Ike Firm on H-Bomb Tests, Adlai Woos California Vote

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower today replied again to Adlai Stevenson's proposals to halt H-bomb tests and work toward ending the draft. Then he declared he would say no more on these two subjects.

The President's self-proclaimed last word on the subjects was stated with restrained bitterness at a news conference in which he repeated his previous stand on the two issues.

Eisenhower rebutted Stevenson's charge that scientists have a better understanding of his proposal for suspending testing of hydrogen bombs than "Republican politicians."

Eisenhower said he admits he has no great knowledge of nuclear science. But, he added, he has been working for years with scientists and never made a move in the atomic field without consulting them.

He said his administration's record is clear both in the fields of atomic power and military manpower. In his weekly meeting with newsmen, the President also made these points:

1. He will go anywhere in the world in the cause of peace based on justice. This includes appearing before the United Nations on (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Barnstorming Adlai E. Stevenson bid today for California's 32 electoral votes after being assured by Oregon Democrats he would carry their state.

Stevenson shifted his campaign to California last night, flying from Portland, Ore., where he got a roaring welcome at a party rally.

At Portland, a crowd which overflowed into the streets from the 4,200-seat public auditorium applauded him again and again as he jabbed at President Eisenhower with a charge of "indifference."

He said Eisenhower seemed in his speech from Pittsburgh Tuesday night to resent the Democratic charges he has been "indifferent" toward labor, social security and the unemployed. He said that reminded him of an old comment that "what some people do say so loud you can't hear what they say."

Postal Inspection Tag Not Needed —Summertield

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General Summertield announced today that the familiar label "may be opened for postal inspection" no longer is needed on sealed second, third and fourth class matter.

Summertield said he had adopted the suggestion of his legal department that the inspection regulation is now so well known to the public that when the sender seals such packages he gives implicit authorization for its inspection.

The requirement for labeling has been in effect since 1921. Summertield said that when a mailer does not wish to have his mail opened for inspection, he needs only to mark the item "first class" and attach the proper first-class postage.

Pontiac Is 'Outpost' for Army Contracts

Designation of Pontiac as one of 42 state "outposts" at which the Army will help small businesses obtain defense contracts was announced today by C. B. Kaltwasser, business specialist for the Detroit Ordnance District.

The plan calls for the posting of a register of all pending Army Ordnance contracts for weapons, ammunition and tank-automotive equipment by the chambers of commerce of the 42 cities.

John Hirtlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber, said today that the local Industrial Affairs Committee plans to invite heads of small area industries together soon to discuss the plan.

Similar plans will operate in Royal Oak and Rochester, according to Kaltwasser.

Donations Show Public Accepts UF Fund Hike

Special Gifts Indicate Willingness for Extra 9 Per Cent to '56 Drive

The nine per cent increase asked by this year's Pontiac Area United Fund seems to be widely accepted, according to Campaign Chairman Walter K. Willman today.

Advance reports from Special Gifts Division

Torchlighters, he said, show a willingness to give extra to put the drive over the top Oct. 23 to Nov. 18.

The increase is needed to support the fund's 54 youth, health, family and social agencies. The fund is asking $612,202.

Special Gifts Torchlighters have been soliciting nearly 300 firms and individual givers since Sept. 25. Division Chairman H. Wayne Gabert announced the following gifts reflecting the nine per cent increase:

Pontiac State Bank—$1225; Lewis Furniture Company—$385; Mr. & Mrs. R. A. Armstrong—$500; H. Wayne Gabert—$325; Ward's Home Outfitting—$165; Barnett's Clothes—$165; Battery D 516th AAA Missile Battalion—$160.67; Austin-Norvell Agency—$160; Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Ward—$120; Norwalk Truck Lines—$115; Dallas & Mavis—$110; Rip's Bar & Grill—$110; Rapp's National Clothing—$50.

LARGE GIFTS LISTED

Gabert also listed the following large gifts: Sears, Roebuck & Company—$2,300; Mr. & Mrs. O. L. Beaudette—$1,200; Fleet Carrier Corp.—$1,000; Matilda Wilson Fund—$850; Stewart-Glen Furniture—$500; Thomas Economy Furniture—$500; Mrs. James Tuttle—$500; The F. J. Doyle Co., employees—$463.70; Dickinson's—$300; J. A. Tillson—$300; Wyman Furniture—$350; Mrs. William Scripps—$250; Good Housekeeping Shop of Pontiac—$200; Holden's Trading Stamps—$150; Sam Benson—$150; Mrs. Grace Corwin—$150; U. S. Truck Co.—$100; Alfred G. Wilson—$100; O'Brien Heating & Supply employees—$88; Holland Furnace Co.—$80; Automatic Heating Co.—$75; Gelston V. Poole—$65; Wayne C. Miller—$50; Arthur C. Compton & Sons—$50; Mrs. D. G. Booth, $50.

As the official opening date of the campaign approaches, drive activities are increasing, Willman said.

Reports are expected soon from the Commercial Division, which began soliciting following training sessions this week, according to Chairman James F. Nye.

The Geographic Division will kick off its campaign with a brunch Tuesday at Devon Gables.

Jehovah's Witness Awaits Court Ruling

A decision is expected today in an assault and battery case brought by a "disfellowshipped" Jehovah's witness who claims sect followers bodily kicked him out of Pontiac's Kingdom Hall Aug. 9.

The decision will be announced by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum, who heard the case brought by Chester Waugh of 55 Newberry, St., against Albert Kizer of 733 E. Pike St.

The case is the latest battle in Waugh's private war with the sect since his ouster at what he calls an "unfair" hearing in 1954.

Waugh lost a Circuit Court suit last spring in which he sought to force the Witnesses in Drayton Plains to allow him to enter and worship at their Kingdom Hall.

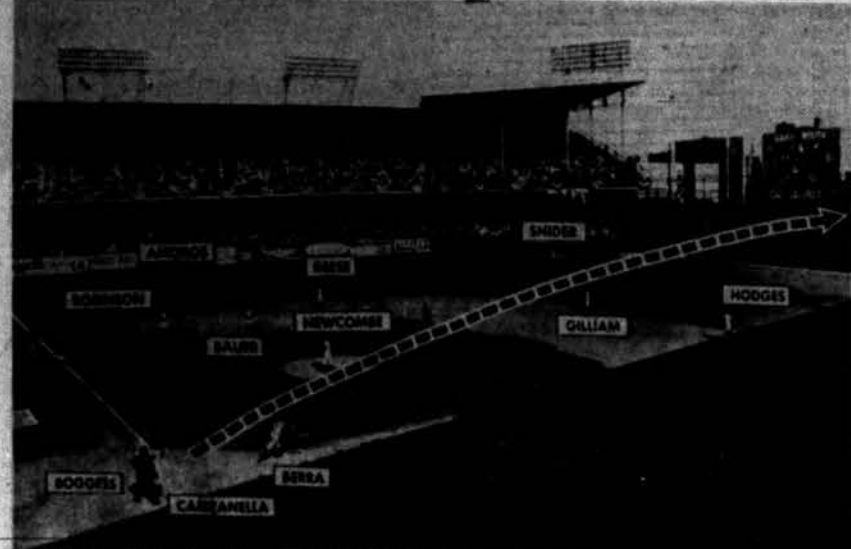

Foil Hubcap Rustlers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Auto hubcaps, like calves, are going to be branded in this part of the wild and woolly West, says the Los Angeles Police Commission. Stamping hubcaps with tiny license numbers would help reduce the $1,000-a-day loss to car strippers, Lt. B. M. Myer, of the auto theft detail, said.

Riots Rage in Hong Kong, 8 Killed, Looting Continues

HONG KONG (AP) — British troops and police battled with riot guns, bayonets and tear gas today against frenzied mobs of Chinese rioting and pillaging for the second straight day on Hong Kong's mainland Kowloon Peninsula.

At least eight Chinese were reported dead in the century's worst outbreak of violence in the British crown colony packed to the explosion point with refugees from Communist China.

Moore Will Get Lie Test Friday

Accused Sex-Slayer of Martha Little, 3, to Face Trial Tuesday

Accused sex-slayer Howard Wayne Moore will be given a lie detector test Friday, four days before his scheduled trial for first-degree murder, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem confirmed yesterday.

The test, however, probably will not be allowable as evidence for or against the 23-year-old former furnace repairman who has repudiated his confession he bludgeoned to death his Lake Orion neighbor's daughter, Martha Little, 3.

Ziem said he agreed to the test after repeated requests from Moore and Moore's court-appointed attorney, Carl Ingraham, of Birmingham.

The results probably will not be made public, Ziem said, fearing any announcement might prejudice the jury. Lie tests, he said, are not allowable in Michigan courts unless the judge so rules after both prosecution and defense have agreed.

Moore is charged with luring the victim into his car after dinner and driving her 11 miles to a deserted lovers' lane, where he sexually assaulted and killed her.

Moore since has alleged detectives "talked him into" the confession. He explained he was "confused" after hours of questioning.

Meanwhile, Ingraham confirmed that Moore's mother, Mrs. Minnie Fairchild of Oxford, who stoutly has affirmed her son's innocence, is seeking possible witnesses who saw Moore on the night of the killing.

She believes there is reason to think Moore, who once claimed he "blackened out" that night because of too much beer, was in Pontiac, Ingraham said.

Mrs. Fairchild asked that possible witnesses come forward to help her son.

Sunshine Scares Off Frost on Pumpkin

Tonight's weather forecast for the Pontiac area is fair and somewhat warmer with a low of 40 degrees expected, after frost last night.

It will be partly cloudy and warmer tomorrow. The thermometer is expected to reach from 63 to 67 degrees.

The low last night in the downtown Pontiac area was 32. The mercury stood at 56 degrees at 2 p.m. today in downtown Pontiac.

Fisher to Recall 1,000 Workers

Division to Call Back 6,400 in 6 State Cities Before December 1

Stepped-up production in the auto industry is expected to result in the recall of 1,000 laid-off employees of Pontiac's Fisher Body plant, reliable sources reported today.

Recall of the hourly-rated workers, already under way, is part of a general back-to-work movement which will find the present labor force increased by 6,400 before Dec. 1 in Pontiac, Detroit, Flint, Lansing, Grand Blanc and Grand Rapids plants.

The local recalls will reportedly affect employees laid off in the past six months, and will comprise the plant's second shift. About 4,500 hourly and salaried workers are employed here when production is at its peak.

The Pontiac Motor Division will officially begin production of 1957 models Monday when 4,000 employees will return to work after a brief changeover and inventory period. The shutdown began Oct. 2 when production of 1956 models was completed.

Officials of the Ford Motor Co. revealed yesterday that the firm had recalled 12,500 workers between Sept. 1 and the end of last week. The number of Ford hourly-rated workers now stands at 139,500, only 500 under the top figure expected by early December.

Heart Attacks Can Be Predicted, Says Specialist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Future heart attacks can now be predicted 20 to 40 years before they occur, says a University of California researcher.

Dr. John W. Gofman told a group of heart specialists that studies of the amount of giant fat molecules in the blood of children and young adults will show those who face the risk of heart attacks in the future.

"This is no longer a theory," he said. "It has been solidly proven."

Dr. Gofman said those identified as possible risks can be placed on diets to reduce the blood fat content and thus head off heart disease.

Head of St. Joseph's Eyes Campaign

Cost of Hospital Addition May Climb

Possibility that the cost of the proposed St. Joseph Mercy Hospital addition might shoot above the $6 million mark, was expressed yesterday by Sister Mary William, hospital administrator.

"Rising building costs might push the goal of our campaign above the $6 million mark," she said.

"Until our chairman is definitely a man, I don't feel that I can say what our addition is going to cost," the Sister stated.

She added that she didn't expect bids to be taken on the proposed wing "for another year or maybe longer."

Plans for the $6 million wing, which is expected to add 200 beds to the hospital's present capacity of 310, were announced in May. During this planning period for expansion at the local hospital, it is constantly bulging at the seams with admissions.

With a September waiting list of 217, nurses at the hospital have been forced to convert all private rooms into semi-private. Additional beds have been placed in semi-private rooms.

On the 25th of last month, as many as 12 cots were needed to take care of patients seeking rooms. At last resort, when cots have filled all rooms, beds have lined hospital corridors.

Last month, 1,405 patients were admitted to the hospital. On Sept. 24, the admitting office was swamped with a high of 63 admissions. There were 1,395 patients discharged during September.

Last month also, a record number of 427 babies were delivered.

Search Atlantic for Home-Bound C118 Transport

Left London Yesterday, Failed to Make Azores Fuel Stop

LAKENHEATH, England (AP) — A U. S. military transport plane with 59 aboard vanished over the eastern Atlantic today.

Scores of planes and ships started a far-flung search.

The missing craft, a giant C118 Liftmaster of the Military Air Transport Service, was carrying two Air Force officers and 48 Air Force enlisted men back to the United States after duty in England.

Also aboard was a nine-man crew of three officers and six enlisted men.

The four-engine plane, military version of the civilian DC8, left this American base, 60 miles north of London, at 1:26 p.m. Pontiac time yesterday on a 1,200-mile leg to Lajes Air Force Base in the Azores.

It was last heard from at 3:36 p.m., when it was about 180 miles southwest of Land's End, Britain's most westerly point.

The transport was due at Lajes at 7:21 p.m. Wednesday. When it last reported back to base here it still had enough fuel to keep it airborne until 12:30 a.m.

SEARCH ORDERED

At 4 a.m., however, American and British military authorities ordered a gigantic search of the entire ocean area from England to the Azores on the presumption the plane was down.

Normally MATS planes have three or more life rafts, each capable of carrying 30 men.

By noon today the planes engaged in the search had swelled to 30, including three six-engine U.S. B47 jet bombers flying at high altitude and using radar in an effort to pick up some clue.

Other British, American and Portuguese Air Force planes from Germany, France, North Africa and the Azores combed the eastern Atlantic, and all shipping in the area was asked to be on the alert for signs of wreckage or survivors.

The search was aided by excellent weather and visibility up to 18 miles. Rescue operations were being directed from St. Marguare, Wales.

An Air Force spokesman said the Liftmaster would have flown on from the Azores to either Westover Air Force Base, Mass., or McGuire AFB, N. J., depending on the weather.

At least 127 U. S. military personnel have lost their lives in air crashes in the past 11 weeks. July 13, a C118 transport crashed about a minute after taking off from McGuire. Forty-six men went to their deaths in a still unexplained crack-up.

Joys of Autumn, for Young, Old

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.
Now that the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder's in the shock again, it's time to offer a rebuttal to the giggling critics who look at the fall season only as a menacing prelude to snow, sleet and howling winds.

The Press herewith offers its own list of the season's joys for old and young.

THE HARVEST

Huge golden pumpkins; juicy red apples; barrels full of sweet-smelling, scone-producing hay; stubbled fields covered with marching formations of corn shocks; fat potatoes turned out of their beds; barn dances; Halloween jack-o'-lanterns; harvest moon; apple cider.

Countywide Proposal Hailed as Cooperating Unit by Detroiters

At a joint meeting of planners from five Detroit area counties in Plymouth last night, a representative of the Detroit Area Builders Assn. hailed the recent Oakland County proposal for a countywide Department of Public Works.

Irving Yackness, executive secretary of the builders' group, told planners from Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, St. Clair and Washtenaw Counties he thinks county planners could work more closely with such a department than with present diversified municipal authorities.

Need for cooperation among county planning agencies was emphasized. Richard B. Fernbach, first vice chairman of the Detroit Metropolitan Regional Planning Commission, pointed out that Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties are all landlocked, and must cooperate with others to establish water supplies and drainage outlets.

Richard A. Ware, secretary of the Real Estate Foundation of Ann Arbor and former assistant director of the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, told the group county boards of supervisors should use more staff aid from their plan commissions in formulating policy.

Ware suggested problems could be relegated to the planners by supervisors' resolutions. The group agreed to hold another informal discussion meeting next spring.

Disney, 32, was attacked when he returned home after a walk with Bruno, a three-year-old Great Dane belonging to E. C. Thompson of Clawson.

Thompson told police the attack came as a complete surprise because Dr. Disney and the dog "seemed to get along very well" during previous visits. Thompson added that he had planned to give Bruno to the physician as a present.

Disney was bitten about the nose, lip and left hand. The dog was ordered placed in quarantine until rabies test is made.

Troy Girl, 5, Loses Battle With Leukemia

Little Marie Mean has lost her two-year battle against leukemia. During that time, Marie, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mean, 5860 Hillmore, Troy, played alongside her little sister Linda, unaware of the dread disease.

The Troy community opened their hearts to help the child and the parents. Churches were filled with prayers for Marie. The parents struggled to finance medical bills.

But all this ended at the Children's Hospital in Detroit. Now both parents are praying for continued research to provide a cure for leukemia.

Marie will lie in state Saturday at noon at the Countryside Chapel, Troy. Service will follow at 1 p.m. at the Spiller-Gramer Funeral Home, 705 North Main, Clawson. Burial will be at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Surviving are three-year-old Linda, sister Sandra, 11 months, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Alt of Lapeer, and Mrs. and Mrs. Albert Mean, Troy.

Detroit Pleads Innocent to Stealing Furnace

George Ross Jr., 32, of Detroit, yesterday pleaded innocent to stealing a furnace, June 26, from an unoccupied West Bloomfield Township house.

Ross was sent to Oakland County Jail by Justice Elmer C. Dieterle who set bond at $1,000. Ross, arrested by Detroit Police Sunday, will be examined on a charge of grand larceny within 10 days.

BAKING AND BURNING

The liniment will be rubbed into Father's back tonight. This afternoon the smell of burning leaves hangs over the neighborhood, and all the kids are jumping into leaf piles.

FOOTBALL

Saturday will be fine, crisp and sunny. The stadium will be filled to capacity. Young men will maul each other around the field. The crowd will scream. The referee's whistle will shrill. Somebody will make a touchdown. It will be lovely.

HUNTING

A man with a shotgun and a dog crouched in a duck blind at dawn today. He was stiff and cold. So was the dog. His decoys bobbed up and down on the water. Three ducks flew over and he shot at them. He missed, but he got one the next time. The dog swam after it, brought it back, and shook cold water all over the man. He liked it.

PUTTING UP STORM WINDOWS

ELECTIONS

A fall without an election is only half a fall, but this year we're lucky. Candidates are in season, scurrying about the countryside like rabbits. Families are split into hostile camps. Mustaches become great issues. Democrats bicker with Republicans. It's good clean fun.

Man Takes Own Life—

Feared Traffic Conviction

Worry over possible drunk driving conviction was listed by Oakland County Sheriff's deputies as one reason for the suicide yesterday of a 46-year-old Orion Township man at the home of his uncle, with whom he stayed.

Willie E. Caples was found dead of shotgun wounds at 2301 Gregory Rd., they said, a few hours after he failed to attend trial in Pontiac Municipal Court.

Caples was arrested Sept. 28 and his car impounded. Police added that Caples, divorced, owed back alimony payments.

August Palace

August Palace, 47, of 2979 Edgewater Dr. died Tuesday morning in the Ann Arbor Veterans' Hospital. He was ill four years.

Born in Italy on April 16, 1909, he was the son of Joseph F. and Monica Briglio Palace. He came here with his parents from Italy 36 years ago.

Mr. Palace, who was in the construction business, attended the Baldwin Avenue and St. Frederick schools. A veteran of World War II, he was a member of the Cook-Nelson Post of the American Legion.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Aniga Margonelle, and three brothers, Joseph, Paul and Samuel, all of Pontiac.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 o'clock this evening in the Brack-Smith Funeral Home. The funeral will be from St. Michael's Catholic Church at 10 a.m. Friday with burial following in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Red Cross Hears Talk on Planning

Noland Heiden of the Oakland County Planning Commission spoke at the quarterly dinner-meeting of the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, at Haven Hill Lodge in Highland last night.

Heiden covered the trends in growth in urban and suburban developments in Oakland County as they would relate to an organization such as the Red Cross.

He spoke of the increasing migration of young people to the county and how these increasing numbers of young marrieds would affect the volunteer program of the Red Cross.

The Rev. William C. Hamm of Lake Angeles presided over the meeting.

Auto Strikes Bicyclist

A bicyclist, Waterford Township police said, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after riding into the path of a moving car.

Jack Howey, 13, of 2818 Buick St., suffered multiple cuts and bruises, authorities said.

The boy was struck by the car of Dale J. Graffmiller, 53, of 3312 Pontiac Lake Rd., on Pontiac Lake Road near Scott Lake road, police said.

Ten Traffic Suggestions to Face Plan Board Vote

BIRMINGHAM—Ten major traffic recommendations discussed Tuesday night by Planning Board Members and Chamber of Commerce representatives will come before the Planning Board for approval on the coming Tuesday night.

Tentative agreement at the committee session was given to a ban on parking along the south side of Maple Avenue in the business district from 7 to 9 a.m.

The time was set following discussion after the suggestions by Traffic Engineer Theodore Vanderstempel and Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley were submitted. They had asked 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Stores open at 9 a.m.

Other new traffic rules suggested are bans on left turns at Henrietta and Maple and at the Bates Street entrance to the Waback Parking Lot.

Donald L. Cummings of a Chamber of Commerce committee expressed confidence in such plans as synchronizing traffic lights, Willets street widening, additional parking lots, and the crossovers on Hunter avenue at Oak and Hamilton streets.

The board of education will receive bids on Valley Woods Elementary School, and on a $300,000 tax anticipation note at a special meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in the Hill School board room.

Other business will also be handled, according to Ernest W. Seaholm, board president.

Final League of Women Voters unit session will be that of Group No. VI at Mrs. Elliot Reynolds' home, 407 Greenwood Ave. tonight at 8 p.m.

General membership meeting will be next Monday at the Community House, when the recreation program and the library of the city will be discussed.

Reply to Reporters' Queries

Adlai in Excellent Health

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson's news secretary said today he produced an "excellent" health report on his candidate in reply to reporters' queries.

As a matter of fact, Clayton Fritchey said, "It wasn't a campaign gimmick. We didn't intend to make public the report at all."

He did so yesterday at Portland, Ore., he said, because "we have tive X-rays of the chest and urinary tract."

"The pulse was 72 and blood pressure 120-70," the certification from the doctor said. "The examiner was impressed with Mr. Stevenson's negative physical and laboratory findings. The status of his health was noted to be excellent."

Dr. Riba is the Chicago doctor who has attended the Democratic presidential nominee since June 1952.

Since that time, Riba said, he has been operated on only once, on April 12, 1954, for "stones in the ureter."

Reporters' queries, Fritchey said, were prompted by a question Vice President Nixon asked while he was answering one on President Eisenhower's health at a recent press conference. After commenting on the President's health, Nixon added, "By the way, I wonder how Mr. Stevenson's other kidney is today?"

El Capitan, the huge granite block in Yosemite national park, is about three times as high as the Empire State building in New York.

Yank Hurling, Power Win Them World Series

Hats off to the New York Yankees! The Bronx Bombers came from behind to win the series four games to three and the larger of two pots of gold at the end of the World Series rainbow.

Before the deciding game had progressed very far STENGEL's men were leading 5-0 as the result of an explosive display of home run hitting as most fans can remember. During the nine innings of that contest they banged out four round trippers to set a new series record of 12.

Two of the homers were off the bat of Yogi Berra, the big RBI man of the series with a total of 10, one more than Babe Ruth in 1928 and Lou Gehrig in 1932. Others were hit by Elston Howard and Bill Skowron, the latter a grand slammer.

Everybody on the Yankee roster contributed something to the downfall of the Dodgers. Not only were the hitting and pitching superb, but a bouquet also is due to Yankee Manager CASEY STENGEL for a fancy bit of managerial masterminding.

For the decisive game CASEY shifted his lineup sending ELSTON HOWARD into left field to replace ENOS SULLIVAN, BILL SKOWRON to first base to replace JOE COLLINS and 23-year-old JOHNNY KUCKS to the mound. And didn't this trio reward his judgment handsomely? The youthful KUCKS yielded only three scattered singles to the Dodgers while his mates were pounding out 10 off three Dodger pitchers.

By their exceptional performance the Yankees more than made up for their dismal showing in the first two games. Those defeats and the loss of the 1955 series to the Dodgers had raised a pertinent question in the minds of American League fans; many no doubt were asking themselves "have the Yankees lost their mastery over the Dodgers?"

Every baseball fan already knows the answer.

Strait Span on Schedule

A highly encouraging progress report on construction of the Mackinac Bridge has come from PRENTISS M. BROWN, chairman of the Bridge Authority.

Addressing a luncheon meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, Mr. BROWN reported that the bridge is three-quarters complete. He added that there is every prospect that the nearly five mile long span will be ready for use by the originally set deadline of November 1, 1957.

Chairman BROWN is optimistic over prospects for increased traffic across the $100,000,000 bridge. While experts estimate that this traffic will increase by 125 per cent, Mr. BROWN contented himself with the statement that there is no doubt that the bridge will be able to pay for itself.

His report should be good news for hunters as well as tourists. It means that this is the last year they will have to wait seemingly endless hours in mile long lines for State ferries. Another conclusion that strikes us as reasonable is that the bridge by linking Michigan's two peninsulas, will stimulate the tourist industries of both.

It also seems logical to believe that the bridge soon will prove one of the State's greatest tourist attractions. Certainly a drive over the strait where the blue waters of Lakes Huron and Michigan meet should be an unforgettable scenic experience.

Anti-Semitism Charge Against Nixon Spiked

It is a pleasure to report that a charge of anti-Semitism leveled against Vice President NIXON has brought strong defenders to his side.

Branding the charge a "false innuendo," the Washington Post says "the only remedy for it is a clear statement of the truth and a reliance on the good sense of the American public." We share that opinion.

Quite properly refraining from repeating the charge, the Post quotes HENRY EDWARD SCHULTZ, national chairman of the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, an educational organization operating to expose bigotry:

"There is nothing in the record of Mr. Nixon to indicate in any way that he is anti-Semitic. We believe these rumors to be a recurrence of false charges made during the 1952 campaign and are as untrue today as they were then."

While it is impossible for us to believe that our Vice President is anti-Semitic, he needs no defense from us.

The Man About Town

Many Changes in Pontiac and Vicinity During 1956

Baseball: What now allows a resumption of business—and football—and politics.

We wonder if any other area in the entire nation can show such a change in its landscape as the Pontiac vicinity during recent months. Hills have been torn down, low ground filled up, forests removed, and the general terrain given a face lifting that is truly amazing. All is in preparation for a business and home building development that almost is beyond imagination. Most of it is within ten miles of downtown Pontiac, and well worth your inspection.

When he tore down an old garage,

Morgan Whitman of Walled Lake, discovered over five bushels of nuts and acorns that had been stored under it by squirrels, who now are moving them to a hollow tree over 20 rods away. They even work nights.

A coin in the possession of Mrs. Melville E. Luttrell of Bloomfield Hills, has on its face the picture and name of James K. Polk, 11th president of the U.S. On the other side is inscribed: "Young Hickory, Governor of Tennessee; Speaker of the House; Annex California, New Mexico; Add Northwest Territory. A Man of Ability. Identified with Slave Interest. First Dark Horse." It was found in the effects of the late Mr. Luttrell who for many years was in business in Pontiac.

Chrysanthemums that measure ten inches across are growing in the garden of

of Drayton Plains. They are from an imported seed.

For one-sided voting, Pontiac's 34th precinct went all out two years ago when it gave Leonard 12 votes for governor and Williams 412.

"I was eliminated in the first football round," writes of Auburn Heights, who continues, "but I'll be back for the next contest."

Under the direction of a committee of which is chairman, the Chamber of Commerce is sending out a questionnaire: "What do you think is the single most important improvement for the City of Pontiac?" When you get one, do not fail to express your views.

In There Pitching

David Lawrence Says:

It's Naive to Ban H-Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON — The Communists have achieved one of their most important propaganda victories in the "cold war" — they can boast that proposals for prohibiting superbomb tests are being debated in the U. S. presidential campaign and are attracting worldwide attention.

Ever since the Russians tested their first A-bomb in 1949, an insidious campaign, mostly through "left-wing" circles, has been carried on in the forums of world opinion to end the tests.

Communist party newspapers for several years have harped on the issue of A-bomb tests. Now that Adlai Stevenson has given prominence in his speeches to the idea of banning H-bomb tests, the Communist press is playing up everything said on the subject and is commending Stevenson for his position.

What is back of the steady effort of the Moscow regime to focus attention on H-bomb tests, and what is behind the constant emphasis on the supposed willingness of the Soviets to keep any agreement banning the use of superbombs?

STRATEGY MOTIVATES

The answer lies in the field of military strategy. When the United States dropped the atom bomb on Japan, Soviet Russia didn't have the weapon. For a long time thereafter the American and British position was that possession of this bomb served as a deterrent in preventing Communist armies from overrunning Europe. Winston Churchill made that very statement in one of his important speeches.

When the Communists announced in 1949 they had "an atomic weapon," they knew they couldn't manufacture them in the quantity or variety the United States could. Moscow military strategists also knew, if they could prevent further development in America through tests, they would afford the Soviet Union a big advantage in the next war.

The Stevenson idea of a one-sided ban on superbomb tests is not altogether new. It so happened that, inside the Atomic Energy Commission during the Truman administration, there was a hesitancy to develop the H-bomb. The lag of nearly three years was costly to America. The argument was supposedly based on the moral side, and some of the scientists indirectly connected with Communist causes were lined up against further work on the H-bomb.

Hence America from 1946 to early 1950 virtually put a self-imposed ban on developing or testing H-bombs while Russia went ahead developing bombs of all kinds and was thereby able to adopt a belligerent attitude in the "cold war" and even to instigate Red Chinese aggression in Korea.

It was suggested in April in a public speech by Adlai Stevenson that America should halt the testing of her own and wait and see what Russia does. The argument he made was that the United States could later reconsider and resume the testing if Russia made any more tests.

President Eisenhower has answered this by revealing it takes months of preparation for the tests and valuable time would be lost if America waited to see what Russia would do.

What the whole thing amounts to is this: Soviet Russia wants the superbombs banned. When that happens, the big land armies of the Communists will dominate Europe. It's a strategic move. If an easily deluded man is ever elected President of the United States and falls for these proposals, disaster for America can result.

Tests are necessary in order to determine not merely how to drop bombs in a war against an aggressor but how to intercept planes that carry them before they get across the ocean.

The tests have a defensive as well as an offensive purpose. To ban them is to jeopardize America's safety. If any one thing will alienate votes in America for Stevenson, it is his naive attitude toward the proposals to ban tests of the superbomb.

Dr. William Brady Says:

If You Must Chew, Why Do You Chew Tobacco?

