Sheriff, Rights Officials Clash Over Jail

By JOE MULLEN

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons and visiting civil rights officials yesterday clashed over the racial segregation at the county jail and exchanged warnings during their heated discussion.

Burton Levy, director of community services for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, was among the eight who toured the jail and later met with Irons.

Referring to the racial segregation of prisoners in the jail's two 32-man bullpens, Levy warned Irons that this practice was unlawful and may be challenged by an official complaint.

The bullpen sections contain four 8-prisoner cells and an adjacent large area where all 32 inmates gather except when sleeping or on rest periods.

Irons responded that segregation of the races in the large bullpens is done to reduce the possibility of a serious melee — maybe even a killing.

"If I'm forced to mix these men and someone gets killed, you will be responsible for this tragedy," Irons said, pointing an accusing finger at Levy.

Yesterday's jail tour and meeting with Irons resulted from a Dec. 7 meeting of the human relations committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Daniel F. Monley, chairman of the Oakland County Human Relations Coordinating Council, appeared at this meeting and distributed a four-point discrimination indictment of the sheriff's department and its jail operation.

Duane Hursfall, chairman of the human relations committee, then scheduled yesterday's tour of the jail and meeting with Irons.

SPECIFIED CHARGES

Monley's charges specified segregation of prisoners, lack of nonwhites on the sheriff's staff, placing of teen-age prisoners with known perverts to maintain the segregation policy and an occasion when a Negro prisoner was beaten by white prisoners while deputies ignored the fight.

Irons was told of Monley's charges Dec. 8 and dismissed all as unfounded except for

Vandals Again Hit Kettering

2nd Break-In in 10 Days at High School

Waterford Kettering High School, which only 10 days ago sustained extensive damage in a break-in, has been hit again, township police learned this morning.

Considerable damage was caused in today's break-in and, more distressing, most of the hand tools were stolen from the auto shop.

"Our auto shop is out of commission," said Kettering principal James Fry. "We have no tools."

No loss estimate was immediately made by police and school officials.

Most of the harm was done in the school's biology laboratory, auto shop, bookstore and teachers' lounge, according to police.

A Volkswagen automobile was heavily damaged, police said. Its windows were broken and seats ripped apart.

In the biology laboratory, several microscopes were damaged and two fish aquariums were broken. School officials said at least three microscopes are not repairable.

A plate glass window was broken and volumes were strewn throughout the bookstore. A typewriter also was damaged.

A soft drink machine was tampered with in the teachers' lounge. An undetermined amount of change was taken from the machine.

SCHOOL VANDALISM — This Volkswagen was considerably damaged early today when vandals broke into Waterford Kettering High School, 2800 Bender. The intruders caused heavy damage in the break-in, primarily to the biology laboratory, auto shop, bookstore and teachers' lounge.

'That's My Boy'

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Snow brings many foreseeable problems, but one man found a completely unexpected problem waiting for him when he returned home from work last night. His 5-year-old son had spent most of the afternoon shoveling the snow from the driveway — into the garage.

Jackie Wrote Nik After Assassination

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy wrote Premier Nikita Khrushchev before she left the White House that he and President Kennedy, although adversaries, were allied in a determination that the world would not be blown up.

Mrs. Kennedy said she was certain that President Johnson would continue her husband's policy which she termed one of control and restraint.

A spokesman for the Kennedy family confirmed today that the letter will be in the Look magazine serialization of William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President." The spokesman was asked about the letter after a person who had read the manuscript related details of it to The Associated Press.

Injuries Fatal to 2 Residents of Waterford

Two Waterford Township residents died yesterday and early today from injuries received in two separate traffic accidents.

The victims were Robert D. Cushing, 20, of 828 Tyrone and Wellington R. Lewis, 51, of 131 S. Josephine.

Cushing died yesterday afternoon in Pontiac General Hospital about five hours after a car-truck collision on Walton Boulevard near Silver Lake Road in Waterford Township.

The truck driver, John G. Kudray, 62, of 3521 Watkins Lake, Waterford Township, did not require hospitalization.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac State Police said Cushing's car apparently crossed the center line on a curve near the intersection.

The accident occurred shortly after 9 a.m. yesterday.

Just as Suspected: Rock 'n' Roll Hurts

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — If today's teen-agers need hearing aids when they're 25, they have only themselves to blame, says Robert A. Larabell.

★ ★ ★

Their rock 'n' roll music is too loud and it's damaging their ears, the acoustics engineer said yesterday.

In decibels, Larabell said it ranks right up there with riveting, drop forging and automobile assembling. And workers in those industries are required to wear noise guards.

The quality of rock 'n' roll music draws no complaint from Larabell, president of an acoustics company.

Social Security Increase Will Cut Paychecks

Rate Hike From 4.2 to 4.4 Pct. Is Slated Mostly for Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) —The federal government will take a bigger bite of the weekly pay check beginning next week to help pay for increased Social Security benefits, especially medical care for the elderly.

Social Security taxes will climb from this year's 4.2 per cent rate to 4.4 per cent on Jan. 1 and most of the increase will be used in the Medicare program.

Over-all, the increase will add an extra $1 billion to the Social Security trust funds during 1967 but the most any one person will have to pay is $290.40, up $13.20 from this year.

Of the $13.20 increase, $9.90 will be earmarked for the medical care program and the rest for regular Social Security benefits.

★ ★ ★

And there's more to come in the years ahead.

BUILT INTO LAW

Increases in the Social Security tax rate are already built into law through 1987 and any increased benefits voted by Congress could mean even higher taxes.

President Johnson has already made an across-the-board improvement in benefits as a major legislative goal for next year and has the support of both Democratic and Republican leaders.

The new year increase in Social Security taxes is independent of any decision Johnson might make to raise personal income and corporation taxes.

Romney Meets on Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan held an all-day meeting here yesterday with eight top associates and friends to discuss the possibility of his seeking the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

One of those at the seven-hour session, J. Willard Marriott, a close friend and confidant of Romney, said afterward: "All of us think he is going to be a candidate."

Marriott, of Washington, D.C., head of a national motor hotel chain, said the consensus at the meeting was that Romney has "a better chance than anybody else."

But he noted that the governor had not made any commitment to seek the nomination. Others at the meeting said no decision had been made.

★ ★ ★

Romney left the meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel without speaking with newsmen, and flew to Chicago.

SHORT NOTICE

Robert McIntosh, a former Romney aide who was at the meeting, hinted that the governor may have requested the meeting and that it may have been on short notice. The meeting was not announced in advance.

Marriott said "no other candidate — I mean no other prospective candidate — was discussed" yesterday. And he added there was no discussion of prospective running mates.

One of those at the meeting, Max Fisher, a Detroit businessman who is head of the United Jewish Appeal, said those present continued their efforts to get Romney to seek the nomination.

Snow Flurries Will Let Up

Snow flurries are expected to abate tonight and colder temperatures will prevail tomorrow, according to the Weather Bureau.

Snow borne on winds of 30 m.p.h. covered the Pontiac area with four new inches of white flakes yesterday and continued on through the night and morning.

The expected low tonight will be 7 to 14 degrees. Mostly cloudy and not so cold is the outlook for Saturday.

Brisk winds southwesterly to west at 15 to 30 miles today should diminish tonight.

A nippy 21 was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury had edged up to 29 by 2 p.m.

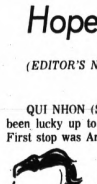
Hope Runs Into Graham

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the ninth in a 12-part series.)

By BOB HOPE

QUI NHON (Special)—They really had us moving today. We've been lucky up to now, but the weather finally caught up with us. First stop was An Khe, home of the famed First Air Cavalry.



HOPE

The soup was so thick, we had to make two passes at the field. For a while I thought we'd have to light flares inside the plane.

This is the monsoon season, and An Khe had the kind of oozing mud refined by six weeks of solid sheets of tropical rain.

I heard that some of our audience arrived at the show site last night, wrapped themselves in ponchos, and slept in that goop in order to have good seats. What a price to pay to be front row center in a swamp.

The weather didn't seem to bother the guys. They were so hungry for entertainment that—soaking wet and hip-deep in slime—they cheered and applauded our gals, Vic Damone, and Les's boys with all the enthusiasm of a Shriners' convention in Miami Beach.

MEETS BILLY GRAHAM

At Qui Nhon we ran into Billy Graham. This great evangelist has been doing fine work all over Vietnam, traveling light, in order to reach more of our isolated jungle outposts and to be with the wounded.

Billy really moves a crowd. Fortunately, he doesn't get laughs . . .

Meeting him makes it easy to understand why people of all faiths respond so warmly to this dynamic spiritual leader.

Stronger Viet Bombing Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman L. Mendel Rovers of the House Armed Services Committee says the United States should "flatten Hanoi if necessary and let world opinion go fly a kite."

His Senate counterpart, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Armed Services Committee, says "the use of superior force is the only means by which they (the Communists) can be forced to the conference table."

Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat, said in a telephone interview last night from Charleston, S.C., "We should use to the fullest the potential of our great air power upon North Vietnam."

He said the lack of full use of such power "is why these people think we're kidding."

★ ★ ★

He derided reports of civilian casualties in North Vietnam and asked "What about these (American) fliers that have been shot down on these missions of indecision? Nobody seems to be worried about these fellows."

PUBLIC OPINION

Rivers referred to bombings of cities in World War II and said "we were determined to win; now we're worrying much more about public opinion than about victory."

Russell told an Atlanta dinner audience last night "you can't fly airplanes three times the size of a house and drop bombs and not kill some civilians. The remarkable thing to me is that more civilians haven't been killed."

He said peace appeals "have failed as yet to elicit the slightest meaningful response from Hanoi.

★ ★ ★

"Neither has Hanoi evidence the slightest interest in entering into negotiations with us for an honorable settlement.

LEFT NO CHOICE

"In my view, this continued intransigence leaves us no choice but to inflict greater punishment on the Communists until they halt their aggression."

He said that at present, it appears that war "could drag on for years with neither side gaining victory." Russell said he originally opposed U.S. intervention but that now the U. S. commitment should be supported.

An opponent of U.S. Vietnam policy, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said in a statement that civilian casualties have united North Vietnam in its "determination to resist American military power."

Morse said a series of New York Times stories from Hanoi on civilian casualties "have widened the credibility gap into a worldwide chasm between the United States and the rest of the world on the subject of our air attacks."

British Jailers Given Warning

Latest Breakouts Stir New Prisons Chief

LONDON (AP) — Britain's embarrassed government warned its jailers today they may be fired unless they stop the rash of prison breaks that has become a national scandal.

Sir James Mackay, on his first day as head of the Home Office's Prisons Department, sent letters to governors of 50 prisons demanding an end to security slackness.

Three more inmates fled from two prisons-without-bars in northern England last night, a robber in for 16 years grabbed a ladder from a guard and scaled the wall at London's Pertonville Prison, and a killer broke out of a mental hospital.

That raised the total number of escapes this year to 693.

The robber who scaled the Pentonville wall was recaptured 40 minutes later and two men who escaped from an open prison on Christmas Day were caught in Manchester.

★

Officials said that left 122 convicts still at large.

Mackay, 59, a Scot known as a tough administrator, was appointed last week to draw up a crash program for tightening prison security.

Nixon Said Planning Lull to See How Romney Fares

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI)—Republican Gov.-elect David Cargo of New Mexico revealed yesterday that Richard Nixon plans to curtail his public appearances sharply for at least six months to see if GOP support solidifies behind Gov. Romney of Michigan for the 1968 presidential nomination. Cargo said Nixon told him of the plans earlier this month.

"He was very casual about it," Cargo said.

He said the former vice president told him he intended to spend much of his time in Europe on business for his law firm.

★ ★ ★

Cargo said Nixon indicated he was going to let Romney "run out his line and see if he'll trip."

UNTIL JUNE

Cargo, who will be inaugurated governor next week, said Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York also told him Nixon would duck out of public appearances until June.

Cargo and Rockefeller got together at the recent National Governors Conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Nixon wants time to estimate Romney's strength and possibilities of capturing the Republican nomination, Cargo said.

★ ★ ★

He said Nixon was not present at the governors conference or at the Republican governors meeting at Colorado Springs, Colo., this month, and he "left the impression with a lot of people at both places he would wait and see what happens."

Cargo also said Rockefeller and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania have asked him if he would be interested in the 1968 GOP vice presidential nomination.

Divers' Probe of Ship Hulk Is Authorized

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Navy will use divers to try to locate and inspect the hulk of the Daniel J. Morrell for the Coast Guard, which is conducting an investigation into the sinking of the 600-foot-long ore carrier in a Lake Huron storm Nov. 29.

Rear Adm. Charles Tighe, commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District and chairman of the marine board investigating the sinking, said the Coast Guard commandant had approved his request to find and explore the wreck.

The wreck, or part of it, is believed to lie in 200 feet of water about 26 miles north of Harbor Beach, Mich. Divers are to be brought to the scene by the Navy supervisor of salvage.

The divers will inspect the wreckage and try to bring up material which might help the board of inquiry, which is in recess at present, determine the cause of the sinking.

★ ★ ★

Only one member of the 29-man crew of the Morrell survived the disaster.

News Briefs at a Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Adam Clayton Powell passed up today another bid to show up at a congressional investigation of her husband's official payroll and travel expenses. Rep. Wayne L. Hayes, D-Ohio, chairman of the administration subcommittee conducting the inquiry, said she will be given a final chance to appear tomorrow, but expressed doubt she will do so.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — A three-man Syrian army patrol armed with submachine guns crossed into Jordan early yesterday and shot a Jordanian soldier at his home, Interior Minister Wasfi Mirza said today.

DETROIT (AP) — A United Auto Workers official today ripped Gov. George Romney's cutback of the federal medicaid program, terming the action "a severe setback to all attempts to eliminate inferior medical care for the poor" in Michigan. Leonard Woodcock, a UAW vice president, urged Romney to reconsider the cutback in a press conference at the Detroit Press Club.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A member of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said today a U. S. test shot this month disclosed additional weaknesses in plans for monitoring underground nuclear explosions. Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Calif., said that, accordingly, "President Johnson should withdraw the United States' offer to extend the present limited test ban treaty barring atmospheric, extmospheric and underwater nuclear tests."

'China N-Blast Big Stride'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's fifth nuclear explosion, apparently its biggest, indicates a big stride toward a hydrogen weapon, Japanese experts said today.

There was some speculation the device exploded Wednesday was a small hydrogen bomb, or a reinforced nuclear weapon. Although the official Chinese announcement gave no details of the size and type of the device, Japanese newspapers had no doubt it contained thermonuclear material.

★ ★ ★

They noted the Chinese announcement said the test raised China's nuclear knowledge "to a new level."

★ ★ ★

Some predicted a grim new year's present if the test's radioactive cloud drifts over Japan as expected Saturday or Sunday. Snow, which could bring down contaminated particles from the atmosphere, is forecast for much of Japan on New Year's Day.

North Koreans Fire on U.S. Guard Post

SEOUL (UPI) — Communist North Korean troops opened fire on a U. S. guard post south of the military demarcation line late Tuesday, the United Nations Command said today.

The announcement did not indicate whether there were any American casualties.

It said the Communists fired about 40 rounds at a U. S. 2nd Army post. The raiders were last seen fleeing northward, the terse announcement said.

The U. N. Command called for a meeting at Panmunjon in the joint security area, to protest the incident. Communist officials boycotted the meeting, the U. N. said.

New Attorneys to Take Oath

Michigan Supreme Court Justice-elect Thomas Brennan will administer the oath of office tomorrow to more than 30 Oakland County men who recently passed the Michigan State Bar examination.

The swearing-in ceremony for the new attorneys will be at 11 a.m. in the supervisors' auditorium at the County Courthouse. The public is invited.

Suits Involving Paper, GOP Are Dismissed

DETROIT (AP)— Seven libel suits seeking more than $11 million in damages from The Detroit News and three Michigan Republican leaders today were dismissed in Wayne County Circuit Court.

★ ★ ★

Nine plaintiffs, all active in Republican politics, accused the defendants of malicious libel in a document filed by former State Sen. John H. Stahlin in 1962 with the State Fair Elections Practices Commission.

Stahlin then was a candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor and the suits grew out of a battle for control of the GOP organization in the 14th Congressional District.

Besides the News those named in the suits dismissed Wednesday by Judge Joseph G. Rashid were Stahlin, Martin S. Hayden, editor of the News; Paul D. Bagwell, Republican candidate for governor in 1958 and 1962, and Norman O. Stockmeyer, former Wayne County GOP chairman.

Ruby Lie Test Still Blocked

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Legal and medical arguments stand in the way of cancer-stricken Jack Ruby's attempts to take a lie detector test to convince the world that he killed Lee Harvey Oswald on an impulse, and not as part of a conspiracy.

★ ★ ★

A bulletin from Parkland Hospital here says Ruby's condition remains "stable," at serious.

Ruby, 55, has lost some 20 to 30 pounds since entering the hospital Dec. 9.

★ ★ ★

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, asked Ruby's physicians Wednesday to decide if a valid lie detector test could be obtained from Ruby.

CONSULTATIONS

A hospital spokesman said any medical decision would have to be made after all legal parties—the Dallas district attorney's office, Ruby's attorneys and the courts — have completed consultations.

★ ★ ★

Phil Burleson, an attorney for Ruby, said he would have no objection to Ruby's taking a lie detector test "if that's what he wants." Some experts say Ruby's condition would rule out a valid test.

Market Owner Pleads Guilty

Jan. 25 Sentencing Set on Lesser Charge

Facing trial on a felony charge, a Pontiac market owner yesterday entered a plea of guilty to a reduced count of receiving stolen property worth less than $100.

George J. Felice, 32, owner of George's Market at 327 Midway, is scheduled to be sentenced Jan. 25 on the charge.

The guilty plea came shortly before Felice was to be arraigned in circuit court for allegedly buying quantities of stolen wallets from a group of teen-agers.

He was bound over for trial last week after two youths testified they had sold to Felice several cartons of wallets taken from a city trucking yard.

Asst. Prosecutor Michael M. Pantel said Pontiac police agreed to reduction of the charge because "some question" existed about the worth of the wallets.

HIGH MISDEMEANOR

Conviction on the less than $100 charge — a high misdemeanor — is punishable by as much as 90 days in jail or $100 fine.

Navy's N-Task Force in Action Off N. Viet

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today that its power-packed Task Force One — made up of all three of the Navy's nuclear-powered surface ships — is in action in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Vietnam.

The latest to arrive was the frigate Bainbridge, which joined the aircraft carrier Enterprise and the cruiser Long Beach at "Yankee Station" 100 miles off the North Vietnamese Coast.

★ ★ ★

The three ships operated previously as Task Force One with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean and sailed together in a history-making round-the-world voyage without refueling in 1964.

The 85,000-ton Enterprise, the world's biggest warship, arrived Dec. 17 for her second tour of duty with the 7th Fleet off Vietnam. The Long Beach preceded her by two weeks.

GROUND FIGHTING SLACKENS

The Navy's disclosure came as ground fighting slackened again in South Vietnam and the 48-hour New Year's truce approached. Only one ground clash of any significance was reported.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division battled a North Vietnamese force of unknown size in mountain-surrounded rice fields 280 miles northeast of Saigon. Fragmentary reports said they were still fighting this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

U.S. casualties so far were reported light and enemy losses were not known.

No contact was reported in the big Mekong Delta sweep launched Tuesday by several regiments of South Vietnamese troops, including 1,000 or more paratroopers who jumped unopposed into canal-laced paddies 126 miles southwest of Saigon.

89 VC DEAD

A Vietnamese military spokesman said Vietcong casualties remained at 89 killed, the number announced Wednesday for the initial two days. All were attributed to air strikes and infantrymen. The spokesman said the paratroopers had failed to engage enemy units so far.

The U.S. military command reported American troop strength in South Vietnam reached 376,000 last Saturday, an increase of 5,000 men over the previous week.

The command also announced U.S. casualties last week were 109 killed and 574 wounded, compared with 88 killed and 433 wounded the week before.

Vietnamese headquarters reported 203 government soldiers killed last week compared with 190 in the previous week. Communist casualties last week were placed at 1,083 killed and 198 captured, the week before 860 enemy killed and 98 captured were reported.

BOMBING CURTAILED

Rain and generally poor weather again curtailed U.S. bombing of North Vietnam Wednesday. American pilots flew 70 strike missions, most of them in the southern part of North Vietnam. Pilots reported setting afire the Nam Dinh rail yards 37 miles southwest of Haiphong and, in strikes elsewhere, damaging or destroying three antiaircraft sites, five barges and four storage areas.

BILLOWING FLAMES—A huge fireball erupts from the German freighter Moselstein in the harbor of Antwerp, Belgium, yesterday. The ship, loaded with chemical products, was considered a total loss after two explosions rocked her and injured three persons.

County Sheriff, Rights Officials Clash at Jail

the segregation policy in the bullpens. No segregation is practiced in any other sections of the jail.

Visiting the jail yesterday besides Hursfall, Levy and Monley were human relations committee members Mrs. Harriett Arnowitz, Mrs. Marguerite Simson and John D. McKinlay and Civil Rights Commission officials Abraham Uhlmer Jr. and Richard McGhee.

An ironic twist to the jail tour was that bullpen inmates, quizzed on their feelings about the segregation policy, seemed little concerned but took the opportunity to complain about the food.

NO DIFFERENCE

A Negro trustee told Monley during the tour that he noted no difference of trustee treatment or job assignment to whites and Negroes.

The 32-prisoner bullpens are located on the third and fourth floors of the jail with the whites on the third floor and both Negroes and whites on the fourth, but in separate bullpens.

Smaller cell blocks, where no segregation is practiced, are on the second floor and the unsegregated trustee unit is on the fifth floor.

The two women in the group were shown the women's sections of the jail by matrons while Capt. Leo Hazen conducted the men's tour through all sections of the building except the women's areas.

TALK HEATS UP

After the tour, the group returned to Irons' first floor office and the discussion quickly became heated.

Monley complained about the bullpen segregation and Irons replied that it was the policy 13 years ago when he became sheriff and he intended to keep it that way for the protection of all the prisoners.

The sheriff criticized Monley's allegations which he said were based on unconfirmed rumors.

* * *

Levy then said that federal courts have ruled that any segregation by races in jails is unlawful and Irons answered that integration of prisoners in modern jails presents no problem.

"But in this building where we have to put so many together, there could be real trouble," Irons said.

Levy then suggested that segregation on the basis of crime should be practiced, not on the basis of race.

"You don't give a damn how much trouble I have," Irons shouted at Levy.

* * *

"If I'm forced to mix these men and someone gets killed, I'm going to call in the newspapers, radio and TV people and tell them who's responsible —you."

* * *

The topic turned to personnel and Hazen said he was unaware of any nonwhite applicants in the last five years or so for deputy jobs and added that there will be two vacancies the first of the year.

As for the partial segregation, Irons said he was not aware that this was unlawful.

He claimed the food was excellent and Hazen backed him up by saying that it was of higher quality than he can afford to buy his family when he goes to the supermarket.

Levy then made two requests:

- That prisoners not be assigned on the basis of race.
- That the department encourage Negro applicants for vacant jobs.

Levy said that this is not an official complaint at this time but warned that it might be.

Hursfall said that his committee would weigh yesterday's findings at its next meeting and possibly make a recommendation to the board of supervisors.

SNOW MEANS DOUGH—For many Iowans, the season's first big snow meant stalled cars and fender-bender accidents. But for Kenneth Wimber (left) and Bill Mills it represented an opportunity to pick up some pocket money by shoveling out a driveway virtually in the shadow of the Iowa Statehouse in Des Moines.

Reminders Given on Tax Exemption

Assessors in villages, cities and townships throughout Michigan are once again reminding senior citizens and disabled veterans of tax exemptions due them.

A state law states that those who are 65 as of Dec. 31, 1966, may file for an exemption equal to $2,500 on property not exceeding a state-equalized valuation of $10,000—providing their income has not gone over $5,000 in the past year.

Veterans having service-connected disabilities and their widows may realize a $2,000 exemption on property not exceeding $10,000 as state-equalized.

Veterans with a nonservice-connected disability and their widows may qualify for like exemptions providing their total incomes do not exceed $7,500 a year.

★ ★ ★

Anyone now on active duty is entitled to an exemption, though there has as yet been no legislation in regard to Vietnam veterans.

NEW QUESTION

An additional question this year asks the value of property owned by the applicant in Michigan and in the rest of the U.S. The entire total must not exceed $20,000 market value.

Applicants are reminded to take proof of age, land ownership, income and veterans' benefits when applying for the exemptions.

AREA NEWS

Building Snarl Ended in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP — A resolution to break the deadlock on new building adjacent to the village of Rochester was passed last night by the Township Board.

★ ★ ★

Construction had been stymied since the township, having signed an agreement with the Oakland County Department of Public Works for construction of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor, has refused to permit any further extension of village utilities into the township.

The township felt it should have control of utilities in its territory — payments from which would help to meet initial charges on the Clinton-Oakland interceptor.

It had hoped to get water and sewage treatment from Rochester at wholesale prices, but the village council had refused to go along.

Last night the board resolved that each case should be considered on an individual basis by the township.

NOW PENDING

The impasse had reached the point where would-be developers of Bedford Square apartments on Tienken Road entered an interplead on a case now pending against Avon Township and the county in regard to the Clinton-Oakland interceptor.

The township also set up a rate schedule for township utilities in order to prevent the levying of an ad valorem tax when such utilities are installed.

A special meeting was called for Jan. 18 for the purpose of considering the township's new zoning ordinance text and map.

★ ★ ★

Several changes were recommended at last night's meeting and action was tabled until next month.

50 PER CENT

The board voted to put up 50 per cent of $6,250 for the widening of the Rochester-Tienken intersection.

★ ★ ★

Also planned but not included in the price is the paving of Tienken from Rochester to Livernois.

Hopes are to get a traffic light at the Rochester Road corner.

BEATING VICTIM — John Cummings Jr., 17, of 51204 Fairlane, Shelby Township, was savagely beaten and left to wander coatless in subfreezing temperatures in Sterling Township. He told rescuing officers he was turned away from six homes but accepted at the seventh where an ambulance and police were called. He has been released from Selfridge Air Force Base Hospital. Police are holding four teen-age suspects.

Farmer Award to Highlight Soil Conservation Fete

Presentation of the annual Outstanding Soil and Water Conservation Farmer Award for 1966 will highlight the Oakland County Soil Conservation District Banquet.

New officers will also be elected at the banquet to be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 19 at St. Benedict's Church, Pontiac.

James Reid, chairman of the District Board of Directors will present the award and Keith Middleton, 2610 Stoney Creek, Oakland Township, will conduct the election of two county directors.

Expiring terms are those of Robert McCrory, 26867 Pontiac Trail, Lyon Township, who plans to seek reelection and Samuel Miller, 8391 Bridge Lake, Springfield Township, who will not run again.

Others nominated for the vacant positions are Howard Balko, 52730 W. Eight Mile, Novi; Robert Losh, 7012 Ormond and Lloyd Vergin, 12461 Scott, both of Springfield Township and Clare Voorheis, 6700 Brendel, White Lake Township.

★ ★ ★

Nominations also will be accepted from the floor. Any member owning three or more acres of land in Oakland County is eligible to vote.

The evening's entertainment will be provided by radio personality Bud Guest.

Tickets may be obtained from McCrory, Miller, Middleton, Reid, 5400 Cedar Island, White Lake Township or Mitchell, 10542 McWain, Holly Township.

They are also available from the Soil Conservation District Office, 35 E. Huron, Pontiac, the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 155 N. Saginaw, Pontiac and at the door.

Lapeer Millage Election Feb. 13

LAPEER — An election for the purpose of renewing an extra voted 4.5 mills for school operation will be conducted here Feb. 13. Term of the millage is three years.

The Board of Education stresses a favorable vote will not raise taxes, but will merely retain them at their present level, according to school officials.

The Lapeer schools now operate on 8.1 mills allocated from the county, 3 voted mills, and the 4.5 mills due to expire Saturday.

Residents last February voted $3 million for a school construction program which is now being carried out, according to Schools Supt. Clyde K. Schickler.

★ ★ ★

There has, he said, been no provision made for the increased operating costs of those classrooms now being built.

Deadline Nears for Office Seekers

ROCHESTER — Those wishing to seek council seats, should the village of Rochester vote for cityhood, have until 5 p.m. tomorrow to file nominating petitions.

