UAW Serves Strike Notice on Big Three

Set for Next Week if Talks Stalemated; Target Firm Deferred

DETROIT (AP) — Notice has been served on the nation's auto industry that a strike will be scheduled next week against General Motors, Ford or Chrysler if negotiations for a new labor contract remain stalemated.

United Auto Workers union officials decided yesterday in Chicago to defer until next Wednesday at a special 8 p.m. meeting in Detroit the question of whether to authorize a strike at one of the automotive industry's Big Three.

"If the companies persist in their present offers, there will be a strike," said UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther was referring to virtually identical economic package proposals made last Monday by the auto companies.

The offer provided for higher wages, earlier retirement and larger pensions for more than half a million UAW members at automotive plants around the nation.

'MISERABLY INADEQUATE'

They were promptly branded "miserably inadequate" by union leaders.

Spokesmen for the three auto companies had no comment on the union's action in postponing its selection of a strike target until next week.

When the economic proposal was made, Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, termed it the "most generous we've ever made to the UAW."

Reuther said next Wednesday's meeting in Detroit would review the status of negotiations at that time and receive reports on strike votes now being taken.

STRIKE TARGET

Then, if necessary, the board will select a strike target.

In 1961, the target was GM. In 1955 and 1958, it was Ford.

"We do not want a strike, and we shall continue to make every good faith effort at the bargaining table to avoid a strike," said the union's international executive board.

Present UAW contracts with GM, Ford and Chrysler expire Aug. 31.

In their package proposals the Big Three offered pay increases ranging from 18 to 36 cents an hour over a three-year period and a boost in pension payments from $2.80 a month for each year of service to $3.25.

Exploratory Session

Lake Problems Aired at Confab

Alcohol, reckless drivers in high-powered motorboats and an insufficient number of patrolmen to keep them in check . . . the part these factors play in creating trouble spots like Cass Lake for Oakland County was summarized at a meeting in West Bloomfield Township yesterday.

The exploratory session with Senate Boating Control Committee representatives and area law enforcement officers was sought by the Township Board after the death of Alan Akerley.

The 20-year-old Keego Harbor youth was killed by a hit-and-run motorboat Aug. 3 while he was swimming at Cass Lake's Dodge State Park No. 4.

The problem of hazardous boat operation is not peculiar to the county's largest lake, but affects all those of any size in the county, Sheriff Frank Irons noted.

James Hadley, boating control committee administrator, agreed that a better solution probably could be found on the county level.

★ ★ ★

"If we try to solve the problems on Cass Lake, we're just going to multiply them on every other lake," he said.

ÇAN PETITION

Hadley explained that the county or another local governmental branch could petition for a public hearing before the committee.

His office then would conduct an investigation and make recommendations, possibly in the form of ordinances to be considered by the unit.

A countywide investigation would take more time but would be more effective in the long run, he said.

A hint of the scope of the problem was uncovered by law enforcement officers investigating Akerley's death.

HEAD OF TEAM

Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the Oakland County Sheriff's Water Safety Division, heads the investigating team.

When temperatures reach 90 degrees, there is almost as much traffic on Cass Lake between 9 p.m. and 4 a.m. as there is on other lakes during the day, he said.

Drinking, he noted, is a major activity.

"The marinas are using three-quarter-ton pickup trucks to empty their barrels on Mondays," he said. "One is getting rid of 70 per cent of his dockage renters because of the trouble."

2 SOLUTIONS

Prohibiting alcohol on boats and requiring them to be registered at access sites were two possible solutions discussed.

Besides those brought to the 1,600-acre lake, Kratt said there are more than 800 boats permanently docked there.

"I think the registration of boats in and out is an excellent idea," Hadley said, "but it puts a heck of a burden on the individual who has the facility or site."

★ ★ ★

He suggested emphasis on increased enforcement and on educating boat operators to state laws which already cover most of the situations cited.

'INADEQUATE STATUTE'

"This statute (governing the registration and operation of motorboats) is inadequate," Kratt said. "There are not enough teeth in it. If you give us a law to enforce, we'll enforce it."

The $10,000 which Oakland County allots for water safety enforcement is matched by $20,000 from the state. Hadley noted the county is the only one in Michigan participating in the two-one matching program to its maximum extent.

Ferris Lucas, secretary-treasurer of the State Sheriff's Association and a member of the boating control committee, cautioned the group against "going off the deep end" on an ordinance because of Akerley's death.

★ ★ ★

West Bloomfield Township Supervisor John C. Rehard read a list of suggestions which have been coming into his office from residents.

Among them were controlling the number of boats allowed on the lake after dark, limiting the speed to 10 miles per hour after dark and establishing a horsepower limit according to the size of the lake.

St. Louis Chief Brings Issue to Platform Unit

Some Delegates Ask Campaign Free From Divisive Question

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The Supreme Court decision that states must allot all their legislative seats by population should be strongly backed by the Democratic National Convention, the mayor of St. Louis told platform writers today.

The recommendation by Mayor Raymond R. Tucker brought into the open at convention preliminaries a party and section-splitting issue in which Congress is embroiled. Many party delegates hope to keep it out of the presidential campaign.

Tucker led a delegation of mayors testifying on urban problems.

He told the platform committee he is "greatly elated" at the high court's ruling that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned by population, so that voters in one area do not enjoy a disproportionate advantage over those in another.

He said he would like to see the platform contain "a strong statement clearly backing the Supreme Court decision."

URBAN CITIZEN

Tucker told the committee, "The urban citizen too often has been unfairly treated by his state and national governments. He has suffered discrimination because of malapportioned state legislatures and a malapportioned U.S. House of Representatives."

He said the Supreme Court holding that "the deliberate devaluation of the urban citizen's vote is unconstitutional" is a landmark and now city dwellers across the country are going to court to claim "just representation."

The House passed Wednesday, 218-175, a bill that would strip federal courts of jurisdiction in reapportionment cases. This measure is pending in the Senate, which is also snarled over another proposal to delay court-ordered reapportionment.

★ ★

How far could a Democratic national platform go in trusting state and local officials to carry out the federal civil rights law?

Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia roused the committee to applauding enthusiasm yesterday with a plea for a civil rights plank pledging the party to support "the law of the land."

★ ★ ★

But Sanders, who personally opposed the public accommodations section of the law, also said the spirit of the law should be carried out "through local people in their own local communities, and not through fear of federal force or federal intimidation."

Brooklyn Gal Is in Orbit From Outer Space Calls

NEW YORK (AP) — Satellite buffs have got Josephine Schlosser of Brooklyn in orbit with their constant telephone calls for tracking data.

She has no tracking data.

What she does have — besides a jangling telephone and jangled nerves — is the same telephone number as one for a dial-a-satellite service at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

And if you dial the Washington number in New York City without first dialing the Washington area code, you get the Schlosser residence.

JOSEPHINE SCHLOSSER

The first of some 300 telephone calls came Tuesday night.

SOME ANNOYED

Starting from 8:30 people began calling to ask about space," Mrs Schlosser said Thursday. "When I explained that this is Brooklyn, they became annoyed. Some of them used terrible language."

The calls apparently were prompted by newspaper stories here that told of the dial-a-satellite service and gave the Washington telephone number.

The calls continued to pour into the Schlosser home at all hours Wednesday and Thursday.

Truck Rams Train; 8 Killed in Canada

OTTAWA (UPI) — A heavily laden dump truck slammed into a fast-moving Canadian Pacific express train near here today, flipping two cars off the tracks and killing at least seven persons.

A coroner at the scene at the tiny hamlet of Leonard said at least eight persons were killed and "between 10 and 15" were injured.

Reports said some of the dead were Roman Catholic nuns and priests. The truck driver also was killed.

The crash occurred shortly before 7:30 a.m. (EDT) when the truck, carrying a load of gravel, ploughed into the center of the seven-car Ottawa-to-Montreal express at a level crossing 22 miles south of Ottawa.

The car hit by the truck and one immediately in front of it were jarred off the track and sent spinning into an adjoining field.

One passenger said the car hit by the truck was a combination diner-parlor coach crowded with early morning breakfasters.

CAR IN FRONT

She said most of the dead and seriously injured were in the car in front, which crashed against a tree in the nearby field.

Local ambulance services were asked to send all available vehicles to the scene and three of them returned immediately to Ottawa hospitals with passengers described in "critical" condition.

Police and firemen also rushed to the area, as did officials from the Canadian Pacific Railways.

Witnesses described the area as "a complete mess." They said the dump truck was completely demolished and reported jagged holes in the roof and windows of the rail car in the field.

2 Detroit Teens Killed in Crash

Commerce Collision Leaves 3rd Injured

Two 16-year-old Detroit youths were killed yesterday when their car crashed head-on into an Oakland County Road Commission dump truck in Commerce Township.

Another passenger in the car, Randall Pike, also 16, of Clearwater, Fla., is in serious condition in Pontiac General Hospital. The truck driver escaped injury.

Dead at the scene following the 11:38 a.m. collision at Union Lake Road near Bywater was Harold E. Hopkins. Rocco Raco III, driver of the car, died later at Pontiac General Hospital.

Ernest Hoggard, 48, of 1165 Highland, Highland Township, told sheriff's deputies he was driving his truck north on Union Lake Road when Raco's southbound car entered the northbound lane while passing another auto.

Hoggard, who was reportedly driving 35 miles per hour, told deputies he was unable to avoid the collision.

Barry Backs Social Security

Says He'll Vote for 5 Pct. Benefit Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater told the Senate today he favors the Social Security system, wants to see it strengthened and therefore will vote for a 5 per cent increase in benefits.

"I have voted for genuine improvement in the system since I have been in the Senate and I plan to do so now," the Arizonan said in a speech.

He attacked the Johnson administration's proposal to provide health care for the aged through Social Security.

"We shall not preserve the Social Security program if we saddle it with unnecessary new burdens, such as medicare," Goldwater said. "We penalize every senior citizen if we thus bankrupt the system that protects him."

Goldwater's views on Social Security and on health care are certain to be issues in the presidential campaign. He has in the past registered both his approval of "a sound Social Security system" and said it should not be coupled with health care.

OTHER COMMENTS

But he also has said — in Keene, N.H., last Jan. 22—that "I think we would be better off with Social Security as a voluntary setup." And in the race for the Republican presidential nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York charged that Goldwater would wreck Social Security.

Cuba Orders Cut to Foreign Buying

By FRANCIS L. McCARTHY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cuba has ordered its foreign trade representatives overseas to suspend further purchases abroad, bank sources said today.

They said that only parts and supplies needed for the sugar and nickel industries and a medical research center were excluded from the order.

The drastic cutback was interpreted to mean that Cuba has spent more than it has taken in, and now must retrench.

The order confirmed recent National Foreign Trade Council (NFTC) speculation based on reports from the Financial Times of London and the New York Journal of Commerce that near chaos in its own finances would force Cuba to suspend credit for foreign purchases.

Bank sources said the stop-buy edict issued from Havana last week also ordered an end to all negotiations not falling within the exempt categories, and suspension of all letters of credit including those for purchases already made.

The order clarified hitherto unexplained recent shifts in top cuban economic posts. In the past seven weeks, Cuba has ousted Regino Boti as economy minister, Marcelo Fernandez as president of the Cuban National Bank, Maj. Alberto Mora as minister of foreign commerce and set up an unprecedented sugar ministry.

The new Cuban economic crisis also was assumed to be behind recent insistent peace feelers directed at the United States.

Bank sources said Cuba's present plight could be attributed to the crash of world sugar prices, compounded by amateurish buying and handling of credits abroad.

Higgins Award Nominee

George N. Higgins will square off with Gov. George Romney for the Republican gubernatorial nomination on Sept. 1, but he also looks forward to a nonpolitical national contest.

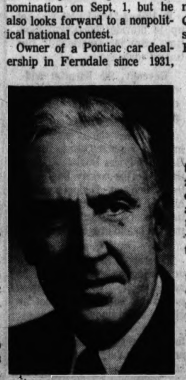

Owner of a Pontiac car dealership in Ferndale since 1931, Higgins has been picked by the Detroit Automobile Dealers Association (DADA) as its nominee for the Benjamin Franklin Quality Dealers Award presented annually by the Saturday Evening Post.

The award is considered the highest in the auto retail business and will be presented at the National Automobile Dealers Association convention next January in Las Vegas.

Higgins' dealership is among the oldest in the Pontiac organization. He has won a number of Pontiac Motor Division awards and was the nation's top Chevrolet salesman in 1925 when he first entered auto retailing.

The 63-year-old chairman of the Michigan Employment Security Commission has also served three terms in the State House of Representatives and five in the State Senate.

He is the only Republican opposing Romney in the primary and is a backer of presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Two older boys put three children in an abandoned refrigerator, where they suffocated, to silence them after taking small change from them, Baltimore police said.

In an earlier version of the deaths Aug. 10, police said the boys aged 13 and 9, told them the other children were placed in the refrigerator during a game of hide and seek, then forgotten.

Occasional Rain With Mercury Drop Predicted

Cloudy with occasional rain and thundershowers tonight is the forecast for the Pontiac area. Temperatures will fall into the high 50s.

Cloudy and possibly more rain is predicted for tomorrow. The weather will turn a little cooler late in the afternoon or evening, the high hitting in the 70s.

★ ★ ★

The low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 56. At 2 p.m. the mercury stood at 66.

To Dem Convention

Press Scribe Is on His Way

Pontiac Press readers who enjoyed editorial writer Howard Heldenbrand's colorful, candid coverage of the recent GOP Convention will be treated to the same type of reporting from the Democratic Convention at Atlantic City next week.

Heldenbrand

Howard and Mrs. Heldenbrand are on their way by auto for the convention city, where they will live in luxury (on his expense account) at the President Hotel, convention headquarters.

When he isn't ogling the Boardwalk scenery for which Atlantic City is famous, Heldenbrand will be spending some time in the smoke-filled caucus rooms at Convention Hall.

Now and then, he'll look in on the convention to see if anybody has nominated him for President.

Heldenbrand says there is little doubt that President Johnson will receive a unanimous nomination, although there may be some grumbling from part of the Southern delegation.

The President could even be nominated without a roll call, the scribe predicts, which has happened only four times in history.

HIS MONEY IS DOWN

Heldenbrand has his money on Minnesota Senator Hubert Humphrey as the Democratic choice for the No. 2 spot.

★ ★ ★

When he left here this morning, Heldenbrand was still trying to figure a way to stretch out his assignment to include the Miss America beauty pageant, which is scheduled soon after the convention.

His wife will probably solve that problem for him, however.

Note Progress on Buildings

Report on Waterford School Construction

Despite a strike by building tradesman last spring, construction of new school facilities in Waterford Township generally is progressing favorably.

★ ★ ★

Barring unforeseen problems, the five elementary school additions all will be ready for occupancy by Sept. 9, the first day of school, according to Ted Wicka, superintendent of the building program.

The additions are to Burt, Monteith, Leggett, Cooley and Grayson schools.

The new Riverside Elementary School building is nearly completed, but additional work is required on the school's septic system, Wicka told the Waterford Township School Board last night.

★ ★ ★

Construction progress at the new Silver Lake School is behind schedule but the building is slated for occupancy when classes resume.

NOT COMPLETED

Additions at Waterford Township High School and Crary Junior High School will not be completed next month, however classes will resume on schedule.

Sufficient facilities will be available at the two secondary schools to allow normal class procedures while the additions are being completed.

In other business at the meeting, board members authorized the hiring of seven new teachers and accepted one teacher resignation.

★ ★ ★

The board also approved a policy governing released time for teachers for in-service education and parent-teacher conferences.

DAYS ALLOWED

It would allow the administration to designate up to 10 half days per year for these purposes.

★ ★ ★

Board members also discussed and then tabled a proposal by trustee Donald Porter that some board meetings be held at elementary schools rather than all at the administration building.

No More Prisoners to Serve Dixie Chief

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Edward T. Breathitt recently ended a long custom under which state prisoners worked as servants at the governor's mansion.

They got token pay and traditionally a pardon was awarded for good service at the end of a governor's term.

Fighting Renewed on Cyprus

AP Photofax

NOT BLUFFING — In its strongest show of force to date, troops in the U.N. peace-keeping force on Cyprus rip apart Turkish Cypriot sandbagged positions on a narrow line separating hostile Greek and Turkish communities. The soldiers ignore a Turkish Cypriot (far left), standing guard with machine gun.

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Renewed fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, and a government charge that Turkish planes flew over Cyprus, threatened today to shatter the shaky truce on this Mediterranean island.

No casualties were reported in the fighting Thursday near Ktima in southwest Cyprus. Shooting between the communal factions lasted about an hour, a U.N. spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Turkish reconnaissance flights were reported in the Kokkina- Mansoura area where two weeks ago Greek Cypriot advances on Turkish positions triggered retaliatory air strikes by Turkey.

A U.N.-sponsored cease-fire has been in effect since the Turkish assaults.

SUSPEND RECONNAISSANCE

Turkey had agreed to suspend its reconnaissance missions but warned that new attacks by Greek Cypriots would lead to their resumption. If the flights over the northwest coast were made by Turkish airplanes, as the Greek Cypriot government charges, they would be the first in 10 days.

★ ★ ★

The sudden visit here of Greek Defense Minister Petros Garoufalias roused speculation. He said Thursday night after arriving from Athens that he would speak with President Makarios and inspect Greece's 950-man army contingent, based on the island under the 1960 treaty which granted independence to Cyprus.

There were rumors, however, that Garoufalias had come to persuade Makarios to reject an offer of Soviet military aid, pledged in case of a Turkish attack. A Greek Cypriot delegation was expected to depart soon for Moscow for talks on the subject.

★ ★ ★

The 6,500-member U.N. peace-keeping force made its strongest show of force on Cyprus Thursday. A task force tore apart three Turkish Cypriot positions in Nicosia to create a greater no-man's land between opposing sides.

WAVE RIFLES

Irate Turkish Cypriot fighters waved rifles and automatic weapons but did not interfere with the U.N. soldiers.

★ ★ ★

At U.N. headquarters in New York, Secretary-General U Thant said the peace-keeping force might have to be withdrawn before its second three-month assignment expires Sept. 26 unless $2 million can be raised for its support.

The U.N. official also denied reports he had chosen Ecuadorian diplomat Galo Plaza Lasso to succeed U.N. mediator Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland, who is gravely ill in Geneva. Thant said mediation would continue, however.

Dirksen Wants Debate

To Resist Dem Districting Sidetrack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., served notice today he will resist Democratic leadership plans to sidetrack Senate debate on his legislative apportionment rider to the $3.3-billion foreign aid bill in order to take up a Social Security bill.

Dirksen, the Republican leader, told newsmen he will fight to keep the foreign aid bill as the pending Senate business when Congress reconvenes Aug. 31 after the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, although a cosponsor of the Dirksen amendment, has announced plans to call up on Aug. 31 a bill to increase Social Security benefits.

There could be a long fight over the Social Security bill. Six Democrats have announced they will try to attach to it the administration's long-sought health care proposals.

DIRKSEN'S DESIRE

Dirksen said he wants to keep the foreign aid bill before the Senate, seek adoption of a debate-limiting cloture petition, and force a vote on his rider, which would delay effectiveness of the Supreme Court's June 15 decision that both houses of a state legislature must be apportioned on the basis of population.

Dirksen said he is confident he can muster the necessary two-thirds vote to shut off debate and halt a filibuster against his rider.

★ ★ ★

The apportionment fight took a new turn today when Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., set the stage for a later attempt to force Senate action on a House-passed bill to strip federal courts of any jurisdiction over the makeup of state legislatures.

His single objection was all that is necessary to block referral of the House bill to the Judiciary Committee. Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., who opposes both the House bill and the apportionment rider, said he would object to second reading today and delay placing the House bill on the Senate calendar until Sept. 1.

STRATEGY SAME

Thurmond's parliamentary strategy is the same that was used by the Democratic leadership to keep the House-passed civil rights bill from going to a Senate committee. The bill was placed directly on the Senate calendar when it came from the House and was eventually enacted into law.

Dirksen expressed doubt that Thurmond's maneuver would do much to help the bill.

Viet Students Seek President's Ouster

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Students in Saigon and other Vietnamese cities staged noisy antigovernment rallies today and demanded that President Nguyen Khanh step aside in favor of a civilian government.

The rallies came on the heels of the death of four American military advisers and heavy Vietnamese losses in a Communist ambush south of Saigon.

In Saigon today, Buddhist student leader Ton That Tue told 500 yelling students that Khanh's "dictatorship is even worse than the Ngo Dinh Diem dictatorship, and we must fight harder than ever."

The group marched to Khanh's office building shouting antigovernment slogans and waving banners reading "dictatorship digs a grave for itself."

★ ★ ★

Khanh was at the seaside resort of Cape St. Jacques, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, putting together a new Cabinet.

WENT THERE

Informed sources said a delegation of students went to see him there also.

Rallies against Khanh's regime were also staged in Hue, Tuy Hao, Can Tho and other towns.

The demonstrations — illegal under Viet Nam's state of emergency decree—were not stopped, but police and troops kept watch.

★ ★ ★

Student leader Tue was allowed inside Khanh's Saigon office building, where he presented an "ultimatum" to officials of the government's information agency.

Student leaders said they would give Khanh until next Tuesday to give them satisfactory replies, or they would "enlarge the struggle."

Student boycotts of high schools and universities appeared to be widespread today, and examinations were being cut.

★ ★ ★

More demonstrations are planned for the week to come.

SEARCH FOR CONG

The Americans were killed in Kien Hoa Province south of Saigon while the outfit was searching for Viet Cong guerrillas who overran the military outpost of Phu Tuc.

Three officers and an enlisted man were among 202 casualties of Saigon government forces in what may have been the costliest single fight to date for Vietnamese troops.

The bodies of the four Americans were recovered today by a relief column which mopped up the area.

Paper Talks Resume Today

Nonstrikers Claim They Are Hostages

DETROIT (AP) — Negotiations in Detroit's 40-day-old newspaper strike were to resume today, amid charges by nonstriking unionists that the publishers are using them "as hostages to force an inequitable agreement."

★ ★ ★

Today's meeting between the publishers and the striking pressmen's and paper handlers' unions, the first since Aug. 7, was called Thursday by Malcolm Lovell, State Mediation Board chairman.

★ ★ ★

Neither the afternoon Detroit News or morning Detroit Free Press has published since the two unions walked out July 13 to back up new contract demands.

★ ★ ★

Accusing the publishers of unfair treatment to them, nonstriking unionists—photoengravers, stereotypers and mailers met Thursday. Harlo R. Banks, president of the Detroit Typographic Union, acted as spokesman.

TERMINATED INSURANCE

Banks charged that the publishers "have unilaterally terminated sick and accident insurance benefits by refusing payment of the August installment."

★ ★ ★

He said News publishers "have threatened to diminish pension benefits of nonstriking union employes by deducting credits for the period of the legal strike."

★ ★ ★

Declaring the nonstriking unionists "resent being used in this manner by the papers," Banks said:

★ ★ ★

"We do not intend to interfere with the strike in progress. We believe that if the Detroit newspapers used their energies toward making an equitable proposal to the striking unions, a settlement could be achieved more rapidly."

$700 Safe Loot in Two Thefts

Two separate Pontiac area safe burglaries last night resulted in a reported theft of $700 in cash and an undetermined amount in checks.

★ ★ ★

Approximately $275 in cash and several checks were reported stolen from a safe at GMC Truck & Coach UAW Local 594, 525 S. East Blvd.

A total of $850, half in cash and half in checks, was in a small safe carried from the West End Paint Store, 3360 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

Entry to each of the buildings was gained by breaking a rear window.

★ ★ ★

The break-in at the UAW building was discovered at 4 a.m. and the paint store burglary was noticed when employes opened the store at 7:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Police said that a pickax was used to open the inner safe at Local 594 after the outer safe was opened by removing the dial. Several cabinets in the building also were forced open.

Viet Envoy Taylor Sets Visit to D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor will return to Washington Aug. 30 for a short visit, his first here since he went to South Viet Nam as ambassador nearly two months ago.

Announcing this today, a State Department spokesman said Taylor "is returning to handle some personal affairs and for a brief consultation." He is expected to see President Johnson and other high officials, then leave for Saigon Sept. 3.

LUEBECK, Germany (AP) — West German gardeners have been raising cabbage and cauliflower on the Red side of the iron curtain line dividing Germany. Now the Communists are raising cain about it.

Dealer Is Mute on Obscenity Case Charges

A Walled Lake record dealer stood mute yesterday on a charge of distributing obscene materials.

Robert Russell, who operates the Town Music Center at 230 Barnston, was arraigned before Walled Lake Justice of the Peace Gene Schnelz. He was released on a $250 bond pending a preliminary hearing at 10 a.m. Wednesday.

The complaint against Russell alleges that he sold and distributed "certain obscene material containing figures, pictures and prints of a lewd and obscene nature tending to the corruption of the morals of youth."

Hospital Urged to Expand Two Services

A study recommending expanded rehabilitation and mental health programs at Pontiac General Hospital was accepted without comment last night by the hospital board of trustees.

Made by the United Community Services (UCS) of metropolitan Detroit, the study was referred to staff members for their suggestions.

Expanded inpatient and outpatient physical rehabilitation programs were recommended by the study report, prepared by Dr. Clare Gates, public health consultant.

However, the UCS report advised Pontiac General to minimize the duplication of expensive rehabilitation services through an agreement with St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, which is currently expanding its rehabilitation program.

Dr. Gates said that the U.S. Public Health Service suggests one rehabilitation unit for each 300,000 population.

TOO BRIEF

"It should be emphasized, however, that experience (in this field) is too brief and data is incomplete to provide exact guidelines regarding maximum facilities . . ." states the report.

The UCS report also recommends expansion of Pontiac General's mental health programs "to provide additional inpatient services, (and) to include a more complete mental health program."

"The need as related to demand for mental health facilities is more evident than for rehabilitation," Dr. Gates reports.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac General was the first general hospital in Oakland County to establish an inpatient mental health unit.

In 1961, a 24-bed unit was set up to provide short-term inpatient care for emotionally disturbed adults.

Recently, the hospital added a one-day-a-week outpatient clinic to its mental health program.

Dr. Gates, who is also working with the new County Mental Health Services Board, suggests that both the county board and the Michigan Department of Mental Health can assist Pontiac General in planning further mental health programs.

★ ★ ★

The report recognized that a new wing or annex might be necessary to handle the added programs, but this was not included in the study.

Board Chairman Alex Capsalis said that the board would probably take action on the study at its next meeting, Sept. 17.

