed working with their hands, the Carters reap a double satisfaction, the fun of the actual project and the beauty it brings to their home.

The scarlet plush carpeting of the dining room is carried through the living room as are the scarlet and royal blue draperies.

The ivory damask sofa in the living room was another "find." Richly carved acanthus-leaf detail in walnut highlights the down-cushioned piece.

Emphasizing the blue tones used in the room, the Parisian street scene above the sofa is flanked by antique-gold masks and ceramic shadow-box interpretations of the four seasons.

Avocado and brass lamps on the pecan end tables repeat the acanthus detail of the sofa. Two gold button-back chairs covered in velvet complete the room's seating arrangement.

The kitchen, informal dining area and family room flow into one another making the floor plan an ideal one for a young mother with three daughters, Pamela 9, Gina 8 and Christine 7. Their play can be observed without leaving the work area.

Shades of green tweed carpeting in the recreation area blend happily with the warm wood tones of the paneling. Collectibles include the milk can before the raised hearth, the ceramic butter churn and the antique butter bowl on the table near the black leather chair and ottoman.

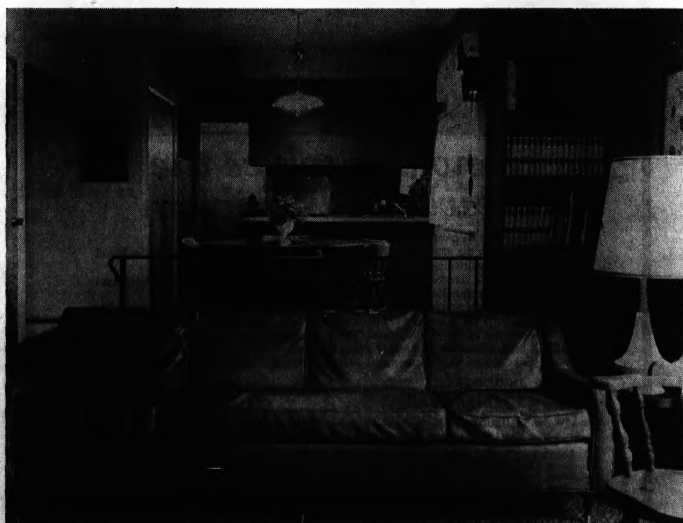

"That's our reading bowl," chuckled Mrs. Carter. "Our daughter suggested using it for papers the girls bring home from school or other things that should be read by the family."

Spren Hints He May Be Leaving Soon

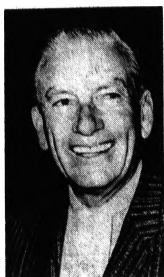

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Police Commissioner Johannes P. Spren has indicated he may not remain in office when Mayor-elect Roman S. Gribbs takes office in January.

"My tenure as a police commissioner is drawing to a close," Spren said yesterday in citing the reason for changing his mind and making a speech at a police promotion and awards ceremony.

Spren was appointed police commissioner by outgoing Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh. It was his first hint that he may not continue in the post when Gribbs becomes mayor.

In the speech, Spren said police get little praise from citizens or public officials, despite the hardships they encounter. He said "shallow politicians" have been criticizing police only to serve their personal or political ends.

Hoagy: No Need for Sad Songs at 70

HOAGY CARMICHAEL

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Hoagy Carmichael, whose gift for melody made him a millionaire, is 70 years old today—but he's still composing and says, "I don't feel any different from 12 or 15 years ago."

No sad songs for Hoagy. He's got too much going for him.

Tanned and dapper in a bright sport coat, Carmichael recalled over a late poolside breakfast Friday that it has been 38 years since he wrote "Stardust."

There's a long list of other songs he composed: "Old Buttermilk Sky," "Skylark," "Lazy Bones," "Lazy River," "Rockin' Chair," "I Get Along Without You Very Well," "Little Old Lady," and "Georgia on My Mind."

WON OSCAR — In 1951, he won an Oscar for "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening," from the movie "Here Comes the Groom."

Hoagy also displayed his nasal, baritone and piano-plunking in such films as "To Have and Have Not" and "Best Years of Our Lives."