A reader who had coronary thrombosis a year ago says the doctor advised him to quit smoking, and he did. But the doctor said nothing about chewing tobacco. With reddened face I acknowledge the omission—but then, I got away with it for years, up to now. Now this reader nails me with his query:

"In my case is chewing tobacco harmful, even a mild tobacco?"

Well, now, I wouldn't—

Let me put it this way. If the theories advanced, assertions made and conclusions drawn by countless medical authorities and toxicologists are correct, a hired-man-size chew of tobacco should flatten the subject before he can spit. The chemists find various kinds of tobacco contain from 1 per cent to 6 per cent of nicotine, and the toxicologists state that two drops of nicotine placed on the tongue or rubbed on the gums of a small dog or cat will kill the animal in two minutes.

Most if not all the nicotine in tobacco is destroyed by combustion when one smokes pipe, cigar, or cigarette.

The yellow stain on fingers or handkerchief, commonly ascribed to "nicotine" is not from nicotine but from tar. Pure nicotine is colorless.

Current and classical medical literature furnishes many authoritative reports of the poisonous effect of nicotine or tobacco, but unfortunately the classical authorities (authors) regularly padded their books by rehearsing bald assertions of their predecessors, and so it is difficult to separate the wheat from the chaff.

"In man, death has followed the use of tobacco as a poultice, the application of an infusion in skin disease, the injection of infusion into the rectum for worms, the plugging of a wound with a quid of tobacco to stop bleeding, swallowing or inhaling the spray of nicotine insecticides. . . . A soldier committed suicide by swallowing cigarettes. The lethal dose of nicotine for an adult is 8 grains, but death has been reported from 1 grain."

That's the way one standard textbook has it. All carefully furtive—you can't pin anything on anybody. Yet if you are not helped to the ways of medical authorities, you are likely to get an impression that such hearsay is evidence.

It is not my intention to deny any of these legends of the poisonous effects of tobacco or nicotine. I merely observe that it seems strange that I have never encountered a case of serious or fatal tobacco or nicotine poisoning in country, city, or hospital practice, and it seems equally strange that there is such a paucity of reports in current medical literature of actual tobacco or nicotine poisoning from chewing tobacco.

As for the injurious effects of smoking, I believe carbon monoxide anoxia is the essential factor.

If you must chew something, why chew tobacco and make yourself offensive to other persons? Chew wheat, or pitch, or, if jaws and teeth are namby-pamby, chew gum.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Parents, Not Child Illegitimate

Do you worship the false idol of blood kinship? If so, better read this case record carefully. And never be guilty of such cruel back-passing as to call an infant an "illegitimate brat," just because its parents may have been illegitimate in God's sight.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case S-388: Bobby, aged six weeks, is a baby boy available for adoption.

"Oh, Dr. Crane, can't you please help me?" begged a charming wife, aged 29.

"We have been married for six years, and the doctors tell me I can never bear a baby of my own."

"But now I have a chance to adopt Bobby, and he is wonderful. But my husband says he doesn't want to father anybody else's illegitimate brat," and she winced as she repeated those words.

"I'm almost crazy with worry and longing, so can't you tell my husband something that will change his mind?"

"He'd really make a wonderful father if he would only change his mind about the idea of adopting a child?"

ADVICE TO MEN

Don't call any baby illegitimate, for no infant is ever illegitimate, though its parents may be so!

Voice of the People

Area Residents Discuss Local and National Politics

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I agree with Betty Hall that Roosevelt was quite a "giver," but the dough he gave away was not "his'n." Hoover was the best businessman who ever sat in the White House, and in 1929 we had an income of 83 billions. Then they gave him a hostile congress and no money to do the things he knew should be done.

As the incoming president, Roosevelt gave him no cooperation. The problems were "not his babies." But he gave us a promise that he would cut taxes 25 per cent if elected. Did he? He gave us a hodge-podge of executive orders and decrees and an army of "experts" to hamper the businessman until the national income didn't get above 75 billions until the war.

He gave us such a deal that the papers said, "We must get rid of this man." He soon gave Joe Stalin 10 billions and gave us the 50 cent dollar, and that won't bring four per cent interest in the bank as it had done.

He did not give the soldiers the bonus. Congress did that over his veto. In eight years he gave us a country that he himself said in 1940 was "ill-clothed, ill-housed and ill-fed" and there were 10 million men out of work.

At Teheran and Yalta, he gave Joe "everything he could" as he thought, or maybe Hiss thought it for him, that Joe would come around. All he gave us was a statement that he liked old Joe. Then, when he was a gray-faced, dying man, who could not walk, could hardly talk, could not carry his own precinct or light his own cigarette, was elected and gave us Truman who didn't know a Communist from a red herring, a man who is now working to elect men whom he claimed a month ago "lacked experience" and were not his choice at all.

Fred E. Hyde

Holly
 I think the Grand Trunk problem is very simple. Certainly we all want to grow and we all want more jobs. If the tracks can be placed at some other point, the railroad should be forced to do it.

If they can't then the tracks should be built right where the Grand Trunk proposes. It's just a question of deciding which place they should go. There is no other problem.

It's time this one question was solved. Things have been dragging for months.

Grocer

I would say to the politicians, remember the ninth Commandment, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." Such insults flying are neither Christian nor the way of a true gentleman.

We have, under Wilson, F.D.R., and Truman, with much loss of life, many suffering invalids. From what I read, these sacrifices were made only to have those men incapable of making a lasting peace. With unsettled world conditions, those sacrifices were made in vain. Freedom on the home front has been lost by the working man in being told when he can work and for what. Thanks to Truman's removing price controls, it is necessary for both parents to work to provide home necessities, creating one of the main causes of delinquency.

Daily Reader

Let us turn away from politics for a short time and look at our own city government. Today we are being forced to trade outside our city because there is not a free parking lot downtown. Meters have been taken out so the taxicabs can have more places, taking the places shoppers use to park. To me this seems so unfair because most people drive their own cars these days.

Another important item is that there is no free parking until after nine o'clock at night. Surely the city isn't that poor. It seems such a shame that the merchants can't see what is happening to them and do something about it. We love our city and our main street has so many beautiful stores, but if the public is forced out like it appears, no one is to blame but the merchants because they won't fight for their rights.

A city governed by people who have no thought but for money soon will destroy itself, and it looks right now that Pontiac's main street is on its way out. Please don't let this happen.

One Who Cares

Somebody says railroads cannot switch cars inside the city limits. I would hate to live in any city that had such a law. It would be a mighty small city, about two houses, maybe.

John X. Public

Mothers, if you put Ike in, as you voted for him before, your sons won't go to war. He may be drafted, but we won't have to do any fighting in the near future.

And if we marry, maybe we pass along 24 chromosomes to match those 24 contributed by our mate.

For a baby requires 48. But neither the father nor the mother creates or originates his or her 24 chromosomes for that baby.

DO NOT WORSHIP BLOOD

"Thou shalt have no other gods before me," states one of our Ten Commandments.

Yet many people worship the false god of blood kinship. "Blood is thicker than water," they argue, but, that's malarky.

Cain killed his blood brother

It will even lay down its life for you. Indeed, marriage is a similar example of "adoption" where two people that are not of any blood kinship adopt each other forever.

After your adopted children are old enough to ask about their origins, explain to them that you adopted their mother, though of no blood kinship, and have felt closer to her than to your blood brothers and sisters.

Likewise, you fell in love with your adopted son or daughter and adopted them, too, in the same manner as you adopted their mother.

To be the proper type of parents, send for my 500-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

And don't hesitate to adopt children when you have the chance. Don't limit yourself to infants, either, for many kids of 8 to 12 crave parents, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane to care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Hunter and Dog in Ancient Ruins

Remains in Alabama Cave Evidence of Long Comradeship

WASHINGTON — Among ancient burials uncovered by archeologists, none stirs the imagination more vividly than the remains of a hunter and his dog.

In an Alabama cave being excavated by the National Geographic Society and the Smithsonian Institution, diggers have found the skeleton of an Indian who died some 4,000 years ago. Nearby a dog had been buried ceremoniously in a well-made tomb, with slab sides. Someone had placed a stone blade in the dog's tomb, perhaps as a token of affection.

The origin of man's long, loving partnership with dogs is lost in antiquity, the society says, but aboriginal dogs apparently existed in almost every part of the world. Some scientists believe dogs descended from wolves, jackals, or foxes; others regard Canidae as an original family.

DEPICT PETS IN ROCK

There is evidence that men and breeds of dogs similar to those known today shared caves in Europe as long ago as 7000 B.C. Prehistoric artists depicted their pets in carvings on rocks, bones, and horns.

Bands of wild dogs probably started the association. It is likely that dogs prowled about inhabited caves to snatch up scraps of foods.

Humans got used to the wild dogs, even encouraging their presence. Now and then a hunter, chancing upon a den, brought home a cuddly wild puppy to amuse the children. Dogs grew up as a part of human households. Master and pet enjoyed each other's mutual comfort and protection.

Hunters no doubt chose the swiftest, strongest dogs to help them in the chase. Out of this selection developed the sporting breeds.

Assyrians, in the distant past, developed two well-known breeds, the Greyhound and Mastiff. Ancient Egyptians bred a dog not unlike the Great Dane. Dogs were so venerated in Egypt that wealthy masters assigned special slaves for their care. In the event of a pet dog's death, Herodotus relates, members of Egyptian families shaved themselves as a sign of deep mourning.

BREED DOGS FOR HUNTING

Meanwhile, Indians of North America bred dogs for hunting, as pets, for food, as a medium of barter, and for ceremonial purposes. Indians regarded their dogs as part of the family, calling them by such endearing names as "son" or "daughter."

Crossings with the Timber or Gray Wolf probably influenced the development of native Indian and Eskimo dogs. However, most breeds prominent in the United States today descend from European species. Among the few distinctly North American breeds are the Chesapeake Bay Retriever, Alaskan Malamute, Chihuahua, and Mexican Hairless.

Many dogs came to American shores with the Spanish conquistadors. The Mayflower carried two dogs with the Pilgrims.

In his love of dogs, civilized man is no different from the cave dweller. President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Scottish Terrier Fala attended international conferences. At the funeral of King Edward VII of England, the monarch's Wire-haired Terrier took precedence over nine kings in the procession.

Among present-day Guiana Indians, a hunter's favorite dog is slain and buried with him to help hunt for food in the world beyond.

Injured in Collision on Cooley Lake Road

Howard Davis, 45, of 2950 Mott St., Waterford Township, suffered cuts and bruises of the left leg when the car he was riding in was struck by another vehicle this morning.

He was released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. The accident took place in front of 5010 Cooley Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

Davis was a passenger in a car operated by Robert Ensminger, 34, of 3380 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township. Ensminger told police he pulled to right edge of the highway but was still struck by a car driven by Dolores A. Gottschack, 18, of 5959 Cooley Lake Rd. The woman said she was blinded by the sun after rounding a curve.

Flint Output Rises

FLINT — Production workers turned out 12.13 cars and trucks per man last year, an increase of 15.5 per cent over the 1954 rate. The yearly average pay of production workers in the automotive industry rose during the same period from $4,645 to $4,834.

Nuclear energy may be the help apparent but coal will probably be king for another generation, says Fuel for the Future, a British publication.

One Stinking Claim

MUSTANG, Okla. (AP) — Sight-seers arriving at tornado ravaged Mustang were puzzled about an odoriferous hair-like substance that covered the small farm town. Holding his nose one resident explained,

"That's all that's left of our one claim to fame, the hog-hair processing plant."

It may take Calcutta "two or three more five-year plan periods" to dispense with all its slums, West Bengal leaders are saying.

Rubbing It In

BERLIN (INS)—The severe coal shortage in Red-run East Berlin prompted Communist city officials to demand that a steel factory worker return his recently de-coated mother's coal ration. A few days after the coal was picked up the steel worker received a bill for the pick-up service.

Report Finances of Both Parties

Oct. 1 Sees Republicans With Over Half Million, Dems $106,000 in Red

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The Republicans reported they had more than a half million dollars in their treasury Oct. 1. The Democrats said they were almost $106,000 in the red.

The national committees of the two parties gave the figures to the Senate Elections subcommittee in response to a questionnaire. The Senate group has been keeping a running tab on campaign contributions and spending.

For September, the Democratic committee reported receipts more than twice those of the Republicans. The Democrats also spent more.

The figures: DEMOCRATS — September receipts $382,047 and expenditures $602,808. Bank balance at month's end of $14,894 and unpaid bills amounting to $120,665. The Democratic committee began the month with a balance of over $664,625.

Too Much Car Span for Too Little Bridge

CORRY, Pa. (AP)—It might not have happened if John Adams, of Roscoe, N.Y., hadn't been driving a miniature sports car over a narrow steel bridge near Corry.

But he was driving a miniature sports car as he and John Zawacki, of nearby Edgeway, approached the bridge from the opposite directions.

Zawacki figured his standard sized car and the small sports car could pass on the bridge with a few inches to spare. So did Adams.

Both were wrong. They got wedged together in the middle of the steel span.

No Leaves to Rake —Relaxes on Cement

OMAHA, (INS)—Sherman Z. Lipstein grew more and more discouraged in his fight against lawn-devouring weeds, dandelions, water grass and dust.

One day in a fit of desperation he vowed war to the knife—or the trowel—against the front yard plagues and called in a contractor.

Now, while neighbor slaves to lawn mowers, garden hose, sprinklers and leaf rakes look on enviously, Lipstein sits in a deck chair on a cool green expanse of concrete and fights nothing more pestiferous than a can of beer.

Lipstein has had no reason to be sorry he had the four-inch-thick "lawn" planted by a cement mixer, and emphatically claims the $200 it cost has been one of his better investments.

His advice to anyone else toying with the idea of smothering lawn problems in concrete is to make a fast decision.

"Once you move," he says, "you've got to move fast."

Numbers Are Helping Retarded Youngsters

LAPEER (U-P)—Numbers are helping retarded children find their place in society.

It's done with the help of the abacus, ancient Oriental counting device, and the modern day adding machine.

Some 278 children at the Lapeer Home and Training School use the abacus and adding machine in primary arithmetic classes. Officials say the program teaches retarded youngsters how to take care of themselves and their finances so that they can step into society.

2nd Diagnosis Best

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (U-P)—When Dr. Ramsay O'Neal noticed a slight fluttering in his heart region while on a fishing trip, he wondered if it was the forerunner to a heart attack.

Another flutter and he clapped his hand over his heart in real anxiety.

That's when he found the small beam which he had caught earlier and absent-mindedly placed in his shirt pocket.

Hal Boyle Says:

Inventor Challenges Classic Comb Design

NEW YORK (U-P)—The quickest way to wealth is to improve some simple object millions of people buy or use every day.

Example: The man who first thought of putting a crinkle in the old-fashioned wire hairpin — so it would stay in better — made a million dollars.

"When you think of the hundreds of millions of human beings who lived and died trying to have an original idea, it seems odd that none thought of improving the ordinary comb, isn't it?" asked Eric L. H. Cosby.

"But no one really had a new idea in combs for at least 6,000 years."

No one, that is, until Cosby bent his brow to the task.

Cosby is managing director of Kent, Inc., a firm whose fine brushes have served the crowned heads of Europe since 1777, when George III was trying to give his American colonies a quick military brushoff.

An inventor since boyhood, Cosby became interested in combs during a visit to the British Museum. He noted that combs found in ancient Egyptian pyramids varied hardly at all from combs in present day use. Although the human skull — even among teenagers with crew cuts — is ordinarily rounded, the combs appeared designed for flat-heads.

"Why should they be?" Cosby brooded.

So he designed a new type comb. It is a flexible comb, fitted into a plastic shell, and bends to fit the shape of the head.

"With each stroke it covers five times the area of the old-type comb," said Cosby, "and it gives the scalp a gentle massage."

"It is particularly helpful to men with thinning hair as it glides over the bald spot without scratching. Balding men are physically as well as emotionally sensitive."

"It's the only comb in the world with false teeth," said a loyal conferee of Cosby.

A look of gentle pain spread over Cosby's fine British face, and he murmured in rebuttal: "I wouldn't really call them false teeth, old boy. But when the teeth wear out, you can buy a refill set to fit into the plastic shell."

Cosby is full of quaint tidbits of comb lore.

"Cavemen used rude combs made from animal horns," he said. "Cleopatra's comb came from an elephant tusk. Queen Victoria preferred an ivory comb, too. But ivory is going out. Central heating is hard on it."

At 14 Cosby invented a nonskid hard rubber auto tire, but somebody outran him to the patent office. His biggest coup, however, was the development of a brush that dripped perfume into the hair. He's sold a million of them.

His firm markets a lady's brush of wild Siberian boar's hair set in sandlewood that carries a $750 price tag, a man's shaving brush of badger hair — get your wife to give you one for Christmas — that goes for a piddling $500. But his new comb is priced at a buck.

"Why do Irish girls have the most beautiful complexions in the world? Simply because there is so much soft rain in their country."

Brides in 20s Happiest

NEW YORK — Recent surveys in their 20s experience the greatest happiness. Those who wed at 30 or later tend to be somewhat less happy. Those who were most unhappy and dissatisfied were found to have married before 20. Investigators found, though, that a man's age at marriage did not affect his happiness to any appreciable extent.

Snails, Brought in as Food by Japanese, Foraging, Destroying Guam Plant Life

By SID WHITE

AGANA, Guam (INS)—The tiny Pacific island of Guam is considering asking Japan for war reparations.

The reason: Snails.

Guamanians are complaining that the giant African snails brought in by the Japanese army as food for troops are foraging wildly through the lush island's coconut trees and other plant life leaving barren destruction behind.

Congressman Frank Perez said the huge snails are eating foliage of trees and bushes "and even wall paper in our homes."

Perez said the Guam legislature has discussed in their last session the advisability of demanding reparations payments from Japan for the damage being done by the snails.

The legislator added that the issue will likely come up again for consideration when the legislature reconvenes in January.

NO. ONE PEST

The annual report for 1955 of the Governor of Guam to the Secretary of the Interior said the giant African snail "continues to be the number-one pest in Guam."

Congressman Perez said all efforts to eliminate the giant snail have so far failed.

The government has flown in carnivorous African snails in the hope they will eat the giant African snails, then eventually eat themselves, but results are so far inconclusive.

In September last year 88 of the carnivorous African snails were released in Guam and reportedly are well established in the Guam environment.

REPRODUCE FAST

But Congressman Perez said the giant snails reproduce at a rapid rate and are practically indestructible.

As an example, he said, he once put a giant African snail into a pressurized, air-tight container for 30 days and when he opened the lid the snail was unharmed.

He stated that the Japanese army introduced the snails into the 225-square-mile tropical island during the years between 1941-44 when they occupied the island.

Perez said one of the huge snails alone provides a fair meal for a man.

"But," he added, "they are not

Judge Refuses to Rule on Which One Is Which

GREENVILLE, S. C. (AP)—"Don't ask me to rule on that one," Special Judge Sam R. Watt told Clerk Margaret W. Ross at a Common Pleas Court session here.

He referred to a problem created when two RFD 2, Taylors, S. C., men, both named Fred McCue, reported for jury duty. One had received a juror's subpoena, the other saw his name in a newspaper jury list.

Mrs. Ross finally decided on the one who got the subpoena but said she still didn't know "if we got the right one."

No Trouble Here

ROCKLAND, Maine (AP)—Police had little trouble tracing ownership of a big iron flower urn which turned up mysteriously on Anthony Anastasio's back doorstep. The red pot belonged to Mr. and Mrs. John A. Thompson. The Thompsons are parents of Police Chief Bernard Thompson.

Father's Driving Need

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A Des Moines man whose wife was out of the city found he was spending much of his after-work hours driving his children here and there. In item he considered appropriate. He said he would like to see his wife win a clothing store window and bought it. It was a chauffeur's cap.

Lamb Births Hiked

WELLINGTON — Nearly 25,000,000 lambs were born in New Zealand in 1955 for a record high that was more than 1,000,000 above the 1954 figure. The number of sheep also reached a record total of more than 39,000,000 head, and a record of 26,000,000 breeding ewes was achieved.

Disinfectant Floor Wax

INDIANAPOLIS — Now on the market is a new self-polishing, high-gloss, non-slip, liquid floor polish that contains a potent germ-killing ingredient. Eight years' research and development went into this product, which is non-toxic and nonirritating to human beings and animals.

A baking shark caught in California waters was about 30 feet long and it weighed in at 8,600 pounds.

Trend to Housing Codes

CHICAGO—At least 45 of the nation's cities have housing codes that regulate the number of persons who may occupy one room and establish other standards for heating, lighting, plumbing, garbage disposal, and similar conditions pertaining to health, sanitation, safety.

A coffee tree yields about 2,000 cherries each year, enough to produce about one pound of roasted coffee.

Never Talk Anybody Into Anything

Fuller Brush Salesmen Shun Browbeating

By PHYLIS BAYTELLE
NEW YORK (INS)—When the Fuller brush man hasn't called upon a woman for 14 years, she begins to feel uneasy . . . rather like she's getting the brush-off by not getting a brush.

It's not that her floor needs sweeping, or her dog needs a curry, or her husband has lint. It's just that the Fuller brush man always comes around, like robins in the spring and the internal revenue investigator in the fall, and to be neglected is to feel you are out of the swing of life.

"Is it that you don't like my looks?" we asked the Fuller brush man who had not come around for 14 years. "Or do you object perhaps to the mud dog in Apartment 8-B?"

"No, ma'am," he replied, "a Fuller brush man never has trouble with either women or dogs. That's a wild rumor that is circulated with traveling salesmen jokes."

"There are 7,000 Fuller brush men in America and Canada this year, and I swear to you I haven't heard of one of them being bitten."

JUST NO EXCUSE

"We are low-pressure salesmen, you know, so there is no excuse for even a doberman pinscher to get mad. Would you like to see our catalogue?"

"No," we said, "we just want to get to the bottom of this. Why have we been neglected when all over town the Fuller brush men are giving free handy kitchen sink brushes to the other girls?"

"Ma'am, don't take offense," said William C. Cramer, 34, who has a "superior" rating with Fuller—meaning that he nets upwards of $10,000 a year by house-hopping with distinguished success.

"I'd like to suggest that you might have been out when we called. We wouldn't have neglected you, especially knowing you might need a new stimulator hair brush or a foamy powder shampoo."

Saying this, Cramer took a can of foamy powder out of his familiar black kit and showed us the label. He did not attempt to spray it in our hair, as more aggressive salesmen do.

Alfred C. Fuller, who founded the company in 1909 with $375 and a few matched brushes, would not approve of that, he said.

SMART TECHNIQUE

So mild-mannered indeed was the red-haired and bluish-eyed Mr. Cramer that we wondered—verbally—whether the new technique of selling from door to door would actually go over with the modern, brisk housewife.

"Oh, everybody's low pressure these days, if he's smart," he said, putting the shampoo away discreetly so that we wouldn't be tempted to buy it.

"The salesmen of the old days with their big feet in the door used to threaten women into buying things."

"As women became more progressive, they became less threatening. In fact, it got to the point where the housewives used to threaten the salesmen."

That is when Mr. Fuller put his foot down and said no feet-in. "I am proud to say," said Cramer boldly, "that in my five years with the company, I have never talked anybody into anything."

"I just say 'Good morning, how do you do, I'm the Fuller brush man, and I'm back with your free gift.' Then I hand them a catalogue and tell them I'll be back next week to see if they want to order anything. And then I leave."

"Well, that's very interesting," we said. "Now what about . . ."

But Mr. Cramer, true to his low pressure principles, was gone. Leaving us longing for company and maybe a table tidy crumb sweeper.

Town for Retired Couples Buzzes With Busy People

LEISURE CITY, Fla. (INS)—Folks here, retired and technically "relaxing," are doing just that. But they certainly can't be accused of inactivity.

Leisure City, located some 24 miles south of Miami, near the Florida Keys, is a town originally built for, and now lived in, by couples past the retirement age.

Everywhere one looks there's evidence that "retired" doesn't have to mean "died." Here you see one of the town's "oldsters" putting in his garden, another building an addition to his home.

Down at the recreation center, couples can be observed "talking shop," — discussing hobbies or plans on beautifying their homes. Some are playing cards or similar games interesting to the elderly set.

ACTIVE SHOPPERS

Three miles to the south is Homestead, Fla., where a movie can be taken in or shopping done. Leisure City, however, is equipped with a shopping center of its own for those who don't want to make the trip to Homestead.

The retired people here are care-free. They own their modest homes and are free to do as they please. Take 70-year-old Joseph Navarro, for instance.

The former New York City resident moved to Leisure City with his wife, Louise, in 1934 after working as manager of an auto parts concern for many years. Navarro took up painting, specializing in depicting scenes of marine life. Although he admits he's "no Grandma Moses," the ex-New Yorker's canvas paintings now sell for $10 to $30 each.

Another Leisure City resident is Ted Johnston, 66, who for 19 years played in the radio series, "Sergeant Preston of the Yukon." Johnston also worked on the "Lone Ranger" show from Detroit, playing character parts in the famous radio series.

The town's organizer, former Brooklyn, N. Y., builder Frank A. Vellenti, Sr., is himself a man of some sixty-odd years. Vellenti heads the Florida Sun Deck Homes Co.

For those preferring some outdoor activity, the town has a seven-acre man-made lake which is being stocked with fish common to Florida waters. The Atlantic Ocean is only a short drive to the East, however.

Leisure City sprang up some five years ago with the building of nearly 1,000 one and two-bedroom homes. Another 600 are being constructed now.

Prices range from $6,500 to $11,500, for anybody nearing the retirement age who has a yen to settle in the Sunshine State.

Treat for Eskimos

BOSTON (A)—Eskimos love spaghetti and meat balls, according to Army Sgt. Francis Petrivelli, home on furlough. While serving near Anchorage, Alaska, Petrivelli became tired of eating reindeer and whale blubber with an Eskimo family. He cooked up a batch of spaghetti and meat balls, he said, and "They loved it."

Says U.S. Leads World in A-Race

'We're Still in Front,'
AEC Chairman Strauss
Replies to Adlai

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says the United States is "the acknowledged world leader in every aspect of nuclear power development, both for national defense and for peaceful uses."

Strauss, speaking last night before the New York Board of Trade, criticized a charge by Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, that the United States was lagging behind Britain and the Soviet Union in the development of full-scale atomic power plants.

Until just before President Eisenhower was inaugurated, Strauss said, "the opportunities for private development of nuclear power did not exist."

Within a week after the new atomic energy law was enacted in 1954, Strauss said, "President Eisenhower broke ground for a full-scale power plant at Shippingport, Pa."

"In terms of strictly civilian atomic power, our program includes 30 reactors in operation in the United States—under construction, planned or proposed for experimental or for actual full-scale use."

"Eighteen of these 30 plants will provide commercial power for homes and industries, beginning with the Shippingport plant next year."

Notice of Special Assessment: Curb, Gutter, Grade and Gravel and Related Work on Hollywood Avenue.

To: Clarence G. Green, Velko Voydanoff, Calvin Bush, Mr. Baynes, K. Paul, A. A. Strom, Bob A. Holt, Mrs. Cora Hinner, Marquis A. Bartell and to all persons interested. Take notice: That the roll of the Special Assessment heretofore made by the City Assessor for the purpose of defraying that part of the cost which the Commission decided should be paid and borne by special assessment for the construction of curb, gutter, grade and gravel and related work on Hollywood Avenue from Kennett Road to Parkdale Avenue is now on file in my office for public inspection.

Notice is also hereby given that the Commission and the Assessor of the City of Pontiac, will meet in the Commission Chamber in said City, on the 16th day of October A.D. 1956 at 2:30 o'clock P.M. to review said assessment, at which time and place opportunity will be given all persons interested to be heard.

Dated: October 10, 1956.

ADA R. EVANS,
City Clerk,
Oct. 11, 1956

Notice of Intention to Construct Curb, Gutter and Related Work on Parkdale Avenue from Woodland to Baldwin.

You are hereby notified that at a regular meeting of the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, held October 9, 1956 by resolution it was declared to be the intention of the City Commission to construct curb, gutter, grade and gravel and related work on Parkdale Avenue from Woodland Drive to Baldwin Avenue at estimated cost of $33,927.69. And that the plan, profile and estimate of said improvement is on file for public inspection.

It is further intended to construct said improvement in accordance with the plan, profile and estimate, and that the cost thereof shall be defrayed by special assessment according to frontage and that all of the lots and parcels of land fronting upon either side of Parkdale Avenue shall constitute the special assessment district to defray $15,568.33 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof and that $18,359.36 of the estimated cost and expenses thereof shall be paid from the Capital Improvement Fund, and that $3,399.90 of the cost of sanitary sewer stubs shall be assessed against Lots 99, 100, 104, 105, 106, 110, 111, 112, 113, 117, 118, 121, 126, 131, 131, 132, 134, 136 to 139 incl., 171, 171, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 201, 202, 211, 215, 222, 223, 224 and 226 Lakeland Park Subdivision.

That the Commission of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, will meet in the Commission Chamber in said City, on October 14, 1956 at 8 o'clock P.M. to hear suggestions and objections that may be made by parties interested.

GRACE UNDER WATER — Marilyn Reed appears frozen in action as she glides through water during ballet practice at Brooksville, Fla. The bubbles are from nearby spring.

Stratton Linked to Payoff by Banks in Fund Scandal

CHICAGO (U.P.)—A former Chicago banker, who claims he was forced out of business by ex-State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, has named the men he said he "paid money" to so he could get state funds deposited in his three banks.

Henry J. Beutel told the U.S. Senate Banking Committee yesterday he "donated" a total of $7,000 from 1949 to mid-1952. His banks were closed in 1953 by Hodge, now in prison for embezzling state funds.

Beutel linked Gov. William G. Stratton, then state treasurer, with the "contributions," which Beutel ting deposits in one of his banks.

Beutel said he visited Stratton when he was treasurer in June 1951. "He (Stratton) agreed to give me $200,000 for the West Irving State Bank."

Later, Beutel said, he was approached by Klick and Osterman for contributions and subsequently sent Osterman $1,500 for "campaign purposes." Beutel said he received in reply a letter dated Dec. 1, 1951, thanking him and adding: "Bill has been advised."

"Bill" was identified by Beutel as Stratton.

The Banking Committee is trying to determine the role, if any, of federally insured banks and federal agencies in the $14-million-dollar check cashing frauds of former Auditor Hodge, now serving 12 to 15 years in prison.

