United Fund Shoves Over Goal to Hit $489,037

Say Snyder Promoted 'Spy'

Senators Claim Glasser Advanced Despite Data

Hoover Tells Probers That He Opposed Truman Stand on Harry White

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators introduced evidence today that former Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder promoted Harold Glasser in 1946 after FBI reports had linked Glasser with Harry Dexter White in Soviet espionage.

Documents to this effect were put into the record of the Senate internal security subcommittee which yesterday heard FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover testify that he opposed—but bowed to—former President Truman's decision to keep White in the government.

Hoover declared too that moving White from assistant secretary of the treasury to U. S. director of the International Monetary Fund, as done by Truman, hampered the FBI in its investigation of White.

Truman, who had declared he took this action to avoid tipping off the investigation of a suspected Russian spy ring, had no comment on Hoover's testimony beyond saying: "I'm sure he told the truth."

And President Eisenhower declined at a news conference to make further comment on this specific case. He said he had spoken his last word, for the time being at least, on the White case.

Eisenhower said, however, that he hopes his administration's cleanup in Washington will eliminate the Communists-in-government issue from next year's congressional election campaign.

He said as he has before that Congress has a right to investigate as it sees fit.

This was in response to a question as to whether he had meant congressional committees should not continue their investigations along that line.

In a brief public session, the Senate internal security subcommittee cited an Aug. 22, 1946, letter Snyder wrote notifying Glasser that he was being appointed director of the Treasury Department's Monetary Research Division at a salary of $10,000 a year.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), the subcommittee chairman, said this was one of a number of "very serious letters" signed by Snyder.

Snyder had been invited to be present for today's hearing but sent word he could not arrange to come at this time.

Subcommittee Counsel Robert Morris pointed out that Glasser's appointment as director of the Monetary Research Division occurred after two summaries of FBI reports on Soviet espionage had been sent to the Treasury Department.

St. Louis Police Renew Inquiry

Hall Testimony Spurs Investigation of Missing $303,720 Ransom

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Spurred by disclosures at the Greenlease kidnap trial, top St. Louis police authorities are renewing their inquiry into the big mystery of the sensational case: What happened to the missing $303,720 in ransom money?

New questions were raised by the confession of kidnap-killer Carl Austin Hall, given to FBI agents and made public for the first time yesterday in the trial at Kansas City.

Hall said he had $592,000 of the $600,000 ransom in the room at the Town House apartment-hotel when he was arrested here Oct. 6. He had just completed an inventory of the money at the time, Hall said.

The confessed killer said also he was positive the two suitcases and a briefcase containing the ransom were not taken with him to the Newstead Avenue District Police Station immediately after his arrest.

These, and other portions of his confession, were in direct conflict with previous statements by resigned Police Lt. Louis Shoulders, who made the arrest.

Police Chief Jeremiah O'Connell wired federal officials at Kansas City with a request for a complete transcript of Hall's statement.

Estes to Quit House, Give Full Time to Infirmary

State Rep. Howard R. Estes (R-Birmingham) will resign from Michigan's Legislature Dec. 16 to give his full time to managing Oakland County Infirmary.

Estes, who was named manager of the 250-patient county institution July 1, has already resigned from several legislative committees.

The 59-year-old representative announced his resignation, effective Dec. 16, in a letter Tuesday to Wade Van Valkenburg, speaker of Michigan House of Representatives.

REP. HOWARD R. ESTES

Estes' resignation will close a nine-year legislative career in which he has been re-elected four times.

It could also leave Oakland Oakland County's 3rd district without a representative until the November 1954 elections.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams will decide whether to call a special election to fill out the unexpired term, Estes said.

Now in his fifth term as the 3rd district's voice in the state legislature, Estes has sponsored bills on matters ranging from libraries to public safety.

Under public health, he sponsored legislation calling for state-

Harrelson Case in Court Today

Examination Continues After Witness Demands Chance to Testify

The examination of Leaun Harrelson Jr., 18, of 26 Delaware Dr., who is appearing in Pontiac Municipal Court on a negligent homicide charge, was continued this afternoon after being adjourned this morning.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor asked Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan to approve an adjournment to Dec. 2 since three "important witnesses" were unable to attend today's hearing.

Judge Finnegan adjourned the examination, then later decided to continue it this afternoon since one witness was not called to testify after he was told to appear at the examination.

Ronald C. McIlroy of 92 Oliver St. complained he was instructed to wait "until I was called, because I can't afford to take off again from my $35-a-day job."

Two patrolmen, Deputy County Coroner Dr. Edward Collins and a school teacher, Mrs. Eugene D. Carey of 405 W. Iroquois Rd. testified this morning. Taylor requested the adjournment after Mrs. Carey said that her husband is ill in a hospital and would not be available for the hearing. She said he is expected to be released in about a week.

Taylor also requested the adjournment date be extended one week beyond the Dec. 2 date, if he is called to appear at a "tentatively planned" extradition case in California.

Harrelson is charged in the death of Mrs. Veda H. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave., who was hit by his car on W. Huron St. at Dwight Ave., Oct. 9.

President Receives 50 Millionth Phone

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's 50 millionth telephone in service will be installed for President Eisenhower in his White House office today. Around the base are 48 gold stars, one for each state. The presidential seal takes the place of the number plate, and the dial and numerals are finished in gold. A presentation inscription is on the instrument.

Cleo F. Craig, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., makes the presentation to Eisenhower.

Kidnap-Slaying Trial Nears End in Kansas City

Jury Will Decide Only Life Sentence or Death for Hall and Heady

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) —A jury of 12 men hears the last of the evidence today in the government case to send kidnap-murderers Carl Austin Hall and Bonnie Brown Heady to death in the gas chamber.

U. S. Attorney Edward L. Scheufler said he expected to call "two or three" minor witnesses when court resumes today in the trial to determine whether Hall and Mrs. Heady shall pay with their lives for the kidnaping and slaying of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Attorneys for the two defendants, who have confessed their crime and pleaded guilty, indicated they would call only a few witnesses.

The trial to decide the penalty under the Lindbergh kidnap law possibly could go to the jury late today.

Emotion in the crowded courtroom in Kansas City's federal building reached a new pitch late Tuesday when Mrs. Robert Greenlease sat and testified within 25 feet of the man and woman who kidnaped and murdered her son with cold premeditation last Sept. 28.

Not once did Mrs. Greenlease look at Hall and Mrs. Heady. She kept her eyes on the jury while she told how she tried to get positive evidence from Hall by telephone that Bobby was alive.

All she got were evasive answers. At the time, Bobby already had been shot to death and buried in a shallow grave in Mrs. Heady's yard at St. Joseph, Mo.

The primly-dressed Mrs. Heady, who had slumped down in her chair and appeared drowsy during Tuesday's session, grew suddenly erect when Mrs. Greenlease took the stand. She stared intently at the bereaved mother during the eight minutes she testified.

Mrs. Greenlease said she talked to Hall by telephone early Oct. 4 and asked him to ask Bobby two questions which would prove Hall had the boy and he was alive.

Hall later telephoned back and Mrs. Greenlease asked whether he had the answers to the questions. He didn't.

Hunting Toll in State: 2 Dead, 24 Wounded

By UNITED PRESS

Michigan's deer hunting toll stood at two hunters killed by gunfire and at least 24 others wounded today.

In addition, one sportsman died of a heart attack and another succumbed to pneumonia contracted while hunting.

The latest wounding victim as the 1953 season entered its fourth day was Robert M. Grieves, 48, Detroit. He was shot in the shoulder by an unidentified hunter.

Warm Weather Will Continue Here Thursday

The record-smashing warm weather is expected to linger in the Pontiac area at least one more day, with a high of 64 to 68 degrees forecast for Thursday.

Yesterday the mercury rose to 70 degrees shortly after 2 p.m., three degrees higher than the record for Nov. 17 set in 1928. Monday's 68 degrees established a new high for Nov. 16.

Increasing cloudiness tonight and Thursday is predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau. A low of from 45 to 48 degrees is due tonight. Yesterday's low was 46.

The mercury soared into the 60s today for the fifth consecutive day, with a reading of 65 degrees at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac. The 8 a.m. reading was 41.

Lost Girl Found Near Her Home

21-Year-Old Farmer's Daughter Is Unharmed; No Explanation

ST. JOHNS, Mich. (AP)—Pretty, 21-year-old Mary Lou Henning was back home today, unharmed after having been missing three days and without an explanation of why she ran away.

Sheriff Percy J. Patterson, of Clinton County, said he hoped to get the explanation today.

Daughter of a well-to-do farmer, Mary Lou was found last night in a hog shed two miles from her rural home.

Patterson said he learned the girl left home of her own accord Sunday, although it was feared for a time she might have been abducted, and that she had hidden out since in the neighborhood.

Mary Lou was missed from her home early Sunday. An asthma sufferer, she was known to have taken night walks when she couldn't sleep. Her mother alerted authorities at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

A posse of more than 100 neighbors and officers joined to comb the area Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

With most law enforcement officers gone home for their first sleep in days, three volunteer possemen spotted a girl crawling out of a pig shed on the Kenneth Heibeck Farm.

The three, Robert Cole and Bert and Bob Walling, summoned a deputy sheriff. They rushed her to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Henning, who live three miles east and south of St. Johns.

Sheriff Patterson said the family hadn't volunteered why she left, and they hadn't asked.

Air Force to Investigate

Fifteen Killed, Eleven Hurt as 'Flying Boxcar' Crashes

FORT BRAGG, N. C. (UP)—An Air Force board arrives today to investigate the crash of a C-119 "flying boxcar" which slashed through a mass drop of hundreds of paratroopers, killing 15 men and injuring 11.

All but one of the plane's "stick" of 40 paratroopers leaped to safety Tuesday as the big craft whipped in a tight turn to avoid billowing parachutes and then plunged to earth.

The pilot, who heroically stayed with his plane to guide it away from the jump, three crew members and one paratrooper died as the C-119 plowed into a pine forest and burned.

Pfc. Charley Mallory, 20, Detroit, was among the 10 paratroopers killed by the huge plane as it plunged to earth.

The Air Force ordered a board of inquiry from Lawton Air Force Base, Calif., here to investigate the cause of the crash.

The sudden tragedy came as 23 "flying boxcars" began mass drop maneuvers over a drop zone in a remote area of this huge military base. The planes were carrying 40 members each of the famed 82nd Airborne Division and the XVIII Corps.

Eyewitnesses said the twin-engined plane seemed to lose speed and dropped out of the formation, cutting through the paratroopers as they spilled from the planes ahead.

Sgt. Jessie Errington, jumpmaster from Newport News, Va., stayed by his post until all his 20 paratroopers leaped from the falling craft. Then he jumped from a height of about 300 feet.

The jumpmaster said he ran to the downed C-119 and saw the pilot's body lying outside the smashed debris. Rescue crews found the bodies of three other crew members and of Capt. Adam G. Meischer, Fayetteville, N. C., ranking paratroop officer, in the plane. He had waited until his men were safely out.

Voting Revision Read 1st Time

Ordinance Would Add 9 Precincts in Pontiac to Relieve Crowding

Pontiac City Commission last night gave first reading to an ordinance adding nine new voting precincts here.

About 11,000 persons will be affected by the change and will be notified by card, according to City Clerk Ada R. Evans.

Present precincts marked for boundary revisions include 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 15, 16, 19, 30, 31, 32, and 35. Only a portion of voters in each precinct will need to change registration, Mrs. Evans said.

The move is necessary to relieve strain on some of the city's 35 precincts which were overloaded during the last presidential election, the city clerk explained.

More to Come, Say Workers in Local Drive

Near $2,000 Above '53 Aim With Last Year Topped by $50,000

Pontiac Area United Fund sailed "over the top" today.

Late returns still being posted on campaign books shoved the total-to-date to $489,037 this morning—nearly $2,000 over the drive's $487,200 goal.

And United Fund staff workers report more money is still to come in.

This year's united drive made fund-raising history in Pontiac, with a total yield some $50,000 above the $438,000 raised last year—a record at that time.

"The volunteers who took part in this year's drive have done the most outstanding work I can remember," Dwight S. Adams, United Fund executive director, said today. "It was an A-1 enthusiastic job all around."

Under general chairmanship of Mayor Arthur J. Law, Pontiac and Waterford joined in a united drive this year for the first time.

Close to 5,000 volunteers pounded pavements, knocked on doors, and took the "UF story" into every store, business, factory, home and school in Pontiac and Waterford during the past few weeks. And the effort paid off.

The industrial division's factories and workers welcomed solicitors with gifts of $336,729 to push their division, headed by Earl A. Maxwell, some $14,000 past its $322,700 goal.

Second to "top goal" this year was the geographical division, headed by Mrs. E. L. Bradley, with Mrs. Donald Weaver of Waterford as co-chairman.

The division's workers walked, rode and drove hundreds of miles to collect $15,522 on a goal of $14,000.

Commercial division workers, led by Frank S. Lyndall, were just a few thousand dollars from their $129,000 goal today. The total raised was $121,786, 94 per cent of quota.

The other $15,000 came from Detroit United Foundation canvassing in the Birmingham-Bloomfield-Franklin area.

The Detroit work is expected to yield another few thousand for the local United Fund when returns are audited.

United Fund staff today was preparing to return to the permanent offices in the National Building, 10 W. Huron St., forsaking the campaign headquarters in Hotel Pontiac which has been "home" during the drive—sometimes for 16 hours a day. All returns should be in within a week or so, and a final accounting of all money raised will follow, said the staff.

Allies Now Hold Initiative in Cold War, Says Dulles

CLEVELAND (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today Russian rulers have refused to talk with the West about European problems because of fear for their control over peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

"The Soviet rulers have retreated into a diplomatic defensive," the secretary declared. "The free world now has the diplomatic and moral initiative."

Dulles, in a speech prepared for the annual convention of the CIO, said he hoped the free nations would "sustain that initiative by being ready to talk about any concrete point of difference—whether it be in Europe or in Asia, or whether it be in relation to armament."

But he cautioned that a desire to confer with the Russians "should not lead us to confer where the only probable result would be an apparent moral approval of the Kremlin's rule over the peoples of 15 once-independent nations."

Dulles said it is his belief that the examples of progress and accomplishment in the free world would ultimately cause the collapse of Soviet control over what he called "the captive world front." He said it is neither necessary nor desirable "that we should try to foment violent revolution."

It was in this connection that Dulles claimed a clear victory for

Low Bids on Pembroke School Well Under Cost Estimate

$572,618 Total Pleases Board

Contract Proposals Go to Architects for Study and Suggestions

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—Board of Education members got a pleasant surprise last night when low bids taken on the proposed Pembroke School totaled $572,618, well below the estimated $637,500.

Bid taking has been a sad experience for board members recently with most of the proposed additions and schools in the $1,000,000 building program coming in higher than estimated costs.

Supt. of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland stated that the actual cost of the school which will serve the northeast section of the city probably will exceed the estimate when a six per cent architect's fee, equipment and landscaping, and $18,961 for sewage facilities are added.

The school board has reached an agreement for providing water sanitary and storm sewer facilities jointly with two land developers, the Presbyterian Board of Church Extensions, Troy Township and Birmingham, but actual signing of it has been delayed.

The bids were accepted by the board and turned over to architects for study and recommendation.

Party Attracted 6,400 Children

Halloween Chairman Notes '1,000 Per Cent Improvement'

BIRMINGHAM — An estimated 6,400 children attended this year's Halloween party, Roland Reese, Halloween party chairman told Recreation Board members last night.

Basic route changes, which saw the parade end on Woodward near Merrill, a larger and better lighted area constituted a "1,000 per cent improvement," according to Reese.

One of the "bugs" to iron out next year will be use of the city's road sweeper to gather debris before Woodward is opened to traffic again.

Following a request from Dr. Robert J. Mason, the board instructed Frank Whitney, recreation director, to attempt to fit two half-hour periods a week into the swimming schedule, for therapeutic treatment of polio patients within the school district.

Approval rests with the school board and a statement from Dr. W. Lloyd Kemp, city health officer, on whether health of other users of the pool would be jeopardized. If approved, patients will be required to release the board from any obligation and pay for supervision.

Solons Say Snyder Promoted Glasser

der said, "I want you to point out that the record clearly shows that within approximately 18 months after I became head of the Treasury Department and its 116,000 employes, to the best of my knowledge, all suspected subversives were separated from the department and none has been found, so I am advised, in the department since I left."

Snyder became secretary of the treasury in June 1946.

While saying he could not be present today, he told Jenner in the telegram that "I shall of course be happy to furnish your committee any facts in my possession which you desire and to answer any questions you or your committee may wish to ask me."

The telegram was sent from Toledo. Snyder is now an official of an automobile manufacturing concern there.

Glasser was a witness before the Senate investigating unit last April 14. He refused then, on the grounds of possible self-incrimination, to say whether he was a Communist or whether he had engaged in espionage activities while working for the government.

Snyder's letter of Aug. 22, 1946, first was placed in the subcommittee's record when Glasser testified last April.

In reoffering it today, Morris stressed that Hoover had testified yesterday that two FBI summaries on Soviet espionage had been sent to the treasury prior to Glasser's appointment.

Atty. Gen. Brownell also told the Senate probers yesterday that an FBI report described Glasser "as an active member of the espionage ring." He also referred to Glasser as "a close subordinate and associate of White."

Morris said the records show that in July 1946 Glasser attended an UNRRA conference in Geneva as a member of the U. S. delegation; that in January 1947 Glasser participated in a four-power study of the economy of Trieste, and that in the spring of 1947 Glasser went to Moscow as an adviser to former Secretary of State Marshall at a meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

Also reintroduced by Morris were letters first put in the subcommittee record last April about Glasser's resignation from the Treasury Department, effective Dec. 31, 1947.

In one letter dated Dec. 26, 1947, Snyder wrote Glasser that he was accepting his resignation with regret. The letter continued:

"You have been associated with the treasury for a long period of time, and I am fully aware of the many valuable contributions you have made in the monetary field. It is gratifying to know that your treasury experience has been pleasant and interesting and I am sorry that circumstances have led you to seek connections outside of the government. I wish to assure you that we will miss the fine work you have done here."

Still another letter of Snyder's, dated Dec. 26, 1947, was addressed to H. L. Lurie, executive director of the Council of Jewish Federations and Welfare Funds, Inc., of New York City.

This was the organization with which Glasser went to work after leaving the treasury.

In the letter, Snyder said of Glasser, "We have relied heavily on his judgment, his estimate of situations, and his recommendations, and I regret his devision to leave the government service is depriving us of him."

Pontiac Policemen Support Their Chief

Local law officers demonstrated support for Police Chief Herbert W. Straley against charges filed against him with the Police Trial Board, in a letter received by the Pontiac City Commission last night.

The statement, from the Pontiac Police Officers' Association, cited the officers' confidence in Straley and promised to "uphold and support" him.

Charges have been lodged with the Police Trial Board by Milton R. Henry, a Pontiac attorney, alleging that Straley has failed to exercise proper restraint over actions of police officers.

the United States, Britain and France in their diplomatic exchange with Russia, beginning last July, over their proposal for a Big Four foreign ministers meeting to unify Germany and establish Austria's independence. In a note Nov. 3 the Russians in effect rejected the specific proposal, insisting that first there must be agreement to meet with the Chinese Communists on world problems, and that the Western nations must abandon their joint defense arrangements.

Dulles said that the real truth is that "that the Soviet rulers are preoccupied with the mood of the captive workers" in Eastern Europe. Alluding to anti-Soviet rioting, he said:

"The events of last June, in Eastern Germany and East Berlin, show that the workers were being exploited to the breaking point.

"The fact that the Soviet rulers now refuse to meet to discuss European problems is not a sign of strength, but of fear.

"They dare not admit of a prospect of greater liberty anywhere behind the Iron Curtain, lest restiveness increase everywhere behind that curtain. So, they slammed the door on a European conference and started diversionary talks about our being buddies with aggressor China."

There will be giants in the streets of Pontiac Dec. 5.

Trumpeters 15 feet tall, a clown who stands five yards high in his stocking feet, and musicians twice the height of Pontiac's tallest people are due to march in Pontiac's annual Christmas parade.

The king-size balloon figures, which drew "ohs" and "ahs" from the city's youngsters last year, will be part of a mile-long procession to officially welcome Santa Claus to Pontiac.

The balloon beings will bring along a series of outsize toys that would make it pretty crowded under any local Christmas tree.

Felix the Cat and his family, Humpty Dumpty, a diesel engine, and a toy mouse float are a few of the other balloon units scheduled to march that morning.

The Christmas parade is set for 9:30 a.m.

Parade route is Saginaw Street. "Admission" is free.

FELIX THE CAT—One of the big balloon figures scheduled to appear in Pontiac's Christmas Parade Dec. 5 is an overgrown "Felix the Cat," who looks as though he might take a sizable chunk out of any family's milk budget. The annual parade, set for 9:30 a. m., will officially welcome Santa Claus to Pontiac.

McCarthy Asks Better Air Spot

Will Answer Truman Blast That the Name Is Not Honorable

BOSTON (UP)—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) has turned down as "not adequate" a radio time offer to reply to former President Truman's reference to him.

McCarthy asked the "same time and facilities" used by Truman Monday night in a talk on the Harry Dexter White case.

Truman made a reference to "McCarthyism" in his radio-television broadcast.

The National Broadcasting Co. said it wired McCarthy an offer of time.

The American Broadcasting Co. offered its facilities to McCarthy from 11 to 11:30 p.m. (EST) next Monday.

There was no comment from other major radio and TV networks.

Truman said in his speech: "It is now evident that the present administration has fully embraced, for political advantage, McCarthyism. I am not referring to the senator from Wisconsin—he is only important in that his name has taken on a dictionary meaning in the world.

"That meaning is the corruption of truth, the abandonment of our historical devotion to fair play. It is the abandonment of the 'due process' of law."

McCarthy is in Boston with his investigating subcommittee for a hearing into the activities of some General Electric workers.

wide pasteurization of dairy products, reorganization of Michigan Mental Health Department, and creation of the Hospital Survey and Construction Office to provide for the use of federal matching funds for Michigan hospitals.

Rep. Estes is known in educational circles for sponsoring bills to permit community colleges, easier consolidation of rural school districts and financial help for school districts in the teaching of handicapped children.

Another Estes-sponsored bill was the one authorizing school districts short of cash to borrow against future state aid payments.

The bill which let Southfield, Bloomfield, Troy and Farmington townships ban hunting and another to establish and maintain standard water levels in this county's lakes were also sponsored by Rep. Estes.

In 1951 Estes was voted one of the 10 top legislators in Michigan by newsmen covering the legislature.

LANSING (UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today proclaimed Nov. 23 as Anti-Defamation League Day in commemoration of the 40th anniversary of the organization.

REP. GEORGE A. DONDERO

A recognized authority on Abraham Lincoln, Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) will speak on "Lincoln at Gettysburg," tomorrow when he is guest speaker at the Presbyterian Men's Club dinner at 6:45 p. m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Birmingham. Tomorrow is the ninetieth anniversary of the day Lincoln gave his famous speech.

3 Youths Hurt in Auto Crash

Car Hurls Embankment, Sends Young Occupants to Hospital

Three youths were injured this morning when their auto hurtled an enbankment in Pontiac Township and wedged itself off the ground between two trees, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

The injured were Herman E. Wells, 20, of 3998 Oakshore St., Berkley, the driver; Gilbert W. Theriault, 25, of 849 Miles St.; and Robert Fred Wilson, 20, of 261 Harrison St., both passengers.

All were admitted to Pontiac General Hospital and are reported in fair condition today.

Wells suffered a fractured ankle, multiple face cuts and an arm injury. Wilson received a fractured jaw, multiple cuts, bruises and concussion, and Theriault sustained head cuts and chest bruises.

A witness to the accident, Raymond Burt of 4495 Homesite, Orion Township, told Deputy Harry Jones that the youths' auto flashed past him and went out of control. There was no other traffic on the road, Burt told the deputy.

Jones said the youths were thrown from the car after the impact.

Ike Would Keep Red Issue From Next Campaign

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower said today he hopes his administration's cleanup in Washington will eliminate the Communist-in-government issue from next year's political campaign.

The President told a news conference he has said his last word, at least for the time being, on the Harry Dexter White case.

Then, in a generalization in response to questions, he said he does not believe Americans can afford to live in fear of each other forever.

He said he cheerfully acknowledges the responsibility of the executive departments to clean Communists out of the government.

Progress along this line had been demonstrated by a recent report of the separation of 1,450 persons from the federal payroll for security reasons, he added.

Waterford Fire Victim in Critical Condition

The condition of Richard E. Green, 28, of 6157 Rowley St., Waterford Township, is still critical today, according to Pontiac General Hospital.

Green was severely burned yesterday morning when the family home burned after an oil stove explosion. Green's wife, Mary, 20, died in the flaming building. Their daughter, Sharon Lee, 14 months, who was rescued by Green, is reported in fair condition today.

Boy Hurt as School Bus Backs Out of Driveway

Richard Thompson, 5, of Walled Lake was injured yesterday when a school bus backed out of a drive and knocked the boy down as he was getting mail from a roadside mail box, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Richard, son of Charles Thompson of 4101 Haggerty Rd., was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a fractured arm.

Adds to Heart Research

LONDON (INS) — A machine which will do the work of the human heart and lungs has been developed in Britain. Its inventor, Dr. D. G. Melrose, described the device as a "mechanical heart-lung for use in man" in the current issue of the British Medical journal.

AWOL Youth Held in Breakin

James King, 17, to Be Sentenced Nov. 27 for October Burglary

A Waterford Township youth, twice absent without leave this year from the Air Force, will be sentenced Nov. 27 for an October breakin of a Waterford school, according to Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor James G. Hartrick.

James J. King, 17, of 2886 Lansdowne, was arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Merrill Finkle Saturday, just two days after the youth escaped from a Selfridge Air Force Base guard house.

The off-duty deputy arrested King on a breaking and entering charge after he saw the youth board a bus on Huron street in Waterford Township.

Just a few hours earlier Finkle and Deputy Harry Jones were summoned to Waterford Township High School by the maintenance man, Edward Morearty of 2100 Pompey.

Morearty said a boy who gave his name as James King had been found in the school, but escaped, taking about $2 from a coin machine.

Hartrick said King had been allowed to return to service after he pleaded guilty Oct. 30 in Oakland County Circuit Court to breaking into the Waterford Township High School Oct. 21 and taking $32.75.

The court had delayed sentencing King until Nov. 27 to determine whether he would readjust himself to life in the service, Hartrick said, and if King had complied with the court wishes his sentence would have been suspended indefinitely.

King, who once received an honorable discharge from the paratroops because he was under age, will be under federal probation for four years unless he can complete four years of honorable service with the Air Force according to his mother, Mrs. Jeanette King.

The pending probation stems from an arrest earlier this year by federal authorities after King and another youth drove a stolen motocycle across four state lines on their way home for an unauthorized leave from the Air Force in Texas, Mrs. King said.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Mary K. Green

The body of Mrs. Mary K. Green, 20, of 6157 Rowley St. in Waterford Township is at the Pursley Funeral Home. Arrangements are pending because of the serious condition of her husband, Richard, in Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Green died when a fire broke out in their home Tuesday morning. She was a member of First Christian Church.

Born in Pontiac May 26, 1933 she was the daughter of the late John F. Hall and Mrs. Vada E. Lohr of 635 E. Tennyson St. in Pontiac.

Besides her husband and mother, she is survived by a daughter, Sharon Lee, who also is in the hospital suffering from burns. Others surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Evelyn LaPointe and Mrs. Dolores Bowling of Monroe, and Mrs. Shirley Dusseau of Blissfield.

Lake Orion Baby Hurt in Tumble From Auto

A two-year-old Lake Orion boy was injured yesterday when he fell from his parents' moving auto on M24, two miles north of Pontiac, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

James V. Pickard, son of Caleb Pickard of 1354 Scripps Rd., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for multiple bruises.

Do Not Shoot That 'Mad' Dog

Pasteur Institute Head Prefers Animal Alive for Observation

ANN ARBOR—Don't shoot that mad dog!

Dr. William S. Preston, director of the University of Michigan's chances for diagnosing rabies are immeasurably greater if the dog is brought in alive.

If you have been bitten, or if you discover a mad dog on the prowl in the neighborhood don't obey your first impulse and start firing away at the animal. Call the police or humane society.

The situation is altered, of course, if the animal is attacking a victim viciously. In such a case, immediate destruction of the dog may be unavoidable.

Lab technicians have a better chance of discovering Negri bodies in an animal which has died of the disease than in one which has been killed before the disease has taken its course.

Negri bodies, named after the Italian physician, Adelchi Negri, are small structures signaling the presence of the rabies virus.

Dr. Preston says that controlled laboratory observation gives every one a break. If the suspected dog is shot before diagnosed as rabid, he may have been destroyed needlessly. And the victim may have undergone the strenuous Pasteur treatment needlessly.

For those who are anxious about the Pastueur treatment, Dr. Preston has some reassuring words. Despite rather bad publicity, the treatment has a good record.

Only 20 per cent of those treated suffer "some" reaction, and this is confined usually to an uncomfortable local experience, much like the annoying tetanus shot in the muscle.

What should you do if you have been bitten? First, make a genuine effort to turn the suspected dog over to the authorities alive.

Second, pay close attention to the circumstances of the bite and be able to describe these accurately. For example, was the dog provoked, or did he go wild and attack you?

Is the dog normally nippy, or did the bite evidence a radical change in his normal behavior? Was the animal unsteady on his feet, with his jaw hanging, displaying signs of paralysis?

Third, use plenty of soap and water on the wound. Dr. Preston maintians that this is the most effective immediate prophylaxis against contamination.

Fourth, after informing the authorities and after using a liberal amount of soap and water, call your physician. Describe all the circumstances of the bite. He may want to see you; he may not, depending upon what you tell him.

In any case, he should be alerted to the possibilities of a positive diagnosis of rabies in the animal.

The incident of rabies is higher in early spring than in fall. dogs like humans, have their bad days; we all are irritable and hot under the collar in the summer. There may be more bites during "dog days," but not a higher incident of rabies.

Don't worry about that dog bite, and don't change your mode of living simply because you've been bitten. And by all means, don't shoot that mad dog unless it is absolutely necessary!

50 Beneficiaries to Draw Lots for Man's Property

DETROIT (AP) — Personal effects of the late Carl F. Clarke, 79-year-old art and archeological collector, will be split by lot among more than 50 friends. And it'll be done, under terms of his will, at a downtown hotel party.

Clarke put the guest list in his will and specified dinner and refreshments were to be served. Guests will claim personal effects by numbers, to be drawn from a hat. And they'll pick up their choices at the party.

Pressure at Big 3 Meeting Heavy for U.S. President

By PHIL NEWSOM
U.P. Foreign News Editor

The Big Three meeting in Bermuda, Dec. 4, provides a shining example of the enormous pressures which work on the President of the United States.

Many, like taxes, are hidden.

These are day-to-day pressures which occur in so-called peace time.

They have none of the drama which accompanied President Truman's decision to drop the atom bomb on Hiroshima nor his decision to order Gen. Douglas MacArthur's outnumbered troops to battle the Reds in Korea.

But they are the pressures which fall on the most powerful man in the world . . . whose decisions affect not only the people of the United States but hundreds of millions elsewhere.

The Bermuda meeting of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and Premier Joseph Laniel will, in the fullest sense, be global.

Only those three men will sit at the top-level meetings, but sitting at their elbows will be the shadows of West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, Premier Guiseppe Pella of Italy, President Tito of Yugoslavia, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and even, or perhaps most of all, Russia's Georgi Malenkov.

Churchill and Laniel are impelled to this meeting because their own policies must in large part be determined by decisions which only the President of the United States can reach.

Without access to any inside information, it still is easy to reel off nearly a dozen subjects which the Big Three must discuss. For example:

* * *

United States economic aid to Europe and Asia, withdrawal of U.S. troops from Western Europe, final settlement of Trieste, whether to hold a Big Four meeting with Russia, the European Army plan, the pros and cons on the matter of recognizing Red China, atomic information exchange, Korea and the Western attitude should the Korean political conference end in failure, pursuit of the Indochina war, the Austrian and German peace treaties.

* * *

The world situation being what it is, a decision on no one of these can be taken without the United States and without United States leadership.

Complicating the situation further are the pressures and personal ambitions behind each man involved.

Churchill is almost obsessed with the idea that some kind of a meeting with the Russian is a necessity. London dispatches have said he will go alone to meet Russian Premier Malenkov, if he can get a green light from Eisenhower.

Laniel has behind him the pressure of weariness at home with the Indochina war, and the approaching election of a French president.

Adenauer and Pella, shadows at the meeting, have behind them the internal pressures demanding settlement on favorable terms of the Saar and Trieste, small but red hot territories taken from Germany and Italy respectively after World War II.

Beyond that is the pressure of the world's millions of ill-fed, ill-clad and ill-housed who are the balance of power in the struggle between the free and the Communist world and whose future must, in large part, depend on the man in the White House.

And, finally, over and above it all, and despite the pressures, the President must decide what is best for the United States.

Probe Into GE Opens at Boston

McCarthy's Committee Looking Into Possible Subversion at Plants

BOSTON (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) convened his permanent investigations subcommittee in Boston today to look into possible subversion in General Electric plants in nearby Lynn and Everett.

At least 18 GE workers have been summoned to testify at a closed hearing. Two of them identified themselves as Nathaniel Mills, 36, and Robert Goodwin, 38.

They said in a joint statement they intend to invoke the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination when questioned before the committee.

* * *

"Despite the threats to our jobs and livelihoods," they said, "we shall not cooperate in gutting the Constitution of the United States as McCarthy is doing in his efforts to terrorize his political opponents."

McCarthy said on his arrival here from New York last night that today's hearing may have a link with his investigation of possible spy activities at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

"The entire picture here," he said, "is a by-product of our findings at Ft. Monmouth."

* * *

He did not elaborate but said he will call a public hearing in Boston as soon as "it is feasible."

The General Electric Co., one of the nation's key defense firms, said in a statement from Schenectady last night that its security measures often exceed government standards.

Will Discuss Use of Telescope Here

Astronomers, both professional and amateur, and everyone interested in the stars, are invited to attend a meeting at Cranbrook Institute of Science at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 19.

Dr. William Liller of the Astronomy Department of the University of Michigan will speak on "What the 20 inch telescope of the Pontiac-Northwest Detroit Astronomers Observatory will mean to you."

There will be no admission charge. The meeting is under auspices of the Pontiac-Northwest Detroit Astronomers Assn. The association owns land in the northern part of Pontiac on which it plans to build an observatory. Science students, both old and young, are invited.

Miss America of 1943 Weds in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss America of 1943 is now Mrs. Don Norton.

The former Jean Bartel, 29, was married last night to a former Navy commander. Norton, 36, of Reseda, operates an auto body shop in Beverly Hills.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Bartelmeh of Westwood. Her husband is the son of Mrs. Mary Norton, Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., who came here for the ceremony.

The marriage rite was performed in Westwood Community Methodist Church by the Rev. Lewis E. Durham, pastor.

Cat's Influence Gives Burglar 'Nine Lives'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It must have been the tom cat who gave a young burglar suspect "nine lives."

The cat howled. That awoke a neighbor. She saw the youth bolt from a darkened shoe store and called police.

The police shot at the youth when he refused to halt. When finally captured the police counted 11 bullet holes in his trousers and four in his straw hat.

Protein Costs Vary

WASHINGTON (INS) — Protein eaten in steak costs nearly $6 a pound. In fluid milk it runs about $3 a pound. And in soy flour the protein cost ranges from 10 cents to 25 cents a pound. These relative costs were determined by the United States Department of Agriculture by selecting the amount of protein in a pound of each of the three foods, and applying current market prices.

