

The Day in Birmingham

Hills Will Vote Tuesday on Special Sewer Levy

BIRMINGHAM — In a special election Tuesday, Bloomfield Hills residents are being asked to approve a one-mill special levy for the construction of trunk line sewers.

Supervisor Arno Hulet said the assessment would run for 20 years. Its main purpose is an "insurance" measure for persons or companies who will purchase the sewer bonds to finance construction.

Hulet explained that it is expected that sewer taps will finance the yearly expenses. He said taps are made at $300 each, and that $160 a year would provide sufficient funds to meet annual interest and capital payments.

The supervisor emphasized that these funds are for trunk lines only, with the various communities involved each bearing the expense of its own laterals.

"The lines are important to us," Hulet pointed out, "because the township, along with neighboring communities, is under court order from the State Department of Health to correct the present pollution of the River Rouge."

"We must have the construction of these trunk lines. The levy we are asking now will make it much easier for us to seek buyers for the bonds, in that it will assure them of a return, plus interest, on their investments."

Residents of Merritt lane, who last week petitioned the city to change the street name to Midvale, have been informed that there is a simple solution to their problem—merely replace the name sign.

The street, an apparent continuation of Midvale, was never officially designated on city plats as "Merritt lane." The changeover was requested when the three families there found friends, packages and deliveries stumped trying to find their street.

Birmingham police are nearing the final stages of their move from the western to the eastern half of the Municipal Building. Larger quarters will be provided, with many additional facilities for holding and questioning prisoners, issuing licenses, squad rooms, photographic materials and files.

When the final phone is connected in the newly refurnished section, residents will be asked to use the Pierce street entrance, formerly that of the Fire Department, to transact police business.

Birmingham Toastmaster's Club has inducted new officers, including John Kotchian, president; Brooks Whipple, first vice president; Arlan Quigley, second vice president; Harold Oates, secretary; Sherman Fox, treasurer; and William Tomko, sergeant-at-arms. Club officials announced that there are a few openings in its active membership and invite area men interested in learning how to improve their speaking ability to join.

The group meets each Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. in the YMCA.

Pontiac Jaycees Aid Rochester Unit Start

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce will spearhead a drive to establish a Jaycee chapter in Rochester, it was learned today.

Pontiac Jaycees ask that men in Rochester call either Stan Deyo at Federal 2-0994 or Cyle Haskill at Federal 4-0653.

The next meeting in the drive will be Nov. 6 when a proposed constitution and by-laws will be offered for the Rochester organization.

Its name will be presented by the Pontiac Jaycees at the next state board meeting, Deyo said.

Loyalty Group Denies Investigating Reuther

DETROIT — The City Loyalty Investigating Committee yesterday denied reports that it keeps files on Council members and United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther.

A formal explanation was demanded by Councilman Eugene I.

Van Antwerp who said he had heard reports that the committee was compiling dossiers on the union leader and some councilmen.

Clifford W. Wickman, the group's director-secretary, said his staff had checked on nobody outside of city or county employees unless the person was a close associate or in personal contact with an employee being investigated for possible disloyalty.

LEON BELKNAP HONORED — Some 400 friends of Leon V. Belknap (left), retiring Oakland County Road Commission engineer-manager, turned out at the Elks Temple last evening to say farewell to the veteran 68-year-old county official. Last spring he announced his retirement after 41 years of service. He stayed on as a consultant until yesterday. Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland was principal speaker. Commissioners from Genesee and Washtenaw County were present to pay tribute to Belknap. Presenting him with a citation for his years of service is Sol D. Lomerson, chairman of the Oakland commission. Gifts were presented to Belknap.

mayor when F. Homer Newton resigned in November 1936.

Nelson was chairman of the depositors' committee of Pontiac Commercial & Savings Bank and in 1946 was appointed Pontiac chairman of the reorganized committee for economic development, a national information committee.

A member of the Rotary Club, he also belonged to Pontiac City Club, Chamber of Commerce, Bloomfield Hills and Pine Lake Country Clubs.

Mr. Nelson, 72, leaves his wife, the former Maude Jean Jones, whom he married on Sept. 25, 1912 in Detroit; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Glenn of Pontiac; two sons, E. Edward Nelson of Watkins Lake and Robert Nelson of Pontiac; 10 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Edward Clay of Dearborn; two brothers, A. B. Nelson of Rochester and Bert F. Nelson of Cleveland.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from Sparks-Griffin Chapel with Dr. William H. Marbach officiating. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

The family requests that the memorials be made to the Civic Auditorium Fund.

How does the height of small cumulus clouds on clear days give us a clue to the moisture content of the air?

The base of these small cumulus clouds tells us at what altitude the moisture in rising air is condensing into clouds.

If clouds are forming relatively low, or close to the surface, we know that there is quite a bit of moisture in the air. We can usually expect rain when this is observed in the summer, but not necessarily in the fall.

If these little clouds are forming very high in the sky, we know there is relatively little moisture in the air and rain probably will not occur.

About 75 White Students Leave Little Rock School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U)—About 75 white students walked out of Central High School classes today in what was scheduled as a mass protest against racial integration within the school.

The white boys and girls began straggling from the main entrance of the building within moments after the 9 a.m. change-of-classes bell rang.

They walked quietly across the campus and massed on the curbing across from the building.

There they called to other students peering from the windows and doorways to join them.

"Come on, you chickens," the demonstrators shouted. "Dirty chickens," they yelled.

The students reportedly had been threatened with suspension if they took part in the demonstration. One brunette girl ran from the building and joined the demonstrating group. Almost in tears, she said:

"I couldn't get anyone else. They won't come out. I am so ashamed I could scream."

Another girl said many of her fellow students assured her, "We'll go. We'll go." But then they refused to walk out on the signal.

The first student demonstrator out of the school identified himself as Bill Davis, an 18-year-old senior.

Some of the demonstrating girls said the presence of the principal, standing inside the main entrance, discouraged many of the white students from leaving.

The same girls said their own parents had supported their plan to join the walkout.

The teen-agers said their parents had told them that if enough joined the walkout it would be impossible to discipline them. They conceded the demonstration was a failure and that they probably would be punished.

Most of the white students who walked out gathered across the street and about 60 Guardsmen started moving them from the area.

The Guardsmen, with rifles across their chests, advanced slowly down the street moving the students to the end of the block.

The troops kept after the demonstrators and later moved them a block away from the school area.

Earlier 30 Guardsmen, forming a solid military box, escorted eight Negro students into school through ranks of hooting, jeering white students.

Two Negro boys were roughed up by white students inside the school yesterday, classmates and school authorities said. Schoolmen said no great physical harm was done and three white students were suspended.

Gov. Orval Faubus received an ovation from a crowd of 8,000 last night at the Arkansas Livestock Exposition here. It was a surprise visit.

A consulting engineer for industries seeking new plant locations said the governor's actions in the controversy have cost Arkansas thousands of jobs. He is Dr. Charles H. Carpenter of Little Rock.

High-level efforts for a solution to the troop and integration problems remained stalemated although some mediation efforts continued.

Faubus stood pat on his statement concerning the most promising compromise plan yet advanced.

SIMPLE SOLUTION

Call Jurors for Trial of Accused Red Spy

NEW YORK (AP)—A panel of 125 prospective jurors was called into federal court in Brooklyn for today's start of the trial of Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, alleged Soviet master spy.

Judge Mortimer W. Byers said he planned to impanel a jury and then await the pleasure of government and defense counsel for the presentation of their opening statements.

The defense sought unsuccessfully yesterday to get a stay of the trial from Judge J. Edward Lumbard of the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Manhattan.

James B. Donovan, court-appointed lawyer for Abel, 55-year-old member of the Soviet secret police, argued that he was not ready to present an adequate defense.

Abel, nabbed by the FBI after an extensive investigation, was indicted Aug. 7 on charges of conspiring to transmit U.S. defense secrets to Russia.

Harry James Wows Bavarians With Jazz

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Trumpeter Harry James and his orchestra came straight from Hollywood's Palladium to Munich's Deutsches Theater to make music for Bavarians instead of Californians. And the crowd loved it.