Dearborn Plans Road Financing

Gas Tax Returns to Pay $2,800,000 Network on As-You-Go Basis

DEARBORN — Mayor Orville L. Hubbard states Dearborn will finance its share of a new 17 million dollar highway program for the community on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The new projects will give Dearborn a $26,700,000 package in major highway improvements. Some already are under construction. Others are in various stages of preparation.

The schedule calls for completion in the next four years.

The new projects include construction of the Southfield Expressway, the widening of Rotunda from Schaefer to Outer Drive and grade separations on Rotunda at Greenfield, Southfield and Oakwood.

Hubbard said Wayne County and the State Highway Department have entered preliminary agreements on the projects.

"The combined highway projects," Hubbard said, "will lace Dearborn with a network of wide, divided highways, clover-leaves and grade separations unlike any metropolitan area suburb in the United States."

Dearborn's share of the $26,700,000 amounts to about $2,800,000 and will be paid from gas tax returns.

Battle Creek Photog Named to Tourist Post

GRAND RAPIDS — Elliott G. McLean, chief photographer for the Battle Creek Enquirer and News, has been appointed director of publicity for the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn.

McLean, 38, will take up his duties Oct. 22. A native of Muskegon and former editorial staff member of the Muskegon Chronicle, McLean succeeds Aurey D. Strohsaul in the publicity post. Strohsaul recently was named secretary-manager of the association.

There's a Nice Job

LONDON — One of the oldest English offices, that of ale conner (taster), was created by William the Conqueror as a means of keeping ale prices and quality in line. The office today carries on the tradition, pays about $4 a year—plus free beer and ale on occasion—and carries no other responsibilities. It is believed William Shakespeare's father was an ale conner.

Do You Pass Buck to Your Mate on Voting

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Are you the pass-the-buck-to-your-mate type when it comes to balloting? On election morning will you turn to your wife and mutter, "Honey, you vote for the family today. I'm going to be too busy working."

Or as a devoted little lady, will you tell your husband, "My place is in the home, Honey. I'm not going to vote."

Either way you stack it, these are two important reasons why many married Americans will avoid the polls in November, according to delegates from all over the country at the National Conference on Citizenship.

They gathered here to improve the nation's deplorable voting record.

Four years ago, for example, only 63 per cent of the eligible voters in the U.S. voted for Eisenhower or Stevenson.

In marked contrast, 75 to 85 per cent of the voting population in England, Switzerland, Belgium and France cast their ballots in national elections.

"People laugh at us in Europe," says Judge Carl B. Hyatt, executive director of the conference. "They say our democracy is not cracked up to what it's supposed to be when we don't vote."

"In this atomic age, we're living too rapid a life to take time to vote. There should be a spiritual revival and we should preach the importance of voting."

BABY SITTING?

At the same time Hyatt and others see less profound reasons why citizens do not vote. One obstacle is baby-sitters.

"Many women would vote if they had a place to leave their children," says Mrs. Wyman H. Chadwick of Hyattsville, Md., past national president of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

As a result her organization is setting up election day nurseries where mothers can deposit their kids while voting.

"Some men also leave voting to their wives," says Mrs. Chadwick. "They feel women are intelligent and capable enough to vote, so why should they bother?"

DIFFERENT VIEW

Sidney G. Kusworm of Dayton, Ohio, representing B'nai B'rith and the Ohio State Bar Association, takes a slightly different view.

"Many women figure the husband is the bread-winner and he should do the voting," he says. "They think their place is in the home, and that it's a man's business."

People also take the view that politics is a dirty business and they should have nothing to do with it, according to Kusworm. "Too many promises of politicians are not kept," is the opinion of Mack L. Lupton, mayor of New Bern, N.C. "After a while, thinking people become disgusted and decide not to vote."

UP TO HUSBY

He also confirms that a lot of ladies down his way feel that voting should be left up to the husband.

"Lack of voting is mainly due to the fact that people figure their own individual vote doesn't count," says Thomas F. Clear of Stamford, Conn., who is principal of an elementary school.

"This is the same philosophy drivers take about highway fatalities when they say 'It won't be me.'"

He thinks one answer is to get children after their parents. "Youngsters have tremendous influence," explains Clear. "When a kid wants you to do something, he'll keep after you until you do it."

Dollar Surprises One, Eases Mind of Another

DENVER (AP)—Ted Gano, city circulation manager of The Denver Post, has a dollar he hadn't counted on and someone in Aberdeen, Wash., has a cleansed conscience.

The dollar came in a letter from a woman at Aberdeen. She explained her son once was a customer of Gano's when he worked as a carrier boy for the Portland, Ore., Oregonian.

The son had owed Gano 55 cents but never could find him to pay. She said the dollar "certainly would not be paying all we owe if we counted interest."

A patent is issued in this country almost every 10 minutes, for an average of about 45,000 new products or improvements a year.

Proposed Oxford College Meets Tradition Hardship

LONDON (INS)—Tradition dies hard in Britain and just how hard is reflected in the proposal of Oxford University to establish a new college.

Now Oxford University is Britain's oldest—it was founded early in the 12th century—and is the chief home of the humanities.

Thus it came as some surprise to Britons that the proposed new college should be predominantly scientific in character. This was a great break in tradition, for Oxford since its founding has specialized in turning out civilized gentlemen well versed in the arts.

The announcement in the "University Gazette" of the intention to establish a new college for the study of science, however, revealed that while the university is responding to the government's appeal to increase the output of scientists, the undergraduate with the slide rule will not be permitted to undermine the student with the book of poetry.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

BOLD VOYAGERS—
The "Half Moon"

In 1910, or 300 years after Hudson first sailed up the Hudson River, a carefully built copy of his ship, the "Half Moon," retraced the voyage.

The small ship was oddly shaped, not much larger than a launch, and her bow rose in a curve like a moon. So small was the space between decks where the crew lived that the men were not able to stand erect.

The scene behind the ship is the Palisades along the Hudson River. In the water are Indian canoes.

When you color this picture with your crayons make the ship and sails bright, and color the bottom of the base brown to look like wood. Paste the picture down on cardboard and then cut out the parts along the heavy outline.

Fasten the two pieces together with a brass fastener through the indicated holes, so the ship will rock gently on the base. Fold the ends of the base back on the dotted line so it will stand.

(Arinda Spayd, East Lansing, Mich., wins $10 for contributing this idea first. If you have an idea send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins: AP Newsfeatures).

Babsonpoll Shows Ike Ahead in National Popular Vote

President Eisenhower appears to have halted—at least temporarily—the strong Stevenson tide running against him in the first Babsonpoll tabulations.

With approximately 25 per cent of this year's Babsonpoll survey completed, a projection of poll figures to a national vote level would show Ike back in the lead on a popular-vote basis—but by a very slim margin.

Biggest pickups by the President since last week's report were in the Middle Atlantic states and in the industrial Midwest. Some gains were noted also in the farm states—possibly a result of the Eisenhower trip into that area.

It is in the farm region and in the South that the Babson survey shows Ike's biggest drop from the vote totals he achieved in 1952. Fortunately for the GOP nominee, however, he can afford popular-vote losses in these areas without drastic inroads being made into his electoral-vote possibilities.

Of the four Southern states taken by the President in 1952, this Eisenhower is clinging to a thin majority in Florida. All other Southern states are safely in the Stevenson column.

Most of the farm states were taken by Ike in 1952 by wide margins. It does not appear today that he will take any of them by the six-to-four ratio of four years ago.

However, he still maintains a considerable lead in nine states having an electoral-vote count of 112... and Stevenson is very slightly ahead in six states with 53 electoral votes. The remaining seven states are rated "toss-up."

By grouping the "safe" and "leaning" states, the Babsonpoll now shows Eisenhower ahead in states having 333 electoral votes and Stevenson leading in states with an electoral-vote count of 199. A majority of 268 is necessary to elect.

First Babsonpoll tabulations of Senate races show four probable turnovers. GOP candidate Javits is leading in New York State; Cooper, Republican, is moving ahead in Kentucky; Democrat Dodd is out-running Senator Bush in Connecticut; and Lausche is in front of Ohio's GOP Senator Bender.

Results of senatorial contests now appear doubtful in Illinois, Maryland, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, and West Virginia. Babsonpoll samples are still inconclusive in Arizona and Nevada.

In the remaining Senate races, the incumbent party holds the lead by a favorable margin.

Front and Back Licenses in '57

White Letters, Maroon Background to Identify Michigan Drivers

Michigan motorists will be seeing double for the first time since 1944 when they buy their two-plate system of one—1957 license plates around Dec. 1.

LeRoy F. Kellogg, assistant branch manager of the Pontiac Secretary of State office, said there will be no price increase although the extra plate will cost the state seven cents more.

He said the Pontiac office is still awaiting shipment of the plates. He added he didn't know yet the opening sale date here.

The new plates will have white letters and numerals on a maroon background.

POLICE RESPONSIBLE

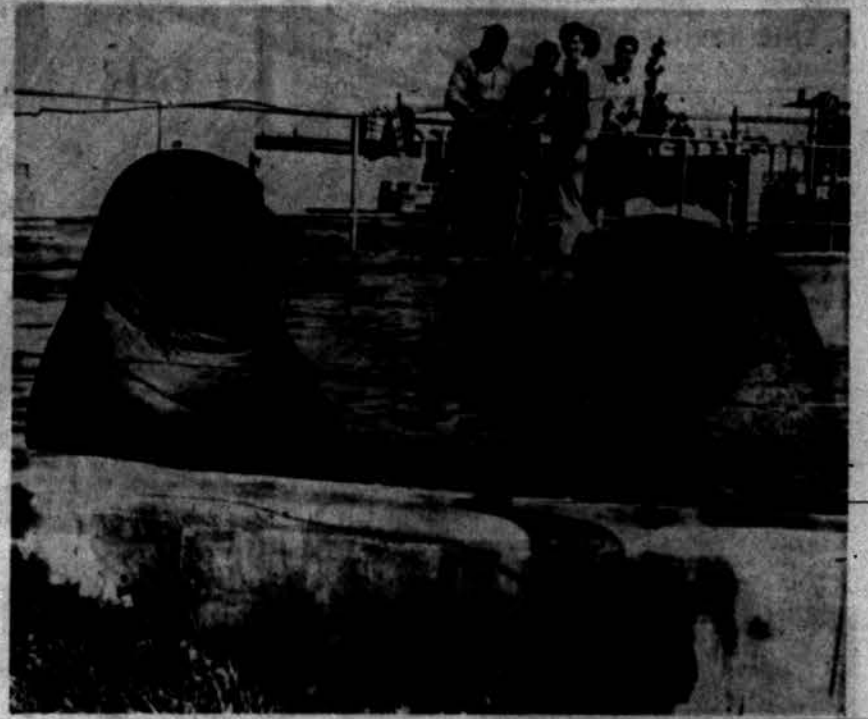

The Michigan Sheriffs Assn. and the Michigan Assn. of Chiefs of Police led the drive to return to the two-plate system. They argue 85 per cent of license reading for law enforcement purposes depends on a front plate.

Motorists will have until Feb. 28 to buy 1957 plates.

The new color scheme resulted from tests at the General Motors Proving Grounds near Milford.

BOOK REVIEW — It took a long line to lick a weighty problem at Ottawa University in Ottawa, Kansas, where a library had to be moved. What ordinarily amounts to a tremendous job was speedily accomplished by faulty and students who

GMC Trucks Haul Concrete at Straits Span

The huge Mackinac bridge linking Michigan's Upper and Lower Peninsulas is being paved with the help of GMC concrete-mixer trucks.

Transit-mix GMCs take on sand, gravel, cement and water a half mile from the bridge, mix them in transit and pour the fresh concrete into an eight-ton pumping machine on the bridge deck.

The pump forces concrete through an eight-inch pipeline to paving crews working as far as 800 feet away.

A continuous flow of concrete is essential to a successful day of paving on the gigantic bridge whose 8,614-foot span between anchorages makes it the largest of its kind in the world.

A major supply break would cause concrete to harden inside the pipeline and seriously cripple the paving project.

During paving operations the trucks continuously load, mix and unload concrete in 20-minute cycles.

The GMC models are tandem-axle FW350's. They will mix and transport more than 6,000 tons of concrete for paving the mile-long roadway on the south deck of the span.

Lyle Hawes, general superintendent for paving, says he is confident the GMCs will take the challenge in stride.

"Our transit-mix trucks have already poured 2,000 tons of concrete on the south deck without causing any unscheduled interruptions, and we expect them to keep up this pace until the job is done," Hawes said.

DUTY AT THE STRAITS — Two huge GMC transit-mix trucks halt near the huge Mackinac Bridge construction project in one of the phases of their job of transporting and mixing some 12 million pounds of concrete to be used in paving the mile-long roadway on the span's south deck. The truck at the left is emptying its load into a pumping machine that forces the concrete through a long pipeline to paving crews. The other GMC interrupts its continuous load-mix-unload cycle momentarily while its driver receives instructions from Lyle Hawes, general superintendent.

FULL LOAD IN 'DRIVE'

Drivers point out that even with full loads their trucks can scale the steep trestle in "drive" gear. Power is supplied to the rear driving axles of each vehicle by a V-8 engine developing 210 horsepower.

The need for trucks that could negotiate steep grades and difficult off-road conditions was taken into account when the construction company decided on GMCs for the project.

Hawes pointed out the trucks probably will work full-time on viaduct paving projects when freezing weather halts paving operations on the main span.

Assisting the two transit-mix trucks is a new GMC model 550 tractor with flatbed trailer. One of its chief jobs is hauling steel rods to reinforce bridge pavement.

Both the south and north bridge decks will be covered by six inches of reinforced concrete and an inch and a half of asphalt. Steel flooring will be used on the deck of the center suspension span.

The roadway from one end of the bridge to the other will have four traffic lanes, with a center mall separating opposing traffic.

As one driver pointed out, without power steering, a lot of cab visibility and a high degree of built-in maneuverability, a truck being used in construction work would be hard-pressed to make a complete turn on the ribbon of pavement.

COLORFUL CONTESTANT — The latest sensation of Italy's big-money quiz program "Lascia O Raddoppia" (Double or Quits) is eccentric contestant Gian Luigi Marianini (right), a fashion expert who dresses in the "style of the future" but answers questions in archaic Italian. Shown with U. S.-born Quizmaster Mike Bongiorno, the doctor of philosophy sports a double-breasted red damask evening jacket with black velvet lapels which he wears with a modern crewcut and old-style whiskers.

Bob Considine Says:

'New Dewey' Helps Old Foes in Midwest

NEW YORK (INS) — There's a "new Nixon," a "new Stevenson" and, by all means, a "new Dewey" grazing the hustings.

Nixon has dropped his galvanizing role of crusader against "communism in government" and is the quiet-voiced pointer to the achievements of the past four years. Stevenson distills the subjective into the declarative. Dewey's for Dirksen.

Four years and a couple of months ago at Chicago, Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), a prime supporter of Bob Taft for president, shook his fist at Dewey, seated with the New York delegation to the GOP convention, and cried out with a vigorous shaking of the fists, "Twice you led us down the road to defeat; you shall not do it again."

Many delegates booed Dewey, who was an Ike man and mentor. Some waddled down the aisle to give him a piece of their personal minds. Dewey sat smiling fiercely through the ordeal, puffing a cigarette jabbed into the muzzle of an F.D.R. type of holder.

Well, Dirksen now is asking Dewey to speak for him in his Illinois Senate race against Richard T. Stengel.

Old Deweyites around New York report that this is just one appeal out of the Midwest for support by Republicans who fought against not only Dewey's candidacy in 1948 but may have contributed directly to President Truman's conquest of the area at election time.

MORE THAN IKE

Dewey will respond to these calls by speaking. He will make more speeches than President Eisenhower, focus them more narrowly on regional contests, strike a keener partisan note.

The "new" and forgiving Dewey is infinitely more relaxed than the GOP candidate of '44 and '48. There was a tendency in both those campaigns to shield him from criticism, to burn or bury the blasts sent in by letter and wire.

Now he carries around in his wallet a wire he received after his hard-swinging speech at the San Francisco convention. A big majority of the wires he received praised him. But the only one he carries is from a Democrat. He shows it proudly. It reads:

"I never heard so much bull come out of the Cow Palace."

If the rejected presidential candidate of '48 an '44 accepted all requests to speak in behalf of GOP office-seekers between now and Nov. 6 he'd be engaged from 5 to 10 times daily in partisan addresses.

Within the party, he maintains considerable influence. His open support of Vice President Nixon, at a time when the President did not feel he was in a position to try to dictate his own choice, substantially helped Nixon's chances of remaining on the ticket and overcoming the "dump Nixon" group within the Eisenhower party.

THE 'OLD' TRUMAN

The "new Stevenson" continues to worry a bit over what the "old" Truman will say. Determined to speak his mind, as usual, the former President endorses the Eisenhower view that H-bomb tests must continue.

"I emphatically disagree," Adlai snorted the other day in response to a question he did not quite hear. He thought the reporter was talking about President Eisenhower, not President Truman. He noted the blow later after pinpointing the source.

Locally, in the race to fill the chair Herbert Lehman is leaving vacant in the Senate, a number of licensed pundits seem to say that there isn't much to choose between the two good rivals but the swing will be to Jack Javits over Bob Wagner, our mayor.

For one thing, they point out, he'll be benefited by Eisenhower's upstate presidential year popularity. For another thing, there is a feeling that Abe Stark, the Brooklyn clothing merchant who would succeed Wagner as mayor if Wagner beat Javits, isn't exactly what the world's top city respectively needs.

Republicans hereabouts figure that many Democrats will switch to Javits just to keep Wagner in office as mayor.

Richard Stengel, Dirksen's rival, visited his kissing cousin Casey when Casey's New York Yankees opened a kee-nooshial late season series against the White Sox in Chicago.

The Yankees blew four straight. Authorities on sports, politics and the supernatural are still sifting significance out of that.

Gold Output Increases

JOHANNESBURG—South Africa produced 14,802,367 ounces of gold in 1955, an increase of 10.4 per cent over 1954 production and the highest ever recorded. The value of 1955 gold output was $182,800,000—some $18,200,000 more than in 1954.

"That's what happens when they give guns to idiots," said airman T. W. Beattie, 24, after killing his 24-year-old wife in Nicosia, Cyprus, when he came home and she had no dinner for him.

Dem Trend Showing in Alaska Election

JUNEAU, Alaska (INS) — Conclusive returns were lacking today from yesterday's Alaska election but a Democratic trend was indicated.

Returns from the vast territory's far-flung 271 precincts were slow in reaching Juneau but most Democratic candidates were ahead on the basis of tallies made in 27 precincts.

Main hope for the Republicans was an indication of slight gains in the Southeast District territorial legislature races. This district was largely Democratic in the 1954 election.

Early returns, however, did not include Anchorage, a Democratic stronghold.

Plates Ready, but Not for Sale Yet

LANSING (AP) — Although shiny 1937 auto license plates already are in bins at some Michigan sales offices, motorists probably won't be able to buy them until about Dec. 1.

Distribution of new plates, with white letters and numerals on a maroon background, began some two weeks ago. Applications for them were mailed a few days ago.

This winter, many of the state's 2,800,000 car owners are going to face a problem because of return to the two-plates system.

Since 1944, only one plate has been issued, for the rear of the car. The single plate started out as a wartime steel conservation measure.

TROUBLE AHEAD

Motorists who will have trouble are those who disposed of their front license mounting brackets.

A weekend check of dealers in Detroit showed many do not stock spare brackets, although they are standard equipment on new cars.

Lee C. Richardson, director of the Driver and Vehicle Services Division in the Secretary of State's Office, said he hopes the problem will be ironed out soon.

Motorists need not display new plates until Feb. 28.

As usual this year, sale of plates, except for residents who happen to be temporarily out of the state, will be handled as usual through more than 200 branch offices.

Persons out of the state can buy by mail.

Richardson said the plates, as usual will be made of 24-gauge sheet steel.

PRISONERS PRESS PLATES

Manufacture still is in progress at the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson, where 10 tons of steel are consumed daily.

Because of the steel strike last summer, supply threatened to become a problem, but has been pretty well ironed out.

Enough plates have been stamped out for initial distribution, Richardson said, but manufacture will continue until the supply is sufficient to cope with the big February rush.

Richardson said the maroon and white color combination was chosen after tests at General Motors Proving Ground in Milford established it as No. 1 for visibility.

There will be no change in the size or style of numerals, letters or of the plates. All conform to standards set up by the National Assn. of Motor Vehicle Administrators.

A bill to reflectorize plates failed at the 1936 legislative session.

POLICE GET THEIR WAY

Richardson said the return to two plates has been sought by police authorities for several years, notably by the Michigan Sheriffs Assn. and the Michigan Assn. of Chiefs of Police.

Law enforcers have argued 35 per cent of license reading opportunities depend on a front plate.

License plates cost the state 17 cents a pair, Richardson said, compared with 10 cents for a single plate.

Since distribution is by bulk in trucks, there is virtually no postage expense, which in some states amounts to almost as much as the cost of the plates themselves.

Secretary of State James M. Hare announced recently he plans a study of a central distribution system for license plates to find out whether it would be cheaper and more economical.

Pause to Light Cigarette Sends Car Into Ditch

A pause to light a cigarette resulted in an auto accident in which two Pontiac residents received minor injuries two miles east of Ortonville last night.

Herbert C. Larange, 27, of 46 Park Place, and Ruth Piddle, 24, were treated at Goodrich Hospital for cuts and bruises following the accident.

Larange told investigating Oakland County Sheriff's deputies his car went out of control and rolled over into a ditch when he took his eyes off the road for a moment.

The Doctors Said . . .

CHENEY, Neb. 10 — Doctors told Louis Alfred Morton in 1885 he wouldn't last another year. Morton, a retired Lancaster county farmer, has just observed his 100th birthday, recalling how Indians roamed much of southeast Traffic is so slow in Paris streets that two big dailies are delivering some of their papers by motorboat on the Seine, which runs through the city's center.

Crime Trend Indicated

FORT MADISON, Iowa 10 — Percy Lainsen, Iowa state penitentiary warden, says men who do creative work with their hands are less likely to wind up in prison. About 20 of the 1,300 penitentiary inmates here have been skilled workers, he says, and "strangely, most of them are in for murder."

House Fire Kills 5 in Connecticut

Dense Smoke Traps Widow and 4 Children 15 Feet From Safety

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—A 60-year-old mother and four of her children perished early today when fire swept their six-room home in this Bridgeport suburb.

The mother, a daughter and two sons were only 15 feet from the front door when they were felled by dense smoke. Another son was found in an upstairs bedroom, a short distance from the window. They were Mrs. Florence Talbot, whose husband died six months ago; her 13-year-old daughter Patty, and three sons, Thomas, 21, Robert, 23, and Jack, 28. Jack's body was found upstairs.

All had been in bed when the blaze broke out, apparently in a kitchen oil burner, about 12:45 a.m. Fire Chief Theodore Lockwood said.

He said the four who came down the stairs almost made it to safety. But, he added:

"They apparently piled up coming down the stairs in the dense smoke. Fifteen feet more and they would have made it. They must have been awakened by the smoke and started down the stairs. The first one down must have stopped and the others just piled up behind. We found them there near the door." A daughter and two other sons live away from home.

New York Central May Cut Train Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Central Railroad reports it is seeking to drop a total of 20 passenger trains operated in various sections of its 10,000-mile system.

The railroad lists the trains in applications to various state agencies for permission to curtail or abandon service.

Among pending requests for permission to abandon trains are: Toledo, Ohio, and Elkhart, Ind.—four trains providing 104.256 annual train miles. The line to be abandoned goes from Toledo through Adrian and Sturgis, Mich., to Elkhart. More direct service between Toledo and Elkhart would not be disturbed. Public Service Commissions in Ohio, Michigan and Indiana are involved in the case.

Rules for Pilgrim

BAGHDAD—While on pilgrimage to Mecca, the devout Moslem must avoid quarrels and women, say nothing frivolous, and, except for sacrifices, kill no plant or animal save only the five nuisances: crow, kite, rat, scorpion or biting dog.

SKIMMING ALONG—Britain's Donald Campbell, who piloted his speedboat to new world mark on Lake Coniston, Eng., is just as happy behind a speedboat as he is at the helm.

A volunteer Police Reserve is working with the regular police as the ing formed in the Gold Coast to need arises.

Xway Rerouted to Save Street of Model Slums

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tyson Street, where progress marches backward, won't bow to a superhighway after all.

The City Planning Commission announced yesterday it had pushed the proposed route of the east-west expressway a little north of the one-block patch of pastel-shaded antiquity.

Tyson Street folk say their efforts are a prime example of privately-financed urban renewal.

They complained when expressway plans called for elimination of Tyson Street. When they received little encouragement from city planners, a "Save Tyson Street Committee" called, last week on Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro. He said he would see what could be done.

found rammed against a utility pole. A few months ago a bicycle belonging to another was stolen. It has not been recovered.

Traffic Light Fools Speeding Motorists

KUWAITA, Ky. (AP)—The traffic light seems to be out in the middle of nowhere and motorists spot it from afar as they approach Kuttawa.

And as drivers begin to reduce their speed they also wonder if the light is going to stay red forever.

Which is the whole idea. The signal is only to get motorists to slow down while approaching the city limits. It turns green when the city bound car hits a switch in the pavement.

You'll Have to Say More Than Fill 'er Up If Fuel Makers Keep Upgrading Gasoline

NEW YORK (NEA)—The average American motorist soon is going to have to become some kind of an automotive engineer to select the proper gasoline for his car.

However, if the whole gasoline industry fails to follow the lead recently set in selling more than two grades of gas the average motorist will end up financing new super fuels for the drivers of the most expensive, high-powered cars.

U. S. car buyers have brought this dilemma on themselves by demanding a steady increase of horsepower in car engines.

Esso Standard Oil Co. has broken the traditional two-grade marketing system by introducing a third, super-grade high-octane fuel. Shell Oil Co. is following Esso, and so are smaller firms. The Sun Oil Co. is experimenting with selling gas from five-grade custom-blending pumps.

IS IT WORTH IT?

The problem to the motorist, however, is determining whether his car can make efficient use of the more expensive super fuels.

A spokesman for Esso estimates that only about five per cent of the cars on the road today, and one-fifth of the models being built, can benefit from using the new fuel.

New cars in the Cadillac, Packard, Lincoln and Buick class are the ones which get more mileage and better performance generally from the new gasolines in the 100-octane range.

Experience so far shows about 15 per cent of Esso customers are buying the super fuel. So some of them are apparently spending needless money to put this super grade of gas in their cars.

In preparing for the introduction of the new fuel, Esso station attendants were instructed to make customers aware of this situation. But determining whether a car can use a 100-octane gas efficiently is a complex business.

Even among the most expensive makes, one engine off the line might work efficiently with ordinary, premium 97-octane gas, while the next one will knock without 100-octane gas.

It also has been determined an engine might require a switch to a higher octane fuel during the first 3,000 to 9,000 miles of driving.

EFFICIENCY VARIES

Altitude is another problem. In Denver, Colo., with an altitude of 5,000 feet, for example, a car which needs 100-octane gas at sea level will operate just as efficiently on 95-octane gas, studies reveal.

If a car does require gas in the 100-octane category the rewards of using it are great. This is why Esso and the other firms have moved quickly to supply this growing need. The extra mileage it gives, it has been found, more than pays for the extra cost of the gas.

If the rest of the gasoline industry decides to stick to the two-grade system, but raises the general octane level of gas for the newer cars, then all motorists will share the cost. Increasing the general octane rate is an extremely costly proposition.

On the other hand, switching to a multiple grade sales plan involves many problems, too. But millions of motorists will not be paying for a high octane rating which their cars don't need.

An Esso spokesman says it would cost the petroleum industry three billion dollars to maintain a two-grade system for the demands of cars by 1961. But by adopting a three-grade plan only an investment in new facilities of $1.6 million will be needed.

All the oil companies are spending millions in a race to find new, cheaper methods of producing higher-octane gasoline and developing additives which will increase octane ratings.

This is to keep pace with the auto industry's relentless drive to build higher horsepower engines requiring the higher-octane fuels.

'Ubangis' Get Name

MIAMI — The famous platter-lipped women called "Ubangis" were given that name by a publicity man for Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus. Actually they came not from the Ubangi River but another part of French Equatorial Africa, and are members of the Sara tribe of the Territory of Chad, the National Geographic Society says.

About 80 per cent of all the people in the U.S. over the age of 20 years drink coffee at a rate of 3½ cups per day, according to recent surveys of consumer interests and habits.

Spirit of Taft in Missouri May Cost Ike Votes

By OVID A. MARTIN

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The spirit of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft hovers over Missouri Republicanism. It makes more difficult President Eisenhower's task of trying to win the state in November.

The battle which Taft lost to Eisenhower at the party's 1952 national convention still rages among many who class themselves as "old-line" Republicans.

Some say they have no enthusiasm for their party's ticket because they regard Eisenhower as "something of a Fair Dealer."

In traveling over the state to get views on the election outlook, this reporter encountered a number of party members who classed themselves as "Nixon Republicans."

They said they consider Vice President Nixon, again Eisenhower's running mate, to be closer to their political beliefs than is Eisenhower. None of these expressing such views wanted to be quoted by name.

One such GOP member—once an unsuccessful candidate for a major state office—said what he termed the "old-line boys" have only a "picture acquaintanceship with the President."

He said they have been largely ignored in patronage and in party councils.

Without doubt, this situation is contributing to a belief among political observers that Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has climbed ahead of Eisenhower for this border state's electoral votes.

Four years ago, Eisenhower—with the help of an estimated 105,000 Democratic votes—defeated Stevenson by a narrow margin of 29,000. In that same election the Democrats won all other statewide races.

Only an Eisenhower visit to the state, plus a redoubled GOP effort to win votes from Missouri's estimated 125,000 Negro voters, could change the outlook, both Republicans and Democrats agreed.

Perry Compton, patronage-troubled GOP state chairman, conceded that intraparty differences exist, but he insisted there is no justification for it.

"As far as patronage goes, there are dozens of jobs available for Missouri Republicans," he said. "But the trouble is, few of those wanting jobs meet the qualifications laid down by the Civil Service Commission."

Faced with the possibility of losses in farm votes in rural Missouri because of distressed economic conditions and a return of some "Eisenhower Democrats" to their party's fold, the Republicans look to the heavy Negro vote in St. Louis and Kansas City for offsetting ballots.

Democratic State Chairman Wilbur F. Daniels of Fayette said his "only concern" is the Negro vote. He predicted a last-minute GOP drive to capture this bloc, apparently largely Democratic in the past.

Questioning of a number of Negroes brought no firm indication as to how this group may vote.