Teen Addicts Are Object of Special Mass

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — A Catholic priest says he will call upon his parishioners to fast and pray for deliverance from the narcotics scourge infesting a large number of teen-agers in a fashionable neighborhood of this New York City suburb.

Msgr. Edward M. Betowski says that on Sunday he will announce a special Mass for Tuesday and urge a fast from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. without even a drink of water.

"It will be what they call a black (severe) fast," he told a newsman Thursday. "I'm not placing anybody under obligation. I'm suggesting that we do the decent thing according to our faith."

Msgr. Betowski touched on one big question: How did the well-to-do parents let it happen?

HAD RINGLEADER

"We had the ringleader right in here, and his parents rushed in to defend him," the monsignor said in the parish house of the Church of Christ The King.

"More parks, more playgrounds, more dances, none of them has worked. What did our Lord say, so you remember? There are some devils that are not driven out except by prayer and by fasting."

His young assistant, the Rev. John F. Foley, observed: "If the families only would become a little more interested in their kids. They're out every night of the week."

Police say that at least 40 boys and girls in the northwest Yonkers neighborhood have experimented with heroin, some have become addicts and many others have smoked marijuana.

Teamster Unit Sticks by Hoffa

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Teamsters Union executive council says it will stick by President James R. Hoffa while he appeals two convictions on federal charges.

★ ★ ★

A statement issued by the council Thursday after a closed session said Hoffa was innocent until he has exhausted his legal rights and that the union would do nothing to deprive him of these rights.

★ ★ ★

The statement did not say what would happen if the convictions are upheld.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa said the statement was "very gratifying to me. It is positive, living proof of no dissension in this union."

NO SIGNIFICANCE

Harold Gibbons, who resigned last December as a top personal aide to Hoffa but remained as a union vice president, read the statement to newsmen. He said he saw no significance in the omission of any declaration of confidence.

The meeting was the first for the council since Hoffa was convicted of attempted jury tampering in Chattanooga, Tenn., and of conspiracy to defraud the Teamsters pension fund in Chicago. He has been sentenced to a total of 13 years.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa said the statement had nothing to do with the controversy about who is going to pay his legal expenses. He said he expected that issue to be settled in court. More than 500 rank and file members have filed suit seeking recovery of union money spent for Hoffa's defense.

★ ★ ★

The executive council statement said, "We recognize that the welfare of this union must of necessity take precedence over the personal interests of any single individual in it.

LARGER OBLIGATIONS

"However there are larger obligations upon us, and one of these is to extend to each individual his fullest constitutional rights as a citizen and a member.

"We therefore subscribe to the firm belief that general president James R. Hoffa should be afforded his full rights to appeal his conviction(s) in the lower courts, and we insist that he not be deemed guilty until he has exhausted these appeal rights, which are granted to all citizens.

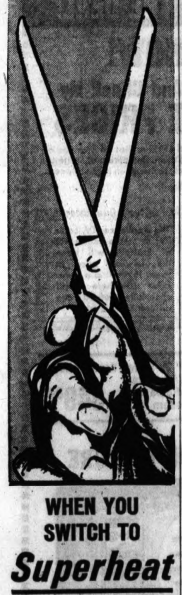

★ ★ ★

"Accordingly, we wish to take this means to assure our membership and the general public that no action will be taken to deprive him of such rights in any way."

Hare vs Civil Service Unit

Suit Filed in Plate Fee Fight

LANSING (AP) — The license plate fee branch manager fight has moved into the courts, with one party claiming the State Constitution is on its side—and the other citing legislative authority.

The State Civil Service Commission, which filed suit in Ingham County Circuit Court Thursday, maintains its plan is based on the "true merit system." The opposition, Secretary of State James Hare, contends his program is more efficient.

The commission filed suit asking that fee payments to 34 branch managers be halted and demanding that what it calls its right to approve all personal service contracts be upheld.

* * *

A hearing on the long-standing fight was set for Oct. 1 before Circuit Court Judge Marvin J. Salmon. No temporary restraining order against fee payments was issued.

230 OFFICES

The situation is this:

A total of 230 license plate - issuing offices are manned by managers appointed on a political basis and paid according to how many plates they sell. Ten central offices are manned by salaried civil service workers.

The commission told Hare last year to establish more salaried manager offices in areas where the job is full - time. Hare refused.

* * *

On Dec. 18 the commission said as of July 1, 1964, it no longer would approve fees to managers of 34 offices in Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Pontiac, Saginaw, Flint, Bay City and Muskegon. These offices do more than half the state's license plate business.

The commission ordered Controller Glenn Allen Jr. to withhold the July fees, but Allen paid the fees on advice of Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

* * *

Now the commission seeks temporary and permanent restraining orders against the fee payments.

FEES PAID

The commission suit says "funds...have been unlawfully disbursed; contrary to the provisions of the Michigan Constitution..."

Hare said the essential legal question is "whether the Civil Service Commission has greater authority to determine methods of payment than the legislature, when in direct opposition to legislative appropriations."

MERIT SYSTEM

The commission maintains that fee payment without commission approval means "the true merit system...is not only undermined and weakened, but threatened with destruction..."

Hare agrees that managers should meet civil service standards. But he says they should be paid on fees, not salaries, because, he says, this is cheaper and more efficient.

* * *

Fee managers are paid 30 cents for each license plate sold. Out of this the fee manager must pay all his expenses including overhead and assistants' salaries. Hare said expenses at salaried manager offices average 40 cents per license plate.

The secretary of state said past experience shows that fee offices take business away from salary offices, causing "a total increase in state costs for that kind of a dual operation."

IMPROVE BUSINESS

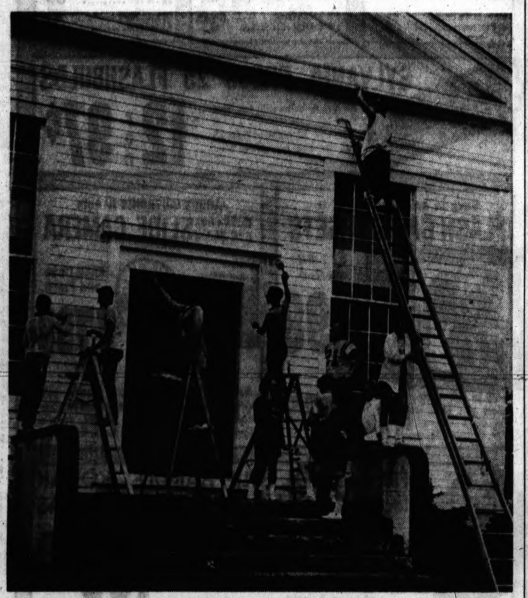

Asked how fee managers improve their business in view of the fact that a license plate is a legally - required purchase, Hare explained:

"They concentrate on auto dealers, who buy about half the licenses, and they work on large auto fleets. These people will buy from the guys giving the service.

* * *

"The fee managers are out selling service — they'll tell the buyers they're available any hour and will deliver plates. The salaried manager is just an order taker—the dealer won't take the trouble to go to him."

Hare said if salaried offices are established in the nine major cities, "then the fee branch offices ringing those districts will steal all the business because of service."

Contracts Given for New School

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Contracts for the construction of West Bloomfield's first junior high school were awarded by the board of education last night.

* * *

A $589,064 contract went to E. E. Powell General Contracting Co. of Pontiac, lowest of six bidders.

Two other major contractors will be the Allen Briggs Co. of Oak Park, which submitted the lowest bid of 11 for the mechanical work, and J. P. Miller Electric Co., Detroit, the lowest of 10 electric firms to bid.

Their contracts are for $272,240 and $88,877 respectively.

The $900,281 total is approximately five per cent higher than estimated in March, according to Schools Supt. Dr. Leif A. Hougen.

Construction of the core junior high school unit is to begin next week on the west side of Orchard Lake Road about a mile north of Maple.

Oak Park Man Named in Parts Theft

DETROIT (AP) — Three Detroit-area men were indicted by a federal grand jury Thursday on charges of conspiracy to steal auto and truck parts valued at about $40,000.

Named in the indictment were Casmere Sobeck, 44, and Allan Rimar, 35, both of Detroit, and Stanley Rimar, 32, of Oak Park. The Rimars are cousins and joint owners of Automotive Trade Products of Detroit.

The indictment charges that between last December and March of this year the Rimars and Sobeck took auto and truck parts from the A to Z Trucking Co. in Detroit, where Sobeck was a foreman.

* * *

The indictment said the property was disposed of outside the state, making the case a federal offense.

Elly Continues Blast at Hart

SAULT STE. MARIE (UPI)—Republican senatorial hopeful Elly Peterson of Charlotte continues her week-long assault against incumbent Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., last night by claiming Hart has a "grudge against Michigan's small businessmen."

* * *

Mrs. Peterson criticized the senator's recent vote against the "Prouty rider" that would have allowed the Senate Small Business committee to handle bills.

The committee is now limited to studying reports, but bills affecting small business are handled by other committies — principally Banking and Currency and the Commerce committees.

The rider was rejected by a 68-25 vote, Mrs. Peterson said.

* * *

"For some reason Hart always seems to be in favor of people who can't make a go of it at business and opposes those who can," said Mrs. Peterson. "Giving the Senate Small Business Committee legislative jurisdiction would give more attention to the needs of our small business concerns."

AREA NEWS

Lutherans to View Controversial Play

DETROIT (AP)—An Episcopal clergyman's play which has been criticized by his bishop for its "low standards in language" was to be presented today before an audience of 12,000 young Lutherans.

The play, "Boy," was written by the Rev. Malcolm Boyd, Episcopal chaplain at Wayne State University here. It drew criticism last week from the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal bishop of Michigan. It was to be presented by the Woodie King Players before the triennial convention of the Luther League.

Bishop Emrich wrote, without mentioning Chaplain Boyd by name, in a news circular published by the Cathedral Church of St. Paul:

"A newspaper article informed us that a play on racial justice, written by a clergyman, was banned by the radio station of a great university."

BANNED AT MSU

Boyd's play was banned at Michigan State University's television station recently for alleged use of profanity.

"Rejecting the sin that divides man from man," Bishop Emrich wrote, "it is astonishing that he is willing to offend men by accepting the vulgarity and profanity of the modern avantgarde stage."

Chaplain Boyd said the bishop had not discussed the matter with him at all and he learned of the bishop's criticism from a reporter in Geneva, Switzerland, where he was lecturing in a seminary course of the World Council of Churches. He is now back in Detroit.

"Surely criticism of it (the play) could be made by a bishop in a private conversation with me, or by telephone or letter, rather than in a sensational, scathing denunciation issued publicly," the chaplain said.

SEEK RECONCILIATION

"I seek a reconciliation with the bishop, but must know I am loved even when I am not understood," he added. "The bishop had apparently neither seen nor read my play 'Boy' which he attacked. The play has nothing to do with sex. Its language is neither vulgar or profane."

* * *

He described his play as the study of an encounter between a Negro and white man.

Also on today's Luther League program was a speech by Louis Lomax, New York author and lecturer, and a sermon by Dr. William Hulne of Dubuque, Iowa.

Judge 'Weighs' Issue, Orders Husband to Pay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A former Miss Michigan, Sharon Moore Combest, 26, was awarded temporary alimony Thursday when she testified she'd gained too much weight to return to her job as an airline stewardess instructor.

"I weigh 121," she testified, "and I should weigh only 105."

Commissioner Rolland Truman remarked: "You don't look too heavy to me."

"For that job I am," said Mrs. Combest, who was Miss Michigan in the 1957 Miss Universe contest.

Her estranged husband, Raymond, 34, was ordered to pay $150 a month support for their year-old son, Scott, and $250 alimony for one month, $100 a month thereafter, pending trial of their divorce suit.

To Detonate Explosives in Lake Superior

LANSING (AP)—U. S. Geological Survey researchers will detonate 88,000 pounds of explosives in Lake Superior this fall, the Michigan Conservation Department reports.

★ ★ ★

The explosions—aimed at improving methods of detecting, locating and identifying underground nuclear blasts, will be touched off in deep waters midway between Grand Marais, Minn., and White Pine, Mich.

★ ★ ★

The Conservation Department at first balked at the proposal because it feared the explosions might harm the lake trout restoration program in the lake. USGS officials assured the department it would take every precaution to minimize fish damage—exploding the charges in deep waters, the department said.

Conservation officials issued a permit for the blasts stipulating that none could be made when and where tracking equipment showed schools of fish.

Only one of the blasts will be in Michigan waters. The other five will be in Wisconsin.

Safety of President a National Concern

LYNDON B. JOHNSON'S disregard for personal safety should be a cause of concern for all Americans.

The ebullient and outgoing personality of the President makes him chafe at restrictions conducive to his well-being and a problem for the corps of Secret Service agents responsible for protecting him against danger that might lurk in the crowds with whom he loves to mingle.

★ ★ ★

Compounding the inherent danger to the occupant of the White House is the fact that GOP nominee Sen. BARRY GOLDWATER seems to match LBJ's nonchalance toward precautionary measures designed to safeguard him. In fact, he is said to hold a fatalistic attitude toward risks related to the public position he now occupies.

★ ★ ★

But it goes without saying that as the Presidential campaign gets under way, the emotions of both candidates and public will intensify. The issues of this election are likely to arouse abnormal heat among the populace, with possibility of recourse to physical action by a fanatic.

Both President and challenger owe it to themselves and their countrymen to curb common gregariousness and abide by the security ground rules guarding them from the sort of national tragedy that horrified the Nation less than a year ago.

Antigrammatic Antics Frantic in Semantics

Are you with it language-wise?

Or are you a stodgy hold-out against semantical move-in?

You should have noticed, of course, that the English language is undergoing a drastic upheaval.

★ ★ ★

Not just a few new fad-words here and there, but trends that have moved into our vocabulary and taken over.

"Wise," for example. Nowadays everything is product-wise, or sales-wise, or weather-wise, or people-wise, or something-or-other-wise.

And "in" and "out."

We have walk-ins, drive-in, sit-ins, stall-ins, lie-ins, toss-ins and even live-ins.

★ ★ ★

We have stake-outs, eat-outs, sleep-outs, drop-outs, camp-outs and family spat-outs. (That's when mom and dad fuss in public.)

When Communists fired on a U. S. destroyer the other day, it was described as a shoot-out.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes you wish you could have a black-out of this stylized stuff and a return-in of good, old-fashioned English.

It might be easier to take, earwise.

Need Warning Devices on Freeway Ramps

It seems, tragically, that with improvement and extension of the Nation's vast superhighway complex, new hazards stalk the Country's 80 million motorists.

This is attested to by the second highway death in this area within a few months resulting from a driver proceeding in the wrong direction on a freeway access pattern.

The most recent casualty occurred when a woman who had driven three miles against the traffic flow hit another car head-on, killing its driver.

Both fatalities presumably were chargeable to confusion in negotiating the freeway traffic plan on the part of the drivers responsible.

Needless to say, the freeways and their approach and exit designs are faultless from an engineering standpoint—and probably the only such that would serve the purpose.

★ ★ ★

But perhaps more cautionary and warning devices are necessary to compensate for unfamiliarity on the part of many drivers with the high-speed traffic often following an undiscernible course.

Confronted by a similar contingency, California has positioned arresting signs reading TURN BACK —YOU ARE HEADED IN THE WRONG DIRECTION on highways where intricacy exists.

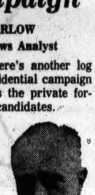

★ ★ ★

A long time ago, pioneer flyer "Wrong Way CORRIGAN" gained living immortality as an ocean hopper. Immortality may await those wrong-way travelers on freeways but—direfully—not among the living.

Issue of Wealth Fires Campaign

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Now there's another log on the fire before the presidential campaign even starts. This time it's the private fortunes of the presidential candidates.

MARLOW

Less than two weeks ago, Sen. Barry Goldwater through his bank made public figures on his wealth. Johnson did the same on his wealth Wednesday through an accounting firm.

Within a few hours, the Republican vice presidential candidate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, said the size of Johnson's fortune makes his integrity subject to "some question."

And Goldwater's handpicked chairman of the Republican National Committee, Dean Burch, questioned the way the accounting firm had arrived at its figures on Johnson's financial worth.

He called it "most peculiar" and said the Republicans would make it an issue in the campaign.

★ ★ ★

On Aug. 11 Time magazine estimated the wealth of Goldwater and his wife at $1.7 million. And on Aug. 13 a Phoenix, Ariz., bank which administers the Goldwater trust accounts said the value was $1.7 million.

SAID INCOME WAS $65,000

An official of the bank — the Valley National Bank—said Goldwater's income last year, including his $22,500 senate salary, was $65,000.

On June 9 the Washington Star reported the Johnson family holdings were worth an estimated $9 million.

On July 7 an accounting firm hired by Johnson was instructed by the President to audit the records of his family for the 10½ years from Jan. 1, 1964, to July 31, 1964.

Meanwhile, Life has been doing its own digging into Johnson's finances and said that in his years on the public payroll since the 1930s he had grown notably wealthy. Life estimated the family worth at $14 million.

ANNOUNCED FAMILY WEALTH

Wednesday, by Johnson's order, the accounting firm he hired—Haskins and Sells —publicly announced the Johnson family wealth at $3,484,098.

★ ★ ★

In calling the accounting of Johnson's wealth "most peculiar," Burch told a news conference the approximately $3.5 million figure of the accounting firm was "incredibly low."

He said the way the total value of Johnson's assets was arrived at was "like listing the value of Manhattan Island at $25."

Campaign Days

The Philadelphia Bulletin

Now that the campaign is on, we can look for some free-swinging free speech. Voltaire's famous remark is amended to read: "I will defend to the death your right to say what you have just said, but if you say it again, I'll poke you one in the kisser."

Food Problem

The New York Times

If every person on earth could count on enough food of the right kind, the present turbulence among the nations might disappear. Well-fed people can reason things out. Starving people cannot. Yet we still have the shocking disparity between those nations which, with whatever troubles they have, are satisfactorily fed, and those that are not. A third of the earth's population goes with less than it needs, from birth to death.

★ ★ ★

On the basis of what we now know about producing food, and with today's knowledge of nutrition, we can be sure that famine, or half-famine, or under nourishment can be abolished everywhere. But we will have to hurry. Prof. Kenneth L. Turk of Cornell estimates that by the year 2000 the world must triple its food production if all are to have enough.

★ ★ ★

The United States has enough and to spare. It has enough surplus wheat to feed the entire population of the earth "at a survival level" for two weeks. Western Europe, Australia, New Zealand, as well as North America, can and do produce surpluses.

★ ★ ★

But the answer, as an F. A. O. bulletin puts it, is not permanent aid in the form of food but to "eliminate the conditions which make food aid necessary." Less than 10 percent of the working population of the United States is enough to produce all the food we need; in some undeveloped countries the figure reaches 80 per cent. Aid in food must long continue, but the real solution is to bring agricultural science to peoples that have lacked it.

Violates Agreements

Il Tempo, Rome

United Nations intervention, the dispatch of "Blue Helmets," pressure by the Atlantic powers anxious to bring peace to that neuralgic point in the Mediterranean area, have not deflected the terrible archbishop from his purpose.

Violating international agreements and the constitution, he has arrogated to himself and to the Greek members of the government the powers he ought to share with the representatives of the minority. He has regarded the Turkish guerrilla fighters as "rebels" and has launched against them real military operations which would have destroyed them if the Ankara government's air force had not intervened now in their defense.

Turkey's intervention is justified by an article of the Zurich agreements which permits it explicitly in case of bloody disorders in the island. But on the basis of the same article, Greece can do likewise and does, in fact, threaten to intervene.

★ ★ ★

This means that we face the risk of war between two Atlantic powers, that the United Nations may see its prestige definitely annihilated, and that the flames of a bigger conflict may flare up in the Mediterranean. Makarios' appeal to the Soviet Union to fly to his help, even though it has scant chance of being accepted, introduces a very disquieting element into a situation in which motives of pain and fear are not lacking.

★ ★ ★

The U.N. security council has called for an immediate cease-fire and seems to have been successful. But a truce, however desirable, cannot be a sufficient objective of international action. It is necessary to find a solution to the problem and, after finding it and having it accepted, its compliance must be insured unequivocally and definitely.

Bob Considine Says:

Perfectionist Preminger Filming New Sea Epic

PEARL HARBOR — Otto Preminger bombed Pearl Harbor today. Like the Japanese of 1941, he wasn't quite satisfied with the result.

CONSIDINE

It was a re-enactment of a startling true-to-life passage from "In Harm's Way" which Preminger is wringing from James Bassett's smashing novel about the Japanese attack and the reaction of Navy ships and Navy men to the blow.

Smoke pots that could have been the pyres of the Arizona and the other battlewagons consumed that bloody Sunday morning sent their black clouds rolling across the narrow mouth of Pearl Harbor.

The destroyer named Cassiday in the motion picture came plunging through the greasy smoke, commanded by Lt. (j.g.) Tom Tryon, last seen in sacerdotal robes in Preminger's "The Cardinal."

★ ★ ★

The Cassiday had its full steam up and was barreling out of that historic naval ambush just as had a real live destroyer and a real life skeletonized Sunday morning crew on the day of infamy.

CAMERAS PURR

Now as the Cassiday charged through the smoke, two cameras peeled an eye at her and began purring. On the shore from where we watched, a young man with a walkie-talkie and a red flag shouted "Hit one" into the mike and made a downward swing with the flag.

Instantly a tremendous geyser shot up from off the starboard side of the surging destroyer.

For the next three or four minutes the earth beneath us shook under the impact of the simulated bombing raid. The Cassiday sailed resolutely through a forest of geysers.

Torrents of water from the geysers swept our vantage point, drenching the cameras and swamping technicians and such famed naval historians as Sheilah Graham and Steve Allen.

DRAMA INTENSE

But as sopping wet as they were, they nevertheless felt the drama of the scene and lived it intensively enough to join in all the "Wasn't that the greatest thing you ever saw" exclamations that followed after the Cassiday cleared the last Preminger-planted dynamite.

One man with earphones did not join in the hurrah. He pressed his fingers against them, the better to hear the message.

The message was coming across the waves from the master, who had directed the whole scene from the bridge of the destroyer.

★ ★ ★

After a bit, the man took off his earphones and said, "As if it was the most natural thing that could happen, the boss says there was too much smoke. We'll reshoot it in 48 hours."

GOOD NOVEL

If this picture is as good as the book, which Fletcher Knebel called "the best American story of the sea and its men since the Caine Mutiny," it will be another winner in the now-extended winning streak of the Viennese-born Preminger.

If it isn't as good, the fault cannot rest with the cast Preminger has lined up for this one: John Wayne, Kirk Douglas, Patricia Neal, Tom Tryon, Stanley Holloway, Burgess Meredith, Hugh O'Brian, Henry Fonda, Franchot Tone and a host of others, old and new.

'Boat Riders Avoiding Moral Responsibility'

The Cass Lake boater lacks the courage it takes to admit he's wrong. This is the type that will never confess, but will only be convicted by the aid of some other party.

★ ★ ★

All persons in that boat should feel an equal amount of guilt if not responsibility. If these passengers had demanded that the driver stop, there might possibly be a 20 year old, with a bright future, alive today. Now they must do the next best thing—identify the boater.

Favors Teachers' 'Time Off' Request

I was surprised to read of the Pontiac School System's superintendent opposing the request by leaders of educational organizations for five days of release time to perform routine professional organization business. One member of the board of education questioned the need. If Pontiac has ten months of school this would amount to one-half day per month.

★ ★ ★

I served as school board member and superintendent of schools in Massachusetts. I found teachers who were the best informed turning down leadership positions because they felt unable to take time from their work. Boards of education and superintendents want responsible leaders heading professional groups, as such leaders perform a genuine service for their fellow teachers. They alert them to educational legislation, facts about teacher insurance, retirement, educational research, etc.

★ ★ ★

This sentence alarmed me: "Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer had recommended that the board of education reject the proposal because it would give at least tacit recognition to a direct leadership responsibility of teacher organization." My rapport with teachers was even more important than my rapport with the school community. Teachers tend to become increasingly professional when they understand and legitimately share policy making.

★ ★ ★

I think that this superintendent should feel encouraged that he has people willing to improve their service to his teaching staff.

'Waterford Does Need More Policemen'

I, like letter writer Mr. Riddick, came from Detroit to live in the country and am glad to be a resident of Waterford Township. I am willing to assume my civic responsibility of fighting for adequate police and fire protection. Our undermanned county sheriff's department and our overburdened state police cannot be expected to take on the additional duties of patrolling our Waterford streets.

Let's give our support to make Waterford Township the finest.

Concerned About 'Junk Car Ordinance'

White Lake Township has a new ordinance stating that your car must be licensed and in running condition at all times or it may be sold for junk after fourteen days or after 24 hours, if it is torn apart. They claim this just applies to junk cars, but why wasn't it written that way? This law could be misused.

★ ★ ★

Also, why aren't steps taken to stop the lawlessness in the township? There is more vandalism in White Lake than any other place in Oakland County. Pontiac recreation picnic areas are destroyed frequently, there have been several instances of dynamiting, and dozens of mailboxes have been destroyed in a single night. Houses are broken into and property is stolen or destroyed. The roads are used as drag strips and any child with money can buy cigarettes. These things should be stopped before we worry about whether or not people repair their cars. While Lake has been a wonderful place to live until the past few years.

LONG-TIME RESIDENT

"The Junk and Dismantled Car Ordinance" is needed in White Lake Township and there are some good provisions, but some of us feel parts of the ordinance are unreasonable.

★ ★ ★

The ordinance forbids anyone having on his own property any unlicensed vehicle, it forbids having any inoperable vehicle for more than 14 days, and it limits the time in which a person has to repair a vehicle on his own property. The limits are one week for major repairs and 24 hours for minor repairs. Maximum penalties for violating any provision of the ordinance are a fine of $100 and a jail sentence of 90 days. In addition the vehicle may be towed away and sold for junk.

★ ★ ★

Petitions are being circulated to put the ordinance on the ballot in the next election. I urge voters to acquaint themselves with the ordinance and to watch for it at election time.

'Read Water System Letter Carefully'

I hope all Waterford Township residents will read the letter from the township board about the new water system. The letter says that because you are going to be a user of the new system you have no right to vote on whether or not you want it and if you do want it, how it should be paid for. The letter also states that all Waterford Township water users will be charged a rate as high as the highest nearby community.

After reading the letter you will find that even though the township board is trying, it cannot hide the fact that the board will run the township as it pleases and not as the people want.

CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/ The Democrats

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty

Things had never been better in America than they were in the mid-1920s.

