VOL. 9 NO. 3 Summer, 1972

Commencement: 1972

COMMENCEMENT ceremonies were held June 4 at Baldwin Pavilion with an audience estimated at 3,000. There were 1,438 degrees and diplomas awarded.

The annual Matilda R. Wilson and Alfred G. Wilson awards were made to two students for "having made outstanding contributions to the life of the University through scholarship, student leadership, and the expression of responsibility in the solution of social problems." The awards, a medallion and a $200 check, were presented by President O'Dowd to Sharon Barkham and Robert Anson, II.

The commencement address was delivered by Dr. Lorene Rogers, vice-president of the University of Texas. She was honored by the University with an honorary degree of Doctor of Science, for her work as a teacher, researcher, and administrator.

Honorary degrees were also awarded to Clifford Goad, President of the O.U. Foundation and to Theodore Lowi, professor of Political Science at the University of Chicago and author of End of Liberalism.

The Oakland Singers favored the audience with "Gaudeamus igitur" and "Hallelujah" from Mount of Olives by Beethoven.

TELEPHONE HOTLINE FUNDED FOR KRESGE LIBRARY

A Hotline telephone reference information office for OU's Kresge Library has been funded by a $25,000 federal grant.

The Michigan State Board of Education approved the program which will provide direct reference service to public libraries in Oakland County.

The grant provides, in addition to facilities and telephone hook-ups, rapid photo copy services and referral service on requests that Kresge cannot satisfy.

Initially, forty-one public libraries throughout the county will be served, with a possibility that with improved funding the service might be expanded to school and special libraries.

The 200,000 volume Kresge Library was chosen for several reasons. It is in the heart of one of the most densely populated areas in Michigan and represents the next logical level for public libraries to exhaust when their own collection cannot meet their needs.

Since no county-wide reference service system exists in Oakland County, Kresge can serve this function.

The quality reference collection, 16,017 volumes, due to special endowments has grown rapidly and includes major indexes and bibliographic tools.

OAKLAND TO BUILD OBSERVATORY

An astronomical observing station will be built south of the Kettering Magnetism Lab and will be operated by the faculty and students of the Department of Physics. It will house an eight inch Newtonian Cassagrainian telescope with a German Equatorial mount. Its primary use will be for studying surface detail of the planets and moon and to measure change in brightness (magnitude) of the stars.

The $10,000 it will cost to build has been given to the university from the OU Foundation.

CHINESE VISIT O.U.

The Chinese Table Tennis delegation came to Meadow Brook Hall last April.

The historic entourage from the People's Republic of China was feted with a genteel evening of hors d'oeuvres and wine punch followed by a buffet dinner and a brief after-dinner ceremony with an exchange of mementos and kind words.

Organizing the gathering were the co-hosts for the Detroit area, the U.S. Table Tennis Association, and the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame in concert with representatives of the U.S. - China Relations Committee.

Meadow Brook Hall was chosen for this first formal gathering in the U.S. by the U.S. - China Relations Committee and as such, the University was sensitive in its role as host-subordinate. However, it was apparent from the international opportunity ultimately extended to the University that they were impressed with the 12-year old institution and particularly the Area Studies.

MASTERS PROGRAM OK'D

At the May meeting of the OU Board of Trustees, the Board approved a masters degree program in guidance and counseling, designed particularly for elementary and middle-school teachers and counselors. The current Master's program in Reading Instruction and Elementary Education will henceforth be two separate programs.

ENGINEERING PH.D. APPROVED FOR OU

OU's first doctoral program (in systems engineering) was unanimously approved by a 6-0 vote at a recent State Board of Education meeting.

The action culminates a three year planning effort by OU to begin the program.

The Ph.D. program will begin in September and will train engineers to work with the complex large scale technological problems faced by our society.

Typical problems to be challenged are the development of low-cost, mass produced housing; regional planning; health-care delivery; and automotive and highway safety improvement.

According to John E. Gibson, dean of engineering, "There is a strong demand for broadly-trained

BARGAINING BEGINS FOR OU TEAMS

The bargaining teams of the AAUP and the administration are now meeting. The AAUP presented its package of demands and the administration responded with a counter-proposal. Negotiations on these proposals are now proceeding on an almost daily basis and both teams report modest progress.