It is taken for granted by most observers that the labor vote will go heavily for Stevenson.

W. T. Hoggard, a farmer of near-Everton who has taken up railroad work at Springfield to augment his income, said "quite a few workers" in his shop who voted for Eisenhower in 1952 now plan to support Stevenson.

On the other hand, out of five members of a railroad track section crew working near Aurora, two said they were for Eisenhower and three did not express their views.

Except in a few areas, farm prices themselves do not show up as a paramount issue among farmers. Those exceptions are in parts of north Missouri, where agriculture is highly dependent like that of Iowa to the north—on prices of hogs and cattle. Many north Missouri farmers said they lost money on hogs last year when hogs were plentiful and prices tumbled sharply.

Mentioned more frequently were crop losses due to drought—four and five years long in some southwestern areas, but of shorter duration in the northwest.

Farmers Hear Kefauver; Nixon Heading Eastward

INDIANOLA, Iowa (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today that big corporations are making many unjustified price increases and that President Eisenhower is doing "practically nothing" to "protect the consumer from this price-gouging."

"How could it be otherwise," he asked in a prepared speech, "when the Republican administration and apparently President Eisenhower himself regard the corporate managers who are instituting these price advances as some sort of gifted specie of supermen who can do no wrong?"

"If there is one consistent thread through the last four years of Republican rule, it has been this hero-worship of men of big business."

"They are the golfing companions of the President and the men who come to dinner at the White House. And, of course, they arrange for the great bulk of the contributions to the Republican party."

The Democratic vice presidential candidate brought his campaign out to Midwest farming country today after three days of eastern barnstorming.

He spent the night at Buffalo, N.Y. His schedule called for an early morning departure by plane for Des Moines, and then a 200-mile motorcade through small towns in central Iowa. In all, he had a 13-hour day in prospect.

Fault Revealed of Yielding POW

Proper Training Lack at Home Making GIs Fall to Brainwashing

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—An Army psychiatrist says many U. S. prisoners of war yielded to Communist brainwashing because they did not receive proper training at home.

Maj. William E. Mayer, attached to Brooke Army Medical Center at San Antonio, Tex., said American parents are failing to teach their children "they can't surrender to what they believe wrong, they can't always 'make a deal.'"

Mayer, who has interrogated U.S. soldiers held prisoner during the Korean War, spoke at a Phoenix Press Club forum last night. He said the Army cannot be expected to provide soldiers with a new set of ethical standards. These standards, he said, must be established by home training.

Mayer said fewer than 1 per cent of the U. S. soldiers held prisoner in Korea were tortured or brutally treated. But about 30 per cent made propaganda tape recordings for the Communists, he said.

Ten per cent informed on other American prisoners, he said, without having been threatened.

"And 40 per cent of the prisoners died before they were released. They were not starved or physically mistreated. At least half died of 'give-up-itis,'" he said.

Vet Home Loan Plan Announced

Like Says 3 Steps Aim to Bolster Mortgages
in Rural Areas

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower has announced that three steps are being taken to increase the availability of home loans to veterans on reasonable terms in small rural communities.

The President said the measures will supplement mortgages guaranteed by Veterans Administration and those obtainable through normal banking channels.

The actions, which are being taken by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, are:

1. Certain areas formerly eligible for direct loans will be again made eligible. These areas have not been eligible now for about a year.

2. Direct loans will be authorized in eligible areas when guaranteed loans are available only on restrictive credit terms.

3. The VA will undertake direct loan processing in eligible areas if the veteran proposes to buy a home located on a farm site.

The President declared that the voluntary home mortgage credit program has succeeded in placing nearly 16,000 applications for veterans' home loans since Jan. 1, 1955.

Buyers Satisfied Economy Sound, Reveals Study

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The majority of American consumers are convinced that the nation's economy and their personal financial situation are sound, a University of Michigan research agency reports.

The survey research center of the University conducted a nationwide poll of consumer attitudes, expectations and buying plans between Aug. 1 and Sept. 10. It revealed that optimism about business trends, personal welfare is as great as it has been at any time in recent years.

On the other hand, the survey disclosed there is some ground for pessimism in the areas of price expectations and buying intentions.

The spread of inflationary expectations continued during the last few months, the report said. "An increasing proportion of American consumers foresee a period of rising prices."

The report added "inflation sensitivity has not reached the point where it leads people to feel worse off or to believe this is a bad time to buy."

Trap Traffic Offender Warning of Radar Trap

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—William A. Brewer, 18, was cited last week for driving 40 m.p.h. in a 30 m.p.h. zone being checked by radar. Yesterday, officers working in the same spot caught only four motorists in 55 minutes, far below average.

Looking around the corner, they found Brewer holding up a sign proclaiming: "Look Out—Radar." Brewer was charged with disorderly conduct.

Lifesaving Course Pays Off Early

CRAIG AIR FORCE BASE, Ala. For Wink, as he is known to his family and friends, saved Billy's life this past spring, and has just been awarded the Red Cross Certificate of Merit for his heroic act. The brothers are the sons of Capt. William E. Cummings, instructor with the 361st Flying Training Squadron here. Wink belongs to Craig Boy Scout Troop 91.

WINK AND BILLY CUMMINGS: Billy hung on for his life.

April 15 Wink and Billy were fishing off the pier of Craig Lake. It was a windy afternoon because the air base was on the fringe of the tornado which struck the Birmingham area that day.

FALLS IN

Billy leaned over too far and fell in. Wink dove after him, managed to get under the smaller boy, and pushed him to the surface moored at the pier. Instructing Billy to hang on, he pushed the boat around with the help of the wind until his feet touched bottom, then carried the younger boy to shore.

The Certificate of Merit is awarded to adults and children who save lives by applying Red Cross-taught skills. Wink had completed the Red Cross beginner course in swimming and had started the junior lifesaving course at the time of the accident.

No Hike in Shoe Prices

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The nation's largest shoe manufacturer, International Shoe Co., has announced its prices will remain practically unchanged for the spring selling season. The firm said fairly stable material costs and a two-year wage agreement last fall with shoe unions will enable it to hold prices at present levels.

This Fellow Didn't Live in Exclusive Section

WORCESTER, Mass. (U-P)—Police arrested Alvin Leonard, 54, on a larceny charge after he tried to peddle five pairs of nylon stockings.

Patrolman Amelio J. Ricciardi asked Leonard some routine questions . . . his name, his age, his address.

To the last query, Leonard replied, "116 Summer Street." That's the Worcester County Jail.

NEW YORK—Since 1938 the number of certified airlines operating in the United States has climbed from 22 to 56 and the number of employees from 13,300 to more than 118,000. In the same period the number of passengers carried annually has risen from 1,526,000 to more than 41,625,000.

Like and Adlai Level Off in Real Brickbat Battle

BY JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (U)—The presidential campaign has descended from the cloud where it started and now—at the halfway mark—is down to earth with both sides charging: "You're another." This is about par for a political campaign.

After President Eisenhower's speech in Pittsburgh last night it became clear he considers three things—peace, the end of the Korean War, and prosperity—as main selling points in his campaign.

He has made seven speeches so far. In all of them he has spoken about peace. Two of his speeches, in fact, started off on that subject: His opening talk Sept. 19 and the one last night.

Directly or indirectly he has reminded his listeners in four speeches that his administration brought an end to the shooting in Korea. And he has made present prosperity a constant theme in his talks.

Eisenhower, without mentioning Adlai Stevenson by name but leaving no doubt of whom he meant, complained last night that the Democratic candidate has "concealed or twisted the facts."

In Seattle last night Stevenson too made a speech in which he protested—without naming Eisenhower—that the Republican administration has "not told the people the truth" about the "crucial facts of history."

It was only a matter of time before the two candidates reached this point, once Stevenson began belittling Eisenhower as a part-time leader who didn't lead and calling the Republicans a big business party.

If Eisenhower thought he could remain upstairs while the fight went on in the alley, he soon got over it.

Stevenson got under his skin. Eisenhower soon began referring to the "wicked nonsense" of his opponent and belittling Stevenson as a man who talked big about leadership without ever having been a leader himself.

All this makes more interesting reading than pious platitudes.

But while each candidate belabors the other for not stating the facts, the truth is that neither is stating all the facts but only those that make his own side look good. Stevenson, accusing the Republicans of killing federal aid to schools, doesn't talk about the part Democrats had in that legislative throat-cutting in the House of Representatives.

Eisenhower last night recalled that in 1955 and 1956, when the Democrats controlled Congress, he called for action on federal aid and got none. He didn't say he let 1953 and 1954—years in which the Republicans ran Congress—go by without offering a federal aid program. Nor did he say that while the Democrats rejected his particular aid plan, they did offer one of their own which the Republicans helped kill.

These examples—of where each side tells only what makes it look good and the other bad—could be multiplied.

This makes it a little tough on the voter who would like to know precisely where the body is buried since he knows that in this government both parties have to play some kind of role, good or bad, in almost anything that's done.

Wife Was Too Attentive —60 Phone Calls a Day

LOS ANGELES (U)—The trouble, said Irvin Berzon, was that his wife kept telephoning him at work.

Not once but sometimes 60 times a day, Berzon, 47, a real estate broker, told Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle.

Judge Doyle found Mrs. Florence Berzon, 38, in contempt of a restraining order issued pending an annulment hearing. He gave her a suspended five-day jail sentence.

"I only wanted to find out how he was," Mrs. Berzon said.

Pakistan's new Republican Party will welcome non-Muslims and all other communities, Lahore reports.

World Rubber Industry Snaps Back at Plastics

LONDON (NEA)—The rubber industry is about to snap back at the plastic business and bounce out a whole new range of consumer products.

Here are some new rubber products which might be showing up in stores and industry soon.

Cups, saucers and dishes in bright colors and which won't chip, break or crack.

Rubber-tanned leather which has new water-resistant, long wear, flexible properties.

Rubber soles for shoes which will outwear leather or plastic soles.

A new, tough fabric woven from rubber threads to compete with the whole range of plastic seat cover materials now so popular.

Rubber tires for trains and rubber rail pads.

All of these products are the result of intensive research during the past few years by the British Rubber Development Board and firms in France, Belgium and Holland interested in promoting and expanding the market for natural rubber.

Rubberized tableware and a whole line of items, from electric wall plugs to toys, can be made from a new substance known as heveaplus.

It's a combination of the most desirable elements of natural and synthetic rubbers, can be fabricated easily and gets almost as hard as china.

In addition, a BRD spokesman says it is stronger and can stand extremes of cold and heat better than plastics now being used for these items.

Newest development is the impregnation of leather with liquid latex. It has been discovered that the leather absorbs the latex very well. The result is greater pliability to the leather plus greater strength and exceptional water and weather resistance.

Car makers especially are eyeing this development for seat covering material.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS

A product called cyclized rubber made either from latex or dry natural rubber is now being tested as a commercial competitor for plastic and leather shoe sole material.

It also has qualities which make it ideal for many industrial uses.

British Plane Dumps A-Bomb

Test Called a Success, Sets Stage for Dropping H-Weapon in Spring

ADELAIDE, Australia (U)—Britain test-dropped an "operational" atomic weapon from a plane for the first time today. She pronounced the test a success.

The bomb was dropped from a four-jet Valiant bomber flying about three miles high over the Maralinga test range in southern Australia. It was the third in Britain's current series of four test blasts, but the first to be described as an actual weapon ready for use in event of war.

The air drop was generally considered a dress rehearsal for Britain's first hydrogen bomb test on Christmas Island next spring. Air force officials who will take part in that operation watched today's blast.

A huge fireball dimmed the afternoon sun as the bomb went off. A smoke cloud spread in all directions in patterns somewhat different from the usual mushroom formation which follows ground bursts.

A report from the blast scene said scientists already were moving into the area to check conditions. A fleet of Royal Air Force Canberra bombers were tracing the atomic cloud.

Four Questions Top Problems in Detroit Area

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Unemployment, farm problems, automation and other questions related to the economy are the principal problems facing the nation, according to a University of Michigan survey.

The university's Detroit area study has learned these problems are topmost on the minds of one of every four Detroit residents. And 17 per cent of the 800 Detroiters interviewed in the recent survey consider social problems such as politics and race relations to be the most vexing.

The study group queried residents of Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties while taking its poll. The probe revealed that men are more likely to notice problems pertaining to the economy and that economical problems are of more concern to whites than Negroes.

Racial problems were mentioned more than twice as frequently by Negroes than whites, the survey disclosed.

Women appeared to be more interested in juvenile delinquency, the teacher shortage and other educational problems. They outnumbered the men three to two in this area.

The university reported that its survey was conducted in the spring of this year.

such as for the construction of huge rollers.

Two new rubber fabric developments hold great promise.

a BRD report reveals. A process has been invented for bonding non-woven fibers into fabrics with many uses.

Samples look exactly like wool or cotton materials. But they have great strength and elasticity.

Such materials are now in great demand for inner linings and in suitings and for underlinings for women's clothing. Non-woven rubber-bonded fabrics also have a possible use as a base for artificial leather.

DEVELOPED IN HOLLAND

The saran-type rubber thread is a development from a laboratory in Delft, Holland. It's a mixture of natural rubber and hydrochloric acid. The thread can be made in any color, as fine or as coarse as desired.

Experts consider this one of the most hopeful of all new uses for rubber.

Efforts are already under way to make it a strong competitor of the plastic-type fabrics which are so popular currently.

Work mostly in France on rubber train wheels and rubber rail pads has been going on for years. Improvements in making rubber tougher hold great promise for making these items the newest developments of the railroad industry in Europe and the U.S.

RUBBER TRAIN WHEELS — Paris subway has found rubber wheels so successful they are being ordered for regular operation.

Tecumseh to Be UM 'Guinea Pig'

Complete Health Study of Community of 5,000 Being Planned

ANN ARBOR (U)—The physical condition of an entire community—in this case, Tecumseh with a population of 5,000—will be studied by the University of Michigan.

Dr. Robert J. Horton of the University School of Public Health said the Lenawee County village was selected for an "entirely new type of research" aiming to get a complete community health picture.

He said researchers will try to learn the stresses which cause the progression of such chronic diseases as cancer, heart disease and others.

Residents of Tecumseh "have only to indicate their interest" for the project to get under way, Horton said. Researchers will meet with local groups and service clubs to explain the study and how it will be conducted.

The $30,000 for the project is part of $300,000 allotted the university by the Legislature for research in developing human resources.

To develop Iran, that country will spend $300,000,000 of oil revenues over seven years.

THE BERRYS

Mica Sparks Big Boom

SPRUCE PINE, N. C. (INS)—The greatest boom the Blue Ridge hills of North Carolina ever saw is going on today, sparked by Federal purchasing of mica at one-eighth the price of gold.

Mica is a silicate used in the electronics industry because of its resistance to heat and electricity. Most people probably know it as "insulating" used in the windows of stoves.

The government was caught short of mica in World War II when much of the supply from India was cut off by the Japanese Navy. Today the government is taking no chances and is stockpiling vast quantities of the mineral and paying handsome prices.

Within an hour's drive of Spruce Pine is the bulk of this country's mica deposits. In the town (pop. 2,000) is the government mica purchasing depot which has bought $7,622,576.79 worth of mica since July, 1951 when the stockpiling began.

BEEHIVE FASHION
Mica-laden trucks run in beehive fashion through the narrow streets of this typical mining town. If you ask the man on the sidewalk for information or a match, you are just as likely to hear a midwestern twang as a southern drawl.

Speculators and engineers and miners from all parts of the U. S. have come to Spruce Pine to join this great hunt for a vein of the transparent mineral which may lead to quick and easy fortunes.

Under the income tax laws, 27½ per cent of all gross receipts in this business are tax free—a great lure for miners and investors alike.

But the government doesn't stop with just paying unheard-of prices for the mined product—they'll even sponsor a prospector who has a good lead and finance his operation.

If the prospect turns out bad, Uncle Sam says "C'est la vie," and forgets the loss.

If the miner strikes a rich vein, the government asks that the operator pay five per cent of the receipts until the loan is paid off—or the mine plays out.

It's a heads-I-lose-tails-you-win

Railway Abandons 66-Year-Old Tunnel

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—The 66-year-old Homestake Tunnel through the Continental Divide near Butte has been abandoned by the Northern Pacific Railway. The 682-foot tunnel 11 miles southeast of the Mining City was replaced by a half-million-dollar open cut.

A sensational attempted train robbery occurred in the tunnel May 7, 1907. Three men were sent to Montana Prison for killing the engineer and wounding a fireman in the hold holdup attempt.

The tunnel was abandoned because of high maintenance costs and the danger of falling rocks.

What Treasure Boat? Divers Find Nothing!

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Four navy underwater photographers tried to find the wrecked hulk in 60 feet of coastal water which Melvin Scott, Del Mar skin diver, said he encountered.

Scott, who came up with a gold ring, believes he may have discovered a sunken treasure vessel of Spanish exploration days.

Others say it may have been an old ferry boat, with mock cannon, sunk in the area in 1935 during the filming of the movie "Captain Blood." They also recall that a garbage scow once went down in the area.

The navy divers? They found nothing.

Some Own Their Car

NEW YORK—More than 25,000 persons in the United States make final payments on their automobiles every "average" day in the year. Final payments on installment purchases of automobiles will be made by some $250,000 persons this year. Americans own about 40,000,000 cars clear of debt.

Binds Ax Head

Stone age men used axes. But here's an ax which for the first time in the history of toolmaking eliminates wedges in assembling ax heads and handles. Perma-bond, a chemical weld, bonds head to handle in this ax by Fayette R. Plumb Inc. of Philadelphia.

Finger Biter Freed of Murder Charge

MEXICO CITY (INS)—Luis Fuentes Ibarra is free finally of the charge he killed his buddy by biting his finger.

Fuentes and Margarito got into a fight August 26, 1954, during which the former sank his molars into Cardoso's index finger.

Two months later, after the pair had forgotten their differences and resumed their friendship, Cardoso died and Fuentes was imprisoned on charges of "homicide while fighting."

The case came to trial this year and Fuentes' lawyer produced a death certificate showing that Cardoso died of general peritonitis and not from the bitten finger.

Alcoholic Reaction

DES MOINES (AP)—A doctor told a Des Moines man he should limit himself to two alcoholic drinks a day and take a prescribed number of vitamin pills daily. Several months later the doctor met the fellow's wife on the street and asked her how her husband was getting along. Said she: "Well, he's way behind on the vitamins and way ahead on the booze."

Serve Broiled Liver With Sauce

Pork-tender, gently cooked liver, is first choice eating for many folks who enjoy its unique flavor more than they do the abundant supply of good nutrition in each serving.

A veritable storehouse of nutrition, liver is well known as the best food source of iron and an excellent source of vitamins A and B, so necessary for good health. Liver's contribution to healthy living is reason enough to serve it once a week.

Of the four kinds of liver available, calf and lamb livers are the most tender and delicate in flavor. Pork and beef livers, though stronger in flavor and less tender, are usually more economical. But all liver is economical from the standpoint of being all edible for the boneless meat contains no fat and its shrinkage is at a minimum when properly cooked.

Calf and lamb liver—and young beef liver, too—may be broiled or pan-broiled, while pork and beef liver is best cooked by braising.

An easily prepared dinner combines liver with Bearnaise sauce. The sauce provides just enough contrast in flavor to accent the delicate taste of the variety meat.

Broiled Liver Bearnaise
4 slices calves' liver, 1/2 inch thick
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup (loosely packed) parsley sprigs (minced)
1 can (1 1/2 ounces) condensed clear chicken soup
Water
2 packages (8 ounces each) herb-seasoned bread stuffing
Melt butter in deep 12-inch skillet. Add onion, celery and parsley; cook gently, stirring occasionally until softened—about 10 minutes. Turn condensed soup into measure; add enough water to make 2 cups; add to skillet; bring to a boil; remove from heat. Add bread stuffing; mix well.

Use as stuffing for body and neck cavities of 12-pound (ready-to-cook weight) turkey.

Liver Cookery Facts
To pan-fry, dip calf, lamb or beef liver slices in flour. Gently fry in a little hot fat until well browned on both sides, 4 to 5 minutes per side. Do not overcook. Season with salt and pepper and serve immediately.

To braise, flour sliced pork or beef liver and brown on both sides in a little hot fat. Season with salt and pepper. Add a small amount of liquid and cook, covered, over low heat until meat is tender, 30 to 45 minutes.

Fresh liver should be used within 24 hours after purchase. One pound yields 4 servings.

Quick Rich Dressing for Roast Turkey
One of the advantages of roasting a turkey: Leftovers for other meals.

Rich Quick Dressing
1/2 pound butter or margarine
1 egg (1 medium-large) finely diced onion
1/2 cup finely diced celery
1/2 cup (loosely packed) parsley sprigs (minced)
Water
2 packages (8 ounces each) herb-seasoned bread stuffing
Melt butter in deep 12-inch skillet. Add onion, celery and parsley; cook gently, stirring occasionally until softened—about 10 minutes. Turn condensed soup into measure; add enough water to make 2 cups; add to skillet; bring to a boil; remove from heat. Add bread stuffing; mix well.

Use as stuffing for body and neck cavities of 12-pound (ready-to-cook weight) turkey.

BROILED BEARNESA LIVER—Broiled liver is accented with a tangy sauce that is the perfect foil for the delicate taste of the meat. Calf or lamb liver may be broiled, but pork and beef liver are best braised before serving with the piquant sauce. Cole slaw stuffed tomatoes and crusty hard rolls complete the menu.

Ginger, Whipped Cream Tops Baked Apple Rings

Baked apple rings are a delicious harvest season dessert and may be served plain or topped with whipped cream, blended with slivered ginger. To prepare, wash and core 6 large Jonathan apples. Slice in rings crosswise, keeping the slices together.

Arrange apple rings in a buttered casserole, standing around the edge, then fill in center. Combine 1 cup sugar, 1/2 tsp. cinnamon and sprinkle over apple rings. Pour 1/4 cup lemon juice over apple rings and dot with 1/4 cup butter or margarine.

Cover and cook in slow oven (300 degrees) 45 mins. or until tender.

Brownie Sundae Is Double-Rich, Super Dessert

Double Chocolate Ice Brownies
1 package (1 pound) chocolate fudge brownie mix
2 tablespoons butter (melted)
1 package (8 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup heavy cream
Rum flavoring
1 quart vanilla ice cream
Make up the brownie mix according to package directions for a fudge-type brownie, stirring in the 2 tablespoons melted butter along with the water and egg called for on the package. Bake in a square pan (9 by 9 by 2 inches). When cool, cut brownies into 9 squares.

Shortly before serving, place chocolate, corn syrup and cream in the top of a double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. Stir occasionally until chocolate melts; use a whisk to mix smooth.

Just before serving, place sauce over cold water and add rum flavoring to taste; whisk until sauce thickens somewhat. (Makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce.)

Put scoop of ice cream on top of each brownie and pass the chocolate sauce separately. Makes 9 large servings.

Note: Any leftover sauce may be refrigerated in a tightly covered container; reheat over hot water, thinning with a little water if necessary.

Any bottled mint sauce in the house? Pour it over cooked green peas and chill. Serve on crisp greens as a salad with lamb chops.

New Acronized Poultry Stays Fresh Longer

Feature From Home Editor

ACRONIZE — does that word mean anything to you? You are going to see it on more and more food labels as time goes by. We learned about it at the Food Editors' Conference and should like to pass the information along.

First of all, Acronize is a trade name for a formula that, applied to meat, fish and poultry, helps preserve food. It is a form of an antibiotic many of you have taken — aureomycin.

Food treated with this process will stay fresh longer than untreated food. On commercial fishing boats fishermen are using it so that fish has been treated with Acronize to help keep their catch fresh. In poultry processing plants chickens are dipped in an Acronize solution.

Acronize will not help food that has already begun to spoil. For this reason Mrs. America need not worry about getting old poultry passed off on her as fresh. The Acronize people will not grant the franchise to use their product if the processing plant does not measure up to their high standards of cleanliness.

Will this "stuff" change the taste of the food? Is it good for us to eat? Those questions are no doubt running through the minds of our readers.

Acronize has no effect on the taste of any food. The government Pure Food and Drug Administration has cleared the use of this process after the company presented exhaustive evidence that its antibiotic content was destroyed in cooking.

You would have to eat an entire uncooked steer at one sitting in order to receive as large a dose of aureomycin from the Acronize process as you would get in a dose from the doctor. You will agree there is little chance of your doing that.

To sum it up: Acronize is one more step in the process of learning to control the spoilage of food. With this simple means we now can have poultry that will stay fresh longer than untreated poultry.

Refrigeration is as necessary with Acronized poultry as with any other fresh meat or poultry. But you can be assured of good, clean food to start with, food that will stay fresh just a bit longer because of modern science.

It is harmless, it disappears after cooking, and it is cheap. Watch for Acronized poultry in your favorite store and keep your eyes open for further uses of this modern miracle drug.

Shrimp Fiesta Time Is Near

Having a Shrimp Fiesta (Oct. 15 through Nov. 3) is just a gay way of saying that fall is the time when shrimp catches are at their peak and that shrimp is wonderfully satisfying to the bumper crops of appetites that come with the harvest and the cooler weather.

The Shrimp Association of the Americas designated the time in cooperation with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to remind us all of the goodness and versatility of shrimp.

One of the most delightful ways of serving this shellfish is as an appetizer with a dunking sauce. Here's a new way of marinating shrimp in court bouillon in which it is cooked, and a new sauce recipe.

Marinated Shrimp With Dill Sauce
2 pounds shrimp, fresh or frozen
1 cup white wine
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pickling spices
1/2 lemon, sliced
1 onion, sliced
2 stalks celery with leaves

Wash shrimp. Mix remaining ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to boil. Add shrimp and return to boil. Remove from heat and chill.

Favorite Spaghetti Dish Called 'Spanish Cookin'

A Pontiac Press reader writes of a favorite spaghetti dish, called "Spanish Cookin'." The name goes back to a housewife the grand-mother of her family once lived who boasted of her ability at foreign cooking. It turned out that she based this on just one dish. It was so delicious and easy that

Delicious and Savory Are Deviled Kidneys

Beef kidneys properly prepared are delectable and may be served in a variety of ways.

The kidneys, after braising, may be served in their savory gravy topping rice, macaroni, or meaty baked potatoes.

Deviled Kidneys
2 pound beef kidneys
1 cup flour
1/2 cup lard
1 cup bouillon or meat stock
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon celery salt

Remove membrane from kidneys and split them. Using scissors, cut fat and white veins from meat. Cut into 1/2 inch cubes.

Roll in flour and brown in hot lard in heavy skillet. Add bouillon, salt, mustard, paprika, lemon juice and celery salt, and simmer, covered, 20 minutes or until tender. Serve on hot rice. Six servings.

Crisp Cookies Made With Peanut Butter

Crisp and flavorful, these peanut-butter cookies are tops.

Peanut Butter Cookies
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup margarine
1 cup chunky style peanut butter
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup dark brown sugar
1 egg

Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream margarine and peanut butter; add granulated and brown sugars and beat until fluffy. Beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in flour mixture until blended; cookie dough will be stiff.

Take up 1 level tablespoon of the dough at a time and roll into a ball. Place balls on greased cookie sheet about 2 inches apart; press balls down with the tines of a fork twice so marks crisscross.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 10 to 15 minutes, or until cookies are lightly browned. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Glamorous Sauce to Pour Atop Succulent Chicken

Frozen concentrated orange juice gives this recipe for broiled chicken a wonderful flavor. Orange Rice is the perfect accompaniment.

This menu ties into food plentiful for October, besides being just plain good! Special rice promotions will be under way, broilers are in very good supply, and of course, frozen orange juice from sunny climes is always plentiful, and good.

ORANGE BROILED CHICKEN

2 teaspoons MSG
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup frozen orange juice
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Sprinkle MSG and salt over chicken. Line broiler pan with aluminum foil. To broil, turn temperature control to 350 degrees. Pre-heat broiler unit with pan in place approximately 4 inches from heat.

Place chicken, skin side down, on pan. Combine butter and orange juice; brush over chicken. Broil 30 minutes, brushing occasionally.

Turn and brush chicken again. Broil 30 minutes longer, brushing occasionally. Turn into serving dish; pour Orange Sauce over chicken.

Orange Sauce:

1 cup currant jelly
1 can (8 ounces) frozen concentrated orange juice
1 can (3 or 4 ounces) mushrooms
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon tabasco
2 tablespoons sliced orange rind

While chicken is broiling, mash currant jelly with a fork in small saucepan. Add undiluted concentrate (less 2 tablespoons for rice).

Artful Seasoning Secret

Good for either dressing or dunk is this zesty seasoned combination. Add a clove of garlic to 1 cup mayonnaise and let stand in refrigerator for several hours. Remove garlic and stir in a 2 1/2 oz. can deviled ham and your favorite herb seasonings. Use as a dressing over a simple green salad or sliced tomatoes, or serve as a dip with potato chips or crackers.

Good on Cold Day: Family Meat Loaf

This meat loaf cuts beautifully and has fine flavor.

Family Meat Loaf

1 egg
1/2 cup milk
2 slices bread
1 small onion
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon crushed dried thyme
1/2 pound ground beef chuck

Beat egg in mixing bowl enough to combine yolk and white. Beat in milk. Cut bread (including crusts) into tiny cubes and stir in.

Grate onion fine and add with salt, pepper, thyme and paprika. Mix well. Work in meat thoroughly with fork or fingers.

Rinse small loaf pan (7 1/2 by 4 by 2 inches) with cold water; pack meat mixture into it; loosen sides with knife; turn out on small oven platter or shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) over 1 hour. Makes 4 servings.

Use Cheap Cuts for Delicious Braised Lamb

Take advantage of economically priced lamb cuts at the meat counter by selecting some low-in-cost neck slices or stew meat. These cuts have lots of good flavor and make delicious braised supper meals.

In this recipe, braised lamb neck slices are well-seasoned with thyme and marjoram.

Braised Lamb Neck Slices

4 lamb neck slices, cut 1 inch thick
2 tablespoons lard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon each pepper, thyme
1/2 teaspoon dried marjoram
1 clove garlic
1/2 cup water

Brown meat in hot lard. Add seasonings and water. Cover and cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 1 hour.

Remove meat to heated serving platter, discard garlic, and thick-en drippings with a flour and water paste. Serve gravy with meat. Four servings.

Sauce or Cake Filling

Heat apricot preserves and orange juice and use as a pudding sauce. Or add a little brandy to the preserves and use as a cake filling.

Delicate Chinese Omelet Has Subtle Blend of Foods

Probably nowhere in the world, did the art of cooking achieve such status as in China. Not even France, with its reputation for wonderful food, conferred such honor on its cooks.

