

Former U. N. Official a Suicide, Police Say

NEW YORK (AP) — Povel Bang-Jensen, 50, deposed United Nations official who had been missing since Monday, was found dead Thursday in a Queens park. Police called it "an obvious case of suicide."

The body of Bang-Jensen, dismissed from the U.N. in a controversy over releasing the names of Hungarian refugees, was found by a man walking his dog along the bridge path of Alley Pond Park.

Thief Adds to Misery of Sportscaster

Area hockey fans were unhappy when the Detroit Red Wings dropped a game to Montreal last night, but none suffered more than sportscaster Al Nagler who announced the game at Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

While Nagler was on the air, burglars broke into his home at 10174 Cedar Island Rd., White Lake Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Nagler told deputies early this morning that the thieves had taken a television set valued at $100 and a case of the beer made by the firm that sponsors his program.

Oh, No! More Snow Tonight, Tomorrow

Snow flurries and continued cold was forecast for tonight and Saturday in the Pontiac area.

The low tonight was expected to be 22, rising to 30 on Saturday. Northerly winds at 10 to 15 m.p.h. will become light and variable tomorrow.

Winds at 10 a.m. today were northwest at 10 m.p.h. The thermometer registered 32 at 2 p.m.

Airport Project Request Cut $50,000 by State

A $133,000 Pontiac Municipal Airport construction program — consisting wholly of improvements slashed from the 1960 program by the federal government — has been approved by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission for 1961.

The program totals $50,000 less than the city asked for. The cutback in requested funds is the second within a month.

The commission announced that about $100,000 in anticipated federal and state funds had been allocated to Pontiac.

The federal share of approximately $66,000 is expected to be up for approval by the Federal Aviation Agency early next year. The Legislature will be asked to approve the state share of $33,000 next session.

Pontiac will have to put up about $33,000 in matching funds in order to qualify for the money.

All of the available funds are earmarked for construction of a concrete apron and a taxiway to connect the new terminal with the runways.

The apron would be in front of the terminal for loading and unloading of aircraft and the taxiway would carry subsidiary traffic to and from the commercial hangars.

No federal funds were provided for this system in the 1960 appropriation announced by the FAA earlier this month.

Is Payroll Tax Michigan's Answer?

Ask $100 Million More in NEXT State Budget?

Future Request Leap
Looms With Current Woes Still Unsolved

LANSING (UPI) — State agencies want Michigan's tax blueprint for spending to be more than $100 million higher than the current yet-to-be balanced budget, it was disclosed today.

A survey of state officials revealed the 1960-61 budget requests submitted to Gov. G. Mennen Williams may amount to as much as $150 million more than the $403 million appropriated for general government for 1959-60.

State Controller James W. Miller confirmed that budget requests now being reviewed might get to the $550 million mark.

But he emphasized that it was premature to ask about the next budget period.

"First things first," Miller said. "We've got a lot of catching up to do. We're concerned about what's available this year."

These requests to spend more than a half billion dollars came as the state had $84 million in unpaid bills and a deadlock in the Legislature on how to balance the record budget approved early last summer. The Legislature will resume tax talks Monday.

Miller declined to say whether the rear guard action on the current budget would mean Williams will get a late start on what probably will be his last budget fight.

The governor normally presents budget messages late in January. But he has not had time to confer with Miller's budget division on policy matters for the new budget.

UNIVERSITIES ASK HIKE
"Before looking at a man's tonsils, let's check that tourniquet on his leg," said Miller, a pipe-smoking political science professor who will turn Michigan's budget drafting headache over to someone else in July. He will become secretary of Michigan State University.

MSU and other universities are asking a boost in the $100 million they got this year. MSU alone wants $35 million, a boost of more than seven million dollars in its current budget.

The Mental Health Department has requested $85 million for all operations, up from the $70,800,000 received during the current year.

The Welfare Department request will be at about the same $70 million level it now receives.

Ocean Hop Was Record Setter

FLIGHT FINISHED — "Flying grandfather" Max Conrad looks fresh and perky after his 6,911-mile flight from Casablanca, Morocco, to El Paso, Tex. He arrived Thursday morning. The trip took him 56 hours and 26 minutes. After this interview with a newsmen, Conrad had a snack and then hopped back into his plane and took off for San Francisco.

Grandpa Flies Light Plane 6,911 Miles

Buzzes Atlantic to Shatter Air Mark

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Flying 100 feet or less and went up to 150 feet at night. Grandpa Max Conrad took a well-deserved rest in this desert resort today after flying a light plane from North Africa to Texas.

Conrad, 56, landed Thursday at El Paso — 6,911 miles from Casablanca, where he coaxed his gas-heavy Piper Comanche into the air more than two days before.

The 56-hour 26-minute flight in the little blue and white monoplane was a record for planes weighing under 3,000 pounds.

Then, after a bottle of pop and a walk to shake out the kinks, Conrad climbed back into his plane and took off again — this time for his home in San Francisco. He landed shortly before sundown at Las Vegas.

Conrad flew the same plane in which he set a 7,668-mile record for heavier aircraft last year from North Africa to Los Angeles. On this flight, he replaced the Comanche's six-cylinder engine with a four-cylinder model and put it in a lighter class.

In El Paso, a lean and thirty Conrad swung his long legs out of the cramped cockpit and told waiting reporters the story of his record-shattering hop.

He took off from Casablanca with 360 gallons of gas, and three vacuum-sealed containers of coffee, tea and water, but no food.

During daylight hours, he flew at Reporters at the El Paso airfield were surprised when the veteran ferry pilot popped out of the cockpit clean shaven. He explained that 15 minutes before landing he had shaved with an electric razor.

Rocket Aimed at Venus to Be Launched Shortly

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States pushed ahead with plans for another stab at space today while still seeking the reason for the failure of its biggest moon rocket.

In about two weeks an attempt will be made to propel a payload toward the vicinity of the planet Venus and giving Day when a mammoth Atlas Able rocket fizzled shortly after it was fired in an attempt to put the first satellite into orbit around the moon.

The Atlas-Able, 10 stories high and the most powerful rocket ever assembled by this country, was on its maiden flight. It crashed hundreds of miles out in the Atlantic Ocean after its second stage failed to ignite.

Focal point of the investigation was a mysterious piece of material that fell from the rocket about 30 seconds after launch. The chunk, which appeared to be on fire, spiraled slowly into the ocean a few miles off shore.

Officials theorized it was part of a protective fiberglass fairing that covered the third stage and the 372-pound satellite. The fairing was to split in two and blow away when the rocket was outside the earth's dense atmosphere.

It is believed the fairing may have broken prematurely, exposing the upper stage and payload to intense friction.

Had it been successful, the American satellite would have whirled into a lunar orbit and transmitted back crude pictures of the moon's surface and other information on its environment.

Representatives of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration conceded that the failure leaves the Soviet Union with a wide lead in the space race.

Dr. John Lindsay, chief of NASA's solar physics program, said that unless the space agency can find extra money somewhere, it probably will not try another moon shot for several months.

City's Yule Tree Thrived on Oatmeal

A Christmas tree that in its infancy thrived on oatmeal will grace the downtown Pontiac Yuletide display next week.

Unusually bushy and 60 feet tall, the evergreen grows next to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeYonge, 3300 Fox Rd., Commerce Township.

It'll be cut down Monday morning and trundled into town for the Downtown Merchants Assn. by forestry crews of the Parks and Recreation Department.

Adorned by 5,000 multi-colored lights, the tree will stand throughout the Christmas season at the corner of Oakland avenue and Saginaw street.

Not only will the tree be the highest in Pontiac history, Mrs. DeYonge is sure it'll be the shapeliest, too.

That's because the tree got its vitamins when young, she maintained.

DeYonge, an office worker for Cutting Tools & Supplies, Inc., and his wife planted a lot of evergreens the fall they moved into the Fox road home back in 1941.

One young seedling — a Norway spruce — happened to be placed in the midst of a rock garden.

MORE ATTENTION
Mrs. DeYonge watered the garden thoroughly during the summers and the young tree consequently got more moisture than the others in the yard.

The same young tree got plenty of oatmeal fertilizer scattered about its base.

Although she doesn't pretend to be an arboriculturist, Mrs. DeYonge thinks the oatmeal worked wonders, although it's admittedly an uncommon form of fertilizer.

"When the tree is on display, everyone will agree it's exceptional," she said.

Gas Station Man Gets Slugged

Bandit Grabs $659 in One Cash Box, Misses
Over $1,000

A bandit who beat a Pontiac Township gas station owner into unconsciousness early today took $659 from a cash box but overlooked more than $1,000, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Edwin L. Jostock, 27-year-old owner of a Speedway Gas Station, 2005 E. Walton Blvd., told deputies the holdup took place shortly after he opened his station at 6 this morning.

"As I bent over to unlock an oil tank at the side of the building, someone hit me over the head," he told Deputy Donald J. Johnston. "All I saw were the man's feet. He was wearing black shoes or boots."

Jostock said everything went black and he didn't remember anything until he staggered out onto Walton about 10 minutes later.

His attacker is believed to have used an ax handle found lying in the snow near the tank.

The bandit took a cash box from a desk drawer, broke it open with a hammer and emptied it of slightly more than $659.

Deputies said he missed three paper bags containing $1,000 cash in a second drawer, some loose change in a third drawer and an estimated $25 in the cash register.

Jostock was taken to Pontiac General Hospital, treated for head injuries and released.

An unidentified motorist, who saw Jostock staggering around the side of the road, drove him to another nearby gas station where he called police.

Both Williams, Bagwell Back New Approach

Battle Shaping Up as Same Old Stalemate
That Doomed Others

Governor Williams and Paul D. Bagwell, opponents in the 1958 election, stood together on the sidelines today cheering for a payroll tax as the latest answer to crack the nearly year-old tax quagmire.

It appeared, however, that the proposal was shaping up along the same political party lines that have meant defeat to its predecessors.

Oakland County Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, Reps. Lloyd L. Anderson of Waterford Township and Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield Township, all Republicans, said flatly they opposed the payroll tax. Rep. William Hayward (R-Royal Oak) was on his way to a convention and unavailable for comment.

Democrat Rep. John C. Hitchcock of Hazel Park said he favored it. "We've got to do something to get this thing settled," he said.

His two fellow Oakland Democrats in the House, Reps. Arthur J. Law (Pontiac) and James Clarkson (Southfield), said they weren't ready to say whether they favored or opposed it until they learned more about the proposal.

Meanwhile, cochairmen of a special team of eight legislators trying to crack the tax stalemate in Lansing were meeting with three members of the State Administration Board today to find out just what Michigan needs in immediate funds.

They are Roberts and Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville).

Anderson is also a committee member.

Roberts and Bowman were meeting with State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, James W. Miller, state controller, and Otis M. Smith, auditor general.

"We want from them exactly what the minimum is that it will take in new taxes to keep us going," he said.

Freighters Race Dec. 1 Deadline

From Our News Wires

MONTREAL — Seventy-seven ocean-going ships are still in the St. Lawrence Seaway system and with the closing deadline set for Monday midnight it appeared some might be caught if the deadline is not extended.

Transport Department officials say the situation is not unusual. A deadline has not been met in years.

Transport Minister George Hees has insisted the closing date will not be changed.

Cold weather has virtually shut down Great Lakes shipping.

SEASON NEARLY OVER

The foreign shipping season is just about over for Detroit and soon will end for all the Great Lakes until spring.

Port officials said today the American Export Line ship the Exanthia will be the last ship to carry cargo to foreign ports from Detroit this season.

The St. Lawrence Seaway locks will not operate after Monday because of possible ice jams, according to port officials.

Of the 77 ocean-going ships still in the system, 21 entered the western end of the Seaway canals today and were expected to reach Montreal with time to spare.

But if the other 56 — including an undetermined number still west of Welland, Ont. — are to clear the Seaway in time, lock workers will have their busiest days since the Seaway was opened.

High winds this week halted ship movements along most of the route as long as 26 hours, further complicating the situation.

Any Venezuela-Cut Steaks in the Freezer?

ROCKEFELLER ON ROUNDUP — New York's Nelson Rockefeller herds cattle from horseback Thursday on his Venezuelan ranch, where he and Mrs. Rockefeller are spending a vacation.

The governor took his Thanksgiving Day guests on a tour of the ranch following their turkey dinner. The dinner guests were visiting newsmen and officials of Rockefeller enterprises in Venezuela.

Like and Mamie Served Applesauce With Turkey

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhowers had a cranberry-less Thanksgiving dinner. Applesauce was served instead.

That word came from actress Rosalind Russell and her husband, producer Frederick Brisson, who dined with the President and his family at the White House.

Secretary of Welfare Arthur S.

Flemming and his family had government - approved cranberries with their holiday dinner. Flemming touched off a cranberry scare earlier this month when he reported some berries were tainted by a weed-killer which had produced cancer in rats.

Girls' Presents Easy This Year

You Can't Miss on Fur to Trim Sweater or as Detached Collar

One sure-fire tip for uncertain Santas is: Give her something she can wear.

This year any girl on the Christmas list would love the new fur accessories that are all over the place—a handbag, a hat, a scarf or a muff in any pelt, from mink to leopard. The lavish Santa will make it a set—handbag or hat and matching scarf.

The fur-trimmed cashmere sweater is another five-star feminine gift.

This year a black cashmere cardigan with black fox collar would ring the bell, or a beige sweater with matching blonde mink collar, or a green one trimmed with leopard.

Collars are detachable, to be worn with other outfits.

All men know that diamonds are a girl's best friend. And if diamonds are beyond the budget, there's plenty of good costume jewelry around that looks like real.

Multi-strand necklaces and bracelets in colors to match a costume are bound to be a success.

College girls, of course, all want scarab bracelets and gold circle pins to wear on a shirt collar. Scarab earrings to match the bracelet make life complete.

No high school or college girl ever has enough sweaters so Santa is free to shoot the works here.

Anything from high-priced cashmere to budget orlon or bulky wool will bring squeals of joy from the younger set.

Gay house coats in wool, orlon or quilted cotton will please most any woman, as will strictly feminine lingerie in sheer nylon tricot, vivid velvets preferred, such as tangerine, red or even bright blue.

And of course, the really timid Santa always is safe with a dozen pairs of nylons.

NEWCOMER to the family will enjoy items from a baby gift set designed to keep him soothed.

Much of Nation Shivers Under Cold Air Mass

By The Associated Press

Nearly half of the country was covered today by a mass of cold air that ranged in temperatures from the 20s in the Southwest to around zero along the Canadian border.

The arctic air gripped an area from Pennsylvania southwestward through Kentucky, Tennessee to Louisiana and northwestward from Texas to the Canadian border. Southeast of the cold air, the readings generally were in the 50s. In southern Florida, the mercury hit the 70s.

Where warm air clashed with cold air, precipitation resulted. In southern sections there was rain; in the north there was snow. Some areas in the north had sleet and freezing rain.

Ray Milland Intending to Re-Enter College at 51

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ray Milland, the debonair sleuth on CBS-TV's "Markham" series, says he plans to suspend his career and go back to college when the show ends.

"I never had the sense to finish college, and I'd like to make up for it now," the 51-year-old star said in his dressing room.

Milland, who was born Reginald Truscott-Jones in Wales, attended King's College and Cambridge in England — but quit before he got very far.

"I had to see what was going on in the rest of the world — like too many kids in a hurry," he said. "But I did pick up a fair ability with languages, including Spanish and German, and that's what I want to study."

"I'd like to learn those languages perfectly. I'm planning on spending a year or so at the University of Madrid and perhaps another year at the University of Bonn or some other German school."

"We're hoping to shoot a bunch of our 'Markham' segments abroad, and I'd like simply to stay there."

The slender, dark-haired star, who won an Academy Award in 1946 for his portrayal of a drunk in "The Lost Weekend," said he wished he could afford to quit acting so he could spend all his time studying and "bumming around."

"It's becoming increasingly hard for me to pull myself together and steel myself for a day's work," he said.

"For a while, I went into directing. Then about eight months ago, I just got fed up with the studios, decided I needed a change of venue — and quit."

"It had gotten me down—seeing the same old gates and the same old studios every day. I went down to the beach and just flopped around. Didn't shave. Didn't dress up."

"I loved it. But I'm too active, and my wife said I just wasn't fit to live with like that because I was creative and was getting too touchy doing nothing. She said I better go back to work, and she was right. Then along came this series."

Milland said he still dislikes "pulling myself up in the morning, going through makeup and standing under a hot sun or hot lights."

"I don't want to worry about looking just right any more," he said. "When I wake up, I feel like saying, 'Nuts! Here we go again.'"

Scores of messages can be sent at the same time and in both directions over modern submarine cables.

There are four known species of cedar trees.

Hal Boyle Says:

Will 'Soft Sound' Replace 'Rock'?

NEW YORK (AP)—Has rock 'n' roll music passed its peak? Can cash build a 19-year-old unknown singer into an explosive stardom eclipsing even that of Elvis Presley, still a top idol of the teen-age set?

The career of Rod Lauren may hold an answer.

Rod, picked from a field of 300 aspirants, was signed by RCA-Victor to a seven-year contract to springboard a trend among teen-agers toward music with "a soft sound."

According to Variety, the show business weekly, the firm is spending $100,000 to try to make a star of Lauren—the largest sum ever budgeted by a recording company on a young unknown.

The theory behind the massive buildup is that many teen-agers, who buy about 90 per cent of single records, are begging to weary of the raucous monotony of rock 'n' roll after five years.

Ike's Thanksgiving? Speech Preparation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower, preparing to leave next Thursday on a three-continent good will tour, spent much of Thanksgiving Day working on speeches he will deliver on the trip.

The President took time out in the afternoon for the traditional turkey dinner with Mrs. Eisenhower and their son and daughter-in-law, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, and the four grandchildren.

Mrs. Eisenhower attended Thanksgiving services at National Presbyterian Church.

But the President remained in his office preparing the addresses he will give during the Asian-African-European trip.

Son John, who will accompany the President on the 11-nation mission, also worked in his office during the day. He is assigned to the White House as an assistant staff secretary.

Well, he has a ballad-type voice, hazel brown eyes, dark tousled hair, and the same look of suppressed, sleepy-eyed excitement that stirred girlish hearts to thunder over the late James Dean.

"I enjoy rock 'n' roll music myself, but I don't sing it well," said Rod, who is launched on a nationwide 20-city tour.

"I have a softer voice. I don't have that screeching sound. I'm a baritone."

"I know I don't have an operatic voice, but I admire the classical artists, such as Leonard Warren and Jan Peerce."

His mother plays the piano and his father sings in church choirs. He plays both the piano and trombone. He started out to be a dentist.

"I've wanted to become a legitimate actor since I was 8 or 9," he said. "My favorite actor is Laurence Olivier, and my favorite actresses are Bette Davis and Helen Hayes."

Rod is a mixture of Spanish, German, French and Irish. He is 5 feet 11, weighs 165 pounds. He is modest about his prospects.

"I realize what a great opportunity this is. So many people struggle and struggle all their lives for this chance—and here it is laid at my feet," he said.

