N. Viets Fight for First Time in Saigon as Battle Rages

SAIGON (AP) — The enemy attack on Saigon swept on in full fury tonight, with North Vietnamese reported fighting for the first time in the capital and a heavy explosion — believed a rocket — blasting the heart of the city.

The North Vietnamese were battling South Vietnamese troops from gravestone to gravestone in a cemetery near Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport.

The missile, believed by military authorities to be a rocket or a mortar, exploded near the downtown Saigon U.S.O. and International House, frequented by Americans.

First reports said no buildings were damaged and apparently there were no casualties. The U.S.O. and International House were closed by curfew. Other accounts said the blast may have been caused by an explosive charge placed in a car that was destroyed.

Related Stories, Pages A-8, C-11

U.S. military spokesman indicated the new enemy offensive, launched yesterday was subsiding elsewhere across South Vietnam after only one day.

INDICATION OF STRATEGY

They saw the attacks as more evidence that the enemy plans to keep fighting while peace talks go on. They also thought it likely the drive was to strengthen North Vietnam's bargaining positions at preliminary talks with the United States expected to open this week in Paris.

While Hanoi radio claimed "brilliant victories," Gen. William C. Westmoreland said in a communique:

"Scattered fighting has taken place throughout yesterday and this morning; however, the over-all activities remain considerably lower than during the Tet lunar new year offensive."

Headquarters reported 122 locations were hit yesterday by mortar and artillery fire but new shelling today was insignificant. There also was ground fighting in the north but this appeared to be a continuation of last week's battles.

714 REDS KILLED

A U.S. spokesman said allied forces so far had killed 714 enemy troops in and around Saigon, including 177 inside the city itself. Some of the fights were spoiling actions, cutting off enemy units reported headed to attack Saigon.

Four newsmen—three Australians and a Briton—who were driving to check on fighting in Saigon's Chinese section yesterday were killed by Vietcong. Two died in the first burst of fire.

Two more were wounded and a Vietcong officer finished them off. Another Australian newsman in the car feigned death, then ran to safety while the guerrillas were reloading.

One of the Australians killed was John Cantwell of Time magazine, who formerly wrote for The Associated Press in Saigon, Singapore and Hong Kong.

30 Die on State Roads

From Our News Wires

Thirty persons were killed during the weekend in traffic accidents in Michigan, the highest weekend toll this year. Three persons were killed near Saginaw just 15 minutes after the weekend count ended at midnight.

The 30 deaths boosted the death toll for the year to date to 615, compared to 555 deaths by the same date last year.

Five persons were killed near Paw Paw Friday night when a car going the wrong way on I-94 crashed head-on into another car. Four teen-agers died in a one-car crash near Three Rivers Friday night.

Killed in the crash at Paw Paw Saturday were Lee O. Costello, 54, of rural Ionia; his wife Barbara, 51; Jerry Atcher, 44, and Woodrow Wilson, 46, both of Benton Harbor, and Smith Price Jr., 40, of rural Benton Harbor.

The four teen-agers were killed when their car traveling at a high rate of speed ran off a road near Three Rivers and smashed into a tree. They were identified as:

Thomas J. Stutesman, 16; Mary Elizabeth Wiener, 16; Thomas A. Mahaffy, 15, all of Three Rivers, and Jan Werstein, 16, of Michigan City, Ind.

FOURTH VICTIM

An accident that claimed the lives of three persons on M-81 east of Saginaw Saturday took its fourth victim last night when Debra Fent, 7, Saginaw, died in a hospital.

State Police identified the other three victims as Frank Ahrens, 46, of Akron, Harold Ahrens, 50, of Wisner, and Elizabeth Fent, 16, of Saginaw.

The three-death accident early today occurred when a car ran off a curve on M13 south of the Saginaw-Bay County line and slammed into a tree.

Victims were Willie Parks, 23, Rebecca Willis, 21; and Jester Hart, 27, all of Saginaw.

Septer of 46 Brentwood is in satisfactory condition in the intensive care unit at Pontiac General Hospital. His wife, Sandra, 19, is listed as fair.

The 8:37 a.m. accident is still under police investigation. Witnesses are asked to contact the police.

Mercury Hits Freezing Mark

Pontiac residents shivered in the coldest weather recorded on this date in 93 years today when the mercury hit the freezing mark of 32 degrees this morning. Previous low was 33 set in 1875.

Area farmers and fruit growers reported widespread damage as out-city temperatures dipped into the 20s, reported James Lincoln, district extension horticultural agent

Skies will be fair and temperatures not so cold tonight. Tomorrow will be warmer with a chance of showers or thundershowers late in the afternoon or evening.

More of the same is on the weatherman's agenda for Wednesday as cloudy skies and higher temperatures are due to foster thundershower activity. Following the morning record breaker, sunny skies warmed the mercury to 54 degrees by 2 p.m.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 10, tonight 20 and tomorrow 40.

2nd Phone Union Pickets City Office

Although Oakland County telephone workers approved a new contract with the company by "a substantial margin," pickets from another telephone union appeared in front of the Michigan Bell office at East Huron and Mill this morning.

★ ★ ★

Still on strike is Local 4090 of the Western Electric Installers Union. Duane Barber, a steward, said the national contract had been rejected at midnight yesterday and a strike called. Some 30 installers work at the Pontiac office.

Barber said members of Oakland County Local 4012 of the Communication Workers of American (CWA), were not crossing his picket lines.

CWA Local 4012 President Joe Veresh said his instructions were to not allow his members to cross an installers' union picket line. Veresh said the CWA contract with Bell was approved by a "substantial margin" in weekend voting.

★ ★ ★

In the new contract, the county gained parity with the Detroit local bringing an added pay hike of about 3 per cent, Veresh pointed out.

Veresh said he was going to Lansing at 2 p.m. today to attend a conference on the state agreement problems.

Bell Dissidents Continue Strike

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Dissident Michigan Bell Telephone Co. workers refused to return to work today, ignoring the demands of their international union and its settlement of the 22-day coast-to-coast strike.

Leonard Florkey, strike director for Communications Workers of America Local 4000, the largest local in Michigan with 5,300 members, said the local's executive board voted unanimously last night to continue the strike.

★ ★ ★

By midmorning, Michigan Bell reported that its employes were working at 20 of 39 traffic locations throughout the state. They did not report for duty at Lansing, Flint, Kalamazoo, Saginaw, Jackson and 14 locations in the Metropolitan Detroit area, stretching from Ann Arbor to Port Huron.

Florkey said since Michigan Bell negotiates a separate contract with the CWA, the 18,200 Michigan members are not bound by the national settlement.

2nd Structure Burns in Avon

Fire Razes Landmark Barn

A landmark barn nearly a century old, known to thousands of touring school children, burned to the ground in Avon Township yesterday. A nearby cow barn on the farm of Sarah VanHoosen Jones, Romeo and Runyon roads, Avon Township also burned.

Two firemen suffered smoke inhalation as Rochester and Avon Township's Brooklands Fire Departments fought the blaze for more than seven hours. Firemen had to return at 9:30 last night to hose down burning hay. The original call was received at 11:25 a.m.

Treated at Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, were Kenneth Purdom, 313 Castell, and Robert Tyrell, 111 South, both of Rochester.

Twelve calves were lost in the fire. Cause of the blaze has not been determined. Rochester Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan said damage to contents in both barns was $5,000. No damage estimate was available for the barns. He said the damage was covered by insurance.

★ ★ ★

Four other nearby barns were saved.

The farm buildings were on 350 acres deeded by Miss Jones to Michigan State University. However, she retained use during her lifetime and the barns were leased to Maurice Place, a dairyman who had been the VanHoosen Farm foreman for years.

Waterford Voting on School Millage

Waterford Township School District electors are going to the polls today to vote on the proposed renewal of the system's current 15-mill taxing authority for operation.

The proposed renewal is for 15 years, through 1983.

"I'm hoping we'll have a fairly large vote," said Supt of Schools Dr. Don O. Tatroe. "We would hope that we could get 5,000 voters out."

★ ★ ★

Polls are open until 8 p.m. at the following eight precincts:

1 — Grayson School, 3800 W. Walton; 2 — Donelson School, 1200 W. Huron; 3 — Crescent Lake School (Waterford Center), 1021 Airport; 4 — Schoolcraft School, 6400 Maceday Drive; 5 — Pontiac Lake School, 2515 Williams Lake; 6 — Monteith School, 2303 Crescent Lake; 7 — Leggett School, 3621 Pontiac Lake; and 8 — Stringham School, 4350 Elizabeth Lake.

Law Extending Terms 'Illegal'

By JIM LONG

A 1967 state law that extended the terms of incumbent township officers by two years was declared unconstitutional today by Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Three Waterford Township residents eying the top elective offices in the township had challenged the legality of the state law.

They had filed suit last week after Waterford Township Clerk Arthur J. Salley refused to accept their nominating petitions as candidates in the Aug. 6 primary election.

The complainants in the suit are James F. Schell, Patrick K. Daly and Dorothy W. Olsen, Democratic hopefuls for the offices of supervisor, clerk and treasurer, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Their petitions were rejected by Salley on the basis that there was to be no election, primary or general, for township offices this year because of the new state law.

LAME DUCK TARGET

The statute, signed into law by Gov. Romney last July, was intended to eliminate the lame duck period affecting township officials who are elected in November but do not assume office until the following April.

It provided that township officers elected in 1966 would serve until Nov. 20, 1970, 18 months longer than the expiration date.

Douglas W. Booth, attorney for the township, said it will be up to the Township Board to decide if the case will be appealed.

★ ★ ★

It was expected that because of the widespread importance of the case, that if Waterford shouldn't appeal, another

11th Heart Transplanted; 8th Recipient Dies

By the Associated Press

Surgeons in Houston, Tex., have performed their second heart transplant operation in less than three days, with both patients reported making progress. Joseph Rizor, the eighth heart transplant patient, died at Stanford, Calif., yesterday.

At London's National Heart Hospital, 45-year-old Frederick West, his heart replaced Friday night with that of a young laborer killed in a fall, yesterday had a supper of pureed carrots and prunes—his first solid food since his operation. He also asked for books and a television set.

At Houston, the St. Luke's Hospital surgical team last night performed the world's 11th human heart transplant, replacing the ailing heart of James B. Cobb, 48, with that of a youth killed in a motorcycle accident. Cobb was in "excellent condition," a hospital spokesman said.

The same Houston surgical team Friday gave Everett Claire Thomas, 47, the heart of a 15-year-old bride. Thomas' condition on Sunday was termed satisfactory.

At the Stanford Medical Center, the 40-year-old Rizor died 6½ hours after his transplanted heart stopped beating for a time Sunday afternoon.

Doctors got it working again in a few minutes but said the stoppage had been caused by a lack of oxygen in the blood. Death was caused, they said, by the inability of Rizor's lungs—long damaged by his own heart impairment—to supply sufficient oxygen to his new heart.

Rizor, father of four, was a carpenter in Salinas, Calif. His heart came from an athletic 43-year-old man who died of a massive brain hemorrhage.

Cobb, a salesman from Alexandria, La., is the father of two children. His wife is a junior high school teacher. He has a history of heart trouble for the past several years and has been seriously ill in recent months.

★ ★ ★

Cobb's donor was William Joseph Brannon, 15, of Conroe, Tex., who was injured in a cycle accident Saturday morning and died about 7:30 p.m. Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

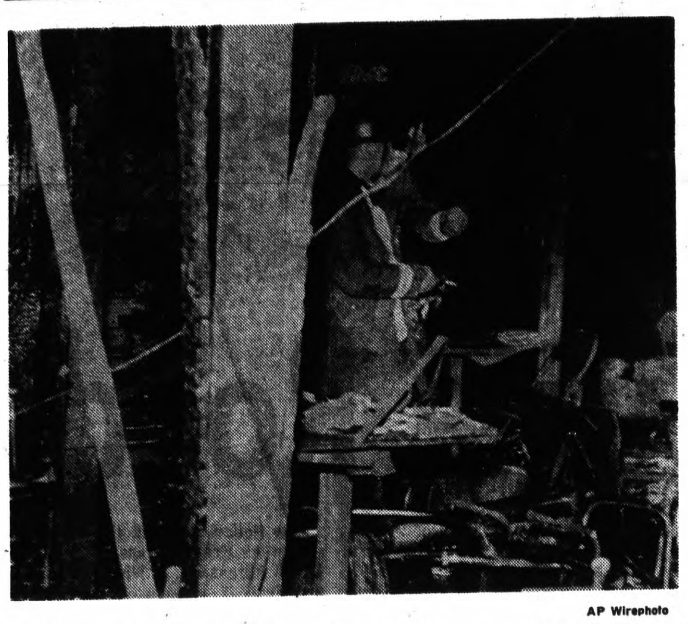

Cobb's transplant was accomplished in 42 minutes.

Both the Thomas and Cobb transplants were performed by a team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley.

Of Thomas, who had a 15-year history of heart trouble, Cooley said, "The situation is improving rapidly. In fact, he is progressing more rapidly than the usual open heart surgery patient."

The Brannon youth's kidney was being transplanted simultaneously last night in a separate operation to William C. Kaiser, 41, of Odessa, Tex.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A man involved in a disturbance with a waitress touched off a blaze which killed eight persons in an integrated night club late last night. Seven were Negroes.

Witness at the West Side club—called "The Grave" — said a Negro man splashed a can of liquid inside the front door, ignited it and vanished into the darkness.

Six men and two women, trapped in the flames, died of apparent smoke inhalation as they groped over shuffle boards, pinball machines and pool tables for a back door.

"We got a description but no name," said detective L. V. LeFills of the suspect.

All but Dillard were Negores.

Two persons were taken to a hospital with injuries.

About 25 persons fled to safety as flames raced along bamboo curtains and turned the building into an inferno within seconds.

GM Plans 'Armor' for Some '69 Cars

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. said today that many of its 1969 cars will be equipped with a virtual armored safety belt running along the inside of all car doors as an extra safety precaution.

GM said the heavy steel beams would tend to cut down the hazards of side impacts, one of the biggest hazards in auto collisions.

Carl Heeden, general director of engineering at GM's Fisher Body Division which developed the new feature, said, "This side impact bar will increase the passengers' safety by preventing the impacting car from penetrating the impacted car and it will cause the impacted car to be pushed aside by the impacting car."

Each side impact bar is eight inches high, two inches deep and in four-door sedans will weigh about 41 pounds, plus eight pounds of complementary structure change, mostly strengthened door latches and hinge pillars.

GM disclosed no probable costs on the newest safety item but outside sources estimated it would cost about $10 per car. There was no indication how much, price increases on the cars.

if any, of the cost would be reflected in

For 1969, the new safety bars will be installed on most regular sized Chevrolets, Pontiacs, Buicks and Oldsmobiles and on GM's larger cars in those lines.

A GM spokesman said that since the beams require new styling and a whole new body, they will be installed on other GM cars in the next one to three years.

The beams will not protrude into the cars, he said, and only a careful observer will be able to note the slightly increased "bowing" of the door.

Leonard Official Killed by Train

Mrs. Mary E. Vore, 70, of 225 E. Elmwood, Leonard village treasurer, was killed at 10:55 a.m. today when she walked into the path of a Grand Trunk Western Railroad train at the Elmwood crossing in Leonard.

Witnesses said a fire siren was blowing at the time and they believed that she did not hear the train coming.

The wife of Rev. Frank Vore, a retired Brethren in Christ Church minister, she earlier this spring won the position of village treasurer on a write-in vote. She had served two terms as treasurer before her recent reelection.

Fire Captain Milward Strong who lives near the crossing said Mrs. Vore waved to him before she stepped in front of the train.

Luncheon speaker will be Malcomb R. Lovell Jr., director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The program was developed with the advice of a community planning committee with representatives of several aspects of county life.

ROBERT M. COLYER

GM Employe in OCC Race

A Farmington man employed by General Motors Corp. is in the 12-candidate race for three vacancies on the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.

Robert M. Colyer, 22905 Hayden, holds a management position in the sales division of Cadillac Motor Car Division in Detroit. He has been with the division full-time for two years.

Colyer, 26, received a bachelor of business administration degree in 1965 from the University of Michigan's Dearborn campus.

A member of the Farmington Area Jaycees, he is a member of the Army Reserve unit in Pontiac. He is married.

★ ★ ★

His statement:

"With the advent of the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, representation on the college's board of trustees by a Farmington resident becomes not only logical but necessary.

"It is my belief that my election to the board would also result in representation for the student body of the college.

★ ★ ★

"The problems of college-age persons are unique and many times communications between varying age groups is difficult.

"The opportunity for college students to voice opinions to someone not too far removed from their age category could and should result in better communications between the students and the board and may well enable the board to act with more complete knowledge when dealing with student relation situations."

Birmingham

Government Finances in the Black

BIRMINGHAM — This city's government is in the black.

A financial statement for the last nine months, to be formally presented to the City Commission tonight at 8 by J. H. Purkiss Jr., finance director, shows available surplus as of March 31 at $101,885, compared with $19,125 as of Dec. 31, 1967.

In preparing the statement, Purkiss recommended that the entire surplus be held "to provide for possible increases in preliminary expenditures and for variations in receivables."

The finance director noted that revenues have exceeded budget estimates in all categories except state shared taxes, which include gas, weight and liquor taxes.

The only other recommendation accompanying the report involved the equipment fund, which has suffered a loss in funds on hand due to the high cost of replacing equipment.

"During the first nine months," Purkiss reported, "the city replaced equipment valued at $53,839.43 at a cost of $72,556.41 or a reduction in cash reserves of $19,000.

"In addition, this year a $5,377.60 loss was experienced on the rubbish truck which was destroyed at the incinerator."

The finance director therefore recommended that a contingency allowance be made based on the value of equipment. Initially, the allowance would amount to six per cent of equipment value, to be adjusted annually.

★ ★ ★

Purkiss added that spending has outstripped income in the water department, and said that the finance department would soon be urging a rate increase.

"The cost of maintaining our internal system as well as the cost of billing and collecting has increased substantially since the present rates were established nine years ago," Purkiss explained.

In addition, he said, water purchased from the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority costs more, due to a rate hike made by the city of Detroit, which sells water to the authority.

Income from the city's parking meters, the report said, is up since November's rate increase, compared with comparable three-month periods in 1967 and 1966.

Total revenue from meters this year is $64,536; $42,514 for 1967 and $41,178 for 1966.

PROPOSED BUDGET

Also to be presented at tonight's meeting is the city administration's proposed budget for the new fiscal year.

The budget, slated for reviewing sessions prior to a public hearing June 3, calls for total spending of $3,051,523, up about $180,000 from last year's $2,872,466.

While recognizing an increase of about $17 million in the city's total assessed valuation, from $114 million in 1967-68 to $131 million this year, the proposed budget calls for the tax rate to be held at its present level, 17.5 mills.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Robert S. Kenning said the continuation of the present rate will be necessary to implement new programs and to offset rising labor and materials costs.

FRINGE BENEFITS

A hefty increase of $257,000 is proposed to provide for capital and wage and fringe benefits. The new budget also provides a $22,000 allotment for auto equipment adjustment and an $8,000 boost for special projects, making total increases $287,000.

However, that amount is partially offset by a decrease of about $108,000 in operating budgets for the various departments.

Primary cuts will come in parks and recreation, $37,000; public works, $85,000; engineering, $12,000; the city commission, $6,300; and miscellaneous, $149,000.

Increases are called for in the other areas, including police, $69,000; fire, $74,000; municipal court, $7,000; assessor, $5,000; treasurer, $7,000; finance, $3,000; legal, $1,600; clerk, $6,500; building inspector, $17,000; general administration, $13,000; personnel, $6,500; planning, $3,000; and civil defense, $400.

Truck Fire Blamed on Vandals

VANDALS' ARSON—A Pontiac fireman battles to confine a blaze—blamed on vandals—to the cab area of a truck leased to the Boice Builders Supply Co., 545 S. Telegraph. The steady stream of water was effective in preventing the fire, which firemen said was set about 1 p.m. yesterday, from reaching the motor or gas tanks.

Vandals, thought to be teen-agers, have been blamed by fire officials for the burning of a truck cab and more than 100 bales of straw at a Pontiac firm yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Firemen responded to an alarm at Boice Builders Supply, 545 S. Telegraph, about 1:20 p.m. and were at the scene more than three hours.

★ ★ ★

They managed to confine the truck fire to the cab area, saving the engine and preventing the ignition of gasoline tanks.

However, damage to the vehicle was estimated at about $1,500.

Police investigators said a second truck was damaged by bricks thrown through side windows.

The straw, used in stacking building blocks, kept firemen alert for windblown sparks, but was valued at only 60 cents a bale.

Police said a witness told them of seeing two boys running along a fence near the scene about the time the fire started.

Four fire vehicles, under the command of Capt. Earl Luchenbach, were used to fight the fires.

Cows Good as Fallout Testers

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Range cows browsing across Nevada's wide open spaces play an important role in research to determine the level of deadly radioactive fallout resulting from nuclear tests.

Dr. Clinton Blincoe, associate professor of agricultural biochemistry at the University of Nevada, says bossy the cow is a ready-made sampling system which far outdistances research systems requiring highly technical, complicated and expensive apparatus.

"You don't even have to plug her in," he noted.

Blincoe said cattle registered the decrease in fallout of Cesium-137 concentrations in the biosphere following the cessation of atmospheric nuclear weapons testing. Cattle have been used in the state since 1958 as a vital part of the research.

★ ★ ★

Three herds were used as radioactive monitors in the study. One was on the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) test site, one 50 miles east of it, and the other nearly 300 miles north.

CONCENTRATION

Individual animals in each herd, including a yearling and a mature cow, have been slaughtered twice yearly to provide measurements of Cesium-137 concentrations both in the liver and skeletal muscle.

Scientists noted decreases both after the 1959 and 1963 cessation of atmospheric tests. There was no significant difference in the rate of decrease at these times. The same rate of decrease was noted in all three herds.

"Significant in the research is that the cows did accurately monitor the cessation of testing activity by showing decreases in Cesium-137 concentrations," Blincoe said.

★ ★ ★

"None of the cows, even though some were close to the testing areas, showed any harmful accumulations. In fact, concentrations were measured in miniscule amounts."

TESTS GO UNDERGROUND

Since the end of atmospheric tests, the AEC has conducted frequent nuclear explosions underground at the Nevada test site, which recently was enlarged to include a supplemental testing area in central Nevada.

There have been occasional leaks of radioactivity from these blasts, but scientists say there has been little or no danger.

Blincoe said cows have many advantages over machines as reliable indicators of fallout concentrations "and we never have to worry about their blowing a fuse."

★ ★ ★

"They are self-propelled, cover a large area of ground in a day, have low maintenance costs and only require infrequent servicing by technicians," he said.

OTHER HANDY USES

As research sampling systems, he says, cattle have the further advantage of being used directly as human food and of eating the same vegetation as other desert animals eaten by man.

And, in such studies, the ultimate concern usually is man.

Two Found Dead

OWOSSO (AP) — The shooting deaths of a couple at their home near Owosso apparently were a case of murder and suicide, Shiawassee County sheriff's deputies said Sunday. The bodies of James Fritzche, 47, and his wife, Virginia, 43, were found Saturday. Officers said Fritzche apparently killed his wife and turned a deer rifle on himself.

Oakland Twp. Weighing Paint Creek Sewer Tie-Up

By JEAN SAILE

The inclusion of Oakland Township as a participant in the construction of the proposed Paint Creek Sewer Arm is currently under consideration by Township officials and the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

★ ★ ★

The Paint Creek Arm would connect to the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor at a point north of Rochester. The arm was originally engineered to serve the four communities of Oxford, Oxford Township, Lake Orion and Orion Township.

The village of Lake Orion is currently under deadline from the State Water Resources Commission to provide financing plans for an acceptable means of sewage disposal by this fall.

Becuase of the lessening of individual costs through the additional community's participation, county DPW officials have advised building the sewer to accommodate ultimate development rather than just to the year 2,000 as first proposed.

★ ★ ★

By enlarging the capacity, the over-all cost has increased about $1.7 million to a total of $5.7 million, estimates reveal.

The inclusion of Oakland Township is not reflected in the price increase, in that the sewer was to be built through the township anyway on its way to the more northern communities.

Whether or not the residents there wished to buy capacity at the present time or to delay participation until the area is developed further was left to a decision of the township board.

Supervisor George Lyon said that while no formal motion has as yet been passed, one is anticipated at the board's next meeting May 14.

Lyon said he and township Clerk Lucy Alt attended a meeting with representatives of the Oxford-Orion areas April 24 at which time new cost figures were released.

By proceeding to the ultimate design the two villages — Oxford and Lake Orion — have learned that their share of the cost has been cut considerably.

Since payment is based on estimated population and since the ultimate population for the villages should be reached before the year 2,000, the additional cost will be picked up by townships.

It was suggested, however, according to Oxford Township Supervisor Lee Valentine, that payments for the first 10 years be based on the scale set up for the original plan.

This means that for the first 10 years both Oxford and Lake Orion would pay more than their share, but after that time it is proposed that the townships having developed enough to afford it would then be able to reimburse the villages.

The estimated cost per connection fee has dropped from $597 to $251 under the expanded plans.

The communities involved have been given petitions to sign which would allow the county DPW to build their internal system of laterals feeding to the interceptor arm.

The 5.7-million figure includes no internal laterals.

R. J. Alexander, DPW director, said plans are to begin construction of the arm and laterals early next spring. Completion is set for early in 1970 when the Clinton-Oakland will be ready for use.

Troy Company Regional 'M' Week Winner

TROY — Stereodyne, Inc., 2810 Elliott, has been named a winner of the Michigan Week Region 15 (Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties) "Poduct of the Year" Award.

Stereodyne won first place in the consuemer product category for its "Dynapak" stereo tape cartridge.

Another firm, RCA Industrial and Automation Products of Plymouth, received the top regional honor for industrial products with its highway safety call box.

This year's contest was the first, according to Award Chairman Ray Okonski, that separate first place awards were given for industrial and consumer products. In the past, both types have competed for a single award.

★ ★ ★

Stereodyne had previously been named runner-up in the Oakland County contest, which was won by Amphi-Cat U.S.A., 44 S. Squirrel, Oakland Township.

COMPETE FOR HONORS

Both runners-up and winners from the three counties competed for regional honors.

In separate regional agricultural category, first prize went to the Tractor Division of the Ford Motor Co. for its Series 8000 heavy duty tractors.

Regional industrial and consumer award winners will compete for the state "Product of the Year" award, to be judged just before Michigan Week, May 18-25, at Northland Shopping Center in Southfield.

★ ★ ★

Judging for the agricultural product awards will be held during the 1968 Michigan State Fair, Aug. 23-Sept. 2 in Detroit.

Pine Knob PTA Topic Is Communication

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—"Communication Between Parent and Child" is the theme at the Pine Knob PTA meeting at 7:30 tonight.

New officers will be installed and the sixth grade band will play. Refreshments will be served.

Two School Boards Weigh Millage Fate

Two east area school districts were to meet tonight to consider what to do about millage.

Rochester Board of Education has a meeting scheduled for 8 at the board of education offices, 522 W. Fourth, to evaluate the results of last Monday's defeated millage election.

Voters turned down, by a margin of nearly 2-1, an 11.5 operating millage renewal and increase and a 1-mill bonding indebtedness increase.

Of the package, 7 mills were renewal. It is expected the board will attempt to regain at least that amount in another vote June 10.

★ ★ ★

In Avondale, the board of education is to meet at 8:30 to consider the recommendation of a district citizens' study committee that 7.7 operating mills be sought on the June 10 ballot.

FIVE MILLS LESS

The figure is 5 mills less than the tax turned down overwhelmingly by voters in that area Feb. 19.

The study committee's report was delivered to the board last Monday evening. It included areas for proposed economy as well as the recommendation for another millage vote.

The district became sharply divided following February's millage defeat when cutbacks were instituted to control a projected budget deficit for the current year.

In Rochester the hike was asked to enable schools to continue operating with a cash reserve.

★ ★ ★

Though on a deficit budget, the district is not expected to see red ink until sometime next year when its reserve will be used up, according to administrative projections.

OU Program to Outline Agriculture Careers for School Counselors

A program for school counselors to introduce them to career opportunities available through Michigan State University's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources has been set for 8 a.m. tomorrow at the Sunset Room, Oakland University.

Norman Brown, MSU coordinator of student programs, and Dr. Harold Ecker, director of the Institute of Agricultural Technology at MSU, will speak.

★ ★ ★

Richard W. Brown, county extension 4-H youth agent, said such graduates have ranked second in average starting salary among all 13 colleges on the campus. Last year, he said, the average starting salary of agriculture graduates was $8,160 and the demand is so great that not enough qualified people are available.

Race Relations Council Formed in Huron Valley

The Huron Valley Human Relations Council has been formed to improve local understanding of racial problems.

About 75 area residents attended the first meeting recently and decided to work through seven committees: poverty, housing, employment, legislation, library, education and public relations.

The second general meeting is slated for May 14 at 8 p.m. at the Muir Junior High School, 425 George, Milford. Citizens are invited to the meeting and to work with the council.

Although no officers have been selected, Lyle Tyler, 2795 Lakeway, is presiding chairman. Tyler is a trustee on the Huron Valley Board of Education.

