Court Deliberating McKeon Case

Michigan Will Spend $34,500 on Moore in Prison if Convicted

It will cost the public $2.93 a day at today's rates. If Moore, now 23, lives to the age of 65, it will cost about $34,500.

These figures come from the Southern Michigan State Prison at Jackson. Edward Colbert, administrative assistant to Warden William H. Bannan, said that's the average daily rate in the state's penal institutions.

It not only represents the cost to provide prisoners with food and clothing, but includes all prison expenses, such as guard salaries and maintenance of buildings.

Moore has reportedly indicated he will plead guilty to first-degree murder in the bludgeoning-death of his three-year-old Lake Orion neighbor, Martha Little.

The confessed killer is in Oakland County Jail without benefit of bond, awaiting examination on the charge Aug. 10.

Should he enter Jackson Prison as a first-degree murderer, Colbert said, there is only a slim chance he will ever walk out a free man.

FREEDOM POSSIBLE AFTER 17 YEARS

It would require a commutation of his sentence by the governor. The action could come after 17-years imprisonment and at the recommendation of a parole board.

Very few lifers are freed, Colbert added.

Moore officially would be treated like any other prisoner, in spite of his heinous crime, Colbert said.

It is a general rule, however, that sex-slayers are hated by other criminals in prison. Throughout the long years, they are never accepted as friends.

WOULD BE PAID FOR PRISON WORK

Moore would be able to see his wife and family twice a month over the screened table in the visitor's room.

He would be allowed to work for nominal pay in one of the prison factories or in maintenance work. He would be allowed to spend up to $15 a month at the prison store.

His family could send him candy at Christmas, soft shoes to replace prison boots and an extra black sweater. He could buy cigarettes, magazines and newspapers. He could keep a Bible in his cell.

Although Michigan law states that first-degree murderers shall be confined for life in solitary confinement, in actuality, there is no such thing, Colbert said.

Solitary confinement is used only for disciplinary reasons, Colbert said, and for periods up to 30 days.

Zoom — 1,900 Miles an Hour

Rocket Plane Hits 1,900 M.P.H., Smashes Record

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Air Force has set a new unofficial world speed record for airplanes of 1,900 miles an hour, but the Defense Department won't for the present allow the fact to be confirmed officially.

Lt. Col. Frank K. Everest Jr., a 34-year-old West Virginian, flew the Bell X2 rocket plane four times as fast as a bullet travels—and close to three times the speed of sound — just last week, July 25, over the southern California desert near Edwards Air Force Base.

This was 250 miles an hour faster than the 1,650 m.p.h. attained by Maj. Charles Yeager in a sister ship, the Bell XIA, Dec. 12, 1953.

He declined to discuss the flight with reporters, on the grounds that Air Force security restrictions forbade comment.

The X2 is a multimillion-dollar flying laboratory, fitted with a quarter ton of instruments to measure temperatures, fuel consumption, stresses and strains at extreme high speeds.

Powered by a Curtiss-Wright rocket engine, it is the first plane to be designed specifically to explore the "thermal barrier" — the problem of ever increasing air-friction heat as supersonic planes fly faster and faster.

War Prevented Over the Suez, Dulles Tells Ike

British, French Agree on Parley for Solution to Canal Crisis

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told President Eisenhower today that war has been staved off in the Suez crisis—at least temporarily.

Dulles arrived in Washington today, flying directly from London where he spent two days engaged in some of the most intense and delicate diplomatic maneuvering he has ever experienced.

Dulles said he hopes the proposed 24-nation conference will produce a solution for the Suez crisis and avert "the danger of violence."

The meeting with Eisenhower was set for later but a telephone talk between Dulles and the President was arranged immediately upon his landing.

Administration officials and diplomats are saying that Dulles—with the policy of moderation he sold the British and French—has prevented what might have been the start of a third world war.

The secretary told the President that the U.S. succeeded in restraining Britain and France from using force now against Egypt in an effort to regain control of the strategic Suez waterway.

In London Britain, mobilizing for a possible occupation of the Suez Canal, dispatched telegrams today ordering an estimated 20,000 army reservists to report for duty.

Meanwhile, Greece and New Zealand became the first countries to accept invitations to a 24-nation conference in London beginning Aug. 16 at which plans for placing the canal under international control will be discussed.

American, British and French foreign ministers hammered out plans for the conference yesterday and agreed to ask Russia and Egypt among others to meet in London Aug. 16 to establish an international authority over the canal which Egypt nationalized eight days ago.

Britain already has dispatched the invitations. A source close to the Egyptian government in Cairo said President Gamel Abdel Nasser may reply tonight. There were indications in the Egyptian capital that his answer would be "No."

Diplomatic sources here said the conference would be held whether Egypt and Russia attend or not.

And in Moscow, the Soviet government is expected to announce

Drill Instructor's Fate in Hands of 7-Man Board

Conviction Could Bring 6 Years at Hard Labor, Expulsion From Corps

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) —The fate of Marine S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon was submitted to a court-martial of six Marines and a Navy doctor at 12:37 p.m. today.

Thus the trial of the 31-year-old former drill instructor, which has attracted nationwide attention, neared a close in its 19th day.

McKeon's fate will be decided in the closely guarded classroom of the white frame grammar school at this training center.

In its course, the trial made Marine history when seven stars worth of general camp to the defense of the four-stripe sergeant.

One general was the commandant, Randolph M. Pate. The other was a crusty Marine hero, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller, who was called out of retirement.

* * *

McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty in the presence of a recruit. If convicted on all counts, he could receive a maximum sentence of six years at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge.

The charges stem from a night disciplinary march, led by McKeon, of 74 recruits into the tide-swept Ribbon Creek marsh here April 8, where six drowned.

The trial judge, Navy Capt. Irving N. Klein of New York City, instructed the panel on points of law this morning.

The final summations were brief requiring only 41 minutes.

'JUST MAD'

Maj. Charles B. Sevier of Jacksonville, Ill., prosecutor, held that McKeon was "just mad" when he led the recruits into the water.

Defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York City, argued the tragedy was the "result of panic and not lawlessness."

In making his plea for acquittal, Berman also contended McKeon would never have been brought to trial had it not been for "politics in high places—yes, even the halls of Congress—and mistakes in handling this matter."

The thin, balding, hawk-nosed attorney referred to the outcry in Congress immediately after the

Subpoenas Out in Ecorse Probe

More Witnesses Due; Montry Takes Stand for Eight Hours

DETROIT (INS)—Additional subpoenas to witnesses in the grand jury investigation of Ecorse graft were being delivered by state police today as the probe rested briefly before hearing more testimony on Monday.

* * *

The grand jury staff quizzed former Ecorse police and fire commissioner William H. Montry for over eight hours yesterday in his first confession under oath of his part in the pay-offs to city officials from a gambling syndicate.

Montry, who earlier admitted receiving $200 of the $4,000 per month he said gamblers passed out to 21 Ecorse officials and policemen, was immediately taken back to his state police hideaway after giving his testimony.

He went on the stand at 2:30 p.m. yesterday, took 45 minutes for dinner, a 15-minute coffee break at 10:30 p.m. and completed his testimony at 12:50 a.m. today.

Among those the probe will question when hearings are resumed will be downriver gambler Russell Trilck, who was the grand jury's first witness Wednesday. He also testified before the Ferguson grand jury in 1940 and the recent police graft grand jury conducted by Judge John P. O'Hara but has never been indicted.

Stayed at Farm 2 Nights

Friend of Slain Woman Slated to Take Lie Test

A 62-year-old Springfield Township man who admitted he stayed two nights last week at the Florence Norton farm was to be given a lie detector test at the Redford State Police Post today. He is a possible suspect in the ax-murder of Mrs. Norton.

Frank Bird was questioned by Oakland County detectives yesterday after it was learned that he visited a neighbor's home to inquire about the slain woman.

"Bird said he had stayed at the Norton farm two nights last week but could not remember if it was Wednesday and Friday or Thursday and Friday," Oakland County Sheriff's detective Leo Hazen reported this morning.

"He told us he was an old friend of the family, and admitted Mrs. Norton had loaned him money often," Hazen added.

The body of Mrs. Norton was found in a well house near her Rattalee Lake road home Wednesday morning by a neighbor. An autopsy revealed she had been killed with several blows to the head with an ax or cleaver.

Bird was not held and appeared at the Oakland County Sheriff's Department voluntarily this morning to make the trip to Detroit for the lie test.

Bird is the first person to be given a lie detector test in the case.

SEARCH CONTINUES

County and state police detectives continue to seek further clues. A missing black billfold and a double-bitted ax are being sought in the continued search of the farm.

Dope Witnesses Refuse to Talk

Renege on Promises as Pre-Trial Hearings Resume in Pontiac

The pre-trial examination of 15 suspects in an alleged dope conspiracy re-opened today with the possibility that two defendants may be charged with more serious offenses.

* * *

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said warrants are ready to charge Eddie Mae Yates, 28, and Paul Baity, 27, with possession and sale of narcotics.

Taylor said the pair had originally agreed to testify against the suspects. But today Taylor said, the pair were unwilling to involve 13 others in the conspiracy.

Defense attorney Milton Henry called the threat of greater charges "coercion and intimidation," saying it was forcing the defendants to testify against themselves. Taylor argued the agreement had been made at the time the pair were originally charged in May.

ISSUES WARNING

"We are going to wipe out narcotics in this county, if it takes 10 years," Taylor said.

A prosecution witness, John E. (Sunny) Samples, 314 Wessen St., was to testify today in Municipal Court how he allegedly purchased $5 worth of dope at an upstairs apartment at 426½ S. Saginaw St. May 4.

The purchase led to the arrest of Miss Yates and Baity, and other suspects.

Taylor said he believed his presentation of evidence at the examination would be concluded today. The examination is being conducted before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

County Astronomer Explains Saucers

Dr. Orren Mohler, of the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, said reports of flying saucers and other unidentified objects over the Detroit area last night "possibly were caused by an after image of the planet Mars."

The astronomer said Mars, although 50 million miles away, is shining at its brightest intensity. After the eye stares at the planet and turns away, the bright image remains in view for seconds.

Mohler added that five observers have been watching the skies closely for the past two nights and discovered nothing "abnormal."

Observers at Selfridge Air Force Base said temperature inversions could cause lights in the sky. The inversions form a spectrum for "bending" light from earth to sky.

Reports of the astronomical oddities came from southern Wayne County, Lincoln Park, Wyandotte and Hazel Park.

No Prize-Winner This Week

5,035 Readers Lay Siege, but Pot Stays Unscathed

Numerically speaking, our collection of 16 words was the underdog in last week's Pot-O-Gold encounter—5,035 readers, each bent on wresting order out of confusion, faced the baffling array with pencils and word lists.

But the underdog won, much to the chagrin of judges who had $200 to shower upon some member of the "opposition."

Lacking such a champion, the Press today adds another $100 to its bulging prize pot to bring next week's stakes to $300—plus the $25 bonus that goes to a subscriber.

Completion of judging for Puzzle No. 9 marks the beginning of the last month of Pot-O-Gold competition, scheduled to end the week before Labor Day. Four weeks—four winners. . .we hope so.

Comments from some would-be winners indicate varying degrees of down-heartedness about the prospects of winning. There's no sure-fire method, we're sorry to relate.

The part that Dame Luck plays can be seen in the example of Mrs. Norma Lussier who won $725 for a successful half-hour of precise wandering through the maze of words and blanks. And she consulted the dictionary just once!

Union and Crucible Sign New Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — The United Steelworkers signed a contract last night with the Crucible Steel Co., a major concern. The signing stirred high hopes that a mass signing of contracts today would end the nationwide, 34-day-old steel strike.

Governor Asks for Local Traffic Safety Councils

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

EAST LANSING—Some 500 law enforcement officials and traffic safety minded citizens from more than 100 Michigan communities yesterday heard Gov. G. Mennen Williams' "challenge" that every state community establish a traffic safety council to aid in lowering Michigan's highway death toll.

* * *

Gov. Williams addressed the annual Governor's Highway Safety Conference held in the Student Union Building on the Michigan State University campus.

"I hope by Labor Day we can get 50 per cent of all the communities with local traffic safety councils," Williams requested. "I am sure if we do this our record is going to be lower than it ever has been before."

He told the audience that Michigan ranked next to California for the most traffic deaths with 21.5 per 1,000 population. But he added, "at least we are moving in the right direction this year" with 54 fewer highway deaths for the first six months of 1956 compared to last year.

PONTIAC DELEGATION

Pontiac's delegation to the conference included Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel, Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the Police Traffic and Safety Bureau, Ralph T. Norvell and Clyle R. Haskill, representing the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber presently sponsors a Traffic Safety Committee and has initiated a proposal for an Oakland County safety committee.

Both Williams and Walter W. Belson, director of public relations for the American Trucking Assn., and keynote speaker, repeatedly stressed the need for adjusting the attitude of citizens toward highway safety.

"We must shake the complacency of people on this subject of taking needless and innocent lives," Belson emphasized to the luncheon gathering.

ROUND-TABLE SESSIONS

After lunch, those in attendance were split in discussion groups according to population of the communities they represented. These discussions resulted in the consensus that Michigan needed a uniform violation enforcement code and increased safety education for both young and old.

Other recommendations were for stricter driver licensing, mandatory state vehicle inspections, heavier fines for repeated drunk and reckless driving violators, replacement of justice courts with violations bureaus, and the formation of a state committee to control all licensing.

Gen. George C. Stewart (USA Ret.), general manager of the National Safety Council, questioned "Why we can't find the genius to drive people to go after the wholesale killer of the highway like we do with the dread polio disease?" He cited the case in Chicago where through July 29, people were crusading after 11 polio deaths out of 422 cases, but little, if anything was being said or done about 183 killed and 22,000 injured on Chicago streets because of traffic accidents.

Stewart seconded Gov. Williams' proposal for formation of local and county safety councils. "The big key to solving traffic problems is public support," he declared.

R. W. Richards, past president of the Michigan State Safety Conference spoke briefly on "The Citizen's Attitude Toward Law Enforcement." Detroit Recorder's Court Judge John D. Watts introduced the guests at the luncheon.

The Michigan Townships Assn. and Justices of the Peace Assn. offered a resolution aimed at curbing the highway "slaughter" by requiring compulsory automobile inspection and insurance and recognition for good driving records.

County Attorney Asks Dismissal

Davis Seeks Non-Suit in Court Argument of Rochester Incorporation

A motion to dismiss suit against the County Board of Supervisors by opponents of a proposal to incorporate Rochester village as a city was heard this morning by visiting Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Tuscola County in Oakland County Circuit Court.

* * *

The suit, filed by a group of Rochester and Avon Township residents, asked the court to compel the Board to act on the first of three petitions for incorporation and shelve the others for two years.

Judge Quinn said this morning, "there isn't much doubt in my mind" that the two-year provision in Michigan law, which says the Board must not consider petitions concerning an area more than once in two years, applies to this case.

* * *

Charles A. Davis, acting corporation counsel for the County, had contended the provision applied only to annexation proceedings.

At its April 10 meeting, the Board declared the first of the three petitions invalid. The third was filed as a substitute for the second.

All three had asked the Board to set an election date for a vote on the incorporation of Rochester and portions of Avon Township as a new city.

* * *

The motion to dismiss the case this morning was made by Davis at a hearing for the county to show cause why they should not be restrained from considering the recent petitions.

'Death March' Trial Enters Final Stage

April 8 tragedy for an investigation of Marine training methods and the statement by Pate that the Marine Corps itself was on trial.

Berman contended McKeon was "teaching discipline in the highest traditions of the military service" when he ordered the recruits out for the night march.

Further, he held that McKeon, at the head of the column, was not negligent because he was showing the way, step by step.

"The loss of these lives," said Berman, "was due to panic. Panic can never be predicted or foreseen . . . nor can its results be explained as in this case."

Sevier made no effort to be dramatic. He spoke as one military man to another.

PICK UP 1st ED.

Never before has a commandant taken the witness stand in the defense of a sergeant as did Gen. Randolph M. Pate.

And never before has a retired hero and lieutenant general been called from retirement to testify in the defense of an enlisted man he had never seen.

But it happened when Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller was summoned yesterday on McKeon's behalf.

Puller, like Pate, said he did not consider the night march led by McKeon as oppression of recruits and added that drill instructors had a wide latitude instilling discipline in recruits.

Army Athlete Betters World 100-Meter Mark

BERLIN (AP)—Pvt. Willie J. Williams of Gary, Ind., today ran the 100-meter dash in 10.1 seconds at an international military track meet, surpassing the world record by one-tenth of a second.

Williams made his record breaking dash at a 10-nation meet sponsored by the International Military Sport Council Field and Track Championships in Berlin's Olympic Station.

His mark of 10.1 seconds, beating by one-tenth of a second the record first set by Jessie Ownes of the United States in 1936, was announced by U. S. Army officials supervising the meet.

SARA HETHERINGTON

HARRY VAN MATRE JR.

At U. of M. Summer Course

Pontiac Press to Sponsor Two Journalism Students

The Pontiac Press will send two Pontiac High School students to the University of Michigan for a two-weeks summer course in journalism.

Harry Van Matre Jr., 15, and Sara Hetherington, 16, leave Monday for Ann Arbor where they will assist in publication of a laboratory newspaper, attend classes and study newspaper makeup.

Sara, daughter of Mrs. C. R. Hetherington, 91 Thorpe, is a junior, and a staff member of the Pontiac High newspaper, The Tomahawk, in the capacity of page assistant. She started her Tomahawk work the past year as a news reporter.

Sara's educational goal at the moment is not newspaper work. "I'm really thinking about pharmacy" she said. "They have a good course at the University of Michigan so I may go there when the time comes."

HARRY WRITES SPORTS

Harry, son of the Harry Van Matres, 597 W. Huron St., got into journalism "by mistake," he claims.

It seems his classes were shuffled and Harry ended up unexpectedly in a journalism course. He discovered he liked the subject and soon joined the staff of the Tomahawk as a sports writer.

Life's work for Harry is still undecided. Whether to study his original choice, engineering, or to enter the newspaper business is now his problem. He also is a Pontiac High School junior.

Andonian, Reynolds, Lendzon Eliminated

Three Oakland county golfers, playing in the annual Detroit District Golf Association tournament at Plum Hollow bowed out of match play at noon today. Today's round was the tourney's first after qualification.

Eighteen-year-old Jack Reynolds of Indianwood was eliminated by defending titlist Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile 5 and 4. Mike Andonian of Pontiac CC lost to Bob Nonamaker of Detroit 4 and 3 and Stan Lendzon of Royal Oak bowed to Burl Sellers of Detroit, 7 and 6.

Bill Sieleff and John Driver were all even at the turn, each with 37.

Reynolds held an early two-hole edge on Glenn, but was one down at the turn. He squared the match at 10, but lost the next several holes.

Dulles Averts War Over Suez Seizure

swift acceptance of an invitation to attend the London conference on the Suez Canal, providing Egypt also agrees to attend.

British ships, men and planes were being moved or readied, not only in Britain, but at important British bases overseas in the Mediterranean area.

* * *

The Ministry of Transport announced the requisitioning of several merchant ships, presumably to move supplies for troops going to the Mediterranean. Workers at Portsmouth were converting hangars on the aircraft carrier Theseus to accommodate more than 1,000 troops who were expected to sail Sunday.

On Cyprus, property was being requisitioned to accommodate additional thousands of troops who are expected to begin arriving soon.

CYPRUS ALERTED

Cyprus will be used as a natural jumping off point for the canal zone area should an emergency arise.

The thoroughness of the preparations and their reminiscence to other little and major wars of the past convinced the public that the Eden government really means business if compelled to act militarily to protect its vital canal interests.

* * *

Here are the main outlines of an agreement for a Suez Canal control body reached by the United States, Britain and France:

The new organization would be called the International Suez Canal Authority. It would be a nonprofit body designed to maintain the free and efficient use of the canal for all nations.

Its purposes would include:

1. Compensation of stockholders of the old private concern which was nationalized last Thursday by President Gamel Abdel Nasser of Egypt.

2. Payment of royalties, presumably more than the 7 per cent now paid, to Egypt.

3. Undertaking of long-term projects needed for the upkeep and improvement of the canal.

* * *

The organization would be set up by a conference to be held within the next few weeks—probably in London, though Rome and Geneva also have been suggested. Countries participating would be those whose shipping and foreign trade are the major users of the canal. Russia and Egypt would be among them.

Some observers thought an attempt would be made to salve Egyptian pride by distinguishing between ownership and management of the canal — leaving the management in international hands and the prestige of ownership with the Egyptians.

Visiting Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Tuscola County, this morning presided at a hearing on the petition for a court order restraining the township from granting a franchise to the Southfield Evergreen Corp. to build the sewer or from holding a public vote on the franchise at Tuesday's primary election.

Attorneys for both sides quoted the same Michigan statute. Glenn C. Gillespie, representing plaintiff Myron Greenfield, said the statute did not authorize such township action.

Speaking for the township, Harry N. Dell contended the statute did authorize granting of franchises to use public facilities to private interests.

VOTE YES 3 TIMES

Although township voters have authorized sewer bonds three times, he said, the bonds could not be sold because of confusion over recent attempts to incorporate Southfield as a city.

Meanwhile, he said, the township faces punitive action from the State Water Resources Commission over pollution of township streams. Supervisor Eugene Swem has been cited for contempt in failing to correct the problem.

but have not been able to find it," Det. Roy Hartwick stated this morning.

A single-bit ax was found inside the shed where Mrs. Norton's body was discovered, but no blood or fingerprints have been found on it. No report has been received by the Sheriff's Department on various samples of blood sent to Lansing for analysis. The samples were taken from various parts of the house and farm.

Detectives said today that a report that a neighbor may have seen the slain widow Monday night appeared to have been a mistake. The neighbor, Mrs. Lenora Wilson, now thinks it probably was Saturday or Sunday, according to county officers.

Questioning of the murder continued throughout the area today. Hazen said all residents of the sector where the farm is located are still under investigation because "just about everyone around there had borrowed money from Mrs. Norton."

The Day in Birmingham

McClellan-Ball, Lake's, Loan Firm Slate Moves

BIRMINGHAM—Among several buildings planning changes of locations are the McClellan-Ball store, the Birmingham Federal Savings and Loan Assn., and Lake's Jewelers.

McClellan-Ball will move next week, with an opening of their new store at 850 South Woodward Ave., planned for next Saturday. Their old store, at 515 Brownell, will be open through Tuesday, and will be foregone in favor of moving operations on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Jonathan Ball, president of the firm, plans to expand his lawn supply business extensively, and later his pet supply offerings as well. The firm also specializes in gardening supplies and water softener aides.

