Gangland's Anastasia Murdered

2 Masked Men Kill Ringleader in Barber Chair

Slayers Hop Into Car, Miss Police in Midtown Manhattan

NEW YORK (AP) — Albert Anastasia, reputed chief executioner for the old Murder, Inc. ring and long an underworld overlord, was shot and killed by two masked men today in the swanky Hotel Park Sheraton.

Two men entered the barber shop and shot Anastasia in the back of the head.

The gunmen pumped three bullets into Anastasia as he sat in the barber chair at the hotel in the heart of Manhattan.

The men then fled along W. 55th St. by automobile.

Anastasia, one of gangland's top figures for many years, was reputed to be the chief executioner for the old Brooklyn kill-for-pay ring, Murder, Inc. He had been implicated in at least 31 murders.

The killing took place about 10 a.m.

POLICE GUARD BODY

Scores of police immediately swarmed into the hotel and kept everyone out of the barber shop. However, Anastasia's body for a time could be seen through glass doors of the shop.

The Park Sheraton, formerly the Park Central Hotel, was the scene of another murder a generation ago—that of gambler Arnold Rothstein.

Anastasia, 53, had lived a charmed life — until today. He beat five different murder charges, as well as an attempt on his life six years ago.

After the 1951 attempt to kill him, the New York Anticrime Committee reported that he had been ordered to get out of town or face gangland execution.

Anastasia was a native of Italy who gained entrance to the United States by smuggling himself ashore in New York in 1917.

He was one of four brothers who repeatedly have been linked to crime in this country.

Anastasia was reported to have begun his crime career here as a member of the Mafia, a criminal society of Italians, shortly after his arrival. In 1921 he was convicted with others of killing a fellow countryman here.

He spent months in the death house at Sing Sing but finally eluded the electric chair after the Mafia frightened a key state witness into returning to Italy. In a retrial, Anastasia was acquitted.

Milk Goes Through Picket Lines

THE HARD WAY — Michigan dairy farmers carry their milk through picket lines to the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. depot at Imlay City. Pickets blocked entry of the farmers' trucks yesterday afternoon, so they unloaded their cargoes and carried the milk in. Supplies of milk to dairies is reported near normal throughout the Detroit Metropolitan area today.

Gunshot Blasts Milk Tanker; Driver Unhurt

Fire on Moving Truck Near Novi Hours After Non-Interference Order

The first gunfire in the two-day-old strike of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative against Detroit area creameries sounded last night hours after a Lapeer Circuit Court judge issued a temporary injunction against interfering with milk deliveries.

Isaac Kelly, of Owosso, was driving his milk truck south on U.S. 16 near Novi at 10:30 p.m., when a car roared by, U-turned and emitted a shotgun blast at Kelly's truck as it passed him again.

At issue in the strike is the DFC demand for $6 per hundredweight of drinking milk which now is bought by the dairies for $5. They also want a boost in the price of butter and cheese milk from $3.19 to $4.

The flow of milk in Oakland County was near normal today at local dairies and milk receiving stations.

There are no pickets at the Pontiac dairies, a check with Borden Co., 256 Norton Ave., and Detroit Creamery, 408 Auburn Ave., revealed.

TRUCKS WILL MOVE

Elmer Schluckbier, Borden manager, said trucks would go out today to collect milk from county farmers under the protection of an injunction issued late yesterday by Lapeer County Circuit Court Judge Timothy C. Quinn.

The trucks were held in yesterday for fear of violence, he said, but deliveries from northern suppliers arrived as scheduled both yesterday and today.

Lose Ouster Battle

TOP TEAMSTER OFFICIALS — James R. Hoffa, Midwest Teamster boss and president-elect of the International Union, and (behind him) John English, Teamsters' secretary-treasurer, are shown in Washington on way to AFL-CIO ouster hearing. They lost their appeal and the AFL-CIO executive council suspended the Teamsters' Union.

Plans Cleanup Under Reins of New Leader

Officials Say They'll Never Dump President to Please AFL-CIO

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Teamsters Union, largest in the nation with a membership of 1,400,000, was suspended yesterday and showed no intention of accepting the AFL-CIO Council's offer of reconciliation by ousting President James R. Hoffa and other recently-elected officers.

Teamster Union sources said today the much-accused labor organization will never dump its newly-elected president, James R. Hoffa, to stay in the good graces of the AFL-CIO.

They said the union will clean ifself up, but that the scouring campaign will have to be conducted under Hoffa's leadership.

Hoffa emerged grim-faced from the executive council meeting that issued the ultimatum and promised to have a statement within a few days.

Spokesmen said the Teamsters would make a strong fight to win support from other unions for their self-improvement plan — enough to beat any expulsion motion AFL-CIO President Geroge Meany might propose. However, AFL-CIO officials doubted enough votes could be mustered.

Today the AFL-CIO Executive Council was expected to suspend the 140,000-member bakery workers union on corruption charges.

Advance forecasts indicated the union would go the way of the Teamsters for failing to comply with an ultimatum to clean house.

Pontiac 'Surpluses' Not for Hospital Wing

The city treasury of Pontiac is not bulging with surplus funds which might be used to finish Pontiac General Hospital instead of the proposed $950,000 bond issue, declared City Manager Walter K. Willman today.

The large surpluses were hinted in a letter in Thursday's Pontiac Press "Voice of the People" column from Paul A. Kern Jr., president of the Pontiac Taxpayers Assn.

He asked for an explanation of a $7,982,323.73 in cash and accounts receivable and $4,005,183.97 in unappropriated surpluses at the end of the city's 1956 fiscal year on Dec. 31.

Kern also charged that these figures and city and hospital financial statements had been kept secret from taxpayers.

DENIES SECRECY

Willman emphatically denied any secrecy and explained why the funds—which he termed "misleading and inaccurate"—could not be used to complete the expansion program at the city hospital.

He said the figures quoted were the combined totals of 20 funds under the which the city was legally bound to place monies. Of these 20 funds, Willman emphasized, money from only three (capital improvement, general and hospital) could possibly be used to defray hospital expansion, "if the money were available."

Laws legally bind the revenue from the other 17 funds such as state gas tax receipts, from being used for such purposes of completing the hospital.

Willman also stressed that people are mistaken if they believe that

$700 Is Waiting for a Winner in Pot-O-Gold

Now that another week has passed without a winner, $700 is standing in the coffers of Pot-O-Gold, waiting for someone to come up with the right answers.

Our judges are very anxious to get that money moving, so please do them a favor and turn to page 26. The puzzle that appears there can be turned in until next Tuesday, and all you have to do is fill in the right numbers.

Remember, don't write in the words. Only entries with the numbers written in the blanks will be accepted.

Macmillan, Ike Wind Up Talks

Joint Economic Help Program for Mideast May Be Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Minister Harold Macmillan ends his crucial talks with President Eisenhower today on a note, it was reported, of urging a joint economic aid program for the Middle East.

Macmillan has a final afternoon meeting with Eisenhower at the White House before taking off for home. His schedule called for a stop in Ottawa, to talk to Canadian Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker, en route back to London.

As a luncheon guest, Eisenhower had Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Macmillan, Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd arranged to join them at coffee time.

Spaak's presence symbolized American-British efforts to keep the talks, which started Wednesday, from appearing to shut out the other Western allies.

There was no definite advance word whether Eisenhower and Macmillan would issue a communique summing up their talks.

The British are understood to have pressed for delivery of intermediate range missiles (about 1,500 miles). They were promised a supply at the Eisenhower-Macmillan conference in Bermuda last March. But so far none has been delivered because of delays in development.

British dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower plan for the Middle East is no secret. Nor have the Americans made any bones about what they consider the misguided and high-handed British intervention in the Suez Canal zone a year ago.

Motorist Killed Avoiding Dog

Waterford Man's Car Crashes Into a Tree Near Ypsilanti

A Waterford Township man was killed near Ypsilanti yesterday as he gave his life for one of the canine breed he loved and cared for.

Cass E. Windiate, 60, of 4340 South Shore Dr., swerved to avoid a dog on US-112 near US-23, and struck a tree alongside the highway.

He was dead on arrival at Beyer Memorial Hospital, Ypsilanti, with a broken neck and crushed chest. Witnesses said the dog ran off unharmed.

Windiate kept dogs for pets most of his life. He was chief buyer for the State Highway Department and was on an official trip to Dundee when the accident occurred.

He had been with the department since 1933. (Additional story, page 9).

Delay Warrant in Store Slaying

Missing Gun Sought; Prosecutor Is Seeking Additional Information

A charge of first-degree murder against confessed-slayer Edward Drew was postponed today until further statements in the slaying of an elderly Commerce Township grocer are taken, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said.

Ziem said Drew, 26, of 2993 Welch Rd., Commerce Township will be asked to make another statement today concerning the attempted robbery-slaying Wednesday night in the Oakley Park store of Karl Kolm, 65.

Drew admitted killing Kolm, but has not confessed beating Kolm's wife, Amanda, 62, Ziem said.

The prosecutor added that he will take statements from several witnesses who allegedly saw Drew, an ex-convict, in the area following the slaying. Two witnesses might be able to shed light on the whereabouts of the murder weapon.

★ ★ ★

Two Commerce Township boys reportedly saw Drew running through a field a half-mile from the store after he had tossed the weapon into a canal, Ziem said.

Ziem said he probably will ask for a first-degree murder warrant tomorrow.

As Drew sat in his Oakland County Jail cell today, sheriff's detectives continued to search a mire-clogged, quarter-mile long stretch of canal into which Drew said he threw the murder weapon, a .30-.30 caliber rifle.

Mrs. Kolm was reported resting comfortably in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today. She suffered a head gash and severe shock, doctors said.

Nationwide Strike Gripping France

PARIS (AP) — A nationwide strike gripped France today in the midst of what newspapers called the most serious political crisis since World War II.

All the big unions except the socialist Workers Force were called out to protest the high cost of living and to demand more pay.

The nation's transportation network was almost completely halted. Workers in heavy industry, metal plants, shipyards and docks stayed away from their jobs.

Almost every segment of the France economy was affected.

Many of the striking workers milled about in the streets. Reinforced patrols of security police stood by in case of trouble.

One worker was killed yesterday and a hundred injured, most of them slightly, in a battle between shipyard strikers and police at the Atlantic port of St. Nazaire.

Teamsters of Local 614 Unworried by Suspension

"We'll survive whether we are with them or not," was the comment of Leaun Harrelson, president of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614 after hearing of suspension of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO.

"The membership is still behind Hoffa," declared Harrelson, who was one of the local's four delegates to the convention in Miami Beach which elected Hoffa to the presidency of the 1,400,000-member union of transportation workers.

"The general opinion of the rank and file," Harrelson said, "is that if they don't need us, we don't need them."

He said at a meeting on contracts between the Teamsters and two local trucking firms, members "thanked Hoffa for what he has done and what he will do in the future."

The AFL-CIO executive council voted Thursday 25 to 4 to suspend the union from the ranks. The suspension will become a permanent ouster if Hoffa is not removed and other alleged corrupt practices done away with.

Harrelson said the demand that Hoffa be removed "is too harsh an order."

EYES UPHOLDING

Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, said he believed that delegates to the Dec. 5 AFL-CIO convention will uphold the council's ruling.

Floyd Hook, a top leader of a group of 614 members seeking to end Hoffa's four-year trusteeship over the local, could not be reached for comment.

The group yesterday sent a letter to George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, asking that Hoffa be quizzed on his activities over the Pontiac local.

Grady B. Pinner, president of the Pontiac Oakland County Federation of Labor (AFL), said he too believed that the suspension will be upheld at the convention in Atlantic City. The Teamsters are presently an AFL affiliate.

Temperature May Dip Even Lower Tonight

Pontiac was not alone with its freezing temperatures last night. Freezing weather all but blanketed Michigan overnight, the U. S. Weather Bureau reported today. And even colder temperatures are likely!

Tonight in Pontiac, the forecast is partly cloudy to cloudy and continued cold. Scattered snow flurries or light showers may also occur. The low tonight will sink to 28 to 32 degrees.

Tomorrow it will be cloudy again with a chance of snow or showers. The high will be 40-44. On Sunday, the skies will be fair or partly cloudy, but the cold will continue.

Before 8 a.m., 29 was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac. Forty was the reading at 2 p.m.

Hoffa Trial Date Nov. 4

NEW YORK (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge William B. Herlands today set Nov. 4 as a tentative date for trial of James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president-elect, on perjury charges.

Report on Future Water Supply

Lake Huron Pipeline Workable

The Southeastern Michigan Water Authority's plan to pump water here from Lake Huron is feasible and Pontiac will be asked to join the project "very shortly," authority chairman Howard K. Kelley announced today.

Kelley said he would ask the City Commission for commitments that the city will contract with the authority for its water supply, beginning as early as 1961.

Kelley said that before asking a definite commitment, he would try to meet first with City Manager Walter K. Willman, to outline a $116,000 report on the venture being completed by a San Francisco firm, Bechtel Corp.

A preliminary draft of the final report shows that the project is feasible from both an engineering and an economic standpoint, Kelley said.

The project could take care of all the water needs in north Oakland and Macomb Counties "for years to come" and provide a standby supply for Detroit, Kelley said.

Involved is a pipeline eight feet in diameter stretching from an intake north of Port Huron to a point near Auburn Heights. From there, water would be pumped through smaller pipelines to communities which have joined the project, Kelley said.

Kelley, who is mayor of Royal Oak, said the major problem confronting the project has been "mostly met" by planning construction in three stages.

The first stage, which could be completed by the end of 1960, at a cost of $93 million, he said, would provide 100 million gallons of water daily. The second and third stages could be completed at later dates, bringing the total capacity up to an eventual 340 to 350 million gallons daily.

The pipeline itself would be large enough to handle the ultimate capacity, Kelley said. Addition of reservoirs and other facilities would constitute the second and third stages, he said.

The planning, Kelley said, would hold down expenses of the project until the potential water market in the area has been fully developed.

Kelley said he would seek commitments for contracts on the basis that the water rate initially would not exceed $1.25 per thou-

Stacy S. Skelton Dies in Arizona

Heart Ailment Claims Former Pontiac Civic, Business Leader

Stacy S. Skelton, former business manager of the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission and outstanding Pontiac business and civic leader, died of a heart ailment last night in Tucson, Ariz. He was 69.

Mr. Skelton came to Pontiac in 1919. He organized the Pontiac Employes Mutual Benefit Asso., and for many years was engaged in the printing business as part of the firm of Smith-Skelton Printing Co.

He served as president of the Pontiac Council of Boy Scouts, president and director of the Michigan Children's Aid Society and was a director of the Chamber of Commerce.

Instrumental in organizing the Welfare Board of Pontiac, he was one of the directors and its president for two years.

He had been a director of the American Red Cross, Girl Scouts, and a member of Kiwanis Club, serving as district secretary for two years.

LED IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

Active in civic affairs, Mr. Skelton aided in the campaign for the present city charter and commission form of government. On Oct. 14, 1933, he was appointed welfare administrator of Oakland County.

In 1940, he was appointed special investigator and business manager of the State Board of Cosmetology. He moved to Lansing, and in November of the same year, he was appointed business manager of the Michigan Crippled Children's Commission.

Mr. Skelton moved to Tucson more than a year ago, where he made his home with his wife, Ella, at 6391 E. Edgemont St.

2 P.M. Saturday Is Deadline for Absentee Ballots

Tomorrow at 2 p.m. is the last time that absentee ballots for Monday's hospital bond election will be available at the clerk's office in the City Hall.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said only those property owners who will be unable to go to the polls between 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. Monday should apply for absentee ballots.

The election is on a $950,000 general obligation bond issue to provide money to furnish and equip Pontiac General Hospital. State law limits such a vote to only registered property owners.

When will the days begin to get longer again? Will the weather warm up soon thereafter?

Interestingly, it will not be too long before the days begin to get longer again. In less than two months, on December 22nd, the days will start to lengthen. They will continue to get longer for the next six months.

Therefore, the shortest days of the year will be experienced in November, December and January. But it will be March before the extra sunlight begins to have its effect. So it will get colder, even as the days grow longer, in late December and January and perhaps in February.

By March, or April, the added sunlight will begin to make itself felt and spring weather will begin to emerge.

ANASTASIA

Anastasia was said to have been one of the kingpins of a national crime syndicate formed in 1934. Others in the upper bracket allegedly included Frank Costello, Joe Adonis, Al Capone and the Moretti brothers.

Thereafter was founded Murder, Inc. — a Brooklyn kill-for-pay mob. Anastasia was said to have "fingered" half of the mob's 63 victims.

The 1951 attempt on Anastasia's life was said to have been planned for a Cliffside Park, N. J., restaurant, but Anastasia apparently was tipped off and escaped gangdom vengeance.

Racketeer Willie Moretti was shot and killed at the restaurant.

TABBED FOR DEATH

The New York Anticrime Committee said it learned that Anastasia and Moretti apparently had worked some kind of a double-cross in gangland and were tabbed for death by high powers.

The committee said that after Anastasia escaped the trap he was warned by the underworld to leave town or continue to face the threat of execution.

Anastasia, a suave, natty dresser, bought a $70,000 Spanish style mansion at Ft. Lee, N.J., and had been living there. Apparently the underworld anger against him lessened, for he had appeared in New York in recent years.

Dr. Cestari said the barber shop victim was shot "at least three times—in the head, the back and the hands."

Asked if he thought death was instantaneous, the doctor shrugged his shoulders and said, "All I can tell you is that he was dead when I got there."

The barber shop is on the main floor of the hotel, on the 55th street side. A subway stairway is outside the shop windows and curious persons climbed a stairway railing to peer through the windows at the body on the floor.

Milk Strike Marked by First Gunfire

hand and will make our regular deliveries," Schluckbier said.

The injunction issued by Judge Quinn yesterday is statewide. It applies wherever the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. (representing the non-striking farmers) has vehicles, employes or property.

At the Ortonville receiving station where MMPA farmers take milk for eventual delivery to Pontiac and Detroit dairies, no picketing was reported this morning, although two cars filled with strikers were parked in front of the building.

At 7:30 p.m. yesterday, a truck was loaded at the station with 6,600 gallons of milk for Detroit and left under State Police protection. The remainder of yesterday's supply was shipped out this morning without incident.

The strike, called by the DFC is opposed by the MMPA which claims to speak for the majority of dairy farmers. The dairies recognize the MMPA as the legal bargaining agent for the farmers and call the strike illegal.

A spokesman for the DFC, Warren Weber, said today at New Hudson, that the strike is just getting started. "Our pickets will be out again today," he said.

Asked about the effect of the injunction, he said, "It isn't worth the paper it's written on. You can't enforce an injunction on every country lane."

"There may be a lot of milk getting through," Weber said. "but there are a lot of pigs drinking milk today that isn't getting through."

Glenn Lake, president of the MMPA, said, today the strike has been broken, "but for a few face-saving gestures by Homer Martin, DFC strike director."

Yesterday a bloody fist fight at Imlay City between 10 pickets and non-strikers broke out with eight of the strikers arrested.

MMPA officials said today they will file a personal damage suit against them for $20,000 loss in dumped milk and damage to a truck.

Sears, Roebuck Aide Tells of Unfair Labor Practices

WASHINGTON (INS)—A Sears, Roebuck vice president admitted today the giant mail order company used pressure, coercion, favoritism, discrimination, intrigue and unfair labor practices in handling a Boston labor problem.

Personnel chief Wallace Tudor frankly told the senate rackets committee that the company and Nathan Shefferman's labor relations associates engaged in "inexcusable, unnecessary and disgraceful" practices in Boston and other places.

But he quickly added these were "isolated episodes" and that the company has severed all relations with Shefferman, who worked on Sears' union relations work from 1935 to 1948.

In an unusually candid prepared statement, Tudor said Shefferman was permitted for a number of years to obtain Sears merchandise at wholesale prices and that the Chicago labor consultant used the privilege to buy things for his union friends.

However, Tudor said, the company discontinued the privilege as far as Shefferman was concerned two years ago.

The Sears official said his predecessor, C. B. Caldwell, retained Shefferman's service — which he operated while on the Sears payroll—even after Shefferman was retired by the company in 1948.

He testified that Shefferman billed the company for trips to union conventions and for entertainment of union leaders both during his direct employment by Sears and while he was a consultant.

Anticipating the committee's questions about the 1953 Boston organizing drive of the Retail Clerks Union, Tudor said the company made a "wrong decision" in calling in Shefferman to help.

He said: "The handling of the Boston situation involved a series of mistakes highlighted by widespread use of pressure and coercion; discrimination against employes for union activities; favoritism; intrigue and unfair labor practices."

Tudor insisted that a repetition of the mistakes "will not be tolerated by this company."

Tudor was the first witness called in what committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy described as a "rather extensive" study of the tie-up between Sears and Shefferman.

Shefferman set up his labor consulting service in 1940, while still a Sears official, to handle labor problems of the firm's suppliers.

However, the service expanded to include other accounts, and Shefferman severed formal relations with the mail order house.

Yesterday, Shefferman's aide, Walter Patterson, testified he paid employes of Whirlpool's Clyde, Ohio, plant to propagandize against unions and sent the bill to the company as "supplies and materials" expenses.

Faubus Hints End of Impasse

Says Certain Moves Could Bring Solution to Little Rock Dilemma

Gov. Orval Faubus has revealed that "certain moves" are being made which could result in mediation of the federal-state deadlock.

Previously, Faubus had said that only the withdrawal of the nine Negro students who attend the 2,000-pupil school could end the crisis.

A definite sign of reduced tension is the new Army policy of allowing the three Negro boys and six girls to cross the campus without a military escort.

Army and school officials said yesterday that if all went well six soldiers now on guard inside Central High might be pulled out, although troops still would remain outside the building.

Lake Huron Pipeline Is Called Feasible

sand cubic feet to the municipalities involved.

The water pipeline would connect to the present Southeastern Oakland County system, which serves a number of communities with Detroit water.

Kelley said there would be no attempt made "at this time" to enter into contracts with these communities. The water, he said, could be pumped into Detroit via existing connections.

Kelley said he would seek committments from most of the north Oakland County communities, including Waterford Township.

"This pipeline will be able to serve all those areas where there is a water shortage or a potential water shortage," he said.

Willman Says No Bulging Surpluses

such terms as "cash and accounts receivable" and "unappropriated surpluses" mean that this is just money "laying around waiting to be spent."

"Obviously, this situation is far from realistic as any business man knows," the manager pointed out.

SPELLS OUT BALANCE

With the assistance of Director of Finance Oscar Eckman, Willman drafted a balance sheet showing that in the three funds which might be used for hospital purposes, there remained after an appropriation of $340,571.42 for the 1957 budget, an unappropriated surplus of $800,716.04.

"This amount does not represent cash available," Willman stressed. "It could be cash if all taxes and accounts receivable were collected and all liabilities discharged in full."

Willman also explained that in this $800,716 figure "there isn't enough money if it was cash to run the city and hospital one month."

"Employe payrolls and operating expenses for one month in the city amount to between $500,000 to $600,000 alone," he said.

"The assets of the remaining 17 funds are restricted by law, bond indentures and city ordinances and are not available to the city for general operating purposes," the manager stated.

The financial statement shows that total assets of the general, capital improvement and hospital funds were $3,428,002.33. Liabilities totaled $2,286,714.87.

Willman cited an example of the difficulty which would be encountered if this total went entirely for such a purpose of the completing the $4,000,000 addition at Pontiac General.

"Property taxes are levied for general operating purposes in July of each year. At Dec. 31, 1956 there remained six more months of operating expenses and payrolls to be met before 1957 taxes became due."

"It is only obvious that for a good business-like operation the city must have on hand sufficient funds to operate until the next tax levy becomes due," he said.

This is where the unappropriated surplus comes in, he said. This surplus is simply assets minus liabilities, and is used to meet current operating expenses until taxes are paid.

"It is also obvious from the foregoing that the figures quoted by Mr. Kern are misleading and inaccurate and do not portray the city funds available for the expansion of the hospital," he added.

In reference to Kern's charge that figures had been withheld from taxpayers, Willman said: "The annual audit report of the independent public accountants of the city has always and will remain to be available to any interested citizen."

Continuing his explanation of the city's financial status, the manager commented also that the city tax rate of $13.70 has been maintained since 1954.

"On the basis of state equalized values," he said, "this would be equal to $9.87 per $1,000 of assessed valuation and would be the second lowest rate for cities of 50,000 or more population in Michigan."

Abel Spy Case Goes to Jurymen Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The case of Russian Col. Rudolf Ivanovich Abel, accused of transmitting American military and atomic secrets to Moscow, today goes to the jury in Brooklyn Federal Court.

The panel of nine men and three women will retire for deliberation after being charged by Judge Mortimer W. Byers.

Abel, 55, is the first foreign national in American history to be tried by a civilian court for espionage. If found guilty he would face a possible death penalty.

★ ★ ★

In summing up yesterday, Asst. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins termed Abel, a former Soviet secret police officer, a "master spy, a real pro entitled to no sympathy," adding:

"This was this man's chosen career. He knows the rules of the game. So do his family."

Ousted Teamsters Stick With Hoffa

EXISTING UNCERTAINTY

Uncertainty exists as to what action will be taken in the case of the 40,000-member United Textile Workers, who were ordered to reform Sept. 24.

Since that time, Lloyd Klenert has resigned as secretary-treasurer of the union, and Joseph Jacobs has vacated the job of southern regional director. Both officials were named in the AFL-CIO complaints.

Although another accused official, Anthony Valente, remains as head of the union, there is some feeling that an indication of progress in meeting AFL-CIO demands may induce the federation to hold off for the time being.

The charges involving the bakery workers are mainly directed at President James G. Cross, who is accused of a number of malpractices, including conflict-of-interest dealings with an employer and the hiring of a convicted prostitute as a union organizer.

All suspensions against unions hold until the AFL-CIO convention meets in Atlantic City Dec. 5 to decide whether to expel them outright from the federation.

Teamster officials said for the time being the union would do nothing. They planned to see whether Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts would allow Hoffa to keep his newly-won presidency or whether he would rule that the election violated the Teamsters constitution.

