Asserts He Can't Say U. S. Should Withdraw From Organization

(From AP & INS Dispatches)

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today he is completely and unalterably opposed to letting Red China into the United Nations under present conditions. But he said he is not ready to say this country should withdraw from the U. N. if the Reds are admitted.

Eisenhower thus took issue by implication with Republican Senate leader Knowland of California and some other lawmakers who are urging United States withdrawal from the U. N. if the Peiping government is admitted over American protests.

Mr. Eisenhower would not close the door with finality against the possibility that Red China some day might be admitted to the U. N.

But he said for this to come about, the Chinese Reds must change their present aggressive attitude entirely and establish a record by deeds and performance to show that they are trustworthy.

The President said that he and Knowland normally see eye to eye on most questions but that he does not agree with Knowland that the U. S. should withdraw from the U. N. if Red China is admitted over U. S. protests.

Mr. Eisenhower said he is opposed to any such legislation being passed in advance of such a occurrence.

He said he believes firmly that world problems should be dealt with as they arise, and that any move by the U. S. regarding the question of Red China should be undertaken only after the most serious and thorough study and consideration.

The President said that he does not believe such legislation will get through Congress now.

The President said that he will fight to the last ditch to keep Red China out of the United Nations, but that if the U. S. should be overridden, the government then will have to consider its future course on the basis of the circumstances existing at that time.

Mr. Eisenhower said that the U. S. entered the U. N. under the form of treaty obligations. He said that the U. N. was established in an attempt to marshal the moral strength of the world to keep peace.

He said that the question of Red China's admission to the U. N. involved a great moral question.

He said today the world sees Red China going to the Geneva Conference and instead of adopting a conciliatory attitude, it has actually demanded repudiation of the U. N. position.

He added that the Red Chinese are actually at war with the U. N.,

BLOODHOUND TRACKS CLUES—Grim determination is written on the faces of South Miami fireman, Charles Smith and an unidentified policeman who, with the aid of a bloodhound, are scouring the area where the body of 7-year-old Judith Ann Roberts was found early today. Judith and her parents were visiting grandparents in Miami when the tragedy occurred.

Child Abducted While Visiting Grandparents

Daughter of Baltimore Attorney - Labor Leader Beaten to Death

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Judith Ann Roberts, blue-eyed, 7-year-old daughter of a Baltimore attorney and labor leader, was kidnaped from the home of her grandparents here today, raped and beaten to death.

Police found the child's nude and brutally battered body in a clump of bushes off fashionable Bayshore Drive five hours after her mother, Mrs. Shirley Roberts, reported her missing.

She had been beaten on the head with a heavy instrument and a piece of gauze was knotted about her throat. Her flimsy seersucker nightgown, white with red polka dots, lay eight feet from the body.

Judith Ann's body was caked with blood and dirt, indicating she put up a fight for her life.

Police said the killer sneaked into the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rosenberg, about 1 a.m., stole the keys to Rosenberg's car and took the child from the studio couch in the living room where she was sleeping.

Mrs. Rosenberg was awakened by the sound of the car roaring out of the driveway. She discovered the child was gone and the front door standing open.

Police were called at 1:10 a.m. Four hours and 10 minutes later, they found the Rosenberg car abandoned in the strip of sandy land between Bayshore Drive and the shore of Biscayne Bay. Its wheels were mired in the sand and tire marks showed the driver tried frantically to get it out.

The child's father, James Roberts, was away from home conferring with a woman client seeking a Florida divorce, when the child's disappearance was reported. He returned home a few minutes after police arrived.

Roberts is a member of the Baltimore law firm of Roberts, Gilbert and Rocklin. Before joining the partnership, he was president of a Baltimore local of the United Auto Workers and was at one time an international representative of that union.

Homicide Detectives I. J. Whitman and Charles Sapp said there was no indication that any attempt had been made to collect a ransom. Mrs. Roberts told police she and her husband were in moderate circumstances and not likely targets for a ransom kidnaping.

An examination by Dr. Ben Sheppard, medical expert in the sheriff's office, disclosed that Judith Ann had been raped.

Bloodhounds were taken to the spot where the car was found, given the scent of Judith Ann's bloody nightgown, and fanned out in search of the killer.

Democracy Can Win Asiatics

Vice President Urges Free World to Expose Communist Lies

JACKSON (AP) — Vice President Nixon last night urged the free peoples of the world to not only "expose Communist lies abroad" but also show 600 million uncommitted Asiatics by example that democracy is the superior way of life.

"We must make equality in fact as well as law the shining example for all the world to see," he told a Jackson Freedom Festival audience estimated at 2,800.

Speaking from notes at the week-long festival honoring the centennial of the first Republican Party convention, the vice president said the future of the free world is based on the decision of the Asiatic peoples.

"The Communists know and we know that whoever wins these 600 million people will win the world," he said.

"Make no mistake about it," he added. "We are going to win because we have the resources and we have the strength but, most important, we're on the right side, the side of freedom, the side of justice and the side of peace against the forces of tyranny and slavery, and the people are for us."

Nixon spoke in the covered fairgrounds grandstand with a steady drizzling rain falling. The rain kept down the size of the crowd.

The Eisenhower Administration, he said, will continue to oppose United Nations recognition of Red China. And then in a brief reference to Guatemala, Nixon said:

"Every Communist dictator tonight sleeps a bit more uneasily because Guatemala's is the first Communist dictator government overthrown by the people."

4 Die as Jet Crashes Homes in Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Kan.—(AP)—An Air Force jet plane crashed today just outside the downtown district and an unofficial report said four persons were killed, including the pilot. Several homes were set afire.

Two persons were also taken to Providence Hospital suffering burns and shock. They were King H. Simmons, 47, 837 Nebraska, and his mother, whose name and age were not immediately available. Searching parties were probing the debris of homes in the crash area for other bodies.

Search was being made for three children who were reported to have been playing near the first home that was hit by the F-84-F plane, which had just come off the assembly line.

One of the three homes set afire was occupied by Eural Redwine, 45, an invalid. It was not known whether he was in the house at the time.

The plane, an F84, just off the assembly line at the local General Motors plant, crashed in the residential area at 9th and Nebraska. Normally the F84 carries only the pilot.

Bert Kinney, Jr., 43, was asleep in the first house struck but he escaped without injury. He said he woke up covered with dust. He crawled out of the debris, unaided.

Mrs. Marian Reed, 30, who lives next door, said she looked out of her house after she heard a "terrific zooming" noise, to see the plane hit the first house.

Other witnesses said the plane first struck a tree, then the first house, bounced to the sidewalk and then bounced again across the street.

Employment to Increase, Says GM Pontiac Head

Substantially increased employment this fall at Pontiac Motor Division was forecast Tuesday by Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of the division and GM vice president, in a talk before Pontiac Kiwanians.

He said he looked for stability in employment around present levels during the intervening weeks.

Critchfield revealed that the schedule of Otters for the armed services was completed during June but that a supplementary schedule has been received for additional transmissions for these amphibious vehicles.

Work on the Bofors gun contract is about completed, but bids have been asked on a supplemental contract, so that further production of this item is anticipated, although there might be a brief gap between the two.

He reported that production of the four and a half inch rocket has reached full capacity, but that production of the 60 millimeter aircraft weapon still is increasing.

He said approximately 12 per cent of the persons now on the division's payroll are employed on its four present defense contracts.

In summarizing Pontiac's expansion and modernization program, Critchfield listed rehabilitation of its engine plant, which covers some 15 acres. During this program engines are being produced in another

U.S. Reports 1 Million Rise in Employment

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said today employment increased by nearly one million from May to June and unemployment, contrary to the usual seasonal pattern, showed almost no increase.

Meanwhile unemployment was estimated to have risen by no more than 42,000 during the month from 3,305,000 in early May to 3,347,000 in early June.

229,119 Eligible for County Vote

Oakland Has Record Registration for Aug. 3 State Primary

A record 229,119 Oakland County citizens, including 38,500 from Pontiac, were registered to vote in the Aug. 3 primary election at yesterday's deadline.

Oakland County Deputy Clerk Ruth E. Windiate said the next high year was 1952 with 178,949 persons registered.

Some 214 Pontiac citizens have registered since the June 14 school election, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

The last similar primary was in 1952, a presidential election year, the city clerk said. That year 38,688 city dwellers were registered, with 16,093 voting, she explained.

Registrations have dropped off since 1952, Mrs. Evans stated, with persons who failed to vote in a four - year period dropped from the rolls as law requires.

Pontiac registrations will be reopened after the primary through Oct. 4 to allow residents to qualify for the regular election on Nov. 2, Mrs. Evans said.

Two British Pros Card 69s in Open

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — A pair of little known English professionals, Sam King and Bill Spence, shot 69's today to take the first round lead in the British Open Golf Tournament while Jim Turnesa paced the small American delegation with a 72.

King, a onetime Kent farmer who was the first finisher, tied the Royal Birkdale course record only to have Spence, a 42-year-old golf teacher, come in several hours later with a matching score. Par for the 6,837-yard layout is 36-37—73.

Dapper Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., had the second best score among U. S. contenders with a 73. The veteran Gene Sarazen, the sentimental favorite, fired a 75. Toney Penna of Cincinnati and Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., each had 76.

One Drowns, 4 Injured

Winds Lash Four States, Wave Hits Chicago Shore

A savage, freakish storm raked Southern Wisconsin with tornadoes and 100 mile-per-hour winds and sent the second giant wave in two weeks crashing against the Chicago lakeshore.

A man drowned and a mother and her three children were injured in the collapse of their home before the storm's fury abated late Tuesday night.

The same storm system sent gusts up to 90 miles per hour sweeping onto Mason City, Ia., deluged Milwaukee, Wis., with two inches of rain and pounded Waukegan, Ill., with hailstones as big as half dollars.

The second storm raced across Texas, unroofing five houses at Garfield and killing a rodeo clown at Houston. The clown, Richard D. (Snuffy) Smith, 19, was struck by a lightning bolt that looked like a "streaking white ball."

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. said 1,300 telephones were put out of service temporarily in the southern half of Berrien County. No communities were isolated, however, because Bell had alternate routes which it immediately put into service.

Runoff Election Facing Senator

Sen. Kerr Fails to Get 50 Pct. of Primary Vote in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla) today was forced into a runoff election against former Gov. Roy J. Turner in Oklahoma's bitter primary election for the U.S. Senate despite a lead that held solid throughout counting of nearly all the ballots.

State Sen. Raymond Gary, Madill, and William O. Coe, Oklahoma City attorney, landed in the July 27 runoffs for the Democratic governor's race, leaving the other candidates far behind. Gary held a small lead throughout tabulations in yesterday's primary.

Mrs. Willie E. Murray, wife of Gov. Johnston Murray, trailed far out of the picture in seventh place among the field of 16 candidates. Murray is barred from a second consecutive term by the state constitution.

Kerr's lead mounted to about 20,000 votes but the combined tallies of Turner and seven other candidates kept him below 50 per cent of the total.

Pontiac Board of Education re-elected Glenn H. Griffin president, named other officers and set the framework for the coming year's business at its organizational meeting Tuesday.

The board laughed at Lady Luck as 13 members and guests sat down to discuss 13 items of business at the dinner-meeting at Rotunda Inn.

Special guests were Monroe M. Osmun and Frank J. DuFrain, retiring board member and superintendent of schools, respectively.

The board elected Fred N. Thiefels vice-president, re-elected Mrs. Harry E. (Lola B.) King as secretary, renamed Vern L. Schiller school treasurer and authorized him to sign school checks.

Members again set the second Wednesday of each month as the regular meeting date. Sessions start at 7:30 p.m. in the school offices, 40 Patterson St.

The school board signed a new deed giving Pontiac City a 47-foot strip of land for street widening and a sewer along the Arlene

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission decided last night to bring up to date a survey made more than a year ago on through east-west traffic crossing Woodward at the Willits - Oakland intersection.

Until this is done, no action will be taken on whether the double right-angle turn there should be removed. The last survey showed the intersection was used more by turning than by through traffic.

A traffic increase is anticipated with the coming of the Wabeek - Jacobson parking lot north of Willits.

City Engineer L. R. Gare presented a possible solution, to include relocating Willits to the north by acquiring an 80-foot strip north of the existing street. Willits would then be a four-lane street from Woodward to Bates.

The proposed street would cut through a florist's shop. The plan would also require acquisition of two pieces of property, one a residence. Gare estimated it would cost $35,000 just to replace sewers, water mains and pavement.

A serious threat to Birmingham's elm trees was pointed up at the meeting when City Manager Donald C. Egbert reported that of 61 samples sent to Michigan State College laboratories, 48 had been returned, showing 45 positive cases of the tree-killing Dutch Elm disease.

He pointed out that the effectiveness of spraying to combat the disease was underlined by the fact that only six of the diseased trees were on city property, while 34 privately-owned trees became diseased.

The remaining eight trees are outside the city's corporate limits. The elm trees in the city are almost equally divided between public and private property. All city-owned trees have been sprayed.

More Permits for Gas Asked

Consumers Hoping for 25,000 Extra Accounts; Some to Be in Pontiac

LANSING (UP) — Consumers Power Co. asked the state Public Service Commission today for authority to take on 25,000 additional space-heating customers in 278 communities, including Pontiac.

Consumers said that it will obtain sufficient natural gas for the additional customers under a new agreement with Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. and the Michigan Gas Storage Co., its own subsidiary.

The new agreement would not become effective until next year, the company said, and is dependent on the construction of additional pipelines by both suppliers.

But, the company said, the additional customers can be handled next winter from gas stored at the beginning of the heating season.

The company announcement did not specify how the additional service would be allocated among communities but proposed that it be "on an equitable basis."

Consumers also petitioned the commission to rescind its order requiring commission approval to supply certain commercial and industrial customers using large amounts of gas.

Consumers said this was the sixth consecutive year in which it has asked state authority to add gas space - heating customers.

The company serves 152,000 gas space - heating customers in its service area which covers the communities in 30 southern counties.

Ike Hopes for Delay of A-Plant Strikes

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower voiced hope today that the strike against two vital atomic projects will be deferred pending a report from an emergency fact-finding board he already has named.

A shutdown of the Oak Ridge, Tenn., and Paducah, Ky., plants, he told his news conference, would be a serious thing for the United States.

Aside from the difficulty and embarrassment involved, Eisenhower said, nothing should be done to hinder this country's advance in atomic development at a time when potential enemies are known to be advancing in that field.

He said he had great hope that the CIO and AFL unions involved would await the fact finders' report. (Earlier story page 44.)

Birmingham Pair Special Guests in Kentucky Town

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kimberley, 711 Abbey Dr., arrived at Henderson's city limits yesterday only to be stopped by a police cruiser.

There, the Kimberleys were the guests of the Lions Club for lunch. Before leaving, the Michigan couple received a number of gifts.

The appointment was announced by President Arthur M. Wirtz and Board Chairman James D. Norris of the Hawks after a report today in the Detroit News that Ivan would replace Bill Tobin as Hawk General Manager within 24 hours.

Sid Able, also an ex-Red Wing associate, remains as Hawk coach.

The announcement, however, made no mention of the general manager post, stating Ivan has a new title and that Tobin remains in his "same capacity" as Hawk vice-president and a governor of the N. H. L.

Giant Wave, Winds Whip at Midwest

reported that two or three cars were wrecked by falling trees.

No injuries were reported but high winds did minor damage to some homes and farm houses. The weather bureau reported that 2.3 inches of rain fell in the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area during the night.

The Coast Guard at Benton Harbor said that the water level of Lake Michigan fell two to two and one-half inches at about the same time the Chicago side of the lake was having a tidal wave.

"It really went down quick," a Coast Guard official said, "and it stayed that way for 15 minutes."

Buildings were leveled, streets were blocked and telegraph circuits were cut as the storm cut a swath from Sun Prairie southwest through Cambridge and Elkhorn.

Mrs. Mary Weber of Janesville, Wis., and her three children, aged four to one, were seriously injured when the winds battered down their summer home near Cambridge.

Another serious accident was narrowly averted at Cambridge when a tree smashed onto a car carrying two persons. Neither was injured.

Tornadoes were reported at Bristol, Sun Prairie, Cambridge, and near Elkhorn and a water spout was seen over Lake Kohkonong, near Janesville.

The tail end of the twisters swept into Northern Illinois, touching off violent storms in Chicago suburbs and the city itself.

A "seiche"—the same sort of rare giant wave that killed eight persons in Chicago June 26—rolled onto North Side beaches. Coast Guardsmen, anticipating the wave, prevented another tragedy by warning fishermen and bathers from the shore.

Nick Dentemaro, harbor master at Montrose Harbor, said Tuesday night's seiche was even bigger than its predecessor. The wave washed over sidewalks and into a parking lot, where it swamped six autos, he said.

The Lake Michigan storm swamped a small boat in which Will Urban, 28, and his pregnant wife, Vivian, 20, were fishing off Waukeegan, Ill. Urban drowned, but his wife clung to the boat until help reached her.

Chicago was buffeted by 68 mile-per-hour winds during the storm and 20 to 30 trees were reported down in Waukeegan. Electricity was cut off at Zion, Ill., and had not been restored by late last night.

The Chicago Weather Bureau said the storm system would move eastward, centering over Southern Ohio by tonight.

2 Persons Hurt as Car Strikes Rear of Another

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Two persons were injured in a rear-end collision at Telegraph and Dedham Rds. last night.

Theron Neir, 33, of Dearborn, a passenger in a car driven by John M. Donlin, 29, of Wayne, is reported in good condition in St Joseph Mercy Hospital with head injuries.

Treated and released was the driver of the other car, Wilfred Bourbonnais, of 244 W. Brown St., Birmingham.

Donlin said Bourbonnais did not signal in time for him to stop.

BERGEN, Norway (UP)—Residents of Norway's west coast were shaken early today by a moderate earthquake which rattled doors and windows in the area between Bergen and Stavanger. Two distinct shocks were felt. No casualties or damage were reported.

School Buildings, Bulging at Seams, to Be Repaired

Two of Pontiac Public Schools' buildings are literally bulging at the seams—so much so that they may be dangerous.

Pontiac Board of Education Tuesday told Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, nd J. C. Cox, assistant, to rush emergency repairs at Bagley School and the school system's bus garage at 40 Patterson St.

Cox said an end wall at Bagley School, bulging out about three inches, can probably be held in place by some inch-thick steel rods. The bus garage, he said, will have to have the whole front wall rebuilt—a bulge of six inches there is too big to hold with braces.

Cox said architect William Zimmerman told him that "if one of our buses ever misses the door, the whole wall will fall down in the street." A contractor, he said, told him the garage probably wouldn't be standing if it weren't for the buildings on either side holding it up.

are branded as an aggressor by the U. N., hold U. S. prisoners unjustifiably, are conducting war in Indochina, have enslaved peoples, and are guilty of the worst possible diplomatic deportment.

The President said that he does not see how any country can possibly say that Red China should be admitted to the United Nations.

When the President was asked his reaction to proposals that the U. S. withdraw from the U. N. if Red China is admitted over U.S. objections, the President said that this country is a member of the U. N. under the signed obligation of a treaty.

He said that if ever the point is reached where it becomes necessary to consider changing that treaty obligation, such action should be taken only after the most careful study.

He said the American people must consider whether U. S. withdrawal would advance the cause of peace.

Personally, the President said, he never gives up a battle until he is completely licked and destroyed, and cannot lift another hand in his defense.

He said he knows of no amendment being seriously considered by Congress to take the U. S. out of the U. N.

He emphasized further his belief that it is the obligation of the U. S. to continue to try to lead the world toward peace rather than to give up before any pressures or adversity in the conduct of its foreign relations.

Knowland has predicted that the U.S. will "do everything it can" — including possible use of its Security Council veto — to keep Red China out of the world organization.

$4,400 Fire Damages Upstairs Apartment

Fire gutted the upstairs apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Fyfe, 93 Murphy Ave., causing an estimated $1,400 damage Tuesday afternoon, according to Pontiac Fire Dept.

No one was in the apartment when the fire broke out in a storage room, according to Fire Capt. John J. Morrissey.

Three other families living in lower apartments fled the building.

Mrs. Emily Williams, downstairs occupant, said she thought the fire started about 10 minutes after the Fyfes left their apartment.

However, Capt. Morrissey quoted a neighbor as saying she saw smoke coming from the roof for several hours, but thought the smoke was coming from the chimney.

U. S. Will Reject Czech Barter

Deal for the Return of 7 Americans Is Called New Low in Conduct

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States will reject Czechoslovakia's "unprincipled" deal for return of seven American soldiers seized by Czech border guards, officials said today.

The State Department itself said only that it is studying the case closely to decide what, if any, action is warranted.

"We are assembling all the facts and will decide on the basis of the information gathered what action to take," a department spokesman said.

The seven GI's — a captain and six enlisted men — strayed across the Iron Curtain during a Fourth of July jaunt. The Czechs immediately took them into custody.

Czech border guards later told German guards that the seven would be released immediately if three Czechs who fled to the West are returned.

Officials said they still don't know whether the proposed deal actually represents the work of the Czech government or some local unit of Czech border guards. If it is an act of the government, officials said, the entire matter will be treated as a "most serious affair."

"It is unprincipled," one official said. "Arbitrary seizure of Americans for the purpose of working out a barter is a new low in conduct."

Officials said the United States cannot put itself in a position of trading American soldiers for persons who have fled to the West to find safety.

Board of Education Elects New Officers

Street side of the new Perry street high school site. The deed the city sent in first covered only half the distance.

The board paid a bill for $579 from Herbert A. Carter and Wesley B. Sibley for digging out information on the closed Pontiac Veterans Institute and sending it to the U.S. Government.

Southfield Township's appeal for a change in its tax values forced the school board to ask Michigan Department of Public Instruction to advance it $250,000 on future state aid money to pay a short-term loan due Aug. 1.

The board had planned to pay the loan from July property tax receipts; but Pontiac City isn't sending out tax bills until Southfield's appeal is settled. A change in Southfield's tax value could change values on all property in Oakland County.

The school district, members decided, can deposit up to $3,500,000 in Community National Bank and $1,000,000 in Pontiac State Bank this year. Any two of four people—Griffin, Mrs. King, Schiller or Whitmer—can open school safety deposit boxes.

Board officers will meet with Dr. Whitmer this week to suggest a definite salary for him.

Welsh Woman Jailed for Blackmailing Father

SWANSEA, Wales (UP)—Iris M. Chappell, 31, was sentenced yesterday to a year in jail for trying to blackmail her own father.

Police witnesses said she accused him of starting a fire which killed her mother and small son two years ago and threatened to expose him unless he paid her money.

She admitted in court her accusation was false.

Ex-Cons Sought in Bank Holdup

Police Also Looking for Female Companion of 2 Suspected of Stickup

DETROIT (UP) — Armed with federal warrants, police today searched for two ex-convicts in connection with the $11,459 holdup of a branch of the suburban Trenton State Bank June 28.

A woman companion also is sought as a material witness.

Special Agent Fred H. McIntire, chief of the Detroit FBI office, said warrants were obtained yesterday for Mahlon J. Fehl, 28, and Simon H. Thompson, 37, who were said to have been living in an apartment in suburban Taylor township at the time of the robbery. Thompson's companion, Gloria Reyes, 22, also is sought.

McIntire said the trio may have taken the woman's 3-year-old son with them.

He said Thompson had served time for armed robbery, auto theft and receiving stolen property. Fehl had been sent to prison for forgery, the FBI agent said.

The bank was held up by two masked and armed men shortly after it opened for business. After binding the manager and two tellers, the gunmen scooped up the money and fled in a stolen car later found abandoned near the Detroit River in nearby Gibraltar.

A witness told police shortly after the robbery that two men jumped into a small boat near where the car was found and headed down the river.

The pair eluded a combined search by Canadian and Michigan authorities.

McIntire said Wayne County deputies provided the lead that put the FBI on the trail of Thompson and Fehl.

He also listed an addition to the foundry, with a new charging floor and new molding and forming equipment; installation of new equipment in the axle plant; and equipping of Plant 14 as a press plant. This plant was built and used for defense work during the war, but is now being devoted to peacetime production.

He also reported installation of a new plating line. Pontiac pioneered in this type of continuous plating and is now enlarging its capacity substantially.

Other additions include a three-story addition to the personnel and purchasing building, new car finishing building and a building for factory delivery of cars sold by dealers.

This brings capacity for this type of delivery up to 1,500 cars a month, he reported. A final item is expansion of the division's facilities for handling and shipping service parts.

He pointed out that these items make up a substantial portion of the billion dollars which Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president, reported some time ago the corporation is spending on expansion and rehabilitation.

Following Critchfield's talk a movie was shown portraying the need for more and better highways. It has many scenes filmed in and near Pontiac.

their annual summer visit with the Rosenbergs. Other members of the family are Roberts' son, Jimmy, by a former marriage, and another daughter, Betty, 4.

Richard Gilbert, one of Roberts' law partners, said it was a combination business and pleasure trip. He said Roberts planned to obtain some depositions in Florida in a case on which he was working.