The election is Jan. 24.

Citizens at that time will decide if they want cityhood and will choose seven councilmen to run it.

If the cityhood question passes the regular spring election will be eliminated. If it fails, plans will be instituted for a regular village election.

Fire Hits Home

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Defective wiring on Christmas tree lights last night caused damage estimated at between $4,500 and $5,500 to a ranch home at 47256 Eldon.

Police Chief Clyde Schmidt said the flames were confined to the family room and kitchen, though much of the rest of the house, owned by Edward F. Davis, had smoke damage.

2 Buses Crash in Mexico; 23 Dead, 47 Hurt

SALAMANCA, Mexico (UPI)—Two passenger buses collided on the Pan-American highway near this central Mexican town late yesterday with a heavy loss of life.

★ ★ ★

First reports said 23 persons were killed and 47 others were injured. Authorities feared more victims were trapped in the wreckage of the buses.

★ ★ ★

Police said the buses collided head-on between the towns of Salamanca and Celaya near the village of Valtierilla, about 130 miles northwest of Mexico City.

Special Service Slated

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Commerce Methodist Church, 1155 W. Commerce, will hold a Watchnight Service New Year's Eve. The 9:50 p.m. social evening will be followed by an 11:30 p.m. service.

Commerce Girl Hurt in Crash

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—A 17-year-old Commerce Township girl is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital today following a two-car accident at 6:15 p.m. yesterday on Green Lake Road and Colony Drive.

Diane Russell, 3374 Royal, was injured when the car she was driving collided with one driven by Stanley Garwood, 51, of 3805 Green Lake.

Garwood was not injured.

Rochester Roughs It

House Is Taken Far Afield

ROCHESTER—It wasn't Kentuck', but it was trail blazing in the tradition of the one-time pathfinder.

George Wilhelmi, urban renewal director, borrowed the Daniel Boone bit.

When it recently came time to relocate a sturdy frame house from renewal land on East Third Street, Wilhelmi, aided by the DeGoetz Moving Co. of Pontiac, went cross-country to do it.

"There were no streets going in the direction we wanted to go," said Wilhelmi.

High point of the three-quarter-mile trek was the moment when the house sat square on the New York Central Railroad tracks in the middle of a field near Baldwin, Wilhelmi said.

IN ATTENDANCE

He reported train schedules had been checked and that several railroad men were in attendance.

In order to achieve that position, the movers had had to cut down an eight-foot bank on each side of the railroad.

A road through a field roughly parallel to Baldwin had been graded earlier and workmen had waited for it to freeze before embarking on the expedition.

★ ★ ★

The home, built in 1937 and in excellent shape, according to Wilhelmi, now sits on Lounsbury a half block south of Parkdale.

★ ★ ★

It will be sold at cost — probably about $8,500, Wilhelmi said, with retired couples from the renewal area getting first choice.

The letter E appears most frequently in the English language.

2 Officers Retire From State Police

LANSING (AP) — The State Police Department yesterday announced the retirement Jan. 6 of Corporals Edward F. Hayes of Grand Haven and John A. Mezzano of West Branch after 25 years of service.

Department director Frederick E. Davids said Hayes will become chief assistant to the sergeant at arms for the state Senate while Mezzano will be employed by the secretary of state.

★ ★ ★

Hayes served in Flat Rock, South Haven, New Buffalo and Jackson. Mezzano served at East Lansing, Keego Harbor, Romeo, Detroit and Wakefield.

Utica Seeking Grant Increase

UTICA — Urban Renewal Director Stanley Swierczynski is in Chicago today at the office of the Federal Department of Housing and Urban Development in an attempt to get the city's federal grant revised upwards from $678,877 to $955,278 to take care of increasing land acquisition prices.

Utica residents will vote Jan. 17 on whether they want to participate in the $1.2-million project. Utica's share is estimated at $300,000.

★ ★ ★

During the winter months she will visit schools in the Detroit Metropolitan Area giving illustrated lectures about Michigan plant and animal life.

Flight of Time Out strips Airport Law

Laws like people can live in the past.

An example is a Michigan law passed in 1945 (the only law of its kind in the Union) that automatically puts airports under jurisdiction of the Road Commission where counties in which the airports are situated have or attain populations of 1 million or more.

The law was tailored for Wayne County, the only one in the State boasting the required population, when air travel and its supporting facilities had not assumed the gigantic proportions of today.

It is this anomalous administration of a facility so tremendous and complex as a major airport by an agency of government primarily charged with development and maintenance of highways that, many declare, is in part responsible for headaches now plaguing Detroit's Metropolitan airport.

Of more significance locally is the fact that Oakland County is expected to have 1.2 million residents by 1980. Thus, well before that date the County government would be obliged to hand over administration of the local airport, just acquired from the City, to the County Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

Such disposition of a facility slated for expansion and modernization in the near future would, we think, be unwise. But only by revision of the law that decrees it can the County Board of Supervisors keep direct control of the airport.

No time should be lost in initiating measures toward that end.

DeWitt C. Davis

Stricken at 83, the death of DEWITT DAVIS saddened a host of friends won during a lifetime's residence in Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

After graduation from Ferris Institute, Mr. DAVIS entered the undertaking profession here in 1908 and was identified with it for more than half a century. In 1958 he was honored by The Michigan Funeral Directors Association for his long career as a mortician.

Mr. Davis was active in civic and fraternal affairs and an engaging personality made him a sought-after companion on hunting and fishing trips, his favorite recreational pursuits.

DEWITT DAVIS well fulfilled his mortal destiny and leaves an impressive imprint on the pages of local history.

Scientist Sees U.S. Space Plans Too Far Out

Many thoughtful persons are concerned over plans the National Aeronautics and Space Administration has for continuing adventures into space once the Apollo program fulfills plans to put men on the moon before 1970.

The grandiose concepts range from elaborate manned observatories in orbit around earth to temporary bases on the moon with manned exploration of the planets in the offing for the 1980s.

★ ★ ★

As it stands, the Apollo program will cost an estimated $23 billion. Currently, the annual space budget is $5 billion.

An outstanding physicist, Dr. RALPH E. LAPP, reflects the thinking of a sizable segment of American scientists when he advises the United States to knock off manned spectaculars after Apollo.

★ ★ ★

Pointing out that with the magnitude of Federal spending on the domestic front in addition to the rising cost of the war in Vietnam, the Country simply cannot afford escalating space programs. He would cut the space budget from $5 billion to $1 billion—$2 billion at the most.

★ ★ ★

In support of his proposals, Dr. LAPP questions the value of increasingly sophisticated space achievements in terms of their stupendous cost. "We should not forget," he says, "that the single greatest discovery of the space age—the VAN ALLEN radiation belts—was made with a comparatively insignificant unmanned explorer with a pay load of but 30 pounds."

Finally, he would convert the U.S. space program into a "truly international project—one in which launch facilities and monitoring stations come under the aegis of the United Nations."

★ ★ ★

Since the major powers (Russia included) have already signed a treaty outlawing military aggression based on development of space designs, the scientist's proposals make a lot of sense. We're all for them.

Don't Judge High Court---Yet

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Liberal critics of the Supreme Court — and there are some — may be a little premature in writing off the 1966-67 terms as one in which the justices swung toward conservatism or backed off big issues.

True, the justices were unwilling this year to plunge into a squabble over the traditional exemption of church property from taxation, to say whether the right to counsel applies in minor criminal cases or even to deal with organized baseball's hallowed immunity from anti-trust law.

And decisions approving convictions of Negro civil rights demonstrators, the use of a paid government informer to help convict Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa of jury tampering and selection of Georgia's next governor by a legislature held malapportioned did not ring bells in liberal circles.

But the term is not even half over and three cases the justices already have decided to hear have within them the seeds of activist rulings that have made the Warren court anathema to conservatives.

★ ★ ★

Two are at the very nerve center of civil rights emotions: housing discrimination and bans in some states on racially mixed marriages. The third, electronic eavesdropping, is critically important to civil libertarians—and prosecutors.

OPEN HOUSING LAW

California realtors will be attacking a California Supreme Court decision that voided a voters-approved ban on open housing laws.

If the California court is upheld, the justices may lay down a broad finding that the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution either bars housing discrimination or at least requires states to act to bar legislated discrimination.

The same amendment's guarantee of equal protection under the law may serve to strike down Virginia's ban on interracial marriage and, by extension, similar laws in 17 other states.

Two years ago, when the justices had a chance to throw out the Florida interracial marriage ban, they ducked, although they invalidated a state law which prohibited cohabitation between persons of different races.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE

The eavesdropping appeal before the court also may be broad enough for the justices to expand the area covered by the search-and-seizure provisions of the Fourth Amendment.

★ ★ ★

But they could confine their ruling to narrower grounds: In this case whether New York City prosecutors made an adequate showing of "probable cause" when they obtained state court permission to "bug" a suspect in a liquor scandal.

★ ★ ★

Until the decisions in these three cases come down, the jury judging the justices may well be considered out.

Going To Take Some Deft Maneuvering!

David Lawrence Says:

Red China's Actions Mystifying

WASHINGTON—Red China continues to mystify the world. Detonation of the fifth nuclear device since 1964 by the Peking regime comes only a few weeks after the news leaked out that the Soviet government had mobilized a large number of troops on the Russian-Chinese border.

LAWRENCE

American officials are watching carefully the new maneuvers but are unable to estimate the exact size of the two armies stationed on the 6,000-mile border by both Peking and Moscow.

Certainly the increase in the Soviet military budget reflects the cost of the large-scale military preparations that are being made as a defense against possible action by Red China.

The world, therefore, faces an unusual challenge, the implications of which have not yet been clearly established.

For even though a new war front could emerge on the Asian continent, the impression is being given by American officials that Russia and Red China are each more concerned with political developments designed primarily to improve their respective positions.

★ ★ ★

There is reason to believe that the public controversy between Red China and the Soviet Union as to which is rendering the more effective help to the North Vietnamese is related to a possible effort that may be made to increase military supplies and thus keep American forces bogged down in Southeast Asia.

U. S. TIED UP

In case of the outbreak of another "limited war" in either Europe or Asia, the American armies would not be able to come to the defense of other Asian or European nations which may become involved in the new struggle.

The nuclear strength of the Peking regime has up to now been regarded as relatively unimportant in comparison with that of the Soviet Union or the United States.

But the latest explosion indicates that Red China is substantially increasing its power beyond its first bomb, detonated in 1964, which was about the size of the one that destroyed Hiroshima — an equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT.

It is conceded that Peking will not be in a position to use her nuclear power against Russia without running the risk of a devastating retaliation. But there are signs that the Red Chinese intend to build up their strength and meanwhile to threaten neighboring countries by emphasizing the potentiality of nuclear power.

★ ★ ★

Recent events—the mobilization of troops on the Chinese-Russian border and Peking's nuclear tests—dramatize the fact that the Asian situation could bring a larger crisis which would affect the whole world and would not necessarily be confined to military operations in South Vietnam.

Correspondent Retreats on Mekong Delta Duty

NEW YORK — Peoples . . . places. . .

An intrepid wire service war correspondent on duty in Vietnam has bluntly informed his editors that he will refuse to cover the first American units ordered to move into the Mekong River Delta.

CONSIDINE

"I'll go anywhere else, or do anything else," he says. His fear is that the Vietcong will score heavily in the early stages of the scheduled U.S. invasion into an area the enemy has dominated and fortified for the past 20 years.

The correspondent's premonition will not slow the schedule, of course. There can be no victory in Vietnam until the Delta is cleaned out.

It is the richest source of the VC's food, recruitment and levies. Estimates of the enemy's strength in that "bread basket" run as high as 75,000.

It reminded me of Gene Tunney when he is asked to name the grestest heavyweight of all time.

Gene comes on loud and clear full of praise for Jack Dempsey. After a bit, Gene's audience begins to sense that Gene might be inferentially talking about himself.

★ ★ ★

"Since Tunney, I believe, retired undefeated, and Dempsey was beaten twice by Gene, I am unsure how well your analogy holds up," the former vice president writes.

"Nevertheless, I greatly appreciated your generous, if different interpretation of my activities during the campaign and during the collision with the President, and I wanted to drop this note to say thanks before the year was out. Dick."

Voice of the People:

'Public Is Disillusioned About Law Enforcement'

Although the percentage of crime increase is based on figures which include population increase, some argue that population increase accounts for the rise in criminal activity. As far as this minority group is concerned, no unusual action need be taken to curtail crime. Once victimized, however, their opinions are apt to change.

★ ★ ★

People may not be as unconcerned as they have been pictured. A more accurate description might be disillusionment about law enforcement — not apathy. If the question of stringent law enforcement vs. the current weak-kneed, wrist-slapping treatment now enjoyed by the criminal element could be put to a vote, the results would be overwhelming in favor of strict law enforcement.

★ ★ ★

It's time the courts stopped building loopholes for the criminal and became more concerned for the general public and less concerned about special privileges for the criminal.

Evils of Socialism Questioned by Reader

Are there no evils in socialism? Marxism stifles faith in God, butchers priests, flays followers of Christ with economic reprisals if they dare practice or profess their faith. The welfare state stifles initiative and removes incentive by taking from those who produce and giving to those who will not. The advocates of the collective or captive society (they call it classless) believe the end justifies the means.

In Washington:

There's Power in Helping Hands

By RAY CROMLEY

HONG KONG (NEA) — On the table in my hotel room were two packages of Japanese tea—and a calling card.

The note written on the back of the card was difficult to read after 20 years away from Japan.

CROMLEY

What it said, roughly, was, "You gave my husband some medicine 20 years ago when he was sick. Please accept this small remembrance."

It was impossible not to cry.

The incident she mentioned was during the American occupation of Japan just after World War II. Some medicines were difficult to get. It was a small thing that I did.

But she remembered for 20 years.

There's a lesson here.

We are winning the cold war in one small place in Laos where there's a dirt farmer, Pop Buell, spending virtually all his salary doing what he can personally for people.

We are winning the war in a town in South Vietnam where a man named Ed Navarro loves and is loved by every man, woman and child he bumps into.

We are winning major victories in a rural area in Japan where a man called Paul Rusch is helping people do their farming better.

★ ★ ★

The free people are winning, too, in a poor farm area in India where Japanese farmers are helping the farmers grow better rice. They can't talk the language. But they get out into the fields and plant with the poorest farmer.

Not much money is being spent in these projects. But individual human beings are building friendships and helping people with their hearts and their hands.

Wherever this reporter went in Eastern and Southeast Asia—in Vietnam, Thailand, the Philippines, Hong Kong and Japan—the United States and the Free World were succeeding when individual people — American, Vietnamese, Thai, Filipino or Japanese—were helping people personally.

Things were standing still—or we were losing—when all that moved into area was government aid, administered in chunks through bureaucratic channels.

One thing was proven time and again: Men are more important than large amounts of goods. A man with a heart can do far more than can impersonal government grants.

People remember these men and what they do—for more than 20 years.

★ ★ ★

In a war like this, troops, guns, planes and bombs are needed. They are needed badly. But these other men are needed, too.

Without them the war will not be won.

Dear Santa: You Left Us in a Mess; Help!

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK (AP) — For all too many years now the phrase "Apres moi, le deluge" has been attributed by careless historians to King Louis XV of France. It is time to set the record straight.

These famous words, meaning "After me, the inundation," were in fact first uttered by none other than Santa Claus, and he wasn't just whistling "Dixie."

* * *

It's the middle of the week following Christmas. The scene, duplicated in millions of homes all over America, is the lounge of a middle-class menage with two young children.

The lounge is in a state of devastation, littered with pine needles, boxes, greeting cards, candy lumps and the shards of shattered plastic toys. Wafting through the air is the pungent odor from a spilled bottle of gift perfume.

MAJOR DISASTER

Nosing his way through the debris like the shocked survivor of a major disaster is one of the new pet guinea pigs, unaccountably escaped from his cage.

Over all rises the wailing of a 9-year-old who has just learned one of life's inescapable truths: If you drop a glass ant farm on a parquet floor it will break into hundreds of pieces. And that's not counting the grains of sand, let alone the ants.

* * *

In another corner of the room his 10-year-old brother is trying to restart an electric clock knocked over by a toy hover craft. Brother's face is dark with a premonition of failure.

Slumped on a couch plucking listlessly at a coverlet is mother.

UNSHAVEN JOWLS

Seated in a chair feebly feeling his unshaven jowls is father. They are barely alive.

* * *

"Well, it comes but once a year," says mother.

"True," says father.

WHITE CHRISTMAS

"And it snowed," says mother. "at least it was a white Christmas."

"It was that," says father.

"Do you suppose the maid will show up today?" asks mother.

"Not if she has a lick of sense," says father.

* * *

At this point the guinea pig starts to climb up on the base of the Christmas tree. To the tree, of dubious stability from the start, the little animal's weight is the last straw. The tree begins to topple.

* * *

Father leaps from his chair. Too late. With a crash of light bulbs and ornaments and a gleeful cry of "Timber!" from the 9-year-old — who has decided his ants can fend for themselves — the 10-foot tree collapses.

ABHORS DISORDER

The 10-year-old, a tidy-minded type who abhors disorder, especially if there is a chance he will have to help clean it up, asks: "Is it okay if we take our sleds out to the park?"

* * *

"Indeed yes," says father. "In fact, I recommend it."

Area Attorney Has Unbound Interests

By JOE MULLEN

Nothing, absolutely nothing, escapes the interest of Birmingham attorney Carl F. Ingraham.

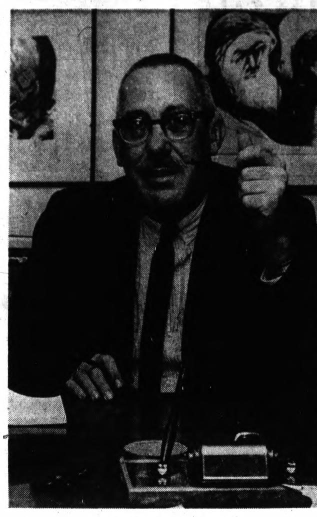
Name an organization and he probably belongs to it. He may even be the president.

Mention hobbies such as book collecting or art gathering and he's involved. He likes music, too. Ingraham is such a jazz buff that he travels to New Orleans about once a year to hear the top pros.

The music interest spills over from the syncopated jazz sound to the solemn tones of an organ which Ingraham plays at home for relaxation.

★ ★ ★

How does an attorney so immersed in civic functions and the pursuit of time-consuming other interests find time to practice law?



Carl F. Ingraham

AT THE OFFICE

"I spend many Saturdays and Sundays in the office," he explained.

Probably the most significant of Ingraham's current civic activities is the chairmanship of the Oakland County Committee on Economic Opportunity, the body that molds policy for the county antipoverty program.

Serving as chairman since the program began nearly two years ago, the pipe-smoking attorney had been a staunch Republican but now considers himself an independent.

★ ★ ★

"I feel many of my principles are not in accord with those of the Republican party," he said.

OVER RIGHTS

"As far as people and people's rights are concerned, I'm more in sympathy with Democratic activities than Republican.

"But, in matters of fiscal responsibility in government, I'm more a Republican than a Democrat."

Ingraham was one of 22 Circuit Court judge candidates in last August's primary election and many courthouse observers felt he was a cinch to be one of the six nominees.

★ ★ ★

He placed ninth, however, and was out of the running.

ASSOCIATIONS

"Perhaps my antipoverty program association and activity in behalf of open occupancy and civil rights hampered the judgeship effort," Ingraham said.

He had no official support from either party and has no plans to run again.

"Campaigning is costly," he said while lighting his pipe, "both in time and money."

★ ★ ★

Ingraham has been a member of the Birmingham City Commission since 1956 and was mayor of the city in 1958-59.

A SUPERVISOR

He has served as a member of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors since 1958 and has been chairman of the supervisors' legislative committee the past four years.

Ingraham, of 940 Harmon, also heads the recently established special legislative liaison ad hoc committee of the supervisors.

He started the Oakland County Legal Air Society and served as its first president. He is former chairman of the United Community Services Oakland Planning Division and past president of Family Service of Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

The Birmingham attorney was first president of the Rehabilitation Institute of Metropolitan Detroit and a former president of Oakland University's Friends of the Kresge Library.

MANY DUTIES

A member of the American and Oakland County Bar Associations and the State Bar of Michigan, he has held many responsibilities stemming from these associations.

In conjunction with the American Bar Association, he served as chairman of the Section of Family Law four years ago and now is one of seven representatives on the National Conference of Lawyers and Social Workers.

Ingraham is also active in the American Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers, the American College of Probate Counsel, Michigan Association of Law and Psychiatry, Interprofessional Association on Marriage, Divorce and the Family and the Interim Council of the State Legislature on Revision of Domestic Relations Law.

★ ★ ★

For the State Bar of Michigan, he serves on the committee or legal Education and Family Law and the special committee on Mental Health.

INDIGENTS

Ingraham is chairman of the County Bar Association's committee on Criminal Defense of Indigents.

The antipoverty program now consumes most of Ingraham's nonlaw practice time which he estimates is about one-third of a normal work week.

"I had to get out of some other functions when I got involved in the Office of Economic Opportunity program," he commented.

★ ★ ★

Asked if he planned to drop any of his other activities, the father of five gave the question thoughtful reflection and a few puffs of smoke from his pipe.

'SOMETHING ELSE'

"No," he answered. "If I did, I would probably get into something else right away. I enjoy getting into things."

A 1935 University of Maine graduate, Ingraham worked in his major study, chemistry, for a short period and then became associated with an insurance firm.

He moved to Michigan from his native Maine and continued in claims work while studying for his law degree at night at Wayne State University.

★ ★ ★

Ingraham received the degree in 1951 and then opened an office in Pontiac. Three years later, he established his law practice in Birmingham.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, were delighted with the pre-Christmas news that their son, Philip, had passed the Bar examination.

Philip will be admitted to law practice tomorrow and will join his father at the 950 E. Maple office which is adorned by paintings and houses a fine book collection.

Woes of Cities Haunt Rocky

'Biggest Challenge' for N.Y. Governor

ALBANY (UPI) — The spectre of cities choked by air pollution, terrorized by hoodlums, strangled by traffic, and divided by ghettoes haunts New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's administration.

★ ★ ★

As he takes office for his third consecutive term, Rockefeller has made it clear that he considers the problems of the cities his greatest challenge.

Responsible for the nation's second most populous state, where the bulk of the people are located in six mojor cities, Rockefeller is very sensitive to the federal government's war on poverty, to its programs to control water and air pollution, and to other projects to solve urban problems.

The governor boasts he has pioneered in some areas where federal legislation now exists — water pollution, for example.

★ ★ ★

The Republican's vocal concern for New York City's difficulties with mass transportation air pollution, increasing crime rates and slum rehabilitation struck responsive chords last November when he nearly carried predominantly Democratic New York City.

MAJOR PROBLEM

One of Rockefeller's major problems will be to meet the increasing demand for state services without raising taxes.

In 1962 the governor pledged to hold the line on taxes for four years.

In 1965, he was embarrassed by the necessity of authorizing a 2 per cent statewide sales tax to finance rapidly expanding administration programs which one year later pushed the annual budget above the $4-billion mark.

★ ★ ★

The governor had to fight mightily this past campaign to overcome voter resentment of his broken no-tax pledge, and he is all the wiser for the experience.

Shrimp Shocked Into the Nets

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — Shrimp in the Gulf of Mexico are now being shocked into fishermen's nets.

★ ★ ★

A device developed by the Department of the Interior's fishery laboratory here sends an electrical shock just ahead of the trawl which causes the shrimp to "jump" from the mud into the nets.

Air Force Escalates War Against Starlings

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The Mach-2 Air Force has declared war on a 30-mile-an-hour flier — and is pretty sure it can never win unconditional surrender.

The slow-moving enemy is the common starling, a pest to farmers, and car owners as well as flying men.

In a display created for the recent meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Air Force acknowledges that "bird-aircraft collisions are far more common than the public suspects or than pilots care to admit."

The menace grows as planes move faster and greater numbers are jet-powered. One airline declares that every jet engine in its fleet has swallowed at least one bird.

For the Air Force it is a $10-million-a-year problem. Cost of damage to engines alone may total $4 million to $5 million.

The feathered foes also make martyrs of themselves against windscreens, canopies, radomes, wing panels and flaps, "requiring untotaled manhours of repair labor in addition to replacement costs.

In the only year that complete figures were kept, 1965, there were 839 cases of birds and aircraft competing for the same air space. At least 87 persons have been killed as a result of such collisions.

One of the worst offenders is the starling, which has spread in enormous numbers over the country since it was imported into New York in 1890 by a well-meaning soul who felt that Central Park should house all the birds mentioned by Shakespeare.

'New' Physics Needed--Prof

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — High school physics must be taught in a more humanistic manner if the current downtrend in the subject is to be halted, according to Gerald Holton, professor of physics at Harvard University and codirector of Harvard Project Physics, a program to develop a more personal approach to the subject.

Since 1948, the percentage of high school seniors taking physics has decreased from 29 per cent to less than 20 per cent. The target of the project is to increase this percentage.

Holton, along with his codirectors, F. James Rutherford and Fletcher G. Watson, gave the first progress report on the 2-year-old project at the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held here.

They said it is too early to tell, but the approach might be working.

★ ★ ★

Key targets of the new approach to physics teaching are the two million high school seniors (80 per cent of the total) who are not interested in pursuing the subject in college.

MINIMAL USE

Essential to the new approach is a minimal use of mathematics, according to the Harvard group. Math is what drives most students away from physics.

★ ★ ★

Instead, Watson proposes quotations from literature, examples from art and from the home life of physicists.

★ ★ ★

The main lesson learned in the past two years of experimental teaching of the program has been that teachers must be allowed flexibility in deciding how fast to go and which subjects to emphasize.

A Junior Editors Quiz About PRESIDENT

QUESTION: Why was a president chosen to be chief executive of the United States?

ANSWER: "President" comes from the Latin "praeses," one who presides. A president, in Roman times, was one who governed provinces in the Emperor's name. The English used the word in much the same way.

In the American colonies, there was a president of the council in several states. Soon after the Declaration of Independence, the Second Continental Congress appointed a committee to draw up a plan for the new nation's government.

The Articles of Confederation, written for this committee by John Dickinson, were presented to the Congress and adopted. The Articles mentioned a president, but one without real power. They did not provide for strong government, so Washington and others called for a convention to draw up a constitution.

The framers of the Constitution wanted a strong executive, but disliked the idea of a king ruling the new country.

The solution was to keep the office of president but to give to it stronger powers than it had before. As a result, the office of president became one of tremendous importance.

New Discord Feared at U. of California

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The University of California, one of America's largest publicly supported educational institutions, is gearing itself for a wholesale onslaught by student demonstrators when classes resume Jan. 3.

For nearly two years, Berkeley's campus has been wracked by a series of demonstrations which have demanded "sexual freedom," complete free speech — including the right to use four-letter words on campus — and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam.

As many as 10,000 of Berkeley's 27,000 students have participated in some of these demonstrations.

At one point in 1964, while conducting a "free speech" sit-in at the Sproul Hall administration building, nearly 800 persons were arrested and carted off to jail.

They were later convicted of trespassing.

POWER ISSUE

The issue from the demonstrators' point of view is "student power" — a theme taken from the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee which advocates "black power" for Negroes.

The advocates of "student power" made what was perhaps their strongest showing in early December when they called a "strike," convinced several thousand students to boycott classes and gained the sympathetic support of about 300 teaching assistants, junior grade faculty members who conduct small discussion groups in large lecture classes.

The direct issue in this case was narrow one — the right of the university to authorize Navy recruiters to establish a temporary information center in the Student Union.

The students complained that other non-student groups — and Berkeley abounds in them — were not granted similar rights by the administration — and they organized a sit-in to dramatize their point.

WILD MELEE

When University Vice Chancellor Earl Cheit ordered the arrest of several nonstudents who led the sit-in, a wild melee broke out which police were forced to quell with billy clubs and fists.

"Get the cops off the campus," chanted thousands of students who rallied to the support of the demonstrators in what became a week-long series of demonstrations to protest the "lack of communication" between administration and students.

"We demonstrate to protest a legitimate grievance, and how does the administration agree to discuss the problem — with 100 armed policemen," cried Bettina Aptheker, a Communist who was one of the leaders of the student strike.