The economy was booming. Republican Cal Coolidge had restored clean government upon taking over after the death of President Harding in 1923.

Now that liquor was outlawed, more people were drinking than ever before. It was a bootlegger's and stock speculator's paradise.

Things had seldom been worse for the Democrats.

★ ★ ★

With no horse to flay but the dead one of corruption in the Harding administration and with the party divided over the issues of prohibition, Catholicism and the Ku Klux Klan, now Andy Jackson's two-thirds balloting rule was to come home with a vengeance at the convention in New York late in June 1924.

A leading candidate for the presidential nomination was New York Gov. Al Smith. But Smith was Catholic, big-city, antiprohibition and a product of Tammany Hall.

His rival was William Gibbs McAdoo of California, former Treasury Secretary under Woodrow Wilson. Smith was nominated by the 1920 vice presidential candidate, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

★ ★ ★

Other candidates included James M. Cox, the party's choice four years before, and John W. Davis of Virginia.

McADOO LEADS

McAdoo led the first roll call with 431½ votes to Smith's 241. Two days and 30 ballots later, he still led, although Smith was inching upward.

The convention went into its second week with the 40th roll call . . . the 50th . . . the 60th.

On the 71st ballot, McAdoo reached his highwater mark — 528 — but was still far from a two-thirds majority.

★ ★ ★

On the 86th, he was overtaken by Smith. Then came the 87th . . . the 88th . . . the 89th. . .

LONG CLEAR

It had long been clear that neither of them could win the nomination. The party was merely making itself the laughing stock of the nation.

On the 99th time around, with the voting tied at 353 apiece, McAdoo and Smith finally withdrew their crumpled hats from the circus ring.

Now John W. Davis began to come forward and reached the magic number on the 103rd ballot. (Each ballot after the 59th had set a new record.)

In the elections, the people decided to continue to "Keep Cool With Coolidge" and gave him the greatest Republican victory in history — 15.8 million to Davis' 8.4.

The Progressive Party, led by Wisconsin's maverick Sen. Robert La Follette, polled an impressive 5 million votes.

But the majority liked the kind of progress they already had. The bubble wouldn't burst for five more years.

Radio Hanoi Broadcasts Letter Said From Pilot

TOKYO (UPI) — Radio Hanoi has broadcast a letter which it said was written by U.S. Navy Lt. (jg) Everett Alvarez Jr. of San Jose, Calif., to his wife, Tangee, whom he married eight months ago.

Alvarez, 26, was shot down and apparently captured during the U.S. air raids on Communist North Vietnamese torpedo bases Aug. 4-5. The letters said he is being well treated.

The Communist broadcast reiterated that Alvarez "still has the chance of meeting his wife one day when Washington shows its willingness to stop all acts of aggression against North Viet Nam."

Radio Hanoi quoted Alvarez's letter as saying he regrets the grief he has caused his family.

★ ★ ★

The contrite tone was similar to that of other letters written by Americans in Communist captivity. They usually get the choice of writing that they are sorry or not writing at all.

SEEK RELEASE

The United States is seeking the release of Alvarez through the International Red Cross and through the British and Soviet governments, cochairmen of the 1954 Geneva Conference on Indochina.

★ ★ ★

Previous performance of the Communists indicates that Alvarez will not be released for a long time.

Cong Take Over Viet Nam Countryside After Dark

(Editor's Note—This is another in a series of reports on the Viet Nam situation by Col. Ray Crowley, Newspaper Enterprise Association military analyst.)

By RAY CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — I had just discovered I was in a Viet Cong hamlet. I moved out as fast as the Jeep I was in would travel. I wasn't stopped. There were no shots. The farmers looked peaceful and no different from any other Vietnamese.

At the time, I was less than five miles from the provincial capital.

A mile down the road a land mine had blown up a Jeep a few weeks back, killing everyone aboard.

I had been making plans to enter a Viet Cong hamlet later, but slowly and with proper cover. It doesn't pay to go into a Viet Cong village hastily and without making careful preparation. So I ran.

★ ★ ★

I was delayed going out that day. Vietnamese troops had to clear the road out of the provincial capital.

EVERY MORNING

It is Viet Cong by night and must be cleared every morning if anyone is to travel.

A sergeant described for me our road - clearing habits in some areas. We send out the patrols at the same time every morning. The Viet Cong learn our habits. Then they set ambushes.

The other day I flew tree-high over some of these Viet Cong road blocks — large piles of earth in the road. When Vietnamese forces stop to clear off one of these barricades, the Viet Cong attack.

★ ★

"I asked for permission to vary the time we clear these roads," said an American officer adviser. "Headquarters agreed with my reasoning. But the orders to clear still came the same time every morning."

OLD TRUCK

We ducked back and forth on the road. Our escort of a dozen Vietnamese guerrilla troops, armed with rifles and hand grenades, couldn't keep up. Their truck was old and wheezing.

We came to a "fortified hamlet." It had a tired - looking barbed wire fence along one border of a straggly row of houses.

The man I was with told me the Viet Cong cut through these barbed wire fences at will.

A Vietnamese from a neighboring hamlet remarked that five times in the past six months the people of this hamlet had elected a hamlet chief.

FOUR KIDNAPED

Four of these men had been kidnaped by the Viet Cong. The fifth chief resigned immediately after he was elected.

The newest hamlet chief had been elected just a week before. Within 48 hours after he'd taken office, the Viet Cong captured him.

A unit of the Vietnamese civil guard was protecting the hamlet at the time.

★ ★

The troops had patrolled outside the barbed wire that night until midnight, then had gone back to their fortified compound at one end of the hamlet and slept the rest of the night.

TALE OF HAMLET

Sometime between midnight and morning, with a clear field, the Viet Cong had come in.

This, then, was the tale of one hamlet.

We went down the road about a mile and a half to another cluster of houses.

★ ★

The head man in this hamlet told me they'd been attacked 24 times this year. They'd beaten off the attack every time with their own volunteer forces.

ORGANIZATION

I asked him his secret. "Organization," he said, shrugging.

"What's the problem in the next hamlet?" I asked.

"They don't have leadership," he said. "No one is willing to step out and lead. When someone does, his neighbors tear him down.

★ ★ ★

"All the people in our hamlet came down from the north. They've seen at first hand what the Communists do. They know what they're fighting for. They all believe in something.

FEW GUNS

"We've got only a few guns. The government issued us some. We've scrounged up some more. But when the Viet Cong come, they find we're organized and mean business. They attack for a while and go away.

"We've never been overrun. The next village has been overrun 21 times in 21 attempts."

One of my guards tapped me on the shoulder. "I strongly suggest that we leave," he said. "It wouldn't be wise to be on that road after dark."

21 Polaris Subs End Launch Tests

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — More than half the Polaris missile submarines in a planned fleet of 41 have completed launching exercises.

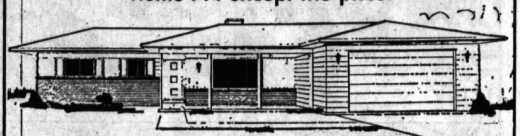

The Tecumseh Thursday became the 21st sub to conclude test and training firings when it launched a Polaris A3 missile while submerged off Cape Kennedy. The rocket propelled a warhead section to a target area more than 2,000 miles away.

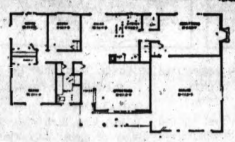

Within a few weeks, the Tecumseh will join its predecessors on operational patrol with a load of 16 missiles. All 41 subs are scheduled to be on station by mid-1966.

James Buchanan was the only bachelor president of the United States. Of the rest, five were childless: George Washington, James Madison, Andrew Jackson, Polk and Warren Harding.

Believed Fatal to 12 in Houston

Emergency Spray Battles Encephalitis Outbreak

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Emergency forces sprayed ditches today after officials alerted the city of an outbreak of encephalitis, believed to have caused 12 deaths in the past month.

Mayor Louie Welch declared war Thursday on the female culex mosquito whose bite causes the disease, which is also known as "sleeping sickness."

★ ★ ★

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, said about 100 cases of the disease have been reported in a 30-day period. He said a majority of the cases were in the near downtown area but other scattered cases were north and east of the infected area.

He said the carrier is one of the common mosquitoes and urged Houston residents to take all possible precautions against mosquito bites.

EMERGENCY CONFAB

Pest control firms were called into an emergency meeting by Welch to organize a citywide battle against the mosquito.

Experts from the communicable disease control center of the U.S. Public Health Service in Atlanta, Ga., were to arrive today to advise Dr. Pigford and other health authorities on emergency measures.

★ ★ ★

The spraying of ditches will continue until the whole city has been covered. The city appropriated $5,000 to start the spraying operations.

Dr. Pigford said the disease is carried to humans only by the blood-sucking female mosquito, which is abroad from dusk to dark.

BIRDS, SNAKES

He said the mosquito spreads to humans a virus that it might have picked up from infected birds or snakes. He said there is no immunization and patients are advised to see their doctor.

"Most cases of encephalitis, by far, recover," Dr. Pigford said. He said many patients recover even after they reach the critical stage.

He said the outbreak in the Houston area is a virus type called St. Louis encephalitis. He said many people may have it without knowing it and most cases are not severe. He said it is sometimes mistaken for another virus.

He said danger signs are extremely high fever, followed by drowsiness, severe headache, stiff neck, disturbance of the eye muscle and occasional mental disorder.

BLOOD SAMPLES

Dr. Pigford said eight blood samples from suspicious cases were sent to the State Health Department laboratory. He said three of the eight samples were found to be positive encephalitis and that two of the three patients who gave the positive samples have died.

Airplane Tour for City Boy Scout Troop

Five Pontiac area airplane owners will take a group of 14 boy scouts and three leaders from Troop 50 on a whirlwind trip to Lansing Saturday morning.

★ ★ ★

In a spirit of doing something special for the youngsters, the plane owners will fly their passengers over Pontiac and Oakland County landmarks, then westward for a sky view of the state capitol.

The planes will take off from Pontiac Municipal Airport at 9 a.m. and return from Lansing about noon.

Donating their planes for the trip are businessmen Don Bowen, Earl Nation and Ralph Mocock and aircraft dealers Commander Aviation and ADI Aerodynamics, Inc.

Troop 50 includes youngsters who attend Harrington School.

ITALY SOUVENIR HUNT — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, accompanied by her personal bodyguard, Clint Hill, looks over souvenirs at a shop in the Rome airport prior to her departure yesterday for the United States, ending her two-week Europe vacation.

Avoid Clash on U.N. Dues, Says African

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A leading African diplomat appealed to the United States and the Soviet Union today to avoid a collision over unpaid Communist dues for U.N. peace operations for fear it would weaken the United Nations.

The appeal was made by S. O. Adebo of Nigeria, chairman of the 21-nation working group which is studying ways to assess U.N. members for future peace-keeping operations.

★ ★ ★

Adebo said in an interview he hoped something could be done to relieve the deadlock over unpaid dues for the Congo and Middle East forces.

The Soviet Union has said that it will never pay a cent toward either the Congo or Suez operations on grounds that they are illegal.

The Soviet Union and 14 other countries are two calendar years behind in their total U.N. assessments. France will reach that point next Jan. 1.

The United States has said two-year delinquents must lose their General Assembly vote automatically when the world forum convenes Nov. 10 because the charter so stipulates.

The House of Representatives and the Senate Foreign Relations Committee both adopted resolutions this week asking the U.S. government to make every effort to see that this penalty was applied.

At a news conference Thursday, Secretary-General U Thant said he hoped Adebo's group would meet early in September and "look into this problem from all angles."

WIDE GULF

Adebo said there was a "pretty wide" gulf between the two big powers over peace-keeping finances and "slight differences" between various groups of countries.

His working group includes Communist, Western and nonaligned countries.

"My appeal to my fellow members is that we should go to the council table not dedicated to our points of view but in the spirit of trying to look for a solution," he said.

"They should all remember that our cause is the survival of the United Nations.

WEAKENING SEEN

"If this (Soviet-U.S.) confrontation takes place, whatever survives will be a weaker United Nations."

The 15 countries now in danger of losing their votes are the Soviet Union, the Ukraine, White Russia, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Argentina, Bolivia, Nationalist China, Guatemala, Haiti, Paraguay, Uruguay and Yemen. The Guatemalan government has announced that it will pay enough to get out of danger.

Japanese Undies Gone Under Cover

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

TOKYO (AP) — Those guys in undershorts who caused such a stir have disappeared from the lounges of Tokyo's International Airport. But authorities have their fingers crossed.

Officials suspected that heavy rains that broke a 29-day heat wave had more to do with the absence of the underwear tribe than did signs urging airport visitors to keep their pants on.

★ ★ ★

So many wearers of the casual garb frequented the air-conditioned lounges during the hot spell, that Japanese officials began to fear they might scare off foreigners not accustomed to such informality.

Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda told Cabinet ministers something must be done about the underwear problem.

SENSIBILITIES

With a big International Monetary Fund conference coming up early next month and the Olympics in 50 days, government officials thought sensibilities might suffer if the tribe still was hanging around the airport.

Airport police said the difficulty in dealing with the issue is that Japan has no law against appearing publicly in one's underwear, even if the underwear is thin or flimsy.

★ ★ ★

"We can only appeal to their common sense," said a police spokesman.

Signs have gone up at the airport urging visitors to cooperate by not showing up in underclothes. Airport guards also have been instructed to "ask" such visitors to put on their pants or go home.

"If we ask them not to enter and then they cause trouble, other action could perhaps be taken," said an airport police man.

MORE RAIN

Authorities are pinning their hopes on more rain and an early arrival of cool weather.

Suicide Splits Refugees

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four years ago, four Polish refugees met in Germany, all planning to come to the United States.

One of them, Andrew Starnowski, married Gizela, the only girl in the group.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday, police said, Jerzy Burczyk, third of the four, found Starnowski, 27, had shot himself to death in his apartment in suburban Playa Del Ray.

Burczyk told police that three weeks ago Gizela had gone away with her husband's best friend, John J. Lewandowski — fourth of the four refugees.

LEARNING FAST—Eighteen-month-old Anna Marie Jackson can already say "Donkey." She is being taught by her parents, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., and his wife. The senator will take the family to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City Monday. He was last year's national convention chairman.

Robs Cabbie, Steals Car

A Pontiac taxicab driver was robbed of $51 at knife point and ordered from his cab at the corner of Whittemore and Clifford early this morning.

The bandit then drove off in the cab, William A. Petre, 30, of 138 W. Lawrence, an employe of Yellow Cab Co., told Pontiac Police.

Petre said a man he picked up at a bar shortly before 2:30 a.m. had held a hunting knife to his throat and demanded all his money.

The taxicab was recovered by police within 10 minutes.

Report American Jet Downed by Pathet Lao

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — A Thai language newspaper has reported that an American jet fighter which crashed in northeastern Thailand Wednesday was shot down by Pathet Lao forces.

U.S. Embassy confirmed that the plane crashed but declined further comment.

Over S.E. Asia, Defense

Clash on LBJ Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a political battlefront ranging from Capitol Hill to the Pentagon, the Johnson Administration clashed anew with Republicans over its Southeast Asian and defense policies.

The fresh outbreak of sharp skirmishing reinforced belief the presidential campaign, still not officially under way, may turn into a long, hot autumn.

★ ★ ★

The Defense Department and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield led the administration counterattack Thursday. And GOP congressional leaders accused the government of pursuing a "no win" policy in south Viet Nam in an effort to postpone tough decisions until after the election.

PENTAGON CHALLENGES

The Pentagon issued a long statement challenging in detail data and statements of GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater on future U.S. nuclear capability.

On Wednesday, Goldwater repeated and elaborated on his previous charge that if present defense policies continue American "deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut by 90 per cent" in the 1970s.

★ ★ ★

"It is false and, if the senator would trouble to inform himself, he would learn that it is false," the Pentagon retorted in its statement, which it said was issued after consultation with the Atomic Energy Commission.

"The senator's method," the statement continued, "seems to be that of taking newspaper guesses of warhead yields and bomber loads as facts, and then subtracting all our bombers. Quite aside from the fact that this is a most casual method of dealing with a very complex problem, it is a method which has led to a false conclusion."

GOLDWATER'S VIEW

Goldwater has argued that the administration is phasing out manned bombers in favor of missiles, which Goldwater said carry much lighter nuclear loads than bombers.

★ ★ ★

He cited newspaper reports of nuclear capacities which he said were not quite correct but were usable for comparison purposes.

The Pentagon denied as "wholly unjustified" that manned bombers are to be phased out.

★ ★ ★

"Our forward plans now go through fiscal year 1972," the Pentagon said. "These plans include large numbers of strategic bombers at every stage. The plans also include a bomber deliverable megatonnage which is highly classified, but substantially greater than the senator's statement implies."

GOP leaders in the Senate and House, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck, followed up the Goldwater blasts at the administration with one of their own.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Their statement, read at a news conference, contended "there has been no satisfactory explanation" why the President announced the U.S. naval air strikes at the North Vietnamese PT boat fleet before the attack was under way. Two U.S. planes were shot down.

Both Dirksen and Halleck said the South Viet Nam war "continues to go from bad to worse" and is beginning "to resemble the incredible 'no-win' war fought in Korea more than a decade ago."

★ ★ ★

In the Senate, Democratic Leader Mansfield was getting in some whacks of his own. He accused Goldwater of making "gross distortions" about the nation's nuclear capacity and of an "offhand interpretation" of administration orders to the 7th Fleet during the Gulf of Tonkin crisis.

Goldwater had said Johnson's orders could be read as giving authority for use of nuclear weapons. Johnson and other officials denied this, calling the senator's statement reckless and irresponsible.

MANSFIELD SPEAKS

"It is one thing for a presidential candidate to announce that he will delegate to military commanders the most profound responsibilities of the office he seeks even before he is elected to it," Mansfield said.

"But it is quite another matter for a presidential candidate to say to the nation and to the world that the incumbent President has already done so."

"That," Mansfield added, "is disingenuously dangerous."

Will Chinese Call Confab

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China may be planning to defy Moscow by calling its own world conference of Communist parties.

★ ★ ★

Indications to that effect came Thursday, when Radio Peking approvingly broadcast a resolution of the New Zealand Communist party, which has lined up with Peking. The resolution suggested consideration be given to calling a meeting to counter one which Moscow is attempting to organize.

★ ★ ★

The Russians have invited 25 Communist parties to a conference in Moscow Dec. 15, when plans are to be made for a world conference next year.

Chinese leaders have said they will boycott the conference, which is to discuss the ideological aspects of the Peking-Moscow feud.

Detect Flaws in Two Missiles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force says that flaws have been detected in two third-stage Minuteman intercontinental missile rocket motors during test firings in Utah, but a "minor fix" has remedied the problem.

★ ★ ★

The upper stages, made by the Hercules Powder Co. of Bacchus, Utah, burned unevenly during tests at Hercules facilities, an Air Force spokesman said yesterday.

Uneven burning in an operational missile would affect its range and accuracy.

The Air Force said the difficulty did not affect the force of more than 600 minuteman missiles now operational in the Strategic Air Command.

★ ★ ★

It said the two upper-stage motors which burned unevenly had been built to changed specifications and "failed to meet high-quality requirements" when subjected to test firing during the production phase.

Business Boom Changing Fabled Quiet Atmosphere of Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Coconut trees have given way to concrete but the ocean remains blue and skies sunny as Hawaii celebrates its fifth year as a state.

The youngest state in the union maintains its leisurely atmosphere, but now as a modern American metropolis in the subtropical mid-Pacific.

★ ★ ★

Hawaii's business and government leaders are excited by the rapid growth of the past five years and speak optimistically about the promise of the future. But others grumble in despair at the high cost of such progress. Some complain that the 50th state is changing in ways that would destroy it.

★ ★ ★

Hawaii, said author Philip Wylie, may soon become a "jammed up shambles of hives for human beings, interrupted by petrochemical complexes, bowling alley monstrosities, city dumps and rocket launching pads."

ROMANTIC SIDE

But officials say such critics may be seeing only the romantic side — the fabled Polynesia that cannot exist in this day and age.

They cite a Hawaii Visitors Bureau prediction that 500,000 tourists will flock to the 50th state this year, spending $221 million. And there must be hotels to house them.

★ ★ ★

By contrast, five years ago there were less than half as many visitors — 243,000 — and tourist income was $109 million.

Since statehood day — Aug. 21, 1959 — the state has grown by more than 100,000 persons.

STEP FORWARD

Honolulu Mayor Neal S. Blaisdell cited improvement in communications with Washington, D.C., through direct representation in Congress as a big step forward.

As a territory, Hawaii had on the whole been treated fairly by Congress, he said, but a voteless delegate was relatively impotent on showdown positions.

★ ★ ★

"This political impact — two senators, two representatives — was immediate and profound," the retired editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, Riley Allen, said. "Hawaii now has an effective voice and votes in both houses of Congress."

Industrialist Lowell Dillingham summed up the meaning of statehood by describing it as similar to a young man's 21st birthday.

ADULT MEMBER

"The man is basically the same individual as before, but he is now an adult and a fully accepted, responsible member of society," said the head of Hawaii's giant Dillingham Corp.

★ ★ ★

He said statehood has helped expand employment opportunities and "it has given Hawaii the political strength it deserves to influence its future development and to contribute its heritage as a mature member of a great nation's family of 50 states."

★ ★ ★

In addition to political representation, pineapples, sugar, Waikiki Beach, vital military installations, and active volcanoes, the state maintains comparative racial harmony.

"Statehood has brought worldwide attention to Hawaii as the American community with the most outstanding record in race relations," the state's senior U.S. senator, Hiram Fong, said.

SHINING SHOWCASE

"To the vast Pacific world, in which Hawaii is the center, our islands are the shining showcase of democracy, a fact which statehood has emphasized to the entire world," Fong, the first U.S. senator of Chinese ancestry, added.

Hawaii's other senator, Daniel K. Inouye, was the first Japanese-American to be elected to the U.S. Senate.

★ ★ ★

With statehood came increasing thousands of tourists. Coconut trees gave way to concrete high-rise structures which now dot the shadow of famed Diamond Head.

One of Hawaii's original boosters and investors is industrialist Henry J. Kaiser who continues to see nothing but good in the 50th state's future, especially in tourism.

TOURIST INCREASE

Kaiser forecasts an increase in tourist travel to one million visitors a year around 1970 and predicted the state's population will reach a million at that time. It now stands at approximately 730,500.

The bulk of these people live on Oahu Island where Honolulu is located. Neighboring island communities are just beginning to develop.

★ ★ ★

The state's tourist facilities have overflowed Waikiki and moved to rural Oahu and to the outer islands. There were 5,494 hotel rooms in 1958. The number now stands at more than 11,400 with more under construction.

Nevertheless, the greatest source of revenue for the islands remains federal defense expenditures which totaled about $369 million in 1963.

The business picture is bright, too.

Statehood has not changed the character of the economy but rather it has accelerated the total economic growth, especially growth in investments, new industry and tourism.

The advent of statehood stimulated the interest of mainland investors in Hawaii and the volume of their investments has increased.

The Bank of Hawaii reports that since statehood, insurance company investments in Hawaii have more than doubled, from slightly less than $200 million in 1959 to just over $400 million in 1963.

★ ★ ★

The growth in manufacturing in Hawaii is more evidence of the impact of statehood. From an annual volume of $133 million in 1959, manufacturing has nearly doubled to a volume of $225 million last year.

Gov. John A. Burns is pushing for a free trade zone here.

★ ★ ★

"Statehood for Hawaii was a most positive step for our economy in many areas of growth," airline executive Jack Magoon Jr., said. "And Hawaii's glamour as a U.S. vacationland was enhanced a thousand times by the opportunity to visit a 'sister state'."

AP Photofax

WILL PARADISE LAST? — Huge hotels and apartments are springing up in Honolulu, where once coconuts grew, as demonstrated in a recent view of the city with Diamond Head in the background. Today is the fifth anniversary of the island's statehood.

Fighting Forces in Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) —Fighting flared anew in the southwest coastal region of Johore State today amid indications an Indonesian invasion force that landed there last Monday was larger than originally estimated.

★ ★ ★

The defense ministry announced two more invaders were killed in a half-hour gun battle in which one Malaysian trooper also was slain.

This raised to five the number of Indonesians killed since the invading party debarked on the Malayan mainland. They have killed two Malaysian soldiers.

The ministry statement said several of the invading force were wounded in the day's battle, but managed to escape.

★ ★ ★

Government estimates of the original Indonesian strength ranged from 30 to 40 men. But unofficial reports have listed as many as 34 taken prisoner, besides those killed. The defense ministry has refused to issue any figures on the number of invaders put out of action.

Educational Aim Praised

Poverty Program Spurs Hopes

By JACK MARTIN

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — The antipoverty legislation just signed by President Johnson means a crack in the wall of despair to some in this depressed area.

Much more is needed, but residents are particularly happy about the educational aim of the bill, one observer said today.

★ ★ ★

"Vocational school has helped us no end," she said.

A major provision of the bill is to help school dropouts resume their education, aid needy college students with part-time work and provide training for jobless youths.

ONE EXAMPLE

As one example of training, 60 vocational graduates recently got jobs at a tourist lodge in a nearby state park. They had trained in subjects ranging from mechanics to waitress work.

"Sixty out of a little town like Hazard is a lot," was one comment.

★ ★ ★

"Vocational education is very important, the main thing," said State Sen. William Engle of Hazard.

★ ★ ★

But he and others agree the main hope of this area is the Appalachian recovery bill pending in Congress.

ROADS NEEDED

The major need, Engle said, is roads. This is promised in the Appalachian bill — a $840-million network of development highways to replace narrow, worn roads that keep the region isolated from modern America.

In North Carolina, Gov. Terry Sanford said "the state of North Carolina and the entire nation will benefit considerably" under the antipoverty bill.

Even though state antipoverty action is under way, he said, "there are many things possible which would not have been possible under our state program."

The antipoverty bill also includes loans to low-income families to improve farm operations.

HALF OF FAMILIES

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky testified before Congress that half the families in 61 Kentucky counties have annual incomes of $3,000 or less — the yardstick used by the administration to determine poverty.

The Appalachia proposals, he said, are needed to help rebuild the physical resources of Eastern Kentucky. The antipoverty program, he added, will help the state develop its human resources.

Says U.S. Becoming Nation of Snoopers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., said today that Americans are fast becoming "a nation of snoopers," assaulting each other's privacy both psychologically and electronically.

Gallagher has been named chairman of a special three-man House subcommittee set up to study whether government agencies are invading the privacy of Americans in violation of their constitutional rights.

