Senate Tosses Pay Raise to Jittery House

$4,000 Increase Is Passed Amid Harsh Words, Quick Moves

LANSING (AP)—Another Senate-approved legislative pay raise—this time for $4,000—faced a jittery House today after a wild Tuesday of sudden moves and angry words in both chambers.

The proposal would boost the nation's highest salaried legislators to $14,000 a year and retain their present $2,500 expense allowance.

A back-up procedure for garnering the legislators' salary hike was also waiting in the House wings as lawmakers moved toward a midnight deadline for action by each house on all legislation passed by the other.

It appeared the pay question would not be resolved until tomorrow or Friday, when joint committees meet to work out final differences on bills passed by both Houses.

The Senate also faced the ticklish technicality of whether the $1.8 million general government bill which carried the pay raise needed 25 votes instead of the 19 it required.

PRIVATE APPROPRIATION

One section of the bill included a private appropriation, for which the Constitution requires two-thirds approval.

The raise from a present $10,000 was passed without a word of debate after the Senate Appropriations Committee quietly slipped it into technical language of the general government bill.

But bitter exchanges broke out after some Republicans rose to explain why they had voted "no."

Democrats, who provided 17 of the 19 votes, accused opponents of voting "no" for purely political reasons while actually desiring the raise.

SWITCH VOTE

Ten of the 13 senators who voted "no" were Republicans.

Three senators at first voted "yes," then switched when they saw the bill could pass without their support.

The general government bill was approved earlier by the House, but the House would have to concur in Senate amendments.

It appeared representatives would not concur, thus sending the bill to a House-Senate conference committee for final compromise.

VICTORY FOR REAGAN—Ronald Reagan and his wife, Nancy, acknowledge victory in the primary for Republican nomination for governor of California last night in Los Angeles, after George Christopher of San Francisco conceded defeat.

Reagan, Brown Win in California Primary

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Ronald Reagan, in his first bid for public office, won the Republican nomination for governor in a landslide today.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown survived a surprising challenge in the opening of his bid for a third term.

Returns from yesterday's primary election gave Reagan, 55, an overwhelming victory over George Christopher, a dairy owner and former mayor of San Francisco.

It moved Reagan to the front of California Republican politics.

Brown finally pulled comfortably ahead of Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty. But Yorty's strong showing in populous Southern California raised a threat to Brown's bid for another term.

With 19,547 of 30,586 precincts reporting, the vote was:
Republicans — Reagan, 846,449; Christopher 413,868.
Reports from 20,550 precincts gave Brown 832,002, Yorty 619,957.

OTHER RESULTS

In other primaries yesterday:

• Veteran Sen. James O. Eastland easily won re-election to the Democratic ticket, although a Negro challenger, the Rev. Clifton Whitley, out-pulled him in several counties in the Mississippi primary. Democratic incumbents in Congress grabbed big leads in early balloting and apparently faced no major challenges.

• Sen. Karl E. Mundt overcame challenger Richard Murphy in South Dakota's Republican primary. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

College Board for Osteopaths on House Floor

Angry Charges Echo as Measure Is Voted Out in One Minute

LANSING (AP)—Amid cries of "railroad" and "skulduggery" the House Ways and Means Committee approved a bill establishing a state Osteopathic College Authority in an unannounced one-minute meeting late yesterday.

The 10-member authority would oversee the construction and running of an osteopathic college planned in Pontiac.

The bill, strongly backed by Senate Majority Leader Raymond Drendel, D-Detroit, and Appropriations Committee Chairman Garland Lane, D-Flint, had been defeated earlier in the day.

It received seven "yes" votes on the first ballot and the nine needed for passage the second time around.

As little as an hour before the passage of the bill, Ways and Means Committee Chairman Einar Erlandson, D-Escanaba, said the bill apparently was a dead since the committee did not plan to meet again this session.

KILLED, REVIVED

The bill, which has been the subject of constant fighting and pressure in the Legislature for the past two years, was killed and revived earlier in the House State Affairs Committee.

Asked to explain the apparently sudden switch on the bill, Erlandson said, "some-one did some work and found he had the votes to get the bill out."

"One member was absent in the voting this afternoon (yesterday) and another vote rode on his," he added. "When that member showed up tonight, the two extra votes needed for passage were there."

Dr. Benjamin F. Dickinson, Pontiac surgeon and past president of the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, said the House Ways and Means Committee vote was "a big milestone."

However, he pointed out that two obstacles remain for the college bill — passage by the House and the signature of Gov. George Romney.

"It's like golf," commented Dr. Dickinson, "the big shot is always the one coming up."

Romney's signature may depend on the related issue dividing the legislature and the State Board of Education on which body has the authority to set up new educational institutions.

SKIN DIVERS FROM THE SHERRIF

Collins told Pontiac police that he was sitting in the front of the 12-foot aluminum boat when suddenly the bow dipped into the water.

DIVERS HAMPERED

Skin divers from the sheriff's department were hampered in recovering the bodies because of a heavy growth of weeds in the lake, according to police.