Ball's gardening tips have been quoted in national magazines and far-flung local newspapers.

An Oct. 15 date is goal of Birmingham Federal for its move into the former Kay Baum building from the Maple-Woodward corner.

Then after Lake's moves sometime thereafter into the remodeled corner section of the block - long building, the loan firm will expand into the jewelry location.

Proposed parking lot 4, which for the time seemed doomed because of funds going entirely into Lots HH and 3-A, now is back in the picture for city parking plans.

It was termed financially possible by the finance director of the city this week, and commissioners did not reconsider the proposal to drop lot 4 plans.

Barnett's to Move Into New Quarters

Plans to transfer Barnett's Clothes Shop operations to larger quarters at 150 N. Saginaw were announced yesterday by Archie Barnett, merchandising manager.

Barnett said that the firm has taken a long-term lease on the future site and expects to move from its present location at 19 N. Saginaw St. in about six weeks.

The change will climax an extensive remodeling program which will include new interior fixtures and construction of a new front, Barnett said. The new quarters are about a third larger than the present building, he added.

The store plans to offer a more extensive line of men's clothing while increasing the sales staff. Formal occupancy will follow a removal sale of merchandise currently carried in stock.

Brother Hits Toddler While Backing Up Car

An 18-month-old Independence Township boy was in "good" condition at Pontiac General Hospital today after he was struck Thursday by a car driven by his brother in the family driveway.

He was playing in the driveway when the brother, Gary, 15, was backing up the car.

Youth Builds Rocket —Army Will Fire It

It's powered by liquid oxygen and has a fuel injection system, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration says please don't shoot it off in Mecklenburg County. It might hit an airplane or something.

Meantime, Army ordnance and operations officers say they'll try to find a place where Jimmy can fire the rocket, perhaps at some military base, where folks are used to such things.

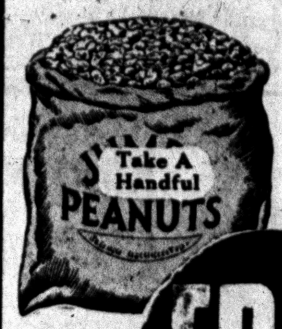

Jimmy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Blackmon, commented: "I didn't think about it hitting anything on the way up. I had thought it might hit something on the way down."

Students at Convention

Prof. Long is director of the Michigan Citizenship Clearing House, designed to encourage college men and women to participate in political affairs after graduation.

Convicts Explain 41 Mashed Legs

Legislators in Georgia Learn How Prisoners Protested 'Brutality'

REIDSVILLE, Ga. (AP)—A legislative investigating committee today began interviewing 41 convicts who broke or damaged their legs with sledge hammers in protest against working conditions and alleged brutality at Georgia's Rock Quarry Prison for incorrigibles.

* * *

The injured were brought to the state's Central Prison here for treatment. Seven suffered deep gashes or bruises; the other 34 had broken bones.

A convict who witnessed the bone breaking told the committee at a hearing yesterday in the Rock Quarry Prison near Buford that three white convicts "went down the line" smashing legs of other white prisoners.

Earlier, it had been reported that each convict broke his own leg by smashing the sharp edge of the heavy hammers down on them.

* * *

A Negro convict who testified he saw the mass mutilation identified the three white inmates as Willie McSwain, Junior Powell and Odell Evans. He said the three broke each other's legs after they had smashed those of the others.

He said Jesse Lee Stark swung the hammer on the legs of his fellow Negro convicts and then broke his own leg.

The witness said the men "just hollered out a little bit and sort of turned to one side" as their legs were smashed. They were out of sight of guards.

Prober Quits Hospital Study

DETROIT (AP) — The research director of the governor's Blue Cross Study Commission has resigned from the project because, he says, "interested parties" are not co-operating in the investigation.

* * *

Dr. S. J. Axelrod, University of Michigan professor of public health, wrote university officials that an effective research program could not be carried out.

The letter to Marvin L. Niehuss, university vice president, was made public today.

The governor's commission, headed by George E. Bowles, was set up in May to study the rising costs of hospital care in Michigan.

It was formed following a 15 per cent increase in Blue Cross rates and accusations by the United Auto Workers union that the rate boost was caused by faulty utilization of hospitals and deficiencies in the prepayment mechanism.

Dr. Axelrod, an authority in the field of pre-paid hospital plans, was asked to undertake the research program.

Bowles said he learned of his resignation in a letter from Niehuss.

"I hope," therefore, that the commission will reconsider its request that the University of Michigan undertake to carry on the study for the commission," Niehuss wrote.

* * *

The program would have required a $200,000 budget and would have been conducted by the university's School of Public Health.

Georgia's peach crop was badly damaged by sudden freezes this spring for the second year in a row. It is estimated that about 50 per cen of the 1956 crop was rmuined—a loss of more than $5,000,000 to peach growers.

You Can Still Eat Cake

Hey, Fatso! Digest This

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — So you're on a diet? Well, cheer up, fatso; it was a lot worse 20 years ago. These days, you can have your cake — and eat it too.

* * *

This, in substance, is the message being spread by some 500 producers and purveyors of specialized foods, assembled here for the 18th convention of the National Dietary Foods Assn.

A sizable industry has grown from the fact that dieting once was, but needn't be, a very dreary chore. Nonfattening foods used to be plain foods. Canned diet foods, packed in water, formerly had all the flavor of an old paper napkin.

* * *

Dieting still isn't exactly fun, as this fat reporter can attest. But modern processing methods and a wide array of sugar substitutes now offer a new interest in life for many a calorie counter.

Almost all the things once denied a dieter were on display at the convention yesterday — in very special form. Chocolate nougats, for instance. Protein value high, caloric value (19 apiece) low.

There is a very passable butter substitute made from soy oil. Like Jelly? Any flavor you can think of, one calorie per spoonful. Dietetic mayonnaise, once pretty pasty, tastes much better now, at 10 calories per spoonful.

* * *

You don't even have to give up pie. Low calorie fruit fillings come in cans, with dietetic mixes to make the crust.

Sugar-free chewing gum and lollipops are big sellers, delegates say.

Most cakes and cookies are for skinny people, but there are a few for us chubby fellows too, at 19 calories each.

* * *

One is made from "orange flour," the true name of which is protopectin, an appetite appeaser found in the skins and pulp of citrus fruits. The citrus industry now produces protopectin as a by-product.

The dieting fat man, like the gourmet he envies, can go in for bizarre foods too. Spinach noodles, for example, and artichoke noodles.

Then there are such delicacies as huckleberry tea and oat straw tea, if you go in for that sort of thing. The pods of the carob tree, known to early Christians as St. John's bread, are used now to make candy.

Health is the by-word of the convention. But there is one noticeable thing about the delegates: an amazing number of them could stand a little dieting.

Irrigation Pays in India

NEW DELHI — As a result of improved irrigation, India's Uttar Pardesh State is now producing annually about 1,400,000 tons of surplus food grains while only two years ago it had a deficit of 900,000 tons.

Machines Will Speed Tuesday Vote Results

Pontiac and Oakland County returns from next Tuesday's primary will be the fastest in the area's history.

To some this may seem like a rash prediction until it is remembered that for the first time Pontiac electors will do their voting on fast, accurate automatic machines.

In deciding to give them a one year trial on a rental basis, the City Commission provided for 80 of these automatics. This brings the number of machine equipped precincts to 231 of the 249 in the County.

In other words, next Tuesday in nearly 93 per cent of all Oakland County precincts, voting will be done by machine. Paper ballots will be used only in five townships, parts of three others and two cities.

Experience with voting machines has proved they not only are faster and more accurate, but reduce the costs of elections. With machines, returns are known as early as two hours after the polls close. In contrast, some paper ballot precinct boards take up to a day to finish their work.

The Press, long an advocate of machine voting, ventures another prediction. We believe the voters not only will like the machines, but that Pontiac never will go back to paper ballot elections.

Place on Dems' Ticket Unlikely for Sparkman

One of the virtual certainties of the approaching Democratic National Convention is that Alabama's Senator John J. Sparkman won't be its Vice Presidential nominee.

The Majority Party's reason for not renaming its 1952 second place candidate isn't hard to find. The Democrats' best hope of avoiding serious internecine strife is to play down its differences on civil rights.

This would be difficult to do if Sen. Sparkman again were the nominee. He was one of the 17 Senators who, with 77 Representatives, signed the Southern Manifesto denouncing the Supreme Court for its public school disegregation decision.

★ ★ ★

A similar incident emphasizes the otherwise liberal Alabama lawmaker's unsuitability. On July 17 he inserted an anti-integration article in the Congressional Record. This charged that FDR took over the platform of the Socialist Party and called it the New Deal. It adds that the Truman Civil Rights Program was traceable from Roosevelt to Socialist Leader Norman Thomas and from Thomas to Russia.

★ ★ ★

Obviously the Democrats are unlikely to renominate the Alabaman when his civil rights views so strongly conflict with those of the party's front running Presidential aspirant, Adlai Stevenson. To nominate one of the Manifesto signers might well be to risk losing the electoral votes of non-Southern states with many Negro voters.

Mr. Cain's Resignation

It is reasonable to believe that many members of both parties regret the resignation of Harry P. Cain from the Subversive Activities Control Board.

As chairman, the former Republican Senator from Washington did much to call public attention to what he believed were defects in the Adminstration's internal security program.

Effective August 9, the expiration date of his three year term, the resignation isn't viewed as a protest against that program. Rather, it is seen as an effort to give the President a free hand in choosing a successor.

Mr. Cain is one of the most unusual men in the national capital. Before his defeat in 1954 he was an ultra conservative member of his party. Following his appointment to the board by President Eisenhower, he became a crusader for greater justice in the program.

★ ★ ★

Among other things he contended that under it injustices were done private citizens as well as Government employes. Mr. Cain served the Nation well by repeatedly emphasizing that the country needs a program that reconciles national security with human rights. While other critics insist that much more needs to be done, they concede that there has been considerable improvement during his tenure.

Chairman Cain's official term has only a few days to run. It is a safe guess, however, that he will continue in private life the crusade he started in office more than a year ago.

What a foolish feeling! They now are really simpler than the ballot, make no human mistakes in the count, and have it ready at the close of the polls. They will not bite, scratch, kick, butt, growl, swear, mislead, talk back, act snooty or dumb, or gossip—which is doing better than some election inspectors we've known. Try it my Dame, and your complex will fade away and you'll be so happy you'll want to vote twice. They are a far cry from the cumbersome and puzzling contraptions that Holly once tried and then consigned to the village dump. David Lawrence Says:

Ike Tells Why He Wants to Run

WASHINGTON—There are some people who claim to love Ike so much that they aren't going to vote for him because they hope he then will live longer.

* * *

Then there are those who are going to vote for Ike but somehow feel he has served his country well and merits a rest.

Perhaps the best answer to all this solicitude came from Eisenhower himself at his press conference last Wednesday.

The President was told by one of the newsmen that around Gettysburg many of his neighbors were saying they would vote for him but wished he wouldn't run because he has done enough, and they are afraid he will not live another four years. Here was Eisenhower's comment as officially recorded:

AS RECORDED

"Well, sir, I would tell you, frankly, I don't think it is too important to the individual how his ends comes, and certainly he can't dictate the time. What we are talking about here is the importance of the country, and it happens that at this moment the Republican Party apparently thinks I am still important to them and to the country. And since I believe so much in the Republican Party, and I believe that it needed rebuilding so badly—an effort which I have been making, as you well know—I said I would continue to try.

"But this is a decision that the American people are going to have to face. I am flattered by what you tell me about my friends and neighbors at Gettysburg, but I have made up my mind this is the thing I should try, and we will see what the American people have to say about it."

The foregoing is a masterful statement of a soldier's point of view. His life is dedicated to service. As long as he can be helpful to his country, he keeps on taking risks.

It is for the greater authority—the people—to say whether he shall or shall not have the opportunity for further service.

Members of the cabinet who have talked intimately with Eisenhower about his philosophy say the principal reason for his desire to serve on is a belief that he can do something constructive toward world peace.

He is convinced that this is a critical time in world affairs and that as a soldier he must not think of risks to himself but of the cause that can be of the largest benefit to mankind.

The President's comments, moreover, disclose something else—he has not been forced into a decision by the politicians. He wants to run because he thinks he can be useful to his country.

POOR TASTE

Nothing could be more depressing than to read of the bad taste of two British newspapers in recent weeks.

The "London News-Chronicle" said that "if the suspicions were ever proved well-founded that a great political party was ready for its own ends to hound this man (Eisenhower) beyond physical endurance, it could never be forgiven."

The Socialist newspaper, "Daily Herald," of London said bluntly: "The effort may well kill Ike. If it does, we who like him—and all Americans—will curse the Republican Party. If Ike is President again, it's a near certainty that his stablemate, the unspeakable Richard Nixon, will finish off his term. The truth is that Ike is in no state to run again as President."

To understand the foregoing, it is necessary to note that these British papers reflect a fear that a conservative Republican regime in Washington will not be as generous as the Eisenhower administration in providing foreign-aid funds—and Nixon is supposed to be on the nongiving side. Stevenson is really the favorite in Europe.

The British newspapers in question might well have taken to heart what a weekly periodical, the "London Economist," reported from Washington: "Eisenhower's first reason is the same as that which kept Sir Winston Churchill so long in office. It is the sincere conviction that because he provides a personal link with the wartime spirit, he can, if given time, make some great stroke for peace."

NO COURTESY TO IKE

One wonders why these same British newspapers, which were so considerate in the case of Sir Winston Churchill's illness, cannot give equal courtesy to the President of the United States.

From June 27, 1953, when the Prime Minister suffered a paralytic stroke, until he himself announced that fact on March 2, 1955, in the House of Commons after he had convalesced, the British Press printed nothing about it—a period of more than a year and a half.

The illness, Churchill revealed, had interfered with a trip he intended to make to Washington after Stalin's death to arrange for a four-power conference. It was a time when he had to suspend much of his official activity.

What Eisenhower said this week ought to be published widely in Britain—for he isn't being "hounded" by anybody. He himself wants to run. He is appreciative of the chance to serve his country—and he knows his own mind.

It's the same mind which commanded the large allied force that helped to save England in the last war and one that deserves better treatment from those newspapers in Britain.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Columnist Raps Goals of 'Modern' U.S. Medics

Only 30 out of each hundred physicians in the United States are in general practice. The 1956 medical directory, issued by the American Medical Assn. says that 31 out of each hundred physicians are specialists. An additional 10 out of each hundred are part-time specialists—they say they give special attention to one or another line. Usually this means that if the doctor can build up a reputation for ability in the preferred line, he will announce that his practice is limited to—the chosen field. In other words, he will become a full-time specialist.

A revealing article in the official organ of the American Medical Assn. was contributed by a member who suggested that a young doctor should drive a (expensive make) car and even contrive to get his wife a mink coat at the earliest possible time, for these are symbols of success which impress the public, etc. etc. It was sad enough that such a thing was printed at all. It was typical of the present spirit of Medicine in Yankeeland that this article was deemed important enough to appear in what purports to be a medical journal—it was a sad exhibition of the crude commercialism that has subverted the profession in recent years.

Of the 1955 and 1956 graduating classes of one medical school, 77 per cent announced their intention of practicing as specialists. Not because they think there is more money or more prestige in specializing but because they feel the body of medicine has become too big and complicated for any one man.

One young doctor of the 1955 class, having just finished a year of internship, has started in general practice, and he thinks there's no reason why a general practitioner can't do most minor surgery, most obstetrics, etc.

Well, no, not if his surgical and obstetric skill doesn't annoy the specialists. I think that if I needed a doctor, I'd rather have this one who does what he was taught to do (if his medical training was worth a hoot) than one of the 77 per cent who became specialists not for money or prestige but simply because they think general medicine is too big and complicated.

Dr. Stafford L. Warren, Dean of the U. of C. School of Medicine at Los Angeles, says U. S. medical schools turn out three types of doctors: Healers, scientists, and mechanics. Mechanics do get into medical schools, and they do get through them. When they get out they usually drive big cars and have great prestige.

So that's why the AMA organ plumped for mink coats.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Learn to Live With Your Defects

Lois is so discouraged she wants to die. But that is not the proper attitude to take in school, and our life on this earth is simply an educational course in God's cosmic school system. So widen your perspective. Face the facts. Do your best to lessen your flaws. Then laugh at yourself occasionally and learn how to enjoy people.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-329: Lois W., aged 16, is a charming high schooler who came to me in tears and ready to take an overdose of sleeping pills.

"Dr. Crane, what's the use of living?" she exclaimed tragically.

"I am a diabetic and must take 20 units of insulin per day. If there were a cure, I wouldn't mind it so much.

"But my doctor says I'll probably need insulin as long as I live. And won't boys shun me as regards proposals when they learn I am a diabetic?

WIDEN YOUR HORIZON

Life is not a gala circus event. It is an educational program. And we all have problems to solve while in this laboratory school in God's cosmic school system.

Lois must learn to adjust pleasantly to diabetes. Others have epilepsy as their dilemma.

Some have polio. Last Christmas, for example, a young married woman who has been in an iron lung for three full years made me a lovely Christmas greeting.

She couldn't move from the neck down. But a nurse would place a paint brush in her mouth and she'd twist her head slightly from side to side to make the delicate strokes.

Some people are miserable because they are too short in stature. Others dread their excessive height which makes them unduly conspicuous.

Some girls cry because they are flat chested. Others sob in my office because they are large. So widen your perspective and learn to laugh at yourself a little more often.

FACE THE FACTS

"Face the facts," is a cardinal rule in psychology and medicine. What is diabetes? Well, it's a deficiency ailment of the pancreas.

Suppose you need 100 units of insulin to utilize your food daily. In

In the case of Lois, she must add 20 units of insulin from outside to supplement her own internal manufacture of insulin.

But she can do that easily enough with a hypodermic needle. And by watching her weight, she can live to a ripe old age and be a very happy, useful person.

It is estimated that 1,000,000 Americans are diabetics. Some can get along without insulin by rigid dieting. Others need insulin by hypodermic.

At present, physicians offer no cure. But we had no cure for smallpox or diphtheria a few generations ago, yet now we can stop them easily.

Because the digestive juices destroy insulin so it must be injected under the skin.

If foreign tissue didn't dissolve when grafted into our bodies, we might transplant a piece of pancreas from some non-diabetic and thus give the diabetic patient a new source of internal insulin. That plan hasn't worked successfully so far.

Maybe it will be possible in another generation. But take hope and quit being so sorry for yourself. Diabetics marry happily, and have children.

There is a slight chance of inheriting the tendency to diabetes, but if a diabetic marries a non-diabetic the odds favor their having normal children.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane, in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Readers Demand Action on Capital Punishment

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Another baby dead and I can't help thinking it could have been mine. Are we going to have to start locking our children up to protect them from men such as Howard Moore? If they are not safe in their own yards, where are they safe?

In your front page editorial on Monday, you stated that the state must now feed and cloth this man for perhaps the rest of his life. Who is the state? It's you and I and the Littles. Yes, the Littles must also feed and cloth the murderer of their child. God help them and help us to put a stop to such horrible things.

How can we get capital punishment in this state? How can we get it up for vote?

I think if these mad dogs such as Moore were faced with death, they would think twice. As it is, he may be paroled in years to come and be free to kill again. The next time it may be my baby or your baby. Are you willing to expose your child to men like that? I'm not, so let's do something about it!

An Angry Mother

How many more babies have to be sacrificed before we have capital punishment? To you who are against it, it might have been your child.

I'm for capital punishment!

119 W. Genesee

Your short note on the front page of Monday's Press regarding a new penalty for sex criminals was a welcome one. Now I and several friends in neighboring cities in Oakland County would like to know where we can start to get some action.

As a mother of five small children, I am filled beyond capacity with fear of such horrors. I feel sure that if the punishment were death for the killer, he would think a little before taking that drink, ride or whatever it is that gives him such desires that lead to a little child dead by the side of a road!

Michigan is loaded with such people because they can do the worst and be excused as insane, live comfortably for a few years on state support and be free again.

It's a very sad situation which I would like to help remedy.

Maybe a change in the law would make it unnecessary to ever need enforcement of it.

U.S. Follows French, British Policies on Suez

By JOHN H. MARTIN

The United States has fallen into line with Britain and France by freezing Suez Canal Company and Egyptian government assets.

* * *

But traces of friction among the Western Allies are apparent in their attempt to work out "a common policy" in the canal crisis.

Washington officially did not react with the same shock as did the British and French when Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser seized the Suez Canal Company.

Robert Murphy, Deputy Undersecretary of State, also indicated he did not take any positive proposals to London for the talks with the British and French.

Although Murphy is an able troubleshooter, it is apparent that the British and French wanted Secretary of State John Foster Dulles to sit in on the huddle. So Dulles is now going.

The United States in the past has been accused of being "trigger happy" in Far Eastern disputes, particularly in the case of Red China. Such charges have occurred in Britain and France, directed at Dulles.

URGE USE OF FORCE

Now the same charge could be put against some Britons and Frenchmen in their reaction to the crisis over the Canal, which, of course, is closer to home and means so much economically to London and Paris.

There have been some unofficial demands for resorting to force in dealing with Nasser.

The conservative Paris newspaper Monde, which often has criticized American policy in the Far East and elsewhere, now is calling for "sanctions" against Nasser.

At the same time, it says Washington, not Moscow, is the main obstacle to applying sanctions.

It asks whether Dulles will "give way to force, disguising his retreat behind United Nations procedures like the democracies masked their retreat in 1933-39 behind the League of Nations."

American policy in the Suez crisis is cautious. This can be attributed to a U. S. election year, but also to the vast American oil concessions in Arab states in the Middle East.

Soviet Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev has backed the Egyptian move. That was to be expected.

* * *

A commentator in Arriba, mouthpiece of Spain's single Falange Party, was quite enthusiastic about Nasser "closing the doors of Suez." He even expressed satisfaction that Nasser was able to get arms from the Communists to prepare his country against Israel.

Actors Have Little Trouble Getting Work

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—An actor, if he's moderately talented and owns an effective rabbit's foot, is likely to pull down $500 a year in New York.

* * *

Of Course, he can live on love, his "love" being the nearest girl he can charm into supporting him. The city is cluttered with these: young men with their heads in the proscenium, young girls with their feet on the ground.

Or he can be a "free-loder", at cocktail parties, cramming pate and lobster niblets into his abdominal abyss. Or he can live off his relatives, though that residence on Easy Street barely lasts long because relatives are naturally and logically chary with struggling actors.

