State Financier, 15 Others Indicted for Alleged Fraud

DETROIT (AP) — Federal fraud indictments against financier and Democratic fund raiser Ben Levinson and others stirred Michigan political circles today.

A federal grand jury, acting after a reported 3-year-old government investigation, indicted Levinson and 15 other men for alleged criminal conspiracy and fraud in government agency home loans. The Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration were alleged to have been victimized in connection with $4 million in loans.

Last Week's U.S. Toll Is High for Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American casualties in the first week of November were the highest so far in the Viet Nam war — 70 killed and 237 wounded, a U.S. spokesman reported today.

Most of the Americans were killed in actions around the Special Forces camp at Plei Me, in the central highlands. The week before there were 42 American dead.

The figures released today did not include the major battle Monday in the D Zone north of Saigon between U.S. paratroopers and Communist troops.

The casualties brought the total number of Americans killed in action in Viet Nam to 933, according to unofficial tabulation. A total of 4,601 have been wounded and 92 are missing.

Twenty Americans are known to be detained by the Viet Cong.

144 VIETNAMESE
Vietnamese killed during the first week of November totaled 144, twice as many as the Americans killed. Two months ago one American was dying to every four Vietnamese.

Viet Cong dead were estimated at 536, giving allied forces a 2.5-to-1 kill ratio in their favor.

No Need for Oxygen; May Soon Recover

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors reported today he has had a mild attack of angina pectoris, or coronary insufficiency. They said he might be well again in two weeks.

While the heart condition that put the five-star general back in the hospital at age 75 was related to a severe heart attack in 1955, the doctors said that this time it was not a heart attack in the same sense.

Their patient was removed from an oxygen tent this morning and told he could sit up during the day.

There has been no more chest pain or discomfort since the original attack that struck around midnight Monday.

Another way of putting what has happened to the former President, the team of physicians agreed, is hardening of the arteries which shut-off some of the blood from the heart.

Lights Go Out for 30 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Lights flashed on in New York early today and transportation systems began to move, signaling the end to a massive and frightening power blackout that crippled the teeming Northeast.

After 10 hours of worried waiting, the lights came back on at 3:35 a.m. in the heart of Manhattan — one of the last areas affected by the nation's worst power failure.

New York's mammoth subway system staggered back into operation and commuter train service was slowly restored.

The city remained crippled because hundreds of thousands of persons could not get to work.

Coming on with alarming suddenness during last evening rush hour, the blackout at its peak enveloped 30,000 square miles, affecting up to 30 million persons in eight states, scrambled transportation and communications and stranded hundreds of thousands in stalled subway cars and elevators.

Through the night, the Texas White House reported progress of experts trying to pinpoint the trouble that drained electric power from New York, Boston and hundreds of smaller cities, towns and hamlets.

Reports were contradictory although President Johnson was advised the experts were "pretty well agreed" no sabotage was involved and the Pentagon said military communications and the Washington-Moscow hotline were not hampered.

As the night wore on, power began seeping back into most of the blackout area that at one time stretched over New York, Pennsylvania, Massa-

LBJ Heard News Over Car Radio

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — At first word of the great Northeast power disaster, President Johnson began to ask questions and issue orders.

Johnson was driving north of his ranch home near here when he got the first inkling of trouble — on a news broadcast over his car radio. Hustling to the ranch house, he phoned the White House in Washington.

The first person he talked to — special assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr. — had no word of the mystery blackout. But Califano found out in a hurry and remained on duty long into the morning hours — acting as a link between Johnson and the disaster.

Within minutes, White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers assembled newsmen at the press center in Austin, 65 miles east of here, and began what probably was a record-breaking news briefing for any presidential press aide. It went through the long evening hours, and into the morning today.

Alternately clenching a cigar between his teeth and using it as a stabbing pointer as he gestured, Moyers said first that Johnson had got the word on his car radio and had hustled to the ranch headquarters to place calls to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Director Buford Ellington of the Office of Emergency Planning, and California.

UTMOST HELP
All he said, were instructed to offer the utmost federal assistance to all officials of the areas concerned.

Later, Moyers said Ellington had told the President he had word from utility people that power would be restored throughout the Northeast in 24 hours.

Military Questions Draw Prime Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Struck with a kind of crisis it's never known before, the federal government groped today for answers to a mounting array of questions.

Foremost: how did it happen, this terrifying blackout that gripped the busiest corner of the United States for most of a night?

And then, immediately: what can be done so that it may never happen again, this sudden stripping away of electric power — the lifeblood of 20th century America?

And overshadowing all of the immediate questions, the chilling military one: could one man or group of men, secret agents of an enemy power, secretly throw the switches and cut the lines and smash the machinery to paralyze the nation, setting it up for a devastating thermonuclear attack?

The administration's reaction was swift and emphatic. President Johnson ordered an all-out investigation of the power failure and picked chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission to direct it.

But the national security implications of the disaster became clear when the President ordered the Federal Bureau of Investigation to take part in the probe. FBI agents were ordered to walk with power crews along the lines between Niagara Falls and Syracuse, N.Y., to seek the source of the blackout.

The Corps said it would need 5,024 draftees it had asked for in December because its enlistments had shot upward.

Reorganizing Secret Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — A major reorganization of the expanding Secret Service is being put into effect, with the title of James J. Rowley being changed from chief to director, a Treasury official said today.

The change gives Rowley a title equal in rank to that of FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. The Treasury official said the designation is normally used for heads of intelligence services.

The official said the changes will be made gradually.

First word of the reorganization came with White House disclosure of a change in the detail protecting President Johnson.

White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers confirmed that Rufus Youngblood, who has headed the detail, has been designated as an assistant director under Rowley, his specialty being protective services.

Rift Centers on Hiring of Insurance Prober

LANSING (UPI) — A party-line squabble between members of the Senate Insurance Committee over the hiring of an investigator has added a new strand to an already tangled web of charges and counter-charges.

The latest dimension was added by Senate Republican leader Emil Lockwood, St. Louis, a member of the committee, who charged in a letter Tuesday Committee Chairman Bernard F. O'Brien, D-Detroit, had illegally hired an investigator.

Lockwood charged O'Brien had acted on his own, instead of with permission of the committee as required, when he retained investigator Peter Bill. He suggested Bill return the $4,000 in state funds that he had been paid on a $45 per diem basis.

O'Brien denied the charge, saying he personally advised both majority and minority members of the committee he intended to hire Bill. However, he refused to go into details of the hiring procedure before the date of the next committee meeting, which has not yet been set.

Bill has been active in two probes into the business affairs of State Insurance Commissioner Allen L. Mayerson, who was appointed by Republican Gov. Romney.

PROMOTE SALES

The Insurance Commission, in turn, has been investigating reports that Bill used his position as insurance investigator to help promote insurance sales for an Illinois firm.

In his letter, Lockwood also asked O'Brien to confirm or deny several "hearsay items" concerning Bill such as reports he was recommended by President Johnson, is a former agent for the Central Intelligence Agency, and "was your (O'Brien's) private valet."

Lockwood was en route to a National Conference of Legislative Leaders in San Juan, Puerto Rico, and unable to be contacted for an elaboration on these latter questions.

O'Brien, meanwhile, concluded his rebuttal statement by asking, "I wonder why there is a question in Senator Lockwood's mind at this time?" He would not expand on the import of that question.

Japanese Fight Korea Treaty

TOKYO (UPI) — More than 70 persons were injured last night and about 75 arrested in leftist demonstrations by about 100,000 persons against the pan-South Korea normalization treaty.

The outbreak of violence was the biggest since the 1960 riots against the U.S.-Japan mutual security treaty, and more, possibly bigger, demonstrations were scheduled for tonight.

The treaty would settle outstanding issues between South Korea and Japan that have been pending since World War II. The leftists oppose it because they believe the United States will try to promote a Northeast Asia military pact, involving Japan, if it is ratified.

The treaty has already been ratified by Korea and is now pending in the Japanese parliament. The ruling Conservative party rammed it through a special committee and onto the floor of the house last Friday, touching off the demonstrations.

Last night's demonstrations got out of hand when mobs of students and unionists started snake-dancing through the downtown area from the parliament building. They clashed with about 7,000 helmeted riot police. The Conservatives seem confident of ratifying the treaty, but Socialist members of parliament are employing stall tactics.

Agricultural to Residential

Milford Twp. Oks South Hill Rezoning

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — In line with the trend of development there, the Township Board last night rezoned property on either side of South Hill Road from agricultural to suburban residential.

Affected by the reclassification were 500-foot strips on either side of South Hill from Buno to Maple.

Not included in the action was the property covered by an application for a gravel mining permit.

The application of Lyle J. Walker to expand the operation of the Walker Sand and Gravel Co. at South Hill and Moore roads now is being considered by the Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

The board of appeals has the authority to grant the permits for property in agricultural zones.

WALKER PROPERTY — Residents who sought the change from agricultural to single-family residential had included the Walker property in their request.

Walker opposed the move. The suburban residential classification covers single-family residences built on sites of at least one acre. There now are several homes of that type along South Hill.

Walker is seeking expansion of his operation to extend north of Moore for a total of 466.5 acres.

APPLIED FOR PERMIT — He also has applied for a permit to enlarge his mine at the southwest corner of West Maple and South Milford roads to a total of 200 acres.

Action on these requests "undoubtedly will depend on what safeguards can be afforded with respect to reclamation and utilization of the land after it is mined," according to Township Supervisor William L. Mainland.

The suburban residential classification covers single-family

ROMEO — The board of education has recognized three groups to represent its school personnel in future negotiating sessions.

The secretaries will represent themselves.

On Dec. 1, the board will take bids on additions to the junior and senior high school and construction of a new elementary school.

A $1.4-million bond issue for the building was approved by voters in June.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Jane Marsh, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marsh, 28800 Halstead, won three ribbons with her pen of lambs at last week's Detroit Junior Livestock Show.

Jane, a member of the Hi-Lo 4-H Club, took a blue ribbon in the 10-13 age group on a mildewweight market class lamb.

She also won a third-place ribbon on her pen of lambs, lightweight division, and a third in junior showmanship.

Farmington Election Picture

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a two-part series on Monday's special election in the Farmington School District.

By PAT McCARTY
FARMINGTON — Keeping up with the children of the Joneses is an expensive proposition, Farmington Board of Education members are learning.

They currently are seeking $6.1 million to build enough classrooms for the children the Joneses and other families are bringing into the district at the rate of nearly 1,000 a year.

The bond issue is one of three proposals on next Monday's ballot, the other two being for operational mileage.

Approval of the package would not raise the tax rate, according to school officials.

With increases in the district's property valuation able to support a large portion of the building program, the board of education proposes cutting the debt retirement levy from 11 to 7 mills to allow for a 4-mill boost in the operational tax.

NEW STATE LAW

They would make use of a new state law which allows rapidly growing districts to borrow from the state bond loan fund to meet interest and principal payments on outstanding and future bonds for building construction and site purchases.

Therefore, if the three propositions on Monday's ballot are approved, the total levy would remain $2.50 per $1,000 of valuation as equalized.

Tracing enrollment figures since 1960, school officials note the number is expected to be doubled by the end of the decade.

From 8,723 in 1960, the enrollment jumped to 9,794 in 1961, 10,664 in 1962, 11,728 in 1963 and 12,665 in 1964.

PRESENT NUMBER

Some 14,431 students now are attending classes in the district.

Projections described as conservative indicate school enrollment will reach 17,300 in September 1970.

An additional 96 classrooms will be required to accommodate this influx.

For the first time in the history of the district, the classroom shortage is being felt on the secondary level where construction costs are higher than for elementary units.

TIME NEEDED

Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison noted it takes two years to plan for, build and equip a school after funds for it have been approved.

The last of a $5-million bond issue approved in 1963 now is being put to work.

Already completed under that program are Larkshire Elementary School, 24-room additions at North Farmington High School and East Junior High School and a total of 17 rooms added to Gill, Bond and Middle Belt elementary schools.

Fairview Elementary School, now under construction, is to be completed by September, 1966.

Schools Must Move Fast to Keep Up

Scheduled to open the following year is the district's fourth junior high school, site for which has not yet been determined.

The school board also has purchased new sites with funds from the 1963 bond issue.

Highlighting the proposed construction program is a $2-million high school, which would be the district's third. Needed by 1968, the unit would accommodate 850 to 900 students.

AVAILABLE SIGHTS

The two sites available for the building are on 12 Mile just west of Middle Belt and at 12 Mile and Drake.

Some $1,725,000 would be allocated for the district's fifth junior high school, to be built by 1969 or 1970. It would house 750 students.

Harrison noted there is no way of determining which areas will grow fastest. Therefore, the exact locations of future buildings have not yet been decided.

The budget for the proposed building program, which Harrison described as "extremely tight," calls for $700,000 to be spent for a new elementary school, $400,000 for two elementary additions, and $550,000 for an addition to Farmington High School.

OTHER PLANS

Also planned are $475,000 for new school sites and $250,000 for site improvement and unexpected costs.

The 1963 bond issue was designed to carry the district through 1967, and the new proposal would take care of building needs through 1970.

Harrison emphasized that bond issue approval is needed now so that planning can get under way.

"If it isn't voted now, so we can start planning, we will get behind," he said. "Then our students will find themselves on half-day sessions in two years."

"I'm not trying to threaten anyone. This is a fact of life."

Board Given Bond Sale OK

FARMINGTON — With the vote on a $6.1-million building program less than a week away, the Farmington Board of Education today received authorization to sell $2.5 million in school building bonds.

Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison cited the move as an example of the time involved in a school building program.

The $2.5-million issue is the second half of $5 million worth of bonds approved by district property owners in 1963.

"It takes at least two years after a bond issue election before you can start moving youngsters into a school," Harrison said.

The bond issue approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday will be used for Fairview Elementary School, now under construction; the district's fourth junior high school, now being designed; and new school sites.

The 1963 bond issue was designed to meet district needs up to September 1967, while that on the ballot Monday would take care of buildings to be needed through 1970, Harrison said.

Troy School Board Hires 2 to Start Pilot Program

TROY — The board of education last night took the first step toward setting up a pilot community schools program with funds from the Oakland University Center of the Mott Foundation.

Two directors were hired to conduct programs in the north and south ends of the district.

Put under contract were Ronald Morse of the Chippewa Valley Schools and Charles Heikinen, who has been working with the Mott Community School Program in Alpena.

The district is receiving $10,000 from the Foundation and must contribute matching funds.

Schools Supt. Rex B. Smith said the board has asked the City Commission to participate in the program, but has not received a reply. The matter was tabled at Monday's Commission meeting.

VARIOUS UNITS

"We'll have to figure something out if the city doesn't participate," he said, "but the foundation likes to see various units of government participate."

Smith said surveys will be conducted next month to determine what types of activities the residents favor.

The community school concept is designed to involve residents of the community in their schools. Its aim is to provide recreation and education for adults and enrichment for children.

In other action, the board approved the Troy Education Association as sole bargaining agent for the district's teachers.

A decision had been postponed until a third-party signed an affidavit proving the teachers had authorized the TEA to represent them.

A Grateful America Honors Her Defenders

Tomorrow we honor the living and the dead to whose heroism the American way of life with its traditions of liberty and freedom owes its viability.

The Day, once known as Armistice Day in memory of the date that brought World War I to an end, was changed in 1954 to Veterans' Day in recognition of those who have answered their Country's call to the colors, whether in war or peace.

Veterans' Day this year has an added note of solemnity as America's involvement in Viet Nam has intensified, and our onetime advisory role there now wears a different face.

We are again at war.

On the home front small but vocal pockets of disloyalty have screamed opposition to the Nation's honorable adherence to the cause of democracy and our commitment to defend a beleaguered people against the enemy of the free world—communism.

We may rejoice that the ravings and demonstrations of the black-hearted represent but an infinitesimal segment of American people and has but served to evoke counter proclamations and demonstrations that swell by the hour.

On Veterans' Day—and every day should be Veterans' Day—we render a humble salute to the stouthearted men and women in the military and to their loved ones at home who bear the trials of separation with such fine fortitude.

Tomorrow, let's say it not only in our hearts but with flying colors.

Decline of Good Taste Leaves Own Bad Taste

What's happening to "good taste?"

What's happening to it, obviously, is that it's going the way of modest modes, subtle sex, gentlemen who gave their seats to ladies, and other old-fashioned customs which are now too generally regarded as quaintly kooky.

The subject comes to mind because of a recent television program in which "students" in London, Paris, Belgrade and Mexico City were given an opportunity to ask questions of three distinguished Americans in Washington via the Early Bird satellite.

The eminent panelists were former president Dwight D. Eisenhower; Arthur J. Goldberg, American ambassador to the United Nations; and Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall.

The program was billed as a "documentary" and could have been informative, dignified and extremely worthwhile.

But it turned out to be a world-wide opportunity for the "students"—and the term is used loosely—to display unbecomingly anti-Americanism, youthful impertinence, brassy disrespect for the stature of the panelists—and, above all, bad taste.

The tone of the questioning was argumentative, prejudiced, bitter and smarty-pants. The youths with the long hair and sideburns didn't ask questions as much as they made little soapbox speeches on behalf of the Viet Cong and our enemies in South America.

The program could have been written off as just an isolated instance if it hadn't been too typical of a mounting trend.

Well, you can't stamp out bad taste with laws or regulations. And after the television demonstration the other day, you apparently can't stifle it by education.

So perhaps the best way to restore good taste as an "in" thing is for everyone who believes in it to be very careful to set a good example, and to voice open opposition and resentment to displays of bad taste whenever they occur.

One thing seems certain. We aren't going to really achieve that Great Society as long as bad manners, bad taste and bratty impertinence are given featured billing on a worldwide screen.

"It is unbelievable that the American people can afford to live as well as they do," says a visiting foreigner. It is also untrue.

"People who suffer from athlete's foot should wear nothing but undyed cotton hose," says a physician. But in public places wouldn't they appear rather conspicuous?

2 Ways to Fight Big Business

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Two presidents—Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy—smashed head-on into a big industry when it suddenly raised prices while they were trying to keep prices steady.

But the way they did it—Johnson with aluminum, Kennedy with steel—is a study in contrasts.

Kennedy did it with his chin out, full of denunciations and, although he won, the victory cost him dearly for his relations with business were sour for a long time afterward.

So far, Johnson has done it quietly and indirectly.

Johnson, a shrewd politician who knows the importance of having big business on his side, wants to win but he isn't using the Kennedy tactics.

On April 10, 1962, U.S. Steel informed Kennedy it was raising prices. Immediately, on Kennedy's orders, his aides began phoning other companies to dissuade them from following U.S. Steel. But they did.

The next day, at his news conference, Kennedy denounced the industry's action. He began to apply other pressures. His brother, Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy sent out subpoenas to the heads of steel companies. The implication was there might be price-fixing.

INCREASES REVOKED

By April 13, two days after the price boost began, the steel industry revoked its increases.

Johnson's case with the aluminum industry had a longer history.

After World War II, the government began stockpiling various metals and supplies, including aluminum. Now it figures it has on hand, above its stockpile needs, about 1.4 million tons of aluminum.

The government wanted that much returned to the commercial market over the next 10 years.

Twelve days ago, the aluminum industry began raising prices on what it was turning out.

SUPPLIES RELEASED

Then last Saturday the government announced it would release 300,000 tons of the 1.4-million-ton surplus.

The 200,000 tons were twice as much aluminum as the industry wanted the government to dispose of in any one year. But the Johnson administration was still playing this whole thing deadpan.

The administration said the extra supplies on the market should "relieve price pressures."

There is still no indication the aluminum industry will back down.

Tie China Decline to Viet Buildup

By LEON DENNEN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — Red China's prestige in Asia, Africa and in the Communist world has declined sharply since the United States decided to check her aggression in Viet Nam.

Even Asian and African diplomats not noted for their pro-American views attribute Peking's setback to President Johnson's historic decision.

"The Viet Nam conflict exposed Mao Tse-tung as a tiger without claws, who wants other nations to fight his battles," an Asian diplomat told me.

A young African official, once a fervent supporter of Red China's revolutionary brinkmanship, pointed to Mali and Kenya as the latest of former colonial nations to turn against Peking.

Mali's President Modibo Keita recently decided to visit Russia and Yugoslavia, Peking's chief enemies in the Red camp, to underline his break with Mao's imperialist policies.

"DISHONEST FASCIST" In Kenya, Red Chinese agents now castigate the nationalist leader Jomo Kenyatta, former head of the fierce Mau Mau, as a "dishonest fascist."

They have organized a secret organization which calls itself "People's Front of East Africa" for the purpose of undermining Kenyatta's regime.

More African nations now realize that Red China intends to use them as pawns against the United States and West Europe.