URGES CIO-AFL PEACE—CIO chief Walter Reuther, above, called on the 700 delegates to the CIO 15th Constitutional Convention meeting in Cleveland to "approve by unanimous action" an agreement that would ban membership raids between rival unions of the CIO and AFL.

Chinese Commies Teach Russian and English, Too

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have ruled that English is a necessary language in the world today and therefore will be taught in high schools right along with Russian.

It is necessary for political as well as academic reasons to learn English, the Ministry of Education said in a recent order. But the government department envisioned the day when Russian would be taught universally, permitting a reduction in the number of English classes.

Good Work Field

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (INS)—Anyone planning to enter college and looking for an uncrowded field to specialize in might well think of becoming a veterinarian. Dr. Leon F. Whitney, a Yale University pathologist and a verterinarian, says: "There are only 17,000 veterinarians in America to look after the health of 81 million cattle, 56 million swine, 38 million sheep, 7 million horses and mules, 22 million dogs, perhaps as many cats and no one knows how many pets of other species."

Co-op Tax Fight Looms

One of the political certainties of the next session of Congress is a lively fight over taxation of farm co-operatives.

Under present law co-operatives pay no Federal taxes on earnings that are distributed to members, whether in cash, stock certificates of indebtedness or by bank allocation.

Except for these exemptions, co-ops point out they pay all taxes, including some corporation taxes, under the same laws and at the same rates as other businesses.

One of the leaders in the fight for more taxes on co-operatives is Rep. Mason, Illinois Republican. On the same side of the fence are several organizations led by the National Tax Equality Association and the National Associated Businessmen.

★ ★ ★

Groups opposing heavier co-op tax are led by the Co-operative League of the U. S. and the National Council of Farmer Co-operatives.

Bureau of Labor statistics for 1951, the latest available, show that 9,977 farm co-operatives with 7,054,568 members did a net business of $8,103,668,000.

According to Farm Credit Administration figures there were 249 farmer co-ops with 183,000 members operating in Michigan. Their total net volume of business that year is reported as $240,960,000.

★ ★ ★

It has been estimated that exemptions enjoyed by all co-ops and related groups in the country cost the Treasury a billion a year in revenue. The impending income tax cut and expiration of the excess profits levy undoubtedly will strengthen the hand of those who want to eliminate the co-ops exemption.

This newspaper always has felt that exemptions granted co-operatives were unfair to the taxpaying businesses with which they are in direct competition. Why should a co-op be given tax advantages against others who are struggling to render the same services?

Although the United Nations is eight years old, it seems it hasn't yet learned its ABCs, as it hasn't discarded its blocs.

Literary Hoax Bared

In the sudden transformation of the biography of a British agent into a dramatic bit of war time fiction lies the story of an amazing literary hoax.

The biography, written by Quentin Reynolds and just published by Random House, purports to be the story of George DuPre, under the title of "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk." A condensation of the book appears in the November issue of the Reader's Digest.

The hoax was revealed when the Calgary Herald, a newspaper published in his home town, found that DuPre knew nothing of British Intelligence work. Documentary evidence also was found showing that DuPre was in Canada at the time the book said he was doing heroic undercover work in France and suffering Nazi torture.

Besides Reynolds, the publishers of the book and Reader's Digest, several Toronto businessmen have extremely red faces. All were convinced the story was true, as no doubt many were who read the condensation.

DuPre, who is the manager of a chemical firm in the Alberta city, doesn't just know why he faked the story. It just grew, he said, after he began telling it in 1946.

The literary world lost a potential genius because something prevented DuPre from learning how to write as absorbing fiction as his hoax proves he can tell.

U. N. to Probe Atrocities

Russia suffered another smashing defeat when the U. N. General Assembly voted overwhelmingly to take up U. S. charges of wholesale atrocities against North Korea and Red China.

Only the Soviet bloc voted against bringing those belligerents to the bar of world opinion. Communist dominated Guatemala abstained as did India, the latter so as not to prejudice its position as head of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission in Korea.

★ ★ ★

Madame Pandit, Assembly president, later made India's real position clear by agreeing with the majority that the United States had a case.

It rests on U. S. charges that 30,000 U. N. soldiers, including 6,113 Americans, and South Korean civilians were killed by beatings, planned starvation, murder, mutilation and torture.

There is nothing surprising in Russia's claim that this accusation is "slanderous" and a move aimed at wrecking the Korean peace conference. The Soviet Union itself stands accused of having killed thousands of war prisoners and holding other thousands captives in forced labor camps.

★ ★ ★

The disheartening aspect of the situation is that there is no foreseeable means of bringing the perpetrators of these atrocities to justice. It can be hoped, however, that whatever U. N. action results from the hearing will be a strong deterrent against future war atrocities.

David Lawrence Says:

Truman's Angry Speech Rings Hollow; Hoover Explodes Ex-President's 'Line'

WASHINGTON — The whole truth, and nothing but the truth would have been a better defense for former President Truman than the attempt in his radio-television talk of Monday night to make a political speech of the "give-'em-hell" variety which he has used so often in the past.

Merely to call Attorney-General Brownell a liar was not an answer to the nation-wide demand for the facts — and all the facts — of the episode wherein Harry Dexter White, admittedly known by Truman in February 1946 to have been accused in FBI reports of being tied up with a Communist spy ring, was nevertheless given a government post of international importance.

The curious argument that Truman retained White in office in order to keep him in surveillance sounded impressive on the radio-television because it implied that the whole thing was known to high officials and that the FBI was party to such an agreement.

Now, on the sworn testimony of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, the American people know that the FBI didn't favor that course and that it would have been impracticable to carry it out.

They also know that no precautions actually were taken — as the FBI chief testifies — to prevent Harry White from continuing his dangerous activities in transmitting information through subordinates and close associates who were also accused of being in the Soviet spy ring.

Also Truman failed to tell the people why he wrote two effusive letters of commendation—one when White became U. S. executive director of the international monetary fund in April 1946, and the other on April 7, 1947, just after White resigned.

Truman's outbursts of indignation against the attorney general sound hollow indeed now in the face of the testimony of Brownell and Hoover.

It would have been far better for the former President if he had from the very start admitted that he had received the FBI report, that he regarded it seriously but that he didn't fire White because he wasn't completely convinced by the record then, or because those persons to whom he delegated the reading of it didn't convince him it was a clear case.

Maybe Truman got mixed up between a matter of security inside the government and a matter of espionage in the courts.

In the latter instance, wire-tap evidence cannot be used, and in the former it wasn't necessary to furnish any evidence to anyone except the President himself to get a suspect fired.

Many people generally have not understood the difference between a loyalty procedure which involves the right of the government to dismiss an employe without a court proceeding, and a grand jury indictment and prosecution thereafter based on vaguely written laws of espionage on which it is difficult even today to convict anyone except a person who has virtually confessed to treason.

Truman might well have made a clean breast of the whole business and told the country that the climate today is different than what it was in 1946, and that many things have been verified today that weren't as clear then. It would have been a more plausible defense politically.

As it is, the former President with an emotional speech Monday night endeavored through political tactics and name-calling to confuse the issue and leave an impression that it is all just partisan politics.

It would be most unfortunate, indeed, if, in spite of the fact that so many Democrats in Congress have fought intensely against Communist infiltration in the government, the Democratic Party would now range itself on the side of softness toward Communism inside the government.

It would make voters hesitant to return the Democratic Party back to power because it had not frankly acknowledged the mistakes made in handling Communists in government during the last 20 years.

An example of the reaction here to the Truman speech is to be found in an editorial in "The Washington Post" which has vigorously denounced the methods of congressional committee investigations and has for many months taken the so-called "liberal" side of the debate on the issue.

The editorial appeared before Brownell's or Hoover's testimony before the Senate committee was known and read in part:

"Whatever Truman's motives may have been, he has stooped to repeated deception of the people as to how this case was handled.

"His shifting explanations leave a question as to whether there will be still other versions of what was done as new facts are brought to light. We cannot help thinking that his jibes at Brownell would have come with better grace if he had acknowledged his own faulty judgment and his lack of candor in accounting to the people for his stewardship."

Case Records of a Psychologist

Compliment, Kiss Can Cheer a Doubting Wife

Johnny, though 12, is a pretty good psychologist. He says his mother is a menopausal wife, and asks for bulletins to help straighten out her warped perspective. Dozens of boys and girls like Johnny are shouldering adult responsibilities, for you don't need a Ph.D. to diagnose human personality.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-345: Johnny S., aged 12, is in the 7th grade.

"Dr. Crane, I think my mother is what you call a menopausal wife," he told me a few days ago.

"She gets to crying and accuses my Dad of not loving her. She says he is crazy about some other woman.

"But I know she is wrong for I've been out with Dad a lot of times when Mother accused him of being on a date with some woman.

"Then she develops hysterics and cries and locks herself in the bedroom. It upsets me and I am embarrassed to invite kids home after school for I never know how she'll act before them.

"So could you please give me some bulletins that might help her?"

Johnny reads the newspaper regularly, for he has the problems of the usual junior high schooler.

Thus, he wants to win friends among his classmates and be popular and become an athlete, etc.

That's a big enough job for most grammar schoolers. But he now has also attempted to carry some of the problems that rightfully belong to his parents.

Incidentally, Johnny illustrates the vast educational influence of the modern newspaper in helping promote happy homes, instead of divorces.

Menopausal upsets in women are chiefly in their imagination, for the womb is not primarily a sex organ, anyway.

But ever since Eve women have erroneously imagined that their romantic charm was linked with the regular function of the uterus.

So, when they lost their womb by a hysterectomy, in early life, or when it normally stopped at about the age of 45, most women have then become worried, fearful and even hysterical.

"I simply can't be attractive to my husband any longer!" they have wrongly imagined.

This thought devastates their morale. So they accuse their husbands just to see if the latter still love them.

"Why, honey, you know I love you!" such a husband may protest, sometimes half irritably. "You are the only woman I ever loved."

This is the sweetest music to the ears of a menopausal wife even if she has to "beat" it out of her husband by incessant nagging and hysterics.

But you husbands can eliminate most of this upset if you will just open your mouths more often via compliments for your wives.

And kiss your wives with a little extra fervor. Give them romantic movie kisses.

Moreover, the womb does not affect a wife's ability to be thrilled and thrilling in the marital relation. So send for the bulletin "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped, return envelope plus a dime.

Johnny's father was partly to blame for his mother's upset condition, for he had never learned the proper marital technique.

But his mother should have sent for this sex bulletin long ago and thus have avoided throwing her domestic problems upon her son's shoulders.

Dr. Brady Applauds the Dental Society for Working on Nutritional Problems

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

In the annual session of the American Dental Association at Cleveland recently the House of Delegates adopted a resolution which reads, in part, as follows:

Resolved, that the Association recommend voluntary restriction in the consumption of sweetened beverages and confections, and be it further

Resolved, that the Association recommend that dental societies call to the attention of school administrators the need for eliminating from the schools the sale of sweetened beverages and confections. . .

I was startled by this bold invasion of the realm of the physician and the nutritionist and I'll explain.

About 15 years ago a medical society and a dental society held a joint meeting to discuss internecine, well, anyway, interprofessional problems.

From all I heard there I judged that even then the type of physician who took a quick look at the patient's teeth, noticed a few bad ones and asked the dentist to pull 'em all, was not so arbitrary as he used to be.

Or maybe the kind of dentist who extracted teeth on the doctor's request even though he thought the patient might get some further use of them, was getting a firmer grip on his self respect.

But when several dentists had contributed their views to the symposium an officer of the dental society rose to caution them that the application of the newer knowledge of nutrition in practice involved the risk of being charged with practicing medicine without a license!

What beat me was not just the anomalous attitude of the professor, but the discouraging fact that no one stood up to say hah.

Well, yes, I was there. But not by invitation. I merely tagged along as the guest of a dentist friend.

I did consider the advisability of rising to utter just three words, to wit, hah, hah, hah, and letting it go at that unless some one asked for an explanation.

Readers are generally aware what I call refined white sugar and why. So I applaud the ADA's resolution.

The efforts of physicians, nutritionists and health authorities to improve the nutritional condition of school children are flouted and set at nought by the keen business people on the board of education who see to it that the children are supplied with plenty of pop.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self addressed envelope is enclosed.

TRAILER REHEARSAL—Outside their home, Pierre and Julie, "The Cycling Villenaves," rehearse their unicycle act. Both the act and the home go on the road in summer to play fairs.

Show Folks Make Homes in Jersey Trailer Camp

By RICHARD KLEINER

MOONACHIE, N. J. (NEA) — It was a typical afternoon at the trailer park. The Apache dancers were sleeping, the mind reader was working on his lawn, the bicyclist was fixing his son's toy and the chimps were happily playing in their cages.

This particular trailer park, the Metropolitan, has become the modern counterpart of the old theatrical boarding house. Of 165 trailers in residence at the moment, 21 belong to show people.

There are musicians, dancers, actors, animal trainers, acrobats, skaters. They live in the trailers, rehearse behind the laundry room and work as often as they can in New York, 30 minutes away through the Lincoln Tunnel.

Some of them keep their trailers here permanently, never "pulling" them. Others take them out behind their cars for long jumps. One family has logged 70,000 miles in the past three years, playing the fair circuit in the summers. Another has yet to move their trailer off its blocks.

For show people, a trailer park is an ideal place to live. The acts themselves give different reasons, but they boil down to three essential facts — it's inexpensive, it's homelike, and it can move.

Pierre and Julie Villenave—"The Cycling Villenaves"—go out every summer for 20 weeks to play fairs.

"Now we don't even have to pack a suitcase," says Pierre. "Before we were in and out of hotels, packing and unpacking. This way our son is always in familiar surroundings, we all eat better and we save. We were figuring the other day — it used to cost us $105 a week to live on the road. This way perhaps $7 a week for parking and $35 or so for food."

The Metropolitan draws show people for several reasons. Some parks won't take children, but Metropolitan does. And the management is careful to page residents for telephone calls, and there is the back of the laundry room available for practice.

"We go some places," says Julie, "and they say, 'Ugh, show people.' But here they are friendly."

Another couple, Nick and Vickie Collins, two young tap dancers, are currently doing their act in Camden, 85 miles south. Yet every night they drive the 85 miles back to their trailer, getting home about 4 a. m.

"This way," says blond Vickie, "we're home, and we have our afternoons to see agents and so forth. If we stayed in a hotel in Camden, all that time would be wasted."

The Collinses looked at an apartment in a nearby development, and found it too expensive, so they bought a trailer. They're close to New York, which is what they want, and close to Teterboro Airport, where Nick teaches flying.

DoDa Greenwood, a mentalist, and his wife, Thelma, a magician, play mostly for private banquets and parties in and around New York. So they never pull their trailer, yet they say they wouldn't think of living anywhere else.

One feature they like is that their show business friends are close by. The old trouping tradition — a "night lunch" after they get home — often turns into a big party in somebody's trailer. And there's room for the family cat to play, and friends for the Greenwoods' son.

The muscles of flight sometimes form as much as half the weight of a bird.

Minister's Wife Shouldn't Scold Till Wednesday

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—If ministers' wives don't like their husbands' taste in clothing or his choice of words in a Sunday sermon, they should keep quiet—at least for three days.

A panel of Baptist ministers' wives decided that Wednesday is the ideal day to mention anything uncomplimentary to their husbands.

The occasion was the annual ministers wives conference, which preceded the opening session yesterday of the Arkansas Baptist State Convention's meeting.

The wives also handed out this advice: always send thank-you notes for gifts; don't exchange confidences with members of the congregation; and don't entertain one family at a time in the parsonage.

Farmer's Trick on Trespassers Boomerangs

LAKE ZURICH, Ill. (UP) — Farmer Louis A. Hoyt repented at leisure today for his clever, but hasty, fling at police work.

Hoyt called the Elgin, Ill., state police headquarters to complain that he had returned to his farm to find five cars parked in his yard and the brazen owners tramping through his fields hunting. Two patrolmen were dispatched to the scene.

A little later Hoyt called again and urged that the officers hurry up lest the hunters escape.

A few minutes later he called again and reported smugly:

"You can tell your boys they won't have to hurry. The hunters are not going to get away very quickly. I've let all the air out of their tires."

When the state troopers arrived they marched in the direction of the booming shotguns and brought the trespassers in.

Hoyt's jaw fell and his face turned red. All of the men were relatives or friends with standing invitations to hunt on his property.

The disgruntled state policemen left the group busily blowing up the tires.

Iron Ore Mined by New Method

Steelmakers Develop Process for Utilizing Low-Grade Taconite

NEW YORK (UP) — The men who make steel have perfected a new process of getting ore for the nation's blast furnaces by concentrating taconite rock which has been resting in the Mesabi range for 900 million years.

Steelways, official publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, says that taconite, a low-grade but abundant iron-bearing rock, is the nation's answer to critics who warn that deposits of high-grade ore are running low.

The magazine says that the Mesabi range holds billions of tons of taconite, which has resisted processing efforts for more than a generation. Taconite is the "mother lode" from which deposits of high-grade ore were formed by nature.

Mining companies have developed new processes which duplicate nature's process of concentrating the iron content of the rock on a much faster scale.

They have been working with taconite off and on since 1916. A pilot plant with a rated capacity of 200,000 tons per year began operation in Aurora, Minn., in 1948.

Since then developments have come rapidly. Another company has built a plant of 200,000-ton capacity at Babbitt, and is building a much larger one at Beaver Bay on Lake Superior. The total capacity of the two plants may reach 10,000,000 tons per year.

At nearby Aurora, the company that built the pilot plant plans to build a plant with a 10.5 million ton capacity.

Additional plants are planned for Mountain Iron and Virginia, Minn., and Ishpeming, Mich.

Five-Year-Old Makes No Bones About Hopes

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Raymond Heingartner Jr., who is almost five, was riding with his uncle when they passed a cemetery. The uncle explained that the dead were buried there.

"Am I going to die some day?" asked Raymond.

His uncle said he would, and, in answer to another question, said he, too, would die.

"Good," said Raymond. "Then we can have your car."

2 Hardy Grasses Reveal Tale of Man's Ingenuity

WASHINGTON — Two wild grasses from opposite sides of the world each offer a story of man's ingenuity in finding bounty in improbable places.

One plant, ragged and dry, supports a thriving business on the fringe of the North African desert. The other, whose wiry green sprigs were first found in the wilds of northeastern Asia, today carpets the White House lawn in Washington.

The first is named "esparto," or Stipa tenacissima in botanical terms. The second is called "Meyer zoysia."

Esparto—also known as Spanish grass, alfa, and halfa—flourishes bravely in rocky, sun-parched soil where almost nothing else will grow. Ragged clusters of reedlike stalks, three to four feet high, cling to stony foothills and arid plateaus from southern Spain across Morocco, Algeria, and Tunisia.

Its leaves, tender when young, soon grow too tough for cattle to chew. Yet this harsh gray grass ranks as one of the world's most valuable uncultivated crops.

Fine printing papers are made from esparto in England and France — glossy coated sheets for illustrated magazines, crackling parchments for college diplomas.

The Spanish navy makes rope of esparto, hawsers so light they will float. Baskets, hats, carpets and tough desert sandals have been woven from esparto fiber for 2,000 years.

Today its collection is a tightly controlled, highly organized industry, involving nomadic tribes of grass merchants and fleets of plodding camels. Picked by hand and brought to remote weighing stations on camelback, esparto bales travel from hinterland to coast in huge 20-ton trailer trucks that follow dusty, barely marked tracks.

Eventually thousands of tons of the dried grass pile high on wharves for shipment to paper mills as far away as Scotland.

Meyer zoysia is an even more recent Cinderella of the grass family. It was discovered in Korea 40 years ago by a United States Department of Agriculture plant explorer, Frank N. Meyer, who died in the Orient after sending home many valuable new plants. No one then realized its potentiality.

Much more recently one particular strain of the grasses Meyer collected was found to be an amazingly tough and adaptable grass for American lawns and golf courses.

Tested and developed further by plant scientists at the government's experimental farms at Beltsville, Maryland, the grass which bears Meyer's name now is being planted by homeowners in all parts of the country.

Meyer zoysia's assets include an ability to outgrow crabgrass. It thrives in poor soil, resisting diseases and insects that ruin ordinary lawns. Golf greenskeepers call it virtually divot-proof, for it quickly spreads and fills in any chunks taken from its thick, springy turf.

Army Still Uses Historic Chapel

Old Cadet Church, Built in 1836, Now Stands in Different Location

WEST POINT, N. Y. (UP)—Old Cadet Chapel, built in 1836, still stands at the U. S. Military Academy— but in a different spot.

The first chapel for cadet worship was built on the site of the present East Academic building. In 1910, when the present Cadet Chapel was erected, the old structure was moved, stone by stone, to West Point's National Cemetery.

Although there now are three other chapels on the grounds, Old Chapel still is used for many of the post-graduation June Weddings, for funerals, Sunday school and for Jewish services.

Old Chapel, of simple "classic" architecture in contrat to the present Cadet Chapel's towering Gothic form, houses the "Peace and War" mural by Prof. Robert H. Weir, who taught drawing at the academy from 1833 to 1876 and also painted the famous "Landing of the Pilgrims" in the Capitol rotunda in Washington, D. C.

Around the chapel walls are black marble tablets bearing in gold the name, rank and dates of birth and death of outstanding general officers of the Revolutionary War.

In an inconspicuous spot, high on the rear wall is one bearing only the words "Major General—1741."

The plaque pays tribute to Benedict Arnold for his service in helping to delay the British invasion from Canada and in the Battle of Saratoga. His name and death date were deleted, significant of his treachery later in the war.

Water Blasts Worker From Ditch in Detroit

DETROIT (UP)—Tolbert Chamberlain, 49, a Water Board workman, rode a stream of water out of a seven-foot deep excavation when the main burst.

"I came out of there like I was shot from a cannon," Chamberlain said as he picked himself off the grass unharmed. The 40-foot stream drenched cars and pedestrians nearby for 10 minutes before the water was shut off.

Valuable Candelabra

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A pair of 18th century French candelabra, valued at $200, disappeared from the de Young Museum in Gold Gate Park.

Police suspected teen-agers, but admitted ruefully they were very discriminating burglars.

Brownell Statement at Senate Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is a partial text of the statement on the Harry Dexter White case made to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Tuesday afternoon by Atty.-Gen. Brownell:

The executive department of the government which is headed by the President, and of which the Department of Justice is part, has been concerned since we took office with cleaning out the government. One of the most important and vital problems is to remove all persons of doubtful loyalty and, most important, to prevent any further Communist infiltration into the government of the United States.

On Nov. 6 in Chicago, I made a speech . . . in that speech I referred to the case of Harry Dexter White and the manner in which it was treated by the prior administration to illustrate how successful espionage agents had been in penetrating our government at that time and how lax our government was at that time in meeting such a grave problem. . .

An inference has been drawn in some quarters from my speech which I think is unwarranted. By lifting certain sentences out of context it has been said that I implied the possibility that the former President of the United States was disloyal.

Denies Disloyalty Slur at Truman

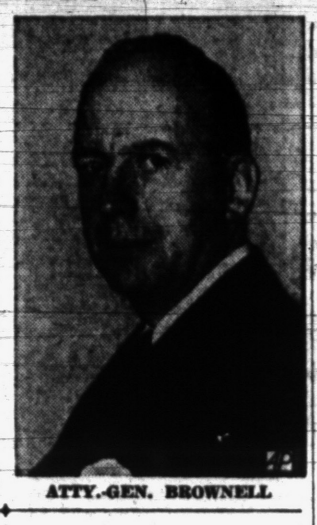

I intended no such inference to be drawn.

In order to point out that I intended no such inference to be drawn, I specifically said that I believed that the disregard of the evidence in the White case was "because of the unwillingness of the non-Communists in responsible positions to face the facts and a persistent delusion that communism in the government of the United States was only a "red herring." . . .

When I assumed the office of attorney general, I promised to expose evidence of Communist infiltration in our government and to expose corruption, with even-handed justice. I intend to continue to do so.

When this subcommittee completes its investigation, I believe that you will conclude, as I did, that there was an unwillingness on the part of Mr. Truman and others around him to face the facts and a persistent delusion that Communist espionage in high places in our government was a red herring. And I believe you will conclude that this attitude, this delusion, may have resulted in great harm to our nation. . . .

The matter to be determined by Mr. Truman and his associates (in January and February, 1946) was whether Harry Dexter White should be advanced to a post of high honor, great trust and responsibility and of vital importance to the security of the country. If there was solid evidence at that time establishing that White was engaged in espionage activity, certainly no one would contend that sound and proper administration required his advancement or even continuance in government service simply because a criminal conviction had not yet been obtained.

ATTY.-GEN. BROWNELL

White Mentioned in 1945 Report

White entered upon his duties and assumed the office of executive director for the United States in the International Monetary Fund on May 1, 1946.

On Dec. 4, 1945, the FBI transmitted to Brigadier General Harry H. Vaughan, military aide to the President, a report on the general subject of "soviet espionage in the United States." . . . Harry Dexter White and the espionage ring of which he was a part were among those referred to in this report.

This report, as might be expected from its general character, summarizes White's espionage activities in abbreviated form, but no reasonable person can deny that that summary, brief though it may be, constituted adequate warning to anyone who read it of the extreme danger to the security of the country in appointing White to the International Monetary Fund or continuing him in government in any capacity.

. . . In addition. . . . I have here a letter from J. Edgar Hoover to General Vaughan dated Nov. 8, 1945 . .

It would be difficult to believe under any circumstances that so important a document upon so delicate and dangerous a subject would not have been brought to Mr. Truman's attention by at least one of his associates.

It is a blunt fact from which there is no escape that in the teeth of the Nov. 8 warning from the FBI, the developing evidence indicated a substantial spy ring operating within the government and involving Harry Dexter White and the documented report delivered to the White House on Dec. 4, some six weeks later President Truman, on Jan. 23, 1946, publicly announced his nomination of Harry Dexter White for appointment to the International Monetary Fund. I just do not understand this. It still seems completely incredible to me.

But the matter does not end here. Because of this development the FBI compiled a special report devoted exclusively to Harry Dexter White and his espionage activities and delivered it, together with a covering letter, by special messenger on Feb. 4, 1946, to General Vaughan for the attention of the President, to the attorney general, Tom Clark, and to Secretary of State James Byrnes. . . .

The report. . . . proceeded to point out that information had come to the attention of the FBI from a confidential source that Harry Dexter White was engaged in espionage activities at least as early as the latter part of 1942 or early in 1943. . . .

According to the information received by the FBI, White was considered one of the most valuable assets in this particular parallel of Soviet intelligence. This view was taken since in his capacity as assistant secretary of the United States Treasury, those individuals whom this group were anxious to have assigned there could be placed in the treasury department. . . .

Claims Spy Ring Named White's Aide

Sometime in the summer or fall of 1943, the Silvermasters believed it desirable to have someone placed as a secretary to White in order to facilitate the obtaining of information from his office for delivery to Soviet espionage agents. As a result of these deliberations, Mrs. Helen Witte Silvermaster went to one of the Communist functionaries in Washington, D.C., and from this source secured the name of Sonia Steinman Gold.

Eventually, Mrs. Gold, through arrangements with White, obtained a position (as one of the secretaries) in the United States Treasury department. As a result of this employment, Mrs. Gold obtained documents from White's office, which she copied and made her notes available to Mrs. Helen Witte Silvermaster.

In July, 1945, a clerical employe of the passport division of the Department of State, who formerly was employed as a clerk by the Soviet Government Purchasing Commission, was allegedly stealing certain information from the official records of the Department of State for transmittal to unknown persons. This individual apparently admitted that he had collected this information in the course of his employment and knew a man who would pay him $1,000 for it.

In this application for employment with the Department of State this individual who stole this information had listed Harry Dexter White as a reference and White had recommended him highly.

The report added that this circumstance was being set forth in view of the allegations to the effect that White was considered of extreme value because of his influence in securing positions for persons who could be of assistance to Soviet espionage. . . .

. Of course, no one could, with any validity, suggest today that there is doubt that White was in this espionage ring. Some of White's original espionage reports, written by him in his own handwriting for delivery to agents of the Red Army Intelligence, were recovered in the fall of 1948 and are now in the possession of the Department of Justice. . . . The information contained in these reports was, as the subcommittee knows, of great importance at the time White wrote them. . . .

It is, of course, extraordinary to learn from Mr. Truman, in view of his earlier statements, that he signed Mr. White's commission with the thought that it might help to catch him. I would think that the commissioning of a suspected spy to an office of such great importance would not be easily forgotten.

Calls Unawareness 'Extraordinary'

It seems to me even more extraordinary to learn that Mr. Truman was aware as early as 1946 that a Communist spy ring was operating within his own administration when for so many years since that time he has been telling the American people exactly the opposite. Indeed, it seems to me that this explanation of White's appointment—that is, that he was appointed and allowed to remain in office for more than a year in order to help the FBI trap him as a spy—raises more questions than it answers.

While under suspicion and surveillance White was, we are told, appointed as the first United States executive director of the fund. He was also its chief architect. The opportunities afforded him in that capacity for betraying the country were very great.

There were matters of great importance to the United States which were handled by the executive directors while White was a member. A first order of business was to plan the general organization of the staff. It was agreed to divide the staff into five primary departments and offices. Each of these departments and offices has a director. One of these five primary departments was called the office of the secretary. Now who received the position of head of the office of secretary? It was Frank Coe, named in the FBI report as a member of the espionage ring, and at a salary of $20,000 a year.

Recently this subcommittee had occasion to inquire of Mr. Coe whether he was presently engaged in subversive activities. Mr. Coe replied "Mr. Chairman, under the protection afforded me by the Fifth Amendment, I respectfully decline to answer that question." Coe continued in the employ of the fund until as recently as Dec. 3, 1952, when he was finally dismissed.

Who received the position of adviser to the United States member of the board? It was Harold Glasser, also named as a member of the espionage ring.

This subcommittee, I am sure, will want to examine with great care the claim that there was a plan to keep White and others in the espionage ring in government employment in the hope of catching them. You will also want to investigate, I believe, what care was used to protect the national security. These are grave questions to which the public is entitled to complete answers.

As members of this subcommittee know, this administration is trying an entirely different approach to security problems.

Despite difficulties stemming from past laxity, 1,456 employes have actually been separated from federal government payrolls since January 1953 on the grounds that they are security risks. Many cases are still under examination.

Our work to date has clearly shown the need for at least two new laws to help the government in the prosecution of espionage cases. I hope that these proposed laws will be considered by Congress at its session starting in January. The first would allow the government to use wire-tap evidence to prove its espionage cases.

The second proposed law would allow proper authorities in government to grant immunity to witnesses who are suspected of espionage or Communist activities, but who refuse to testify under the Fifth Amendment on the ground that their testimony might incriminate them. . .

The White case illustrates that it is not enough for men in high government positions to be loyal. They must also be vigilant to combat the dangers to our government and to our free institutions.

Lansing Man Loses Weight
I Lost 40 Lbs. With Rennel and Did It Without Dieting

Rennel Concentrate is as effective for men as it is for women and just as necessary. Smart men and women who are overweight do not stay fat. They do something about it. Excessive fat makes people unhealthy, unattractive and handicaps success. No one can afford these risks. The Rennel Home Recipe gets results and takes off fat safely. One of the many men Rennel users John Shultz, 737 Comfort St., Lansing 13, Mich. writes, "I am still taking Rennel and am so pleased with the results. I started taking your product last fall when I weighed 200 lbs. In three months I took off 40 lbs., have held that weight ever since and did not diet at any time. I eat three good meals a day, enjoy my work and now find it much easier to do. My sister uses Rennel and is getting good results."

Your drug store has liquid Rennel. No need to starve yourself—no tablets needed to fortify you against weakness for you eat normal regular meals. No wishful thinking. Just follow simple directions. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it for your money back. Insist on Rennel. $1.40 at your drug store now.

Fifty Thousand Off on Vacation in Switzerland

BIENNE, Switzerland (INS) — Switzerland's richest industry came to an abrupt halt recently as 50,000 workers, the highest average paid in Europe, put down their tools.

The industry-wide holiday happens ever year when the famous watchmakers of Switzerland take their two-week vacation.

Among other things it clearly illustrates the absolute dependence of master craftsmen and the interdepencence of the industry on its various specialists.

La Chaux-de-Fonds, a thriving watchmaking center perched high in the Jura Mountains, became a ghost city overnight.

A steady stream of cars, buses and 16 special trains scattered all but a handful of its 33,000 inhabitants throughout Europe. The exodus was repeated in a dozen Jura communities where more than 530 factories, 120 of them in La Chaux-de-Fonds alone, painstakingly produce the world's fine watches.

Fleet-Footed Child Keeps Law Moving

HENRYETTA, Okla. (UP) — County officers breathed a sigh of relief when a 4-year-old boy who could "run like the dickens" was finally returned to his parents.

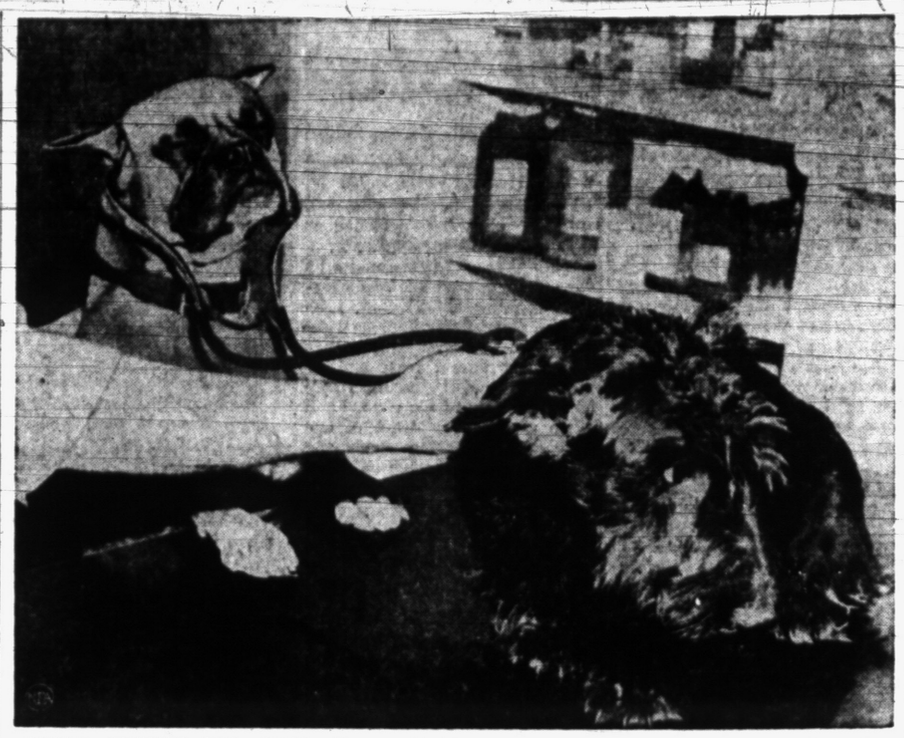

The child, staying here with an aunt, decided at 7 a. m. he wanted to go home to Okmulgee, about 15 miles away. He got out of bed and started running.

The alarmed aunt called the sheriff, who found the boy still running about seven miles from Henryetta. The sheriff hauled the boy back to the aunt's house in a car and returned to his office.

A few minutes later he was called again. The boy was off a second time. This time the sheriff toted the fleet-footed child to his office for safekeeping until his parents arrived.

Drunk Cyclist

EAST HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — Police picked up a 14-year-old youth for driving under the influence of liquor. His vehicle was a bicycle.