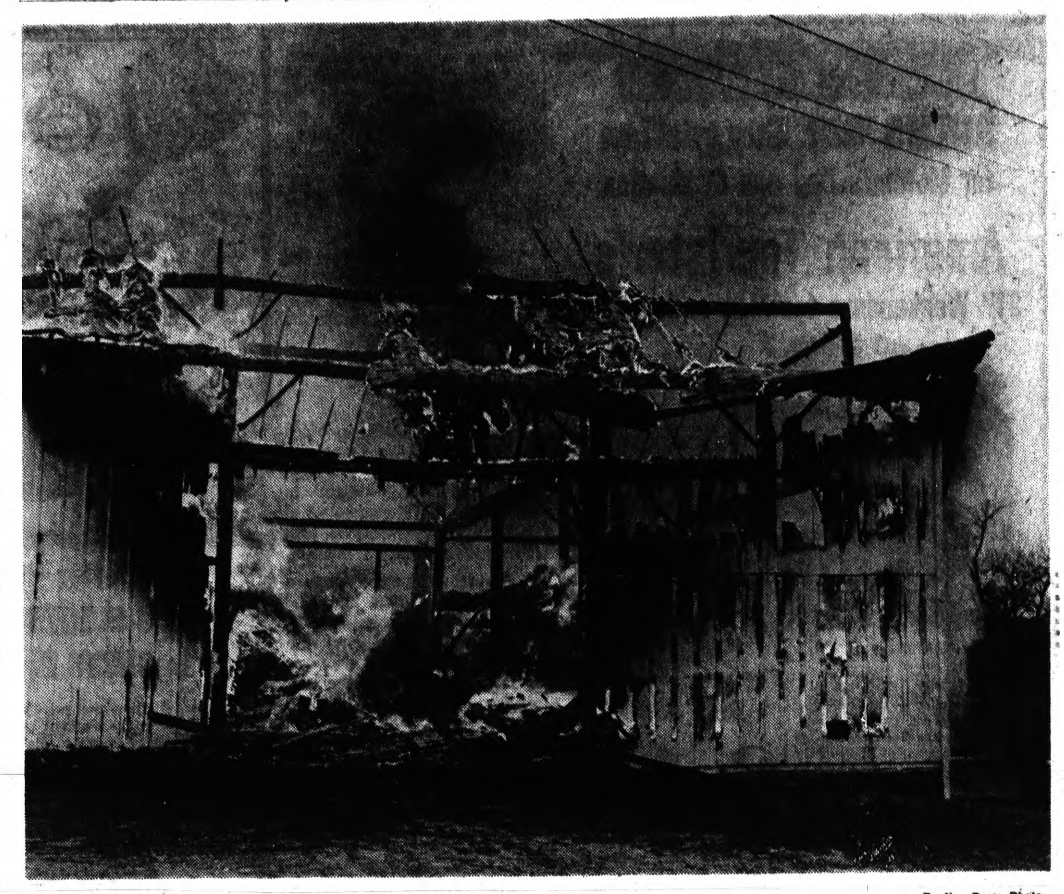

The first meeting was called by Mrs. Martin Boyle, 758 Sweetbriar, upon response to the Operational Understanding program.

The program, sponsored by area churches under the direction of St. Mary's Catholic Church, presented four lectures on racial problems.

The Human Relations Council isn't affiliated with any church.

A statement of principle by the council's nine-man steering committee reads "Existing patterns of segregation and discrimination in American society are incompatible with our moral, religious and democratic teachings and beliefs.

"We believe each of us is called to work in love for the replacement of prejudice, and segregation with free choice."

Woman's Body Found in Vacant House

Imlay Man Held in Murder

IMLAY CITY — A 25-year-old Imlay Township man is being held as a suspect in the murder of Sylvia Ann Langowski, whose body was found in a vacant house near this village a month ago.

Lapeer State Police said today that Elias Flores Barron of 25 Graham was arrested yesterday at his home.

Police said Barron, under the alias Lopez, was being sought in a double murder case in Wisconsin.

The suspect gave police a statement.

Barron was turned over to officers from the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department, police said and is presently being held in St. Clair County Jail.

The body of Mrs. Langowksi, 28, of St. Clair, was found April 4 in a vacant home at 2439 Graham. At that time, examination by Dr. Leon Borouch, Lapeer State Home pathologist, revealed that she had been dead from two to four months.

Lapeer County Sheriff Kenneth A. Parks said the woman had been beaten about the head and face and then shot twice near the left ear with a small-caliber pistol.

About one week later, the body was identified by Mrs. Langowski's husband, John, 46.

Langowski said he had not seen his wife since Feb. 13, when she left their home in St. Clair with another man who was seated in a car parked in front of their home, according to police.

The house on Graham Road where the body was found has been vacant since last fall, according to the owner, Mrs. Virginia Bristol of Almont. Located on the Bristol blueberry farm, the building is used to house migrant workers, she said.

WALLED LAKE — The ordinance for the citywide water system comes up for final adoption at tomorrow night's City Council meeting at 8 at the City Hall, 1500 W. Maple.

Financing of the $1.8-million system is spelled out in the proposed ordinance. As it now is proposed, a single-family dwelling will pay $6 per month for 2,666 and 33 cents for each 1,000 gallons after that up to 10,000 gallons.

The $6 includes a $2 consumption charge and a $4 debt service charge for 30 years.

The fee for commercial and industrial establishments with a 1-inch line is set at $10 per month for 5,000 and 33 cents for 1,000 after that up to 10,000 gallons.

The proposed ordinance was received favorably at a public hearing April 23.

Also on the agenda: taking bids for dust control on city roads and reporting on the cleanup day Saturday.

INTERNATIONAL GET-TOGETHER — Some 75 foreign students attending school in Michigan and about 5,000 guests took part in the American Field Service of Metropolitan Detroit International Festival Saturday and yesterday at Antique Village, 2378 Joslyn, Orion Township. Student panels and entertainment acts ran continuously during the international bazaar, proceeds of which will help to continue the student program.

It Seems to Me . . .

LBJ Candidacy Nix Sincere--- but Might Feel 'Party Draft'

When you question Washington newsmen about the finality of President JOHNSON's declaration "that he's out of the next race," there's a definite unanimity in the replies.

★ ★ ★

LBJ meant precisely what he said and the remark was made sincerely. However, they all incline to the belief that if someone were able to stampede the convention and raise the roof with an overwhelming pandemonium, the President would slide back into the race rather easily.

★ ★ ★

A small percentage feels this may happen through well calculated and deliberate planning, even though the President has no hand in the movement. Some Democrats feel that the President is the only man that can lead the party to an assured victory. They're afraid of NIXON and his increasing popularity and they're uneasy over ROCKEFELLER.

★ ★ ★

Whether the balance of the Democratic delegates would fall obediently in line behind JOHNSON and pick up the cudgel is a moot matter and one that probably can't be determined until the day rolls around.

It's perfectly possible that a planned coup that thrusts Johnson before the convention with wild demonstrations could dictate the nomination. On the other hand, it could very easily die aborting and become a dismal flop. Certainly his name will be presented in one manner or another time after time. Just how great and enthusiastic will be the reception is anyone's guess.

The Kennedy delegation won't go wild. You can bank on that. Neither will the McCarthy supporters. And there's a definite group of Dems that thinks someone else will strengthen the party.

★ ★ ★

And what would the HUMPHREY backers do?

The neutral and uncommitted majority constitute an unanswered question. But the best informed newsmen believe that if any wild demonstration does take place, the President will definitely capitulate and run again.

Ford Executive Retires . . .

This area's growing list of active men in retirement is currently augmented by the addition of JOHN S. BUGAS.

BUGAS

Mr. BUGAS reaches his 60th birthday and he chooses to step aside and relinquish the important roles he has been handling so capably in the Ford Motor Company.

During the formative years of the modern Ford organization, Mr. BUGAS was a staunch ally of HENRY FORD II at a time when loyalty and assistance were vital. A protege of J. EDGAR HOOVER'S, JOHN BUGAS headed the Detroit office of the FBI and he surrendered those reins approximately 25 years ago to become associated with FORD.

The early days of that tense struggle beneath the surface found the FBI director completely with Henry Ford and the new management which ultimately won a strenuous battle for command. The intense faith of Mr. Bugas remained unquestioned throughout his years of service.

★ ★ ★

An especially personable individual, Mr. BUGAS has endeared himself to a whole host of acquaintances in the area and elsewhere. He retires with the complete respect of friends and business associates who hold him in the highest regard. The Ford executive can look upon his active and constructive life at Ford with great pride and hard-earned satisfaction. Few men anywhere have a wider circle of well-wishers.

Double Time Dose . . .

Again the Michigan legislature thrusts "daylight savings" down our unprotected throats—willy-nilly.

Since the State of Michigan has been on "Eastern Time" continuously for 20 years, it means we are now the only State in the union with a double dose.

What a farce!

We have "daylight saving's daylight savings."

★ ★ ★

The farmers lead the cry of injustice. Nature doesn't recognize or obey laws made in Lansing. Mothers will discover that little children don't either and are vocal foes of double daylight savings. They're compelled to go to bed with the sun shining fiercely in the heavens above.

★ ★ ★

Certain counties rose above the legislature's ruling and refused to change their clocks. But in this area we're trapped.

We vote next November.

Let's thumb it down.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Authorities in the near East believe that Russia has beefed up Egypt's military powers to the point her strength is currently far superior to Israel's. The Commies have been especially helpful in donating air power. . . . . Bobby Appeals to the Irrational

By RAYMOND MOLEY

There are great differences among the members of the working press who follow the various campaign trails. Differences in temperament, maturity and judgment. But as a group they possess, more than some of the learned professions, a high degree of intellectual integrity.

MOLEY

Determined to be objective and factual, they report what they see and hear and limit their opinions to their friends and colleagues.

And it should be added that their job is not an easy one. They must travel long distances day by day. Their opportunities for food, refreshment and rest must come at irregular intervals. And they must buffet noisy and disorderly crowds at every stop.

These trials are multiplied for the reporters who must follow the frenzied course of Robert Kennedy. Their accounts are the best measure not only of the New York senator's behavior but of the impact that he has upon the crowds which turn out to see, hear and feel him.

The whole affair is a rather frightening example of irrational behavior. A few excerpts from those reporters' dispatches will suffice to present a picture of what has been happening.

RISKED LIFE

In a Los Angeles motorcade "an ecstatic, sobbing young mother" carrying an infant risked her own life and that of her child to get near Kennedy. The child, jammed into the narrow space between the rear tire and fender of the Kennedy car, was finally dislodged, hurt and bleeding."

At Kansas State University Kennedy was "knocked off his feet by women fighting to touch his hands and his hair. His cufflinks were torn out of his shirtsleeves. His wife was knocked about like a cork in a rough sea."

In Kalamazoo a young housewife hauled herself aboard his car and pulled off his shoe.

One writer reported: "Babies bawl. Small children get knocked down. Teen-age girls go into mindless, screaming frenzy. Everyone shoves and struggles to touch (him). At the center of the mob he is getting mauled," and here the reporter expresses his opinion: "That is precisely what he wants."

There is method and calculation in this madness. The issues Kennedy states are carefully tested for crowd appeal. A Kennedy aide noted: "We didn't know that the statement about replacing the welfare system with one that would give everyone jobs would draw such great response.

"Sen. Kennedy used the statement in almost every appearance, but over the two weeks he altered his speech on other issues."

Perhaps the Kennedy aide was not alive in 1935 and Kennedy himself was only 10 years old, but Franklin D. Roosevelt said the same thing in his annual message:

"The federal government must and shall quit this business of relief . . ." And he outlined a program for more jobs. It didn't work and relief continued.

★ ★ ★

But Mr. Roosevelt really believed he could quit relief. Kennedy knows quite well that the experience of 33 years has proved the permanence of welfare. But what does he care about a little matter of truth and experience?

Dem Spirit Can't Obscure Problems in Big States

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The optimism evident these days around Democratic party headquarters fails to obscure one essential fact: The disrepair of the party machinery in the big states.

The party coffers are unusually full, the staff has been rebuilt and everyone concerned seems happier now that election year is finally here, and the National Committee knows what its job is.

This is to provide a support structure for registration, women's activities and other organizational work necessary for a successful national campaign.

In addition, party leaders reported enthusiasm at regional planning conferences.

But the state of the party in the big states, where Republicans scored smashing victories in 1966 and 1967, remains questionable, with serious new splits threatening in a number of places.

Of the 10 largest states, whose 255 electoral votes are only 14 short of the majority needed for election, Democrats have governors in only 3—New Jersey, Texas and Illinois.

UNIQUE PROBLEM

But in New Jersey, Republicans scored smashing statewide victories last fall; in Texas, the retirement of Gov. John B. Connally has created a void at the head of Democratic ranks; and in Illinois, Republicans scored significant victories in 1966.

The other seven big states present even greater problems for the Democrats, who carried all of them in their landslide 1964 victory.

In California, the party is reduced to one statewide officeholder, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch; is racked by intramural fighting; and must face popular GOP Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel in November.

'Unions Seek Benefits for Working People'

In answer to a recent letter, unions do fight for benefits for all people. Unions have been the largest single group that has fought for years for Medicare. Who do you think started the fight for Blue Cross and Blue Shield? These have helped many people even if they never belonged to a union. Unions are fighting for Social Security raises for all retirees—not just union members—and are involved with trying to get unemployment benefits raised. Unions put pressure on elected legislators—city, county, state and Federal—to get legislation that is a benefit to all working people.

'Vandals Caused Damage to Four Car Tires'

Recently an act of vandalism occurred that is almost beyond comprehension. Nails were planted under the tires of a car owned by my daughter and her husband so that when they backed out of their driveway, all four tires went flat. Besides the cost of repairing the tires, tubes had to be purchased for each. I hope this brings shame to parents who do not know where their children are or what they are doing. This happened in the Jamm Road area of Orion Township.

'We Should Stress Importance of Good Diet'

Recently an editorial appeared in The Press on the subject of cancer. Not near enough is said or printed on prevention. I have no objection to finding ways of curing the dread affliction but we need to stress the need for foods that keep the body healthy. A diet of hamburgs, French fries and cokes or coffee is for the birds. Fresh fruit, leafy vegetables and milk or milk products are a necessity all year. Too many are eating prepared foods crammed with chemicals to preserve them for a year. I am not a diet "nut," just a lover of tasty, nutritious food that will keep a person in good health without resorting to prescriptions from the family physician.

Savage War

London Daily Sketch

Pictures bring home to people in Britain — as nothing else can — the true horrors of the Vietnam war.

For too long, many people in this country have thought of it in terms of the second World War, in which men in uniform, who could be easily identified, fought it out with each other. Then civilians were involved, but mainly when there was bombing.

★ ★ ★

That is why the Americans, whose present policy is to bomb strategic targets in North Vietnam, have come in for so much one-sided criticism. But now we see the war in shocking close-up for what it is.

Now we see it in the raw. The so-called Vietcong army is not an army in the accepted sense — but men treacherously masquerading as civilians.

★ ★ ★

The five battalions of Vietcong reported to have entered Saigon do not conduct maneuvers like soldiers. They enter the city like spies with forged passes; dressed not in battle tunics but in check shirts and peasant clothes.

★ ★ ★

They are not soldiers. They are assassins. They shoot women in the back and gun down children.

They slaughter civilians by design — not through those appalling accidents that are unavoidable in war.

Junk Mail

Citizen Newspapers
Austin, Texas

It is time that the newpapers of the country and other legitimate news media join in protesting the unfair situation that exists so far as junk mail is concerned.

We are concerned about this invasion of privacy about which little is being done.

★ ★ ★

We are disgusted that the U.S. Post Office (which we help subsidize) forces our competitor's messages on the people willy nilly.

We are convinced that the people and the responsible news sources deserve a fairer shake.

This could take the form of a sticker to be legalized and placed on a mailbox reading "First and Second Class Mail Only." It would serve as a continuous vigil that would automatically turn away the bulk of junk mail by those who filled in a prescribed post office form to cover the postman.

★ ★ ★

Secondly, Congress should be asked to pass legislation requiring mass mailers or mailing list brokers to revise their lists at least once a year, with attention to these refusal stickers.

Let's start the protest. Contact your Congressman urging introduction of a measure authorizing refusal by the citizenry of junk mail in the manner suggested.

Hanoi Plans to Keep on Fighting While It Talks Peace

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong's coordinated attacks throughout South Vietnam Sunday provide more evidence of the Communist's plan to keep fighting while they talk peace.

Such a tactic is a dogma evolved by Communist guerrilla fighters over the past few decades. It is one of Chinese Communist boss Mao Tse-tung's principal tenets: Fight fight, talk talk; talk talk, fight fight.

★ ★ ★

The North Vietnamese version of the tactic was clear in directives issued to Communist troops in the South on April 3, the day after Hanoi accepted President Johnson's offer to talk peace.

★ ★ ★

A captured enemy document, dated April 4, informs political cadre that "troops should be indoctrinated to realize fully that in the fight against our barbarous, stubborn and deceitful enemy, we must closely coordinate our military and political struggles with diplomatic offensives.

News Analysis

"There will come the time when we have to accept diplomatic contacts with the U.S. imperialists but such action is not inconsistent with our basic policy on the resistance of Americans for national salvation."

The enemy soldiers were told that the U.S. offer to limit bombing of the North in an attempt to get preliminary talks started is a "deceitful scheme."

★ ★ ★

"The new scheme of the U.S. aggressors should be fully understood among the entire party, army and people," the directive said.

"We must attack the enemy continually and aggressively so as to drive him to the worst possible position.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot afford to entertain an illusion of peace negotiations and relax our weapons. We must take advantage of the enemy's confusion and doubt to surge forward with determination and, through decisive attacks, destroy a large part of the U.S. and puppet (South Vietnamese government) troops, disintegrate the puppet army and government, liberate the rural areas completely and launch armed uprisings in towns and cities in order to defeat the U.S. aggressive will and restore power to the people."

The allies have shown that they can stop any Vietcong or North Vietnamese thrust, but they have not found a way to prevent nationwide intimidation by the Communists.

Who Is Culprit?

Incentive Plan Allows GIs to Live Like Colonel

DONG TAM, Vietnam (AP) — It was enough to make a top sergeant weep.

Three kid soldiers hardly out of basic were in the colonel's trailer, drinking the colonel's beer, propping their feet on the colonel's table and using the colonel's telephone for breezy conversations back to the States.

★ ★ ★

Deplorably out of uniform and with no visible duties, they were flippantly telling ordinary dogface soldiers they were the colonel's guests.

Surely, the Army was coming part at the seams.

No so in the opinion of three GIs.

Pfc. Clark Sutton, a 20-year-old draftee from the Philadelphia suburb of East Greenville, said: "This is the way it ought to be."

'GREAT MAN, GREAT'

Spec. Donald Stringer, a gangly blond 20-year-old infantryman from Tower City, N.D., grinned "We've got the colonel's Jeep, too, just in case we want to ride around."

Opening another can of beer, 19-year-old Sgt. Ronald Perl of Scottsdale, Ariz. shrugged: "Great, man, great!"

The colonel agreed.

★ ★ ★

A lanky, hard-driving field soldier, 43-year-old Col. Hank Emerson of Milford, Pa., commands the 1st Brigade of the 9th Infantry Division operating in the Mekong Delta. As such, he is entitled to a more-or-less plush trailer installed at the division's base in Dong Tam.

Emerson, however, spends most of his time in the field.

The 40-foot trailer, with air conditioning, refrigerator, dinette and bunks for three was hardly being used.

Emerson spread the word through his battalions that the hottest soldier each week would get a weekend off, with the colonel's trailer at his disposal and the icebox loaded. Each Saturday morning a helicopter drops in on the various units, picks up the lucky GI and flies him to the base at Dong Tam.

The dirty GIs were soon in the trailer, enjoying a hot shower and examining the luxury that would be theirs until late Sunday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

"I had three guys in there a few weeks ago who knocked off five cases of beer," Emerson beamed. "Don't ask me how they did it."

The only rule imposed is that the soldiers can't invite their buddies in.

"That trailer is right next door to the general's," Emerson said. "I can't have a battalion of guys in there heaving beer cans around and messing up the joint."

By those standards, Sutton, Stringer and Verl were ideal weekend tenants.

SURPRISES DAD

"We goofer off until late and drank a lot of beer," said Stringer. "But we never got close to five cases. And we cleaned the place up when we left.

"I called my dad and he didn't know what to think I told him I was a guest of the colonel and he yelled, 'You're what?' I guess he thought I had gotten in trouble."

They certainly had gotten in no trouble. Sutton, an artilleryman with a 105mm howitzer battery, and Stringer, an infantryman, had won their weekend pass by plain hard soldiering during a dusty week.

★ ★ ★

Perl, platoon radioman, had won not only a weekend pass but the Silver Star and a spot promotion as well, killing three Vietcong with one burst from his M16 and another with a grenade.

All three were so tired they dropped off for a quick nap as soon as they got in the trailer Saturday morning. They were beaming and rested when they went back in the line late Sunday.

"Only trouble with the whole thing," said smooth-cheeked Stringer, "was that the platoon sergeant made me shave my moustache off before I came down. Now I've got to start again."

Tribal Belief

Bahnar tribesmen of Vietnam believe good souls go under the earth after death, but bodies remain above ground in their long coffins, the National Geographic Society says. Bad souls, taken into the sky, must live with daughters of evil spirits.

That's a Twist

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Fred Hodgkinson, who runs a chain of dry-cleaning establishments in Dublin, commented after backing losing horses all day at the Leopardstown Races:

"As far as I'm concerned, you can report that the cleaners were taken to the books."

Britain to Spend More Cash for Black Immigrant Welfare

LONDON (AP) — Britain's prosperous areas face cuts in government spending for education, health and housing because Prime Minister Harold Wilson is allocating more money for the welfare of colored immigrants to ease Britain's racial problems.

Wilson said in industrial Birmingham Sunday his Labor government will make an "urgent examination" of 57 areas crowded with immigrants and set up an urban program for the overburdened regions.

★ ★ ★

The money, he indicated, will have to be diverted from areas under less pressure.

Wilson said nearly $2.2 billion will be spent this year on areas inhabited by poor immigrants. This compares with $1.15 billion four years ago, he added.

DEMONSTRATORS TURNED BACK

Police shoved back rival factions of demonstrators who tried to approach the prime minister after he wound up his first speech on race problems since Conservative Enoch Power touched off a story last month with an inflammatory speech against colored immigration.

★ ★ ★

Mounted police and constables pushed back about 200 colored immigrants who surged toward Wilson as he left the City Hall. Another police cordon held back whites shouting support for Powell.

Wilson called in his speech for an all-party campaign to take race out of politics.

"I am not prepared to stand aside and see this country engulfed by the racial conflict which calculating orators or ignorant prejudice can create," he declared.

CONCERN ACKNOWLEDGED

The prime minister acknowledged that his government is concerned about immigration from the West Indies, Pakistan and India and said, "we must keep a fairly tight control over the entry of dependents."

Britain, he said, had issued employment vouchers to fewer than 5,000 immigrant workers last year but 52,000 dependents had entered the country.

★ ★ ★

"The load on our educational system, to say nothing of housing, health and welfare, is such that the strictest control is now necessary," Wilson said.

Britain's colored community now numbers about one million and makes up two per cent of the population.

★ ★ ★

A weeklong series of local elections began today and are being watched, not only for the standing of the Labor party, but also for any effects of the recent Conservative split between Powell's supporters and those who cloak their opposition to colored immigration in more moderate guise.

Conservatives predict they will add to what is already a record number of towns, cities and counties under their control. Labor holds fewer local councils now than at any time since 1945.

Wilson does not have to call a national election until 1971. But widespread defeat of Labor candidates in the local polling would be considered evidence of a further swing of the national political pendulum toward the Conservatives.

★ ★ ★

Politicians from both parties predict the Tories will do better this time than Labor did in the 1964 local elections, five months before Labor won the general election and Wilson became prime minister.

The Conservatives now control 37 of the 58 British cities with population over 100,000, none of these is believed in serious danger this time.

SHIFT SEEN IN LONDON

The bigger shifts are expected in the first elections since 1964 for the 32 boroughs of London. These elections were due last year and were postponed by the government.

Labor now controls 20 London boroughs and the Conservatives 12. The Conservatives predict they will win control of 25 to seven for Labor. A Labor party spokesman declined to make a prediction.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Negro Forces Possible Runoff

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina's first Negro candidate for governor polled only 18 per cent of the vote but may have forced his two white opponents into a second primary runoff and says, "This is just the beginning."

Dr. Reginald A. Hawkins of Charlotte said, "North Carolina politics will never be the same. We'll have to be reckoned with . . . when you get over 100,000 votes, you become a force."

★ ★ ★

Hawkins, 44, a dentist, minister and civil rights leader, had 124,558 votes in Saturday's unofficial returns from 2,153 of the state's 2,191 precincts.

As expected, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, 38, a dairy farmer and veteran politician, led the three-way race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, receiving 325,510 or 48.1 per cent of the vote.

Running second was Mel Broughton, 45, a lawyer in Raleigh seeking his first statewide office. He polled 225,583 or 33.4 per cent of the vote and has the option to call for a second primary.

House Panel Meets on Surtax Plan Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prodded anew by President Johnson, the House Ways and Means Committee—which has sat on his income tax hike proposal since last August—takes another look at the measure.

On the eve of the tax-writing committee's closed meeting today, Johnson warned Congress that further delay in passing his proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge "is a ticket to disaster."

★ ★ ★

The warning came in letters Sunday to House Speaker John W. McCormack, Chairman Wilber D. Mills, D-Ark., of the ways and means committee and other House leaders.

Johnson also put in writing his willingness to accept a $4 billion cut in federal spending.

But he stated further his $186 billion budget is a tight one and made clear he wasn't suggesting cuts but rather acceding to those he views as necessary to get congressional backing for the tax boost.

It remained unlikely, however, that Congress—if it's willing to accept any tax increase—would settle for $4 billion in spending cuts.

The Senate already has passed the tax boost bill tied to a $6-billion spending slash.

★ ★ ★

And Mills has indicated it would be futile to ask House members, facing reelection this year, to approve cuts lower than the Senate's.

★ ★ ★

Many Capitol Hill observers viewed Johnson's verbal assault Friday on Congress for refusing to approve the tax hike as an indication he thinks its chances have all but vanished and wanted to place blame on the Republicans.

The Battle of Ft. Sullivan, June 28, 1776, was the first major colonial victory of the American Revolutionary.

'Detention Centers' in U.S. Are Proposed for Antiguerrilla Use

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use of "detention centers" as a counter move to any widespread guerrilla warfare by a Communist-black nationalist coalition has been suggested in a House committee's report.

Chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., in a foreward to the 65-page report issued by his House Committee on Un-American Activities, said:

"There can be no question about the fact that there are mixed Communist and black nationalist elements in this country which are planning and organizing guerrilla-type operations against the United States."

★ ★ ★

In a section dealing with actions that could be taken against a systematic, guerrilla-style attempt to overthrow the government by rioting in the slums, the report states:

"Acts of overt violence by the guerrillas would mean that they had declared a 'state of war' within the country and, therefore, would forfeit their rights as in wartime.

TEMPORARY IMPRISONMENT

"The McCarran Act provides for various detention centers to be operated throughout the country and these might well be utilized for the temporary imprisonment of warring guerrillas."

Also suggested as a countermove was issuance of "census cards" that would bear a photograph of each slum-dweller and information about their home city and their street address.

★ ★ ★

"This classification would aid the authorities in knowing the exact location of any suspect and who is in control of any given district," said the report.

"Under such a system, movement would be proscribed and the ability of the guerrilla to move freely from place to place seriously curtailed."

1965 DEFECTION

Willis said most of the report was prepared by Phillip Abbott Luce, described as a one-time activist in the pro-Red Chinese Progressive Labor Party prior to his defection from communism in 1965.

★ ★ ★

The report says Communists and black nationalists believe Negroes should be used as the shock troops in a revolution, with Negro slums their base of guerrilla operations.

★ ★ ★

"These tacticians think that there will be but a short jump from riots to a general rebellion carried out along guerrilla warfare lines," it added.

The report purported to document calls for urban guerrilla warfare by groups such as the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) and its leader, Peking-based Robert Williams; the Revolutionary Contingent, which it called "an openly Communist organization" based in New York and "key leaders of the Students for a Democratic Society," such as former SDS chairman Thomas Hayden.

Get free Tank Bottom Inhibitor Additive for your tank with a fill this summer. Pay nothing until fall.

Summer is tough on oil tanks. If they sit empty, they tend to rust and corrode as moisture forms on the bottom. With your summer fill, we add our Tank Bottom Inhibitor Additive. This new chemical settles to the bottom, neutralizes moisture and prevents rust. Yet never mixes with the oil itself. Protect now, be ready for winter, and don't pay a dime until fall. It's inevitable. The colored dress shirt isn't a passing fancy; it's a fashion fact . . . and it'll be coloring your wardrobe from here on in. Why not? Color adds a handsome accent to any suiting, gives your whole wardrobe (and you) a fresh dimension, a fashion savoir faire. Try an antique gold shirt with an earthtone suit, or one toned with green. Try a fern green shirt with a black suit, or a dark blue, a grey, another green. Try brick red with light tan or earth brown. Try dark blue with tan or grey . . . brown with beige or oyster. Try rum and raspberry, teak and gold, French blue, lime green, beaujolais and silver grey, orange and sun yellow, chamois and chambray grey, mint and maize. And substantiating the fashion-rightness of the colored dress shirt this summer are the labels in them: Hathaway, Oleg Cassini, Gant, Bill Blass, to name a few of the celebrated shirtmakers in our current collection. There are many fabrics, many of them permanently-pressed; in regular, spread, and button-down collar styles; priced from $5 to 13.50.

Concerned Person to Rescue

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: One of the evils of living in a big city is the hesitancy of people to "get involved," as was tragically illustrated in the case of Kitty Genovese, who was killed in full view of 13 neighbors — none of whom wanted to get involved.

ABBY

In the apartment building next to mine is a woman I have never seen, much less met. She has two pre-school children. Abby, I can hear this woman screaming at those children from morning 'til night. The children sometimes cry and sob for long periods. Although this is disturbing, the situation itself is what disturbs me more. As far as I know, the woman hasn't broken any law, but when she shouts like a mad woman, "I JUST CAN'T STAND THIS ANYMORE," I fear for what she might do to those children. None of the neighbors or I have ever seen them outside — not once—and children need fresh air.

I admit I, too, don't want to "get involved," but I feel that something should be done. I never hear a man's voice, so I assume there is no father at home.

Is there anything I, an outsider, can or should do? Thank you—"A MOTHER, TOO"

DEAR MOTHER: Yes. You can knock on her door, and tell her in a friendly way that you have heard her—that you are a mother, too, and realize how unnerving little ones can be, so if she would like a few hours away from her children, she may leave them with you. Begin by offering your friendship, and if she accepts, you can then encourage her to get professional help.

If the woman slams the door in your friendly face, report her to the authorities for "disturbing the peace." In this way they will be able legally to look in on her and determine whether she is competent to raise her children.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Re; changing one's name to something easier to spell and pronounce: If MR. GRZEKOWIAK had to actually change his name in order to get a woman to marry him—well.

My name happens to be WILHELM KURT KLEINSTEINBUERGERMEISTER, a proud old German name, meaning "Little Stone Mayor" in English.

So far, it has not presented any problem because I have never asked a girl to assume it. — Signed, — WILHELM KURT KLEINSTEINBUERGERMEISTER.

DEAR MR. KLEINSTEINBUERGERMEISTER: With all due respect to your "proud old German name," should you ever ask an American girl to assume it, chances are you will become "BILL KLEIN."

Teas and Coffees by 'Fair' Women

Teas and coffees are being held to gather items to stock the Trinkets and Treasures booth at the Meadow Brook Fair June 14, 15 and 16.

This three-day outdoor event is slated to become an annual affair to raise money for various OU projects, including scholarships and Meadow Brook Theatre.

Donated items are being sought, particularly from people in the midst of moving or just plain housecleaning.

Anyone who wants items picked up or invitation to one of the teas may call Mrs. Richard B. Darragh on Ardmore Drive.