Roberts, a Democrat, made an unsuccessful race for a seat in the Maryland House of Delegates in the June 28 primary.

He was one of the organizers of the UAW local in the two General Motors plants in Baltimore, serving as its president from 1939 to 1943. He was international representative from 1943 to 1947 except for a period when he served in the Navy.

Mother Testifies in Heir's Death

Mrs. Marion Thorne Asserts Blackmailer's Identity to Be Revealed

CHICAGO (UP) — The wealthy socialite mother of Montgomery Ward Thorne asserted today that the identity of the person "who was blackmailing my son" will be brought out.

"That will come out and you will certainly be surprised," Mrs. Marion Thorne told Coroner Walter E. McCarron.

Her attorney, Henry Kalcheim, asserted yesterday that a "bombshell" would be dropped when the "truth" about young Thorne's death is brought out at the inquest hearing.

* * *

Mrs. Thorne, whose son died mysteriously, denied today that she ever said he was suffering from syphilis.

She testified for the second time in the coroner's inquest into the death of her son.

Dr. Harry Leon, coroner's pathologist, testifying at yesterday's inquest, said he thinks Thorne may have been poisoned.

"This is still a suspicious death," he said.

* * *

Leon read a report to Coroner Walter T. McCarron by Dr. W. J. R. Camp, state toxicologist, showing an "insignificant trace quantity of barbituate, a trace quantity of alkaloid giving color reactions indicating morphine" were found in the youth's brain.

A combination of enough alcohols such as were found in Thorne's body and more dope could have caused his death, Dr. Leon declared. The alcohol, he said, may have evaporated or been dissipated in the body before the autopsy was performed.

* * *

1. What was the relationship of the dead youth and his mother, Mrs. Marion Thorne?

2. Was Thorne a "drunk" and a "dope addict?"

3. Why was he living in a $75-a-month apartment on Chicago's North Side out of touch with his family when he was found dead June 19?

4. Why did he change his will leaving half his estate to his fiancee Maureen Ragen and one-quarter to her mother Aleen nine days before his death?

5. Was Thorne being blackmailed?

* * *

His mother entered the jammed courtroom with stoic determination. Her chalk-white face contrasted with her black crepe dress and the diamond-crusted cross at her throat.

Bordering on collapse as the barrage of questons wore on, she made these points:

1. She claimed she "barely knew" her son's 18-year-old fiancee who displaced her as chief heir in his last will.

2. She openly doubted that the pair meant to marry, saying, "He certainly had a lot of girls for an engaged boy."

3. She charged that Thorne was being blackmailed when he died and didn't come home for that reason. No details of the blackmail were given.

4. She said Thorne had come home "drunk" once and she had heard rumors he was taking dope but strongly denied she ever had him arrested, accusing him of alcoholism or narcotics addiction.

Three Local Youths Held in Robbery

BIRMINGHAM — Det. Sgt. Merlin Holmquist today revealed the arrest of three Pontiac youths implicated in the June 18 armed robbery of the Woodward - Chapin service station.

Holmquist said Whitehorn was taken to Flint where Robert Hargraves, 16, of 1566 Petrolia Dr. and George Bonilla, 25, of 84 W. Huron St., are being held on a similar offense.

Whitehorn identified Hargraves as the gun holder. Jurisdiction has been waived on Hargraves by the Genesee County Juvenile Court, Holmquist said.

A second juvenile, also 16, admitted his part in the hold-up Holmquist said, and faces a hearing in Oakland County Juvenile Court Tuesday.

Hargraves will be prosecuted in Genesee County for the Flint robbery, Holmquist stated. A detainer warrant has been issued by local police on Bonilla, he added.

Fears Revealed by Mrs. Petrov

Wife of Ex-Soviet Spy Tells Australians About Embassy Captivity

MELBOURNE (INS) — The wife of Russia's former spy-chief in Australia described in a drama-packed appearance before a royal commission today her fears that she would be murdered in the Soviet Embassy after her husband deserted his post.

Mrs. Vladimir Petrov, whose husband fled to asylum with details of Moscow's espionage operation, had tears in her eyes as she outlined her experiences before she was rescued by Australian police.

Wearing a trim, olive-green woolen shuit and a small black velvet hat, Mrs. Petrov made her second appearance in the Melbourne Courthouse where the hearings are being held.

She said that she did not know of her husband's plans to leave his post as third secretary in the embassy until he had done so.

On April 4, Mrs. Petrov testified, the Russian ambassador summoned her and informed her that something must have happened to her husband — who actually was chief of the Soviet secret police (MVD) operation in Australia.

The ambasador told her she might be kidnaped and instructed her to pick up her clothing and come to the embassy.

For the next 15 days, the 40-year-old woman said she was a virtual prisoner in the embassy.

George, Radio Budapest said, will be appointed to another important position.

Salesgirl Spots Boss' Shirts in Rival Window

[illegible] haberdasher is charged with suspicion of larceny because the young saleswoman of a rival store noticed his cut-rate prices.

Miss Joan Lack, 16, spotted a sign in the store advertising polo shirts at three for a dollar.

Bronstein's wife investigated and found that the polo shirts resembled those stolen from the Bronstein warehouse.

The proprietor of the cut-rate store was arrested on suspicion.

Fire Escape Is Ordered, Tree Substitute Refused

BOSTON (AP) — An apartment house owner protested in court yesterday that building a fire escape would "just make it that much easier for crooks" and suggested a tree outside the building as a substitute.

Municipal Court Judge Jennie Loitman Barron did not accept the substitute and found the defendant, Nishan S. Bagdigian, guilty of failing to provide a suitable fire exit. The judge ordered him to provide one within a week.

McNamara Hits Moody Helpers

Dem Senate Candidate Criticizes 8 Solons for Offering Assistance

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Patrick V. McNamara, Detroit candidate for the Democratic senatorial nomination, criticized yesterday the offer of eight United States senators to help further the campaign of his ailing opponent, former Sen. Blair Moody.

Moody is recovering from virus pneumonia at St. Joseph Hospital in Hancock. He was stricken while making a campaign tour of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

McNamara, in Grand Rapids on a speaking tour of the western part of the state, sent telegrams to the eight senators, saying:

"I find the announcement unbelievable that you will campaign in the Michigan primary for my ailing opponent."

The senators had pledged their assistance in filling Moody's speaking engagements for him while he is recuperating. Moody's campaign headquarters in Detroit said the offer was accepted.

The eight senators are Lehman (D-NY), Douglas (D-Ill), Mansfield (D-Mont), Kennedy (D-Mass), Jackson (D-Wash), Humphrey (D-Minn), Magnuson (D-Wash) and Monroney (D-Okla).

Moody is expected to be discharged from the hospital within a week. Then he will spend some time resting before resuming his campaign.

Car Spins Over Walk, Killing 2

Pedestrians in Detroit Scatter Like Chickens Before Zig-Zag Auto

DETROIT (UP) — "Pedestrians were running before it like a flock of chickens being attacked by a hawk."

That was the description a witness gave last night when a car spun down 180 feet of sidewalk, killing two persons and injuring five others, before coming to a halt against a utility pole.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Margaret Sebring, 52-year-old driver of the car, and a pedestrian, Henry Neilson, 45, who had been waiting for a bus.

The careening auto struck another driven by Adolph L. Burns, 54, before sailing on through the red light and up onto the sidewalk.

"The car was going in zig-zag fashion," Burns told police, "and pedestrians were running before it like a flock of chickens being attacked by a hawk."

Mrs. Sebring's two passengers were injured in the accident. Amin Kasem, 57, was reported in critical condition. His son, Mouner, 18, was treated for cuts about the face.

Three pedestrians also were injured. George Shaw, 49, and Leslie G. McIntyre, 33, escaped with leg bruises, police said. Mrs. Bertha Pulford, 60, was tossed through a store window by the erratic auto, but suffered only bruises on the arms and legs.

Before being stopped by the utility pole, the car broke two store windows and sheared off two 10-foot bus stop signs, a parking meter and a fire hydrant.

Savage Murder Yields No Clues

Husband of Mutilated Woman Still Unable to Aid Police Search

CLEVELAND (UP) — His beaten neck braced by a metal and leather support, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard hoped today to attend the funeral of his wife, Marilyn, 31. Three days after her pretty face was hacked viciously by a killer, police still lack important clues in the crime.

After the private funeral, Deputy Sheriff Carl Rossbach said, he would try to question the 30-year-old osteopathic neuro-surgeon who thus far has been able to give only a vague, sometimes incoherent account of the murder.

Police must depend heavily on the doctor's help for clues to the slayer who beat his victim mercilessly in her bed at the Sheppards' big house in suburban Bay Village along Lake Erie's shore.

Rossbach said none of the neighbors he interviewed reported seeing or hearing anything suspicious at the house last Sunday morning in the period from a half hour after midnight until a half hour before sunrise. The Sheppards had neighbors visiting until after midnight, and dawn was beginning to break when friends answered the doctor's call for help.

The deputy sheriff said he intended also to question the Sheppards' 7-year-old son, Sam Jr., today. The boy slept in a room next to the bedroom while the killer rained 25 blows on the head of his mother.

Coroner Samuel Gerber spent two hours yesterday interviewing Dr. Richard A. Sheppard, father of the osteopath, and Dr. Stephen Sheppard, Samuel's brother.

They told the coroner the slain woman's husband was not yet in condition to be questioned, and promised "complete cooperation" for future questioning. A couple of days would not change matters, they explained.

$250,000 Fire Razes Two Grain Buildings

BAD AXE (UP)—A fire of undetermined origin last night destroyed two warehouses and two grain elevators of the Bad Axe Grain Co., causing an estimated $250,000 damages.

No one was hurt in the spectacular blaze discovered at 11 p.m. (EST). But it took the combined efforts of 50 volunteers from five fighting companies of six communities to quell the fire and keep it from spreading to nearby buildings.

Witnesses said at times the flames leaped 100 feet in the air over the towering, but only partly filled, sheet metal elevators.

A company spokesman, who estimated the damages, said they would have been higher but for the fact that it was inventory time and the grain supply was low.

Asks That Debt Limit Be Raised

Administration Says Boost Is Necessary for Functions

WASHINGTON (INS) — Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey is expected to meet with Senate leaders during the next ten days to ask that the national debt limit be boosted to 290 million dollars.

Administration sources say that the present 275-billion-dollar debt ceiling must be raised soon if the government is to carry on its authorized functions.

Several Senators, led by Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D) Va., strongly oppose any such legislation. Byrd insists that the continued deficit spending will lead to national bankruptcy.

An administration bill, passed by the House, to raise the debt limit to 290 billion has been held for nearly a year by the Senate Finance Committee headed by Sen. Eugene D. Millikin (R) Colo.

Official Treasury Department reports made public yesterday showed that during the fiscal year which ended June 30 the national debt went up from 265 billion, 500 million dollars to 270 billion, 800 million.

The Treasury expects to have to borrow a net 10 billion dollars between now and Dec. 31 — which would mean that before the year is over, the debt will rise to 280 billion.

Because of a seasonal drop in tax collections, the Treasury is reported to be making borrowing plans which would up the debt above the present limit within the next few weeks.

The year-end Treasury report showed that cash on hand advanced from four billion, 700 million to six billion, 800 million dollars.

Deducting this gain from the rise in the public debt, there was a net outgo of three billion, 200 million dollars.

Treasury officials explained however, that this does not reflect the actual government deficit because hundreds of millions of dollars in checks are still outstanding.

Widen Search for Embezzler

Pontiac Police today widened their search for a Pontiac department store employe who was charged yesterday with embezzling $1,850 from Simms Bros.

Detective Sgt. John A. DePauw said the description of Charles A. Woodard, 22, of 685 First St., was sent to other police departments after police here learned Woodard sent his wife a letter from Cincinnati.

DePauw quoted the letter, which included a parking lot tag, as saying "Come to Cincinnati and pick up the car."

A warrant charging Woodard with the theft was issued yesterday after the loss was discovered. Police said a money bag stuffed with paper cut to the size of U. S. currency replaced the company's receipts.

Woodard's wife, Delores Mae, 20, told police she last saw her husband at 11:30 a.m. Saturday when both had lunch together in the department store. She said her husband hadn't discussed leaving Pontiac.

DePauw said the couple, originally here from California about a year ago with their two children.

Battalion Adopts Shaggy Mascot; Finds Difficulty

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — A U. S. Army battalion in Germany wants a buffalo for mascot. It probably won't get one, though.

In a letter to Gov. Howard Pyle, soldiers with the 510th Heavy Tank Battalion asked for one of Arizona's remaining bison to go with the outfit's buffalo crest.

"It would really help morale," one soldier said.

Pyle passed the request on to the Arizona Game and Fish Department, where a spokesman said shipping a Buffalo to Germany would be "too expensive."

Architects Learned From Seminole Tribe

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UP) — A University of Florida professor says architects have learned a lot of valuable lessons from the Seminole Indians about the right way to build a house in Florida.

Dr. William T. Arnette, dean of the College of Architecture, explained that the traditional Seminole houses get the full advantages of Florida's climate by providing a living space completely open to the breeze and at the same time protecting the interior from sun and rain by a wide palmetto thatch roof.

Dr. Arnette added that modern architecture in Florida is following the same principle by disregarding the "customary distinction between walls, windows and doors. Walls on the south or east side of the house are of the folding or roll-back variety so that the house can be completely open to the breeze."

"We are seeing the prototypes of what may well be a new, but yet ancient, architecture," he concluded.

Ford to Expand Buffalo, Cleveland Stamp Plants

DETROIT (UP) — Ford Motor Co. has announced plans to construct additions to its stamping plants in Cleveland and Buffalo.

The proposed expansion will increase floor space at the Cleveland plant by 300,000 square feet, giving it 1,260,000 feet of manufacturing space.

Helicopter Pilot Finds 1 Body

Renew Lake Huron Hunt for 4 in Boating Tragedy

DETOUR (AP) — An all but hopeless hunt was renewed on upper Lake Huron today for possible survivors of a Fourth of July boating tragedy.

But unless someone were to be found alive the mysterious disappearance of the homemade, all-metal boat would bring Michigan's weekend holiday death toll to 54.

Of the five aboard three were grownups and two were children.

At the end of the extended three-day holiday period the state had counted 49 deaths.

A Coast Guard helicopter spotted the body of Smick. It lay on rocks just off shore and was partly submerged.

There was evidence that the boat had been destroyed.

A cushion, oars and seat boards from the craft were found on the water and a tobacco pouch and pipe were found on shore.

The pouch and pipe were believed those of George Onnela, 56, Drummond Island resort man.

Onnela was a guest on the boat trip of his brother, Roy Alfred Onnela, 43, of Oak Park, Detroit suburb, builder of the craft.

The two others were Roy Onnela's children, Betty Ann, 13, and Larry, 6.

The 15-foot boat vanished in an area where the water is 40 to 60 feet deep off Scammon's Point in Big Shoal Bay.

Lakemen theorized that the boat might have had too much motor for its size. They said this might have made it too fast in rough water and could have forced it to capsize.

Roy Onnela, however, was known as a good boatman. He built his boat from the steel hull of another craft. His boat was powered with a 60-horsepower Ford V8 engine which he adapted to marine use.

Boy, 11, Hospitalized With Severe Burns

Richard Johnson, 11, son of Dr. and Mrs. LeRoy C. Johnson of 43 Illinois Ave., is reported in satisfactory condition today with second and third-degree burns.

Richard, according to Mrs. Johnson, was playing with two other youngsters Monday in an abandoned basement of a home recently torn down in a vacant lot just southeast of the Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

The two boys, Joseph Richards, 10, of 64 Illinois Ave. and Theodore Johnson Jr., 11, of 90 Wenonah Dr., pulled Richard out of the basement when his shirt caught fire.

Two unidentified men, who heard Richard yelling, took the boy to the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital where Dr. Johnson is medical director.

Mrs. Johnson said they were unable to find out how the fire in the basement started while the three boys were playing.

Arrest Police Chief After 2-Car Accident

COLUMBUS Ohio (UP) — As soon as Police Chief George W. Scholer reported back to work yesterday, after sick leave, he was arrested. The charge was failure to yield right of way during a two-car collision here June 14.

The chief had been recovering at his home from five fractured ribs received in the accident. He was released on $25 bond and ordered to appear next Tuesday in Municial Court.

Policeman Gerald H. Malone, 29, the driver of the other car, re-received a fractured skull. The car crashed as both men were returning home from their day's police duties.

Cure Disclosed for Rat Cancer

Chemical Help Found for One Type but Not Yet for Humans

NEW YORK (UP)—Development of a chemical compound that produced permanent cure of one type of transplanted cancer in 100 per cent of its trials on rats has been reported by the Sloan-Kettering Institute.

The Institute, which made the announcement yesterday, noted that "no chemical cures of any form of cancer in man have been achieved to date."

The Institute, research unit for the Memorial Center for Cancer & Allied Diseases, has the largest chemical testing program among cancer research units.

The report said the drug that routinely cured all cases of Jensen sarcoma in rats is known as TEM —triethylene melamine—and was developed at the institute.

The Institute's seventh annual progress report summed up the results of its research in chemical injection aimed at starving or poisoning cancer cells in mice and rats.

The results, the report said, "justify the hope that further study may reveal compounds capable of achieving permanent cure in man, not only of leukemia (blood cancer) but eventually of other forms of cancer now beyond control."

A compound combined of P165 and 6MP has been credited with curing 98 per cent of one type of leukemia in mice and with being effective in arresting some types of Leukemia in humans.

The Institute said its record with TEM on rats is believed to be the first 100 per cent effective cancer cure on animals with chemicals.

Discharged, He Enlists

PORTLAND, Me. (UP) —When a Korean veteran, Paul LeClair Jr., returned home after receiving an honorable discharge from the Army, all he had on his mind was hunting and fishing—until he talked with his younger brother Richard, a Marine Corps enlistee. The hunting and fishing have been postponed for four years. Paul signed up with the Marines.

Airplane Type Controls

A novel idea has been dreamed up by Cornell University's Aeronautical Laboratory. It suggests the car of the future might substitute airplane type controls for the familiar steering wheel, accelerator and foot brake.

We suppose that to drive such a car you would merely push the "stick" forward when you want to speed up, pull it back when you want to slow down or stop, and move the handles to right or left to steer. Coupled to modern power steering and power braking, such a device might have its advantages.

Ease of driving is not, however, the reason the Cornell aviation experts give for getting rid of the traditional steering wheel. Working under a grant from an automobile insurance company, they are trying to design a car capable of preserving its occupants from unnecessary injuries in accidents.

Rounded interiors, with no projections or corners, and with an abundance of rubber padding, are advocated by the researchers. Plastic bodies, they think, hold promise of reducing "impact damage."

"We believe that further research will some day make possible the design and manufacture of cars from which occupants can walk away after a crash at, say 50 or 60 miles an hour," says Edward R. Dye, chief of the laboratory.

★ ★ ★

The automotive industry itself is building more and more safety into its product. Ideas from the aviation industry may help in this process. But in the long run the final safety factor in driving is the brain that controls the hands and feet of the driver.

Population Worries Japan

At present, according to Paul Burgundy of Worldwide Press, Nippon's national economy already is strained by the task of feeding 87,700,000 people. With half of them living on Honshu, it now is the most densely populated island on earth.

One encouraging development was the drop in the birth rate since 1947 from 34.7 to 21.4 per 1,000. This was traceable in part to the decline in the number of marriages from 939,170 in 1947 to 670,000 last year.

A major reason for that decline is the change in marriage customs. In Tokyo a poll of 3,000 boys and girls all 20 years old and single, showed that 80 per cent intend to select their own partners without parental help.

Outside the capital, however, and for 20 per cent of Tokyo girls, parents continue to arrange marriages and sentiment favors the traditionally large family.

While these changes have eased the population pressure somewhat, they haven't altered government belief that the total should stabilize at 100,000,000 by 1985. Living standards have risen since 1947 but the economy is unable to keep pace even with the reduced growth which totaled 1,000,000 last year.

"Women will not allow themselves to be bossed by members of their own sex," says a psychologist. That makes two sexes, the members of which women will not allow themselves to be bossed by.

Muncie Editor Says Price Support Is Inequitable

(Muncie Evening Press)

Recent vote samplings taken among rank-and-file Indiana farmers show a decided distaste for the continuation of high rigid federal price supports. These polls back the Eisenhower-Benson-Aiken program for letting flexible price supports start next January.

In Congress, as expected, the Senate Agriculture Committee hearings are inclined toward flexible prices, while the House hearings lean a bit toward extension of rigid supports.

House members, skittish about the farm vote this fall, are barking up the wrong tree if they think the dirt farmers want a continuation of the surplus-producing, price-depressing regimentation of the Roosevelt-Truman giveaway era.

Representative Abraham Multer of New York recently asked the Department of Agriculture some questions about it. Here are some of the answers:

1—In 1953 the five largest corn loans in Indiana averaged $85,291. The average of all corn loans in Indiana was only $2,307.

2—The five largest wheat loans in Montana averaged $176,714. All wheat loans in the state averaged $4,000.

3—The loans to the five biggest cotton operators in Mississippi averaged $479,535. The average of all cotton loans in the state: $372.

These answers should be revealing to all who think the high rigid price support program now on the books is designed for the small or average farmer.

The farmers themselves are beginning to wake up to the fact that the existing program is not only failing to stop falling prices, not only a burden on the taxpayers, not only a means of federal dictation over them, but is grossly inequitable.

Will our Hoosier congressmen also realize this? They certainly should. They should vote for sensible federal farm aid—not aid based on the bloc pressure of the big operators—when the President's flexible program comes to its test.

Uncertain Future Created by Draft Cause of Growing Juvenile Delinquency

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Recently I saw a TV program dealing with juvenile delinquency. Everyone interviewed placed the blame on the parents.

I have tried to be on friendly terms with teenagers and have listened to their problems. None of these people, or any of the ones writing in national magazines, know what they are talking about. Some psychologists have arrived at the same conclusion I have had for some time.

We have had military draft in this country for 14 years. The boys discover early that Uncle Sam can force them into military service when they are still legally accountable to their parents. This creates confusion about who has authority over them and also threatens to disrupt their life.

The girls realize that the cream of our male youth is being dragged away from them and may be killed. The teenagers are trying to crowd a lifetime into their early years as they have little faith in the future.

The basic solution is for our government to find a way to live in peace and according to Christian principles.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Wife Must Use Psychology to Keep Hubby From Following Primrose Path After 40

Wives, be on guard lest George's trouble invades your domestic bliss. If you have been married over 10 years, then be sure you pick up your husband's erotic cues, and go more than halfway to be stimulating in the romantic realm. Otherwise, some younger siren may "coo" when he "bills."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"So he drives to work each day," his wife informed me. "And six months ago, he hired a new secretary, who happened to live out our way.

"So George suggested picking her up each morning in the car. Since then they have gone back and forth together each day.

"Later, I learned that he had been taking her to lunch. And now he admits he is infatuated with the girl.

"He acts just like a school boy in his first puppy love affair. Dr. Crane, what can I do, for he says he loves her and wants a divorce?

"Yet we have three fine children and have always been a devoted couple till this secretary came into the picture."

For when men pass the age of 40, they often indulge in a lot of self-analysis (introspection).

Earlier in marriage they are so preoccupied with outside problems that they haven't time to become self-analytical.

For they are struggling to rise in the business world and to pay off the mortgage on their home and the doctor's bills for their children.

But after 40, they usually have achieved a fair degree of economic success and may own their home, as well as a TV set and a car. The children are then married or away at school.

So they have spare time and energy to wonder about themselves. This is when they begin to realize with a shock that they don't get a big thrill out of kissing their wives.

Subconsciously they then decide to act a little kittenish with their wives in the hope that the former ardent emotions will be resurrected.

"Oh, act your age!" the wives may irritably exclaim, failing to realize this dangerous stage in men.

For such husbands are trying to act 21 and revive love emotions that may have been in cold storage for 10 to 20 years.

Since the wife fails to pick up her romantic cues, the husband may wonder if maybe it is her fault that he is less erotic than 20 years before.

So you wives must be doubly on guard after you have been married for 10 years. And after 40, beware!

For men usually refuse to resign themselves to a senile role in the erotic realm.

Furthermore, a strange young woman introduces the stagefright thrills which puts "butterflies" in their stomach. For strangers have this additional power to stimulate emotions.

So never drop into a platonic state after the age of 40, even if you wives are content to do so.

For you may lose your breadwinner in six months if by accident or design, he bumps into a siren half your age who will "coo" when he "bills."

Even for financial security and the protection of your children, at least fight fire with fire!

The odds favor the wife if she will play her cards seductively. And most men admit they'd rather have their "affair" with their own wife if she'd just pick up her cues, instead of saying, "Oh, act your age!"

So send for the bulletin "How to Prevent Impotence in Men," enclosing a stamped return envelope. George's wife won him back by using it.