SOUND PRETTY BAD, DOC?—The medical diagnosis doesn't appear favorable as "Honey," the Boxer, with the aid of a stethoscope listens to the heartbeat of "Butch," a two-year-old Scotty. The Boxer, who "assists" Dr. John Grady, of the Jones Animal Hospital, in Bristol, Va., has been listening to the heartbeats of other dogs for a long time.

No Half Way Feeling

75-Pound Baby Born to Zoo's Balkiest Hippo

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Snookie, one of the world's most contrary hippopotamuses, is a mother. And it looks as though her 75-pound, day-old baby is going to be just as stubborn as the old gal.

The little one (who will be named after Joe E. Brown or Martha Raye as soon as its sex is determined) is "all mouth and head," says Columbus Zoo Supt. Earl F. Davis.

Snookie gained national fame in 1949 when she staged a sitdown strike at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo. Attendants tried to load all 4,000 pounds of her into a truck for transfer to Columbus. They succeeded after eight days by crowding her out of her cage with tons of hay.

Police Parking Tickets to Be Christmas Greeting

NORTH SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UP)—Starting next week parking violators will receive this card:

Hospital Plans 'Moving' at U-M

Expect Construction of New Psychiatric Unit to Start Next Spring

ANN ARBOR — "On schedule" progress in planning the $2,000,000 psychiatric unit of the new Children's Hospital at the University of Michigan has been announced by Dr. Albert C. Kerlikowske, director of University Hospital.

The 75-bed psychiatric unit will be built with funds provided by the State Legislature last June from the $60,000,000 mental health bond issue. It will consist of three 16-bed units for seriously disturbed children up to the age of 14 and a 27-bed unit for convalescents.

The new building will be constructed of reinforced concrete, faced with light gray brick, and will harmonize in style with the new Out-patient Clinic and the nearly completed Kresge Medical Research Institute.

The site of the proposed psychiatric unit will be north of the present interns' residence, between the Veterans Readjustment Center and the Contagious Hospital and behind the main University Hospital building.

In addition to accommodations for in-patients, consultation rooms for children treated on an outpatient service will be provided.

The planning committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Roger B. Nelson, associate director of University Hospital, has been meeting weekly with the architects, Swanson Associates of Birmingham. The meetings will continue through the remainder of the year, when plans are expected to be completed.

The plans will be released for bidding, and depending upon weather conditions, construction will begin next spring.

The unit also will contain classrooms, remedial reading rooms, group therapy areas, recreational therapy facilities and a 100-seat auditorium to be used for lectures and patient recreation. These facilities are considered an essential part of residential treatment for emotionally disturbed children.

The unit will be operated with funds provided by the State Legislature, as are the present Neuropsychiatric Institute and the Veterans Readjustment Center.

Man, 81, Frightens Off Pair Who Attacked Him

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—After he and his wife had been beaten in a robbery attempt, an 81-year-old man seized a rusty rifle and routed two intruders last night.

William H. Anderson told police that he and his wife Rebecca, 82, were seated in their living room when the men rang the doorbell. Mrs. Andresen answered it and one man beat her on the head while the other attacked Andresen.

As the two men tried to force open a safe, Andresen went to his bedroom and got his rifle. The intruders saw it and fled.

Man Gets 60 Days, Fine on 2 Traffic Counts

A Warren man was sentenced to Oakland County Jail yesterday for 60 days on two traffic counts, and fined $125 with costs.

Orval E. Renaud, 47, of 6114 Beebe, pleaded guilty before Farmington Judge John J. Schulte, to drunk driving and to operating an auto with a revoked driver's license.

Renaud was jailed for 45 days on the drunk driving count and fined $100 and $25 costs. He faces an additional 45 days in jail if his fine is not paid. An extra 15 days in jail was added to Renaud's sentence by Schulte for driving with a revoked license.

Traffic Is Using 'Scramble' Plan

All Cars Stop to Allow Pedestrians to Dash Any Way Across Streets

CHICAGO (AP) — A traffic-light plan designed to give the pedestrian a break instead of a fracture is spreading.

It is called the 4-way stop system. It also is known as the "scramble" or the "Barnes dance."

You are familiar with the old setup. You have seen it work at, say the corner of First and Main Sts.

On signal, under the old plan, east and west vehicle traffic stops while automobiles roll north and south.

In theory, at this junction, folks traveling on foot walk north or south. But many of the moving autos make right or left turns.

So the pedestrians get across, or get trapped or bowled over, or just stand at the curb and watch the line of turning cars go by.

The new system was devised to rescue the walkers—to permit them to make the passage with life, limb and equanimity intact.

The lights register red for all vehicles for a brief period. This gives pedestrians time to cross in any direction on a straight line or kitty-corner.

That's why it is known in some places as the "scramble."

The "Barnes dance" tag derives from Henry Barnes, a traffic engineer who worked in Flint, Mich., and Denver and now is employed by the city of Baltimore.

Barnes introduced the system in Denver two years ago. All downtown intersections there now have three sets of lights—red and green for wheeled traffic and walk signals, when all vehicles are halted and pedestrians walk across.

After the "walk" sign flashes there is an interval of 5 to 10 seconds before it changes to "don't walk."

However, there is another 12-second interval before the green light signals motor traffic to proceed.

An Associated Press survey showed today that system has been installed at on intersection in Baltimore and Salisbury, Md., and is operating in Racine and Waukesha, Wis., Richmond, Va., and a few in other cities.

The system is being tested at four downtown intersections in Milwaukee. Some policemen there say it slows up traffic at peak periods and pedestrians complain that a longer over-all light cycle delays them, too.

The waters of the Dead Sea are too salty to sustain any form of life.

FUN FOR HUM CHUM—Korean orphan Hum Chum Lee, 12, is greeted by his former Army buddy ex-Sgt. Eli Danoff, Jr., of Harrisville, Pa., as he arrived in San Francisco. Hum Chum was adopted by a tank battalion in which Danoff served as first sergeant and lived with them for nearly three years. The men in the unit paid for Hum Chum's trip to the U. S. and now the boy will go to Harrisville, to live with Danoff's parents.

Singer Practices Where He Can—in Public Square

CLEVELAND (UP) — Walter Slay, 27, who wants to be a singer, does his practicing in about as public a place as possible.

So, he takes up a position on Public Square where he sings for the entertainment of noon and rush-hour crowds.

"Police wanted to chase him away," said Walter K. Patterson, custodian of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument on Public Square, "but we wouldn't let them. He's harmless and he's got a good voice. Sings all the popular songs and we like him around here."

Tolerant Albert Powys, another custodian, agreed that Slay was welcome to the pigeon-infested monument area.

Slay said he's studied voice whenever he could afford it.

"I've tried out with small orchestras," he added, "but they don't seem to want me. So, I've got to have more practice. Someday I'll be a singer."

Newer Drug Gantrisin Looks Best to Hospitals

NEW YORK (AP) — A newer sulfa drug, sulfisoxazole or gantrasin, looks best for routine hospital use against a variety of infections, says Dr. Ellard M. Yow of Baylow University College of Medicine.

Describing its use on 1,000 patients over a three-year period, he says it is as effective as sulfadizine, and patients do not need to drink large amounts of fluids or alkalies to avoid reactions caused by earlier sulfa drugs. Laboratory tests are not needed to check for adverse effects on the blood, as happens with some earlier sulfa drugs, he writes in American Practitioner.

Admit Opposition

VIENNA (INS)—"Rude Pravo," Communist organ of Red-ruled Czechoslovakia, has admitted that anti-Soviet tendencies exist in the country, but blames former Socialist Democrats for it. The Red paper said one-time members of the Czech Social Democratic Party are "agitating" against Russia.

First Gum Made for Dentifrice, Not Pleasure

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (UP)—This town claims the man who first patented chewing gum.

He was a dental surgeon and his name was William Finley Semple. His patent was dated Dec. 28, 1869.

Though the first to patent chewing gum, Semple wasn't the first to produce it commercially. The pioneers were the Curtis Brothers of Bangor, Me.

Dr. Semple concocted his gum as something of a dentifrice and not just as a popular chew.

C. Y. Semple, son of the dentist, recalled on a visit here recently from his present home in Baxter Springs, Kan., that the gum "was red in color, a rather rubbery substance, put up in sheets about the size of letter paper, perforated in squares about an inch in size."

"The squares were probably a little more than twice the thickness of the present sticks of gum," he added. "They had little—but very little—flavor and really afforded a lot of chewing."

A granddaughter, Mrs. Dick Austin of Oklahoma City, Okla., offered the explanation for the chewy, practically tasteless gum. "The gum grandfather patented," she said, "was for dental purposes only. He, being a dentist, did not approve of sweets."

Mrs. Austin also said her grandfather missed out on a $20,000 offer from a manufacturer who at first wanted his gum, then decided in favor of a flavored variety.

Thrill Maker from start to stop

(That's T.T. Dynaflow*!)

SOMETIME soon—like this week—you ought to try a Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow.*

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response—with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration—where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop—the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed—the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with TT Dynaflow?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised—and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

THE GREATEST BUICK IN 50 GREAT YEARS

It's Trade-In Time for a Better Deal

You'll be thrilled with the top allowance we will make on your present car. Come in and see us for the happy news—now. We can give you immediate delivery.

Douglas Skyrocket Hits 1,272 M.P.H.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Times' aviation editor, Marvin Miles, says the Douglas Skyrocket plane last Oct. 14 reached a new world speed mark of 1,272 miles an hour.

Scott Crossfield, 32-year-old pilot for the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, was at the controls of the swept-wing rocket plane when it exceeded the record of 1,238 miles an hour set Aug. 15, 1951, by Bill Bridgeman, Douglas test pilot, in the same plane, the Times said.

Crossfield began his research speed flight after his plane was dropped from the belly of a Superfortress at about 33,000 feet. He climbed to 62,000 feet. Then he started down, giving the aircraft its final burst of fuel. At that instant it reached its greatest speed.

The plane was under power only for about three minutes before being nosed down toward a dead stick landing in 17 minutes at better than 150 m.p.h.

Add Escapee to 'Wanted' List

FBI Names Reported Organizer of Break at Kansas Reformatory

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI today added to its list of "10 Most Wanted Fugitives" the name of Thomas Jackson Massingale, 20, alleged to have organized and led a daring break from Kansas State Industrial Reformatory at Hutchinson last May 14.

The FBI said Massingale and two fellow inmates fought their way out of the reformatory by overpowering a guard with a club and knife obtained from the institution's kitchen, using two other guards as shields while racing across the prison grounds under gunfire, and fleeing in a car with one of the guards as a hostage.

The getaway car and the hostage were later abandoned at Wichita, and the fugitives the next day eluded officers, again under gunfire, in Guadalupe County, N. M.

• • •

Massingale's companions were taken near Tucumcari, N. M., a few hours later and got 60-year sentences for kidnaping, but Massingale escaped.

He had previously been convicted of assault at Oklahoma City and was serving a 5 to 10-year robbery sentence.

Massingale, born in Washita County, Okla., is described as slender, 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds. He has brown hair and blue eyes and a scar extending downward from the left corner of his left eye.

He was put on the "Most Wanted" list as a replacement for Arnold Hinson, sought for murder and captured at Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 7.

Kidnap Suspect Held in Florida

Wanted in New York for Taking 13-Year-Old Girl From Home

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—New York police were on their way here today to pick up a man wanted for questioning in the kidnap-rape of a 13-year-old girl last Friday.

The man identified himself as Anthony James Palazzola, 26, when he walked into police headquarters here and surrendered late yesterday.

He carried a newspaper with a story of the crime and a picture of himself.

• • •

"This is my picture," the stocky, curly-haired man told detectives. "They are looking for me in New York."

Detective Sgt. Neil Brown said he was satisfied from comparison of the picture and from a description telephone by New York police that the man was Palazzola.

He was held in county jail without charge. Brown said he waived extradition and agreed to return to New York.

• • •

New York authorities had sent out a 13-state alarm for Palazzola, asking his arrest on charges of burglary, robbery and rape in the kidnaping of Dorothy Del Longo.

Police there said a man broke into the apartment of the girl's parents, forced the pajama-clad girl to go with him, raped her in a hotel and turned her loose shivering in the chilly dawn air.

Brown said Palazzola first admitted breaking into the girl's home, taking money and other items from her parents and forcing her to accompany him in an automobile, but that he later withdrew the admission. He denied raping the girl from the first.

He told officers he took a bus to Tampa Saturday from New York after hearing that police wanted him.

Old Instruments Add New Sound to Music World

DETROIT (AP)—The "new sound," the old instrument— they're both the same to John Challis, one of the world's six makers of harpsichords and clavichords.

How's business? Well, Challis is two years behind in filling orders and hasn't got time to say. His only American competition is in Boston.

Both of his products are ancient ancestors of the piano. The clavichord makes a sound when a mallet strikes the strings like a piano. The harpsichord plucks the strings like a harp.

He bought his Detroit plant when he moved here from Ypsilanti, his home, to be nearer to his source of supplies. Even with certain production techniques that he learned from the Motor City, it takes one month to make a clavichord and three for a harpsichord.

In case you're thinking of going into the business, the competition is small but tight. Challis studied in England under Arnold Dolmetsch, the famous harpsichordist.

If you're thinking of buying one, the harpsichords range in price from $800 to $4,500.

Text of Hoover's Testimony in 'Spy' Investigation

Says He Warned of White in 7 Notes to White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is the complete text of the prepared statement made by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee Tuesday:

As the members of this committee know, the Federal Bureau of Investigation is a service agency. It does not make policy; it does not evaluate; it secures facts upon which determinations can be made by those officials of the United States Government who have the responsibility for taking whatever action is indicated.

We do not inject ourselves into legislative matters. We do not express opinions or draw conclusions in our investigative reports. We have well-defined channels of official distribution through which we direct the results of our investigations.

MAJ. GEN. VAUGHAN
Aide to ex-President Truman

Since we are not an agency for decision as to action, we are legally, morally and in good conscience obligated to relay all information and facts we secure to the responsible officials and agencies of Government.

It is my duty to report to the attorney general those matters in which he has a responsibility. It is likewise my duty, at the specific direction of the President, to report matters coming to our attention which are of pertinent interest to the President.

I mention these basic principles governing our operations since they have come into the public interest in connection with recent events and disclosures.

There is more involved here than the charges against one man. This situation has a background of some 35 years of infiltration of an alien way of life into what we have been proud to call our constitutional republic.

Our American way of life, which has flourished under our republic and has nurtured the blessings of a democracy, has been brought into conflict with the godless forces of Communism.

White Named by Associates

These Red Fascists distort, conceal, misrepresent and lie to gain their point. Deceit is their very essence. This can never be understood until we face the realization that to a Communist there are not morals except those which further the world revolution directed by Moscow.

The Harry Dexter White and related cases are in point. White was only one person on whom self-confessed Communist espionage agents informed—there were others.

In this case, the sources who gave the information were co-conspirators and either became inactive or their identities must for the time being remain undisclosed.

Corroboration in each instance was most difficult to secure, because the actual facts were known only to a limited group whose personal interests dictated concealment and who conveniently had the Fifth Amendment as a refuge.

Coverage from an intelligence standpoint and all-out open investigation looking toward eventual prosecution, are entirely different things.

It must be remembered that the acts occurring in the pre-war years occurred while we were at peace. In the pertinent time period, our national climate was one conducive to the so-called "united front."

Communist front organizations flourished to the point where it appeared that to belong, in certain circles, was to be stylish.

Even today, the feeling is rife in some quarters that the FBI should not even be investigating the loyalty of Government employes.

Over the years, the FBI has been the target of attack from persons both in and out of Government because of its investigations of subversive activities.

Even Harry Dexter White, when we interviewed him in March, 1942, spent more time in denouncing investigations of Government employes than he did in furnishing facts.

He observed that if the chairman of one congressional committee "was one-tenth as patriotic as I am, it would be a much better country."

The car, caution and delicate approach necessary in such FBI investigations made it difficult to develop full facts, particularly when those in possession of them declined to make full disclosures.

The responsibilities for internal security assigned the FBI in 1939 by presidential directive were directed toward the times of emergency rather than periods of peace. That is the situation today.

It is still legal for Communists to exercise the right of assembly, free speech and free thought.

On Nov. 7, 1945, Miss Elizabeth Bentley advised special agents of the FBI in considerable detail of her own career as an espionage agent. On Nov. 8, 1945, a letter bearing that date was delivered to Brig. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, wherein it was stated:

"The Bureau's information at this time indicates that the following persons were participants in this operation or were utilized by principals in this ring for the purpose of obtaining data in which the Soviet is interested."

Harry Dexter White Second on List

The name of Harry Dexter White was the second name mentioned in the list of names furnished. The concluding paragraph of this three-page letter stated:

"Investigation of this matter is being pushed vigorously, but I thought that the President and you would be interested in having the foregoing preliminary data immediately."

This communication was sent to Gen. Vaughan in line with instructions conveyed to me by President Truman to call such matters in which he would have an interest to his attention through Gen. Vaughan.

I might add that the same practice so far as the FBI is concerned was followind during the administration of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

In fact, this same procedure was followed during the administration of former President Herbert Hoover, therefore there was nothing unusual or significant about my directing a communication to Gen. Vaughan at that time.

In the meantime, our investigation of White and others mentioned by Miss Bentley and Whittaker Chambers, as well as those individuals on whom we had adverse information from equally reliable sources, continued.

A detailed summary memorandum was then prepared consisting of 71 pages, exclusive of the index setting forth the highlights of Soviet espionage in the United States.

This memorandum, dated Nov. 27, 1945, was delivered to Gen. Vaughan by a special messenger on Dec. 4, 1945.

Copies of this memorandum were furnished to the attorney general and certain other interested heads of Government agencies. This memorandum included information on Harry Dexter White.

Special Report for White House

When we learned that Harry Dexter White's name had been sent to the Senate for confirmation of his appointment as United States delegate on the International Monetary Fund, we then consolidated the information in our files, secured from sources "whose reliability has been established either by inquiry or long-established observation and evaluation," in a 28-page summary dated Feb. 1, 1946, which was delivered to Gen. Vaughan on Feb. 4, 1946.

The two-page cover letter of transmittal opened with this sentence:

"As of interest to the President and you, I am attaching a detailed memorandum hereto concerning Harry Dexter White, assistant secretary of the United States Treasury Department."

The observation was made in this letter, "As will be observed, information has come to the attention of this bureau charging White as being a valuable adjunct to an underground Soviet espionage organization operating in Washington, D. C."

From Nov. 8, 1945, until July 24, 1946, seven communications went to the White House bearing on espionage activities, wherein Harry Dexter White's name was specifically mentioned.

During that same period, two summaries on Soviet espionage activities went to the Treasury Department and six summaries went to the attorney general on the same subject matter.

The handling and reporting on the White case followed the Bureau's traditional practice of reporting all facts and information which had come to our attention, without evaluation or conclusions.

I would like here to state that an FBI report is the presentation of information for evaluation by those who perform administrative duties and have executive responsibilities.

The FBI, of course, has a duty to evaluate its source of information. In the 28-page summary concerning White, dated Feb. 1, 1946, delivered to Gen. Vaughan on Feb. 4, 1946, the information contained therein came from a total of 30 sources, the reliability of which had previously been established.

In connection with the sources, I would like to mention one in particular, Miss Elizabeth Bentley. From the very outset, we established that she had been in a position to report the facts relative to Soviet espionage which she has done.

We knew she was in contact with a top-ranking Soviet espionage agent, Anatoli Gromov, the first secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, as late as Nov. 21, 1945, in New York City. At a previous meeting on Oct. 17, 1945, he had given her $2,000 to carry forth her work as an espionage agent.

Bentley Reports Found Correct

All information furnished by Miss Bentley, which was susceptible to check, has proved to be correct. She has been subjected to the most searching of cross-examinations; her testimony has been evaluated by juries and reviewed by the courts and has been found to be accurate.

Miss Bentley's account of White's activities was later corroborated by Whittaker Chambers, and the documents in White's own handwriting concerning which there can be no dispute, lend credibility to the information previously reported on White.

Subsequent to White's death on Aug. 16, 1948, events transpired which produced facts of an uncontradictable nature which clearly established the reliability of the information furnished in 1945 and 1946.

It must be remembered that in the period from Nov. 8, 1945, to Feb. 22, 1946, our first concern was to safeguard the Government from infiltration by subversive elements, and in this approach, the objective of pointing attention to security risks must not be confused with prosecutive action.

During this period the FBI was concerned with protecting the Government's secrets and preventing such infiltration. In fact, I took a strong stand because of premature disclosures that would result if prosecution were initiated, for the following reasons:

1—The evidence necessary to sustain convictions in indictments for law violation is entirely different from that necessary to establish the existence of security risks in sensitive posts in the Government.

2—Some of the evidence, while of an irrefutable nature, was not admissible in a court of law.

Now to return to Harry Dexter White. In a conversation on Feb. 21, 1946, the attorney general informed me that he had spoken with the then secretary of the Treasury, the late Chief Justice Fred Vinson, and the President, about White.

The attorney general stated he felt the President should personally tell White that it would be best for him not to serve. I told the attorney general I felt it was unwise for White to serve. The attorney general then stated he would like to confer with Judge Vinson and me on the following day, Feb. 22, 1946.

Clark and Vinson Meet With Hoover

I had luncheon on Feb. 22, 1946, in the attorney general's office with Judge Vinson and the attorney general, at which time there was a lengthy conference.

I was told that the problem was what could be done to prevent White from taking his oath of office. Judge Vinson did not want Mr. White to serve as a United States delegate on the International Monetary Fund and, in fact, did not want him to continue as assistant secretary of the Treasury.

On the other hand, Judge Vinson stated that the President could be forced to sign the commission since the Senate had confirmed White's appointment.

I advised Judge Vinson and the attorney general that the character of the evidence was such that it should not be publicly disclosed at that time in view of the confidential sources involved.

It was the opinion of Judge Vinson and the attorney general that the secretary of state, the secretary of the Treasury and the attorney general would arrange to see the President as soon as possible, outline to him exactly what the situation was and they would suggest to the President that there were three alternatives:

1—The President could dismiss White and make no statement;

2—The President could send for White and tell him he had changed his mind and that he desired White to resign and not serve;

3—The President could sign the commission, instruct the attorney general to continue the investigation vigorously and instruct the secretary of the Treasury that he, as governor of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Problems and of the International Bank, should take steps to see that any persons selected for appointment should not be appointed except with approval of the governor.

It was realized, of course, that should the President follow the second alternative and White should refuse to resign, the President might then sign the commission and take the same action as considered in the third alternative.

I did not enter into any agreement to shift White from his position in the Treasury Department to the International Monetary Fund. This was not within my purview. I was at the meeting to furnish facts, which I did.

There was no agreement while I was present between the attorney general and Judge Vinson, other than that they should see the President with the secretary of state and suggest the three alternatives mentioned above.

I was not present in any discussions with the President concerning this matter.

I was advised on Feb. 26, 1946, by the attorney general that he had seen the President and that an effort would be made to remove Harry Dexter White, although the attorney general expressed doubt that this would work out.

The attorney general further stated to me on Feb. 26, 1946, that he felt that White would go into the job and then would be surrounded with persons who were especially selected and were not security risks.

He further stated that the President was interested in continuing the surveillance. I stated if that was the desire, we would continue the investigation.

FBI Made No Deal on White Status

At no time was the FBI a party to an agreement to promote Harry Dexter White and at no time did the FBI give its approval to such an agreement.

Such an agreement on the part of the FBI would be inconceivable. If this principle were applied to White, it would, of necessity, have applied to others who had similarly been involved in this particular investigation, who were dismissed from Government service when their subversive activities were discovered.

"Those dismissals occured in March, 1946; June 14 and 18, 1946; July, 1946, and Sept. 25, 1946."

At no time did the FBI interpose objections to such dismissals. No restrictions were placed upon the agencies wherein action was taken. All that we asked was that sources of information be protected.

Had it been the intent of the FBI to handle the Harry Dexter White and other related cases solely as an intelligence operation, the widespread dissemination of information that was furnished to various branches of the Government by the FBI would not have been undertaken.

Under date of Feb. 26, 1946, I advised the attorney general by telephone and subsequently by memorandum, of the receipt of information from a confidential source reflecting the possibility that Harry Dexter White might have received some notice of either the cancellation or impending cancellation of his appointment as a United States delegate to the International Monetary Fund.

I did not know whether anything had been said to White or whether any action had been taken to cancel his appointment.

The decision to retain White was made by a higher government authority. Obviously, if a higher authority elected to shift a man rather than fire him, if he was suspect, then it would go without saying that we would continue our investigation as best we could.

If in fact there was any agreement to move White from the Treasury Department to the International Monetary Fund to aid in the FBI investigation and to surround him with persons who were not security risks, then the agreement would have been broken very early because Mr. Virginius Frank Coe, a close associate of Harry Dexter White, become the secretary of the International Monetary Fund in June, 1946, which position he held until Dec. 3, 1952, when he was dismissed after invoking the Fifth Amendment in an appearance before this committee last December.

It is particularly significant that he declined to answer questions regarding his relationship with White.

Information on Coe had been furnished to the White House as early as Feb. 25, 1946; to the attorney general, Feb. 23, 1946, and Feb. 25, 1946, and to the Treasury Department as early as March 4, 1946.

From the foregoing, it is clear that the FBI called to the attention of the appropriate authorities the facts, as alleged by reliable sources, which were substantial in pointing to a security risk, as they occurred.

It is equally clear that the FBI did not depart from its traditional position of making no evaluation, and was not a party to any agreement to keep White in public service.

SPY CASE WITNESS—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover tells Senate Internal Security subcommittee he warned the White House seven times between Nov. 8, 1945 and July 24, 1946, that Harry Dexter White was a security risk.

Brig. Gen. Harry Hawkins Vaughan
Military Aide to the President
The White House,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Gen. Vaughan:

As a result of the Bureau's investigative operations, information has been recently developed from a highly confidential source indicating that a number of persons employed by the Government of the United States have been furnishing data and information to persons outside the Federal Government, who are in turn transmitting this information to espionage agents of the Soviet Government.

At the present time it is impossible to determine exactly how many of these people had actual knowledge of the disposition being made of the information they were transmitting.

The investigation, however, at this point has indicated that the persons named hereinafter were actually the source from which information passing through the Soviet espionage system was being obtained, and I am continuing vigorous investigation for the purpose of establishing the degree and nature of the complicity of these people in this espionage ring.

The Bureau's information at this time indicates that the following persons were participants in this operation or were utilized by principals in this ring for the purpose of obtaining data in which the Soviet is interested:

Dr. Gregory Silvermaster, a long time employe of the Department of Agriculture.

Harry Dexter White, assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury.

George Silverman, formerly employed by the Railroad Retirement Board, and now reportedly in the War Department.

Laughlin Currie, former administrative assistant to the late President Roosevelt.

Victor Perlow, formerly with the War Production Board and the Foreign Economic Administration.

Donald Wheeler, formerly with the Office of Strategic Services.

Maj. Duncan Lee, Office of Strategic Services.

Julius Joseph, Office of Strategic Services.

Helen Tenney, Office of Strategic Services.

Charles Kramer, formerly associated with Sen. Kilgore.

Capt. William Ludwig Ullman, United States Army Air Corps.

Lieut. Col. John H. Reynolds of the United States Army, a former contact of Gaik Ovakimian, former head of the Soviet secret intelligence (NKVD) in New York, is also apparently involved in the Soviet espionage activities stemming from Washington, D. C.

In addition to the foregoing group in the government it appears at this time that Mary Price, formerly secretary to Walter Lippmann, the newspaper columnist and presently publicity manager of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, CIO, is also associated with the foregoing group.

The government documents were furnished to Gregory Silvermaster, who thereafter photographed them and turned over the undeveloped, but exposed film to a contact of the Soviets in either Washington, D. C. or New York City. In the past, it is reported, the contact man made trips to Washington, D. C. once every two weeks and would pick up on such occasions an average of 40 rolls of 35-millimeter film.

Investigation of this matter is being pushed vigorously, but I thought that the President and you would be interested in having the foregoing preliminary data immediately.

With expressions of my highest esteem and best regards,

Sincerely yours,
(S) J. EDGAR HOOVER

Brig. Gen. Harry Hawkins Vaughan
Military Aide to the President
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Personally Delivered 2/4/46

Dear Gen. Vaughan:

As of interest to the President and you, I am attaching a detailed memorandum hereto concerning Harry Dexter White, assistant secretary of the United States Treasury Department.

As you are aware, the name of Harry Dexter White has been sent to Congress by the President for confirmation of his appointment as one of the two United States delegates on the International Monetary Fund under the Bretton Woods agreement.

In view of this fact, the interest expressed by the President and you in matters of this nature, and the seriousness of the charges against White in the attachment, I have made every effort in preparing this memorandum to cover all possible ramifications.

As will be observed, information has come to the attention of this Bureau charging White as being a valuable adjunct to an underground Soviet espionage organization operating in Washington, D. C. Material which came into his possession as a result of his official capacity allegedly was made available through intermediaries to Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, his wife, Helen White Silvermaster, and William Ludwig Ullmann.

Both Silvermaster and Ullmann are employes of the United States Treasury Department, reportedly directly under the supervision of White.

The information and documents originating in the Treasury Department were either passed on in substance or photographed by Ullman in a well-equipped laboratory in the basement of the Silvermaster home. Following this step, the material was taken to New York City by courier and made available to Jacob M. Golos, until the time of his death on Nov. 27, 1943.

Golos, a known Soviet agent, delivered this material to an individual tentatively identified as Gaik Ovakimian. Ovakimian you will recall was arrested some years ago as an unregistered agent of the Soviet Government and subsequently, by special arrangements with the Department of State, was permitted to return to the U.S.S.R.

After the departure of Gaik Ovakimian, Golos delivered his material to an individual who has been tentatively identified as—(Brownell did not read this individual's name when he testified.) Subsequent to the death of Golos, the courier handling material received from the Silvermasters and Ullman delivered it through an unidentified individual to Anotole Borisovich Gromov, who until Dec. 7, 1945, was assigned as first secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Washington, D. C., when he returned to the U.S.S.R.

Gromov had previously been under suspicion as the successor to Vassili Zubilin, reported head of the NKVD in North America, who returned to Moscow in the late summer of 1944. This whole network has been under intensive investigation since November, 1945, and it is the results of these efforts that I am now able to make available to you.

I also feel that it is incumbent upon me at this time to bring to your attention an additional factor which has originated with sources available to this Bureau in Canada. It is reported that the British and Canadian delegates on the International Monetary Fund may possibly nominate and support White for the post of president of the International Bank, or as executive director of the International Monetary Fund.

The conclusion is expressed that assuming this backing is forthcoming and the United States acquiescence, if not concurrence, resulting, White's nomination to this highly important post would be assured. It is further commented by my Canadian source that if White is placed in either of these positions, he would have the power to influence to a great degree deliberations on all international financial arrangements.

This source, which is apparently aware of at least some of the charges incorporated in the attached memorandum against White, commented that the loyalty of White must be assured, particularly in view of the fact that the U.S.S.R. has not ratified the Bretton Woods agreement.

Fear was expressed that facts might come to light in the future throwing some sinister accusations at White and thereby jeopardize the successful operation of these important international financial institutions.

I thought you would be particularly interested in the above comments, which originated with sources high-placed in the Canadian Government, on the subject at hand.

With expressions of my highest esteem,

Sincerely yours,

Hollywood Wages War Better Than Pancho Villa

By BILLY ROSE

The other midnight at Sardi's, the talk got around to daffy doings in that daffiest of all business—movies.

BILLY ROSE

"Here's a yarn that's hard to top," said Harry Tugend, the Hollywood script writer, "and if you think I'm fancying it up, you can check it in either of two books—'The Cameraman' by Francis A. Collins, or 'A Million And One Nights' by Terry Ramsaye. . .

As Tugend told it, back in 1914 Harry Aiken, president of an outfit known as Mutual Studios, decided to make a picture about the insurrection in Mexico.

At first he planned to shoot the interiors on the back lot of a movie studio and the big battles in the hills around Los Angeles.

His second notion was a more ambitious one—to make a deal with Pancho Villa, the famous outlaw, and photograph some of his actual raids and battles.

Acting as Aiken's representative, Frank M. Thayer went to Mexico and made contact with Villa. For the first half hour the bandit played hard to get but then, for the sake of posterity, he agreed to cooperate.

All he asked in return was star billing, 25,000 American dollars and a hefty chunk of the profits.

Surprisingly enough, the generalissimo more than lived up to the letter of the pact. First, to make sure the cameramen would have plenty of light to work with, he agreed to fight only between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Second, at the request of L. M. Burrud, the chief lensman, he issued orders that his soldiers were to hold their fire until the enemy was in focus.

Third—and this on his own insistence — he showed up each morning in plenty of time to let a makeup man touch up his features for the close-ups.

During the weeks which followed, the Mutual cameramen recorded thousands of feet of authentic mayhem. And, from start to finish, everything was made easy for the men who were documenting the bandit's feats for posterity—or at least Loew's Delancey.

On one occasion, when Villa was short of trucks and had to choose between sending camera supplies or ammunition to a battlefield, he let his canoneers wait.

On another occasion—the attack on the town of Ojinaga across the Rio Grande from Presidio, Texas—he postponed a raid until the cameras were set up for maximum results.

During this raid, he pulled his men back and had them attack all over again so the photographers could get the necessary retakes.

As if that weren't enough, Villa one day trained a battery of field guns on a hillside and blew an entire detachment of men to bits.

It wasn't until the shooting had ended that the Mutual crew learned the detachment was made up of political prisoners whom the bandit was tired of feeding.

When Burrud and his men returned to New York, the "takes" were run off for the Mutual executives who were all primed to witness the most exciting war shots ever filmed. As it turned out however, they were badly let down.

Actual death they found, on film at least, was a lot less realistic than acted-out death. Real battles, even when carefully stage-managed, were sprawling, dirty, unglamorous affairs.

There were a few exciting shots, of course, but taken in toto there was little in the Mexican footage on which to base a full-length picture.

In somewhat of a panic, Harry Aiken sent out a hurry call for a young director named D. W. Griffith and hired him to shoot a tricked-up scenario about Villa.

Well, the Griffith version was nothing to get excited about either, but it was at least a film which could be shown.

As the bossman of Mutual later put it, "For movie purposes, David Griffith can make better war on a studio lot than all the generals from Alexander the Great to Napoleon."

University of California Will Study Diprotodon

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — Officials at the University of California have arranged for a study of the fossil of a diprotodon, a rhinoceros-type animal that lived in Australia 10,000,000 years ago.

The fossil is being shipped here from that country where it was discovered by an expedition led by Dr. R. A. Stirton, chairman of the school's department of paleontology. Stirton notified school authorities that the remains were found in a burial ground near Lake Callabonna in south Australia.

