Small Boy Inspires Prayer for Nation Seeking Help

By CONRAD HILTON
President, Hilton Hotels

Early Thursday morning on Feb. 5, 1953 a car pulled away from the White House and the President of the United States directed the driver—to go to a prayer meeting.

Conrad Hilton

I was on hand to see President Eisenhower, justices of the Supreme Court, senators, congressmen, bow their heads together in prayer at that breakfast. I saw protocol swept aside and Vice President Nixon, the late Chief Justice Vinson, diplomats, drop into any empty seat among the 500 guests.

To be host to such a gathering was a great honor for me. To see the enlarged picture of Uncle Sam dominate the Mayflower Hotel ballroom, to hear that room hushed in prayer—it all seemed like a miracle.

Sitting there, I thought back to the day, two years ago, when a letter came to my office, a small envelope nearly lost in a stack of mail. Yet of all the letters that arrived that day this small unassuming note about a speech I had made was the most important:

"Dear Mr. Hilton:

I have read your talk in the Herald Tribune, and I think it was wonderful. Especially that our faith in God was our only hope. You are very right and I think if everyone would fall down and pray we would have a real peace. Sincerely yours, Daniel Paolucci.

"P. S. I am a boy of 12. May I please have an answer?"

If young Daniel knew what it did to the heart of a man to find that a few of what he often feels are many repetitious words have fallen on listening ears, he would understand how grateful I was.

Automatically, I did the conventional thing. I wrote Daniel a grateful reply, enclosing a copy of the address he had liked. But I couldn't shake off his P. S.: "May I please have an answer?"

I reread the clipping in the Herald Tribune: ". . . in our struggle for freedom our greatest weapon will be our love of, and our faith in God." It dawned on me that something was lacking in that speech. Something that had been in Daniel's letter. Funny that I, who have

House to Give Speedy OK to Slashed Excise Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speedy and overwhelming House approval was forecast today for a bill to cut a wide range of excise or sales taxes almost one billion dollars.

But the bill, okayed by the Ways and Means Committee over opposition by the Eisenhower administration, threatened to set off a storm in the Senate over another issue.

Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he might move to tack onto the excise tax measure—when it hits the Senate—his controversial proposal to increase individual income tax exemptions and thus lower taxes, particularly for low income families.

The administration argued that the government cannot afford now such broad and sweeping revenue reductions as are provided in the bill to cut to 10 per cent all excise taxes now above that level, except for liquor and tobacco.

The changes would be effective April 1. They would cut taxes on

Ousts Employe of Conservation

Director Suspends Five Other Upper Peninsula Men, Exonerates One

LANSING (AP)—Conservation director G. E. Eddy today fired one Upper Peninsula employe, suspended five from 15 to 90 days and exonerated one.

Discharged was Chester W. Bonney, 22-year veteran in the department who had charge of the district office at Baraga.

Bernard A. Stephansky of Marquette, law enforcement supervisor for the Upper Peninsula, was suspended for 90 days.

John A. Angulm of Marquette, assistant law enforcement supervisor in the Peninsula, was suspended for 30 days.

Judge Donald E. Holbrook, who conducted a one-man grand jury in Luce County, handed down findings last month that he said justified the removal of the seven on charges including timber dealings "on the side."

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—The body of a 25-year-old German woman, Bavaria's sixth Alpine avalanche victim since Sunday, was recovered today.

Police Recover Long Gone Car; Owner Unhappy

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Police have finally found Myron Popham's stolen car, but Popham isn't very elated about it.

When officers notified him yesterday that the auto was recovered in San Diego, Popham said his insurance company had long since reimbursed him in full—$3,600. He added:

Bill to Help Cities Buy Voting Machines

LANSING (AP) — A bill to permit municipalities to issue low-interest notes to buy voting machines was passed Wednesday in the House. The bill, sponsors said, will permit all municipalities to purchase machines and pay for them out of the savings of reduced election costs. The bill was requested by Detroit but would apply to all cities.

Bentley Spends Uneasy Night

Wounded Congressman Disturbed by Hiccoughs, Doctor Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Charles M. Bentley (R-Mich), most gravely wounded of five congressmen felled in a wild pistol fusillade at the Capitol Monday, "did not rest quite as well last night as the previous night," a hospital bulletin said early today.

But Dr. Joseph R. Young, chief of staff at Casualty Hospital who made the announcement, added that his condition "remains essentially unchanged."

The physician reported that hiccoughs interfered with Bentley's rest.

He said temperature, pulse rate and blood pressure remained at a satisfactory level and the patient's breathing was easier. He added that Bentley's morale remained excellent and expressed hope for further improvement during the day.

The 35-year-old representative was shot through a lung, the stomach and liver when four fanatic Puerto Rican Nationalists opened fire from the visitors' gallery. He was removed from the hospital's critical list Wednesday but Dr. Young emphasized at that time that he was still in danger.

Two of the other shooting victims, in the same hospital, continued to show satisfactory progress, the doctor reported.

He said the plan is to permit Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md) to go home to Baltimore either today or Friday. Fallon was shot in the hip.

Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala), the third congressional patient at Casualty, was expected to stay about another week.

Back President in His Demand for Fair Probes

Senator Issues Blast in Reply; Hall Denies Split in GOP Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House reported today that President Eisenhower has received "hundreds" of telegrams praising his call for "fair play" in congressional investigations—a call widely accepted as a rebuke to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen he had no exact count but the total was "in the hundreds" and they ran 9 to 1 in praise of the President.

McCarthy, soon after rejecting presidential criticism in a crackling statement of his own, said in an interview yesterday, "I have no fight with Eisenhower at all . . . I hope the issuing of statements back and forth will drop here."

Also in the aftermath of the Eisenhower-McCarthy exchange:

1. There were signs the White House is seeking to strengthen its ties with other Republicans on McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) was invited in for breakfast with Eisenhower and Sen. Mundt (R-SD) was a caller later in the day.

2. In a New York speech, Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall ridiculed talk of a breach in the GOP. He said it was "nonsense" to assert that personality clashes have the Republicans "split irrevocably"—an idea he said the Democrats seek to foster.

Eisenhower, without naming McCarthy in a long statement clearly aimed at him, spoke out yesterday against "disregard of fair play." McCarthy fired back that the President and he "apparently disagree only on how we should handle those who protect Communists."

Hall, who had anticipated the President in publicly taking issue with McCarthy's investigative methods, said in a speech prepared for a New York lunch-

Ferguson Sponsors Highway Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UP) — Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich) planned to introduce a bill today to provide $2,208,000,000 a year in federal funds for highways for the two fiscal years beginning July 1, 1955.

The measure would provide $2,125,000,000 a year for the federal-$575,000,000 under present law, $575,000,000 under presnt law.

It carries a provision to spend $100,000,000 a year on "defense highways." Ferguson said these could be used in everyday development of cities and would be vital for evacuation of and bringing help to cities in case of a bombing attack.

Army Doctor Balks at Quiz

Soldier Tells McCarthy He's Responsible to Ike, Not Subcommittee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) carried his search for Army Communists today into a public hearing at which an Army doctor refused to tell whether he is or was a Red.

The doctor, Pfc. Marvin S. Belsky, said he has been denied an officer's commission. He refused to tell McCarthy's Senate Investigations subcommittee whether he believes this was because, as McCarthy expressed it, he was "a member of the Communist conspiracy."

Belsky challenged the subcommittee's right to ask him any questions.

"I am a soldier under the jurisdiction only of the President of the United States as commander-in-chief," Belsky said. "This committee has no jurisdiction over me."

Rejecting that argument, McCarthy said President Eisenhower at a news conference yesterday had stated that all Army and government witnesses should "willingly and cheerfully give testimony" so long as it did not endanger security.

Belsky is assigned to the Army's Murphy General Hospital at Waltham, Mass.

McCarthy had originally planned to question Belsky only at a closed door hearing. He had said the public session witnesses would be quizzed concerning his accusations of Communist spying at the Federal Telecommunications Laboratory at Nutley, N.J.

GM Sets Record During '53 for Employment, Payrolls

General Motors employment and payrolls were higher in 1953 than in any previous year.

This was disclosed today in a statement by Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., board chairman.

GM's average number of workers, excluding two foreign subsidiaries in England and Germany, was 551,095 last year compared with 458,680 in 1952.

Michigan accounted for the biggest single share of the employment and payroll figures, with the average number employed placed at 210,512 and the total payroll amounting to $1,123,942,873.

In Pontiac, 32,265 were employed and the payroll reached $162,048,423 last year.

Average hourly rate employment in GM's U. S. plants was 385,929 in the preceding year. Total hourly rate payrolls in the United States were $1,851,749,264 last year compared with $1,367,187,689 in 1952.

The statement reported hourly-rate employes in the United States worked an average of 41.9 hours weekly in 1953 and earned an average of $92.27 weekly. In 1952 they averaged 40.4 hours and $85.24 weekly.

"The increase in average hours was due largely to overtime work during the first half of the year," the statement said.

"An expansion program was be-

4 Puerto Ricans Quickly Indicted

Michigan's Rep. Shafer One of 6 Witnesses in Shooting Fray

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Puerto Ricans accused of wounding five congressmen in a wild outburst of pistol fire in the House chamber were under indictments today that carry a possible total sentence of 75 years imprisonment.

Federal prosecutors and a grand jury took little more than the minimum time yesterday to go over the evidence on Monday's shooting.

U. S. Atty. Leo A. Rover used six witnesses, including one member of Congress, Rep. Paul W. Shafer (R-Mich), to present the case in one hour and 45 minutes.

Almost immediately afterward the grand jury voted indictments charging assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon against Mrs. Lolita Lebron, 34; Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28; Andres F. Cordero, 29, and Rafael C. Miranda, 25.

All were held in $100,000 bail each. Police said all but Rodriguez had confessed. Rodriguez was not seized at the Capitol, but later at a bus station. Rep. Shafer told newsmen, before he testified at the closed grand jury session, that he could identify Rodriguez as one of the quartet involved in the shooting.

The shooting had repercussions last night in Havana and Chicago.

In Havana, Cuban military intelligence officers arrested for questioning Juan Juarbes, foreign affairs secretary of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party. They also seized another Nationalist, Carlos Padilla Perez.

Chicago police picked up five Puerto Ricans in a roundup of local Nationalist leaders. Authorities there declined to say what further action they plan to take.

38,000 Students Back in Classes; 5,000 Still Home

Road Crews Working to Clean Up Highways Clogged by Snow

About 38,000 Oakland County students went back to classes today in bitter cold weather that ended a series of school-closing blizzards.

Road crews pressed snow-removal chores on county highways and secondary roads in an effort to beat back snow piled into drifts by gusts of wind clocked at 62 miles an hour.

Yesterday's third storm in as many days added four more inches of snow to the five inches already blanketing the area.

No snow is forecast for tonight or tomorrow.

Although main highways were reported open, motorists were warned to drive cautiously as some sections are still ice-glazed.

Drifting snow yesterday closed air traffic at Pontiac Municipal Airport, delayed buses and sent some 3,000 Pontiac students home early.

About 110 county schools — five in Pontiac—closed down and kept about 43,000 students from class.

Schools closed today are at Brandon Township, Holly and Rochester. Pontiac's Emmanuel Christian School also will remain closed.

The three districts, with some 5,000 students, have been shut down since Monday afternoon.

William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County schools, said this is the first time in seven years that weather conditions forced almost half the county's 100,000 students to remain home.

The U. S. Weather Bureau promised more peaceful weather tonight, with partly cloudy skies and a low of 10 to 12 degrees. Slightly warmer weather Friday should send thermometers up to 24 to 28 degrees, the weatherman said.

Wednesday's storm swept Pontiac's temperature from a day's high of 36 to a night's low of 12. Thermometers rose to 13 degrees by 8 a.m. and to 22 at 2 p.m.

Detroit hired 500 extra snow shovelers to help clear city streets. Five Detroiters died of heart attacks while battling drifted snow.

Harrelson Verdict Expected Monday

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick will hand down a verdict Monday in the negligent homicide case of Leaun W. Harrelson Jr., 19, of 26 Delaware Dr.

Final arguments were delivered Wednesday by defense attorneys and Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor. The trial was reopened Tuesday after being adjourned indefinitely in January after the collapse of Attorney William Dohany while cross-examining a witness.

Harrelson is charged with the traffic death of Mrs. Veda N. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave. who was struck by the youth's car on West Huron street at Dwight avenue last Oct. 9.

Court Helps Dentist Put Bite on Patient

EDGWARE, England (AP)—Dentist Montague Rosen successfully sued Mrs. L. A. Copp for damages yesterday because she failed to keep an appointment to have a tooth pulled.

Rosen asked—and won—an award $1.05 for the half hour he wasted waiting for her.

Fire Damage to Trucks Fails to Disrupt Mail Service

Although more than half of Pontiac's 24 mail trucks were put out of action by Wednesday's Habel company fire, Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said mail service will not be interrupted today.

He said the 10 salvaged trucks will be aided by six other trucks borrowed from Detroit and passenger cars converted into mail carriers.

"Later deliveries were delayed somewhat last night," Dean said, "but they will be back to normal today. The heavy snow also hampered Wednesday's operations."

Dean said seven trucks were destroyed in the fire at the garage of Jack Habel Chevrolet Co. at 22-34 Mill St. All but one were damaged and seven of them are laid up for repairs.

The trucks were parked overnight in rental storage areas of the garage when the fire raged through the building, causing an estimated $700,000 damage.

The acting postmaster said employes voluntarily used their own cars for mail deliveries Wednesday and Detroit loaned the Pontiac office two vehicles.

He said a requisition already has been made for replacing the destroyed trucks and delivery will probably take about two weeks.

As officials of the Chevrolet dealership tallied up damage from Pontiac's biggest fire since 1942, Fire Department officials probed the wreckage for more details on how the fire started.

Fire Chief John F. Schroeder and Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said they want to find out whether flames from gasoline spilled on the floor reached a truck gas tank or whether the tank exploded due to heat from the flames.

The tank exploded, spreading the fire to other parts of the building, shortly after a night workman saw flames leaping from spilled gasoline.

He told authorities he was repairing the truck when sparks from his arc welding torch ignited the gas. Shortly after firemen were summoned the gas tank exploded, injuring seven firefighters.

The object of the investigation, said Schroeder, is to find out the exact cause, so other garages can guard against similar explosions.

The fire, shooting flames as high as 100 feet in the air, destroyed 11 other vehicles and damaged over 100.

Customers' cars damaged in the fire, are covered by insurance, said owner Jack Habel. He said other ruined articles and equipment are covered, but "we stand to lose a great sum."

Pontiac Police today warned curious passers-by not to enter the structure because of the danger from falling debris.

Habel said business will continue as usual through improvising repair places and relocating special equipment.

The four-story building adjoining the section destroyed by fire is being repaired. It was not damaged seriously.

Birmingham Police Start Drive on Traffic Violators in Effort to Cut Accidents

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — A stepped-up traffic law enforcement program is under way locally, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley has announced, in response to a state-wide request from the chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission, Secretary of State Owen J. Cleary.

This activity is part of the "Obey Traffic Laws — Keep Your License" program sponsored by the commission and supported by all safety groups.

According to Moxley, as long as traffic accidents continue to increase throughout the state, motorists must expect law enforcement to increase.

Justice of the Peace John J. Gafill has also pledged cooperation with the drive.

"A violation of the traffic law covering moving offenses is a violation of the driver license. The motorist agrees to obey the law in return for being extended the privilege of driving," Gafill said.

He added an offender before him may lose his license on a first offense, if it is bad enough, and repeaters with a series of offenses are certain to be taken off the road.

Moxley explained that the enforcement activity will be tightened in two ways. First by gathering more evidence to support more serious charges in violations that threaten to endanger others, and second, by stopping more motorists for less serious offenses to discourage them from committing more serious ones later.

Voice Concern Over Success of Roll Call Drive

BIRMINGHAM — Concern over success of the Community House Roll Call was expressed by officials this week. The final day of the drive showed that the campaign has fallen short of its $45,000 goal by $7,000.

Walter F. Skinner, chairman, and Mrs. Berrien Ketchum, drive director, both stated that unless the goal is reached, the house will not be able to serve Birmingham as well as it has in the past.

Skinner said a number of businesses had not yet been heard from. He added that many residents are away on vacation, and he hopes they will mail contributions upon their return.

Airfields at Detroit, Flint, Jackson and Windsor, Ont. were closed Wednesday; the Chatham, Ont. area, cut off by snow-blocked roads, was worrying about low food supplies today.

Pontiac Department of Public Works had most main streets cleared today, but worried about its ebbing salt supply. Arthur Hilliker, office manager, said a truck bringing salt in from Wyandotte tipped over Wednesday, leaving the city with just enough salt to handle hills and street corners until a 30-ton shipment arrives today.

Oakland County Road Commission worked around the clock for the fourth straight night battling drifted snow. Oscar D. Loomis, chief superintendent, said main roads were cleared for traffic — though still slippery — today. He hoped to have all roads open by tonight.

Great Lakes Greyhound buses, which ran up to a half-hour late Wednesday, were back on schedule today. Pontiac City Lines buses made out well Wednesday — the latest run was only 10 minutes off schedule.

Pontiac Police and Oakland County Sheriff's Department said several motorists suffered minor injuries in five accidents caused by slippery streets Wednesday.

One towing service operator said all four of his trucks were in use all day yesterday to aid stranded motorists. Many minor accidents, not reported to the police, occurred on county roads.

Pontiac Public Schools sent 1,350 school bus-riding students home early Wednesday afternoon closing Willis school completely.

All four local parochial schools — St. Michael, St. Frederick, Emmanuel Christian and St. Trinity Lutheran — closed at noon, releasing 1,600 more youngsters.

Rural schools, which must take many children home by bus over far-flung side roads, surrendered to the weather Wednesday.

Closed all day were Brandon Township, Holly, Rochester Community, Lake Orion, Southfield, Walled Lake, Huron Valley, and Avondale and Troy elementary schools, with some 20,000 youngsters from 42 buildings.

Bloomfield Hills, Oxford, Waterford, West Bloomfield, Clarkston schools — and Avondale High School — opened Wednesday morning but couldn't last out the day.

Birmingham also closed its Franklin, Bloomfield Village and Walnut Lake schools, letting 695 youngsters go home. Holy Name school in Birmingham freed its 690 students at noon.

Farmington, Lyon and Clarenceville schools also closed early.

Cameron E. Rose Named Rotary Head

WALLED LAKE — Cameron E. Rose was elected president of Walled Lake Rotary Club at a meeting of the organization this week.

L. B. Miles was also elected vice president and Calvin Colvert as treasurer. Re-elected as secretary was Donald Watkins for the fourth time.

Members elected to the board of directors were Dan McVetyand, Leslie Churchill, for two years, Ralph Buffinger, Charles Hutton and James Brooks. New officers will assume their duties July 1.

Hawaii Debate Before Senate

But Dems May Tie In Statehood for Alaska Which Could Defeat It

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate signaled for a start of debate today on statehood for Hawaii, with Democrats seeking to tie in Alaska statehood.

Sen. Cordon (R-Ore), chairman of the territories subcommittee of the Senate Interior Committee, arranged to lead off for Eisenhower administration forces on the measure, passed by the House last year, to make Hawaii the 49th state.

As the bill came up in the Senate, a delegation from Hawaii continued its rounds of senatorial offices seeking to persuade senators to let the Hawaii statehood bill come to a vote on its own merits.

The Hawaii group, including Republican and Democratic leaders in the Territorial Legislature, discussed the bill at a meeting yesterday in the office of Delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii).

Their consensus was that the Hawaii bill would pass the Senate handily if it came to a vote alone, but that a move to tie in Alaska has a 50-50 chance for success and would cloud the future.

Oren E. Long, former Democratic governor of Hawaii, told reporters that in his calls on Senate Democrats he found little hope they would vote against a move by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to add the Alaska bill.

He said Democratic senators view the effort to achieve statehood for Alaska as well as Hawaii as "a partisan issue" on grounds that statehood for both territories is advocated in the Democratic party platform.

Traditionally, Hawaii has been Republican and Alaska Democratic.

Telegrams Praise Rebuke to M'Carthy

con of the National Republican Club that "we are not a divided party."

"Our opposition, naturally, has made much of the party's 'family differences' during the past weeks," he said. "They would have you believe that we Republicans have split irrevocably over a problem involving personalities.

"That's nonsense, of course. On many issues there are degrees of opinion, emphasis and approach . . . In a vital matter like combatting the endless dangers of communism, both on the home front and at the council tables abroad, we are in earnest accord."

Despite Hall's prediction that the Republicans are going to display "team spirit," there wasn't too much evidence of unity in party reaction to the exchange of statements yesterday by Eisenhower and McCarthy.

The Senate Republican Policy Committee gave no evidence, after a closed meeting yesterday, of any material progress toward agreement on a code of ethics for conducting hearings.

McCarthy, one of those present, made it clear he intends to proceed as he has in the past despite anything Eisenhower or the President's friends might say about his methods.

"I'd hate to think the day would come when a President is expected to agree with every senator, and every senator to agree with the President on everything," McCarthy said.

"There is no reason on earth why any Republican and I should be arguing on this Communist issue. I think Eisenhower feels as strongly about fulfilling his campaign promises to get the Communists out of government as I do."

Secretary of Defense Wilson wrote Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee yesterday there is "an immediate and pressing need" to clarify laws which have permitted Communists and other undesirables to enter the armed services.

Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, head of the GOP policy group, told reporters he thought the President's statement "indicated he was not entirely satisfied with the methods" used by McCarthy.

* * *

Ferguson said he wouldn't have handled in the same way McCarthy did the questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, who said he carried out orders to give an honorable discharge to Maj. Irving Peress. Peress had refused to answer questions about possible Communist connections. McCarthy, conducting an investigations subcommittee hearing, told Zwicker among other things that he should be removed from command.

Eisenhower yesterday backed up Army Secretary Stevens, who had accused McCarthy of abusing Zwicker. The President said in a White House news conference that no subordinate of the executive branch was going to be called upon to "submit to any kind of personal humiliation when testifying before congressional committees or elsewhere."

The President didn't name McCarthy but the senator didn't mince words in answering back.

"I'SE HIT BY TRAIN"—This is how Arthur Edwards, 2, of Manchester, Conn., explained his plight to his mother when she found him with his face covered with blood, beside the railroad track in front of her home. The accident happened Monday but Mrs. Edwards was so upset she didn't report it to police until yesterday. The lad had only minor injuries.

Funeral and burial will be in California.

movies and other admissions, telephone bills, rail, bus and air passenger fares, jewelry, cosmetics, pocketbooks, furs, luggage, telegrams, sporting goods, cameras, pens, mechanical pencils, lighters and other items.

Presumably prices also would drop on many of these goods, although perhaps not on movie tickets. Committee Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), sponsor of the bill, said the tax reductions would be a stimulant to consumer buying and thus would help the national economy over its present dip.

The Reed bill also would cancel about $1,100,000,000 in cuts in other excises scheduled April 1 on liquor, tobacco, automobiles, gasoline, buses and trucks, auto parts, and beer and wine.

Other things being equal, the bill would add almost one billion dollars to the $2,960,000,000 deficit President Eisenhower has projected for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana said he planned to bring the excise bill to the House floor next Wednesday, adding "the vote for it will of course be overwhelming."

Eisenhower had urged canceling the April 1 excise reductions scheduled under present law, but is opposing the across-the-board cuts called for in the Reed bill.

Sen. George said in a separate interview he personally favors many of the excise cuts provided in the Reed bill, but, not necessarily all of them.

* * *

George has moved to increase individual income tax exemptions for each taxpayer and each dependent from the present $600 to $800, which would save taxpayers almost five billion dollars a year and lose that much in revenue for the government.

* * *

The excise bill must be enacted by April 1 to meet the deadline for canceling the excise reductions now scheduled for that date.

Bricker Blames Lobbyists for Defeat

ATLANTA (UP) — Sen. John W. Bricker said today "furious lobbying of White House and State Department aides" defeated proposals to curb presidential treaty-making powers in the Senate last week.

The Ohio Republican, sponsor of the original treaty - restricting amendment, said the "lobbying" that took place in the "corridors of the Capitol, in the Senate cloakrooms and by telephone" was the "deciding factor" in the one-vote failure of the Senate to approve a final substitute Friday. The substitute was sponsored by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga).

But Bricker told a regional conference of the American Bar Association here "the fight has only just begun" and "this fight will be won."

Small Boy Inspires Uncle Sam's Prayer

known prayer and trusted the power of prayer all my life, should not have mentioned it.

It was on a train to Chicago that, mentally, I first saw Uncle Sam on his knees praying. Praying for what? Certainly not: "That God be on my side." Through two ghastly wars both sides made that prayer and it didn't get much peace even for the victor. Obviously, that hasn't worked.

"That I be on God's side." That would be Uncle Sam's peace prayer.

Next came the idea for a pictorial presentation of the prayer—to be ready for publication in national magazines on Uncle Sam's birthday, July 4th, two months off.

Time was short. Where was the artist who could paint Uncle Sam? Paint him as he must be . . . not weak, not knocked to his knees, but freely, confidently, knowing how to do battle for peace.

Two of the greatest American artists were approached. They were enthusiastic, but their work schedule would not permit them to start immediately.

When a former secretary of mine, who had turned to painting, asked if she might try, I shrugged her off. Only a very great artist could do justice to the theme. But I wasn't reckoning with the power of prayer . . . one fruit of which is inspiration.

Several days later she handed me her work. I couldn't believe it.

When I showed it to a Jesuit Father who knew her earlier works, he said simply, "She has painted better than she knows."

Within the first 5 days after "America on its Knees" appeared in national magazines, 5,000 people had written for 27,000 copies. Among them were hundreds of letters from children and teenagers.

That was just the beginning of the snowball. Since then we have distributed 300,000 copies throughout the world . . .

Here was the idea and how it grew. And I sat there that morning, in the Mayflower Hotel, seeing this event—the President, the Cabinet, Uncle Sam praying at the start of a new administration.

"Prayer today is a necessity," President Eisenhower stated when he arose to speak. "We know that our prayers may be imperfect . . . We are imperfect human beings. But if we can make the effort, then there is something that ties us all together."

Just prior to this I greeted the assemblage as proud host and then read the Uncle Sam prayer . . . The President of the United States, the Vice President, Cabinet, justices, diplomats, top American leaders listened to the words below, which had been inspired by 12-year-old Daniel Paolucci . . .

* * *

Our Father in Heaven:

We pray that You save us from ourselves.

The world that You have made for us, to live in peace, we have made into an armed camp. We live in fear of war to come.

We are afraid of "the terror that flies by night, and the arrow that flies by day, the pestilence that walks in darkness and the destruction that wastes at noonday."

We have turned from You to go our selfish way. We have broken Your commandments and denied Your truth. We have left Your altars to serve the false gods of money and pleasure and power. Forgive us and help us.

Now, darkness gathers around us and we are confused in all our counsels. Losing faith in You, we lose faith in ourselves.

Inspire us with wisdom, all of us, of every color, race and creed, to use our wealth, our strength, to help our brother, instead of destroying him.

Help us to do Your will as it is done in heaven and to be worthy of Your promise of peace on earth.

Fill us with new faith, new strength, and new courage, that we may win the battle for peace.

Caroline Kiss Won't Kiss, Make Up With Hubby

Once, she said in a divorce suit, she tenderly cared for her husband during convalescense from a drinking spree. She added that as soon as hubby John Kiss was able to get out of bed he didn't kiss, but beat her instead.

Keego Men Plead Guilty to Giving Minors Liquor

Two Keego Harbor men yesterday pleaded guilty to furnishing liquor to six youths now accused of taking part in 16 break-ins during the last month in the Keego Harbor area in which over $2,000 was taken.

