Can She Bake a Cherry Pie?

Dulles Will Face Quizzing on Arms for Arabs Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles comes home from vacation today to face demands in Congress for an explanation of the administration's policy on arms shipments to the Middle East.

He has been away fishing in the Bahamas throughout a row set off by the disclosure last Thursday that the United States was about to deliver 18 light tanks to Saudi Arabia.

The disclosure was followed by a two-day embargo on all arms deliveries to the Middle East. The tanks now are on their way to Saudi Arabia.

Chairman George (D-Ga) said he expects Dulles to testify Friday before the Senate Foreign Relation: Committee on the tank sale and on what the Democrats have called the "on-again off-again" embargo.

Congressional criticism of the tank deal has come mostly from Democrats.

Dulles has not been confronted with such a barrage of adverse comment since his "brink of war" statement was published more than a month ago.

Some members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said that in Friday's session Dulles would be questioned on the "brink of war" interview as well as on the Middle East arms issue.

Two Plane Crashes Claim Six Lives

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Six men were killed late yesterday in two crashes of military planes in south Florida.

Five died when their Boeing KC97 Stratofreighter of the 1740th Air Transport Squadron crashed and burned at the Palm Beach Air Force Base. A Marine Corps pilot was killed when his Douglas Skyraider fell 100 yards from the end of a runway at the Marine Corps Air Station at Opa-Locka, near Miami.

Names of the dead were withheld.

Witnesses said the left inboard engine was afire when the Stratofreighter was coming in for a landing. The plane struck the ground, nosed into an embankment, flipped over on its back, skidded across a road and burst into flames.

Finding of Auto Clears Up Death

Romeo State Troopers Discover Wrecked Car in Repair Shop

The one-month-old mystery death of 54-year-old John Palmore, of Orion Township, was cleared up today with the recovery of Palmore's missing car.

The car, apparently a total wreck, has been in a Romeo garage since Jan. 18, Oakland County Sheriff's detective Jack Davis said today.

According to an accident report filed with Romeo Post State Police, Palmore ran the car off M32 east of Romeo Jan. 18, hitting a tree and several rocks. The report says there were no injuries.

Davis said Palmore called a wrecker from the garage to tow the car away, and had the driver take him home, where he was discovered two days later by his daughter. He died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Jan. 21. Doctors said he was suffering from a subdural hemorrhage—blood concentrating between the skull and brain tissues.

Detectives have been investigating the whereabouts of the car for a month. Three teletype messages were sent to all area police departments.

It was discovered through a routine check by Romeo State Police.

Toll Road Bills Meet Opposition

Detroit-Chicago Project Higher Income Seen by Chairman Higgins

Legislation which would clear the way for toll road construction in Michigan met opposition on two fronts yesterday.

At the same time Michigan Turnpike Authority Chairman George N. Higgins said the financial picture of the proposed Detroit-Chicago toll road has brightened considerably since original studies were made.

In Lansing, Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) won a delay of at least a week on Senate consideration of a bill introduced by Sen. Haskell Nichols (R-Jackson) which, if passed would give the MTA a free hand to select ruotes and acquire property.

Broomfield said the bill should be delayed until the Senate decides whether a constitutional amendment to authorize a $300 million turnpike bond issue will be submitted to the people.

Detroit DPW Commissioner Glenn C. Richards asked the Common Council to oppose Nichol's bill, which would give the MTA power to build through any section of Detroit it wants.

Richards said the authority plans to construct through Rouge and Eliza Howe Parks, which would upset the city's sewage system in the area.

TWO ROUTES PROPOSED

The MTA proposes toll roads running from the Ohio line north to the Straits of Mackinac and from Detroit to Chicago.

Higgins said a new survey indicates the Detroit-Chicago route would earn $19,354,000 in 1960 as against maintenance, operating and interest costs of $10,840,000 for that year.

"The latest Detroit-Chicago report shows the project would cost an estimated $248,000,000, plus bond-interest charges," Higgins explained.

The turnpike would connect with the Willow Run Expressway near Ann Arbor and run 170 miles to the Indiana line near New Buffalo.

The revenue figures are based on a one-cent-per-mile passenger vehicle charge and a four-cent-per-mile charge for heavy trucks.

Tree Chopper Berserk

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Police today were looking for a modern day George Washington. John F. Quinlan reported that a cherry tree was chopped down in his backyard. However, police said the culprit didn't stop there—he also cut down an elm tree and apple tree in the same neighborhood.

Paper Claims Head of Hitler Seen in Russia

MEXICO CITY (INS) — The Mexico City morning newspaper Novedades said today that Adolf Hitler's head is now in the Anthropological Museum in Moscow.

The paper said the disclosure was made by an unidentified member of the West German Economic Mission which recently visited the capital.

The unconfirmed story said the head of the Nazi dictator was not destroyed when his body was set afire after his suicide in April 1945. Russian soldiers allegedly recovered the head.

Novedades said the remains had been kept in Stalin's private museum but after the latter's death it was transferred to the Anthropological Museum.

Designer Hired for Fire Station

City Approves Contract With Leo Heenan; Site on West Side Picked

The first step towards a new $75,000 fire station on Pontiac's west side was advanced last night when the City Commission approved a contract with architect Leo J. Heenan as designer of the building.

It is proposed for the southwest corner of Huron street and Genesee avenue and is part of the 1956 capital improvement program.

Heenan has designed both the present City Hall and the proposed Public Safety Building slated for construction this spring.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said the contract was similar to others enacted by the city with Heenan, calling for a five per cent fee for the architect.

Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, in whose district the station will be built, said the building is a "fulfillment of a need of many years."

Oregon Rains Ease; Flood Threat Allays

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Rains eased off and cooler weather set in to allay the Pacific Northwest flood threat today.

Torrential rains—as much as 7 inches in 24 hours in southern Oregon—had sent streams out of their banks, but no major river went on a rampage.

Several score of families were evacuated in southern Oregon before streams began receding.

Farther north, where the rain was light but the snow melt heavy, three persons lost their lives in eastern Washington.

Recovered Legislator Will Seek Re-election

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville) served notice today he will seek re-election to the House this fall.

The 65-year-old legislator recently recovered from two successive operations at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Clements anounced his candidacy from his seat in the House. He told reporters he wanted to dispel rumors circulating in his home district that he will not run again.

Dye Says Clark Was Assailant in Farm Fight

Charged with attempting to murder Fenton tenant farmer William C. Clark last Aug. 26, former Fenton Village Attorney Clifford B. Dye said yesterday Clark was the actual assailant.

Dye's version of the shooting came out for the first time during the fourth day of his trial before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Two witnesses, called by defense attorney Clarence L. Smith, said Dye had been beaten by Clark last May 7, some 14 weeks before their dispute was climaxed by gunplay.

Two other men testified they heard Clark say recently he wanted Dye behind bars so he could sue for damages.

Dye, 53, is accused of assaulting Clark, 27, with intent to murder, following a series of purported disputes and court action over management of a farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

When Clark leased the farm in 1953, he agreed to make a financial accounting every month, Dye alleged. "But it was over a year before I could get an accounting," said Dye, which, he stated, resulted in Clark signing a promissory note March 10, 1954, for $3,967, purporting to be the amount owed by the Clark's to Dye's sister.

DISPUTE WARMS

The dispute began to wax hotter at that time, Dye declared, "because I kept after an accounting more often than they liked. But I had to because my sister was after me to get the money."

On May 7 last year, Dye claimed, he went to Clark's farm

BULLETIN

CHICAGO (INS)—Charles Finston, political editor of the Chicago American, said today that President Eisenhower has made up his mind to seek a second term.

The Chicago editor said the sources disclosed to the American that President Eisenhower made his decision to take on a second term contest since his arrival at the Thomasville, Ga., estate of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey on Feb. 15.

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, after seven days in seclusion with President Eisenhower, says he has "no idea" whether the Chief Executive will bid for re-election.

Famous Composer, Leader Dies

Pontiac Musicians Played Under Goldman's Baton

NEW YORK (AP)—Edwin Franko Goldman, 78, considered the successor to John Philip Sousa as the nation's leading bandmaster and composer of marches, died yesterday after a brief illness.

Goldman's band played free open air concerts in the city for nearly 40 years.

This summer he was to have opened his 39th season sponsored by the Guggenheim Memorial.

Goldman prided himself on the fact that he had never missed a performance. He wrote more than 100 marches. His "On the Mall" ranks second in popularity only to Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

EDWIN FRANKO GOLDMAN

He was born at Louisville, Ky., and he won a scholarship to the national conservatory of music at the age of 15. He was only 17 when he became a cornetist with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. He organized his first full-sized band in 1911.

Pontiac High School Band members and former members will recall the famous composer and conductor, for they played under his direction here in 1952.

Dr. Goldman was guest conductor for the Pontiac school band on the occasion of its silver anniversary concerts on April 15 and 16 in that year.

He was introduced to the Pontiac audience by Dr. Earl V. Moore, dean of the School of Music at the University of Michigan. Under his direction the band played the Wagner Overture to Rienzi, a number of the famous Goldman marches, and encore numbers.

The distinguished conductor complimented the Pontiac band and described it as "the best high school band in the country" and praised its director Dale C. Harris for the quality of training displayed by the young musicians.

See Port Huron as Water Source

Engineering Firm Says Lake City Could Supply Pontiac Area

The possibility of pumping water from Port Huron to supply communities as distant as Pontiac has been declared both feasible and practical by an Ann Arbor engineering firm, in a report at Port Huron.

Port Huron City Manager Jay F. Gibbs said today the study was made at Port Huron's request and that it would cost the city $1,500,000 to add one pumping station and extend a 48 inch pressure line to Port Huron's city limits.

Pontiac would be expected to join the system at the limits, purchasing water from Port Huron at an undisclosed rate.

Walter K. Willman, Pontiac city manager, stated "this system is a possibility, but I would not say whether it is the best answer or not."

"We have made no commitments with Port Huron and as yet have none of their details," he added. "This would have to be studied very thoroughly by both parties."

He said both cities agreed that each should make their separate studies, which has been done, and that a meeting to consider both reports should be held soon.

Reserve Units Center Planned on Orchard Lake

City Manager Willman Reveals Development in Negotiations

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers will recommend to Fifth Army officials that they accept a five-acre Orchard Lake avenue site for a new army reserve training center.

City Manager Walter K. Willman made the announcement last night to the City Commission.

If the recommendation is accepted, a lease will be prepared in about two months which must be approved by the city, Willman stated.

"The lease will be adjusted so the construction of the building can be covered in the 1957 allocation of funds," he added.

The proposed structure will be similar to city school building construction and will have a capacity for 100 men training in classrooms four days a week.

The Corps of Engineers have been performing extensive tests on the five-acre plot bordering on Orchard Lake avenue which was the site of a former city sanitary fill.

The project has been under study since last December by the Reservist group.

At the same time the Michigan National Guard put in a bid for a 10-acre plot adjacent to the reservists' proposed area. Willman had no comment on the National Guard plan.

Reserve activities in the area have been conducted in a building at 37 W. Lawrence St. while the Guard trains at the Armory, 57 Water St.

Predict More Cold for Immediate Area

The thermometer will register a low tonight of 12 - 16 degrees and a high tomorrow of 24 - 28 degrees. The 12 - 16 miles per hour winds will diminish tonight.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 14 degrees. The mercury rose to 25 degrees at 2 p.m.