Until the wee hours of this morning, 2,400 fans filled the theater to capacity, stomped, whistled and clapped their hands in rhythm to "Goodie-Googie," "Lullaby of Broadway" and the "Two O'Clock Jump."

It was opening night for James' first European tour, which will take him to Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Belgium and France in the next three weeks.

India's Mineral Output Shows Large Increase

BOMBAY — India's mineral production last year was worth 10 percent more than in 1955. This was largely due to an increase of 1-200,000 tons of coal—to 39,400,000 tons. Other minerals, in order of importance, were: manganese, mica, gold, salt, iron, limestone, and copper.

Radio Spurs Growth

WASHINGTON — Agriculture researchers have found that bombardment of hard-shelled seeds with high-frequency radio waves speeds their germination. They say they've used the waves to "crack" the coatings of sugarbeet and alfalfa seeds and have found that it promotes quick and simultaneous sprouting and helps plants mature uniformly.

Mao Receives Students

MOSCOW (AP)—Mao Tse-tung received the American youth delegation visiting Red China yesterday shortly before 16 of the group left Peiping for Moscow en route home. Moscow radio reported the meeting with the ruler of Communist China but gave no details.

There are 61,400 miles of railway track in South America.

Wyoming City Uses Up Gas During Testing

TORRINGTON, Wyo. (AP)—Periodic tests are held by Torrington city officials on gas driven engines for standby generators which are used to pump the local water supply in case of power failure. But when the power went off recently, the generators could not be started. Their gasoline supply had been used up in tests.

Name Parade Marshal

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Grand marshal for the Tournament of Roses parade and football game next New Year's Day is Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul, president of the University of California. A tournament spokesman announced, "We propose to salute education and a great educator."

Hangs Up Stop Sign at Railroad Crossing

DANVERS, Mass. (AP)—After more than 50 years as a railroad crossing tender, Ernest Dame, 78, has hung up his stop sign and retired. For the last 28 years he has presided at this town's five-pronged grade crossing. His safety record at this dangerous post was unblemished.

PONTIAC, MICHIGAN

DIANE E. DAILEY

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dailey of Orchard Lake have announced the engagement of their daughter, Diane Eleanor, to Frederick Anthony Graczyk of Detroit.

The bride-elect attended Denison University and is now at Michigan State University, where she and her fiancé are both seniors. No wedding date has been set by the couple.

ELEANOR McMULLEN

Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMullen of Oak Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Eleanor, to James Richard Blumenschein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Blumenschein of Holly. A summer wedding is planned.

'Dog's Life' Looking Up in Ferndale

FERDALE (INS) — Ferndale City Commissioners have begun action on an ordinance to improve conditions for Fido.

To make a "dog's life" more pleasant, the ordinance would make it unlawful to mistreat a dog; require owners to provide a shaded area for Fido during the summer; make owners maintain clean yard and quarters for Fido and require owners to provide sufficient food and water.

Holly Council to Close Dump to General Public

HOLLY — As of Nov. 1, the Holly dump will be closed to the general public. The action has been taken by the village council here after long contemplation on the solving of indiscriminate use of the dump grounds. Use will be limited to commercial haulers authorized by the village, members stated.

The council here also has passed an ordinance to provide for "orderly growth and harmonious development of the community." Under it would come the regulation of subdivisions and coordination of street systems.

Area Band Slated

KEEGO HARBOR — Forty-eight members of the West Bloomfield High School marching band will take part in the half-time activities of the Michigan - Georgia football game in Ann Arbor on Saturday.

The band, directed by R. J. Pfeuffer, and the Dreyer sisters, serving as majorettes, have been preparing for their performance for about four weeks. It will be the first appearance of the band at Ann Arbor.

County Man Remodels Ancient Weapon

Develops Missile Arrow

CADILLAC — The ancient arrow is getting a remodeling in a small Michigan factory, a modernizing job that puts scattergun fire power in the hands of the archer.

Modern machinery and science turned out the steel arrowhead and the wooden shaft to give the twentieth century bow and arrow hunter a chance for accuracy undreamed of by the legendary American Indian.

This time the ingenuity, provided by Alex Martin of Royal Oak, an industrial designer with only a passing interest in archery, has developed what he calls a shotgun arrow.

Any resemblance to a red-skin's arrow is only slightly more than coincidence.

Instead of an arrowhead designed to zip through the air and puncture the hide of an animal or the feathers of a bird, the shotgun arrow has an aluminum tube about four inches long and one inch in diameter.

MULTI-POINTED TIP

Inside this container is a collection of needle-like steel missiles. The bundle makes a multi-pointed tip on the arrow.

At the back of the arrow, instead of the usual sleek fletching to guide it true to its course, is what archers call a fin — a pompon of feathers that will break the flight of the arrow.

When the arrow is shot, the pompon of feathers slows the arrow's flight. This enables the missiles in the front of the arrow literally to outrun the arrow.

The three-inch missiles, on their own in front of the arrow, spread into a wicked blanket of steel projectiles.

At 30 yards they penetrate to cover about 18 inches. At 20 yards they penetrate about three-eighths of an inch in solid wood.

The advantage is obvious. A bird in flight or a rabbit on the run no longer is a hopeless target for an archer. The weapon is effective on small game at ranges up to 40 yards. It is not recommended for big game because the needle will penetrate, causing internal bleeding and a slow death.

NOT AN ARCHER

Martin designed the shotgun arrow while he was living at Traverse City and doing design work for Kenneth Uptegraft's Marine Hardware Manufacturing Co., at Cadillac.

Although he is not an archer, even of the Sunday afternoon target variety, he worked out his plan and took it to Uptegraft.

Uptegraft, an enthusiastic archer for about 15 of his 34 years, jumped at the idea. He converted his small plant—five employees, plus himself—and the shotgun arrow went into production.

The first pilot run of 2,000 sold out quickly, through direct mail advertising.

Now they are getting set for full production. They have ordered 250,000 steel missiles from a New Jersey firm and are prepared to turn out 500 shotgun arrows a day.

Uptegraft says he is almost completely clear of any legal barriers to his product. Only five states are specific in their hunting and — since the shotgun arrow is new — it did not get specific mention. He hopes to overcome the drawback in those five states through legislation sponsored by archery clubs.

The firm is manufacturing and marketing the cedar-shaft arrow, aluminum tube replacements in case of breakage, and missiles, which for the most part must be counted as lost when shot.

Royal Oak Boy Explodes Bomb

Home-Made Explosive Takes Entire Left Hand, Part of the Other

A Royal Oak boy is in fair condition today following four hours of surgery to save his right hand which was mangled by a home-made bomb that also cost him his entire left hand.

According to Royal Oak police, Paul Granaas, 14, of 4429 Tona-wanda, a two 15-year-old companions, Frederick Fritzman, 4620 Elmwood, and Richard Dudchik, 4522 Elmwood, were walking near a railroad track at 8 p.m. yesterday, behind the Oak Drive-in Theater when Granaas produced a bomb he made.

The youth apparently ignited the fuse made from a cigarette and the other two boys ran a distance away, but Granaas, for unknown reasons, held the bomb until it went off.

His friends told the police they heard an explosion, and turned to see Paul with his clothing in flames. They ran to him and beat out the fire then summoned help. At William Beaumont Hospital it was found his left hand was blown off completely, and two fingers of his right hand were missing.

Huron-Thorpe Corner Rezoned

Planning Board Moves to Permit Expansion of Shell Station

Approved by the City Planning Commission at their regular monthly meeting last night was the rezoning to Commercial 1 of three lots at the northeast corner of West Huron and Thorpe streets.

The rezoning was requested by the Shell Oil Co. in order that an existing gas station there might be expanded and improved. The city's non-conforming rule prohibited such a change under the old Residential 2 zoning.

At the same time, planners turned down a proposal of city commissioners that the remaining four lots on West Huron east to Lincoln also be changed to commercial. They felt the lots shouldn't be opened up to all of the permissible uses under C-1 zoning. Henry C. Smith, commission secretary explained.