Two years ago, Mario Savio, fiery power behind the militant "Free Speech Movement," rallied thousands of students in what became a general criticism of Berkeley as "multiversity."

IMPERSONAL

The phrase, as Savio intended it, meant a university which had become so large, so impersonal, so caught up in bureaucratic tasks that it was incapable of carrying out the classic role of a university—dialogue between teacher and student.

"I'm an IBM card—don't bend, fold or mutilate," read lapel buttons seen often on the campus.

It has become the students' way of expressing unhappiness with the labyrinth or regulations the university apparently feels it needs to control such large numbers of people.

Ronald Reagan, who becomes governor Jan. 2, has vowed to take a hard line on student uprisings at Berkeley.

PROTEST BUTTONS

"If they don't like the rules, then they should get out," said Reagan, one of whose campaign promises was to restore order at the campus.

The typical student response to Reagan's demands now blazes forth on protest buttons.

"Who owns this university? I do." Read the red letters on a white background.

In short, the original demands for more liberalized rules governing student conduct and closer relationships between faculty and student have become transformer into a demand by the students to run the university their way, or force it to close.

Savio has threatened to "close their great and profitable university" unless reforms are carried out when classes resume following the Christmas holidays.

Actually, it is doubtful that Savio could carry out his threat, for most students would probably be unwilling to sacrifice their academic careers over the issue of student control.

But officials have discovered that the students are a hard group to compromise with, especially when they feel they are correct.

State Dem Readies Rights Legislation

LANSING (UPI) — State Sen. Basil W. Brown, D-Highland Park, disclosed yesterday he is readying a comprehensive bundle of civil rights bills and predicted they could pass next year "If Gov. Romney can rally the Republican legislators."

Brown's package includes measures to fight discrimination in housing, education and job opportunities, many of which have been proposed before but never won acceptance in both chambers.

But Michigan's senior Negro senator said he felt chances were "excellent" for passing the program in 1967 because of the common commitment of both major political parties to racial equality and Romney's advocacy of open housing "even since the November election."

"If Gov. Romney can rally the Republican legislators, I am sure that there will be enough Democratic votes to enact a sound legislative program in the areas of housing, education, and job opportunities," Brown said.

* * *

Republicans will control the Senate 20-18 and share control in the House 55-55.

RANKING DEM

Brown will be the ranking Democrat on the Senate Judiciary Committe, of which he was chairman before Republicans won control of the Senate Nov. 8.

Many of the bills will have to go through the judiciary committee.

His package includes bills to:

- Establish a state fair housing law prohibiting discrimination in the sale, rental or leasing of real property and providing for the suspension or revocation of licenses of real estate brokers who violat it.

* * *

- Prohibit "block busting" tactics and discriminatory real estate advertising.
- Establish a standard of integration in urban renewal and highway development projects and allow municipalities to enact civil rights ordinances.
- Eliminate de facto school segregation from kindergarten through graduate school.
- Require companies doing business with the state to "intensify" recruitment and on-the-job training of Negroes and other minority groups.

* * *

- Eliminate preemployment examinations for unskilled and semiskilled jobs now required by the Michigan Employment Security Commission.
- Require all private employment agencies to be nondiscriminatory.

In addition, Brown said, he would like to see eliminated "all requirements, testing procedures and practices which discriminate against Negroes in receiving apprentice or preapprentice training."

"Michigan now has a unique opportunity to lead the way nationally in the broad areas of civil rights legislation, and we no longer have to wait for the federal government to solve our problems," Brown said.

* * *

He said his bills were still in the drafting stage but would be ready for introduction soon after the Legislature convenes Jan. 11.

Shipping of 3 Items Hits Lakes Record

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Shipments of iron ore, coal and grain over the great lakes to Dec. 1 this year totaled 155,212,612 net tons, a nine-year peak, the Lake Carriers' Association reported Wednesday.

The total was nearly 10 million tons ahead of shipments for the corresponding period last year.

Bulk shipments of the three commodities in November totaled 15,825,814 tons—highest for the month since 1956, when 16,076,064 tons were carried, according to Oliver T. Burnham, vice president and secretary of the association.

FDA Renews Warnings on Edema Drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration is renewing warnings to physicians restricting the use of four potassium - coated prescription drugs to treatment of only serious cases of edema.

Manufacturers of the drugs—Esidrix-K, Hydrondiuril-KA, Naturetin-K and Rautrax-N — issued initial warnings at the FDA's request, but a new check by the FDA showed at least 63 persons were harmed by the drug and eight of them died since the first warning.

The basic element of the four drugs is potassium thiazide diuretics, designed to combat edema — an excess accumulation of fluids in body tissues.

The major harmful result uncovered by the FDA has been intestinal ulceration.

* * *

In addition to the eight persons who died, 51 of the 63 new cases required surgery.

The world's longest safari lasted a full year, included 37 African countries and territories and extended over 30,000 miles. Peter Parnwell of Johannesburg headed it.

Major Snowstorm Covers Most of Midwest, East

By the Associated Press

A major snowstorm, which curtailed travel and disrupted normal activities over much of the Midwest, swirled into the East today.

Snow continued in most of Upper Michigan and northern Lower Michigan but only light snow or flurries were reported in other parts of the north central region. Skies were clear in most of the Plains states.

More than three feet of snow was reported in Marquette, Mich., and heavy snow warnings were in effect for northern Lower Michigan and eastern Upper Michigan. Strong winds caused much drifting in Upper Michigan.

The storm which struck the Midwest Tuesday left more than a foot of snow in parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota. Nearly a foot of snow closed roads and slowed traffic in other Midwest states.

GUSTY WINDS

The storm, powered by gusty winds, spread over most of western Pennsylvania and parts of New York State and Virginia and into Washington, D.C., and areas in New England.

Many areas in the East still were digging out from a heavy snow that fell several days ago.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Weather Bureau said hazardous-driving conditions had been posted for a 13-state area from Virginia to New England. The bureau said the outlook was for snow, sleet and freezing rain over much of the Northeast today and tonight.

At least six persons, three in Rochester, Minn., two in Chicago and one in Rockford, Ill., died, apparently of heart attacks, while shoveling snow.

AIRPORT CLOSED

In the Philadelphia area, emergency crews still clearing streets from the Christmas Eve storm, spread salt, cinders and sand as freezing rain glazed streets and roads. Officials at airport because of slippery conBradford, Pa., closed the city's ditions. Pennsylvania state police said snow or sleet pelted most of the Pennsylvania Turnpike during the night.

Washington reported two inches of snow on top of several inches on the ground from the last storm which dumped up to a foot. Snow amounts of from 3 to 4 inches were indicated in New England, with sleet and freezing rain expected south of there.

★ ★ ★

In Toledo, Ohio, snow-removal crews joined other municipal employes Wednesday in an off-the-job demonstration and defied a back-to-work court order. Sheriff's deputies arrested pickets who blocked the driveway on the city garage after snow and ice made many Toledo streets impassable. A spokesman for the Municipal Employes Union said the pickets were not on strike but were staging a demonstration in efforts to get a salary increase.

Outside the snow belts, showers and thunderstorms splashed much of the Southeast. More than one inch of rain fell at Tallahassee, Fla., in six hours and nearly an inch fell in many areas from eastern Alabama to western North Carolina.

BELOW ZERO

More rain was reported in the Far Northwest and light snow fell in parts of the northern Rockies. Mostly clear skies prevailed in other sections of the country.

Below-zero temperatures were reported in mountain sections in the West, with —5 at Flagstaff, Ariz., and Grant, N.M. The mercury also dropped to 5 below at Grand Island, Neb., and —3 at Laramie, Wyo. In contrast, the early morning high mark was 71 at Miami and Key West, Fla.

Terms of Four on Death Row Commuted

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in a final act of mercy, has commuted the death sentences of four condemned murderers as one of his last official acts as California's chief executive.

★ ★ ★

The Democratic governor, a long-time opponent of capital punishment, yesterday gave life terms to four of the 64 men on San Quentin's death row.

He commuted the death sentences without formal comment, but an announcement from his office noted that none of the four would be released from prison.

The four are Clyde Bates and Manuel Chavez, found guilty in the 1957 incineration of six persons in a Los Angeles tavern; William E. Cotter Jr., who stabbed a woman to death in a robbery in Bellflower in 1963, and Leo C. Lookadoo Jr., who burned a gas station attendant to death in Stanislaus County two years ago.

★ ★ ★

Three of the convicted murderers — Bates, 47; Cotter, 26, and Lookado, 26 — were given a life term without possibility of parole. Chavez, 34, who had no previous felony convictions, was given life with the possibility of parole.

BACKS DEATH PENALTY

The two-term Democrat will be succeeded Monday by Republican Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan, who supports the death penalty.

Ordeal of Pain Ends for Boy

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Seven-year-old Randy Hurst's long ordeal of pain is over.

The child died Wednesday at a hospital where nurses said he seemed to have lived solely to enjoy Christmas. He did, too, despite auto accident burns and amputations that tormented him for 133 days.

★ ★ ★

The boy was injured in an Aug. 17 wreck that killed his father, sister and two brothers. Through months of skin grafts, transfusions and surgery, he brightened at any mention of Christmas.

★ ★ ★

A story about him in the Florida Times-Union brought many Christmas gifts, including television sets, money and the cowboy suit he wanted most.

★ ★ ★

Randy spent his last days admiring the suit and talking about when he would be able to wear it, said one nurse.

Area Schools Receiving a Filmstrip on Congress

To coincide with the opening of the 90th Congress, schools in this area are receiving a filmstrip which will make the lawmaking process more meaningful and interesting to them.

Entitled "The Congress of the United States," this filmstrip is part of the VEC News Program sponsored for area schools by the Pontiac Press.

Beginning with the authority provided in the Constitution, this study shows details of the plan developed for the legislative branch of federal government.

Photographs taken in the Capitol are used in the filmstrip. The accompanying narration guide explains the authority, functions and structure of Congress.

This filmstrip was produced in 1963, but it has become so popular with teachers that a revision is made for each session of Congress.

AS SESSION CONVENES

Area schools will receive the filmstrip for use in class discussions as the 90th session convenes.

★ ★ ★

VEC News Program also includes a weekly filmstrip on national and international news. It is produced by Visual Education Consultants, Inc., of Madison, Wis.

The program is sponsored by the Press as part of its educational service to the community.

Firm to Advance Ecorse Tax Revenues

ECORSE (AP) —Great Lakes Steel Corp., which pays 88 per cent of this Detroit suburb's tax bill, agreed Wednesday to bail Ecorse out of its latest financial crisis.

It was the third time in the past two years that the steel firm has loaned money to the city.

* * *

Under the agreement, Great Lakes will make weekly payments to take care of city expenses until the fiscal year ends June 30. Charles Coman, city controller, said the agreement requires the city "to show the steel company the need for the money."

Great Lakes also will review weekly payroll and expense vouchers before advancing the funds.

The firm paid Ecorse $61,000 to cover the payroll and $17,300 for operating expenses this week. Last week, city officials said they borrowed $41,000 from other firms against 1967 tax bill.

Mayor Albert Buday said Ecorse would need more than $1 million to operate for the rest of fiscal 1966 (June 30). He said there is no money left in the city treasury.

Ecorse operated this year on an $800,000 deficit, up $400,000 from fiscal 1965.

* * *

Buday's administration has been blamed by a minority of the City Council for the financial problems.

Reward in Ghana for Ousted Chief

ACCRA, Ghana (UPI) — Ghanaian police posted a $28,000 dead-or-alive reward yesterday for ousted President Kwame Nkrumah.

Nkrumah has been living in exile in the neighboring Guinean capital of Conakry since the army overthrew him in a lightning coup last February. Nkrumah was visiting in Communist China at the time.

Police have charged Nkrumah and three top security aides, also living in exile, with murder and conspiracy. The same reward was also offered for any of the three aides.

Dow Jones Average Seen Hitting Peak of 1500 by '75

BABSON PARK, Mass.—"The Dow Jones Industrial Average could hit peaks of 1200 by 1970 and 1500 by 1957," said Roger E. Spear, Pontiac Press financial columnist in a year - end economic review and forecast.

"The Dow's floor," Spear said, "should be at about 900 by 1970 and 1200 by 1975."

These predictions are based on a theory, which Spear first formulated in 1952 and has since had under continuous review, that the stock market advances at an average rate of 6 per cent a year within a long, upward "channel." (See chart.)

The Spear Channel Theory is predicated on the belief that post-World War II governmental and economic controls will continue to be effective against both runaway booms and crippling market crashes.

In 1962, using his Channel Theory, Spear predicted that the Dow would hit a peak of 1000 "in the latter part of the 1960s." The Dow did hit that mark one day early in 1966.

NEW CYCLE

In his detailed analysis of the present condition of the market, under the heading of "The Causes of Our Present Discontents," Spear wrote:

"The current business boom was fueled for many months by manipulation of the tax structure coupled with continued deficit spending. Thus, net personal incomes as well as corporate incomes were allowed to expand by a loosening of restrictive tax walls.

"The result was a new cycle of too much money chasing too few goods with powerful inflationary forces set in motion.

"The boom had been fueled and it had to be cooled. The Federal Reserve (and other forces) went to work. Tight money was the result. Having swing in history," he said, tasted the candy of unparalleled prosperity for five years, the market threw a tantrum when a squeeze was placed on the money supply.

TAKES HOLD FAST

"But this squeeze was not the same thing as an attempt by the government to throttle credit and pull the rug out from beneath prices.

"The extent of the recent correction was a function of how much fat was to be squeezed out in a switch from an easy-money to a less-than-easy-money 'posture.' However, it may be that due to war and international monetary problems the 'medicine' took hold faster than the doctors had expected."

Spear called the present reaction "economic growing pains" and said, "it would be a serious mistake for investors to liquidate all stock positions on the assumption that the bull market is over."

"As a matter of fact, early this year following the initial spring selling, several groups of stocks and many individual issues turned right around and resumed bull markets of their own, advancing to new highs.

"This phenomenon occurred again this fall with many of the glamor stocks, especially the stocks of some fast - growth companies, advancing sharply—again to new highs.

"True, the old 1962-1966 upswing is history," he said, "but now there are signs that the start of a new bull market is not too far off. For one thing, earnings and dividends are expected to show gains throughout the forepart of 1967, at least. For another, there is no clear evidence that a recession is definitely around the corner.

"Furthermore, although there is a possibility that corporate earnings will turn down next year, many observers believe that the decline will be moderate. Lastly, the market tends to discount recessions in advance, so that when business is at its lowest recession ebb, stocks are usually well along on a primary uptrend."

Spear cited six existing "control measures" which appear to preclude any major bear markets by smoothing out the business cycle, restricting speculation and otherwise serving to stabilize the economy.

State GI Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sgt. Larry Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron L. Reed of Bridgeport, Mich., has been killed in action with the Army in Vietnam, the Defense Department said Wednesday.

Army Charges Anti-Viet Doctor

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — An Army doctor accused of willfully disobeying orders and making disloyal statements about U.S. involvement in Vietnam says he would not change his stand because it is a matter of morality.

Dr. Howard Levy, 29, a captain and chief of dermatology at nearby Ft. Jackson Army Hospital, said Wednesday the first charge stemmed from his refusal to train Special Forces aidmen in the basic skills of dermatology.

"I did it for about three months, even then with some uneasiness," Levy said. "Then, I decided I couldn't do it anymore."

* * *

Levy admitted most of what was stated in the second charge which said, in part, that he made statements "designed to promote disloyalty and disaffection among the troops and publically uttered disloyal statements to Army personnel, that the United States is wrongly involved in the Vietnam war, that he would refuse to go to Vietnam if ordered to do so, that Negro soldiers should refuse to fight in Vietnam because they had been denied freedom in the United States and were being discriminated against in Vietnam by being given hazardous duty and suffering the majority of casualties.

According to Levy, the charges also read that he stated "if he were a colored soldier, he would refuse to go to Vietnam and would refuse to fight if sent there; and that Special Forces members are liars, thieves, killers of peasants and murderers of women and children."

"Most of that is what I said," Levy said. "But I didn't say that any soldier ought not to go to Vietnam in an authoritative manner."

Saigon Dock Dispute Brings Call for General Strike

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The Vietnamese Labor Confederation called for a 12-hour general strike Friday to protest the replacement of several hundred dock workers by American troops.

* * *

If successful, the strike would halt general commerce and electric, gas and public transport services. But several other recent general strike calls have failed to bring about large-scale stoppages.

* * *

An estimated 5,000 Vietnamese longshoremen are already on strike to protest the use of American servicemen to unload at the Newport docks, a new U.S. military installation near the Saigon commercial port. A spokesman for the confederation indicated the general strike might be continued if U.S. officials did not reach a quick settlement with the stevedores.

U.S. troops are unloading military goods at both Newport and the port of Saigon because of the strike. An American spokesman said more than 900 servicemen, working two shifts, unloaded 4,423 tons of supplies in the past 24 hours. He said normally about 6,000 tons is unloaded.

'MATERIALS MOVING'

The U.S. Mission said that all vital war materials are moving and the dock strike can't cause any food shortage. "There is enough food to last six months," a spokesman said.

A U.S. spokesman said 288 Vietnamese workers who had been hired temporarily to work at Newport were replaced when American troops were available. Vietnamese labor leaders maintain 600 workers were involved and said they feared U.S. troops eventually would replace more Veitnamese dock workers.

Workers Hit by Mystery Ills in Plant

BURLINGTON, Iowa (AP) — You work on the production line of a secret project at the Iowa Army ammunition plant near here and suddenly you act as if you've been hitting the bottle.

You're tipsy, or nauseated, or maybe just light-headed.

This has happened to 50 or 100 employes, mostly women, in the last four months and every effort to find out why has been futile. Now the government is digging deeper into the mystery.

Dr. R.D. Wallace of the Army Environmental Health Agency in Edgewood, Md. arrived Wednesday at the sprawling plant about 10 miles west of Burlington.

CLASSIFIED LINE

The plant has about 3,500 workers but only a few hundred work on the classified production line.

The only thing known about it, is that the illness develops sporadically without warning and when persons affected are removed from the area, the condition passes and no lasting effect is noted.

Nearly a week has gone by since an illness was reported.

Hungarians Free American Woman

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hungarian authorities today released Janet V. Lemme, 25, an American from Seattle, Wash., on completion of a six-month sentence for helping her husband in an attempt to smuggle his sister and brother-in-law out of Hungary, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

Mrs. Lemme's husband, Volker Busso Lemme, 29, a Canadian citizen, is scheduled to remain in prison until Feb. 28.

U.S. Consul Clifford H. Gross was reported driving Mrs. Lemme to the Austrian frontier. U.S. Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., announced a week ago that she would fly from Frankfurt to Vancouver, B.C., and arrive there Friday night.

Ring Doesn't Make Marriage Couple's Attitude That Counts

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for only two months and already I am writing to DEAR ABBY. First let me say that I couldn't ask for a sweeter, more wonderful husband, but he has one fault. He's an early bird! Abby, if I don't got my eight hours sleep, the next day I'm a dishrag. My husband can get along nicely on four or five hours.

ABBY

If we go to sleep at midnight, Old Bright Eyes is up at the crack of dawn like a rooster at 4:30 a.m. He showers, shaves, and dresses, and then I hear him in the kitchen banging the pots and pans around while he fixes himself breakfast. Then the odor of coffee perking and bacon and eggs frying wafts into the bedroom, and who can sleep?

Abby, he doesn't have to be at work until 8 a.m. and we live only 15 mintues from his office, so what's his big hurry? Please don't tell me it's a wife's duty to get up when her husband does. Any other advice will be appreciated.

'SLEEPING BEAUTY"

DEAR "BEAUTY": Since there is no reason for Old Bright Eyes to get up at that hour, he should keep the racket down so you can sleep. Otherwise, ear plugs for your ears, and a clothespin for your nose is the word from here.

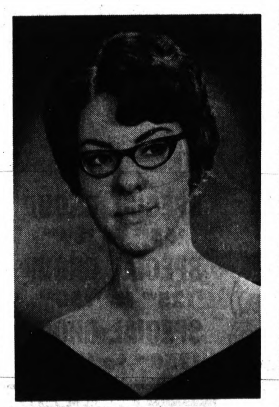
Bride Chooses Satin, Lace

J. D. McGintys Are Wed

Kay Frances Schertzer, daughter of the Stephen Schertzers of Pelton Road became the bride of John D. McGinty of Washington Avenue, son of the junior James E. McGintys of Champaign, Ill., Tuesday in St. Michael Catholic Church.



MRS. JOHN D. McGINTY

Leaving for New York City through Canada on Tuesday were newlyweds John D. McGinty of Washington Avenue and his bride, the former Kay Frances Schertzer.

A reception in Maurice's followed the early evening ceremony in St. Michael Catholic Church.

The daughter of the Stephen Schertzers of Pelton Road chose a white satin gown with Chantilly lace bodice. Her short veil was silk illusion and she carried white roses and chrysanthemums.

Rosalie Schertzer attended her sister as maid of honor with Patricia McGinty, Mrs. Charles Lauinger and Peggy Drogosch as bridesmaids.

Michael McGinty was his brother's best man. They are the sons of the junior James E. McGintys of Champaign, Ill. Gary Lynch, Charles Lauinger and Norman Schmansky were ushers.

The bride is a graduate of Mercy College, Detroit, and her husband is an alumnus of Northern Illinois University.

Repeat Vows in Chapel Ceremonies

Following recent chapel vows in Kirk of the Hills Presbyterian, the John A. Greenwoods (Nora Jean Koskinen) greeted guests at a breakfast in the church parlors.

★ ★ ★

The bride carried a cascade of Amazon lilies for the ceremony and wore an A-line gown of white silk faille and Chantilly lace with matching lace mantilla.

★ ★ ★

Maid of honor was Gayle Madison with matron of honor Mrs. Wilbur Osborne, sister of the bride.

The bridegroom's brother, Burt, was best man with ushers Chester Runiuzinski and John Boga.

★ ★ ★

The couple delayed their honeymoon to spend Christmas with their families, the Omni S. Koskinens of Bloomfield Glen Road, West Bloomfield Township, and the Harold Greenwoods of Beverly Hills. Upon their return the couple will resume studies at Ferris State College.

Love Is Not Enough for This Lost Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I take care of an 11-year-old granddaughter who still wets herself. Her mother, my daughter, doesn't want to be bothered with her. Though she lives only 10 blocks away, she seldom visits us.

The father is remarried and sees the child only about four times a year. Do I have cause for worry, Mrs. Lawrence? God bless you. And thank you for whatever help you can give me with this problem . . .

ANSWER: If you mean by "worry," self-reproach — no, I think you have no cause for it at all. It is not you whom this child is accusing of irresponsibility by this wetting habit, by trying to make herself in her wounded and groping way as irresponsible as her parents are. It is her parents she is accusing.

But she does need help. And as you and I are seldom able to give the kind of help needed by an enuretic child, I want to ask you if your local hospital provides a psychiatric clinic? If so, take her to it.

You see, there's immense fury stored up in an 11-year-old person who insists on making herself into an infant because she's been born, not to grownups but to infants. On the other hand, she can't stop hoping that a miracle will happen to these irresponsible people — and that mother, father and home will somehow be restored to her.

So long as this hope exists, she just doesn't dare to feel that immensity of fury at them. She just can't feel it, poor lamb. For to feel it would be to risk the danger of exploding it at them and so offend them that all hope of the miracle would be destroyed.

And there would be confronting her the bleak and terrible truth that there never will be mother, father and home.

She's got to face it. But you and I cannot help her do it. You have to be most skillfully prepared to face a truth like that. You need a psychiatrist to prepare you to look at it, for what you're looking at is this reality:

"You are on your own. You cannot count on your parents and never will be able to."

So you need a doctor whose training has taught him how to start rebuilding your crushed trust of yourself up, up, up until it has grown so strong that the knowledge that you are on your own won't destroy you.

* * *

Please try to get this child to a clinic. Part of love, my friend, is accepting the limits of our power to help the loved person. Good fortune to you.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

How great it makes me feel to be able to thank each and every one of you who read and follow my suggestions in Sew Simple. A very special "thank you" to each of you (over 100,000) gals who personally wrote to me this past year.

You can't imagine how wonderful a columnist feels when they get a letter of thanks and appreciation. Let's start the New Year with a new dedication to better sewing!

Please take this opportunity to take a few minutes out of your busy lives and write me a short note telling me about your own sewing tips. Perhaps you will win one of my Tailor Trix pressing boards. I'd like to have each and every one of my newspapers represented, how about it gals?

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Evelyn Fiou, Canastota, N.Y., is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

Mittens From Old Wool Socks

When children are young, they never seem to have enough mittens to go around. Here's an idea I used with my children; try it yourselves. No more worry about lost mittens!

Take some of your husband's wool or orlon socks that have been worn at the heels or toes. Place them so that the ribbing on top becomes the wrist. Cut out the shape of the mitten and thumb (the thumb will come near the lower part of the original heel). Zig-zag the outer edges, even straight stitching will hold. These make excellent liners for extra warmth or just enough for many in-between days!

Dear Eunice Farmer:

Could you please tell me what underlining is and if it is necessary in wool dresses. So many patterns call for underlining, lining and interfacing. Doesn't that make a garment quite heavy and bulky? Mrs. R. J.

Dear Mrs. R. J.:

Underlining is a term used when the lining fabric is basted to the wrong side of your garment fabric, and the two are treated as one from this point on. The type of fabrics used today need underlining for shaping, and you won't get the same results without it. I usually don't recommend a finish lining when you have already underlined.

I do recommend a woven type interfacing for the neck edge of your dresses. This prevents stretching (which causes those gapping necklines).

The secret of underlining is to be sure it isn't pulled too tight. It should always be slightly larger than the garment fabric. I suggest basting the two layers together in two diagonal lines. Then, carefully baste through all darts at the center. Last, baste around the outer edges of each section, taking a back stitch frequently to hold the basting.

When I refer to basting, I mean hand basting. You would certainly pull the two layers of fabric out of shape if you tried to do this by machine.

Pre-Schoolers Learning Aids

For the youngster not yet old enough for first grade, education is far less regimented than the homerooms, reading periods, and science projects of older children. Yet, anxious to learn and naturally curious, the pre-schooler learns more from birth to six years than at any other period in his life.

Of particular importance to the pre-school youngster is the development or perception, a key ability for a lifetime of learning. Since the child's first classroom is his home, and mother his first teacher, it's a wise parent who gives her pre-schooler the motivation and proper environment for learning.

* * *

According to Playskool Research, a child's ability to see and observe, and to understand what's seen can be sharpened through playtools designed for learning while playing.

Drop box toys, with blocks in different shapes, sizes, and colors; teach him shape discrimination, concentration, and eye-hand coordination.

A perception of different tones and pitches is easily learned with toy musical instruments such as a miniature xylophone. From puzzle plaques, with pieces large enough for small fingers to handle, the child learns to recognize the objects, animals, and people in the world around him. By solving the puzzle, he begins to "organize" this world. Pounding toys not only improve his coordination but also show him the movement of pegs.

Foundations Must Reach the Limits

Don't defeat the prime purpose of your foundation make-up by abruptly ending its application at the chin and jaw line, thereby leaving a mask-like appearance. To attain a smooth, even-toned natural complexion look, says one beauty authority, select a foundation make-up shade that closely matches your natural complexion coloring.

★ ★ ★

Then, remember to continue the foundation slightly below the chin and jaw line, and around under the ears. Diminish the make-up as you go so there will be no trace of where it begins and where it ends.

September vows are planned by Mary Warfield Clark, daughter of the William B. Clarks of Grosse Pointe, and Stephen M. Green, son of the Alden M. Greens, West 14 Mile Road. She is an alumna of Cleary College. Her fiance attends Michigan State University.

Class Aids Respiratory Victims

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Patients suffering from respiratory diseases are attending classes at the Medical College of Georgia to learn ways of improving their conditions.

"An experiment in education," said Dr. Frank P. Anderson, head of the project and director of the college's respiratory center.

"It is critical that ways be found to better educate emphysema victims about their conditions."

Nonhospital patients with respiratory diseases attend the special classes once a week at the Richmond County Health Department, which is cooperating in the project with the college and the Augusta area tuberculosis association.

FIRST PROJECT

The program, financed by the U.S. Public Health Service, is the first major rehabilitation and education project in the United States for nonhospital patients suffering from emphysema, chronic bronchitis and asthma — all lumped under a heading of emphysema.