MUST GET A JOB

"But when it comes down to the last and final straw," says Bruno Wick, an actor for more than 50 years, "he must get a job. It will kill him maybe, eight hours a day, but it will give him strength to go on living for his art."

Bruno Wick sits amid file cabinets and an aura of 9-to-5, in an office at King Features Syndicate—just three cubby-holes away from where this column is being written.

No one at the office knew he as an actor until one night, about four hours after he'd finished his silent, efficient job of filing the Syndicate's radio and TV script, he turned up on "Robert Montgomery Presents."

"Oh, yes," said Bruno, mildly the next day when asked if it was he who played the second lead in "Arrowsmith" the night before. "I am an actor by profession, but filing is my sideline."

It was in 1908 that Bruno came to New York City from the Rhineland, a 16-year-old kid with a theatrical background.

* * *

He had been carried onstage as an infant in Shakespeare's "Coriolanus," and started playing roles in German stock companies at seven.

It took him two years to pick up the English language from kids on the street and, in 1911, he began his American acting career—which has taken him through movies ("Walk East on Beacon," "House on 92nd Street," "Taxi," etc.) and Broadway ("I Remember Mama," "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," the most recent.)

"It took time for me to figure," he says, "because I'm not good at mathematics, that I was not making enough money to support a wife. I wanted a wife.

"So finally one night in Seneca Falls I was with a road company and we got so broke we couldn't get out of town. One of our boys was a barber, and he cut people's hair all one Saturday afternoon and we got the gas to bring us home."

GET A SPECIALTY

Bruno reluctantly got the gist of how you could be an actor and still exist. You get a specialty. You get a ham-and-eggs type specialty.

Some might think it is hard for an actor to get a job, but Bruno says that's just the propaganda of the unemployed Thespian.

"Actors always get hired, first because they can sell themselves, and second, because they're inerently honest. Did you ever hear of an actor in Sing Sing?"

Wick has been told he is brilliant by numbers of critics, but he realizes that that and a salary will by him his nightly dinner. He's only big-headed on one point.

* * *

"I've been married for 32 years," he says quietly. "And always, it was SHE who lived off ME."

Flight of the Mosquito?

NEW YORK (AP) — The Transit Authority has come up with a fast solution to commuter complaints that mosquitoes are annoying them on Rockaway branch subway trains. The authority announced that Rockaway trains will increased their speed over a five-mile stretch of Jamaica, Queens, marshland and thus "outfly" the insects.

Coast Guard Royalty

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Mary Beth Rycenga and Roger Ohlendorf, 5-year-old Grand Haven youngsters, have been selected to preside as queen and king of the annual three-day Coast Guard festival which opened yesterday. Festival features Saturday include a helicopter demonstration, a parade and a night fireworks display.

Antelope for Michigan

EAST LANSING (AP) — A member of the Michigan State University museum staff will leave next week for Casper, Wyo., to acquire several antelope for the museum. The Wyoming Fish and Game Commission will provide the animals, to be used in a plains scene habitat group.

Add 1½ tablespoons of anchovy paste to a couple of three-ounce packages of cream cheese; blend well. Use the mixture as a sandwich filling along with paper-thin slices of cucumber.

U.S. to Participate at World Trade Fairs

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U. S. will participate this year in international trade fairs and exchange cultural and athletic missions among nations under provisions of a law signed by President Eisenhower.

The measure giving the administration five million, 900 thousand dollars to carry out these good-will activities takes the programs off the emergency status they have had for the past two years in the absence of specific congressional authorization.

Under the cultural and athletic exchange program, the government can send painters, singers, actors, writers, musicians and other artists abroad, along with top athletes, as part of the American propaganda war against the Soviet bloc.

The stated purpose of the legislation is to strengthen ties "which unite us with other nations by demonstrating the cultural interests, developments and achievements of the people of the United States."

Illinois Town Charging Tolls

Bridge Stolen From State

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The city of Alton, Ill., is collecting tolls on a Mississippi River bridge owned by the State of Missouri.

Impossible, you say?

You're wrong, 15 cents worth.

Robert L. Hyder, general counsel for the Missouri Highway Department, announced he'll file a petition before the Supreme Court in Washington Aug. 14 in an effort to stop it.

"The city of Alton has been collecting $1,000 a day in tolls since June 30 and is not in any way entitled to it," Hyder declared. "The bridge belongs to the State of Missouri."

The two-lane bridge, 3,000 feet long, crosses the Mississippi between Alton and West Alton, Mo., about 20 miles north of St. Louis on U. S. 67.

From 1936 until June it belonged to Missouri's St. Charles County. The toll was 25 cents. It long since had paid for itself.

* * *

Anguished cries arose from Alton. Said Mayor Leo Struif:

"Instead of giving the city of Alton and the Illinois Highway Department a free bridge, they propose to dump into the laps of the taxpayers of Alton the one-million-dollar problem of providing adequate bridge approaches and the expensive solution of the attendant traffic problem."

Traffic was expected to boom, since all the other river crossings in the St. Louis area are toll bridges.

Alton counterattacked.

City Judge I. H. Streeper issued an injunction. The city seized the Alton end of the bridge. A receiver was named. A 15-cent toll was imposed.

About 8,000 cars use the bridge on an average day and Alton has been banking the money at the rate of about $400,000 a year.

Disney Hits Douglas on Privacy Charges

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A complete denial has been issued by Walt Disney to accusations made by actor Kirk Douglas in his $415,000 invasion of privacy suit against Disney.

Douglas' suit claimed that pictures taken of him and his family riding on Disney's miniature train later were shown on the Disneyland television program. He claimed the films were made during a social visit to Disney's home.

But Disney's statement said the occasion was not a private gathering and that Douglas was there "voluntarily and without any invitation."

"The entire appearance of Mr. Douglas on television was for 26 seconds," said Disney's statement "and it is inconceivable that a man who has appeared so extensively in motion pictures, magazines and television could be damaged on a television screen in that amount of time."

Actress Considering Running for Governor

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Cleo Moore, 27, says she is thinking of running for governor of her native Louisiana in 1960 and becoming "a political Florence Nightingale."

"Any great politician has to be a great actor," she said.

If she's elected, she said she will seek more rights for women. "But all my right-hand men will be men," she added.

Citizens League Evaluates Political Office Aspirants

Non-partisan "ratings" of Oakland County candidates for local, state and national office nominations in the Aug. 7 primary election were released yesterday by Oakland Citizens League.

Ratings were established by an 18-man committee of League members through interviews and returned questionnaires.

Candidates were rated by a star system, three stars indicating a preferred standing with the committee. No ratings were given where no contest exists.

The Oakland Citizens League has been rating candidates since 1937.

This year's ratings follow. Absence of a star indicates the candidate did not furnish sufficient information to the committee to enable a rating.

Bless Fleet Sunday

FAYETTE (AP)—An outdoor mass and a procession will precede the eighth annual blessing of the fleet Sunday by the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Marquette. Bishop Noa will tour Big Bay de Noc to bless the fishing and pleasure boats which come to this Upper Peninsula village for the event.

Ship Crash Survivor Asks Half-Million

NEW YORK (INS) — Three damage suits totaling $827,100 have been filed by passengers and commercial interests claiming losses in the collision between the Andrea Doria and the Stockholm.

The largest of the three court actions was entered yesterday in New York Supreme Court by a 51-year-old Brooklyn shoemaker. Giuseppe Maggio, who has suffered a broken back and brain injuries. Maggio is asking $500,000.

Meanwhile, crew members of Stockholm supported earlier charges made by Andrea Doria passengers that the first life boats to leave the sinking vessel were filled with Italian crew members.

Officers of the Italian liner have denied these charges. They claim crew members left the Doria after the collision to man lifeboats.

The Swedish-American Line and the Italian Line—both named in the suits filed — refused comment. It was expected they will move either for exoneration or limitation of liability.

Democrats Post Delegate Roster

List More Businessmen Than Union Leaders From Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Businessmen outnumber union officials among Michigan delegates to the Aug. 13 Democratic National Convention, the Democratic State Central Committee said today.

* * *

The committee broke down the delegation by occupation. It counted 31 businessmen and 26 union leaders among the 140 delegates.

The union leader classification did not include 12 factory workers or others who might be rank-and-file union members.

The complete breakdown:

Businessmen, 31; labor officials, 26; government officials, 21; housewives, 13; lawyers, 13; industrial employes, 12; educators, 6; farmers, 5; office employes, 4; court employes, 2; doctors, 2; and one justice of the peace, a barber, veterinarian, sheriff and student.

BUSINESSES VARY

The businessmen include a hardware store owner, paper manufacturer, tavern owner, realtor, newspaper publisher, paint store owner, restaurant operator, roofing company owner and bank president.

The public officials include Sen. Patrick V. McNamara and Gov. Williams.

The committee said 22 of the delegates are county chairmen. In all, 42 hold some office in local Democratic Party organizations.

There are 107 men and 33 women in the Michigan delegation.

Grand Rapids Family Returns to Bad News

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kranenberg and their 13-year-old son, Richard, returned home from a three-week eastern vacation yesterday to learn they had been the object of a 10-day police hunt along the eastern U.S.-Canadian border.

Police sought the Grand Rapids family to tell them that Kranenberg's brother, John, died unexpectedly July 23, and that their son, Bernard, 21, had been killed in an automobile accident July 25.

The Kranenbergs said they had been "on the move." Relatives here had been receiving cards almost daily, but never were able to contact the trio en route.

INVITED TO INDIA—Chief Justice Earl Warren has accepted an invitation to visit India the latter part of August. The Indian embassy in Washington said the purpose of the trip is for Warren to talk with justices of India's supreme court.

Middie, Hot to Trot, Starts Leave Early

But after leaping he had to swim a mile and a half.

A Naval Academy spokesman said Stone jumped overboard from the destroyer Rowe as it lay at anchor just off Annapolis. He and the other midshipmen had been scheduled to debark the next morning. He turned himself in at the academy later.

The academy spokesman, saying Stone apparently acted on a dare, added disciplinary action hinged on medical reports from Bethesda Naval Hospital. Stone was taken to the hospital for observation.

Pilot Who Died Avoiding Homes to Be Honored

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A Navy pilot who died a hero's death in avoiding a 700-home subdivision and a school which he could not have known was unoccupied will be memorialized by residents whose lives he fought to spare.

Residents of Cielo Vista subdivision and parents of children attending Burges High School, near which the plane crashed, today took steps to see that the Heroism of Lt. Cmdr. Robert L. Anderson of San Diego, Calif., is remembered.

Two telephones were in use today by call takers who were swamped with persons who want to affix their names to the memorial and to a letter to Anderson's widow.

Theater Rodeo

DETROIT (AP) — Four traffic policemen were hastily called on for rodeo duty when Sadie, a normally placid mare, stampeded at the Norwest Theater. Sadie was being led down the theater aisle to publicize a film. But the slippery floor and the yelling youngsters proved too much. Both Sadie and the children were on the verge of panic before the police arrived for the roundup.

Full Military Honors Set for Last GAR Vet

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) —, Albert Woolson, last of the Civil War Boys in Blue, will be accorded full military honors, replete with an honor guard and visiting dignitaries, at his funeral Monday afternoon.

• • •

A highlight of the rites for the old soldier will be a guard of 109 soldiers — representing each year of Woolson's life — that will accompany the former Union Army drummer boy on his last journey.

Hugh M. Milton, assistant secretary of the Army, Gov. Orville Freeman of Minnesota and several of the state's congressmen will head the official party of mourners.

• • •

In a message of condolence to the family, President Eisenhower said Woolson's passing "brings sorrow to the hearts of all of us who cherished the memory of the brave men on both sides of the War Between the States."

Woolson's passing left only three survivors of Civil War action, all of them veterans of the Confederate Army.

• • •

"That just goes to prove what I said before—the South is going to outlive the North," said one of them, 113-year-old Walter W. Williams of Franklin, Tex.

Park Attendance Slips; Poor Weather Blamed

LANSING (AP) — The state Conservation Department said today attendance at Michigan's 58 state parks is falling behind last year's record because of rain and cold weather.

The department said 7,272,000 persons visited parks through July 16.

By July 18, 1955, 9,048,000 had visited the parks.

U.S. Optimistic on Iceland Base

NATO Suggests Island Allow Troops to Stay Under '51 Agreement

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department was optimistic today that the U.S. can keep its airbase on Iceland, although the move that gave officials hope was the start of procedures to force American troops off the island.

The latest move was a recommendation by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization council that Iceland allow U.S. troops to stay on the island under terms of the 1951 U.S. Iceland defense agreement.

The statement from the council reportedly told Icelandic leaders that nothing in the international situation indicated U.S. troops could safely be removed.

State Department spokesman Lincoln White said the U.S. "expects the Icelandic government will give more careful consideration to the views of the NATO council."

Commenting on a statement made Monday by Iceland's foreign minister, White said the U.S. was glad Iceland had reaffirmed its intention of staying in the NATO alliance.

However, under treaty terms, Iceland had to ask for the council's recommendation before taking others steps to force the troops out of Iceland. The nation is under no obligation to accept the recommendation.

Now that the council report has been received, Iceland must wait six months before requesting the removal of the troops. Twelve months from now, if the request is made, the U.S. must have the troops off the island.

Confederate Vets to Be Honored by Special Medal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless the law is changed or broadly interpreted, only Confederate veterans will get the medal being prepared for the last survivors of the Civil War.

Congress passed a law last month directing the Treasury to strike off "gold medals, with suitable emblems, devices and inscriptions" in honor of the remaining veterans of both North and South.

Albert Woolson, last survivor of the Union Forces, died yesterday. There are three Confederate veterans still alive.

FUN IN THE BACK YARD — 5
Practicing Basket Shots

Tommy wants to be a basket ball player, and he practices in his backyard. His father knocked the bottom out of a tall peach basket, and fastened it on the garage door.

Tommy jumps as high as he can, and drops the ball into the basket almost every time.

After coloring this picture with your crayons, paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully, and cut the slits along the top of the basket and in the grass.

Hang the picture up by putting a string through the holes at the top. Slip the lower end of the handle into the hole in the grass. Then from the back you can jump Tommy up to the basket and put the ball through the opening.

Ike OKs Floor of $5 on Postal Deposits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The minimum deposit that can be made in postal savings will be $5 instead of $1 under a bill signed Thursday by President Eisenhower.

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield had recommended raising the minimum as a means of cutting handling costs.

Incumbents All Win in Tennessee Election

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Tennessee voters renominated all nine of their congressmen in quiet primary elections yesterday, and the only two who had opposition swept it aside handily.

* * *

Rep. Ross Bass defeated former Rep. Pat Sutton by an overwhelming majority in the rural 6th Dist. west of Nashville. With 323 of 382 precincts reporting, Bass had 34,392, Sutton 11,641 and Bill Carrigan 3,064.

Rep. J. Percy Priest defeated youthful Richard Fulton in the metropolitan 5th Dist. at Nashville. Complete returns gave Priest 20,567 and Fulton 9,621.

Representatives B. Carroll Reece and Howard Baker were unopposed in the Republican primaries, which are virtually the final word in their east Tennessee districts.

* * *

Eh, Toro! You Worried? Judge Doesn't Think So

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A judge has refused to stop a weaponless bullfight, saying the definition of what would worry a bull was a "64,000 queustion."

Superior Judge William A. Glen had been asked by the Humane Society to stop the event scheduled for Aug. 18 in municipal Balboat Stadium on the ground that just worrying a bull for exhibition was against state law.

The event has been billed by promoters as a "bloodless" exhibition, with fighters and bulls coming from Mexico.

Big Battle Rages in Burma

KUNLONG FERRY, Northern Burma (AP) — Communist Chinese troops occupying territory in northern Burma today were reported digging in after several clashes with Burmese army units.

* * *

Reports from the area about 120 miles east of Lashio said the Reds were hacking out jungle paths leading into rugged mountain areas peopled by headhunting tribes.

Burmese army intelligence accounts said Communist forces were feverishly building roads and approaches toward Burma from the Yunnan area, on the Chinese side of the border.

* * *

Col. Chit Myaing, a Burmese army commander, reported several engagements with Chinese invaders, including one six-hour battle. He said one Chinese officer and nine soldiers were killed in the major clash and several were captured. Three Burmese soldiers were reported wounded.

Officials announced Tuesday that Red Chinese forces, believed numbering about 500 men, had moved across the poorly defined border into Burmese territory. Minor patrol incidents have been reported previously in the region, but spokesmen said the move this week involved far larger numbers of troops.

* * *

No mention of the move has been heard in Communist Chinese radio broadcasts.

Burmese political quarters said the government is pressing Red China for speedy withdrawal of the invaders.

'Accidental Death' Ruled for Hardy Dam Shooting

WHITE CLOUD (AP) — Newago County authorities have ruled that Louis F. Dishaw, 33, was accidentally slain by one of his two sons, either 8-year-old Loonie or 6-year-old Joey.

* * *

A 3-man investigating team ruled last night the Grand Rapids furniture plant worker was accidentally shot to death in a backwoods cabin near Hardy Dam. There will be no inquest.

The officers questioned the youngsters only long enough to satisfy themselves that a .22 caliber bullet fired by one of the boys during target practice hit Dishaw in the back and killed him instantly.

The boys, dirty, unkempt and apparently unaware of the tragedy, were taken into custody Wednesday night after wandering in the wilds for several days.

SAVE THEIR MINDS

Authorities said rather than force Lonnie and Joey to recall details of the shooting, which might prey on their minds for years, investigators merely satisfied themselves with getting the general picture of what had happened and ordered the case closed.

The decision was announced last night by State Police Detective Clarence Haight, Newago County Prosecutor Russell Shepherd and Sheriff Robert Dougan.

The boys, meanwhile, are being cared for in a court-assigned foster home. Their mother, who divorced Dishaw about five years ago, is en route here from Seattle.

Probate Judge George Howarth will decide whether or not the children will be turned over to her.

* * *

The boys said they lived on peanut butter and mayonnaise sandwiches during the 3 or 4 days they remained at the 1-room cabin with their father's body. They thought he was "sleeping."

The shooting was discovered when the two bedraggled boys wandered into a grocery store near Hardy Dam six miles from the cabin.

Democrat Resigns; Hodge Case Grows

CHICAGO (AP)—Caught in the focus of newspaper publicity involving the Hodge scandal, a Democratic chief deputy Cook County treasurer has resigned his job.

John E. Sullivan quit his post yesterday following newspaper reports that Sullivan now is a director and once was first president of the Bank of Elmwood Park.

Orville E. Hodge, ousted Republican state auditor charged with plundering state funds of perhaps more than a million dollars, was a big stockholder in the suburban Elmwood Park Bank. Hodge had closed the bank's predecessor, the First State Bank of Elmwood Park, in 1953.

What He Really Meant Was 'Excuse Me'

STILLWATER, Minn. (AP) — An inmate reporter for the Mirror, Stillwater Prison weekly, wrote of Gov. Orville Freeman's recent tour of the state penitentiary and of his brief interview with him.

He said he bumped the governor's elbow as they left the interview room.

"Pardon me," the reporter said.

"Certainly," replied the governor.

"But," added the inmate reporter, "we couldn't get it into writing."

Advocates Tax Slice for Small Businesses

LANSING (AP) — Gov Williams today proposed another change in the state's unemployment compensation law, this time to help small businessmen.

He said he will ask the Legislature to halve the unemployment compensation tax for 28,000 businessmen who came under the law in 1954.

The proposal will be submitted Aug. 9, the date the lawmakers resume their off-and-on summer special session.

For two months now, they have bickered over Williams' request for sharp increases in benefits paid to laid-off workers.

They will take up this request again next week, but most observers see little chance for action in that field.

Pontiac Boy Twirls to 2 National Prizes

National honors in baton twirling went to a Pontiac boy in competition last week in Detroit.

Warren Norlund, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Norlund, 142 Lincoln, took first place in both strutting and twirling in a contest between 75 to 100 twirlers from all over the country.

The prize given to Warren at this All States National Hobby Club convention at the Detroit Leland Hotel was a trophy and a ribbon. Warren has won 11 trophies in twirling and about 50 medals.

Utah Governor in Stiff Fight

Lee Faces Opposition for Third Term From State GOP Leaders

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Gov. J. Bracken Lee faces a major hurdle tomorrow in his bid to become Utah's first three-term governor.

* * *

The hurdle is the Republican state nominating convention, where 1,069 delegates will name two gubernatorial candidates for the Sept. 11 primary election.

Lee—who made national headlines earlier this year by refusing to pay part of his 1955 income tax — and three others are campaigning for the primary spots, and the governor, admittedly has a tough task before him.

* * *

A large bloc of anti-Lee Republicans are out to derail the governor at the convention. This bloc says that Lee "is not good for his party or his state because of his criticism of the Eisenhower administration and the United Nations, his failure to follow the GOP line in Utah and his bringing a bad name to the state by refusing to pay his income tax."

Lee's GOP opponents are George D. Clyde, chairman of the Utah Water and Power Board, and State Senators Rendell N. Mabey of Bountiful and Elias L. Day of Salt Lake City.

* * *

Most political observers believe Lee will weather the storm and win one of the primary nominations. They say the other will go to Mabey.

* * *

Lee has campaigned on an "economy in government" record.

Lee created a stir, and had some state Republicans crying for his scalp, when he refused earlier this year to pay part of his 1955 income tax. The governor's action was a protest against the use of tax money for foreign aid, one of many Eisenhower administration policies he has opposed. The government collected the money by seizing Lee's bank accounts.

Treasurers to Meet

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—County treasurers of Michigan will hold their 1957 convention in Cheboygan. Country Treasurer Don McCrae of Cheboygan extended an invitation for the convention at the 1956 convention at Hancock.

Police Recover Stolen Weapons

$1,000 Worth of Guns Found Hidden in Lot; Arrest 5

More than $1,000 worth of stolen guns were recovered with five arrests this week, Pontiac Police said today.

The guns, 10 rifles and 4 shotguns, were found in vacant lots, Det. Sgt. John DePauw said. They were stolen July 4 from a warehouse at 20 Osmun St.

Delbert N. Zimmer, 17, of 219 Willard St., and two juvenile boys, were charged with breaking in to steal the weapons, Detectives Ray Meggitt and Herbert Cooley said.

Joseph N. Beatty, 22, of 10 Allen St., and Fernando C. Caducio, 46, of Birmingham, both were charged with possession of the stolen property.

HELD IN JAIL

Zimmer was held in Oakland County Jail under $2,000 bond set by Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. He was bound over for arraignment in Circuit Court Monday. So was Beatty.