This was indicated recently in a long doctrinal article written by Peking's Defense Minister Lin Biao.

Asian and African leaders were especially irritated by Lin Biao's blunt statement that Red China regards its rule merely as the first stage before Communist revolutions in which, presumably, they would disappear.

Each day, in fact, brings new evidence that Mao Tse-tung's friends, like Communist North Korea and Fidel Castro's Cuba, are deserting his camp.

The pro-Chinese parties in Indonesia, Japan and India are now fighting for their existence.

Only a year ago, Red splinter groups in Europe, especially in Norway, Italy, France and Belgium, saw Mao's revolutionary brinkmanship as the wave of the future.

DISSENTION

Today they are rent by dissension and quarrels over Red China's failure to give more help to North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong.

More important is Russia's decision to stiffen her opposition to Mao's "anti-Marxist" policies.

After Nikita Khrushchev's fall a year ago, the Kremlin's new leaders, Leonid Brezhnev and Alexsei Kosygin, decided to soft pedal their quarrel with Peking. But pressed by disgruntled Marxists and generals, who fear the Russians to the Vietnamese conflict, the Kremlin has once more emerged as the leader in the struggle against "Peking's adventures."

The Chinese are obviously aware of their deteriorating international position — even if some of their supporters among American professors and beatniks are not.

That is why Peking worked hard for the postponement of the African-Asian conference in Algeria.

It was Peking's contention that Russia was not an Asian or African nation and was, therefore, not entitled to a seat at the conference.

However, with Jomo Kenyatta, Mali's President Nasser backing Moscow, Russia's seat was assured.

There may be no speedy end to the conflict in Viet Nam. But in the view of specialists on communism, the diplomatic tide is now running decidedly against Red China.

Bob Considine Says:

Space Plans Often Seem to Have Bay of Pigs Look

NEW YORK — One gains the impression now and then that our manned spacecraft program is being run by the same crowd that masterminded the Bay of Pigs invasion.

The national space agency had a bad day when it could not go through with Gemini 6, the attempt to link an Agena rocket that was to have been put in orbit one lap earlier than the Agena's take-off.

The Agena committed spatial harikari, and the most important test of our astronaut project had to be scrubbed.

But rather than try again, which could not have been innumerable, NASA swiftly and brightly announced that it was going forward with Gemini 7, whose chief program is to test the effect of 14 days of weightlessness.

Just how Gemini 7 applies to that project has never been made clear to this reporter, particularly since astronauts Cooper and Conrad proved that man can function quite well over the eight days needed for the lunar round trip.

CRITICAL FACET

Gemini 6, on which the critical understanding of positive rendezvous in space depended, was to be held at some indefinite later date.

But, lo and behold, we suddenly were told that the two good men who had trained so hard for that flight, and were best able to carry it out—Schirra and Stafford—would be wasted on a much less useful mission: a game of tag with Gemini 7.

But hold! NASA had new plans calculated to jazz up the doubleheader — which the Russians smoothly achieved three years ago.

Stafford would get out of his seat in Gemini 6, "walk" over to Gemini 7 and visit for a spell. That, apparently, would force the Russians to their knees, whimpering for mercy.

Suddenly — signals off. No, said NASA, it had changed its mind about Stafford's visit. Not time enough to get him outfitted. Umbilical cords for extravehicular activity between spacecraft don't grow on trees, you know. Dec. 8 was coming up very soon, and that's when Gemini 7 was going to go.

Just a moment. Make that Dec. 6, NASA amended. Got to get those boys back to earth, and shaved, showered and debriefed in time for their Christmas shopping. Right?

All in favor of buying a new Agena for Schirra and Stafford to chase in space and rendezvous with, raise their right hand. That's what they trained for. That's what the whole moon project is based upon.

We still don't know whether we can pull it off, and the multimillion dollar ad-lib on Dec. 6, if that's to be the date, simply won't adequately give us the answer.

'A Nationwide Program Needed to Train Drivers'

Recent questions in the Voice of the People concerning driving rules and regulations point out the need for a nationwide training program. For these people there is hope, but the know-it-alls are the ones we'll have trouble with.

Until such a training program comes up, a few suggestions may save a few lives or crippled bodies:

Two Replies on Use of Cats as Fertilizer

Three times last week I saw pigeons around the Riker building. Would Green Thumbs please tell me what kind of fertilizer pigeons make? I think everyone should be encouraged to use pigeons as fertilizer. Robins, blue jays, cardinals, woodpeckers, martins and two dozen other birds are sacred, but pigeons are the dirtiest things nature produces. But if they make better rose bushes and better dahlias they may be their purpose here on earth.

STANLEY

In this controversy over the value of cats as fertilizer, I should tell this.

A man knocked at the door. "Ma'm, I hate to tell you but I just ran over your cat. I'm very sorry and I would like to replace him."

The woman of the house nodded. "O.K. Don't just stand there. Hurry into the kitchen. There's a mouse there."

Comments on Township's School Taxes

In connection with a recent Voice of the People letter to the State's stand on education of the Amish, why do 32 innocent children who have been adding by the law have to be sacrificed because of the excellent tax value that is now being paid to Waterford Township school district?

Waterford Township taxpayers, call your school board members and find out how you as taxpayers can afford to lose $293,408 ($8,856 per child) yearly, when next spring taxpayers will be asked to renew school bond taxes.

This isn't a school district boundary dispute that could be straightened simply, affecting the least number of children.

I, too, believe there must have been a qualified assistant in our County Treasurer's office. Our laws must be changed now before this happens again. Because this is an elective office, I feel that the person who fills this appointment should be classified as an administrator until the next election so that people truly understand what action put this person in the office he holds. Let's make our government by the people and for the people, with people responsible for our laws and their enforcement. It's time to take this matter to our lawmakers and see what can be done.

I wonder if Waterford Township Republicans noted the vote of the Waterford Township Board in their November 5 meeting resulting in Mrs. Dorothy Olson becoming the new Township Supervisor. Five members voted—the Clerk and four Trustees. The Pontiac Press reports all five voted for Mrs. Olson. This can only mean that our two Republican board members, Loren Anderson and Frank Richardson, voted to place a Democrat in the position of Township Supervisor. Is this what we elected these two men to do?

Project Revisions Approved

Grant Increase for R44 Plan Detailed

Details were presented last night of a half-million-dollar increase in the federal grant for Pontiac's R44 urban renewal project.

The City Commission received a report from James L. Bates, city planning and urban renewal director.

Bates reported that revisions in the R44 plan have been approved by federal Housing and Home Finance Agency (HHFA) officials.

The city's federal grant for R44 was increased $500,936. This increases the city's total grant to $1,816,992.

Bates reported that the bulk of the grant increase was in the form of non-cash "credits" for the Clinton River Tunnel project.

HHFA increased the "credit" on this project from $236,000 to $271,964, which was still short of the $504,000 sought by local urban renewal officials.

Other changes reflected in the revised R44 plan include an increase in some administrative costs, a decrease in the cost of certain site improvments and a reduction in the sale price of some project land.

Bates said the revised plan incorporates a change in the completion date for the R44 work. Originally scheduled for completion by Sept. 1, 1965, the project now has a closeout date of March 31, 1967.

Bates also reported last night that the latest changes in the R44 project should be sufficient to see the project through to completion.

He added that no actual cash payment was anticipated. The city has sufficient non-cash "credits" to account for its portion of the project's cost.

In fact, Bates said the city has an excess of credit totaling $160,016. This, however, cannot be transferred to the R20 project, the city's other urban renewal work.

In other business, a public hearing was held on the necessity for construction of a sidewalk on the south side of Kennett between Allott School and Stanley.

Cost estimates were also presented. Total cost of the sidewalk was put at $5,030 with the assessed cost running $4,344 and the city's share $3,685.

TRANSFER APPROVED

The transfer of SDD and SDML licenses from 663 Jostyn to 118 Baldwin was approved with the understanding that certain deficiencies will be corrected within 30 days.

Other business saw the commission approve commercial rezoning for a lot on the west side of East Boulevard north of Auburn.

A City Planning Commission recommendation to deny the vacating of the alley parallel to and north of Mount Clemens, Cameron to Emerson, was upheld.

An ordinance was introduced last night to prohibit loitering, disturbances and drinking property in public and parochial schools.

Final action was set for next week.

Added Sewer Lines for City?

Added sanitary sewer services will be made available to two areas in the city under terms of a proposed master plan to be unveiled next week.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neippling reported last night to the City Commission that a joint city-county proposal has been worked out to provide a sanitary trunk sewer across a portion of the city's north end.

Sewer service would be available to the northeast and northwest sections of Pontiac.

Details of the joint proposal are to be announced Tuesday by Roy Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

SAME SERVICE

Neippling said the Clinton-Oakland trunk sewer in the city is the same service the city planned to provide with its Galloway Creek trunk line.

By participating in the joint project, Pontiac would cut its cost by half. The previous es-

Say Regulator Caused N-Reactor Shutdown

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) — Scientists say the premature shutdown of America's first orbiting nuclear reactor after 43 days in space was caused by failure of a voltage regulator.

Spokesmen for the atomic energy commission said yesterday that tests run by scientists at the atomics international division of North American Aviation indicated the failure caused a spurious signal that commanded the reactor to shut down.

Estimated cost of the Galloway Creek sewer was $1,200,000, he added.

Neippling said that construction costs, which would be based on the sewage flow contributed by each community, are to be apportioned among eight units of government, including Pontiac.

In addition to getting the Galloway Creek sewer constructed, Neippling said the city would gain right-of-entry to the interceptor as it cut across the northwest corner of the city.

Teen to Stand Trial in Killing of Neighbor

A teen-age boy was ordered today to stand trial on a first-degree murder charge in the slaying of an 80-year-old Farmington Township widow.

William D. Sleeper, 17, of 20819 Pearl, is accused of the fatal stabbing of a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Ethel Van Wicklin.

Sleeper stood mute to the charge at his arraignment this morning and Circuit Judge James S. Thorburn entered an innocent plea on the record in behalf of the youth. No trial date was set.

Mrs. Van Wicklin was found in her home Oct. 16 with "at least" 10 stab wounds, according to State Police and Farmington Township detectives.

Police said the youth admitted the slaying two days later after he was taken into custody at the funeral home where the body of the victim had been taken.

Bond was set by Thorburn at $25,000 on the request of Chief Asst. Prosecutor James Finn. Sleeper was returned to the county jail after failing to meet bail.

Nation's News Media Hub Faltered Briefly in Blackout

NEW YORK (AP) — In one shuddering instant, the hub of the nation's communications industry lost power, faltered, but caught itself and began talking again.

Throughout the Northeast of the nation — where more than one out of 10 Americans live — television tubes loaded with children's programs and late afternoon movies went black. Some radio stations fell silent.

Newspapers quickly searched out alternative presses to put out abbreviated editions.

The Associated Press made emergency shifts in its vast network of wires, and kept the news, even of the blackout itself, flowing without interruption.

Advertising losses from all media ran into the millions. Television was the first to feel it. At NBC-TV's headquarters in Manhattan's Rockefeller Center, the awful moment came at 5:16 p.m. EST when power levels fell too low to tell.

A movie, "Buck Privates Come Home" being telecast locally over WNBC-TV, stopped short.

A couple of blocks away at WCBS-TV, a scheduled sports movie called "The 4th Man," suffered a similar fate.

AUTOMATIC SYSTEMS Both WNBC and WCBS flagship radio stations of their respective networks — were luckier. Automatic systems switched them to auxiliary power and broadcasting of local news and music went on. "We didn't miss a lick," one official said.

Not as fortunate was WABC-TV. Keystone station of the American Broadcasting Company, it dropped off the air for 20 minutes beginning at 5:28 p.m., until it could telephone its programming to its transmitter in New Jersey.

On WABC-TV, local viewers were watching a Japanese film called "Mothra" — the story of a giant moth that terrorized the population of a city. When the power went out, so did Mothra. Television network programming to the rest of the nation continued without interruption. News shows were handled by staffs in Washington and Chicago.

BIG SHOWS Most of the big evening shows were on films or tape — and duplicate copies were aired from Los Angeles and Hollywood to the still-functioning networks.

Officials at all three networks said that the losses of advertising revenues would probably be enormous, but none would have a guess as to how much money would actually be lost. There is no insurance to cover such losses.

Newspapers were hit hard too. In New York, the Times worked out a hasty arrangement with the Newark News-across the river in New Jersey—to publish an eight-page edition. The Times expected to run off 500,000 copies for delivery in the metropolitan area and in key centers around the country.

Clifton Danie, managing editor of the Times, said that about 2 p.m. it was apparent there would not be enough time to publish the full 96-page paper for Wednesday morning. Telephone calls to the Newark News and to S. T. Newsome, owner of the Jersey Journal, brought offers of both printing plants. Proximity and the chance of a larger newspaper run led Times officials to take the invitation from the News.

COPY TURNED OUT In city rooms — despite dim candlelight and flashlight-copy was turned out. Officials of the New York Daily News said they were standing by to publish when the power went back on.

The New York Herald Tribune—standing by with an abbreviated edition—also awaited the power to run its presses.

For an instant at the moment of darkness the vast apparatus of the Associated Press, the world's largest newsgathering organization, faltered.

At its headquarters at 50 Rockefeller Plaza the lights went out. Telephone lines died and banks of gurgling teletype machines fell silent.

The AP supplies news on a cooperative basis to approximately 1,200 daily newspapers and 2,400 broadcast stations in the United States besides sending and receiving news from more than 100 foreign countries.

A quick series of emergency measures kept the news and photographs flowing without interruption. Outgoing phone calls were impossible, but incoming calls from AP staffers and member newspapers quickly apprised the New York staff of the extent of the blackout.

FLASHLIGHTS By the flicker of scores of candles and the unsteady beams of flashlights, New York writers began finding out the story and sending it by unaffected direct telephone extensions to the Washington AP bureau, which rolled it out on teletype to the rest of the nation.

AP photographers took to the darkened streets, then rushed their pictures by motorcycle across the Hudson River to the Newark AP bureau where they were transmitted out around-the-world wirephoto facilities.

Washington AP also took over monitoring the wirephoto network, normally a New York function, and the only news media lacking pictures were those within the blackout area unable to receive them.

The Los Angeles AP bureau took over transmission of pictures to Europe via a relay through Montreal. Pacific transmission also continued, but out of San Francisco instead of New York.

NATIONAL NEWS The Chicago bureau took over filing of the AP's national news wires which normally are filed from New York with other bureaus sending regional news at certain periods each hour. Some New York radio stations which had emergency power continued receiving AP copy from Chicago.

Egyptian Cabinet Makes Port Said Free

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian Cabinet has agreed to make Port Said a free port. It is the northern terminal of the Suez Canal, on the Mediterranean. The deputy premier for culture, Abdel Kadar Hatem, said more than 20,000 ships call at Port Said each year, and a free port could be a source of foreign currencies for Egypt.

Foreign Poll Shows Cost-of-Living Index Going Up All Over

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Labor Department, in its latest monthly statistics, noted that a $10 bill now purchases only $9.07 worth of the goods it could have bought five years ago. UPI correspondents in foreign capitals were polled for reports on the cost-of-living abroad that are presented in the following dispatch.)

By United Press International
It costs 40 cents (45 in machines) for a package of cigarettes in New York, but Londoners pay 75 cents and Romans almost as much.

The cost of living is on the rise around the world. In France, for instance, it has risen by 20 per cent in the standard from Jan. 1, 1960, to October of this year, based on a government index of 179 items, including food, clothing, transport and housing.

What 100 francs, or $20, bought in 1960 now costs 120 francs — $24. But it must be noted that the mean salary of French wage earners rose $2 per cent in the same period.

Hence, despite inflation, the standard of living in France has risen considerably. This is visible in the new cars on Paris streets, the new pleasure boats on country lakes and the weekend houses.

The Soviet Union does not issue figures on cost-of-living, but prices in Moscow are definitely on the rise, with the exception of furniture and household appliances which are about 25 per cent cheaper than they were five years ago.

TOOK BEATING
Authoritative observers say the increase over-all is about 10 per cent, but non-Russian residents took an additional 10 per cent beating in 1961 when the ruble was devalued.

The dollar, which had been officially exchangeable for one ruble, became worth 90 kopecks.

The Soviet farmer's lot was improved when the state began paying higher prices for produce. Wages of teachers, doctors and employees trading organizations increased about 10 per cent.

In Brazil, the cruzeiro was raised 180 to the dollar in 1960. The 1965 rate is 1,800 cruzeiros to the dollar and the harried shopper almost has to pack a suitcase with money for a trip to the corner store.

CHILEAN BASE
The Chilean base of 100 in 1960 now is 246.

The cost-of-living index in Switzerland has risen 32 points since 1960. Rents in Geneva have gone up one-third, haircuts by 50 cents, taxi fares by 25 per cent. A steak costs 50 cents more than it did in 1962.

In Lausanne, about 30 miles away, however, rents, clothing and food are still cheaper than in Geneva.

The Philippine government last Saturday made two currency changes, fixing the value of the peso at 3.50 to $1 and eliminating the 20 per cent retention of export earnings. Opponents of the latter had charged it amounted to an export tax.

PESO DECONTROL

In 1961, when Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal took office, one of his first moves was to decontrol the peso, which then was fixed at two to the dollar. The peso since then has remained steady.

The West Berlin statistical office says the cost-of-living index has risen about 20 points in the past five years.

The cost-of-living index for the state of North Rhine-Westphalia, which includes Bonn, stood at 190.8 five years ago. The last monthly reading was 216.1.

An almost 10-point rise in the past year was attributed to the ending of rent control in many regions, German authorities said.

IN ARGENTINA

The Argentine index has gone up from a base of 107 in 1961 to 240 in 1965. In Uruguay, the dollar was worth 11 pesos in 1961. In 1965, it takes 64 pesos to buy one American dollar.

The Colombian economy also has skyrocketed, according to reports from Bogota. The cost-of-living index has gone up 137.29 since 1960 and the peso was devalued by 26.23 per cent in the same period.

With the British cost-of-living index set at 100 in January of 1962, it reached 112.9 in September of this year. Food prices seem stable with those of a year ago.

The cost-of-living index in Rome, according to the most recent figures, was 35.38 per cent above that of five years ago.

FOURTH LOWEST

The Venezuelan government says the country's cost-of-living increase was fourth lowest in Latin America, in the last 10 years. The index was up only 8.8 per cent since 1955. Those with lower rises were Haiti, Guatemala and Panama.

Venezuela's bolivar is one of the world's soundest currencies. The same amount moves from 1961 from 325 to 450 per cent for each fraction inch the bolivar rises. There also has been little rise in food prices.

New Measure for Volcanoes

Defects Diameter of Crater in Eruption

By Science Service
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Volcanoes may be closely watched and measured by a new tool for geologists—a beam of light or radio waves that measures the diameter of a volcano's crater as it expands or contracts.

This is definitely a breakthrough in tools of the geologists' trade and may become standard practice in volcano watching, according to Dr. Robert W. Decker, Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H.

The electronic beam is cheaper and simpler to operate than tiltmeters, strainmeters or other equipment used to observe active volcanoes. Dr. Decker explained in a paper presented before the 70th annual meeting of the Geological Society of America.

It also may become a valuable tool for measuring active faults and earth movements building up to earthquakes.

As molten rock moves up a volcano's vent from the earth's interior, the entire volcano expands like an inflating balloon, tilting the sides of its caldera or crater outward.

VOLCANO CONTRACTS

When the magma pours out from the crater or flows back into the earth, the volcano contracts.

By close observation, geologists can anticipate when a volcano is ready to erupt.

Part of the electronic beam equipment, set on a tripod on one edge of a volcano's caldera, transmits radio or light beams across the crater. A reflector at the other edge transmits the beams back.

If there is the slightest contraction or expansion of the crater's diameter, the pulses of outgoing electronic beams become out of phase with the incoming pulses, and the distance the diameter changed can be calculated.

5-INCH EXPANSION

In using the beam to measure Kilauea volcano, Hawaii, during the March 1965 eruption, Dr. Decker found the summit caldera expanded about five inches between October 1964 and March 1965, and contracted about 11 inches after the eruption.

These measurements showed excellent agreement with changes in vertical elevation and degree of tilt measured by conventional equipment.

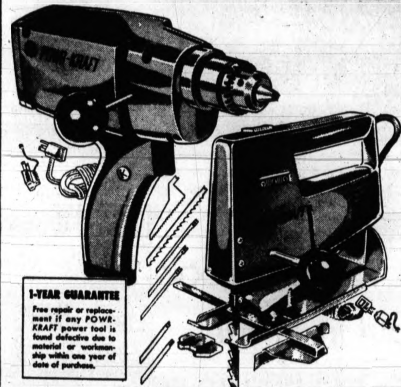

The research was carried out in cooperation with W. T. Kinoshi and D. P. Hill of the U. S. Geological Survey at the Hawaiian Volcano Observatory.

