Actually 3 U.S. Moons Zooming Around Earth

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Two—actually three—U.S. moons whizzed around the earth today in company with the sole surviving but already doomed Soviet Sputnik satellite.

And the United States continued to press on with programs to launch additional space craft.

With Sputnik II given less than a month remaining life, the Soviet Union for the first time since Sputnik I came into being Oct. 4 was at a numerical disadvantage in the international space flight competition.

The Navy Vanguard satellite was launched early yesterday into an orbit that pushed new frontiers out into the unknown.

The announced orbit ranged from 400 miles above the earth to a peak of 2,500 miles, the highest yet attained by a man-made satellite.

The Vanguard orbiter represented not one but two satellites. Its true artificial moon was a shiny aluminum sphere only 6.4 inches in diameter and weighing 3¼ pounds.

Somewhere close behind it in an 18,000-mile-an-hour orbit hundreds of miles out from the earth was the 50-pound third-stage rocket that pushed Vanguard to orbital speed. It was 5 feet long and 20 inches wide.

The Navy estimated that the sphere would stay in orbit 5 to 10 years. The dead rocket in its wake will have a much shorter ride.

Some officials of the Martin Co., which built the Vanguard test rockets, suggested that the orbit peak may be considerably above the 2,500 miles officially accorded it, possibly to 3,000 miles or higher.

Dr. Milton Rosen, technical director of the Vanguard project for the Naval Research Laboratory, said the exact altitude attained by the new satellite would not be ascertained until telemetry data and other information received from the sphere had been analyzed.

But he said he was more interested in the fact that the Vanguard orbit's low point is 400 miles.

"That's far better than we had hoped for," he told a reporter. He said provisions had been made for the possibility of a low point of only 200 miles.

"The fact that our low point is twice that high means we were much more successful than we had hoped, and that the satellite will have a much longer life than could have been expected," he added.

The Army launched its Explorer I satellite Jan. 31. The cylinder is almost 7 feet long and 6 inches in diameter. It weighs 30.8 pounds of which only about 12 pounds make up the instrumented satellite part.

Army Secretary Brucker announced earlier that there may be another attempt to launch an Army satellite within a week.

N. Elliott Felt, operations manager for Martin Co. on Project Vanguard, said there would be one more test vehicle firing in the current series.

In Washington, Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard for NRL, said the Navy would launch six Vanguard rockets with 21-inch, 20½-pound spheres and one with a 13-inch plastic lobe.

At Cambridge, Mass., the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory alerted 127 U.S. Moonwatch teams to try to observe the new Vanguard satellite visually.

The Vanguard orbits around the earth on the average of every 135 minutes compared with 115 minutes for the Explorer.

Governors Called to White House

Gov. Williams Urges Legislators to Widen Bonds-for-Buildings

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams last night urged Michigan lawmakers to expand his bonds-for-buildings proposal to take in a total of 82 projects worth 114 million dollars.

He gave economic pump-priming arguments as his reason for more than doubling the scope of his original 24-project, $54,700,000 program outlined Jan. 31.

"I think there is the greatest degree of urgency in this," the governor told newsmen before submitting the special message. "I would like to have them pass this in the next 10 days."

In the Senate, Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, Republican majority caucus chairman, commented "we're going to have a hard time getting any building program at all, let alone one of the proportions."

Beadle favors the bonds-for-buildings idea.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman of the Appropriations Committee—which has

To Explain Tax Boost

LANSING (AP) — About 10,000 leaflets summarizing Gov. Williams' arguments for boosting the state intangibles tax 20 million dollars a year are being passed out by Michigan Democrats. More may be on the way. Printing costs of about $150 were met from the governor's testimonial dinner fund, the governor said.

the governor's original plan under study, said flatly, "He's not going to get it." Porter is against borrowing in any form.

Williams said whereas his first proposal was "rigidly limited" to most pressing construction needs it has now become "imperative" to give heavy weight to "economic stimulus" and job considerations.

He said the revised plan would provide work, mostly for from three months to a year and a half, for between 28,000 and 34,000 persons. This compares with the 5,000 to 7,500 "man years" first contemplated.

MOSTLY AT SCHOOLS

The original 24 projects were mostly proposed at state colleges and universities, with some at corrections and mental health institutions.

Knight Testifies in House Quiz

Publisher Says National Airlines Official Sure of Getting TV Channel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newspaper publisher John S. Knight testified today he gained an impression a National Airlines official was "extremely confident" prior to the FCC decision of getting the disputed Miami TV Channel 10.

Knight, who publishes the Miami Herald, related to a House investigating committee that he talked about television situations with Alexander Hardy, a vice president of National, on a plane trip from Washington to Miami about Jan. 6, 1956. He called it "a normal topic of conversation."

"I gained the impression Hardy was extremely confident," Knight said.

He added he also got the impression that Hardy felt he had three votes of the seven-member Federal Communications Commission. He said Hardy did not name the votes.

In a February 1957 decision, the FCC granted the channel to Public Service. An FCC examiner had recommended that the grant go to radio station WKAT, owned by A. Frank Katzentine of Miami Beach.

Knight was not among the contestants for Channel 10, but was called by the House committee to tell of conversations he had with the contestants.

Labor Probers Seek to Shorten Quiz on Kohler

Reuther, President of Firm May Testify by Week's End

WASHINGTON (AP) —Senate rackets probers were reported angling today for an agreement to shorten their stormy hearings on violence in the Kohler strike.

The agreement, if it jells, could bring to the witness stand by week's end two embattled major witnesses —Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, and Herbert Kohler, head of the Kohler Co. The firm manufacturers plumbing fixtures.

Well-placed sources disclosed the move as the special investigating committee sought to determine whether law enforcement favored either side in the UAW's bitter, marathon strike against the company.

The strike now is nearing the end of its fourth year without sign of a settlement. The company is operating with nonstrikers and new employes.

On call for questioning were former Mayor Rudolph J. Ploetz of Sheboygan, Wis., and the city's former police chief, Walter Wagner.

More than 30 other witnesses who have been summoned remained to be heard as the hearings entered their fourth week.

Police Chief Steen W. Heimke told the committee Friday his efforts to quell the "Clay Boat Riot" of 1955, which marked a high point in strike violence, were never accepted.

100-Year-Old Farmhouse Gutted

MILFORD FIRE — Firemen from four communities battled a $35,000 fire on Wixom Rd. for three hours last night, but the interior of the century-old farmhouse was completely destroyed. The James Mace family escaped without injury.

Spring Approaches With Snow in Tow

More snow is expected in the Pontiac area.

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts tonight and tomorrow will be mostly cloudy with a few snow flurries and little temperature change.

The low tonight will be 31 to 35 degrees and the high tomorrow near 42.

The outlook for Thursday, the first day of spring, is considerable cloudiness, scattered light snows and little change in temperature.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 32. At 2 p.m. the reading was 45.

Area Landmark Ravaged by Fire

The interior of one of Milford's oldest landmarks was destroyed by a $35,000 fire last night despite efforts of firemen from four communities.

James Mace, owner of the century-old "Seven Pines" farmhouse at 2380 Wixom Rd., and his family escaped the flames.

He said he and his wife along with their four children were watching television in the living room at 9:30 p.m., when suddenly they saw smoke billowing from the kitchen area.

When Milford firemen reached the scene minutes later, the rear of the old house was in flames.

Other men and equipment were summoned from the nearby General Motors Proving Grounds, Wixom and Highland Township departments.

The Mace family saved only the clothes they had on.

Mace said the fire possibly started from an automatic dryer that was in operation in the kitchen. Milford firemen were investigating the cause today.

For more than 100 years, the two-story frame house has stood on a 200-acre site on Wixom road. The name "Seven Pines" originated from the trees in the front yard of the home.

Father Charged in Triple Killing

Surrenders in Detroit; Wife, Two Girls Found Slashed in Ontario

ELLIOTT LAKE, Ont. (AP)—A 28-year-old woman and her two young daughters were found slashed to death in a blood-soaked trailer a few miles north of this uranium-mining center early today.

Provincial police found the bodies about 3 a.m. as the result of a report that a man identified as Roland F. Sabourin, 30, had walked into police headquarters in Detroit and told officers he was "haunted by the feeling I killed my wife and daughters" in Elliott Lake.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Lucille Sabourin, Lorraine, 7, and Jeannette, 3.

Charges of murder were sworn out against Sabourin. Provincial police headquarters at Toronto said Inspector H. M. Purdy has gone to Detroit to arrange Sabourin's return to Canada.

The Elliott Lake miner walked into police headquarters last night and told his story to Lt. Fred Wrenbeck. He was taken then to Receiving Hospital, where physicians said he had been drinking heavily and ordered him held for mental observation.

Sabourin was clean shaven and neatly dressed, but had only $4.03 in his pockets. He was unarmed.

Sabourin said he had been working in mines recently opened near Elliott Lake, now an uranium boom town but wilderness country as late as five years ago.

Sees A-Planes Arriving Soon

But Nuclear Engineer Points Out Number of Unsolved Problems

CHICAGO (AP) — Atom-powered military planes may be flying sooner than many people think, a nuclear engineer said today, but staggering technical problems remain to be solved.

A team of five engineers which has done much preliminary work on the atom plane design project for General Electric's aircraft nuclear propulsion department near Cincinnati, Ohio, gave a progress report at the 1958 Nuclear Congress.

Dr. D. S. Selengut, a member of the ANPD team, said availability of a critical assembly for study of radiation characteristics and a large-scale computer have speeded up work on the aircraft propulsion design.

He said development of such high-performance propulsion systems in other fields has taken 20 to 30 years, but that he feels a safe, practical atomic aircraft engine will be blueprinted in a fraction of that time.

Ike to Present Plan for Aiding Idled Workers

President Would Extend Jobless Compensation to 39 Weeks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will discuss with a group of state governors tomorrow his proposal for an extended jobless payment plan before he sends it to Congress.

It was reported the plan may entail lending federal money to the states to pay unemployment compensation benefits for a maximum 39 weeks, instead of the 26 weeks most presently pay, plus a form of relief or dole for idle workers not covered by the UC system.

The plan still is subject to change, and reportedly is encountering some opposition within the administration. Some legal problems also remain.

The whole idea is to prevent suffering for want of food or shelter among those who are still unemployed after their regular UC payments run out.

The idle were counted officially at 5,173,000 in mid-February. From all indications their number has continued growing since then.

WORKS ON PLAN

Eisenhower announced March 8 that he was working on a plan to pay extended unemployment benefits.

Yesterday he wired the nine members of the Governors' Conference executive committee that he would like to advise and counsel with them tomorrow on "a tentative plan."

He said it involves a "limited and temporary extension of the duration of unemployment compensation benefits."

AMOUNT SAME

The amount of weekly benefits apparently would remain the same as the states now pay. These vary widely, but the national average is about $30 a week.

Navy's Vanguard I Joins Space Parade

GETTING CROWDED — Traffic is a bit heavier in orbit alley today after the Navy's success Monday in placing its tiny sphere in the area above the earth where satellites travel. The latest space traveler was launched after two earlier heart-breaking failures for the slim, 72-foot silvery Vanguard. The Navy's baby moon left its Cape Canaveral launching pad to join the Army's Explorer I and Russia's Sputnik II, giving the U. S. a current 2-1 edge in earth orbiters. The first Soviet Sputnik crashed some three months after being launched on Oct. 4, 1957. Vanguard I is expected to remain aloft five to ten years.

Dividends Up $11 Million

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cash dividend payments by corporations issuing public reports totaled 346 million dollars in February, up 11 million dollars from the same months last year.

Reporting this today, the Commerce Department said dividend payments by manufacturing industries were down 2 per cent from a year ago. More than half the industries reporting showed declines.

On the other hand, there were increases by electric and gas utilities.

In the first two months of 1958 dividends totaled $1,100,000,000, about the same as in the January-February period of last year.

February is typically a month of light dividend disbursements. In recent years February payments have run less than 3 per cent of the annual total.

Proposes Aid to State Hospital

Gov. Williams Asking Expansion of Building Authority

Pontiac State Hospital is slated for more than $1,720,000 in improvements under an expanded state building authority proposal by Gov. Williams.

Included are $1,632,000 for a new service building maintenance shop and $95,000 for permanent bleachers and storage facilities.

The legislature has yet to act on the governor's proposal.

If the money were alloted the Pontiac hospital, it would mean an end to a number of maintenance and food preparation buildings that are more than half a century old.

"We would replace the older buildings, such as the machine, carpentry, bakery shops and general stores, with a new building," said Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, hospital superintendent.

Architect's plans already have been drawn up for this project, he said. The new facility would be attached to the main hospital and modernization of the hospital's general dining room is also planned.

The bleachers — planned as a permanent installation with storage areas underneath — would add to the hospital's recreational therapy program, Dr. LaCore said.

"We have an athletic field, but no place for spectators to sit at present," he explained.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Where is the troposphere?

The troposphere is where you are now. It is everything above you up to about 40,000 feet. Above it are the stratosphere and the ionisphere. But the troposphere, only about eight miles in height, contains all our weather, all the air that is supplied with enough oxygen to sustain the life of human beings, and the most important direct relationship with our everyday life.

Actually, half of all the air is packed below the 18,000-foot level. At 40,000 feet, where the stratosphere begins, humans cannot breathe. All life is found in the troposphere.

The weather, which sometimes features clouds up to 40,000 feet, or possibly higher at the equator, or close to it, moves across the earth in the troposphere. Above it flying conditions are constant.

Americans Ordered to Leave Battle-Scarred Sumatran City

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — U.S. firms and missions ordered 250 Americans out of Medan today as prospects loomed for more fighting in the see-saw battle for the North Sumatran capital.

Confirming that the key port and rail center which fell to the rebels Sunday had been retaken by Jakarta government troops, U.S. Vice Consul Richard Dleary indicated another rebel attack was expected.

"The city is in government hands," he said, "but I don't know for how long."

Dleary said the 250 Americans —including women and children— would leave for Singapore Thursday aboard the liner Oranje. The liner also will take out 825 Dutch nationals.

The Americans were told to leave by U.S. rubber firms and Christian missions whose forces make up most of the American population in North Sumatra. The evacuees included personnel of the U.S. Rubber Co. and Goodyear, which have vast plantations in the areas, and 25 American missionaries and teachers.

In a telephone call from Medan, Dleary said no Americans had been injured in the two battles, during which the city of 300,000 went into rebel hands and back to the forces of President Sukarno.

A battalion of the Medan garrison led by Maj. Boyke Nainn Golan switched allegiance to the rebel cause Sunday and took over the town. But before rebel reinforcements from Central Sumatra could arrive, Dleary said, loyalist Indonesian army paratroopers dropped on Medan's Belawan Harbor early Monday, then regained control of the city of 300,000 after a brief struggle. Nainn Golan and his force withdrew from the city.

Radio Medan was partly knocked out by the fight, but two of its four transmitters were operating later.

Rebel sources in Singapore had reported that Capt. Pohan, who displaced the Jakarta-appointed commander in northwest Sumatra's Tapanuli province Friday, was advancing on the Medan with three battalions. The radio in Padang, the revolutionary government's headquarters on the west coast of Central Sumatra, also reported that fighting was going on in the Langkat area north of Medan.

Enter Innocent Plea for Carl I. Flath

Carl I. Flath, 49, director of Pontiac General Hospital, stood mute to charges of drunk and disorderly Monday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Dieterle entered a plea of not guilty for Flath and set his trial date at April 8.

The date will conflict with the Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger $250,000 damage suit against the hospital and Flath, which is slated to start April 8 in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Flath's trial on the drunk charge is expected to be rescheduled for an earlier date, according to Dieterle.

Flath was arrested by Orchard Lake Police early Sunday when his car left Orchard Lake road, crashing through a fence on Pontiac Yacht Club property near Keego Harbor.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

Life expectancy has been extended by many years with scientific development. Health-giving diets, vitamins, sanitation and medical discoveries have prolonged the life span.

We can now expect to live 20 or 30 years longer than our recent ancestors.

Are we using this longer life for the benefit of selfish desires? Somehow it seems futile to extend life while developing more tragic means of taking life.

The bow and arrow, the sword and spear endangered young men who dared take up the deadly arms many years ago. Guns increased the possibility of violent death.

Atom bombs endanger millions of young folk and old folk alike who have never thought of fighting nor of killing people.

The nonbelligerents will increasingly become involved in future conflicts.

We should all do well to use the extra years of our lives to extend the kingdom of God. The world needs more love, more kindness, more forgiveness.

We need more friendship and less of sin and less of destruction. We have some extra years. Let us use them well!

same general concentration but included a $9,505,000 state office building, a $2,330,000 Supreme Court and library building, a $231,000 Agriculture Department laboratory, a $657,000 home arts building at the State Fairgrounds and $71,140 for a State Police radio service structure at East Lansing headquarters.

The expanded program would call for a total of $22,208,000 in construction at Michigan State University, $25,254,000 at the University of Michigan and U. of M. Hospital and $7,626,000 for the new institution for mentally retarded children at Plymouth.

Under the financing plan, a state building authority would be created with power to issue bonds and lease completed buildings to the state.

The bonds would be serviced out of rentals appropriated annually by the Legislature. Williams figured they would run about six million dollars a year, compared with three millions proposed Jan. 31.

As he said before, the governor repeated that pay-as-you-go financing would be cheaper, but lacking the cash, "we have the choice of building with a mortgage or not building at all."

He said the overall cost of the revised proposal, counting interest figured at 3 per cent and a bond life of 33 years, would run between 190 and 200 million dollars.

Soviet Reaction to Vanguard: 'Our Turn Next'

MOSCOW (INS) — "So they finally got it up."

That was the general comment on Moscow's main street when Soviet citizens were told of the successful launching of the Vanguard satellite.

One local personality, however, looked toward the future:

"Now America has caught up with us in space. They have launched two Sputniks, we have launched two Sputniks. The next move is up to us, and it will be a spectacular move."

Frequently included in the Russian reaction was the pointed question, "How much does the Vanguard Sputnik weigh?" It was obviously a reference to the 3¼-pound weight of Vanguard I and the half-ton plus of Sputnik II.

The Soviet news agency Tass, which has been quick to announce American failures in satellite launchings, was equally quick in reporting the latest success—but without comment.

Gov. G. Mennon Williams of Michigan is not invited. He is not a member of the executive board of the governors' group.

The present UC program is financed by a federal payroll tax paid mainly by employers.

The federal government retains a small percentage to pay its administrative costs and allots the remainder to separate funds from which the states pay the actual benefits.

It was reported those drafting the administration plan have considered raising that part of the tax going to the federal government.

This would repay eventually money to be advanced to the states to extend UC benefits.

States now pay veterans jobless payments benefits and later are reimbursed with federal funds.

Inasmuch as nearly two million of the five million unemployed are exempt from the U.S. system entirely — and never have received any jobless payments at all — consideration has reportedly been given to changing federal law to make such workers eligible for "public assistance" relief.

Hiller said his company is also working on a machine to create a "controlled whirlwind" to be used on a vertical takeoff plane, causing it to be "sucked rather than lifted off" the ground.

Pravda Sticks Hope's Picture on Front Page

By BOB HOPE

MOSCOW — My picture was on the front page of Pravda this morning. I was delighted until someone translated the caption underneath. It said "This couldn't happen under Communism."

I don't care what you've heard about Russian weather. It's true I've never seen so much snow— this whole country looks like it was painted by Grandma Moses.