Irvin King, 23, of 2434 Cass Lake Rd. and Loren Hanes, 36, of 2348 Pine Lake Rd., were each fined $25 and costs, or 10 days in jail by West Bloomfield Justice Elmer C. Dieterle. King was unable to pay his fine.

Call Psychiatrist to Marine Court

Noted Doctor to Testify in Col. Schwable Case Today at Washington

WASHINGTON (INS) — Col. Frank H. Schwable's defense called a noted psychiatrist to testify today concerning a claim that the Marine officer was reduced to the mental level of an animal before he made a "germ warfare confession" while a prisoner in Korea.

Dr. Winfred Overholser, long-time head of St. Elizabeth's Mental Hospital in Washington, D.C., was to be questioned about "hypnotism" which a State Department Russian expert said the Communists have produced in confession cases such as Schwable's.

In particular, the Marine Corps court of inquiry, named to determine whether Schwable is to be court-martialed, wants to learn whether it is possible for any human being to fight off the hypnotic effects of Communist techniques.

Overholser's testimony was scheduled late Wednesday when a last-minute request was received from Maj. Gen. William F. Dean to delay his appearance over the weekend. Dean was to have taken the stand today, but now will testify Monday.

At one time Kaskaskia, Ill., was the metropolis of the Mississippi Valley. Today nothing of the once important town remains. It was washed away by the Mississippi.

Legislative Act Wishes Bentley Fast Recovery

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature today sent an official "get well" message to Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich) who is reported recovering from a Puerto Rican assassin's bullet.

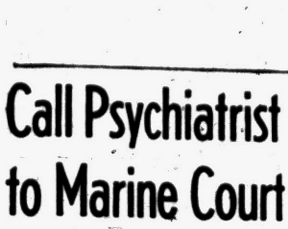

The House and Senate adopted a resolution, sponsored by all the legislators in Bentley's Eighth Congressional District, expressing gratitude that he was recovering and hope that he soon would return to Congress."

Bentley was the most seriously injured of five congressmen shot down by Puerto Rican assailants in a shooting attack in Congress Monday.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1954

Weather Report

The old axiom, "March roars in like a lion and goes out like a lamb," made prognosticators out of the old time proverb writers. At least that was the case in Oakland County over the last three days.

Not since Christmas, 1951 has this area seen such devastating weather as the last three days. Beginning Monday with heavy winds and snow which reached their peak Monday evening, Pontiac and this general area were in for the worst winter weather thus far.

With eight hours of sunshine and temperatures in the early forties on Tuesday, citizens alike figured, "just a freak storm." But late Tuesday all signs of an early Spring were quickly knocked aside with the severest blizzard of the season.

Some 35,000 school children were forced out of school Wednesday before the day was over. Either bus service was curtailed or parents could not negotiate the hazardous driving conditions.

Howling winds contributed to much of the trouble, with snow drifting to as high as five or six feet on many of the county roads. This necessitated closing most of the schools at noon on Wednesday.

Perhaps the axiom writers will live on their laurels and let us enjoy Spring that seemed in sight not so many days ago. Honestly, Spring is only 16 days away.

What Crime Costs You

The average law abiding citizen probably never realizes how much crime costs him.

J. Edgar Hoover, long time chief of the famous FBI, recently put the matter into understandable dollar and cents form. Crime, he told the House Appropriations Committee, costs each American family an average of $495 a year.

Continuing, Hoover said that for every dollar spent on education, crime costs us $1.82. In fact the total cost to the Nation is 10 times as much as all the money given to our churches.

★ ★ ★

It would be hard to find stronger arguments for the support of character building organizations. Here certainly is convincing evidence that every good citizen has a stake in the never ending fight against crime.

Hope for Handicapped

School superintendents of Oakland County have scored a commendable victory in their fight to obtain educational opportunity for handicapped children.

Both Oakland and Wayne Counties will benefit from the local educators' special proposal which recently passed the House of Representatives and the Senate with unanimous approval. Known as House Bill 77, it was presented by Representative William Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) and now awaits ratification by Governor Williams before submission to the county electors at the spring school elections.

If a majority of the county electors approve the bill, it will mean that several school districts may merge to operate a cooperative program for handicapped children who cannot attend regular schools. William J. Emerson, Oakland County Superintendent and spokesman for the educators' committee, said that one-half mill would raise $500,000 to underwrite a sound program for all of Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Termed a revolutionary approach to the problem that has been inadequately handled under the State aid bill, the local group made a thorough study and survey two years ago before drafting their proposal. Emerson said the county superintendents, members of the Oakland County Association of School Superintendents, have long felt that all children who could be educated deserved the chance. Hundreds of children have not been getting this opportunity, he said.

Here at last is the ray of hope for the hundreds of parents who have stood helplessly by and watched these boys and girls growing up without an educational opportunity.

Our Worst Tax Loopholes

Once again that much criticized oil depletion allowance is in the news chiefly because the tax writing House Ways and Means Committee has decided to do nothing about it.

This provision in the tax law long has been under attack. It permits oil men to deduct 27.5 per cent of their gross income before paying income taxes. Worse, it contains what have been called the biggest loopholes in our entire tax structure.

Besides this allowance to compensate for the financial risk of prospecting, oil men are allowed to make these deductions even after a well has paid for itself. They also can take the write offs whether the income is derived from oil wells or not.

This newspaper has criticized these tax inequities in the past and hopes the committee will reconsider its decision and move to eliminate them.

The drunkard who blundered into a graveyard and went to sleep the other night, waked up at sunup next morning, looked around, and exclaimed, "Well, well — here it is Judgment Day and I'm the first man up."

It's a toss-up as to which is the most cluttered up: The family medicine cabinet, the glove compartment of a car, or a woman's handbag.

Karl Schnoor

claims it is Michigan's top road for the killing of wild and domesticated animals and birds. During the past year he kept a record of those creatures whose carcasses on the pavement or just beside it were mute evidence of what had happened to them. The total is 466, including 109 cats, 58 pheasants, 30 dogs, 75 muskrats, 12 raccoons, 11 woodchucks, 30 rabbits, 28 squirrels, 23 chickens, 12 ducks, 8 geese, and many others unidentified. This highway passes through Pontiac, entering on the east on Auburn Ave. and leaving on West Huron St. Besides carrying a heavy traffic, the large animal and bird fatality list is probably also because it traverses a section with many woods and other so-called "cover" adjacent to it.

Mrs. Martin Schnaidt Grateful to Staff of St. Joseph Hospital and City Police

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I have just returned from St. Joseph Hospital for the second time in two months, spending almost four weeks of that time in the hospital. I have so much gratitude in my heart for so many wonderful people that I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to all who helped to make my recovery complete.

The doctors' professional and personal interests meant so much to my family and to me. I appreciate the care given me by the nurses, aides and students on the first and second floors.

At midnight on Feb. 5 our son was strickened with appendicitis, and the Pontiac police car, number 17, escorted my husband and Tommy on that very slippery night. His doctor wasted no time getting to the hospital for surgery. Tommy received wonderful care from the nurses in the pediatrics section.

My son and I are home and coming along fine but never shall we forget these wonderful people who were ready and anxious to help us during this experience.

Corrections on Red Tape Regulations One Result of McCarthy-Stevens Scrap

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — All the statements from the White House with their hortatory words about "fair play" in dealing with Communists and all the comments by the critics of Sen. McCarthy cannot erase the simple fact that Dr. Irving Peress, known to the Army as a Communist was promoted to be a major and received from the U. S. Army a certificate of honorable service.

He received that certificate despite the fact that he refused to tell his own government the full facts about his behavior during his period of service in the Army.

Thus has red tape and Army negligence been responsible once more for one of the tragic distortions of American honor.

For it is military red tape which has kept all the facts from being known as to why the proper orders were not transmitted promptly enough so as to alert our military forces at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941.

Why were the requests of Adm. Kimmel and Gen. Short for a court-martial refused?

It is Army red tape which to this day keeps all the facts from being known as to why the anguished appeal of Gen. Van Fleet for ammunition to supply our troops in Korea was disregarded and who were the persons responsible.

It is Army red tape which to this day prevents a congressional committee from uncovering the facts as to who were the persons responsible recently for the inefficiency of Army officers in handling Communists inside the Army.

President Eisenhower has recognized the gravity of the problem. In his latest statement he says:

"The Department of the Army made serious errors in handling the Peress case and the Secretary of the Army so stated publicly, almost a month ago.

"The Army is correcting its procedures to avoid such mistakes in the future. I am completely confident that Secy. Stevens will be successful in this effort."

But is this all that's going to happen? What about the persons who made the blunders? Are they to go scot free?

And would anything like this have been detected had it not been for the persistence of the permanent subcommittee on investigations of the Senate Committee on Government Operations, of which Sen. McCarthy happens to be chairman?

The President discussed "codes of fair procedure" which he hopes congressional committees will establish and said that "in opposing communism, we are defeating ourselves if either by design or carelessness, we use methods that do not conform to the American sense of justice and fair play."

What instances in this whole Peress record can the President cite which any "code" of procedure would cure? Major Peress was before Sen. McCarthy's committee and refused to tell whether he had been engaged in espionage while in the Army or whether he had recruited persons in the Army for the Communist cell of which he was a member.

He refused to tell who in the Army aided him in avoiding overseas duty. He had counsel at his side at all times during the hearing. Was he not treated fairly?

Gen. Zwicker sat through the hearing at which a New York policewoman identified Peress as a Communist, and he said he learned nothing new or anything to cause him concern.

He admitted that, despite his knowledge, he did nothing at all to hold up the honorable discharge certificate.

But he admitted that, if he had been told that the night before a man had stolen $50, he would have been able to hold up that man's honorable discharge.

Sen. McCarthy conducted a cross-examination of Gen. Zwicker which was vigorous. It was not unusual in congressional committee inquiries except in one respect.

Exasperated and angered by the general's indifference to the honorable discharge procedure, the senator said the general wasn't fit to wear that uniform. That was a bad mistake on the senator's part.

But a loss of temper is one thing and the right to cross-examine penetratingly is something else, and neither one is going to be restrained by any "codes of fair procedure."

Condemnation of the loss of temper by Sen. McCarthy for his bitter comment at the Zwicker hearing is in order, but this cannot obscure his vigorous pursuit of Communists in government.

Nor can it wipe out the simple fact that, but for the Wisconsin senator's crusade against the tragic indifference of the Army system toward Communists in the Army, the new regulations and corrective measures just announced would probably never have been issued. This at least is a creditable achievement and spells progress.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Spoiled Mother Threat to Son's Independence

Bill's mother isn't using as good psychology as the average mother robin, for she has tried to keep Bill in the family "nest" long after he should have been out testing his own "wings" in independent living. Send for the Rating Scales named below and use them to raise your parental batting averages.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-340: Bill T., aged 20, should be a challenge to all mothers.

"Dr. Crane, when I graduated from high school, I planned to go to college," he began.

"But my mother didn't want me to leave home. So she told me I would be unhappy and never be able to get along away from her.

"Well, I'll admit I had been mollycoddled most of my life, for I was an only child. But I felt it was time to stand on my own feet.

"Despite her tears and threats, I went to college, and I purposely chose a school that was more than 1,000 miles away.

"Mother immediately started writing me very discouraging letters. Then she'd telephone me two or three times per week, and tell me about her ailments and cry over the phone.

"She'd say she thought she wasn't going to live very long and that I ought to come home the next week-end or I might never see her again.

"Because of all that tension, my grades weren't anything to brag about, and I was on probation the second semester.

"So I dropped out last year and got a job. Meanwhile, I wrote my mother that I would never come home again unless she let me live my own life.

"So she must be reconciled to the fact that I am growing up and living like a free man, for she has recently been writing very nice letters.

"Most of my life she had bullied me into doing whatever she wanted. As I look back, I can see she did the same thing with my Dad.

"During my years at home I can recall how she would browbeat Dad into doing whatever she wanted.

"If he ever tried to be independent, then she'd get sick and make a scene, so he finally gave in and lived a meek, henpecked existence.

"But I'm unwilling to let her ruin my life. I want to become a teacher, so I plan to go back to school next term. Don't you think I used the right psychology on Mother?"

Too long the emphasis has been placed on spoiled children. There are thousands of spoiled parents, and his mother certainly fits into that category.

Human parents should take a lesson from the mother bird. The latter is very loving and kind to its fledglings. It slaves from sunrise to sunset to collect bugs and worms with which to feed its baby birds.

But it seems to realize that the proper test of motherhood is to send fourth a self-reliant youngster.

So the mother bird will actually push its lazy fledglings over the side of the nest to make it take over its proper adult duties.

Many human parents forget that their job is also to send forth a well trained son or daughter into independent living, away from the home "nest."

So they may actually hinder their children and browbeat them into staying home, when those sons or daughters should go to college or move to other cities where better jobs beckon them.

It may cause some temporary heartache to see your youngster cut loose from your parental apron strings, but that's the finest tribute to good parental training.

Be sure to send for my "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime. These twin Rating Scales also make ideal subject matter for P-T-A discussions.

Rheumatism (Physical Degeneration) Started by Wrong Diet Many Years Ago

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Since I began harping so stridently on the rheumatiz in this column several readers have asked ironically what has become of the old focal infection theory.

Don't look at me like that. I have always urged readers not to give up their teeth on the order of any charlatan who implied that sacrifice of all the teeth would cure the rheumatiz.

The focal infection theory is as sound in principle as it was when all the remaining teeth just because some charlatan doctor ordered it. A principle is not discarded just because bunglers abuse it.

But anyway focal infection means lodgement (metastasis) in joint or other tissues of germs which grow (breed) in a primary septic focus where the invading germs have established a beachhead.

In most instances of rheumatiz (or call it chronic arthritis if you prefer) there is no reason to believe either infection or inflammation is involved.

Impairment of joint function, weakness, stiffness and pain develop insidiously, slowly.

If the trouble were infection or inflammation these manifestations would develop in the space of a few hours or days. Likewise alleged arthritis from strain, sprain, or injury.

Genuine rheumatiz is a chronic disability. There is no actual inflammation—calor, dolor, rubor et tumor (heat, pain, redness and swelling)—except through some unusual complication.

The other common joint disabilities which are likely to be mistaken for rheumatiz and therefore wrongly treated, are strain, sprain, bursitis, synovitis, arthritis and infection of joint tissues by tuberculosis, syphilis, gonorrhea, typhoid, pneumonia or septicemia (streptococcus).

All of these conditions are acute (the manifestations occur in hours or days) and the inflammation and loss of use are usually temporary, of a few weeks duration.

These acute disabilities should not be confused with rheumatiz. They have nothing in common with one another—except perhaps pain.

Each of these acute conditions calls for specific treatment—surgical repair, splints, rest, drainage, manipulation, corrective exercise or whatever.

It is just plain dumb to follow a trick diet, take heat treatments, mineral baths, take blood purifiers or alkalizers, or to change climate in the hope of curing such ailments.

Don't misinterpret, fathead. I do not mean to deny that such remedial measures may give a certain amount of comfort. I merely say they can't cure anything.

If your trouble is acute, if it developed in days or weeks or if it is of less than a year's standing, you should consult a physician about it and describe your pain or disability to the doctor without alluding to rheumatism or arthritis and without expressing your own half-baked opinion or diagnosis.

If your trouble is chronic, if it has been developing insidiously for months or a year or more in one or more joints, it is probably chronic rheumatism—not arthritis—and the only other name I know for it is—now, keep your shirt on—physical degeneration.

Physical degeneration means impairment of function due to nutritional deficiencies from early childhood through the years up to and including breakfast this morning.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Probers Cool to Tighter Rules

Investigating Senators Meet With Ferguson to Discuss Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) said today he regards a Republican move to tighten up the rules of Senate investigating committees as "much ado about nothing."

The Senate Republican Policy Committee last week ordered an investigation of the rules for conducting investigations.

The order was widely interpreted as aimed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his Senate investigations subcommittee, and at Sen. Langer (R-ND) for making public unevaluated accusations the Judiciary Committee had received against Chief Justice Earl Warren.

President Eisenhower voiced confidence yesterday that Congress "will respond to America's convictions in . . . exercising proper vigilance without being unfair."

Ten of the committee chairmen, including McCarthy, got together yesterday with Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, the policy committee chairman, for some exploratory talks. Most of them, McCarthy included, refused comment after the meeting adjourned, but Jenner told reporters:

"It was much ado about nothing.

"The general consensus was that you can't do much about it (policing the committees' rules)."

• • •

Jenner attended as chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, which would handle any legislation to impose uniform rules on committees which now make their own. He also heads the Red-hunting internal security subcommittee.

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said in a separate interview the chairmen never did stick to the subject at issue. Instead, he said, they devoted about half their time to discussing bills their committees were handling.

"I assume the committees will continue to make their own rules," he said. "No policy committee is authoried to tell them what to do."

• • •

Eisenhower, in a formal statement at his news conference yesterday, said he had been assured "that effective steps are being taken by the Republican leadership to set up codes of fair procedures."

But Ferguson said he does not himself favor any effort to impose uniform rules on all committees, and added that "there is no desire by the policy committee for any dictation to chairmen or committees."

He said "it may be" that the chairmen in subsequent meetings would agree on perhaps some basic uniform rules they might ask the Senate to impose on all. He said he intends to meet again "very soon" with those who did not attend yesterday, among them Langer.

Hearing Aid Lets Deaf Dog Answer Bell

CHICAGO (AP)—His owners, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Winter, knew something was wrong six months ago when Silkie, a 12-year-old spaniel and previously an excellent watch dog, "began missing the door bell."

The Winters took their problem to an animal hospital, and then to the general manager of a hearing aid company.

Muntz Broke, Creditors Claim

Involuntary Bankruptcy Proceedings Instituted Against TV Firms

CHICAGO (UP)—Creditors of three companies operated by Earl W. "Madman" Muntz, automobile and television dealer, have asked that two trustees be appointed for the firms under the Federal Bankruptcy Act.

The petition was presented to U.S. District Judge Wyn G. Knoch Wednesday after attorneys for the creditors filed a petition for involuntary bankruptcy against the Muntz concerns.

Muntz TV, Inc., Tele Vogue, Inc., and Muntz Industries, Inc., were named in the petition. Tele Vogue and Muntz Industries are Muntz subsidiaries.

The petitioners said the Muntz companies have $13,000,000 in liabilities against $3,000,000 in assets. They said the firms have insufficient cash on hand to meet current obligations.

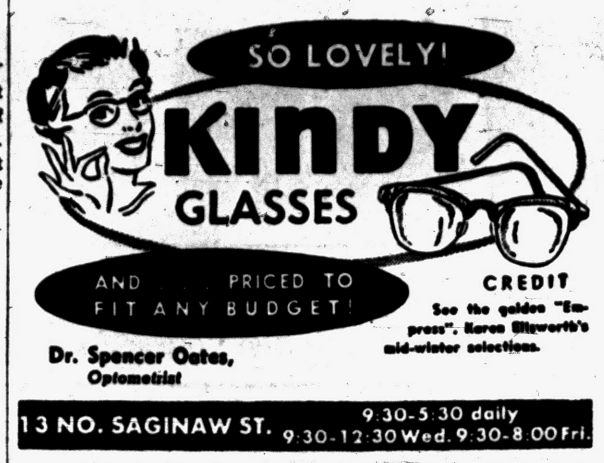

Muntz, who gained wide recognition as a West Coast used car dealer, expressed surprise at the action. He said losses were due largely to repossession of television sets, particularly in the Southern States.

New Yorkers in Big Gripe Over 'Swift' City Mail

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS)—If any city in this fair land pats itself on the back for being bigtime, it's my own native city of New York.

But anybody who takes those pats too seriously is being a patsy for fair, and folks in other cities who secretly resent New York for this or that reason can read on, and feel avenged.

For there are certain things New Yorkers take day after day that are the complete opposite of the bigtime, and apart from wails of anguish, there doesn't seem to be anything we can do about them.

"First class" really belongs in quotes these days, for recent city-wide surveys show our current postal system operates at about 50 per cent efficiency.

In other words, in this city that handles one-tenth of the nation's total mail, a 3c letter had a 50-50 chance of being delivered overnight.

Can you imagine the fate of the ladies-in-waiting of the services?

That 50-50 deal, what's more, holds good only during the first part of the week. As the week wanes, four days for a local letter can be par for the course.

My airmail edition of a British weekly is mailed in England on a Thursday and reaches me across 3,000 miles two days later. But a 3 cent letter mailed down in Greenwich Village on that same Thursday might not reach me, three miles north, until the following Monday morning around eleven — unless somebody puts a 20 cent special delivery stamp on it.

Over the main post office in this city you can still read the famous inscription, "Not snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds."

If a handy stone-mason, with the soul of an accuracy-loving editor, would only chisel out that adjective, "swift," you could still admire the lofty phrases.

Of course the main post office was built 42 years ago, and time always flies, even if lots of letters don't.

But although the deletion of that brief and taunting word "swift" would probably mean too much chiseling, there are plenty of exasperated New Yorkers who might go along with me on a suggested cure for the postal procrastinations of this sometimes bigtime city.

Democrats OK Move by Dulles

Party Leader in House Says Allies Pressured U.S. Into Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. McCormack (D-Mass) says the forthcoming Geneva conference with Red China could threaten the Big Three alliance and intensify pressure for seating the Chinese Communists in the United Nations.

But the deputy Democratic House leader also says Secretary of State Dulles was pressured by European allies into accepting the conference and won't come under Democratic fire because he agreed to it.

Dulles already has drawn considerable Republican criticism, mostly in the Senate, for agreeing to meet with Red China in a five-power conference at Geneva April 26. Critics contended it means a form of recognition for the Peiping regime.

* * *

The secretary declared Red China instead would be appearing before the bar of world opinion, not as a recognized equal, and would be consulted only on Korea and Indochina.

McCormack carried the issue to the House floor yesterday with what he called a warning that the Soviets would make their most intensive efforts at Geneva to split the Western Big Three. This would be the "real test of the ability" to hold the Western leaders together, he added.

He said he is "fearful there are enough votes" now in the U.N. to seat Red China and added the United States may have to use a double veto to prevent it. The double veto, used before by Soviet Russia, broadens the ability of a big power to block U N. action.

* * *

Amplifying his remarks in an interview today, McCormack said, "The French are so anxious to get out of Indochina, they will agree to almost anything" for peace in the Asian peninsula.

"But the only grounds on which France and Great Britain have halted their demands for admission of Red China to the U. N. is that the Chinese Communists have been branded as aggressors," he added.

"If they settle the Indochina war at Geneva, that will be a go-ahead for new demands" to seat the Peiping regime.

* * *

Rep. Judd (R-Minn), in reply to McCormack, told the House Red China would gain no more stature at Geneva than it has had in Panmunjom truce negotiations on Korea.

The House then tentatively approved a clause in a State Department appropriations bill reaffirming the opposition of Congress to U.N. seating of Red China.

Denmark Is Interested in Trade With Russia

U.S., Allies Facing Split at Conference in Geneva

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

The United States could very well find itself standing alone at the April 26 Geneva conference with Red China.

Regardless of Korea, the war in Indochina, or United States attempts to limit the conference to specific problems of the Far East, the paramount issue still is going to be recognition of Red China, including membership in the United Nations.

At the insistence of Secretary of State Dulles, a clause was written into Red China's invitation to the Geneva conference, specifying that it could not be regarded as recognizing any Red Chinese demand for a place at world council tables.

Dulles' insistence of such a clause was an attempt at reassuring members of the U. S. Congress that the Red Chinese would not gain diplomatic recognition through the "back door," and also to assure Nationalist Chinese on Formosa and the South Koreans that they would not be sold out at Geneva.

There he branded the Reds as outlaws who killed or wounded more than 130,000 Americans in Korea, and said that, while anyone could recognize Red China as an evil force just as anyone could recognize that a burglar was in the house, it still did not follow that they would be welcomed as favored guests.

There have been no indications since that Dulles has changed his position.

But the battle lines for Geneva are becoming steadily clearer.

An editorial in the Moscow Communist party newspaper Pravda on Monday of this week said that agreement by the Western powers to meet with Red China "means a factual acknowledgment of the important role of the Chinese Peoples Republic as one of the great powers.

"Even the representatives of the aggressive American circles do not have the strength to dispute this," Pravda said.

Creating even more difficulties for the American position was a statement by French Secretary of War Pierre de Chevigne while on a tour of inspection of the Indochina zone.

He looked for an "honorable end" to the Indochina conflict and said that France could "help" Red China's "entry into the concert of nations and resume economic relations."

On the point of economic relations he touched one of Britain's sensitive nerves. Britain already recognizes Red China, and like France, would like to expand her trade with the Reds.

Among the immediate difficulties are these:

No one, probably not even the French at this time, knows just what France could consider an "honorable end" to the Indochina War.

Also unknown are the precise Communist terms, although they may be presumed to be similar to those for Korea—namely, withdrawal of foreign troops, surrender of Formosa to the Reds and U.N. recognition.

The United States has made clear in advance it will accept none of the Red demands. It is on the issue of this firm position that the Reds will hope to split the United States from its Allies.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Three men were fined $50 each in City Court yesterday for disorderly and offensive conduct after they were caught outwitting a pinball machine with a powerful magnet.

Notice of Intention to Construct Water Main in Corwin Court from Kinney Road to Center of Lot 37 A. P. 101.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan held on the 2nd day of March, 1954 by resolution, it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct water main in Corwin Court from Kinney road to center of Lot 37 A. P. 101 at an estimated cost of $2,814.38 and that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file for public examination.

It is further intended to construct said improvement in accordance with the plan, profile and estimate, and that the cost thereof shall be defrayed by special assessment according to frontage and that all of the lots and parcels of land fronting upon either side of Corwin Court from Kinney road to center of Lot 37 A. P. 101 shall constitute the special assessment district to defray $2,273.00 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof and that $541.38 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof shall be paid from the Water Improvement and Extension Fund.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN

That the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan will meet in the Municipal Court on the 9th day of March, 1954 at 8 o'clock p.m. to hear suggestions and objections that may be made by parties interested.

Dulles to Make Policy Speech

Latin Americans Hope to Hear of Economic Aid From U. S.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Latin American delegates looked to Secretary of State Dulles today for at least a hint whether the United States will lay fresh economic aid on the line for its neighbors south of the Rio Grande.

Almost to a man, they want to hear him tell the 10th Inter-American Conference the United States—which has been concentrating in the postwar years on building up its allies in Europe and Asia—will do more to help Latin America achieve greater economic freedom.

Dulles was expected to take the rostrum for a policy statement this afternoon.

The foreign ministers of Venezuela, Cuba and Peru assailed communism in addresses yesterday as a grave threat to the Western Hemisphere, then said the best defense against it lies in economic development.

These speakers were Aureliano Otanez of Venezuela, Miguel Angel Campa of Cuba and Ricardo Rivera Schreiber of Peru. All emphasized that communism must be fought wherever it appears.

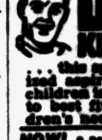

Conference circles said yesterday the United States planned to offer a resolution which would prohibit any American nation from recognizing a government which rose to power under Communist influence.

Man Files 1953 Calendar Instead of Tax Return

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—The internal revenue office has sent back the calendar a northern New Mexican sent in instead of an income tax report. On the 1953 calendar, day by day, were notations like these: "hauled wood—$5, feed for horse—$3, fishing today—no work." Officials urged the man of good intent to file an ordinary return.

Better Social Relations Come Only If Forced

By BILLY ROSE

I get the impression, from where I muse and mumble, that what little progress we have made in human relations has come about, for the most part, only because people had no place to go but forward.

Recently a movie called "New Faces" opened at the Roxy Theater in New York in which the newest and most important face is that of a colored girl named Eartha Kitt.