Aunt Het

The way Mary sacrifices herself don't seem like a virtue to me. Sacrificin' your life ain't noble unless what you're sacrificin' for is worth it.

David Lawrence Says:

Division Not Very Clear 'Tween Governing Groups

WASHINGTON — Absence from the country during the McCarthy-Stevens hearings did not permit a study of the testimony at the time by this writer.

However, an examination since of the many comments concerning the constitutional rights involved in a portion of the controversy leads to the impression that there is a widespread misunderstanding as to what is the law concerning the relations of the executive and legislative branches of the government.

* * *

The rather widely publicized theory that a United States Senate committee would be doing something illegal if it obtained from an employe of the executive branch of the government information which the employe himself is forbidden to disclose, and used the data — was demolished by the U. S. Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia. It was never overruled by the Supreme Court of the United States.

* * *

Judge Groner who spoke for a unanimous court of appeals in November 1936 noted in his opinion that the Federal Communications Commission and the Senate committee investigating lobbying had been accused of conspiring to violate the provisions of the Constitution relating to unlawful search and seizure and to the freedom of the press.

What was at issue was an order served on the Western Union Telegraph Company to produce messages passing between the head of a group of newspapers and some of his associates in other cities.

It was asserted by the telegraph company that the messages were confidential and that it would be a violation of federal law to disclose them.

But the FCC ordered it done and the messages were turned over to Hugo Black, then Democratic senator from Alabama, who was chairman of the Senate's Investigating Committee and who not long afterward was appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States by the late President Roosevelt.

Mr. Black is a member of the high court now and as a senator would not have knowingly committed an illegal act.

Judge Groner ruled that the telegraph company should not have surrendered the messages for the purpose of any disclosure of their contents and that the FCC, while having a right to examine them, did not have any right to transmit them to the Senate committee. The Court of Appeals said:

* * *

". . . We are of the opinion that the resolution adopted by the commission, under which its agents took possession of the telegraph companies' offices and examined wholesale the thousands of private telegraph messages received and dispatched therefrom over a period of seven months — for the purpose of securing to the Senate committee knowledge of the contents of the messages — was without authority of law and contrary to the very terms of the act under which the commission was constituted."

* * *

But when it came to defining the rights of Sen. Black or his investigating committee, the U. S. Court of Appeals held that the courts were without power to interfere. It said:

"The prayer of the bill (of complaint) is that the committee be restrained from keeping the messages or making any use of them or disclosing their contents.

"In other words, that if we find that the method adopted to obtain the telegrams was an invasion of appellant's legal rights, we should say to the committee and to the Senate that the contents could not be disclosed or used in the exercise by the Senate of its legitimate functions.

"We know of no case in which it has been held that a court of equity has authority to do any of these things. On the contrary, the universal rule, so far as we know it, is that the legislative discretion in discharge of its constitutional functions, whether rightfully or wrongfully exercised, is not a subject for judicial interference.

"The Constitution has lodged the legislative power exclusively in the Congress. If a court could say to the Congress that it could use or could not use information in its possession, the independence of the legislature would be destroyed and the constitutional separation of the powers of government invaded.

"Nothing is better settled than that each of the three great departments of government shall be independent and not subject to be controlled directly or indirectly by either of the others."

So the case boils down to the fact that while a President of the United States may forbid any employe in the executive branch from furnishing information to Congress and may fire the employe with or without giving any reasons, this does not mean that a senator or representative — who encourages an employe to risk his job by furnishing information to Congress in violation of the orders of his superior — is himself necessarily involved in any violation of law.

The court went further and said that even if information unconstitutionally acquired is disclosed in debate or discussion, the Senate committees cannot be enjoined against its use.

But at the same time the court, expressing the pious hope that Senate committees wouldn't damage the rights of the citizens by such use, admitted it was only a hope —not a means of legal coercion.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Now that Chairman Mundt brought the subject up let's look at the discard. The man with the velvet gavel said "Somebody was lying."

Mundt is as correct as railroad time. Somebody was lying as sure as fish in the ocean. Was it McCarthy or was it Stevens?

In order to establish academic freedom and domestic neutrality let's monitor the gossip. There are some stuffings in the aftermath. In our rim-fire opinion both gentlemen were lying like bums.

The greatest perjurer of slanted jurisprudence was Titus Oates. Who was the finger during the bloody assizes of Judge Jeffrey. It was Oates' ambition to cut off your head and throw it in your face.

Chairman Mundt intimated there was something rotten this side of Copenhagen and it wasn't last year's snuff.

Did he do anything about it? He was the referee in parliamentary bankruptcy and he handled that gavel like he was afraid he might kill a roach.

With truth upon the scaffold and a lie upon the throne Mr. Chairman Mundt nodded with the hares and affirmed with the hounds. It all seemed as beautiful as a posse following a trail of rose petals.

Which side was lying? We insist on two reliable signatures with every guess.

Subject of Old Age Decline Is Ghastly but Remember, It Happens to Everyone

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

"Mother is 71 years old and she has developed a slow gait. Inch by inch walking, shuffling slowly.

"At times she makes an effort to lift the feet but soon tires and resumes shuffling.

"Many doctors have examined her but none has told us what the trouble is.

"X-rays made repeatedly, without revealing any abnormality. No pain. Heart normal. Blood pressure normal. No solution offered, except reducing weight. She weighs 185 pounds." . . . (W. E. L.)

If I had second sight—all you tell me is that mother moves slowly and drags her feet. Even without extra-sensory perception I might get a lead if I knew your mother's present height and how much she has shrunk in stature in recent years.

If she really lifts the feet as she should when walking, even for a short time by special effort, she probably has no nerve or spinal cord ailment.

Whatever in particular ails your mother it can do her no harm, may do her much good, to supplement her diet with a suitable daily ration of the three minerals and three vitamins most likely to be lacking in our refined modern diet.

Instructions in pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks, for which send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For health and prolonged life your mother should consume not less than 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk daily or the equivalent in milk products.

Regardless of chronological age, the most obvious evidence of aging in many instances is just what W. E. L. describes—slow-down. Not only the gait but a noticeable slowness of all movements.

It won't hold back senility much just driving oneself to walk faster or with more lively step, although that is better than no exercise at all. Nor will such conscious affectation of briskness conceal one's decline.

The best way to manage this premonitory slowdown is to begin 30 or 40 years before it sets in, rolling somersaults, taking your iodin ration and practicing belly breathing.

Following a protective, corrective or regeneration diet, supplementing your ordinary diet with the three minerals and three vitamins generally lacking in the ordinary diet will also help.

Other things are described in Little Lesson No. 16, The 7 Keys to Vite, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Now, young ones, while you are pondering this ghastly subject of senility and decline, (or if you don't like these terms call it degeneration, physical degeneration, that is) for peace of mind remember that it happens to everybody in the world.

It is the way we all go if we live long enough.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Germans Plan Raid Shelters

Government at Bonn Prepares Program for Atomic Defense

BONN, Germany (AP)—The West German government will present to Parliament soon a plan for civil defense against atomic weapons, an official source said today. The progrm calls for the rebuilding of 3,000 giant World War II community shelters, demolished by Allied orders.

A group of experts who visited the United States recently to study atomic defense is drafting a report which will serve as a basis for the West German system, this source said.

* * *

In addition to rebuilding the old shelters, these plans call for:

1. The compulsory construction in new houses of air raid shelters giving protection against near hits by atomic weapons.

2. Organization of an effective air raid warning system capable of alerting the West German population against impending enemy attack in a matter of seconds.

3. Expansion of the 20,000-man Federal Air Raid Protection Assn. to provide all communities with the required number of air raid wardens.

* * *

The Interior Ministry also is studying plans to evacuate about five million people from big West German cities in case of war.

About 100,000 volunteers already are serving in the technical aid service, a volunteer force composed of highly trained specialists, mechanics, engineers, electricians and others.

The main task of this service — West Germany's only effective civil defense force at the present time —is to keep such vital services as public utilities and communications operating during an emergency. It also serves as a peacetime emergency organization to fight floods, forest fires and other catastrophes.

Under the government's program, the service would enroll some 125,000 additional volunteers to be trained specifically for civil defense tasks.

The role of this organization in war would include clearing rubble from streets and communication lines, the repair of power and telephone lines and the rescue of people from damaged air raid shelters.

There is no such thing as a race of albinos.

Delinquent Teen Minority Causes Major Headache

By STAN REDDING

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Should you decide to check, your eyes might be opened a bit at the activities of Houston's teen-agers.

You might find your teen-age son —as I found somebody's teen-age son—dancing drunkenly around the floor of a tavern, a half-empty bottle of gin clutched tightly in his arms in lieu of a girl.

You might find your young daughter — as I did someone's — slumped in the arms of a known teen-age law breaker, her eyes dazed by drink.

* * *

You might find them "slumming" in any one of hundreds of Houston and Harris County taverns, as I did.

Or maybe you'll just find him, her or them packed tightly in an automobile — its trunk full of iced beer — speeding madly down a highway. Or parked on a lonely lane, perhaps, an ideal place for "drinking and necking."

These children represent a very small minority of the teen-agers in Houston and Harris County. For each child I saw there are dozens of others who are content to follow accepted behavior standards.

But this "minority" is becoming an increasing problem across the land. For want of a better word they call it the problem of our "juvenile delinquents."

And your child is eligible to join this "minority." I know, I have seen them.

There are some 5,000 retail outlets for beer in Harris County. There are 700 retail liquor stores in the same area. To police these places and similar establishments in 13 other counties, to enforce the law, the state furnishes a grand total of 12 liquor agents.

* * *

A study of Houston police records shows that juvenile cases handled by the Crime Prevention Division are on the increase. Of these, 2,428 were handled last year as juveniles who committed an offense punishable by jail or prison terms on the adult level.

Thus the "juvenile delinquents" compose less than 2 per cent of all the children in Houston. Assume that an equal number go astray but are not caught or are straightened out by other than police agencies. Officials agree that is a more than "fair assumption."

There is no one solution, no more than there is one cause. But there are things that can be accomplished.

The big item is an institution for boys within Harris County. Such an institution for younger boys, 10 to 14, will soon be available. Pushing the fight for this project was Domestic Judge J. W. Mills, one of the leading figures in the fight against delinquency.

* * *

Judge Mills, who thinks that broken homes contribute much to delinquency, is seeking legislation to drop hasty marriages and to stop the trial of divorce cases where the husband and father does not appear to contest divorce or seek child custody.

* * *

He also urges citizens as a whole to interest themselves more in the various social agencies, civic groups and community organizations coping with juvenile delinquency.

New Alimony Suit Faced by Haymes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The monetary blues of crooner Dick Haymes had more sour notes today after a second ex-wife obtained a bench warrant for his arrest.

Nora Eddington Flynn Haymes charged the singer owed her $3,800 in alimony.

It was the second such warrant for Haymes, who also is having troubles with both the immigration and internal revenue arms of Uncle Sam.

Last Friday in Santa Monica Superior Court Judge Orlando H. Rhodes issued a bench warrant for Haymes on charges of another ex-wife, Joanne Dru, that he is in arrears $4,800 in payments for support of their three children.

WARNS FRANCE—United States Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon has warned France it must decide soon between a controlled German rearmament within EDC, or the recreation of an independent national German army. He said that if changes were now made in EDC, France might be seriously harmed.

Tests Will Determine Cause of Child's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Toxicological tests will be required to learn if John Joseph Correll, 7, son of radio's "Andy," died of accidental poisoning.

An autopsy yesterday confirmed the youth succumbed to a kidney and liver ailment of undetermined nature. The coroner's office believes it may have resulted from accidental poisoning from an insecticide.

Truman Will Leave Hospital in Few Days

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Truman, recovering from a major operation, should be able to leave the hospital in a few days.

A Research Hospital spokesman said Truman showed considerable vigor yesterday and although he still is on a soft-food diet his doctors feel that he can return home shortly.

Hal Boyle Says:

Student Druggists Face Unlimited Opportunities

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Wanted: Bright, responsible young men for indoor jobs in pleasant surroundings. Starting salaries $100-$135 weekly. Promotion possibilities unlimited."

A newspaper ad like that would sound like the answer to a college graduate's prayer.

But jobs with these advantages are practically going begging today in the nation's four-billion-dollar-a-year drug industry. It is faced with a growing shortage of trained pharmacists.

* * *

"Enrollment in the country's 5 pharmacy colleges has dropped 25 per cent," said Carl Willingham, secretary-treasurer of the National Assn. of Chain Drugstores. "They graduated 5,000 pharmacists five years ago, only 4,000 last year."

This falling enrollment has led the American Assn. of Colleges of Pharmacy to issue 150,000 booklets to high school career advisers citing the opportunities in the corner drugstore.

* * *

The United States has some 105,000 registered pharmacists—1 out of 10 is a woman—of whom about 90,000 are employed in the nation's 55,000 drug stores. The rest work in hospitals, government bureaus, research projects or for manufacturing firms.

But a steadily increasing population and growing interest in health have spurred a need for more, not fewer pharmacists. And the demand is for better trained men. It is estimated that more than half the drugs used most often in prescriptions today were unknown before the second world war.

A generation ago druggists worked an average of 60 hours a week. That has been cut to 48 hours in most areas, to 40 in a number of large cities.

* * *

"In most states a young man can become a registered pharmacist after four years of college study and a year of internship in a drug store," said Willingham, "and he doesn't have to pound the pavement looking for work.

"The jobs are there waiting. And there are plenty of openings at the top. There is a big need for drugstore managers. A man can work himself up to the $50,000 a year class, or higher, just as he can in any other field.

* * *

He cited the case of George B. Burrus, a soda fountain clerk who studied pharmacy in his spare time, now is president of the Peoples Drugstore Chain, which has 151 stores and does an annual 51 million dollar volume.

Another ex-pharmacist who rose to the top in management, Harry J. Loynd, heads Parke, Davis & Co., which manufactured $109,000,000 worth of pharmaceuticals in 1953.

While industry leaders have the welcome mat out for girl students in pharmacy, they don't expect the ladies to solve the current shortage.

* * *

"They work an average of four years—then get married," said Willingham.

Keeping the soda foundtains manned is about as much of a problem as keeping the prescription counter staffed. One big reason: The operators resent the old tags "soda jerk" and "soda squirt."

One manufacturer tried to glamorize the job by creating a new title—"fountaineers." But the campaign flopped quickly.

* * *

"Another suggestion is to call them 'fizz kids.'" remarked Willingham, and asked hopefully, "Do you think it will catch on?"

As a retired soda jerk myself, I think they need a name with more military romance behind it—maybe something like "marshmallow grenadiers" or "scoop colonels."

The modern word "fascist" derives from the Fascist regime in Italy which got its name from the fasces, bundles of rods used as symbols of authority in ancient Rome.

Stage Model Caine Mutiny Trial Stronger Emotionally Than Film

By BILLY ROSE

A few weeks back I wrote an enthusiastic piece about a shimmering hunk of theater called "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" which was produced by Paul Gregory at a cost of about $20,000.

Today I'd like to file a not so enthusiastic report about the movie called "The Caine Mutiny" which was produced by Stanley Kramer for Columbia Pictures at a cost of about $2,000,000 . . .

BILLY ROSE

Let me say right off that it is not my purpose to pan the flicker version of the Herman Wouk novel. It's big, slick, expert and a cinch to give a good account of itself at the box office.

It tells its story, however, in primer-book fashion, as though the producer were afraid some 10-year-old in the balcony might misunderstand the plot.

The script employs the old flagstone-laying technique, each slab neatly following the one before, and each slab, though nicely trimmed, tending to be as flat as the one before.

By contrast, "Caine," the play, wastes no time on a stone-by-stone build-up. It focuses on the one piece of dynamite the story has to offer—the trial scene, and the audience is briefed on the incidents leading up to the mutiny in a series of quick takes.

As a result, the theater version more than makes up in intensity for what it lacks in range, and comes through as a throat-grabbing chunk of life. The movie version, despite all its spectacle, remains a movie.

Scenery-wise, the stage "Caine" consists of a few tables, benches and chairs. The spectator is asked to make up his own scenery, and the result is that he becomes his own stage designer and is deeply moved by the settings of his own creation.

The acting in the movie is competent and, at times, better than competent. But since the narrative is intent on covering a lot of terrain instead of concentrating on one emotional site, the performances are merely performances.

Humphrey Bogart is fine as Capt. Queeg—if you haven't witnessed the anguish of Lloyd Nolan in the play. Jose Ferrer is impressive as Lieut. Greenwald—if you haven't seen Henry Fonda. Edward Dmytryk's direction is smooth and professional, until you start comparing it with Charles Laughton's.

As for the flaccid love story which chews up a lot of footage in the movie, it's pleasant enough—that is, if you haven't seen "Caine" without this bit of irrelevant fluff.

What it comes down to, I guess, is that the literalness of Hollywood is no match, in terms of impact, for the spectators' imagination, once it's artfully prodded.

For that reason, when it comes to telling a story without trimmings or trumperies, the legitimate theater is still the champ.

Statistics, I think, bear me out. In recent years, the movies have lost a good part of their audience to radio and television. On Broadway, however, hit shows these days run twice as long as they did a couple of decades ago.

It all seems to add up to a show-business truism which was old when Aristophanes was wowing 'em on a bare stage in Athens: The hint is mightier than the blueprint.

Jap Politicians Want Speeches, Not Floor Show

TOKYO (AP)— Japanese politicos are exhibiting an unseasonal frost towards an American-style fund-raising dinner, cooked up to finance a merger of the three conservative political parties.

In money-tight Japan, where Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal party (conservative) sponsors a stark austerity plan, the $31-a-plate dinner with a $6 rebate gimmick is on the hot griddle.

But it's not so much the cost that fries the critics. It's he frivolity of such lagniappe as cocktails and night club acts which one newspaper charged would turn the dinner into a "cabaret Christmas party."

For $31 less the $6 refund, the Japan News said, people want to hear speeches, preferably profound.

Chicago Woman Obtains 3rd Divorce From Mate

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Rosalyn Becker, 35, was believed to have established a record in Cook County (Chicago) yesterday when she filed a suit seeking her third divorce from the same man.

The suit accused her husband Louis, 36, an elevator operator, of cruelty, the same grounds on which she obtained two previous divorces. They have a daughter, Ina, 8.

They were married July 1, 1944; divorced Dec. 30, 1950; married Jan. 30, 1951; divorced March 1951; and married Jan. 23, 1954.

Japan in Market for Secret Weapon

TOKYO (AP) — Japan is in the market for a good secret weapon — if someone has one for sale.

Director Tokutaro Kimura of Japan's new self-defense force said today the army is interested in a guided missile and would like to buy the manufacturing license for such a weapon.

Other members of the defense board pointed out, however, that guided missiles still are rated top secret and once sold on the international market they can hardly be considered secret.

The earth has experienced at least four Ice Ages.

New Report Is Due on U. S. Job Picture

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new government report on the nation's job situation was due today, and advance indications were it would reflect increased employment—and also increased unemployment.

The report for June was prepared for issuance by the Commerce and Labor departments.

The summer months traditionally bring out students looking for vacation-time jobs and adults seeking work in outdoor activities. More jobs open up, but there also are more people looking for them.

This explains why in each of the past 14 years both employment and unemployment have increased between May and June. Employment usually increases by about 1½ million and unemployment rises by approximately 350,000.

Leave Fleet Expanded

TOKYO (AP) — The addition of another troop ship to the Army rest-leave fleet will make it possible for 600 additional men from Korea to have leave in Japan each week, the Army said today.

Whales have very small organs of smell and in some whales there are none.

The Caine Mutiny

Copyright

Synopsis: Willie Keith, a Princeton man, finds himself in the Navy, assigned to a minesweeper, the Caine. Waiting for his ship at Pearl Harbor, he plays the piano to amuse the admiral. Sometimes he thinks of the girl he left behind him, May Wynn. But he isn't too serious about her, for she doesn't quite come up to his standards. After learning of his father's death, he is glad when the Caine gets in to Honolulu. He picks up his gear, is taken out, meets the officers but is dismayed to find his new home is nothing but an old filthy dirty tub.

CPAPTER 7

Willie planned to sleep after lunch. He was longing for sleep with every cell of his body. But it was not to be. He and Harding were collared after coffee by the "vegetable with a face," Ensign Carmody.

"Captain de Vriess says for me to take you two on a tour of the ship. Come along."

He dragged them for three hours up and down ladders, and across teetering catwalks, and through narrow scuttles. They went from broiling engine spaces to icy clammy bilges.

They splashed in water and slipped on grease and scratched themselves on metal projections. Willie saw everything through a reddish haze of fatigue.

He retained only a confused memory of innumerable dark holes cluttered with junk or machines or beds, each hole with a novel odor imposed on the pervading smells of mildew, oil, paint, and hot metal. Carmody's thoroughness was explained when he mentioned that he was an Annapolis man, class of '43, the only regular officer aboard beside the captain and exec.

At dinner that evening there we three officers at the wardroom table including the captain. The rest were off on shore leave. Willie and Harding took chairs at the lower end of the long white cloth and began eating in silence. The others ignored them and made incomprehensible jokes among themselves about things that had happened at Guadalcanal and New Zealand and Australia.

Lieutenant Maryk was the first to glance their way. He was burly, round-faced, and pugnacious-looking, about twenty-five, with a prison haircut. "You guys look kind of red-eyed," he said.

Willie said, "We were caulking off for a few minutes in the clip shack."

"Nothing like caulking off to start your career right," the captain said to a pork chop, out of which he took a large bite.

"Kind of hot in there, isn't it?" said Adams, the gunnery officer. Lieutenant Adams wore fresh prim khakis. He had the long aristocra-face and negligent superior look which Willie had seen often at Princeton. It meant good family and money.

"Kind of," Harding said meekly.

Maryk turned to the captain. "Sir, that doggone clip shack is over the engine room. These guys'll fry in there—"

"Ensigns are expendable," the captain said.

"What I mean, sir, I think I could hang a couple of bunks just as easy in Adams' and Gorton's room or even in here over the couch—"

"The hell with that," Adams said.

"Isn't that a hull modification, Steve?" the captain said, chewing pork. "You'd have to get permission from BuShips."

"I can look it up, sir, but I don't think it is."

"Well, when you get around to it. The shipfitters are way behind as it is." Captain de Vriess glanced at the ensigns. "Do you gentlemen think you can survive a week or two in the clip shack?"

Willie was tired, and the sarcasm irritated him. "Nobody's complaining," he said.

* * *

Twoards the end of his first four-to-eight-watch Willie was profoundly grateful to see Lt. Adams come out of the wardroom hatchway, rubbing his eyes. "How's it going, Keith? Any strain?"

"No, sir."

"Let's inspect the lines."

He walked around the ship with Willie, kicking the manila ropes that tied the Caine to the next destroyers. "This number-three line needs chafing gear, the chock is rubbing. Tell Engstrand." Engstrand was the first-class signalman assigned to Willie's watch.

"Yes, sir—Mr. Adams, frankly I had a hell of a time keeping the guards and the messenger from flaking out."

"They didn't seem to think so."

"Tell you what, Keith. You've got something to contend with. This ship has been in the forward area since March '42. It's been through a lot of action. The men are all Asiatic. They probably think a fantail watch in Pearl Harbor is foolishness. The trouble is the skipper thinks so, too. It's the port director's orders, so we post the guards. You've just got to bear down."

"What actions were you in sir?"

"Hell, about everything. Marshalls raid, Coral Sea—first Savo, second Savo—Rendova, Munda—"

"What were you doing — minesweeping?"

"Who ever heard of a minesweeper minesweeping? Mostly we ran av-gas for the marine fliers at Henderson Field. Ran torpedoes up from New Zealand. That was a happy deal, live torpedoes lashed all over the deck and getting strafed. Ran dogfaces up to relieve the Marines on Guadal. Ran convoys all over the ocean.

"Supply scow, troop transport, screen, mail carrier, or what dirty job have you? That's the Caine. So if she's a little run down, you know why."

"A little run down is putting it politely," said Willie.

Adams straightened up, glared at him, threw his cigarette into the water, and walked aft. Over the loudspeaker came the chirp of the boatswain's pipe, then the words, "Reville for all hands. Reveille." Adams snapped over his shoulder, "Check reveille in the after crew's quarters, Keith. Make sure they're all out of their sacks."

"Aye, aye, sir."

* * *

Willie decided that he had better guard his mouth. Adams and the other officers had been aboard the Caine so long, they must be blind to the fact that it was a filthy wreck. They might even be proud of the ship. He swore to himself that he would be different. He would keep perspective, and he would never rest until, one way or another, he had gotten himself off the Caine. He set six months as his limit. After all, there was an admiral who was fond of him.

* * *

An hour later, as Willie toiled over a decoding device spread out on the wardroom table, the letters suddenly became a blur. The wardroom jerked back and forth, and fell on his hands. The fact that Lieutenant Maryk was reading official mail at the table beside him made no difference. He was done in.

He heard the opening of a door, and then the captain's voice: "Well, well. Siesta time for Ensign Keith."

