Saturday Mail Again

ON THEIR WAY—After last week which saw no mail delivery in the city, service was back to normal today. Saturday delivery was suspended a week ago by Postmaster General Summerfield until Congress appropriated needed funds. Shown starting on their rounds here this morning are Karl George (left), of 4118 Athens, Drayton Plains, and Chris Fotineas, 47 Summit St.

Cloudbursts, Tornadoes Hit Central Texas

High Winds, Rain Lash Dallas, Waco; Drivers Warned of Floods

DALLAS (AP) — Heavy cloudbursts and high winds lashed north central Texas for the second straight day today, flooding highways and driving streams out of their banks in some areas.

A tornado struck ground near Dallas as the turbulence swept northeastward, but no injuries or damage was reported.

Torrential rains that flooded parts of Waco last night tapered off, but continued today.

The Department of Public Safety said motorists were warned that highway travel on some roads betwen Dallas, Fort Worth and Weatherford, and south on U. S. 81 through Waco was unadvisable.

Highways 77 and 81 were closed by high water in some areas near Waco.

The Tarrant County sheriff's office in Fort Worth said a small twister developed near Midlothian, Tex., near Dallas early today veered westward and north of Irving, and hit the ground northwest of Dallas before disappearing. A report of another funnel over Dallas was not confirmed.

HAIL IN DALLAS

Torrential rains, hail and high winds lashed the city of Dallas, causing a power failure in a small downtown area. Most of the heavy turbulence, however, swept past the city before dawn and the weather bureau lifted the tornado and severe weather alert for Tarrant County and Dallas.

Heavy black thunderheads rumbled across the northern part of the state and into parts of east Texas, touching off electric storms and cloudbursts.

Rivers in south Texas were expected at flood stages today following heavy rains yesterday and last night. Seven tornadoes were reported sighted over the state yesterday.

A rain-swollen creek overflowed its banks in Waco last night pouring water three to six feet deep in 15 city blocks. Between 150 and 200 persons were evacuated from the low area along the creek. Much of the water drained away within a few hours, however.

The cloudbursts sent rivers on the rise over much of the state.

One man was feared drowned near Abilene.

Three other persons were washed off State Highway 6 some 12 miles southeast of Waco, including two teenagers.

Christians Worship at Good Friday Rites

TRE ORE SERVICES—Christians gathered in churches Friday for the traditional three hour services commemorating Christ's Crucifixion. Under auspices of the Pontiac Pastor's Association, a service was held in Central Methodist Church. To accommodate those who desired to worship closer to their homes, services also were held in a number of churches in other areas of the city. 10 Are Removed From Payroll by Town Board

Move, in Effect Monday, Will Cut Monthly Cost From $9,500 to $5,000

Waterford Township's 18-man police force was slashed by 10 this morning at a special meeting of the township board.

Designed to trim costs in the face of declining income, the cut also reduces clerical help from three to one. The cut goes into effect Monday, according to Supervisor Elmer Johnson.

It is estimated the reduced force will save the township $4,500 a month out of the present $9,500 a month in payroll.

The cuts, brought about by an attorney - general's ruling which prohibits the use of justice court costs paid by offenders from going to the township treasury, were both strongly defended and attacked by residents attending the meeting.

One group said police protection for Waterford Township was the responsibility of the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. and the State Police, and local residents should not have to pay for its own department.

They urged the board to call upon the County Board of Supervisors to authorize additional sheriff's deputies to patrol Waterford Township.

Another group, headed by Mrs. Earl Floyd, stated Waterford is the second largest township in the county and needs local protection for its 42,000 residents.

CIRCULATE PETITIONS

This group is circulating petitions requesting a special election to levy a property tax to support a full 18-man police department.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Floyd, in opposing the cuts, emphasized two bills now pending in the Legislature which would legalize the use of justice court costs as a source of township revenue.

One would give the township any costs paid by convicted offenders except those ticketed on state highways.

The other would boost the present schedule of costs and would turn all the revenue over to the townships, including that from offenses on state roads.

Supervisor Johnson defended the cuts as necessary, although he said township cash reserves have swelled somewhat during the past week to $64,000.

Officers discharged would receive vacation pay due them from this money, Johnson added.

Cost of operating the 18-man police force last year was $119,000, almost all of which was raised from county rebates of costs as-

Stalled Subway Train Hit, 65 Injured in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A subway train rumbled around a sharp curve in a Brooklyn tunnel last night and smashed into the rear of a stalled train. Sixty-five persons were injured, one seriously.

A city transit official said later he felt "man failure" caused the accident. Both trains were en route from Brooklyn to Queens with several hundred passengers when the first train stalled with a jammed brake.

Motorman Victor P. O'Britis, 41, of Queens climbed out, released the brake and headed back to the controls of his eight-car train.

He was just entering the cab when the second train struck.

"There was a crash," O'Britis said. "Some people were knocked to the floor and some of the injured got panicky and began screaming. I said to them, 'take it easy.'

"I had to calm them down. They used the emergency exits themselves and a lot of them walked out."

Motorman William A. Hoke, 46, of Queens was pinned in the cab of the second train for an hour and a half before firemen using axes and wrecking bars could free him.

He was in serious condition in Kings County Hospital with a crushed right leg and possible internal injuries.

The crash knocked out the lights and shattered windows in the four-car second train. There was a moment of confusion before the conductor switched on emergency lights.

Scott to Reveal Canada Hideout

Wife-Murder Suspect Says Lawyer Will Lead Ontario Police

DETROIT (AP) — L. Ewing Scott says he will direct Ontario police today to his Canadian hideout.

The former Los Angeles broker, who is accused of slaying his society-matron wife and squandering her fortune, said police will find his 1953 automobile and other personal possessions at his Ontario apartment. He said his Detroit attorney, Gabriel Cohn, will lead police to its location.

Scott said he lived in Ontario after jumping $25,000 bond a year ago and fleeing California. He was arrested Monday night at the Canadian border in Windsor during a routine customs inspection.

He is being held in the Wayne County jail on a federal fugitive warrant, pending extradition to California where he has been indicted by a grand jury on charges of slaying his 63-year-old wife, Evelyn Throsby Scott, and on 13 counts of forgery and grand theft.

U.S. Joins Worshipers Throughout World

Millions to Observe Easter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians throughout the world celebrate tomorrow the joyous holiday of Easter, commemorating the resurrection of Christ.

Millions of worshippers will throng churches in cities, towns and villages to pray in the name of the Prince of Peace.

In old Jerusalem, because of the atmosphere of suspicion and hostility which grips the Middle East, only hundreds instead of the usual thousands of pilgrims will take part in ceremonies.

In Rome, Pope Pius XII will give his annual Easter message to the world. For the first time the Pontiff's message will be televised for Europe. Also, it will be broadcast via Vatican Radio and 14 European networks in 28 languages, and later will be picked up by American, Canadian and British broadcasting systems.

SUNRISE SERVICES

In the United States, regular church services will be supplemented by scores of sunrise ceremonies in various sections of the nation.

For small children, it will be the happy day to find the brightly colored eggs the Easter bunny has hidden.

For their sisters and mothers, it will be the day to don new spring finery for the Easter parades after church.

Intoxicating Weather

Breath of Spring Sets Off an Early Easter Parade

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

Pontiac, after months of abstinence, was under the influence of intoxicating weather Friday afternoon and evening when heady spring warmth attracted the biggest downtown shopping parade since Christmas.

HAWKER

With the temperature hitting 75 degrees about 5 p.m., Pontiac discarded its winter garb. Women left their head scarfs and heavy topcoat uniform at home, men rolled up their sleeves, and children stayed out late to join the foot and car parade which choked Saginaw street.

But although the first day of the Easter weekend ushered in spring, the weatherman warns that paraders in the south-eastern counties should take a raincoat along tomorrow. Seasonal finery might get wet.

He predicts for the Pontiac area increasing cloudiness with scattered showers, thunder-

Policeman's Face Red

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit patrolman Edward Guzowski was red-faced today when he reported that a thief broke into his parked car and took a cap, jacket, pair of trousers, a belt and his gun holster. The car was parked in a lot on West Eight-Mile road.

Man Is Injured by Hit-Runner

Billy Stewart Thrown From Car Involved in 3 Accidents

Billy Stewart, 25, of 123 Norton Ave., was injured last night when he was dragged across an intersection while he attempted to hang on to the door of an unidentified auto and stop a hit-and-run driver.

★ ★ ★

Stewart suffered a fractured right leg and a fractured rib when he fell from the moving car. He is in Pontiac General Hospital where his condition is reported as fair today.

★ ★ ★

He was a passenger in an auto driven by Robert Gene Jones, 26, of 238 E. Pike St. Jones said he chased the unidentified car after his auto had been sideswiped at Huron street and Cass avenue.

Stewart got out of the Jones car and walked up to the other driver when he stopped at Elizabeth Lake and Telegraph roads for a red light. The auto drove away while Stewart was attempting to open the door.

The car crossed Telegraph Road and sideswiped a car driven by Harold E. White, 53 Naome, throwing Stewart free of the fleeing car. Previously the fleeing car had sideswiped another car at Elizabeth Lake and Johnson. This car was driven by Charles L. Ledbetter, 22, of 262 State St. He was not injured.

MEMO TO CAESAR

But Now the Centuries Must Reply

MEMO
FROM: PONTIUS PILATE
TO: TIBERIUS CAESAR

Your order commanding me to return to Rome has been received. My wife, Claudia, and I shall leave with our household by the trireme sailing for Ostia on the Ides of next month. For, as you must have guessed, your command was not unwelcome to us.

★ ★ ★

I am deeply moved that you explain the order as being based upon need for me in Rome. I sincerely hope I shall be of greater service to you there than I have ever been in my life.

But I know the people of this province hate me with a bitterness so deep that I can no longer be of good service to them nor they to the empire while I rule.

Their hatred perplexes and saddens me. They despise me for doing the very thing they begged — yes, demanded — in permitting the execution of the Nazarene preacher, Jesus.

He has become a greater symbol to them dead than living — if he is really dead.

Certainly his spirit moves over these Judaean hills. The apostle, Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him, returned to the temple shortly after Jesus' trial and tried to give back the thirty pieces of silver which was his price for treachery.

When the authorities refused to take the coins, he flung them to the floor and went out and hanged himself. The money has been used to purchase a burial place for paupers.

But even as Judas was crushed, so the faithful apostles seem to be lifted up spiritually.

I have questioned some of them in private and they swear exultantly that Jesus appeared to them in the flesh after his crucifixion and burial. Others even maintain they saw him ascend into heaven.

Be those things as they may, churches are being founded in his name. They spring up in town after town. I fear that very few men can live as Jesus taught, but many are trying. And they seem to dwell with a strange inward satisfaction of soul.

★ ★ ★

Claudia has been to some of their meetings, although I have forbade her to attend any more because she returns from them filled with a spirit of sweetness which angers me.

★ ★ ★

I am exceedingly glad to be coming back to Rome where religion is something that is practiced in the temples and not in the heart. I only wish that in shaking the dust of Judaea from my sandals I could be sure I was ridding myself of all memory of this Nazarene, too. The thought of his death lies heavily upon me. I have a feeling that neither I nor the world shall forget him soon. When I reach Rome you must tell me: Do I overestimate his destiny?

(Signed) Pilate

. . . . But only the ages could answer Pilate's inquiry. For, when the memo reached Rome, Tiberius Caesar was dead.

GM Salaries, Bonuses Listed

Curtice Tops Group; Many See Drop From 1955 Compensation

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. paid $13,879,679 in salaries and bonuses last year to 60 of its top officers.

President Harlow H. Curtice headed the list with a total compensation of $696,100. This consisted of salary and fees of $201,100, a cash bonus of $425,263 and a stock bonus of 1,531 shares with an award value of $45.55 a share for a total of $69,737.

His total compensation dropped $30,300 under 1955.

The figures were made public yesterday in a proxy statement which asks stockholder approval of a new stock option plan for about 250 executives. The plan is proposed to take effect in 1958. Stockholders will vote on it May 24 at the annual meeting in Wilmington, Del.

Albert Bradely, board chairman, received $341,300, compared to $691,525 in 1955.

Frederic G. Donner, executive vice president and chairman of the financial policy committee, was second behind Curtice with $577,625 while Louis C. Goad, executive vice president, was third with $531,100.

Other top compensations went to John F. Gordon, vice president, $456,100; Sherrod E. Skinner, vice president, $456,200; Thomas H. Keating, vice president, $503,600; Cyrus R. Osborn, vice president, $406,100; Ivan L. Wiles, vice president, $466,544; Carl H. Kindl and Roger M. Kyes, vice presidents, $366,000.

George Russell, vice president, $335,975; Charles G. Stradella, president of General Motors Acceptance Corp., $338,900, and Charles F. Kettering, consultant, $36,100.

Attached to the proxy statement were company estimates of top executive compensations after deduction of income tax:

Bradley, $81,570; Curtice, $114,101; Donner, $103,438; Goad, $99,251; Gordon, $92,501; Keating, $96,776; Kettering, $24,250; Kindl, $84,040; Kyes, $84,050; Osborn, $88,001; Russell, $81,037; Skinner, $92,510; Stradella, $81,330 and Wiles, $93,411.

In commenting on the reduction, Police Chief Frank VanAtta said, "By this move we are losing the services of a lot of good experienced patrolmen. It certainly will be hard to replace them if and when the time comes to again expand the force."

The department is left with the chief, one sergeant, one detective, four patrolmen and one radio operator-typist.

Dismissed were: Two sergeants, one detective, five patrolmen and two radio operator-typists.

Harriman's Invitation to Makarios Assailed

LONDON (INS)—New York Gov. Averell Harriman's invitation to Cypriot Archbishop Makarios to visit New York has been assailed by rightwing members of Parliament as irresponsible interference in British affairs.

Harriman's expression of the hope that Makarios could visit New York has touched off a wave of angry cables to the governor from organizations in Turkey and leaders of the Turk minority on Cyprus.

Franciosa Takes Battle Outside Courtroom

Excitable Actor Flails at Photographer for Snapping Him With Shelly Winters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Excitable Anthony Franciosa — an actor who plans to co-star in marriage with Shelly Winters — is beside himself with contrition for the way he tore into a news photographer.

Effusive apology notwithstanding, curly haired Anthony still faces a charge of battery brought by the besieged bulb-popper.

★ ★ ★

Scene: Just outside the court of Superior Judge Clyde C. Triplett.

Situation: Actor Franciosa, 28, and actress Winters, 33 — who played together on Broadway in "A Hatful of Rain" — have just been outbid on a Beverly Hills home. They are a little upset.

Action: The couple emerge from the courtroom. Newspaper photographers get ready for pictures.

Franciosa: "If you take my picture, I'm going to kick that camera into your face."

The action moves outside the building. The reporter and Franciosa struggle in shrubbery and Miss Winters screams again and waves her arms.

A court bailiff appears and advises Franciosa he's under arrest. Franciosa lunges at Walker again. Two more bailiffs arrive and hold the actor while he is handcuffed. Judge Burnett Wolfson appears. Wolfson (addressing Franciosa): "Use your head. This is a public place and you are involved in a public procedure. The photographers have every right to take your picture."

Franciosa says he sought to avoid photographers because he was still married and he felt it "unseemly" to be shown with Miss Winters in such circumstances. (His wife, Beatrice, got a divorce later in the day in Reno on grounds of willful desertion.)

Here Franciosa later is booked on a battery complaint and released on $250 bond. Still later, through a press agent, he announces:

"What happened this morning was a regrettable incident for which I am sincerely sorry. I have been under a considerable personal emotional strain, and I hope the members of the press will accept my apology."

★ ★ ★

Miss Winters and Franciosa were bidding on the home of the late Bert Friedlob, movie producer. If successful, they said they would have taken title to the property in joint tenancy for they plan to be married probably in June.

Canada Claims Notes Falsified

But Newspaper Retorts Norman's Final Letters Are Transcripts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Canadian embassy has described as "fabrications" the published texts of two suicide notes left by Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt.

Norman killed himself in Cairo April 4 after release of a Senate hearing transcript linking him with communism. He left two notes, one to his wife and the other to Brynolf Eng, Swedish minister to Cairo.

The New York Daily News, which published what it described as Norman's suicide notes, replied to the Canadian embassy charges with a statement saying the texts were obtained in Cairo by its correspondent, Reynolds Packard. The Daily News said the texts "were translations of Arabic copies made of the letters while the Cairo police were holding them during their investigation."

★ ★ ★

The Canadian embassy statement issued earlier said the two published notes "bear no relation" to the originals, which it said are in the possession of the Canadian department of external affairs.

"The only conclusion which can be drawn is that the texts. . . are complete fabrications," the embassy added.

The Canadian government has been critical of the Senate subcommittee action, calling it an interference in Canadian affairs. Canada said Norman had been cleared by a Canadian security check.

★ ★ ★

Last night in Ottawa, Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson said he does not know how the Senate subcommittee got a report alleging Norman had been a Communist.

Monday Deadline for City Voters to Be Registered

Monday at 8 p.m. is the deadline for unregistered Pontiac voters to register at the city clerk's office if they expect to vote in the May 20 special election.

The office in the City Hall, 35 S. Parke St., will be open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. Monday to take registrations and change of addresses.

The vote May 20 will be on a $4,550,000 bond issue to finance city hospital and sewage treatment plant projects, and a one-mill tax increase levy.

Driver Waits Action After Plea of Guilty

Otis Baxter Currie, 33, address unknown, pleaded guilty to a drunk driving charge today. He was arrested by Detective Robert M. Wachal yesterday after a chase involving Currie in two hit and run accidents.

Currie was returned to the Oakland County Jail to await action by the Detroit Police Department since the auto he was driving had been stolen in Detroit.

During the chase, Wachal said, Currie ran three red lights, drove on the wrong side of the road, and struck two autos.

★ ★ ★

Currie was treated for cuts and bruises and released from Pontiac General Hospital. Neither of the other drivers were injured.

Driver Emerges Unhurt as Truck Turns Over

Lewis Coye, 18, of 2185 Lakeville Rd., Oxford, was a bit shaken but uninjured yesterday when the truck he was driving turned over on Clarkston Rd., just west of Sunset St. in Orion Township.

Coye was going 35 miles an hour according to police reports, but overturned on a curve.

Russia's Latest Note Branded Propaganda

WASHINGTON (INS) — U.S. experts said today that Russia's latest proposal for a four-power solution of Middle East problems appears to be Soviet propaganda designed to cover Communist intrigue in the area.

The Soviet note was sent to the U.S., Britain and France yesterday, but the text was not released immediately. It was a reply to an American note of March 11.

Although only a preliminary study has been made, U.S. analysts said the Soviet note did not appear to contain any significantly new ideas. The Big Three had previously rejected the proposed four-power plan.

It was recalled that the Arab Bloc also opposed any move that would allow the U.S., Britain, France and Russia to settle the Middle East situation without the assistance of other nation.

President Signs Bill to Hike Interest Rate

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed a bill authorizing an increase in the interest rate on government savings bonds from the current 3 per cent to 3¼ per cent.

"I invite every citizen to take advantage of the opportunity of investing in the now better-than-ever United States savings bonds," the President said in a statement issued at his vacation headquarter.

Eisenhower said the bonds will "provide even greater financial protection for our people in the years ahead and, at the same time, help assure the financial stability of our country."

The bill authorizes the Treasury Department to put the higher interest rate in effect on series E and H bonds.

Mother's Little Helper Locks Her in Closet

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Three year-old Chris Long, clad only in her nightie and barefooted, dashed through a rainstorm into a shop and asked for aid.

"I've locked my mother in a closet and can't get her out," she cried.

Mrs. Herbert Aston, a clerk, rushed to the house. Sure enough, Mrs. Shirley Long was trapped in the closet.

New Mayflower Starts Voyage to United States

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)— The Mayflower II left Plymouth at 3:59 p.m. (10:59 a.m. EST) today to sail for the New World on a voyage duplicating the Pilgrim fathers' trip in 1620.

The little wooden vessel, 180 tons, was towed into the English Channel by a tug belching black smoke, and there were wild cheers from thousands of spectators.

Sails of the Mayflower II were still furled to the rigging, but the crew was to spread them outside Plymouth Harbor.

A little splinter of granite chiseled from the Plymouth Rock of Massachusetts was presented to the captain—the idea being that the bit of stone wants to get back to its proper place and that it will lead Mayflower II across the sea to Plymouth Rock.

One of the earliest sunrise services will be at the Cathedral of the Pines, Rindge, N. H., at 4:45 a.m.

An Easter pageant with a cast of 300 will be presented tonight at Fredericksburg, Tex., where for more than a century fires have been lighted on surrounding hilltops at Eastertide.

Church Service Halted by Shots

Choir Member Slain by Rejected Suitor Who Then Kills Self

COVE, Ark. (AP) — Moments after pretty Helen Griffith left a choir and went to a pew in a church here last night, six pistol shots blasted the Holy Week service and the 20-year-old girl fell fatally wounded in the aisle.

Several persons rushed to the door in time to see a man leap into a pickup truck and flee.

Little more than an hour later, officers here were notified that Haskell Sullivan, 25, a rejected suitor of the dead girl, had killed himself in front of his brother's house at Nano Chito, Okla., 20 miles from Cove.

Sheriff's officers of McCurtain County, Okla., said Sullivan's body was found in his pickup truck outside the home of J. L. Sullivan.

He had been shot between the eyes with a .22 pistol, apparently the same weapon which killed Miss Griffith, officers reported.

Sullivan left a note. It said:

"I killed Helen and I'm going with her."

City Marshal Burl Brown said the slain girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Griffith of Cove, had called him to the family home about six months ago, and told him that Sullivan was "bothering" the girl.

Brown said Sullivan "used to date Helen."

San Francisco Will Celebrate

Golden Gate Bridge to Mark 20 Years Use in May 27 Festival

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—One of the world's most magnificent spans, the Golden Gate Bridge, will be the center of attention on May 27 when a celebration is staged in San Francisco to mark the 20th anniversary of its opening.

It is estimated that some 165,000,000 toll-paying motor vehicles will have crossed the handsome structure across the Golden Gate by the time it attains its 20th birthday.

The Redwood Empire Association and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, co-sponsors of the celebration, have arranged to select the most photogenic girl born in northwest California or southwest Oregon to reign as queen of the celebration. However, to be eligible, the girl must have been born on May 27, 1937, the day the bridge opened.

Original cost of the bridge, which links San Francisco and Marin County to the north, was $35,000,000. Subsequently, another $3,000,000 were spent to increase the torsional rigidity of the span by 35 per cent.

Cost of maintaining and operating the span runs into seven figures annually, $871,192 for operating expenses and $453,128 for repair and depreciation expenses.

Thirteen men lost their lives while working on the bridge, ten of them on Feb. 17, 1937, when a scaffold broke and crashed through a safety net.

The Day in Birmingham

Easter Story to Be Told in Area Churches Sunday

BIRMINGHAM — The ageless story of Christ's triumph over death will again be told in Birmingham's churches tomorrow in sermon and song.

Among the special observances planned is the 7 a.m. sunrise service young people of the First Baptist Church will hold.

Beck May Face More Questions

Senators Wonder Why He Challenged Action by AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (INS)—The possibility loomed today that Senate probers may soon recall Teamsters President Dave Beck to explain why he challenged the AFL-CIO council's right to suspend him.

The prospect was raised by Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) after Beck charged that the council lacked authority to suspend him as a vice president or to look into his personal affairs prior to the AFL-CIO merger.

Mundt said that, if Beck is successful in his move, the Senate rackets committee may recall him "at an earlier date than was contemplated."

In his appearance last month, Beck invoked the Fifth Amendment 117 times in refusing to say whether he had taken $322,000 from union funds.

★ ★ ★

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) is expected to return to Washington Sunday night from an Easter weekend visit in Arkansas.

Mundt, a committeeman, said "If it develops that the council has no jurisdiction and is unable to enforce its code," the group may recall Beck shortly.

★ ★ ★

He added: "The committee has developed additional information that the Teamsters should know, the public should know, and that Congress should know."

Salesmen Spend Time in Prison While at Work

NEW YORK (INS) — Lawrence C. Jones says he would be worried if his salesmen were anywhere else but in jail. Jones is president of a Cleveland firm which specializes in building anything from a two-cell installation for a rural community to a sprawling multi-tiered state or Federal prison.

★ ★ ★

He says that on a given day, his vice president, Harry D. Garber, could be in San Quentin; his sales manager, William J. Senger, in Sing Sing, and his works manager, Albert S. French, behind the doors of another penal institution.

Steelways, official publication of American Iron and Steel Institute, says these salesmen for the Van Dorn Iron Works often take on their calls some of the most unusual sample cases to be found in the industrial world.

They are models of two and three-cell jail installations in one-quarter and one-half sizes—working models complete to the last detail and built of stainless steel which are tool resistant. They are carried in a special trailer hooked to the back of the salesman's car.