The New Jersey Democrat said his panel also would attempt to find out if private business has gone too far with its hidden cameras, two-way mirrors and other devices designed to combat thievery and rubber checks in stores and banks.

Gallagher said new laws may be needed to require that the public at least be made aware of being watched.

In the governmental field, Gallagher said the House unit planned to inquire into such things as "mail stops," whether income tax forms are really kept confidential, and methods used by federal agencies in conducting investigations "with particular attention to any unwarranted or illegal invasion of individual privacy."

RECORDS IDENTITY

A "mailstop" is when the post office, at the request of another government agency, records the identity of persons sending mail to certain individuals.

While the post office is not permitted to open mail, Gallagher said there is a question as to whether the practice is an invasion of privacy.

"We are fast becoming a nation of snoopers," Gallagher said. "The techniques and gadgets that for so many years were associated with international cloak-and-dagger operators like Mata Hari are widely used today, not only by the police and government investigators, but by respectable businessmen and untold numbers of private investigative agencies, some respectable, some not.

★ ★ ★

"In my opinion, we have come to the point where we must determine whether the privacy to which an individual is entitled is adequately protected," he said.

PUBLIC HEARINGS

Gallagher said his subcommittee would begin some staff investigative studies now with the aim of holding public hearings early next year.

Gallagher said the snooping situation has got so bad that manufacturers of various surveillance devices now are offering them for sale on the mass market.

He said a New York newspaper advertised a device last week for $4.95 that permits persons to listen in on telephone conversations.

Junior Editors Quiz on GIRAFFES

QUESTION: Why can't a giraffe make any sound?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Actually, giraffes are not completely voiceless. Zoo keepers and hunters have heard them, at certain times, make a mooing sound.

But it is true the giraffe rarely uses his voice, the reason being that his voice box, or "larynx" where sound is produced in animals and people, is very poorly developed.

But then, the giraffe does not need such an ability. He is talented in other ways. His eyesight, hearing and sense of smell are all very keen, and from the lofty position where he holds his head, he can look far away and see danger coming before they get too close.

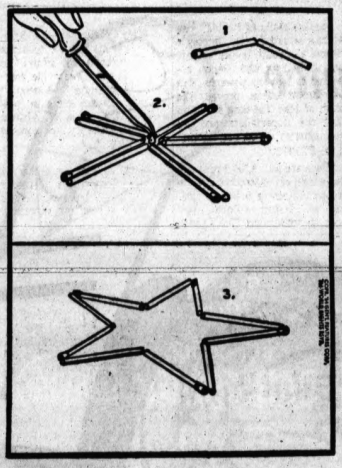

Then, too, his checkerboard body pattern makes him difficult to see when feeding in foliage, which sunlight turns into a checkerboard pattern similar to his own (B).

When galloping, he can outrun most horses, making up to 35 miles an hour. Giraffes also run by "pacing"—moving the legs of the same side forward at the same time. (C).

Lastly, giraffes can take care of themselves in combat. They have dynamite in all four hoofs and can swing that long neck as it it were a club. Their heads act as weights at the end and can deliver a blow of tremendous force.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Guess how many vertebrae there might be in a giraffe's enormous neck. The answer is seven.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: The Moving Matches.

DO THIS: Break each match in the center, and arrange them as shown, so that the broken pieces touch.

Let a drop of water fall so that all the breaks are touched by the water. The matches should not be broken completely in two parts.

Slowly, the matches will begin to move until they have formed a star.

HERE'S WHY: This is an example of capillary action. The water moves by capillary action into the dry wood, swelling the cells.

The swelling tends to make the matches straighten out somewhat.

Get the new collection of these science tricks. Look for it in bookstores under the name "Science Circus No. 2." Fleet of New York is the publisher.

Reinforced Congo Troops Battling Back Against the Rebels

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The hard-pressed Congo Army, reinforced with troops and supplies, battled today against Communist-backed rebels threatening Bukavu, last key northeastern city in government hands.

The fighting 1,000 miles east of this capital went on as the fate of three Americans reported missing in Bukavu remained unknown.

★ ★ ★

In Washington, the U.S. role in the Congo was apparently due for high-level review. G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, arrived home Thursday night to report on his talks here with Premier Moise Tshombe.

Reports on the battle of Bukavu were sketchy.

TROOPS FERRIED

U.S. Air Force transport planes ferried reinforcements Thursday to the Congo Army garrison of 800 men, who were last reported losing ground in the besieged city. Radio messages said the rebels had pushed back Col. Leonard Mulamba's troops into Bukavu's European sector.

A message to the U.N. said the missing Americans may have been captured. But there was no official word.

They are Vice Consul Lewis R. Macfarlane, 25, Seattle, Wash., and two Army officers attached to the U.S. military mission in the Congo, Col. William A. Dodds, 50, and Lt. Col. Donald V. Rattan, 40, Alexandria, Va.

★ ★ ★

Earlier, the six-man U.S. Embassy staff, including Consul Richard Matherson, Fresno, Calif., crossed to the neighboring Republic of Rwanda.

WILLIAMS' TRIP

Williams' trip to the Congo, his 10th, coincided with an increase in U.S. aid to the shaky central government. More than 100 U.S. troops and four cargo planes arrived last week.

U.S. officials said the men and aircraft would be used only in rescue and support missions against the rebels. The new support, however, roused criticism. One U.S. senator charged the United States might be moving toward another Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Williams declined comment Thursday night on future U.S. involvement in the Congo, pending a report to President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. He said that the situation was "fluid."

He denied, however, that the United States had offered to underwrite the expenses of possible military support from other African nations. Tshombe has appealed to five African states for troops. His request has so far gone unanswered.

2,000 FREED

The government Thursday night freed more than 2,000 citizens of Brazzaville, the former French Congo, who had been rounded up by police to await expulsion.

Lord Mayor Boniface Zoao said the move did not mean that the government expulsion order against citizens of Brazzaville, the Kingdom of Burundi and the west African Republic of Mali had been rescinded. The Congo has accused the three governments of supporting the leftwing rebellion.

★ ★ ★

Zoao said freeing the Brazzaville citizens was only a temporary measure, but some sources said the order would quietly die. About 50,000 persons were affected but none was actually expelled.

★ ★ ★

Tshombe's government has complained to the Organization for African Unity in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia. Informed sources believed the expulsion order would be held up until the matter is brought to the attention of that body.

★ ★ ★

There have been widespread protests against the Leopoldville government's decision. Tshombe reportedly came under heavy diplomatic pressure.

Significant Aid Said Coming Across Border

China Using Brazzaville Regime as Base?

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Red Chinese influence is growing in the former French Congo. Peking agents seem intent on transforming it into a base for revolution in central and west Africa.

Brazzaville, capital of the Congo Republic, provides headquarters for what seems to be a mastermind committee of the rebellion in the other Congo, to the east, against the Leopoldville government.

★ ★ ★

Red China may see bright prospects for the spread of revolutionary violence from seeds planted in the two Congos. Portuguese Angola to the south is a prime target.

Rebels holding a large chunk of the eastern area of Leopoldville Congo, including the city of Stanleyville, refer to their forces as "The People's Liberation Army." The Red Chinese apply the same name to their army.

SIGNIFICANT HELP

Evidently, the anti-Leopoldville uprising gets significant help from Brazzaville, an important transport hub for all central Africa. It is headquarters for an organization called the National Council for Liberation of the Congo. This group issues communiques on the progress of rebellion in the neighboring Congo, and describes itself as devoted to "Lumumbism." Patrice Lumumba, a pro-Communist premier of Leopoldville, was murdered in 1961.

★ ★

Premier Moise Tshombe in Leopoldville complained this week of "interference from certain foreign countries in the service of Communist China, such as Brazzaville Congo and Burundi." Burundi is to the east of Leopoldville Congo.

The Brazzaville regime is headed by President Alfonse Massemba-Debat, who overthrew conservative Fulbert Youlou a year ago. While members of his cabinet make lurid Marxist pronouncements, Massemba-Debat seems to be treading water in a sea of confusion.

Massemba-Debat says he is for nonalignment, but looking forward to expanded relations with Red China to help build "scientific socialism" which will "oppose capitalism." Trade relations have been expanded. Brazzaville attracts high-powered delegations from Peking. Chou Chu-yeh, a foreign office expert on Africa, is ambassador.

The Chinese make their biggest appeal, evidently, to youth. Young men played a large part in the revolution last August "revolutionary committee," fan anti-white hatred.

★ ★ ★

People's Daily of Peking, with a show of satisfaction, quotes a Brazzaville youth leader as saying: "Not long ago Youlou appeared to be very powerful, but overthrown. This proved the truth of Mao Tze-tung's dictum that the imperialists and all reactionaries are paper tigers."

8,000 FRENCH

There are still 8,000 French in the nation of 800,000, but French troops protecting them, according to Massemba-Debat, will soon be withdrawn. The French civilians probably will go, too. Without France, Brazzaville faces economic chaos, but logic seems to have little to do with what goes on in many new African nations.

People's Daily says the Brazzaville regime plays a "positive role in international affairs" in Africa. It says Brazzaville energetically supports "the people" in other African areas in "advancing the cause of African people's solidarity to combat imperialism."

★ ★ ★

Translated, that can mean the Chinese Communists consider Brazzaville all but safely in the bag and a base for spreading violent revolution.

Last Words of Missing Envoy Told

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The mother of Lewis R. Macfarlane, U.S. vice consul missing in the eastern Congo, said Thursday he wrote to her: "Don't pray for me, mother. Pray for the Congo."

Mrs. Alan W. Macfarlane said the words were in one of two letters from her son which arrived a few days ago.

★ ★ ★

"He often wrote: To say there isn't any danger is ridiculous. We may be attacked at any moment.'

"He was in the airplane that was shot at over Stanleyville, he wrote us August 4. So they did not land. They went back to Bukavu."

RECENT LETTER

Mrs. Macfarlane said her son's most recent letter said the consulate had rented a house on Lake Kivu and had just moved there.

"He has a boat," she said. "And I'm hoping it might be a means of escape across the lake."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Macfarlane and her husband own a lumber company here. They last saw their son when they were returning from a European trip just before leaving for the Congo assignment in July 1963.

Takes Name of Al Jolson

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Harry Brown, who owns a small hamburger stand in Phoenix, legally became Al Jolson Jr. yesterday.

Superior Court Judge Henry S. Stevens made the name change official after Brown, 54, testified that he was not changing his name to defraud creditors.

Brown said earlier that he learned three years ago that he was the son of the late Al Jolson.

In his court petition, Brown said he was born July 10 in Brooklyn, N.Y., the son of Asa Jolson, known professionally as Al Jolson.

★ ★ ★

Blast Kills 2 Men at Powder Plant

KENVIL, N.J. (AP) — Two men were killed today when an explosion and fire destroyed an isolated powder storage building on the sprawling grounds of the Hercules Powder Co. plant.

A company official said fire broke out in the building at 7:43 a.m. and touched off brush fires in the area. He said the two victims were believed to be alone in the building at the time.

Names of the dead were withheld by the company pending notification of next of kin.

FREAK DEATH ACCIDENT — This steel beam which fell off a passing freight train killed two persons and injured five others near Kingman, Ariz., yesterday. The beam went through the windown of a Santa Fe Railway passenger coach like a spear.

'Argument Led Two Girls to Death'

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — But for the winning of an argument, the adopted daughter of Western stars Roy Rogers and Dale Evans and her 11-year-old seat-mate might be alive today, a minister suggested at the girls' twin funeral rites.

* * *

The Rev. Ralph M. Hoopes, pastor of Valley Presbyterian Church, told more than 300 mourners Thursday at the double funeral: "I understand Debbie and Joanne had an argument with two boys who were sitting in front of the bus beside the driver. The two girls wanted to sit in that seat, and two minutes before the crash they won their argument.

* * *

"They won that argument, I believe, because they had a rendezvous with the Lord," he said.

Deborah Lee Rogers, 12, a Korean orphan adopted by Rogers and Miss Evans in 1958, and Joanne Russell, were thrown through the windshield Monday when the bus blew a tire, crossed the highway and struck three cars.

* * *

Six persons in another car died in the accident on U.S. 101 near San Clemente, and 40 children on the 65-passeger church bus were injured.

ORPHANAGE VISIT

The bus was returning from a visit to an orphanage in Tijuana, Mexico, where the children took food and clothing.

School Desegregation Soon

Registration Quiet in Jackson, Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Desegregation came quietly to this Capital City's public school system.

Forty-three Negro children signed up Thursday to attend first grade classes in eight previously all-white elementary schools.

* * *

However, over-all registration was lower than expected.

At the all-Negro schools, only 567 first graders registered although officials had forecast an enrollment of 1,800.

REGISTRATION LOW

Registration of white pupils was also down, with 1,705 enrollments out of an expected 2,000.

School authorities and civil rights leaders said they had no explanation for the decrease.

With the four-hour registration period, Jackson — the state's largest city — became the second public school system in Mississippi to desegregate under federal court orders. Seventeen Negroes enrolled last week at formerly all-white schools at Biloxi.

Two other school systems face desegregation this fall. Leake County and Clarksdale will integrate first grade classes in September and Clarksdale will drop racial barriers in the second grade in February.

BEGIN SOON

No Negroes have actually attended classes with whites under the integration order. Negroes only registered here and at Biloxi. Classes begin here Sept. 14 while Biloxi schools open Aug. 31.

Mississippi was the last state to lower racial barriers in its tax-supported educational facilities below the college level.

Embroidered Swiss muslin tie-back curtains with ball fringe decorate a window at "Boscobel," restoration of an 1805 Hudson River villa, an example of Robert Adam-style architecture. These sheer curtains permit a sweeping view of the river but require virtually no maintenance.

This bay window library corner features pinch-pleated curtains of Stevens Wonder, a new fabric which can be washed and rehung in minutes without ironing.

Window Decor Revived by Easy-Care Fabrics

Development of elegant new easy-care fabrics is bringing a revival of dramatic window decor.

Dramatic swags, rich over-draperies, fluffy ruffled tiers — recently ignored for less complicated styles — are once again lending glamour, grace and softness to interior designs.

★ ★ ★

The trend toward more elegant window treatments is a direct result of new easy-care fabrics which eliminate hours of tedious washing and ironing.

★ ★ ★

The latest innovation is a super-sheer, stay-crisp, "no-iron" marquisette fabric which in September will be available in "Priscilla," criss-cross "Shirback," tiered or tailored style curtains.

DECORATORS APPROVE

Decorators, who for years have avoided elaborate or formal window designs in favor of easy-care functional treatments believe the new curtains will be an important factor in the trend toward more formal styles.

★ ★ ★

The extreme sheerness of the new curtains makes them quite versatile. Tailored or pinch-pleated styles are ideal as undercurtains with draperies and swirling swags for the most formal decor.

★ ★ ★

Tiered and ruffled styles are charming and add elegance to more casual interiors. "Priscillas" and sweeping criss-cross "Shirbacks" add feminine, misty softness and grace to almost any room.

Curtains made from the new fabrics are effective sunlight filters, yet will not deteriorate from sunlight or mildew.

WON'T FADE

They do not fade from sunlight, nor do they shrink or stretch. They are also fire-safe.

In addition to maintaining permanent crispness, the new marquisettes can be hand washed and re-hung, with no ironing, in seven minutes.

★ ★ ★

The pictures showing the new curtains were taken at "Boscobel," a restoration of an 1805 Hudson River villa and an example of Robert Adam-style architecture.

Originally located at Crugers, N. Y., the structure was moved in 1960, piece by piece, to its present location on a 36-acre bluff near Route 9D at Garrison-on-Hudson.

It's easy-care for a room with a great deal of use. The newest curtain fabric is used in this American-style family room, providing a softness in decor, light and air. Ruffled tier curtains and valance are Stevens Wonder-Glass 60, made from Fiberglas Beta yarns, and are the sheerest marquisettes ever created for consumer use.

'Recipe Hound' at 84

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Six bushels of spinach and 400 center-cut pork chops was just the beginning of a weekly food order when Elizabeth Bemis was head dietitian at Cranbrook School.

★ ★ ★

Her blue eyes twinkled as she recalled ordering 150 pounds of turkey and 120-150 pounds of beef (depending on the cut) plus three to five cases of eggs each week.

★ ★ ★

"When things were normal and the Detroit Lions weren't in training at Cranbrook we served some 1,000 meals a day," she explained.

"There were day students for the noon meal besides the three-a-day for some 300 to 400 residents, also faculty members, wives and children who were older than five."

1,000 POUNDS OF FLOUR

During her regime from 1930-1948, Miss Bemis told of ordering 1,000 pounds of white flour each month, besides cornmeal, graham flour and cake flour for the baking of bread, coffee cake or whatever.

★ ★ ★

"Before the war," she added, "we served lots of cream to the students and staff. We found equal parts of milk and coffee cream a substitute for our modern 'half-and-half' for cereals and fruits."

★ ★ ★

The boys were asked to eat something of everything on their plate and the use of fruits and vegetables was stressed. There was no limit on the milk consumed.

★ ★ ★

When Miss Bemis first went to Cranbrook, meals were served on white linen place mats, and napkins hand-monogrammed "CS." Today's paper napkins and no place-mats have ended this tremendous laundry chore.

BOYS HELP

Nowadays, the boys assist with serving the food and clearing the tables.

Born in Portland, Mich. Miss Bemis attended school in Ionia, received a bachelor of science degree in home economics from Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

At Columbia University and University of Wisconsin, she did graduate work in foods and institutional management.

Now happily retired at 84, she admits to still being a 'recipe hound,' bakes all of her own bread and helps tend zinnia and petunia beds at her Birmingham home.

ENJOYS CONCERTS

She enjoys concerts and the Symphony.

★ ★ ★

You'd never guess it, but Miss Bemis loses herself in adventure stories by Gerald Durell. Her favorites are "Wild Animals for the London Zoo," "The Drunken Forest," "Overloaded Ark" and his "Three Tickets to Adventure."

★ ★ ★

She plays bridge, likes biographies, the National Geographic and news media.

Oct. 1 will find her on the way to live with an adopted daughter, Mrs. Walter Abramson in Hemet, Calif. It's some 60 miles from Los Angeles.

ONE SATISFACTION

One of the satisfactions of her career was developing other women to assume responsible positions in the food service field.

★ ★ ★

Alma Powell, who is taking over the dietetic work at Kingswood School worked under Miss Bemis for some seven years.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Leeta Schlaack, former head cook at Cranbrook, became assistant to Miss Bemis and is now in charge of food service in the Tawas City hospital.

Mrs. Homer Murphy and Mrs. Jeremiah Shinnick gave a recent farewell party for Miss Bemis in the former's home in Bloomfield Hills. There were some 65 guests from various parts of the state.

Pontiac Press Photo

A few hobbies and a continued interest in young people bring contentment to Elizabeth Bemis of Birmingham who was former head dietitian at Cranbrook School.

All Right to Ask Kin About Gift

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: At the time my husband and I were married, an aunt on my husband's side promised us a wedding gift of sterling silver tableware.

As of this time — six months later — we have not received it. Should I write or call to remind her about the silver or must I just sit and wait and do nothing?

★ ★ ★

We can't wait much longer, however, because we do need it for entertaining.

It's not a problem of money with her because she is well situated.

A: If it was anyone else but a close relative, you could not possibly do anything about it.

But since she is your husband's aunt, he can certainly speak freely to her and explain your need of the silver and ask whether she still intends to give it to you, adding that he will understand if she has changed her mind, but that he would like to know before going out and buying it himself.

Q: When dining with a woman friend in a restaurant that has booths, should I sit facing her or do I take my place beside her?

★ ★ ★

A: If the table is narrow, you sit facing her; if it is wide, you sit beside her.

Q: My daughter is going to be married at home. Is it necessary to have chairs for the guests to sit on during the ceremony, or do they stand?

★ ★ ★

A: Unless your house is very large and chairs can be arranged as in a church, guests are seldom seated at a house wedding, although a few chairs are always left standing near by for elderly members of the family or others who cannot stand.

How and when to introduce people seems to puzzle many. The Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Introductions," gives helpful information on this subject.

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Cheers, Tears Seen at Airport Reunion

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

At the Detroit Metropolitan Airport Wednesday morning parents and friends gathered from various places in Michigan to meet their own young people or a foreign student who would be spending the coming school year with them.

★ ★ ★

The "Flying Tiger" — plane had been delayed and not until late in the afternoon did it arrive. It was a patient crowd and when their son or daughter arrived, the cheers were heard and sometimes tears were shed.

★ ★ ★

Mary Weir, daughter of the Robert C. Weirs of Cranbrook Road had been spending the summer in Germany. She had also visited a week in Malmo, Sweden, at the home of her Swedish sister-to-be, Eva Peters. Mary arrived on Wednesday and at the airport to meet her was Eva who came to the Weir home on Sunday.

Susan Cargill, daughter of the Don A. Cargills had spent the summer at Eva Kramming's home in Saltsjobaden, Sweden. She and Eva arrived together. Later this week they will join the Cargills and son John, for a visit to Cape Cod before school starts.

ON PLANE

On the plane, too was Michael Bennett. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bennett and his friend Tim Caul were at the airport to meet him.

★ ★ ★

Mike had spent the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Tore Berg at their farm in Guldsmedshyttan, Sweden, with the Bergs' sons, Anders and Erik.

Anders came to spend the school year with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell of St. Joseph who were at the airport to meet him with their daughter Kathy and son Steve.

★ ★ ★

From Manistee, Saginaw, Ann Arbor, Detroit, the American families were there to greet their foreign son or daughter.

Preacher Lost Patience

A Shock to the Flock

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last Saturday I attended my cousin's wedding. It was a beautiful wedding, held in our church.

ABBY

During the ceremony the minister told the bride and groom he hoped that they would keep up their spiritual connections with the church.

Then he started bawling out all the guests because they came to church only when they wanted some service performed, such as a marriage or a christening, but that they never bothered about Sunday morning services.

It made the guests very uncomfortable. Do you think this was the proper time for the minister to have brought up that subject?

What was the matter with him anyway?

DISGUSTED

★ ★ ★

DEAR DISGUSTED: He was probably captivated by his captive audience.

Forgive him, for it shall be said that even a minister becomes sorely wearied of a depleted flock.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who divorced his first wife on the grounds of adultery.

All this took place before I met him. For some reason, which I have never been able to figure out, my husband's sister has kept up her friendship with my husband's "X."

What really irritates me is having my sister-in-law bring up my husband's "X" in every conversation.

★ ★ ★

I've never met the "X" and have no interest in her or her activities.

NO FIGHTER

★ ★ ★

DEAR NO: Tell your sister-in-law you want no more news of your husband's "X."

If she persists, X her off your list.

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl 14 years of age, who weighs about 30 pounds too much, go about getting the weight off?

NEEDS IT

★ ★ ★

DEAR NEEDS: The same way a girl (or boy) of ANY age goes about it.

First she sees a doctor. Then she does exactly what the doctor tells her to do.

Cranbrook Art Display

Uses of light in contemporary painting will be shown in an exhibition at Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries Sept. 5 through Sept. 27.

★ ★ ★

Entitled "Moods of Light," the show is circulated by the American Federation of Arts. Selection of the 12 artists included was based upon their unique ways of dealing with light as a means of evoking feeling.

As well as displaying the range of styles in the modern idiom in which light is rendered, the exhibition indicates specific tensions embodied in them.

★ ★ ★

The following catalog headings differentiate each artist according to his selective approach:

"Light as Pattern"; "Transmitted," "Reflected and Mechanical Light;" "Change of Light Created by the Movement of the Spectator"; "Phosphorescent Light"; "Light Which Destroys Form"; "The Mystery of Darkness"; "The Half-Light of Dreams"; "Overexposure"; "Source of Light from Within;" "Actual Cast Shadows"; "Silhouette"; and "Color as Its Own Source of Light."

★ ★ ★

Artists represented in the exhibition are Lester Johnson, Dorothy Golobe, Angelo Savelli, Tibor Freund, Sari Dienes, Henry Billings, John Heliker, Robert Kipniss, Jerrold Maddox, Ricardo Martinez, Bob Thompson and Larry Zox.

The galleries are open from 2 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. They are closed Monday and major holidays. There is an admission fee.

A recent graduate of the Highland Park General Hospital School of Nursing is Linda L. Brown. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brown of South Marshall Street.

PONTIAC MALL MIRACLE MILE

Lean or Stout— Does It Make a Difference?

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — A study to determine whether being lean or stout makes any difference in how well women adjust to heat, and also how their tolerance stacks up with men's is being conducted by scientists at the Pennsylvania State University.

The research being conducted in Penn State's new Laboratory for Human Performance Research, is using seven women volunteers in a special environmental room resembling desert conditions.

The temperature remains near 115 degrees and the humidity is low. Some of the women in the test are lean and some are stout.

Three times a week they enter the "desert" room for two hours and alternately walk 20 minutes and rest 20 minutes until they have walked the equivalent of one hour.

When testing first began, all of the stout women had to leave the chamber before their three walks were completed, while only one of the lean women had to be removed.

Polly's Pointers

Tip on Boiling Eggs

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I keep a short, sharp ice pick (stored with a cork over the point) in my untensil drawer and use it to make a minute opening in the broad end of an egg just before boiling it.

This lets the air in and it does not break.

★ ★ ★

Dishes washed in detergents are better rinsed in cool or cold water. The foam rinses off better and everything dries without spots. — MRS. E. W. H.

DEAR POLLY — Honestly, it doesn't matter when you dye your stockings to make those lovely sweaters out of nylon hose. Try my method.

I carry a white thread, usually No. 50 sewing thread, along with the strip of hose as I knot. Hold the nylon just a bit loose.

This makes a lovely, fluffy stitch and the thread relieves the nylon from so much strain and prevents a runner becoming a hole.

★ ★ ★

If the hose are different in color when stripped, use them without dyeing for a muted tweed effect.

If you do not plan to dye the finished sweater, use a colored mercerized thread to carry along with the nylon.

The little it shows will add an attractive glint. With nylon stocking sweaters so popular, it looks like I will soon be sockless.

★ ★ ★

I bet I have had my name, or nickname longer than you have had yours. — AUNT POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — The other day I discovered the easy way to keep a bandage in place on a finger or toe so that the salve stays.

★ ★ ★

Simply apply nail polish to the nail, wrap and as the polish dries, it secures the bandage. — T.T.

DEAR POLLY — When changing the water in a small fish bowl, put a hair net over the top of the bowl before pouring the water down the drain. It keeps the goldfish from following the water. — MARY

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It would be profitable to analyze your face in order to use makeup in a way most flattering to you individually. It works like real magic!