TEMPORARY HOLD-UP

Letts is presiding over a complaint brought by 13 rank-and-file New York teamsters that Hoffa should not be allowed to take over the union. The jurist has temporarily held up Hoffa's accession to power.

For the time being, the suspension order will not affect local relationships between the Teamsters and other AFL-ICO unions.

Teamster officials said, though, that if expelled, they are "not going to be so cooperative with other unions' picket lines, especially those of the auto workers."

Teamster refusal to cross picket lines helps many unions to win strikes since plant operations cannot continue without truck deliveries.

The Day in Birmingham

City Churches to Mark World Community Day

BIRMINGHAM — "Bread, freedom and dignity" is the theme for World Community Day, being observed Nov. 1.

The program in Birmingham will be at the First Presbyterian Church, from 10 to 11:30 a.m., under the sponsorship of the United Church Women.

Participating church women are collecting warm clothing, blankets, household linens and other materials, which will be sent to children, men and women, who, as refugees, are still in camps in Europe, the Middle East and Southeastern Asia.

Money offerings will go to emergency situations and for special, self-help projects in underdeveloped areas.

Mrs. Robert Boltwood, director of the Christian Friendliness program, Detroit Assn. of American Baptist Churches, will moderate the panel discussion.

Panel members will include Mrs. P. L. Joseph; Bingham Parkin, a teacher from Jamaica and a business man from India. Both the latter are students at Wayne State University. A former matron in an India hospital, now working as an exchange nurse at Harper Hospital, Detroit, along with Arnold Persraw, of British Guiana, will join the discussion.

Any person in the city may contact one of the participating churches if they wish to give clothing items.

Mrs. George Burnham, chairman, and Mrs. Lewis Morley said participating churches would be Presbyterian; Episcopal; Congregational; Methodist and Baptist.

A suit, filed in Oakland County Circuit Court, has attacked Bloomfield Township's reassessing program.

The Township Taxpayers' Assn. and 23 of its members charge that the 1957 taxes will discriminate against 35 per cent of the property owners. The percentage has been reassessed to date, and results in a tax rate increase of about 27 per cent, according to the suit.

William E. Maloney, township assessor, said however, the new assessing has increased taxes only about 13 per cent.

A temporary injunction to delay levying of 1957 taxes has been asked by the association.

They also ask a permanent injunction demanding "lawful assessment rule."

A hearing has been set for 9:30 a.m. next Thursday, before Judge Clark J. Adams.

William P. Muenchinger

Service will be at 1 p.m. tomorrow in Manley Bailey Funeral Home for William P. Muenchinger, 93.

Mr. Muenchinger died at the home of his son, Harry W., at 812 Pleasant St. yesterday. A native of Germany, and resident of this area for more than 70 years, he was the oldest Spanish-American War veteran of the Hazen S. Pingree Camp No 5.

He retired 10 years ago, after operating a small department store in Detroit.

Other survivors include his daughters, Mrs. Frank L. Card and Mrs. John C. Jaehns of Hamtramck, and Mrs. David E. Krings of Farmington and a son, David Geisler of Lake Orion.

Actor Jourdan Seeks Legal Name—Jourdan

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Louis Gendre wants permission to adopt the name he has become known by — Louis Jourdan.

And his wife, Berthe, would like to take the name of Quique Jordan, the 36-year-old actor said in a petition to the Superior Court yesterday. He was born in Marseilles, France.

U.S. Rocket Radios Data for 75 Minutes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists received radio data from Project Far Side's high flying rocket for 75 minutes after it whooshed up from its balloon platform.

Dr. Morton Alperin told newsmen last night that the instrument package in the rocket reached a speed of 17,000 miles an hour, but burned up when it re-entered denser atmosphere.

He declined to tell the exact altitude reached by the rockets. The Air Force announced Wednesday that two experimental Far Side rockets—designed to reach up to 4,000 miles—had been successful.

The rockets were launched from balloons

"It was a thrilling experience," said the 39-year-old director of advanced studies of the Air Force office of scientific research.

The 3½-pound instrument package sent information on cosmic radiation and magnetic field variations, Dr. Alperin said.

Hal Boyle Says:

Long, Long Journey From Old Desk to New

NEW YORK (AP) — You never realize how many roots you put down in a place until you have to pull them up and move on.

Even the smallest change in the pattern of your daily living tells you these things—even so little a thing as moving from one part of an office to the other.

★ ★ ★

I found this out the other day when, during a routine office switch, I was moved from the fourth floor to the sixth floor. Any change in a modern office, however, has a quality of melodrama about it, and it turned out to be a long, long journey from old desk to new desk. I'm sure Columbus had a simpler voyage.

★ ★ ★

If you have ever moved from one part of your office hive to another, I'm sure you had to meet these problems:

First, is the task of dealing with the busy bees who buzz you in search of "the hidden meaning." They ask such questions as:

"Why are they kicking you upstairs? Or is it really upstairs?"

"What's the matter? Doesn't the boss feel you were earning your rent here?"

"Who're they going to move next? Has there been a change of company policy?"

★ ★ ★

Patiently you explain the change is a routine one and means absolutely nothing. This leaves them vaguely dissatisfied. People like everything to mean something—and preferably something exciting.

★ ★ ★

The second problem is your faithful old desk. Naturally you would prefer to open its seacocks and watch it sink slowly through the floor. Or at the least put a bulletin through its faithful linoleum-covered forehead as you murmur, "So long, ole pardner."

But it isn't permitted to scuttle or shoot to death an office desk. Your job is to clean it out—and move on.

Cleaning out my desk and file cabinets turned out to be a three-day task, and a strange and wonderful journey into the past. The things a man finds out about himself!

There were such quaint memorabilia as:

Two ticket stubs to "Tobacco Road."

★ ★ ★

A blue and white button emblazoned "Stevenson-Kefauver."

Also in the debris I found a roll of papers marked "Dead Sea Scrolls" and a note saying, "Help, get me out of here," signed "Justice Crater."

The third problem is the disposal of your property. You are a bit surprised to find how many of your nearest neighbors secretly have coveted your wastebasket, your seat cushion and, yes, even your calendar.

You give these goodies away, say farewell to your pals, pat your fine old swivel chair on its loyal shoulders, stifle a tear and march out.

"Sixth floor, please," you say as you step into the elevator.

It is only 75 feet as the termite crawls from your old desk to your new desk, but in a modern office that can be the difference between Earth and Mars.

As the elevator mounts you are aware you have left one world behind you forever, and you wonder what the new world will be like on the new floor.

Architect Wright Hits Teaching of Subject

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Architect Frank Lloyd Wright has leveled another of his famous blasts—this time at college architecture students and their courses of instruction.

Speaking to about 300 hopeful University of Michigan architects, Wright told them they were wasting their time, wouldn't know a great piece of architecture if they saw one and don't know what architecture is about anyway.

"There is nothing I can do for you," Wright said. "There is nothing I can do for any school. They teach by comparison, not the way they should—by analysis. That's the only way students will learn to be architects."

The Osborne House on the isle of Wight, off the south coast of England, was Queen Victoria's favorite retreat. It is now a convalescent home.

Facts That Face Ike and Macmillan

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Special Correspondent

ANKARA, Turkey (NEA) — As America's President Eisenhower and England's Prime Minister Macmillan sit before the great map of this contested world—with all crayoned marks of trouble now pointing to the Middle East—on what intelligence will they base their decisions, decisions that will indeed affect the lives and freedom of men everywhere?

I've been most fortunate in obtaining from the highest possible Allied sources the information that their agents will present to the Anglo-American leaders. A clinical medical analysis of current sickness, it sees clearly through the thick mists of propaganda, sounds sharp above rattling sabres and ignores all passions.

Here it is:

SYRIA

It's ridiculous to think Syria would invade Turkey. Her chance would equal a Mexican invasion of the United States.

We suffered a harsh setback last August when pro-Soviet officers took control of the army in Damascus by a classic coup. They immediately increased the importation of Soviet arms and advice.

Syria is not irrevocably lost. Democratic elements are plotting a change in the same way the pro-Communist government was changed in Guatemala. No one has exclusive rights to palace revolutions.

It's hoped they will succeed—soon. Time is not our friend. Given time to crush the opposition, the army clique will make Syria another Czechoslovakia — a mere number on the Kremlin switchboard.

It's essential for the Allies to avoid direct involvement. Outside interference breeds resentment; it would win the Communists countless converts. The business of cloak and dagger functions best without press agents.

Here is the nightmare: the army clique might force the still restraining influence out of Damascus and invite Soviet forces in. Recent shenanigans on the Turkish border were calculated to raise internal fears and use the emergency to consolidate holdings.

TURKEY

Although Turkey will be terribly pressed from two sides if Syria becomes a firm Soviet base, she'll not make a preventive invasion.

The leaders in Ankara, firmly bound to NATO, will calmly face the new defense problems that have been created — and expect a flood of fresh American dollars to assist them.

Turkey also makes every effort to avoid visible involvement. Her strong central government even plays down Soviet threats in newspapers. The way to treat a Russian, Turkey feels, is to ignore him.

★ ★ ★

The danger is that the Syrians will push the border nonsense too far — and that Turkey will hit back.

Naturally Turkey quietly calls on Allah to transport Syrian Communists to the burial ground —and considers alternate plans if Allah continues non-cooperative.

EGYPT

Col. Nasser is definitely not in Soviet camp, not 100 per cent. He is not in our camp. His game is Arab nationalism, neutralism. This is the way to win gifts of American candy and Russian caviar.

Nasser dispatched troops to Syria as part of their joint defense treaty—and to exert influence for neutralism. Many diplomats privately voice violent opinions about Nasser. None question his sanity. Egyptians are not in Syria to invade Turkey.

SAUDI ARABIA

King Saud is as anti-Communist as Chase National Bank.

He strives for Arab unity and publicly slaps America's wrist to prove he's independent, but he would be delighted for a change in Syria. A powerful Communist Arab state—let alone a Russian neighbor—would hardly let him enjoy the Cadillac blessings of his oil soaked sands.

★ ★ ★

As he comes and goes in his pressurized four-engined magic carpet, it is sometimes hard to understand his operation; the bazaars of Levant and Arabia do not follow the rules of a Junior Chamber of Commerce.

OTHER ARAB COUNTRIES

Although suspicious of each other and our British friends, they see eye to eye with Saud.

Iran and Iraq also pump oil; communism pays no hard currency dividiends.

ISRAEL

Washington has urged Israel with firmness to keep out of the present ruckus, although she's anxious to get in to prove all Arabian countries are going Communist and so win complete American support.

Israel has obliged; Tel Aviv is silent. A verbal attack by Israel against Syria would win Syria Arab friends, for Israel remains No. 1 on the Arab hate parade.

RUSSIA

It's a sweet prize within her grasp; airbases to nullify our own Arabian strips, warm water ports to satisfy a 500-year-old ambition and the chance of oil fields on her own pipe lines. So far she's confined herself to nerve-cracking outbursts that brought a bear market to Wall Street and fears to every civilized block and farm.

Would she let a counter coup oust her friends in Syria? Would she move in? This is seriously doubted. She encourages and publicizes the "Turkish threat" to help her Damascus comrades solidify control under the cover of an emergency.

But the Soviets mean to have this world intact, not radioactive.

SUMMED UP

Watch and pray for a change inside Syria. Meanwhile undertake the tedious planning and awful cost of keeping free the rest of the Middle East.

Painting Bill Is High

WASHINGTON — The United States Government's Public Housing Administration annually paints some 420,000 housing units and has a total bill of about $10,000,000 for painting. The cost of the paint represents about 15 to 20 per cent of the total cost, with labor being the major item of expense.

12,000 Parts in Missile

WASHINGTON — The electronic system of a guided missile contains about 12,000 different electric components, and each component has at least two electric connections. Each missile has some 36,000 to 37,000 items that must function properly if the missile's flight is to be successful.

Vote Yes for Hospital; It Won't Raise Tax Rate

We face the matter of finishing the hospital. The Pontiac PRESS feels this is a "must," any way you look at it. The community needs the medical and operating facilities desperately.

The whole area is short.

In the face of this, we are watching a steadily increasing population which promises to make our hospital problems even bigger. Walls at General Hospital are erected now, but they stand there gaunt, grim and empty. They are useless until they are finished and equipment installed.

The Pontiac City Commission has voted to hold the tax rate at $13.70 for 1958. The cost of the hospital bond retirement for that year will be taken from the City's capital improvement program. This expense will run approximately $73,000.

All taxes are unpopular these days. But in this particular instance, we do not face increased taxes in 1958. We have a wing that is a mockery as it stands. Nothing can be gained at the moment by trying to pinpoint the faults of those responsible for this situation. The PRESS believes their motives were honest but their judgment was at fault at the time.

★ ★ ★

The all-important need now is to finish the job. That comes first.

Anyway, this is where we stand.

What else can we do?

Leaving the shell standing empty and completely useless seems like folly, and it would be merely another mistake. Let's salvage the whole operation.

★ ★ ★

All Newspapers Await New York Decision

An interesting newspaper case has arisen in New York. A feminine writer for the Herald Tribune recently took a running hop, step and jump and landed squarely on an indignant JUDY GARLAND when she quoted an unkind remark made by a CBS executive.

★ ★ ★

Judy filed suit for a million dollars against Columbia Broadcasting System and demanded that the writer name the TV official.

She refused.

The Herald-Trib backed her up.

The New York newspaper says it will fight the case to the limit to protect the right of newspaper writers to guard the sources of their information. This falls in line with the current battle newspapers are waging over "The Right to Know." We contend this is the privilege of the people and neither courts, hierarchies, nor big brass should be allowed to upset this practice.

The readers' right to know will be sorely restricted if newspapers are compelled to disgorge the source of every bit of information they find.

The New York judge believes the newspapers have a strong point and suggests he sentence the Herald Tribune writer to 30 days in jail and parole her pending the Herald Tribune's appeal.

★ ★ ★

More and more these day we find desires to "control" the news. It bobs up in unexpected places, including government offices. Remember the famous gentleman who remarked that he'd rather have a country with newspapers and no government than one with a government and no newspapers.

★ ★ ★

After all, the newspapers are the final ditch of defense which the people have against wrongs, oppressions and skulduggery.

"GOD never created me in the crucible of infallibility," says DAVE BECK, retiring president of the Teamsters union. No doubt to BECK will go the 1957 award for having made the grossest understatement of the year.

Rain: Usually a hard-to-make-believe blessing.

"They've always been doing it," writes of Pontiac Trail, in speaking of the habit of blaming anything unusual in nature's processes on some new development in the skies. "Just now they're holding sputnik responsible for all of this rain," he asserts.

However, he points out that 49 years ago, when a comet was coming our way, and it was feared that we'd all be scorched to death, there were many queer quirks of the elements, not since duplicated.

"In the first week in June, 1909, snow was knee deep in the Pontiac area," he writes, "and the following year we had a terrific thunderstorm every afternoon for many weeks. The comet missed us by several million miles, but was blamed for the unusual weather. Sputnik is only a few hundred miles away."

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Talks to Boost U.S. Morale

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's decision to take the stump in defense of his administration is a concession to the "for-goodness-sake-do-something" school of thought.

LAWRENCE

The decision is based on the theory that a half dozen speeches by the President in different parts of the country will boost the nation's morale and take its mind off the irritations, fears and misgivings arising out of the political and economic situation as well as the American dilemma in "outer space."

★ ★ ★

A president's leadership can be constructively helpful, provided it is persuasive and is based on sound policies. But there is very little that can be done when economic ills befall a country—the doom of an incumbent political party is foreshadowed anyway by the business trend. For the American voter still is influenced by his pocketbook irrespective of party affiliation.

"If the elections were held today, the Republicans would elect less than 100 members of the House—almost as low a number as they had after the 1932 election, when Franklin Roosevelt won his first term. As things look now, it is likely that the Republicans will lose many seats in the Senate in the 1958 elections, and that the Democratic majority in both houses will be the biggest in recent years.

★ ★ ★

Thus, the Republican rural vote in such border states as Maryland, Kentucky, Oklahoma, Missouri and West Virginia has been alienated by the controversy over the use of troops in Arkansas. The Negro voters swinging to the Republican side in the northern states will not offset the losses because economic considerations will keep the bulk of the Negro vote in the Democratic column.

IKE TAKES TIME

It is, indeed, a political crisis of serious proportions that is causing the President, in the midst of some of the most pressing problems on the national as well as international front, to take time out to go to the country.

While Mr. Eisenhower cannot be a candidate for another term because of the constitutional limitation, he nevertheless has been rightly persuaded that he must do something to bolster the Republican Party's falling cause. The 1960 presidential campaign will be fought on the Eisenhower record no matter who is the nominee of the party.

The people will vote for or against the eight years of Eisenhower policies.

The 1958 congressional election is bound to introduce a new flock of presidential candidates, and it seems to be in the cards for some governor to be the Democratic nominee next time. Governor Meyner of New Jersey, Democrat, for instance, is being talked about considerably in political circles as a possible presidential candidate. He is expected to win in a big way next month in New Jersey, and this will boost his chances for 1960's presidential nomination.

Highly placed Democrats are arguing whether Adlai Stevenson can make it again. Opinions vary from those who think his two defeats would militate against him to those who insist he is still the best vote-getter in the party. Vice President Nixon is still out in front for the Republican nomination.

ON THEIR OWN

But the skirmishing in the more immediate contest — the congressional election — will intensify in the next session of Congress. The split inside the Democratic Party is hardly remediable at this stage because of the defection of the Southern Democrats but, for purposes of the 1958 election, it isn't necessary for the northern and southern wings to reconcile their differences. Republican nominees will be on their own, and so will the Democratic nominees in each district or state.

Can President Eisenhower save the situation? There is little that he can do to alleviate the economic ills of the "readjustment" through which the country is slowly passing. There is more that he can do to offset the propaganda that his administration doesn't stand in high repute throughout the world.

This is related to the changes in the international picture, especially the Middle East, which reflect fluctuations in the "cold war" rather than in American foreign policy. The visits of the Queen and Prime Minister Macmillan have helped immeasurably to mend Anglo-American relations.

The Eisenhower administration is on the defensive today largely because it has not learned the basic rule of politics, which is that public policies must be defended every day and counteroffensives undertaken constantly lest the battle in the court of public opinion be lost by default. The President is more to be pitied than scorned for the downturn in the political fortunes of his administration.

The Country Parson

"We wouldn't be quite so wrong if we'd only do unto others as they do to us—instead of trying to be just a little meaner."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Note 3 Methods to Avoid Tonsillectomy Atrocity

The death rate from tonsillectomy is still frightfully high—frightful to me, that is. For this reason alone I'd never consent to the atrocity in any case.

Let no one infer that I'm opposed to surgery. Several times I have enjoyed — I mean enjoyed — skillful, painless surgery and I'm grateful for it.

DR. BRADY

But don't try to tell me tonsillectomy is surgery. No matter who commits the assault, in my opinion it is simply crude, blind dissection of the throat without warrant.

People keep sending me newspaper reports of fatalities from tonsillectomy. I know and you know and the ever-ready operators should know that tonsillectomy is a serious major operation.

FIT ANY CASE

There are three alternatives for tonsillectomy, and again, in my opinion, one or another will meet every requirement for which tonsillectomy may be proposed. They are:

1. Instantaneous tonsillotomy (by means of the tonsillotome), which is no more painful and no more dangerous than extraction of a tooth.

2. Diathermy (electro-coagulation, electro-disiccation), for infected tonsils, not for merely enlarged or hypertrophied tonsils.

3. Two months of near-nudity, such as lucky youngsters get in the summer vacation. Tonsils which are very large in the spring shrink during the summer vacation.

JUST A SNIP

Here and there, good doctors give youngsters a break in respect to tonsils. They snip or clip enlarged tonsils when the simple operation is indicated to relieve or prevent obstruction of breathing, middle ear trouble, sinus trouble or impairment of voice.

Or they treat infected tonsils of adults with diathermy—in a series of office seances—without interruption of the patient's daily activities and without subjecting the patient to risk.

Formerly, I tried to maintain a directory service for correspondents who sought physicians who gave the treatment I recommend. It was love's labor lost. Now, I can only suggest that you ask your physician about it. If he or she laughs it off or says it's no good, there's nothing more I can do about it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Gives Figures on Smoking

Mabel asks two challenging questions which church youth, as well as Boy Scouts and high school science students, often raise. So scrapbook this case or mail it to some friend or relative who lives in a town where this educational column does not appear. You can also discuss it in Sunday School next Sunday.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-329: Mabel G., aged 18, is president of the young peoples' society in her church.

DR. CRANE

"D r. Crane, next Sunday night we plan to discuss tobacco," she began. "So will you please answer some questions I have? First of all, do the majority of Americans now smoke?

"Second, if you are addicted to the tobacco habit, what is the best way to break it?"

TOBACCO FACTS

The Census Bureau for the National Cancer Institute offered us the following totals a year ago on the number of smokers of various sorts:

Cigarette smokers ..	38,000,000
Cigar smokers	10,000,000
Pipe smokers	8,000,000
Total smokers	56,000,000
Total non-smokers ..	110,000,000

According to those figures, only one person in three is a smoker, although young people are stampeded into thinking "Everybody smokes!"

Furthermore, those 56,000,000 smokers included 7,500,000 occasional cigar smokers and 4,500,000 occasional pipe smokers.

These occasional smokers accepted a free cigar when a friend was passing them around at the birth of a baby. Or they used a pipe for scenic purposes while fishing during their summer vacation.

If you thus deduct the occasional cigar and pipe smokers, you will find only 44,000,000 regular tobacco addicts, which is about 26 per cent of our total population.

HOW QUIT TOBACCO

Now for Mabel's second query about the easiest method by which to quit the tobacco habit.

"Break off all at once; don't try to taper off," was the advice of Prof. William James, our greatest American psychologist.

And make a public declaration so your pride will then help compel you to stay off the tobacco.

It isn't the nicotine craving which will be your major enemy, but the "muscle hunger" of the hand and arm which you have routinely waved around in the act of smoking.

For when you smokers get nervous, you subconsciously feel the desire to expend surplus energy by muscular activity.

You can't conveniently run around the block or chop wood. And people would think you crazy if you jumped up and started shadow boxing in the parlor.

So you have learned the tobacco habit and now wave your hand and arm in the act of smoking.

So when you try to break the habit, by all means give that same hand and arm a substitute outlet.

TRICK YOUR ARM

Carry candy coated gum in the same pocket or purse where you previously kept your cigarets.

Then, as the urge to move your arm overwhelms you, just reach into the familiar pocket for the package of gum. Shake out a piece. Then chew viorously till you are tired.

Spit out the gum or swallow it (it doesn't harm you to swallow gum) and then repeat the process the next time you feel tense and crave a muscular outlet.

You can break the tobacco habit in a few days by this strategy of "tricking your arm" by channeling its behavior into a substitute outlet.

For further advice, send for my booklet, "How to Break the Liquor and Tobacco Habits," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Commissioner, Citizens Debate City Hospital Vote

I, like many others, haven't been too happy about the Hospital program in the past. During recent months I've been impressed with the fact that the program has made a turn in the right direction. The Board of Trustees has been strengthened by addition of some very capable, trustworthy men. Mr. Carl Flath, the new executive director, has made a splendid impression on those with whom he's in contact. His effective and capable leadership is apparent.

Right now the most important thing is that the hospital be completed. The new director should be given the plant and equipment with which to do the best possible job. The best way to accomplish this is to vote "YES" on the bond issue. This won't raise taxes. Your City Commission has pledged to pay the principal and interest from capital improvement funds already levied. This is particularly important in my district.

I want to encourage those concerned with continuation of the present strong improvement program, with our present tax base of $13.70, to vote "YES" Monday.

Floyd P. Miles
Commissioner, Dist. 4.

★ ★ ★

When you vote on that hospital issue, you're voting on your own health and that of your family. No one expects to be sick or need an operation but it happens daily. You may be next or someone near and dear to you. We're voting on our own health.

J.S.

★ ★ ★

Why can't some of the parking meter money be used for such an important purpose as furnishing the new hospital wing? There are several lots now, most filled to capacity. If something like this were done, the public or taxpayers would feel more lenient toward helping.

Taxpayer

I've discussed needs and requirements of appropriations of $950,000 for completion of General Hospital with members of the Board of Trustees, and my position on this issue that comes up for vote Oct. 28 is "NO."

I'm a taxpayer, not a politician. We do need it, but every property owner and taxpayer is indirectly affected. You're now paying many taxes — I could name at least 20. Workers' income is overtaxed. I suggest a county-wide community drive to raise the funds.

But an investigation should be made first as to the amount requested and required. We need more hospital beds, but I've been informed it takes approximately two employes per patient, some at exaggerated salaries of as much as $15,000. What was the reason behind asking the former director to resign? I've been told it takes approximately 14 pounds of linen to be laundered each day per patient. That sounds over-estimated. Are present administration costs justified?

Let's not fool ourselves — taxpayers will have to pay the cost of the bonds. The two hospitals are in the same type of business. Why can one operate at a profit and Pontiac General cannot?

'Authority Supports Fluoridated Water'

Dr. Olin E. Hoffman, chief of the Dental Health Section of Washington State Health Department said recently that ultimately the fluoridation of drinking water will become a routine public health measure comparable to the chlorination of water to prevent typhoid fever. Expect Brownell to Remain in Selecting Presidential Nominee

Does Rogers' Rise Help Nixon's Chances for 1960?

By ED CREAGH
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The old Herb-and-Bill firm is going out of business—officially, at least. Now the question being asked hereabouts is: what does this mean for Richard M. Nixon?

The Herb-and-Bill team, of course, is Herbert Brownell Jr. and William P. Rogers. They've been together since Brownell, an old pro in politics, called in up-and-coming young Rogers to help line up delegates for candidate Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

It was a successful combination from the start. Their man was nominated and elected. Soft-spoken, balding Herb Brownell—a fast man with a "no comment"—became attorney general. Handsome, easy-to-know Bill Rogers became his deputy.

Now Brownell is quitting to go back to law practice in New York. Rogers moved into the Cabinet job, and that's where Nixon comes in. Rogers long has been Nixon's close friend and adviser. Does his entry into the inner circle help Nixon's chances of being nominated for president in 1960?