The geologists calculated that for each time the Kilauea volcano lifts up four-tenths of an inch, 1.3 million cubic yards of molten rock move into the caldera. The same amount moves out for each fraction inch the volcano subsides.

Word Power to Success—27

Learn Meaning of Words From Context

For unknown words the clues above.
In words and phrases that surround.

In our preceding article you were all alone on a deserted island with a strange book. You determined to read this book if for no other reason than to shut out the loneliness. You had no dictionary, no spellers, no grammars. How were you to learn the meaning of the many strange words?

From that situation we derived that the first logical place to go in order to add new words to your vocabulary is your old knowledge. We showed you in that article how to make old words work for you to give you new words.

What is the next logical step in seeking to enlarge your vocabulary? Go back to your island, and now picture yourself confronted with words which you don't know and your old knowledge fails you. What to do? You have no place else to go but to the book that gives you the problem.

And so the second logical method of learning new words is from context.

Context (con, from words you know beginning with con or co, means "together with"; text is learn the meaning of a new word from the way it is used, the author, as textiles are woven from the way it fits in with the rest of the sentence or paragraph. Let's try this method:

A QUIZ

From the following sentences determine the meaning of the bold face words:

1. His so-called drama had several anachronisms, the two worst being the ringing of the alarm clock in Caesar's tent and the nylon stockings worn by the Roman virgins.

2. If we were not so unconscionable, we should show more remorse for our crimes.

3. No matter how sincere and successful my work, his antipathy toward me shows up in his never-ending criticism.

4. If all the wise men of the ages swore to him that two plus two equals four, his unflinching incredulity would remain.

5. Take your girl to a secluded glen, and Marvin is there; plan an ocean voyage, and you know you'll run into Marvin; don't tell a soul, sneak off to a late movie, but Marvin will be crunching hard candy in the seat behind you. You can't fight this ubiquity!

Let's see how you performed, learning only from context.

Check your answers here. 1) anachronism: an error in assigning persons or things in time; 2) unconscionable: feeling no remorse or regret; 3) antipathy: aversion, dislike, the opposite of sympathy; 4) incredulity: refusal or inability to believe; 5) ubiquity: the ability to be at more than one place at the same time.

There, very simply, is how you learn new words from context, how you let the problem give you the answer. There is one caution, however, especially since you are not really on that deserted island: whether you learn new words from old words (first method) or learn new words from context (second method), always check with the dictionary.

First, do all you can without a dictionary; secondly, never leave your educated guesses unchecked. Anyway, checking with the dictionary will probably prove to you that you are a very smart person. Probably, but not certainly.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Drinking Fluids Helps Stop Bladder Ills

Q — My sister suffers from gravel in the bladder. What causes this and what can be done for it?

A — Since bladder stones may be of different chemical composition, your sister's doctor should determine what kind she has and whether they are originating in the bladder or merely pass through the bladder after being formed in the kidneys.

BRANDSTADT

Some types of bladder stone can be prevented by avoiding foods that supply the chemicals needed to form them.

Some can be prevented by taking salicylates but this should not be done without medical supervision.

Drinking a total of 7 or 8 pints of fluids a day helps to prevent the concentration of salts in the bladder that would favor precipitation in the form of gravel.

The drug, hemiacidrin, will dissolve bladder stones but can cause serious difficulty if used in an attempt to dissolve kidney stones.

Q — I remember reading about a new treatment to stop hair from falling out. Do you know what this is?

A — Although too much testosterone in the blood can cause baldness, Dr. Papa of Philadelphia has found that a cream containing this male hormone when applied to the scalp will prevent baldness in men.

Regrowth of hair was observed in men as old as 78 who had been bald for 30 years or more. I have not heard of this treatment being applied to women.

Q — Can cancer of the breast be caused by a blow or injury to the tissues?

A — All evidence points to there being no connection between an injury and the later development of a cancer in any location. When a cancer is found, a person can always recall some time in the preceding weeks or years when some sort of a blow was incurred in that part of the body.

Q — There are a number of antacid preparations sold over the counter that contain aluminum hydroxide. Is this ingredient harmful if taken over a period of years?

A — No.

Father Is So Literal

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Last evening, around supper time, while I was in the kitchen helping Mother, the telephone rang. My father answered it and I heard him say, "Yes," then he hung up, bang, just like that! I asked him who it was for, and he said it was a boy asking if Carol was there. (I am Carol.) I was furious and asked my father why he didn't call me to the phone, and he said, "All the boy asked was, 'Is Carol there?' I answered his question. I said 'yes.' If he wanted to speak to you, he should have said, 'May I please speak to Carol?'"

Now, Abby, do you think this was very nice of my father? And what should I do about it? I don't know which boy it was and I feel terrible.

CAROL
DEAR CAROL: I think your Pop was being peevish and petty. If it's habitual with him, clue your friends on how to ask for you. But I think it will pass. (Perhaps your father had bet against the Dodgers, honey.)

Troubled? Write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Budget Can Be Junked If, If, If

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Is it ever right to do wrong? I'm talking about budgets now, not morals. And I've found that sometimes, where money is concerned, a person can break all the rules and still have everything come out right.

A man asked me today if he should go ahead and buy a certain house he and his wife wanted very much — and which he felt was more expensive than his income justified. We put all the figures down on paper — and the figures said NO. I listened to his reasoning, studied his financial record and his history of personal responsibility, and said YES.

Usually when a family buys a house it shouldn't pay more than two and a half times its annual income. This is a rule of thumb — and a good one to hold to. But this particular guy had many extras going for him. He had gotten regular raises on the job and he had saved an impressive amount of money, considering his salary. And this is important — he and his wife see eye-to-eye on what they want their money to do for them.

So I said "Go ahead and buy this house you want. Most men on your income couldn't swing it. But I believe you can."

Now — here's my point: Your attitude toward money is more important than how much you might have in your pocket. The wife's attitude, the husband's attitude — if the synchronism, this is what makes money jump through hoops and perform miracles you never thought it could.

The couple who just can't agree on anything will find that any house they buy, even at the approved price of two and a half times their annual income, is going to prove too expensive.

A letter from Mrs. G. B. B., in Lake Bluff, Illinois, points up the basic reason why this couple shouldn't take on any major investment. She says: "The latest blow has been over who should pay for a repair for the washing machine.

"Neither of us will accept it. I paid for a new dryer and dishwasher out of my household money, which I could not afford."

Here we have the marital chip on the shoulder — the wife feels put upon, and the husband feels driven. She thinks in terms of "What's for dinner?" And he thinks in terms of "Who's going to pay the mortgage?"

I wish couples like this could stop being adversaries and just sit down and ask each other: "What do we really want? And how can we get it?"

Money is really very flexible if you just take the time and trouble to learn how to use it.

Early summer vows are planned by Margaret Ann Fife, daughter of the E. M. Fifes of Waldon Road, Independence Township and Pvt. Thomas J. Bass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bass, also of Waldon Road. Miss Fife attended Michigan State University and is studying languages at the Alliance Francaise in New York. Her fiancé attended Flint Junior College and is stationed with the U.S. Army in Boston.

Maybe you'll have to change your attitude. Maybe you'll have to do a little homework, figuring out the limitations of money and also its rewarding possibilities. But I promise you this: If you will just look at your income with respect — no matter how much it may be — you will see more ways to make it buy what you want.

Decorate Your Mailbox

In front of many houses in the United States, there is a shiny metal box with a small metal flag affixed to it. Varying only in size, these mail boxes are utilitarian in the extreme, but hardly attractive to an artistic eye.

The Society of American Florists has come up with an interesting and colorful idea in keeping with the "Beautify America" program.

The Society suggests that attractive wicker baskets — available at very little cost in most variety stores — be attached to the mail box. One basket is nice, but two — one on each side of the box — is even nicer.

A householder in a small town outside of New York has been decorating her mail box in this manner for many years. If, for some reason, she neglects to fill the baskets for a week or so, the postman has been known to leave plaintive notes.

Bake Date-Nut Bread in Beer or Pop Cans

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Fruit breads are good to have on hand. With just the addition of butter or cream cheese, they make fine sandwiches. Toasted slices go well with coffee any time. And children like this type of bread for an after-school snack.

Mrs. Raymond Gartley bakes date and nut bread in beer or soft drink cans. These little round loaves make attractive gifts or donations to the next bazaar. Of course, they freeze well.

Mrs. Gartley belongs to the Fashion Your Figure Club and an extension group.

DATE AND NUT LOAF
By Mrs. Raymond Gartley
1 cup chopped dates

1 cup raisins
2 teaspoons soda
2 cups hot water
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons vanilla
4 cups flour
1 cup chopped nuts

Pour hot water over dates and raisins. Add soda, stir to dissolve and let cool.

Cream shortening with sugar, add eggs and vanilla and beat well. Stir flour and salt and add alternately with cooled fruit mixture.

Grease and flour beer or soft drink cans. Fill half full of batter, using a jar filler to make job easier. Bake 30-35 minutes at 350 degrees. Makes 7 cans full.

Linda Clark Becomes Mrs. Wayne M. Beach

A candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church, Milford, marked the vows of Linda Maxine Clark and Wayne Merrill Beach of Dunham Road, Highland Township.

Their parents are the Verne Clarks, Grandview Boulevard, Highland Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Beach of Laingsburg, Mich.

Ornate sequins accented the bodice of the bride's gown of white Chantilly lace over tulle, styled with full gathered tiered skirt and court train.

ROSETTE HEADPIECE
A crystal rosette held the bouffant illusion veil. White orchids and miniature white roses rested on the bride's white lace-covered Bible.

With Sherry Smith, honor maid, were bridesmaids Mrs. A. B. Fowler, Sharon Mickelson, Sandra Clark and Wendy Beach.

Amy and Danny Blackledge were flower girl and ring bearer respectively at the rite performed by Rev. Harold Short.

Attending their brother were Gary Beach of Milford as best man with Darrell and Donald Beach ushering with Mark Clark and Daniel Giegler.

After the church reception the couple left by plane for a week's honeymoon in Miami Beach.

Baseball Mitts Will Stay Soft

The youngsters' baseball gloves will keep supple over the winter if they are stored clean. Use a thick soap and scrub the glove, but don't soak it.

Wipe with clean, damp cloth and buff the leather with a dry cloth. A leather dressing can be used just before storing.

Dryer Danger

Never use the clothes dryer for articles still damp from cleaning fluid. Heat and flammable fluids form a combination that might cause fire.

Sociologists Slate Dinner

Oakland County Chapter, National Association of Social Workers, plans a membership meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in Devon Gables.

Speaker for the evening will be Dr. Robert E. Waldon recently appointed psychiatrist-director, Mental Health Services Board.

"Problems in Administering an Integrating Mental Hospital" will be Dr. Waldon's discussion topic. Much of the content of his remarks will be drawn from a paper he presented to the National Medical Association last August.

Dr. Waldon also will inform the group of this area's activity in the mental health field, since Oakland County is Michigan's first to come under the new Community Mental Health Act.

The Manley F. Steinbaughs of Cherokee Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Sue, to Thomas Allen Greenlees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Greenlees of Margaret Street, Pontiac Township. The May bride-elect attended Ferris State College. Her fiancé was affiliated with Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity while a student at Missouri State College.

Wash Load Was Many Hours Work

Good Old Days, Never!

Being a lady in the Victorian era required stamina as well as taste.

Because fashion insisted that Great Grandmother be wash-waisted and bustled in back, she wore whalebone corseting, bustle-padding, petticoats and dresses that weighed, all together, as much as 40 pounds.

Wearing so many clothes was a labor, but laundering them was something worse.

The typical 19th-century laundry as depicted in The Maytag Encyclopedia of Home Laundry (Popular Library, New York, 1963) is one today's homemaker will find quaint but frightening as well.

FULL DAY'S JOB
Washing alone was a full day's job, just as it was when the Mayflower pilgrims put "washday" into the American vocabulary.

It was done outdoors, usually in a kettle of boiling water. A clothesline or fence was used for drying.

The laundering aids were lye soap (shaved into flakes in the washwater), starch, bluing, a flour-and-water compound for dirty spots, and a broomstick for stirring and retrieving garments from the bubbling kettle.

Washing machines did exist (about 2,000 patents were already on file in Washington), but most were crude mechanical devices that worked by scrubbing clothes between two hard surfaces.

They weren't really suitable for a lady's finest clothing.

According to the Maytag Encyclopedia, these primitive washers passed into history, along with the stuffy Victorian fashions and customs, at the turn of the century.

AGITATORS

By the 1920's new styles were laundered at home in washers that used the agitator washing principle—the same used by the great majority of today's automatic washers.

The 40 pounds of Victorian clothing is reduced to as little as two pounds, including foundation garments, dress and shoes, in the street dress of American moderns.

The work in laundering that used a full day in 1900 requires less than an hour now. Both the bustle and "wash-day" have become part of the national folklore.

Suds for Fluff

Orlon pile mittens for winter are so fluffy that they even look warm. Since the surface fluff acts as insulation to hold in heat, such mittens should be sudsed out often to prevent matting of the pile by soil.

Disparaging Talk Keeps Son Dependent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: When I married my husband two years ago I knew that his mother would be a problem. She can depress him so that he can't eat dinner.

I can always tell when he has talked to her because he gets so irritable afterwards.

He has been having some trouble with his job as supervisor and last Sunday when he was telling her about it, she said, "your brother would never take that from anybody. I'd like to see anyone try to treat him like that." He was so upset that night.

ANSWER: You want to resist her for him, doesn't it?

It won't help. It's his battle. If you make it for him, he will only feel so ashamed that you could resist her where he could not that he'll start picking on you.

Then he'll either start defending his mother or transfer his dependence on her opinions to your opinions.

Let me speak to him directly.

Young husband, one of the most efficient ways to keep another person dependent on our opinions is to disparage him. As your mother did you.

By telling you that your brother wouldn't take what you take from a boss, what she said was, "you are an incompetent. You're a contemptible Caspar Milquetoast."

And you fell for this opinion though this kind of disparaging accusation never expresses a genuine moral judgment of us but is used by dominators to maintain our dependence on their opinions by making us feel so weak, so useless and wrong that we dare not even question those opinions.

It stands to reason, doesn't it? How else could we keep another person under our thumb, under control by our opinions except by making him feel such a wash-out that he dare not trust his own?

You know, we can always tell what an accuser is up to by the way his accusation makes us feel. If it makes us feel sobered, thoughtful but undiscouraged, then his accusation springs from the good will of genuine concern for our growth and our recognition of some shortcoming we need to overcome.

But if his accusation leaves us feeling anxious, depressed and helpless, then we can be sure that it expresses ill will — the accuser's desire to build himself up as a much better person than we are by making us feel like a nothing.

We have to question the validity of the product of ill will. About the mother who called us a Caspar Milquetoast, we have to think, "Maybe anyone who isn't a bully looks like Caspar to you."

"Maybe I am not Caspar at all. Maybe you just see things crooked and I can't trust what you see."

Polly's Pointers

Dog Quiets Kids

DEAR POLLY:—When friends bring small children to visit us, I put a lifetime stuffed poodle dog on the end table in the living room.

The smaller children are attracted to it so they are distracted from other things in the room that are not to be played with. This keeps their parents from having to correct them. I do not have to put every thing up high and everyone has a more pleasant time. — MRS. R. K. Pointers, in care of The Pontiac Press.

DEAR POLLY:—I have a Pointer for you. Recently, when attending a fashion show, I noticed that one model appeared wearing a large heavy-looking hat and in just a few seconds reappeared without a hat and a perfect, rather bouffant hairdo.

Since I knew there could not have been time for a recombining I asked how she did it. She was amazed that I did not know the trick of putting a sheet of slightly crumpled tissue paper inside such a hat to protect some idea as to the customary rate of payment for such services and also any other helpful information on the subject?

DEAR POLLY:—I am a mother of two teenage daughters and an 8-year-old son and I know how hard it often is to get children to perform their daily responsibilities without nagging and arguing.

Each morning after breakfast, I sit down with the children and make out a list of chores each is to do that day. They are numbered and I always write a big "Thank you" at the bottom of each list. When they have finished the tasks listed, they are checked off and the list returned to me and, if necessary, I can inspect.

At that time (but not always) I may reward them with a little surprise or treat. This has proven to be a wonderful time saver in our home and has spared me that unnecessary nagging we so often hear between parents and children. I hope many mothers will try this. — MRS. D. L. TARKET

DEAR POLLY:—I find a brass record rack makes a very serviceable letter and clipping holder for my desk. Things that need attention are stuck between the wires where the records are

A: The rate of payment varies in different localities and no set schedule can be fixed. However, the customary rate of your community should be observed and the sifter should be paid at the end of the evening.

The sifter should be told that after the children are asleep they may use the television set or play the radio, read, or do homework.

In other words, it should be clearly understood what she is expected to do and what she may not do. It is thoughtful to have a snack in the refrigerator — the hours can become long and tiresome.

Be specific about where you are going, leave address and telephone number, as well as the name, address and telephone number of the children's doctor.

Always tell the sifter when you expect to be back — and try to be on time.

EMPLOYER'S WIFE
Q: Will you please tell me the correct way to refer to my employer's wife when speaking of her to him? Do I say, "your wife" or "Mrs. Jones?"
A: "Your wife" is never incorrect, but in speaking to your employer, "Mrs. Jones" is preferred.

The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook will continue with their training of the human sensitivities at Tuesday's meeting.

In addition, the first lesson in a series of six will be offered in creweelwork and needlepoint at the 10 a.m. meeting.

Mrs. John Ingold and other members of the Altar Guild will present a demonstration on general flower arranging with special emphasis on its application to altar work.

Mrs. Maurice Garabrant will show colored slides on floral arrangements.

Vinyl Is Vivid

Look for the shiny look in many of the young fashions for fall and winter. Many are made in vinyl, and vinyl is a favorite color. One vinyl though is a bright red poplin lined in blue polka dot poplin.

No Needling

You will not need a needle to string those beads if you smooth a little nail polish on the end of the thread and allow to dry. It stiffens the thread.

Fashion Is Laughing at Season's Taboos

One homely chore usually approached with dread twice a year may soon become a thing of the past. That's the need to store away one season's wardrobe to make closet room for the next. I don't mean we're all going to be blessed with bigger and better closets. But fashion itself comes closer each year to standing on its own two feet and laughing at seasonal taboos of the past. Look at what has happened already.

If you have pale bone or navy shoes and accessories in your spring-summer wardrobe or pastel cotton-knit jacket dresses, they can now be worn right through all seasons in good taste. A fashion revolution seems to be gradually taking place that could eventually eliminate the seasonal approach. Once, except in sunny climates, white and pastels were not worn until after May 30 and were put back in mothballs on Labor Day even if the thermometer was in the 90s.

Navy, once the harbinger of spring, is now a year-round favorite. Cotton and cotton knits formerly "for summer only," crop up in fall and winter collections and the synthetics span the seasons with ease.

Air conditioning has made popular a summer dress with long sleeves and has also kept many a small fur out of summer storage.

All the little foxes and minis now enjoy the light breeze of a summer night along with the crisp air of fall and the balmy winds of spring.

And raincoats have become all-weather coats, ready to repel the storm if necessary, yet vying for topcoat style honors on clear autumn or spring days.

The time seems close when, except for practical purposes (a warm coat when it's cold outside), we can be well-dressed without giving the season much thought.

Lake Orion Pair Is on Eastern Trip

Visiting Syracuse, N. Y. on their eastern honeymoon are Sidney G. Hawley of Lake Orion and his bride, the former Carol Ann Parrott.

A reception in the Veterans' Hall, Oxford, followed their recent vows pledged before Rev. Robert J. Hudgins in the Methodist Church of Lake Orion.

Parents of the couple are the James F. Pearsons, Heights Road, Orion Township, and the Sidney A. Hawleys, South Beaumont Road, Highland Township.

SLIPPER SATIN
White slipper satin with Chantilly lace bodice and skirt applique fashioned the bride's colonial gown. She donned an illusion veil with lace Juliet cap and carried cascading white and red roses.

Mary Catherine Pearson attended her sister and David Hawley was best man for his brother.

Theodore Horvay of Milford and Calvin Voorheis of Holly were ushers.

The bride was a former student at Ferris State College.

MRS. S. G. HAWLEY

Why Grow Old?

I bet some of the men who read this column will mutter to themselves, "What will she think of next?" Nevertheless, the experts say that a cry is good for us once in a while. They do not mean to suggest that a woman's face should droop like the leaves of a weeping willow or that she should be a perpetual sponge. Nothing is more unattractive than a weepy female.