He did not dare raise his head.

"Sir," he heard Maryk say, "that clip shack is no place to sleep. The kid is shot."

"Kind of ripe in port, but it'll be fine under way. Hell, Maryk, this boy's had four months' temporary in Pearl. Like to know how the hell he arranged it. He ought to have soaked up enough sleep to go without for a month."

The captain's voice was mocking and cruel. It filled Willie with rage. What right had De Vriess to be so damned red hot? De Vriess was the man who permitted all the filth and sloth of the Caine, for which he deserved a court-martial. He seemed to reserve all his energies for baiting ensigns.

Willie's accumulated resentment, weariness, and disgust coagulated at that moment into hatred of Captain De Vriess. The ship was the measure of the commanding officer. He had fallen into the hands of a bullying stupid sloven. He gritted his teeth, and as soon as De Vriess was gone he pulled himself erect and resumed decoding with new energy released by hate.

That night Willie found himself being shaken out of his sleep. He opened his eyes and looked into the face of Paynter. "Whassa-matter now?" he mumbled.

"Message to be broken, Keith."

"What time is it?"

"J---, can't it wait till morning?"

"Nope, Caine is information addressee. Any message where we're an addressee is busted at once. Captain de Vriess' orders."

"De Vriess," snarled Willie, "de Vriess. Why doesn't the Navy send him back to high school to mature?"

"Come on, Keith."

"Pal, let someone else break it. I'm too tired to see."

"Assistant communicator always handles these night breaks," said Paynter, "as I know only too goddam well. Come on, Keith, I've got to get back to the gangway."

Willie slid out of the bunk and descended to the wardroom, leaning heavily on bulkheads and railings. He propped his spinning head on one arm and set about decoding. The message was addressed to the aircraft carrier Brandywine Creek for action.

Halfway through the message Willie jumped up and uttered a cry of joy. He poured himself a cup of sludgy coffee, drained it, and raced through the rest of the decoding. With the penciled message he ran up to the quarterdeck, threw his arms around Paynter, and kissed him. The dour engineer pushed him away in distaste. "What the hell?"

Paynter took the slip of paper to the light over the desk. Shielding it from the side glances of the watch, he read:

Lieutenant Commander Philip F. Queeg USN detached. Proceed to Anti-submarine Warfare School San Francisco for training. Upon completion proceed to relieve Commanding Officer Caine DMS 22.

Paynter looked mildly pleased.

"Well," said Willie in a low tone, standing beside him, "aren't you going to kiss me back?"

"I'll wait," said Paynter, "until I see this Queeg."

"Well, it's conceivable. I'll take this in to the skipper—"

"No, no, allow me that luxury."

Willie ran down the ladder to the wardroom and rapped at the captain's door.

"Come in—"

"Good news, Captain," cried Willie, as he opened the door. The captain snapped on his bed light and squinted at the message, leaning on an elbow, his face streaked with red marks from the creases of his pillow.

"Well, well," he said, with a small wry smile. "Call that good news, do you, Keith?"

"I guess it is for you sir, after six years. You'll probably get a new destroyer. Maybe shore duty."

"You're all for shore duty, eh, Keith? That's a thoroughly salty viewpoint. You've picked it up real quickly."

"Why, I sort of think you rate it, sir, that's all."

"Well, I hope the Bureau agrees with you. Thanks, Keith. Good night."

Willie left with a feeling that his sarcasm had somehow bounced off the captain's hide. But he didn't care. He could suffer through the next weeks on the Caine gladly now. Deliverance was on the way, in the person of Lieutenant Commander Philip F. Queeg.

7-Toed Muggsy Useful as a Feline Fire Alarm

CLAYTON, N. Y. (UP)—A gray and white cat named Muggsy has seven toes on each foot, and he makes good use of them.

When an electrical storm knocked down a high-tension wire outside the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Baker, Muggsy's owners, the cat clawed at the blankets of Mrs. Baker's bed until she woke, saw sparks showering about the house and notified the power company.

The next night Muggsy again woke Mrs. Baker when a warehouse fire became visible from the bedroom window. Police said her phone call was their first word on the blaze.

Mountain of Butter Grows but Try to Buy It at 40 Cents

NEW YORK (INS) — Dig this crazy mixed-up world:

The government is buying between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 pounds of butter every weekday, following its price-support program. It now has about half a billion pounds in cold storage.

It is taking up freezer warehouse space drastically needed by the frozen food industry, which will have a record packing this summer.

There's never been a situation similar to the butter jam we're in. The gifts of butter to schools, the armed forces and certain allies are tremendous, by normal measurement, but constitute hardly a nick in the appalling mountain of the stuff we have on hand.

Most of our allies don't want any of it, at any price. Australia, France, Denmark, Belgium and Holland have butter surpluses of their own.

Russia and the other Communist countries would take a lot of it. But if we gave it to the Reds we would be helping them solve their serious consumer problems. If we sold it to them for the going surplus price of about 40 cents a pound, U. S. housewives who pay up to 70 cents at the corner store would march on the White House with muskets.

Communism, an atheistic creed, is not above making a fast buck out of Christmas. About a million Christmas tree ornaments a month are arriving in New York from Gdynia, Poland.

Most of the cases bear the words "Poland" or "East Germany" stamped microscopically upon them. They are sold to careless U. S. dealers as European-made ornaments.

The dollars paid for these slave-labor decorations are channeled behind the Iron Curtain through banks in Sweden and Holland. The New York corporation that handles most of the imports and thus is a party to the traffic in American dollars to the Reds explained recently to an irate veterans' group that it engages in this trade "in the interests of world peace."

The pressures being put upon the U. S. to look the other way and let Red China slip into U.N. and the recent aggressive noises made by Chaing Kai-shek, resharpen the focus on Formosa.

But most of us still know little about the island fortress where Chiang's army is growing older and into which we have poured many millions.

The island is half as big as Ireland and has about the population of New York City. Some 6,500,000 of its inhabitants are native Taiwanese: the other 2,500,000 are mainlanders. Excerpt:

"Are you here to call on the boarders or to meet the family?" asked a Formosan, with a twinkle in his eye. There is a big story behind this question.

The Taiwanese are not hostile toward the Chinese mainlanders but they experience irritation toward them. They feel that the mainlanders are not really interested in Taiwan.

"To the Taiwanese," one man explained, "the mainlanders are like a busload of New Yorkers camped in a Vermont village because their bus broke down."

14-Year-Old Stows Away Aboard Norwegian Liner

NEW YORK (AP) — For 14-year-old Peter Devlin Smith there is no place like home, even if this home is in hot, muggy New York.

His parents, however, thought it would be a good idea if the boy spent the summer in Norway, where he goes to school.

This idea Pete didn't like at all. And the tall, blond boy had made it quite clear.

"If you don't send me passage money to come home, I'll stow away," he warned in a letter. But his mother and stepfather, Nora and Kendall Smith, apparently had underestimated this grim determination. Pete didn't get the money.

* * *

Yesterday, when they returned from a Fourth of July weekend trip, the telephone rang and the stepfather picked up the receiver.

"Hallo, Papa," he heard. "Papa, here I am."

It took some time for Papa to figure out what was going on. Finally an immigration official got on the phone and explained. Yes, Pete was here waiting to be picked up.

He and 13-year-old Jon Eric Johannsen decided to come over. So they walked aboard the Norwegian American Line flagship Oslofjord on the crew gangplank, and that was it.

"I traveled on that ship before, you know," Pete said.

He had with him $10 and a bag containing pants, shirt, shoes, socks and underwear.

The two spent nine days aboard the ship, mixing with the paying passengers, playing deck games and sleeping in shower rooms.

As for food — it was simple, explained Pete.

The first day out when the ship docked in Copenhagen they got landing cards like any other passenger and had sandwiches ashore.

"The rest of the time we ate cookies mostly," said Pete. "We'd ask the cook for some and he thought we were passengers."

The pair was discovered in the luggage room, only five hours before the ship docked last Friday.

Jon, Pete's companion, was detained aboard to be returned to Norway.

Pete's parents, however, could not be located as they were out of town, and the immigration service offered him a shelter at Ellis Island. He stayed there for five days — compliments of the U.S. government, of course.

Pete's parents know now that when he makes a promise he keeps it.

14 Sailors Injured as Quake Subsides

RENO (AP)—The West's most jarring earthquake in two years spent its force on the bleak plains of western Nevada and damage was largely confined to the little community of Fallon and its neighborhood.

Fourteen sailors were injured at the Fallon Naval Auxiliary Air Station. One suffered a broken leg, the others were cut or bruised.

A series of aftershocks culminated in a heavy rolling quake in midafternoon which was felt in San Francisco and made chandeliers swing in San Diego.

Police Chief Peter Lugaski of Fallon said six downtown buildings were severely damaged.

Red Scientist on Way Out as Food Grows Shorter

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

It looks as if the facts of life have caught up with Prof. Trofim D. Lysenko, the big miracle man of Russian agricultural science.

For the last six years, scientists have been denouncing him as a fraud. But in Russia, until recently, his word on plant life has been law.

If he really is, it will mean that he has been called to answer for the failure of the Kremlin's attempt to increase farm output and thus overcome an increasingly serious food shortage.

But it will mean also that at long last Lysenko's theories have been admitted as false.

Briefly, the theory is that a plant may be changed by its environment and it not necessarily subject to the accepted laws of heredity.

Lysenko went so far, for instance, as to assert that Soviet scientists had succeeded in changing wheat into rye.

Russian as well as foreign scientists derided Lysenko's theory. They called it a fairy tale and called him a witch doctor.

But six years ago this month, the central committee of the Russian Communist party formally approved the Lysenko theory. A few weeks later the Academy of Sciences of the Soviet Union dutifully followed suit.

The highest honors were heaped on Lysenko. To oppose him, in Russia, was to court disaster.

After Josef Stalin's death last year, Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and Communist party first Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev embarked on the food program.

The program lagged, and reports started coming out of Moscow that Lysenko's theory was being re-examined. The re-examination had nothing to do with his theory, actually.

Soviet scientists, and undoubtedly a lot of high Soviet officials, had known it was phony.

But Khrushchev, the Kremlin's No. 2 man had personally taken responsibility for the food program. Khrushchev — so far — can do no wrong.

Various ministries were criticised for failure. Khrushchev personally criticised Lysenko for covering up a planning expert who has been fired from his government job.

Now the authoritative Journal of General Biology, published by the Academy of Sciences, has called Lysenko's theory "unsubstantiated and essentially mistaken." It has said that evidence to support the theory was faked.

Lysenko is now 56. The son of a Ukrainian peasant, he was educated to be an agricultural scientist. He first started announcing revolutionary theories as far back as 1929. It took him 20 years to reach the top. But in Russia it does not take long for a man to get from the top to the bottom.

Clarkston Man Placed on Two Years Probation

Floyd D. Hill, 20, of 5250 Clarkston Rd., Clarkston, was placed on two years probation and assessed $200 costs yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick for breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Hill pleaded guilty May 24 to breaking into the Sashabaw School at 5275 Maybee Rd., Independence Township, last May 8 and also admitted two other school breakins.

Michigan produces 92 per cent of the nation's white pea beans.

as They Ride Streetcar

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Commuters on the streetcar route between here and suburban Bellflower have never had it so good.

Their conductor, V. C. Prettyman, has roped off a special section of the car for card players. Now, the card fiends have a board, cards, score sheets — and an ample supply of kibitzers.

More than 500,000 railway passengers enter and leave New York City each day through the Grand Central and Pennsylvania terminal stations.

Bears Greek Gifts

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (UP) — Mayor John L. Sullivan, campaigning for re-election, received a contribution of 5,000,000 Greek drachmas towards his campaign fund. But he wasn't worried about breaking election laws limiting such contributions. The sum came to about $16 in U. S. currency.

Treasure Hunt Kills Machinist on Pacific Coast

SANTA SUSANA, Calif. (UP)—The daughter and son-in-law of a machinist killed yesterday in his search for buried treasure are convinced he was about to find it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hooper of Los Angeles said they will continue the hunt.

* * *

Her father, Ronald Merton Fuller, died yesterday at the bottom of a 55-foot shaft, one of many he had dug searching for three chests of gold he believed a Mexican bandit had buried more than 75 years ago.

Fuller, 45, had searched in his spare time for eight years. He had read widely about the bandit, Tiburcio Vasquez, who was hanged in 1875. The chests he sought supposedly were taken from an ambushed stagecoach and buried under a huge rock shaped like a lizard's head.

Guarding the shaft in which Fuller lost his life was a huge rock shaped like a reptile's head. Recent entries in his treasure-hunting log indicate Fuller was convinced he was nearing his goal.

* * *

Apparently he met death when dynamite fumes caused him to fall from a ledge inside the shaft to the bottom. Two sailors working with him found the body.

RESULTS WERE SO GOOD I AM ALWAYS PRAISING O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"I'm a real booster for your wonderful medicine since it relieved my rheumatism, arthritis and stomach trouble, says Mrs. Lula Thurlby, 6340 Wells Rd., Route 6, Jackson, Mich.

"If rheumatism or arthritis has ever settled in your hips and legs with such pain that you couldn't sleep or turn over in bed, you will realize how I suffered for several years. My legs hurt from my knees to my ankles and my hips, elbows and hands pained too. I was in such agony at times that I just couldn't do anything. Besides this, I suffered from stomach trouble and heartburn so bad that even bending over to tie my shoes about burned me up inside. I tried O-JIB-WA BITTERS through reading of its good work in my newspaper. It took about a month for me to see a deal of benefit, but now I am all better and the swelling has even left my fingers. It sure seems nice to be able to do all of my work without pain. I am so much better, and can also sleep well. My stomach is better too, and I can eat anything without fear of heartburn or indigestion. If I had only known of this great medicine several years sooner, I would have escaped a lot of misery. O-JIB-WA BITTERS also helped my son's stomach trouble after everything he tried previously had ended in failure. I am a real booster for your medicine, and have recommended it to many people, who also have received marvelous results. Oh yes, in closing I want to mention that I also took your reducing tea and lost five pounds the first week."

Mrs. Thurlby

AIRBORNE SURPRISES — Some of the 1,000 gas-filled balloons released over Pontiac yesterday by merchants in the Tel-Huron Shopping Center are shown above immediately before being sent skyward. Each balloon carried a certificate for merchandise or a gift from the merchants for lucky persons who recovered them. Shown in the picture with the boys who assisted in the balloon launching are (left to right) E. R. Police Object to Love Birds in Two Cars

STRASBURG, Va. (UP) — State Trooper William Berry doesn't frown on back-seat romancers in automobiles, as a general rule. But he sometimes makes an exception.

Like yesterday, for instance. Berry arrested the drivers of two cars on reckless driving charges when he saw a girl on the rear seat of one of the cars embracing a fellow on the back seat of the other. The cars were moving side by side at about 40 m.p.h.

Due for trial justice court hearings July 16 are drivers Allen C. Hill of Norristown, Pa., and Mrs. Cartherine Black of Alexandria, Va.

Loses Wallet, Retrieves It After 403 Hay Bales

Attack Victim Loses Faith Plus His $155

Cohn said he was robbed by two hoodlums who attacked him on a sidewalk at 2:30 p.m. while passers-by ignored the whole thing.

"I could see people across the street," he said. "They saw me struggling. I can't get over it. If they only had called the police."

The insurance collector couldn't call police. One of his attackers had his throat caught in an elbow vise. Cohn said he lost $125 of company money and $30 of his own money.

Bolivian Bicyclists Visit Capital on Tour Respite

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two leg-weary tin miners pedaled their way into town last night on a bicycle trip from their home in Bolivia.

Calling themselves "good will ambassadors," they were welcomed at the Bolivian Embassy for a two-week stay here. The two, Idelfonso Quibert, 28, and Jorge Ayala, 25, left their home in Pulacayo, Bolivia, last Sept. 20. Their ultimate goal is Ottawa, Canada, via New York City.

Likes Clean Sheets After Hours in Mud

The 200-pound, 6-foot Black was resting up after being stuck for perhaps 24 hours in the gooey mud of Beargrass Creek.

He said he fell into the creek from a railroad trestle.

He thought he fell Saturday, he said at first. Then he wasn't sure. Hospital attendants said they thought it must have been Monday.

In any event, it was a "long time" before some children found him yesterday, Black said.

Downed on Home Front

STAMFORD, Conn. (UP)—Maj. Gen. Henry C. Hodges, Jr., 94, who served in three wars without a scratch, slipped and fell on a department store escalator, injuring his collarbone.

Japanese Judge Faces Hearings on Red Leanings

TOKYO (UP) — Impeachment proceedings opened today against a judge accused of opening his court with Communist songs and allowing Red defendants to "pray for a Communist victory in Korea."

State Bans Drilling for Ore Along Roads

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UP) — Florida's road department has refused to permit prospecting for minerals, such as titanium, alongside state roads.

The board acted on a recommendation of its chief engineer, Sam P. Turnbull, who said other private interests would demand similar privileges. Also, he said, a prospector might take advantage of adjacent private landowners unaware of a valuable find.

The department admitted that the prospecting would not injure the highways or cause traffic hazards. The drilling apparatus generally used is mounted on a truck, pulled entirely off the paved highway.

The general policy was adopted after a request to drill for titanium, a metal used in jet aircraft engines, was made by a subsidiary of the Kennecott Copper Corp.

Visitor to Auction Bids, Gets Picture of Himself

AKRON, Ohio (UP) — Frank Sascz is still amazed at an experience he had at a recent auction.

He and his wife went just to look at the antiques. Suddenly a gaudily framed portrait of two women and a boy went on the block. It looked familiar, but Sascz couldn't figure just why at first, then he realized it was a picture of himself, his mother and grandmother made more than 25 years ago.

With no opposition, he got it for a 25-cent bid.

Remove Obstacle

Accident Data Used for School Safety Lessons

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (UP) — Police and school officials are trying out a new safety education plan here which they hope may spread nationally.

It's called "hospital-to-school" plan. The purpose is to bring fresh accident information before school children to point out how the accidents could have been prevented.

Police visit hospitals and question traffic victims as soon as doctors permit. Then, armed with testimony, charts and diagrams, they make the rounds of local schools and lay the facts before the pupils.

As each case is discussed, the officers tell what preventive measures could have been employed. All this is supported by testimony from victims themselves.

Police believe the system will be especially helpful among the younger pupils. However, it still is too early to say just how successful the system will be in reducing accidents.

When results are compiled, school Supt. Loy Norris and Police Chief Howard W. Hoyt say they plan to submit reports to the National Safety Council and the International Association of Police Chiefs.

Constantine was about to fight Maxentius, a rival for power in the Western Empire, when he had his vision of the cross.

Japanese Pinball King Is Honored With Statue

NAGOYA, Japan (UP) — Japan finally has gotten around to erecting a statue in honor of one of her most famous citizens, the inventor of the pachinko pinball game.

Five hundred pachinko parlor operators sponsored the life-sized, bronze likeness of T. Masamura, the "king of Pachinko," who invented the national fad which takes millions of yen yearly from the pockets of the Japanese public.

Mail Must Go Through

FALL RIVER, Mass. (UP) — James Margarida has just received a postcard mailed to him by his friend, Francisco Pires, while Pires was a private in the Army at Fort Dix, N. J., five years and four months ago.

Modernize Cotton Gins; Switchboards Added

The Continental Gin Co. expects to make deliveries this year of the first console switchboards designed to give one man control over the rows of fiber-combing machinery in big cotton gins.

The controls can start or stop the machinery, move it in or out of ginning position for ginning or overhaul, all at the touch of buttons, and automatically stop machines, if certain types of hazards arise.

Knew He Was Coming

NORWALK, Conn. (UP)—William Beuchler found a gold wedding ring in his yard and by means of initials traced it to Mrs. Harry De Weil, who said she lost it 18 years ago. She was so happy to get it back that she baked him a cake.

Uses Deception to Have Road Cleared to Tavern

PORT HURON (UP) During the height of the season's worst blizzard, the St. Clair County Road Commission received a call from a man who asked that a rural road near his home be cleared so he could drive to Detroit for his sister's funeral.

Donald M. Belyea, a maintenance engineer, called an emergency crew off a main highway to plow a path for the call

Later, after investigation, Belyea discovered the man had no sister in Detroit. He had gone instead to a tavern.

Wrong Service Branch

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — A week after completing a prison sentence for illegally wearing a Navy uniform, an Army veteran, Joseph H. Harvey, was sent to jail on a similar charge. Police said it was his fifth conviction for this offense.

First Confederate Flag Found in Virginia Hotel

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (UP)—A flag had been hanging in a hotel here for years. A couple of strangers wanted to know what it was. Nobody seemed to know.

A reporter looked in the dictonary under "flag." There it was—the first flag of the Confederacy, used until the familiar Stars and Bars flag was adopted.

M'Carthy Offers CIA Evidence

Will Not Forget About Probe Planned Earlier by His Committee

WASHINGTON (UP) Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) says he will turn over to an arm of the Hoover Commission evidence he contends will show Communists have wormed their way into the Central Intelligence Agency.

On his return yesterday from an 18-day vacation, McCarthy told newsmen "I would be glad" to supply this information about the supersecret espionage agency to a Hoover Commission "task force" headed by retired Gen. Mark Clark.

He insisted this was not announcement that his Senate Investigations subcommitete was dropping plans he had announced previously for a probe of CIA. "We are not going to forget about the situation," he said.

However, he said that "We never conduct a parallel investigation" in a field being investigated by persons he trusts. He said he has confidence in Clark, former Far East commander who is now president of the Citadel, a military college at Charleston, S.C.

McCarthy, during the hearings into his dispute with Army officials, said red infiltration of the CIA was one of the worst situations confronting the United States. CIA Director Allen W. Dulles called that false and said he had asked McCarthy last October for any information he had about his agency, but never received a reply.

McCarthy's subcommittee started last year to inquire into some CIA operations, but Dulles blocked the investigation by refusing to let his employes testify on grounds that security might be jeopardized.

McCarthy met yesterday with two members of his subcommittee, Senators Mundt (R-SD), and Dirksen (R-Ill), and told newsmen later he had no immediate plans" to call a meeting to consider what to do about two staff aides denied Defense Department clearance to handle secret documents.

Second Election Set for School District

LANSING (UP) — The State Municipal Finance Commission reported today that a Huron County school district will hold a second election to correct errors in a May 10 millage vote.

The district is No. 2 Fractional of Rubicon Township.

A commission spokesman said, after a conference with Thomas R. McAllister of Bad Axe, school attorney, that the May 10 election ballot and county treasurer's election notice were legally faulty.

The election was to raise millage for a $9,900 bond issue to install a heating plant and build a school addition. The commission said the bond issue itself was legal.

Judge Sets Trial on Assault Charge

Charles Barnett, 59, of 180½ Quick St., demanded examination on a felonious assault charge and pleaded innocent to possessing an unregistered gun Tuesday when he appeared before Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

He posted a $200 bond on the assault charge, pending trial July 14. He was scheduled to re-appear on the second count July 22 after furnishing a personal bond.

Pontiac Detectives James LaPonsie and Frederick Wirth said they confiscated a .38 caliber pistol from Barnett Sunday night when he was involved in a fight with Leon Cobb, 26, of 51 Hibbard Ct.

Cobb was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for a cut in his throat following the incident. Barnett claimed self defense, according to police.

Death Ruled as Suicide

MONROE (UP) — Monroe County Coroner Norman Capaul has ruled as suicide the death of Harry Reek, 47, whose body was pulled from a quarry three miles south of here Tuesday. The coroner said Reek jumped into the water fully clothed last Friday.

Bradley Man Killed

BRADLEY (UP) — Seventy-six-year-old Charles Ross of Bradley, was struck and killed by a truck Tuesday while walking along a rural road near this Allegan County community. Sheriff's deputies said the truck driver, Harold Finke of Moline, Mich., was not held.

Saginaw Youth, 15, Drowns in Creek

SAGINAW (UP) — A 15-year-old Saginaw youth who tried to walk across a creek drowned late Tuesday when he stepped into 15 feet of water.

Sheriff's officers recovered the body of Robert Alcorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Alcorn, from Cheboyganing Creek, about 4½ miles northeast of here.

A companion, Billy Shimel, 14, Saginaw, told officers that Robert said he would walk across the creek, which he thought was shallow. When his friend went down, young Shimel tried to swim to his aid and then held out a tree branch, but both rescue efforts failed.

Man Placed on Probation for Felonious Driving

Robert L. Parker, 19, of 213 S. Edith St. was placed on three years probation and assessed $250 costs yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick on a charge of felonious driving.

Parker pleaded guilty June 21 to striking a pedestrian April 9 while driving south on Oakland avenue. Police said Parker was driving at an excessive speed.

Home Construction in New Subdivision to Resume

Commissioners OK Plat Change

No Violation of Pontiac Building Code Seen in Green, Sarko Section

Pontiac City Commission last night concurred with the opinion of City Attorney William A. Ewart that changes in the plat of the Green and Sarko Subdivision on East Montcalm street do not violate Pontiac's building code.