The top flight Chinese chef acquired the title of "Grand Maestro of the Culinary Arts" proving that these people valued the work of a good chef as highly as that of a famous name in music, the theater or any of the allied arts.

Here is a recipe for Chinese Omelet. It calls only for ingredients readily available here in every grocery store. It's a delicious dish to serve for lunch or supper—a good way to use up that small amount of left-over meat we are all faced with occasionally, and it's easy to prepare.

Chinese Omelet

1 to 2 packages frozen green peas
4 large eggs
1 teaspoon ground ginger or crushed fresh ginger root
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 cup vegetable oil
4 scallions or green onions, finely sliced
1 mushroom, finely sliced (or 3 or 4 sliced mushrooms)
1 small stalk celery, finely sliced
1 cup shredded cooked meat
Additional vegetable oil

Cook peas following package directions. Drain and cool. Beat eggs with wire whisk or fork. Beat in ginger, salt and pepper. Blend in cooled peas.

Put 1/4 cup vegetable oil in skillet. Add finely sliced scallions or green onions (with tops), mushroom and celery. Cook over moderate heat about five minutes, until vegetables are just cooked. Add to egg mixture with shredded cooked meat.

Heat 1 tablespoon oil in skillet and spoon in enough egg mixture for one serving. Brown over moderate heat, then turn and brown on other side. Turn out on serving dish, folding omelet in half.

Repeat until mixture is used, with one tablespoon more oil in skillet before each addition. Serve with soy sauce as desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Make-Your-Own Is Fun

Do your family's food tastes differ? For a quick lunch, put sandwich fillings of various sorts into different plastic containers and place on table with a tray of sliced bread; let each member of the family make sandwiches of his or her own choice. Leftovers in containers can go right back into the refrigerator.

This Sandwich Breaks Rules

Sandwiches, the remarkable brain child and namesake of an English peer during the 18th century, have become so much a part of the American eating habit that it is difficult to think of anything that might be able to take their place. The sandwich of modern dress has very few set rules on what goes into it.

Here is a sandwich recipe, featuring canned California white asparagus, that Lord Sandwich would probably not even recognize as such but would certainly enjoy, as well as your family.

Try it for lunch, a light supper or late evening snack. . . . It's easily prepared with ingredients that require no special trips to the grocery store.

Asparagus and Cheese Grills
4 slices processed American cheese
2 slices crisp bacon
1 16 1/2 ounce can white asparagus, drained
2 slices buttered bread
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Melted butter or margarine

Arrange cheese, bacon and asparagus on 4 slices bread. Top with remaining bread slices.

Combine eggs, milk, salt and paprika; mix well. Dip sandwiches in egg mixture. Cook in a small amount of butter

Simmer Pot Roast in Cranberry Sauce

With the onset of cooler weather, here is a novel suggestion for dressing up a pot roast in its new fall finery.

How? It's cranberries that make the difference.

Dredge the pot roast, blade or round bone, in seasoned flour and brown in lard. Pour off drippings. Add a small amount of water, about 1/2 cup, and simmer 2 1/2 to 3 hours or until tender.

For a 3 to 4-pound pot roast, add 1 can (16 ounces) whole cranberry sauce about 1/2 hour before the pot roast is done.

Roll Sardines in Bacon—Serve Hot on Toast

When unexpected company drops in, you'll never be at a loss for a canape to serve with your favorite beverage if you keep handy flat cans of Maine sardines on the pantry shelf. Delicious all by themselves on crisp crackers, they are also very good served hot.

Roll each little fish in a thin strip of bacon. Secure with a toothpick. Whip under the broiler until the bacon is crisp. Use toast fingers under these, of course.

A quick lemon sauce for a cottage pudding (1-egg cake) can be made from a package of lemon pie and pudding mix.

Banana Bread With Nut Meats

This quick bread keeps well.

Minute's Banana Bread

- 1 cup sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 pound (1 1/2 cups) margarine
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup mashed ripe banana
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 cup coarsely broken walnut meats

Sift together the flour and baking powder. Cream margarine and sugar; beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Beat in mashed banana. Dissolve baking soda in water and stir in.

Add sifted flour and baking powder all at one time; beat only until smooth. Fold in walnuts. Turn into greased loaf pan (about 9 by 5 by 3 inches); allow to stand for 30 minutes.

Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Note: No salt is called for in this recipe; the margarine usually provides enough salt.

Compare Egg Prices

When buying eggs, it pays to compare between large eggs and the smaller sized, usually marked medium and small states Mrs. Josephine Lawler, Consumer Marketing Information Agent. At this time of year, large eggs are going up a bit in price, while the medium and small eggs are more plentiful and are tending down in price.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

IDAHO BAKE is a wonderful "meal-in-one." This makes a wonderful combination with cold beer," says Mrs. John D. Murray, Chicago Daily News Chapter.

For each customer you need 1 large Idaho potato, and a supply of the following ingredients:

- Butter, salt and pepper
- Four cream
- Chopped green onions
- Broiler pieces of cooked shrimp, crab or lobster
- Cheddar cheese sauce
- Crisp bacon bits

We like these best prepared in individual shirring dishes. First, scrub the potatoes well. We always slice off about 1/2 inch from each end, by the way. Bake them.

Make a cheese sauce by melting 1 tablespoon of butter, blending in 1 tablespoon of flour, then 1 cup of milk, and stir and cook until thickened. Stir in 1 cup grated aged Cheddar cheese, and season to taste with salt, pepper, paprika, and perhaps a dash of hot sauce.

When potatoes are done, place one in each dish, split them open and top with butter, and dust with pepper. Over this spread a generous amount of sour cream. Over this sprinkle the chopped onion, and then the bits of fish, both lavishly.

Pour the cheese sauce over, and then pop under the broiler until cheese is bubbly and lightly browned.

Remove from heat, sprinkle bacon bits over the cheese and serve at once.

While our calorie counter is turned off, here is FRENCH SILK CHOCOLATE PIE, from Mrs. Richard G. Trapp, Passaic, Wash. This one is really "RICH"—but good, and fattening.

It is very elegant, and very simple. The only thing you have to cook is the pastry shell, for which you can use a prepared mix or your own favorite recipe. For an 8-inch pie:

- 1 pie crust, baked and cooled
- 1 square (1 oz.) chocolate
- 1/2 cup soft butter
- 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 eggs
- Whipped cream (optional)
- Chopped walnuts (optional)

Melt and cool the chocolate. Cream the butter smooth, then cream in the sugar, then blend in the chocolate and vanilla. We have used a bit of rum or mint flavoring occasionally for variety.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating five minutes after each addition. Pour the result into the pie shell and chill at least two hours before serving. Top with whipped cream and nuts if you like.

Carl W. Manar, San Diego Union Chapter, says, "These HOT CAKES are the best I've been able to find west of the Mississippi. This will feed four, and anyone not eating more than eight cakes is either sick or mad!"

Mix together 1 cup flour; 1/2 cup yellow corn meal; 2 eggs, well beaten; 2 tablespoons bacon fat; 4 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon soda.

When well blended, stir in buttermilk just until the mixture is easy to pour. Bake on hot griddle over low heat

Beets in the Garden? Cook 'Em New Way

Beets have fresh flavor when they are prepared this way.

Saucepan Beets

- 4 cups coarsely grated pared fresh beets (packed down)
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- Juice (3 to 5 1/2 tablespoons) of 1 lemon
- 2 tablespoons (about) sugar
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1/4 cup water

Put beets and 1/2 cup water in a saucepan over moderately low heat; toss with a fork until juices collect; cover and simmer until beets are just tender—about 10 minutes.

Stir in salt, pepper, butter, lemon juice and sugar. Sprinkle with flour; stir well with a wooden spoon, mashing out any lumps.

Add 1/2 cup water. Cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened. Makes six servings.

Note: Two bunches of beets are usually needed to make the 4 cups of grated beets called for.

Mix a quarter cup of sugar with a couple of teaspoons of cinnamon; spread over well-buttered toast and reheat under the broiler.

CORN MEAL BISCUITS

Yield: 12 biscuits

- 1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup yellow corn meal
- 2 1/2 teaspoons Clabber Girl Baking Powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/2 cup milk

Sift together flour, Baking Powder, and salt into a mixing bowl. Blend in corn meal. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk all at once. Stir lightly with a fork, just enough to moisten all the flour. Knead gently about 1/2 minute on lightly floured board. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. Cut with 2-inch cutter. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in a 450° F. (very hot) oven 12 to 15 minutes.

New Kind of Breakfast to Tempt Elderly Folk

Tempt the finicky morning appetite of the elderly folks in your family with this breakfast that's easy to fix, easy to eat. Green pea soup, made with milk for that important extra protein, is a warming and comforting starter—and you might float some hard-cooked egg or crisp cereal on top. Perhaps they'll like soft rolls to eat with the soup.

For a sweet 'n' spicy finishing touch, sprinkle canned pear halves with a little cinnamon; serve chilled, or bake for a few minutes. Coffee rounds out a meal that your "senior citizens" will pronounce good.

Overheating stainless steel pots and pans is likely to cause discoloration.

Make Doughnut Dessert of Leftover Mincemeat

Split doughnuts in half crosswise and spread cut sides of one half with moist mincemeat; top with other half of doughnut. Heat in a moderate oven for about 10 minutes, then sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve at once. Good recipe to remember when there's a little mincemeat left over after pie-making.

The top of an empty frozen orange juice can makes a good cutter for biscuits.

Tomato Shape Varies

Don't refuse tomatoes just because they are not round, say M.S.U. foods specialists. Some kinds of tomatoes are oblong, some are dish-shaped, some have irregular outlines. If the tomaatoes are ripe and free from soft spots or blemishes, they'll make good eating.

French-fried potatoes, taken from the freezer, usually need about half an hour in a moderate oven for heating.

Spice Pork Shoulder

Whole cloves, whole allspice, bay leaves and peppercorns may be added to the water in which a smoked boneless pork shoulder butt is to be simmered.

Student Beats Handicaps

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, The Pontiac Press
"He's got what it takes—he'll work things out," Nolan Kaiser's school principal said at the time of the accident.

Nolan was injured in a home chemistry set explosion which blinded him. At the time he was a student at Eastern Junior High School and the principal was Francis W. Staley, now principal of Pontiac High School.

That was seven years ago, you will remember, when Nolan was just 14. Today that statement has been proven true.

Nolan was graduated this year from Albion College where he was admitted to Phi Beta Kappa, the highest national scholastic honorary fraternity.

But he isn't through. This fall he enrolled at the University of Michigan where he hopes to earn advanced degrees. He is working toward a master's degree in philosophy.

ACTIVE IN COLLEGE

During the four years at Albion, Nolan was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, and in his freshman year he was a member of the radio workshop, doing news broadcasting from the school.

Back in April 1949, the days were bleak ones for Nolan and his family. But they learned of the many friends they had during this trying time.

Clubs and organizations expressed a desire to help in any way they could, and in 1950, Nolan was named outstanding boy among 30,000 members of Boys' Clubs in Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky.

In July of 1949, he enrolled at the Michigan School for the Blind at Lansing, later going to Grand Rapids where he learned to manipulate a plastic hand. (He had lost a hand as a result of the accident, too.)

The 22-year-old student is an outstanding example of courage, having fought despair, coming through to take his place among honor students throughout the country. And everyone who knows him is inspired by his wonderful outlook on life.

A PROUD WIFE

Perhaps no one is more proud of Nolan than his attractive wife, Nancy, whom he married Aug. 18, unless it is his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton D. Kaiser of Ledyard street.

We wish him well at the University of Michigan, knowing he will measure up to past achievements.

Sorority Meets at Miller Home

Final plans for a money making project were made by members of Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority at their Tuesday meeting at Hotel Waldron. The project will be held Oct. 20 at the League of Catholic Women building.

A toy demonstration is planned for Oct. 23 at the Coleman street home of Mrs. Thomas Ogden. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Russell Perkins and Mrs. Ray Slaughter.

Members attending the State Convention in Jackson this weekend are Mrs. Walter Hiller, Mrs. Betty Richards, Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. Slaughter and Mrs. Ogden.

The favorite "Ali Baba and the 40 Thieves" is coming to Pontiac performed by Pontiac High School's Drama Department and sponsored by the Association for Childhood Education. Having "words" with swords in

Symphony Preparing for Concert

BY DORA DAWSON

Rehearsals for the first concert of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra Oct. 23 are in full swing, with the best roster of musicians, an enthusiastic group, that Conductor Francesco DiBlasi has had to work with.

There are several new members, among them violinist Philip Mason, a recent addition to the teachers of violin in the schools. Another violinist with experience is Donald Cole from Orchard Lake.

In the trombone section are Sheldon G. Knowles who formerly played with the Symphony Ensemble of Minneapolis; Arthur Plaxton of Birmingham, who studied seven years in Ann Arbor, and Howard Mitchell who also plays the euphonium.

Three new flute players are DeJores DePaw and Patricia Pinner, formerly in the Pontiac High School Band under Dale Harris, and Mrs. Jane Eggbert of Clarkston. Mrs. Eggbert also plays piccolo.

In all, some 12 new recruits have been accepted. Cella Merrill Turner, associate conductor, feels that the first violin section is the best the orchestra has had.

The soloist for this concert will be Stanley Lock, an Oakland County man whose extensive training and experience will bring a brilliant feature to this concert as he plays with the orchestra Robert Schumann's only piano concerto.

There will be five concerts again

Dr. Jones Describes World Trip

Dr. Sarah Van Hoesen Jones, former member of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University, gave an account of her recent round-the-world cruise at the Wednesday meeting of the Pontiac Chapter of the National Secretaries Association. Alice Serrell assisted Dr. Jones.

Her talk included descriptions of the land tours of South Africa and the interior of India as well as 23 ports and 16 other countries.

Members and guests of the chapter met at Hotel Waldron, and the invocation was given by Mrs. William Robinson.

Hostesses for the evening were Mary Eleanor Lockman and Mrs. Charles Renwick.

Ani Chapter of ARS Holds First Meeting

Mrs. William Enfield is serving as president of Ani Chapter, the newly organized junior group of the Armenian Relief Society. The chapter met Tuesday evening for the first time.

Serving with Mrs. Enfield are Betty Lou Apigian, secretary; Mrs. Albert Papanian, treasurer; Hazel Kabodian, publicity chairman, and Alice Kabodian, parliamentarian.

At the business meeting, plans were discussed for a membership tea to be held in the near future.

this year, to be held in Lincoln Junior High School auditorium on Tuesday nights.

The change from Wednesday night is in response to a request from people who have church meetings and who are also interested in making the Pontiac orchestra a success, with full attendance at each concert. Because of a conflict in January, the concert that month will be on a Wednesday night.

Educator at UM Objects to Promoting Gifted Pupils

ANN ARBOR 48 — University of Michigan Vice President James A. Lewis recommended today that gifted children be kept within their own age level in school.

Lewis was addressing a meeting of the Michigan Education Assn. Region Three. He is university vice president for student affairs.

Although they should be kept with their own age group, these gifted children should be given an enriched program, Lewis advised. The enrichment should come through after-school-hours activity, he said.

He said these youngsters with a high IQ should not be placed in special classes nor should they be promoted too rapidly.

Meanwhile, the University's School of Engineering has designed a plan to accelerate training of gifted students at the college level.

The plan provides for freshmen who enter college with above-average preparation and ability to reduce the number of credit hours needed for graduation, Assistant Dean Walter J. Emmons of the Engineering School explained.

For hunting, fishing and other forms of outdoor living, you can't beat the protection of a sturdy coat of wool mackinaw cloth. At left is a short, zippered jacket in bold red and black, with matching cap.

Trim is black knit wool. Longer coat (right) has added protection of a fleece-lined hood. Brown and tan in color, it has toggle fastenings, slash pockets.

Sisterhood Hears Plea to Cast Vote

Meeting Conducted at the Congregation B'nai Israel

Mrs. David Utley presided at the Tuesday meeting of Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel in the social hall of the temple. Mrs. Meyer Simon presented the opening prayer.

Mrs. Sol Newhouse, social action chairman, urged everyone to vote in the coming election. Included in her report was an explanation why the Suez Canal is of such importance to all the nations of the world.

Six pages today in Women's Section

Other reports presented included the children's religious committee report given by Mrs. John Rothschild, Youth Group activities reported by Mrs. Don Levin and the budget presented by Mrs. Ben Smith.

The work and needs of the Central Volunteer Bureau were discussed by Mrs. Barbara Kinney, bureau member.

Mrs. Mary Robbins of Detroit explained how the decor of our homes affects our lives and reflects our personalities. An interior decorator, the speaker stressed the importance of backgrounds. Through the use of fabrics and wall papers, she demonstrated the various effects that can be obtained.

New members of the sisterhood, Mrs. Lee Goldberg, Mrs. Donald Levin and Mrs. Julius Cohen were presented to the group by Mrs. Ben Monson, membership chairman.

Hostesses for the evening social hour were Mrs. Maurice Schiussel and Mrs. Abraham Avadenka.

Yomar Group Holds Meeting at Smith Home

Mrs. George Tremper was elected chairman of the Yomar Group of First Presbyterian Church when the group met Tuesday evening. Mrs. Lloyd Smith opened her home on Franklin boulevard for the meeting.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Richard Wright, vice chairman; Mrs. Howard White, secretary, and Mrs. L. V. Ostrander, treasurer.

Mrs. Nell Gray directed the Bible study and Mrs. Earl Van Dyke led a panel discussion on "Christian Living—Family Style."

Assisting Mrs. Van Dyke were Mrs. Chester Varney, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. J. E. Frankensfield and Mrs. Marvin Hillman.

Mrs. Donald Williams was welcomed as a new member of the group. Guests for the evening were Mrs. David Crocker and Mrs. Will Mathes.

Mrs. Gene Feneley, Mrs. Jack Johnson and Mrs. Chester Varney assisted the hostess.

Officers Selected by Senior League

Jack Horner was elected president of the Senior League of the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale at the meeting held Sunday afternoon. Others serving are Judy Huntwork, vice president; Margaret Studebaker, secretary, and Sharon Holland, treasurer.

"My Impressions of Holland" were presented by Jack Horner and Brian Woolcock, scholarship winners. A social hour followed.

Workshop on Evaluation Conducted

Four Groups Visit Toastmistress Club

Pontiac Toastmistress Club was hostess to members of Redford, Isch serving as chairman, was a panel discussion with summaries on "How to Evaluate" given by Mrs. Milton Freet, Mrs. Elmer Krugar of Redford and Mrs. Robert Sutton.

The meeting was a workshop on evaluation, with members of the Redford and Pontiac clubs participating.

Mrs. Rollin Ring of Detroit gave the invocation and Mrs. Robert Bunce, president of the local club, extended greetings on behalf of the group.

Summaries on "Who to Evaluate" were given by Mrs. Rahula Prouse of Redford, Mrs. George Gaches and Mrs. John Grab of Redford.

"What Kind of Evaluation" was summarized by Mrs. Arthur

Setwie of Redford and Mrs. J. Wendell Green. The general summary of the discussions was given by Mrs. Harold C. Young of Redford.

Two speeches were given to demonstrate ways of evaluating. Mrs. William MacDougall of Redford chose as her subject, "For As Ye Do," with Mrs. Clayton Rule serving as her evaluator.

Shirley Dove spoke on "The High Lands," with Mrs. Peter Schultema of Redford as evaluator.

Mrs. Donald McLeod of the Somac club was the general evaluator of the entire meeting. Mrs. Louis Davidson served as timekeeper, and the meeting was closed by Mrs. Sidney Olson.

Other guests participating in the meeting were Mrs. Sydney Castle, Mrs. G. W. Powell, Mrs. William Draschel, Mrs. M. L. Bosch, Mrs. Lauri Parssinen and Mrs. John Simpson.

Ethel Little YTC Meets Tuesday

Ethel E. Little YTC Group met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith on Lincoln avenue. Carolyn Jessee and Carolyn Sutherley were welcomed into the group.

"What About Smoking?" was the study topic for the evening. On Oct. 22 the group will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deaver on Cottage street for a Halloween party.

JACQUELINE ANNE KROEPLIN

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kroeplin of Chamberlain street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jacqueline Anne, to William E. St. Charles. St. Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest St. Charles also of Chamberlain street. A May wedding is planned.

Interest in Others Is Way to Charm

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

For many years psychologists have recognized the fact that our eyes are important to us. Feelings of inadequacy, inferiority or guilt, can distort an otherwise effective personality.

What makes you feel important? Individuals differ. One person may achieve a feeling of importance because of success in a career. Another may need only the knowledge that she or he is deeply loved by someone.

It doesn't matter what it is, every one of us must have something to bolster our belief that we are needed and valuable individuals.

Many people feel discarded and lonely because they have trouble making friends. Why are some people so magnetic? Of what does charm consist? When we meet a truly charming woman we hardly know whether she is beautiful — she seems so lovely to us.

Personality and charm are great attributes. Even failures and weaknesses are loved when they have this magic, intangible quality.

ANALYSIS

If you will think this over you will realize that the person you find charming makes you feel charming, that when you are with this person the things you say seem to take on some importance or seem witty or interesting, that you feel relaxed and at ease.

The charming person makes you feel this way because he is truly interested in you, in what you think, in what you do, in what you have to say. This interest cannot be simulated. It must be real to pack a wallop!

So if you are lonely, if you are self-conscious or shy, try this turnabout in outlook. Every person you meet is a surprise package. Every single person you know has some interesting bit of information, has a unique approach to life, has had some entertaining experiences or hobbies or thoughts.

We cannot be really interested in others unless we forget ourselves. Forgetting ourselves and concentrating on others is the best prescription for charm I know. Try it the next time you are in a group. It may not be easy at first but with practice you can do it, and when you do you will find life adventurous and friendly.

The warm heart, the responsive mind and the understanding spirit, are always touchstones for popularity.

If you would like to have my leaflet "How to Overcome Loneliness and Self-Consciousness" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 59 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Each Cream Serves A Different Purpose."

Italian-American Auxiliary Hears Mrs. Shunck

Mrs. William Shunck of the Central Volunteer Bureau was the speaker at the Monday evening meeting of the Auxiliary to the Italian-American Club. Mrs. Paul Felice was appointed chairman of volunteer work for the club.

Mrs. Frank Spadafore opened her home on Beechgrove avenue for the meeting.

Among events planned by the group is a money-making project to be held Friday and Saturday, with Mrs. Robert Mazza and Mrs. Donald Finelli serving as co-chairmen. Mrs. Robert Gaines is serving as chairman of a Christmas party planned for members' children.

The annual Christmas party for the auxiliary is being planned by Mrs. Paul Spadafore and Mrs. Joseph Spadafore.

Loyal Philathea Hears Address on Delinquency

Mrs. James Stewart of the Protestant Youth Program in Detroit spoke before members of the Loyal Philathea Class of First Baptist Church Tuesday evening. She gave a message on "Juvenile Delinquency."

The meeting, held in the church parlors, was conducted by Mrs. Isaac Wideman. A cooperative dinner was served preceding the meeting.

Mrs. William Caris, class prayer chairman, announced the continuation of weekly prayer groups throughout the city, and four numbers were presented by Mrs. Leon Reed with musical bells.

Devotions comparing the word of God with the bylaws of the class were given by Mrs. Radcliffe Vancil.

French Motels Open

Three American-style motels have opened in France near Saint-Jean-de-Luz, Le Touquet and Antibes. Motorized tourists can spend the night comfortably en route. A double room with bath, breakfast, garage and service runs $10 a night.

Community Club Plans Activities for Halloween

The board of directors of the Weaver-Owen-Hawthorne Community Club met Monday evening at the George Gray home on East Yale avenue.

Mrs. George Gray, president, named chairmen to assist with Halloween parties at the neighborhood schools in cooperation with the PTA groups and the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation.

Chairmen named are Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Greene, Owen School; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Scarborough, Weaver School; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carrick, Hawthorne School, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ottavio who will direct the teenage party.

Leonard Cotter, president of the LeBaron Neighborhood Club, explained the projects and aims of his organization.

Mrs. D. D. McCall Is Guest Speaker

The Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church met Tuesday in the church. Mrs. Harry Kusan conducted the worship service assisted by Mrs. William Tompkins and Mrs. Brady Adams.

Mrs. D. D. McCall gave a report on the international convention of the Disciples of Christ held recently in Des Moines, Ia. Her message was entitled, "Spokesmen for God."

Concluding this meeting members presented gifts to be used to further missionary work of the Disciples of Christ in all parts of the world.

Columbus Day Marks Date for Fall Fair

Friday, Columbus Day, is the date set for the fall fair sponsored by Bethune School PTA. The fair is scheduled from 5 to 8:30 p.m. at the school.

A Country Store selling canned goods will be one of the booths featured. Other concessions will be the restaurant with hot dogs, pop, coffee and ice cream being sold students and their parents. Popcorn and cotton candy will also be sold those attending.

There will also be a fish pond, a pistol range, a white elephant sale, baked goods sale and a special attraction this year, a hay ride.

The public is invited to attend.

Recently Wed Pair Resides in Virginia

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolff of Dixie highway announce the marriage of their daughter, Darlene, to Donald R. Black. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Black of Young street.

The couple, married Sept. 18, is residing in Virginia where he is stationed with the U. S. Army.

City AAUW to Consider Platforms of Both Parties

Pontiac Branch of the American Association of University Women will consider the platforms of both political parties on Saturday when members meet for a 12:30 p.m. luncheon at the Gale road home of Mrs. Olin Thomas, president of the group.

Mrs. Homer McVean and Dorcas Wolfe have planned the program, in which six main issues will be discussed: Civil rights, farm income, foreign policy, highway building, education and unemployment.

A special guest will be Dr. Anita G. Fagan of Sao Paulo, Brazil, who is studying at the University of Michigan on a AAUW International Fellowship grant.

She is doing laboratory work in the field of clinic endocrinology, having been an assistant in the Department of Medicine at the University of Bahia. Her message will regard the work she is currently engaged in.

Mrs. Thomas states that all graduates from accredited colleges and universities are invited to the luncheon. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Thomas and her committee until noon Friday.

Dorcas Bible Class Holds Meeting

Thirteen members of the Dorcas Bible Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church attended the Tuesday meeting at the home of Mrs. Lottie Waldron on Wisner street.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Gemmel and plans were made for a Harvest Dinner at the church Nov. 8.

Eye Makeup Tip

Older women are usually better off if they use very little mascara and eyeshadow, particularly if their eyes are showing signs of age.

Blue-eyed women may wear it better than brown-eyed types who are likely to achieve a haunted look unless they do a very deft application.

Seek Expert for Vocational Advice

By ANNE HEYWOOD

As a rule, there is very little, really, that we can do to help the people who are closest to us when it comes to an important decision about their life work.

Wives often ask me how they can help their husbands decide on a job or help their youngsters choose the right career. But it is always difficult.

First of all, we don't see the people we love as they really are. The personal relationship makes it impossible to evaluate their good points and their bad points with any objectivity.

Secondly, the people who know us the best are not apt to take our advice anyway, because they know us all too well, and are not aware of our bad points and cannot take us too seriously.

CASE IN POINT

Take Ellen and Bob. Bob was a quite successful engineer but he didn't like his work and complained constantly to Ellen. Ellen was so concerned about him that she tried her best to think of something else he would enjoy.

One day, she suggested he try writing. She was certain he had talent because he wrote her such beautiful letters while overseas!

Bob worked hard at the writing, after hours and on weekends, but at the end of seven months even Ellen was ready to agree that this probably wasn't going to be the solution to his problem.

The stuff he turned out was hopeless. It was quite apparent that writing eloquent letters to a beloved wife does not guarantee high literary aptitude.

However, discontent with his job continued to grow. Finally, they realized that Ellen was not the proper person to advise Bob vocationally and decided to seek competent professional advice.

With the help of a good counselor and a battery of vocational tests, Bob started on an after-hours study program along the right lines — business administration. He will be moving into that field before very long.

If you or any of your family or friends are discontented with their work, resist the temptation to make suggestions. Chances are you'll make the situation even worse.

After all, you wouldn't prescribe for their physical ills — you'd leave that to a doctor. So don't prescribe for their vocational ills — leave that to a vocational counselor.

Back to School for Child Means Same for Parents

PTA, Chauffeuring, Baking Cookies, All Part of Family's Classroom Job

By EUTH MILLETT

Well, we parents are starting back to school again.

Even though our own classroom days are far behind us, when Johnny and Susie go to school we're right in there, too.

There'll be PTA meetings and cookies to bake and chauffeuring to do.

We'll be scratching our heads over arithmetic problems, embarrassed at finding them harder than we remembered. We'll be trying to recall enough Latin to help Susie pass an exam she is sure she will fail.

AWAIT REPORT CARDS We'll sweat out report cards and covered with more chagrin than Johnny when the principal calls him on the carpet.

We'll hear so much about the teachers, their quirks and idiosyncrasies, that we'll almost feel they were part of the family.

We'll get carried along with all the talk of what boy likes what girl and what girl likes what boy. We'll often have to crack the whip to see that outside activities don't entirely crowd out studying.

We'll have to remember a hundred and one details like "Don't forget to take your gym shorts" and "be sure to ask your English teacher if you can make up that test you missed the day you were home with a cold."

When it's back to school for the kids—it is also back to school for the parents.

The number of times a conscientious parent goes through school depends on the number of children he has.

Plans were discussed for several philanthropic projects in the business meeting. A toy demonstration will be held at the home of Mrs. Donald Nelson on Ross drive Oct. 23. The annual spread is scheduled for Nov. 27.

Meeting Conducted by VFW Auxiliary

VFW 1008 Auxiliary met Monday evening in the American Legion Home. The group voted a contribution to the United Fund and to the National VFW Home in Eaton Rapids for a memorial window.

Mrs. Archie Tyron presented the hospital committee report, and reports of the standing committees were read.

MR. and MRS. T. I. MISENER

Linda Whitlock Becomes Bride in Baptist Service

Wearing a waltz-length gown of crystal with a nylon trim, Linda Kay Whitlock became the bride of Thomas I. Misener in a 5 o'clock ceremony at First Baptist Church Saturday.

The bride's shoulder-length veil was secured by a headpiece of orange blossoms and seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was composed of shag chrysanthemums and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd O. Whitlock of First avenue are parents of the bride, and Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan William Misener.

Mary Robinson and Marlene Harnes were bridal attendants. They were gowned in pale rose crystal with a nylon trim.

Their headpieces were of tiaras of pink carnations, and they carried cascade arrangements of pink carnations.