The temperature of birds is higher than that of mammals.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

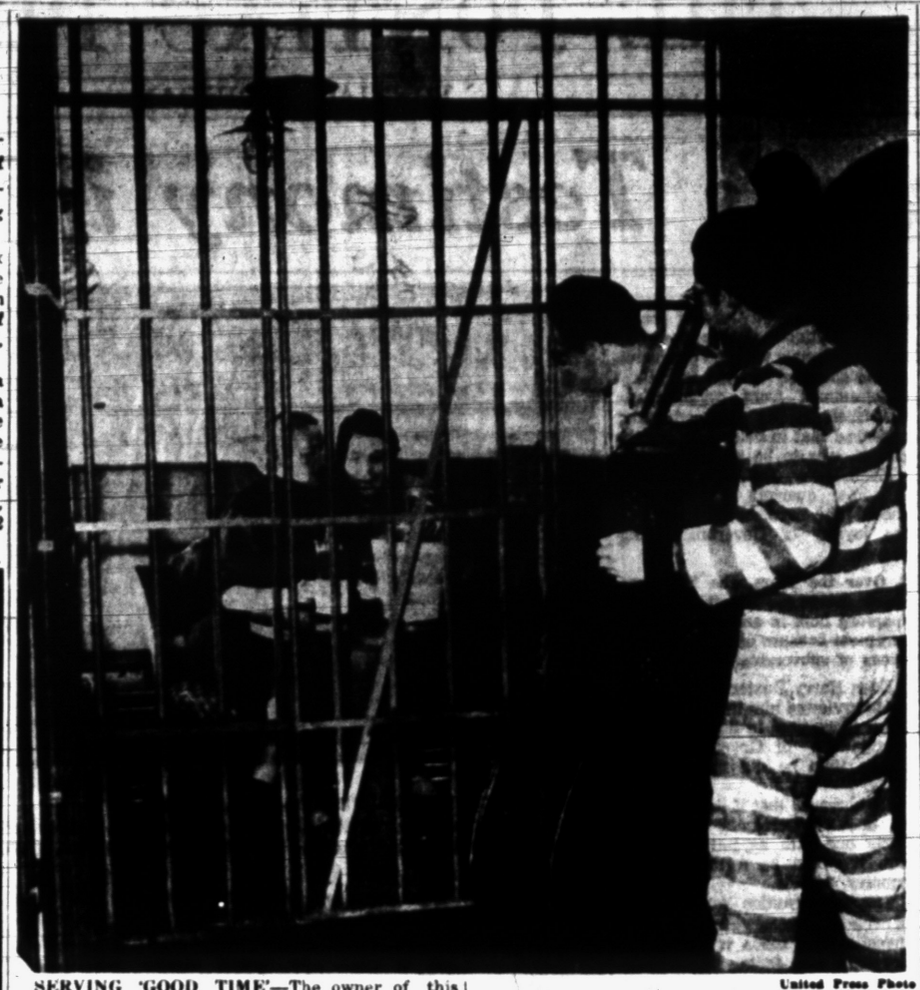

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Pension Advocated Instead of a Raise

CHICAGO (UP) — A smart executive will turn down a raise if he can get a pension instead, according to the Commerce Clearing House.

For a man in the upper tax brackets, a plan to provide income after retirement provides much more take-home pay because of the low tax rate on pension money, the CCH said.

If a $50,000 executive gets a $10,000 raise, assuming he files a joint tax return, two-thirds of the increase will be paid out in income taxes. If the $10,000 could be deferred and paid to him in a year in which he has no other income, the tax bite would be only $1,822 at present rates.

SERVING 'GOOD TIME'—The owner of this Hamburg, Germany, bar and grill decided that business had slipped far enough and remedied the situation in this manner. Patrons are entertained by the "Sing-Sing" band and are sometimes delighted to the extent that they absent-mindedly demand to see their lawyers.

Couples Without Children Lead in Divorce Rate

CANBERRA (UP)—Australians divorced in 1952 included 65 couples who had been married 30 years or more and who had at least five children. One couple married less than five years, with four children, was divorced.

A table of divorces according to the duration of marriage and the number of children showed that the biggest group was of couples married between five and nine years without children. Of a total 7,042 divorces, 990 were of this group.

Bicycles Have Bumpy History

First One Built in 18th Century; 18 Million in Use Today

WASHINGTON (UP) — The life history of the bicycle has been one long romantic ride.

The bicycle-built-for-two sparked romance as well as songwriters in the Gay Nineties. Bicycle racing reached its heyday around the turn of the century and champion racers were sports heroes.

But the bicycle had a slow and bumpy beginning. A Frenchman built the first bicycle in the latter part of the 18th Century. It had no pedals and the rider had to make it go by pushing his feet on the ground.

The English advanced the comfort of the new vehicle by adding an adjustable seat and arm rests. Later pedals were added to the front wheels which, because of their awkward position, quickly won for this model the name "boneshaker."

By the late 1860s the Americans had built a steam-operated velocipede which had the dubious advantage of a steam boiler under the seat and a smoke stack at the rider's back.

The first practical bicycle was the high front-wheeled model introduced in the 1870s. The danger of being tossed over the handlebars at every bump appealed to the daredevils of the time and cycling became a nationwide sport.

Bicycle production leaped to 1,000,000 from 250,000 in the 10-year period 1889 to 1899. There are about 18,000,000 bicycles in use today.

Reaping Profits From Business of French Fries

CHICAGO (INS)—A 40-year-old Chicagoan, Lawrence Burg, dreamed while in the Army of owning his own business and because of a "fortunate accident" today is reaping profits with his potato company.

After World War II, Burg went back to his old job at Commonwealth Edison Co. He often visited restaurants and heard owners complain about their French fried potato troubles.

Then he accidentally wandered into an electric cooking equipment demonstration in 1950 and discovered that French fries were the hit of the show.

He found that these French fries were the product of a special process developed by George F. Dolan of St. Paul. The potatoes were not frozen, merely refrigerated, and their quality guaranteed for five years after delivery to a restaurant.

Burg obtained the Chicago franchise, gave up his 15 years seniority at Edison and sank $25,000 into the business. The original two-man plant now employs 21 and it recently delivered its millionth pound of potatoes.

State Aid Sought for Water Study

Rep. Broomfield Asks Funds to Survey Needs of Oakland Area

LANSING (UP) —Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) yesterday launched a drive to obtain state financial aid for a comprehensive water and sewage survey in southeastern Michigan.

Broomfield, who believes the state should share in cost of the extensive project, met with state budget director, Frank Landers, and state controller, John W. Lederle, to request state aid for the survey.

Milton P. Adams, executive director of the state water resources commission, also attended the meeting.

The Royal Oak Republican asked Landers to include a request for funds to start the survey in the 1954-55 budget request that goes to the legislature in January.

"I firmly believe the state should take an active part in this survey from a financial standpoint because it affects about half of the state's population," Broomfield said.

"I am gravely concerned about the acute water supply situation facing residents of Oakland and surrounding counties."

Broomfield said the water supply and sewage problems in many southeast Michigan communities are "critical" and "something must be done soon to solve this problem."

He said a special advisory committee of the state water resources commission, named to study the area's water problems, has estimated a survey may cost as much as $775,000.

Landers told Broomfield the state normally does not share in cost of water supply surveys but said his request would be given "every consideration." Broomfield said he plans to meet with state fiscal leaders again to make a more detailed report on the survey.

GROVELAND OVER GOAL—Vern Willard of Farmington, president of Oakland County Twenty Townships United Fund, accepts a check for Groveland Township's share of the Twenty Townships quota from Mrs. E. D. Rogers, Groveland campaign chairman. Groveland, in its first united drive, was the first Twenty Townships' unit to reach its goal this fall, raising $492—just over its $491.12 quota.

Groveland Team Collects $492

20 Rural County Areas Now Have $55,457 of $110,000 Goal

Groveland Township rang up $492 this week to become the first Oakland County Twenty Townships United Fund unit to raise its 1953 quota.

In its first united drive, the pace-setting Groveland team, headed by Mrs. E. D. Rogers of Holly, had taken a quota of $491.12 as its share of the Twenty Townships county-wide goal of $110,000.

The Twenty Townships office said today that individual drives in the county's rural areas have yielded $55,457 to date.

Benefiting from Twenty Townships' money are Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross; Michigan Children's Aid Society; North and South Oakland Councils, Girl Scouts; Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts; St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic; Oakland County Town and Country YMCA; and agencies of the United Health and Welfare Fund of Michigan.

"The county campaigns, by and large, are going very well," Vern Willard of Farmington, Twenty Townships United Fund president, commented.

"And Groveland made its debut into united campaigning with a 'bang.'" Willard and Mrs. Rogers both credited Groveland's "wonderful workers" for the area's early success.

Townships in the Twenty Townships often add their own local agencies' needs to their shares of the Twenty Townships quota to make up individual township goals.

Other townships, their individual goals and the amounts they have raised are:

MRS. WILLIAM T. WITHNER

150 Attend Nuptials

Shirley Faye Gesch Wed at Waterford Church Rite

WATERFORD—In a nuptial high mass in Our Lady of the Lakes Church Saturday noon, Shirley Faye Gesch became the bride of William T. Withner of Memphis, Tenn.

The ceremony, held before an altar banked with white mums, was attended by 150 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hillman of 4172 Waterloo are the parents of the bride. William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Withner of Franklin Park, Ill.

Shirley wore a gown of lace over satin with a sculptured fitted bodice, portrait neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her lace peplum cascaded down the back over a full nylon tulle skirt extending in a full cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion nylon was held in place by a Juliet cap of satin and tulle.

She carried a white orchid, purple throated, with white roses around a prayer book.

Mrs. H. C. Mullins of Beloit, Wis., sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor.

She wore a gown of yellow nylon marquisette over taffeta with a lace trim and a full gathered skirt and a matching cap. Her hand cascade bouquet was of dark bronze pompom mums and yellow roses.

Bridesmaid was Marilynn Miller of Keego Harbor attired in aqua marquisette over taffeta and a full gathered skirt and matching cap. She carried a hand cascade bouquet of light bronze pompon mums and tan roses and streamers.

Best man was James Withner of Wheaton, Ill., the bridegroom's brother. Groomsmen were Mike Morley of Elmhurst, Ill., cousin of the bridegroom, and Patrick Daly, brother-in-law of the bridegroom from Franklin Park, Ill.

The bride's mother chose plum with ice pink trim for her dress and Mrs. Withner wore an aqua suit dress with pink accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church hall, and a family dinner was given in the afternoon at the Old Mill Tavern.

After a wedding trip to Chicago, the newlyweds will live in Memphis, Tenn., where the bridegroom is employed with Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors.

William attended General Motors Institute where he was graduated in 1948. Shirley is a graduate of Waterford Township High School.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Flint, Fenton, Grand Blanc, Detroit, Clawson, Bloomfield Hills, Manistee, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio.

Ready 'Fair' at Waterford

Township High School Seniors Hold Carnival Saturday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Saturday will be a big day for Waterford Township High School seniors.

Their carnival, "Little World's Fair," held to sponsor the senior trip, will open at 7 p.m. and run until midnight in the school gym.

According to Bruce Craig, plans for the affair, which will include dancing, a hay ride, concessions, games and booths, are almost complete.

Topping the evening's festivities will be the crowning of a king and queen.

Another outstanding feature will be a display of custom built and sports cars, Craig said.

Aiding in the planning of the carnival are Pat Parker and Gerry Smith, cochairmen; Chuck Kehrer, publicity; Bruce Horton, decorations; Bill Gard, set up; Chuck Ealy, entertainment; and Carol Lee Munroe, refreshments.

Rounding out the list are Betty Jo Reed, prizes; Pat Fawcett, planning; Pat Owens, booths; Marilyn Shell, king and queen contest; Jo Ann Parcells, tickets; and Lew Fitzgerald, tickets.

Library Lists Books Suited to Youngsters

In keeping with Children's Book Week being observed nationally, Pontiac Librarian Adah Shelly today listed various books suitable for youngsters.

The picture-book set and beginning readers should enjoy the following:

Geisel, "Scrambled Eggs Supper;" Chons, "Florina and the Wild Bird;" Hogan, "A Bear is a Bear;" and Ward, "The Biggest Bear."

Stories for older readers include:

Norton, "The Borrowers;" Jackson, "Julie's Secret Sloth;" Farley, "The Black Stallion Revolts;" Hogan, "Howl at the Moon;" and a collection of poems by Untermeyer, "The Magic Circle."

Informative books recommended include:

Candy, "Nature Notebook;" Zim, "What's Inside of Animals;" Bendick, "The First Book of Space Travel;" Lawson, "Mr. Revere and I;" White, "The First Men in the World;" and Adams, "The Erie Canal."

Miss Shelly said the public library would be glad to furnish prices of books listed and information on any other works.

Shunck to Address Hudson Covert PTA

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools, will speak on the present school situation in the township at a meeting of Hudson Covert PTA tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

An open house will also be held and second grade rooms will serve refreshments with Mrs. George Zanneth as chairman and Mrs. Martyn, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Grischaw assisting.

A state hospital for the insane at Williamsburg, Virginia, is believed to be the oldest such institution, publicly supported, in the United States.

Dewey Prestige May Be Injured

Wicks to Resign, Not Be Ousted as Governor Demanded

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks today was on his way out as Senate leader—but under circumstances viewed as a serious blow to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's political prestige.

Wicks agreed to resign, in the near future as majority leader and temporary president of the Senate, in return for a promise from his Republican colleagues not to comply with Dewey's demand that he be ousted.

The agreement was reached late yesterday behind closed doors in a dramatic GOP Senate conference that lasted 2 hours and 40 minutes. Wicks will submit his resignation before the 1954 session of the legislature begins in January. Some sources predicted he would resign in the next day or two. He will continue as a senator.

The Dewey camp hailed the outcome as a victory for the governor, who had insisted that Wicks, because of his Sing Sing Prison visits to labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay, quit or else be stripped of his leadership at the special session of the legislature, which opened yesterday.

A source close to Dewey said, "One thing is clear, despite some face-saving. That is that Wicks is on his way out."

But the Wicks forces viewed the turn of events as a major political setback for the governor. For, in accepting Wicks' plea that he be permitted to resign after the special session, the Republican Senate majority went counter to Dewey's wishes.

Democrats went even further. Some characterized it as a "repudiation" of Dewey's leadership. They jubiliantly began envisaging a decision by Dewey not to seek re-election next year. The Democrats would rather take on anybody but Dewey at the polls in this state.

Woman Killed in Train Plot

Is Robbed, Pushed Off but Man Escapes in Germany

KITZINGEN, Germany (AP) — Simone De Ridder, 51-year-old Belgian ice skating instructor and mother of an Olympic champion, died here today of injuries suffered when she was thrown from a moving train.

Police sought a tall, thin man who was believed to have pushed Mrs. De Ridder from an international train before dawn Tuesday after robbing her.

The woman died without regaining consciousness. Hospital aides said she had suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries.

The Kitzingen station master told police that as the train rolled slowly through the yards early Tuesday he saw a woman clinging to a window ledge while a man tried to pry her grip loose.

The train conductor said he saw a tall, dark man run from a compartment and try to leap from the train.

The conductor said he pulled the emergency cord and as the train stopped, the man jumped off and fled into the darkness.

Trainmen found Mrs. De Ridder alongside the tracks.

PTA Meeting Canceled

WALLED LAKE — Because of a joint meeting of all Walled Lake PTA groups Dec. 2 conducted by the Board of Education, the regular monthly meeting of the high school PTA has been canceled for this month. The meeting was to be held tomorrow with a board member speaking.

GROVELAND OVER GOAL—Vern Willard of Farmington, president of Oakland County Twenty Townships United Fund, accepts a check for Groveland Township's share of the Twenty Townships quota from Mrs. E. D. Rogers, Groveland campaign chairman. Groveland, in its first united drive, was the first Twenty Townships' unit to reach its goal this fall, raising $492—just over its $491.12 quota.

Groveland Team Collects $492

20 Rural County Areas Now Have $55,457 of $110,000 Goal

Groveland Township rang up $492 this week to become the first Oakland County Twenty Townships United Fund unit to raise its 1953 quota.

In its first united drive, the pace-setting Groveland team, headed by Mrs. E. D. Rogers of Holly, had taken a quota of $491.12 as its share of the Twenty Townships county-wide goal of $110,000.

The Twenty Townships office said today that individual drives in the county's rural areas have yielded $55,457 to date.

Benefiting from Twenty Townships' money are Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross; Michigan Children's Aid Society; North and South Oakland Councils, Girl Scouts; Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts; St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic; Oakland County Town and Country YMCA; and agencies of the United Health and Welfare Fund of Michigan.

"The county campaigns, by and large, are going very well," Vern Willard of Farmington, Twenty Townships United Fund president, commented.

"And Groveland made its debut into united campaigning with a 'bang.'" Willard and Mrs. Rogers both credited Groveland's "wonderful workers" for the area's early success.

Townships in the Twenty Townships often add their own local agencies' needs to their shares of the Twenty Townships quota to make up individual township goals.

Other townships, their individual goals and the amounts they have raised are:

MRS. WILLIAM T. WITHNER

150 Attend Nuptials

Shirley Faye Gesch Wed at Waterford Church Rite

WATERFORD—In a nuptial high mass in Our Lady of the Lakes Church Saturday noon, Shirley Faye Gesch became the bride of William T. Withner of Memphis, Tenn.

The ceremony, held before an altar banked with white mums, was attended by 150 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hillman of 4172 Waterloo are the parents of the bride. William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Withner of Franklin Park, Ill.

Shirley wore a gown of lace over satin with a sculptured fitted bodice, portrait neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her lace peplum cascaded down the back over a full nylon tulle skirt extending in a full cathedral train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion nylon was held in place by a Juliet cap of satin and tulle.

She carried a white orchid, purple throated, with white roses around a prayer book.

Mrs. H. C. Mullins of Beloit, Wis., sister of the bridegroom, served as matron of honor.

She wore a gown of yellow nylon marquisette over taffeta with a lace trim and a full gathered skirt and a matching cap. Her hand cascade bouquet was of dark bronze pompom mums and yellow roses.

Bridesmaid was Marilynn Miller of Keego Harbor attired in aqua marquisette over taffeta and a full gathered skirt and matching cap. She carried a hand cascade bouquet of light bronze pompon mums and tan roses and streamers.

Best man was James Withner of Wheaton, Ill., the bridegroom's brother. Groomsmen were Mike Morley of Elmhurst, Ill., cousin of the bridegroom, and Patrick Daly, brother-in-law of the bridegroom from Franklin Park, Ill.

The bride's mother chose plum with ice pink trim for her dress and Mrs. Withner wore an aqua suit dress with pink accessories and a pink rose corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church hall, and a family dinner was given in the afternoon at the Old Mill Tavern.

After a wedding trip to Chicago, the newlyweds will live in Memphis, Tenn., where the bridegroom is employed with Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors.

William attended General Motors Institute where he was graduated in 1948. Shirley is a graduate of Waterford Township High School.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Flint, Fenton, Grand Blanc, Detroit, Clawson, Bloomfield Hills, Manistee, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Illinois and Ohio.

Township High School Seniors Hold Carnival Saturday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Saturday will be a big day for Waterford Township High School seniors.

Their carnival, "Little World's Fair," held to sponsor the senior trip, will open at 7 p.m. and run until midnight in the school gym.

According to Bruce Craig, plans for the affair, which will include dancing, a hay ride, concessions, games and booths, are almost complete.

Topping the evening's festivities will be the crowning of a king and queen.

Another outstanding feature will be a display of custon built and sports cars, Craig said.

Aiding in the planning of the carnival are Pat Parker and Gerry Smith, cochairmen; Chuck Kehrer, publicity; Bruce Horton, decorations; Bill Gard, set up; Chuck Ealy, entertainment; and Carol Lee Munroe, refreshments.

Rounding out the list are Betty Jo Reed, prizes; Pat Fawcett, planning; Pat Owens, booths; Marilyn Shell, king and queen contest; Jo Ann Parcells, tickets; and Lew Fitzgerald, tickets.

Library Lists Books Suited to Youngsters

In keeping with Children's Book Week being observed nationally, Pontiac Librarian Adah Shelly today listed various books suitable for youngsters.

The picture-book set and beginning readers should enjoy the following:

Geisel, "Scrambled Eggs Supper;" Chons, "Florina and the Wild Bird;" Hogan, "A Bear is a Bear;" and Ward, "The Biggest Bear."

Stories for older readers include:

Norton, "The Borrowers;" Jackson, "Julie's Secret Sloth;" Farley, "The Black Stallion Revolts;" Hogan, "Howl at the Moon;" and a collection of poems by Untermeyer, "The Magic Circle."

Informative books recommended include:

Candy, "Nature Notebook;" Zim, "What's Inside of Animals;" Bendick, "The First Book of Space Travel;" Lawson, "Mr. Revere and I;" White, "The First Men in the World;" and Adams, "The Erie Canal."

Miss Shelly said the public library would be glad to furnish prices of books listed and information on any other works.

Shunck to Address Hudson Covert PTA

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools, will speak on the present school situation in the township at a meeting of Hudson Convert PTA tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

An open house will also be held and second grade rooms will serve refreshments with Mrs. George Zanneth as chairman and Mrs. Martyn, Mrs. McLaughlin and Mrs. Grischaw assisting.

Dewey Prestige May Be Injured

Wicks to Resign, Not Be Ousted as Governor Demanded

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks today was on his way out as Senate leader—but under circumstances viewed as a serious blow to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's political prestige.

Wicks agreed to resign in the near future as majority leader and temporary president of the Senate, in return for a promise from his Republican colleagues not to comply with Dewey's demand that he be ousted.

The agreement was reached late yesterday behind closed doors in a dramatic GOP Senate conference that lasted 7 hours and 40 minutes. Wicks will submit his resignation before the 1954 session of the legislature begins in January. Some sources predicted he would resign in the next day or two. He will continue as a senator.

The Dewey camp hailed the outcome as a victory for the governor, who had insisted that Wicks, because of his Sing Sing Prison visits to labor extortionist Joseph S. Fay, quit or else be stripped of his leadership at the special session of the legislature, which opened yesterday.

A source close to Dewey said, "One thing is clear, despite some face-saving. That is that Wicks is on his way out."

But the Wicks forces viewed the turn of events as a major political setback for the governor. For, in accepting Wicks' plea that he be permitted to resign after the special session, the Republican Senate majority went counter to Dewey's wishes.

Democrats went even further. Some characterized it as a "repudiation" of Dewey's leadership. They jubiliantly began envisaging a decision by Dewey not to seek re-election next year. The Democrats would rather take on anybody but Dewey at the polls in this state.

Woman Killed in Train Plot

ROKs Issue Threat to Jap Patrol Boats

PUSAN (AP)—The South Korean chief of naval operations today threatened to unlimber Navy guns on any Japanese patrol boats coming to the asistance of fishing boats "trespassing" in Korea waters.

Pak Ok Kyoo, the chief, told a press conference the Korean navy would "take necessary action for self-defense" if endangered by Japanese patrol craft.

Pak's statement followed a brush Sunday between Korean and Japanese patrol boats in the Japan Sea, were South Korea claims its territorial water extends as far as 60 miles from the coast. Two Japanese fishing boats escaped when the patrol craft helped them elude the South Korean patrol boats.

Billfold Found

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—M. E. Shanahan got back the billfold with $32 he lost in 1949. A repairman found it while working under Shanahan's house.

In center is Oveta Culp Hobby, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Wrestling Bruin Stunt Proves Hard to Bear

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The local wrestling promoter had multiplying troubles today.

He brought in a grappling bruin known as Gorgeous Gus.

Police refused to let the bear parade downtown in a publicity stunt. At the arena the burly bear ripped up the shower room before he was to be led into the ring.

And when finally in wrestling toggery, he twice stormed out of the ring in quest of food and water.

The abbreviated match was called off.

Baby Sitter Saves 4, Then Puts Out Fire

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP)—Fire Chief Harry L. Ridout thinks 11-year-old Caroline Haney is a model baby-sitter. Caroline was alone with her sister's four children, ranging in age from one to five, when fire broke out in the kitchen.

Caroline carried the baby and led the other three to safety out doors, then calmly returned and extinguished the blaze before the walls were ignited.

It is estimated that the Dead Sea contains two million tons of potash.

Paul, Frederika Not Offended by Show in LA

BELEN, N. M. (AP)—Los Angeles' perturbed officials can relax—the King and Queen of Greece took no offense at entertainment presented them in the Coast city.

As a matter of fact, petite Queen Frederika said during a short stop here yesterday on the royal couple's eastbound trip that she thought "it was lovely."

And King Paul answered when asked if he thought the performance was risque:

"Not at all, not at all."

• • •

It all began at a banquet given last Saturday in Los Angeles. Songstress Eartha Kitt and actor Dick Powell drew the belated ire of the Los Angeles officials who considered the entertainment risque.

Mayor Norris Poulson said he was shocked with the program, especially with some of Miss Kitt's songs. Other politicos lamented part of Powell's chatter.

Eddie Rio of the American Guild of Variety Artists said, "It'll be a cold day before I ask another entertainer to appear at a civic function for free."

• • •

Miss Kitt declared last night, "It now seems to me that Mayor Poulson owes me and every artist on that program an apology."

As for the King and Queen, they seemed a trifle amused that such a question ever arose.

Upsets, Dodging Deer

MUSKEGON (AP) — Martin Karlsons, 19, said he was trying to dodge deer on M104 east of Spring Lake when his car upset. The car rolled over six times. Karlsons wasn't hurt.

New Measles, Mumps Pile Up

126 Cases in One Week Reported by Oakland County Health Office

New cases of mumps and measles piled up last week to their highest totals this fall, according to Oakland County Health Department reports.

The weekly report, released by Dr. John D. Monroe, health director, showed 91 new cases of measles, as against 61 the previous week.

Thirty-five new cases of mumps were found, compared with 14 the week before.

Scatered cases of pneumonia, scarlet fever, tuberculosis, whooping cough, Rubella (German measles) and even a case of polio and rabies also showed up. Chicken pox dropped to a total of 19 new cases, however, from 47 the week before.

The health department's complete report reads as follows:

	Week Past Week	Ending Nov 7 1953	Ending Nov 15 1952
Chicken pox	19	47	27
Measles	91	61	3
Pneumonia (all forms)	2	0	0
Poliomyelitis	1	4	7
Scarlet fever	9	11	9
Tuberculosis (all forms)	5	0	0
Whooping cough	5	4	0
Mumps	35	14	9
Rubella	6	3	9
Diarrhea	2	1	2
Rabies in animals	1	0	1

Measles cases seemed to skirt Pontiac last week.

For the second straight week, no new cases of measles and just one of Rubella (German measles) were listed on the Pontiac City Health Department's report, also released by Dr. Monroe.

Chicken pox was up to 11 new cases last week, however, from seven the previous week. The city report follows in full:

	Week Past Week	Ending Nov. 7 1953	Ending Nov 15 1952
Chicken pox	11	7	18
Gonorrhoea	8	12	9
Measles	0	0	9
Mumps	2	1	0
Pneumonia	1	1	0
Rubella	1	1	0
Salmonella (typhoid fever)	0	3	0
Scarlet fever	0	1	3
Syphilis	0	3	1
Tuberculosis	5	0	0
Whooping cough	5	0	1

Green-Haired Hunter!

MUSKEGON (AP) — A man with green hair got a hunting license at Mrs. Gordon Garrison's store at Wolf Lake. It was definitely green, no doubt about it. The man is a Florida nightclub entertainer who dyes his hair.

Enjoy rain-water softness for all your washing . . . use

NEW ARMOUR suds WITH TRI-POLLY

. . . THE BUILT-IN WATER SOFTENER!

You need it . . . You'll love it . . . here's WHY!

Most of the water in this area is hard water, containing minerals such as calcium and magnesium. When ordinary washday soaps are used in it they combine with the hard water minerals to form a "soap scum." This scum gets trapped in the fibers of your clothes and makes them look dull and gray.

New Armour Suds with Tri-Polly leaves your water soft as mineral-free rain-water, because it neutralizes the minerals, locks them up so they can't form clothes-graying soap scum. This, plus Armour Suds' brightening agent, is the reason your clothes wash brighter than new, and in half the usual time.

Cuts Your Washing Time in Two!

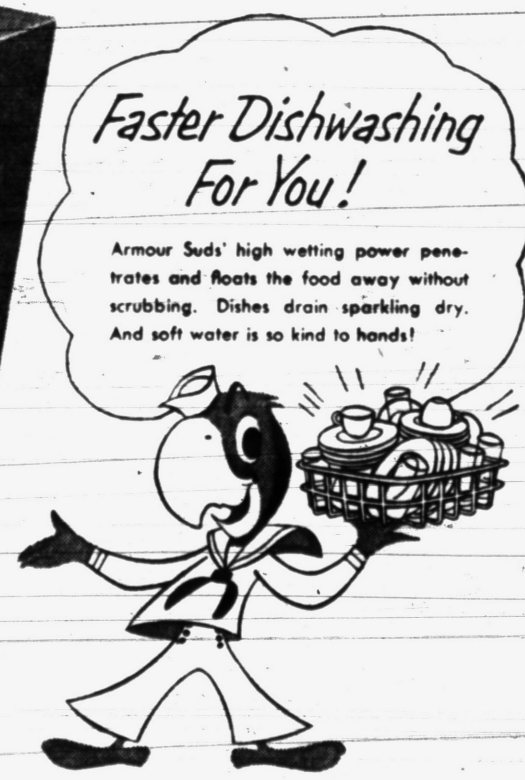

Set your washing machine at 8 minutes instead of 15. Armour Suds with Tri-Polly cleans in half the time, with half the washing wear.

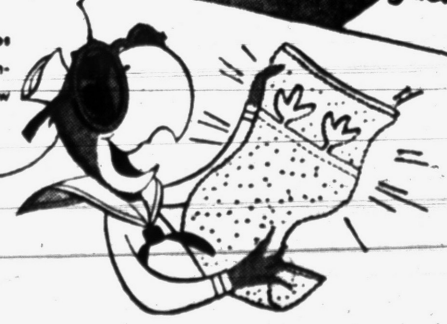

Faster Dishwashing For You!

Armour Suds' high wetting power penetrates and floats the food away without scrubbing. Dishes drain sparkling dry. And soft water is so kind to hands!

Gets Clothes Brighter than New!

Armour Suds with Tri-Polly removes soil completely . . . then its brightening agent gives a brighter than new sparkle to clothes.

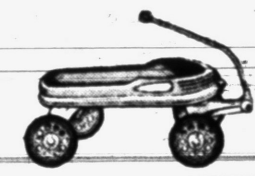

ARMOUR'S PLEDGE TO YOU!

If you don't find your clothes and dishes wash faster, cleaner, with new Armour Suds, we'll quickly return your money.

THE TIME IS NEAR . . .

Bread-Baking Switch

FORT WORTH, Tex. (INS)—The United States used to teach overseas for tips on the bread business, but now the baking tables are turned. William Walmsley of Chicago, Principal Emeritus of the School of Baking for the American Institute of Baking, holding a seminar in Fort Worth, said that many foreign lands now send men to this country to learn the art.

North Dakota's state capitol building is of skyscraper construction and a part of it is 18 stories high.

Horse Nail Sales Drop

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Capewell Manufacturing company, once known as the Capewell Horse Nail company, reports that its horse nail production dropped 90 per cent between 1915 and 1950. Nevertheless, it still turns out annually a million pounds of horse nails in hundreds of styles. Biggest demand for them come from the South, Southeast and Far West.

In normal years Kansas produces one-fifth of all the hard winter wheat grown in the U. S.

SYDNEY (INS)—Canadian Pacific Airlines has announced postponement of Comet jet airline service between Sydney and Honolulu for at least another year because only one Comet Mark 1A plane can be obtained from Britain this year.

French Officials Well-Schooled

Recent Program Calls for Intensive Training of Civil Servants

PARIS (UP)—American government workers complaining about two-hour IQ tests can't wring a tear today from their French counterparts.

Elite French civil servants have to go to school for 39 months.

The intensive study and on-the-job training were instituted in a drive to break the nightmarish inefficency of the French bureaucracy, long ridiculed all Europe.

But even now, civil service methods appear antiquated to an American.

There seem to be as many "huissiers"—porters with mysterious functions even they can't explain—as secretaries in some government buildings.

Long corridors, which in Washington would be echoing with busy sounds of typing and business machines, are strangely silent. Strangely silent, that is, until it is realized that more than 75 per cent of the work is still carried out with steel-nibbed pens. And French handwriting is as individualistic as the Gallic soul.

Telephones are relics, rickety and rarely functioning. This makes for miles of walking daily to conduct business.

But all of this is gradually changing. Spearhead of the attack is the French National School of Administratio...

Young men and women, mostly 18 to 26, from all over the country are admitted after stiff examinations to the school.

Salary for the whole 39-month study period is $1,400.

Top graduates, since the 1945 reforms starting the program, head for the Quai D'Orsay, finance or treasury departments, or the judiciary. Second-best go into regionals governors' officers (prefects), other ministries or nationalized industry like tobacco or matches.

Welfare Staff on Job

LONDON (INS)—A large staff of welfare officers is maintained on British railways to assure amenities in the operation of cloak rooms, rest rooms and canteens and the proper heating, lighting and ventilation of railroad properties.

Found and Then Lost

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UP)—A woman shopper saw a $10 bill on the sidewalk and turned it over to police. When she got home she discovered it was her money.

Crosby to Answer in $1 Million Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bing Crosby must file an answer within 10 days to the $1,051,400 damage suit brought against him by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Verdugo and Eulalio Perea, injured in an auto accident involving the crooner's foreign car.

The superior court yesterday overruled a demurrer entered by Crosby's lawyers and also refused his request to strike out a plea for $525,000 punitive damages included in the claims.

The plaintiffs allege that Crosby was under the influence of liquor Oct. 11, when the crash occurred in West Los Angeles. The singer's attorneys said his denials will be incorporated in the formal answer to be filed. Neither driver was cited by traffic officers.

Conciliators Would Avert Susan Hayward Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Conciliation proceedings by which Jess Barker hopes to save his marriage to Susan Hayward have been continued until Jan. 19.

But the actress said she did not believe continuance of the marriage would be best for their 8-year-old twin sons, since she no longer loves Barker. The couple spent two hours yesterday discussing their problems with a Children's Court of Conciliation commissioner.

Miss Hayward filed her divorce su. in September, charging mental cruelty. She and Barker were married in 1944 and separated last July.

Sprinklers Sprinkle 1 Week After Fire

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The sprinkler system in the attic of the State Capitol suddenly cut loose yesterday—almost a week after the fire that burned a small hole there.

Both mishaps were attributed to workmen repairing the roof of the historic structure.

Water from the sprinklers soaked down to a legislative committee room on the third floor yesterday and caused part of the ceiling to colapse in the second-floor office of the Department of Pubic Examiners.

Idea Launched by Random Call

'Strike It Rich' Phone Line Brings In Flood of Gifts, Cash

NEW YORK—A random telephone call to a television program a few years ago launched a unique nationwide charity institution, which today receives $150,000 annually in cash and other gifts from thousands of persons.

Its unusual—and appropriate—title is The Heartline, named for the donations that come in mainly on the telephone line from heart-touched television fans.

The Heartline is the little publicized aspect of television's "Strike It Rich," the program that helps needy and distressed persons by giving them a chance to win cash by answering quiz-type questions.

The Heartline provides cash and gifts, ranging from wheelchairs to automobile trailers, which viewers give to supplement studio winnings.

Within a few moments after "Strike It Rich" goes on the air each Wednesday night, the Heartline springs into action as lines start buzzing on the main television switchboard and on a battery of receivers backstage at CBS Television studio 51, at 485 West 39th Street, New York.

Some Heartliners' deeds take unusual turns. The New York Daily Mirror took a flock of CBS Television and Hollywood stars to a birthday party for a little Maryland girl, stricken with cancer, who had only a few weeks to live.

A Korean War soldier, a supposed orphan, not only got several adoption offers, but by chance a viewer told him the whereabouts of his long lost family. Many children whose parents have been ill have been given vacations by country resort people.

Large sums of money also are sent in by non-phoners in the 30,000 letters received weekly by "Strike It Rich."

A lady in Indiana, for example, mailed three $100 postal money orders, requesting they help contestants whose luck had not been too good with the questions on the program.