Rod isn't in the market for romance.

"I have my own girl back in Fresno," he said. "She's only 16 and still in school."

"We're not engaged or anything, but as far as I'm concerned I don't plan to mess around with any other girls."

Judge Medina Defines Much Misused Terms

In a new book of his speeches, "Anatomy of Freedom," the much respected Judge HAROLD R. MEDINA of Communist trial fame, gives his definition of what constitutes a liberal, a conservative, a reactionary and a radical. The basic differences of these much misused terms are well set forth in these excerpts:

"A liberal," says Judge Medina, "is one who has learned to evaluate his experience and the world about him independently and freely... he is always prepared to accept criticism and to try to understand opposing views... to reappraise his own conclusions, ideas and concepts of truth in the light of differing theories and new information available to him."

"The conservative" is reluctant to "revise original estimates. He is not wholly without an inquiring mind and capacity for change but he instinctively struggles against espousing new ideas... he seems to bestow a quality of good upon that which exists... merely because it happens to be the prevalent practice or view."

"The reactionary... not only resists change but actively combats any deviation from the status quo." To him... "change is inherently undesirable and reason plays little if any part in any appraisal of... new ideas."

"The radical is markedly similar to the reactionary in his fanatic devotion to his own belief and his unwillingness to accept or tolerate the views of others. However, where the reactionary decries change, the radical proceeds on the assumption that there is a positive quality in change merely for the sake of change and... the more emphatic the deviation from existing ideas, the more desirable the change."

From these definitions the majority of us no doubt would like to consider ourselves liberals.

London-Bonn Talks Bring Understanding

The recent Macmillan-Adenauer talks have put to rest Germany's fears that Britain would withdraw from the West's defense line in Europe and would give away something important in Berlin at the proposed summit meeting.

Dr. ADENAUER for his part emphasized that an economic struggle between the six nation Common Market (Inner Six) which Germany and France dominate, and the new Free Trade Association (Outer Seven) promoted by Britain is "unthinkable." The Chancellor declared that these groups must not develop a trade war which would be in sharp conflict with everything that has been done in recent years for the unification of a free Western Europe and a free world.

As evidence of ADENAUER's sincerity, he has used his influence to extend the Common Market tariff cuts to non-members. Leaders in Britain also have declared that the Outer Seven must become a bridge to the Common Market and perhaps a step toward joining it. Had Britain not considered Commonwealth trade ties binding and had France and Germany been less narrow a year ago, a 17 nation free trade area might now be in operation in Europe.

The four stage program for German reunification as presented at Geneva was reaffirmed. This provides for free elections within the framework of European security without troop withdrawals or other appeasement. It was agreed also that any arrangement on Berlin would be considered only as part of the whole German problem.

range on Berlin would be considered only as part of the whole German problem.

The London conference following the Paris agreement between Pres. de Gaulle and Britain's Sec. Lloyd, has laid a foundation for the Dec. 19 Western Big Four meeting in Paris. Improved understanding is necessary to Western unity when the free world faces the Communists next spring.

This Week to Stress 'Know Your America'

Of the many "weeks" that are proclaimed each year, every once in a while there is one that seems worthy of mention and support. Know Your America week strikes us that way.

The period set aside is Nov. 23-27, according to the local chapter of the Knights of Pythias. From their bulletin we quote, "The Thanksgiving period is an appropriate time for taking stock of our precious heritage, a time when all Americans should consider the blessings of freedom as contrasted with Communist tyranny." Amen.

The Man About Town 127 Years on Jobs City Employees Step Down After Long Service

Day after: A Thanksgiving feeling that's much better than the usual night after.

Leaving their jobs are four Pontiac City employees with a total of 127 years of municipal employment to their credit. It covers the period of our city's greatest growth and industrial development.

Topping the list is Fire Chief John F. Schroeder, with 48 years, going back to the horse and fire wagon days, whose corpulence have become a bright red from so much association with the fire demon.

Then, with 27 years on the job, is Superintendent of Public Works Joseph B. Jewel who has seen our city lifted out of the mud and away from run-down public buildings. Joe surely knows his stuff.

Also with 27 years is City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn whose knowledge of Pontiac's underground even exceeds that in connection with his ability as a coon hunter and all round good sportsman. Lewis has seen a lot of dirt thrown in the best city in the world.

Then comes City Assessor W. Ray Ransom

who knows more about Pontiac's real estate values than most anybody else, and who has listened to more poverty tales than a welfare chief. He's been on the job a quarter of a century.

A rabbit that has been raised by Mrs. Beatrice Lubelford of Rochester since its nest was destroyed by a mowing machine and the mother killed last summer, was scheduled for the Thanksgiving table, but drew a reprieve until Christmas at least because it is still growing—and the children in her family make a strenuous objection.

David Lawrence Asks:

What of TV's Other Problems?

WASHINGTON — What started out as an exposure of deception — mistakenly conceived by the producers of shows as a way to put on a more exciting performance — has developed now into a nationwide discussion of the merits or demerits of television itself.

There are always misguided individuals who hurt any good cause by acts of LAWRENCE dishonesty. Hence the exposures have already alerted the television broadcasting companies and producers of shows that this kind of thing must not happen again.

There really isn't any need for more law or regulation to handle that problem. Regaining the confidence of the public is not something even a new law could by itself accomplish for the television companies.

But what of television's other problems — especially the dissatisfaction with some of the shows that aren't in the quiz line? What shall be done about some of the misleading advertisements that occasionally accompany them?

Existing laws can take care of the misrepresentation of products offered for sale. That's what the Federal Trade Commission was set up to do a few decades ago.

While many people do not know much about its achievements, the commission can quite effectively, by the use of "cease and desist" orders, protect the buying public against fraud in advertising.

As for the kind of shows given on the air, this is really at the root of much of the dissatisfaction with television. Lots of the criticism is unfair and ill-informed.

For one thing any medium with as big an audience as TV gets cannot even in a decade of time solve all its problems and, of course, any suggestion that the government should begin to "censor" television shows or tell the stations what kind of programs they should offer is contrary to the spirit and the letter of the constitutional provision governing free speech.

NO RIGHT

To simplify the issue — the government has no more right to tell the stage manager of a television show how to work up or ignore dramatic interest than it has to send FBI agents behind the wings of a theater to find out whether the drink that looks like wine to the audience is after all only a soft drink. What a tragedy it would be to interfere with the art of make-believe in the circus side shows!

The discussion now going on about television is healthy. It will help in the long run. For the amount of constructive criticism poured forth in the last few weeks could not possibly have been induced in many years in the normal course of events.

The latest bit of self-examination in the broadcasting business has been sparked by Sigmund Larmon, chairman of the board of Young & Rubicam, a big advertising agency in New York. Mr. Larmon has given much of his time to public-service activities, and he sincerely hopes to help the television companies to solve the dilemma.

He has suggested that a commission of outstanding citizens be appointed by all the broadcasting companies to make a study of the whole problem of programs and the proper relationship of producers and advertisers to the networks. This would be an advisory commission.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, says the objective is all right but he fears it will give the impression that the broadcasting companies may be passing the buck to others.

Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasting Co., likes the idea in principle and thinks such a study would be helpful but suggests certain definitions of the areas to be explored.

On the whole, the move is bound to be useful in stimulating the process of self-examination by all the parties concerned.

But, even granting that a public commission would render some good advice on methods of detecting frauds and on other reforms, especially in programming, this would not in any way reduce the responsibilities of the network, the producers of programs and the advertisers, respectively. Dr. William Brady Says:

If You've Got Vexations, Better Do Something

Primitive man EXPRESSED his emotions by fighting or running away.

Civilized man tries to REPRESS his emotions—even considers it a mark of refinement or culture to do so.

A correspondent taunted me for my practice of taking just so much and, when I feel I have had enough, saying the heck with it and heading for the bowling green, where one can forget all mundane vexations.

The correspondent complained that in business you have to stay right there and smile and be courteous to customer or client, no matter how much you would like to throw him out... and so, argued the customer, a businessman is entitled to relax with a few cocktails or highballs at the end of the day.

It is too bad that the businessman and millions of others are so naive about relaxation that they believe a narcotic of one kind or another (alcohol is a narcotic in any dose or in any circumstance) or a barbiturate or a so-called tranquilizer is a good remedy for what ails them.

It is too bad that it isn't possible for everybody beset with vexations and annoyances can't say the heck with it and sneak over to the bowling green for an hour or two of perfect relaxation.

I do not mean to imply that other kinds of relaxation are not as good or nearly as good as bowling on the green. A brisk three mile walk home for dinner would relax a business or professional man far better than alcohol or other narcotic can.

For the clerical or white collar worker, the teacher, the artist, the writer, the student, the lawyer, the doctor, the merchant, the best relaxation is physical activity, work, play or exercise of one kind or another, nothing strenuous, but something that involves moderate general exercise — as I have said many times, brisk walking is the best moderate general exercise one can take day after day without being bored.

For people who live by their wits, sitting in the car, at the bridge table, in the grandstand, at the movies or reading is bad medicine. This would be okay for people who work or play hard every day. But sedentary people should DO SOMETHING for healthful recreation — use muscles which are not used in their regular jobs.

Walking, skating, swimming, gardening, bowling, golfing, tennis, raking leaves, shoveling snow. If you can't or won't do any of these things, then at least do some setting-up exercises every night and morning.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1959)

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Sentiment Is an Ally of Religion

Rev. Joel points out a critical trend in modern America which is producing erosion of the soul. Sentiment is an important ally of religion. When Communism flourishes, it tries to reduce sentiment and destroy the respect for our parents which Moses urged upon us in one of the Ten Commandments. Beware.

By GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE D-411: Rev. Joel L., aged 47, occupies a big city pulpit.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "my son is going into the ministry, and is now in the seminary."

"But he reports that one of his professors is teaching the young clergymen to dispense with funerals. In fact, this professor not only vetoes flowers but he wants the body immediately disposed of even without a casket or a funeral."

"Then, some time later, he advocates a little memorial service in the church."

"Well, as an older experienced clergyman I think the modern beautiful funeral service, with flowers, organ music, and an inspiring talk by a minister, is a great boon to the bereaved relatives and friends."

"Isn't it a step in the direction of atheism and even communism to destroy sentiment?"

DANGEROUS TRENDS

Yes, one of the first aims of both Russian communism, as well as Hitler's Fascism, was to undermine sentiment.

Thus, German children were

Voice of the People

Reader Voices Objections to Proposed Name Change

Does anyone know if the Board of Education has the right to change the name of Waterford Township High School after it has been established as such for eight years?

The paper stated the Board intends to change the name in 1961. I know many boys and girls as well as parents who object to this move very strongly. How can they say proudly "I graduated from Waterford Township High" where there will be no school by that name?

Let's leave its dedicated name alone. Are we ashamed of Waterford? P. S. Thank you for having Voice of the People.

Mrs. Casper Tarchalski

'Clarkston Needs More Recreation'

Are people of Clarkston and parents of the boys who got into trouble satisfied? I know all these boys and all are good guys. None was ever in any real trouble before.

The fault lies in the lack of recreational facilities in Clarkston. What can teenagers who are out of school do? Nothing but get into trouble. Are teens at fault for having nothing to do? Remember, teenagers can't grow up alone! They need help from parents, ministers, teachers and friends. But most of all they need recreation.

I hope everyone is praying hard for those six boys and also for recreation.

'Bad Marriages Her Own Fault'

That woman that advised women to ignore all men because she got two tramps has no one, but herself to blame. Most of us only get one guy, but he's so nice we're happy ever after and are very pleased. My advice to all girls is to find the right man and then hang on and you don't have to marry a bum to know he's a bum. Happy, Happy, Happy

'We Can't Afford Both Tax Hikes'

It might be a good idea if the City fathers gave up this idea of a possible tax increase. We'll get one from the State and we can't afford both.

NBC, CBS Reported Split on TV Cleanup

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times said Thursday that the NBC and CBS networks were sharply divided on what steps to take toward policing television standards.

The newspaper's Jack Gould said "The National Broadcasting Co. favors joint participation by sponsors and advertising agencies, as well as broadcasters, in establishing a 'public policy committee' to review video's standards and policies."

"The Columbia Broadcasting System declines to join the venture lest it be an admission that the network has abdicated its responsibility to advertisers and agencies."

The American Broadcasting Co., the story says, "would not discuss its position but was understood to be very lukewarm toward a citizens' review board."

'UNPUBLICIZED SESSION'

The newspaper tells of "an unpublishing session" here Nov. 13 of TV bigwigs with Sigurd S. Larmon, board chairman of Young & Rubicam, Inc., advertising agency, and an advocate of a citizens committee to scrutinize the industry.

At this meeting, the Times says, were Leonard Goldenson, board chairman of ABC; Oliver Trey, ABC president; Frank Stanton, CBS president; Robert W. Sarnoff, board chairman of NBC, and Robert Kintner, NBC president.

After the session, Gould writes, Sarnoff and Stanton wrote letters to Larmon stating their views. care of its own house and objected departed from the body, simply produces erosion of the soul.

Clergymen who thus advocate the "disposal" idea for our dead loved ones may mean well. Again, they may simply begrudge the outlay of money for flowers and an inspiring funeral.

"Instead, give that money to us," is probably their covetous thought.

But it is penny wise and pound foolish to strip idealism from their final graduation ceremony where we see our loved ones go on to the next room in God's Cosmic School System.

Erosion of the soul begins when sentiment wanes: Always write to Dr. George W. Flowers, too, and sympathy cards are a great boon to the bereaved, as Mrs. Crane and I can attest after we lost our oldest son three years ago in the crash of his jet plane.

"But why waste money on flowers," many modern people suggest.

"Flowers," said Henry Ward Beecher, "are the sweetest things God ever made and forgot to put a soul into."

In Christ's day, his own Apostles even protested at the similar waste of money by the woman who poured the costly ointment on Jesus prior to his death.

"She should have sold the ointment and given the money to the poor," said the Apostles.

But Jesus disagreed. He praised her and said her thoughtful act would go down throughout all history.

"The poor ye have with you always," Christ added.

Can You Make Foam Clock?

Use These Directions for Decor to Pep Up
New Year's Eve

By Dec. 31 the sand has run out of 1959's timepiece. So, why not fix up your own for that New Year's Eve party?

A clock with the hands poised at 12 o'clock makes a fetching centerpiece.

To make it you will need a one-inch ball of styrofoam, a 4x16x16-inch sheet of the material and a half-circle of styrofoam, 12x12 inches in diameter.

Also needed are a 10-inch-long wooden dowel, chenille wire, black construction paper, round toothpicks, glue and pins, ribbon, greenery and Christmas balls.

To assemble cut 12 wedges from large sheet of styrofoam using sharp paring knife. (To make pattern for wedges draw on paper a quarter circle with 8-inch radius. Cut out and fold into three equal parts. Cut out folds and use one wedge as pattern.)

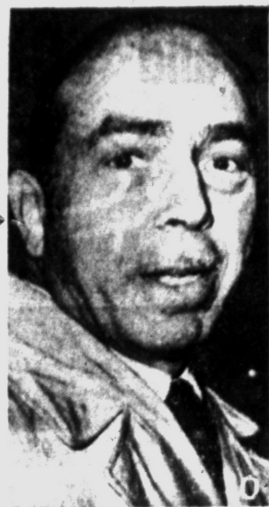

Use wooden dowel for center support. Place 1-inch ball at center of dowel, then attach a wedge to each end of dowel. These will represent 12 o'clock and 6 o'clock.

Thread pointed ends of wedges together into a circle around the dowel using chenille wire. Join outer rim of clock by inserting 1 1/2-inch lengths of wire between each wedge.

Now cut Roman numerals and clock hands from construction paper. Glue in place with white glue.

With round toothpicks attach clock to plastic foam half circle for a base. In same manner attach stem at top. Add finishing touches with ribbon, greenery and Christmas balls.

Portland cement was so named because of its resemblance to stone from the Isle of Portland in England.

Warn Panamanians in Flag-Raising Plot

PANAMA —President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. warned his people Thursday night against attempting to plant the Panamanian flag in the U.S.-controlled Canal Zone by stealth or by force.

Such action, he declared, would only defeat Panama's fight for recognition of its right to fly the flag in the zone as a symbol of its sovereignty over the area.

The president made a nationwide radio appeal to stave off violence during a demonstration called by students Saturday to reassert Panama's sovereignty over the Canal Zone on the anniversary of independence from Spain.

On Weekdays, Labor; but Sunday — Whoopee!

By RICHARD GROWALD

LONDON (UPI) — During the week David Gustave Taylor, 47, was a humble bookkeeper. On Fridays and Saturdays he donned a Salvation Army uniform and collected pennies for the poor. On Sundays? Wow!

On Sunday night he became the playboy of the western world, moving in London's fanciest nightclubs, tipping big and living big with the $54,919 he had embezzled from the jewelry firm where he worked.

The triple life of Taylor came out Wednesday in Old Bailey where he told the judge he was guilty on all 102 counts of forgery, theft and embezzlement.

But he wanted one thing certain: "I never stole a penny from the Salvation Army."

Police officials said it was true. They detailed the good and evil life of David Gustave Taylor.

SALARY: $44.80 A WEEK
Weekdays Taylor appeared to be a model employee although he was fattening his $44.80 weekly pay with forged checks.

On one of his Sunday sprees he became so enamored of a blonde nightclub hostess he gave her a $728 diamond ring, a $280 gold bracelet, a tape recorder, four dresses, a vacuum cleaner, a washing machine and a refrigerator.

The next Saturday he was back in his Salvation Army uniform, going from door to door begging pennies for the Salvation Army and selling copies of its magazine "War Cry."

Most week nights he and his wife sat home reading the Bible and sometimes he would tour the pubs in uniform, collecting pennies while singing his favorite song, "Count Your Blessings."

Then on Sundays he would revert to the life of a playboy, telling his friends he was the owner of 400 jewelry stores while he passed out gold watches to hostesses who caught his eye. One night four of the hostesses staged a hair pulling brawl over his attentions.

Once he confided to a hostess that he sometimes helped the Salvation Army and after that he collected 70 cents a week from her for the Army while showering her with champagne, caviar, nylon negligees, flowers and candy.

His wife was surprised but forgiving when his tale unfolded in court.

"He always brought me stockings every Saturday," she said. "He was very affectionate. I am still married to him and I cannot kick a man who is down."

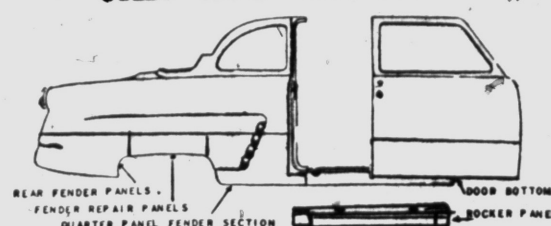

Stocking Stuffers?

Bob Considine Says:

Aviation Can Save—or Doom Us

NEW YORK — Here are some thought-provoking, even chilling, words chanced upon in recent brawlings:

From the message Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, dropped into the cornerstone of Eastern Air Lines' new terminal at Idlewild — "We will be able to cross the American continent in little more than an hour, span the Atlantic in less than two, and circle the globe in scarcely 10 hours."