About 100 persons have attended classes. Wives or other members of the family are urged to accompany the patients. In addition to lectures, project staff members used closed circuit television demonstrations and junior high school level science films.

★ ★ ★

Classes are held at noon. "This time of day, emphysema sufferers are generally better able to cope with shortness of breath and fatigue, the most prominent symptoms of this disease," said Alma Meinrath, health educator for the project.

Dr. Coleman T. King, associate project director and a college faculty member, has told class participants they have reason for optimism.

MEDICAL THERAPY

"You can learn to live within the limitations of your problem," he said. "By attention to detail and good medical therapy, you can avoid episodes of critical trouble."

After graduation, each patient is given a personal plan for rehabilitation. Those who need to improve breathing patterns are instructed by a staff member. If a special breathing device might be helpful, one is provided for trial use.

Emphysema and other respiratory diseases are becoming a serious national problem. About 10 million Americans are afflicted with some form of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, Anderson said.

Emphysema itself is incurable. It affects about one million Americans. Its chief characteristic is damaged air sacs in the smallest structures of the lungs.

USUALLY WHITE

Statistics show that victims of emphysema usually are white men between the ages of 50 and 70. Ten times more men than women suffer from the disease. But Anderson said many persons whose condition has been diagnosed as emphysema actually have a combination of asthma, chronic bronchitis and emphysema.

"The majority of these patients have some partially correctable conditions," he said. "By recognizing and treating the patient's asthma or chronic bronchitis, the amount of true emphysema underlying these conditions may be found not to handicap him too severely."

★ ★ ★

Anderson recommends these steps for self-help:

- Stop smoking cigarettes.
- Stay in good physical condition by keeping active.
- Avoid antihistamines, cough syrups, "breathing pills" or sleeping pills unless prescribed by a physician.
- Consult your doctor at the first sign of a chest cold.

Antidiscovery Sometimes Is Good Science

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Negative findings sometimes make good science.

An antibreakthrough in man's attempt to understand the way memory works was reported at the meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science here.

Scientists trying to repeat experiments purporting to show that memory is based on certain molecular changes in the brain found that either the experiments did not repeat or that other explanations were possible.

Learning and remembering are not necessarily contingent upon the synthesis of RNA (ribonucleic acid) and protein, Dr. Samuel H. Barondes of Albert Einstein College of Medicine said. His research contradicts, or at least tones down, many widely publicized reports that RNA is the key to memory.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Barondes used actinomycin-D, puromycin and other highly toxic antibiotics to test memory storage in mice.

The swamp snail gives birth to live young.

Massive Hunt for Sergeant Proves Worth of One GI

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

SAIGON, Vietnam—(NEA)—There are 370,000 soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines in this war today and, because of it, a man gets to wondering whether he's worth very much in the whole thing.

He is, of course.

He's priceless.

A division-sized unit here is proving it to one of its combat sergeants at this very moment. His safety and well-being are the outfit's continuing concern. Money to guarantee that safety is no object. Neither is time, Involvement, equipment nor risk.

* * *

Tragically, though, the sergeant knows nothing of the effort.

CAPTURED

He has been captured by the enemy.

The soldier, let's call him Smith, was one of a small patrol action which was overrun by greater numbers of Viet Cong guerillas. Eight of the patrol were killed instantly. The sergeant apparently was not.

United States troops who found the platoon's remains reasoned that Sgt. Smith was spared purposely and is this day still alive somewhere.

* * *

"Most of the platoon were not dead from fighting," explained one of the finders. "They were executed with bullets between the eyes."

PROPAGANDA FODDER

"So," added another, "we expect the sergeant was kept alive so that the VC can parade him through villages as propaganda fodder."

Propaganda?

"Yes. An example of Cong superiority."

Superiority?

* * *

"They'll parade him on a leash, like an animal."

* * *

Rankled commanders began a search for the sergeant immediately. Near the platoon annihilation site, a U.S. boot mark was found among dozens of bare (native VC) footprints and the Yanks had their first clue.

DROPPING BITS

Farther out, a piece of the prisoner's personal papers plus an American first aid kit were found, and searchers considered it evidence that Sergeant Smith was dropping bits to leave a trail.

With this physical evidence as a direction indicator, the division's intelligence office put its complex information-gathering machine into full and widespread operation.

The Vietnamese secret service was notified.

* * *

Shadowy undercover informers were alerted.

Then, a reward was offered.

LEAFLETS DROPPED

Leaflets by the thousands were dropped on villages. They guaranteed the bearers of reliable information a sum of 50,000 piastres ($500) for the sergeant's safe recovery. Smaller sums were offered for less decisive data on Smith's whereabouts and condition.

One such leaflet was picked up by a 71-year-old villager and, risking VC wrath, he contacted American authorities to say that a GI (answering the sergeant's description) was being kept in a hutch near the man's home village.

"Is he alive?" Americans asked.

"Yes," the old man answered.

"Is your story reliable?"

"You may kill me if it isn't."

* * *

A battalion-sized combat force (500 men in 90 helicopters) was sent to the location immediately and another battalion was held in reserve. But, unfortunately, neither Sergeant Smith nor the VC were found. However, evidence did bear out some of the old man's story.

HIT BITTERLY

This failure, quite naturally, hit the division bitterly. "Damn it all," said one major, "I'd give anything to get the sergeant back."

And, indeed, so would the division. Intelligence is already working on a larger reward . . . perhaps as much as 1 million piastres.

With that amount," they say, "we might expect the sergeant's captors to be interested themselves. A VC guerilla makes less than a nickel a day in regular salary. So 1 million piastres would certainly be tempting."

* * *

Thus, the search continues. Money. Armies of men, Mountains of material. The strength of a nation is behind the hunt for one combat GI.

EXPENSIVE

It's expensive as hell.

But then, this man, and every man here, is worth it.

View of Truck Palls at Last

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Mayor Douglas A. Merrifield got a letter from a resident who said a truck had been parked in front of her home for two years. She wondered if the city could do something about it.

The city could and did.

Reagan Facing Big Problems

Takes Governor Oath in California Monday

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Ronald Reagan, the good guy in hundreds of movies and television shows takes over the starring role Monday in the real life drama of governing the nation's most populous state.

Reagan, 55, a Republican, will take the oath of office as California's 33rd governor at 12:01 a.m., the earliest moment authorized by the state Constitution.

About 12 hours later, the Democratic-controlled legislature will convene for what may be the longest session in state history.

Between them, Reagan and the lawmakers will be faced with problems ranging from a budget deficit of $350 million or more to racial strife on city streets and from a growing property taxpayers' revolt to student demonstrations at the University of California.

* * *

Reagan says he is sure he can work effectively with the legislature in spite of partisan differences.

WAIT-AND-SEE ATTITUDE

But Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, probably the most powerful legislator, has adopted a wait-and-see attitude toward the new administration.

Unruh said the Democratic lawmakers probably would not propose a program of their own as an alternative to Reagan's "Creative Society" plan.

But he said the legislature would look long and hard at bills advocated by the administration.

Reagan's decision to hold his inauguration in the middle of the night is unprecedented in California. The Constitution sets the first Monday in January as inauguration day and lets the incoming governor pick the time.

All previous governors have selected daylight hours but Reagan decided to take over as soon as possible.

Only a few invited guests, plus newsmen and television crews, will be on hand for the oath taking. Reagan will deliver his inauguration address at 11 a.m. Jan. 5.

Says Sukarno

'No Order in Indonesia'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno recently grumbled to a palace guest: "What is all this talk of new order and old order? There is no order in Indonesia."

Even Sukarno's sharpest critics tend to agree with the 65-year-old president's summation of the confused political scene.

The question of order in this huge Southeast Asian nation is constantly voiced by political leaders and emphasized in headlines.

But few can say what it really means.

REPRESENTATIVE

Sukarno is judged by the government now in power to be the supreme representative of the old order, meaning the previous Communist-influenced government.

The new order is meant to be the anti-Sukarno students and those in step with the present leadership.

But as some political veterans here note with a wry smile, this is at least the third new order of Indonesia. Every new government that comes along under Sukarno calls itself the new order.

Sukarno, who has seen a host of new cabinets during his stormy reign, has grandly ignored all this. He is, as he recently proclaimed, the original order.

ORDER AND DISORDER

The talk of order—and disorder—points up the strange power struggle.

Indonesia is led by two men who smile fondly at each other in public but are privately fighting desperately to gain firm control.

On one side, President Sukarno is fighting for his own political life.

On the other side is army strongman Gen. Suharto, leader of the group seeking to remove Sukarno's influence and even Sukarno himself if possible.

STILL REVERED

Removing Sukarno, who is still revered by millions of Indonesians as their great revolutionary leader, is not easily done.

Some diplomatic and Indonesian sources believe Suharto might have removed Sukarno seven months ago without too much difficulty.

Now they believe Sukarno has managed to marshal more support. More importantly, he is playing one force against the other with enough success to keep his opposition off balance.

U.S. Dealers Unconcerned Over Bulging Car Lots

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business Writer

DETROIT (AP) — New and used car lots across the nation bulged with a heavy inventory today, but few of the nation's auto dealers appeared concerned.

"We have learned from experience that you can not compete with Santa Claus and so we expected sales to slow down a bit in both new and used cars from mid-December on," explained one dealer source.

A survey of new car supplies showed about 1,293,000 were in dealer hands or enroute to them as of Dec. 15. This represented a 45-day supply at current selling rates.

A year ago, the dealers had 1,223,000 cars on hand an in 1964—when the industry was just getting into full production after a series of strikes — the figure was 893,000.

Dealer sources expressed satisfaction that auto firms had slowed their production rate down in December and January to keep more in tempo with sales rates and to avoid building a tremendous unweildly inventory.

Expectations were that the calendar year would end with total sales of about 9 million new cars in the U. S. market, including a record-breaking 640,000 imports.

The nation's 31,000 franchised used car dealers were expected to almost duplicate that figure with about 9.1 million used car sales forecast for 1966. That would be the fifth highest total on record.

Loren Helmhout, used car manager for Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co., said November and early December sales figures showed a little softening over 1965's performance, but he added:

"Sure, it is off a bit, but then it always is down at this time of year. This year it may wind up with figures behind those of 1965 but I do not see anything abnormal in the sales picture."

Estimates were that the franchised dealers had 875,000 cars on their lots as of Dec. 15, the highest total since June 15 when the figure stood at 859,000.

Spokesmen for General Motors' divisions said their zone managers were devoting considerable attention to the used car sales problem and that many local advertising campaigns to promote used car sales were under way.

FTC Credit Plan Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) proposal to pinpoint the high cost of installment buying wouldn't affect 94 per cent of the money-lending industry.

Proxmire, the new chief sponsor of truth-in-lending proposals, said he welcomed any effort to tell consumers the cost of borrowing. But, he said, "what these suggested rules would "not" do is more striking than what they would do."

He said he hoped "the public will not be misled into believing that they (the FTC proposals) represent meaningful truth-in-lending."

The FTC said last week it was studying proposals that would require presale disclosure of the costs of buying an article on time.

Some thought the proposals would cancel the need for the truth-in-lending measure originally championed by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill.

Chile Jolts Continue; Tidal Wave Feared

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Earth tremors continued to shake northern Chile during the night, and there were warnings of a possible tidal wave if an undersea volcano continued erupting 25 miles off shore.

The volcano spit sheets of fire from the ocean bottom Wednesday about the same time that a mighty earthquake rolled across 1,000 miles of the copper-rich coastal area.

The quake destroyed much of the old nitrate port of Taltal, where three persons were reported killed so far and two others missing. Dozens were injured and an estimated 4,000 persons were left homeless in the provinces of Antofagasta, Atacama and Tarpaca. Three million persons live in the area.

Residents of Taltal, which has a population of 10,000 said huge flames spurted from the ocean depths when the quake struck at 4:18 a.m. Old, one-story structures of mud bricks and wood collapsed in the town amid big clouds of dust, and thousands fled toward the neighboring hills with the shaking earth slipping beneath their feet.

CRUMBLING WALL

A crumbling wall in Taltal killed a 9-year-old boy. Two men were found dead in ruins and two workers at Flor de Chile, a nitrate community 25 miles to the north, were missing.

The first quake registered 8 on a scale of 12 and light tremors continued Wednesday night. The navy warned that if the volcano continued erupting, a tidal wave could flood Taltal and other coastal areas.

★ ★ ★

The quake was felt in Santiago, the capital 600 miles south of the epicenter, but no damage was reported.

The $700-million copper installations of the U.S. Anaconda Co. in Atacama and Antofagasta Provinces also were reported undamaged.

WALLS CRACKED

In the city of Antofagasta walls cracked and window panes shattered. The port, Chile's fifth biggest city with 125,000 persons, is 150 miles north of Taltal.

Damage also was reported in Copiapo, Tocopilla and Calama, port towns near Taltal.

★ ★ ★

Communications were out in the stricken area but were not disrupted between Antofagasta and Santiago.

The government set up tents and field canteens at Taltal for homeless, many of whom were roaming the streets hours after the quake, the ministry of interior reported.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy in Santiago offered to have supplies brought in if needed.

★ ★ ★

Chile's last major earthquake, on March 28, 1965, killed 400 persons.

New Year's Eve Food Should Be Tasty

MEXICALI APPETIZERS—Looking for a new way to see the old year out? Build a party around a Mexican theme and get it off to a gay start with warm little appetizers.

Chili-Flavored Crust Holds Spicy Meat

To make Mexican style appetizers, simply saute ground beef with mouth-warming chili powder, onion, catsup, green pepper and a whisper of garlic. Bake the mixture in a flaky, chili-flavored crust. Serve either warm or cool. These appetizers are a flavorful way of waking up sluggish appetites.

The beef may be cooked with its flavor-mates on party day or prepared ahead, ready for assembling when the chef has time to complete preparation.

The tender crust is made by cutting fat into flour, chili powder and salt; sprinkling with water; then rolling and cutting into 2-inch circles. The cooked filling is spooned onto the center of the pastry round — a matching circle covers the filling.

Edges are sealed and the appetizers are ready for the refrigerator until partytime.

MEXICALI APPETIZERS

3 cups sifted enriched flour
2 teaspoons chili powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 cup shortening
6 to 12 tablespoons cold water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped onion
¼ cup finely chopped green pepper
1 clove garlic, crushed
½ pound ground beef
⅓ cup catsup
2 tablespoon senriched flour
1 teaspoon chili powder

Sift together 3 cups flour, 2 teaspoons chili powder and salt into large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until pieces are size of small peas. Sprinkle with water, a little at a time, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together; shape into ball and wrap in wax paper. Refrigerate while preparing filling.

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Stir in onion, green pepper and garlic; cook about 5 minutes. Stir in beef and cook until brown. Blend in catsup, 2 tablespoons flour and 1 teaspoon chili powder.

Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Remove from heat while rolling and cutting pastry.

* * *

Divide dough in half. Roll out half of dough on lightly floured board or pastry cloth about 1/16 inch thick. Cut out 60 circles with floured 2-inch round cutter; place on ungreased baking sheet (If necessary, dough may be re-rolled once.)

Spoon 1 level teaspoonful filling in center of each circle, spreading slightly. Repeat rolling and cutting with second portion of dough; cover filling with remaining circles.

Seal edges securely with fork. Bake in preheated 400 degree oven 15 to 18 minutes, or until lightly browned. Serve warm or cool. Makes 60 appetizers.

SARDINE APPETIZERS — Meaty Maine Sardines are a wonderful and versatile addition to holiday parties. Always popular in sandwiches and salads, it is on the hors d'oeuvre tray that they truly shine.

Sardines Star on Appetizer Table

Meaty Maine Sardines are a wonderful and versatile addition to holiday parties. Always popular in sandwiches and salads, it is on the hors d'oeuvre tray that they truly shine.

Served alone on crackers with perhaps a sprinkling of lemon juice, they are one of the simplest of all drink-accompaniments possible. But these simple little fish can turn into truly gourmet fare at the mere whisk of a suggestion.

SEASIDE PATE, DOWNEAST STYLE

2 cans Maine sardines (4 oz. each)
1 pound sharp Cheddar cheese shredded
¾ pound blue cheese, mashed
3 tablespoons soft butter
2 tablespoons bottled hollandaise sauce
Dash Angostura bitters
Few drops Tabasco
Brandy

Drain and mash Maine sardines. Combine with Cheddar and blue cheeses, soft butter, hollandaise and seasonings. Spin in blender or electric mixer until very smooth, adding just enough brandy (about 2-3 tablespoons) to make mixture creamy.

Line a medium size bowl with plastic wrap leaving enough plastic around the rim to cover bowl. Fill bowl with sardine mixture and press down firmly to eliminate air pockets. Cover with projecting plastic and chill for several hours or overnight.

Turn out on serving plate. Remove plastic. Garnish with parsley and serve with potato chips, pumpernickel rounds or crackers. Yield: Hors d'oeuvres for 8-10.

HOT MAINE SARDINE APPETIZER

2 cans Maine sardines (4 oz. each)
2 hard cooked eggs, diced
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons prepared hot mustard
¼ cup commercial sour cream
Seasonings to taste
Toasted slivered almonds

* * *

Drain and break up sardines. Combine with next five ingredients. Season to taste — either hot or mild — with cayenne, tabasco, salt and pepper. Fill little pastry cases.

Top with slivered almonds and bake 8-10 minutes in a hot (400 degree) oven. Yield: 8-16 little pastries depending on size.

For Appetizer Delights

Mix Cheese With Ground Beef

Entertaining is always more elaborate at holiday time. But it need not be hard to do or particularly expensive. Just a special touch given to a familiar dish can be enough to make it a conversation piece.

These little cheese meatballs should freeze well if you want to prepare them ahead of time. Let them reheat in the oven.

APPETIZER CHEESE MEATBALLS

1½ pounds ground beef
1 3-ounce package Roquefort cheese, crumbled
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup butter (½ stick)
½ cup Burgundy cooking wine or beef bouillon

Combine beef, cheese, salt and pepper; mix. Shape into balls using one heaping teaspoonful of meat for each. Brown meatballs in butter, turning as needed to brown on all sides. Add wine or bouillon; cover and cook slowly 3 to 5 minutes. Makes 6 dozen meatballs.

APPETIZER MEATBALLS—Tiny meatballs made with ground beef and Roquefort cheese make delicious appetizers for a party. Wine or bouillon adds flavor to the sauce. Serve right from the skillet.

Coconut Cream

Combine 1½ cups heavy cream, 1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar, ¾ teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup fine-grated coconut in a chilled bowl. Whip cream until thick (do not overbeat). Makes about 3 cups, or enough for top of a 13x9x2-inch cake, two 9-inch layers, or to fill and frost a cake roll.

Simple Food Is Fine at Brunch

Plan to entertain at brunch on New Year's Day. It can be easy, informal and very gay. Plan easy-to-do foods.

Here are easy ways to prepare Canadian-style bacon, pork sausage links and orange-nut English muffins.

BAKED CANADIAN STYLE BACON

Place ¼ inch thick slices of ready-to-eat bacon on rack in shallow baking pan. Place in hot oven (400 degrees) to heat and brown slightly, 3 to 5 minutes. Allow 2 to 4 slices per serving.

BAKED FRESH PORK SAUSAGE LINKS

Separate sausage links; arrange on rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) until done and browned, 20 to 30 minutes, turning links after 15 minutes baking time. Allow 3 to 4 links per serving.

ORANGE-NUT ENGLISH MUFFINS

½ cup soft butter or margarine
1 cup thick orange marmalade
¼ cup finely chopped pecans
8 large English muffins, split in half

Beat butter or margarine until fluffy. Add marmalade; beat well and fold in pecans. Arrange muffin halves, cut side up, on baking sheet. Place in hot over (400 degrees) to heat, about 5 minutes.

Remove from oven; spread each half with orange-nut mixture (about 2 tablespoons per half). Return to oven to finish heating, 4 to 5 minutes. Cut in half and serve. Yield: 8 servings.

Dress Up Potato Salad With Bits of Lobster

A popular buffet dish — and an unusual one is lobster and potato salad. Let your potato salad season in the refrigerator and add bits-size pieces of lobster to it just before serving.

Use rock lobster tails. Do not overcook them. That is important.

For the potato salad, you can either make it at home, or else buy it. But be sure you get top quality potato salad if you buy it.

BUFFET LOBSTER AND POTATO SALAD

6 (4-oz.) South African rock lobster tails
2 pounds potatoes
½ cup diced onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
1½ cups mayonnaise
¼ cup heavy cream

Drop frozen South African rock lobster tails into boiling salted water. When water reboils, lower heat and simmer 7 minutes.

Drain immediately and drench with cold water. Cut away thin underside membrane and remove meat from shells. Chill.

Boil potatoes; drain and peel. While still warm, cut in cubes in bottom of large bowl. Add onion, salt and pepper immediately.

Mix mayonnaise with cream until smooth. Pour over potatoes and onions and leave in a thick top layer. Cool, then chill.

At serving time, cut chilled lobster tails into bite-size pieces add to potato bowl and toss together until all ingredients are well-blended. Six to eight servings.

BUFFET LOBSTER AND POTATO SALAD

Flame Seafood Dish in Front of the Guests

See the New Year in with style and zest! The gayest and most sentimental party of the year surely deserves the very best of everything you can cook up.

Good companions, good talk, good music and laughter are the basic components of a swingin' New Year's Eve. Crown the evening with fine food and drink prepared with style that all present will remember until another year rolls around.

For extra drama and fireworks just right for New Year's Eve, cook the seafood with your guests as an admiring audience.

Have the ingredients ready, set out on a tray, and the chafing dish hot and waiting. Make the sauce, add the seafood, (a few dramatic gestures are not amiss when you're playing chef for a crowd) and stir a few minutes while it heats.

Your first meal of 1967 will be a triumph!

SEAFOOD '67

½ cup butter
2 pounds large raw shrimp, shelled and deveined
2 cups crab meat, canned or frozen
2 onions, chopped
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 cans (10½ oz. each) condensed cream of mushroom soup
2 soup cans light cream
½ cup brandy, vodka, or other liquor
Toast squares

Melt butter in chafing dish over hot water. Add shrimp, crab, onions, salt and pepper. Cover and cook 5 minutes. Stir in mushroom soup and cream. Heat well. Add all but 2 tablespoons of liquor.

Heat the remaining liquor in a ladle or spoon near the chafing dish flame and tip it slightly so that it ignites. Pour the blazing liquor into the casserole. Serve on toast. Makes 6-8 servings.

Crumble Bacon, Use in Sandwich

What to do with a couple of bacon strips left on this morning's breakfast platter? Don't discard — they're inspiration for a good-eating sandwich filling!

Lightly mix together 2 slices bacon (cooked and crumbled), 1 can (5 ounces) boned chicken or turkey, 2 hard-cooked eggs (chopped), ½ cup chopped celery, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, and a dash of pepper. Chill; serve on bread or toast. Makes 1½ cups filling.

Curry Spices Chicken Dip

Serve an exotic-tasting dip of luscious chicken spread and curry mixed with sour cream and walnuts for a most appealing party dish at holiday time.

Crisp apple slices and pineapple chunks complete the picture for refreshing "dunkers" in this spicy, colorful dip.

Save the recipe, too, for a most unique filling in avocado as a side-dish, salad that's new and different tasting.

CHICKEN-CURRY DIP

1 4¾-oz. can chicken spread
⅓ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons finely chopped walnuts
¼ tsp. curry powder
24 apple slices
12 pineapple chunks
cracker

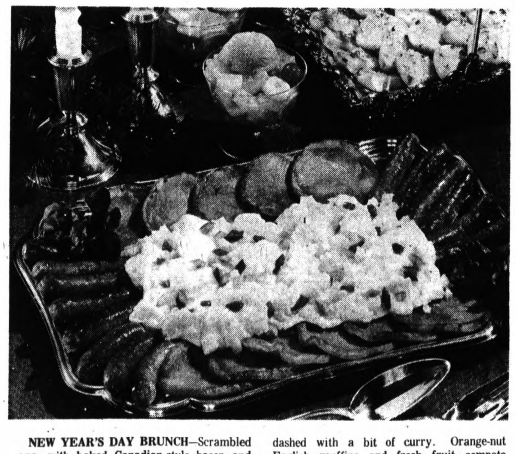
Combine chicken spread, sour cream, walnuts and curry powder. Chill before serving. Cut thin apple slices and dip in lemon juice to prevent browning. Drain pineapple chunks well on absorbent paper toweling. Use unsalted crackers. Serves about 16.

Variation: In season, substitute fresh pineapple sticks for canned.

Artichoke Sauce

Nicoise sauce is good with cooked, chilled artichokes. Mix 1½ cups of mayonnaise with 1 (6 ounce) can of tomato paste, 1 tablespoon of chopped chives and ½ teaspoon of dried tarragon leaves. Chill several hours to blend flavors. Makes about 2¼ cups.

To make snowflake cookies put two star cookies together with points alternating. Use sweet chocolate melted, between the cookies and a dab on top.



NEW YEAR'S DAY BRUNCH—Scrambled eggs with baked Canadian-style bacon and pork sausage links make an attractive platter for brunch. Start with tomato juice, dashed with a bit of curry. Powell Foe to Change Tactics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Lionel Van Deerlin now says he will ask for a congressional investigation of whether Rep. Adam Clayton Powell should be seated in the new Congress rather than seeking immediately to bar Powell.

During such a delay in his seating pending a probe, Powell, a New York Democrat, would be entitled to salary and other congressional privileges but not his vote.

* * *

Van Deerlin said he would ask the House speaker to appoint a nine-member committee for an investigation he said might take four to six months.

The California Democrat said Wednesday night in a telephone interview that the investigation would give Powell "a chance to purge himself — to relieve his status as a fugitive from justice."

SENTENCED IN N.Y.

Powell has been sentenced in New York to more than a year in jail for contempt of court growing out of his failure to pay a $164,000 libel judgment against him. He has recently been staying in the Bahamas.

LBJ's New Aide to Undergo Surgery

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's new press secretary, George Christian, is to undergo back surgery today.

* * *

Christian, 40, said he was having the surgery for a longtime ailment while Bill D. Moyers, his predecessor, is available to fill in as press secretary for about three weeks.

* * *

Christian became press secretary earlier this month after Moyers announced he was leaving the White House staff Feb. 1 to become publisher of Newsday, a Long Island, N.Y., newspaper.

Graham Discusses U.S. Bombing

ATLANTA (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham, just back from a 10-day tour of South Vietnam, said yesterday the North Vietnamese were locating anti-aircraft missile sites in densely populated areas with the hope the United States won't risk bombing them.

This, he indicated, was the reason some civilian casualties may have occurred on U.S. raids near Hanoi.

"I don't believe residents are being purposely bombed," Graham said.

Graham told a news conference at the Atlanta airport he did not see "any possibility" of the Communists entering into peace talks if they have to make any concessions.

"They want Vietnam and so does the free world," he said.

Graham dodged questions about whether the United States was right in fighting the war in Southeast Asia, but he said, "We are there and I'm backing the men because we're there."

Graham said "The battle of the world is being fought there," but he refused to comment on Roman Catholic Cardinal Spellman's call for total victory in Vietnam.

New China N-Blast Widens Soviet Rift

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

China has exploded another nuclear device and thrown yet another bomb into the rubble of Soviet-Chinese relations.

As much as any other one factor, atomic weaponry has contributed liberally to worsening relations between the two Communist giants and may yet be the element which makes the break complete and final.

* * *

With the latest explosion — Red China's fifth and its third this year — Peking issued a propaganda blast which said the success of these tests "is a heavy blow to U.S. imperialism and Soviet modern revisionism, which have been collaborating in a vain attempt to enforce their nuclear monopoly and sabotage the revolutionary struggles of all oppressed people and oppressed nations."

News Analysis

With each Red Chinese explosion Soviet nervousness has increased. This explosion could be enough to push the Kremlin into a more active role in seeking peace in Vietnam, despite avowals from Moscow that the Soviet leaders will take no such initiative unless specifically asked by the North Vietnamese.

REAL THREAT

Moscow appears now to see in China's nuclear club membership a real threat of nuclear weapons spreading to other countries and of a world situation developing beyond the control of the two major nuclear powers.

Peking has vowed again and again to "break the nuclear monopoly" of the Soviets and the Americans, and has given the impression that it believes the more nations that get the bomb, the better. The official Peking People's Daily said recently that Red China "will never be party to the so-called nuclear nonproliferation treaty to deprive nonnuclear countries of their rights and injure the interests of the world's people."