"What touches us most deeply here at the Heartline office is the money mailed in by former contestants who have struck it rich from benefactors on our program," says Mary Rose.

"Scores of them, too, keep writing us months afterward to report the progress of their rehabilitation, pyysical or financial.

Machine Checks Numerous Body Functions at Once

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A new medical machine developed here can record a heart beat at the same time it checks the amount of oxygen in your lungs and body cells.

Simultaneously, as it checks and records nine body functions, it can detect brain complications and tell a doctor whether his patient needs artificial respiration. Its development was a community project here.

First visualized by the staffs of the Southwestern Polio Respiratory Center and Baylor University's College of Medicine, the physiograph was put into practical application by Dr. Leslie Geddes. A team of physiologists, clinical men, physicists and medical technicians combined ideas for Geddes.

* * *

Yesterday, at a reception where the device was unveiled, Dr. William S. Spencer, director of the respiratory center, said:

"This is an effort to begin a whole flock of body function studies at one time, moment by moment studies because the disease may change the wa, a body reacts—moment by moment."

Other researchers said the machine can detect when a patient needs drugs to support a lagging heart. It is expected, they said, to be a key detector in diseases of the heart, lungs, and respiratory system and in brain complications or injuries.

Perpetrator of Hoax Will Keep His Job

CALGARY, Alberta (AP)—George Dupre, who admitted his story as "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk" under Nazi tortures was a hoax, apparently is going to keep his job as Calgary branch manager for a Canadian chemical firm.

A vice president of the firm said last night Dupre would retain his position because the company wanted to "give him a chance to come back."

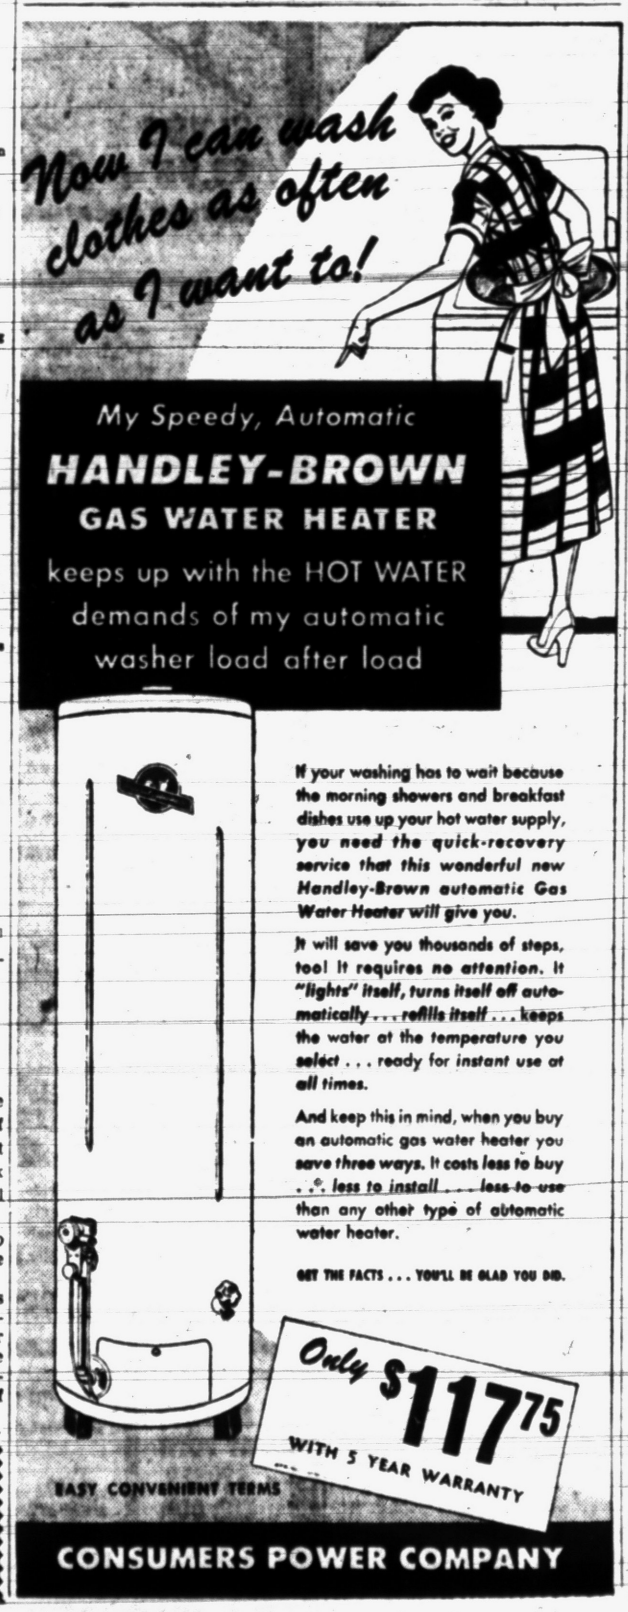

Dupre admitted last Friday that his tale of Nazi tortures during imaginary wartime service as a British spy in the French underground was false. The story had been written as a book by author Quentin Reynolds and published by Random House. A condensed version was published by the Readers' Digest in its November issue.

Weather Men Map Plans to War on African Locusts

GENEVA (AP)—The World Meteorological organization plans to take a crack at African locusts, plague of the Dark Continent for centuries.

What can weather men do about locusts?

Members of the organization's executive committee think they can do plenty, once they learn what weather conditions induce locusts to swarm and study the prevailing winds on which they ride.

At a session just ended here, it was decided to send a top meteorologist and assistant to Africa next year to make a study of both these conditions.

Scientists are convinced the locusts swarm under certain meteorological conditions and then move to the scenes of devastation which they create in the direction of certain wind currents. With definite data in hand, scientists can plan defensive measures.

Gustave Swoboda, acting secretary general of the organization, said information gathered in Africa also would be useful in South America and other regions plagued by locusts.

The project is being financed with funds from the United Nations Technical Assistance Program.

Swoboda said the organization also is undertaking a survey of flood-producing storms such as those which caused so much damage in England, Holland and Belgium last winter.

Meteorological services over the world have been asked to provide information on similar natural disasters. The organization hopes to use this for developing flood warning systems and improving the forecasting of such storms.

A standard code on weather reports for the 10,000 reporting weather stations of the world will be introduced in about a year, Swoboda said.

As a result of the U. S. decision to withdraw 14 weather ships from the North Atlantic next year, Swoboda added it will be necessary to rearrange a smaller number of ships to cover this important weather area. He said European weather forecasters would be handicapped most by this change since weather changes move from west to east.

Tax Dollars Saved by Public Employes

CHICAGO (UP) — The Civil Service Assembly says cities are taking a cue from private industry and profiting from employe suggestion systems.

Many states and cities have set up cash rewards for ideas which cut costs and save the taxpayers money, the assembly says.

Two New York state employes recently saved the State Conservation Department more than $40,000 and won $2,000 for themselves. They invented a chain-saw device for cutting and removing underwater pilings and cut a $50,000 job down to $6,000.

A suggestion that old steam radiators in the New York State Office Building be turned upside down won a $500 for an employe of the Department of Public Works. The change adds 20 years to the life of the radiator.

A state hospital employe in California was given $100 for suggesting that pillowcases be made of torn bedsheets. The idea saves $1,200 a year at the hospital, the assembly reported.

Extra Drake Disturbs Ducky Pool Existence

SOUTH PORTLAND, Maine (UP) — The trouble in the park pool started when a passerby thought there should be a one-for-one ratio.

The thoughtful soul donated a male duck to the park department because the pool was stocked with two female ducks and only one drake. The new arrangement was vigorously opposed by the first drake and attendants had to remove duck No. 2 from the pool in order to restore domestic harmony.

Duck Hunters Kill Four Clipped Wing Mallards

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Sheriff Roy Taylor is gunning for some duck hunters who shot his four sitting ducks. The sheriff kept the four clipped-wing mallards on a pond near his home. Shotgun blasts killed all of them.

Before the thermometer was invented, physicians developed unusual skill in measuring degrees of body temperature with their hands.

YOUTHFUL SKILL—Claude Okamoto, of Paris, France, is only seven years old, but he shows real professional painting skill. Here he is shown painting a portrait of French opera singer Maria Tasso. Claude, who has exhibited his paintings with great success, is the son of a French mother and a Japanese father who now make their home in Paris.

Police Break Up Burglary Ring

Arrest Lakes Seaman Who Admits 19 Thefts; 2 Others Held

EAST LANSING (AP) — State police claimed today to have solved a score of burglaries in three states with the arrest of two Great Lakes seamen and a third man.

Police said the wave of burglaries extended over a four-year period ranging from Erie, Pa. through Michigan to Green Bay, Wis.

Held in Ludington on a breaking and entering charge today was Ralph G. Hooten, 34, of Birch, a community near Marquette. Police said he was a fireman on a Great Lakes freighter.

Twenty-four-year-old Julius Stanley, an oiler on another Lakes freighter was picked up on a charge of participating in a burglary. He was free today on $5,000 bond.

Police said he had been picked up in connection with the burglarizing of a Ludington camera shop. He was alleged to have been a lookout man in the burglary.

The third man, Nicholas P. Wolf, 28, of Route 2, Dorr Township in Allegan County, was held in the county jail on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He is a brother-in-law of Hooten. He was to be arraigned today following arrest yesterday.

The other two men were picked up Oct. 3, and have already been arraigned in Ludington.

Police said that Hooten had specialized in breakins and had admitted 19 burglaries since 1949. The loot taken in the series of burglaries amounted to at least $10,000, they said.

Four sub machineguns and 15 clips of ammunition, three carbines, five automatic pistols and 6,300 rounds of ammunition were recovered in a dragging operation in the Rabbit River near Dorr Township where, police said, they had been thrown by Wolf.

Spy Suspect Denies Charges by Hoover

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Donald Niven Wheeler, named yesterday by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover as once a spy suspect, said the allegation was "entirely false and malicious."

Wheeler, who now lives on a dairy farm in Sequim, Wash., was reported by the Oregonian as saying in a telephone interview:

"This story is the same story brought up five years ago and I made a statement at that time which I will repeat now—'the story is entirely false and malicious.' I don't understand why state gossip has been warmed up after five years.

"Possibly the Republicans think the spy scare will take the public mind off the administration's problems such as the present depression in agriculture, the slump in foreign trade, and other current difficulties which point to a nationwide depression."

Wheeler's name was one of 12 mentioned in a letter introduced as testimony in a Senate internal security subcommittee hearing on the Harry Dexter White case.

Portion of Snake Bites but With Full Power

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (UP)—A part of a snake bit Leo Zimmerman.

The 42-year-old farmer had completed stacking his hay and was leaning against the bales when a copperhead snake bit him near the elbow. Opening the bale, it was found the snake had only six inches of body, the rest having been severed by the mowing machine.

The part-snake was killed and Zimmerman recovered.

Herbs Relieve Arthritis and High Blood Pressure

Grand Rapids Man Praises Golden Herb Tonic

William F. Krajewski, 134 Lemyra St., S. E., Grand Rapids, Michigan, reports amazing relief from arthritis and high blood pressure: "I was a railroad foreman for 36 years, but I had to retire. I had high blood pressure so bad I thought my head would split, and painful arthritis. Finally, I tried Bingo Golden Herb Tonic. Now my arthritis is gone and I haven't had trouble with high blood pressure for months. I feel like a new person and want to go back to work."

Thousands of Michigan folks have, like Mr. Krajewski, praised the benefits of taking Golden Herb Tonic. You see, Golden Herb Tonic is a scientific blend of 13 of Nature's own precious herbs which have long been recognized for their therapeutic value in relieving arthritis, high blood pressure, gall bladder attacks, constipation, jittery nerves and other complaints. Try Golden Herb Tonic today. Ask your druggists for full details. Only $1.00. Money-back guarantee.

1,200,000 Watt Station to Open

U. S. Navy Transmitter in Cascades Is Called World's Mightiest

JIM CREEK VALLEY, Wash. (AP)—The Navy will flash its first messages today to its ships, planes and stations around the world from what it calls the world's mightiest radio transmitter, high in Washington's Cascade Mountains.

Operation of the 14-million-dollar station NLK, utilizing 1,200,000 watts of power, will be started by Adm. Robert Carney, chief of naval operations, while scores of dignitaries and the nation's newsmen look on.

* * *

The station, located on a 6,000-acre site 55 miles northeast of Seattle, has been nearly six years on the draft boards and in construction. It will be turned over to the United States by David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of the Radio Corp. of America, which built it on contract.

Two parallel 3,000-foot mountain ridges support the 12 towers between which the antenna cables swing—some spanning a distance of 8,700 feet. From the cables trail the wires leading into the transmitter in this valley below.

The rated power, the Navy says, is 22 times greater than the biggest commercial broadcasting station in the United States and twice the power of any military transmitters.

Bread crumbs added to scrambled egs both improves the flavor and provides larger servings.

Stamps and Letters Tell of Past

From Spring Mills to Highland Station Is 1857 to 1873 Story of That Post Office

By MAURICE F. COLE

Another in a series tracing Oakland County history through early postal records.

The Highland post office that we now know was originally established under the name of Spring Mills, on Sept. 7, 1857. The first and only postmaster of the Spring Mills office was Enos Leek.

Like Postmaster Stratton of the Highland post office, Leek came to Highland Township by way of Washtenaw County, where he had lived for eight years before moving to Spring Mills in 1836.

Leek was an energetic and faithful public official. In addition to serving as postmaster for 16 years, he also acted as supervisor for a term or two, and as township clerk for eight years.

The new Flint and Pere Marquette railroad right-of-way lay just to the west of Spring Mills on Pettibone Creek.

When trains began operating over this line about 1871 the railroad stop in the area took on the name of Highland Station, and a small community developed there.

As a result the name of the Spring Mills post office was officially changed on Dec. 23, 1873, to Highland Station, to which village the post office was moved.

It continued under that name until 1903, when it was changed to Highland.

The change of the name of this office from Spring Mills to Highland Station coincided with the termination of the postmastership of Enos Leek.

Newton Babcock, the village merchant, became the first postmaster of the new Highland Station office, and he operated the post office from his store.

Meanwhile the post office of Highland, just to the west, was continuing operation.

Following Stratton, Showerman, and Davison, previously mentioned as postmasters there, was Mrs. Rachel E. Perry (1851), William Fulford, George Jonas Hewitt (1863 to 1868), Alva Stockwell, the village merchant, and, after his death his widow, Myra Stockwell.

You still have unfinished business in Korea. Every citizen has. Read this, and then USE YOUR HEART On June 25, 1950, our country and other members of the United Nations determined to resist the sudden and ruthless Communist aggression in Korea.

We succeeded! After three long and bloody years, the invader is back where he started. The shooting has stopped.

But only the shooting has stopped. For the Koreans, the ravages of war remain. For countless generations our South Korean allies cultivated the rocky soil where they were born. With their sweat they terraced the hills of their rugged country. With their hands they dug channels for water. With the water they irrigated terraces and flooded the valleys and forced the hard and unwilling land to produce the rice they need for sustenance.

And then within 24 hours, when the war came, modern armies had wiped out most that generations of South Koreans had accomplished. Their terraces were turned into camps and hospitals. Their valleys were dried up and turned into airfields.

Now South Korea is desolate and desolated, dried up, and all but destroyed. There is no need to count the dead. But the sick and the wounded can be rehabilitated to help rebuild their ruined country. South Korea needs help if it is to sustain life in those of its people who remain.

Use your heart. Help bring back life to South Korea.

USE YOUR HEAD For generations, Korea has possessed strategic value to those who would control Asia. For that reason it has been sought by power-hungry nations. For that reason it is still sought today.

Once Japan sought Korea, and conquered Korea. Now Japan has come into the orbit of the free world. Japan we hope will no longer seek conquest by aggression.

But the Communists will, and do. South Korea in Communist hands would threaten not only the peace and security and freedom of Asia, but would be a threat also to our own security.

The reverse is also true. South Korea in democratic hands would contribute to peace and security and freedom for Asia, and for us. South Korea in democratic hands would be a stop to the spreading curse of Communist Russia and her satellites.

If we make democracy function truly in South Korea, all Asia will see it, all Asia will be influenced by it.

If you believe in our way of life, let's give our allies in South Korea the chance to demonstrate that way of life to all Asia. Let's make South Korea a show-window for democracy in Asia, and let's make it a good show.

Use your head. Help build true freedom in South Korea.

The cost of this advertisement is contributed by the Pontiac Press to the American Korean Foundation, Inc.
It is hoped that you will send your gift to The American-Korean Foundation, 345 East 46th Street, New York 17, N. Y.
Use your heart and use your head to help bring freedom to Korea and peace to the world.

Pontiac's Progress Is Sketched

C. of C. Executive Speaks Monday to Soroptimists

John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, sketched an inspiring picture of the city's possibilities in a speech to Pontiac Soroptimist Club Monday evening at Hotel Waldron.

"Pontiac Unlimited" was the title under which he brought up three questions, Where were we yesterday? Where are we today? and Where can we be tomorrow?

The chamber executive said Pontiac, 8 or 10 years ago, was "a debt-laden town with poor arterial streets, poor lighting, little organized recreation, irregular garbage collection, no trash pickup and a deplorable city hall."

Now, he said, the debt is almost discharged, lighting and streets are improved, weeds are cut, and the Parks and Recreation Departments has "something for every age group."

Mr. Hirlinger urged all Pontiac residents to support the newly organized Pontiac Foundation, which he said will be the city's "private charity of the future."

He suggested that local voters could earmark tax money, which formerly went to pay the city's debt, and use it for capital improvements by the foundation, such as a new civic auditorium.

"There are three things I wish every Pontiac citizen would do," Mr. Hirlinger concluded. "Support the Pontiac Foundation, vote for capital improvement, and 'talk Pontiac'."

Trip Described for Golden Age

Members of the Golden Age Group were entertained Tuesday at the YWCA by Mrs. Arthur W. Selden, who talked on highlights of her trip to Europe. Vocal selections were given by Mrs. Michael Siano accompanied by Mrs. William Furlong.

Dessert was served by Mrs. Phillip Vieriech chairman of the volunteer committee, assisted by Mrs. William Knudsen, Mrs. Robert Tarr and Mrs. Ross Tenny. Mrs. Harold Euler provided transportation.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Vieriech, who read selections on a Thanksgiving theme.

The birthdays of Mrs. F. N. Hilton and Mrs. Laura Hamilton were honored.

Beta Sigma Phi Unit Welcomes Pledges

Tuesday evening Zeta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met at Devon Gables to pledge Mrs. Ridlon Smith and Mrs. Richard Smith into the group.

The Ritual of Jewels was read to Jeanne Brown, and roses were presented to the three girls.

Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse go western on blue denim dungarees. The outfit features double knee, zipper closing, adjustable suspenders and roomy pockets.

Mrs. Clyde Runyan (left) and Mrs. Kenneth Lyons (right), both of First avenue, are so sure that the doll display for the LeBaron School Fall Festival will be a success that they couldn't keep it to themselves. Shirley Kath (second from left) of Beverly avenue and Diane Williams of East Mansfield avenue share their opinion. The festival will be held Friday evening from 6 to 9.

Aileen Claire Vardon Becomes Bride

Gowned in white Chantilly lace over satin, Aileen Claire Vardon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Vardon of Washington street became the bride of Clifford John Stasiuk Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church.

He is the son of the William Stasiuks of Nelson street.

The bride's ballerina - length gown was complemented by a sequin-embroidered fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and snowdrift chrysanthemums.

Mrs. W. D. Ainge, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of copper-colored silk and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow fugi chrysanthemums and bronze pompons.

The bridegroom's brother, Edward Stasiuk, was the best man. Gerald Hicks and Donald Frayer were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Vardon wore a cocoa-colored crepe and lace gown with chocolate-colored accessories and a corsage of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

The bridegroom's mother wore a rose crepe and lace dress with a corsage of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums.

After a short reception in the church parlors, friends gathered at the Knights of Columbus Hall. For a honeymoon tour of the eastern states, the bride wore a gold two-piece knit dress with a black coat. They will reside on Pioneer avenue.

MR. and MRS. CLIFFORD J. STASIUK

Touring the eastern states are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford J. Stasiuk, who were married Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church. She is the former Aileen Claire Vardon, daughter of the Clifford Vardons of Washington street. The William Stasiuks of Nelson street are his parents.

Sorority Visits Class at YWCA

A visit to the YWCA arts and crafts class highlighted the Tuesday meeting of Gamma Psi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, which was held at Hotel Waldron.

Byron Arkles, class instructor, explained ceramic and metal work procedures to the group and showed drawing and painting techniques.

At the meeting, final arrangements were made to present a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family, and arrangements were discussed for a Christmas party at the YWCA for underprivileged children.

Cecelia Barry presented the yearbook outline.

Mrs. John Kinzler Hostess to Sorority

A cornucopia of fruit formed the centerpiece on the tea table Tuesday evening when members of Alpha Chapter, Beta Theta Phi sorority, met with Mrs. John Kinzler of Sylvan Shores drive.

Mrs. Ursal Meeker poured at the tea table. Mrs. Harold Davidson of Woodbine drive was announced as hostess for the Dec. 1 meeting.

Pastor Speaks on Orient

The Rev. Robert W. Fischer spoke on his recent trip to the Orient before members of the Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church Tuesday evening in the Educational Building.

One of a party of 60 delegates to the Youth for Christ World Congress, he flew from Vancouver, B.C., to Tokyo, stopping off on the Aleutian Islands.

After a week of meetings, evangelistic services were held in cooperation with local missionaries.

He made a four-day visit in Okinawa with the Rev. Robert Shelton, and he then went on to Hong Kong.

Color slides and movie film taken on the trip were shown.

The Rev. Howard Schoof presented a devotional study of the first chapter of the Book of Revelation, and a cooperative dinner was served smorgasbord style by Mrs. Clyde Anderson and her committee.

President Elected by Country Cousins

Mrs. Kathryn Oakes is the new president of Country Cousins Square Dance Club, it was announced Saturday evening when the group met for dancing at Drayton Plains school.

Kirby Milleur was the caller for the evening, and the Don Arsens had charge of refreshments, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Alden, the Max Fells, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Weaver and the Jack Featherstones.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tramontin were guests of the Roy Olsons. It was announced that the December meeting will be at the Drayton Plains School.

Unattractive Ears Ought to Be Hidden

The new "urchin" or "pixie" hair styles so popular today are fortunately fashioned along lines which allow the ears to be exposed fully, partially, or not at all, according to the preference of the individual.

But it happens, not quite so fortunately, that more than a few women whose ears aren't very attractive aren't cognizant of this fact when it comes to planning their hairdo and are consequently presenting for general view features which shouldn't be so presented.

If your ears are definitely pretty ones, let the whole world see them if you care to.

If they are neither unattractive, nor overly pretty, use some discretion by at least partially concealing them via your hairstyling. Naturally, if the ears aren't at all pretty, keep them covered.

If your ears are good looking and you wish to convey this fact to onlookers, bear in mind that they are just as much a facial feature as the nose, the cheeks or the lips, and that they should be figured in your grooming scheme along with these latter features.

Don't worry about the ears requiring any great or complicated degree of makeup attention, for they don't.

The principal thing to bear in mind in this respect is that if any portion of the ear is inclined to be oily or shiny, the apparency of this sheen should be dulled with a touch of face powder.

Don't try using a cake makeup for the ears, for the surfaces are too irregular for such application, and unevenness is almost bound to result.

Another point to bear in mind is that if your ears are not quite as attractive as you'd like them to be, you should exercise at least a little restraint in the matter of wearing earrings.

Large and glittery ones will draw the gaze of everyone toward features which may be far from your best ones.

Oneg Shabbot to Take Place at Chafets Home

An Oneg Shabbot was announced by Temple Beth Jacob Sisterhood for Saturday at the home of Mrs. Sam Chafets on South Genesee avenue. Rabbi Sanford Saperstein will present the program.

The announcement was made when the group met Tuesday afternoon at the temple.

Mrs. James Rosenthal introduced the program for the afternoon, which was presented by Mrs. Sam Cohen. "Peace and World Relations" was the topic.

A film, "The Task Ahead," was shown, and announcement was made of a farewell reception honoring Mrs. William Present, to be held at the temple Nov. 27.

Hostesses for the evinging were Mrs. Ruth Kantzer, Mrs. Ruben Berzon and Mrs. Malcolm Kahn. Mrs. Abe Cohen gave the closing prayer.

Mrs. Richard Sutliff Honored at Shower

Friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Jack Kastner on Judson court Friday evening to honor Mrs. Richard Sutliff with a pink and blue shower.

Cohostess for the occasion was Mrs. Winston Hopp, and guests included Mrs. Elmer Hopp, Mrs. Chester Myrben, Mrs. Fred Feehart, Mrs. Fred Brede, Mrs. Bruce Brede, Joy Frazier, Mrs. Elmer Stoltenberg and Mrs. David Ruelle.

The new "London Look" collection of Scotch tweeds styled by British designers is shown in this fitted reefer of amber-flecked tweed. There are pressed pleats front and back from waist to hem.

If there are deep lines between your eyes, use stickers to prevent their deepening while you sleep. The bits of paper are made for this purpose in a triangular shape.

Proper Fur Care Means Extra Seasons of Wear

Who ever saw a muskrat or a mink with an umbrella? But nobody ever heard of milady's furs living in steam heated quarters. Rain and snow will not hurt fur; heat will.

If you, who are buying new furs, will follow these few simple hints on taking care of your furs, you will get seasons of extra wear from them.

If your fur is wet, or just damp, never place it near heat because intense heat of any kind causes furs to become brittle and dry. Shake the fur vigorously and hang it to dry naturally in cool circulating air. Heat is the arch-enemy of furs; it dries out natural oils. That is why cold storage in summer is a necessity.

You can't get away from seasonal heat, although you might succeed in keeping the moths away. Play safe, store your furs in summer. Exposure to summer heat will shorten the life of your fur coat by many seasons.

Treat your coat with respect. Put it on a good clothes hanger in an unheated closet, allowing plenty of room. Always give it a gentle shake both before and after wearing. This keeps the fur fluffy and clean in day-to-day wear.

But grime still has a tendency to collect between the fine thick hairs. You spend much less expensive articles of wearing apparel to be cleaned regularly. How much more important that you keep your furs clean. An experienced furrier has both knowledge and equipment to correctly clean furs. A thorough cleaning once a year should keep furs in excellent condition.

When you bring your furs to your furrier for storage, they are thoroughly inspected, brushed and air - blown before being placed in vaults, scientifically cooled to prolong their lives. The moderate cost insures you more service from your furs.

When sitting, unfasten the loops so that there is no strain. Also, be careful that your coat is not bunched up under you. If you drive a car, try to keep away from continuous friction at one spot.

Having small rips and tears cared for in time by your furrier will also contribute to satisfactory wear for your furs because neglect may necessitate new skins which are expensive. A stitch in time prevents a small rip from beginning a big jagged tear.

Never attempt to brush or comb your furs. Shake your furs well in order to fluff up the fur before wearing them.

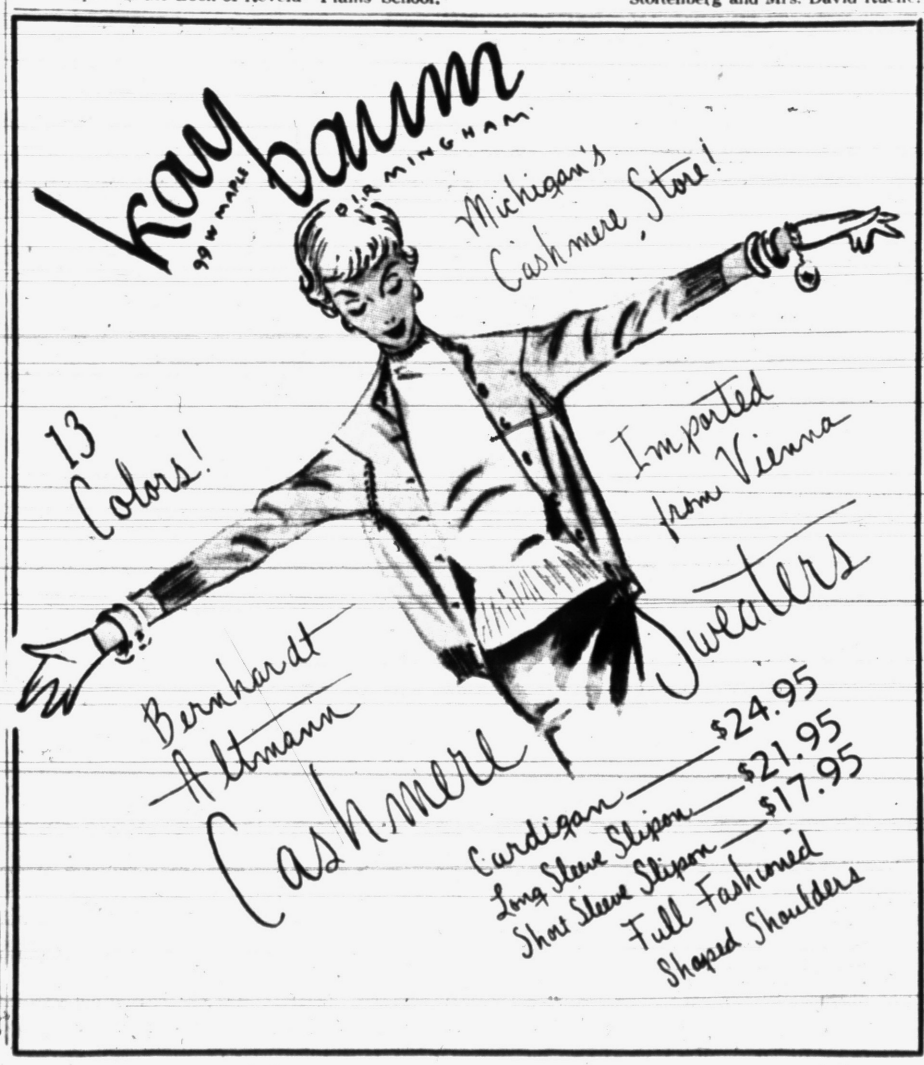

Your lining, too, after a season of wear should be taken care of, particularly around the neckline at the lower part of the back, underarms, inside cuffs. Here, again, an early repair job is advisable and economical.

Your furs can always be glowing, with just the small amount of extra care you give to your entire wardrobe.

Wash Hung in Front Yard Is Upsetting to Neighbors

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "A new family moved into our neighborhood recently and is causing a problem which the older residents, including myself, are quite disturbed over, and we would like your advice on the most tactful way to handle the situation.

"The family laundry is hung in full view of the street and our porches. We all hang our laundry either in the basement or in an inconspicuous place in the backyard, and furthermore it is taken in just as soon as it is dry. This neighbor leaves her clothes out from morning until night.

"We all try our utmost to keep our street looking as attractive as possible and we feel that this neighbor's wash detracts from the beauty of the neighborhood. Your help in solving this problem will be appreciated."

Answer: I think all you can do is to form a committee of three or four and explain to her your plans for an attractive neighborhood and ask her please to do as you do and hang her clothes in her backyard.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are having an argument as to what kind of furniture to put in the entrance hall of our house for guests to hang their coats on. My husband thinks a "clothes tree" would be perfect for this purpose.

I think a clothes tree is suggestive of a restaurant and is out of place in one's house. I would like a long table. Will you please give us your opinion?

Answer: I agree with you that a long narrow table against the wall would be best. But if your hall is too small for this, a clothes tree might be the only answer.

Don't Fear Child Desire for Solitude

Grownups Should Respect Nonhuman Relationships

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Bart was 8, and it was a drowsy afternoon last August. He lay on his stomach beside a pond near the boys' camp where he was spending the summer. In his young nostrils was the smell of earth and dampness and green leaves.

Grunting with content, he reached for his stick and with it stirred mud again from the bottom of the pond. He had done this many times.

For Bart deeply enjoyed watching the way the mud swirled through the water, and settling, left its unrippled surface to flash once more with the darting life of insect and minnow.

He was alone. But he was not lonely.

Unfortunately, the director of Bart's camp couldn't tell the difference between loneliness and joy in solitude. He was alarmed to find Bart companioned by a pond instead of by other boys.

A firm believer in "organizing" all children's activities, he promptly disorganized one that he had not personally promoted, and ordered Bart to hurry back to his cabin to prepare for the "socializing" influence of a marshmallow roast.

I don't like him very much. It seems to me to be quite as interfering and shortsighted to disturb Bart's friendship with the pond as it would be to divide him from a human friend.

But we do this kind of thing to children all the time.

If Emmy is reading a book, she is not necessarily lonely, but may be making friends with important ideas. If she is drawing by herself, she is not lonely but occupied with her ability to speak through color and line.

The Bart who lies beside a midsummer pond is not withdrawing from relationship, but is terribly busy making one with the earth he lives on.

We better begin to develop better respect for these nonhuman relationships of Emmy and Bart.

For it is their nonhuman relationships to ideas, to their skills and to nature that will protect them against the horror of solitude that marks their Age of Anxiety.

What is our current passion for "organizing" such nonhuman relationships out of children's lives? Is it our own dread of loneliness that worries so when we find them alone?

"What are you alone for?" we say anxiously. "Don't you want Sally to come over and play with you?" We'd better learn to discriminate loneliness and joy in solitude.

For our urge to "socialize" the young by arranging constant human companionship for them is bound to suggest that there's something queer and shameful about being alone.

Such an idea does not foster true appreciation of human companions, but too much dependence upon them.

Fluency in Foreign Languages Alone Will Not Open Doors to Good Positions

By ANNE HEYWOOD

How valuable is a knowledge of languages in the commercial world? Can the woman with fluent French or Spanish or German or Italian find a good job?

I remember back in my employment agency days, when World War II was over, how many servicemen and women, how many European refugees, would come in, wanting "export, or hotel, or publishing work" where they could use their languages and nothing else.

"Translating would be fun," they used to tell us, "or acting as interpreter for visiting foreigners." And such jobs were invariably hard as could be to dig up.

That is the problem now facing Mrs. T. G.—or, more accurately, her daughter.

"My Marian studied to be a teacher," she told me. "She speaks French and Spanish fluently, and did very well in college. But now she finds that she just cannot stand teaching. I guess she's really better fitted for business.

"But the trouble is," Mrs. T. G. went on, "the poor child is having a terrible time finding another job.

"She thought she might get translating work from book publishers, but it seems they farm that out on a free-lance basis to well-known experts in the particular field.

"Then she thought she might handle business correspondence in an export house—she can type a little and could translate any Spanish or French business letters. But they seem to have no openings at all.

"Even the hotels have turned her down. What do you think she should do?"

It has been my experience that it is almost impossible to get a job on the basis of languages alone.

If one also has an editing skill and experience, you might get translations. With training in stenography, it is easy to get a job in export.

There are some exceptions, of course, but if one wishes to move ahead in the export field, or in any business opening in the international field, the quickest and easiest way is to learn shorthand.

This, combined with a thorough knowledge of languages, will enable this woman's daughter to get a very good job, with a very good salary, and move into the interesting side of international business.

A language background will not be wasted. But as a rule, languages alone are not enough to get anybody a really good job.

Girls Howl With Protest Over Parental Insistence on Buckling Down to Duty

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

I've had a perfect rash of explosions from irate, frustrated, rebellious young females who consider their parents dictatorial tyrants! Ever since school started this fall, the letters have been pouring in from girls who obviously are having their troubles knuckling down to the winter schedule.

Vacation's free and easy, purposeless days suit them to a T. They're balking but plenty at their parents' insistence on the nose-to-the grindstone routine.