NIGHT SCHOOL ON

By a close vote of 58-53, a faculty forum decided to let stand the action of the Faculty Senate in favor of an OU night school on and off campus. Fifteen courses will be offered this fall and a full schedule of courses is planned for the fall of 1973.

alumni activities

Your Alumni Association has been actively establishing alumni contact with Oakland. The members of the Interim Board of Directors feel the need to re-establish effective means of communication with Oakland and have devised a communications system whereby we alumni can "fit the pieces of the puzzle together" to eventually get an over-all picture of the many, varied aspects of this highly diversified university structure. This "alumni system" hopefully will provide a one-to-one relationship with the deans and various administrators of Oakland. The plan is that each alum (or more) will talk with an individual dean or administrator and will report back on the area he has gotten to know. Moreover, the Interim Board will invite each dean and administrator to meetings and have a general discussion about his/her department and what is happening in it. Hopefully, this more personal contact will enable the alumni to grasp the vast complexities which make up their school and to more fully appreciate the wide variety of activities here.

The Board has already begun this "alumni system." Last April, President O'Dowd spoke to a group of about twenty alumni, Jerry Rose from Admissions was at the May meeting, and Vice-President for Academic Affairs, Fred Obear, acquainted the Interim Board and interested alumni on the new curricular changes at Oakland.

This Interim Board has been active since its beginning in December. In February, it sponsored the Sixth Annual Friends of Oakland Swim Meet -- MAAAU Conference Meet which netted $861.00 profit. Two hundred dollars of this has been designated to go toward the Sports and Recreation program, since it was this department which was instrumental in helping with the Meet.

Alumni were involved with the Commencement ceremonies held in June, too. For the first time in Oakland's history, an alum, Phil Williams, President of the Alumni Association, represented the alumni body in his brief address of the graduating students.

Six alumni sang with the Oakland Singers: Norma Adams, Lawrence Baugh, Ed Bondy, Candace Booth, Paula Elliott, and Cynthia Jackson.

Also, members of the Association served the refreshments at the reception following the ceremonies. Those who helped were: Julie Becker Fredrick, Janis McLeod, Mrs. Edward Page, Judy Cornellier, Karen Lang, Dee Snuggs, Gretta Gappy, and Barb Williams.

We also sponsored an Alumnae Luncheon at Sunset Terrace in June for the women graduates who live near Oakland and are planning an Alumni "Grasser" Concert in August (see details on page three).

The Wilson Weekend is yet another event which the alumni are organizing.

Alumni have been active at Oakland in other areas as well. Three alumni participated in S.E.T.'s latest production, "A Hatfull of Rain" -- A.R. Judd, Shelley Dwaihy, Brad Cooney.

Dave Lewis, the 1965 Wilson Award recipient, is now serving on Oakland's Board of Trustees.

In addition, alumni, through their business and social contacts, have arranged for events to take place on campus and at Meadow Brook Hall, which will total over $55,000 for the University.

So, ways and means projects, active communication with Oakland, serious meetings, and general hoop-la have been the hallmarks of the alumni who have come back to Oakland. The Association, in particular, is finding the quickest and most effective means in keeping in contact with Oakland helping this school achieve its purposes. And alumni use the Association and this office as a vehicle to voice their concerns.

The Association's membership is open to all alumni and interested friends of Oakland who express their concern for Oakland in a contribution of $5 or more to the Annual Alumni Fund. If you wish to become actively involved at Oakland, your presence, ideas and help are more than welcome at the monthly Interim Board meetings. Give this office a call at 377-2158 for information. Let us know what your Oakland interests are.

Top Award Winner

Al Mann, vice president of the Interim Board of Directors for the Oakland University Alumni Association was recently honored by the United States Jaycees as Michigan's Outstanding Jaycee for first year activities. Chosen from a field of over 5,000 Jaycees, Al will now represent Michigan at the United States Jaycee's National Convention in Atlanta, Ga. The Michigan Jaycees also recognized Al as the state's Outstanding Chairman over a health program in which Governor Milliken proclaimed Michigan Jaycee Health Week through an Executive Declaration. Locally, Al is a member of the Rochester Michigan Jaycees where he was voted the "Key Man

PERSONALS—NEWS OF THE ALUMNI

Dan Fullmer is Assistant Professor of Linguistics and English at Oakland. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Michigan.

Tom and Linda (Byington) McAlister are the proud parents of a daughter, Elizabeth Ann. Linda has "retired" from teaching to be a full time mother and Tom is still working for Vulcan Laboratories in Pontiac.

Greta Gappy was pictured in the Detroit News as one of the many volunteers who have helped enhance Meadow Brook Hall. Besides being active in the Meadow Brook Guild, she has also been serving Oakland as an active participant in the newly formed Alumni Association's Interim Board of Directors.