Both Groups to Open Negotiations Next Week

Milk Producers Split Growing as Price Talks Near

By JIM BINDER
Asst. City Editor, Pontiac Press

The feud between the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. and the rebelling Fair Share Bargaining Ass'n. neared a climax this week as both groups disclosed plans to open negotiations to raise current prices paid to Detroit area suppliers.

The Fair Share Assn., which proposes an alliance with labor to boost the milk price to $6 a hundred pounds, announced yesterday it will seek a meeting with Detroit area creameries Monday.

The MMPA had previously set a meeting with the Federal Milk Marketing Administration for the following day to negotiate an increase in the minimum price order for the same area.

Rolland Brengle, president of the Fair Share group, said all 86 raw milk processors in the Detroit milk marketing area have been informed of the meeting. No immediate reaction from creamery officials was indicated.

The bargaining association was organized last month to by-pass the MMPA because, according to Brengle, "it has failed to obtain a fair price for dairy farmers."

Eight leaders of the rebelling group, expelled from MMPA this week, won a temporary injunction yesterday against expulsion. Officials of the MMPA will appear in Wayne County Circuit Court March 1 to defend the action.

President Glenn Lake last night denied that the firings were in violation of organization by-laws as claimed by the ousted eight.

Appearing before a television panel made up of newsmen and TV commentators, Lake told a Pontiac Press staff-member that any member of the Fair Share group "could" be similarly expelled under terms of MMPA membership contracts.

"It is not conceivable that dairy farmers can be members of both the Fair Share Bargaining Association and the MMPA at the same time," Lake said in a statement subsequent to the discussion over an Ann Arbor station.

The eight FSBA leaders include Brengle, Treasurer Arthur Heslip, Oakland County representative on the MMPA's Detroit Marketing Committee; and Leo Kuhlman, Macomb County representative.

Attorneys for the fired members claim that the association violated the by-laws by severing them without a written notice 10 days prior to a meeting of the board of directors and a public hearing.

During the same broadcast, Lake branded as "false" FSBA claims that a 15-cent reduction in Class I milk prices during February resulted in a loss of $2,500,000 to Detroit area producers.

"The total loss," Lake countered, "will be about $160,000, or about one-eighteenth of the amount stated."

The increase sought by MMPA would keep the milk price at $1.43 above the highest price paid by three major condensories until July when it would be raised to $1.85. The present price per hundredweight is about $4.05.

Lake indicated, however, that the MMPA is authorized by its charter to bargain collectively with creamery representatives to obtain a "premium" above the minimum order set by the Milk Marketing Administration. He did not indicate, however, that the association plans to take such action should negotiations to raise the order fail.

Bronner, Group Blasted by UAW

Union Disclaims Any Significant Opposition to Layoff Pay Plan

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers says claims of "any significant support among UAW members" for activities of the Michigan Information Committee are "patently false, and absurd to the point of being ridiculous."

The committee has announced as its objective the blocking of concurrent payment of private supplemental layoff pay and state unemployment compensation as provided in numerous auto industry contracts.

Bronner, a tool and die man for General Motors' Fisher Body division, recently was named president of the committee. He also has been an organizer of the society of skilled trades, a group of UAW members dissatisfied with the layoff pay plans.

Bronner told reporters in Detroit Monday that the committee represented "many" UAW members.

Said the UAW in reply:

"The committee which Mr. Bronner represents has not only never had any labor support but it has been vigorously and emphatically repudiated by responsible industrial leadership in Michigan.

"Mr. Bronner seems to be an unfortunate dupe ot the huckster-type promoters who are trying desperately to keep the committee alive."

Officials of the Ford Motor Co. have said they will have nothing to do with the committee. Dan Gerber, president of the Gerber Products Co. of Fremont, and John S. Coleman, president of Burroughs Corp., have resigned from their top posts with the committee. Bronner succeeded Gerber as chairman.

What Is Washington Best Remembered For?

WASHINGTON CROSSING, Pa. (AP)—What event, real or fancied, in the life of George Washington is he best remembered for?

Some plump for the cherry tree story, with its famous tag-line of truth as small fry seldom tell it: "Yes, Father, I chopped it down with my little hachet."

Many others certainly single out the dramatic crossing of the Delaware River, from this patch of Pennsylvania earth to strike at the Hessian horde in Trenton, N.J., on Christmas night in 1776.

But what about Valley Forge, and that dreadful 1777-78 winter of privation? There, if anywhere in the new world, was stuff for another Shakespeare to write about.

The schoolbooks build lasting memories of the account of the Revolutionary War's finale — the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown.

The textbooks leave enduring impressions too of Washington's inauguration as the nation's first President, and of his Farewell Address.

This being Washington's Birthday, several experts and quite a few simply curious people decided to undertake some research. They also interviewed visitors to this national shrine.

CROSSING PRAISED

A look into the records showed that Lord Cornwallis, who fought Washington and therefore had good reason to judge his adversary's abilities and exploits, later told his onetime enemy: "Fame will gather your brightest laurels from the banks of the Delaware."

Sir George Trevelyan, the famous Cambridge historian and military analyst, asserted of the crucial period of the Revolution climaxed by the Trenton victory: "It may be doubted whether so small a number of men ever employed so short a space of time with greater and more lasting results upon the history of the world."

Several other historians have held much the same view.

A sampling of public opinion as expressed by people who come here in ever larger numbers was overwhelmingly on the side of the Delaware. Perhaps it couldn't be any other way. For on display here is one of the world's most familiar paintings, Emanuel Leutze's "Washington Crossing the Delaware," which is on loan to the Washington Crossing Park Commission from the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

ROBERT S. NELSON

Two Key 1956 UF Posts Announced by President

Filling of two key positions in the 1956 Pontiac Area United Fund organization was announced today by William B. Hartman, president.

Robert S. Nelson will head the Budget Committee which determines UF appropriations to local health and welfare agencies.

Elected chairman of the UF's Administrative Board is Robert M. Glenn. The new chairman represents the Pontiac Community Chest on the Board. Glenn was Budget Committee head last year.

Other members of the Budget Committee are Howard H. Fitzgerald II, Theodore E. Wiersema, Donald G. Berryman and Henry D. Price.

Harold J. Muldowney has been named a member-at-large on the Administrative Board, said Hartman.

Clark Was Assailant, Fenton Man Says

to ask that cattle be removed from a newly-seeded field he thought would be harmed if the animals continued to graze in it.

Clark became enraged, he stated, and beat Dye about the face and chest, also choking the attorney.

WITNESSES BEATING

Harry Clark, of Fenton, (no relation to William Clark), said he accompanied Dye to Clark's farm and witnessed the beating. William said last week Dye had started the disturbance by grabbing him (Clark).

Holly attorney Donald J. Bremer, testified yesterday he saw Dye after the May 7 incident and Dye was bruised, had dirt and grass in his hair, was spitting blood and had a torn shirt.

GETS GUN PERMIT

Dye said he secured a permit to carry a pistol last June 7 to protect himself against further injury.

Besides May 7, Dye related five other times he allegedly was threatened or chased by Clark.

Defense attorney Smith told the jury what Dye will testify to when the trial resumes tomorrow after today's legal holiday.

On the night of the shooting Dye approached Clark to ask the farmer to remove a bull the lawyer believed was in his barnyard, Smith said.

Dye will say that Clark began advancing toward him, Smith stated, and the attorney fired a shot in the ground and another in the air to scare the farmer off.

Dye will testify that Clark grabbed him, Smith said, tried to twist the pistol to point at the lawyer and the weapon discharged twice accidentally, hitting Clark once.

The attorney also will say, said Smith, that Clark deliberately rammed his truck into Dye's car before leaving.

Clark has said he advanced on Dye to protect his wife and children and the ramming was done by Dye.

Bremer said he was called by Dye immediately following the shooting and Dye asked him to get a slipper he lost while allegedly fleeing from Clark. "I got the slipper," said Bremer, "but showed the spot where it was to state police when they arrived."

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor asked Bremer if he "destroyed evidence by picking up the slipper."

"I destroyed not one thing, Mr. Taylor," said Bremer.

Clark previously said he left Dye's barn, where he was feeding a cow and her newborn calf, because he saw another calf in the barnyard. Bremer said he saw only the new calf.

Two brothers, R. H. Farner, of Waterford, and L. J. Farner, of Bancroft, said they talked to Clark about three weeks ago at a dance at Ortonville.

Clark told them, he said, that he wanted to get Dye behind bars so he could sue for $150,000 damages.

Body of Doctor Found in River

DETROIT (AP)—The 17-day search for a young Detroit physician ended last night when his body was pulled from the Rouge River.

A crew of patrolmen of the Harbormaster's Division found the body of Dr. Randle M. Mullins between Zug Island and the mainland about a half-mile upstream from the Detroit River.

Dr. Mullins, 28, resident physician at Henry Ford Hospital, had not been seen since Feb. 4 when he left the hospital to call on a patient. The hospital-owned car he had checked out was found abandoned Sunday near Zug Island in southwestern Detroit.

Police said the body was recovered about 200 yards from where the car was found. They said the body bore no signs of violence.

Dr. Mullins' wife, Frieda, 21, a bride of four months, said her husband had appeared worried lately and was especially dejected the morning she last saw him.

Former Official Dies in Pontiac

Carl H. Copenhaver, 70, Was Superintendent of Mails

Carl H. Copenhaver, 70, former superintendent of mails at the Pontiac Post Office, died at his home 30 W. Hopkins St. yesterday. He had been in ill health several weeks.

He was with the Pontiac office 44 years at the time of his retirement in February 1954. He joined the postal service as a substitute carrier and was promoted to carrier in 1911. In 1936, he was made foreman and named assistant superintendent in 1943. He later became superintendent.

Mr. Copenhaver was born in Pontiac Jan. 25, 1886. His parents were Henry and Anna Copenhaver.

A graduate of Pontiac High School and the Pontiac Business Institute, he was a life member of Pontiac Musicians' Union, charter member of Pontiac Metropolitan Club and a charter member of Knights of Pythias Lodge No. 19.

Besides his wife, the former Lauretta Milmine, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Velma Lyon, Mrs. Zelnor Siggins, Charles Copenhaver, six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. A brother, Hugh Copenhaver of Pontiac, also survives.

Service will be at 3:30 p.m. Friday from the Sparks-Griffin Chapel with burial in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Here's the Way to Win Honors for Cherry Pie

Would you like to make a cherry pie like that which won the national cherry pie baking championship for a 17-year-old Indianapolis High School senior?

Filling

4 c frozen cherries, thawed and well drained
3 T cherry juice
3 drops red food coloring
½ t almond extract
½ c cake flour
1 c sugar
¼ t salt
1 T melted butter

Pastry

2 c sifted all-purpose flour
1 t salt
⅔ c lard, room temperature
¼ c milk

Pour combined cherry juice, food coloring and almond extract over cherries. Put cake flour, sugar and salt in sifter and sift over cherries. Add butter. Top with pastry strips latticed fashion in 9-inch pastry pan.

For the pastry, sift flour, salt in mixing bowl. Cut in lard until mixture has appearance of fine meal. Add milk. Shape dough in ball. Cut dough in two pieces and roll one for pan. Cut rest of dough into 14 strips.

Blasted Home Brings Illness

Mrs. Beatrice Gravitt Shocked by News of House Explosion

A Pontiac woman is reported under a doctor's care after learning of the explosion which destroyed her home Friday.

Her illness will delay the return of Mrs. Beatrice Gravitt, about 67, and her husband Leonard, 69, according to word from Florida, where the retired couple was vacationing when the blast occurred at 179 W. Columbia Ave.

A letter from Mrs. Gravitt's sister says the woman suffered "severe shock," a friend of the family here said.