But I'm used to the cold. I've been to Iceland, Greenland, Alaska and several Academy Award presentations.

As you may have read, I'm here as part of a cultural exchange program between the U.S. and Russia. In exchange for me they are sending a shipload of herrings.

The Russians must be starved for entertainment. When I arrived I found telegrams waiting for me from the mayors of Minsk, Pinsk and Leningrad. They wanted me to go to Omsk, Odessa and Vladivostok.

I'm appearing in a show for the embassy staff and their families. The Soviet censor read all my jokes to make sure I wouldn't say anything to offend anyone. I haven't seen him since. I understand he is doing my act in Leningrad.

I don't know whether Nikita Khrushchev is overly happy about my being here. He's very politically minded. He would have preferred Red Skelton, Red Buttons or Pinky Lee.

But it's really exciting being here and everyone has been wonderful to me. I'm getting the VIP treatment—very important peasant.

We're showing our picture "Paris Holiday" to Russian officials here tomorrow. I hope they like it. I'm in a spot here. I want to make a good impression, but at the same time I don't want to be held over.

BEWARE, COMRADES — Complete with sabre and Cossack hat, comedian Bob Hope clowns his way down Central Park South in New York City, prior to last weekend's departure for Moscow. Hope is in the Russian capital to preview his new film, "Paris Holiday," before an international audience.

Die Falls, Worker Killed

DETROIT (AP) — Joseph A. Scharbat, 45, of Ypsilanti, was killed Monday when struck by a 1,500-pound industrial die that fell when a chain hoist snapped.

City Commission Delays Action on Elm St. Paving

BIRMINGHAM — With but four members present at last night's City Commission meeting, no action was possible on confirming the Elm street paving assessment district. Five votes are needed for such action, Mayor William Roberts said.

The matter will be placed on next week's agenda, he said.

The necessity hearing on access drives on the east side of Woodward avenue north of Park street was set aside until April 14. City Manager L. R. Gare and City Engineer Grover Serenbetz said they will have additional information at that time on costs and plans.

Also held over for the manager's study and reports is the Troy Fire Department request for the use of Birmingham fire hydrants on East Maple avenue.

City Clerk Irene Hanley and the mayor were authorized to prepare construction easements for the North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority. The proposed route will touch slightly on city property at four points between Randall street and Midland avenue on the west side of Lakeview drive.

Three Birmingham Police officers escaped with minor injuries about 7:30 last night when their car was struck by a J. L. Hudson delivery truck and thrown against a third vehicle.

Patrolmen Lawrence Winkleman, 36, and Auxiliary Policemen Ted Young and Roy McCormick suffered cuts and bruises.

The patrol car was a total loss, police said.

Howard Rhodes, 37, of Dearborn, said the police car pulled in front of his truck as he was traveling north on Adams road at Lincoln avenue.

Robert McMillen, 35, of 3243 Mayfair Dr., Birmingham, told police he had stopped for a stop sign when the patrol car was thrown against his car.

No tickets were issued.

Fire hazards will be the subject of George Scott, city fire marshal, at the Friday meeting of the Senior Men's Club at the Community House.

The discussion group of the club selected "The American Indian" as its topic.

"Meet the Board" will be the theme of the combined meeting of all Parent - Teacher Associations of Bloomfield Hills schools Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Bloomfield High School auditorium.

Board of Education members Robert H. Hoffman, David W. Lee, Karl E. Scott, Douglas L. Jocelyn and Board President Merrill O. Bates will sit as a panel to discuss the work of the board and how it influences the school program.

All residents of the school district are invited.

Mrs. Agnes Jewell

Service for Mrs. Agnes Jewell, 46, of 449 E. 14 Mile Rd. will be at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow from C. F. Schnaidt Funeral Home, Royal Oak.

The Rev. William Richards, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Clarkston, will officiate. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

A former Clarkston resident, Mrs. Jewell died yesterday at University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She is survived by her husband, Frank; a son, Patrick of Ann Arbor; and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. Jendrick of Bell View, Fla.

Pontiac Libraries Join in National Observance

Pontiac's main library and branches are currently marking National Library Week, with the theme "Wake up and read, America."

A drive for a "better-read, better-informed America" is being led by the American Library Assn. and the National Book Committee, Inc., City Librarian Phyllis Pope says.

Awakening Americans to the rewards of reading, whether for pleasure or profit, is the aim of the first library week, March 16-22.

"We live in a complex and difficult time of Sputniks and guided missiles, when we must be well-informed or perish," Miss Pope said. "As a democratic nation, we depend on knowledge as never before. As the sponsors put it, 'We cannot afford a country of lazy minds, we cannot afford a nation of non-readers'," she said.

Locally, the week is being marked by displays at the main library, and also at the east side branch, the Adah Shelly branch, and at school stations.

The library's bookmobile is scheduled for a stopover in the downtown area, and posters are being displayed by merchants.

Leaves Five Million

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Henry B. Joy, prominent Detroit society and civic leader who died last Thursday, left an estate estimated at five million dollars. The figure was disclosed Monday when the will was filed for probate. Mrs. Joy, 88, left $650,000 to various individuals and organizations with the rest of the estate going to her daughter, son and four grandchildren.

Defends Land by Secession

Besieged Woman Asks Recognition by U.N. as Separate Nation

WALLER, Tex. (AP)—Embattled Mrs. Irene Cliett, 59, fought a court ruling taking away 350 acres by seceding from the Union yesterday. She asked U.N. recognition as a separate nation.

A sister, Mrs. Lucy Mayberry, said Mrs. Cliett also wrote Gov. Price Daniel asking intervention.

Federal courts have ruled 350 acres in this southeast Texas community belong to the heirs of George Scott. Mrs. Cliett has said Scott was a friend and not a partner and has denied claims to the land.

She pitched a tent, moved in household goods and armed herself with a shotgun.

Her sister, Mrs. Mayberry, held the fort when Deputy U.S. Marshal Ellis Binford tried to present Mrs. Cliett with a copy of a request for an injunction ordering the woman not to trespass.

"You can't come onto this property," shouted Mrs. Mayberry, who stood guard with a shovel.

"I just have my job to do," explained Binford.

But when he started to cross the fence, a crowd of about 15 persons advised him against it and he went back to his car.

Mrs. Mayberry gave a newsman a copy of a proclamation she said Mrs. Cliett had signed. It said in part: "...We hereby declare that we are no longer a part of the said United States and do declare ourselves to be hereby seceded and herein, and after, we will be known as Eneri (Irene spelled backwards, with the capital known as Lraep (Pearl spelled backwards). The boundaries are the same as those of several deeds registered in . . . the county of Waller in the foreign land of Texas, U.S.A.

Madison Heights Robber Sentenced 5-20 Years

A confessed robber was sentenced to 5 to 20 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

He passed sentence on Edward C. Knight, of 27850 Dartmouth Rd., Madison Heights.

Wires Kept Hot to Inform Ike of Vanguard

WASHINGTON (INS) — A dramatic series of teletype signals from the Navy's San Diego tracking station yesterday gave President Eisenhower and scientists the first word that Vanguard was in orbit.

There was a direct teletype hookup between San Diego and the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington. Shortly before 9:35 a.m. (EST) Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, sent a message to San Diego asking whether the west coast had picked up radio signals from the two radios in the baby moon.

He got this reply: "No signal yet."

But promptly at 9:35, the teletype chattered: "Stand by, we may have it."

Hagen messaged back: "Give us word as soon as possible."

His message had hardly cleared when San Diego broke in: "This is it. We have 108.03 megacycle (the frequency of the radio on the satellite powered by solar batteries.)"

A few seconds later, came this confirmation:

"Also 108.00 (signal from the battery powered radio)."

"Good signal — No doubt!

"Congratulations from San Diego."

Hagen replied: "Thanks much — this is the best."

Hagen then left the teletype and telephoned Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation who was waiting in a downtown office.

Breaking Liquor Law Costs Local Firms

Two local firms were fined at recent hearings by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission it was announced today.

The City Beverage Co., 117 Turk St., was charged with permitting trucks to travel on public highways on a Sunday delivering empty cases to a brewery.

The commission fined the company $100.

Felix Vitasinsky, owner of the General Party Foods Store, 564 S. Telegraph Rd., was charged with selling spirits on a Sunday and delivering or transporting beer before noon on Sunday.

The former charge was dismissed. The latter brought a $150 fine.

The oil and gas industry consumes about eight per cent of the U. S. steel output.

Cannon Shells Blast Sheboygan Falls

SHEBOYGAN FALLS, Wis. (AP) — Explosive cannon shells whipped out of the sky last night, pelting streets and hammering into at least three houses.

No one was injured, but residents of the area were warned to be on the lookout for any other shells which might be unexploded.

The blue-tipped projectiles were identified as shells from 20 mm. cannon

Capt. Robert Dietz, Air Force information officer at Chicago's O'Hare Field, said he was informed the shells came from a B47 based at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio.

How much is a Vigintillionth?*

Trying to picture a vigintillionth of anything is beyond the comprehension of most of us.

Almost as inconceivable for many is what life in America would be like without the motor truck.

Mass production and sub-assembly operations — the very heart of our technological economy — would be utterly impossible without the 'round-the-clock delivery of materials and parts trucks now provide.

And certainly there would be a tremendous "change" in our eating habits if trucks were removed from the picture because everything that comes from the farm — including meat on the hoof and dairy products — depends on truck transport for distribution to retailer and consumer.

Roads, buildings, public services, national defense — all these as we now know and rely on them — reflect the indispensability of the motor truck, and we could go on and on.

So, next time you see a truck on the street or highway remember — it's there because it has a job to do for you and 165 million other Americans!

City's High School Students Find Out

Here's How We Pay Our Taxes

One thing's for sure. We all have to do it so we might as well learn how early.

The what that we have to do is file income tax. The when is each year about this time.

Business education classes at Pontiac Central High Schol is the place where city teens are learning the hows, whys and wherefores of yearly correspondence they have with the one and only "Uncle Sam".

The Internal Revenue Service provides a handbook and forms to assist both the instructor and student in filling out federal income tax returns. The department has furnished such information for more than seven years in Pontiac free of charge.

The purpose of this course, which takes about four class periods is to aid students, the taxpayers of tomorrow.

Yet, all are not future taxpayers. A poll taken in Herbert H. Sanford's present class disclosed 16 of the 36 students in the class were intending to file returns this year.

Many students advise their parents in filling out the various forms and computing taxes.

Green Hair Girl Ousted

BALTIMORE (AP)—There was a wee bit of excitement St. Patrick's Day over an Irish colleen wearing a bit of green.

Sure 'n she was wearing it in her hair. But as her pop said, "Why get upset about a girl using a little food coloring in her hair to show she's Irish on St. Patrick's Day?"

Well, before you can say Begorrah the lass with the green hair, Margo Miller, 15, was asked to leave school. Officials didn't like the excitement among the 2,600 pupils at Woodbourne Junior High School.

You should have seen the excitement when her pop, Leo Miller, heard about it. He was on his way to the annual Hibernian Society Mass at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Nevertheless he said he wished for a shillelagh to use on somebody. What was worse, he found no Irish support from the two school officials he talked to.

The principal has the French name of Miss Dorothy Duvall and Miller observed she "obviously isn't Irish." The assistant school superintendent, who also heard some Miller fireworks has the Dutch name of Thomas Van Sant.

City school Supt. John H. Fisher had the last word: Miss Duvall "exercised the best kind of judgment" in the case because "the green hair was calculated to attract attention and would interfere with instruction."

'Blue Baby' Youth Dies in Surgery

CHICAGO (AP) — A 19-year-old youth collapsed and died yesterday in the operating room where five weeks ago he appeared to have recovered after a "blue baby" operation on his heart.

James Dixon, of Mitchell, S. D., collapsed in the X-ray room of the University of Illinois Hospital and was rushed to surgery. He died while his heart was being massaged.

Dixon had been considered recovered from the "blue baby" operation he underwent Feb. 7 and had been discharged. Such operations usually are performed on children 3 to 11 years old, and rarely upon an adult.

The term "blue baby" describes a condition caused by seepage from the heart that mingles pure and impure blood. The condition is characterized by a bluish-purple discoloration of the lips and fingernails.

Five Children Die as House Burns

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Fire raced through a small frame house yesterday and burned five children to death.

Willie B. Bradshaw, the father, was at work at a service station and the mother a housekeeper for a local family, was away from home.

Victims were Patricia Ann, 5, Willie Jr., 4, Manuel, 3, David, 2, and Ellison, about 1.

Cause of the fire was not determined immediately.

All were Negroes.

Guilty of Stabbing Man; Draws 90 Days Here

Accused of stabbing a man over a cup of coffee, Billy J. Tidwell, 27, of 1045 Durant St., was sentenced to 90 days in the Oakland County Jail by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick yesterday.

Tidwell pleaded guilty to aggravated assault against Roscoe Wilson, of 43 Hillsdale Dr.

Wilson said Tidwell threw a cup of coffee at him during an argument then stabbed him when he ordered him to leave.

As one stockholder to another . . .

Youngster Davy Milburn and oldster Fred Lawrence have much in common today. This is Annual Report day for these two Detroit Edison stockholders.

Davy doesn't understand all Fred has been saying but it makes mighty good sense. For instance, Fred's been telling him how Edison keeps on growing year after year. In fact, since 1947 plant capacity has more than doubled. So has plant value. It has now passed the billion dollar mark.

For the year 1957, power to supply Edison's 7,600-square-mile service area was up 6%. Cash dividends of nearly $25 million were declared, representing $2.00 per share as compared with $1.85 per share the previous year. Detroit Edison hasn't missed a quarterly dividend for 49 years.

There's lots more Fred could say about the growth of Detroit Edison and Southeastern Michigan as well as what the company is doing to help both prosper. It's all there in the Annual Report and it makes good investment reading. Would you like a copy? Write—

Advice to Would-be Actors: Don't Despair!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—At a serenely young age, even before they know the real meaning of the word, a boy or girl often become acquainted with "despair." Despair is a concentrate of frustration and disappointment which leads to such listlessness and lack of hope that it becomes hard to work up enough energy to shake it off.

The thing for parents to do is to snap the despairing child out of his brooding lethargy as quickly as possible. Otherwise, he may get to enjoy this feeling of self-pity, and never quite grow out of it. . .

If he enjoys it enough, he might even grow up to be an actor.

"Actors love the word despair," says an actor named Ray Walston. "They roll in it, and talk about it, and hold it dramatically to their deflated chests, and some of them never get beyond it.

"If I have one piece of major advice to anybody who wants to be a good actor and hasn't yet made the grade, I'd say to kick the word 'despair' out of your vocabulary."

In other words, you may either die for your art (the old-fashioned school) or live for it (on hot dogs one day, caviar the next), but don't mess with mister in-between.

Walston is the droll, masterful actor who currently is being howled over in the new hit comedy, "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" Broadway visitors will remember him as the pixie-ish devil in "Damn Yankees," and out-of-towners will see him soon as Luther Billis in "South Pacific."

"I liked despair for awhile myself—but not past the age of 12. At some point, if you're wise, you should stop emoting and start working. I went to work for Margo Jones' amateur theater in Houston in 1937, and for five years, I played 12 different roles a year.

"You can't play that many parts without learning something."

Walston was leading up to his second parcel of advice: Don't rush to New York and a dramatic school when you decide to be an actor. "I don't see how they can learn much from an acting school. Say you go—there are 20 in your class — and you watch somebody like Harold Clurman dissect a scene. You marvel at the man. You marvel at the scene. But do you learn how to act?

"To me it's like taking a fighter to Stillman's gym and letting him watch another guy give a third guy an uppercut."

The way to be an actor, as the old and sounch cliche goes, is to act. Join an amateur theatrical group near your home. Play all the parts they'll allow you to play. When you feel you're ready, try New York.

"No one can tell when you're ready," Walston said, thoughtfully. "After I finished with Margo Jones, I felt I could still use polishing up so I worked for two years with the Cleveland Playhouse. Then I knew it was time."

New York, of course, didn't realize it was Walston's time; so he had to eat sandwiches for three years before the good role came.

But there's nothing bad about sandwiches. Better than despair.

Vanguard Being Used to Test Solar Power

By JOHN A. BARBOUR
AP Science Reporter

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—For the newest and tiniest U.S. moon, the earth is only a convenient shadow in a hot and cold game of hide and seek with the sun.

The baby moon's whirling path in and out of the sunlight is testing whether man can steal the energy of the sun for electricity and whether he can stand the heat and cold of space.

Because the new moon is only the size of a grapefruit—just 6.4 inches through the center—it has relatively few jobs in space.

But because it gathers the power of the sun, the 3¼-pound moon may have the longest-lived radio voice of any satellite yet launched.

Around its polished aluminum skin, the little satellite wears six small glass windows, each holding a group of solar cells. These cells are capable of turning sunlight into electricity.

The electric power operates one of the two radio voices in the satellite—a voice that could keep earth scientists informed on the uninhibited heat of the sun perhaps for the lifetime of the satellite.

This of course would be under ideal circumstances. As a matter of fact, it isn't known just how long the solar batteries will work. They've never yet been exposed to the full power of the sun, unfiltered by the earth's atmosphere.

Both of the satellite's voices will be sensitive to temperature. The one powered by solar batteries broadcasts back the skin temperature. The other radio voice, powered by chemical batteries, broadiasts temperatures inside the moon.

If both operate right, scientists will be able to tell how much the temperature in the tiny shell shifts and not be more than five degrees off the mark.

The little moon also will tell indirectly of two other space secrets sought by International Geophysical Year scientists.

If meteorite dust is going to be a space problem for man, the little moon may give the first hint. If the dust scores or pits the solar windows, it will cut down on the amount of sunlight and electricity and finally on the radio power.

Although the little moon is too small to track, except by its own radios, it is the first U.S. moon to have a traveling companion.

The silent partner in space is the third stage of the Vanguard rocket. It is 5 feet long and should be visible to earth observers, at sunset or sunrise.

New Drug Aids Blood Pressure

Surgeon General Tells of Several Advances Made in Medicine

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new treatment for high blood pressure and a simple test for rheumatoid arthritis are listed among results of research by the Public Health Service.

Dr. Leroy E. Burney, surgeon general, reported these and other developments to the House Appropriations Committee in testimony just made public.

He said "a promising new drug," chlorothiazide, was used in the treatment of high blood pressure.

Burney did not elaborate on the development of what he called a simple, swift test for diagnosing rheumatoid arthritis. On a related matter, he said the finding of the precise cause of a rare metabolic disease, alcaptonuria, may throw light on the development of arthritis generally.

In reports on other matters, Burney said:

An estimated 15 to 20 million Americans were affected by the Asian influenza epidemic. Most of the cases were mild but there was a rather sharp increase in deaths attributable to influenza and pneumonia last year.

The number of polio cases dropped from 15,000 in 1956 to fewer than 6,000 in 1957—a reduction of 62 per cent. The number of cases of paralytic polio dropped from 8,000 in 1956 to slightly more than 2,000 in 1957—a decline of about 73 per cent.

Dr. C. A. Smith, deputy chief of the communicable disease center, reported the total number of syphilis cases rose for the second successive year. An increase of 9,323 cases over the 1956 level put the total at 135,542 cases in 1957. Smith said the increase was probably an indication of success in efforts to find more cases and treat them.