"While these nuclear powered airliners will link all major cities across the world, helicopters for inter-city short haul travel will progress to atomic propulsion, increasing in size and carrying from 50 to 100 passengers and, in speed, to the swiftness of our present propeller-driven transports."

"All cities of size will zone building heights . . . to make heliports of adequate size. The development of electronic devices and controls will make the operation of aircraft independent of the weather."

"The conscious acceptance by the passengers of the individual's role in promoting friendship and preserving the peace will be evidenced in a universal passport, used for identification only, and airborne cargo will move freely in response only to the demands of commerce."

"Yet, unless we can anchor our knowledge to moral principles, science may turn out to be not the guide but the betrayer of humanity."

"With aviation's development in the hands of men of good will we have, for the first time in the long history of man, the one instrument which can forever eliminate the barrier of time and distance, of ignorance and misunderstanding which, since time began, have set men apart from and against each other."

MIND OF ASSASSIN

From Isaac Don Levine's breathtaking and fascinating "The Mind of an Assassin" (Farrar, Straus & Cudahy Publishers), the story of the many-named man whose mother led him to murder — "It was late in the afternoon of Aug. 30, 1940, Leon Trotsky sat at his desk in the study of his fortified villa on the outskirts of Mexico City."

"Within his reach was the switch to an alarm system, but at that moment a young man of 27 stood between him and the switch."

"The young man has told, in memorable words, what then happened: 'I put my raincoat on the table on purpose so that I could take out the ice-axe which I had in the pocket.'"

"I decided not to lose the brilliant opportunity which was offered me and at the exact moment when Trotsky started to read my article, which served as my pretext, I took the pistol out of my raincoat, took it in my fist and, closing my eyes, I gave him a tremendous blow on the head . . ."

HORRIBLE DEATH

"The man screamed in such a way that I will never forget it as long as a live."

"His scream was Aaaa . . . very long, infinitely long and it still seems to me as if that scream were piercing my brain. I saw Trotsky get up like a madman. He threw himself at me and bit my hand. Then I pushed him, so that he fell to the floor. He lifted himself as best he could and then, running or stumbling, he got out of the room, crying 'See what they have done to me!'"

The assassin will be released from his Mexican prison next Aug. 20. For Russian expert Levine's brilliant recapitulation of the historic case, and prediction of events to follow, don't miss "The Mind of an Assassin."

From a shocking investigation by the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation (which has taken out a $1,000,000 insurance policy in connection with its campaign against quacks)—"about 3,000,000 of the country's 11,000,000 arthritis sufferers purchase at least one misrepresented arthritis nostrum each year."

Their median expense is slightly less than $49 annually. An arthritis on misrepresented arthritics on misrepresented treatment centers."

"The survey found an amazing number of 'magic' devices being sold to arthritics."

"Metal plates to be fitted into shoes, ordinary copper bands, and mitts fitted with low grade uranium ore were among the bizarre means of 'relief and cure' bought by arthritis sufferers."

Anti-U.S. Riot Flares in Japan

50 to 60 Injured When the Leftist-Lead Crowd Storms Parliament

TOKYO — Thousands of chanting, shouting Japanese surged through Tokyo streets today and invaded the grounds of the Parliament building, demanding an end to military ties with the United States.

Police reported at least 50 to 60 injured and said it was the most violent demonstration since the 1952 May Day riot, in which one Japanese was killed and 300 injured.

Twice the leftist-led crowd — estimated at 20,000 to 30,000 — stormed into the Parliament grounds and exultantly paraded the red banners of the Sohyo Labor Federation while the lawmakers sat inside.

The little republic of San Marino claims to be the oldest state in Europe, dating its beginnings to the Fourth Century.

Weaver's Talk Harmful, Says Philippine Senator

20-Day Sales of Ramblers Top Entire '58 Month

DETROIT (UPI)—American Motors Corp. said today retail sales of Ramblers in the first 20 days this month exceeded total sales for the entire month of November last year.

Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing, said dealers sold 22,017 Ramblers in the first 20 days this month compared with complete November sales of 21,894 a year ago.

Weaver charged that a "graft-ridden" Philippine government is conducting an "open program of harassment of American officers and men" and that American servicemen are subject to looting, extortion and assault.

The congressman, who spent three days in the Philippines this month as a member of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, urged that the United States switch its bases to Thailand.

Rather than be angry at Weaver, Sen. Lorenzo Sumulong said he was sorry for him. "I am even more sorry for the grave harm he has caused Philippine-American relations."

Sumulong, a member of the ruling Nacionalista party, said he knew of no immediate moves by his senate group in response to the Weaver statement. He indicated reaction from the U.S. Congress was awaited.

Local press reports said some leading members of Congress here had hinted at cancellation of the U.S. Philippine defense treaty in protest.

A spokesman at the Pentagon in Washington said Weaver's views "are not shared by the Defense Department."

Storm Dumps 14 Inches of Snow Over Rockies

DENVER (AP)—Sunny skies and rising temperatures today chased a Thanksgiving snowstorm out of the Rockies.

The furious 24-hour storm left as much as 14 inches of snow in some foothill and mountain areas. Maximum temperatures in most cities of the region were far below freezing Thursday.

Longest infrared waves are about one sixty-fifth of an inch in length.

JOB FOR INSPECTORS—Recoverable parts of the Trans World Airlines cargo plane that crashed into a residential area near Midway Airport at Chicago are piled in a hangar, as inspectors begin the job of assembling where possible, trying to determine cause of the tragedy. Stored in the hangar is a 749 Constellation, slightly smaller version of the Super H which crashed after fire developed in its No. 2 engine shortly after takeoff.

Ask Tougher Zoning Around Airport Strips

CHICAGO (UPI)—A four-engine cargo plane was flying as much as 90 feet too low when it plowed through five houses and an apartment building and killed 11 persons, aviation officials said today.

This was one of the few clues released by city and Civil Aeronautics Board officials investigating the searing three million dollar crash Tuesday of the Trans World Airlines Super H Constellation.

A CAB spokesman said results of the board's detailed probe probably will be released at a CAB hearing in Chicago.

The team of 36 CAB investigators picked bits and pieces of the shattered airplane from the wreckage and began the tedious job of piecing them together on the floor of a TWA hangar.

Meanwhile, the Air Line Pilots Association (AFL-CIO) urged tougher residential zoning laws near airports. The death-dealing airplane crashed into a cluster of homes only three blocks from Chicago's Midway Airport.

"Similar situations exist elsewhere in the country," ALPA president C. N. Sayen said. "Adequate zoning near airports is becoming increasingly imperative."

Michael J. Berry, city airport manager, revealed the plane clipped the top of a 60-foot tree at a point where it should have been flying at 150 feet.

Berry said the pilot was trying to make an emergency landing at midnight.

Midway Airport after finding a fire in the plane's No. 2 engine.

City aviation Commissioner William E. Downes said the plane might have lost the 90 feet of altitude because of power failure.

Santa Has Claws

A little pet repellent, sprayed at base of the Christmas tree, will discourage kitty from attempting to climb the decoration.

Russ Republic Gets Shakeup

It's Largest in Soviet; Ignatov Replaced 'to Allot Party More Time'

LONDON (AP)—Moscow Radio Thursday announced a shakeup in the Parliament of the Russian Republic, target in the Soviet Union.

Nikolai Organov was elected chairman of the republic's Supreme Soviet, replacing Nikolai G. Ignatov, party veteran and member of the All-Soviet Communist Party Central Committee.

The Moscow broadcast said the Central Committee wanted Ignatov to devote more time to his party job.

"The Central Committee of the party," the radio said, "has found it necessary for member of the Presidium of the Communist Party's Central Committee, Nikolai Ignatov, to work at his main job in the Central Committee."

"In view of this, it is proposed to relieve him of his duties as president of the Presidium of the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Federation."

Organov has been vice chairman of the republic's Council of Ministers since February 1958. Before that he worked for 20 years in posts in Siberia and the Far East.

Many Jump Thanksgiving Day Gun Merchants Count on Biggest Yule

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest Christmas yet is what the nation's merchants are counting on. They hope—and seem pretty sure—that you won't let them down.

Today is the traditional date for the start of Christmas sales promotions. But many retailers jumped the gun and began decorating their stores and placing Christmas ads in the newspapers well ahead of Thanksgiving.

BUYING HIGH

They report considerable consumer buying already. Some of this is for relatives overseas. And much of the rest is under lay-away plans.

The average of estimates of increased dollar volume in the nation's stores between Thanksgiving and Christmas is 5 per cent better than last year.

But an executive of the National Retail Merchants Assn. believes sales will rise by 6 per cent or more in most sections of the country.

Even merchants in the steel districts are feeling better now that the men are back in the mills, although some expect the workers to use current paychecks more for settling bills run up during the long work stoppage and for replenishing nesteggs against the chance the strike might be resumed late in January. High-price goods may move slowly.

The problem is more acute in those communities where steel-short factories are still shut and many workers either payless or working short hours.

GARMENT ORDERS GOOD

But in the garment district there are reports of orders for apparel now coming in even from stores in the strike-hit areas.

And merchants and manufacturers alike are counting heavily on the use of various credit plans to help move merchandise into the hands of consumers who may be hard pressed for extra cash now but look for plenty of work when the strike's effects wear off.

As for the cash itself, banks report large payments going out to members of Christmas clubs, putting them in a position to be generous with gifts if they choose.

Also, merchants note that this year there is one more shopping day between Thanksgiving and Christmas than last year. And that hectic last week before the big day has four shopping days this year instead of three as last year when Christmas came on Thursday.

Retail prices on a number of things are a bit higher this year, reflecting the steady rise in the cost of living in recent months.

But many merchants report costs even when basic commodity prices have held level.

If you've been thinking of giving someone a car for Christmas, you may find some auto dealers hard pressed to deliver because of the cutbacks in auto output due to steel shortages.

Some appliance makers also were forced to curtail production.

While the steel work stoppage was still on, heads of some of the merchandise stamp plans began to fret lest their distribution centers be out of appliances. Stamp collectors traditionally turn in a large volume in December to claim gadgets for gifts.

Mining Tycoon, Wife Killed in Xway Crash

SAN FRANCISCO — John D. Bradley, 49, president of one of the nation's major zinc and lead mining and processing companies, and his wife, also 49, were killed Thursday night in a head-on freeway collision.

Bradley was president of Bunker Hill Co., which has its major operations at Kellogg, Idaho.

Seriously injured were their son John A. Bradley, 23, and the occupants of the other vehicle, Ronald R. Dunn, 23, and Ralph Fields, 22, both of San Francisco.

Steel magnate Andrew Carnegie contributed $800 to start the first set this period for the official celebration to allow time for planning it.

Saginaw and Bay City Units Call Back Nearly All Seniority Workers

SAGINAW (UPI)—Three General Motors Corp. plants in Saginaw and Bay City have announced that all seniority workers, except about 100 at Saginaw Steering Gear Plant 4, will be back on the job by next Tuesday.

Edward Ravas, manager of the Bay City Chevrolet Plant, said notices have been mailed to some 1,850 seniority employees to return to their jobs Monday and Tuesday.

W. H. Doerflinger, general manager at Saginaw Steering Gear, said all seniority employees except the 100 at Plant 4 will be recalled by Monday.

The 100 and other employees with less than 90 days seniority will be recalled shortly.

Chevrolet Grey Iron foundry announced 3,300 employees will report to work Monday to complete the return to full production. About 1,500 employees had been recalled previously.

All the recalls result from the arrival of fresh steel supplies.

$8,000 Ford Scholarship Goes to Texas Youth

DETROIT (AP) — Sam Hudson, a 17-year-old Fort Worth, Tex., high school senior, has been awarded an $8,000, four-year college scholarship by Ford Division of Ford Motor Co.

Hudson was selected from 181 students who attended the National Ford Press Preview and Teenage Press Conference in Dearborn in September.

Jon A. Kapecki, 17, of Flossmoor, Ill., won a $2,500 second-place scholarship and Harvey Silvergate, 17, of Bogota, N. J., took third place and a $1,500 award.

Winners were selected on the basis of stories they wrote at the conference.

Dominican Republic 'Wants' Fidel, Raul

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, D.R. (UPI) —Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, his brother Raul and Venezuelan President Romulo Betancourt face 30 years' imprisonment at hard labor — if the Dominican police ever catch them.

The three men were among 114 persons sentenced to prison for 30 years for "acts against the peace of the Dominican Republic." Ninety-six of the defendants are in custody, none of them prominent Cubans or Venezuelans. Fines totaling 100 million dollars were imposed on the defendants. Castro, Betancourt and 17 others also were convicted as "co-authors of crime against Dominican state security" and of seeking to promote armed revolt in this country. The only "co-author" in court was Cuban Maj. Delio Gomez Ochoa, a leader of the abortive July invasion.

U.S. Turns Over Arms to Morocco Chief of Staff

RABAT, Morocco (AP) —Half a million dollars worth of American weapons were formally handed over today to Crown Prince Moulay Hassan, chief of staff of the Moroccan armed forces, by U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost. In view of the imminence of President Eisenhower's visit to Morocco, Dec. 22, the American gesture is of extreme importance, the Crown Prince said. The consignment of military equipment, the first given by the United States to Morocco, actually has been in Moroccan possession since Nov. 15.

Government Warns Strongly on Tobacco-Lung Cancer Tie

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service has issued a strong new warning on tobacco. The weight of evidence implicates smoking as the main cause of the rising rate of lung cancer.

The statement was issued Thursday by Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Assn. It was the government's strongest statement to date linking smoking and cancer. Burney said it was based partly on new evidence.

Burney's warning immediately was attacked by tobacco interests as a warmed over rehash of old statistics.

Dr. C. C. Little, scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, said in New York the points in Burney's article were "first advanced some years ago in statistical studies that admittedly are not supported by experimental evidence."

Burney's article took note of frequent criticism of the evidence linking smoking and lung cancer. He cited Little's previous criticisms specifically.

MUST TELL

But Burney noted that by law the Public Health Service must tell the medical profession and the public about anything affecting public health.

After reviewing the presentment, she was reported in satisfactory condition today.

The Public Health Service believes that the following statements are justified by studies to date:

"1. The weight of evidence at present implicates smoking as the principal etiologic causative factor in the increased incidence of lung cancer."

"2. Cigarette smoking particularly is associated with an increased chance of developing lung cancer."

"3. Stopping cigarette smoking even after long exposure is beneficial."

"4. No method of treating tobacco or filtering the smoke has been demonstrated to be effective in materially reducing or eliminating the hazard of lung cancer."

"5. The nonsmoker has a lower incidence of lung cancer than the smoker in all controlled studies, whether analyzed in terms of rural areas, urban regions, industrial occupations or sex.

"6. Persons who have never smoked at all (cigarettes, cigars, or pipe) have the best chance of escaping lung cancer."

"7. Unless the use of tobacco can be made safe, the individual person's risk of lung cancer can best be reduced by the elimination of smoking."

AIR POLLUTION TOO

Burney said recent scientific studies also point to air pollution — from car exhausts, industrial smog and so on — as additional causative factors in rising lung cancer.

Since nonsmokers also get lung cancer, he noted, it is obvious that other factors are involved.

2 Cars Collide in Waterford; Eight Injured

Eight persons were injured yesterday in a two-car collision at the intersection of Airport and Highland roads in Waterford Township. Each of the drivers, Lowell Sauslin, 23, of 5516 Oster Dr., Waterford Township, and John E. Pennala, 54, of 324 Second St., Brighton, told police he had the green light.

Lorraine Jehle, 17, of 1015 Lochaven Rd., Waterford Township, a passenger in Sauslin's car, and Pennala were in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital, attendants said today.

Treated for their injuries and released from the hospital yesterday were Sauslin and five passengers in Pennala's car. They are his wife, Dorothy, 43; their 14-year-old daughter, Sandra; Stewart Stoutenburg, 24, of 1760 Clark Lake Rd., Brighton; his wife, Patricia, 23; and their seven-month-old son, Robin.

Hurls Protest on College Oath

Education Council Says Federal Requirement Is 'an Affront to Freedom'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Council on Education protested yesterday that to require college students to sign an anti-Communist affidavit as a qualification for federal educational loans is "an affront to freedom of belief and conscience."

The council, a private organization representing 1,047 educational institutions, renewed a plea that Congress remove the "disclaimer affidavit" provision from the National Defense Education Act.

The act now requires students to sign a document swearing they do not support any organization which advocates forcible overthrow of the U.S. government.

This must be done before a student can become eligible for a loan financed by federal funds.

A number of universities and colleges, including Yale and Harvard, have refused to accept federal funds or to participate in the program because of the controversial disclaimer requirement.

The council said in a statement that the provision is "discriminatory . . . unfair . . . inappropriate . . . superfluous and ineffective" and amounted to "government interference" in education administration.

You See Saw Blade? It's Big—and Not Theirs

Oakland County sheriff's deputies today are wondering how two thieves will use the saw blade they stole yesterday from a Commerce Township sawmill.

According to deputies, tool thefts are not uncommon, but this circular blade taken from the sawmill at 714 Oakley Park Rd. was 52 inches in diameter, weighed 50 pounds.

Predicts Move This Year on Constitution Change

A Democratic state representative from Oakland County today predicted a surprise move to call for a constitutional convention in the Legislature before the end of the year.

The prediction comes as the vacationing representatives and senators debate the merits of the proposed temporary payroll tax to help pull Michigan from its quicksand of money problems.

Asking that his name not be mentioned, the Oakland representative said, the vote would be asked for despite the money situation having top priority. "Many of us feel we need a constitutional convention almost as badly as we need a new tax," he said.

Democrats in their state convention last year opposed the convention, which would rewrite the 1908 outdated constitution, while Republicans favored one. Democrats opposed convention delegates being chosen on heavy Republican senatorial district basis.

The forecasting representative said he couldn't say when the vote might come. He did, however say Rep. John T. Bowman (D-Roseville) would call for it.

It would take two-thirds passage in both the House and Senate. If approved it would go on the November 1960 ballot.

Because it lacked a majority of those voting in the election, the convention proposal lost last November.

Potter to Get U.S.-Canadian Post, Says Paper

DETROIT (AP)—President Eisenhower has given former Republican Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan "the nod for a $20,000 a year vacancy on the U.S.-Canadian International Joint Commission," the Detroit News reported today.

Potter has agreed to accept the appointment, said J. F. Ter Horst of the News' Washington staff, but added that neither Potter nor the White House would comment on the selection.

The former senator now is a co-partner in a St. Lawrence Seaway shipping agency which contracts for shipments from the Midwest to world markets. He also is a partner in a firm dealing in trailer park sites.

The job is not subject to Senate confirmation and appointees to the commission serve at the pleasure of the President, so, the News said, Potter likely will be appointed to Jan. 20, 1961, when Eisenhower will leave the White House.