John McCarthy has received his Ph.D. and will be teaching German at the University of Pennsylvania next fall, after teaching German at Oakland.

Bob and Nancy (Patchan) White are living in Auburn Heights. Bob has been working at Chrysler since graduation and has held various manufacturing engineering jobs. Most recently, in December, 1971, Bob was transferred to the Chrysler Corporate Purchasing Office in Detroit as a buyer. With this new job comes the responsibility of purchasing the standard type cutting tools supplied to all U.S. based Chrysler non-defense plants.

Socrates Souyias married Gloria T. Okarski of Detroit in the Cathedral at Athens, Greece last September.

Gail (Houghton) Clarke and her husband, Art, had a little girl, Pamela Suzanne, last April 16. They are still living in Oakland, California, where Art is programming the computer that will control the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit System.

Cynthia Lou Attwood is among the 83 women from 27 states and the District of Columbia who will receive a total of $300,000 in graduate fellowships from the Educational Foundation of the American Association of University Women. Individual stipends, ranging from $2500 to / $6,000 will be used to further post-doctoral research, to complete doctoral dissertations, or for the last year of training in law, medicine, dentistry or architecture and environmental design. Fellowships are awarded to women who show promise or distinction in their fields and whose projects will provide significant contributions to knowledge. Cindy is in her third year at the University of Minnesota School of Law.

In Memorium:

Janice Ott, a music major at Oakland, died last December in Detroit.

John Cadieux received his law degree from Wayne State University and is now working with a law firm in Rochester, Michigan.

Gary and Maggie Durst and their three sons, Gregory, David, and John, are moving out to New Mexico to seek sunshine and fortune. Gary has been in the deanery of Elmhurst College outside Chicago, and will now work on his doctorate dissertation while he and Maggie work in the real estate business in a new developmental city much like Columbia, Maryland.

Shel Chase is back from Viet Nam and will be serving the rest of his tour with the Army in El Paso, Texas. Shel is getting married in August.

Captain James W. Anneser has graduated from the Air University's Squadron Officer School at Maxwell, AL. Jim is assigned to Langley AFB, VA., as an aircraft maintenance officer with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Walter (Dick) Simmer teaches fourth and fifth grades in Avondale.

Rob Surovell is a lawyer in Fairfax, VA. at the law firm Surovell, Smith, and Parks. Rob became the proud papa of a son last fall.

Jonathan Webster Friedly is here! All 6 lbs. 9 ozs. of him arrived last April to his happy parents, John and Marilyn (Phillips, '67) Friedly.

1967

Marty Reisig got married last April in Chicago with a host of Oakland witnesses who attempted to maintain a modicum of couth throughout the celebration.

Kathy Grulich has a school of flute, piccolo, and recorder playing in Royal Oak, Michigan.

Jay Korinek is teaching film courses at Henry Ford Community College and will soon start his masters degree at Wayne State in mass communications. He has another masters degree in English from U. of M.

Jim Wear has been stationed in the Army in Berlin and is now home taking undergrad courses at Wayne so that he can enroll in the MA program there in mass communications.

Peg Kurzman has published a book of poems, Because Capricorn Rising, published by New Voices Press, 1971. Peg has taught with the Upward Bound Program here at Oakland, and is currently teaching in the English Department at Oakland.

Mike and Pat (Simmer) Dobosenski have finished their masters degrees at Oakland. Mike teaches at Bloomfield Lahser High School. Pat "retired" from teaching second grade at Bloomfield School Cranbrook this past January. Their first child, Christine Marie, was born March 11, 1972.

Zita Micklas Rowell is living in El Paso, Texas, with husband Bob, and number one son, Robin (the ruffian). Zita has been teaching there and Bob has gotten his degree and is currently a civil engineer working for a consultant firm that does work in El Paso and in Alaska. He designs dams and housing developments.

Charles Eagan has received his Ph.D. in Physics from Iowa State University. Chuck's thesis is entitled, "Resistivity and Magnetoresistance of Dilute Solutions of Cr in Cu-Ni Alloys."

Jim and Sue (Hay) Conboy are moving to Cheboygan, where Jim will join a law firm.

Dan Stein was recently married in New York. Upon graduating from Wayne State Medical School, Dan received the Anna

S.E.T. Presents "Hatful Of Rain"

The Student Enterprise Theatre of Oakland University will open "A Hatful of Rain" September 8, directed by Larry Margolis, a student at the University. Included in the cast are Irving Torgoff, associate professor of psychology and three alumni -- A.R. Judd, Shelley Dwaihy, and Brad Cooney.