Beautiful eyes can make an otherwise plain face fascinating. Many women who have small eyes are unhappy about it. Much can be done to make the small eye appear larger.

★ ★ ★

For instance, eye shadow should be used carefully, and somewhat sparingly. It should be applied close to the lashes. Do not bring it all the way in to the inner corner of the eye. An eye liner on the upper lids from inside to outside corner helps make the eyes look larger.

This is one time when a very light line under the lower lashes is in order. Mascara should not be used on the upper lashes near the nose. It should be applied, very lightly, to the lower lashes from midway to the outer corners.

If you have very deep set eyes you must literally light them up. Your brows should not be too heavy or they will overpower the eyes even more.

Never use a dark eye shadow. One of the light shadows will be helpful. Blend it on the lids.

When compensating for both the deep set eye and the small eye, draw the liner out a little past the outer corners of the eyes.

★ ★ ★

The advise to use two shades of makeup on a large nose is perhaps helpful, but it is more important to make the nose seem smaller by contrast. In other words the hairdo should be full.

CLEVER MAKEUP

You can also draw attention away from the nose by highlighting the eyes with clever makeup.

If your mouth is too thin, use a lipstick brush to outline it to fuller proportions. Use a darker color for the outline and fill in with a slightly lighter shade.

If you would like to have my free leaflet, "What's Going On?" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Despite Cure, Trichinosis Still Takes Toll

BRANDSTADT

When the cause of a disease and effective preventive measures have been known for more than 100 years, it should come as a shock to learn that some 27 million persons in the United States have that disease.

Yet this is the case with trichinosis, an infestation with a microscopic worm. Fortunately, it is so mild in most of the victims that they don't know they have it.

In man it is caused by eating raw or inadequately cooked products from hogs which are infested with trichinae.

The worm in a resting stage becomes encysted in the animal's muscles and, when the pork is eaten, the digestive juices dissolve the cysts and the worms become active in the intestinal tract.

Although they do not harm directly, they leave behind myriads of youngsters (larvae) that penetrate the intestinal wall and are carried in the blood or lymph stream to the muscles of the victim.

There they in turn go into a resting stage but if there are enough of them they set up an inflammatory reaction.

This causes the victim to have fever, weakness, headache and soreness in the involved muscles.

A massive infestation may even cause death or death may be caused by a high concentration of the parasites in the heart muscle.

★ ★ ★

Until recently, there was no cure for this disease but thiabendazole, a drug that has long been used to treat a variety of infestations in animals.

It has now been tried on a human subject with excellent results. The best treatment, however, is still prevention and this consists of refusing to eat any pork products that have not been thoroughly cooked.

Of course, pork found on government inspection to be infested is condemned.

There are still some persons who have a decided preference for raw pork and even they can protect themselves by storing the meat in a deep freeze at 0 degrees for 24 hours or at 5 degrees for three weeks.

Pentagon Is on the Verge of Killing Mobile Missile

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon is on the verge of killing its Mobile Medium Range Ballistic Missile (MMRBM) program after investing more than $100 million in the project.

Once described by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara as one of the major developments started during the Democratic administration, the MMRBM was advocated by the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Supreme Allied Commanders in Europe as an essential replacement for obsolescent aircraft and older missiles.

The MMRBM, under development by the Air Force, was to be highly mobile, nuclear-armed rocket for use on land or sea with a range of between 500 and 1,500 miles.

Cancellation of the project seemed likely to stir mutual recriminations between Congress and the Defense Department.

★ ★ ★

Each has blamed the other for certain failures in pressing the project. This year, Congress decided to cut to $40 million the department's request for $110 million for the MMRBM.

CONGRESS ACTION

The decision to kill the project originates in the congressional action, since $40 million is not considered sufficient to continue development work.

It was understood that letters have been prepared informing contractors that when their present contracts run out, there will be no renewals.

Some sources said the Pentagon may not announce the ending of the project but, instead may state that it is being "reoriented."

REQUEST FULFILLED—Diane Richards of Dalton, Ga., smiles yesterday as she leaves for Washington to visit President Kennedy's grave, something she has wanted to do since she watched the late President's funeral on television. It may be the fulfillment of a last request for Diane, who doesn't know she has a fatal disease. Doctors say Diane, who has lost all her teeth from the affliction, will die soon.

U.S. Awaits Protest Reply in Firing on Army Vehicle

BERLIN (UPI) — The United States today awaited a Soviet reply to its protests that a Soviet sentry fired two bursts with a submachine gun on a U. S. Army patrol car in East Berlin Sunday.

The United States warned the Soviets Wednesday that the incident "could lead to extremely serious consequences." Officials said there was no reaction from the Soviets when the two U. S. protest notes were delivered, and it was not known when a reply would be made.

The sentry did not hit the Army automobile or its four occupants. He fired about 10 rounds at a quarter-mile range from his guard post outside a Russian barracks on a street in suburban East Berlin.

U. S. officials were puzzled by the incident. They said it did not fit in with the conciliatory attitude taken in recent months by the Soviets in their Berlin dealings with the West.

This new attitude was seen as a part of Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's plan to relax cold war tensions.

CLEARS POST

Shortly after the incident was made public yesterday, a U. S. Army convoy cleared Soviet control posts in East Germany without trouble.

The convoy of 80 men in 22 trucks went from West Berlin to West Germany in one of the frequent routine moves through 110 miles of East German territory. These moves serve both to rotate troops assigned to Berlin and to reassert Western access rights to the city.

The U. S. Army patrols in East Berlin are another means of stressing the Western right to freedom of movement in all parts of the city, Communist and allied.

* * *

The car fired on Sunday night was in a suburban area about eight miles east of the Communist wall. The U. S. protests said that the area was not restricted, that the car had a right to be there and that the action of the sentry was unprovoked and undisciplined.

Beatles Call Vegas Teens Less Unruly

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Beatles head for Seattle today after proving this gambling city isn't just an adult playground.

Sixteen thousand screaming teen-agers mobbed two performances by the quartet Thursday night at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Despite the din, Beatle John Lennon said later: "The kids here weren't as unruly as kids in some other cities we've been to."

Security-minded authorities met the Beatles' plane and hustled the quartet down back roads in sheriff's cars with lights off.

One fan even offered a photographer $10 for the electrical cord to his camera "because it was used to photograph the Beatles."

Mrs. Shriver Is Hospitalized

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Eunice Kennedy Shriver, sister of the late President Kennedy, has been hospitalized in Philadelphia, but the University of Pennsylvania Hospital says her condition is satisfactory.

Her husband, R. Sargent Shriver, Director of the U.S. Peace Corps, said he did not know the exact nature of his wife's illness. A spokesman for the hospital said tests were being made.

Mrs. Shriver, 43, became ill at Philadelphia's International Airport as she was about to board a plane for Boston after visiting a city day camp for retarded children.

She is executive vice president of the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation, which contributes money to the camp.

Tough to Please All, Platform Unit Finds

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — If you want to learn how difficult we taxpayers are to please, drop in on a meeting of a political platform committee.

Problems, problems, everybody has problems.

* * *

The Democrats moved in from Washington Thursday — this may be the only itinerant platform committee in history — to continue hewing, planing and sanding the party planks. And by breaking up into three panels, they managed to hear about such questions as:

Why must the tax on women's handbags be continued? Why does the government call handbags a luxury when every woman knows they're a necessity?

SCHOOL PRAYERS

What about the Supreme Court and prayers in public schools?

And did you know the number of post offices in this country is decreasing alarmingly?

* * *

The national convention opens Monday.

Sometime between now and early next week the Democrats must come up with a platform that they hope will take into account everyone's worries, will appeal to all and will offend nobody.

LARGE GALLOP

To see how difficult this is, let's drop in on Panel 1. It's galloping through foreign policy, immigration, national defense and the Constitution, which is a fairly large gallop.

Charles W. Winegarner, representing the Citizens Congressional Committee of Los Angeles, has the podium. He says his committee is made up of "numerous groups concerned with the fact that a recent Supreme Court decision has, for all practical purposes, outlawed the right of our children to experience devotions in public schools."

* * *

Winegarner wants a constitutional amendment that would, in effect, nullify the court's decision. He says a lot of congressmen are concerned, too.

And he tosses off a list that begins with Speaker John W. McCormack, who will be chairman of this convention, and includes Sen. Barry Goldwater and Rep. William E. Miller.

This doubtless is the only time when the Republican presidential and vice presidential candidates will be mentioned approvingly at this Democratic gathering.

LACK OF MEMORY

But Franklin C. Salisbury also is here, representing the Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, usually called simply by the initial POAU.

He says of those who would amend the Constitution on this point: "Their sincerity is matched by their lack of memory, their ignorance of history, and their unwillingness to think the problem through."

* * *

Now on to Panel 2, which worries over economy, business, labor, agriculture and natural resources. And, of course, women's handbags.

This tax was put on during the war, and several witnesses said it's time it was dropped. Here there was no opposition, at least publicly.

Panel 3 looks after health, education, welfare, urban affairs and government operations.

Ground-Breaking Set

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Gov. George Romney will speak Wednesday at ground-breaking ceremonies for a $321,000 all-faith chapel on the grounds of Traverse City State Hospital. Hospital spokesmen said Thursday Koenig Construction Co. of Traverse City had been awarded the general construction contract.

News From Around the World

Notorious Fugitive Not Aboard Yacht

HOLYHEAD, Wales (AP) — Two fugitives from a reform school who sparked the Royal Navy to action in the Irish Sea were booked today on charges of stealing a yacht.

The 75-ton yacht Wild Venture, intercepted Thursday night, yielded up two snoozing young men instead of the escaped train robber believed to be aboard.

★ ★ ★

When the yacht disappeared Thursday, police suspected the hijacker might be Charles Wilson, who escaped last week from prison. He was serving a 30-year sentence for taking part in the $7-million train robbery a year ago.

The Royal Navy and Royal Air Force took off in hot pursuit. But they were beaten by a British railways ferryboat. The yacht's sails were furled and its engines on automatic pilot. The bow was pointed toward the Irish Coast, only 12 miles away.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Six days after it was taken over, the U.S. Library and Information Center in Jogjakarta remains under Indonesian control.

★ ★ ★

An American Embassy spokesman said today Indonesian officials are still refusing to discuss the matter.

The library was seized by the semiofficial National Front Organization, which promptly closed it.

LONDON (AP) — British officials have discovered that fleas caused a serious drop in the production of a big railway carpenter shop.

An investigation was ordered when an efficiency expert discovered the 36 staff carpenters spent much of their time scratching themselves.

★ ★ ★

An official of the government-run railways made this announcement Thursday: "Questioning revealed the men were scratching because they itched. And further investigation showed they itched because they'd been bitten by some thing."

Further investigation revealed that the fleas came from the nine cats living in the shop.

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP) — Pakistan said today it thought the United States withdrew a $5-million loan offer because of Pakistan's relations with Communist China.

The parliamentary secretary for defense told the National Assembly that the United States withdrew the loan offer "presumably because Pakistan at present has relations with Communist China."

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — The American trailer caravan which has been snaking through the Soviet Union for the past three weeks crossed into Finland Thursday night.

Caravan leader Andrew Jones of Los Angeles, Calif., told Finnish newsmen: "No accidents and no births in the Soviet Union — the average age is still 64 years."

Most owners of the 34 trailers are retired professional men and their wives.

Starving Boy Said Prisoner

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A naked, starving 5-year-old boy found locked in a darkened room apparently had been kept prisoner there for years, police say.

Ambulance attendants who took the boy to a hospital said he moaned, screamed and clapped his hands to his face to shield his eyes from people or any movement.

★ ★ ★

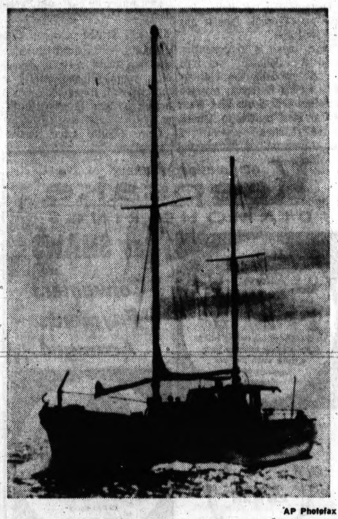

They said they found him Thursday night in a stuffy room, furnished only with a filthy mattress.

A neighbor was said to have discovered the boy and summoned police.

★ ★ ★

Police refused to identify the boy or give any details pending an investigation. The boy was placed in a police-guarded hospital ward.

Ambulance attendants said the boy suffered from malnutrition and rickets.

YACHT BOARDED — The 75-ton yacht "Wild Venture" was caught and boarded yesterday by British autorities in the belief that Charles Frederick Wilson, one of robbers in Britain's celebrated train holdup, was aboard. Instead of the escaped criminal, two sleeping young men were found.

Striking Teamsters Okay Agreement

SAGINAW (AP)—Members of Teamsters Union Local 486 who have been on strike since Aug. 8 Thursday ratified an agreement reached Wednesday between the union and operators of ready-mix concrete plants.

★ ★ ★

Terms of a new four-year contract between 150 transit drivers and operators of ready-mix concrete plants were not disclosed.

1 Killed, 1 Hurt in Crash

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Rose W. Drew, 62, of Ypsilanti, was killed and her husband, Paul, 60, serious injured in a two-car collision in western Wayne County Thursday.

A research physician believes that people can be conditioned to endure higher extremes of heat than is commonly supposed up to 130 to 150 degrees for varying periods of time.

To Los Angeles Police

Beatle Invasion Bothersome

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—The Los Angeles police wish this was the weekend that wasn't. The Beatle invasion begins Sunday when the British quartet set down their chartered airplane at an undesignated field. The plan is for them to radio in their destination shortly before their arrival from British Columbia, just to avoid a mob scene—they hope.

THOMAS

They will have a news conference at the Cinnamon Cinder night club in the San Fernando Valley, then leave for the concert at the Hollywood Bowl. Its 22,000 seats were sold out hours after they went on sale two months ago. One pair of down-front tickets reportedly went for $1,500 on the black market.

Turned down by leading hotels, the Beatles are said to be staying at the home of a television executive. They are scheduled to appear Monday night at a party attended by movie stars and others who are permitted to bring their children. All will pay $25 a head to benefit the Hemophilia Foundation, Security also surrounds the location of the party; it won't be known until hours before the affair.

The Beatles fly out late Tuesday or early Wednesday, not a bit too soon for the local peace officers.

Venice, Calif., seemed like a good location for the Venice, Italy tragedy of "Othello," so the Theater-by-the-Sea put the classic on its summer schedule. Everything went wrong at this week's opening.

Desdemona quit at 4 p.m. before the opening and a sub was hastily called. Iago was another late recruit and had to read some of his scenes from the book. Jet planes seemed to delight in circling the outdoor arena.

But Shakespeare's genius prevailed, and the audience stayed to 12:45 to cheer the cast, with bravos for William Marshall's powerful Moor. Now "Othello" appears the hit of the season.

Julie Andrews finished "The Sound of Music" but is staying on for the world premiere of "Mary Poppins" next week. She reports: "It's Walt Disney's first premiere since 'Snow White' — isn't that amazing?"

Besides presenting his most ambitious live-action film, Disney has a special reason for the premiere and champagne reception: to stimulate interest and donors for Cal Arts, the school of the arts he is helping to found.

Kennedy Timetable Said Only Awaiting Wagner Backing

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has a timetable all set in his fight for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate from New York, informed sources said today.

★ ★ ★

The sources said it awaits only an expected endorsement of Kennedy by Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City, the state's top Democrat.

Kennedy's timetable, the sources said, would delay his resignation as attorney general until Sept. 1, date of the New York Democratic convention which will nominate the candidate to oppose Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

The attorney general would first resign as a Massachusetts delegate to the Democratic National Convention, which opens Monday in Atlantic City, N.J. He would be replaced by the wife of his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Kennedy, in his new role as a New Yorker, would attend only the last day of the national convention, in time for a program in honor of his late brother, President John F. Kennedy, and a quiet party in memory of Kennedy's successful drive for the presidential nomination four years ago.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy has county leader support from more than enough counties to give him the nomination at the New York convention.

STILL FIGHTING

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam, Kennedy's chief opponent, was still fighting to block the attorney general.

Stratton has promised a court test of Kennedy's eligibility as a nonresident if he can't stop him at the convention. Kennedy backers say he has only to establish residence here by election day to qualify.

★ ★ ★

Both the Kennedy and Stratton camps claimed new strength among New York delegates Thursday. New York City "reform" delegates caucused for two hours but failed to take any action for or against either man.

The intraparty fighting was no doubt a factor in Wagner's delay in approving Kennedy's entry into New York politics. The mayor returned Thursday from a flying trip to the Midwest with a stopover in Washington where he saw both President Johnson and Kennedy.

SECOND TERM

Keating announced Tuesday that he would seek a second term, running independently of the national Republican ticket headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Clare Boothe Luce, former congresswoman from Connecticut and former ambassador to Italy, was reported to be still considering seeking the Senate seat as the Conservative party candidate.

The New York Times said Goldwater had personally appealed to her to stay out of the race, fearing she would hurt Keating.

Sweden's King Denies Rumor

OSLO (UPI) — King Olav V today denied that his son and heir, Crown Prince Harald, had decided to marry a commoner.

Such a marriage for the 27-year-old prince could mean an end to the 1,100-year-old Norwegian monarchy because it might force him to give up his right to the throne.

Harald is King Olav's only heir. His sisters, Princesses Astrid and Ragnhild, both are married to commoners.

The government expressed no opposition to these marriages, but is believed to oppose Harald's marrying a commoner who would then become Norway's queen.

★ ★ ★

His girlfriend is reported to be 27-year-old Sonja Haraldsen, daughter of an Oslo dry goods merchant.

King Olav's terse statement said:

"In connection with the newspaper reports recently that Crown Prince Harald has decided to marry a commoner, it can be said that this is not the case and is not correct."

WHAT ABOUT ME? — Miss Rosemary O'Brien of Chicago is a member of the Chicago unit of the Cigar Smokers of America, even though women members are generally frowned upon. Miss O'Brien is active in the group and has been smoking cigars for four years.

Chicago Club Finds Room for Woman Cigar Smoker

BOSTON (AP) — Miss Rosemary O'Brien, red-haired and blue-eyed, sat across the dinner table in a Boston restaurant and said, "There's nothing like a fine cigar," as she put a panatela to her soft, full lips.

The reaction was immediate, but Miss O'Brien paid little attention.

★ ★ ★

"When you've been smoking cigars as I have for four years, you get accustomed to having other women look at you in disbelief," said Miss O'Brien.

"Strangely, women aren't as shocked as the men when I smoke my cigars in public. The men appear to be absolutely dumbfounded. In public I constantly hear one man whisper to another 'Do you see what I see?' "

UNWANTED GUEST

Miss O'Brien, in her early 30s and a resident of Kenmore Avenue, Chicago, came to Boston as an unwanted delegate to the fourth annual national convention of the Cigar Smokers of America, meeting today and Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The national organization — made up of humidors in eight cities — would rather not have women as members.

★ ★ ★

Miss O'Brien is in the unique position of having helped found the Chicago Humidor and expand its membership to more than 160.

★ ★ ★

What's more, she recruited two other women cigar smokers in the Chicago branch — Mrs. Peter Kelliher, wife of a prominent attorney, and Mrs. Thomas Klucznski, wife of a Chicago Appelate Court judge.

CLUB BYLAWS

All the other humidors abide by the bylaws that there be no women members.

Except for the group in Chicago, the humidors are made up of professional and business men who enjoy monthly dinner meetings and good fellowship under the universal rule of "no discussions about religion, politics or business."

★ ★ ★

"What's wrong with women?" asked Miss OBrien, who stands 5 feet 5 and says she measures 37-36-35.

"I smoke up to 10 cigars a day and like to be with men who smoke cigars. A lot of women are now taking up cigar smoking."

"My sister — Mrs. John McGrath of Winnetka, Ill. — used to have a hacking cough from cigarettes. Now she smokes only cigars."

★ ★ ★

Miss O'Brien says she started smoking cigars when she playfully took a puff of a cigar her date was smoking as they drove in a car.

★ ★ ★

"I enjoyed it," she said, "and I've been smoking cigars since that night four years ago."

★ ★ ★

"The smell of cigars," she continued, "to me means security, love, gentleness and wisdom. My father smokes cigars, and when I was younger I knew he was home from the cigar scent, and I felt secure."

★ ★ ★

Miss O'Brien devotes most of her time to Roman Catholic charities in Chicago — Margaret Etter Creche, Fidelistas and the women's board of the Sisters of St. Joseph of La Grange.

Wyoming Area Hit by Foot of Snow

LOVELL, Wyo. (AP) — A foot of snow fell in the Big Horn Mountains east of Lovell Thursday.

U.S. 14-alternate across the mountains was blanketed by snow and motorists were hampered by drifting conditions.

U.S. 212 along the Montana-Wyoming border over Beartooth Pass was reported closed for a time due to heavy snowfall. The 9,000-foot pass leads to the northeast entrance of Yellowstone National Park.

Lodge Is 'Astounded' by European Greeting

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —Henry Cabot Lodge said today European reaction during his visit to North Atlantic Treaty Organization countries has been "so favorable that it has astounded me."

Lodge, who is representing President Johnson, arrived from Amsterdam, the Netherlands, on his European mission to explain U.S. South Viet Nam and Far East policies to America's NATO allies.

The MARK
HERE'S THE TRUTH ABOUT "THE MARK." Because "THE MARK" deals with themes that are, to say the least, touchy, we were a little reluctant to discuss it frankly. We were more than hesitant to tell the story in our advertisements for fear of being accused of "sensationalism." And so we thought in vague general terms about the picture and its high quality. We want to be truthful and fair to this uncommon film. The words are blunt and dramatic. And they're words you don't have to be a psychiatrist to understand.

Sunflowers Are Eatable

By JOHN F. HUSSEY
United Press International

MOBILE, Ala.—It may not be long before products of the sunflower form an important part of the American diet.

This is the opinion of the Rev. Robert Owens-Howard, a Jesuit biologist, who says the once-rejected sunflower is enjoying a new vogue.

The sunflower, if properly cultivated and efficiently harvested, "is a highly nourishing and potentially great food source," says Father Owens-Howard. And it tastes good, too.

The Jesuit, who has made special studies of the plant, found there are nutritional benefits to be derived from almost every part of the sunflower.

★ ★ ★

The seed has more protein than soybeans or cottonseed. It also contains vitamin D, calcium, thiamine and niacin. When pressed, the seed yields oil for cooking, margarine and salad. Ground up, it produces flour.

PLANT'S POTENTIAL

Father Owens-Howard says Americans have chewed the nutlike seed for years without realizing its food value. Only recently have scientists come to know of the plant's potential.

The sunflower has no waste. The stalks can be made into food or processed into paper or fertilizer; the roots of one variety can be used for baking or in salads. There are more than 100 varieties of sunflower plants.

"In a generation or so," Father Owens-Howard said, "the plant could be one of the world's most important food crops, especially since it grows almost anywhere the sun can reach it and the temperature does not get too cold."

★ ★ ★

Actually, the Jesuit says the sunflower is too much of a good thing. It's difficult to handle commercially because of its size, often more than six feet tall.

At present there is no mechanical equipment to harvest it.

He thinks industry could develop new and adequate equipment or scientists could develop a smaller plant.

★ ★ ★

"The time may come," he says, "when the United States can offer a handful of sunflower seed to an impoverished country rather than millions of U.S. dollars."

NEAT TRICK—One of the neatest flower arranging tricks you will find is the use of a hanging wall decoration for holding a small grouping of flowers. Pulling out the lower drawer of this spice cabinet gives you just the container you need. The secret of how to make this arrangement practical is explained with diagrams and instructions inside the Bachelor Button packet available in seed racks throughout this area. Many different arrangement ideas are inside packets marked with a large green seal that says "Flower Arrangement Inside."

Use Dwarf Trees in Border Hedge

For an attractive hedge or fence, a row of dwarf fruit trees set out six feet apart are a good choice.

★ ★ ★

Dwarf trees are comparatively easy to care for.

★ ★ ★

They should be treated first with a dormant spray and later with an all-purpose mixture of Malathion, Methoxyclor and Phaltan, at 10-day or two-week intervals.

University Offers Class on Insects

Insects are more numerous than all other kinds of animals combined, reports Walter L. Halderman of The Pennsylvania State University's office of correspondence courses. About 15,000 species can be found in an average locality.

But because of sheer numbers are insects a real threat to human life? Or can natural and manmade controls keep their numbers down?

Answers to these questions are discussed in Penn State's correspondence course, Principles of Insect Control. It's pointed out that only comparatively few kinds of insects are man's enemies.

However, the total damage done by these "harmful" species exceeds a cost of 5 billion dollars in United States. These costs are twofold.

DECREASED CROPS

First, losses occur in decreased crop yields, stored food and fabric damage.

Second, there are the costs of spraying and fumigation.

Is it wrong to use poisonous chemicals as insecticides? Well, the answer isn't clearcut, but you can learn about all types of insect control from the Penn State correspondence course.

To enroll and get a copy of the course send your name and address with $3.00 to Insect Control, Box 5000, University Park, Pennsylvania.

New Compact Mum Gains in Popularity

For an eye-level table decoration, try "compact" chrysanthemums now available the year round, in clay pots.

These short stemmed beauties are increasingly popular.

Fall Catalog Now Ready

A new catalog of Burpee Bulbs and Nursery Stock for fall planting featuring outdoor and indoor bulbs, lawn grass, berries, trees, vines, hedges, chrysanthemums and roses is available free to all gardeners.

In addition to the individual varieties, this color-illustrated catalog lists dozens of special offers of bulbs and nursery stock.

"We believe this catalog offers the widest selection of types and colors of fall-planted bulbs that can be had in America," David Burpee, president, said.

It contains a compact quick-reference flowering and planting chart for bulbs listing 24 different classes of flowers that bloom from mid-March to mid-June, their flowering time, height in inches, and recommended depth and spread for planting.

The catalog features a one-year money-back guarantee of satisfaction.

A free copy may be obtained by wiriting the W. Atlee Burpee Company, Philadelphia, Pa. 19132; Clinton, Iowa, 52733, or Riveside, California 92502.

Fight Off Invasion of Weeds

"Weedless," is the happy reply to that old question, how does your garden grow?, if you are doing container gardening.

While most other gardeners are down on their knees in a last ditch effort to fight off August's annual invasion of weeds, you can sit back and watch your garden grow without any weeds at all. And it's no trick at all if you are raising professionally started plants in red clay pots.