Beatty was freed under $200 bond. Caducio will be examined on the charge Aug. 8. He was freed under $1,000 bond.

Petitions charging the juveniles will be filed in Juvenile Court, DePauw said.

Ammunition, baseball caps and six pairs of men's gloves were not recovered, he added.

Merchants to Send Youths to Tiger Game

More than 100 children from Camp Oakland and the Oakland County Childrens Home will be guests of the Tel-Huron Merchants Assn. at a baseball party Aug. 8, according to Fred Niedelson, president of the business group.

The youngsters, accompanied by their supervisors, will leave the shopping center's parking lot at noon for Briggs Stadium where they will watch a game between the Tigers and Kansas City.

A box luncheon, milk and other items will be donated by Tel-Huron merchants.

Great Lakes Boaters Catch Congress' Eye

DETROIT (AP) — The House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries will open hearings Wednesday on problems involving pleasure boats on the Great Lakes.

Rep. Dingell (D-Mich), who will preside, said the hearings are expected to lead to further federal legislation regulating pleasure craft.

John M. Drewry, committee counsel, said the group is especially interested in Detroit because of the application of the city's automobile reckless and drunk driving laws to water violations.

Icebox Death Traps Outlawed by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation has a new law designed to save children from being trapped and suffocating while playing inside refrigerators.

President Eisenhower signed a bill banning interstate shipment of any household refrigerator that is not equipped with a door that can be opened easily from the inside.

The ban is effective in two years. In the meantime, manufacturers will be expected to adopt safety devices under standards to be set by the government.

440 Volts Injure Two Pontiac Men

Two Pontiac men were injured yesterday at the Hudson-Detroit Associates plant in Detroit when a machine they were moving struck a 440-volt electric cable.

The two were listed as John Blount, 35, and Doc Wilson. Both were reported hospitalized.

Mediators to Revive Steel Strike Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Federal negotiators are expected to make an attempt soon to revive contract negotiations in the three-day strike of 28,000 members of the United Steelworkers against Aluminum Co. of America and Reynolds Metals Co.

* * *

Union and company spokesmen say they are ready to resume contract negotiations but neither side has contacted the other.

In Washington, Joseph Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said last night, "We probably will be in on it."

* * *

Separate contract talks between the union and Alcoa and Reynolds broke off early Wednesday in a dispute over wages and other contract terms. The union set up picket lines at 12 Alcoa and 9 Reynolds plants.

* * *

USW represents 18,000 workers at Alcoa and 10,000 at Reynolds.

Detroiter Held in Theft of Well Drilling Gear

A Detroit man was remanded to the Oakland County Jail yesterday after demanding an examination when he was arraigned on a grand larceny charge in Justice Court.

Otha Fly, 53, is being held under $5,000 bond. The examination date is Aug. 9.

300 Rebels Captured

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Government mopping-up operations all over South Viet Nam have resulted in the capture of almost 300 rebels, Communists and bandits, officials said today.

Flint Man Heads 40 and 8; Legion Hears Resolutions

LANSING (AP)—Lawrence Leskin of Flint, a Navy veteran of the First World War, has been elected Grand Chef de Gare (state commander) of the Michigan Department of 40 and 8, fun-making group of the American Legion.

He succeeds Douglas D. Dugan of Battle Creek.

Nearly 8,000 delegates and alternates and visitors jam-packed Lansing for the convention. J. Addington Wagner of Battle Creek, national Legion commander, was to address the first general assembly meeting this afternoon.

Resolutions being considered in committee will be voted tomorrow.

SOME CONTROVERSIES

Some of the more controversial resolutions included:

A proposal by the Holland Post to ban Legion baseball games on Sunday. Sports enthusiasts are opposing this, claiming the ban on Sunday ball would snarl up schedule-making.

A suggestion from the Upper Peninsula that the Legion back a proposal to have prisoners more widely employed on state conservation projects.

The state currently is embroiled in a similar argument about the use of prison labor in construction of a new reformatory at Ionia.

A resolution asking Legion membership be extended to include peacetime veterans who served up to Jan. 31, 1955. This proposal has both strong backing and bitter opponents.

A resolution opposing the proposed move of Legion headquarters from Detroit to Lansing. The executive committee has voted for the move, contending Lansing is more centrally located and that state headquarters properly belong in the state capitol.

Detroit legion groups oppose the move from Detroit's civic center. They say a majority of Legionnaires live in Metropolitan Detroit and that the decision should be made by convention delegates rather than the executive committee.

More than 20 resolutions have been submitted to date and the number is expected to swell to 50.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS

Other resolutions under consideration would:

Back outpatient chiropractic care for disabled veterans.

Urge greater employment of disabled veterans.

Call for a review of veterans' pensions and other benefits.

Recommend a stepped-up reforestation program.

Recommend added appropriations for federal fish and game management and sea lamphrey control.

Favor pensions for all World War I veterans at the age of 60.

Call for greater harmony between the 40 and 8 and the Legion.

Pontiac Man Jailed on Homicide Count

Grant Washington, 47, of 124 Earlmore Blvd., demanded examination yesterday during a Justice Court arraignment on a negligent homicide charge. He was remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $750 bond.

Washington, a city employe, appeared before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy.

* * *

He was the driver of a city-owned garbage truck which was involved in a fatal accident on Telegraph road near Elizabeth Lake road Wednesday afternoon. Max Allowitz, 47, of Oak Park, who was driving a panel truck which collided with the city truck, was killed instantly.

Waterford Township Police reported the garbage truck had swerved to the wrong side of the road causing the collision. Washington has denied this.

Thieves Settle for $29, Leave $50 Untouched

Thieves stole about $29 in coin but overlooked another $50 during a breakin of an Oxford Township store Wednesday night, Oakland County detectives learned today.

The missing money was taken from a desk drawer. Store cupboards also were ransacked but $50 in a nearby safe was left. The store is at 691 S. Lapeer Rd.

'Girls' 6 to 60 Attend Area Camp

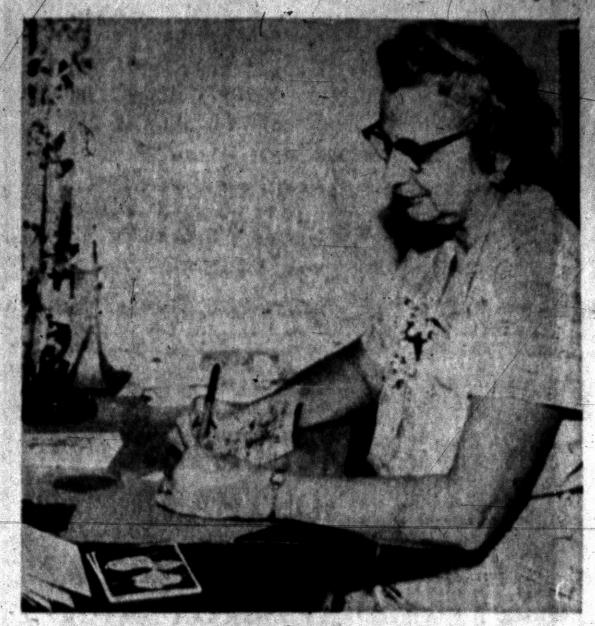

Pontiac Press Photos

Built in 1903 for a summer camp for girls, Holiday House is the project of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Episcopal Church. A rambling gray house with white shutters, it is located on a 100-acre farm on the east shore of Pine Lake, along with the "Bird's Nest," given by Mrs. Henry Ford in 1932 and "Aunt Mary's Cottage," a gift from Mrs. R. Adlington Newman in 1920. Mrs. Sheldon Noble of Birmingham is chairman of the house committee and Myrtle Armstrong of Detroit is director of the camp. The camp is open to girls of all denominations.

Mrs. Charles Mills of Detroit was catching up on correspondence when photographed. She is spending part of her vacation at Aunt Mary's Rest Cottage at Pine Lake. The cottage is a part of the camp project of the Girls' Friendly Society of the Episcopal Church.

Waiting for the call to lunch, Pat Smeathers of Detroit (left) and Joyce Sims of Redford Township were seated on the porch of Holiday House with their housemother, Cindy Hayakawa of Kobe, Japan (center). Cindy was sent to Michigan State University for the last two years by her church in Japan, St. Michael's Episcopal. She was graduated from MSU in June. Majoring in education and recreation, she will return in the fall to teach in the Presbyterian Mission College at Kobe.

Practicing for the 12 o'clock service Sunday in Holiday House are (left to right) Sylvia Blay of Guantanamo, Cuba; Sonja Dahlen of Detroit; Judy Gordon of Ferndale, at the organ, and Mary Staughton of Detroit. Every morning at 9:15 a prayer service is held in the chapel of Holiday House. On Friday nights the group of 40 campers meet in the chapel for a candlelight service, and on Sundays a rector of one of the nearby Episcopal churches preaches a sermon.

Episcopal Recreation Site on Pine Lake

Find Outdoor Fun, Health, Religion

By MARY ANGLEMIER

High on the east shore of Pine Lake is Holiday House, the center of a summer recreation program for girls of 6 years of age up to women beyond 60.

Through the efforts of Frances Sibley of Detroit, the program was first started in 1895 when the Girls Friendly Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church rented the Howard House on Pine Lake.

In 1902, the Ellewood Farm of 100 acres was purchased and Holiday House was built in 1903.

The Girls Friendly Society recently gave five acres on Middlebelt road to the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of the diocese of Michigan, for a new mission of the Episcopal Church.

PROGRAM STARTED

Holiday House was the beginning of a complete summer program.

* * *

Girls from 6 to 11 years of age are housed in Bird's Nest Cottage, given by Mrs. Henry Ford in 1932.

Teenagers occupy Holiday House and older women may vacation at Aunt Mary's Cottage, a gift of Mrs. R. Adlington Newman in 1920.

Chapel is held every morning at 9:15, and a candlelight evening service every Friday. At noon each Sunday, a minister of an Episcopal Church preaches a sermon.

LEARN TO SWIM

Besides their kitchen duties, handcraft and sports activities, the girls are given swimming instruction. More than 120 have passed the Red Cross test this season.

Mrs. Sheldon Noble of Birmingham is chairman of the 30-member house committee. Serving with her from All Saints Episcopal Church, Pontiac, is Mrs. Bruce Annett.

Myrtle Armstrong of Detroit has been director of the camp the last 25 years.

* * *

Cindy Hayakawa of Kobe, Japan, a June graduate of Michigan State University, is house mother this summer at Holiday House. She majored in education and recreation.

SENT BY CHURCH

A member of St. Michael Episcopal Church in Kobe, she was sent by her church for the past two years to the university.

* * *

This fall she will return to Japan to teach in a Presbyterian Mission College.

Miss Hayakawa said Japanese schools are now patterned after the American school system and girls are receiving higher education.

Before the war, girls were required to have an elementary school training; now they must be graduates of a high school.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pence, teachers in the Holly and Clarkston schools are in charge of Bird's Nest Cottage. Mr. Pence is also director of camp activities.

The non-profit camp, incorporated and self-supporting, has never failed to open, according to Miss Armstrong. All denominations are free to send their girls here during the summer months.

Start Small; Let Big Things Follow

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"If I had enough money," Peg always used to say, "I would really learn to paint, take up gardening, do the house beautifully and learn how to dress to suit my own type."

Meantime, she made no effort at all in any of these directions.

She dragged through a dreary, gray kind of life, excusing herself on the grounds of not having enough money.

* * *

But Peg did none of the things she had said she would do. She just sat around, buying things that didn't particularly please her and drinking too much.

NO HABIT FORMED

Because you see, Peg had never begun the habit of living, so all the money in the world couldn't accomplish it for her.

When I hear people say, "If I had enough money, I'd get a house in the country and a garden," I wonder why they don't have a couple of house plants right now.

They could begin in a small way with the money they have. They would, if they really meant it.

* * *

When I hear people say, "If I had the money, I'd decorate my home beautifully," I wonder why they don't spend a couple of dollars on dolling up the furnished room they have now.

OTHER FIELD, TOO

The same thing goes for the courses they'd take, the dressing they'd do, and the entertaining they'd engage in.

* * *

The truly successful people I know don't go in for such elaborate self-delusion.

They do the best they can in the areas that are important to them, with the money they have. And in so doing, they build up the skills and the expectation of being able to do them more lavishly.

Then, when the time comes, and for this type it frequently does, they really enjoy the money.

Next time you find yourself using lack of money as an excuse for not doing something, check yourself quickly.

Figure some way you can do it with what you have, here and now, on a tiny scale. You'll be building up your effectiveness and enjoying life as you go along. You'll be inviting Fate to give you the money!

Instead of rolling cookies, drop the dough from a spoon onto a cookie sheet. Then stamp each one with a damp cloth stretched tightly over the flat bottom of the cup or glass.

No. 8317 is in sizes 12½, 14½, 16½, 18½, 20½, 22½, 24½. Size 14½, short sleeve, 4⅛ yards of 35-inch.

For this pattern, send 35c in coins, your name, address, size desired, and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

By Mrs. Gordon Hicks

1 large angel food cake
1 package cherry gelatine
1 large can black sweet cherries, drained or
2 cups fresh black cherries
½ pint whipping cream

Tame Fly-Away Hair With Spray

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Please answer this in the Question Box. Would brushing the hair faithfully make it grow faster? Would it do away with what people call electricity? My problem is concerned with that "never combed" appearance. I comb my hair one minute and the next I see those fine hairs popping out.

Hair sprays are a boon to women who have fine hair, and also to almost any woman during hot, wilting weather.

"I never have used those sprays to hold the hair in place. I prefer a natural appearance rather than a stiff and dry look."

A. Look! You can't have everything. So long as you have electricity, don't worry. I suppose that you have had your hair stand on end during brisk, dry weather. I also judge that you have the problem of very fine hair, I can sympathize with you because I have that problem, too.

I do not think that brushing the hair regularly will make it grow faster except that the stimulation of brushing promotes hair health. You should try one of the sprays. They are a boon to women who have fine hair, and also to almost any woman during hot, wilting weather.

DIFFERENCE IN SPRAYS

There is a great difference in sprays. Some of them leave the hair sticky. However, there are others which do not have this effect. In fact you can repair your hairdo by rolling it up and using a spray. Let it dry and then comb it out. Your hairdo will be intact for several days afterward.

* * *

Q. "I am one of those unfortunate women whose weight is all on the upper arm. You seem to say so little about this."

A. This is one of the most difficult spots to reduce, I say little about it because sometimes this is due to a glandular deficiency. I suggest that you talk to your doctor about it.

I have found one exercise which has proven helpful during years of teaching. However, I have given this exercise often. If you or any of my other readers would like it send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11.

VEINS PROMINENT

Q. "I have quite a few veins in my arms which are too prominent. What causes these and what can I do about them?"

A. These may be due to extreme underweight. Most often they are an inherited characteristic. Honestly, I know of nothing to do about them except gain weight if you are underweight.

* * *

Q. "The skin on both of my thumbs cracks and breaks open. What could this be from?"

A. I suggest that you see your physician. This could be due to an infection or an allergy or to a vitamin deficiency.

* * *

This week I have printed a few letters from winners of my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon which runs each January. If you would like to have this booklet for a loss of 20 pounds in eight weeks time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Testy 'Chesty' Booms, Roars, Growls, Snaps at McKeon Trial

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP)— A living Marine legend, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. (Chesty) Puller, charged down a courtroom corridor yesterday to the defense of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon.

* * *

In fact, his proclivity for charging—friend or foe—has earned him five Navy Crosses and an Army Distinguished Service Cross plus instructions from time to time to keep his mouth shut.

Puller, who was called out of retirement at Saluda, Va., turned up here today as an expert on Marine training methods.

* * *

"A Marine must be qualified to hit the bullseye with whatever weapon he is armed. He must be able to make a forced march of 20 miles, the last five at double time, and arrive in such physical condition that he can go into battle immediately."

Not given to mincing words, Puller got himself into considerable trouble when he returned from Korea in May, 1951, growling that American troops were getting too much milk and USO and not enough whisky and beer.

* * *

Puller later denied making any such remarks, but the little Virginian is no prohibitionist.

Once, when he was saying farewell to a colleague of many battles in Korea, Puller pulled a bottle from beneath his cot and passed it over saying, "Here, old man, suck on this."

There is a story, too, that the fearless Puller during World War II used to shake up his front-line troops by going outside the barbed wire or trench line to run his inspections.

* * *

One gray-haired lieutenant insisted that his hair was a normal brown until he started following "Chesty" on inspection trips.

Puller, a graduate of Virginia Military Institute, started earning his Navy Crosses in Nicaragua in July, 1931. He served two tours in that Central-American nation fighting "bandits" and on each trip received the award.

Puller followed the normal Marine peacetime tours of pre-World War II days—China and sea duty. While in China he was one of the famed "Horse Marines" on the Peiping area patrol.

* * *

When World War II broke out, Puller commanded a battalion of the 7th Marine Regiment which landed at Guadalcanal on Aug. 7, 1942. He won his third Navy Cross there.

Puller's men at one time were the only barrier to Japanese capture of Henderson Field — and without Henderson the Marines could not have remained on that Solomon island.

The handful of Marines, with Puller roaring profanity and racing from one end of his line to the other, held and when the smoke and bullets let up, they had managed to wipe out a full Japanese regiment. Puller lost 70 men. The Japanese 1,400.

His fourth Navy Cross was won at Cape Gloucester, shortly before he took command of the 1st Marine Regiment, and it was this regiment that he led through the bloodiest fight of the war — a three-day battle on Pelelieu in which two-thirds of the regiment was killed or wounded.

After World War II, Puller, always a field Marine, served with troops mostly while others were taking on staff jobs.

When the Korean war broke out, Puller went back to work at the job he knows best, fighting. He made the Inchon landing, subsequently was made a brigadier general and won undying fame with a few words.

* * *

During a heated battle, he was notified at his hilltop command post that Gen. Douglas MacArthur wanted to see him. Puller snorted, "You tell the general my command post is up here." MacArthur made the climb.

It was during the terrible retreat from the Chosin reservoir in 1951 that Puller earned his fifth Navy Cross and the Army's DSC.

Puller repeatedly exposed himself to severe enemy fire during those bitter and cold days to pull his men out of the trap sprung by the entry of the Chinese Communists into the war.

* * *

The 58-year-old general, 36 years in the Corps, was born at West Point, Va. He is married to the former Virginia Montague Evans of Saluda, Va. They have three children.

Bridge Reopens

LANSING (AP)—A bridge over the Pine River on M171 two and one-half miles south of Mikado, Alcona County, has been reopened to traffic after undergoing repairs, the State Highway Department reported.

Phnom Penh —Asia's Ecorse

Old Cambodian Capital Festering With Vice, Spy Rings

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)— Cambodia's dusty capital is rapidly becoming one of Asia's centers for Communist spies and a rival to any city in the world for sin. Both fields are wide open, and Phnom Penh is making the most of them.

* * *

You can get a pipe of opium in the city's swankiest opium den for 25 cents. It's much cheaper in the joints where the owrking men hang out.

Spies lurk everywhere. All a foreigner need do is sit in the bar of any hote. In a short time a Communist agent or contact man is at his elbow.

All this is comparatively new to Cambodia. It results from South Viet Nam President Ngo Dinh diem's crackdown on vice in the neighboring state. Saigon's vice lords moved west iwth their taxi dancers. The madams moved their bawdy houses here.

* * *

The spy ring has gronw considerably since King Norodom Sihanouk abdicated in Marh 1955 in favor of his father and became the country's leading exponent of neutralism.

One spy, openly employed by a neutral country, is seen frequently in the company of any new Red Chinese or Communist Vietminh who shows up. He usually shepherds them or Communist correspondents, including Russian, to the vice haunts of Phnom Penh.

Since Prince Norodom went to Peiping and returned with movies of his trip, Cambodian leanings toward Red China have been more pronounced. Red Chinese aid, supplementing the help given Cambodia by the United States, is expected to total 23 million dollars this year.

* * *

A marked coolness — including border closures in some instances — has been shonw to neighboring Thailand and South Viet Nam, both of which have American support.

Chandler Tours South Blowing His Own Horn

Tomorrow he goes to North Carolina to address a preconvention rally at Wilmington.

Chandler, former U.S. senator and baseball commissioner, conferred yesterday with Timmerman and other South Carolina Democratic leaders. After the conference, he said, "I have hopes of gaining support" in the Carolinas.

Fire control on national forest lands was started 40 years ago.

"We're Voting for George Higgins"

Because George N. Higgins believes taxation today takes entirely too much from the wages of Americans. He will fight for a decrease in federal taxes. He will fight unnecessary government spending in Washington. He feels federal expenditures on foreign aid to other nations deserves a tight rein. Higgins does not oppose practical help for friendly nations. He does oppose trying to buy America's way into the good will of nations whose history and present leadership stands with Soviet Russia.

SECOND STEP — With curtain closed, the voter must now indicate her party choice by depressing one of two keys on lower half of machine, for Republican or Democratic ticket.

THIRD STEP — Now the voter depresses a key above the name of each candidate for whom she wishes to vote, across the entire party ticket. The same must be done for the special issue (at top of board). In picture Miss Butler is pointing to a trial strip of names. The actual ticket Tuesday will be much longer.

Pontiac Press Photos

FINAL STEP — With all candidate keys depressed, voter returns red lever to left. This action records her choices, locks the machine, and opens the curtain. If any key is depressed in error, it can be pushed back to original position and another depressed before the final act of voting.

Trial Discloses Easy Procedure

Voters Here May Use Practice Machine in Each Precinct

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

"It's as simple as one, two, three, four," said Patricia Butler, 55 Henry Clay Ave., as she used a voting machine the other day for the first time.

Pat, a City Hall employe, typifies thousands of other Pontiac voters who will be using 80 newly-acquired automatic voting machines in the city's 44 precincts in the Aug. 7 primary.

"I thought it would be a fairly complicated procedure but it wasn't at all," Miss Butler said as she completed a demonstration on a machine on display at the City Hall.

MAY STUDY MODELS

Four steps are all the voter will have to remember when he goes to the polls next Tuesday. And to help the first time machine user familiarize himself with these basic steps, an instruction model will be available for a "trial run" before stepping into the machine. A sample ballot will be posted also.

Only 18 of Oakland County's 249 precincts will be using paper ballots in the coming election. Many other communities, in addition to Pontiac, have adopted the modern, accurate, and rapid voting machine for the first time.

Cities of Sylvan Lake, Keego Harbor, Madison Heights, Farmington, Pleasant Ridge and Rose Township are six such communities.