"A Hatful of Rain" by Michael Gazzo grew out of improvisational work done at The Actors Studio in New York City. The play is an explosive family drama emerging from a Theatre of Intimacy developed in the 1950's. In the play Gazzo details the disintegration of the nuclear family as a viable center for healthy life. Gazzo's sensitive portrayal of raw interaction between family members confined to a lower east side apartment in New York, presages the encounter groups popular today.

This production marks the beginning of S.E.T.'s eleventh season. The Barn Theatre was renovated and rebuilt entirely by students. The original goal, of producing good legitimate plays for the University and surrounding communities, has always been foremost in the theatre's choice of plays.

"A Hatful of Rain" will run Sept. 8, 9, 10, 15, 16, 17 at 8:30 p.m. The Barn Theatre is located on the south end of the campus behind Hannah Hall. Admission prices are $1.00 for Oakland students and Alumni Association members, and $2.00 for general admission. For reservations or ticket information, please call 377-2245.

Tom Aston, director, and the students at the Barn remind alumni that you are always welcome to audition and participate along with undergrads and faculty. The next audition will be Sept. 11, 12, & 13, for "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum."

S.E.T. (Student Enterprise Theatre) announces its "Bucks for the Barn" campaign. The Barn Theatre is in great need of further renovation and new seating. It seems it will take very little to maintain this charming facility and the Oakland community can definitely help.

S.E.T. asks that Oakland people send "Bucks for the Barn" and will repay the favor by giving you student rates at the box office for the next season beginning in September. Every dollar will be used to further insulate the Barn, repair the heating system, or add restroom facilities.

Or for those of you who are more enthusiastic about the Barn Theatre activities, you may "Own Your Own Seat" at the Barn. A five dollar contribution entitles you to a free seat to all productions at the Barn next season.

SHALOM

Wilson Weekend Revived !!!

All alumni are invited to the annual alumni weekend this fall. Our homecoming activity has been named "Wilson Weekend." It should provide an excellent opportunity to renew old acquaintances, visit with friends you have not seen for a long time, find out what is happening with Oakland and visit both of the Wilson's homes, Meadow Brook Hall and Sunset Terrace.

This weekend will also provide the opportunity to elect our first officers of the newly formed Oakland Alumni Association. In accordance with the by-laws of this new group, the first annual meeting and election of officers will take place during these weekend activities.

Activities begin with an open, informal party Friday evening, October 20, at the Wilson's modern home, Sunset Terrace. Free beer and pretzels will be provided. The first annual meeting of the Association will also be held that evening. Members of the faculty will be present for rap sessions.

Saturday will be open for tours of the campus and a schedule of events happening on campus that day will be available. Or you may wish to visit your favorite watering spot in the area for a reunion of your old Oakland friends.

Saturday evening we will have another "Alumni Evening at Meadow Brook Hall." There will be refreshments befitting such an occasion and live entertainment will provide the atmosphere for dancing in the Grand Ballroom. There will also be tours of the mansion as well as various activities such as slides from O.U.'s distant(?) past.

More details will be forthcoming. Be sure to mark your calendars now (especially out-of-state alumni) for OCTOBER 20 and 21. Plan now to join old friends and visit Oakland University for our annual weekend get together.

engineers who can bring to bear the technologies of several fields on these critical problems.

"The traditional Ph.D. graduate works in a specialized area within one of the major fields of engineering, such as mechanical or electrical engineering," Gibson said.

"In contrast, the emphasis of the new OU program will be to develop a new breed of engineer who is not restricted by the old boundaries between disciplines.

"We look forward to serving the Southeast Michigan community at this new educational level," he added.

Award," an annual award recognizing the man most essential to the Rochester Jaycees.

Showing continued interest in Oakland's future, Al was also responsible for securing the privilege to host a conference of over one thousand Jaycees from fourteen states at Oakland University this July. They will use Oakland's housing and cafeteria facilities, conference halls, and climax the weekend with an evening at Meadow Brook Hall.

Al's other interests include politics, where he has been elected as a precinct and state delegate to the Republican Party of Michigan. Al is the Public Relations Manager for the State Legislature campaign of Dick Robinson (a former head resident here as well as a staff member in the Sports and Recreation Department.)

Although Al spends much of his time serving his community, Oakland University still sees much of him during the day, for he is employed by our Computing and Data Processing Center.