Mrs. J. C. Whitmeyer, 1008 Myrtle St., said Gravitt canceled plans to return immediately by airplane. The stricken woman's condition was described as "improving," Mrs. Whitmeyer said. The Gravitts are staying at New Smyrna Beach, near Daytona Beach.

Evidence Monday led authorities to believe exploding gas leveled the one-story frame house.

A Consumers Power Company service pipe leading to the house was found to have a leak, Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz said. Gas apparently seeped through five feet of ground to a septic tank cavity, from where it followed pipes into the home, he said. Settling earth caused the gas pipe to drop and form a leak, Metz believed.

He said Gravitt may be able to confirm whether the pilot light of an oil heater ignited the gas. The couple apparently had all other utilities shut off when they left for Florida Jan. 14, Metz stated.

Italy's President to Visit

LANSING (AP) — Giovanni Gronchi, president of Italy, will visit Detroit March 5 to 7, Gov. Williams said today. Williams said an invitation to the president to visit Michigan had been accepted in a telegram from the Italian ambassador.

Planning Board Ponders $1 Million Terrace Units

BIRMINGHAM — Whether terraces on Woodward Avenue, just to the south of Colonial Terraces, should run closer to the east branch of the Rouge River than present zoning allows was the subject of lengthy discussion at last night's planning board.

Irwin Cohn, owner of the two unplatted parcels 1A and 1B where a previous owner had differed with the board over a similar problem, told the board members he was "anxious to begin construction of the million dollar development."

He and his architect pleaded that fitting the terrace apartment dwellings into the front 133,000 square feet of the property would take far more time than the rezoning of the rear area, which slopes down to the Rouge. That area added to the first would give Cohn 207,000 square feet.

Three or four story buildings might be an answer, board members suggested, holding out for keeping the rear area clear of building for about 120 feet, although offering to zone it terrace to square off a diagonal zoning caused by Woodward's angle against the property.

Maps and overlays were presented by City Planner Herbert Herzberg to clarify the issue, discussed for several months previously with the owner and architect.

TO BRING SKETCHES

Cohn will bring in tentative sketches of where buildings would go according to his plan, hoping for board approval.

Southfield Road's appearance on a Detroit Metropolitan Area study map as approximate site for an expressway is taking Herzberg to county officials on an inquiry tour requested by the planning board last night.

He is to find what plans the county has for the main arterial from Detroit, so that the city may be ready with plans within the city. "Southfield is a constant threat to Birmingham, since it ends here," he points out, meaning the zoning, road engineering problems along the residential street, and the diagonal entry of the street into Maple. That intersection is already the subject of traffic study.

On the proposed expressway map, a route follows Southfield to 10 Mile, swerves east around Lathrup and then west at 13 Mile, to skirt Birmingham and angle off to join Telegraph in the Bloomfield area.

Mrs. Eva H. Diamond, 1461 Shipman, a resident of Detroit before coming here, died Monday. Service will be at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Northwest Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Company and burial will be in Grand Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Diamond, who was 82, leaves her husband, Thomas P., and two daughters, Kathryn Diamond and Mrs. Everett H. Wells of Birmingham.

For 77 cents, they can buy a typewriter; for 99 cents, a television set, an automobile, three bow ties or a pint of bourbon. Wrist watches sell for $3.99 and pianos for $19. Kitchen cabinets go for $1.99 and electric trains for a buck.

In other words, this is George Washington's birthday in the nation's capital, which pays homage to the father of his country by paying only 98 cents for an automobile radio, 99 cents for a sewing machine and only a penny for the springs if you buy the mattress at regular price.

Attracted by bargains such as these—not to mention the $3,595 natural wild mink coat marked down to $2,298—the customers have been lining up hours before outside Washington's retail stores.

Contrary to popular opinion, potatoes eaten without added fat are not fattening since a medium-sized potato contains about 100 calories.

Hospitalization Insurance Plan Before House Group

The House Insurance Committee began hearings on a bill requiring cooperative hospitalization insurance firms to use deductible plans similar to deductible auto insurance.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Allison Green (R-Kinston), would require Blue Cross subscribers to pay for the first day of hospitalization and part of the subsequent costs.

Green said the bill would eliminate abuses of subscribers and lower costs of the insurance. A 15 per cent increase in Blue Cross rates approved by the state will take effect March 1.

Joseph A. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, said Blue Cross already has a deductible plan but hasn't tried to push it.

Navarre has asked Williams to appoint a committee to study Blue Cross operation.

Shortly after the committee hearing, Navarre presided at a hearing attended by union officials who want to set up their own cooperative hospitalization insurance plan.

Navarre told a group of 26 union leaders that there are "no short cuts to state approval."

"You have to come up with a plan, a system of reserves, rates and the type of coverage before we can pass it," he said.

Two County Residents Win Freedom Awards

Two Oakland County residents won Freedom Foundation awards for the past year, according to the list announced at Valley Forge today. Edward T. Smith, of Farmington, won $50 for a second place photography award for his picture "Keep It Always, Eon." C. E. Westveer, Pleasant Ridge, won $50 for his photograph "Lights Burn Bright in American Homes." (See general awards story on page 14.)

Mother Continues to Live Through Life of Tragedies

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A 28-year-old mother, whose life has been full of tragedies, has learned in the first word ever received from her grandmother that her father was killed in an automobile accident.

Mrs. Herbert M. Fowler received word from her grandmother, Mrs. Ernst Faast, Fort Wayne, Ind. that her father, Orville Faast, was killed Feb. 6 in an accident at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mrs. Fowler is married to an airlines mechanic and is mother of three living children.

Her first husband, a soldier, was killed in action, leaving her with a baby boy.

After her present marriage, her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Courtney, Huntsville, Ark., disclosed that they had taken her in Chicago after her mother and father separated.

Mrs. Fowler said her first baby and a year-old daughter born of her second marriage burned to death in a fire which destroyed the family apartment at nearby Sapulpa.

School Fire Checked

CADILLAC (AP) — Cadillac Junior High School's 400 students resumed classes today after fire in a boys' washroom Tuesday drove them from the building. Fire Chief Robert Gilchrist reported damage was negligible and confined to the interior of a ventilating shaft on the third floor. The fire apparently started from a burning cigarette or match which ignited waste in the shaft, he said.

Hubbard Eyes Hideaway on Florida Gulf Coast

For Retired Constituents

The mayor would have his city build, maintain and operate a village on the Gulf Coast of Florida to be known as "Dearborn, Fla." The project would be similar to Camp Dearborn, a Michigan vacation spot which is maintained for the exclusive use of Dearborn residents.

Hubbard's dream village of Dearborn's oldsters would be located in a development of from 500 to 2,000 acres, within an hour's driving distance of "cities like Sarasota, Fort Meyer or Naples."

The project would begin with 50 to 100 rental units of three to five-room cottages and bungalows, with Hubbard hoping the federal government will help to finance it.

5,000 READY

"Dearborn has abou 5,000 people of retirement age and the number gets bigger each year because people are living longer," Hubbard said. "People stay in the north to make a living, but certainly it is not an ideal place to retire."

Hubbard said he would put the plan to the city-sponsored Pleasant Hours Club, composed of people over 65, at a meeting March 5. And he's sure the majority will go along with not only his thinking, but also that of Thomas Jefferson whom the mayor quoted as saying:

"I wonder that any human being should remain in a cold country who could find room in a warm one."

Lenten Guideposts: Fighting Poverty

Keep Your Spiritual Storehouse Filled for Needed Use in Time of Emergency

By IVY BAKER PRIEST
Treasurer of the United States

A friend once asked me what was the most difficult problem I ever had to face.

My answer "Poverty."

It seems odd to people that the Treasurer of the United States, who is concerned with billions of dollars, is concerned with poverty. Our family often made plans then abandoned them because there wasn't enough money.

I. B. PRIEST

My father worked in the Utah copper fields. He would lease out a stoke from one of the companies and work it himself. If he hit it right, times were good. If anything went wrong, times could be very bad indeed, and it seemed my father was constantly getting hurt in the mines. His income stopped.

From the first, we had to get used to this feast-or-famine existence. Once, when we were in a feast time, my father and mother moved into a large house in Bingham Canyon, Utah. It was just a frame building, and yet even Mother's home was not really hers for long.

FAMILY PRAYER

One day there was a mine accident. My father's leg was broken, and he was out of work for months. We ran out of money. Mother turned our home into a boarding house. Then, in addition to 50 children romping around outside, seven children of her own, an injured husband to care for, there were 30 miners to feed three times a day.

Prayers had an unusual function in our home. With most families mealtime is a family time. Mealtime in our house was just the opposite because we all had to work getting food ready for the men. So we grew to depend heavily on family prayers as a time to be together in the presence of God.

My mother and father were Mormons. We have a belief in the Mormon Church that each of us is given a separate set of talents. Our objective in life is to use these talents to the utmost, whereever they lead us. This is the kind of objective my mother and father had. This is why, hard as they worked, they weren't even fazed when material plans seemed to fail.

"If we don't use our talents, that is where we fail," my mother used to say, out in the kitchen, whenever one of her own best-laid plans went wrong. "We must try to make sound plans. But we should never set our heart on one goal so firmly that our world will come tumbling down around our feet if we can't reach it. How do we know what path God has in mind for our talents?"

When I was a young girl, I decided I would like to become a lawyer. I actually did get as far as entering the University of Utah. Then one snowy day in 1928, when he was still a vigorous man, my father was run over by a car. His skull was fractured. He never recovered.

I never did get back to college. I went to work immediately as a telephone operator. The younger children took whatever jobs they could find. When we pooled all our incomes, there still wasn't always enough to go around.

LORD'S STOREHOUSE

It was at times like this, all through my childhood, that one of the very finest of the Mormon practices came to our aid: our welfare program. We tithe our income in the Mormon Church. Part of our tithes goes to what we call the Lord's Storehouse, modeled after the Lord's Storehouse in the Old Testament, where people in trouble could come for aid.

I don't know how we'd have made out without the storehouse. But one of the most beautiful parts of this Mormon program is that we were always expected to contribute to the storehouse, even while receiving.

We contributed time, instead of goods. Even accepting aid was a part of our religious life.

My father, contributed his gift for careful, prayerful judgement and his innate wisdom both to his family and to literally hundreds of miners who might never have known such a man if my father had become a judge. My mother contributed her cheerfulness, her astounding ability to accept her lot, roll up her sleeves and start again.

* * *

All their lives my parents had a security that was astounding under the circumstances. They had a spiritual storehouse within themselves that they contributed to always.

Michigan Solon Asking Stand on Federal Funds to Segregated Schools

LANSING (AP) — A resolution urging the Eisenhower administration to take a clear cut stand on federal funds for segregated schools was submitted Monday night in the Michigan Senate.

The resolution, by Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Detroit), said that the question had been met by silence on the part of Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

"Until that silence is ended the Congress cannot evaluate the necessity for enacting additional safeguards against the perpetuation of discrimination against children," Swainson said.

The resolution asked an opinion by Brownell whether the federal government lawfully may provide funds for construction or operation of schools in which segregation is practiced. It was referred to the committee on Senate business.

A second resolution, by Sen. Haskell L. Nichols (R-Jackson), proposed creation of a seven member joint legislative committee to keep track of pending highway aid legislation in Congress. The group would recommend any changes in state laws necessary to keep them in harmony with the federal program ultimately enacted.