Ike Asks Power for World Court

Would Take Away Veto Right of All Nations to Ban Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says "the international community needs to find more effective means to cope with and to prevent such brutal uses of force" as the Communists employed in Hungary and Tibet.

The President said he intends to renew his request to Congress to repeal a restriction on United States participation in the International Court of Justice, or World Court.

At present this country reserves the right to decide whether an international issue falls within the World Court's jurisdiction.

No case involving the United States can be taken before the World Court without this country's approval. Other countries also reserve this right.

"Elimination of this automatic reservation from our own declaration accepting compulsory jurisdiction would place the United States in a better position to urge other countries to agree to wider jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice," Eisenhower said.

Several Reasons

License Tabs Go Slowly

LANSING (AP)—Bought your new 1960 auto license plate tab yet? If so, you're one of a small minority.

The Secretary of State's Office today reported only 86,582 license plate tabs have been sold since the 1960 registration year opened Nov. 1. There were 124,133 sales last year when drivers were issued full-sized plates.

Some reasons suggested for the slowdown in sales:

Drivers were reminded in past years that new plates soon would be required because they saw them appearing on other cars. This year they see only the small tabs.

There is no lineup for low numbers — no new plates or low numbers are available.

The steel strike may have slowed spending.

Women always liked bright new plates on the family car. This year there is no incentive.

Messenger Gets $50,000 From Late Boss' Will

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The will of a wealthy musician and theater director has created a $50,000 trust fund for his former messenger.

Waiters, maids and others who worked for him are among the chief beneficiaries of the estate of Frederick R. Huber, managing director of the Lyric Theater for many years before his death last week.

Huber was a bachelor with no close relatives. The value of his estate was not given.

His will gives the Negro messenger, Edgar Herzog Smith, income from a $50,000 trust fund for life. At Smith's death, the principal of the fund will go to Evelyn C. Cabe, who was Huber's secretary.

'Tonight We Are Presenting a Drama... It Is Not a True Story'

Art Carney Emcees (Probed) TV ShowBy PHYLLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK—Art Carney is an imaginative man. He can look into the future and foresee what will happen on a half-hour TV show, after the investigations in Washington have forced television to be completely honest...

"The announcer comes on and says, 'This is CBS—for real, this is CBS meaning literally, the Columbia Broadcasting System. Tonight we are presenting a drama. It is not a true story. It is the creation of the mind of the author; literally, a fake.'"

"The cast includes so-and-so, who belongs to such-and-such clubs and has never been a member of a Communist front organization. His performance does not reflect the views of this station, which is a genuine CBS affiliate."

"Certain portions of this film are live, and some are taped, and some are filmed. The scene in the barroom is on video tape; and the liquid in the bottles is 98 per cent water, 2 per cent natural caramel flavoring, with no sugar added. The bartender is not a member of the bartender's union, but is a..."

OUR TIME IS UP
"And now our time's about up. Good night to you from the actors" who filmed their parts after 6 p.m., and good day to you from the rest of us here at CBS. The real CBS, meaning—"

ACTOR DIES—Gerald Philipe, France's leading screen idol, died of a heart attack at 36 early this week. He succumbed in his Paris apartment where he had been confined with an illness not considered serious.

Like most people in show business, Art Carney can see the ridiculous as well as the necessary and important sides of the probe into legislative oversight.

Like people everywhere, he worries about the integrity—or lack of it—of our country, as exposed in Washington.

"What really bugs me," he says, "is this: Charles Van Doren is offered a job in the movies—not because he's an actor, but because he's been exposed unfavorably to the public."

"I don't know whether he'll take the role. I doubt his will. But when I think of all the actors struggling for jobs..."

NO BARING SOUL

It might be considered comparable to the current best-selling books by dope addicts, alcoholics, murderers and others among the emotionally unbalanced; to be a success today, it seems best to go off badly and then confess it.

"You'll never read anything in 'Look' or 'Life' about my torments, I can tell you that," says Carney. "I know my faults, but they haven't come to the point where I'd bare my soul."

If Art Carney has faults, they are inconspicuous to fans and friends who know him to be one of the most talented guys in show business, and probably the nicest. Since he pulled himself out of the sewer (as Ed Norton on the Jackie Gleason show), Art has tackled an immense variety of comedy and serious dramatic roles on television, and has turned each into a critically praised gem.

(In case you've missed a non-Norton Carney performance, watch him play partner to some puppets on "Art Carney Meets Peter and the Wolf" this Sunday.)

He denies what a lot of entertainment wisemen are saying—that he can do anything.

"I couldn't touch a part I felt I wasn't suited for," he says. "If they told me they had the rights to 'Macbeth' and could I do it, I'd say that's very funny, I didn't hear you."

"And I could never stand up and tell jokes. I've had offers from Las Vegas, and they're very flattering, but I'd be no good at it."

The only people who laugh when he tells jokes, Art says, are his wife and three children.

"I think it's very nice of them," he adds gently.

Boy, 3, Kills Uncle, 57, in Shooting Accident

PINKNEY (P)—Daniel Butts, 57, was wounded fatally yesterday at his home in this Livingston County community when his 3-year-old nephew accidentally pulled the trigger on a .22 caliber rifle.

Maiden name of Mother Eddy, founder of Christian Science, was Mary Ann Morse Baker.

Harried Officials Also Face Closing HassleSeaway Strike Looms in the Spring

OTTAWA (P)—The St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, already under pressure from grain men to extend the scheduled Nov. 30 closing date for the inland waterway, now faces the threat of a strike when it reopens the waterway next April.

A spokesman for the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees said Wednesday night that negotiations over a new wage contract have broken down.

"We have run into a refusal to bargain at all," said the spokesman, whose union represents 900 operational and maintenance employees. "If the Authority's attitude doesn't change, there will be a strike."

However, the spokesman said the union hopes a settlement will be reached before the scheduled opening next April 1.

The dispute, involving employees from Lachine, Que., to Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., is being investigated by a Labor Department conciliation officer. The union expects a conciliation board will be appointed soon.

The union spokesman said the Seaway Authority told union negotiators the federal government's freeze on wage increases extends to its employees.

The spokesman said the Authority also refused to recognize seniority rights.

The Shippers and Exporters Assn. of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange sent a telegram to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker protesting the plan to close navigation on the seaway Nov. 30.

Seaway President B. J. Roberts said the Authority had no intention of permitting a repetition of last year's jam up, when ice closed in on a number of ships and the government had to spend thousands of dollars to get them through.

Season-Starters for Michigan's Fast Growing Sport

New Ski Togs Offer Fresh, Streamlined Look

Notice, intermediate or expert, you'll feel superbly groomed whether it be Michigan's fine skiing or VIII Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley. Miss Germany of 1959, left, wears a hard finish 100% wool sweater from Vienna with the new soft feminine look. Her stretch pants by Bergmann of Munich have a full boot foot. The Old World charm of her patterned hooded parka repeats the coral of her pants. The sheeplined after ski boots are zip closed.

Shedding her pile lined mohair after ski coat at right, our model is ready to don boots and skis and head for the warm south slopes. Her Francania stretch pants with Olympic-slim line provide the utmost comfort—whether riding the lift or crouching on a Christy. The cardigan sweater, a waffle knit Adam creation from Germany is particularly suited to active skiing, providing warmth and wearability.

By MARJORIE EICHER

Better than flying or sailing, with a unique zest of its own, is the thrill of this country's fastest growing sport—skiing.

Michigan's dazzling ski slopes are beckoning a growing number of enthusiasts. We are second only to California in number of runs, and certainly second to none in accessibility of our slopes.

Prime question in this, more than any sport, is what to wear. The irresistibility of the color, texture and style of this season's ski togs permits a broader choice than ever before.

Be guided by our expert, though, who claims a good rule to follow is to shop at a sports store for action clothes, a fashion store for after-ski clothes.

In this Olympic year, action clothes have become more functional and streamlined than in the past. Look for the new stretch fabrics in slimmer-than-ever pants.

Lightweight jackets of synthetics and synthetic blends provide warmth and cut the bite of the wind.

NEW THOUGHT

Color coordination, a new thought in ski wear, provides innumerable possibilities for expressing individuality—even in the most functional garb.

A term you will hear more often this year is "Après-ski wear." It's French for after-ski wear, the gay, fun-loving look that accompanies the warm social life of skiers.

This is where fashion knows no limits and the spectator-skiier is in his glory.

Even the nonskiier will find exciting lounge wear in gay jenkins, rough homespuns and eccentric colors.

Skiing provides so many fresh conversational gambits. People will talk of the growing interest in night skiing, the weird knitted Peruvian face masks with cut-out features, ski safaris to European slopes made possible by jet travel and the new aluminum ski pole developed from aircraft production know-how.

YOUTH HOSTELS

You will hear more of the American Youth Hostel Assn. and its Michigan ski weekends, of Squaw Valley and growing American prowess in competition, of snow conditions and the weather.

And did you know that even skiing is faced with the menace of "hotrodders?" They're called shussboomers on the slopes and there's a deep concern for controlling this type of skier whose show-off tactics endanger the safe and sane skier.

Humor dons skis, too. A three year old Gibbon ape named Corky was hit attraction at the Pacific Northwest Wintersports show recently. Trained in the art of slalom on skis, he wears a custom ski outfit complete with earmuffs and a hole for his tail. Observers say he makes a monkey out of his human competitors!

Heading for the warming hut is a breathless duo in matching "his and hers" jackets for decorative ski and after ski wear. The Nordic patterned coats are of blanket wool outside, reversing to poplin. Mark of the pleasure-skier is the jaunty Tyrolean velvet hat by Bittner with stag hair brush tucked into the band. Matching olive green stretch pants are tailored to lessen wind resistance. Ski boots are St. Laurence imports.

Youth puts itself in the winter fun picture, eager to develop its skiing prowess in a functionally designed jacket, quilted and Dacron lined, giving warmth without weight. The roll collar will form a protective hood, hugging in warmth when tracking and turning on fluffy powdered snow or hard pack. Comes in adult sizes, too. On the slopes she'll be free as a bird in the first stretch pants made for children. The perky ski hat is an Italian import. Styles shown are available in this area.

Weekend in Hills Steps Out Gaily

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—This last weekend in November—after family gatherings Thanksgiving Day—is gay with cocktail parties, brunches and dances.

This evening is the November Cotillion Club dance at Bloomfield Hills Country Club, and Saturday evening Winter Club members will give a dinner dance at the same club.

Greeting the young teenager guests this evening are the Ernst F. Kerns, the Norman E. Fredericks, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Andrae and the Hanley Dawsons Jr.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Polk Jr. will give a cocktail party for the senior Mrs. Polk and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Ruppe of Calumet. Mrs. Polk was hostess at Thanksgiving dinner in her Lone Pine road home.

High Gate. Mr. Ruppe is Mrs. Polk's brother.

Mrs. Glenn Douglas of Spooner, Wis. has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Craig of Orchard Ridge road.

Karen Vanderkloot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vanderkloot, is spending this weekend in New York with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Douglas Jr. Karen attends Bennett and attended a Cotillion at New York's Metropolitan Club Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Bugas and their family are enjoying their lovely new French Provincial home on Vaughan road. It was finished just in time for them to move in last week.

Returning from European travel just before the holiday were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Weed of Orchard Lake.

The Robert E. Grahams came back a week ago and the John Rumseys, last week. Both the Grahams and the Rumseys live at Wing Lake.

Entertaining for bride-elect Linda Hunt Saturday were her brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. David Lynn Hunt of Charnwood. They were hosts for cocktails and a buffet supper. Linda will be married Dec. 19 to Gaylord C. White of New London, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pryale with Dr. and Mrs. Howard B. Barker will be hosts at a "brunch" Sunday at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Leitch Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace R. Campbell will give a cocktail party Sunday in the Leitch home on Hill drive.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. McKinney of Dunston road were entertained at dinner Saturday. They included Mr. and Mrs. John K. Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Knudsen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vanderkloot, the Curtis Matthews, the William B. Hargreaves, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Flint, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Poole, Mr. and Mrs. Norman J. Fredericks, the Robert Flints, the Robert W. Emricks, Mr. and Mrs. Hanley Dawson Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Aebersold and children, Mark and Julie of Ross drive enjoyed a family dinner Thursday at the home of his mother, Mrs. E. J. Aebersold of Tecumseh.

DAR Names 8 Girls From Area Good Citizens

Named Good Citizens by General Richardson chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, are eight senior girls from high schools in the area.

They are Barbara Shadley from Pontiac Central, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, Ottawa drive; Joanne Dembinski from Pontiac North, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Dembinski, Third avenue; and Julia Mae Dove, from Waterford Township, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dove, Brookdale Lane. Rochester High has chosen Susan Schlechte, daughter of Dr. I. Carl Schlechte and Dr. Eve M. Schlechte.

From Olivandale High School is Judith Oles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Oles.

Others are Cynthia Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caspar Anderson of Clarkston; Karin Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Church of Lake Orion; and Karen Farley of West Bloomfield High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Farley, Orchard Lake.

The Good Citizens receive this honor after being selected by classmates and faculty for outstanding qualities of citizenship, leadership, dependability, service and patriotism.

With a goal by the National Society of the DAR of achieving an appreciation among young people of the value of character building as a basis for good citizenship, the national contest has been placed on the approved list of contests and activities by the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals and the Michigan Department of Education.

The eight girls and their mothers will be honored guests of General Richardson chapter for tea Dec. 3 at the Williams Lake road home of Mrs. L. G. Rowley.

Dear Abby Consoles Heartbroken Mother

Asks Help to Solve Tough Problem

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am writing to you concerning my daughter. She is 15 years old and in her second year of high school. She is a good girl and has never run around. She is well thought of in school and plays in the band. She has been going with a boy, who is also 15, for about a year. She told me last night that she is two months pregnant. This boy is too young to get married and too young to work. I am a widow with other children and don't know where to turn for help.

ABBY

DEAR MOTHER: First you must meet with the parents of this boy. These children are very young to assume the responsibilities of parenthood. Does your daughter want to marry the boy? Is it her intention to keep the baby or does she plan to give it up for adoption? Then, go to your clergyman. He will guide you to the proper agencies whose function it is to work these problems out. This is not the end of the world, Mother. Trust your clergyman to help you find the most practical solution. Good luck!

DEAR ABBY: I am very disgusted with my husband. He never tells me he loves me unless I ask him and then he says, "I married you, didn't I?" Also, he doesn't want me to sign my name "Mrs. Otto Last name." (Please don't print my last name.) He makes me sign my name "Bertha Last name." When we give a donation he says it is from "Otto Last name and family." What is the matter with him do you suppose? And how should I sign my name? "BERTHA LAST NAME?"

DEAR BERTHA: Your legal signature is "Bertha Last name." And socially you should be known as "Mrs. Otto Last name." Your husband has "I" trouble. Big "I"—small "you."

DEAR ABBY: My problem seems so hopeless I am almost ashamed to write it. But here goes: I am a 27-year-old man who is normal in every respect but I am so bow-legged it is pitiful. I am not just slightly bow-legged. I am VERY bow-legged. I have even thought of asking a doctor to break both my legs and to reset them, but I was told it can't be done. I hate to ask girls for dates and swimming is out of the question. Is there any hope for a bow-legged guy who is honest and clean and lonesome?

BOW-LEGGED

DEAR BOW: Get over the notion that because your legs look like "I" you have to take a backseat to men whose legs look like "II". The most harmful curve is in your thinking. Forget it, and everyone else will.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JINNY: Give them a set of towels marked "hers" and "it."

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Blossom Seeley, whose show business career spans more than half a century, says it is easy for her to tell when a woman is afraid of age.

She identifies such a woman as the one who comes up to her and says, "My mother used to take me to see you when I was a little girl."

Said the singer-actress: "Now, I know that the woman is 15 years older than I am. But she's afraid of her age."

She also is saying to herself, "How come Seeley looks so good?"

"I can spot the remember-when-a-mile," said Miss Seeley. "I usually try to get away fast."

The actress didn't want to be pinned down to her own age, but her biography shows she was singing professionally in her native San Francisco at the time of the big earthquake in 1906.

"Youth is a beautiful thing," said Miss Seeley, "and we all like to hang on to it. I think I've done pretty well. But I've been through that glamor-puss stage. Now I'm simply a mature woman still blessed with a talent to entertain."

And entertaining she still is, although she now is a solo act—Benny Fields, her husband and partner for nearly four decades, died of a heart ailment Aug. 16.

Ed Sullivan signed her almost immediately for four appearances this winter on his CBS-television show. She has kept one date; the next is set for Feb. 14.

WORKED AS A TEAM

"It was hard to work out my routine," she said in an interview. "Benny and I had worked as a team almost continuously since the 1920s."

"At the dress rehearsal, I got an awfully empty feeling. Benny and I always came on stage holding hands."

"I'm not trying to sound heroic, but I get up every day like a gay blade. I don't say I'm not lonely, because I am. Benny was a wonderful man. The hardest time is in the evenings."

Husband and wife teams which succeed in show business are rare. But the Seeley and Fields combination was a hit first in vaudeville, then on Broadway, in the movies and as Broadway artists.

Today's Miss Seeley is a trim figure of a woman, with blonde hair and merry blue eyes and an apparently inexhaustible supply of energy.

"Retire? Me?" she said. "Oh, Heaven Forbid."

Canned Foods Keep Well

Ever wondered how long canned food will keep once you get it home?

When stored in a moderately cool, dry place, canned foods keep almost indefinitely. But to keep foods moving off the home shelves, rotate cans so the ones purchased first will be used first.

Will Sell Items of Art

Glass, baubles, tiny wooden Christmas ornaments, a portfolio of paintings, ceramics, enamels, weaving and a gamut of interesting items will go on sale Dec. 4 to 6 at the annual yuletide art sale of the Bloomfield Art Assn.

The gallery on North Woodward avenue, Birmingham will be open from 7-9 p.m. Dec.

4; and from 2-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. Dec. 5 and 6.

The sale will include fused glass, ceramic pieces, block prints, mosaics, contemporary silk screened Christmas cards and a variety of pottery.

Woven rugs, upholstery material and pillows, as well as enamels and work by silversmiths will also be featured.

It's a Handicap

See Doctor on Foot Odor

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Question Box)

Q. "How can one prevent an unpleasant odor from the feet? My husband has this trouble and I do, to a lesser degree. This is even noticeable just after bathing."

A. Some people seem to have this tendency more than others. Naturally these folks need to give their feet special care. This means more frequent bathing and a change of socks and shoes more often, twice a day if possible.

Sometimes Athlete's Foot contributes to this. There is also a disease of the sweat glands which causes this. I suggest that you and your husband see a skin specialist. This can be a real handicap in business and human relationships.

Q. "I am 15 years old and the following are my measurements: bust 36, waist 25 and hips 36 inches. But my problem is my weight. I weigh 130 pounds. Please tell me how much overweight I am. I am 5 feet 7½ inches tall."

A. Don't borrow trouble! Your weight is perfect and your measurements also. So often teenagers wish to look as wan and thin as one of the movie stars. This isn't the right weight for real life. Do not try to lose weight and spoil your looks and your health. Your letter made me feel that you are "spoiling" to do just that.