BILLY ROSE

Although her contract doesn't call for it, Eartha BILLY ROSE is billed as the star of the film and, even more important, is presented as a talented singer of satiric songs rather than the usual "yassah boss" character fresh off the levee.

Is Eartha Kitt being starred because the bossmen of 20th Century-Fox have suddenly discovered the Bill of Rights — have suddenly concluded that the southern moviegoer won't resent a Negro performer playing a major part in an otherwise all-white film? In a pig's eye!

The sorry fact is that once the studio decided to make a movie of "New Faces," it had no choice but to build it around Eartha — the only personality in the cast who had definitely proved she was star material.

This proof, too, was pretty much of an accident. Two years ago, when she was engaged for the stage version of "New Faces," the Kitt girl was known only to the stay-up-lates who patronized The Blue Angel, a small nightclub on the East Side.

National recognition only came as a result of a couple of top-selling records she made for a phonograph company.

In the recent months of its tour, box-office-wise, "New Faces" has been pretty much all Eartha Kitt. When she was with the show, it played to substantial business. When she wasn't, the receipts were only so-so.

As a consequence, when the smart apples at 20th Century decided to film the revue, it was common sense and the cash register which picked their star for them. There was no place for them to go but forward — with Eartha . . .

It twils the all but secret story of how, in a few short years, the armed forces of the United States have almost completed a total about-face on "the Negro question."

The most interesting part of Nichols' book is his account of the democratic revolution which took place in Korea when Negro troops were "integrated" with white soldiers right down to the platoon level

And this came about because the situation in Korea was so tough in 1950 that the Army had to be nice — or else. The Chinese were beating the bejabbers out of us, unit after cut-up unit was hollering for reinforcements — and any reinforcements, white, black or polka-dotted, were welcome.

As of this writing, largely because of the success of the no-alternative integration in Korea, 95 per cent of our 200,000 Negro soldiers have been absorbed in regular outfits.

The Air Force, with almost 70,000 Negroes, has no segregation at all. Nor has the Marine Corps.

True, the Navy is still fighting to retain its all-Negro housekeeping and service units, but its top brass freely admit this is only a delaying action.

These are heartening statistics, but they would be a lot more heartening if it had all been planned that way. The sorry fact is that the decisive argument for Negro integration was provided, not by politicians and generals in Washington, but by the immediacy of the enemy's bullets in Korea . . .

The moral — and I wish it were a prettier one — seems to be that when it comes to human relations on this lopsided globe, we seldon take a step forward unless someone is standing behind us with a pitchfork.

One Man Mill Still Operating

Czechoslovakian Miller Keeps Grinding Flour in Saginaw County

CHESANING (AP) — Frank Nerychel, a transplanted miller from Czechoslovakia, his tiger-striped cat and a potbellied stove make up the total population of the Parshallburg mill.

It is one of the few remaining one-man mills to be found.

Situated on the Shiawasee River, some three miles south of Chesaning, it's still in working order and powered by a millrace which never freezes over.

Nerychel has kept the mill substantially the same as it was in 1889 when Clint Parshallburg built it. The entire area, one of the most picturesque in Saginaw County, still holds an aura of peaceful life.

The present owner purchased the mill 10 years ago. He is the sole worker in the place and produces a brand of flour called "legal tender flour."

He says business is just big enough to keep him pleasantly solvent.

The mill uses about 15,000 bushels of wheat a year plus smaller quantities of corn and other grains. Trucks come to the mill about twice a month, pick up the flour and deliver it to stores.

The barter system still is in effect at his mill in some instances. Farmers bring in wheat and exchange it for flour. A bushel of wheat weighs 60 pounds and is exchanged for 40 pounds of flour.

Turks Holding American Ship

U.S. Vessel Suspected in Mysterious Collision, Sinking

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkish authorities held the 7,210-ton American freighter Volunteer State in port today in connection with the mystery sinking Tuesday of a small Turkish coastal vessel in which four men were lost.

The ship's Istanbul agents, Gilchrist and Walker, said the Turks had issued their "stop sail" order on "circumstantial evidence" that the ship was in the Sea of Marmora, where the 100-ton coaster Yayla sank early Tuesday after a collision.

The ship is operated by the States Marine Corp., of Delaware and sails out of New York.

* * *

She had just unloaded an American military aid cargo at nearby Derince, on the Gulf of Izmit, and was about to sail when Turkish police boarded her just before midnight last night. They carried orders from the Turkish public prosecutor to hold the ship pending investigation.

An inspection of the ship's bow for a possible collision mark was planned.

The sinking of the Yayla was discovered when the U. S. destroyer F. T. Berry early yesterday picked up a lone survivor who had floated on a piece of wreckage for 24 hours.

Gilchrist and Walker asked the American Embassy to intercede on behalf of the Volunteer State. The agents said Hamdi Cakir, the collision survivor, was unable to identify the vessel which ran down the Yayla except to say it was "a big ship."

Ground Observers Plan Spotlight Drive on Friday

Civil Air Patrol to Participate

Evening Shoppers Will Have Chance to Watch Spotters in Action

Pontiac Ground Observers Corps will hold the spotlight—literally—Friday night as it climaxes a week-long drive for 200 more volunteers to help watch for enemy planes.

Evening shoppers will see the searchlight beam point out the Ground Observers Post atop Oakland County Office Building at Saginaw and Lafayette streets where plane spotters stand their watches.

The Civil Air Patrol will set up its mobile searchlight at 108 N. Saginaw St. from 7 until 10 p.m. Friday. Ground Observers will stand beside it to take names and phone numbers of anyone who wants to serve with their unit.

The main business of plane spotters is to watch for enemy planes that may sneak through the nation's radar "screen."

"But it isn't just enemy planes that we watch for," Raymond E. Best, post supervisor, says. "Our people have a chance to spot tornadoes, planes that seem to be having trouble, and anything else that's unusual in the skies."

Best said the U. S. Air Force's Selfridge Field base recently played host to local Ground Observers for an all-day tour.

The local unit plans a trip soon to the Michigan Air Defense Filter Center in Grand Rapids where radar and reports from Ground Observers stations are relayed so suspicious aircraft can be "tracked" on giant screens.

For the Record

Archbishop Wyshinski---Victim of a Kremlin Feud?

By FRANZ BORKENAU

Franz Borkenau, author of "European Communism" (Harper & Bros.) was a member of the German Communist Party until 1929—when he permanently broke from it. He is a world authority on recent Russian history according to such experts as Charles Bohlen and George Kennan.

There is a riddle behind the arrest of Archbishop Wyshinski, Primate of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland.

There was nothing in the relations between the Communist government of Poland and the Church which might impel the government to strike at just this moment. Archbishop Wyshinski had not acted, as in 1949, Archbishop Mindszenty of Hungary, who had openly and fiercely attacked Communism.

The Polish Communists now attack the Catholic Church, with which they had reached a kind of understanding in 1950, without the slightest provocation. There is no rhyme or reason in this.

One might imagine that at the present moment, when all satellite regimes are shaken to their very foundations, the Polish Communist Party should know better than to arouse the fury of the faithful in a country so thoroughly and so deeply Catholic as Poland.

It would be naive, of course, to assume that the decision to strike this blow was taken in Warsaw. Dealings with high Catholic prelates are a major matter of international relations, affecting the whole Communist world, and therefore strictly within the jurisdiction of Moscow and of Moscow only.

That raises the importance of the event, but makes it even more puzzling. Starting a new persecution of the Catholic Church, in the only Communist country where its relations with the regime were tolerable, cuts right across Malenkov's "peace offensive."

It is bound to array Catholics all over the world against Moscow and everywhere to strengthen those voices which always denied the sincerity of Moscow's apparent change of mind after Stalin's death. That cannot be unknown to the Kremlin.

There seems to remain only one interpretation: Somebody of great influence in Moscow is intentionally sabotaging the "peace offensive." He is using the Polish Communists as an instrument in this attempt.

That assumption can serve to explain why the attack upon the Polish Church starts at this time. The German elections have brought the Catholic forces in Germany a great victory which, at the same time, was a great defeat for Moscow. The elastic policy of Malenkov, his attempts to rouse Britain and France against America, were always regarded with skepticism by some Kremlin leaders, first and foremost by Molotov.

The resounding defeat of that policy in the German elections raised internal antagonisms in the Kremlin to a higher pitch. Clearly the enemies of the "peace offensive" regard the moment as opportune for disrupting the whole new course adopted after Stalin's death, and to inflict at the same time a severe personal defeat upon Malenkov.

Molotov alone would not be strong enough to bring this about. But there are the fanatical Communists and the fanatical anti-Catholics in the Soviet army, grouped round Marshal Vasilievsky (Molotov's friend), Marshal Govorov (old leader of the army extremists) and perhaps Marshal Sokolovsky.

There is, last but not least, Krushchov, climbing step after step of the ladder of promotion, and now Malenkov's most serious competitor. It is known that he is at heart an extremist and he probably is hand-in-glove with that section of the army leaders who are fanatical party men.

As to their Polish stooges, it is noteworthy that Poland is the only satellite country where hitherto the "retreat" performed in the USSR, Germany, Hungary, etc., has not been copied.

The man-behind-the-scenes who has so far prevented, in Poland, any concessions to peasants, workers and the Church, and who was always close to the extremist group in the Kremlin, is Berman.

In one word, the sudden unprovoked onslaught upon the Polish Church seems to be due to an intrigue of Malenkov's personal and political enemies, destined to disrupt his policy and to oust him from primacy in the Kremlin.

Civic Struggles Winning in Niles

Editor's Note—City Editor Richard J. Canty of the Niles Daily Star wrote the following story—the fourth in an Associated Press series on accomplishments and problems of Michigan cities since the end of World War II.

By RICHARD J. CANTY
Niles Daily Star City Editor

NILES (AP) — Struggles against ever-mounting population and traffic pressures are paying off in this western gateway to Michigan.

Niles is a cross-roads town. Two major federal highways — U.S.31 and U.S.112 — and two major state trunklines—M40 and M60 — converge in this city. Traffic from all four channels down the main street.

The city fathers in 1947 introduced parking meters to solve the parking problem. But traffic continued to mount and in 1952 the city council began planning for off-street parking lots.

Retailers waged a hot campaign for an off-street parking referendum. Voters went for it by a two-to-one majority. Construction of two off-street lots was completed last October at a cost of $220,000.

One has two levels and has public restrooms under the upper level. It holds 106 cars. The other lot has a 63-car capacity. Both are within a block of the main street.

Financing of the lots was accomplished by creating a parking system which embraces all meters in the city. Net meter income is pledged to bond redemption. Surpluses already are accumulating and will provide additional lots as they are needed.

While working on the parking problem, city officials also labored on the main street traffic bottleneck. The city undertook construction of a $200,000 non-trunk-line bridge across the St. Joseph River.

The city began pressuring the Michigan Highway Department for a by-pass. In 1953 the state started construction on a $600,000 bridge which will carry the by-pass across the river south of Niles.

Current plans call for the whole project to be completed in 1956 at a cost of about $2,000,000. Until then, Niles residents and visitors will continue to rub fenders on the main street.

Among city accomplishments since World War II are an almost complete elementary school system costing $1,365,000, a $110,000 overhead water storage tank and a $600,000 sewage treatment plant.

Construction will begin in a few weeks on another school program costing $3,600,000 and a $750,000 addition to the local hospital. A new $2,982,000 senior high school is included in the school project.

School officials in 1946 convinced the public that the old school buildings would be bulging a few years. The public approved a $440,000 bond issue to finance one new school.

In 1949 the new school went into operation and soon afterwards the voters endorsed a $925,000 bond issue for two more grade schools and an addition. They went into operation in 1951.

But almost before children entered the new school, the board of education discovered that its population consultants had underestimated the future growth.

Another selling job was undertaken. Last October voters overwhelmingly approved a $3,600,000 bond issue.

It will finance the $2,982,000 senior high school, another $330,000 elementary school and an $88,000 grade school addition. Construction begins this spring.

The same population pressure that worked on the school system was also felt at the city hospital. As World War II ended, a public subscription drive collected $395,000 for a 54-bed addition.

NILES PARKING AREA—Constantly increasing traffic pressure since the end of World War II has resulted in construction last year of this two-level off-street parking lot just a half-block off Main street in Niles. Public restrooms were built under the upper level of the lot which holds 106 cars. Financing was accomplished by creating an auto parking system which includes all parking meters in the city. Surplus revenue will finance additional lots as needed.

MARCH WEATHER OUTLOOK—Above seasonal normal is the temperature outlook for March throughout the northwest quarter of the country and far southwest. Below normal temperatures are indicated elsewhere, a reversal of the abnormal February warmth. Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over the northern half of the country east of the Continental Divide and in California. Subnormal amounts are expected over Gulf and Pacific northwest. Normal amounts are expected elsewhere.

Dems Call Savings Phony

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats fired charges of "phony savings" at Republican budget trimming today as the House wrangled over a bill appropriating $1,146,988,000 to finance the State, Justice and Commerce departments for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

In yesterday's initial action, the House voted tentatively to hold back nearly half the 73 million dollars requested by the Eisenhower administration to subsidize American airlines for the coming year.

* * *

Republican spokesmen said this reduction was not intended as savings. They proposed financing airline subsidy programs only temporarily until the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) is able to recompute subsidy formulas in the light of a recent Supreme Court decision.

The court held CAB must base payments on the profit and loss from an airline's entire operations, rather than on losses suffered from a single operation alone.

The decision placed in question subsidy payments primarily to a few big international airlines experiencing losses on their foreign operations—as distinct from domestic runs.

Rep. Rooney (D-NY), top Democrat on the Appropriations subcommittee, accused Republicans of claiming "phony savings" by deferring payments.

He also served notice he would seek to reverse a House vote to appropriate 40 million dollars for subsidy payments to air carriers when the bill comes up for final approval tomorrow.

Cattle Raising Helps End Dull Life on Saipan, Tinian

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

SAIPAN (AP)—The roads and runways of the once-mighty island bases of Saipan and Tinian are putting up a fight against the relentless jungle, corrosion and decay.

So far these great concrete strips, which launched America's deadly bomber raids against Japan in World War II, are holding their own. But the guns, trucks and equipment abandoned at war's end have given up to the elements. They are gradually crumbling to nothing.

* * *

A small Navy force mans Saipan today. Their job is to keep open certain airfields for transient aircraft flying through to the Far East and to supervise the native population of Saipan and neighboring islands in running their own affairs.

* * *

For the men stationed on Saipan and Tinian, boredom is a constant problem. But the Navy has come up with a surprising peacetime project which is keeping some personnel busy in a new line. It's raising beef cattle.

On Tinian are about 120 head of cattle under Navy care, mostly Brahmas or crosses of Brahmas with Angus, Hereford and Shorthorns. On Saipan are 40 or 50 more. There also are four horses, but two of them haven't been broken yet.

* * *

Most of the cattle were imported by the United States to improve the native stock. An experimental farm has been set up on Saipan under the supervision of Navy civil service worker Frank Brown.

Brown is sold on the Brahmas as the best cattle for the islands.

"They resist ticks and prosper much better than other stock," he says.

In contrast to Guam and Kwajalein, none of the Navy structures on Saipan or neighboring islands are permanent.

From the air Tinian and little Rota look like solid jungle. But standing out on the north end of Tinian is the huge B29 field where the first atom bomb was assembled.

Service stations, movies and stores have sprung up in Saipan's biggest town, Chalan Kanoa. There are three elementary and one intermediate school.

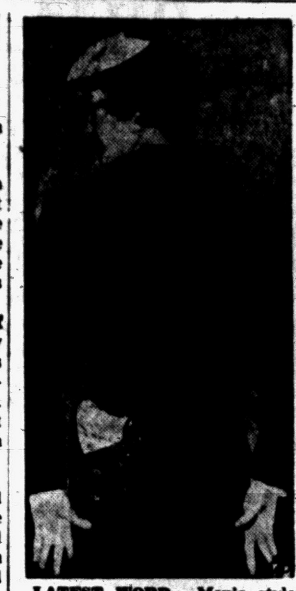

* * *

Children of naval personnel on the island go to separate schools. About 40 per cent of the Navy men here have their families with them.

It's not the most pleasant spot in the world, but if the Navy has its way, it some day may be one of the most pastoral.

An average vessel requires from nine to 12 hours to complete a passage through the Panama canal.

Turbine Flies Apart, Killing 1 at GE Plant

Parts of the huge machine shot through the roof and crashed into an adjoining building, workers at the scene said.

GE said it would identify the dead man, a test engineer, after his next of kin had been notified. The engineer was reported to have been working atop the turbine when it flew apart.

Nine persons were taken to Ellis Hospital and were released after treatment for minor injuries, the hospital said.

At the plant, the supervisor of the turbine dispensary said "about 20" were treated there for what he called "superficial" injuries.

Rep. Kit Clardy Leaves Hospital to Rest at Home

Many State Bills Die at Deadline

Legislature Racing for April 9 Adjournment; House OKs TB Rule

LANSING (AP) — A mass of bills died in committee pigeonholes today as the Michigan legislature cleared a major deadline and began in earnest its race for an April 9 adjournment.

The deadline killed bills which were not reported out of committee in their house of origin.

House and Senate leaders began cracking the whip, mindful that by next Wednesday more bills will die if they have not passed their house of origin. Appropriation and taxation bills are exempt from these rules.

The Senate Appropriations Committee was tussling with public health and prison money bills and yesterday released its second appropriation bill of the session, a $975,945 grant for special maintenance work in state institutions.

The Senate Labor Committee reported out just before the deadline a Republican workmen's compensation bill which would raise benefits $4 a week in all categories of injury, except for loss of body members.

The upper chamber defeated a bill to allow municipalities to issue revenue bonds without a vote of the people, to extend municipally-owned gas and electric utilities.

The bill was defeated 13-11, four short of a majority.

Over the objections of some members, the House passed a bill permitting health officers to hold those suspected of having tuberculosis for tests for 60 days if they refuse to submit voluntarily.

In an effort to control roadside stands and traffic problems they create, the House passed a bill forbidding stands on highway rights-of-way without permits.

Bowing to the pressure of a flood of mail, the House Liquor Committee reported favorably a bill to forbid television advertisements dramatizing the drinking of liquor, beer or wine.

Pass Austerity Bill in Japanese House

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's dominant lower house today passed Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's "austerity" budget, which boosts defense spending while slashing many other government expenses.

The vote showed 303 conservatives of three parties lining up against 143 Socialists and splinter party members to give the bill an easy victory.

The budget calls for almost $2,800,000,000 for fiscal 1954-55. This is about 82 million less than last year.

Pleads Guilty to Charge

James Cornelius of 26 Bagley St. pleaded guilty to possession of an unregistered gun Wednesday before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland. He was released on $100 bond and sentence date was set for March 15.

Teenaged Ohioan Held for Monday Arraignment

Athal E. Methvin, 19, of Toledo, Ohio, was bound over to Circuit Court Wednesday following his examination on a felonious assault charge.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan ordered Methvin returned to the County Jail to await arraignment Monday at 1:30 p.m. He was unable to post a $1,000 bond. Methvin is accused of inflicting face cuts with a knife during a fight with Newman E. Wallace, 36, of 78 Baldwin Ave.

Wilson Against Reds in Service

Secretary of Defense Would Keep Commies Out of Uniform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Wilson says there is an "immediate and pressing need" to clarify laws which have permitted Communists and other undesirables to enter the nation's armed services.

Wilson made the statement Wednesday in a letter to Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee. He said the Defense Department is already studying the question of changes in the law as a "matter of urgency."

Wilson wrote in reply to a letter from Saltonstall, dated Wednesday, in which the Senator expressed concern about the problem of preventing Communists and other subversives from serving in the government in any capacity.

Saltonstall asked the cooperation of the Defense Department so that action may be taken at the current session of Congress to plug possible loopholes in the law.

Wilson noted in his reply that the armed services face a problem not only in the fact that Communists and subversives can enter the armed forces but also as to methods by which they can be discharged. He said recommendations will be submitted to the Senate committee as soon as the Pentagon completes its own study of the problem.

Saltonstall said all Senate members are "concerned about the problems of preventing Communist and other subversives from serving in our government or disrupting our life here in the United States."

Brownell Sets No Deadline on Judges

DETROIT (AP)— Attorney General Herbert Brownell says there has been no deadline set for the appointment of two new federal judges for Michigan.

Snowbound in Detroit yesterday, Brownell conferred with U. S. District Attorney Fred Kaess, Fred H. McIntire, Michigan FBI chief; James W. Butterfield, district director of immigration; Edward Hartwick, of the Wayne County Republican Precinct Organization, and others.

But he declined to talk politics with reporters.

A measure recently passed by Congress creates a new federal judgeship in Detroit and one in Grand Rapids. There are several applicants for both the eastern and western Michigan seats.

Michigan's Senators Ferguson and Potter, both Republicans, will recommend the appointees to Brownell, who will pass them on to President Eisenhower. The Senate then must confirm or reject the President's nominations.

Guests Flock to View New County Agencies Building

ROYAL OAK — A steady stream of viewers flocked to the new South Oakland County Agencise Building till well past the closing hour here yesterday for the building's formal opening.

The open house ceremonies, scheduled for 2 to 8 p.m., were delayed somewhat by a snowstorm. Guests stayed on until 9 p.m. to inspect the $168,570 building located at 107 S. Troy St.

A flag raising ceremony, delayed by the storm, was held at 3 p.m. Mrs. Lillie A. Nelson, widow of Leo A. Nelson, presented to Harry W. Horton, chairman of the building and grounds committee, an American flag for the building. The flag is in memory of Mr. Nelson who prior to his death was a member of Acorn Post 1669, VFW.

Also present at the open house were Fred Smith, chairman of ways and means; William Graham, chairman of the welfare committee; and John A. MacDonald, George H. Burt and Charles W. Hamilton of the Oakland County Social Welfare Commission.

Coffee and doughnuts were served to the visitors under the direction of Mrs. V. E. Hooper, supervisor of the Royal Oak office of social welfare, assisted by members of the staff of the veterans office and of the juvenile court.

The two story building brings branch offices of Oakland County's social welfare, veterans service, probate court, prosecuting attorney and Michigan Bureau of Social Aid together under one roof for the first time.

The building has acoustical ceilings, insulated glass windows, fluorescent lights and a gas-fired forced hot water heating system.

Gamble Store Has Its Face Renovated

Located at 336-338 Main St., the store has also taken over the space formerly occupied by a clothing store. Donald F. Burt, formerly a grocery manager, has joined Clifford VanAuken in a partnership to operate the new store.

A grand opening sale is being held at the store today, tomorrow and Saturday with coffee, cookies and other refreshments being served.

Pair in Good Condition After Car Strikes Tree

LAPEER — Reported in good condition in Lapeer County General Hospital today are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis of Pontiac whose automobile crashed into a tree on M. 24, three miles north of Lapeer Tuesday night.

Lewis, 37, suffered a broken leg and facial lacerations. His wife, Maxine, 32, also suffered facial cuts.

Three Are Re-elected to Oil Company Board

NORTH BRANCH — Louis Payne of North Branch and Carver Isles and Bert Mahaffy of Brown City were re-elected to three-year terms on the board of directors of the North Branch Oil and Gas Co. at a recent meeting.

Election of board officers is slated for next week.

6 New Gun Towers Planned at Jackson

LANSING (AP) — The State Building Division will proceed with construction of only six of the nine gun turrets planned as riot controls at Southern Michigan Prison.

A. N. Langius, director, said bids for construction of the turrets were $13,000 higher than the legislative appropriation.

"We will go ahead with six and ask the Legislature immediately for the money to build the other three," he said.

Langius said the division would drop temporarily plans to build turrets at cell blocks No. 8 and 10 in the hallmaster's area, places which prison officials said were the least essential.

The low bid was submitted by North-Moller Co., of Jackson, at $87,331. The Legislature voted $84,000 for the project, but Langius said that extras and fees would increase the total cost to $97,000.

Altar Boys to Go to Europe With Lapeer Cleric

LAPEER (AP) —On the tenth anniversary of the Rev. Cannon Charles D. Braidwood's service the parish of Grace Episcopal Church gave him a gift of $500.

He was told to take a vacation and use the money for it.

That was two years ago.

Cannon Braidwood wanted to visit Europe but not by himself.

This summer he'll make the trip — and with company. Seven altar boys will be his companions. They've earned most of their expenses. The group sails July 7 and will return Aug. 27.

Smoke Overcomes 2 in Battle Creek Fire

BATTLE CREEK (INS)—A fireman and a hotel patron were overcome by smoke Wednesday night in a quarter of a million-dollar fire which razed a chain hardware outlet.

The blaze destroyed the Battle Creek outlet of the Gamble Co., and damaged adjacent shops and a small hotel.

The fireman, Donald McCandlish, 24, and the hotel guest, Albert Hubbard, 57, both were treated at a nearby hospital and released.

Cause of the fire, fought in subfreezing temperatures, was undetermined.

COMEDY OF ERRORS — His suitcase packed, Kenneth A. Hartley of Baltimore is aided down ladder as fire swept fifth floor of Parker House Hotel in Boston early today. Police in passing cruiser, unaware of the fire, arrested Hartley for questioning under impression he had climbed out on a ledge for a suicide leap. His release followed quickly as 500 other guests were routed from their beds, with no serious injuries.

Students Play Pranks on Duke at Melbourne

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Melbourne University students rolled out a red carpet today for the Duke of Edinburgh, but it was very old and moth eaten.

They played other pranks, too, on the visiting husband of Queen Elizabeth II. He took it all with a grin as good, clean fun.

The duke passed through the university's wrought iron gates under the giant eye of "the murkmaster," a huge contraption built by architectural students to resemble a camera. An amplifier inside squeaked out a running commentary on this appearance of royalty on the campus.

One youth presented the duke a handful of lollipops. Another said he had a 24-page address of welcome to read, but tossed the pages into the air and urged "forget about it."

The duke laughed and laughed.

Ex-Almont Resident Wed in Congregational Rite

ALMONT — Winnifred Mortensen of Highland Park, formerly of Almont, and Irving Beatty of Rochester were married Friday evening in First Congregational Church.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Norma Tiller of Oxford in the candlelight service. Fred Sanday of Rochester served as best man.

Parliament Protected

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and other members of Parliament got extra police protection in and around the House of Commons today to prevent any incident similar to last Monday's shooting spree by Puerto Rican fanatics in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Fire Damages Boston Hotel

500 Guests Evacuated From Parker House; One Man Injured

BOSTON (AP)—Three guests were assisted down ladders and some 500 others were evacuated down three elevators and a staircase as fire swept the fifth floor of the famed 14-story Parker House early today.

Joseph C. Fitzgerald, 47, of Coral Gables, Fla., one of three men brought down ladders, suffered smoke inhalation and was treated at Boston City Hospital.

Kenneth A. Hartley, 39, of Baltimore, Md., and Gordon Shillinglaw, 27, of Yonkers, N. Y., were the other two guests helped down ladders.

Hartley, a metallurgist with Bethlehem Steel, said he was awakened by the screams of the next-door occupant and discovered heavy smoke seeping into his room.

He said he soaked a sheet in the bathtub and threw it over his head before climbing to the fifth-story ledge outside his window.

A passerby spotted him and telephoned police that "a man is going to commit suicide." A police cruiser arrived at the scene just before firefighters.

When Hartley was brought down a ladder—suitcase in hand—police took him into temporary custody and questioned him for trying to commit suicide. "Apparently the police didn't know about the fire until I told them," Hartley said.

Solons' Wives Offer Friendship Gesture

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wives of the five congressmen wounded by Puerto Rican terrorists in the House Monday gave a luncheon Wednesday for the wife of Puerto Rico's Governor, Luis Munoz Marin.