SAFE OUTLET
However, strong emotions can be damaging if they have no release. These change the entire body chemistry. Our glands go into action to prepare us for the emergency. If we have no outlet we more or less "stew in our own juice." Since civilized conduct prohibits face slapping and hair pulling and such, a good cry is a safe outlet.

It is so true that if you have been living in a state of tension, if worries have been nagging at your mind and spirit, a good cry can be a great relief. It is relaxing and blows off steam. It can make you feel lots better.

The world will seem much brighter after you dry your tears. So, howl when you feel like it — unless this is too often. If it is more than about once a month, or at the most once every three weeks, stop and evaluate your condition.

ARE YOU TIRED?
Extreme fatigue or nervous exhaustion can make you cry at the drop of a word. If you are sensitive in a way you never were before or find that you cry like you never did, seriously consider your physical condition. See your doctor for a checkup.

The poor men have the worst of this deal. For some reason they are supposed to suffer without the relief of tears. It is not thought to be manly to cry. This probably began in childhood when parents said to their young son, "Now don't cry. Be my little man! Boys don't cry."

Anyhow doctors feel that it will not detract one whit from manhood for a man to cry once in a long while. Many strong and famous men have wept unashamedly. You might remember how medicinal a cry can be when someone comes to you for comfort and wants to cry on your shoulder. Don't tell the person not to cry but rather urge her to cry good and hard and get it out of her system. However, crying is not beautifying to the eyes so don't overdo it!

Like mother, like daughter. Frilly, fancy granny gowns are favorites this season and Kid Duds styles this popular version with lace magic. Print in an English sprig floral against red, pink or blue background. About $4 sold locally.

Dramatic Change

The make-up for moderns designed by one cosmetic firm shows a dramatic change from a natural look. The focus is on smoky, smouldering eyes, and pale skin with a beige-ivory make-up base. The lips are rounded and ripe with brilliant shades of pink, red and rose.

Proposals Receive Citizens Group OK

New school programs — centered on improving the ability of children in reading, writing and speaking English — have been endorsed by an Oakland County citizens' advisory committee.

Approval of proposed programs by the citizens' committee was required before funds could be sought.

Oakland Schools officials were scheduled to apply today for a $250,000 federal grant to undertake the programs.

The money is made available under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

First program scheduled to be enacted is a training institute for 16 to 20 teachers who will become resource people for learning improvement services in local school districts.

TRAINING PERIOD

An eight-week training period beginning next Monday will consist of courses on the diagnosis and treatment of reading disabilities, patterns of reading instruction and lectures by specialists in psychology, speech and special education.

The teacher — trainees will spend part of each day in directed research and working with children who have been referred to Oakland Schools reading improvement services.

Upon completion of the training program, the teachers would help develop pilot programs in their own school systems.

In a reading room stocked with 1,000 paperback classics on a wide variety of subjects.

SPEECH PROGRAM

A speech improvement program for junior and senior high schools also was proposed.

It would be directed to teenage boys and girls with slovenly articulation and poor speech habits.

The speech improvement teacher would not be a speech correctionist or a speech teacher, but a skilled English teacher with extra training.

Tape recordings taken at the beginning and end of the course would measure the amount of improvement made by each child.

MEMBERSHIP

Members of the citizens' advisory committee are Sister Mary Catherine, principal of Our Lady of the Lakes School, Waterford Township; Dr. Harry Hahn, professor of education at Oakland University; and Ted Pearson Jr., president of the Oakland County Association of School Superintendents.

Also on the committee are Evelyn Kidneigh, director of school nursing at the Oakland County Health Department; James McNeely, director of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity; Dr. Dana Whitmer, chairman of the superintendents' committee on Title I; Fred Smith, president of the Oakland Schools Board of Education; Robert Taylor, president of Local 504, United Auto Workers Union; and Dr. Wilfred Webb, chairman of the superintendents' committee on Title III. The proposal for Title III was to be submitted by tomorrow to the U.S. Office of Education and the State Department of Public Instruction to be eligible for grants to be made the last two weeks in December.

JUNIOR MISS — James McIntosh, 21 Monroe, places a spotlight on Lynn Tarlton, 3285 Airport, Waterford Township, the winner of last year's Waterford Township Junior Miss contest, and Ronald Milburn, 379 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township, chairman of this year's Jaycee-sponsored event. High school seniors attending school in Waterford Township are eligible for the contest. The finals will be held Dec. 11 at Waterford Kettering High School. Entry blanks can be obtained at township high schools.

New Term for Welfare Unit Head

Reappoint County Officials

John A. Macdonald, chairman of the Oakland County Welfare Board since 1938, yesterday was reappointed to a new three-year term by the County Board of Supervisors.

Macdonald, 77, was returned to the $11,500 office by a unanimous voice vote of the board members.

Reappointed to a one-year term as dog warden was Dr. Frank R. Bates, 78. This post pays $10,200.

Present members of various boards and commissions also were reappointed.

NAMED TO NEW THREE-YEAR TERM on the planning commission were J. Robert Swanson, Ralph A. Main, Alexander C. Perinoff and Harlan Ritzke.

PUBLIC WORKS

Delos Hamlin and Homer Case both were reappointed to three-year terms on the board of public works.

NAMED TO THREE-YEAR TERM on the board of institutions were incumbents Charles B. Edwards Jr.; Maurice J. Cro-Eau and Thomas H. O'Donoghue.

Douglas H. Hoard was named to a three-year term in the department of veterans affairs and Lyle Baker was appointed to a four-year term on the retirement commission.

The supervisors also reaffirmed the appointment of Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen. This action is required by law every second year.

Board members reappointed Elmer R. Johnson to the jury commission about 10 minutes after he resigned the post to enter the competition for the $3,500 per year board of auditors post.

When his bid was unsuccessful, the board unanimously moved for his reinstatement on the jury commission.

Anti-Red Rally Set Saturday

Castro's Rise Topic of Ex-Cuban Lawyer

Children with poor reading ability would be identified for special instruction which could be given in their own classrooms or in small groups.

RESPONSIBILITY

The trained resource teacher would be responsible for helping other teachers utilize the knowledge and materials being developed on the frontiers of educational research.

Reading extension and progress, to be known as REAP, is the title of one of the two programs proposed specifically for junior and senior high school students.

REAP would require a teacher to meet twice weekly with small groups of English students

An eye witness account of Fidel Castro's rise to power will be delivered Saturday by former Havana attorney Fernando Penabaz at an anti-Communist rally in the Pontiac Central High School auditorium.

The 7:30 p.m. rally is sponsored by the Christian Crusade, the anti-Communist ministry of Billy James Hargis, with headquarters in Tulsa, Okla.

Penabaz, who joined the organization as a special advisor on Latin American affairs last November, served as a special assistant to vice presidential candidate William Miller during the Republican campaign.

He was national chairman of Cuban-American affairs for the GOP National Committee during the 1964 election.

In 1956, he opened his law firm, and became a commentator over CMQ, Latin America's largest television and broadcasting enterprise.

He left Cuba in 1960, but still broadcasts daily, by tape recording, over 110 stations in Latin America.

He Just Can't Help Appearing in Court

SILOUX CITY, Iowa (R)—Glen H. Thompson, a county jail trustee, serving a term for vagrancy and intoxication, made an unscheduled courtroom appearance and landed in a hospital.

He was sunning himself on the roof when he fell through a skylight while a hearing was in progress. He dropped about 40 feet and landed on the floor.

New Building Valuation Up in Waterford

The estimated cost of new construction in Waterford Township last month topped valuation for the same period in 1964 by almost $300,000.

The average size in men's suits is 40.

Meet some of Osmun's average men.

Take Charlie there, on the left.

Charlie makes life easy for Osmun's tailors. Cuff the pants, half-inch off the sleeves, and Charlie's got a suit that looks like it was made for him.

It was Charlie's a 40 regular.

Now, how about Ron, Al, Tom, Elliot, and you?

Come to Osmun's and look at the 40's... 40 regular, 40 long, 40 short, 40 extra long, 40 portly short. And look at the labels, too. Names like Eagle, Botany '500', Petrocchi, Martinelli, etc. Combine Osmun's lineup of America's famous brand names with our huge range of sizes, and you've got quite a combination.

See for yourself... it's way above average.

World News Roundup

British JFK Marker Defaced

LONDON (U) — The Rumny-mede Memorial to President John F. Kennedy, dedicated last May by Queen Elizabeth II and Mrs. Kennedy, has become a target of vandals.

M. J. Rogers, area agent for the National Trust, confirmed that hooligans have scratched names and initials on the stone and daubed it with mud and paint.

The seven-ton rectangular stone rests in an acre given to the United States. Nearby, King John, seven centuries ago was forced to grant the Magna Carta, one of the foundations of Western liberties.

In Washington, Rep. Bernard P. Grabowski, D - Conn., proposed special legislation to protect the memorial unless steps are taken in Britain.

BANGKOK, Thailand — Interior Minister Phraphas Charuathien said today the Thai government foiled a Communist plan to "create disturbances" during armed forces day celebrations Monday.

Phraphas said he placed all security forces on the alert as soon as intelligence sources told him of the plot.

The alert still was in force today, Phraphas told a news conference, but he did not elaborate on the Red plot.

He also reported that two Communist agents were killed in a gun battle with police last week in northeast Thailand near the Laotian border.

RANGOON, Burma — Floods in northern Burma have killed 34 persons and driven 5,000 from their homes, press reports said today.

The Guardian said the Yathin District, 350 miles north of Rangoon, was hit hardest.

With 12,000 acres of rice flooded, property damage was estimated at more than $1 million.

GLASGOW, Scotland — Andrew Quinn was sent to prison for life yesterday, the first murderer to be sentenced since Britain abolished the death penalty Monday.

Quinn, 44, a brickyard worker, pleaded guilty to shooting his boss after being fired.

Scotland Yard Gets Set to Move

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is moving soon, and somehow the world-famous police headquarters won't be the same.

Although the name Scotland Yard is being retained, the police are leaving their strange old building, with its distinctive rounded corners, and moving into a 20-story block of glass and concrete in the nearby Victoria section of London.

Under a new telephone dialing system Scotland Yard will lose its famous number Whitehall 1212. The new number will have only digits, something like 451212.

The name Scotland Yard is traced to a legend that an area of land at Whitehall was known as Scotland because buildings there were set aside to accommodate the kings of Scotland when they visited London.

POLICE HEADQUARTERS

In 1829 a large house, No. 4 Whitehall Place, was taken over by Sir Robert Peel as headquarters for the police force.

The men were soon speaking of their station by the name of the little street—Scotland Yard—which it faced. The name stuck.

Curiously, Scotland Yard almost became a national opera house. In 1875 foundations for such a building were laid alongside the police headquarters, but funds were lacking to complete it.

Sir Richard Pennefather, receiver for the Metropolitan Police, purchased the incomplete building in 1877. It was demolished and Norman Shaw, one of the leading architects of the day, was commissioned to design a police headquarters overlooking the Thames River.

NEW OFFICES

The commissioner of police and his staff moved into their new offices in 1890 along with the Criminal Investigation Department.

The yard had really arrived.

Scotland Yard is the headquarters of London's Metropolitan Police but as any Sherlock Holmes fan knows, is best known for its detectives. The CID was set up in 1878 and today about 1,700 plain-clothes officers are engaged solely in crime investigation.

Also housed at Scotland Yard is the London branch of the international criminal police organization—Interpol—which keeps in touch with police forces throughout the world.

Balloon Used in Heart Cases

By Science Service

REHOVOT, Israel — Doctors confronted by cases of heart failure often open the chest cavity and massage the heart by hand until the organ resumes its normal beat.

A novel method has been devised by Israeli scientists to replace the surgeons' hand with a balloon.

A balloon is introduced by means of a catheter into the cavity of the heart.

The arterial system is then inflated and the expanding and contracting balloon replaces the surgeon's hand in massaging the heart.

In this manner adequate quantities of blood are forced into the area where the failure is occurring.

FIRST RECORDED USE

The first recorded use of a catheter took place in 1829, when Dr. Werner Forssman opened a vein in his own arm, inserted the tip of a two and a half foot long catheter (a hollow flexible tube) and passed it up his arm vein until it reached the chamber of the heart, which was the target.

Since then the catheter method of reaching the heart by way of the veins has been used in many ways directly to the heart to explore narrow passages and abnormal communication between heart chambers, to diagnose congenital heart disease and to carry out research on what is happening within the heart.

The new method has not yet been tested on human beings, but demonstrations on dogs have indicated that it is feasible for humans as well.

Won't Resist Dirksen Bid on Districting Plan, Says Mansfield

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mike Mansfield said today he will not resist any effort to bring up in the Senate early next year a proposed constitutional amendment on state legislative reapportionment.

Mansfield, the Democratic leader, made it clear, however, he does not expect supporters to rally the required two-thirds majority for passage of an amendment which would overturn the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote ruling.

The Montana senator spoke out in an interview after Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen accused the Supreme Court in a "Republican report" of charting a dangerous course by holding that both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned on a population basis.

Dirksen said that adherence to the one-man, one-vote principle in this case "indicates either a basic misunderstanding of, or a blatant disregard for, the unique workings of our federal system."

He noted that his proposed amendment would permit state voters to decide whether they wished one house of a legislature apportioned on the basis of geography and political subdivisions as well as population.

SHELVED AMENDMENT

With Democratic liberals leading the charge against it, the Senate shelved the amendment in the last session after a 57-39 vote failed to yield the required two-thirds majority.

But Dirksen said that does not end the story.

"The final chapter has not been written," he said. "The battle will be continued. The goal is to restore to the people of the states the right of self-determination and by so doing to restore balance within the federal system.

"The question is not one of rural domination or urban domination or ethnic domination or any other type of domination. The issue, simply, is whether the people of a state are to be allowed to determine for themselves the manner in which they would be governed."

GREATER OPPOSITION

Mansfield said he thinks opposition to the amendment will be even greater in the next session. He noted that many legislatures already have been reapportioned on a population basis.

"The question seems to be somewhat moot at this point, with so many states already having conformed to the court's dictum," he said. "Under these circumstances it would seem to me to be extremely difficult to get any constitutional amendment ratified."

Ask Testimony of U-M Regent

University-Microfilm Tie Is Eyed by Group

LANSING (AP) — Eugene Power, University of Michigan regent, is being invited to explain the relationship between the University Microfilms and the U-M to a House subcommittee.

Power will be invited to appear before the Higher Education subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee Dec. 8, said Chairman Jack Faxon, D-Detroit.

The Michigan Daily, the U-M student newspaper, charged last month that University Microfilms has violated university copyright regulations in filming documents in the U-M library.

A team of auditors from the auditor general's office were checking the relationship between the firm and the university before the newspaper report was made, Faxon said.

PROBE CONTINUES

They are continuing "their probe," he added, and the attorney general is being asked to investigate legal aspects of any possible conflict of interest.

Auditor William Wood said the investigation so far showed no evidence of collusion.

The university signs a contract with doctoral candidates to film their dissertations, charging them a $25 fee.

It then turns the film over to the company, which sends copies to the Library of Congress. It also compiles indices and abstracts of doctoral theses in the U-M library and makes other university libraries across the country.

Filed copies, indices and abstracts of the theses are sold by the firm to interested individuals, companies and schools.

Before Power became a regent, his firm signed the contracts with the doctoral candidates and collected the $25 fee, Wood said.

Army Center Asks for Help on Recruiting

WARREN (AP) — The U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Center, reporting a critical skilled-manpower shortage that could affect the American defense effort, asked the state of Michigan colleges and universities Tuesday in the problem.

Tank - Automotive Center officials invited more than two score representatives of about 30 educational institutions to a "recruitment" meeting designed to encourage job applicants from talented young people.

Col. William J. Durrenberger, commanding officer, told the educators of a need for a "constant influx" of new, young people to assure what he called the effective continuance of the military effort.

The nation's thriving economy was cited as part of the government's problem in competing with private industry for workers. Donald H. Wittwer, the center's civilian personnel chief, termed this competition "intense."

Detroit to Receive New Urban Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new kind of urban development grant was announced Tuesday for Detroit.

The new Department of Housing and Urban Development said a $2,000,000 grant will finance two-thirds of the cost of the city's program of demolition of structures that are unsound or unfit for habitation.

The city's program calls for demolition of 1,435 structures as part of an over-all attack on blight. The city's share of the cost is $1,004,500.

Kentuckians Lose Assistance Benefits

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The State Department of Economic Security says about 500 Kentuckians lost their public assistance benefits in October because of a 7 per cent increase in Social Security payments voted by Congress. The department said 3,300 recipients of public assistance benefits received reduced monthly checks.

State Probers Seek Answers on U-M Student Fee Hike

LANSING (AP) — What is the University of Michigan getting—or giving—for its $1.8 million student fee hike this year?

That was to be the basic question posed by a legislative subcommittee to U-M officials Wednesday.

Armed with an audit report prepared by the auditor general, the Higher Education subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee planned to ask the reasons for hikes in tuition and dormitory fees.

"What important new service is the university initiating that it could not have without the fee hike?" asked Al Ballard, technical assistant to the Ways and Means Committee.

SPECIFIC ANSWERS

He said he did not expect university officials to be able to give immediate, specific answers to the question.

"The prime result of this investigation will be the subcommittee members will have a greater understanding of university financing and future budget requests," he said.

The U-M Board of Regents last July approved tuition hikes ranging from $5 to $100 a term for resident students. Rates were hiked $50 for out-of-state students.

Dormitory room and board fees also were raised $50 per academic year. The charges now range from $95 to $1,000—the highest in the state in terms of flat rate charges to students.

No comparison has been made, however, with the quality and cost of services provided to the students for their money.

EXPLANATION

"We also want the university to explain whether it knew, at the time the increase was voted, that its general fund balance was going to increase by $446,000 to a total of $2.38 million at the start of the current fiscal year," Ballard said.

"Was there any talk of spending some of this balance to defray the costs that were used to justify the hike?" he asked.

At a subcommittee meeting Tuesday, he quoted Regent Eugene Power as saying the hikes were necessary to pay for some $2.7 million in "unmet needs."

"If the unmet needs came to $2.7 million, and the fee hikes in $1.8 million, why did the university ask the Legislature for $2.8 million to make up—instead of the $900,000 difference between the two figures?" Ballard asked, adding:

LOGIC, CONTINUITY

"There should be some logic, consistency and continuity in such university requests from year to year."

Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, chairman of the subcommittee, said the full U-M picture probably would not be clear until a complete audit is performed. "It is due to start next June, and would take 30 men about six weeks to complete," he said. Four students were to present prepared statements on their living cost problems, Faxon said. They are Gary Cunningham, president of the Student Government Council; Bob Goyer, chairman of the Graduate Student Council Housing Committee; Don Resnick, president of the U-M Student Employees Union; and Steve Daniels, a member of the Student Government Council.

CMU Faculty, Superiors Exchange Charges Before State Senate Probers

Dean Cleon Richtmeyer of the School of Arts and Sciences said he agreed with the decision not to increase Westie's pay. He said that in 1962 Westie showed "lack of courtesy and respect for his colleagues and lack of concern for problems" by resigning from a faculty committee just before it was to consider an item Westie had asked the committee to discuss.

New Cookbooks Are Colorful

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Today, let's talk about books cookbooks.

First to come to our attention was Betty Crocker's latest book, "Dinner in a Dish." Published by the Golden Press, this is another spiral bound $1.95 cookbook. Like its companions, it has a wealth of appetizing pictures.

The homemaker who loves casseroles because they are time-savers and economical will like this book. She will find a number of new and different ideas.

The book also goes into quick main courses, be they done in the oven, in a skillet or under the broiler.

There's a section on hearty sandwiches, on leftovers and on soups. You'll also find a number of tips on food and cooking. Here's a sample of a casserole that's different:

BOLOGNA BISCUIT BAKE

1/4 cup sliced onion
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 cups (1 lb. can) tomatoes
1/2 lb. bologna, cubed
1/2 cup diced carrots, cooked and drained
1/2 cup green beans, cooked and drained
Bologna biscuits

Cook and stir onion in hot shortening until tender. Remove from heat. Blend in flour, salt and pepper. Cook over low heat, stirring until mixture is bubbly. Remove from heat.

Stir in tomatoes. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Add bologna, carrots, and beans; return to boiling.

Pour into 8x8x2 pan. Place in oven to keep hot while making bologna biscuits. Drop 8 or 9 tablespoons of biscuit dough on hot mixture.

Bake 25-30 minutes in 425-degree oven, or until biscuits are lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Bologna Biscuits

1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
1/4 lb. bologna, cut into 1/4-inch cubes
1/2 cup milk

Mix flour, baking powder and salt in bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until mixture looks like cornmeal. Stir in bologna cubes, then milk.