Communities using the machine will be able to report their total tabulations within a few hours after the polls close at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

* * *

As in all elections, by paper ballot or voting machine, you must register your name with the election worker in your precinct. She will record your name in the precinct poll book.

Available at the table will be an instruction model and nearby a posted sample ballot you may study before entering the voting machine booth. You may go through the four steps of voting before the actual casting of your ballot.

FIRST STEP

SECOND STEP

The second step is to select your party ticket—Republican or Democratic—with a selective primary lever in the lower right hand corner of the machine. By pulling the lever of your choce down, this unlocks all voting pointers for candidates of your party.

At the same time, it locks all pointers of the opposite party. Remember—you cannot split a primary ticket.

THIRD STEP

The third step is to pull the black pointers over the name of each candidate you wish to vote for. Pull the pointer down until the "X" is completely visible. Watch that you vote the number of candidates as called for on the ballot.

If by accident you pull down the wrong pointer, you may make a change without destroying your ballot. Simply, push the wrong pointer all the way back and pull down the one desired.

Up to this point you may change your mind as many times as you wish about the candidates of your party. It is never too late until step number four has been completed.

PONTIAC CITY ISSUE

During this third step, Pontiac voters will cast a "yes" or "no" vote for supplementing the city employe's pension plan with Social Security. This charter amendment question will appear at the top of your ballot. Pull the pointer down over the "yes" or "no."

FOURTH STEP

The fourth and final step is to pull the large red operating handle back from right to left. This opens the curtains and records your vote in the machine.

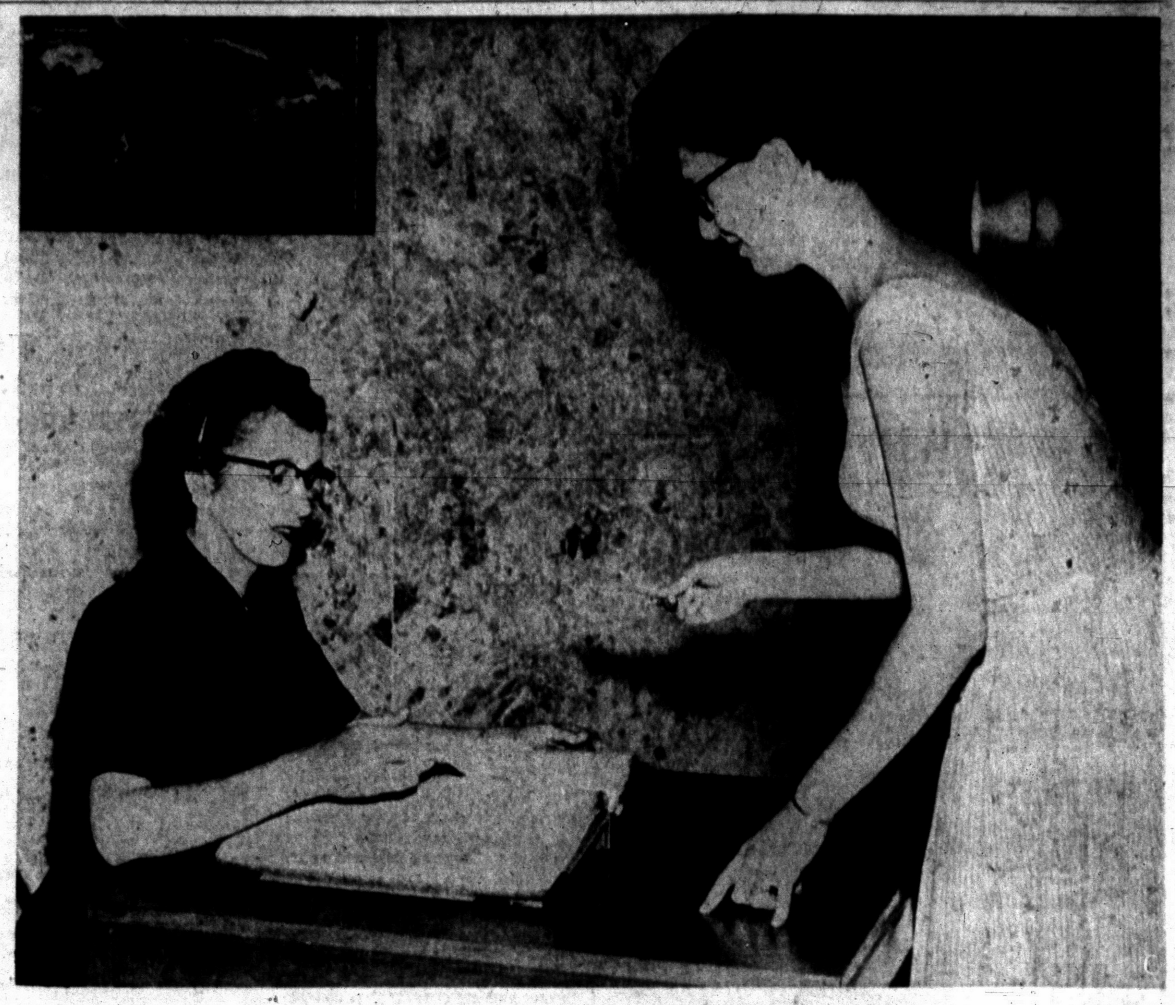

Your vote is not cast until you complete this last step, so remember to bring the handle all the way to the left.

* * *

There is no time limit for casting your vote. Using the voting machine, your vote is never wasted or "spoiled."

Long recounts, often necessary with the paper ballot, are eliminated with voting machines.

YOU START HERE—Use of voting machines makes no change in the first operation for casting a ballot: the voter signs name and address on the yellow application slip and hands it to a precinct board clerk, who certifies it on the permanent poll book for the precinct. Above, Patricia Butler, 55 Henry Clay (right), a City Hall employe, and Mrs. John Borsvold, 200 Dellwood, member of the Pontiac League of Women Voters, illustrate this step.

Deadline Is Saturday for Absentee Ballots

Absentee Pontiac voters will have until Saturday at 2 p. m. to get ballots in the Aug. 7 primary.

These ballots, for those who will be unable to go to the polls next Tuesday, are available at the city clerk's office at the City Hall. They will be available from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. today and from 9 a. m. until 2 Saturday.

Oops, Our Mistake

CADIZ, Ohio (AP) — A mistake cost Donald Johnson and Albert Prevost fines of $200 and costs each. Police said the two stole five gallons of fuel for their car from a coal company. As they left, the car stalled and they were arrested. The mistake: They stole diesel oil instead of gasoline.

More Than Half of State to Use Voting Machines Next Tuesday

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (AP)—New features of the Michigan Election law that may speed up assembly of a complete picture of statewide election results will get their first test in the Aug. 7 primary.

The effect of one of the election law changes enacted by the 1955 Legislature has been to encourage use of automatic voting.

In the forthcoming primary, voting machines will be used in 2,607 of the state's 5,177 voting districts, an increase of about 50 per cent.

A second change requires county clerks, who receive unofficial returns from the townships, to remain open until last returns have been delivered.

In the past, many county clerks have stayed on the job. However, enough closed up shop and went home in the late evening or early morning hours to leave significant gaps in the election results picture during the earlier phases of its emergence.

Under the state election code, township clerks are given responsibility for transmitting to county clerks sealed returns coming to them from precincts within their jurisdiction.

On the side, many of them receive from the precincts on an informal basis information which duplicates that contained in the sealed envelopes.

Thus, the clerks in many cases are in a position to round up unofficial results for the township.

The board of election inspectors in precincts, the official vote counting group at "grass roots," is required by law to disclose information collected under its supervision.

There is no comparable provision relating to township clerks, who by law, are required only to handle sealed returns.

The big increase in use of voting machines was given impetus by an amendment fixing maximum sizes for precincts.

The maximum number of registered voters for a paper ballot precinct is 800, and for a machine precinct, 1,400. Where machines are used, one must be provided for each 600 voters.

There were no effective ceilings before.

Basically, election officials believe widespread use of machines will speed up gathering of returns—from the statewide standpoint.

However, this effect will be counterbalanced to some extent by still another new requirement.

This one provides that in voting machine precincts absentee ballots may be fed into machines only after the polls close.

Previously, local election officials were permitted to record absentee ballots, ordinarily a few at a time, during slack periods before the polls closed.

Michigan law governing absentee voting is generally considered to be looser than in some other populous states.

Consequently, the proposition of absentee balloters to those who come to the polls in person is higher.

Holding the primary in August, when many persons wishing to vote are on vacation, also has an influence, election officials have said.

After the Polls Close

Here Are the Steps Taken by Your Precinct Board

Your vote, along with others of those who have used the machine, is automatically tabulated on counters one after another until the polls close at 8 p. m. Aug. 7.

Your work as a voter is ended but the work of the election workers has just begun. First thing that must be done is for the chairman of the precinct to vote all absentee ballots in full view of lawful challengers.

Then the machine is key-locked which permits the rear doors to be raised to tabulate. These doors are locked during the entire voting day.

The number of voters that have cast ballots is then recorded on the statement of canvass from a public counter at the side of the machine.

The number registered on the protective counter is then recorded on the statement. This protects the election returns by making it impossible for anyone to operate the machine or change the results without its becoming known.

The next step is for one election officer, under the scrutiny of another, of a different political party, to read the vote registered on each candidate counter while the other records same on the statement of canvas.

The same will be done with the "yes" and "no" votes on the city amendment question.

The entire record is then verified by comparing it with the counters on the machine.

Write-in votes, if any, must be read off a paper roll at the rear of the machine and recorded.

Bill Offers Hope for GIs Who Let Policies Lapse

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Veterans Administration said today that thousands of veterans who have lost their five-year term GI insurance since July 23, 1953 may now reinstate the policies.

* * *

The Survivors Benefits Act that President Eisenhower signed yesterday contains a retroactive provision giving such an opportunity to veterans of World War II and of the Korean War who lost their insurance because of failure to pay the last one or two monthly payments of their five-year policies. Term policies are renewed at a higher rate at the end of each five-year period.

The VA said only those veterans who failed to pay their 59th and 60th monthly premiums are affected.

Says Russians on Par With West in Aviation

LONDON (AP)—A leading British aviation journal, Flight, said today the Soviet Union without doubt has reached parity with the West in aircraft and engine design.

"Certainly we must watch the Russians if we are not to be left hopelessly behind," the magazine said editorially.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

XXXI

10:47 P.M.

Driving away from the Hibiscus Hotel, Bert Paulson's scarred face was dark and scowling as he slumped behind the wheel, scarcely noticing where he was going. Everything was so mixed up, his mind was in a whirl as he considered all the possibilities.

* * *

That story the redheaded private detective had told him? How much was fact and how much was lies?

That elevator boy at the Hibiscus! Could he identify him? Place him upstairs on the third floor about the time a disappearing body was being reported as having been seen in 316?

Fear and fierce impatience surged through Paulson's body. The weight of the .45 against his left groin felt good. He wanted to take hold of things with his two hands and tear them apart. Somewhere in this darkened city, Nellie was hiding out from him.

* * *

The neon lights of a restaurant and bar reminded him that he had not eaten since that afternoon. He pulled into the curb sharply and got out. With a couple of drinks and some food, he might be able to think things out a little more clearly. Driving aimlessly around the streets like this was no good. That redhead had probably already reported to the police that he'd walked out on him flourishing a gun and swearing to find Nellie. They'd have a description of him—

ARE YOU ALONE?

He went into a long, low room with a curved bar directly beyond the entrance, tables and booths on his right. It was fairly well crowded and not too well lighted. A haze of smoke added to the dimness.

* * *

Half a dozen men were seated on leather stools at the bar, and three-quarters of the tables were occupied by couples and groups of three or four, laughing over drinks or eating late dinners.

Paulson strode down the line of booths and found an empty one near the end. He slid into it so the scar on his face was toward the wall, and he was careful to keep the other side toward the waitress when she arrived almost immediately and asked in a somewhat disapproving tone, "Are you alone, sir?"

"Yes." His voice was surly, demanding to know what of it.

She said brightly, "Then perhaps you wouldn't mind moving to one of the smaller tables. We like to keep the booths free for larger parties."

* * *

He wanted to shout at her that he was a paying customer and just as good as anyone else in the joint, and he'd occupy a booth if he wanted to.

FELT GIDDY

But fear and worry about Nellie were slowly teaching him caution, and he restrained himself to say. "As a matter of fact, another couple are meeting me for dinner a little later. I'll have a couple of drinks while I wait."

"Yes, sir. Of course in that case—What would you like to drink?"

"Canadian rye and water. A double with water on the side." He sat back and lit a cigarette as she went away. A couple of fast doubles. That was the ticket. Then he'd settle down to some hard thinking. Right now he felt almost giddy. There was a nightmarish quality about the events of the evening that gave him a gnawing sense of sickness in his belly. He was beginning to think he hadn't played it smart with Michael Shayne. Either should have played along with the guy—gaining his confidence and got his cooperation in looking for Nellie—or else he should at least have slugged the redhead before going out as he did.

The waitress came with a double shot-glass full to the brim with whisky, and a glass of ice water. Paulson lifted the smaller glass avidly and drank from it, held his breath while he seized the water and took a big swallow. His throat burned a trifle and warmth crept into his stomach. The whisky was raw and strong. He took another sip and then a larger drink of water, poured the rest of the liquor into the larger glass and sloshed it around with the water. It was too weak to do much good when he tasted it, and he turned to watch through the opening into the booth for his waitress.

He caught her eye.

TOUGH GUY, HUH?

She came with another double shot, and he dribbled all of it into the water glass.

Now the drink was just right. Wonderful. Magnificient. It didn't burn his throat, but it had authority. It was beginning to dissolve the gnawing knot in his belly.

He knew now, that it had been a bad mistake not to have slugged Shayne. Tough guy, huh? Well, none of them were so tough after they got slugged by Bert Paulson.

He way he had sat around and kept Paulson talking about Nellie when all the time he had the girl hidden in his kitchen! So now Nellie was gone.

* * *

He drank more of the blended whisky and water, and the knot went away altogether. Suddenly his glass was empty except for two half-melted ice cubes. He frowned and caught the waitress' attention, and told her somewhat thickly, "Another dose of the same, Guess my friends are held up."

AF to Uptake Use of Missiles

SAC and TAC Replace Piloted Aircraft Plans With New Program

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Air Force has disclosed that it expects its surface-to-surface guided missiles of the future to replace piloted aircraft on about half the missions of the Strategic Air Command and a third of those of the Tactical Air Command.

* * *

Seven generals of the Air Research and Development Command taking part with Air Force undersecretary James H. Douglas in the nation's first major guided missiles conference — a featured attraction of the Air Force Assn. convention—also divulged that the Air Force is:

1. Considering the use of reconnaissance gear — cameras and other equipment—on missiles designed to be recovered on completion of their mission.

* * *

2. Planning in the event of war to use a "mixed force"—guided missiles against large or "area" targets, and airplanes to destroy pinpoint targets.

* * *

3. Interested in the future possibilities arising from Navy plans to develop a small-diameter type of space satellite.

* * *

4. Limited under a hitherto secret interservice agreement to the development of surface-to-air missiles with a range of 50 miles or more. Surface-fired missiles of lesser range belong to the Army or Navy.

* * *

5. Dispersing its missile launching facilities so widely that a direct atomic attack could not destroy more than one-third of the facilities or capabilities of a single installation.

* * *

6. Planning operational exercises to determine the characteristics and capabilities of its missiles.

* * *

The missiles conference disclosed that the Martin Matador pilotless airplane has demonstrated a reliability and accuracy on a par with that of current piloted fighter-bombers.

The 3,000-year-old Egyptian temple of Amon, greatest of Egyptian temples, was 338 feet wide and 1,228 feet long. There was enough room inside to hold the cathedrals of Milan and Notre Dame plus St. Paul's of London.

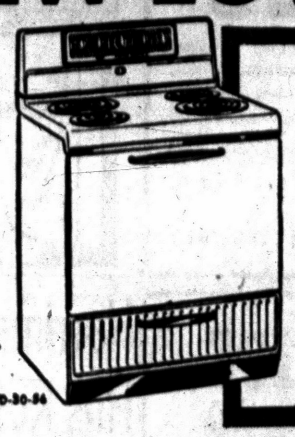

RARE FIND — Swedish excavators have discovered an Indian Buddha figurine, above, believed to date back to the fourth or fifth century. The discovery was made on Ekeroe Island in Lake Maelaren near Stockholm by a group headed by Dr. Wilhelm Holmquist. The figurine was probably worn as an amulet by a Viking explorer. Only three inches high, it's said to be the only one of its kind in northern Europe.

Harriman Aide Hits Kefauver

Backer Claims Senator Deserts Liberal Wing of Democratic Party

NEW YORK (AP)—A leading supporter of Gov. Averell Harriman for the Democratic presidential nomination says Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee "gave up" on his principles on liberal policies to back "moderate" Adlai E. Stevenson for the nomination.

The statement was made yesterday by George Backer, director of the Harriman - for - President headquarters here.

* * *

As a result, Backer said, many convention delegates are now shifting to Harriman as the only "liberal" seeking the presidential nomination.

Backer, a close personal and political friend of Harriman, said Kefauver "gave up on his principles" because the senator had espoused liberal policies, and then, in withdrawing from the presidential race, called for the nomination of Stevenson who has advocated moderation.

Backer indicated that Harriman will stress the theme of "liberalism" versus "moderation" in his fight for the nomination at the Democratic convention starting in Chicago Aug. 13.

Backer added:

Gov. Harriman is the only serious national candidate to fully represent the Roosevelt-Truman policies and the extension of them to problems that now confront us at home and abroad."

In the background of Baker's statement to newsmen was this: On Nov. 19 Stevenson said at a meeting of the Democratic National Committee in Chicago that "moderation is the spirit of the times." Harriman, picking this up the next day, said: "There is no such thing as 'moderation' or middle - of - the - road in the Democratic vocabulary." Harriman asked how a "moderate" approach could be taken to farm, foreign and many other problems.

* * *

Backer declared that Harriman is in the nomination race to stay. He said he believes it is not "remotely possible" that Stevenson could win nomination on the first convention ballot, as his supporters have been predicting is likely since Kefauver's withdrawal on Tuesday.

Backer, supporting his claim of Kefauver votes switching to Harriman, said Iowa delegates pledged to Kefauver have sent word they will back Harriman.

Also, Backer said, surveys indicate that Harriman will pick up "considerable support" in Minnesota, Wisconsin, South Dakota, North Dakota and other states where Kefauver had made strong showings.

* * *

Frank McKinney, former Democratic national chairman and a Harriman supporter, said in Chicago last night that Harriman "has picked up 90 to 100 votes" through Kefauver's withdrawal.

McKinney predicted that Harriman would have "in the neighborhood of 450 votes" out of the total of 1,372 convention votes.

The estimate of Harriman's gained strength was based on Harriman headquarters estimates that Kefauver had 190 votes. Backer estimated that Stevenson has "something short of 500."

Hollywood Headlines:

Keep Your Eyes Peeled for Young Tony Perkins

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—I'm in a rut where this Tony Perkins is concerned, and I admit it. It's impossible to mention his name without predicting that Tony, son of the late Osgood Perkins, is the most shining talent to hit Hollywood since James Dean. Without a picture yet released (he's made five) he's the hottest property hereabouts.

Now it's MGM bidding for him for "All the Way Home," the Harry Essex novel coming out this fall. Ingo Preminger set the deal with Doro Schary for the story.

Tony's Paramount deal permits him outside pictures.

* * *

British Diana Dors who has all but dug in here buying a house and taking out citizenship, returns to London the end of the year at least long enough to make "The Long Haul." Robert Mitchum will be her co-star.

With "The Long Haul" out of the way, Diana belongs to RKO and Hollywood.

* * *

That fine old Mambo expert Charlie Coburn (you've got to see him to believe how good he is) left Wednesday night for London to make "The Nylon Web," a thriller. John Mills has the lead and Ella Raines is all but set for the girl. It's for Todon Pictures with Maxwell Setton producing and John Gilliamin directing.

The thing mostly on Charlie's mind is whether the London girls rhumba and mambo as well as the local variety. "Dancing," opines Charlie, "is good for you mentally, morally and physically."

* * *

Maggie Ettinger's new apartment, with its black floors, white throw rugs and her stunning paintings, is the smartest salon in town. Everyone who sees it says it looks like Paris.

At the vivacious Maggie's most recent soiree were Barbara Stanwyck, the Walter Langs, Nancy Sinatra, the Bob Cobbs, the Fred Winnetts, Bob Wagner (in full beard for his next movie) Katie and Ralph Dietrich, the Harry Brands, Mecca Graham, Howard Strickling, Joseph Schenck and Gordon Maynard.

* * *

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS:

Franchot Tone's girl friends giggling about the pointed white beard he's grown for his stage show, "Uncle Vanya." It tickles them.

Gloria Swanson, one of the attractions in Monte Carlo this season, has let her hair go completely gray. But she looks as glamorous as ever.

Ethel Merman, walking into the bar at the George V in Paris and spotting Bob Cummings, Sonja Henie and assorted other Hollywoodites, said "Ha! there's a Romanoff's wherever you go!"

6500 enraptured London fans turned out for Esther Williams' $150,000 aqua-spectacle, a part-wet, part-dry show. Among the spectators giving the water baby from Hollywood a big hand were Yul Brynner, Deborah Kerr and Joan Crawford.

Cleo Moore and singer Tony Travis resuming their romance at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Whiteman's Honors Few Next to Father's

DENVER (AP) — The awards, honors and money acquired by Paul Whiteman, long known as the King of Jazz, are in his words: "nothing compared to my dad, Wilberforce J. Whiteman."

That was the jazz king's summation on a visit to Denver to participate in the dedication of a school named for his late father, musical director of Denver's public schools.

"He's been gone 20 years," Whiteman said, "and he is just as much alive as though he were standing in Denver today. He did more than I'll ever do. When I'm gone, nothing much will be said about me. But my pop? He'll live forever."

The 15 million acres of forest land burned in 1949 fires was the smallest acreage loss of any single year in recent history.

Pot-O-Gold Solution for Post-Mortem Purposes

Press Drops Veil From 'Elusive 16'

1. COLD is right. In weather-bureau parlance, a COLD front is a mass of cooler air that meets a mass (considerable amount) of warmer air. This fits the clue precisely. Putting up a bold front is done by a person or group that is not sure of its reception. It may help, in some circumstances, to have considerable warmth with the bold front. But if an enemy is to be faced, warmth, or friendliness, is certainly not needed.