It was a gesture of American friendship for the law-abiding people of Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Clifford Davis, wife of the Democratic representative from Tennessee, issued the invitation to Mrs. Munoz and told her the other wives wanted to demonstrate that they did not hold any resentment against Puerto Rico.

Davis was shot in the right leg when four Puerto Rican fanatics fired a fusillade from a public gallery looking down on the floor of the House.

Jean Lilly Named Head of Tuesday Musicale

ROCHESTER — Jean Lilly was named president and Mrs. Howard Wilson first vice president of the Tuesday Musicale when the group met at the Avon Township Library Tuesday.

Others elected were Hazel Griffith, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Halbach, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Janoschka, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Johnson Newell, treasurer, and Mrs. Luther Green, auditor.

Couple Married Saturday in Double Ring Ceremony

Shirley Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Geror of 556 Curzon St. John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schankin of 3222 Eastwood, Avon Township.

For the ceremony, the bride chose a navy blue dress trimmed in pink. She also wore a silver chain necklace with rhinestone earrings to match.

Serving as maid of honor was Margaret Campbell of Flint. Donald Gresehover, cousin of the bridegroom from Pontiac, served as best man for the bridegroom. Mrs. Jack Hattaway Jr., sister of the bridegroom from Pontiac, was the bridesmaid.

A reception was held in the home after the ceremony. The new Mr. and Mrs. Leeds then left for a honeymoon trip through the north. They are now making their home at 392 Baldwin Ave., in Pontiac.

4 Churches Mark World Prayer Day Here Friday

ROCHESTER — World Day of Prayer will be observed here Friday with four churches collaborating in the services.

The services will be held in First Baptist Church. Participating denominations will be First Congregational Church, St. Paul's Methodist Church, St. Philip's Episcopal Church, First Baptist Church and the Church of the Nazarene.

Representatives of the four churches will also take part in the services.

Snow Disrupts Lives of Many Across State

By International News Service

DETROIT — Glenn C. Richards, superintendent of the Detroit Department of Public Works, was among those stuck in heavy snow en route to work yesterday.

Richards finally freed his car along West Seven-Mile road with the aid of fellow motorists.

His comment:

"There's more salt on Seven now than there was then."

FLINT — A 16-year-old Flint youth admitted today he aimed a snow ball across the street at a friend.

He also admitted his aim was lousy.

Damage to both cars totaled $500.

Holcomb, suffering an attack of appendicitis, was taken to Monroe General Hospital where an emergency operation was performed.

His condition was described as good.

DETROIT — Four thousand gallons of fuel oil splashed into the snow at the intersection of Livernois and Gladys yesterday when a tank truck skidded out of control on slippery pavement and its trailer overturned.

Firemen washed the oil into a storm sewer and DPW crews dumped salt on the rapidly-freezing area.

DETROIT — A utility street car used by the DSR to clear its tracks of snow, was derailed at the height of the storm at Wyoming and Michigan avenues.

An emergency crew had the car back on the tracks within 20 minutes.

Gen. Thimayya Hits Repatriation System

NEW DELHI (AP)—Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya returned from Korea today and said he opposes voluntary repatriation of war prisoners —the process he supervised as chairman of the recently dissolved Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

"This new type of warfare—the conversion of the mind—puts a premium on voluntary desertion," he told newsmen at the airport. "Are you going to have a neutral nations repatriation commission at the end of every war?"

Bethany Circle to Host Martha Circle Tonight

ROCHESTER — Bethany Circle of the St. Paul Methodist Church WSCS will host the Martha Circle at 8 p.m. today at the home of Mrs. Glenn Brooks, 1435 N. Rochester Rd.

Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. George Dillman, Mrs. Clark Teller, Mrs. Ralph Price and Mrs. Arnold Smith.

Reds Say U.S. Enticed Skipper

Soviet Mission in Tokyo Claims Russian Captain Offered Money, Asylum

TOKYO (AP)—The Russian mission today charged that "American spies" had tried to win over a Soviet ship captain to the United States with promises of $50,000 and asylum in California.

But the efforts failed, the mission said in a statement released to Japanese newsmen.

The U.S. Far East Command did not comment immediately.

The Russian mission has had no legal position in Japan since the end of the occupation. Russia did not sign the Japanese Peace Treaty.

• • •

A Soviet spokesman identified the Russian skipper as a "Captain Kulikov." Presumably he referred to Capt. Philip Krekov, who was convicted last month on a technical charge of violating Japan's territorial waters. Krekov was nabbed off Japan's northernmost island of Hokkaido in a trap set for Japanese Communist spies.

The Russian spokesman mentioned briefly the former chief of the Communist spy ring in Japan, Yuri Rastovorov, now in American hands.

"The fact that Yuri Rastovorov, former member of the mission, disappeared suddenly one month ago together with the facts mentioned in Kulikov's statement indicate that the American spies are taking provocative action as they desire against Soviet citizens for criminal purposes," he said.

The Soviet spokesman, F. Runov, said two Americans named Albert Parmen and Edward Martin had threatened Kulikov. He quoted Kulikov as saying they had plied him with drinks and "tried to force me to sign a statement refusing to return to my home country."

Among the Moors, if a wife does not become a mother of a boy, she may be divorced with the consent of the tribe and can marry again. This continues until she does give birth to a male child.

IRONIC TWIST—Six months ago Ralph Wing, left, was a hero. He rescued year-old John Keys from the middle of a traffic-filled street in Elyria, Ohio. At the above moment he is under arrest, appearing before the boy's father, Grant Keys, Elyria's mayor. Keys fined Wing $10 on a traffic charge. "This is a rotten job," commented the mayor.

Theater Magnate Sued by Doctor

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charles P. Skouras, theater chain magnate, has been sued for a $10,000 doctor bill.

The suit was filed here yesterday on behalf of Dr. Richard Langendorf, a Chicago specialist, for services to Skouras during the theater man's illness from a heart attack in the Illinois city last November.

A spokesman for Skouras said Dr. Langendorf was called in as a consultant but that Skouras considered his fee exorbitant. The Skouras representative said it was proposed that the matter be submitted to arbitration by a panel of doctors but this offer was refused.

Alcatraz Will Not Allow Nisei to Attend Funeral

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tomoya Kawakita will not be allowed to leave Alcatraz Prison, where he is serving a life term for treason, to attend his father's funeral here tomorrow.

Morris Lavine, attorney for the Japanese - American during his trial, said he asked the permission but that James V. Bennett, director of federal prisons, denied the request.

Kawakita's conviction was based on his activities as overseer of a Japanese prisoner of war camp and his treatment of United States prisoners.

May Reverse Vote on NLRB

Lawmakers Expected to Change Decision to Weaken Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Labor Committee decision to shrink the power of the National Labor Relations Board today appeared in line for a reversal.

Chairman McConnell (R - Pa) called the committee for another closed door session amid reports a 14-13 vote of yesterday will be reconsidered.

The group, engaged in consideration of proposals to amend the Taft-Hartley labor relations act, voted to turn over to federal district courts the job of handling unfair labor practice charges now held by the NLRB.

• • •

The proposal—fashioned by a coalition of Democrats and Republicans—would leave to the NLRB only the task of determining the eligibility of workers to take part in union representation elections and overseeing the balloting.

Some members said if Rep. Perkins (D-Ky) had been present, the vote would have resulted in a 14-14 tie and the committee would have turned to another approach toward doing something about the board. Various proposals have been suggested, ranging up to complete abolition.

A reconsideration of yesterday's decision can be obtained by a majority vote of the committee.

McConnell, who said he voted against the policy, indicated there is growing sentiment for a plan which would:

1. Keep the board but make it strictly a judicial body to pass upon the merits of unfair labor practice charges;

2. Abolish the post of general counsel and substitute an administrator who would prepare cases for submission to the board and, in addition, handle all of the administrative work now in the province of the board.

Asks OK to Administer Million-Dollar Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Authority to administer the California property in the million-dollar estate of Countess Dorothy di Frasso has been requested by her niece, Mrs. Mary T. Zimbalist, wife of theatrical producer Sam Zimbalist.

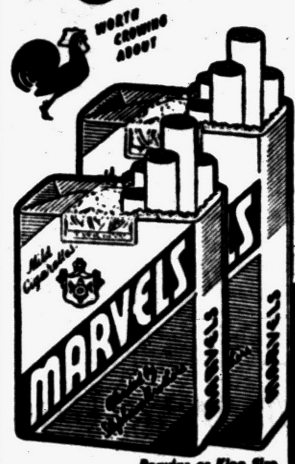

Mrs. Zimbalist is principal beneficiary under two wills of the countess, who died Jan. 4 at the age of 66.

March Means Traveling to Bloomfield Residents

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — March seems to be the month for traveling—surely for the people of Bloomfield Hills. Among those who are returning home next week are the Graham John Grahams who will have been away for six weeks on a holiday in Jamaica.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Bates returned Monday after a week in New York City visiting several old friends and "doing" the theaters. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg have returned after three weeks at Sun Valley, Idaho.

Mr. and Mrs. Maynard R. Andreae are in Miami, Fla., and the Roy D. B. Monaghans have taken Mrs. J. A. Sweeney's cottage at Vero Beach, Fla. They leave Sunday for six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne A. Andreae and their children, Phillip, Wayne and Johnny, are planning to spend this weekend at the Otsego Ski Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson and their children, Anne, Jane and Tommy, will leave on the 17th for three weeks at the Surf Club at Miami Beach.

The George T. Trumbulls are at the Surf Club now, but will soon take off for Los Angeles where they will attend filmdom's Academy Award show March 25. They will also visit San Francisco.

Nancy Trumbull will leave here Monday to go to Miami Beach. She will be joined there on the 14th by Clara Gordon, and the two girls will spend the following two weeks together at the Surf Club. Clara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Gordon, are now in California.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Limp have asked a number of their neighbors on and around Covington road to a dinner Saturday evening in honor of their new next-door neighbors, Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Tolle.

Their other guests will be Mr. and Mrs. A. M. BeGole, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde T. Oakley, Mr and Mrs. Donald E. Wright, Mrs. Grace BeGole and Mr. and Mrs. John M. Holden.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster are planning to entertain at a small buffet dinner before the party at Cranbrook Pavilion Saturday night.

Members of St. Dunstan Guild are giving another old-time movie party at which pictures of the Charlie Chaplin, Buster Keaton and Harold Lloyd era will be shown. These movies were obtained from the Museum of Modern Art.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Keenan Jr. (Dorothy Hamilton) are receiving felicitations on the birth of a son, David Lyles, Feb. 25.

• • •

Many women from Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham will attend the Monday and Tuesday tea and fashion show at the Statler Hotel, sponsored by the Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony.

Among them are Mrs. Draper Allen, Mrs. Martin L. Butzel, Mrs. Ormond E. Hunt, Mrs. Theodore O. Yntema, Mrs. Walter J. Bemb and Mrs. Earl Bartholomew.

Others are Mrs. E. S. Wellock, Mrs. Raymond T. Perring, Mrs. Roy Fruehauf, Mrs. Max H. Fruhauf, Mrs. Leslie C. Allman and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster.

Still others are Mrs. Arthur B. Tilton, Mrs. Robert H. Taylor, Mrs. George Russell, Mrs. H. S. Nichols, Mrs. Roger M. Kyes, Mrs. Charles Allison Monroe, Mrs. Robert VanderKloot, Mrs. Harold L. Ward and Mrs. Kenneth A. Wood.

Elizabeth Vaile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rawson Vaile, will become the bride of Charles D. McCall Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. McCall of West Hartford, Conn., May 8 in a 4 p.m. ceremony at Christ Church Cranbrook.

The wedding will be followed by a reception at Orchard Lake. William McCall will be his brother's best man and Mrs. William McCall will be the matron of honor.

Molly Marshall will be the junior bridesmaid and Detroiters Myra Moorhouse and Janet Miller, both of whom went to Europe with the bride-elect last summer, will be the other bridesmaids.

• • •

Nancy French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. French, will be married to Robert F. Murray, son of Mrs. Frank Murray and the late Mr. Murray, March 26. She will be the guest of honor Saturday evening at a gadget shower given by Mrs. Jack T. Steelman and Mrs. Stevenson F. Giffels at the latter's home on Manchester road.

Sunday, the bride-elect will be feted at a breakfast in the Edward Kennedy home in Detroit. Mrs. Robert Rann and Mrs. Kennedy will be hostesses.

Mrs. Albert Sturgis Crawford Jr., Nancy's sister, and Mrs. James O. Chamberlin will give the spinster dinner March 19 at the former's home in Detroit.

The wedding will be at Christ Church Cranbrook at 8 p.m. and will be followed by a reception at Bloomfield Open Hunt.

Who Wants Diamonds?

Rhinestones Are the Thing

DALLAS (INS) — Diamonds were once a girl's best friend but — due to a shortage — she'll now have to settle for washable, rustproof rhinestones.

This is the latest fashion tip from the Dallas designers, who insist that even down in this-here oil well country, where a gal can still afford diamonds, she'll wear rhinestones this summer if she wants to be stylish.

This sparkle-plenty trend was previewed today by two Texas dressmakers — Donovan and Brogan & Jennings — who showed everything from cord playsuits to casual morning frocks dressed up in glitter.

Not only were dresses and shorts perked up with rhinestones, they also sported fake pearls and gold ric-rac.

Besides putting gems on casual clothes, Brogan & Jennings also showed cottons that looked like satin, and a novel dress called the "frack" — in which front and back were designed exactly alike, with deep V decollete and king-sized buttons marching down either side from neckline to hem.

For women in love, or course, who neither know or care whether they're coming or going!

Racetracks Spell Fun in Florida

Boating and Fishing Vie for Attention of Vacationers

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI — Eyes of horse racing fans turned northward this week — northward up the highway a bit into Broward County for today's opening of Gulfstream Track-by-the-Sea.

The infield lake at Gulfstream is dotted with a flotilla of Moth sail boats that cruise leisurely throughout the day. Added attraction are skiers who perform for between-races excitement.

A new gimmick this year will be a built-to-scale replica of the old Swanee Queen sidewheeler that plied waters of the Swanee River in the days of Stephen Foster songs.

The Swanee Queen will be unveiled on Florida Derby Day, March 30 — in line with the derby's theme, "Swanee River."

The unique boat will be docked at latitude 25 degrees, 58.7 minutes north, and 80 degrees, 8.2 minutes west — if you're nautically hep that puts you, and the boat, squarely in the middle of the infield lake at Gulfstream.

Twenty-five feet long, three decks, the boat has two stacks which will belch smoke at intervals, while side wheels pound the waters — it's easily the most unusual production ever presented in horseracing.

Record crowd of nearly 35,000 turned out at Hialeah Saturday to see Turn-to from Harry Guggenheim's Cain Hoy stables win the Flamingo Stakes—and incidentally to watch the flock of bright flamingos in their annual run around the track.

But back to boats, this time, the kind that go places. Dozens of luxurious craft and their owners will head toward Key Largo this week for the annual Anglers Club commodore's party Saturday.

The club is made up of fishing and boating enthusiasts and draws top names from all over the country. Herbert Hoover, former President is a frequent visitor there — particularly during bonefishing time.

Along the fishing line (no pun intended), fishing fans from Michigan will be interested in a new film, "Bimini Tuna," part of a series of 15-minute outdoor shows that will be packaged by the Field and Stream film library for distribution in May.

"Bimini Tuna" stars Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. George A. Bass. It's a sound and color film that is action-packed, has great timing and pace, plus the human touch not found in most outdoor films.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass are frequent visitors in Bahama waters — and Mr. Bass participates in the International Cat Cay Tuna Tournament each May. Cat Cay is just a short hop-skip-and-pump, sea-wise, from Bimini, about a half-hour's air flight miles from Miami.

Races and fishing dominate the south Florida scene but the party whirl still continues.

At a big dinner-dance the other evening at the Surf Club, he and a few other male guests slipped away for a while to hear Secretary of State John Foster Dulles speak.

Speaking of Mr. Wilson, former GM president — he got his first ride in a Corvette the other day—right here in Miami. He had gone to the airport to meet Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield. There, too, was Ted Baker, president of National Airlines, who had driven his wife's Corvette. Mr. Wilson asked Baker for a ride in the Corvette — the car he had okayed when he was GM's head.

There'll be wedding bells in June for a former Pontiac girl, Ann Collias, who's here with her sister, Mary (Mrs. Paul) Vreones. Ann's engagement to Arthur Gus Carrott was announced recently in the Greek Orthodox Church, and Saturday evening there was a buffet supper to celebrate the engagement.

Here for the party in the Vreones home was Ann and Mary's mother, Mrs. Frank Collias of Pontiac.

Broken Alarm Clock Brings New Contentment to Unharmonious Pair

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "We are planning on giving a testimonial dinner for a member of this firm who is retiring fater 30 years of service. There will be a minimum charge for each ticket to help cover the cost of the dinner.

"We had intended to send complimentary tickets to his immediate family only—that is, those living at home with him, which would include his wife, a son and daughter.

"Some of those in charge of the arrangements think that all members of his family, that is, his mother, father, sisters and brothers, should receive complimentary tickets, and that the guest of honor should be consulted as to any guests he personally would like invited and that they, too, should be sent complimentary tickets. What is correct?"

Answer: It seems to me that complimentary tickets for his own immediate family, that is, his wife, son and daughter, are sufficient. However, if you feel generously inclined, it would be very courteous to include his mother and father, who might be able to come and might not.

Dear Mrs. Post: What can one say when asked point-blank by an acquaintance if she may call you by your first name? I am a very conservative person and really do not like being called by my first name by every Tom, Dick and Harry, but what can one say without being considered a snob?

Answer: You could say, "I know I am very old-fashioned, but I do not like being called by my first name."

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is being married at home in the afternoon. Her mother and also her grandmother, who is living at home with them, would like to know if they should wear hats and gloves during the ceremony?

Answer: Correctly they should.

Hubby Now Likes to Spend Evenings at Home, Working at Beloved Hobby

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband and I both work," Sally J. told me. "I'm secretary to a lawyer and Peter has a good job with a big company.

"I love homemaking, and my idea of heaven, after a busy day in the office, is to come home and cook and bake and clean and make slipcovers.

"But Peter always wanted to go out. It was ruining our budget, and our health, and we didn't have the kind of cozy, home evenings I had always dreamed of.

"But then one day a very lucky thing happened — A thing that changed our whole life for the better. You see, our alarm clock broke."

Sally grinned, and went on. "When Peter reached for it on that particular morning, he was groggy and knocked it off the bedside table.

"We can't get along without an alarm clock, but we found it would cost a lot to fix it. So that evening Peter put it together.

"He looked just like a 4-year-old, so serious, and so bound and determined to get the complicated thing together. When he was finished, two pieces were left over, but darned if the clock didn't work!

"Peter was fascinated.

"'I never knew a clock had such complicated workings,' he said. 'I'm going to find out more about that.'

"He went to the public library and got a book all about how watches are made—they call it horology.

"Friends gave us old broken clocks and watches for Peter to experiment on. He got more and more interested, and finally bought some simple tools.

"Well," Sally continued, "it's the most absorbing hobby a man ever had, and moreover, it's beginning to pay well.

"Friends pay him for repairing clocks and watches, and the word has gotten around, and he's busy as can be.

"In fact, I'm lucky if I can get him out to a movie once a week — the rest of the night's he's sitting at his worktable, having a wonderful time.

"And I'm baking and sewing to my heart's content. You never know, do you?"

Reader Seeks Drapery to Accent Scenic Paper

Draperies for a room with scenic wallpaper must be plain colored, but they can be interesting in style.

Mrs. F. E. sends a color photograph of dining room wall and asks for an idea. "I'd like a change from sheer ruffled curtains," she writes, "and would like to know what color and type of window treatment will go both in this room and the adjoining living room."

Samples enclosed show the living room paper to be patterned, in large medallions and scrolls, which also dictates plain color for the windows.

A deep green to bring out the greens in both papers is the best choice, Mrs. E.

There are a number of ways to style the windows, but sketched is one which will go well with both papers and is a favorite now.

The light you are used to through sheer curtains still comes in through upper panes and sheer cafe curtains.

Cornices wider than actual window frames permit the hanging of draperies beyond rather than over the glass and improve the window proportions.

Mrs. E. G. M. "Our living room walls are painted flamingo, an orange pink. Our new rug is soft gray and the end tables and desk are dark mahogany. Can you suggest a color for a sofa and matching chair that would tend to tone down the bright walls and bring out the pale gray of the rug?"

A deeper shade of the gray will do the most for this scheme. Three colors are already established, the flamingo, the gray and the mahogany color, and it is best not to introduce another for areas as large as upholstery covers.

Mrs. H. K. "Is there any special way that an attic room can be painted so that the slant of the walls isn't too noticeable?"

Advise Rest for Woman Past Forty

A Little Pampering Needed to Retain Youthful Vigor

It is not mere accident that some women past 40 retain their youthful appearance and vigor.

These women, the ones whose interests are as varied as a twenty-year-old's, who are alert mentally and socially, have one beauty secret in common: They know the value of proper pampering.

Constant pampering of the body never does anyone any good, be she young or old. But taking time out to restore enthusiasm is essential for successful living.

As active as they manage to be, these women are adding years gracefully, schedule a beauty rest every day. They have learned that just a brief rest can mean the difference between ending the day on a high or low note.

So they recline for 15 or 20 minutes with their feet higher than their heads to stimulate the circulation of blood. And they restore the sparkle of their eyes by covering them with soothing pads during the quarter hour.

Some women have also found a weekly oil bath very beneficial. Before relaxing in the beauty-rest position, they rub a rich body oil all over their bodies from the hairline to the feet.

Others have found that using a good body lotion has the same stimulating effect as oil.

When nervous tension threatens their day, some women count on a relaxing bath and a nap to bring them around. They spend at least a half hour in a warm bath, resting against rubber head rests with an icebag at the back of their necks.

No Iron Needed for 'Smocking'

If your toddler wears little dresses with lots of smocking about the yoke and shoulders, you can save yourself trouble and labor by "hand - pressing" that smocking.

After you've sudsed and rinsed the dress and wrung out the excess moisture, smooth out the puffs between the smocking stitches with your fingers.

Then when the dress is dry, all you have to do is iron the smooth areas. The smocking areas look best if they're not ironed.

Maybe the reason a woman dresses in front of a mirror is because she wants to see what's going on.

Here's a preview of the shoes you will be wearing next summer for fun in the sun. They're going along on winter vacations right now, are lightweight and easy to pack. Natural colored raffia (upper left) has red band across the vamp, comes with flexible cork-and-crepe sole that cushions the foot. Washable braid in multicolor (upper right) makes sandal that has straps over the instep to give it firm fit.

Denim, important in other fashions for resort wear, makes its appearance here, too. Slip-on (lower left) is charcoal denim with soft cushion insole and lightweight, thick corrugated rubber-and-cork sole. New indoor-outdoor style (lower right) comes in a number of colors, each with white awning stripe vamp. This washable shoe has natural crepe sole.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Day of Prayer Signifies Power of the Human Soul

Tomorrow as the sun rises on the Friendly Island of Tonga in the Pacific, Queen Salote, the tall handsome woman who last summer made such a sensation wearing a grass and bark robe in the coronation procession of Britain's Queen Elizabeth, will lead her subjects in prayer for a better world.

And before the sun sets over Alaska 24 hours later on this first Friday of Lent, the Day of Prayer will have been observed in 20,000 or so communities of the United States and more than a hundred countries.

MISS McBRIDE

Work will stop for services in stores, factories, hospitals and schools. Traffic will halt in many places. Friends and neighbors have made appointments to meet and pray together.

"The human soul on fire," Marshal Foch, French military leader, once called the state of prayer. He declared "the most powerful weapon on earth is the human soul on fire," and although he said this before the atom era began, wise men still know that the prayers of believers can accomplish miracles where all else has failed.

My favorite among the many true stories of faith backed by prayer is one that was told to me by Grace Perkins Oursler about a boy who one morning fell and skinned his knee. By night the scratch started to hurt, but not enough to bother a 13-year-old. Two days later the pain was excruciating and someone ran to fetch old Dr. Conklin.

"It's not likely we can save the leg," said the doctor after an examination. "If it gets worse we'll certainly have to cut it off."

The boy, hearing, called for his brother Ed and warned him not to let anybody take off the leg. Ed promised and determinedly stood guard outside the bedroom door. The fever mounted and Dr. Conklin said that nothing but a miracle could save the boy's life.

Then the family turned to prayer. Mother, father and Ed spelled one another, rising from their knees only to go about the farm work in turn. They prayed unceasingly day and night. On the third day four other brothers joined the group.

Next morning when the doctor came, he was astonished to find the swelling down and, for the first time, the boy sleeping normally. In three weeks Dwight David Eisenhower, now President of the United States, walked again.

Tomorrow, from the rising until the setting of the sun, will be important for the world's peoples, even those in countries where a day of prayer is forbidden. For the blaze of the human soul can never be extinguished by mandates nor police.

Whip New Soapsuds From Old Solution

Put Exhaust Fan in Bath or Kitchen

Installation Tasks Are Easy Enough for Average Man

By HUBBARD COBB

A splendid way to spend a Saturday is to do absolutely nothing, but the next best thing is doing something really constructive like installing an exhaust fan in the kitchen or bathroom.

This is the ideal sort of job that the average guy can really get his teeth into. Installation details differ, of course, according to type and shape of the unit, but the basic principles are about the same.

The best spot for a fan is on an outside wall, so your first job is to make the correct size opening. The correct size opening is given in the manufacturer's specification sheet.

Use a compass to outline the area that is to be cut out on the inside wall. Take a drill to start the opening on this line and then use a keyhole saw to cut out the plaster and lath. If you run into metal lath, use a hacksaw.

Now take a piece of cardboard, cut it to the exact size of the opening and mark its exact center. Hold this in the opening against the sheathing and exterior siding and drill a hole through the center of the pattern and right through to the out-side of the house.

Take your pattern outside, line up its center hole with the hole through the siding and mark out the area that is to be cut. Cut this section out and you've got your opening for the fan.

Most fans have an adjustable cylinder that will fit almost every standard kind of framing. Slip the cylinder into place and secure it with screws or nails. That's about all there is to the actual installation of the fan.

The wiring is something else again. Best thing to do here is to have an electrician bring in a wire through the wall directly above or below the fan so that it can be connected up when the fan is installed.

Bright Colors Can Be Practical

It's just as practical to go in for colorful accessories as to live in a monotone world of unrelieved dresses and suits.

Just buy washable colors — if you have a little laundering know-how, you can keep those colors as gay as the day you bought them. Pamper them just a little, but not much — wash colors in warm, not hot, soapsuds.

Don't dry them in direct sunlight. Keep very dark colors that tend to "bleed" out of the same basin with white accessories or pastels. And never, never let them get badly soiled. Soil dims colors as well as causing wear on the fabric.

Shy Lad, 20, Wants to Be Regular Guy

Yearning to Make Friends With Some Nice Girls

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm a 20-year-old college boy who is very shy. It may seem incredible, but I have never taken a girl on a date, nor kissed one.

"In some ways I've been content to be alone. But because I don't drink or smoke or go with girls, the girls think I'm stuck up, which I'm not.

I would like to make friends with some nice girls, but my shyness seems to stand in the way. Is there any way out of this plight? Is there any possible way I can show the girls that I'm a regular guy?

A shy guy is not likely to become a bombshell overnight. It may take you a bit of time to advertise the changeover from the gent who prefers his own company to a guy who is regular.

So let's take the process one step at a time. First of all, what's considered regular around where you are? List the qualities and talents if you can.

Bet they'll include an ability to trip the light fantastic, an agility with the small talk, a talent for making a girl attractive and fascinating, and a willingness to play and make little things fun. How do you stack up against that brief list of mine?