The firm will be allowed to resume work in the subdivision, where about 150 structures are being built. Work had been held up for two weeks while a decision on the plat changes was reached.

In other action Commissioner John E. Carry said he felt residents in the Lois street area had been improperly assessed for drain improvements done last year.

Commissioner Harry W. Lutz said he thought the matter should be settled in court and Carry's motion to correct the assessment roll was defeated, with only Commissioner John A. Dugan supporting him.

A resolution was passed commending Dr. John F. Spring, D. D. S., for "his contribution to the growth and betterment" of Pontiac. Dr. Spring is retiring after 61 years in professional life here.

An engineer's cost estimate of $4,881 was accepted for planned construction of a combined sewer in Columbia from Barkell to 400 feet east.

Deleted from this year's public improvement program was gutter, drainage and related work on First from Highwood to Joslyn and on Smith from Josephine to James K.

A public hearing was deferred one week on intention to construct curb, gutter, draingge and related work on Linden from James K to Smith.

Action was delayed one week on a resolution to receive a special assessment roll for road-mix oil on Second from Joslyn to Ivy.

Sanitary sewers in Arlene from Perry to First and between Arlene and Fuller on Madison, Mansfield, Tennyson, Beverly and First.

James and Paul Felice were added as partners in a SMD package beer and wine license at 220 S. Telegraph Rd. Action on other liquor license transfers and applications was deferred because of the absence from the meeting of Mayor William Donaldson and Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

Special assessment rolls were confirmed for construction of:

Two-inch blacktop pavement on Douglas from Pike to Mount Clemens, Bliss from Hill to Parkhurst and Belmont from Michigan to Hazel Bend.

Curb, gutter drainage and related work on Willard from Center to Paddock, Wilson from Going to East Boulevard and Rutgers from Baldwin to University.

A resolution was approved correcting a special assessment roll for two-inch paving on Algonquin when it was learned that part of the street had been previously assessed.

BLOODY RIOTS—Since 1952 when bloody riots were touched off in Osaka, Jap Commies have changed their tactics and gone underground. The scene above shows some of the rioting in Osaka.

Japanese Red Underground Continues to Gain Force

By EDWARD R. KENNEDY
NEA Special Correspondent

TOKYO—Behind President Eisenhower's recent warning that the Kremlin will take over unless we help Japan maintain her freedom lies the hard fact that the Japanese Red underground is stronger than ever.

Since the bloody May Day riots of two years ago, the Japanese Communists have changed their tactics from blatant demonstrations to stealthy infiltration, and police intelligence officers are worried.

"We don't know where they are or what to look for," one harried government investigator explained. "It is only when we stumble on a pistol range or a Molotov cocktail training center that we get an inkling of what's going on—and those are hard to come by."

Despite crowded cities, there are vast areas of remote wilderness in Japan where the Reds can run their clandestine training schools with little fear of detection.

Even the Soviet leadership has gone underground, Japanese police believe. Since the defection of one of its members early this year and the deportation of a Russian patrol boat captain on espionage charges, the non-official Russian Mission in Tokyo has reduced its staff from 125 to 16.

The defection incident, which made the biggest Communist headlines since they took cover, occured during the visit of the Russian ice-skating team.

With the team came a squard of hefty, non-skating Russians. Their job was to escort a comrade named Rustovorov, secretary of the Russian Mission, back to Moscow as an unreliable Red. Rostovorov promptly hopped aboard a U.S. Army bus and disappeared.

Later, other strong-arm escorts turned up with the visiting Soviet wrestling team and took the mission's leader home "in ill health." Other mission members have since left without fanfare.

When the Russian patrol boat captain was ordered deported for running a spy courier net in Northern Japan, there were reports he had attempted to defect, and that U.S. agents offered him $50,000 to do so. But the Communists physically prevented him from making a break.

Although there are no more Red-agitated mobs storming police boxes, and few Communist-signed leaflets and posters are seen on the streets, police say the Japanese Communist Party has a membership of 100,000 and a swarm of 300,000 sympathizers gradually infiltrating every phase of national activity.

Acknowledged leaders are 24 men whom Gen. Douglas MacArthur barred from public office in 1950. At a recent trial of one of them, the court declared there was no ground on which to arrest these men in hiding.

Informed sources say they'll remain in hiding to wield the tremendous underground power they have built up, rather than come to the surface.

This underground empire is topped by a military organization of three units—the Military Commission, the Nuclear Self-Defense Corps, and the Independent Partisans.

The Nuclear Self-Defense Corps would spearhead any revolution. It has about 500 units and about 8000 members — "revolutionary youths and military workers" united by tight military discipline. Their duties include training the masses in military techniques, agitation and propaganda, and accumulation of weapons.

George Washington's Loyalty Oath Deserves Consideration Today

By IRENE CORBALLY KUHN

Irene Corbally Kuhn is the author of "Assigned to Adventure" and "The Enemy Within", and a contributing editor of the American Mercury.

Ever since the congressional investigations made the people of the United States aware of the infiltration of their government by Communist spies and sympathizers, there has been controversy about the loyalty oath many Americans have been asked to take.

Most Americans take the simple, straightforward position that a man who has nothing to conceal, nothing to fear, should be proud and willing to take an oath of loyalty to his country.

Other Americans, who hate Communists and communism and would in no circumstances betray their country, take the opposite view and call the loyalty oath requirement an insult.

There was an earlier American, a general, who must have thought bitterly that the law requiring him to take a loyalty oath was one directed specifically at him by his enemies in Congress.

Nevertheless, the general signed the oath. The year was 1778 and the general's name was George Washington. Nearly three years before, on July 3, 1775, Washington had taken command of the armies of the new nation and he had been at the head of his troops throughout the intervening period.

When, during the Gethsemane of the American cause in the terrible winter of 1777-78, Congress passed a law requiring all officers of the Army and Navy and all persons holding civil office under the government to swear allegiance, Washington did not ask that he be made an exception.

He signed the oath of allegiance in May 1778. In June of that year, the British gave up Philadelphia and the American fortunes took an upswing. Washington's enemies in the Congress must have felt pretty small.

However, it was not until October 21, 1781, after another three years, that Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown and all of Washington's faith and the young nation's sacrifices were justified.

In the National Archives in Washington is the original of the oath of allegiance Washington signed, a testament to his belief that in the new nation he did so much to create and preserve, he was no better than the next man; that he was entitled to no more than his humblest soldier.

"I, George Washington, commander in chief of the Armies of the United States of America, do acknowledge the United States of America to be free, independent and sovereign states, and declare that the people thereof owe no allegiance or obedience to George the Third, King of Great Britain; and I renounce, refute and abjure any allegiance or obedience to him and I do swear that I will to the utmost of my power, support, maintain and defend the said United States, against the said King George the Third, his heirs and successors and his or their abettors, assistants and adherents and will serve the said United States in the office of commander in chief as aforesaid which I now hold, with fidelity, according to the best of my skill and understanding."

That was 176 years ago, but it bears thinking about more today than at any time in our history. Free men give their allegiance to their country freely. Indeed, with them, loyalty is an article of faith, accepted without question of doubt.

In totalitarian countries there is no such concept. There is only the debasing and degrading obedience to this dogma or that dictator to protect one's interests, to save one's skin, to live another day.

Slaves' loyalty can be purchased with fear and held with fear, and its strength and tenure are as uncertain as the master's whims. But free men, and the allegiance they give freely, cannot be bought or sold or bartered.

British Publication Gives Description of Newest Soviet Navy Cruiser Class

By AP NEWSFEATURES

A sensation of the naval review staged in connection with the coronation of Elizabeth II a year ago was the appearance of a new Soviet cruiser, the Sverdlov. Photographs were taken, but at a distance, and some external equipment had been removed, so it was not possible to tell much about the ship at the time.

Now the British publication The Navy has printed an article with some details about her and deductions as to some other probable features. The article is digested in the July issue of The Military Review, published by the Army's Command and General Staff College.

The Navy says the Sverdlov is 690 feet long with a 71-foot beam, indicating a displacement of about 16,300 tons—a little less than the heaviest U. S. cruisers of the Salem class.

Armanent is reported to consist of four triple 6-inch gun turrets, 12 3.4-inch gun houses, which may be gas-proof and air-conditioned, 32 37-mm antiaircraft guns in twin mounts, two sets of quintuple torpedo tubes and two chutes for laying mines.

Belt armor is believed to be about four inches thick, deck armor one or two inches.

"It was interesting to see," the Navy says, "that the Sverdlov carried both visual range finders, mounted in cupolas German fashion, as well as a certain amount of radar. The presence of the optical range finders suggests that they may be regarded as more than a stand by in case of electronic breakdown."

The Navy said at least six of the Sverdlov class are in service and another six to eight reported under construction.

"Very fast—34 to 35 knots—well equipped, and with the huge fuel supply their size warrants," it continues, "they will have an exceptional endurance."

Scout Day Camps Teach Girls Many New Skills

"Wild Meadows" and "West Winds," day camps sponsored by the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council offer a varied program. "Wild Meadows," which is situated on the banks of the Huron River, affords numerous water sports for the camper. Karen Denham (below) of South Marshall street demonstrates the technique of boating to Gail Murray of Warner drive. Miss Denham is waterfront camp aide.

Lilly Dache Plans to "Finish" Woman

Lilly Dache, whose mangling of the language is also one of her most endearing ever-young charms, expressed herself memorably when the beauty press gathered 'round to congratulate her on the newest facet of her career — president of the two large and flourishing houses of Lucien LeLong and Marie Earle.

Asked whether she would find it hard to shift back and forth between designing hats and the heads under them, new makeup, hair color and so on, she said: "It will be easier for me! All my life I have felt that woman was never finished. Now — I can finish her!"

Paul Taylor Exhibiting Paintings

At the time the amateur work was done Mr. Taylor had had no instructions in painting.

'Balloon Look' Coats to Be Popular

Newest Woolens in Whisper Weight

It's because this new weight, with its crisp body and dry hand, is rapidly transforming our of when and where woolens can be worn. Now woolens can claim their rightful place in our year-round wardrobes.

One famous manufacturer steps out this season with a brand new line of lightweight fabrics. Long regarded as the master blender of the world's finer fibers, he is introducing new lighter-weights that are turning into a heavyweight influence in the hands of such trend setters as Claire McCardell.

Two years ago Claire draped some coating into the first "Pyramid Coat." This year, her "Balloon Look" of 1954 will appear in the new whisper-weight woolens.

The McCardell credo, that clothes should fit the individual and her way of life, finds a home in these six and seven ounce fabrics which adapt so perfectly to the American woman's colorful and all-occasioned wardrobe.

A grey 100% worsted flecked with dark blue silk turns up in a "Balloon Look" dress that gives curvaceous girls, tired of all-straight lines, a chance to indulge in the blou.. look above the waist while below, a slim and flattering skirt takes over. Sleeves are full and collar lines follow the cardigan classic of open look.

Paradoxical "Screeno," a woolen which looks dilghtfully three-dimensional but weighs little, is McCardellized into a casual, comfortable look styled with short or three-quarter sleeves, open neckline to frame the face and sometimes a two-waistline design.

Best of all, for those first days out-of-doors without a coat, is a three-piece separates ensemble in "Gulliver Colors" plaid. The colors in this case are "Siamese Red" and "London Fog Grey." Here McCardell contrasts the circular lines of the skirt with a sharp V-neckline on both the matching plaid jacket and the plain grey jersey blouse.

Pockets are set in on oblique lines and even the detachable tab fastening on the skirt is V-shaped! Wonderfully easy sleeves are also set-in with a V-shaped underarm piece and the cuffs are tabbed pertly on the oblique.

A light-weight fleece appears in the important three-quarter length round-about coat with rounded corners, huge pockets, and lots of buttons. And all the buttons actually button, according to the best McCardell tradition.

"Furniture isn't the only thing that can be functional these days," says Claire McCardell. "Clothes should follow the same design for easy living." Both functional and easy-living are these new woolens, especially when styled by America's most representative designer.

Jewelry to Take Old World Look

NEW YORK — It hasn't reached Main Street, U. S. A. as yet, but there is a new look in precious jewelry this year and it has an Old World, Renaissance flavor.

The word here from Fifth Avenue is that the newest designs in diamonds and platinum are beginning to hark back to the creations of jewelry's patron saint, Benvenuto Cellini. The similarities are showing up both in design ideas and craftsmanship.

What is most evident in such new jewelry as necklaces, earrings, brooches and bracelets is a feeling of lightness and simplicity of design, according to the noted concern. These pieces, instead of being and looking massive, now have a light and airy feeling.

Pins Dramatize High Fashions

New seasons have a way of finding new places for pins and brooches, and this year fashion suggests the waistline. Whether the midriff is softly wrapped, smoothly fitted, beltless or casually dropped, it can be beautifully dramatized with an exquisite pin. And exquisite they are, reflecting the trend toward fragile, flower-like delicacy.

Flowers are, in fact, the source of inspiration for many diamond jewelry designs—graceful, asymmetric sprays with tiny mobile diamond drops set in platinum. Rubies, emeralds, sapphires and other colored gems bring contrasting color to shining diamond flowers, wreaths, bow knots and scrolls.

Chalk white rick-rack trims this romperette swimsuit. The halter strap may be removed for sunning and the bra side boning gives strapless assurance.

Shocking Pink Stove Aids Morale

Kitchens Blossom Out in Rainbow of Bright Hues

SAN FRANCISCO (INS)—Baking a cake in a shocking pink stove may not lighten the dessert, but it certainly gives a lift to the morale of the cook.

Exhibitors of model kitchens have played this theory to the limit of the spectrum in the kitchens on display at the American Home Economic Convention which opened in San Francisco today.

The antiseptic white kitchen is apparently as passe as the wood-burning range of grandma's day —not only the stove but the refrigerators are blossoming out in all the colors of spring.

If the shocking pink stove — a combination of a wall oven and burners to be placed wherever is convenient in the kitchen — does not suit your fancy, you can have daffodil yellow, copper or silver.

But shocking pink is not to be denied — it is the dominant motif in a really charming kitchen displayed by the American Home Magazine. The walls are pink, the ceiling white, the floor tile in shades of gray and white.

The sink and oven form one wall and back of them are the washer and dryer in a separate alcove of their own. Black iron grillwork, backed in pink and highlighted with milk glass, edges the entryway to the laundry room.

At the opposite side of the kitchen, a sewing machine and cutting table have the place of honor — you can sew while you bake.

If your taste runs to buttercup yellow, Frigidaire is more than happy to oblige. Their kitchen is in shades of yellow and tangerine —the cabinets tangerine and the electric range and refrigerator in yellow. A steel - topped semi-circular cabinet edges the stove and presents no sharp corners to trap the unwary cook.

One of the most coordinated uses of colors is in the Lyons Steel kitchen. It is in green with yellow tops on the work spaces, but much of the room is papered in a gray background paper with a yellow pattern.

The dining area at one end is as colorful as can be imagined. The table is set with purple glassware and napkins and is flanked by a comfortable bunk bench highlighted by cushions in lavender, blue and purple shades. A desk that drops from the wall is at the other side of the table.

At the opposite side of the room, in an alcove, is the business area —the hot water heater, washer and dryer and home freezer.

MR. and MRS. CHARLIE WOODY

To reside on Osmun street are the Charlie Woodys. She is the former Euretta Brinker, daughter of the Warren Brinkers of South Shirley avenue, and he is the son of the Norman Woodys of Franklin, N. C. The wedding took place Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

Euretta Brinker Becomes Bride in St. Vincent Rite

Euretta Brinker, daughter of the Warren Brinkers of South Shirley avenue became the bride of Charlie James Woody, son of the Norman Woodys of Franklin N. C., Saturday morning in St. Vincent de Paul Church.

The altar was banked with vases of whit gladioli, carnations, majestic daisies and candelabra for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. William J. Radamacher before 150 guests.

The bride approached the altar wearing a strapless, ballerina-length gown of white net over satin. The top of the three-tiered skirt and the bolero jacket were embroidered.

Her waist-length veil was secured by a white tiara trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and roses centered with an orchid.

Garland Woody served as his brother's best man and Robert Brinker, brother of the bride, Gene Hammond of Birmingham and Harold Woody, also a brother of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Upon their return they will reside on Osmun street.

Doll-Sized Form Found Delightful

A new power - behind - the-fashion-trend is holding forth at Harvey Berin's these days. Karen Stark, the dynamic designer for this house, went to Europe recently and came back with a prize Paris model — but it was not a haute couture creation.

It is a doll-size dress form. Discovered in a back street "notions" shop, it has changed Mrs. Stark's designing life, she insists. She draped every silhouette in the Harvey Berin Fall collection on this miniature dummy instead of the life-size dress model.

"It's the most fun I've had since I was five," says Karen

Let Baby Try It

It's difficult for a parent to know just when to stop doing things for baby. Generally, you are safe in letting him try to do for himself when he expresses the desire. If he is willing to accept assistance, help him in the beginning. But try not to interfere with his efforts. Too much help will only discourage him.

Good Grooming

. . . is an indefinite quality, but basically we will no doubt agree. It can be defined as the routine of the four brushes (hair, tooth, clothes and shoe brushes). Plus one or two other items.

In this group the hair brush is probably the most neglected yet it will perform miracles if used regularly. Daily brushing gives the hair luster and makes it manageable. The soft sheen of healthy hair must not be mistaken for the artificial sheen produced by many shampoos.

This type of shampoo while producing a high luster at first, often proves detrimental if used constantly. It causes the hair in time to become dry, snarly and brittle.

The best care for the hair is the simplest. Mild soap, soft water, good hair cream, daily use of a hairbrush and a good Permanent properly given is the surest way to that lovely head of hair you have often dreamed of.

Children Are Not Bitter So They Quickly Forget

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

We are dicing onions into choppe steak when we hear the shrieks from the back yard. We fly to the kitchen door. In the yard, Kate's doll carriage is overturned.

Kate herself is sprawled on her brother's back, banging at his shoulders with her clenched fists. Between blows, Bobby raises his head like a spouting whale to emit his shrieks of protest and outrage.

At the sound of our voice, our daughter scrambles to her feet and yells: "He threw mud into my doll buggy, mother! He just picked up a hunk of mud and. . ."

Bobby's got his breath. "She stepped on my Strato-liner first!" he gasps. "She busted it. She . . ."

"I did not!" Kate cries to us. "He shoved it in my face! He said he betted that I wished he'd let me fly it! He said . . ."

In these situations, we act instead of talking. We put space between Bobby and Kate. We send Bobby to his room and Kate to the sunporch. We maintain this space between them until their passions have lost their urgency.

Even when they've lost it, we should take care in judging the rights and wrongs of our children's quarrel.

For each can only present us with prejudiced testimony.

If we do make the mistake of judging on the prejudiced testimony offered us by our excited children, we are more apt to foment more quarreling than to resolve their argument.

We adults are very conscious of our rights to justice. If we ourselves cannot resolve a quarrel with a neighbor, judges, lawyers and juries have to decide it for us.

As we don't have time for such impartial investigation into children's fights, we should not judge the fights.

Our hasty judgments are dangerous. If I accept Bobby's prejudiced testimony against his sister, I can quickly become infected with prejudiced against her.

Soon, whenever he and Kate quarrel, I will blame Kate for it, not on the merits of Bobby's case against her, but on my suspicion of Kate as a starter of quarrels. In no time at all, I will be incapable of impartial justice to Bobby and Kate.

When children learn that we refuse judgment on their quarrels, they resolve the quarrels themselves.

They are able to do it, because their feelings for each other are not embittered and intensified by fear of our disapproval, or by dependence on our justification.

Employ Tricks to Clean House

With its round of outdoor picnics, fishing sprees for men and shopping sprees for women, this is the season that brings forth dusters, mops, vacuum cleaners, et al. It's a time for top to bottom house cleaning.

All housewives will have their share of chores, but keeping a few chore-tips in mind, they can lessen the working hours and the working strain on themselves, too.

For down-on-the-floor chores, use a rubber mat or kneeling pad. It will help save stockings and keep knees from roughening, too.

For dusting, waxing and polishing, try the "glove gimmick." Smooth a hand lotion or heavy face cream into the hands and cover them with an old pair of tight-fitting cotton gloves. It will save manicures and keep dust and grime from coarsening hands and knuckles.

For cleaning electric appliances, let old toothbrushes pay their weigh in platinum. They're ideal for scouring anything that cannot be submerged in water.

Everybody will be seeing more of you this summer, so make sure your legs are smooth and free from hair. The dry-method hair eraser, makes this possible without danger, mess or fuss.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Casual Modern Parents Seem to OK 'Post Office'

Psychology seems to have eliminated strict parents and I suppose the new crop of book-educated, complex-conscious fathers and mothers are more efficient than the old.

Yet I can't recall that any of the boys and girls I grew up with were juvenile delinquents or did anything much more vandalistic than hiding gates at Halloween.

Even then, though, there were two schools of thought about certain kinds of teenage activities—kissing games, for instance. My mother and father belonged to the severe school, I was unconditionally forbidden to play kissing games.

My friend Nell's mother was not so strict. And at Nell's house boys and girls took kissing games as a matter of course. I remember Post Office, in which you paid for your letter with kisses, and Clap In and Clap Out, in the course of which you were clapped out if you sat in the wrong chair, kissed if you sat in the right one.

One night, to everybody's surprise, I recklessly made one of the group forming for Clap In and Clap Out. Almost at once it was my turn to leave the room. I blushed and trembled while I waited, and when they called me back, I could hardly lift my eyes.

Of course I knew that if you didn't want to be kissed, the thing to do was to sit in the chair of somebody who couldn't possibly have chosen you.

There was a visiting boy at the party, a dashing redhead I had worshipped from afar all summer. I was sure he hadn't chosen me—he didn't even know I was alive—so I could have sat in his chair and been safe.

But instead I stumbled into the one behind which stood my old friend Frank. I thought he would have been too bashful to choose me. But instead of clapping me out, as I had expected, the crowd all shouted, "Go on, Frank, kiss her!"

The girls pushed me and the boys shoved Frank who, blushing all over his freckled face, finally pecked me on the cheek.

My first kiss, and I was too miserable and guilt-stricken to get any pleasure out of it! For weeks I worried every time any grown-up came to our house for fear they might mention the kiss to Papa, who I am sure would have whipped me, big girl that I was. Apparently, though, nobody told on me.

I suppose the carefree daughter of casual modern parents probably won't remember her first kiss at all.

When backs of skirts get shiny, sponge them with a solution of half water and half ammonia. If shine persists, rub lightly with a clean suede brush. Use cheesecloth saturated with vinegar to remove shine from blue serge, black silk and crepe.

Bride-to-Be Asks About Gift Rule

If Requested, She Can Name Items of Varied Value

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter is from a bride-to-be who asks: "What can I do when friends ask me, 'What do you want for a wedding present?'

"It is embarrassing to ask for the things I want most because I've no idea how much the person intends to spend. If I name a few items that are trifling I may be depriving myself of something of value that I would otherwise have received. I would appreciate your advice in this matter."

Name a few objects of varying values. You might perhaps name one of high value in a half-jesting voice; and then add seriously, "I'd love anything you give me."

Dear Mrs. Post: When three women arrive together and are waiting to be seated at a wedding, does one of them take the usher's arm and the others follow directly behind, or should each one wait to be taken to her seat by an usher?

Answer: If there are several ushers and you the only arriving guests at the moment, you might each expect to be escorted by an usher.

But if there were many people arriving you would follow the one in your group who is being escorted rather than wait.

Dear Mrs. Post: There seems to be a disagreement about the necessity for taking presents to one's hostess when going to spend a weekend. So to set us straight will you tell us just what is customary according to etiquette among well-mannered guests.

Answer: Etiquette does not exact that anyone take a gift to his (or her) hostess or even that anything be sent afterwards—except a thank-you note.

On the other hand, to take a box of candy or a book is a courteous gesture that many people like to make. Where there are young children guests almost always take them toys. Often these are no more than trifles.

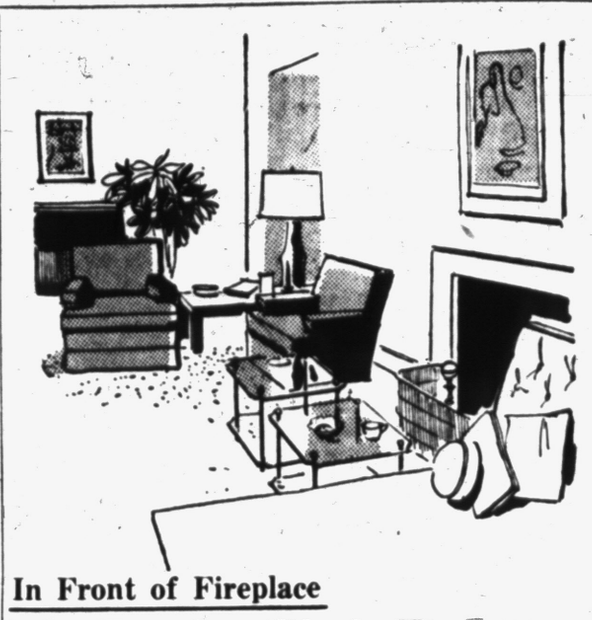
But children are always so pleased with a present — and this naturally pleases their mother, too.