* * *

As China grows more confident, Moscow grows more jittery. The danger is far closer to the U.S.S.R. than to the Western Hemisphere. And China, denied Soviet help since 1958 in the nuclear weapons field, grows more belligerent toward the Soviet leaders with each successful test.

China calls her nuclear weapon the "freedom bomb." By Peking's account, the more nuclear weapons there are, the more chance there will be of forcing the Soviets and Americans to agree to total prohibition and destruction of all weapons.

If the Red Chinese believe their own propaganda, that there is a "holy alliance" against them of the Soviets, Americans and Japanese, they could be moved to rash actions despite their past record of caution. This is particularly so in the confused state of Red Chinese politics in the wake of the violent purge.

* * *

The Vietnam war appears to be a constant abrasion on official Soviet nerves. Moscow blames China's attitude toward the U.S.S.R. for the American escalation, on the theory that had Peking remained united with Moscow, the Americans would not have dared the risk involved. The implication is that there might be more escalation leading to a general war in Asia.

The Soviet regime, involved in a massive effort to lift the Soviet economy, is aware that the vast bulk of its people fear and distrust China and incline toward the West. It is sensitive to Chinese territorial claims on Soviet areas. Moreover, a heated world atmosphere could create difficulties in Europe, where Soviet policies aiming at lessened tension and more stability have created a climate in which the internal Soviet program might prosper. Extreme tension would mean the domestic program would have to be curtailed.

Romney to Take Oath in Private

LANSING (UPI) — In a private family ceremony at 3 p.m. Saturday, Gov. George Romney will take the oath of office for his third term, which will begin officially 21 hours later.

Under the Michigan Constitution, terms of all elected state officials begin at noon on New Year's Day following their elections.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, a Democrat, became the first of Michigan's administrative board to be sworn in for a new term when he took his oath of office from Supreme Court Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh yesterday. He will be starting his seventh term.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, also a Democrat, was to follow suit at 11 a.m. today in a private ceremony in his office. Outgoing Supreme Court Justice Otis M. Smith was to give the oath to Kelley, who will be starting his third full term.

★ ★ ★

The oath will be administered to the governor in the living room of his Bloomfield Hills home by Wayne County Circuit Judge Thomas E. Brennan, a justice-elect of the state supreme court.

SIMULTANEOUS

At a simultaneous ceremony in Traverse City, Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken will be sworn in for his second term by Circuit Judge William Peterson of Cadillac.

For the first time, all four will have four-year terms under provisions of the 1963 Michigan Constitution. The old constitution provided for two-year terms.

Private oath-takings were arranged by Michigan officials in reference to Romney's wishes not to hold inaugural festivities on Sunday.

The public inaugural celebration, complete with bands, speeches, receptions and dances, will be held on Monday, Jan. 2 in Lansing.

Golf was first developed in Scotland.

NY Plumbers to Vote on Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Top officials of the plumbers union say they are hopeful that 4,000 striking members will approve a tentative contract agreement and that Manhattan and Bronx construction projects involving about $600 million will snap out of paralysis early in the New Year.

★ ★ ★

Members of Local 2 of the AFL-CIO United Association of Plumbers, who have been on strike for 158 days, will vote on the settlement terms Jan. 4.

Lunar Exploring Said 10-15 Years Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Harvard astronomer today forecast good-sized expeditions of earthmen to the moon in 10 to 15 years — with the adventurers tapping their drinking water from the lunar rocks and planting the first lunar gardens.

But he said they'll have to be equipped to do their daytime gardening amid temperatures ranging up to that of boiling water. And he said if they venture from their shelters at night to check on their moon-plants, they'll have to have "pretty heavy red flannel underwear" to withstand temperatures some 240 degrees below zero.

That's the word from Dr. Donald Menzel of the Harvard Observatory who also told reporters at the 133rd meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science: When the explorers run out of food they might bring from the earth, they'll conceivably be able to diet not only on their cultivated moon-plants but on such delicacies as " a form of sand flea that reportedly tastes like shrimp when ground up."

He said the Army Quartermaster Corps is experimenting with various forms of vegetative and animal life — such as molds, bacteria and the sand fleas — which theoretically might be cultivated in the virtually airless, near-vacuum conditions of the moon's surface.

★ ★ ★

Menzel said recent evidence, such as the pictures taken by the American Orbiter satellites, erases any doubt that the lunar surface "has the strength to support vehicles, manned landings and explorations."

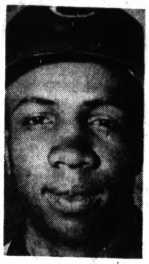
Slugger's Ring Found After 2 Years

Oriole Frank Robinson Mystified by Pontiac Phone Call



FRANK ROBINSON

By BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

For sports fans who know and for Frank Robinson, Baltimore Orioles' slugger, MVP means "Most Valuable Player."

Yesterday however at his Los Angeles home Robinson received a phone call from Pontiac which made him a "MMVP," — Most Mystified Valuable Player.

This was our phone conversation with Robinson, who the past season was the American League's MVP as a member of the World Champion Baltimore Orioles:

Kearns: Hello, Frank Robinson, please?

Robinson: Yes, this is he.

Kearns: Frank, I'm calling from The Press in Pontiac and I have something which must belong to you. It is a ring of the 1961 National League champion Cincinnati Reds with your name inscribed in it?

Robinson: What? How in the world did you get it?

Kearns: A man by the name of Jesse Manning said it was found on a street in Pontiac by a friend of his. Do you have any idea how it got here?

Robinson: Heavens, no. It's been missing for almost 2½ years. I think it may have been in Chicago where it disappeared and I just don't know what happened to it, whether I misplaced it in the hotel, lost it, or if it was stolen.

Kearns: Would you have lost it in Detroit, or were you ever a visitor in this area?

Robinson: I was never in Detroit until this year when I was with Baltimore. After more than two years I had given up on ever seeing it again.

Kearns: Is the ring of great value?

Robinson: Its monetary value may be $250-$300 but it's the sentimental value which means so much.

Kearns: Well, Frank, you will have your ring shortly and possibly delivered to you by someone personally.

★ ★ ★

The handsome ring with its diamond setting, will be delivered to Robinson.

Meanwhile, the mystery of its appearance in Pontiac this week after its disappearance in the summer of 1964, is still to be solved.

Miami of Ohio Rules Motor City Meet

Redskins Whip Tulane, 87-52; Detroit Loses

Western Michigan Hands Host Titans Rare Second Defeat

DETROIT (AP) — Miami of Ohio blitzed the nets for 50 points in the second half, defeating Tulane 87-52 to win the 15th annual Motor City Classic basketball tournament Wednesday night.

Western Michigan upended host Detroit 74-70 in a consolation game. It was the first time Detroit had lost both tournament games since the first one in 1952.

★ ★ ★

Miami was in command all the way in dumping a cold-shooting Tulane squad. It was the first time the Redskins won the meet.

★ ★ ★

Fred Foster, a 6-foot-4 junior from Springfield, Ohio, topped Miami with 23 points. The Ohioans never trailed in taking a 37-26 halftime lead and extending it throughout the final 20 minutes.

POOR SHOOTING

"The poor shooting and rebounding made the difference," said Detroit coach Bob Calihan. The Titans made only one of their first 12 floor shots. WMU outrebounded the taller Titans 58 to 45.

★ ★ ★

The Broncos' Reggie Lacefield tallied 20 points in leading Western to victory. The Broncos hit 51 per cent of their floor shots in the first half while Detroit shot a mediocre 39 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Western extended its 38-34 halftime edge to 60-45 halfway through the second half. Detroit rallied to within three points late in the game but blew its final chance by missing four straight foul shots.

Ralph Brisker netted 19 points to top the Titans.

Foster was named the tourney's most valuable player and was a unanimous choice for the all - tourney team along with Lacefield, Brisker and Tulane's Johnny Arthurs and Al Andrews.

Favored Spartans Lose Again, 75-67

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Michigan State coach John Benington didn't cringe when fellow Big Ten coaches named his Spartan basketball team as the favorite to win the conference crown this season.

But he didn't exactly leap for joy either.

Time and again Benington has said his team is good but not great.

People may start listening after MSU's second straight loss in the Quaker City Basketball Tournament Wednesday night.

The 10th-ranked Spartans, upset by Villanova Tuesday night, were thrashed by Bowling Green of Ohio 75-67.

Walt Piatkowski, Dick Rudgers and Al Hairston combined for 56 points as Bowling Green, a Mid-American Conference team, boosted its record to 5-3. MSU, now 5-3, led only once briefly in the game.

★ ★ ★

Bowling Green built up a 40-29 halftime margin and blocked every Spartan rally in the second half.

Piatkowski and Rudgers each scored 19 points and Hairston added 18. MSU's Matthew Aitch notched 24 points.

Soccer Team to Grid Men

DETROIT (UPI) — The city of Detroit has a couple "two-sport" men today.

William Clay Ford, the owner and president of the Detroit Lions, and Ralph C. Wilson, the owner and president of the Buffalo Bills, were Wednesday awarded the Detroit franchise in the North American Soccer League.

★ ★ ★

The NASL was sanctioned Wednesday by the United States Soccer Football Association and the Detroit franchise was awarded to Ford and Wilson.

COUGARS

The team, nicknamed the Detroit Cougars, will be one of 10 United States cities and two Canadian cities represented in the new league.

The new major league will begin play this spring and continue through the summer. This year's action will be on a touring-team basis with regularly scheduled play scheduled for 1968.

The Detroit team will play its games in either Tiger Stadium or at the University of Detroit Stadium.

The Detroit franchise named John W. Anderson II, the vice president of Bundy Tubing, president of the local organization; and Edwin J. Anderson, general manager of the Lions, has been named vice president and treasurer. Fred Nash was given the secretary position.

Ford will act as the chairman of the Detroit executive committee.

The league owners named James P. McGuire, of New York, a former player with the Glasgow, Scotland, Celtics, league president and chief adminstrative officer.

OTHER CITIES

Other cities in the league are Boston, New York, Washington, Cleveland, Houston, Chicago, Dallas, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Toronto and Vancouver, B.C.

The North American Soccer League is one of two soccer leagues scheduled to begin play in 1967. The other, the United States Soccer League, is not sanctioned by the USSFA, the governing body of soccer in the country, according to McGuire.

Wednesday's action took place at the meeting of the USSFA in Houston.

Bruin's Goal Ties Montreal

Boston Gains Ground on Red Wings

By the Associated Press

In hockey a tie means something. In the case of the Boston Bruins, this is double true.

The Bruins tied the Montreal Canadiens 1-1 in the only National Hockey League game Wednesday night for their fourth deadlock in a 16-game span during which they have won only once.

For most of the game in Montreal, it looked like the Bruins would suffer another loss. But Wayne Connelly tied it by beating Canadien goalie Charlie Hodge at 17:37 of the last period on assists by Ron Shock and Joe Watson.

Montreal went ahead at 12:37 of the second period on Jim Roberts' shot past Boston goalie Jerry Cheevers. Ted Harris and Henri Richard assisted.

The tie enabled the Bruins to move two points ahead of last place Detroit.

League Rivals in Consolation

Walled Lake to Face Farmington Quint

Inter-Lakes League rivals Walled Lake and Farmington will have a nonconference meeting tomorrow afternoon after both suffered losses last night in the Northwest Suburban Basketball Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Wayne trimmed Walled Lake, 73-58, after building a 15-point lead by halftime. Farmington dropped a 67-64 verdict to Ypsilanti after leading, 47-41, entering the final period.

The Vikings and Falcons will clash at 4 p. m. on the Southfield court.

At the Deerfield Invitational, undefeated Summerfield ended Country Day of Birmingham's long winning streak with a 58-54 semifinal conquest Wednesday night.

Al Richison's jump shot in the final 20 seconds overcame Farmington for Ypsilanti. The losing Falcons were led by George Grimala's 19 points.

Greg Fogle had another strong game for Walled Lake, scoring 22 points as the Vikings outshot Wayne from the field.

In tonight's championship semifinals, Southfield meets defending champ Livonia Bentley while Berkley plays Redford Union.

Clay-Terrell Nearly Brawl in Meeting

NEW YORK (AP) — "Oh, he needs to be beaten real good. I'm going to knock him out."

Ernie Terrell, his eyes still smoldering, meant the words for Cassius Clay, following a hot tiff between the two heavyweights that almost broke into a free fight Wednesday.

After calling Terrell "an Uncle Tom" because the towering fighter wouldn't call him Muhammad Ali, the Muslim name Clay prefers, Clay slapped Terrell's right arm and challenged him to "fight it out right now" at a Madison Square Garden press conference.

The 6-foot-3 Clay doffed his sports coat and tried to get at Terrell while the 6-foot-6 Terrell lunged at Clay. They were about six feet apart in a jam-packed small room in the Garden when the action started.

Boxing veterans were dumbfounded at the unprofessional-like behavior of the two heavyweight champions, who are scheduled to fight for prices ranging to a $100 top at the Houston Astrodome, Feb. 6.

The Yellow Jackets swarmed all over the defending Big Ten champions, dominating the game.

Tech held a tight 45-44 halftime margin but quickly extended its lead to 74-61 halfway through the second half with a daring offense that destroyed Michigan's lethargic defense.

Home Win Cage Streak Continues for 76ers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Alex Hannum of the Philadelphia 76ers admits his team needed every advantage it could get to beat Boston for their 31st straight home court victory Wednesday night in the National Basketball Association.

★ ★ ★

The 76ers rallied and beat the Celtics 113-108. It was also victory No. 34 against only three losses for the 76ers and gave them a seven-game edge over second-place Boston in the Eastern Division.

OTHER CONTESTS

In other games Wednesday night San Francisco beat Baltimore 138-115 and New York beat Los Angeles 121-115.

Hannum said after the 76ers' victory, "I was a little disturbed in the first period when we were down by 13 points, and I didn't think we'd get untracked. But in the second quarter Billy Cunningham started running and everybody started running and it got us going, and we finally started shooting them in."

★ ★ ★

Cunningham didn't agree that he should be singled out for turning the tide, "since it was early in the game" when he started hitting. "But it did get the other guys to start hitting and when we hit we're going to win."

Wilt Chamberlain stood out on offense and defense, collecting 24 points, nine assists and grabbing 32 rebounds. Cunningham scored 23 points.

Lung Ailment Hospitalizes Bert Marshall

BOSTON (UPI) — Detroit Red Wings Defenseman Bert Marshall, hospitalized with a collapsed lung after Tuesday's game with Boston Bruins, will be off his skates for two weeks, doctors said Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Marshall underwent minor surgery at Newton-Wellsley Hospital to inflate the lung and spent a comfortable night, a spokesman said. Doctors said it would take three to six days to fully expand the right lung.

Emily Fisher Loses Her Title

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Linda Berry and Kathy Dombof of Kalamazoo captured the girls 16-and-under doubles crown Wednesday in the Orange Bowl Junior Tennis Tournament.

They defeated Ann Connolly of Hamtramck and Joan Dukenshire of Fairlawn, N.J., 9-7, 6-4.

Another Michigan entry, Emily Fisher of Bloomfield Hills, lost out in a bid to retain her 16-and-under singles title, losing 7-5, 6-2 to top seeded Linda Tuero of Metarie, La.

Miss Fisher and Hamtramck player Sue Leyden also were ousted from the 18-and-under semifinals, bowing 6-3, 6-3 to Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck and Vera Lucia Cleto of Brazil.

Swim Program Is Scheduled

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department has slated a winter swimming program of Tuesday night junior and senior life saving instruction at the Pontiac Central High School pool.

★ ★ ★

The program will begin Jan. 10 and run 6:30-9:30 p.m. each Tuesday for eight weeks.

The minimum age requirements are 12 for junior life saving and 16 for the senior course.

In addition, all registrants must have an intermediate Red Cross or YMCA swimmer's card or a Boy Scout merit badge for swimming.

The sign-up fee is $5 and is done at the recreation office in City Hall.

Little Given Nelson Award

BOSTON (AP) — Floyd Little, Syracuse's record breaking halfback, was named Wednesday night winner of the 21st annual Nils V. Swede Nelson Sportsmanship Award.

Little, who will wind up his collegiate career in the Gator Bowl against Tennessee, was chosen from 38 nominations of players from throughout the country.

Siler of West Bloomfield Tops Defense

AP Lists All-State Small College Grid Teams

By the Associated Press

Northern Michigan University grabbed off eight spots on the Michigan Allstar Collegiate football team chosen by the Associated Press.

The team, chosen by sportswriters and coaches across the state, has Bill Doolittle of Western Michigan as Coach of the Year.

★ ★ ★

There are five players in the backfield because of ties in the voting. Tim Majerle of Western Michigan, Wally Hempton of Central, Lonnie Head of Eastern, Jim Bell of Albion and Larry Snoddy of Northern were selected as backs.

Bell is a 5-9, 180-pound All-MIAA back who led the league in rushing with 688 yards in 141 carries and in scoring with 42 points.

HIGH SCORERS

All five were high-scoring runners. Majerle led his team to a tie for the Mid-American Conference championship.

The ends are Mick McCarthy of Albion and Larry Fowler of Hillsdale. McCarthy, a 6-6, 222-pounder, led the MIAA in pass receiving with 20 catches for 378 yards. Fowler was named to the second string Little All-America AP team.

★ ★ ★

At the tackles are Dennis Porter of Northern Michigan and Al Borgman of Alma. Borgman placed on the All-MIAA team both offensively and defensively this fall, a feat he duplicated on the AP Allstate team.

Guards are Curt Marker of NMU, also named to the Little All-America squad, and Paul Verska of Central Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Ron Kerr of Northern Michigan holds down the center spot.

The defensive team features Barry Siler of Albion at one end.

Siler of West Bloomfield, 6-5 and 234 pounds, was voted the Most Valuable Player in the MIAA, the first time for a defensive player to win the honor.

Siler, a holdover from last year's AP Allstate team, was a cocaptain noted for his pass rushing and great pursuit.

★ ★ ★

A tie in the voting put Byron Johnson of Northern Michigan, Keith Bird of Alma, Eric Pape of Central Michigan and Don Schlientz of Michigan Tech deadlocked for the other end spot.

★ ★ ★

At defensive tackle are Bob Rowe of Western Michigan and Borgman of Alma again.

Linebackers are Bob Parella of Olivet, Jack Spuhler of Northern Michigan and Ivory Hood of Eastern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The defensive backfield is composed of Don Kreuger of Central Michigan, Gordon Hetrick of Alma, John Chrisant of Northern Michigan and Bob DePerro of Northern.

Here is the Michigan AP Allstar Collegiate football team:

Walled Lake Finishes Second

PNH Wins County Wrestling Title

Pontiac Northern overtook Walled Lake's Vikings in the finals Wednesday night to win its third Oakland County Invitational High School wrestling Tournament crown.

The Huskies trailed, 47-40, going into the championship and consolation round finals, but both the Vikings and PNH had 10 entrants still competing for points.

The Huskies grabbed three individual titles, one second, four thirds and two fourths to finish with 57 team points to 50 for the defending champion Walled Lake squad.

It finished with only one first place trophy, four seconds, one third and four fourths. As last year, Warren Fitzgerald (39) finished a distant third on the sponsoring Oakland University mats.

PCH WINNER

Pontiac Central (14) tied for seventh and had one champion, heavyweight Charles Mason who edged Walled Lake's Ron James, 5-3.

Tom Kell, a senior, decisioned Rick Russell of Walled Lake at 103 pounds and sophomore Ben Moon beat the Vikings' Carey Stevenson at 120 pounds for two early PNH first places.

Senior Frank Lafferty sewed up the championship by blanking Royal Oak Kimball's Mike Yankee, 7-0, in the 180-pound finals. Walled Lake's only first was by Rick Hyde on a referee's decision in overtime against Fitzerald's Bob Odziana at 138 pounds.

★ ★ ★

Both PNH and Walled Lake are 4-0 in dual meets. The seventh annual tournament was dedicated to OU's athletic department head Hollie Lepley.

Linebacker Threesome Spark Bills

WINSTON SALEM, N. C. (AP) — The magic number for the Buffalo Bills is one, but it just might turn out to be 68.

The Bills need one more victory in Sunday's American Football League championship game against Kansas City to gain an unprecedented third straight title — and the key could be their three linebackers, who will be starting their 68th consecutive game together.

The trio of Harry Jacobs, John Tracey and Mike Stratton started its ironman act Oct. 26, 1963, and there's little doubt in the minds of the Bills' coaches that a large part of Buffalo's success can be traced to the threesome.

Tracey, 33, was signed as a free agent after being cut by the Philadelphia Eagles in 1962. Jacobs, 29, was acquired from Boston the following year for the $100 waiver price. Stratton, 25, also joined the club in 1963 — as a tight end prospect.

Bubba Smith 'Represented'

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Charles (Bubba) Smith, 278-pound All-America defensive end from Michigan State, said Wednesday he had signed with Pro Sports, Inc., of New York to represent him in his professional contract negotiations.

Late last week, a Washington firm known as CIMCO said it would represent Smith, an almost certain first round choice.

Smith, spending his holiday vacation here, said he had telegraphed that Washington firm Wednesday telling them he was not interested in its services, although he had reached a tentative agreement with it.

Pro Sports is an organization which was set up to help pro athletes in contract negotiations, business management, investments, merchandising and advertising. It represents athletes in at least half dozen sports and includes such as Sam Snead of golf, Jim Brown of football, Hank Aaron of baseball and Rod Laver of tennis among its clients.

Hoople Sees 'Bama Victim of Nebraska

MAJOR HOOPLE'S FOOTBALL FORECAST
BOWL GAZING
Major Sees Nebraska Ousting 'Bama from Ranks of Unbeaten
By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Wassail Bowl Mixer

Egad, friends, we have several tasty tidbits for you this New Year's weekend.

As usual, the Bowl Committees have arranged some excellent attractions featuring no less than six of the nation's top ten collegiate powers — Alabama, Nebraska, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Southern Methodist and Purdue.

After an exhaustive study of the strengths and weaknesses of the competing elevens, The Hoople System is ready to give you the authoritative forecast—and be prepared for several surprises — har-rumph!

GATOR BOWL

Dec. 31, Jacksonville, Fla.
Syracuse 22, Tennessee 11

The 22nd renewal of the Gator classic will find the Orangemen upsetting the dope bucket as they double the score on Tennessee's Vols. Watch for Floyd Little and Larry Csonka to lead the infantry charge as Syracuse racks up its eighth straight victory — hak-kaff!

COTTON BOWL

Dec. 31, Dallas, Texas
Georgia 21, S.M.U. 14

Mannin De Streit, this column's Dallas corespondent, dolefully reports the hometown Mustangs will fall a little short in their battle with Georgia's Bulldogs. Look for Coach Vince Dooley's boys to score early and then fight off the spirited Mustang charge.

SUGAR BOWL

Jan. 2, New Orleans, La.
Nebraska 17, Alabama 16

The big game of the day! The big upset of the day! Yas, friends, that's the way it's going to be as 6th-ranked Nebraska shades unbeaten and 3rd-rated Alabama by one point. To ye of little faith, remember it was the Hoople System which gave you Oklahoma to knock Nebraska from the undefeated ranks on Turkey Day—um-kumph!

ROSE BOWL

Jan. 2, Pasadena, Calif.
Purdue 32, So. Calif. 17

The talented right arm and flying feet of Purdue's Bob Griese will prove too much for undermanned Southern California. They made the season two games too long for the Trojans, who suffered a humiliating 51-0 thrashing at the hands of Notre Dame in their last outing and now must face the rugged Boilermakers without the services of nine junior college transfers who have been declared ineligible.

ORANGE BOWL

Jan. 2, Miami, Fla.
Georgia Tech 35, Florida 22

The Florida Gators' first trip to the Orange Bowl promises to be an unhappy one. Watch for the Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech to make a wreck of the Florida forces led by Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier — hak-kaff!

Honor Detroit Athlete

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Clarence Jinkston of Detroit was one of 25 persons inducted into the Swimming Hall of Fame Wednesday.

Holiday Weekend Ahead

Local Ski Resorts Prospering

Pontiac area ski resorts are in the midst of their most prosperous spell in two years as holiday vacationers, prolonged cold weather and fresh natural snow have blessed them all at once.

The abundance of late-autumn snow and cold, also, gave the resort operators a good start earlier this month and thus this season's prospects are the brightest of the past few years.

The New Year's weekend will lead to revised schedules at some of the local establishments. Two of them will close early Saturday.

Mount Christie will shut down at 3 p.m. and Mount Grampian at 6 p.m. New Year's Eve, with Grampian not resuming operations until noon Sunday. It will be a 9 a.m. opening all weekend for the other resorts except Pine Knob.

The New Year's Eve party at Pine Knob is a restricted affair, with reservations already closed. Alpine, too, is having a reservations - only celebration but may still have a few openings.

The Mount Holly party Saturday night will be strictly for the skiers, although on an informal basis as will be the Mount Brighton celebration.

Only Mount Grampian reports less than very good skiing and doesn't have all its facilities operating currently.

U. of M. Sextet Stays Unbeaten With 13-3 Win

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — The University of Michigan's undefeated hockey team won its ninth game Wednesday night, a 13-3 lacing of New Brunswick, Ont., in the first round of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's 16th annual invitational.

Colgate defeated RPI in the second game.

Three Michigan players sparked the Wolverines' overpowering attack. Bob Baird had three goals and four assists, Mel Wakabayashi had two goals and five assists and Ron Ollyot knocked in three goals.

Tonight, Michigan will meet Colgate and RPI plays New Brunswick. Friday night, RPI and Michigan are paired and Colgate will play New Brunswick.

Alpine Ski Meet Ends 'Downhill'

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Robin Morning, 19, of Mammoth Mountain, Calif., won the women's event and Ken Phelps, 23, of Vail captured the men's race in the downhill competition Wednesday of the Alpine Holiday Ski Classic.

The competition climaxes several weeks of training for members of the U.S. national ski team. Slalom races for men and women Thursday conclude the classic.

Debate Asked on Ski Area

IRONWOOD (UPI) — The president of the Central Ski Areas Association Tuesday challenged the State Department of Conservation to a debate on the state's ownership of the Porcupine Mountains Ski area.

★ ★ ★

Jack English, last week, charged the state operation of the facility was unfair competition to private operators.

★ ★ ★

Gene Harris, deputy director of resource management for the conservation department denied English's charges.

"We don't feel we are in competition," Harris said. "Porcupine was the first facility in the Upper Peninsula and was a pilot project to show what can be done."

English said he would be happy to debate either Harris or any other department official on the operation of Porcupine Mountain.

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

South's four-club bid was Gerber and North's four-spade response showed two aces. This was enough to get South to bid a slightly optimistic slam.

JACOBY

He put it in hearts for two reasons. He wanted to collect 100 points for honors and he wanted to play the hand himself.

West opened the ten of clubs and the most South could count to was 11 tricks. He could run off his hearts but it was a cinch that whichever opponent held four diamonds would not discard one.

There was a possible squeeze in case East held four diamonds and both the ace and king of spades but South saw a better line of play.

He won the club lead in dummy and played the four of spades. East played low and South played the queen. West might well have held off right then and there but West believed that a trick in the hand was worth two on the table so he took his ace and led another club. (Of course, if West had ducked, South would have had his 12th trick.)

No one can blame West for continuing clubs. It is rare indeed to find a declarer who plays the suit his opponents have two tricks in when he is playing a slam contract.

After the second club play it was all beer and skittles for South. He played out all his trumps and the last high club. This left everyone with four cards. Dummy held his original four diamonds, South the jack and one spade and ace and one diamond, and East the equivalent of a live rattlesnake. He couldn't keep four diamonds and the high spade.

What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. It looks as if you start with eight tricks or more.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding two clubs over one spade your partner jumps to two no-trump. What do you do now?

Holdup-Death $20 Bill Traced

DETROIT (AP) — Homicide detectives today were trying to trace a $20 bill officers believe may be part of the $920 taken in the St. Regis Hotel holdup-slaying.

He declined to say how police obtained the bill. But added that written on its reverse side in ink were the numerals 942810 and the letters VIG.

Gottfried Engelhard, 35, of Grosse Pointe was shot to death in the predawn holdup Tuesday at the midtown Detroit hotel. Englehard, the night clerk, was married and the father of a small child.