2. DUB is better, because of the limitation of "on the team." At least a DUB is a player of sorts whose clumsiness may not be detected until he has joined the team. A dud is an ineffectual person whose lack of ability would probably keep him from being considered for the team.

3. CHECK is right. A CHECK that is good (that will be honored at the bank) need not be acceptable to a businessman because it is not good enough — that is, not big enough. But that does not make what we call a "bad CHECK." So this may spoil the CHECK writer's reputation, marking him as one who pays too little for what he wants. It won't absolutely spoil it, for there is no dishonesty involved. Cheek, which can be insolence of manner, can also be cool confidence. There is no reason to assume that cool confidence can, or even may, spoil a reputation, even if suchcheek fails to be acceptable or convincing.

4. POP is right. Top music men got there by pleasing the public, and usually have great natural talent. Bop music men appeal to a smaller group, their special public, which is not the public, a widely different thing. But a POP music man depends on public taste, and it is exactly he who must be very careful to please as much of the public as he can.

5. CHOW is right. To eat CHOW, of course, is to eat a meal as a soldier in the Army. Admittedly, soldiers may do so under certain unhappy circumstances, but it would not be true to say that they always do so. Many times, in peacetime, they'll be perfectly happy at CHOW. So this fits the definition's statement. To eat crow is to suffer a humiliation by having to admit that one is wrong. The phrase has always implied how odious such an action must be. The wounding of the ego in having to eat crow is such as always to render the circumstances unhappy to the one who must do so.

6. FLAIR is right. FLAIR is a talent, and talent, such as poetic, acting, singing, etc., can engender emotions quite readily. But even a strong FLAIR, since it is used for entertainment, can hardly be the kind to create an enduring emotion. Many times we are moved deeply in the theater, by a book, by a singer, etc., yet would have great difficulty later in feeling this emotion, often in even recalling what it was that moved us so. A flare, or sudden bursting forth of anger or brilliance or passion, is related to our real lives, and the very reality of emotions created by a flare renders them unforgettable.

7. SAX is right. Flexibility in the handling of tax can surely lead to trouble, either for governments or individuals. A tax must be fair and equal for everyone involved. Flexibility in handling of wax is so obviously inherent in WAX that it can be dismissed. This leaves SAX (saxophone) as the most probable choice, for it requires deft fingering, and in the figurative sense, imaginative and flexible musical treatment.

8. HALT is right. We cannot take for granted that all walls have laths inside. A person may tap a wall hoping to find a lath; usually a person seeks the studding, not a lath. But if there is none to be found, he must come to a HALT.

9. MARK is right. As nothing was said about the particular area in which the car is to be PARKED, we cannot say it must adhere to any rules and regulations at all. To park a car properly where there are no restrictions is a routine matter. To MARK a car is to identify it in some way, by license, tax sticker, serial number, etc., and such markings are definitely governed by rules and regulations.

10. WOLF is right. In either sense of the word WOLF (animal, or lady killer), if you get away quickly enough you will avoid danger. Flow must be rejected here because a certain type of flow (electric current) is quicker than you can be. If you are not in contact with such a flow, you see no need for quick getaway, and there is no need. By the time you feel such a need it is already too late, as anyone can tell you after receiving an electric shock from a light socket, TV tube or any other source of potentially dangerous flow of current.

11. GAPES is right. All types of people, both the famous and the nonentities, respond to pages calling out names. But guests who draw GAPES, the open-mouthed stares of the public, are quite likely to be famous. It is not unusual for film stars, athletes, etc., to respond to this form of admiration.

12. WARMLY fits the definition better. Being inexperienced, the speaker is very apt to lose his temper in the face of heckling, and make the mistake of answering heatedly. It is the experienced speaker who will answer the heckler warily or with great caution.

13. FOLK is right. It may be a source of personal satisfaction to be able to select the right fork at a dinner party, but it would be an overstatement to say it would be "quite pleasant." If you are able to select the right FOLK to sit next to or near, then the dinner will be quite pleasant for you.

14. FORM is right. Norm or average type is a designation striven for more by man than by nature. Nature varies from the norm in thousands of cases, by mutation, by accident, by adaptation to the necessity of preservation of the species. But nature creates a FORM, a shape or pattern, a creature or plant that will survive.

15. EARTH fits better. Since the warmth (affection and friendliness) of the human heart is figurative, the inside or outside of the heart is too literal a treatment of the idea. Moreover, in this figurative sense, some hearts are said to be stone-cold. So the inside of the EARTH must be chosen, where there is warmth so great that it sometimes breaks out in volcanic eruptions.

16. HUNGER is the word. The hunter for bargains is one so dedicated to finding bargains that he or she seeks them where they are hard to find. The people who respond to an advertised bargain sale show a HUNGER, an avidity to get a good buy. It is this HUNGER that accounts for the crowds in the bargain basements.

Doctor Flips His Wig When Maid Doffs Hers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A Pittsburgh physician returned from a vacation today and began inspecting his home to make sure everything was in order.

In the maid's room he saw what he thought was an intruder and immediately called the police. The intruder, police said, was only his maid—minus her wig.

BAY CITY (AP) — A Senate Interim Committee studying port development was told that the tri-city area of Bay City-Midland-Saginaw needs a deeper Saginaw River channel and more private dock facilities. The hearing group goes next to Benton Harbor-St. Joseph and Kalamazoo.

Hal Boyle Asks:

Can the Pelvis Be a Disguised Blessing?

There is a saying that times of great ordeal create great heroes.

If this is true, Elvis Presley may be the unrecognized hero of America's greatest present need — someone to restore sex to its proper perspective.

* * *

Presley, the Caruso of the teenage crowd, is a young former truckdriver, known by both his admirers and detractors as "Elvis the Pelvis." Many music critics say Presley's lusty caterwauling is away below par.

Elvis is perhaps even more renowned for his hip wiggles than his vocal cords, and these have brought him denunciations from ministers and parents, who say his wriggles are too "suggestive."

But Presley's charms, whatever they are, have brought him four Cadillacs and an annual income greater than that of the president of the United States, who, of course, can't even play a guitar.

* * *

Personally, I can't see this honest but rich young Tennessee minstrel as a national calamity. He may, indeed, turn out to be a national blessing.

And for a very simple reason. Elvis undoubtedly will give rise to a crop of imitators. And anybody who imitates his inspired writhings is bound to make sex look ridiculous.

Civilization has gone off its rocker in the matter of a misplaced emphasis on sex.

* * *

We don't live in the atomic era. We live in the "sexbomb" age. A "sexbomb," in the entertainment world, is a performer who gets by on animal allure rather than on artistic merit.

This is the public that thinks beauty is a quality that can be measured by a tape.

* * *

This is the public to whom sex has become a travesty. It is the public that believes a man can win the girl of his choice if only he uses the right kind of hair tonic, and get ahead in his job if he uses the right kind of underarm deodorant. It is the public that believes the way to a man's heart can be won by any girl if she uses the right kind of lipstick, the right dentfrice or goes to the right charm school.

Until now women have dominated the "sexbomb" field.

TERRORAMA TONIGHT — The Strand Theater management says box office records were broken with its first 24-hour terrorama recently, and have slated a second one, starting at midnight tonight. The two new shock features to be shown are "Satellite in the Sky," from which the above scene is taken, and the Bela Lugosi thriller, "Bride of the Monster." Regular prices will prevail.

Catholic Priest Free From Red Shanghai Prison

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A Roman Catholic missionary, home after three years of degradation in Chinese Communist jails, believes that "the only way to defeat Communism is through Christianity."

Rev. John W. Clifford, 34-year-old Jesuit priest, arrived in San Francisco Wednesday three weeks after he was freed by the Communists.

He said he was imprisoned on charges of "spreading rumors" and of being "an imperialist."

Father Clifford told newsmen at the home of his brother, Attorney Harry Clifford:

"It was completely unjust. I was arrested simply because the Communists want to exterminate the Catholic Church. There is no other reason."

He said his Communist jailers did not actually inflict any physical punishment on him although they once forced him to stand at attention before an interrogator for a period of seven hours.

He said he spent most of the time in a Shanghai prison cell, sixteen feet by sixteen feet, in which eighteen other men were jammed.

He went for three months without bathing and there were little or no sanitary facilities.

Father Clifford said:

"Our treatment was terrible, but whatever inconveniences we had to suffer were unimportant. Four priests died in the prison. Five others are still there."

He added:

"We must make the people of the world realize that the only way to defeat Communism is through Christianity."

Florida Buses Roll —Without Negroes

* * *

The company, which had taken its buses off the streets because of financial losses suffered during the boycott, hired two Negro drivers for the first time in its history and assigned them to routes serving Negro sections.

Service was resumed yesterday on the same segregated basis in effect before the boycott, which was staged in an effort to obtain integrated seating.

"Our people voted in a large mass meeting that they will not be herded like cattle to the rear of a bus though driven by Negro drivers," said the Rev. C. K. Steele, president of the Negro Inter Civic Council, which sponsored the boycott.

* * *

He said only a few Negroes used the buses yesterday, declared these were mostly children and elderly persons and added there always had been some who had not joined in the boycott.

35-Block Cycle Race Snares Cycle Thief

The detective, John Keeney, said he became suspicious when he saw a young bicyclist riding along Park Avenue near 94th Street and looking into parked cars.

Keeney, following in his police car, was held up by traffic.

Leaping out of his auto, he hastily borrowed a delivery boy's bike and pedaled after his quarry. He caught up with him at Park Avenue and 59th Street.

Camelio Vanderpool, 20, was held in $500 bail pending arraignment on a petty larceny charge.

Police said Vanderpool admitted he stole the bike he was riding.

Panama Assures U. S. Over Panama Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Could the Panama Canal — the world's second largest man-made waterway — be nationalized as the Egyptians have done with the Suez Canal?

* * *

"Absolutely not," Panamanian Ambassador J. J. Vallarino said today.

"The situations are entirely different," said W. M. Whitman, secretary of the Panama Canal Co., a U.S. government corporation which operates the canal.

The U.S. agreement with Panama, under which the canal is operated, "does not entirely fulfill the wishes and aspirations of the people and government of Panama," the ambassador said, but he was firm that his country would continue to enforce the treaty.

* * *

"The affairs of the Suez Canal do not concern us at all," he said, "but it may lead in the future to better understanding and more liberal consideration towards Panama."

President Eisenhower was asked at his news conference Wednesday whether he thought the furore over the Suez Canal also might lead to requests that the Panama Canal, now operated solely by this country, be turned over to international control.

The conditions aren't quite the same, Eisenhower said, noting that internationalization of the Suez Canal had been agreed to in an international convention in 1888. While that concession runs out in 1968, he added, the Suez Canal will always be an international waterway.

* * *

The Panama Canal, a 40-mile route linking the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, was opened to traffic in 1914. It saves 7,873 nautical miles on a voyage from New York to San Francisco.

The United States acquired the Canal Zone, a five-mile strip on either side of the canal, for 10 million dollars in 1904 and agreed to pay Panama $250,000 a year. This sum was raised to $430,000 a year in 1934 and, by a treaty signed last year, the sum was raised to $1,930,000.

"Panama has granted the Canal Zone to us in perpetuity," Whitman noted, while the Suez Canal was operated by an international company under a 99-year-lease due to terminate in 1968.

* * *

In the seizure of the Suez Canal Co., Whitman said, the point was that the canal actually was within the boundaries of Egypt. Panama has granted the Panama Canal Zone territory to the United States, he added.

The latest U.S.-Panama treaty, which took some two years to negotiate, met sharp opposition when it came before the Senate in 1955 although the vote on ratification itself was overwhelmingly in favor.

* * *

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) called it a "bad treaty" and predicted the next step would be a demand by Panama "to take over the zone and the canal itself."

Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said he feared Panama "may bleed us white," in case of a future war, for land needed to defend the canal and the citizens and government of Panama.

The basic issue now and when the canals were built was that the waterways be kept neutral — open to ships of all nations at all times in both peace and war.

Nasser has estimated the Suez Canal's annual collection of traffic tolls reached 100 million dollars.

* * *

The Panama Canal Co. took in $37,450,000 in the 1956 fiscal year. Its traffic of 8,475 transits is about half of the Suez traffic, which carries much of the Middle East oil, Whitman said.

The Panama Canal is operated and regulated financially by the Panama Canal Co., a government corporation managed by a 13-member board of directors appointed by the secretary of the Army, acting as personal representative of the President.

It is not part of the Army, Whitman said. The Canal Zone itself, however, is governed by an officer of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Maj. Gen. William E. Potter, a 50-year-old native of Oshkosh, Wis., has been governor of the Canal Zone since last May.

The directors of the Panama Canal Co. are principally businessmen and high government officials drawn from all parts of the country. They serve without salary.

* * *

Income from the canal tolls is used to operate the canal and to replace and enlarge its facilities. Whitman said that since 1951 the company has paid 15 million dollars to the U.S. Treasury toward reduction of the government's investment in the canal.

Harriman, Stevenson Both Claim Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—Strategists for the two chief contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination yesterday made conflicting claims of delegate support in Illinois.

* * *

Gov. Averell Harriman's campaign headquarters said the New York governor will have 10 to 15 first-ballot votes from the 64-vote Illinois delegation.

But the headquarters for Adlai E. Stevenson, former Illinois governor, claimed Stevenson will have at least 56 to 58 of the votes.

* * *

The Associated Press in its poll of Illinois delegates found Stevenson with 31 votes and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri with one. Delegates who will cast 18½ votes reported they were undecided or did not wish to declare themselves at present, and delegates representing 13½ votes were unavailable for polling.

THE POWERHOUSE
By Jimmy Powers

Fred Haney, the No. 1 mastermind menace to our dashing Dodgers, is a smallish, gentle, man with pale blue eyes and a low voice. He doesn't growl in the McGraw tradition. He hasn't Durocher's purple vocabulary.

He doesn't strut or threaten, scream or kick in locker doors. If you spend an entire day with him, as I did, you'll find his presence soothing, entertaining and highly educational.

★ ★ ★

I made the mistake of asking him what he thought was wrong with our Giants.

★ ★ ★

The Haney blue eyes shot a level glance. He murmured: "I don't think you really want me to answer that. I don't want to talk about the other fellow's team. I have enough troubles with my own."

Did he think the current Dodger series, psychologically as well as statistically, would decide the race?

"We'll still have 60 games to play after we leave Brooklyn. And it's still too early to count the Redlegs out, you know. You can't call any one series crucial. You've got to play all of them as they come. You can lose four straight to one club and turn around and win four straight from another."

★ ★ ★

Would he rate the Braves the smartest team in the league?

"If by 'smart' you mean quick-thinking, fast-talking Rhodes Scholars why, frankly, I don't know. Some fellows have the knack of doing the right thing at the right time—and don't know why."

A photo of Babe Ruth with No. 3 on his back standing at home plate hung on the wall.

Haney pointed: "That big fellow there. You wouldn't call him the college professor type, now would you? Yet did you ever see him throw to the wrong base or make a really stupid play? Take Yogi Berra, He's no smart alecky world beater in the brains department.

But Yogi makes the proper moves. He's a great catcher. I guess you'd call it baseball intuition. That's what a lot of my men have . . . And don't forget Joe Louis. He made quick moves in the ring, the right moves, and he made them with dazzling speed, yet Joe wasn't exactly a scholarship prospect, was he? See what I mean about smart?"

SOME HAVE THE WILL TO WIN

"Well, there again a lot depends on what you mean. Some fellows have a certain drive, the will to win. Other types are lackadaisical.

"If someone with plenty of pep, working hard, charging around, going all out on everything plays alongside a lackadaisical player, the 'dead' player, nine times out of ten, has to come to life. He has to hustle because the sparkplug makes him look bad. Our sparkplugs are clicking and the whole team is, too."

Are the Braves playing better because the weather is better?

"I believe so. The weather early this spring was simply terrible. For a stretch of eight days we never even had a chance to put on our uniforms. You know what that does. It hurts the batters, who lose their timing, as well as the pitchers who grow flabby and wild from lack of regular work. We played 15 or 20 games in Milwaukee with the temperature under 40."

★ ★ ★

With Milwaukee estimated to break the NL attendance record for the third time with about 2,250,000 admissions the 400 games must have attracted good crowds.

Dietz Only Stroke Off Tam's Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—Two foreign players, three-time British Open champion Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, and Argentine Antonio Cerda, today led Uncle Sam's best pros in the $25,000 All-American Golf Tournament at Tam O'Shanter.

Thomson, unprecedented winner of the last three British Open titles, and Cerda, the Buenos Aires shooter who is a real international traveler, both posted five-under-par 67's in yesterday's All-American opening round.

AP Wirephoto

HAPPY PETE — Peter Thomson of Australia has a big smile as he holds his daughter Deidre, 2, after tying for the lead after the opening round of the All-American Golf tournament at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter yesterday. Thomson scored a 67 to tie with Antonio Cerda of Buenos Aires.

One stroke behind as a 156-player pro field headed into the second round of the multiple 72-hole medal play meet was a lesser known domestic pro, Mike Dietz of Lake Orion, Mich.

* * *

Dietz, who coaxed a 68 from Tam's rolling acres, will be remembered as the victim of PGA defending champion Doug Ford's match-play complaint which gave Ford a victory over Dietz in the recent PGA championships. Ford contended Dietz asked the gallery for information on a hole. The hole was awarded to Ford and he whipped Mike on the 23rd hole.

Ford, the defending champion in this All-American scramble which has a $3,420 first-place prize, finished yesterday's opening round in a seven-way tie for 10th place at 70.

* * *

With three rounds still to go, there was a formidable group of eight 69 shooters. Former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol led this contingent which also included Dick Mayer, Walter Burkemo, Bob Rosburg, Tony Holguin, Bud Holscher, Bill Casper Jr., and Gene Bone of Pontiac.

* * *

In all, 41 players either bettered or matched par 72. Among 14 players notched at even par were the ever-popular Sammy Snead and Julius Boros, winner of Tam's 1955 "World" meet.

Actually, the All-American is mainly a tuneup for the rich "world" which starts at Tam next week and requires that all entries must have competed in the All-American.

Top "World" prize is $50,000 with a second award of $10,000 and third place $5,000.

* * *

Dow Finsterwald, current top money winner among the pros with $23,821, and Jack Fleck, 1955 U.S. Open champion were grouped among 10 shooters in yesterday's 71 bracket.

In three other concurrent All-American tourneys, Jim Hiskey, University of Houston star, led the men amateurs with a 73; Louise Suggs and Bonnie Randolph topped the women pros with 75's; and Wanda Sanches of Baton Rouge, La., paced the women amateurs with 77.

Fightin' Farmers Nail Free Methodist Title

Free Methodist Church softball league schedule was completed last night with Fightin' Farmers and Sluggers both taking lopsided victories.

Farmers gained the title by beating Crusaders 31-12, while the Sluggers swamped the Bulldogs 27-7 to clinch second spot.

Fightin' Farmers will be saluted as league champions at a softball banquet Aug. 30 for players and dads.

Northville Downs closes its 35 night harness meeting tomorrow, earmarked as the most successful in its 13 year history.

Tomorrow night's finale will be a $3,000 consolation pace open to all pacers who were nominated for the Michigan Derby and who did not finish 1st or 2nd in either of the two heats.

* * *

Donald A. Dryden, son of S. A. Dryden, 6930 Williams Lake Rd., has accepted a position as lifeguard at the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, according to the Conservation Department.

* * *

Ray Boone had seven hits in 12 trips in the four-game Boston series, hiking his batting average to .283. Boone batted .284 last season with 116 runs batted in. With only 54 games remaining, there is no chance that Boone will even approach his RBI total of 1955. He has only 40 runs batted in now.

* * *

Al Kaline is edging closer to the .300 mark. With two hits in five trips, the young outfielder brought his average to .297 — still more than 40 points beneath his league-leading figure of last season.

Kaline has a nine-game hitting streak going, Boone has hit in 10 of the last 11 contests and Torgeson is 11 for 13.

Lion Veterans Facing Rough Grid Training

First Pre-Season Game Just 2-Weeks Away; Hart Still Balks

YPSILANTI (AP) — Rough work and plenty of it is in the offing for the Detroit Lions during the next two weeks at their training camp here.

Coach Buddy Parker served notice of that yesterday when — despite loud moans — he ordered his veterans into pads on the 2nd day of training.

Most returning players didn't report for practice until Wednesday. Normally they could look forward to a few days of limbering up in shorts before beginning the rough work.

But Parker, mindful of the Lions' last place finish last year in the National Football League, called for blocking work on light dummies yesterday. He made no secret of the fact that the sessions will get rougher in a hurry.

The Detroiters play a pre-season game just two weeks from today with the Pittsburgh Steelers at Toledo.

Meanwhile, a Lions' spokesman said no efforts are being made to discuss terms with end-fullback Leon Hart, who refused to sign a contract without "a substantial salary increase and other benefits."

Lakeland Pharmacy owns the Waterford Township League softball championship today, thanks to a two-hit shutout by Chuck Rock and a helping hand from Gidley Electric.

The Pharmacy club, sparked by Bill Troyer's big bat and Rock's near-perfect hurling, drubbed the VFW last night, 13-0. Gidley rallied with two runs in the 6th inning to nip Drayton Drug, 4-3, and give the league title to Lakeland.

Rock pitched a perfect game until the 7th inning when Wayne O'Shaughnessy singled for the 1st hit. A 2nd safety followed on an interference ruling. Lakeland pounded out 11 hits against two pitchers with Troyer driving in two runs with a single, double and homer.

Singles by Bob Feree and Bill Wood plus three errors brought Gidley a comeback victory over runner-up Drayton. Gene Shell blasted an inside-the-park home run for the losers. Jim Cuthrell, who gave way to Kenny Spears in the 7th stanza, was the winning pitcher.

The Waterford League post-season playoffs begin Monday night at the Drayton Plains ball park. Drayton Drug tackles White Brothers at 7 o'clock and Gidley Electric meets the VFW at 8:30 in 1st round games.

GMC Softballers Keep Spot

Elks Given Last Crack at 2nd Tonight

General Motors retained its half-game edge over Elks No. 810 Thursday night in their bitter fight for 2nd place in the American division of the men's City Softball League.

The Coachers defeated Sam Benson, 4-1, and the Elks kept pace by shutting out Bicmar Inn, 6-0, in encounters at Beaudette Park. GMC resides in the runner - up position with a 12-6 record while the Elks are right behind with an 11-6 mark as the American League ends its regular season tonight.

The Elks still have an opportunity to tie the Coachers and force a Saturday night playoff at Beaudette. If the Elks succeed in toppling Shaw's Jewelers tonight in their 8:30 clash at Beaudette, which is a formidable task indeed, a playoff between GMC and the Elks tomorrow on the same diamond will be necessary.