Listen to Linda howl. She writes me:

"Dear Miss Woodward: My parents say 14 is too young for boy friends, football games, socials and other activities. Most of my friends are allowed out until 9 o'clock on weekdays. But not me! Six o'clock and I have to be in the house!

"All I do when I'm home is work like a dog. I have no playtime. My mother tries to pound it into my head that when she was my age she never had any fun. But it's not good enough for me!"

Linda's not in third grade any more. She's past the age when concentration from 9 until 3 is all you can expect. At that age, playtime was vital — for stretching the muscles, letting off steam, howling out loud after being cooped up in class all day.

Linda's not a senior in high school, either. Old enough to be slightly responsible for getting homework done and still stay out late.

Linda's in between. The in-between that's driving her wild. She wants the same consideration her parents gave her when she was a little girl and couldn't be pushed too hard. And she wants the consideration she feels is due her now that she is almost as big as her mother.

Yet Linda hasn't found out that work comes before play. She hasn't realized yet that buckling down to homework and housework with good will and good grace is the preamble to getting grownup consideration from her parents.

Linda's going to keep on howling until she knuckles under. Refusing to take on her normal responsibilities will postpone only further into the future the privileges she craves.

Carol's stewing because her 15-year-old brother can do things she can't. She wants to be part of her group and go places with them—they want her, too—but her parents say no. She wonders if she'll ever get to do things without begging and begging!

Carol's a girl. And whether she likes it or not, her parents feel more protective toward her than they do her older brother. They'll be slower to grant her the liberty to run around freely with her crowd.

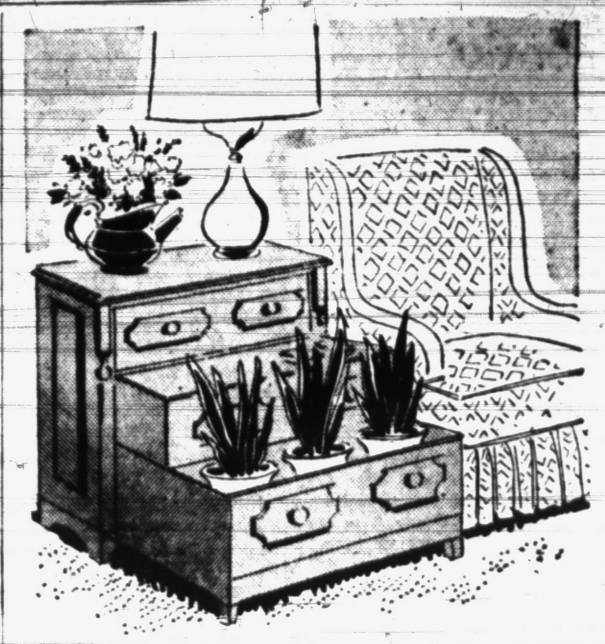

She won't miss out in the long run, because she's liked already. Her crowd will wait for her!

Victorian Chest Becomes Striking New Step Table

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

There's a special satisfaction in making ideas do the work of dollars, no matter how big the budget is, or how little.

Keep a designing eye alert to old furniture—there may be a chance, if you see it, to make an old piece over so handsomely that it's far more an idea succes than a money-saver make-do.

A little Victorian chest, for example, can become a big and important step table. It's all a matter of pulling the drawers out and adding new plywood.

Cover the drawer sides to the floor with the plywood, use it to finish the lower drawer to the floor in front. Top the second drawer with the plywood so it adds table top space.

Finish the new wood parts carefully to match the old finish, or cover it with tortoise shell or marbleized paper, and leave the bottom drawer open to fill with tall plants.

Mrs. M. M. F. "I like the idea of shutters for a group of three windows in my dining room, but I wonder if it is correct to use them there and not on the four single windows in the living room. The two rooms are separated only by an arch."

Shutters need not be used on all the windows. Since the windows in one room are single and in the other are grouped they already miss being matchmates, and when this is true, two quite different treatments are often more pleasing than a near match.

Mrs. W. S. "We are tired of our dark green walls and feel that a lighter shade would make our living room more pleasant. The landlord will repaint to the extent of one coat.

"Will one coat cover the green satisfactorily? Could we use rose beige, or what do you suggest?"

A single coat of good quality paint that is properly applied will cover dark green, but sometimes even if the paint is excellent the dark color seems to come through in some lights.

Two coats are advisable, but if there is to be only one, rose beige is not a good choice because it is a shade that is especially dulled by green.

A better color is a soft gray-green, such as light sage or celadon, which will not suffer from some reflection of the green under it. It should also go especially well with the furnishings planned for the dark green.

Plans Made for Harvest Festivities

Dinner and Bazaar Slated Thursday at First Christian

Plans are complete, and everything in order for the annual Harvest Dinner and bazaar of First Christian Church Thursday evening.

The event, which is sponsored by the Christian Women's Fellowship, will be from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Arthur Smith, general chairman for the event, has announced that a ham dinner and booths will highlight the evening.

Chairmen for the dinner and dining room, respectively, are Mrs. Denzil Flowers and Mrs. Joe Morgan.

Mrs. John Radenbaugh has charge of decorations; Mrs. F. A. Ruby, tickets; Mrs. Harry Kunse, publicity, and Mrs. David Collison, general cleanup.

Christmas cards, novelties and fancywork will be sold at various booths, and a country store booth will feature canned and baked goods.

Pontiac Press Photo

An attractive table is essential for a perfect dinner. That's why Mrs. David Collison of South Josephine avenue (left), Mrs. Harry Kunse of South Josephine avenue (center) and Mrs. Joe Morgan of Riviera terrace (right) take care as they set the table for the Harvest Dinner of Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church. The dinner will be Thursday evening from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Mom-to-Be Gets Plenty of Attention

Special Cosmetics Are Developed for Skin Problems

Ladies - in - waiting are getting more and more attention today. And it is far different from that they were given in days of old.

Time was when expectant mothers went into retirement along about the sixth month of pregnancy. Today, they don smart-looking maternity clothes and continue about their business, often well into the ninth month.

The stretching of the skin which begins about the third or fourth month is a problem for some women.

This stretching causes reddish marks, which often become distressingly itchy. Furthermore, while the redness fades in time, the marks scar the skin permanently.

Recommended aids for this condition were cocoa butter, lanolin and olive oil.

There is now available, however, a complete line of preparations for the expectant mother, which has been approved by the Committee on Cosmetics of the American Medical Association.

According to the manufacturer, the night cream and day lotion featured in the line will keep the skin sufficiently lubricated to prevent the development of stretch marks and the resultant itching.

The line also includes superfatted lanolin soap and a cream deodorant. The latter is said to solve completely the daintiness problem, which is a frequent cause of distress to expectant mothers.

• • •

There is a new day lotion for expectant mothers that is said to prevent appearance of stretch marks.

Corinne Wood Wed at Orchard Lake

Honeymooning in Florida and Cuba for two weeks are Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Colton, who were married in Orchard Lake Community Church Saturday.

The bride's brother, Herbert Snell, escorted her to the altar, where the Rev. Barney Roepcke performed the double-ring ceremony.

For her gown, the bride, the former Corinne Wood, chose ice blue satin in a floor length with an overskirt of Alencon lace. A tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones held her fingertip veil, and she carried a bouquet of purple-tipped white orchids on a satin prayerbook with white satin streamers. Her choker of pearls was a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Betty Dickerson of Detroit wore a gown of pink nylon lace over taffeta in a ballerina length for her duties as matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow daisy chrysanthemums and pale blue pompons.

Katheryn Sumpter wore rose nylon lace over taffeta as bridesmaid.

William Blaylock was best man for Russell, who is the son of the Russell Coltons of West Huron street. Seating the guests were the bridegroom's brother, Douglas Colton, and Glen Sawyer.

For the 7 o'clock ceremony the bride's sister, Mrs. Otto Gerometta, wore a beige and gold dress with brown accessories and a yellow rose corsage. They are the daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Snell.

Mrs. Colton chose raose lace over taffets in a street-length dress with gray accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception in the church parlors followed the service, and the bride later changed to a copper-colored silk taffeta suit with black accessories and the orchids from her bridal bouquet for the wedding trip. On their return they will reside on Union Lake.

In a double-ring ceremony Saturday in Orchard Lake Community Church, Corinne Wood became the bride of Russell R. Colton. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Snell, and the Russell Coltons of West Huron street are the bridegroom's parents.

Teenagers' Dance Scheduled Friday

A pre-Thanksgiving dance for teenagers is being planned by Pioneer Highlands Civic Association. The dance will be from 8 to 11 o'clock Friday at the Knights of Pythias Hall on Voorheis road.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Levine are chairmen for the event, and on their committee are the Malcolm Kahns, the Arthur Kollins and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tricker.

Prominent Veins

If the veins in your hands are prominent, shake the hands often. When applying hand cream, push downward and smooth the veins.

Mrs. Barrett Is Speaker at Metes Home Tuesday

Mrs. Charles Barrett chose the topic, "Teenage Problems and How Parents Can Help," when she appeared as guest speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Junior Child Study Club held in the Marlborough drive home of Mrs. Peter Metes.

In telling of her problems as policewoman, she stated that some cases may sound fictional because of the many and varied problems of some children.

The job is exhilarating, disheartening and stimulating, she added, but it is a 24-hour job. Juvenile delinquency is nationwide, but Pontiac is not as bad as some parts of the country, she continued.

The problems do not always occur in low-standard homes, but she pointed out that loneliness, hunger and poor health, often a result of poor environment, are great factors in delinquency.

In the last few years children's problems have grown in leaps and bounds and a great many of the problems arise from faults of the parents. Discipline is very important, continued the speaker, as she offered some advice along that line.

Punish the child just once in the correct way and do not use sugar-coated rules. Teenagers should know they are not getting away with anything, and let children know you mean what you say from early years on up.

Children need to learn control, first in the home, then in school and in everyday life. Keep a watch on your children's associates and encourage them to bring the gang home, said the speaker.

If you have problems, go to the nearest agency for help. Above all, don't let your pride keep you from saving your child, Mrs. Barrett concluded.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Leslie Ware, Mrs. Corliss Armstrong, Mrs. Max Kerns, Mrs. Franklin Niggeman and Mrs. Phillip Wargelin.

Mrs. John Madole was welcomed as a new member. Guests included Mrs. Richard H. DeWitt, Mrs. Ralph T. Norvell, Mrs. Orrin Huntoon Jr., Mrs. Grant Watt, Mrs. L. J. Harwood and Mrs. A. J. Lawe.

Mrs. Vernon Abbott and Mrs. Howard Powers presided at the tea table.

Sees Return of 2-Story Dwellings

NEW YORK (INS) — The two-story house is scheduled for a come-back, according to a New York business executive.

David Kennedy, president of a tile firm, says flatly:

"The next significant development in home building will be a pronounced trend in favor of the two-story house."

Kennedy, who's naturally interested in a growing market for his flooring product, based his prediction on a national survey of architectural opinion.

He said architects are placing more emphasis on providing maximum space per square foot of ground occupied.

Raanch style architect has many points in its favor, but requires considerable land space. The split-level home, highly popular now, also requires relatively more ground space than the two-story home.

Since 1940, Kennedy said, suburban population has increased three times faster than urban population, and there's no sign of any change in this trend.

He concludes most new homes will continue to be built in suburbs, but vacant land in suburbs is becoming increasingly scarce and expensive. At the same time, our total population gained 14.5 per cent between 1940 and 1950.

As a result, Kennedy predicts the return of the two-story house. He pointed out that in the survey, architects reported that two-story house occupies half the space of a single story ranch type house and from one-quarter to one-half less space than a split level house.

In addition, a two-story house requires less foundation than either a ranch or split-level home.

Keep Brush Clean

Besides stimulating circulation and distributing the oil in your hair, brushing removes bits of soil. So keep your hairbrush spotless. Wash it at least twice a week.

Puff Out Cheeks

To help your night cream smooth lines around the mouth, puff out your cheeks, then release the air slowly. Do this often.

Damages Brushes

Storing brushes in water is a poor practice, as the water harms the bristles and the wood handle of the brush.

Parisian to Tell Americans How to Wear Sweaters

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK (INS) — There is a handsome young Frenchman in this city who is about to set out on a cross-country pilgrimage to teach American girls how to wear —of all things!— sweaters.

This strikes me as the equivalent of teaching your grandmother how to suck eggs. But Pierre Ancellin, 27 and a Parisian, is full of hope and confidence.

The American girl has the natural equipment and the French have perfected a full-fashioned sweater, M. Ancellin believes the duo, properly adjusted, should produce beautiful music, I. E., whistles and wolf calls.

The difference between the French and the American sweater girl is a bit esoteric, but here goes: "The French sweater girl emphasizes general allure but the American girl emphasizes pooshing out the sweater with the boost," said M. Ancellin in His American offices with Korrigan-Lesur.

"The sweater should follow the boost; it should not be pooshed," he continued. "The French sweater flatters the whole figure as mooch as possible. It fits at the waist and there is fullness over the boost."

Americans who have always felt that Miss Lana Turner filled a sweater quite satisfactorily will be interested — if not convinced —to learn tha' M. Ancellin regards the Turner technique as old hat.

"We French," he said, producing the understatement of the week, "like the sexy look but we also want to leave something to the imagination. When you poosh the sweater, you have only facts spread on the record."

The modern sweater girl — one who would look divine letting the sweater follow her, for a change —would be, in the opinion of this young Frenchman, Audrey Hepburn. Or Leslie Caron. Or Cyd Charisse.

M. Ancellin shook himself out of his reverie.

"Of course, Mlle. Marilyn Monroe is a sweater dream, if one looks at things from the practical point of view," he added earnestly.

"Is she a poosher or a follower?" I asked.

"A follower, if it matters," M. Ancellin diagnosed in a reverent voice.

But if the French sweater is full-fashioned and anti-poosh, it is anything but baggy, the Frenchman declared.

"Those college girls in those sloppy Joe sweaters who try to look like boys!" he exclaimed in horror. "A good sweater is designed to tell the difference between boys and girls at a glance.

"When I enrolled at the Sorbonne after the war, there were even a few French girls who wore those big, shapeless sweaters. But they were all existentialists," he added with scorn, "and they looked it! American girls, so blessed by nature, should not hide in existentialist sweaters."

The French girl, much influenced by her American sisters, is just now becoming a full-fledged sweater girl. She wears them morning, noon and night, M. Ancellin said.

But they are not the "classic" sweaters to which the American woman is addicted. The French sweater is fitted wheather it is a turtle neck model for country wear or an off-the-shoulder design for after dark.

"The French have the fit, the American girl has the form and for myself, I think I have a very hoppy, hoppy time getting the two together," M. Ancellin, dashing and debonair, said. It is just possible that a hoppy, hoppy time will be had by all.

Does Junior Raise Roof at Bedtime?

Just Let Him Listen to a Radio Program After Retiring

Wrenching a child away from the radio or television at bedtime often creates quite a stir. After considerable stalling and pleading for a curfew extension, the young rebel usually is sent to bed unhappily bemoaning the fact that he is missing a really important program, and leaving his parents feeling somewhat like ogres for depriving him of his pleasure.

However, he does need his sleep —particularly since he has to be awake bright and early for school the next day and can't make up the deficit of an extra half hour by sleeping longer in the morning as he did during vacation.

This is where a bedside radio comes in handy. Getting a youngster into a nice, comfortable bed to hear one last program before his actual curfew hour often works wonders.

Then, he does not feel that he is being torn away from everything that he enjoys all at once—conversation, his family's company and entertainment. When he can enjoy one of his numerous "favorite programs" in his own room, bed becomes much more appealing.

Furthermore, he will find it easier to go to sleep at the prescribed hour—he will be emotionally calm through avoidance of the nightly scene and physically relaxed through lying in bed.

However, in order to relax and derive real benefit from his slumber, he must have good bedding—a firm, resilient mattress and bedspring combination and a fluffy, buoyant pillow that can give adequate support to all of the muscles that he tires in play.

Of course, the privilege of a bedside radio can be abused. A child may lie awake listening much longer than he should.

However, the dangers in most cases are not too great. The majority of children will agree either to turn it off after some specified program or at some specified time. Or they actually fall asleep with the radio on, their need for sleep after a day of energetic play often being greater than they will admit.

JOLLY TIME POP CORN

New Silhouette Basically Simple, but . . .

Shortening Skirt Not Enough to Be Chic

PARIS (INS)—Women the world over are wondering if simply shortening their skirts a trifle this season will put last year's clothes in this year's high-fashion category.

So sorry, say the Frenchmen. It takes more trouble than that.

The new '54 silhouette is basically simple, so women whose clothes are classic in line can use a bit of ingenuity and get by with last year's frocks. But it won't be too easy, according to these specifications of style set forth by the best Parisian experts. . .

Your 1954 clothes should have an arched shoulderline and important sleeves tapering to the elbow. Coats should be cut to a bulky shape and dresses should tightly fit the midriff and waist.

Skirts should be stem-slim or gently flaring. Full skirts should be super-full and bell-shaped to look like "Domes." Skirt-hems . . well, Dior's shorter cut will probably get you, sooner or later.

For your 1954 autumn and winter wardrobe, note that simplicity is the watchword for styles from morning to night.

The smartest day-dress probably will be made of rough tweed. It will have no collar and you may wear it with a fur tie in the round or V neck. The same fur may be used as lining for a matching short tweed jacket.

For lunch-time, try a black woolen suit with hidden front-buttoning on the slight-waisted and flat-hipped jacket. The special touch of this suit will be a high collar of white ermine fur.

For afternoon, you might wear a sheathy jersey dress in the new mellowy "Cognac" color (which last year they called "chestnut-brown"). It will look extremely smar with a bulky black wool coat shaped like a barrel and lined in "Cognac" colored jersey. For a finishing touch you could carry a large black fur muff.

At cocktail time, conservative ladies will appear in Princess dresses in steel-grey or brown lace. If they are slim they might wear a super-tight wool dress with a low-cut neckline.

Dior, Fath, Schiaparelli, Balenciaga and Givenchy show dressy cocktail frocks with flattering wide V necks, short sleeves or no sleeves at all, slim skirts with high corselets and bust-lines moulded to feminine roundness.

For girls who want to show off, Paris suggests striking and special styles.

You can choose between a tight dress with a marble print or a mottled pattern to make you look like a statue, or you can go in for "wild look" and wear frocks printed with panther, zebra or leopard designs.

You can also look Oriental by wearing a sheathy satin dress with delicate embroidery or silk printed with buddhas, dragons or birds in a Chinese mood. It will look smart with a wide Obi belt.

The imported cashmere sweater pictured above is light blue, and the bulky tweed skirt is blue, gray and white with a self belt.

So nice to "Step-out" in—

Cheese Tart Uses Lemon for Filling

Mrs. Clarke Gives Us Rule for 'Jam' or Cakes

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Originally this recipe was to be included in an Ingathering story on Market Basket day. But the article got out of bounds in length, so we decided that Lemon Cheese Tarts could stand by themselves. They're good enough to do so.

Mrs. Charles Clarke has been making these dainties for some 15 or 20 years and taking them to the Needlework Guild Ingathering.

A resident of Pontiac for 30 years, she is a member of the guild's Queen Mary Section.

The cheese in the title of this recipe is not really cheese at all. It is a thick lemon filling that is often used on bread like jam, Mrs. Clarke says.

You may keep it in the refrigerator for an indefinite period. But try it first in the tarts.

LEMON CHEESE TARTS
By Mrs. Charles Clarke

For the filling:
3 eggs, beaten
1½ cups sugar
⅓ cup lemon juice (2 lemons)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine these ingredients in a double boiler and cook until thick. This will take about one-half hour. Stir occasionally.

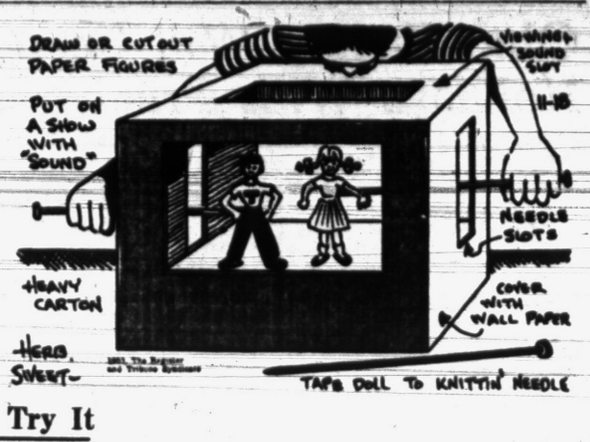

Line muffin tins half way up with your favorite pastry. Place a rounded teaspoon of lemon filling in each pastry-lined cup.

Make up your favorite cake batter, using a cake mix or a one-egg cake recipe. Divide the batter among the lemon-filled pastry shells.

Bake in a 350 oven 20 to 30 minutes, or until cake is done. Makes about two dozen.

Get Beauty Hobby

You might combine a hobby with beauty building by choosing such occupations as fencing, dancing, hiking, year-round swimming and tennis.

Try It

Needles Move Puppets

Here is an idea which was sent in by the winner of the week, and it will be fun for all of you! Peggy Dymond of Winnipeg, Man., has received her Try It book for this idea. Have I heard from you?

These little puppets are different in that they are small and are fastened to the ends of knitting needles.

Make a stage from a small box like the one in the picture. Cut out a front part, then make 2-inch doors on each side, and a slot through place in the top so that you can see the action.

Cut the floor from the bottom of the box and push it up even with the stage. Tape it in place. The stage should be painted with show card colors or even papered with scrap wallpaper.

You can make curtains which slide back and forth on the inside of the stage. Use plain material and run it on a heavy cord.

Make little puppets to carry out whatever play or story you want to do. These should be about 2 inches shorter than your stage is tall. Fasten these on the ends of knitting needles, and let the play begin!

Dark Roof Is Hot

The darker the color of a roof, the hotter the house. This is because dark colors absorb sun rays.

Rub Suede Spots

You can remove rain spots from suede shoes by rubbing them lightly with an emery board, the kind you use for filing your nails.

Metallic figured rayon and printed corduroy add color.

Chromium Plate Needs Good Care

By HUBBARD COBB

Chromium plating is a lot like love and money—once it's gone it's usually gone for good, so it's a wise idea to give it fairly good treatment.

The reason that plumbing fixtures are given a coat of chrome is to make them look pretty and to make them easy to keep clean.

Under normal conditions chrome can be kept looking nice by giving it an occasional washing with soap and water.

It may be that you have some special agents in the local water supply which will make green spots appear on the chrome. What you do in a case of this sort is to scrub the area with a scratchless cleaning powder.

Don't under any circumstances use steel wool or sandpaper for this job or even a gritty cleaning agent, for these will remove both the green spots and the chrome. After the spot is out of the way, dry the fixture and apply a coat of wax.

Chrome is pretty hard stuff but it doesn't get along too well with salt air or salt water.

If you live near the ocean it's a good idea to wash the fixtures rather frequently with soap and water and then dry them. After this they can be coated with wax.

If fixtures are not given proper care the chrome will eventlly wear off in certain areas. If this happens you can either put up with them the way they are, buy new fixtures or, if the fixtures are otherwise in good condition, have them replated at a metal shop.

Your local garage man can probably tell you where this work can be done as he gets a lot of calls from car owners with the same sort of trouble.

Washing glitter-encrusted sweaters does not have to be a frightening task. By using just a little extra care, you can be sure of no mishaps. Wash the jeweled parts first, squishing the suds gently through them. Cup the sweater in your hands so that there will be no chance of its sagging.

After you have thoroughly rinsed it and have removed excess moisture with a towel, hang it on a frame to dry. If the sweater is orlon, a frame is not necessary, but it will hasten the drying process.

Bejeweled Sweaters Take to Tubbing

Sweaters bedecked with rhinestones, metallic thread, beads and pearls are topping many of the most fashionable evening skirts this season.

Fragile as they may seem, these new tops will take to tubbing as well as your afternoon sweaters, if you just give them a little extra consideration.

Before submerging a jeweled sweater, remove all detachable parts. If it is a cardigan, button it to prevent stretching.

If it has a wide neckline that is neither outlined with ribbon binding nor piping, run a basting thread along the edges to hold the shape.

Squeeze the suds through the jeweled parts first, letting the rest of the sweater fall to the bottom of the basin. There will be no strain or stretch on the fibers if you suds the decorated parts just at the surface of the water.

And if you take care not to allow heavy jeweling to rest against the fibers, you will have no snags.

The jeweled parts fully washed, lay them on the bottom while you squeeze the suds through the rest of the sweater.

For woolen sweaters, use lukewarm water and rinses. Orlon will take medium hot water.

After rinsing, roll the sweater in a towel to remove excess moisture. An orlon sweater needs no blocking; you need only spread it on a towel to dry.

However, if time is of the essence, put your orlon sweater on a regular woolen sweater frame and hang it outdoors to dry.

The frame will allow air to blow through the sweater, speeding evaporation.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

It's possible to overdo your deference to those who are older than you are. For instance, no woman of 40 wants a girl in her 20s to jump up and give her a seat, answer her questions with "Yes ma'am" and in other such ways make her feel 80 instead of 40.

In such cases it is more gracious to ignore a difference in ages than to emphasize it.

Strengthen Nails

Frequent long soaks in warmed oil and buffing as much as 10 minutes a day will help greatly to strengthen thin, brittle nails.

Protect Your Boots

Preserve the life of your rubber boots by propping up the insides with cardboard when they are not in use.

HOLIDAY HANDS

Will your hands be a compliment to you ta Thanksgiving dinner?

In a way, well groomed hands are more important than hairdos. Many times you can wear a hat when you are dining but did you ever see anyone eat with gloves on?

The procedure in hand care isn't as difficult as for hairdos, but for some reason, many feel that well groomed hands aren't important. We can hide them under the table cloth or stick them in our pockets. But occasionally we find it necessary to extend our hand to someone we know is always meticulously groomed. We take a fleeting glance at a broken nail or chapped knuckles and resolve to do better. But all too often we never get past our resolution. Try now to form the habit of pushing back the cuticle each day when you wash your hands. Massage your hands with cream at night. Get a manicure at your beauty shop for Thanksgiving.

I will tell you more about hand care next week.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

No Shrilling Telephones or Jangling Alarm Clocks

A hermit's life is the life for me.

Just think, no telephones to shrill at you just when you're well soaped in the bathtub. No difficult letters to answer. No alarm clock to jangle you awake. No wearing appointments to keep on the dot.

Just long, lovely days of doing what you please wit hnobody to question or nag. True, as Helen Worden Erskine conscientiously points out in her entertaining book about recluses, "Out of This World," a hermit's life is not necessarily a happy one.

But I figure that's because the men and women Helen tells about were all badly hurt by life before they shut themselves away. Withdrawal could not bring them contentment for they took their hurts right along with him.

MISS McBRIDE

I, on the contrary, plan to turn to hermiting, not because I've been persecuted, ignored or frustrated, but just to get a little peace. My main problem is where to go, for there are few places in the world today where the telephone can't reach you.

Last summer as I signed in at the reception desk of a tiny hotel in northernmost Norway, right on the way to the North Pole, the clerk glanced at my name and said, "Oh, yes, New York is on the telephone for you."

The same thing happens in mid-ocean, in airplanes and even in automobiles. Certainly you would have to be pretty determined to be a recluse in New York City, as the Collyer brothers were in their bleak brownstone hideaway on Fifth avenue with a dismantled Model T Ford in the basement, a canoe on the roof and 17 pianos.

Maybe I'll practice going into seclusion by setting aside one day a week for silence and withdrawal. Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, president of the United Nations General Assembly, recently reminded me that the great Mahatma Gandhi used to do that.

"He started it on his doctor's orders," Madame Pandit explained, "but when he saw that it was the one thing which gave him strength to go on, he continued it the rest of his life."

That many feel the need for an occasional period of withdrawal from pressure and turmoil is proved by the increasing number of retreats where those of different faiths may go for quiet meditation and prayers.

Perhaps, too, the reason more and more persons are taking up solitary hobbies—from gardening and birdwatching to cabinet-making and stamp-collecting—is that the hobby is a soundproof wall which permits the hobbyist to have a little time to himself.

So, Helen Worden Erskine, if you ever come to see me and find the doorbell ripped out, a la Collyer, and the shutters drawn, you can add another hermit to your collection.

'Cinderella' Spartans Travel Rough Road for Big Chance

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Here is a football fairy tale.

Once upon a time there was a Cinderella school named Michigan State.

For a long time poor Cinderella was an orphan. She had nobody to play with but other orphans.

Some of them were big, tough kids like Notre Dame who liked nothing better than to beat up every other kid in the block.

Cinderella got to be a pretty tough kid herself.

But Cinderella always wanted to belong to a family. She thought it would be so nice to have other sisters to play with all the time.

There was one family she particularly admired — the Big Ten family.

They seemed to have such a good time playing with each other and every year they had a ball—Rose Bowl, that is.

Cinderella used to cry herself to sleep thinking how she'd love to be one of the sisters and maybe some day — Go to that Rose Bowl.

But the other sisters of the Big Ten sneered at her. Told her she was just a country cousin.

She didn't have the horses, they said. She didn't have the coach to take her to the ball—Rose Bowl, that is.

But one day one of the Ten Sisters, Chicago, died.

And the Big Ten family adopted their strapping country cousin.

"Oh joy!" cried Cinderella. "Finally I may go to the ball!"

"I may not have the horses but I have the ponies—in the backfield. And I have a very fine coach—Coach Biggie Munn, that is."

The adoption was legal in 1949. But the mean older step-sisters made Cinderella sit at home by the fire while every year one of them went to the ball.

They said she wouldn't come of age until 1953.

Cinderella was invited to one ball—Cotton Bowl, that is. But the family told her the Big Ten sisters never, never go to outside balls.

They gave her the slipper. But it wasn't made of glass.

The mean older sisters used to throw things at Cinderella, too. And pinch her and make her scream.

Cinderella was a sensitive child. She had dreamed of being part of one big happy family but she still felt like an unwanted orphan.

"In 1953 when I become of age," she told herself. "Maybe then I can go to that ball."

But in 1953 all the sisters ganged up on Cinderella. They slapped her off her stool in the corner into the ashes of the fireplace. She got all dirty.

"You are on probation," they told her. "Maybe we don't even want you in our Big Ten family. You've had too many fairy godfathers bringing gifts lately—from the Spartan Foundation, that is."

Cinderella was very meek about the whole thing. She fired all the fairy god-fathers and tried to give a list of all the gifts. She tried to be a very good girl.

Now this year it appears that either Cinderella school Michigan State or her sister, Illinois, will go to the ball. Another sister, Wisconsin, would have been considered too but she went last year.

Trouble is, the other sisters will vote on who goes to the ball. And there are whispers that the other sisters are jealous of Cinderella because of her winning ways.

Will Cinderella go to the ball?

Will this fairy tale have a happy ending?

Watch your newspapers for later developments.

Bennie Expects Bucks to Toss Lot of Passes

Most Wolverine Foes Have Relied on Heavy Ground Attacks

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's aerial defense was getting a lot of extra attention here today as the Wolverines prepared for their final 1953 football game against Ohio State Saturday.

Buckeyes are expected to put more stress on the passing game than any team Michigan has faced this year except Minnesota.

Most of Michigan's opponents relied chiefly on ground attacks, with the exception of Minnesota, whose Paul Giel took to the air often enough to complete 13 of 18 tries for a whopping 169 yards.

That performance was just enough to confuse the Michigan defenses and help Giel pick up a fat running total of 112 yards. Minnesota won that one 22-0.

Ohio has good runners in Howard Cassady and Bob Watkins. But the Buckeyes also boast a pair of fine passers in quarterbacks John Borton and Dave Leggett.

Leggett will be making his debut against Michigan, but Borton is well known to the Wolverines. He completed 11 of 18 attempts against Michigan last year, including three touchdown passes, and he sneaked over for a 4th score in Ohio's 27-7 victory.

With that prospect, Michigan, defeated last Saturday by two perfect Michigan State aerial strikes, appeared vulnerable.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan devoted early practices to the importance of rushing the passer and covering the receivers. Wolverine line, which turned in a peak performance against Michigan State, was charged with the rushing.

Five backfield defenders were expected to cover Ohio's receivers.

Halfback Ted Kress carried a good share of the covering chore in defensive drills yesterday, playing in his safety position. Halfback Tony Branoff and quarterback Lou Baldacci knocked down reserve passes from the halfback spots.

Oosterbaan substituted halfback Ed Hickey and fullback Bob Hurley at the halfback posts and gave sophomore Tom Hendricks a long workout in relief of Kress.

Behind the line, Dick Balzhiser and John Morrow alternated with Capt. Dick O'Shaughnessy and John Peckham.

Iowa's Flanker Honored in Poll

End's Feat of Stopping Giel Earns the Title of 'Lineman of Week'

By TED MEIER

NEW YORK (AP) — A lad whose football career was believed ended by illness last spring—Bill Fenton, Iowa end—was named the Associated Press lineman of the week today.

Iowa surprised Minnesota 27-0 and Fenton's feats in smearing Minnesota's famed Paul Giel earned him the nod in the weekly voting by sportswriters and broadcasters.

Giel, held to a mere 13 yards by rushing, didn't hesitate to praise Fenton.

"That boy Fenton was in my hair all afternoon," Giel said. "He was terrific, all right."

Minnesota coach, Wes Fesler, echoed that statement.

Fenton, a senior pre-medical student, won the coveted lineman honor a year ago under somewhat similar circumstances. In 1952 Iowa stunned Ohio State 8-0 and Fenton's sterling performance made him a campus celebrity. Later he was voted Iowa's most valuable player.

Unexpectedly he became ill last spring and was bedridden for several months. He made a rapid recovery and this fall again has been outstanding in the Iowa line.

Bucceroni, Beshore Fight on TV Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Philadelphia's Dan Bucceroni faces aging Freddie Beshore of Los Angeles tonight in a 10-round heavyweight fight in Olympic Auditorium.

The match will be televised nationally by CBS at 10 p. m., EST.

Bucceroni, 26, and at 6 feet 3, much taller than the 31-year-old Beshore, is the decided favorite.

But whether the Philadelphian, who hopes to land a title fight with champion Rocky Marciano next year, can put Fearless Freddie on the deck remains to be seen.

Big 10 to Name Rose Bowl 11 on Sunday

CHICAGO (UP)—Big Ten Rose Bowl representative will probably be named between 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. (EST) next Sunday, conference commissioner Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson said Tuesday.

Wilson said the vote would be taken right after Saturday's games. "It will take us a little time to tabulate them," he said. "then in case of a tie, we'll have to revote and that will allow us enough time."

Each conference member is obligated to vote, and in case of a tie, voting will continue until one team receives a majority vote, Wilson said.

Annual Pan-America Road Race Under Way Thursday

TUXTLA GUTIERREZ, Mexico (AP)—Some of the world's greatest auto racing drivers crowded into this southern Mexican town today in readiness for tomorrow's start of the 4th Pan-American road race.

Among those giving their speedsters their final tunings were the Lancia team consisting of the Italian aces Giovanni Bracco, Felice Bonetto, Piero Taruffi, Eugenio Castelloti and Argentina's champion Juan Manuel Fangio, the German's Karl Kling, who won the major prize last year, and Hans Hermann, both of whom are driving Porches.

Race will be run in four classes with a total of $100,000 in prize money. Primary interest centers in the international sports class in which Lancia has a works team of five cars entered which are generally regarded as the pre-race favorites.

Lancia's strongest competition is expected to come from the Italian Ferraris. French Gordini's, a British Jaguar, and several modified Chryslers are entered in this class.

Small sports class is likely to be an all-German contest among the Prosches and the Borgwards.