Before venturing before your audience, sharpen up on your social graces. If you've never danced with a girl in your life, latch on to some lessons. The boys you live with may be bought, bribed or persuaded to teach you.

But they can't teach you how to be an appreciative listener and a happy talker. That you'll have to train yourself to be. But you already want the company of girls, so you're half way there. They'll do their share of carrying the conversational ball.

The thing is not to bite off too big a piece at first. Get yourself a double date to begin with—one where you won't have the complete responsibility for the girl and the evening on your own shoulders.

Get one of the boys you know well to fix you up a date with a girl friend of his girl's and go out together. Follow the lead and see how easy they make it.

Don't be dashed if the first date is a dud. It just might be. But it will show you your weak points and give you leads for improving yourself. A second round with the same girl might be a success story. A new deal with a new girl might show progress.

Stick for a while to dates your friends line up for you just so you can get in the swing of things.

Then strike out on your own. Pick a girl who pleases you. Get better acquainted with her, take her out, lavish your invitations on her. If it turns out to be a beautiful friendship, you'll have accomplished your purpose.

Papa Bonaldi's Selections Move Gaylords to Top

DETROIT (UP) — What makes a male trio's singing hit the big time?

In the case of the Gaylords, three young Detroiters who've zoomed in the popular record marts, it helps to have a Papa Bonaldi.

Tunes in the smooth style of the Gaylords right now are being played with growing popularity in juke boxes, over radio and television. They're melodies that Bonaldo Bonaldi — father of the trio's lead singer — casually says, "follow the trend."

Their first big seller has shot past the million-copy mark. And that first hit, like the ones that followed, came at Papa Bonaldi's suggestion.

One side, "The Cuban Love Song," was requested by a record company that heard the Gaylords 18 months ago on a Detroit television show. Papa Bonaldi suggested the other side — "Per Un Bacio D'Amore — Tell Me You're Mine. That's the one that clicked.

Bonaldi, 55, runs a music store on Detroit's east side founded by his father Angelo when he migrated from Italy half a century ago. In a family tradition, the shop has always featured Italian music.

And Papa Bonaldi, in suggesting that the Gaylords feature the romantic melodies of Italy, draws on what his own customers like.

"It's a trend," he says. "Take the old, popular Italian songs, shuffle them, so to speak."

Then let Burt Bonaldi, 27, a former University of Detroit student and football player; Billy Christ, 23, who also plays the bass viol; and Don Rea, 25, a pianist, get together on the singing end.

The trio has been in existence almost five years, with a singing and pantomime act that ran 3 years in an east side show bar.

Papa Bonaldi is scanning his Italian tunes — also some French and Spanish ones — ready to add some new titles to the trio's repertoire.

"At the rate they're going," he says proudly, "they can use a lot of material."

Top Producer Complains TV Is Too Rushed

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What's the matter with TV entertainment? Producer Leland Hayward says it's too rushed.

Hayward is worth listening to. Once a top Hollywood agent, he switched jobs to become Broadway's most successful producer. He has fostered a string of hits, including "A Bell for Adano," "State of the Union," "Mister Roberts," "South Pacific," "Call Me Madam," "Point of No Return" and "Wish You Were Here."

He is also responsible for two of TV's most memorable shows. The first was the Ford anniversary show, which is still being talked about. His second effort was last Sunday's Comedy Hour version of "Anything Goes" with Ethel Merman, Frank Sinatra, Bert Lahr and Sheree North. It was one of the happiest TV outings within memory.

* * *

"I wasn't at all satisfied," said the rugged, plain-talking Hayward, who appears to be something of a perfectionist. "There were so many things that could have been improved if we'd had more time."

I asked him how he felt after the historic Ford show.

"I was miserable after that one," he replied, which proves he is a perfectionist.

* * *

"Everything is done in too much of a hurry in TV," he continued. "Why, we only began work on 'Anything Goes' three weeks before the show went on. Our first rehearsal was a week before the performance, and then it was only a reading of the book.

"Look how they do it in the movies. Next week Ethel starts 'There's No Business Like Show Business.' They will take eight weeks just to record the songs.

"In a play like 'Call Me Madam,' she would have five weeks rehearsal, then go on the road for six weeks before opening in New York.

* * *

"And look at the preparation for a stage show. Oscar Hammerstein had a best-selling book and a fine movie to work from yet he spent a whole year writing the book for 'The King and I.' He and Dick Rodgers would take three months writing the score and eight weeks casting before rehearsals began."

Hayward also finds fault with the TV format.

"The hour show is simply too short for a musical comedy or even a straight play," he said. "You don't really have an hour to play with; you have 48 minutes. In 'Anything Goes,' we had 22 minutes of music. That left a mere 26 minutes to get the book across. Ridiculous!

* * *

"You put a good show together, then you have to cut, cut, cut. It's the same with straight plays. They build up a good plot, then kiss off the final scene with a fast 'Is that so?' 'Yes, it is,' 'Hello,' 'Goodby.' 'You leave the audience hanging on the ropes.'"

He believes that shows will have to go an hour and a half to be effective.

Detroiter Convicted of Armed Robbery

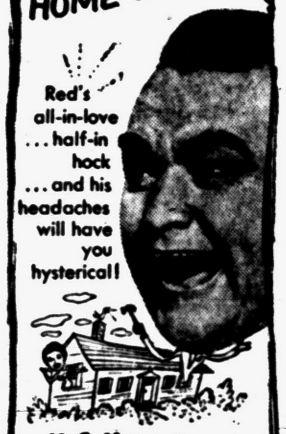

A Circuit Court jury found James Freeman, 18, of Detroit, guilty of armed robbery Wednesday and Judge H. Russel Holland set sentence for March 13.

Freeman was returned to the County Jail without bond. Assistant Prosecutor Homer G. Gerue said Freeman and a companion held up a Ferndale gas station last August and escaped with $86 after clubbing the attendant over the head with a concrete slab.

The companion, Donald Scott, 16, also of Detroit, pleaded guilty to the charge Dec. 11 and was sentenced to 5 to 20 years in prison.

NLRB Outlines 2 New Policies

Ground Rules for Unions Aim to Solve Conflicts Caused by 'Raiding'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) has established new ground rules for labor unions trying to invade territory traditionally represented by rival unions.

The new policy announced yesterday by the NLRB fails to go as far as either the AFL or CIO would like, but it does seem to aim at more peaceful solution of some union conflicts.

Both the AFL and CIO have been trying to solve their own squabbles through an as yet unratified "no raiding" agreement machinery for fights between unions within the AFL itself.

It appeared that the NLRB's new rules and the pending AFL and CIO peace plans shoot generally at the same target—fencing unions into their traditional organizing areas and trying to stop them from pirating members from each other.

The NLRB's far-reaching 3-1 ruling governs its policy on severing a particular craft unit, or group of workers with the same type of skill, from the main body of production and maintenance workers, often represented by a single union.

The board's ruling establishes two new policies:

1. It won't extend previous NLRB doctrine exempting whole industries from craft unit severance. This had been done in the basic steel, basic aluminum, lumber and wet milling (part of paper production) industries.

The NLRB said it will continue the craft unit exemption for these four industries, but won't give any more blanket exemptions to other industries.

2. It will tighten rules on severing future units. The majority said it expects to allow fewer, not more, craft unit severances and added:

"A craft unit will be appropriate for severance purposes in cases where a true craft unit is sought and where, in addition, the union seeking to represent it is one which traditionally represents that craft."

Mush Achieves New Personality

Honey Flavors Corn Meal Dish

Add Sweetening Before Frying to Dress Up Old Favorite

Ofttimes folks will add honey to corn meal mush after it is served. Next time add the honey to the corn meal mush as you are frying it. The flavor of the honey disperses throughout the whole dish.

Thoughtful homemakers will not overlook the pertinent fact that honey adds nutrition to the luncheon too. For quick energy honey is excellent; its simple sugars are easily used by the body and give the quick pick-up that a working man needs so badly at noon.

Corn Meal Mush

8 cups boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cornmeal
1 cup cold water

Put boiling water and salt in the upper part of a large double boiler. Gradually stir in one cup of corn meal that has been mixed with one cup of cold water. Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly, until the mixture is thickened. Then place over boiling water, cover and continue cooking half an hour. Stir once in a while.

Fried Mush

Pour the above cooked mixture into a loaf pan or dish. When cold, cut into ½ inch slices and saute until golden brown. Use equal parts of fat and honey.

Serve piping hot with more honey if desired.

HONEY FRIED MUSH—Fried corn meal mush is already an American favorite for lunch or a Sunday night supper. Here is a wrinkle that will add something new to an old dish. Try frying corn meal mush with honey. It's a new taste treat.

Put Spiced Whip Cream on Apple Betty Servings

Next time you make Apply Betty, serve it with spiced whipped cream if you want to taste something delectable.

Beat the cream until it's partly stiff, then beat in a confectioners' sugar mixed with cinnamon and nutmeg. Use two tablespoons of sugar and one-eighth teaspoon of each of the spices for a half cup of cream.

Almond Souffle Pie Tantalizing, Different

Almond Souffle Pie

2 cups milk
⅛ teaspoon salt
¼ cup quick-cooking rice cereal
9-inch unbaked pastry shell
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
2 eggs (separated)
½ cup sugar
½ cup finely chopped blanched almonds
½ cup seedless raisins
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

Heat milk and salt in top of double boiler over boiling water. Sprinkle in rice cereal and cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Cover and continue cooking for 10 minutes. Cool slightly. Meanwhile prepare pastry shell.

Blend together butter, egg yolks, and ¼ cup of the sugar. Add almonds, raisins and lemon rind. Combine with the slightly cooled cooked rice cereal. Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually beating in remaining ¼ cup of sugar. Fold beaten whites into rice mixture.

Pour into unbaked shell. Bake in 375 oven until lightly browned, about 45 minutes. Cool at room temperature until warm and serve. Makes 6 servings.

Toast six slices of bread and spread with butter. Place bread in warm bowls. Pour plenty of honey over bread and add hot milk.

For Sunday Brunch: Sausage and Pineapple

Pan-fry the sausage as usual; while it is browning, heat the pineapple in a little butter or margarine in another skillet. Serve with hot rolls and lots of coffee!

If you use squares of waxed paper for sifting and measuring when you're baking, you'll have fewer utensils to wash when you're finished.

Delicious First Course

Small cubes of mild cheddar cheese along with small squares of whole wheat bread and pimento-stuffed olives make a delicious accompaniment to a first course of tomato juice. Arrange the cheese and bread in a basket, and the olives in a small wooden bowl, and they'll look most attractive.

SNACK BREAKFAST—Here is "something for the girls." When the committee has a morning meeting at your house, set out a tray of hot spiced tomato juice and "Party Smacks" to get off to a good start. Later, serve hot Apple Flake Coffee Cake and coffee.

Poulet a la Kiev Means Extra Luscious Chicken

There is probably no single bird, animal or fish that has contributed so much to the gourmet's pleasure, nor provided so much variation in its preparation as the chicken.

Chicken can be simple or it can be quite complicated. Almost invariably, it is excellent.

Since it is so flexible, says an article in a current magazine, there seems to be no reason for the lack of imagination in its cooking that prevails on this side of the Atlantic.

Here, the article points out, you encounter the chicken fried or roasted with a deadly monotonous frequency. Not that this is unsatisfactory. Yet there are many delicate flavors and fragrances that can be conjured from the barnyard fowl as a result of only a little more trouble, a mite more care and thought.

After the bird has been simmered and some of the broth used in the preparation of the sauce, there remains the most superb chicken stock for use in further sauces or as the basis for wonderful soups.

Poulet A LaKiev

6 half chicken breasts
2 cloves garlic
1 stick butter or margarine
½ cup finely chopped parsley
Salt
Black pepper
Deep fat
Watercress
Flour
Beaten egg
Bread crumbs
Cutlet frills

Remove skin and bone from the half breasts of chicken, leaving on the small wing bone. Place skin side down on heavy wax paper. Cover with more paper and beat out with a wooden mallet until very thin.

Place in the center of each a small finger of firm butter, a little crushed garlic and a little chopped parsley. Season with salt and pepper. Roll up carefully, covering up all the butter, roll in flour, brush with beaten egg, and roll well in bread crumbs.

Fry in deep, hot fat, 350, until golden brown. Remove, drain well. Arrange on a hot flat dish. Stick a cutlet frill on the bone of each half chicken breast and garnish the dish with watercress.

Fix Tomato Soup in Creole Manner

Creole Tomato Soup

3 slices bacon
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely diced celery
1 can condensed tomato soup
1½ cups water

Dice bacon fine. In heavy saucepan, cook bacon, onion and celery until bacon is crisp. Add soup and water. Stir well and heat to serving temperature. Makes three servings.

Tasty way to use up leftover cooked pork: dice the meat, mix with diced apples and celery, and moisten with mayonnaise. Serve in lettuce cups.

Egg Color No Indication of Vitamin Content

Eggs with pale-colored yolks do not have less vitamin value than eggs with deeper-colored yolks. Years ago, when controlled feeding of laying hens was not well developed, darker yolks may well have reflected a higher vitamin content in the feed.

Nowadays, the practice of controlling the vitamin content of poultry feeds is widespread. The enriching supplements added to the feed for this purpose are colorless and enhance the vitamin value of the yolk without altering its natural color. So today a pale egg yolk may be just as rich as or even richer than one that is deeper colored.

Cheese Sauce Gives Fish Zest

You'll want to serve fish more often than on Friday if you try this recipe for fish fillets in cheese sauce. You'll like the new approach to the cheese sauce made in a simplified procedure with economical nonfat dry milk.

There are two other points in favor of fish fillets in cheese sauce besides the flavorful taste and the ease of preparation. This is a most economical dish and there is extra nutrition, for a greater amount of milk nutrients is packed into the recipe by using nonfat dry milk.

Fish Fillets in Cheese Sauce

1 package (1 lb.) quick-frozen fish fillets (cod or haddock)
⅔ cup nonfat dry milk
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ lb. sharp cheddar cheese, shredded
½ cup tomato catsup
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 (12-ounce) package quick-frozen peas, cooked and drained

Measure 2 cups of fish liquor. Pour into top of double boiler. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder, flour, salt and pepper over surface. Beat with rotary beater until just blended.

Place over hot water and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Stir in grated onion and cheese. Stir until cheese has melted. Add catsup, Worcestershire sauce, flaked fish and peas.

Continue to cook until mixture is heated through. Serve at once. If desired, serve over rice or toast points. Makes four servings.

Hash Is Glorified by Pickle Sauce

Corned Beef Hash With Pickle Sauce

1 No. 2 can corned beef hash
1 egg (separated)
¼ cup mayonnaise
¼ cup sweet pickle relish

Spread hash evenly over the bottom of a greased 1-quart casserole. Beat egg yolk slightly and mix with mayonnaise and pickle relish. Beat egg white until stiff; Spread over hash. Bake, uncovered, in 375 oven 15 minutes, or until hash is hot and topping is golden brown. Makes 4 servings.

2 Recipes Make Big Hit When Girls Get Together

When "the girls" of the committee get together in the morning, food always helps along the cause. More than likely, in their rush they've skimped on or skipped breakfast, which means frazzled nerves before noon.

In the interest of harmony, why don't you, as hostess, serve a snack-breakfast? Easy enough — set out a tray of these Party Smacks (they'll all be asking for the recipe!) and hot tomato juice to which you've added a bit of Worcestershire sauce and three or four whole cloves while heating. Serve in your heat resistant punch cups with a twist of lemon afloat.

A bit later on, bring the guests to the table for squares of piping hot Apple Flake Coffeecake, with plenty of butter, and coffee to spur them on.

These little Party Smacks are good to munch on any time and loved by everybody, so make plenty. They'll keep a week or more — if hidden! To make them, take down from your cereal shelf two of the family's favorite ready-to-eat cereals, believe it or not, and go on from here:

Party Smacks
(Fascinating little nibbles)

2½ cups ready-to-eat oat cereal
2½ cups bite-size shredded rice
2 cups slim pretzel sticks
1 cup salted peanuts, skinless
⅓ cup butter or margarine
4 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
½ to 1 teaspoon garlic salt
1 teaspoon onion salt
1 teaspoon celery salt

Mix the dry cereals (the rice cereal looks like doll-size waffles; the oat cereal like baby doughnuts), the pretzel sticks broken in smaller pieces, and the salted peanuts in a large oblong baking pan or a roasting pan.

Heat the butter or margarine until melted; stir in the Worcestershire sauce and seasonings. Pour over the cereal mixture and mix well. Bake in a slow oven (250 degrees F.) stirring every 5 minutes or so, for about a half hour or until lightly browned.

Recipe may easily be doubled—a good idea, for they go fast. Makes 2 quarts.

If you're in a hurry and want just a bowlful, use half the recipe and put it together in a large heavy skillet. Cook over surface heat, turned very low. Stir constantly for 8 to 10 minutes or until lightly browned.

To store: when cold, put in glass or tin containers with tight-fitting covers.

Another well-liked ready-to-eat cereal — raisin bran flakes — makes this:

Apple Flake Coffeecake

⅔ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 cup raisin bran flakes
1 egg, well-beaten
½ cup milk
3 tablespoons molasses
1½ tablespoons melted fat
2 medium sized apples
½ teaspoon or more cinnamon
½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter

Sift together flour, salt, baking powder, and soda. Add raisin bran flakes; mix well. Combine egg, milk, molasses and slightly cooled fat. Add to first mixture. Pour into greased round layer pan, 8 inches in diameter or into 8-inch square pan.

Peel, quarter, and core apples; slice lengthwise thinly and arrange in overlapping rows on cake batter. Sprinkle cinnamon and sugar over apples; dot with butter. Sprinkle some cereal flakes between apple slices. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 minutes.

Orange-Fruit Bread Very, Very Elegant

Norwegian Fruit Bread

2 ¼ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda,
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cardamom
½ cup mixed candied fruits
½ cup coarsely cut nutmeats
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 cup orange juice (not strained)

Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and cardamom into mixing bowl; add fruits and nuts. Cream shortening and sugar, beat in eggs thoroughly; stir in orange juice.

Add flour mixture; stir gently until batter is barely mixed. Spoon into three well-greased and floured No. 2 cans. Let stand at room temperature 20 minutes; bake in 350 oven 50 minutes. Remove from oven, cool about 5 minutes, then ease loaves carefully from cans and cool on sides on rack.

Pimiento Colors Festive Bread

Baked to a glossy brown, this airy-light yeast bread has a colorful veining of yellow cheese, green pepper and red pimiento. The fusion of flavors is unusual and tantalizingly delicious.

This new recipe, developed in a famous test kitchen, yields two generous-sized tea rings—ideal for casual buffets or party luncheons.

Cheese 'n' Pepper Salad Bread

2 packages compressed or dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 teaspoon sugar
⅓ cup vegetable shortening
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup sugar
¾ cup milk, scalded
2 eggs, well beaten
3½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup grated American cheese
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1½ tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon chopped onion

Crumble or sprinkle yeast in lukewarm water in small bowl. Add 1 teaspoon sugar and mix well. Let stand until yeast is thoroughly dissolved (5-15 min.).

Put shortening, salt, and ¼ cup sugar in very large mixing bowl, add scalded milk, stir until shortening is melted, then cool to lukewarm. Add eggs and dissolved yeast and mix well. Add flour gradually, beating thoroughly after each addition.

Turn out on floured board and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and brush with melted shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 1 hour).

Roll into a rectangle 18"x11" and ¼" thick. Sprinkle with grated cheese, green pepper, pimiento, and onion. Roll up lengthwise, cut into halves, and shape each half into a circle on greased baking sheets. Pinch edges together.

With scissors, cut each ring into ¾" slices, cutting almost through the roll, then turning each slice partly on its side. Let rise until light (about 30 min.). Brush surfaces with cream before baking. Bake in 400 degree oven 20-25 minutes.

CHEESE 'N PEPPER SALAD BREAD—This airy-light salad bread is truly distinctive in its delicious combination of flavors and colorful veining of yellow cheese, green pepper and red pimiento. The recipe makes two large tea rings.

Quick Tomato Sauce

2 tablespoons olive or peanut oil
1 pound ground beef
½ cup finely diced onion
1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) tomato puree
1 can (6 to 7 ounces) tomato paste
¾ cup water
3 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon dried crushed oregano
½ teaspoon dried crushed marjoram or basil
½ teaspoon gravy coloring sauce
1 clove garlic (crushed)

Pear-Orange Compote Is Refreshing Dessert

Dissolve 5 or 6 little white after-dinnermints in a cup of flavorful fresh orange juice. Combine with sliced fresh pears and arrange in dessert dishes. Top with a gay red or green maraschino cherry.

Olives, Green Pepper Dress Up Spaghetti

Next time you turn a can of that savory spaghetti with tomato sauce into a saucepan, drop in some chopped olives, stuffed or ripe. Or add a few chopped hard-cooked eggs.

Another variation. . . cook 2 tablespoons of chopped green pepper in a tablespoon of butter until soft and add to the spaghetti. Toss in about 2 tablespoons of chopped pimiento for color. Your family will like these extra touches.

Powdered Foods Include Drinks, Spaghetti Sauce

NEW YORK (UP)—More and more powdered foods are being offered in the nation's markets.

The Grocery Manufacturers' Association says you now can buy such new products as powdered spaghetti sauce, milk papaya beverage powder, and powdered buttermilk.

The spaghetti sauce is concentrated, Italian-style mix packaged in a 1½-ounce foil envelope. Instructions suggest the addition of tomato sauce, paste or soup, depending on individual tastes.

The beverage powder is advertised as a nourishing and easy to fix after-school treat for the children. The powdered buttermilk comes in one-pound packages.

Also new in food packaging are fresh-frozen hamburger patties already seasoned, crusted beef pot pie in a sealed metal container which needs no refrigeration, and another instant coffee mix which produces a mellower beverage than most of those now available.

Creamed Chicken Tops Crisp Waffles

Creamed Chicken

4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons minced onion
½ cup finely diced celery
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2½ cups milk
2 cups diced cooked chicken
½ cup slivered toasted blanched almonds
2 tablespoons minced parsley

Melt butter; add onion and celery; cook over low heat until tender. Blend in flour, salt and pepper.

Add milk; cook and stir constantly until sauce thickens and boils. Stir in chicken, almonds and parsley; heat thoroughly. Serve at once over waffles. Makes 6 servings.

Pudding Made in One Minute

Something to get acquainted with is the new instant coconut cream pudding and pie filling. Just appearing on grocery and supermarket shelves, the new instant pudding is first of its kind in this flavor.

You can make it in a minute. Just empty the package contents into 2 cups of cold milk and beat with your rotary egg beater for about a minute. Pour into serving dishes and within 5 minutes, or a little longer, it's ready to serve.

There's no guessing—you actually taste the delicate shreds of coconut right in the pudding. A very good dessert for those hustle-bustle days—no cooking at all and no sticky pots to wash.

Easy on the budget too! You get 4 to 6 servings from the package, and it comes at approximately 10 cents a package. For "dress-up" occasions you might want to add fruit such as crushed pineapple or perhaps diced banana.

If pie is preferred, then turn your finished pudding into a baked pie shell. You've got the best coconut cream pie quick as a wink!

Strawberry Parfait

1 package instant cocunut cream pudding
2 cups chilled milk
1½ cups frozen or sliced, sweetened fresh strawberries

Prepare instant pudding with milk according to package directions. In parfait glasses alternate layers of pudding and strawberries. If desired, decorate with whipped cream and strawberry. Makes 5 servings.

Good Companions

When you make an apple, cherry or mince pie, mix a cup or more of drained pineapple tidbits or crushed pineapple with the other fruit, or spread the pineapple in a layer on top of the other fruit.

Beef Left Over? Use Your Noodle

Noodles have never looked more appealing than when they play "ring around the rosy" with chunks of beef, smothered in rich beef gravy. A delightful dish is this . . . one you'll consume with relish, and want to have again real soon.

Beef noodle ring is the perfect solution for using beef that's left from a roast. It's a hearty, filling main dish . . . and is easy to make.

Just use canned beef gravy. Keep it on the shelf with your other staple foods. Then you're set for scrumptious eating when you're in a hurry, or when unexpected guests drop in at mealtime.

The flavor of canned beef gravy blends well with other meats too . . . pork, poultry, veal, lamb. It's especially in demand to perk up stews and meat loves. And it adds richness to croquettes and meat pies.

Next time you buy a roast of beef, choose one large enough to give 1 to 2 cups of left-over meat. Then try this recipe for a "second showing" as good as the first.

Beef Noodle Ring

1 8-ounce package noodles
1 small onion, minced
1 can (1¼ cups) beef gravy
1 to 2 cups beef, chopped

Cook noodles according to directions on package. Meanwhile, brown onion in small amount of butter in saucepan. Add beef gravy and meat to onion; allow to simmer 10 minutes.

Arrange cooked, drained noodles into a ring on large platter. Pour beef gravy mixture into center.

Dress Up Lunch Loaf

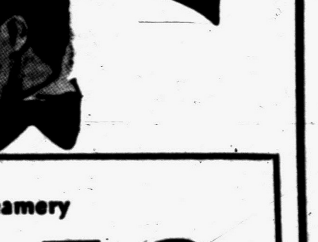

Here's a meat luncheon loaf ideal for a quick dinner or supper. Cut the loaf into one-half inch slices. Combine one tablespoon of prepared mustard with three tablespoons flour, one slightly beaten egg and one tablespoon vinegar.

Dip meat in batter, then brown the meat slices in lard or drippings.

Sunday Night Salad Uses Leftover Roast

Combine 3 cups cooked pork with 1½ cups diced celery. Blend ⅔ cup of mayonnaise with 2 tablespoons of orange juice and 1 tablespoon of grated orange rind. Mix lightly and combine with pork and celery. Arrange on lettuce and dust with additional orange rind.

SCHOOL LUNCH BOX — Good hot soup puts warmth into carry-lunches. The new wide-mouth vacuum bottle makes it possible to eat soup with the spoon right from the bottle. Happy news for the school-age and working-age set.

Accent Lamb Ribs With Spicy Sauce

Barbecued meat fanciers — and the number of this group is great — will delight in this lamb dish, barbecued lamb riblets.

The flavor of this meat lends itself perfectly to a spicy barbecue sauce, adding up to plenty of good eating.

Lamb riblets are a thrifty choice also. They are prepared from a lamb breast, corresponding to spareribs in pork. Your market man removes the breast bone, then cuts down between the ribs resulting in the riblets.

Write Your Own Ticket to a Well-Balanced Meal

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

How, when and where do you plan your meals? Do you make out complete menus for the week before you shop; or do you buy whatever looks good in the store and plan your meals in more detail after you are home?

We have done both.

Some years ago, when three college girls lived with us, we did detailed meal planning. Shopping day was Friday. Every Thursday night we sat down with the newspaper food ads and made out menus for the next seven days before writing a shopping list.

MRS. ODELL

Soon this planning fell into a pattern. For breakfast we always had fruit or fruit juice, cereal, toast or rolls and coffee. Two or three times a week we served eggs or bacon.

The girls were not in for lunch. Dinner consisted of meat and potatoes or a casserole dish, a vegetable, salad and dessert.

That was during depression days when fifty cents a day provided meat for five adults. Once a week fish helped to balance the budget; enough for a meal came to less than thirty cents.

When you are planning company meals, do you try to cater to the tastes of your guests? Of course you do. Do you ever have any trouble remembering whether it is Mr. Jones who can't stand asparagus or Mr. Smith who is allergic to chocolate?

For years, in addition to the menu plans, we kept a guest card file. We have decided to start doing so again.

Every time we had company a copy of the menu was written on a file card, along with notations such as, "Kay not fond of ice cream," or "Y. won't eat canned peas," or "G. allergic to egg yolk and H. allergic to pineapple." These are actual facts from our files.