RELIEVES ALL 5 KINDS OF MINOR ARTHRITIC–RHEUMATIC–BURSITIC PAIN

New Rub-On Medicine Gives Quick, Temporary Relief of Pain Due To: (1) Stiffness (2) Aching Joints (3) Irritated Nerve Endings (4) Muscle Spasms (5) Swelling

From Anahist Research Laboratories comes a new, safe, medically proved formulation named Stim-U-Rub, because it stimulates blood. Minutes after you apply it, you can see a warm, red glow appear on the skin . . . as blood is rushed to the area.

You can also feel the blood heat spread like a blanket of soothing warmth over painful joints and muscles. Scientists, using electronic skin thermometers, report: "Stim-U-Rub raises skin temperature over pain areas as much as two full degrees, in minutes." Stim-U-Rub also speeds pain-relieving medication right to where blood circulates.

(1) Pain of stiffness is relieved. (2) Joint aches eased. (3) Irritated nerve endings soothed. (4) Muscle spasms decreased. (5) Soreness of swelling eased. So, Stim-U-Rub relieves all 5 kinds of minor arthritic-rheumatic-bursitic pain for periods that may last for hours, helping you to sleep the whole night in comfort.

Get Stim-U-Rub at any drug counter. If not 100% satisfied, return the unused portion and your money will be refunded. Anahist Research Laboratories, Yonkers 2, N. Y.

Foreign Aid Program Bolsters Our Economy

To those opposed to foreign aid Sen. KNOWLAND'S idea of diverting more of the money going to foreign aid into the U.S. economy to relieve the current recession, sounds reasonable.

But such opinion may be based on mistaken impressions. It isn't generally known that nearly 85 per cent of all foreign aid funds during the past 10 years has been spent here in the United States and has provided jobs for Americans.

Of the $70 billion in foreign aid supplied since the Marshall Plan began in 1948, $45 billion has been military aid and $25 billion economic. Nearly $60 billion of the total has spent in the U.S. and $10 billion used for overseas supplies, $7 billion of it for economic and $3 billion for military. At the present time foreign assistance accounts for only about one per cent of our gross national product.

The idea of "offshore procurement" —the purchase of military supplies overseas for Allied countries — was twofold. It bought in cheaper markets thus saving U.S. taxpayers' money and built up allied defense production capacity. Of the $3 billion spent in this way, $2.6 billion was between 1952 and 1954. Since then the program has been cut sharply and for the first half of this fiscal year was only $700,000.

The largest item in the $25 billion of economic aid has been $9 billion for U. S. farm products, $7 billion of it in surplus commodities. If Congress should cut appropriations for this, it would interfere with our surplus disposal plan, build up more surpluses, increase storage costs and make the farm problem even worse.

Other foreign economic aid includes $4 billion in raw materials; $3 billion in machinery and vehicles mostly manufactured here; $2.5 in fuel; $4 billion in ocean freight and cash transfers and $1 billion in miscellaneous commodities. Almost 100 per cent of another form of foreign aid, $5 billion in loans through the U.S. Export-Import Bank, a sound financial institution, has been spent in this country.

Foreign aid serves our national security, helps strengthen the free world and enables us to meet the growing Soviet bid for power in underdeveloped areas.

Spring Can Be Dangerous

Spring is a happy time of the year for young and old alike but it brings certain seasonal dangers which should not be ignored.

The ice on our many lakes, is one, for example.

Winter activities such as skating, sledding, ice-boating and fishing through the ice gives pleasure to many. During the colder months these activities are quite safe.

But there comes a time when milder temperature weakens the ice preparatory to the spring thaw. That time is close at hand.

Thus far no deaths have occurred in Oakland County because of anyone breaking through the ice. Now is the time to keep that score at zero.

Just don't take any chances on thin ice.

Another activity of Spring is flying of kites.

To watch your kite catch the wind and go zooming into the heavens on a bright April day is a thrill that every lad should experience at some time. And this is good, safe sport, if . . .

You keep away from electric wires!

Kite strings, especially if they become damp, are fine conductors of electricity.

Play it safe, boys. Fly your kites in wide open spaces well away from any wires.

Finally, warm sunny days will bring motorists who drive for sheer pleasure of the open spaces out of hibernation. The roads will be more crowded than usual.

So far this year 17 persons have lost their lives on Oakland County highways.

Without doubt there will be others.

Extra care behind the wheel can keep the toll down.

The Man About Town

Our Four Rivers

Origin of Names and How They Drain This County

Experience: What is accumulated by doing and being done.

Oakland County's four rivers get their name from various sources. The

was first known as the Huron, but the name was changed 125 years ago in honor of

DeWitt Clinton

of New York. It was under his administration that the Erie Canal was built and opened in 1825. It connects the Hudson River and Lake Erie, and on it most of the early settlers of this area were transported. Its original name then was passed on to the present and honors the Indians of that tribe. The

Huron River,

Shiawassee River

in the northwest part of the county gets its name from the Indian word which means

"The river that twists about," and residents of its area will agree that it is rightly named.

All three of the above rivers have their source within a couple of miles of each other, in Springfield Township, but flow in radically different directions; the Clinton emptying into Lake St. Clair, the Huron into Lake Erie, and the Shiawassee into Saginaw Bay, after its confluence with other rivers. The origin of the name of the is in doubt. It drains a large section of the south part of our county and flows into the Detroit River.

It is quite interesting to note that all four of these streams are about the same size at the point where they leave Oakland County. They were the first source of industrial power in this area.

I like the travel slogan being used by transportation companies in their appeal to our people who think it necessary to go to foreign lands to learn something about the world, although they haven't been around much at home—

"Columbus did it—why don't you?"

A Pontiac executive nas a rather unique card which his secretary hands to visitors whom he has not the time (or inclination) to see. It says:

Ucouldnothavecumataworsetime.

Governor G. Mennen Williams

is such a vote getter. His ability to remember names and faces is marvelous. My letters from him always start with "Dear Joe." It is said there are over 25,000 "dears" in his memory.

"I Shot An Arrow Into the Air . . ."

David Lawrence Says:

Vanguard Perks Up Washington

WASHINGTON — Sometimes the flow of news creates an impression that we as a nation are in a bad way, so to speak, when all of a sudden a tiny sphere is catapulted into an orbit around the earth, and it starts a wave of good feeling with beeps of international approval.

LAWRENCE

Now the score is Army 1 and Navy 1—a rivalry that soon may give us even more satellites in the air. As between Soviet Russia's "Sputniks" and our own "Explorer" and "Vanguard," the score is two to two.

Being even-up is a lot better than being behind. But what's more important, the scientific world seems to have begun to appreciate that American scientists are not so backward after all.

The news about Vanguard's successful flight into space comes at a time when Washington has been in the doldrums over the recession as well as over the alleged improprieties surrounding the federal regulatory commissions.

Virtue is supposed to be struggling to emerge as against the invisible peddling of improper influence designed to sway decisions in some governmental agencies.

Maybe the congressional investigations will assist in a broad sense the cause of righteousness. But the methods being used to attain such a laudable objective are still subject to severe criticism.

Take the case of Colonel George Gordon Moore, whose chief "sin" seems to be that he is related by marriage to President Eisenhower —they married sisters.

The colonel, it seems, was accused by a variety of innuendoes and smears, leaked out from the House committee. He was supposed to have assisted in some way in getting the Federal Communications Commission to issue a television license to an airline with the officers of which he had at one time done some business.

He denied this unequivocally under oath, saying he had never contacted directly or indirectly anyone at all at the FCC or anybody else in the government about the airline's application for a TV license. He said he was not personally acquainted with any member of the FCC.

He also swore that he had never contacted any member of any regulatory agency whatsoever in the federal government on behalf of anyone. He volunteered his testimony. He said he had submitted his files to the committee investigators beforehand.

Instead of examining in executive session all the various rumors and inferences concerning Colonel Moore's alleged activities and coming forth with an explicit statement that Colonel Moore had nothing to do with the pending case, some members of the congressional committee during a period of nearly three weeks had allowed the harmful impressions to continue to prevail through ambiguously worded comments.

These repeatedly cast doubts on the propriety of his activities and implied that maybe he had been guilty of some irregularity in connection with the Federal Communications Commission. It seems as if some people will try almost anything in order to get in a dig at Ike or his family.

This sort of thing was condemned as improper procedure during the hearings on Communist activities just a few years ago, but somehow the same critics, notably some of the more outspoken organizations in the field of civil liberties, seem to have had nothing to say about the bandying-about of Colonel Moore's name in this flagrant example of alleged "guilt by association."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And Mizpah; for he said, The Lord watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from another. — Genesis 31:49.

Be thou the rainbow to the storm of life,
The evening beam that smiles the clouds away,
And tints tomorrow with prophetic ray!

— Lord Byron

Dr. William Brady Says:

Chewing of Food Plays Vital Part in Digestion

In the chapter on Diseases of the Arteries in his famous "Practice of Medicine," Dr. Osler said:

DR. BRADY

"I am more and more impressed with the part played by overeating in inducing arteriosclerosis. There are many cases in which there is no other factor."

In the chapter on Chronic Gastritis - Chronic Catarrh of the Stomach—Chronic Dyspepsia, Dr. Osler said:

"The causes . . . use in excess of tea or coffee, and, above all, of alcohol in its various forms . . . eating too rapidly and imperfectly chewing the food. Excess in eating does more damage than excess in drinking. The platter kills more than the sword."

"Overeating" is another way of saying "imperfect chewing." And imperfect chewing is a typical Yankee trait.

There are several reasons why Yankees don't chew their food. Among them:

1. They're in a tearing hurry.
2. Most of their food is ultra-refined and requires no chewing.
3. They can't chew effectively because so many teeth are bad or missing.

What Osler called "chronic catarrh of the stomach, chronic gastritis, chronic dyspepsia," I call Yankee Stomach, and I tell what to do about it in the pamphlet "Yankee Stomach," for which send me in care of this paper a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Chewing brings the digestive enzyme in the saliva (ptyalin) in contact with the carbohydrate in the food, so that digestion begins immediately. This digestion continues for as much as an hour after the food is swallowed, before the acid of the gastric juice destroys the enzyme.

If the food isn't well chewed, the burden of carbohydrate digestion is shifted to the pancreatic juice (the enzyme called amylopsin) in the duodenum (8 or 10-inch length of intestine just beyond the stomach); and it is a considerable burden, for most of the calories in the everyday diet are from carbohydrate food.

I can't cite any authorities for this but I believe impairment of salivary digestion (of carbohydrate) through loss of functionally efficient teeth (your own teeth or dentures installed immediately upon loss of tooth or teeth) is a contributing cause of diabetes.

The trouble with most Americans is, not that they eat too much, but that they don't bother to chew their food.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Ex-Convict Tells His Idea About Capital Punishment

I disagree with your paper on capital punishment. You say a man is sent to prison for life and then gets out in a short time to do it again. That's a bunch of baloney. A murderer has to do 10 calendar years before he's considered for parole, and he usually doesn't make it then. He may in 20 or 25 years but it's only because he deserves it.

A murderer is one of the nicest men you'll find in prison. They're less trouble, best trusted and are put on trusted jobs outside of the prison. They seldom run away, and never give up hope of getting out. And just tell me how many get out and kill again.

I've lived with every kind of killer you can think of, and I think they deserve a chance for freedom. I say 20 or 30 years is a life sentence for a murderer. They are lots of interesting things I could tell you about prison life.

Postal Employes Back Postmaster

We've served under five Postmasters in the last 10 years and have found an appointee from outside the service has been as satisfactory as ones from the "ranks." The Pontiac Post Office does over a million dollars business each year and we believe Mr. Miller should be given the chance to prove his capability before being condemned.

He's shown us his sincerity, in the little time he's been here, to learn the job from the bottom up and has given our Clerks Union the fullest cooperation. Until he proves otherwise, we'll go along with him and give him our fullest cooperation in return.

We know the Postmaster's salary is very inadequate, as are the salaries of the rest of the employes and supervisors.

'Writer Couldn't Know the Facts'

Due to space limitations of this paper, I am unable to answer Mildred A. Burns' letter attacking the late Senator Joseph McCarthy. All I can say is that she must have no idea how strong the Communist party is in this country and what part they played in putting Senator McCarthy where he is today. I suggest you read the latest book written by one of the greatest Americans of our time, Mr. Hoover, Director of the Bureau of Investigation.

Suggests Overnight Recession Solution

Our Democrat recession could be ended almost overnight if yowling Democrats in Washington would do their Democratic best to cancel immediately all tax increases and new taxes slapped on us by the two preceding Democrat gangs.

This would include the approximately $11 billion increase imposed at Truman's recommendation and endorsed by laboring man's big brother, the CIO, about 1950 or '51 during one of Truman's national emergencies.

It would include the pay-as-you-go withholding tax with its W-2 form and 1040. It has removed $6,160 from my paycheck since 1946, a lot more from others' and a little less from some. That's where most of America's purchasing power has gone.

If we all had just half of what they took from us there would be a lot less unemployment. I wonder if I'm the only American slave with a belly full of this oppressive taxation.

'Why All the Fuss? It's Progressive'

Why all the fuss about this 11-year-old who shoved a couple of kids in the river to drown? Aren't the children in school under this so-called progressive system allowed to do whatever they please? Well, he just chose to drown a few kids, and I hope the next one he pushes in will be the one that thought up this progressive teaching system.

R. G.
Westbury, N. Y.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Personality Is Vital for Teachers

Children are America's greatest natural resource. So teachers wield tremendous influence. But the by-products of their wholesome personality and friendly counseling may do more good than the geography and arithmetic they teach. For every good teacher tries to plant roses where thistles grew before!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began as he contacted me in Indiana by long distance phone, "Dr. Benjamin C. Willis, our Superintendent, wants you to help us again with our 'Orientation Day' for teachers and principals.

"As you will remember from last year, we divide our entire 15,000 teachers (kindergarten through college) into 14 districts.

"There each group will be addressed by two speakers. One is a superintendent in our school system, but the other is an outside authority in the field of education.

"We'd like to have you handle two of these audiences. You will be scheduled at Foreman High School for 1,000 teachers at 9:30 till 10, and then we'll drive you over to Steinmetz High School for a repetition of your talk at 10:30 before another crowd of 1,000 teachers."

TEACHERS PLANT ROSES

This "Orientation Day" is a splendid innovation in our Chicago Schools.

And I was happy to talk on the title "Teachers Plant Roses Where Thistles Grew Before."

That subject is derived from Abraham Lincoln's remark that he hoped his biographers might say of him that he had planted roses where thistles grew before.

For a school teacher nowadays stands before his or her pupils in a directive capacity more hours per day (Mon. thru Fri.) than the actual mothers of those same youngsters.

And the teacher certainly is with the pupils far more time than we fathers are.

So teachers function as glorified foster parents. Indeed, some of the best parents in America are childless. They are the Public School teachers and devoted Catholic Sisters who try to "foster-parent" an entire roomfull of wriggling tots.

They often make up for drunken and immoral parents who aren't worthy of the name. These school teachers thus have a wonderful chance to implant idealism and high resolves.

By tactful praise and the "Compliment Club" plan, they can take potential juvenile delinquents and put them on the right road to an honorable career and lofty future attainment.

So teachers must not get prosaic about their jobs. They are akin to the clergy in their opportunities.

Each semester in class, they may be required to cover so many pages of arithmetic or history and geography.

But the by-products of their personality can do far more good for the children than those technical subjects they teach.

A good teacher can constructively influence 2,500 boys and girls during a lifelong career in the classroom.

CHILDREN IMITATE

Children imitate teachers, too, so it is not seemly for any teacher to frequent taverns or suck on cigarets.

Teachers need to lean over backwards to set a POSITIVE moral example before their pupils.

The same is true of clergymen, and even us parents who realize that youngsters tend to imitate their adult leaders and copy our overt behavior.

The other guest speakers at this "Orientation Day" included Dr. W. L. Beauchamp, U. of Chicago, President R. G. Bone, Illinois Normal University, Dr. J. G. Fowlkes, University of Wisconsin, President K. R. Johnson, National College of Education, Prof. G. H. Ivins, Roosevelt University and Dean J. R. Smiley, University of Illinois, so the 15,000 teachers in the various audiences really had a diversified menu.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Nehru Threatens African Federation

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru threatened today to withdraw India's commissioner from the Federation of Rhodesia and Nyasaland because of racial discrimination against Indians in the British African federation.

Nehru told Parliament the Indian minister in the federal capital of Salisbury had protested a recent discrimination incident. P. J. Rao, press attache in the commission office, and his family were asked to leave a European-owned hotel near Salisbury where they were having tea, Nehru said.

Nehru said there had been "frequent incidents of this type."

Nehru said India, a Commonwealth member, also took the matter up with Britain. Southern Rhodesia where Salisbury is located, is a self-governing British territory and Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland are British protectorates. The areas contain small groups of Indians, mostly traders.

Detective Washes Out as Washer Mechanic

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Detective John Riordan was sure there there couldn't be anything wrong with the new automatic washing machine in his basement. He had installed it himself.

Finally, Riordan consented to take another look.

Instead of the proper hot and cold water pipe connections, Riordan found he had connected the machine to two hot water lines.

Objects to Change in National Anthem

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A California state senator says a proposed change in the "Star Spangled Banner," now before Congress, is atheistic.

Sen. Nelson Dilworth, a Republican, persuaded the Senate Rules Committee to adopt a resolution asking Congress to leave the national anthem in its "historic version."

"One proposal would change the word 'power' in the anthem from a capital to a small letter," he said. "In this case the word refers to God and to make it a small letter atheistic."

Win a great new Studebaker SCOTSMAN

(AND WIN ONE FOR YOUR FAVORITE CHARITY OR ORGANIZATION, TOO)
OR ONE OF 21 ADDITIONAL PRIZES

Fleet of SCOTSMAN cars to be awarded in nationwide SCOTSMAN Mile-A-Thon contest!

You can win a handsome, full-sized Studebaker Scotsman for your very own—and one for your favorite charity or organization. It's all part of the nationwide Scotsman Mile-A-Thon Contest, March 16 to April 12. And it's easy—just three simple answers may bring you home a winner. And look at the prizes:

1st Grand Prize . . . . . 2 Scotsman Station Wagons
2nd Grand Prize . . . . . 2 Scotsman 4-door Sedans
3rd Grand Prize . . . . . 2 Scotsman 2-door Sedans
4th Grand Prize . . . . . 2 Scotsman ½-ton Pickups

Winners get two cars: to make the contest even more inviting, each Grand Prize Winner will receive not just one, but two cars!—one for yourself, one for your favorite charity or organization. And, if you've purchased a Studebaker or Packard during the contest, you'll receive your choice of the prize car or its retail delivered price in cash; your selected charity or organization will still receive the car.

All you do is estimate the highest miles per gallon figure attained by the Scotsman 2-door Sedans, and by the Scotsman Pickups, and then complete this sentence in 25 words or less—"Studebaker Scotsman passenger cars and pickup trucks are America's all-around economy vehicles because—..."

To help you, a map shows the approximate routes of the two Scotsman Mile-A-Thon caravans.

Your official Scotsman Mile-A-Thon Contest entry blank, and a detailed set of contest rules, are yours for the asking from your local Studebaker-Packard dealer or they are available by mail. He'll be glad to give you complete information about the Scotsman (a guest-drive, too) that will help you with your answer. No purchase required. Visit your dealer soon.