Buicks, Cadillacs, Chryslers, Lincolns, Oldsmobiles, Packards and De Sotos will fight it out for top honors in the big stock car class. Fords and Chevrolets are the most numerous entrants in the small stock class.

Garrett, Larson Duel Highlights Indian-Cal Tilt

Bowl Bid May Rest on Effectiveness of Star Stanford Passer

NEW YORK (AP)—As if the possible clinching of a Rose Bowl berth and the renewal of a historic series which stands all square after 55 games weren't enough, Saturday's Stanford - California clash at Palo Alto is going to produce the nation's major college individual offense leader.

Stanford's Bob Garrett and California's Paul Larson, will face each other in a unique meeting between the country's No. 2 and No. 3 yardage producers.

Because Wyomings Joe Mastrogiovanni, the leader, is only 24 yards ahead of Garrett and 27 ahead of Larson, and will be idle until Thanksgiving, one of the Californians is almost certain to be No. 1 by Saturday night.

Mastrogiovanni has made 1,395 yards running and passing, official NCAA service bureau statistics show, while Garrett has piled up 1,371 and Larson 1,368. All have one game to go.

Georgia passer Zeke Bratkowski is still a threat with 1,238 yards and two games to go.

Garrett, however, is the hottest one of the four, and he's also the Nov. 1 man in passing with 106 completions to Bratkowski's 96. Larson is 4th in that department, behind Washington's Sandy Lederman.

In rushing, Illinois sophomore J. C. Caroline has the title all wrapped up with 1,158 yards, 354 yards more than Ohio State's Bobby Watkins.

Stanford, to be assured of at least a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference title, must win Saturday.

Indians will be relying on Garrett, who in the last five weeks has produced one of the greatest sustained hot streaks any passer has ever enjoyed in college football.

In those five games he has completed 75 out of 115, a 65.2 per cent accuracy rating, for 1,100 yards and 13 touchdowns, while having only two intercepted—and his opposition included UCLA and Southern California.

Writer Foresees Win for Both Spartans, Illini

Iowa Expected to Press Irish; Buckeyes Picked Over UM

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP) — The frost isn't even on the pumpkin and the football season zooms to a close in the Big Ten Saturday. Thus, a shirt-sleeved swami takes a final gander at the crystal ball:

Illinois 19, Notrhwestern 7—Alan (the Horse) Ameche bounced the Illini out of the saddle last Saturday, but that makes it tougher for the hapless Wildcats.

That Badger defeat gives Ray Eliot his first chance to get the Illini mad this season. This is for a share of the Big Ten title and a possible Rose Bowl trip.

Notre Dame 14, Iowa 13 — all along, your stumbling seer has contended Iowa was the team which could knock off the Fighting Irish. In goring the Gophers and Paul Giel however, the Hawkeyes may have shot their wad.

The Irish have been able to prime their reserves for the remaining pressure from Iowa, South ern Cal and Southern Methodist.

Michigan State 18, Marquette 13 —If MSC's Spartans weren't concerned with a blazing non-conference finish to convince the Big Ten of their Rose Bowl worthiness, we'd bet a quick bobbin on Marquette.

Wisconsin 14, Minnesta 7—Badgers appear to be at their peak. Ameche and Harland Carl, behind Jim Miller's quarterbacking and a stout defense, should take up where Iowa left off.

Ohio State 20, Michigan 13—for the first time in many harvest seasons, this traditional finale has no bearing on the Big Ten championship.

Purdue 7, Indiana 0—at this late date, we've discovered the home arena means quite a bit to one-platoon footballers—but the Boilermakers should get their second conference win on the Hoosiers' home field.

Illini, Wildcat Contest Offers Distracting Note

MSC Meets Marquette, but Will Be Watching Result at Evanston

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State-Marquette football game here Saturday is going to be a pretty distracting affair.

MSC players, and everyone in the stands, are sure to have an ear cocked or an announcement of how the Illinois-Northwestern game is going.

If Northwestern could beat Illinois—a big IF — Michigan State would be on top of the Big Ten standings and would have a better chance for a Rose Bowl bid.

Tantalizingly enough, the Illinois game will be played an hour behind East Lansing time so unless the score is a lo-sided one MSC rooters won't be sure just what is likely to happen.

Whatever everyone else may be thinking, on the Michigan State practice field they're just thinking of Marquete.

Marquette has a fine record this season of six wins, two losses and one tie.

Marquette's only two losses were to Big Ten teams and by narrow margins—to Wisconsin 13-11 and to Indiana 21-20.

Marquete has generally been a tough opponent for Michigan State, excepting last year when the Spartans won 62-13. In 1951, the Hilltoppers gave MSC a scare by taking a lead but finally bowing 20-14.

Michigan State had one bit of cheering news this week.

Halfback Billy Wells is over his bout of pneumonia and definitely should play Saturday.

Flint Dye Is Named State C-D Champ

DETROIT (UP)—Flint Dye, unbeaten in two seasons, was named state high school football champion in Class C-D today in a United Press poll of coaches, sports writers and officials.

Coach Bill Yancey's powerful team extended its winning streak to 18 games during the 1953 season to receive a slight nod over Jackson St. Mary, Catholic League of Southern Michigan titlist.

Ann Arbor continued to lead Class A ratings and Mt. Pleasant remained on top in Class B. Championships in those classes haven't been decided yet since several schools have games remaining.

Hectic Prep Grid Season Leaves 27 'Clean' Elevens

By The Associated Press

There are 27 unbeaten, untied high chool football teams left in the state—and 23 of them have completed their schedule.

The other four, oddly, will meet this week. Two are certain to tumble from the list, making the number of all-winning teams 25—same as last year.

Two of these unbeaten teams—River Rouge Lourdes and Detroit Pershing—will clash Friday night in Briggs Stadium in the annual Goodfellow game—emblematic of the Detroit city championship. Each team has an 8-0 record.

Pershing is the public school champion while Lourdes is the Catholic League ruler.

Other two unbeatens—St. Francis De Sales and Hamtramck St. Florian—will meet Sunday afternoon. They, too, also have 8-0 records and they'll be playing for the second division championship of the Catholic League.

Only one team—Hudson—was knocked from the unbeaten, untied ranks last week. Morenci stopped Hudson, 18-13.

Seixas, Trabert Advance

SYDNEY (AP) — America's Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert advanced today to the doubles final of the New South Wales Tennis Tournament. They beat Mervyn Rose and Rex Hartwig 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4 in a semifinal match.

'Talking War' on Already

Bucceroni Expected to Whip Beshore as Start of Buildup for Marciano Bout

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The buildup for the next world heavyweight title fight will begin officially tonight in Los Angeles when Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia displays his credentials before a nationwide audience in a 10-rounder against Freddie Beshore.

Unless something goes badly wrong with the script, the 190-pound, 6-foot-3 "butcher boy" from the East will starch his man well within the limit. Tomorrow a lot of folks will be saying they've just seen the next champ, and from there it will be only a question of time and careful guidance until Danny finds himself sampling Rocky Marciano's bombs.

The reason one can predict all this with some assurance is that some sort of challenger with a new face must be found by next summer. Ezzard Charles, Roland LaStarza and Nino Valdes do not fit into one of those outdoor superproductions. Bucceroni looks as though he might. He talks good too.

"Marciano's knockouts over Walcott and Louis were overplayed," we see he is quoted. "They were old men. I saw him against LaStarza and I know he can be taken. He's not in the same class with some of the former champions."

That's the kind of talk Rocky and his manager, Al Weill, love to hear.

Terps' Faloney Gets Grid Honor

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Embarrassment made quarterback Bernie Faloney of Maryland's undefeated football team the Associated Press Back of the Week.

Congratulated for his all-out effort in Maryland's 38-0 conquest of Mississippi last Saturday, the 21-year-old senior from East Carnegie, Pa., replied:

"Well, they embarrased me last ye and they weren't going to do it again."

Mississippi embarrassed him by completing two touchdown passes over him in its 21-14 upset in 1952. That was hitting Faloney in his biggest pride, defense. But he had an excuse. He was wearing a face guard for a broken nose and it cut down his lateral vision.

He really put out in revenge. He intercepted two passes, ran for two touchdowns, recovered a fumble, brilliantly handled the ball and picked the Mississippi defenses to pieces. His first interception was in the end zone with the scoreboard blank and Coach Johnny Vaught of Mississippi called the play the turning point of the game.

Lions-Rams Set Mark

When 93,751 fans watched the Detroit Lions and the Los Angeles Rams play in their 1953 meeting in the Coliseum in Los Angeles, it marked the largest crowd ever to see a regularly scheduled National Football League contest. Previous record, 85,425.

Milwaukee Miracle Not Likely to Be Repeated in Baltimore; Orioles 1954 Prospects Are Bleak

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Baltimore can't expect to have the break that fell to Milwaukee. The Braves moved from far down up to 2nd place, largely because St. Louis, Philadelphia and the Giants did a cave-in. Also because the younger Braves turned in a fine job and the entire team hustled and played better ball than the Cardinals, Phillies or Giants.

• • •

Next season the Dodgers should be from 12 to 15 games better than the second team. Maybe 20 games. With Don Newcombe back, they should outclass their league.

• • •

How can any of the teams figure on beating out the Dodgers, when they haven't a man who can make the Dodgers? Who is going to crowd out Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges, Junior Gilliam, Pee Wee Reese, Billy Cox, Jackie Robinson, Duke Snider or Carl Furillo?

• • •

Baltimore is in a peculiar spot. Here's a fine baseball city with a rather soggy team, as far as 1953 goes. Barring a miracle, Baltimore's 1954 team will have a tough time leaving eighth place behind.

• • •

The Yankees will still be the Yankees, if too much success hasn't stifled their ambition. Anyway they'll be around the top. The White Sox and Indians have too many weak spots to be called good teams. But they are not bad. They both have certain points of strength.

• • •

They are both first-division certainties. So are the Red Sox, who are almost sure to move higher next year. The Senators have some good ballplayers and so have the Tigers, but neither is likely to break into the 1st division.

This leaves the Orioles and the Athletics, with great memories of brilliant years that have faded out. Baltimore faces the new campaign with three managers to pay and with rather bleak prospects for the time being. She won't have the same team to cheer for that Milwaukee had.

But, as long as Baltimore can figure there are happy days somewhere ahead, it won't work out so badly.

List of State 'A' Schools Boosted by Two This Year

LANSING (UP) — Number of Michigan high schools playing in Class A and B sports tournaments has increased to an all-time high this year, state high school athletic association said today.

MHSAA said Michigan's Lower Peninsula has 75 Class A high schools, an increase of two during the last year, and 163 Class B schools compared to 148 a year ago.

Number of Class C and D schools in the Lower Peninsula has dropped during the last year. There are 228 Class C schools, compared to 235 a year ago, and 181 Class D schools, six fewer than in 1952.

MHSAA's 1953-54 classified lists of state high schools was released today showing 724 schools registered, an increase of two from last year.

The association classifies schools primarily for tournament purposes so that teams in each class are as nearly equal as possible.

In the Upper Peninsula there are 17 Class B schools, the same as last year; 18 Class C schools, an increase of one; 21 Class D schools, two less than a year ago, and 21 Class E schools, a decrease of one.

Schools designated Class A for the first time include Detroit St. Anthony, Southfield, and Lapeer while Van Dyke Lincoln dropped from A to B.

Poor Sense of Smell

Many birds have a poor sense of smell. The buzzard depends almost entirely on sight to locate his special diet and the horned owl's favorite dinner is skunk.

Florida State University has two brothers on its football team — Carl and Robert Grenn, halfbacks from Brookhaven, Miss.

Ends' Play Prominent in Grid Upsets

Defense May Decide UCLA, Trojan Game

Uclans Are Rated Slight Favorites in National TV Contest

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The spotlight will be on the offensive stars when UCLA and Southern California meet in their important Pacific Coast Conference football game Saturday, but once again the defensive work may well decide the outcome.

Both squads scheduled hard contact work today, the last of the pregame preparations, and the rivals can merely hope that the workouts will produce a crop of casualties.

"We have work to do, and if anyone is going to get hurt, we'd just as soon know about it at this stage of the week as later on," said Red Sanders, whose UCLAns can reach the Rose Bowl if all goes well.

All going well includes a victory over USC and a victory by California over Stanford in the latter engagement up North.

"We should be at full strength for UCLA—if nothing happens," added Coach Jess Hill of the Trojans.

UCLA remains a short-priced favorite to win this nationally-televised game. At least the Bruins won't be confronted with the identical Trojan squad which shaded them 14-12 last year.

Bruins should be glad, because it was one huge defensive guard, Elmer Willhoite, who intercepted a pass by Paul Cameron and lumbered 72 yards to the UCLA eight before Cameron hauled him down.

Willhoite is gone, and so are the two players who combined on a pass play four plays later to win the game. They were Jim Sears and Al Carmichael.

Sears-Carmichael pass made it 3-12 for USC, and the conversion was added by Sam Tsagalakis. Yes, he's the same little Sad Sam, the place kicker, who beat out Stanford two weeks ago with his last-minute field goal.

GAME 'HAUL'—Vern Likens (above), of 1059 Premont, enjoyed unusually good hunting in Oscoda County on opening day. Not only did he bag a buck, the 8-pointer he's holding, but he also brought down a red fox. Likens' deer is an entry in the "best head" division of the Pontiac Press' deer contest. The buck on the other fender of the car belongs to his brother, Delbert Likens of 190 Riviera.

Badgers Slowed Breakaway Ace to Stop Illinois

South Carolina, Iowa, Army Wingers Praised for Performances

NEW YORK (AP)—When you examine football's most recent upsets you have to go to the end to get the full story.

• • •

Ends were supposed to get the worst of the conversion from two-platoon to two-way football because of the physical demands on them for both downfield running and rugged contact work. But last week the wingmen came in for much of the credit in upset victories by South Carolina, Wisconsin, Iowa and Army.

• • •

South Carolina's Clyde Bennett topped off a fine performance by intercepting a pass in the last minute to kill West Virginia's last hope as the Gamecocks scored a 20-14 surprise. Bennett was singled out for his tackling, which caused two Mountaineer fumbles—one of which he recovered himself—and his solid blocking.

Observers agree it was the relentless pressure applied by Wisconsin ends Ron Locklin and Norb Esser that slowed down Illini speedster J. C. Caroline before he could get going in the Badgers' 34-7 upset of Illinois. While the linebackers sealed up the middle against the vaunted Illinois ground attack, Locklin, particularly, fended off blockers beautifully to hound outside plays.

Iowa's Coach Forest Evashevski knew he'd have to smother All America halfback Paul Giel to defeat Minnesota and his choice for the job was wingman Bill Fenton. The Hawkeyes' 27-0 victory was testimony of Fenton's work.

• • •

The coaches at Penn, which had played Notre Dame, Ohio State, Michigan and California among others, tabbed Army's ends Bob Mischak and Lowell Sisson the "best pair of wingers we've seen all season" after the Cadets upset the Quakers 21-14.

• • •

Ends also figured prominently in Alabama's defeat over Georgia Tech, 13-6, and Tennessee's 9-7 triumph over Florida.

Amateur Clubs to Follow Pro Baseball Rules

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—The nation's sandlot and non-pro clubs will adopt the exact playing rules of organized professional baseball for the 1954 season.

Recent changes, including authorization of laminated bats, will be adopted for the program it supervises, the Congress said today.

The adoption will be for the fifth straight year. As a result, said Ray Dumont, Congress president, all baseball—unlike basketball and football—will be played under uniform rules. In basketball, for example, rules vary between pros, colleges, high schools and the AAU.

Conference for East Suggested

Villanova's Dudley Says Loop Would Be Answer to Money Woes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Villanova College Athletic Director Ambrose (Bud) Dudley's latest idea to pump new life into sagging college football gate receipts—a northeast conference—reaches its first big hurdle Dec. 5 in Cincinnati.

• • •

Dudley announced yesterday that a number of unattached schools will discuss the idea then, during the annual coaches' gathering.

He said Boston College, Boston University, Fordham and Holy Cross have expressed strong interest in joining. And he said Syracuse, Colgate, Penn State, Delaware, Temple, Lehigh, Lafayette and Bucknell also have been approached.

• • •

Dudley said a conference is "the only salvation for the financial success of football here. The independents are going to have to band together. The sponsors of major bowls are tying up with conference teams only. We must build natural rivalries to generate interest among the football fans."

Royal Oak, Lake Orion, Keego Harbor Register County's Top Prep Grid Marks

By JACK SAYLOR

Royal Oak in Class A, Lake Orion in B and Keego Harbor in C posted the best records among Oakland County prep football teams this season.

Including all teams that compete in county area leagues, top marks went to Port Huron (8-1), Warren (8-0) and North Branch (7-0-1). Royal Oak could equal Port Huron's mark with a Thanksgiving Day win over Birmingham.

Lake Orion's record was 5-2, while Keego Harbor had 6-1-1.

Warren is the only undefeated, untied team in the area. Van Dyke (8-0-1), North Branch and Capac (6-0-2) also went unbeaten. It was the 2nd straight unbeaten year for North Branch.

With still a game to play, Royal Oak already has piled up more points than any other county eleven, 207. Defensive honors go to Keego, which yielded only 19 points in eight games. North Branch had the same record.

Farmington, Cranbrook and Bloomfield Hills were county teams unable to win this fall, though each managed a tie. Hills nearly was shut out, but pushed over 12 points in its final game. Farmington tallied only 13 points in eight starts.

Farmington and Lapeer suffered the biggest drops from 1952, Falcons going from 7-1 to 0-7-1, while Lapeer had 1-6-2 after its 1952 mark of 8-0-1.

Troy, Lake Orion, St. Mikes and Keego showed the most improvement. Troy, which lost eight straight a year ago and scored only four points, registered 4-3-1 and scored 126 points this time.

Orion jumped from 2-6 to 5-2, St. Mikes from 1-7-1 to 6-2-1, and Keego from 2-5 to 6-1-1.

For the 2nd straight season, Waterford far out-scored its rivals, yet finished below .500. Oxford and Almont had the same experience. Milford and Shrine were outscored, but won more than they lost.

Streaks are few and far between with Warren's 10 straight wins tops. Royal Oak is the county's best with six. North Branch is unbeaten in 16 games, two of which were ties.

Port Huron, North Branch and St. Rita were repeat league champs from 1952. Hurons won the Eastern Michigan League title for the 3rd straight year and North Branch repeated in the South Central.

St. Rita was forced to share its Suburban Catholic crown with St. Michael's and St. Benedict. Keego Harbor won the Wayne-Oakland in its 1st try and Van Dyke did likewise in the Inter-Lakes.

Avondale and Fitzgerald shared the Oakland B title, Warren won the Bi-County and Capac the Southern Thumb, while Royal Oak grabbed a share of the Border-Cities.

Complete records will be found elsewhere on this page.

Psst! Fans, the Major Has Hot One---Iowa Over Irish

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Egad! Many of my loyal followers have asked me to comment on the changes this football season has featured, and I am happy to announce I have found marked improvement in the game.

Abandonment of the platoon system has resulted in a multitude of more able players being considered for All-America honors. In other years the selector of the mythical elevens chose an offensive and a defensive team. It was a bit ridiculous.

This year the ball carrier had to prove his ability as a tackler. Many stars at rushing the ball or catching passes have been rusty on defense since their prep days. Particularly so of seniors and juniors who had to play either offense or defense in college.

Thus many an able ball carrier in 1952 proved a dud when he had to go both ways.

This week's games appear to be strictly according to form. There may be an upset here and there, such as Iowa to defeat the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame (20-14). However, this isn't really an upset as it runs according to chalk, plus Dr. Zlobotny! And, Marquette 21, Michigan State 20!

The forecast:

Harvard 21, Yale 14; Pitt 27, Penn State 20; Princeton 20, Dartmouth 14; Fordham 13, Holy Cross 14; Purdue 20, Indiana 14; Illinois 27, Northwestern 7; Detroit 14, Tulsa 7; Missouri 21, Kansas 14; OSU 14, Michigan 7; Wisconsin 20, Minnesota 14; Nebraska 21, Oklahoma 20; Maryland 21, Alabama 14.

LSU 14, Arkansas 6; Georgia Tech 20, Duke 14; Baylor 14, SMU 7; Florida 14, Miami 6; Miss. St. 21, Miss. 14; Rice 14, TCU 7; Tennessee 21, Kentucky 20; Stanford 21, California 20; Oregon 21, Oregon State 14; USC 20, UCLA 13 and Washington 27, Wash. St. 14.

It's Time Out!

Deer Hunting Good Despite Warm Temperatures

Pontiac Party Gets Its Limit on Opening Day

Foursome Downs Bucks in Alcona, Returns to City by Midnight

Pontiac area hunters continued to return from successful northern trips as the state's deer season reached its 4th day.

One of the quickest expeditions was that made by Dwayne Pyles and Joe Nave of 91 E. Huron, John Shaw of 1584 N. Perry and his brother Andrew Shaw of Detroit. The foursome drove to Alcona County, bagged four bucks and returned to Pontiac by midnight Sunday night.

Entries in the Pontiac Press' 1953 contest include:

WEIGHT—160-pounder, shot by Roy LaLone, 200 Baldwin, in Gladwin County.

BEST RACK — 10 pointer, bagged by Durwood Nelley, 41 N. Midland, in Baldwin County; 6-pointer, killed by John Bridges, 660 Brooks, near Lonconln.

BEST HEAD—8-pointer, downed by Vern Likens, 1059 Fremont, in Oscoda County.

Richard Rohrer of 674 Rosewood Place brought down a 107-pound 3-pointer near Farwell, but it wasn't large enough for the "derby."

Press' contest is open only to full-time Oakland County residents. Press employes, and their families, are ineligible. Deer may be shot anywhere in Michigan, where hunting is legal.

Entries will be accepted at the Press from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. weekdays and from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays. None will be taken on Sundays. Hunters entering deer in the weight division must have certified weight slips, bearing the signatures of the weigher, the hunter and one disinterested witness.

Pontiac Press reserves the right to reject any entry.

HOW DO WE LOOK?—These appealing springer spaniels may have a chance to show their looks off to the best advantage in the coming all-breed puppy match of Pontiac Kennel Club. The match takes place in the Armory here, Sunday, with a panel of 10 outstanding judges handling the selections. This trio is from the Lawland Kennels. The pups are only 7-months old.

Out-of-State Archers Seek Michigan Deer

Sales of Non-Resident Bow Permits Show Big Increase Over 1952

LANSING (AP)—More and more archers fro mother states are coming into Michigan to hunt deer, conservation department reports.

Reports of non-resident bow and arrow license sales returned to the department so far this year total more than 1,000. At the same time last year, 650 non-resident license sales had been reported.

Non-resident archers last year totaled some 1,800 when all the returns were in. The total is expected to go to 2,500 this year.

Numbers of resident archers also continued to climb. Resident licenses are expected to reach 32,000 this year, compared with 27,500 last year.

Hunters on Public Land Are Having More Success Than Nimrods at Clubs

By JACK PATTERSON

CURRAN—In spite of temperatures that are more suitable for the Fourth of July than Nov. 15 and tinder-dry conditions underfoot, the boys are getting started on a bang-up deer season. Locker plant in Mio reports 380 bucks on the hook at present, a goodly number when you consider that the majority of hunters are taking deer home just about as soon as they bag them. Your correspondent has been too busy trying to spot horns on what seems to be unprecedented number of does to do much traveling around the country but here is a rundown on what some of the local boys have been doing.

PATTERSON

Over at the Oakland Hunt Club with 30-odd hunters participating, 12 deer were on the pole at last count. Among the Pontiac and vicinity people operating from that outfit are Dr. Bruce Hubbard, Angus Campbell, Meade Myers, Bryan French, Frank Holecheck, Jim Hampton, Glen Miller, Moose Whitefield, Floyd Baker, Charlies Vanbuskirk, Carl Reynolds, Bob Swanson, Ed Laird, Frank Stout and Bill Lane.

To avoid arguments now and in the future we won't detail individual success or lack of it on the part of these men over at John Cowe's camp. Genial John couldn't pin them down on whether they had been out of the cabin.

At neighboring Camp 24 the boys are doing rather poorly for a bunch of eager beavers. At time of writing Charlie Corwin was only one who had scored. He picked up a 6-pointer that was hanging around the back door of the cabin on his way into lunch.

Floyd Blakesly passed up a shot at a spike because he fancied he saw a nice rack following it up. He threw on the beast and fired enough rounds to fill it as full of holes as Truman's Monday night speech. When smoke cleared, Floyd found he had bagged himself a beautiful dead spruce tree. This serves as a reminder that all deer hunters should regard a good pair of binoculars as essential equipment.

At our own camp there has been a lot of shooting going on but to date no furry forms graced the game pole.

By and large hunters on public lands are turning in a better performance than club hunters. Bucks are not moving in the current heat wave and it takes a lot of hunters to stir them up.

We always back away from the "I tole you so" sort of second guessing but if memory serves we predicted a week or so ago that the heavily hunted areas would produce for the patient hunter.

Jack Habel and Bill Isgrigg just dropped by with a report on the boys at Benson's cabin. Stories as to success of hunt varied so we gather that Habel has scored and Isgrigg hasn't.

Hec Kilrea's Son Leads Hockey Team at Yale

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Wally Kilrea, captain of the Yale hockey team, has an illustrious hockey name to defend. His father, Hec Kilrea, was a star in the National Hockey League.

The coach of the present Eli ice squad is Murray Murdoch, one-time star performer for the New York Rangers.

Spartans Shift Backs

Michigan State's top ends, Ellis Duckett, John Lewis and Dale Knight, compiled outstanding high school records as backfield men.

PKC to Hold Annual Puppy Match at Armory Sunday

Pontiac Kennel Club will hold its annual puppy match Sunday at the city armory. One-hundred fifty entries have been received to date, and indications point toward the largest field in the event's 3-year history.

Entries will be accepted up to the start of judging at 1 p. m. spaniels, hounds, boxers, Doberman Pinschers, collies and shelties.

Ribbons will be awarded in all classes, with a trophy going to every best-of-breed. Rosettes and trophies will be presented group winners and to the best-in-match. Every junior showman will receive candy.

Judges for the event include: Horace Holland, Port Huron; Mrs. John W. Gillies, Rochester; Dr. Charles H. Connally, Detroit; Melvin Steinbrenner, Southfield; Mrs. Helen Haupt, Utica; Robert Ahern, Walled Lake; Mike Bello, Farmington; Mrs. Budly Blackburn, Detroit; Harry Bridge, Lansing; O. J. Kersting, Ada; Mrs. Terry Shertzer, Rochester, and F. A. Porter, Pontiac.

U. of M. Researchers Help in Deer Count

ANN ARBOR (UP)—University Center is helping the state conservation apartment determine how many deer sportsmen kill this year.

The center, specializing in methods of taking surveys, has helped the department set up a traffic count system and post card poll of hunters.

Takes More Than Broken Leg to Stop This Kegler

ALTON, Ill. (AP)—Anthony McClintock recently broke a leg while bowling. It didn't bother him much. He had a friend rush him home where he picked up a spare. Then he returned and finished his match.

McClintock lost his right leg in World War II.

"I always keep a spare artificial leg around home just in case of trouble," he says.

Gophers Ask Definition of 'Sellout' Term

Solon Charges School Is Attempting to Avoid Televising Game

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP) — Asa Bushnell, director of the NCAA television program, promised a ruling today on whether the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game Saturday is technically a sellout and may therefore be televised locally.

Minnesota sold the last available seat for the game Tuesday, but instead of requesting permission to televise the game, the University asked Bushnell to rule on technical definition of a sellout.

Minnesota athletic director Ike Armstrong said that although "we don't have any more seats to sell," there was a chance the game is not technically a sellout because the payments for approximately 125 seats reserved for high school players have not yet been received.

University's action immediately brought a charge from State Rep. D. D. Wozniak, St. Paul, that the school was trying to avoid television of the game.

"This is a breach of faith with the public and the legislature," Wozniak said.

Hunters Return Minus Guns and Pair of Beagles

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Some Pennsylvania hunters came back empty-handed in more ways than one this week.

Three ads in today's newspaper report the loss of a 12 gauge pump gun near a rural intersection, a double-barreled Stevens gun somewhere outside town and even two male beagles missing in nearby Cumberland County.

Ontario Lakes Stocked With Hybrid Splake

New Species of Game Fish Cross Between Speckled, Lake Trout

TORONTO (AP) — Anglers at any one of 10 northern Ontario lakes next year are in for an agreeable shock.

The 10 lakes are stocked with nearly 10,000 of a new species of game fish, known as splake, a hybrid developed from a cross between speckled and lake trout. It is easier to catch and hits a lure harder than either of its parents.

Officials of the fish and wildlife division of the Ontario department of lands and forests are mum on the names of the 10 lakes. However, they did give the geneal location — in the northern part of the area between Sault Ste. Marie and Sudbury.

The Ontario department has been developing the splake since 1951, in a program guided by Dr. H. H. MacKay, department biologist.

Work in the development of splake was started in 1949 by Dr. Victor Solman, chief biologist of the wildlife service.

The fish were raised to the yearling stage, four to six inches in length, before being planted. So far, provincial authorities haven't obtained much information on how the fish survived and how their experiment will work out. They will know more next year after the anglers get to work.

Quesnel River Restored as Salmon Spawning Spot

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — The Quesnel River system in central British Columbia has been restored as a major sockeye salmon spawning stream. This was reported by H. R. MacMillan, a member of the International Salmon Fisheries Commission. He paid tribute to the work of commission scientists and referred to their achievement as a "modern miracle."

Fire Toll Is Large

LANSING (AP)—The conservation department has reported that 39 fires burned more than 220 acres of Michigan forest and grass land last week. This brings the year's toll to some 8,700 acres of wildland damaged so far this year.

Tourist Business Still in Infancy in Michigan

By MORT NEFF

Year after year we hear the story that Michigan's tourist business is second only to the automobile business in dollar volume, yet we are now beginning to suspect that we have just begun to scratch the surface in exploiting our outdoor attractions. In future years we may look back at current figures to prove that this is just the beginning, that the industry is still in its infancy, and that we overlooked the revelation that Michigan is truly the year-round state for outdoor fun!

NEFF

To many resort owners, particularly in the northern part of the state, the brief two and one half months of real summer make it hard to realize much profit in their ventures.

Lately emphasis on winter sports has attracted thousands of enthusiasts to more than a score of Michigan resorts near skiing, tobogganing and ice-fishing facilities. In some areas accommodations in the winter months are completely inadequate.

Michigan resort associations will be wise to take stock of unexploited off-season attractions, and to plan their advertising accordingly.

Modern highway snowplows keep our roads open and clear the winter through. Motorists face little or no donger of being snowbound — and are willing to drive a long way for an attractive menu of winter sports.

Ice-fishing is a sport too little publicized. With the introduction of the new light-weight "thermal" clothing to keep us warm 'way below zero, countless more sportsmen will find fun outdoors in mid winter in Michigan.

Springtime, too, fails to get a deserving spotlight. With the breakup of lakes and streams, new life is evident everywhere.

Somebody's missing the boat — and a couple of million "tourists" are missing some of the year's best fun in Michigan Outdoors!

Teaching by TV

Hornsby Turns to New Video Baseball Career

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rogers Hornsby embarked today on a new baseball career: teaching the fundamentals of the game by commercially sponsored television.

"It's something I've always wanted to do," Hornsby said. "I want to help build the youth of America and teach them the fundamentals of the greatest game in the world."

HORNSBY

Hornsby, one of baseball's greatest hitters, said he is giving up professional baseball for good, after 40 years as a player or manager.

First of a series of 15-minute television shows is being filmed this afternoon. Bob Wolff, Washington sports announcer, and Jim Busby, Washington Senators' outfielder, will join Hornsby. Other major leaguers will appear on later shows.

"We'll have Busby stand up there at the plate and demonstrate batting stances," Hornsby said. "Then he'll do a little bunting. You know, that's kind of a lost art."

He added:

"That's what I want to do. I want to teach the kids the fundamentals of the game. I want them to learn to play it well and enjoy it. A lot of boys in the big leagues now don't know the first thing about some of the fundamentals."

The TV show will be aired every week for as long as people want to see it. Hornsby said there probably will be about 100 outlets.

In each community where the TV productions are shown, committees of sportsmen will select two boys to attend a camp Hornsby will operate for the month of March in Florida, at a site as yet undesignated.

Each community will select one boy from the 10-15 age group and one from the 16-19 group. The idea is that local groups will pay all the boys' expenses.

The show is being produced by National Productions, Inc., in which Hornsby has a partnership.

Kerry Only Repeater

Keating, Malone Head All-Inter-Lakes Squad

By JACK SAYLOR

Kerry Keating, Waterford High School's brilliant left halfback, was the lone repeater from 1952 on the Inter-Lakes Conference all-star team picked by league coaches Tuesday night.

The light, but slippery-footed senior was a unanimous selection along with Van Dyke's super-star, John Malone.

Van Dyke, the champion, Southfield and Berkley each placed three on the 1st team, with Farmington and Waterford getting the other two spots. Four

KEATING

Skippers made the 2nd team, along with three each from Farmington and Walled Lake and one from Southfield.

Only junior on the 1st team was Southfield end Fred Courville.

Lyle Brown and Tom McCormick of Southfield, Jim Grogis of Van Dyke, Bill Ziegler and Bruce Dallahan of Berkley, and Tom Thomas of Farmington complete the line.

With Keating and Malone in the backfield are Bob Jaszcz of Van Dyke and Harry Berman of Berkley.

Barely nudged to the 2nd team was Keating's swift running mate at Waterford, Ray Campbell. Other Skippers named were end Dick Tims, junior tackle Dick Coultier and durable fullback and linebacker Pat O'Neill.

Southfield tackle Phil Lahner was a repeater on the 2nd team. Bob Andrews, Mike Ryan and Ed Westergard from Walled Lake also made the 2nd team.

The selections:

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Enlarging the Hook.

Thumb Turns to Left—Merely by shifting the thumb more to the left of ball center as illustrated, the amount of right-to-left hook turn increases. The "V" grip formed by the thumb and index finger has been opened to be almost parallel. The fingers, you will notice, are well on the right side (outside) the ball, but not on top. They are in position to impart spin easily and consistently with a slight lift of the arm as ball is released. A lift, mind you, not a wrist turn. If hook is too large, adjust by doing one of three things: Deliver ball more toward center of alley to allow for size of break, increase the speed a bit with longer push-away of ball for larger swinging arc, or close the V by turning hand to right, bringing thumb nearer ball center. Practice regulates these things.

Virginian Lists Knee Injuries as the Most Numerous

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—The return of the one-platoon system was blamed by a University of Virginia doctor today for an "alarming" 30 per cent increase in injuries to players on Virginia's football squad.

* * *

Dr. Charles J. Frankel, a faculty member at the university's Medical School and examiner for the American Board of Orthopedic Surgery, said there has been a similar upswing in injuries at other colleges he has checked.

Furthermore, he said, the injuries have been more severe than in the days of unlimited substitutions.

* * *

"College athetes, with few exceptions, are not as rugged as a generation ago," Dr. Frankel, Virginia team physician, declared.

He said injuries this year have been more frequent and more serious not only in actual game competition but in practice sessions as well. The practice injuries are attributable to the efforts of coaches to condition their players to action on both offense and defense, Dr. Frankel said.

"Military service examinations have shown that all across the country, this generation of young men is less rugged than the last," he said. "Most boys today don't walk as much as they used to. They usually ride in an auto and consequently their legs and their bodies are weaker."

As team doctor here, Dr. Frankel has kept records of all football injuries at Virginia since 1935. This year the injuries are running 30 per cent ahead of the average for the last 19 years, he said.