Balks at Year-End Rally

Another Small Loss for Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed another small loss early this afternoon as it continued to balk at the traditional year-end rally. Trading was moderately active.

Prices were down from the start, losses were cut a bit as the session continued but there was no indication of a possible rally and there was only one more trading day left in 1966 after this one.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.2 at 292.5 with industrials off 1.7, rails off 1.0 and utilities off .3.

"The holiday fare of business news appears to confirm that a slowdown in the pace of the economy is taking place, but with little clue so far as to its degree or duration," said Goodbody & Co.

TREND LOWER

The trend was generally lower among airlines, chemicals, nonferrous metals, oils, tobaccos and rails.

Electronics and steels seemed to have a slightly higher edge. Aerospace stocks, drugs and electrical equipments were mixed.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.78 at 786.80.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange. U.S. Radium advanced 3, Solitron Devices 2 and Diversified Metals 1. Losses of about 2 points were shown by Alloys Unlimited and Prentice-Hall. Down a point or so were Kawecki Chemical, Pike Corp. of America and Valve Corp.

Cuban Airlift Is Under Way

880 Yanks Leaving Via Mexico for U.S.

MERIDA, Mexico (AP) — An airlift to bring 880 Americans and 1,820 of their relatives from Cuba to the United States was under way today via Mexico after years of negotiations and delays.

The first group of 89 persons arrived at Merida Wednesday aboard a Mexican DC6 plane and expected to fly to New Orleans today aboard a chartered American plane.

★ ★ ★

Two more planeloads were expected from Havana today.

Most of the Americans are persons of Latin descent and long-time residence in Cuba who decided to remain there after Fidel Castro took over. When relations between Castro and the United States grew steadily worse and they began trying to get out, they were prevented from leaving.

CASTRO VETO

The flights had been expected to begin three months ago after negotiations by the Swiss ambassador at Havana, who represents U.S. interests there, but Castro vetoed the Swiss efforts. At the end of September, President Johnson reportedly asked Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz for help, and the Mexican ambassador in Havana, Fernando Pamanes Escobedo, interceded with Castro.

Castro agreed to the airlift on condition that the Americans not leave Cuba on U.S. planes and that their departure not be associated with the Cuban refugee airlift to Miami.

★ ★ ★

It was stipulated that Mexican planes would take the Americans out of Havana to Merida, in Mexico's Yucatan. New Orleans, rather than Miami, was chosen as the arrival point in the United States.

Tightening, Then Easing, Money

Rough Year for Fed

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The Federal Reserve now has begun to lift the pressure on banks to conserve rather than lend, thus making for historical purposes a neat one-year package with a beginning and an ending.

CUNNIFF

In between were some of the controversial, tumultuous months in the Fed's 53-year history.

It was just one year ago this month that the Fed raised the discount rate to 4½ per cent to slow what it felt was a growing tendency to inflation. As the year wore on, the clamp drew tighter.

This week, the Fed said credit conditions had changed. While maintaining a general attitude of restraint, it revoked a Sept. 1 directive ordering banks to cut sharply their loans to business.

RELAXATION

The Fed had been relaxing the restraints in its daily operations. This, however, was the first public acknowledgement of a change in attitude.

It is still too early to say that the Fed was right or wrong on its controversial moves of the past year. Historians must review events in relation to the decade, for the Fed's moves will have effects for years to come.

★ ★ ★

There is growing sentiment, however, that the Reserve's action to dampen demand through restricting money and credit had a lot of wisdom behind it.

The Fed first began to express concern about economic trends in 1965. William McChesney Martin, chairman, made comparisons between 1929 and 1965 and was widely criticized for doing so.

TAX INCREASE

He persisted, suggesting a tax increase might be needed. None came.

When the Fed raised the discount rate which affects all loans in the economy, its own house was divided. The vote was 4 to 3. Even Martin must have doubted his analysis.

Thereafter, the Fed displayed imagination, innovation and possibly error, for some bankers claim it subsequently came down too hard, forcing up interest rates and almost precipitating a money panic.

Not only was it split within; the Fed was chastised by other federal agencies and was at odds with President Johnson. The President felt the economy was in order.

CRITICS ATTACK

Some critics blamed it for threatening an end to the longest "peacetime" boom in the gest "peacetime" boom in the nation's history. But the Fed maintained the boom was out of hand, that we were trying to spend more than we could produce.

It was accused of not only provoking but welcoming a crisis. But the Fed maintained it was interested only in a balanced expansion.

★ ★ ★

Questions were raised regarding the role of the Fed. Should it continue to be a semi-independent agency of government? Or should it merely be an instrument of the administration's policy?

One economist declared the Fed's actions were "an arrogant exercise in self-assertion." The board should be "more responsible to public interest," he said.

HARDER YET

Early in 1966 the Fed came down even harder, restricting the money supply despite growing demand. Interest rates rose, some to the highest levels in 40 years. Some federal agencies had to put an artificial lid on rates they controlled.

In September, the directive went out to banks. Now it is revoked.

★ ★ ★

What made the Fed act as it did? Simply stated, it considered demand too great. It had these signs: inflation, labor shortages, plant capacity that was near its limit, growing debt.

How did it get into such a historic controversy? Perhaps merely because of its responsibility to its goals. Its original responsibilty was price stability, as stated explicitly in the Federal Reserve Act of 1913.

MORE COMPLEX

The Fed's role has since become more complex. To the simple goal of price stability now has been added a national policy of full employment, rapid economic growth, and more recently, a complex balance-of-payments situation.

By its nature, the Fed tends to accent price stability. The administration perhaps puts the emphasis on full employment. These goals are not necessarily at odds. Sometimes, however, the improvement in one area must temporarily be sacrificed for stability in another.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "About a year and a half ago, my mother was persuaded to invest $6,000 in General Portland Cement. She bought it at 14 and it is now down to nine. She is told that if she holds long enough it will pay off handsomely, but that it may take five to 10 years. Should she hold for recovery or try to sell for what it is worth?" J. G.

A) The cements, as a group, have been in a downtrend for many years due to overcapacity and a resultant squeeze on profit margins. Her company is well managed and operates in a growth area, but it has been unable to buck the industry trend. Dividends have been reduced in each of the past two years and I believe that present payments will be covered by a rather narrow margin in 1966. The yield of 8.6 per cent on the shares indicates doubt as to the safety of the current dividend.

I don't believe your mother should gamble on the problematical comeback of her stock. I advise her to switch it into low-priced Suburban Gas, which yields a relatively secure six per cent and has a long pattern of rising earnings and dividends.

Q) "My shares include Firestone, Georgia-Pacific, IBM, Dow Chemical, Avon Products, Transamerica, Royal Dutch, RCA and Gulf Oil. I plan to retire in four years. Should I make any changes?" A. R.

A) You have an excellent list and I advise you to stick with it, at least until you retire. At that time you probably will want to switch some of your growth holdings into income-producing issues in order to supplement your Social Security benefits and pension. I would make just one change now. Royal Dutch has only average prospects, and since you have no utility representation, I suggest a switch into Texas Utilities.

All the Christmas Mail Processed---Donaldson

"Postal habits have improved greatly in the last two years. As a result, there is no unclaimed Christmas mail on the Pontiac Post Office floor despite the increased volume," Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today.

"All Christmas packages have been delivered although it was occasionally necessary to guess at semilegible addresses. Zip Code helped greatly," he added.

All letters undelivered because of incorrect, incomplete or illegible addresses have been sent to the dead letter office in Chicago. There they'll be examined for clues to find the sender," Donaldson said.

Although dead letters are sent to Chicago throughout the year the number reaches from 200 to 500 daily during the Christmas season.

* * *

Donaldson attributes the efficient mail deliveries during the Christmas season to an early start on processing the mail and the increased use of Zip Codes. Using return addresses also helped, he said.

3.6 PCT. INCREASE

The 12,037,000 pieces of mail processed in the Pontiac office during the three-week pre-Christmas season represents a 3.6 per cent increase over last year's pre-holiday mail volume.

* * *

The increase is largely due to Zip-coding which sends mail directly to Pontiac, bypassing the larger postal stations such as Chicago and Detroit, according to Donaldson.

Escapees' Hostage Is Found Unharmed

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A factory worker held hostage by three armed men who escaped from a county jail in North Carolina was found safe here early today.

Casey Steen, 34, from Hendersonville, N.C., freed himself from bonds at a Baltimore hotel room where he was tied to a bed post, and telephoned city police.

The three escapees from Buncombe County Jail, in Asheville, N.C., eluded police.

He had been missing since late Tuesday night, along with his red 1964 convertible car.

ABDUCTED AT GUNPOINT

He told authorities here that he was abducted at gunpoint while he made a phone call at a roadside pay booth near Hendersonville between 10 and 11 p.m.

* * *

He said he was driven to Washington, D.C., where one of the escapees, Allen James Berube, 29, of Fall River, Mass., left the group.

* * *

He said the other two men, Clifford Harden, 37, and Howard Byrd, 21, drove him 40 miles to Baltimore to the Louis Hotel.

They tied him hand and foot with adhesive tape and wired him to a bed with coat hangers, he told police.

Death Claims Cartoonist, 72

New Yorker Sketches Brought Him Fame

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y. (AP) — Gardner Rea, the cartoonist known for his sharp-edged drawings in the New Yorker and other magazines, died Wednesday in Brookhaven Memorial Hospital after a long illness. He was 72.

One of his most quoted lines went with the drawing of two street vendors holding a sidewalk conference. One of them was saying, "Does Gimbels tell Macy's?"

* * *

Another of his cartoons showed a disappointed member of the audience after Walt Disney replaced his animal characters with actors in an ambitious musical film. His comment was, "What, no Mickey Mouse?"

* * *

Rea was born in Ironton, Ohio. He planned to be a serious painter, but when he was 15 he sold a gag cartoon to the old Life magazine. That started him on his way as a humorist. He was graduated from Ohio State University in 1914 and resumed his free-lance career, this time in New York.

TWO COLLECTIONS

Many of his drawings were selected for humor anthologies. Two collections of his works have been published — "The Gentleman Says It's Pixies," selected from his contributions to Collier's magazine, issued in 1944; and "Gardner Rea's Sideshow," which included cartoons that also had appeared in the New Yorker and the Saturday Evening Post, issued in 1945.

Rea was one of the original contributors to the New Yorker magazine when it was started in 1925.

* * *

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. John G. Dalrymple and Mrs. Roy E. Renwick, and five grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held Friday morning in St. James Episcopal church here.

The reports came from unofficial sources who claim to have government contacts. Macao authorities declined to see newsmen.

* * *

Under the reported agreement, the Macao government would close the Nationalist Chinese organizations which Peking claims have been bases of subversion and sabotage.

The closedown appeared to be already under way. The doors of the Nationalist-sponsored Mainland Refugee Relief Association were padlocked. No member of its staff could be located. Its top officials reportedly had left for Hong Kong.

RUMORED MEETING

The unconfirmed reports said the agreement was reached — and perhaps actually signed — in a meeting here between Macao Gov. Jose Nobre de Carvalho and an official of Kwangtung, the China Province bordering Macao.

Three Portuguese representatives crossed into China Wednesday for discussions with Red Chinese authorities at Kungpeh. The three returned to Macao and met with Carvalho during most of the afternoon.

* * *

Subsequently, according to local sources, a Kwangtung official came to Macao for a late-night meeting and agreement was reached.

The Red Chinese demands on the Portuguese colony stem from Communist-instigated riots in Macao Dec. 3-4 in which eight Chinese were killed and more than 100 wounded by Portuguese troops and police. The riots started as a protest against alleged police brutality in halting work on a pro-Communist school.

MADE DEMANDS

The local Communists and Red China initially demanded that the Portuguese officials who commanded the troops and police be fired, that compensation be paid for the dead and wounded, and that the Macao government promise never again to use guns or clubs against Chinese.

They also demanded an official apology and that seven Nationalist Chinese who escaped from Red China to Macao several years ago be returned.

* * *

Dutch Quiz 8 Red Chinese About Death

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (AP) — After a five-month stalemate, Dutch officials today interviewed eight Chinese Communist welding experts in the Chinese legation where they have been closeted since the mysterious death of a Chinese last July.

* * *

The Dutch Foreign Ministry said that their replies will be used for the inquiry into the death of a member of their group, Hsu Tzu-tsai, who was abducted by the Chinese from a hospital and died the next day in the legation. When the legation refused to let the others be questioned, the Dutch government expelled the Chinese charde d'affaires and the Chinese government held the Dutch charge in Peking hostage.

MURDER CLAIMED

The Nationalist Chinese government claimed Hsu was murdered in the legation because he wanted to defect. Peking's New China News Agency charged that "U.S. agents incited Hsu Tzu-tsai to desert and betray his country."

* * *

Three Dutch newsmen later published a book claiming that Hsu died after handing U.S. secret agents a vial of a secret Polish poison gas and the formula for it.

* * *

Diplomatic sources expect that the eight Chinese will be allowed to leave the Netherlands this week. They and Hsu had come to the Netherlands for an international conference on welding methods.

Accord Ends Strike Threat at Greyhound

DETROIT (AP)—An eleventh hour agreement Wednesday night averted a planned strike against Greyhound Bus Lines in Michigan and 14 other states.

The scheduled midnight walkout by 5,500 members of the Amalagamated Transit Union—drivers, mechanics and terminal personnel — in Greyhound's Eastern Division was called off when tentative agreement on a new contract was announced.

* * *

The threatened strike could have snarled plans for an estimated 500,000 holiday travelers.

The Greyhound workers are to vote by mail on the new pact, with balloting to be completed in three weeks.

Details of the pact were not disclosed.

400 IN STATE

The strike would have affected 400 Greyhound workers in Detroit and Michigan, members of Local 1303.

A Greyhound spokesman said the company operates about 150 buses daily in and out of the Detroit terminal.

However, out-of-state buses would not enter Michigan or other strikebound states, the spokesman said.

* * *

Negotiations between the company and the union broke off Tuesday in Chicago but resumed in Cleveland Wednesday.

The company had offered a 10 per cent wage hike spread over two years, but this was rejected by the union Dec. 21.

Greyhound said the average driver now makes $9,600 a year but some make as much as $12,500.

In addition to Michigan, the strike would have affected several eastern states and parts of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

Youth's Hearing Reset in Alleged Illegal Entry

Scheduled preliminary examination of a Wolverine Lake youth on an entering without permission charge was postponed yesterday when constables said they had been unable to locate two prosecution witnesses.

White Lake Township Justice Richard C. Murphy reset the hearing Jan. 4 for David E. Thompson, 17, of 525 Lagunna Court.

* * *

Thompson was one of six persons arrested Dec. 13 when Oakland County Sheriff's deputies raided an alleged glue - sniffing and drinking hangout in Commerce Township.

* * *

All but Thompson pleaded guilty to the charge and paid fines of $5 each.

* * *

Asst. Prosecutor Robert W. Leutheuser has been named to succeed Oliver in handling appeals.

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — The dispute between this city's only hospital and the Fairfield County Medical Society over certification of medicare patients has been "stamped out."

Harry Golden Clings to Life After Surgery

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Author-editor Harry Golden, under the constant watch of his personal physician, clung to life this morning following removal of his infected gallbladder.

A spokesman at Charlotte's Memorial Hospital said the humorist, 64, also "was experiencing respiratory difficulties," and that a tracheotomy had been performed to ease his breathing.

"Mr. Golden's condition has not changed," the spokesman said. "He still is in very critical condition. His personal physician (Dr. Raymond Wheeler) is staying with him at all times."

Golden underwent surgery Tuesday night after becoming ill at his Charlotte home Monday. He had returned to Charlotte the day before from Flat Rock, N.C., where he had spent Christmas Day with his friend, poet Carl Sandburg.

LONG TROUBLES

An overweight condition and a history of heart trouble is hampering Golden's recovery, doctors say.

A son, Dick Golden of Westport, Conn., summoned to his father's bedside, said the family was "hopeful," although they expected Golden to remain in critical condition "at least a few days." Doctors first listed his condition as grave.

Golden, the editor of the Carolina Israelite which he founded in Charlotte in 1942, has long been a champion of civil rights.

Last month, he appeared before a Senate subcommittee in Washington and proposed that the government give the Negro "back pay, which we owe him, at least $100 billion for welfare, education, vocational training and housing."

Embarrassed Thief Left Holding Bag

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A loaf of bread and a box of cigars is all that a thief got for his efforts recently.

The thief approached Constantine Fekaris, 70, as he was closing his tavern and said:

"Give me your money or I'll kill you!"

* * *

The thief then grabbed a paper bag Fekaris was carrying. It contained no money, just the bread and some inexpensive cigars, Fekaris said.

Old Pro Davis, Back at Copa, Confesses Opening Jitters

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Sammy Davis, often called (by other geniuses and me) "the world's greatest entertainer," is back at the Copacabana, filling the place and bringing a happy smile to Jules Podell's cash register . . . "If there ever was a night when I thought I might turn white, it was tonight," said Sammy who, by the way, didn't.

Worker Dead, 4 Missing in Resort Blaze

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (UPI)—A $500,000 fire that destroyed a wing of the 70-year-old Hotel Marcy yesterday killed one employe and left four others missing and presumed dead, authorities said today.

Coroner H. V. Bergamini said one body was seen late yesterday but it was not recovered or identified. The coroner said the search was postponed until today because it was "too dangerous to continue working at night."

The five missing employes all lived above the kitchen where the fire erupted. The blaze sent 500 guests scurrying into the cold night air in their pajamas, dressing gowns and slippers. The temperature was near zero.

Five persons were hospitalized for treatment of cuts and smoke inhalation. Among them was owner Jack Davis, 52, who also operates the Gotham Hotel in New York City.

* * *

Traffic was diverted in the downtown section of this Adirondack resort because water from the fire hoses froze in the streets. Telephone service was disrupted for awhile.

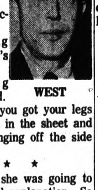
The fire was visible for miles, and thousands of winter vacationers in the area gathered to watch.

A hotel night clerk discovered the blaze and turned in the alarm. The cause of the fire was undetermined today.

Sleeping: Easy as Sawing Off a Log

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON—"What in the ever-lovin' blue-eyed world do you think you are doing?" she asked.



WEST

It was a bit past midnight and her voice was tinged with exasperation.

"I'm practicing," I said.

"Practicing what, for Pete's sake?"

"Falling asleep," I said.

"Why have you got your legs all knotted up in the sheet and your head hanging off the side of the bed?"

* * *

I could tell she was going to insist on a full explanation. So I switched on the bedlight and read her this press release that I received from the Spring Air Mattress Co.

"There is just as much skill involved in falling asleep as there is controlling your golf swing or playing a guitar," the press release said.

I'll be honest with you. I've been falling asleep, off and on, for more than 40 years. And it never once occurred to me that it required any skill.

Learning that falling asleep is on a par with golf and guitar playing really built my ego. For that is something I am really good at. I have a natural talent for it.

SOME CONSOLATION

After seeing this press release, I don't feel so bad about being unable to control by golf swing or master the guitar. To each his own, as the saying goes.

It is true that my falling asleep form isn't anything to brag about. It's effective but ungainly. That's because I had never worked at it the way golfers and guitarists do.

I figured that with a little practice to polish my great natural ability I would soon be in championship form.

* * *

Fortunately, the press release listed some of the fine points. It called them the "Ten Commandments of Good Sleepmanship."

SAME POSITION

On the night of which my wife complained, I was working on No. 8. It said, "If you have trouble falling asleep, take the position you usually find yourself in when you wake up in the morning."

When I awake, I usually find my legs all knotted up in the sheet and my head hanging off the side of the bed.

But falling asleep in that position isn't easy, even for someone as talented as I.

* * *

In fact, my wife says that if I continue practicing I will have to get more equipment — twin beds.

ORPHANED, HOMELESS—Richard Rogers, 19, left in charge of his family, including five younger sisters, after the death of their parents in a Dec. 8 car crash, ponders the future as he and sister Barbara, 15, stand outside their home in Racine, Wis., yesterday after it was swept by fire. Although the youngsters lost clothing and furnishings, firemen saved Christmas presents which neighbors had provided.

Deaf-Mute Child Involved as Witness in Court Case

DETROIT (AP)— "Home?"

The questioner enunciated the word emphatically, painstakingly.

Stephen Smith, 8, the only eyewitness to a burglary of his house Nov. 16, blinked his bright eyes uncertainly.

Unable since birth to hear or speak, read sign language or print, write or understand any but the simplest words in lip reading, he came to court to testify Wednesday.

Neither attorneys nor Judge William J. Giovan could remember any previous Michigan cases involving a witness like Stephen.

And it turned out as they all expected, they said.

"Home?" repeated the questioner, Mrs. Leah Moir, who has taught Stephen for more than two years at a school for the deaf. She was assisting the prosecution.

QUESTION SIGN

She shrugged her shoulders quizzically, indicating that it was a question.

Stephen pointed to his house—a picture of it mounted on an easel among pictures of other houses.

A few more moments, uttered words and gestures, and Stephen indicated he had seen someone raise a back window of his house.

The courtroom was silent.

The critical question: "Who?"

The boy pointed to the defense table flanked by three 17-year-olds charged with breaking into the house and taking a television set, a radio, a console cabinet and other items.

He narrowed the choice to Willie Rex Jr.

"Who else?"

Smiling and enjoying the attention of the court, he bounced over to the defense table and pointed to Curtis Grimes and William Trice.

GRINS BACK

Grimes grinned back at the happy youngster.

Stephen drew pictures of the stolen items.

But then came the cross-examination.

★ ★ ★

Rex's attorney, Donald Garfinkle, asked Stephen questions about the time of day, his ability to see, other basic cross-examination questions.

Stephen could not understand the words.

Judge Giovan called a halt.

"Regardless of what he has said of the guilt of the defendants so far, there ought to be some cross-examination possible," he said. "It may be unfortunate that there are no other witnesses, but we can't hold these men on this kind of evidence."

Stephen also could not understand the judge. As the defendants were released, the youngster was still smiling.

To Visit British

Kosygin Stirs Hope

LONDON (UPI) — British officials today foresaw the impending visit of Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin as an attempt to settle some of the major points of difference between Russia and the West — principally the Vietnam war.

Kosygin will visit Britain from Feb. 6 to 13 at the invitation of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, it was announced yesterday. The agenda for the visit calls for wide-ranging talks on a variety of topics, including some of only bilateral interest.

But the war in Vietnam was expected to occupy the major role in the discussions.

Wilson was considered certain to raise the whole Vietnam issue with Kosygin and to press the Soviet leader to cooperate in new efforts to bring the North Vietnam to the conference table.

★

The Russians apparently discussed the war frankly with Foreign Secretary George Brown last month when he visited Moscow.

DETERMINED TO CONTINUE

The British government has made it clear that despite its failure in the past to win Soviet support for Vietnam peace moves, Britain is determined to continue the effort as long as necessary.

So far, Moscow has firmly refused to participate in any public peace initiative despite hints it has some influence with the North Vietnamese.

Diplomatic sources believed, however, increasing pressure on the United States to escalate the war and Soviet reaction to American bombing of North Vietnam did not augur well for more cooperation from the Russians.

But the sources said, Kosygin's willingness to visit Britain, a staunch supporter of American Vietnam policy, and renewed talks between the two leaders could be a step in the right direction.

Little progress was likely to be made towards an extension of the nuclear test ban treaty, the sources said. The Russians have rejected outright the idea of a meeting of scientific advisers to work out methods of policing the ban.

But the outlook for a treaty restricting the spread of nuclear weapons was considered brighter. The Russians have recently repeated their interest in such a pact, which they term an "urgent matter."

The average New York theatre evening costs $63.37, with tickets, baby sitter and dinner, parking and drinks, according to Playbill, program-magazine distributed to theatre-goers.

Senate Investigation of Pilot Shortage Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Preparedness subcommittee will launch a detailed investigation next year into pilot shortages in the armed services, sources revealed today.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., is reliably reported to be in the process now of deciding whether to hold a special hearing on the pilot problem or incorporate the investigation into its annual probe of readiness.

★ ★ ★

"I think we're in a very bad situation," one subcommittee source said. "We've got a very severe shortage of pilots and it's going to become worse at our rate of loss."

About 300 planes have been shot down over North Vietnam as of Dec. 14; more than 150 were lost there in 1965.

McNAMARA WOES

The planned pilot probe should add to next year's congressional woes for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who also is facing sharp questioning over the U.S. delay in deployment of the Nike X antimissile system. McNamara announced last month there is considerable evidence the Soviet Union has begun deployment of such a system.

★ ★ ★

The defense chief, in a move to ward off even greater shortages in the future, has approved sharp increases in pilot training for the Navy, Air Force and Army.

Sheriff, Rights Officials Clash Over Jail

MAKE OVER PAGES

By JOE MULLEN

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons and visiting civil rights officials yesterday clashed over the racial segregation at the county jail and exchanged warnings during their heated discussion.

Burton Levy, director of community services for the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, was among the eight who toured the jail and later met with Irons.

Referring to the racial segregation of prisoners in the jail's two 32-man bullpens, Levy warned Irons that this practice was unlawful and may be challenged by an official complaint.

The bullpen sections contain four 8-prisoner cells and an adjacent large area where all 32 inmates gather except when sleeping or on rest periods.

Irons responded that segregation of the races in the large bullpens is done to reduce the possibility of a serious melee — maybe even a killing.

"If I'm forced to mix these men and someone gets killed, you will be responsible for this tragedy," Irons said, pointing an accusing finger at Levy.

Yesterday's jail tour and meeting with Irons resulted from a Dec. 7 meeting of the human relations committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Daniel F. Monley, chairman of the Oakland County Human Relations Coordinating Council, appeared at this meeting and distributed a four-point discrimination indictment of the sheriff's department and its jail operation.

Duane Hursfall, chairman of the human relations committee, then scheduled yesterday's tour of the jail and meeting with Irons.

SPECIFIED CHARGES

Monley's charges specified segregation of prisoners, lack of nonwhites on the sheriff's staff, placing of teen-age prisoners with known perverts to maintain the segregation policy and an occasion when a Negro prisoner was beaten by white prisoners while deputies ignored the fight.

Irons was told of Monley's charges Dec. 8 and dismissed all as unfounded except for

Romney Meets on Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan held an all-day meeting here yesterday with eight top associates and friends to discuss the possibility of his seeking the 1968 Republican presidential nomination.

One of those at the seven-hour session, J. Willard Marriott, a close friend and confidant of Romney, said afterward: "All of us think he is going to be a candidate."

Marriott, of Washington, D.C., head of a national motor hotel chain, said the consensus at the meeting was that Romney has "a better chance than anybody else."

But he noted that the governor had not made any commitment to seek the nomination. Others at the meeting said no decision had been made.

★ ★ ★

Romney left the meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel without speaking with newsmen, and flew to Chicago.

SHORT NOTICE

Robert McIntosh, a former Romney aide who was at the meeting, hinted that the governor may have requested the meeting and that it may have been on short notice. The meeting was not announced in advance.

Marriott said "no other candidate — I mean no other prospective candidate — was discussed" yesterday. And he added there was no discussion of prospective running mates.

One of those at the meeting, Max Fisher, a Detroit businessman who is head of the United Jewish Appeal, said those present continued their efforts to get Romney to seek the nomination.

Bigger Tax Bite Jan. 1

Social Security Increase Will Cut Paychecks

Rate Hike From 4.2 to 4.4 Pct Is Slated Mostly for Medicare

WASHINGTON (AP) —The federal government will take a bigger bite of the weekly pay check beginning next week to help pay for increased Social Security benefits, especially medical care for the elderly.

Social Security taxes will climb from this year's 4.2 per cent rate to 4.4 per cent on Jan. 1 and most of the increase will be used in the Medicare program.

Over-all, the increase will add an extra $1 billion to the Social Security trust funds during 1967 but the most any one person will have to pay is $290.40, up $13.20 from this year.

Of the $13.20 increase, $9.90 will be earmarked for the medical care program and the rest for regular Social Security benefits.

And there's more to come in the years ahead.

BUILT INTO LAW

Increases in the Social Security tax rate are already built into law through 1987 and any increased benefits voted by Congress could mean even higher taxes.

President Johnson has already made an across-the-board improvement in benefits as a major legislative goal for next year and has the support of both Democratic and Republican leaders.

The new year increase in Social Security taxes is independent of any decision Johnson might make to raise personal income and corporation taxes.