Richard E. Kontz, son of the Rev. Dr. Emil Kontz, will speak when the group gathers near the waterfalls at Quarton Lakes parkside on West Maple avenue.

Richard, president of the Baptist Student movement in Michigan, is a Kalamazoo College sophomore studying for the ministry.

Special pre-Easter rites include Baptism services at 4 p.m. today at St. James Episcopal Church and 5 p.m. at Christ Church Cranbrook.

Holy Name Parish will observe its annual Easter vigil from 11 p.m. to midnight when Msgr. Eugene E. Paddock will chant the solemn high mass.

On Sunday morning two services are scheduled in most churches to accommodate worshipers.

No change is reported this morning in the critical condition of Robert Albertson, 32, of Surrey road, at Beaumont Hospital.

Albertson, a contractor, received a fractured skull, concussion and fractured ribs about 11 o'clock Friday morning in a three-car crash on West Maple avenue at Oak Hill drive.

Bloomfield Township police said Albertson had stopped to make a left hand turn when a second car crashed into the rear of his jeep, driving it into the path of oncoming traffic.

Other drivers, neither of whom were injured, are Howard Beckman of Clawson and John R. Davis of Birmingham.

Past Matrons Club of Birmingham Chapter OES will meet for a dessert luncheon at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Marguerite Burtraw, 247 Oakland St.

The road oiling program for the 1957 season will get underway shortly. Fourteen streets, totaling 4,299 feet, will receive light oil; 14 streets with 2,270 feet will get seal coat and 53 streets of 52,640 feet will receive oil mat and seal coat.

The estimated figure of $49,800 is given for its cost by the DPW superintendent, L. R. Gare.

Breath of Spring Starts Easter Parade

storms, and humid conditions, with a possible high today of 80 degrees.

With a temperature in the high 50's tonight the weather is expected to become cooler tomorrow—high near 65—with scattered showers and a moderate southerly wind swinging westerly tomorrow with gusts possibly to 50 mph.

Nationally the outlook is for Easter showers in many parts, offset by periods of sunshine and spring temperatures.

But Pontiac Friday night cared little for what the future might bring. It took advantage of the present for a shopping spree which gave Easter trade a boost.

And what did people buy?

Husbands bending reverently over motor lawnmowers, or laden with pot plants, seeds and garden tools, mothers heavily laden with Easter fare and gifts, and women—young, old, and in-between—trying on fancy bonnets, told their own story.

Pretty girls reciprocated the glances of young men parading in open exhaust convertibles.

Easter and Spring met on Saginaw street.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. today was 60. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 79.

STRATEGIC RECRUIT — Spain may be the next member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The move, favored by the Administration, would strengthen the 15-member European alliance against Communist aggression. Newsmap shows the vital position Spain holds in the balance of European power. Its admission to NATO probably will be discussed at a meeting of NATO foreign ministers at Bonn, West Germany, May 2.

Students to Take Rest While Teachers Work

Tuesday will be a holiday for Pontiac Public School students, but for the teachers it will be a day in which they will acquire information and skills to enable them to better perform in the classroom.

The nearly 800 teachers in the Pontiac system will gather at 8:30 a.m. in the Pontiac High School auditorium to begin Professional Growth Day.

Featured speaker during the morning session will be Dr. Ernest O. Melby, former dean of education at New York University and now distinguished visiting professor at Michigan State University.

Dr. Melby's topic will set the theme for the entire day's program. It is "Education for Creativity." The day will be given to exploring the role of creativity in the modern world and what public education can do to foster it in children.

GROUPS SPLIT UP

After Dr. Melby's talk, the teachers will split up. The elementary teachers will go to Crofoot School at 10 a.m. to view an exhibit of books designed to stimulate students of different age levels according to their interests.

The Crofoot multi-purpose room contains the exhibit, set up by Mrs. Janet Gauthier, head elementary librarian and her staff, to cover such topics as hobbies, famous Americans, other lands, science and history.

In the afternoon, the elementary teachers will further divide into seven sections, by grade, to discuss in two-hour sessions, how to assemble and organize material along the lines suggested by Dr. Melby.

OFFER IDEAS

Each group will have resource people on hand to assist with ideas on the kinds of study that should be given to introduce students to problem solving while learning.

Secondary teachers will remain in the PHS auditorium at 10 a.m. to hear a panel of seven Pontiac teachers, moderated by Helen Lapisch, of Eastern Junior High.

On the panel will be Victor Lindquist, senior high; Robert Beauchamp, senior high; Mrs. Mildred Wiersema, Lincoln Junior High; Susan Eckley, Lincoln; Mrs. Betty Heinke, Washington Junior High; and Edwin Rydell, Eastern.

As resource people, Dr. Melby and Dr. Harry Hahn, head of the Oakland County Board of Education reading clinic, will be on hand.

★ ★ ★

The panel will give illustrations of teaching for creativity, with demonstrations and slides.

At 1 p.m., the secondary teachers will split up by school to tackle local problems.

The Professional Growth Day is sponsored by a special committee headed by Dr. Russell Curtis, coordinator of secondary education.

Pick Auxiliary Head for Junior Chamber

At a recent meeting of the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary, Mrs. Tom Belton was named president for next year.

Vice president will be Mrs. Jack Cooper, and treasurer will be Mrs. Art Salley. Mrs. Richard Kuhn will be the new corresponding secretary and Mrs. Robert Wheeler, recording secretary.

Installation dinner will be held May 20.

The group voted to give $100 towards the CAI library for the purchase of new children's books.

Bell Telephone to Set Up Service for Air Travelers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bell Telephone companies of Michigan and Illinois have been authorized to set up radio telephone service for air travelers on a "developmental" basis.

The Federal Communications Commission issued the authorization for the Detroit and Chicago areas.

The FCC is considering a petition by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. seeking a regular allocation of radio frequencies to be used for communication between airplane passengers and persons on the ground.

The phone company wants to make the service available to commercial airlines and to private planes. Rates for a three-minute call would range between $1.50 and $5.25, depending on the location of the aircraft and the ground connection.

Under the limited trial, the communications will be used on aircraft flying within a 50-mile radius of Detroit and Chicago.

Clerk Adopts New Title

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Herman Kubiak, Milwaukee County Clerk, issued the annual county directory of public officials and discovered to his embarrassment, that his own title had been changed. On Page 17 of the booklet the list of officials and their titles included this one: "Herman Kubiak, County Kubiak." A printer's error was blamed.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

EASTER COLORING SERIES

6. An Easter Surprise!

Here is a surprise for you — a tiny Easter chick just out of his shell.

Young creatures like baby chicks symbolize Easter and a bright new world just as much as spring flowers, rabbits and eggs.

Perhaps he will live on a farm or maybe in a store window. But wherever he lives he is interesting to children because he is such a cuddly, lively little creature.

Little chicks are of various colors. Make this one any shade you like, coloring the chick and the foreground in bright shades and the background in more delicate tints.

This is the last of your Easter coloring pictures. Be careful to follow the outlines with clean, clear strokes. Then add this to your Easter collection.

(Sharon Boutchyard, Falmouth, Va., wins $10 with this idea. Your suggestion might win an award too so send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Spring Spurs School Activities

EASTER GREETINGS — All "shined up" for Easter, three-year-old Mary Brown of Liverpool, N. Y., is sporting a pair of darkened eyes beneath her pretty Easter bonnet. The tot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Brown, studies what her Easter appearance will be after tumbling down a flight of stairs in her home.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Walled Lake Junior High Pupils to Give Program

WALLED LAKE — The Junior High School will provide the program for the meeting of the Junior-Senior High PTA to be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, in the Junior High auditorium.

Among attractions will be Sandra Forsyth delivering the declamation which won first place in a district contest and which she will give in the regional contest at Howell. It is titled, "You, the Jury."

Scenes from "Meet Me in St. Louis" will be presented at the Atwas Club. The play is being prepared for public presentation May 2-3. The third offering consists of songs by Eugene Guettler's boys and girls choruses, singing numbers which they will do in a forthcoming district festival.

Lake Orion

An important decision has been reached by the PTA of the present senior high school embracing the present 6-12 grades at present. They voted that the organization now known as the Lake Orion High School PTA will move to the new high school as the association for the new building.

In order to better prepare parents interested in the PTA work of the students who will be in the present high school building next year, the president appointed five to attend the workshops at the East Oakland Area Council and the district meeting.

This move makes it possible for parents of Blanche Sims present grades 4 and 5; Webber, Proper and Carpenters present 6 and 7, as well as the present high school's 6 and 7 to form a new association for that building whenever they wish.

Avon Township

Stiles PTA and the Pontiac Area Safety Commission are sponsoring a class for babysitters.

Mrs. Rex Boner, instructor, states the first in a series of three lessons will be held at Stile School Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. All girls, 12 years or over are invited to attend, also mothers desiring the service of baby sitters.

Victor Camp, first aid instructor with the Red Cross, also member of Avondale Civil Defense, will be guest speaker.

Commerce Township

The Commerce Elementary School PTA realized a profit of more than $600 from its annual spring fair, according to Mrs. Herman Gall, fair chairman.

The money will be used, in part or in full, to purchase new playground equipment for the Commerce School.

Troy

The regular meeting of the Troy High School PTSA on April 29 will feature a fashion show presented by the high school girls' homemaking classes. The meeting is to be held in the gymnasium and will begin at 8 p.m.

The girls will model their own creations made during the regular high school sewing classes. The showing is under the direction of homemaking instructor, Mrs. Gladys Musselman.

Refreshments will be prepared and served by girls from Mrs. Dorothy Skaggs' cooking classes.

The week of Monday, April 29, has been declared "Open House Week" at Troy High by the PTSA Parents are urged to make an effort to visit at least one class during the week.

South Lyon

Dr. Wallace Watt, mental department consultant, Lansing, will speak on "Tween-agers," children six to twelve years, at the Elementary PTA meeting to be held at elementary school at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Fathers especially are urged to attend this meeting.

PLAN CHARITY DANCE — A spring ball is being planned by (left to right) Mrs. C. B. Chapman Jr.; Mrs. John R. Nowels, chairman; Mrs. Robert Ballash and Mrs. Donald J. Henry. The third annual charity dance will be sponsored by Rochester Junior Women's Club, and will take place May 10 at Red Run Country Club. Proceeds will go to the group's various charities.

Marlette Sets Utility Rates

New Ordinance Raises Charges, Provides for Bond Repayment

MARLETTE — A new ordinance on water and sewage rates has been passed by the Village Council here.

The minimum water rate will be $9.50 per quarter, or about double the present water charge. Minimum sewage system use rate also will be $9.50 per quarter.

A 25 - page ordinance on the matter, including provisions for repayment of a $160,000 general obligation bond issue, was prepared by McDonald, Moore and Co. Detroit, financial consultants.

The ordinance will go into effect immediately. The bond issue will meet the bulk of the Village expenses in construction of a new $385,000 sewage disposal plant and sewage system.

Federal assistance to the amount of $87,600 on the new sewage system has been assured for Marlette, subject to the formality of the village submitting approved plans to the Michigan Water Resources Commissoion by May 15.

William J. Drillock, of the Atkins and Dillock firm, legal advisors to the village, said the plans are now being surveyed for final approval by the State Health Department.

Terms of the Federal aid grant specify that the construction contracts on the disposal plant must be let by June 30.

Marlette voters have approved of $160,000 general obligation bond issue to meet most of the village share of the $385,000 disposal system.

Sanilac Group Slates 45th Annual Meeting

MARLETTE — The 45th annual Sanilac County Women's Federation will meet next Friday in the Marlette First Presbyterian Church. The Philomathean Club will be hostess.

Registration will begin at 9 a.m. with the program at 10 a.m. Reservations for lunch are to be in to Mrs. Ward Atkins by Monday.

Fishermen Overrun

VANDALIA, Ill. (AP)—Fish, some measuring three feet, were so plentiful along a nearby highway yesterday that fishermen used nets, clubs and pitchforks to catch them. The fish were trapped in low bottoms as the Kaskaskia River, which overflowed its banks during rainstorms, crept back inside its boundaries.

Village Artists Slate Show at Imlay City

IMLAY CITY — The public has been invited to the fifth annual show and reception by the Village Artists here, It will be held in the Imlay City High School cafeteria, beginning at 7:30, Saturday, April 27.

Tokyo Raiders Loll on Beach During Reunion

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — Forty-two of the nation's best remembered airmen water skied, fished and lolled on the Gulf beaches today near this base where 15 years ago they were in the deadly serious business of preparing to bomb the heart of Japan.

★ ★ ★

They are the Tokyo raiders — crew members of the bombers which rained 32,000 pounds of bombs on Tokyo, Nagoya and Kobe April 18, 1942, in the allies' first thrust at the Japanese mainland during World War II.

Eglin Air Force Base was a final stop for the 80 raiders before the daring strike. They received special training here for aircraft carrier takeoffs.

Survivors of the 16-plane mission have held their reunions each year but this is the first time they have returned to Eglin.

★ ★ ★

Of the 80 men, seven died as a result of the raid. Sixteen have since died, leaving 57 survivors.

The raid's command pilot, Lt. Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, arrived last night for the get-together, which ends tomorrow.

Nurse Receives Award

MILFORD—At installation ceremonies for the L. A. Sims VFW post Ladies Auxiliary and the Dad's of Foreign Service Veterans a citation of meritorious award was presented to Nurse Margaret Dennis of the O. R. McKenzie Memorial Community Clinic in Walled Lake.

For outstanding service to the community, administering polio shots and establishing the Commerce Township Cancer unit, the ladies bestowed this award upon Mrs. Dennis.

She announces visit of a cancer mobile unit to the Walled Lake area on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Seating capacity is 35 persons. Cancer films, for men only, will be shown from 7 to 9 p.m. The unit will be stationed at J. L. Taylor Service Garage in Walled Lake.

Mrs. Dennis has offered to assist also in the formation of a local medical division of Civil Defense for the immediate area.

Bus Driver Cleared on Murder Charge

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—James L. Smith, 38, a bus driver who shot and killed a Negro passenger April 1 was cleared of a murder charge yesterday by the Harris County Grand Jury.

Smith had been charged in the death of Arthur L. Permetter, 29. The Grand Jury declined to indict him.

In a written statement to police, Smith said he asked Permeter to get off the bus after an argument over fares and a bus stop. Smith said his revolver discharged as they were scuffling after Permetter drew a knife.

Average Man Dances Just Like a Bulldozer

BELLFLOWER, Calif. (AP) — A woman dance instructor says women more or less expect all men to be poor dancers.

"Some men dance beautifully," Toni Olivera observed, "but the average man is a bulldozer.

"Some athletes are good dancers. Tennis and basketball players generally are good, but, by and large, football players are just plain murder. . ."

State Extension Service OKs Area Changes

EAST LANSING (AP) — Eighteen staff changes in the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service have been approved by the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University.

Among them were the following area men:

William S. Pryer, appointed as assistant county agricultural agent in Macomb County, effective May 1. Pryer is a 1947 graduate from MSU and has farmed and taught since graduation.

Albert T. Hall, township agricultural agent in Lapeer County, leave of absence from April 1 to June 15, 1957, to complete work on his MS degree at MSU.

"On a Spring Day"

Slate Milford Benefit

MILFORD—"On a Spring Day," is this year's theme for the fourth annual Milford Farm and Garden Club scholarship card party, scheduled for 1 p.m. Tuesday in the American Legion Hall.

All proceeds from the party are turned into the 1957 scholarship award, won by Mary Jane Bouchedrt. She will begin her second year at Western Michigan University.

Highlight of the afternoon is a spring and summer fashion show, put on by the Ann Louise shop. The wardrobe showing is to take place during the dessert luncheon, which will be served the first hour.

★ ★ ★

A collection of the new cocktail hour sun dresses by Cole of California will be featured, and teatime dresses and fashions will include the new large brimmed hat and Dior's new look.

Mrs. N. E. Boettcher, chairman of the affair, will act as commentator for the showing and models will include some of Milford's younger matrons.

Three floral arrangements, representing period and contemporary furnishings, will be awarded and at the conclusion of the affair, there will be a bakesale in the lobby of the hall.

Movies will be shown.

Man-Made Brontosaur Visible 10 Miles Away

WASHINGTON — In Dinosaur Park near Rapid City, South Dakota, stands a monstrous, man-made brontosaur that shows visitors what this giant reptile of some 135,000,000 years ago was like. The original was a vegetarian that grew 80 feet long and weighed up to 40 tons. The life-sized body of the copy is made of steel mesh and concrete, with steel tubing for bones. It can be seen for ten miles.

Alethea Heiter Marries

THOMAS — Candelabra with palms and baskets of white gladioli decorated Thomas Methodist Church for the wedding of Alethea Mae Heiter and Wayne M. Nolan Jr. recently. About 200 guests were present for the ceremony performed by Rev. Fred Clark.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Iven Heiter of 560 Second St. here, while the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nolan Sr. of Metamora.

Wearing a dress of lace and net over white satin, Alethea carried a white orchid on a Bible. Her fingertip veil was secured with a band of white forget-me-nots.

Attending her cousin as matron of honor was Mrs. Lyle Brauer with Georgia and Carrol Ann Heiter serving their sister as bridesmaids. Beverly Redli of North Branch acted as flower girl.

Carrying the rings on a white satin pillow was Larry Redli while Ronald Nolan, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Lyle Brauer of Oxford and Charles Pagels of Warren.

Seek to Retain All Policemen in Waterford

More than 50 Waterford Township residents are circulating petitions to retain the entire police department, and are requesting the town action that is necessary."

This might mean a special election to assess the property owners one mill to maintain the present 16-man police department a spokesman said. It faces a drastic cut due to lack of revenues from court costs, as a result of a recent Attorney General's opinion.

The petitions read: "We, the undersigned residents of Waterford Township, request that the township board take whatever action that is necessary to maintain our present police department, intact."

One of the backers of the movement, ex-policewoman Mrs. Earl Floyd of 5965 Southward St., said, "Not only as a parent and taxpayer, but also from my own personal experience working with the police, I feel that retaining the entire police force is a definite necessity."

She continued, "Police Chief Frank Van Atta has worked with the teenage youngsters in the community, assisted them in safety precautions, and has created a fine relationship between the police department and students. This has proved invaluable as far as our delinquent problems are concerned," she concluded.

Ian's Easter Our Biggest Holiday?

Can there be a date in our entire year more worthy of thoughtful observance than Easter Sunday?

★ ★ ★

Doesn't the cause for that observance mean more to the world than any other event in its entire history, covering many thousands of years?

Is there any other day in the entire year when we have more cause for wholesome rejoicing?

Also, is there any other day when there is fully equal reason for plenty of sober thought and past reflection?

★ ★ ★

So, let us ponder and carefully meditate on — "What if it hadn't been that way?"

★ ★ ★

Historians may slightly differ on some of the minor phases of the circumstances that led up to and followed that glorious day. They have a habit of doing that on lesser things in history.

★ ★ ★

But they are in accord on the primary essence of the great importance of the occasion. And they all, regardless of their great minds, absolutely fail for words to suitably express their convictions on what it has meant for the world in the centuries since and in its future.

★ ★ ★

While this writer does not exactly deplore the custom of making the day primarily an occasion for the display of new toggery and sartorial elegance, he does feel that too much emphasis is placed on that part of its observance.

★ ★ ★

We refuse to believe that too many people go to church on Easter Sunday in order to display the latest creations of their tailor or dressmaker, to satisfy their ego in being so well attired, rather than to listen to the sermon.

The Easter parade leads not only to the church of your choice, but also to a better understanding of what it is all about.

Even if it only is one of the few Sundays in the year when the pastor has a chance to get you cornered for a good sermon, you cannot be otherwise than bettered by being present. And it may get you into a good habit.

★ ★ ★

If you are a rugged individualist that you do not fear going to church on Easter Sunday in a change of wardrobe that only consists of taking off your old clothes and shaking them and then climbing into them again, more power to you.

Then you cannot be accused of going only because you crave a role in the Easter show, whose stage is almost worldwide.

★ ★ ★

Whether you are conscious of it or not, you are assisting in the observance of a great holiday.

Mother Will Appeal, but Justice Is Done

We admire the rugged determination of Mrs. Nona Hill, 33-year-old mother who seeks the custody of her 21-month-old child which she has never seen. But we entertain grave doubts as to her judgment.

★ ★ ★

The courts ruled against her once and we feel that Judge Holland's decision was equitable, humane and in the interests of justice in its highest form. When a burglar is proven guilty, it becomes a routine matter. In this case, the Judge was almost without precedent and was compelled to analyze human motives and then consider the best interests of society as a whole.

The father and mother that adopted the baby after birth and who poured the love of a mother and father through these earliest formative days certainly had a prior claim in our judgment.

★ ★ ★

The mother claims "coercion and duress" in the adoption and certainly any parent will agree that she has a case of sorts. However, the passage of twenty-one months during which the adopting parents became the actual parents in fact establish their rights.

★ ★ ★

We sympathize deeply with the unfortunate mother but the cross to bear is hers and not that of the couple that took the baby in good faith and with court approval. Then, too, there's the baby to consider. We feel that wresting this child from its current parents would be an unforgivable act of cruelty. This youngster knows one and only one home. Twenty-one months is no age to seize a fondling and rip it completely from the only environment it knows.

★ ★ ★

The mother has appealed. That seems to be her legal right. This country gives everyone a full and complete day in court, but we feel justice has already been done and done completely.

The People's Business:

Fighting to Begin

State Legislators Set for Tax-Spending Debate

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—The serious in-fighting will begin next week on the No. 1 issue of the 1957 legislative session — taxes and spending.

By the time it's over, and that probably won't be until May 24 adjournment, the senators and House members will have acquired many a lump, particularly those on the appropriations committees.

The lines of conflict were drawn Thursday when bills were submitted detailing the Republican budget plan for trimming expenditures 81 million dollars below Gov. Williams' recommendations.

By doing this, the Republicans say they hope to avoid imposition of new or additional state taxes.

★ ★ ★

But the tens of thousands of persons directly affected by the hundreds of specific hold-down-the-spending proposals, and most of the millions indirectly affected, are just learning what the proposals involve for them, or else the information won't percolate down to them for another few days.

TIDE OF REACTION

Only after this process takes place does the tide of reaction start to run strong, and strong it is certain to be this year.

There are the advocates of state park system improvements who will learn that an improvement at their favorite recreation area is threatened.

There are the parents of crippled and afflicted children who will be worried whether economy might knock at their door.

There are conservative enthusiasts who will find out about proposed reductions in expenditures for forest fire protection, and get upset about that.

★ ★ ★

There are the relatives of mental hospital inmates who will become concerned whether the standards of care in the hospitals are going to be pegged at high enough levels.

TURN TO CAPITOL

Eyes of persons in all walks of life who ordinarily pay little attention to what goes on in Lansing will turn toward the State Capitol, and the persons will begin to ask questions.

That is how the grass roots reaction that the lawmakers will feel develops.

Thus far in the session, most communications that have come to the lawmakers have originated from those worried about higher taxes. These people have known for a long time about the threat to their interests.

The others are just learning, or about to learn.

And when they do, the lawmaker soon will be more than ever where he always is anyway, and belongs under our system of government—in the middle.

★ ★ ★

There are special days and weeks and months set aside for many purposes, for the March of Dimes, to foster tree growth and to honor secretaries, heroes of nationality groups and youth organizations.

If ever in Michigan there is ordained a "Pity Your Legislator Week," it ought to be proclaimed for about this time of year.

Breaking Through Clod and Cloud

Days of All Faiths:

Celebrate Most Important Day

BY DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday is Easter, "The Queen of Festivals," the most important day in the Christian calendar. The reason for its supreme importance is because it celebrates the Resurrection of Jesus, the event on which the Christian faith ultimately rests. "If Christ be not risen," says St. Paul (I Corinthians, chapter 15, verse 14), "then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain."

★ ★ ★

As the faith depends upon the Resurrection, so also does the Christian calendar revolve around it. With the exception of Christmas and Epiphany the dates of all the big festivals (Ascension, Pentecost, Trinity) and the great fasts (Ash Wednesday, Good Friday) are determined in relation to Easter. And it was because the Resurrection took place on Sunday that the early Church moved its weekly holiday from Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath, to Sunday. Every Sunday, therefore, is "a little Easter."

★ ★ ★

There is only one mention of Easter in the Bible. It occurs in Acts, chapter 12, verse 4, and even this one use of the term actually refers more to the Jewish Passover than to the Christian feast.

PRE-CHRISTIAN ORIGINS

All peoples as far back as any knowledge of man's activity can reach have always had a great celebration at the spring equinox, the time of nature's annual renewal. When Christianity came along with its strategy of putting new significance into old pagan festivals, this one in the spring was by far the easiest of all to Christianize.

The Easter message about the risen Lord found support and response in the joyous mood nature itself was creating at the same time. Resurrection from the grave of winter was everywhere to be seen. No theological disputation was needed.