Here's how the SCOTSMAN Mile-A-Thon will run:

Two caravans, each consisting of a Scotsman 2-door Sedan and the all-new Scotsman ½-ton Pickup, will crisscross the country to form an "X" on the map. All you do is estimate the highest miles per gallon figure attained by both types of Scotsman vehicles participating, and complete the required 25-word statement. And, that's all you do! This contest is not open to any person residing in any locality where such contest is not permitted under applicable state or local regulations.

Work on Streets Heads Commission Agenda

Asking to Speed City Projects

City Commissioners tonight will be asked to speed the $40,000 job of repaving Elizabeth Lake avenue from Johnson street to Telegraph road at the western city limits.

Commissioners will be asked to authorize advertising for construction bids and at the same time approve cost estimates for a hearing next week on their intention to construct.

The estimates have the city paying $34,216 and assessed property owners $5,746, or the standard rate of $1.50 per frontage foot.

The high city cost is due to the fact that the road is bounded on the north by the grounds of Pontiac State Hospital and the state can not legally be assessed to share in the cost of the improvement.

Cost estimates for another repaving job, on Washington street from State street to Prall street, also have been readied and commissioners will be asked to authorize advertising for bids.

A third set of estimates has been prepared for the proposed widening of W. Huron street between Williams street and the Grand Trunk Railroad crossing. Property owners' assessments have been figured at $2,500 and the city's share, $8,258.

The state is not sharing in this project either, since east of Williams street Huron is no longer state trunkline 59.

Other estimates are prepared for grading and graveling on High street, Summit to Euclid and for paving on Taylor street, Hill to Ellwood; Linfere street, Franklin road to Brush, and Brush street, Bagley to Linfere.

Public hearings are scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight on the intention to construct seven projects involving curbing and gutters on these streets:

Cornell avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley; Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley; Euclid avenue, from High street east about two blocks; Wyoming avenue, Bagley to Franklin road; Stanley avenue, Kenney to Kennett, and Pensacola avenue, Oakland to Monticello.

In addition, a petition will be offered protesting proposed construction of new curbs and gutters on West New York avenue from Baldwin to Walton.

City Attorney William A. Ewart will be asked to give a first reading of two minor zoning changes approved last week.

Pontiac Man Sentenced to Prison for Burglary

Dick Hendrix, alias Roy Hendricks, 23, of 653 Kenny Rd., was sentenced to 2 to 15 years in prison for burglary.

Judge George B. Hartrick passed sentence yesterday on Hendrix, who was caught by Pontiac police inside the City Beverage Co., 117 Turk St., on Jan. 17.

Colombia Expects Trouble in Elections

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Observers predicted today ex-President Laureano Gomez, bolstered by his faction's election showing, will try to block rival Conservative Leon Valencia's presidential candidacy.

It was not known how such a move would sit with the Liberals, who polled half a million more votes in Sunday's congressional elections than all three conservative factions.

Congress meets July 20 to pick a Conservative president under a Liberal-Conservative truce designed to stop the years of political bloodshed and restore democratic government to this Latin-American republic.

Valencia is the present coalition candidate of the Conservatives and Liberals. Gomez who ruled Colombia under a state of siege from 1950 to 1953, has insisted he is personally out of the running. But he is expected to announce a selection to replace Valencia soon.

Gary Crosby Quits Army May 28; Set for Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Gary Crosby won't be able to leave the Army until May 28. The reason I know this is true is because 20th Century-Fox has been in touch with him about playing in "Mardi Gras," the Pat Boone picture.

The date is all right with producer Jerry Wald because Pat won't be out of school until June. Locations for "Mardi Gras" are in New Orleans, of course, and the Virginia Military Academy.

Bing and his bride, Kathy Grant, were planning a trip to Europe to see Gary, Bing's eldest, but now I doubt very much if they will go, although it's still under discussion.

Bob Mitchum is being such a model citizen and family man these days that when he leaves for Greece to make Leon Uris' new novel, "The Angry Hills," he is taking Mrs. M and the children along. Everyone is excited about the long jaunt but son Jimmy who hates to drop his parttime job as an auto mechanic in a local garage.

"The Angry Hills" is an adventure yarn about an American correspondent in Greece during the recent trouble.

The old flu bug making the rounds in our town caught up with Carolyn Jones and she was in bed with a fever of 103. It is important for her to get well in a hurry because Hal Wallis wants to talk to her about "Last Train From Laredo" (formerly "Last Train from Harpers Junction"), starring Kirk Douglass.

Remember the little girl, Marion Fleming, whom Roy Rogers and Dale Evans fell in love with a few years ago and brought to California from Edinburgh, Scotland, as their foster daughter? I've just found out that 17-year-old Marion is a bride and has been since March 12 when she married Pfc Daniel Eaton of the U.S. Marines who is stationed at Camp Pendleton. They've rented an apartment at Oceanside.

Mom Who Shot 3 Tots Declared Sane, Freed

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Lorene Calbeck, who shot her three young daughters to death two years ago, has been freed on all charges.

Mrs. Calbeck, then 34, was adjudged insane and committed to the State Hospital for Mental Treatment after the shootings in May 1956. A panel of psychiatrists said she is now sane.

A Polk County grand jury yesterday refused to indict her and Circuit Judge Don Register ordered her free of all charges.

Rockefeller Youth Rides 3rd Class on Japan's Trains

TOKYO (AP)—Young John Rockefeller rides third-class train coaches in Japan.

The 20-year-old son of John D. Rockefeller III has been studying Japanese history, culture and language since last summer at the International Christian University in Tokyo.

The newspaper Asahi reported today that he is planning to leave Tokyo next Monday, traveling third class, to visit a Japanese schoolmate in northern Iwate prefecture.

Told he might have to line up for more than an hour to buy a ticket, John said, "It's not going to be the first time." Asahi also reported young Rockefeller is living a "very sober" life in Japan. He has already mastered some 400 kanji, the difficult characters of Japanese and Chinese writing, can carry on everyday conversation in Japanese and gives fellow students English lessons.

"He is rather critical of present U.S.-Japanese cultural relations. He says the two sides are lacking basic knowledge about each other and therefore overlook what they have in common and are only concerned with their differences," the paper said.

Robbed While Driving, Detroit Dentist Reports

DETROIT (AP) — Police are investigating a Detroit dentist's report that he was robbed of $730 by a man who invaded his car at gunpoint on a downtown street.

Dr. Joseph R. Applegate, 62, told officers his car was rammed from behind as he stopped for a traffic light yesterday. He said a man then got into the car, pointed a gun and told him to drive on.

The dentist said he drove about five blocks and the gunman ordered him to stop and took the money from his wallet. He then got out and fled.

Accept Sacks and She'll Reject 'Em

Don't Fight It, Men... Milady's All Bagged

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Can 50 million American men be wrong?

ALREADY SOLD

The answer is yes, the men are wrong; and, yes, the American woman seems already sold on the chemise silhouette in everything from nightgowns to evening dresses. As far as milady herself is concerned, she's in the bag.

It will do no good for the average husband to announce sternly he will refuse to escort in public a wife dressed to resemble an ambulant sugar sack or a strolling bean bag. For no matter whose wife he goes out with, that's how she is going to look.

At the risk of being denounced as a traitor by millions of American men still unreconciled to the new feminine styles, I'd like to cast a solid vote in favor of them. And for several reasons.

For one thing, they make it easier to tell men and women apart, something that has been getting more and more difficult in this civilization.

SKINNED RABBIT

How can you identify them at a glance? If it wears an Ivy League—or skinned rabbit — look, it is a man. If it billows like a sailboat in a strong breeze as it passes, it is a woman.

Going for a walk with a girl clad in one of these not-quite blown-up balloon dresses has a new air of risk and requires a certain daring challenging to a real man.

He never knows when a sudden gust of wind may swirl her drapery around him and smother him before bystanders can rush to his aid.

Another thing I find entrancing in the new style is the sense of mystery it gives a woman. You can never tell what will be her next move—as she has to take four steps before the dress begins going, too. It also lends some of the entrancing appeal of a circus tent: You wonder what could be beneath all that flapping canvas.

DISTRUST APPROVAL

Perhaps, however, the soundest reason of all for endorsing the "sack look" is that if their men-folks applaud it women will quickly tire of it, figuring there must be something basically wrong with any fashion that men approve.

But if men keep attacking the style, the girls will simply be inspired to go on to something worse. And anyone who thinks there can't be anything worse than the "sack look" is just plain unversed in the history of past horrors committed by women in the name of fashion.

Lifelong students of women have always been fascinated by the query, "At what period in the long story of the human race did women really look most repulsive?"

Surprisingly, there is pretty general agreement on the answer. It was just 30 years ago, during the brief era of the flapper in the Roaring 1920s.

GUNNYSACK GOWNS

The flapper wore a cloth hat that fitted as closely as a Greek helmet. She wore a shapeless short gunnysack dress and ornamented it—so help me—with tassels and beads. She rolled her socks below her knees.

And finally — young men won't believe this, but it's true — she wore something called a spit curl.

That was the flapper, an eerie, brass - voiced dame whose dance was a Zulu-dervish fit known as the Charleston.

Nope, fellows, it's better to go quietly along with the "sack look" until women repent of their own accord and go on to other and nobler forms of madness.

But get 'em really riled, and they might take the bit in their teeth and decide to become flappers again—just to put us in our place.

The chemise will be one of the main attractions Thursday at the second annual scholarship fashion show and bridge luncheon sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Michigan State University Club of Oakland County. Three members of the club who will model the spring fashions include (left to right) Mrs. Dean Eby of Birmingham, Mrs. Lewis Wrenn Jr. of Packer road and Mrs. Donald Hibbert of Birmingham. The affair will begin at Devon Gables at 12:30 p.m.

April 17 Date Set for Party

Mrs. John Donaldson was hostess when Pontiac Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association met for tea in her home on Ottawa drive Monday afternoon.

The annual spring card party to be held April 17 was the main subject of discussion in the business meeting.

Mrs. Walter K. Willman, civic improvement chairman and first vice president of the association, introduced Mrs. William B. Hartman, ways and means chairman, who announced plans for the fund-raising party which each year subsidizes the civic improvement project and the Grace Fitzgerald Scholarship Fund.

CRABAPPLE PROJECT

For the fourth year the association will aid the landscaping project of the Parks and Recreation Department by donating flowering crabapple trees to beautify public buildings and property. In conjunction with several branches of the association in this area, the Pontiac Branch has designated planting of the flowering crab as a project for landscape improvement on a wide scale.

The card party also will aid in providing a college education for a high school student interested in horticulture, floraculture or an allied subject. Young people recommended by their school principal, 4-H Club or other organizations have been recipients of the Grace Fitzgerald Scholarship, a continuing project.

Mrs. Edward M. Buckley was a new member. At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald showed colored slides of her recent two-month trip through Africa.

Those who will open their homes for the April 17 party include Mrs. Bruce Annett, whose party chairman will be Mrs. Robert Nelson. At the Annett home will be Mrs. Robert Castell, Mrs. Frederick Lowe, Mrs. Benjamin Jerome Jr., Mrs. Edward Barrett, Mrs. L. E. Howlett, Mrs. A. J. Michal and Mrs. Hugh Grove.

ALSO ENTERTAINING

Mrs. James Nye will open her home with Mrs. Robert Lyons as chairman and Mrs. Robert Glenn and Mrs. Robert Dunlay attending. Chairman at the home of Mrs. Robert Oliver will be Mrs. John Patterson, with Mrs. William Hartman also to be present.

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer will be hostess to Mrs. Arthur Young, Mrs. Loren Sheffield and Mrs. O. H. Lundbeck, with Mrs. James Clarke as chairman. The home of Mrs. John Livingston will be visited by Mrs. Phillip Hubbard and Mrs. John W. Fitzgerald, with Mrs. William Thomas as chairman.

Mrs. Arthur W. Selden will be chairman of the bridge party to be held at the home of Mrs. J. A. Van Coevering. Mrs. Standish Sibley, Mrs. F. A. Voekler and Mrs. John Windiate will attend the affair. Mrs. Gelson Poole will open her home to Mrs. Victor Nelson, Mrs. Goodloe Rogers and Mrs. Bertil Larson, with Mrs. George Crane serving as chairman.

At the home of Mrs. Harcourt Patterson, Mrs. Russell H. Galbraith will be chairman with Mrs. Robert Alton, Mrs. Louis Schimmel, Mrs. Walter Willman, Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield, Mrs. B. Jack Habel, Mrs. Edmund Rogers, Mrs. Robert Isgrigg and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson in attendance. Mary Heitsch and Mrs. Arnold K. Jerome also will be present.

Mrs. Donald Neal will be party chairman at the home of Mrs. William Rogers. Mrs. C. R. Gatley and Mrs. Willard Beebe will spend that afternoon at the Rogers' residence.

Dear Abby....

Biggest 'Heroes' Don't Tell of Their Exploits 'in Action'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a young man I can't figure out. He keeps showing me passionate love letters he gets from other girls and he spends hours telling me about the affairs he has has with dozens of other women.

ABBY

In fact, that's all he talks about. I told him his past didn't make any difference to me because I didn't know him then, but he insists upon talking about it. What do you make of this?

BONNIE

DEAR BONNIE: The biggest "war heroes" rarely talk about how great they were "in action." They don't have to.

DEAR ABBY: We had to write an essay in school. My father is a professional writer so he started to help me with it. To tell you the truth he wrote every word of it.

The teacher gave me a C plus on it. My father wants me to ask her what was the matter with it but I'm afraid to. Should I ask her? "GYPPED"

DEAR "GYPPED" If you bring the matter up I suggest you be prepared to make a full confession, and write your own essay.

DEAR ABBY: My husband got the photography bug and he's driving us all crazy. I can't take a bath because he has film drying in the bathtub.

When we have people over he makes a regular pest of himself shooting candids of them from every angle. Our pets (two cats, a dog and a budgie) have become highly nervous from the bulbs flashing in their little faces. Please tell me what to do with this camera clown?

SHOT TO PIECES

DEAR SHOT: Photography is a fascinating hobby, so don't discourage him. BUT, make it plain that he's got to keep his hobby out of the guests' hair, the pets' faces and your bathtub.

DEAR ABBY: I run a drugstore and my problem is my lady employe. Her husband is a sitting duck at my fountain during her working hours. He makes her nervous talking to her during her rush hours and takes up a seat at the fountain drinking a cup of coffee for two hours.

I could ask her to leave and take her sitter with her but I hate to do it because she's a good worker. How do I get rid of this guy without throwing him out? "DOC"

DEAR "DOC": Advise your employe to speak to her husband. If it doesn't help, then YOU speak to him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "LUCKLESS": When you feel weak in the knees — get down on them and pray. It will strengthen them.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Should Aid Be Offered to Neighbor?

Husband's Illness Obviously Causes Financial Pinch

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The husband of a neighbor of ours was taken ill about a month ago and has been in the hospital ever since. They are people of average means and I am sure this has made an alarming dent in their savings. As a matter of fact, the wife has mentioned the 'staggering bills' to me once or twice.

"I would like to know if it would be proper to offer to lend her some money. I would like to help her out if she is in need of financial aid, but on the other hand, I do not want to hurt her feelings by implying that she can't pay her bills. What would you advise in this situation?"

Answer: If you are able to help her, you might say: "I know you are having these awful expenses and I am wondering if it would help if I lent you some money with which to pay part of them."

You might add: "At the moment my finances happen to be in good shape, so that I can easily do it." This could certainly in no way hurt anyone's feelings.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to have the wedding ceremony in the morning and the reception take place in the evening?"

Answer: Correctly, the wedding reception should follow immediately after the ceremony. In my opinion, nothing could be more inconsiderate of wedding guests than to expect them to go home and change into other clothes, watch the clock, dress again in wedding clothes and go back for the reception. And in the case of out-of-town guests who can't go home, the inconvenience is even greater.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant where there is dancing, is it proper for two women to get up and dance together?"

Answer: Only if it is customary for women to dance together in that particular restaurant.

Manpower of Women Measured

Hard-working women are responsible for one-fourth the total hours worked in the course of one year in the United States, according to the National Manpower Council's book, "Womanpower."

The book predicts that by 1965 some 10 million persons will be added to the labor force, as compared to 1955, and at least half of those will be women.

Women today comprise almost one-third of the civilian labor force, and one-fifth of the nation's income in the form of wages and salaries is earned by women.

For a picture of the modern working woman, the Council says nine out of ten women are likely to work outside the home in the course of their lives.

The working woman isn't necessarily a spinster — only one-fourth of the female labor force consists of single women. Six out of every ten women now working are married and five out of every ten working women are over 40 years of age. Three out of every ten married women are now working and nearly two out of every five mothers whose children are of school age are in the labor force.

The Council points out that since 1950, the largest single source of workers for expanding the labor force has been women in their middle and later years.

Usually Only Compromise Solves Woman's Conflicts

If You Are Doing the Best You Can, There's No Need to Feel Inferior

By RUTH MILLETT

If you want to get rid af an inferiority complex, one of the first steps is to toss aside contradictory aims, says the writer of one of the latest self-improvement books.

Fine and dandy, except when—

You are trying to make a home for an aged parent and for a husband and a house full of children. You find you can't keep everybody happy with three generations under one roof. So who do you toss out, the parents or the children?

You find it necessary to go to work to supplement a husband's paycheck and you want to give your best to your job and your best to the job of homemaking. Which do you let slide?

Your aims conflict with your husband's, how do you decide who is right and whose aims have to be tossed overboard?

You are trying to make a go of a second marriage but find that you are torn between trying to keep from a second marriage failure and trying to protect the children from what you consider harsh treatment from the stepfather.

Do you risk the marriage to stand behind the kids or sacrifice the happiness of the children to avoid quarreling with their stepfather?

You worry about young children if you leave them to go on business trips with your husband. But you also worry about not being a good wife if you refuse to go with him. Which do you decide to put first, husband or children?

These are some of the problems women write about. And I don't think they can solve them by any simple act of will power.

Compromise is usually the only answer. And if compromise gives you an inferiority complex—well, then you can comfort yourself with the thought, "I'm doing the best I can."

And any woman who is doing the best she can has no business feeling inferior because that best is far from perfect.

Appearance, Health Come First

All Women Yearn for Popularity

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Teenagers, mothers and grandmothers all have the following in common—the wish to be popular, to have friends, to be liked and wanted. The greatest necessity of every woman is the need to be loved and needed.

Then let us consider how to become popular. Although we have teenage in mind, the suggestions are just as effective for 60 as for 14! First, correct any physical defects which can be remedied. Most of them can be. Improve your posture and your figure and watch your weight.

Teenage is the time for developing physical beauty and a popular personality. Exercise, proper rest and adequate diet can lead to a more pleasing you and directly influence your personality.

Give your skin and hair special attention and aim for perfect grooming. These physical attributes are important not only to your good looks but to your personality. Defects make one self-conscious. This is especially true of teenagers.

Next, remember that vibrant health affects your mental and physical characteristics. The by-products of fine health are a gay, joyous spirit, a symmetrical body, a quick mind, lovely skin and hair, and sparkling eyes. This means the right food, and enough sleep and exercise.

Develop an outgoing attitude, concentrating your thoughts on others and their interests rather than on yourself. This will do away with sensitiveness. Be a good sport. Do not look for slights. Expect the opposite. Many shy persons are thought to be conceited.