It would seem so, on the face of it. A powerful new friend at court seldom hurts anybody. But a couple of questions arise:

1. Rogers says his activities as attorney general will have to do with the government's law business, not with politics. In fact he won't even talk about politics in public, even say whether he's a Nixon man. This is an eyebrow-raising attitude for an attorney general. Most of them have been up to their ears in politics.

But Rogers—for all his past services to the Republican causee—has a reputation for doing his work nonpolitically. He has worked for both Democrats and Republicans and no complaints of partisanship are on record. Unquestionably he will try to help his friend Nixon behind the scenes. He might be willing to help more actively if he were not the new attorney general.

2. Some of the experts seem to forget that Brownell may have more to say than Rogers does about the 1960 nominee. And Brownell is not on record for or against Nixon. He's not likely to be, either, this far away from 1960. Professional politicians dislike going out on limbs, and Brownell would be the last to deny being a political pro.

Just what the personal relations between Brownell and Nixon are, few people know. There seemed to be a certain stiffness between them at one time. But that was a long time ago and they have appeared cordial enough toward one another lately.

Nixon—or any other 1960 contender—might well court Brownell's support.

★ ★ ★

For one thing, Brownell is by no means getting out of politics. In New York he undoubtedly will continue as a member of the unofficial "braintrust" which has guided a good many of Eisenhower's political decisions in the past five or six years. This group (it gets together from time to time in New York) includes such GOP figures as former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey and part-time White House aide Thomas Stevens. It may have much to say about the 1960 nominee.

★ ★ ★

And Brownell will have a firm voice in the group's deliberations. His judgment has been questioned on occasion (liberal Democrats questioned it when he assailed Harry Truman's handling of the Harry Dexter White spy case) but his ability to line up delegates is undoubted. Political insiders give him the lion's share of the credit for engineering Eisenhower's nomination in 1952.

So the break up of the Herb-and-Bill firm may or may not be an occasion for cheering in the Nixon camp. Time, to coin a phrase, will tell.

Bean Soup Contest Down to 10 Seamen

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A worldwide contest to determine the best bean soup in the U.S. Navy has been narrowed to 10 finalists.

Sponsored by the Commercial Appeal, the contest drew 81 entries from Navy ships and shore stations around the globe.

★ ★ ★

The first Naval training station in the United States was established at Newport, R. I., in 1883.

Reflecting an unprecedented demand for the station wagon as a family car, Dodge will offer five separate station wagon models for 1958. The four-door Sierra, shown right above, will be offered in standard and custom models, while the two-door Suburban will be offered in the standard line.

Stress Styling and Safety in New Dodge Cars for 1958

DETROIT — Advances in safety engineering, fuel economy and engine performance are claimed for the 1958 Dodge passenger cars, which will be in dealer showrooms early in November.

Looking over the low hood on all 1958 Dodge convertibles and Lancer hardtops is the compound-curvature "picture" windshield, which wraps around not only at top and bottom, but across the roof line, offering unobstructed visibility at corners and sides, as well as at the top.

A completely new line of engines, headed by the Ram Fire V-8, power all 1958 Dodge cars.

To provide pulling power at either or both rear wheels at all times, the "sure grip" differential will be available on all 1958 Dodge cars. Power automatically is directed to the wheel with the most traction, eliminating wheel-spinning on ice, or in snow, mud and sand.

★ ★ ★

Offered this year for the first time as a single safety package are full-time power steering, total contact floating shoe power brakes, padded dashbord and padded sun visors.

Other safety features include safety door latches and safety door handles, both designed to secure doors against accidental opening.

★ ★ ★

The 1958 Dodge line consists of four separate series: Coronet; Royal; Custom Royal; and station wagon. Four four-door sedans are offered, three four-door Lancer hardtops, three two-door Lancer hardtops, two club sedans, two convertibles and five station wagons.

Senate Group to Quiz Convicted Atom Spies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two convicted atom spies—David Greenglass and Harry Gold—may be questioned next week about information that the Rosenberg spy ring gave U.S. space secrets to Russia in 1947 or 1948.

Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee said today the two may appear at subcommittee hearings next week in Memphis.

Julius and Ethel Rosenberg were executed as atomic spies in 1953. The testimony of Greenglass and Gold helped convict the pair. Mrs. Rosenberg was Greenglass' sister.

The acreage of forest land in Russia is more than 44 per cent of the country's total area.

First Private A-Plant Starts Output in West

PLEASANTON, Calif. (AP) — The world's first all-privately financed atomic plant today poured enough electricity over Pacific Gas and Electric Co. lines in California to supply the needs of a town of 12,000 persons.

★ ★ ★

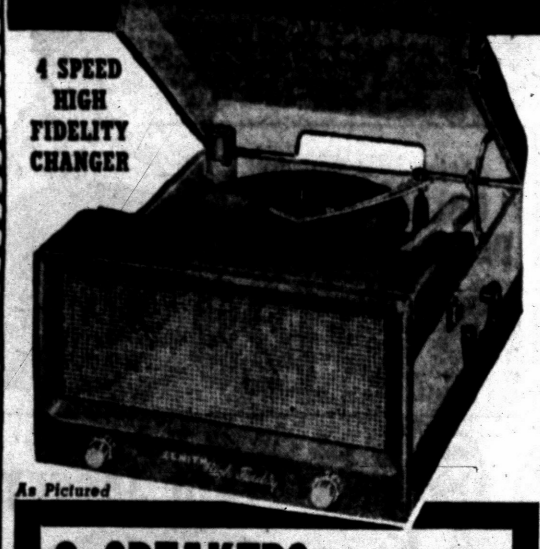

The plant, developed on a partnership basis with General Electric Co., began operating commercially yesterday.

★ ★ ★

H. R. Sutherland, president of PG&E which has invested $372,000 in the project, said the electricity costs 50 per cent more than electricity produced by conventional means. But he said there willbe a big savings if "we find ways of prolonging the life of the atomic fuel element."

Bandits Utilize Planes, Cars

2 Men Arrested After $26,000 Bank Holdup in Tampa

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Two bandits, using a fast shuttle of planes and automobiles, robbed the First State Bank of Fort Meade of $26,657 at gunpoint yesterday.

One man was arrested at a Tampa airport and another in an auto accident several hours after the robbers released a captured constable and escaped in a running gunfight with pursuers.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Ed Blackburn said Irvin Suits, 26, arrested in a car mishap, admitted he took part in the holdup and named Donald J. Thompson, 32, as his companion.

Thompson denied any knowledge of the crime.

Suits confessed after several hours questioning and identification by three witnesses that he and Thompson had planned the holdup and practiced the plane maneuvers. Suits was reported ready to lead police to the place the money was hidden.

Thompson is a pilot for a Tampa construction firm. He was arrested at Tampa International Airport as he returned a Cessna airplane belonging to the firm and matching the description of one used by the bandits.

Suits, a Tampa airplane broker, was picked up after his car was involved in an accident in Tampa. In the car were two pairs of coveralls similar to those worn by the robbers.

Polk County Judge Chester M. Wiggins charged the men with armed robbery and auto theft. Fort Meade is in southern Polk County, about 35 miles southeast of Tampa.

★ ★ ★

Federal authorities also planned to give the men a hearing before U.S. Commissioner Morison Buck here today on charges of violating the Bank Robbery Act.

Two planes were involved—the Cessna and an Aeronca stolen at Gilbert Field in Winter Haven by one of two men who flew to the field in the Cessna.

Apparently the men separately flew the planes to a small field at Plant City, went together in the Aeronca to Fort Meade, returned to Plant City after the holdup, left the Aeronca there and flew the Cessna back to Tampa.

Watch Syrian Crisis Closely

Israelis Remaining Calm

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Outwardly Israel has been calm in the excitement occurring inside her northern neighbor, Syria.

The Israeli regime has had plenty of threats from Syria and other Arab neighbors. It places no more belief in the present Syrian charges about threats from Turkey than it did to the Syrian charges only three months ago that Israel was about to attack Syria.

LEADERS WARNED

There have been reports that the United States has cautioned the Israeli leaders not to say anything inflammatory in the current Turkish-Syrian dispute abetted by Russian charges against the United States and Turkey. The idea behind the advice to play it calm would be that any Israeli utterances merely would provoke more Arab hostility.

Although calm, Israel is a very interested spectator. But Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion has told his parliament that the current quarrel has been lifted from the regional level into a big power play.

About this time a year ago the Israeli forces were quietly being organized for the massive strike against Egypt, an operation that over-ran the Sinai Peninsula in eastern Egypt and gobbled up huge quantities of Soviet-supplied arms.

But Ben-Gurion's analysis now is that "the forces contending in our area are not so much forces of the area itself as of world blocs of East and West, headed in one case by the United States and the other by Russia."

The arming of the Arab states brought about by this East-West competition, he said, and "the specifically new situation which has developed in Syria following a similar situation in Egypt, causes us concern but should not lead to unnecessary panic."

Israel has lived in the two spheres, regional and big power, ever since her foundation and her invasion by Arab armies more than nine years ago.

But the regional sphere mainly concerned Israel until two years ago when the Soviet-Egyptian arms transaction was concluded. Israel lost much of her capacity for independent action after the Communist arms deal which was the beginning of concrete Soviet penetration of the Middle East.

When the leftist forces in the Syrian Army won control in August, it was accompanied by Soviet press and broadcast attacks on Israel, with Moscow ardently playing its new role of champion of the Arabs.

"Recently," said Ben-Gurion, "Israel's name has been deleted from the plot, and none of us is sorry, although it would be unwise to come to any exaggerated optimistic conclusions.

★ ★ ★

Although the arrows of Syrian and Soviet propaganda are now aimed at Turkey it is not possible to say that Soviet enmity and hatred towards Israel has been weakened. . . "

Grows Big Cantaloupe

PONCA CITY, Okla. (UP)—O. W. Meyer has grown a lot of big cantaloupes but he had the prize this year. It weighed nine pounds and measured 25½ inches around one way and 28 inches the other way.

Makes Safe Bombing for Nuclear Pilots

BALTIMORE (UP)—The Air Force had developed an automatic bombing system that eliminates the possibility of pilots being caught in nuclear blasts from their own bombs.

★ ★ ★

Pilots flying at low altitudes must lob—rather than drop—nuclear bombs to the target. The delayed falling time allows them to speed safely from the blast.

To eliminate the possibility of human error during the lobbing action and turn, the new computer will guide the plane through the maneuver automatically.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force's Air Research and Development Command said today its engineers had developed a LABS — low altitude bombing system—computer which has been proved accurate and dependable. Pilots say the LABS is superior to the manual method.

10 Million Americans Own Stocks

Funston Proud of Spread

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

In just five years G. Keith Funston has taken Wall Street to Main Street.

It was just five years ago that the square-jawed business man and educator became president of the New York Stock Exchange.

An estimated six and one-half million Americans owned shares traded on the Exchange at the time. Today, largely as a result of Funston's leadership, that figure has been increased to 10 million.

Thus, the big upsurge of the market Wednesday—biggest advance since 1929—was watched perhaps by more people across America than ever before.

★ ★ ★

Funston is proud of this result of his leadership, for he has said, "The more we diffuse our property, the more we insure liberty."

The man who earns a salary of $100,000 a year was born the son of a bank employe. As a youngster, he lived in Waterloo, Iowa, and Sioux Falls, S.D.

★ ★ ★

He was graduated from Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., in 1932 with a bachelor of arts, with honors, and was class valedictorian. Then he polished his skills at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

ENTERS BUSINESS AT 24

After a year as research assistant at the business school, he went to work in 1935 as assistant to the vice president in charge of sales of the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary Corp.

He joined Sylvania Electric in 1940, served as special assistant to the war production board during the war, and became president of Trinity College in 1944 at age 33. He took a leave of absence to serve from 1944-45 as a Navy lieutenant commander, and on May 24, 1951, accepted the presidency of the New York Stock Exchange. He was 40 years old.

At once, he declared his belief that Wall Street should become a part of Main Street by making capitalists out of as many Americans as possible.

★ ★ ★

Last year, he had the pleasure of announcing that two-thirds of the share owners in public corporations have incomes of less than $7,500 a year.

Taxpayers:—

Do you want another mortgage on your home?

If Not —

VOTE NO ON THE SECOND HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE

Next Monday, October 28, 1957

Let's Keep On A Pay As You Go Basis!

A Bond Issue is simply another name for a Mortgage on your Home. A mortgage has to be paid. They persuaded you to slap a $3,000,000 mortgage on your home on the promise it would build a completely equipped hospital addition.

REMEMBER!

Last May you told them you did not want another mortgage on your homes. Stubborn men insist on forcing a Second Bond Issue down your throats.

VOTE NO!

The City Hall, Public Safety Building, Ada Shelley Library and West Side Fire Station were ALL built on a "Pay As You Go Basis." The Hospital can be finished the same way.

JUST LOOK!

(Haskin & Sells — Accountants)

Cash	$4,835,059.57
Receivables	3,147,264.16
TOTAL	$7,982,323.73

Unappropriated Surplus.....$4,005,183.97

WHY?

Why pay interest and financing costs of over $650,000.00 in thirty years to borrow $950,000.00 when we have over $4,000,000.00 in surplus and cash, and over $900,000.00 coming in for Capital Improvements each year?

Instead of paying interest and financing costs let us use the $650,000.00 we CAN save for other improvements we need. These improvements must come out of your tax dollar somehow—sometime!

REMEMBER!

We must still pay off the first Bond Issue of $3,000,000 plus the interest costs. Your total taxes have increased $2.37 per thousand since 1956! Can you keep it up?

NO BOND ISSUE NEEDED!

Last May we were told construction on the hospital addition would stop if a $1,850,000.00 Bond Issue was not voted. Today the hospital is finished but not equipped or furnished.

A little more clear thinking at City Hall after you say NO this time—will see the hospital equipped and furnished on a "Pay As You Go Basis."

City Hall says: "No tax hike in 1958 City Taxes." What about 1959 or 1960, or 1987? No City Commission can guarantee what a later City Commission or other Government Unit will do!

City Manager Willman emphasized "that other factors must be considered which might at a future date make it necessary to hike taxes"—Pontiac Press, October 23, 1957—

VOTE ☒ NO

Then you will know that your taxes won't be increased by this Bond Issue.

Our Total Tax Rate Has Increased $26.38 Since 1947, or from $20.29 to $47.54 in 1957, or 130% Including Schools

Junior Editors Quiz on SPIDERS

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: When a spider finishes spinning a web, it usually waits on one side until an insect is caught in the strong silk threads. Then it hurries down to bind the insect with more strands, which are covered with a stucky substance to hold the captive.

When the victim is bound, the spider eats and then repairs the damaged web. In this way, a spider helps man by destroying many harmful insects.

For years, naturalists sought to learn why a spider didn't get caught in its own web. The puzzle was solved in 1870 when the famed French naturalist, Jean Henri Fabre, discovered that the spider coats its own legs with an oily substance from its mouth and thus is able to pass easily over the sticky web.

FOR YOU TO DO: See how many spiders you can find and observe how different kinds build different types of webs.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Supervisors Committee to Undertake Study

Group to Sift County Mental Facilities

Lack of mental health facilities in Oakland County will be studied by the welfare committee of the Board of Supervisors, it was agreed yesterday.

★ ★ ★

After some discussion as to whether mental health was a proper subject for the welfare committee, it was decided to undertake the study of the need and the facilities available.

★ ★ ★

According to Mrs. Hope Lewis, chairman, the committee will meet again in two or three weeks at which time the State Mental Health Dept. and local interested groups such as the mental health committee of the Oakland County Medical Society will be asked to present any facts they have.

★ ★ ★

Supervisors on the committee will also study the problem and report their finding at this meeting, Mrs. Lewis said.

"We know this is a state-wide problem," she said, "and we want to know if the state is doing anything to solve it, before we try to do something locally."

The problem before the committee is to find suitable facilities for emergency and short-term treatment of the mentally ill which are now totally lacking.

Public interest in the matter was aroused recently by stories in The Pontiac Press detailing the fact that mentally disturbed persons are lodged in jail for lack of other facilities.

This Time From its Personnel

Army to Trim More Fat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army already pressed to cut the fat from its spending program, is also attacking fat on another front—that of its personnel.

A recent order, sent out in the form of a 42-page supply bulletin, recommends a 15-day low calorie diet. It's up to local commanders whether—and on whom—to put it into effect.

The bulletin suggests the diet "is applicable for use for personnel who have consistently put on weight due to the consumption of a ration of higher caloric value than required by their physical activity."

Or in other words, those who get fat because they eat too much.

Then, in a tactical vein, it adds: "The success of using this menu will depend on such factors as—the designation of a separate mess where it will be served, proper indoctrination and instruction on good eating habits, and motivating the individual by convincing him that he will both feel and look better if he eats a diet more in keeping with his energy requirements."

The order says "no personnel will be required to subsist on this menu without the prior approval of the local surgeon."

A suggested 15-day menu contains an average of 2,308 calories for each day, as contrasted with the 3,600 calories which the Army says are needed by the physically active and 3,000 by the relatively inactive.

Alcohol Revenue Tops

NEW YORK — According to the Distilled Spirits Institute, the nation's largest taxpayer is the alcoholic-beverage industry. It produced $4,096,820,296 in revenues for federal, state and local governments during 1956. This represents an increase of 8.2 per cent, or $311,861,563 over 1955 revenues.

Vie for Crown With Apple Pies

West Bloomfield Scene of County Competition Saturday

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Winners of district apple pie contests will compete for top Oakland County honors Saturday at West Bloomfield Township high school, Orchard Lake and Commerce roads.

Judging of pies will take place at 1 p.m. Contestants are asked to bring their pies to the school during the 11 a.m. — 1 p.m. period.

A highlight of the event will be announcement of an Apple Pie Queen of Oakland County. Selection of the queen has been made by Kiwanis Club officials who are sponsoring the contest.

John Finlayson, a member of the West Bloomfield Township Kiwanis Club and county chairman of the pie contest, announced that State Senator Harvey Lodge would crown the queen. Finlayson also expects Sen. William Broomfield to be on hand for the occasion.

Pies will be judged on a percentage basis with a maximum of 50 points for the crust and a maximum of 50 points for the filling. Prizes will be awarded to the winners.

★ ★ ★

The pie contest is part of a Kiwanis-sponsored project to help push sale and use of Michigan apples.

EXCURSION QUEEN — When the tiny Mississippi-River boat, Island Queen makes her final trip around Kensington Park waters, Sunday, she will have carried some 25,000 passengers this season, according to park manager, David Laidlaw.

Stern Wheeler Fades Till Next Summer

'Island Queen' Plies Last Trip Sunday

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

When the "Island Queen" makes her last trip of the season around Kensington Lake Sunday, the sturdy little boat will have carried more than 25,000 sightseers.

An authentic replica of a Mississippi stern wheeler, the vessel has traveled some 3,500 miles this summer, according to park manager Dave Laidlaw.

A hugh paddle on the rear motivates the boat, powered by a 27-horsepower motor. Top speed is only eight miles per hour. However, passengers are not concerned with how fast they are transported.

Approximately 60 passengers are accommodated on the Queen each trip, and her two decks are wide open for broad viewing and cooling breezes.

There are 21 miles of scenic shoreline to be observed on the 45-minute jaunt around the lake. Not only do spectators see the beautiful hills and woods that are in the state-owned park, but wild life of every description inhabit the area.

Hundreds of wild geese seem to sense that they are protected on the big, man made lake.

Many wild deer roam the area and long-legged cranes stand in dead-still positions as the boat paddles by. Small dark piles of cattails and brush indicate that busy beavers are preparing for winter's icy blast.

After he had assembled the welded steel hull, and added the wooden superstructure, Hoffman knocked down one of the walls in the barn and took the Queen outside to install the motor.

That was three years ago, and since that time, tourists from all over the country have plied the Kensington Lake waters, enjoying the "down-south" boat in an "up-north" atmosphere.

Plans for an excursion boat and docks were provided for in the original blueprints when the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority was first organized in 1945.

It wasn't until two years ago that the right vessel was found to answer the company's specifications, Laidlaw said.

During the summer months, after the last trip of the day at 6 p.m., the boat has been chartered by individual groups.

The Queen can be seen floating off-shore in the evenings, especially during the Saturday-night summer band concerts presented by the Milford high school.

The boat will be floated over two concrete piers Monday morning, then the water level is dropped three feet, Laidlaw said, "and thar she sits, high and dry," until next summer's call to duty.

★ ★ ★

This automatic dry-dock procedure takes from two to three weeks for the lowering of the water level, Laidlow explained, and is controlled at the main dam, situated on the south side of Grand River Ave.

JUDITH I. STRINE

The engagement of Judith Inez Strine to Barry Eugene Coutts is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Strine of Orchard Lake. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Merle Coutts and the late Eugene Coutts of Beloit, Wisc. A June wedding is planned.

Grange Names Three, Passes Resolutions

STURGIS (AP) — Two tax resolutions, election of a new executive board member and choice of Cadillac as 1958 convention site were among highlights at the 84th annual Michigan State Grange meeting in Sturgis.

One resolution endorsed legislation that would repeal or amend the Trailer Park Act so the amount of school taxes charged each trailer owner and trailer park could be increased.

Another asked that a new form of taxation be devised to finance the construction of new schools so "the responsibility be more uniformly distributed among the people."

At the convention, concluding yesterday, John Butz of Ludington was elected an executive board member, and Harold B. Strang of Three Rivers and Fred Beckman of Milford were re-elected to two-year terms.

Appoint Mrs. Broecker

HADLEY—Mrs. Ernest Broecker has been appointed acting postmistress at Hadley, pending the appointment in Washington of a postmaster or postmistress. She succeeds Mrs. Edna Hadley, who has retired.

Homecoming of Marlette Church Sunday

MARLETTE — The 45th anniversary homecoming of the Marlette United Missionary Church will be held on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rachel Kiteley, 90, oldest and only charter member of the church, and the widow of the Rev. Nelson Kiteley who founded the church in 1912, will be present for the event.

Program will begin at 10 a.m. with a special and combined Sunday School hour.

Other services: Morning worship at 11 a.m., with the message by the Rev. Donald H. Severance; 2:30 p.m. service with the Rev. W. K. Burgess of Detroit speaking, and a Hymn Sing at 8 p.m.

Testing Results Heard by Board

Officers of Lake Orion Schools Say Findings Help Make Curriculum

LAKE ORION — Last night the School Board here heard reports of Mrs. Vena Kirkpatrick, elementary administrator, on results of summer school and testing programs.

A summary of class loads reveal only four classes in the whole system with over 40 students. In the high school, four driver training classes have 10 each; 27 classes have 10-20 students; 61 have 20-30; and 37 have 30-40. This reportedly is a big improvement over any recent year.

A tractor and snow blade have been purchased and a six-foot mower blade ordered for maintainance of the high school. A special transmission to allow 20 mph speed will enable tractor use on other school sites.

Mrs. Roselea Francis of Lake Orion will be service chairman of the Hostess Committee of the Michigan State Homemaking Teachers' Conference in Grand Rapids Nov. 15.

Waterford Will Offer Adult Recreation

Indoor games and athletics for adult Waterford Township couples will begin Monday, under sponsorship of the recreation department at the Community Activities center.

Every Monday evening from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., the gym and game room will be open for volleyball, basketball, table tennis, shuffleboard and other games.

"This will be the first organized indoor athletic and games activity for adult couples offered in the township," recreation director director Tom Belton said.

There will be a membership fee, and for further information interested residents have been asked to call the recreation office at OR 3-9152.

Fire Destroys Building of Golf, Country Club

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Fire destroyed the Traverse City Golf and Country Club building Thursday.

Loss was estimated at $125,000 by Jerry Mihulka, president of the club. He said it was covered by insuranoe.

Saturday Open House for Southfield Nike

SOUTHFIELD — The public has been invited to the open house of the Nike post here Saturday at 10:30 a.m. The Southfield Nike Site will be formally dedicated and open house will be coupled with the 40th anniversary of Army Anti-Aircraft Artillery. Following the formal program, personnel will conduct tours through the fire control center and launching site of the post, which is located on Eleven Mile road, west of Telegraph.

Los Angeles has more motor trucks registered than do the five boroughs of New York City. Los Angeles has 250,602 trucks as compared with 118,257 for all of New The University of Nebraska.

Pass Petitions for 5 Sites

OK Village Area Rezoning

LAKE ORION — The Orion Township Board has approved five of six petitions presented by Victor Adler, planning consultant, for Village Acres which comprises 3,000 acres of the township.

★ ★ ★

Those approved were for two light manufacturing areas, a cemetery, a shopping center, and garden-type apartments of from two to eight units.

Turned down was a drive-in theater, proposed at the corner of Joslyn and Clarkston roads.

About sixty residents had attended two open meetings of the Orion Zoning Board and hired a lawyer in protest before the zoners finally passed the petition over their wishes.

On rezoning of the corner for the drive-in, the board rejected this after representatives of the Randall Beach area appeared in a third protest.

With Safe Evening in View

Slate Halloween Fun

Many communities of the Oakland County area are planning Halloween activity for their youngsters. Firemen, church and school groups, and service clubs all are working toward an evening of safe and constructive fun for youth on Oct. 31.

Avon Township

Children and friends of the entire Sunday School of Elmwood Church here will go calling in costume for UNICEF on Halloween night and attend a party at the church afterward.

The youths, about 100 in all, will leave the church at 7 in their search for funds and will meet afterward at 8 for a party in the church. There will be games, prizes and refreshments for all, according to Monroe Frederick, chairman of the event.

The idea was tried last year with members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Church and the group netted about $25 for UNICEF.

Addison Township

Hot dogs, rolls and sweet cider will be served. Food donations are being made by an area couple and a Leonard Electric firm.

Rochester

Young people of St. Paul Methodist Church here will conduct a house-to-house canvass for UNICEF.

The group will meet at the church house Thursday evening, Oct. 31, and go out to call at homes in the community.

UNICEF is an important function of the United Nations and the need for assistance in aiding children all over the world is tremendous. Medical supplies, food for a balanced diet, school books and materials are all furnished by UNICEF.

The youths will return to the church house for reports and refreshments later. All young people from 15 to 17 are invited to attend.