They forwarded a suggestion to the City Commission that these four lots might be zoned to the city's personal service district.

Planning commissioners last evening also forwarded to the city manager their proposed boundaries for Pontiac's civic center. Roughly, the area is bounded by East Pike on the north, Perry on the west, Auburn on the south, and a line running parallel to Hill street on the east.

Other action taken included: Approval of rezoning 249 Auburn Ave. from Residential 2 to Commercial 1.

Denial of a request from the Palmer-Becker Cigar Co. for a 17-foot alley right-of-way off Cooley street.

Calling a public hearing Nov. 6 on a proposal that the east side of Oakland Avenue between Lounsbury and Northview be rezoned from R-2 to C-1.

Texas boasts more counties than any other state. But, California, Arizona and Nevada all have more larger individual counties.

Baptist State Convention Scheduled in Royal Oak

The 121st Annual Convention of the Michigan Baptist Convention will be held in the Royal Oak First Baptist Church, Oct. 17-19. Dr. Woodrow W. Clark is the host pastor.

Featured speakers will be Dr. Paul Madsen, a secretary of the American Baptist Convention, Rev. Paul Clasper, missionary to Burma, Dr. Richard Cummings, executive secretary of the Detroit Assn. of American Baptist Churches, Dr. Anna Barbara Grey (recently returned from Burma) of East Lansing, and Dr. Julius Fischbach, president of the Michigan Baptist Convention and minister of Lansing's First Baptist Church.

On Saturday afternoon, Oct. 19, a reception will be held to honor Dr. Ralph Taylor Andem who retires as state secretary after 29

Night Courses Organized at South Lyon

SOUTH LYON — An adult education program is now under way here, following an organizational meeting of 125 interested persons in the high school here Tuesday.

Officials stressed that 10 persons or more must enroll for a class to be offered.

A final enrollment, securing instructors and setting time of classes are next on the program.

Classes scheduled include typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business machines, ballroom dancing, cake decorating, oil painting sewing, shop, driver training and conversational Spanish.

South Lyon Business and Professional Women's Club assisted in registering persons interested in the courses.

Farm, Garden Group Visits Convalescents

WALLED LAKE — The Inter-Lakes branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn. has undertaken a new project, that of making monthly visits to the Whitehall Convalescent Home at Novi and 10 Mile roads.

Several of the club members will make their first visit on Friday to provide entertainment for the convalescents. While no specific program has been planned, garden club members will entertain in various ways, such as the showing of movies and assisting in the arrangement of flowers.

The project was adopted at the club's last meeting at the suggestion of Mrs. Harold Bailey.

CD Plan at Ferndale

FERDALE — City Commission here is studying a proposed ordinance for establishment of a municipal Department of Civil Defense to function in event of natural disasters or other emergencies. It would be headed by a civil defense director and five aides.

Clarkston OES Names Officers

Mr., Mrs. William Studt to Head Chapter 294; Installation Set Oct. 12

CLARKSTON — Mr. and Mrs. William Studt have been named worthy matron and worthy patron of Joseph C. Bird Chapter 294, OES here.

Other officers named Tuesday in the Masonic Temple at the group's annual meeting are:

Mrs. Marvin Roberts, associate matron; Marvin Roberts, associate patron; Mrs. Oscar Ream, conductress; Mrs. Harold Fitch, associate conductress; Mrs. Howard Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Lydia Tucker, treasurer; Mrs. Mary MacFarland, chaplain; Mrs. Robert J. Poorman, Marshal; Mrs. Ralph Haan, organist; Mrs. Rosemary Tedder, Adah; Mrs. Herman Gentry, Ruth; Mrs. Muriel Sanderson, Esther; Mrs. Clyde Bonar, Martha; Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Electa; Mrs. George Lang, warder; and Oscar Ream, sentinel.

Flag Bearers will be Mrs. Charles Beach and Mrs. Homer S. Biondi. Bible Degree members will be Mrs. Bernice Griffiths, (conductress), Mrs. Jesse Sparkman, Mrs. Samuel Sparkman, Mrs. Margie Conley, Mrs. Ruth Hoke and Mrs. Arnold Groves. Public installation of officers will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 12, at Clarkston High School.

SPORTSMEN'S SCOOP — Queen Linda Applequist, 10, daughter of Gordon Applequist of Southfield, holds just a few of the hundreds of items to be sold at the sportsmen's sale Friday and Saturday. The event will be sponsored by the Men's Club of Community Congregational Church, Lathrup Village. With Linda is Charles Cupp, Men's Club president.

Men's Church Club Slates Benefit Sale

For the first time, the Men's Club of Community Congregational Church of Lathrup Village will sponsor a Sportsmen's Rummage Sale on Friday and Saturday.

The unusual event, designed to provide funds for youth activities including the local Boy Scout troop, basketball team and other young people's athletic endeavors, will highlight the sale of all types of sporting goods at low prices.

"Among the many types of sports equipment available will be fishing tackle, golf clubs, tennis rackets, hockey skates, toboggans, sleds, baseball equipment, basketball equipment, and a variety of miscellaneous sports items. This sale should provide a treasure trove of useful sports equipment, and it is expected that several hundred articles will be on sale," observed Charles Cupp, men's club president.

Cupp said there would be dozens

Walled Lake Church School Changes Place

WALLED LAKE — Because of rapid growth in the intermediate department of the Walled Lake Methodist Church School, additional facilities had to be found to house this unit. Beginning Sunday, the entire intermediate Sunday School will meet in the Masonic Temple on West Walled Lake drive and Angle road.

Also new on Sunday will be a toddlers' nursery for infants up to three years of age. The nursery will be open during the 8:30 worship service. Anyone having playpens or toys suitable for this age group is asked to call FE 5-3916. Charles Dill Jr. is the superintendent of the church school.

County Calendar

A four-day rummage sale, Friday through Tuesday, is being held by Clifford Rebekah Lodge here in their hall. Members also will conduct a bake sale on Saturday, opening at noon.

Plans Discussion Series

ROCHESTER — Whitfield Society of St. Paul Methodist Church has plans for a series of meetings on forthcoming Sundays.

The program committee announces the following titles for discussion groups:

On Oct. 6, the panel discussion featured will be "Capitalism and Christianity." On the panel will be James Ludwick, assistant treasurer of the R. P. Scherer Corp.; Vick Zink of the Central Office Personnel Staff of General Motors; Leonard Billig, sales manager of the Murray-Way Corp. and William L. Lukens, assistant to the president of National Twist Drill Co.

The second meeting, on Oct. 20, will feature the subject, "Ethics in Business." Speaker and resource person will be Mark D. Littler, resident partner of Arthur Anderson and Co., certified public accountants.

The programs afford young adults in this area an opportunity to think, discuss, listen, and to decide for themselves what stand they, as Christians should take on some of the most vital issues of our time. All young adults have been invited. All sessions are held in the Parish House at 8 p.m.

BOA FOR PLAYMATE — Sixteen-month-old Lanny Bastianson plays with his favorite little pet, a six-foot Mexican boa constrictor affectionately called "Bertha." The reptile reached Minnesota in a banana shipment to St. Paul. Mrs. B. J. Broderick there raised it from 27 inches long, recently selling it to Lanny's dad, Orlando Bastianson, of Austin. The new owner says the snake, which will some day be 28 feet long, is generally kept in a glass cage. He added that Lanny cries when he can't play with Bertha.

Hungary to Let Prelate Out?

Reds Hint They'll Allow Mindszenty to Leave
Legation to Go to West

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today in a dispatch from Budapest that Communist authorities might allow Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty to leave Hungary.

Since Russian troops crushed the anti-Soviet uprising last fall, the cardinal—Hungary's Roman Catholic primate—has been a refugee in the U. S. legation in Budapest. The Hungarian rebels had liberated him from a life sentence he was serving after conviction by the Communists on treason charges.