VEGETABLE KNOW-HOW
Better Homes and Gardens

Penny Soup, Stew

Slice frankfurters into split pea or navy bean soup; or add to creamed potatoes for "penny stew." Makes a quick, substantial dish that a child will finish in short order.

newest addition to the cookbook shelf is a Vegetable Cook Book. Priced at $3.95, this is also picture pretty.

From artichokes to turnips, there's a batch of recipes for every vegetable. Beyond these, there are recipes for sauces, soups, salads and garnishes. Concluding the book is a section on canning and freezing.

Behind it all is the famous test kitchen that has been working with recipes for decades.

As a sample of what BH&G does with acorn squash, we offer you this recipe.

Glassed Squash with Onion and Walnuts

Cut three acorn squash in half lengthwise; remove seeds. Bake, cut side down in shallow pan at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until almost tender. Turn cut side up; season.

Fill cavities with two cups drained cooked or canned small onions and 1/2 cup broken walnut meats. Melt 1/2 cup butter or margarine; add 1/2 cup molasses, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon. Spoon over squash and filling.

Continue baking 15 to 20 minutes, or until squash is tender. Brushing occasionally with sauce to glaze. Makes 6 servings.

CARAWAY SAUERKRAUT SOUP — There are all kinds of good and satisfying things in Caraway Seed Sauerkraut Soup: Spare-ribs, sauerkraut, sausage, sour cream. Caraway seed gives this soup the final authentic German flavor.

Germans Cook With Caraway

Good cooks the world over know the flavor filip of a sprinkling of caraway seeds, and their pleasantly sharp aroma. Caraway's fame as a spice is particularly widespread through North and Central Europe, the Balkans and the Near East.

In Austria, Hungary and Germany these little half-mooned shaped seeds go into soups, meats, goulashes, breads, cookies and into vegetable dishes.

Caraway Seed Sauerkraut Soup

1 pound sauerkraut
1 pound spareribs, trim off excess fat

4 cups (1-quart) water
1/4 cup (1/4 stick) butter or margarine

1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon caraway seed

1/2 pound sausage
2 tablespoons instant minced onion

1/4 cup sour cream

Simmer together in a covered kettle for 45 minutes, sauerkraut, spareribs and water.

Melt butter or margarine in a 2-quart saucepan. Blend in flour and cook over low heat 1/2 minute. Stir in paprika and caraway seed.

Drain stock from sauerkraut and spareribs and add to flour and butter mixture, stirring constantly. Pick lean meat from spareribs bones and add along with sauerkraut.

Brown sausage, cut into 1/2 inch pieces. Add. Stir in instant minced onion. Simmer 15 minutes. Serve hot topped with a dollop of sour cream. Yield: 8 servings.

Everyone in favor
say.....

No one likes hard water. Right? Right. And, who likes rusty water? No one. This is what makes new Morton Pellens so welcome in high iron content areas, such as yours. Pellens answer both problems at once. They recharge water softeners, just like Morton Salt Pellens do, and most effectively remove rust accumulation from your softener. Pellens contain a special patented additive that was independently tested and found most efficient for rust removal. A water softener recharged with Pellens eliminates the nuisance of rust-stained laundry, sinks, tubs and bowls. By controlling rust, your softener gives top performance, requires fewer service calls and has a longer life. Pellens work in all softeners except those with silica gel zeolite. Get rid of rust and enjoy clear, soft water; say, "I'd like some tested, proved and patented Morton Pellens, please," when next you see your water softener salt dealer, Morton Salt Company.

PELLENS ARE EFFECTIVE IN MANUAL, SEMIAUTOMATIC AND AUTOMATIC WATER SOFTENERS.

Cook Duckling Quarters in Sweet 'n' Sour Sauce

Regarded by peoples in the Far East as one of their great delicacies sweet 'n sour duckling prepared in the oriental style provides a measure of elegance to make your dinner party a notable success.

Easy to prepare in an electric skillet or roaster, oriental style duckling, served with hot or iced tea, is appropriate during any of the four seasons.

Available all year in supermarket frozen meat display cases, duckling is easy to prepare and serve.

A high nutritious food, duckling can be served with an innumerable variety of accompanying foods. Its versatility provides new opportunities to demonstrate your creative flair as a hostess.

SWEET 'N' SOUR DUCKLING

1 frozen duckling (4 1/2 to 5 pounds) defrosted and quartered
1 tablespoon cooking oil
1 can (1 pound 4 1/2 ounces) sliced pineapple
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 clove garlic, finely minced
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup water
1/2 cup vinegar
1 small green pepper, cut in 1-inch squares
1/2 cup (1-inch pieces) green onion

Tomato wedges, optional
Hot cooked rice

Wash, drain and dry duckling quarters. Brown both sides of quarters in oil, turning as needed to brown evenly. Drain pineapple slices; save syrup. Add 1/2 cup pineapple syrup, soy sauce, garlic, salt and ginger; mix and pour over duckling. Cover; cook slowly until duckling is tender, about 1 to 1 1/2 hours, turning once.

Remove duckling from pan. Drain off excess fat. Combine sugar, cornstarch, remaining pan drippings. Cook, stirring constantly until clear and thickened.

Reserve 4 pineapple slices for garnishing; cut remaining slices into chunks. Add pineapple chunks, green pepper and green onion to sauce; heat. Serve duckling on rice and top with sauce. Garnish with pineapple slices. Yield: 4 servings.

Mix 2 Cheeses for Macaroni

Mom will get a big hand when she bakes these for the kids.

Pecan Cinnabars

1 1/2 cups unsifted regular flour
2 tablespoons plus 1/2 cup sugar

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup warm water
1 package active dry yeast
1 egg yolk
1/4 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 1/2 cups chopped pecans
1 teaspoon cinnamon

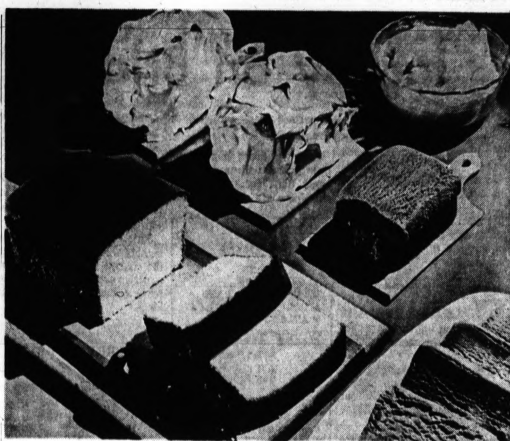

In a large bowl, stir together the flour, 2 tablespoons sugar and the salt. Cut in butter until particles are fine.

In a small bowl, dissolve the yeast in the water; add to flour mixture along with egg yolk and evaporated milk. Mix well; cover. Refrigerate for 2 hours or overnight.

Mix together the pecans, 1/2 cup sugar cinnamon; sprinkle about 1/4 of the mixture over lightly floured board or prepared pastry cloth.

Turn out dough over pecan mixture on board; sprinkle both dough and a prepared stockinet-covered rolling pin with more of the pecan mixture. Roll out dough to the size of a small rectangle; sprinkle with more of the pecan mixture.

Fold ends over dough. Repeat

MOCHA FLUFF ALASKAS — Cut four slices of pound cake about one inch thick and place on baking sheet covered with heavy paper. Slice pint of chocolate ice cream into four slices and place on top of cake. Beat 3 egg whites with 1/4 teaspoon of salt until frothy. Gradually add 1/4 cup sugar and 1/4 teaspoon instant coffee, continuing to beat until stiff peaks form. Spread meringue completely over tops and sides of ice cream-covered cake. Bake at 450 degrees until lightly browned. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

The Jacobys discuss their artificial two no-trump response today.

Jim: "I think we should make it very clear that when an opponent acts over an opening suit bid, the two no-trump response reverts back to normal."

JACOBY

Oswald: "We also should make it clear that the same applies when you have passed originally."

Jim: "In both the preceding situations you need to have a normal two no-trump bid at your disposal, and can't afford the luxury of an artificial one."

Oswald: "Today's hand is a perfect example. South has passed 11 high card points and the sort of hand that cries out for a jump to two no-trump after partner opens one spade in third seat."

Jim: "If South happens to fool around with a two diamond bid, North will probably pass. In fact, it takes some gumption on North's part for him to find a three no-trump bid with a passed partner."

Oswald: "Not too much gumption. No one wants to land at two no-trump if he has any reasonable chance for game."

Jim: "Three no-trump is unstable. As a matter of fact, the chances are that South will make an overtrick unless the defense catches out the aces and kings."

Instead of bidding four spades your partner goes to four diamonds over your four clubs, and to four spades after you bid four hearts. What do you do now?

Slow Returns, Charges Cloud Outcome of Philippine Election

MANILA (AP) — The early election lead of Sen. Ferdinand Marcos over incumbent President Diosdado Macapagal was clouded today by charges of irregularities and delays in vote counting.

Macros, a war hero, in various unofficial tallies, was maintaining a lead of from 126,000 votes to 245,000 after 24 hours of counting.

But at that time only from 25 to 30 per cent of the vote had been unofficially reported and the official Election Commission figures were insignificant.

Sen. Jose P. Diokno, the legal troubleshooter of Marcos' Nacionalista party, told newsmen he would file a formal protest with the Election Commission if returns were not speeded up.

IF SILENT

Election Commission officials admitted that 24 hours after the polls closed 11 of the 56 provinces in the Philippines had not been heard from at all. These included Macapagal's home province of Pampanga where his strength is such that he could practically dictate his majority.

Liberal party officials countered Marcos charges with similar accusations that the Nacionalista candidate was holding back votes in his home area of northern Luzon.

Impartial observers said the holding back of votes in more or less controlled provinces could be critical in an election as close and bitter as the one just completed. It would enable either candidate to weigh in, at a significant moment, with enough votes to swing the final results.

Both sides were confidently predicting victory as the counting inched on. Perhaps significantly, however, the Macapagal camp scaled down its original victory claim of a 400,000-vote majority to a more modest 250,000. A Nacionalista spokesman, on the other hand, said Marcos would win by 300,000 to 400,000.

More than eight million votes were cast in Tuesday's election raising nervousness in both camps the personal rivalry is being intensified. Although election day passed with less than usual violence, the danger won't be over until the vote is known and accepted. This may now take two or three more days.

The one fact to emerge from the totals so far is that the Philippine voter has reaffirmed his independence and lack of regard for party lines.

8 SEATS

Results in the senatorial race where eight seats are at stake indicate the two parties will break even.

In the vice-presidential race, Macapagal's running mate Sen. Gerardo Rolas was maintaining a clear lead over his opponent Sen. Fernando Lopez. This could result in a Nacionalista president and Liberal vice president.

The unofficial returns of the Philippine News Service, after 24 hours of counting, gave: Marcos 1,281,190, Macapagal 1,036,393. These included scattered returns from all provinces but were heavily weighted by city votes.

Mel Torme Obtains Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Mel Torme and his wife, Arlene, each have obtained a divorce decree, with Torme gaining custody of their 6-year-old son, Tracy.

Torme, 40, charged cruelty and adultery. His wife, 35, accused him of cruelty and having tried to break down her front door.

Mrs. Torme was granted alimony for three years. In the decree yesterday, Torme was granted custody of Tracy until at least the end of the school year.

Custody arrangements are subject to review next June 20 when Mrs. Torme may gain custody of the boy.

The couple's home in Beverly Hills was ordered sold to liquidate debts against their community property.

Preliminary success in removing cancerous bladder lining, allowing a healthy new lining to grow, has led a urologist to predict similar success with bowel segments, thus doing away with a lifetime need for colostomy bags by cancer patients.

Marlene Took Big 'Ribbing'

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Marlene Dietrich — with two of her ribs broken by enthusiastic hugs by fans — performed as usual at the Royal Theater.

The glamorous grandmother said her chest felt sore after the hugging outside the theater on Monday night. X-rays yesterday showed the rib fractures.

She told Ray Castle, a Sydney columnist, that the injury bothered her only when she laughed.

Apple Growers Lament: No Pickers

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan apple growers lost at least $1.5 million this year because they were unable to pick the fruit before it fell from the trees, according to observers of the industry.

Robert Braden of the Michigan Farm Bureau estimated between two and three million bushels of apples went unpicked this year.

He blamed the situation primarily on a lack of "competent" pickers.

Ole Pynnonen, director of Grower Service for the Apple Commission, termed the $1.5-million loss estimate "very conservative."

He blamed both a shortage of experienced labor and heavy rain during the harvest season for the apple loss.

Both experts said most of the 3,000 Michigan apple growers found a large percentage of their fruit on the ground after the hard freeze of Oct. 28.

Apples take from the ground are sold for juice at between 80 cents and $1.50 per bushel less than apples harvested from the trees, they said.

Estimates of the apple crop this season range from eight million to 12 million bushels, compared to the 16 million bushels harvested in 1964.

Braden and Pynnonen said restrictions on migrant labor from Mexico, Canada and Puerto Rico cut into the number of pickers usually available.

The high rate of industrial employment and higher wages offered to migrants by California growers also cut into Michigan's labor force, they said.

Growers' profits were further trimmed by an increase in the price of labor from a normal of about 20 cents per bushel to as high as 30 cents a bushel this year, Pynnonen said.

"This was one of the worst harvest years in a long time," he added.

Pynnonen said the losses due a day, he said.

to inexperienced labor plus work hours lost because of rain during the harvest season, from Labor Day to Nov. 1, more than offset a slight rise in the prices paid by processors for apples.

LOWER HARVEST

Braden said most growers usually could count on a few migrant workers able to harvest about 100 bushels of apples a day.

But this year, most growers reported the average laborer brought in only 30 to 40 bushels a day, he said.

Russia, U.S. Conspiring—China

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China today accused the Soviet leadership of collaborating with the United States on Viet Nam policy.

The denunciation was titled "refutation of the new leaders of the Communist party of the Soviet Union."

It was broadcast by the official New China News Agency in a dispatch monitored here. The broadcast said the article would be published tomorrow in the official newspapers of the Chinese Communist party and government.

The article accused the leaders of the Soviet Union of the same crimes for which Peking had repeatedly and bitterly attacked former Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The Kremlin leaders, China charged today, are trying to push collaboration with the United States "for the domination of the world."

It said the Soviets were "serving U.S. imperialism by making minor attacks in words, but rendering major help in deeds."

The value of work done in the missile and space vehicle industry in 1963 totaled $3.9 billion, or double the 1956 figure.

Strive to End Strike at Greenville Plant

GREENVILLE (AP) — Negotiators worked for eight hours Tuesday in the effort to settle the week-old strike at Gibson Refrigerator Division of Hupp Corp. The talks resume today.

Economic issues stand in the way of a settlement. The company has offered a 33 cents an hour package covering wages and other items and the union has demanded 49 cents. Average hourly pay is about $2.28.

Expect Wilson Rhodesia Action

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson was expected to reach a decision today on further proposals for a meeting with Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith on the independence deadline.

Wilson called a meeting of his cabinet for later this morning to discuss the crisis.

He also planned to meet with Rhodesian Chief Justice Sir Hugh Beadle, who flew to London yesterday on his own initiative in hopes a solution could be reached.

The 60-year-old chief justice, it was hoped, could help forestall a final breakdown between Britain and Rhodesia on Smith's announcement to issue a unilateral declaration of independence.

Beadle made the trip in defiance of Smith, whose white-ruled government governs 220,000 white residents and four million black Africans.

Queen Elizabeth II, in a crown address opening Parliament yesterday, pledged Britain's "unrelenting efforts" to bring about a peaceful settlement in Rhodesia, one acceptable to all residents — black and white.

Wilson spoke to Parliament after the Queen and said he hoped the meeting with Beadle could help the tense situation.

Smith said in Salisbury Wilson's hopes of a new meeting were "interesting."

Britain insists that the black Africans of Rhodesia be given majority rule if independence is granted. Smith wants continued white control by the minority.

Justice Department Court Effort Derails House Klan Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two administration drives in the courts and in the Congress aimed at checking civil rights violence have collided after a mix-up in signals — derailing the House hearings on the Ku Klux Klan.

Trying to build up to a climax before recessing until next year, the House Committee on Un-American Activities planned to flash the spotlight on the 1964 nightmarish murder of Negro educator Lemuel Penn.

In so doing, the committee thought it had the green light from the Justice Department to question Klansmen who chairman Edwin E. Willis, D-La., said were "involved in the killing" of Penn.

It had subpoenaed Klansmen from the Athens, Ga., area, including J. Howard Sims and Cecil Myers, who had been accused of the slaying but freed by a Georgia state court.

IN HEARING ROOM

Sims and Myers were waiting in the hearing room to testify Tuesday when the green light suddenly turned to red.

Amid surprise and consternation, a meeting was hurriedly called by Willis to change plans after a weekend letter from Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach asking the committee not to delve into the Penn case at this time.

What had happened was that the Justice Department was asking the Supreme Court Tuesday to revive federal felony indictments in the Penn case and in the slaying of three civil rights workers near Philadelphia, Miss., in 1964.

Katzenbach was afraid the congressional hearings could prejudice further court hearing and the committee agreed to go along with his request.

CALLS RECESS

Willis dismissed the Klansmen from the Athens, Ga., area until Jan. 4 and recessed the hearing "until further call of the chair." In the 12 days of public hearings that began last month, the committee has piled up 1,400 pages of testimony from 32 witnesses — much of it Fifth Amendment pleadings by Klan officials.

But all the members of the committee — technically sitting as a subcommittee — have expressed satisfaction with the way things have gone so far.

In summing up Tuesday, Willis said the investigation had shown various Klansmen and their leaders fudging on taxes and Klan finances, using front names for klaverns, carrying weapons, learning how to make fire bombs and other tactics of terrorism, of enrolling former convicts and of setting up secret organizations such as the Vigilantes "for carrying out acts of violence or terrorism."

"The Federal Communications Commission has undertaken a study of the misuse of citizen band radios, and I am sure other agencies . . . will want to take action as a result of some of the facts developed by the committee," Willis added.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Enrollment of full-time students in the State University is up 16.8 per cent from last fall to a record total of 107,701, the university says. Registration in September 1964 showed a total full-time student population of 92,236 on the university's 58 campuses.

There's Even Terror in Silence of Viet Jungle

By TOM TIEDE

PLEI ME, Viet Nam (NEA)—Every foxhole, it seemed, held a decaying body and the air stank of the enemy dead left in the sun.

Some had crawled out of their pits only to die steps away, their faces frozen with horror, their bodies punctured and burned. Others had escaped. But to where?

For days, the Viet Cong had harassed this area with death and damnation. Then they disappeared into the jungle beyond.

Were they still there? We had to know. So elements of the First Cavalry Division went searching. I tagged along.

Down from the perimeter wire we moved, this forenoon, to the floor of the forest. Each man walked on eggs, the Cong always leave booby traps to protect their retreat and this was no exception.

"Hey," a G.I. bellowed, "you think LBJ knows I'm here?" "What's your name?" I grinned.

"Peterson, Richard," he said.

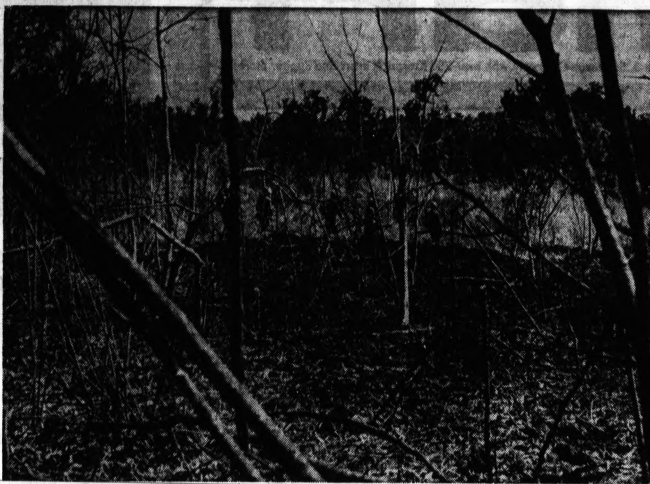

"Sunday, S.C."

"I damn if he knows or not, but next time I see him I'll tell him."

"Yeah? Well, tell 'im I want a replacement, also."

The point men blazed trails in several directions. Orders were for the rest to use the footprints of the guy in front.

It was slow moving, and un-

WAR-SCARRED AREA — The silent-seeming Viet Nam jungle, scarred and battered by incessant warfare, is filled with traps set for the unwary. Most of the snares are put there by the Viet Cong terrorists — mines, booby traps, — but much danger lies in the jungle itself. Straying from the marked trail can mean being lost in tangled depths, losing all sense of direction and succumbing to panic.