The next time the same people came, we got out the card and planned our menu accordingly. Dishes were never duplicated unless they had been especially well received. And we avoided unwelcome foods.

It is interesting to look back to those cards. Some meals we remember so clearly.

Incidentally, there are few ways in which you can please your friends more than by paying them the compliment of remembering their little likes and dislikes and catering to them.

But back to regular menu planning.

The food situation during World War II changed our method of planning meals. What was the use of advance planning when we never knew what meat we could get, if any? When canned vegetables depended on the number of stamps we had left in our ration books. When sugar rationing limited the number and kind of desserts we could make.

In our own case, the store where we traded made up a package of meat for us each week in return for all our red stamps. When we saw what we had gotten in the "grab bag," we were able to plan what days we would eat meat.

Of late years we've relied on store planning. We now have a freezer and depend upon meat from it two or three times a week. We buy whatever additional meat seems to be the best by, attempting to get a variety.

After just so many years meal planning becomes automatic. But we cannot urge new homemakers too strongly to put your meal plans on paper until you get in the habit of planning well-balanced meals.

Looking ahead in this way saves you many frenzied last minutes. You will soon find that you have your own individual pattern, depending upon your budget, the food likes and dislikes of your family, and your inclination to fuss in the kitchen.

Pack Hot Soup With Box Lunch

Your youngsters will agree that lunch at school tastes twice as good when you include a hot dish in their box lunches. Again soup comes to the rescue.

A wide-mouth vacuum bottle is the ideal solution to the container problem. This handy bottle not only keeps the soup piping hot, but also it takes the place of the soup bowl.

Your child's lunch also should include a sandwich, some fruit, maybe a hard-cooked egg, and a sweet. Include a few finger foods, too, like celery and carrot sticks. Poke them through olives or radishes occasionally for added interest.

Try a surprise now and then. Change the soup; there are enough kinds to have a different one every school day in a month. Or fill the vacuum bottle with pork and beans or spaghetti instead of soup. Vary the sandwiches too.

Vegetables With Dash

Here's a tasty vegetable dish the family is sure to enjoy. Cook half-inch pieces of bacon with chopped onion until crisp. Add a can of succotash, and simmer gently a few minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper, and sprinkle in a few ripe olive slivers before serving.

Baby Has Own Good Ideas on What to Eat, How Much

When he is about a year old, your baby begins to develop his own food preferences and to make them known in loud and positive tones.

He'll also insist on regulating the quantity of his food intake, too. The period can be the beginning of a long bitter struggle, although it doesn't have to be.

Many doctors now believe that if a year-old baby is offered a variety of food, such as is found in the well-balanced adult diet, and is allowed to choose what and how much he will eat, he will eat what he needs in correct proportions over the course of a year.

The majority of infant malnutrition cases in the United States result not from lack of proper food or parents' nutritional ignorance, but from an unsatisfactory emotional relationship.

Realizing his growing independence, a baby wants to decide for himself how he eats, ho wmuch he eats, and what he eats. You can help the cause of neatness by making it easy as possible for him to get food into his mouth.

A deep dish and whatever utensil he handles easily, for example. Be sure he's comfortably seated, too. And if his messy eating habits annoy you or your husband, feed him away from the family gathering.

As for how much he should eat, remember that his dietary needs and his appetite decrease during the second year. In the first year he triples his weight and needs a lot to eat. In the second year he gains only one third his weight.

Infants develop different appetites for different foods just as adults do. These may change radically from meal to meal. And they are not signs of perversity—but expressions of taste.

If you can allow baby to experiment with his diet and enjoy eating, you will gain much greater satisfaction from this period of his growth.

Chili Variation

Chili con carne makes a grand treat for a Saturday night supper. For a change serve chili with potato chips or with hot corn bread. Or serve the chili on a bed of rice or on or combined with macaroni.

Try Easy Version of Chinese Seafood

Skillet Shrimp and Snap Beans

4 tablespoons salad oil
1 pound medium-size raw shrimp (shelled and deveined)
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 clove garlic (minced or crushed)
1 cup chicken bouillon
1 pound snap beans (cut in 1-inch diagonal pieces and cooked only until tender-crisp)
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon sugar
2 teaspoons soy sauce

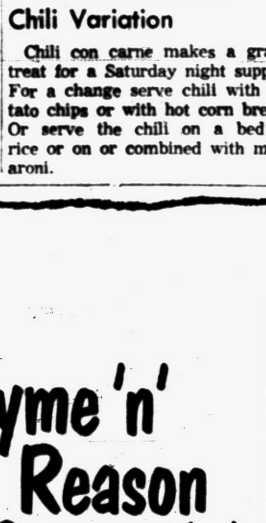

In 10-inch skillet, heat oil; add shrimp; stir often over moderate heat until opaque through and lightly browned—3 to 5 minutes. Add salt, garlic, bouillon and snap beans. Blend cornstarch, water, sugar and soy sauce until smooth; add to skillet. Cook and stir until sauce thickens. Serve at once. Makes 4 large servings.

Note: If sauce is a little thicker than you like, stir in a tablespoon of hot water. Add more salt of desired.

Stuffed Eggs Are Different

Now's the time to do that often, because egg supplies in February approach the year's high point and prices are low.

Tiny Egg Balls

2 hard-cooked egg yolks
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 egg white
1 tablespoon flour
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Force egg yolks through a sieve. Add salt, pepper, and enough egg white to moisten. Shape the mixture into small balls. Roll them in flour and saute them in fat until the balls are lightly browned. You'll have 10 small balls to add to soup just before you serve it.

* * *

Eggs Stuffed With Mushrooms

¼ pound fresh or ½ cup canned mushrooms
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup boiling water
1 cup evaporated milk
6 hard-cooked eggs
¼ cup almonds, blanched and chopped
2 tablespoons evaporated milk
Salt, pepper
Buttered bread crumbs

Clean mushrooms. Chop stems, but leave caps whole. Saute in butter or margarine. Remove mushrooms. Blend flour and salt with remaining fat in pan, and add boiling water.

Cook until sauce begins to thicken, then add one cup of milk. Cut eggs into halves. Mash the the chopped mushroom stems, almonds, two tablespoons of milk, and seasonings.

Refill egg whites with the mixture. Place them in a greased baking dish with mushroom caps, and pour sauce over the eggs. Top with buttered bread crumbs and brown in a moderate oven.

Orange Rind Is Flavorful

Grated orange rind is the thing that gives the real orange flavor to your recipes. You don't need much—a little goes a long way. Remember to grate only the orange colored portion of the rind for the white part will give a bitter taste.

PIMIENTO RICE—The "new look" in rice and biscuits is introduced by the red pimiento. Pimiento Rice — a new twist to an old favorite — and fried chicken make a tempting twosome; and Pimiento Buttermilk Biscuits will disappear like magic.

New Tricks for Preparing Chicken, Rice, Biscuits

Whether it's a luncheon for the girls or a dinner for the boys, Pimiento Rice with fried chicken and Pimiento Buttermilk Biscuits is bound to bring compliments galore.

For a delicious new version of an old favorite, pimiento rice—with its different flavor and bright, appetizing color will have everyone asking for second helpings. It's an especially tempting twosome with chicken, and to illustrate the old saying "Fingers were made before forks," we can't think of anything better than finger pieces of golden fried chicken. (If the girls still prefer forks, by all means have them on hand.)

Add to this the eye-appeal and taste-appeal of fluffy pimiento buttermilk biscuits—and since they go fast, better mix up a double batch for the menfolks.

Pimiento Rice

1½ cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup uncooked rice
1 4-oz. can or jar pimiento, chopped
¼ cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon butter or margarine

Place water and salt in a heavy saucepan. When water boils, add the butter, pimiento, and celery. Let water return to boiling again and gradually add rice. Stir once. Cover tightly, lower heat to lowest point, and let steam for 20 minutes.

To mold, lightly grease mold, gently pack rice into it, and let stand long enough to set but not cool. Turn out on platter and surround with finger pieces of golden brown chicken.

Golden Fried Chicken

1 pound chicken thighs
1 pound chicken drumsticks
1 tablespoon salt
½ cup canned evaporated milk
½ cup flour
½ cup shortening or lard

Salt the chicken, dip each piece into evaporated milk, and then roll in flour and drop into hot fat in heavy skillet. Brown on all sides to rich golden brown. Lower heat and continue cooking until well done.

If preferred, after quick browning, the chicken may be placed in baking dish (do not stack) and cooked in 325 oven for about 40 minutes.

Pimiento Buttermilk Biscuits

2 cups self-rising flour
5 tablespoons shortening
1 4-oz. can or jar pimientos, chopped
⅓ cup buttermilk, more or less

Cut shortening into flour with pastry blender or two knives. Add chopped pimientos, then stir in buttermilk until dough leaves sides of bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead lightly three or four times. Roll or pat dough to ½-inch thickness. Cut and bake on ungreased baking sheet 12 to 15 minutes at 425.

A vegetable salad platter with French dressing, cherry scones, and hot tea (or coffee) round out the meal. Now sit back and wait for the compliments. You won't have to wait long!

Don't Sacrifice Family Health to Save Time

RALEIGH, N. C. (INS) — The working wife who rushes home from the office and whips up dinner in less time than it takes to type a letter has been advised to appraise her menus.

That is the question posed by Virginia Wilson, North Carolina State College nutritionist.

She warned that the family's health is a high price to pay for time saved.

This does not mean, however, that the woman holding down two jobs must slave long hours over a stove to serve her folks foods needed for energy, muscle building and repair and health protection.

A little forethought and family cooperation is all that is needed. Explained Miss Wilson:

"In the long run, you can save time by planning your menus ahead. Every meal should have a variety of food value, flavor, color and texture."

"Let other family members help you when it comes time for the actual meal preparation. It will not only save you valuable time but it will give your helpers good training in meal service and preparation."

Salt draws out juice, so some cooks like to season their meat and poultry after it is cooked.

Mushrooms Flavor Oriental Steak Dish

Like the flavor of Chinese food? Then try this recipe!

Oriental Steak Dish

1 pound flank or round steak
2 tablespoons oil
1 clove garlic (minced)
1 cup beef consomme
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ginger
1 cup diagonally sliced celery
1½ cups diagonally sliced raw carrots
1 3-ounce can sliced broiled mushrooms
½ cup sliced scallions
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 teaspoon sugar

Cut flank steak across the grain in ¼-inch strips about 2 inches long. Heat oil in frying pan. Add meat and brown quickly.

Add garlic, consomme, salt, ginger, celery and carrots. Cover and bring to boil. Cook until vegetables are barely tender. Drain mushrooms, reserving broth, then add drained mushrooms and scallions to meat mixture.

Blend together and stir in cornstarch, mushroom broth, soy sauce and sugar. Cook and stir until sauce thickens. Makes 4 servings.

AN ORANGE A DAY—Different fresh orange ideas for every day of the week will help keep the family healthy and happy. Slice them, squeeze them, make a sundae or a salad or an eggnog—they're all delicious and full of vitamin C, too.

Top Steaming Bouillon With Dab of Sour Cream

Top off an evening of television with a warming beverage, hot bouillon with a puff of sour cream. It's easy to make—just heat a can of bouillon with an equal amount of water. Pour into cups and drop the sour cream on top. the flavor is delightful.

If you've made a New Year's resolution to lose weight, just substitute a lemon slice for the sour cream. Hot bouillon is good as a midmorning snack, too. It "peps you up" without putting on pounds.

Surprise Family With Jiffy Cake

One of these mornings, surprise the family with Honey Crisp Coffee Cake. It goes together in a jiffy and takes only 30 minutes to bake. Its baking aroma will bring the family to the breakfast table in a hurry.

Honey Crisp Coffee Cake

1⅓ cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
⅓ cup milk
3 tablespoons melted shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add to flour mixture, stirring until mixture is smooth.

Pour into greased 8-inch square or 9-inch round pan. Top with Honey Crisp Toppnig. Bake in moderately hot oven (400) about 30 minutes. Makes one coffee cake.

Honey Crisp Topping

2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine
⅓ cup honey
¼ cup shredded coconut
⅓ cup crushed cornflakes
⅓ cup drained, crushed pineapple

Cream together butter or margarine and honey until light and fluffy. Add coconut, cornflakes and pineapple and mix thoroughly. Spread on coffee cake batter. Makes topping for one coffee cake.

Rule-of-Thumb Guide for Purchasing Fish

Rule-of-thumb guide for brides when buying fish: If fish is cleaned and scaled, allow one pound for two portions. A pound of fillet or fish steaks serves three.

Fish suitable for stuffing should weigh at least three pounds after being skinned and boned. A company-size stuffed fish should be baked at 550 degrees for the first 10 minutes, then reduced to 425 degrees for a half hour or more, depending upon weight. It's safe to figure 10 minutes per pound for the first four pounds and five minutes for each extra pound.

Lean fish requires basting or brushing with butter drippings every ten minutes. Fat fish does not.

Juicy Oranges Enhance Flavor of Ordinary Dish

We Americans eat a lot of oranges! Truly a year around item, oranges are the most important fruit handled in the retail store at all seasons, both in pounds and dollar volume.

Nutrition specialists say the more we eat of this fruit the better. It is one of our chief sources of vitamin C, the vitamin most deficient in the American diet.

According to the National Research Council, a moderately active man needs 75 milligrams of vitamin C a day. He can get this by eating one medium orange — about 3 inches in diameter.

Eating as much of the whole orange as possible is important, too. It was discovered recently that the white pulp of the orange contains valuable nutrients.

There are many ways you can keep the consumption of this healthful fruit high in your home. A good old fashioned fruit bowl is especially effective because oranges and other fresh fruit look as good to eat as they are. The fruit bowl is a constant reminder of delicious snacks.

Try these two orange recipes for dishes that are truly different — and good.

Self Saucing Orange Pudding

1 cup sifted all purpose flour
2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons margarine or butter
⅔ cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 egg, beaten
½ cup hot water
½ cup sugar
1½ cups fresh orange juice
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
¼ teaspoon salt
Orange sections for garnish (optional)

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Sift the first 3 ingredients together. Cream margarine or butter, sugar, and orange rind together. Beat in egg.

Add hot water alternately with flour mixture, beginning and ending with flour. Pour batter into a well-greased, lightly floured 8x8x2-inch pan. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over unbaked batter. Bake 45 minutes or until done.

Cut into squares and serve while warm with the sauce spooned over each serving. Garnish with orange sections, if desired. 6 to 8 servings.

Fresh Orange Waffles

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 eggs, separated
½ cup milk
½ cup fresh orange juice
¼ cup shortening, melted
2 tablespoons sugar

Sift the first 3 ingredients together. Stir in orange and lemon rind.

Beat egg yolks with milk; stir into flour mixture along with orange juice and melted shortening.

Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in sugar and fold into the batter. Bake batter in preheated waffle iron. Serve with your favorite syrup of orange marmalade. Yield: 4 waffles.

PICKLE POTATO SALAD ROLLS—Wonderful for open house refreshments or luncheon finger food are these Pickle Potato Salad Rolls. Ham rolls are filled with tangy potato salad made with sweet pickles, then broiled just before serving.

Ham-Salad Rolls Fine Party Fare

Open house parties are becoming more and more popular as a way to entertain. Informality is the keynote to a successful open house, and in keeping with this idea, the food should be festive yet easily prepared as guests drop in.

Pickle Potato Salad Rolls, which can be made up and kept in the refrigerator until broiling time, are appetizing ham rolls filled with pickle potato salad. Chopped sweet pickle and pickle liquid add new zest to the potato salad.

Pickle Potato Salad Rolls

½ cup chopped celery
½ cup chopped onions
½ cup chopped sweet pickles
1 canned pimiento, chopped
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2 teaspoons horse-radish
2 cups diced cooked potatoes
2 tablespoons pickle liquid
Mayonnaise
Salt to taste
6 boiled ham slices
Prepared mustard

Combine all ingredients except ham slices and mustard; mix lightly but thoroughly.

Spread boiled ham lightly with prepared mustard; place a portion of potato salad in center of each ham slice. Roll ham slice around potato salad and fasten with toothpicks.

Place on broiler rack and broil 3-4 inches from source of heat 5-8 minutes, or until ham is lightly browned. Makes 6 servings.

Rib Roast Is Real Treat With Yorkshire Pudding

Let's splurge for Sunday dinner and have a standing rib roast of beef, the prize roast of them all. Serve with it that old English favorite, Yorkshire Pudding.

Tiny onions and whole carrots may be roasted in the same pan with the meat.

How to Cook Beef Roasts

Place the roast fat side up in a shallow open pan. The rib bones in a standing-rib roast keep the roast off the bottom of the pan. Place a rolled-rib roast on a rack in the bottom of the pan.

Insert a roast-meat thermometer into the center of the roast.

Do not wash the roast. It may be wiped with a damp cloth or paper towel. Do not add water or cover the roast.

Roast in 325 oven until the roast-meat thermometer indicates the degree of doneness you desire: 140 degrees rare, 160 degrees medium, or 170 degrees well done.

Remove the roast to the platter or a smaller pan. Keep the roast warm. Use the meat drippings in the pan to make gravy.

Yorkshire Pudding

1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup milk

Combine the flour and salt in a 1-quart bowl. Beat eggs well with an electric or rotary beater, then beat in milk. Pour this into the flour and continue beating until the thin batter is smooth.

Pour ½ cup of the meat drippings from the roasting pan into an 8x8-inch pan (or into 6 deep muffin pans). Heat the pan in the oven. Add the pudding batter and bake in a hot oven 30 minutes. Cut into squares to serve.

This means that the roast and batter bake in the same oven for 15 minutes, then the roast is removed to "set" before carving. Makes 6 servings.

Frozen Juice Makes Creamy Frosting

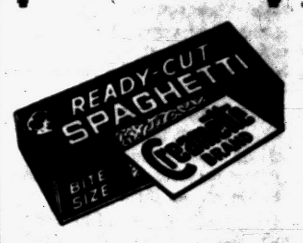

This luscious orange juice frosting takes the cake when it comes to providing a crowning touch to your masterpiece. And this is where that convenient can of quick-frozen orange juice concentrate comes in. A third of a cup of the orange juice added to butter and confectioners' sugar gives you a dreamy creamy frosting of which any cake might well be proud. Try this recipe:

Orange Juice Frosting

⅓ cup butter
3 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about)
⅓ cup quick-frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed

Cream butter. Add sugar and orange juice alternately, beating until of right consistency to spread, beating after each addition until smooth. Makes 2 cups, or enough frosting to cover tops and sides of two 8-inch layers generously.

On a chilly morning add cut-up, pitted dates to hot instant or regular whole wheat cereal just before serving it to your family.

Protein Foods Rate High as True Health Builders

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Group five in our list of the basic seven foods is the group containing meat, poultry, fish, eggs, dried beans or peas, nuts or peanut butter. These foods provide the main source of protein in our diets.

Named from a Greek word meaning "first," protein was discovered more than a century ago. As scientists progressed in their studies, they found not one but many proteins, each made up of simpler materials called "amino acids."

Digestion breaks down the protein into these amino acids which are used by the body to build and repair tissues.

Of late we have read much about proteins keeping up the blood sugar. People on a reducing diet need protein at each meal so that they will not get hungry in between times and be tempted to overeat.

There are both plant and animal proteins, those of higher value being the animal ones. It is possible, however, to combine smaller amounts of the animal proteins with plant proteins to get an adequate supply. Thus a casserole of ground beef and rice (a cereal) provides sufficient protein for the family at one meal.

Since meats and, of late years, eggs are among the most expensive of our foods, we have looked for ways of using small amounts in an appetising way and of substituting less expensive forms of protein.

Let's remember once again the economy beef about which we have often talked. Cheaper cuts of all meat contain just as much protein as do porterhouse steaks.

The recommended amounts to be served to each person in the family are one serving of meat, poultry or fish daily and three or more eggs a week. These are minimum amounts. More is perfectly all right. Many people prefer more protein and like some form of it at every meal.

You will notice that nuts are listed in this group. It is easy to use them to add extra protein to our diet. Grind up some nuts to use in meat loaf; add nuts to salads and desserts; give the children a handful of nuts for an after-school treat.

The universal use of peanut butter in this country is probably a good thing for our families.

Eggs can be fixed in so many different ways that they may be served at any meal. They are standard breakfast fare. They may be added to milk for eggnog. They make meat and vegetable sauces much richer.

They give added flavor and value to homemade breads. They make excellent desserts. Books have been written on egg cookery.

For most of us only the size of our food budget determines the number of eggs we can use in a week. May we remind you that the color of the egg shell has absolutely no effect on the value of the protein in the egg; but it may make a difference in the price.

Buy all the animal protein that your budget will allow. Supplement it with plant proteins. Where your family dislikes one form of meat, fish or poultry, substitute another. Use eggs in as many ways as you can afford to.

You'll be repaid by seeing the family healthy and happy and well fed.

Wash the soot and dirt off the leaves of your house plants occasionally so that the leaves can "breathe." Let the leaves dry away from the sun.

Crabmeat Is Added to Flavor Macaroni

Macaroni-Crab Casserole

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces (2 cups) elbow macaroni
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ pound mushrooms (cleaned and sliced)
3 tablespoons flour
3½ cups milk
1 6½-ounce can crabmeat
1 tablespoon minced onion
Salt and pepper
¼ pound cheddar cheese (finely diced)

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Melt butter in a saucepan; add mushrooms and cook gently until tender. Remove mushrooms; blend flour into butter remaining in pan. Add milk all at once; cook and stir over low heat until thickened.

Mix sauce with macaroni, mushrooms, crabmeat and onion; add salt and pepper to taste. Turn into buttered 1½-quart casserole; sprinkle with cheese; bake in 350 oven 40 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Here's Different Way to Make Popovers

New-Method Popovers

1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 eggs
1 cup milk

Stir flour and salt together; cut in shortening until texture is like cornmeal. Beat eggs and milk enough to combine; add to dry ingredients and beat until smooth.

Place greased custard cups on baking sheet. Fill one-third full. Bake in moderate (375F) oven until well browned, about 50 minutes. Remove from oven and cut a slit in the side of each popover to let out steam. Return to oven for 10 minutes.

Remove from cups at once and serve. Makes 12 medium or 8 large popovers.

Young Cowboys Will Love Stew

This beef main dish will be a favorite with your family and especially with those would-be cowboys. They will love this way of eating their vegetables and meat together, and will beg to have this he-man dish — Ranch House Stew — again and again.

Happily for you, this main dish is quick to put together and needs no attention while it cooks except for adding the vegetables at the proper time.

You will find you will be serving this hearty beef and vegetable stew over and over again because it is a family pleaser as well as being easy on mother.

Ranch House Stew

¼ cup flour
2½ lbs. beef stew meat (cut in 1½ inch cubes)
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup water
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup onions, coarsely chopped
¾ cup uncooked rice
2 cups sliced carrots
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1½ cups water

Roll the beef in the flour. Use all the flour. If any is left, sprinkle it over the meat in the skillet. Melt the butter or margarine in a skillet or large saucepan.

Add the beef and brown well on all sides. Add the one-half cup of water, salt and pepper. Bring to a boil. Turn the heat down. Cover and simmer about 2 to 2½ hours or until the meat is tender.

During the last 45 minutes of the cooking time, add the onions, rice, carrots, tomatoes and the 1½ cups of water. Cook covered over a low heat until the rice is tender. Add additional water, if desired, to make a thinner stew. This recipe makes eight generous servings.

Ice Cream Sundaes Now in Packages

Now you can enjoy ice cream sundaes at home without fussing or fixings. Everything you need for this popular treat comes already combined in one package.

This new product, Sundae Center Ice Cream, has recently been introduced here. It consists of a center layer of delicious fudge topping sandwiched between two layers of creamy butter pecan ice cream.

PLANKED FISH—Here's an easy meal to prepare. The fish, peaches, whipped potatoes and lima beans are all quick-frozen which eliminates time-consuming preparation. Try planking the fish with a border of fluffy whipped potatoes.

Fish Fillets on the Plank Will Be Tempting Tonight

Are you wondering what to serve for dinner tonight that might be just a little different? Try serving planked fish — quick-frozen fish fillets baked on the plank you usually reserve for the lordly steak.

You can also dress this sea-going star up with a border of fluffy quick-frozen whipped potatoes squeezed through a pastry tube. It is indeed a sight to behold. Lucky for you, fish is available no matter what section of the country you live in because of the modern marvel of quick-freezing.

According to Herbert Stevens, seafood product manager of a national frozen food company, fish were the first foods to be commercially quick-frozen.

The process of quick-freezing makes it possible to pack such favorites as cod, haddock and ocean perch when they're at their best fresh from the sea and distribute them to all parts of the country at all times of the year.

For something "different" in the vegetable course, serve quick-frozen lima beans Western style. This means you add crisp bacon and canned tomatoes to a 10-ounce package of big butter Fordhook limas.

Lima Beans Western

3 slices bacon
1 box (10 ounces) frozen Fordhook lima beans
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon chopped chives

Cut bacon in ½-inch pieces and fry until crisp. Remove bacon from pan and reserve drippings. Cook lima beans, according to package directions, adding the bacon drippings.

Add salt and pepper to tomatoes; simmer 5 minutes. Add lima beans and bacon and heat thoroughly. Garnish with chopped chives. Makes 2 or 3 servings.

Planked Fish

Place quick-frozen fish fillets (frozen or thawed) in baking dish, brush with melted butter, and sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Bake in 450 oven 20 to 30 minutes. Place fish on well-oiled, heated plank.

Arrange border of frozen whipped potatoes around plank by forcing mashed potatoes through large pastry tube close to edge of plank. Brush all with melted butter. Sprinkle potatoes with paprika.

Onion-Potato Soup Is Quickly Prepared

Onion-Potato Soup

3 large onions (thinly sliced)
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ cups boiling water
2 chicken bouillon cubes
1½ cups milk
½ cup instant mashed potato
1 cup cream or evaporated milk
½ cup cooking sherry
Salt and pepper to taste
Parsley for garnishing

Cook onion gently in butter for 10 minutes. Add boiling water and bouillon cubes; cover and simmer for about 20 minutes, or until onions are soft. Force onions and liquid through sieve. Add milk; heat to scalding, then stir in instant mashed potato; cook, stirring for a minute or so. Add cream and sherry; season with salt and pepper. Heat piping hot. Garnish with chopped parsley. Makes 5 or 6 servings.

Want to Become a Bonafide Expert at Making Stew?

If you'd be an expert stew-maker, follow these basic rules:

1. Use any meat desired — beef, veal, lamb or pork — and cut into cubes.

2. Dip meat cubes into seasoned flour and brown in a little hot fat over medium heat. For best results, brown only a few cubes at a time.

3. Add interesting seasonings, such as some celery tops, a few whole cloves and a bay leaf. Then add liquid to cover meat.

4. Cover and cook over low heat until meat is nearly tender.

5. Add the desired vegetables and cook until they are done. Favorite choices are carrots, potatoes and onions. Other interesting variations are peas, green beans, cauliflower, whole kernel corn, lima beans, kidney beans and cabbage.

6. Remove meat and vegetables to a hot platter and thicken liquid with a flour and water paste. Season gravy and pour over meat and vegetables.

Bland Pudding! Presto! Change!

Old-fashioned cornstarch pudding, plushily called blanc mange, is a favorite dessert with grown-ups as well as with the growing-ups. It is good that this type of dessert is so popular, for such desserts can supply a goodly amount of the milk needed in the daily dietary for good nutrition.

Lemon Blanc Mange

½ cup sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1 2-3 cups evaporated milk (1 tall can)
1 cup water
¼ teaspoon grated lemon rind

Blend sugar, cornstarch and salt in top of double boiler. Stir in milk slowly, keeping smooth. Add water. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture begins to thicken. Set over boiling water, cover and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally.