A Weepy Story

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Police had a real tear-jerker on their hands today and they want no part of it. It's a 400-pound locked steel safe labeled, "danger—war gas" it apparently tumbled from a passing truck on U.S. Route 40. Investigation disclosed the safe is full of tear gas. It is in the police garage today, bringing tears to the eyes of policemen passing it.

Asks Big Alimony

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A separate maintenance suit has been filed by Molly Suzanne Kenaston, known in films as Molly O'Day, against James McGregor Kenaston, wealthy property developer. The action alleges physical cruelty. She asked $1,680 monthly temporary alimony. They were married in 1952.

Here's to Suds---Which Come From Soap

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Soap is something like oysters and chicken livers — a sophisticated taste. You dislike and distrust it as a child, but grow to respect it, passively, as life becomes more social.

Until today, I never thought much more than that about soap. It was there and I used it in both bath and toilet sizes, but it didn't excite me much, even pine-scented.

"You have been overlooking the opportunities of a lifetime," charged a letter I received today. "There are hundreds of handy, unexpected uses for soap and suds which you have never dreamed of. Wake up!"

The letter came from the "Cleanliness Bureau," an agency for the American Soap and Glycerine producers, and their aim is to get more people to use more lather instead of fancy creams and detergents.

They are so earnest they would put soap suds on beer if they could develop malt-falvored glycerine.

FOR SLOPPY MEN

Among the unexpected uses for soap which the bureau suggests is a neat trick for sloppy types of men who let their socks droop in lieu of wearing garters.

"To keep socks from slipping," write the cleanliness people, "draw an invisible 'garter' around each leg with a moistened bar of soap. The socks will cling to it neatly and comfortably."

Now, you people who want duplicate keys made — don't bother to lug that heavy old key over to the locksmith! Press it into a damp bar of soap, and take the bar to the locksmith. He can make a replica from this "mold." Easy?

Moving heavy furniture is always a problem for the busy housewife, the bureau points out. "To move bulky pieces like a refrigerator, spread soapsuds around the floor. Furniture or appliances will slide easily over the slippery surface." (Careful you don't slide too, Mama!)

To trap miller moths, place pans of soap water under your lights. Miller moths will bounce blindly into it, if you're patient, and once doused they are through. They despise soap, silly creatures, and they cannot fly when wet.

DOES WONDERS'

The cleanliness people say that soap "does wonders" in cutting down on the old-fashioned chore of sock darning. If woman will simply rub damp soap inside the heels and toes of clean socks and let it dry even a shifty-footed husband will find it hard to rub holes in them.

"Does your floor squeak? To halt the noise, work a little moist soap into the cracks between the offensive boards."

There is something unexpected for everyone in the family on the cleanliness list.

For the vain teenage daughter who wants perfectly shaped eyebrows — tell her to moisten a finger with soap and rub lightly over each brow. She may get sudsy if caught in the rain, but after all, "unexpected" is the key word in these suggestions.

For do-it-yourself daddy, this idea: To protect chrome and glass and hardware from being splashed when painting, coat them with suds; paint spatters will settle on the suds and both can be washed away together.

For mother — to lubricate a stubborn zipper, or to make windows or drawers slide more easily, rub them with a damp bar of soap.

And for the kids — tell them to run soap over their sled runners to improve their sliding. They might run some over their faces too and improve their appearance while they're about it.

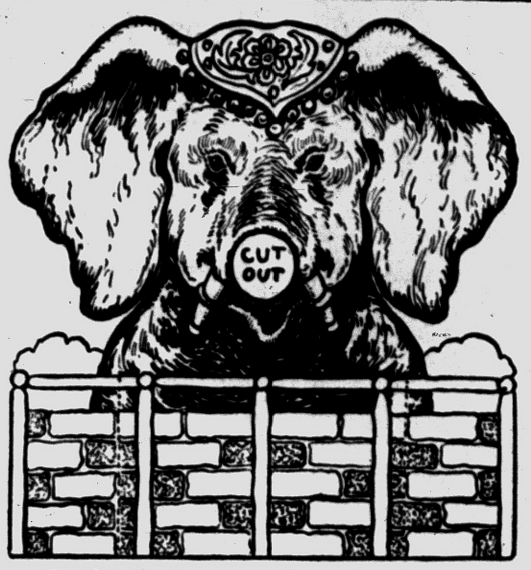
TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS



First Submitted by: Raymond Manabe, Honolulu, T. H.

FINGER PUPPET

The Elephant's Trunk

Here is a baby elephant that lives in the zoo. But, alas, he has no trunk to help him pick up peanuts tossed his way by the junior editors who visit the zoo. So let's provide one for him.

Color the picture with paints or crayons and paste down on cereal box cardboard. The brick wall of the zoo yard is red, the posts are blue and the bushes behind the elephant are green.

Set the elephant on the edge of the table and push your middle finger through the hole. If you wiggle your finger from side to side you will give him his much needed trunk. The fingers of an old gray glove will make the trunk look real.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission will be accepted.

Enough to Make Any Fisherman Sob With Rage

LELAND (AP)—Vernon Perrault's fish story has whetted sports appetites in Leelanau County as fishermen look with new interest at Lake Leelanau.

Perrault, fishing on the lake Saturday, had a strike at 2 p. m. He played it cautiously because of a 6-pound test leader.

Darkness fell, then gave way to Sunday dawn. Other fishermen found him haggard and weary in his unseen catch.

At 1 p. m. Sunday Perraut's hook broke. He wept.

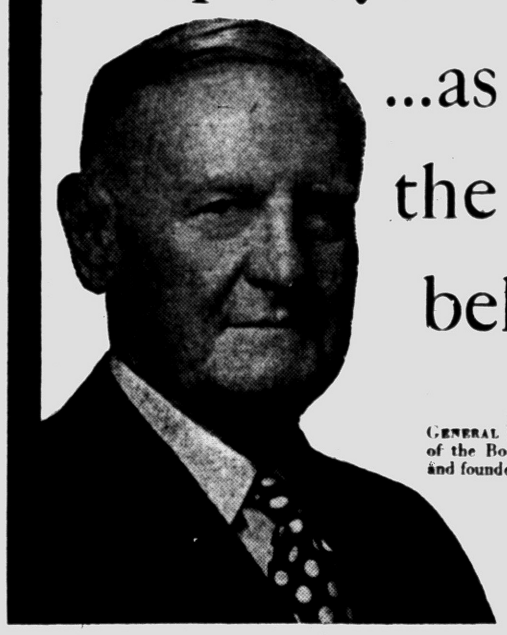
"An auto insurance policy is a Promise ...as good as the company behind it!"



GENERAL ROBERT E. WOOD, former Chairman of the Board, Sears, Roebuck and Company and founder of the Allstate Insurance Company

"TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO I stood before the Sears, Roebuck and Co. Board of Directors and enthusiastically recommended the founding of the Allstate Insurance Company. I was convinced we could give the car owner a better value for his auto insurance dollar. But just as important, I was confident we could set a new high standard for claim settlements.

"After all, an auto insurance policy is a promise to protect you against certain financial losses in the event of an auto accident. Like any promise, it is only as good as the company behind it. We were determined to treat each claim with the same absolute fairness that had made Sears one of the most trusted names in American business by promptly paying a dollar for every dollar due.

"By following this philosophy of fair play, Allstate has risen to world auto insurance leadership in just 25 years. Over 3,250,000 policyholders say much better than I can that 'you can be sure you're in good hands with Allstate'."

We're proud of this record!

As Allstate celebrates its silver anniversary, we point with pride to the high percentage of policyholders who continue with us year after year. This fact alone is convincing evidence that Allstate is living up to the standard of fast, fair claim settlements set when the company was founded.

Allstate has also kept its promise to deliver a better auto insurance value. Over the past 25 years, car owners have saved millions of dollars with Allstate. You just can't buy better auto insurance, why pay more?

Pontiac Schools Well Managed and Financed

Pontiac is very fortunate in its school situation.

Many growing communities all over the country are struggling desperately in a vain attempt to keep up with their educational problems. The accelerated population increases have posed some baffling problems in general.

SCHIMMEL

Pontiac has the situation well in hand. We are more than adequately financed and the community faces the future with confidence and assurance.

The Board of Education has just approved a three million dollar bond issue which the voters previously O.K.'d. This covers the next fifteen months and answers the current problems. Many cities are behind in their building program and behind in an adequate number of teachers. Many of them already are saddled with a heavy tax load. This is often destined to increase sharply in the years ahead or the communities will be forced to start part time schools plus overloaded classrooms as an added handicap.

Our school board has consistently kept abreast and ahead of the situation.

Pontiac is fortunate.

Our credit is so good that Louis H. Schimmel, Chairman of the Board of Education, in commenting on the current three million dollar loan said:

"We'll probably get the lowest interest rate in the State."

That's Pontiac's happy spot.

This same Louis H. Schimmel is probably the best versed school tax man in America. He ranks without a peer in most municipal problems. It is Pontiac's good luck to have had his advice and assistance through the years. And because of Pontiac's good management in the past and present we are so well financed now that the cost of the all important education for our children is definitely in hand.

We're on top of the problem.

Washington's Vision

On this 224th anniversary of George Washington's birth, it is fitting to re-examine the reasons this Nation owes so much to its First President.

Any such re-examination strengthens one's impression that his greatness sprang from his vision. Most of us think of the man who did so much to hold the struggling colonies together during the Revolutionary War as a great military leader. But later he proved that he also was a statesman with the common sense to realize what is essential to make a democracy work.

Aristocrat though he was, he knew instinctively the imperative need of keeping a people's government in the hands of the people. For that reason he refused a third term. Washington could have had a life term. There even were those who wanted to make him king. Instead, he preferred to set the precedent on which was based the 22nd or anti-third term Amendment to our Constitution.

This anniversary also is a suitable time for another look at Washington's attitude toward entangling European agreements. It is true that 160 years ago he warned against "permanent alliances." At the same time, however, he advocated strong defense and even "temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies."

This means that if Washington were alive today he would be one of the staunchest advocates of national preparedness. Moreover, it is reasonable to assume that he would be a believer in the present day theory that in international co-operation lies man's best hope of peace.

French Irresponsibles

It is no overstatement to say that the behavior of the extreme right wing Poujadists in the National Assembly may bode ill for France.

While their riotous performance was shocking, it was not surprising. It was just that sort of thing that this upstart party, which captured 51 of the 627 seats in the Assembly, had promised in the recent election campaign.

Like the Communists, who have 150 seats, the new party is anti-democratic and anti-parliamentary. Its deputies were elected on protest votes only. The party itself has no platform, no principles and seeks only to discredit democratic processes.

The truth is that in France today there is a sinister alliance between the Poujadists on the extreme right and the equally irresponsible Communists on the left. Though the two parties are at opposite ends of the French political picture, their aims are the same — to destroy free democratic government.

Let's hope he does.

The Man About Town

First Observance

Washington's Birthday Celebrated Early Locally

Politician: A man who works his country.

The first general observance of Washington's birthday in an official way in Pontiac was on Feb. 22, 1838, when, in response to the request of

Village President Daniel LeRoy,

a holiday was declared "in honor of the one hundred and sixth anniversary of the birth of the father of our country." A public meeting was held in the courthouse, at which made the address, and the school children's chorus sang. A feature was the fiddling of who rendered several patriotic selections.

Jonathan Maxwell,

The Holly Washington Club

is the only organization of that kind in this county to hold an annual banquet for such a period.

One of its new members,

Frank F. Webber

of Addison Township, says you fully appreciate the size and growth of Oakland County when you get connected with its Board of Supervisors.