Police said that the probable cause of the accident was due to the overloading of the small craft. The victims' bodies are at the Hinton Funeral Home.

U.S. Backs Thant for U.N. Reelection

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States went on record last night in favor of the reelection of U. Thant of Burma as secretary general of the United Nations.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey gave the endorsement in remarks prepared for a reception at the U.S. mission to the U.N. Humphrey in speaking forgot to give his statement about Thant, and U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg later said on the vict president's behalf:

"He (Thant) is a great international servant, and it is no secret that the United States government is among those who hope he will be available for reelection as secretary general this fall."

Teen Abducts Boy, Kills Self

Youngster Unhurt in Highland Park Chase

HIGHLAND PARK (AP) — A 16-year-old youth seized an 8-year-old boy as hostage in a blazing gun battle with police yesterday, then shot and killed himself as officers closed in.

The youth, Ray Dezon Taylor, 16, died while undergoing surgery in Detroit General Hospital.

The younger boy, James Whitley, was unhurt.

Police said Taylor was being sought to answer questions about a gun he was carrying when he started a disturbance at a restaurant.

As officers arrived at the scene, he fired at them and ran down the street.

RIDE ON BICYCLE

A few blocks away, Taylor came upon Anita Jordan, 16, of Highland Park, who was giving young Whitley, her stepbrother, a ride on her bicycle.

Taylor seized the boy, saying he needed him for a hostage, police reported.

He then jumped into a station wagon and fled. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Bribe Trial in 2nd Day

The Circuit Court trial of three men charged with conspiring to bribe a Pontiac police officer entered its second day this morning with the prosecution's key witness, Capt. Raymond E. Meggitt returning to testify.

Meggitt is credited with breaking up an alleged gambling operation at the Seaway Civic Club, formerly at 118 S. Paddock, after he said he pretended to take bribes to keep quiet about the nature of the establishment.

The defendants in the case before Judge Frederick C. Ziem are Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi, 37, Charles Rousos, 32, both of Detroit; and Odus Tucker, 40, of St. Clair Shores. Lombardi, who is also charged with bribery, is being tried by a jury, but Tinchner and Rousos waived a jury trial and their alleged roles in the case will be determined by Ziem.

Before the trial started yesterday afternoon Ziem denied three motions of Lombardi's co-counsel Carlton Roeser of Pontiac.

SEPARATE TRIAL

Roeser had sought a separate trial for Lombardi; the suppression of $2,650 Meggitt received over a four-month period; and the exclusion of statements made by Lombardi to police.

In addition to the conspiracy charges, the three defendants along with several other men face trial at a later date on gambling charges.

public primary election. Voter turnout was light.

In other California results, Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson defeated two prominent contenders for nomination on the Democratic slate.

Unsuccessful challengers were Thomas W. Braden, president of the State Board of Education and a friend of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and Lloyd Hand, former U.S. chief of protocol.

In the Republican race for lieutenant governor, Robert Finch, the attorney who managed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's 1960 presidential campaign, won over three others.

OTHER RACES

In two congressional races that stirred national interest, Democratic Rep. Jeffrey Cohen was leading his antiwar rival Robert Scheer in the 7th District and Rep. Harold T. Johnson was renominated in the 2nd District.

Senate OKs Legislative Pay Raise

Ways and Means Committee took another bill granting a $5,000 pay raise—this one approved by the Senate some weeks ago—and sent it to the House floor with the raise canceled.

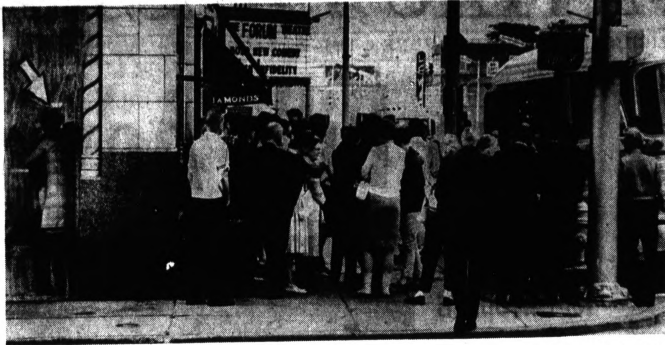

It also could wind up in a conference committee for final negotiations.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Pint, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, acknowledged he had talked to Gov. George Romney about the raise but would not say if he thought Romney would agree to a $4,000 hike.

Romney said last week he would not agree to the $5,000 raise.

The technical manner in which the $4,000 raise was placed on the government bill, however, apparently precludes Romney from vetoing it without vetoing the entire measure. But the measure is necessary to keep state government in operation.

The House Ways and Means Committee earlier Tuesday rejected the $5,000 raise by 10-0. But Reps. Charles C. Carraway, D-Jackson, and Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, missing when the vote was taken, heatedly protested. Speaker Joseph K. Kowalski, D-Detroit, called the Democratic members of the committee into his office and ordered them back to the committee room. They went and passed the amended bill, 11-4.