Remove from heat. Stir in lemon rind. Stir occasionally while cooling. Spoon into custard cups and chill thoroughly before serving. Unmold in serving dishes.

Spoon fresh, frozen or canned berries or sliced peaches, or canned fruit cocktail around pudding, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Note: ¼ teaspoon vanilla extract and ¼ teaspoon lemon extract may be used as flavoring in place of the grated lemon rind for a delicate lemon flavor. Or ½ teaspoon vanilla extract may be used for vanilla flavor.

Roll Oranges Firmly Before Squeezing Juice

When squeezing fresh oranges for for juice, roll the oranges firmly on the table with the palm of your hand. This loosens the juice and enables you to squeez out every last drop of healthful golden fluid.

If you need only a spoonful or so of juice, poke a hole in the rind and squeeze out the desired amount. Wrap the orange in wax paper or foil and tuck in the refrigerator. It's ready for use the next time you need some juice.

For a new version of cottage pudding, add sliced bananas to a slightly tart lemon sauce. Spoon over slices of angel food, sponge or chiffon cake.

Cheesy Veal Cutlets Delicacy for Guests

A real delicacy for a special guest dinner is veal cutlets. Instead of pounding flour into the veal, pound grated dry cheese (Parmesan or Romano) into the meat. Then pan fry slowly until lightly browned in a little hot fat, half lard and half butter or margarine.

Season veal with onion or garlic salt and a little pepper; cook over low heat for about 15 minutes, turning once or twice. Serve with hot tomato sauce "spiked" with a little Worcestershire sauce.

Hopalong Cassidy's Secret:

He Treats Kids as Adults, Grownups Like Children

By BOB CONSIDINE

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (INS) — Bill "Hopalong Cassidy" Boyd, who struck it rich in television years after Hollywood stamped him as washed up, is uniquely grateful to the audiences that have made him one of the best known and best loved figures of his time. Unlike others of his craft, Hoppy plans to do something about it.

"The kids of this country made me," the good natured, white-hair actor said the other day as he swatted a ball a country mile at the Tamarisk Golf Course.

"Now that I've got things straightened out with my TV films, I'm going to travel a lot more . . . get to more children's hospitals, orphanages, schools and places where they can get to me. It's not going to cost anybody anything except me. I want to repay the kids — as best as I can.

"I hope to keep doing something for them after I'm six feet under, too. When I go, what I've got left will go to Grace. My wife has worked as hard as I have, getting where we are. And when Grace goes, I hope to have my estate put in the hands of the Bank of America for distribution to children's welfare agencies and organizations for years to come."

Hoppy, his millions of admirers will be relieved to learn, shows no signs of "going" anywhere. His robust health and manner make an Easterner want to change into boots and chaps and go buckety bucking across the Rocky Mountains that encircle this man-made oasis in the California desert.

He's a spectacular success who remains as plain as an old stirrup.

"When I was a punk coming along I used to pray for material things," he said to Jim Welsh of Omaha and myself as we toured the course. "Then I saw a little of the other side of the tracks and I realized I had been living on the right side all along, and didn't have sense enough to know it.

"After that, I prayed only for guidance — prayed that I'd have the sense to know what was right and wrong at the decisive moment."

One of those moments came the day in 1936 when Boyd was reading a contract by which he would make eight "B" Westerns to be shown in the second run houses of the big towns.

Deep into the contract was a clause that surrendered the television rights to Clarence Mulford, of Fryeburg, Maine, author of the then semi-obscure Hopalong Casidy series of books.

Boyd, whose last "A" picture had been "The Volga Boatman," in the early days of talkies, found himself oddly fascinated by that word "television." He had hardly heard of it.

He took his wife to lunch that day and they were talking about what it might mean — this television — when they spotted an old friend who had been Boyd's cameraman years before. The friend, it seems, was now in television.

"Is it possible," Boyd asked, "that one day you'll be able to feed one of my films into that black box and people can see it and hear it in their own homes."

"That's what it's all about," his friend answered.

Now there are 150 Hopalong Cassidy sidelines, such as children's Western outfits, radios, etc., and about a thousand manufacturers waiting in line.

Cassidy is now hopping along in Cuba, England, Italy, Brazil, Philippines and Puerto Rico, with appropriate language changes.

Since Western clothes change only microscopically through the years, the Hopalong films are timeless and could conceivably be even more popular 100 years hence. Every year, millions of American children reach the television, radio, and adventure strip age. Hoppy's in all three.

"What's your secret?" I asked him, after he had taken time out to sign autographs for a member of a passing foursome.

Optimist Club Lives Up to Name—Braves Storm

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Optimist Club lived up to its name last night when 12 persons braved a blizzard to attend the annual ladies' night dinner at a downtown hotel.

The speaker's topic: "Capitalism—Can It Weather the Storm?"

Toastmasters Head Is Arnold Whittaker

Pontiac Y Toastmasters' Club elected Arnold Whittaker president at this week's meeting.

Members chose Charles Dugas as vice president; Gerald McLeod, secretary; Don Rofe, treasurer; Robert Pote, educational chairman; Paul Hinkley, sergeant at arms, and Sidney Siegel, deputy governor.

Rofe was toastmaster for this week's meeting. Speakers included Julius Baba on "The Wanderer;" Hinkley, "Evaluator from Outer Space"; Tony Renne, "The Inevitable Azimuth"; and Bill Carroll, "Selling the Cow."

Roughly half of the earth's known uranium ore lies in the Belgian Congo in the fantastic open pit mine at Shinkolobwe, 70 miles northwest of Elisabethville. Shinkolobwe's name was dropped from maps for secrecy's sake during World War II.

'Jackets Topple Romeo, Keego Trips Armada

By BILL MARTIN

An underdog Avondale team upset highly-regarded Romeo, 51-47, to steal the show in last night's opening round of district tournament play at Pontiac High School.

Coach Bob Eldridge's Yellowjackets, who won but three of 15 regular-season starts, overcame a 16-point deficit to topple Romeo. Bulldogs had been considered the chief threats to powerful Rochester for the Class B title.

Class C favorite Keego Harbor came through with an easy 57-36 conquest of outmanned Armada in the other game played Wednesday.

Rochester takes on Lake Orion in Class B tonight at 8:15 p.m., while Pontiac parochial rivals St. Michael and St. Frederick meet in a Class C battle at 7 p.m.

Wednesday's Avondale - Romeo tussle kept referees Ed Graybiel and George Gary busy tooting a total of 47 personal fouls. Romeo lost three starters—guard Bob Stewart in the 3rd period, and center Bob McKeough and forward Al Edwards in the 4th quarter. Avondale lost guard Dick Kramp in the final three minutes.

Bulldogs held a lead through the 1st three periods, moving in front 16-11 at the 1st-quarter mark and 28-19 at halftime. Avondale finally made its bid late in the 3rd period, after Romeo built up a 39-23 advantage.

Yellowjackets broke loose on a 10-point splurge, sparked by a pair of baskets and a free throw by Kramp. Avondale continued to chip away at the Romeo lead in the finale until Giles Goforth stole the ball and drove in for a bucket to knot the count at 44 points with three minutes left.

Kramp pushed Avondale into the lead with another field goal, but Romeo's Jack Markey sank two foul shots to again tie the score. A charity toss by Goforth and two more by Ray Boyl, countered by a free throw by Howard Craig, made it 49-47 and Bob Aldrich dropped in a layup in the last 10 seconds to ice the victory.

Keego trailed Armada, 12-9, at the end of the opening period, but found the range for 20 points in the following quarter to assume a comfortable 29-14 lead by intermission.

Presidents outscored Armada, 28-22, in the 2nd half to coast to its victory.

John Wassell paced Keego with 16 points, while Lester O'Shaughnessy had 12 and his brother, Jerry, 10. Al DeSmith and Bob Landon were high for the losers with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Selvy Is Top Vote-Getter on UP's All-America Five

NEW YORK (UP)—The 1954 All-America basketball team, perhaps the highest scoring college all-star squad ever assembled was announced today by the United Press.

Paced in vote-getting by Furman's famed Frank Selvy, the most prolific scorer in the history of the game, the team also included Don Schlundt of Indiana, Tom Gola of La Salle, Cliff Hagan of Kentucky, and Bob Pettit of Louisiana State.

If this "dream team" ever played a game as a unit and each player matched his season average in points, the team would roll up a fantastic 147.1 points for that game.

Lone holdover on the 2nd team was Clarence (Bevo) Francis of Rio Grande, who smashed the small-college scoring marks. Also named to that squad were Dick Ricketts of Duquesne, Frank Ramsey of Kentucky, Bob Leonard of Indiana, and Tom Marshall of Western Kentucky.

Other players are Lester O'Shaughnessy (54) and John Wassell (34) of Keego and Al DeSmit (6) of Armada. Keego won the game, 57-36.

Troy Five Victim of Warren in Curtailed Tourney Card

By JACK SAYLOR

Coming from behind has been Warren's victory formula on several occasions this season. Orioles used it again Wednesday night, erasing a 5-point deficit in the last three minutes to overcome Troy, 49-45, in the opening game of the Class B district tourney in the Troy gymnasium.

Excessive fouling and failure to cash a better percentage of their own free shots were the primary reasons for the Troy loss. Colts out-scored the winners, 19-17, from the floor, but connected on only 7 of 17 free throws. Warren hit on 15 of 26.

Blustery weather and slippery roads upset the schedule at some tourney sites, but the only alteration in the Pontiac area was the postponement of Troy's two Class D games.

They will be played tonight, along with the Utica-Clawson game, pushed up from Friday. Warren faces OL St. Mary Friday, in between two more "D" games.

Despite the weather, a full house was on hand to watch Warren's triumph. Troy took a 6-0 lead and didn't trail until the final minute of play. Warren hit on only four of 35 shots in the 1st half and lagged at intermission, 26-18.

Orioles pulled within two points at the end of the 3rd period, but Peyton Goodwin's club held them off. When Mike DeKane flipped in a hook shot, followed by a free throw, Troy had a 45-40 lead with only two and half minutes left.

Then Bob Holden dumped in two free tosses and Larry Mason popped in a long set. After Jim Murdock blew a pair of charity throws, Mason dribbled court-length to score. He was hacked in the act and converted the free throw to make it 47-45 Warren.

Don Mage's two free throws padded the lead. Loss of Jack Acton hurt Troy badly. After rebounding well and scoring five points in the 1st quarter, he left with three fouls.

He picked up his 4th just as the 2nd half started, and returned late in the game just long enough to foul out. DeKane took scoring honors with 16, while Murdock, hitting well on long one-handers, tallied 11.

At Van Dyke, Detroit Lutheran and Van Dyke Lincoln advanced in Class B. Lutheran downed St. James, 49-41, and Lincoln put on a 2nd half drive to trip Madison, 46-43.

Action continues tonight at Pontiac, Troy and Van Dyke. In addition, Class B at Bentley and Class C at Brighton open operations. A full schedule is slated Friday as Walled Lake and Ortonville tourneys begin.

3 Rookie Hurlers Please Hutch by Effective Jobs

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Tiger manager Fred Hutchinson took a long look at four pitchers, three of them rookies, in the team's 1st intra-squad game and said, "I liked what I saw."

The Detroit skipper was referring to the mound work of Al Aber, Dick Donovan, Milo Johnson and Bob Cruze in yesterday's six-innning contest.

The four pitchers gave up a total of seven hits and two runs as the "regulars" blanked the "rookies" 2-0.

Aber, a southpaw with a 4-3 record with the Tigers last year, gave up the 1st run after striking out three of the 1st four players. But then Bob Nieman singled, Bill Tuttle drew a walk and Nieman scored from 2nd when Fred Flemming slammed another single.

Frank Bolling, 2nd base aspirant accounted for the other run with an inside-the-park homer that bounced against the fence and rolled away from the outfielders. By the time the ball was recovered the speedy infielder had circled the bases.

Bolling's home run came while Johnson was on the mound. The side-arming righthander, up for another try at the big time, gave up only one other hit, a single by Walt Dropo in the final inning.

Middlecoff Is Favorite for Houston Open

Memphis Golfer Back on Tourney Circuit After Illness

HOUSTON (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, back in action after a 10-day illness, began defense today of his $30,000 Houston Open golf title.

Most frequently mentioned as the men Middlecoff may have to beat for the $6,000 top prize were two other long hitters, Johnny Palmer and Roberto De Vicenzo.

Reports From Majors' Camps

By the Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla. — Washington Senator officials waited today to find out what x-rays show about Roy Sievers' shoulder condition. He has an old injury.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—Harry Byrd, big pitcher who flopped last year after winning 15 games for the Philadelphia A's in 1952, is one of the key men in the plans of the New York Yankees and no one knows it better than manager Casey Stengel.

"He has to be figured as one of my regular starters," said Casey today. "He's a big man who has to pitch often. That was one of the things we thought of in trading Raschi."

TAMPA, Fla. — Among the most satisfactory newcomers to the White Sox fold, in the opinion of manager Paul Richards, is coach Marty Marion. "He's the best coach I've ever had," says Richards. "If these infielders don't learn something under his tutelage we might as well send them home."

TUCSON, Ariz.—Catcher Mickey Grasso, who came to the Cleveland Indians this year from the Washington Senators, says he has never worked as hard before as he does now at the Tribe's desert training camp.

Rangers Gain Tie for NHL's 4th Spot

By The Associated Press

Rangers, however, found themselves today in a flat-footed tie with the Boston Bruins. Boston has two more games to play than the New Yorkers.

In the only game played last night, New Yorkers deadlocked Bruins by tieing the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-3. Tie also enabled Toronto to take over 2nd place.

Martin Heading for Army, but Coleman's Back

Situation Reversed as Billy Is Called, Jerry Takes Over 2nd

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Call it the luck of the Yankees if you like, but somehow, somewhere, the five-time world champions always manage to come up with a replacement for their departed stars.

* * *

Billy Martin, the hero of the 1953 World Series, was Army - bound today after working out for exactly two days, but his departure was causing no furrows in the brows of the Yank brass. Sitting quietly on the sidelines was Gerry Coleman, the same fellow who left the second-base job to Martin when he was called into the Marine Corps in 1952.

* * *

Now the situation is reversed. Martin had the position, and it was Coleman who was the substitute. Billy the kid, who all but pulverized the Brooklyn Dodgers last fall, was to report to the Army in San Francisco next Monday for his second hitch.

He served 5 months starting in November 1950 and was short just two weeks of the six-month mark, which would have made him ineligible for recall. He was discharged because he claimed four dependents.

* * *

His mother called him from his home in Berkeley, Calif., yesterday with the news. She admitted later that she knew he had been called before spring training "but I just didn't have the heart to tell him about it."

* * *

Austrian Girls Try for First Skiing Victory

ARE, Sweden (AP)—Four Austrian girls tried again today for their country's first victory in the 1954 World Alpine skiing championships.

The quartet of Lotte Blatti, Trude Klecker, Luise Jarets and Erika Mahringer, who've won most of the major international races in recent years between them, went all out for today's giant slalom.

Norway's Stein Eriksen has won both men's events thus far and promised to go all out to clinch the combination title. After adding yesterday's giant slalom championship to his Sunday victory in the slalom, Eriksen is in a perfect spot.

Tuneup for Big Ten

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Michigan's Wolverines tuned up for the coming Big Ten track meet Saturday by swamping Ohio State and Michigan Normal in a triangular meet.

Michigan rolled up 103½ points to 30 for Normal and 25 for the Buckeyes.

Outlook Is Good for Michigan's Trappers

LANSING (AP) — Conservation Department game men said today they expected Michigan beaver and otter trappers to have a better than average season this spring.

The take will not come up to last year's record 17,500 beaver, however, they said.

'B' Titlists Out in Opening Test

By JOE FALLS

Associated Press Sports Writer

St. Joseph Bears, who have won six state basketball titles—more than any team in history—were eliminated from the 1954 tournament after playing only one game.

This was one of more than 80 games in the 2nd night of the district eliminations. Many others were postponed by the snowstorm which cut across the state.

Most of the postponements will be played tonight in addition to the regular schedule which sends three unbeaten teams and Saginaw St. Mary, defending Class C champion, into action.

Saginaw St. Mary, which won its opening district game Tuesday, meets Saginaw Saints Peter and Paul. This could be a tough one for St. Mary, which has a so-so 9-7 record.

The three unbeatens—East Jackson (16-0) and Grayling (16-0) in Class C and Flint Tech (15-0) in Class B—are expected to stretch their winning streaks without too much difficulty.

East Jackson, which squeezed past slumping Jackson St. Mary 46-44 last night, meets Vandercook Lake. Grayling plays East Jordan and Flint Tech faces Bendle.

Tonight's other top games find Lourdes (15-2) vs Bellville, Battle Creek Lakeview (15-1) vs Marshall, Lansing St. Mary (15-1) vs Lansing Everett, Rochester (15-1) vs Lake Orion, Houghton Lake (15-1) vs Roscommon and Rapid River vs Rock.

Ludington powered past Manistee 63-37 as Pete Tillotson, Orioles' gifted center, scored 33 points, then said: "take me out coach. I'm tired." Tillotson played only three quarters.

Three Oaks made its record 19-1 by whipping New Troy 54-37. Homer defeated Union 79-38 for its 17th win against one loss. Kalamazoo St. Augustine halted Paw Paw's 14-game winning streak 62-36. Warren downed Troy 49-45, running its record to 16-1. And Lake Leelanau St. Mary's rolled past Elk Rapids 90-34.

Surprise Action!

Holman Gets Ultimatum: Retire or Be Discharged

NEW YORK (AP)—Nat Holman, who spent virtually his entire adult life building City College of New York into a national basketball power, was told today to retire or be fired in an unprecedented decision by the Board of Higher Education.

* * *

The graying perfectionist of the court only last week was cleared of charges of misconduct by a majority report of a three-man trial committee of the board as a result of the college basketball scandals of 1951. Complete exoneration by the entire tribunal was regarded as nothing more than a formality.

But for the first time, the board overruled the recommendation of its trial committee and thus blotted out the 34-year career of the man who became known to countless thousands as "Mr. Basketball."

It was close to 1 a.m. when the board made its announcement. It had discussed the matter for more than four hours. It also voted to restore Bobby Sand, Holman's assistant, who was tried with Holman with a reprimand "to such duties as the president of City College may designate."

* * *

Holman, who led the CCNY team to victories in the NCAA and National Invitation tournaments in 1950 only to have his shining star explode when seven of his boys were found to be implicated in the fixes, seemed stunned.

* * *

"It's beyond belief," he said, emerging from the meeting room. Then he shook his head when asked for a further statement.

The formal decision gave Holman a choice of dismissal without pay as of Nov. 12, 1952 or to file an application to retire within 30 days.

Homer Chapman scored 28 points as Homer trounced Union City 79-38. Pete Kalember's free throw in the final four seconds gave Bergland a 50-49 victory over Ironwood St. Ambrose. Plainwell edged Otsego 50-49 when forward Ron Van Lent scored three points in the last three seconds.

Gordon Clark scored 30 points in Detroit St. Charles' 70-53 victory over Detroit St. Bernard. Cedar Springs blew a 12-point lead in the final period but rallied to beat Saranac 60-58.

Ike Hall netted 23 points for Decatur, which rolled up an 87-37 victory over Constantine. Hemlock turned on Merrill, 56-37, after losing to Merrill twice during the regular season. Rogers City thumped Cheboygan 54-43 as Herman Meyer poured in 26 points.

Red Sox Improvement Based Mostly on Static Condition of Yankees, White Sox and Indians

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—A number of wise baseball people, if any, figure the Red Sox have improved over any club in either league.

This may be true if they find another pitcher to replace young Maurice McDermott, their 18-game winner last fall. This is somewhat doubtful. Point of the Red Sox improvement is this. Five years ago the Yankees were the best team in their league.

* * *

The Indians and White Sox were next in line. The Yankees haven't improved to any extent for the last five years. Neither have the Indians nor the White Sox.

* * *

In the case of the Indians, although Al Rosen has improved immensely, in actual playing strength they are no better off. They have always had a good pitching staff. Neither are the White Sox better off. They were no better last season than they were five years ago.

You would think teams would go up or down in playing material. As desperately as Casey Stengel, Paul Richards and Al Lopez want, even badly need, new stars, in this long span of time they have been unable to do any real strengthening.

* * *

Year after year, Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Early Wynn keep on pitching good ball, but not good enough to win a pennant with the Indian infield.

* * *

Last year, Paul Richards added Fireball Trucks, who had a big year, but even that wasn't enough for the White Sox.

For the better part of five years the Yankees have been depending on Yogi Berra, Joe Collins, Billy Martin, Phil Rizzuto, Gil McDougald and Jerry Coleman. They have also been depending on three pitchers—Allie Reynolds, Ed Lopat and Vic Raschi.

* * *

All these men have held a remarkable run of even balance. I don't believe the Yankees have been five games different through the last five years. Now with Vic Raschi waived out of the league to the St. Louis Cardinals, this balance might be disturbed.

'Hard Way' Win Gives 'D' Title to Junior Elks

Edge Phalanx in Last Period Rally to Take Playoff Test

Junior Elks Lodge No. 723 came from behind in the last quarter Wednesday night to edge Phalanx, 41-36, in a special tie-breaking playoff game for the Class D title in the Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department's City Basketball League.

Elks trailed 19-6 at the 1st quarter, 23-15 at halftime and 30-27 at the 3rd-quarter. Jimmy Williams, Pontiac High gridder and sprinter, sank eight points in the finale to spark the Elks' 14-point winning drive.

Tie Possibility Poses Problem

Big Ten's Tight Race Clouds League's Entry in NCAA Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—Big 10 Athletic directors today considered how to select a conference representative for the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. basketball tourney of the league race ends in a tie.

If Illinois defeats Indiana Saturday, the final standings would list a 1st-place tie between Indiana, Illinois and Iowa, each with an 11-3 record. NCAA permits a conference champion to qualify automatically for its post-season tourney.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson said the subject would be discussed when the athletic directors open their regular March business meeting at champaign today. Wilson denided reports a coin toss would settle the issue.

Detroit Tech Beaten

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Taking charge early, Assumption (Ont.) College easily whipped Detroit Tech 98-65 in basketball last night. George Joseph, with 26 points, was high man for the Purple Raiders, who posted their 14th win in 18 starts.

Don Parkins was Tech's high scorer with 13 points.

Annual Two-Day Meet Attracts Outstate Aces

Tournament Slated for Saturday and Sunday at Boys' Club Gym

Nationally-ranked table tennis players will converge on Pontiac this weekend for the 19th annual Michigan Open Championships. Tournament is scheduled to start at noon Saturday and extend through Sunday evening in the Boys' Club gymnasium.

Entries have been received from many outstate players, including John Varga, of South Bend, Ind., former world's doubles champion and one of the leading authorities of the game.

Outstanding women players players also will be competing here. Elaine Mitchell of Cleveland will be defending her title. One of the foremost contenders for her crown will be comely Mary Jameson, whose strong offense won her recognition in England before her recent move to Flint.

Also bidding for the women's laurels will be State Champ Virginia Angus, former champion Phyllis Stern and Ruth Saunders.

Max Hersh of Detroit again will challenge Chicagoan Bernard Bukiet for the men's division championship. Bukeit, former European champion, edged Hersh in the finals a year ago.

Bob Short of Pontiac and Bob Pipple of Grand Haven are teamed in the men's doubles bracket. A strong contest is assured for the junior championship with Steven Isaacson of Chicago, ranked No. 2 junior in Illinois, slated to come up against strong Michigan players, including Richard Darke and Eddie Brennan, and Ray and Andy Vinci of cleveland.

State to Require Oath From Boxing Managers

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State boxing Commission in future is going to require that fight managers take an oath.

They'll have to swear as to whether they have ever been booked by police and if falsity is found a $5,000 fine and "other penalty" is possible.

Handicappers Favor OSU Tankers

By GLENN ENGLE

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Swimming is the one sport which handicappers figure they can chart most accurately in advance. Final scores can be predicted almost to the exact point, they say, on the basis of best comparative times of swimmers taking part in a meet.

On such a system of forecasting, Ohio State rates a sizable favorite to win its 6th straight title in the Big Ten swimming championships starting tonight at the University of Michigan pool.

But Michigan fans are hoping against odds that the will to win will replace past performance, to some extent, as the determining factor.

Wolverines' will to win stems from the fact that this will be the last Big Ten meet for their venerable coach Matt Mann. So there's nothing Mann's admiring swimmers would rather do than give him a conference title in his home pool for a going-away present.

Balanced Michigan team is conceded an outside chance. But the odds against the Wolverines went up after Ohio State's convincing 52-41 dual meet victory over them at Columbus last Saturday.

Mann, retiring after 29 years at Michigan, admits his perennial rival for national honors — Ohio State Coach Mike Peppe—"has the aces where I have the kings."

The "aces" are three Hawaiian Olympic stars, Ford Konno in the distances, Dick Cleveland in the sprints, and Yoshi Oyakawa in the backstroke.

Mann has a couple aces of his own. Big Ten individual medley champ Bumpy Jones is perhaps the best all-around swimmer in the meet and fellow Olympian Ron Gora should contribute some points in the sprints.

The "kings" include such performers as Co-Capt. Don Hill in the sprints and the newly-added Scottish twins, Jack and Bert Wardrop.

If the handicappers are right, Ohio State and Michigan will just about monopolize the honors. The only entry from any other school favored to win an event is John Dudeck of Michigan State, AAU outdoor 100-meter breast stroke champion.

Other standout entries are Dick Talbot, free style, and Fred Bantz, backstroke, of Purdue; Al Kuhn, sprints, Northwestern; Dick Pennington, sprints, and Buddy Lucas, middle distances, Iowa; Bob Clemens, breast stroke, Illinois, and Art Downey and Al Johnson, sprints, Minnesota.

Seven points are given for 1st place, 5 for 2nd, 4 for 3rd, 3 for 4th, 2 for 5th and 1 for 6th.

Big Business

Athletic Equipment Salesmen Among Busiest Men at Spring Training Camps

By GAYLE TALBOT

TAMPA (AP)—Among the busiest men you see in any baseball training camp at this stage of the spring exercises are the equipment people, the peddlers of bats and gloves and shoes and anything else a player might need to keep him happy. It's a big business.

* * *

Among the more successful individuals in this relatively unknown field is Hal Schumacher, who was a great pitcher for the New York Giants back in the '30s, when that team also boasted a couple of other workmen named Carl Hubbell and Freddie Fitzsimmons. Hal is an official of a somewhat new and thriving bat-making concern located at Dolgeville, N.Y.

Each player is free to order the make and weight of bat he likes, so it is Schumacher's job to convince the athlete that it is his bat, and his alone, that has a .330 average built into it. His bats are all made of ash, incidentally, as are most of those turned out nowadays by other manufacturers. It is more resilient than hickory, which once was standard.

* * *

"Each player has to be practically hand - fitted with a bat," Schumacher said. "It isn't likely that you'll ever find two players on a club using bats of the same specifications. That's the thing they are most particular about. They're really nutty about it.

* * *

"Some are bat breakers and some are not. There are some that will use up two or three dozen in a season. I don't believe that Bill Terry ever had more than three a season, he met the ball so squarely. The ones who break the most of them do not keep a firm grip as they connect. A pitcher with a sharp sinker ball also will break a lot of them.

* * *

Schumacher did not volunteer to name any of his better customers today. We gather that this would not be diplomatic, the average bat-buster being sensitive on the subject. As a hand-tooled big league bat costs something over $3 per copy, such a player is never too popular with the treasurer of his outfit.

Tide Athletic Head Resigns

Long-Time Southern Sports Leader Quits for 'Health Reasons'

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (INS) — Dr. O. C. Carmichael, president of the University of Alabama, today announced the resignation of Peter W. (Pete) Cawthorn, as athletic director.