Q. "I am 13 years old and am having a lot of trouble with my complexion. I have blackheads and blemishes, mostly on my forehead and around my nose. They spoil my appearance. I do not drink pop or eat a lot of candy. Could you tell me what to do?"

A. At your age the oil glands in the skin are very active. You mention the areas where they are most concentrated, the forehead and around the nose. Usually the chin also is affected in this way. Wash your face four times daily with soap and water.

Q. "I am a big boned girl, 13 years old. I am 5 feet 4½ inches tall. My measurements are bust 35, waist 25, hips 35 inches. I weigh 126 pounds. What should my weight be?"

A. Your measurements are in perfect ratio. Since you are big boned you are probably not much overweight, but you are on the heavy side. Watch your diet a little by leaving off in-between snacks and seconds and taking moderate portions of food.

Q. "Do you think a person who has blackheads should just use cream to cleanse her face or should she use soap and water?"

A. Do not use any cream, just soap and water several times daily.

If your feet have an unpleasant odor, bathe them frequently, and you may want to change your stockings twice a day.

Betty Stahl Wed' to Ohio Sergeant in Candle Service

Betty Stahl who has resided with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Traxler on Susan street, married Sgt. Gary Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lewis of Toledo, Ohio on Nov. 7 at St. Timothy Lutheran Church in Maumee, Ohio. The Rev. Paul Kusks officiated at the candlelight ceremony.

The bride wore a ballerina length gown of lace over taffeta with a tiara of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

Cookie Minton, maid of honor, was gown in pink. Bridesmaids Mrs. Marvin Lewis and Mrs. Leo Tracy wore blue and green gowns respectively. All carried matching carnation arrangements.

James Begelle was best man. Ushering were George Gardner and Mr. Tracy.

The reception was held at the Maumee home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis.

Unit Plays Pre-Bach

Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer coordinated the Tuesday Musicale Workshop meeting at the home of Mrs. Arthur Dodge of Lake Angelus.

The subject of discussion and the music played was of the 17th century pre-Bach period.

Participating in the program were Mrs. J. K. Rosenthal, Mrs. Donald Bergerson, Mrs. Rebecca Gould, Mrs. Paul Kern and Mrs. Dodge.

Assisting the hostess with tea were Mrs. O. L. Smith and Mrs. W. S. Furlong.

Planning Yule Cookie Party

Plans were made for a Christmas charity project when Mrs. Jerry Martin opened her Durnham drive home Tuesday evening to the Gamma Chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority.

The group decided on Dec. 8 for the Christmas Cookie Party at the home of Mrs. William Doerr on Long Lake Shores drive.

Mrs. Thomas Moffat reported on the Needlework Guild project.

Kid Gloves Trim

New lined capeskin and kid gloves look as trim as unlined gloves. They come in shortie and wrist lengths. Slip-on styles have shirred, elasticized leather at the wrist to give a snug fit.

Naturalized Tuesday

Honor New Citizens

Janice Antona's Citizenship Class honored members of the group naturalized in Circuit Court Tuesday with a graduation program and party at Pontiac Central High School Wednesday evening.

Mrs. William Todd, Americanism chairman of the General Richardson Chapter of the DAR and Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Americanism chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, Chief Pontiac Post, presented graduates with American flags and flag codes.

Honorees attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Prince from Holland, Mrs. Lin Hong from China, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker, former citizens of England and Canada; Mrs.

Jessie Martin from Scotland, Mr. and Mrs. Matthias Mohr from Germany, Evert Nyhof and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nyhoff from Holland.

Following the program and social hour, refreshments were served by the women of the class.

Tables Fancy

Early American enthusiasts will love the new, large round coffee tables, inlaid around the edge with white tiles decorated with great American historic episodes.

Sorority Makes Christmas Plans

Arrangements were made for the annual Christmas party when the Omega Mu Sigma Sorority met at the Union Lake road home of Mrs. Elmer Lee Tuesday evening.

Plans for a card party in April were also discussed.

Make Greek Baklava
With Prepared Pastry

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you attend the annual Greek night at St. George's Greek Orthodox Church Sunday evening, you will get a chance to taste a most delicious pastry — Baklava.
You can buy the pastry sheets for this delicacy and make it yourself, according to Mrs.
Chris Rendziperis.

BAKLAVA

By Mrs. Chris Rendziperis
Pastry sheets or Phyllo
1 pound unsalted butter, melted
1 pound blanched and chopped almonds or walnuts

Brush lightly a 14-inch pan with melted butter. Place a pastry sheet in pan and brush lightly with melted butter. Repeat until you have four pastry sheets brushed with butter.

Place a fifth pastry sheet and sprinkle with the chopped nuts. Place another pastry sheet on top and brush with melted butter.
Sprinkle the next pastry sheet with nuts. Continue with these alternate layers.

Use 3 or 4 sheets of pastry, each brushed with butter on top, without any nuts. The last sheet should be unbroken.
Any broken sheets may be placed in between with the almonds.

Brush with more melted butter. With a pointed knife score the top sheets in squares or diamond shapes. Bake one hour in a 300-degree oven, or until pastry becomes golden brown. Remove from oven and immediately pour over it cooled syrup.

Let the Baklava cool. Cut the pieces through the knife scorings and let them absorb the syrup before serving.

Syrup

1 cup honey
2 pounds sugar
1 quart water

Lemon juice and cinnamon sticks Combine all ingredients and cook until syrup thickens. The syrup must be COLD before it is poured over the hot Baklava.

Art of Living Truly
Decorates a Home

By RUTH MILLETT

How often I have heard women say, "If I could only throw out every stick of furniture in this house and start over." Or, "I've always wished I could call in an interior decorator and give him a free hand."

The catch is: if you could do either, you might have a most impressive stage setting — but you wouldn't have a home.

To be warmly, invitingly homelike, the furnishings of a house have to grow along with its occupants so that the house reflects their taste and enthusiasms, not only as they are at the moment but as they have been in the process of growing and changing.

Along with the latest print or painting is the first one the couple could afford. Though there are no longer babies to be rocked, there in the bedroom is the rocking chair that saw so many years of service.

Though they may not be chic today, there are displayed early birthday and anniversary gifts, and souvenirs brought back from trips.

There are pieces of furniture that have been moved from room to room, being put to first one use and then another.

There are probably pieces of furniture, too, that show ingenuity and hours of hard work—such as the little chest which, when the paint was stripped away, turned out to be a thing of beauty.

What could a decorator bring into a house that would give it such a feeling of home as the evidence of years of living?

What a woman should wish for is not the money to be able to throw out all her household goods and start over but the imagination and sentiment to let her house reflect the living that has made it a home.

Will Raise Eyebrows

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are two sisters, twenty-three and twenty-five years old, living together in a small apartment. This is our problem.
When one is out, would it be proper for the other sister to have her boy friend come in and spend the evening watching television?"

Answer: The fact that the absent sister may return at any moment is kind of a chaperone, but I am afraid that there is some risk that neighbors may criticize one of you alone at night with a man behind a locked door.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am left-handed and when I am home
I set my place at table most convenient to me. But when I am invited out to dinner in someone else's house the table is always set for a right-handed person and I find it very difficult to manipulate the implements. I would like to know if, done very inconspicuously, it would be proper to place the implements where they will be easiest for me to manage?"

Answer: Certainly you can reach across your plate and pick up your silver without resetting the table. Nobody in the world is going to notice this, but to reset the table would be more awkward, conspicuous and discourteous. My advice would be to have your table set properly at home so that you would not be awkward when you go out.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening my husband and I were dining in a restaurant.
He ordered lamb chops which were served with paper frills around the bone. He proceeded to pick these up in his fingers and I told him that it was wrong to do so.

He said that when chops are served this way, it is entirely proper to pick them up in the fingers, and that that was the purpose of the paper frills.
Will you please tell me if he is right about this?"

ANSWER: Your husband is mistaken. The frills are for decoration and to hide the charred ends of the chopbones, and not an invitation to forget one's manners and eat the chops in the fingers.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Once a year a group of women give a large card party for the benefit of our church. We write to the various stores and some individuals asking for donations.
Heretofore, an individual letter of thanks was sent to all those who donated gifts, candy, etc.
As there are well over a hundred such letters to write, we wondered if it would be proper to have a form letter printed and merely fill in the salutation?"

Answer: For the situation you describe, a printed thank-you letter would not be discourteous. I think, however, that each letter should also be signed by hand.

It's not what people say that hurts, it's how many times they say it.

New Slipcovers
Wash in a Jiffy

Newest thing in slipcovers are those made of wash-and-use fabrics. They can be taken off the furniture, washed and placed back in a jiffy.

Even older styles, when washed like a wash-and-wear fabric, then dryer dried, can be stretched back on the chair while still slightly damp without any ironing. New automatic washers of advanced design, which dye automatically, will let the homemaker change the color of slipcovers just as

Here's Simple Clothes Basket

An inexpensive way to make a handy clothes basket is to simply line a bushel basket, one like you get apples in,
with an old plastic tablecloth.
You will have your hands on it and the basket will last for months.

Bad Luck Followed Good on TV Shows

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Maybe your children used to watch the rigged quiz shows.

If so, they'll remember the careful secrecy of the isolation booths and the quiz master's air of virtuous impartiality. They'll recall the mounting tension in his voice, the tortured faces of the sweating contestants behind their windows as they struggled so hard to command connections in their memories. They'll remember how they shared the exhausted winner's triumph when the lights finally flashed — and he was told that his work had again paid off in another mass of dollars.

As well as feeling sympathetic triumph with the winner, your youngsters may have envied his good luck.

Well, his good luck was bad luck. So perhaps we might say to the children:

"It is silly to want what luck can give you. You can never be sure of what you get through luck. Its value can disappear in a minute like Cinderella's coach."

If we don't make this point, the children can be left with the impression that the rigged quiz shows fooled them more cruelly than they fooled the poor winners who wanted so badly to make a fast buck.

So let's identify the real victims. As your boys and girls appreciated the winners' luck so ardently in 1957, it's only fair that they appreciate something of the winners' humiliation in 1959. It's only fair that they register the price now being paid for that wonderful luck.

Personally, I dislike the atmosphere generated by TV's big money-grabbing quiz shows, rigged or unrigged. Children who watch them can't help getting the idea that money is something luck will ultimately drop in your lap instead of something you have to do something about yourself.

HONEST WORK

How much of our own respect for honest work has been whittled away by quiz shows' calculated hysterics over unearned cash, speedboats and Hawaiian holidays?

Let's think about it. And let's use the quiz shows' scandal to help children register the pain, the fear, the disgrace involved with their easy-come winnings.

It's good for them to recognize that Lady Luck, who presided over the phony labor in the isolation booths, is the mean old witch she always was.

MR. and MRS. CLIFFORD H. McCORMACK

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary today are Mr. and Mrs. Clifford H. U.S. Adds Up Conscience Cash

By FRANK ELEAZER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—It begins to look like one of our more dependable taxpayers for the past several years has been a Seattle resident who just possibly never filed a return.

Each week he (or she) stuffs $7 or so in an envelope and drops it in the mail to "The Collector of Internal Revenue, Washington, D.C."

These anonymous offerings have totaled $712 since somebody noticed their similarity and recurrence and started a tally. The serial number of each $5 or $1 bill has been recorded and the money added to the government's conscience fund.

I don't know whether there has been a nation's outbreak of honesty or what. But conscience money has been raining down on the treasury at a rate of $700 or $800 per day.

President Eisenhower said he hoped to pick up $83,000 in conscience payments in fiscal 1959. It turns out he took in $283,473.16. The previous year's take was only $88,014.76.

MAKE IT EVEN $10

Most tax dodgers find it possible to ease their consciences with payments of less than $4,000, the amount received from an anonymous Chicagoan last week. Tax agents here say it's downright amazing how many anonymous tax payers figure their debts at an even $10.

The biggest anonymous payment on record was $30,000, in 1916.

Uncle Sam got his first recorded conscience payment in 1811. With the exception of 1818, something has been dropped into the kitty every year since. In 1827 the contributions came to $6.00. The big year to date was 1950, when the anonymous take was $370,285.47. The total received through last June 30 was $2,556,678.

Somehow, a lot of unsigned mailings are postmarked at quiet hours like 2 a.m. Many are addressed to "Conscience Department, Washington, D.C."

One regular contributor recently has been a Tampa, Fla. fellow who addresses $10 bills every month or so to the "conscience" fund. Fortunately the postmaster takes a broad view on matters of spelling. He sends these promptly to the Internal Revenue Service.

It's not only tax matters that get people's consciences to hurting. A government worker in Boston enclosed $25 with a nice letter explaining that he had used government stationery for his private correspondence, and he wanted to settle the debt. His letter was on government stationery, of course.

Ex-soldiers (or their mothers or wives) are forever chipping in to cover foot lockers, bug bombs, blankets and other stuff

Enclosing $250 in cash, an anonymous correspondent from Birmingham, Ala. recently told the tax boss: "I got saved and I feel I must do this. How is it with your soul?"

I guess the government has one. Anyway, the tax men say so. They recall a case many years ago when five $1,000 bills turned up in a letter from somewhere in New England. In those days big bills were easier to trace. Agents soon found their man.

He was 80 or older, a Polish immigrant who had risen from peddler to business success. He said this country had been kind to him and he wanted to make sure he hadn't erred in his own favor when reporting his tax.

The agents had heard that kind of story before. They decided to look at his books. They checked his returns for three years. The result was they gave him back the $5,000 and arranged to get him a refund. He had overpaid by $11,000.

Disc Jockey Freed Will Talk Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Disc jockey Alan Freed says he will comply with a subpoena to appear Monday before a Manhattan grand jury investigating payola in television and radio.

Freed was served with the subpoena Wednesday night. Detectives searched for hours after he failed to show up at Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's Office.

Asked by newsmen why he had not appeared at Hogan's office, as requested, Freed replied: "I will not volunteer for anybody. My grandmother once told me, 'Never volunteer for anything.'"

Freed who has lost both his television and radio outlets here, has denied several times that he ever took payola — undercover payments to plug tunes on the air.

He has declined to tell newsmen what was discussed when he was questioned by representatives of a Senate subcommittee investigating payola.

Brandon Schools to Close Monday

Planning Work Session

ORTONVILLE — Brandon schools will be closed Monday to permit a two-session meeting of the faculty and administration, counselor R. L. Tilwick, announced today.

The morning session will consist of reports by research committees established by Supt. of Schools Burt A. Glendenning. He said these reports are expected to lead to a more efficient and economical organization of the curriculum.

Rural Census Political Factor

Some Expect Number of Farms, Net Income to Show Big Drops

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The current Census Bureau count of the nation's farms may become an important factor in farm belt politics next year.

The bureau's census of agriculture is under way in many of the nation's rural areas. Results will be reported next year. One of the key statistics will be the number of farms in the United States.

The Agriculture Department estimates now that there are about 4,700,000 farms in the country. Some congressional farm experts believe that the new census will show no more than 4,100,000 farms and perhaps as few as 3,700,000.

These figures have political significance because they'll be used in calculating net farm income on a per-farm basis.

Over-all net farm income was expected to drop next year for the second year in a row. Democrats were certain to make full use of that fact in next year's campaign.

But Agriculture Sec. Ezra T. Benson already has opened a campaign to center public attention on per-farm income.

The fewer farms there are, the higher the per-farm income. That's why the Census Bureau's results will be watched carefully.

Parish Guilds Plan Mr., Mrs. Card Parties

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Rosary Altar Society and guilds of St. Joseph's Catholic Church here have chosen Saturday evening for their annual "Mr. and Mrs." Parish card party.

Oxford chairmen of the parties to be held in homes or schools are Mrs. Lynn Haines and Mrs. J. H. Trudell. Chairmen in charge of Lake Orion parties are Mrs. Sidney Thompson and Mrs. Henry Vanilvelt.

Hostesses for "at home" parties in Lake Orion are Mrs. William H. Jordan and Mrs. August Genereux and in Oxford Mrs. Anthony Wodek and Mrs. Ellen Reese. Tallies should be turned in to them for prizes.

Tickets are being distributed to parishioners and their friends through a committee headed by Mrs. Gilbert Fester.

Refreshments, to be served buffet style, will be prepared and arranged by the Altar Society guilds.

Many Credit Removal of Parking Meters

Keego Merchants See Business Improving

By JIM LONG
KEEGO HARBOR — Business is good here — and it is going to get better.

This is the optimistic view of a score of merchants questioned regarding the financial climate of this city of 3,300.

Merchants said that their businesses have been gaining steadily the past several months and "happy days" are expected with increased sales during the Christmas season.

All merchants said they anticipate increased revenue that will continue through 1960.

PARKING METERS GONE

Most feel that removal of parking meters three weeks ago from both sides of Orchard Lake road along a block and a half stretch is responsible for adding money to their tills.

Oddly enough, however, it was the merchants who had originally requested the meters.

According to City Clerk Eileen Van Horn, merchants asked for the meters in 1957 to discourage all-day parkers from taking up valuable space and "robbing" them of sales.

The meters were not successful. Mrs. Van Horn said. They were removed with the city just about breaking even on the deal with Park-O-Meter Co. which had installed them.

Two or three merchants said they gained customers while the meters were in. But, by far, most agreed installing the penny-eating machines was a mistake.

After numerous customer complaints that the meters were a nuisance and that they could drive to nearby shopping centers with free parking, merchants asked that the meters be removed.

James Males, owner of the Vincent Dining Room, 309 Orchard Lake Rd., said his business has been increasing since the meters were hauled away.

"In the long run it will do all business in Keego some good," he said.

"Meters in a city this size were bad. They chased many of my customers away. In fact, I even paid parking tickets for several of my customers to keep good relations," Males said.

Russell Rider, co-owner of Keego Hardware, 3041 Orchard Lake Rd., said his business has been increasing steadily recently. He credited it to his store never having had meters in front of it.

He said he wouldn't allow the city to put the meters in front because he felt customers "shouldn't be taxed" to shop.

He explained that the city does not own property on the south side of Orchard Lake road and merchants who wanted the meters had to lease the property to the city.

L. B. Windsor, owner of Green Thumb Florist, 3034 Orchard Lake Rd., said his business has been increasing, particularly with Christmas coming soon and "people in a festive mood."

He said he had "no strong feelings about the meters, either in or out."

Mrs. Loretta Smith, owner of Keego Restaurant, 3020 Orchard Lake Rd., said business has picked up since the meters were removed.

"DEFINITELY HURT" — "They definitely did hurt business," she said.

Owners of three stores in the new Keego Center, first commercial building constructed here in 10 years, all said that customers have increased since they moved from other locations on Orchard Lake road.

One of the owners, Don Gregory of Gregory Jewelry, said his increase in business is due to the spacious, free parking lot on three sides of the new building.

"People will always shop at a store where ample parking is provided free rather than where there are meters."

"I know all the merchants in the city are hoping they can now pull back customers that have bypassed them to shop in the large centers," Gregory said.