Sukarno Lifts Restrictions in Jakarta

JAKARTA (UPI) — President Sukarno today lifted the state of war in Jakarta and relaxed the curfew imposed after the Oct. 1 Communist coup attempt.

An army spokesman said the action was taken because of improved security in the city. The decision was broadcast by Radio Jakarta but there was no indication if control now reverted to civilian authorities or stayed in the hands of the army.

The order came just hours after about 100,000 persons swarmed to a rally in central Jakarta to demand abolition of the communist party and imposition of a nationwide state of war until all supporters of the coup attempt were cleaned out of public office.

Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution issued a statement denouncing unnamed persons who had spread "slanders" that the military was plotting to depose Sukarno prior to the abortive revolt and was in league with the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency.

This was interpreted as a slap at Foreign Minister Subandrio, whose "central intelligence body" is being privately blamed by the army for feeding such reports to Sukarno.

Subandrio himself spent an hour with Communist Chinese Ambassador Tao Chung Ming this morning and said afterward they had agreed that trade relations between the two countries could be maintained despite the current political trouble between them.

only a shell casing and I sat down to drown my disappointment with warm canteen water.

I rested for minutes before realizing that everything had grown quiet. Only the breeze — and damn little of that — was stirring. My outfit had disappeared. I was alone. I began to sweat.

Getting up, I stumbled back to the trail only it, too, had evaporated in the oven of silence. I could see only trees, bent and broken trees, the leaves of which were charred and wrinkled from a hundred bombings.

My tongue dropped all the way to my stomach with a thud. I was lost in Viet Cong country. Frightened silly, naturally, I began to blindly push through the tangle in search of the path. I tripped over vines, branches, roots, logs . . .

Earlier in the day a sergeant had found a log crammed full of explosives. "Good God," I thought.

Junior Editors Quiz on KON-TIKI

QUESTION: What purpose was back of the voyage of the Kon-Tiki raft?

ANSWER: A Norwegian scientist, Thor Heyerdahl, was trying to find out what people originally settled the South Sea Islands. On one of these islands, an old man had told him the legend of a chief, Tiki, who had come from a country beyond the sea.

Later, while in Peru, Heyerdahl came across a legend of the Inca Indians: that before they came, people had lived there under a chief, Kon-Tiki, said to be a sun king.

Kon-Tiki and his people were supposed to have vanished westward over the sea.

Heyerdahl wondered if this could be the same chief Tiki of the South Sea legends. The South American Indians used large balsa wood rafts; there were ocean currents from Peru to the South Seas.

Could the South Sea islands have been settled in this way? Heyerdahl determined to build such a raft as the Indians used, to test out this possibility.

He called his raft Kon-Tiki. With five companions, he left Peru April 28, 1947, drifted westward for 4,300 miles and finally landed on a small island in the South Seas.

He had proved that such a voyage was possible. Other scientists remain convinced that while some settlers may have arrived in this manner, most came to the South Seas from south eastern Asia.

FOR YOU TO DO: Although not entirely convincing to the scientific world, Heyerdahl's voyage was one of the most adventurous and exciting in the history of the sea. Find out more about the Kon-Tiki in your library.

'Eye Disease Fight Stalled'

Say Science Neglects Blindness Prevention

Science Service
ARLINGTON, Va. — When you drop a dime or a quarter into a blind man's tin cup, or buy a pencil from a blind woman sitting on a sidewalk corner singing a plaintive song, don't put yourself on the back every hard.

This is literally a drop in the bucket. It is like the charity Christmas, or at best, the brainless lessons that must be learned after blindness occurs.

Speakers at a science writers' seminar here include many grants from the National Institute for Neurological Diseases and Blindness, Bethesda, Md., and members of the institute's advisory committee on grants.

The "current science explosion," which includes research on numerous diseases and subjects, has left eye diseases trailing, the meeting was told.

Dr. Jules C. Stein, board chairman of Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc. (RPB), pointed out that "only about $10 million — approximately the cost of the one Agena rocket that was lost in the Atlantic Ocean two weeks ago — is being spent "in the attempt to find causes, preventives and controls for diseases that destroy sight."

FEARED DISEASE

Reporting highlights of a recent Gallup poll showing that, next to cancer, the affliction most feared by the American people is blindness.

Dr. Stein said almost 90 million Americans have some kind of eye trouble, and in 2.5 million the trouble is serious.

The poll revealed that the public is badly confused, misinformed about sight and the diseases that threaten it.

Dr. Stein is himself a former practicing ophthalmologist. He and other public-spirited citizens founded RPB in 1960.

RPB has been a key factor in the construction of modern eye research centers at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and at the University of California, Los Angeles.

It also makes annual unrestricted eye research grants to 26 institutions in the United States.

Police, Suspect Wage Gun Battle Near Brighton

BRIGHTON (AP) — A State Police officer and the man he was attempting to arrest went today in a gun battle at a gas station about five miles north of here.

Trooper Paul Palmer was shot in the arm when he and his partner, Trooper Edward Hancock, exchanged shots with an attendant at the gas station, whose name was not immediately known.

Officers at the Brighton State Police Post said Palmer and Hancock had gone to the gas station to arrest the attendant for several traffic violations.

The extent of the other man's wounds were not immediately known.

ARTY EYE — The latest gimmick in pop art, decorating pretty girls, may not be for the ages but it's at least eye-catching. Danish actress Anne Nielsen picked up a third eye in this effort by artist Novella Parigini.

Nine Governors Return From Viet Nam Tour; Predict War Will Be Long

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine, spokesman for his colleagues, said he and the other governors were "most impressed with efforts of the South Vietnamese people."

In spite of harassment, he said, the South Vietnamese have spirit, courage and willingness to do the job.

But he said he and the other state officials believe the war would last "some years."

With Reed on the three-week tour to the Far East, including Japan, were Govs. George Romney of Michigan, Henry Belmont of Oklahoma, Clifford Burnes of Hawaii, Jim M. Babbitt of Montana, Carl E. Sanders of Georgia, John Chaffee of Rhode Island, Philip Hoff of Vermont and Harold E. Hughes of Wyoming. John A. Iowa,

Romney told reporters a war would "likely get worse before it gets better. War is terrible, but worse than war is the effort to impose tyranny through terror," he said. "It must be defeated."

Romney added he felt the American people were too optimistic about the situation.

49ers' Parks Top Receiver

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Parks, the San Francisco 49ers' top receiver, is living up to the bright hopes of the scouts who drafted him No. 1 in the National Football League two years ago.

The 6-foot-2, 195-pound whiz from Texas Tech has taken over the NFL lead in pass receptions with 41 for 763 yards and six touchdowns. Parks grabbed six of George Mira's passes for 120 yards last week against Dallas, moving ahead of Tommy McDonald of Los Angeles who has 39 for 524 yards.

Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns continues to roll up the yardage, gaining 131 in 20 carries against Philadelphia, and now tops the heap by almost 400 yards. Jim has gained 908 yards on 178 carries in eight ball games. The second man is Tim Brown of Philadelphia with 528 yards.

The passing leadership, based on standings in four categories, has John Brodie of San Francisco and John Unitas of Baltimore rated even. Brodie missed last week due to a shoulder dislocation and Unitas suffered a strained back in a winning effort against Chicago. Unitas has completed 61.8 per cent of his passes and has the top average gain, 9.72 yards, and the most touchdown passes, 18.

TOP SCORER
Fred Cox, Minnesota's consistent place kicker, leads the scorers with 60 points on 13 field goals and 30 conversions. Jim Brown is right behind with 11 touchdowns and 60 points.

Warriors Top Detroit, Build League Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Warriors, a team forecasters said would manage to do little besides finish the season, are stretching their surprise lead in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

The Warriors pounded the Detroit Pistons 107-100 Tuesday night, boosting their mark to 7-4 and their lead to 1½ games over Los Angeles and St. Louis.

The rebounding of center Nate Thurmond was a big help to the Warriors, who are trying to rebound from last season's modest first loss record in NBA history.

Thurmond grabbed off 42 rebounds, breaking by two the Warrior mark of 40 set by Wilt Chamberlain a year ago, also against Detroit.

Player coach Dave DeBussche of Detroit led all scorers with 24 points. The Pistons led the entire first half, once by 54-39 in the second period while the Warriors went seven minutes without a field goal.

Albion Team Wins MIAA Harrier Title

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Defending champion Albion College, with Jim Dow placing first as he did last year, ran off Tuesday with the 31st annual MIAA cross-country meet.

It was held here at the Calvin College Knollcrest campus on the city's extreme southeast side.

Albion placed first with 27 points. Trailing were: Adrian, 49 points; Calvin, 90; Hope, 106; Olivet, 135; Alma, 143, and Kalamazoo College, 214.

Trailing Dow in order among top individuals to finish were Cal Osterhagen of Hope, Rex Curry of Albion and Tom Swihart of Adrian.

NO. 1 BACK, ANYWAY — Notre Dame's Bill Wolski (left) stands in front of campus statue of Moses along with teammate Nick Rassas after Wolski was named Back of the Week by The Associated Press. He tallied five touchdowns in Saturday's crushing of Pittsburgh. The Irish fans like to think Moses' pointing finger indicates that Notre Dame will become the No. 1 college football team.

Irish Halfback Garners Award

By The Associated Press
No wonder Notre Dame's Bill Wolski is favoring a sore leg in Irish football practice this week. He probably hurt it tripping over the Pitt goal line last Saturday.

Wolski was named back of the week Wednesday by The Associated Press for his five-touchdown burst in Notre Dame's 69-13 burial of the Panthers. The hard-driving senior halfback equalled a 42-year-old school point record in little more than two quarters as the Irish bolstered their No. 4 spot in the national ratings.

He scored successive Notre Dame touchdowns on smashes of 7, 4, 6, 2 and 1 yards before testing a pulled leg tendon early in the third period while Irish second-stringers completed the rout. The five tallies tied Red Maher's Notre Dame mark set in 1923 against Kalamazoo. Before Saturday, Wolski's best single-game performance was a three-touchdown effort against Stanford last season, during which he led the Irish in rushing, 657 yards and scoring, 11 touchdowns.

Blackout KO's Sports Program

By The Associated Press
A professional basketball game, harness racing programs at two tracks and a boxing show were among the sports events postponed or canceled Tuesday night because of the massive power failure in the Northeast.

The harness racing slate at Philadelphia Academy and Dwight School were preparing to take the court at Madison Square Garden for the preliminary game to the Knick-Hawks NBA contest when the lights failed. The Garden was almost deserted 1½ hours later when the NBA postponement was announced. No new date was immediately set.

The National Basketball Association game between New York and St. Louis in New York's Madison Square Garden, harness cards at Roosevelt Raceway and suburban Westbury, N.Y., and Suffolk Downs in Boston were called off as well as the boxing program at Sunnyside Gardens in New York.

St. Mary Squad Easily Outruns West Bloomfield

Orchard Lake St. Mary's cross-country team closed the 1965 season yesterday with a 19-40 victory over West Bloomfield.

At Sunnyside Gardens in Queens, where heavyweights James Woody and Louis Hicks were to have met in the featured eight rounder, the program was postponed until next Tuesday night. The promoters called off the card two hours after the blackout while weary office workers from Manhattan trudged past the arena after crossing the Queensborough Bridge on foot.

John Dziuba led the OLSM (6-4) team with a time of 9:54. With West Bloomfield's Dave Maun second at 9:59.

Braves Atlanta Move Jeopardized

Baseball Shudders at Court Ruling

By KEN HARTNETT

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Major League baseball faced the choice today of remaining in Milwaukee or risking an anti-trust suit in Wisconsin courts, a prospect that a baseball lawyer said "could lead to the ruin of the game as we know it."

The dilemma, which left Wisconsin and Milwaukee County in position to bargain to keep the Braves from shifting to Atlanta next season, developed Tuesday in U.S. District Court.

Judge Robert E. Tehan ruled that Wisconsin courts should decide the anti-trust suit filed by Wisconsin's attorney general.

Flagstick Penalty Changed by USGA

NEW YORK (UPI)—After Dec. 31, golfers in United States Golf Association tournaments will not be penalized for hitting the flag stick with shots taken within 20 yards of the hole but not on the green.

The USGA decided on the rule revision for its 1966 Rules of Golf booklet after careful study of methods of speeding up play in recent tournaments. Two other changes were also made.

In stroke play, a golfer will play continuously until he holes out unless his fellow competitor requests him to lift his ball out of the line of a putt.

In match play and stroke play, lifting the ball solely for cleaning will be allowed once per hole before the first stroke on the green. A player lifting his ball in accordance with the rules may incidentally clean it, however, without fear of a penalty.

College Ice League Unveils Playoff Plan

The suit also strikes at the authority of the commissioner of baseball and the sacrosanct reserve clause, which enables a baseball club to have complete control of its players as a property right.

Baseball's peculiar structure has never come under full-scale judicial review. At stake in the current court fight are millions of dollars — both in the sport's lucrative income and in what Milwaukee might lose economically if it becomes the first city in modern history of baseball to be left without a major league team.

While the Braves have already moved their offices to Atlanta and began selling season tickets there for 1966, the move cannot take effect legally until Dec. 31. An injunction issued in local courts last year forbids the ball club to leave Milwaukee until its contract with the county expires at the end of the year.

State attorneys will be battling in Wisconsin courts to win the new injunction by Dec. 31 to stymie the move.

The implications raised by the ruling go deeper than just the Braves' case.

Earl Jinkinson, Braves' attorney, acknowledged as much when he told Judge Tehan prior to his ruling that if Wisconsin could control the activities of baseball "it would lead to the ruin of the game as we know it."

Baseball fought to have the case heard in the federal courts. Jinkinson argued that the case should be heard together with a federal anti-trust suit filed against the league by Milwaukee County.

The suit maintains that the National League is so organized as to create a monopoly in the employment of players of major league quality, as well as in the scheduling and the broadcast of games.

Illness Slows Spartan End

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—One player will be missing through illness but no new injuries have cropped up to cramp Michigan State's bid for an outright Big Ten title against Indiana Saturday.

The Spartans, undefeated, top ranked and assured at least a tie in the Big Ten, need only this one to clinch the title and the Rose Bowl bid.

Tony Angel, second string offensive end from Utica, Mich., is laid low with mononucleosis and will miss the two remaining games of the regular season.

Bob Lange, a 185-pound, 6-6 end from Chicago, is running in his place.

Don Bierowicz, a senior defensive tackle from Chicago, is back in the lineup after missing the 35-0 blanking of Iowa. The first stringer, bothered by an ankle sprain, is still an uncertain starter for the game at East Lansing.

U-M Inspects Wildcat Plays

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan footballers ran through Northwestern offensive and defensive patterns Tuesday as they prepared for Saturday's game.

The Wolverines appeared in excellent physical condition except for a few bruises suffered against Illinois last Saturday. Tackle Paul Johnson is suffering from a charley horse, but is expected to be ready for Northwestern.

Deer Season Opens in U.P. Saturday

Press Derby Also Starts Same Day

The Upper Peninsula is expected to receive more opening day hunting pressure than ever before when the deer season gets under way above the Straits Saturday.

The annual Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest opens the same day with a $150 savings bond being awarded to the Oakland County resident who enters the heaviest buck.

Reason for the big increase in the number of hunters in the U. P. is that the season opens on Saturday, superhighways make it possible to reach the Mackinac Bridge in three-and-a-half hours from Detroit and the Lower Peninsula season doesn't open until Nov. 20.

This gives nimrods two opening days. U. P. opening day pressure is expected to be heaviest in the eastern half because it is much closer and most of the hunters won't leave until Friday.

However, the biggest racks and the best hunter success ratios again will be scored in Iron and Gogebic counties in the western half.

The Press contest is open only to county residents and the bucks must be taken during Michigan's firearms season and in this state.

A weight slip from a state approved scales showing the weight of the deer and signed by the hunter, weighmaster and one witness must be brought to The Press.

The deer must be field-dressed before weighing, and it must be viewed by a member of The Press staff.

DEADLINE SET

Entries will be accepted from 7 a.m. to 3 a.m. Monday through Saturday during the season. The deadline is noon, Dec. 6, one day after the regular season closes in the Lower Peninsula.

The U. P. season will end Nov. 28. Bear will be legal above the Straits but not in the Lower Peninsula.

Hunters may not see as many deer along the Lake Superior watershed.

Conservation Department reports indicate that the 1964-65 winterkill may have exceeded 20,000 deer, in this area. White-tails in the Southern half of the U. P. appeared to come through the winter all right.

The 1964 hunting pressure in all but Dickinson County averaged less than 10 per square mile in the U. P. Dickinson had 10-19. Less than 13 per cent filled their tags in the eastern U. P.

The average kill for the remainder was 13-19 per cent along Lake Superior to over 20 per cent in counties bordering Minnesota and Wisconsin.

There were 23,380 bucks taken in the U. P. last season and 14,610 antlerless white-tails. A record 575,000 hunters are expected to come close to taking 130,000 deer in both peninsulas. There were 228,000 antlerless deer permits issued for the 1965 season.

Checks and money orders for them should be made payable to the State of Michigan.

'Be Prepared, Boys... The Red Coats Are Coming Saturday'

Collared Whitetails Roam State

The Conservation Department is hoping to hear from deer hunters who shoot collared whitetails.

As the fact-finding key to a deer movement study in which nearly 1,000 whitetails have been marked during recent winters, state game men would now like to learn where these animals are taken, the band numbers on their collars and other information.

Best places for passing along these details are at the department's roadside deer checking stations where game biologists will have a first-hand chance to examine the specially marked animals.

The stations will be located at the Straits of Mackinac; south of Bay City on I-75; near

Alma on US-27 and White Cloud on M-37; and in Howard City on US-121.

Through the cooperation of hunters who bag collared deer, the department hopes to get a better idea of where deer from browsed-out yards spend their summer and fall, how far they travel, precisely where they winter and whether their movements follow a consistent pattern each year.

Hunters who hope to keep in touch with their families at home in case of emergencies should register their northern hunting addresses at the nearest field or district offices of the Conservation Department.

After signing in with the department, each hunter should contact his family, giving the phone number of the conservation office where he is registered.

Public Hearing on Lakes Work Set for Tonight

A legislation committee will conduct a public hearing in Pontiac tonight on inland lakes reclamation projects.

The meeting is scheduled for the supervisors room in Oakland County Service Center on Telegraph Road at 8 p.m. Rep. Joseph Snyder of St. Clair, chairman of the House conservation committee, will preside over the hearing.

Conservation Department geologists and water resources specialists will be at the meeting to explain work now under way and to answer questions.

No Tomorrow for Pheasant Hunters

There will be no tomorrow for pheasant hunters hoping to bag one of the prizes in this year's Pontiac Press Pheasant Contest. The season ends in Michigan today. The only thing allowed tomorrow will be entering any last minute ringnecks before noon. That's the contest deadline.

A 43-inch rooster leads in the competition for the $50 savings bond awarded to the longest entry. There will be a $25 bond for the second longest which is 41 1/4 inches going into the final day.

Grouse and woodcock go on the protected list in the northern two-thirds of the state today, but remain legal in Southern Michigan until Nov. 19.

Squirrel season closes today. Grouse hunting reopens in Southern Michigan Dec. 6-31.

Ducks are legal until Nov. 19 and geese until Nov. 30. Rabbit hunting will begin coming into its own as the weather gets colder and will remain open until March 1.

Michigan's first quail season since 1911 opens tomorrow for a five-day run. Oakland and Macomb are included in the 15 counties open to hunting bobwhites.

Best shooting will be in Lenawee and Monroe counties and on Harsens Island. The season ends Nov. 15.

Wild turkey hunters bagged about 60 birds in Allegan County last weekend. Conditions were ideal with most of the state's 400 permit holders on hand.

The unsuccessful are expected to return for next weekend's final two days.

Grouse hunting has improved in the Caro area with good shooting reported along the edge of woodlots bordering open fields. The bulk of the woodcock flights have passed through the state.

The weather has not been poor enough to push the late season mallard and black duck migration this far south. However, good results are being posted on redheads in Saginaw Bay.

Buffleheads are making up the bulk of the targets on northern Lake St. Clair mallard shooting is poor on the flats because most of the ducks are in Canada feasting on the leftovers from the corn harvest.

Deer Hunting Perils Abound

Police Issue Warning as Season Nears

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gunshot wounds, which caused 11 deaths and at least 48 injured last year, are not the only danger to hunters during the deer season, warns Col. Frederick Davids, state police commissioner.

The season will open this Saturday in the Upper Peninsula and a week from Saturday in Lower Michigan.

In addition, Davids said, 18 persons died from heart attacks during the past season, apparently mostly from over-exertion.