Hadley

Young people of the Hadley Federated Church are planning a costume party at the church on Saturday, Oct. 26, to be held from 8 to 11:30 p.m.

Four Towns

Wind-Fanned Blaze Guts Armada Home

ARMADA — High winds fanned the flames which yesterday afternoon gutted the frame home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schluentz, 22380 Pratt Rd., two miles north of here.

★ ★ ★

Local volunteer firemen, fighting the blaze in the bitter cold, sent for the Romeo department to assist them in their two-hour battle. Both Mr. and Mrs. Schluentz and their four young sons were home when the fire broke out.

★ ★ ★

Neighbors helped the Schluentz family in trying to save some household articles and Mrs. Robert McRae, 22620 Pratt Rd., cut her hand while breaking a window in a storm door. The homeless family was taken in by the Nick Porte's, next door.

Walled Lake WSCS Sets Tuesday Program

WALLED LAKE — As part of a week of prayers and self denial from Oct. 25 to 31, members of the WSCS of the Walled Lake Methodist Church will meet at the church for a quiet day on Tuesday.

From 10:30 until 1:30 there will be prayer and devotional services, and lunch. Each member is asked to bring a sack lunch. Beverages will be furnished. At 1:30, a study class will convene with Mrs. Frances Watkins as teacher.

Rotary Anns Give to UF

CLARKSTON — Checks were presented to the United Fund and UNICEF by the members of the Rotary Anns this week at their meeting held at the home of Mrs. William Stamp, 6188 S. Main St. Mrs. William Sharpe and Mrs. Rudolph Schwarze were co-hostesses.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas party, at which time members bring gifts for distribution by the Society for Crippled Children. Club members are very active in work for the Society.

An interesting program was given during the meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beattie of Waterford, who showed films of the Glidden Automobile Tour. Beattie won a prize with his 1903 Ford during this tour.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Rolfe Smith on Maybee Road, Nov. 26.

Oxford School Chorus Has Bake Sale Tonight

OXFORD—A bake sale from 6 to 9 tonight at Delano's is another in the series of projects planned by the Oxford High School chorus to finance the purchase of choir robes for the 85 member group.

★ ★ ★

The choir has been invited to sing at the annual Mid-West Music Conference in Ann Arbor in January and hopes to raise the necessary $1,400 for robes before that time.

1958 STUDEBAKERS

America's family sports car . . . the versatile GOLDEN HAWK

This year, Studebaker-Packard steps away out front in automotive styling, value and performance. New longer, lower Flight-Stream silhouettes mark the entire line . . . from America's lowest-priced, full-sized automobiles, the famous Scotsman series—to the brilliant new President, Commanders, Champions and the famous Golden and Silver Hawks. Graceful Hawk-inspired fins, new grilles and dual headlights set in jet-sweep nacelles give these new cars a dashing appearance, in the best of taste.

Exclusive variable rate springs and variable ratio steering for easy handling combine with a new Luxury-Level ride to provide driving comfort unmatched even by cars costing hundreds of dollars more.

All this, plus dependable service, unsurpassed operating economy, and proven resale value make a Studebaker the one automobile that every '58 car buyer should be sure to evaluate!

'Machines Are Better Teachers'

Air Force Official Says Equipment is Consistent Adjusts to Pupil's Pace

DENVER (INS)—Machines used to teach Air Force trainees "have some advantages over human instructors," says a Lowry Air Force Base official.

Narman A. Crowder of the staff of the Maintenance Laboratory of the Air Force Personnel and Training Research Center at Lowry, says machines "can be infinitely patient, can adjust to the pace of the student, they are always consistent and there is no danger of a conflict in personalities."

Crowder says the devices, built to train Air Force maintenance workers, can reproduce as many as 8,000 pages of information on plates rather than the conventional strips. Each plate contains a multiple-choice question.

The student selects an answer, punches the proper page number, and if he is right, the new page presents another problem. If the student guessed wrong, the new page explains why.

Another machine continuously examines the reader on material he has read and corrects any misunderstandings he may have. Another device lets the student watch a film that explains the job he has been assigned, and the student follows the filmed instructions.

Dr. Leslie Briggs says the devices let the student work at his own rate in learning required facts and principles.

All Syria Arms - - Guns, but No Discipline

By JOHN J. CASSERLY

I drove for miles through Syria this week, going as far as the Turkish frontier, and watched new Russian and Czech arms being passed into the hands of 13-year-olds and men and women in their 60s.

Elderly women riding donkeys were armed with shiny new automatic rifles. The men say the women are good shots at long distances.

I watched the Syrian army training in uniforms similar to those of the Afrika Corps, the officers angularly belted from shoulder to hip and wearing hats like the ones Field Marshal Edwin Rommel used to fancy.

ARMED BOYS GOOSESTEP

High school boys carried communist-made submachine guns, marched with a step reminiscent of the goosestep and chanted Arabic national songs.

★ ★ ★

They were followed by six-and-seven-year-olds, the little girls dressed in black with immaculate white collars looked as if they were going to church or a picnic.

A teenage youth passionately addressing a crowd in the town of Homs called on all to defend Syria.

The speaker was surrounded by immaculately clean flags of all the Arab nations. A paper peddler proclaimed the news: "Guns in the hills. Tomorrow we dig trenches."

I asked several Syrian hitchhikers what is the meaning of all this armament. The replies were the same — to defend our land, our people, our future.

Asked who was attacking, they answered: Maybe the Turks with the Israelis from the rear. Anyway it is best to be prepared.

NOT WELL ORGANIZED

Dusty Syrian troops riding on tanks were spread across the frontier roads, peering into the distant hills of Turkey, but while watching them drill one got the impression they were not too well organized.

★ ★ ★

Soldiers and civilians told me similar arming is going on throughout the country. I could see that for myself while covering much of the country in an automobile.

The latest American two-tone cars speed along the highways past Russian trucks. Nearly all have rifles sticking out the windows.

The fast traffic is sometimes slowed by herds of sheep, donkey carts and camels wearing tinkling bells. The mudgrass villages one passes haven't changed, except for the rifle stacks, since the time of Christ.

The Syrians seem to be going fully military but they apparently are unorganized and lack discipline.

Boy Struck by Baseball Finds Piece of Tooth

Norse explorer Lief Ericsson was driven by storm onto the American coast in the year 1000 at a place he called Wineland for the grapes he found there.

SOFT TOP CONVERTIBLE — The Continental Mark III, is one of a full line of four Continental models for 1958. This long, low convertible has an all-glass reverse slanting rear window, power operated by the driver, and a top which automatically retracts under the rear deck lid. Other Continental models include a four-door sedan, four-door hardtop and two-door hardtop. Dealer here for the Continental and Lincoln is the Central Lincoln Mercury, Sales Inc., 40 W. Pike St.

Continental, Lincoln Blend Classic Design, Luxury

DETROIT (INS) — The classic design of the Continental and the luxurious appointments of the Lincoln are artfully blended in these completely new 1958 passenger cars that will be introduced publicly in November.

Both lines feature single-unit construction in which the body and frame are welded into one piece for "greater rigidity and quietness."

* * *

The Continental Mark III and the Lincoln Premiere and Capri are powered by new 375-HP V-8 engines with a compression ratio of 10.5 to 1. The Lincoln and Mercury division of Ford Motor Co. also will offer as optional a 400-HP engine, the highest to be announced by the industry so far.

The Continental and Lincoln have the same general styling, including lattice-type grilles both front and rear, and canted dual headlamps set vertically into the front fenders instead of horizontally as in most new automobiles.

For the first time in its history the Continental is being offered in four different models, a four-door sedan, a four-door hardtop, a unique soft-top convertible and the the traditional two-door hardtop.

The Continental and Lincoln are 229 inches long and have an overall height of 56.5 inches.

Bandleader Lyman Leaves $250,000 Estate

His will, filed yesterday for probate, estimated the estate at more than $250,000.

Lyman, 59, whose song hits included "I Cried for You," died of cancer.

Guilty in Car Death

SAGINAW (AP) — Joseph Corbett, 50, Saginaw, pleaded guilty to negligent homicide Thursday in the traffic death of a Flint man after the charge had been reduced from manslaughter. He is charged with driving the car which killed Jesse J. Howard, 35, last Dec. 17. Circuit Court Judge James E. O'Neill set no date for sentencing and continuel Corbett's $3,000 bond.

Check Pot-O-Gold Answers Here

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) FUNNEL. A Funnel, in this sense, as on a ship, pours forth smoke constantly, and it's to be expected that soot would accumulate in it. A TUNNEL is often an underpass for a speed highway, in open country, with clean air and little soot.

B. (4) EFFACE. It's hard to destroy the idea of a long-held grudge. Erase means primarily to rub out, in a visual sense, and applies only figuratively in its relation to thoughts.

C. (6) FRUITFUL. For the average young man, losing his first job may well be FRUITFUL or profitable, for he can learn from this experience. Surely such a loss need not be Frightful, or alarming, for a youth has plenty of opportunities ahead that may be better than the one he lost.

D. (8) PRAISE. It's a man's PRAISE, the acclaim given to beauty, that most women appreciate. It doesn't really matter just what the Phrase itself, or the wording, is. It's the PRAISE that counts.

E. (9) INVENTOR. An INVENTOR has a scientific mind, and is rarely experienced in financial matters. Usually, his only means of promoting his invention is through someone with money to back him. In this deal, he often gets less than he should. An Investor frequently exploits himself in his eagerness to get rich quick; it's his own carelessness that puts him into a position to be cheated.

F. (12) REPROVE. An apartment house superintendent would hardly Remove an elevator man for being rude to a tenant only once. He would only reprimand him, and not fire him unless the offense were repeated too often.

G. (13) WAITER. Since a WAITER receives most of his pay in tips, there is no accurate check on his earnings. With the exception of small miscellaneous amounts, the earnings of a Writer are reported by the magazines or periodicals to which he sells his work.

H. (15) LATER. A factory established in opposition to a union has non-union Labor, which would not be expected to cause trouble. But LATER, troubles would probably occur when the shut-out union caused a boycott, or set up pickets to keep customers away.

I. (17) SCATTERING. "Curious about everything" suggests a knowledge divided among many different subjects, rather than a Smattering, or a superficial knowledge.

J. (19) BIZARRE. Odd or whimsical purchases would be laughed at by the husband of a woman who showed too little sales-resistance on an Oriental tour. It would hardly matter whether she made her purchases in a Bazaar—the typical Oriental shop—or not.

K. (22) NARROWING. Many people are uneasy that with so many nuclear tests, the accumulation of fallout in the upper air will NARROW down the margin of safety to a dangerous level. It's this cumulative hazard that is Harrowing, causing anxiety and distress.

L. (23) SLAVISH. An older man who humbles himself for every whim of a pretty young girl seems ridiculous to others because it is not a wholesome romance. Lavish devotion would be a matter of his financial means—whether he can afford expensive gifts.

M. (25) PAUSED. If a large crowd stopped on the street below, one might rush to the window, curious as to why a crowd was collecting. A crowd that only Passed might be coming home from a meeting, or from a movie.

N. (28) CONCRETE. In dealing with an unreliable firm, Complete agreement is hardly satisfactory unless it is CONCRETE—existing in material form, as in writing.

O. (30) DELECTABLE. A pleasing odor of cake in the oven would find Johnny all agog, on his homecoming from school. A Detachable odor might not necessarily be tempting. Perhaps it could just be the cake burning that he smells.

P. (31) SUBJECT. It isn't just the Suspect himself, about whom the police would want facts which might be obtained from a lie detector. The whole SUBJECT of the crime and all the circumstances should be investigated.

Q (33) DEBASE. There are always historians who like to create a sensation by putting feet of clay on popular idols: a President who achieved great things was only thinking about re-election, etc. To Debate his motives is only a left-handed way of suggesting that they were not always good.

R. (35) HAPLESS. A HAPLESS man is unfortunate, and it may not be wholly his own fault if he is a derelict. Being taught a trade may put him back on his feet again. This is far more likely for him than for a man who is Hopeless and therefore not very willing to cooperate.

S. (38) SUDDEN. If a friend had not been speaking to you for months, the fact that all of a SUDDEN he spoke at all would be the startling thing, whether his hello was Sullen—or ill-tempered—or not.

T. (40) FINENESS. "Teen-age son" is the deciding factor here. Finesse, skill in handling delicate and difficult situations successfully, is usually an attribute of age and experience. But an intelligent teen-ager could be endowed with FINENESS, exceptional character and ability.

PONTIAC AREA UNITED FUND

1957 TORCH DRIVE

November 4 – 26th

"give 'til it helps . . .

. . . give once for all!"

It sometimes takes mentally retarded children years to learn even the simplest things. But most of them can. Yet, without love, without care, there is no hope. That is why it is so important for them to attend special schools that you can help support through the Pontiac Area United Fund. Here they are given special guidance and sympathetic understanding. Here, they are patiently taught those things that come quickly and naturally to normal children.

And only in this way can they come back to society. Many previously helpless mentally retarded children are now leading useful and happy lives because of help like this.

However, facilities are still overcrowded. Unless you give, many of these children will never receive the training they so desperately need. These children need your help now. Give to the United Fund and give generously. Remember, your dollars are shared by 55 services including the Michigan Association for Retarded Children.

Summerfield in Tax Case

U.S. Appeals Decision Giving Him Judgment Against Income Levy

CINCINNATI (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals, sixth circuit, today took under advisement the government's appeal from a decision giving Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield and his wife judgement of $183,895.11 against the Internal Revenue Department.

Summerfield and his wife, Miriam, paid the money under protest on income for 1948. They already had paid $103,870 in income tax that year. U.S. District Judge Theodore Levin in Detroit upheld the Summerfields' suit on Oct. 5, 1956, and gave them the judgement.

The case revolved around the sale by Mrs. Summerfield of 333⅓ shares of stock in the Summerfield Chevrolet Agency in Flint, Mich., in 1948. She got $440,000 for the shares.

The return was taxed on a straight income tax basis. Mrs. Summerfield contended, in paying the $183,895.11 under protest, that she should have been taxed under a capital gains consideration.

The appellate court was told today in a hearing that Mrs. Summerfield was given $215,000 in cash and $225,000 in a mortgage note. That, the government contended, removed her right to a capital gains claim, since she still was interested in the company to the extent of the mortgage note.

Charles K. Rice, assistant attorney general, Washington, contended that Judge Levin misapprehended the applicable regulations of the Internal Revenue Department. He argued that sale of stock by Mrs. Summerfield did not relieve her of responsibility as the mortgaged note made her a long time secured creditor.

Frank H. Boyer, Detroit, attorney representing the Summerfields, told the court the government, in its arguments sought to minimize the facts.

"We have heard much about internal revenue regulations, but very little about statutes," he declared, adding: "If the government is going to misconstrue regulations, they should be brought to account."

The court was told by Assistant Attorney Gen. Rice that the Summerfield Automobile Agency was one of the largest and most successful in the country.

He quoted figures giving net earnings of $32,845 in 1945, and $73,300 three years later. The firm had a surplus of $131,000 in 1945, $553,800 in 1947; and $410,000 in 1948 after Mrs. Summerfield had been paid for her shares, Rice said.

Detroit Neighbors in Court Over 'Kiss' From a Dog

DETROIT (INS) — Mrs. Pauline Smodic and Mrs. Clarence Blackman went to court over a "kiss."

Mrs. Smodic said she was hanging up rugs to dry when a black Spitz dog owned by Mrs. Blackman, her next-door neighbor, bit her on the cheek.

"Why, Baby wouldn't do that," said Mrs. Blackman. "She just jumped up to kiss you."

Mrs. Smodic told Common Pleas Judge Harry J. Dingeman Jr., she made three trips to Saratoga General Hospital for shots and other repairs because of the "kiss."

The court awarded Mrs. Smodic a $200 judgement and assessed Mrs. Blackman and her husband an additional $20 costs.

Memory of Past Inspires Work by Mrs. MacIntyre

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Malcolm MacIntyre, wife of the new undersecretary of the Air Force, has written a guide book on Washington — "so that he who comes as a stranger may leave a friend," she says.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. MacIntyre says she was prompted to write the book by remembrance of her own early years in Washington when her husband was stationed here with the Air Transport Command during World War II.

Mrs. MacIntyre confides she's aways been interested in writing, but while her three children were still very young she confined her efforts to turning out child care articles for magazines.

★ ★ ★

CAKE FOR BREAKFAST

★ ★ ★

And the family cook, Horine Putnam, who keeps a supply of very, very black cake with an inch-thick fudge icing ever ready, verifies this.

Horine says the former soap mogul and the three McElroy children eat chocolate cake instead of toast for their eye-opener meal.

★ ★ ★

McElroy tells his wife that eating Horine's cake is as normal as putting marmalade on toast for breakfast. Mrs. McElroy is sticking to marmalade on toast.

LATE TO PARTY

Mrs. Robert Kennedy, pretty young wife of the chief counsel of the Senate committee investigating improper practices in labor and management, was an hour and a half late to a party in her honor.

★ ★ ★

A "regular" in the audience at the crowded committee hearings, Mrs. Kennedy told members of the 10th District Women's Democratic Club of Virginia she had gotten so interested in the proceedings she lost track of the time. She arrived at 5:30 for the 4 to 6 p.m. reception.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Kennedy said she and her husband hope to get a few days vacation at Christmastime.

So far, Kennedy has been able to get away from his committee work only once, for five days in early September.

Show Concern for Her as a Person

Perfectionist Mother Needs Love

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "My mother is not interested in her house, she is obsessed by it. As she grows older she finds it difficult to keep up with allof the demands she makes on herself. In short, she is a perfectionist.

"Now I find her always examining me to see if she can find something wrong. How can she learn to relax and be more carefree and casual?"

A. Many people become more critical as they grow older. She is probably not looking for things wrong with you, but is just getting more critical generally. Many women do this as they become subjected to the discomforts and fears of aging.

Characteristics of youth and middle age are apt to be intensified in age. If one is irresponsible in youth, she is more so as she grows older. If she is intolerant in youth, she may be more so when older.

* * *

If she is sweet in youth, she may be more so in age. If she is hard to live with in her younger years, she may be impossible to live with in old age.

Your mother always has been a perfectionist in her housekeeping and therefore now drives herself past her endurance as she grows older. Emphasize your concern for her as a person. Give her love and understanding.

Maybe it would help if you would let her know that you would much rather have her as a rested and gay companion than have the house perfect—and you might offer to help with her housework. Have you? She might also get help from a psychiatrist.

* * *

Q. "Please tell me what hypertension means. I think it means high blood pressure. My friend says it means nervous tension."

A reader is advised to emphasize her concern for her perfectionist mother as a person, and to give her love and understanding.

A. It means high blood pressure. Worry and nervous tension sometimes cause it.

* * *

Q. "My fingernails are awful. They split and are soft. What causes this?"

A. It probably is due to an inadequate diet. Lack of calcium and vitamin D used to be thought the reason. Now emphasis is on protein. A well-balanced diet, reinforced with vitamins, probably will turn the trick.

* * *

Q. "What can be done for eyebrows which will not stay in place? Mine are wild looking and most unattractive."

A. After tweezing out the hairs which are out of line, apply a little petroleum jelly. You can use this sparingly in the daytime, too. It gives the brows a nice sheen.

* * *

Q. "I have a friend who began plucking hairs from her chin when she was about 38. After doing this for a few years, the growth became so much heavier. How can folks say that tweezing does not make the hair growth thicker?"

A. Your friend was at the age when she was likely to have more facial hair. It is a question of glandular setup, not tweezing.

Budgets May Be Ruined by Sneaky Commercials

By RUTH MILLETT

Picture Mom, Dad, Sis, and Junior sitting around the family TV set watching shoot-'em-ups, psychological thrillers, quiz shows and comedians.

The set is turned off. Mom sits thinking about new dining room furniture she simply must have. Dad wonders about payments on a new car. Sis insists that the family should have a boat so she can learn water-skiing.

That's really no joke. Advertisers have experimented enough to know that they can flash a message on a movie or TV screen so quickly that it isn't comprehended by the conscious mind but makes a deep impression on the subconscious.

* * *

If they start making use of what they have learned by feeding us hidden commercials, we will really be at their mercy.

We'll be wanting more and more things, without knowing why.

JUNK THE SET

All I can suggest—if this new type of advertising gets a toe-hold—is that we junk the TV set.

* * *

The American family is already an easy mark for the advertiser who knows how to appeal to our fears, our ambitions, our insecurities, our snobbishness and our determination to keep up with the Joneses.

With all our defenses at work, we still go into debt for things we don't need and will be made unhappy with things that are still usable. But they won't be the newest, the biggest or the best.

But think what they could sell us if they went to work on our subconscious minds and we had no defense against their selling tactics.

At Home of Mrs. Russell Costello

Founders Day Celebrated by Delta Zeta Sorority

The Pine Lake road home of Mrs. Russell T. Costello was opened to members of Delta Zeta Sorority yesterday when they gathered to celebrate Founders Day. Mrs. Costello is the national president of Delta Zeta.

★ ★ ★

Additional guests included several national and state officers living in this area who took part in the program. Others were members of Wayne State University's chapter, whose president, Lois McKee, was named "Sorority Girl of the Year" by the Detroit Pan Hellenic Association.

A buffet dinner was served, prepared by Mrs. Alton C. Densmore, Mrs. Winfield C. Hinman, Mrs. Robert V. Kerley, Mrs. Cecil M. King, Mrs. William Konde, Mrs. Earl Long, Mrs. F. L. Lutze, Mrs. W. Dean Perry, Mrs. Wilbur A. Sears, Mrs. Holland R. Sperry, and Mrs. Harold Van Dragt.

Members observed their traditional Founders Day renewal of vows and candle - lighting ceremony, conducted by Mrs. Hinman, chairman of the Oakland Alumnae, assisted by members of Oakland Group II Alumnae.

Presentation of initiation robes to Wayne State's chapter followed. Mrs. Donald C. Burch, chairman of Oakland Group II which made the garments using the new Delta Zeta design, presented them to Miss McKee who accepted them on behalf of her chapter.

Concluding the program was a panel discussion on the modernization of Delta Zeta's administrative organization.

Participating in the talks were Mrs. Costello, moderator; Mrs. Hugh Alborell, retiring state chairman; Mrs. George W. Betker Jr., province secretary; Mrs. Richard R. Goodwin, province director; and Mrs. Harold McCracken, member of the national judiciary committee.

Mrs. Hoisington Entertains Circle of Joslyn Church

Mrs. Glenn Hoisington was hostess to the Ruth Missionary Circle of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church at her Northfield avenue home Thursday afternoon.

The program was presented by Mrs. Eugene Hoisington.

Appointed to the nominating committee by Mrs. Francis Oak, president, were Mrs. Alford Denman, Mrs. Glenn Hoisington, and Mrs. Lloyd Hoyt.

Mrs. Floyd Miller and Mrs. Howard Keepin will serve on the committee planning the annual Christmas party.

Also participating in the program was Mrs. Harry Lunsford.

Mrs. Leonard Cotter will entertain the group for the November meeting.

Women Voters Discuss Revision

The League of Women Voters met Wednesday at the home of Lillian Davidson on Camley street. President, Amy Krueger, introduced guests, Mrs. Felix Mays and Mrs. Robert Sparks.

Chairman of the unit meeting was Mrs. Robert Matheson. The topic of discussion was the state agenda on constitutional revision. Mrs. John Borsvold reported on the History of the Constitution of the State of Michigan.

Hospital Guild to Sponsor Tea

Mrs. Lawrence Biladeau and Mrs. Ray E. Goldsworthy have been named cochairmen for Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Guild's membership tea and flower demonstration to be held Monday at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Assisting with arrangements will be Mrs. LeRoy Johnson, Mrs. J. J. Labikis, Mrs. Irwin Posner, Mrs. Harvey Bridenstine and Mrs. Bernard Horowitz.

Club Hears Mr. Poole Give Talk

Newcomers Club of Pontiac took a trip into the past Wednesday evening when Richard Poole of Oakland County Historical Foundation presented a history of Pontiac. He also spoke about the foundation's purpose and efforts in restoring the Gov. Moses Wisner Home.

★ ★ ★

The group met in the West Lawrence street home of Mrs. Larned Runnels. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Howard Droesser, Mrs. Morton Bacon and Mrs. Sam Miller.

Received as a new member was Mrs. Gordon Adams. Mrs. Richard Dobat, Mrs. Pearson Wood and Mrs. Richard Boyer were guests.

Mrs. Menton Uses Sugary Nut Filling in Rich Coffee Cake

By JANET ODELL

There are hot roll mixes which are wonderful to use But there is still a wealth of tempting recipes that are made from scratch. Such a recipe is Mrs. Stanley Menton's Nut Roll. It makes two good-sized coffee cakes.

Mrs. Menton is a new resident of Oakland county. She lives in Farmington Township in a new suburban adevelopment. Reading and gardening are two of her hobbies.

NUT ROLL

By Mrs. Stanley Menton

4 cups sifted flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup butter
1 cake yeast
1 cup milk
3 beaten egg yolks

Sift flour and measure. Add sugar, salt and then sift. Cut in butter as for pie crust. Add crumbled yeast to milk and stir until yeast has dissolved. Add beaten egg yolks to this mixture of milk and yeast.

Combine milk and eggs with first mixture (dry ingredients) and knead until smooth. Cover and place mixture in refrigerator over night.

Next morning, divide the dough in two parts. Roll out each half separately until thin. Spread with filling. Roll up as for jelly roll and place in greased pan (can use tube pan).

Let rise for two hours and bake in 325-degree oven for 40-60 minutes. Frost while warm if desired.

Filling

½ cup honey
½ cup sugar
2 pounds ground nuts
Cream
Vanilla or cinnamon

Mix honey, sugar and nuts and add cream until moist. Add flavoring and blend mixture to spread smoothly. One cup of sugar may be used in place of half honey and half sugar.

Married Saturday evening in First Congregational Church were Zina C. Forrest and Richard L. Barnes. Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Forrest are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Coy W. Barnes.

Zina Catherine Forrest Speaks Marriage Vows

White chrysanthemums and stephanotis banked the altar of First Congregational Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Zina Catherine Forrest and Richard L. Barnes. The Rev. Karl Ostberg performed the ceremony before 100 guests.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Forrest of West Fairmount avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of the Coy W. Barnes of Modesto, Calif.