VARIED ACTIVITIES

The popular girl or boy is one who is able to take part in a variety of activities. Do not waste your time lolling about the house or spending hours on the telephone. If you want lots of friends, learn to be a good dancer, swimmer, tennis, badminton and pingpong player. Learn to play a fine game of bridge, too, if your friends like to play.

Many girls who are far from pretty have been popular simply because they were fun to be with and had a lot of interests.

This is probably one of the most powerful handles to popularity and one which is within the reach of any girl or woman. You will find that you have talking friends, bridge friends, tennis friends, dancing friends and so forth, as well as other friends you enjoy in many ways.

Teenage is the time for developing physical beauty and a popular personality.

If you would like to have my leaflet which was written especially for teenagers send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 58 "Popularity". Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Time to Wash Comb, Brush

A good time to wash your comb and brush is just after doing your wash basin light laundry. Let both soak in hot soap or detergent suds while you hang up your frillies.

Then scrub the comb with the brush bristles. Rinse both pieces, and "slap" the brush against the side of the basin to shake off the last drops of dripping water.

Sheer Yet Sturdy

It's a paradox that the sheerest, loveliest lingerie is also sturdy, long-lasting, sudsable, and drip-dryable without ironing. That's why sheer lingerie is a luxury every woman can enjoy every day.

Does the average woman want to emphasize the shape and size of her mouth? Few women understand the art of flattering make-up.

Not all women can manage the exaggerated makeup although models and actresses who understand makeup can accomplish this feat with eclat.

Experts in Education See Long, Crucial Race Ahead

(This is the second of three articles written by distinguished experts in education, describing the problems of American schools and outlining possible avenues of improvement.)

By DR. ALAN T. WATERMAN
Dir., National Science Foundation
(Written for INS)

It is clear that the nations of the world are engaged in active competition with respect to science and technology. It will be a long race, not a sprint or dash.

For a long run, often the stout heart is better competitive equipment than the big muscle.

We are in grave danger of dropping behind in early laps of the race because the United States fails to accord learning in general, and science in particular, the degree of understanding, respect, and prestige they enjoy in all leading nations of the world.

Too often we are regarded as gadgeteers in the eyes of the world, satisfying an insatiable appetite for things material, for things faster, for things more comfortable—for things.

Suddenly, while we wandered through this wonderland of material prosperity, we are startled by an ominous beep-beep which drifts in from outer space where hangs an artificial satellite—no gadget tagged "Made in the U.S.A.," but one of the most brilliant technological accomplishments of the century.

Louder than the beep-beep of Sputnik, however, was the echo now heard of warnings voiced months, even year, before by foresighted industrialists, educators and scientists that the intellectual soil of the nation was contaminated by noxious weeds of materialism.

Our Explorer proves that the soil today can still yield a crop, but doesn't prove that the weeds will not destroy the crop tomorrow.

I am persuaded that the United States is now at the threshold of the wide door that enters upon true learning and concern for the cultural accomplishment of which it is capable.

For its share, the National Science Foundation has constantly sought and will continue to seek, to alert the nation to its responsibilities to maintain its standing in the forefront of world science.

The foundation is an independent agency of the United States government, directed by the Congress "to develop and encourage the pursuit of a national policy for the promotion of basic research and education in the sciences." Much of the wisdom in that mandate resides in the joining together of basic research and education in the sciences, for no amount of worthwhile basic research will be precipitated from a base of mediocrity in education.

The two essential objectives of the foundation are thus clear: (1) To support all meritorious basic research proposed by the colleges and universities of the United States in behalf of qualified scientists; and (2) to support all measures in education in the sciences designed to insure the United States of future numbers of high-quality scientists capable of performing such basic research.

The foundation is attaining these objectives by administering several significant and far-reaching programs in education in the sciences.

President Eisenhower, in his recent special message to Congress on education, referred to these programs as "recognized by the educational and scientific communities as among the most significant contributions currently being made to the improvement of science education in the United States." Examples are:

—Approximately 4,300 men and women have been enabled through foundation help to continue their education in the sciences into, through and beyond the doctoral degree. These men and women are selected competitively as fellows of the foundation, through four basic fellowships programs — pre-doctoral, post-doctoral, senior post-doctoral and science-faculty.

—Over 8,000 high school teachers of science and mathematics have been trained in summer, academic-year and in-service institutes sponsored by the foundation, over the past several years, in some 125 colleges and universities widely scattered throughout the several states.

—A new high school physics course is now being prepared under foundation sponsorship by many of the nation's ablest physicists, some of whom are Nobel Prize winners, in cooperation with secondary school teachers. Plans have been developed for preparing similar revisions of secondary school courses in mathematics, chemistry and biology.

Given resources adequate to sustain its entrants in such a contest, the National Science Foundation has no misgivings whatsoever about the outcome of the race.

(Tomorrow: The head of the PTA, tells what parents can do to help improve schools.)

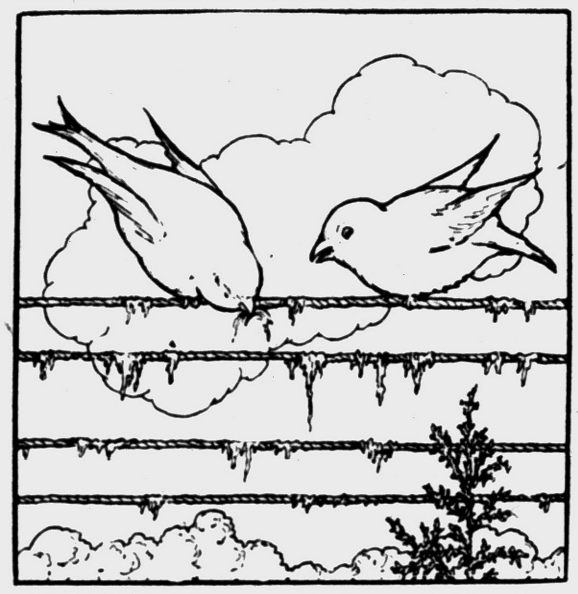
Junior Editors Quiz on BIRDS



QUESTION: Why aren't birds on electric wires electrocuted?

ANSWER: You often see birds perched on wires, and obviously not worrying about the electricity. You could do the same, if you could balance on a single wire and not touch anything else. But don't try it!

If a bird on a wire had a piece of wire in his mouth that trailed on the ground, he would be electrocuted, because he would then be "grounding" the electricity, or providing someplace for it to "flow" to. String, grass, twigs and other materials that a bird usually carries to build a nest will not conduct electricity. And electricity makes its power evident only when it has a chance to flow.

FOR YOU TO DO: Here are two birds on a wire for you to color. Save the drawing for a bird collection.

Vote to Incorporate 31 Square Miles as Village of Novi

Two Men Tied for Commission

Groenenberg, Anderson Deadlock for 5th Place on Charter Group

NOVI TOWNSHIP — A proposal to incorporate a 31-square mile area in Novi Township as a village was approved in a special election yesterday, 509 to 442.

Also elected was a five-man commission to draw up a charter to be submitted to the electorate.

Final approval of incorporation would make the new village one of the largest villages in the state. The area has a population of 5,300.

A total of 999 votes were cast in balloting in the two precincts with polls at the Township Hall and the Novi Community Building.

Supporters of the village incorporation proposal said they had expected the proposal would pass by a wider margin than 67 votes.

COMMISSION ELECTED

Walter Tuck of 43111 Grand River topped the 13 candidates for five Charter Commission posts with 592 votes. Harry E. Watson of 44370 Grand River was runner-up with 474.

A. Russell Button of 44109 Grand River finished third with 404, followed by Dacron Tafralian who received 369 votes.

A battle for the fifth position on the commission resulted in a tie as both Dirk H. Groenenberg of 45265 12-Mile Rd. and J. Phillip Anderson of 50250 Eight Mile Rd. each polled 346 votes.

Losing candidates included Hadley J. Bachert, 43455 Fonda, 335 votes; David M. Fried, 41040 Hollydale, 290; Robert H. Davey, 24017 Willowbrook Dr., 231; Herbert Koester, 42780 Eight Mile Rd., 192; Bram H. LeButt, 23901 West LeBost Dr., 189; Archie L. Marsh, 303 Eubank, 152; and Mrs. Guy (Marion) Boatman, 46735 12-Mile Rd., 109.

TO DRAW LOTS

Township Clerk Bachert said the vote will be canvassed by the County Clerk's Office Thursday. If the official canvassing reveals that a tie still exists between Groenenberk and Anderson for the fifth post on the commission, the winner will be drawn by lot.

Tuck, owner of Novi Auto Parts, is a past School Board president and past Board of Commerce president. He also served as fire chief for 25 years.

The area, to be known as Village of Novi, covers prctically all of Novi Township, taking in 31 of about 36 square miles. Not included are two subdivisions, Brookland Farms No. 1 and Northville Estates; the part of the village of Wixom that lies in Novi Township, and a section in the city of Northville.

3 in County Receive Science Fellowships

The names of three Oakland County men were on the list of 756 predoctoral and 85 postdoctoral graduate fellowships awarded by the National Science Foundation, today.

William D. Closson, 34 East Rutgers St., a chemistry student at the University of Wisconsin and Charles C. Conley, 1302 Butternut St., Royal Oak, a mathematics student at Wayne State University, were each granted a predoctoral fellowship.

Joseph E. Coleman, of 339 Puritan St., Birmingham, a medical science student at the University of Virginia, received a postdoctoral award.

The winners were selected from 3,804 applicants from the United States, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico seeking fellowships in the natural sciences and allied fields for the 1958-59 academic year.

Conservation Office to Auction Land Here

The Michigan Dept. of Conservation will auction land it owns in Oakland and Wayne Counties to the public at 10 a.m. Wednesday on the fourth floor of the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Included in the Oakland offerings will be several lots in Pontiac's LeBaron Farm and Perry Park Subdivisions and others in Bloomfield Hills Addition, Dixie Highway Subdivision Franklin Gardens and Homestead Park No. 1.

There will also be lots in Royal Oak, Clawson, and Waterford, Royal Oak, Farmington Townships as well as Pontiac, White Lake and Highland Townships.

SANDRA LOUISE HASKELL

Waiting for Dulles to Offset Red Gains

WASHINGTON (AP) —Secretary of State Dulles returns today from a 10-day Far Eastern trip, facing a mounting Soviet campaign for a space-age summit conference.

Officials clearly are looking to Dulles for guidance on how to offset propaganda gains they say Moscow registered over the weekend with a surprise proposal for a United Nations outer space agency.

Senate Democrats, led by Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), denounced the administration for what they called allowing the Soviets to steal a propaganda march on the United States with the outer space proposal.

Dulles' major advice to President Eisenhower in the pre-summit conference jockeying, officials said, will be for Eisenhower to continue to insist on the need for solid diplomatic preparations, including perhaps a foreign ministers meeting, before any parley with Soviet leaders.

Vote to Decide on Rochester

Incorporation as City Issue Will Go to Polls on August 5

ROCHESTER — The boundaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors voted yesterday afternoon to recommend that the board set Aug. 5 for an election on the incorporation of Rochester as a city.

This is the date of the state primary.

Roscoe R. Martin, Rochester village attorney, had recommended that the election be held May 26.

"This thing has been kicked around for two years," he said. "Let's enable the people to decide."

Lewis R. Bebout, Avon Township attorney, and Frances O. Covert, township clerk, asked for a later date to allow time for registration of new voters.

The boundaries committee decided that rather than hold a special election, the issue could be settled in the primary.

Avon Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller protested strenuously against the proposed boundaries for the city. He insisted the committee consider the merits of the boundaries.

The committee agreed, however, that legally it had no right to do so in face of Supreme Court decisions upholding petitions for the election.

Miller said he will raise the issue at the next meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

Auburn Heights Man Treated for Injuries

An Auburn Heights man was injured slightly early this morning when his car struck a utility pole on Auburn Road just east of Crooks Road in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Roy H. Elkins, 26, of 2839 Avalon St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. He told deputies that he lost control of his car and ran off the road.

In Okinawa Smothering of Baby

AF Has No Jurisdiction

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — The U.S. Air Force says it has no jurisdiction over Mrs. Madelyn Hitt, who admitted smothering her infant son.

The Air Force yesterday referred the case to the U.S. High Commission, which provides civil administration for the Ryukyu Islands. No charges have been filed yet, but observers believed the commission would handle the case if the 26-year-old mother is tried.

Mrs. Hitt is being held under observation in the psychiatric ward of the Army hospital where her baby, Brady Dean Hitt, was born seven weeks ago.

The child's body was found early Sunday buried near his bedroom window after Mrs. Hitt told authorities she smothered him. Her admission ended a four-day search for the child on the belief he had been kidnaped.

Her husband, Terrence D. Hitt, a 28-year-old civilian technician from Plymouth, Mich., said earlier that his wife "is a sick woman."

Doctors have reported she is suffering from "post partum psychosis," a mental condition following childbirth.

A spokesman for the U.S. High Commissioner, Lt. Gen. James E. Moore, said he would make a thorough study of the case before deciding whether charges would be filed against the woman or what action would be taken.

EXPLAINS WILDLIFE EXHIBITS—Maureen and Donny Lawrence listen as nature culturist Rainer Brocke describes animals on display at wildlife exhibits at the Nature Center in Kensington Park near Milford. The center is being toured by thousands of visitors during National Wildlife Week. Maureen and Donny are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lawrence, 2560 Charms Rd., Milford.

Nature Center Near Milford Offering Study of Wildlife

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

As National Wildlife Week, March 16-22, gets into full swing, officials at the $100,000 Nature Center in Kensington Park near Milford are engaged in one of the biggest wildlife educational programs in Michigan.

More than 3,000 people have visited the center so far this year. About 32,000 toured the center in 1957. The Nature Center will be a year old April 23, according to park manager David Leidlaw.

Among the many people making scheduled guided tours at the center are foreign students from the University of Michigan and Michigan State University. They are constantly amazed at the scenic beauty of the wilderness surrounding the center, which is kept that way for public viewing.

Situated in the southwest corner of the 4,500-acre park, an ultra-modern building houses various forms of plant and animal life. A series of diorama show cases containing complete settings of birds, flowers and wild animals, line the walls of the interior.

Stuffed wild animals are displayed on tables so that children may handle and examine them at close range. Many types of electrically controlled games for identifying different wildlife also are available.

There is a large aquarium with all types of brightly colored fish on exhibition and three more larger aquariums will be installed soon, according to Rainer Brocke, nature culturist in charge.

Outside of the center, well-marked trails traverse picturesque landscapes. Canada geese and ducks seem to know that the park means protection for them. They are year-round inhabitants.

A new hi-fidelity system was installed recently so that special recordings of birds, insects and animals can be heard as visitors tour the buildings and grounds.

With the hi-fi in operation a warbler may explode vocally, as a hermit thrush in the background begins to sing a smooth steady pace, creating a wildlife atmosphere in the big building.

Hundreds of questions are asked by both adults and children, Brocke said.

Such adult-inquiries as "Isn't the wood - chuck the animal that builds the dams," or "Could I put my tropical fish in with local varieties" helps keep the three naturalists' job from being dull.

Other often - asked questions are "How do you de-scent a skunk" and "How can I get rid of sparrows in my shrubbery."

Brocke has a pile of informative books in his office, and admits that sometimes he has to retreat for references in spite of his master's degree from Michigan State University.

Brocke said that children are really the ones who ask the intelligent questions, — like "Do Beavers eat fish?" The answer is "no" he said.

Confessed Arsonist Asks Examination

LAPEER — LeRoy L. Roberts Jr., 20, charged with arson, demanded examination yesterday afternoon when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Isabel Hannah.

Roberts, of 1432 N. Saginaw St., was released on $1,000 bond, posted by his father. A justice court hearing was set for March 27.

The youth has confessed to setting six fires in Lapeer during the past year, according to Police Chief Matthew Dougherty.

Father of H-Bomb Blasts U.S. Science Education

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, who has been called the father of the H-bomb, last night called Americans "scandalously undereducated in science."

"Unless Americans accept the challenges of today," the scientist - lecturer said in a lecture, the world will become a vast Soviet satellite and within 10 years the Soviet Union will be scientifically supreme.

"Thanks to our education today," he declared, "we shall develop the best football players in the world — for whatever good that does us."

He urged science education in the first grade, commenting that there are more educated youngsters in the Soviet Union than in this country.

Investigate Break-In of Earl's Market

Pontiac Police detectives are investigating a break-in at Earl's Market, 701 Orchard Lake Ave., which netted a thief an estimated $750 in cash and checks.

Earl Shiller, owner of the market, reported to police Monday that someone had broken into the store by forcing open a side door.

The safe was forced, and $650 in cash and approximately $100 in checks was taken, it was reported.

Also reported missing is an undetermined quantity of wine and cigarettes.

Broomfield Seeks 'Junk' Mail Curb

U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, Oakland County Republican, has introduced a bill to allow householders to halt the delivery of third-class or "junk" mail to their homes.

The bill would permit householders to fill out a form with the post office which would stop all third-class deliveries.

Broomfield said the measure would also be a boon to the direct mail advertiser who would be saved the expense of mailing brochures and letters to people who would throw them away unread anyway.

Dems Map Booster Plan: $40 Lump-Sum Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional Democrats are drafting a proposal for a $40 lump-sum tax cut to boost the lagging economy if business and employment fail to turn upward soon. It would provide a two-billion-dollar cash jolt.

As outlined by a responsible official who did not want to be quoted by name, the proposal would involve a $40 rebate on tax withholdings in the pay periods immediately after passage of any such bill. This amount of tax liability would be wiped out.

If $40 or more were withheld in a pay period, the individual would get that amount in a lump sum. If less than $40 were withheld, the worker would receive the rebate as fast as it could be made.

The official who disclosed this plan said it was aimed primarily at putting into the hands of those who file 48 million tax returns enough money in one sum to encourage immediate expenditures.

"If the people got $40 in a lump sum they would be more apt to buy a chair or something of that sort than if they got the tax reduction back over a year's period at the rate of less than $1 a week," he said.

Both the congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration have postponed any final decision on tax reductions until there are clearer indications of the direction in which the economy is headed.

In addition to their proposed "quickie" cut in individual tax withholdings, Democrats are thinking in terms of reduced corporation and excise levies, plus a possible acceleration in depreciation allowances to encourage declining investments.

Because most unemployment is concentrated in auto, steel, machinery and aircraft centers, Assistant Secretary of Labor Newell Brown said today, "there is no room at the moment for hope of a dramatic resurgence" in the next few months. He said these industries normally recover more slowly than many others.

But Brown noted in a prepared address for a Republican women's conference that employment still is two million higher than in February 1955, when more persons were working than ever before.

Senate Debates Crop Disposal

Passage Predicted for Bill Expanding Barter, Sale Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today debates a bill to allow disposal abroad of an additional 3½ billion dollars worth of government-held surplus farm commodities.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), chairman of the Agriculture Committee, predicted the measure would be passed during the day and sent to the House. The bill has bipartisan support.

Ellender said the Agriculture Department was opposing one provision which would direct that barter transactions be stepped up to a rate of 500 million dollars a year in the disposal program.

"The department practically has closed down its barter program," Ellender said. "But I feel, and I think many other senators feel likewise, that we should get something for these agricultural commodities where it's at all possible."

The bill would make available another 500 million dollars of sales authority in the current fiscal year ending June 30, and 1½ billion each in fiscal 1959 and 1960.