British Jailers Given Warning

Latest Breakouts Stir New Prisons Chief

LONDON (AP) — Britain's embarrassed government warned its jailers today they may be fired unless they stop the rash of prison breaks that has become a national scandal.

Sir James Mackay, on his first day as head of the Home Office's Prisons Department, sent letters to governors of 50 prisons demanding an end to security slackness.

Three more inmates fled from two prisons-without-bars in northern England last night, a robber in for 16 years grabbed a ladder from a guard and scaled the wall at London's Pentonville Prison, and a killer broke out of a mental hospital.

That raised the total number of escapes this year to 693.

The robber who scaled the Pentonville wall was recaptured 40 minutes later, and two men who escaped from an open prison on Christmas Day were caught in Manchester.

★ ★ ★

Officials said that left 122 convicts still at large.

Mackay, 59, a Scot known as a tough administrator, was appointed last week to draw up a crash program for tightening prison security.

He started work after a long conference with Home Secretary Roy Jenkins in which they reportedly discussed plans to spend large sums on strengthening prison perimeter walls, building watch towers and installing searchlights. Most of the country's ancient prisons lack such security aids.

Moves to tighten discipline were reported in several jails.

The governor of London's Wandsworth Prison severely reprimanded one guard for allowing a convict to drive out in a garbage truck.

Police were investigating a charge by a convict that a prison officer sold keys for $420 to aid an escape from Canterbury Jail.

SCHOOL VANDALISM—This Volkswagen was considerably damaged early today when vandals broke into Waterford Kettering High School, 2800 Bender. The intruders caused heavy damage in the break-in, primarily to the biology laboratory, auto shop, bookstore and teachers' lounge. (See story, page A-2.)

Snow flurries are expected to abate tonight and colder temperatures will prevail tomorrow, according to the Weather Bureau.

Snow borne on winds of 30 m.p.h. covered the Pontiac area with four new inches of white flakes yesterday and continued on through the night and morning.

The expected low tonight will be 7 to 14 degrees. Mostly cloudy and not so cold is the outlook for Saturday.

Brisk winds southwesterly to west at 15 to 30 miles today should diminish tonight.

A nippy 21 was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury had edged up to 28 by 1 p.m.

Jackie Wrote Nik After Assassination

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy wrote Premier Nikita Khrushchev before she left the White House that he and President Kennedy, although adversaries, were allied in a determination that the world would not be blown up.

Mrs. Kennedy said she was certain that President Johnson would continue her husband's policy which she termed one of control and restraint.

A spokesman for the Kennedy family confirmed today that the letter will be in the Look magazine serialization of William Manchester's book, "The Death of a President." The spokesman was asked about the letter after a person who had read the manuscript related details of it to The Associated Press.

Just as Suspected: Rock 'n' Roll Hurts

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — If today's teen-agers need hearing aids when they're 25, they have only themselves to blame, says Robert A. Larabell.

Their rock 'n' roll music is too loud and it's damaging their ears, the acoustics engineer said yesterday.

In decibels, Larabell said it ranks right up there with riveting, drop forging and automobile assembling. And workers in those industries are required to wear noise guards.

The quality of rock 'n' roll music draws no complaint from Larabell, president of an acoustics company.

He objects only to its volume, particularly when it's amplified through batteries of loudspeakers in nightclubs with rows of listeners crowded in close.

LI'L ONES

"It was for you, but they hung up when I said you weren't here."

At Qui Nhon

Hope Runs Into Graham

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the ninth in a 12-part series.)

By BOB HOPE

QUI NHON (Special)—They really had us moving today. We've been lucky up to now, but the weather finally caught up with us. First stop was An Khe, home of the famed First Air Cavalry.

HOPE

The soup was so thick, we had to make two passes at the field. For a while I thought we'd have to light flares inside the plane.

This is the monsoon season, and An Khe had the kind of oozing mud refined by six weeks of solid sheets of tropical rain.

I heard that some of our audience arrived at the show site last night, wrapped themselves in ponchos, and slept in that goop in order to have good seats. What a price to pay to be front row center in a swamp.

The weather didn't seem to bother the guys. They were so hungry for entertainment that—soaking wet and hip-deep in slime—they cheered and applauded our gals, Vic Damone, and Les's boys with all the enthusiasm of a Shriners' convention in Miami Beach.

MEETS BILLY GRAHAM

At Qui Nhon we ran into Billy Graham. This great evangelist has been doing fine work all over Vietnam, traveling light, in order to reach more of our isolated jungle outposts and to be with the wounded.

Billy really moves a crowd. Fortunately, he doesn't get laughs . . .

Meeting him makes it easy to understand why people of all faiths respond so warmly to this dynamic spiritual leader.

Stronger Viet Bombing Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman L. Mendel Rovers of the House Armed Services Committee says the United States should "flatten Hanoi if necessary and let world opinion go fly a kite."

His Senate counterpart, Chairman Richard B. Russell of the Armed Services Committee, says "the use of superior force is the only means by which they (the Communists) can be forced to the conference table."

Rivers, a South Carolina Democrat, said in a telephone interview last night from Charleston, S.C., "We should use to the fullest the potential of our great air power upon North Vietnam."

He said the lack of full use of such power "is why these people think we're kidding."

* * *

He derided reports of civilian casualties in North Vietnam and asked "What about these (American) fliers that have been shot down on these missions of indecision? Nobody seems to be worried about these fellows."

PUBLIC OPINION

Rivers referred to bombings of cities in World War II and said "we were determined to win; now we're worrying much more about public opinion than about victory."

Russell told an Atlanta dinner audience last night "you can't fly airplanes three times the size of a house and drop bombs and not kill some civilians. The remarkable thing to me is that more civilians haven't been killed."

He said peace appeals "have failed as yet to elicit the slightest meaningful response from Hanoi.

* * *

"Neither has Hanoi evidencer the slightest interest in entering into negotiations with us for an honorable settlement.

"In my view, this continued intransigence leaves us no choice but to inflict greater punishment on the Communists until they halt their aggression."

He said that at present, it appears the car "could drag on for years with enther side gaining victory." Russell said he originally opposed U.S. intervention but that now the U. S. commitment should be supported.

An opponent of U.S. Vietnam policy, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said in a statement that civilian casualties have united North Vietnam in its "determination to resist American military power."

More said a series of New York Times stories from Hanoi on civilian casualties "have widened the credibility gap into a worldwide chasm between the United States and the rest of the world on the subject of our air attacks."

Vandals Again Hit Kettering

2nd Break-In in 10 Days at High School

Waterford Kettering High School, which only 10 days ago sustained extensive damage in a break-in, has been hit again, township police learned this morning.

Considerable damage was caused in today's break-in, but no loss estimate was immediately made by police and school officials.

Most of the harm was done in the school's biology laboratory, auto shop, bookstore and teachers' lounge, according to police.

A Volkswagen automobile was heavily damaged, police said. Its windows were broken and seats ripped apart.

* * *

In the biology laboratory, microscopes were hurled into fish aquariums, resulting in breakage.

STREWN THROUGHOUT

Volumes were strewn throughout the bookstore and an electric typewriter was broken, police said.

Machines were tampered with in the teachers' lounge.

* * *

Vandalized in the Dec. 19 break-in were the principal's office, assistant principal's office, records room and bookstore.

Nixon Said Planning Lull to See How Romney Fares

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI)—Republican Gov.-elect David Cargo of New Mexico revealed yesterday that Richard Nixon plans to curtail his public appearances sharply for at least six months to see if GOP support solidifies behind Gov. Romney of Michigan for the 1968 presidential nomination. Cargo said Nixon told him of the plans earlier this month.

"He was very casual about it," Cargo said.

He said the former vice president told him he intended to spend much of his time in Europe on business for his law firm.

* * *

Cargo said Nixon indicated he was going to let Romney "run out his line and see if he'll trip."

UNTIL JUNE

Cargo, who will be inaugurated governor next week, said Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York also told him Nixon would duck out of public appearances until June.

Cargo and Rockefeller got together at the recent National Governors Conference at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Nixon wants time to estimate Romney's strength and possibilities of capturing the Republican nomination, Cargo said.

* * *

He said Nixon was not present at the governors conference or at the Republican governors meeting at Colorado Springs, Colo., this month, and he "left the impression with a lot of people at both places he would wait and see what happens."

* * *

Cargo also said Rockefeller and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania have asked him if he would be interested in the 1968 GOP vice presidential nomination.

Divers' Probe of Ship Hulk Is Authorized

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Navy will use divers to try to locate and inspect the hulk of the Daniel J. Morrell for the Coast Guard, which is conducting an investigation into the sinking of the 600-foot-long ore carrier in a Lake Huron storm Nov. 29.

Rear Adm. Charles Tighe, commander of the Ninth Coast Guard District and chairman of the marine board investigating the sinking, said the Coast Guard commandant had approved his request to find and explore the wreck.

* * *

The wreck, or part of it, is believed to lie in 200 feet of water about 26 miles north of Harbor Beach, Mich. Divers are to be brought to the scene by the Navy supervisor of salvage.

The divers will inspect the wreckage and try to bring up material which might help the board of inquiry, which is in recess at present, determine the cause of the sinking.

* * *

Only one member of the 29-man crew of the Morrell survived the disaster.

Center on Draft Set for Detroit

Talk on How to Avoid Viet Duty Draws 200

DETROIT (AP) — Sponsors of a seminar advising youths on how to avoid fighting in Vietnam planned today to set up counseling centers in Detroit where youngsters can find answers to their questions about the draft.

* * *

The day-long seminar concluded with a public rally Wednesday night at which the principal speaker failed to show up and the sponsors were heckled by members of a right-wing organization.

* * *

Some 200 persons attended the evening session, about twice the number who turned out for panel discussions and workshops earlier in the day. Many of those in the audience were under draft age. Others were parents of boys eligible for selective service or already in the armed forces.

* * *

The Rev. David M. Gracie, rector of St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, who served as seminar chairman, said, "These discussions will go on in this community if we have anything to say about it."

PLANS UNDER WAY

He said plans were under way to set up counseling services at centers where lawyers and others would be available to answer questions for draft-age youths.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Gracie said he was pleased with the turnout.

He indicated many youths of draft age probably strayed away from the meeting rather than face press photographers, television cameras and taunting demonstrators.

Soviets Say China Has Hate Policy

MOSCOW (AP) — Peking's leaders have ordered an all-out hate-Soviet campaign in the Chinese army, the Soviet defense ministry charged today.

The defense ministry newspaper Red Star said "everything has been placed at the service of anti-Soviet propaganda." The article, spread across the bottom of two pages, was clearly aimed at warning Soviet military personnel of possible danger from China.

* * *

"To cultivate hatred for the Soviet Union among servicemen," the article said, "Chinese propaganda is trying in every way to persuade army soldiers and commanders that the Soviet Union and American imperialism are 'one and the same thing'."

Red China and the Soviet Union share a 4,150-mile border, much of it disputed territory. Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung has claimed 580,000 square miles of Soviet territory belongs to China.

Ruby Lie Test Still Blocked

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Legal and medical arguments stand in the way of cancer-stricken Jack Ruby's attempts to take a lie detector test to convince the world that he killed Lee Harvey Oswald on an impulse, and not as part of a conspiracy.

* * *

A bulletin from Parkland Hospital here says Ruby's condition remains "stable," at serious.

* * *

Ruby, 55, has lost some 20 to 30 pounds since entering the hospital Dec. 9.

* * *

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, asked Ruby's physicians Wednesday to decide if a valid lie detector test could be obtained from Ruby.

CONSULTATIONS

A hospital spokesman said any medical decision would have to be made after all legal parties—the Dallas district attorney's office, Ruby's attorneys and the courts — have completed consultations.

* * *

Phil Burleson, an attorney for Ruby, said he would have no objection to Ruby's taking a lie detector test "if that's what he wants." Some experts say Ruby's condition would rule out a valid test.

Market Owner Pleads Guilty

Jan. 25 Sentencing Set on Lesser Charge

Facing trial on a felony charge, a Pontiac market owner yesterday entered a plea of guilty to a reduced count of receiving stolen property worth less than $100.

George J. Felice, 32, owner of George's Market at 327 Midway, is scheduled to be sentenced Jan. 25 on the charge.

The guilty plea came shortly before Felice was to be arraigned in circuit court for allegedly buying quantities of stolen wallets from a group of teen-agers.

He was bound over for trial last week after two youths testified they had sold to Felice several cartons of wallets taken from a city trucking yard.

* * *

Asst. Prosecutor Michael M. Pantel said Pontiac police agreed to reduction of the charge because "some question" existed about the worth of the wallets.

'China N-Blast Big Stride'

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's fifth nuclear explosion, apparently its biggest, indicates a big stride toward a hydrogen weapon, Japanese experts said today.

There was some speculation the device exploded Wednesday was a small hydrogen bomb, or a reinforced nuclear weapon. Although the official Chinese announcement gave no details of the size and type of the device, Japanese newspapers had no doubt it contained thermonuclear material.

* * *

They noted the Chinese announcement said the test raised China's nuclear knowledge "to a new level."

* * *

Some predicted a grim new year's present if the test's radioactive cloud drifts over Japan as expected Saturday or Sunday. Snow, which could bring down contaminated particles from the atmosphere, is forecast for much of Japan on New Year's Day.

North Koreans Fire on U.S. Guard Post

SEOUL (UPI) — Communist North Korean troops opened fire on a U.S. guard post south of the military demarcation line late Tuesday, the United Nations Command said today.

The announcement did not indicate whether there were any American casualties.

It said the Communists fired about 40 rounds at a U. S. 2nd Army post. The raiders were last seen fleeing northward, the terse announcement said.

The U. N. Command called for a meeting at Panmunjon in the joint security area, to protest the incident. Communist officials boycotted the meeting, the U. N. said.

Navy's N-Task Force in Action Off N. Viet

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Navy announced today that its power-packed Task Force One — made up of all three of the Navy's nuclear-powered surface ships — is in action in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Vietnam.

The latest to arrive was the frigate Bainbridge, which joined the aircraft carrier Enterprise and the cruiser Long Beach at "Yankee Station" 100 miles off the North Vietnamese Coast.

* * *

The three ships operated previously as Task Force One with the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean and sailed together in a history-making round-the-world voyage without refueling in 1964.

The 85,000-ton Enterprise, the world's biggest warship, arrived Dec. 17 for her second tour of duty with the 7th Fleet off Vietnam. The Long Beach preceded her by two weeks.

GROUND FIGHTING SLACKENS

The Navy's disclosure came as ground fighting slackened again in South Vietnam and the 48-hour New Year's truce approached. Only one ground clash of any significance was reported.

Troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile Division battled a North Vietnamese force of unknown size in mountain-surrounded rice fields 280 miles northeast of Saigon. Fragmentary reports said they were still fighting this afternoon.

* * *

U.S. casualties so far were reported light and enemy losses were not known.

No contact was reported in the big Mekong Delta sweep launched Tuesday by several regiments of South Vietnamese troops, including 1,000 or more paratroopers who jumped unopposed into canal-laced paddies 126 miles southwest of Saigon.

89 VC DEAD

A Vietnamese military spokesman said Vietcong casualties remained at 89 killed, the number announced Wednesday for the initial two days. All were attributed to air strikes and infantrymen. The spokesman said the paratroopers had failed to engage enemy units so far.

The U.S. military command reported American troop strength in South Vietnam reached 376,000 last Saturday, an increase of 5,000 men over the previous week.

The command also announced U.S. casualties last week were 109 killed and 574 wounded, compared with 88 killed and 433 wounded the week before.

Vietnamese headquarters reported 203 government soldiers killed last week compared with 190 in the previous week. Communist casualties last week were placed at 1,083 killed and 198 captured, the week before 860 enemy killed and 98 captured were reported.

BOMBING CURTAILED

Rain and generally poor weather again curtailed U.S. bombing of North Vietnam Wednesday. American pilots flew 70 strike missions, most of them in the southern part of North Vietnam. Pilots reported setting afire the Nam Dinh rail yards 37 miles southwest of Haiphong and, in strikes elsewhere, damaging or destroying three antiaircraft sites, five barges and four storage areas.

Reminders Given on Tax Exemption

Assessors in villages, cities and townships throughout Michigan are once again reminding senior citizens and disabled veterans of tax exemptions due them.

A state law states that those who are 65 as of Dec. 31, 1966, may file for an exemption equal to $3,500 on property not exceeding a state-equalized valuation of $10,000—providing their income has not gone over $5,000 in the past year.

Veterans having service-connected disabilities and their widows may realize a $2,000 exemption on property not exceeding $10,000 as state-equalized.

Veterans with a nonservice-connected disability and their widows may qualify for like exemptions providing their total incomes do not exceed $7,500 a year.

★ ★ ★

Anyone now on active duty is entitled to an exemption, though there has as yet been no legislation in regard to Vietnam veterans.

NEW QUESTION

An additional question this year asks the value of property owned by the applicant in Michigan and in the rest of the U.S. The entire total must not exceed $20,000 market value.

Applicants are reminded to take proof of age, land ownership, income and veterans' benefits when applying for the exemptions.

FORLORN SIGHT—One day this skeleton of steel will be transformed into an exclusive apparel shop, but until then the future Saks Fifth Avenue store must wait for the weather to clear so construction workers can continue their work. Ended in Avon Building Snarl

AVON TOWNSHIP — A resolution to break the deadlock on new building adjacent to the village of Rochester was passed last night by the Township Board.

★ ★ ★

Construction had been stymied since the township, having signed an agreement with the Oakland County Department of Public Works for construction of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor, has refused to permit any further extension of village utilities into the township.

The township felt it should have control of utilities in its territory — payments from which would help to meet initial charges on the Clinton-Oakland interceptor.

It had hoped to get water and sewage treatment from Rochester at wholesale prices, but the village council had refused to go along.

Last night the board resolved that each case should be considered on an individual basis by the township.

NOW PENDING

The impasse had reached the point where would-be developers of Bedford Square apartments on Tienken Road entered an interplead on a case now pending against Avon Township and the county in regard to the Clinton-Oakland interceptor.

The township also set up a rate schedule for township utilities in order to prevent the levying of an ad valorem tax when such utilities are installed.

A special meeting was called for Jan. 18 for the purpose of considering the township's new zoning ordinance text and map.

★ ★ ★

Several changes were recommended at last night's meeting and action was tabled until next month.

50 PER CENT

The board voted to put up 50 per cent of $6,250 for the widening of the Rochester-Tienken intersection.

★ ★ ★

Also planned but not included in the price is the paving of Tienken from Rochester to Livernois.

Hopes are to get a traffic light at the Rochester Road corner.

BEATING VICTIM — John Cummings Jr., 17, of 51204 Fairlane, Shelby Township, was savagely beaten and left to wander coatless in subfreezing temperatures in Sterling Township. He told rescuing officers he was turned away from six homes but accepted at the seventh where an ambulance and police were called. He has been released from Selfridge Air Force Base Hospital. Police are holding four teen-age suspects.

Rochester Roughs It

House Is Taken Far Afield

ROCHESTER—It wasn't Kentuck', but it was trail blazing in the tradition of the one-time pathfinder.

George Wilhelmi, urban renewal director, borrowed the Daniel Boone bit.

When it recently came time to relocate a sturdy frame house from renewal land on East Third Street, Wilhelmi, aided by the DeGoetz Moving Co. of Pontiac, went cross-country to do it.

"There were no streets going in the direction we wanted to go," said Wilhelmi.

High point of the three-quarter-mile trek was the moment when the house sat square on the New York Central Railroad tracks in the middle of a field near Baldwin, Wilhelmi said.

IN ATTENDANCE

He reported train schedules had been checked and that several railroad men were in attendance.

In order to achieve that position, the movers had had to cut down an eight-foot bank on each side of the railroad.

A road through a field roughly parallel to Baldwin had been graded earlier and workmen had waited for it to freeze before embarking on the expedition.

★ ★ ★

The home, built in 1937 and in excellent shape, according to Wilhelmi, now sits on Lounsbury a half block south of Parkdale.

★ ★ ★

It will be sold at cost — probably about $8,500, Wilhelmi said, with retired couples from the renewal area getting first choice.

The letter E appears most frequently in the English language.

Farmer Award to Highlight Soil Conservation Fete

Presentation of the annual Outstanding Soil and Water Conservation Farmer Award for 1966 will highlight the Oakland County Soil Conservation District Banquet.

New officers will also be elected at the banquet to be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 19 at St. Benedict's Church, Pontiac.

James Reid, chairman of the District Board of Directors will present the award and Keith Middleton, 2610 Stoney Creek, Oakland Township, will conduct the election of two county directors.

Expiring terms are those of Robert McCrory, 26867 Pontiac Trail, Lyon Township, who plans to seek reelection and Samuel Miller, 8391 Bridge Lake, Springfield Township, who will not run again.

Others nominated for the vacant positions are Howard Balko, 52730 W. Eight Mile, Novi; Robert Losh, 7012 Ormond and Lloyd Vergin, 12461 Scott, both of Springfield Township and Clare Voorheis, 6700 Brendel, White Lake Township.

★ ★ ★

Nominations also will be accepted from the floor. Any member owning three or more acres of land in Oakland County is eligible to vote.

The evening's entertainment will be provided by radio personality Bud Guest.

Tickets may be obtained from McCrory, Miller, Middleton, Reid, 5400 Cedar Island, White Lake Township or Mitchell, 10542 McWain, Holly Township.

They are also available from the Soil Conservation District Office, 35 E. Huron, Pontiac, the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 155 N. Saginaw, Pontiac and at the door.

Lapeer Millage Election Feb. 13

LAPEER — An election for the purpose of renewing an extra voted 4.5 mills for school operation will be conducted here Feb. 13. Term of the millage is three years.

The Board of Education stresses a favorable vote will not raise taxes, but will merely retain them at their present level, according to school officials.

The Lapeer schools now operate on 8.1 mills allocated from the county, 3 voted mills, and the 4.5 mills due to expire Saturday.

Residents last February voted $3 million for a school construction program which is now being carried out, according to Schools Supt. Clyde K. Schickler.

★ ★ ★

There has, he said, been no provision made for the increased operating costs of those classrooms now being built.

Dow Jones Average Seen Hitting Peak of 1500 by '75

BABSON PARK, Mass.—"The Dow Jones Industrial Average could hit peaks of 1200 by 1970 and 1500 by 1957," said Roger E. Spear, Pontiac Press financial columnist in a year - end economic review and forecast.

"The Dow's floor," Spear said, "should be at about 900 by 1970 and 1200 by 1975."

These predictions are based on a theory, which Spear first formulated in 1952 and has since had under continuous review, that the stock market advances at an average rate of 6 per cent a year within a long, upward "channel." (See chart.)

The Spear Channel Theory is predicated on the belief that post-World War II governmental and economic controls will continue to be effective against both runaway booms and crippling market crashes.

In 1962, using his Channel Theory, Spear predicted that the Dow would hit a peak of 1000 "in the latter part of the 1960s." The Dow did hit that mark one day early in 1966.

NEW CYCLE

In his detailed analysis of the present condition of the market, under the heading of "The Causes of Our Present Discontents," Spear wrote:

"The current business boom was fueled for many months by manipulation of the tax structure coupled with continued deficit spending. Thus, net personal incomes as well as corporate incomes were allowed to expand by a loosening of restrictive tax walls.

"The result was a new cycle of too much money chasing too few goods with powerful inflationary forces set in motion.

"The boom had been fueled and it had to be cooled. The Federal Reserve (and other forces) went to work. Tight money was the result. Having swing in history," he said, tasted the candy of unparalleled prosperity for five years, the market threw a tantrum when a squeeze was placed on the money supply.

TAKES HOLD FAST

"But this squeeze was not the same thing as an attempt by the government to throttle credit and pull the rug out from beneath prices.

"The extent of the recent correction was a function of how much fat was to be squeezed out in a switch from an easy-money to a less-than-easy-money 'posture.' However, it may be that due to war and international monetary problems the 'medicine' took hold faster than the doctors had expected."

Spear called the present reaction "economic growing pains" and said, "It would be a serious mistake for investors to liquidate all stock positions on the assumption that the bull market is over."

"As a matter of fact, early this year following the initial spring selling, several groups of stocks and many individual issues turned right around and resumed bull markets of their own, advancing to new highs.

"This phenomenon occurred again this fall with many of the glamor stocks, especially the stocks of some fast - growth companies, advancing sharply—again to new highs.

"True, the old 1962-1966 upswing is history," he said, "but now there are signs that the start of a new bull market is not too far off. For one thing, earnings and dividends are expected to show gains throughout the forepart of 1967, at least. For another, there is no clear evidence that a recession is definitely around the corner.

"Furthermore, although there is a possibility that corporate earnings will turn down next year, many observers believe that the decline will be moderate. Lastly, the market tends to discount recessions in advance, so that when business is at its lowest recession ebb, stocks are usually well along on a primary uptrend."

Spear cited six existing "control measures" which appear to preclude any major bear markets by smoothing out the business cycle, restricting speculation and otherwise serving to stabilize the economy.

State GI Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sgt. Larry Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron L. Reed of Bridgeport, Mich., has been killed in action with the Army in Vietnam, the Defense Department said Wednesday.

Army Charges Anti-Viet Doctor

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — An Army doctor accused of willfully disobeying orders and making disloyal statements about U.S. involvement in Vietnam says he would not change his stand because it is a matter of morality.

Dr. Howard Levy, 29, a captain and chief of dermatology at nearby Ft. Jackson Army Hospital, said Wednesday the first charge stemmed from his refusal to train Special Forces aidmen in the basic skills of dermatology.

"I did it for about three months, even then with some uneasiness," Levy said. "Then, I decided I couldn't do it anymore."

* * *

Levy admitted most of what was stated in the second charge which said, in part, that he made statements "designed to promote disloyalty and disaffection among the troops and publically uttered disloyal statements to Army personnel, that the United States is wrongly involved in the Vietnam war, that he would refuse to go to Vietnam if ordered to do so, that Negro soldiers should refuse to fight in Vietnam because they had been denied freedom in the United States and were being discriminated against in Vietnam by being given hazardous duty and suffering the majority of casualties.

According to Levy, the charges also read that he stated "if he were a colored soldier, he would refuse to go to Vietnam and would refuse to fight if sent there; and that Special Forces members are liars, thieves, killers of peasants and murderers of women and children."

"Most of that is what I said," Levy said. "But I didn't say that any soldier ought not to go to Vietnam in an authoritative manner."

Levy, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., was formally charged Wednesday, according to Lt. Col. Roy C. Harms, public information officer at Ft. Jackson, who said Col. Henry Fancy, commanding officer at the hospital, filed the charges.

Foundations Must Reach the Limits

Don't defeat the prime purpose of your foundation make-up by abruptly ending its application at the chin and jaw line, thereby leaving a mask-like appearance. To attain a smooth, even-toned natural complexion look, says one beauty authority, select a foundation make-up shade that closely matches your natural complexion coloring.

★ ★ ★

Then, remember to continue the foundation slightly below the chin and jaw line, and around under the ears. Diminish the make-up as you go so there will be no trace of where it begins and where it ends.

September vows are planned by Mary Warfield Clark, daughter of the William B. Clarks of Grosse Pointe, and Stephen M. Green, son of the Alden M. Greens, West 14 Mile Road. She is an alumna of Cleary College. Her fiance attends Michigan State University.

Men Are More Time Conscious Than Women

NEW YORK (AP)—The theory that men are more time-conscious than women appears to be confirmed statistically.

★ ★ ★

A recent survey by an independent research organization indicates that 55 per cent of the watches sold annually are men's models, although males make up less than half of the nation's population.

Among all watch purchases, 54 per cent are reported to be for gifts and 46 per cent for the buyer's own use.

U.S. Dealers Unconcerned Over Bulging Car Lots

By CHARLES C. CAIN
AP Business Writer

DETROIT (AP) — New and used car lots across the nation bulged with a heavy inventory today, but few of the nation's auto dealers appeared concerned.

"We have learned from experience that you can not compete with Santa Claus and so we expected sales to slow down a bit in both new and used cars from mid-December on," explained one dealer source.

A survey of new car supplies showed about 1,293,000 were in dealer hands or enroute to them as of Dec. 15. This represented a 45-day supply at current selling rates.

A year ago, the dealers had 1,223,000 cars on hand an in 1964—when the industry was just getting into full production after a series of strikes — the figure was 893,000.