IF sturdy build—

Leave fluff and frosting to the small-boned. In tune with your sturdier build is a whisper of sophistication in taffeta and crepe.

Miss B.—The dark cotton which appears sturdy and crisp is actually your best daytime choice. For evening the equally crisp taffeta with eye-appeal for fall. Amethyst tones look fresh, teal and emerald green are for festive dresses, too.

Louisiana led the 12 southern states in plantings of seedlings. Alabama ranked second and Arkansas was third.



In Front of Fireplace

It's Fun to Shift Furniture

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

How about a new arrangement of furniture in front of the fireplace? An idea that's different from the usual facing pairs of chairs or loveseats can do wonders for the style of the room.

The grouping sketched breaks up the typical huddle and is wide and open to create a more spacious look for the room. It also places the furniture in better relationship to the opposite wall.

A low and somewhat lengthy table is equally useful to two chairs, and the lamp on it is extra tall to reach the height of a shorter lamp on a taller table.

Beside it and directly in front of the fireplace are two airy tables in brass and glass. The color scheme is striking—shades of bright blue and turquoise for upholstery covers and in the pictures, against white for walls and the rug.

Stylists Favor Ice Cream Hues for Upholstery

NEW YORK (INS) — Switch to pastels if you want to reupholster or slipcover your seating pieces in latest style.

The ice cream colors, in any flavor you can name, are the ones most favored by decorators for an up-to-date look.

An off-white, like vanilla, was the favorite. Next came the delicate pinks of strawberry or cherry ice cream, and a cool lemon, like lemon ice. Pale pistachio green was used in many cases, and there was an occasional glimpse of a warm reddish pink like raspberry sherbet.

The non-pastels that were preferred were almost all in the blue family. High-fashion turquoise and watery aquamarine were seen everywhere, not as the chief color for a whole suite of upholstered pieces, but as accent colors for single chairs or small sofas.

The decorators, not having a home budget problem, relied heavily on synthetic fabrics that could be practical although pastel.

Women who can't afford to buy the high-priced nylon and dacron upholstery fabrics could probably still have the 1954 pastel look if they kept to removable, washable covers.

A gown of embroidered French lace over pleated nylon tulle imported from Mexico was worn by Norma Louise Gonzalez when she became the bride of Allen Eugene McBride Saturday evening in St. Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose P. Gonzalez of South Shirley Avenue and he is the son of the Joseph McBrides of Holbrook avenue.

A crown of orange blossoms secured a veil of pink-tinted nylon. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and pearl earrings. She carried a white orchid with lace streamers fastened to a fan.

Mrs. Homer Howard was matron of honor wearing a pale blue ballerina-length gown of shantung. Other attendants were Jean John, Shirley Van Horn and Beverly Burton wearing shantung gowns of pink, green and orchid, respectively, and carrying matching bouquets of carnations.

Rose Marie Gonzales of Chicago wore a pink dress for her duties as flower girl and Willy Lupe Guzman was ringbearer.

The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with matching accessories and a corsage of gardenias and carnations. A yellow dress with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias and carnations was the choice of the bridegroom's mother.

Following a reception at Chieftain Hall, the bride changed to a pink linen dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet for a wedding trip through Quebec and Montreal.

Upon their return the newlyweds will reside on Whittemore street.

Respecting Child's Toys Fine Model

Some children destroy property for the sake of destroying. They are the youngsters who, between the ages of 6 and 12, break windows, gouge furniture, mark up the walls and smash toys. You can prevent your child from becoming a destroyer.

Throwing rocks through the windows of vacant buildings, marking up cars, breaking branches off small trees and shrubbery — these are things you can stop your child from doing.

Show him that you expect him to be careful with family belongings. Explain that he mustn't grab things which don't belong to him, but allow him, in turn, to have a proprietary sense about his own things.

If your child some day does take a toy which doesn't belong to him, be patient with him. He must return the toy himself, but you can help give him the courage and perhaps go with him.

Then maybe you and he can plan how he can earn one himself by helping you around the house.

It is not wrong to desire things we do not have. We all do. But some people then earn them — and others steal them. If you close the doors to many of your child's desires, he may come to believe he can only get what he wants by stealing.

So show him the legitimate ways of obtaining things, and, of course, explain that they are better because they are carried out without hurting others as we would not want to be hurt ourselves.

Interesting Breads Top Salad Menu

Oatmeal Loaves Fit Summer Appetites in Fine Fashion

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Summer salad meals call for interesting breads to serve with them. We think you'll like Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon's Oatmeal Bread to serve with warm weather food. You know you can store the extra loaves in the freezer or the freezing compartment of your refrigerator.

Mrs. Vernon is most enthusiastic about belonging to the Pontiac Toastmistress Club; she was a charter member and thoroughly enjoys the bi-monthly meetings. As a member of the Women's Auxiliary of Pontiac General Hospital, Mrs. Vernon is a board member.

OATMEAL BREAD
By Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon

2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons shortening
2 teaspoons salt
½ cup lukewarm water
1 cup rolled oats
½ cup dark molasses
1 yeast cake

Pour boiling water over rolled oats. Add shortening, cool, add molasses and salt. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add to oatmeal mixture. Add flour gradually, turn on floured board and knead until smooth looking. Turn into greased bowl, cover, and leave in warm place until doubled in bulk. (about 1 hour). Shape into 3 loaves, place in greased pans and let rise until doubled in bulk again. Bake in 350 oven about 50 minutes, or until well browned.

Dark plaid for summer has freshness. The black and gold full-skirted cotton dress features a reversible cape stole that ties or drapes.

Lying Parents Hurt Children

Too many parents play "dodge-the-bill-collector" without realizing the effect on younger members of the family.

Children hear their parents lie to escape responsibility — and quickly learn to do the same. And lying can lead to more serious behavior.

Factory Is Her Choice

To Have Work One Likes Is Most Important Thing

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Here is a letter from a distraught mother, who does not want her name mentioned:

"My daughter wishes to take a position in a dress factory rather than go into nurses' training or attend a secretarial school and later train for a secretarial position," she writes.

"I hve said that the final decision will be hers, but I have told her that the standing of a nurse or secretary is much higher than that of a factory worker.

"Is there not a wide social gulf between these occupations? Working in a sewing factory, my daughter will attract an inferior crowd of girl and men friends. Wouldn't she attract a better class of people if she attended a secretarial school or went into nurses' training?"

This is a wise mother, because she states immediately that the choice will be up to the girl. And it is perfectly natural that she should show some concern.

1. Factory work is not what it used to be. In the old days, when O. Henry was writing, for example, the factory worker was an overworked, sweatshop drudge.

Nowadays, that is not the case. There are regular hours, decent working conditions, good pay—all of which attract more ambitious and promising workers.

2. Many factory workers do advance, so don't picture your girl as sitting always at the sewing machine. If she is a good worker, and gets along with others, she may well move ahead into supervisory positions.

3. If she honestly prefers this to nursing or secretarial work, she will make a bigger success in this field.

To go into the others, without liking them, will probably mean that she stays in a lowly job, whether in nursing or office work. Without the interest, it is almost impossible for anyone to advance in any work.

4. By the same token, if she goes into a field she hates, she will become miserable, bitter and hence unattractive.

If she hates nursing, she will become so grudging and unattractive that she will not be likely to attract any of the doctors or interesting patients.

If, on the other hand, she is in work she likes, she will become so attractive that she will have all the friends she wants, not only at work, but everywhere she goes.

Doing Things With Cement Looks Easy

Wood Forms Are Important; Also Be Sure to Dampen

By HUBBARD COBB

Building things around the place with concrete looks easy and actually it is easy except sometimes things don't seem to turn out the way they were supposed to or the way the man who wrote the book or the column said they would.

Sometimes this is the fault of the man. Sometimes it's the fault of the concrete—it wasn't mixed right, and sometimes it's the fault of the forms and the way in which the concrete was poured.

Once you've gone to the trouble to mix up a good batch of concrete, you want to make sure that all your work was not in vain.

First, most concrete jobs require forms of one sort or another to hold the fresh concrete in place until it is dry and hard.

Almost any good solid boards will do for this job but they must be well nailed and properly secured or the weight of the concrete will push them around something terrible.

One inch thick boards braced with 2 in. x 4 in. studding every 24 inches or so should do for most home concrete jobs. If you want a curved section, use a sheet of metal instead of the wood.

Concrete doesn't stick to wood readily so it's usually not necessary to coat the forms with anything so they can be removed.

Grease can be smeared on the surface of the forms before the concrete is poured but the grease will stain the concrete and make future painting almost impossible.

When you pour the concrete into the forms, pour just a little at a time and then jab it with a trowel or shovel. This insures it becoming a compact mass free of air bubbles.

Lastly, after the concrete has been poured, keep it covered with burlap or hay and keep the covering damp for about a week.

This will insure a good quality concrete. If the concrete dries out too quickly, the results are often not all that you expected.

Ready Yourself Now for Baby's Mischief-Making

Before Baby gets to the mischief-making stage, think about how you will handle the situations that may arise. And also how to keep such situations to a minimum.

First of all, since children are sensitive to suggestion, you will accomplish much simply in assuming the attitude that Baby will be well behaved. Since he must learn as he goes along, help him with suggestions and requests.

Threats always are taboo. Don't fill him with fears by threatening to call in a doctor or a policeman when he misbehaves.

Don't Snub Shy Girl, Try Helping Her

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: There's a girl in our group who doesn't belong. The rest of us are moderately popular, while she is quiet and almost unfriendly.

"She never talks, just tags along like a shadow. Whoever has to pair off with her feels left out. We've earnestly tried for a year now to help her get over her shyness—with no results.

"We're not snobbish, but it doesn't help your popularity to be seen with a girl like this. How can we get rid of her?"

If the rest of you could just once be big-hearted enough to make that girl feel wanted, you might see the greatest change in her. She's not so dumb and blind that she can't tell how you feel about her.

You scramble to avoid being stuck with her. She senses it. You resentfully and impatiently let her go along with you when you can't get out of it.

Your attitude is hardly a comfort to her. She feels like a very sore thumb when she's with you. Small wonder she has turned in on herself and gone quiet and unfriendly.

You say you've tried to help her overcome her shyness. What positive good have you done if you can see no results? Have you ever once tried to change the low opinion she has of herself?

Have you ever once complimented her on something she has done, said or worn? Have you ever once laughed uproariously at anything funny she said?

Have you ever once sought her out, chosen her for your partner, gone out of your way to get her into the middle of things?

Trying to get rid of her would be a sorry solution to the whole problem. If you tell her she's out, she'll be miserable.

It would be a mighty blow to her morale, which is already low. And the rest of you girls would not have accomplished a single good thing for yourselves.

As I see it, one girl's distaste for the "shadow" has been contagious. You've all caught it. You talk about it among yourselves until you've magnified it.

You've even sold yourselves the mistaken idea that your popularity is suffering because of her.

Why not put your heads together over a campaign that will do something big for all of you? You have the summer in which to work miracles with that girl.

The easiest, yet the biggest, thing is to convince her that you like her. Ask her opinion, tease her affectionately, call her up, see that she's in on the things you plan.

Try It

A Fish Board for Scaling

I do hope that you live where there is some water that is good for fishing. You may think that dad does not care to go fishing, but ask him if he wouldn't like to take you out to try your luck. Fishing is fun, even if your catch isn't great.

Let's talk about making a fish board for scaling, for if you get to go fishing soon, I hope that you will need this handy board. The size of the board will depend on the average size of the fish caught around where you live.

Ask dad to help you decide on the size, then draw a newspaper pattern of a fish and when your pattern suits you, lay it on a piece of wood plank and draw around it. Cut it out with a jig saw.

Sand your board until smooth. Make a hole in the tail end for easy hanging, then drive a large nail through from the wrong side. This is to hold the head of the fish for scaling.

You will find that the board is a big help in scaling your fish, and that you can do it in about half the regular time. You can use your board for cutting the fish up on, too.

Sun-Tan Oils Give Bronze Minus Burn

Allergy Creams Best If Your Skin Gets Lobster-look

If you're a tanner, you're the envy of everybody. But if your skin reddens at the drop of a sunbeam, beware.

The sun does give that necessary vitamin D, but it also bestows ultraviolet rays, capable of producing severe burns.

Remember that in mid-summer, the rays are strongest from ten to two. Don't be fooled by a hazy day; though your skin doesn't feel hot, it can get a bad burn. Sunlight reflected by sand or water packs a double intensity of ultraviolet rays.

Even the most inveterate tanner should use a good sun preparation. Whether you choose a lotion, cream, or oil is purely a matter of personal taste.

The anti-burning quality of any sun preparation depends on the effectiveness of its chemical "sun screen," so don't be fooled by those experts who make their own concoctions of oil and vinegar—and smell like a salad.

Mere oiliness gives scant protection. Mineral oil and baby oil, for example, are almost completely transparent to ultraviolet rays.

Some people with an unhappy history of freckling and burning believe that because some products are labeled sun-tan preparations, they will make them tan.

Actually, the screening ingredient in most preparations rations the ultraviolet rays that reach your skin so you'll get enough to tan but not to burn. In other words, a sun-tan preparation promotes tanning without burning.

If you simply can't take the sun at all, relax to the fact you'll never bronze. Your solution is a sun-allergy cream, which completely blocks ultraviolet rays.

But whatever you use, be sure to apply it thoroughly and at intervals throughout your exposure to the sun, because of skin absorption and sun evaporation. Reapply it after each swim, even if the water doesn't wash it off, your beach towel may blot it off.

Suds Dust Cloths

Unless you use dustcloths that are spotlessly clean, you'll only be putting on dirt rather than taking it off. Suds them after daily dusting and they'll be ready to serve you the following day.

Siege Is Lifted in Guatemala

New Anti-Red Regime Also Prohibits Voting by Illiterates

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala's new military government last night lifted the state of siege proclaimed by ousted President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

Pushing ahead with its anti-Communist, back-to-normal program, the ruling five-man junta also:

1. Barred all illiterates — an estimated 65 per cent of the country's three million population — from voting;

2. Froze the assets of Arbenz, ex-Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello and other persons prominent under the former Communist-backed government;

3. Continued the roundup of suspected Reds;

4. Announced restrictions on civil rights would continue in effect until Aug. 8. However, the junta has already ended the Arbenz-imposed strict censorship of the local and foreign press.

Arbenz had proclaimed the state of siege just before the outbreak of the revolt which forced his resignation on June 27. Cancellation of the order was expected to end permanently the all-night curfew and other military controls.

The ban on voting by illiterates struck at wide support which the Communists have whipped up among the uneducated peasantry. Under the 1945 Constitution which ex-President Juan Jose Arevalo and Arbenz sponsored, all men — literates and illiterates — over 18 and all literate women of that age could vote.

The new junta decree limited balloting to those able to read and write.

Girl Treated for Bruises After Being Hit by Car

Marylin M. Myers, 10, of 1359 Cass Lake Rd., suffered bruises Tuesday when she was hit by a car driven by Cecil C. Buttrey, 17, of 969 Emerson St., according to Pontia Police. She was treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Buttrey, according to police, was unable to stop when the girl walked out from behind a bus at Huron and Saginaw Sts.

State Agencies Hit by Williams

Governor Speaks Out for Integrated Policy at MSC Forum

He spoke as a member of a panel discussing the governorship at Mihcigan State College's Annual Forum on State and Local Government.

Noting the state now has 144 agencies, Williams said "I think that is a weakness in our government."

"I don't say," he continued, "we ought to have complete integration—14 or 15 agencies—but 30 or 40 would be good. In a more highly integrated government citizens know with whom to do business more easily."

He cited the highway department as a major state agency outside the chief executive's control—"an empire within an empire."

He said there hadn't been an audit of the department for a good many years until Aud. Gen. John B. Martin was elected. The number of state boards and the staggered terms of their members, Williams said, requires a governor to serve two terms before he can make enough appointments to put his policies into effect.

Lt. Gov. Clarence A. Reid denied that the legislature was too much involved in administrative matters. This was asserted by Prof. Joseph E. Kallenbach of the University of Michigan political science department.

Arguing the executive and the legislature are "entirely separate," Reid said "the governor has a veto power. He has in a few cases disagreed with the legislature. I think in most cases where he has vetoed a bill it has been a good thing."

Blank Cleaners 5-0 for 11th Victory in 13 Starts Tuesday

Defending champion Stadium Inn forged into a half-game lead in the City Men's Softball League race last night, blanking Drive-In Cleaners 5-0 for its 11th victory in 13 starts.

Ed McManus and John Helesik combined to limit the Cleaners to two singles. Only four D-I-C players reached base and none advanced past 1st.

General Motors took over 2nd place with a 4-0 triumph over Moose. Pitcher Verle Sheldon helped win his own game by collecting two of GMC's seven hits.

Third-place Birmingham Riteway had to go into an extra inning to eke out a 2-1 victory over 8th-place Forster Tool. Tom Stewart tripled and came home with the winning run on an outfield error in the top of the 8th inning.

Giants Lengthen NL Lead Against Dodgers

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sportswriter

One series, any major league manager will tell you, does not make a season, so why get so excited about the current set between the New York Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers?

But going into tonight's second game of the three-game series, the Giants were four-and-a-half games in front of the Brooks and if they go on to sweep the series, manager Walter Alston and his Brooklyn operatives will be up against a mighty tough problem in their quest for a third straight National pennant.

Consider the Brooks' plight:

1. The pitching has been wobbly and worse, only Bob Milliken among the relievers has been effective.

2. Their pinch hitters have been futile. In last night's 5-2 setback by the Giants, they loaded the bases with none out in the ninth only to have George Shuba and Rube Walker, two pinch hitters go down ignominiously.

3. They can't seem to shake the injury jinx. Pee Wee Reese, Roy Campanella and Jackie Robinson among the first-liners have been having miseries.

The Giants, on the other hand, are sitting pretty. They have confidence. They've had fantastic good fortune with pinch hitters. When they're behind, they don't worry. With relief pitchers like Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom, who took over for Sal Maglie last night in the ninth with none out and three men on base and got away unscathed, they have two firemen they can trust.

In last night's game, Al Dark, Willie Mays and Monte Irvin hit home runs, accounting for four of the Giants' runs. Starter Preacher Roe was the victim of two and reliever Bob Milliken one. Maglie weathered a two-run first inning, then settled down until he ran into trouble again in the ninth and required the services of Grissom to pull it out.

Two National League games produced shutouts. Gerry Staley blanked the Cincinnati Redlegs for the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0 and Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies whitewashed the Pittsburg Pirates, 3-0. In the other National League game, the Milwaukee Braves bombed the Chicago Cubs, 14-3.

The Cleveland Indians held to their three-and-a-half game lead over the New York Yankees in the American League. The Tribe plastered the Baltimore Orioles, 11-3, and the Yanks turned back the Boston Red Sox, 4-1.

Johnny Schmitz of the Washington Senators, also was stingy with the base hits, allowing the Philadelphia A's only a half-dozen. The Nats hung a 5-2 defeat on Eddie Joost's club.

Junior Rose Bowl Game Slated Dec. 11

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Pasadena Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Junior Rose Bowl football game Dec. 11.

Dick Hubbell, president of the chamber, in announcing the date, disclosed that last year's game between Bakersfield Junior College and Northeast Oklahoma A&M, won by Bakersfield, 13-6, grossed more than $100,000.

The money was allocated to recognized charities and to member schools of the conferences represented by the contesting teams at Pasadena.

Leo Eyes 104 Wins

Durocher Scoffs at Alston's Statement That Giants Will Have to Step Up Pace

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—Walter Alston, rookie manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, probably is the only person in baseball who thinks the rampaging New York Giants must win at a faster pace to win the National League pennant.

* * *

Including last night's 5-2 victory over the Dodgers, the Giants have won 53 games while losing only 25 for a .679 mark. They lead Brooklyn today by 4½ games. Still Alston thinks that unless the Giants "improve", the Dodgers will overtake them.

According to Leo Durocher, the effervescent Giant pilot, Alston remarked before last night's game between Brooklyn and New York that "if the Giants don't play better ball in the second half of the season than they played in the first half, we'll beat 'em for the flag."

* * *

"The Dodgers are bound to be much better from now on," Leo quoted Alston second-hand. "Roy Campanella can't possibly hit as poorly as he did in the first half of the season. Carl Furillo is finally beginning to hit like he did last year. And Don Newcombe is now pitching like he did before he went into the Army."

"So Alston thinks we'll have to play better from now on to win," Leo chortled. "I got news for Alston. You can tell him I'm tickled pink with the way the Giants have been going up to now. And I only hope we can do the same in the second half as we did in the first.

"We won 52 of our first 77 games," Durocher continued. "Unless my arithmetic is bad, if we do as well in the second half, we'll win 104 games. I'll take that right now. In fact, if I could be guaranteed that many victories by the end of the season, I'd put my uniform away until October 1 and go fishing. And let Alston do the worrying."

Four forfeits marred Tuesday's resumption of city junior league baseball following the holiday respite.

Some good pitching showed up among the 5 games that were played, however, with Whitey Larson and Joe Tinson turning in 1-hitters.

Rosebud Market tied for the lead in Class E by blanking Cass Ponts, 3-0, with Larson striking out 12 batters and yielding only a 6th inning single. Tinson tossed a 1-hit shutout at St. George in Class F as Lunsford Market won a 17-0 route.

Other Class F game was forfeited by Welden's to Boys Club Nationals. Other forfeits were Rochester to Mets in Class D, and among the Knotholers, Yankees to Boys Club, and Lytell's to the White Sox.

Nicholie Realty registered a Class D victory, 9-1, over Doris Skating Rink in a game cut to 5 innings by darkness. Don Daniel's triple sparked Nicholie's 5-run 3rd frame.

Oriole Knotholers won their 3rd straight game by downing the Red Sox, 8-3, on Staley's 2-hitter and 12 strikeouts, and Dick and Wes whipped the Indians, 10-4, with Lynn Johnston giving up only 4 hits.

Demaret Posts Even Par Card; Locke Has 74

Watrous Qualifies for Test by Scoring 150 Yesterday

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—Sam King, a one-time Kent farmer, equaled the competitive record for the Royal Birkdale Course today when he shot a 69 to take the early lead in the British Open Golf Championship's 1st round.

King, 1st man to finish the opening round, which began today, used only 29 putts on the 6,837 yard par 36-37—73 course by the Irish Sea.

The record of 69, breaking a mark which had stood 19 years, was set in yesterday's qualifying round by Tony Harman of England.

Toney Penna of Cincinnati, 1st of six Americans in the tournament, shot an opening round of 36-40—76.

Dapper Jimmy Demaret, his usual smile obscured by sneezes as he suffered a severe attack of hay fever, sank a 7-foot putt on the 18th green to complete an even par round of 36-37—73. Demaret took three strokes from the edge of the green on the 1st, 9th and 15th holes to mar a round that might have put him right on King's heels.

Bobby Locke of South Africa, British Open champion in 1949, 1950 and 1952, shot a 74. Argentina's Enrique Bertolino matched that score.

Penna was playing par golf until the 16th hole. There his drive landed in some sandhills. His 2nd was off line and the ball was lost. He then tried another shot from the sandhills, playing his 4th stroke, and this time he was short. He pitched up and took two putts for a seven.

Penna said he had been hitting the ball well and was in only one bunker. "This was my best round over here until that trouble on the 16th." Penna barely qualified with 151.

Toney had a birdie three on the 5th hole when he sank a 35-foot putt. Several times his long putts reached the lip on the cup but failed to drop. He three-putted the 6th and 13th holes.

Australia's Norman Van Nida set the pace yesterday in the tourney that saw three of the nine-man American delegation eliminated. Von Nida shot a 70-67—137 to set the low score in the qualifying round.

The Americans stayed close to the little Australian though as veteran Gene Sarazen of Germantown, N.Y., and amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio were tied for second place in the 36-hole qualifying round.

The 52-year-old Sarazen, winner of the International Senior pro championship last week, shot a 77-74—141. Stranahan also fired a 77-74—141.

Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N.Y., and Tony Penna of Cincinnati finished with 151 qualifying scores. The other American qualifiers were Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., with 148 and Al Watrous of Detroit with 150.

They play 18-hole rounds today and Thursday with the 50 best golfers going into the 36-hole final on Friday. First prize money is 750 pounds ($2,100).

3 Stakes Victories Included in String by Frank Ervin

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—It is going to be a long time before Frank Ervin, veteran driver out of Missouri, forgets July 6 at Historic Park.

* * *

Ervin put together five winners yesterday on the stake-studded Grand Circuit program. Included in his victories were triumphs in three stakes. He won the E. H. Harriman Challenge Trophy as K. D. Owen's Childs Hanover of Houston, Tex., hung up a new track record of 2:06 1-5 for 2-year-old trotters.