UF Posts Go to City Men

Several Pontiac men were elected to high ranking posts on the Michigan United Front yesterday at a Lansing meeting.

Named as vice presidents and members of the executive committee were John Z. DeLoe, a vice president of General Motors Corporation and general labor staff representative of the UAW, and H. Fitzgerald II, executive vice president and business manager of The Pontiac Press; and Thomas M. Wiethorn, manager of the Pontiac Fisher Body Plant.

August Schell, president of the Michigan AFL-CIO council was elected president.

Also elected to the executive committee was Dr. Warren B. Cookey, 2720 Lanerang, Troy.

Emmett DeConick, 5847 W. Maple, West Bloomfield Township; and Clarence J. Williams, 925 Francis, Rochester, were elected members of the board of directors.

Attending the conference from this area were Arthur Heaton, president of the Pontiac Area United Front; Mrs. Noel Loveland, public relations director of the Pontiac Area United Fund; and Andrew Montgomery, acting president of the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council.

Rights Chiefs Gather for Mississippi Walk

HERNANDO, Miss. (AP) — Leaders of the nation's five big civil rights groups assembled here today to continue the crusade on foot through Mississippi attempted by James H. Meredith.

While Negroes marshaled

The heads of several civil rights groups picked up Meredith's march Tuesday from the point where Meredith was wounded, and one was shoved to the ground when highway patrolmen ordered them onto the shoulder of the highway.

CONDEMNED MARCH

Gov. Paul Johnson condemned the march but promised police protection for it.

Five Negro leaders combined forces to carry on the 225-mile walk to Jackson, Miss., started by Meredith and interrupted by three shotgun blasts.

Aubrey J. Norvell, 40, a Memphis white man accused of assault with intent to murder in the wounding of Meredith with a birdshot, was held under $25,000 bond. His lawyers were drafting an appeal to have the bond reduced.

Three bus loads of sympathizers from Chicago will join the march soon, said Floyd McKissick, head of the Congress of Racial Equality.

"We have made a national call for people to come," said Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. "The number will grow every day."

In Jackson, Gov. Johnson issued a plea for residents to "ignore completely these exhibitionists" and said he would use any state power to keep the peace — presumably including the National Guard.

"Sufficient patrolmen and other state forces will be used to see that these demonstrators stop marching if they want, provided they behave themselves, commit no acts of violence, nor take a position of provocative defiance," he said.

The walk by Meredith, 33, the slender former Air Force sergeant who broke the racial barrier at the University of Mississippi in 1962, ended in the 27th mile, near Hernando.

He started, with a few companions, on the theory that if he could walk through Mississippi unharmed it would prove to Negroes who live in the state that they could safely register as voters.

The ranking Republican on the Far East and National Security subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Broomfield is also a member of the Africa subcommittee.

He said that Far East foreign policy and the splintering of such alliances as NATO will definitely be issues in the campaign.

Broomfield has served in the House of Representatives for the past 10 years. Prior to this, he served two years in the Michigan Senate and six years in the State House of Representatives where he was the youngest speaker pro tem in the state's history.

Broomfield's Congressional District with 417,174 has the largest population of any in Michigan.

The district includes the cities of Berkley, Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Clawson, Ferndale, Huntington Woods, Lathrup Village, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Rochester, Royal Oak, Southfield and Troy.

Townships of Addison, Avoon, Royal Oak and Southfield also are in the district.

Bloomfield, who lives at 1115 S. Lafayette, is married and has three daughters.

Seeks GOP Bid for 14th District Post

John A. MacLellan, 58, of 6939 Dandison, West Bloomfield Township, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for state senator from the 14th District.

An attorney, MacLellan said he specializes in legislative matters and currently represents clients whose affairs affect millions of Michigan people.

In commenting on his candidacy, MacLellan said that most lawyers want the soft life of the black robe and bench.

"But, this is not for me," he added. "I want to go where the action is — the legislature."

The legislature is where special interest and public interest clash, MacLellan said, and where constitutional rights of citizens are nibbled away or auctioned off, MacLellan said.

U-M GRAD

A native of Calumet, MacLellan attended the University of Detroit for two years and completed undergraduate work at the University of Michigan in 1931.

He graduated from the Detroit College of Law in 1948 and served as an attorney for the Legal Aid Bureau of Detroit for 10 years assigned to legislative and governmental affairs. He is married.

The 14th District includes the Oakland County townships of Holly, Grosse Pointe, Spring, Bloomfield, Lyon, Novi and Farmington and three Wayne County municipalities.

He started, with a few companions, on the theory that if he could walk through Mississippi unharmed it would prove to Negroes who live in the state that they could safely register as voters.

Realtor Board Begins Drive

To Explain Stand on Title IV of Rights Bill

Termining the housing section of the proposed federal civil rights bill "wrong and detrimental," the Pontiac Board of Realtors today launched a campaign to inform property owners of Title IV of the bill.