In response to several inquiries as to how to get in line for the services of the Oakland County Soil Conservation District, just phone local manager, at FE 4-7901, call at 1260 West Boulevard or write him there.

Volunteer labor from among its own stockholders, according to

Tender Shepherd

David Lawrence Says:

Even Washington Sounded Warning of Foreign Entangling Commitments

WASHINGTON — Not long ago, Chief Justice Warren made a speech in which he said that, if the bill of rights were up for adoption today, he was sure it would be ratified but not until after an extensive debate in which doubts about it would be widely expressed.

This suggests that the same thing might be said about George Washington's policies. It is often assumed that, if he were alive today and proposed the doctrines outlined in his farewell address, he would be denounced as an "isolationist" or a "rightist." It is generally believed he would be accused at least of "neutralism" and as having failed to see that "the world is all one nowadays" and that there can be no such thing as "isolation."

"It is our true policy to stay clear of permanent alliances with any portion of the foreign world, so far, I mean, as we are now at liberty to do it . . .

"Taking care always to keep ourselves by suitable establishments on a respectable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies."

U.N. NOT PERMANENT PACT

Certainly the United States has not entered into a "permanent alliance" with any country. The United Nations organization is not an "alliance." Each government retains freedom of action on specific issues, including the use of military power.

What George Washington wanted future administrations to avoid was "entangling" commitments. He said: "Why, by interweaving our destiny with any part of Europe, entangle our peace and prosperity in the toils of European ambition, rivalship, interest, humor, or caprice?"

This was a plain warning against becoming enmeshed in the internal affairs of European countries, and the advice holds good today. George Washington deplored "foreign influences" in our own affairs and declared: "How many opportunities do they afford to tamper with domestic factions, to practice the arts of seduction, to mislead public opinion, to influence or awe the public councils! . . . foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of republican government."

These words might have been written today. For unquestionably "foreign influence," whether benevolent or malicious, is far-reaching in the domestic councils of the nation. The whole anti-Communist crusade in Congress is rightly based on the belief that foreign governments finance a political party and its apparatus here in America.

Throughout America there are many groups, some of them with millions to spend, who are misguidedly arguing with conscientious zeal that the Communist party is just another political party and hence Congress should cease investigating its "beliefs." These people do the work of a hostile government whether they realize it or not.

SPEND MORE FOR AID?

So far as the expenditure by Congress of sums for foreign aid is concerned, there are two main points of view. One is that America should spend money in the role of a world philanthropist on the strange theory that mere spending will create friends abroad. The other is that America should spend money for "temporary alliances" of a military nature to help the defense of the United States and of the overseas bases it needs to intercept airplane attack in an atomic age.

Aid where there is human distress and famines and other disasters is well understood by the American people as involving grants of sums for those emergencies.

But to pour out American billions abroad year after year, as some returning American travelers urge, merely to create an "atmosphere" of friendship is an adventure in extravagance which will never get past Congress no matter how much the hearts of the advocates of unlimited spending may bleed for the Nehrus and the "neutralists" who play one side against the other.

The "neutralists" pontifically declare that, as between totalitarian tyranny and human freedom, they must observe neutrality, and that "justice" and "morality" are obsolete words in the face of "expediency."

What the first president of our country prophesied has come true—that "at no distant period" a great nation would emerge "to give to mankind the magnanimous and too novel example of a people always guided by an exalted justice and benevolence."

All that America seeks today in connection with her benevolence is that it shall not be wasted among those countries which do not exalt justice or defend a moral cause. For they would ignore our crusade against those governments which have committed — and threaten again to commit—aggression and thus disturb the peace of the world.

Brady Recounts Hassles With Famous Physicians

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

I have managed to get into hassles with many eminent men of the profession, men for whom I had great respect and admiration.

And now, in retrospect, I feel sheepish about most of these clashes, for somehow the behavior of my opponents in controversy inspired greater reverence and affection than I had felt for them before.

There was for instance the scholarly, gentle, dedicated Dr. Adolphus Knopf, world authority on tuberculosis.

Once Dr. Knopf opined that the scanty clothing worn by modern young women gave little protection, especially to throat and chest, and so might make the poor things more susceptible to tuberculosis.

I'm not sorry that I disputed this view, and I would do so now if anyone made such a statement. But what I have regretted was the vehemence of my challenge of the statement.

I have almost forgotten now just what I said about Dr. Knopf (I want to forget it), but the worst was still to come.

I published an apology, and Dr. Knopf wrote me such a gracious letter—well, I realized then that I had been a perfect stinker.

Another famous man who nearly but not quite became embroiled in the public prints with the self-same stinker was Yandell Henderson, Professor of Applied Physiology at Yale, world authority on resuscitation.

If you will consult volumette XXI you will see that the prone-pressure method of artificial respiration as Schafer directs, precludes setting the death-trap which is almost inevitable in the arm-under-head method, as taught by the Red Cross.

Professor Henderson told me he was particularly pleased to notice that I show (in volumette XXI, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope the victim's arms drawn forward. He explained that—

"By having the arms drawn forward beyond the head into the thoracic cage is pulled into the position of maximum inspiration and tends to return to this position each time the pressure of the operator is released."

I'm confident that no physician, physicist, physiologist or representative of the American Red Cross will dispute Henderson's observation or my teaching about that.

'Prof. Henderson's comment sent me reeling with this one:

"It has been shown in the laboratory that when water or physiologic saline is introduced into a lung it is quite rapidly absorbed, and ordinarily the amount that enters the lungs in cases that are resuscitatable is probably not large."

That put a damper on the question for several years. I still cling to the assumption that water or other fluid in the lungs or air passages of a person rescued from submersion is so quickly absorbed that we can ignore it while trying to resuscitate the victim.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Airport Manager Outlines Plans for Improvement

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We heartily agree with Frank Syron that Pontiac and Oakland County are in need of airline service between large air terminals.

This service could be provided if airlines had scheduled stops at the Pontiac Municipal Airport. We must first provide the minimum facilities necessary before a permit will be issued to the air carrier for service.

We started a development program last year by grading an area for a new runway. After receiving confirmation that federal funds were allocated to Pontiac, we are now completing the 1956 plans to construct the new 100 by 4000 feet east-west runway and taxi strip, including the purchase of land for clear approaches and a runway extension at a later date.

Plans for 1957 are now being prepared for approval. They consist of installing fixed beam high intensity runway lights, taxi strip lights a new type beacon and an approach area will be cleared. Additional taxi strips, parking apron and fencing will be necessary.

Plans for 1958 and 59 will cover an administration building for passengers with a control tower, service road and auto parking area. Also, runway resurfacing will be needed for airline service.

Each year we can expect only our fair share of capital improvement money from the City and state and federal funds. It will take three years to complete our facilities so we may enjoy the privileges of modern airline transportation.

Official Fears Near East Will Stumble Into Conflict

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

A top American State Department official has warned that there is grave danger that Israel and the Arab states might stumble into a full-scale war "without either one knowing it."

George V. Allen, assistant secretary of state for Middle Eastern affairs, made this assessment.

"I believe," he said in a Voice of America broadcast, "it is likely that the states of that area with their present tense attitude could be involved in serious military operations, perhaps without either one knowing it. I think that the likelihood is serious."

Reports from the Middle East bear out the worry of Allen that the next few weeks may be critical.

Tension has been increasing rapidly, for instance, in Syria within the past few days. There are unverified reports of an alleged Israeli plan to launch an attack across the Arab borders this spring.

JORDAN PROJECT

Alarm also has been caused by news of Israeli intention to proceed with the diversion of the waters of the Jordan for irrigation purposes.

Arab political leaders of various allegiances have been demanding preparation for war in Syria. Recruitment for civil defense also is the subject of much talk.

Syrian Premier Sayed Said Ghazzi, who also is foreign minister, himself sounded very alarmed in a report he made to the foreign affairs committee recently.

The committee chairman said later that the situation was so serious that an urgent meeting of Arab rulers and heads of state was needed to take decisive action.

The roadblock in all this is Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser's rejection of such a meeting because of objections to Iraq's participation. The latter is a member of the five-nation anti-Communist Baghdad Pact which Egypt, Saudi Arabia and Syria are actively fighting.

FRUITLESS EFFORTS

The unconfirmed alarmist reports on Israeli intentions doubtless are based on a belief that Israel will hit before Egypt gets a tremendous arsenal from the Soviet bloc. Israeli efforts to get arms from the U.S. thus far have failed.

Tension in Syria has infected neighboring Lebanon. A newcomer to Lebanon reports that one is reminded of wartime when he sees the rash of new street signs in the capital of Beirut pointing to public air raid shelters.

* * *

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Worrying Can Be Fine Preoccupation, but Only if You Do It Efficiently

Worry is wonderful. And millions of Americans don't worry enough. But some people unfortunately haven't learned how to worry efficiently. So they develop bad medical side effects of worry, such as peptic ulcer, spastic colitis, insomnia, etc. Compare this case with tomorrow's follow-up.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I worry a great deal and am too tense," she began.

"My family doctor says I need to relax, but I am just naturally high strung, I guess.

"How can I get rid of worry? Wouldn't life be wonderful if we were free from all our worries?"

BRAVO, WORRY

Worry is simply an instance of mental problem solving where the stakes are rather high.

Millions of people don't worry enough, which is why we already have millions on the taxpayer's back in this country as permanent relief clients of Uncle Sam.

And additional millions are so indolent and unworried about the future that when they finally do get on a payroll, they blow in their first pay check on down payments for non-essentials.

Then they haven't enough left for food or shelter. So it would be a great boon if about 25 million additional Americans worried more diligently.

Worry indicates an unsatisifed hunger or amibtion which the human being is trying to solve. The reason many people decry worry is the fact that when they don't worry efficiently, they develop bad medical side effects, such as peptic ulcer, spastic colitis, insomnia, etc.

But worry itself is man's greatest boon and has produced all our wonderful discoveries and inventions. It is basic to the progress of civilization.

WORRY MEANS PROGRESS

When we psychologists use white rats or guinea pigs to illustrate the laws of learning, we may place such a creature in a maze. That is a mass of runways, most of which end in blind alleys.

But a few lead around to the escape box where there may be a piece of cheese as the animals' reward.

What do you suppose would happen if we placed the animal at the starting point, but had given him a full meal beforehand? Why, he'd probably lie down and sleep. He'd never learn for he'd have no motivation to try.

That's why it is psychologically foolish to speak about the famous Four Freedoms. It is silly to wish we could banish hunger, for example, for then people wouldn't work.

No progress would be made unless human beings had unsolved hungers which goad them onward into learning.

Worry is just the mental process of trial and error by which we try to find our way out of the many human mazes in which we find ourselves.

If Dr. Jenner hadn't worried about smallpox, he would never have made the observation that milkmaids who had suffered mild cowpox, thereafter were immune to smallpox.

WORRY BY CLOCK

But learn to lay your worries down after quitting time. And quit fretting about yesterday's problems. Yesterday is water over the dam.

Be efficient and worry over things yet to come, for you may exert control over the future but you can't change the past.

So worry by the clock. Make a daily agenda of your duties, large and small. That's how I work. Then cross off the completed items. I use red pencil to inflate my ego more when I mark out the finished jobs.

And don't worry on Sundays. That is a day of rest, so keep it such. Notice tomorrow's follow-up about wise worrying.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Commission, Manager to Join Scanners of GOC

All seven city commissioners along with City Manager Walter K. Willman and some city employes will scan the skies during the week of March 12-18.

They will take their places along side Pontiac post Ground Observers for two-hour tours of duty to help the post celebrate its third anniversary and kick-off a drive for more volunteers.