Curtains in Space Ship Upsets Second-Grader

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—A second-grade teacher reports that, during class construction of a "space ship," she noticed one of her boy pupils was upset and close to tears.

The teacher, Mrs. Helen Stirling, asked him what his trouble was.

"The girls want to put up curtains in our space ship," he blurted.

Mas a Tierra, the island off the coast of Chile where Robinson Crusoe supposedly lived, is now chiefly a haven for specially built schooners which go there to harvest its famous lobsters.

Your PTA Is Planning

Foreign Exchange Pupils to Be Hosted at Meeting

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The West Bloomfield High School PTA will play host to area foreign exchange students at its meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school.

The program will be conducted by the local committee of the American Field Service. Mrs. Sylvester Trythall will introduce the students and Mrs. Don Conner will lead a discussion on the "Share the Fare" drive.

Participating foreign students will be Dulce Espinueva from the Philippine Islands, a student at West Bloomfield High; Eckart Keller of Germany, Avondale High; Peder Jensen of Denmark, Milford High; and Anne Lovstadt of Norway, Royal Oak Kimball High.

Sybil Simmons of West Bloomfield High and Gary Griekshiet of Cranbrook School, will relate their experiences as exchange students in Europe last summer.

Residents of the school district have been invited, and special invitations have been extended to elementary PTAs of the district, high school students and student candidates for the summer exchange program.

Refreshments will be served.

Green School PTA has named Mrs. Floyd Geistler to head its organization for the 1958-59 season. Mrs. Richard Cole was elected vice president; Roy Head, father vice president; Mrs. Sanford Waldon, recording secretary; Mrs. Martin Lawrence, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lowell Parker, treasurer; Mrs. John Horning, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Clarence White, historian.

Some 70 members present at the election Thursday also discussed the need for equipment for the new school and voted to seek means of obtaining it. A proposed bond issue to purchase the equipment was defeated recently.

The PTA president appointed Neree Alix, Stephen Heotaky and Harry Wareham as a committee to plan a do-it-yourself program to provide the needed furnishings.

Speaker at the session was Dr. Milton J. Huber, director of Boys Republic in Farmington.

Mrs. Joseph Schaeffer was named president of the Carpenter School PTA last night, while Mrs. Martin Lietke became vice-president; Mrs. Jacobus Koster, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Loucks, secretary.

Auburn Heights

Leonard Grumblatt has been elected president of the Parent Teacher Student Association of Auburn Heights Junior High School.

Other elected officers are Mrs. Carlyle Bragen, mother vice president; Edward Morris, father vice president; Mrs. Donald Crabtree, teacher vice president; Mrs. Ferne Scheer, corrsponding secretary; Mrs. Virgil Foster, recording securer; Mrs. Albern Davis, treasurer; Mrs. James Laughlin, council delegate; and Mrs. Thelma Nichols, historian.

It was voted that the PTSA present a sum of money to the Avondale School teachers' scholarship fund and to the exchange student fund. A trophy will be presented at the end of the school year to a boy and girl rated the most outstanding in scholarship and citizenship.

It must be politics or just a lack of common sense which guides the Michigan High School Athletic Association through the state basketball tournament every year.

Regardless of which it is, the teams, students, fans and taxpayers of Oakland County and area are being taken for a ride while the MHSAA continues to find bigger and better ways to fill its coffers.

Adding Class "A" schools to the haphazard district tournament setup was just like finding a watermelon in a hay field for the MHSAA.

A committee of 12 men met last December to designate the sites for district and regional play. Of the group, there was not a single representative from the Oakland-Macomb county areas, which, for the information of the MHSAA, has the greatest population and the greatest concentration of high schools in the state outside of Wayne County.

On a line drawn across the state from Grand Rapids through Flint, 10 of the 12 men on the committee were from the area on the line and northward. The other two came from the South Central and Southwestern part of the state.

This is the committee which decided where 35 Oakland County and 12 high schools in the immediate Oakland area were going to play their district and regional basketball games.

The result was obvious. Besides the confusion, the tourney layout unjustly put a hardship on most of the county schools. It threw good county teams to the wolves and taxpayers' money to the wind.

As tournament managers at high schools in 88 districts and 20 regional sites carried on the work for two hectic weeks, the MHSAA was able to sit back and haul in the gravy, obviously unconcerned over the many ridiculous assignments made in placing teams to their sites.

As example, Clarkston and Holly, two of the more lucrative teams this year for district and regional competition in the northern part of Oakland County, were shuffled off to Grand Blanc.

Tournament managers admit that as entertaining schools they are better off financially with regional games than with district games, but the most successful district tourney is the one which has the most local interest.

Clarkston, a half dozen miles from Pontiac, went 21 miles on two successive nights. The paltry compensation for expenses according to MHSAA mileage chart was $30 per night. Any other costs, and there are many, are the woes of the taxpayers.

West Bloomfield, just five miles away, went 15 miles to Oak Park; Pontiac went 10 miles to Southfield and yet Birmingham three miles from Southfield went right past the school another six miles to Ferndale. In the same course, Detroit Catholic Central came up 10 miles to Southfield going right by Ferndale, just a stone's throw away.

These are just a few of dozens of fallacies in misguiding teams on longer jaunts.

In another respect there were much too many instances where a team played a district and regional on its home court.

Most every person in basketball admits a home court advantage of six to 10 points. What right has any team to this advantage even in starting state tournament play?

Why should fans and students be made to travel long distances and often find themselves left out in the cold because of seating?

Pontiac fans supported their teams at an average of 1,800 a home game. When Pontiac Central was shipped to Livonia for the regional just about 50 got into the game. Many stood in line from 5:30 p.m. and a few more got in after the first game ended.

Even River Rouge fans who wanted to see the first game were unable to get in because the home team crowd in Livonia jammed the court early to be sure to see their game which was the second contest of the night.

So the stupid strategy here was to move the teams from the Southfield district, where 2,200 people could have been accommodated to a regional site where hardly 1,500 could jam into the place.

Is it logical that a better phase of the tournament should be played for a select or lucky few?

As far as the officials at Southfield are concerned, they are not interested in offering their facilities for tourney

Colts in Quarter-Finals of State Tourney

Troy Courts Fast Company

Troy High School's galloping Colts are courting some mighty fast company as the annual state basketball tournament enters its final week of action.

The proud Colts, Oakland B League champions and undefeated in 20 games, have joined 31 other Michigan schoolboy quintets for Wednesday night's state quarter-final activity at 13 different locations.

Oakland County's last remaining hope for state honors, the Colts will play rugged Flint Tech tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the Class B opener of a doubleheader at Lansing Civic Center.

Muskegon Heights, bidding for its 3rd straight Class A crown, and Saginaw Valley Conference champion Flint Central will clash at 8:30 in the other half of the twin bill.

If the Colts can slip past Tech, they will join even faster company — the "sweet 16" which assembles at Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing this weekend to slug it out for state titles in classes A, B, C and D.

Troy will be making its 2nd serious attempt to win a Class B title in three years. The Colts advanced to the semifinals in 1955 before bowing to Buchanan on the Jenison court.

Troy mowed down 16 opponents during the regular season and has since disposed of Clawson, Romeo, Rochester and Brighton while rolling to district and regional crowns.

The Heights will tie the record set by Kalamzoo Central in 1949-50-51 if it can sweep through the last week of tournament play. With big Ed Burton gone, the Heights rely on bespectacled Ron Robinson and Ossie McCarty to supply the punch for another "A" title.

Tiny Chassell from Michigan's Upper Peninsula can equal the Class D accomplishments of Stevensville, which annexed the state crown in 1935-36-37. Chassel swept everything in sight in 1956 and 1957 and currently boasts a 62-game winning streak, the longest in state history.

Chasell meets Glen Lake tomorrow in its quarter-final test at Petoskey.

Muskegan Heights and Chassell are the only defending champions entering the quarter-finals. Class C king Lakeview bowed out in the regional final and Negaunee, the Class B ruler from the UP, took it on the chin in district warfare.

Of the seven Class B schools blocking Troy's bid for a state crown, only River Rouge has been a winner. The Rouge entered the throne room in 1954 and 1955.

Semifinals in classes A and B will be held Friday at Jenison Fieldhouse while the C and D semis are scheduled in the Civic Center. All four championship games will be played Saturday on the Jenison floor in afternoon and evening double bills.

Richest Series in NHL History Starts March 25

As Teams Stand, Wings Will Encounter Montreal in Stanley Cup Opener

NEW YORK (AP) — Dates and sites have been set for the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs, offering $153,000 in purses for the richest in history.

NHL directors, meeting here yesterday, decided the two semi-final series would open in Montreal and New York March 25, regardless of the final standing of the teams.

In the best-of-seven game series, the first place team plays the No. 3 team, the No. 2 meets No. 4, with the survivors meeting later in the championship series.

On the basis of present standings—Montreal, New York, Detroit and Boston—this is the schedule:

SERIES "A"
MONTREAL VS. DETROIT
Detroit at Montreal, March 25, March 27.
Montreal at Detroit, March 30, April 1.
Detroit at Montreal, April 3 (if necessary).
Montreal at Detroit, April 6 (if necessary).
Detroit at Montreal, April 8 (if necessary).

SERIES "B"
NEW YORK VS. BOSTON
Boston at New York, March 25-27.

New York at Boston; all remaining games with the schedule same as in series "A" except Boston is undecided on the third game (either March 29 or March 30).

In the event Boston finishes third and Detroit fourth, the schedule would be the same but with different teams.

Boston would open at Montreal March 25 and the third game would be either March 29 or March 30 at Boston. The "B" series would have Detroit at New York for the first two games and all remaining games at Detroit, with the third definitely March 30.

Prize money for the playoffs was increased from $117,000 to $153,000 with a $36,000 added fund from the league for finishes.

The latter fund will offer $1,000 for each member of the winning team in the regular season, $500 for each player of the runnerup, $350 for the members of the No. 3 team and $150 for those of No. 4.

Title Fight Crowd May Set Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, who dons and doffs the middleweight crown about as often as the next guy buys a hat, comes to Chicago today for next Tuesday's fight against champion Carmen Basilio.

Robinson will be seeking to win the middleweight championship a fifth time in what is expected to be a record indoor gate.

The International Boxing Club says there will be a near capacity of 23,000 in Chicago Stadium with a gate of more than $500,000 for the rematch of a 15-rounder at New York last fall when Basilio lifted Robinson's title.

The indoor record of $422,918 was set by Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano in Chicago Stadium in 1947.

Chicago will be blacked out for theater television but will be included in the national radio broadcast.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, says all $5, $10 and $20 tickets have been sold. Some $15 tickets still remain along with most of the $30 and $40 ones.

Basilio, who won a close decision from Robinson last September, arrived in Chicago yesterday and said:

"I know what to expect from Robinson and he knows what to expect from me."

The 30-year-old champion said he weighs about 153½, about the same as the last time he fought Robinson, and will stick mainly to road work in final preparations. His boxing will consist of three rounds a day.

Robinson, who like Basilio is a former welterweight champion, won the middleweight title in Chicago Stadium from Jake LaMotta on Feb. 14, 1951. He lost it to Randy Turpin in London, England, on July 10, 1951, and regained it from Turpin with a 10-round knockout on Sept. 12, 1951.

Sugar Ray, who claims he will be 37 May 3 athough the record book says 38, tried for the light heavyweight championship in 1952 but lost in 14 rounds to Joey Maxim. Six months later he announced his retirement.

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Seventh of a series)

By BEN OLAN

Jack Tighe got some tough breaks in his first season as manager of the Detroit Tigers in 1957. The pitching of Frank Lary and Billy Hoeft did not come up to expectations . . . neither did the hitting of Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline.

Still, Tighe managed to bring the Tigers home in fourth place. His contract was renewed even before the end of last season.

In the following situation Tighe's strategy was a big factor in beating the New York Yankees. Study it and then see whether you would have made the same maneuvers.

Paul Foytack (R) is pitching for Detroit in the last of the eighth at New York. The Tigers and Yankees are tied 1-1. Yogi Berra opens with a single. Enos Slaughter follows with a bunt and both he and Berra are safe when Foytack hesitates before throwing to second. Bill Skowron follows with a long fly to center that advances Berra to third and Slaughter to second. Gil McDougald (R) is the next batter with Tony Kubek (L) and pitcher Don Larsen (R) to follow.

Would you:

a. Let Foytack pitch to McDougald?

JACK TIGHE

b. Have Foytack walk McDougald intentionally and pitch to Kubek?

c. Have Foytack walk McDougald intentionally and bring in a lefthander to pitch to Kubek?

(Other data: McDougald has one hit in one try and Kubek is one-for-two in the game; Detroit's southpaw relief pitchers are Lou Sleater and Al Aber.)

Result: C — Foytack walks McDougald intentionally. Aber is brought in to pitch to Kubek. Casey Stengel then subs Andy Carey (R) for Kubek. But Aber gets Andy to hit into a double play ending the inning. The Tigers pick up a run in the ninth and win 2-1. (May 18).

Stokes May Beat Illness

COVINGTON, Ky. (INS)—Maurice Stokes, Cincinnati Royals basketball star suffering from a critical illness, may recover and return to his profession.

That was the prediction today of a specialist, Dr. Curwood R. Hunter, who was brought into the case shortly after Stokes collapsed last Saturday night on an airplane.

Dr. Hunter said that barring complications, the pro basketball player may whip the illness, believed to be encephalitis, or sleeping sickness (inflammation of the brain).

Stokes yesterday opened his eyes for the first time since he was stricken. Physicians at Covington's St. Elizabeth's Hospital said further tests will be taken to determine definitely if he is suffering from encephalitis.

The player has not spoken since he was stricken but Dr. Hunter said he is not now totally unconscious.

Littrell Making Switch for Cubs; Yanks Blast Braves

Ex-Infielder Hurls 2nd Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jack Littrell of the Chicago Cubs, who has played with 11 different baseball clubs in the minor and major leagues in 10 years, may be the latest to make the big switch from an infielder to a pitcher.

Littrell, no man to be feared by opposing pitchers as his .190 batting average in 61 games with the Cubs last year will attest, won his second Cactus League decision yesterday when Chicago defeated the Baltimore Orioles 5-3 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

The 29-year-old native of Louisville, Ky., pitched two innings and allowed two hits and one run. The Cubs won it on a three-run homer by Walt Moryn with two out in the seventh inning. The game was limited to seven inings by agreement, since the Cleveland Indians defeated the San Francisco Giants 9-6 in the opener of the benefit double-header.

Cleveland slammed rookie Ernie Broglio for five hits and six runs in the second inning—one a two-run triple by Earl Averill.

Frank Thomas hit two homers for Pittsburgh at Fort Myers, Fla. but the Chicago White Sox defeated the Pirates 7-4. Chicago got four runs in the fourth inning with the help of two wild pitches, two walks and an error. Vernon Law pitched five innings and gave up all the White Sox runs.

Richie Ashburn hit a double and three singles as the Philadelphia Phillies pounded Herman Wehmeier, Bob Miller and Bill Smith for 15 hits in a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Washington Senators 9-6 at Orlando, Fla. Frank Robinson drove in six runs on a pair of homers, a single and sacrifice fly. Steve Bilko also homered for Cincinnati.

The Milwaukee Braves belted Bob Turley of the New York Yankees for five runs, four on Wes Covington's grand-slam homer, in the first inning at Bradenton, Fla. Joe Adcock also homered in the inning. But the Yankees, breaking out with their lustiest batting surge of the spring, rallied for a 15-8 victory. Mickey Mantle, Andy Carey and Hank Bauer hit homers as the Yankees won their fourth straight.

The Los Angeles Dodgers had to go 10 innings to squeeze out a 3-2 victory over Spokane, their Pacific Coast League farm club, at Vero Beach, Fla. The Dodgers got only four hits.

Investigate Ring Fatality

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—An inquiry is to be held in the death of a 21-year-old amateur boxer injured in a bout Saturday night in Glens Falls, N.Y.

James Porior of Burlington, Vt. died in Albany Hospital yesterday of a massive blood clot on the brain.

Ben Becker of Albany, AAU district boxing chairman, said a four-man board of inquiry would conduct a hearing in Glens Falls on Thursday.

Becker said yesterday he would sit on the board along with Carl Hardy, Adirondack AAU registration chairman, Charles Georgi of Schenectady, Adirondack AAU president, and William M. Leonard of Schenectady, a past president.

Hardy said William Payne, 18, Porior's opponent, and Referee Arthur Ramsey of Glens Falls would attend Thursday's hearing.

Porior was dropped by a right to the chin at the opening of the third and final round of a preliminary bout on a program sponsored by the Glens Falls Athletic Club in an effort to revive boxing in the area.

TROY'S ACE — The success of star guard Wayne Figley (11), shown here on defense, could very well determine how far unbeaten Troy goes in its hopes of being Oakland County's 1st state champion since 1933. Tiger Manager Feels Yankees Have '58 Woes

Lary on Mound Today Against AL Champs in St. Pete

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The manager of the Detroit Tigers believes the manager of the New York Yankees "isn't quite as sure about his team as he lets on."

Before the two teams met today at St. Petersburg in their first clash of the Grapefruit League season, Jack Tighe took time out from his own worries to discuss Casey Stengel's troubles.

Stengel, of course, is saying the same things about the 1958 team as he did last year—and the year before that and the year before that.

"When you've managed a champion eight times in nine seasons," Tighe offered, "it makes you some sort of a minor prophet, I guess. You say funny things and people laugh. Of course, Stengel says things sometimes he doesn't think are funny. But people laugh anyway."

It is safe to say that Old Case can afford a few more laughs and do a little more prophesying than can, say, a fellow like Tighe, who is just starting his second season as a big league manager.

One of Stengel's old comments that he revived again this spring for the umpteenth time was, "My biggest trouble is trimming my roster. I've got a lot of good young kids. They're strong and they can hit the ball. So I've gotta figure a way to keep four or five of 'em around."

That's the statement that Tighe thinks is a little smoky.

"He was playing a bunch of those strong young rookies for quite a while," Tighe pointed out. "But he wasn't winning any Grapefruit League games. In fact, he was shut out a couple of times. Then you saw what he did.

"He put those regulars—Mantle, Berra, McDougald, Bauer and those guys—right into the lineup."

It may have been pure oversight, but Tighe neglected to mention that those old devil Yankees have been winning more than their share (don't they always?) since the first team started playing.

The Detroit manager planned to send Frank Lary and Ron Rozman against the American League champions, then work Bob Shaw and Tom Morgan against the Milwaukee Braves—the team that dethroned the Yankees last fall—in Wednesday's game back in Lakeland.

Jim Bunning, Paul Foytack, Don Lee and Chuck Daniel will see service in the Thursday and Friday night games in Miami against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Yesterday was a holiday for the Tiger players. After a brief morning workout, most of the players, the staff and the press-radio corps adjourned to the Carpenters' Golf Course for the annual Tiger Golf Day.

Pitcher Lou Sleater and first baseman Ray Boone tied at 84 strokes for the low gross total and Sleater won the top prize in a sudden death playoff on the first extra hole.

Favorites Dayton and Bradley Play Outsiders

NIT in Quarter-Finals

NEW YORK (AP) — Dayton and Bradley, the two teams considered most likely to succeed, make their debuts in the National Invitation basketball tournament tonight against two outsiders bent on revenge.