"This section of the bill would wipe out a basic right of all citizens," said Ward E. Partridge, board president.

"I refer to the human right to sell or rent private real property or to refuse to sell or rent property," Partridge added.

"Just as many remedies suggested by wellwishers to solve an ailment are frequently wrong and detrimental, so is Title IV which has the purported goal of protecting against discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin," Partridge said.

"Basically, this proposal would empower the federal government to force an owner to sell or lease his property to a person not of his choice."

RIGHT TO DISPOSE

Partridge pointed out that in the history of the human right to own property, one of the prime characteristics of ownership is the right to dispose.

"If an individual lacks the right to dispose of his property freely and within his own discretion, he is not truly the owner," Partridge said.

The local realtor board president added that realtors are convinced that property owners, regardless of their personal feelings on other aspects of civil rights, will make known their opposition to Title IV to their congressmen and senators in Washington.

"Title IV would destroy a basic freedom of all Americans under the guise of providing a new right for minority groups," Partridge said.

WRONG WAY

"It is a wrong way approach," Partridge added that the only true and lasting solution to the problem of open occupancy will come by understanding and education fostered voluntarily by churches, schools and all men of good will.

Teachers: Won't Work Until Master Pact OK'd

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Teachers in the Bloomfield Hills Education Association (BHEA) voted Monday to withhold their services next fall until a master contract is ratified.

Mrs. Jane Marshall, BHEA president, said that teachers had agreed that the master contract must supercede all individual contracts, establishing a guide line for the negotiating team.

Although there is a large number of unsolved terms, both the BHEA and the board of education has agreed to put them aside until a salary agreement is reached.

Present salary scales call for $5,300 to $6,550 for teachers with bachelor's degrees, scaled over a 12-year period. Those with master's degrees have a salary scale of $5,800 to $10,000 over a 14-year period.

The BHEA is now proposing a salary scale, drawn up by the Oakland County region of the Michigan Education Association, of $6,000 to $10,500 for those with bachelor's degrees and $6,600 and $12,000 for those with master's degrees. Raises are to be scaled over a nine-year period.

3-YEAR PERIOD

Schools Supt. Eugene L. Johnson, said the present salary schedule was designed and agreed to by teachers for a three-year period which still has a year to go.

Johnson said that although he is sure salaries will improve, there must be a compromise on both sides.

The money needed to meet the teachers' salary schedule is not available without additional millage and it is unlikely that there will be a millage increase, he said.

No definite date has been set for a further negotiating session.

George E. Cavin, head of the BHEA negotiating team, said

Pleasure Craft Operating Illegally

With hopes growing stronger that Michigan has emerged from its Ice Age and will catch up with the calendar, the boating season is upon us.

Unfortunately, for many boaters it will start illegally. Secretary of State James M. Hare says that four out of five motorboats in the state are still unregistered.

Citizens who wouldn't drive their car two blocks without their new license plates will launch their craft without the important series of numbers on either side of the bow.

HARE says just about 400,000 of the 500,000 craft in the state are outside the law by failing to register.

"Motorboats can be registered at any one of the more than 200 branch offices of the Secretary of State," Hare says. All you need is $3.00 and the old registration, or the bill of sale for a new boat.

A portion of the registration fee is returned to the counties, which partially supports the Oakland County Water Safety division of the Sheriff's department.

Planners' Business is the Public's Business

The Pontiac Planning Commission has changed its voting procedure to a secret ballot device, and in the future all decisions from this advisory board will merely indicate the vote, not who voted which way.

Previously the seven citizens and two city commissioners made their opinion known by a very public "aye" or "nay." Now when a subject is put to a vote, they will write their choice, and the secretary will merely announce the outcome.

We view this as a serious departure from the norm, and an attempt to do public business in private.

Members of the Planning Commission are public spirited individuals who serve their community in a complex area — zoning and planning. They are unpaid, and they contribute generously of their time and professional knowledge.

Why shouldn't they indicate publicly what their opinion is on a zoning change? The new voting system plants the seed of suspicion that they have something to hide.

If the city commission can vote publicly, why can't an advisory group such as the planners?

Do they fear some criticism or pressure from persons or firms whose request was not approved?

Anyone accepting appointment to a public body serving the City must expect a certain amount of criticism of his decisions. Prompt publicity of pressure or implied threats would certainly handle any low-life who would attempt to gain by force what he had failed to receive by reason with the board.

However the city has a legal opinion that an individual may demand to learn which planning board members voted which way on any subject, since the board is a public body.

Effort Afoot to Eat Cultural Cake, Have It Too

One of the surest ways to stir up a civic fuss is to start tearing down something historic to make room for something modern.

Tradition versus practicality. Sentiment versus commercialism.

So serious is the struggle in city after city that the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare has joined with the privately operated National Trust for Historic Preservation to form the Preservation Advisory Services Panel.