Paul Wilmet served as best man and Michael Misener was usher.

For the reception held at the home of the bride immediately following the ceremony, her mother chose a rust two-piece dress and a corsage of yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Misener wore a beige suit with a corsage of yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums.

The new Mrs. Misener changed to a two-piece brown dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses from her bridal bouquet for traveling to northern Michigan. The newlyweds will make their home on Cooley Lake road.

Marjorie Salisbury, the bride's only attendant, wore an ice blue gown with matching headpiece.

Her flowers were of yellow roses and carnations.

Paul Cenkovich performed the duties of best man for Jerred.

Mrs. Martin received her guests at a reception in Malta Hall held later in the evening. Her gown of blue lace was accented by black accessories. A corsage of white gardenias completed her costume.

Mrs. Hummel chose a navy blue suit with pink trim for her son's wedding. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Creates Designs Just for Baby

NEW YORK (INS)—New York designer Charles James, who created "the shape" for the world's best-dressed women, has now defied geometry to create a shape for the world's best-dressed babies.

James' conversion to the cradle set came about after the arrival of his son, Charles Jr. (now eight months old) who inspired his dad to desert the ballroom in favor of the nursery.

"It was fairly simple," James said, "because, after all—most American fashion is based on older women trying to look like babies!"

At a special showing in New York this week James displayed such baby clothes innovations as tailored cutaway shirts, "opera" coats and waterproof, lace-trimmed boxer shorts.

HIDES 'FAULTS' James believes that—just as in designs for the fashion-conscious woman — baby clothes should be created to hide shape deficiencies.

In an effort to do this he has dreamed up things like sunsuits with shaped straps to conform to the body, pants with gusset backs and "toppers" with shaped front and back yokes.

He also takes comfort into consideration and has spent long hours worrying over waist and arm fittings and leg openings. His armhole allows complete ease of movement but still creates the impression of smallness.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard D. Martin of Midway avenue and Jerred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam W. Hummel of West Huron street.

Marjorie Salisbury, the bride's only attendant, wore an ice blue gown with matching headpiece. Her flowers were of yellow roses and carnations.

Paul Cenkovich performed the duties of best man for Jerred.

Mrs. Martin received her guests at a reception in Malta Hall held later in the evening. Her gown of blue lace was accented by black accessories. A corsage of white gardenias completed her costume.

Wedding Off —Bridesmaid Has Problem Should She Accept Payment for Dress Already Bought?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The wedding in which I was to have been an attendant was canceled, but my dress had already been bought. The bride's mother has offered to reimburse me for the dress and I would like to know what steps to follow now."

"Would it be proper to accept payment for it? If so, should I offer to give her the dress or should I keep both dress and money? Please advise me of the proper way to handle this situation."

Answer: If you can wear it, keep the dress and do not accept the money; but if you can never wear the dress, then you accept the money and give the mother the dress.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother-in-law's sister died a week before his birthday. As it was so soon after her death, I did not send him a birthday card, which I have always done in the past. Another sister-in-law did send him a birthday card, saying it would cheer him up. Wasn't this in bad taste so soon after a bereavement?"

Answer: Cherry cards would be incorrect, but you could write a note saying: "My thoughts are with you on this day, that must be very sad for you."

"Dear Mrs. Post: I was invited to a 25th wedding anniversary last week. The couple received many gifts but did not open any of them. Was this correct? I thought the presents should be opened and displayed. The reception was in a hall."

Answer: If the reception were held at home, I would say yes definitely. But in a hall it is optional—if there is a place for her to display them and it is convenient for her to do so, then yes; otherwise, no.

Lincoln and Emerson PTAs Meet

Lincoln Junior High School and Emerson School held PTA meetings Wednesday evening.

Lincoln Junior High School PTA, with Richard Arthoud, psychiatric social worker at Pontiac State Hospital, spoke on "Mental Illnesses in Our Children" at the meeting of Lincoln Junior High School PTA.

Mr. Arthoud told of the 34 patients at the hospital between the ages of 6 to 17 and stressed the necessity of treating youngsters at an early age.

According to Mr. Arthoud, environment is the leading factor for the proper growth and happiness of the child. This depends on the ability and efforts of the parents, the excellent and untiring efforts of teachers and the work of the volunteer personnel.

Mrs. Morris Cuckey presided at the business meeting and entertainment was provided by the Ninth Grade Chorus. Sharon Nichols and Gary Bowers sang a duet.

and Marilyn Vernon presented a solo.

Mrs. Robert Klinger and Mrs. Worley Smith reported on the membership drive.

Mrs. John Giles, hospitality chairman, served refreshments.

assisted by Mrs. Melvin Norberg and Mrs. Louis Norberg.

Emerson School A movie entitled "The Angry Boy" was shown to Emerson School PTA members. The movie depicted how a disturbed child might be helped by a Child Guidance Clinic and his parents working together.

Plans are in progress to cooperate with the City Parks and Recreation Department in having a Halloween party at the school. The school will also make a float for the Christmas parade under the chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Waldbillig.

Announcement was made of the Parent Education Instruction classes to be held at U. of M. on Nov. 7 and 8. The classes are open to any PTA member.

Mrs. Fred Hubert is chairman of the square dance to be held Friday evening. Dance proceeds will be used for the PTA Council Scholarship Fund.

The group plans a Fathers' Night next month, with the father vice president presiding.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect

Mary Margaret LeMarbe was the honoree at a miscellaneous shower given Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert LeMarbe of Jonquil avenue.

The bride-elect of Thomas Walker Jr., Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave LeMarbe of Voorheis road. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker of Wyandotte. The couple is planning a Nov. 10 wedding in St. Benedict Church.

Out-of-town guests attending the shower were from Port Huron, Wyandotte and Livonia.

MR. and MRS. J. R. INGAMELLS

Married Saturday evening in First Presbyterian Church were Mr. and Mrs. John Richard Ingamells. The bride is the former Frances Fay Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo O'Brien of Outlook drive and he is the son of Mrs. John Ingamells of Williams Lake road.

Frances Robinson Weds in Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony at First Presbyterian Church Saturday evening, Frances Fay Robinson became the bride of John Richard Ingamells. Dr. William H. Marbach performed the 8 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

Frances is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo O'Brien of Outlook drive and John is the son of Mrs. John Ingamells of Williams Lake road and the late Mr. Ingamells.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace and a train featuring a cascade of ruffles ending in a chapel train. The bodice of the gown was fashioned with a Queen Anne collar and long sleeves that tapered to points at the wrists.

Her finger tip veil of French imported silk illusion was secured by a seed pearl headpiece. She carried a cascade arrangement of carnations and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

For her duties as maid of honor, Carole Wallace wore a gold taffeta ballerina-length gown of princess styling with matching headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and Tailsman roses.

OTHER ATTENDANTS Other attendants were Mrs. Robert Robinson, sister-in-law of the bride, and Virginia O'Brien, sister of the bride. They were deep turquoise gowns styled identically to the gown of the honor attendant. Their colonial bouquets were of yellow carnations and Golden Rapture roses.

Janet Sterling, niece of the bridegroom, wore a floor-length dress of aqua taffeta for her duties as flower girl. A matching net bonnet and a yellow and white basket of rose petals completed her ensemble.

William Bowers served as best man. Ushers were Richard Kruger and Robert Robinson, brother of the bride.

Mrs. O'Brien greeted her guests at the reception held in the Waterford, Cal. Building immediately following the ceremony wearing a gummetal gray taffeta dress with pink sequin hat and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Ingamells chose a dusty rose lace dress with matching hat and brown accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also of orchids.

Auxiliary Gathers With Mrs. Turnbull

Mrs. Robert Turnbull opened her home on Stanley avenue for the Monday evening meeting of the Typographical Auxiliary.

In the business meeting Mrs. Severt J. Davis was appointed sunshine chairman. Plans were completed for a cooperative dinner preceding the next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Babington on Lakeview drive.

PTA Activities

Core Bailey PTA will meet tonight at 7 at the school for dedication of the new building. School children will participate.

Some Startling Statistics on Teens' Drinking Habits

5,000 Boys, Girls Aged 15-17 Surveyed; Half Drink at Home, One-Third at Bars

BY EUGENE GILBERT President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

There is a growing indication that hit-the-bottle may be replacing spin-the-bottle as a diversion among teenagers of the modern generation.

The youth of today learn early how to bend a friendly elbow and down a sociable glass. And, surprisingly enough, many of them learn right in their own homes long before they get to college.

Dad may have had his first sip at a fraternity smoker or football celebration, but Junior and Sis are old hands at the guzzling game before they get their high school diplomas.

"Why shouldn't I take a drink or two?" asks a 16-year-old San Diego bobbysoxer. "All my friends do."

Our survey of more than 5,000 boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 17 in 80 communities across the country shows that 79 per cent have had one or more alcoholic drinks in their young lives.

The sampling included teenagers in large cities, suburban areas and small towns, with no appreciable difference in drinking habits by population grouping.

Only 15 per cent said they never had a drink and the rest declined to answer.

Where did they usually obtain their drinks?

Right at home, answered 56 per cent. Tied for second place, at 33 per cent each, were parties and neighborhood bars. Twelve per cent said they had a drink in a night club and 9 per cent listed various other places. Those who drank both at home and at parties or bars accounted for the total going over 100 per cent.

It is interesting to note that considerably more than one-third of these youngsters sometimes drink in bars and night clubs, although no state in the union allows serving alcoholic beverages to persons under 18.

The heavy percentage of home drinkers may account for the teenagers' scorn of "sly drinkers." An overwhelming 76 per cent of the boys and 80 per cent of the girls thought it was dishonest to drink without their parents' knowledge.

Yet, despite these figures, teenagers were far quicker to blame the tavern keeper than the parent for cases of drunkenness in their own set.

The question asked was: "Whom would you punish if a teenager got drunk — the teenager, the tavern keeper or the parent?"

Punish the tavern keeper, answered 56 per cent of the boys and 32 per cent of the girls. Girls would tend to be harder on the teenager than the parent. The opposite was true among boys.

Eleven per cent of the girls but only 6 per cent of the boys would blame the teenager. But 9 per cent of the boys and only 4 per cent of the girls would blame the parent.

Even more significant, 18 per cent of the boys and 25 per cent of the girls said they would blame no one.

"I've only been drunk once," said a Minneapolis youth. "And even then I got home all right."

But an 18-year-old Kansas boy delivered this strong indictment of a tavern keeper serving liquor to minors: "There is nothing lower than a grown man contributing to the corruption of minors. I know. I had a little trouble myself back when I was 15."

COLLEGIANS DRINK MORE

Drinking statistics jumped astronomically when our surveyors moved from high school to college youth, proving that collegiate habits have changed little since the days of the Student Prince in old Heidelberg. School days quickly become skool days on the modern campus.

Our researchers, visiting 10 campuses in nine states, found that only one out of 10 college boys does not drink at all and only one out of eight does not drink hard liquor.

Among the girls, only one out of five does not drink at all and one out of two does not drink hard liquor.

Only 12.7 per cent of the boys but 47.1 per cent of the girls never drink straight whiskey. As for beer, 9.4 per cent of the boys and 21.1 per cent of the girls said they never drank it, but 56.5 per cent of the boys and 38.8 per cent of the girls said they drink it "often."

Cocktails and soft drinks spiked with liquor were downed "often" by about 35 per cent of the boys and less than 20 per cent of the girls, with the spiked soft drink having a slight edge in popularity.

Reasons given for the preference for beer over other types of alcoholic beverages include price, size of glass and beer's less inebriating features. Many said they preferred the taste of beer to other drinks.

Most young people today, in common with their elders, are positive that their friends drink more than they do. This contention, if true, would increase percentages by about 25 per cent in all categories of drinking.

For instance, if a 17-year-old boy says that he takes about three drinks in an evening, he would answer that most of his crowd has between five and six.

High school students seeking freer drinking privileges seldom find allies in their brothers and sisters at college. The college group looks with disfavor on drinking by the younger set.

Mona Lisa New Look in Makeup

PARIS (INS)—The latest make-up gimmick from Paris is the "Mona Lisa" look, but you don't have to make a bee-line to the Louvre Museum to get the low-down.

All you have to do is breeze into an art store and pick up a print of the ancient masterpiece.

The Mona Lisa style concerns the makeup, to go with the new feminine Paris styles. The trick—you guessed it—is in the eyes and mouth.

ACCENT ON MYSTERY

The eyes should have a veiled, mysterious expression. Stodhal, the beautician who launched the Mona Lisa makeup, says "doe-eyes" look terribly out-dated with the new clothes.

The "velour" expression is achieved with eyeshadow, and plenty of it. Mole-brown, grey-green, or grey-blue are the new shades of the eye shadow with which the eyelids are generously covered. The brows are high placed, rounded and not necessarily prolonged toward the temples.

The Mona Lisa mouth is special, indeed. The upper and lower lip should be of equal width with the corners slightly pointing up. The lipstick color is rose in a natural looking shade. The mouth should look ready for a smile . . . the mysterious, spiritual, famed smile of Mona Lisa.

For the Mona Lisa hairdo, part your hair in the center and smooth—but not glue—it to two symmetrical planes softly following on both sides the oval shape of the head. The ends are turned under.

MR. and MRS. JAMES M. SMITH

A tour of the Southeastern states is being taken by Mr. and Mrs. James M. Smith who were married Saturday. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson of West Brooklyn avenue. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Elbert W. Smith of Marshall street.

Eva Johnson Says Vows Before 300 at St. Trinity

The Rev. Ralph C. Clause of St. Trinity Lutheran Church officiated at the Saturday wedding of Eva Johnson and James M. Smith. Three hundred guests witnessed the 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Johnson of West Brooklyn avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert W. Smith of South Marshall street.

A floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle was chosen by Eva for her wedding. Long pointed sleeves and a Sabrina neckline were features of the lace bodice.

The lace was repeated in the Juliet cap, trimmed with seed pearls and fringed sequins. Her veil of illusion was fingertip length.

Noted Wife Aids Envoy From Brazil

Embassy Hostess Is the Daughter of Late President

By JANE EADS
WASHINGTON—The young and attractive wife of the new Brazilian ambassador, Ernani do Amaral Peixoto, is something new in the way of diplomatic hostesses.

The former Alzira Vargas, daughter of the late President Getulio Vargas of Brazil, she is a personality in her own right—a lively, dynamic hostess, linguist, lawyer and dedicated worker in behalf of the people of her country.

The ambassador and his wife brought with them their daughter Celina and niece Edith Gama, both 15 and pretty.

This is the first diplomatic assignment of the former governor of the state of Rio and rear admiral in the Brazilian navy, who just observed his 51st birthday. For this anniversary Celina bought her father a hat befitting his new station—a homburg!

Mrs. Peixoto (pronounced Pay-sho-tee) was her father's secretary in her teens, and one of the jobs she set for herself was cataloguing her father's famous library.

LAW STUDENT

Vargas, knowing his daughter's love for his books, promised to give the library to her if she'd take up the study of law, in which his three sons expressed no interest.

Alzira got a law degree, but she also got a husband, so she never practiced.

She says now that if she ever had, she'd have specialized in criminal law because "there's more human interest in it."

Besides her "three children—my husband, Celina and Edith," she's kept herself extremely busy with outside affairs.

She headed a social welfare organization during the war for veterans, created by her mother.

AIDS INDUSTRIES

She also headed the Anchieta Foundation to help Brazil's home industries, and while her husband was governor of Rio she founded a nursing school, with the help of the Rockefeller Foundation, and a school for social workers.

She's not fond of politics, but she says "you can't take yourself away from the things that must be . . . the responsibilities and, more important, the dedications you get, the people that suffer for you and follow you. You must help them and to do so you must be something."

Church Group Members Attend Monthly Meetings

Monthly meetings of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church women's groups were held during the week.

Eleanor Creswell

Members of the Eleanor Creswell Group met at the home of Mrs. John Gemmell on Pingree avenue. Mrs. Howard Webb assisted the group.

Devotions were led by Mrs. John Martin, and Mrs. Leon Verwey gave a report on the missionary work in Ethiopia. Following the business meeting, members sewed for the American Red Cross.

Ann McGeech

Mrs. Carl Buckner opened her home on Gerdon avenue for the meeting of Ann McGeech Group. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Walter Napersky.

Mrs. Clyde Clark gave devotions and Mrs. Ethel Rowley led the prayer cycle. Mrs. Powley also spoke on the development of the Christian Mission in South Sudan.

Plans were completed to send layettes and toys to the Ojato

Christian Mission in Utah for Christmas.

Margery Peters

The Margery Peters Group met in the Dorcas Room of the church. Mrs. E. J. Schulte and Mrs. Guy Caswell presented devotions and the prayer cycle.

Christmas gifts were packed for various missions following the business meeting.

Eleanor Van Lierop

Members of Eleanor Van Lierop Group met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Nixon on Pingree avenue. Devotions were led by Mrs. Omer McNutt.

The group is making pajamas for youngsters at Oakland County Children's Home. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Ernal Lloyd and Mrs. Howard Hall.

Lucille McBane

A report on "The Suez Canal Situation" was presented by Mrs. Gloria Luck at the meeting of Lucille McBane Group. The devotional topic was given by Mrs. Donald Upton.

Mrs. Walter Messer opened her home on Pine Grove avenue for the meeting. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Thomas Hegwood. Joyce Sweet and Mrs. Ralph Osborn were guests.

The November meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Donald Upton on Third avenue.

Metallic Thread Winds Its Way in Home Fabrics

NEW YORK (INS) — Not so long ago, the homemaker never would have considered the use of metallic threads or yarns in anything but the most luxurious evening gowns or evening coats. But now, the same shimmering metal yarns that have made dresses look like queenly ballgowns are being used in draperies, rugs, table place mats, sofa covers and automobile upholstery.

An Ohio manufacturer has achieved metallic jewel tones in metallic yarns that can make your home sparkling and glamorous.

The metal threads are being used in the mistiest of sheer curtains and the heaviest of tufted carpeting. They are being shown in brocades, stripes or delicate flecks and for the first time are being woven into cashmere.

If the housewife needs just one bright touch to liven up a living room she can recover the back of her sofa with metallized upholstery. It can become the focal point of the entire room.

Or, if the playroom or den needs a lift, she can hang metallized draperies or toss one brightly sparkling rug on the floor.

Heavy Guns Set for Kentucky Senate Races

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (INS) — Kentucky's double-barrelled Senate race, with two seats and possible control of the U.S. Senate at stake, is bringing the heavy guns into the state.

President Eisenhower was here last week; Adlai Stevenson will be on hand Oct. 19. Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Estes Kefauver have been here.

Before Nov. 6, any or all of the big four may be back.

Of the four senatorial candidates, three have never lost an election. Democratic Sen. Earle C. Clements has won successive races for sheriff, county judge, congressman, governor and senator.

Lawrence Wetherby, his running mate, was elected lieutenant governor in 1947, governor in 1951.

Republican Thurston B. Morton three times was elected to Congress from the third district—Louisville and Jefferson County—before becoming assistant secretary of state.

COOPER TOUGHEST FOE

Some political observers, however, believe the only past loser is this time the strongest of the four. He is John Sherman Cooper, who resigned as ambassador to India to make the race against Wetherby. In four previous tries for the Senate, Cooper has twice won and twice lost—but he has been an excellent vote-getter.

For a Republican in the normally Democratic state of Kentucky, a 500-vote average is good.

But Cooper has been singularly unlucky. When he won Senate races in 1946 and 1952, he won only short terms. Ten years ago Cooper's share of the Republican sweep was the unexpired portion of A. B.

"Happy" Chandler's term, Chandler having resigned to become baseball commissioner.

Running for a full six years of his own in 1948, Cooper lost with Dewey, but ran almost 100,000 votes ahead of the GOP candidate for the presidency.

Although Eisenhower lost Kentucky by 700 votes in 1952, Cooper went back to the Senate by a comfortable 25,000. Once more the win was good for only two years. At stake was the unexpired portion of the late Sen. Virgil Chapman's term.

LOST TO BARKLEY

Two years ago Cooper ran against tough odds. He was pitted against Alben Barkley, and the old warrior beat his younger opponent by 70,000.

Cooper's fifth try is again for a short term, the last four years of Barkley's six-year span.

Possibly the most talked-about man in Kentucky politics isn't running for any office—except the presidency in 1960.

This is the governor, "Happy" Chandler, who has publicly proclaimed his availability for the Democratic nomination then if Stevenson loses now.

Many Democrats in Kentucky believe Chandler is doing all he can to see that Stevenson does lose. Appearing on the "Meet the Press" TV program in July while promoting his own bid for the Democratic nomination this time, Chandler was so insistent that Eisenhower would beat Stevenson in Kentucky that panelists asked him if he were a defeatist.

Chandler said he was not. Asked if he would campaign for the Democratic ticket, which would include his political enemy Clements and his political and personal enemy Wetherby, Chandler pledged he would.

"But will you campaign hard?" he was asked.

"Honey," Chandler told the woman reporter, "Ah don't know how to campaign easy."

FINDS EXCUSES

When Clements and Wetherby opened their campaign, Chandler wasn't there. He pleaded a previous engagement in Chicago.

When President Eisenhower came to Lexington last Monday, Gov. Chandler was on hand to extend "official greetings." He said he and Ike were old friends.

When it was announced Adlai Stevenson would come to Kentucky next week Chandler immediately discovered a previous engagement.

To this date Chandler has not lifted his voice for the Democratic ticket.

Still Kentucky is a Democratic state. It survived the Eisenhower landslide in '52, and in the view of most analysts the President's chances in 1960 don't look good.

All things considered, the Democrats seem slated to win Kentucky's eight electoral votes, retain both Senate seats, and may even pick up one of the two Republican votes in Congress.

Lamp Gives More Light

CLEVELAND — A new fluorescent lamp has been developed that is said to give double the light output of present tubes of equal length. The company developing the lamp says a revolutionary change in tube design, featuring a series of lengthwise grooves along one side of the tube that enlarges the lighted-tube surface, makes possible the increased light.

Historic Train to Chug Its Last

Toledo to Elkhart Run of One-Coach 'Old Line' to Stop Oct. 30

LANSING (U)—One of the state's historic trains will chug through Southern Michigan for the last time on Oct. 30.

The State Public Service Commission has given final approval of discontinuance of passenger service on the Old Line division of the New York Central Railroad effective that date.

The 'Old Line', which dates back to 1837, runs from Toledo, Ohio, to Elkhart, Ind., an approximate 118 miles through Southern Michigan.

Principal stops on the daily passenger service each way include Bluefield, Adrian, Hudson, Hillsdale, Jonesville, Coldwater, Sturgis and White Pigeon.

The train consisted of a Diesel locomotive, a baggage car and one passenger coach. Freight service will be continued on the line.

The railroad applied for permission to discontinue passenger service on May 31 of this year. Hearings were held July 19 at Adrian and Aug. 21 at Lansing.

The railroad claimed slipping passenger revenue and the loss of a mail contract forced it to discontinue the passenger service.

Ad Got Results

COVINGTON, Va. (U)—Jimmy Karides advertised all the shrimp anyone could eat for $1.35. For two weeks he made a profit on every meal. Then 33 of Covington's biggest eaters visited his restaurant in a group—and ate 65 pounds of shrimp. Then they wanted more. There were no more and some eaters ordered steaks. The champion eater, to the surprise of nobody, was Boodie Albert, 285-pound coach of Covington High School. His score: 200 shrimp.

And Many Tickets

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (U)—Paul White, 24, really made an impression when he went for a spin the other day on U. S. 119. He side-swiped two cars, knocked down two utility poles, left a wreckage of power lines along the highway, tore down sixty feet of fence and nine steel posts, and finally hit a third utility pole which demolished his car. White walked away with a slightly puffed lip.

A Reel Fishy Story

ELY, Minn. (U)—Guide Ernie Landgren picked up a daily double the easy way. While one of his guests was reeling in a whitefish a big 10-pound northern pike clamped his jaws on the hooked fish. The pike was persistent. He stayed with the whitefish until both reached the boat. Landgren calmly scooped both in with a net.

Real Town Spirit

RYCROFT, Sask. (U)—Two hundred shade trees have been planted along residential streets in this northwestern Alberta village. The trees were bought by the village council as part of a beautification program.

Freedom Carrier Still in Works

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Uncle Sam is still trying to launch a Cinerama carrier to circle the globe and exhibit the truth about America.

Blueprinted by the U. S. Information Agency, this Freedom Ship would display documentary movies, replicas of the nation's great documents, closed circuit TV, the "Family of Man" photographic exhibit and examples of "atoms for peace" research.

Biggest drawing card of all in foreign ports, however, would be the 9½-hour-long movie, "This is Cinerama." The lifelike color film projected on a huge curved screen would be shown twice a night to 2,000 persons on the forward flight deck of the converted Navy carrier.

Trouble is, the ship proposal doesn't yet hold water with Congress. The project, which will cost $3.75 million, was scuttled last April by a House Appropriations subcommittee.

TRYING AGAIN

In an effort to refloat the funds, a similar request has been presented to the Senate Appropriations Committee.

"We want to get across the idea that ours is a society of culture and industry and not the bunch of gunnicks—happy, soulless, nationalistic barbarians that the Communists always portray," Abbott Washburn, deputy USIA director, told the senators.

He and other officials emphasize the vessel is not designed strictly for entertainment but is a ship of ideas.

Actually, the proposal stems from a plan put forward by President Eisenhower last year to send an atomic powered showboat overseas. This was turned down on Capitol Hill.

One new approach, among others, is sponsorship of the USIA ship by the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge, Pa., a nonprofit foundation. This will prevent the project from being handled exclusively by the government.

Cinerama International, producer of the main movie, has agreed to provide the film and complicated audiophonic equipment to the government at cost for $200,000.

If the voyage gets under way, it will extend over a three to four-year period and take in 104 ports in the Near and Far East. The small-sized carrier would be covered with colorful bunting and drapes in place of guns and military gray.

PROPOSED FREEDOM SHIP: Sketch shows carrier USIA wants to sail around world to show Cinerama, other exhibits.

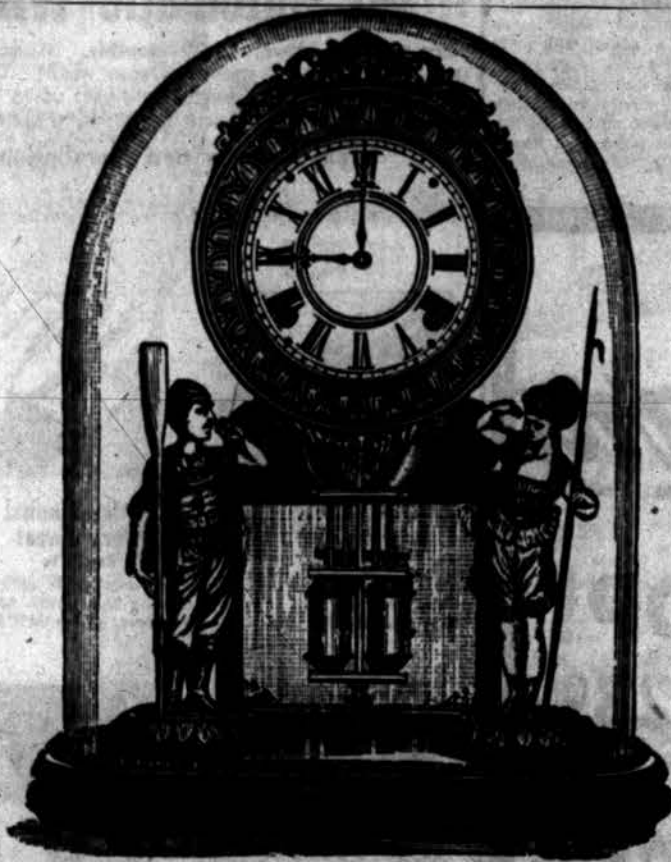

Bay Named for Lard

KINGSTON, Jamaica—Montego Bay, Jamaica, was once the domain of wild pigs. Its original name was Manteca Bay, from the Spanish for lard. The Spaniards hunted and butchered the pigs, rendered the carcasses, and barreled and exported the lard. The name was changed to Montego by the English conquerors of the island.

Coffee Lovers World Over Vary Preparation of Drink

WASHINGTON — The number one import of the United States last year, in terms of dollars spent, once again was coffee.

Although Americans consume 60 per cent of world export of this "most grateful lubricant of the human machine," their coffee drinking habits are rarely imitated in other countries. World around, coffee carries its own wealth of custom and tradition, says the National Geographic Society.

The Frenchman still likes every morning to a sidewalk cafe for his cup of cafe au lait — coffee mixed with hot milk. The waiter, by tradition, brings the newspaper and brushes the table — twice for cafe and three times for cafe complet (with bread and butter).

In Arabia, where the coffee plant was first cultivated, the beans are roasted, pulverized and boiled for each brew. No business deal is complete without coffee. It is served before any bargaining begins — generally without milk or sugar, though sometimes with cardamom seeds. An Arab takes a sip of water before his coffee but considers a water chaser a breach of etiquette.

BANANA, COFFEE DRINK
Uganda natives concoct a drink of banana and coffee. They also eat raw coffee berries. Algerians, who originated a sweetened cold coffee mixture, mazgran, thus fathered iced coffee. In southern France, mazgran is diluted with seltzer water.

In Ethiopia, where coffee trees grew wild before the Arabs cultivated them, wandering Galla tribesmen make rations of ground coffee — which is high in protein — and fat. One ball of this mixture, about the size of a billiard ball, sustains a warrior through a full day's march.

Coffee was used first as a food.

Purse Snatcher Kills Victim With Ice Pick

CHICAGO — A 46-year-old woman librarian, Miss Mildred Hayes, was fatally stabbed with an ice pick last night by a youthful purse snatcher in front of her West Side home.

Mrs. Jane Clark, a widow with whom Miss Hayes lived, told police she and several neighbors found Miss Hayes in a hysterical condition on the front steps. She said Miss Hayes gasped that a young man had grabbed her on the shoulder.

Mrs. Clark said neither she nor the neighbors who carried Miss Hayes into her apartment were aware that she had been stabbed. However, she said, Miss Hayes lapsed into a coma within 20 minutes and a fire department rescue squad and police were called. Police discovered the ice pick lodged about an inch in her back. She was taken to a hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

later as a wine and a medicine and, not until about 700 years ago, as a beverage. The drink incited trouble almost everywhere it was introduced.

In Turkey in the 16th century, it was a worse sin to enter a coffee house than a tavern. Coffee drinking was banned and speak-easies sprang up. But by the 18th century a Turk, when he married, had to promise to keep his wife in coffee. If he didn't, she had grounds for divorce.