Orion School Parents 'Return to Classroom'

LAKE ORION — Parents will return to the classroom during Monday night's PTSA open house at Lake Orion Community High School.

They will pick up their schedules in the student lounge before the classes start at 7:30 p.m. Each session will last for 10 minutes. Teachers will explain the objectives of their course.

Mrs. Harold Van Camp, PTSA president, will conduct a short business meeting in the speech room after the open house.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Burton Hamwell and her committee in the cafeteria at the close of the session.

Oak Park Civic Group Hopes Alexander Will Retract Resignation

OAK PARK — A campaign to halt the resignation of Mayor R. J. Alexander is under way here, spearheaded by the Civic Improvement League.

Alexander was recently promoted as director of the Oakland County Board of Public Works.

He had told the City Council he would resign as mayor at the December Council meeting, effective Jan. 1.

Federal Highway Dollars to Improve Novi Road

Oakland County's share of federal aid for secondary roads for the 1960-61 fiscal year will be $154,389—all of which will be used for the improvement of Novi road from Eight-Mile road north to the Farmington-Brighton expressway.

Robert O. Felt, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission, said the allocation is $5,396 less than last year's federal appropriation of $159,785.

The $154,389 is part of $7,538,744 allocated to Michigan by the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads for use on secondary roads.

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said the money represents a decrease of about 2 per cent compared to federal aid for Michigan during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

MATCHING FUNDS — Of the money allocated to Michigan in 1960-61, the State Highway Department will keep $2,981,553 for work on the state's secondary road system while the remaining $4,441,110 will be divided among the state's 83 counties.

Oakland County must take from its gas and weight tax receipts from the state another $154,389 on a matching basis in order to be eligible to receive the federal funds, Felt said.

This $308,777, plus additional gas and weight receipts, will go toward the widening to 72 feet, removing some hills and curves of 3½ miles of Novi road.

Felt said the work will probably begin next spring.

The federal money is apportioned to counties on the basis of land area, population and road mileage. Oakland will receive the second highest allotment, next to Wayne County's $614,313.

Mackie said the 1960-61 allocations for Michigan and other states were reduced because the new state of Alaska requires $14 million to finance its secondary system.

Catholic Women Parley Antismut Meeting Topic

"The Need for Promoting Decent Literature" is the theme of the fourth quarterly meeting of the Northwestern Deanery, Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women.

The meeting will be at noon Wednesday in Sacred Heart Parochial School, Auburn Heights.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Paul J. Hickey, moderator of the Archdiocesan Office for Decent Literature. He will illustrate his talk with slides. Discussion will follow.

Christmas projects will be outlined. Chairmen will give quarterly reports. Tea will be served by women of the Sacred Heart parish.

The Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women has 250,000 members in Oakland, Wayne, Lapeer, St. Clair, Monroe, Washtenaw, Macomb and Lenawee counties.

The group has 110 active units working for decent literature. Members also work for foreign and migrant relief, the entertaining of foreign students in this country, and for a wide number of civic improvement and welfare programs.

North Branch Man National Milk Official

NORTH BRANCH—Dairy farmer Glenn Lake has been elected first vice-president of the National Milk Producers Federation.

The federation is the largest dairy commodity trade organization in the nation, representing 129 dairy cooperatives with membership totaling nearly 500,000 dairy farmers.

The 43-year-old Lake has been a director of the group three years, and has been on the executive committee for the past two years.

Earlier this month he was re-elected to the Board of Directors of the Michigan Milk Producers' Assn., and was unanimously elected to his fifth term as president of that organization.

Lake has a 437-acre farm and 85 dairy cows, in partnership with two brothers.

Rochester Musicale Program on Tuesday

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Tuesday Musicale will present its annual Christmas program at 8 p.m. Tuesday at St. Paul Methodist Church on Romeo road.

This year the program will be supplied by the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus directed by Jean W. Putnam and soloists, Mary Lee Eliason, cello; and Mary Louise Lindquist, soprano.

Other featured performers will be chorus accompanist, Helen Schmitt, and cello accompanist, Mary Wignall.

Members of the chorus appearing will be Alice Helvey, Annabelle Marshbanks, Hazel Maxwell, Dorothy Proud, June Roberts, Yvonne Smith and Audrey Stimpert.

Their selections will include familiar Christmas carols, the Prayer for "Hazel and Gretel" and other traditional Yuletide favorites.

The program is open to the public, and greetings will be Rochester Musicale hostesses, Mrs. Harold Sherman and Mrs. Gertrude Gregory.

Tea and cookies will be served following the concert by the club's social committee composed of Mrs. Erwin Kirchofer, Mrs. Jacob Mackley, Mrs. Robert Woodruff and Mrs. Fred Riley.

They have a son, a daughter and two grandsons.

Yule Tree Sellers Offered Workshop

The Wayne County Agricultural Extension Service invites those from the Oakland County area who will sell Christmas trees to attend a workshop Tuesday in Detroit.

The session will get under way at 8 p.m. in the WWJ Auditorium on Lafayette street between Second and Third avenues.

It will offer prospective Christmas tree salesmen a chance to learn more about their products, according to Ed Kidd, Wayne County extension agent.

Descriptions of the various yule trees, their needleholding abilities, comparative prices, selling methods and many other aspects of achieving satisfied customers will be covered.

Several sample trees will be on display. Admission is free.

Women Ready Greens Market in Rochester

ROCHESTER — An opportunity for every doorway to look festive for the holidays is being offered by the Rochester branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn.

Members are preparing for their annual Christmas Greens Market to be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dec. 11 and 12 at the American Legion Hall on Fifth street.

Area residents may have decorations designed to individual tastes. Garden clubbers will have plenty of tools and assorted greens, with which to work.

Cost of materials will be small since the project is a service to the community rather than a money-making project, members said.

President of Guinea Drops In on Czechs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — President Sekou Toure of Guinea arrived today from Moscow, continuing his series of state visits on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Toure was welcomed at Prague Airport by Czechoslovak President Antonin Novotny, other government leaders and members of the diplomatic corps.

Christmas projects will be outlined. Chairmen will give quarterly reports. Tea will be served by women of the Sacred Heart parish.

Advisory Council Plans Get-Together on Party Liberal Policy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Six Democratic presidential possibilities will be on display at a series of party huddles in New York Dec. 5-7.

The Democratic get-together also will produce a "state of the party message" recommending a program for the 1960 session of Congress.

The double feature will be offered at a meeting of the Democratic Advisory Council. The climax will come at a fundraising dinner Dec. 7 honoring Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

Among the dinner speakers will be a number of party leaders viewed as probable or possible candidates for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

These include Adlai E. Stevenson, Sen. John F. Kennedy (Mass.), Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.), Gov. Edmund G. Brown (Calif.), Gov. G. Mennen Williams (Mich.) and Robert B. Meyner (N.J.).

The only conspicuous absences from the field of Democratic presidential prospects are Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and Sen. Stuart Symington (Mo.).

Although a member of the council, Symington will be on a trip in Africa. Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, has refused to join the council.

Former President Harry S. Truman also will speak. A council member, Truman is regarded as a Symington backer.

The 31-member council, which speaks with accents of the "liberal" wing of the party, will hold closed sessions Dec. 5 and 6. A broad policy statement is expected Dec. 6.

PRACTICES FOR SPACE — Mercury Astronaut M. Scott Carpenter undergoes simulated heat and pressure conditions wearing a prototype of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration Project Mercury full pressure suit at the Navy Air Material Center in Philadelphia. In a combination heat-pressure chamber, he experiences heat and pressure conditions he will encounter during final minutes of reentry into the earth's atmosphere after orbital flight.

Mrs. Onassis Names Mrs. J. R., Not Callas

NICE, France (AP) — Jeanne Schley Rhinelander, a 34-year-old American society divorcee, Thursday denied misconduct with Aristotle Onassis but indicated she thinks she may be the mysterious "Mrs. J.R." named by the wife of the Greek shipping magnate in her divorce suit.

"I am surprised that my name was proclaimed the subject of a scandal of which I had no part," the statuesque blonde told newsmen at her villa in nearby Grasse.

Onassis' beautiful 29-year-old wife—daughter of another wealthy Greek shipping man — filed suit for divorce in New York Wednesday. She named as co-respondent an otherwise unidentified "Mrs. J.R." and made no mention of Maria Meneghini Callas, the famous opera star with whom Onassis has been linked lately.

Although "Mrs. J.R." was not identified in the divorce petition, the coincidence of the initials and the fact that Mrs. Rhinelander had been a guest on the Onassis yacht sent newsmen rushing to her.

"I was an old friend of Mr. and Mrs. Onassis," Mrs. Rhinelander said. "We have known each other for seven or eight years. I am surprised that, after so many years of friendship, which everyone knew of here and in the United States, Mrs. Onassis looks for it to serve as an excuse to obtain her liberty."

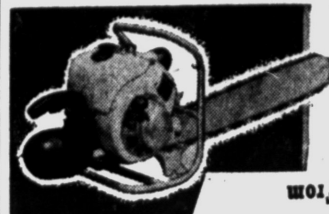

Mrs. Rhinelander added that she knew Onassis well and "I remain for him a devoted friend."

TO SAVE TIME — Not for long will this utility pole stand a barrier to Chesapeake and Ohio tracks in Grand Rapids. The railroad spur was laid last week to the site of a proposed new lumber company shed. To save time it was built around the pole which Consumers Power Company soon will move.

To Try Muskegon Man in Sale of Thurm Heaters

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Hubert Denton, 43-year-old Muskegon trailer home dealer, goes on trial Dec. 2 in connection with the sale and installation of Thurm heaters blamed for killing eight persons in Michigan.

The complaint charges Denton sold and installed the bottle gas type heater which has been declared defective.

The Denton case was believed to be the first in this state involving the deadly Thurm heater which is manufactured by a firm in Elkhart, Ind.

Cardinal Cushing Amazes Bishop With Antics

BOSTON (UPI) — The bishop of Cork, Ireland, shook his head slowly. "It's remarkable; the whole thing is remarkable," he said.

Bishop Cornelius Lucey was staring at his host, Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston who had just completed a lively jig and was leading his 1,800 guests in another song.

The bishop was evidently amazed at the informality of the Boston prelate who each year holds a Thanksgiving dinner for the elderly and poor who otherwise would be alone and perhaps hungry on that day.

Hollywood Headlines: Joan Caulfield Faces Perplexing Future Life

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Joan Caulfield was busy this week learning to be a real-life bachelor mother.

At home with her two-week-old son, Caulfield Kevin Ross, Joan's life sounds like a soap opera. Her divorce from producer Frank Ross becomes final next April, and the blonde actress faces a future of raising a baby and working in pictures simultaneously.

"I've done everything the hard way this year," she sighed from a divan in the guest house of the old John Barrymore estate where she now lives.

"In the past 12 months, I've been in an awful automobile wreck, got a divorce, found out I was pregnant, moved twice, and then had serious physical complications after the baby arrived."

"Worst of all my self-confidence has disappeared."

Joan admitted she is on her own for the first time in her life, explaining her parents took care of her before her marriage to Ross.

"I've grown up during the year," she said. "And it's a little bit frightening having to go it alone. I won't try to be a mother AND father to little Kevin."

"It might have been easier if I'd had a little girl. I could have handled that. Every child should have the benefit of two parents, and

Limited Number of Yule Postal Jobs Still Open

Acting Postmaster Robert C. Miller today said he already has received more than 400 applications for approximately 200 extra Christmas mail workers.

Monday is the last day for accepting the few remaining applications.

"Due to the fact that civil service regulations require that we do not accept applications in excess of the expected need for the period," said Miller, "we will have only a limited number left."

The extra help will work Dec. 14 through Dec. 24.

Liz Taylor in Hospital With Double Pneumonia

NEW YORK (U.P.) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor has been admitted to Harkness Pavilion of Columbia — Presbyterian Medical Center for treatment of double pneumonia. The hospital said "her condition is good."

A spokesman for Miss Taylor said she entered the hospital Thursday after suffering from a persistent cough for two weeks.

Hospital officials said Miss Taylor, wife of singer Eddie Fisher, would not be allowed to receive visitors or telephone calls.

Yeggs Fail to Open Safe in Dairy Office

Yeggs unsuccessfully attempted to crack open a safe at Richardson's Dairy, 7350 Highland Rd., according to Waterford Township police.

Owner Delwin H. Richardson, 2300 Carlos St., Drayton Plains, told police he discovered the place was broken into early yesterday.

Police said an undetermined amount of money was taken from vending machines which were broken open.

Admiral Claims Russia Has 200 Subs in Pacific

TOKYO (U.P.) — U. S. Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of U. S. forces in the Pacific, says the Soviet Pacific fleet now has more than 100 submarines, but there is no evidence any atomic-powered submarines are among them.

Felt made the statement to reporters at his Pearl Harbor headquarters while en route to the Far East.

He said Russia also has been turning over submarines to Red China, and China is believed to have about 20.

Jay Robinson Alone With Past

Actor Lives on Mansion Floor

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood's forgotten man sat on the bare floor of his big, empty mansion. Jay Robinson was alone with the posters of his past.

Not long ago filmland called him a genius.

He made $3,000 a week then. Friends and rich furnishings filled the house. There was laughter and music.

His life may well have rivaled that of the Emperor Caligula, whom he played in "The Robe." He was also a featured actor in "Demetrius."

But on Thanksgiving Day, at 29, he was left with memories.

NARCOTICS CONVICTION
Last June he was convicted of sale and possession of narcotics. He insists he was innocent and has appealed the case.

"But since then, I haven't been able to get work," he said.

His Thanksgiving guests dropped in by accident. A telephone operator said he dialed her Thursday, then stopped talking in mid-sentence. She called police and firemen.

They found the great rooms empty except for a box springs and mattress on a bedroom floor. A lamp stood beside the mattress, a bath towel for a shade. He has been selling his furniture.

"I sold the last thing yesterday, a bedspread," he said.

He pulled a few bills and some change out from under the mattress, which had jelly rolls and potato chips on it.

"This is it," he said. "$17.67."

He is about to lose the house, he said. He is three months behind on the payments. Robinson said he didn't know whether his father, a wealthy shirt manufacturer, will come to the rescue.

He opened a closet door and said: "I hit my peak at 23."

In the closet were a few scripts, several photographs, some reviews and posters.

"That's what's left of my career," Robinson said.

Transit Cost to Rise in Chicago Dec. 1

CHICAGO (AP) — Thousands who ride Chicago Transit Authority buses and elevated trains will pay higher fares beginning Dec. 1.

The adult cash fare of 25 cents for Chicago residents remains unchanged but adult tokens have been abolished. Rides which formerly cost a 22½ cent token will cost 25 cents cash.

Fares for shuttle buses and elevated trains were boosted to 15 cents from 13. Children's tokens now four for 45 cents, will sell at four for 50 cents. Students will pay 15 instead of 13 cents.

The increases were ordered to raise an additional two million dollars annually to cover an hourly wage hike of 5½ cents for 12,000 CTA employees.

Brigitte's Sister Arrives for U.S. Movie Debut

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Mijanou Bardot, 21-year-old sister of French actress Brigitte Bardot, arrived here yesterday to make her debut in American films.

The younger of France's "sex kitten" will portray the role of a French exchange student at an American university in a movie starring Marnie Van Doren and Tuesday Weld.

Coach Wilson's Job Also May Be Involved in Shakeup

DETROIT (AP)—Some top-level changes, involving both the coaching staff and the administration, are brewing within the Detroit Lions' organization.

The Associated Press learned today that Edwin J. Anderson may be on his way out as president. Some changes are anticipated on the six-man coaching staff and may involve head coach George Wilson.

It was learned that the directors, unhappy with the club's 2-7-1 record, are prepared to settle in one way or another what one source called "troubles that have been bothering us for some time."

The source, high in the Detroit Football Co., made it clear that many of the directors are unhappy with the way Anderson has handled the club since he took over as president-general manager in July 1958.

They became particularly dismayed earlier this week with the disclosure that quarterback Tobin Rote may be playing his last season in Detroit because Anderson failed to sign him to a new contract. Instead, Rote elected to play out his option — in other words, living up to last year's contract for another season rather than signing a new pact. The option clause is standard in the National Football League.

Thus, the Lions could lose Rote's services and get nothing in return, if the brave veteran chooses to play in the American Football League, or in Canada, or just retire.

The source said Anderson was instructed to sign Rote. Anderson said the two could not come to a written agreement because of Rote's demands for a locked-in contract, but assured the other clubowners that he had a "gentlemen's agreement" with the player.

There have been wide differences of opinion in the Lions' official family for some time, and some of the directors have locked horns with Anderson on internal matters.

The source said "Anderson antagonized the man in the street and broke the spirit of the club with statements earlier this season that we didn't have any quarterbacking."

Anderson has been in the public eye practically all season. He has volunteered himself as a candidate to succeed the late Bert Bell as commissioner of the National Football League. And time after time, he has backed up his coach and declared at every turn that "Wilson will be back next season, even if we don't win another game."

Despite the repeated votes of confidence, Wilson's job may be in jeopardy.

The source said "there are far too many differences of opinion on the coaching staff. Changes must be made."

He said those changes would come after the season, but indicated that others might come sooner.

Lytle Fife and William D. Downey would have the inside track on the president's job, should Anderson be ousted. Like Anderson, both are members of the group that purchased the Lions in 1948. Fife was the club's first president.

The Chicago White Sox won the American League pennant largely because they beat runnerup Cleveland, 15 times in 22 meetings.

The first football meeting between Alabama and Tennessee ended in a 6-6 tie in 1901. In 1959 the rivals played a 7-7 tie. Four other meetings ended in ties.

GANG UP — Paul Hornung (5) Green Bay halfback, picks up only one yard on this play and he gets smeared by Lions Joe Schmidt (56), and Gary Lowe. Packer guard Fred Thurston (63) is wedged in on the play. The Packers won, 24-17.

Packer Ends Hard to Displace

Bench-Riding Irks Kramer

DETROIT (AP)—Bench-warming is a brand new experience for Ron Kramer and he doesn't like it a bit.

"But what can I do?" said the former Michigan All-American who's playing his second National Football League season with Green Bay.

"I got out of the Air Force just before the season started in September and the team was set before I reported. Besides, look at the ends we've got."

With one sweep of his hand, he pointed out Max McGee, Gary Knefel and rookie sensation Boyd Dowler.

"Those horses have been going great for us, so they're pretty tough to get out of the lineup," moaned Kramer. "After all, we started winning with them right off and we're still doing pretty well."

Kramer played only on kickoffs and punts yesterday as the Packers beat his hometown Detroit Lions 24-17.

"I guess I was a little bit pudgy and out of shape when I got out," Kramer said. "I didn't play any football when I was in the service."

Kramer said the right knee he damaged in his rookie pro season two years ago doesn't bother him.

"It feels real good now," he said. "I can still cut and move on it."

Packers Thank Lions for 24-17 Victory

Detroit Fumbles Help Green Bay Score 17 Points

Lions Can't Overcome Early Errors as 24-3 Packer Lead Stands Up

By BILL CORNWELL
DETROIT — Nick Pietrosante, rookie fullback for the Detroit Lions, had the greatest day of his pro career here Thursday against the Green Bay Packers.