Nurserymen start seeds and root cuttings in soil that has been sterilized by steam at very high temperatures. When the little plants are big enough to be transferred to larger pots and sold, they are potted using soil that again has been sterilized.

This sterilization process effectively knocks out any stray weed seeds or latent bugs that might interfere with the healthy growth of your plant. In combination with the clay flower pots, the plants are then able to utilize all the nutrients in the soil for maximum growth.

Thanks to the porosity of the clay, any excess water is leached out through the sides and bottom of the pots. At the same time, the porous clay walls allow just the right amount of air to enter and nourish the roots. This saves you the painstaking effort of cultivating the soil around the plants that other gardeners must do to insure adequate aeration.

Paper Towels Help Gardeners Stop Scratches

The color and fragrance of roses from your garden belong inside your home, too.

If the thought of scratching your arms and hands on the thorny bushes has deterred you from enjoying the blooms indoors, avoid scratches by holding several thicknesses of double layer paper towels around the stem as you snip the flowers.

Stems can be cut as long or short as you like if you make certain to include one five-leaf cluster on the stem.

To insure another bloom on the same stalk, cut on an angle with a sharp garden scissors just above another cluster of five leaves.

To keep roses fresh until they are arranged in vases, wrap dampened paper towels around the stem bottoms.

The newest class of roses are the grandifloras, which are characterized by large plants, full blooming and large flowers.

Extension Service Assists Gardener

More and more, county agricultural extension services are offering free advice to gardeners by telephone recording, changing the information daily.

For instance, in a recent week the Niagara County, N.Y., agents gave this advice:

Monday, control of chickweed, dandelions in lawns; Tuesday, spray program for roses; Wednesday, ground cover for landscaping and slopes; Thursday, planning a harvest schedule in the vegetable garden; Friday through Sunday, build an outdoor fireplace.

Field of 155 Represent Six Continents

Oakland Hills in Readiness for World Open Tourney

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The greatest purse in history of tournament golf, to be played on one of the greatest recognized courses in the world, with the greatest international array of players and covered by the greatest mass of communication media to the world, is in readiness.

Players started trickling in yesterday to the rain-soaked Oakland Hills Country Club for the $200,000 Carling World Open which starts next week with a field of 155 players from 14 countries and six continents.

By Monday all 48 players of the foreign contingent will have arrived and by next Wednesday all of the 107 Americans in the field will have taken their practice licks on the rugged course in Bloomfield Township.

The huge golf spectacle, which carries a first price of $35,000 to the winner, and at least $400 for every golfer in the field, has been termed "the Olympic games of golf."

★ ★ ★

A crew of nearly 175 writers, American and foreign, a host of interpreters, and a television audience in Europe by way of telstar, will envelope Oakland county next week.

The colorful opening ceremonies will take place next Wednesday with a "court of flags" at Oakland Hills. The 14 nations represented will have their flags raised by selected golfers at 4:30 p.m. and when the tournament ends Sunday, August 30th the ceremony will close the event in the view of millions over the world.

Name the champion, American or foreign, and the tournament has included on its 155-player roster, a representative.

Even Bantam Ben Hogan has been lured out of semi-retirement to play the course where he has inscribed some of his greatest memories.

It was in 1951 that Hogan won the third of his four National Open crowns when he moved from 16th place at midpoint with 149 at Oakland Hills to finish 71-67 and win the title.

The great round of 67, one of only two sub-par rounds in the tournament, ended when he dropped a 14-foot birdie putt on the final green to post one of his greatest triumphs.

Hogan was the master of golf of his day and he will join the great masters of today in the tournament.

FOREIGN CHAMPS

After qualifying in eight zones throughout the world, champions from the foreign scene include Pete Thompson of Australia, Yung Yo Hsieh of Hong Kong, Loepoldo Ruiz of Argentina, Christy O'Connor of Ireland, Ramon Sota of Spain, Tomoo Ishii of Japan, Jean Garaialde of France and the youngest player in the field 20 year old Allan Henning of South Africa.

★ ★ ★

Tickets for practice days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are $2.00 and $5 for Thursday and Friday and $6 for the final two days.

A season book for $20 is good for admission all of next week, and there are 30 locations, plus most area country clubs which have them available.

In the immediate Pontiac area, Holiday Inn and Savoy Motel, Griswold, Golf Mar, Variety Shop, Village Sport The Sportman in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

This is the 155-man field entered in the tournament:

GOLFERS' TEA BREAK — Yung Y. Hsieh (center) of Formosa and L. H. Lu of Hong Kong (right), two of the foreign golfers entered in the Carling World Open, took time out yesterday morning for a tea break at Pontiac Country Club with Custer S. L. Hong of Pontiac, owner of the China City Restaurant on West Huron. Hong is serving as interpreter for the two professionals during their stay here.

Chinese Tour Oakland Hills

Asian Pair Awed by Course

By FLETCH SPEARS

A handful of foreign professionals came away "ooohing and aaahing" after their first look at Oakland Hills during a practice round yesterday.

The players were among the early foreign arrivals lured here for the $200,000 Carling World Open golf tournament which swings into action next week.

And Oakland Hills, 6,907 yards of treachery, dubbed "the Green Monster," was unusually polite in her opening introduction.

"Very good . . . wonderful course," offered Yung Y. Hsieh of Formosa, winner of the Hong Kong Open the past two years.

Playing in a light, steady rain, Hsieh toured the course with Liang Huan Lu of Hong Kong, along with Gene Eyler and Mike Voss, two of the area's top amateurs.

"The greens are good," Hsieh continued. "Maybe when they are dry — whoosh — fast and tricky."

CARDS 72

Hsieh closed the 18 holes with an unofficial two-over-par 72. Lu carded a 73. The trip to the United States is the first for both.

Another twosome on the course were Trevor Wilkes and Allan Henning, both of South Africa.

"It's fantastic," Wilkes said after his tour in which he stayed "close to par."

"It's a fair course," Henning commented. "If you hit a good shot you're okay. Hit a bad one and you're penalized."

Tomoo Ishii and Kiochi Ono of Japan ran into little of the many problems on the course in finishing with par 70s.

★ ★ ★

The plush fairways have been soaked by 500,000 gallons of water dumped daily by greenskeeper Howard Jones' crew. This treatment, plus rain the past two days, is making the course play slower and longer.

Host pro Al Watrous, in his 36th year at Oakland Hills, said earlier, "The course is playing slower and longer than at any time since I've been here. Short hitters can consider par to be about 76 instead of the 70 that shows on the scorecard."

SLOW AND WET

The huge undulating greens were wet and slow yesterday and the foreign pros had little trouble with their putter. Pin placements were in practice positions which helped keep scores respectable.

Most of the pros expect the winner to be one who has less three-putt greens. The putting surfaces are expected to be lightning fast when the first round opens Thursday.

Watrous gave an indication of what to expect on the greens when he said, "You'll always get to the hole on a downhill putt even if you fan it."

Another factor — missing in yesterday's rounds—which could send scores climbing is the strong winds that sweep the course.

★ ★ ★

Hsieh and Lu, along with the two Japanese players, will be among the smallest in the tournament.

Yesterday, they reached most of the long par 4s in two—using two wood shots—but wind could turn pars on those holes into bogies.

There are only two par 5s on the course—No. 2, a 510-yarder and No. 12, which measures 566 yards.

★ ★ ★

The par 4 holes expected to provide a tough test for the 155-man field are Nos. 5 (437), 8 (458), 10 (448), 14 (447) and 18 (459). The eighth and 18th holes were changed from par 5s to 4s for the tourney.

The Japanese and Chinese players are not in the class of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer in the tee shot department, but they command respect with their pin-point iron game and their delicate touch around the greens.

Missing Pro Turns Up for 1st Practice

The case of 'missing' South African golfer Trevor Wilkes was closed when he arrived in Detroit Wednesday.

Wilkes caused some concern when he failed to arrive as scheduled last Friday. He is one of 48 foreign contestants in the 155-man field of the Carling World Open.

Carling officials were waiting at the airport Friday to greet Wilkes. He didn't show.

★ ★ ★

Unknown to the Carling group, Wilkes had taken a plane from New York to Indianapolis, Ind., to spend a few days with some friends.

Wilkes talked about the 'missing pro' case during a practice round yesterday at Oakland Hills.

"I didn't know they had officials waiting for me at the airport Friday," he said.

"I guess I gave 'em a bit of a fright."

Women Reach Golf Semifinals

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP)—Jo Anne Gunderson and Barbara McIntire continued their winning ways Thursday in the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Tournament and will join Mrs. Pete Dye and Robbye King in semifinals Friday.

Miss Gunderson, of Seattle and three-time winner of the event, defeated her friend and practice partner, Mrs. Robert Ihlanfeldt, also of Seattle 3 and 2 by scoring a birdie three on the 16th hole.

Miss Gunderson meets Mrs. Dye in the first semifinal match starting at 2 p.m. Friday. Miss McIntire and Miss King tee off one-half hour later.

44 Finalists in City Medal Play

9 Ex-Champs Entered in 35th Tourney

A field of 44 area golfers will be gunning for the 35th Men's Medal Championship when play opens tomorrow at Pontiac Municipal Course.

There were 147 players in qualifying field last week.

The number of former champions in the field swelled to nine yesterday with the addition of Ed Wasik (1955) and Fonce Fowler (1930).

Earlier entries among former champs came from defending titlist Lou Mitzelfeld, Kip Inman (1929-1945), Glen Harding (1947, 1948, 1950), Mike Andonian, winner six times from between 1951 and 1962, Ronnie Rothbarth (1956), Butler Cooper (1958) and Paul Bada (1957 and 1961).

Andonian is the only question mark among the ex-champs. He is playing in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's match play tournament at Saugatuck and missed the local play.

Cooper established the tournament record with a 68-67-135 in taking the 1958 event. Rothbarth carded a 136 in 1956 and Andonian turned in 136 in winning three of his six titles.

★ ★ ★

In the first threesome slated to tee off at 12 noon tomorrow are Avery Burton, who paced the 33 qualifiers last week with a 71, Andonian and Euell Smith.

George Vallance and Harry Daniels earned starting berths for finishing in the top five last year.

The field will play 18 holes tomorrow and close the tourney with 18 Sunday. Pairings and starting times for Sunday's round will be posted at the club house following Saturday's play.

Tigers' Lapse Proves Costly

DETROIT (AP) — One play spelled the difference between victory and defeat in the Detroit Tigers' loss Thursday night.

And although most of the 2,173 fans who shivered in 62 degree weather to watch the game would say the big play was Denny McLain's throwing error in the seventh inning, Manager Charlie Dressen didn't think so.

★ ★ ★

"We should have been out of the inning earlier," Dressen said. "All we needed was for someone to yell to Jerry Lumpe to throw the ball to home and we would have been out of it."

The Angels, held to two hits through the first six innings by McLain, scored all their runs in that seventh inning and won, 4-3.

Bob Rodgers singled to center with two away to score Jim Fregosi from second base.

But what most of the Tigers did not know at the time was that Fregosi had slipped rounding third and was struggling to get to his feet in order to continue home.

George Thomas fielded Rodgers' single and lobbed a throw to second. Lumpe took the throw and before he realized Fregosi's plight, the L.A. shortstop had regained his balance and crossed the plate.

"It's the shortstop's job to holler on a play like that," Dressen said. "But any player taking the throw should check on that front runner anyway.

"You can't assume that the man has scored."

After Fregosi scored, Felix Torres tapped a dribbler down the third base line. McLain raced over and threw the ball as he slipped on the wet grass, the ball going into the right-field bullpen.

Willie Smith scored from third and Rodgers all the way from first, tying the score. Torres then scored the winning run as Lu Clinton greeted relief pitcher Julio Navarro with a single to center.

Palmer Fires Opening 68

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the burly, rugged Masters champion, likes his golf courses burly and rugged.

That's one of the reasons for Palmer's consistent success at the Firestone Country Club where he grabbed the first round lead Thursday in the $50,000 American Golf Classic with a two under par 34-34—68.

★ ★ ★

Palmer's 68, which included three birdies and one bogey over the 7,165-yard layout, was fashioned with a new putter. And Firestone played longer than usual because of heavy rains which lasted through mid-afternoon.

Someone told Palmer —who finished fourth in the first Classic three years ago, won it in 1962 and was second last year — that his new putter resembled an old heel.

"He laughed and said:

"I don't care, I kinda like it. I used it in the practice round Wednesday and decided to stick with it. I took 32 putts but I wasn't putting poorly, the ball just wouldn't go in for me."

LEMA CLOSE

Palmer held a one-stroke lead over British Open champion Tony Lema, who had a 34-34—69 and was the only other player to better par.

Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner who could go over the $100,000 mark for the year by finishing first or second in the Classic, shot a 37-36—71 without nailing a birdie. Gary Player, returning to the tournament trail, had a 40-35—75.

Huron-Airway Sweeps to City Baseball Title

Huron - Airway reaffirmed its generally accepted claim as the class of the city men's baseball program wrapping up its second straight Class A title, 5-0, over Cranbrook last night.

Four seventh - inning runs — three of them unearned — broke open a tight pitching duel and clinched the title in three straight final series games for Huron - Airway.

The win pushed the victors' purple - and - white clad season record to 21-3 and gave it five straight playoff wins after losing its first game in the post-season tournament.

H-A's Les Stone and Cranbrook's Dick Mosher sailed along 0-0 for five and a half innings before the former scored an unearned marker aided by two errors.

After one out in the seventh, an error, singles by Gary Weckerley and Charlie Honchell, a two-run double by Stone, and a two-out two-run outfield error led to four runs.

This was more than enough for the Huron - Airway southpaw. He was touched for three well scattered singles and six walks, but permitted only one runner as far as third base.

His teammate's gave him perfect defensive support and this was the deciding factor between the two teams since losing hurler Mosher yielded only six hits and two free passes.

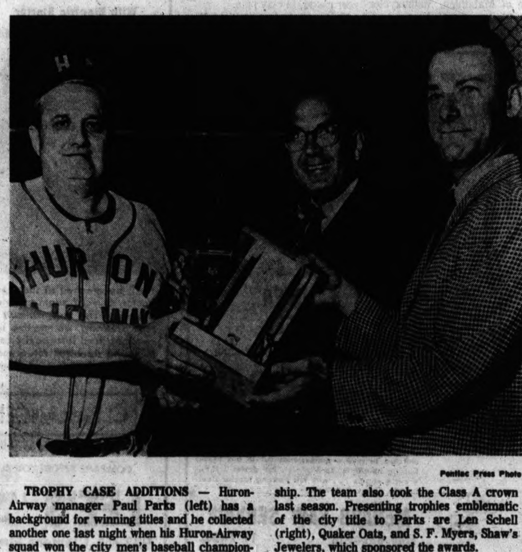

Cranbrook, fourth in the regular season race, ended the year with an 11-12 mark and no wins in six tries against the champions.

Huron - Airway now will meet Livonia next Friday night in the first round of the state recreation association playoffs. The first game will be played at Jaycee Park.

'Loaned QB' Leads Win

By United Press International

Jacky Lee, facing his old team for the first time, and veteran Gene Mingo sparked the Denver Broncos to a 32-20 come-from-behind victory over the Houston Oilers in an American League pre-season game Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

Lee, who was "loaned" to the Broncos last week by the Oilers, completed 18 of 38 passes for 198 yards, including a 10-yard touchdown toss to Lionel Taylor.

Mingo booted four field goals from 55, 51, 26 and 43 yards out.

The Broncos scored 26 points in the final quarter on two field goals by Mingo, Lee's touchdown pass, a 65-yard pass interception run by Willie West and a 64-yard run by linebacker Marv Matuszak after he recovered a Houston fumble.

Rookie Sid Blanks scored two touchdowns and quarterback George Blanda passed for another for Houston.

The Baltimore Colts meet the St. Louis Cardinals in a National Football League tuneup at St. Louis in the only game scheduled in either league tonight.

Five NFL games and two American League games will be played Saturday, with the greatest attention focusing on the clash between the NFL champion Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee. Two games, one in each league, will be played Sunday.

Both the Colts and Cardinals like to throw the ball, and Johnny Unitas, who has completed 21 of 34 tosses, and Charley Johnson, always a passing threat, should put on a fine aerial display for the fans.

Both New York teams will be featured in Saturday's only afternoon games. The Giants face the Washington Redskins at Ithaca, N.Y., and the Jets will try for their second in a row over the Boston Patriots at New Brunswick, N.J.

In games Saturday night, the Minnesota Vikings will meet the San Francisco Forty-Niners at Salt Lake City, the Dallas Cowboys will face the Los Angeles Rams at Portland, Ore., the Cleveland Browns will oppose the Pittsburgh Steelers at Akron, Ohio, and the Kansas City Chiefs host the San Diego Chargers.

'Train' Undergoes Surgery

Dick Lane Is Lost to Lions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

This may very well be the "football requiem of a defensive back."

The subject in question is Dick "Night Train" Lane, all-pro defensive back of the Detroit Lions whose 13th season in the NFL this year was a matter of doubt even before training camp started three weeks ago.

Today the announcement was made that Lane was undergoing a knee operation this morning at Henry Ford Hospital and coach George Wilson was "hoping" the veteran defensive ace would be ready to play again in six weeks.

The hope that Lane would be back in action this season is somewhat wishful thinking and although coach Wilson does not presently admit this, he has admitted that the difficult corner back slot is now in the hands of rookie Bobby Thompson.

HURT IN SCRIMMAGE

Lane hurt his knee in the Blue-White scrimmage at U. of D. Stadium, August 1st. He returned and played momentarily against the Baltimore Colts last week, but Thompson held down the slot most of the way.

★ ★ ★

Lane will probabty be placed on the injured reserve list and this now brings the Lions' active roster down to 45 players.

Thompson, who was the Lions' No. 3 draft choice in 1962, sparkled on kick returns last week against the Colts and it was his interception late in the 4th quarter which highlighted the 21 point rally in less than five minutes, thereby pulling the Lions from a 21-7 deficit to a 28-21 lead. The game ended 28-28.

The aging defensive backfield once one of the strongest units in the league, has been a main concern of the Lions.

Late in the season last year, Lane, Gary Lowe and Yale Lary were all out of action at the same time time with injuries and the Lions were forced to use everyone in their positions except the defensive tackles.

Terry Barr, Ollie Matson, Gail Cogdill, Dick Compton, Tom Hall and Larry Vargo all took turns in the secondary in one game.

Only Dick LeBeau of the "Give 'em 'L'" crew (Lane, Lary, Lowe, LeBeau) was on the healthy side of the ledger.

With Lowe making recovery from surgery on his achilles tendon, the Lions have held on to Vargo and Compton for defensive insurance and have also gone with Thompson and kept rookie Wayne Rasmussen.

Pontiac Press Photo

BIG TASK — Rookie Bobby Thompson has the big task of filling the corner back shoes of Dick Lane. Thompson played almost the entire game against Baltimore last week and intercepted a key pass.

Who makes the defensive back field, or in fact which of the rookies makes the team, will be indicated after Sunday's encounter with the Philadelphia Eagles in Philly.

"All of the rookies will play most of the way Sunday," said Wilson, "in fact some of them may start."

There are seven rookies still on the squad. Including Thompson and Rasmussen, there are fullback Pat Batten, offensive guard Wally Hilgenberg, flanker Warren Wells, defensive tackle Roger LaLonde and defensive end John Miller.

★ ★ ★

Rookie tackle Joe Provenzano, a 240 pounder from Kansas State was placed on waivers yesterday.

★ ★ ★

With five players still to be trimmed to bring the roster down to the 40-player limit, the Lions must either release of trade them, and coach Wilson presently isn't keen on the idea presently of letting five players go without getting someone in return.

★ ★ ★

Positions likely to get a trimming are at linebacker, defensive end or pass receiving corps.

Much of course depends on the health prospects of defensive end Bill Quinlan, linebacker Carl Brettschneider, Lowe and Pat Studstill, the latter three among the surgery cases last season.

The Sunday exhibition will be televised back to Michigan.

Two Beat Par in Publinx

SAGINAW (AP) — Defending champion Lee Gohs of Redford Township and medalist Bill Curtis of Farmington were the only golfers to conquer par in Wednesday's qualifying round for the 15th annual Michigan Publinx Golf Tournament.

Each fired a 71 as a record field of 162 golfers attacked the 6,575-yard par 36-36—72 Swan Valley course. Each carded three birdies and a pair of bogies.

★ ★ ★

The 30-year-old Curtis, a former University of Michigan golfer playing for only the second time in five weeks, took medalist honors with a 36-35.

FORMER PRO

Gohs, a 58-year-old ex-pro, was exempt from qualifying, but turned in 35-36 in a tuneup for the start of today's match play.

Three other former Publinx champions made the cut. They were two-time winner Mike Andonian of Pontiac, who carded a 38-38—77; Roy Iceberg of Southfield, and Jay Law of Detroit, who both shot 79.

It took a score of 83 to make the championship flight of 64 golfers. Two matches were scheduled today and two more Saturday and Sunday in the marathon event.

Gohs met Frank Babis of Detroit while Curtis took on Dave Sachman of Royal Oak today. Both men had 80s Thursday.

Baltimore Hopes Jolted by Injury

By The Associated Press

"A bitter blow," moaned Hank Bauer.

"My thoughts of a pennant are high now," beamed Al Lopez.

"We'll be right up near the top again if . . . ," said Yogi Berra hopefully.

Those were the reactions Thursday of three American League managers following a pair of games that left Chicago in first place, Baltimore without Boog Powell and New York struggling for air.

Lopez' White Sox replaced the Orioles in first place, blanking New York 5-0 for their fifth straight victory and the Yankees' fourth consecutive defeat. The Orioles' 4-3 loss to Boston dropped Bauer's boys one-half game behind the White Sox.

Chicago's vault to the top made Lopez' 56th birthday a happy one, but for Bauer and Powell there was no celebration.

BROKEN WRIST

The slugging left fielder broke his left wrist trying for a catch against the wall in the second inning and may be lost to the Orioles for as long as a month.

"We might as well forget him," Bauer grumbled.

Forgetting 31 homers and 80 runs batted in undoubtedly will be difficult. Getting a replacement will be even tougher.

The White Sox, on the other hand, are playing possibly their best ball of the season. After dropping their first 10 games with the Yankees, the Sox turned around and grabbed six of the last eight, including a sweep of this week's four-game series.

"I've been in baseball 40 years, and no series has given me more satisfaction than this one," Lopez said.

Then there's Berra, who is counting on the eight games the top two teams must play with each other. The first of four games in Chicago is on for tonight.

Back on the field, Los Angeles edged Detroit 4-3 and Kansas City defeated Cleveland 7-4 in other AL games.

FORD SHELLED

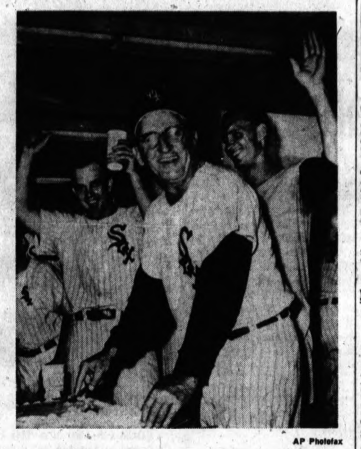

The White Sox shelled Whitey Ford from the mound en route to their victory. The Yankee hurler, making his first start since Aug. 8, lasted only into the fourth inning as Chicago rapped him for nine hits.

Their two runs in the second inning, the second coming on pitcher John Buzhardt's squeeze bunt, marked their first earned runs off Ford in 46 innings.

Bob Tillman's two-run homer highlighted a four-run second inning that carried the Red Sox past the Orioles. Frank Malzone's single preceded Tillman's blast off Dave Vineyard. Pitcher Dave Morehead then doubled on the play on which Powell was hurt.

Dick Radatz came on in the eighth inning and preserved the victory for Morehead.

Rocky Colavito and Doc Edwards' lashed two-run singles in the eighth inning, lifting the Athletics over the Indians. Cleveland had taken a 3-2 lead in the seventh on Woodie Held's run-scoring double.

FROSTING ON THE CAKE — Manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox cuts his birthday cake after the Chisox completed a four-game sweep of Yankees yesterday in Chicago. It was Lopez's 56th birthday and the Chisox blanked New York, 5-0, to take over first place in the American League race.

Record Attendance Expected at Track

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — An all-time record attendance for harness racing is expected to be set at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night for the sixth $50,000 Roosevelt International Trot.

Given a break in the weather, raceway president Al Weill predicts a turnout of better than 55,000 for this prestige event in which Speedy Scot and Su Mac Lad are favored to finish one, two for the United States against six European trotters.

The current record attendance is 54,861 for the second International in 1960, the year Hairos II of The Netherlands won over Crevalcore of Italy and Silver Song of the United States.

The race also is credited with drawing the second highest all-time attendance in the sulky set. That was in 1962 when Canada's Tie Silk beat Su Mac Lad by a neck before 53,279.

Harmonica Music Sets Yogi Berra 'Howling'

BOSTON (AP) — CBS may have a spot for Phil Linz and his harmonica on the Amateur Hour, but the New York Yankees infielder obviously has been auditioning for the wrong people in the corporate structure.

Manager Yogi Berra took exception to Linz' harmonica playing in the back of the team bus Thursday and wound up in a hassle described by coach Frank Crosetti as the worst incident he has seen in his 33 years with the perennial American League champions.

The Yankees had taken the bus from Comiskey Park to O'Hare Airport in Chicago, enroute to Boston for a series with the Red Sox. The defending AL champions had just lost their fourth straight game to the White Sox, 5-0, and dropped 4½ games behind the first-place Chicagoans.

YOGI REACTS

Linz, sitting in the rear of the bus next to first baseman Joe Pepitone, pulled out his harmonica and started playing it.

In the front of the bus, Berra snapped his head around and shouted:

"Put that thing in your pocket."

Silence followed — for a second. Then from the back of the bus came:

"Toot. Toot."

Berra rushed toward the back of the bus and yelled at Linz, "I said to put it away. You'd think you just won four straight."

Linz, startled, flipped the harmonica into the air toward the manager as if to give it to him. Berra, however, angrily swatted it with his right hand, and it bounced off Pepitone's right knee.

There were now two casualties: Linz' harmonica and Pepitone's knee, which was slightly cut but quickly fixed with a band-aid.

HOT EXCHANGE

"Why are you getting on me," Linz asked Berra. "I give a hundred per cent out on the field. I try to win. I should be allowed to do what I want off the field."

"Play it in your room," Berra snapped.