The Times quoted Acting Premier Ferenc Munnich as saying in an interview his government would be receptive to specific proposals concerning the cardinal. The dispatch said:

"The Hungarian leader couched his hint about the cardinal in vague language but appeared to indicate that the government might be willing to allow the prelate to leave Hungary under certain circumstances which he did not define."

Munnich, a first deputy premier, is the top official in the Hungarian Communist government while Premier Janos Kadar is touring Red China.

Munnich coupled his remarks about Mindszenty with attacks on the cardinal and U. S. policy. The acting premier disclosed his government should accuse the United States today of complicity in a plot to send diversionists and spies to Hungary. Munnich charged the United States had persistently interfered in Hungary's internal affairs. "We see in the internal life of the United States things that we don't like," he declared, "as for example the events at Little Rock. But we do not think of sending our journalists to investigate them on the spot."

STAND-OUT

MIRACLE PAINT THAT HARDENS TO A SMOOTH TEXTURE FINISH

"STAND-OUT" TRANSFORMS "PROBLEM WALLS" IN ONE EASY APPLICATION MAKES CRACKS, CHIPS, NAIL HOLES, SEAMS, DISAPPEAR LIKE MAGIC
"BURIES" CRACKS, HOLES, SEAMS WITH PAINT BRUSH

"STAND-OUT"
Contains No
Sand or Grit
Surface Is Smooth
To Touch, Yet
Richly Textured

"STAND-OUT" is a ready-mixed, ready-to-use wall refinisher. There are other products in powder form which require messy mixing, and still others that contain sand or grit, resulting in a rough surface that is hard to wash. But "STAND-OUT" is applied right from the can. It goes on smoothly and easily, hardens to a sleek textured finish that has no rough edges or gritty lumps.

"STAND-OUT" is economical, too. Three gallons will finish the walls of an average room... and remember, this is not merely a coat of paint, "STAND-OUT" does triple-duty: it paints, plasters and resurfaces in one operation. It gives you a brand new room for ONE-THIRD the cost of washable wallpaper, ONE-EIGHTH the cost of replastering, ONE-TENTH the cost of paneling or tile. The finish is practically indestructible—stain resistant, water proof, can't chip or peel.

STAND-OUT Walls
Are Scrubbable
Time After Time

"STAND-OUT" will stand up under the hardest scrubbing year after year. Its granite hardness makes it impervious to scrubbing that would mar ordinary finishes. You can test its toughness by taking a silver coin with indentations—a quarter or half-dollar—and rubbing the milled edge hard against the painted wall! This leaves an ugly black mark.

Now take any strong cleanser, a sponge and water, and with vigorous scrubbing the mark will vanish completely with absolutely no harm to the surface. On particularly stubborn dirt, you can even use raw cleanser—or a very strong cleaning solution. Simply rinse with clear water when you are finished.

"STAND-OUT"
Goes on Over
Any Kind of Interior Surface

"STAND-OUT" covers a multitude of sins on a wall, and goes on over almost anything. Plaster, wallboard, wallpaper, brick, cement, and other surfaces—all take "STAND-OUT" as though they were made for it. So no matter what your "problem wall" may be, rest assured that "STAND-OUT" will cover it... and make it look newer than new. And when you want to change colors, you can paint "STAND-OUT" with any conventional paint.

Over Plaster
"STAND-OUT" covers cracks, nicks, dents, and plaster patches.

Over Wallpaper
"STAND-OUT" will hide the seams in wallpaper and the variations where loose paper has been peeled off.

Over Wallboard
"STAND-OUT" is very highly recommended on wallboard because it completely covers nail heads and taped joints.

Decorator Colors
Give New Beauty
to Drab Rooms

Distinctive TEXTURE is only part of the "STAND-OUT" story. Gorgeous decorator colors bring a whole new world of possibilities to the woman who wants fresh beauty on her walls. Such mouth-watering shades as Cocoa Beige, Turquoise, Dusty Rose, Chartreuse, Flamingo, Forest Green and others provide an artist's palette of exciting colors... fourteen in all (plus white). Although "STAND-OUT" goes on four times as heavy as regular paint, the color goes ALL THE WAY THROUGH. Its beauty is "built-in"... and will stay lovely for years. You simply can't scrub away its original richness of color and texture.

Refinishes Ceilings

"STAND-OUT" not only refinishes ceilings like new... it adds an interesting texture and pattern to the plain surface. An added value at no extra cost is its soundproofing quality: "STAND-OUT" is used in large auditoriums and churches because of its excellent acoustical properties.

Supermarket Owner Dies

Nick Leone, 57, Suffers Heart Attack; Service Set for Saturday

Nick Leone, owner and operator of Nick's Supermarket, 263 Auburn Ave., died suddenly of a heart attack at 4 p.m. yesterday in Auburn Heights at the Old Dutch Mill, which he also owned and operated.

A native of Italy, he came to Pontiac from Erie, Pa., 30 years ago and started a shoe repair shop on Auburn avenue.

Five years later, he opened the grocery store, which has now become a supermarket.

Mr. Leone, 57, was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church, Knights of Columbus, Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and Elks Lodge BPOE No. 810. During World War I, he served with the Italian Army.

Besides his wife, Sadie, whom he married on April 30, 1932 in Lorain, Ohio, he leaves five sons: Donald stationed with the U. S. Army, John T., Richard L., James M. and Anthony N., all at home. Other survivors are a brother and a sister living in Italy.

The parish Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Friday in the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Immediately following, at 8:30, the Knights of Columbus will say the Rosary. An Elks Lodge of Sorority will be held at 9 p.m. Friday in the funeral home.

Service will be at 11 a.m. Saturday in St. Vincent de Paul Church with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery on Ten Mile road.

Set $50,400 Damages

SAGINAW (AP) — A $50,400 award, the largest verdict ever returned by a Saginaw County Circuit Court jury, was returned Wednesday in favor of the estate of Jack P. Hooker, a Jackson real estate broker and contractor, who was killed in an auto accident here Feb. 26, 1956. The Hooker estate had filed a $100,000 suit against the car driver, Terry Hoag of Carleton and his father, John O. Hoag.

Ike Calls Faubus Mistaken Man

TEAMSTERS — Eisenhower said federal agencies were alerted long ago to corruption which has been revealed in the union. He said this was with a view to seeing whether any action could be taken beyond legislative steps already proposed.

He spoke in response to a question as to whether the administration is planning any action as a result of widespread corruption in American life, particularly involving Teamsters and the trucking industry.

Eisenhower said he didn't know whether officials in the Justice and Labor Departments have anything to propose yet or not.

SYRIA — The situation in that troubled nation, where Communists have been making inroads, seems to be solidifying to some extent, the President said.

He said that Jordan, Libya, Iraq and to some extent Saudi Arabia apparently are somewhat less alarmed.

A reporter asked whether this country now finds the Syrian situation "less dangerous to the free world."

Eisenhower replied he thought it better not to speak out on that now, but to wait a couple of weeks and see what happens.

As for criticism of United States policy by the Saudi Arabian delegation at the United Nations yesterday, Eisenhower said that he did not know what particular thing inspired the speech but that within hours he received from King Saud a message of warm friendship.

BUDGET — Eisenhower said he doesn't see how the defense budget can be cut below 38 billion dollars.

Nor, right now, does he see how the entire budget can be brought down by 2 billion dollars to a spending level of 70 billions for the 1959 fiscal year starting next July 1. Budget Director Percival Brundage has said the administration will attempt to restrict spending to that figure.

Asked where cuts could be made, Eisenhower replied that if he could answer that, one of his hardest problems would be solved. Every department of government, he said, wants more money.

Hickey Withdraws From Union Election

tion floor yesterday. To the cadence of "We Want Hoffa," some 300 demonstrators marched through the aisles of the Miami Beach Auditorium waving placards and pictures of the fiery little Detroit labor leader.

As he plowed ahead toward victory, it appeared that it would be a sure sign for the AFL-CIO partnership to make good of their threat to oust the Teamsters if they don't clean house.

But he made it clear that he is ready to discuss with the AFL-CIO executive council its demand and added that the IBT (International Brotherhood of Teamsters) executive board will be present when the issue is discussed at an Oct. 24 meeting in New York.