The former Notre Dame ace carried the pigskin 17 times and made a total of 134 yards, the most yardage gained by a Lion ball carrier in one game since 1957 when John Henry Johnson bettered 100 twice against the same opponent.

Sounds good, doesn't it? Earl Morrall went all the way at quarterback for the Lions and completed 13 of 28 passes for 193 yards, highlighted by a 27-yard touchdown aerial to Jerry Reichow.

That's impressive too, isn't it? Unfortunately, it doesn't tell the true story of Detroit's 24-17 loss to Green Bay yesterday in their traditional Thanksgiving Day battle at Briggs Stadium before 49,221 chilled spectators.

The true story can be told in the first 22 minutes of action when, much like last Sunday's contest with the Chicago Bears, the Lions played giveaway with the football and swallowed defeat as a consequence.

After recovering a Green Bay fumble on the opening kickoff and converting it into a 3-0 lead on Jerry Perry's field goal, the Lions toyed with the ball like it was a hot potato and fell into a deficit too big to overcome.

Green Bay bounced back with its only sustained drive of the afternoon to take a 7-3 edge, then pounced on three Detroit fumbles and turned all of them into points on the scoreboard for a commanding 24-3 advantage.

The Lions rallied and scored two touchdowns to cut Green Bay's margin to 24-17, but the stubborn Wisconsinites fought them to a standstill through a scoreless 2nd half and halted two budding drives with pass interceptions.

Another ex-Notre Dame star, Paul Hornung, personally accounted for Green Bay's first 17 points. He faked Detroit's Jim David out of his shoes for stand-up touchdowns of 11 and six yards and added a 39-yard field goal on the final play of the 1st quarter.

Hornung was forced to leave the game midway through the 2nd period with a cracked rib and his only other moment of play came early in the 4th stanza when he failed on a field goal attempt from the Detroit 32.

Just as they did against the Bears, the Lions dominated the statistics, but couldn't come up with the clutch play in addition to continuing their generosity.

Bill Butler fumbled when he was tackled on the opening kickoff and Dick LeBeau recovered for the Lions on the Packer 19. The Lions couldn't move and on 4th down Perry booted a three-pointer from the 22.

Terry Barr fumbled the ensuing kickoff, and John Dittrich recovered for the Packers on the Lion 18. Another Starr-to-Dowler pass put the ball on the six from where Hornung scored. The sixing booted the 14th point.

A fumble by Danny Lewis was gobbled up by Green Bay's Bill Forester on the Lion 39 and four plays later Hornung kicked his field goal as the 1st period ended.

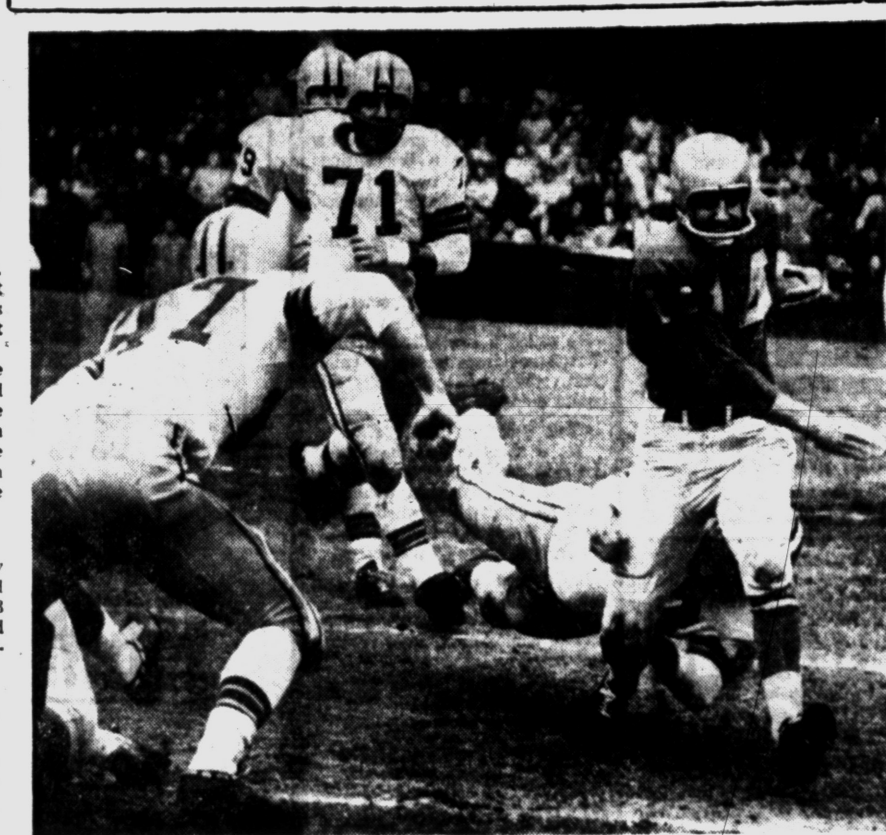

Early in the 2nd quarter Morrall fumbled and Hank Jordan recovered for the Packers on the Lion 49. Passes from Starr to Max McGee moved the Packers deep into Detroit territory and fullback Jim Taylor finally cracked over from the one yard line. Hornung converted and the score was 24-3.

Then life stirred in the Lions and they scored twice in the next six minutes.

They drove 68 yards in six plays with Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy zipping into the end zone from five yards out. Perry converted.

Detroit forced Green Bay to punt, then went 53 yards for the last TD of the contest. The TD play was a well-executed pass from Morrall to Reichow which covered 27 yards and Perry converted for Detroit's last point.

Flint Central Wallops Northern, 28-7

FLINT—Victory was sweet for Flint Central yesterday as the Indians upset Flint Northern, 28-7, in their annual Thanksgiving Day clash.

The triumph gave Central a share of the Saginaw Valley championship and the city crown in a "rebubbling year."

Senior quarterback Dick Kucharski was the star of the day before 12,587 fans. He scored twice on quarterback sneaks from the one and passed 15 yards to John Capua for a 3rd counter.

The TD flip was one of his three completions in six attempts for 75 yards. Kucharski added 63 on the ground in 13 carries.

Chuck Redmond garnered the other six-pointer for the Tribe when he plunged over from the one ending a 75-yard march in the 2nd quarter. Central was in command from then on.

Northern had matched Kucharski's 1st tally in the opening period with a 73-yard march to paydirt featuring a 32-yard pass completion by Vic Urlick. Arnold Smiley crashed over from the two.

It was 7-7 starting the 2nd stanza but Redmond regained the lead on the opening play.

Northern, which leads in the series 19-12, still had a chance entering the final quarter down just 14-7 but a fumble recovery set up a Central TD that wrapped up the verdict.

The Indians had been riddled by graduation after claiming state, league and city honors last fall.

Kucharski was one of a few holdovers coach Bill Doolittle had from the team which walloped Northern 51-0 last Thanksgiving. But he still finished with a 63 record—the same as Northern had.

High games were by Figa 279, Clint Ferris 265, Norm Keeley 259, Walker 258, Charlie Palanis 258, Les Williams 256.

A total of 27 series over 600 and 101 games over 200 were rolled at this session.

Coca Cola pulled the upset of the week with a 4 point win over the strong Ernie Felice team. Coca Cola, one of the weakest teams in the league came up with games of 983, 1031, 1049 for 3068 total while Felice's boys were rolling a respectable 918, 884, 1016 for 2818 series. Other 4 point winners were West Side Lanes over Auburn Manufacturing. Several teams had 3 point victories this week.

Coach Ara Parseghian of Northwestern coached the West squad. Villanova Athletic Director Frank Reagan was in charge of the East team.

When asked about his future plans, Sebo said: "I don't know." He added he has not heard from any university officials about his status. University officials have declined public comment.

Sebo also replied "I don't know" when questioned as to whether he planned to step down voluntarily, perhaps to take another position.

Some reports circulating indicated Sebo had recanted a so-called gentlemen's agreement to step down when the current season ended—win or lose. His contract officially expires Feb. 1. Several times during his reign he had been under heavy fire and had been hanged in effigy.

Both Sebo and Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, Penn president, denied the reports about the agreement.

Ohio Prepster Beats Injuries to Become Star

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—On Oct. 1 a year ago, four Louisville, Ohio, players were driving home from football practice when their car was struck by a train. One boy was killed. Two were hospitalized. One of the injured was Gene Conner, with a ruptured spleen and multiple fractures of the pelvis. Doctors said it was doubtful he'd ever walk again.

He not only walked, he ran! Gene scored 23 touchdowns for 138 points this year to lead Stark County in scoring — a county which includes several of Ohio's most powerful teams.

Of his feats, Gene says: "I guess I'm just pretty lucky."

NO SMOKE, ALL ACTION — The bowling boom has taken the sport from smoke-filled, cramped alleys to air-conditioned and palatial set-ups. With more than 20 million people now bowling, it is the largest participant sport in the United States.

ENTIRE FAMILY GOES
By JUNIE McMAHON

Bowling is the most popular participant sport in the nation evidenced by the fact that there are more than 20 million bowlers, with men, women and children taking to the game as never before.

Modern bowling centers, air-conditioned and sound-proof, now feature the latest in architectural design and lavishly styled interiors.

The rapid strides made by bowling in recent years can be traced directly to the advent of the automatic pinsetter, which permits the proprietor to operate around the clock, around the calendar and eliminates the need for pinboys.

More than five million bowlers are members of organized leagues representing teams from churches, fraternal orders, country clubs, high schools, colleges and industrial organizations.

The American Bowling Congress is now the largest sports organization in the world, with a membership of more than two-and-a-half million men. WIBC has almost a million women in its ranks. The AJCB has 130,000 youngsters on its roles.

Since bowling does not demand great physical strength to produce good scores and is inexpensive to play, more and more women are taking up the game (husbands and children with them) indicating that bowling in the future will be an even bigger leisure time factor in American life.

The entire family goes to the new-concept bowling center for health, recreation and enjoyment.

SMILES GONE — Coach Dom Mauti had something to smile about when he started basketball practice recently, but now it was learned that his star guard, John Parks (44) may be out for the season because of a head injury sustained during the football season. Clarkston opens the season at Ortonville next Tuesday.

Several Top Cagers Ailing

Clarkston Loses Parks

Clarkston's hopes for a big knee injury in a scrimmage recently. Today, the string stands at 16 and everyone knows why the Montreal Canadiens are the best team in hockey. The Canadiens beat the Detroit Red Wings last night at Olympia Stadium 4-2.

The packed crowd of 14,799 knew what Detroit coach Sid Abel meant when he said: "You give them your top effort and they still beat you, because they never run out of good hockey players."

The Detroit coach was making no alibi for his team, which trails the pacesetter Canadiens by eight points in second place. But he made two interesting points:

"The goal that put them ahead for keeps wouldn't have been scored if Terry Sawchuk had been in the nets. The kid (Gilles Boisvert) knew the shot was off the boards behind him and didn't figure it would bounce back far enough to give someone a crack at it."

"And another thing, the Canadiens had the puck bouncing their way. Of course, a good team makes many of its own breaks, and that's what they did."

The goal that broke a 2-2 tie was scored by Phil Goyette midway through the second period. Claude Provost banged a long shot off the boards and Goyette, timing the rebound perfectly, slammed the puck past the surprised Boisvert.

Jean Beliveau added a late goal after intercepting a Detroit shot. Boisvert, 26-year-old farmhand, was called up yesterday to replace Sawchuk, the regular goalie who is hospitalized with a form of neuritis. Boisvert stopped 26 shots in his National Hockey League debut.

Goyette and Provost nicked him for first period goals but both were well-earned, and would have beaten most any other goal tender.

Norm Ullman and Gary Alcorn scored for the Wings and Gordie Howe assisted on both, running his career total to 500 assists.

The Canadiens, who have lost only twice this season against 15 victories and four ties, haven't been beaten since the New York Rangers scored a 4-2 triumph on Montreal ice Oct. 17.

The record is 23 games, established by Boston during the 1940-41 season. The Bruins had 15 victories and eight ties in that streak. They won the title that season, compiling a 27-8-13 record.

The Wings expect to be without Sawchuk for a week to 10 days or possibly longer.

Bangor Victor Despite Attempt at Bribery

BANGOR, Pa. (AP) — Bangor High School's football squad, whose two star tackles said they were offered bribes to play sub-par ball, Thursday trounced traditional rival Pen Argyl 20-0.

The tackles, Duane LaBar and Ron Mack, both 6 feet and weighing over 210 pounds, told police they were approached Saturday night by a short, stout man and offered $100 to "play under their best." Both said they immediately rejected the offer.

During the game, Bangor's line, anchored by LaBar and Mack, gave up only nine yards rushing. Pan Argyl picked up another 50 yards on passes.

Wilt, Warriors Set Records in Triumph Over Boston

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Towering Wilt Chamberlain has reached another milestone in his thus far sensational National Basketball Assn. career.

The Philadelphia Warriors' 7-foot-1 star broke a Convention Hall record for individual scoring last night by dumping in 49 points to boost his club to a 143-130 victory over Boston, triggering the Celtics' Eastern Division lead to one game. The Warriors' total points also established a new club record.

In other games the St. Louis Hawks defeated Syracuse 112-95 to move into first place in the Western Division by a half game over Detroit, and Cincinnati swept by Minneapolis 114-95.

Chamberlain, whose 43 rebounds against New York Nov. 11 set a Convention Hall record, wiped out the 1956 Hall scoring mark of 46 by Bob Pettit of St. Louis. Chamberlain's highest output this season was 55 points, but that was on the road Nov. 12 against Cincinnati.

A record 12,343 fans came to watch Chamberlain hook up with 6-10 Bill Russell but were somewhat disappointed when Russell had to sit the game out because of a recurrence of an ankle injury.

"Russell is probably the greatest player on defense but I don't think he would have made that much difference," Chamberlain said after the game. "It was a great team effort. Gene Conley (assigned to Chamberlain) did a terrific job but I've just been lucky."

The Warriors were helped along by Guy Rodgers, whose 18 assists established a new floor and club record, and Paul Arizin, who contributed 26 points.

Conley led Boston in scoring with 24 points while Bill Sharman had 22 and Tom Heinsohn 21.

Richard Injured by Puck

DETROIT (AP) — Hard-luck Maurice (The Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens faced surgery again today, this time for a depressed fracture of his left cheekbone.

The highest scorer in the National Hockey League history was struck by a flying puck last night as the Canadiens stretched their unbeaten string to 16 with a 4-2 triumph over Detroit.

He's expected to be out of action for at least a month.

Richard was hit by a puck fired by Red Wing rookie Murray Oliver, but left the ice under his own power.

This is the third straight season Richard has been knocked out of the Canadiens' lineup.

UPI Lists All-State Teams

DETROIT (UPI) — Grand Rapids Catholic Central, the mythical state high school football champion in class A, placed two men

AP All-State Next Week

The Associated Press all-state eleven will be released next week.

on the All-State team selected for United Press International by a panel of leading coaches and sportswriters.

The Grand Rapids school was the only team to place more than one man on the UPI team.

Center Ron Zurek and fullback Bob Quist made the honor eleven, and in addition, Quist was selected as the outstanding high school football player in the state.

Only a junior, Quist rolled up 77 points in leading Catholic Central to the state title, and his coach says his greatest talent is blocking.

"Although he's known for his running, he is as good a blocker as I've ever had," said coach Ted Sowle.

Dick Ebel, a 5-10, 180-pound senior from Bay City, Handy took one of the guard spots and Charley Brown of Pontiac the other.

Brown made the all-state honorable mention a year ago as a guard, and moved up this year although he played several games at fullback as Pontiac spoiled records for several teams with upsets.

The only repeaters on the honor team were Flint Northern's Jim Hodo, who made the All-State second string backfield again, and Muskegon Catholic's end Ed Kulesza, who also was named to the No. 2 eleven.

The class A honor team line was filled out by Dennis Rehder, Mount Clemens, who moved up to Wonders' spot.

Hodo and George Archer, of Bay City Central, joined Quist and Waite in the all-class A backfield. Here is the 1959 All-State high school football team as selected by a panel of leading coaches and sportswriters for United Press International:

City League Cage Teams to Start Action Monday

The 1959-60 City League basketball season gets under way next Monday night at the Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern gymnasiums.

Competition during the first week will be conducted in classes A, B and C with Class D clubs getting into the act the following week.

There are 17 teams entered in the three upper classes, five in Class A, seven in "B" and five in the "C" division. The "D" circuit is not yet completely organized by the Parks and Recreation Department.

Heading the Class A field is the defending champion Knights of Columbus, followed by the two-time champion Lakeside Royals, Shaw's Jewelers, CIO Local 594, and Newman A.M.C.

Class B teams are Griff's Grill, Booth Homes, Rochester, Avondale Merchants, Commerce Lakers, Clarkston and Walled Lake. The Class C loop consists of Eastside Shopping, Field Landscape, Town & Country Lounge, Pontiac Police, and Smith's Fuel Oil.

Two Class A games in the PCH gym and a pair of "B" contests on the PNH court will tip off the new season next Monday evening.

At Central it will be the Royals against Shaw's at 7 o'clock and Newman's against the CIO at 8:30. The Northern program matches Griff's and Booth at 7 p.m. and Rochester and Avondale at 8:30.

Games will be played Monday through Thursday each week. League play will recess during the Christmas holidays.

Russians Improved but Yank Cagers Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Russian basketball is improving but it still has not reached the stage where the United States needs worry too seriously about superiority in the Olympics.

That was the word from Bob Jeangard, veteran member of the Bartlesville, Okla., National team which spoiled the Soviet's debut in the U.S. last night with a 70-59 victory at Madison Square Garden.

Jeangard was a member of the pick-up Air Force team which lost to the Soviets in the 1959 world championships in Chile and of the Peoria Cats, who whipped the Russians six straight on their home soil a year ago.

"It's practically the same team," said the former Colorado ace. "They have improved in their dribbling and shooting but I can't see them threatening our best in the Olympics."

The Russians presented a hard driving team that looked well in spots. They fought back from a 40-25 deficit at halftime to within three points, 56-53, with six minutes to play. They were deadly ball hawks from the start and repeatedly beat the Americans off the boards in their second half spurt.

But, unlike the Americans, they disdained shooting from outside the free throw line, preferring to drive through the Oklahomans' defense. A little more accuracy from the foul line in the foul-filled game and they might have made the game closer. They connected on only 19 of 36 free throw attempts while the Americans made good on 20 of 29.

The experts among the crowd of 7,160 were unanimous in the opinion that the Russians' 7-3, 320-pound Yam Kruminsh has a long way to go to match the likes of Wilt Chamberlain, if ever.

Standing flat footed, Kruminsh made five goals but missed four free throws. When he was on the floor, and he played all but 14 minutes of the first half, the Russians frequently left him far back as they charged for the basket with a four-man break.

The U.S. girls, composed largely of the National AAU champions from Wayland (Tex.) College, lost to the Russian women 42-40 in a ding dong affair.