Carmichael said that Cawthorn, director of athletics at Alabama for the past two years, wrote him a letter of resignation asking that he be relieved of his duties "owing to reasons of health."

The long time coach and southern sports leader has been hospitalized several times in the last 18 months with a serious shoulder ailment.

University officials had no word on a possible successor for Cawthorn, a veteran of 30 years in the college and professional sports field, although head grid coach Harold (Red) Drew has figured prominently in speculation.

Jap Boxers Sought for Champ's Tour

TOKYO (INS) — Negotiations were under way in Tokyo today to find two suitable opponents for world bantamweight champion Jimmy Carruthers of Australia when he visits Japan this month.

Promoter Lope Sarreal who is handling arrangements for the fights said he hopes to match the Australian champion against featherweight Akiyoshi Akanuma and bantamweight Susumu Taguchi.

Carruthers is scheduled to stage two warmup fights, one in Tokyo in March and the other in Osaka in April, before he defends his title against Chamrern Songkitrat in Bangkok on May 2.

Bradley and St. Francis Victims in Upsets

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The Bradley and St. Francis of Brooklyn basketball teams have learned to their sorrow that a bid to one of the big postseason tournaments isn't worth any points in a regular-season game.

* * *

Bradley, which meets Oklahoma City in a first-round game of the National Collegiate Basketball Championships, was favored over St. Louis last night and ran up a 10-point lead in the first quarter. But St. Louis, running fourth in the Missouri Valley Conference and never a contender for any tournament, pulled even by halftime and kept going for an 89-79 upset. Bradley had beaten its old rival 76-59 earlier in the season.

St. Francis had an even ruder surprise. The Terriers took their 20-3 record and National Invitation Tournament credentials up to play Siena, which had won only 5 of 18. Siena came from a 12-point deficit to score a 67-60 upset.

The two big tournaments split even in intertournament battles for prestige as the NCAA's Fordham outlasted Manhattan of the NIT in overtime 73-68 and Wichita of the NIT whipped Oklahoma City 76-60.

Wichita had a hand in the selecting of the only NCAA team named yesterday, Oklahoma A&M. Since the Missouri Valley Conference race won't be settled until the Aggies' game with St. Louis Saturday night, Wichita asked for and got a release from any commitment to represent the conference in the NCAA. A St. Louis victory Saturday would leave the Aggies and Wichita as co-champions.

* * *

Now, however, Wichita will play Bowling Green in the NIT first round Saturday and Oklahoma A&M will meet the Southwest Conference champion in the NCAA regional tournament on its home floor March 12.

* * *

The NIT completed its field yesterday with the addition of Brigham Young, third place team in the Mountain States (Skyline) Conference. The NIT also announced it seedings: Duquesne first, then Western Kentucky, Holy Cross and Niagara. All draw first-round byes.

* * *

Louisville, another NIT team, whipped Eastern Kentucky 93-77, and NCAA-bound Connecticut employed an all-court press to pull away from Columbia for an 80-64 victory.

Penn's defending Ivy League champions kept their hopes for another title alive by lambasting Harvard 87-46 to tie Princeton for second place. Both have 9-3 marks to Cornell's 10-2, but Cornell must play at Penn Saturday and at Princeton Monday.

Carter Mum on Title Bout

Champ Won't Predict Outcome of Friday's Match With DeMarco

By MURRAY ROSE

SUMMIT, N. J. (AP)—The championship has changed lightweight king Jimmy Carter in many ways. He's a better fighter, more confident, and richer.

In one way he hasn't changed, however. He won't make a prediction on any of his fights.

* * *

The 30-year-old New York Negro has won his last three title fights by knockouts and you get the feeling at his camp here that he expects to do the same thing to Paddy DeMarco in their title scrap at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Only he won't say so.

"I just hope he comes in swinging like he says he intends to do," said Carter. "I have to chase most opponents. I'll meet him with the right kinds of punches."

* * *

The fight will be carried by radio and television, starting at 10 p.m., EST.

PHS Five Ends Season Friday Against 'Jacks

Final Valley Battle Is Rated Only Tuneup to Tourney Action

Pontiac High's basketball Chiefs, whose hopes for a share of the Saginaw Valley Conference's runnerup honors were shattered by Bay City last week, go to Saginaw Friday to end their season against Arthur Hill.

Since the Valley's 1st four places already are settled, Friday's game shapes up as little more than a final tuneup for the teams before MHSAA regional tournaments.

Friday's only other SVC game sends Saginaw to Flint to take on Northern's champs.

State, Wolverines in Cellar Battle

EAST LANSING (AP) — The winner will kick the loser into the Big Ten basement when Michigan and Michigan State wind up their Western Conference basketball season here Saturday.

Both teams have equally dismal records of 10 conference losses against only three victories.

Mims Gets Nod Over Detroiter

Ward Still Is Winless in Big Time After Split Decision Loss

DETROIT (AP) — Classy Holly Mims had another boxing victory today and young Moses Ward still was looking for his 1st big time win. The veteran Washington, D. C., middleweight won a split decision by outsmarting Ward in their nationally televised 10-round bout at Olympia Stadium last night.

Mims, at 153, was outweighed by seven pounds.

Referee Johnny Weber and Judge Malcolm House swung the close decision in favor of Mims. Judge Jack Asprey voted had Ward in trouble three times had Ward in trouble three time and was never in trouble himself."

Ward seemed determined not to repeat the mistake which resulted in his recent 8th-round knockout by Willie Troy before another national TV audience. The Detroiter misjudged his pace and tired in the late stages of that fight.

He didn't do it this time but neither did he make enough of an impression on the officials.

Referee Weber saw the fight 93-89 for Mims. Judge House scored it 89-88 for Mims and judge Asprey called it 94-88 for Ward.

Woolworth Chain Started With Purchase of Shovel

By ED CREAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Dusk was gathering after a gray and chilly afternoon on Feb. 22, 1879. On a side street in Utica, N.Y., a freshly painted sign over a small shopfront proclaimed it to be the 'Great 5c Store.'

"Behind the store's paper-covered windows, F. W. Woolworth, proprietor, busied himself with last minute preparations before opening for business.

"A knock came at the door. Woolworth answered it. A lady, now unfortunately unidentified, held a copy of an advertising circular which the merchant had distributed that morning.

"She pointed to the item 'fire shovels' at 5c each. Woolworth invited her in and wrapped up the shovel. The customer paid him 5c in the fractional paper currency of the day, and he promptly put it into the till."

* * *

As it turned out, Frank Winfield Woolworth, a rags-to-riches self-made man if there ever was one, put quite a few pieces of folding money into the till before he was through.

And the F. W. Woolworth Co. is cheerily relating the story in an official history of itself and its founder to mark the 75th anniversary of the five-and-dime institution.

One thing bothers Woolworth's: Who was that first customer? Why did she point to the item she wanted instead of asking for it? You have the feeling Woolworth's would like to do something for the old girl—maybe give her a scoop of coal for her "fire shovel," or something even handsomer—if she were around today.

Chances are, though, she passed away without knowing she had touched off a business venture which was destined to turn American buying and selling upside down and to produce, among countless other things, the Woolworth Building and Woolworth heiress Barbara Hutton.

* * *

Old F. W. himself had his doubts at times that he'd amount to much. The Utica store failed. Poor location. So he borrowed more money, transferred operations to Lancaster, Pa., and on the whole did pretty well for himself in years to come:

Today there are 1,800 Woolworth stores in this country alone, 170 more in Canada, 800-some in the British Isles, 8 in Cuba and—bet you didn't know this—50 in Western Germany. Net sales of bonbons, bobbie-pins, baby pants and the like: Upward of 700 million dollars a year.

* * *

Woolworth did wonders for the store business. He introduced the fixed price system—no bargaining with the man behind the counter. He put the goods where you could see and handle them. He outlawed buying on credit, though that ban has since been relaxed. Today a French-Canadian customer can buy a doll on the "plan budgetaire," or lay-away system.

Some minor accomplishments of the Woolworth empire hold their own fascination. It was this outfit which popularized ice cream in Cuba, to say nothing of hot dogs and turkey dinners.

All told, the Woolworth's of today is a pretty impressive monument to a Watertown, N.Y., lad who started his business career at nothing a week. He hired out as a stockroom boy on a trial basis. The first three months were on the cuff—his cuff. When he'd proved himself, the boss put him on the payroll at $3.50 a week. This wasn't much, but then it was only an 84-hour work week.

$3,600 Base Salary for Teachers Asked

STOCKBRIDGE (INS) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams last night pleaded for a $3,600 basic teacher's salary, better retirement benefits and at least 6,500 new teachers.

"About 4,500 teachers must be replaced in Michigan each year because of retirements, marriage and changes in occupation.

"This comes at a time when our public school enrollment is going up at the rate of 60,000 students yearly."

Williams said at least three separate retirement programs are in operation in Michigan currently and he called them all "complicated and confused."

He added that Michigan teachers can look forward to annual retirement pay of $2,100 and that he has asked the Legislature to boost the sum to at least $2,400.

Germans to Act in Favor of EDC

Bonn Government Set to Change Constitution Despite French Protest

BONN, Germany (AP)—A French protest notwithstanding, the Bonn government planned today to push through projected constitutional changes to pave the way for eventual West German rearmament.

Authoritative sources said Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will address the Foreign Affairs Committee of the Bundesrat, the upper house of Parliament, tomorrow in support of amendments which the Bundestag, the lower house, approved 334-144 Feb. 26.

High U.S. and British officials discounted opposition voiced in Paris yesterday by the Foreign Affairs Committee of the French National Assembly.

They commented that French fears the Germans will be allowed to vote themselves unlimited rights to rearm are groundless.

An American spokesman said the amendments, necessary to clear the way for German membership in the projected six-nation European army, cannot become effective until the army treaty has been fully ratified by all the member nations, including France.

West Germany then would be free to raise forces only within the limits set by the treaty—500,000 men in 12 divisions with supporting air and naval units—to team up with French, Italian, Dutch, Belgian and Luxembourg troops. Until the treaty's final ratification, the occupation statute forbidding German rearmament remains in force.

The Bundestag-approved changes in the constitution would make every German man over 18 subject to compulsory military service, legalize West German membership in the European Defense Community and authorize acceptance of the near-sovereignty offered in the peace contract between Bonn and the Western Big Three.

BOARDING HOUSE

Grain Market Is Still Bullish

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans punched out new highs since 1948 in a continuation of what one house termed "the most dynamic bull market in grain's history" on the board of trade today.

It wasn't all easy going for soybeans, however. The big gains were made at the opening or immediately thereafter. Dealings were not unusually active and a scarcity of offerings was the main factor in the price jump. Later, offerings increased and beans retreated.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to 1⅜ lower, March $2.22, corn was ¼ to ⅝ lower, March $1.52⅛, oats were ⅜ lower to ⅛ higher, March 77½, Rye was ¾ lower, March $1.22, soybeans were 1 lower to 1¼ higher, March $3.52¼, and lard was unchanged to 25 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $17.45.

Chemicals, Oils Holding Up Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was slightly lower today in early dealings, although the oil section had some strong spots.

Westinghouse Electric, which has enlivened trading for the past two days, opened today on a block of 2,800 shares up off ⅛ at 63. Later it fell a little more. Yesterday and the day before, Westinghouse gained 5½ points.

Chemicals held to the higher side along with the oils. The railroads were steady as were the airlines, steels, and utilities. A little lower were the motors, coppers, aircrafts, and distillers.

Showing firm tendencies were Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Paramount Pictures, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, and U. S. Rubber.

Icy Roads Cause 2 Injury Accidents

Patrick D. Scott, 18, of 46 E. Rutgers Ave., was injured in one of the accidents and Carleen E. O'Berry, 16, of 199 S. East Blvd., was hurt in the other.

Miss O'Berry suffered bruises when a car driven by Cornell J. Kinney, 27, of 84 W. Huron St., skidded into her father's auto at Whittemore and Perkins Sts., Pontiac Police said.

Scott received bruises and cuts when his car slid into a telephone pole at Baldwin Ave. and Montcalm St. Both were treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

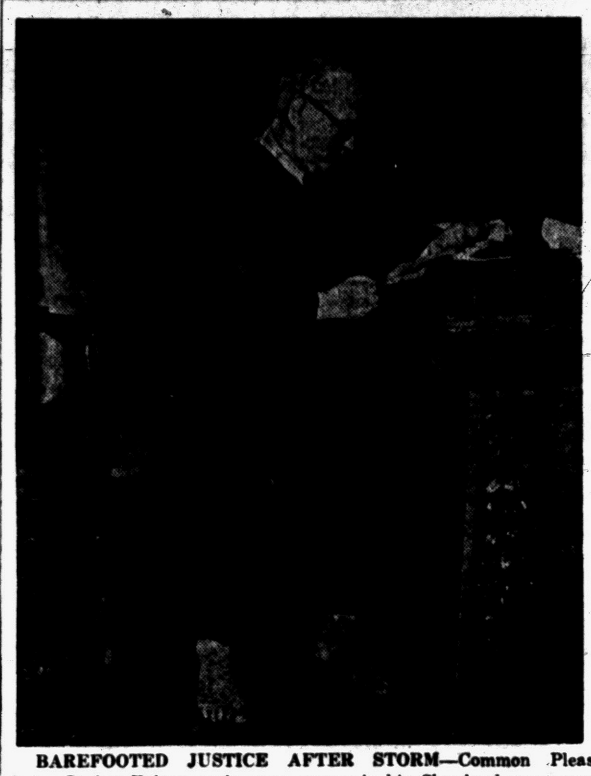

Youth Gets 10 Days Jail for Defective Automobile

A Birmingham youth who listed his occupation as mechanic, was sentenced to 10 days in Oakland County Jail yesterday and fined $15 with costs for defective auto equipment and for not having a muffler on his car.

Donald Chandanias, 17, of 25559 Farmbrook, pleaded guilty before Farmington Judge John J. Schulte, to two charges of defective equipment and one charge of not having a car muffler.

Young Files Suit Against Central

Contender for Control Would Halt Spending of Money in Proxy Fight

NEW YORK (UP)—A stockholders' suit was filed today by Robert R. Young and Allan P. Kirby against the New York Central Railroad and its board of directors.

The suit is aimed at making Central directors "pay out of their personal pockets for misuse of company funds for carrying on a proxy fight at great expense," Young said.

The Texas financier, who is fighting for control of the nation's second largest railroad, said the suit was "not a tactical maneuver."

At a press conference in his New York office, Young said his suit against the road's 15 directors is designed to halt expenditures of "any monies of the New York Central Railroad Co. for the purpose of continuing themselves in office."

The suit opposed the hiring of an outside proxy soliciting agency at "great expense" and the employment of the public relations firm of Robinson-Hannagan Associates Inc.

Young said he hopes this suit will establish a precedent to prevent the misuse of corporate assets in the future. In commenting on the hiring of Central president William White, he said:

"Not the least of these outrages is the unprecedented contract the New York Central entered into with White, whereby he recieves $125,000 a year until 65 years of age, $75,000 until 70, and $40,000 until he escapes the undertaker."

Battle Shaping Up in Labor Federation

DETROIT (AP)—A two-man battle shaped up today for the presidency of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor.

Frank X. Martel, long time president of the AFL group, and G. G. Sparkman, president of the Detroit Typographical Union, were nominated Wednesday night. Members will ballot March 17.

Martel, 65, long has feuded with the AFL Teamsters Union. It and several other AFL groups have pulled out of the Detroit-Wayne Federation in recent years.

Sparkman twice has been beaten in bids to unseat Woodruff Randolph as president of the AFL Typographical Union.

Car Kills Churchgoer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Cora Roth, 59, who had walked five miles from her home to church every week for the past 30 years, was struck and killed by a car yesterday while walking to Ash Wednesday services in the town of Oak Creek.

Sales and Inventories, Credit, Foreign Trade Lower in January

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers' sales, new orders, inventories, consumer credit and foreign trade all dropped off in January, according to government reports.

The reports issued yesterday, came amid warnings from some Democratic leaders that the country is headed for a recession. Republicans, however, have called the present business downturn a normal readjustment.

The government figures give some indication of its extent.

The monthly report from the Commerce Department's Office of Business Economics said sales of all manufacturers, after adjustment for seasonal factors, dropped off 400 million dollars to $23,700,000,000.

* * *

The seasonally adjusted sales decline in January compared with a drop in December of 200 million dollars. Sales in January this year were about one billion dollars under manufacturers' sales of January 1953.

Manufacturers reduced their inventories by 300 million dollars in January compared with a reduction of 200 million dollars, both seasonally adjusted, in December.

* * *

The further liquidation of stocks —which President Eisenhower's recent economic report to Congress spotlighted as a key factor in halting the business downturn — reduced inventories to about $46,400,000,000. This, however, was still some two billion dollars more than in January a year before.

* * *

Seasonally adjusted new orders received by manufacturers in January totaled $20,200,000,000. This was $1,800,000,000 less than new business received in December when new orders were slightly higher than in November.

Total consumer credit—debt of individuals for automobiles, consumer goods, home repairs, personal loans and services — declined 771 million dollars in January, to 28⅛ billion dollars. This compared with a contraction of 153 million in January 1953.

Installment credit — consumer debt to be repaid in installments—declined 363 million dollars in January. In January 1953, installment credit increased 167 million dollars.

* * *

The Commerce Department made a preliminary estimate that United States exports amounted to $1,075,000,000 in January while imports totaled 825 millions.

The estimated import total for January was approximately 9 per cent below both the December total and the monthly average for 1953.

Tax Review Board Hears Complaints

James F. Spence, board chairman, said decisions have been made on most complaints coming during the first two days of the board's annual session.

In the coming two weeks real estate and personal property assessments will be checked by the board. Persons wishing to determine the amount of their assessment should call the city assessor's office, Spence said.

Murder Suspect Nabbed After Making FBI List

OAKLAND, Calif. (INS) — Basil Kingsley Beck, a youthful murder suspect who made the FBI's "10 Most Wanted Men" list on his 21st birthday two days ago, will be arraigned in Oakland today on charges of unlawful flight.

Beck, also wanted for burglary and jail breaking, was captured by FBI agents in San Pablo Wednesday. Agents said he was unarmed and surrendered quietly.

Nash Offering Cooler in Some April Models

DETROIT (AP)—The newest of the auto cooling and heating systems will have a factory installed price of $395.

The system, developed by Nash Motors, will be made available on April production of Ambassador and Statesman models. Later it will be offered on Nash Rambler models.

Pastor Makes Use of Juke Box for Lent Services

CHICAGO (AP) — A transformed juke box was put into operation at opening of Lenten services at the Austin Westminster Presbyterian Church last night.

Hidden in a basement corner, it sent forth its spiritual message through a special loud-speaker in the chapel upstairs. From the control box in the chapel, members may dial their choice of 24 favorites, including a meditative sermonette cut on record by the pastor, Dr. Clarence E. Showalter.

During Lent, anyone who wishes may enter the chapel for prayer, scripture and devotional music. There is a special free dial selector.

Dr. Showalter said his wife Elizabeth had qualms about putting the juke box in the church.

"During 30 years in the ministry," he said, "I've learned to see what the need is and do it, even if it seems a little out of the ordinary."

Real Estate Men to Meet Monday

President of the Detroit Real Estate Board Sheldon L. Drennan will be guest speaker Monday at the monthly meeting of the local real estate group at 6:30 p.m in the Masonic Temple, 18 E. Lawrence St.

DRENNAN

William H. Knudsen, Pontiac Real Estate Board president, said Drennan's topic will be "Valuation, the Keystone of Real Estate."

Drennan is president of the Drennan Realty Co. of Detroit. He is past president of the Michigan chapters of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers and the Society of Residential Appraisers.

Business Briefs

Latest developments in sales policies, products and responsibilities will be reviewed by some 350 sales executives at the University of Michigan March 12 during the 1954 Conference on Sales Management.

The auto industry built a substantially larger number of cars in January than were sold at retail. Figures compiled by the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. showed January factory shipments numbered 453,378 cars and 96,568 trucks and coaches.

Opposition Develops to Fourth Judgeship

Oakland County's hopes for a fourth circuit judge by Jan. 1 faded as further opposition developed in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said Rep. Harry Phillips (R-Port Huron), house majority floor leader, will ask the bill for a fourth judge be referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

Broomfield said Phillips cited a new state policy of trying to ease crowded court dockets by "borrowing" judges from less busy counties, when possible, instead of creating costly new judgeships. Phillips also pointed to disagreement among local representatives on the need for another judge, Broomfield said.

The bill, scheduled for debate Wednesday may come before the House today, Broomfield said.

Sheriff Hubbell Names Son Stephen as Deputy

Oakland County Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell this week announced the appointment of his son, Stephen M., 21, of 1827 Woodland, Cass Lake, as a deputy sheriff.

Stephen, who graduated last month from Ferris Institute in Big Rapids with a bachelor's degree in commerce, is also a member of the 1950 winter term graduation class at Pontiac High School.

Detroit Grocer Indicted

DETROIT (INS) — A federal grand jury indictment was handed down yesterday against Detroit grocer Sebastian Moceri, 52, charging he evaded income tax payments in 1947 and 1948.

Treasury agents said Moceri paid $3,989 in 1948 when he should have paid $21,992, and $6,012 the next year when he owed $26,636.

To: Fisher Body Corp., Fred H. Robinson, T. M. Hennessey, Al Schlapman, Margaret Schabitz, J. W. Dunn, Fred Bradbury, Wm. Becker, Frank Scott, R. W. 'Shrimp Boats' to His Credit

Director Has Charge of Jo Stafford TV Show, Also Is Her Husband

NEW YORK—Paul Weston, husband of Jo Stafford, and musical conductor of television's "Jo Stafford Show," branched off into a musical career as a result of a train accident.

Although he studied piano as a boy and later at Dartmouth led a campus dance band (playing an $8 clarinet), he had no intention in his undergraduate days of pursuing music professionally.

After being graduated, a Phi Beta Kappa, from Dartmouth, Paul went to Columbia University for graduate studies. Then came the mishap and, while recuperating from serious injuries incurred therein, he became interested in writing musical arrangements.

After recovering, Paul offered his arrangements to Rudy Vallee, Phil Harris and Tommy Dorsey. Paul went with Dorsey and stayed with the band from 1935 to 1940. Then he went out on his own and became a successful free-lance arranger in New York.

He wrote for the Bob Crosby and Glen Gray orchestras, and assembled an orchestra to back a new singer named Dinah Shore.

As her arranger-conductor, Paul's reputation spread in the music world, and he went on to compose and arrange for motion pictures, radio and television.

Brown-eyed, soft-spoken Weston became West Coast musical director of Columbia Records in 1950. He works now with such vocal stars as Rosemary Clooney, Frankie Laine, Doris Day, Jo Stafford and Nelson Eddy.

His albums of famous mood music entitled "Music for Dreaming," "Music for Romancing" and "Melodies for Moonlight" are best-sellers. His most recent album is "Caribbean Cruise."

His song-writing credits include the hit, "Shrimp Boats," and the soon-to-be-released "Indiscretion" and "Autumn in Rome," from the forthcoming David Selznick motion picture, "Indiscretions of an American Wife."

Detroit Banker Revives Idea of Peppermills

DETROIT (AP)—Out of the hankering for some of the richness of another era, John M. Thompson has built a modern business.

Thompson is an investment banker. He also is one of the nation's three major manufacturers of peppermills—the kind you find on your table and grind whole black peppers with.

A peppermill is a little gadget without the sneezes found in a shaker of ground pepper. Thompson explains that none of the oils are lost from peppers ground at the table with a mill. As were other spice grinders, it was universally used in bygone days. It still is today by gourmets and an estimated quarter of one per cent of the American people.

A little peppermill handed down by ancestors which always gave him fresh pepper set the investment banker to musing: "It's a shame more people don't have them." He turned out a few by hand in his basement and distributed them among friends. Soon word spread and orders were coming in.

Business boomed so he had to have machine production. He designed and built most of it himself.

Investment banking now has become Thompson's hobby; the peppermill his business.

Pope Pius Continuing Gradual Improvement

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Pope passed his eighth consecutive "fairly good" night and his slow progress toward recovery continues today, Vatican sources said.

The informants said the amount of solid food given the 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church is slowly and very cautiously being increased. This consists of small portions of fruit and rice. Most of the Pope's diet still is semi-liquid.

TV March of Medicine Will Be on Overweight

NEW YORK—Overweight, the greatest problem in preventive medicine today, will be the subject of a nationwide television program originating in New York, Thursday, March 11, it was announced today by Dr. Robert J. Mason, president of Oakland County Medical Society.

Designated as a "progress report," the television program will be the fourth in the current 'March of Medicine' series presented by the American Medical Assn. and Smith, Kline & French Laboratories of Philadelphia.

The half-hour presentation will delve into why overeating has become the most frequent physical abnormality among Americans and what medical science is doing to combat it.

The March of Medicine program will be carried on the broadcast time of the "Martin Kane," program, sponsored by the United States Tobacco Co.

Consumption of rice in the United States averages five to six pounds per person a year, compared with an average of 200 pounds in the Orient.

Grand Jurors Eat Too Well at County Jail

READING, Pa. (AP)—The 18 members of the March Berks County grand jury issued a complaint after paying a quarterly inspection visit to county institutions that the bill-of-fare at the old folks home was just so-so. The menu: fried liver and onions.

What the grand jury report failed to mention, however, was that the prison had one menu for the jurors and another for the inmates. At the old folks home, jurors and patients had the same meal.

Flint Trades Council in Court on Picketing

FLINT (INS) — The Flint AFL Building Trades Council was due in circuit court today to show cause why a permanent ban should not be levied against picketing at two Buick division plants of General Motors Corp.

Arraignment April 1 in Fatal Stabbing

James Wood, 27, of 130 Winder St., Detroit, will be arraigned April 1 in Oakland County Circuit Court on a first degree murder charge in the stabbing of a fellow worker Jan. 7, 1953.

He was bound over to Circuit Court Wednesday after being examined on the charge before Pontiac Municipal Judge Odin H. Johnson. Wood was returned to Oakland County Jail without bond.

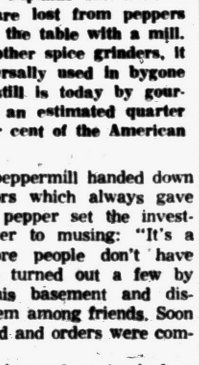

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Wood admits the "self defense" stabbing of Arthur Moran, 21, of 4675 First St., Clarkston, following a scuffle in the Pontiac Motor Division parking lot.

Pontiac Police said Wood gave himself up Feb. 6 and claimed he didn't know Moran was hurt seriously when he returned to Detroit following the argument.

School Burglaries Fail

DETROIT (AP) — Attempted burglaries at three Detroit schools came to light yesterday. But no money was taken. Since the recent wave of school burglaries the Detroit schools are under orders to keep no money on the premises overnight.

Novelist Jerome Odlum Dies in Hollywood at 48

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Novelist Jerome Odlum, 48, is dead.

He died at his home Tuesday. He was managing editor of the Minneapolis News from 1934 to1937. His novels included "Each Dawn I Die," "Dust Be My Destiny," "Mirabilis Diamond," and "Lady Sourdough."

He also wrote for the movies.

Ecuador Says Peru Closes Border

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador charged today that neighboring Peru had closed a section of their common border and moved troops toward the frontier.

A Foreign Ministry communique said protests against the actions have been lodged with the Organization of American States and the guarantors of the 1942 Rio de Janeiro Protocol — the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Chile.

The Peru-Ecuador border dispute dates back to colonial days. After open hostilities in 1941, the Rio Protocol established a definite Ecuador-Peru border line for the first time, but the area has remained a trouble spot between the two nations.