Berra also was overheard telling Linz, "I'll take care of you." Berra then returned to his seat, and again there was silence.

It was soon punctured by Crosetti, who started yelling at Linz while Linz retorted by telling the veteran coach to stay out of the argument.

Order finally was restored and the bus proceeded to the airport.

Ex-PCH Grad Sails 'Fish' to U.S. Title

The sun-fish today is more than an underwater creature for many sail lovers today.

The name is popular reference to a craft which has grown in popularity among sailors and former Pontiac Central Student Dave Davies is today hailed as the champion sun-fish sailor.

Davies, who now resides in Chelsea, N.Y., won the International sunfish racing championship in Canada earlier this month and recently he added the U.S. Sunfish championship at Centerville, Mass. to his list of titles.

A graduate of Michigan State where he was high point skipper in Big 10 lightning class championships in 1960, Davies' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Davies reside at 117 Wenonah.

Davies is a member of the Chelsea Boat Club near Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and his parents are members of the Pontiac Yacht club.

BOWLING

Monroe Moore's bowling game is undergoing adjustment under the tutoring of Billy Welu in an effort to crash into the top money on the Professional Bowlers' Association tour.

Welu detected the likable Pontiac Sparemaster using a variety of approaches and styles in an attempt to make the just enough plus to cash.

The St. Louisan's comment that one big tournament check can outdo many small purses apparently convinced "Mo" to get his game squared away and go for the big money.

Moore was honored recently by the National Bowlers' Journal which disclosed its annual All-Star team. The Pontiac bowler was given honorable mention rating.

There was only one Michigan kegler who made the first three men's teams—Bob Strampe of Detroit. He joined Welu, Bill Allen, Bill Hardwick, Jim St. John and Tom Tuttle on the first team.

Several other Detroiters made honorable mention.

★ ★ ★

Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, naturally, was on the women's first team along with LaVerne Carter, Shirley Garms, Olga Gloor, Evelyn Keal and Janet Harmen.

Helen Shablis, Ann Setlock and Elvira Toefper, all from Detroit, drew honorable mention recognition.

OPENINGS

Orchard Lanes has openings for teams in the Monday and Wednesday 9 p.m. classic leagues. The Monday loop is for 850-and-under teams while Wednesday's circuit has 850-and-up squads.

★ ★ ★

Bill Cooney, secretary of the Southpaws - Portsiders League at Westside Lanes, is accepting applications for members in this season's league.

Any average or age is eligible for the loop which will bowl at 9 p.m. Tuesday starting sometime after Labor Day.

Interested men or boys should contact Cooney at FE 2-3975.

Pontiac Team Defeated, 7-3

Port Huron Shoffner Clips 300 Bowl

Pontiac's 300 Bowl softball team dropped a 7-3 decision to Shoffner Appliance of Port Huron last night in the opening round of the Class A regional Michigan Softball Association's state tournament.

Rain washed out tonight's slate in the two-game knockout series and double headers will be played in both Class A and B tomorrow night on Port Huron diamonds.

Shoffner will take on Top Hat Tavern of Flint in a 7 p.m. game tomorrow at Memorial Field with the loser taking on 300 Bowl at 9 p.m. Winners of the two games will meet in the finals Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

In Class B action, Flint Sport Shop downed Malow Excavating of Port Huron, 2-1, and will meet Pontiac's Arro Realty tomorrow at 7 p.m. at Pine Grove field.

Loser of the Sport Shop-Arro game will take on Malow Excavating at 9 p.m. at the same field. Finals are scheduled for Sunday at Memorial field.

Art Ruelle banged out a pair of hits for 300 last night and scored all the team's runs. Jerry Hesse also contributed two hits to the 300 attack.

'Hand-Me-Down' Player Pleased

By the Associated Press

The hand-me-down and the All-Star hero sat quietly in the Philadelphia dressing room.

"It's always a thrill to hit a home run," said Frank Thomas.

★ ★ ★

"It's about time I did something good for a change," said Johnny Callison.

What Thomas and Callison did was supply all the runs as the Phillies swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 2-0 and 3-2 Thursday night and shot into a commanding 7½-game lead in the National League pennant race.

Thomas, acquired from the New York Mets recently, took care of the opener with a two-run homer in the ninth inning that won it for Art Mahaffey, who posted his first complete game since May 27 by checking the Pirates on two hits.

Thomas, 0-for-4 in the nightcap after extending his hitting streak to 12 games, has hit safely in 13 to 15 games for the Phillies, batting .367 with three homers and 17 runs batted in. In 60 games with the Mets, he hit .254 with three homers and 19 RBI.

Callison, who won the All-Star game for the National League, took over in the second game, tying it 1-1 with his 21st homer in the sixth inning, then lashing a long sacrifice fly in the eighth inning that drove in two runs.

Trailing 3-1, the Pirates got a run back in the ninth on a single by Smoky Burgess and Bill Mazeroski's double, but Callison came through again. He grabbed Jerry Lynch's fly ball and cut down Mazeroski, trying to advance to third. That ended the threat.

The twin triumphs, coupled with Cincinnati's 10-7 victory over slipping San Francisco, added 1½ games to the Phillie's lead. The Reds, meanwhile, pulled into a tie for second with the Giants by winning their fourth straight while San Francisco lost its fifth in a row.

In the only other NL game scheduled, Denis Menke drove in three runs and Hank Aaron stroked four hits as Milwaukee belted the Los Angeles Dodgers 8-2.

Mahaffey, bringing his record to 11-6, won his duel with Bob Friend, 10-13, in the opener when Thomas homered after a single by Clay Dalrymple. Mahaffey did not allow a hit until Mazeroski singled with one out in the seventh. Roberto Clemente's ninth inning single was the only other hit.

CALL FOR HELP

In the nightcap, Bob Bailey put the Pirates ahead 1-0 with a third inning homer off Rick Wise. Callison then tagged Down Schwall with the loss. Wise, a rookie, needed Ed Roebuck's help in the ninth inning but won his fifth game in six decisions.

★ ★ ★

The Giants led the Reds 4-3 until Deron Johnson slammed a bases-empty homer in the seventh inning. The Reds then broke it open in the eighth inning with a six-run spurt, scoring the go-ahead run when Ron Herbel issued a bases-loaded walk to Tommy Harper.

Vada Pinson followed with a two-run single, Frank Robinson singled across another run, Pinson scored on Johnson's grounder and Robinson came across on Don Pavletich's sacrifice fly.

Besides Johnson, Robinson and Leo Cardenas homered for the Reds while Willie Mays, Orlando Cepeda and Del Crandall connected for the Giants. Mays' homer was his 38th.

Halfback Out AFL Decides

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The American Football League has ruled that Bert Coan isn't eligible to play for the Kansas City Chiefs this year.

★ ★ ★

The former Kansas halfback walked out of training camp July 29, so the Chiefs put him on the reserve list, taking him off the club roster for the season.

★ ★ ★

Coan rejoined the squad Wednesday, but the league rejected the Chiefs' request that he be removed from the reserve list.

★ ★ ★

Coan can play this season only if he is bought or traded for by another club.

Canvasbacks, Redheads Legal

Waterfowl Hunting Regulations Eased

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan duck hunters can look forward to a 10 per cent increase in shooting days this year.

In addition, canvasback and redhead ducks may be taken, and a larger bag of coots will be permitted.

★ ★ ★

The major changes in 1964-65 basic hunting regulations for migratory waterfowl and coots were announced today by Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall. The regulations were recommended by the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

The rules are intended to keep constant the number of breeding ducks in nesting areas.

States may fix their duck hunting seasons within the outside dates prescribed in the federal regulations, and also may exercise the choice seasons of consecutive hunting days or split seasons with a loss of 10 per cent of shooting days. For the Mississippi Flyway, including Michigan, the outside dates are Oct. 3 and Jan. 3.

TWO CHOICES

Michigan may select concurrent open seasons on ducks and coots of 40 consecutive days or a split season totaling 36 days with basic limits on ducks other than mergansers of four daily and eight in possession.

Last year the limits on birds were the same but the season was limited to 35 consecutive days or 32 if split.

Outside dates for goose seasons in Michigan are Oct. 1 and Jan. 15. The number of shooting days, bag and possession limits are unchanged from 1963-64.

★ ★ ★

Coot limits will be 10 daily and 20 in possession, up from eight and 16 last year.

Mississippi Flyway states also may select an open season of 70 days on geese, whether consecutive or split, but the daily bag and possession limit is five.

Udall said last season's regulations accomplished the objective of returning a somewhat larger breeding population for this year's nesting season.

"Continued drought in some main nesting grounds on the northern prairies, however, caused a substantial reduction in the anticipated production," he added, saying duck flights in the Mississippi Flyway this fall would be about the same as last year.

PAID OFF

"Closing the season on redhead and canvasback duck during the past four years has paid off," said Udall. "The population of these ducks has recovered to the point where restricted hunting of these birds will be permitted this year."

Udall, cautioned, however, that mallards are still low in number and restricted bags will be continued in the Mississippi Flyway.

The announcement said goose and brant populations remain generally high.

Limits on American, redbreasted and hooded mergansers, in the aggregate on these species, will be give daily and 10 in possession, of which not more than one daily and two in possession may be hooded mergansers. This is the same as last year.

The daily bag limit of other ducks may not include more than: a. two wood ducks; b. two mallards, and c. two canvasbacks or two redheads or one of each and the possession limits will be the same except for allowing four mallards.

For geese, the daily bag and possession limits may not include, in the alternative, more than: a. two Canada geese or subspecies; b. two white-fronted geese, or c. one Canada goose or subspecies and one white-fronted goose.

EXAMINES CHUTES — Airman 2 C. Michael D. Leonard (right) examines two chutes which failed to completely open Wednesday and left him to fall 1,000 feet. The airman suffered only a scratched leg in spite of the fact that the tangled chutes only slowed his descent slightly and that he hit the ground at about 40 m.p.h.

Falls 1,000 Feet, Gets Scratch

ELGIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI) — Airman 2.C. Michael D. Leonard of Lawler, Iowa, crawls into an airplane today, flies up into the wild blue yonder and steps out into space.

This time he hopes his parachute opens.

It didn't Wednesday.

Leonard fell 1,000 feet with two unopened parachutes trailing him and flapping in the breeze.

He got a scratch on his leg.

★ ★ ★

A base spokesman who told of the free fall yesterday said Leonard's rate of fall was estimated at about 40 miles an hour, being slowed about 15 or 20 per cent by the unopened parachutes.

Leonard was making a practice jump as a member of the 8th Air Rescue Squadron. He said he felt only a tug when his first chute was loosed and immediately pulled the ripcord of the second.

When no canopy blossomed, Leonard concentrated on making a normal landing. He landed on his feet and rolled on an open practice field.

Sgt. Earl Maple said he saw that Leonard was in trouble almost from the start and bailed out after him.

He added that by the time he reached Leonard, the airman had gotten his wind back and said: "My watch is even running."

The only injury was a leg scratch. Base officials said Leonard would make another practice jump tomorrow.

Claim Stock Halting Is Success

CORNING, Iowa (UPI) — Leaders of the militant National Farmers Organization (NFO) said today their livestock holding action appeared to be well on the road to success.

NFO President Oren Lee Staley said at his headquarters here that the clampdown on livestock shipments to market went "smoothly" during the first full day of the holding action yesterday.

Hog prices generally moved higher and receipts at most terminal markets and country buying stations were down. Three livestock firms in Wisconsin shut down for at least two weeks to assess the strength of the NFO action.

The full impact of the market moratorium on cattle, sheep and hogs was expected to come next week after supplies of livestock in processors lots or previously bought on consignment have been exhausted.

★ ★ ★

NFO members, manning at least four check points in each county of the 23-state holding action area from New York to Idaho and from the Canadian border to Tennessee and Oklahoma, fed detailed reports back to headquarters of livestock numbers moving to market.

CLAIMS SUCCESS

Staley claimed "first day success" for the holding action, pointing to the decline in receipts and an upturn in prices.

"Any increase in price demonstrates that we are having an effect," he said.

Price rises will probably be reflected quickly at retail butcher shops. Frozen pork futures went up the maximum 150 points, or 1.5 cents per pound, allowed at Chicago yesterday.

★ ★ ★

It marked the first time the advance reached the permitted limit since futures trading was started at the Chicago mercantile exchange nearly three years ago.

The NFO acknowledged its drive for higher on-the-hoof prices will bring higher butcher shop prices for pork chops, beef steak and other meat cuts.

But Staley contended in the long run the consumer will benefit by increased urban employment as farmers have more money to spend, and lower taxes if the NFO's program for orderly disposal of surplus and production geared to consumer demand can be put into effect.

Delaware GOP Picks Candidates at State Confab

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Delaware Republican leaders nominated Sen. John J. Williams for a fourth term Thursday night and chose David P. Buckson, state attorney general, as their candidate for governor.

Williams was unopposed but Buckson won a floor fight against Harris Haskell, Republican national committeeman, at the state convention.

Williams will be opposed by Gov. Elbert N. Carvel, who was nominated for the Senate by Democrats Wednesday.

Buckson's Democratic opponent will be Charles L. Terry, who resigned as chief justice of the Delaware Supreme Court to accept the Democratic nomination.

THE INDEPENDENT TELEPHONE INDUSTRY

Twenty seven hundred independent telephone companies provide 15.9% of America's telephone service. Our new 12-page Research Study discusses the steadily increasing growth of these companies. We believe telephone revenues will reach $19 billion by 1970 (vs. $11.2 billion last year) and expect the Independents to obtain an increasingly larger share of the total. From 1954 to 1963, the Independents expanded their telephone facilities 250%. In recent years, their revenues have grown at an annual rate of 11%. Independent telephone companies are participating fully in the accelerating growth rate of business and private communications. They are located principally in fast-growth suburbs where they have a unique demographic advantage. Our comprehensive Study examines the entire independent telephone industry and includes a tabulation of extensive operating and financial data. Eighteen major Independents are reviewed and specific recommendations are made for each. For a free copy simply fill out and mail this advertisement.

Rails, Airlines Big Gainers

Stock Market in Irregular Rise

NEW YORK (AP — Rails and airlines made sizable gains in an irregularly rising stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The cigarette stocks resumed their recent upswing. Steels edged higher on balance. Motors were mixed as suspense continued about the auto labor situation.

* * *

Fractional gains were the rule for most key stocks but advances of a point or more were scored by some of the leading rails and airlines.

The merger-minded railroads were spurred by another ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, this one rescinding, in effect, a recent decision calling for indefinite postponement of the Nickel Plate-Norfolk & Western merger.

EARNINGS REPORT

The airlines seemed to have exhausted the spate of long-term profit taking which has battered them and, with some encouraging earnings reports, took the upbeat once more.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .6 at 315.6 with industrials up .4, rails up 1.3 and utilities off .2.

Prices moved generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was moderate. Driver-Harris ran up about 7 points. Pyle National rose about 2. Up around a point were ANelex and TWA warrants. Fractional gains were made by Canadian Superior Oil, Bunker Hill, Cinerama, Prairie Oil and Sayre & Fisher. Webb & Knapp declined fractionally in heavy trading following a report that its Canadian subsidiary is offering for sale everything it has.

Corporate bonds were slightly higher. U.S. government bond prices were mostly unchanged.

Syncom 3 Said Near Its Goal

Hovers Over Sumatra Area in Indian Ocean

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —The space agency reported today that Syncom 3 had achieved a near-stationary orbit and said it was confident the communications package could be maneuvered into position as the world's first stationary satellite — one that hovers over a single spot on earth.

"Syncom 3 looks very good and is in near-synchronous orbit," a statement said. "After evaluation of the data, project officials will determine what future maneuvers will be made."

* * *

Evaluation of tracking data had been delayed several hours by a balky computer at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md.

* * *

The near-stationary orbit was achieved Thursday above Sumatra when a satellite motor fired to shift Syncom 3 out of a wide-looping path into a circular orbit where both the high and low points are about 23,000 miles high.

INCREASE SPEED

The motor firing, triggered by a ground radio signal, also increased the spacecraft speed so that it matched that of the rotation of the earth. Thus, the satellite appears to hang almost motionless over the Sumatra area in the Indian Ocean.

* * *

It was hoped the maneuver would arrest Syncom 3 directly above the equator. However, this was not fully realized and the satellite apparently is weaving north and south across the equatorial line at a slight angle.

* * *

The angular movement can be eliminated by radio commands to small gas jets aboard the satellite. These jets also will be used to move Syncom 3 from the position above Sumatra to a stationary outpost above the Pacific intersection of the equator and international date line. The maneuvering is expected to take about 10 days.

* * *

In that permanent position, the satellite, which was launched Wednesday from Cape Kennedy, would be available for extensive communications experiments between stations in the United States and Asia. Telephone, teletype, radio, television and picture transmission tests were planned to determine feasibility of a stationary satellite for communications.

But Picture Is Mixed

Public in Bullish Mood

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

DAWSON

NEW YORK — What Americans are doing with their money this summer and what they plan to do shines forth today in a spate of government and private statistics.

● Bank customers are pushing their money into and out of their checking accounts at a faster rate than earlier this year, and much faster than a year ago.

* * *

● Stock traders are betting less now on a drop in prices than they were just a month back.

● Fewer people are starting new homes than earlier this year, or this time last year.

● Stockholders are getting slightly bigger cash dividend payments this summer than last.

● Businessmen are ordering more durable goods from manufacturers again after a two months slowdown, and the backlog of unfilled orders has risen — to promise brisk activity in the weeks and months ahead.

It adds up to a mixed picture, but with the bullish-minded still in the foreground.

CHECKING ACCOUNTS

The ways of people with their checking accounts are revealed by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in a report today on demand deposit turnover. This shows that in 337 localities outside the major money centers the velocity rate increased 2½ per cent in July over June, and 3 per cent over July 1963.

In New York City the turnover rate went up 10 per cent in the month to a new high, money going in and out of checking accounts 22 per cent faster than a year ago.

* * *

In the six other leading financial centers — Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco and Los Angeles — bank customers turned over their accounts at a 4½ per cent faster rate in July than in June, and 5 per cent higher than last year.

The turnover rate sheds light on the general economic activity and on the effective supply of money available to the economy.

INTEREST DROPPED

The New York Stock Exchange reports that in the month ended Aug. 14, the short interest dropped by 239,735 shares to a total of 6,400,795.

This is a measure of bearish sentiment, since it shows that in the issues involved some traders expect to buy back their borrowed stock at a lower price. The drop in the total reflects a slight dimming of bearish sentiment. Since only 0.1 per cent of all shares listed are involved, the bearish element seems pretty slim just now.

Housing starts are another matter. They dropped 5 per cent in July from June and were 4 per cent below a year ago. For the May-July period starts were 2 per cent below the 1963 period. In all 1963 private starts totaled 1,587,000. The annual rate is running now at 1,517,000 units.

But some government officials still hope the 1964 goal of 1,600,000 may yet be reached.

Durable goods orders are one of the brightest figures this summer. In July they jumped 7 per cent to a seasonally adjusted record of $21.1 billion. The previous record was April's $20.5 billion. This brought the backlog of unfilled orders for durables to $50.9 billion. The biggest gain in July orders was in the aircraft industry, but backlogs also rose in primary metals, other transportation goods and electrical machinery.

* * *

Stockholders got cash dividend payments in July totaling $1,158,000,000, compared to $1,082,000,000 in the 1963 month.

All in all, the money continues to flow at a faster than usual rate this summer, and this gives businessmen — except maybe home builders — high hopes for the autumn.

Rain 'Does Trick' for Certain Crops

The mild but persistent rain of the past two days is "doing wonders" for some crops in the area, according to Lyle B. Abel, director of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

* * *

Abel said this morning that some crops were too close to harvest to be helped by the rain.

* * *

However, others such as late fruit, alfalfa, clover and fall wheat would benefit greatly from the rain, Abel pointed out.

Pastures are also benefiting from the rain, and farmers are finding the soil easier to turn in planting.

McNamara to Climb Matterhorn Tomorrow

ZERMATT, Switzerland (AP) — U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today he will climb the Matterhorn tomorrow, weather permitting.

* * *

McNamara has been training all week to climb the 14,701-foot mountain. He made the ascent several years ago. The secretary's teen-aged son and a Swiss guide are to go along on the climb.

Serious Threat to Crops by Increasing Drought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spreading and deepening drought conditions are raising serious threats to crop production and farm income in many parts of the country. Higher prices of some foods could result.

Without doubt, volume will fall considerably below the Agriculture Department's Aug. 1 forecast that crop production will be less than 1 per cent below last year's record high.

Vital pasture for livestock is being damaged. So are such crops as corn, sorghum grain, soybeans, cotton and sugar beets.

There is no likelihood, however that production will be reduced enough to create any national shortage.

The department is speeding emergency aid to many farmers. It already has granted farmers in 617 counties in 26 states permission to graze and cut what little hay there is on land that had been retired from production under government payment programs.

* * *

It also has extended its emergency feed grain programs to farmers in 23 counties in four states. Applications are pending for such aid from many other states and counties.

GRAIN AVAILABLE

Under this program, the department makes its feed grain available to drought-plagued farmers at 75 per cent of the price support rates.

Department officials are concerned that if the dry weather continues much longer in areas where cattle are dependent on grass there could be a heavy liquidation of herds, with a consequent tumble in cattle and other livestock prices and possible overcrowding of marketing and processing facilities.

The drought is having a serious impact on milk production in some areas. The department is expected to take emergency action soon to increase producer prices of milk in 13 metropolitan marketing areas in Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Kentucky, Texas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Arkansas.

* * *

The drought also is having an adverse effect on honey production in widespread areas of the Midwest, north central and northeastern sections of the country.

* * *

A U.S. Weather Bureau crop bulletin reports that drought-damaged corn is being cut for silage in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.

* * *

The bulletin said corn crop conditions declined throughout the Midwest last week. Crop damage was reported also in sections of Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Kentucky, Montana, parts of New England, New York, Pennsylvania, North Dakota, South Dakota, Virginia, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Parents Worried About Cost of College

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: In another two years our son and daughter are graduating from high school. We are worried about college costs. Se have been told that colleges are becoming the "rich man's schools." Can we hope to get the financial help our children will need?

S. R., Corpus Christi, Tex.

DR. NASON

You can. Students who have ability and promise are welcomed in colleges and do receive substantial financial aid. For example, at Colgate University, Hamilton, N. Y., with a 1,400 - member student body, students are now receiving $¾million annually in financial help from the university, government and approved private sources.

Scholarships are awarded on the basis of achievement and promise; the amount of each award, ranging from $100 to $2,300 annually, is established by need as determined through the college scholarship service.

Th situation at Colgate holds true in general. If your children have good scholarship records and are working toward goals which require college, their applications should bring the needed assistance.

Dear Dr. Nason: My son is 16 years of age and a junior in high school. He is a B-plus student and is taking a college prep course but does not want to go to college.

Instead, he wants to take a 2-year electronics course after completing high school. I have pointed out the benefits of college but he is not interested.

Do you think we should insist on his attending college or encourage him in what he wants to do.

Mrs. E. D. R.
Red Bank, N. J.

★ ★ ★

Parental pressure will not get the job done at this stage. Others have tried it, and interest in school did not follow. In fact, grades dropped drastically.

Your son will succeed only when working toward goals of his own choosing. Once he starts working in the electronics field he will quickly realize the advantages of a college degree.

It is too bad to have this delay, but he will still be young enough to remedy his error in judgement.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our son, age 20 failed to make sufficient points in his sophomore year to continue his college work and was advised by the Dean of Men to pursue a study program in area schools and present some good grades if he wishes to be re-admitted to that particular college. This is his desire.

Upon inquiry at several area schools, he was told that in order to register, even for non-credit courses, he must present a satisfactory report from his previous college.

Is there a solution to this problem? We would be most grateful for any suggestion you may have.

Perplexed parents
Washington, D. C.

A letter from a study coach or a tutor, indicating that he reviewed his learning procedures and is now better prepared and more determined to succeed at college work, might easily turn the tide back in his favor.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

Charles Wallace of Salisbury, N.C., is an active-type bridge player. He likes to bid when it is his turn and is not afraid to make all sorts of aggressive decisions.

JACOBY

He doesn't always succeed, but he operates on the theory that if you sit around doing nothing you won't get anywhere.

Charley's pass of North's diamond opening was correct. He had good defense and bad distribution. Then, after West stuck in the club overcall, Charley was able to give a jump raise.

West had fired all his guns when he made one bid and, although West wanted to sacrifice at five clubs, he decided to leave matters to his partner.

After Charley doubled four spades, West thought about running, but finally passed and opened the king of clubs.

Charley didn't like the looks of the dummy because, in case his partner held any honors in hearts, they would be worthless.

It also looked as if diamonds should be attacked immediately, so Charley overtook the king of clubs and letd the king of diamonds. West dropped the five to show two diamonds and Charley cashed the ace.

Then he led a third diamond. He was sure West had six clubs for his overcall, so the only hope was an uppercut situation in trumps.

Actually, South fuffed with the ace but it didn't make any difference. Once that third diamond was led, South was doomed to defeat.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22): Your role today should be that of OBSERVER. Some of recent puzzle pieces fall into place. Good inner aspect points up ADDED KNOWLEDGE. But it is not the kind of knowledge you can act on immediately.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22): You may have to spend more than you anticipated. But compare the value of what you receive . . . to that of inferior "product." Accept only the best. Enjoy yourself . . . and stop grumbling!

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22): Remember promises made in past. There are obligations which cannot be loosed aside. Permit conscience to be your guide. Legal question which might arise not as serious as it appears.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): Key is versatility. Study ALTERNATIVE methods. Get yourself in position where you can ENJOY assets. Fine day for relaxing. Journey, reunion with relatives highlighted. Don't attempt to do everything at once.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): What appears "far off" is much closer at hand. Includes your "heart's desire." Minor details exist which require attention. But you have the ability, the know-how. Act with CONFIDENCE!

Gagsters Are Ganging Up to Gladden DEM Conclave

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — The comedians are descending upon Atlantic City to pay their disrespects to the Democratic Convention . . . just to make sure everything'll be lively, a club called the Basin Street there has signed Dick (Never-a-Dull-Moment) Gregory for that week.

Here's a little preview of the humor . . .

"Sen. Goldwater has already picked his Cabinet in case he's elected . . . Secretary of Defense: Paul Revere . . . Secretary of Health, Education & Welfare: Scrooge . . . Chief of Indian Affairs: Gen. Custer."

WILSON

Jackie Mason, clowning at the Black Orchid, will pretend to ask LJB about his stand on the Common Market.