Raymond E. Best, chairman of the membership committee of the group, appeared before the City Commission last night to enlist the assistance of the men in soliciting increased membership in the organization.

The post, located atop the County Office Building, was opened on March 16, 1953. They presently the area and need a total 168 observers to get the necessary 100 per cent coverage, Best said.

"The thought behind this project is to point out that the leaders of our community are not only in accord with the GOC program but are willing to provide the leadership by actively participating," Best told the commission.

The area of U.S. National Forests is nearly equal to that of Texas.

Man and Woman Mute at Slaying Arraignment

HILLSDALE (AP)—Carson Wahn, 31, of Flint and Mrs. Ellen Lambright Bentley, 26, of Hillsdale stood mute yesterday when arraigned on a charge of first-degree murder in the fatal beating of Jacob Beck, 74, a recluse farmer.

Circuit Judge Charles O. Arch set Wahn's trial date for March 19 and Mrs. Bentley's for March 26.

Beck died Nov. 29 of injuries suffered in a beating Oct. 6. Police charge Wahn and Mrs. Bentley, a divorcee, beat and robbed the elderly farmer of $140 in cash and checks to finance their planned elopement.

Three Cool Cats Are Nowhere, Not Real Gone

NEW YORK (INS)—Man, this is the tale of three cool cats who thought they were real gone but found out they were no where.

Two of the cats, apparently aware that trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie was on the road, broke into the bobster's New York home and made off with his pet horn and a lot more loot.

They almost flipped at the sight of the trumpet, said to be the only one of its kind in the country (Note to squares: This horn, which Dizzy says is the most, is bent at a 45-degree angle just aft of the bell.

The men in blue and brass later got word that some crazy cats were offering around such an off-beat horn.

They moved in yesterday and arrested Hughley Jenkins and Roland Pate on charges of looting Dizzy's home.

They also arrested Walter Jackson on charges of criminally receiving the loot.

To get Jackson was no easy job. The police spent two hours working their way through four locks on Jackson's apartment.

When they finally entered the room, Jackson asked:

"Someone knocking on my door?"

Slate Testimony of Publisher

Texas News Owner Will Tell Grand Jury of Crime Conditions

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—After spending the night in the Tarrant County Jail for contempt of court, Laredo newspaper publisher William Prescott Allen today was to tell the grand jury what he knew about crime conditions in Fort Worth.

The grey-haired, 60-year-old publisher of the Laredo Times was fined $100 and sent to jail by Dist. Judge Dave McGee yesterday after he refused to testify before the grand jury on the grounds that it violated his constitutional rights and might incriminate him.

Later in the day, Allen announced that he would testify but Judge McGee refused to release him from jail, saying he could purge himself of contempt only by testifying and that he would have to remain in custody until he did so.

Allen was subpoenaed by the grand jury after several front-page editorials in the Laredo newspaper, 425 miles from here, had lambasted this city for permitting vice and payoffs. He charged that one politician here takes a cut of vice payoff money because he wants to run for lieutenant governor.

Allen was served with the subpoena while attending the annual convention of the Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. in Dallas Monday.

After being sentenced to jail, Allen said, "In order to expose some of this crookedness, it's worth the price."

Admitted Killer, 12, to Appear in Court

BEATTYVILLE, Ky. (AP)—County Judge Cecil Kincaid plans to hold a hearing Saturday on murder charges against William Brandenburg, 12, who admitted shooting his father and brother.

The boy and his 9-year-old sister said Monday he had set fire to their cabin Friday after slaying their father, Brack, 65, and brother, Luther, 18.

The judge quoted the boy as saying he directed his sister to take $5 and some change from Luther's pocketbook to buy some moonshine whisky.

No motive was given for the slayings. But the judge said the children had looked for money they thought Luther had hidden and had been scolded by their father for being out in the rain.

Tydings Aims to Win Solon Post Lost in '50

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Millard E. Tydings, a veteran of 24 years in the U.S. Senate, has entered the May 7 Maryland primary in a bid to win back the job he lost in 1950.

The 65-year-old Democrat was defeated six years ago by Republican Sen. John Marshall Butler. A Senate Elections subcommittee which investigated the campaign accused the Butler camp of "back street tactics."

Butler has filed for renomination.

Tydings objected in particular during the 1960 campaign to a composite photograph in which separately made pictures of him and Communist Earl Browder were pasted side by side to make it appear as if they had been snapped having a friendly chat.

George P. Mahoney, Baltimore County contractor, is the only other Democrat with major backing. A stormy figure in Maryland politics, the former chairman of the State Racing Commission claims endorsements by all or at least a majority of members on 17 of the 23 county Democratic committees.

Officials of Hospital to Seek Federal Aid

Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees Chairman William P. Babcock will head a delegation of four hospital officials traveling to Lansing tomorrow in an attempt to enlist federal aid for the hospital's expansion building program.

According to Miss Lauretta Paul, hospital director, the $3,000,000 bond issue will not cover the entire cost of the program based on architect's estimates.

The four will confer with Jordan Popkin, director of a hospital survey and construction department, on possible financial assistance under the Hill-Burton federal program.

Going with Babcock will be Miss Paul, Dr. Harold A. Furlong, chief of staff, and Willis M. Brewer, property chairman of the board.

After approval of the final plans last week by the City Commission, bids for $3,000,000 project are expected April 19.

Mexico City Enjoying a Remarkable Boom

By JOE HAAS

MEXICO CITY—This capital city of the republic to the south is enjoying a remarkable boom, both industrially and in a tourist way.

In population it now is away over the four million mark. This makes it the third city in the Western Hemisphere, exceeded only by New York and Chicago. No South American city even approaches that mark.

World travelers tell me that no other city on earth has put across a more extensive program in modernizing its business, industrial and residential areas.

JOE HAAS

Its downtown section now is quite mindful of our own Detroit, but on a much larger scale. Business blocks running into 40-odd stories line the streets, all of steel and concrete construction, and all equipped with every convenience found north of the border.

The eight-lane boulevards with which the city abounds, with their broad palm-lined center strips, furnish a traffic vent that looks like a solution for the principal problem in our large cities.

Speeding and horn blowing are taboo. To discourage speedsters, lines of metal discs are fastened across the pavements at regular intervals, which produce such hard bumps that it is necessary to come almost to a stop when crossing them. There the pedestrians have the right of way.

Since coming here a few days ago we have ridden for many hours in taxis in the heaviest traffic we ever encountered, and rarely hear a horn blown. Nor have we ever heard a brake screech or bumper clash.

Traffic officers are stationed in the center of busy intersections, and the direction of their outstretched arms rules the road. Arguments are few, wrecks scarce, and injuries and fatalities are said to be lower than in any other large city in the world.

SITUATED ATOP LAKE

Started untold centuries ago on a plateau over a mile above sea level, Mexico City is on the site of a lake that some 10,000 years ago was filled with volcanic rock in an earth-shaking eruption. This bed of rock furnishes the foundation for every building in the city.

From the same rock most of the buildings were erected until within comparatively recent years. It also is the material in thousands of miles of walls in the city. For, since its earliest inception, and to the present day, it has been the rule that every property owner must surround his holdings with walls.

In the early days this was to repel invaders, but the practice still is maintained. The walls range from 8 to 30 feet high and from a foot to three feet in thickness.

The Mexicans claim a civilization that antedates Columbus by centuries. They have the remains to prove such a thing centuries before Christ. And it must be admitted that they still retain some of the practices of the cave men days.

Mexico City itself is without doubt one of the most cosmopolitan areas in the world. Foremost in its regular section, right at its city limits live people in caves created in the big eruption, and in much the same manner they have lived for thousands of years.

Nature is good to this area. It produces practically everything that it needs, and with so little human effort that countless generations have bred a lazy race. They enjoy the extreme heat of summer, when the mercury frequently goes above 100, and these February days just loll around in a Michigan June atmosphere.

To an outsider, from a land that has everything, it seems that the civic and cultural sides have been emphasized in this great rebuilding of Mexico City.

For instance, in the matter of higher education, during the past five years the University of Mexico City has put on a multi-million dollar building program that even top educators in the United States say is little short of marvelous.

Starting almost from scratch, they have erected buildings to accommodate an enrollment of 28,000, covering every possible phase from the oldest sciences to the cosmic ray. The common school feeders for such an institution also have been built up proportionately.

The new stadium at the university is built quite largely along the lines of our Yost Stadium at Ann Arbor, but is somewhat larger. Football and other college sports are highly fostered, and they'll be sending some challenges up our way.

A large part of the expense of the Mexican government is borne by the receipts from a federal lottery. Many millions are spent weekly for tickets, and three drawings are held every week.

The government retains 15 per cent of the receipts, and the other 85 per cent is distributed in prizes, so the participants really get a square deal, in contrast to the numbers racket so prevalent in our country, in which no governmental agency gets anything.

One of the largest buildings in this capital city is the one in which thousands of clerks keep an account on the lottery. Tickets are on sale everywhere, the vendors getting a commission. The principal argument against the lottery is that it fosters gambling. But Mexico has no income tax.

Survives Wreck

Lad to Live Long Time, but in State of Coma

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—A 31-year-old mother of two, widowed by a traffic accident, was told yesterday her 10-year-old son, unconscious for almost six months, may live to be 60 or 70 without ever waking up.

Mrs. James Alfred Oates wept bitterly when informed of the findings of a board of doctors who made a three-hour study of her son's condition.

Since Sept. 4 Michael Oates, injured in a two-car collision in which his 31-year-old father was killed, has been in a deep coma. Doctors said he will live a normal life span unaware of the world around him.

Mrs. Oates, recently released from hospital for treatment of broken ribs and a broken left arm suffered in the same accident, said she can't begin to pay the hospital bills.

"My bill alone was more than $2,000," she said. "Then there were funeral expenses and now the cost of keeping Michael in the hospital for the rest of his life."

Michael's brain was severely injured when a car, driven by a soldier from Camp Borden plowed into the side of an auto driven by Mr. Oates, a former petty officer in the Canadian Navy. The soldier also was killed.

The Oates family was returning to their Mount Hamilton home from nearby Ancaster where they were putting finishing touches to a new brick house to which they expected to move that same week.

"We were going to move out there because Michael liked the spot so much," Mrs. Oates said. "If it had not been for him we would never have bought the place."

"My brother and father finished the home while I was in the hospital. I'm going to keep it for Michael."

Hospital officias said that Michael, who is fed through a gastric tube, cries frequently but never makes a sound. The only time he ever uttered a noise of any kind was two months after the accident when his mother visited him, a nurse said.

"He looked at her for several minutes then his eyes filled with tears. He cried very hard for about a minute then groaned loudly, his one hand extending toward his mother."

$17 for Child Support

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Mary Beth Hughes has been awarded $17 a week support for her 9-year-old son by Edward Ernest Steinel, television producer known as Michael North. She testified yesterday the only money she ever received from Steinel was $15 at the time Don James Steinel was born. The couple was married in 1943 and divorced in 1946. Last month Miss Hughes divorced singer David Street after an eight-year marriage.

OPEN FRIDAY and MONDAY NIGHTS

Bob Considine Says:

Reporters Have Field Day With Windsors

NEW YORK (INS)—During a recent enchanted evening the Duchess of Windsor looked up and saw a stranger across a crowded room. Matter of fact, there were several hundred of them.

All had come to an 86-proof tea to ask half-finished questions about her interesting and well-written autobiography, which is now being ladled out in magazine, book and newspaper form.