A brother of the bride, Max Forrest, was the best man. Guests were seated by Frank Doll and Joe Odorizzi.

Before leaving on a trip to northern Michigan and then Hawaii the new Mrs. Barnes changed to a beige fur-trimmed sheath dress with brown accessories. The couple will live in Los Angeles.

The bride was graduated from Pontiac Business Institute and the bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Southern California.

Husband's Discourtesy Spotlighted

Wife Reminds Him to Help Guest With Her Wrap

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was visiting my brother and his wife the other evening when a friend of my sister-in-law's dropped in The four of us sat chatting for about an hour and when she was ready to go home my sister-in-law handed her her coat.

"My brother who was standing close by did not offer to help her with her coat and so his wife turned to him and said, 'John will you help Mary with her coat?' My brother seemed rather embarrassed as he went forward to help her.

"I thought my sister-in-law was very much in the wrong for calling his lack of courtesy to his attention in front of her friend, and that it was very humiliating to my brother to have to be told what to do. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: It would have been more tactful had she said, "My but this coat is heavy, John. Do help Mary put it on." But as it is, perhaps he will not have to be prompted next time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Shouldn't some acknowledgment be made of a wedding announcement? Even if this does not require the sending of a present, shouldn't a message of congratulations at least be sent to the wedding couple? It seems to me very rude to ignore the announcement completely. What do you say about this?"

Answer: An announcement merely informs a person that a wedding has taken place and requires no acknowledgment. On the other hand, should the announcement come from a personal friend who had no wedding to speak of, you would naturally want to send a present or at least a message of good wishes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am giving a bachelor party for a friend of mine who is to be married soon and I would like to know just who should be invited to this party, and also if the fathers of the bride and bridegroom should be asked."

Answer: You must invite the best man and the ushers and ask the bridegroom what other intimate friends he would like to have you invite. It would be most unusual to include the fathers.

Trio Undertakes Big, Important Job

United Fund Drive Workers Busily Serve the Community

There probably aren't three busier women in the Pontiac area than Mrs. George Eldred, Mrs. Ralph Norvell and Mrs. Donald White. And they're going to be busier.

★ ★ ★

They have undertaken a big job, a very important and worthwhile job. They're helping with the United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Eldred is geographical chairman of the Women's Division in the United Fund campaign, and Mrs. Norvell and Mrs. White are heading captains and solicitors from the Pontiac and Waterford areas, respectively.

Each geographic district captain has approximately 15 solicitors in her district. This means that over 600 women brave the rain and snow to make their calls. They make house-to-house calls and solicit small businesses outside the downtown district.

In the past this division has been increasingly successful. The solicitors raised $19,056.15 in 1955 and in the fall of 1956 they raised $21,169. This division is primarily concerned with housewives, many of whom want to make their own contribution.

★ ★ ★

In many instances housewives have been known to put aside every week a certain small amount which they turned over to the United Fund during the annual campaign. They in turn have the feeling of sharing and providing a real service to the community.

COMMUNITY CONSCIOUS

The chairmen explain the amount of hours they give as worthwhile because it is "gratifying to work with the United Fund, and we become more community conscious."

★ ★ ★

All solicitors are invited to the Nov. 1 breakfast at Devon Gables which is sponsored by Pontiac State Bank. At the breakfast the women will be given material to prepare them for the goal of $21,548 set for the division.

Are you interested in helping the numerous agencies which in turn help this community? If so, won't you call the United Fund office and join this group of women?

Mental Patients Get New Look

Oklahoma Sets Up Half Way Houses to Combat Asylum Concept

OKLAHOMA CITY (INS) — The death knell may have been rung in Oklahoma on the concept of "asylum" as it pertains to victims of metal illness.

The director of Oklahoma's Mental Health department, Dr. H. H. Donahue, has announced the state will establish "half-way houses" to expedite the return of mental patients to everyday life.

Donahue, a dynamic, native-born Oklahoma psychiatrist who is pushing his state to the forefront in care for victims of mental illness, says the houses are the next essential step in recovery of mental patients.

"Ten years ago," he explains, "we used hospitals to treat the patient as far as the door. After that he was on his own, and often as not, forced to come back for more treatment.

"Now we realize to effect a recovery we must do more than get the patient out of the hospital. He must return as an operating member of society."

"The half-way house will be a compromise between hospital and outside social conditions. We hope to secure jobs for the patients, let him work during the day and return at night for counseling," Donahue says.

"This way patients will make a natural, less abrupt, adjustment to everyday routines while our staff is at hand to detect problems and help the patient work them out."

In Oklahoma three out of four patients now return home.

"To a great extent, the crux of the problem has shifted from treatment to rehabilitation. Our staff works under the relatively new notion," Donahue says, "that every patient can be cured."

The first of the houses is planned for Oklahoma City, Donahue says, with a pilot group of ten patients. "From there we'll expand until all of our patients have its rehabilitative advantages."

U. of M. Notes Rise in Foreign Students

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A recent upsurge in the number of foreign married students has been noted at the University of Michigan.

Largest contingent of foreign students, either married or single, comes from the Far East and southeast Asia. Their number totals 514.

Eighty-five nations are represented at the University, including Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, Nationalist China, Turkey, Venezuela, Japan, The Philippines, Korea, Thailand and most of the western European and North African countries.

PHS Service Clubs Work in Lab, Library, Bookstore

By WILLIAM BANK

At Pontiac High School there are several organizations that serve the school in many capacities. Three of these are library assistants, the bookstore staff, and the chemistry lab assistants.

★ ★ ★

Assisting in the library are forty-two students. They work during their study hall periods. Besides the routine checking in and out of books, these students have special assignments.

One of the most important of these is accessioning or keeping up-to-date the list indicating when each book came into the library. Because this list requires such accuracy, two senior girls are usually assigned to the work.

Other student assistants check the permits brought into the library by study hall students; check study hall attendance; reinforce magazines with cardboard; file and withdraw catalogue cards, arranging circulation, help plan and set up displays, and type.

RATE STUDENTS

At the end of each semester the students are rated by Miss Viola Fitch and Russell Buller, librarian and assistant librarian respectively. They are rated on such things as ability to complete work projects, learn routines, and make effective use of time. Acceptance of responsibility and accuracy of work are also factors taken into consideration in rating students assistants.

After serving for three consecutive semesters with an average of at least ninety on the student rating scale a library assistant is eligible for a library pin.

Members of the third organization are probably the most scattered throughout the school because of the diversity of their responsibilities.

Besides selling books, paper and pencils, the members of the bookstore staff also work the main telephone switchboard; type and duplicate materials for teachers, and assist counselors in filing and typing.

Announce King, Queen Today

By SANDY CLEMENCE

This weekend is going to be an exciting one for students at Waterford Township High School during the annual homecoming festivities. At a pep assembly this afternoon, the king and queen of the homecoming will be announced. Tonight, after a bonfire and pep rally, the Skippers meet the Walled Lake Vikings at the WTHS stadium.

Professional disc jockeys will spin records and there will be stage entertainment at a dance following the game.

Tomorrow night, the traditional homecoming dance will be held at the school.

Chairmen of the various committees for homecoming are: Sharon Gaynor, general chairman and refreshments; Darlene Dahl and Tish Fitzgerald, decorations; Karen Morgan, publicity; and Judy Lucia, entertainment.

Others are: Karen Anderson, tickets; Aaron Wright, coronation; Jane Dovletian, alumni; Ricky Eriksen, bonfire and fireworks; and Carole Moore, pep assembly. Faculty sponsors are Joan Dismeyer, Ruth L. Chamberlin, Paul E. Ripley, Howard Bennetts, Marjorie Lugar, Waldo Ashley, Patty Looman, William Olmstead, David Klinke, Barbara Frank, Patricia Vanmorsdall, and the cafeteria staff.

At the first formal meeting of the Future Teachers club Tuesday night the group discussed "Do You Have What It Takes To Be A Teacher?"

Last Sunday an open house was held in honor of WTHS's new foreign exchange student, Susemarel Diestel, at the home of Judy Wagnr, 3787 Lincolnshire Dr. The faculty and student council were guests of the Wagners.

Emcees at a recent talent assembly were Lanny Younger, Terry Walker, Tim Patterson, and Ole Wright. Those participating in the show were Sandy MacAbee, Ricky Eriksen, Janet Terry, Gene Peter, Stephanie Hill, Dave Van Kuren, and Betty Steeler.

Others were Dan Dunine, John Flowers, Becky Giannini, Don North, Nancy Richards, Bill Barnett, Jerry Butler, John Jolley, Mavis Kifer, and Beverly Wells. Accompanists were Tom McAllister, Harry Nicholie, Dave Wilson, and Martha Powell.

Eight members of the Discussion club plan to attend a debate at Farmington High School this month. The topic of discussion is foreign aid. Those attending will be Peggy Ballard, Arlene Butler, Laurie Sherwood, Thelma DeBarr Sally Shunck, Jean Rexford, Don Tate, and Dusty Smith.

The Waterlog (school yearbook) sales campaign begins next week at WTHS. Journalism representatives will be in every homeroom taking orders for the yearbook, according to Judi Russell, business manager.

PLAN YEARBOOK

Brenda Lewis and Darlene Dahl, co-editors of the Waterlog, have been consulting yearbook salesmen about the purchase of the year. Members of the senior class will begin selling candy next week to help pay for the senior trip to Mackinaw Island in the Spring.

Avondale, West Bloomfield Slate Homecoming Celebrations Tonight

The junior and senior magazine drive will end on Wednesday. The amount received from selling magazines will help pay the major portion of the senior trip this May and the juniors' trip the following May.

AT CLARKSTON

AT AVONDALE

The crowning of the queen will be the high point of the Homecoming activities at Avondale High School tonight, during half time of the Lake Orion game.

★ ★ ★

The six queen candidates are: Irene Taylor, Judy Ward, Judy Schoonover, Doris Peel, Nelda Hyten and Catherine Gorang.

Floats entered by the four classes, Future Homemakers of America, Future Teachers, Future Nurses, Pep Club and the A Club will compete for a prize.

Dancing will follow the game from 10 p.m. until 1 a.m. with the Kim-Tones furnishing the music. Admission to the dance will be $1.50.

AT WALLED LAKE

The big event at Walled Lake last week was the Merit Scholarship Testing Program. These were taken Tuesday.

The top ten per cent scholastically of any class may take these tests. The top five per cent receive them free if they desire to take them and the remaining five per cent may take the test by paying a fee of one dollar for the two hour test.

This lost does not include the entire top ten per cent because some of the people in the top ten were not planning to go on to college and did not desire to take this test.

Last year only one student passed this test. He was Tow Westerdale, but the test ratings others got helped them to receive other scholarships.

AT LAKE ORION

Students in the National Honor Society at Lake Orion Community High School are cramming for facts concerning the new school. They will act as guides for three coming events.

Their first duties will be next Monday night for the P.T.A.; next, the dedication of the school, Sunday, Nov. 3; and then school's open house in connection with National Education Week on Nov. 12.

St. Fred Pupils to Attend U. of D. Sodality Day

By PAT FOSTER

Representatives of the class sodalities at St. Frederick High School will travel to the University of Detroit High School campus tomorrow to participate in Sodality Day.

Here, sodalists from Catholic schools throughout the diocese will attend classes and hear lectures designed to spark enthusiasm about the importance of the Sodality to bring ideas home to their local organizations.

Our Rams walloped Royal Oak St. Mary's 44-0 Sunday night to snap a league winless streak since 1950. The school celebrated the victory with a party at the school hall afterward.

ORGANIZE NEW CLUB

The first meeting of the Future Nurses Club was held Wednesday. The club was organized to give girls interested in the profession an idea of the many aspects in the nursing field.

Each week a nurse from one of the various phases of nursing will talk to the girls and inform them on her particular duties and requirements.

★ ★ ★

Seniors who have maintained a "B" average throughout their high school career participated in the National Merit Scholarship test Tuesday. The lucky winners of this nationwide contest will be recipients of scholarships to the college of their choice.

★ ★ ★

Eastern Has Cheese Shortage?

Madison Jr. High Holds First Dance of Season

A group of Madison's ninth graders under the direction of Mrs. Patricia Clark, performed at a meeting of speech teachers during a conference at the Dondero School in Royal Oak last week. The group presented a choral reading on "And No One Asked."

AT EASTERN

Eastern Junior High School Football Coach John Andrews and assistants Bill Kimmelman and Bill Hunter, both history teachers, presented an assembly program recently. Members of their A, B, and C football teams were introduced individually and various football terminology was explained and demonstrated.

An experiment conducted last spring in Edwin Rydell's science classes has had rather surprising results. The venture started out with the purchase of a pair of white rats to be used for nutritional experiments. The offspring of the original pair now number 14. Could that be the reason cheese is being rationed in the cafeteria — two pieces per student?

AT LINCOLN

Joan Davis, president of the Girls' Service Club at Lincoln Junior High School welcomed mothers at an annual Mothers' Tea held in the library Monday after school. Dianna Chase and Ruth Bennett presided at the punch bowls. The mothers were introduced by the daughters and all met the co-sponsors of the club, Naomi McVean and Christine Gary. As a closing ceremony for the social event, Mrs. McVean presented each member with her club pin.

AT WASHINGTON

The students of Washington Junior High School are eagerly looking forward to a Halloween Dance to be held at the school on Oct. 31 from 8 to 10 p.m. It is jointly sponsored by the Student Council and the Pontiac Department of Recreation.

Uruguay became a sovereign nation in 1828 under the treaty which ended a war between Brazil and Argentina over disputed territory.

St. Michael Sophs Plan Halloween Hop

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

The sophomore class of St. Michael High School is busy completing plans for their Halloween Dance, to be held on October 31, from 8:30 to midnight at St. Michael Hall.

The "Jack-O-Lantern Jump" tickets will be 75 cents stag and $1.25 drag. A disk jockey and music will be furnished.

★ ★ ★

Donuts and cider will be served by the refreshment committee consisting of Tow Lauinger, Carol DeJager, Dan Dunny, Loretta Heitjan, Paul Pruente, Cathy McCormick, John Gallardo. On duty in the coat room will be Diana Adams, Marie Cronan, Pam Kehoe, Liz Day, Carol Lozano, and Gerrie Konan.

Farm Retailers Elect

HOMECOMING STRUTS — Ready to twirl during tonight's halftime show for the West Bloomfield High School Homecoming celebration are the Dreyer sisters: Marilyn, 13; Sharon, 16; and Arlene, 15, of 3717 Wards Point Dr., Orchard Lake. The girls, under the direction of Robert Pfeuffer, WBHS band director, will perform with the band. They are the national team champions of baton twirling.

An Ally of Many Uses

Turkey Is Important Chunk of Land Blocking Reds From Mediterranean

(Howard Handleman roams Europe, where he is chief correspondent for International News Service. He has been reporting from abroad for more than 15 years.)

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN

For most people in the U.S. and other NATO countries, the Turks are considered a good ally because their soldiers are rough, tough boys who liked to use their bayonets in Korea.

ALLIES HAPPY

But in addition to these obvious assets, Turkey offers NATO subtler things which sometimes are equally as important.

Turkey, for instance, has Istanbul, still a sentimental attraction to Arab leaders just as it was in the days when it was called Constantinople. When the summer heat strikes the desert capitals, many leaders of the Arab world think fondly of Istanbul.

THERE ON YACHT

This summer Iraq's King Faisal spent three months on a yacht anchored near the city. During the time, he also picked himself a bride from Istanbul.

Faisal's uncle, Emir Abdul Illah, the former regent and reputed power behind the throne, also spent the summer in the city.

Jordan King Hussein's father, ex-king Talal, has been hospitalized in Istanbul since the throne was taken from him five years ago. Istanbul's mayor, a psychiatrist, treats Talal.

★ ★ ★

"The old glories of the Ottoman Empire are not forgotten," a veteran Middle East diplomatic hand said. "Those visits and many others like them show that.

"The Arab leaders take to Istanbul as something special."

Then, relating this sentiment to the current Soviet propaganda against the Turks, he said:

"So I am convinced that if the Russians think they can make Arab leaders believe the Turks are tools of the United States, they've got another think coming."

★ ★ ★

"Their diplomats are able to do things for the West that we can't do for ourselves," the diplomat said. "They work beautifully with people like the Afghans, Libyans, and others in the Middle East and Africa.

"They sell the idea of the advantages open from the ties with the West in a way we just couldn't. They do it inoffensively and smoothly."

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the Turks straighten out their Western allies sometimes on Mideast policies. The Turks take the attitude they are a bridge between Europe and Asia, therefore both sides should listen. Both sides do.

And Turks really do have a bridge between Europe and Asia. It crosses the Bosporus and you have to go from Europe to Asia via that bridge to get to the airport from Istanbul.

U. of M. Hikes Tuition

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan has announced fees for college courses offered by the correspondence study department of the university's extension service will be increased $2.50 per credit hour for Michigan residents on Nov. 1. The old tuition was $10 per credit hour. For non-residents the fee will be hiked $3 to $15, the university said.

$700 Awaits Right Solution for Pot-O-Gold

No sense putting it off any longer. You'd better get started right now on this new puzzle which will bring the winner $700. The longer you wait, the more likely someone else is to beat you to the money. See what you can do with the clues below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Answers will be delivered to the Press Judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the Judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Old Thompson Place Sure Has Picked Up

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — "The Old Thompson Place" has sure changed since they got rid of the pigs.

Old John Thompson, like the Old Thompson Place beneath him, was a level sort. Needed money though, as who didn't back in his heyday. Finally he disposed of all the animal accoutrements of the farm and then put up his property for sale.

What he asked was $7,000, a lot of dough; and yet he knew he was being a dad-blamed fool, as was evidenced in his for-sale ad which read, "The rapid growth of the city and the villages of Greenwich and Chelsea will cause the value of this property to be greatly enhanced . . ."

So a family named Astor bought the Old Thompson Place for the asking price, and made hay with it—different kind of hay than old Thompson's. They built mansions. By the late 1880s, the Astors no longer liked their mansions in this particular location, so they tore them down and built the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel instead.

CHANGED HANDS

When they no longer liked the Waldorf-Astoria in this particular location, that was torn down too and removed to a swankier section of town, and in 1930 a fellow named Jacob Raskob took over this discarded patch of land and put 60,000 tons of steel on it.

Actually, Thompson hadn't had a very big farm in acreage, so to get 60,000 tons of steel into it, Raskob had to lay his building up, instead of out.

Well, today this phenomenal mass of upended steel is the tallest building in the world, and the most famous, and it seems like almost everybody except native New Yorkers—who are too sophisticated to route themselves like tourists, of course — has seen the Empire State Building.

This week, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip went to visit, becoming something like the 17,002nd people to ascend, swallowing hard against ear-pop, to its observatory floors.

They had been touted into going by the queen mother, who had told Elizabeth after her visit here in 1954 that it was the most beautiful view in the world.

The Queen — like her uncle, the Duke of Windsor, and Hailie Selassie, and Red Skelton, and Sally Jones, and everybody else who doesn't come from New York City — agreed.

★ ★ ★

Prince Philip, born of the country of Acropolis and residing in the neighborhood of Westminster Abbey, could do nothing but ask questions, fascinatedly, about the physical and operational makeup of the structure now owned by Col. Henry Crown of Chicago.

FANTASTIC FACTS

He was given the facts: In the Empire State is enough steel to build a double-track railroad from New York to Baltimore, nearly 3,500 miles of telephone and telegraph wires, 60 miles of water pipes, 1,860 stairsteps to the 102nd floor, 6,500 windows, over 2,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity used every month.

Prince Philip's remark—"Extraordinary." Which brings him to the level of almost everyone.

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Clifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at the stockholders' meeting of the California & Texas Global Co. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap, Conway agrees to follow her cloak-and-dagger directions. Eva Kane, his secretary, thinks she has heard her voice before. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell he obtains a key to a hotel suite for the meeting but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman, scantily attired, and on her face a mud pack. She's Rosalind's roommate, Mildred. She points a gun at Conway, which he takes from her. Since the gun has been fired recently Conway suspects a frameup and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason looks over the gun and asks for the key to the hotel room. Detective Paul Drake convinces the hotel clerk he is Gerald Boswell, and with Mason, finds a woman murdered, in the suite. Mason believes the murdered woman had a list of the stockholders who had sent in their proxies. Conway thinks Rosalind was sincere and afraid she'd be killed if Farrell found out what she was doing. Mason asks Eva Kane to try to place what was familiar about the voice.

CHAPTER 11

Eva Kane shook her head and said, "I've been thinking, and thinking, and somehow it just eludes me. Sometimes I feel that I almost have it and then it's gone."

"All right," Mason said, "let's start doing some methodical thinking. Rosalind, whoever she was, promised to deliver lists of those who had sent in their proxies."

She nodded.

"Therefore," Mason said, "she was either baiting a trap for Conway—and the way it looks now she was bafting a trap, or she was offering genuine information. In either event, she had to be someone who was fairly close to Farrell.

★ ★ ★

"If she was baiting a trap, then she was Farrell's tool because the Farrell crowd would be the only ones who would wish Conway any bad luck. If, on the other hand, she was acting in good faith, then she must have had access to information that only some trusted employe of Farrell's would have."

★ ★ ★

Eva Kane nodded.

"It was a woman's voice?" Mason said. "Did it sound young?"

"I think so. I think it was a young woman."

"Are many young women close to Farrell?"

She laughed and said, "Mr. Farrell is very close to many young women. Mr. Farrell is a man with restless hands and roving eyes. He doesn't want any one woman. He wants women—plural. He doesn't want to settle down and have a family, he wants to satisfy his ego. He wants to play the field."

"A little difficult to work for?" Mason asked.

"It depends on the way you look at it," she said drily. "Some of the girls seem to like it—and to like him."

"He's married?"

THEY SEPARATED

"Yes, he's married, but I understand they separated a month ago."

"What kind of woman is his wife?"

"Very nice. She's . . . Abruptly Eva Kane sucked in her breath. Her eyes became wide. "That's it, Mr. Mason! That's it!"

"What is?"

"The voice. Rosalind! It's Evangeline Farrell!"

"Now wait a minute," Mason said. "You're certain?"

"Yes, yes! I knew all along there was something about it that . . . I've talked with her on the phone, when Mr. Farrell was with us. She has that peculiar trick of holding onto one word for a beat and then speaking rapidly for five or six words, then pausing and speaking rapidly again."

"She was trying to disguise her voice on the phone?" Mason asked.

"Yes. The voice was disguised. It was—oh, very sweet and seductive and syrupy. That was Evangeline Farrell."

"She's not getting along with her husband?"

"So I understand. They've separated. It was . . . Oh, it's been a month or so ago—there was something in the paper about it. One of the gossip columnists had an article. She walked out on him—and I don't know what did happen. I don't think she's led suit for divorce. Maybe she wants a reconciliation."

"Do you know where she lives?" Mason asked.

"They had a rather swank apartment and . . . and I think she was the one who moved out. I think she left him."

"No divorce?"

"Not that I know of."

"Grounds?"

"There should be lots of them. Around us girls at the office he didn't even bother to be subtle about it."

"Where can I get her present address?"

IN STOCKHOLDER LIST

"I may have it in our address book. You see, she's a stockholder in the Texas Global. Because of the proxy fight, I've made lists of the names and addresses of all stockholders of record. There's one at the office, Mr. Conway has one, and I have one."

"Here?"

"Yes, I keep mine with me at all times."

"How does it happen she's a stockholder?"

"Part of Mr. Farrell's compensation while he was with us was in stock, and those shares of stock were turned over to his wife."

"When he got them, or as a result of some property settlement?"

"When he got them. He likes to keep all his property in the name of some other person. But I think she wrote about them after the separation. I'm certain we had a letter giving a new address."

★ ★ ★

"See if you can find that address," Mason said.

She said, "Pardon me," went to a desk, pulled out a large address book, thumbed through the pages, then said, "I have it. It's the Holly Arms."

"I know the place," Mason told her. "She's living there?"

"Yes. Do you want to talk with her on the phone?"

He thought a moment, then said,

"No, I'd better surprise her with this. Thanks a lot, Miss Kane."

"Is there anything I can do—to help?"

"You've done it."

"If Mr. Conway phones, should I tell him that I think I know the voice?"

"Tell him nothing," Mason said. "Not over the telephone. You can't tell who's listening. Thanks a lot. I'm on my way."

"Mrs. Farrell please."

The girl at the switchboard was dubious. "I beg your pardon. It's after ten o'clock—was she—?"

"She's expecting the call," Mason said.

"Very well."

A moment later, a woman's voice said, "Hello."

Mason said, "I'm an attorney, Mrs. Farrell. I'd like to see you on a matter of some importance."

"Are you representing my husband?"

"Definitely not."

"When did you wish to see me?"

"Right away."

"Right away? Why that's impossible. . .! What is your name please?"

"Mason."

"You're not — not Perry Mason?"

"That's right."

"Where are you, Mr. Mason?"

"I'm downstairs."

"Are you . . .? Is anyone with you?"

"No."

"May I ask why you want to see me?"

"I'd prefer not to discuss it over the telephone," Mason said. "I can assure you it's a matter of some urgency and it may be to your advantage."

"Very well. Will you come on up, Mr. Mason. I'm in lounging pajamas. I was reading and . . ."

"I'd like to come right away, if I may."

"All right. Come on up. You have the number?"

Aussie Divorces Down

CANBERRA—Recently released statistics show that the number of divorces granted in Australia declined during 1956. During the year divorce, annulment, and judicial separation ended 6,492 marriages, 289 fewer than in 1955 and 2,281 fewer than in the peak divorce year, 1947.

FHA Ruling to Slow Building in State

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. Knox (R-Mich) said that a new Federal Housing Administration (FHA) inspection procedure would retard home construction in Michigan.

The directive provides that all new subdivisions with proposed individual sewage disposal systems will require complete analysis of soil conditions and percolation tests by a FHA sanitary engineer, Knox said.

The new procedure, he said, would mean a slow down in home constructions and consequently increased unemployment in Michigan.

The Congressman said he has asked Norman P. Mason, federal housing administrator, to hold up the change until affected persons have a chance to make their views known and until the FHA has hired enough inspectors.