Wants Advice on Repaying Kind Friends

BY ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: While I was in the hospital recently, several friends had my husband and children to their homes for dinner. Is repayment of these invitations necessary? If so, is there any way to repay them other than in kind? I have no servants and do not feel up to entertaining just yet. —Mrs. Finley

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Finley: Sooner or later you should repay these kindnesses, but right now it's enough to let your friends know how much you appreciate their kindness. Write a note of thanks and say that you hope they will come to dinner as soon as you feel stronger.

You might also send a small gift such as candy or flowers. This isn't necessary but would be a nice gesture.

"DATE"

Dear Mrs. Post: Could you please tell me if it is proper for a girl to invite a boy to be her escort at a girl friend's wedding if she has never dated him and he doesn't know either the bride or groom? — Tina

★ ★ ★

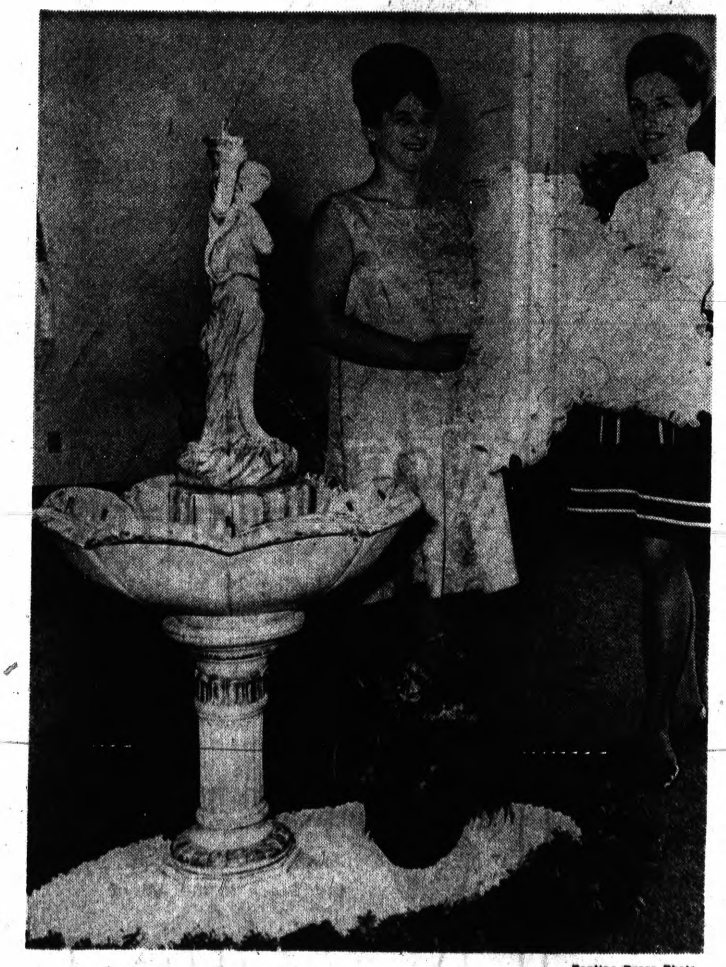

Dear Tina: No, it isn't proper. It isn't right for a girl to ask a boy to any event until she has had a date or two with him. She would, with the bride's permission, be welcome to take a date who was unacquainted with the couple, but it should be a good friend of hers, not someone with whom she is is trying to advance a courtship.

China Ordered for White House Depicts Flower of Every State

BY BOB VOELKER
Associated Press Writer

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — In a room at the Shenango Chinaware Co. workers are putting the final delicate touches on some of the most carefully handled china in the country. They're making a new set of dishes for the state dining room of the White House.

The project has spanned 2½ years and the 2,256 pieces are to be delivered this month.

The cost is about $80,000. But don't fret, tax payers. The White House Historical Society is paying.

There are 216 settings of 10 pieces each and each setting is costing about $325. Also, there are 96 serving bowls.

DESIGN

The design is floral — a sharp departure from previous White House state dining room patterns that had an official, imposing look. All 50 state flowers are represented.

They look sort of folksy, like something you would see at grandma's house.

★ ★ ★

A special problem was getting the colors of the flowers just right. Mrs. Johnson wanted them perfectly authentic.

A Tiffany designer did the art work, brushing in more than 100 color tones.

CUPS

The only unusual feature in the styling is the size of the cups. They are teeny-weeny — about the size of a good-sized doubleheader glass.

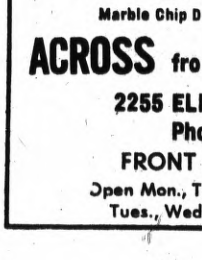

In case you're wondering what makes up a set of White House state dining room china, here's the list — service plate, dinner plate, luncheon plate, fish plate, salad plate, cup and saucer, cream soup cup and saucer and deep soup plate.

The current set has been in use since the Truman administration in 1951.

Beauty Therapy for Ex-Prisoners

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Because she believes that a fresh hairdo is the best therapy in the world and not a luxury, but a necessity, Mrs. Charles G. Gilmore Jr. has donated beauty shop equipment to Magdala House, a halfway house for women released from prisons.

"Nothing boosts the morale of a female more than a shampoo and a new hairdo, be she 3 or 103 years old," Mrs. Gilmore says. She will teach residents at Magdala House good grooming and proper care of the skin, which she feels are all-important in securing a job.

Sharon Norton Is Wed

Sharon Marie Norton was escorted to the candlelit altar of Bethany Baptist Church Saturday evening where she and Michael Bert Lemon exchanged vows.

For her bridal ensemble, the daughter of the Charles W. Nortons of Cloverton Street chose a Chantilly lace sheath styled with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and full tiered skirt. Seed pearls and sequins highlighted her Sabrina neckline.

★ ★ ★

To complement her attire, she wore a full sweeping lace chapel train and a triple crown of pearls and crystals securing a bouffant veil.

The bride's bouquet, red roses encircled by white roses and Stephanotis, was carried on a white Bible.

Sue Wright attended as maid of honor with Karen Lemon, the bridegroom's sister, as flower girl. Bridesmaids were Sharon Brill and Patricia Hagberg.

ESQUIRE SIDE

Best man honors for the son of the Glen B. Lemons of Charlevoix were performed by Larry Taylor with Leland Wood as ring bearer. Ushers were Joseph E. Metzger II and Roger Sievertson.

Following a reception at the Mountain View Country Club, the newlyweds departed for a honeymoon trip to northern Michigan and Niagara Falls.

★ ★ ★

Psi chapter will hold a spaghetti dinner and millionaires party May 18 at Gingellville Community Center.

This was announced at last week's meeting in the Aquarina Drive home of Mrs. Bisogni. Her cohostess was Mrs. James DeFlorio.

The group will also hold its annual benefit sale May 25 at the VFW Hall on Auburn Avenue.

Coconut Coats Cheese Balls

Coconut hors d'oeuvre are good alone or with fruit salad. Soften 1 (8-ounce) package of cream cheese, and add 1½ tablespoons of chopped chutney, 1 teaspoon of curry powder, and a dash of salt.

★ ★ ★

Chill slightly and shape into about 36 bite-size balls. Roll in flaked coconut.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Lindstrom of Coleman Drive announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Elaine, to Ronald Carl Tarlton. His parents are Mrs. Juanita Tarlton of Airport Road and Keith E. Tarlton of Pontiac Road, Pontiac Township. A December wedding is being planned.

Modern Methods Aid Teacher in Farm-Style Tasks

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Mary Edith Crist, a city high school teacher who grew up on a farm, still bages her own bread and churns her own butter but she performs these old-fashioned tasks the modern electrical way.

She puts cream, which she skims off milk brought from a nearby farm and allows to sour, into a blender for a minute or so. Then she pours it in a gallon jar and shakes the contents until the butter collects.

She bakes several loaves of bread at a time, slices the fresh bread, puts it in plastic bags and freezes it. "It tastes like fresh-baked bread when reheated," she says.

Bridal Season Is Puzzlement to First-Time Party Hostesses

By JEANNE NELSON

Our Women's Department phones have been ringing in an unending pattern since the coming of spring.

What's it all about? The bridal season—that's what.

Would-be prebridal party hostesses have been besieging us with questions on how to—what to—and where to?

To answer at least the biggest part of them in one fell swoop, we took to the books. Here and there a note of disharmony is found among the experts' writings, but all things considered, the rules are fairly stable.

WHO?

No close relatives of the bride-to-be or her fiance may host a shower. The first far-enough-removed relative from family intimacy to host such an affair would be a cousin.

In many cases, a close friend of the engaged pairs' parents will entertain. Except for the honoree, the guest list in this case could be limited to that generation and include most of the relatives.

★ ★ ★

Any member of the bride's wedding party (except a close relation) may host such a gala. Indeed, it is almost expected and may be given jointly if the wedding preparation costs get out of hand.

Here the invitations should revolve around peers and younger relatives of the honored guest and bridegroom-to-be.

WHAT

The atmosphere should be gay and if possible a surprise to the young woman. Parties may take the form of a brunch, luncheon, tea, dinner, outdoor supper or just an informal social evening with light refreshments.

WHERE

A hostess for any of these events may use her own home, home of a close relative or friend, or engage the facilities of a club, hotel or other suitable accommodations.

"Showering" the bride-to-be with gifts often gets out of hand today with one guest trying to outdo another. Presents for showers are not intended to be expensive or elaborate. They are token gifts and should not be in the same realm of cost as the wedding present.

Thank you notes are not necessary for shower gifts unless the donor is not present at the festivities.

Prenuptial parties may honor both the girl and her fiance. Often with this type, household gifts are brought to the girl and amusing inexpensive gifts for the young man.

Sometimes the couple will be "showered" with home entertainment gifts, e.g. bar equipment and outdoor cooking utensils.

Planning a shower of any kind will be easier if the hostess has a definite theme or color pattern in mind. Food, table settings and activities will be simpler to arrange with this kind of guide.

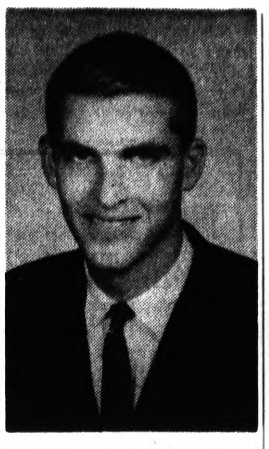

The thoughtful hostess will also arrange to have some sort of large container to carry the gifts home when the party's over.

INVITATIONS

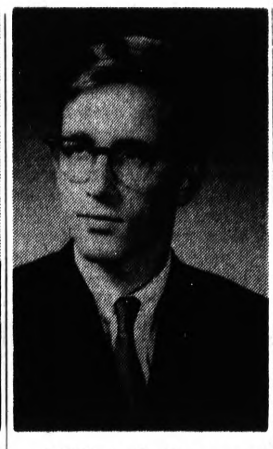

Among certain ethnic groups, a large gathering is more traditional than the small intimate type of shower. If this is the accepted practice in the community, it should be observed.

Invitations may be lighthearted and colorful or can be of the more formal variety. Be sure they are sent out in plenty of time (about two weeks before.) The type of shower should always be indicated and if possible color suggestions given.

It's a warm gesture and a custom practiced widely today for the parents of the bridegroom-to-be to host the rehearsal dinner. This is usually given the evening before the wedding.

James G. Endress was awarded a Bachelor degree in Mechanical Engineering, Cum Laude, at the University of Detroit commencement exercises Saturday. James is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Zachary Endress of Bloomfield Hills.

William S. Deacon was recently graduated from the University of Michigan where he was awarded a BS degree in Chemistry. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Deacon of Second Avenue.

URSU-SHEFFIELD

Catherine Sheffield and Thomas Paul Ursu were united Saturday in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Parents of the bridal couple are the Carl F. Sheffields of Chadwick Drive and the Peter Ursus of Cheboygan, Mich. Gowned in a traditionally styled ensemble of organza and lace, the bride completed her outfit with an illusion veil secured by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ursu Jr. stood as honor attendants for the couple later feted at a reception in Middle Straits Community Association Hall. A honeymoon to northern Michigan followed.

McREYNOLDS-ALSTAT

Kathy Louise Alstat, daughter of the William Alstats of Nichols Drive and Gary Bruce McReynolds, son of the George McReynolds of Midvale Street were wed Saturday. Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church was the setting for the vows and later reception. Peau d'ange lace bordered the hemline of the bride's A-line gown. Her shoulder illusion veil fell from a matching lace petal headpiece and she carried a cascade of miniature white carnations and orchids. Sherian Rutherford and Michael Hamilton stood as honor attendants with ushers, Patrick Haney and Robert Davis.

BLASCYK-LANE

Following a reception Friday at the Italian American Club, Lawrence Peter Blascyk and his bride (nee Sally Jane Lane) left for a Canadian honeymoon. They exchanged vows earlier that evening in St. Michael's Catholic Church where she was gowned in Chantilly lace and nylon. A cluster of white roses capped her bouffant veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations and Stephanotis. Honor attendants were Mrs. James Maggard and Michael Blascyk. Bridesmaids were Sue McMahon and Leona Drake with ushers David Tucker and Robert Polesnak. The bride is the daughter of the John C. Lanes of North Perry Street. Parents of the bridegroom are the Stephen Blascyks of Adams Street.

DeLaROSA-SHELTON

A morning ceremony in St. Michael's Catholic Church Saturday ,united Linda Diane Shelton and Anthony DeLaRosa. Their parents are the James Sheltons and the Jesse DaLaRosas, both of Ivy Street. Nancy Willard was maid of honor for the bride who was gowned in a white chiffon ensemble featuring Empire lines and Venetian lace sleeves. Her short illusion veil fell from a petal headpiece and she carried yellow daisies with white rose buds. The flower girl was Sheri Sakell. Robert Fulks was best man with ushers, Joe and Jesse DeLaRosa, the bridegroom's brothers. Following a reception in Fisher Body Union Hall, the newlyweds left for a Niagara Falls honeymoon.

Garden Perfumes Speaker's Subject

"Frangrance in Your Garden" was the subject of a demonstration-talk given by Mrs. Robert Dorman before the May meeting of Interlakes Farmand Garden Association.

Mrs. A. J. Zujko hosted the group in her Hammond Lake home. She was assisted by Mrs. Victor Sutt and Mrs. Charles Sempere.

The annual petunia sale is scheduled May 22. The Spring Council meeting will also take place on that date at Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens.

Wallpaper Decals

When you need decals to decorate the cupboard doors to match the kitchen wallpaper pattern, cut appropriate parts of the pattern from leftover wallpaper and paste them to the doors.

You will find them lovelier and matching more perfectly than any you could buy.

Larry Thornes Wed at Home

Saturday afternoon vows in the home of the bride were exchanged by Linda Rae Pickering and Spec. 4 Larry E. Thorne, USA.

Their parents are Mrs. Clyde I. Pickering of Baldwin Avenue and the late Mr. Pickering and the Russell L. Thornes of Washington Street.

The bridegroom's sister and brother, Mrs. Wilfred Caswell Jr. and Gary Thorne stood as honor attendants for the pair feted later at a reception in the Old Mill.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom will be returning to his base at Ft. Eustis, Virginia.

Several Jaycee Women Hostesses for Dinner

A progressive dinner preceded the recent general membership meeting of the Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary.

Hosting the various courses were Mrs. Jack Rhoades, Woodbine Drive; Vere Hodges, Ottawa Drive with Mesdames Bruce Norvell and Richard Brown; and Richard Jorgensen, Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. James LaVergne, Mrs. David Ogg and Mrs. William Landis were named as delegates to the Jaycee state convention in Grand Rapids this weekend.

In the election of officers at the business meeting, Mrs. Ogg was elected president. Other new officers are Mesdames: Landis, Richard Hundza, Jack Nicholas, Brown, Terrance Tollefson and Myron Cirka.

The auxiliary will hold a bake sale at the May 25 Flea Market in Rochester.

Towel Tips for Neatness

"A place for everything and everything in its place" is a rule that large families find difficult to follow.

To help the children keep the bathroom neat, here's a suggestion from the National Cotton Council that should be an incentive.

Put up a hook or towel ring for each child's towel and wash cloth. Before attaching to the wall, spray-point each hook a different color: perhaps blues and greens for boys, rose red and pink for girls.

Or use decorative cotton terry towels in the same color, but different patterns. Give striped towels to the boys, pretty floral prints to girls.

Create Your Own Fashion Look

Look-alike fashions are a favorite of twins but most of us want individuality in the way we dress. If you knit, your custom choice of styles, color and fiber is built-in insurance against carbon copy fashion.

History is replete with tales of unsung heroines seeking new fashion liberties. Some, it's true, went to uncommon lengths to build an individual fashion look.

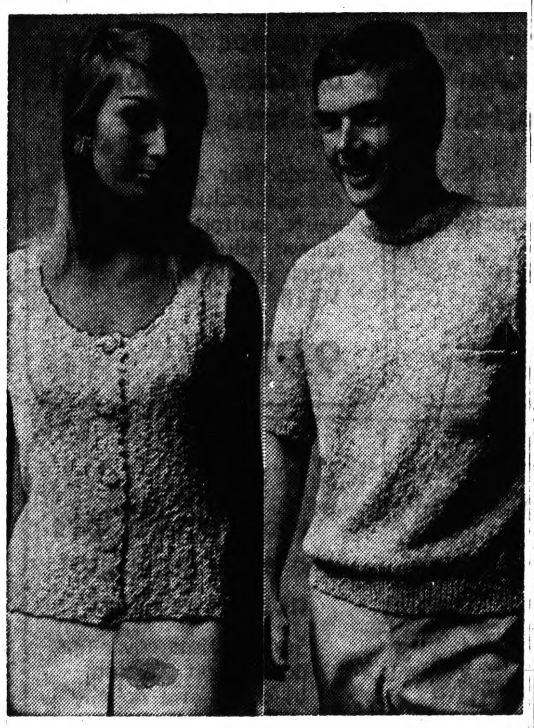

In the early part of the 20th century, Queen Victoria's granddaughter, Czarina Alix, created a near scandal during an official visit to the Austrian court. In an era when pastels were a fashion must, the czarina made her court appearance in a black costume patterned after a man's suit, complete with black tie and tiny white collar. Today this costume hardly is news!

Later in this century, the Hon. Mrs. Reginald Fellowes became famous in her own circle by wearing jewels to the beach and attending the Ascot in a strange state—hatless. Once at a dinner dance, she discovered another woman wearing the same black tulle dress, trimmed in ostrich feathers, that she had chosen for the occasion. With complete aplomb, she summoned scissors from a waiter, cut off the feathers and shaped them into a fan.

Today, creating a fashion look all your own is easier than ever. This season for example, skirt lengths above, below and to the middle of the knee are acceptable — so suit yourself. And you who knit have an edge on individualty. The overblouse I'm showing today is a classic example.

This topper can be worn for sport or dress. You can knit it in Bernat's summery Cott 'n Silk yardn in white, natural to frsted pastels.

For your copy of the knitting instructions for both the overblouse and pullover, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, care of The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N. Y. 10019. Please ask for leaflet No S140 and include your name, address and zip code.

Knit now for summer with a lightweight cotton and silk yarn in cooling colors. Knitting directions for the woman's shell and man's pullover are available.

The accident happened on Greer east of Hiller, according to township police.

AFSCME Raps Waterford School Job Cutbacks

Members of the union representing nonteaching employes of the Waterford Township School District have voted to protest employment policies of the school board.

Robert Hatfield, who was elected Saturday as president of Local 1295 of the American Federation of State, County and Minicipal Employes, said the membership approved a resolution against the administration at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Hatfield said the membership is protesting cutbacks being made in jobs. He said about 10 persons were laid off starting in February and more are expected to lose their jobs soon.

The school district has been in an austerity program pending approval of additional millage. A 15-mill renewal issue was being voted on by township voters today. The union has supported the millage levy, Hatfield said.

Wayne Sheriff Quits to Avoid a Hearing

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Sheriff Peter Buback resigned today to avoid an ouster hearing ordered by Gov. George Romney.

Buback made his announcement at a news conference in Detroit. He said he had decided not to go through a long, contested hearing which he said might take as many as six or seven weeks and prove to be expensive.

★ ★ ★

"Nor will I voluntarily expose my family and myself to a repetition of the sensationalism with which such a hearing would undoubtedly be exploited by muckrakers," Buback said.

The 58-year-old sheriff said he was a victim of "injustice and persecution."

REELECTION?

Buback refused to comment on the question of whether he might seek a reelection to the office next November.

Legal sources said that Buback's successor would be appointed by a three-man board consisting of the county clerk, prosecutor and chief judge of Probate Court.

★ ★ ★

Buback had been under fire because of an alleged traffic ticket-fixing scandal in the sheriff's department.

He was indicted in 1966 for neglect of duty.

★ ★ ★

"After many months of harassment, anguish and anxiety," Buback said, "the charges were dismissed by a circuit judge on motion of the attorney general.

PREFERRED TRIAL

"I would have preferred to have the case go to trial before a judge and jury so that the public could learn from the evidence produced in open court that the indictment was completely unfounded," he said.

Romney recently ordered attorney general Frank Kelley to proceed with an ouster hearing against Buback.

Contest Canceled

"Due to sickness of certain contestants the Knights of Pythias public speaking contest planned for tomorrow night will be canceled," a spokesman for the Knights of Pythias, Pontiac Lodge 19, said today.

Singer-performer Harry Belafonte in accepting an honorary doctor of humane letters at Park College, Parkville, Mo., yesterday said.

BELAFONTE

"The universities today think that giving a few scholarships to poverty or ghetto students, the establishment of a black history course, or even the hiring of one or two black faces to their faculties is enough. It is important, but far from being adequate."

Describing himself as a high school dropout, Belafonte gave the commencement address for Park's 59-member graduating class.

"Corporatism or humanism, which will it be?" he asked, speaking of their future. "Will you be a grudging apologist for the corporate state? Or will you help try to change it, not in the name of this or that blueprint or ism, but in the name of simple human decency and democracy?"

Ex-Crooner to Wed Greek Socialite, 25

Gene Austin, 67, who crooned "My Blue Heaven" to fame, announced his engagement yesterday to a 25-year-old Greek socialite, Dora Arvan.

The engagement was announced at a party at the Miami Beach, Fla., home of Miss Arvan's mother.

Little Old Image Makers Ply an Ancient Trade

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Image-making is a fairly new political gimmick that became possible when television brought modern advertising techniques into the campaigns.

WEST

True or false?

To answer that question we have with us in the studio today Dr. Keith Melder, curator of the Smithsonian Institution's division of political history.

★ ★ ★

Melder has recorded a couple of tapes for use in school programs and in them he puts to rest any notion that campaigns in the olden days revolved around issues rather than fabricated conceptions of the candidates.

"Image-making is as old as politics," he says.

FAVORITE IMAGE

Melder's favorite presidential image is the one that was built for William Henry Harrison in 1840.

"He was identified with the log cabin and hard cider image, implying that he was really a rustic Democrat instead of the wealthy aristocrat he actually was," Melder notes.

Very well. From this we may conclude that the only difference between the campaigns of yore and those of today is the method of image construction.

All of the early political images were hand-crafted. Before embarking on a campaign, a candidate would pay a call on the little ol' image-maker who had a small shop around the corner.

TYPICAL CONVERSATION

Chances are there would be a gilt sign on his door reading: "Fine Images since 1782." The conversation might go like this:

"What can I do for you today, Mr. Harrison."

"I'm thinking of running for president and I need a rustic Democratic image. Can you build one for me?"

"Sure thing, Mr. Harrison. I got in a fresh load of logs and hard cider barrels only last week. I can have it ready for you in about five days."

★ ★ ★

WITH A SERVICE DEPARTMENT

In the rear is a service department where images that develop defects are called back for correction.

Not long ago I was invited to go image shopping with a congressional candidate who is preparing for the 1968 campaign. Tune in tomorrow for all the details.

Rite for Auto Man

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Private graveside rite will be held Tuesday at Dayton for Zerbe C. Bradford, one of the last members of the world famed team of automotive inventors led by the late Charles F. (Boss) Kettering. Bradford, 77, died Friday at his home in Dayton. He was a draftsman on the Kettering team which early in the 1900s invented the self-starter and other automotive components.

Computers Can Set Profs Free

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Computers can free professors and save higher education from becoming impersonal rather than making it more so, an educator said.

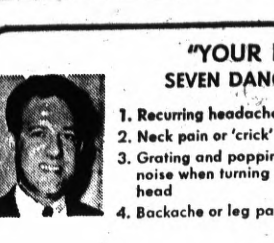

"Far from enslaving the student and professor, modern teaching tools and techniques can liberate them from the rigid compulsions of conventional instruction," Alvin C. Eurich told the seventh annual California Teachers Association. Eurich is president of the Academy for Educational Development in New York.

$4.50 per hundred on a loan is 4½% interest, right?
WRONG!

Only the Johnsons knew the truth.

Would you believe that only 1 out of 105 families knows how much interest they pay for auto financing? Here's a shocker:

One hundred and five families were asked that question in a university survey. Only one family (let's call them the Johnsons) knew the true annual interest they were paying.

Of thirty families who thought they knew, estimates ranged from 5 to 12 per cent interest, when actually they were paying 12 to 40 per cent. There's a reason for this confusion. Many car loans are advertised at $4.50 per hundred. People think this means 4½ per cent true annual interest. IT DOESN'T. You're actually paying nearly 9 per cent—when you can get it. (Not everyone qualifies: It applies only to new cars, depends on the down payment, etc.)

Before you buy a car, check with your credit union first. They'll not only give you the true cost on car financing, but rock-bottom rates on a loan as well. It pays to be a credit union family.

London's Cleaner Air Bringing Back Birds

LONDON (AP) — Cleaner air in London is bringing back the birds.

★ ★ ★

Such rarities as hoopoes, great northern divers, waxwings, bearded tits, house matrins and snow bunting are on view again after shunning the soot-laden atmosphere of the metropolis for up to a century.

Hawks are seen hunting within a few hundred yards of London's Piccadilly Circus.

Ornothologists have spotted rare birds in the park at the rear of Queen Elizabeth's Buckingham Palace.

It's all due to the ban on smoke and other noxious fumes around inner London, says a recent bird sanctuary report.

★ ★ ★

Britain's Clean Air Act, introduced in 1956, bans smoke-producing fuel from domestic hearths and industrial pollution of the atmosphere. It has made the city's air fit to breathe.

MORE INSECTS

Lord Hurcomb, chairman of the British committee on bird sanctuaries, said the purer air resulted in more insects on which the birds feed.

A small colony of house martins was found on houses near Primrose Hill — the first of the species to breed in inner London for nearly 80 years.

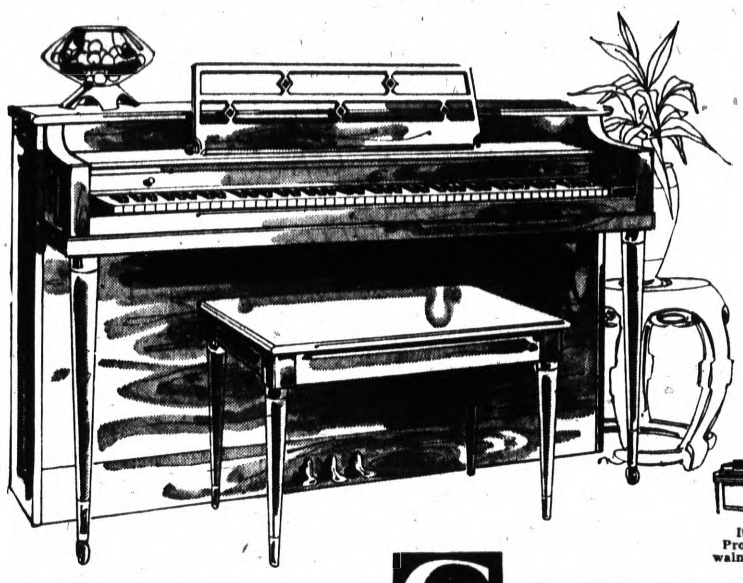

Even a rare fish-hunting osprey has been spotted over Regent's Park, Hurcomb said.

In some cases — like the Canadian geese in St. Jame's Park — the increased numbers are becoming embarrassing, he added.

Media Hampered by Segregation

Coverage of Riots Improved

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
Executive Director, National Urban League

The wave of disorders which followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. put newspapers and radio and television stations to a test, and, by and large, they passed it better than they did last summer.

YOUNG

Last year's riot coverage was a mixture of fiction, rumor and a bare smattering of fact. But last month many papers and stations made a sincere attempt to indicate that only a small number of people in any given city were involved and that wild rumors had no basis in fact.

The Negro-oriented press and radio stations especially deserve credit for a fine job.

Some stations suspended regular programming and broadcasted up-to-the-minute news reports, killing dangerous rumors about as quickly as they started up. Other stations turned over their broadcast day to answering telephone calls on the air, which helped many people blow off steam on the phone instead of in the streets.

They set a fine example for the major radio and television stations that tried to keep in touch with the community, but obviously didn't know how to.

The major stations couldn't carry through on their good intentions because the communications industry is one of the most rigidly segregated in the country.

SURVEY OF NEWSPAPERS

A recent survey of 300 newspapers for example, found that they employed only 147 Negro reporters or editors, and two out of three said they wouldn't change their hiring standards so that they could train Negroes for these jobs.

Radio and television stations aren't any better, and perhaps worst of all is the advertising industry.

I recently counted the ads in one of the most popular magazines in America. There were 80 ads with people in them—a total of about 160 models. Not a single one was Negro.

That's all too typical of the way the mass media try to make non-persons out of Negro citizens. And that's the way they cover the ghetto, too.

The communications industry ignores the day-to-day events of the ghetto, and they go out of their way to thrust cameras and microphones in front of anyone who has something extreme to say.

I suppose this frightens or excites some people, but it's a strange way to get kicks, and it does a lot of harm to the majority of Negro citizens.

* * *

The white press just isn't informing the public about what Negro citizens think and feel.

NOT COMMUNICATING

The Report of the President's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders said of the press: "They have not communicated to the majority of their audience—which is white—a sense of the degradation, misery and hopelessness of life in the ghetto."

That's why, when a poll asked the question: "Do you think Negroes are moving too fast?" 70 per cent of whites said "Yes." But when they asked Negroes that question 96 per cent said: "No, we aren't moving fast enough."

Those results indicate how wide the communications gap between the races is.

Classes at Columbia Left Up to the Faculty

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University opens today, but the administration has left it up to faculty members whether to resume formal classes.

The senior faculty of Columbia College, the liberal arts school, voted Sunday to end formal classes for this semester.

Several units of the strife-torn Ivy League school planned normal sessions today.