Carmichael divides his time among his Hollywood penthouse, overlooking the Sunset Strip; a $145,000 showplace home at Palm Springs, which fronts on the Thunderbird Country Club golf course; and periodic visits to Las Vegas Strip hotels.

He is engaged in real estate ventures in Palm Springs and also has investments here.

He also collects rare coins. "My little white elephant," he calls the collection valued at $25,000.

The composer, divorced 14 years ago, has two grown sons, Hoagy Bix and Randy—the latter a talented piano player.

Carmichael's efforts at the piano currently are in the Hawaiian vein.

On the younger composers, he said: "I resent the repetition in tune and the inadequate lyrics."

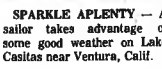

And he does have one regret: "I could have written at least two or three times as many songs if I'd really spent the time at it."

But even with such partners as Johnny Mercer and Frank Loesser, he said, "We'd just sit and wait for an idea to come. It doesn't. You have to work your tail off."

'Laugh-In' Girl Quits Show but Her Pie Stunt Lingers

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Sawicki-in-me" Girl Judy Carne is endeavoring after 53 appearances on the "Laugh-In" show which made her celebrated all over the English-speaking world to get rid of that label and become known simply as "an actress."

Judy, now 30, chose "Cabaret" at the Westbury Music Fair as one way to shake off the label... but it's hard for her to forget that she was an expert on getting belted with pies and with water on the Rowan & Martin show for almost 3 years.

"On Kraft Music Hall the other week," she said, "Tom Seaver of the Mets was getting hit with a pie and it wasn't sticking."

"Four or five times he did it. I suddenly spoke up, and said, 'Speaking as a stunt runner, you're not doing it right. It bounces off. You're trying not to get messed up. You've got to get messed up. I told him what to use. Whipped cream. Seaver, after he'd got messed up, turned to me and smiled and said, 'Thanks a lot.'"

After three years of doing funny, Judy said that "my discipline for learning lines had gone" and she found it difficult to memorize a whole book show "I put everything down on a tape recorder — I played it in the bath and everywhere... I should have swatted it up a bit."

"What's sweated it up a bit?" we asked. "Homework. When they asked me, I just thought, 'Oh, I'll do it, of course, and I'll be adorable.'"

"Laugh-In," she said, "was such a velvet rut. You work so hard to get to the top and get a name — and then you have to work so hard to lose it."

She hoped that she wasn't leaving "Laugh-In" forever. That there would be guest appearances. She and George Schlatter, the producer, are on the best of terms.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP — Tiny Tim's Mgr. told Munny Zwaaf (who's giving the wedding reception at his Ground Floor restaurant) not to be upset if Tim doesn't eat at the party. "He never eats in public"... Iger Stevens'll have his first topless scenes in "A Dream of Kings."

Petula Clark'll get one day off from her Waldorf engagement to attend the "Mr. Chips" premiere in London, then jet right back to N.Y.... Impressionist David Frye's first album will be titled "I Am the President!"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bill Rosen got a fund solicitation letter addressed to "Occupant." So he sent a $5,000 check — and signed it "Occupant."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The typical budget nowadays is a plan to save enough money next month to pay for last month.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "It's a woman's duty to provide for the inner man, and a man's duty to provide for the outer woman."

EARL'S PEARLS: Singer Terri Stevens bought La Vie en Rose restaurant, and Tony Bennett — who has a chain of places — asked, "You mean you own only one restaurant?"

Danny Thomas says movie morals have changed. "When I was a kid, a film was obscene if the horse wasn't wearing a saddle." That's earl, brother.

De Gaulle Turns 79 Today, Remains Secluded at Estate

PARIS (AP) — Charles de Gaulle is 79 today but, as usual, there will be no birthday celebration. The man who twice led France out of chaos remained secluded at his country estate in Colombey-Les-Deux-Eglises.

No visitors are expected in the isolated mansion where the former president lives with his wife Yvonne and their elderly housekeeper.