The panel — a group of top architects and city planners — has elected Salem, Mass., as its first laboratory experiment and is now working to see if historic landmarks there can be preserved as the city meets demands of modern urban living.

Both hard-nosed realists and misty-eyed conservationists should be pulling for the panel to come up with a satisfactory solution.

You can't park cars in a lovely old tree-shaded home or a historic old courthouse, but you seldom take groups of children to see a parking lot.

GIVES SUPPORT

This crime against Meredith gives unexpected and tremendous support to President Johnson's recent request for new legislation in the field of justice to protect the rights of Negroes and civil rights workers.

"What gain is there," the President said in asking Congress to approve his proposals, "for either conscience or country if we proudly affirm human rights and then permit those rights to be swept aside by lawless fanatics?"

He said: "Perhaps the most evident threat to civil rights in 1966 is the danger that recently secured rights may be violently denied by a relatively few racial fanatics."

"Citizens who honor the law and who tolerate orderly change — a majority in every part of the country — have been shocked by attacks on innocent men and women who sought no more than justice for all Americans."

FAR-REACHING EFFECT

"The effect of this violence extends far beyond individual victims. Every assault or murder that goes unpunished reinforces the legacy of violence—the knowledge that it is dangerous for a Negro to assert his rights, or even for others to stand up for those rights."

"Who shall take part in the process of democracy? Shall it be only those born with white skins?"

Vacation-Time Figure Work

David Lawrence Says:

Meredith Attack Not Surprising

WASHINGTON—It is not surprising that James Meredith was brutally attacked on his march in Mississippi. For, regrettably, the United States is a crime-ridden country where firearms can be possessed by many irresponsible persons in all parts of the country.

Atty. Gen. Katzenbach said yesterday that the shooting of Meredith was an "isolated" incident. He called the occurrence "so absolutely—I don't want to use insane in the literal sense—so unpredictable with all those police around."

There is no record that Aubrey James Norvell, who was arrested and accused of the crime, has been active in the civil-rights controversy.

There is always a fear that persons who are being prominently mentioned in the news will be the victims of assault.

Threatening letters are constantly received concerning possible attack on high government officials.

Most of these come from individuals of unbalanced mind who, if they possess lethal weapons, may take potshots at anybody whose name they have read in the papers.

DEPLORED EVERYWHERE

The answer is not to be found by making blanket indictments of the people of any state or community. The attack on Meredith is deplored by citizens everywhere, irrespective of their views on the controversial race question. There will be those who will say that Meredith should never have attempted a march under conditions of tension.

But it is a reflection on all government in America — federal, state and city — that people cannot walk the streets of the cities or the highways with any assurance that they will not be the victims of criminal attack.

James Meredith, it is reported, will soon recover from the attack and be able to resume his march in a few days. He will get more attention.

Indeed, he might never have attracted such interest except for the erratic behavior of his assailant, who has suddenly given Meredith worldwide publicity.

Immediately after Monday's tragic episode, Martin Luther King Jr. and Floyd McKissick, the head of the Congress of Racial Equality announced they would lead an immediate march through rural Mississippi.

Dr. King seems to feel that somehow President Johnson is to blame for not acting more decisively in the past and for not granting more support to the demands of civil-rights organizations.

There has been throughout the world an unfavorable reaction to the shooting.

The Soviet news agency, for instance, quotes Dr. King's statement that "the federal government must assume as much responsibility . . . as a society which offers sanctuary to those who advocate violence."

The fact remains that neither can crusades nor demonstrations "stop bullets" when they are fired by individuals with the distorted mind of an Oswald.

Restrictions on the widespread distribution of shotguns, rifles and revolvers to persons unfit to use them would do some good. But, in the long run, crime will not be wiped out until individual behavior is improved and better training is afforded the youth of the country in their homes and in their communities.

Johnson Gets Message --Even During Massage

NEW YORK — President Johnson gets a much needed message at 11 o'clock each night prior to piling into bed for as many as four nocturnal hours of paperwork.

He finds something to do with his time even during the massage. He somehow manages to watch the 11 o'clock television news. The President gets more of the news than almost anyone else in the country.

Dr. Frank Stanton of CBS arranged some time ago for him to have a cluster of three television sets in his private quarters and his office, each tuned to a major network.

They are all turned on by the same switch but a remote control audio button, operated by the President, selects the one he prefers to listen to at any given portion of a program.

Former President Eisenhower's trip to Denver this past weekend had its melancholy side.

He was there to reclaim the casket of his first born, Dwight D. Eisenhower, who died of scarlet fever in 1929 at the age of 3.

The remains were flown to Abilene, Kans., for burial in the family's cemetery plot.

The general's right wrist is much improved after treatment for an arthritic condition at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington.

The only mark of his sojourn there is a dark spot the size of a dime on the side of the wrist.

"It's working fine," he told me. "I can shake hands again, which is something I couldn't do without pain when I went in there. I'll be playing golf next week."