Other units said they would decide whether to hold classes or adopt the pattern announced by Columbia College.

'COUNTER CLASSES'

Student strike leaders said they planned to hold "counter classes" either on campus lawns or in other than regular classroom buildings.

Student sit-in demonstrations had shut down the 25,000-student university for 10 days.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia, said Sunday he will not resign under fire—a dissident student demand—and defended his summoning of police on campus to break up sit-ins in four college halls and his office in Low Memorial Library.

He said that "things did get out of hand" last Tuesday when he called in police at 2 a.m., but added: "I would do it again."

ABOUT 115 INJURED

About 100 young people and 15 policemen were injured in the battle.

The senior faculty at Columbia College decided at their Sunday meeting to suspend final examinations. The faculty ruled out failing grades for this semester. A student can request a "P" for passing in any course. If he desires a letter grade, he may receive an "incomplete" and finish his work next fall, or he may complete a certain amount of work and receive a grade at the end of this term.

Thai Leader Greeted by MSU Protesters

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —About two dozen Michigan State University students picketed in protest Sunday as Thailand's Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn called for "respect and support for international law."

Kittikachorn, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree from MSU, said later he had seen the demonstrators, but declined comment.

★ ★ ★

"We are protesting his arrival and the granting of an honorary degree to the military dictator of Thailand," said George Fish, a sophomore from East Lansing, the spokesman for the group. Many of the protesters were members of Students for a Democratic Society, a self described student left wing organization.

The young people, a small portion of the university's more than 38,000 enrollment, carried signs asking "Will Thailand be another Vietnam?" Others said, "Francis, Ky Hitler and Kittikachorn," "Don't let our men be killed in Thailand," and "No degree for dictators."

STUDENTS LEAVE

The students left shortly after Kittikachorn received the honorary degree from MSU President John A. Hannah at a special academic convocation.

"As prime minister of Thailand, your name is identified with freedom in the minds and hearts of your own people and among the other nations of Southeast Asia," Hannah said.

"Because of your dedication to the national integrity of your country and to the advancement of the ideals of free and enlightened men everywhere, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of law."

Addressing the more than 400 persons—many Thai students enrolled at Midwestern universities—gathered for the ceremony, Kittikachorn said:

"In international relations, respect and support for international law have always been a predominant feature of Thailand's foreign policy.

"We firmly believe that if the human race is to enjoy peace all peoples must accept the supremacy of law in the relations between states. For a small country like Thailand, the existence of peace and the reign of law not only represent the ideals which we uphold, but to which we attach paramount importance as essential for our security and survival."

something greater

Natural science and human invention are breaking through many old barriers, but men are still unsatisfied . . . still reaching out for something greater . . . still looking for a star to follow. It was glimpsed long ago in the redeeming love and power of Christ Jesus, whose entire life pointed to the underlying spiritual laws of all existence. There can be nothing greater. Denny McLain Triumphs Then Blasts Detroit Fans

DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Denny McLain blasted Detroit Tigers' fans Sunday as "the biggest front-running fans in the world," and said they helped lose the pennant in 1967.

The 24-year-old pitcher cut loose in an interview after beating the California Angels 5-2 for his fourth straight complete game victory this year.

★ ★ ★

"Norm Cash and I were going bad last year and they got on us real bad," said McLain. "How do they think a guy's wife feels after he goes 0-for-8 or 0-for-16 and the fans cut loose while she's in the stands?

"If they think we're stupid for playing this game, how stupid are they for watching us?"

Asked if he thought the fans' attitude had an effect on the Tigers losing the pennant by one game last year, McLain said:

★ ★ ★

"I think it did. There were certain guys on this club who didn't want to go out and play last year because of fan abuse.".

FOOT INJURY

McLain, who posted a 17-16 record last year but didn't win a game in the September stretch drive because of a freak foot injury, singled out All-Star outfielder Al Kaline as an example of fan abuse. Kaline, off to a slow start, is batting .241 with just two runs batted in in 22 games.

"Now the fans are on Kaline," said McLain. "He's produced for 15 years and he'll produce again this year. They don't realize how good a ballplayer he is."

"I don't care if I get booed here the rest of my life" added McLain. "Detroit is a great town. I like it. I've bought a home here and have roots. But the fans in this town are the worst in the league."

Oriole Hurler at Fever Pitch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gene Brabender's fever is gone but he hasn't coooled off. As a result, Baltimore is still riding its own hot streak.

Brabender, whipping a 100-degree fever that cost him seven pounds in three days, hurled a six-hit shutout and hammered his first home run in pro baseball as Baltimore belted Washington 8-0 Sunday for its seventh straight victory.

★ ★ ★

The shutout was the fifth straight complete game by the Baltimore pitching staff during a winning binge that has earried the Orioles into first place in the American League, 1½ games ahead of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The big right-hander touched off an outburst of three Oriole homers in one inning with his 390-foot blast into the left-center bullpen, but Brabender never saw the only home run he has ever hit in six years in the minors and majors.

"I was afraid to look up, really," he said. "I just kept running. I didn't know it until the umpire waved me around."

Curt Blefary followed Brabender's leadoff homer in the seventh with his own bases-empty blow, and Boog Powell rapped a two-run shot into the upper deck in right field minutes later.

Brabender limited the Senators to six singles only a day after getting out of a sick bed. He came down with a virus infection in his throat Thursday night and had a temperature over 100 by the next day. A slight fever remained Saturday, but he concealed that fact from Manager Hank Bauer.

CAP DOFFER — Mickey Stanley acknowledges the applause of the fans near the Detroit Tigers dugout after lacing out a two-run homer in the fifth inning yesterday to give the Bengals a 3-2 lead in the game. Dick Tracewski (44) who scored ahead of him follows Stanley into the dugout. The Tigers won the game, 5-2 yesterday.

Bengals Defeat Angels in Final of Series, 5-2

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers should take some of that cold weather with them to Baltimore tonight—the red-hot Orioles could stand some cooling off.

The Tigers fly into Baltimore for the start of a three-game night set with the streaking Orioles tonight. The Birds have won seven in a row to fly past the Tigers into first place in the American League by a game and one-half.

Detroit righted its derailed pennant express Sunday, snapping a three-game losing streak in 48-degree weather with a 5-2 triumph over the California Angels.

Denny McLain went the route, doling out seven hits and striking out the same number, to tie the Orioles' Jim Hardin as the Major Leagues' pitching leader with a 4-0 mark.

★ ★ ★

Mickey Stanley came out of a hitting slump which had him 0-for-18, including a walk, with a first-inning single and home run with a teammate aboard in the fifth to ice the game. Bill Freehan smacked a solo home run in the second and drove in an insurance run in the eight.

FRIGID FANS

The weather bureau said it was 48-degrees at game time but 14,125 fans, huddled under blankets and overcoats, plus the players and sportswriters believe the bureau's thermometer was kept in a warm room as they shivered through the 2:25 game.

"The cold doesn't bother me," McLain said. "Just as long as I'm loose, I'm okay."

The auburn-haired right-hander also laid down two perfect sacrifice bunts and was only in any difficulty during three innings. He retired the last 11 men to face him.

★ ★ ★

A leadoff walk and consecutive one-out singles by Roger Repoz and Don Mincher produced a run in the opening inning and three straight singles by Bob Rodgers, Bob Knoop and George Brunet brought home the other California run in the fifth.

McLain gave up a single to Fregosi leading off the sixth, got Repoz to hit into a force and saw Mincher hit a pop-fly double which Willie Horton just failed to catch to put runners on second and third with one out.

But Jim Hall saw his batting average dwindle to lower than .100 by fouling out to Freehan and Jay Johnstone popped to Dick Tracewski at short ending the frame.

FREEHAN HOMERS

Freehan's fourth home run, into the lower deck in right in the second inning, tied the score 1-1 and Stanley's poke to nearly the same spot in the fifth was enough to pin the loss on old nemesis Brunet, now 2-3.

Two walks in the eighth and back-to-back singles by Freehan and Don Wert produced the other Detroit runs. "I mixed my pitches about 60-40 fastballs to curves," McLain said following his fourth complete game in a row.

McLain was the center of a controversy in the first inning, putting his hand to his mouth in apparent violation of baseball's new spitball rule.

But after Angels' Manager Bill Rigney came out to discuss it with the umpires, it was agreed to let both pitchers blow on their hands to warm them up in the chilly air, suspending the rule.

"I just wanted to make sure that both pitchers could do it," Rigney said. "I know both pitchers and know they don't throw any spitballs or it would have been a different case."

Joe Sparma takes his 1-2 record into tonight's contest with Baltimore against the Orioles' Dave Leonhard and his 1-0 mark.

Flint Central Ends PCH's Track Streak

Special to The Press

MT. PLEASANT — Flint Central piled up the points in the relay races Saturday and thwarted Pontiac Central's hopes of extending its domination in the major prep track meets this spring.

The Indians of Flint scored in the sprint medley, the middle distance, the 440-yard and the 880-yard relays to win the coveted 28th annual Central Michigan University Class A Outdoor Relays by a 47-43 margin over PCH.

Pontiac's Chiefs previously had won the CMU Indoor Meet and the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti, plus had tied for first place at the prestigious Mansfield (Ohio) Relays.

Saturday at Mt. Pleasant in the Class C phase of the action, Detroit Country Day of Birmingham led the field with 37 points. The Yellow Jackets won the sprint medley and tied for first in the 440 relay.

Cranbrook won the Class B portion Friday night. In addition, Oakland County preps highlighted much of the individual action, setting three of the five records and grabbing 9 of the 15 first places in Class A.

PCH had the only double winner in star hurdler Bob Johnson who won both the 120-yard highs and 180-yard lows. Jon Costello of the Chiefs led the mile runners.

His running mate, Larry Hurst, was fourth in the same event, and PCH had a second by its mile relay team and fifths by its two-mile relay, middle distance relay and 880-yard relay units.

In addition, Horace Davis and Johnson placed three-four in the long jump, Walter Terry took third in the pole vault and Jessie Bennett was fifth in the 100-yard dash for the Chiefs.

However, Flint Central's superior efforts in the relays — which have higher point values than the individual races — plus Herb Washington's record :09.6 in the 100-yard dash and a second place finish by Russ Carson in the high jump were too much for the Chiefs to overcome.

★ ★ ★

Besides Washington's flashy dash, Waterford's Larry Biskner commanded a share of the spotlight by clearing 14-7 in the pole vault for reportedly the best jump by any prep in the state.

Birmingham Seaholm's crack mile relay team won in 3:26 and Bloomfield Hills Andover's two-mile unit posted an 8:10.4 to set two other CMU outdoor marks.

Gene Panker of Kettering heaved the shot 54-3½; John Mann of North Farmington topped 6-4; and Hazel Park romped to a 10:52.5 winning distance medley relay to complete the gold medal performances by county preps.

Pontaic Central will try to avenge its reversal by the Flint speedsters by traveling to Midland Friday for the Saginaw Valley Conference meet.

Dancer's Image Is Biding Time

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dancer's Image was biding his time at Churchill Downs today with these prospects in store for the Kentucky Derby winner:

A chance to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

A higher insurance rate.

Possible syndication.

★ ★ ★

"We'll ship him to Baltimore Wednesday to get ready for the Preakness," Trainer Lou Cavalaris said Sunday while accepting congratulations in the Downs stable area for Saturday's come-from-behind victory.

The increased insurance for Dancer's Image, who at one time was insured for $150,000 but went into the Derby insured for $1.5 million, was disclosed by owner Peter Fuller.

"We're increasing the insurance on Dancer's Image to $1.8 million, and that's the highest ever for a horse that's still running," the Boston sportsman said.

NO PLANS

As for Syndication, Fuller, who recently was offered $2 million for his Native Dancer colt, said there have been no specific plans "but there are about 10 people — five of them prime prospects — who have expressed some interests."

It was a victory in the first Derby try for Fuller and Cavalaris, and both were elated. However, Cavalaris said the thrill of winning wasn't as great as the disappointment over a bad race would have been.

"I would have been sick if he would have finished out of the money," the trainer said.

For a time Saturday, it looked very much like Dancer's Image would be out of the money. He was last in the 14-horse field after one-half-mile and was eighth with a quarter of a mile to go.

Then Bobby Ussery shot the gray colt through a hole along the rail, and Dancer's Image carried the veteran rider into the winner's circle for the second straight year. Ussery, who won in 1967 with Proud Clarion, is only the third rider to win two consecutive derbies.

A. J. Foyt Winner Despite Collision

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) A. J. Foyt, climbing from a 27th-place start, captured the Yankee 250-mile stock car race at Indianapolis Raceway Park Sunday despite a blowout and a collision.

Foyt, of Houston, Tex., finished the 100 laps around the 2½-mile, 15-turn course in three hours, 5 minutes, 50.4 seconds for a record 80.715 miles an hour. His 1968 Torino crossed the finish line about two miles ahead of the second-place 1968 Plymouth driven by Norm Nelson, Racine, Wis.

Habs Nip Blues

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Scotty Bowman figures his St. Louis Blues are one up on the Boston Bruins, even if the Blues are one down to the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals.

★ ★ ★

"At least we took them (the Canadiens) into overtime," Coach Bowman pointed out Sunday after the Canadiens nipped the Blues 3-2 in sudden death. The second game of the best-of-7 series will be played Tuesday in St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

"Boston just lost four straight," Bowman added. "And what the heck, a lot of teams have lost the first game to the Canadiens in the playoffs."

The Blues lost their first game in the playoffs to the Canadiens with 1:41 gone in the overtime. Center Jacques Lemaire picked up the puck in center ice and fired a 40-foot slap shot that St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall couldn't handle.

That goal had given Montreal the game, but it wasn't the runaway most people had predicted.

Barclay Plager staggered the Canadiens with a long, hard slap shot at 9:19 of the first period that Montreal goalie Gump Worsley never touched.

★ ★ ★

But the Canadiens came back 23 seconds later to tie the score at 1-1 on Henri Richard's goal.

The Blues again struck for the lead in the second period when former Canadien Dicke Moore scored but Yvan Cournoyer tied it near the end of the period.

Goalie Worsley didn't think the Blues were up on anybody.

"It was the same thing," he said. "They lost."

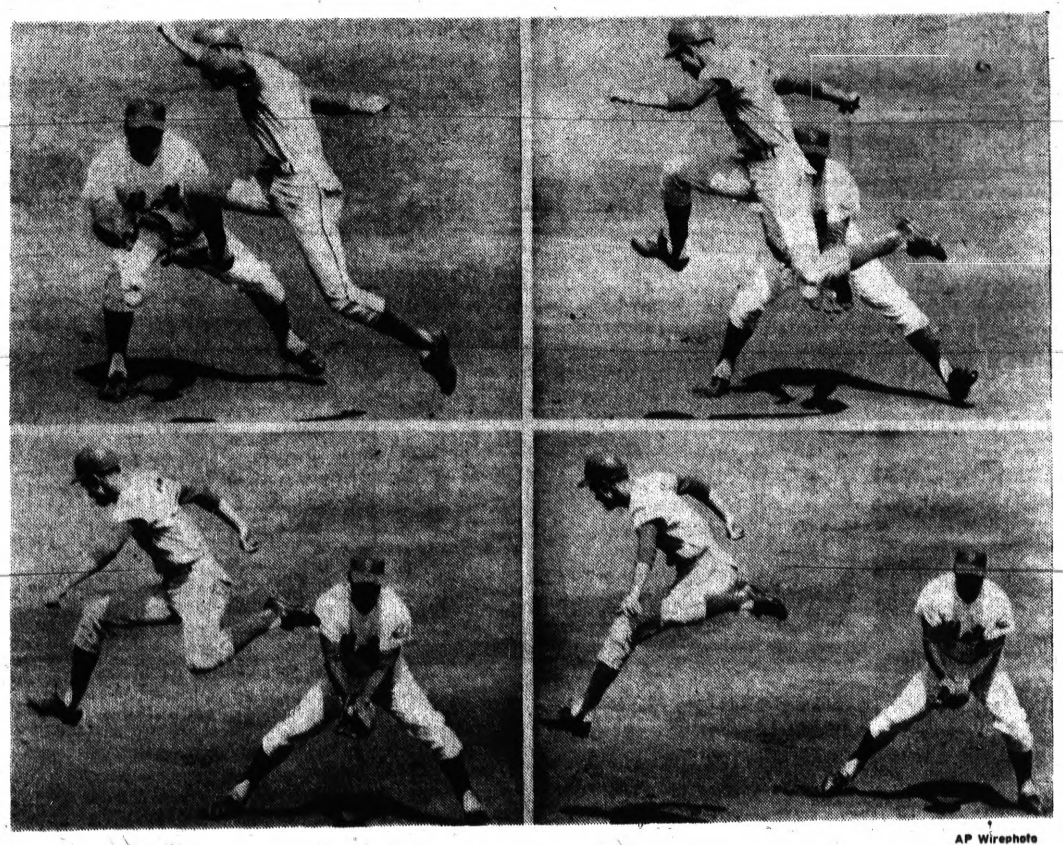

★ ★ ★

Montreal Coach Toe Blake wasn't that nonchalant about the Blues.

"You've got to look at it his way," Blake pointed out.

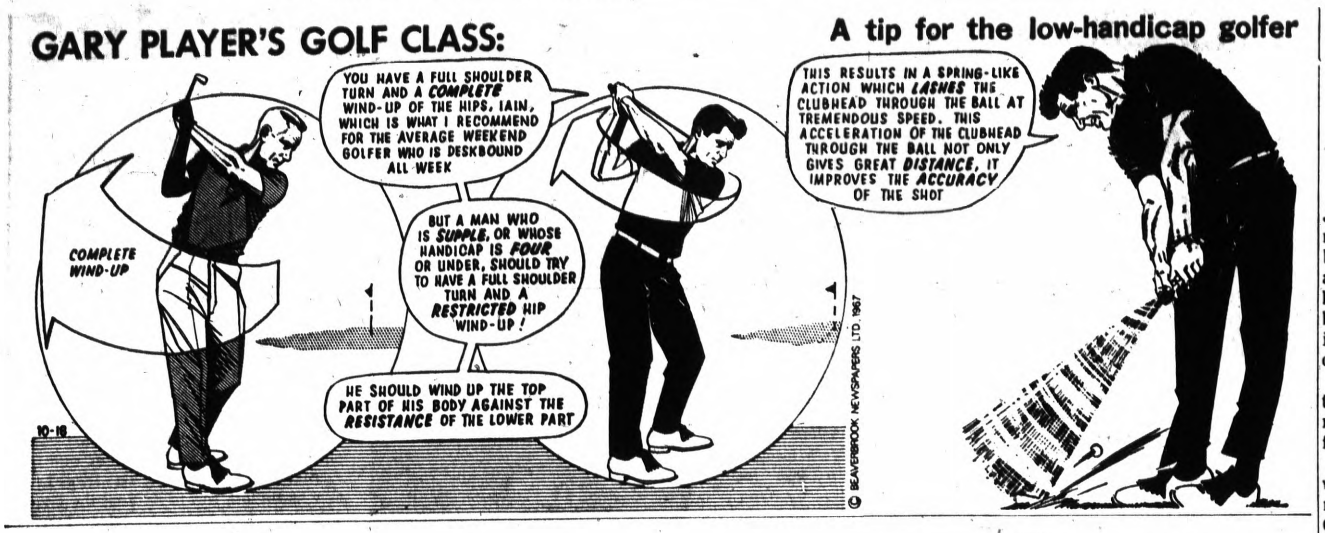

★ ★ ★

"They've got guys like Jean-guy Talbot and Moore, and guys like that, who used to play for us. If they were good enough to play for us they're certainly good enough to play against us."

UP AND AWAY — Chicago Cub's second baseman Jose Arcia hurdles the ball on his way from second to third as Mets' third baseman makes the catch to throw out pitcher Ferguson Jenkins to retire the side. The Cubs won both games from the Mets, 3-2 and 1-0 yesterday in New York.

White Sox Pitcher Hits Grand Slam

CHICAGO (AP) — Stan Bahnsen pitched two-hit ball for eight innings and then Joe Verbanic rescued him from a ninth inning jam as the New York Yankees defeated the Chicago White Sox 4-1 in the second game of a Sunday doubleheader.

★ ★ ★

The White Sox took the opener 5-1 as Gary Peters pitched a six-hitter and hit a grand slam homer.

A second inning single by Tommy Davis and a seventh inning homer by Pete Ward were the only Chicago hits until the ninth aainst Bahnsen. But Russ Snyder and Luis Aparicio opened with singles, knocking the young right-hander out.

Verbanic came on to get a double play and then retired Ward to end the game.

FAST START

The Yankees gave Bahnsen a 2-0 cushion in the first inning, collecting three singles off Jack Fisher. Andy Kosco drove in one run and Roy White scored the other when Fisher's pitch hit Bob Cox with the bases filled.

Steve Whitaker doubled home two more Yankee runs in the seventh off Don McMahon.

Peters won his first after three losses with his homer off Al Downing in the fourth of the opener. It followed a double by Davis, a walk to Duane Josephson and Buddy Bradford's single to load the bags. Ken Berry also homered for the Sox.

★ ★ ★

Peters fanned nine and walked five. His shutout was spoiled in the fifth when pinch hitter Dick Howser walked and scored on Roy White's double.

Israel Defeats Greece

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel beat Greece 70-60 in an international basketball game Sunday night before a crowd of 3,000. At halftime the Israeli squad led 32-29.

Arcia's Two Doubles Help Cubs Win Pair

NEW YORK (AP) — Rookie Jose Arcia, playing although his name wasn't in the line-up, doubled in the only run of the game and Bill Hands pitched a four-hitter as the Chicago Cubs blanked the New York Mets 1-0 in the second game for a sweep of a Sunday doubleheader.

Arcia also doubled in a run in the opener as the Cubs tagged rookie Jerry Koosman with his first loss, nipping the Mets 3-2.

Manager Leo Durocher inadvertently wrote Glenn Beckert's name in at second base for the Cubs in the second game. Beckert has been sidelined by fluid in his elbow and couldn't play. Durocher had meant to list Arcia and when the rookie came to bat in the second inning, New York Manager Gil Hodges pointed out the discrepancy to the umpires.

Beckert was ruled technically to have played since his name was in the line-up. Arcia was listed as his replacement and in the fourth inning his two out double drove in the only run Hands needed.

Ron Santo opened the fourth and reached on an error. He moved to second on an infield out and scored on Arcia's two-out hit.

Hands made the run stand up, striking out 12 and retiring 14 consecutive batters over one stretch.

Ferguson Jenkins won his fourth game in the opener although Durocher needed three relievers to put down a ninth inning Met rally. Koosman, who had won his first four starts, was beaten for the first time.

Lou Johnson tagged a bases-empty homer for the Cubs and doubled in front of Billy Williams' third inning triple to account for another run.

Art Shamsky, who had three hits, drove in one of the Met runs in the ninth.

Bench Bounces Dodgers, 3-2

Reds' Rookie Catcher Gets Hit in 16th

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rookie Johnny Bench lashed a run-scoring double in the 16th inning Sunday, sending the Cincinnati Reds past the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2.

Tony Perez beat out an infield hit against Dodger reliever John Purdin with one out in the 16th. Lee May forced Perez at second, then raced home on Bench's double to center, snapping a 2-2 deadlock.

★ ★ ★

Bill Kelso, the fourth of five Cincinnati pitchers, was the winner.

The Reds tied the game in the eighth after pinch hitter Mack Jones beat out an infield single and moved up on a passed ball. Pete Rose followed with a single to center, but Willie Davis threw out Jones at the plate.

Rose took second on the play and scored as Alex Johnson sliced a double to right.

The Dodgers had gone ahead 2-1 in the sixth, when Willie Davis doubled to left, took third on Ron Fairly's infield hit and scored on a throwing error by first baseman Fred Whitfield.

Rose singled to left in the sixth, extending his batting streak to 20 games, was safe on an attempted steal when Shortstop Ziolo Versalles dropped catcher Tom Haller's throw for an error and scored on a two-out single by Vada Pinson.

Aussie Netter Aids Prestige With Victory

ATLANTA (AP) — Australia's top-ranked tennis star, Bill Bowery, rallied Sunday to salvage some prestige for his country in the Atlanta Invitational Tournament.

★ ★ ★

After watching his highly touted countrymen falter in the semifinals, Bowery, the top seed in the men's division, battled back from a one-set deficit in a rain-delayed semifinals match to win and then capture the finals easily.

Going into Sunday's delayed semifinals, he lost the first set 2-6 to Rice freshman Zan Guerry but rebounded to sweep the next two, 6-2, 6-1.

★ ★ ★

The victory propelled him into the finals where he lashed Ron Holmberg of New Orleans 6-0, 7-5. Holmberg had tripped Australia's Ray Ruffels in the semifinals.

In women's singles, Stephanie DeFina of Hollywood, Fla., finally won a tough battle over 17-year-old Linda Tuero of New Orleans, 6-4, 8-10, 6-2.

Keeping Pace in USRRC

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Mark Donohue of Stony Brook, N.Y., a speedster who never looks back, is continuing his supremacy in USRRC road racing.

★ ★ ★

Chased closely most of the way by Lothar Motschenbacher of Beverly Hills, Calif., the 1967 USRRC champion won the Laguna Seca Sunday for his second straight 1968 triumph. Last week he had won at Riverside.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he hadn't been nervous with Motschenbacher pressing to a fraction of a second and never less than two seconds, Donohue said, "I just don't look in the rear view mirror."

Both drove McLarens, but Motschenbacher said Donohue got the most out of his engine.

Rally in Eighth Wins for Bucs

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Gene Alley's two-run single capped a three-run eighth inning comeback and paced the Pittsburgh Pirates to a 5-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The Pirates, beaten by ninth inning rallies in their last two games, trailed Philadelphia right-hander Larry Jackson 2-0 when Jerry May led off the eighth with a two-strike double to left.

Goalie Scores 2 but in 'Lacrosse'

DETROIT (UPI) — Philadelphia Flyer goalie Doug Favell scored two goals Sunday against the Toronto Maple Leafs. He's only sorry they didn't come in National Hockey League play.

Favell's two markers proved the margin of difference for the Detroit Olympics in a 10-8 lacrosse victory over the Maple Leafs as nine different players scored for the winners.

Pro Cage Fight for Stars Starts

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Professional basketball's battle for rookie talent, which flared in the scrap for Houston's Elvin Hayes and Louisville's Westley Unseld, starts warming up again this week.

★ ★ ★

The American Basketball Association completed its college player draft here Sunday, and announced that nine players had been signed and a half dozen more are soon to be announced as signed.

★ ★ ★

But the new Milwaukee franchise in the NBA signed Charles Paulk of Northeastern Oklahoma Sunday night to signal a new outbreak of the war. Paulk was the first-round pick of New Orleans of the ABA.

★ ★ ★

The National Basketball Association is scheduled to finish its college draft Wednesday in New York City. After it does, the higher choices can start comparing offers—and playing oe bonus against the other just as football players did a few years ago.

NEW FRANCHISE

The NBA held its expansion draft today in New York to stock its new franchises in Milwaukee and Phoenix.

★ ★ ★

The ABA had new coaches Bill Sharman of the Los Angeles Stars and Alex Hannum of the Oakland Oaks on hand Sunday, and obviously wanted them displayed prominently to take some of the sting out of the losses of Hayes and Unseld.

★ ★ ★

Sharman and Hannum, boto former NBA players and recently resigned as coaches of the San Francisco Warriors and Philadelphia 76ers, respectively, made news by announcing the signing of their first two draft choices.

The Stars, formerly the Anaheim Amigos, have signed No. 1 choice Larry Miller, 6-foot-4 North Carolina star, and No. 2 pick Mervin Jackson, 6-3 of Utah. Los Angeles also has rights to three UCLA stars, Mike Warren, Edgar Lacey and Mike Lynn.

SIGN PACTS

Oakland, which next year gets the services of Rick Barry, has signed first-round selection Garfield Smith, 6-7 Eastern Kentucky product, and second pick Henry Logan, 6-0 of Western Carolina.

★ ★ ★

Also signed are Dallas No. 1 choice John Smith, 7-foot Southern Colorado center; Denver No. 2 pick Walt Piatkowski, 6-8 Bowling Green forward; 6-7 Duke center Mike Lewis by Indiana and Wayne Chapman of Western Kentucky and Al Dixon of Bowling Green by Kentucky.

Softball Play Opens Tonight in Waterford

Softball action begins tonight at the Drayton Plains Park as the seven-team Waterford Men's League opens play with a double header.

★ ★ ★

At 7 p.m. newcomer Ward Bodies tangles with Clarkston Appliance, and Huron Bowl plays Midget Bar at 8:30 p.m.

The remaining squads will/see action tomorrow evening. Spencer Floor Covering will clash with Lighthouse Lanes at 7 o'clock and Day's Sanitary will collide with Ward's in the 8:30 nightcap.

The league will play seven games a week—Monday, Tuesday Thursday and Friday nights—through Aug. 2nd. Playoffs will follow at that time.

★ ★ ★

Program coordinator Bill Wood reminds potential bloopei ball teams that they have until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday to enter this year's township program. Presently, 11 men's teams have signed up for the Wednesday night league.

MSU Stops Buckeye Bid in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State's steadily rising Spartans apparently have closed the doors on Ohio State's bid of an unprecedented fourth straight Big Ten baseball championship.

The Spartans, who lost their first two conference games to rival Michigan, rebounded with a pair of doubleheader sweeps over the weekend to climb back into the title picture and doom Ohio State's hopes.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State pounded Ohio State 4-0 and 8-2 Saturday to boost its record to 4-2 while Ohio State slumped to a 2-6 mark in the conference. Never in Big Ten history has a team with six losses won the championship.

Michigan State also swept a doubleheader from Indiana Friday to climb within one game of league leading Michigan which split a twin bill with Indiana Saturday to suffer its first Big Ten loss of the year as Michigan downed Indiana 5-1 but lost the nightcap 1-0 despite the one-hit pitching of Bob Hurley who walked two batters in the first inning and then was reached for a run-scoring single by Bruce Miller.

★ ★ ★

Indiana pitcher Larry Oliver was up to the task and blanked the Wolverines on a two-hitter.

Minnesota and Wisconsin remained a step behind Michigan and tied for second place by splitting a doubleheader. Minnesota won the opener 11-9 and Wisconsin rallied for three runs in the sixth inning to win the second game 4-2.

★ ★ ★

Illinois pulled into a fourth place tie with Michigan State by handing winless Purdue its sixth defeat, 7-2, while Iowa and Northwestern split a doubleheader with the Hawkeyes winning the opener 6-1 and the Wildcats gaining the nightcap 2-1.

Longer Races Better for Ex-Miler

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Bill Clark concentrated on the mile and two-mile runs in college but switched to longer races, he says, because "the mile times got faster and I seemed to be running slower."