Swedish monarchs fretted over the possible harm coffee, as well as tea, might do to their people. King Gustavus III finally undertook an experiment. When two identical twin brothers were sentenced to death for murder, he commuted their sentences to life imprisonment with large daily doses of tea for one brother and coffee for the other.

For years the twins thrived. At last, at the age of 33, one brother died — the tea drinker. The Swedes apparently were convinced. Even now they drink more coffee, on a man-to-man basis, than do Americans.

During the past winter, Americans averaged 2.68 cups per person. The strength and flavor of their brew varies, of course, from region to region. Southerners demand a much darker roast than New Englanders. Westerners, like Easterners, prefer a light roast, though more acid. Westerners also like their coffee straight. Forty per cent of them, compared to only 13 per cent in the east, take their coffee black.

Carrie Nation Couldn't Have Done It Better

LOS ANGELES — Customers of Woody Trigg's bar looked up from their drinks and saw a skunk standing in the doorway.

"All you could hear were the ice cubes rattling in the glasses," Trigg said.

The 19 customers left hurriedly while Trigg and waitress Ruby Day, after an odorous chase, finally trapped the skunk in a rest room.

Authorities who carted the little rascal off to the animal shelter explained that it apparently strolled in from a park across the street.

Radioactive Method to Prevent Deaths Due to Loss of Blood Now Disclosed

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — A new, radioactive method to prevent deaths due to loss of blood on the operating table was disclosed yesterday at the 42nd clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons in San Francisco.

The technique, outlined by a research team from the University of Pennsylvania's medical school, was credited with enabling doctors to ascertain the amount of blood in a patient's body more quickly and accurately than by present means.

The new method was declared to be especially applicable to persons undergoing heart operations in which a considerable depletion of blood can take place, calling for rapid replacement.

Prevailing techniques rely on estimating the blood loss by visual means or by weighing blood-soaked sponges.

BLOOD CELLS 'TAGGED'

The Pennsylvania research group, headed by Dr. Donald B. Rochlin, reported that in the method it has perfected the patient's red blood cells are "tagged" with radioactive chromium.

Blood is channelled through an exterior circuit and a counter something like a Geiger mechanism. The rate of the count is proportional to the blood volume, according to the research team's paper which stated:

"The method appears applicable

Substantial Dinner

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—It was no light lunch. A 40-foot hot dog and a 10-foot hamburger were on the menu for delegates to the National Association of State Approval Agencies convention. Police escorted the lunch from the bakery to the dining room.

Jersey Likes Tourists

NEW YORK—Tourism is of vital importance to the economy of many states, with more than half of them rating it one of their three top sources of income. New Jersey and New Mexico rank income from the tourist trade first. Tourism is especially important to the Rocky Mountain and New England areas.

to use in the operating room with those patients in whom it would be advantageous to know the circulating blood volume at any moment during a surgical procedure."

OPERATION DISPUTED

The report added the technique would be particularly adaptable to a heart-lung machine because it could be fitted directly into the equipment which takes over the blood-pumping and breathing functions of a patient in certain types of extremely delicate surgery.

In another presentation to the huge surgeons' congress, the long-held belief that a nerve-cutting operation alleviates arteriosclerosis was disputed.

Three University of Minnesota surgeons—Drs. Thomas O. Murphy, John J. Haglio and Davitt A. Felder—told of performing this type of operation, known as a sympathectomy, on the lower backs of laboratory animals.

They said they discovered that the nerve-slicing surgery has a bad effect not only on the major blood vessel called the lumbar aorta but also in the smaller conduits of the pelvis and thigh.

Truman Ends Eastern Tour

Talks in West Virginia, Hits GOP on Policies at Home, Abroad

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—Former President Harry Truman wound up a three-day Eastern tour in behalf of the Democratic party last night by saying the international situation under the present administration is "very dangerous."

"We've lost a great many close international friends on account of the bungling in the State Department and because nobody actually knows what our foreign policy is," Truman told a party rally.

After spending the night at Wheeling, W. Va., Truman planned to motor to Pittsburgh and fly to Chicago this afternoon. There he will board a train for Sioux Falls, S.D. to resume campaign.

He lashed out again and again at the Eisenhower administration in his West Virginia talks. He criticized the Republicans on such matters as foreign policy, farm policy and economic policy.

He told some 550 cheering spectators here that the Eisenhower administration "dislikes and distrusts" the present form of American government "because it works for all — and not just a few."

"Sometimes I wonder why the Republicans are so anxious to get control of the national government," he said, adding:

"And when they got in power they appointed men who distrust it."

Earlier, at Morgantown, W. Va., he told a street gathering of about 3,500 persons that the Eisenhower administration has done nothing but harm the small business man.

Trade Treaty Readied

KARACHI (AP)—The Pakistan government is likely to sign a 10-year commercial treaty with the United States, informed sources said today. The draft of the treaty, it is understood, has been prepared and will be discussed by the Pakistan Cabinet shortly.

Camera Snaps Fish 13,000 Feet Deep

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Types of sea life as yet unidentified have been photographed by a camera dropped 13,000 feet into the sea, a Navy oceanographer reports.

Carl J. Shipke told the Society of Motion Picture and Television Engineers that unidentified deep sea life and "vast fish beds" were photographed on the sea bottom 200 to 300 miles off the southern California coast.

The camera, which takes stereoscopic flash pictures automatically when bumped on the bottom, is lowered into the sea on a cable.

Says Ike Will Outlive Many Health Critics

SHERIDAN, Wyo. (AP)—House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass.) says President Eisenhower is going to live a lot longer than many people believe. "He will spend another four years in the White House and be living on his Gettysburg farm long after some of those who now question his health have passed from the scene," he told a Republican meeting last night.

The former House speaker said the President's health is excellent.

YOUR DRUG HEADQUARTERS FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KHARNE
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

One of golfdom's most enterprising brother acts in the state of Michigan is the family operation of the Edgewood Country Club which is owned by the six Fuller brothers.

Just recently the splendid new clubhouse was opened and last night it was officially presented for viewing to members of the press in a grand tour.

"We are intent on making this a 'seasonal' Country Club," said Ernest Fuller, youngest of the six brothers, who is president of the corporation.

Architecturally designed on a two-level area, Edgewood presents a magnificent structure covering 13,000 square feet just off Commerce road in Walled Lake.

A spacious pro shop under Jack Hoffman's supervision; a high-ceilinged lounge set off by a 20-foot fireplace, a large mixed grill, and carpeted mens and women's locker rooms presently enhance the completed areas.

Lower level construction on a recreation room and year-round swimming pool along with woodland picnic area has already been started.

The Fuller boys, two years apart in age, include James, 49; Edward, 47; George, 45; William, 43; Walter, 41 and Ernest, 39.

"We learned of the sale of Edgewood on a Friday and on Monday the deal for purchase was closed," said William. This was in 1951.

The debt was recently cleared and today the Fullers have projected Edgewood Country Club into its most distinct era, since its founding in 1923.

There is a strong possibility that the Motor City Golf Tournament will be held at Edgewood in the near future.

FLECK PLANS HIS HOME IN AREA

Jack Fleck, nationally prominent golf pro who is associated with the syndicate which has purchased Brooklands Golf Club, is planning residence in area, probably in Rochester.

"I have always been impressed with this area as a great golf center," said Fleck in his visit to Pontiac yesterday.

EX-CRANE ON CADET SQUAD

Pete Dawkins, former Cranbrook quarterback from Royal Oak, will visit Ann Arbor Saturday as a member of the Army football team which will tangle with the Wolverines.

Dawkins, a sophomore at West Point, is listed behind Bob Kyasky at quarterback.

Cadets Always Rugged for 'M'

ANN ARBOR (U)—The sun was shining brightly on Michigan's practice field, and because the weather was warm, more than the usual number of alumni were there observing.

As coach Bennie Oosterbaan's team ran through a series of plays, talk got around to the luck Michigan has had in the way of injuries this year.

Not one regular has been hurt seriously so far and the Wolverine coaching staff has been walking around with its fingers crossed.

"I'll bet all these guys aren't out here a week from now, not after the Army game," said one old-timer whose memory of past Army games is vivid.

The cadets may not always have a good team, but they're always rugged and hit hard. Their opponents always seem to feel the effects of their charges and few teams ever remain intact the following week after meeting them.

"I've been out to meet them the last two years when they came into Willow Run Airport, and you can see how rugged they are the moment they step off the plane," said Les Etter, Michigan Sports Publicity man. His job makes him an official greeter of visiting squads.

"Those Army guys are always big and you notice this when they're in their gray uniforms and their chests sticking out and their necks bulging," Etter said.

Racing Classics to Close Season

NEW YORK (U)—Three of the country's greatest horse-racing classics, with a total value of around $225,000, will be dished out Friday and Saturday as Belmont Park reaches the climax of its fall season.

The first is the $50,000-added Ladies Handicap, a rugged mile and one-half test tomorrow which probably will decide the 1956 championship among the older fillies and mares.

Nashua makes his farewell to racing on Saturday in the $50,000-added Jockey Club Gold Cup, a 2-mile grind Mr. Millions won a year ago. The other half of the Saturday doubleheader is the rich Futurity, a 6 1/4-furlong spin down the Widener Straight Course worth in the neighborhood of $115,000.

Bold Ruler, Nashville, Greek Game and other 2-year-olds with championship designs, will battle it out in the Futurity, won by Nashua in 1954.

"The reason they're so tough is that they're in shape. Michigan's in shape too, but the West Pointers are in shape the year around."

Michigan, which is strong but hardly can be classified as having great depth, can ill afford to be hurt physically by the Black Knights.

The Wolverines' injury luck thus far has been running the

Western Open Starts Today

168 Golfers Seek Pot of $5,000 at Frisco's Presidio Course

SAN FRANCISCO (U)—A bulky field of 168 golfers start today in the $22,500 Western Open where anything can happen over the hilly Presidio course.

Proving that yesterday were two foursomes including crooner Bing Crosby and comedian Bob Hope, who won't be playing today. Bing had an 81 while Hope had a 64 for the first nine and caught a plane after playing 16 holes. Cary Middlecoff fired a one-over-par 73, amateur Ken Venturi came within a stroke of the course record with a 66, and George Bayer wound up with an 80 after his long hitting did nothing but get him in trouble.

Awaiting the winner Sunday is a pot of $5,000 but enroute he encounters the hills of the course, the wind from the ocean and probably the traditional San Francisco fog.

Middlecoff won the Western last year with a 272 for the 72 holes at Portland, Ore. Most of the golfers who shot practice rounds yesterday commented it wouldn't be that low this time. They figured a score of 278 could take it all.

U.S. Amateur champion Harvie Ward came in with a 75 for the exhibition round; Mike Souchak had a 72, and Doug Ford soared to a 71.

Week's Tops in MVC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oklahoma A & M end Jim Wood, a versatile made-over back who does everything well, and George Cagliola, speedy Tulsa quarterback, were voted linemen and back of the week in the Missouri Valley Conference. Both are sophomores.

Series End Was Quick and Decisive for Brooks

BROOKLYN (U)—At least it came quick, clean and decisive, so that when the end finally came most of the pain had worn off. That's the best that can be said for Brooklyn today after its crushing 9-0 defeat by the new world champion New York Yankees in the seventh and final game of the 1956 World Series.

The worst that can be said about the Dodgers' worst humiliation in 44 series games with the Yankees is that it gave further evidence of a possible change in Brooklyn personnel next year.

In sharp contrast, the Yankees demonstrated in the series that they will be stronger than ever, a frightful thought for the rest of the American League. The splendid work of such young pitchers as Johnny Kucks, Tom Sturdivant, Bob Turley, Don Larsen and, of course, the bell-cow of the staff, Whitey Ford, practically assures the Yankees of a powerful pitching staff to go along with the team's solid hitting and tight defense. Pitching was the one chink in the Yankees' mighty armor this year. Young Kucks' brilliant three-hit shutout yesterday climaxed an astounding string of pitching performances by Yankee hurlers in one of the most amazing turnarounds in series history.

Unable to turn in four consecutive complete games at any time during the regular season, the Yankee staff, which had used up 11 hurlers in the first two games, suddenly came through with five completions by five different pitchers.

In the last three games, Yankee pitching limited the National League champions to seven hits and a grand total of one run. Among them was Larsen's historic perfect performance in game No. 5. It's something the once-feared Dodger sluggers never will be able to explain to the pitchers in their own league.

The merciless rout of the Dodgers, after their all-out struggle against the Yankees following on the heels of a nerve-racking pennant fight with the Braves and the Redlegs, might have marked the end of the road for some of Brooklyn's "old men." This once powerhouse array was held to a .195 batting mark in the seven games.

E. J. (Buzze) Bavasi, the club's general manager, hinted so only hours after the series had become a memory.

"You can bet some changes will be made," he said, "but we're not going to become panicky. We've got a whole winter to think things out. Fortunately, we've got a fine crop of promising youngsters coming up, some of whom appear ready to step into fast company."

Bavasi didn't single out any individuals but there was no doubt he was referring to such oldsters as Pee Wee Reese, Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, Carl Furillo, Sal Maglie and Gil Hodges. The latter, at 32, is the youngest of the sextet.

Only Snider, with two singles and Furillo, with one, were able to fathom the curves, slider and fast balls hurled at the Dodgers by the 23-year-old Kucks. In the meantime, Don Newcombe and Roger Craig, two of the five Dodger hurlers, were pulverized by ferocious Yankee attack that included four home runs, two by Yogi Berra, another by Elston Howard and a final bludgeoning grand slammer by Bill Skowron.

Easily the most frustrated of all the Dodgers must be Newcombe, the big right-hander who just can't seem to win "the big ones." For the second time in the series, the Dodgers' 27-game winner, a tower of strength all season, was blasted from the hill with an attack as savage as it was sudden.

Lapeer Hunter Snares 3 Pats Near Gladwin

While reports of "pats" in the central and northern portions of the Lower Peninsula have been very spotty, at least one area hunter didn't do so badly.

Hunting with members of his family (wife and sons Jimmy and Pat), Fred Bancum of Lapeer bagged three of the shy birds, during a weekend trip to the Gladwin section.

Bancum reported seeing about a dozen birds, but the largest concentration of game he observed was deer. "I'll bet we saw 200 deer, many of them young bucks with three or four-inch antlers," Fred said. "They didn't have much fear of us, just stood and watched us go by."

Michigan PGA Section Holds Annual Meeting

Members of the Michigan Section, Professional Golfers Association, have been notified of the annual meeting on Monday, Oct. 15 at the Fort Shelby Hotel, Detroit.

Election of 1957 officers is the top business for the session to follow luncheon at noon. Current proxy is Tam O'Shanter's Warren Orlick. Lou Powers of the Detroit Municipal courses is secretary.

Webb Scores 15th Straight

CHICAGO (U)—Spider Webb, Chicago's newest middleweight contender, has a Nov. 14 booking in Chicago Stadium, but his opponent for the televised 10-rounder is uncertain.

Webb, the former NCAA champion from Idaho State College, wrapped up his 15th straight victory last night in a rather dull nationally televised fight with Charlie (King) Cotton of Toledo.

In the same Chicago Stadium ring where he whipped Holly Mims and Rory Calhoun to gain the No. 10 middleweight ranking, Webb looked far off form against Cotton. Both fought as if they had left their fight in the gym, or some place else.

Webb, whose quickness and pinpoint punches offset hard-hitting qualities, finished strongly in the last two rounds to gain a unanimous 10-round decision.

Judges Spike McAdams and Harold Marovitz each scored for Webb 49-43 under the 5-point "must" system. Referee Frank Sikora had it 48-42. The Associated Press favored Webb 49-45.

Sooners Aim for 33rd Win Against Texas

DALLAS (U)—In October, 1953, Oklahoma beat Texas 19-14 and started modern college football's longest winning streak, 32 straight games.

The Sooners had lost to Notre Dame and had been tied by Pitt but that was the last time for their record to be blemished. Through 1953, 1954 and 1955, including a couple of bowl games, Oklahoma rolled up 30 consecutive victories.

This season the Big Red has smashed North Carolina and Kansas State and Saturday it will meet Texas again. The Sooners are prohibitive favorites to knock over the Longhorns and push within three games of the all-time record — the 36 that Pennsylvania compiled in 1896-97-98.

While establishing their record by beating their own record of 31, set in 1948-49-50, the Sooners beat Texas four times. So the Longhorns feel they have been stepping stones. Texas followers think it has been long enough, too.

"Nuts to Trip to Japan"

Series Over, Newk Facing Reprimand

BROOKLYN (U)—The World Series is over and lost, but right-hander Don Newcombe had another tough assignment today — getting on the plane that carried the beaten Brooklyn Dodgers on the first leg of their trip to Japan.

Newcombe, worried by personal troubles as well as his series "jinx," said "nuts to the trip to Japan" as he left Ebbets Field yesterday after being shelled by the New York Yankees. The end, and Newk's fourth World Series defeat without a victory since 1949, had come in the fourth inning and he had dressed hurriedly, leaving the park before the game was over.

Buzze Bavasi, Brooklyn vice president, snapped, "there'll be trouble if he's not on that plane!" when told of Newcombe's comment.

"He has signed a contract like the other players and if he doesn't show up then it'll be a matter for the commissioner (Ford Frick) to handle."

Newcombe's early departure, a repeat of his action after being knocked out in Friday's game, also riled Bavasi. In angry tones he reprimanded two Dodger aides, telling them, "you were supposed to keep him here!" After they informed him of the turn of events, Newcombe left the park, along with a friend and a patrolman, and went to his parents' home.

Then, alone, he had gone to his Colonia, N.J., home for a few minutes, only to leave again. Through the night his whereabouts remained unknown.

"I don't know where he went," his wife, Freddie said. "He said he was going to be out all night. He left the car in case I needed it."

Mrs. Newcombe said she never had "seen Don in this state of mind in the 11 years we've been married. He's been in many moods, but never like this. He just wasn't himself."

It isn't only his series failure which has bothered the Dodger ace—a title he earned by leading the majors with 27 victories in the regular season. There are personal worries, too.

"I know Don," said his wife. "It isn't just the ball game. It's other things, personal things. The adoption papers are coming through now on our son."

The Newcombes, who mark their 11th wedding anniversary this Saturday, have two children, both adopted. The boy is Gregory Joel, 18 months. Their little girl is Evit Yolanda, 8 months.

"We've discussed these things," said Mrs. Newcombe, "just as we talk over everything. We had talked before of going to Japan, it was going, too."

HEADS FOR SHOWERS — Big Don Newcombe, Dodger pitching ace who was shelled from the mound for the second time in the Series by the Yankees, heads for the showers as Don Bessent (right) came on to relieve him in the 4th inning. Three homers were hit off Don accounting for five Yank runs.

Westerners Dominate

Soph Retains Offense Lead

NEW YORK (U)—Ralph Hunsaker, sophomore quarterback at the University of Arizona, retained the leadership in total offense with 628 yards in four football games, the NCAA service bureau reported today.

Hunsaker is the only individual leader to survive last week's major college action, as he added 120 yards against Utah State. He has passed for 554 yards and rushed 74 more, to lead Stanford's John Brodie, who has a total of 541 in three games.

Jack Hill of Utah State is the rushing leader with 381 yards in 4 games, is the top scorer with 51 points, and has intercepted 5 passes to lead in that department.

Brodie, who bombed Ohio State with 21 completed passes in 35 attempts, has found the mark 48 times in 78 attempts for the 3 games. All but six of his 541 yards have come via the air.

Norm Becker of California is the No. 1 pass receiver, with 15 catches in 3 games for 193 yards. North Carolina's Wally Vale tops the punters with 3 boots in 3 games for an average of 45 yards.

The five leaders in total offense, rushing and passing:

TOTAL OFFENSE
1. Hunsaker, Arizona 628
2. Brodie, Stanford 541
3. Hill, Utah State 541
4. Arnold, USC 541
5. Arnold, SMU 541

RUSHING OFFENSE
1. Hill, Utah State 381
2. Barnes, Wake Forest 374
3. Bass, COP 374
4. Crawford, Wyoming 374
5. Arnold, USC 374

FORWARD PASSING
1. Brodie, Stanford 541
2. Hunsaker, Arizona 541
3. Arnold, SMU 541
4. Aldrich, Wash. St. 541
5. Reinhart, San Jose 541

Topic for Discussion

Ford and Dodgers Praise Pitching of Newcombe

BROOKLYN (U)—The case of Don Newcombe, a 27-game winner who can't seem to win a World Series game no matter how hard he pitches, is one of the strangest in baseball.

"What's the matter with that guy, anyway?" was the comment heard most often in Ebbets Field yesterday as big Don tried and failed for the fifth time in his series career to beat the Yankees.

He was taken out in the fourth inning after yielding a home run to Elston Howard following two earlier homers by Yogi Berra.

"I guess it just isn't in him to beat the Yankees," remarked one Brooklyn fan sadly as the dejected right-hander walked to the dugout amid boos.

Newcombe's teammates and even Whitey Ford, star Yankee southpaw, expressed sympathy for big Don.

"It's great that we won," Ford said, "but I feel sorry for Newcombe. It was awful the way the fans booed him. Why? Why should they boo a fellow who did so much for the Dodgers this year? If it hadn't been for him they wouldn't even have been in the series."

"They accuse Don of being a choke-up pitcher. That's unfair. He won 27 games and no one could do that and be a choke-up. He pitched well against us. He was overpowering our guys and only because he made a couple of mistakes while pitching to Yogi did he get into trouble."

"He deserved better treatment than that," said one fan.

Those who booed him should be ashamed."

Still there are numerous fans who "can't understand him."

"Tell me," said one. "What's the difference between this Bessent and Newcombe? (Don Bessent had replaced Newcombe). He pitches low the same as Newk. Still Newcombe gets belted. I don't understand it. Maybe the pressure gets him."

"I'll admit that it was a tough break for him when Campy couldn't hold that foul tip for a third strike on Berra in the third. Still, that shouldn't upset him."

The fan referred to the third inning when Newk, on a 0-2 pitch, apparently had gotten Berra on a strikeout. But catcher Roy Campanella couldn't hold the foul tip and Berra got another chance.

Two pitches later he socked his second straight homer.

Campanella, Manager Walt Alston and Captain Pee Wee Reese of the Dodgers agreed that "Newk had as good stuff as I have ever seen him show. He either struck them out or they hit it over the fence."

There's no doubt that the Newcombe case, with all its pros and cons, will be a main topic of conversation during the off season.

Shrimps a foot long, weighing half a pound have been found in the Gulf of Mexico, Tampico reports. They will be marketed as soon as a way of catching them is devised.

MIAA Scoring Lead in 2-Way Deadlock

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Steward of Kalamazoo and Don Eugenio of defending champion Hillsdale are leading the individual scoring parade in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Assn. Football with 18 points each.

Seven men are tied with 12 points apiece on two touchdowns.

Jim Hurd of Albion has been the big "workhorse" so far, carrying the ball 42 times for a total of 170 yards in two games. Mert Vanderlind of Hope has the best average, picking up 145 yards in 14 tries or about 10.4 yards each time.

Ed Sadler of Adrian has the best passing yardage. He's tried 27 passes and completed seven for 227 yards and two touchdowns. Nate Clark of Hillsdale has the best completion record, three out of three for 77 yards and one touchdown.

Jefferson Juniors Keep Winning Pace in League

Jefferson turned on all its power Wednesday afternoon at Wiser Stadium to wallop Lincoln, 45-0, in a Pontiac Junior High League football game. It was the 3rd straight victory for the Warriors.

The Warriors stormed across the Lincoln goal seven times, with half a dozen players participating in the touchdown parade.

Bill Ratcliff scored twice on runs of 43 and 45 yards. Bob Walker tallied with a 47-yard sprint. Dick McCauley rambled 48 yards for another. Frank Shorter scooted 21 yards and Frank Ellison posted a 16-yard dash. A 60-yard pass play from Allen Howze to Bill Lee accounted for the remaining TD.

End Joe McCauley and guard Willis Hardiman were outstanding on offense for Jefferson while tackle Ronnie Evans and guard Willis Martin sparked defensively.

Eastern's Junior Varsity upset Washington yesterday, 12-6, at Eastern. Larry Murray scored both touchdowns, one a 40-yard gallop and the other a pass from Steve Thompson. Clarence Montgomery tallied Washington's lone TD.

Washington's Braves will tangle with Eastern at Wiser in varsity action in JV activity in today's Junior High League games. Both contests begin at 4 p.m.

Sports Briefs

NEW YORK — Yogi Berra led 1955 world series hitters with an average of .417.

BOSTON — Boston college has won 21 of its 25 football games with Boston university.

ST. PAUL — Minnesota has 11,007 inland lakes of 25 or more acres in area.

BOSTON — Mel Parnell faced only 28 batters in his July 14 no-hitter for the Red Sox over the Chicago White Sox.

BISMARCK, N. D. — In North Dakota the only fish with a minimum size is the northern pike which must be 18 inches long.

PITTSBURGH — Vince DiMaggio set a major league record for strike-outs by a righthanded batter in 1938 with the Pirates. He had struck out a total of 134 times during the campaign that year.

MILWAUKEE — Lew Burdette of the Braves led National league pitchers with a 2.29 earned run average at the halfway point in the 1956 pennant race. In the American league Ray Narjeski of Cleveland was ahead with an enviable mark of 1.62 for the campaign at that point.

St. John's University of Brooklyn had two unbeaten freshmen teams in 1956. The basketball team won all 21 games while the cross-country team won all six meets.

Full Slate in Prep Loop Play

The lure of league championships and the glory that goes with them beckons most strongly as the 1956 high school football season nears the halfway mark.

Although no trophies have been securely nailed down at this point, the haze that always hovers over the beginning of a season is lifting a little and the picture is becoming clearer.

At least one Oakland County powerhouse has moved into the driver's seat as area prep leagues swing into another full round of action Friday.

Walled Lake, whose devastating 40-18 triumph over Southfield last week propelled it into the No. 3 spot in Class B state rankings, has grabbed the reins in the Inter-Lakes Conference, even though unbeaten Waterford is by no means ready to concede.

Tomorrow afternoon the powerful Viking ground attack will be directed at Farmington in an Inter-Lakes tilt on the Farmington grid iron. Winless in two I-L starts, the Falcons are heavy underdogs.

Berkley's improving Bears could offer stiff resistance to invading Waterford, despite the fact that they have yet to taste victory. Van Dyke should be an easy target for rebounding Southfield on the Bluejay field.

Clawson, along with Troy, occupies an influential spot in the Oakland B race. After a slow start, Bob Acton's Trojans hit their stride last week with an impressive win over Lake Orion to move in behind the Colts in the runner-up position.

The Trojans will be strongly favored to dispose of Madison while Troy rates the nod over Fitzgerald in Friday's league play. Avondale, which must beat everything in the Southern Thumb League at Dryden where Fred Bernat's unbeaten Cardinals tangle with Memphis, also undefeated. Almost and New Haven, still very much in the title picture, should easily stop the challenges of Brown City and Capac respectively.

East Detroit, everybody's pre-season choice for the Eastern Michigan League crown, meets its biggest obstacle Friday night at home against Fort Huron's big Reds. The Birmingham-Hazel Park scrap at Hazel Park is a toss-up while Ferndale gets the call over Mt. Clemens on the Rether turf.

Imlay City, the South Central loop favorite, hosts victory-starved North Branch and Ortonville entertains Millington. Utica and Lake Shore, both unbeaten in Bi-County league action, collide in a crucial contest at Utica and Warren visits Lakeview. Royal Oak plays host to Monroe in a Border Cities game.

3 Backs Spell Trouble for Chiefs

Coach Bill Doolittle is confronted with a pleasant problem at Flint Central High School as his Indians prepare to invade Wisner Stadium tomorrow night for a Saginaw Valley Conference engagement with Pontiac.

The Central mentor's headache, which any coach would welcome, centers around selecting a starting right halfback to go against the Chiefs. Doolittle, it seems, has three sparkling candidates for the job.

Veteran Ray Metcalf, surging back after being waylaid by an ankle injury, Moses Williams, a junior, and sophomore Art Thrash, brother of the graduated Charley Thrash, are all bidding for the position.

Although the post is still up for grabs, the speedy Thrash appears to have the inside track at the moment. Doolittle could have a change of heart, however.

Doolittle, who is still undecided about Friday's starting lineup, is not selling Pontiac short. He feels that the breaks went against them in the Bay City tilt, but that outside speed and a veteran line makes them dangerous.

Flint Central is the oldest opponent on the PHS record books. The ancient rivalry will be resumed for the 37th time tomorrow.

Since Saginaw Valley competition began in 1933, the Indians have conquered the Chiefs on 19 occasions while Pontiac has managed only four wins.

The Washington Senators are officially the Nationals.

Pitcher Bob Friend has a two-year contract with Pittsburgh.

George Sisler got 257 hits in 1920, still a top league mark.

IN DADS' FOOTSTEPS — Three sons of former Western Michigan College football players who are trying to earn letters on the Bronco football squad, just as their fathers did years

Fullback No Problem for Powerful MSU 11

EAST LANSING — The Michigan State football bosses find themselves in the happy position this year of being knee deep in fullbacks.

Before the start of the season, a main backfield worry was finding a replacement for the dependable Gerry Planutis.

Three hopefuls were tried for the spot. They are still being tried and all are being used to supply a one-two-three punch from the deep backfield spot. All are averaging better than four yards a carry.

Don Gilbert, 190-pound, 5-10 junior from Dubois, Pa., has established himself as the starter. Gilbert has picked up 50 yards in 11 carries for a 4.5-yard a try average.

Gilbert is the only one of the three to have a touchdown—against Stanford.

Bob Handloser, 180-pound, 6-1 sophomore from Detroit, has 29 yards on seven tries for a 4.1 average. Against Michigan, Handloser threw the key block that opened the hole for the single touchdown of the game by left half Dennis Mendyk.

Don Arend, 200-pound, six foot sophomore from Baroda, has carried the ball only four times but accounted for 28 yards for five yards a try.

Arend is the huskiest of the three and coaches are predicting

Starts at Gingellville

Motorcycle Race Slated

The second annual Acorn Endurance Run will be held by the Pontiac Motorcycle Club Sunday with Gingellville Community Center as the starting point for the 117 mile run.

The starting run will be at 10:01 a. m. and will be radio controlled by the Oakland County Society of Amateur Radio Operators.

About 180 riders are expected for the event with trophies to be awarded in three classes, light, heavy and side car.

Moms Unit 33 of Gingellville is sponsoring a turkey dinner in conjunction with the event to be held in the Community Center which is located at 3575 Baldwin Avenue.