A reporter who arrived three minutes late at the free load in the honor of the duchess asked, "Where's she at?" A man from the publicity firm pointed helplessly at a vast mound of reporters. "Somewhere in there," he said.

"How's about the duke?" he asked, willing to settle.

"In there," the man said, pointing to another huge and impregnable doughnut of reportorial flesh and blood. It was a great night for the Windsors.

The Windsors are both short-statured and thus were completely out of sight. We forged to the outer perimeter of the duchess' group. She was being interviewed by a lady literary critic, one obviously fascinated by the story the duchess has, at long last, told.

PUZZLED NEWSMEN

"Who did your dress?" the lady reporter was asking. Other literary critics, puzzled by the allusion, referred to their vest pocket Rosetta Stones without comfort.

The out-of-sight duchess replied with a name that sounded French, but she was cut off by another sharp question concerning a heart-shaped bit of jewelry worn at her wrist.

"I always wear my heart on my sleeve," the duchess replied. Some up front said her fine blue eyes began to search the room for a fire escape about then.

Well, sir, never got to see the celebrated couple but sure tuned in on a lot of information about them.

"He's in charge of the pictures," a man said. "There won't be any pictures of the present Queen used to illustrate the text. He'll see to that.

"He's a wonderful fellow. Lived in mortal fear of his mother. Someone around the office asked, 'Did you ever make fun of her hats?' And he seemed bewildered. 'Wouldn't have dared!' he said, looking surprised.

THE ROYAL PIPER

"Then there was the time—the duchess is going to tell about it—when he was playing one of his own selections on his pipes. He plays the pipes, you know. This must have been at Balmoral.

"His father, that would be King George V, raised a window and yelled, 'What's that infernal racket?' The duke, he would have been Prince of Wales then, said, 'Me, with the pipes.' The King said, 'Leave the pipes to the Scots!' The duchess' story is full of good stuff like that."

We picked up a lot of other newsy items at the party, which was held at Pa Hilton's Waldorf boarding house. They don't exactly fit together, these items, but here goes:

The duchess told one of her publishers that her voice could best be described as "Southern Cockney." The outfit the duke wore when he received the Order of the Garter when he was 17 still fits him.

Rudy Halley's law associate, Hank Walter, is the duchess' lawyer and agent. Will Rogers Jr., one of the guests, is now on CBS opposite Dave Garroway. (Promised him we'd stay up late enough some night to catch him.)

UNUSUAL STORY

It's an extraordinary story, this one the duchess tells. After Cleveland Amory bowed out, I thought it would be a trite little thing, full of self-imposed puffs.

But from first glance the duchess' story seems to be one of the most remarkable written testaments ever given by a woman.

She doesn't need the money ($250,000 from the magazine alone.) This she plainly wanted to tell because her heart has been so filled with it for 20 bittersweet years.

Dealers to Study Anti-Trust Row

Auto Parts Convention Blasts Manufacturers on 'Coercive Selling'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A national auto parts dealers convention today will study recent anti-trust hearings against automotive and related manufacturers in the east.

"Coercive selling is the economic cancer of business," declared Henry Trauscht of the Evanston Auto Co., Evanston, Ill.

Charging that big companies are freezing out independents by forcing dealers to handle their lines, Trauscht declared:

"All these goliaths of the industry have achieved their present sales position, to a degree, through their ability to apply the squeeze on their dealer organization.

"Every wholesaler in this room knows what happened to anti-freeze and undercoating volume when the car manufacturers commenced distribution of these products to their agencies.

"And the wholesalers likewise know what happened to their volume of business in anti-freeze to the service stations when the major oil companies went into the anti-freeze business."

Trauscht said tactics employed by big companies constituted "dictatorship" and a violation of the Clayton Act of 1914.

He urged all parts makers and dealers to support a special industry-wide committee being set up to fight "coercive selling."

Kalamazoo to Request State Medical School

KALAMAZOO (AP)—The Kalamazoo City Commission has voted unanimously to urge that if a third state medical school is established it be located here.

Mayor Glenn S. Allen Jr. said he will appoint a citizens' committee within a week to lay this city's advantages before the proper authorities.

Only the University of Michigan and Wayne University now have medical schools. A third one has been proposed in the Legislature and elsewhere.

Kansas Town Threatened With Ruin as Bank's Cashier Exhausts Deposits

SMOLAN, Kan. (AP)—A shortage attributed to "manipulations" of the cashier has closed a 51-year-old bank here and threatens many of this community's 200 residents with loss of their life savings.

G. W. Lindley, assistant state bank examiner, said there was little hope the Smolan State Bank would reopen. It has less than $370,000 deposits and is not covered by federal deposit insurance.

He said the bank suffered an undetermined loss because of the "manipulations of the cashier, Raymond Holmquist."

Lindley said Holmquist orally admitted to an examiner that he falsified bank records.

Philip Nelson, service station operator, said residents were "stunned and speechless. Most of them didn't believe it at first. Most of them have a little cash left. They're going to keep living."

TOWN FACES RUIN

One merchant said the central Kansas town would be ruined if the bank did not reopen.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oleen had $12,000 — all of their savings — in the bank.

"I had a very sleepless night," said Mrs. Oleen. "I haven't eaten a bite yet."

The bank's president, Albin J. Carlson, is hospitalized with a digestive disorder. He collapsed after notifying examiners.

Holmquist, 44, father of two step-children, was in seclusion at his sister's home in nearby Salina. "I have no comment to make at this time," he said.

No charges have been filed.

J. Alfred Nelson, 72-year-old director of the bank, asked to get his government bonds out of the institution but was stopped by an examiner.

"Nothing can be taken out of this bank until we get a complete record," said the examiner.

Peggy Lloyd to Wed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Peggy Lloyd, daughter of former screen stars Harold and Mildred Lloyd, will be married about March 1 to actor Bob Patten. They said the wedding will be a small one. It will be the second marriage for each.

Although most of Iceland's economy involves fishing, only 20 per cent of the population now is directly engaged in that industry, Reykjavik reports.

To Direct MSU Work

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gordon H. Sheehe, East Lansing's first traffic consultant, has resigned to devote full time to a position as director of the Highway Traffic Safety Center at Michigan State University.

FCC Member Backs Trial of Pay-See TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert E. Lee, a member of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), says the only way to settle the question of subscription television is to give it a trial operation.

He says he does not favor further public hearings on the issue because they might delay a final decision for two or three years.

Lee expressed his personal views on the subscription television proposal yesterday during a question-and-answer period following a talk before the Radio and Television Executive Society.

Colorado Hunters Shoot Down Avalanches

He hunts avalanches. When he finds one that is ripe, he brings it down with artillery fire.

CHIEF MARKSMAN

Ted—he uses a 75mm. howitzer—is the chief marksman in a spectacular snow-fighting technique developed by the Colorado Department of Highways.

Keeping roads through 21 high mountain passes free of snow is an arduous and sometimes hazardous task this time of year.

Avalanches, roaring unchecked from high peaks and burying key highways under hundreds of tons of snow, rocks and broken trees, have been more than a nuisance to motorists in the past. Between 1945 and 1952 they claimed six lives in Colorado.

Today highway engineers are less often taken by surprise. They create more than half the mountain pass avalanches themselves in a unique snow control program.

MILITARY PRECISION

It is done with the precision of a military maneuver.

When snow builds up dangerously in an area, a section of the road is blocked off, and a high explosive shell is fired into the snow mass. Usually after the man-made avalanche cascades down the waiting snow removal machinery can clear a lane through in less than an hour.

The avalanche areas, which are well charted, bear such names as "The Seven Sisters," "Slippery Jim," "Little Professor," "Five-Car," and "The Pink Lady."

UNIT OBSERVED

I went with Miles to watch the avalanche control unit in action. Its job this day was to test dangerous snow areas in the historic Bethaud Pass, on both sides of the Continental Divide.

Pat Murray, a veteran road foreman known as "The Man on the Mountain," picked the targets. Other mountain men say Pat can practically smell when an avalanche is "ready to go."

He disclaims this himself, and says:

"You can't really know. Weight and wind are factors. So is the temperature. There are others, too. But when everything is right, any sudden vibration — a passing tractor, a rifle shot, even a honking horn — will start her down."

READY TO SHOOT

In the next hour he fired ten shells. They burst in red fire and black smoke in the high snow banks 300 to 400 yards away, and the sheer peaks tossed back the echoes like thunderclaps. But only one small slide resulted, and it failed to reach the road.

"Guess I didn't earn my pay today," said Ted, as he finished firing.

WORTH THE EFFORT

But it had been worthwhile.

"We know the snow there is stabilized until there's some kind of weather change," said Miles.

Actually Ted has a pretty good box score. He has fired about 500 shells in the last three years, brought down 40 avalanches that reached the highway, and about the same number of smaller avalanches that didn't.

The net result is that the highways are kept open, and the motorists feel a lot safer.

PRISONER OF ICE — German children of Cuxhaven take advantage of a rare opportunity and play with the rudder of the British freighter "Baltrover," trapped in the ice near the Elbe River estuary, near Cuxhaven. The ship ran aground during a serious snowstorm and was frozen in this spot as the severe cold wave gripped Germany's North Sea coast.

Ann Arbor May Be City Without Buses

ANN ARBOR (AP)—This city of 50,000 residents and students may be without a bus line by Sept. 1.

The Ann Arbor City Bus, Inc., a subsidiary of Great Lakes Greyhound Lines, has announced to the City Council that it is seriously considering dropping its franchise because of recurring financial losses.

W. R. Budd of Detroit, president and general manager of Great Lakes Greyhound, said the firm is trying to find "an able substitute" so that the city will still have some means of bus transportation.

The most recent financial report from January 1955 to January 1956 shows a loss of $7,000, Budd said. The bus company services school children and shoppers—about 3,000 of them a day.

The company earlier withdrew a request for a fare raise of five cents. A spokesman said the present equipment "may not be able to go through another winter" and replacement would run $150,000.

Pair to Live in Israel

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — Cletas Trinker, 44, and his wife, Hazel, left Grand Haven Tuesday to take up permanent residence in Israel. Their trip arrangements were completed by the United Israel World Union, a Hebrew faith which formerly had a synagogue at nearby West Olive. Trinker, born at Ferrysburg, has been a maintenance worker. The couple leaves three married children behind.

HOUSE PET! — Kimbo, a fairly-domesticated 350 pound puss who likes to sit on the kitchen sink, lounges in his favorite position as his owner, Mrs. Melvin Koontz, of Thousand Oaks, Calif., does the dishes. Mrs. Koontz acquired Kimbo five years ago, as a baby, and reared him as a pet. Now he romps around the house, sometimes watches TV, and eats ten pounds of horse meat and a gallon of milk a day.

Benson Blasting Rigid Supports

Says Farm Surpluses Smothering GOP Plan in House Speech

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson told Congress yesterday the administration's farm program is "smothered" under surpluses built up by rigid price supports.

Benson made the statement before the House Agriculture Committee, which consistently has favored high-level supports instead of the administration's flexible price support program.

He asserted that staggering farm surpluses robbed American farmers of more than two billion dollars in income last year. Benson added that this amounted to nearly 20 per cent of net farm income.

Despite his strong criticism of what he termed "our past programs," the secretary did not state his opposition to the Senate bill to restore rigid price supports, nor did he suggest the threat of a presidential veto.

AFFIRMATIVE APPROACH

Benson's statement primarily was an affirmative approach, in which he urged congressional approval of the soil bank and eight other proposals sent to Congress by President Eisenhower.