★ ★ ★

Now Clark, a Marine lieutenant voted the outstanding male performer of the 12th annual Quantico Relays Friday and Saturday, has his eyes on the U.S. Olympic team in the 10,000-meter run and the marathon.

Clark, the 1965 IC4A indoor two-mile champion his senior year at Notre Dame, won his award here for a meet record 14:16.08 in the 5,000 meters Friday and another record, 29:55.2, in the 10,000 meters Saturday.

As to whether he'll try the marathon, in which he finished second at Boston, or the 10,000 meters, the Philadelphian has a quick answer:

"Both. They'll be run 10 days apart at Mexico City."

★ ★ ★

Clark slightly overshadowed NYU's Byron Dyce, who anchored the Violets to victory over favored Villanova in the two-mile and four-mile relays, and Villanova's Erv Hall, who won the 120-yard high hurdles, was second in the 100-yard dash and ran on two winning relay teams.

ANCHOR LEG

Dyce ran a 1:47.6 anchor in the two-mile Saturday, coming from sixth to win as Villanova faded out of the picture on the last lap. The Wildcats—winners of five relays the week before at Penn—earlier had been shocked by Maryland State, which tied them in a record-equaling 3:20.6 pring medley.

★ ★ ★

Villanova was far from a bust, however, winning the 880 and mile relays and providing individual winners in Hall in the hurdles, Vince Bizzarro with a record 16-½ pole vault and Dave Patrick in the invitational mile in—for him—a relatively slow 4:04.9.

★ ★ ★

Meet records were set Saturday by Clark, Bizzarro, three-time olympic champion Al Oerter of the Naw York A.C. with a 192-4 discus throw, Milton Sonsky of the Bruce Track Club with a 255-6 javelin throw, and Barry Brown of the New York A.C., 8:51.6 in the 3,000-meter steeplechase.

Fireball '300' Won by Ford's Pearson

WEAVERVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Ford's David Pearson started at the pole position and led all but one lap as he won the third annual Fireball 300 stock car race Sunday at Asheville-Weaverville Speedway.

★ ★ ★

The Spartanburg, S.C., driver had qualified at an average speed of 89.731 miles per hour to edge Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., for the pole position. Petty, winner of the former two Fireball 300s, finished third in a 1968 Plymouth.

★ ★ ★

Second was Bobby Isaac of Catawba, N.C., in a 1967 Dodge Charger. He had won a race at Augustra, Ga., Friday night and is NASCAR'S championship point leader.

Wins Houston Golf Crown

Roberto Careful in Signing

HOUSTON (AP)—Roberto De Vicenzo, the veteran Argentine golf pro who lost a tie for the Masters crown by signing an incorrect card, didn't take any chances Sunday at the $100,000 Houston Champions International.

As he looked over his card at the 18th green, De Vicenzo was the apparent winner by one stroke. He added the card and then glanced around. "Before I SIGN," he said, "I want my lawyer."

The 46-year-old pro was kidding, but he was careful. He had an official add up the score and then he signed it with a flourish.

The $20,000 win was the 141st tournament victory for De Vicenzo, whop lays all over the world, and the third time he had won a tournament in Texas.

★ ★ ★

He won here with four rounds of consistent golf and with a little psychology.

★ ★ ★

On the final hole Sunday, De Vicenzo and Lee Trevino, 28-year-old Horizon City, Tex. pro looking for his first tournament win, were tied at 10 under par. They each needed to sink four-foot putts to finish. It was De Vicenzo's option and he chose to putt first. The ball dropped, throwing the pressure on Trevino. The Texan missed and De Vicenzo was the winner.

★ ★ ★

"I've played a lot of tournaments," De Vicenzo said, "and when you give the other guy a chance to hit first, he never misses."

★ ★ ★

De Vicenzo finished with a three-under-par 68 for a 287 and Trevino was one stroke back after shooting even-par 71 the final round. Dan Sikes was third with a 73 final round and a 276 total. Jack Nicklaus was fourth at 278 and Tommy Aaron and Miller Barber shared fifth at 279.

★ ★ ★

For Trevino, who started in golf as a shine boy in an El Paso clubhouse, it was the closest he had come to winning in two years on the tour. The $12,000 second-place check equals almost half of his total earnings for all of last year on the tour.

Tribe Pitcher Helps Victory With Bat, 2-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sonny Siebert held Minnesota to one hit f[illegible] seven innings Sunday, Singled home one run and scored another as the Cleveland Indians beat the Twins 2-1 extending their victory string to four games—three this weekend from Minnesota.

With the temperature a chill 47, Manager Alvin Dark replaced Siebert with Stan Williams at the start of the eighth inning.

Siebert had kept the Twins hitless until the seventh when he walked Bob Allison and John Roseboro on 3-1 pitches and Ron Clark lashed a first-bounce single to left, scoring Allison.

It was the first earned run in 34 innings against Indian pitchers, although Oakland got an unearned run Wednesday when Sam McDowell beat the Athletics 3-1 on a three-hitter. Luis Tiant and Steve Hargan had three-hit shutouts against Minnesota Friday and Saturday.

UNDER THE TAG — Pontiac Northern's Bill VandaGriff slides under the tag of Kettering catcher Jim Burns to score Northern's first run in Saturday's first game. Umpire Bill Nunez is right on the play. VandaGriff came in from second on an error and a throw in from short center field. Northern won, 6-5, but lost the nightcap by the same score.

Waterford Drops Doubleheader

Waterford outhit Flint Northwestern in both games of their twin bill, but the Wildcats produced the clutch hits and took 4-3 and 2-1 victoires Saturday.

Bruce Carlson of WTHS lost a tough decision in the nightcap, holding Northwestern to three hits and striking out nine, but his own error in the first inning enabled the host team to plate two unearned runs.

Larry Hemmerly's two-out double in the fifth drove in the Skippers' only marker.

In the opener, Mike Murphy's three singles sparked an eight-hit Waterford attack but the Skippers could only manage three runs in the opening two innings and three pitchers failed to keep Flint from rallying for the win.

U.S. Netmen Sweep Inter-Zone Play

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — "Maybe we're not just paper lions after all," said Donald Dell, U.S. Davis Cup captain, as he made an obvious effort to bridle his enthusiasm. The U.S. team had just completed a 5-0 sweep over the British Caribbean tennis team in the American zone first-round matches

* * *

"A lot of people have said we're a great team on paper," the 30-year-old Marylander said, "but if these fellows want the cup bad enough, we can win it."

* * *

The fellows Dell was referring to with unconcealed pride and paternalism were team members Arthur Ashe, Clark Graebner, Bob Lutz and Stan Smith.

* * *

Dell's all-out effort to restore international prestige to the image of U.S. amateur tennis got off to an auspicious start. The U.S. squad took command of the British Caribbean Friday with easy singles victories by Ashe and Graebner. The Americans clinched the match with an imposing doubles win by Lutz and Smith Saturday. They cleaned the slate by drubbing their Jamaican foes in the final two singles matches Sunday behind the booming racquets of Ashe, a native Richmonder, and Lutz.

* * *

The next stop on the Davis Cup circuit will be in Berkeley, Calif., May 24-26, where the U.S. teams, will play either Mexico or Canada.

* * *

The British Caribbean team so outclassed by the U.S. squad during the three-day match this past weekend was essentially the same one which tripped up the U.S. team 3-2 in a first round American zone match in Jamaica in 1966.

AT THE WIRE — Dancer's Image leads the pack in the finish of the Kentucky Derby in Louisville Saturday. Francee's Hat and Forward Pass followed Dancer's Image in that order at the wire.

Derby Champ Awaits Ride

Preakness Next Stop for Dancer's Image

So intent was Ussery in getting home first, he didn't realize he dropped his whip three-sixteenths of a mile from the finish and was slapping Dancer's Image with his hand in the drive for the wire. It took Dancer's Image 2:02 1-5 to cover the 1¼ miles and pick up the winner's share of $122,600 from the $165,100 purse.

★ ★ ★

Calumet Farm's favored Forward Pass, who finished second by 1½ lengths, also is headed for the $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico May 18 as is third-place finisher Francie's Hat.

Trainer Tony Basile said he's pretty sure T.V. Commercial, who finished fourth in the Derby, would run in the 1 3-16 mile Preakness but that he would wait a few days before making a final decision.

Kentucky Sherry, who finished fifth, after setting the pace for the first mile, has not been nominated for the Preakness and would have to be made a supplemental entry.

POSSIBLE ENTRIES

Other Derby horses also are possible Preakness entries as are such non-Derby starters as What A Pleasure, Wise Exchange, Clever Foot, Poleax, Go Marching and Nodouble. Kauai King went on to win the Preakness in 1966 but missed the Triple Crown when he was beaten in the Belmont.

★ ★ ★

But Dancer's Image, a Maryland-bred like Kauai King, has something extra going for him. He is the first Wood Memorial winner to take the Derby since Assault in 1946.

Assault won the Triple Crown.

New Incentive for Miss Mann

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP(— It seems that Carol Mann needed an extra incentive to start winning golf tournaments on the LPGA circuit.

Miss Mann signed a new contract 3½ weeks ago with the Royal Oak Racquet and Country Club of Cincinnati which provides a bonus for each tournament victory.

She has won the last three LPGA tournaments, the latest coming Sunday when she birdied the final hole to capture the $11,500 Shreveport Kiwanis Club Tourney.

Cardinal Manager Protests Defeat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—St. Louis Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst showed a temper to go with that red hair.

His National League champs had just lost an 8-4 game, played under protest, to the San Francisco Giants on a windy Sunday in Candlestick Park.

"If the league goes about its business properly," said Red, "we should win the protest. If we don't win, they should throw all the rules out of the books."

The protest came after a rhubarb in the fourth inning when the Giants' Willie Mays was awarded a stolen base after Willie McCovey's strikeout.

After McCovey's strikeout, Card catcher Tim McCarver tried to throw to second to catch the stealing Mays. The throw hit McCovey's bat and plate umpire Bill Jackowski called McCovey out and, ruling interference on McCovey's part, also called out Mays.

★ ★ ★

Giants Manager Herman Franks stormed out in protest. The call on Mays was reversed and he was allowed to stay on second, from where he scored on Dave Marshall's homer for a 2-0 lead.

"The ballpark is a joke and that play was another joke," fumed Schoendienst following the wind-whipped game.

★ ★ ★

"If it weren't for the interference; Mays would have been thrown out by 10 to 15 feet.

The Giants claimed McCovey's interference was unintentional.

The Cardinals insisted intent makes no difference.

Debbie Trims Swim Record

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Debbie Meyer, Sacramento, Calif., shaved 55.1 seconds off the North American record for the women's 1,500-meter freestyle at the Pacific Northwest invitational swim meet Sunday.

Miss Meyer far outdistanced her five competitors in the special event on the final day of the three-day meet.

She finished with a time of 17 minutes, 36.9 seconds. The old U.S. record was 18:31 and the Canadian record was far below that.

★ ★ ★

Susan Pedersen of Sacramento also shattered a North American record in winning the women's 100-meter freestyle with a time of 1:00. The U.S. record was 1:00.2 and the previous Canadian open mark, held by Marion Lay of Vancouver, was 1:00.8.

Mike Burton of Sacramento set a Canadian open record in the men's 200-meter freestyle with a time of 1:57.6.

Fertility Find Means Big Dairy Savings

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University scientists believe they have found a way to save dairymen thousands of dollars annually through the use of a crude enzyme preparation that increases fertility.

Drs. Louis J. Boyd and Harold D. Hafs, associate professors in the MSU dairy department, report they increased the fertility levels of 17,597 cows by an average of three per cent with the addition of the enzyme preparation to bull semen.

★ ★ ★

The increase, they say, meant that more cows conceived at the first artificial inseminations.

"Cows must reproduce regularly to keep producing milk at a regular level," Boyd explains. "That's usually every 12 months. Unless they do reproduce and start a new milking period every 12 months, they won't produce as much milk or make enough money in their lives."

LOSE $1 A DAY

Boyd and Hafs say that Michigan dairymen lose an average of $1 a day in milk production on cows that do not keep up with the 12-month cycle.

★ ★ ★

The fertility level increase, therefore, could help insure more regular pregnancy in cows and keep the milk production level up, Boyd says.

★ ★ ★

He and Hafs estimate that if only three per cent of Michigan's 500,000 dairy cows could be inseminated successfully sooner than normal, the state's dairymen would save some $315,000 annually.

The cost of the enzyme (amylase), they add, is "insignificant." One pound of amylase, costing about $60, would be sufficient to fortify enough semen to breed all the dairy cows in the United States for three years, they say.

REASON UNKNOWN

The amylase process works, Boyd and Hafs say, but they don't know why.

The scientists currently are working with rabbits—the same laboratory animals through which they discovered the amylase addition process — to find out what causes the increase.

"It's been shown in some species that sperm must remain in the reproductive tract of the female for a while," Boyd says, "about six hours in rabbits. During that time of the sperm capacitation, the sperm gains the ability to fertilize eggs."

Plane Crash Victim

Boy's Body Is Identified

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (UPI) — The body of a boy found Sunday in Lake Michigan near the Indiana Dunes State Park was identified as Edward Litchfield Jr., 10, missing since the crash of a private plane in the lake March 8.

Edward, son of Edward H. Litchfield, former chancellor of the University of Pittsburgh, was one of two persons still missing in the crash in which all six aboard died.

★ ★ ★

Litchfield's body and the body of the pilot, James Looker, Wellsville, N. Y., were recovered shortly after the crash, while bodies of Mrs. Mary Litchfield and Mrs. Ethel Litchfield, wife and mother of Litchfield, were recovered Saturday.

Police said four youths from Whiting, Ind., discovered the body as they were walking along the lake shore.

STILL MISSING

Searchers were still looking for the body of Litchfield's 5-year-old son.

The Litchfields were on their way to a family reunion when the accident occurred.

Lands Safely

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A North Central Airlines plane with 11 persons aboard made an emergency landing because of a malfunctioning engine Saturday night at Kalamazoo Municipal Airport. The Convair 440, Flight 808, had left Jackson on a trip originating in Detroit and destined for Chicago. One of its two engines failed to run properly and the craft was brought down at Kalamazoo. The eight passengers were transferred to another flight.

Farm Labor Exemptions Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department may allow youths under age 16 to operate farm equipment if they first participate in safety training programs, a House subcommittee has been told.

Such youths have been restricted from using or riding tractors, farm wagons and combines—except on their parent's farms—under a Labor Department order Jan. 1.

In House Appropriations subcommittee testimony made public Saturday night, Mrs. Esther Peterson, assistant secretary for labor standards, said the department is trying to work out certain exemptions with the cattlemen's association, the grange and others.

Pool in Lincoln Center Defies Leak Experts

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Moore's massive "Reclining Figure" in the North Plaza of Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts was designed with a hole in it. Unfortunately, the reflecting pool the figure is set in has a hole in it, too.

The pool leaks water to the underground offices below just like a drippy upstairs shower.

For three years the pool under the six-ton bronze statue has resisted every effort to patch the leak.

William Schuman, president of Lincoln Center, lamented: "if we can send a man into space, we should be able to fix a leaky pool."

But success may be in sight. "We hope to have water back in the pool in about four weeks," said Jack deSimone, a spokesman for the center. The 80-by-120-foot pool is 11½ inches deep and holds 65,000 gallons.

★ ★ ★

From the beginning, the pool, located in front of the Vivian Beaumont Theater in the $170-million complex, leaked. "Not a great amount of water, but let's put it this way," DeSimone said. "It hasn't been perfect."

MORE CRITICAL

The leak has become even more critical now that Lincoln Center is preparing to convert the space below the pool into a public cafeteria.

The plaza actually is owned by the New York City Parks Department and the pool was constructed by private contractors.

When Moore's two-piece figure was installed the then parks commissioner, Newbold Morris, was somewhat aghast.

★ ★ ★

Like most works by the British sculptor, it has a sort of pre-Columbian look and is dominated by the hole. Moore once said, "A hole can have as much shape-meaning as a solid mass."

Junior Editors Quiz on LANGUAGES

QUESTION: Did early man speak English?

ANSWER: Scientists know little about how languages began or what were the first words used. We do, however, have evidence that languages were in use by about 4000 B.C.

We know a great deal about such ancient tongues as those used by the Egyptians, the Babylonians and the Hebrews, and we know that English was not among these. Early man could not have used English, because this language does not even begin to appear until about 450 A.D., when Germanic tribes began to invade the British Isles.

The Angles and the Saxons were the most important of these tribes and their speech became called Anglo-Saxon; it was from the Angles that the word England came. Then, in 1066, the Normans conquered England — and French became the language of upper classes and law courts.

French influence died out as the races merged to become the English nation. Three different dialects were used, the Northern, the Midland, the Southern. The great poet Chaucer wrote in the Midland dialect and helped turn this into modern English.

Even if many words have older origins, English is a modern rather than an ancient language.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Jim: "Sometimes an expert will find a way to lose a contract that a player of lesser ability would never conceive."

JACOBY

Oswald: "Here's one of this type that Fred Karpin shows. East was the late Ewart Kempson of England and South was one of the greatest players of all time. I won't mention his name because we don't want to malign his memory."

Jim: "South must have ducked that first heart. In that case I can't see how South managed to get himself set."

Oswald: "It was due to a brilliant but silly play. South ducked the first heart when upon East shifted to the six of diamonds. West took his ace and led the diamond queen. South was in dummy with the king. Now do you see what he did?"

Jim: "I think so. He must have discarded his 10 of hearts one one of dummy's clubs and then led the nine of spades and finessed against East. That play would have worked if East held all five trumps, but it had to be downright silly because it allowed West to give his partner a diamond ruff for the setting trick."

Oswald: "South had reasoned that East's failure to lead a trump at trick two indicated that he held all five missing trumps and wanted to get a quick diamond trick. It was expert reasoning at its worst."

Jim: "Not necessarily. Had South carried his expert reasoning a trifle further he could have guarded against five trumps in the East hand and still made his contract."

Oswald: "Of course. He could have cashed two more high clubs and got rid of his last two diamonds. It wouldn't bother him if East trumped in because South could overruff and hold his trump loss to one against any and all distributions."

$5,000 MACHINE DONATED — Clyde Trent of Brooklyn, New York, shows the $5,000 artificial kidney machine he has offered to donate to 16-year-old Marianne Baratta of Granada Hills, Calif. Marianne is stricken with an ailment doctors say may give her less than a month to live without an artificial kidney. Trent bought the machine for his wife, who used it until she died last Nov. 2.

'Viet Attacks Won't Daunt U.S.'—Ball

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.N. Ambassador-designate George Ball says North Vietnam misgauges U.S. determination and power if it expects the latest wave of enemy attacks in South Vietnam to improve its peace talks bargaining position.

Another administration source, who could not be identified, meanwhile called the widespread enemy assaults "very discouraging to the administration" so soon before direct talks between North Vietnamese and U.S. representatives are slated to get underway in Paris.

* * *

And from the French capital came word that representatives of the two nations are expected to decide soon—maybe even today—on the place in or near the French captial for holding preliminary talks, to begin Friday or soon after.

Ball said Sunday that in his March 31 order limiting bombing of North Vietnam, President Johnson hoped for "some kind of reciprocity" but "up to now there's been no evidence of that."

In fact, Ball aided, the attacks on 100 or more communities in South Vietnam suggest a pattern similar to 1954, when Ho Chi Minh's forces downed the French at Dien Bien Phu the day before a peace conference opened.

* * *

"Now if they think that on the fifth of May before the talks start on the 10th that this kind of military operation is going to improve their bargaining position," said Ball, "then they gravely misconceive the attitude of the United States, the power of the United States and the determination of the United States to see an honorable settlement."

Ball, recently tapped by Johnson to take over the U.N. post when Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's resignation takes effect later this year, said North Vietnamese infiltration of the south reached a record level last month.

His comments came on the NBC radio-television interview program, "Meet the Press."

Kidney Patient Gets New Hope for Life

MARIANNE BARATTA

GRANADA HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Julie Andrews gave a signed script of "Mary Poppins," in which she starred. Robert Taylor gave a suit.

The script, suit and other donations from celebrities were purchased by thousands who turned out Sunday at a shopping center for a benefit auction.

The auction brought Marianne Baratta $2,100 closer to a full life.

Marianne, 16, has suffered for 11 years from progressive kidney failure, doctors said she'd die before the end of the year without a kidney dialysis machine and a transplanted kidney.

MRS. JOSEPH BARATTA

DOOR-TO-DOOR

Before the stars gave their memorabilia, San Fernando Valley residents had given $28,000 — by the family's count. Some 300 teen-agers were organized for door-to-door collection by Marianne's friends.

In Brooklyn, N.Y., Clyde Trent read about Marianne and offered to give a $5,000 kidney machine that his wife had used before she died last November.

* * *

Marianne's mother, Mrs. Joseph D. Baratta, will give one of her kidneys.

Said Marianne: "I've got friends I haven't even seen yet. . Why, this could turn out to be the most wonderful year of my life."

Police Probe Launched in Killing of Windsor Girl

WINDSOR (AP) — A special team of Ontario provincial police investigators is working on the case of a 16-year-old Windsor girl whose body was found in a ditch Friday night. Bonnie Jean Norris had been stabbed about 50 times. Inspector John Hillman is heading investigating team.

Police say no arrest has been made yet but they have a "fairly good idea" what happened. They say Bonnie, who lived with her brother and sister-in-law in dated with a 15-year-old friend,

* * *

Two boys hunting for turtles Barbara Rockwood, and two men in their 20s Thursday night. Barbara said she was dropped off at her home about 1 a.m., leaving Bonnie in the car with the two men.

Two boys hunting for tuurtles found the body, 20 miles south of the city. They reported it to a nearby householder, who then called the OPP. Bonnie's sister-in-law, Mrs. Gordon Hamlin, said Bonnie came home at 11 p.m. Thursday evening to ask if she could stay out a few more hours.

Clifford Nixes Remodeling of Pentagon Suite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark M. Clifford, reportedly offered a $250,000 office remodeling job when he became secretary of defense earlier this year, has instead chosen rather austere working surroundings.

According to the Defense Department, Clifford's big suite on the Pentagon's third floor will be repainted "but there is no plan for remodeling or any expensive refurnishing—nothing new to be bought."

★ ★ ★

There had been published reports the Pentagon would spend a quarter-million dollars if Clifford wanted a complete overhaul.

The secretary's office had few creature comforts when Robert S. McNamara was around.

BIG SWIVEL CHAIR

Now about the only change is a big swivel chair with a high back that almost reaches the top of Clifford's head.

He rocks with the authority of a judge.

★ ★ ★

McNamara's chair was short and squatty.

Clifford works at the huge wooden desk that Gen. John J. Pershing once toiled over.

PEERING PORTRAIT

Over Clifford's shoulder peers the portrait of the late Secretary of Defense James Forrestal.

And there's a grandfather clock found in government storage.

Clifford's tastes will give the room a bit of Oriental style.

"Mr. Clifford has, in fact, spent several hundred dollars out of his own pocket for Oriental-type scatter rugs which he will use," the Pentagon said.

A wealthy lawyer, Clifford undoubtedly can afford to pay for some of his sprucing up.

His rejection of government-financed luxuries recalls that he once turned down a legitimate claim for high-priced fees and expenses while working for Uncle Sam.

This occurred some time ago when Clifford was special chairman of the Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, entitled to $75 a day allowance plus expenses. He never collected any money during seven years on the board, the Pentagon said.

Two Minority Parties Make State Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Only two minority parties presently are qualified for a position on the Nov. 5 election ballot, reports Secretary of State James Hare.

The two certain starters, in addition to the Democratic and Republican parties, are the Socialist Labor and Socialist Workers parties.

★ ★ ★

One or both have been on the ballot in most elections since 1914, Hare reported.

Deadline for filing petitions for a ballot spot is today.

OTHER PARTIES

Hare said others who may qualify for a ballot spot include the Prohibition party, the American Independent party, which is backing former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, and a newcomer called the New Politics party.

The Communist party, Hare noted, was last listed on the Michigan ballot in 1940, when it drew only 2,387 votes.

★ ★ ★

The largest vote every by a minority party was 152,909 piled up by the National Progressive party in 1912.

HERE KITTY, KITTY—Answering the call of Mrs. Lilly Olfern is Tammy, a 110-pound Bengal tigeress, who is a house guest of the Olfern family in Miami, Fla. Tammy visits around the neighborhood, goes on drives, takes cool naps in the bathtub, and does all sorts of things any ordinary tigeress does when she lives with humans. Mrs. Olfern says Tammy is no special bother at all as long as she doesn't sleep on the couch."

Perfect House Guest Eats Raw Chicken, Keeps Dogs on Edge

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — George Olfern has a house guest who eats 10 pounds of raw chicken necks a day and keeps the neighbor's dogs scared stiff.

She's Tammy, a 110-pound Bengal tigeress.

★ ★ ★

Tammy and her master, Bill Seefeldt, are staying with the Olferns while Bill fights an order from the Dade Public Safety Department, which wants Tammy caged.

At present Tammy has the run of Olferns' six-room house. His wife, Lilly, and their two children, Dale, 19, and Barry, 15, say they couldn't be happier.

SHARES BED

"We all love Tammy," said Barry, who often shares his twin bed with the 11-month-old tigeress.

"She pushed me out of bed the other night," he said. "And she wakes either Bill or me every morning at 5:30 sharp by licking us in the face. You ought to feel her tongue, it feels like sandpaper."

★ ★ ★

Bill, a 25-year-old tropical fish breeder, takes Tammy for a stroll every morning before he goes to work. During the day she stays in the Olferns' back yard, chained to a tree, or sits on his bed, looking out the window.

Lilly Olfern, who helps her husband run their stereo-record shop, draws just one line where Tammy is concerned. Her couch is off limits.

DRAWS CROWDS

"The only problem, I've had since she moved in two weeks ago," Mrs. Olfern said, "is the crowds we've had. All the neighbors want to see Tammy."

Bill got Tammy from an animal dealer eight months ago when she was no bigger than large house cat. In another year she will weigh about 240 pounds, he says.

Sheriff's deputies recently served Bill with an order to keep Tammy caged. The paper said the agency had received complaints that the tigeress was allowed to run loose.

The Public Safety Department pointed out that Miami residents must have permits for carnivorous animals and that includes tigers. Officials said Bill would get a permit when Tammy got a cage.

'HARMLESS'

Seefeldt says Tammy is harmless and he will go to court before he puts her in a cage.

Mrs. Olfern says Tammy is so tame that she drinks from their aquarium but never bothers the fish. "And she knows what 'no' means," She said. "She's not a bit of trouble."

Tammy plays like a kitten. She has a rubber ball she chews on and she takes affectionate nibbles on Bill's arm. He says she has never attempted to harm anyone and the neighborhood kids let her lick the perspiration on their brows without fear.

Tammy's only detractor in the Olfern household is Collette, Dale's silver-haired poodle.

"It's not that Collette doesn't like Tammy," said Dale—who is studying to be a policewoman—it's just that she's a little jealous. And there's nothing she can do about it except bark."

Luna Was 'Loony,' but Look at Her Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I was always too tall, too freaky looking; nobody ever gave me a chance to be an actress. And look at me now!"

THOMAS

Yes, look at Luna, all 6 feet 1 of her. She is an actress, and doing well — well enough to fill the shoes of Faye Dunaway, the errant "Bonnie." Assigned to play Jackie Gleason's mistress in Otto Preminger's "Skidoo," Miss Dunaway took the title literally.

Preminger filled the role with Luna, whom he had met at a New York party honoring btwiggy. Luna is scarcely more shapely than Twiggy, her height supporting a mere 113 pounds. With her grasshopper-like legs and Nefertiti head, she presents a striking figure.

"I feel as old as Nefertiti today," she groaned between scenes of "Skidoo" one day. "I am completely exhausted. I did an enormous amount of thinking over the weekend, and it took a great deal out of me."

Luna is inclined to take an offbeat view of things, which is perhaps natural when you consider her background. She was born Dhonyale Luna in Detroit 21 years ago to parents with Negro, Irish, Spanish and Oriental blood. She turned into a curious but stunning hybrid; her height remains unexplained, since none of her forebears was tall.

"I was a very loony chick," she recalled. "I spoke funny, I looked funny; I fitted into no particular category. Detroit is very bourgeousie—the people stick to their own particular groups. But I belonged to no group, so I was always alone.

"Until I was 17, 'beautiful' was a word that I had never known. Then I went to New York and someone suddenly said, 'Like wow! This girl is really something.' Flash! Bam! Boom! I found myself in a profession that I never really wanted."

That profession was modeling, and overnight Luna became one of the highest-paid models in New York. Her prices ranged from $60 to $400 an hour, depending on the job. Despite such riches, she was not happy.

"I satisify a lot of people, but not myself," she said. "I need money to live on so I work as a model, but money is the only reward. There is nothing creative about modeling."

That's why she is delighted with the Preminger assignment.

AP Wirephoto

SHE CAME A LONG WAY FROM DETROIT—Luna, who describes herself as a "very loony" child, found a "Flash! Bam! Boom!" life as a model, and now as a movie star.

Modernday Paper in Many Disguises

By National Geographic Society

WASHINGTON—Paper wears more disguises today than a chameleon.

Besides its obvious uses in newsprint, books, and business correspondence — to say nothing of growing consumption by automatic copying machines — paper has found a place in industries once considered far beyond its scope.

In waterproof, fire-resistant, fortified, padded, and ultra-thin forms, paper products are made into walls, floors, furniture, and toys; into heavy-duty packing materials, tiny cosmetic boxes, fine insulation for electrical condensers, and light but sturdy aircraft parts.

Manufacturers turn out disposable paper sheets and operating gowns for hospitals, uniforms for factory workers, dresses, ski pants, and bathing suits.

★ ★ ★

Modern technology has even created a flexible paper knitting yarn. It makes a fabric strong enough for repeated wear.

HELPED DEVELOPMENT

Such novel and complex applications of paper have come about only within the last few decades, says the National Geographic Society.

It was not until the mid-19th century that simple, machine-made bags became available. Fragile and poorly sealed, the primitive bags gave both producers and users trouble.

Yet the invention of paper as a means of preserving records and exchanging ideas was one of civilization's earliest victories, ranking with weaving and pottery-making as a gauge of progress.

Montagnards Clinging to Life

By National Geographic Society

WASHINGTON — A Montagnard chieftain in South Vietnam named three of his sons Bual (lizard), Bayh (snake), and Bil (drunkard).

Life in the Jeh tribe is dominated by spirits, the National Geographic says, and parents believe that demons will not bother the souls of boys with unpleasant names.