One carry-over from the spring festivals of the pagans is the Easter egg, brought by the Easter rabbit. We make child's play of it now, but both rabbit and egg were serious symbols (of fertility) to the people of ancient times. Of course the egg is readily adaptable as a symbol of resurrection, too. It does not take too much imagination to think of the new chick as having been entombed in the egg and having risen from it into life.

In parts of England there used to be — and may still be — a pleasant belief: At sunrise on Easter morning you could see, looking through a smoked glass, a lamb with a flag (the traditional Resurrection symbol) marching in the center of the sun.

The Puritans; both in England and America, thought rabbits, eggs, lambs, and indeed the keeping of Easter itself, superstitious nonsense. The festival is so universally observed now it is hard to believe that the Puritans' stern influence kept it out of Protestant churches in the United States until only about 100 years ago.

That's No Way to Get Oiled, Ma'am!

DR. BRADY

"Isn't it common sense to realize that cod liver oil taken two hours after a meal is quickly absorbed and goes directly to the joints . . . ? (J.F.P."

Answer — Not common sense. Just nonsense.

"I have been using saccharin as a sweetener instead of sugar in coffee and other things, but now I'm told it is very harmful to the kidneys. (A.H.C.)"

Answer—Anyone may use up to five grains of saccharin a day with impunity. Likewise sucaryl and several other artificial sweetening agents.

"Would be so pleased to have your directions for the use of camomile tea to heal ulcers . . . (Mrs. C.J.D.)"

Answer — Instructions are in pamphlet, Varicose Veins and Varicose Ulcer, for which you should send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"I am a 76-year-old man. I have my urine analyzed every three months, for $12 a year. Does such analysis really indicate my health status? (J.P.W.)"

Answer — By golly, even I thought the "poor geek" was a composite made up in my mind. I didn't expect to meet him in person. Offhand, I can think of 29 pleasanter ways to blow $12 per annum, better for health and longevity, too.

"If not our own doctor, then the school doctor or nurse or other "authority" seems to urge all mothers at one time or another to have their children's tonsils removed. So far, I have managed to fend them all off, and our children are pretty healthy. My mother tells me that her four children had tonsils that "simply must come out," but she could not afford the operations, so we all have our tonsils intact and enjoy excellent health. (Mrs. L.M.E.)"

Answer — That was probably the time when the tonsillectomy craze was at its height. This atrocity is steadily declining in popularity. Intelligent parents nowadays ask why the doctor, the trick specialist, or the school nurse orders it.

"Recently heard coffee is a drug. If true, is one cupful each morning harmful? Is one better off without any at all? (Mrs. W.H.H.)"

Answer—A cup of good coffee contains perhaps 1½ grains of caffeine. Caffeine stimulates brain, heart, kidneys. A cup or two of coffee each morning is healthful for most adults, in my opinion. Children under 16 should not drink coffee, tea or cocoa, in my opinion.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Face Facts With Youth's Problems

Catholics, Jews and Protestants are using the scientific booklets offered by this newspaper to help prevent delinquency among teenagers, as well as divorce among adults. The newspaper also gets at the 70 millions who don't belong to any church at all. Since about 40 per cent of Americans are unchurched, your newspaper is thus the major educational medium for reaching them.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-360: Father Paul, aged 43, is an unusually well educated priest with whom I have dined occasionally in Chicago.

★ ★ ★

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I certainly appreciate your advice to teenagers on sex matters," he graciously began.

"I find that ignorance of simple sex truths is a basic cause for delinquency and broken homes.

"You are well aware of the fact that many pyromaniacs (Fire-setters), as well as potential gangsters and thieves, are compensating for sexual tensions.

"So never let occasional old-fashioned critics dissuade you from teaching our modern youth the facts of life. For I doubly appreciate the moral flavor that you inject into your psychology."

FACE THE FACTS

Millions of children and teenagers are carrying a needless load of tension and fear, due to false notions about sex.

As a lifelong adviser of youth, I should like to remind some of the prudish members of the older generation that children are not salacious by nature.

★ ★ ★

If a toddler of three thus asks, "Mommy, where did I come from?" he is simply curious.

And his question belongs in the same category as "Where did the moon come from?"

Alas, many adults in past generations have not held the same scientific view which their youngsters show.

No, they may casually try to answer the query about the moon. But they blush and hem and haw or titter and evade the query, "Mommy, where did I come from?"

So who is guilty of passing along the salaciousness from one generation to another? It is these puridsh adults!

And they are the ones who occasionally oppose my column. Clergymen and other counsellors of youth don't object to my column when I present the scientific facts to youth regarding sex.

★ ★ ★

And thousands of teenagers write to me for advice before they enter marriage.

Other girls come to me in apprehension when their boy friends demand that they submit to illicit sexual affairs.

Instead of evading these crucial queries, I give American youth the sensible medical, psychological and moral answers to these pertinent problems.

WISCONSIN'S ANSWER

In a previous column I told you about a letter I received from Wisconsin where high schoolers had been given a questionnaire concerning the sources of their sex information.

Among a long list, such as parents, doctors, clergymen, older brothers or sisters, Boy Scout leaders, etc., the investigators were surprised to find that the newspaper got such a heavy write-in that it rated third.

Puzzled as to how the newspaper cold be included in such a list of sources of scientific sexual data, the investigators called some of these students in for a personal recheck.

And they found that thousands of teenagers had written to their Wisconsin newspapers for such sex booklets as the one named below. These helpful booklets had thus been circulating throughout the high schools of Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

So one of the officials in the state wrote me in his findings to help show that newspapers render a monumental service in the cause of sane sex education.

Send for the booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). See that teenagers in your high schools also receive it.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Warns Against Salesmen Who Fleece Customers

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Selling advertising material such as book matches, calendars, etc., to business establishments has been my chief interest for four years and I've tried to do a sincere and honest job. However, I have talked to a lot of business concerns who have been fleeced by salesmen who take orders which require a deposit and then don't turn in the orders to the company. Sometimes they take a C. O. D. order with a deposit, and if the businessman says he'll pay for it in full when it arrives, the salesman keeps the deposit and forgets you completely. They may even go so far as to give you a fake name and address.

This is a warning. Beware of this type of transaction unless you know the person with whom you're dealing.

'Give Account, I'll Vote Yes'

I feel emphatically the hospital must be competent at any cost, but are the taxpayers going to vote for a man or group of men who have proven their inability to handle public funds?

We were promised a hospital and what have we? A skeleton of a hospital, not one complete room for our three million dollars. When they fail to keep their word to this extent, can we be assured that another bond issue will be adequate?

I shall vote yes for another bond issue when and only when our money can be placed in the hands of those who will give to the public an accurate account of how our money is being spent and what we are to receive for same.

George Hoyt
146 W. Lawrence St.

Traffic Solution: 'Jerk the Jerks'

In the interest of public welfare I believe a law should be enacted to make it illegal to drive a vehicle on public highways over 50 miles an hour. This would force auto manufacturers to produce a car that could not be driven over that speed. We will always have imcompetent and irresponsible drivers, moron and criminals. We should be protected against them.

Safety campaigns are commendable, additional highway improvement is a must, but this won't help unless the minority of drivers who cause accidents are dealt with. Licenses should be issued more discriminately, and penalties for violation of existing laws should be greatly increased. In other words, jerk the jerks. The carnage on our highways is a disgrace and economically unsound.

'Why Should We Pay for County?'

May I ask why the people of Pontiac should pay for hospital facilities for people in the northern part of the county when the county has furnished and has available space in the annex out on Telegraph Road? Marcia Saunders stated in a recent article in this column that she found the annex extremely comfortable and wondered why more people did not use it.

Suggest Drivers Use Tranquilizers

A New York doctor says peace of mind pills may cause traffic accidents by producing drowsiness on the part of drivers. Personally, I wish more drivers took the pills. Then the smart alecks might slow up to a safe pace. Remember, 95 per cent of all accidents are preventable.

Housewife

Has Questions of City Taxes

In 1944 I was a patient in a hospital and paid $4.00 a day for a ward bed. Today it is $18.00 a day, four and a half times as much. In addition, Pontiac General charges out-of-city patients a surtax, and still our hospital is not self-supporting and any deficit is paid out of the tax fund.

Our hospital directors would do well to take a few lessons from St. Joseph Hospital as it was without tax payers' assistance. Maybe General is over-staffed. If this is not the answer, wish someone would enlighten me.

Why is it always stated that our tax rate is $13.70 per thousand, when in reality our total city and school tax is $37.60 per thousand? If there is an increase, state the total amount we will be paying. Lots of people are misled in this manner. Maybe that's what the officials want.

How can the pensioner stand this tax pace? In some cases, taxes would take a ninth of his income. Maybe it's no longer wise to be a home owner. As for school tax, this should be levied on each child in school. This would ease the tax for home owners and it would certainly be fair.

Are there really money trees in our city? If so, where? How will the picture end? With taxes increasing, workers being laid off and segments of our factories moving out of town, is Pontiac to become a ghost town?

Report Army Chief Resigns in Jordan

AMMAN (AP) — Informed sources sai dtoday Gen. Ali Hayari has resigned as the Jordan army chief of staff.

Hayari was appointed only two days ago to succeed pro-Egyptian Gen. Ali Abu Nuwar, who left the country after the recent political crisis.

There was no immediate official confirmation of the report but reliable informants said Hayari's successor probably will be Gen. Habes Majali or Gen. Sadek Shareh, both now deputy chiefs of staff.

(The Damascus newspaper Al Raity said Hayari quit in protest against the new Jordan government's policies. It predicted several Cabinet ministers in the government formed Monday by Premier Hussein Fakhri Khalidi would quit soon, too.

Etna Spits Fire, Lava, Smoke in New Eruption

CATANIA, Sicily (INS)—Famed Mount Etna has violently let the world know she's far from a dead volcano.

A new eruption last night sent flames, smoke and lava shooting from the northeast crater, and shook the ground for miles around. Earlier, inhabitants had hoped the volcano had quieted down when lava quit pouring from southeast and central craters. Authorities, however, were forced to restore the state of alert after the new eruption.

Hospital Reports Eden Improving Steadily

BOSTON (INS) — Reports of steady improvement continued to be issued today on the convalescence of Sir Anthony Eden, who underwent an operation a week ago at New England Baptist Hospital. A Lahey clinic bulletin states.

"He has had a good night and slept well. He is taking adequate diet and is permitted to be out of bed for short periods."

Deaths Elsewhere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. William Adams Brown Jr., 62, an internationally known economist, a senior staff member of the Brookings Institution, a prominent research organization, and former Brown University professor, died yesterday. He was born in New York City.

India is nationalizing gold mining.

Agreement Near on U. S. Aid to Poland

WASHINGTON (AP)—After nearly two months of talks, negotiators are reported close to agreement on a program of U.S. aid to Communist Poland. The figure being mentioned is 100 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Diplomatic sources said yesterday the deal may be completed by May 10. A Polish economic mission has been here since February.

Officials said the United States is ofering to give Poland from 70 to 75 million dollars in surplus farm goods, plus a loan of 25 to 30 millions from President Eisenhower's emergency foreign aid fund. This money would be spent mainly to buy farm machinery and coal mining equipment.

Almost 50 per cent of America's total farm output is produced by only about 9 per cent of the nation's farmers.

Reflections

HAPPY EASTER

J. L. VOORHEES

Over the world the spectre of war is overshadowed by the light of deliverance of man from the bondage of death; Christ arose from his tomb. There was great rejoicing then just as there will be next Sunday.

All about us the Spirit of Easter is evidenced by swelling buds of spring; the mighty oak who has lain dormant through wild winter storms feels the urge of New Life—is reborn to take its place among the great of all living things. Birds answer the call of Easter, carry string and grass to the nest they will use. You and I will answer the surge of life, lift up our eyes to the heaven and sing for the joy of living. Easter time is " . . . this blessed season brings, a firmer faith in holy things . . . "

M. E. SIPLE

Go to your church, worship Him in all ways, sublime faith, transcendental hope, and who rekindles life in all living things. Martin Luther said: " . . . But the Lord is risen today, Christ hath brought us life again . . . " Easter is a joyous occasion. Sing for the joy in your heart.

Children's Happy Faces Show Joy of Easter, Too

Pontiac Press Photos

Thoroughly enjoying posing for our photographer is young Lee Hyde, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hyde of First street. The youngster was dressed in his Easter outfit for the occasion.

Little Lori Pentiuk is shown awaiting Easter. Her bunny was saved from last Easter ('just in case,') we think. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Pentiuk of Birmingham.

The thrill of Eastertime will be experienced for the first time by Cheryl Lynn and Cynthia Lee (left to right) six-month-old twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Tominsky of Marion street. When caught by the photographer they were most excited at the sight of their Easter basket.

Katherine Widdifield, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. C. George Widdifield of Ottawa drive, is shown framed in Easter lilies at a local florist as she selected an Easter plant for the family.

Use Those Easter Eggs for Salads

Add to Pickle Relish for Sandwiches or Fill Tomato Cups

By VIRGINIA KACHAN

CHICAGO (INS)—The kids will have fun decorating Easter eggs and those that remain uneaten can be converted into all sorts of nourishing meal ideas.

Besides egg salad and deviled eggs, hard-cooked eggs can come to the table in a tasty side dish of baked bread dressing; in relish for hot dogs; as a colorful gourmet touch for salads, gravies and soups.

For the Easter egg stuffing, melt ¼ pound butter or margarine in one cup boiling water; add one package (eight ounces) of prepared bread stuffing; one slightly beaten egg and three to five chopped, cooked eggs. Place in a greased 1½ quart casserole and bake in a 325-degree oven for 30 minutes.

For a change, you can add three finely chopped eggs to one eight-ounce jar of pickle relish to use on sandwiches and frankfurts. Chefs often sprinkle finely chopped eggs on tossed salads for color and flavor and women can do this at home by putting eggs through ricers or sieves.

Finely chopped eggs can also be added to gravy just before serving or to soup. Put one or two tablespoons of chopped egg on the plate before ladeling out the soup.

For a different egg salad, serve it hot—baked in avocado or tomato cups. For the filling, combine six to eight coarsely chopped eggs with 1½ cups of diced celery; ¼ cup coarsely chopped pecans, one teaspoon minced onion; two tablespoons finely chopped parsley; ⅛ teaspoon pepper; ½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing and salt to taste.

Put the filling into four avocado halves or four tomato cups that have been scooped and salted lightly. Sprinkle with crushed potato chips and bake in a 375-degree oven for 25 minutes.

The latest way to decorate Easter eggs, incidentally, is to use colored, stick-on tape, which makes them easier to peel. To do this, stick one narrow strip of the cloth tape with adhesive backing around the egg lengthwise and another around the egg the short way. Tap the egg on any surface to crack the shell and pull the tapes. The shell comes away cleanly with fewer chips sticking to the egg surface.

Contributes One Dollar to Collection

Employe in Office Asks if She Acted Improperly

By EMILY POST

A young woman writes me as follows: "One of the girls in my office is going to be married soon and a collection was taken up to buy a wedding present for her. The girl who is getting married works in another department and I hardly see her.

"When I was asked to contribute, I gave a dollar toward the collection and was told that everyone else was giving two dollars. I said that I really couldn't give any more and that I thought it was quite enough for someone I hardly knew.

"She evidently has told others in the office about this and I am sure they all think I acted improperly. Will you please tell me if I was wrong? Shouldn't the amount one gives be up to the individual?"

Answer: Yes, ordinarily it should be left up to the individual. Those who know the bride-to-be well would give more and those who hardly know her would give less. Considering that you scarcely knew her, I think a dollar was sufficient.

Dear Mrs. Post: When a nice young man unfortunately chooses a piece of lingerie as a gift for a young woman, wouldn't it be needlessly hurting his feelings for her to refuse it? If refuse she must, how does she go about it?"

Answer: She simply says, "This is a lovely gift and thank you so much, but my mother would never in the world let me accept it."

"Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell me the proper way to introduce Mary Smith and John Jones—both good friends of mine but unknown to each other. Should it be 'Mary Smith, I'd like you to meet John Jones' or 'John Jones, I'd like you to meet Mary Smith'?"

Answer: It should be "Miss Smith, may I introduce Mr. Jones?" or if you wish to make it very informal, you say, "Mary, this is John Jones" and then say to him, "Mary Smith."

Handbags From Paris Tell Tales

PARIS (INS)—The latest Paris handbags tell tales. Some give away the names of owners and others even hint at birthdates.

Not that a lady shows her age on her purse. But the latest clasps are shaped like coins and bear the signs of the Zodiac. The idea comes from bag designer Ferest whose crocodile bags with the new Zodiac clasps are suitable birthday presents.

Purses shaped like real envelopes with flaps even show the name of the wearer for an authentic touch. One Parisian black satin evening purse, for instance, displays the girl's name as on an envelope, hand-written in rhinestones.

Roger Model, who designs exclusive bags for the top Paris fashion houses, has two outstanding new ones. The most practical is a square carryall of white goatskin which can also be worn folded as a dressy envelope purse.

The other, the most expensive bag in Paris, is a jumbo size crocodile affair styled like a diplomat's briefcase complete with golden lock and key for $260.

A new bag material, crocodile leather with a mat, suede finish, is becoming increasingly popular in Paris.

Dior displays some of these special looking, mat crocodile bags in pastel colors in his fashionable boutique. Worn with matching Dior-Delman shoes, they are 1957 deluxe accessories.

Put Yourself in Interviewer's Place

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Empathy, the ability to see things through the other person's eyes, is the most valuable asset the job-hunter can have.

★ ★ ★

Here are two letters which illustrate this point perfectly.

The first is from a woman I'll call Mrs. A.:

"I wish you'd write more about the prejudice against the older worker. I've been to all the employment agencies in our city—one run by the state and 11 private ones. At not one of them was I treated like a member of the human race!

What possesses these people?

"They don't care, they won't listen to your experience, they insist that you fill out all those cards, they rush you out! Just because I'm 47 is no reason for such treatment!"

★ ★ ★

The other letter, from a woman I'll call Mrs. B., was much shorter.

"We celebrated last night—my 51st birthday and a brand new job! I got it through the state employment agency. Such nice people! They have a special way of making you feel good—and even employable!"

The odd part, as you've probably guessed, is that the ladies live in the same city.

★ ★ ★

Obviously, Mrs. A. can't see the other side of things.

She is the type who will go to an agency on a crowded, hectic day and insist on giving a half-hour description of each subtle nuance of each job she ever had. Therefore, she gets short shrift.

She probably also has a talent for telling people how to run their business and for continuing to talk when the phone rings.

★ ★ ★

Most of all, Mrs. A. probably has no idea how it feels to be pressured by great numbers of people who must be interviewed, all the sad stories that must be listened to.

A NEW WOMAN

If she could just, mentally, put herself into the interviewer's place for one day, she'd be a new woman.

★ ★ ★

If you are having trouble getting a job, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet, Good Manners in Job-Hunting.

County Hospital Patients to Have Easter Bonnets

Women patients at the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital are displaying Easter bonnets with colorful ribbons this season.

The hats were made from paper pie plates and covered with the brightly colored and pastel ribbons by three members of the nursing staff of the hospital, as a special Easter service project to brighten the hours for the hospital patients.

Mrs. Carl Knaack who originated the idea was assisted by Mrs. Robert Porter and Mrs. Mason S. Heard.

Develop Discipline

The women who have retained their good looks in the mature years are the women who have disciplined themselves.

They've refused that piece of cake, gone to bed early at least three nights a week, exercised faithfully and taken scrupulous care of hair and face.

Plans were completed for a "Husbands and Wives Night" at the Elks' Temple in the near future. Hostess for the next meeting will be Mrs. Jack Allen of Beverly avenue.

Tilt That Hat for Popular Spring Look

NEW YORK (INS) — The tilt's the thing in your new spring hat.

After a year of the straight-on-the-head hat, profile bonnets are back in style, and you can tilt your chapeau as much as you like.

Most popular of the tilted hats, says millinery buyer Morton Mensher, is the bonnet with the up-turned brim. This is the easily recognized version of a little girl's hat — round crown, up-turned brim, and usually a ribbon band. In grown-up versions, the brim tilts down at the right side of the face, and is accented either by a couple of pleats or some ribbon.

Mensher says this type of hat is a sell-out because "women like profile hats. When they were supposed to wear hats straight on the head they kept trying to tilt them anyhow."

★ ★ ★

Also good for spring, he says, are turbans — but only if the turbans are tilted, too. The most stylish turbans are those made out of this year's popular dress fabrics—organza, chiffon or printed silks.

Friendship Club Plans May Dinner

The Academy of Friendship Club met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd LaBarge on Whittemore street recently with Mrs. Clarence Cavalier as cohostess.

Plans were made for a cooperative dinner at the home of Mrs. William Mahar May 16, and announcement was made of the Friendship Symposium in Ann Arbor May 5.

Fashion Hint

The white starched cuffs that Paris uses on suits and dresses are matched by a bow or a narrow strip of white, usually at the neckline.

Navy Mothers' Club Tells Parley Dates

Mrs. Frank Riley of Drayton Plains was hostess to members of Pontiac Navy Mothers Club for a cooperative dinner and meeting Thursday. The group sewed drapes for the lounge at the Naval Training Center.

Announcement was made of the state convention of Navy Mothers Clubs to be held in Kalamazoo May 9-11 with delegates being Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Mark W. Kinney.

Violet in Fashion

Violet is a romantic, flattering color and there will be a lot of it this spring. If you want to try it out, buy scarf, necklace or gloves in mauve or violet first. Then you can decide on a coat or suit.

Best Medicine for Weariness

Exercises Will Lesson Tensions

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Exercise has two magic qualities—it distributes weight more attractively and it causes us to relax. Folks who are painfully tired at the end of each day generally are not this way because of physical exertion. The fatigue is usually the result of tensions and emotional factors.

★ ★ ★

Exercise is the very best medicine for this sort of weariness. It makes one feel refreshed and relaxed because tensions drop away under its sway.

While all exercise is relaxing if you don't overdo it there are some motions which are especially soothing. Today I will give you a few of these.

1. Kneel on both knees. Raise your arms overhead, one arm by each ear. Bend the trunk forward and reach forward with your arms touching the floor with your fingertips as far away from you as comfortable.

Slowly, drag the fingertips along the floor, straightening the trunk very slowly so that you feel as though you are doing so, vertebra by vertebra. Again raise the arms overhead, and continue. This is MOST relaxing if you will do it slowly.

2. Another—Stand tall, feet comfortably separated. Let your arms hang at your sides while you make a circle with your trunk. Let your head roll in a limp manner as your trunk rolls. After circling for a while in one direction, then circle in the other. Do this very slowly in a ragdoll manner.

3. The simple procedure of making circles with your shoulders (arms hanging limply) is relaxing. Circle first in one direction and then in the other.

I know that you will find these exercises most pleasant. They will lessen the tension at the back of the neck and through the shoulders.

★ ★ ★

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Relaxing Exercises" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 24 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Spadea's American Designer Pattern

Brigance

© 1957 Spadea Fashions Inc.

Detailing and Wearability Combined in Coat-Dress

The continuing popularity of Brigance is easily attributed to the fact that he instinctively knows and understands the taste of the American women who like their clothes to be wonderfully wearable but which also have distinctive detail.

This side-buttoned coat-dress absolutely fills these requirements putting up a simple tailored front with a deep inside wrap, a generous pocket and two tiny pleats strategically placed right over the hips to give a pretty hang to the skirt.

Cut by hand, the pattern features retail sizing that makes sewing easier for you with a minimum of alterations, and accurate perforations that assure precise matching.

Choose chambray, linen, gingham, cotton tweed, shantung, surah or even thin flannel or wool. From this chart select the one size for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
10	34	24	35	16½
12	35	25	36	16¾
14	36½	26½	37½	17
16	38	28	39	17¼
18	40	30	41	17½
20	42	32	43	17¾

Size 12 requires 5½ yards of 36-inch material for dress. To order Pattern 1308, state size, enclose $1.

Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P-6, New York 1, N.Y. Classic Pattern Booklet 12 and current Pattern Booklet 13-X are available for 50 cents each. If paid by check, add 4 cents.

Tweeds to Continue Interest for Spring

Tweeds, beloved for many seasons now, continue with emphatic interest for the Easter Parade. In most instances they are given a lacy, porous weave — a finer look.

Etamine tweeds appear in airy, puff-of-smoke weights, and look particularly noteworthy in solid beige, gray and "white-washed" neutrals such as a sandy beige streaked with white. Knit effects of soft spongy quality, and cobblestone tweeds in refined texture, are continued for many cape and jacket tops teamed with wool jersey, worsted, or flannel dresses.

Judge Hat's Merits

Never judge the merits of a hat from a hand mirror only. Tell the salesgirl you want to see yourself full-length. It's the only way to tell if a hat is really right for you.