* * *

He also accounted for the Ladyship Stakes for 3-year-old pacing fillies with Phantom Lady from the Walnut Hall Farm of Donerail, Ky. and The Acorn 2-year-old trot with Wilda Hanover, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wehle of Scottsville, N.Y. His other two victories were in overnight races.

Gold Cup Race Loses Entries

Correlation, Determine and Imbros Withdrawn From Event

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — The $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup race July 17 has lost three top flight horses—Correlation, Determine and Imbros.

Determine, although he has campaigned steadily for a year, is going to Chicago for two $100,000 races, at Arlington July 17 and Washington Park, Aug. 21.

Imbros may run in the Equipoise Mile at Arlington July 21, and whether he goes depends upon the weight assigned him.

Trucks Trips Ex-Mates, 4-0, Almost Chalks Up No-Hitter

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — As the Detroit Tigers plunge perilously close to last place, all the talk is about inefficient pitching.

Tigers reached this low point yesterday when Virgil (Fire) Trucks, an ex-teammate, pitched an overpowering one-hitter to give the Chicago White Sox a 4-0 victory.

Only a 3rd inning single by Harvey Kuenn — a liner into short centerfield — kept the 35-year-old Alabaman from joining Bob Feller and Cy Young as the only pitchers in modern times to compile three no-hitters.

Trucks pitched two no - hitters for the Tigers in the 1952 season but won only five games all year and the Tigers traded him to the St. Louis Browns, who in turn sent him to Chicago.

Bill Tuttle, centerfield, .296.
Frank House, catcher, .295.
Ray Boone, 3rd base, .290.
Walt Dropo, 1st base, .269.
Harvey Kuenn, shortstop, .268.
Al Kaline, right field, .240.

What makes it doubly bad for the Tigers is that they've hit only 49 home runs to 67 for the opposition. Plainly, the long-ball strength is missing.

They submitted meekly to the fire-balling Trucks, who won his 11th game against five losses with his 2nd one-hitter of the season. He stopped Boston on May 1 with another one-hitter.

Chicago, which has a perfect 6-for - 6 record in Briggs Stadium this season, pecked away for single runs in the 2nd, 3rd, 4th and 5th innings.

Giardello Risks Almost Certain Crack at Title

Faces 'Upsetter' Billy Kilgore in 10-Rounder at Philadelphia

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

* * *

Giardello, third ranking 160 pound contender, tentatively has been promised a full crack at champion Carl (Bobo) Olson if the latter successfully defends his crown in his coming bout with Rocky Castellani. The Olson-Giardello bout would be Oct. 22.

* * *

But Giardello has to lick Kilgore and do it impressively. This Kilgore bout, to be televised nationally (CBS), is another in the series of "Forget Langlois" fights for the Philadelphia middleweight. Pierre Langlois recently took some of the shine off Joey with a good lacing in New York.

Since the Frenchman wouldn't go for a return bout, Giardello has been attempting to regain lost prestige against all-available opposition. He decisioned Bobby Jones several weeks ago and now hopes to use Kilgore as another step up to his pre-Langlois perch. He'll be a heavy favorite.

Giardello, winner of 50 fights while losing 11 with five draws, also would like to give himself an early birthday present. He'll be 24 on July 16.

* * *

Kilgore has a 27-15-4 record with recent wins over the faded Jake LaMotta, Jimmy Herring and Ernie Durando. He stopped Durando in nine. The 28-year-old native of Birmingham, Ala., has dropped close decisions to Walter Cartier and Hans Stretz. Last year he worked only twice, defeating Mickey Laurent and kayoing Nemos Solomon.

* * *

The bout, promoted by Herman Taylor in cooperation with the International Boxing Club of New York, will be decided on a rounds basis. There is no point system in Pennsylvania.

Canadian Club Gets All-America Dobbs

HAMILTON, Ont., July 7 (AP) — Glenn Dobbs, former Tulsa All-America, has been signed by Hamilton's Tiger-Cats of the Interprovincial Football Union and will report before the strat of the training season July 12.

The Dobber," one of the greatest triple threats in the game until injuries interfered with his play two seasons back and forced his release by Saskatchewan, Roughriders last season, is reported well and fit again and he is coming to Hamilton to make a place on the 1954 club like any other candidate.

Jets Forfeit Contest

Pontiac Jets lost sole possession of the City Class A Baseball League lead yesterday when they forfeited to Auburn Merchants. Only eight Jet players reported for the game. Forfeit enabled General Motors to move into a tie for 1st place.

More Than 300 in State Event

JACKSON (AP) — More than 300 golfers were scheduled to tee off in today's qualifying rounds of the annual Michigan Amateur Golf tournament.

Dick Norton, of Grand Rapids, runnerup in last year's Western Amateur, is one of the top challengers in the huge field fighting for the vacant title. Defending champion Reggie Myles Jr., of Lansing, is currently in the armed forces.

Qualifying rounds will continue through tomorrow when the field will be cut to 64. Survivors will begin match play Friday.

Remember?

This speedy tank star was a national champion during his collegiate days and should be well remembered by Pontiac area sports fans. His identity will be found on today's final sport page.

Cincinnati Redleg rookie pitcher Art Fowler comes from a large family. He has five brothers and four sisters.

More Second Basemen Have Been Good Hitters Than Players at Any Other Infield Positions

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK — Just why does 2nd base feature more batting stars than any other spot in the infield?

It has not only happened that way in past seasons, but it happens to be that way today. Looking back into the past, you have Lou Gehrig and George Sisler on first base with Bill Terry close, in all-time company. At shortstop you have Honus Wagner—period.

At 3rd you have Pie Traynor and Jimmy Johnston. There are only one or two stars who stand out in hitting and fielding at these three infield locations.

* * *

But 2nd base is loaded. Among others we have Eddie Collins, Nap Lajoie, Rogers Hornsby, Charley Gehringer, Frank Frisch and Johnny Evers—all of these Hall of Famers. The first five are all brilliant, hard hitters and great infielders.

As a starter we'll give you Granny Hamner of the Phillies and Roberto Gonzalez Avila of the Indians. Both men have been hitting over .360 most of the season.

After this we come to Red Schoendienst of the Cardinals—a fine 2nd baseman and one of the best hitters in both leagues. He hit for .342 last year and he has been around .340 most of this season. He is probably the best all-around 2nd baseman in the game today.

Then there are Nellie Fox of the White Sox and Junior Gilliam of the Dodgers. Dan O'Connell is still another in the upper ranks.

There are more good 2nd basemen in both big leagues this season than there are good 1st basemen, shortstops and 3rd basemen combined.

The throw from 2nd to 1st is of course much shorter than the longer heave from short or 3rd. But the main asset of the 2nd basemen seems large a matter of hitting.

From past to present at 2nd you have hard, consistent hitters as Hornsby, Collins, Lajoie, Frisch, Gehringer, Avila, Schoendeinst, Hamner, all .340 to .380 hitters.

Strong NL All-Stars Seek 5th Straight Victory

CINCINNATI (AP)—The National League All-Stars go after their fifth straight victory next week at Cleveland with one of the best all-around crews in the history of the classic.

"I think this is the strongest squad the National League has has ever had," said President Warren Giles today. "I think we'll make it five straight."

* * *

Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers, manager of the Nationals, and Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees, pilot of the America All-Stars, announced their pitching selections yesterday and rounded out their rosters with additions to all positions.

The National League bullpen will be crowded with stars Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, Gene Conley of Milwaukee, Marvin Grissom of New York, all righties, and Warren Spahn of Milwaukee, Harvey Haddix of St.Louis and Johnny Antonelli of New York, the southpaw. Antonelli has the best record, 12-2.

The nine American League hurlers, including two lefthanders, have posted 80 wins and 38 losses. They are lefties Dean Stone of Washington and Whitey Ford of the Yankees, and righties Mike Garcia and Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Bob Keegan and Virgil Trucks of the Chicago White Sox, Bob Porterfield of Washington, Allie Reynolds of the Yanks and Bob Turley of Baltimore.

* * *

Added to that aggregation by Alston, with the advice of New York's Leo Durocher and Milwaukee's Charley Grimm were:

Catchers Smoky Burgess, Philadelphia, and Del Crandell, Milwaukee; infielders Gil Hodges and Pee Wee Reese, Brooklyn; Red Schoendienst, St.Louis, and Ransom Jackson, Chicago; and outfielders Don York; Gus Bell, Cincinnati, and Frank Thomas, Pittsburgh.

Alston's own Bums head the list numerically with six Dodgers, followed by the Giants with five, St. Louis four, three each from Philadelphia and Milwaukee, two Cincinnati and one Cub and one Pirate.

* * *

The American League leads in the classic with 12 wins in 20 games, but the National Leaguers have won the last four encounters, a tie for the record.

Yewcic Homers in 1st Eastern League Game

Tom Yewcic, recently signed ex-Michigan State College baseball catcher and football quarterback, smacked a homer in his 1st appearance Monday to help Wilkes Barre to a 4-3 Eastern League win over Williamsport.

Glynn Credits Practice, Lopez for New Power

Cleveland 1st Sacker Adds Homer, 2 Singles in Rout of Orioles

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland first baseman Bill Glynn credits a lot of extra batting practice and a helpful tip on balance from his manager for the new home-run power that makes him "feel like a hitter now."

* * *

The 28-year-old Franklin, N.J., lead-off man started an 11-run Tribe rally in the first inning of last night's 11-3 victory over Baltimore by hammering a Joe Coleman pitch more than 400 feet to clear the right-center field fence. He also hit two singles in his four times up, driving home two more runs.

In Detroit Monday Glynn whacked three home runs in three tries off three different pitchers—Ralph Branca, Ted Gray and Dick Weik. The first round-tripper was Glynn's initial grand-slam swat, and it carried into the upper right field deck.

"Hitting one upstairs like that gave me a big lift," said Glynn, whose teammates currently call him "Babe" instead of the usual "McPug."

* * *

"A tip Al (Lopez) gave me just before I hit that first one in Detroit probably is the answer. Al said he noticed I'd been lunging at the ball—shifting my weight (195 pounds) too soon. He showed me what I'd been doing. Next time up I followed his advice and hit that first homer."

During the current home stand, Glynn said, he has "taken a lot of extra batting practice," adding: "Red Kress was out there throwing to us almost every day."

Easily the fanciest fielder the Tribe has had at first base in years, Glynn was benched most of the time from April 25 until last Friday because he's regarded as a light hitter.

WIND DELAYS SWIM—Personable Winnie Roach, (above) Canada's 28-year-old St. Thomas, Ont. swimmer, was held up today in her attempt to swim the Catalina Channel. Winnie was ready to make the attempt but high winds failed to subside enough so the channel would quiet down. She will try Thursday, conditions permitting, to beat Florence Chadwick's mark of 13 hours and 47 minutes for the 22-mile crossing.

Walled Lake Tigers Hold Little Loop Lead

Walled Lake Tigers are in 1st place as the Walled Lake Little League begins the second half of its baseball season. Glengarry Yanks are in 2nd place, followed by the Union Lake Indians and the Wixom Orioles.

Tigers will play off with the winner of the 2nd half of the season for the championship next month.

Braves Nearing Million Figure

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE, July 7 (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves will hit the million mark in home attendance the next time they play at County Stadium, but it appeared today that the two million goal for the season may be tough.

* * *

The club had 36 dates in the book and 965,006 paid admissions in the till when it left on its present road trip. The mid-season total was far and away the best in either major league, the New York Giants trailing by some 300,000 with 626,602 in the National and Cleveland and Baltimore running neck and neck with 666,536 and 661,746, respectively, in the American.

* * *

The first million for the Braves is a cinch on the first night of the next home stand. The Brooklyn Dodgers, who drew 70,912 in their only two previous appearances here this year, are due in for a make-up game July 14 and will undoubtedly pull the necessary 34,994 fans.

Fain May Be Lost for Rest of Season

DETROIT, July 7 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, still reeling from a four-game trimming by first-first-place Cleveland last weekend, learned Tuesday first baseman Ferris Fain may be lost for the rest of the season.

Fain and third baseman George Kell are out of the Sox lineup because of injured right knees. Kell may be sidelined a month.

* * *

This will be Olson's tuneup bout before he defends his title in a 15-rounder with Rocky Castellani at the San Francisco Cow Palace Aug. 20. And among the interested spectators tonight will be Castellani himself. The Cleveland, Ohio, boxer is to participate in the official signing ceremonies tomorrow.

* * *

Olson boosters think his devastating body attack will slow up Gonzales. Last month in his native Honolulu, Bobo stopped Jesse Turner of St.Louis with that kind of mauling.

* * *

Olson is expected to weigh about 165 pounds for the non-title go. The bout will not be televised. The match will start at approximately 10 p.m. (midnight, EST).

Hardtop 'Twin Bill' Slated at Speedway

Area hardtop fans have a "double header" in store at the Pontiac M-59 Speedway tonight. In addition to the regular 9-event program, topped by a 25-lap feature race, an extra 15-lap semi and 25-lap feature will be held.

The "bonus" races are those rained out at the track last Friday. They will open the program at 8:30 p.m., following qualifications at 7 o'clock. The regularly scheduled portion of the card follows.

Lloyd Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates made 223 hits in his first season in the major leagues (1927). This is a record for first-year players.

Golfer Can Increase Fun in Game by Using Spoon

By SAM SNEAD

Spoon Shots

I use the spoon more than I do the two-wood, or brassie, but that's because my drives are usually long enough so that I don't need excessive distance on my second shots. And, the weekend golfer can increase his fun in the game of golf by using the spoon, too.

Your No. 3 wood can save a lot of worry if you can poke that fairway shot onto the green, or at least close to it, more often than not. The important thing to remember about the spoon shot is that your club should hit the ball before the clubhead passes the low point in your swing.

To do this play the ball back a bit more toward the right foot. Take a stance with your toes pointing slightly outward, but don't spread your feet too far apart because you are liable to lose balance as you swing. Since the spoon is shorter than the driver or brassie, stand closer to the ball and make a more upright swing.

Although the ball will go farther with a three wood than with irons, don't force your swing. Swing easily with your spoon and you will be surprised at how far and how straight that ball will fly.

Court Orders Fine Refunded to 'Brat'

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 7 (AP)—The Dauphin County Court Tuesday ordered the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission to return a $3,000 fine levied against Johnny Bratton, New York City welterweight.

President Judge Paul G. Smith ruled that the commission "failed to comply with the mandatory provisions of the administrative agency law" and that the commission "is not supported by substantial and legally credible evidence."

Orioles' Catcher Makes Unassisted Double Play

BALTIMORE (AP) — When catcher Clint Courtney of the Orioles made an unassisted double play against the Yankees on June 2 it was only the 38th such play by a catcher in major league history.

It happened this way. With Irv Noren on third and Bob Grim at the plate, the batter attempted a squeeze bunt on the third strike. He missed the ball for the strike. out and Noren was tagged out at home.

'Bullheads' Make Fine Eating

By JACK PATTERSON

When Lt. Robert Oliver, Jr. was here recently on a flight from Mather A.F.B., California, he spent the weekend at the family cottage at Elizabeth Lake Noting some fishermen trolling near the dock, he asked them what they were catching. "Trout" was the reply. Bob decided he'd go along with the gag and asked to see them. When they held up a nice string of rainbows, he nearly fell in the lake.

PATTERSON

"My gosh" said Bob, "I had to go to California to catch my first trout and now I get home and find people catching them in my own front yard". Seems as though fishing, like gold, is where you find it.

We hadn't given much thought to bullheads, lately, until we ran into Clarence Knechtel, squire of Commerce Township's Pitch-Haven Farm. Some of his guests put the recent holiday weekend to good purpose by hauling out a goodly supply of the local representatives of the catfish tribe.

Clarence declares, and we'll go along with him, that despite their rather awesome appearance, no finer eating fish comes from local waters than the common bullhead.

John Birkhold of Royal Oak passes along information that bluegill fishing in the lakes around Frankfort is little short of fabulous. According to John the fishermen's conscience and the game laws are the only obstacles to filling a boat with big bluegills in jig time. Nightcrawlers continue to be the preferred bait.

We're long-time believers in beginners' luck, except, perhaps, at water skiing, and are always glad to find tangible support for the theory. Howard Figzgerald, reports that on a recent trip to Quebec's Mosie River, several better than 30 pound salmon were taken by first-time anglers. Many fishermen try unsuccessfully for years to get over the magic 30 mark, so, you see?

We haven't had a chance, as yet, to try out the new Winchester autoloading shotgun, but our Ann Arbor assistant, Bob Patterson, gave one a workout on the skeet range over the weekend. Fits well, handles nicely, is light on recoil and is a natural pointer, says Bob, which is high praise from him because he's a double man and has little truck with guns that employ whirring, clanging machinery.

Somehow we got off on guns and gunning and we should report that the upland gunner is likely in for a rougher season this year. Sharptails and prairie chickens will undoubtedly be on the closed list in the L. P. and ruffed grouse appear to be scarcer than they've been in the last few years.

It's a little too early to tell what effect the heavy spring rains had on the pheasant crop. Don't throw away the scattergun, though. A "poor" year in Michigan is better than "good" years in many another state, and early estimates are not always 100 per cent accurate.

FOUNDLINGS — Thomas O'Laughlin, Jr., of St. Paul, Minn., poses with 6 of his charges which, he estimates, are about 6 weeks old. Though the little animals look cute enough to cuddle, there is a good reason why O'Laughlin keeps his distance, for the pups happen to be coyotes. They have already developed a sharp set of teeth and must be handled with gloves. They will be given distemper shots, then placed on view for campers at Gold Portage Camp, which O'Laughlin owns.

County Anglers Can Still Get in 'Big Fish Derby'

Race for 1954 Honors Is Wide Open in All Divisions

Because this is mid-summer, there is no reason for Oakland County fishermen to let up in their efforts to capture one (or more) of the three big awards in the 1954 Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby."

Fishing is still very good on the myriad lakes in this commonwealth. Every weekend nice catches of bass, bluegill and pike are reported. The big ones are still there, as witness the latest leaders in the three-way contest.

Dick Roach of 2990 Pontiac Trail landed a one-pound-10 ounce bluegill on June 16 that went 11½ inches in length. It was taken on a bass fly, a method that certainly gives the angler a lot of fun. Of course these tough fighters can be taken on the time-honored gob of worms as well as many other types of lures.

Top black bass, a small-mouth specimen that weighed 5 pounds and 9 ounces, was taken by Pontiac's Almon R. Austin on June 25 at Watkins Lake. It was 23 inches long and grabbed a jitterbug lure.

James Sherrod of Oxford netted the biggest northern pike in the current contest, so far. Sherrod's prize was a 10-pound-13-ounce lunker, taken from Tan Lake, near Oxford early in June.

Derby continues through Labor Day.

Angered Rabbit Goes 'Berserk' in Saginaw

Boys' Pet Attacks Neighbor Child and Grandfather

SAGINAW (AP) — A serene-looking little white rabbit went berserk the other day.

The furry animal, owned by young Fred Niemeyer, fled from his backyard pen to a neighbor's yard. There, without provocation, he bit six-year-old Penney Bates on both legs.

Penney's grandfather, Edward Jones, responded to the child's cries. He chased the rabbit until he caught it, then booted it through the air for nearly 20 feet. Whereupon the seemingly mad hare charged Jones.

The grandfather was dodging the rabbit's wild lunges like an adept bullfighter when the Niemeyer boy's mother and an onlooker came to the rescue. They seized the angry animal and returned it to its pen, pending a test for rabies. Penney was taken to a hospital for treatment.

Mrs. Niemeyer explained the rabbit's action by saying:

Plant Killers to Aid Wildlife

Will Be Used to Thin Dense Vegetation, Give Game 'Elbow Room'

LANSING—After several years of testing, conservation department game division workers announce they are now ready to begin use of a new wildlife management tool on a field operation basis, one that holds important promise of advancing Michigan game work.

Chemical plant killers, long used to remove weeds, poison ivy and other obnoxiuos growths along highway and powerline rights-of-way, will now be used to develop and maintain openings in areas where thickly growing brush, weeds and trees have already cut down wildlife habitat or where such growths are now threatening game abundance.

Michigan has large areas of both open land and heavy timber, but in too many cases, the open country and the timber are found in cencentrated blocks. The chemical sprays will create enough openings to give game more elbow room.

Killdeer Using Popular Beach as Nesting Site

An intrepid—or crazy—killdear has spent the last two weeks raising her family on Kent Lake beach in Island Lake recreation area, manager Roy Russell reports.

The little shorebird seemingly was not bothered by the thousands of visitors that trampled past her nest. The beach is one of the most popular available in the southeastern Michigan area.

Symbol of Fire Prevention Becoming Children's Idol

LANSING — Comic books, athletic heroes and movie-land cowboys had all better look to their laurels or Smokey Bear, that woodland buffoon with the serious message about forest fire prevention, is liable to cop top popularity honors among the young fry.

Smokey, it appears, is rapidly building up an ardent following of youngsters. His popularity with the younger set is indicated by the wide variety of toys, novelties, and wearing apparel being sold these days as part of the national forest fire prevention campaign.

Balloons, books, calendars, handkerchiefs, hats, songs, tee-shirts, puzzles, milk mugs and about a dozen other types of items bearing the Smokey Bear theme now are sold commercially in the United States.

Game Protector Saves Life of Drowning Deer

Driving by Green River, Ross saw a familiar-looking object in the water and stopped. It was the nose of a mature buck trapped under water by a tangled grapevine.

Ross stripped, swam to the deer, and dragged it out of the river and into his car. He left the deer at a nearby farmhouse and reported happily that after a few hours' warming up the buck was able to get on its feet.

When Cleveland Indian pitcher Art Houtteman was hurling for Detroit in 1950 he led the American League in shutouts. Ironically, he also allowed the most home runs the same year.

Today's Identity

Possibly the finest swimmer in Pontiac High School history, this free style ace won national championship honors at 50 and 100 yards and in 1945 was named the NCAA's "swimmer of the year." He's Merton Church as he appeared as a sophomore at Michigan in 1943.

$480,000 Added to Belmont Stake Cash

NEW YORK, July 7 (AP)—Belmont Park Tuesday added two new stakes to its fall racing program, boosting to 15 the number of stakes races for the 25-day meeting opening Sept. 22.

The added money for the flat stakes totals $480,000 and when the regular steeplechasing events are announced later the total will exceed half a million dollars.

First Tuna Reported

Reports from Wedgeport, N. S. indicate that the northward moving tuna have now reached that area, one of the most favored tuna-fishing areas of the world. Wedgeport is the site of the annual international tuna tournament.

Anglers Find 'Chasing Fish' Calls for License

CLINTON, Iowa (AP)—You've got to have a license to chase fish as well as catch them in Iowa.

Owen Morehead and Herb Ivey were each fined $10 and costs in Municipal Court here. They had been arrested by Conservation Officer Howard Lovrien while they were with a party spearing fish in the Mississippi River.

The two men argued that they weren't trying to catch fish themselves, but were only driving the fish toward the spear holders.

The judge ruled that the men's actions constituted illegal "pursuit" of fish, since they had no fishing licenses.

Shirai Boxes Argentine

TOKYO (AP)—World flyweight boxing champion Yoshio Shirai will fly to Argentina Saturday to meet Pasqual Perez of Argentina in a non-title fight July 24, it was announced today.

Anglers Can Make Automatic Scaler

LANSING—Here's a new wrinkle for fishermen who are always so successful that their arms get tired scaling the fish they catch.

All you have to do is round off the square end so it fits in the drill socket, fit it in the drill socket and then go catch some fish to scale.

Pontiac Man Acquires Field Champion Beagle

Lindsay last week purchased Eberle's Buddy II, a 6-year-old beagle, from Earl Kopp of Watertown, Wisconsin. "Buddy" already has sired one field champion, Hickory Lawn Brownie.

Angler Gets a Hoot

MONETT, Mo. (AP) — Using a top-water bait while bass fishing at night, Ted Strecker got a terrific strike. There was a lot of commotion on the water as Strecker reeled in. He caught an owl which had mistaken the bait for a swimming mouse.

Angered Rabbit Goes 'Berserk' in Saginaw
Boys' Pet Attacks Neighbor Child and Grandfather
SAGINAW (AP) — A serene-looking little white rabbit went berserk the other day.
The furry animal, owned by young Fred Niemeyer, fled from his backyard pen to a neighbor's yard. There, without provocation, he bit six-year-old Penney Bates on both legs.
Penney's grandfather, Edward Jones, responded to the child's cries. He chased the rabbit until he caught it, then booted it through the air for nearly 20 feet. Whereupon the seemingly mad hare charged Jones.
The grandfather was dodging the rabbit's wild lunges like an adept bullfighter when the Niemeyer boy's mother and an onlooker came to the rescue. They seized the angry animal and returned it to its pen, pending a test for rabies. Penney was taken to a hospital for treatment.
Mrs. Niemeyer explained the rabbit's action by saying:

People Turn to Religious Theme Films

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The trend toward religious plays has never been as great as it is right now. I believe that's because the condition of the world is so frightening and people are turning more and more to prayer and spiritual help.