Another danger, the police commissioner said, is from carbon monoxide gas. A series of deaths occurred several years ago during the deer season from faulty gas heaters.

Car-deer accidents also are becoming more frequent and can result in injuries to motorists, Davids said.

Eye Proposals at Farm Parley

Resolution on Foreign Workers is Included

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Farm Bureau convention planned to begin consideration today of more than 100 proposed resolutions, including a call for legislation to allow use of foreign farm workers where needed.

A proposed resolution prepared by the bureau's Resolutions Committee says because of labor problems, "the Michigan pickle industry and the economy of the state suffered substantial damage."

It says, "the use of domestic workers and A-teams, although partially successful, was not adequate to replace the foreign workers that were employed during previous years."

Michigan farmers employed nearly 13,000 Mexican farm hands in 1964 to help with the pickling cucumber harvest.

But Congress banned use of foreign farm workers and U.S. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz, who had the power to make some exceptions, did not make any for Michigan.

In an address to the convention Tuesday, Elton Smith, president of the bureau, described Wirtz' attitude this way: "Since farmers are only a small segment of the population, they can be disregarded, and the economy can go along pretty well without them."

A number of the proposed resolutions deal with migrant labor. One proposes that housing be provided for and used only by seasonal workers be exempt from property taxes.

Another promises bureau cooperation "for the improvement of migrant health where conditions warrant."

In addition, one proposal calls for exploring any possibilities of obtaining government grants to assist farmers in building or remodeling migrant housing to meet newly established standards.

That proposal says: "The migrant labor problem is a problem of the entire society, due to unskilled labor, uneducated health habits, and low employer earnings, and is not entirely the problem of the employers."

Proposed resolutions also call for tax reform—with emphasis on easing farm property taxes—and for a U.S. Constitutional amendment to allow apportionment of one house of a legislature on a basis other than population.

Actress to Remain in Hospital Care

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actress Jill St. John remained in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital today for "tests and observation," a spokesman reported.

The 26-year-old beauty was admitted yesterday, but there was no further comment on her condition.

Laryngitis Victim

Meg Quiet at Filmland Party

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — What happens when Britain's princess meets Hollywood's royalty? Not much, when the party of the first part happens to have laryngitis.

THOMAS

His official welcome to Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon at Universal City. Some of the top names of the film world showed up for the luncheon. But the princess, alas, had lost her voice. It may have been due to a swinging affair at the bistro in Beverly Hills the night before. At any rate, she was virtually mute.

The situation was best illustrated by an encounter with Rock Hudson. Like many of the more notable figures at the luncheon, he had been invited to a reception prior to the luncheon.

Not a voluble chap under any circumstances, Hudson had been made aware that protocol dictated commoners do not speak to the princess until spoken to. After the introduction, he waited — and waited. After a 90-second period of silence, he grinned his famous grin and moved on.

SAME AT LUNCHEON

It was the same at the luncheon. Universal's Stage 12 had been converted into an English garden, with stately columns and bowers of yellow chrysanthemums against a backdrop of blue. Some of the well-polished names of Hollywood gathered around: Fred Astaire, Gene Kelly, Dana Wynter, Cyd Charisse, Lana Turner, Robert Stack, Jane Wyman, Gene Autry, etc.

At 1 p.m., the royal party entered the stage to the tune of "Pomp and Circumstance" as played by the band from Disneyland.

Princess Margaret, smiling but not speaking, stood at the upraised center table as the American and English anthems were played. Then she sat down, flanked by Maurice Chevalier on the right and James Stewart on the left. The ebullient, Emile, died Aug. 6, 1964.

Hear Charges of Ex-Student

EAST LANSING (AP)—A Michigan State University faculty committee listened Tuesday night to the case of a former student who says he was denied reentry because of his activities with a students' rights group.

A written opinion by the Faculty Committee on Student Affairs was not expected for several days, though. The hearing was closed to the public.

The student, Paul M. Schiff of New Rochelle, N. Y., filed suit earlier this fall in U.S. District Court at Grand Rapids, contending he was denied re-admission to MSU because he led a campus organization that frequently criticized the MSU administration and staged several demonstrations.

MSU filed a motion to dismiss the case.

DENY MOTIONS

The court decided Oct. 14 to deny both motions and told the two sides to make another attempt to resolve their differences. MSU then set the hearing for Schiff, a 23-year-old graduate student in history. In case the two sides fail to settle the issue, the court retained jurisdiction in the case.

Chancellor at Berkeley Outlines Plan

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The University of California—starting point of a recent demonstration action in Viet Nam—must take steps to assure good relations with surrounding communities, its chancellor contends.

In his first major policy statement since coming from the University of Michigan, Chancellor Roger W. Heyns told the faculty Monday such steps must guarantee that educational functions are not adversely affected by campus political activity.

"I do not believe the university must embrace those who deliberately and knowingly compromise it for personal political advantage," Dr. Heyns said.

The statement noted there are "organizations which, while nominally registered as student organizations, are in fact really controlled and run by non-students."

Dr. Heyns said that "content of speech is not of university concern."

"But surely," he added, "there is a principle of fair dealing with one's own university that legitimately applies to university employees and students."

Hungry Thieves Show Preference for Food

WARREN, Mich. (AP)—Thieves who broke into a local tavern were hungrier for food than they were for cash.

Blackout Delays Opening

Stock Mart Narrowly Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market opened in the Northeast section of the country may be expected to limit its transactions today on the part of many institutions and individuals.

Trading began at 11:05 a.m. EST, 65 minutes after the normal time, because of last night's blackout.

Brokers found encouragement in the fact that there has been a dwindling volume during the three previous sessions' decline.

Analysts believed that disruptions of normal business because of the power failure in the Northeast section of the country may be expected to limit its transactions today on the part of many institutions and individuals.

The Associated Press 8-stock average at noon was up 1.1 to 353.4 with industrials up 3.5.

Eastern Air Lines, which announced it is planning to sell 375,000 common shares to finance the acquisition of new planes, was delayed in opening because of an influx of orders.

When it did open, it was off 4 1/4 at 79 1/4, later paring the loss to 3 1/4.

Corporate and government bonds were mostly unchanged.

The Dow Jones industrials at noon were ahead 0.38 at 952.00.

Man Wasn't There to 'Enlighten' Them

MALDEN, Mass. (UPI)—The Malden City Council held a candlelight session last night and tabled a petition by the Massachusetts Electric Co. to install underground lines in the community.

The reason: no representatives of the company were able to make the meeting during the regionwide blackout.

GWCC Hears Carl O'Brien

Sen. Carl W. O'Brien, D-Pontiac, told Greater Waterford Community Council members last night that the State Legislature is taking steps to combat pollution, ramshackle buildings and police department manpower shortages.

O'Brien emphasized that people should lobby for measures which would improve their communities, according to a GWCC spokesman.

He added that legislators want to hear from the people.

Last night's meeting was held at Pierce Junior High School.

County Board Fails to OK Civil Service Merit System

A proposed merit system, or civil service program, for Oakland County employees failed to clear the County Board of Supervisors yesterday and was earmarked for further study and revision.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, will name a seven-member study committee to reappraise the merit system document and report back to the board.

Prepared by the County Board of Auditors, the merit system proposal would offer greater job protection for employees and would make the county eligible for additional matching funds.

As proposed to the board, the merit system concept would have been put into practice Jan. 1 even though formal adoption of a merit system ordinance would require a majority vote of the electorate.

William L. Mainland, supervisor from Millford Township, early in debate on the proposal called for its tabling for further study.

"I can't understand the sudden haste on this," Mainland said. "It smacks of a panic-type proposal."

Mainland added that he realized one of the reasons for the haste was to avoid the possibility of the county personnel program coming under a more strict state provision.

Prior to Mainland's plea for deferment, Edward Cheyz, supervisor from White Lake Township,

2 Youths Arrested in Station Robbery

Pontiac police arrested two youths this morning in connection with the $50 armed robbery of a 17-year-old service station attendant last night.

Held at the Oakland County Jail are Fred D. Dyer, 18, of 1117 Stanley, and Tommie L. Childers, 20, of 5531 Rowley, Waterford Township.

The attendant, Richard Williams of 97 Oresden, told police he was threatened with a knife and struck in the face by his assailants, one of whom Williams knew.

Williams said the two came into the Clark Service Station at 946 Oakland just before 10 p.m.

Nearly 600,000 apartments or houses were built in West Germany last year, a record. Since 1949 eight million dwellings have been completed.

Cite Children as Fire Cause

Children playing with matches were cited as the cause of a $600 fire which broke out last night in a frame house at 52 E. New York.

Capt. Stanley Luxon of the Pontiac Fire Department said the fire started in the upstairs closet of the home of John Johnson shortly before 6 p.m. Luxon said the children and Johnson got out of the house safely.

Three engines brought the blaze under control in about 90 minutes. Damage to the building was set at $500 and to contents at $100.

New Guinea patrols have found another lost tribe in the Sepik-River area. About 1,200 people living in hamlets in the 1949 eight million dwellings have been previously unknown to exist.

'Staying in Session' Draws Criticism

LANSING (AP)—Majority Democrats were criticized by Rep. Martin Butth, R-Comstock Park, Tuesday for failing to adopt final adjournment of the legislature.

"The partisan advantage gained by technically staying in regular session and thereby not allowing the governor to call a special session is far outweighed by the potentially serious consequences of not being able to act quickly in emergency situations," Butth said.

As an example, he said, the legislative apportionment commission has been reactivated by the State Supreme Court but is without funds to operate.

Last of Ziegfeld Girls in Theater's Last Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Sometimes I'm like just a starry-eyed shmo from Kokomo, still awe-struck by the razzle dazzle. Beautiful Connie Towers appeared me over too much brunch at La Potiniere that she's the last of the Ziegfeld Girls. She's rehearsing now for "Anyaa," the musical about Anastasia, but when the last curtain falls, Billy Rose supposedly will sell this famous cathedral of show business at 54th St. & 8th Ave. to skyscraper-builders who will thereby double his riches.

When Connie rehearses now under the direction of "Mr. Abbott" (whom nobody ever calls George) she's constantly conscious of that little window four or five stories aloft where Billy Rose, from his office, can always look down at the show. "Eve in an empty theater," she says, "you're always conscious of an audience." Billy's around there watching rehearsals and Connie says, "Gee, he's a nice man!"

My, My, My, the terrible gossip . . . about a Broadway star whose dear friends say he's tired of his show and is trying to kill it by fluffing it now . . . about the three or four stars who won't get well . . . about the famous wife who moved out and the young girl friend who moved in . . . about the famous lady-married Hollywood Top Drawer Married Star & Celebrity who just gave up his mistress—he turned her in for a new one.

Give credit to Alex Cohen, producer of the upcoming "The Devils." He got rid of the "balcony" in the Broadway Theater. He calls it the "rear mezzanine." It sounds closer.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Claudia Cardinale's been linked romantically with a rich European . . . but we hear she made some secret trips here to meet Anthony Quinn, 28, a Brooklyn-born but now Thompson St. actor who's on the TV soap opera, "Edge of Night," and soon to star in a film, "The Crazy Green of 2nd Avenue." Richard Rodgers took beautiful Anna Moffo to lunch and talked to her about playing the lead in his next musical about the 14th Century B.C. Egyptian Queen.

Hugh Downs, who injured his back during a Pacific boat trip, is at Harkness Pavilion, in traction, with a ruptured spinal disk . . . Laurence Harvey was told at a "King Rat" screening that the role was perfect for him. "The role may not be," he laughed, "but the title is."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Too many girls feel that when they marry a meal ticket they can stop dieting.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "All human wisdom is summed up in two words—wait and hope."—Alexander Dumas.

EARL'S PEARLS: Statistics show 60% of the country's wealth is in the hands of women; we figure they're letting men hold the other 40% because their handbags are full.

Results in Careless Errors

Student Can Overconcentrate

By Leslie J. Nason, Ed. D.

Why does a pupil who makes A's on spelling tests misspell those same words in writing?

Why does a pupil who demonstrates his knowledge of grammar on an English test fail to follow these same rules in his own compositions?

Why does a pupil who knows his number combinations make so many careless DR. NASON errors in the solving of problems?

While these conditions generally are considered a lack of transfer of learning from one situation to another, this is not necessarily so.

It is more a matter of crowding out the possibility of using the new learning in a different situation. The student's very concentration results in so-called careless errors.

Consider for example the good speller who misspells even simple words in his written work.

When this boy takes a spelling test, his attention is centered on spelling. When he is writing compositions, however, he is no longer primarily concerned with spelling, but his attention now centers on the ideas that he is conveying through written work.

He may well be a hard-working lad, intent upon doing a good job on the task at hand.

If he were less careful in his thinking about the subject matter, he would probably make fewer errors in spelling and grammar.

Formulating thoughts and placing them on paper is a complex operation for some young persons — and some adults, too.

Control of handwriting requires so much thought that the control of spelling and grammar are crowded even further into the background. If the pupil lacks skill in handwriting, it demands so much of his attention that the tendency toward careless errors is compounded.

Organization Meeting Held by Group Charged With Making Study of Solons' Pay

LANSING (AP)—A governor's AFL-CIO president, was named commission charged with making an objective study of legislative pay rates held its organization meeting Tuesday and promised a complete examination of the issue.

Trial Run Approval

LANSING (AP)—Chairman Peter Spivak of the Michigan Public Service Commission Tuesday announced approval of a 30-day trial run between Detroit and the Ford Motor Co. parts plant near Ypsilanti. Authorization went to Metropolitan Transit, he said.

The study commission was created by a Senate resolution after an effort to raise legislative salaries failed earlier this year.

Lawmakers now receive $10,000 a year plus $2,500 expenses. The House approved a $5,000 salary raise but the amendment to an appropriation bill died in a Senate committee.

TOTALLY OBJECTIVE

totally objective and independent study of the over-all question of legislative compensation."

Hall OK'd in Cadillac

CADILLAC (AP)—The City Building Authority was given a go-ahead by the City Commission Tuesday to plan for a convention hall. The hall would be financed by a $150,000 bond issue and matching federal funds.

acting Gov. William Milliken told the commission.

The first need, commission members agreed, is to gather complete background information on how much time legislators actually spend on their jobs, how much time they devote to outside interests and a comparison of pay rates and fringe benefits paid in other states.

"We should try to put the entire matter of legislative pay on a sound basis so it won't be a bone of contention," Pollock said.

"We should make the salary stimulating enough to attract top quality people." "The most important thing is to determine if it should be a full-time job," suggested Scholle. "Then we can go on from there on salary and expenses."

Henry Hogan Jr., Bloomfield

Hills attorney and former member of the House, said he found that only a few—about 25 full-time members do most of the work while most of the others just put in their time.

The commission agreed to hold its next meeting Dec. 9 after background information received from the Legislative Service Bureau. The commission will report its findings and recommendations to the governor and the 1968 legislative session.

Power Restored to Crippled East

State Financier, 15 Others Indicted for Alleged Fraud

DETROIT (AP) — Federal fraud indictments against financier and Democratic fund raiser Ben Levinson and others stirred Michigan political circles today. A federal grand jury, acting after a reported 3-year-old government investigation, indicted Levinson and 15 other men for alleged criminal conspiracy and fraud in government agency home loans.

The Veterans Administration and the Federal Housing Administration were alleged to have been victimized in connection with $4 million in loans. A minor portion, or $200,000, was attributed to Levinson and his mortgage company.

Seven real estate and mortgage companies, including Levinson's Franklin Mortgage Co., also were named defendants.

Thirteen persons, employees of the companies, were named co-conspirators though not defendants.

HOME LOANS
The government charged fraud in applications to the VA and FHA for home loans.

Levinson, 60, long known for Democratic fund raising and who has called himself a friend of presidents, was not available for immediate comment yesterday.

An employee at his Franklin Mortgage Co. office here said he was out of town.

On Levinson's office walls hang autographed pictures of Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Johnson. He has a distinguished record for raising money for the Democratic party over a period of many years. He has been honored for civic endeavors.

SOUGHT OFFICE
Once he unsuccessfully sought the post of Democratic national committeeman from Michigan.

The government said that while the figure involved in the alleged frauds totaled $4 million, the actual known losses were only $373,214.

Federal lawyers said the FHA and VA were given falsified credit statements in defendants' applications for loans for home buyers.

The indictment against Levinson said his company processed loan applications which were submitted in the name of the Wayne National Life Insurance Co.

Wayne National itself was not indicted but a former president, Edward P. Strang Jr. of Grosse Pointe Park, was named a defendant.

Mass Blackout Hits 30 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Lights flashed on in New York early today and transportation systems began to move, signaling the end to a massive and frightening power blackout that crippled the teeming Northeast.

After 10 hours of worried waiting, the lights came back on at 3:35 a.m. in the heart of Manhattan — one of the last areas affected by the nation's worst power failure.

New York's mammoth subway system staggered back into operation and commuter train service was slowly restored.

The city remained crippled because hundreds of thousands of persons could not get to work.

Coming on with alarming suddenness during last evening's rush hour, the blackout at its peak enveloped 80,000 square miles, affecting up to 30 million persons in eight states, scrambled transportation and communications and stranded hundreds of thousands in stalled subway cars and elevators.

Through the night, the Texas White House reported progress of experts trying to pinpoint the trouble that drained electric power from New York, Boston and hundreds of smaller cities, towns and hamlets.

Reports were contradictory although President Johnson was advised the experts were "pretty well agreed" no sabotage was involved and the Pentagon said military communications and the Washington-Moscow hotline were not hampered.

Rising Mercury, Falling Rain Due in Area Tonight

Cloudy and warmer with a little light rain likely is the weatherman's prediction for tonight. Lows will fall to 34 to 38. Showers are expected to end sometime tomorrow morning with partial clearing late in the day. Temperatures will climb into the 40s.

Friday will be cloudy and a little cooler with a chance of light rain. A chilly 26 was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury reading at 1 p.m. was 42.

Power Failure Delays Stock Market Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York and American stock exchanges delayed their normal 10 a.m. (EST) opening of trading today because power had not been fully restored.

Because of the delay, The Press will carry yesterday's noon prices on the market page for the first edition.

LBJ Heard News Over Car Radio

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — At first word of the great Northeast power disaster, President Johnson began to ask questions and issue orders.

Johnson was driving north of his ranch home near here when he got the first inkling of trouble on a news broadcast over his car radio. Hustling to the ranch house, he phoned the White House in Washington.

The first person he talked to — special assistant Joseph A. Califano Jr. — had no word of the mystery blackout. But Califano found out in a hurry and remained on duty long into the morning hours — acting as a link between Johnson and the disaster.

Within minutes, White House press secretary Bill D. Moyers assembled newsmen at the press center in Austin, 65 miles east of here, and began what probably was a record-breaking news briefing for any presidential press aide. It went through the long evening hours, and into the morning today.

Alternately clenching a cigar between his teeth and using it as a stabbing pointer as he gestured, Moyers said first that Johnson had got the word on his car radio and had hustled to the ranch headquarters to place calls to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Director of Emergency Planning, and California.

UTMOST HELP
All, he said, were instructed to offer the utmost federal assistance to all officials of the areas concerned.

Later, Moyers said Ellington had told the President he had word from utility people that power would be restored throughout the Northeast in 2 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Question of Heart Attack 'Unanswered'

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors reported today he has had a mild attack of angina pectoris, or coronary insufficiency. They said he might be well again in two weeks.

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower questioned his doctors about his blood pressure this morning but the question of whether the five-star general suffered a heart attack remained unanswered.

The doctors assured Eisenhower, 75, that his blood pressure was stable at 145.

The general awoke at about 4 a.m. during his second night in the Ft. Gordon Army Hospital where he was taken Monday night suffering from chest pains.

He told doctors he was hungry and asked for something to eat, just as he had done after a nap yesterday.

The doctors told Eisenhower he would have to wait until blood tests and a cardiogram had been completed.

Last Week's U.S. Toll Is High for Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American casualties in the first week of November were the highest so far in the Viet Nam war — 70 killed and 237 wounded, a U.S. spokesman reported today.

Most of the Americans were killed in actions around the Special Forces camp at Plei Me, in the central highlands. The week before there were 42 American dead.

The figures released today did not include the major battle Monday in the D Zone north of Saigon between U.S. paratroopers and Communist troops.

The casualties brought the total number of Americans killed in action in Viet Nam to 333, according to unofficial tabulation. A total of 4,801 have been wounded and 92 are missing.

Twenty Americans are known to be detained by the Viet Cong. 144 VIETNAMESE

Vietnamese killed during the first week of November totaled 144, twice as many as the Americans killed. Two months ago one American was dying to every four Vietnamese.

Viet Cong dead were estimated at 528, giving allied forces a 2.5-to-1 kill ratio in their favor.

Two Americans were captured during the week.