Light Switch Takes On New Glamor

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Roses are blooming on wall plates for light switches.

Ping ceramic buds in a bed of pearls and rhinestones adorn switch plates of paler pink, soft blue, white or black.

The decorated metal plates come in single or double switch styles. Matching boudoir accessories include tiny match boxes, a memo clipboard and dressing table jars with rosebud tops.

For the baby's room or the kitchen, light switch and wall plug plates come in ceramic sets. A yawning tot in a blue nighty with the advice "All good children say their prayers" is suggested for the nursery.

Kitchen plate and plug combinations show crowing roosters, steaming cups of coffee, yellow daisies or an old-fashioned milkmaid.

Color combinations are varied to permit matching the kitchen theme. And a quick wipe of the shiny surface will remove any finger smudges.

Confident Living

Cross Is Symbol of Easter; Life's Plus Sign, Addition

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

DR. PEALE

I was recently with a group of newspaper men who were debating what was the greatest newspaper story of all time. One man claimed it was the news flash announcing the end of World War I; another thought it was the end of World War II; a third argued for the dropping of the first atom bomb on Japan.

I was glad I knew enough about headlines to make a contribution to the discussion. I remembered and quoted a headline from a New York paper of just two years ago: "Confirm Salk Serum Astonishing Success; Even if Polio Hits Paralysis Is Prevented." I was even able to remember the first paragraph which went something like this: "The awful fear of mothers and fathers that their children might fall victim to the incurable paralysis of polio can finally be set at rest. For years we have waited for this wonderfully good news."

"That rates as news story number one," I argued.

Later, I thought about my comment and realized that the Salk serum news story, as great as it is, cannot be regarded as the greatest of all time. I write this column many days before it appears in your newspaper, but no matter what today's headline is, I am sure that the greatest news story of all time — although it is being talked about in every part of the world as you read this—is not likely to be the banner headline of your paper.

OLD STORY GREATEST

For the greatest news story in history was given some two thousand years ago in the most dynamic words the world has ever heard — and it is still top news today. It's this: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

★ ★ ★

When my father and my brothers and I returned from our mother's funeral, we sat in the old home talking about that Scripture verse. Suddenly my father leaped to his feet and paced the floor in great excitement. "If this is true — and I know it is," he said, "then it ought to be shouted from the housetop. We haven't really lost Mother after all."

The news about the Salk vaccine was great news because it told us that our bodies need not be crippled and destroyed. But the news of the Easter message is far greater, for it tells us that there is a power which can save our souls from death.

What is this power? It is the power of faith that makes it possible for you and your loved ones, even those who are gone physically from this mortal world, to be citizens of a dynamic universe, one that is spiritual rather than material. It is the news that we are citizens of eternity, that we may have immortal life.

UNIVERSAL MIND

The late Albert Einstein wrote that matter and energy are interchangeable. And Sir James Jeans declared that all the world is in vibration. Many years before them, William James had said: "There is one great universal mind and man enters into this universal mind, he is a fragment of it . . . There are forces in life that are beyond him which he cannot understand, which could be described as the indestructible self which is one with God."

★ ★ ★

The central symbol of our Easter celebration is the Cross. But the Cross is not a symbol of death, but a reminder of resurrection. Think of it not as a minus symbol, but as a great plus sign, the greatest of all. For religion is a process of addition — "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you."

So rejoice in today's great news story of "the resurrection and the life," add it to your own life, and live with greater power.

FLOWERS FOR GRANDFATHER — When little Margaret Lisa Horst went to the florist with her mother to choose an Easter plant, she selected a Madonna lily. The plant will be sent to Central Methodist Church for the Easter service in memory of her grandfathers, Vern Mason and Arthur G. Horst. Blonde, two-year-old Margaret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Horst of 211 Chippewa Rd.

First Presbyterian Easter to Start With Sunrise

Easter at First Presbyterian Church begins with a Sunrise Service at 7 o'clock with the youth organizations in charge.

Included on the program will be Karen Beam and Gary Miller who will play a trumpet duet, "The Palms." Diane Beach and Lyndon Salathiel will sing "The Holy City" by Adams and Diane will play a violin solo, "Largo in G" by Handel.

The Rev. Galen E. Hershey will give a brief message, "Resurrection Reporters."

Ushers will include George Tremper, Roger Riley, Thomas Richhorn, Robert Newman, Jim Baker, Mike Yocum, Earl Van Dyke, Richard Wiltgen, Thomas Isenberg, David Minthorn and Floyd McClelland.

INFANT BAPTISM

Dorothy Dawson will sing "He Shall Feed His Flock" at the infant Baptismal Service at 9 a.m.

At the 9:30 morning worship hour, a male quartet will sing "In Joseph's Lovely Garden." And Royce Everett will sing "Calvary." "Reason for the Resurrection" will be the topic of the Rev. Hershey's sermon.

At 11 o'clock, the choir will render the anthem, "Hymn of Resurrection," "Lilies of the Dawn," will be sung by Diane Beach and "I Am He That Liveth," will be sung by Royce Everett.

Dr. William H. Marbach, the pastor, will speak on "The Resurrection Victory."

BREAKFAST AT EIGHT

The Easter Breakfast will be served at 8 o'clock by the women of the Leal Emes Group.

At the annual Congregational Business Meeting to be held Wednesday evening, trustees, elders and deacons will be elected; annual reports presented and the budget adopted.

Hosts and hostesses for the dinner meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Earle Van Dyke, Mrs. Hugh Little, Vera Bassett, Mrs. Earl Clark and Mrs. Roy Ward.

Others will be Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCulloch, the William J. Kreklows, the Roy Fosbenders, the Asa Drurys and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Winn.

Vicar Renner to Speak

Vicar Martin Renner will speak at the Easter service at 11:15 Sunday morning in the Lutheran Church of Bloomfield Township, Square Lake and Telegraph roads.

Easter Sunrise Service Slated

Pastor, Wife to Attend Inauguration of Alma College President

Easter Sunrise Service will be conducted at 6:30 at the Orchard Lake Community Church. The Westminster Choir will present three anthems "One Early Easter Morning," "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" and "Easter Alleluia."

Soloists are Marie Sanderson and Kathy Lundquist. Rev. Edward D. Auchard, pastor, will preach on "At Early Dawn."

At 9 and 11, the Westminster Choir will again present "Easter Alleluia." The Chancel Choir will sing "Lift Up Your Heads" and "Open the Gates of the Temple." The pastor will preach on "The Victory."

The trustees of the church will meet Monday at 8:00 p.m. and the Session of Elders will convene to review the church program on Tuesday, at the same hour.

The Men's Club of the Orchard Lake Church will meet on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. for a dinner program.

Rev. and Mrs. Edward D. Auchard will attend the inauguration of Dr. Robert D. Swanson as president of Alma College on Wednesday. The Orchard Lake Church is represented by twelve students in the college.

Kathy Irons, Susie Smith and Valerie La Piner will represent the Senior High Fellowship of Orchard Lake at the Westminster Fellowship Assembly at Midland, April 26 - 28.

A delegation of men from the Orchard Lake Church including the pastor, will attend the Spring Conference of the Detroit Council of Presbyterian Men at Birmingham, Saturday.

Choir to Sing at Sunrise

The Senior Choir of Macedonia Baptist Church will present a sacred cantata at the 6 o'clock Sunrise Service on Easter morning. The Rev. Lenworth R. Miner will speak briefly.

Methodists to Dedicate Baldwin Avenue Church

The Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church will worship in its new sanctuary for the 9:30 service Easter morning. A special service of consecration will be held in the afternoon at 3:30 with Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Detroit area of Methodist churches officiating.

Ground was broken last October at Baldwin and Chicago avenues for the two story structure, now nearly complete.

The church, which has been meeting in the converted farmhouse adjacent to the new building, opened on June 14, 1931 with nine charter members. Emma Dando, Sam Joan, Evelyn Joan, Leslie Kay, Harry Norberg, Lottie Norberg, Carl Norberg, Dorothy Norberg and Mrs. Levi Pawley.

On July 12 of the same year, two more names were added, Kenneth A. Rowe and Arnold Simpson. Mrs. Dando, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Norberg are still members.

The first pastor was the Rev. E. W. Zoller and the present pastor is the Rev. C. Warren Wilson who also ministers to the Covert Methodist Church.

FRIENDS ASSIST MEMBERS

Much of the building was done by members and friends of the church. When completed, the estimated value will be in the neighborhood of $45,000.

With the reception of new members Easter morning, the enrollment will have passed the 100 mark.

Easter Worship Starts at 5 A.M. at Providence

The Rev. Claude Goodwin, associate pastor of Providence Missionary Baptist Church, will speak at the early morning service scheduled for 5 a.m. Easter.

At 7 o'clock, a Baptismal Service will be administered by the pastor, the Rev. T. Walter Harris, followed by an Easter breakfast at 8 a.m. Sunday School is at 9:30 a.m.

"The Christian's Hope" will be the topic of the sermon at the morning worship hour at 11 and an Easter program directed by Mrs. Louise Richardson will be given by the Sunday School at 7:30 Sunday evening.

The choir of 35 voices will furnish music at each service.

An Easter Egg Hunt has been arranged for 10 a.m. Monday, on the church lawn sponsored by the Sunday School. The pastor announced that all children are welcome.

Easter Cantata to Be Presented

Breakfast to Be Served Young People at Faith Baptist Church

More than 300 people are expected to attend Easter services at the Faith Baptist Church, in the C.A.I. building, Sunday, according to Rev. Al Kasten, pastor.

At 8:30 a breakfast will be served for the young people.

During the 11 a.m. service, there will be special music by the adult choir, following Sunday school at 10 a.m.

"Easter Revelation," an Easter cantata, under the direction of Robert Granger, will be presented at 7:30 p.m.

Special decorations and lighting effects have been provided by the General Motors Corp.

Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee; I answered thee.

Easter Eve Rally in Marimont Baptist

An Easter Eve Youth Rally will be held at 7:30 tonight in Marimont Baptist Church, 68 W. Walton Blvd.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester C. Place of Springfield, Pa. will speak and present gospel music on the marimba, bells, saxophone and triple octave chimes.

"The Miracle of Love" a 45 minute gospel film, will be shown. Glyn R. Stone, director of Oakland Youth Fellowship, stated that everyone is welcome.

EASTER

Four Choirs to Sing Sunday

Youth Will Participate in All Morning Worship Services at Bethany

"A New Easter Wardrobe" will be the sermon theme of the Rev. Joseph I. Chapman D.D. at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services Easter Sunday at Bethany Baptist Church.

At the early service, the Senior Choir will sing "I Am He That Liveth." The Junior Hi Girls Choir, directed by Mrs. Martin Wolfe, will be heard in "Bells in the Steeple" and the Junior Choir, under the direction of Bonnie Wells, will sing "In Joseph's Lovely Garden."

At 11 o'clock, the Senior Choir, directed by Elda L. Sutter, will sing "I Am He That Liveth" and the Primary Choir, directed by Mrs. Jasper Warden, will sing "Easter Day."

It is a tradition at Bethany for young people to participate in all of the morning worship services.

In keeping with that custom, the response reading at the first service will be led by Douglas Anderson and at the second service by Robert MacDonald.

An Easter Breakfast will be held at the church at 7:15 Sunday morning. The Baptist Youth Fellowship groups will hold the Fellowship Hour at 6 p.m. and the devotional meeting at 7 p.m.

Rev. LaFountain to Preach Easter

A Sunrise Service will be held in the Lutheran Church of the Ascension at 6:30 Sunday morning. The pastor, the Rev. William C. LaFountain, will preach on "Thomas, the Doubter."

Holy Communion will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. and at the regular service at 11 o'clock, the pastor will speak on "Paul and the Risen Christ."

The Young People's League will sponsor an Easter Breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Sunday. Serving hours are from 7:30 to 9 a.m.

READING THE DEED — Shown as they read over the deed and discuss the 33 acres of land recently purchased for a new church site for St. John's Lutheran Church are Harold Fuller of Silver Circle (left to right, seated) Philip S. Wargelin of Voorheis road and John K. Frost of North Perry street. Standing are Russell Hosmer of Cooley Lake road (left) and Dallas Folsom of South Tilden avenue. With a frontage of 1,441 feet on Pontiac road east of Opdyke, the property is bounded on the south by 1,545 feet on Mt. Clemens street. Other members of the relocation committee are Clarence Carlson, chairman, Ralph Cromis and the pastor, the Rev. Carl W. Nelson. The congregation will clear the land of the old buildings.

Power of Christianity Does Not Need Crowds

"Evangelical Christianity does not depend upon worldly political power or organization to survive one kind of culture or another. Roman and Grecian culture died and Christianity was virile. Barbarism overran Europe and still evangelical Christianity survived.

The power of Christianity has never depended upon numerical superiority . . ."—Dr. Paul P. Pettigord, President of National Association of Evangelicals, in "Christianity Today."

Methodists Losing Art of Singing in Church?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Methodist churches are losing "The fine art of congregational singing," says Dr. James R. Houghton, professor of music at Boston University.

Speaking at a meeting here to plan for observance next year of the 250th anniversary of the birth of Charles Wesley, Dr. Houghton said: "A church that sings is on fire spiritually. A church that doesn't sing is dead or dying."

Protestants Dominate in House, Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ratio of Protestants to Roman Catholics in the senate is 8 to 1,and in the house it's about 4 to 1.

The figures were released by the Legislative Reference Service of the Library of Congress.

During the first session of the 85th congress 416 members in both houses registered as Protestant, 95 as Roman Catholic. Tewlve are of the Jewish faith, and one is a Hindu. Four gave no religious affiliation.

The Protestants in both houses consist of 105 Methodists, 68 Presbyterians, 67 Baptists and 60 Protestant Episcopal members.

Christ the Lord is risen today, sons of men and angels say. Raise your joys and triumphs high; sing, ye heavens, and, earth, reply. Love's redeeming work is done, fought the fight, the battle won. Lo, our Sun's eclipse is over; lo, He sets in blood no more. Vain the stone, the watch, the seal; Christ has burst the gates of hell. Death in vain forbids His rise; Christ has opened paradise. Lives again our glorious King; where, O death, is now thy sting? Once He died our souls to save; where thy victory, O grave? . . . Lutheran Hymnal.

"And that He died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto Him which died for them, and rose again," . . . 2 Cor. 5:15

Moose Offers Easter Carlift

All Persons Unable to Attend Church Easter to Be Given Rides

More than 1,800 Moose lodges will cooperate in the 4th annual nation-wide "Operation Easter Carlift," inaugurated by the National Moose Civic Affairs department, on Easter Sunday, according to Carl A. Weis, director of civic affairs for the fraternity.

"Operation Easter Carlift" is being offered by the Moose to all persons who, because of illness, disability or similar cause, might be unable to attend the church of their choice on Easter Sunday because of lack of transportation.

National headquarters of the Moose at Mooseheart, Ill., the fraternity's Child City, estimate that more than 10,000 automobiles will be placed at the disposal of these persons in communities where there are Moose lodges.

The civic affairs chairman of each lodge, with the help of his committee, is now contacting every clergyman in his community to determine how many parishioners might require transportation.

If residents desire a ride to and from church on Easter Sunday, they are urged to contact the local Moose lodge.

"A soft answer turneth away wrath: But grievous words stir up anger."

Sunrise Breakfast at 7 Easter Sunday Morning

A morning service at 8 o'clock in Memorial Baptist Church Sunday will be preceded by a Sunrise Breakfast at 7 a.m. This is sponsored by the Young People's Society.

★ ★ ★

The young people will also have charge of the afternoon service at 3 in the Oakland County Children's Home.

In the regular morning service, a short musical program will be given by the Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Della Justin. Pat Brown will be accompanist.

The musical numbers will consist of "This Is Easter Day," "Waiting," "Happy Hours of Easter Tide" and "Carry Easter Tidings."

CHOIR PRESENTS CANTATA

The Senior Choir will present the cantata, "The Golden Dawn" at the 7:30 evening service. The program will be as follows: "The Golden Dawn" by the choir; a solo, "Garden of Gethsemane" by Mrs. Della Justin.

Other numbers will be a trio, comprised of Margie Robertson, Pat Brown and Linda Lankford, singing "O Lowly Nazarene;" a solo, "It Is Finished" by Doug Brown; duet, "In the Silent Garden" by Diann Meyers and Joyce Hariown.

Edward Justin and Mrs. Crandall will sing "Through the Shadows."

The choir will also present "Remember Christ of Calfary," "Calvary's Crimson Rose" and "Victory Is Won." The cantata is being directed by William Meyers with Mrs. Lon Brown, accompanist.

The evening service will include the rite of Holy Baptism. The pastor, the Rev. Gerald Rapelje will be speaking both morning and evening.

Easter Pageant to Be Presented

Central Christian Choir to Sing Under Direction of C. Stait Lloyd

Easter services at Central Christian Church will begin with the Sunrise Service at 6:30 with the Christian Endeavor Youth Group in charge.

Participating in the Easter pageant, "Behold His Glory" will be Ted Johnson, David Lloyd and Elaine Miller. Barbara Driscoll will be organist. Ruth and Bernard Eagle are sponsors of the group.

In the Bible School Hour, Jimmy Emery will present an organ solo. The school has set a goal of 333 for Easter Sunday.

In the morning worship service at 11, the choir under the direction of C. Stait Lloyd will sing "Christ Is Risen." The pastor will preach on "The Resurrection of the Body."

"Legends" will be sung by the choir in the 7:30 p.m. service and the pastor's sermon topic will be "Revival to Life in Calvary's Graveyard."

Christ Church Choirs to Sing Sunday Morning

A Sunrise Holy Communion Service will be celebrated in the Chapel of the Resurrection of Christ Church Cranbrook at 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunday.

A celebration of Holy Communion will be in the church with music and the Blue Choir at 8 a.m.

Festal Holy Communion is scheduled in the church for both the 9:30 and 11:30 morning services with music by the Adult Choir.

The Senior Workers of Christ Church will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Max Fruehauf on W. Long Lake road for a 12:30 p.m. luncheon.

A program of Easter music will be given under the direction of Mrs. William C. Norvell.

Grace Lutheran Sets Schedule

Sunrise Service Opens Morning of Worshiping on Easter

Easter services at Grace Lutheran Church, Glendale and South Genesee streets, will begin with a Sunrise Service at 7 a.m.

★ ★ ★

The festive morning worship services will be at 9 and 11 a.m. The Children's Choir, under the direction of Mrs. James B. Forman, will sing the Introit for the day, "He Is Risen."

The Senior Choir will sing the Gradual and the anthem, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel at both services. The organist and choir director is John Quitmeyer.

Wallace Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner of Sylvan Lake, and David Stuckmeyer, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Richard C. Stuckmeyer, pastor of Grace Lutheran, will assist at the Altar, Easter morning.

★ ★ ★

The boys are studying for the ministry in St. Louis. Grace Lutheran has six young men in theological seminaries.

Junior Choir to Sing for Donelson Baptists

"What the Resurrection Can Mean to You" will be the topic of the Rev. Lee LaLone at the Easter morning service at 11 o'clock Sunday in Donelson Baptist Church.

Under the direction of Sharon Walton, the Junior Choir will sing the following selections: "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today," "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" and "I Gave My Life for Thee."

Singing Sunday will be Janet Barnard, Patricia Crivea, Shirley DeBoer, Sharlotte DeBoer, Sharon DeBoer, Lois Goff, Lana Hester, Dyanna and Robert Hester, Barbara Morris and Janet White.

Other singers will be Sharon Williamson, Lulie MacArthur, Terry Freier, Karen Jenko, Carolyn Spanburg, Sally Wilson, Nancy Wilson, Margaret Taylor, Edith Barker, Elizabeth Roberts and Marcia Hamlett.

The Adult Choir will be heard at the 7:30 evening service.

St. Luke's Plans Breakfast, Drama

Easter Sunday will begin at St. Luke's Methodist Church with a service at 6:30 a.m. A worship drama of 14th century origin, "Redentin Easter Play" will be presented.

The same play was given last year, but there are several additional scenes this year. Following the breakfast at 7:30, the second morning service will be at 8:30.

The Rev. Kenneth Stephans will be preaching at both the 10 and 11:15 a.m. services of worship on "Line of Splendor."

The Sanctuary Choir will furnish the music for the first service, and at the later service it will be joined by the Chancel Choir.

Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good.

Morning Service Scheduled for 6:00

Easter will be observed with a Sunrise Prayer Meeting at 6 a.m. Sunday in the Church of God, 132 Wessen St. Sunday School will be at 10 o'clock.

Morning worship will begin at 11:30 with music by the choir.

The pastor, Elder M. J. Watkins, will bring the Easter message. His text will be from Matthew: "He is not here; for He is risen, as He said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

The children will present songs, an Easter medley and recitations at the program at 4 p.m. Nancy Milton will be in charge, assisted by Ruth Ann Watkins, Cecil Brown and several others.

Easter Cantata 'Alleluia' to Be Presented Sunday

A chorus of 30 mixed voices will present the Easter Cantata, "Alleluia," at the First Free Methodist Church Sunday evening at 7:30.

The chorus, directed by Roderick Moran, will also present two Easter numbers in the morning service at 11 at which time the pastor, Rev. L. H. Howison, will preach on the subject, "Is Resurrection Incredible?"

Christian Men's Club to Hear TV Preacher

Rev. Robert Hickling, an evangelist from St. Louis, Mo., will be the special speaker at the Christian Men's Club luncheon at noon Monday in Clark's Drive-In Restaurant.

He is well known in the St. Louis area. Captain Magnus A. Michalsen of the Salvation Army stated that all men are invited.

Seek TV-Radio Series on Church-State Issues

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP) — Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State (POAU) suggests a monthly hour-long national TV-radio broadcast "of controversy on church-state issues."

"We believe that such hours of honest controversy, if produced regularly at monthly intervals, would gain an immense and interested audience, and would serve in the long run to promote tolerance and understanding," said Glenn L. Archer, POAU's executive director.

BRIGADIER CLYDE COX

Brigadier Cox to Talk to Salvation Army

Speaking at all services in the Salvation Army on Easter will be Brigadier Clyde Cox, divisional commander for the Eastern Michigan Division. He came here recently from the Indiana division.

The Easter schedule includes Easter Blessing, at 8 a.m. followed by breakfast at 8:45. Sunday School is slated for 9:45 and morning worship will begin at 11 a.m.

The Young People's Meeting will start at 6 p.m. followed by the Open Air meeting at 7 and the Salvation meeting at 7:30 in the citadel on West Lawrence street.

The band will contribute special numbers and vocal solos will also be featured. A special enrollment of new members will be observed.

Easter Service of Unity Church to Be in Temple

Easter Service of the Unity Church of Oakland County will be held at Roosevelt Temple, 22 State St. at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Blanche Joki, minister, has chosen for her topic, "Christ Is Risen." Following the message, Spiritual Baptism will be administered to those joining the church.

Ray Davis of Royal Oak will be the soloist and Mrs. Steve Velte and Mrs. Hazel Hutson, the pianists.

On Thursday evening at 7:30, the study of the Old Testament interpretation from the book, "Let There Be Light" will be continued. Mrs. Joki is available at the church rooms for consultation on Thursday afternoons.

A nursery will be provided for the younger children at the Easter service.

Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt.

Plan 5 Services for Easter Day

Young People to Give Play at Sunrise Hour for Marimont Baptists

Five Easter services are being planned by the Marimont Baptist Church, Walton boulevard and Hollywood avenue.

The senior young people will present the play, "But This I Know" in the 6:45 Sunrise Service.

The following youths, under the leadership of Phyllis Coons, will present the playlet: Linda Tabor, Anita Bowers, Jamet Bolton, David Simpson, Calvin Mortensen, James Wrinkle, Billie Stephens, and Christine Bexell.

Edwin White, assistant pastor, will speak to the combined adult classes in the Bible School session.

Evangelist Lester Place will bring the Easter message in the eleven o'clock Morning Worship, speaking upon the theme, "He Is Risen." The choir will sing "Hail to the Conqueror."

A sacred concert will be presented by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Place, of Spring City, Pa., at three p.m. This concert will feature request numbers on the marimba, bells, saxophone, and the triple octave chimes.

★ ★ ★

The 7:30 evening service will mark the close of a week of dedicatory services. Mr. Place will speak upon the theme, "The Life-Line of Christianity" in this closing service.

Oakland Park Youth to Conduct Service

The Youth of the Oakland Park Methodist Church will conduct an Easter Sunrise Service at 7 a.m. tomorrow.

Taking part in the service will be Marsha Deeg, Judy Theise, Pauline Herron and Robert Stasiuk.

William Hertel who is studying for the ministry, will speak on "He Is Risen."

A breakfast will follow in the dining room with Sherry Everett, hostess. The free will offering will go toward the camp fund and youth projects.

'Resurrection' Is Topic

"The Power of Resurrection" will be the subject of Elder Claude Cook's sermon at the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints when he speaks at the 11 o'clock service Easter morning.

Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

First Christian Church Sponsors 6 A.M. Service

The annual Sunrise Prayer Service and Breakfast will be sponsored by the Christian Youth Fellowship of First Christian Church at 6 a.m. with breakfast following at 7.

The young people will lead in the meditation, prayers and singing. The worship will be concluded by a Baptismal service.

The Rev. V. R. Siggers, a blind evangelist from Detroit will bring the closing message. His subject will be "The Wise and Foolish Versions."

The regular weekly social will be held in the church today with dinners being served from 11 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

From this day will I bless you.

Abstain from all appearance of evil.

REV. TRENTON R. STATON

Elect Local Pastor as Head of District

The Rev. Trenton R. Staton, pastor of the First Open Bible Church, was elected district superintendent of the Great Lakes District of Open Bible churches at the recent Eastern Division conference held in the local church on Joslyn road.

The district includes churches in Ohio, Michigan and part of Canada.

Rev. T. E. Welshons of Dayton, Ohio was chosen divisional superintendent. Seventy-five ministers and delegates attended from New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Canada.

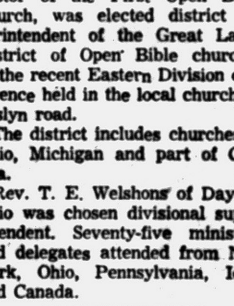

St. Paul Lutheran Sets Easter Services

A Sunrise Easter Service will begin at 6:30 tomorrow morning in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Joslyn at Third.

The Junior and Senior Choirs will sing "O Sons and Daughters, Let Us Sing." Following the service, an Easter breakfast will be served.

At 10:45 the Senior Choir will sing "Open the Gates of the Temple." The Rev. George J. Mahder, pastor of the congregation, will speak on "In Christ We Overcome Death," at both services.

Paul L. McMichael, choir director, will direct the choirs.

Junior, Senior Choirs to Sing

'Life Now Is Certain,' Theme of Pastor's Talk Easter Morning

St. John's Lutheran Church, 87 Hill St. at Cherry Ct., will observe the Festival of Easter with two identical services, at 9 and 11 a.m. Both the Junior and Senior Choirs will sing.

The Junior Choir's anthem will be, "Alleluia" by Reimann while the Senior Choir will sing, "Easter Dawn" by Charles Vincent. Mrs. Eugene Danielson is the director of the Senior Choir.

Mrs. Roy Lewis, organist, will play "Easter Dawn" by Hodson for the prelude and "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth" by Handel.

For the postlude she will play, "Postlude Joyeuse" by Rinck.

The pastor, the Rev. Carl W. Nelson, will bring the Easter message on the theme, "Life Now Is Certain."

The Sunday School will present its annual Easter program at 7 p. m.

The congregation extends a cordial invitation to all to worship with them at all these services.

Evangelist Paul King Will Speak Tonight

Evangelist Paul King of Muncie, Ind. will speak tonight at 7:30 in the Evangelistic Tabernacle, 60 N. Tilden St.

A Sunrise Service is scheduled from 6 to 7 Sunday morning. Sunday School will be at 10 a.m. and the worship services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. King, who accompanied her husband, will sing at the services. The Rev. A. J. Baughey, pastor, has extended an invitation to the public.

I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

Jack Benny to Advise Gisele on New Show

By EARL WILSON

Bachelor Gal Gisele MacKenzie'll be giving up her pink kitchen in September and moving to Hollywood to star in her own TV show which Jack Benny got her after saying, "Don't wait till after the boat has sailed."

★ ★ ★

"I'm moving there because Mr. Benny'll be adviser on the show and I can't imagine Mr. Benny advising by phone," Gisele says.

"I told them, 'Look I'm a woman. I don't want to be worried about details. Leave those to the men.'

"So," smiled the Canadian-born beauty who just became an American citizen, "they'll plan everything and I'll just come in and learn my lines.

★ ★ ★

"You'll probably be the youngest girl with her own show," I suggested. "There's Janis Page . . ."

"What about Jeanne Carson?" she asked quickly.

GISELE

She was right. Jeanne's coming on 29. "I was 30 on Jan. 10 and it's frightening," Gisele assured me, probably thinking about marriage.

Shrugging off the thought, she said, "I've always thought it's terrible how mothers teach girls the whole idea is to get a man.

"My mother wanted me to play the violin. She said, 'Never worry about marriage.' I'll probably marry late in life. I'm a Catholic and a couple times I nearly took the plunge. I know now that it wouldn't have been right."

Gisele's decision to leave "The Hit Parade" was made a year ago.

"People decide you're in a rut and lose interest," she said. "Four years was enough. Besides, the songs have never been as bad as they are now.

"I think," Gisele concluded, "the kids have got to get sick of all that, but the horrible thing is that by the time they do, I will have left the show!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Lee Cobb's toupe in "Twelve Angry Men" is the same one he wore in "Waterfront." (Cutting down the overhead?) . . . Pianist George Shearing cancelled his European tour—not enough loot . . . The Keenan Wynns and other H'wood stars were playing a quiet game of bingo, when Keenan said, "I ask you—would Confidential believe this?"

★ ★ ★

Judy Garland wants Sammy Davis Jr. to write her cafe act . . . Singer Al Hibbler wants $10,000 to do one scent in Barbara Stanwyck's next film . . . Roosevelt Zanders, the celebrities' chauffer, bought a 14G white Caddy . . . New Harlem fad: "Breakfast dances," from 2-4 a.m.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Television has improved conversation—there's less of it."—Quote.

★ ★ ★

The bare-busted chorines in Las Vegas are paid more than the other showgirls. It's the one place in town where a girl can lose her shirt and still make money . . . That's earl brother.

Bus Changes to Take Effect

Two Routes to Operate on Revised Schedule Starting Tomorrow

E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent of Pontiac City Lines, Inc., has reminded bus riders that two major route changes become effective tomorrow.

Saturday runs will be returned to the Perry Park route at 60 minute intervals from 7:45 a.m. until 6:20 p.m.

The second change will be the discontinuation of midday and night service on the Mt. Clemens street runs. The 6-8:55 a.m. and 3-5:55 p.m. runs on this route will be continued, Dreasher said.

On Saturdays this route will run from 7:45 a.m. until 6:20 p.m. at 60 minute intervals. It will be discontinued entirely on Sundays and holidays.

★ ★ ★

Dreasher stated that the changes are for 30-day trial periods. If after this time, they prove nonproductive they will be stopped, he said.

Coloring Book Thwarts Tot's Creative Instinct

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coloring books are nothing but artistic straightjackets for children, says a fine arts professor from Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Viktor Lowenfeld, speaking at the National Art Education Assn. convention yesterday, said use of the books thwarts the child's creative instincts and develops a slavish dependence on prescribed outline.

"I regard the coloring book as the No. 1 enemy of creativeness in the United States," said Dr. Lowenfeld.

British Railways will run no third-class cars after June — only first and second.

Commands Respect of Nehru

Menon Is Hated, Admired by Indians and Diplomats

By International News Service

Vengalil Krishnan Krishna Menon, who bears the name of one of India's most beloved gods, is both hated and admired as few of India's leaders.

Politicians dislike his acid tongue. Civil servants and underlings hate his bureaucratic unkindness. International diplomats often deplore his fiery oratory and intense negotiating.

Yet his intellect, his less frequently used charm and gentle manner have won him the admiration of such men as India's prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru.

The Prime Minister named him Tuesday to the post of defense minister, after Menon's ten years as Nehru's roving international representative in Europe, the U. S. and at the United Nations. But nothing he did abroad made him a hero to the Indian people until the United Nations debates on Kashmir in January and February.

SYMBOLIZES FIGHT

There, in a 20-hour speech, he came to sympolize for Indians their dogged fight to keep Kashmir within India's borders.

★ ★ ★

He is the son of a successful lawyer in Southern India, but broke with the family when he was 27 and went to England. He stayed there for about 25 years, most of them in poverty. He gained a bachelor of science degree in economics, a master's degree in political science and was admitted to practice as a barrister.

But more important for his future, he campaigned through England for Indian independence and in this work established a close relationship with Nehru. Menon became independent India's first high commissioner in London.

In 1952 he went to the United Nations, but launched a fued with the delegation chief, Mme. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, sister of Nehru.

The fact that he replaced Mme. Pandit as head of the delegation is a measure of his influence with Nehru, and his new cabinet post is a measure of his new popularity in India.

Denies U. S. Has Lost Its Get-Up-and-Go Spirit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Anyone who thinks America has lost its "git up and go" spirit hasn't talked to James D. Edgett of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Edgett, president of North American Van Lines, Inc., said yesterday some 40 million Americans will move during the year, continuing a trend that has made the moving industry a 600 million dollar a year business.

City Grocer Pays Fine for Weight Inaccuracy

William Vascassenno, store manager at 78 N. Saginaw St., pleaded guilty yesterday and paid a $35 fine for selling chickens at a weight lessthan htey were labeled.

9 From Area Attain High Rank of Eagle Scout

Nine boy scouts of troop 244, sponsored by Grace Lutheran Church, were awarded the coveted Eagle Scout rank, the highest in the career of a Boy Scout of America recently.

They are: Douglas Carney, Tony Jerome, Van LaCore, Dick Rogers, Bruce Benter, Rick Serwin, Jerry Jerome, Larry Flood and Greg Uligian.

During the Court of Honor ceremony held at the Washington Junior High School the mother of the each new eagle presented her son with the eagle pin and the father gave him an eagle scout ring.

Ray Smith also was named junior assistant scoutmaster to help Scoutmaster Dr. Jack Bell and his assistant, Jack Flood.

A total of 20 boys of this 70 member troop have become Eagle Scouts in the past four years.

Irrepressible Clara Bow Refused to Act Like Star

(Last of six articles)
By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — And then there was the irrepressible, uninhibited Clara Bow. She epitomized an era in Hollywood. Clara, who trained on hard liquor and late hours, was a pulsing example of what Elinor Glyn meant when she described sex appeal as "it."

★ ★ ★

No account of life in these parts would be complete without a paragraph or two about Clara. One of Clara's troubles was that she never realized she was a movie star and had certain obligations as such. She did exactly as she wanted to do. Like the time she telephoned a fraternity house to say she wanted to meet some of the football players she'd seen that afternoon.

The pledge who answered the phone said, "Sure, Clara, I'm Napoleon." But it wasn't a gag. She said she'd be by in a few minutes and would sound her klaxon. She did, and the team streamed out to meet Clara.

Coach, president and parents complained to Paramount about its star's actions. Adolph Zukor, who was running the studio, gave Clara some fatherly advice about how $5,000-a-week people ought to act, but it didn't change Clara one whit.

As I keep implying, things were done with a greater flourish in the good old days before high taxes, business managers and psychiatric couches. There was a lot of unrestrained joy and whoop-te-do, often over little or nothing.

★ ★ ★

The story is almost legend that when Gloria Swanson married the Marquis Henri de la Falaise de la Coudraye, she sent a telegram, but not the usual "Arriving Tuesday Super Chief." She added a sentence: "Arrange ovation." Why not, said the publicity men, because, after all, she is bringing nobility to Hollywood and that will give the place class.

★ ★ ★

So Paramount hired bands, built a grandstand, summoned the fans, hung banners of welcome, bought a new red carpet, hired girls to strew petals. There were welcoming speeches and Gloria and Hank, as he became known, were given the keys to everything in town except the First National's vault.

QUICK HAIRCUT — Howard Storm, Lake Orion sheep raiser, demonstrated the art of wool shearing before students at Lincoln Junior High School Thursday. Looking on curiously is a lamb which Storm brought along. Active for many years in 4-H Club work, Storm has presented his shearing demonstrations before many elementary and junior high pupils throughout the Pontiac area.

Parents Advised to Inoculate Children

LANSING (AP) — Parents of children who will enter school for the first time next fall should make certain this spring that their offspring are adequately protected against disease, the State Health Department said.

Potential first graders should receive thorough medical and dental examinations, and immunizations against contagious diseases should be brought up to date, the department said.

At the age of five, it added, most youngsters need booster shots against diphtheria and tetanus and a repeat smallpox vaccination. Youngsters at this age also are eligible for polio vaccinations under the state's free inoculation program.

6 From City to Attend Parley

Will Help Determine United Fund Quota for Next Fall

Six representatives of the Pontiac Area United Fund will attend a two-day meeting of the Michigan United Fund Admissions and Budget Committee at Michigan State University, East Lansing.

The purpose of the statewide conference to be held at Kellogg Center, the university hotel, is to determine the amounts to be budgeted for the Michigan United Fund agencies in the 1958 operating year and to be raised this fall.

Local representatives attending Monday and Tuesday sessions will be: Robert S. Nelson, chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Budget Committee; Richard Kirby, union business agent; Owen O'Neil, personnel department of General Motors Truck and Coach Division; Karl W. Bradley, executive director of the area group; Robert Langer, assistant director of the Pontiac Fund and Simon O'Shea, head of public relations for the local fund.

In 1957, the Pontiac Area United Fund gave the Michigan United Fund $40,000.

The organization is concerned with 55 health and welfare agencies including the Michigan Heart assn.; Sister Elizabeth Kenny Foundation and the Salvation Army.

Fund-Raising to Start for Industrial Park

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — The Traverse City Industrial Fund, Inc., a nonprofit group, has announced a $50,000 project to establish an "industrial park" near the south city limits.

Charles A. Kidder, president, said the pdoject, sixth in the organization's program, will start next Tuesday at a kickoff breakfast for worker teams.

Money to be raised through the sale of five-year notes at 5 per cent interest is marked for the purchase of 180 acres of industrial property near the Boardman River, south of the city limits.

The organization announced that railroad facilities, sewage and water will be made available at the site in a drive to aid industrial development in Traverse City.

FRONT ENTRANCE — From the road side the door opens directly into the dining room. Furniture was purchased and placed to allow a maximum of walking space through the room. Walls and floor in here match those in the living room. Doors are flush-type. Ceilings are painted white. The furniture is cherry. At the left is an unusual maple rocker.

RELIVING THE BUILDING — Mr. and Mrs. George Hopps look over their album of pictures taken during the years they were building their house. The sofa on which the Hopps are seated is a deep burnt orange. Behind them the wall has a wainscoting of cherry with wallpaper above. Mr. Hopps made the end tables and the cobbler's bench. The Hopps live on Lakewood.

Your Neighbor's House

Hopps' Home Has Unusual Features

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Detroit area residents consider Oakland County their playground, especially in the summer time. While the George Hopps lived in Ferndale, they wanted a place to go for Sunday picnics. To be sure of such a place they bought a lot on Watkins Lake four or five years ago.

It's a lot shaped like a keystone, eighty-two feet on the road, two hundred and forty feet deep and fifty-five feet on the lake. The Hopps and their young son, Larry, enjoyed their lakeside picnics and began dreaming about building a house here.

First, they put up the garage. Bit by bit it turned into sort of a summer cottage, complete with a kitchen and beds. That was the time when they came out for entire weekends. Pretty soon, Mrs. Hopps says, "it was our summer cottage and I had to move out in self defense."

Then Mr. Hopps began on the house. He has an interesting photographic account of the entire building process. Pictures show how friends helped pour cement, lug cement blocks and do all the myriad things that have to be done when you build a house. But make no mistake; this is Mr. Hopps' house. Single-handed, he put up the steel I beam.

★ ★ ★

"One morning I was getting breakfast up in the garage-cottage," Mrs. Hopps remembered, "and all of a sudden I looked out and there he was sitting on top of the I beam. I'll never know how he got it up all by himself." Part of the secret is that said beam was made in ten-foot sections.

★ ★ ★

An engineer by profession, Mr. Hopps kept plugging away at his construction work. Some plans were changed along the way. He had some professional help, but not much. Mrs. Hopps was responsible for inside color schemes; in fact, she is still working on some rooms. They have lived in the house less than two years.

Since building his own house, Mr. Hopps has put up two more homes across the road, one occupied by his in-laws. He vows he's all through building now. With some bricks left over from the first house, he started an outdoor fireplace. "But it got away from me, and the first thing I knew I had to buy more bricks." It's a handsome—and massive fireplace.

★ ★ ★

The entrance from the road side is into the dining room. Because this is a passageway to living room and kitchen, the furniture had to be kept out of the center of the room and placed near the walls. On the wall with the windows there is a long narrow server. On the opposite wall is a drop leaf table with deep leaves.

These pieces and the china cabinet are cherry. Mr. Hopps wove the seats of the ladder-back chairs which came knocked down in a kit.

Living room and dining room open into each other and have the same kind of walls and floor. Walls are paneled in cherry with a dull finish. This clear finish lets an occasional knot or bit of sap wood show through and makes for an interesting background. These walls are not plywood, but solid cherry panels.

The parquet floor is black walnut. It was put down in large squares and finished in a natural tone. Waxing highlights the various shades of wood and preserves its beauty.

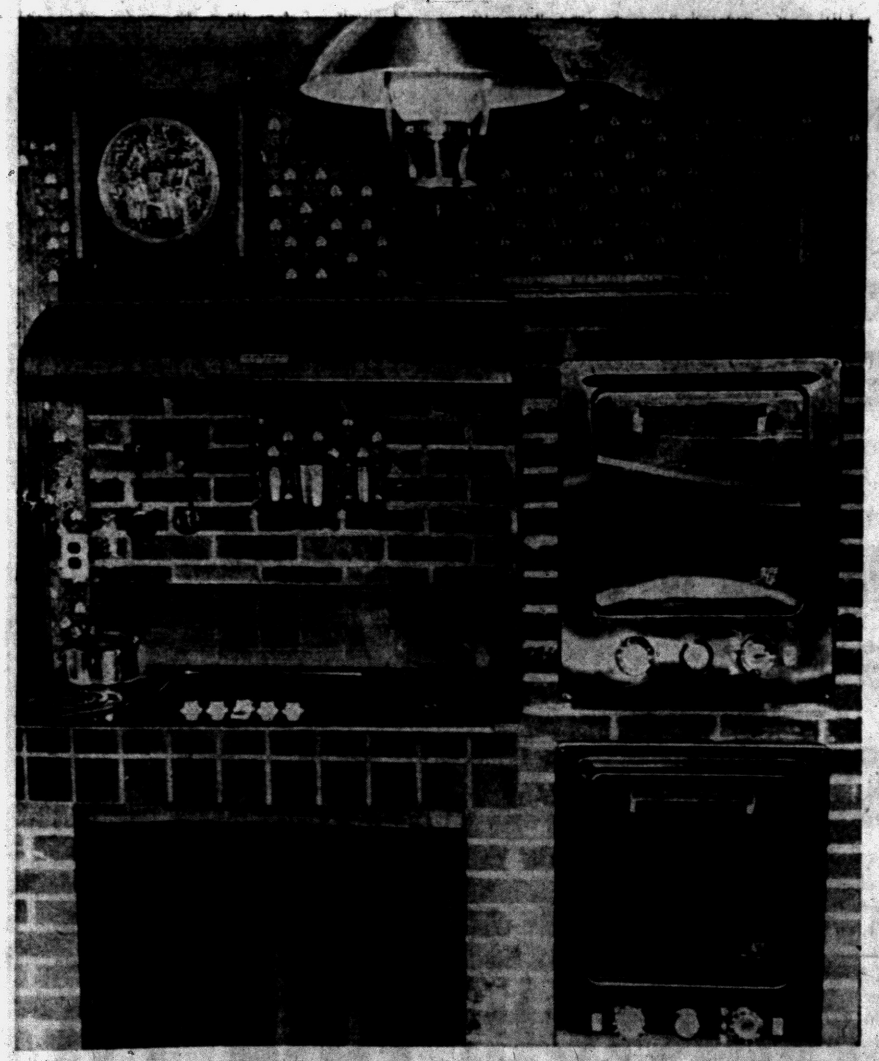

Not only does Mr. Hopps build houses, but he is an accomplished cabinet maker. He made most of the occasional tables scattered throughout the house. For the kitchen he made a spice cabinet with little drawers. In his study he built a desk; in the bedroom a vanity.

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE — Wooden walls, Colonial wallpaper and a fireplace of used brick make an appropriate background for early American furniture. The mantel is made of cherry. Chairs are pine finished maple. Draperies at the front picture window are gold color. Jo, the cockateel, has a place of honor next to the TV. The clock on the rear wall houses the chimes for the front door. The floor is black walnut in a parquet design.

BRICK IN THE KITCHEN — To house the stove and oven Mr. Hopps constructed a brick unit against one kitchen wall. Around the range section and behind it he set in tile. The copper hood channels steam and odors into the chimney which is covered with paneling. A brass plate decorates it. Colonial type wallpaper and an antique-looking hanging lamp further the interesting appearance of the kitchen.

LAKE FRONT VIEW — From the lake the house has an almost Southern Colonial look with its overhanging second story and the wrought iron trim painted white. Note the leaf motif on the lower doors and the upper shutters. This is repeated on the garage doors and also on some interior doors. Basement windows are both in the recreation room.

WOOD ADDS WARMTH — Here is one example of how a kitchen and dining area can be closely integrated according to the best precepts of modern kitchen planning. Note how the areas are divided by the wood base units and wall cabinets suspended from the soffit. yet, the areas are closely tied together by the openness of the plan, the "pass-through" arrangement for convenient serving, and the attractive decor. The rich grain of the genuine wood kitchen cabinets lends the furniture-like warmth so essential to an integrated kitchen-dining area. Note the proximity of the counter-top range and the wall oven to the serving area. The general arrangement allows for use of a sizeable portion of the dining area as a center of family activitives.

President Tyler Knew Benefit of Wood House

One of the outstanding advantages of a home with lumber framing and wood siding is that it can be easily and economically expanded. No one realized this more than John Tyler, 10th President of the United States.

When Tyler purchased a wood home some 30 miles from Richmond, Va., in 1842, he proceeded to more than double its size until it was 300 feet long, one room deep throughout, with the main portion two and a-half stories high. The Tyler mansion, now occupied by a grandson, is believed to be the longest dwelling in the world. But Tyler had a real need for such a large home, being the father of 14 children.

Ex-King Farouk's fortune is estimated in Cairo as $16,290,000.

Court Makes Decision: 'Realtor' — a Trade-Mark

The term "Realtor" is a trade-mark owned exclusively by the National Association of Real Estate Boards and neither a "colorable variation" of it nor the NAREB seal emblem may be used by others.

That was the substance of a judgment just handed down by Federal Judge Michael J. Roche in United States District Court in San Francisco, details of which were published this week.

The decision was in a case filed by NAREB and 10 local real estate boards of the San Francisco area against the Peninsula Real Estate Association, of San Mateo, Calif. It was charged that the Peninsula association had infringed on the rights of NAREB and the local boards by using the words "Realter" and "Realters" and a symbol similar to that of NAREB in its advertising and promotion.

In his decision, Judge Roche found that "realtor" was adopted by NAREB in 1916 as a "distinctive trade-mark and designation to be used only by persons, firms, and corporations who, by virtue of individual membership or membership in constituent member boards" are members of NAREB. He added that the word has been used by Realtors "to identify and indicate to the public the real estate services rendered by them and the high standards of conduct and ethics maintained by them in the rendering or furnishing of such services."

Judge Roche declared that "Realtor," "Realtors," and the NAREB seal emblem have "been used so extensively and over such a long period of time as to have acquired a secondary significance and meaning," and that they are "distinctive and fanciful."

He ruled that the terms "Realtor" and "Realters" used by the Peninsula association "are substantially the same as . . . Realtor and Realtors" and ordered the association to stop using them and to destroy literature and material including those words.

There have been 17 other court decisions upholding the ownership right of NAREB and its members to the term Realtor and the NAREB emblem, but this was the first judgment in a federal court.

★ ★ ★

Realtor is defined in the NAREB constitution as "a person engaged in the real estate business who is a board member or an individual member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, is subject to its rules and regulations, observes its standards of conduct, and is entitled to its benefits."

The term was coined by Charles N. Chadbourn, a member of the Minneapolis Real Estate Board, and was adopted by NAREB in 1916. In his decision, Judge Roche called attention to the fact that NAREB has invested considerable sums over a period of 40 years in giving the term "meaning" and making it "distinctive" to the public.

Laminated Beams Stronger Than Wood

Ways have been found to make lumber, man's most popular building material for centuries, even stronger and more versatile. A laminated wood beam, for example, has greater strength and flexibility than a solid member of the same size, grade and species, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

The added strength results from the fact that in the gluing together of several small wood pieces to make one large laminated unit, there is a dispersion of knots and similar growth characteristics. Also, tests have shown that the glue lines in a laminated member will withstand at least as much punishment as the wood itself.

Laminated beams, left exposed, have gained tremendously in popularity in recent years for churches and other buildings where esthetics are an important consideration.

Glamour finishes on kitchen appliances are especially formulated to withstand food acids, spattered hot grease, and various strong household chemicals.