Voice of the People:

Urges All School Boards Find Ways to Economize

Teachers are dissatisfied today and have so-called 'collective bargaining.' Primarily they want better salaries. Unfortunately, school boards are a governmental body and are limited to fixed sums of money for operating expenses. No one ever talks of economy in our school systems.

A standard class room in the state ten years ago was 22x30 for 40 pupils. Class rooms being built today are larger than that, to accommodate fewer pupils. I will agree that kindergarten and first and second grades should have smaller classes but from then on the size of the class makes no difference. This is from old-time teachers I have talked to.

Now to get more money, why not have teachers teach larger classes than 30 pupils. We would need fewer class rooms, less maintenance and less upkeep. This money could be given to teachers in salary.

When you speak to administrators, they say this is not the trend of the times. To this I say 'hogwash.' This is one of the best bargaining points the administrators have and I am sure the average teacher would be glad to have a few more pupils for a larger salary.

We have heard 'quality teaching' for the past ten years and a lot of fat has grown in our school systems that could be eliminated. So let our school boards lay down the line to their administrators to economize and not spend one nickel that is not necessary. Many ways can be found to raise teachers' salaries.

This is your money and mine, raised by taxes, regardless of where it comes from. I am sick of these administrators saying the State or Federal governments pay this or that. They don't pay it. You and I do in one form or another in taxes.

Suggests Voters Need to Make Changes

The action of the Waterford Township School Board in denying the Gideon organization permission to distribute Bibles and New Testaments in the schools reminds me of the story about the third grade teacher who was greatly alarmed to see some small boys kneeling on the floor during lunch hour, and was relieved and reassured to find they were only rolling dice, as she had thought they might be praying.

Perhaps the voters need to make some changes in the next election. Certainly we need to impeach the Earl Warren Supreme Court!

The Shot Heard 'Round the World

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The man who shot Negro leader James H. Meredith in the back from ambush on a Mississippi highway will lose more than he could imagine.

Enemies and critics of the United States can hold up this shooting as a symbol of "American barbarism" before the world, which still remembers President John F. Kennedy was shot in the back.

They can say with truth a Negro's life is not safe in America if he tries to walk down a country road peacefully, even when escorted by white friends, as the 32-year-old Meredith was.

The greatest irony behind his wounding lay in proving the very thing he had sought to disprove on his 225-mile march from Memphis, Tenn., to Jackson in the heart of his native Mississippi.

He had told newsmen before starting out that one of the two reasons for his trip was to help Negroes, including himself, conquer the fear they feel while living or traveling in Mississippi. His other reason was to encourage Negroes to vote.

At the same time, this wanton act of violence may be used as a handy excuse for passionate or extremist Negroes to retaliate with violence of their own in North

Hold Mass Installation for Council Officers

The Pontiac Council of PTAs conducted mass installation of officers Tuesday evening in Madison Junior High. Some 360 members were present.

Mrs. Howard McConnell, treasurer, awarded PTA scholarships to Cheryl Newman of Gingell Court and Lawanda Hassenzahl, Alberta Street.

Installing new officers for the council and local representatives present was Mrs. Leonard Frye, district director.

HEAD COUNCIL

Receiving the gavel as new president was Mrs. Fred Goines. She will serve with: Mrs. Willis Schmeckenburger, first vice president; Mrs. Benjamin Shelton, second vice president; and Mrs. George Watters, recording secretary.

Others assuming office were: Mrs. Vernon McFarland, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Donald Humphrey, treasurer; Mrs.

Ross Elliott, historian; and Booker Yancey, auditor.

Musical selections were the evening's program. Groups from Pontiac Northern High School, directed by John C. Tossley and Judith Davis, performed.

Participating were the Northern Madrigal Singers, Northmen and the Howlin' Huskies.

Mrs. Robert Anderson, noted for readings in this area, concluded the program with a poem "Sixteen Ton."

Dinner was served cafeteria style with Madison students presiding at the coffee and dessert table.

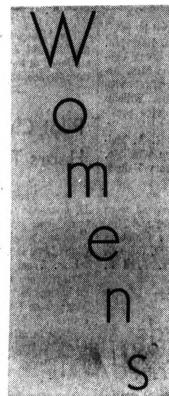

Guests for the occasion included: Mr. and Mrs. Frye, George Yansen, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allison, Larry Nichols, Mrs. William Mihalek and Mr. and Mrs. William Wright.

George R. Yansen, Chippewa Road, principal of Madison Junior High School, thought this molded orange jello salad looked particularly appetizing at Tuesday's PTA Council installation of officers. Mr. Yansen joined Mrs. Fred L. Goines, West Rundell Street, new president, in leading several hundred PTA representatives through the dinner line.

There's good reason for the broad smiles above. Cheryl Newman of Gingell Court (left) and Lawanda Hassenzahl, Alberta Street, were presented scholarships Tuesday evening by Mrs. Howard B. McConnell of Brooks Avenue (center), treasurer of Pontiac's PTA Council. The council conducted mass installation and officers Tuesday evening by Mrs. Howard

Bride-Elect Susan Arnkoff and Fiance Will Be Feted

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Arnkoff of Illinois Avenue will host the rehearsal dinner for their daughter, Susan Marsha, and her fiance, Dr. Alfred Feingold, Saturday, in the Kingsley Inn.