I've just heard that Jack Warner has handed one of his staff writers a copy of Lloyd C. Douglas' novel, "Forgive Us Our Trespasses," to write a screen treatment. This is the story of a newspaper man who finds God.

Douglas' books, which all have a religious note, are getting a big play, what with "The Robe," the remake of "Magnificent Obsession," Columbia's scheduled epic based on "The Big Fisherman," and now "Forgive Us Our Trespasses."

The boy who played the young honeymooner in "The High and the Mighty," John Smith, has picked up another good job. He'll have the romantic lead in "We're No Angels" with Humphrey Bogart at Paramount, and he'll have Mike Curtiz as his director and Pat Duggan as his producer.

John is the young man Joseph Schenck invited to meet his niece, Nicola Schenck, and after that Nicky and Smith had several dates.

About that John Smith name — no, it isn't his real one. He was born Robert Van Orden, but when he took up a movie career he decided it would be a novelty to take the most common name of all.

If this is possible, Edward Arnold might play the Churchill part. He's been contacted by the British company.

Churchill's mother, Jenny Randolph, was an American, so it isn't as strange as it might seem to have an American play the one and only cigar-smoking Winnie, England's most popular statesman.

The best letter writer I know is Rock Hudson, who lets me hear from him with pleasant regularity. In his last letter he says that in the cast of "Captain Lightfoot," now being made in Dublin, is Lord and Lady Mount Charles, of Slane Castle.

The wardrobe girl asked her ladyship what kind of costume jewelry she wished to wear. Lady Mount Charles smiled and said that perhaps it wouldn't be necessary to borrow the costume jewelry because she could use her own.

Whereupon she opened her purse and took out the most fabulous array of diamonds and emeralds, which were easily worth a half a million.

"Will these do?" she asked politely.

Carl Brisson has asked for the Scandinavian rights to his son Freddie's Broadway hit "Pajama Game" for stage production, and young Brisson and his partners have agreed to the deal.

At the moment, Carl and his wife are vacationing in the Virgin Islands — really more of a recuperation than a vacation for Carl, who was very ill several months ago.

Speaking of "Pajama Game," Freddie has received many movie offers — one as high as $750,000 — but he and his backers are holding out for one million.

Maddy Planning to Expand Camp

Director of Interlochen Group Wants All-Year Music Study

INTERLOCHEN (UP) — Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder and director of the National Music Camp, today disclosed a long range expansion plan for the 700-acre camp, including establishment of a year-around program he said will "revolutionize" musical training.

The announcement follows recent threats by Maddy to move the camp from its present location — possibly out of the state — if a proposed jet base eight miles away proves "too noisy."

Maddy revealed he hopes to winterize the camp so some students can train for a full year. The camp now operates only three months a year.

"If we could operate year-around it would revolutionize development of musical skills," Maddy said. "A student just out of high school would be able to put in a full year developing skills before going to college. After 20 years of age it is hard to develop the basic skills.

"By making this a year-around camp we can give the nation's young musicians more incentive to further their musical training."

The camp, beginning its 27th year, has 1,600 students this summer.

Maddy said he hopes to be able to handle 300 students during the winter months. He said the winterization plan would take "about five years."

Maddy said he expects the full-year plan to meet with enthusiastic support from educational leaders.

One of the first projects in the long-range expansion program is construction of an 800-seat opera building. Maddy said the building would be finished by September.

Republicans to Meet

LAPEER — The Lapeer County Republican convention to elect delegates to the state convention in August will be held August 12, it has been announced.

UF Members to Consider Curb on Single Drives

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A by-law change aimed primarily at reducing the number of separate drives by community charitable agencies will be considered at a meeting of the general membership of the Farmington-area United Fund and Community Chest organization tomorrow night.

The proposed amendment reads, in part: ". . . Participating agencies will not conduct a drive for funds from the general public and will report all sums received from other sources . . ."

It states further that funds given to the campaign fund but earmarked for a specific agency would be deducted from the agency's share of the total United Fund and Community Chest collection.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Farmington Town Hall.

U. S.-Owned Wheat Sold in Special Plan

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Agriculture Department reports that 48 and one-third million bushels of government-owned wheat have been sold under a special export program.

The special program was begun in early December, and has boosted wheat exports which dropped drastically under the International Wheat Agreement, in the marketing year which ended June 30.

Wheat sold under the special program at competitive world price cannot be listed against the export quota set up for the United Sates by the Internaional Wheat Agreement, nor can importing countries count this wheat as part of their IWA quotas.

By the end of June, the world wheat pact had accounted for the sale of only 105 million bushels of U. S. wheat in one year. The original U. S. quota for the year has been 210 million bushels.

Hits High Taxes on Cigarettes

Tobacco Expert Says Key to More Exports Is Lower Foreign Levy

WASHINGTON (INS) — One of the nation's top tobacco experts says the key to greater export sales of American tobacco is a reduction of foreign taxes on the product which is the life blood of many southern farmers.

George W. Thomas, former director of the Foreign Agricultural Service's Tobacco and Tropical Products Division, explains that the most important single factor in limiting consumption of American cigarettes abroad is their high cost.

Thomas, now a tobaco company executive in Raleigh, S. C., adds that high retail prices for cigarettes generally are a direct result of high tax rates.

The former Agriculture Department official points out that in most nations, other than those having tobacco monopolies, duties and taxes combined represent from 50 to 85 per cent of the retail price.

He cites the United Kingdom as an example — and says in that country tobacco revenues are obtained almost entirely from import duties on unmanufactured tobacco.

These revenues, says Thomas, represent about 83 per cent of the retail price of cigarettes.

Thomas lists Italy, France and Sweden as nations that have tobacco monopolies instead of import duties or taxes.

He says the monopolies — which are, in effect, taxes — represent roughly 75 per cent of the retail price on cigarettes.

Thomas explains that duties and taxes on tobacco are steady, relatively easy to collect, and reliable sources of government income. He says they are of major importance in most European countries, and in several Far Eastern nations.

He notes, however, that in some cases tax rates on tobacco have been raised to such a height that total revenues to governments have been reduced. Thomas calls Canada an example of this.

He says that following an increase in cigarette taxes in Canada in April, 1951, the average retail price for a pack rose from about 38 cents to 42 cents. In the following fiscal year, consumption declined almost 14 per cent, and revenues decreased despite the rise in taxes.

To meet this crisis, Canada had to lower its taxes on cigarettes in April, 1952 — cutting the price per pack by about five cents. Once again consumption boomed.

Don't Forget Conventions When Citing Travel Woes

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

CHARLESTON, W. Va. INS — One major motoring hazard innocent tourists aren't alerted to half enough is conventions — regional or national.

We had our first head-on collision with one at the Daniel Boone Hotel here, but my sons and I were able to walk away from the crash, not only unscathed, but with a happy surprise for the payoff.

We had entered West Virginia about 120 miles back, at White Sulphur Springs where, our travel guide says, a pleasure-seeking group of four could spend an entire day and night at the famous Greenbrier Hotel for $136 to $192 — meals tossed in but tips extra.

We may be the stingy type but we passed up the chance at higher than the legal speed limit, and proceeded along winding Route 60 through contrasts that made me nickname this surprising area, "The Paradox State."

We'd see sheep and short-horns grazing and then see coal mines and factories; we'd smell new cut meadows and then smell sulphur and chemicals; we followed the Kanawha River with glorious mountains rising from it and slum shanties clinging like warts and stinkweed to their base.

It was evening when we finally got to Charleston and its magnifgicent state capitol; we had dinner at King's, where the waitress sets down demitasses of strong hot coffee before she takes your order.

Then we decided to push on no further that night, and went to the Daniel Boone, an air-conditioned, modern hotel. Crash!

The lobby was thick with laughing, talking, be-badged men and women; large banners told us we'd barged in on 1,000 delegates of the Midwest sector of "SOYO"—and I say, "Oh, beans."

"Soyo" stands for the Syrian Orthodox Youth Organization, and a grand ball and contest to elect the "SOYO" beauty queen was in full swing.

By this time, however, it was nearly 10, and alternate housing situations unknown to us. At the desk, we rejoiced when the room clerk said he still had two rooms vacant, pushed a registration card at me and crooked his finger at a bellboy.

"This noise," I said, "should die down around midnight, wouldn't you guess?"

That's where the surprise was sprung. For he firmly shook his head for no. "There'll be no sleep for anybody in this hotel tonight," he said. "There never is with conventions — no matter whose."

The bellboy was waiting but our new-found guardian went right on guarding. "I've done lots of touring myself, and I know how beat up a sleepless night leave you. Maybe it's bad business to talk this way, but there are some fine new motels about 20 miles further on."

"Bad business!" I said. "I bet for the rest of my days I'll never forget the Daniel Boone Hotel of Charleston."

In the lovely quiet that fell on us beyond the city limits, I mused about another paradox — by not "giving us the business," our guardian had proved himself the best business type of all.

This summer, I've just learned, Hot Springs, Ark., is scheduled for 17 conventions, Alburquerque for 31, Atlantic City for 135, Indianapolis for 250, my own home town of New York for 717, and hundreds of other cities for their full share.

Fun, frolic, and profat are involved in wholesale quantities, I know. But couldn't there be some new road signals or skywriting to alert all un-conventional vacationers about what they're heading straight into?

Gets 60-Day Sentence for Leaving Accident

A Walled Lake youth was sentenced to 60 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick for leaving the scene of an accident June 24.

Samuel Spencer, 20, of 200 Willow Camp, pleaded guilty June 28 to striking a three-year-old boy with his car and then fleeing. He was also placed on two years probation and assessed $200 costs.

It is now predicted there will be 50 million television receiving sets in use in United States homes by 1958.

Auto Industry Is Having Fine Year

Wheat Strong in Big Pickup

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat shot up several cents on the board of trade today following the largest overnight flour business in about two years. Feed grains barely held steady while soybeans dropped.

Gains in wheat at the opening ranged to nearly six cents, the September contract leading. Part of the extreme advance was quickly given up but wheat remained strong in highly active dealings. Mills were big buyers with selling coming from traders, who had been on the long side of the market.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1⅞ to 3¼ higher, July $2.02⅝, corn ½ lower to ¼ higher, July $1.58¾, oats ⅛ lower to ⅜ higher, July 72, rye ¼ to ⅝ higher, July $1.03½, soybeans 2 to 5¾ lower, July $3.76¾ and lard 5 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $15.80.

Profits Shrink on Retail Sales

Slight Spurt Could Give Manufacturers Third Best Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE

Associated Press Automotive Ed.

DETROIT (AP) — Despite widespread early apprehensions, the auto industry appears certain to make 1954 one of its better years in production and retail deliveries.

Profits probably will be smaller for many of the more than 40,000 retailers throughout the country. Some dealers even will lose heavily in the final totaling up of the year's business.

The industry built 2,958,000 passenger cars and 559,000 trucks in the first half of 1954. Figures on retail deliveries still are wholly unofficial.

But it is a reasonable assumption, based on a comprehensive survey of the leading marketing areas, that 1954 will be the industry's fourth best year. Just a modest spurt could make it third best.

Most industry analysts say the year's July-December period will bring another 2,300,000 cars from the assembly lines. The present third best year in industry records was 1951 when 5,338,435 cars and 1,426,000 trucks were built.

Truck production, cut down sharply by the cancellation of numerous defense contracts, will break no records this year. But the condition of the market generally is appraised by the volume of passenger car deliveries.

A recent Associated Press survey indicates sales volume is being maintained but that most buyers expect—and get—bargain prices. This comes, usually, through high trade-in allowances and free accessories or other expense-saving deals like free insurance for a year.

Few instances were reported where dealers complained of being overloaded by their factories. To some extent at least this results from factory assurance that production during the remainder of the current model year will be geared closely to retail requirements.

More car buyers than ever are taking delivery at the factory and the manufacturers are encouraging the practice. Most car companies have set up facilities for making delivery to customers who want to save freight charges.

The actual saving, of course, is not as great as appears at first impression. Reducing it is transportation to the factory city, frequently for the customer and his family, and lodging and fuel costs for the trip home.

Dealers in sections distant from the factory are promoting the plan. In many instances they offer price reductions to the customer taking factory delivery.

In another gimmick to promote new car sales several manufacturers have initiated sales contests among their dealers. In these contests cash bonuses or extra discount allowances — in some instances up to $200 per car—are offered for the sale of a certain number of cars.

Most manufacturers have some such arrangement, although they do not all call them "bonus contests." In many instances the dealer passes the extra cash allowance on to his salesmen.

Actress Models in 'Three Steps'

Has to Learn Tricks of Posing; Lives in Village in New York City

NEW YORK — Like most little girls, Kathleen Maguire decided in early childhood that she wanted to be an actress; but unlike most little girls, she never outgrew the idea.

Many aspiring actresses do a little modeling along the way but Kathleen never even gave it a thought until she was cast in this role and had to learn standard tricks of posing, including the stance described as "standing at right angles to oneself."

The brown-haired, blue-eyed actress was born in New York City. Although no member of her family ever had had any theatrical ambitions or associations, Kathleen began acting in school productions—at St. Lawrence Academy in New York—and later at Marymount College in Tarrytown, N.Y.

She became so interested in acting that she left college after two years to study acting at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York and dancing with Martha Graham.

She toured with Sylvia Sidney in Joan of Lorraine and made her Broadway debut in Sundown Beach. Her video debut was in one of the ANTA series produced by Fred Coe who cast her for a lead despite her lack of TV experience.

She continued to tour between stage and TV assignments, playing in summer stock in Newbury, Mass., and Clinton, N.J. She appeared in the road companies of Harvey and Come Back, Little Sheba, and appeared on Broadway again in Cry of the Peacock.

Graft Heart, Lung in Surgery

Experimental Operation May be Relief for One Kind of Coronary Ill

SEATTLE, Wash. (INS) — An experimental operation in which a lung is grafted to the heart is being considered in Seattle today as possible relief for one kind of heart trouble.

The lung is sutured to the beating heart in the operation. The lung then sends new blood vessels into the heart, providing the heart a new source of blood.

This "sprouting" of new blood vessels was likened to the way a garden cutting sends out new roots.

The operation is considered a possible relief for coronary heart disease, in which the supply of blood reaching the heart is cut down because the coronary vessels become plugged with deposits from the blood stream.

One such operation already has been performed successfully by a Seattle doctor, who asked that his name not be used. It is called a "kardiopnewmopexy" or heart-lung graft.

If continued research justifies adoption of the technique, medicine will have a new approach to the problem of coronary heart disease, which kills 225,000 persons a year in the United States.

Although it is still in the experimental stage, the operation brought a special grant from the Washington State Heart Association to continue laboratory investigations.

A colleague of the research surgeon said:

"This could be a terrific advance in heart surgery, or it could be a terrific flop. It is too early to say yet."

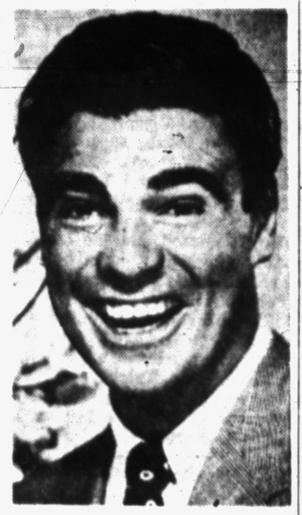
TV Writers Meet to Set Strike Date

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Executive Board of the Television Writers of America says it will meet tonight to set a strike date unless the TV networks grant a union shop and make a satisfactory offer for scripts.

Negotiations between TWA and the three networks have been under way since October 1953. Union officials say the networks and TWA still are far apart on minimum scales for scripts.

The union seeks $715 for a half-hour commercial show, $500 for a half-hour sustaining show and $425 for a half-hour sustaining adaptation. TWA says the network offers $425, $345 and $215 respectively.

Air extends 100 miles above the earth's surface.



BERT'S BACK — Ebullient Bert Parks, pioneer emcee in such classics as "Double or Nothing" and "Stop the Music," returns to the television screens as host of a video quiz "Two in Love." The weekly show's format revolves around the romances of engaged and married couples, and made its debut recently.

Eleven County Men Admitted to State Bar

Eleven Oakland County men were admitted to the Michigan State Bar yesterday in an hour-long ceremony before Circuit Judges George B. Hartrick and Frank L. Doty.

Both judges spoke briefly at the ceremony and Pontiac attorney Carl A. Ingraham, chairman of the qualifications and admissions committee of the State Bar, acted as master of ceremonies.

Those admitted include James L. Howlett of 104 Iroquois Rd. and Gerald G. White of 454 Auburn Ave.; Stanley A. Burke, Charles F. Willingham, Donald M. Wilkinson Jr. and Jack F. Shantz, all of Royal Oak; S. James Pillars and Robert B. Atkins, of Birmingham; Anthony Durieko, Hazel Park; Lawrence A. King, Pleasant Ridge and Robert P. Allen, Rochester.

First Cherries Picked

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The first cherry harvesting of the season in this area began Tuesday in the orchard of Adolph La Franier, south of Traverse City. The harvesting is expected to be well under way by the end of this week.

State Probing Disastrous 4th

Preventive Measures Sought After Michigan Leads U. S. in Deaths

LANSING (AP) — State officials probed today for explanations for Michigan's disastrous Fourth of July weekend traffic toll — reportedly the highest in the nation.

Gov. Williams, expressing himself as "highly concerned," called on the State Police and highway departments for prompt analyses of the three-day holiday toll to map preventive measures.

The Associated Press tabulation, gathered by newspapers from law enforcement officials, listed 34 traffic deaths.

State Police Com. Joseph A. Childs reported to Williams his agency had listed 30 fatalities, but Childs conceded "there possibly are some which have not been reported to us yet."

Childs said the average highway death toll in Michigan this year has been slightly more than five deaths a day — but that the average went to eight per day over the holiday weekend.

He said there was only slight increase in the number of fatal accidents over the holiday, but that the number of deaths per accident shot up sharply: Three accidents took 11 lives, one five and two others three each.

By comparison, the Memorial Day weekend saw 19 accidents take only 20 deaths.

Childs said Indiana reported 14 fatal accidents and Ohio 22, both higher than normal.

He said the state conservation department reported 3,189,000 persons have visited state parks in the first six months this year, compared to 2,835,000 in the same period last year.

Requests to the State Tourist Council for travel information this year are running more than 100 per cent above last year, Childs said.

Army to Buy Cherries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said yesterday the Army had informed him it has allotted $600,000 to buy 2,300,000 pounds of sweet cherries—one-half of its requirement—from Michigan growers this year.

Pontiac Explorer Scouts Complete 750-Mile Tour

Willim J. DeGrace, post adviser, said the boys camped in tents, had a beach picnic, and went swimming and canoeing in Lake Michigan, Grand Traverse Bay and Lake Huron. They completed a service project at Empire, helping civic leaders prepare for a city-wide benefit barbecue.

The group plans to participate in the Pontiac District Explorer expedition to Colorado's Rocky Mountain National Park, Wyoming and New Mexico.

4 Killed, 5 Injured in Indiana Collision

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP) — Four persons were killed and five others were injured in a head-on collision of two cars about 10 miles north of here Tuesday night.

Dead were Mrs. Beatrice S. Harris, 40, Angola, Ind., and her two daughters, Mary Schnurr, 9, and Sharon, 15, and Stan S. Kopen, 23, Plymouth, Mich.

State Police said Mrs. Harris' husband, Kenneth, W., 37, tried to pass a semi-trailer and was hit by a car driven by Joseph J. Sullivan, 58, Garden City, Mich.

Michigan Bell Asks for Rate Rehearing

LANSING (UP) — The Michigan Bell Telephone Company today petitioned the public service commission for a rehearing of its rejected application for a $22,000,000 rate increase throughout the company's territory.

Bell officials said an increase in investments and higher operating costs spurred the request for a rehearing.

The company also charged errors in conclusions reached by the commission in May when the original request was turned down.

The original application called for rate increases ranging from 50 cents to $2.75 a month for business service and 25 to 90 cents a month for residence service. No increase in long-distance rates was proposed.

No decision is expected today on the petition for rehearing.

Missouri Botany Group Doing Research on Hop

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Missouri Botanical Gardens has been awarded a $5,000 grant by the Brewing Industries Research Institute to make a study of the hop.

Edgar Anderson, assistant director of the gardens, says there are three species of hops: the wild American, the Japanese and the common European. Many varieties exist and Anderson says the object of the research will be to find out the relationship they have to one another with the idea of developing improved types.

Atom Workers Strike in South

Union Demands 15-Cent Hourly Pay Boost, but Plants Will Still Run

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Plans for a strike at the nation's two uranium-235 production plants here and in Paducah, Ky., went ahead early today even as Taft-Hartley law machinery began turning.

About 4,500 atomic production workers were affected. CIO chemical workers union leaders ordered pickets on duty at 8 a.m., EST.

* * *

Union officials said President Eisenhower's order for a fact-finding board would not affect the strike plans.

Supervisors were prepared to keep the vast acres of machinery working at their intricate processes which, they said, would take a year to get going again if once stopped.

An official of Carbide & Carbon Chemicals Co., which operates the plants for the Atomic Energy Commission, said grimly last night:

* * *

"We're going to run the plants strike or no strike."

The strike was ordered in support of the union's demand for a 14-cent hourly pay raise. The demand was scaled down from 21 cents after union members rejected a 6-cent raise recommended by a presidential panel.

Another 4,500 workers represented by the rival AFL Atomic Trades and Labor Council also rejected the presidential panel's 6-cent recommendation after parallel negotiations for a 19-cent raise.

Members of both unions authorized a strike call, but Jess Haman, president of the council, said the AFL workers would stay on the job. The scales for all plants range from $1.58 to $2.40.

President Eisenhower's order that a fact-finding board be set up is the first step toward invoking the Taft-Harley law's injunction provision. The board would report in 15 days, after which the President could seek an injunction for an 80-day cooling-off period.

Air Derby Winner to Be Picked Soon

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A group of pilots met today to determine which of 46 finishing women pilots won the four-day Powder Puff Derby.

The straggling order of finish means little. Each plane flies against an individual handicap and it takes some complex arithmetic to determine the winner. Prizes total $2,000 with $800 for first.

The 46th arrival was piloted by Loretta Foy of Van Nuys, Calif., with Jean Bartel of Los Angeles, Miss America of 1943, as copilot.

By the time the race ended yesterday, five planes had been disqualified for various reasons.

WHAT, AGAIN!—No your eyes are not deceiving you, and fortunately the styles of the '20s are not staging a comeback. The young lady above is merely sporting the latest in walking skirts aptly termed the sportswhirl. Done in herringbone tweed, it is designed to enhance the free and easy stride of the avid hiker. The skirt, which stops short at the knee, never hampers action; the outfit has been rightly termed both practical and pretty.

Three Men Rob Priests of $1,931 Collection Fund

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police today sought three men who tossed pepper into the eyes of two Catholic priests and robbed them of collection money totaling $1,931.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Gallagher of St. Thomas Church and his assistant, the Rev. John J. Ward, were taking the money to a bank yesterday, officers said.

They were stopped at a traffic light and the trio tossed pepper into their eyes, grabbed the bag of money, hit Father Ward when he protested, and fled.

Las Vegas Hotel Strike Postponed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A last-minute postponement was announced today in a strike scheduled against the seven lavish hotel-casinos on the Las Vegas Strip.

Ernest J. Leupp, business agent for the AFL International Union of Operating Engineers, said the group had acceded to a request by the AFL Central Labor Council that the strike set to start this morning be put off until Friday.

Leupp said he hoped negotiations would continue. The Central Labor Council president, Ralph Leigon, said that if the 80 operating engineers strike, the 3,200 other AFL hotel employes will observe picket lines.

Leupp said present pay scales for the engineers average $2.30 an hour, and the union is asking a 10 per cent boost plus a health and welfare program.

Roy Flippin, representing the luxury hotels, said this would mean an increase of 15 per cent and the hotels will shut down if picket lines are established. He said wages ranged from $2.17½ to $2.45 an hour.

AF Discloses Testing of New Daylight Fighter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force says a new daylight jet fighter — which reportedly has flown up to about 1,500 miles an hour — has passed flying tests at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

Yesterday's cryptic announcement disclosed that the Lockheed XF104, an "air superiority" fighter, had made its first flight last February.

The Air Force gave out little specific information. However, other reliable sources have said the ship weighs only about half as much as jets now in the air, but is twice as fast as the swiftest of them.

We're Ready For Tomorrow

Tomorrow's America will be as dependent upon railroads as it was yesterday. A greater America is unlikely without railroads capable of caring for its vast, vital, growing traffic needs.

Today those railroads are preparing for tomorrow's task. They have poured billions into their plant—no adaptable mechanical, technical or scientific detail that can make them adequate for the nation they must serve has been left out.