Probe Hears Whirlpool Plant Official

Claims Personality Tests Used to Screen Unionists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Are you steady, gentle, loyal, helpful, sympathetic and a self-starter? Or are you cynical, worrying and self-centered?

These descriptive words were contained in a test given in 1955 to prospective employes of the Marion (Ohio) Division of Whirlpool Corp. by a "human equation specialist" Dr. Louis Checov.

In fact, the entire test is all words. All the applicants did was to check those which others have used in describing them. The test could be completed in a few minutes.

This test — called an "adaptability scale"—formed the basis for a long argument yesterday before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee.

Theodore Hufert, industrial relations director of the Automatic Drier Plant at Marion, insisted that the tests were to determine "flexibility" of individuals to see whether they should be hired.

This explanation was unacceptable to Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel.

Kennedy said Checov, a onetime employe of labor relations consultant Nathan Shefferman, was giving these tests to determine whether the prospects were pro or anti-union.

Those who were considered pro-union, Kennedy said, were rejected and the other applicants were hired. He said Checov, now in Canada, told one of his investigators his version is correct.

Litell checked such words as "big-hearted," "polite," "sensitive," and "loyal" to describe the way others see him. He skipped such characterizations as "cynical," "worrying," "obstinate," and "fussy."

Litell got a passing mark and was hired. But despite this, Litell did not last with the company.

CHECKED ON EMPLOYES

An affidavit submitted by a former Whirlpool employe at Marion, Eldon Phillips, said that at first Litell spent some time checking up for Checov on pro-union sentiment in the plant.

Later, however, it developed that Litell apparently became pro-union himself. In response to questions by Sen. McNamara (D-Mich), Hufert said Litell was fired from the plant, which is still non-union.

Asked why, Hufert said Litell once quit early, on another occasion became abusive and argumentative with superiors, and finally, placed yellow balloons on company property.

★ ★ ★

"Did the balloons have something on them?" Counsel Kennedy inquired.

Hufert nodded, and replied: "They had: 'Join the UAW-CIO.'"

Experts Say Acapulco Is Center of Quake

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Seismologists from the University of California here and at Caltech at Pasadena by combining their data figured yesterday's sharp earthquake as being somewhere in the Acapulco area of Mexico.

The shocker, coming at 1:45 p.m. registered at 6.6 on the Richter scale—not too far below 7.25 measurement of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906.

South Africa loses 300,000 sheep (over $2,800,000 worth) a year, mainly through depredations of jackals, Pretoria reports. Baboons are also a menace in some places.

Ex-Resident Is Head of Library Group

A former Pontiac resident and assistant city librarian has been named president of the Michigan Library Association at the group's convention in Detroit.

She is Katharine G. Harris, reference services director of the Detroit Public Library. Miss Harris, the daughter of the late James Harris, former superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools, served as a library assistant in Pontiac in the 1930s. She now lives at 2025 W. Six Mile Rd., Detroit.

Miss Harris was graduated from the University of Michigan Library School and has also worked in Kalamazoo and Ypsilanti libraries.

Hookey Players Nearly Derail Speeding Train

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) — Two teen-aged brothers playing hookey got curious and nearly wrecked a freight train yesterday. Authorities said the boys, aged 16 and 14, admitted both being AWOL from school and flipping a railroad switch "because we wanted to see what would happen."

★ ★ ★

Fortunately W. R. Donahue, engineer on a Spartanburg-bound Piedmont and Northern Railroad freight train, saw the switch had been changed and halted the train a short distance before it would have been thrown into a siding.

★ ★ ★

Trainmen said a fast-moving train could have been derailed. The boys were picked up at the scene by sheriff's deputies and released into the custody of their parents pending action in Greenville County Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court. Their names were withheld.

Mr. Charless Gass, representative of the Chemstrand Corp., will be at our Store Friday and Saturday, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., to demonstrate the remarkable resiliency of Acrilan fibers. This is the complete display shown at the Chicago Furniture Dealers Market for carpet dealers. Be sure that you see this new floor covering fiber Friday or Saturday.

The feet that tread this amazing new carpet just don't have an opportunity to leave footprints. That's because this carpet is made entirely of Acrilan . . . a fiber especially developed, tested and proved to give carpets remarkable resiliency, such buoyancy, such bounce that not even the heaviest impression can leave a mark. Made by the revolutionary Tuftwoven process, Firth Tuftwoven Acrilan combines more advantages than you ever dreamed of in a carpet. Resistance to dirt is built into every fiber, therefore Firth Tuftwoven Acrilan shrugs off soil . . . actually stays cleaner longer. And because it is so easy to keep clean, stains have little chance of becoming permanent. See Firth Tuftwoven Acrilan Knotted Folkweave in our rug department today. You'll like the deep piled luxury of its loop-woven homespun texture available now in ten glorious shades.

You can be sure Bill Veeck had something to do with all the color at the Detroit debut of the Pistons the other night. There were cheerleaders, music and numerous personalities on hand and the former Cleveland Indian's boss watched it all from his front row box seat. Probably thinking up more ideas.

Don't be surprised if the Pistons start pulling some of the gimmicks which were popular at Cleveland while Veeck had charge, such as silk stockings and orchids to the ladies.

Fireworks would be pretty difficult however.

VEECK IS CONSULTANT

He will direct a series of clinics for the team starting Saturday and continuing through January 25th.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow the first clinic will be held in the gym of Denby High School in Detroit at 10:30 a.m. with coach Charles Eckman, Nat Clifton, George Yardley and Dick McGuire as Pistons' guests.

Neil Johnston and Paul Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors will also be present.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

A crew of Boston writers in Detroit for most of the week feel that the proposed Eastern Football Conference is still very much alive.

★ ★ ★

Teams considered are Pitt, Boston College, Penn State, Villanova, Syracuse, Holy Cross, Boston University and possibly Colgate.

. . . It's time for prep coaches to be thinking about their choices for all-state football honors. Members of the Sports Editors' Association will meet in Lansing, Monday, November 8th to make the selections for classes A, B, C and D.

. . . Pontiac and Waterford will meet on the basketball court this winter. Date is January 14th. The Chiefs will play an extra cage contest because of the eight game football schedule.

★ ★ ★

. . . The flu-postponed football game between Pontiac and Ferndale will be played at Wisner Stadium Friday night November 22nd.

. . . The Detroit Tigers will have an advance ticket office in Pontiac next season. Three other Michigan cities outside of Detroit handled Tiger ducats last season.

★ ★ ★

. . . Pittsburgh luncheon clubs are learning that Buddy Parker isn't an "eating coach." Several groups had spots reserved but he never showed up. They complained to Art Rooney, but when Parker was hired Rooney said, "I'm not hiring a coach to eat." So, Buddy isn't doing it.

Lopez Picked as AL's Manager-of-the-Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, who was out of a job at this time a year ago, today was named American League manager of the year for 1957.

★ ★ ★

Lopez' performance overshadowed those of Casey Stengel of the pennant-winning New York Yankees and Paul Richards of Baltimore in the opinion of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America who participated in The Associated Press' annual poll.

Eighty-three of the 180 voters felt that Lopez' direction of the second-place White Sox was the most outstanding. Richards was named on 70 ballots and Stengel on 25. Frank "Pinky" Higgins of the third-place Boston Red Sox received two votes.

The showing of the White Sox was one of the big surprises of the American League season. With admitted weaknesses at several positions and little reserve strength, Lopez kept his charges on the heels of the Yankees until their elimination from the pennant fight in the final week of the campaign.

The White Sox, in fact, held the lead until June 29, and after falling several lengths behind the Yankees, closed the gap to two games on July 14 but were unable to overtake the Bombers.

Lopez, 49-year-old native of Tampa, Fla., was hired to manage the White Sox last Oct. 29 following his release by the Cleveland Indians, whom he had led for six years. With the Indians, Al won one pennant, in 1954, and finished second on five occasions.

★ ★ ★

Richards brought his Orioles home in fifth place, a couple of notches higher than was figured in pre-season estimates. The Orioles finished only one game behind the fourth-place Detroit Tigers.

★ ★ ★

Richards, who is three months younger than Lopez, managed the White Sox from 1951 through 1954 when he resigned to take over the dual role of field pilot and general manager of Baltimore.

AL Attendance Up 4 Per Cent

Tigers 2nd to Yankees With 1,272,346; Gain Without Close Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Despite lack of a real close pennant race, American League 1957 attendance jumped nearly four per cent over last year, according to official A.L. figures.

The total was 8,196,218, with the eight million mark being surpassed for the seventh time in the last decade.

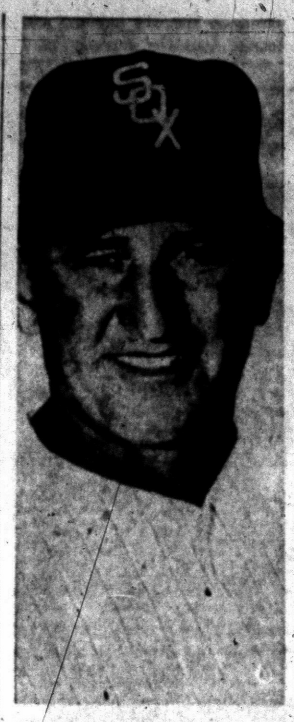

Last year's attendance was 7,893,683.

The pennant-winning New York Yankees had the top attendance of 1,497,134 but the runnerup Chicago White Sox showed the biggest increase—135,578. The White Sox total was 1,135,668. The Yankees were up only, 5,350.

Second high in attendance were the Detroit Tigers with 1,272,346, followed by the Boston Red Sox with 1,181,087. The Tigers showed a 221,146 increase—biggest in the league—and the Red Sox 47,929.

The other three clubs finished under the million mark with the last place Washington Senators showing the only increase over the previous season. Washington's figures were up 25,432 for a total of 457,079, lowest in the circuit.

More Troubles for Indiana 11

Morale Tough Problem, Tackle Quits Winless Hoosier Team

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)— The Indiana University campus was murky today with rumors of defections from the Hoosiers' pummeled football squad, but a university spokesman said only one player had quit.

Reserve tackle Ray Slampyak of East Chicago left the squad two weeks ago, before the Iowa game. Two other players missed a practice session this week but were back in uniform Wednesday, the spokesman said.

No one denied that morale was a problem, after four straight defeats in which Indiana scored 7 points while yielding 183, but there was cautious hope that this week's game with Villanova here would be different.

★ ★ ★

One fan had his own personal solution for the problem. He advertised in an Indianapolis newspaper in the "for sale" classified column:

"Two IU football season tickets, near 50-yard line."

Flu Outbreak Stops Detroit Grid Program

DETROIT (INS) — Bad weather and the flu outbreak has forced the cancellation of today's eight-game football schedule in the Metropolitan Detroit high school league.

★ ★ ★

The games called off were Redford at Cooley, U. of D. High at Mumford, Central at Pershing, Eastern and Southeastern, Cass Tech at Mackenzie, Chadsey at Western, Northwestern and Southwestern and Cody at Denby.

James Stout, assistant supervisor of the Metropolitan League, said:

"Ordinarily we play in the rain. But with the flu going around we thought it would be better to call off the games for fear we might be helping to spread the disease."

Revolta Sets Pace in Miss. Tourney

OCEAN SPRINGS, Miss. (AP) — Johnny Revolta, a headliner on the nation's golf scene two decades ago, had the inside track to first place today as the final round opened in the annual Mississippi Open.

Revolta, one-time member of the U.S. Ryder Cup team and winner of a score of top tournaments, carded a 37-35 par 72 yesterday for a two-stroke lead at 143 in the 31st staging of the event. Revolta is winter pro at the Gulf Hills Country Club, site of this year's renewal.

★ ★ ★

Jim Coleman, former professional from Jackson, was Revolta's nearest pursuer with 145 after trailing off to a two-over-par 74 in yesterday's second round over the 6,111-yard course.

Spartans Hope to Bounce Back After Setback

Record Crowd Expected in Enlarged Stadium as Alumni Gather

EAST LANSING (AP) — The hero and the victim of two separate major upsets in Big Ten football last weekend run headlong into each other here Saturday.

Illinois, conqueror of Minnesota by a 34-13 score, takes on Michigan State, rated the top team in the nation before the Purdue Boilermakers knocked the Spartans off their pedestal by a 20-13 decision.

Each now has dropped one conference game and the loser will almost automatically be eliminated from any hopes of a conference championship or a Rose Bowl bid.

Michigan State is a slight favorite, mostly because the Spartans are expected to rebound after the stunning upset and also because they will have the hoopla of a homecoming crowd egging them on.

Jim Ninowski, the top State quarterback and leading Big Ten passer, was not scheduled to start because of a thumb injury that has prevented him from handling the ball in practice.

★ ★ ★

Mike Panitch, his understudy, will get the starting call but Ninowski is expected to be able to get in to do some pitching later.

End Rich Kreitling, the best Illini receiver, was not scheduled to join the 38-man travelling squad because of a painful hip and back bruise.

★ ★ ★

Ninowski has hit for 375 yards in conference passing. Tom Haller, the Illinois quarterback, has gained 306 yards.

Big man for State in the ground game is Walt Kowalczyk, the bruising right half, tops for his team with 271 yards and better than five yards a carry.

Bad news for State is the word from Champaign that the elusive Mitchell is even faster than Abe Woodson, who scored all three touchdowns when Illinois edged MSU last fall by 20-13 — also an upset at the time.

★ ★ ★

The Illinois team was due to fly in by chartered plane and land at Lansing at 1:20 p.m., in time for a workout in Spartan Stadium.

The Homecoming crowd for the 1:30 P.M. kickoff is expected to set a new attendance record of around 70,000.

Oxford, Ortonville Play Saturday Night

Two South Central Conference games scheduled for Friday night will be played Saturday night instead due to a state ruling which prevents teams from being in more than one game within a five-day period.

★ ★ ★

The change had to be made because Ortonville and Oxford played Monday in a makeup game after the flu bug had forced postponement of an earlier meeting.

Ortonville will be seeking its 2nd league win three starts at North Branch, while Oxford (1-0) plays at Millington in the Saturday contests.

ILLINI STALWART — Michigan State will have to be alert to watch Rod Hanson, Illinois end who is a big target for quarterback Tom Haller's passing. The two teams meet tomorrow at East Lansing in the Homecoming game for MSU.

BATTLE PRIZE — Michigan and Minnesota will battle hard for this piece of crockery which is 48 years old. The "Little Brown Jug" game takes place tomorrow in Minneapolis. The Gophers now hold the jug by virtue of their 20-7 victory over the Wolverines last year in Ann Arbor.

Top U.S. Golfers Trail Japanese

TOKYO (AP)—Sam Snead's blazing bulls'-eye putter became just another slab of cold steel today and a pair of amazing Japanese forged into a two-stroke lead over the United States in the Canada Cup International Golf Tournament.

The bullish Slammer from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., skyrocketed to a two-over-par 74 after yesterday's record 67 and not even a sub-par 71 by partner Jimmy Demaret could salvage the day against the inspired Sons of Nippon.

Torakichi Nakamura, a 5 foot 4 shot-making machine from Tokyo, fashioned his second straight 68 over the Kasumigaseki Country Club course and his slender companion, Koichi Ono, added a 70 to give Japan the Canada Cup lead with an aggregate score of 279.

In second place at 281 came the favored United States team strongly pushed by the rallying South African duo of Gary Player and Harold Henning, who had 283 after second rounds of 69 and 70 respectively.

★ ★ ★

Golf aces of the British Commonwealth moved into strong contention, ready to take over should Japan and the United States slip during the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Peter Thomson, winner of three straight British Opens, shot a 68 and young Bruce Crampton added a 71 to give Australia a total of 284.

A pair of sparkling 67s, matching Snead's course record of yesterday, moved both Wales and England into a tie for fourth place at 286.

David Thomas, youngest member of the entire British team, had one of the record rounds as a partner of Welchman Dai Rees, the British Ryder Cup captain, who shot a 73.

The other 67 was scored by Peter Alliss Jr., of England as a partner of Ken Bousfield who had 73.

Par for the 6,895 yard course, which played long after an early morning rain, is 36-36—72. Nakamura held the course record of 69 before the onslaught by the world's top pros this week.

★ ★ ★

While a partisan, highly elated crowd of 6,000 cheered his every shot, Nakamura, a coldly efficient little man who reminds golfers of America's Gene Sarazen, also took the lead for the individual International Trophy with a score of 136.

Clemson Upsets South Carolina

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Spawned nationally a week ago when powers like Michigan State and Minnesota bowed to its force, the big storm turned up down south and the Clemson Tigers, 6-point underdogs, rode with it for a 13-0 victory over South Carolina.

The annual Big Thursday contest, played before a record crowd in Columbia, S.C., ruined any hopes the Gamecocks may have had for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

They are now 0-2 in ACC play. Clemson, the defending champion, is 2-2, while Duke and North Carolina State, who clash tomorrow at Raleigh, top the loop with unbeaten records.

Pay-as-You-Go Hunting Preserves Are Proposed

LANSING (AP) — Proposed regulations for pay-as-you-go hunting preserves in Michigan were outlined by state conservation director Gerald E. Eddy today.

They were drawn up in compliance with a new law legalizing privately operated game preserves to be open to the public on a fee basis.

Among other things, proposed rates cover maximum area of the preserves, length of the season and the type of game birds that may be raised for shooting.

Eddy said the regulations would be read at a public hearing here Nov. 4, giving citizens an opportunity to suggest changes. The state conservation commission will act on them later before submitting them to the attorney general for a final check.

Under the proposals, seasons would open on the date prescribed by general hunting regulations for the species in the zone in which the preserve is situated. The season would run for 150 days but not later than March 15.

State law sets the maximum size at 640 acres. Preserves could not cover more than one per cent of the land area of any one county.

The state conservation director would have authority to reject or deny an application to set up a preserve. Additionally, he could require all birds released for shooting to be marked and would have inspection rights on any preserve.

Preserve operators would be required to certify to the conservation director the number of birds which are to be released or have been released. Types of birds which may be shot are restricted and so is the proportion of those released.

Harry Ruhl, the department's game division chief, said it was expected all regulations would be in force by Jan. 1 to allow preserve owners to be ready for operation during the 1958 hunting seasons.

Gophers Slight Favorites to Beat Michigan

Sellout Crowd to See 48th Clash; Loser May Be Out of Title Race

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota and Michigan, two rebounding football teams, clash here for the 48th time tomorrow with survival in the Big Ten title race the big goal.

Only the winner of this "Little Brown Jug" battle between teams already defeated once in Big Ten play can remain in the chase for the championship.

No twice-beaten team has ever won the conference title in its 60 years of existence.

The Golden Gophers of coach Murray Warmath are scant three to five point favorites in the regionally televised game.

The largest crowd in Minnesota history is in the offing. All tickets have been sold since summer. Memorial Stadium's record attendance of 66,953 set for the 1948 Purdue game seems certain to be broken.

Warmath hopes to have his veteran team led by All-America quarterback candidate Bobby Cox bounced back from its dismal upset defeat last Saturday by Illinois.

Michigan likewise is in a comeback mood. The Wolverines were solidly trounced two weeks ago by Michigan State before beating Northwestern in their only other conference action this year.

The Gophers, with a history-making eight league games squeaked by Purdue and routed Northwestern before their loss to Illinois.

Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan, comfortable in the underdog role, has the normal concern that a strong team such as Minnesota is difficult to curb on successive Saturdays.

"They'll be snarling and snapping and anxious to rebound against us if I know anything about Minnesota teams," he said. "Any coach always worries about facing a good team that has taken an unexpected beating."

★ ★ ★

The Michigan team he took here today is suffering from injuries at several key positions. The big vacancy is at fullback. First-stringer John Herrnstein was left in Ann Arbor with a bad ankle. Jim Byers, who performed well against Northwestern, will have to repeat as Herrnstein's standin.

Right halfback Mike Shatusky and center Gene Snider, starters until last week, have ailing backs. But they are expected to see limited action tomorrow.

Lou Little Calls 'em

Proof of the kind of college football we have been seeing throughout the country is the fact that I can find only one major game on the week-end list that brings undefeated teams together.

This is the Duke-North Carolina State contest—and State played a scoreless tie last week with Andy Gustafson's Miami, Fla. squad.

Surely we may look for fewer shockers than a week ago. But these unexpected wins are great for the game and I hope we have more of them.

★ ★ ★

As I have traveled about this week I have seen more obvious enthusiasm for football than for some time. People are asking "What happened?" and looking to the next games.

In the East, Dartmouth and Lehigh the Engineers are earning status as a "major" outfit are unbeaten and favored tomorrow in their games.

Dartmouth sends against Harvard one of the strongest teams they have had in recent years in the Hanover hills. Lehigh earned solid credit beating a good Rutgers team and must get the nod over Columbia. It's my idea that Penn State will surprise Syracuse, and Princeton should return to form against Cornell.

TONIGHT

MIAMI (Fla.) over Kansas — Kansas lacks defense to stop Varone and mates.

TOMORROW

ARMY over Virginia—Repels another invasion.
BOSTON COLLEGE over Detroit — Eagles tuned to tougher going.
BROWN over Rhode Island U.—Finney and Bears break Rhody's streak.
YALE over Colgate—Ells the raiders this time.
LEHIGH over Columbia—Engineers hard to stop on ground.
PRINCETON over Cornell—Tigers had their bad day last week.
DARTMOUTH over Harvard — Green is rugged and resourceful.
TENNESSEE over Maryland—Close one, but Vols have edge in manpower.
NAVY over Pennsylvania—Penn better than record, but Navy too strong.
PENN STATE over Syracuse — Picking State to surprise the Orange.
NOTRE DAME over Pittsburgh—Irish well rested and up.
MISSISSIPPI STATE over Alabama — 'Bama improving, but hardly enough.
MISSISSIPPI over Arkansas — Ole Miss defense too strong.
DUKE over N.C. State—Could be fireworks but Duke has too many men.
RUTGERS over Richmond—With something to spare.
MICHIGAN STATE over Illinois—State primed this week.
PURDUE over Miami, Ohio — Boilermakers ride crest after last week.
MICHIGAN over Minnesota — Gophers need speed, and their Larson may be out.
MISSOURI over Nebraska — Missouri building well.
OHIO STATE over Wisconsin — Ohio State power too much for Badger speed.
OKLAHOMA over Colorado — Colorado defense unable to contain foe.
OREGON over California—Oregon, but close.
OREGON STATE over Washington — Huskies still winless.
UCLA over Stanford — Wilson sparks plucky Uclans.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Major Hoople Calls 'Em

Egad, my devotees! You have a treat coming up this week. For the first time I am going to make the entire forecast without counsel from any of the former members of my large scientific staff!

In fact—har-rumph!—I have fired them all. My astronomer, Dr. Romney Schultz, Jr., and Technician Quentin Zlobotny have been reading about the Russian satellite, and neglected their work on the football forecast to turn out a satellite of their own which they named the "Cold Tomato."

Both are in the county jail after exploding their "Tomato" after a soiree at the Owls Club. The "Tomato" flattened a row of garages on Elm street.

Old Shotgun, Show Dog Aid in 'Derby' Entry

An old single-shot shotgun, a smart show dog and John D. Kelly of 8261 Meridan, Union Lake combined this week to produce the newest "long bird" leader in The Pontiac Press "pheasant derby."

Kelly, a personnel worker in a Pontiac plant, took his springer spaniel Penny afield with him. Penny is a field trial performer and a show dog. She is also a good hunter, says Kelly, who raises springers.

Working the Proud Lake recreation area, Penny put up a bird. Kelly's one-shotter responded and the one shot at 75 feet brought down the new contest leader, a 39¼-inch specimen.

"Derby" runs through Nov. 10. Longest bird will win $25, and heaviest entry will receive $50, in U.S. Savings Bonds. Heaviest entry is a 3-pound 6½-ounce bird.

Pontiac Press Photo

FLEETING FAME! — John D. Kelly, 8261 Meridan, Union Lake, just now holds the tenuous lead in the "long bird" division of The Press "pheasant derby." His entry, brought in Thursday, was 39¼ inches long, a full inch longer than the previous leader and more than that ahead of another fine rooster in the quickly-changing race for a $25 U. S. Savings Bond. Kelly's bird was shot Wednesday near Proud Lake area. It displaced Cecil Sanders (Pontiac) entry which in turn ousted one by Hal Mercer (Aub. Hts.). Kelly, personnel man in a Pontiac industry, and his 4-year-old daughter, Jan, show off the "long one."

Understudy Gets Into Main Event

Kerwin Named to Fight Busso After Flu Halts Rosi, Williams

NEW YORK (AP) — In the storybooks, Gale Kerwin, the understudy moving up to the starring role, would be a cinch to beat Johnny Busso, the fighter with the reputation.

Since this paring is not in a novel and the fight is in Madison Square Garden tonight, cynical bookmakers have made Busso, ninth-ranking contender, a 13-5 favorite to win the radio-television (NBC, 9 p.m., EST) 10-rounder.

Undaunted by the odds and jubilant over getting his first Garden main event, Kerwin was confident he would make good.

"I intend to make the most of my opportunity," the 22-year-old Canadian native said. "This is something I've been dreaming about for a long time."

The rangy, 5-8, 140-pounder from Valley Stream, N.Y., via Ottawa, got the knock on the door when the Asian flu epidemic bowled over two fighters, Paolo Rosi of Italy and New York and Ernie (Sonny Boy) Williams of Washington, D.C.

Revitalized Titans Face Favored Boston College

DETROIT (AP) — Boston College, riding a four-game winning streak since a loss to Navy in its opener, goes against Detroit's revitalized Titans tomorrow in an intersectional football clash at Titan Stadium.

This is the game Detroit's coach, Wally Fromhart, has described as "our most important of the season."

"It could tell which way our football program at UD is going," said Fromhart. "We've worked hard, now we might start finding out which direction we're going—and if we're going fast enough."

★ ★ ★

The Eagles are favored to hand the Titans their second loss in five starts, mainly because of quarterback Don Allard and the Titans' pass defense that has been only so-so in four games.

Allard, one of the nation's top-ranking passers, has completed 40 of 75 tosses for 670 yards and five touchdowns.