Top-seeded Dayton (23-3) plays Fordham (15-8) and Bradley (20-6) the defending champion and No. 2 seed, bumps into Xavier of Ohio (16-11) in a quarter-final doubleheader at Madison Square Garden. Bradley-Xavier opens the program at 7:15 p.m., EST, with the winner meeting St. Bonaventure and the Dayton-Fordham survivor facing St. John's of New York in Thursday's semifinals.

Last Dec. 19 the Fordham Rams journeyed to Dayton and absorbed from the Flyers their worst cuffing of the season, and 64-35 shellacking. Last year, the Bradley Braves swept past Xavier 116-81 and set tournament records for total points for a game and for a half (72) during their climb to the NIT title. Xavier never has beaten Bradley in three meetings between the schools.

Fordham, an 83-59 winner over St. Francis, Pa. in a first round game Saturday, has impressed both its coach, Johny Bach, and Dayton's coach, Tom Blackburn, with its improvement.

"That earlier loss to Dayton was the only real bad beating we took this year," said Bach. "But if we can play like we did Saturday, we'll give them a good game. I waited two years to see this club look like it did Saturday."

Blackburn echoed Bach's sentiments. "Fordham has improved very much," he said. "The way they looked against St. Francis, they could knock off any team in the country."

The Rams have two key men in Jimmy Cunningham, top scorer in Fordham history and a steady all-around player, and 6-6 Bill McCadney, a scorer-rebounder.

Dayton, lacking the height of other Flyer teams, has good balance, led by 6-4 Arlen Bockhorn, 6-0 Don Lane and 6-6 Jack McCarthy. Bockhorn, Dayton's defensive ace as well as its top scorer, probably will be assigned the job of trying to stop Cunningham, who scored 28 points against St. Francis.

Xavier shook off an atrocious start to whip Niagara 95-86 in a first round thriller Saturday. Led by 6-5 Joe Viviano and shorties Hank Stein and Ducky Castelle, the Musketeers will face essentially the same Bradley club that showed them—and the rest of the NIT field—too much to handle last year.

Shellie McMillon tops the Braves' balanced scoring with a 16.8 average and has 6-7 Barney Cable, 6-5 Joe Billy McDade and 6-2 Bobby Joe Mason around to help out.

Seeks 7th Pistol Title

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—About 600 of the nation's top pistol marksmen began firing today in the national midwinter pistol championships. M. Sgt. H. L. Benner of the U.S. Army, winner of the championship six of the past seven years, is a favorite to repeat.

Teams Taken for 'Ride'

play again unless the districts and regionals both can be played at the site.

Southfield got about $200 out of the district tournament and the MHSAA got $600 and there were nine teams involved. Yet the more lucrative part of the tournament, which was the regionals, went to Livonia where four teams produced a larger gate.

In other words, Southfield screened out the poorer teams and Livonia got the gravy. Southfield didn't have to have its own team in the regionals, because the officials there realize that Pontiac could have filled a 1,000 seats and Waterford another 1,000 when they met.

The same situation prevailed at Ferndale where the bigger drawing teams left the Ferndale district to play in the regional at Birmingham.

The argument given is that no team will play a district and then a regional on its home court. Yet East Detroit played the district at home and had it won it would have played the regional at home as well.

In any athletic competition, the competing parties have the right to start even, and in basketball a neutral court is a big requisite.

Where was the justification in the Pontiac-Livonia, Clarkston-Grand Blanc games and many others?

Livonia and Grand Blanc had the home court and the home crowd. The ratio of fans was about 1,400 to 50 in favor of Livonia and we dare the MHSAA to argue that a highly partisan crowd at an athletic event has no bearing on the game.

The MHSAA hasn't even got a good argument in support of its misfit tournament setup. As far as the Oakland County area is concerned, why should a committee from the entire upper half of the Lower Peninsula make the travel assignments for 47 teams representing a population of more than a million people?

Seems unrealistic not to have a representative from such an area.

Eyes on Olympic Berth

Refugee Paddler Hopes to Compete for U. S.

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—Miklos Totossy, a refugee from Hungary is pushing a broom at Stanford University—conditioning the muscles he hopes will bring him a 1960 Olympic medal for kayak racing.

Totossy, 28, hopes to enroll next fall at Stanford. He is working at odd jobs while studying English.

Totossy won the single-oar kayak Hungarian national championship two years and hopes to compete in the '60 games at Rome, Italy.

The Hungarians like kayak racing. They won seven medals in the sport in the 1956 games at Melbourne.

Totossy is also a boxer and wrestler. He once held the middleweight Greco-Roman wrestling title of Hungary.

Probably the biggest hurdle he'll face before trying for an Olympic berth is the citizenship question. Under normal circumstances, Totossy could not obtain U. S. citizenship until 1962.

However, Harold Berliner, a U. S. Olympic official, said the 28-year-old Hungarian could get his papers earlier through a special act of Congress.

Berliner said that procedure was used in 1952 for Delia Muelenkamp, a young Dutch girl who swam for the United States at Helsinki.

If Totossy had competed in an Olympics for Hungary he would be ineligible to compete for another country.

But Totossy never quite made it. He says he was headed for Helsinki in 1952 but got only as far as the railroad station. He said Communist police arrested him and held him for 21 months.

Moore Clings to Lead

3-Way NHL Scoring Race

MONTREAL (AP)—It's beginning to look as if the National Hockey League scoring championship may not be decided until the schedule ends next Sunday.

League statistics released today showed that Dickie Moore of the Montreal Canadiens holds a precarious three - point lead over teammate Henri Richard and Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers, both tied for second. All three players have three games left.

Moore has compiled 79 points on 34 goals—most in the league—and 45 assists. Richard and Bathgate have 76 points each. Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings ranks fourth with 68 points, followed by Bronco Horvath of the Boston Bruins, fifth with 62.

Richard has caged 27 goals and collected 49 assists. Bathgate has tallied 30 times and has assisted on 46 goals.

If there is a tie on total points the winner is the player with the most goals. The champion gets $1,000 and the runner-up $500.

During the past week Bathgate and Richard scored five points as compared to four by More. Howe lost ground on the leaders with two points.

Jacques Plante of Montreal, currently sidelined with a concussion and back injury, is a virtual shoo-in for goaltending honors and the $1,000 award that goes with it. The Canadiens, who are using Charlie Hodge in the nets, have yielded 142 goals in 67 games for an average of 2.12.

The leaders:

	G	A	Pts.
1. Moore, Montreal	34	45	79
2. Bathgate, New York	30	46	76
3. H. Richard, Mont.	27	49	76
4. Howe, Detroit	31	37	68
5. Horvath, Boston	28	34	62
6. Litzenberger, Chicago	29	28	57
7. Henry, New York	32	22	54

Wrestling Show on Wednesday

Jim Hady and Red Donovan will stage a return "grudge" fight Wednesday night to headline a three - bout professional wrestling card at Pontiac City Armory.

There will be no time limit for the Hady - Donovan match and the winner takes all the purse in a bout billed as a "fight to the finish."

Casanova Lance, the "Hollywood Dandy," and Jack Smith grapple in another attraction and a match between Louie Papineau, the "Fiery Frenchman," and Masked Mystery Man, the "Crusher," completes tomorrow's program.

Bert Ruby, former pro wrestling favorite is the matchmaker for this show. Wrestling begins at 8:30 p.m.

Advance tickets are available at Griff's Grill, 49 N. Saginaw, and the Armory, FE 4-4130. The bouts are sponsored by the 107th Ordnance Company of the Pontiac National Guard.

Claims Kegling Mark

MADERA, Calif. (AP) — William Lamb, 29, claimed a world Marathon bowling record tonight after 663 consecutive games. He started last Wednesday—126 hours ago.

Bowling with alternate hands, Lamb averaged 131.9. He has been bowling three years.

Flint in Tourney Opener

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Flint, Mich., will meet Senad, Ala., tonight in the first round of the National Junior College basketball tournament. Both teams had 24-4 records in regular season play.

Sievers Says Mantle Could Hit 60

AP Facsimile

BOSOM BUDDY — Jimmy Archer (left) lets Johnny Gorman have a left to the midriff as he appears to be resting on his shoulder. He floored Gorman in the first round and then Gorman a 3-1 underdog rallied to win a 10-round split decision.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — "Mickey Mantle is the only hitter with the power to break Babe Ruth's home run record."

"Ted Williams is the best hitter in the game."

"Stan Musial is the best all-around ball player."

The man who was so generous in his praise of others was Roy Sievers, the Washington slugger who beat both Williams and Mantle last year in the home run and runs batted in races.

"I don't have any ideas about any triple crown (batting, homers and RBI," he said. "I'd just like to keep one of the titles I won last year. With hitters like Williams and Mantle around I have my work cut out for me.

"Somebody said I expected to hit 40 homers this year but I'd settle for anything over 30. I want to drive in over 100 runs and bat .300 again.

"I had a few breaks last year beating out Mantle and Williams. Both of them were out for a time with injuries. I got off fast and when I got ahead of them in late season I was able to stay ahead.

"Washington used to be a tough park to hit in. But since they moved left field in from 405 feet to 350 and made it 380 in left center it became a good hitting park.

"I hit 26 at Washington and 16 in the other parks. I have no idea how many went into the new seats."

For Sievers this has been a winter to be long remembered. Banquet invitations, speaking engagements and endorsements rolled in for the man who hit 42 homers, drove in 114 runs and batted .301. Usually nobody pays much attention to him until it is time to sign a contract.

They say Sievers gets the highest salary the Washington club ever has paid. At an estimated $35,000, his salary was increased almost 100 per cent.

"For the first time since I hurt my shoulder in 1951, I have my confidence back," he said. "I have built up my arm again so guys don't run on me like they did."

Sievers suffered a chronic dislocation of his right shoulder in a tumble at Dallas in 1951 while playing with San Antonio in the Texas League. He re-injured the arm, trying to play third base for Roger Hornsby with the old St. Louis Browns.

The owner of the Browns talked him into having an operation that was so complicated that doctors said he would never play the outfield again.

MONDAY'S FIGHTS
NEW YORK — Johnny Gorman, 143½, New York, outpointed Jimmy Archer, 147¾, New York, 10.

2 City Champs Advance

Two Pontiac city champions advanced and Waterford's representative dropped out as Michigan Recreation Association basketball tournaments in three classes got under way Monday night.

The Lakeside Royals thrashed Birmingham, 72-35, in Class A district action yesterday at Pontiac Central High and will clash with Roseville tonight at 8 o'cock for the right to enter the state tournament in Ypsilanti.

Gerald Fudge paced the Royals with 13 points and Levi Pilgrim and Bob Lewis each added 12. Dale Bartlett scored 10 for the losers. Roseville was awarded an effortless victory when Mt. Clemens was judged to have an ineligible player on its roster.

Auburn 5 & 10 moved into the 2nd round of the Class D Inter-City tourney at Hamtramck High School with a 43-24 triumph over Highland Park. Chuck Johnson and Ken McClintock netted 16 and 13 points respectively for Auburn, which faces Hamtramck this evening at 7:30.

Griff's Grill enters the Class B Inter-City tournament tonight at 8:30 in Detroit's Lasky Recreation Center, 13200 Fenelon.

Drayton Drug of the Waterford League was eliminated from the Class B tourney last night on the Lasky court by Trenton, 59-48. Drayton's Bob Pickett took game scoring honors with 24 points.

New Grid Rule May Bring Deception, Kicking Revival

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Deception and the revival of kicking are two developments which may stem from the new after-point rule in football.

Oklahoma Coach Bud Wilkinson and Oklahoma State Coach Cliff Speegle speculated today on what teams would try to do under the rule revision.

It provides for two points for successfully passing or running the ball over the goal on the try for extra points. The conversion play is moved back a yard to the three but a good kick is still just worth a point.

Oklahoma is in the middle of spring practice but Wilkinson says he isn't worrying too much about the rule now. "We'll probably just let the players know there is such a change," he remarked.

The successful Sooner coach believes there will be more emphasis on deceptive plays when the teams go after extra points.

"It won't be as much on defense. We'll just have to use the regular goal line stand."

Speegle, whose squad already has ended spring practice, kept detailed records on game condition scrimmages where conversion attempts were made for both one and two points.

"We had 125 chancles and found that we could make two points running or passing 60 per cent of the time," he said.

"It looks like the spread will be the best formation as it forces the defense to cover a wider area.

"I think one of the most significant things that will come from the new rule is the return of kicking to the game. Opponents of the rule say it will eliminate kickers but we found just the opposite true.

"What would be better than to have a man who can pass, run or dropkick. With this option, you've got the defense up in the air.

"Something else a lot of people may overlook—I think it will bring back field goals. With two points on the conversion, you'll probably find more teams trying for three points when they get inside the 20 rather than going for a first down or touchdown."

Wilkinson feels the new rule is a good one because "the extra-point won't be a cut and dried thing."

"There never has been any premium for running or passing the ball on a conversion try and it is much easier to kick. There will be some new formations now with a fake kick, of course."

It's a Habit at Wayland

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—Wayland College of Plainview, Tex., breezed through the second round of the National Women's AAU basketball tournament yesterday with 50 points to spare.

Wayland thumped Sioux City, Iowa, 69-19, for its 130th consecutive victory.

Find $100,000 Missing; Only Bank Cashier Held

HALFWAY, Ore. (UP)—The quiet, sober man who was cashier at the only bank in this little eastern Oregon town was accused yesterday of making off with nearly $100,000 over the years.

Clair Ritter, 52, who had a reputation for frugality, was arrested within hours of anouncement that the money was missing.

"I would have entrusted him with my life," said bank president Walter Evans, who promptly closed the independent First National Bank of Halfway, and said it would stay closed unless some bigger bank decides, after a complete audit, to buy it.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Crop. said the bank had assets of about $836,000. The FDIC said the bank's directors had voted to turn it over to the controller of currency for liquidation. The FDIC insures deposits up to $10,000.

Of the bank closure, Evans said, "There ain't gonna be no bank. I'm in my 77th year, and don't want to work no more. I've been sick and this is about as stiff a jolt as I can stand. My mind's all wrecked."

Ritter, who started working in the bank in 1924, owns a 160-acre ranch in this cattle-raising country. He was held at Baker, 50 miles west of here, for federal authorities.

A charge that he embezzled $99,050 over an unspecified number of years was filed with the U.S. commissioner at Portland. The shortage was uncovered by bank examiners.

Ritter's 86-year-old father formerly was president of the bank in this town of about 500 persons. He now is chairman of the board. His son always had been regarded as financially well off.

Army to Scuttle Ship With 6,500 Tons of Gas

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—On April 16 the World War II Liberty ship William C. Ralston will be loaded with 6,500 tons of Army lewisite gas cylinders and mustard gas bombs, towed out to sea and scuttled in water 2,257 fathoms deep.

The Army Chemical Corps said "dumping the chemicals in deep holes in the ocean involves no danger to human beings or fish."

It didn't say why it will dispose of the gas.

Prices Steady, Trade Moderate

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices held about steady in early dealings today on the board of trade with market influences absent.

Trade was moderate with offerings and demand about even.

The bread grains which opened steady to firm weakened after overnight orders were absorbed. Other grains showed a weak untone from the start.

Dealers said approval by the House Agricultur Committee late yesterday of a bill to extend 1957 price supports to 1958 crops had no effect in today's dealings since all such legislative action has been discounted as unlikely to be passed over a certain Presidential veto.

Mutual Funds Favoring Oils

Small Investors Watch Big Institutions for Tip on What to Buy

NEW YORK (INS) — The biggest question among investors is always what stock to buy.

The answers — and the reasons for the ultimate purchases — differ widely. Some investors look towards the big institutions for guidance, although even these professionals in Wall Street, aided by skilled staffs of researchers and analysts make mistakes at times.

A study showing the stocks most favored at the start of this year by the 24 largest investment companies, whose assets total over $6 billion, was recently made by Arthur Wiesenberger & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange.

Oil shares were favored by many of the multi-million dollar funds.

Investors Mutual, for example, the biggest mutual fund with assets of more than $992 million at the start of 1958, had its largest investment in Gulf Oil, holding more than 1,240,000 shares valued at about $13,300,000.

Its portfolio showed 163,200 shares of Texas Co. valued at more than $10,100,000. Then came Goodyear Tire, El Paso Natural Gas and Shell Oil.

Massachusetts Investors Trust, the grand-daddy of the mutual fund field with assets also close to the billion dollar mark, had its greatest investment in IBM — 117,260 shares valued at $35,764,300, roughly 3.7 per cent of its total holdings.

Then followed about $33 million worth of Standard Oil of New Jersey, $26 million each in Texas Co. and Goodyear, and $25 million in Bethlehem steel.

U. S. Steel was the portfolio leader of the Wellington Fund. But the number two, three and four spots were occupied by Standard Oil (N. J.), Texas Co. and Gulf representing assets of slose to $30 million.

Cut Taxes on Cars Now, Auto Manufacturers Ask

DETROIT (INS) — The Automobile Manufacturers Assn. called today for an immediate reduction in federal taxes to reverse the current recession, including repeal or a substantial reduction of automotive excise taxes.

The appeal was made in an official policy statement by the association board of directors. The statement was sent to President Eisenhower and to Congressional committees concerned with national taxation policy.

Market Beats 2-Point Retreat

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market beat a general retreat in early trading today.

Leading issues declined fractions to about 2 points. Gainers were hard to find.

The market was active at the opening, then turned quiet.

Aircrafts, steels, metals and cameras were the hardest hit divisions.

Wall Street pondered over published reports that business at mid - March was still heading downward. Attention was focused on Washington, where administration leaders continued talks about a possible tax cut.

International Nickel, Chance Vought, and Polaroid were off about 2 points yesterday. International Nickel announced a 10 per cent cutback in nickel production. Polaroid has been a sharp riser recently.

In the motors, Chrysler, Ford an General Motors gave up fractions.

Bucking the trend, International Harvester and International Telephone & Telegraph edged ahead fractions.

Security for You

Out of Work? Check on Possible Help!

By RAY HENRY

The end of the year is the time when lots of companies retire their older workers. Thus, many thousands of people in their mid-60s are just getting used to their new life without a job.

Many are closely calculating whether their Social Security, investments or pensions will be enough to live on. Some are taking long vacations they've been planning for years. Some are trying to find another job.

But, whatever they're doing, few are aware they may be entitled to payments from their state because they're out of work.

Probably they are eligible if they:

1. Go to the nearest state employment office, register for work and ask for the payments, and

2. Worked in a job before they were retired which was covered by their state unemployment insurance law, and

3. Earned a certain amount of pay in the job during the year or two before they were forced to retire, and

4. Are able to work and are ready and willing to take a suitable job if one is offered.

In 37 states and the District of Columbia, it's possible to collect unemployment pay if the above qualifications are met even though a person is already collecting Social Security retirement payments.

The states are:

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana.

Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, Wyoming.

Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Illinois, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma and Texas.

In some of the states above, the amount of your Social Security will be deducted from your unemployment payments and you'll get the difference. In others, you'll get the difference plus a few dollars a week more. In Illinois, one half the amount of your Social Security will be deducted from your unemployment pay.

Wisconsin deducts the full amount of your Social Security from your unemployment payments only if your retirement was voluntary.

How much you can collect in unemployment pay if you meet the requirements to be eligible depends on the law in your state and the wages you received while you were working. The most you can get will range from $24 to $36. The least you can get will range from $3 to $17 a week. Some states pay additional money if you have dependents.

In most states, the length of time you can collect the money depends on your previous job, your earnings and the law in your state. The time can vary from four to 30 weeks.