Upon his withdrawal today, Hickey reiterated his stand against Hoffa because he (Hickey) firmly believes the union owed an obligation to its members to "restore the good name of the Teamsters Union" and keep it within the AFL-CIO.

"These objectives are shared by Vice President William Lee, a good Teamster and a good trade unionist," Hickey told newsmen at a hurried press conference.

"Because I feel that the support of Bill Lee's candidacy offers the surest way of achieving victory for our joint objectives, I am withdrawing as a candidate for the president and urge all delegates to unite in voting for William Lee." Besides the balloting for president, the focal point of this 17th national convention, 13 vice presidents will be chosen.

ST. JOSEPH (AP) — Henry F. Gries, Berrien County undersheriff for 11 years, has been elevated to sheriff. He succeeds Sheriff Erwin H. Kubath who was sworn in Monday as postmaster of St. Joseph.

Five-Year Highway Plan Announced by Mackie

the route followed probably will be an extension of Detroit's Hastings - Oakland Expressway east of U.S. 10 (Woodward Avenue).

This means that a major new route taking the traffic burden from Woodward avenue will pass through Pontiac east of Opdyke road.

The official announcement of the highway is not expected until November when plans for a $300 million stepped up Detroit Metropolitan Area expressway program are detailed.

Mackie said that final Detroit plans hinge on negotiations with Wayne County and the City of Detroit on routes.

In introducing Mackie this morning, Gov. G. Mennen Williams said, "Michigan's road should be built fairly and according to a logical system."

The idea is to connect major and smaller communities with roads that lead from one place to another, Williams said, criticizing the former Republican State Highway Department "bits and snatches" program.

The five-year plan, Williams added, should be a benefit to commerce, industry, and pleasure driving.

In Oakland County, the highway plan call for projects that had previously been announced by the former highway administration.

Heading this list is the proposed 35 mile extension of North-western Highway as a four-lane expressway from Eight Mile road northwest to U.S. 25 in Livingston County.

This expressway would connect with the southern end of the all but completed 23 million dollar Fenton-Clio Expressway.

Other area projects are the extension of M24 as a divided highway from Lake Orion north to the Lapeer County line and the reconstruction of M15 from Clarkston, north to the Genesee county line.

This latter project is already under way. Included in the plans is the widening and resurfacing of M87 for 1.5 miles in Holly.

The plan notes that Pontiac is one of 28 cities in the Lower Peninsula scheduled for major construction.

In Pontiac this includes the Telegraph-Orchard Lake underpass, to be completed in December, and the widening of M24 (Perry street) which already has been agreed upon.

State-wide, the major items are: Four north-south and two east-west expressways connecting all major Michigan cities of over 50,000 population.

The plan calls for completion of U.S.23 as an expressway from Jackson to Sault Ste. Marie via the Mackinac Bridge; completion of U.S. 16 as an expressway from Detroit to Muskegon; and completion of U.S.12 as an expressway from Detroit to Benton Harbor.

Portions of these roads are completed now.

The plans also call for an expressway along US 25 from the Ohio line, near Toledo, to Port Huron, with details about the Detroit portion of the route to be announced later.

A sixth expressway is planned following US 31 from the Indiana line along Lake Michigan to north of Muskegon. An expressway-type link is planned from this road to Grand Rapids.

Other expressway links are planned between Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids, between Flint and Lansing, and Bay City and Clare.

Besides the major improvement of US 27, north to the Mackinac Bridge, Mackie announced plans for lesser improvements for two bridge-bound routes: M37 from Grand Rapids north, and US 31, from Muskegon north.

"More than two-thirds of Michigan's counties and county seats will be within 30 miles of this expressway system," he said.

"These counties contain 95 per cent of Michigan's people, almost 90 per cent of its industry, more than 80 per cent of its farms, all of its metropolitan counties and the northern arm of the system reaches into the heart of Michigan's vacation and tourist area."

Other portions of the five-year plan include: construction or reconstruction of 2,900 miles of state highways, and the paving of the 800 remaining miles of gravel roads on state trunks.

The plan calls for a $200 million program in fiscal 1958, $240 million in 1959, $260 million in 1960, $270 million in 1961, and $280 million in 1962.

Shortly, Mackie said, the department intends to announce in detail, the 1958 portion of the five year highway plan and, at a later date, the yearly programs for the remaining fiscal years.

"Despite the scope of this ambitious construction program, this plan will meet only about one-third of Michigan's over-all dollar highway deficiency," said Mackie.

"Even when contemplated with federal aid levels and existing state highway income, it will take a good many years to meet our overall highway needs," he stated.

The highway department's planning division, already is at work on a second five-year plan, Mackie said.

Escapade Sentenced

HILLSDALE (AP) — Robert S. Wright, 27, of Jonesville, who escaped from Hillsdale County Jail in March and was recaptured in Springfield, Ill. in May, was given a 5-15 year Southern Michigan Prison jail term on a breaking and entering charge. His escape came while he was awaiting sentence.

U. S. S. Enterprise May Yet Win Victory; to Become National Memorial to Heroism

NEW YORK (NEA)—The "Big E" may win her last naval engagement from a position of defeat—which is a surprise to nobody who knows her.

Fifteen years ago, the USS Enterprise was our only aircraft carrier in a Pacific theater of war dominated by the enemy. She spearheaded the Allied drive westward to the Orient: the Solomons, Santa Cruz, the Gilbert Islands, Terawa, Truk, Luzon, Okinawa, Guadalcanal—every battle but the Coral Sea.

Twelve years ago—with peace in sight—she rocked under the might of a bomb-laden Japanese plane crashing into her forward flight deck. But within 17 minutes the fires were out and she was under way.

Last year she was rolling gently at a naval dock, on display to anybody who wanted to pay a million dollars for her scrap value. Time after time her execution was stayed by the organized efforts of the men who had served aboard her—the Enterprise Association.

The plan: berth the carrier in a bed of concrete in a city like San Diego or Miami or New York; furnish it with memorabilia of her history; build a restaurant on board and an apartment for a caretaker to help offset what tourist admission fees don't bring.

The drawback: even if the Navy donated the ship, the costs of towing, installation and furnishing her were prohibitive. It was still a million dollars, and even with Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey at the helm, the association's call for funds yielded only $18,000.

With time running out, directives from official Navy quarters grew more frequent and more stern.

"Certainly she has memories of victory," one harried spokesman sighted into the phone. "But she can't fight anymore. And we can't support her for her memories."

UNDERDOG AGAIN

Once again the "Big E" was the underdog in a naval engagement. And once again the tide of war began to turn.

This time the association called on Congress and industry for help. Manufacturers whose products had gone into the ship and are still going into naval vessels were signed into the association. And legislators found themselves under fire by men who had once trusted their lives and their country's freedom to this now-peeling hull.

NOT THE LAST VOYAGE, AFTER ALL. — The USS Enterprise, here being towed to Brooklyn Navy Yard in New York to be scrapped, has won a reprieve and seems sure to become a memorial.

The result was a congressional resolution approving the Enterprise as a true memorial to honor America in World War II; naming Washington, D. C., as the site; and charging the association with the responsibility for raising the necessary funds to put her there by March.

The charge is still a million dollars. The association has still only one per cent of money. But association treasurer Harrison J. Welton of Stamford, Conn., said:

"Did I ever say the Big E couldn't do it? Well, it can and it's going to."

Since the congressional resolution, Welton has been swamped by professional fund-raisers who have promised to get him his million—for a cut, ranging from 25 to 33 per cent. He's turned them down.

"We're not interested in a promotion scheme like that," he said. "We'll raise the money our own way—the way it should be done."

the Potomac where fresh water content is high enough to let her float with minimal damage to her hull. Washington will take care of maintaining her as a museum, using part of association funds until public admissions begin to offset the costs.

With the nation's capital drawing three million visitors each year, and the VFW ready to ring doorbells, and defense industry already reaching for its wallet, treasurer Welton can say:

"We can forget about the restaurant aboard and all the other commercial nonsense. We're going to have a memorial to this country's ability to rally, recover and win—no matter how black it looks."