As a running threat Boston College has halfback Alan Miller, who has carried the ball 74 times for 324 yards and a 4.3 average.

★ ★ ★

The two teams have met previously 11 times on the gridiron, with the Eagles holding a 6-5 edge in victories. Detroit held on for a 12-7 victory last year to break a four-game losing streak against the Eagles.

★ ★ ★

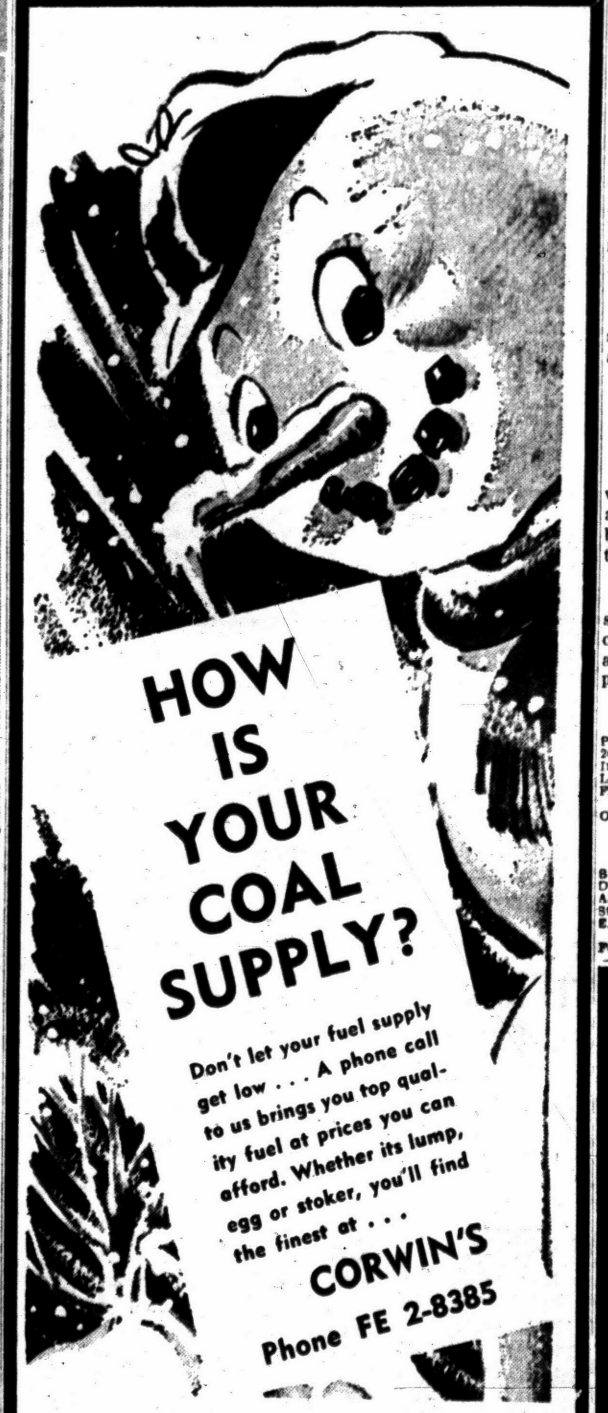

Detroit will pin its hope of upsetting the Eagles on better balanced running attack.

Fromhart has employed two separate backfield units thus far this season and it has worked successfully.

Bill Dando, who started the season as regular quarterback, will call the signals with Bruce Maher and Dan Collins as halfbacks and probably Vic Henning at fullback.

Ullman's Goal Gives Detroit a 4-3 Victory

Wings Gain 4th Place and Even Season Mark at Bruins' Expense

DETROIT (AP) — No one need ask general manager Jack Adams what he thought of his Detroit Red Wings who Thursday night proved they are willing to fight for victory.

After leading the Boston Bruins for 54 minutes the Wings let a 3-1 lead melt away before Norm Ullman rammed home his second goal of the game at 14:48 of the final period, giving the Wings a 4-3 victory and their first decision against one of the "big" clubs of the National Hockey League.

It was a happy vengeance for the 5-1 trouncing the Wings absorbed from the same Bruins just one week ago. The triumph pulled Detroit to .500 hockey for the first time this year with three victories and three defeats. It gave them fourth place in the NHL standings over the Chicago Black Hawks who were idle with the rest of the league.

Play was rough with referee Red Storey calling 14 penalties.

Detroit got off to an early 2-0 lead with Dutch Reibel and Alex Delvecchio counting in the first 10 minutes. Boston's Vic Stasiuk scored in the second period before Ullman got his first marker on a short kill of Delvecchio's passout while Boston was shorthanded.

Simmons faced a 50-foot bullet shot from Gordie Howe. He juggled it momentarily and it dropped behind him.

Ullman, zipping down the ice, took a headlong slide and speared the puck into the cage, sending Simmons into a tailspin and the Bruins to their downfall.

Maples Defend Harrier Crown

Pontiac and Waterford in Class A Regional at Farmington Saturday

Birmingham will be back to defend its championship with Walled Lake among the newest challengers in the Class A regional cross-country meet tomorrow morning at Farmington. The Vikings were "B" champs last fall. That race will also be held Saturday at Farmington.

Similar events will be held at three other sites in the two classes in preparation for the state finals Nov. 2 at Eastern Michigan College.

Pontiac and Waterford are other local schools entered in the Class A race. Class B entries include West Bloomfield and Milford.

Jerry Young of Berkley is favored to repeat as individual winner among the bigger schools. Other teams competing at Farmington will be:

CLASS A

Southfield, Ferndale, Farmington, Hazel Park, Royal Oak Dondero, Royal Oak Kimball, Detroit Catholic Central, Plymouth, Detroit De LaSalle, Mt. Clemens, Redford Union, Bentley, East Detroit and Detroit St. Joseph.

CLASS B

River Rouge, Howell, Oak Park, Davison, West Ecorse, Detroit Lutheran, Clarenceville and Marysville.

Dales Aim for 31 Straight Wins

Big Week for State Colleges

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

All 17 of Michigan's football-playing colleges and universities—plus Grand Rapids Junior College—will be in action. There are eight inter-state contests on tap and it's a full weekend of conference activity.

Hillsdale can just about wrap up its fourth straight MIAA crown by downing once-defeated Hope on home grounds. The Dales have won 30 in a row.

This should be the last stern test for Muddy Waters' eleven. After the Hope game, Hillsdale takes on oft-beaten Kalamazoo and Adrian in conference play before winding up the season against a Gustavus Adolphus team that has a 3-1-1 record against so-so opposition.

Hope coach Russ Devette is confident that his Dutchmen are perfectly capable of ending the nation's second-longest winning streak (only Oklahoma has won more games). Hope is a sound defensive team that has allowed five opponents only 33 points. Hope's only setback was a 14-13 squeaker at Alma.

Wayne State cannot afford another defeat in the Presidents' Athletic Conference. This week the Tartars move back into league action against Western Reserve, which has divided two decisions.

Eastern Michigan can strengthen its bid for the Interstate conference title against Southern Illinois, which has won three of five games.

Western Michigan isn't figured to win the tough Mid-American conference title but the Broncos are a spirited, aggressive team that could help decide the title later on.

This week the Broncos take on Toledo, a team that has lost three straight games after winning its first two. Marshall and Miami share the MAC lead, each with 3-0 records. Marshall takes on last-place Ohio University Saturday while Miami skips outside the league against Big Ten foe Purdue, which surprised Michigan State last Saturday. Bowling Green tangles with Kent State in the other league game.

Central Michigan ended a victory drought last week against Northern Illinois but figures to go right back into the loss column against Louisville, one of the nation's top medium-power teams. The Cardinals have five straight triumphs, averaging 38 points per game.

Northern Michigan, nailing down two straight triumphs after defeats in its first two contests, takes on Wisconsin State, which has a 2-3-1 record.

Adrian at Kalamazoo and Olivet at Alma round out the MIAA schedule while Albion takes on non-league opponent Michigan Tech. Ferris goes to Grand Rapids J.C. Among the "big" schools, Boston College is at Detroit, Illinois at Michigan State and Michigan at Minnesota.

Pontiac Area Generous to Mighty Dale Eleven

The small but mighty Hillsdale College football team has now won thirty games in a row, the second longest winning streak in the country and Coach Frank "Muddy" Waters can look to the Pontiac area, with pride and a feeling of gratitude, as the Dales' starting backfield as well as the backfield coach come from the Pontiac area.

The backfield, coached by former Dale star John Moffay, who is a graduate of Pontiac High, consists of Doug Maison of Imlay City at quarterback, who has an amazing passing record, completing 30 of 49 passes for 566 yards and six touchdowns.

At the halfbacks are Walt Poe, a grad of Pontiac High and an All State football player, and Earl O'Shaughnessy of the famous O'Shaughnessy brothers of West Bloomfield, who is currently engaged in a hot scoring race with Lovelle Coleman of Western Michigan.

In the fullback slot is Earl's brother Wayne, who is also the extra point kicker for the Dales.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac area is also well represented in the Hillsdale line. At the ends are Jerry Taylor, who played under Muddy when he was coach at Walled Lake High, and Bud Thomason, a graduate of Waterford High School.

Jerry is the first string right end with Bud right behind him.

The other linesmen are Jim Larkin of Waterford High, Phil Barker of Walled Lake, and Floyd Bailey of Troy High School, all of whom have seen a lot of action in the games so far this year, and are being counted on heavily by coach Waters to help complete another undefeated season for the Dales.

★ ★ ★

Hillsdale is proud of its fine football team, and it is proud of the ten men from the Pontiac area who have helped to make the Dales one of the finest small college teams in the country.

Army-Virginia Set to Clash

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Two of the nation's finest ball carriers, Jim Bakhtiar and Bob Anderson, will be on display here tomorrow when Virginia's Cavaliers play host to Army's Black Knights in the West Point team's first football game in the Old Dominion.

A crowd of 25,000 is expected to fill Scott Stadium for the 1:30 p.m. (EDT) kickoff between the ninth-ranked Black Knights, who have lost only to Notre Dame in four starts, and the up-and-down Cavaliers, who have looked both good and bad while winning two, losing two and tying one.

Bakhtiar, was named the Associated Press Back of the Week for his great performance last Saturday against Virginia Tech. He has carried the ball 97 times for Virginia for 459 yards — fifth best in the country.

Terp-Vol Offenses Show Signs of Life

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland and Tennessee will face each other tomorrow just as their football offenses are showing signs of life.

Maryland scored four touchdowns in losing its first three games. But they perked up with four against Wake Forest and three on North Carolina.

Tennessee has scored eight touchdowns, half of them against Chattanooga, in winning three of its four games. But Coach Bowden Wyatt saw some encouragement in the last quarter last Saturday when two passes scored touchdowns to beat Alabama.

Midland Hosts Women's Finals This Weekend

MIDLAND (AP) — The Women's State singles bowling championship finals and final eliminations for the National All-Star tournament will be held in Midland Saturday and Sunday.

Twelve women bowlers will compete for the 1957 state women's match game title. The winner will succeed Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids who did not enter this year's event.

The eight top bowlers will qualify to participate in the National All-Star tourney in Minneapolis next January 10-19. Mrs. Ladewig was seeded for this tourney.

Navy's opening game victory over Boston College (46-6) marked the fourth straight season the Middies won their first football game. They started the last three seasons by beating William and Mary.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

As I mentioned a day or so ago, spare-shooting is extremely important — especially for the average bowler. We've dealt with the basic angles for shooting spares, now let's discuss the basic fundamentals.

1. When you take your stance, face your target from the correct angle.
2. Walk directly toward your target throughout your approach.
3. Make sure your arm reaches directly toward your target as you follow through. This fundamental is shown today.

Sound simple? Well, it is. Just take one fundamental at a time. Be certain you know what you want to do. Choose the right angle and take your stance. Make your approach directly toward your target, and follow through straight out toward your target.

Remember, if your first ball is a bad one, you can still get your spare by using your head and following the three fundamentals outlined above.

Lions Head for West Coast

Rematch Against Rams to Be Televised Back to Michigan

LOS ANGELES — The scene changes to the West Coast for the Detroit Lions, who have been victorious in a pair of spine-tingling hometown games for the past two Sundays.

The contest Sunday is a rematch against the Rams in Los Angeles Coliseum, and the game will be televised back to Michigan starting at 4:30 p.m.

It was the Lions tremendous defensive unit that saved the day against the Los Angeles Rams on Oct. 13, as the Lions' backfield unit intercepted six of Norm Van Brocklin's aerials to preserve a 10-7 decision.

Last week, Bobby Lane and Howard (Hopalong) Cassady teamed up to spark the Lions to a 21-point scoring surge in the final quarter to score a 31-27 victory over Baltimore.

Layne hit Cassady with a 29-yard touchdown pass with only 46 seconds remaining to climax the uphill fight. At one stage of the third quarter, Detroit trailed 27-3 but never gave up fighting and finally won one of the greatest comeback games in NFL history.

Facing the Rams in their home stadium, after Los Angeles has suffered three successive losses on the road, figures to provide the LIONS with another tough roadblock.

The Rams opened the season with a victory over Philadelphia, but have dropped three games to San Francisco, Detroit and the Chicago Bears by a total of only 14 points. San Francisco scored 23-20, Detroit won 10-7 and Chicago turned the tide 34-26.

The Lions suffered only one injury against the Baltimore Colts, guard Stan Campbell, so should be in good shape for the important rematch. End Dave Middleton saw only limited action in the Colt contest but should be ready for full duty this Sunday.

Irish Tackle Dangerous Pitt

Sooners Try for 45

NEW YORK (INS)—The college football season rounds the halfway turn tomorrow and Oklahoma, crying towels and all, still leads the race for a third straight national championship.

Undefeated in 44 straight games dating back to 1953, the nation's top-ranked team is favored by 27 points to knock off Colorado this weekend. But to hear coach Bud Wilkinson tell it, Pitt and Texas were pushovers compared to what the Buffaloes will do.

"Colorado has one of the nation's best offensive records," said Wilkinson, "and we honestly think Colorado is the toughest team we will face to date.

"I think they could beat us. We certainly will get beaten one of these days this year, and any team we play, I feel, can beat us."

Wilkinson's apprehension is not entirely groundless, however. Colorado has lost only to Kansas, by one point, in five games to date and boasts the country's most devastating ground attack. In total offense, it ranks third, well ahead of the Sooners.

The statistics don't look so good when one considers what Oklahoma did to Kansas last week. The Sooners walloped their Big Eight rivals, 47 to 0, while Colorado was dumping Kansas State, 42 to 14.

But Wilkinson isn't forgetting last year's meeting with Colorado. A supposedly weaker Buffalo squad than this year's scored nearly half the total points piled up against Oklahoma all year, leading the Sooners by a 19-to-6 halftime score and finally yielding under waves of manpower, 27 to 19.

Most of the other "top ten" teams also will be working hard to avoid defeat — notably Duke, Notre Dame, Mississippi and UCLA.

Undefeated Mississippi (7) is an 11-point choice over a dangerous Arkansas squad which was dropped from the unbeaten ranks last week by Texas. And tenth-ranked UCLA is only 2½ over Stanford.

Frustrated Gridder

Vic Zucco Travels Far but Runs Don't Count

CHICAGO (AP)—A lot has happened to Chicago Bear rookie Vic Zucco this football season—and, again, it hasn't. He's a man on a treadmill.

The 185-pound former Wayne University and Michigan State athlete probably has covered more ground in the National Football League—without it counting—than anybody else.

"Its downright frustrating," says Zucco, who is 22. "But one of these days I'm going to make a long run or score a touchdown and it's going to stick. As it is, I'm covering a lot of ground but getting nowhere."

The records show that Vic has intercepted two passes for a total runback of six yards. Actually, he has filched three others for 150 yards, but penalties washed them out.

In the Bears' 21-17 loss to Green Bay, he returned a stolen Babe Parilla pass 65 yards to the end zone. But it was ruled that his foot had hit the sideline at the Packers' 49.

When the Bears lost by an identical 21-17 to San Francisco, Zucco zipped 49 yards with a Y. A. Tittle interception to the 49er's 6. But a mate was ruled interfering on the play and San Francisco wound up with a first down on the Bear 46.

In the last quarter of the Bears' 34-26 victory over Los Angeles Sunday, Zucco pilfered a Norm Van Brocklin aerial and scampered 36 yards to the Rams' 34. But a teammate was guilty of holding and the Rams kept the ball and went for a touchdown.

He had opened the game by returning the kickoff 73 yards to the Rams' 13, but fumbled it away.

It all totals to four potential touchdowns set up by Zucco that the Bears never got. Otherwise, their record easily could be 3-1 instead of 1-3 as they head for their return game with the 49ers at San Francisco Sunday.

Fight Backers Add $15,000 for Moore

DETROIT (AP) — Backers put up another $15,000 yesterday toward the $100,000 Archie Moore is to get to defend his light heavyweight title against Chuck Speiser at the State Fair Coliseum Jan. 17.

It brought the amount on deposit for Moore to $55,000. The backers are scheduled to put up another $30,000 Monday.

Moore has agreed that the final $15,000 for his title defense will not have to be posted until the day before the bout.

Torpid Favored

Soccer Festival Sunday

The Detroit Soccer League will present its first "Soccer Festival at MacCabe Stadium, Boston and Broad Streets, Sunday afternoon.

The program will start at 1:30 p.m. with the St. Andrew Scots meeting the German Sport Club.

At 3:00 p.m. the feature game will have the Chicago Lions facing the Detroit Ukranians.

League Tilts Feature Prep Slate

By CHUCK ABAIR

A full slate of football action is on tap around Oakland County and the surrounding area for the 1st time in four weeks tonight with the recent flu siege apparently finally under control.

The fast-spreading sickness is still not completely cleared up but all of today's games are expected to go on as scheduled. Several have been postponed since the flu bug started to strike early this month.

Two important league contests drawing the most attention tonight are the Clawson-Troy Oakland B debacle and Milford's invasion of Northville in the Wayne-Oakland loop. Both games will have defending champions meeting top contenders.

Clawson won the Oakland B a year ago and was preseason favorite this fall until the Trojans bowed to Lake Orion last week. Troy has won its two league starts and three other games with comparative ease but Colt skipper Joe Bechard is pessimistic about this "big" one.

"Clawson will probably have too much for us. They're too big," commented Joe today. But he has some big boys of his own in 215-pound guard Ben Burkland and tackle Rick Aebel, 200.

The high-powered rivals should be at top strength for the game which could turn into a scoring duel. Clawson's backfield will include Lowell Acton, John Volk, Dave Rehse and George Almashy, while Troy will have Wayne Figley, Gary Littleson, Dave Stokes and Jerry Cochran operating behind the line.

GOOD COMBINATION — Fullback Doug Storey, with ball, and Nick Neira of Lake Orion form a strong passing-running combination that could spark the Dragons to their 1st Oakland B championship. They go against Avondale tonight.

Northville is defending champion and favorite to repeat in the W-O. The Mustangs have the rare combination of size, speed, depth and experience but have not been truly tested in league play. Milford could provide that stern test. It is a "must" game for the Redskins. A loss would just about drop the early season leaders out of the title race.

Lake Orion goes after its 4th straight loop win at Avondale and Fitzgerald is at home against Madison in other Oakland B action. Rounding out the Wayne-Oakland calendar will be Holly at Brighton, Bloomfield Hills at Clarkston and Clarenceville at Keego Harbor.

Two games are on tap in the Tri-County as Lapeer travels to Rochester and Romeo faces L'Anse Creuse.

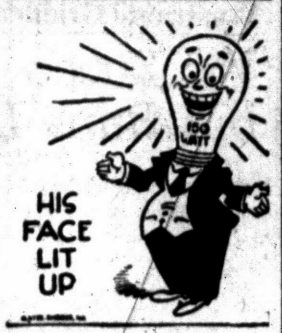

In the Eastern Michigan League, Birmingham tries to keep East Detroit on the losing side, Hazel Park defending 1st place against Mt. Clemens and Ferndale hosts Port Huron.

Other games include South Lyon at Boysville, Oak Park at Grosse Pointe University School and Armada at Imlay City.

Cards Laud Ollie Matson

Coach Ray Richards, his five assistants and the entire Chicago Cardinal team have heaped praises on the former San Francisco University star.

Matson takes all this in stride. He said today that if he is having a good year, "It's because I've been lucky and my teammates have been doing a terrific job."

Richards is Matson's greatest booster. He describes the 26-year-old halfback "a player without a peer in football today." He added: "He is by far the best runner and the best halfback I've ever coached. He has more speed than anyone I've seen and is especially dangerous because of his change of pace. It's hard actually to detect a change of pace because he is so fast. He is an exceptional blocker and can pass effectively."

★ ★ ★

Matson got off to a running start against the San Francisco 49ers in the NFL opener but the following two weeks had trouble against Washington and Pittsburgh. He had his best day last Sunday against the Redskins in Washington.

Waterford Hopes to Settle Old Score

Walled Lake 11 Under Skipper Fire Tonight

Rival Coaches Forget Friendship as 2 Foes Clash at Waterford

By BILL CORNWELL

But their friendship wil be completely forgotten for 48 frenzied minutes tonight when their two eager squads collide in an Inter-Lakes Conference battle at Waterford.

Each coach is always glad to see the other win a football game as long as it's not at his expense. That's the way it will be this evening.

Last year about this time the two teams met under vastly different cirmustances at Walled Lake. Both clubs were unbeaten and untied and the Inter-Lakes title was up for grabs.

The Vikings scored a last-gasp touchdown in the waning seconds of play for a hair-raising 12-7 triumph over Waterford. With it went a perfect season and the Inter-Lakes crown.

Both teams are out of championship contention this season. Walled Lake has an overall record of 3-2 and a league mark of 1-2. The Skippers are 1-3-1 to gether and also 1-2 in the I-L.

But the memory of last year's setback in that hectic title showdown is certain to have the Skippers pitched higher than the provervial kite when the 8 o'clock kickoff hour arrives.

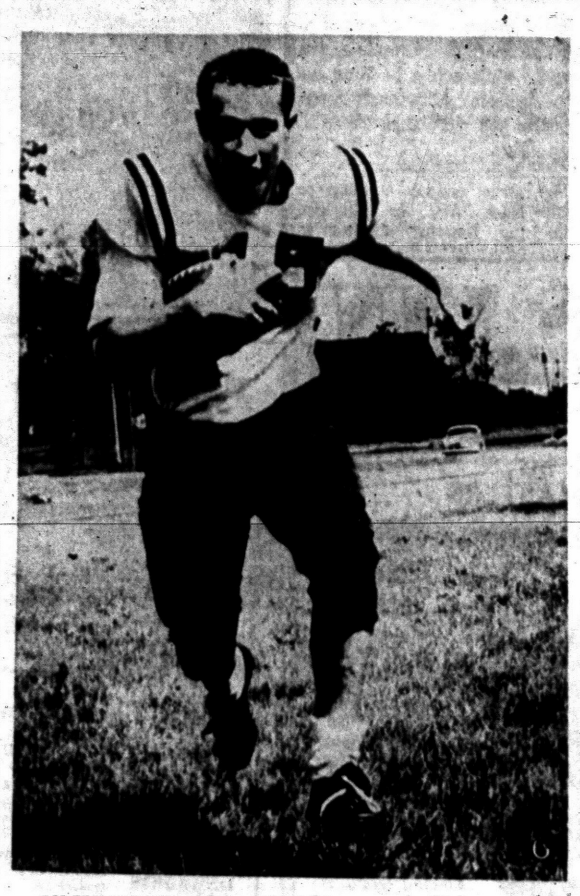

Walled Lake will have its incentive for winning too. Disappointed over their failure to do better this fall, the Vikings have their hearts set on finishing their schedule with a commendable 6-2 record. They'll have to win all the rest to do it.

Waterford, likewise unhappy over its failure to live up to advance billing, wants to wind up its slate on the winning side of the ledger. The Skippers must take everything remaining to finish above .500.

With the exception of halfback Frank Fink and guard Bobby Young, Walled Lake is at full strength. The loss of Fink is a serious blow, however, since the speedy junior is the central figure in Walled Lake's attack.

The Skippers are also at full strength, one of the few times this year that they have been, and are primed and ready.

Two other Inter-Lakes games are scheduled today. Pace-setting Southfield and Berkley clash this afternoon at Southfield while runner-up Farmington tries to keep its title hopes alive under the lights at Van Dyke.

ON THE LOOSE — One of the best runners in this area and also a defensive star is fullback Jim Kearney of Bloomfield Hills. He leads the Barons against Clarkston in a local Wayne-Oakland battle tonight.

Telecast Into NY

78 Phillie Games on TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Everything appears set for the televising of 78 games by the Philadelphia Phillies into the metropolitan New York area next season.

The deal which would beam the National League games here now that the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants are no more reported was completed yesterday between Bob Carpenter, Phillies president, and station WOR-TV. No official announcement has been made, however, pending a formal notification of the New York Yankees, the only live club left in the Big Town, which makes this American League territory.

Commissioner Ford Frick said yesterday "we're not permitted to make any kind of a restrictive rule on television between leagues."

The schedule, as described by today's Herald-Tribune, would call for about three-fourths of the games to be televised from the Phils' home park with the rest road games, including one exhibition game. The schedule will offer mostly weekend and night games.

★ ★ ★

WOR-TV, which previously telecast Dodger games, reportedly bought the Phillie TV rights for $600,000. The station paid the Dodgers $750,000, but for a total of 102 games, last year. The operational costs, which figure to run high because of the distance involved, have been estimated at about $1,300,000.

Seniors' Tourney in Semifinals

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — A 73-year-old shotmaker, William H. Diddell of Carmel, Ind., met J. Wood Plat of Philadelphia in the semifinals of the North and South Seniors Golf Championship.

In the other semifinal of the tournament for golfers aged 55 and up, James H. Ackerman of Princeton, N. J., played John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio.

HARTSHORNE, Okla. (AP) — Milwaukee Braves pitcher Warren Spahn says he'll keep pitching "until they make me stop." And he gave notice that he wants to pitch every fourth game next year.

But Spahn said if anyone had told him 10 years ago that he would still be pitching at 36 "I would have said they were crazy."

Residents of this little southeastern Oklahoma town and other Oklahoma professional baseball players were to honor Spahn with a parade and barbecue today.