In South Vietnam, a mosaic of 30 different primitive tribes, known collectively by the Frenrh word Montagnards, or "Mountaineers," arounts for 15 per rent of the population and occupies two-thirds of the land.

Writer Howard Sochurek, who has visited Vietnam 18 times in as many years tells about the plight of the Montagnards in an article, "Caught in the Jaws of a War."

★ ★ ★

Sochurek says of the embattled tribesmen, "They are caught in the middle, between us and the Vietnamese, between the Vietnamese and the Vietcong, between animism and Christianity, between illiteracy and education — in one generation between a father who hammers iron to make a knife and a son who wants to study science."

SEEK AUTONOMY

Many Montagnards would like to be an autonomous people, free to pursue a simple agricultural life in the hills. They feel no compulsion to become involved in the forces clashing about them.

Like most mountain tribes in Southeast Asia, the Montagnards are farmers. They slash down forest, burn it off, and plant rice, then move on about every seven years to fresh land.

Of crucial importance to the present-day Montagnards are the 50 or so Special Forces outposts scattered through the misty highlands.

★ ★ ★

These are manned by contingents of 12 American and 12 Vietnamese soldier. Eadh camp trains 200 to 700 Montagnards, called "strikers," whose mission is to block infiltration of men and supplies from North Vietnam.

LIFE IS HARD

Within a mile from one Special Forces outpost, Sochurek counted 16 Montagnard villages. he said, "All looked the same from the air: clusters of thatch-roofed huts clinging to the very pinnacles of the steep, forested hills."

Life goes on but with direst hardship, as in the vicinity of the heavily armed Dak Pek camp. Reports Sochurek: "Villagers seeking safety move to the security area even though there may not be a crop to support them.

"Rather than work in the fields, the young men prefer to serve with the Montagnard combat forces, where they are clothed, fed, and paid well."

★ ★ ★

Some 250 Jeh villagers sleep in bunkers and tunnels honeycombing one hilltop. Their underground homes must withstand the fire of Russian B40 rockets now being used in the highlands.

People often eat unripened green rice because they are hungry. They like monkey meat, but fear to hunt in the jungle since shooting might attract Vietcong gunfire.

Sochurek says the Montagnards live today on the edge of survival, and he quotes an American sergeant in one Special Forces camp as saying:

"We are trying to help them, but there are only 12 of us here and 8,000 of them. If just sitting down and crying about it would do some good, I'll tell you something — I'd sit down and cry."

Milford Team Keeps State BB-Gun Title

The Milford Jaycee BB-gun team placed tops in state competition Saturday for the second year in a row.

Another area Jaycee team, Auburn Heights, placed eighth in the contest with 21 Jaycee teams from all over the state.

The contest was held at Muir Junior High School, 425 George, Milford.

Milford team members were Randy Dicks, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dicks, 2495 Charms; Curtis Chapman, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Chapman of Friar; Roger Shecora, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shecora of 629 Duchess; Barry Whitehead, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Whitehead, 4256 Driftwood; and Sara Floyd, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.K. Floyd Jr., 485 S. Duck Lake.

★ ★ ★

The same team members won first place last year.

Two of the team received individual award: Roger for shooting in the sitting position and Fred in the standing position. Roger Brown, in another Milford team, won the prone position award.

State Youth Is Shot After Florida Chase

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A Miami Beach policeman shot a Michigan youth Sunday after a running gun battle during a high-speed chase.

The youth, identified as Robert L. Von Sauers, 20, of Livonia, Mich., was reported in serious condition at Mount Sinai Hospital with a bullet wound in the neck and the arm.

ROUTINE CHECK

Cpl. Sherwood Griscom attempted to stop a 1968 Cadillac convertible the youth was driving for a routine license check. The car sped off, stopping when it collided with a taxi at an intersection.

The youth, Griscom said, then fired two shots at him, one of which hit his patrol car. Griscom returned the fire.

★ ★ ★

Police said the car was stolen May 2 in Southfield, Mich. Found in the truck were another gun and a box of shells.

QUESTIONS: Who pays for the title work or to have an abstract brought up to date? The seller. QUESTION: Why don't we give out the address on homes we have for sale? ANSWER: We feel we owe it to the seller to personally show the home and not have people driving by or stopping to try to see the home by themselves. To be honest you cannot appreciate a home by driving buy, it only takes a few minutes at your leisure to personally inspect the premises. Let us use our gas, you are never obligated.

SOLOMON WASN'T SO WISE!!

That's a fact! A fella named Solomon was in Fischer Buick's Used Car Lot today and he looked at a large selection of quality used cars. Mr. Solomon said that all of the cars looked real good and ran nicely, but he decided that he would keep his 1928 Essex for a couple more years. So why don't you come and buy a car here. You'll be smarter than Solomon!

Earl Sees Nation's Femmes Going for Streisand 'Look'

By EARL WILSON

HOLLYWOOD—I congratulated Barbra Streisand that girls all over the country are trying to copy that Barbra Streisand look.

"They're having their noses fixed back," Barbra laughed.

"No, I mean it," I said. "Those who have seen the first half hour of the film 'Funny Girl' tell me you fill up the scene magnificently, beautifully."

WILSON

"I fill it up . . . I'm fat," she shrugged, at the "Hello, Dolly!" set at 20th Century-Fox during a break in the filming. Barbra refused to take any of the compliments seriously. I had mentioned the Broadway prediction that she might well receive an Oscar for her very first picture, "Funny Girl."

"You know, you pronounce my name wrong?" she said. "You pronounce it 'Streissund' or 'Strizzund.' It's Streisand—'sand' like in sand on the beach. You get it now?"

"StreiSSSAND?" I said. "How's that?"

"Beautiful," she acknowledged. "You were delightful on that." After a moment, she reconsidered my adjective in which I'd referred to the "famous" Barbra Streisand and said, "You sure I'm famous?"

"I could be wrong," I admitted.

★ ★ ★

We went back to the forecast about her getting an Oscar.

"Oh, no," she said, very nervously. "I'm very Jewish. I always think negatively. You never think like that about things in the future . . . bad luck!"

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Eddie Fisher not only denied rumors he and Connie Stevens split—he asked if he could take her to Washington for the U.S. Savings Bond drive he's heading and his reunion with the U.S. Army Band . . . The split-up Buddy Riches reconciled already . . . Pat O'Brien's dtr. Brigid, 21, will join him in a 10-week summer run of "What Did We Do Wrong?" And the mother part? "Who else?—my wife Eloise!" . . . Bravo: Louis Armstrong & Co. for their show at St. Albans Naval Hospital.

Sen. McCarthy visited Eugene's, the cafe named for him (and which helps raise money for him); he told the crowd, "You'll have to run on through November—it might be for four years, or even eight" . . . Harry Goz, star of "Fiddler," bit his tongue onstage, and a doctor was rushed in during intermission to stitch it up.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A friend of Paul Anka's returned from a tour of India, and reports, "Most of the men there were wearing a Sammy Davis jacket."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The usual banquet is a plate of cold chicken and soggy peas, surrounded by dull speakers and appeals for donations."

EARL'S PEARL'S: Art Paul recalls that his mother saved everything: "She never threw anything out. We were the only family in town without a wastebasket."

Joey Adams said of Goy. Rockefeller at a dinner, "The only reason he's running for president is that his brother Winthrop wants to be attorney general."—That's earl, brother.

A Look at Television

Tribute to Berlin Is Nostalgic

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — With a filmed introduction by President Johnson, CBS-TV's Ed Sullivan Sunday night presented a star-spangled 90-minute tribute to Irving Berlin, who will be 80 years old Saturday.

It was a genuinely nostalgic show business occasion, and Sullivan gave it — and Berlin — the red-carpet treatment. The dress was black tie. Many of the composer's fellow songsmiths were in the audience out of respect for his astounding collection of memorable hits. And Berlin himself provided the sock finale of the show — singing his "God Bless America" backed by a chorus of 100 Boy and Girl Scouts.

Amid all the stars on hand, in fact, Berlin was easily the scene-stealer. At first, he sat in the audience with his wife of 42 years, Ellen, and their graciousness and charm were touching. Later on, he gave the show one of its fine moments when he appeared in a famous 1942 film clip — in which he sang "Oh, How I Hate To Get Up in the Morning" in the movie "This Is the Army."

LOOKED GREAT

And when Berlin finally got up on stage before singing "God Bless America," he not only looked great but was also very amusing — and even salty — with Sullivan. Berlin, by the way — a Russian-born immigrant who came to this country when he was five years old — has given all of the royalties from "God Bless America," almost $400,000, to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

★ ★ ★

Still full of zest, he even had a new love song, "I Used to Play It by Ear," introduced by Robert Goulet on the show. Imagine — an 80-year-old man still writing love songs. Doesn't he know that all great loves end when you're 16 nowadays, and that you could just die when you turn 21?

The Sullivan series was the perfect network outlet for the tribute to Berlin, for both men have much in common in their attitude toward their business: unconcealed sentiment, unabashed love of show people, simplicity and directness, not to mention a frank patriotism and love of country.

★ ★ ★

The other stars that joined in the Sunday tribute were Ethel Merman, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Fred Waring, Peter Gennaro, Harry James and his orchestra, the Supremes and the British comedy team of Morecambe and Wise. Fred Astaire also graced the screen in some clips from old Berlin movie musicals.

MAWKISHNESS

Most of the performers, of course, delivered the songs of Berlin — many, of them, including "White Christmas," "Easter Parade," "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Say it with Music" and "You're Just in Love." There were a few moments of mawkishness and overtalk by guests. And the Supremes, who delivered a good medley, unfortunately earlier offered an inappropriately bawdy rendition of the simple and lovely song, "Always." For the most part, however, it was a very pleasant and sentimental tribute.

Needless to say, Miss Merman sang "There's No Business Like Show Business." And every time she sings it, I believe it, even though I know it's not true.

A Bit of Fashion for British Prisons

LONDON (AP) — Women prisoners in British jails can start discarding their drab uniforms for miniskirts.

A government circular to prison governors says female prisoners will be issued 20 pounds—$48—each to buy clothes, and they can buy anything that isn't too eccentric.

★ ★ ★

Those who aren't interested in fashion can keep wearing the uniforms, the circular adds.

Trustworthy prisoners may be taken out on shopping trips by a warden. Others may give their shopping lists to officials who will do the buying.

Watts Hospital Ground Is Broken

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When investigators sought the causes of the Watts rioting of 1965, they reported among residents' complaints lack of nearby hospital care.

★ ★ ★

Three thousand persons attended ground-breaking ceremonies Saturday for the $23.5 million Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. General Hospital in the predominantly Negro south-central area. The 400-bed county hospital named after the slain civil rights leader will be open in about three years.

The U.S., Great Britain, France, West Germany, Japan and the Soviet Union account for 80 per cent of the world's patent applications.

Uranium Rush Starts Up Again in the U.S.

By National Geographic Society

WASHINGTON — The uranium hunt that unleashed a flood of prospectors in the Colorado Plateau in the 1950s has begun again.

The first rush died in 1958 when the Atomic Energy Commission, the principal buyer, announced it had enough uranium.

Since then, technological improvements have put nuclear-powered generators on a paying basis, and orders to build nuclear plants have far outpaced estimates.

The nation's 200,000 tons of low-cost uranium reserves will be exhausted by the mid-1970s. Half a million tons must be found by late 1980 to supply proposed nuclear power plants.

★ ★ ★

Less than 1 per cent of the nation's electrical output is nuclear powered, but the figure will reach an estimated 20 per cent within a decade, the National Geographic Society says.

MAJOR PROSPECTORS

Major prospectors for "yellow cake" — semirefined uranium — are geologists who fly small planes outfitted with scintillometers, detection devices far more sensitive than the traditional Geiger counters.

When accounts of their big finds circulate, the professionals are certain to be joined in the field by adventure-seeking amateurs.

The next decade could see a uranium search rivaling that of the frantic 1950s, when thousands of fortune hunters staked claims throughout the West.

★ ★ ★

Those who couldn't go west bought low-priced uranium mining shares, the glamour stock of the era.

IN SINGLE DAY

In Salt Lake City, center of the mining stock fever, 7 million shares changed hands on a single day.

Few struck it rich, but those who did became legends. Charles A. Steen, a 30-year-old geologist, set off from Texas in 1950 with a borrowed $1,200. He roamed Utah's mountains for two years, occasionally doing carpenter work to support his wife and four sons.

In the Big Indian country near Moab, he struck uraninite. His mine Mi Vida, valued at $150 million, was possibly the world's richest.

★ ★ ★

Vernon J. Pick, a Minneapolis electrical goods manufacturer, began prospecting with a $6,000 stake. He sold his find, the Delta Mine on Utah's Muddy River, for $9 million.

BECAME RICH

New Mexico's Laguna Indian tribe became rich by leasing 3,000 acres of uranium-filled reservation land to a mining firm.

Saigon Battle Rages, but Red Drive Eases Elsewhere

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting intensified today with South Vietnamese troops battling North Vietnamese and Vietcong soldiers from gravestone to gravestone in a cemetery near the capital's Tan Son Nhut airport.

U.S. militaty spokesmen indicated the new enemy offensive launched yesterday was subsiding elsewhere across South Vietnam after only one day.

While Hanoi radio claimed "brilliant victories," Gen. William C. Westmoreland said in a communique:

"Scattered fighting has taken place throughout yesterday and this morning; however, the over-all activities remain

Related Stories, Pages A-8, C-11

considerably lower than during the Tet lunar new year offensive."

★ ★ ★

Headquarters reported 122 locations were hit yesterday by mortar and artillery fire but new shelling today was insignificant. There also was ground fighting in the north but this appeared to be a continuation of last week's battles.

714 REDS KILLED

A U.S. spokesman said allied forces so far had killed 714 enemy troops in and around Saigon, including 177 inside the city itself. Some of the fights were spoiling actions, cutting off enemy units reported headed to attack Saigon.

Four newsmen—three Australians and a Briton—who were driving to check on fighting in Saigon's Chinese section yesterday were killed by Vietcong. Two died in the first burst of fire.

Two more were wounded and a Vietcong officer finished them off. Another Australian newsman in the car feigned death, then ran to safety while the guerrillas were reloading.

One of the Australians killed was John Cantwell of Time magazine, who formerly wrote for The Associated Press in Saigon, Singapore and Hong Kong.

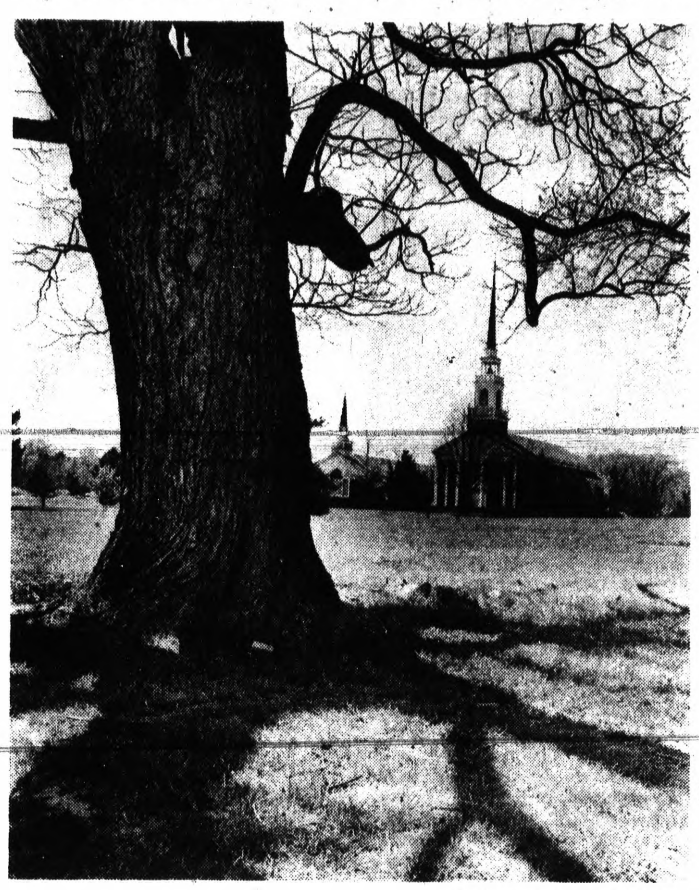

Other guerrillas captured and executed the first secretary of the West German Embassy, Baron Ruedt Hasso von Collenberg.

U.S. officials said an estimated battalion of enemy troops, perhaps 400 to 500 men, fighting allied forces around Tan Son Nhut air base are predominately North Vietnamese soldiers. This is the closest to Saigon that North Vietnamese have fought in these numbers.

U.S. officials estimated that as of early today there were about 300 Vietcong troops fighting inside Saigon. Preliminary estimates also indicated there might be as many as 300 more female Vietcong agents who in some cases have done some of the fighting but are being used mostly for political agitation.

★ ★ ★

The officials noted a definite increase in fighting during the day inside Saigon, around Tan Son Nhut and on the fringes of the capital.

Fires Destroy 2 Barns in Avon

A landmark barn nearly a century old, known to thousands of touring school children, burned to the ground in Avon Township yesterday. A nearby cow barn on the farm of Sarah VanHoosen Jones, Romeo and Runyon roads, Avon Township also burned.

★ ★ ★

Two firemen suffered smoke inhalation as Rochester and Avon Township's Brooklands Fire Departments fought the blaze for more than seven hours. Firemen had to return at 9:30 last night to hose down burning hay. The original call was received at 11:25 a.m.

Treated at Crittenton Hospital, Avon Township, were Kenneth Purdom, 313 Castell, and Robert Tyrell, 111 South, both of Rochester.

Twelve calves were lost in the fire, cause of the blaze has not been determined. Rochester Fire Chief Lyle Buchanan said damage to contents in both barns was $5,000. No damage estimate was available for the barns. He said the damage was covered by insurance.

★ ★ ★

Four other nearby barns were saved. The farm buildings were on 350 acres deeded by Miss Jones to Michigan State University. However, she retained use during her lifetime and the barns were leased to Maurice Place, a dairyman who had been the VanHoosen Farm foreman for years.

Shuffle for Texas Dems Looms in Wake of Vote

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A reshuffling of Texas Democratic leaders loomed today in the wake of a primary election sending two candidates — Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Houston lawyer Don Yarborough — into a runoff for the gubernatorial nomination. There was every prospect for a bitter struggle between Smith, of the party's conservative faction, and Yarborough, liberal, in the second primary June 1. Yarborough led a field of 10 with 407,119 votes; Smith got 369,996.

Although Gov. John Connally controlled most precinct conventions in winning favorite son status at the national convention in Chicago, the outcome of the Democratic primary meant state party control could pass into new hands for the first time in three decades.

"We want an end to poverty, we want meaningful jobs and we want a guaranteed annual income," the Rev. Ralph Abernathy told a premarch rally.

The march arrives in Washington May 19.

State Phone Workers Still Out

DETROIT (UPI) — Dissident Michigan Bell Telephone Co. workers refused to return to work today, ignoring the demands of their international union and its settlement of the 22-day coast-to-coast strike.

Leonard Florkey, strike director for Communications Workers of America Local 4000, the largest local in Michigan with 5,300 members, said the local's executive board voted unanimously last night to continue the strike.

The action came shortly after CWA President Joseph A. Beirne announced in Washington that the nearly 200,000 striking members approved new contracts with Bell Telephone system by a 5-3 margin.

Beirne said Michigan Bell employes voted to reject the contract but were ordered to return to work while negotiations resume.

But Florkey said since Michigan Bell negotiates a separate contract with the CWA, the 18,200 Michigan members are not bound by the national settlement.

"We ratify our own contract and what others do in other states has nothing to do with us," Florkey said. "But he added, "We're kind of doing this in the face of the international union."

Herman Shelton, director of the Michigan unit of the CWA, said in Lansing that all Michigan locals had instructions that they should go back to work.

But workers in Jackson, Flint, Lansing, Ann Arbor, Mount Clemens and other areas remained off the job. The state CWA called its local presidents to a meeting in Lansing tonight to discuss the situation.

★ ★ ★

Shelton said the proposed contract, arrived at last Thursday, was defeated by a narrow margin when 10 of the 36 CWA locals in the state turned it down.

REMAIN ON STRIKE

But the 2,500-member Local 4016 in Macomb, part of Oakland and part of St. Clair counties rejected the contract by a 9-1 margin and President Bill Moultrie said his members would not end their strike.

"Joe Bierne does not run my local," Moultrie said. "I'm telling my people to stay out until further notice.

"The international sold us down the river before. That's not going to happen again," he added.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for Michigan Bell said the company hoped all the striking workers would return to their jobs.

Another Union Pickets at Bell

Although Oakland County telephone workers approved a new contract with the company by "a substantial margin," pickets from another telephone union appeared in front of the Michigan Bell office at East Huron and Mill this morning.

★ ★ ★

Still on strike is Local 4090 of the Western Electric Installers Union, Duane Barker, a steward, said the national contract had been rejected at midnight yesterday and a strike called. Some 30 installers work at the Pontiac office.

Barker said members of Oakland County Local 4012 of the Communication Workers of American (CWA), were not crossing his picket lines.

CWA Local 4012 President Joe Veresh said his instructions were to not allow his members to cross an installers' union picket line. Veresh said the CWA contract with Bell was approved by a "substantial margin" in weekend voting.

★ ★ ★

In the new contract, the county gained parity with the Detroit local bringing an added pay hike of about 3 per cent, Veresh pointed out.

Veresh said he was going to Lansing at 2 p.m. today to attend a conference on the state agreement problems.

Mercury Hits 32 for Record for Day

Pontiac residents shivered in the coldest weather recorded on this date in 93 years today when the mercury hit the freezing mark of 32 degrees this morning. Previous low was 33 set in 1875.

Area farmers and fruit growers reported widespread damage as out-city temperatures dipped into the 20s, reported James Lincoln, district extension horticultural agent.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow will be warmer with a chance of showers or thundershowers late in the afternoon or evening. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 10, tonight 20 and tomorrow 40.

11th Heart Transplanted; 8th Recipient Dies

By the Associated Press

Surgeons in Houston, Tex., have performed their second heart transplant operation in less than three days, with both patients reported making progress. Joseph Rizor, the eighth heart transplant patient, died at Stanford, Calif., yesterday.

At London's National Heart Hospital, 45-year-old Frederick West, his heart replaced Friday night with that of a young laborer killed in a fall, yesterday had a supper of pureed carrots and prunes—his first solid food since his operation. He also asked for books and a television set.

At Houston, the St. Luke's Hospital surgical team last night performed the world's 11th human heart transplant, replacing the ailing heart of James B. Cobb, 48, with that of a youth killed in a motorcycle accident. Cobb was in "excellent condition," a hospital spokesman said.

The same Houston surgical team Friday gave Everett Claire Thomas, 47, the heart of a 15-year-old bride. Thomas' condition on Sunday was termed satisfactory.

At the Stanford Medical Center, the 40-year-old Rizor died 6½ hours after his transplanted heart stopped beating for a time Sunday afternoon.

Doctors got it working again in a few minutes but said the stoppage had been caused by a lack of oxygen in the blood. Death was caused, they said, by the inability of Rizor's lungs—long damaged by his own heart impairment—to supply sufficient oxygen to his new heart.

Rizor, father of four, was a carpenter in Salinas, Calif. His heart came from an athletic 43-year-old man who died of a massive brain hemorrhage.

Cobb, a salesman from Alexandria, La., is the father of two children. His wife is a junior high school teacher. He has a history of heart trouble for the past several years and has been seriously ill in recent months.

★ ★ ★

Cobb's donor was William Joseph Brannon, 15, of Conroe, Tex., who was injured in a cycle accident Saturday morning and died about 7:30 p.m. Sunday night.

★ ★ ★

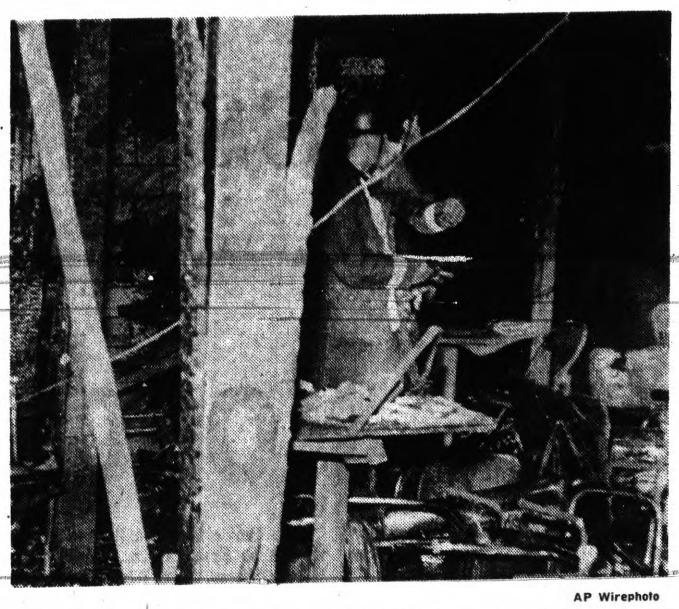

Cobb's transplant was accomplished in 42 minutes.

Both the Thomas and Cobb transplants were performed by a team headed by Dr. Denton A. Cooley.

Of Thomas, who had a 15-year history of heart trouble, Cooley said, "The situation is improving rapidly. In fact, he is progressing more rapidly than the usual open heart surgery patient."

The Brannon youth's kidney was being transplanted simultaneously last night in a separate operation to William C. Kaiser, 41, of Odessa, Tex.

EIGHT DIE IN "THE GRAVE" — Fort Worth firemen examine the charred interior of a tavern apparently torched by an ejected patron.

Man Sets Bar Afire in Texas, Killing 8

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A man involved in a disturbance with a waitress touched off a blaze which killed eight persons in an integrated night club late last night. Seven were Negroes.

★ ★ ★

Witness at the West Side club—called "The Grave" — said a Negro man splashed a can of liquid inside the front door, ignited it and vanished into the darkness.

Six men and two women, trapped in the flames, died of apparent smoke inhalation as they groped over shuffle boards, pinball machines and pool tables for a back door.

"We got a description but no name," said detective L. V. LeFills of the suspect.

★ ★ ★

All but Dillard were Negores.

Two persons were taken to a hospital with injuries.

About 25 persons fled to safety as flames raced along bamboo curtains and turned the building into an inferno within seconds.

Indiana Highlights Big Political Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Indiana's showdown tomorrow between Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy heads a week of major political activity including five primary elections and seven state conventions.

The week is expected to test Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's drive for Democratic National Convention delegates for the presidential nomination as well as Kennedy and McCarthy voter strength.

The primaries tomorrow are in Indiana, Alabama, Florida, Ohio and the District of Columbia. There will be Democratic state conventions in Hawaii, Wyoming and Delaware, and Republican conventions in Alaska, Wyoming, Maine and Hawaii.

In Indiana, Kennedy supporters fired back yesterday at charges he's trying to buy victory.

And McCarthy said neither Kennedy nor Humphrey offers the hope of a revitalized American that he does.

The reply to charges Kennedy is spending up to $2 million in Indiana came from campaign adviser Pierre Salinger in the form of a demand for investigation of alleged bias by the Indianapolis Star and News.

★ ★ ★

A Sunday Star editorial urged Republicans to cross over and vote for Gov. Roger D. Branigin as a favorite son to "help make sure Indiana is not marked 'for sale.'"

"Two chief Humphrey backers said yesterday that a television-radio network poll indicating the vice president has 1,100 of the 1,312 delegate votes needed for nomination "is not far wrong."

Sens. Walter Mondale of Minnesota and Fred Harris of Oklahoma, cochairmen of the United Democrats for Humphrey, were interviewed on ABC's "Issures and Answers."

"I think we have a good chance for a first-ballot victory," Mondale said

★ ★ ★

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon already has enough prospective delegates votes to win the Republican nomination according to two polls published yesterday.

'POLITICAL MIRACLE'

A Newsweek poll gave him 691 delegates and the magazine said only a "political miracle" could put Rockefeller into the lead.

★ ★ ★

The New York Times said 725 delegates are committed or leaning towards Nixon. Needed to win: 667 delegate votes.

ROBERT M. COLYER

GM Employe in OCC Race

A Farmington man employed by General Motors Corp. is in the 12-candidate race for three vacancies on the Oakland Community College Board of Trustees.

Robert M. Colyer, 22905 Hayden, holds a management position in the sales division of Cadillac Motor Car Division in Detroit. He has been with the division full-time for two years.

Colyer, 26, received a bachelor of business administration degree in 1965 from the University of Michigan's Dearborn campus.

A member of the Farmington Area Jaycees, he is a member of the Army Reserve unit in Pontiac. He is married.

★ ★ ★

His statement:

"With the advent of the Orchard Ridge campus of Oakland Community College, representation on the college's board of trustees by a Farmington resident becomes not only logical but necessary.

"It is my belief that my election to the board would also result in representation for the student body of the college.

★ ★ ★

"The problems of college-age persons are unique and many times communications between varying age groups is difficult.

"The opportunity for college students to voice opinions to someone not too far removed from their age category could and should result in better communications between the students and the board and may well enable the board to act with more complete knowledge when dealing with student relation situations."

Romeo School District Gets Library Grant

ROMEO — The elementary, junior high and senior high libraries of this school district have been awarded a federal grant of $3,442 under Title II of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, according to Supt. of Schools T. C. Filppula.

★ ★ ★

Filppula said the funds, to be used primarily for the purchase of new books, are a direct grant. No matching funds from the district are necessary, he said.

The evening's entertainment will include an act by professional comic Larry Thompson. A dixieland band, the Lamplighters, will play during dinner.

Unit, district and council scouters are invited to the dinner, at the Oakland University Sports and Recreation Center. Tickets are $1. Reservations should be made at the Boy Scout office, 132 Franklin Blvd.

Thymus Transplanted

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The first known successful human transplant of the thymus, a small, mysterious gland-like organ that helps in building the body's resistance to disease, was reported today by a Florida physician.

The thymus was inplanted into the body of a 7-month-old boy, born without the organ.

VANDALS' ARSON—A Pontiac fireman battles to confine a blaze—blamed on vandals—to the cab area of a truck leased to the Boice Builders Supply Co., 545 S. Telegraph. The stready stream of water was effective in preventing the fire, which firemen said was set about 1 p.m. yesterday, from reaching the motor or gas tanks.

Vandals, thought to be teen-agers, have been blamed by fire officials for the burning of a truck cab and more than 100 bales of straw at a Pontiac firm yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Firemen responded to an alarm at Boice Builders Supply, 545 S. Telegraph, about 1:20 p.m. and were at the scene more than three hours.

★ ★ ★

They managed to confine the truck fire to the cab area, saving the engine and preventing the ignition of gasoline tanks.

However, damage to the vehicle was estimated at about $1,500.

Police investigators said a second truck was damaged by bricks thrown through side windows.