Zealanders Use Thermal Waste

WAIKAKEI, New Zealand—New Zealanders are seeking new uses for their wealth of geothermal power. One project involves what to do with the hot water left over at Wairakei after geothermal power has set the turbines spinning to produce electricity.

C. J. Banwell, chief physicist of the Department of Scientific Research, does not think the steamy waste should be dumped into the Kaikato River. He would pipe it to Auckland for heating—for a fraction of the cost of electrical or oil heating. Much heat would be lost in transit but the water would still be 100 degrees Centigrade at Auckland, Banwell says, quite hot enough.

A Film for Oldsters, New Wine for Youth

By NORMAN BEASLEY
and George W. Stark
Published Sept. 30, 1957

Oldsters will chuckle over these early Detroit days. Middle-agers will have their own more recent memories of the 20s and 30s.

Youngsters, in the throes of this atomic age, should not miss reading of the embryo automobile era. For their lives today are the result of the social and economic influences of 15,000-000 Model Ts.

Two veteran newspapermen have put their reminiscences together, and after much loving research have this week published the book, 'Made in Detroit.'

Norman Beasley is perhaps best known for his earlier book, 'Money and Motors,' and was for many years a reporter on the old Detroit Journal. George W. Stark is the dean of Detroit newspaper reporters and is still with The Detroit News. He also has written other books about Detroit.

Newsman Write 'Made in Detroit'

If you are an oldster, you should remember:

Churchill's (the gentlemen's saloon), the Russell House, Fielding Yost who came to the Michigan campus in 1901, the 64 new automobile companies in that same year, also the year 1907 when Automobile Row with 16 dealers was along Jefferson avenue on both sides of Brush, and when Mr. and Mrs. Detroit went to the theater to see Jessie Bonstelle.

And what about the date Sept. 16, 1908, when the General Motors Company was incorporated with a capitalization of $2,000!

Within two years, among 20 companies it absorbed, were three from Pontiac: Oakland Motor Car Co., Welch Motor Car Co. and the Rapid Motor Vehicle Co.

Middle-agers hardly will remember that such never-to-be-forgotten songs as 'The Japanese Sandman,' 'Tulip Time in Holland,' and 'Till We Meet Again' (Dick Whiting) were composed in Detroit.

But they should remember when Woodward avenue was paved all the way from Detroit to Pontiac with a concrete ribbon all of 16 feet wide... and Edie Guest, whose verse fame could never outstrip his loyalty to the Detroit newspaper that gave him his first opportunity.

The authors have made this book Oh, so readable; just as if a group of friends was sitting around the fireplace chatting about old times, and each one interrupting with 'Do you remember...'

But today's youngsters will do well to heed, and to learn, of these traditions, for it is from these...

And that was the way of it!

Buddhist Monastery Uncovered in India

COMILLA, India — An old Buddhist monastery has been discovered during excavations at Mainamati, near Comilla, India.

It unfolds a fourth period in the history of Buddhism remains there, taking their origin back another century. This shrine, discovered at a lower level, alters the picture drawn on the basis of two previous excavations.

The new discovery now becomes contemporary with the monastery at Paharpur, built by Pal rulers in the 7th Century A.D. It is stated, Terracotta plaques, carved bricks and pottery found are similar to those at Paharpur. The shrine was built by the Deva ruler, Sri Bhavadeva, who ruled southeast Bengal.

Skill Helps Her Limited Budget

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor
Budgets are pesky things, at best; but when you must live on the fixed budget of retirement, you count pennies more than ever. The third homemaker in our study of women, who do well with their food money is Mrs. Joseph Hubbard of Clarkston.

Mr. Hubbard has been retired for several years from the Ford Motor Experimental Farm. His hobby now is refinishing furniture, a craft at which he is skilled.

OVER FOUR DECADES

For nearly 42 years the Hubbards have lived on their farm. Always active in agricultural extension work, they had the first bathroom and septic tank in the area; also first landscaping project, almost 30 years ago. For a while Mr. Hubbard experimented with alfalfa and neighbors came from all over to see his results.

Mrs. Hubbard was the first chairman of Oakland County Home Demonstration groups. Her three sons raised, she now keeps busy with her home, her garden, needlework and her continued interest in extension groups and church affairs. The youngest Hubbard son lives at home and attends college in Flint.

For as long as she has had a family Mrs. Hubbard has tried to live by the laws of good nutrition. When she was a girl, her family always had lots of milk to drink and to this she lays her good health.

Mr. Hubbard wasn't used to such quantities of milk as a boy but he can't live without it now. The milkman leaves one quart a day for the Hubbards. This Mrs. Hubbard supplements with dry and canned milk for cooking. When her boys were young, the milk order was eight quarts a day.

"Have their eating habits changed?" Of course they have. Twenty-five years ago Mr. Hubbard would get up, work two hours in the barn, then come in for a hearty breakfast. This meal included potatoes, cereal, bacon and eggs and all the trimmings. He is still finicky about his breakfast even though it is lighter. He has fruit juice, cereal, toast, coffee and milk.

In earlier days Mrs. Hubbard had to plan and fix two large dinners, one at noon, the other at night. Farm workers are huge eaters. Now lunch is more apt to be a sandwich, some vegetable, fruit in season and milk.

The Hubbards' dinner the night before we visited them had been roast pork with dressing; corn on the cob; cucumbers; apple pudding and milk.

With her large garden Mrs. Hubbard has a surplus of vegetables throughout the summer. She trades with a friend who has an orchard; vegetables for fruit.

If the friend is away or busy, Mrs. Hubbard cans or freezes vegetables for both of them. If Mrs. Hubbard is likewise occupied, the friend cans all her peaches. It's an arrangement that satisfies both women.

The Hubbards rent a locker in town and get food from it once a week. They no longer put in large quantities of meat, just several packages each week of weekend specials. Mrs. Hubbard freezes spinach, green and wax beans, beef greens (she cans the beans), corn and rhubarb.

Although Mrs. Hubbard did not give us exact figures on what she spends each week, we know it is a limited amount and that she is a careful shopper. She never shops until she has read the food advertisements on Thursday night. But she does not run from store to store. That wastes gasoline and time.

All staple foods are bought on sale. Flour is always purchased in 25-pound sacks. Even with a small family this amount is used up soon because Mrs. Hubbard does all her own baking. Except for Mr. Hubbard's toast there is no store-bought bread. She thinks that homemade bread lasts longer.

Shopping with a list, Mrs. Hubbard buys groceries for a week at a time. She looks over the meat specials, concentrates on the cheaper cuts and plans to get several meals out of each piece of meat.

What are some of her favorite low-cost meats? She likes pork or Boston butt for a roast. But first she cuts off several pork steaks and serves them breaded. A 3-4 pound beef roast will serve several meals. Perhaps she will fix swiss steak, then corn the rest. Chicken is always bought on sale and usually there are extra chickens in the freezer. And, says Mrs. Hubbard, "you can do a lot with a pound of hamburger."

Does she, a farm woman, buy margarine, we cautiously asked. Certainly, was her quick answer. The Hubbards eat both butter and margarine, using the latter extensively for cooking. Years ago Mrs. Hubbard used to make 60 pounds of butter at one time!

Long experience in the kitchen has given Mrs. Hubbard skills that come in handy now. It takes intelligence, time and a desire to serve meals that are nourishing, appetizing and at the same time inexpensive.

Thousands of homemakers who are living on pensions are doing the same thing. Some younger, more extravagant cooks would do well to take lessons of these older women.

MEAT BALL GEMS — Put gems on your table in the form of these tiny meat balls. This recipe will become one of your treasured possessions.

Anchovy Paste Is Surprise in Tomatoes

Here's a new version of an old-time recipe.