Control of 2nd place is vital as far as district tournament warfare is concerned. The runner-up team qualifies to enter the Class A post-season tourney while the 3rd place squad goes into "B" competition.

Doug Hall, after a shaky start, limited Benson's club to a pair of singles as GMC annexed the opening game last night. The winners combed Jack Amy for nine safeties, two apiece by catcher Jerry Dennis and Moore.

Ed Miller hurled a three-hit masterpiece as the Elks blanked Bicmar. The Elks collected seven hits against John Hellsik, including a two-run homer by Don Lansford.

The North Side Auto Parts walloped Gingellville, 13-6, with an 11-hit attack in a girls' league contest at North Side. McGowan clouted two home runs for the Auto Parts and Nancy McCarter hit a round-tripper for the losers.

* * *

In another scheduled girls' game at North Side, Pulver Tire gained an effortless 7-0 decision when Michigan Bell forfeited for the 2nd consecutive time. The Bell girls have dropped out of the circuit and the Class C playoffs will now be conducted between GMC and Gingellville.

Qualifying Golf Round Saturday at Municipal

Qualification rounds for the men's annual City Medal Play Championship will be held Saturday at Pontiac Municipal Golf Course. Play will be conducted between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

A field of top-flight golfers is anticipated for the 18-hole qualifying test over Municipal's challenging north and south acreage. Each talented linksman will be seeking a berth in the city tournament, scheduled the following weekend.

All previous city champions and the five top shooters in 1955 are exempt from qualifying. The City Medal Play Championship is slated for a 36-hole route on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 11-12, at the Municipal layout.

Bill Stoiloff, last year's qualifying medalist, will probably see action again. A few other well-know area shotmakers expected to be on the firing line in tomorrow's qualifier are Bill Pembroke, Butler Cooper, Ed Goram, Jim Pettiford, Charley Barker, Chuck Hudson, Jack Ross and Harley Hyatt.

* * *

Defending city champion Eddie Wasik and three-time champion Glenn Harding, along with other past winners like Paul Bada and Stan Savage, will skip the qualifying rounds. But all are expected to be ready when the city tourney rolls around.

* * *

Joe Burgdorf and Jerry Lampson, both exempt from qualifying, are also figured to be on the 1st tee for the medal play finals.

Mike Andonian, who won three successive city titles from 1951 through 1953, is a doubtful entry. The Pontiac High School mathematics instructor annexed the Michigan Publinx crown last June at Saginaw Country Club.

A trophy will be awarded to tomorrow's medalist. The qualification rounds and the city tournament are both sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department.

The CIO Local 594 erupted with five runs in the 5th inning to defeat Fowler's Fine Foods, 7-2, in a Class A City Baseball League game Thursday night at Wisner Field. Victory gave the Union team a half-game bulge over the Elks No. 723 for 4th place.

Ron Woodhull's lead-off single, Mel Taylor's triple and a sacrifice fly by Kim Conroy handed the CIO a 2-0 lead in the 1st inning. Fowler's tied the score in the 2nd on back-to-back singles by Charles Moore and Harold Ambrose, a fielder's choice, and a one-base knock by Glen Funck.

Then came the meaty 5th stanza when the CIO sent starting pitcher Jim Featherstone to the showers in favor of Bob Chapdelaine. Three walks, successive singles by Conroy and Jim Wagner, and four helpful errors by the league tail-enders accounted for five runs as 10 Union batters strolled to the plate.

Dick Covrea hurled the distance for the CIO and limited Fowler's club to five hits. Featherstone was charged with the loss.

Bing Still Has Stock in Tigers

Frick Labels Situation Unimportant Now; No Announcement Seen

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Frick, commissioner of baseball, says the matter of Bing Crosby's stock in two major league baseball clubs was "not one of immediate concern" and no announcement is expected soon.

Frick's office said yesterday the new owners of the Detroit Tigers do not take possession until Oct. 1. Crosby, who already held stock in the Pittsburgh Pirates, also is listed as a stockholder in the new Detroit combine.

Crosby, at his summer home in Hayden Lake, Idaho, said he expected to keep his holding in both the Pirates and Tigers until next spring.

* * *

There is a baseball rule that a person can't hold a major portion of stock in two major league clubs.

* * *

Earlier today Crosby's brother and business manager, Larry, said if Crosby has to sell stock in one of the clubs he would keep his connection with the Pirates.

Senators and Athletics Win Playoff Openers

Athletics scored three times each in the 1st and 3rd frames to defeat Orioles 6-1. Bob Goff twirled a two hitter, striking out ten Orioles over a five inning route. Gary Green chucked a three hitter for the Orioles.

Surprising Senators defeated White Sox 7-3 behind the four-hit hurling of Bill Crawford. His teammates backed him up with four doubles and three singles. Big gun for Senators was Dave Colando with 2 for 2.

Soviet Athletes to Share Bunks at Melbourne

MELBOURNE (NS) — Russian athletes will share housing with the rest of the world's athletes during the November Olympic Games at Melbourne.

Lt. Gen. Sir William Bridgeford, chief executive officer of the games, said published reports that the USSR would try to have its stalwarts lodged on Soviet ships in Melbourne Harbor were incorrect.

He said the Russian Olympic committee has cabled approval of a recommendation to house Soviet athletes and officials in the new Olympic village of Heidelberg outside Melbourne.

Draper and Olfs Leaders in DDGA Qualifying Round

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Draper of Detroit and Art Olfs of Lansing shot a three-under par 69 to lead the qualifying trials for the annual Detroit District Golf Championship yesterday at Plum Hollow Golf Couse.

Among those who missed were Lew Wendrow, 1946 state champion from Lansing, and Dr. Bob Corley, of Jackson, runnerup for the state crown last month.

Pontiac's Jack Reynolds, youngest qualifier at 18, with a 36-40—76 drew the tourney favorite, champion Glenn Johnson for his 1st round match today. Other qualifiers from the Pontiac area included besides Andonian, Ray Bolo of Indianwood, Pete Whitelaw of Orchard Lake, John Driver of Indianwood, and Tom Watrous of Oakland Hills.

Tigers Absorb Worst Licking

That's the situation today of the Detroit Tigers, who are staggering into the three-game weekend series 22 games behind the league-leading Bombers.

Boston Red Sox, with Jackie Jensen driving in half the runs, administered the Bengals' worst pasting of the season yesterday, 18-3. Jensen had a home run, triple, single and sacrifice fly.

But for the Tigers, it was a bad afternoon all the way around. Although they tagged winner Willard Nixon for 12 hits, they left a dozen runners stranded. Detroit pitchers gave up 12 bases on balls and 15 hits, and fielders committed three errors to account for three unearned runs.

Among the six Tiger hurlers, only lefty Al Aber avoided being charged with Boston scoring. But in one-third of an inning, Aber became the victim of Jensen's triple with the bases loaded.

Young Bob Miller started and lasted only one inning. Jensen got rid of him with a thee-run homer that started the Fenway Park wrecking crew rolling.

Steve Gromek was next, pitching three innings and allowing two runs on two singles, a hit batsman and an error.

Then it was Walt Masterson's turn. Two singles around an error and a pair of sacrifice flies gave the Red Sox a pair of runs in the fifth. After a single, double and two walks in the sixth, Masterson departed and Aber arrived in time for Jensen's booming triple to right center that scored three more runs.

The worst was yet to come. Six Boston runners crossed the plate in the seventh, five of them charged to bonus southpaw Jim Brady. The young rookie retired only one batter, walked four men and permitted a single.

* * *

It was 11-0 before Detroit scored its first run. It came on singles by Frank Bollin, pinch hitter Jim Small and Harvey Kuenn. The base hit by Kuenn was his first in 11 trips to bat.

Al Kaline drilled his 18th home run to left field in the seventh for another run, and a single by Jim Brideweser, a wild pitch and Earl Torgeson's third hit—a single to center—produced the final Detroit run in the eighth.

A huge crowd is expected tonight when the Tigers' Billy Hoeft opposes Bob Turley in the opener of the Yankee set. The two teams will meet in afternoon contests Saturday and Sunday.

Hoeft has beaten the Yankees once and lost to them twice.

Kenny Lane Whips Flanagan Decisively

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Kenny Lane, Muskegon, Mich., turned back the best Glen Flanagan could offer last night to score a unanimous decision over the St. Paul boxer in their 10-round lightweight bout. Lane and Flanagan each weighed 135¾.

* * *

* * *

THURSDAY'S STARS

PITCHING — Don Newcombe, Dodgers, struck out 10 and walked none while beating Braves 3-0 on a four-hitter for his 16th victory, tops in the National League, and seventh straight.

HITTING — Jackie Jensen, Red Sox, drove in nine runs, two shy of the American League one-game record, with a home run, triple, single and sacrifice fly in 18-3 waltz over Tigers.

Newcombe Key Factor in Dodgers' Resurgence

BROOKLYN (AP)—"I know those guys. I played with them. They're rolling now. And when they're rolling, they're tough."

It was veteran outfielder Andy Pafko of the Milwaukee Braves talking after the Brooklyn Dodgers had pulled to within two games of the National League leaders with a 3-0 decision behind Don Newcombe in the windup of the vital four-game series between the two clubs yesterday.

* * *

Newcombe's great performance, in which he allowed only four hits, struck out 10 and didn't walk a man, gave the defending world champions three of four from the Braves.

* * *

Since they lost four straight games in Milwaukee after the All-Star game break, the Dodgers have played at a .750 pace with 15 victories and 5 losses. More significant, they have won 7 of 10 games played with Milwaukee and Cincinnati, the two teams that lead them in the standings.

Jensen Misses RBI Mark

DETROIT (AP)—No one needed to ask if Jackie Jensen realized he was within 340 feet of the all-time record for runs batted in.

The Boston Red Sox slugger, who drove in nine runs in an 18-3 victory over Detroit yesterday, nearly swung himself out of Briggs Stadium trying for the new mark.

The blond belter, the American League's co-champion in RBI's last season, had a perfect set-up to break sunny Jim Bottomley's single-game record of 12 runs batted in.

Jensen already had driven in nine runs with a home run, a triple, a single and a sacrifice fly when he stepped to the plate in the 8th inning. The Red Sox had loaded the bases and there were two men out, providing the dramatic setting for a possible history-making occasion.

He needed a grand-slam homer to do it. Facing Jensen was slender Jim Bunning, 6th Detroit pitcher. From his 1st delivery it was plain that Jensen was pulling for the fence, 340 feet down the left field line.

The 29-year-old muscle - man swung so hard while missing Bunning's 1st offering that his cap flew off and he went to his knees completing the swing. Once again Jensen swung from the heels, but got only a small piece of the ball and tapped it weakly to the mound for the 3rd out.

Jensen had six hits in 15 trips in the four-game Tiger series concluded yesterday. Four of them were for extra bases and the husky right fielder now is batting .316. He has 65 runs batted in.

4 Top Quints in Rich Event

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — On of the richest basketball tournaments of all time will be staged in the new State Fairgrounds Coliseum Dec. 28-29, with four top collegiate powers getting at least $14,000 each.

* * *

Two perennial giants, Dayton and St. Louis Universities, have signed agreements to play in the Bluegrass Holiday Festival, and two others, the University of Kentucky and the University of Louisville, seem almost a certainty.

Fairgrounds Sports Director Bill Henry said each team should clear as much as $14,000.

Brooks Blank Braves

Score Whitewashes Yankees, 4-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If you think the heat's on now in the National League pennant race, just sit back and wait. This month of August figures to be a scorcher.

Take a look:

First-place Milwaukee and second-place Cincinnati, just a game apart, have 14 games to play against each other—packing eight of them into an 11-day stretch beginning next Friday.

* * *

Brooklyn's third-place world champions, just two games behind the Braves, have nine games remaining with the two top clubs—including five in as many days, three at Cincy beginning August 23, and two at Milwaukee beginning August 26.

* * *

Brooklyn's old geezers, coming alive in the heat of the flag chase, completed a hustling comeback yesterday with a 3-0 decision over the Braves, sweeping the last three games in their four-game set.

In the American, Herb Score's four-hitter, backed up by four homers, brought a touch of color back to Cleveland's cheeks as the second-place Injuns rocked New York for three straight, 4-0, and whittled the Yankees lead to seven games.

If an "edge" exists in the NL stretch drive, Brooklyn may hold it. The Dodgers could be making hay against the rest of the league—which has proved easier for the Brooks than either Milwaukee or Cincinnati—while the Braves and Redlegs are staging their donnybrook.

The Indians, who lost the opener in their four-game set with the Yankees, caught up with Tom Sturdivant after the young right-hander had beaten them with two straight two-hitters.

* * *

Bobby Avila, Preston Ward, Rocky Colavito and Chico Carrasquel slapped the homers. Score, who fanned seven in winning his 11th, gave the Indians their second shutout over the Yankees in three days. Cleveland's staff, incidentally, has marked up seven of eight shutouts registered in the AL in the last 12 days.

Les Moss slugged a three-run homer in the sixth to win for the White Sox and reliefer Ellis Kinder, who gained his 100th major league victory.

Big Outdoors Day

OCSC Picnic on Sunday

Hoping for cooperative weather, everything is in readiness for the 14th annual Oakland County Sportsmen's Club family picnic at D. R. Wilson Sportsmen's Park, Waterford, on Sunday, Aug. 5.

Club members, friends and guests are invited to take their picnic dinners and participate in the all-day affair.

Chairmen Ed Spicer and George Schweier announce a full day of entertainment highlighted by the colorful Michigan State Police exhibition pistol shooter Lt. Coykendall, who is scheduled for a firearms demonstration at 3:30 p.m.

Also on the afternoon program will be the Oakland County Sheriff's Posse, including 20 or 25 horsemen. Miller's Morons, a home talent group, will supply the comedy.

In addition there will be kiddies free hay rides, archery club demonstrations, kiddie kounter and fish pond, treasure hunt, penny scramble, and numerous other traditional picnic games.

Cup Zone Finals Favor U.S. Vets

RYE, N.Y., (AP)—Brimming confidence, American Davis Cup Capt. Billy Talbert sent two old standbyes — Vic Seixas and Hamilton Richardson — into action today against Mexico in the first two singles matches of the American Zone final.

* * *

Talbert said that if Seixas and Richardson both came through as expected, they would get a rest for the rest of the best-of-5 set if a youthful doubles combination wins tomorrow.

"Sam Giammalva and Barry McKay, two of our top youngsters, will play the doubles if Seixas and Richardson win," said Talbert. "And if they win the doubles, they will play the final two singles matches on Sunday."

Seixas went up against Mario Llamas in the first singles test at 1 p.m. (EST), while Richardson took on Pancho Contreras in the second match.

Top U.S. Bridge Team Defeated in Big Upset

NEW YORK (AP)—A team which represented the United States in international bridge play in 1950, 1952 and 1953 was defeated in an upset last night in the National Masters contract bridge knockout team event.

* * *

The team of B. Jay Becker, Howard Schenken and George Rapee, all of New York City, and John R. Crawford and Sidney Silodor, both of Philadelphia, was beaten by 870 points.

* * *

Annual Horseshoe Tourney August 14-15 at Oakland

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's annual horseshoe tournament will be held Tuesday and Wednesday, August 14-15, at Oakland Park. Starting time each night is 7 o'clock.

All Oakland County residents are eligible to enter this tourney. Registrations and one dollar trophy fees must be filed in the Parks and Recreation Department office before 5 p.m., Friday, August 10.

Competition will be conducted in two events, singles and doubles, and regulation 40-foot blue clay courts will be used. Women may enter the tournament, but they will be required to compete on the 40-foot courts.

* * *

A two out of three series will decide all contests except the semi-final and final rounds, which will be determined on a three out of five basis. A 25-point game will be played.

Players are permitted to bring their own horseshoes, but the "shoes" must conform to tournament standards. Horseshoes will be provided, however.

The tourney is open to all amateur pitchers. Anyone who has participated in a professional horseshoe tournament is ineligible.

Further information may be obtained by calling the Parks and Recreation Department, FEderal 3-7131.

Robinson Answers Blast

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jackie Robinson hurled a charge of injustice at a New Orleans sports writer who said the Brooklyn Dodger was a prime cause of Louisiana's new sports segregation ban.

* * *

In a recent column, Bill Keefe, sports editor of the Times-Picayune, said "The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People can thank Jack Robinson, persistently insolent and antagonistic trouble-making Negro of the Brooklyn Dodgers" for the law.

The law, which goes into effect Oct. 15, prohibits all sports contests between Negroes and whites.

"No 10 of the most rabid segregationists accomplished as much as Robinson did in widening the breach between the white people and Negroes," added Keefe. "He has been the most harmful influence the Negro race has suffered in the attempt to give the Negro nation-wide recognition in the sports field, and the surprising part of it is that he wasn't muzzled long ago."

* * *

Robinson answered Keefe in a letter, which the Louisiana Weekly, a Negro newspaper, published yesterday. Robinson said:

"You call me 'insolent.' I'll admit I have not been subservient but would you use the same adjective to describe a white ballplayer — say Ted Williams, who is, more often than I, involved in controversial matters.

"Am I insolent, or am I merely insolent for a Negro (who has courage enough to speak against injustices such as yours and people like you.)"

Pledge Stirs Protests

CHICAGO (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, has promised a statement by Sunday explaining the anti-pro pledge for Olympic contestants which left athletes and some officials bewildered.

* * *

Word of the newly contrived, controversial pledge which demands an athlete must swear he not only is an amateur but intends to remain an amateur came Wednesday out of Australia where it received wide publicity.

News of the statement immediately brought a "very firm" protest from K. L. (Tug) Wilson, president of the U.S. Olympic Assn., and various response from Olympic contestants.

* * *

"I, the undersigned, declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

Brundage, a staunch supporter of pure amateurism, refused to discuss the pledge, saying he is preparing a statement on the subject. However, Brundage did say all entries must sign the pledge or they cannot compete.

* * *

Wilson met with Brundage yesterday and said "I registered a firm protest with the executive committee of the IOC against enforcement of the rule, stating I believed that further study should be given to all the effects of its enforcement."

* * *

Wilson said Brundage assured him that "the IOC ruling had not been directed towards athletes who were enrolled in physical education courses with an idea of either teaching or coaching in the future."

Reaction from Olympic officials in Australia ranged from "How is the IOC going to apply the rule?" to "What is the IOC trying to do? Set itself up as an international police force?"

Junior Baseball Playoffs Begin 2nd Round Today

Matthews-Hargreaves and Boys Club No. 1 in Class F and the Indians and Boys Club in the Knothole division won 1st round games Thursday in the Pontiac Junior League baseball playoffs.

* * *

* * *

Tom Mayes hurled a one-hitter and Isaac Jones slammed a two-run homer as Boys Club No. 1 trimmed the West Side Kiwanis, 10-1. Matthews-Hargreaves defeated Don Nicholls, 11-9.

Knothole League action found the Boys Club crushing the Tigers by a 19-1 count and the Indians downing the Auburn Heights Boys Club, 7-3.

The Class D circuit closed out its regular season last night at Washington Junior High. Bob Reeves pitched a sparkling one-hitter and also homered as Pontiac Boys Club blanked Keego Harbor Boys Club, 6-0. Winless Waterford forfeited to the champion Pontiac Police squad in the other scheduled game.

Redlegs Lead NL in HRs With 144 —Birdie Gripes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Get this! The Cincinnati Redlegs have banged 144 home runs so far this season and Manager Birdie Tebbetts wants to know "Where's our power? What happened to our hitters?"

* * *

The round-faced manager still had his mind on the just-completed four-game series in New York's Polo Grounds. The Redlegs figured to sweep the last-place Giants, but instead had to salvage a split by thumping the Giants 10-2 yesterday.

A sweep would have hoisted the Redlegs back into the National League lead with a one-game edge. As it is, they're second, one game behind Milwaukee after the Braves dropped three of four at Brooklyn. The Dodgers are only one game behind Cincinnati.

"Everybody talks about all the power we have," said Birdie. "Where was it against the Giants? Our pitching's what's been carrying us.

Upsets Continue in Tennis Play

Aussie Davis Cuppers Lose as Moylan Gains at Southampton

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP)—Only three seeded players were "alive" today in the Meadow Club Invitation Grass Court Tennis Tournament and one was sure to be eliminated following the upsets of two second-line Australian Davis Cuppers — Neale Fraser and Ashley Cooper.

Top-seeded Eddie Moylan, Trenton, N.J., the defending champion, meets fifth-seeded Grant Golden, Chicago, in one of today's quarter-finals. Seventh-seeded Roy Emerson, the only Australian still competing, plays upstart Bill Quillian of Seattle.

The Moylan-Golden winner will meet Airman 2.C. Whitney Reed, 6-4, 10-8 conqueror of third-seeded Cooper in yesterday's quarter-finals, in one of tomorrow's semi-final matches.

Unique Shotgun Championship Is Set

DAVISON (INS) — One of the most unique shotgun championship shoots in history will be held next Saturday and Sunday on the ranges of the Williams Gun Sight Co., on Lapeer road near Flint.

* * *

Dale Williams described the second annual Michigan tournament as "just a little different than any specialized type of shooting. It does not cater to strictly skeet, trap or field shooters, but all three."

The Williams brothers, who number six, hope to settle the age-old question of "who is the best shot gunner in Michigan?"

The tournament will be shot under the National Skeet Shooting Association, and the Amateur Trap Association rules. The odd part of it all is the field shoot.

* * *

The Williams brothers have set up a simulated field course taking in most conditions of upland bird hunting. Uusually two gunners march through the rough course with a guide or referee. This guide points to silhouettes of bird dogs and informs one of the shooters that "this dog is on point, get ready."

After these brief instructions, the guide releases a clay bird, maybe two, which may fly in any direction. The traps are changed after each set of hunters so that the clays never fly the same airlanes.

Sounds simple, but there are only about a dozen men in the nation who have ever smashed 25 out of 25 birds on the Williams Field range.

* * *

As for the course itself, it looks easy enough. The traps are all well hidden in brush piles and under weeds and you never know exactly where they will fly from. After trying one set you move along the trail to the next "dog."

The traps are all in range, of course, but the rough part is clipping the birds before they sail away.

Last year the same type of tournament was held and there was a tie.

* * *

Tom Loucks of Flint and Sam Schmidt of Detroit were the top men. Loucks was probably one of the finest all-around shots. He was an outstanding hunter and had one of the longest handicaps of any trap shooter in the state when he entered the shoot.