★ ★ ★

The straw, sued in stacking building blocks kept firemen alert for windblown sparks, but was valued at only 60 cents a bale.

Police said a witness told them of seeing two boys running along a fence near the scene about the time the fire started.

Four fire vehicles, under the command of Capt. Earl Luchenbach, were used to fight the fires.

Birmingham

Government Finances in the Black

BIRMINGHAM — This city's government is in the black.

A financial statement for the last nine months, to be formally presented to the City Commission tonight at 8 by J. H. Purkiss Jr., finance director, shows available surplus as of March 31 at $101,885, compared with $19,125 as of Dec. 31, 1967.

In preparing the statement, Purkiss recommended that the entire surplus be held "to provide for possible increases in preliminary expenditures and for variations in receivables."

The finance director noted that revenues have exceeded budget estimates in all categories except state shared taxes, which include gas, weight and liquor taxes.

The only other recommendation accompanying the report involved the equipment fund, which has suffered a loss in funds on hand due to the high cost of replacing equipment.

"During the first nine months," Purkiss reported, "the city replaced equipment valued at $53,839.43 at a cost of $72,556.41 or a reduction in cash reserves of $19,000.

"In addition, this year a $5,377.60 loss was experienced on the rubbish truck which was destroyed at the incinerator."

The finance director therefore recommended that a contingency allowance be made based on the value of equipment. Initially, the allowance would amount to six per cent of equipment value, to be adjusted annually.

★ ★ ★

Purkiss added that spending has outstripped income in the water department, and said that the finance department would soon be urging a rate increase.

"The cost of maintaining our internal system as well as the cost of billing and collecting has increased substantially since the present rates were established nine years ago," Purkiss explained.

In addition, he said, water purchased from the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority costs more, due to a rate hike made by the city of Detroit, which sells water to the authority.

Income from the city's parking meters, the report said, is up since November's rate increase, compared with comparable three-month periods in 1967 and 1966.

Total revenue from meters this year is $64,536; $42,514 for 1967 and $41,178 for 1966.

PROPOSED BUDGET

Also to be presented at tonight's meeting is the city administration's proposed budget for the new fiscal year.

The budget, slated for reviewing sessions prior to a public hearing June 3, calls for total spending of $3,051,523, up about $180,000 from last year's $2,872,466.

While recognizing an increase of about $17 million in the city's total assessed valuation, from $114 million in 1967-68 to $131 million this year, the proposed budget calls for the tax rate to be held at its present level, 17.5 mills.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Robert S. Kenning said the continuation of the present rate will be necessary to implement new programs and to offset rising labor and materials costs.

FRINGE BENEFITS

A hefty increase of $257,000 is proposed to provide for capital and wage and fringe benefits. The new budget also provides a $22,000 allotment for auto equipment adjustment and an $8,000 boost for special projects, making total increases $287,000.

However, that amount is partially offset by a decrease of about $108,000 in operating budgets for the various departments.

Primary cuts will come in parks and recreation, $37,000; public works, $85,000; engineering, $12,000; the city commission, $6,300; and miscellaneous, $149,000.

Increases are called for in the other areas, including police, $69,000; fire, $74,000; municipal court, $7,000; assessor, $5,000; treasurer, $7,000; finance, $3,000; legal, $1,600; clerk, $6,500; building inspector, $17,000; general administration, $13,000; personnel, $6,500; planning, $3,000; and civil defense, $400.

Cows Good as Fallout Testers

RENO, Nev. (UPI) — Range cows browsing across Nevada's wide open spaces play an important role in research to determine the level of deadly radioactive fallout resulting from nuclear tests.

Dr. Clinton Blincoe, associate professor of agricultural biochemistry at the University of Nevada, says bossy the cow is a ready-made sampling system which far outdistances research systems requiring highly technical, complicated and expensive apparatus.

"You don't even have to plug her in," he noted.

Blincoe said cattle registered the decrease in fallout of Cesium-137 concentrations in the biosphere following the cessation of atmospheric nuclear weapons testing. Cattle have been used in the state since 1958 as a vital part of the research.

★ ★ ★

Three herds were used as radioactive monitors in the study. One was on the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) test site, one 50 miles east of it, and the other nearly 300 miles north.

CONCENTRATION

Individual animals in each herd, including a yearling and a mature cow, have been slaughtered twice yearly to provide measurements of Cesium-137 concentrations both in the liver and skeletal muscle.

Scientists noted decreases both after the 1959 and 1963 cessation of atmospheric tests. There was no significant difference in the rate of decrease at these times. The same rate of decrease was noted in all three herds.

"Significant in the research is that the cows did accurately monitor the cessation of testing activity by showing decreases in Cesium-137 concentrations," Blincoe said.

★ ★ ★

"None of the cows, even though some were close to the testing areas, showed any harmful accumulations. In fact, concentrations were measured in miniscule amounts."

TESTS GO UNDERGROUND

Since the end of atmospheric tests, the AEC has conducted frequent nuclear explosions underground at the Nevada test site, which recently was enlarged to include a supplemental testing area in central Nevada.

There have been occasional leaks of radioactivity from these blasts, but scientists say there has been little or no danger.

Blincoe said cows have many advantages over machines as reliable indicators of fallout concentrations "and we never have to worry about their blowing a fuse."

★ ★ ★

"They are self-propelled, cover a large area of ground in a day, have low maintenance costs and only require infrequent servicing by technicians," he said.

OTHER HANDY USES

As research sampling systems, he says, cattle have the further advantage of being used directly as human food and of eating the same vegetation as other desert animals eaten by man.

And, in such studies, the ultimate concern usually is man.

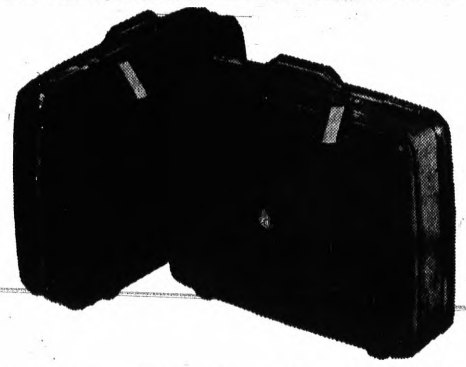

Two Found Dead

OWOSSO (AP) — The shooting deaths of a couple at their home near Owosso apparently were a case of murder and suicide, Shiawassee County sheriff's deputies said Sunday. The bodies of James Fritzche, 47, and his wife, Virginia, 43, were found Saturday. Officers said Fritzche apparently killed his wife and turned a deer rifle on himself.

It Seems to Me . . .

LBJ Candidacy Nix Sincere--- but Might Feel 'Party Draft'

When you question Washington newsmen about the finality of President JOHNSON's declaration "that he's out of the next race," there's a definite unanimity in the replies.

★ ★ ★

LBJ meant precisely what he said and the remark was made sincerely. However, they all incline to the belief that if someone were able to stampede the convention and raise the roof with an overwhelming pandemonium, the President would slide back into the race rather easily.

★ ★ ★

A small percentage feels this may happen through well calculated and deliberate planning, even though the President has no hand in the movement. Some Democrats feel that the President is the only man that can lead the party to an assured victory. They're afraid of NIXON and his increasing popularity and they're uneasy over ROCKEFELLER.

★ ★ ★

Whether the balance of the Democratic delegates would fall obediently in line behind JOHNSON and pick up the cudgel is a moot matter and one that probably can't be determined until the day rolls around.

It's perfectly possible that a planned coup that thrusts Johnson before the convention with wild demonstrations could dictate the nomination. On the other hand, it could very easily die aborting and become a dismal flop. Certainly his name will be presented in one manner or another time after time. Just how great and enthusiastic will be the reception is anyone's guess.

The Kennedy delegation won't go wild. You can bank on that. Neither will the McCarthy supporters. And there's a definite group of Dems that thinks someone else will strengthen the party.

★ ★ ★

And what would the HUMPHREY backers do?

The neutral and uncommitted majority constitute an unanswered question. But the best informed newsmen believe that if any wild demonstration does take place, the President will definitely capitulate and run again.

'Go Away, Boy, You Bother Me!'

Ford Executive Retires . . .

This area's growing list of active men in retirement is currently augmented by the addition of JOHN S. BUGAS.

BUGAS

Mr. BUGAS reaches his 60th birthday and he chooses to step aside and relinquish the important roles he has been handling so capably in the Ford Motor Company.

During the formative years of the modern Ford organization, Mr. BUGAS was a staunch ally of HENRY FORD II at a time when loyalty and assistance were vital. A protege of J. EDGAR HOOVER'S, JOHN BUGAS headed the Detroit office of the FBI and he surrendered those reins approximately 25 years ago to become associated with FORD.

The early days of that tense struggle beneath the surface found the FBI director completely with Henry Ford and the new management which ultimately won a strenuous battle for command. The intense faith of Mr. Bugas remained unquestioned throughout his years of service.

★ ★ ★

An especially personable individual, Mr. BUGAS has endeared himself to a whole host of acquaintances in the area and elsewhere. He retires with the complete respect of friends and business associates who hold him in the highest regard. The Ford executive can look upon his active and constructive life at Ford with great pride and hard-earned satisfaction. Few men anywhere have a wider circle of well-wishers.

Double Time Dose . . .

Again the Michigan legislature thrusts "daylight savings" down our unprotected throats—willy-nilly.

Since the State of Michigan has been on "Eastern Time" continuously for 20 years, it means we are now the only State in the union with a double dose.

What a farce!

We have "daylight saving's daylight savings."

★ ★ ★

The farmers lead the cry of injustice. Nature doesn't recognize or obey laws made in Lansing. Mothers will discover that little children don't either and are vocal foes of double daylight savings. They're compelled to go to bed with the sun shining fiercely in the heavens above.

★ ★ ★

Certain counties rose above the legislature's ruling and refused to change their clocks. But in this area we're trapped.

We vote next November.

Let's thumb it down.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Authorities in the near East believe that Russia has beefed up Egypt's military powers to the point her strength is currently far superior to Israel's. The Commies have been especially helpful in donating air power. . . . . HUBERT HUMPHREY is one of the long-winded orators on this continent — and a good one. Newsweek reports his wife, MURIEL, said to him recently: "But HUBERT, in order for a speech to be immortal, it doesn't have to be eternal." . . . . And speaking of presidential candidate's wives, Washington newsmen tell me this ETHEL KENNEDY is a three-star bearcat.

DELIA

Scouts advise me that Delia Vela deserves mention as one of the area's attractive young ladies. . . . . Queen Elizabeth receives $3,900 a day from the Empire for her living, and she has agreed to take a reduction of 25% during the current British financial emergency. . . . . Overheard: "You can love thy neighbor, but don't let it get noised around." . . . . . A new remote control shopping center designed by the Bell System lets the shopper sit in a lounge and feed orders into a computer. The food selections are electronically packaged and delivered to the parking lot outside.

Most of President JOHNSON's current trips will be strictly hush-hush until he reaches the scene of action. . . . . Overheard: "I gave my kid an ultimatum — 'cut the lawn or cut your hair, pronto.'" . . . . . Now they're suggesting that all baseball teams be permitted to send a player from the bench to hit for the pitcher every time he comes up, with the pitcher remaining in the game. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—JOHNNY BUGAS; the J's—the Columbia University situation.

Bobby Appeals to the Irrational

By RAYMOND MOLEY

There are great differences among the members of the working press who follow the various campaign trails. Differences in temperament, maturity and judgment. But as a group they possess, more than some of the learned professions, a high degree of intellectual integrity.

MOLEY

Determined to be objective and factual, they report what they see and hear and limit their opinions to their friends and colleagues.

And it should be added that their job is not an easy one. They must travel long distances day by day. Their opportunities for food, refreshment and rest must come at irregular intervals. And they must buffet noisy and disorderly crowds at every stop.

These trials are multiplied for the reporters who must follow the frenzied course of Robert Kennedy. Their accounts are the best measure not only of the New York senator's behavior but of the impact that he has upon the crowds which turn out to see, hear and feel him.

The whole affair is a rather frightening example of irrational behavior. A few excerpts from those reporters' dispatches will suffice to present a picture of what has been happening.

RISKED LIFE

In a Los Angeles motorcade "an ecstatic, sobbing young mother" carrying an infant risked her own life and that of her child to get near Kennedy. The child, jammed into the narrow space between the rear tire and fender of the Kennedy car, was finally dislodged, hurt and bleeding."

At Kansas State University Kennedy was "knocked off his feet by women fighting to touch his hands and his hair. His cufflinks were torn out of his shirtsleeves. His wife was knocked about like a cork in a rough sea."

In Kalamazoo a young housewife hauled herself aboard his car and pulled off his shoe.

One writer reported: "Babies bawl. Small children get knocked down. Teen-age girls go into mindless, screaming frenzy. Everyone shoves and struggles to touch (him). At the center of the mob he is getting mauled," and here the reporter expresses his opinion: "That is precisely what he wants."

There is method and calculation in this madness. The issues Kennedy states are carefully tested for crowd appeal. A Kennedy aide noted: "We didn't know that the statement about replacing the welfare system with one that would give everyone jobs would draw such great response.

"Sen. Kennedy used the statement in almost every appearance, but over the two weeks he altered his speech on other issues."

Perhaps the Kennedy aide was not alive in 1935 and Kennedy himself was only 10 years old, but Franklin D. Roosevelt said the same thing in his annual message:

"The federal government must and shall quit this business of relief . . ." And he outlined a program for more jobs. It didn't work and relief continued.

★ ★ ★

But Mr. Roosevelt really believed he could quit relief. Kennedy knows quite well that the experience of 33 years has proved the permanence of welfare. But what does he care about a little matter of truth and experience?

Dem Spirit Can't Obscure Problems in Big States

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The optimism evident these days around Democratic party headquarters fails to obscure one essential fact: The disrepair of the party machinery in the big states.

The party coffers are unusually full, the staff has been rebuilt and everyone concerned seems happier now that election year is finally here, and the National Committee knows what its job is.

This is to provide a support structure for registration, women's activities and other organizational work necessary for a successful national campaign.

In addition, party leaders reported enthusiasm at regional planning conferences.

But the state of the party in the big states, where Republicans scored smashing victories in 1966 and 1967, remains questionable, with serious new splits threatening in a number of places.

Of the 10 largest states, whose 255 electoral votes are only 14 short of the majority needed for election, Democrats have governors in only 3—New Jersey, Texas and Illinois.

UNIQUE PROBLEM

But in New Jersey, Republicans scored smashing statewide victories last fall; in Texas, the retirement of Gov. John B. Connally has created a void at the head of Democratic ranks; and in Illinois, Republicans scored significant victories in 1966.

The other seven big states present even greater problems for the Democrats, who carried all of them in their landslide 1964 victory.

In California, the party is reduced to one statewide officeholder, Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch; is racked by intramural fighting; and must face popular GOP Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel in November.

'Commend Fine Behavior of Junior High Students'

As a group of seven teachers, we commend the 104 students on their fine behavior and appearance while representing Lincoln Junior High in Washington, D.C. recently. U.S. Representative Jack McDonald and Senator Philip Hart were also impressed with our students.

★ ★ ★

This has to be one of the most enriching and enlightening trips because history is unfolded in a realistic manner. We feel that it is impossible to put a monetary value on the tremendous educational learning opportunities that exist on such a trip.

★ ★ ★

We express our appreciation to the parents and the students for their fine cooperation throughout the entire trip.

'Unions Seek Benefits for Working People'

In answer to a recent letter, unions do fight for benefits for all people. Unions have been the largest single group that has fought for years for Medicare. Who do you think started the fight for Blue Cross and Blue Shield? These have helped many people even if they never belonged to a union. Unions are fighting for Social Security raises for all retirees—not just union members—and are involved with trying to get unemployment benefits raised. Unions put pressure on elected legislators—city, county, state and Federal—to get legislation that is a benefit to all working people.

Recently an act of vandalism occurred that is almost beyond comprehension. Nails were planted under the tires of a car owned by my daughter and her husband so that when they backed out of their driveway, all four tires went flat. Besides the cost of repairing the tires, tubes had to be purchased for each. I hope this brings shame to parents who do not know where their children are or what they are doing. This happened in the Jamm Road area of Orion Township.

'We Should Stress Importance of Good Diet'

Recently an editorial appeared in The Press on the subject of cancer. Not near enough is said or printed on prevention. I have no objection to finding ways of curing the dread affliction but we need to stress the need for foods that keep the body healthy. A diet of hamburgs, French fries and cokes or coffee is for the birds. Fresh fruit, leafy vegetables and milk or milk products are a necessity all year. Too many are eating prepared foods crammed with chemicals to preserve them for a year. I am not a diet "nut," just a lover of tasty, nutritious food that will keep a person in good health without resorting to prescriptions from the family physician.

Savage War

London Daily Sketch

Pictures bring home to people in Britain — as nothing else can — the true horrors of the Vietnam war.

For too long, many people in this country have thought of it in terms of the second World War, in which men in uniform, who could be easily identified, fought it out with each other. Then civilians were involved, but mainly when there was bombing.

★ ★ ★

That is why the Americans, whose present policy is to bomb strategic targets in North Vietnam, have come in for so much one-sided criticism. But now we see the war in shocking close-up for what it is.

Now we see it in the raw. The so-called Vietcong army is not an army in the accepted sense — but men treacherously masquerading as civilians.

★ ★ ★

The five battalions of Vietcong reported to have entered Saigon do not conduct maneuvers like soldiers. They enter the city like spies with forged passes; dressed not in battle tunics but in check shirts and peasant clothes.

★ ★ ★

They are not soldiers. They are assassins. They shoot women in the back and gun down children.

They slaughter civilians by design — not through those appalling accidents that are unavoidable in war.

Junk Mail

Citizen Newspapers
Austin, Texas

It is time that the newpapers of the country and other legitimate news media join in protesting the unfair situation that exists so far as junk mail is concerned.

We are concerned about this invasion of privacy about which little is being done.

★ ★ ★

We are disgusted that the U.S. Post Office (which we help subsidize) forces our competitor's messages on the people willy nilly.

We are convinced that the people and the responsible news sources deserve a fairer shake.

This could take the form of a sticker to be legalized and placed on a mailbox reading "First and Second Class Mail Only." It would serve as a continuous vigil that would automatically turn away the bulk of junk mail by those who filled in a prescribed post office form to cover the postman.

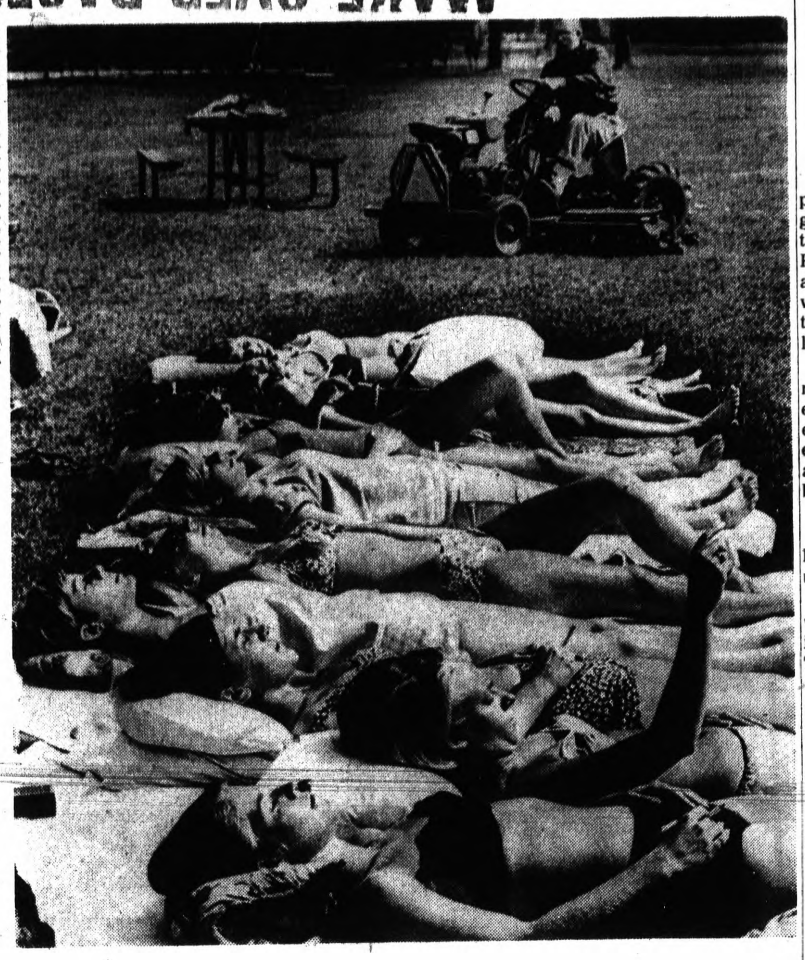

★ ★ ★

Secondly, Congress should be asked to pass legislation requiring mass mailers, or mailing list brokers to revise their lists at least once a year, with attention to these refusal stickers.

Let's start the protest. Contact your Congressman urging introduction of a measure authorizing refusal by the citizenry of junk mail in the manner suggested.

Britain to Spend More Cash for Black Immigrant Welfare

LONDON (AP) — Britain's prosperous areas face cuts in government spending for education, health and housing because Prime Minister Harold Wilson is allocating more money for the welfare of colored immigrants to ease Britain's racial problems.

Wilson said in industrial Birmingham Sunday his Labor government will make an "urgent examination" of 57 areas crowded with immigrants and set up an urban program for the overburdened regions.

★ ★ ★

The money, he indicated, will have to be diverted from areas under less pressure.

Wilson said nearly $2.2 billion will be spent this year on areas inhabited by poor immigrants. This compares with $1.15 billion four years ago, he added.

DEMONSTRATORS TURNED BACK

Police shoved back rival factions of demonstrators who tried to approach the prime minister after he wound up his first speech on race problems since Conservative Enoch Power touched off a story last month with an inflammatory speech against colored immigration.

★ ★ ★

Mounted police and constables pushed back about 200 colored immigrants who surged toward Wilson as he left the City Hall. Another police cordon held back whites shouting support for Powell.

Wilson called in his speech for an all-party campaign to take race out of politics.

"I am not prepared to stand aside and see this country engulfed by the racial conflict which calculating orators or ignorant prejudice can create," he declared.

CONCERN ACKNOWLEDGED

The prime minister acknowledged that his government is concerned about immigration from the West Indies, Pakistan and India and said, "we must keep a fairly tight control over the entry of dependents."

Britain, he said, had issued employment vouchers to fewer than 5,000 immigrant workers last year but 52,000 dependents had entered the country.

★ ★ ★

"The load on our educational system, to say nothing of housing, health and welfare, is such that the strictest control is now necessary," Wilson said.

Britain's colored community now numbers about one million and makes up two per cent of the population.

★ ★ ★

A weeklong series of local elections began today and are being watched, not only for the standing of the Labor party, but also for any effects of the recent Conservative split between Powell's supporters and those who cloak their opposition to colored immigration in more moderate guise.

Conservatives predict they will add to what is already a record number of towns, cities and counties under their control. Labor holds fewer local councils now than at any time since 1945.

Wilson does not have to call a national election until 1971. But widespread defeat of Labor candidates in the local polling would be considered evidence of a further swing of the national political pendulum toward the Conservatives.

★ ★ ★

Politicians from both parties predict the Tories will do better this time than Labor did in the 1964 local elections, five months before Labor won the general election and Wilson became prime minister.

The Conservatives now control 37 of the 58 British cities with population over 100,000, none of these is believed in serious danger this time.

SHIFT SEEN IN LONDON

The bigger shifts are expected in the first elections since 1964 for the 32 boroughs of London. These elections were due last year and were postponed by the government.

Labor now controls 20 London boroughs and the Conservatives 12. The Conservatives predict they will win control of 25 to seven for Labor. A Labor party spokesman declined to make a prediction.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss . . . and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But, if you are not already slick bald, how can you be sure what is actually causing your hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Many conditions can cause hair loss. No matter which one is causing your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have any hair on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered confidentially, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

Negro Forces Possible Runoff

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — North Carolina's first Negro candidate for governor polled only 18 per cent of the vote but may have forced his two white opponents into a second primary runoff and says, "This is just the beginning."

Dr. Reginald A. Hawkins of Charlotte said, "North Carolina politics will never be the same. We'll have to be reckoned with . . . when you get over 100,000 votes, you become a force."

★ ★ ★

Hawkins, 44, a dentist, minister and civil rights leader, had 124,558 votes in Saturday's unofficial returns from 2,153 of the state's 2,191 precincts.

As expected, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott, 38, a dairy farmer and veteran politician, led the three-way race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, receiving 325,510 or 48.1 per cent of the vote.

Running second was Mel Broughton, 45, a lawyer in Raleigh seeking his first statewide office. He polled 225,583 or 33.4 per cent of the vote and has the option to call for a second primary.

URSU-SHEFFIELD

Catherine Sheffield and Thomas Paul Ursu were united Saturday in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Parents of the bridal couple are the Carl F. Sheffields of Chadwick Drive and the Peter Ursus of Cheboygan, Mich. Gowned in a traditionally styled ensemble of organza and lace, the bride completed her outfit with an illusion veil secured by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ursu Jr. stood as honor attendants for the couple later feted at a reception in Middle Straits Community Association Hall. A honeymoon to northern Michigan followed.

McREYNOLDS-ALSTAT

Kathy Louise Alstat, daughter of the William Alstats of Nichols Drive and Gary Bruce McReynolds, son of the George McReynolds of Midvale Street were wed Saturday. Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church was the setting for the vows and later reception. Peau d'ange lace bordered the hemline of the bride's A-line gown. Her shoulder illusion veil fell from a matching lace petal headpiece and she carried a cascade of miniature white carnations and orchids. Sherian Rutherford and Michael Hamilton stood as honor attendants with ushers, Patrick Haney and Robert Davis.

BLASCYK-LANE

Following a reception Friday at the Italian American Club, Lawrence Peter Blascyk and his bride (nee Sally Jane Lane) left for a Canadian honeymoon. They exchanged vows earlier that evening in St. Michael's Catholic Church where she was gowned in Chantilly lace and nylon. A cluster of white roses capped her bouffant veil and she carried a cascade of white carnations and Stephanotis. Honor attendants were Mrs. James Maggard and Michael Blascyk. Bridesmaids were Sue McMahon and Leona Drake with ushers David Tucker and Robert Polesnak. The bride is the daughter of the John C. Lanes of North Perry Street. Parents of the bridegroom are the Stephen Blascyks of Adams Street.

DeLaROSA-SHELTON

A morning ceremony in St. Michael's Catholic Church today united Linda Diane Shelton and Anthony DeLaRosa. Their parents are the James Sheltons and the Jesse DaLaRosas, both of Ivy Street. Nancy Willard was maid of honor for the bride who was gowned in a white chiffon ensemble featuring Empire lines and Venetian lace sleeves. Her short illusion veil fell from a petal headpiece and she carried yellow daisies with white rose buds. The flower girl was Shari Sakell. Robert Fulks was best man with ushers, Joe and Jesse DeLaRosa, the bridegroom's brothers. Following a reception in Fisher Body Union Hall, the newlyweds left for a Niagara Falls honeymoon.

Garden Perfumes Speaker's Subject

"Frangrance in Your Garden" was the subject of a demonstration-talk given by Mrs. Robert Dorman before the May meeting of Interlakes Farmand Garden Association.

Mrs. A. J. Zujko hosted the group in her Hammond Lake home. She was assisted by Mrs. Victor Sutt and Mrs. Charles Sempere.

The annual petunia sale is scheduled May 22. The Spring Council meeting will also take place on that date at Hillcrest Country Club in Mount Clemens.

Wallpaper Decals

When you need decals to decorate the cupboard doors to match the kitchen wallpaper pattern, cut appropriate parts of the pattern from leftover wallpaper and paste them to the doors.

You will find them lovelier and matching more perfectly than any you could buy.

Larry Thornes Wed at Home

Saturday afternoon vows in the home of the bride were exchanged by Linda Rae Pickering and Spec. 4 Larry E. Thorne, USA.

Their parents are Mrs. Clyde I. Pickering of Baldwin Avenue and the late Mr. Pickering and the Russell L. Thornes of Washington Street.

The bridegroom's sister and brother, Mrs. Wilfred Caswell Jr. and Gary Thorne stood as honor attendants for the pair feted later at a reception in the Old Mill.

★ ★ ★

The bridegroom will be returning to his base at Ft. Eustis, Virginia.

Several Jaycee Women Hostesses for Dinner

A progressive dinner preceded the recent general membership meeting of the Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary.

Hosting the various courses were Mrs. Jack Rhoades, Woodbine Drive; Vere Hodges, Ottawa Drive with Mesdames Bruce Norvell and Richard Brown; and Richard Jorgensen, Sylvan Lake.

Mrs. James LaVergne, Mrs. David Ogg and Mrs. William Landis were named as delegates to the Jaycee state convention in Grand Rapids this weekend.

In the election of officers at the business meeting, Mrs. Ogg was elected president. Other new officers are Mesdames: Landis, Richard Hundza, Jack Nicholas, Brown, Terrance Tollefson and Myron Cirka.

The auxiliary will hold a bake sale at the May 25 Flea Market in Rochester.

Towel Tips for Neatness

"A place for everything and everything in its place" is a rule that large families find difficult to follow.

To help the children keep the bathroom neat, here's a suggestion from the National Cotton Council that should be an incentive.

Put up a hook or towel ring for each child's towel and wash cloth. Before attaching to the wall, spray-point each hook a different color: perhaps blues and greens for boys, rose red and pink for girls.

Or use decorative cotton terry towels in the same color, but different patterns. Give striped towels to the boys, pretty floral prints to girls.

Create Your Own Fashion Look

Look-alike fashions are a favorite of twins but most of us want individuality in the way we dress. If you knit, your custom choice of styles, color and fiber is built-in insurance against carbon copy fashion.

History is replete with tales of unsung heroines seeking new fashion liberties. Some, it's true, went to uncommon lengths to build an individual fashion look.