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hammered targets in North and South Viet Nam as ground action lessened.

Air Force B52s pounded D Zone for the second successive day, striking a suspected Viet Cong target about 35 miles northeast of Saigon.

Pontiac OKs Funds for Poverty Center

Pontiac joined the antipoverty war last night as city commissioners voted 4-3 to contribute city funds to lease downtown office space for a projected community action center.

The second floor of the building located on the southwest corner of Lawrence and Saginaw will house the action center, one of two proposed for Oakland County.

The city will pay the $4,800 to lease the office space for six months.

Voting for the city's participation in the antipoverty effort were Commissioners Wesley J. Wood, John A. Dugan, T. Warren Fowler and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

Voting against last night's action were Commissioners Robert C. Irwin, Leslie H. Hudson and James H. Marshall, all opposing the action because they wanted more time to study the proposal.

An earlier motion to table the issue for two weeks lost by an identical 4-3 vote.

Irwin offered the tabling motion. He thought there was some doubt on the part of the commission about the antipoverty (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Officials Grope for Answers

Military Questions Draw Prime Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Struck with a kind of crisis it's never known before, the federal government groped today for answers to a mounting array of questions.

Foremost: how did it happen, this terrifying blackout that gripped the busiest corner of the United States for most of a night?

And then, immediately: what can be done so that it may never happen again, this sudden stripping away of electric power — the lifeblood of 20th century America?

And overshadowing all of the immediate questions, the chilling military one: could one man or group of men, secret agents of an enemy power, secretly throw the switches and cut the lines and smash the machinery to paralyze the nation, setting it up for a devastating thermonuclear attack?

The administration's reaction was swift and emphatic. President Johnson ordered an all-out investigation of the power failure and picked chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission to direct it.

IMPLICATIONS

But the national security implications of the disaster became clear when the President ordered the Federal Bureau of Investigation to take part in the probe. FBI agents were ordered to walk with power crews along the lines between Niagara Falls and Syracuse, N.Y., to seek the source of the blackout.

Nine Governors Return From Viet Nam Tour; Predict War Will Be Long

HONOLULU (AP)—Nine U.S. governors returned Tuesday from a tour of South Viet Nam believing the war will be "one of some years duration."

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine, spokesman for his colleagues, said he and the other governors were "most impressed with efforts of the South Vietnamese people."

But he said he and the other state officials believe the war would last "some years."

With Reed on the three-week tour to the Far East, including Japan, were Govs. George Romney of Michigan, Henry Bellmon of Oklahoma, Clifford P. Hansen of Wyoming, John A. Burns of Hawaii, Jim M. Babbitt of Montana, Carl E. Sanjose of Georgia, John Chaffee of Vermont and Harold E. Hughes of Iowa.

Hoff left South Viet Nam to impose tyrannical through terror," he said. "It must be defeated."

Romney told reporters a war would "likely get worse before it gets better. War is terrible, but worse than war is the effort to impose tyrannical through terror," he said. "It must be defeated."

ARTY EYE — The latest gimmick in pop art, decorating pretty girls, may not be for the ages but it's at least eye-catching. Danish actress Anne Nielsen picked up a third eye in this effort by artist Novella Parigini.

'Eye Disease Fight Stalled'

Science Service
ARLINGTON, Va. — When you drop a dime or a quarter into a blind man's tin cup, or buy a pencil from a blind woman sitting on a sidewalk corner singing a plaintive song, don't pat yourself on the back very hard.

This is literally a drop in the bucket. It is like the charity basket at Thanksgiving or Christmas, or at best, the braille lessons that must be learned after blindness occurs.

Speakers at a science writers' seminar here include many grantees from the National Institute for Neurological Diseases and Blindness, Bethesda, Md., and members of the institute's advisory committee on grants.

The "current science explosion," which includes research on numerous diseases and subjects, has left eye diseases trailing, the meeting was told.

Dr. Jules C. Stein, board chairman of Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc. (RPB), pointed out that "only about $10 million — approximately the cost of the one Agena rocket that was lost in the Atlantic Ocean two weeks ago — is being spent "in the attempt to find causes, preventives and controls for diseases that destroy sight."

FEARED DISEASE
Reporting highlights of a recent Gallup poll showing that, next to cancer, the affliction most feared by the American people is blindness.

Dr. Stein said almost 90 million Americans have some kind of eye trouble, and in 3.5 million the trouble is serious.

The poll revealed that the public is badly confused, misinformed about sight and the diseases that threaten it.

Dr. Stein is himself a former practicing ophthalmologist. He and other public-spirited citizens founded RPB in 1960.

RPB has been a key factor in the construction of modern eye research centers at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and at the University of California, Los Angeles.

It also makes annual unrestricted eye research grants to 26 institutions in the United States.

Police, Suspect Wage Gun Battle Near Brighton

BRIGHTON (AP) — A State Police officer and the man he was attempting to arrest were shot today in a gun battle at a gas station about five miles north of here.

Trooper Paul Palmer was shot in the arm when he and his partner, Trooper Edward Hancock, exchanged shots with an attendant at the gas station, whose name was not immediately known.

Officers at the Brighton State Police Post said Palmer and Hancock had gone to the gas station to arrest the attendant for several traffic violations. The extent of the other man's wounds were not immediately known.

Where are all you loyal football fans who clamor for good football, winning football, title teams and good caliber ball clubs?

We'll find out this weekend right out at Wisner Stadium with two interesting games on tap Friday night and Saturday night.

It might be a little late, in these the final weeks of the season to come up with a pep talk and challenge all the loyal football fans whom we've heard say year after year, "Let's have good football and we'll support it."

Friday night, Pontiac Central, one of the top ranked teams in the state all season long and the top contender in the Saginaw Valley Conference, faces Michigan's No. 1 schoolboy team, Bay City Central.

We will venture to say that Bay City, which has already disposed of 2,500 tickets, will come down here with greater numbers than the fans who will be there right from this city.

There is interest in this game all over the state. Writers from various cities have indicated they will be present to staff the game for their respective newspapers.

This current Pontiac Central team is the finest we've ever seen. They hustle, they work hard and despite the frightening Bay City offense which has mauled the opposition for more than 30 points a game, coach Paul Deliberio and the Chiefs are more than capable holding their own.

Bay City Central is tough and deserving of its No. 1 rating, but the Chiefs deserved better crowd support than they have received for the position they have held all season.

If 8,000 fans don't fill Wisner Friday night in what is Pontiac Central's biggest game in history, you alumni, students, residents, football fans ought to hide your heads before ever making another remark about the kind of football you want to see.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Another brand of football will take place Saturday night at Wisner.

The Pontiac Arrows, whose players are out of the amateur realm, will be playing the All-Star team of the Midwest Football League.

The Arrows don't expect to play to full stadiums, but the brand of football they have delivered against teams from Lansing, Dayton and Flint has been interesting.

In fact there have been very few fans who have passed on their comments to us who didn't finish their analysis of this brand of football with saying, "Gee, I really enjoyed that game."

After Saturday's game don't be surprised to see Arrow's quarterback Karl Sweetan back in a Lions' uniform as part of the taxi squad at Tiger Stadium next week.

And don't even be surprised if Sweetan is recalled back into active roster before the season is out if the Lions' offense doesn't start perking a little better.

There are "red-shirted" players from NFL and AFL teams playing this level of football all around the country and cities who are fortunate to have such teams should try to give them enough game support to help their existence.

Spectator activities as such are good for any community and the men of Pontiac Football Company have indicated they were very appreciative of the response toward the Arrows.

This is a climactical weekend for local football. It will be a good test for those claiming to be fans of good football.

Nation's No. 1 Foe

Battered Indiana Awaits

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Walters is an elusive runner. Indiana, the last stumbling block on Michigan State's path against Iowa.

Backing up Stavroff at quarterback will be sophomore Dave Kornowa, a defensive halfback.

The Hoosiers, 2-6 for the season and 1-4 in the Big Ten, will have to take the undefeated Spartans with a patched-up offense and a defense rattled by that patching process.

Probable backfield starters along with Stavroff and Walters will be sophomore Terry Cole at fullback.

New Coach John Pont started Ginter, both out for the season with injuries. Substitute left halfback Terry also is listed as his bruised traveling squad the doubtful, having sprained an ankle at Ohio State last week.

Frank Stavroff, who regained the quarterback job when Toffi was injured in the Iowa game Oct. 30, sparked the team to victory over the Hawkeyes but was on-and-off against Ohio State.

ELUSIVE RUNNER
Ginter's loss and Terry's doubtful status have necessitated the return of Trent Walters from defense to offense.

San Antonio Selected for '68 PGA Tourney

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—John D. MacArthur, who donated the land for the PGA national headquarters, announced Tuesday night the 1968 PGA championship would be played at San Antonio, Texas.

MacArthur, the millionaire developer of Palm Beach Gardens, also announced the 1969 PGA tourney would be played in Florida.

Astronauts in Race

SALTON CITY, Calif. (UPI)—Astronauts Gordon Cooper and Virgil (Gus) Grissom are among 100 persons entered for the Salton City 500-mile powerboat race Nov. 12-14. The field also includes Rudy Ramos, Parnell Jones, Mickey Thompson and Mike Wallace.

CAPTAINS' FINALE—Waterford Kettering co-captains Steve Allen (64) and Ken McLean will play their final game Friday night. The opponent will be arch-rival Township and a winning record will be at stake for the Captains. Kettering is 3-3-2 while Waterford has a 2-6 record.

Determined Bay City After Lost Prestige

Miss Jones Atop Champion

Rides Ksarina to Jumper Win

Bloomfield Hills Girl at Washington Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—A young horsewoman from Bloomfield Hills—18-year-old Crystine Jones—has won another major championship.

Miss Jones, a big winner at the National Horse Show in New York last week, won in the green jumper division of the Washington International Horse Show Tuesday.

The 8-year-old gray mare Ksarina of the U.S. Equestrian Team was Miss Jones' mount.

Ksarina performed over 12 jumps in the $500 windy stake. Miss Jones, a trainee on the U.S. team at Gladstone, N.J., since August, won the MacLay Cup and the Hunter Seat medal for good horsemanship at last week's show in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Ksarina and another U.S. team horse, Reno Pal, ridden by Carol Hofmann, North Branch, N.J., actually tied, with one fault each.

The riders elected to give the win to Ksarina, which made more than enough points — 16 — to take the division championship.

Four Seasons, a 5-year-old chestnut gelding which placed third in the stake, won reserve championship for its owner, Peter Tree Farm, Glen Head, N.Y., with a six-day show point total of 112.

The rider was George Morris, Glen Head, a former member of the U.S. team.

Broncos' Booter No 'Barefoot Boy'

LIVINGSTON, who already has seven field goals to his credit this season, didn't play football while attending Plymouth High School and at first didn't give a thought to trying varsity ball in college.

"I guess kicking was just a hobby with him," said WMU coach Bill Doolittle, who met Livingston after the junior kicking specialist won a kicking contest while playing intramural football last fall.

SAW COACH

Somebody suggested he should try out for the varsity and he went to Doolittle.

"We didn't need a kicking specialist at the time," Doolittle said. "We had a punter and a placekicker returning for the 1965 season, but I told Livingston he could train with the team in the spring."

Three weeks ago, Livingston kicked the field goal that earned the Broncos a 10-10 tie against Kent State. Two weeks ago, his 17-yard boot gave WMU a 3-0 victory over Toledo.

Last weekend, he booted a 38-yard field goal that started the Broncos toward a 17-6 victory over Ohio University.

LONGEST KICK

Livingston's longest field goal so far is 45 yards and he is the Mid-American Conference's 5th leading scorer with 21 points—seven field goals and three extra points.

Besides his field goal record, Livingston has a 38-yard punting average and has boomed one kick 60 yards.

At Least Manpower Equal in This Tilt

SNOOK, Tex. (UPI)—The Snook Jaybirds smashed Rock Island last night, 116-29, but it was not just the score that was unusual.

By the fourth quarter, Rock Island had fouled out five of the seven members of its basketball team and had only two left to carry on the struggle.

The game ended with only four men — two from each team — on the court.

Baseball Exec Fined

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—Charles A. Comiskey, 40, former owner of the Chicago White Sox, was fined $500 Tuesday after pleading guilty to a reckless driving charge.

State Elevens Enjoy Success

13 Colleges Could End .500 or Better

By The Associated Press
All but four of Michigan's 17 college football teams have a chance to finish at the .500 mark or better as the season heads into its final two weeks.

Top-ranked Michigan State, Michigan and Northern Michigan are the only state schools with games remaining after this Saturday. Each closes out the regular season next week.

After 10 victories in 14 meetings with out-of-state opponents last weekend, the state schools have a 76-66-3 overall record and are 46-35-3 against teams across the state line.

Michigan State, at 8-0, is the only unbeaten team. Northern is 7-1 while Albion and Michigan Tech are 6-2. The latter has completed its season, along with Hope (4-4) and Adrian (1-7).

BREAK EVEN

Eleven schools are at the break-even point while rejuvenated Central Michigan and Northwood can make it with season-ending triumphs.

Clint Jones of Michigan State, with four touchdowns against Iowa, moved into the lead in the individual scoring race. He has 68 points on 11 touchdowns and two extra points.

Missed Fatal Flight

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Art Heyman, Cincinnati Royals basketball player, had made reservations for flight 383, but canceled at the last moment and was not aboard the plane that crashed near here Monday night.

Wolpack, PCH After Saginaw Valley Title

A very determined—though worried and perhaps a bit scared Bay City Central football team will visit Pontiac Central at Wisner Stadium Friday night.

Any help coach Elmer Engle needed to ready the Wolves mentally for the Saginaw Valley Conference title showdown with PCH he received from the state sportswriters Tuesday.

BC Central, rated No. 1 among the state class A powers by the prep coaches on the United Press International weekly poll, was dropped down to second place by the Associated Press poll of scribes.

Leading all season, the Wolves relinquished that top spot to Battle Creek Central after that team ran up 60 points in routing Kalamazoo Central last week.

Bay City will be out to post a similar pasting of the host Chiefs this week and regain the lost AP prestige.

The Wolpack has already posted the fourth best total offense figure in Engle's 16 seasons. It is expected to become No. 3 on the list after the PCH contest since its 3,135 yards at present are only about 60 shy of reaching that plateau.

A six-player ground game has run up most of the total. Fullback Lon Miller is the top runner with 678 yards on 89 tries. He also is the top scorer among SVC gridgers with 13 touchdowns and four conversions for 82 points.

OTHER TOTALS
Halfbacks Ron Auman and John Osborne have 465 and 450 yards, respectively, while quarterback Tom Kennell is averaging better than four yards a carry on 33 runs. All are seniors.

Defensive halfbacks Mike Smith and Walt Gruber, both juniors, are the fastest backs and they have seen extensive duty on offense recently. At 6-1 and 185 pounds, Smith is the biggest back and is averaging better than 10 yards on 25 carries.

Kennell has thrown 75 times and connected on 49 for 917 passing yards. He has five interceptions against him, but a 64 per cent completion rate.

Big end Dennis Wirgowski, a 6-5 two-way terror and one of the best graders in the school's history, has 31 receptions for 682 yards, six touchdowns and five PATs.

A caravan of at least six buses of students (and possibly twice that many) will follow the team here; and a considerable number of parents is also anticipated on the Bay City side of Wisner Stadium at game time.

Lions Acquire Defensive Back

DETROIT—The Detroit Lions acquired defensive back Bobby Smith from the Los Angeles Rams Tuesday, and asked waivers on defensive back Jimmy Hill.

Smith, 27, and a four-year veteran with the Rams was obtained on waivers.

He will serve as a backup man in the defensive backfield and also will be used on kickoffs and punt returns, the Lions said.

Hill, 35, obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals last July, has played 11 years in the NFL.

Tackle Roger Brown of the Lions has been named the National Football League's lineman of the week for his defensive play in Detroit's 12-7 victory over the Green Bay Packers last Sunday.

Deer Season Opens in U.P. Saturday

Press Derby Also Starts Same Day

The Upper Peninsula is expected to receive more opening day hunting pressure than ever before when the deer season gets under way above the Straits Saturday.

The annual Pontiac Press Big Deer Contest opens the same day with a $150 savings bond being awarded to the Oakland County resident who enters the heaviest buck.

Reason for the big increase in the number of hunters in the U.P. is that the season opens on Saturday, superhighways make it possible to reach the Mackinac Bridge in three-and-a-half hours from Detroit and the Lower Peninsula season doesn't open until Nov. 20.

This gives nimrods two opening days. U.P. opening day pressure is expected to be heaviest in the eastern half because it is much closer and most of the hunters won't leave until Friday.

However, the biggest racks and the best hunter success ratios again will be scored in Iron and Gogebic counties in the western half.

The Press contest is open only to county residents and the bucks must be taken during Michigan's firearms season and in this state.

A weight slip from a state approved scales showing the weight of the deer and signed by the hunter, weighmaster and one witness must be brought to The Press.

The deer must be field-dressed before weighing, and it must be viewed by a member of The Press staff.

Entries will be accepted from 7 a.m. to 3 a.m. Monday through Saturday during the season. The deadline is noon, Dec. 6, one day after the regular season closes in the Lower Peninsula.

The U.P. season will end Nov. 28. Bear will be legal above the Straits but not in the Lower Peninsula.

Hunters may not see as many deer along the Lake Superior watershed.

Conservation Department reports indicate that the 1964-65 winterkill may have exceeded 30,000 deer, in this area. White-tails in the Southern half of the U.P. appeared to come through the winter all right.

The 1964 hunting pressure is all but Dickinson County averaged less than 10 per square mile in the U.P. Dickinson had 10-19. Less than 13 per cent filled their tags in the eastern U.P.

The average kill for the remainder was 13-19 per cent along Lake Superior to over 20 per cent in counties bordering Minnesota and Wisconsin.

There were 23,380 bucks taken in the U.P. last season and 14,010 antlerless whitetails.

A record 575,000 hunters are expected to come close to taking 130,000 deer in both peninsulas. There were 228,000 antlerless deer permits issued for the 1965 season.

No Tomorrow for Pheasant Hunters

There will be no tomorrow for pheasant hunters hoping to bag one of the prizes in this year's Pontiac Press Pheasant Contest. The season ends in Michigan today. The only thing allowed tomorrow will be entering any last minute ringnecks before noon. That's the contest deadline.

A 43-inch rooster leads in the competition for the $50 savings bond awarded to the longest entry. There will be a $25 bond for the second longest which is 31 1/4 inches going into the final day.

Grouse and woodcock go on the protected list in the north-east two-thirds of the state today, but remain legal in Southern Michigan until Nov. 19.

Squirrel season closes today. Grouse hunting reopens in Southern Michigan Dec. 6-31. Ducks are legal until Nov. 19 and geese until Nov. 30. Rabbit hunting will begin coming into its own as the weather gets colder and will remain open until March 1.

Michigan's first quail season since 1911 opens tomorrow for a five-day run. Oakland and Macomb are included in the 15 counties open to hunting bobwhites.

Best shooting will be in Lenawee and Monroe counties, and on Harsens Island. The season ends Nov. 15.

Deer Hunting Perils Abound

Police Issue Warning as Season Nears

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gunshot wounds, which caused 11 deaths and at least 48 injured last year, are not the only danger to hunters during the deer season, warns Col. Frederick Davids, state police commissioner.

The season will open this Saturday in the Upper Peninsula and a week from Saturday in Lower Michigan.

In addition, Davids said, 18 persons died from heart attacks during the past season, apparently mostly from over-exertion.

Another danger, the police commissioner said, is from carbon monoxide gas. A series of deaths occurred several years ago during the deer season from faulty gas heaters.

Car-deer accidents also are becoming more frequent and can result in injuries to motorists, Davids said.

Collared Whitetails Roam State

The Conservation Department is hoping to hear from deer hunters who shoot collared whitetails.

As the fact-finding key to a deer movement study in which nearly 1,000 whitetails have been marked during recent winters, state game men would now like to learn where these animals are taken, the band numbers on their collars and other information.

Best places for passing along these details are at the department's roadside deer checking stations where game biologists will have a first-hand chance to examine the specially marked animals.

The stations will be located at the Straits of Mackinac; south of Bay City on I-75; near

Alma on US-27 and White Cloud on M-37; and in Howard City on US-131.

Through the cooperation of hunters who bag collared deer, the department hopes to get a better idea of where deer from browsed-out yards sped their summer and fall, how far they travel, precisely where they winter and whether their movements follow a consistent pattern each year.

Hunters who hope to keep in touch with their families at home in case of emergencies should register their northern hunting addresses at the nearest field or district offices of the Conservation Department.

After signing in with the department, each hunter should contact his family, giving the phone number of the conservation office where he is registered.