Even while he was president, his birthdays passed unnoticed and his family and staff carefully avoided reminding him of them. He once said of his old enemy, Marshal Philippe Petain, the head of state of Nazi-occupied France, "Old age is a shipwreck."

There is widespread interest in the memoirs he is writing, but no publication date has been set and there have been no leaks about their contents.

DISAPPEARANCE TO LICKING

The memoirs, following his monumental personal history of World War II, will deal with his return to power in 1958, the decolonization of French Africa and France's odd-man-out role in the Atlantic alliance under his leadership.

His disappearance from public view probably is much to his liking. Friends say he seems to think the voters treated him with ingratitude when they defeated his plan for regional reform. He resigned April 28.

Since then his successor, President Georges Pompidou, has quietly been steering the country back to economic realism and closer cooperation with neighbors and allies, despite the objections of diehard Gaullists like former Defense Minister Pierre Messmer.

Messmer and former Premier Maurice Couve de Murville, both excluded from Pompidou's government, are the only former associates to have visited De Gaulle at Colombey since his resignation. His brother-in-law, Deputy Jacques Vendroux, also stops by.

After his visit, Couve de Murville told newsmen De Gaulle had received him only because Couve no longer held any political office. "Gen. De Gaulle wants to avoid any suggestion that he is interfering in French political life," Couve said.

Except for short outings in eastern France, De Gaulle has left Colombey only once since his resignation — for a six-week vacation in Ireland during the campaign for the election of his successor. He took no part in the campaign, but sent Pompidou a message of congratulations.

A handful of police and private watchmen guard the Colombey residence and keep all strangers away from the closed gates. The villagers see De Gaulle only when he goes to Mass in the local church or goes for a stroll in the woods nearby. No one is allowed to approach him.

6 Years After Death

Crowds Visit JFK Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — No special services were planned, but none were needed to draw people to the grave of President John F. Kennedy today.

It has been six years since that Nov. 22 in Dallas, Texas, when the president was assassinated.

Since his burial in Arlington National Cemetery, an estimated 2½ million persons have visited the gravesite, according to military authorities charged with supervising the area.

More thousands could be expected to continue the procession today.

MEMORIAL MASS

Across the Potomac River in Washington, a memorial mass

was scheduled for noon at Holy Trinity Church, the parish church Kennedy attended before he became the 35th President of the United States.

Kennedy also was being remembered in the prayers of the priests at St. Matthew's Cathedral, where world leaders gathered for his funeral in 1963.

Most members of the Kennedy family were in the Cape Cod, Mass., area today mourning another death, that of the late president's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who died Tuesday.

MAKE OVER PAGE Ex-News Exec Has a Solution to TV Problems

Continuing debate among newsmen and government officials over Vice President Spiro Agnew's criticism of the news media has produced a proposal for increased noncommercial television.

Fred W. Friendly, a former president of CBS news, said Friday that increased noncommercial television may provide a partial remedy to some of the problems Agnew mentioned. At the same time, Friendly rejected some of Agnew's criticisms.

NBC newscaster David Brinkley said during a panel discussion Friday at the Sidwell Friends School in Washington, D.C., that he thinks Agnew's criticisms will have no effect on television news coverage.

"We've been thinking about these problems quite a long time," said Spiro Agnew. "I've been thinking about it for 30 years and I haven't got the answers. If Agnew has the answers, I'd like to hear them."

Fielding questions during a two-hour appearance which was taped for CBS' "60 Minutes" last Tuesday night, he was asked how he viewed comment by Dean Burch, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, in agreeing with the Vice President's criticisms.

"It's frightening," he said again. "We view as an implied threat from a regulating agency. But I have been assured that we aren't going to pull in our horns. We are going on trying to present the news the best way we know how."

CBS newscaster Walter Cronkite expressed a divided reaction to Agnew's criticism Friday during an appearance before the Chamber of Commerce of St. Joseph, Mo.

While he said television is "not going to pull in its horns" because of the criticism, he added that he agreed with Agnew that newsmen should re-examine their objectivity and that news reporting should be clearly separated from analysis and editorial comment.

Friendly said, "The FCC national policy by demanding more, not less, public service."