Drawing for motorcycle positions will be held at 9 a. m. and the public is invited to attend the races and the dinner.

A $47,700,000 electrification campaign has been announced in Ciudad Trujillo by the Dominican Republic, to bring power to every city and town of that Caribbean nation.

The baseball hasn't changed in size since 1867.

Old Rivalry Resumes Friday

Orion, Oxford Clash

By BILL CORNWELL

It will be offense vs. defense Friday night when Lake Orion and Oxford resume their hotly-contested rivalry on the Oxford gridiron.

Each team owns a 3-1 record, but there the comparison ceases. A look at this season's scoreboard explains why.

Lake Orion has piled up an even 100 points while yielding 56 to the opposition. The Dragons allowed 34 enemy points in one bundle last Friday when their defense collapsed against Clawson and the Trojans dealt them a stunning 34-19 setback.

Oxford, on the other hand, has scored only one touchdown in each game for a total of 26 points. But the Wildcats have two shutouts to their credit while giving up a skimpy 19 points.

Spearheading the Wildcat defense are end Bill Noles and guard Jim McCalum. Oxford's top offensive threat thus far has been quarterback Bob Harrison, who has picked up half of his team's four touchdowns.

The Dragons of Thad Seis have displayed a balanced attack this fall behind the passing of quarterback Nick Niera and the deceptive running of Ralph MacLachlan, Doug Storey, John Schell and Jim Neph.

Lake Orion chalked up victories over Clarkston (20-0), Madison (21-2), and Fitzgerald (40-14), prior to its surprise loss at the hands of Clawson.

Jean Harkness' Wildcats, perched on top of the South Central Conference, have beaten North Branch and Millington by identical 6-0 margins while gaining a slim 7-6 verdict over Ortonville. Milford was responsible for their lone defeat, a 13-7 count in the season opener.

A bronze trophy in the shape of a football shoe, authored by Al Hanout of Lake Orion, will be instituted at Friday's meeting. The traveling award will be retalped each year by the winning school.

800 at Safety Show

A crowd bettering 800 turned out for the Hunter Safety Program held last night at Pontiac High School, where a host of outdoor celebrities and experts presented features in firearms, hunting, retrieving and safety techniques.

The program sponsored jointly by the PHS Physical Education department and The Pontiac Press, was termed "highly successful" by Art Van Ryzin, chairman for the affair.

A demonstration in dog obedience was presented by Charles Frank, Director of Southern Michigan Obedience Club, with his well-trained dog, "Boots."

Frank also presented an unusual act with his trained Mallard Duck which would answer his whistle calls, and also showed the dog retrieving by whistle commands.

An archery demonstration by Al Tang and Joe Kerr of the Pontiac Archer's Club was an interesting point in the program.

The use of guns and rifles, explaining safety measures, was demonstrated by expert Herb Albaugh of Farmington.

Clyde Haakall, safety chairman of the Chamber of Commerce along with two PHS students Bob Huber and Dick Jackson presented a series of five short skits showing correct procedure for overcoming obstacles on a hunting trip.

Genius in Clown's Garb

Stengel Real Series Hero

BROOKLYN (AP)—Genius in the garb of a clown.

That's Casey Stengel. The 1936 World Series produced a plethora of heroes, but one stood out above the rest — the gray-haired old codger with the crooked legs and the snap-hammer baseball brain.

The baseball world hails catcher Yogi Berra, who blasted three home runs and overtook the great Lou Gehrig as the World Series RBI leader of all-time. Gehrig had nine. Yogi has 10.

Fans salute once-obscure Don

Larsen, who pitched the first perfect game in the classic, and his mound mates, Bullet Bob Turley and Johnny Kucks, who helped limit the fence-rattling Dodgers to seven hits and a single run in the last 28 innings.

But Casey just winks — and keeps on winning championships. When Yogi blended two home-run blasts with Kucks' superb three-hit pitching for a 9-0 victory in the seventh and final game yesterday, it marked the sixth world championship for the double-talk master from Glendale, Calif.

When the series opened, the smart men said the Yankees didn't have the pitching to match that of the Dodgers and Casey would have to win on sheer power.

When the Yankees' top ace, Whitey Ford, was shelled in the first game and seven of Casey's moundmates paraded to the hill in the 13-8 rout in the second, the question was handled:

"How did the Yanks ever win a pennant with a putrid pitching staff like this? Who can Casey pitch next?"

Casey refused to be shaken. He won at Yankee Stadium with Ford, Larsen and Tom Sturdivant to go 3-2 in the series.

Eyebrows were lifted when Larsen, a big Californian with a better reputation for high jinks than pitching prowess, was named the starter in the second game.

Larsen was belted to the showers in the second inning. There were resounding, "I Told You So's." Second-guessers had another field day when Stengel came back with Larsen, who had a mediocre 9-5 record, in the fifth game.

"I think the boy is a good pitcher," Casey insisted stubbornly. Larsen retired 27 Dodgers in a row in the greatest World Series game ever pitched.

and rifles at the Hunter Safety Program at the High School last night. Tom Dodson (right), Physical Education director of Pontiac, watches the proceedings.

Canadiens Boasts Vets

NHL Season Under Way

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hockey, quietly preparing for the 1936-37 campaign while baseball and football filled the headlines, moves front and center tonight with the opening of the National League's 40th season.

Two games are on tap with the Toronto Maple Leafs meeting the Bruins at Boston and the Red Wings playing host to the Chicago Blackhawks at Detroit.

New York's Rangers swing into action at Chicago Friday night and on Saturday the favored Montreal Canadiens open their season at home against Boston. The Canadiens, boasting a veteran lineup which won the championship by 12 points last year and then beat Detroit four games to one in the Stanley Cup playoffs, are favored to repeat. The powerful Montreal outfit is headed by two of the game's greatest scorers in Maurice (The Rocket) Richard and Jean Beliveau. Richard is the top scorer in the league's history with only 40 goals to go to reach the 500 mark.

Beliveau won the scoring title last year with the 88 points. The season opens with two new coaches. Howie Meeker has taken over at Toronto and Tommy Ivan, former Detroit coach, pilots the Black Hawks.

Rolls Series of 256

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eddie Balton was in a rut last night — a rut that would please most bowlers very much.

Rolling an American Bowling Congress-sanctioned league, Balton came up with games of 256-256-256 for a 768 total.

ABC records show that, oddly, another Ohioan is the only other man ever to come up with three consecutive 256 games in sanctioned league play. He was Walter Wellman of Bucyrus, who did it in 1937.

Charter to Go to Governor

SOUTHFIELD—A second charter for this proposed city is now ready and will be in the hands of Governor Williams by next Monday, Leo J. Walton, chairman of the Charter commission, said this morning.

Three public hearings on the charter have been held. Minor changes in the charter were announced by charter commissioners at last night's final meeting. They met the objections and suggestions at the public hearing.

The changes are: increasing the library fund from one-tenth of a mill to three-tenths so that the new city may qualify for state aid; and requiring a councilman to reside in the ward he represents.

Voters agreed to incorporate last June, but turned down the first charter at a Dec. 12 election. Election date for the new city charter has been set for Dec. 5.

Some of the most important features of Southfield's proposed government are:

It would limit the tax rate to five dollars on each one thousand dollars assessed valuation.

Six separate wards would be maintained with a councilman-president being elected at large to preside over council meetings.

A mayor would be elected at large, with only power being to veto council measures with five of the seven councilmen needed to override his veto.

A city clerk and city treasurer would be elected rather than appointed.

An administrator, instead of a city manager, could not hire or fire city employees, a job left to the council.

A justice court, would be held by the city for the first five years of its existence, and then would automatically switch into a municipal court with broader powers.

STEVE JONES

Cancer Takes Stevie Jones

Boy, 4, Dies Looking Forward to 'Army' Visit, Was Only Child

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Stevie Jones, four-year-old son of the Norval Joneses of 3481 Featherstone, who has been the object of attention in this area during his long battle with cancer, died early this morning in Pontiac General Hospital.

Last night, Stevie was told of inquiries about him by the soldiers he had been able to see from his home as they moved about the base.

They planned to visit him today in the hospital, and Stevie exclaimed happily, "I'm going to see my army."

Stevie's parents have expressed gratitude for efforts of firemen, the nurse-base soldiers here, and many others, to make Stevie's life happier as his illness progressed.

An only son, he leaves his parents; three grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dave of Albany, Ind., and Mrs. Winnie Jones of Pontiac; two sets of great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Caves of Redkey, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Barlow of Albany, Ind.

He also leaves four aunts, Mrs. William Hall of Drayton Plains, Mrs. Raymond King and Mrs. James Black, both of Pontiac and Mrs. John Burke, of Waterford Township.

Service will be Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home, with burial in White Chapel Cemetery, with the Rev. J. Harvey McComb of the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church officiating.

JO ANN REICHAERT

The engagement of their daughter, Jo Ann, to Seaman Leon Arthur Tucholski of Great Lakes, Ill., is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reichardt of Benstein Road, Walled Lake. Art, formerly of Detroit, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tucholski of Standish.

Australia plans to build the largest airstrip in the Southern Hemisphere at Darwin in the Northern Territory.

Avon to Start Chest Drive

Tonight's Dinner Marks Kick-Off; Most Funds for Local Charities

ROCHESTER—Avon Community Chest Kick-off Dinner tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the American Legion will mark the opening of the 1956 drive for funds of which 70 per cent is allocated to local charities and 30 per cent to the United Fund and American Red Cross.

Goal set for this year is $21,000, a $3,000 increase over 1955.

Among local agencies supported by the chest fund are Girl and Boy Scouts, local Scout troops, Blue Star Mothers, Leader Dog School for the Blind, Metropolitan Club, Avon Youth Service and Recreation, American Cancer Society, Also Salvation Army, St. Joseph's Hospital, Michigan Children's Aid, Red Cross and the United Fund.

Solicitors will start on the house to house canvass Monday and will continue through Nov. 6.

Mrs. Margaret C. Norton, again general chairman, said today that solicitors have been more than willing to assist this year.

Letters are being sent to each home asking contributors to be as generous as possible and use an Avon Community Chest receipt as a contribution where they work.

Eight New Teachers for Avondale High

AVONDALE — The High School here has eight new teachers this year, four replacements and four to handle the increased enrollment.

An all time high of 633 students registered is an increase of 21 per cent over last June.

New this year are Mrs. Jewell Brode, Barbara LeBess, Jacqueline Le Beau, Hugh James Graham, and James A. Simmons.

Teaching in the Avondale Junior High building are Margaret Rose, Mrs. Barbara Terrell, and David Strom. The increased enrollment necessitates the high school using junior high rooms.

Junior GOP Club Formed in Pontiac

The Junior Republican Club, consisting of some 13 Pontiac and Waterford High students, is looking for new members.

The club, started by Pontiac High students Dale Benson and Paul Prepper, held their first meeting last night and elected temporary officers.

Sheriff Frank Irons, GOP candidate for re-election, spoke to the group and promised they will have the opportunity of meeting other Republican candidates.

The new club was offered the facilities of the Republican Headquarters at 4 S. Saginaw St.

Plan $700,000 Project for Water at Oak Park

OAK PARK—Plans are underway here for a $700,000 project to ease the summertime water shortage.

Acting manager John Dinan yesterday said the project will include the building of a four-million gallon reservoir, two pumping stations, and new mains to boost pressure. Oak Park buys its water from Detroit.

Dinan said engineering plans for the improvement will be completed next month and that the city council is expected to call for bids by Dec. 1.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Talk on Traffic Safety at Auburn Heights School

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Joseph Zabelski, safety education consultant from Automobile Club of Michigan, will discuss "Traffic Safety in the School" at an 8 p.m. meeting of the Auburn Heights Grade School PTA on Thursday, Oct. 18. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Twain Beach Saturday, Oct. 20, is the date slated for the annual Twain Beach School Fair, located on Oakley Park, west of Green Lake road. The school will serve a pancake or hot dog supper.

The fair opens at 4, and entertainment includes pony and hay rides, sharp-shooting, miniature golf, pick-pocket lady and other games, with plenty of prizes.

The fair opens at 4, and entertainment includes pony and hay rides, sharp-shooting, miniature golf, pick-pocket lady and other games, with plenty of prizes.

Mrs. Harold Halls is planning refreshments.

The first business meeting of the season for Hamlin PTA will be held Monday at 8 p.m. The program will be a Panel Discussion on our present card marking system.

4-H Leader Training Oct. 18 at Milford

MILFORD — County 4-H agents Sue Sturgis and Jack Worthington will conduct a 4-H leader training meeting for Milford district leaders, Thursday, Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. in the Bertha Baker School.

On the agenda for the evening will be instructions in clothing and grooming projects, and electrical and handicraft ideas, Miss Sturgis said.

Assisting the agents with the program will be leaders Mrs. Stanley Kipp of Pontiac, Mrs. Eugene North of Clarkston and Mrs. Wilbur Kinkaid of Holly.

County Deaths

Willie E. Caples

ORION TOWNSHIP—Service for Willie Eugene Caples, 46, of 3501 Gregory Rd., will be arranged by the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home, Pontiac. Mr. Caples, an employee of the Fisher Body Division of Pontiac, died yesterday afternoon at his home.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elie Caples of Thaxton, Miss.; his three sons, James K. of the U. S. A. Avondale to Be Host Saturday

Seven Other County Schools to Participate in Program

Avondale High School will host the fall region seven meeting of the Future Homemakers of America this Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

Howard Morgan, clinical psychiatrist with the Oakland County Office of Special Education, will be the featured speaker. Climaxing the morning session, Dr. Morgan will talk on "How to Make a Personality Out of a Person."

Other speakers preceding the psychiatrist on the program include the state FFA president, Judy Campbell from Fowlerville and the state advisor to FFA, Mrs. Thelma Graper.

Avondale Principal Roscoe Crowell will also give a general welcoming address.

With eight county schools in attendance, Avondale Junior Nancy Riggle will preside over the proceedings, as this year's region president. Nancy is also Avondale's chapter president, while local advisor Gertrude Swartz, is also this year's region advisor.

Main item in the business meeting will be the election of new officers for the coming year.

Preceding the speakers in the morning session will be a social get-together, with an introduction of the candidates for the region also planned in the morning.

After a luncheon at the high school, the afternoon session will begin with a business meeting and will wind up with the installation of new officers. Other afternoon activities include group discussions, a relaxer period, and various skits put on by participating schools.

Although Avondale is the host school, the others all take part in the program. Hostesses for the day will be from South Lyon, while Oxford girls will handle the registration and nametags. Milford is in charge of the election.

Farmington, Holly, Lake Orion, and Rochester will each present one of the skits in the afternoon program.

Assisting with the planning at Avondale is Mrs. Thelma Graper, chapter mother, and junior Nelda Hyten, who is the region secretary-treasurer.

Stiles Farm and Garden Assn. will furnish table arrangements for the luncheon.

FHA is a national organization with 427,404 members and 9,460 local chapters including some in Alaska, Guam, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico.

Avon Players Set for Curtain

First Production Ready for Friday, Saturday at Rochester High

ROCHESTER — The Avon Players are ready to stage their first production of this season tomorrow and Saturday evenings, at 8:30 p.m. in the Rochester High School Auditorium.

"Tender Trap" is directed by Mrs. Marie Sorenson and assisting her is Ruth King. The cast is made up of actors not new to this area's theatrics.

Bob Halbach, who has had several leading parts in previous Play-off productions will play the part of Charlie Reader, the Manhattan bachelor with a bevy of beautiful women clamoring for his attentions. Tom King will play his married friend.

The bachelor girls are played by Nancy Coulter, Peggy Gallagher, Maxine Ross, and Betty Keena. "Tender Trap" is the thirty-first play of Peggy Gallagher's career, having been selected the most outstanding actress in Virginia in 1950.

Hugh Whitlock, and Worth Malory, complete the cast.

Pilot Still Lost After Jet Crash

Other Airman Rescued as Planes Collide Over Lake Michigan

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (U)—One Air Force pilot was rescued and the search for a second was pressed through the night after their jet fighter planes collided and they parachuted into the chilly waters of Lake Michigan yesterday.

Second Lt. Kenneth R. Hughes, 31, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lindell K. Hughes, Route 2, Williamsburg, Ohio, was pulled from the 34 degree water three hours after the planes smashed together 2½ miles east of this shoreline community.

Missing was Capt. Carlton A. Berry, 38, Bloomington, Ill. He is the father of four children.

Hughes, who was not injured seriously, remained with the search party after his rescue. It was noted by the Air Force that if Berry remained "more than five hours" in the water he was in danger of death from exposure. The air temperature was 35 degrees at dusk yesterday.

Hopes for Berry's rescue were raised late last night when an unidentified lake freighter reported to the Coast Guard that it had sighted what it believed to be a body. However, the object was lost in the darkness before it could be picked up.

Hughes was lifted from a bobbing rubber life raft by crewmen of the carrier Ernest T. Weir which had spotted him about 10 miles from shore. After it was determined Hughes was not injured seriously he transferred to a Coast Guard boat and stayed on to help search for his companion.

The pilots, stationed at O'Hare field, about 150 miles south of here near Chicago, were on a routine "efficiency" flight when their sa-ber jets collided. They were members of the 62nd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at O'Hare.

R. E. Krafve Named Ford Vice President

Richard E. Krafve, of 7 Shadow Lane, Bloomfield Hills, has been appointed a vice president of the Ford Motor Co., according to Board Chairman Ernest R. Breech. Krafve formerly was general manager of the firm's special products division.

His election took place at a meeting of the board of directors yesterday. Breech said he was also named a member of the administration committee.

Death Car Driver Guilty

FLINT (U.P.)—Thomas G. Ivester, Flint factory worker, was convicted by a Circuit Court jury Wednesday in the traffic deaths of James D. Linn, 25, and Janet Beth Andrina, 14, May 3. The two victims had just stepped out of a bus when they were struck and killed by a car driven by Ivester. Previously, Ivester, 24, pleaded guilty to drunk driving in the accident and served 90 days in jail. Judge Stephen J. Roth released him on $2,000 bond to await sentencing Nov. 14.

New Movie Will Explore Touchy Loyalty Program

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U.P.)—In its search for controversy to lure customers to the theaters, the movie industry is now tackling the touchy subject of the government's loyalty program.

"Three Brave Men," being filmed by 20th Century-Fox, is largely the story of Abraham Chasnow, an executive with 22 years experience in the Navy Department. On July 29, 1953, he was handed a letter that told him he was suspended from duty "in the further interest of national security."

Thus began a nightmare that lasted more than a year. At a loss to account for the action, Chasnow fought against lies, innuendo and secret procedures before finally winning vindication.

The story is being told with Oscar winner Ernest Borgnine as the wronged official and Ray Milland as his lawyer-defender. Produced by Herbert Bayard Swope Jr., the film is being written and directed by Philip Dunne, son of another literary figure, Peter Finley Dunne of the "Mr. Dooley" stories.

Dunne, scholarly-looking, talented screen writer — "How Green Was My Valley," "David and Bathsheba" — turned director — "The View From Pompey's Head" — enthused about his new project.

Dunne said that releases had been obtained from Chasnow, his attorney, Joseph Fanelli, and others connected with the case. But actual names won't be used.

"I think the picture will have a good effect abroad," Dunne declared. "You can't just show America as being perfect. The best way to demonstrate our way of life is to point out a sore spot and then show how democracy heals it over. That's the system I used when I was making films for the OWI during the war."

"The fact that we can correct our faults is one of the strengths of democracy."

Car Kills Boy, 9, Sister, 10, Critical

DETROIT (U.P.)—Homeward bound from school, a 9-year-old boy was killed and his 10-year-old sister injured critically yesterday when they were struck by a car as they walked across an unguarded intersection in Nankin Township.

Jerry D. Simmons was killed instantly. His sister, Judy Ann, was thrown 50 feet and suffered fractures of both legs and head injuries. A third child, 5-year-old Rita Grisamer, escaped injury.

Wayne County Detective Henry Auer said the driver, Edwin Walker, 20, an auto worker, was charged with manslaughter.

Monthly Award Goes to Soldier at Auburn Heights

Soldiers at the Nike antiaircraft base in Auburn Heights are walking away with "Soldier of the Month" honors conducted by the Army battalion each month.

For the third time in as many months, Delta Battery, 516th AAA Missile Battalion, had the "sharpest" soldier among 500 in five-battery battalion.

Pvt. Donald R. Fenn of Columbus, O., was chosen the outstanding soldier by officers of the battalion. Pvt. Fenn was presented with several gift certificates and the letter passed for Detroit and Mount Clemens.

Democrats Leading Alaska Balloting

JUNEAU, Alaska (U.P.) — Democratic candidates held their leads over Republican opponents in all but a few contests today as returns from Tuesday's territorial election trickled slowly in from the hinterlands.

With most of the big populated areas tabulated and 16 of the 271 precincts reported, the Democrats were ahead in 20 of the 39 races. Some still were close enough they could go Republican but not enough to upset Democratic control of the Legislature, and dominance in top territorial elective positions.

The Republicans were strongest in races for the Territorial Senate, apparently capturing five seats and possibly six to the Democrats three. Seven holdover Democrats kept the party in control. In the House race, Democrats led for 21 seats and the Republicans 3.

Tout TV as Major Aid in Keeping Son on Farm

LONDON, (INS)—How to keep Johnny home on the farm has bedeviled farmer parents around the world from time immemorial. Scientists have been urgently issuing ominous warnings of world food shortages and yet the exodus from the dull, drab farm to the gay, exciting city has continued unabated, even increased.

Now at last a British educator thinks he has found the answer in that extensively criticized, allegedly "anti-social" technical development of our age, television.

Alderman B. G. Lampard-Vachell, chairman of the Devon County Education Committee, in his presidential address to the Association of Education Committees, boldly suggested that TV is just the thing to keep country folk at home.

WICKED WORLD?

After seeing television in the secure intimacy of his cottage kitchen, the countryman, said Alderman Lampard-Vachell, might be less tempted to wander after "the alleged glamor of the wide and wicked world."

Speaking of education in the country Lampard-Vachell said the country child had to be shown the "point and purpose of continuing to live and work on, or with, the land."

"What we have to do is to introduce the country child to the 'how' and the 'why' of his world as a positive alternative, and develop his capacity for adapting it to the changing conditions of the second half of the 20th century."

"The thought is intriguing in its irony that the task of the rural educationist in educating people to stay in the country for the right reasons may be enormously assisted by that much-maligned technical development of our age, television."

Big Fish Story

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn. (AP)—You can throw away the book when you're fishing in these parts, Jimmy Mitchell, 12, baited his hook with worms and tossed it into Boy River for a mess of bullheads. He caught a 14-pound muskie. A little later, in Black Bay, Mrs. Joe Taschuk ran out of minnows. She broke off a chunk of wiener, baited a hook, and caught a walleye.

Bert Parks Will Emcee New 'Giant Step' Quiz Show

Gleason Goes to Boston for Special Pizza Pie

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Barbara ("Wiggles") Nichols and William Saroyan were together, and I assumed he was just writing her life story. Barring her eyes at him, she said, "But I haven't lived yet!" Jackie Gleason (who does a Honey-mooners this week, also a Reggie with a rock-n-roll) sneaked off to Massachusetts for some Boston-style pizza (has baked beans in it).

Joe E. Lewis (of Ed Sullivan's show) jams the Copacabana unbelievably each night, dropping new pearls for Earl. Of gambling he says: "Speaking of money, there's plenty more where that went." While sipping: "I don't really care for whiskey. It's just something I do while getting drunk."

Rocky Marciano—serious about turning thesplan—has a bid from Kay Thompson to do her spec, "Eloise," from Hollywood. And Red Skelton wants him for a Las Vegas act.

Rocky told the Lams Seidel Night how he was honored at a big Brooklyn Italian affair once. Just starting, he'd been photographed with Ike and Joe Di Maggio.

BARBARA

The Italian speaker warned him: "Rocky, don't get big-head now just because you've had your picture taken with Joe Di Maggio."

But Rocky'll have to worry about punctuality. We were having dinner at 21 with famous jeweler Jack West of Dayton and Miami—and Rocky was due on a TV show... but was confused about the time and place.

"I think I have to be there by 9:15," he said, about 8:55. "I'll phone NBC and find out."

"It's at the Colonial Theater," NBC said, "but don't bother going—the show's just over."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL...

Ted Lewis, celebrating 41 years wed, recalled that at the time he was working in Rochester in a burlesque show... Helen Hayes' doing her memoirs, "Of All My Stages."

Rita Hayworth's att'y, Bart Crum, flew to L.A. to see Orson Welles about a permanent trust fund for Rebecca, daughter of Orson and Rita... Julie Wilson leaves "Pajama Game" Oct. 29: Fran Warren will sub... The Hank Greenbergs were together at the Little Club... Joe Di Maggio took the Yanks and gave Jackie Gleason 7-5 (seven needles to five)... Dolores Del Rio returns to B'way next season in a Galt Galt play.

Joan Crawford paid almost $2,000 to send 85 suitcases here from Rome... Victor Borge hit two gushers, and calls himself "an only American"... Barbara Hutton and her baron will spend New Year in Mexico.

The DeMarco sisters will add Julie Stone to the act, replacing sister Arlene who quit... Warner Bros. and 20th Century-Fox are discussing merger of studio space and distribution.

Earl's Pearls...

The man who thinks by the inch and talks by the yard should be dealt with by the foot.

WISH I'D SAID THAT—"Some of the figures you've become teen-age institutions sound like they belong in one," Paul Hartman.

MGM's new film, "The Opposite Sex," opens with this line: "Manhattan is a body of land consisting of four million square miles, completely surrounded by women." That's earl, brother. (Copyright 1956, The Hall Syndicate, Inc.)

Pelts Mink on the Side

Teenager Tackles 2 Tasks: One for Fun, One for $$$

LUDINGTON (AP)—Tom Shaw, 15-year-old, 210-pound Ludington High School sophomore who plays tackle on the varsity football team, makes a profitable hobby of caring for 300 mink.

He estimates he'll realize about $4,000 from pelting out the mink this fall.

Tom started the project two years ago, upon graduation from eighth grade, when his father helped him buy 10 bred female mink.

The Shaw stock includes some of the rare light gray sapphire mink.

"One reason sapphires are so scarce is that they must be bred to black mink to keep their vigor," Tom explains. "The mink are especially bred and produce many of the cheaper blacks."

In November each mink is checked by furrier specialists who buy pelts. Breeding stock is saved and the rest are pelted out.

Keeping records on his stock adds to Tom's homework, since he is engaged in nightly football practice until about 6:30. Regular care of the delicate animals requires a minimum of about two hours a day, but Tom's father lends a hand during the football season.

To date, most of the younger Shaw's profits have been plowed back into the project, but he estimates that the mink will finance his college education in the next three years.

Besides, he says, the mink will form a $10,000 investment awaiting his graduation if he chooses to return to mink raising on a full time basis.

Floating Garbage Can

LOS ANGELES—The Port of Los Angeles is kept free of debris by a "floating garbage can," the boat Ramona. It patrols more than 20 miles of water from three times a week, picking up garbage and trash from deep-water ships that are anchored or docked for cargo. Each load is dumped far out in the ocean.

'Miss Brooks' Enriches Eve

'Wizard of Oz' Movie Won't Be Cut for TV Showing Nov. 3

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Bert Parks gets another quiz job—"Giant Step," the show geared to give away college educations (by the $64,000 management). Starts Nov. 7...

Eve Arden made a fortune selling her old "Our Miss Brooks" property to CBS on a capital gains deal and then tying her handsome self to the network on a five-year deal—with no show in mind so far.

MGM's fine old "The Wizard of Oz" will be shown (in color) without a single cut Nov. 3 on CBS-TV.

The new Lawrence Welk show, "Top Talent and New Talent," is a well-styled combination of all the amateur hours and the Hit Parade. By the very same yardsticks which suggested the original Welk show couldn't be a TV success, this one probably also will be...

It's a little gimmicky by Welk's normal TV simplicity but undoubtedly satisfies his cult...

LOTS OF EXTRAS

The new ABC-TV Ray Anthony Show isn't being permitted to follow Lawrence Welk's simplicity. They're loading him up with Frank Leamy to guess grid games and emcee.

Undoubtedly it is because we expected far more of a "Walter Winchell Show" that we found his new NBC-TV program breezy enough, but thoroughly conventional. For us, in Winchell's case, "conventional" is not enough. However, Winchell's premiere won the biggest TV trend of Friday night.

Tony Curtis will do TV for General Electric Theater in January, with a story notion he thought up himself.

Gino Prato's the man to beat on Sunday's $64,000 Challenge...

TOO MUCH CUTTING

Some of the best old British films are being slashed to dull ribbons to fit them into TV schedules with too many commercials and have a great deal of their entertainment butchered in the slashing...

If Warners and 20th Century-Fox merge their facilities, watch for the biggest TV film assembly line of all...

RCA has had a secret subscription system right along. Quietly won a patent for this year...

Some of the big TV spectacles get as much rehearsal as movies—10 to 20 days...

Agricultural Council Organizing in County

A new Oakland County Agricultural Council will be formed at an organizational meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Cooperative Extension Office, 1260 West Blvd., county agent Lyle Abel said today.

The council, which will be composed of representatives of all the farm organizations in the county, will serve as an advisory group to the agricultural agents, Abel said.

The council will assist in drawing up programs of work and selecting activities of most use to the farmers, he added.

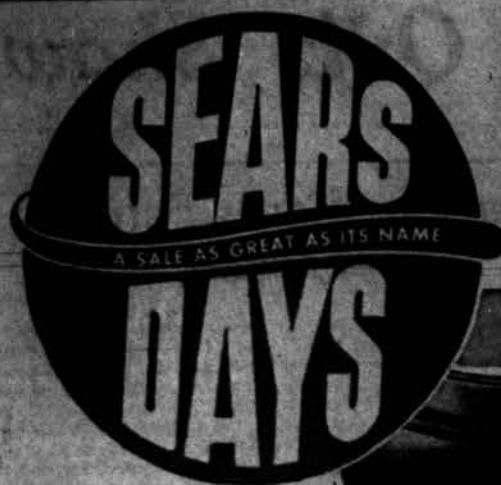

Boy, 15, Confesses to Slaying Six-Year-Old

DETROIT (AP)—A 15-year-old boy was held for investigation today in the rape-slaying of a 6-year-old neighbor girl.

Detective Inspector Thomas Cochill said James McCruter told police he lured Hazel Ann Sutton into a basement next door to her home yesterday and attacked and killed her with the grate handle to a furnace.