Panel Powder Room

The functional and decorative characteristics of wood paneling have prompted many home builders to use it for the walls of powder rooms, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers Association. Wood paneling gives the powder room an individuality which women find especially appealing, the lumbermen explain.

If your dining area is narrow, place your table against a wall with a large mirror on it to create the illusion of length.

BASEMENT FUN ROOM — On a hot summer's day this recreation room would be a haven of coolness. Walls are white, the ceiling is blue and the floor gray. Black tile outlines the black and white brick planters that separate the two parts of the room. Above the fireplace at the back is part of Mr. Hopps' collection of old firearms. The small bar is visible at the right. He has a hi-fi set made from an old television set, also an antique phonograph that plays rolls. Furniture is black and white.

George Hopps Builds House and Furniture

table. Braided rugs in tan, brown and beige are used in both living and dining rooms.

One wall of the living room has cherry wainscoting with Colonial design wallpaper above it. A long burnt orange sofa, flank by maple end tables, occupies this space. Two pine finished maple chairs have chintz upholstery; another is covered with homespun. Near the dining room there is a narrow maple rocker, while close to the hall is a maple courting bench.

The Hopps have a neurotic dog named Rover. Last week he was at the animal hospital because he wouldn't eat anything but T-bone steak. Not only neurotic, but expensive!

Less expensive and less neurotic are the two canaries, Chipper and Tweet, and a cockateel, Jo. Jo wouldn't say a word for us, but he whistled a tune his mistress said was "Yankee Doodle."

Brown spatter print linoleum covers the kitchen floor. The oven and range are built into a red brick unit. A copper hood carries away odors and steam from the stove and channels them into the chimney which is encased in wood. A cherry valance ties the cherry cupboards together. One wall is papered in a green and yellow design on a cocoa background.

The ceramic tile sink is creamy yellow. The windows above it are curtained in green. Just outside the kitchen are the entrance to the garage and the stairs to the basement.

Downstairs there is a second complete kitchen. After the house was completed with its built-in appliances the Hopps moved their original stove and refrigerator from the garage to the basement.

The recreation room adjoining the little kitchen opens onto the lawn and has large picture windows with lake views. It is a cool looking room with white brick walls, a heavenly blue ceiling and gray asphalt tile floor.

Next to the kitchen is a small bar with narrow shelves built on the back wall to display the mugs Mr. Hopps picks up on his travels.

At one end of the basement is a small fireplace. The andirons are reproductions of Hessian soldier andirons. Above the fireplace is a collection of old-fashioned guns.

A black leather sofa and a white leather chair complete this end of the room. It is separated from the rest of the 46x13 foot space by two low brick planters. These black and white planters are outlined on the floor with black tile.

In the other half of the room there is a small billiard table, a bed for overnight guests and one of the most beautiful harvest tables we have ever seen. The product of Mr. Hopps' tools, it is made of maple with very narrow leaves.

One of the three rooms in the bedroom wing is a den. This is Mr. Hopps' bailiwick. One wall is lined with shelves in the center of which is a deep built-in desk. The other walls are papered in a leaf print paper featuring brown, beige and orange. Couch and curtains are green.

Mr. Hopps is an avid collector. Among other things he collects ship, car and train models; old books of Americana; old magazines, records, antique motorcycle; and almost complete sets of books such as the Oz books, Tom Swift and some of the Horatio Alger stories.

In the bathroom all is pink and turquoise. Obtaining some very old little shutters, Mrs. Hopps painted them pink for the doors of the linen closet. "What a job!—never again," she said.

The Hops have the front bedroom overlooking the lake. Here the floor is gray tile with pink scatter rugs. Woodwork and a small built-in vanity are pine.

★ ★ ★

Walls are papered with a figured pattern behind the cherry twin beds, a plain paper on the other three walls. The ceiling is pink. Dresden-type china door knobs are on the flush doors.

On the lake side this house is cinder block painted white, with a frame top. Wrought iron in a grape pattern is used for trim. On the street side the house is red brick.

As a motif throughout, Mrs. Hopps has used the maple leaf. It appears on alternate panels of the garage doors. It is set on the panels of the door leading to the attic. It decorates shutters and exterior house doors.

The Hopps have had fun building their house. Like all other new homeowners they insist there is still much to be done. But they enjoy living in the house that George built.

You Can't Wear It Out

While hot water boilers will usually outlast the life of a house, the replacement of an old boiler intended for manual firing with a sleek, new, streamlined boiler with a handsome colorful jacket will greatly increase the efficiency of the heating system.

Wanta Walk to Moon?

Americans used 39.3 billion board feet of lumber last year — enough to build a 30-foot boardwalk from the earth to the moon should space travel become practicable for pedestrians. Softwood consumption accounted for more than 80 per cent of this total. The 1956 consumption figure was seven per cent below 1955 but two per cent above 1954, three per cent above 1953 and about the same as in 1952.

I wonder whatever got into that doctor at the Mayo Clinic who came out from behind his stethoscope long enough to express the idea that women are no brighter than a Philadelphia smog. He must have had a double helping of Wheaties that morning . . . Here's a sample (and I'm only quoting, mind you): "Many women can't make up their minds quickly enough, and when they do reach a decision they reopen the matter again. They love to get themselves all upset over old sorrows, tragedies and unpleasantnesses."

Wow! Those are about the strongest words we've heard since Patrick Henry. The Doc dusted off the subject by advising the girls to "Learn to live more sensibly and comfortably." It's nice the doctor is connected with a good clinic. He may need it.

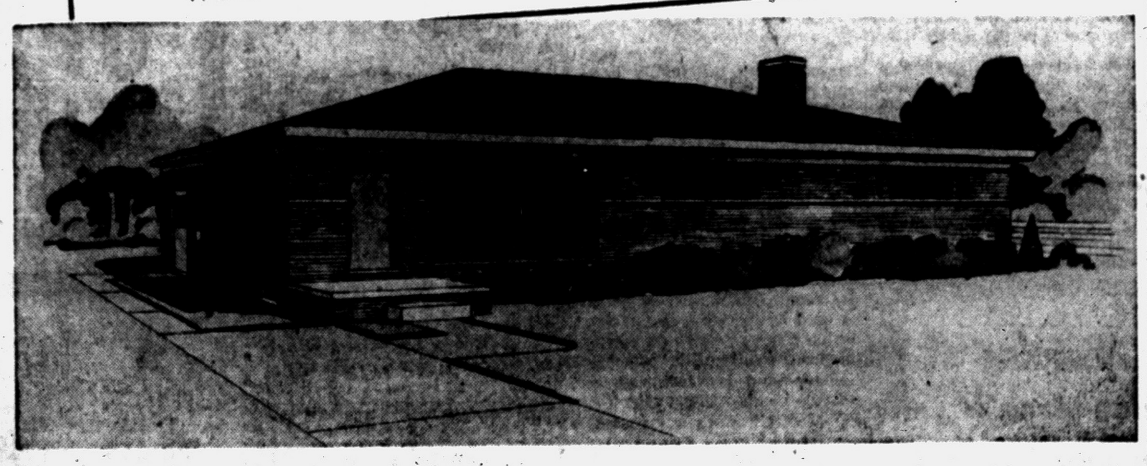

A bald-headed U. S. Senator blew up when he heard Britons (who are getting foreign aid) are given free toupees by their government. He's probably afraid they're trying to cover something up.

It'd take more than a genius to keep up with the world these days. We've never made the rank of the geniuses . . . but we've made a world of friends by treating our customers the way we'd like to be treated. What's more, we intend to keep all our old friends and make some new ones . . . Remember, for real estate and businesses throughout Michigan . . .

CITY _____ STATE _____

OUTSTANDING ONE STORY HOME — Both appearance and plan are excellent in this one-story home. Wood veneer and wooden shakes are alternated on the exterior to give an attractive first look. Flower boxes and blinds add a pleasing touch of the traditional.

COMPACT PLAN — Excluding two car garage and outdoor dining area, the layout covers 1,986 square feet. Bedrooms are separated from the living area for restful occupation. A supervised play area is a vital part of the house plan.

House Planned So Mom Can Watch Offspring

Mom won't have any trouble keeping an eye on the kids in this house. In fact, the carefully arranged plan of Design HW-47 has so many family features that it can properly be called a house for children.

There's a play terrace at the rear of the house, which, thanks to architect Herman A. York's clever design, can be supervised from the kitchen, the dinette, the laundry room or the family room.

The kitchen—with its rows of wall and floor cabinets, modern appliances, step-saving layout, window over the sink and metal hood over the burners—is geared for convenience. It adjoins a dinette which has a bay window overlooking the play terrace.

And next to the dinette is a completely separate laundry with a washing machine, dryer, closet and access to the basement stairs, bathroom and terrace.

The large family room is something extra special. It has a rear window wall and sliding glass doors to the terrace, as well as entrances to the kitchen and the dining room.

The entire family room is visible from a balcony of the dining room, which in turn is tied in with the living room by a two-way fireplace as well as an open design. A 12-foot bow window lends an attractive touch to the living room. Another feature of this room is a built-in area for books or knick-knacks.

★ ★ ★

A large foyer off the covered entrance provides a practical separation between living and bedroom areas of the house. Each of the three bedrooms has cross ventilation. Two have double closets with sliding doors, while the master bedroom has three closets, one of them a 30-square-foot walk-in.

The master bathroom is back to back with the family bathroom and in line with the laundry and kitchen, an arrangement permitting an economical setup of the plumbing lines.

The family bathroom is of the modern "split bath" variety, with a door between the lavatory and bathtub sections.

This large bathroom can be entered from the hall or the laundry room. The latter access can be used by the children for cleaning up after a session on the play terrace. Because of the convenient laundry room door to the terrace, this can be done without the tracking of dirt through any rooms in the house.

Our own particular favorite feature is the outdoor, enclosed dining porch, adjoining the family and dining rooms. It has a clear plastic roof to take full advantage of the daylight and yet shut out some of the sizzling rays of the summer sun.

Architect York has made provision here for a barbecue grill if desired. With such an arrangement, a fireplace could be used in the family room on the other side of the wall so as to utilize a single flue.

★ ★ ★

Space is also left on the porch for an inset suitable either for a closet or wood storage, depending on whether the owner decides to have the barbecue grill.

Another choice is given in the location of the doors of the 2-car garage. The frontage of this house is 75 feet. If more ground than that is available, the garage doors can be located at the side of the house. If the space cannot be spared, then it is a simple matter to place the doors at the front of the garage.

Incidentally, no matter where those garage doors are located, there won't be any shortage of space. The dimensions of 21 feet 2 inches by 22 feet allow plenty of room for storage and a workbench without interfering with the family cars.

The outside appearance of the house is another point in its favor. Compact and symmetrical, it is saved from dullness by the alteration of wood veneer and wooden shakes. Flower boxes and blinds add a pleasing touch of the traditional.

Want a Den?

There are three bedrooms in the ranch house design of HW-47. But if three bedrooms are not needed, one of them can be used as a den.

This possibility is provided for by an alternate door location in the bedroom next to the foyer. If the room is used for sleeping, the entrance is from the bedroom wing hall. If used for a den, the entrance is from the foyer and thus ties in with the living room.

No Basement Needed

The basement stairs of this house are conveniently set in the laundry room adjacent to both the outside and a bathroom.

Should construction without a basement be desired, the area now assigned to the stairs would take care of a modern heating-cooling unit.

Right Use of Mirrors Creates Good Illusions

If you have an old-fashioned upright piano, mirror the front of it and gain the effect of a stylish spinet, advises June Cabot, home consultant for the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company.

If you have a spinet against the wall, place a large mirror over it to reflect its charm.

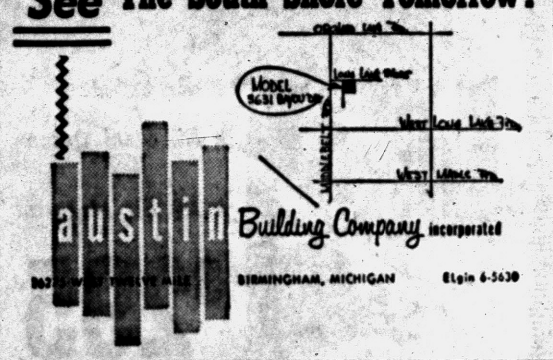

Porous pottery should be washed and dried quickly, without soaking.

Buy Correct Remover

When buying paint remover, get the semi-paste type for outdoor surfaces and for indoor upright surfaces; get the liquid type for flat surfaces and other indoor jobs where the remover will not run.

GLENDALE MANOR — Three families are settled and others are moving into Glendale Manor, a subdivision of brick face homes on Pontiac's north side. Located north of Walton and east of Baldwin, the houses with full basements contain approximately 1,000 square feet. Kitchen areas are large enough for dinette space, have paneled wainscoting. Oak floors and birch cupboards are finished in a natural tone. Buyers have a choice of five elevations. Priced at $13,990, the homes can be occupied for $1,000 down on a land contract. Scholnich and Dunitz are the builders. White Brothers are handling sales.

Propellers Are Ticklish

Because of its exceptional durability and the fact that it can be machined to exacting specifications, maple is being used for propellers of the Marine Corps' new turborotor helicopter. Because of the high technical skill required, a piano manufacturer was picked to shape the rough-hewn maple into finished blades.

The Sudan is bidding for foreign capital.

FIX YOUR SCREENS — Now is the time to get at those screens, before the advance echelons of summer's horde of insects move in on the family.

Mend Those Screens! Insects Are Tuning Up

The world's most numerous air force will soon deploy its legions in your neighborhood and it's none too soon to erect barricades against its coming.

In short: Bug season arrives with warm weather and you'd better look to your screens.

Are they clean? Do they need painting? Are they in need of repair?

If the dust that's settled during storage is all that you have to contend with, you're fortunate. Soapy water solution, scrubbed on with a stiff-bristled brush and followed with a thorough rinsing from the garden hose, takes care of the situation.

If it's the second or a subsequent season for your screens, painting may be in order, depending on type of mesh.

Bronze or copper screening should never be painted. But water runoff from bronze screening can stain house paint, and you might consider use of a good quality spar varnish, applied after screens have been cleaned.

Aluminum screening needs no refinishing, nor does the plastic screen now in the market.

Galvanized wire screening requires painting at start of second-season use, and it should receive a new paint job about every other season thereafter.

Use only well-thinned screen enamel. Apply with one of the special applicators available, or make one by tacking a piece of carpeting to a wood block.

Paint both sides of the screening, and keep holes in the mesh open as you work across the screen by clearing any clogged aras with a toothpick or thin wire nail.

If you're using a paint sprayer, mask frames and spray out-of-doors on a windless day.

Check frames for tightness before painting with regular house paint or varnish. If frames are beginning to sag or wobble, reinforce corners with braces made especially for screens, or screw angle irons into frames at each INNER corner. Mitered joints can often be tightened by driving in corrugated fasteners.

To patch breaks or holes in the mesh is no chore at all if you buy ready-made patches available at your hardware store. These small bits of screening have wires bent into the shape of tiny hooks at their edges and patches come in various sizes. Be sure that patch you apply overlaps hole sufficiently to thwart wiggles of the most determined insect.

If you're making your own patches from a length of screening, ravel a few wires at each edge and bend these wires at right angles to the patch. Position patch and crimp wire strands in place on side of screen opposite to the patch.

If rescreening a frame is necessary, you'll find that obtaining sufficient tension to make the screen taut will be your greatest problem.

There are several methods. Listed below are two methods you might explore:

(1) Place frame on two sawhorses, one under each end of screen frame. Tack or staple screening to one end of frame. Place two weights of equal value, one on each side of frame at midpoints (see sketch).

These weights should be heavy enough to bend the frame only slightly. Fasten screening to frame at opposite end from that which was first tacked, and remove weights. Screen will snap taut and you can then fasten side of screening in place.

(2) Set the frame on two 2x4's, one under each side, with two one-inch boards across the side members to support the ends of the sash. Tack screening to one end of sash, then clamp sides to 2x4's to get the required arc across which screening will run.

Pull screening reasonably tight and tack at unfastened end. Remove clamps and frame from 2x4's, and finish the job.

Use fasteners similar to metal that the screening is made of to do your tacking, or an undesirable chemical reaction may take place over a period of time. For example: Copper tacks and aluminum screening set up conditions that can cause corrosion which will eat away screening at point of fastening.

BE SAFE! — Make good safety practice the first rung of your ladder every time you undertake a repair job which takes you off the ground. A few steps upward can be a long way down.

Make Ladder Tool, Not Trap

With the advent of spring, one of the first objects to be dragged from the garage or basement (or borrowed from a neighbor) is a ladder. With proper handling, a ladder is one of the handiest tools. With improper handling, it offers a fast short cut to a hospital.

★ ★ ★

Most people flounder hopelessly when putting a ladder against a house. I used to make a big job of it until a painter friend of mine taught me to "walk" a ladder into position.

The trick is a simple one. Here's how:

Place the ladder on the ground near the point at which you wish to erect it. Brace the foot of the ladder against a step, curb or the base of the house. Then, lift opposite end to your own height.

Start walking forward under the ladder, advancing your hands from one rung to the next.

With the ladder in an upright position you'll find it easier to handle. Lean it against the house. Or, if you are at a little distance from the house, carry ladder erect to place it.

★ ★ ★

When you have the ladder in position, move its base away from the house. The distance between the base of the ladder and the house should be one-fourth the length of the ladder. For example: Base of a 12-foot ladder should be three feet away from the house; a 20-foot ladder five feet, and so on.

The correct angle is very important. Too great an angle and the ladder will break under your weight. If you place the ladder too close to the house, it might tip backward.

If you are using a metal ladder and have it resting on concrete, use rubber safety feet, which are easily attached. Lacking these, rest the ladder on a sandbag, or tie a piece of rope to the base of the ladder and the house.

It's always wise to have someone hold the ladder while you're aloft.

Once on the ladder, observe certain rules for your own safety. If the job requires the use of both hands for any length of time, you should be using scaffolding instead of just a ladder.

If you must let go with both hands for a moment, lock yourself in position by slipping one leg over a rung and holding on to the rung below with the heel of your shoe.

If you are on a straight ladder, don't climb higher than the third rung from the top. On a stepladder, the rule is: no higher then the second step from the top.

Clean the soles of your shoes so that they will be free of mud and grease before you do any climbing.

If it's a cold day, dress warmly, but don't wear bulky clothing that will impair your movements. If it's windy out, don't climb a ladder unless you absolutely have to. If you MUST climb in the wind, have an assistant to hold the ladder.

Be cautious in placing the ladder. Avoid doors if you can. If you can't avoid putting a ladder in front of a door, be sure the door is locked while you're working. Otherwise, someone may come running out, unaware that you are in the way.

USE GOOD LADDER

Never use an old ladder that's begun to fall apart. Weak rungs may give way, no matter how carefully you step on them. Never use a ladder with a missing rung. You may forget that it's missing and lose your balance.

Marring the paint on your house is not a necessary evil when you use a ladder. Old socks, rubber gloves or similar coverings over the top ends of the ladder will prevent marks.

★ ★ ★

When carrying your ladder to and from a job, locate its center of gravity (the point at which it balances). Then, hang the ladder on your shoulder at that point.

If painting, provide yourself with a wire hook so that you can suspend the paint bucket from a rung.

If you store your ladder by hanging it on a wall of your garage, use enough supports — either large shelf brackets or angle irons —to avoid strain and resultant warping or weakening of the ladder.

Wood Ideal in Trailers

Trailer manufacturers continue to prefer wood for the interior walls of house trailers. Wood's strength and stability make it an ideal material structurally, while its beauty and ease of maintenance have strong appeal to trailer purchasers.

About 2,000,000 more homes will be heated with oil by 1960 in addition to the approximately 8,200,000 homes now centrally heated with oil.

Ring May Be Trapped

Lose your ring down the drain? Turn off the faucets immediately and call your local plumbing contractor. If too much water didn't follow the ring down the drain, it may be found in the "trap" — that curved piece of pipe under the sink.

Line the paint roller tray with aluminum foil; throw away when paint job is done.

Create Paneling Effect

Hardwood plywood squares mounted on a furring framework can be used to create the effect of raised paneling, giving added interest to a room. Such an arrangement is most effective above a fireplace or on walls which separate the living room from other areas, according to leading decorators.

NEW CARPORT—Herbert Buchanan who lives at 606 Orchard Lake Avenue has a new knotty cedar carport and work shop in his back yard. For years he has been planning this building; now he has it. The enclosed workshop with storage space is 10x21, while the space for his car is 20x21. A badly broken arm prevented Mr. Buchanan's doing any work on the building himself, but he does look forward to finishing the interior of the workshop.

Shades Cut Off Poor View

The charming mind's-eye picture of a sun-flooded room with windows overlooking a private garden in springtime often vanishes when we look at the hard reality of our own homes.

As houses crowd closer together, the vista often includes an excellent view of the neighbor's garage and trash cans. And, conversely, the neighbors can look in to see how our private family life is doing.

Sometimes windows are never flooded with anything more cheerful than north light. Sometimes they are placed so the sun seems to burn through the whole house during summer months.

In window treatments, problems of light, air and privacy deserve as much consideration as handsome fabrics.

The variety of size and colors in window shades and venetian blinds offers an easy solution for windows of many types.

One novel treatment devised by Ruth Lee, Chicago home furnishings consultant, uses window shades upside down to combine privacy with a partial view of leafing trees and blue skies.

In this house, the small kitchen and breakfast nook were remodeled to provide a larger room decorated in provincial style. But the windows near the family dining table overlook the neighbor's service yard.

The shades are installed upside down with the rollers across the sill. Side pulleys clip to the edge of the shade, hold it in position and enable the homemaker to raise or lower it to any desired height. The pulleys are mounted under the cornice at the top of the window.

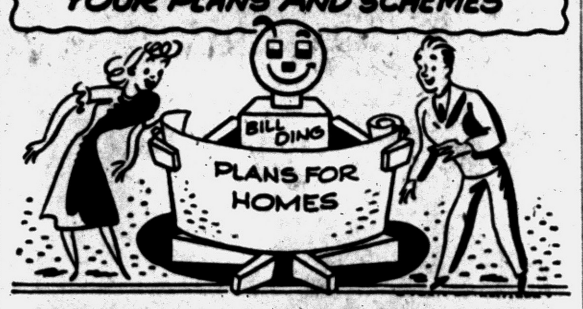

Terraces Are No Longer Considered Luxuries

Only a few years ago the addition of a terrace was considered impractical by all except families with large budgets and ample landscape. Today, however, rising incomes, the increasing skill of the family handyman, and the modern emphasis on outdoor living are bringing the pleasures of outdoor terraces into focus for more families.

★ ★ ★

Ideally, the terrace should be located near a shade tree. Adequate shade is even more important than nearness to the house. Privacy can be achieved with a wood cane fence.

Cold Walls Cause Mysterious Drafts

Homeowners who are puzzled by chilling drafts along floors even when all doors and windows are closed should look to their walls for the answer. Chances are the trouble is lack of insulation.

A cold, uninsulated wall chills the air next to it. Since cold air is heavier than warm air, the chilled air drops to the floor and goes scudding across it in a constant cold draft.

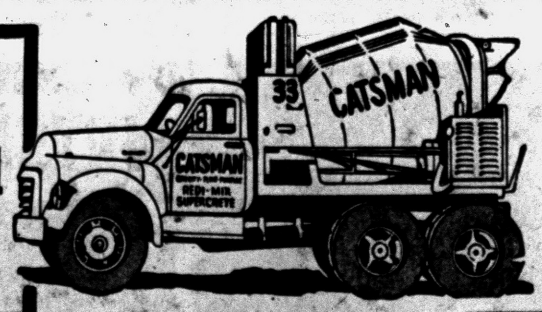

Mineral wool insulation helps prevent cold walls by blocking the passage of heat. The walls stay warmer, drafts are eliminated, and room temperatures are more healthfully uniform.

Make Ladders Safe

Slip-proof the rungs or steps of your ladder to make it safer. Paint each rung or step with a coat of varnish and wait until it becomes tacky. Then sprinkle sawdust or light sand on the varnish. When the mixture is dry, your footing will be more secure.

OVER HE GOES—SPLASH!—You might call this a royal dive. Rider Tom Moroney goes sailing over the barrier when his mount, Alukea, stops dead at the water jump. It wasn't exactly a belly-smacker, because Moroney went into the pool of water head first. He was not injured however. This took place at the Royal Show held in Sidney, Australia, this week. Spills like this were numerous in the show. It didn't keep Moroney out of the show. The rider came back with a dry change of clothes and continued in other events of the prominent Australian event.

Lucky Bowlers Will Find Checks in Easter Basket

The chips were down today for 51 hopeful bowlers as the championship round of the 1st Pontiac Press Bowlerama got under way at 1:00 p.m. at the Huron Bowl.