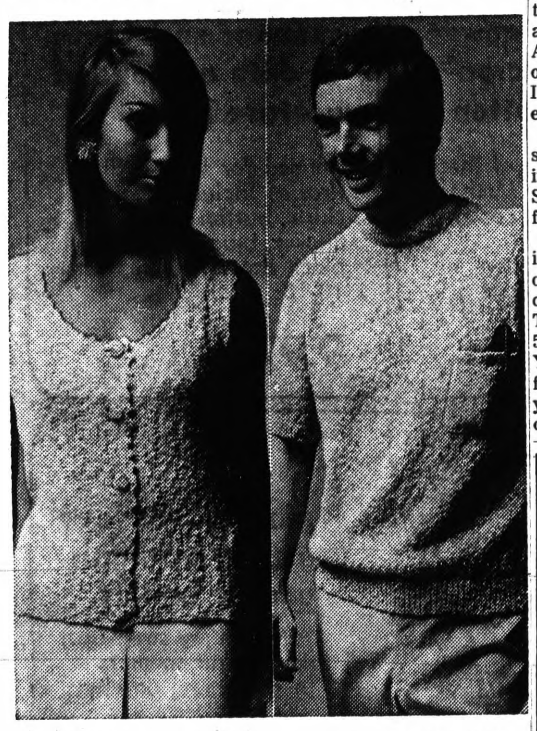

In the early part of the 20th century, Queen Victoria's granddaughter, Czarina Alix, created a near scandal during an official visit to the Austrian court. In an era when pastels were a fashion must, the czarina made her court appearance in a black costume patterned after a man's suit, complete with black tie and tiny white collar. Today this costume hardly is news!

Later in this century, the Hon. Mrs. Reginald Fellowes became famous in her own circle by wearing jewels to the beach and attending the Ascot in a strange state—hatless. Once at a dinner dance, she discovered another woman wearing the same black tulle dress, trimmed in ostrich feathers, that she had chosen for the occasion. With complete aplomb, she summoned scissors from a waiter, cut off the feathers and shaped them into a fan.

Today, creating a fashion look all your own is easier than ever. This season for example, skirt lengths above, below and to the middle of the knee are acceptable — so suit yourself. And you who knit have an edge on individualty. The overblouse I'm showing today is a classic example.

This topper can be worn for sport or dress. You can knit it in Bernat's summery Cott 'n Silk yardn in white, natural to frsted pastels.

For your copy of the knitting instructions for both the overblouse and pullover, send 50 cents to Stitchin' Time, care of The Pontiac Press, P. O. Box 503, Radio City Station, New York, N. Y. 10019. Please ask for leaflet No S140 and include your name, address and zip code.

Knit now for summer with a lightweight cotton and silk yarn in cooling colors. Knitting directions for the woman's shell and man's pullover are available.

AFSCME Raps Waterford School Job Cutbacks

Members of the union representing nonteaching employes of the Waterford Township School District have voted to protest employment policies of the school board.

Robert Hatfield, who was elected Saturday as president of Local 1295 of the American Federation of State, County and Minicipal Employes, said the membership approved a resolution against the administration at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Hatfield said the membership is protesting cutbacks being made in jobs. He said about 10 persons were laid off starting in February and more are expected to lose their jobs soon.

The school district has been in an austerity program pending approval of additional millage. A 15-mill renewal issue was being voted on by township voters today. The union has supported the millage levy, Hatfield said.

Circuit Court to Hear Office Term Dispute

A hearing was scheduled for today in Oakland County Circuit Court to determine if a 1967 legislative act extending the terms of township officials is constitutional.

★ ★ ★

A suit challenging the law was filed last week after Waterford Township Clerk Arthur J. Salley refused to accept the nominating petitions of three persons filing for township offices.

Contesting the action are James F. Schell, Patric K. Dayl and Dorothy M. Olsen, three candidates seeking the offices of supervisor, clerk and treasurer, respectively.

They claim that the Michigan Legislature did not have the authority to extend the terms of elected officials another two years.

★ ★ ★

The extension, which was implemented with an amendment to the Michigan Election Laws, takes away the elective character of the three offices and denies voters the right to select officeholders, according to the suit.

1966 TO 1970

Under the terms of the amendment, officeholders elected in November 1966 will continue in office until November 1970, rather than November of this year.

The complainants are asking that Salley be ordered to accept and process the nominating petitions so they can appear on the Aug. 6 primary ballots as candidates.

★ ★ ★

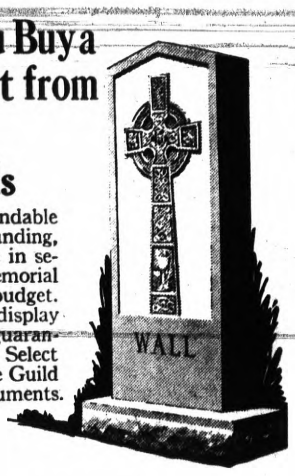

The case is expected to go all the way to the Michigan Supreme Court for a final decision no matter what ruling is made today.

Contest Canceled

"Due to sickness of certain contestants the Knights of Pythias public speaking contest planned for tomorrow night will be canceled," a spokesman for the Knights of Pythias, Pontiac Lodge 19, said today.

Singer-performer Harry Belafonte in accepting an honorary doctor of humane letters at Park College, Parkville, Mo., yesterday said.

BELAFONTE

"The universities today think that giving a few scholarships to poverty or ghetto students, the establishment of a black history course, or even the hiring of one or two black faces to their faculties is enough. It is important, but far from being adequate."

Describing himself as a high school dropout, Belafonte gave the commencement address for Park's 59-member graduating class.

"Corporatism or humanism, which will it be?" he asked, speaking of their future. "Will you be a grudging apologist for the corporate state? Or will you help try to change it, not in the name of this or that blueprint or ism, but in the name of simple human decency and democracy?"

GREETS STUDENTS — Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn of Thailand (second from right) greets Thai students at Michigan State University yesterday following a special academic convocation at which he received an honorary doctor of laws degree from MSU President John A Hannan doctor of laws degree from MSU President John A. Classes at Columbia Left Up to the Faculty

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University opens today, but the administration has left it up to faculty members whether to resume formal classes.

The senior faculty of Columbia College, the liberal arts school, voted Sunday to end formal classes for this semester.

Several units of the strife-torn Ivy League school planned normal sessions today.

Other units said they would decide whether to hold classes or adopt the pattern announced by Columbia College.

'COUNTER CLASSES'

Student strike leaders said they planned to hold "counter classes" either on campus lawns or in other than regular classroom buildings.

Student sit-in demonstrations had shut down the 25,000-student university for 10 days.

Dr. Grayson Kirk, president of Columbia, said Sunday he will not resign under fire—a dissident student demand—and defended his summoning of police on campus to break up sit-ins in four college halls and his office in Low Memorial Library.

He said that "things did get out of hand" last Tuesday when he called in police at 2 a.m., but added: "I would do it again."

ABOUT 115 INJURED

About 100 young people and 15 policemen were injured in the battle.

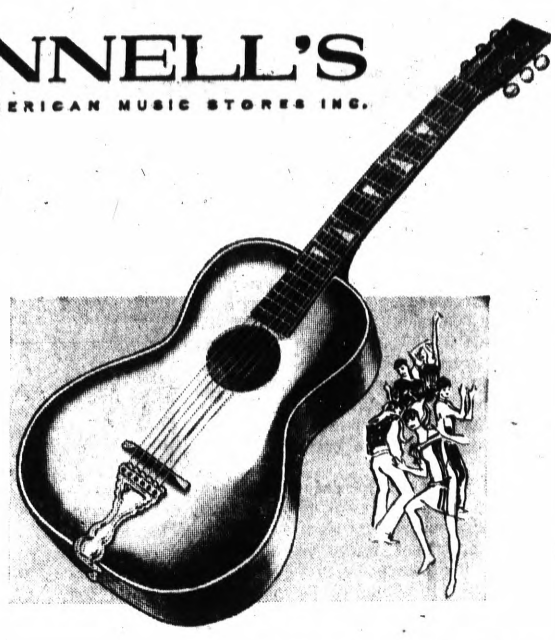

The senior faculty at Columbia College decided at their Sunday meeting to suspend final examinations. The faculty ruled out failing grades for this semester. A student can request a "P" for passing in any course. If he desires a letter grade, he may receive an "incomplete" and finish his work next fall, or he may complete a certain amount of work and receive a grade at the end of this term.

Thai Leader Greeted by MSU Protesters

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —About two dozen Michigan State University students picketed in protest Sunday as Thailand's Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn called for "respect and support for international law."

Kittikachorn, who received an honorary doctor of laws degree from MSU, said later he had seen the demonstrators, but declined comment.

★ ★ ★

"We are protesting his arrival and the granting of an honorary degree to the military dictator of Thailand," said George Fish, a sophomore from East Lansing, the spokesman for the group. Many of the protesters were members of Students for a Democratic Society, a self described student left wing organization.

The young people, a small portion of the university's more than 38,000 enrollment, carried signs asking "Will Thailand be another Vietnam?" Others said, "Francis, Ky Hitler and Kittikachorn," "Don't let our men be killed in Thailand," and "No degree for dictators."

STUDENTS LEAVE

The students left shortly after Kittikachorn received the honorary degree from MSU President John A. Hannah at a special academic convocation.

"As prime minister of Thailand, your name is identified with freedom in the minds and hearts of your own people and among the other nations of Southeast Asia," Hannah said.

"Because of your dedication to the national integrity of your country and to the advancement of the ideals of free and enlightened men everywhere, Michigan State University confers upon you the degree of Doctor of law."

Addressing the more than 400 persons—many Thai students enrolled at Midwestern universities—gathered for the ceremony, Kittikachorn said:

"In international relations, respect and support for international law have always been a predominant feature of Thailand's foreign policy.

"We firmly believe that if the human race is to enjoy peace all peoples must accept the supremacy of law in the relations between states. For a small country like Thailand, the existence of peace and the reign of law not only represent the ideals which we uphold, but to which we attach paramount importance as essential for our security and survival."

something greater

Natural science and human invention are breaking through many old barriers, but men are still unsatisfied . . . still reaching out for something greater . . . still looking for a star to follow. It was glimpsed long ago in the redeeming love and power of Christ Jesus, whose entire life pointed to the underlying spiritual laws of all existence. There can be nothing greater. DOUBLE WINNER — Hurdler Bob Johnson of Pontiac Central sped away from his rival in the 180-yard low hurdles after nipping Madison's Tim Blach in the 120-yard highs to become the only double winner Saturday at the classy Central Michigan Relays. PCH finished second, however.

Denny McLain Triumphs Then Blasts Detroit Fans

DETROIT (AP) — Right-hander Denny McLain blasted Detroit Tigers' fans Sunday as "the biggest front-running fans in the world," and said they helped lose the pennant in 1967.

The 24-year-old pitcher cut loose in an interview after beating the California Angels 5-2 for his fourth straight complete game victory this year.

★ ★ ★

"Norm Cash and I were going bad last year and they got on us real bad," said McLain. "How do they think a guy's wife feels after he goes 0-for-8 or 0-for-16 and the fans cut loose while she's in the stands?

"If they think we're stupid for playing this game, how stupid are they for watching us?"

Asked if he thought the fans' attitude had an effect on the Tigers losing the pennant by one game last year, McLain said:

"I think it did. There were certain guys on this club who didn't want to go out and play last year because of fan abuse."

FOOT INJURY

McLain, who posted a 17-16 record last year but didn't win a game in the September stretch drive because of a freak foot injury, singled out All-Star outfielder Al Kaline as an example of fan abuse. Kaline, off to a slow start, is batting .241 with just two runs batted in in 22 games.

"Now the fans are on Kaline," said McLain. "He's produced for 15 years and he'll produce again this year. They don't realize how good a ballplayer he is."

"I don't care if I get booed here the rest of my life" added McLain. "Detroit is a great town. I like it. I've bought a home here and have roots. But the fans in this town are the worst in the league."

Orioles' Pitcher Is Still Riding Hot Streak Following Fever Bout

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gene Brabender's fever is gone but he hasn't cooled off. As a result, Baltimore is still riding its own hot streak.

Brabender, whipping a 100-degree fever that cost him seven pounds in three days, hurled a six-hit shutout and hammered his first home run in pro baseball as Baltimore belted Washington 8-0 Sunday for its seventh straight victory.

★ ★ ★

The shutout was the fifth straight complete game by the Baltimore pitching staff during a winning binge that has carried the Orioles into first place in the American League, 1½ games ahead of Detroit.

The big right-hander touched off an outburst of three Oriole homers in one inning with his 390-foot blast into the left-center-bullpen, but Brabender never saw the only home run he has ever hit in six years in the minors and majors.

"I was afraid to look up, really," he said. "I just kept running. I didn't know it until the umpire waved me around."

Curt Blefary followed Brabender's leadoff homer in the seventh with his own bases-empty blow, and Boog Powell rapped a two-run shot into the upper deck in right field minutes later.

Brabender limited the Senators to six singles only a day after getting out of a sick bed. He came down with a virus infection in his throat Thursday night and had a temperature over 100 by the next day. A slight fever remained Saturday, but he concealed that fact from Manager Hank Bauer.

CAP DOFFER — Mickey Stanley acknowledges the applause of the fans near the Detroit Tigers dugout after lacing out a two-run homer in the fifth inning yesterday to give the Bengals a 3-2 lead in the game. Dick Tracewski (44) who scored ahead of him follows Stanley into the dugout. The Tigers won the game, 5-2 yesterday.

Bengals Defeat Angels in Final of Series, 5-2

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Tigers should take some of that cold weather with them to Baltimore tonight—the red-hot orioles could stand some cooling off.

The Tigers fly into Baltimore for the start of a three-game night set with the streaking Orioles tonight. The Birds have won seven in a row to fly past the Tigers into first place in the American League by a game and one-half.

Detroit righted its derailed pennant express Sunday, snapping a three-game losing streak in 48-degree weather with a 5-2 triumph over the California Angels.

Denny McLain went the route, doling out seven hits and striking out the same number, to tie the Orioles' Jim Hardin as the Major Leagues' pitching leader with a 4-0 mark.

★ ★ ★

Mickey Stanley came out of a hitting slump which had him 0-for-18, including a walk, with a first-inning single and home run with a teammate aboard in the fifth to ice the game. Bill Freehan smacked a solo home run in the second and drive in an insurance run in the eight.

FRIGID FANS

The weather bureau said it was 48-degrees at game time but 14,125 fans, huddled under blankets and overcoats, plus the players and sportswriters believe the bureau's thermometer was kept in a warm room as they shivered through the 2:25 game.

"The cold doesn't bother me," McLain said. "Just as long as I'm loose, I'm okay."

The auburn-haired right-hander also laid down two perfect sacrifice bunts and was only in any difficulty during three innings. He retired the last 11 men to face him.

★ ★ ★

A leadoff walk and consecutive one-out singles by Roger Repoz and Don Mincher produced a run in the opening inning and three straight singles by Bob Rodgers, Bob Knoop and George Brunet brought home the other California run in the fifth.

McLain gave up a single to Fregosi leading off the sixth, got Repoz to hit into a force and saw Mincher hit a pop-fly double which Willie Horton just failed to catch to put runners on first and third with one out.

But Jim Hall saw his batting average dwindle to lower than .100 by fourling out to Freehand and Jay Johnstone popped to Dick Tracewski at short ending the frame.

FREEHAN HOMERS

Freehan's fourth home run, into the lower deck in right in the second inning, tied the score 1-1 and Stanley's poke to nearly the same spot in the fifth was enough to win the loss on old nemesis Brunet, now 2-3.

Two walks in the eighth and back-to-back singles by Freehan and Don and Don Wert produced the other Detroit runs. "I mixed my pitches about 60-40 fastballs to curves," McLain said following his fourth complete game in a row.

McLain was the center of a controversy in the first inning, putting his hand to his mouth in apparent violation of baseball's new spitball rule.

But after Angels' Manager Bill Rigney came out to discuss it with the umpires, it was agreed to let both pitchers blow on their hands to warm them up in the chilly air, suspending the rule.

"I just wanted to make sure that both pitchers could do it," Rigney said. "I know both pitchers and know they don't throw any spitballs or it would have been a different case."

Joe Sparma takes his 1-2 record into tonight's contest with Baltimore against the Orioles' Dave Leonhard and his 1-0 mark.

Win First Game, 3-2

Habs Nip Blues

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Scotty Bowman figures his St. Louis Blues are one up on the Boston Bruins, even if the Blues are one down to the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup finals.

★ ★ ★

"At least we took them (the Canadiens) into overtime," Coach Bowman pointed out Sunday after the Canadiens nipped the Blues 3-2 in sudden death. The second game of the best-of-7 series will be played Tuesday in St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

"Boston just lost four straight," Bowman added. "And what the heck, a lot of teams have lost the first game to the Canadiens in the playoffs."

The Blues lost their first game in the playoffs to the Canadiens with 1:41 gone in the overtime. Center Jacques Lemaire picked up the puck in center ice and fired a 40-foot slap shot that St. Louis goalie Glenn Hall couldn't handle.

That goal had given Montreal the game, but it wasn't the runaway most people had predicted.

Barclay Plager staggered the Canadiens with a long, hard slap shot at 9:19 of the first period that Montreal goalie Gump Worsley never touched.

★ ★ ★

But the Canadiens came back 23 seconds later to tie the score at 1-1 on Henri Richard's goal.

The Blues again struck for the lead in the second period when former Canadien Dicke Moore scored but Yvan Cournoyer tied it near the end of the period.

Goalie Worsley didn't think the Blues were up on anybody.

"It was the same thing," he said. "They lost."

★ ★ ★

Montreal Coach Toe Blake wasn't that nonchalant about the Blues.

"You've got to look at it his way," Blake pointed out.

★ ★ ★

"They've got guys like Jean-guy Talbot and Moore, and guys like that, who used to play for us. If they were good enough to play for us they're certainly good enough to play against us."

Flint Central Ends PCH's Track Streak

Special to The Press

MT. PLEASANT — Flint Central piled up the points in the relay races Saturday and thwarted Pontiac Central's hopes of extending its domination in the major prep track meets this spring.

The Indians of Flint scored in the sprint medley, the middle distance, the 440-yard and the 880-yard relays to win the coveted 28th annual Central Michigan University Class A Outdoor Relays by a 47-43 margin over PCH.

Pontiac's Chiefs previously had won the CMU Indoor Meet and the Huron Relays at Ypsilanti, plus had tied for first place at the prestigious Mansfield (Ohio) Relays.

Saturday at Mt. Pleasant in the Class C phase of the action, Detroit Country Day of Birmingham led the field with 37 points. The Yellow Jackets won the sprint medley and tied for first in the 440 relay.

Cranbrook won the Class B portion Friday night. In addition, Oakland County preps highlighted much of the individual action, setting three of the five records and grabbing 9 of the 15 first places in Class A.

PCH had the only double winner in star hurdler Bob Johnson who won both the 120-yard highs and 180-yard lows. Jon Costello of the Chiefs led the mile runners.

His running mate, Larry Hurst, was fourth in the same event, and PCH had a second by its mile relay team and fifths by its two-mile relay, middle distance relay and 880-yard relay units.

In addition, Horace Davis and Johnson placed three-four in the long jump, Walter Terry took third in the pole vault and Jessie Bennett was fifth in the 100-yard dash for the Chiefs.

However, Flint Central's superior efforts in the relays — which have higher point values than the individual races — plus Herb Washington's record :09.6 in the 100-yard dash and a second place finish by Russ Carson in the high jump were too much for the Chiefs to overcome.

★ ★ ★

Besides Washington's flashy dash, Waterford's Larry Biskner commanded a share of the spotlight by clearing 14-7 in the pole vault for reportedly the best jump by any prep in the state.

Birmingham Seaholm's crack mile relay team won in 3:26 and Bloomfield Hills Andover's two-mile unit posted an 8:10.4 to set two other CMU outdoor marks.

Gene Panker of Kettering heaved the shot 54-3½; John Mann of North Farmington topped 6-4, and Elazel Park romped to a 10:52.5 winning distance medley relay to complete the gold medal performances by county preps.

Pontaic Central will try to avenge its reversal by the Flint speedsters by traveling to Midland Friday for the Saginaw Valley Conference meet.

Dancer's Image Is Biding Time

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Dancer's Image was biding his time at Churchill Downs today with these prospects in store for the Kentucky Derby winner:

A chance to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948.

A higher insurance rate.

Possible syndication.

★ ★ ★

"We'll ship him to Baltimore Wednesday to get ready for the Preakness," Trainer Lou Cavalaris said Sunday while accepting congratulations in the Downs stable area for Saturday's come-from-behind victory.

The increased insurance for Dancer's Image, who at one time was insured for $150,000 but went into the Derby insured for $1.5 million, was disclosed by owner Peter Fuller.

"We're increasing the insurance on Dancer's Image to $1.8 million, and that's the highest ever for a horse that's still running," the Boston sportsman said.

NO PLANS

As for Syndication, Fuller, who recently was offered $2 million for his Native Dancer colt, said there have been no specific plans "but there are about 10 people — five of them prime prospects — who have expressed some interests."

It was a victory in the first Derby try for Fuller and Cavalaris, and both were elated. However, Cavalaris said the thrill of winning wasn't as great as the disappointment over a bad race would have been.

"I would have been sick if he would have finished out of the money," the trainer said.

For a time Saturday, it looked very much like Dancer's Image would be out of the money. He was last in the 14-horse field after one-half-mile and was eighth with a quarter of a mile to go.

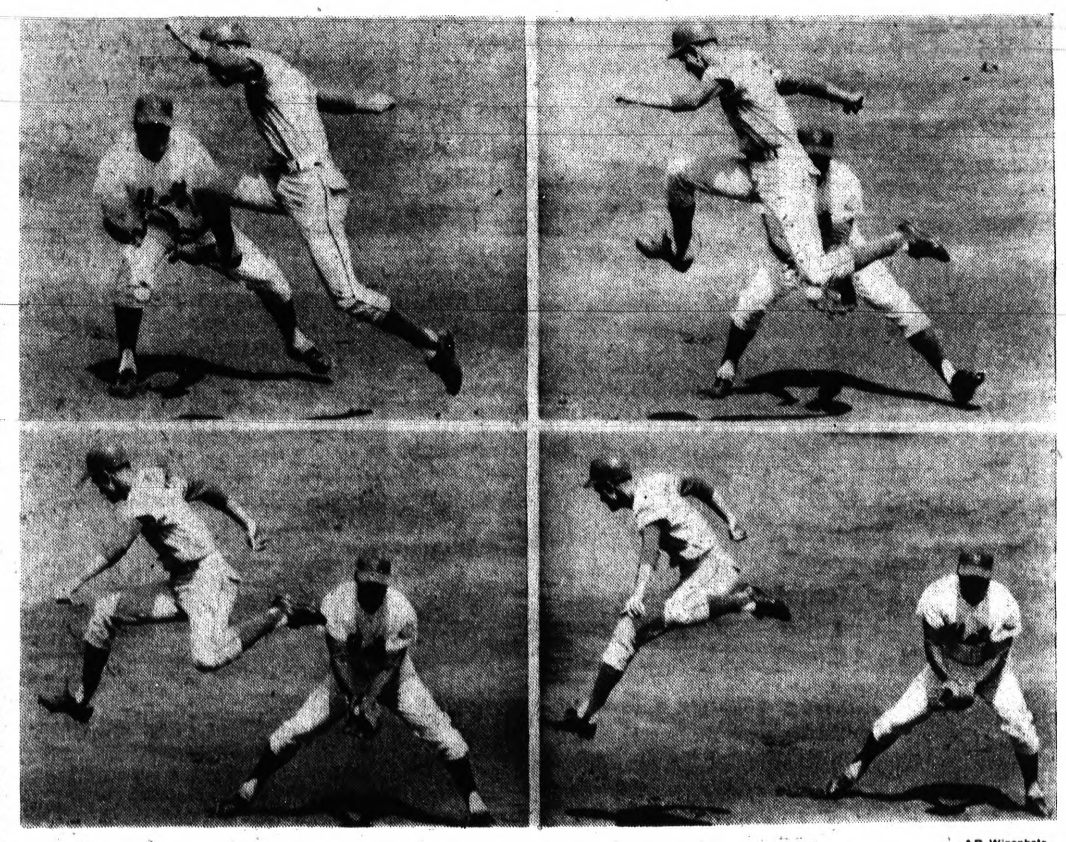

Then Bobby Ussery shot the gray colt through a hole along the rail, and Dancer's Image carried the veteran rider into the winner's circle for the second straight year. Ussery, who won in 1967 with Proud Clarion, is only the third rider to win two consecutive derbies.

A. J. Foyt Winner Despite Collision

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) A. J. Foyt, climbing from a 27th-place start, captured the Yankee 250-mile stock car race at Indianapolis Raceway Park Sunday despite a blowout and a collision.

Foyt, of Houston, Tex., finished the 100 laps around the 2½-mile, 15-turn course in three hours, 5 minutes, 50.4 seconds for a record 80.715 miles an hour. His 1968 Torino crossed the finish line about two miles ahead of the second-place 1968 Plymouth driven by Norm Nelson, Racine, Wis.

UP AND AWAY — Chicago Cub's second baseman Jose Arcia hurdles the ball on his way from second to third as Mets' third baseman makes the catch to throw out pitcher Ferguson Jenkins to retire the side. The Cubs won both games from the Mets, 3-2 and 1-0 yesterday in New York.

HERE KITTY, KITTY—Answering the call of Mrs. Lilly Olfern is Tammy, a 110-pound Bengal tigeress, who is a house guest of the Olfern family in Miami, Fla. Tammy visits around the neighborhood, goes on drives, takes cool naps in the bathtub, and does all sorts of things any ordinary tigeress does when she lives with humans. Mrs. Olfern says Tammy is no special bother at all as long as she doesn't sleep on the couch."

Perfect House Guest Eats Raw Chicken, Keeps Dogs on Edge

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — George Olfern has a house guest who eats 10 pounds of raw chicken necks a day and keeps the neighbor's dogs scared stiff.

She's Tammy, a 110-pound Bengal tigeress.

★ ★ ★

Tammy and her master, Bill Seefeldt, are staying with the Olferns while Bill fights an order from the Dade Public Safety Department, which wants Tammy caged.

At present Tammy has the run of Olferns' six-room house. His wife, Lilly, and their two children, Dale, 19, and Barry, 15, say they couldn't be happier.

SHARES BED

"We all love Tammy," said Barry, who often shares his twin bed with the 11-month-old tigeress.

"She pushed me out of bed the other night," he said. "And she wakes either Bill or me every morning at 5:30 sharp by licking us in the face. You ought to feel her tongue, it feels like sandpaper."

★ ★ ★

Bill, a 25-year-old tropical fish breeder, takes Tammy for a stroll every morning before he goes to work. During the day she stays in the Olferns' back yard, chained to a tree, or sits on his bed, looking out the window.

Lilly Olfern, who helps her husband run their stereo-record shop, draws just one line where Tammy is concerned. Her couch is off limits.

DRAWS CROWDS

"The only problem, I've had since she moved in two weeks ago," Mrs. Olfern said, "is the crowds we've had. All the neighbors want to see Tammy."

Bill got Tammy from an animal dealer eight months ago when she was no bigger than large house cat. In another year she will weigh about 240 pounds, he says.

Sheriff's deputies recently served Bill with an order to keep Tammy caged. The paper said the agency had received complaints that the tigeress was allowed to run loose.

The Public Safety Department pointed out that Miami residents must have permits for carnivorous animals and that includes tigers. Officials said Bill would get a permit when Tammy got a cage.

'HARMLESS'

Seefeldt says Tammy is harmless and he will go to court before he puts her in a cage.

Mrs. Olfern says Tammy is so tame that she drinks from their aquarium but never bothers the fish. "And she knows what 'no' means," She said. "She's not a bit of trouble."

Tammy plays like a kitten. She has a rubber ball she chews on and she takes affectionate nibbles on Bill's arm. He says she has never attempted to harm anyone and the neighborhood kids let her lick the perspiration on their brows without fear.

Tammy's only detractor in the Olfern household is Collette, Dale's silver-haired poodle.

"It's not that Collette doesn't like Tammy," said Dale—who is studying to be a policewoman—it's just that she's a little jealous. And there's nothing she can do about it except bark."

Luna Was 'Loony,' but Look at Her Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "I was always too tall, too freaky looking; nobody ever gave me a chance to be an actress. And look at me now!"

THOMAS

Yes, look at Luna, all 6 feet 1 of her. She is an actress, and doing well — well enough to fill the shoes of Faye Dunaway, the errant "Bonnie." Assigned to play Jackie Gleason's mistress in Otto Preminger's "Skidoo," Miss Dunaway took the title literally.

Preminger filled the role with Luna, whom he had met at a New York party honoring btwiggy. Luna is scarcely more shapely than Twiggy, her height supporting a mere 113 pounds. With her grasshopper-like legs and Nefertiti head, she presents a striking figure.

"I feel as old as Nefertiti today," she groaned between scenes of "Skidoo" one day. "I am completely exhausted. I did an enormous amount of thinking over the weekend, and it took a great deal out of me."

Luna is inclined to take an offbeat view of things, which is perhaps natural when you consider her background. She was born Dhonyale Luna in Detroit 21 years ago to parents with Negro, Irish, Spanish and Oriental blood. She turned into a curious but stunning hybrid; her height remains unexplained, since none of her forebears was tall.

"I was a very loony chick," she recalled. "I spoke funny, I looked funny; I fitted into no particular category. Detroit is very bourgeousie—the people stick to their own particular groups. But I belonged to no group, so I was always alone.

"Until I was 17, 'beautiful' was a word that I had never known. Then I went to New York and someone suddenly said, 'Like wow! This girl is really something.' Flash! Bam! Boom! I found myself in a profession that I never really wanted."

That profession was modeling, and overnight Luna became one of the highest-paid models in New York. Her prices ranged from $60 to $400 an hour, depending on the job. Despite such riches, she was not happy.

"I satisify a lot of people, but not myself," she said. "I need money to live on so I work as a model, but money is the only reward. There is nothing creative about modeling."

That's why she is delighted with the Preminger assignment.

AP Wirephoto

SHE CAME A LONG WAY FROM DETROIT—Luna, who describes herself as a "very loony" child, found a "Flash! Bam! Boom!" life as a model, and now as a movie star.

Modernday Paper in Many Disguises

By National Geographic Society

WASHINGTON—Paper wears more disguises today than a chameleon.

Besides its obvious uses in newsprint, books, and business correspondence — to say nothing of growing consumption by automatic copying machines — paper has found a place in industries once considered far beyond its scope.

In waterproof, fire-resistant, fortified, padded, and ultra-thin forms, paper products are made into walls, floors, furniture, and toys; into heavy-duty packing materials, tiny cosmetic boxes, fine insulation for electrical condensers, and light but sturdy aircraft parts.

Manufacturers turn out disposable paper sheets and operating gowns for hospitals, uniforms for factory workers, dresses, ski pants, and bathing suits.

★ ★ ★

HELPED DEVELOPMENT

Such novel and complex applications of paper have come about only within the last few decades, says the National Geographic Society.

It was not until the mid-19th century that simple, machine-made bags became available. Fragile and poorly sealed, the primitive bags gave both producers and users trouble.

Yet the invention of paper as a means of preserving records and exchanging ideas was one of civilization's earliest victories, ranking with weaving and pottery-making as a gauge of progress.