Going back to work full-time after your unemployment pay has started bars you from further payments. But, if you fail to find a job within a certain time—usually a week—after you apply, your payments will begin the following week. They'll continue until you find a job or run out of eligibility.

Chrysler Plans Shift of Plant Operations

DETROIT (INS) — Chrysler Corporation announced today a plan to shift body building, assembly and engine building operations involving three of its four automobile divisions.

The change will become effective with the start of production on 1959 models, probably in September. The plan will mean transfers from one plant to another for thousands of Detroiters.

The move was described by the company as part of a long-range program to coordinate manufacturing and car assembly operations for fullest utilization of new facilities in the Detroit area.

A Chrysler spokesman said the company is not able to estimate at this time the effect the reassignments will have on the corporation's employment in Detroit.

Schoolcraft Dedication Scheduled

5 Waterford PTAs to Meet Thursday

Several Parent-Teacher Association meetings have been scheduled for Thursday night in Waterford Township elementary schools.

Official dedication of the Henry R. Schoolcraft School will be held at 8 p.m., with Rev. Roy Lambert offering the invocation.

Principal William Bawden will introduce the school staff, and fifth grader David Currin will give a narration of the history of Henry R. Schoolcraft, for whom the school was named. Open house will be held from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

A style show will get under way at 7:30 p.m. at the Donelson School. Fashions, starting with 1890s through present times will be featured, and clothing made by some of the PTA mothers for their families, also will be displayed.

Past presidents of the Donelson School PTAs will be honored.

PROGRAM AT LEGGETT

A special program will be presented by Girl and Boy Scouts at the Leggett School meeting which is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Following the election of officers, Mrs. Glenn Wolters will lead a discussion pertaining to Waterford Township school funds.

When members of the Waterford Center School meet at 7:30 p.m. there will be a Girl Scout exhibit in conjunction with an open house.

There will be an annual election of officers, and Mother Singers of the school will present a short concert.

Supervisor of Visiting Teachers, Miss Frieda Huggett, will speak on mental health problems dealing with children. A discussion period will follow the presentation.

The William Beaumont School Parent-Teacher Association will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at the school.

Following a short business meeting, Esther Bentley, a senior at Waterford Township High School, will show colored slides and talk on her experiences as an exchange student in Germany last summer.

Refreshments will be served by fourth grade room mothers.

Jailed for Burning Son

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Robert Hard, 23, of Galesburg has been sentenced to one and a half to four years in prison in the burning of his two-year-old son's arm with a cigarette. Witnesses testified the boy had 24 burns on his body.

Killed as Car Hits Pole

LANSING (AP)—Eugene M. Smith, 18, of nearby Dewitt was killed Monday night when his car hit a utility pole on a county road about eight miles north of Lansing.

Confessed City Robber on Probation; to Pay $100

The man who confessed robbing a worker of $1,300 in retirement funds was sentenced yesterday to probation and $100 costs.

Alexander Hernandez, 35, pleaded guilty to unarmed robbery of Gus Points, 68, of 65 Bagley St. on Jan. 23. He was sentenced by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

5 Cases of Beer Stolen From Market in Pontiac

Pontiac Police reported, Monday, that someone had broken into Stafford's Market, at 48 Putnam St., and stolen five cases of beer worth $16.50 plus $3 in change from an unlocked cash register.

An unknown quantity of wine and cigarettes were also taken, said police.

Slate Cosmic Ray Film

"The Story of Cosmic Rays," a Michigan Bell Telephone film will be featured at the 8 p.m. Thursday open meeting of the Pontiac-Northwest Detroit Astronomers Assn. at Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Huron Gardens Airs Complaints

Waterford Board Tells Subdivision Residents to Seek County Help

Several property owners from the Huron Gardens Subdivision were present at last night's Waterford Township Board meeting to request improvements for their subdivision.

They complained about existing storm drains, rough roads, loose dogs and rodents.

All complaints were referred to various Oakland County departments. The residents were told the township had no authority in the matters.

Two items were tabled until next week's meeting. They were the township recreation budget and an agreement with the developer of Lake Oakland Heights Subdivision regarding its water system.

The builder wants to terminate his agreement to maintain and operate the water plant, now that there are more than 100 water users there.

The township will have full control of the operation after a technicality regarding the well site is cleared up.

The board approved reorganization of the township's voting precincts. As a result, the township now has six new precincts, putting the total number of precincts at 18.

Home Improvement Booths Selling Well

Booths for the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce Home Improvement Show next month are selling well.

Of the 61 booths available for displays, 30 have already been rented and most of the remainder are expected to be spoken for this week, said Howard Weeden, show chairman.

The show will be at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center April 24-27.

It will feature exhibits of the latest improvements for both inside and outside the home.

Unrest Stalls Tunisia Solution

French Premier Turns to Other Issues, Awaits Confidence Vote

PARIS (AP)—Tunisia's reportedly conciliatory terms for settlement of its dispute with France today were pushed temporarily aside as Premier Felix Gaillard wrestled with the National Assembly on other issues.

The British-American good offices team waited to present the proposals while the young Premier defended his government against charges of weak handling of police unrest and made ready for a vote of confidence on a bill to strengthen governmental powers.

The Tunisian proposals may well end the dispute, U.S. special envoy Robert Murphy said on his arrival from Tunis with his British colleague Harold Beeley.

Armed security forces flown in from Algeria and other parts of France ringed the National Assembly building to prevent further demonstrations by disgruntled Paris police — who want special pay—or by left and right extremist parties in connection with the constitutional reforms to be voted on.

Gaillard told the Assembly the mob of police who besieged the Parliament building last Thursday were led by "uncontrolled elements" who acted without the approval of their union leaders.

Although the loyalty of the police was not in question, Gaillard said, the government could not accept such demonstrations. "The republic is not in danger, but the incidents prove that a reform of the institution is necessary," he said.

Nun Killed in Accident

DETROIT (AP) — Sister Mary Edith, 23, of the Felician Order of Roman Catholic Nuns assigned to St. Stephen's School in New Boston, was killed Monday night when the car in which she was riding and a truck collided in suburban Detroit.

20th YEAR OF SALES
We have been commissioned by a large storage company to liquidate a large quantity of household goods—It is estimated it will take 20 weeks to accomplish this. These sales are always interesting because you never know what you will find. There is always something for everyone. Due to increased facilities we will still be able to handle all other consignments whether one piece of a household. We also act as professional appraisers in connection with liquidation of estates. Lunch room will again be operated under capable management of Millie Muckenhirn. Come to where the big crowds are. We get top prices for usable merchandise. Sale starts 7 p.m. All storage items on display every Tuesday. Paul Hillman, Auctioneer

Trusty Prop Cane Keeps Injured TV Stars on the Go

CANE PLUS WIFE — When Frank Lovejoy broke his leg while filming an episode for his television show, "The Adventures of McGraw," a studio cane and his wife, actress Joan Banks, enabled him to keep up with his work. Here, Frank and Joan are shown in a scene from "McGraw," a detective series which is presented Tuesdays at 9 p. m. by NBC.

Joan Banks Tours on Behalf of Hubby Hurt Filming 'McGraw'

By JANET KERN
International News Service

There's a cane at Hollywood's General Service Studios which has been involved in quite a few famous lives, from time to time.

It's not a particularly extraordinary cane — just the kind that any sensible theatrical prop department would keep on hand for such likely occurences as a play in which one character is crippled, or elderly, or over-dapper, or otherwise in need of a prop cane.

But this particular prop hasn't had much chance to get onstage. There was the time, in the last TV season, that Danny Thomas got a yen to play ball with his young son, Tony. Result: One broken leg.

Promptly the cane came out of storage at General Service Studios, where the Thomas show is filmed, to support the recuperating star.

Then, there was the time that Hugh O'Brien (whose "Wyatt Earp" also is filmed on the General Service lot) had the misfortune to be on a horse's back when the horse decided to run into a camera.

Result: One injured boot. Out came the cane — to support the hero with the "fastest draw."

FILMING 'McGRAW'

Most recently, on that portion of the General Service lot devoted to the filming of "The Adventures of McGraw," shooting was in progress for a future show.

The script was entitled "A Time for Dying." For star Frank Lovejoy it was, as usual, a time for fighting — to a glass-splintering finish, as he fell out a prop window.

Result: One leg bone snapped. Out to the prop room went a call for "the cane."

Handy though it is to be injured on so well-equipped a TV lot, there are some problems which even that experienced cane cannot solve for lamed stars.

PUBLICITY TOUR

In Lovejoy's case, along with the usual loss of filming time and the pain, there was the problem of an already scheduled publicity tour of the East.

Have cane — but can't travel was Lovejoy's problem. Have actress-wife who can travel was his solution.

Tiny blonde Joan Banks Lovejoy stepped eagerly into the breach. After 17 years of marriage to Lovejoy, and a considerably longer time as a professional actress, Mrs. L. is an experienced breach - stepper - into-er.

"Show business is a terrible business for a woman," she says. "You want to be a wife and mother and lead a normal life — and then there's the matter of your own ego, wanting to be known for yourself — it's a constant conflict."

For herself, Joan Banks (actress) and Joan Lovejoy (wife and mother of two) the problem is neatly solved. She turns down all roles — however juicy — in movies or on the stage which require her to be absent from home.

Believes Union Leaders Less Likely to Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Union leaders are less likely to call strikes during the current recession, says Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"It is too early to make a definite prediction," the chief mediator said, "but on the basis of our experience so far we anticipate fewer strikes than last year."

The recession has made workers realize "that the stuff isn't going to shake off the trees as readily as before, and they are reluctant to hit the bricks," Finnegan added.

Here to preside at a weeklong seminar of federal mediators from the East, Midwest and South, Finnegan made his comments at a news conference.

Plan Next 'Trip' to Outer Space

Five-Man Crew Comes Out of Air Force Cabin in High Spirits

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Even before the Air Force's five-man "space crew" is accustomed to walking around outside the simulated space ship where they spent five days, Wright Air Development Center reports it is planning another "flight."

Capt. John Roth, a neurological surgeon who helped monitor the 120-hour test which ended yesterday, said another may be made in a month or six weeks.

The five-man test crew was in high spirits after a simulated 17,650-mile flight.

"Everybody expected us to be at each other's throats," Capt. Dan D. Fulgham, 30, Pasadena, Tex., said, adding: "I never spent a more amiable time in my life."

The flight commander, Maj. Russell D. Brewington, 33, Houston, Tex., agreed that there was no morale problem.

"They were congenial as hell," he reported.

The "flight," second to be held by the WADC, was to determine what effect long confinement in close quarters would have on morale and efficiency of space crews.

The men, all volunteers and all veteran pilots who have logged at least 3,000 hours flying time, spent their five-day test in a cabin 17 feet long, 7 feet wide and 6 feet high.

The other three "space men" were Capt. James V. Kennedy, 36, Chicago; Capt. William D. Johnston Jr., 33, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Capt. Lawrence J. McEachern, 37, Millinocket, Maine.

Ask SMU to Cancel Address by Gates

DALLAS (AP)—Southern Methodist University has been asked to cancel the appearance of a former Communist editor.

John Gates, editor of the Daily Worker prior to its suspension, was scheduled to speak April 23. He was invited by the Student Forum Committee.

The Public Affairs Luncheon Club passed a resolution asking the student governing board "not to permit the prestige of a great Christian university to be used to dignify and promote a self-acknowledged atheist and uregenerate follower of the Communist line."

SMU President Willis Tate said he would delay comment until the letters are received.

Clever Ape Sees Chance for Ball, Has Himself One

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Tricky Nicky the Barbary ape, arrived from Norfolk yesterday and the welcoming committee soon included the police commissioner, 12 cops, a squad of firemen and a couple of aerial trucks.

For tricky Nicky had escaped again the instant an unwary Railroad Express employe opened his cage. Traffic had to be blocked off in the downtown area before he was caught.

Destined for the Memphis Zoo, Nicky was collared by a policeman as he was walking up the side of a hotel. The officer put the arm on him by reaching through a third floor window.

The U.S. Navy brought him as far as Norfolk, where he tried to jump ship. He spent the night perched on the Antares' high mast before falling for a trip baited with bananas.

Actress June Lockhart Wins Divorce Decree

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Testimony that her physician husband drank to excess has won a divorce for actress June Lockhart from Dr. John F. Maloney, 45, of New York City.

Miss Lockhart, 32, daughter of the late actor Gene Lockhart, was awarded custody of her daughters, Ann, 4, and June, 2, and $300 monthly child support by Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch.

Folks in Salt Lake City Can Rhyme Real Pretty

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Here's the two-column headline in this morning's Salt Lake Tribune telling of the local spring garden festival:

Sherry Britton's Uncle Cost Her a Millionaire

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — When Sherry Britton, the stripteaser, announced down in Miami that she would divorce her singer-husband and try to marry a millionaire, I wagged my hoary beard remembering when Sherry darn near DID marry a millionaire—and why she didn't.

WILSON

Bob—as I'll call him—was a real millionaire . . . handsome, young, social, well-educated. I wrote about the romance at the time. Frequently . . . Bob's happily married now.

I guess Sherry caught his eye—as she caught a few million eyes when she was World War II's prettiest pinup. The guys looked at her picture and decided that America was well worth fighting for.

SHERRY

Sherry read books, babbled French, aspired to the legitimate stage — and had a good reputation.

Having been a stripper since she was 13, when she went into it to help out a lot of family, she'd known guys like Bob, and she had an allergy toward men with money. She was haughty — which doubled Bob's interest. She would never let him come into her apartment, where she said she lived alone.

"She's probably got a guy stashed in there," suggested one of Bob's Ivy League pals, darkly.

Sherry found, however, that Bob was a wonderful boy and so one 4 a.m. after supper—following her return from a tour—she was going to let him come in and propose.

As she turned the key in the lock and opened the door, they both heard a familiar sound—a shower turned on full blast.

"Hey, who's in there!" Sherry called out a few times. Bob, who'd been in a kidnap scare and had received permission to carry a gun, had whipped it out.

"Ohhhhhh, I know . . . it's my uncle!" Sherry laughed. "He sometimes stays here when I'm away. I guess he didn't know I was back."

"Your UNCLE!" screamed Bob, returning the gun to his pocket. "You got some fellow in there like everybody said! GOODBYE!" And he slammed out of the building and Sherry's life.

Uncle Bernie's been getting his showers at the YMCA ever since.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ex-Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce whipped out a 140-page revision of her first play in years while vacationing in Phoenix . . . Sugar Ray Robinson closed his Harlem bar till after the Basilio fight . . . Kim Novak didn't like the reaction to her first record, won't do another . . . Clark Gable says he and his wife'll tour with his new film "Teacher's Pet" . . . Mitzi Gaynor's hunting for a dramatic role to follow "South Pacific."

EARL'S PEARLS: An optimist's the fellow who shrugs and says that, oh well, one thing about baldness is that it's neat.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Robert Q. Lewis notes Central Park is so dangerous after dark that even the muggers travel in pairs. That's earl, brother.

Batista Ignores Demand to Quit

42 Cuban Leaders Add to Castro's Ultimatum to President

HAVANA (AP) — President Fulgencio Batista showed no sign today of heeding a call for his resignation by leaders of 42 organizations.

The manifesto, declaring anarchy and bloodshed could be averted only if Batista got out, came on the heels of a 22-point ultimatum by rebel leader Fidel Castro giving the President until April 5 to quit or face "a fight to the finish."

The presidential palace made no immediate comment on either demand. But it appeared clear Batista is determined to stay on until after the election he has set for June 1. His choice for president, former Premier Andres Ribero Aguero, has said no one can stop the balloting, which the rebels claim is rigged to block any opposition candidate from winning.

The manifesto — put out by representatives of 42 religious fraternal, professional, civic and cultural organizations — called for the dissolution of Congress and formation of a provisional transition government representing all major factions.

Castro's ultimatum called for setting up a military junta immediately after Batista's exit, to be followed by a provisional regime to rule until general elections could be held.

The civic leaders' manifesto denounced what it called "repressive forces" exercised by Batista in an attempt to stem the revolt.

Montgomery Finds Winnie Doing Fine

NICE, France (AP)—Field Marshal Montgomery today said Sir Winston Churchill is doing fine—smoking cigars and drinking whisky even when his guests don't join in.

Montgomery left by plane for Paris after spending the weekend with his old boss.

"I found Sir Winston in fine shape and with a good appetite," said Montgomery, who neither drinks nor smokes himself.

"I was obliged to let him smoke and drink all alone," Monty commented.

Churchill, now recovering from a pneumonia attack last month, has postponed his departure for home until the end of the week. A spoksman said the gray, humid weather had prevented his getting out enough to regain his strength sufficiently.

Della Reese Gets Divorce on Grounds of Desertion

DETROIT (AP) — Singer Della Reese, whose recording of "And That Reminds Me" is a current hit, was granted a divorce yesterday. Miss Reese, whose real name is Delreese Taliaferro, charged her husband, Vermont, with desertion.

They were married in Detroit in July, 1951, and Miss Reese charged her husband deserted her Dec. 15, 1952. They have no children.

2 Youths Plead Guilty in Looting

Pair From Birmingham Arraigned on Charge of Garage Larceny

Two Birmingham members of a garage looting gang pleaded guilty to larceny from a building at their arraignment yesterday in circuit court.

Judge George B. Hartrick set March 31 for sentencing Raymond C. Hill, 18, of 708 Davis St., and Allan E. Turner, 18, of 292 Park St.

They were arrested as part of a gang which police said looted 75 to 100 garages and autos in the Birmingham, Troy and Bloomfield Township areas.

Five of 10 youths believed by police to be gang members have been arrested.

Expect Political Repercussions

World's Scientists Greeting Vanguard

LONDON (INS) — Kenneth Gatland, vice chairman of the British Inter-Planetary Society, whistled with pleasure when he heard that the American Vanguard was out in orbit as far as 2,500 miles.

"Terrific, wonderful news," he said in welcoming the Vanguard satellite success

Political repercussions among western nations on the Vanguard project, aside from the comments of scientists, are expected.

The British conservative government hopes that the strengthened prestige of American rocketry will lighten its attempts to sell the idea of American-supplied missile bases in Britain.

The Vanguard, vindicated after previous failures, will quiet some labor opposition gibes but will not halt their campaign against the missile bases.

The London Evening News banner on the Vanguard called the grapefruit-sized satellite "the tiny totnik."

Gatland said he believed that the Russians "must have had some failures of their own" in launching satellites despite their stout denials.

Prof. Alfred Lovell, chief of Britain's big radiotelescope station, commented "Very good" when he heard the Vanguard news. But he said he would not attempt to track it until later in the week

Prof. Georges LaClevere, a member of the French committee on the International Geophysical Year, said in Paris, "I am very happy to hear that the Vanguard satellite has been successfully placed in orbit."

"I hope its radio reports will be heard everywhere," he added, "thus helping us to complete our knowledge regarding outer space by adding to the information already obtained by man-made satellites.

"I am sure this new satellite will help all nations in the world to increase their knowledge of the inter-planetary world."

Late Paris newspapers bannerlined the news but the French man in the street appeared to take the news in stride. Some commented on the smallness of the American satellite and the fact it represented the Navy's third attempt.

When Soviet Sputniks one and two, and the U.S. Army Explorer were launched Parisians grabbed newspapers like hotcakes. But this time the news vendors noticed few additional sales.