When the bowling ends today, numerous winners will find handsome prize checks to put into their Easter baskets tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

A total of 39 men and 12 women made up the list of title contenders in the tourney's two divisions. They were the qualifying survivors from 494 original entries.

The presentation of awards is set for 4:30 today when all participants will gather at the 300 Lounge stage to divide the many cash awards and Press trophies.

Everyone was certain of sharing in the $1,635 prize list before the final day of action started. All will take home at least $5 for reaching the championship round. Three men and three women clinched top qualifier trophies last weekend.

★ ★ ★

Heading the many awards will be $425 and a desk set for the men's winner and $205 and a desk set for the outstanding woman.

The finalists were made up of the top 10 per cent of the scorers at each qualifying alley in the two divisions during the past two weekends.

All championship aspirants were to roll three games across six alleys on a 70 per cent handicap 200 scratch scoring basis. First place ties will be decided by a one-game roll-off.

★ ★ ★

Any persons who finish deadlocked for other places will divide the total money alloted for the places involved. There will be no roll-offs for other positions.

Milwaukee Team Leader in WIBC

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Strauss-Frank of San Antonio, Tex., will be the first team with an average of 900 or more to go after the championship tonight of the Women's International Bowling Congress tournament.

The Texans have a 923 team average. They will have to overtake a 2,585 score piled up by Mamie's Grotto of Milwaukee to take the lead.

Geneva, Ohio Rrecreation is first in Division No. 2 with 2,322 while the Ohio Women's Bowling Assn. team No. 2 of Medina, Ohio, is tops in Division No. 3 with 2,134.

Mickey Mantle has a lifetime batting mark of .308.

Finn Karvonen Seeks 15th Marathon Triumph Today

BOSTON (AP) — Veikko Karvonen of Finland was ready to risk his standing as the world's No. 1 active marathoner today in the 61st Boston AA race.

★ ★ ★

Owner of a remarkable marathon record, the 31-year-old postal clerk is tops in the field since the retirement of Emil Zatopek and Jim Peters and was out to prove it at the noon, EST, start for the BAA.

★ ★ ★

Karvonen won the event in 1954 by wearing out favored Peters of England. A year earlier he chased Japan's Keizo Yamada, also back for another try, across the finish line.

★ ★ ★

In his 25 marathons going into today's race, Karvonen had won 14, been second six times, third in three and never finished worse than sixth. Last December he survived blistering 100 degree heat to take third place in the Olympic marathon in Melbourne. He was fifth in '52 at Helsinki.

★ ★ ★

Karvonen's remarkable ability to conquer all kinds of weather was expected to play an important role. The weather forecast called for temperatures to rise to the lower or mid 70s.

★ ★ ★

America's hope, Johnny Kelley, plus the three Japanese, three Koreans and Finnish teammate Olavi Manninen disliked the mercury's climb.

Kelley, 26-year-old schoolteacher from Groton, Conn., followed Finland's Antti Viskari across the line in 2:14:33 a year ago but wilted in the heat at Melbourne after leading in the early stages.

Dallas Keglers Tops in Booster Division

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A Dallas team led the scoring in the booster division of the American Bowling Congress tournament last night, but fell 60 pins shy of breaking into the top 10.

★ ★ ★

The Captain Bowling Center team fired games of 878, 872 and 905 for 2,655 to lead a pack of 64 booster entrants.

Open shooting was not scheduled.

Hansen Replaces Knorr as Tiger Prexy

AP Wirephoto

NEW TIGER PRESIDENT — A three-way handshake sealed the bargain making Harvey Hansen (center) the new president of the Detroit Tigers. Joining in the congratulations are Fred A. Knorr, who resigned because of the press of business (left) and board chairman John Fetzer (right). Knorr will become vice chairman of the board of directors. Hansen, 61, is a major stockholder in the group that paid a record five-and-one-half million dollars for the club last summer. He lives in Bloomfield Hills.

Change in Front Office Said Not Due to Losses

No Shifts Expected in Field Operations of Tigers

DETROIT (AP)—The new owners of the Detroit Tigers have revised their front office setup after only three games (all losses) of their first American League season.

Fred Knorr resigned yesterday as president and was succeeded by Harvey R. Hansen, 61-year-old Detroit lumberman who was one of Knorr's original syndicate.

★ ★ ★

Knorr, Hansen and John Fetzer, chairman of the Tigers' board of directors, stoutly insisted the move had nothing to do with the ball team's poor start. They also insisted it was strictly a personal move by Knorr due to the press of his personal business.

★ ★ ★

All sources said the entire field operation of the club would remain unchanged under general manager Spike Briggs and personnel director John McHale.

★ ★ ★

Hansen, born in Green Bay, Wisconsin, has lived in Michigan since 1911. He resides in Bloomfield Hills.

The new prexy is a vice-president and stockholder in the Knorr Broadcasting Corporation.

★ ★ ★

Knorr's decision to step down from the presidency came as a big surprise to those not on the board of directors. He had been regarded as the man who brought together the 12 man syndicate which bought the Tigers last year for a record 5½ million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Knorr, Hansen and William McCoy of Detroit control one-third of the Tiger stock. Fetzer, a Kalamazoo radio and television executive, heads a second group and Kenyon Brown of Wichita Falls, Tex., heads a third group of which Bing Crosby is a minor shareholder.

★ ★ ★

Knorr brought the groups together and was the unanimous choice as president when the syndicate's bid was chosen over 12 rivals.

★ ★ ★

Knorr made no secret of his pleasure at the time but yesterday he said he was deeply involved with his growing radio chain and other business enterprises and felt he needed some relief. He was elevated to a new position of vice chairman of the board of directors.

Tigers Can Get Hot...Tighe

DETROIT (AP) — "This is the kind of club that could get hot and win 10 or 12 games in a row."

★ ★ ★

Jack Tighe is a genial Irishman noted not only for his hard-nose attitude toward baseball but for his good-natured outlook on life in general. Not the type of guy who tells side-splitting stories or goes around glad-handing and slapping people on the back, he nevertheless has a breezy sense of humor.

But he wasn't joking when he made that remark about his Detroit Tigers. It wasn't said as a prediction, nor did it sound like the guy was day-dreaming as he stood at the side of the batting cage while the Tigers hammered batting practice pitchers with reckless abandon.

"They could do it," he said. "First thing we need is for Al Kaline to get a few base hits."

Then he went on to explain the difference between worry and concern. Without referring to Webster, the rookie skipper explained Kaline's 0-for-12 showing at the plate made him "concerned but not really worried."

For the record, Webster defines worry this way: "To annoy, bother; to cause to feel troubled or uneasy." Concern, he says, means "to have relation to; be of interest or importance."

Tighe, of course, is more concerned about winning that first one—then the club can talk in terms of winning streaks instead of losing streaks. They've lost three in a row now, and were to try to break into the victory column today against the Cleveland Indians at 1:30.

Late last night Tighe still wasn't sure just what his lineup would be. Indications were that he would return Harvey Kuenn to the leadoff spot in the batting order and that Reno Bertoia might get a shot at third base in place of Jim Finigan, either today or tomorrow.

Frank Lary, a 2-1 loser to Kansas City on opening day, drew his second starting assignment against Early Wynn, another of Cleveland's top-notch veterans.

MILWAUKEE — Ryon Olds of Milwaukee this season rolled a record three-man team game of 800—Jimmy Rudig with 256, Dennis Wright with 267 and Al Savas with 277.

Fight Arranged for Kenny Lane

DETROIT (AP) — Kenny Lane of Muskegon, top-ranked lightweight challenger, will meet Bernabe (baby) Vasquez of Mexico in a 10-round bout May 22 at Olympia.

Vasquez is rated No. 7 among the lightweights in the latest list of the National Boxing Assn. The 25-year-old Mexican has done the bulk of his fighting during a seven-year pro career in Mexico and on the West Coast.

His top victories were knockouts last year over Jimmy Soo of Philadelphia, and Paoli Rosi of Italy. He was beaten by Frankie Ryff. Lane twice defeated Ryff.

HANOVER — The 1956 football season was the best for Dartmouth in the past seven years. The Big Green eleven rolled up a mark of five victories, three defeats and one tie against its traditional opponents and has good prospects for 1957.

Rochester Golf Staff Complete

Evans Named Teaching Pro; Martin Assistant at Links Club

Rochester Golf and Country Club, formerly Brooklands, now under a corporated ownership headed by Dale Weitzel and Jack Fleck, completed its pro staff this week for the coming season.

Max Evans of Utica was named to handle the teaching duties at club, and Bill Martin an assistant to Bob Gajda at Forest Lake, will take over the pro shop at the Rochester Club.

Evans, winner of the Long Island Open and a consistent winner on the pro tour, will play out of the club in select tournaments.

Rochester wil be the scene of the first tournament in the state April 28th when the MPGA has its spring tourney.

Fleck, part owner in the club, moved into Rochester from Davenport, Iowa, recently. He will be the club's head pro.

"M" Second in Rifle Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The University of California won the 1957 National Rifle Intercollegiate team championship with a score of 1440 points out of a possible 1500, a compilation of scores showed today.

★ ★ ★

It was the third time in six years the California school has won.

The championships were fired on 20 different campuses on different Saturdays between March 16 and April 13. In all, 190 five-man teams and 1,002 individuals competed.

★ ★ ★

Michigan finished second with 1433. The United States Military Academy tied Michigan's three-position aggregate score of 1433 but had a lower score in the standing position and thus dropped to third place.

Pontiac Defends Title in Ohio Today

Pittsburgh Runners Lead at Mansfield

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A speedy quartet from Pittsburgh Central Catholic turned on the power when it needed it to capture the four-mile relay in the opening event of the 26th annual Mansfield High School relays yesterday.

★ ★ ★

A final quarter-mile spurt by anchorman Pat Murphy brought Central the victory in 19:13 against a field of 13 other teams. Mount Lebanon, Pa., last year's winner in the 4-mile event, held a slim lead with a half-mile to go when Murphy pulled away from Mount Lebanon's Dick Anderson to win by 35 yards.

Akron North, which shared the state championship in Ohio last year with Cleveland John Adams, finished third; Marion Harding was fourth and Cleveland East, fifth.

Seventeen events were scheduled today when a record field of 114 schools and 1,336 athletes vie for honors won last year by Pontiac, Mich.

Pontiac, which became the first non-Ohio school to win the event since its inception in 1927, is not expected to be a contender this year with only high jumper Hudson C. Ray returning from the championship squad.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland East Tech, which has won the Mansfield classic seven times as has host Mansfield, looms as the favorite to take the relay. Other contenders appear to be Lakewood, Pittsburgh Central Catholic, and Mount Lebanon.

Top Qualifier in Bowlerama Has New Rooter

Extra incentive means a great deal in the championship round of any tournament and Bowlerama finalist Lee Miller has plenty of that going for him today as the big event went into the crucial session.

★ ★ ★

Lee became the proud father of his 1st child—a future WIBC Kegler—Thursday night. Mother and daughter, who arrived three weeks ahead of time and only 34 minutes after Lee could get his wife to the hospital, are doing fine and hope to be home for Easter.

★ ★ ★

Miller would like nothing better than to have that $425 check and desk set waiting to show them. "I could certainly use that money to pay the hospital bills," he said before beginning his 1st game in the finals. Lee earlier clinched a Press high qualifier trophy.

Wynn Tests Ailing Hip Here

Larsen, Podres Debut Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Podres, Don Larsen, Early Wynn and Brooks Lawrance, four pitchers with something to prove, were scheduled to take their first stabs at proving it today.

★ ★ ★

Podres is the chunky lefthander who was nothing much until he nailed Brooklyn's first world championship by twice beating the New York Yankees in the 1955 World Series. He went against Pittsburgh in the first start of his "comeback" from the Navy.

Larsen, going against the Red Sox at Boston, hasn't pitched for keeps since he wrapped up the first perfect game in World Series history last October by whipping a called third strike past Brooklyn's pinch-hitting Dale Mitchell. That was in the fifth game, as the Yankees reclaimed the title.

Wynn, a member of Cleveland's prime pitching staff, now heavy with age, worked against the Detroit Tigers, armed with a 20-victory record in 1956, but challenged by an ailing hip.

Lawrence, the Bull, conqueror of an ulcer but now attacked by those who say it was Cincinnati power, not his own craftiness, that made him a success last season, faced the Milwaukee Braves. The big Redleg is determined to prove his 19 victories were no fluke.

Podres, a moon-faced, 24-year-old 6-footer, is one of the big "ifs" for the Dodgers. They won the flag without a lefthander on their staff and with no dependable starter behind Don Newcombe and Sal Maglie a year ago. Podres is supposed to provide the lift.

★ ★ ★

The stocky, but chubby looking, southpaw had fine stuff in the spring exhibitions, adding a better curve to the simple tools which made him a hero in the '55 World Series. All he had then was control, a remarkable change-up, a 9-10 season record and a history of injuries.

★ ★ ★

Larsen, a 27-year-old righthander who led the AL with 21 defeats with Baltimore in 1954, sets out to prove his no-windup style is no gimmick and that he's no one-game wonder. Oddly, his post-perfect game debut is in Fenway Park, where he first tried his shot-from-the-hip pitch late last September and lost 1-0 — a change that gave him four consecutive victories at season's end and an 11-5 record.

★ ★ ★

A late contract signer, Larsen had little work in the exhibition. He barely pitched 20 innings and like Podres never went more than seven at a crack.

Adams Seeking to Make Trade to Get Goalie

Boston Is Interested in Making Player Deal With Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—General Manager Jack Adams says he is trying to get goalie Terry Sawchuk back with the Detroit Red Wings.

Adams said yesterday he had been talking to Sawchuk about returning to the Detroit club where he has starred for five seasons before being peddled to the Boston Bruins in a nine-man trade two years ago.

In Boston, the Bruins General Manager Lynn Patrick admitted he had discussed the subject with Adams but said he has not conversed with Sawchuck since his walkout from the Bruin club last mid-season.

★ ★ ★

"Terry is too good a goalie to stay out of hockey," Adams said of the 27-year-old five-time all-star who won the Vezina Trophy three times while with Detroit.

Sawchuk who has been at his home in nearby Milford, Mich. since he bolted the Bruins last January after a seige of illness said he would "like to get back into hockey."

★ ★ ★

Adams said that he probably would have to give up players—no cash—to get Sawchuk from the Bruins. He said he "assumed" that Detroit goalie Glenn Hall would be involved.

★ ★ ★

"I can't deny the story," Patrick said. "I've talked to Adams about a trade. We've been offered Hall but I don't know yet what we'll do. I want to do what is best for the Boston Bruins.

"I can say the Detroit club asked permission to talk to Sawchuk, called me and made an offer."

★ ★ ★

Sawchuk said he believes he was completely cured of the blood disease, mononucleosis, which sapped his energy last December.

After a two-week hospital stay he struggled back to play a few games for Boston then left the club.

MAY BE WING AGAIN — Terry Sawchuk, who once wore the Detroit Red Wing uniform, may be back in the nets at the Olympia if general manager Jack Adams gets his wish to make a trade with the Boston Bruins for him. Sawchuk has been out of hockey for several months because of illness.

Chicago Entry Wins AAU Swim

EAST LANSING (AP)—Dark-haired Tony Stewart, swimming unattached from Chicago, won the senior women's AAU indoor solo synchronized swimming championship last night.

The slim Chicago girl piled up a total of 80.66 points for her graceful routine in "The Phoenix."

Seven finalists competed in the solo event after being picked from a field of 47 in the afternoon preliminaries.

Sandy Giltner of the Lansing Sea Sprites placed second. Her routine "lady in jade" earned her 78.82 points.

Betty Jane Vickers of the Hollywood (Calif.) Athletic Club was third with 77.82 and Linda Ridings of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the outdoor senior women's solo champ, was fourth with 73.48.

Weekend Smelt Runs May Go Up With Temperatures

ALL OUTDOORS, Mich. (INS)—Warm rains and rising temperatures may trigger off big smelt runs this weekend in southern Michigan.

Anglers out after pike, walleyes and muskies as well as those nature loving souls who go down to the seas with nets are watching weather forecasts and the temperature.

Smelt will not move into cutins, streams and rivers from the big waters until the water temperature is 42 degrees or higher. There have been scattered reports of smelt success during this week at Pointe Pelee in Ontario—the traditional tip-off for Michigan and southwest Ontario fishermen.

Canadian conservation officer Del Bailey of Leamington said he spent several hours at the Point this week and took only a few smelt. A dipper in a row boat, said Bailey, had the best luck after going far from shore.

★ ★ ★

Fair runs of smelt are being dipped in Porter Creek near Boyne City.

Warmer weather is needed to set off smelt running up Whitney Drain at the Singing Bridge near Tawas City on US-23. Good runs were forecast for this weekend or early next week by conservation officer Art Leitz of East Tawas.

Have you been passing up a good thing?

There is good fishing in Pontiac Lake on M-59 about five miles west of Pontiac. A fisherman last week took two four pound bass and a three pounder on nightcrawlers.

Pontiac Lake is one of several experimental lakes in Michigan where you can fish any time of the year for any kind of fish.

Pine River's perch run has not yet materialized. A few dip netters are taking suckers nightly on Rifle River near Omer.

Hoad Hopes for Improvement to Join Pro Ranks

NEW YORK (AP) — Australia's Lew Hoad is winking at Jack Kramer's pro tennis dollars but he doesn't want any part—yet—of pro champion Pancho Gonazles.

"When I turn pro, I'm not going to make the mistake that Muscles did," the Aussie Davis Cup ace said last night, referring to his former teammate, Ken Rosewall. "I wouldn't want to go in there cold against Gonzales and let him beat my brains out.

"What I'd like to do is start out against somebody like Pancho Segura or Tony Trabert and work up to Gonzales. When I turn pro, I want to be reasonably sure I can beat him."

Marlene Hagge Leads Lawton

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — Marlene Bauer Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla., apparently had her golf game under stout control today as she set out in the second round of the $5,000 Lawton Open tournament with a three-stroke lead over her nearest rivals.

★ ★ ★

The 1956 leading money-winner solved Oklahoma's strong wind with a solid wood game and sensational putting to post a 2-under-par 70 in yesterday's first round.

Par for the Municipal course's 6,977 yards is 36-36—72 and a field of 21 touring pros found it pretty tough in their efforts to beat men's par which they agreed to tackle in this tournament.

★ ★ ★

Top challengers for Mrs. Hagge's lead were two hefty swatters —Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., and Jackie Pung of Honolu.u. They shot respectable 73s in the 35-mile an hour wind.

January Paces Champions

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The $40,000 Tournament of Champions golf tournament swung into the crucial stage today with a newcomer to fame, Don January of Texas, leading the pack into the third round of play.

★ ★ ★

January hit a $6,000 jackpot in winning the rich Dallas Centennial last year, which qualified him for this springtime fixture.

★ ★ ★

Now he's pointing toward a $10,000 plum here and his 7-under-par 65 in the second round put him in the forefront today with a 36-hole score of 143. Play is at the Desert Inn Country Club with its par 36-36—72.

Two strokes separated the 27-year-old rookie from Lampasas in the heart of Texas from his nearest rivals, and threatening rivals they were.

They were Jimmy Demaret, a fellow Texan who plays out of fashionable Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., with 73-72; Arnold Palmer, former national amateur champion, with 72-73, and Billy Casper Jr., from Chula Vista, Calif., another newcomer to the touring pro ranks, who had 75-70. All were tied at 145.

Gene Littler of San Diego, who walked off with the $10,000 in 1955 and 1956, was at 146 with a pair of 73s.

January fashioned a red-hot 32-33 for his 65, a new course record. Art Wall Jr. fired a 66 here in winning the tournament in 1954. Yesterday the lad from Pocono Manor, Pa., required 76 strokes for 149 to get around the place.

★ ★ ★

Cary Middlecoff, the pre-tournament favorite, was alone at 147, with rounds of 75-72.

Unknown Beecham Decisions Mims

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Young Jimmy Beecham of Miami moved into line for a shot at the country's leading welterweights after scoring a 10-round upset decision over the veteran Holly Mims of Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

Victory in last night's nationally-televised fight, which ended with standing applause from a small crowd at Miami Beach Auditorium, was especially satisfying to the 22-year-old Beecham.

First, it avenged a close defeat by Mims in a previous fight Nov. 13. Second, it convinced Beecham that he could campaign successfully among the top welterweights.

Ira Murchison Suffers Injury

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Western Michigan sprint star Ira Murchison pulled a leg muscle yesterday running anchor on the 880-yard relay as Western Michigan trounced Kent State University 106-40 in a dual track meet here.

Murchison, undefeated in sprint events during the indoor track season just ended, was scratched from the 100 and 220, and there was some doubt whether he will be able to compete in the Ohio Relays at Columbus tomorrow.

Rain Threatens Kansas Relay Finals

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Rain threatened to put a damper on the windup of the 32nd Kansas Relays today, but the field was loaded with potential record breakers.

It rained yesterday, leaving the track and field soggy, and the weatherman forecast more precipitation.

★ ★ ★

Only five events — the first five in the decathlon — were run off yesterday. Terry Arenz of Neosho, Mo., attending the University of Arkansas on a football scholarship, led at the end of the day with 3,502 points. Arenz didn't win a single event, but placed high in all of them.

★ ★ ★

Only 28 points behind was Ken Kelly of Brooke Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., who won the broad jump at 21-2½ and the high jump at 6-3½.

In third place with 3,429 points was Bob Warren of Iowa University, who won the 400-meter dash in 50 seconds flat and the 100-meter dash in 1.08.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Phil Mulkey of Memphis State won the shot put with a toss of 43 feet, 3 inches, but it was considered unlikely that he will compete today. He has been bothered with a leg injury.

★ ★ ★

If the weather isn't too bad, a fine race is expected in the 100-yard dash today between Bobby Whilden of Texas, who tied the relays record of 9.4 seconds last year, and Orlando Hazley of Oklahoma A&M, who's been beaten only by Bobby Morrow of Olympic fame.

★ ★ ★

Considerable interest also focused on a shot put exhibition by Parry O'Brien, former Southern California great, and Bill Nieder, who has used up his eligibility but still is a student at Kansas.

O'Brien and Nieder finished first and second respectively in the Olympics at Melbourne last year. O'Brien, who holds the world record at 63-1¾, beat Nieder in a similar exhibition here last year 60-2½ to 59-7⅞.

"I'm No Spitballer"

Burdette Says Birdie Stirring Up Big Stink

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Lew Burdette really has his dander up against Birdie Tebbetts in the latest development of their spitball feud that has reached the desk of Warren Giles, National League president.

★ ★ ★

"I'm no spitballer and I'm no cheat," said the Milwaukee Braves righthander vigorously in retorting yesterday to the charge made by the manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs. Tebbetts made the charge Thursday after Burdette had shutout the Redlegs 1-0.

"I don't like the idea of a guy calling me a cheat," said Burdette who up to now has laughted off Tebbetts' assertions that Burdette throws the illegal spitter 25 per cent of the time.

★ ★ ★

"That's carrying a thing too far. He's stirring up a big stink that isn't going to do him or me any good. I don't mind him squawking about it, but if he's going to stir up a lot of trouble, I think he's going a little too far.

★ ★ ★

"I don't want just a little thing between Birdie and me spreading out so far as the commissioner's office or the league president. That's a lot of hooey.

"Baseball is bigger than Birdie and I."

The dispute centers on Burdette's habit of reaching to his mouth before he pitches. It's one of the fidgety moves he makes while on the mound.

Burdette, who has beaten Cincinnati eight consecutive times since 1955, said "the rule (8:02) doesn't say you can't go to your mouth. It says you aren't allowed to apply a foreign substance of any kind to the ball or rub it on your uniform. Well, I don't do any of those things."

★ ★ ★

"The rule," Tebbetts said, "doesn't say anything about rubbing your fingers off after wetting them. I want a clarification of that rule, so we'll know what you can do and what you can't."

Some Say 'Dummy Pills' Help Them

Arthritics React Normally to Pain-Relieving Drugs

CHICAGO (INS) — A scientific study of arthritis sufferers has revealed that three out of every four patients will respond normally to pain-killing drugs.

But 13 per cent of those suffering arthritis will say they feel better no matter what they are given, including plain sugar-coated pills.

★ ★ ★

And the remaining 10 per cent will stay in pain no matter what they are given.

Those who react normally to pain relieving treatment, however, will say they experience no change when given a so-called placebo or dummy pill.

Dr. Robert C. Batterman, of New York Medical College, reported his experience with 417 patients suffering from arthritis to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology meeting in Chicago.

Dr. Batterman has been studying the group, which he described as representative of "good samples of the general population" for over five years.

★ ★ ★

The finding that a certain percentage of people show improvement when told by their doctor "to take one of these and you'll feel better," appears to confirm the importance of emotional and mental factors in many ailments, according to Dr. Batterman.

He said there were apparently a certain percentage of persons who will exhibit relief from pain when they are given even dummy pills.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Batterman said his next step would be to study the relationship of pain-killers to other common ailments.