"The Common Market?" LBJ's supposed to answer. "I dunno. I never shopped there."

Fat Comic Bernie Allen'll be at the Bistro with Sarah Vaughn and Adam Wade. Bernie's planning to picket the convention with signs screaming: "We Demand a Fair Deal for Bobby Baker."

★ ★ ★

Comedians Marty Allen & Steve Rossi had some of that attitude at Mayor Wagner's Gracie Mansion barbecue for Lynda Bird Johnson, where they entertained.

★ ★ ★

In an "Hello Dere" interview, "Bobby Kennedy" wistfully asked, "Isn't anybody going to endorse me?" and then said, "I'm going to run for President." . . . "Of the U.S.?" . . . "No! Of the Teamsters Union!" . . . Then an imaginary Dwight D. Eisenhower (you've heard the gag, "If Eisenhower were alive, he'd be for Goldwater") was asked, "Have you made up your mind about Goldwater?" . . . He replied: "I haven't made up my mind about Nixon." Mayor Wagner howled at all of them.

U.S. Readies Mars Launch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is preparing to send two Mariner spacecraft toward Mars next November or December.

If successful, the 570-pound spacecraft would pass within 10,000 miles of Mars next July or a few weeks thereafter — and send back 150 million miles to earth the first television pictures from such a vast distance.

★

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration hopes the films and other data will determine whether the planet harbors any forms of life.

Some astronomers are convinced that Mars has water and an atmosphere and a type of vegetation.

NASA in its announcement Thursday labeled the project the first U.S. step toward exploration of Mars by unmanned spacecraft, and "the most complex mission to be attempted to date in the U.S. unmanned space program."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration reportedly is considering asking Congress next year to abolish all excise taxes paid at the retail counter.

In addition, it was learned Thursday, the tentative plans call for abolition of taxes on local telephone service and reduction or elimination of some taxes which one government official described as "increasing the cost of doing business."

★ ★ ★

The latter category would include business machines, machinery and lubricating oil.

The estimated reduction in revenue would run $2 billion to $3 billion. Excise taxes, most of which amount to a federal sales tax, bring in $14.5 billion a year.

The extent of the reductions would depend on how well the economy is performing the next year and how much revenue is being produced.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law Thursday a bill that gives the Securities and Exchange Commission new authority to supervise over-the-counter trading in stocks.

Another provision of the new law increases federal supervision of brokerage employes.

The nation, said Johnson, will see "a new era of federal regulation" of businesses. But he said the aim of the regulators will be "helping and not harassing the American free enterprise system."

Brooklyn Gal Is in Orbit From Outer Space Calls

NEW YORK (AP) — Satellite buffs have got Josephine Schlosser of Brooklyn in orbit with their constant telephone calls for tracking data.

She has no tracking data.

What she does have — besides a jangling telephone and jangled nerves — is the same telephone number as one for a dial-a-satellite service at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C.

And if you dial the Washington number in New York City without first dialing the Washington area code, you get the Schlosser residence.

JOSEPHINE SCHLOSSER

The first of some 300 telephone calls came Tuesday night.

SOME ANNOYED

Starting from 8:30 people began calling to ask about space," Mrs Schlosser said Thursday. "When I explained that this is Brooklyn, they became annoyed. Some of them used terrible language."

The calls apparently were prompted by newspaper stories here that told of the dial-a-satellite service and gave the Washington telephone number.

The calls continued to pour into the Schlosser home at all hours Wednesday and Thursday.

Meeting Sums Up Cass Lake Problems

Alcohol, reckless drivers in high-powered motorboats and an insufficient number of patrolmen to keep them in check! The part these factors play in creating trouble spots like Cass Lake for Oakland County was summarized at a meeting in West Bloomfield Township yesterday.

The exploratory session with State Boating Control Committee representatives and area law enforcement officers was sought by the Township Board after the death of Alan Akerley.

The 20-year-old Keego Harbor youth was killed by a hit-and-run motorboat Aug. 3 while he was swimming at Cass Lake's Dodge State Park No. 4.

The problem of hazardous boat operation is not peculiar to the county's largest lake, but affects all those of any size in the county, Sheriff Frank Irons noted.

James Hadley, boating control committee administrator, agreed that a better solution probably could be found on the county level.

★ ★ ★

"If we try to solve the problems on Cass Lake, we're just going to multiply them on every other lake," he said.

CAN PETITION

Hadley explained that the county or another local governmental branch could petition for a public hearing before the committee.

His office then would conduct an investigation and make recommendations, possibly in the form of ordinances to be considered by the unit.

Commerce Collision Leaves 3rd Injured

Two 16-year-old Detroit youths were killed yesterday when their car crashed head-on into an Oakland County Road Commission dump truck in Commerce Township.

Another passenger in the car, Randall, Pike, also 16, of Clearwater, Fla., is in serious condition in Pontiac General Hospital. The truck driver escaped injury.

Dead at the scene following the 11:38 a.m. collision at Union Lake Road near Bywater was Harold E. Hopkins. Rocco Raco III, driver of the car, died later at Pontiac General Hospital.

Ernest Hoggard, 48, of 1165 Highland, Highland Township, told sheriff's deputies he was driving his truck north on Union Lake Road when Raco's southbound car entered the northbound lane while passing another auto.

Hoggard, who was reportedly driving 35 miles per hour, told deputies he was unable to avoid the collision.

Rainy, Cooler Predicted for This Weekend

Cloudy with occasional rain and thundershowers tonight is the forecast for the Pontiac area. Temperatures will fall into the high 50s.

Cloudy and possibly more rain is predicted for tomorrow. The weather will turn a little cooler late in the afternoon or evening, the high hitting in the 70s.

Fair with temperatures a little below normal is Sunday's outlook.

The low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 56. At 1 p.m. the mercury stood at 68.

UAW Serves Strike Notice on Big Three

Set for Next Week if Talks in Stalmate; Target Firm Deferred

DETROIT (AP) — Notice has been served on the nation's auto industry that a strike will be scheduled next week against General Motors, Ford or Chrysler if negotiations for a new labor contract remain stalemated.

United Auto Workers union officials decided yesterday in Chicago to defer until next Wednesday at a special 8 p.m. meeting in Detroit the question of whether to authorize a strike at one of the automotive industry's Big Three.

"If the companies persist in their present offers, there will be a strike," said UAW President Walter P. Reuther.

Reuther was referring to virtually identical economic package proposals made last Monday by the auto companies.

★ ★ ★

'MISERABLY INADEQUATE'

They were promptly branded "miserably inadequate" by union leaders.

Spokesmen for the three auto companies had no comment on the union's action in postponing its selection of a strike target until next week.

When the economic proposal was made, Malcolm Denise, Ford vice president for labor relations, termed it the "most generous we've ever made to the UAW."

Reuther said next Wednesday's meeting in Detroit would review the status of negotiations at that time and receive reports on strike votes now being taken.

STRIKE TARGET

Then, if necessary, the board will select a strike target.

In 1961, the target was GM. In 1955 and 1958, it was Ford.

"We do not want a strike, and we shall continue to make every good faith effort at the bargaining table to avoid a strike," said the union's international executive board.

Cuba Orders Halt to Foreign Buying

By FRANCIS L. McCARTHY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Cuba has ordered its foreign trade representatives overseas to suspend further purchases abroad, bank sources said today.

They said that only parts and supplies needed for the sugar and nickel industries and a medical research center were excluded from the order.

The drastic cutback was interpreted to mean that Cuba has spent more than it has taken in, and now must retrench.

The order confirmed recent National Foreign Trade Council (NFTC) speculation based on reports from the Financial Times of London and the New York Journal of Commerce that near chaos in its own finances would force Cuba to suspend credit for foreign purchases.

Bank sources said the stop-buy edict issued from Havana last week also ordered an end to all negotiations not falling within the exempt categories and suspension of all letters of credit including those for purchases already made.

★ ★ ★

The order clarified hitherto unexplained recent shifts in top cuban ecodomic posts. In the past seven weeks, Cuba has ousted Regino Boti as economy minister, Marcelo Fernandez as minister of foreign commerce and set up an unprecedented sugar ministry.

PEACE FEELERS

The new Cuban economic crisis also was assumed to be behind recent insistent peace feelers directed at the United States.

Bank sources said Cuba's present plight could be attributed to the crash of world sugar prices, compounded by amateurish buying and handling of credits abroad.

Cuba's traveling commercial agents shuttle constantly between European and bloc capitals trying to obtain critical goods. Experts said waste as well as overhead was tremendous.

★ ★ ★

The sources described Cuban credit as no stronger than the sugar market—and they pointed out the sugar market is in a state of collapse.

★ ★ ★

They said there was no way of totaling exactly how much money Cuba owed abroad, or to whom, or how much was overdue or falling due.

Students Seek Kahn Ouster

Vow Larger Struggle if Demands Not Met

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Students in Saigon and other Vietnamese cities staged noisy antigovernment rallies today and demanded that President Nguyen Khanh step aside in favor of a civilian government.

The rallies came on the heels of the death of four American military advisers and heavy Vietnamese losses in a Communist ambush south of Saigon.

In Saigon today, Buddhist student leader Ton That Tue told 800 yelling students that Khanh's "dictatorship is even worse than the Ngo Dinh Diem dictatorship, and we must fight harder than ever."

The group marched to Khanh's office building shouting antigovernment slogans and waving banners reading "dictatorship digs a grave for itself."

Khanh was at the seaside resort of Cape St. Jacques, 40 miles southeast of Saigon, putting together a new Cabinet.

WENT THERE

Informed sources said a delegation of students went to see him there also.

Barry Favors Hike in Social Security Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater told the Senate today he favors the Social Security system, wants to see it strengthened and therefore will vote for a 5 per cent increase in benefits.

"I have voted for genuine improvement in the system since I have been in the Senate and I plan to do so now," the Arizonan said in a speech.

He attacked the Johnson administration's proposal to provide health care for the aged through Social Security.

"We shall not preserve the Social Security program if we saddle it with unnecessary new burdens, such as medicare," Goldwater said. "We penalize every senior citizen if we thus bankrupt the system that protects him."

★ ★ ★

Goldwater's views on Social Security and on health care are certain to be issues in the presidential campaign. He has in the past registered both his approval of "a sound Social Security system" and said it should not be coupled with health care.

OTHER COMMENTS

But he also has said — in Keene, N.H. last Jan. 22 —that "I think we would be better off with Social Security as a voluntary setup." And in the race for the Republican presidential nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York charged that Goldwater would wreck Social Security.

DROUGHT CONDITIONS — Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag (right) talks with Mower County farmer Henry Lausen about drought conditions in the state. The dry summer is held responsible for shriveled ears, which should be as large as the good ear being held by the governor.

Serious Threat to Crops by Increasing Drought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spreading and deepening drought conditions are raising serious threats to crop production and farm income in many parts of the country. Higher prices of some foods could result.

Without doubt, volume will fall considerably below the Agriculture Department's Aug. 1 forecast that crop production will be less than 1 per cent below last year's record high.

Vital pasture for livestock is being damaged. So are such crops as corn, sorghum grain, soybeans, cotton and sugar beets.

There is no likelihood, however that production will be reduced enough to create any national shortage.

The department is speeding emergency aid to many farmers. It already has granted farmers in 617 counties in 26 states permission to graze and cut what little hay there is on land that had been retired from production under government payment programs.

★ ★ ★

It also has extended its emergency feed grain programs to farmers in 23 counties in four states. Applications are pending for such aid from many other states and counties.

GRAIN AVAILABLE

Under this program, the department makes its feed grain available to drought-plagued farmers at 75 per cent of the price support rates.

Department officials are concerned that if the dry weather continues much longer in areas

Rain 'Does Trick' for Certain Crops

The mild but persistent rain of the past two days is "doing wonders" for some crops in the area, according to Lyle B. Abel, director of the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service.

Abel said this morning that some crops were too close to harvest to be helped by the rain.

However, others such as late fruit, alfalfa, clover and fall wheat would benefit greatly from the rain, Abel pointed out.

Pastures are also benefiting from the rain, and farmers are finding the soil easier to turn in planting.

Weightlessness Study

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The manned spacecraft center awarded a contract today to the Texas Medical Center in Houston to put 66 young men to bed for a study of weightlessness.

The $290,646 contract is a continuing effort by the space agency to determine ways to avoid cardiovascular ill effects on astronauts in long space flights.

Platform Unit Eyes Problem of Enforcement

Question of Wording Before Committee in Convention City

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Democratic platform writers trying to avoid a party-rending fight over civil rights wrestled with a problem of wording today.

How far could a Democratic national platform go in trusting state and local officials to carry out the federal civil rights law?

The problem of wording was before the platform committee which moved its operations yesterday to Atlantic City, where the Democratic National Convention opens Monday.

Gov. Carl Sanders of Georgia roused the committee to applauding enthusiasm yesterday with a plea for a civil rights plank pledging the party to support "the law of the land."

★ ★ ★

But Sanders, who personally opposed the public accommodations section of the law, also said the spirit of the law should be carried out "through local people in their own local communities, and not through fear of federal force or federal intimidation."

'NOT A CLUB'

Later, Sanders told newsmen his idea of the proper civil rights plank is "a moderate expression that we are going to implement the law which is on the books with reason and responsibility and that we are not going to use it as a club."

Platform committee members from outside the South praised the tone of Sanders' speech as a contribution to the creation of an atmosphere in which Democrats might be able to fashion a mutually agreeable civil rights plank.

But there were doubts that the formula Sanders suggested could survive debate in the committee.

★ ★ ★

The only Negro member of the committee, Rep. William L. Dawson of Illinois, sought out Sanders after his speech to shake his hand.

'NEW DEAL'

"With this kind of leadership in the South, there can be a new day and a new deal," Dawson told a reporter.

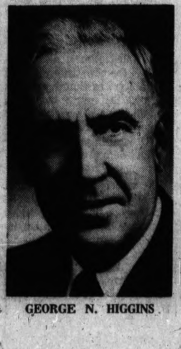

Dawson, a native of Georgia, would not, however, flatly predict agreement on a civil rights plank.

"I think we may work something out," he said. "We have plenty of good brains in the party — like Gov. Sanders."

Higgins Award Nominee

George N. Higgins will square off with Gov. George Romney for the Republican gubernatorial nomination on Sept. 1, but he also looks forward to a nonpolitical national contest.

GEORGE N. HIGGINS

Owner of a Pontiac car dealership in Ferndale since 1931, Higgins has been picked by the Detroit Automobile Dealers Association (DADA) as its nominee for the Benjamin Franklin Quality Dealers Award presented annually by the Saturday Evening Post.

The award is considered the highest in the auto retail business and will be presented at the National Automobile Dealers Association convention next January in Las Vegas.

Higgins' dealership is among the oldest in the Pontiac organization. He has won a number of Pontiac Motor Division awards and was the nation's top Chevrolet salesman in 1925 when he first entered auto retailing.

The 63-year-old chairman of the Michigan Employment Security Commission has also served three terms in the State House of Representatives and five in the State Senate.

To Dem Convention

Press Scribe Is on His Way

Pontiac Press readers who enjoyed editorial writer Howard Heldenbrand's colorful, candid coverage of the recent GOP Convention will be treated to the same type of reporting from the Democratic Convention at Atlantic City next week.

Heldenbrand

Howard and Mrs. Heldenbrand are on their way by auto for the convention city, where they will live in luxury (on his expense account) at the President Hotel, convention headquarters.

When he isn't ogling the Boardwalk scenery for which Atlantic City is famous, Heldenbrand will be spending some time in the smoke-filled caucus rooms at Convention Hall.

Now and then, he'll look in on the convention to see if anybody has nominated him for President.

Heldenbrand says there is little doubt that President Johnson will receive a unanimous nomination, although there may be some grumbling from part of the Southern delegation.

The President could even be nominated without a roll call, the scribe predicts, which has happened only four times in history.

HIS MONEY IS DOWN

Heldenbrand has his money on Minnesota Senator Hubert Humphrey as the Democratic choice for the No. 2 spot.

★ ★ ★

When he left here this morning, Heldenbrand was still trying to figure a way to stretch out his assignment to include the Miss America beauty pageant, which is scheduled soon after the convention.

His wife will probably solve that problem for him, however.

Roaming Buffalo Killed

HILLSBORO, Ill. (AP) — The life of a buffalo away from the range isn't worth a nickel these days. One wandered onto the highway from the farm of John Cabetto Thursday and was killed by a truck. Surviving pets on the central Illinois farm include deer and a camel.

Educational Aim Praised

Poverty Program Spurs Hopes

By JACK MARTIN

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — The antipoverty legislation just signed by President Johnson means a crack in the wall of despair to some in this depressed area.

Much more is needed, but residents are particularly happy about the educational aim of the bill, one observer said today.

* * *

"Vocational school has helped us no end," she said.

A major provision of the bill is to help school dropouts resume their education, aid needy college students with part-time work and provide training for jobless youths.

ONE EXAMPLE

As one example of training, 60 vocational graduates recently got jobs at a tourist lodge in a nearby state park. They had trained in subjects ranging from mechanics to waitress work.

"Sixty out of a little town like Hazard is a lot," was one comment.

* * *

"Vocational education is very important, the main thing," said State Sen. William Engle of Hazard.

* * *

But he and others agree the main hope of this area is the Appalachian recovery bill pending in Congress.

ROADS NEEDED

The major need, Engle said, is roads. This is promised in the Appalachian bill — a $840-million network of development highways to replace narrow, worn roads that keep the region isolated from modern America.

In North Carolina, Gov. Terry Sanford said "the state of North Carolina and the entire nation will benefit considerably" under the antipoverty bill.

Even though state antipoverty action is under way, he said, "there are many things possible which would not have been possible under our state program."

The antipoverty bill also includes loans to low-income families to improve farm operations.

HALF OF FAMILIES

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt of Kentucky testified before Congress that half the families in 61 Kentucky counties have annual incomes of $3,000 or less — the yardstick used by the administration to determine poverty.

The Appalachia proposals, he said, are needed to help rebuild the physical resources of Eastern Kentucky. The antipoverty program, he added, will help the state develop its human resources.

Tobaccos Still on Rise

Market Recovery Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market recovered irregularly today from Thursday decline.

Steels, airlines, oils, cigarette issues and some of the rails perked up. Gains of leading issues ran mostly from fractions to a point.

Lorillard, Liggett & Myers, Reynolds and American Tobacco gained fractions as they continued to respond to the latest news of improving cigarette shipments.

The motors showed little change as the auto labor situation remained in a state of suspense. General Motors was unchanged, Ford eased and Chrysler gained a fraction.

Bethlehem, Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin were fractional gainers.

Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.3 to 315.0.

Prices were irregularly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Pyle National rose more than a point.

Syncom 3 Said Near Its Goal

Hovers Over Sumatra Area in Indian Ocean

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The space agency reported today that Syncom 3 had achieved a near-stationary orbit and said it was confident the communications package could be maneuvered into position as the world's first stationary satellite — one that hovers over a single spot on earth.

"Syncom 3 looks very good and is in near-synchronous orbit," a statement said. "After evaluation of the data, project officials will determine what future maneuvers will be made."

★ ★ ★

Evaluation of tracking data had been delayed several hours by a balky computer at the Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md.

★ ★ ★

The near-stationary orbit was achieved Thursday above Sumatra when a satellite motor fired to shift Syncom 3 out of a wide-looping path into a circular orbit where both the high and low points are about 23,000 miles high.

INCREASE SPEED

The motor firing, triggered by a ground radio signal, also increased the spacecraft speed so that it matched that of the rotation of the earth. Thus, the satellite appears to hang almost motionless over the Sumatra area in the Indian Ocean.

★ ★ ★

It was hoped the maneuver would arrest Syncom 3 directly above the equator. However, this was not fully realized and the satellite apparently is weaving north and south across the equatorial line at a slight angle.

★ ★ ★

The angular movement can be eliminated by radio commands to small gas jets aboard the satellite. These jets also will be used to move Syncom 3 from the position above Sumatra to a stationary outpost above the Pacific intersection of the equator and international date line. The maneuvering is expected to take about 10 days.

★ ★ ★

In that permanent position, the satellite, which was launched Wednesday from Cape Kennedy, would be available for extensive communications experiments between stations in the United States and Asia. Telephone, teletype, radio, television and picture transmission tests were planned to determine feasibility of a stationary satellite for communications.

But Picture Is Mixed

Public in Bullish Mood

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — What Americans are doing with their money this summer and what they plan to do shines forth today in a spate of government and private statistics.

DAWSON

● Bank customers are pushing their money into and out of their checking accounts at a faster rate than earlier this year, and much faster than a year ago.

★ ★ ★

● Stock traders are betting less now on a drop in prices than they were just a month back.

● Fewer people are starting new homes than earlier this year, or this time last year.

● Stockholders are getting slightly bigger cash dividend payments this summer than last.

● Businessmen are ordering more durable goods from manufacturers again after a two months' slowdown, and the backlog of unfilled orders has risen — to promise brisk activity in the weeks and months ahead.

It adds up to a mixed picture, but with the bullish-minded still in the foreground.

CHECKING ACCOUNTS

The ways of people with their checking accounts are revealed by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York in a report today on demand deposit turnover. This shows that in 337 localities outside the major money centers the velocity rate increased 2½ per cent in July over June, and 3 per cent over July 1963.

In New York City the turnover rate went up 10 per cent in the month to a new high, money going in and out of checking accounts 22 per cent faster than a year ago.

★ ★ ★

In the six other leading financial centers — Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, San Francisco and Los Angeles — bank customers turned over their accounts at a 4½ per cent faster rate in July than in June, and 5 per cent higher than last year.

The turnover rate sheds light on the general economic activity and on the effective supply of money available to the economy.

INTEREST DROPPED

The New York Stock Exchange reports that in the month ended Aug. 14, the short interest dropped by 239,735 shares to a total of 6,400,795.

This is a measure of bearish sentiment, since it shows that in the issues involved some traders expect to buy back their borrowed stock at a lower price. The drop in the total reflects a slight dimming of bearish sentiment. Since only 0.1 per cent of all shares listed are involved, the bearish element seems pretty slim just now.

Housing starts are another matter. They dropped 5 per cent in July from June and were 4 per cent below a year ago. For the May-July period starts were 2 per cent below the 1963 period. In all 1963 private starts totaled 1,587,000. The annual rate is running now at 1,517,000 units.

But some government officials still hope the 1964 goal of 1,600,000 may yet be reached.

Durable goods orders are one of the brightest figures this summer. In July they jumped 7 per cent to a seasonally adjusted record of $21.1 billion. The previous record was April's $20.5 billion. This brought the backlog of unfilled orders for durables to $50.9 billion. The biggest gain in July orders was in the aircraft industry, but backlogs also rose in primary metals, other transportation goods and electrical machinery.

★ ★ ★

Stockholders got cash dividend payments in July totaling $1,158,000,000, compared to $1,082,000,000 in the 1963 month.

All in all, the money continues to flow at a faster than usual rate this summer, and this gives businessmen — except maybe home builders — high hopes for the autumn.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "Following the advice given in your past columns, I own General Motors, Jersey Standard, Long Island Lighting, and Corn Products. I intend to hold these; but, while I have a small profit in Corn Products, should I continue to stay with it in view of the way it has acted? I have a 25-point loss in Bohack; what should I do here?"

M. C.

A) The action of Corn Products since the first of the year could have been better. First six months' net was ahead of last year, but only by a small margin. Corn Products' Knorr soups' reception has been disappointing, and the company is experiencing sizable costs in new product introduction abroad. However, I would continue to hold this high-grade growth issue.

Bohack reported satisfactory profit margins up to a few years ago. Intensified competition from other food chains entering its selling areas continues to act as a drag on profits. Comeback trail for this one seems long. I would switch to Winn-Dixie, operating in the Southern states.

★ ★ ★

Q) "I have considerable American Tel. & Tel., two mutual funds, and cash in banks at 3½ per cent and 4 per cent which I do not wish to disturb. Due to rising cost of living, I could use more income. As Schenley and National Distillers yield over 4 per cent and sell at a price I could handle, would you advise purchase?"

P. G.

A) You may be interested to know that about 17 per cent of my correspondence shows American Telephone stock as either owned, mentioned, or inherited.

I would not suggest the purchase of the two liquor stocks — or any other stock — because of the low price. The past record and future outlook should be the determining factors.

Return on these liquor shares is above average because of an erratic past earnings record, but I suggest fewer shares of Ingersoll-Rand, yielding about 4.5 per cent.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Dirksen's Unfulfilled Love

Prefers Piccolo Playing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois has confided to the Senate an unfulfilled ambition to play the piccolo.

★ ★ ★

At 68, the curly-haired Republican leader is an orator, a smooth politician and a flower grower.

All this was known to his colleagues when he arose Thursday to join the Democratic leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, in commending the Montana Centennial Band. The high school students were in Washington to give a concert Thursday night on the Capitol steps.

★ ★ ★

Somewhat mournfully, Dirksen said that when he was a boy the country was not filled with school bands. He said there was a lack of money for instruments and a shortage of teachers.

WORK A LOT

And, he added, "one had to work so much of the time to stay in school that he did not have time to tootle an instrument."

★ ★ ★

By the time his daughter had entered school, Dirksen noted, all this had changed. She learned how to play an instrument, although he said he couldn't remember whether it was a flute or a piccolo.

★ ★ ★

As for himself Dirksen said, "I vowed that when I got around to it and was not encumbered with public duty that I would find a piccolo instructor and start playing the piccolo, even at my age.

★ ★ ★

"There is something so entrancing and stimulating about the music."

YOUNG MUSICIAN

As for the high school musicians, he said: "If we find a youngster who is playing a slide trombone, a piccolo or a French horn, I don't think we have to worry too much about the question of juvenile delinquency."

Rise Reported in Lake Levels

Attributed to Flow From Lake Superior

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP)—The greatest flow of water from Lake Superior in 10 years has improved low water levels in the Great Lakes, International Joint Commission officials said here Thursday.

★ ★ ★

They said nine of 16 gates holding back Lake Superior waters have been opened to pour 95,000 cubic feet a second of water into Lake Huron and then on to Lake Erie.

★ ★ ★

The first two gates were opened two months ago and the others successively since then as levels in Lake Superior rose gradually. Officials said they hoped to maintain the flow until the freeze-up.

★ ★ ★

No details on lake levels were available, but an official said it would take from three to four months to raise the level of Lake Erie an inch.

★ ★ ★

A Canada Steamship Lines official said the water level in the company's dock here has risen 14 inches, part of it due to dredging. Other reports said draft of vessels in the Canadian Sault and MacArthur American Sault locks has improved by six inches.