ANGLING TEAMWORK — The big and fat brown trout displayed above by Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey (Phyllis) Carless, 3158 Warren, Drayton Plains, is the product of some neat teamwork by the two avid trouters. It weighed 5-pounds-15-ounces, is nearly two feet long and was taken from the Au Train river-power basin in the Upper Peninsula during a recent vacation. Aubrey hooked it on a 4-pound test spin line in the middle of the day. Phyllis handled the landing net. It's going to grace the Carless living room from a mounting board. Mrs. Carless is librarian at Jefferson Junior High School.

Sales Over $1,000,000

85 Yearlings Purchased

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The offspring of imported sires Nasrullah and Royal Charger and free flowing Western gold proved prime ingredients in hiking a lagging thoroughbred yearling market into a record-smashing clean-up.

Buyers cut their purse strings yesterday and forked over an average $58,000 for four Nasrullah yearlings and $41,083 for six Royal Charger youngsters.

It was the Los Angeles Stable of Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis that gave $80,000 for a Nasrullah colt out of Risque Ma, the price equalling the second highest for a yearling at auction. The colt came from Stoner Creek Stud of Mrs. John D. Hertz.

Twice in the windup a new American record price was paid for a filly, the mark finally reaching $63,000 on the bid of Mrs. C. Ulrick Bay of New York for a daughter of Royal Charger-Tige O' Myheart from the lot of Leslie Combs II, Lexington.

* * *

The Keeneland sale staggered into yesterday's finale 22 per cent behind last year's record breaking market that averaged $11,167. But the buyers cut loose nearly 1 1-3 million dollars for 85 yearlings in the windup that averaged $15,415. That brought the sales total to $3,462,000 for 350 colts and fillies, averaging $9,891 but still trailing last year by 11 per cent.

Combs, who heads the syndicate owning Nashua, and his son, Leslie B. Combs III, together sold 26 horses for $532,200. It was a new record for the elder Combs, customarily one of the top price getters. Nine sold in his name averaged $40,222.

The Lewises made one other lush bid in the session. They gave Stoner Creek $60,000 for a Nasrullah colt out of Shy Katie.

The second high price was $65,000 which Murcain-Byars Stable of Dallas bid for a Royal Charger-Sequence colt consigned by Combs. The colt is a half brother to Noorsaga.

Giambra, Castellani in Garden TV Contest

NEW YORK (AP) — Handsome Joey Giambra bids for his 4th straight victory and a place in the middleweight rankings tonight when he opposes clever Rocky Castellani at Madison Square Garden.

The rangy, 5-11 Giambra has been made a slight 6-5 underdog for the 10-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast (NBC-TV, radio, 9 p.m., EST) coast to coast. On form it figures to be a very close fight.

Doctoring Your Golf Game

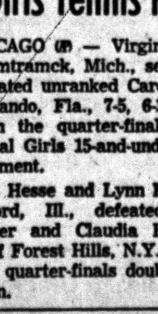

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Can't get backspin

DIAGNOSIS: Hit the ball first

TREATMENT: Stopping the ball on the green with backspin isn't an art with which pros alone are gifted. On the contrary it's the result of a swing properly executed to hit the ball first and then take turf. That is the fundamental fact of backspin. The loft of the club determines the amount of stop on the ball.

positioned behind the center line, toward the right foot, as the sketch shows. The weight inclines toward the left leg in the address and stays there during the backswing. Kink right knee in the downswing to shift weight entirely to left leg.

The swing essentially follows the same pattern with all clubs when the lie is normal and straight away. With the pitch clubs the body gets into the shot very little. Start the backswing straight back from the ball in one-piece motion, maintaining a straight line from the clubhead to the left shoulder.

Give no thought whatever to where the wrists break. That happens naturally — when the left arm has reached its point of full extension. Keep firm hold with the left hand at the top of the swing, especially the middle, third, and little fingers, so that you feel just a little pressure as the left arm pulls downward to and through the ball.

Instructions for Voting on the Voting Machines

PLACE TO VOTE STICKER CANDIDATES

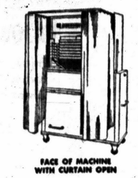

1. Move the RED HANDLE to the RIGHT.
2. Turn the PRIMARY LEVER to your PARTY NAME and leave it there.
   The PRIMARY LEVERS are located on the lower right hand side of the machine. See illustration below. At this election you can vote for the candidates in ONE PARTY ONLY to which you turn the primary lever.
3. Turn a VOTING LEVER DOWN.

OVER THE NAME

of each CANDIDATE of your choice. Leave Voting Levers Down.

As no votes are registered until the Red Handle is moved to open the curtain, you can make as many changes as you desire while the Red Handle is at the right side. The machine is so arranged that you can turn down only the proper number of voting levers for each office, you cannot spoil your ballot by voting for too many candidates. Each candidate's voting lever is located just above the name; a voting lever must be turned over the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote. Leave voting levers down. No one will know how you have voted because the movement of the Red Handle returns the voted voting levers to the unvoted position before the curtain begins to open.

4. Move the RED HANDLE to the left.

Challenge No. 10! Lucky 16 Words Can Snare $125

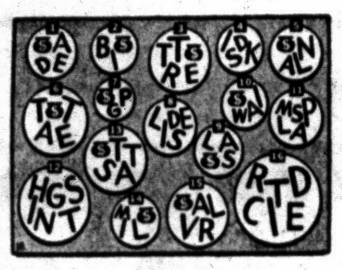

Another week — another $100: that's the least the Press will pay to the reader who comes up with the correct solution to Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 10, the newest challenge in our fascinating summer word game. Oother than the clues below, the best advice we can give is to read the rules carefully before sending in your entry. Have fun, and good luck!

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Almost Time to Sow Pansies

Enjoy Blooms April Through October by Giving Care

* * *

The schedule calls for sowing now, transplanting the seedlings to their permanent home, covering after the ground freezes with straw or peat moss for winter protection, uncover in March and enjoy blooms from April to October.

Everyone loves pansies and the larger and more prolific the blooms, the more they are admired.

The largest flowers are produced on plants that are from fresh seed sown before Sept. 1 and transplanted in October so as to become established before winter.

Many gardeners who have the facilities make a second sowing indoors in January or February for plants that will be set out in late spring for summer flowers.

* * *

In that way pansies may be had in bloom during the entire flowering season from that of the early tulips in spring until after Jack Frost calls a halt in late autumn.

* * *

There are many beautiful varieties of pansies and it is difficult to make a selection. Most popular for both amateur and commercial growers seem to be the giant flowers of the Swiss strain.

Pansy seed degenerates very quickly and it is important to procure fresh seed from a specialist.

Do not purchase a large packet as there are about 25,000 seeds in one ounce. Growers usually allow one ounce of seed for 5,000 plants.

Whatever the type you may grow, the cost of good seed will be a saving in the end.

Beans, Tomatoes Flourish

The pole beans are 10 feet high. The tomatoes, winding up poles, will soon reach that height.

The garden's a beauty and it's kept that way by Sam Felice, 5939 Andersonville Rd., Waterford.

Felice has great success with his vegetables and has planted his garden in the same place since 1937.

The reason the plants are so big and healthy is that Felice used 160 pounds of fertilizer on an approximate 50 square foot garden patch.

"I used handfuls on each plant," he said. An active spray program kept the growing vegetables disease free.

Spray Roses, Stop Black-Spot Disease

For the average gardener, the best means of control is to spray each week with the new fungicide captan—and be sure to follow directions on label for dilution.

The better all-purpose sprays and dusts contain captan — but an extra dose is the only sure way to prevent the spread of this damaging disease. The real rose grower picks off and burns all badly spotted and yellow leaves.

Rose sphids (plant lice) are the second worst enemies of the plant. They are easily controlled if sprayed or dusted with lindane of malathion.

* * *

The standard spray, Black Leaf 40 and soapy water, is likewise effective. Aphids live on young growth, distorting the leaves by sucking the juices. The novice must remember that Black-Leaf 40 is not an effective means of controlling Japanese beetles and other chewing insects.

Sometimes we wish the blooms would come more slowly and with more perfection. Many varieties have a tendency to throw groups of blooms on stems so short as to be difficult to use, but there isn't much you can do except practice disbudding in the early stages.

* * *

Many disagree with the theory that one should prune bush roses severely after the first bloom, in order to induce fine late summer blooming.

If you will keep your foliage in good health with a proper spray program, the fine summer and fall blooms will be automatic.

Keep your plant in good condition by removing the faded bloom heads which at this season of the year, especially, try to develop into seed pods.

LAWN FEEDING

Give your lawn a light feeding (1 to 1½ pounds per 100 square feet), then thoroughly water it in. Well - fed lawns are far more drought resistant than those receiving only one plant food application per year.

* * *

An organic fertilizer, such as milorganite, agrinite, golden vigoro, etc., should be used, or one of the recently introduced soluble mixtures.

Delegates to Study Flowering Shrubs

New flowering shrubs to beautify the home will be revealed at Michigan State University Aug. 8-9.

* * *

More than 220 nurserymen, landscape gardeners, students of ornamental horticulture and others professionally interested in plants are expected to attend the tenth annual Nursery and Landscape Conference at Kellogg Center.

Dr. L. C. Chadwick, horticulture specialist from Ohio State University, will discuss "Newly Introduced Flowering Shrubs for the Home Landscape," at Wednesday's opening session.

Other topics will include salesmanship, insecticides and weed killers, fertilizers and publicity.

Tours of campus plantings, grass plots and plant science greenhouses are also included in the two-day event sponsored by the MSU Department of Horticulture in cooperation with the Michigan Association of Nurserymen and the Michigan Landscape Conference organization.

Check Soil for Water

Keep a close eye on the water situation. If the soil gets dry to a depth of three inches, it's time for a deep, thorough drenching—none of this sprinkling with a hose so that the surface looks moist but none of it penetrates down to the root systems which need moisture.

Annual Flower Show Plans Nearly Complete

Plans are in full swing for the Inter-Garden Flower Show slated Aug. 25-26 in the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake road in Waterford Township.

The second annual flower show is sponsored by four area garden clubs: the Dirt Gardeners of Waterford Township; Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac, the Sylvan branch of the National Farm and Garden Club and the Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club.

Sections open for entries include artistic arrangement, monochromatic arrangements, table settings, horticulture (annuals) and the smallest, largest and most unusual flowers.

One section will be exclusively for the junior gardeners. They will specialize in arrangements and best specimens of both flowers and vegetables.

First, second and third prizes will be given in each class. Committee on entries has asked that all entries be in place by noon of opening day of the show.

* * *

Members of all four participating clubs will be asked to contribute fancy work, jams, jellies, etc. for the booth.

Proceeds from this booth, the gullop tree and the silver tea will be used to finance the show.

Mrs. Clarence Phelps of the Dirt Gardeners Club was elected chairman of this committee.

Mrs. Vivian Tubbs of Tubbs road is general chairman of the show and is assisted by Mrs. Bohlman.

Information regarding show entries may be obtained from Mrs. Tubbs. There were 271 entries in last year's show, Mrs. Tubbs said.

American Reported Slain in Afghanistan

LONDON (AP)—Fears that Peter Winant, 32, nephew of the late U. S. Ambassador John G. Winant, has been murdered by nomadic Afghan tribesmen near the Russian border were reported today in a Daily Express dispatch from Kabul, capital of Afghanistan.

Winant, whose home is Centreville, Va., disappeared after leaving Kabul two months ago on a trip in the direction of the Iranian border. Winant, a religious and social worker, was accompanied by his attractive 25-year-old Swedish fiancee, Gunnel Gummeson, also a social worker.

The couple was traced to the north Afghan town of Shibarghan, 30 miles from the Russian border, the Express dispatch added. Their route was through desert and mountainous country inhabited by Moslem tribesmen. American and Afghan inquiries were made, and in Kabul there was speculation that one or both might have been slain by highwaymen.

State Sales Tax Gain Shows Upturn for June

LANSING (AP)—State sales tax collections in July reflected a substantial upturn in business during June, the State Revenue Dept. reported yesterday.

Receipts from the 3 per cent sales levy totaled $27,906,000, up 11 per cent from the same month a year ago.

Sales tax collections in May dipped alarmingly, but made a strong recovery in June. July receipts represented a continuation of the upward trend.

Collections in July, 1955, were $25,153,000. Collections in any month reflect liability incurred on sales in the preceding month.

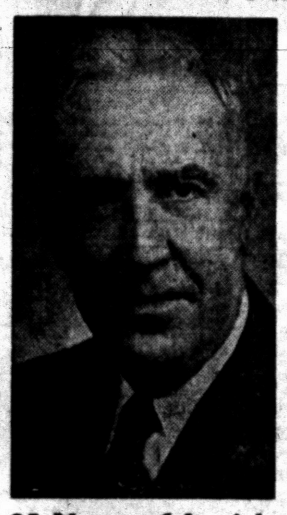

A farmer near Hamburg, Germany, tripped while out shooting and shot his foot. "First time I've hit anything alive in months," he confided to ambulance attendants.

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains held within narrow price limits on the Board of Trade today. After opening slightly easier, the market firmed a bit and some cereals got above the previous close.

Showery weather conditions again prevailed over much of the grain growing country including parts of the spring wheat belt. There wasn't much selling pressure based on the weather, however.

Grains also appeared to be ignoring development in the Suez Canal dispute, although grainmen were giving careful attention to that situation.

Early Trading in Market Dips

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market tilted downward early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

Pivotal stocks were off fractions to a point for the most part. Among special situations there were movements of 3 or 4 points either way.

Latest developments in the Suez Canal situation were depressing to International Oils. Tightening credit in the money market and other news items created some hesitancy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 30 cents to $190.80 with the industrials off 60 cents, the rails off 10 cents and the utilities unchanged.

'Hollywood Will Certainly Buy It'

No Great Moral Drama Gives Play Suspenseful, Moving Quality

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Television has often approached the problem of juvenile delinquency with polemic and sensationalism, but seldom if ever has it treated the subject as convincingly as in "Roar of the Lion" on the "Kaiser Aluminum Hour" (NBC-TV).

As presented Tuesday evening, this was one of the most suspenseful and yet thoughtful dramas of many months. Hollywood will certainly buy it. This "Aluminum Hour," by the way, appears every other Tuesday night and in its brief history has become one of the best regular dramatic programs on the air.

The strength of "Roar of the Lion" lay in the fact that it did not set out to be "about" juvenile delinquency. M. A. Ellis, the author, set up no great moral, but designed a moving and suspenseful story of terror tempered with human understanding. Under the production and direction of Franklyn Schaffner the drama moved swiftly and deftly.

* * *

Nancy Kelly, as the widowed mother of a charming young son who sought only serenity in an alien community, gave one of the best performances of her TV career. A great young actor appeared in the person of Clifford Tatum, a sadistic teen-age bully who made the life of mother and son a living hell until confronted by a gun in the mother's hand. All members of the cast gave superior performances.

* * *

Unlike many essays at the subject of youthful sadism and adult terror, "Roar of the Lion" was carefully motivated. It did not scatter its impact with vague moralizations, but simply focused on one youth and made the causes of his apparent psychopathy thoroughly convincing. The decision of the mother not to press the trigger of the .45 she held on the youth was not forced — but stemmed from her valiant efforts to understand the strange cruelty of another nature.

"Joe and Mabel," which made its debut on CBS-TV (Tuesday evenings) a few weeks ago should be an amusing situation comedy series under most of the recognized rules. It concerns a taxi driver, Joe, who each week finds reasons not to marry a beautician named Mabel whom he loves dearly.

One thought from one view is This: Comedy of character is elusive. But as a general maxim, the apparently dumb must emerge as extremely bright or the apparently bright as extremely dumb. In "Joe and Mabel," Larry Blyden and Nita Talbot are so obviously bright that asking them to play dumb is over-taxing human credence.

A Sunshiny New York Welcomes the Wilsons

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The "Veelsons" came home laughing.

Whipping across the Atlantic from London Airport to Idlewild, our Pan-American Stratocruiser unloaded us an hour ahead of schedule.

It was a hot sunshiny New York morning. It reminded Slugger of a tale we heard in Zurich. A citizen of Prague was wearing a raincoat on a very hot day.

"Why?" he was asked. "The sun is shining!"

MAURICE C. 1930, 1956

We saw Russia and nine other countries, traveling 12,000 miles. But a clipping from the Celina, Ohio, Standard—in my home country—informed me most forcefully that we were home again.

"An Ohioan," wrote Ted English, "took his daughter to New York, to a plush nitery. As she sat there demurely sipping her Coke, she said, 'Gee, daddy, this is really nice here.' He agreed it was nice and expensive. 'No,' she said, 'I mean I think it's nice that so many fathers here have brought their daughters with them.'"

Paris was once again Old Home Week . . . Sam Goldwyn, Sol Siegel and Clarence Brown from Hollywood . . . and swinging into the lobby of the Hotel George V, came Benny Gaines, the Boston boy who made good in Miami Beach with his big motel, the Sahara.

Sitting on the terrace with Maurice Chevalier, Don Sharpe of Hollywood, and Ted Mills from NBC, New York, we talked about "Paris, France, by Maurice Chevalier"— a TV spectacular being shot there all summer.

"Een the introduction," Chevalier told me, "I am going to say I am in love weeth Paris and that I'm 68 years old and that this is the last love affair I have left."

School May Lack Athletics, — but It Sure Packs Color

SAUGATUCK (AP)—It has no football or basketball team, but the 46-year-old summer school of painting at nearby Ox Bow includes 10 students on working scholarships.

* * *

Elsa Ulbricht, director of the school, says the working scholars have performed their tasks so well that some school "old timers" grumble about the picturesque old buildings and grounds being "too neat" and "lacking in atmosphere."

Atmosphere long has been a byword for the school, center of the Saugatuck area's attraction for a summer colony of artists.

* * *

Located at Ox Bow Bend on the Kalamazoo River just west of Saugatuck, the school buildings consist of historic old Ox Bow Inn—a former fishermen's hotel—and several shanties used for studies and a supply store.

* * *

Even new buildings, constructed to house an increasing enrollment, have been treated to a weather-beaten finish to keep them in tune with the others.

Students at the school this season range from 10 to 80 years old. They come from Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, New York, Ohio, Istanbul, Turkey, by way of the University of Missouri.

* * *

The scholarship list this summer includes Donna North, 17, of Flat Rock, a painting student recommended by the Flat Rock Parent-Teachers Assn. and her instructors at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

There are only 37 known signatures of Button Gwinnet, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, in existence and they bring fabulous prices. One recently brought $32,000.

Garden City Woman, 77, Killed in Auto Collision

DETROIT (AP) — A 77-year-old Garden City woman was killed last night by a car driven by Thomas A. Leschinsky, 25, an off-duty Detroit policeman.

Police said Leschinsky told them Mrs. Maude E. Hamilton walked into the path of his car at an intersection. He was released with orders to return today for questioning.

Mystery Beast Just a Shaved Saint Bernard

WOLF LAKE (AP)—This Muskegon County community has breathed easier since a "mystery beast" has been identified as a half-shaved, but friendly St. Bernard dog.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ferrier said their 2-year-old dog, "Reno," was shaved along the back and rear quarters for treatment of an infection.

The "mystery beast" reports sprang up this week as residents got only brief glimpses of "Reno" romping alone on late evening exercise jaunts.

MSU Summer Students Number 5,000 Exactly

EAST LANSING (AP) — An estimated 300 persons will enroll Monday in seven special workshops at Michigan State University.

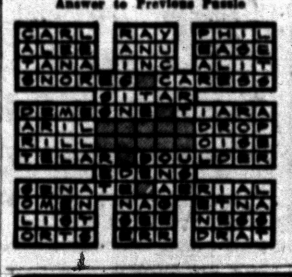

The workshops, intended primarily for teachers, will include the study of television, outdoor education, driver education and traffic safety, economic education and two devoted to vocational education.

Bob Considine Says:

Ike Meets Press, Newsmen Fire Big Guns

"Governor, the story around Washington is that you were selected by powers deep within the administration to head up the Stop-Nixon drive but they ran out on you when the opening salvo missed fire," I said.

"No," he said disarmingly, shaking his head. "I did this on my own, knowing the road would be rough. Nobody has backed out on me. Nobody was in with me in the first place. I didn't realize it would be as rough as it has been, but there's the consolation of knowing that the convention will now be an open one."

The President is as popular with White House correspondents as ever. He drew 311 at his first news conferenee since the intestinal operation, the same number he attracted in his first appearance after his heart attack of last September.

The questions were sharper, however, and the President plainly showed his impatience and even anger at the tone of some of them. But he didn't even blink when a reporter said his Gettysburg neighbors are wondering if he'll live through the next four years. The President replied calmly the GOP thought he would, and the rest was up to the voters. It was as rugged a question as was ever raised at a White House press conference, but it bespoke the curiosity of millions of Americans, and the President answered it with all the candor at his command.

If there were reporters there who hoped the President would lambast Stassen and say "I want Nixon and Nixon only" they came away emptyhanded. Nixon's candidacy certainly will be challenged. The President's attitude toward his 1956 running mate is that it would be presumptuous of him to choose one here and now, ". . . when I don't even know whether they'll nominate me."

There will be no public account of what took place during the series of tests of hydrogen and other atomic weapons at the Eniwetok Proving Ground, a man at the Atomic Energy Commission said today.

He said: "We're just sticking by what you fellows saw and wrote about when you were there, and guarded statements that the defensive aspects of nuclear weapons were tested as well as certain controls on radioactive fallout. That's all. The rest depends on what newspaper you read."

Then he paused and laughed, "Maybe I should add that we're not winning any prizes for candor."

Gen. Randolph M. Pate, commandant of the Marines, raised eyebrows here when he testified at the McKeon trial at Parris Island that his punishment for the sergeant who led six trainees to death in a swamp would have been to deprive him of a stripe.

That would leave McKeon 18 dead boots away from a stripeless arm, if this is to be the rate of exchange.

Herbert Hoover, who used to live around these parts, has had many thrills in his life, especially in that portion of it which began when President Truman brought him back into public service after years of serving as a political football. He will address the GOP convention at San Francisco, where he is almost certain to receive one of the top ovations of his life. His recommendations for rendering the fat of government bureaucracy have won wide praise. But the greatest kick he has had in years came the other day when he learned the name of the 1956 winner of the Hoover medal, one of the engineering profession's most distinguished honors. The winnah — Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr.

Theirs is a most touching father-son relationship. Last year the distinguished son visited his father in a California redwoods camp where some of us happened to be seated at the feet of the former president. Hoover stood up as his son appeared in the flickering light of the open fire. They embraced and brushed the others cheek with an unabashed kiss.