The remainder of the Russians schedule calls for them to meet different NIBL teams at Peoria, Ill., Nov. 30, Cleveland Dec. 3, Lawrence, Kan., Dec. 5, Denver Dec. 6 and Seattle Dec. 9.

Wisconsin Star Offense Leader

Hackbart Compiles 686 Yards to Capture Big Ten No. 1 Place

CHICAGO (AP) — Quarterback Dale Hackbart of Wisconsin captured the total offense lead in Big Ten football with his performance against Minnesota in the season finale.

Hackbart ran for 74 yards against Gophers and passed for 122 to give him a seven-game total of 686, final official statistics showed today.

This pushed him to the No. 1 spot on total offense, ahead of Iowa's Olen Treadway with a total of 637 yards. Treadway, however, compiled his yardage in only six conference games.

Bob Jeter of Iowa took the rushing title with 443 yards in 71 carries for a 6.2 average. Treadway was the top passer, gaining 663 yards on 63 completions in 111 attempts. He pitched four touchdowns.

Iowa, averaging 351 yards a game, won the offensive statistical crown. Illinois' defense yielded the fewest yards, 178 a game, and held opponents to the fewest points, an 8.4 average.

Colts' Offense Tops Pro Loop

Hold Comfortable Edge for Yards Passing and Scoring in NFL

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Baltimore Colts, hot after another National Football League championship, have comfortable leads in total offense, yards gained passing and scoring.

The Colts gained 439 yards Sunday in a showdown victory over San Francisco to boost their total offense to 3,385, league statistics showed Wednesday.

That's 218 yards better than second-place Los Angeles, with 3,167. The Rams lost the lead to the defending champs last week by a 49-yard margin.

The Colts, in tying the 49ers for the Western Division title, boosted their passing total to 2,186, with quarterback Johnny Unitas leading the way. Philadelphia moved past New York, the Eastern Division leader, into second place with 1,864 yards, 322 behind the Colts. The Giants have 1,762 for third place.

College Football

"RED" BLAIK

NEW YORK (AP) — While waiting for the Cadets and Midshipmen to parade into Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium tomorrow, I recall my September prediction no major team would go through undefeated or untied. Today, only Syracuse is left to prove me wrong. I not only hope but believe Ben Swartzwalder's big, mobile men will make it stick after their tests by UCLA in the Los Angeles Coliseum a week from tomorrow and Texas in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day.

I am glad that UCLA, which knocked Southern California from the ranks of the perfect, and a team with such overall speed as Texas figure to provide real challenges, because champions as gifted as Syracuse deserve no less. The Orangemen will have the chance to show the country directly, since both games will be nationally televised, that they are as advertised: Number One. Meanwhile, they have a day off tomorrow, which I don't.

Army over Navy. Joe Caldwell's passes will be decisive. This will be my first Army-Navy game from the stands in 19 years. I shall feel more lonely than the lonely end.

Boston College over Holy Cross. The off-day enjoyed by the Eagles last week, while Holy Cross was losing to Marquette, may give them an edge in sharpness.

Clemson over Furman. The Atlantic Coast Conference champs warm up hopefully for a bowl bid.

Miami over Florida. One peril-

Army, Navy Set for 60th Meeting Tomorrow

Personal Pride
Only Key Factor in Annual Clash

Nothing Else at Stake
as Both Schools Have Had Poor Seasons

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — For the first time in many years it appears the pageantry not the football is luring some 100,000 fans into Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium for Saturday's 60th meeting of Army and Navy.

In recent seasons this traditional clash of Cadets and Midshipmen has had an important bearing on the national or sectional football picture. Several times, a victory meant a bowl bid for Navy. Last year, for example, Army assured itself of Eastern football honors with a 22-6 win over the Middles.

Such has been the picture — color, excitement and prestige. But not this year. The Cadets and Middles have naught at stake but personal pride. The 1959 football season, from the standpoint of victory and defeat has been the worst for the service academies in many seasons.

Army's 4-3-1 record is the worst for the Cadets since the years of the cribbing scandal. In 1951, the Cadets won 2 and lost 7. The following year, as former Coach Earl Blaik rebuilt his shattered forces, the mark was 4-4-1. Both years Navy won the service game.

As for the Middles (4-4-1), you have to go back to 1951 for a poorer Navy team record-wise. That year Navy brought a 2-6-1 slate into the Army game, but laced the decimated West Pointers 42-7. Two years later, with a 4-3-2 log, Navy won the Army game 20-7.

However, those making the trip to Philadelphia to see the Cadets and Middles parade, for a glimpse of some celebrities, for the social prestige, just might see a darn good football game.

Both teams are believed better than their records. Injuries, especially to key Army players, have hurt the Middles and Cadets this frustrating season. If the lame and the halt are ready as both camps have indicated they are, the big crowd also may be treated to a thrilling contest.

There is an element of newness about this year's game. Each team has a new coach. Wayne Hardin replacing Eddie Erdelatz at Annapolis, and Dale Hall succeeding Blaik at West Point. And, by official proclamation, the city has changed the name of the Municipal Stadium to Philadelphia Stadium.

Texas Rallies in 2nd Half to Nip Aggies, 20-17.

Longhorns in Cotton Bowl

By The Associated Press

Texas, after squeaking by against so-so Texas A&M yesterday, is no longer worried about a spot in the Cotton Bowl. No siree, all the Longhorns have to worry about now is how to stop Syracuse, top-ranked in everything, when the two meet New Year's Day.

Texas put on a tremendous second half spurt to overcome a 10-0 Texas A&M lead, for a 20-17 victory and a tie for the Southwest Conference title with Arkansas. The Longhorns got a Cotton Bowl spot since they had beaten Arkansas earlier in the season.

Texas Christian is still in the SWC picture but they were in the Cotton Bowl since Texas' last trip and thus can't qualify.

The Longhorns' victory was the highlight of one of the wildest Thanksgiving Day football programs in years. Virginia Military upset Virginia Tech 37-12 to win the Southern Conference title; Penn took the Ivy League crown with a 28-13 comeback victory over Cornell; Wichita prevented Tulsa from moving into a three-way tie for the Missouri Valley title with a 26-21 victory; and North Carolina finally hit its potential with a 50-0 victory over bitter rival Duke.

The Longhorns, ranked fourth in the current Associated Press Poll, yesterday showed the jitters they've had since a Nov. 14 upset by Texas Christian obliterated an undefeated season and their conference leadership, and made bowl plans uncertain.

The defeat had come shortly after Syracuse, top-ranked nationally in total offense, defense, rushing defense, scoring, and the nation's No. 1 team, had announced it accepted a Cotton Bowl bid to meet the Orange thought-undefeated Texas. The Orange, now 9-0, and the only major undefeated team, still must play UCLA Dec. 5.

The Aggies' little Randy Sims took a scoring pass from quarterback Charley Milstead, and kicked a conference record-tying 52-yard field goal for A&M's 10-0 first half lead. But Texas, led by quarterback Bobby Lackey and halfback Mike Dowdle, who scored two touchdowns, sneaked through. Lackey scored the clincher on a 1-yard plunge after A&M had taken a 17-13 lead in the last period.

Howard Dyer passed for three touchdowns to pace VMI, which killed Virginia Tech's vaunted aerial game with six pass interceptions.

George Koval once more came to Penn's rescue against Cornell. The second string quarterback fired three touchdown passes to bring the Quakers from a 13-7 deficit to its first Ivy League title since 1952, and Coach Steve Sebo's finest (7-1-1) — and maybe last — season at Penn.

Ted Dean's two touchdowns and Dick Young's passing paced Wichita, Young completed six of 11 throws for 96 yards.

Underdog North Carolina hung the worst defeat ever on Duke as fullback Don Knochak, demoted to the scrubs earlier in the season, scored two touchdowns, one a 93-yard kickoff return.

Other Thanksgiving Day scores: Colgate 33, Brown 14; Richmond 20, William & Mary 12; Cincinnati 14, Miami (Ohio) 7; Wyo-

ST. LOUIS (AP) — All eight seeded players, led by defending champion Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, moved into the third round of the national indoor junior and boys tennis tournament yesterday and few had any trouble.

McKinley, a freshman at Trinity (Tex.) University, drew a first round bye, then breezed past Charles Hunt of Pontiac, Mich., 6-2, 6-0 in the second round.

The second, third and fourth seeded players also moved easily into the third round in the junior division. They are Ray Senkowski of Hamtramck, Mich., Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., and Jim Parker of St. Louis.

Oakland County Area Tops State in Ski Sites

Holly Ski Pro
From Germany

A new ski pro will head the four-man teaching staff at Mt. Holly Ski Club this year.

Peter Weber, who has been in the United States less than a month, takes over the pro duties this season.

Weber, 28, has been an instructor for seven years. He has been a class V racer in Munich, Germany, and he holds a law degree from the University of Munich.

A proponent of the Wedelin method of skiing, Weber studied and taught at the Austrian Ski School.

One of his assistants will be Stein Jacobsson, a member of the Icelandic Ski team.

Ski Events on Tape

At the 1960 Olympic Winter Games—for the first time in any Olympic Games—a printed tape record of the time of all contestants for all events will be immediately available without need for calculation.

The time standard will be a quartz clock of observatory precision developed by the Longines organization. The printed tape will show the times to 1/100th of a second, which can further be approximated to 2/1000ths of a second.

In winter or summer, the story is the same—Oakland County and area is the sportsman's paradise.

During the summer, no county has as many golf courses and lakes for water sports. When the snow falls and the temperature drops the story is still the same.

There are seven top flight winter sports areas inside the county and another two just outside county lines. This is more than any one of the other 82 Michigan counties can boast. Charlevoix County in the top of the lower peninsula has four major winter sports areas to rank second to Oakland County.

The great northern part of the state may have the bigger hills and longer slopes but for winter fun, Oakland County can offer plenty.

Here is a rundown of the nine major winter sports sites for the County area:

MT. CHRISTIE—Located on Davison Lake Road just west of M-24, five miles north of Oxford—this is the newest ski club to be added in the Pontiac area. It opened last winter and has planned its official opening for the 1959-60 season on the weekend of December 4th. Two significant changes have been the addition of another rope tow and creation of a new wider plateau at the top of the main slope. The plateau will widen the starting area by 200 feet. Facilities include 1,200 foot ski run, five toboggan chutes, and a beginner's slope. The ski shop has been increased and rentals are available. Mt. Christie will operate on a seven day and night basis with snow making machine in effect when necessary. Larger parking facilities have been added. Phone—MY 2-5501.

GRAMPIAN MT. SKI CLUB—Located 14 miles north of Pontiac, 2 miles east of Oxford on Lakeville Rd. off M-24 this popular ski area has been completely changed. Facilities include 5 slopes, new Pomalift, 8 rope tows and snow making machine. Every slope has been made longer and wider and the main slope has been made 30 feet higher. The warming house and ski shop has been completely redecorated and a new kitchen has been added. A new parking lot has been laid out to hold 500 cars, and new lighting has been installed. Norm Archer will operate the ski shop and rentals again this year. Phone—Oakland 8-2450.

MT. HOLLY SKI CLUB—Located 20 miles north of Pontiac on U.S. 10—skiers have already enjoyed themselves for two weekends. The snow-making machine covered one slope with 10 inches and there was three days of activity last weekend. Skiing is also planned this weekend. Facilities include 8 electrically operated tows also used for night skiing. A new hill, 300 feet longer than the other slopes, and a new 1,500 foot trail have been added this season. Rentals and instructions are available with a staff of four instructors. Phone—MEIrose 4-9381.

SUMMIT SKI CLUB—Located 3½ miles south of Fenton on Foley Road which is 1½ miles east off U.S.-23. Facilities include 9 ski runs and a beginners slope. There are five towns, with night skiing and snow-making machine. Instruction and rentals are available. Phone—MAIN 9-7150.

DRYDEN SKI CLUB—Located 18 miles north of Rochester, 1½ miles west of Rochester road on 4237 Hough Road. A brand new Swiss style clubhouse, new parking facilities have been added this year with eight electric tows, and runs up to 1,200 feet. The new clubhouse has rentals available and there is night skiing with snow-making machine. Future plans call for overnight accommodations. Official opening is December 1st. Phone—LI 4-4688.

BALD MOUNTAIN RECREATION—Located six miles north of Pontiac just off M-24, the facilities permit skiing and tobogganing on open slopes. Ice fishing and skating are available on nearby lakes. The area has 2,400 acres for cross-country. Phone MY 2-2406.

PONTIAC LAKE RECREATION—Located 10 miles west of Pontiac and operated by the Kandahar Ski Club for members and guests only. On Orr Road off M-59, there are five slopes, five tows, ski jump, ski school and warming shelter. Phone LI 6-6148.

TEEPLE HILL—Located in the Highland State Recreation Area 12 miles west of Pontiac. Outstanding facilities are available, with six ski tows, new double line tow and a bunny tow. Operated by the Pontiac Ski Club, a warming house with snack bar is operated each weekend and nights when snow conditions are favorable. Cross-country skiing, tobogganing and ice fishing are also available in the area.

KENSINGTON PARK—Located on U.S.-16 three miles west of New Hudson on Kent Lake, the area has 4,500 acres with open slopes for skiing, tobogganing and lakes for ice fishing. There are lighted rinks for skating and shanties are permitted on the lakes.

OTHER AREA FACILITIES for winter recreation can be found in the Ortonville Recreation area just north of Ortonville; Proud Lake Recreation located 3 miles southeast of Milford; and Metamora Recreation—2 miles north of Metamora.

Staff of Four
at Mt. Christie

Once again a four man staff of instructors, headed by Michel Turcotte, will handle the ski activities at Mt. Christie, this season.

Three of the members were with the staff last year. Newcomer is Jens Olson who last year served as director of the District Ski Patrol. Like Gene Hill and Dr. Neil Jacobs of the staff, Olson is a certified instructor under the Central Ski Association.

Turcotte is a native of Quebec. He came to Christie last year from Jasper-in-Quebec. He is a graduate of both the Canadian Ski Instructor Alliance and the Fritz Loosli school.

Skiers Set Meetings

The Birmingham Ski Club will meet the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Community House at 7:30 p.m. Meetings will be held through March. There is a membership fee.

SKI SCENE—This is the new ski jump at Squaw Valley, Calif., site of the 1960 Winter Olympic Games. The picture was taken with a telescopic lens which fore-shortened the picture, making it look as though the jumpers would land on the shelter's roof, 100 yards from the landing area.

Monod Back at Grampian

Grampian's Ski School will again be directed by Gerry Monod.

Born and raised in Switzerland, Monod was examiner and chief instructor for the Canadian Rockies Zone.

In 1948 was coach for the Canadian Ski Racers for the Nationals at Banff, Canada. He was also head of ski school at Sunshine Village Ski Resort at Banff.

He came to Michigan after marrying Alys Monod, an expert skier and instructor herself, and became the ski pro at Otsego Ski Club at Gaylord, Michigan.

He has conducted many ski tours in the Austrian Alps and other parts of Europe.

He is an expert in the Austrian method of skiing called "wedeln."

Assisting Gerry will be George Odier, born in Marsalles, France. He has done mountain climbing and skiing around Reville in the Alps.

He came to Canada in 1938 as an official snow surveyor for the Canadian Government. He taught skiing in British Columbia at Forbidden Plateau on the Island of Vancouver.

Porcupine Ski Area
Plans Early Opening

LANSING — Favorable snow conditions will enable an early opening of the ski area at the Porcupine Mountains State Park this year.

The State Conservation Department reported three rope tows will be opened on a weekend basis starting Dec. 5. The T-bar lift will go into operation Dec. 19 and the ski areas will be in operation daily through the remainder of the season.

Winnie Amazingly Healthy Invalid

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (U)—Three days before his 85th birthday, Sir Winston Churchill is one of the most amazingly healthy ailing men in the world.
And he's still one of the most quotable.
"I am ready to meet my Maker," he told a friend not long ago. "Whether my Maker is ready to meet me is another matter."

Victim of two major strokes, two bouts with pneumonia and numerous other ailments, his strength is remarkable.

For at least 16 years he's been fooling people who dared predict he was near the end.

In 1943, Field Marshal Lord Alanbrooke wrote in his diary that he was afraid Churchill was at last beginning to run downhill. Churchill bounced back to the astonishing activity that helped lead the Allies to victory over Hitler.

SCARE LAST WEEK
The latest scare about Churchill came last week.

Because of a sudden indisposition, he had to cancel a meeting with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. London editors stationed reporters on a "death watch" at Churchill's front door.

It was the same old story. The next day Britain's wartime leader was up and about, feeling fine. He talked 40 minutes with Adenauer.

Even so, Sir Winston hates birthdays, for he knows he can't go on forever. At 85 he is undeniably feeble.

He has trouble getting in and out of chairs and automobiles.

When he reads his speeches, he often loses his place or stumbles over familiar words.

Yet, during that same fumbling speech, he will suddenly galvanize the audience and bring unashamed tears to many eyes with fleeting moments of his magic way with words.

Words, spoken and written, have always fascinated him.

"Short words," he once said, "are the best, and the old words — when short — are best of all."

A poor scholar as a boy, he developed his scholarship relatively late.

"No one has ever passed so few examinations and received so many degrees," he once said.

During one of his illnesses, Churchill turned to his doctor, Lord Moran, and asked whether a drink was permitted after lunch. "Do you want it," asked the doctor, "or do you need it?"
"I neither want it nor need it," came back Sir Winston, "but I should think it pretty hazardous to interfere with the ineradicable habit of a lifetime."

During his adult life Churchill has always liked alcoholic drinks, particularly champagne and brandy.

His likes and dislikes are strong. One of his pet hates is automobiles. He steadfastly refused to learn to drive. Once he observed:

"I have always considered that the substitution of the internal combustion engine for the horse marked a very gloomy milestone in the progress of man."

He has ridden horses, bred them, trained them, raced them and bet on them.

"Don't give your son money," he once advised a father. "As far as you can afford it, give him horses."

Only once did he admit he was at a loss for words.

Someone asked what he thought of Pierre Laval, the French politician who collaborated with the Nazis.

"I am afraid," sighed Churchill, "that I have rather exhausted the possibilities of the English language."

As an old man he made one of his touching comments on youth, saying:

"As long as you are generous and true and also fierce, you cannot hurt the world or even seriously distress her. She was made to be wooed and won by youth. She has lived and thrived only by repeated subjugations."

Perhaps that philosophy contributes to his loathing of his own birthdays.

Terror Mob of 500 Slays 121 in Java

KAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—A terrorist attack by 500 armed men, women and children took at least 121 lives in the West Java village of Tjibugel Tuesday, according to reports reaching Jakarta today.

The terrorists, believed to be members of the fanatic Darul Islam sect of Moslems, swooped down on the village after overrunning a small army post on the outskirts.

They burned more than 400 houses and the village school.

At least 65 other villagers were wounded. About 4,000 fled to the nearby town of Darmaradja.

The reports said more persons were killed and wounded in an attack on the neighboring village of Balubur Limbangan.