Knee injuries of the serious kind have soared since the one-platoon system was brought back, Dr. Frankel said, along with other injuries "which occur as a result of fatigue. Many times, toward the end of a football game, players are so fatigued they can't take care of themselves."

Dr. Frankel is considered an authority on athletic injuries and their treatment and has been the author of many papers on the subject for professional journals.

Rams Watching Hirsch Closely After Injuries

WASHINGTON (AP)—Coach Hampton Pool of the Los Angeles Rams pro football team, says he is keeping a sharp eye on Elroy Hirsch, Rams' outstanding end and a former University of Michigan player, to determine if Hirsch should be retired.

"With his background of once having had a fractured skull, Hirsch is in a precarious condition," said pool, noting that Hirsch suffered a head injury Sunday for the 2nd straight week.

"If this keeps up, the Rams may decide to retire him before something serious happens to him. We will seek medical advice on this."

Ex-Pontiac Sandlotter Hurls Army Nine to Service Title in Overseas Tourney

By H. GUY MOATS

From Pontiac's baseball and softball playing fields to Japan and the Eighth Army softball championship is a long jump. But a former city softball ace has made the prodigious leap in shining fashion, according to stories and reports from the Orient.

Bernard A. Dennis, corporal in the Eleventh Engineers outfit in Korea, pitched his club to the title with what Stars and Stripes sports writers called "sensational style." He turned in four shutouts, gave up only two runs and 16 hits for the five victories.

Dennis is a 5-foot-10, 175-pounder. He started playing ball in Pontiac's city leagues. He tried baseball, but didn't do so well at it, and became a softball pitcher. At that he did extremely well. Dennis pitched for the Wrigleys here prior to going into service.

Dennis isn't a speed-ball hurler. His catcher in the army reports that he used lots of "stuff," including change of pace, rise ball, drops, and other variations, but his big stock in trade was control.

Dennis is one of eight sons of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dennis of Pontiac. All are softball players, and all but Burward, 30, are, or were pitchers and outfielders. They include the eldest, Wesley, formerly with the Jockey club team; Burward was catcher for the C-V team this year; Eugene (now in U. S. Air Force) with an army team in Savannah, Ga.; Jack played with Eagles and GMC this year; Rowland, shop operator, out of game for two years, former outfielder, and Jerry, a pitcher-catcher with Eagles last year, now on his way to Korea.

"All are good bowlers, too," the proud mother reports.

* * *

Dennis, known here better as "Al," sent home the balls used in the championship games. He also forwarded to his mother a mass of clippings from service papers, and photographs, with his trophies.

* * *

AUTOGRAPH FOR A GENERAL—Pontiac's Bernard (Al) Dennis, winning pitcher in the recent Eighth Army softball championships in Japan, gives an autographed ball to Major General Thomas Hickey after the title series. Gen. Hickey is commander of the 9th corps and Dennis pitched five winning games to give the 11th Engineers the championship.

Records Broken for Wagering, Gate at Tracks

Mark of 1952 Falls as Handle Tops $2 Billion for 1st Time

NEW YORK (AP)—Thoroughbred horse racing, which broke all records for attendance and parimutuel wagering last year, has again shattered all marks with betting passing two billion dollars for the first time in this country.

* * *

Incomplete and unofficial figures from the nation's 25 states where parimutuel betting is legal show that wagering at the running tracks is up 7.21 per cent over 1952, with attendance showing a 4.59 per cent gain, and revenue to the states hitting a high 14.29 per cent above last year's record.

* * *

A year ago, racing people said the big upswing could be credited to Uncle Sam's crackdown on bookmakers, plus increased public confidence in the sport through policing by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau. The upswing has been noted every year since 1950.

* * *

With estimates necessary from some states where racing still is continuing, such as California, Maryland, West Virginia and Rhode Island, a total parimutuel turnover of $2,068,052,889 is indicated for 1953. This compares with $1,928,925,499 last year.

Attendance last year was 27,086,748 and this year the estimate is 28,329,182.

* * *

Revenue to the states and municipalities will total a record $136,069,370, the survey indicated. A year ago their income was $119,061,276.

* * *

The figures are for running tracks only, and do not include many more thousands who attended the harness tracks in many states.

Kentucky Ready to Regain Place Among Cage Elite

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The University of Kentucky, a name long synonymous with collegiate basketball, appears ready to regain its place among the nation's elites after one-year exile.

Adolph Rupp, whose 23-year record at Kentucky includes 471 victories and 82 losses, frames the outlook in eight carefully chosen words:

"The university will have its usual representative team."

* * *

Despite Rupp's caution, the advance dope is that Kentucky is loaded—as usual.

* * *

Kentucky will not be the South's only powerhouse. North Carolina State, despite the loss of 14 prospects through ineligibility, figures to be at least as good as last year.

"Western Kentucky," says a communique from Bowling Green, Ky., "should have the best team assembled by Ed Diddle in his 33 years as head coach."

Basis for this boast is that four out of the five starters are back for their senior year. Like all Diddle's teams this will be one that can run, shoot and score, and it will be rich in experience as well. Probable starters will be Tom Marshall and Dan King at forward, 6-9 ½ Art Spoelstra at center, and Lynn Cole and Dyke Vest at guard.

Louisiana State is expected to give Kentucky a stiff battle for the Southwestern Conference title.

* * *

In the new Atlantic Coast Conference, Maryland, banking on Gene Shue, and Wake Forest, with high-scoring Dick Hemric, are the best bets to challenge N. C. State. In the old Southern Conference, it looks like a three-way battle among West Virginia, Furman and George Washington.

Elliot Is Possibility for Kansas Grid Job

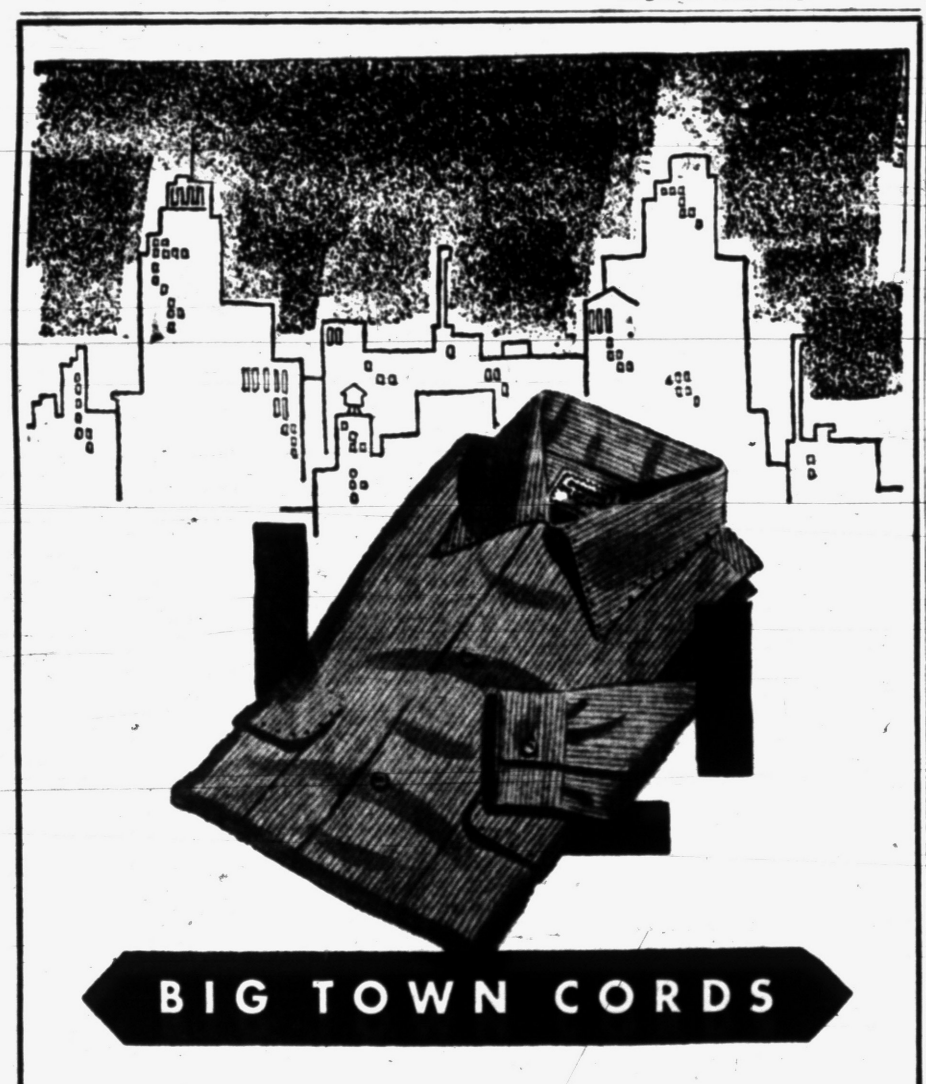

WICHITA, Kas. (AP)—Pete Elliott, assistant coach at the University of Oklahoma and a former Michigan backfield star, was among those mentioned today as a possibility for head coach at the University of Kansas.

Newspaper reports said the present Kansas coach, Julius Sikes, will leave after the Saturday game with Missouri.

Theater Prepares to Show 'The Robe'

Preparing for presentation of the great Technicolor epic, "The Robe," the Oakland Theater here is installing a great deal of new equipment including the CinemaScope Miracle Mirror screen, Anamorphic Lens projector and the Stereophonic Sound system.

Hailed by critics and patrons alike who witnessed the momentous opening of the film in New York, "The Robe" will be shown in Pontiac beginning Dec. 9.

The selection of "The Robe" as the initial project for CinemaScope, was the decision of Darryl F. Zanuck, production chief of Twentieth Century-Fox and the film's producer, Frank Ross.

Busy Shelley Now in Fight With Studio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's time to check up on the wondrous world of Shelley Winters.

The unpredictable blonde is a throwback to another Hollywood era. There was a time when the temperamental leading lady was considered par for the course.

But movie actors on the whole have become more normal and anyone who parts from the norm is treated as a freak.

Shelley thrives on turmoil, and that may be part of the reason I found her doing a TV film for the Ford Theater. Her studio was against the idea.

"They claim my contract says I can only do live TV," she remarked. "It says I have the right to do TV, and I claim that's either live or on film. I'm not going to budge.

"Besides, I want to prove a point. The show I'm doing is a comedy — the light, Jean Arthur sort of thing which is what I want to do in pictures. Maybe if the producers see this, it'll convince 'em.

"So far I can't break the type. All they ever cast me for is tough, dance-hall dames. It was just as though I had never done 'A Place in the Sun,' in which I played a 19-year-old virgin and for which I got an Academy nomination."

Shelley is always up in arms about something. Recently she had much-publicized running feud with a casino when she was appearing in Las Vegas. She claims the place provoked her into blowing her top so the publicity could be reaped.

I asked her bluntly: Is she difficult? "Yes, I can be," she replied. "I get along fine until people do things to prevent me from doing my best possible work. Then I blow up."

Difficult or no, Shelley has a voracious appetite for work, which is even more pronounced since her retirement to bear a child. Since then she has made three pictures, played the nitery date and made a TV film. She soon starts a film for her home lot, Universal-International.

On Dec. 23, she flies with baby Vittoria and nurse to Rome, where they will join her talented husband, Vittorio Gassman. Shelley will make a picture with him. At the same time, she plans to make a movie with Vittorio De Sica.

Take a rest after that? Not our girl. She may do a stage version of "The Rose Tattoo" in London. In addition, she has night club offers for Miami and elsewhere and a chance to do a TV series.

"The TV deal is awfully tempting," she commented. "I'm supposed to make 39 shows and get a capital gains return that would net me something like three-quarters of a million dollars. I don't think I'll do it. But gee — three quarters of a million dollars!"

Despite the gossips, she remarked that her marriage to Gassman is in dandy shape, the only distance between them being geographic.

Rumors arise when Shelley goes out with other men; she admits she hates to stay home. Unused to the Hollywood gossip mill, Vittorio is sometimes upset by such reports.

Recently the pair spent an idyllic few days in Canada, where she was on location. When he returned to Hollywood briefly, he read reports she was divorcing him. He quickly phoned her.

"Are you divorcing me?" he asked.

"Maybe later, dear," she replied. "Not now."

Jacoby on Games

Two Bolivias Are Allowed

With 18 Wild Cards in 3 Decks, Pair Is Legal and Very Lucky

Recently we reviewed the game of Bolivia. This is very much the same as the game of samba. It is played with three decks, with six jokers; you draw two cards at a time from the stock; and you can meld sequences canastas, or sambas, worth 1500 points.

Here are some differences: Game is 15,000 points. To meld out, you need two canastas, but at least one of them must be a samba (se-canasta). You can meld a canasta of exactly seven wild cards, called a bolivia worth 2500 points. You are docked 100 points for each black three in your hand when the deal comes to an end.

Q—Are you allowed to make more than one bolivia in the same hand?

A—Yes. You need seven wild cards for each bolivia, and since there are 18 wild cards in play you may be able to accumulate enough wild cards for two bolivias. To do so is quite legal and also very, very lucky.

Q—How do you arrange your hand in playing Bolivia? Do you keep aces, kings, and queens separate, and so on—or do you sort your hand according to suits?

A—The best method is to assort your hand in suits, keeping the wild cards separate. Even if you want to meld out quickly you will still need at least one samba, and you can spot the samba possibilities faster if you keep your cards arranged according to suit.

After you have made one samba, you may then arrange your remaining cards according to rank if you want to meld out in a hurry.

Q—What do you score for black threes when you meld out?

A—When you meld black threes, they count only 5 points each. But they count 100 points each against you if they are left in your hand when somebody else melds out (or if the hand ends without any meld out).

Q—I melded two pure canastas the other night, and had all six red threes on the table. The opponents melded out and wanted to count my red threes 1000 points against me instead of in my favor. They said I couldn't count the red threes unless one of my two canastas was a samba. Was this correct?

A—No. You get credit for your red threes if your side melds any two canastas. The requirement of at least one samba applies only for melding out. You were entitled to add 1000 points to your score instead of subtracting 1000 points.

Ray Millands Together Again After Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Ray Millands are back together.

The movie actor and his wife Mal separated Oct. 21. They said it was for "purely personal reasons," and that there was no third party involved.

Milland said he moves his belongings back into their home today.

News Out of Kansas City Pretty Sordid These Days

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—Kansas City has been the news capital of the United States, if not the world, these past few days.

Much of the news has been sordid, for society has been in the process of eradicating or putting away two soulless creatures named Carl Hall and Bonnie Heady.

The other news was made by Truman, indignantly defending himself against Herbert Brownell's charge that seven years ago he promoted a government economist named Harry Dexter White even though the FBI had warned him in a secret message that White had been accused of spying against the United States.

Some stray impressions of the Hall-Heady trial:

Bonnie Heady might have been a pretty good-looking tomato about 20 years ago. She's not as fat as her pictures indicate.

The clothes she wore made reporters remember that a few years ago when she was respected member of an upper-middle class set in St. Joseph, Mo., she was the pride and envy of her group—what with her clothes and perfume.

As the case against her built up, she seemed to grow physically smaller in her chair, and the shadows under her eyes circled.

She uses very little rouge and combs her black hair straight back under her hat, exposing small ears adorned with rhinestone earrings.

She looked sidewise at her lover from time to time, but Carl Hall never once looked at his lady love.

Roy K. Dietrich, eminent local lawyer drafted by Judge Albert L. Reeves to represent the scoundrel Hall, told the jury there were "mitigating circumstances."

He traced the history of the Hall family back to the defendant's grandfather.

Hall got no proper affection from his mother and father, Dietrich said. The father died too soon and the mother was too interested in "civil and church affairs." And the U.S. Marines made this man a bum.

Hall appeared to doze at times during the trial. Then he'd slump in his seat, his head deep in his chest, his eyes like those of a jackal. His brown hair recedes along his temples and his eyebrows have a way of darting up, giving him a strange animal look.

I'll not forget the way Greenlease, who must be a tremendously strong man despite his years, choked up swiftly and then caught himself when Ed Scheufler, the U.S. attorney, asked him to identify a pencil recovered from the dead boy's shirt when they dug him up.

Nor can I forget the unearthly look of woe in the eyes of Sister Morand, the Notre Dame De Sion nun, when she was asked if she recognized the woman who had so tragically duped her.

"She . . . in the black," Sister Morand said. You could hardly hear her, but you knew that here was the "finger" being put on a criminal as never before in your time.

Truman, climaxing the busiest day in the lives of most of the reporters on hand, spoke from WDAF-TV. Truman drew a full house in the viewing room, only Matt Connelly and Bill Hillman being permitted in the studio itself.

The former President was on the set, and seated behind his desk, a full half-hour before program time.

Those of us in the spectators gallery, including Bess, had to sit through a tired TV movie about some South Sea Islanders and their difficulty melding East and West, before we got H.S.T.

Truman livened up things considerably, and the dialogue was a lot saltier than that of the movie. At least Brownell thought so when he testified in Washington the next day.

Flees Death at Hands of Pro-Red POWs

SEOUL (AP)—A South Korean war prisoner who escaped Monday from a compound in the neutral zone said today he narrowly avoided execution by pro-Communist POWs.

Cpl. Pak Ki Do said he was tried and sentenced to death by a 45-man Communist collaboration committee in a compound holding more than 300 South Koreans reported to have chosen communism.

He said his trial was arranged after Red leaders discovered his secret plan to return to South Korea. He fled just in time.

Grab Your Vest, Mister, Ants Are on the Warpath

NEW YORK (AP) — In the year 4,000 a young ant rushed eagerly into the office of his grandfather, the tycoon of the male ant clothing industry.

"Well, Grandpa, I've got a revolutionary idea," he said excitedly, spreading some drawings on the desk.

"It's for a new kind of suit—A two piece suit. What good is the old-fashioned vest anyway, except to collect lint? If we get rid of it and convince ants a two-piece suit is healthier and more stylish, we can charge the same price and triple our profits."

Instead of complimenting him, his grandfather picked up a magnifying glass, handed it to his grandson, and told him to lean out the window, look down at the earth and tell him what he saw.

"Nothing," said the boy.

"Look closer," replied the grandfather, a distinguished old insect with a nose mottled by years of fine living.

"There's nothing there but a swarm of little human beings," said his grandson impatiently.

"Well, at one time those tiny creatures ruled the earth," said his grandpa gravely.

"No kidding! How odd." The young ant idly dropped a paper clip out the window and smiled as it landed in the cluster of people, killing four.

"But what has that got to do with my new idea for a two-piece suit?"

"Your idea is more than 2,000 years old," said his grandfather. "It originated with the forebear of one of those insignificent two-legged beasts you just looked at, and it led to the downfall of mankind."

"Tell me about it," said the young ant, who suspected old grandpa had been nipping at the Bourbon bottle again and was off on another tall tale.

"In those days human beings were as big as ants are now, and we had to live underground to keep from being trampled to death," began grandpa.

"They were a curious race. They killed and robbed each other for six days of the week and rested on the seventh day to regain their strength for more slaughter.

"But they had made considerable progress, considering their weak intellects. They were strong and tall and powerful.

"Then, following one of the wars they seemed always engaged in, a clothing company sold them on the idea of doing without a vest.

"Next they began putting out pajamas that only came to the knees and elbows. Then they quit wearhats, reduced the necktie to the width of a shoestring, and started leaving shoestrings out of shoes.

"Then they cut down the size of their houses, and left out the dining room and the bedrooms. Before long their houses had only two rooms—a den and a garage.

"They put more and more seats in their buses, trains and subways, and the seats got smaller and smaller. The big people became so uncomfortable they began to die out.

Then everybody started eating less and less, and each generation got smaller and smaller. There no longer was room in the world for a big man—or a big feeling.

"One day a man tried to trample an ant, and the ant trampled him instead. Well, what a thrill that was! We decided we could take over the world.

And you know how we did it? By reversing the trend. We forced people underground into colonies, and started living above ground ourselves like individuals.

"We ate more and grew bigger. We built bigger and bigger homes and larger seats on our buses—and grew up to fill them. We never allowed one ant to crowd another.

Our civilization reached its peak when we finally restored the vest to male suits. That was the climax to our victory. Do you think I want to start the ant world on the downward path of man?"

"I'm sorry grandpa," said the abashed young ant, backing out the door.

The old ant tore up his designs for a two-piece suit, walked to the window and scattered the scraps on the struggling mass of human beings below. Then the fine old fellow sat down on his swivel chair, crossed four of his six legs across his vest, and leaned back for a comfortable snooze.

Moral: anybody who gives up his vest may also lose his shirt.

There are about two telephones for every seven persons in the U. S.

Area Residents to Hear Dondero

Congressman to Appear at 'Open House Lunch' Next Monday

Pontiac area residents will have an opportunity to express their opinions before a national lawmaker next Monday when Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich) appears at a noon luncheon in Hotel Waldron.

The "Open Forum Luncheon" is sponsored by the governmental affairs committee of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Dondero will discuss issues to come before Congress in January 1954, according to Robert J. St. Clair, C. of C. manager. Topics are expected to include taxation, budget balancing, foreign aid, Taft-Hartley legislation and defense spending.

The legislator will answer questions and hear views of those attending, said St. Clair. Tickets are available from the C. of C. office, 34 E. Pike St.

Kind-Hearted Game Warden Helps Veterans

THROCKMORTON, Tex. (AP) — Game Warden H. B. Iverson saw a car stop on a highway ahead of him. A shotgun roared and a dove fell.

Shooting from a highway is against the law in Texas. So Warden Iverson drove up and ordered the men out of the car. The driver got out. A man in the back seat said, "We can't get out." The other added, "We're paralyzed — Korea," he explained.

The warden came up with this solution:

"I can't have you shooting along public highways. But I'll take you to a spot where the doves are like flies. We'll drive you in, put up your chairs, rig up some camouflage and you can burn your gun barrels up. That is, until you get your limits. Is it a deal?"

It was.

From Street Butts

LONDON (INS) — Prospectve British tourists to Italy have been warned against buying "American" cigarettes from blackmarket street vendors. Italian authorities say that in most cases they find that these smokes were not "Made in U.S.A." as stated on their spurious packages but in some dank Rome cellar from cigarette butts collected on the street.

Soybeans Rise on Trade Board

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans advanced several cents on the Board of Trade today, putting some firmness in other cereals which had started out no better than steady.

Buying in soybeans stemmed from light offerings of cash beans, an old but persistent rumor the Agricultural Department will raise the price at which it is offering cotton seed oil, and reports the Farm Operations Administration was discussing shipment of soybeans to West Germany.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ½ higher, December $2.01⅛; corn ½ to ¾ higher, December $1.50⅞, oats ⅛ to ½ higher, December 75; soybeans 2⅝ to 3½ higher, November $2.94½, and lard 10 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $15.85.

Dividend Story Brightens Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stock Market edged up slightly today as the flood of dividend reports continued to create some irregularity in the list.

Gains ran to around a point at the best while losses were usually in the smaller fractions.

Trading was rather light at a pace under yesterday's 1,250,000 shares, a level well below the daily average so far this year.

Steels were higher for the most part with Republic Steel moderately active. It was yesterday's most active issues after reporting favorable dividend action.

Going up with the steels were the motors, merchandising shares, most coppers, and railroads.

The rubbers were largely depressed along with radio-televisions and some chemicals and oils.

Among higher stocks were Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Boeing, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, General Electric, Southern Railway, and Johns-Manville.

TRAMPLES TRADITION—The growing independence of Princess Margaret is reported to be causing concern in Britain's royal circles. Last week, palace sources say, the Princess broke one of the strictest rules of Britain's Royal Household when she went for a walk in London—unescorted. Royal etiquette, laid down in Queen Victoria's days, insists that members of the Royal Family do their walking on royal grounds, protected from the public.

Mrs. Vogeler Urges U.S. to Strangle Red Economy

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

"It is within the power of the American women to strangle the economy of the Communist countries," declared Lucile Vogeler last night before a packed house in Pontiac High School auditorium.

First lecturer of this year's Kiwanis series, Mrs. Vogeler said that the woman who controls the family purse strings should demand to know where goods are made before she buys them.

"The loss of the American dollar to Red nations is one of the first steps to destroying communism. Last year over 15 million dollars worth of Christmas tree ornaments were marked with Iron Curtain country labels and yet we bought them," she declared.

A self-styled anti-Communist crusader, Mrs. Vogeler and the experience of her husband became front-page news in 1949.

Robert Vogeler, an American businessman representing the International Telegraph and Telephone Co. in Europe, was held by Hungarian Communists in Budapest on a "spy" charge for 17 months.

Mrs. Vogeler, waiting for him with their two sons, Robert Jr., 9, and Billy, 8, at their home in Vienna, negotiated with many national diplomatic departments, the U. S. State Department and even the anti-Communist underground to get her husband released.

When months went by and no word came from her husband, she made connections with the Communist underground.

"Believe it or not, but a Russian Army general and a colonel agreed to help me kidnap my husband for one price—their freedom. That was all they asked. There are many people posing as Communists who in their hearts are not. The plot was foiled and they were killed.

Boycott is not a new experience for Mrs. Vogeler. England accepted her proposal during the incarceration of her husband to cancel, 11 days before the holiday season, 5,000 tons of turkeys which they bought annually from Hungary.

"Needless to say, I am not popular in Hungary. Theirs is a hand-to-mouth economy. Boycott hurts and we can make them feel our power now."

Chiding those who designate good and bad Communists, Lucile Vogeler said there is no distinction.

"Our State Department feels that Marshal Tito is a 'good' Communist. We give him millions of dollars worth of guns and ammunition. He will one day give them back to us, but not in the way we wish to receive them," she said.

A firm supporter of the work of congressional investigation committees, Mrs. Vogeler said the Communists want the American people to yell about "McCarthyism" and believe it is more dangerous than communism.

"The American people get real concerned around election time. They shout and expound, and then they vote. But, after that they go back to sleep.

"It is time for them to find out about their government, the United Nations and the international laws they are proposing to substitute for our own sovereignity," she concluded.

Mrs. Vogeler was introduced by William B. Hartman, Kiwanis chairman for the lecture series.

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and Mrs. Addison A. Oakley performed a musical prelude on two pianos.

Youngster Injured by Discharging Gun

A nine-year-old boy playing with a .25 caliber revolver Tuesday night suffered a wound on his right index finger when the gun fired accidentally.

Jerome Bradford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bradford of 494 Luther St., was treated by a private physician.

The boy's mother quoted him as saying he thought the weapon was a toy when he picked it up at friend's home.

Commerce Farm Fire Razes Acres of Trees

A stubborn fire that raged through a heavily forested section of a Commerce farm was quelled by Walled Lake firemen last night after destroying about 10 acres of trees and several stacks of cordwood.

Mrs. Ralph C. Scott, 10861 Bogie Lake Rd., said the fire started on an adjoining farm Monday night, then spread to their farm near Commerce the next day. Cause of the fire is unknown.

FAITH Hears Lecture by Orthopedic Surgeon

Dr. Edward S. Maxim, orthopedic surgeon, spoke on "orthopedic aspects of the cerebral palsied or brain-injured child" when FAITH met Tuesday night.

The organization, sponsored "For the Aid and Instruction of the Handicapped" by Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, meets on alternate Tuesdays at Stevens Hall. Next meeting will be Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m. Anyone is invited to attend.

County Schools Get $700,000 From State

Oakland County today received $700,899 as its share of $9,599,054 primary school fund money in the November payment of funds to public schools in the state.

The payment is on the basis of $66.04 per census child, bringing to $24.55 the amount received this year by the schools for each child.

Conservationist Dies Suddenly

Fred P. Struhsaker, Veteran State Official, Succumbs at 49

LANSING (AP)—The unexpected death of Fred P. Struhsaker, 49, secretary of the State Conservation Commission, today was called a "personal and official loss" by Gov. Williams.

Struhsaker, chief of the Department Lands Division between 1934 and 1951, died of a brain lesion in Edward W. Sparrow Hospital yesterday noon.

He had been under treatment for severe headaches for six weeks. He was rushed to the hospital Monday night when his condition suddenly worsened.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

"Fred Struhsaker was a good public servant," Williams said. "I have known him a long time and have always found him helpful and considerate.

"In his quiet and pleasant way, he seemed to manage to get things done which otherwise might have bogged down. He was a true conservationist and performed a real service for the people of Michigan in his chosen field.

"He was well liked by all who knew him, and his loss will be keenly felt by his many friends and those interested in the progress of conservation."

Struhsaker was appointed commission secretary in July 1951. During his long tenure as lands chief he was responsible for the administration of more than 4,000,000 acres of state-owned lands.

Local 600 Asks Brownell Firing

CIO-UAW Ford Group Sends Request to Ike Over White Case

DETROIT (UP) — Local 600 of the CIO United Auto Workers union called today for the ouster of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell because of his "monstrous accusation" against former President Truman in the White spy case.

The 62,000-member Ford local, largest in the UAW, voiced its demand in a letter to President Eisenhower. The letter was signed by local President Carl Stellato and 27 other union officers.

The local, once placed under international union trusteeship because of alleged Communist infiltration, charged that Brownell's accusation was a "cheap political maneuver" in behalf of the Republican Party.

The letter urged the President to fire Brownell because of McCarthyism which has set off a "chain reaction of wild charges and counter-charges that made us like a . . . lunatic asylum. We have become the laughing stock of Europe and the world as a result of tthe 'hysteria' we have permitted to engulf us."

It said Eisenhower's failure to dismiss Brownell would signify that his administration "has officially embraced McCarthyism and abandoned American democracy."

Brownell and Hoover Eat at White House

WASHINGTON (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower gave a state dinner in honor of the Supreme Court last night. Two newsmen invited to attend as guests were told they could not report what happened.

Among the invited guests were three principal figures in the Harry Dexter White controversy: Atty. Gen. Brownell, Justice Clark and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

But that was not the reason for enjoining the reporting of what happened, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said. He declined to give a definite reason. Two reporters invited to a previous state dinner, in honor of the Cabinet, provided news coverage on a "pool basis."

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband, Dale Emery who passed away two years ago today, November 18th, 1951.
A silent thought,
A secret tear,
Keeps his memory,
ever dear
Sadly missed by wife Lillian.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF KENneth C Brandon who passed away Nov. 18, 1950.
We cannot clasp your hand, father dear;
Your face we cannot see;
But let this little token
Tell that we still remember thee.
Sadly missed by Joyce & Chuckie.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear Son & Brother, Kenneth C. Brandon, who passed away Nov. 18, 1950.
We who loved you sadly miss you
As it dawns another year
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of you are ever near.
Sadly missed by Mother, Brother & Sisters.

Card of Thanks

WE WISH TO THANK OUR Friends, Relatives & Neighbors for their acts of kindness and beautiful floral offerings during our recent bereavement. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered. Mrs. J. W. Root, Mr. & Mrs. R. G. Root & Judy.

WE WISH TO EXPRESS OUR APpreciation to the Commerce Township Pir De-t Longfellow Organization, all the churches and to other people for the help given us when our hous burned down Saturday, November 14, 1953. Mr. and Mrs. Leavy L. Creamer.

Hundreds Write Senators on Juvenile Delinquency

WASHINGTON (UP)—Tales of sex and crime in comic books, movies and radio and television shows are major reasons youngsters go bad, according to hundreds of persons who have written a Senate subcommitee investigating juvenile delinquency.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-NJ), has a file of about 7,500 letters on the delinquency problem. Virtually all the letters came unsolicited and most of them were written by mothers and school teachers.

The letters range from carefully detailed descriptions of community conditions and solutions to frivolous proposals for federal legislation to prohibit women from smoking in public.

Many plead for greater religious emphasis and some for stricter discipline in the home.

Hendrickson's subcommittee will open a series of juvenile delinquency hearings here Wednesday with government officials and experts on youth problems scheduled to testify. The subcommittee will then take a look at actual delinquency conditions in the nation's capital.

A spot check of many of the letters and reports of subcommittee officials who have read them all indicate that nearly 90 per cent of the persons writing agree that:

1. Greater attention to Religion in the home is essential to ending social problems of juveniles.

2. The chief reason for the growing delinquency rate is the increasing emphasis on sex and crime in public entertainment.

A Lutheran Church group said "neglect of parental responsibility" coupled with books and shows which "cater to the baser inclinations of man" are at the heart of the problem.

Many letters echoed the advice of a California woman who wrote: "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world" and the hand should stay closer to home.

A number of the letters suggested the nation would be better off with a return to "the old woodshed and hickory stick" style of discipline. Others suggested enforceable federal legislation outlawing sale of liquor to minors.

One person, however, thought the return of the free-lunch counter in saloons would settle things—young people wouldn't get drunk if they ate while they drank.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

JAYNE'S P-W for Pin-Worms

Vets Seldom Switch GI-Bill Courses

WASHINGTON (UP)—Fewer than 2 per cent of the 230,000 Korean War veterans taking GI training courses have changed their programs, the Veterans Administration (VA) said today.

The VA said this indicates that the Korean War veteran "has a clear picture of where he is going and how he plans to get there."

The law permits a veteran taking classroom, on-the-job or on-farm training under the GI bill of rights to switch programs only once. VA said fewer than 4,000 veterans have taken advantage of this privilege since the Korean GI training program began 15 months ago.

Some Progress Made in Korea

Communists Apparently Abandon Demands for Round-Table Talks

PANMUNJOM (UP) — Allied and Communist negotiators today appeared to be making some progress in talks to arrange an already long-delayed Korean peace conference.

The Communists today turned down an American plan for inviting neutral nations to the full-dress talks. But they apparently abandoned demands for a round-table conference at which neutrals—including Russia—would have a full voice.

The Reds suggested instead that neutral nations attend the conference as a third party to insure a "harmonious atmosphere," but with almost no voting power.

* * *

U. S. special envoy Arthur Dean said the vaguely worded Red plan needed clarifying and asked the Reds a series of questions. The Communists indicated they would answer at tomorrow's meeting.

Elsewhere in Korea there were increasing signs that the Communists might not resume interviews with Chinese and Korean war prisoners who have refused to go home.

The Indian command said there would be no interviews tomorrow and a spokesman said he had no idea when the explanations would resume.

* * *

The Reds talked to 227 Koreans Monday—the first interviews in 10 days—but the program has been stalled since then by Communist insistence on seeing POWs from the same compound who were not interviewed Monday.

The Indians have told the Communists to talk to an entire 500-man compound in a single day or forget those who are not interviewed.

Communist correspondent Wilfred Burchett, who often reflects official Red thinking, told Allied newsmen the Communists have given up the idea of a round-table parley in the face of United Nations opposition.

* * *

This would mean a major Red concession.

The Communists, said Burchett, now take the stand that the conference be between the belligerents, as the Allies propose, but neutrals attending as a third party to "exert a harmonizing influence."

Burchett said the neutrals might vote in minor matters such as procedural arrangements.

In a second subcommittee meeting Allied and Communist negotiators appeared to be near agreement on a method for deciding when the peace conference will open.

The state motto of Texas is "Friendship." The name "Texas" stemmed from the Spanish pronunciation of a Caddo Indian word meaning "friends."

Owosso Woman Dies; Was Active in Church

OWOSSO (UP)—Miss Mabel Morgan, long prominent in religious, business and club circles, died yesterday. She was 71 and had been in failing health for a year.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p.m.

Hardy Baby

NORWICH, Conn. (UP) — The mother of 22-month-old Dennis Davis was horrified when she saw her son topple from a stone wall some 30 feet to a rock-pile below. Dennis got up and walked away, uninjured.

Ballots Aren't Ordered; Election 2 Weeks Late

MANSFIELD, Ark. (UP)—Arkansas municipal elections were held Nov. 3—except in Mansfield. Officials forgot to have ballots printed in time here, so the voting was not run off until yesterday.