Out-of-town guests arriving for the Sunday morning ceremony in Temple Beth Jacob will also attend the dinner.

The George Feingolds honored their future daughter-in-law and her parents at a recent cocktail and supper party in their Lansdale, Pa. home.

Kingsley Inn was the setting for a trousseau shower given by Mrs. Harry Ackerman and a bridal shower by Mesdames Sidney Barnett, Irving Gordon, George Richman and B. J. Wyman.

The bride-elect's aunts, Mrs. Morris Arnkoff of Huntington

Woods gave a bathroom accessory shower and Mrs. Murray Kahn of Detroit, a luncheon in Greenfield's Cardinal Room, Oak Park.

In Ann Arbor, Mrs. Warren Seider and Diane Tickton of Denver, Colo. honored Susan and her fiance at an open house.

Susan's roommates at the University of Michigan gave a kitchen shower. Her classmates Sydelles Becker of Southfield and Vicki Lasser, Huntington Woods, entertained at a bridal luncheon.

Arriving at Tuesday's annual luncheon of the Temple Beth Jacob Sisterhood is Mrs. Paul J. Basinger of Chicago, Ill., the speaker.

Sister's Family Needs Help

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 15-year-old boy who crawls in bed with his mother after his father leaves for work?

I can't stand to visit my sister any more when I see what's going on there. I believe it is WRONG and I have said so. She lets this boy wear nail polish and play with her make-up and jewelry. He can't stand to get his hands dirty.

It's "too hot" in the summer and "too cold" in the winter, so she stays indoors and plays with his dolls. He has a 15-year-old brother who is so ashamed of the younger one he is becoming more and more withdrawn from people. Needless to say, the younger boy has no friends.

The father is helpless. He once threw all the make-up and dolls out, but the boy cried so hard his mother went out and bought more.

This boy gets furious if he sees his father kiss his mother. What is wrong here? I can't believe I am worried for nothing. Or isn't it any of my business?

DISGUSTED AUNT

DEAR DISGUSTED: Your sister and her son are both ready candidates for the psychiatrist's couch. And if the father looks out the window, knowing what is going on, so is he.

Appeal to her husband to get help for the whole sick family before it's too late. Yes, it IS your business. Would you walk away if you witnessed a man beating a helpless dog?

DEAR ABBY: This is not a letter asking for advice because a decision had to be made in a hurry and we made one, but we want to know if YOU think we did the right thing.

My brother's son was Bar Mitzva last Saturday. (This is a religious ceremony held in a synagogue followed by a big party to celebrate a Jewish boy's 13th birthday.) It so happened that my wife's cousin died and her funeral was held on THAT Saturday morning.

We didn't know where to go, so we decided to attend the cousin's funeral first, and then attend the Bar Mitzva lunch afterward.

We were severely criticized by the Bar Mitzva crowd for attending a party right after a funeral. And the funeral crowd criticized us for going from a funeral to a party. Were we wrong?

CRITICIZED

DEAR CRITICIZED: You tried to do the right thing by two relatives, so your conscience should be clear even if your critics are cutting.

U.S. Aid to Rehabilitate Homes in R20 Area

Special federal aid will be made available to provide individual grants and loans for the rehabilitation of houses scheduled for the Urban Renewal and Planning Commission's east side.

Rezoning Near Herrington Debated; Hearing June 28

Although the public hearing was set for June 28, city commissioners and representatives of Herrington Hills Subdivision debated the merits last night of proposed rezoning for a piece of property on Pontiac's east side.

A 200-unit apartment project is proposed for the 26-acre site.

The residents protested the rezoning on the basis of the potential traffic created in the area by the projected development.

Commissioner John A. Dugan said he felt the majority of the people in the area were opposed to rezoning at this time because of the problems of the traffic using unimproved Bay.

Meantime, in defense of the rezoning, Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson pointed to the dire need for housing in the city.

He said that putting roadblocks in the way of developments such as this was "other areas get developed instead of the city."

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston reported that, because of the protest petitions, a three-fourths vote or six affirmative votes would be necessary for the commission to pass the rezoning on June 28.

Public hearings were set for June 28 on two other property rezoning proposals, while a July 12 public hearing was set for an alley vacation.

Commercial rezoning is proposed for property on the south side of Yale, between the Metropolitan Club and the Pontiac State Bank branch office there. The vacating of an alley between Yale and Ypsilanti is proposed in conjunction with the land rezoning.

In still other business last night, cost estimates were presented for two street paving projects and two small sewer projects.

Paving for Kettering, Madison to the south end of the street, was estimated at a total cost of $7,130 with an assessed cost of $5,518 and city cost of $1,611. The cost for a 50-foot lot was set at $115.