Boy, 13, Offers Judge Airtight Excuse

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A 13-year old had the last word in Juvenile Court yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner W. Rodes Clay routinely asked if the boy had been missing any days of school. When the boy answered, "Yes, sir," Clay asked why.

★ ★ ★

"They wouldn't let me out of the detention home," the boy said.

Officials did not say why he had not been let out to attend school. He has been in the home since April 13.

Russian 'Major' Teaches GIs

U.S. Army Has Course in Munich to Debunk Soviet Soldiers

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — There's a Russian major teaching at an American school here.

Strange sort of Russian major, though.

What he is teaching American GIs is that "there isn't any truth to the idea that there is anything extra special about a Russian soldier."

This Russian major actually is a fraud. He's a sheep in wolf's clothing, a fellow from Bowdle, S.D., all decked out like a Soviet officer.

The uniform is a bit drab. "None of the Russian uniforms are as nifty as ours,' he said. "We pay a lot more attention to spit and polish."

★ ★ ★

The fellow's real name is Howard J. Blumhardt and he draws his pay from the U.S. Army, in which he holds the rank of captain. He's one of two teachers in special courses on the Russian soldier at the Army's Noncom Academy in Munich.

Around 700 noncoms pass through the school every 12 weeks. Each of the men takes the special Russian course.

Blumhardt himself hangs up his U.S. uniform and dons his Soviet garb for each class.

★ ★ ★

He admitted that the Soviet equipment and uniforms are a bit out of date and that the more modern Russian material maybe a bit spiffier.

"But it's not as spanking clean and efficient as ours," he proclaimed.

"There is so much talk about the might of the Russian army," he said, "that it's a good thing to have a soldier take a closer look and let him decide for himself if his opponent is someone to hold in awe.

"A soldier finishes this course pretty well convinced that, man for man, he has what it takes to lick a Russian.'

Blumhardt's course attempts to supply the U.S. noncom with basic information on the Russian people, their government, the geography and topography of the country, and the habits of the people.

"A man," he said, "isn't afraid of something he is familiar with. And when an American soldier leaves the academy, we believe he has a good idea of the kind of man he'll have to lick if we get in a fight with them."

Two Drivers Injured When Cars Overturn

A West Bloomfield man and a Pontiac resident were injured in separate accidents yesterday when they lost control of their cars.

Lawrence C. Hull, 29, of 4400 Green Lake Rd., West Bloomfield Township and Bobby Jack Norman 23, of 1555 Richmond St. are both in fair condition according to reports today.

Hull was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital early this morning shortly after his car left the road and smashed into a street light. He is suffering from a concussion and lacerations of the right ear and skull.

Norman is in Avon Center Hospital with head and knee injuries after an accident on Dequindre Rd. just north of Parkdale shortly before 10 last night.

He lost control coming over a hill, careened from one side of the road to another for about 350 feet, hit the shoulder and traveled 110 feet more before hitting a tree and overturning according to Oakland County Sheriff reports.

Lower Bodies, More Power Promised in Cars for '58

By DAVID J. WILKIE

DETROIT (AP) — The auto makers already have completed the design and engineering of their 1958 model cars, but they have managed to keep details secret so far as the general public is concerned.

Generalities have leaked out, of course. The cars will be even lower in some instances than the 1957 models; there will be more 300-plus horsepower engines; there will be greater use of aluminum in braking systems; a couple of makers will announce the adoption of so-called unitized construction—body and frame welded into a single unit.

A couple more makers will make fuel injection available and there will be more glass in some cars.

★ ★ ★

But the changes will not be radical. They rarely are because no car maker likes the risk of running ahead of public taste.

A couple of makers with facelifted models on the market now are to have cars next year that will be "new from the ground up."

Wholly new will be Ford's new Edsel line. The car, to compete at both ends of the medium-priced field, has been completed as to engineering and styling, but it is not yet in production. Its details will be announced in September.

NEW PREMUIM FUELS

Several of the petroleum refiners are announcing or are about to announce still higher quality premium fuels. These fuels were developed in anticipation of the higher compression ratio engines expected in many 1958 model cars.

The industry already has 10 to 1 compression ration car engineer. Some may move up close to 11 to 1.

There is a difference of opinion among engineers, however, as to how much higher compression ratios may go and still yield advantages that are not lost in the higher cost per gallon of fuel.

The engineers say the higher compression ratios contribute substantially to smoother operation and all-around efficiency of the engine.

Obviously all the engineering advances expected in cars of the near future will not result from increased compression ratios and higher quality fuel. There will be significant changes in suspensions and transmissions, tires and power-operated features and other operating components.

Air suspension, already adopted as a feature of Cadillac's new prestige eldorado brougham, is certain to be offered as an option on other makes.

Some industry analysts have predicted it will be the next major engineering advance to be adopted by the car makers generally. They say, however, that it may be several years before the air bellows completely replaces the leaf and coil springs of today's cars.

Seek to Extend Arctic Defense

Engineers Work to Push Ramp Road 500 Miles on Greenland Icecap

NEW YORK — Researchers, working on the icecap of Greenland, are studying methods to push the United States' outer defense line 500 miles farther north, reports Walt Bowman the editor of Engineering News-Record.

Engineers are working on a ramp road that would allow truck loads of supplies to go from Thule up onto the icecap where they could be transferred to sleds for the rest of the trip.

The trick is to build a road that will remain serviceable when the edge of the icecap melts in summer. Gravel fill is being tried as an insulating blanket to keep the ice from thawing.

Another way to get up onto the cap would be through tunnels in the ice, and experiments to this end are also under way. Men have hacked a tunnel six feet in diameter into the icecap. The tunnel ends in a 65 x 65 foot room. Both room and tunnel are also being tested as a storage place for fuel, supplies, and for housing.

★ ★ ★

As the existing trans-Arctic bases in Newfoundland, Labrador and Greenland now stand, Bowman concludes, construction has brought them to a state of readiness for today's requirements. They can defend us as well as defense is now possible. How they will rate a few years from, in a guided missile age, is another question.

If their efficiency then is not as high, new sites farther out on the Greenland icecap may be feasible. Today's experiments with road and housing are being carried out with that objective in view.

None Hurt in Mishap

NEW YORK (INS) — A trans-Atlantic Sabena airliner carrying 34 persons from Brussels nosed over today upon landing at Idlewild International Airport but no one was injured.

Pineapple Lives in Many Places

Hawaii Chief Producer in World Market; Many Valuable Byproducts

WASHINGTON — The pineapple, after four centuries of world travel, is still finding new places to sink roots.

In at least two countries, as far apart as Aruba in the Netherlands West Indies and New Guinea in the South Pacific, new pineapple industries have sprung up within the last year.

Important producers already in business range from Hawaii, Brazil, and Mexico, to the Union of South Africa, Australia, and Formosa. The world's output of pineapples in 1955 was estimated at nearly 52,000,000 boxes, says the National Geographic Society.

Before Columbus came to the New World, Europeans had never tasted the pale, tangy fruit with the spiky crown and knobby rind. The explorer and his men first came on the delicacy when they landed at the picturesque volcanic isle of Guadeloupe in the Antilles.

★ ★ ★

To their amazement, the fruit grew not on a tree but nested in a cluster of long, swordlike leaves upthrust from the ground. Its form reminded the Spaniards of a pine cone, so they named it "pina de Indies."

Soon Spanish and Portuguese sailors were carrying the delectable pineapple on to distant lands.

Since the plant propagates easily from long-lasting slips and crowns, slow transport offered no problem. By deliberate planting, as well as by bits washed ashore from passing ships, the pineapple was well rooted in Africa and the Orient by the end of the 16th century.

Meantime, gentlemen farmers in Holland, France, and England began cultivating pineapples in greenhouses. Their experiments brought improved varieties.

HAWAII LEADS

The most successful transplanting developed in Hawaii, which now provides more than three-quarters of the world's supply of canned fruit and juice. There climate and soil proved especially favorable, first for the wild and semiwild fruit, and later for the imported Smooth Cayenne type, on which the huge modern industry is based.

★ ★ ★

Besides fruit, the pineapple plant offers man many other useful products. Its chopped shell becomes a nutritious cattle feed. Sugar, citrus acid, vinegar, and alcohol are extracted from waste. Pineapple fiber makes a luminous, silklike cloth for scarves, handbags, and dresses.

Both Drivers Injured in Friday Auto Crash

Both drivers involved in an auto accident at Auburn avenue near Mariva street yesterday were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital.

Steve B. Nyhof Jr., 19, of 173 N. Johnson Ave., was in satisfactory condition. He has a possible concussion.

Johnnie M. Culverson, 46, of 501 California St., will be released today after receiving treatment for nose lacerations.

Pontiac Police report the two cars collided about 8 p.m. Friday.

Father Digs Up Eastern Bunnies to Prove Legend

Leland R. Walter, of 6660 Manson Dr., has little trouble convincing his two small daughters there is an Easter Bunny. The girls, Charlotte Lee, 4, and Connie Lynn, 3, were hoping for some tiny bunnies of their own for Easter.

Walter, an employe of the Bert L. Smokler Construction Co., Thursday morning was busy plowing up a track of land on Ryan Road.

Suddenly bunnies shot helter-skelter in all directions. As is so often the case, the big ones got away, but Walter managed to land two small bunnies and the prize catch was presented that evening to two children who will never again doubt the existence of Easter Bunnies.

Mrs. Walter, Charlotte Lee, and Connie Lyn have set aside a corner of their dinette as a new home for the bunnies. They spend their idle hours in a small box of soft rags and exercise daily on the dinette floor.

The feeding hours are beginning to settle down to a happy regularity, but of course nothing can be done to alter the 8 a.m. feeding; after all—they're Easter Bunnies! Warm milk seems most consistent.

News in Brief

Merle Cole, 18 Dayton St., Oxford, pleaded innocent Friday to unlawfully driving away an automobile before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green who waived examination and bound him over to circuit court. He is now in Oakland County Jail.

Albert Jernigan, 18, of 189 N. Perry St., paid $30 and was sentenced to serve five days in the Oakland County Jail by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum Thursday, for drunk driving.

Richard J. McNeil, 20, of 307 Ferry St., was jailed for four days and fined $30 Friday after he pleaded guilty to possessing beer while under age. He appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

James Snover, 43, of 3745 Combs St., Rochester, has been sentenced to 15 days in the Oakland County Jail by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green, Friday, on charges of illegally running a junk yard.

A bottle of wine and five dollars in change were missing from Jones Poultry Market, 203 Lake St., after thieves broke into the building Thursday night, according to Pontiac Police.

Two purses containing $39 were taken from the home of Mrs. Laura Chamber, 277 E. Pike St., sometime Thursday night after thieves entered an unlocked door.

Convicted of drunk driving, John Wesley Jones, 34, of 154 N. Paddock St., was fined $100, ordered to serve four days in the Oakland County Jail, placed on six months probation and required to pay a $10 probation fee by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum Friday.

John E. Poljack, 43, of 43 Murphy St., paid $100 when he was found guilty of reckless driving after Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum reduced the original drunk driving charge Friday.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. Mc Callum found William E. Tharp, 29, of 808 Corwin Ct. innocent of reckless driving when he appeared in court Friday.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY mother, Matilda J. Witt, who passed away March 20, 1955.
They say time heals all sorrow,
And helps us to forget.
But 2 yrs. so far has only proved,
How much I miss you yet.
Sadly missed by her Children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF FELIX Dejager, who passed away 4 yrs. ago, April 21, 1953.
We mourn for him in silence,
No eyes can see us weep.
But many a silent tear is shed,
While others are asleep.
Sadly missed by Sons, Daughters and Grandchildren.

PLAY BALL! — Nanette Fabray will have the role of a woman baseball player in the musical comedy, "A Man's Game," on NBC-TV's Kaiser Aluminum Hour Tuesday at 9:30 p. m. Leo Durocher has been coaching Nanette to make sure that she won't drop the ball; however, she fears that her pitching form isn't very professional.

Nanette Turns Ballplayer — but It's Strictly for TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Since there's no rule against a girl playing in major league baseball, Nanette Fabray will pitch the season off to a good start next week—though strictly on television, you understand.

★ ★ ★

The occasion is Tuesday night, when Miss Fabray stars in a semi-musical comedy entitled "A Man's Game" on Aluminum Hour (NBC-TV).

Watching her in rehearsal as she gives the old Joe E. Brown wind-up, you would easily vote her the comedienne most likely to succeed in television major league baseball this season.

★ ★ ★

"Leo Durocher has been coaching me," she said, "and I've been practicing until my arm is sore, but I'll probably get hundreds of letters complaining about my pitching form. But one thing I know, I will not, will not, will not drop the ball."

She dances as well as pitches in "A Man's Game," which concerns the sister of a boy who is scouted by the big leagues as a catcher. When the sister pitches to him, the scouts decide they've found a great pitcher rather than the catcher they were hunting.

It appears, however, that Miss Fabray will have a short-lived career in the big leagues. This comely girl, who radiates as much energy as the morning sun, simply has too many things in the offing to confine herself to baseball.

For one thing (and really the only matter she wants to talk about these days) she will soon be married to Ranald MacDougall, a writer whom she worshipfully calls "The MacDougall," as befitting a first son in a Scots clan.

For another thing, NBC is expected soon to affix its corporate signature to a contract which will star Miss Fabray next season in a filmed weekly situation comedy series. What is it about?

★ ★ ★

"It never does justice to comedy to say what it's 'about' in a sentence," she said. "But the basic situation is that I'm in charge of a floral shop that's the gathering place for the neighborhood."

We'll Rap West, Says Red Boss

Khrushchev Promises to Hit Back if Capitalists Go Too Far

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev cautioned the West last night to keep hands off the Communist world, declaring "we are not saints and if necessary we will rap your knuckles."

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev gave that warning at a Polish embassy reception. He spoke after Defense Minister Georgi K. Zhukov said the Moscow-directed Warsaw Pact powers would match any nuclear weapons or guided missiles America provided for its NATO allies.

★ ★ ★

"We want to warn the capitalist countries, do not joke with us," Khrushchev said. "Do not try to test us like you did in Hungary with the putsch. You think of doing it, not only in Hungary, but also maybe in East Germany. Be careful. We are not saints and, if necessary, we will rap your knuckles.

The reception honored Polish Premier Joseph Cyrankiewicz, who stopped off in the Soviet capital en route home from a tour of the Orient.

★ ★ ★

In a talk with reporters, Zhukov declared Russia would carry out all measures necessary to counteract any action that NATO takes.

"We have at our disposal adequate means to retaliate against any action of NATO," he said.

Major Cities to Get 3 Mail Deliveries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Business districts of "many major U.S. cities" again will get three daily mail deliveries beginning Monday, the Post Office Department says.

But Postmaster General Summerfield said yesterday that Saturday deliveries in downtown areas will continue to be restricted to no more than one a day.

The announcement marked a further restoration of postal service temporarily curtailed April 5 when Summerfield was trying to get Congress to vote an additional 47 million dollars for postal operations up to June 30.

★ ★ ★

Most of the postal cutbacks — which included halting all Saturday mail deliveries and cutting weekday business district deliveries from three or four to two — were rescinded after Congress voted an extra 41 million dollars.

Summerfield did not list the cities where three-a-day business deliveries are to be resumed.

Palm Trees Are Pilfered

SAN GABRIEL, Calif. (AP)—Lloyd E. Owen returned from a three-day trip and found two palm trees worth $90 had been removed from his front yard.

Easter Bunny and Santa Claus Arrive at Once

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — When he hops into a suburban Media home today, the Easter bunny will meet a stranger—Santa Claus.

Santa and the bunny are getting together to welcome 9-year-old Vera Lee Zurzolo home from Children's Heart Hospital here where she was taken June 29, 1956, seriously ill with rheumatic fever.

Now Vera Lee's heart has healed and her parents have set the stage for the "real" Christmas they promised her.

The day is a surprise for Vera Lee who didn't even know she was due to go home today. There is a Christmas tree and a pile of gifts.

In the dining room is a big Easter basket with candies and decorated eggs.

Crippled Plane Lands on Nose

All 41 Aboard Escape Injury as Craft Skids to Stop at Dallas Airport

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ambulances moaned and fear froze in a thousand throats as a crippled and darkened airliner floated to a landing here last night.

★ ★ ★

Thirty-eight passengers, assailed by two hours of anxiety, buried their faces in pillows.

But all 41 persons aboard the Braniff Airways plane escaped injury as the trembling craft tilted on its nose and skidded the final few feet to safety.

The pilot, Capt. R. O. Mittendorf wore a big smile as he emerged from the plane. Pretty Susie Brock, the hostess, wept with relief. And Bert Hathaway, a passenger from Oklahoma City, crowed: "Everybody's happy. . . It was the most beautiful landing I've ever seen!"

★ ★ ★

The plane, a two-engined Convair 340, began its flight at Corpus Christi yesterday evening and made stops at San Antonio, Dallas and Oklahoma City. Shortly before 9 p.m., just after the craft took off from Oklahoma City for Kansas City, the nose landing gear jammed.

★ ★ ★

Passengers were informed, while the plane circled and circled Will Rogers Field, the word got out in Oklahoma City. A big traffic jam developed at the field.

Mittendorf received instructions to bring the craft back to Dallas and attempt a landing at Love Field.

Mittendorf made two passes over Love Field "to give ground personnel a chance to get a look at the plane."

Then it was time to land.

★ ★ ★

For several thousand feet, the plane rolled on two wheels, while ambulances and fire trucks screamed in pursuit. Then it nosed over, its tail tilted toward the sky.

Airman Killed in Rifle Spree

Leaves Guard Post, Shot by 2 Youths, Dad in New Mexico

ROSWELL, N. M. (AP) — Two young men and their father were held today in the death of a young New York airman who, according to an official, left his guard post and went on a shooting spree.

★ ★ ★

Dist. Atty. Patrick Hanagan said A.3.C. Daniel L. Jarrett, 22, Roslyn Heights, N.Y., stationed at Walker Air Force Base, apparently climbed over a fence where he was posted as a guard, carrying his military rifle with him.

★ ★ ★

Hanagan said the airman "definitely had been drinking," and liquor was found in his canteen.

Held without charge were Clement and Anselmo Lucero, Roswell, in their 20s, and their father, Ben Lucero.

★ ★ ★

Jarrett was killed shortly after midnight. He was struck by two heavy rifle slugs and two shotgun blasts. Hanagan said there were shotgun pellets in the body from the ankles to the head.

The district attorney said it was "undetermined" who fired at the airman. Then Hanagan added, "all three fired shots, apparently simultaneously."

This is the story Hanagan related:

★ ★ ★

Then, apparently, Hanagan said, the airman and the Luceros exchange some remarks and the fatal shots followed.

Antarctic Drawings Slated at Cranbrook

Antarctic watercolor and ink and wash drawings by a World War II combat artist will be exhibited in the middle west for the first time at Cranbrook Institute of Science beginning Thursday.

The artist, Commander Standish Backus, Jr., formerly of Grosse Pointe, covered the 1945 surrender ceremonies aboard the USS Missouri in Tokyo Bay.

He also spent six months at sea and accompanied Admiral Byrd to Antarctic as an official member of Operation Deepfreeze in 1955-56. Here, he observed and drew ships, men, animals, birds, fishes, sea and landscapes, to tell the story of Operation Deepfreeze.

The exhibition will be on view at Cranbrook until July 22.

25 Drown Near Cairo

CAIRO (AP) — Reports reaching Cairo today said 25 persons were drowned when a bus overturned into a canal yesterday near Damanhur. Only eight bodies have been recovered so far. Damanhur is about 63 miles northwest of Cairo.

Indict Three for Taking Tape

Link Dist. Atty. Langley, Portland Newsmen in Illegal Wiring

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Portland Dist. Atty. William Langley and two other men were indicted by a county Grand Jury last night on charges of illegally obtaining a set of wire recordings.

The others indicted are Sheriff's Deputy George Minielly and Oregon Journal reporter Arthur (Brad) Williams.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the trial of Portland gambler Jim Elkins and his employe, Raymond Clark, on charges of wiretapping was to resume today in U.S. District Court here. They are accused of making the tapes that the other three men are accsed of illegally obtaining.

★ ★ ★

The indictments against Langley, Minielly and Williams were among 21 returned by the Grand Jury yesterday. Other indictments are to be served on Monday.

The indictment against Langley is the eighth returned against him in the year-long Portland vice investigation. He has been convicted on one charge — failing to prosecute gamblers — and is awaiting sentence.

Yesterday's indictment accuses him of conspiracy with Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk, executives and reporters of the Oregon Journal and others to set up an illegal raid to obtain and make copies of the tapes.

★ ★ ★

Named as conspirators were William W. Knight, publisher of the Oregon Journal, and Arden X. Pangborn, editor of the afternoon newspaper. Also named were reporters Williams, Rolla Crick and Doug Baker; Deputy Dist. Atty. Howard Lonergan; and Clyde C. Crosby, international representatives for the Teamster Union in Oregon.

New York Sets Maple Contest

Michigan Among Eight States Asked to Enter Taste Competition

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Harriman has invited eight states, including Michigan and Quebec, to enter their maple products in a taste-test contest to decide the North American championship.

The competition will be staged at New York's second annual Maple Festival May 3-4 at the state fairgrounds in Syracuse.

At the first festival, held last year in Cooperstown, Vermont and Michigan tied for first place and New York took second. The contest was inspired by a tongue-in-cheek battle among governors of maple-producing states over the excellence of their products.

Vermont Gov. Joseph B. Johnson already has notified Harriman he will be on hand.

SENDS INVITATIONS

Invitations went out to Premier Maurice L. Duplessis of Quebec and these governors: Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts, Lane Dwinell of New Hampshire, George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, C. William O'Neill of Ohio, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Vernon W. Thomson of Wisconsin and Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota.

At Cooperstown, the judging was by a panel of food editors. This year, visitors to the festival will decide.

Competing products will be sent to the U. S. Agriculture Department's eastern regional laboratories in Philadelphia. There the samples will be prepared, disguised, and taken to Syracuse. The laboratory staff will compute the results of consumer judging.

Last year, New York maple products won two associated contests that were judged by maple producers and consumers.

Williaim S. Tozier of Johnsonburg, president of the New York State Maple Producers' Assn., declared: "The clear, golden nectar born of New York's spring frost and sunshine will once again win the delighted approval of consumers—the supreme court for any product."

Official Plants Seeds of Anger in Iris Growers

SANTA FE, N. M. (AP)—The New Mexico Iris Society is angry with Gov. Edwin Mechem for one of his pocket vetoes.

The bill whose demise — for want of the governor's signature —aroused the society's wrath was the Plant Protection Act.

Among other things, this act would have exempted amateur gardeners from the act's requirements, except when quarantines are promulgated.

★ ★ ★

A bulletin of the New Mexico Iris Society said death of the bill leaves on the books a law "which would ban your Aunt Minnie in Amarillo (Tex.) from sending you some bulbs without payment of a $10 permit."

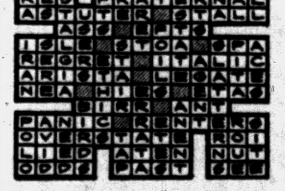

Oakland County Firms Share in State Work

Two Oakland County firms shared in state construction projects, the State Building Division at Lansing revealed today.

Oregon Homes, Inc., of Pontiac, was low bidder for constructing a residence at the Lapeer State Home and Training School, with $18,272.

Jack Skitch, of Royal Oak, was low with a $25,450 bid for the mechanical work on a laundry building addition for the Northville State Home and Training School.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Rob Service Stations at Auburn Heights

Two Auburn Heights gas stations were broken into Thursday night. Bob's Standard Service, 3990 Auburn Rd. and Wall's Service Station, 3985 Auburn Rd., which are across the street from each other, were entered within 45 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Ice Star Atwood Files Divorce Suit

★ ★ ★

Miss Atwood, now 32, filed a against wealthy, 57-year-old John H. Harris, impressario of the Ice Capades and a major stockholder in the skating show. She charges extreme mental cruelty. The couple married Aug. 1, 1949.

In her suit, she asks for custody of the children, twins Dennis and Donald, 7, and Donna Jeanette, 4.

Publicity Fatal? Or Did Exertion Wear Pop Out?

NORTH PLAINFIELD, N. J. (AP) —Pop died yesterday some three months after he became a celebrity by trying to drag a wire through a pipe under the New Jersey Turnpike.

Pop was a mongoose or a ferret — the matter never was settled.

A Fire Department employe harnessed him up last January to help run a cable under the turnpike for a fire alarm system in a Woodbridge housing development.

Rats were turned loose in the 730-foot pipe to lure him through and he was spurred by blasts of compressed air. But each time Pop either failed to appear at the other end or slipped his harness and came out naked.

★ ★ ★

The wire finally was snaked through by mechanical means.