Dealer sources expressed satisfaction that auto firms had slowed their production rate down in December and January to keep more in tempo with sales rates and to avoid building a tremendous unweildly inventory.

Expectations were that the calendar year would end with total sales of about 9 million new cars in the U. S. market, including a record-breaking 640,000 imports.

The nation's 31,000 franchised used car dealers were expected to almost duplicate that figure with about 9.1 million used car sales forecast for 1966. That would be the fifth highest total on record.

Loren Helmhout, used car manager for Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co., said November and early December sales figures showed a little softening over 1965's performance, but he added:

"Sure, it is off a bit, but then it always is down at this time of year. This year it may wind up with figures behind those of 1965 but I do not see anything abnormal in the sales picture."

★ ★ ★

on their lots as of Dec. 15, the highest total since June 15 when the figure stood at 859,000.

★ ★ ★

Estimates were that the franchised dealers had 875,000 cars

FTC Credit Plan Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) proposal to pinpoint the high cost of installment buying wouldn't affect 94 per cent of the money-lending industry.

Proxmire, the new chief sponsor of truth-in-lending proposals, said he welcomed any effort to tell consumers the cost of borrowing. But, he said, "what these suggested rules would "not" do is more striking than what they would do."

He said he hoped "the public will not be misled into believing that they (the FTC proposals) represent meaningful truth-in-lending."

The FTC said last week it was studying proposals that would require presale disclosure of the costs of buying an article on time.

Some thought the proposals would cancel the need for the truth-in-lending measure originally championed by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill.

Chile Jolts Continue; Tidal Wave Feared

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Earth tremors continued to shake northern Chile during the night, and there were warnings of a possible tidal wave if an undersea volcano continued erupting 25 miles off shore.

The volcano spit sheets of fire from the ocean bottom Wednesday about the same time that a mighty earthquake rolled across 1,000 miles of the copper-rich coastal area.

The quake destroyed much of the old nitrate port of Taltal, where three persons were reported killed so far and two others missing. Dozens were injured and an estimated 4,000 persons were left homeless in the provinces of Antofagasta, Atacama and Tarpaca. Three million persons live in the area.

Residents of Taltal, which has a population of 10,000 said huge flames spurted from the ocean depths when the quake struck at 4:18 a.m. Old, one-story structures of mud bricks and wood collapsed in the town amid big clouds of dust, and thousands fled toward the neighboring hills with the shaking earth slipping beneath their feet.

CRUMBLING WALL

A crumbling wall in Taltal killed a 9-year-old boy. Two men were found dead in ruins and two workers at Flor de Chile, a nitrate community 25 miles to the north, were missing.

The first quake registered 8 on a scale of 12 and light tremors continued Wednesday night. The navy warned that if the volcano continued erupting, a tidal wave could flood Taltal and other coastal areas.

★ ★ ★

The quake was felt in Santiago, the capital 600 miles south of the epicenter, but no damage was reported.

The $700-million copper installations of the U.S. Anaconda Co. in Atacama and Antofagasta Provinces also were reported undamaged.

WALLS CRACKED

In the city of Antofagasta walls cracked and window panes shattered. The port, Chile's fifth biggest city with 125,000 persons, is 150 miles north of Taltal.

Damage also was reported in Copiapo, Tocopilla and Calama, port towns near Taltal.

★ ★ ★

Communications were out in the stricken area but were not disrupted between Antofagasta and Santiago.

The government set up tents and field canteens at Taltal for homeless, many of whom were roaming the streets hours after the quake, the ministry of interior reported.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. Embassy in Santiago offered to have supplies brought in if needed.

★ ★ ★

Chile's last major earthquake, on March 28, 1965, killed 400 persons.

Cuban Airlift Is Under Way

880 Yanks Leaving Via Mexico for U.S.

MERIDA, Mexico (AP) — An airlift to bring 880 Americans and 1,820 of their relatives from Cuba to the United States was under way today via Mexico after years of negotiations and delays.

The first group of 89 persons arrived at Merida Wednesday aboard a Mexican DC6 plane and expected to fly to New Orleans today aboard a chartered American plane.

★ ★ ★

Two more planeloads were expected from Havana today.

Most of the Americans are persons of Latin descent and long-time residence in Cuba who decided to remain there after Fidel Castro took over. When relations between Castro and the United States grew steadily worse and they began trying to get out, they were prevented from leaving.

CASTRO VETO

The flights had been expected to begin three months ago after negotiations by the Swiss ambassador at Havana, who represents U.S. interests there, but Castro vetoed the Swiss efforts. At the end of September, President Johnson reportedly asked Mexican President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz for help, and the Mexican ambassador in Havana, Fernando Pamanes Escobedo, interceded with Castro.

Castro agreed to the airlift on condition that the Americans not leave Cuba on U.S. planes and that their departure not be associated with the Cuban refugee airlift to Miami.

★ ★ ★

It was stipulated that Mexican planes would take the Americans out of Havana to Merida, in Mexico's Yucatan. New Orleans, rather than Miami, was chosen as the arrival point in the United States.

State Plants More Wheat

LANSING (AP) — Michigan farmers have planted 47 per cent more acres of winter wheat this year than one year ago, and production is expected to be up 38 per cent, the federal-state Crop Reporting Service says.

The service forecast production of 41.9 million bushels from 1.1 million acres.

★ ★ ★

Michigan farmers planted 222,000 acres of rye this fall, 8 per cent more than one year ago. The service said in the last five years, about one-fifth of the seeded acreage has been harvested for grain.

Tightening, Then Easing, Money

Rough Year for Fed

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The Federal Reserve now has begun to lift the pressure on banks to conserve rather than lend, thus making for historical purposes a neat one-year package with a beginning and an ending.

CUNNIFF

In between were some of the controversial, tumultuous months in the Fed's 53-year history.

It was just one year ago this month that the Fed raised the discount rate to 4½ per cent to slow what it felt was a growing tendency to inflation. As the year wore on, the clamp drew tighter.

This week, the Fed said credit conditions had changed. While maintaining a general attitude of restraint, it revoked a Sept. 1 directive ordering banks to cut sharply their loans to business.

RELAXATION

The Fed had been relaxing the restraints in its daily operations. This, however, was the first public acknowledgement of a change in attitude.

It is still too early to say that the Fed was right or wrong on its controversial moves of the past year. Historians must review events in relation to the decade, for the Fed's moves will have effects for years to come.

★ ★ ★

There is growing sentiment, however, that the Reserve's action to dampen demand through restricting money and credit had a lot of wisdom behind it.

The Fed first began to express concern about economic trends in 1965. William McChesney Martin, chairman, made comparisons between 1929 and 1965 and was widely criticized for doing so.

TAX INCREASE

He persisted, suggesting a tax increase might be needed. None came.

When the Fed raised the discount rate which affects all loans in the economy, its own house was divided. The vote was 4 to 3. Even Martin must have doubted his analysis.

Thereafter, the Fed displayed imagination, innovation and possibly error, for some bankers claim it subsequently came down too hard, forcing up interest rates and almost precipitating a money panic.

Not only was it split within; the Fed was chastised by other federal agencies and was at odds with President Johnson. The President felt the economy was in order.

CRITICS ATTACK

Some critics blamed it for threatening an end to the longest "peacetime" boom in the gest "peacetime" boom in the nation's history. But the Fed maintained the boom was out of hand, that we were trying to spend more than we could produce.

It was accused of not only provoking but welcoming a crisis. But the Fed maintained it was interested only in a balanced expansion.

★ ★ ★

Questions were raised regarding the role of the Fed. Should it continue to be a semi-independent agency of government? Or should it merely be an instrument of the administration's policy?

One economist declared the Fed's actions were "an arrogant exercise in self-assertion." The board should be "more responsible to public interest," he said.

HARDER YET

Early in 1966 the Fed came down even harder, restricting the money supply despite growing demand. Interest rates rose, some to the highest levels in 40 years. Some federal agencies had to put an artificial lid on rates they controlled.

In September, the directive went out to banks. Now it is revoked.

★ ★ ★

What made the Fed act as it did? Simply stated, it considered demand too great. It had these signs: inflation, labor shortages, plant capacity that was near its limit, growing debt.

How did it get into such a historic controversy? Perhaps merely because of its responsibility to its goals. Its original responsibilty was price stability, as stated explicitly in the Federal Reserve Act of 1913.

MORE COMPLEX

The Fed's role has since become more complex. To the simple goal of price stability now has been added a national policy of full employment, rapid economic growth, and more recently, a complex balance-of-payments situation.

By its nature, the Fed tends to accent price stability. The administration perhaps puts the emphasis on full employment. These goals are not necessarily at odds. Sometimes, however, the improvement in one area must temporarily be sacrificed for stability in another.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "About a year and a half ago, my mother was persuaded to invest $6,000 in General Portland Cement. She bought it at 14 and it is now down to nine. She is told that if she holds long enough it will pay off handsomely, but that it may take five to 10 years. Should she hold for recovery or try to sell for what it is worth?" J. G.

A) The cements, as a group, have been in a downtrend for many years due to overcapacity and a resultant squeeze on profit margins. Her company is well managed and operates in a growth area, but it has been unable to buck the industry trend. Dividends have been reduced in each of the past two years and I believe that present payments will be covered by a rather narrow margin in 1966. The yield of 8.6 per cent on the shares indicates doubt as to the safety of the current dividend.

I don't believe your mother should gamble on the problematical comeback of her stock. I advise her to switch it into low-priced Suburban Gas, which yields a relatively secure six per cent and has a long pattern of rising earnings and dividends.

Q) "My shares include Firestone, Georgia - Pacific, IBM, Dow Chemical, Avon Products, Transamerica, Royal Dutch, RCA and Gulf Oil. I plan to retire in four years. Should I make any changes?" A. R.

A) You have an excellent list and I advise you to stick with it, at least until you retire. At that time you probably will want to switch some of your growth holdings into income producing issues in order to supplement your Social Security benefits and pension. I would make just one change now. Royal Dutch has only average prospects, and since you have no utility representation, I suggest a switch into Texas Utilities.

All the Christmas Mail Processed---Donaldson

"Postal habits have improved greatly in the last two years. As a result, there is no unclaimed Christmas mail on the Pontiac Post Office floor despite the increased volume," Pontiac Postmaster William W. Donaldson said today.

"All Christmas packages have been delivered although it was occasionally necessary to guess at semiilegible addresses. Zip Code helped greatly," he added.

All letters undelivered because of incorrect, incomplete or illegible addresses have been sent to the dead letter office in Chicago. There they'll be examined for clues to find the sender," Donaldson said.

Although dead letters are sent to Chicago throughout the year the number reaches from 200 to 500 daily during the Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

Donaldson attributes the efficient mail deliveries during the Christmas season to an early start on processing the mail and the increased use of Zip Codes. Using return addresses also helped, he said.

3.6 PCT. INCREASE

The 12,037,000 pieces of mail processed in the Pontiac office during the three-week pre-Christmas season represents a 3.6 per cent increase over last year's pre-holiday mail volume.

★ ★ ★

The increase is largely due to Zip-coding which sends mail directly to Pontiac, bypassing the larger postal stations such as Chicago and Detroit, according to Donaldson.

Escapees' Hostage Is Found Unharmed

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A factory worker held hostage by three armed men who escaped from a county jail in North Carolina was found safe here early today.

Casey Steen, 34, from Hendersonville, N.C., freed himself from bonds at a Baltimore hotel room where he was tied to a bed post, and telephoned city police.

★ ★ ★

The three escapees from Buncombe County Jail, in Asheville, N.C., eluded police.

He had been missing since late Tuesday night, along with his red 1964 convertible car.

ABDUCTED AT GUNPOINT

He told authorities here that he was abducted at gunpoint while he made a phone call at a roadside pay booth near Hendersonville between 10 and 11 p.m.

★ ★ ★

He said he was driven to Washington, D.C., where one of the escapees, Allen James Berube, 29, of Fall River, Mass., left the group.

★ ★ ★

He said the other two men, Clifford Harden, 37, and Howard Byrd, 21, drove him 40 miles to Baltimore to the Louis Hotel.

They tied him hand and foot with adhesive tape and wired him to a bed with coat hangers, he told police.

FLED IN CAR

★ ★ ★

A jailer at the county jail in Asheville and a couple who were abducted shortly after the break Tuesday night were found unharmed.

Death Claims Cartoonist, 72

New Yorker Sketches Brought Him Fame

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y. (AP) — Gardner Rea, the cartoonist known for his sharp-edged drawings in the New Yorker and other magazines, died Wednesday in Brookhaven Memorial Hospital after a long illness. He was 72.

One of his most quoted lines went with the drawing of two street vendors holding a sidewalk conference. One of them was saying "Does Gimbels tell Macy's?"

★ ★ ★

Another of his cartoons showed a disappointed member of the audience after Walt Disney replaced his animal characters with actors in an ambitious musical film. His comment was, "What, no Mickey Mouse?"

★ ★ ★

Rea was born in Ironton, Ohio. He planned to be a serious painter, but when he was 15 he sold a gag cartoon to the old Life magazine. That started him on his way as a humorist. He was graduated from Ohio State University in 1914 and resumed his free-lance career, this time in New York.

TWO COLLECTIONS

Many of his drawings were selected for humor anthologies. Two collections of his works have been published — "The Gentleman Says It's Pixies," selected from his contributions to Collier's magazine, issued in 1944; and "Gardner Rea's Sideshow," which included cartoons that also had appeared in the New Yorker and the Saturday Evening Post, issued in 1945.

Rea was one of the original contributors to the New Yorker magazine when it was started in 1925.

★ ★ ★

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. John G. Dalrymple and Mrs. Roy E. Renwick, and five grandchildren.

Funeral service will be held Friday morning in St. James Episcopal church here.

Portuguese Colony, China Reportedly Reach Accord

MACAO (AP) — Macao and Red Chinese officials reportedly reached agreement today that residents in this six-square-mile Portuguese colony hope will end the present Macao-China confrontation.

The reports came from unofficial sources who claim to have government contacts. Macao authorities declined to see newsmen.

★ ★ ★

Under the reported agreement, the Macao government would close the Nationalist Chinese organizations which Peking claims have been bases of subversion and sabotage.

The closedown appeared to be already under way. The doors of the Nationalist-sponsored Mainland Refugee Relief Association were padlocked. No member of its staff could be located. Its top officials reportedly had left for Hong Kong.

RUMORED MEETING

The unconfirmed reports said the agreement was reached — and perhaps actually signed — in a meeting here between Macao Gov. Jose Nobre de Carvalho and an official of Kwangtung, the China Province bordering Macao.

Three Portuguese representatives crossed into China Wednesday for discussions with Red Chinese authorities at Kungpeh. The three returned to Macao and met with Carvalho during most of the afternoon.

★ ★ ★

Subsequently, according to local sources, a Kwangtung official came to Macao for a late-night meeting and agreement was reached.

The Red Chinese demands on the Portuguese colony stem from Communist-instigated riots in Macao Dec. 3-4 in which eight Chinese were killed and more than 100 wounded by Portuguese troops and police. The riots started as a protest against alleged police brutality in halting work on a pro-Communist school.

MADE DEMANDS

The local Communists and Red China initially demanded that the Portuguese officials who commanded the troops and police be fired, that compensation be paid for the dead and wounded, and that the Macao government promise never again to use guns or clubs against Chinese.

They also demanded an official apology and that seven Nationalist Chinese who escaped from Red China to Macao several years ago be returned.

★ ★ ★

Dutch Quiz 8 Red Chinese About Death

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (AP) — After a five-month stalemate, Dutch officials today interviewed eight Chinese Communist wedding experts in the Chinese legation where they have been closeted since the mysterious death of a Chinese last July.

★ ★ ★

The Dutch Foreign Ministry said that their replies will be used for the inquiry into the death of a member of their group, Hsu Tzu-tsai, who was abducted by the Chinese from a hospital and died the next day in the legation. When the legation refused to let the others be questioned, the Dutch government expelled the Chinese charde d'affaires and the Chinese government held the Dutch charge in Peking hostage.

MURDER CLAIMED

The Nationalist Chinese government claimed Hsu was murdered in the legation because he wanted to defect. Peking's New China News Agency charged that "U.S. agents incited Hsu Tzu-tsai to desert and betray his country."

★ ★ ★

Three Dutch newsmen later published a book claiming that Hsu died after handing U.S. secret agents a vial of a secret Polish poison gas and the formula for it.

★ ★ ★

Diplomatic sources expect that the eight Chinese will be allowed to leave the Netherlands this week. They and Hsu had come to the Netherlands for an international conference on welding methods.

Accord Ends Strike Threat at Greyhound

DETROIT (AP)—An eleventh hour agreement Wednesday night averted a planned strike against Greyhound Bus Lines in Michigan and 14 other states.

The scheduled midnight walkout by 5,500 members of the Amalagamated Transit Union—drivers, mechanics and terminal personnel — in Greyhound's Eastern Division was called off when tentative agreement on a new contract was announced.

★ ★ ★

The threatened strike could have snarled plans for an estimated 500,000 holiday travelers.

The Greyhound workers are to vote by mail on the new pact, with balloting to be completed in three weeks.

Details of the pact were not disclosed.

400 IN STATE

The strike would have affected 400 Greyhound workers in Detroit and Michigan, members of Local 1303.

A Greyhound spokesman said the company operates about 150 buses daily in and out of the Detroit terminal.

However, out-of-state buses would not enter Michigan or other strikebound states, the spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

Negotiations between the company and the union broke off Tuesday in Chicago but resumed in Cleveland Wednesday.

The company had offered a 10 per cent wage hike spread over two years, but this was rejected by the union Dec. 21.

Greyhound said the average driver now makes $9,600 a year but some make as much as $12,500.

In addition to Michigan, the strike would have affected several eastern states and parts of Indiana, Illinois and Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Among his assignments since joining Prosecutor Jerome Bronson's staff in February 1965 were the Steren Assembly Club and Seaway Civic Club gambling cases, and the first Oakland County Grand Jury conducted by Judge Philip Pratt.

Asst. Prosecutor Robert W. Leutheuser has been named to succeed Oliver in handling appeals.

Ohio Dispute on Medicare Stamped Out

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — The dispute between this city's only hospital and the Fairfield County Medical Society over certification of medicare patients has been "stamped out."

Trustees of Lancaster-Fairfield County Hospital accepted Wednesday night a medical society proposal calling for use of a rubber stamp on certification forms.

The physicians earlier had balked at certification procedures. Original forms required them to certify that their patients covered under medicare had need of being hospitalized.

Under the new plan, the form will be stamped on the medicare patient's records and signed by the physician.

Worker Dead, 4 Missing in Resort Blaze

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (UPI)—A $500,000 fire that destroyed a wing of the 70-year-old Hotel Marcy yesterday killed one employe and left four others missing and presumed dead, authorities said today.

Coroner H. V. Bergamini said one body was seen late yesterday but it was not recovered or identified. The coroner said the search was postponed until today because it was "too dangerous to continue working at night."

The five missing employes all lived above the kitchen where the fire erupted. The blaze sent 500 guests scurrying into the cold night air in their pajamas, dressing gowns and slippers. The temperature was near zero.

Five persons were hospitalized for treatment of cuts and smoke inhalation. Among them was owner Jack Davis, 52, who also operates the Gotham Hotel in New York City.

★ ★ ★

Traffic was diverted in the downtown section of this Adirondack resort because water from the fire hoses froze in the streets. Telephone service was disrupted for awhile.

The fire was visible for miles, and thousands of winter vacationers in the area gathered to watch.

A hotel night clerk discovered the blaze and turned in the alarm. The cause of the fire was undetermined today.

Old Pro Davis, Back at Copa, Confesses Opening Jitters

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Sammy Davis, often called (by other geniuses and me) "the world's greatest entertainer," is back at the Copacabana, filling the place and bringing a happy smile to Jules Podell's cash register . . . Sammy claimed that with Eddie Fisher on the ringside hugging Connie Stevens, and his wife May Britt, Tony Bennett, Sheila MacRae, Anita Louise, Jack E. Leonard and others in his first night audience, he was terrified after all his years in Show Business.

WILSON

"If there ever was a night when I thought I might turn white, it was tonight," said Sammy who, by the way, didn't.

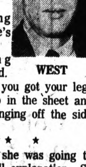
Sleeping: Easy as Sawing Off a Log

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON—"What in the ever-lovin' blue-eyed world do you think you are doing?" she asked.

It was a bit past midnight and her voice was tinged with exasperation.



WEST

"I'm practicing," I said.

"Practicing what, for Pete's sake?"

"Falling asleep," I said.

"Why have you got your legs all knotted up in the sheet and your head hanging off the side of the bed?"

★ ★ ★

I could tell she was going to insist on a full explanation. So I switched on the bedlight and read her this press release that I received from the Spring Air Mattress Co.

"There is just as much skill involved in falling asleep as there is controlling your golf swing or playing a guitar," the press release said. . . .

I'll be honest with you. I've been falling asleep, off and on, for more than 40 years. And it never once occurred to me that it required any skill.

Learning that falling asleep is on a par with golf and guitar playing really built my ego. For that is something I am really good at. I have a natural talent for it.

SOME CONSOLATION

After seeing this press release, I don't feel so bad about being unable to control by golf swing or master the guitar. To each his own, as the saying goes.

It is true that my falling asleep form isn't anything to brag about. It's effective but ungainly. That's because I had never worked at it the way golfers and guitarists do.

I figured that with a little practice to polish my great natural ability I would soon be in championship form.

★ ★ ★

Fortunately, the press release listed some of the fine points. It called them the "Ten Commandments of Good Sleepmanship."

SAME POSITION

On the night of which my wife complained, I was working on No. 8. It said, "If you have trouble falling asleep, take the position you usually find yourself in when you wake up in the morning."

When I awake, I usually find my legs all knotted up in the sheet and my head hanging off the side of the bed.

But falling asleep in that position isn't easy, even for someone as talented as I.

★ ★ ★

In fact, my wife says that if I continue practicing I will have to get more equipment — twin beds.

Harry Golden Clings to Life After Surgery

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Author-editor Harry Golden, under the constant watch of his personal physician, clung to life this morning following removal of his infected gallbladder.

A spokesman at Charlotte's Memorial Hospital said the humorist, 64, also "was experiencing respiratory difficulties," and that a tracheotomy had been performed to ease his breathing.

"Mr. Golden's condition has not changed," the spokesman said. "He still is in very critical condition. His personal physician (Dr. Raymond Wheeler) is staying with him at all times."

Golden underwent surgery Tuesday night after becoming ill at his Charlotte home Monday. He had returned to Charlotte the day before from Flat Rock, N.C., where he had spent Christmas Day with his friend, poet Carl Sandburg.

LONG TROUBLES

An overweight condition and a history of heart trouble is hampering Golden's recovery, doctors say.

A son, Dick Golden of Westport, Conn., summoned to his father's bedside, said the family was "hopeful," although they expected Golden to remain in critical condition "at least a few days." Doctors first listed his condition as grave.

Golden, the editor of the Carolina Israelite which he founded in Charlotte in 1942, has long been a champion of civil rights.

Last month, he appeared before a Senate subcommittee in Washington and proposed that the government give the Negro "back pay, which we owe him, at least $100 billion for welfare, education, vocational training and housing."

Embarrassed Thief Left Holding Bag

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — A loaf of bread and a box of cigars is all that a thief got for his efforts recently.

The thief approached Constantine Fekaris, 70, as he was closing his tavern and said:

"Give me your money or I'll kill you!"

★ ★ ★

The thief then grabbed a paper bag Fekaris was carrying. It contained no money, just the bread and some inexpensive cigars, Fekaris said.

Senate Investigation of Pilot Shortage Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Preparedness subcommittee will launch a detailed investigation next year into pilot shortages in the armed services, sources revealed today.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., is reliably reported to be in the process now of deciding whether to hold a special hearing on the pilot problem or incorporate the investigation into its annual probe of readiness.

★ ★ ★

"I think we're in a very bad situation," one subcommittee source said. "We've got a very severe shortage of pilots and it's going to become worse at our rate of loss."

About 300 planes have been shot down over North Vietnam as of Dec. 14; more than 150 were lost there in 1965.

McNAMARA WOES

The planned pilot probe should add to next year's congressional woes for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who also is facing sharp questioning over the U.S. delay in deployment of the Nike X antimissile system. McNamara announced last month there is considerable evidence the Soviet Union has begun deployment of such a system.

★ ★ ★

The defense chief, in a move to ward off even greater shortages in the future, has approved sharp increases in pilot training for the Navy, Air Force and Army.

ORPHANED, HOMELESS—Richard Rogers, 19, left in charge of his family, including five younger sisters, after the death of their parents in a Dec. 8 car crash, ponders the future as he and sister Barbara, 15, stand outside their home yesterday after it was swept by fire. Although the youngsters lost clothing and furnishings, firemen saved Christmas presents which neighbors had provided.

Deaf-Mute Child Involved as Witness in Court Case

DETROIT (AP)— "Home?"

The questioner enunciated the word emphatically, painstakingly.

Stephen Smith, 8, the only eyewitness to a burglary of his house Nov. 16, blinked his bright eyes uncertainly.

Unable since birth to hear or speak, read sign language or print, write or understand any but the simplest words in lip reading, he came to court to testify Wednesday.

Neither attorneys nor Judge William J. Giovan could remember any previous Michigan cases involving a witness like Stephen.

And it turned out as they all expected, they said.

"Home?" repeated the questioner, Mrs. Leah Moir, who has taught Stephen for more than two years at a school for the deaf. She was assisting the prosecution.

QUESTION SIGN

She shrugged her shoulders quizzically, indicating that it was a question.

Stephen pointed to his house—a picture of it mounted on an easel among pictures of other houses.

A few more moments, uttered words and gestures, and Stephen indicated he had seen someone raise a back window of his house.

The courtroom was silent.

The critical question: "Who?"

The boy pointed to the defense table flanked by three 17-year-olds charged with breaking into the house and taking a television set, a radio, a console cabinet and other items.

He narrowed the choice to Willie Rex Jr.

"Who else?"

Smiling and enjoying the attention of the court, he bounced over to the defense table and pointed to Curtis Grimes and William Trice.

GRINS BACK

Grimes grinned back at the happy youngster.

Stephen drew pictures of the stolen items.

But then came the cross-examination.

★ ★ ★

Rex's attorney, Donald Garfinkle, asked Stephen questions about the time of day, his ability to see, other basic cross-examination questions.

Stephen could not understand the words.

Judge Giovan called a halt.

"Regardless of what he has said of the guilt of the defendants so far, there ought to be some cross-examination possible," he said. "It may be unfortunate that there are no other witnesses, but we can't hold these men on this kind of evidence."

Stephen also could not understand the judge. As the defendants were released, the youngster was still smiling.

To Visit British

Kosygin Stirs Hope

LONDON (UPI) — British officials today foresaw the impending visit of Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin as an attempt to settle some of the major points of difference between Russia and the West — principally the Vietnam war.

Kosygin will visit Britain from Feb. 6 to 13 at the invitation of Prime Minister Harold Wilson, it was announced yesterday. The agenda for the visit calls for wide-ranging talks on a variety of topics, including some of only bilateral interest.

But the war in Vietnam was expected to occupy the major role in the discussions.

Wilson was considered certain to raise the whole Vietnam issue with Kosygin and to press the Soviet leader to cooperate in new efforts to bring the North Vietnam to the conference table.

★ ★

The Russians apparently discussed the war frankly with Foreign Secretary George Brown last month when he visited Moscow.

DETERMINED TO CONTINUE

The British government has made it clear that despite its failure in the past to win Soviet support for Vietnam peace moves, Britain is determined to continue the effort as long as necessary.

So far, Moscow has firmly refused to participate in any public peace initiative despite hints it has some influence with the North Vietnamese.

Diplomatic sources believed, however, increasing pressure on the United States to escalate the war and Soviet reaction to American bombing of North Vietnam did not augur well for more cooperation from the Russians.

But the sources said, Kosygin's willingness to visit Britain, a staunch supporter of American Vietnam policy, and renewed talks between the two leaders could be a step in the right direction.

Little progress was likely to be made towards an extension of the nuclear test ban treaty, the sources said. The Russians have rejected outright the idea of a meeting of scientific advisers to work out methods of policing the ban.

But the outlook for a treaty restricting the spread of nuclear weapons was considered brighter. The Russians have recently repeated their interest in such a pact, which they term an "urgent matter."