Baked Tomato Eggs
4 medium-large tomatoes (1 1/4 to 1 1/2 pounds)
1 teaspoon anchovy paste
4 eggs
1/4 cup finely grated Parmesan cheese
Cut a thin slice from the top of each washed and dried tomato; cut out insides in large plug shapes with a small sharp knife; with fingers or teaspoon, remove seeds, juice and inside wall sections. Make sure outside wall of pulp and skin of tomato is intact.

Put 1/4 teaspoon anchovy paste in bottom of each tomato and spread a bit. Drop a whole egg into each tomato shell; sprinkle egg with grated cheese. Place on foil in shallow baking dish and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven for 25 minutes when whites and yolks should be well set; if you would like them firmer, raise oven heat to 375 degrees and bake another 5 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

If there are young children in your family, anchovy paste may be omitted from their portions. No salt is added because anchovy paste and Parmesan cheese usually add enough.

Taste Treasure Hides in Meat

A jewel of a recipe is this, for midget meat balls that are as different from "chopped meat" as a diamond is from a hunk of coal. Clever is the homemaker who can take the meat "in the rough" and transform it into something that every member of the family will value highly.

There is, as a matter of fact, buried treasure in these little food gems. It's a treasure of new flavor and seasoning. In the recipe, notice the little tricks of mixing the basic ingredients. Then add the secret ingredient, Angostura aromatic bitters—the all-purpose seasoning which charms the personality of the other spices and is a flavoring jewel on its own.

Meat Ball Gems

1 lb. lean ground beef
1/2 lb. lean ground pork
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup finely minced onion
1/2 cup melted butter
2 teaspoons Angostura aromatic bitters
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1/2 teaspoon ground white pepper
1 egg, beaten
1/2 cup cold water, approximately
1/4 cup butter for sauteing

Have butcher grind meats together three times until almost pulverized. Soak broken zwieback in 1/2 cup water; blend with fork until mushy. Sauté onion in butter until golden.

In large mixing bowl, blend zwieback and onion, then add meat, seasonings, egg and 1/2 cup water. With wire whisk mix thoroughly until smooth. Add more water if necessary to be sure mixture is velvety.

Form into tiny balls one inch in diameter. Preheat heavy skillet until it smokes. Add small amount of butter at a time, reduce heat to medium and sauté meat balls quickly, shaking skillet constantly. Yield: 3 to 4 dozen meat balls.

Fix 'Easier Sandwiches From Frozen Bread

Make those lunch box sandwiches from frozen slices of bread. It is easier to spread frozen than when soft or crumbly. When the slices thaw, they are like fresh bread.

Because the best way to keep bread from getting stale is to keep it frozen, M. S. U. food specialists suggest you buy a supply for a week or two and keep it in your freezer. Frozen sliced loaves are especially convenient because the slices separate readily without

Start Drive for Earlier Adoptions

Agencies Hope to Speed Placement of Children

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—One way social agencies are trying to meet the increasing demand for babies for adoption is to encourage placements at an earlier age.

This is a marked change in concept of agencies concerned with adoptions, according to the U.S. Children's Bureau. It is the result of careful scrutiny of past practices, of experience and of exhaustive conferences with specialists, psychologists, genetics and psychiatrists.

OUTWEIGH RISKS
"They have learned the advantages of early placement (under 4 months) to the child and adoptive parents usually outweigh the risks that are involved," says the bureau.

These risks were the ones formerly eliminated by observing the child over an extended period to be sure he didn't develop physical, mental or health problems.

"Much emphasis is being placed on early placements of children and early decisions on the part of the mother," explains Miss Ursula Gallagher, the bureau's consultant on unprotected adoptions and services to unmarried mothers.

This, she says, has grown out of a real willingness to study, and analyze the best knowledge, and a real willingness to experiment, too.

FEELING OF SECURITY
"The sooner a child has permanency with parents, the sooner he will have a feeling of security and of belonging," Miss Gallagher says.
"For the parents, it's best to have the experiences and satisfactions of carrying a child through infancy."

Miss Gallagher stresses, however, the necessity of combining early placements with services of the natural parent.
"Cases involving heartaches," she explains, "usually are the ones where the mother has given up the child without facing all possibilities."

"In order to make a decision, the natural parent needs expert help. Agencies are trying to help her do what is best in her individual situation, weighing all alternatives."

GROWING CONCERN
Communities are showing a growing concern about the unmarried mothers who do not receive service, she said.
Committees under the sponsorship of the Federation of Social Agencies in various cities are concentrating on the subject of the independent adoption and services to unmarried mothers.

Don't Pen Toddler In — He Needs Adventure

Exercise Program Should Begin in Early Days of Babyhood

(This is the fourth of a series of five articles based on the book "Is Your Child Really Fit?" by Bonnie Prudden, published by Harper & Bros.)
Here are some positive things you, the parents, can do right at home to build the vital strength and flexibility your youngsters must have. They must begin—all medical factors in the case being equal — immediately following birth.

That is when probably you enjoy your child the most and that is when he must start right off to enjoy the life into which he has been born—and be able to enjoy it from then on out.

Here is what you do.
Start the baby on an exercise program the day he comes home from the hospital. Stretch his arms and legs, gently, of course, but move them. Let him pull himself up on your fingers. Allow him plenty of kicking time, unencumbered by clothing—preferably in the sun on the floor on a large blanket.

Make the horizon as large as possible. From the beginning, the baby should not have the feeling of being penned in.
He should feel that the world is a place of adventure and be free to investigate it. Sitting still should never be made too comfortable.

Starting as soon as the youngster is able to walk, make a point of walking with him daily, even if at first it is only a block. Try to have a pleasant objective in mind—visiting a friend (this as well as yours).

Find him a rock to climb, a park or woods where he can run free. But remember, he has to walk back. So start with short distances in order not to discourage him.

Help him to climb and balance on every available object on the way. When he has mastered it, he will do it without your help. This is the best insurance against injury.

A child sure of his balance knows where he is in space. He reacts quickly to sudden changes and is a far better bet in an emergency than a child who has never been permitted to try his wings before the emergency arose.

Indoors, the child should have a small exercise mat. It can be an old mattress covered with duck or denim for appearance's sake. On his mat he can start, almost as soon as he can walk, to learn somersaults.

He places his head and hands on the floor with his bottom in the air. A gentle push will send him over. If you wait until he has grown tall and inflexible, this will be much more difficult to learn.

In general, allow the youngster free time, free space and freedom from clothing as much as possible. Play with him often, with firm and gentle hands. He must know from the beginning that those hands will never drop him.

GOOD FOR BALANCE

Roller skating is good for balance, coordination, strength, self-confidence and rhythm. When you are planning to build a new driveway make it wide and of smooth cement. It then can be used as a roller skating rink, a basketball court, a place to bounce a ball and for all games requiring chalked ground markings.

If chalk disturbs you, paint stripes in bright colors. And console yourself with the thought that it is better to have a gaily marked driveway than a child who sits and watches TV or reads a comic book.

Make up a progress card on which can be noted everything he does in competition with himself.

Keep better track of his progress card than you do the family budget. A good card makes a wonderful birthday present for Dad. It is an incentive to the child also to see how much he has improved.

These foregoing suggestions are built around the concept of a home

MR. AND MRS. GERALD A. KLEIN

Dorothy Jane Ostrander Weds in Big Rapids Rite

Vases of white gladioli and pom-pom chrysanthemums banked the altar of United Church, Big Rapids, for the Saturday evening wedding of Dorothy Jane Ostrander and Gerald Albert Klein. The Rev. Burton E. Erickson performed the candlelight ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Ostrander of Park Way Drive are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Klein of Ludington.

For her wedding the bride chose a ballerina-length gown featuring a bodice of French lace and tulle re-embroidered with sequins and pearls, long tapered sleeves and a skirt of nylon tulle with a front lace panel.

She wore a pearl and lace-trimmed cloche which held a pure silk ballerina-length veil. The bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white roses and carnations with baby white streamers.

Mrs. Alfred Ostrander served as her sister-in-law's only attendant. She was gowning in a cocktail-length American Beauty red velvet dress fashioned in princess style with a boat neckline. She wore a crown of white roses and carnations. Her bouquet was a nosegay of white roses and carnations.