A Worthwhile Life, a Wonderful Husband, a Mink Coat

Kathy Grant Had 3 Ambitions---Bing Crosby Will Fill Them All

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS) — She didn't say yes, she didn't say no, but it was obvious to this reporter that pretty Kathy Grant wanted to marry Bing Crosby.

★ ★ ★

Last December I lunched with the Texas-born starlet, who for over two years has been consistently "linked" with der Bingle, according to gossip along Hollywood and grapevine.

★ ★ ★

Wrapped in a black-diamond mink coat that Kathy reluctantly admitted was loaned to her by Columbia Pictures, to whom she is under contract, the 23-year-old brunette listed her ambitions:

"To own a coat just like this all my very own; to lead a full and worthwhile life, not just as far as a career is concerned; and to marry a wonderful, kind, intelligent man."

"I want you to understand," smiled Kathy, "my ambitions aren't listed necessarily in the order of their importance."

QUIETLY MARRIED

Yesterday, the famous crooner and his young bride slipped quietly into St. Anne's Catholic Church at Las Vegas, Nev., where the regular Catholic marriage ceremony was performed by Monsignor John J. Ryan. Both received communion during the private Nuptial Mass.

Crosby, 53 and the father of four sons, was widowed by the death of his first wife, former film dancer Dixie Lee, in October 1952. He is the most serious Catholic of all the Crosbys. Kathy was converted to Catholicism after their romance began.

Although Kathy double-talked charmingly when it came to the topic of Bing, this is what she said in that December interview.

"He is a warm, wonderful, intelligent man. He has been hurt by Hollywood gossip and has no plans to marry anyone immediately.

★ ★ ★

"I don't have plans to marry anyone immediately, either." Then Kathy clammed up with the explanatory statement: "When people ask all kinds of questions, I had the feeling they were trying to 'get to' Bing through me, if you know what I mean."

SONS APPROVE

She has met Bing's sons, and thinks they're "fine boys," and insiders say Bing's family has "put the stamp of approval on Kathy."

Swedish-born blonde actress Inger Stevens, 21, who recently co-starred in a Crosby picture, dated Bing occasionally, and was asked if she'd like to marry him.

"Who wouldn't?" Miss Stevens replied.

Throughout his long and richly rewarding career, Crosby has sought to keep his personal affairs out of the public eye, with his business-partner brothers, Larry and Everett, blocking the view.

In recent years, Crosby, a multi-millionaire and a naturally easy-going man, has trimmed down his professional work to the point where he stars in only one film per year and appears only occasionally on television.

★ ★ ★

He even wrote a London newspaper columnist that he felt his voice had lost the throb that made him the idol of millions of women in the 1930s and that he was thinking of retiring to enjoy the almost endless fruits of his labors.

STRESSES ACTING

In his most recent pictures, he has concentrated upon dramatic acting rather than singing, but on a television show last week he sang gaily and confidently.

Crosby has been a boxoffice gold mine for himself and many others since he appeared in his first movie, "The Big Broadcast of 1932." For the past dozen years he has consistently ranked among the screen's top attractions. He has won one academy award — for "Going My Way"—and been nominated for another.

One of his films, "White Christmas," grossed some 12 million dollars. His recording of the song of the same name is the biggest selling record of all time.

Of the mountains of recordings he has made, nearly 20 have sold more than a million copies each. But as much as three years ago, Bing drawled:

★ ★ ★

He added that he switched to drama from musical comedy, the format that was his meat and drink for years, because "I'm just tired of playing Crosby."

TWO SONS SING

Two of Bing's sons, Gary and Lindsay, have embarked on singing careers of their own recently. Lindsay sang on last week's Edsel TV show with his father, and Gary has made several top selling records.

The other boys, twins Philip and Dennis, have shown little inclination to follow in their father's illustrious footsteps, however.

To the horror of his business associates, he often insists upon strolling about minus his toupee, exposing his all but naked scalp to public gaze.

Another time Paris gendarmes caught him napping in a park, rapped the soles of his shoes and informed him that hoboes weren't welcome.

Oddly, the quirk that started Bing in show business was in his back. One of seven children of Harry Lowe and Catherine Helen Crosby of Tacoma, Wash., Bing dreamed in his youth of becoming a major league ballplayer.

JOINED BAND

He was thwarted by a back injury suffered while working as a lumberjack one summer, so when he went to college at Gonzaga in Spokane, Wash., he became a drummer in a small band.

Soon he was singing with the outfit, and it wasn't long before Paul Whiteman heard him crooning with his partner, Al Rinker, and signed the boys to a contract.

Composer Harry Barris joined the team, and the rhythm boys were in business. From this springboard, Bing leaped into prominence as the swoon crooner of his day.

Miss Grant began preparing for a theatrical career early in life. While still a schoolgirl, she was driven 17 miles daily by her aunt to attend dancing class.

★ ★ ★

While a junior in high school, she won the unlikely title of "Miss Buccaneer Navy," which earned her a three-week visit to Mexico City, 15 orchids and a crown. The following year she was named Queen of the Texas Rodeo at the Houston fat stock show.

EYE ON HOLLYWOOD

She was just 16, and when she learned that two of the judges in the contest were Roy Rogers and his manager, Art Rush, Kathy decided that Hollywood was near.

Rush, however, told her to complete her schooling before making an assault on movies, so she entered the University of Texas. There she was chosen "Golden Girl" of the Texas Baseball League, "Queen of the Texas Lions" and "Miss Texas Carnival" in close order.

She finally came to filmland with her father, a political figure. Two days after her arrival, she was tested for the ingenue lead in "Forever Female" at Paramount, where she met Bing.

Kathy didn't get the role, but she later snagged parts in "Rear Window," "Living It Up," "Arrowhead," "Casanova's Big Night" and "Unchanged." Her most recent film is "Operation Mad Ball."

She completed her education at the University of California at Los Angeles while acting in films and also became Hollywood correspondent for more than 20 Texas newspapers.

Say Women Carry Out Whisky Under Girdles

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Five women employes of the Publicker Industries Inc. were accused yesterday of taking from the plant 14 gallons of whisky concealed beneath their girdles.

Policewoman Alice Curran searched the women and said she found the secreted whisky in pints, half-pints and fifths. The women, employed as cleaners, were held in $300 bail for the Grand Jury.

Esdaile, Wis., lies at the foot of an "S" shaped valley and is in a river dale. That is how the town got its name.

Doctor Warns Brain Is Key to Long Life

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Medicine's success in prolonging life may "become a cure rather than a blessing" unless people's minds and personalities are also preserved, says a leading psychiatrist.

Dr. Edward A. Strecker, professor emeritus of psychiatry at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, said yesterday that preserving the mind and personality is "infinitely more precious than the body." He noted that many old people have sound bodies but are foregetful, lack interest in their surroundings, and suffer from infirmities due to deterioration of parts of the brain.

Waterford Driver Struck by Train

A Waterford Township man escaped serious injury early this morning as his car collided with an eastbound freight train at a crossing on Scott Lake Rd., in Waterford Township.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies said that James A. Ferrell, 33, of 1555 Williams Lake Rd., waited for a westbound train to pass. Then he started across the tracks and was struck by the eastbound train.

Board Sets Boundaries for Students of New PHS

Tentative boundaries which will divide students going to the new Pontiac High School from those continuing at the present high school were adopted last night by the Board of Education.

Meeting as guests of the Crofoot School PTA, the board adopted the following boundaries: City limits from the Grand Trunk Railroad to Kennett Rd.; west on Kennett to the Grand Trunk tracks; south on the railroad to Montcalm; down Glenwood to Paddock to Mt. Clemens and out Featherstone.

Those north and west of this boundary will attend the new school, except for students who will be in the 12A next fall. They will finish up at the present school.

Some students who are taking shop courses offered only at the present high school will be allowed to transfer to that school from the new high school.

According to a committee study, the old high school will have 2,057 students next fall, while the new one will have 1,000.

In other action, the board received a report of a two-year study on report cards. The study group of 40 parents, teachers and administrators made the following recommendations to the board:

1. That schools interested be allowed to use the parent-teacher conference instead of a report card or along with a report card.
2. That individual teachers be allowed to experiment with the conference method.
3. That classes be dismissed the equivalent of two days per conference period to release the teachers' time for conferring with parents.

★ ★ ★

The board inquired as to how parents received the conference method at Webster and Bethune which now use it. Lester Stanley, committee chairman, said that at first it is usually opposed, but favored after a tryout.

The board also heard a report on the Higgins Lake Conference by Kenneth Nagley. The seventh annual teachers conference Oct. 5-6, was devoted to reading problems.

Gerald White, elementary coordinator, reported on the progress made in establishing adequate library facilities in elementary schools during the past year.

Store Burglarized 6th Time This Year

The Gallagher Drug Store, 7617 Highland Rd., was forcibly entered last night for the sixth time this year.

More than $100 in small change, six wrist watches and four electric razors were missing, said the owner, Edgar Gelberg, of Detroit.

Each time the burglars have gained entrance through the air-conditioning unit on the roof, said Waterford Township Police.

The break-in was discovered at 9 a.m. today when a clerk opened the store for business.

Mideast Issue Argued in U.N.

Russia, U.S. Both Try to Prove Other at Fault in Turkey-Syria Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Russia and the United States squared off again today for resumption of the U.N. Assembly's debate on the Turkish-Syrian crisis. Each of the two big powers sought to prove the other responsible for the new flareup in the cold war.

A government spokesman in Damascus said four Turkish aircraft, flying at only 600 feet, trespassed over Syrian territorial waters off Latakia, the port where Egyptian troop reinforcements landed recently. The spokesman said a fifth plane flew over Kameshli, in northeast Syria.

Convinced that Syria will not accept a mediation offer by Saudi Arabian King Saud, Western delegates marshaled new arguments intended to prove that Russia cooked up the crisis as a propaganda vehicle to discredit the United States.

Russia in turn has accused the United States of goading Turkey into war against Syria in an effort to split the Arab world.

Syria made plain she would press demands that the 82-nation Assembly appoint a U.N. inquiry commission as soon as possible to investigate the border situation. The United States wants the commission to have the broader task of ferreting out who is behind the crisis.

★ ★ ★

An informed source said the leaders of the 11 Arab nations' delegations met behind closed doors yesterday. One of the more moderate members reportedly suggested a resolution calling on both Turkey and Syria to pull back any abnormal troop concentrations on the border.

Pontiac Youth Arrested on Desertion Charge

Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit office of the FBI, revealed today the arrest of Richard E. Joseph, 18, of 242 High St., on a charge of desertion from the U. S. Navy.

Joseph admitted being absent from his ship, the USS Calwosahatchee, at Newport, R. I., since Aug. 31, Brown said.

Joseph was awaiting special court martial on charges of misappropriation of government property and endangering the safety of his ship, in the alleged theft of three gallons of gasoline for an automobile.

Joseph is being held at Oakland County Jail for naval authorities.

Southfield Township Newsboy Killed

Blinding headlights were blamed for the accident which took the life of a 12-year-old Southfield Township newspaper boy as he was delivering his papers early last night.

Donald Wise, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wise, of 29005 Southfield Rd., was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital at 6:30 p.m.

The driver of the car which struck him as he rode along 13 Mile road west of Southfield road, was Mrs. Ann Wardrop, 38, of 4800 Beach Rd., Southfield Township. She told state police that headlights from an oncoming car blinded her and she was unable to see the boy until seconds before the crash.

Mrs. Wardrop is not being held. The boy's bike was unlighted, police said.

'Moon'-Tracking Post Set Up on RCA Bldg.

NEW YORK (AP) — A satellite tracking post will be set up on the roof of the RCA Building and go into full operation before the planned launching in December of the first American satellite.

Pilot Glides and Crashes

Four Die to Save Homes

MIDWEST CITY, Okla. (AP)—An Air Force Flying Boxcar heading for home exploded and burned last night near a residential area that one eyewitness said the pilot apparently maneuvered to miss.

The four crewmen on the C119 transport were killed.

A Detroit flier was one of the four Air Force men killed. He was Capt. Berthurum King, 37, of 4840 Rohn St., co-pilot of the plane. He is survived by his widow, Donna, and a son, Richard, 2.

★ ★ ★

"He turned on his landing lights so he could locate a clear spot," Chilcoat said of the pilot.

"My God, that was the extreme sacrifice!"

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"If the plane had fallen 500 yards to the east, west, or south, it would have been in the middle of houses," an ambulance driver at the crash scene said.

★ ★ ★

"I think he rode it out to clear those houses," said Chilcoat who was outside his home, near the crash site, working on his car.

He said the pilot evidently was going into a glide when it appeared the "left engine blew up and the plane disintegrated."

Midwest City sprang from farm lands in World War II to house workers at Tinker and Douglas Aircraft Co.'s plant. Thousands of the big air material area base civilian and military personnel live here on the edge of Oklahoma City.

New Absence Peak

DETROIT (AP) — The list of children absent from Detroit schools reached a new peak in the current wave of Asian flu Thursday with more than one-fifth of the enrollment out of school Dr. Joseph G. Molner, city health commissioner, said he believed heavy rains were a factor in the high absenteeisms rate Thursday.

Shorter Daylight Sends Birds Off to Southern Food

"Because the short duration of winter daylight makes it difficult to find a sufficiency of food," says Warren Chase, a University of Michigan professor of wildlife management. "Shorter days in the fall as well as autumn storms deem to trigger the movement South."

Chase advises bird watchers and wildlife photographers as well as hunters to trek to Michigan swamps and water areas now if they want to see flocks of geese, swans and ducks.

Michigan is a good vantage point for anyone interested in birds, Chase explains. The state rests in the Mississippi flyway and the Atlantic flyway, the two most frequently used routes south.

Chrysler to Pay Extra Dividend

Company Declares One Dollar Bonus Because of High Earning

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has declared an extra dividend of one dollar per share on the strength of the second highest nine months earnings in its history.

Both the extra and regular dividends, totaling $1.75, will be paid Dec. 13 to shareholders of record Nov. 13. The regular 75 cents quarterly dividend has been paid since September, 1954.

Riding high on a comeback surge, the company reported yesterday net earnings amounted to $103,575,486 or $11.87 a share and compared with $6,272,352 or 72 cents a share in the like nine months of 1956.

The record for the period was $105,246,991 or $12.09 a share in 1950.

At the end of this year's first six months Chrysler reported net earnings of $89,740,757 or $10.28 a share compared with $18,671,471 or $2.14 a share in the same 1956 period.

Dollar sales for this year's January - September period totaled $2,745,802,865 and compared with $1,858,437,251 for the like 1956 period. The gross sales were the highest for any like period in Chrysler history.

Chrysler car and truck shipments to dealers during the first nine months of 1957 totaled 1,082,801 units, the report said. This compared with 763,718 units shipped during the comparable 1956 period.

Third quarter car and truck shipments numbered 265,300 units, compared with 171,217 in the same 1956 period.

2-Point Losses Hit Key Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market eased back quietly in early trading today after its wide gyrations earlier this week.

Key stocks took losses ranging from fractions to around two points. There were a few small gainers.

★ ★ ★

The opening was active and the ticker tape once more was late in ticker tape once mmore was late in reporting transactions, as it has been every day this hectic week.

★ ★ ★

Overnight corporate and economic news was mixed and there was nothing to spur the market to wide moves in either direction.

★ ★ ★

A 3,000-share block of Chrysler was down ¾ at 69¾. The loss was stretched to more than two points before it moderated fractionally. This stock has enjoyed a big rise, part of it yesterday in anticipation of its excellent earnngs report and extra $1 dividend.

★ ★ ★

Lackawanna Railroad fell about a point following news it had taken no dividend action. Other losers of a point or so were Gulf Oil, Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft and Kennecott.

★ ★ ★

Smaller losses were taken by U.S. Steel, Ford, Goodrich, United Aircraft, American Telephone, Anaconda, Union Carbide, General Electric, Southern Pacific, American Airlines and Standard Oil (New Jersey).

Among opening blocks were General Motors off ¼ at 38⅝ on 3,000 shares; American Telephone off ⅝ at 163½ on 3,500; and Lackawanna off ¾ at 9 on 1,600.

Grains Steady, Trade Light

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains and soybeans futures held about steady in a very light trade on the Board of Trade today.

Selling of wheat was mostly by professionals and was well taken on resting orders, giving the bread grain a steady to firm tone.

The same situation prevailed in corn. Receipts overnight at Chicago were light at 107 cars compared with 200 a week ago and 260 for the same day a year ago. Today's receipts included 45 for Commodity Credit Corp. account. Demand for cash corn was good.

The CCC announced sale of 444,000 bushels of corn for export from Atlantic and Gulf ports. Other CCC overnight sales included 75,000 bushels of barley, 80,000 of rye and 175,000 of oats.

There was scattered selling in soybeans with local traders and commission houses on both sides of the market. Soybean oils and meals were fairly steady.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ⅛-⅝ higher, Dec. $2.16⅞, corn ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. $1.21¼; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, Dec. 67⅝; rye ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, Dec. $1.26¾; soybeans unchanged to ¼ lower, Nov. $2.28½; lard was 2 cents lower to 5 cents higher per hundred pounds, Nov. $11.40.

'Just Call on Me' for Missile Help, Boy Tells Experts

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP) — A space-minded youngster in Australia says he is willing to let scientists at this missile base in on his space travel secrets.

Young Garry Jack makes the announcement in an urgent note air-mailed from his home in New South Wales and addressed to "Person in Charge, White Sands."

"I've read one of Walt Disney's comics," Gary wrote, "and things you plan to do are silly. I could give you a plan that would take you hundreds of years to find out.

"If you are interested, write me and tell me when you are going to send a fast plane to take me to your headquarters . . . and hurry!"

Unearth 2,200 Egyptian Tombs South of Cairo

CAIRO (INS) — A series of Egyptian tombs, some dating back 5,000 years, has been uncovered by workmen digging a ditch along the Nile 15 miles south of Cairo.

Archeological experts believe the tombs may be the most important historical find since the discovery of Cheops' solar boat near the great pyramids three years ago.

So far, 2,200 tombs have been unearthed. Many of them are constructed of the limestone common to the first dynasty instead of the mud bricks used in the second dynasty Experts also consider the find important because it is the first of its kind in the Cairo area.

About 20,000 pieces of pottery, knives, beads and ancient writings, so far not deciphered, have been found.

Crumbling mummies, some covered with gold paint, were found in a dozen tombs but they cannot be removed without dissolving to dust. They were placed in the sarcophagi more than 3,000 years before Christ was born.

Bandsmen to Lend Hand on Gridiron

EAST MOUNTAIN, Tex. (AP) — Seven members ofthe high school band will reinforce the East Mountain team for its football game with Spring Hill tonight.

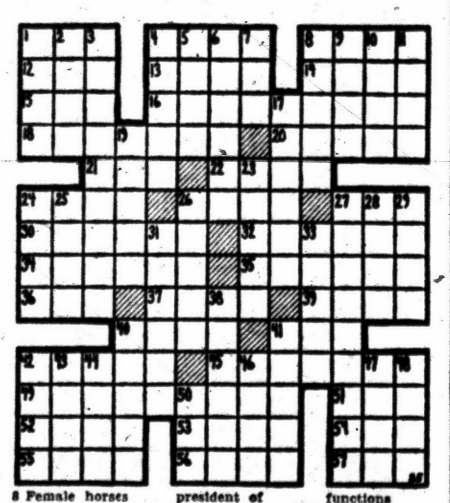

Coach Lonnie Senton appealed for volunteer players after a star tackle and fullback, Wendell Harvey, was killed in an auto crash and influenza further reduced the squad to eight players.

"We might getbeat 100-0 but we're going to play," Senton said.

TOO MUCH MUSIC? — Perry Como believes that many performers will be hurt by television's current enthusiasm for singers. But the relaxed crooner refuses to get upset about the great upsurge in competition. Como's musical variety show is telecast Saturdays at 7 p. m. over NBC.

Queen Had Too Much 'Security' While Here

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Dear Queen Liz: Well, now looking back on it, I want to tell you you're such a doll that we all loved you, but, honey, you need better handling.

You should give the royal boot to your misguided "shedyule" makers who made you brush New York off in less than a day. Not only us Yankees but the English journalists here are asking why the timetable boys wouldn't let you really see New York.

WILSON

Now about that pompous "over-security" you receive — partly the fault of our State Dept.

★ ★ ★

Our State Dept. got caught in its own tangle of red tape at the Waldorf proceedings, and for a while it couldn't get its own photographer in because it hadn't remembered to get a pass from the ad agency which was quite efficiently handling the affair.

That was settled without bloodshed, and the U.S. Information Service photog got his pass, with 7 minutes to spare.

Warnings that "everybody is to be frozen in his seat," and "nobody is to move," didn't sit well, and maybe some of that is our fault, too.

But I was there in the Waldorf lobby when your private guard like to have fainted because the photographers were "talking" to Your Majesty.

QUEEN ELIZABETH

"Oh, my, they're talking to Her Majesty!" he sputtered. "Oh, my, they musn't do that!"

They were saying, "Hold it," and, "Turn this way!" and you didn't mind because, when one cameraman said, "Thank you," and another one yelled, "Hey, wait a minute," you smiled a nice smile.

Although you go out in London with one private guard, there were 80 cops in the Waldorf ballroom and nothing happened except one guy got frisked pretty hard when he dared start up for an autograph.

★ ★ ★

So maybe you ought to make Security take the wraps off of you a little. "You got to get out and mingle," as we say hereabouts. "Mix."

I suppose you know you were the biggest hit since MacArthur. In the Waldorf the press was so excited that girl reporters got into gent's powder rooms by mistake and things like that . . . Well, hurry back.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Clifton Daniel, Margaret Truman's husband, was promoted by the New York Times to assistant to the managing editor, Turner Catledge, a new job created for him . . . Teresa Brewer's ex-mgr., Richie Lisella, may sue her for 100G's for breach of agreement . . . Gretchen Wyler scrapped $1,200 worth of photos when she changed from blond to red for "Rumple" . . . The young Aga Khan has a one-year leave of absence from Harvard.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Musician John Sebastian, asked why he chose to play the harmonica, said, "I don't like to carry packages" . . . That's earl, brother.

But He Refuses to Get Worried

Perry Says His Show Will Keep Easy Tempo That Fans Like

By WILLIAM GLOVER

★ ★ ★

If isn't the rivalry, its' the planning that disturbs Perry.

"Having all these other musical shows doesn't bother me," he asserts. "I'm just anxious to see the outcome. I think they (meaning the people who put shows together) have gone overboard.

★ ★ ★

"I think that the more competition the better it is. After all, the singers are each singing in a different way and trying to get guest stars in their own way.

A LITTLE MORE

"But it takes a little more than singing. You have to have an organization. An evening's show is built over years, not days.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"The writing and rehearsal of each show takes six days," he adds. "We know what we're doing and we know there's not that much to get excited about.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield Seeks Subsidy for Scientific Sophomores

BOZEMAN, Mont. (INS) — Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) proposes that the government subsidize high school sophomores who show an aptitude in the fields of science and engineering.

★ ★ ★

The students, upon graduation, would work for the government for five to seven years in the armed services or in fields connected with national security.

Mansfield said: "I know that there are some people who will call such a proposal Socialism. I call it survival."

★ ★ ★

The recommendations were made in a speech scheduled to be delivered to a gathering of Montana educators and school teachers.

Citing the progress of Soviet science, Mansfield said that Russia, two years ago, graduated 50,000 scientists and engineers and 50,000 sub-scientists and sub-engineers, while the United States graduated only 28,000.

The rate of increase in the Soviet Union is accelerating while in the United States it is declining, Mansfield said.

★ ★ ★

Mansfield said it is evident that the U.S. satellite and missile programs are lagging behind the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, he recommended naming of a secretary of research and development with full cabinet status; expansion of the national science foundation, and coordination and joint action by U.S. scientists and scientists of Western Europe.

Giant Strands Fall From Sky in New Mexico

PORTALES, N.M. (AP)—Cobweb-like strands up to 50 feet long are falling from the sky around this eastern New Mexico city, festooning telephone lines and becoming a nuisance in broom corn and cotton harvesting.

★ ★ ★

Explanations of the nature of the strands have ranged from the Russian satellite to giant cobwebs. They are apparently falling from a great height.

★ ★ ★

An engineer at Sandia Base in Albuquerque said he had heard of similar phenomena in California valleys around Fresno and Bakersfield which were attributed to dust.

Dust particles in the atmosphere rub together creating a static charge which causes the particles to cling together in the form of gossamer strands.

Mother and 3 Tots Die in Home Fire

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—A mother and her four sons, the oldest 3½, were burned to death early today when fire destroyed their two-room frame home on a tenant farm 10 miles north of this city in eastern New York.

The dead were Mrs. Beverly Ann Coon 24, and her sons: Robert, 3½; Victory, 2½; Richard, 1½; and Paul, 4 weeks.

The father, Robert Coon, 24, suffered first and second-degree burns. He was treated by a physician and then returned to the scene, frantic at the destruction of his entire family.

State police said the house measured 15 by 25 feet.

There was no monetary estimate of the loss.

Doubts Russian Sputnik Claims

U.S. Physicist Suggests Balloon May Have Been Used for Launching

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — Russia's launching of Sputnik may have been a "fake stunt," says a physicist participating in the U.S. Far Side Project.

★ ★ ★

Sputnik may have been launched from a balloon—as the Far Side rocket was—instead of using an intercontinental ballistic missile, said Charles E. Bartley.

★ ★ ★

"As propaganda, the Russian launching is undeniably superb," Bartley told a group of University of Redlands scientists. "By innuendo, it supports Soviet claims to an intercontinental ballistic missile.

★ ★ ★

"But objective analysis raises several questions. Sputnik could easily have been launched from a balloon. This would have been possible without employing a large rocket of ICBM magnitude."

"Newspapers were wrong when they said the satellite weighed 184.3 pounds. I think it is not so heavy."

Commented Bartley: "Common sense and logic sum up two reasonable suppositions. The Soviet Sputnik more likely weighs 18 pounds and it does not make sense that the Russians would expend a large ICBM rocket, even if they had it, to put that weight into an orbit when a light cluster of efficient small rockets could do the same job from a balloon."