The total cost of paving Astor, Michigan to Pike, was estimated at $5,338 with an assessed cost of $3,881 and a city cost of $1,457. The cost for a 40-foot lot was estimated at $92.

Construction of a sanitary sewer on the southwest side of Oakland from 290 feet southeast of Pershing to Ingewood was estimated at a total cost of $9,010.

The assessed cost was put at $2,550, the city cost at $6,460 and the cost for a 100-foot lot at $300.

Director James L. Bates told the City Commission the grants and loans are available under terms of the housing and Urban Development Act of 1965.

Low-income home owners would be eligible for direct federal grants of up to $1,500 to pay for repairs and improvements to bring their property up to required standards.

Bates said the home improvement grants, approved on an individual basis, would be added to the total federal grant for the R20 project.

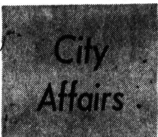

He estimated about 10 home owners in the project are eligible at the present time. Their incomes can not exceed $3,000 per year.

The city planning director said a loan program—also under terms of the housing act—would permit 3 per cent interest loans for home rehabilitation.

"The loan program will have a greater impact," commented Bates, "because there are not that many that can qualify for the direct grants."

Bates said rehabilitation has been completed on 116 houses slated to remain in the redeveloped area.

In other business last night, the commission introduced a referendum ordinance, which is de-sioned to regulate the installation of refrigerating systems.

City Engineer Joseph E. Neipinger reported that a meeting had been held with several members of the refrigeration and heating industry. He said industry representatives appeared satisfied with the proposed ordinance.

A public hearing was set for next Tuesday. Also last night, the commission approved the sale of a small city-owned lot bordering a proposed shopping center at Baldwin and Montclair.

RECOMMENDS PRICE In a report to the commission, City Manager Joseph A. Warren recommended the lot be offered for sale at $450.

In another item concerning real estate, the commission rejected a single bid of $915 for the purchase of a city-owned lot at Josephine and Fremont, Waterford Township.

The city manager was directed to commence negotiations for a better proposal on the lot, in which the city has invested $1,500.

A public hearing was scheduled for June 21 on special assessments for water mains on the east side of Woodward, South Boulevard to a point 450 feet South, and on Pershing, Oakland to Durant.

Also last night, a petition asking commercial rezoning for land immediately behind the Post Office was referred to the City Planning Commission.

The commission received a protest petition objecting to proposed curb, gutter and pavement on Peacock, Fuller to Joslyn.

Space Grant to 'M'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has announced a $144,170 supplementary grant and a new $14,352 contract to the University of Michigan for space research.

The hotly contested lead in the Waterford Township Men's Recreation Softball League is safe for at least one week.

Lakeland Pharmacy grabbed command of the circuit's top spot with a 5-4 eight-inning conquest of Day's Sanitary last night in the Dryden Plains diamond's nightcap contest.

Earlier, the Rev. Harold Hughes blanked McAnnally's Auto Sales, 3-0, on one hit to put Hillcrest Nazarene in a second-place tie with the second-game loser.

Memorial Golf Tourney
Honors Ex-City Athlete

The first Dixie Howell Memorial Invitational Golf Tournament sponsored by Pontiac VFW Post No. 1370, will be held Saturday July 9 at Waterford Hill Country Club.

All bona-fide VFW members and their guests, are eligible to participate in the tournament which is being initiated in honor of one of Pontiac's most outstanding athletes.

GREAT ATHLETE

Howell, once called the most versatile athlete in Pontiac, was in the Armed Forces since his entry during World War II, and last winter at the age of 39, he died following surgery in a military hospital in Washington, D.C.

Paul Parks, chairman of the tournament, and recreation director for Post 1370, said, "there isn't a long-time sports fan around Pontiac who didn't know Dixie and his tremendous talents in all sports."

Entry fee for the tournament is $12.00. This will include 18 holes of golf, lunch at the course, dinner at the VFW Post 1370, a prize for every golfer, along with trophy to the winner and awards for medal and low handicapper.

Tee off times will begin at 9:00 a.m. and close at noon, thus closing entries when all times between these hours are taken.

Golfers can enter by calling the Post at FE 5-4201 or the pro shop at Waterford Hill at 625-2609.

K MART CERTIFIED 5-WAY GUARANTEE

1. Tread Wear—If the tread wears out before the guaranteed number of miles, the tires to be replaced, charging only for the amount of mileage treaded.

2. Free Replacement—If the tire is rendered non-serviceable for any reason during the first 90 days after purchase, it will be replaced at no charge.

3. Road Hazard—Any failure that occurs due to road hazard, will be replaced on a 90 day basis at no charge, provided the tire is replaced at the time of adjustment, something to tread remaining, within specified months guaranteed.

4. Workmanship and Material—Every tire sold by K is guaranteed against all failures or defects in workmanship and material for the life of the original tread.

5. Complete Customer Satisfaction.

All adjustments are based on current everyday selling price, at the time adjustment—not list price or no-trade price.