Richard McClosky of Howell acted as the best man and George Hackhardt of Howard City acted the guests.

For receiving guests in the church parlors Mrs. Ostrander chose a gray lace over pink satin dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a skipper blue taffeta dress and white accessories with a pink rose and white carnation corsage.

Before leaving on a northern Michigan trip the new Mrs. Klein changed to a two-piece gray-blue suit with navy accessories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live in Big Rapids where the bridegroom is a sophomore at Ferris Institute.

Speakers Heard by Sisterhood of B'nai Israel

Two representatives of the American Jewish Congress addressed the Tuesday meeting of the Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel, held in the social hall of the synagogue. Mrs. Ben Snider and Mrs. Louis Redstone of Detroit discussed the topic "Religion in the Schools."

Plans were made for members to attend an all-day training institute for Sisterhood members to be held Oct. 28 at the Ahavas Achim Synagogue, Detroit.

Participating in the program were Mrs. Irwin Posner, Mrs. David Utley, Mrs. Harold Rayberg, Mrs. Samuel Gluskin, Mrs. Jack Simon, Mrs. Leonard Cain, Mrs. Abraham Avadenka, Mrs. Milton Ressler and Mrs. Maurice Schlusel.

Chairmen Named by MOMS Group

Mrs. E. K. Vanderlind was named ways and means chairman of Pontiac MOMS Unit Two when that group met Tuesday in the North Johnson avenue home of Mrs. Clarence Hickmont.

Also appointed to chairmanships were Mrs. F. G. Van Horn, flower fund; Mrs. Montford Sharp, publicity, and Mrs. Duncan McVean, hospital.

Club Plans Season

Parent Guidance Club met in the Ogden road home of Mrs. Robert Dorman to make plans for the fall season. Mrs. Robert Shalman was hostess.

Marriage Revealed

Married Sept. 7 were Mrs. Winifred Saxton of Jonesville, formerly of Pontiac, and Fred Daniels of Litchfield. The couple will live in Jonesville until Nov. 1 when they will leave for Bradenton, Fla., to spend the winter.

Georgia Offers Little to Fear for Wolverines

Oosterbaan, However, Sends Team Through Scrimmage Session

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The tediousness of football practice was punctuated by realistic head-knocking at Michigan yesterday.

It's rare for the Wolverines to scrimmage a week after a win. And it's almost unheard of for them to scrimmage on a Wednesday, three days before a game.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan obviously feels the flaws shown in the lackluster Southern California victory can be eliminated in game-type practice.

"I really can't say how much progress we've made this week," Oosterbaan said after the scrimmage. "I won't know until Saturday's game."

On paper, Michigan shouldn't be too concerned with its next foe, twice-defeated and apparently puny Georgia. But lurking in the distance is a monster frightening the Wolverines — Michigan State.

The game with the Spartans is less than 10 days away. Michigan doesn't know if it can be ready on time.

So, with one eye on the calendar, Oosterbaan attempted to push progress and polish his still-sputtering team via a mid-week scrimmage.

Impending Michigan's advancement all fall has been a string of nuisance injuries, nothing serious but bad enough to cut down the tempo.

Everyone on the squad should be available Saturday but many won't be 100 per cent effective.

Jeffrey Goebel, the second-string center, hobbles through practice on an injured knee, the result of a clip at Southern Cal. Top pivot man Gene Snider likewise is below par.

Right halfback Fred Julian, now on the third team, suffered a recurrence of his leg injury yesterday.

Fullback John Herrnstein and left end Gary Prast and Chuck Teuscher carry over various injuries from pre-season drills.

Herrnstein can't cut due to a month-old leg injury which Oosterbaan fears will stick around all season.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

Now you're ready for the third step in the four-step approach. The bowler we show today is just completing this step with his right foot as the ball has reached the top of his backswing. All steps in the approach must point straight toward the target. Any drifting to one side or the other may pull you off line and also affect your timing.

Note that the backswing is at shoulder height which is considered maximum; any higher backswing is risky. The style in today's drawing is very similar to Ed Lubanski's, one of the best bowlers in the game, but most good bowlers will look pretty much the same at this stage of their approach.

The left foot is getting ready for the final step and slide, in coordination with the right arm.

The bowler's eyes continue to concentrate directly ahead on his target, whether he's a pin-bowler or a spot bowler. His hips still face directly ahead, and the shoulders stay square to the target as he delivers the ball.

GEORGIA'S PEACH — A sophomore, Charley Britt, will attempt to bring Georgia an upset victory over Michigan Saturday at Ann Arbor where the two teams tangle. Georgia has lost its first two games and the Wolverines are heavily favored to win.

Talent-Loaded Spartans Meet Golden Bears

Game With California to Be Televised on National Hookup

EAST LANSING (AP) — The talent-loaded Michigan State football team, meeting California Saturday, once again will be taking on an outfit with a new head coach trying out a fresh system.

But the televised meeting with the Golden Bears of California shapes up as a better yard stick to measure the MSU Spartans than the opener against Indiana.

The Hoosiers, routed 54-0, were just so much hamburger for the Michigan State meat grinder. State jumped up to second in the Associated Press ratings on the basis of that performance.

Spartan coach Duffy Daugherty tried to show mercy by cleaning his bench of reserves. But the eager subs kept up the two touch-down a period pace set by the varsity.

Michigan State played a near flawless game. The 570 yards total offense was two yards short of a Big Ten record and the 32 first downs was a conference record. Only criticism by coaches was on the 155 yards in penalties—also a Big Ten record—attributed mostly to green sophomores still going by high school rules.

California coach Pete Elliott is installing a new Split T pattern learned at Oklahoma. The Bears lost their first two games, but only by one touchdown each, to Southern Methodist 13-6 and Washington State 13-7.

Michigan State has had a hoodoo on West Coast teams in recent years. The Spartan record is nine straight wins in the intersectional contests, including two from UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

The 38-man MSU travelling squad flies to Berkeley today and will arrive in time for a late afternoon workout in California's Memorial Stadium. The game, at 1:30 P.M. coast time Saturday, will be a national television feature.

Eisenhower Passes Up Baseball Series

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower passed up the World Series on television yesterday and scheduled an afternoon golf game with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

White House news secretary James C. Hagerty said that Mr. Eisenhower didn't watch the opening series game but added: "I informed him on the progress of the game."

Hagerty, who watched the first game on a TV set in his own office, also said that the President does not expect to attend any series games either in New York or Milwaukee.

Chalk Up First Win

PHS Harriers Edge Oaks

Mike Andonian was a pleased coach, yesterday, after his PHS cross-country squad came through with its first dual meet to win of the season in three starts. Chief harriers defeated Royal Oak Don-dero 22-35.

But the best thing, after the victory, Mike reported, was that no one was hurt. PHS ran without ace Larry Beamer who had a cold, but captain Rog Coats led the pack home with a good 11:09 time. Twice this year Coats was involved in incidents that cost him top spots. Yesterday he ran as he pleased, a good race.

West Bloomfield also was a winner in the harrier business yesterday. Steve Rogers (11:30) led the Keego runners to a 27-30 win over Clarenceville, at Keego Harbor. KH had six of the first 10 runners.

It was the suburban school's 2nd win in three starts. Bob Williams of Royal Oak was 2nd (11:35) to Coats. Other finishers in the first 10 were, in order: Ken Smith (P), 11:58; Dave Pringle (RO), Bob Hunt (P) a step back of Pringle, Walt Chance (P), Tom Tracy (P), John Johnson (RO), Phil White (P), and Doug Mead (RO).

Jon Sampson led the PHS reserves to a 16-47 win over Oak reserves, with 12:03. First four finishers were little Chiefs James Dowell, Larry Hoyt, and Lynn Carlson.

Waterford harriers are at Van Dyke today, seeking their first win in two starts. Birmingham goes to Mt. Clemens Friday, shooting for its 17th straight victory and 3rd SML win. Maples have won six straight this fall. Flint Central, SVC favorite, and Northern collide Friday in an important test.