He declared: "The nine-point program offers no nostrum or panaceas. Our farm folks want none. Rather, it includes a sound, logical attack on our most urgent problem, the surplus. It strikes at both sides of the price-cost squeeze."

Benson noted that some of the President's proposals—such as expanded government pork purchases and higher supports for soybeans, cottonseed and flax—are "being accomplished administratively."

Pointing out that this year's crops already are being planted in the South, Benson urged the House group to act with "maximum speed" on the proposals.

He maintained that the Eisenhower program "offers convincing evidence that farm prices and incomes will be strengthened by a direct attack on the surplus problem itself."

The secretary said: "The only sound way yet devised to get out from under the surplus burden . . . is to cut down the flow of wheat, corn and cotton into government hands."

He said that the soil bank, tied to the flexible support system now on the books and accented by a stepped-up surplus disposal operation, would accomplish this goal.

Benson said the acreage reserve program, under which farmers who cut production of wheat, cotton, corn and rice would be given certificates redeemable either in other surpluses or in cash, would move an additional one billion dollars worth of government-owned stocks into the market in one year.

Army Unveils Equipment for Firing 60-Ft. Missile

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Army has unveiled some of the futuristic equipment used to handle and fire the 60-foot-high Redstone missile that ranks as the largest rocket built so far.

The Redstone, comparatively short-ranged but considered a model for intercontinental and space-travel rockets yet to come, is fueled in an upright position from a mobile servicing structure more than twice its own height.

The missile undergoes static tests while suspended from a stand that the Army is "as tall as a 15-story building" — about the same height as the unique servicing structure.

Despite the size of the latter, the Army said the fueling tower "is so designed that it will automatically roll away if anything goes wrong with the delicate fueling operation."

The details were given with the release by the Defense Department of four pictures of the Redstone and one of the Air Force's intercontinental "Snark" — a 60-ton, jet-propelled missile believed to have a 5,000-mile range.

REALLY ZOOMS

The Redstone, a 300-mile missile of which a larger, 1,500-mile version is to be built, travels at thousands of miles per hour. So-called "air-breathing" missiles of the Snark type are still subsonic in speed.

The newly-released pictures were taken at Redstone Arsenal near Huntsville, Alabama, where the Redstone was built under the direction of Dr. Wernher Von Braun, and at Patrick Air Force Base at Coco, Fla., where the rockets and the Snark have been test-fired repeatedly in recent months.

One picture revealing that the Redstone carries a giant headlight in its nose, showed the rocket speeding through a shower of sparks in a limited firing at the army test range near Huntsville.

All full scale firing is understood to have been over the Atlantic from the Air Force's east Florida launching platform.

Woman Wins College Degree After 37 Years

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Mrs. Gladys Flarity, who entered college 37 years ago, has finally won her degree.

The 55-year-old teacher plans to start work on her master's degree after a short rest.

Mrs. Flarity teaches in Brethren, in Manistee County, and cares for an invalid mother. She has driven the 100-mile round trip to Mount Pleasant almost daily to attend classes at Central Michigan College.

As principal of the elementary section of the Norman-Dixon Schools, Mrs. Flarity's office overlooks her home. She said:

Mrs. Flarity entered Central Michigan College in 1919 and began teaching the next year.

"I just love to teach," she said. "It keeps me young."

New York is 13,135 miles from San Francisco via the Straits of Magellan and 5,262 miles via the Panama Canal.

Passer-by's Fast Thinking Saves Buried Worker

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Quick thinking by a passer-by who remembered a mechanical digger a few blocks away helped rescue a workman buried under more than five feet of earth.

A sewage disposal pit where he was working 10 feet below the surface had caved in on Francis K. Santiago, 25, of neighboring West Chester.

The passer-by reminded Santiago's fellow workers of the mechanical digger as they began working frantically with shovels and their hands to free him.

The machine was brought to the scene and put into operation. It skimmed off each shovelful gingerly until it reached the point where Santiago was estimated to be. Hands and shovels soon found him — unconscious. Oxygen was applied when his head was uncovered, and 25 minutes later his body was freed.

He is reported in fair condition at Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Cartoonists, Writers, Photographers Win Freedom Awards

Editor's Note—Among newspaper writers who received Freedoms Foundation awards are a number who write for The Pontiac Press. These include Bob Considine, David Lawrence and Stanley Rukeyser.

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (INS) — Cartoonists, writers and photographers for large and small newspapers throughout the nation were honored today along with corporations, schools and civic groups for advancing the American way of life during 1955.

The non-profit Freedoms Foundation announced the winners of its seventh annual award program in a Washington's birthday ceremony at historic Valley Forge.

A jury of state supreme court justices and leaders of veterans and patriotic groups headed by Dr. Raymond B. Allen, chancellor of the University of California at Los Angeles, made the selections from thousands of entries.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, personally presented the top prizes to those who spoke up for freedom, including the famed judge Harold Medina of New York.

$38,250 AWARDED

Top awardees in 10 categories received $1,000 and George Washington honor medals. The program, including trips and library grants to school winners, offered awards totaling $100,000 in value. Cash prizes amounted to $38,250.

Hy Rosen, of Albany (N. Y.) Times-Union, drew top honors in cartoons with "Our Strongest Arms," showing Uncle Sam extending to our children two books entitled: "Love of God," and "Love of Country — The U. S. Constitution."

Highest awards in the general category went to Americans for the Competitive Enterprises System, Inc., (ACES), of Philadelphia; the Boy Scouts of America, New Brunswick, N. J., and Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kansas City, Mo.

George E. Sokolsky, of King Features Syndicate, was granted an honor medal in the editorials category for "Washington — A Great Leader." He also got a "distinguished service scroll" given those who have been selected for awards in at least five of the foundation's annual programs.

A second place in the general category was won by the New York Mirror for its youth program "Citizens in the Making," which embraced a youth forum, athletic tournaments and dance festivals.

Bob Considine, INS columnist and reporter, received a medal award in the general class for his famous and widely - reprinted "Newspaperman's Prayer."

SPECIAL AWARDS GIVEN

Freedom Foundation's "special awards" went to the DuPont Co.; the Kiwanis International; the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the Office of Armed Forces Information and Education.

The U. S. Military Academy at West Point captured the college campus program's top award for its four-day "Students Conference on U. S. Affairs" attended by representatives of 59 American and five Canadian colleges and universities.

Columnist David Lawrence took the freedom leadership medal "for his continuing courageous presentation of the facts of the world Communist conspiracy through editorials and special articles."

Top award for editorials was presented to James D. Corriell, of the Boulder (Colo.) Daily Camera, for "The Right to Toil, Sweat—and be Free." Part of his article read: "Happiness is not guaranteed, the right to work for happiness is."

A second-place in this category, in the special circulation class, was taken by Merryle Stanley Rukeyser, INS economic commentator, for an article entitled "American Economic System has respect for Individual." Rukeyser commented in the article: "The survival of a business enterprise hinges on pleasing the all-important person — the customer."

Highest recognition for community programs went to the Chicago (high school) Key Clubs and the Chicago Daily News, which conducted a "youth good citizenship" campaign to reduce vandalism under the slogan, "Let's Grow Up, Not Tear Up."

PHILLY STATION TOPS RADIO

Station WEIL, Philadelphia, took the top honors in radio programs, in cooperation with the Philadelphia board of education, for "The Miracle of America," a weekly series showing historical American achievements.

The "I Led Three Lives" series depicting the activities of Herbert C. Philbrick as an undercover agent in the Communist party was adjudged best in television. It was produced by ZIV Television Programs, Inc., of New York City.

Top award in sermons went to Rev. A. T. Tomshany of Kalkaska, Mich., with "Freedom's Blessings and Freedom's Strength."

National advertising acclaim was bestowed on the Timken Roller Bearing Co., of Canton, O., for "exceptional institutional advertising pointing up the benefits of the American way of life as contrasted to life under Communism."

In local advertising, the winner was the Florida Power and Light Co., of Miami, Fla., for a series showing the many freedoms enjoyed by all segments in America.

30 Blacktopping Projects Approved by Commission

Action was quickly taken on 30 blacktopping projects for city roads in 1956 as the City Commission last night breezed through a 33-point agenda in 68 minutes.

The commissioners also authorized City Clerk Ada R. Evans to take bids for the 1956 two-inch blacktop pavement program. They will be received by 2 p.m. March 19.

In other action, City Manager Walter K. Willman recommended renewing a lease with the Barber's Flying Service for lot six at the City Airport at six cents a square foot. The commissioners approved the recommendation.

City Attorney William A. Ewart told the commissioners that the J. A. Fredman, Inc., construction firm had withdrawn a request of installing a one-inch encroachment over the new Kinsel Drug store at the corner of Huron and Saginaw streets.

The City Commission accepted a recommendation from City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn that proposed sanitary sewers for Spruce and Eston streets be deleted from a special assessment roll.

A hearing was also held on intention to construct a water main in Elm street from Anderson to Marshall. The commission authorized the city assessor to prepare a special assessment roll and to report to the commission next week.

Public hearings will be held Feb. 28 on 10 blacktop pavement projects totaling $40,497.05 after engineer's estimates were read last night and accepted.

Confirmation was deferred after last night's hearings on special assessment rolls for two-inch blacktop pavement for the following streets:

Beverly avenue from Baldwin to University; Blaine street from Oakland to Montcalm; Burt avenue from Montcalm to Hillside and Hillside drive from Burt to Summit; Cornell avenue from Baldwin to University; Drexel avenue from Paddock to South boulevard; Elm street from Jessie to Sanford; Fourth avenue from Joslyn to Fuller; Gordon avenue from Oakland to Corwin; Goin street from South boulevard to Prospect and Hamilton and McNeil streets from Baldwin to Rundell.

Other business saw the city clerk being granted authorization to advertise for bids for the Pontiac Creek storm drain project on March 19 at 3 p.m.

The City Commission also approved resolutions to receive special assessment rolls by the city assessor for blacktop pavement for the following streets:

Anderson street from Elm to the Michigan Airline Railroad; Central avenue from Saginaw to Paddock; Edna avenue from Telegraph to Dawson Mill pond; Edward street from Myra to Orchard Lake; Elm street from Marshall to 130 feet west of Going; Luther street from Howland to Earlmoor; Marshall street from Elm to the MALRR Nebraska avenue from Bagley to Franklin Park place from Hovey to O'Riley and Peggy avenue from Voorheis to Hazel

Sidewalks for Melrose, Kenilworth, Cameron, and Emerson avenues from Madison avenue to Mt. Clemens street were declared a public necessity in action taken last night.

Upon the recommendation of Commissioner John E. Carry (District 6), a sidewalk for the south side of Auburn avenue from East boulevard to Clifford street was also declared a public necessity because of school children walking there.

Top Crime Boss Dies in Chicago

Heart Attack Is Fatal to Capone Era Chief Jack Guzik, 69

CHICAGO (AP) — Jack (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, who didn't fit any popular conception of a gang boss but who was ranked a big wheel in the underworld since the bloody days of Al Capone in the 1920s, is dead.

The 69-year-old gang chief, who once was Capone's chief lieutenant and who reportedly masterminded the gang's way to riches and political power, died last night. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

Police were unable to confirm immediately if Guzik died at his South Side home or at the home of a son-in-law, also on the South side.

Guzik, gray-haired, flabby and mild mannered, was regarded as the top gambling boss in Chicago after Capone abdicated. "Scarface Al" left Chicago, at the request of the federal government, to serve 11 years in prison for income tax evasion.

And it was for income tax evasion that Guzik met with his only reversal in his many brushes with the law in some 30 years. He was sentenced in 1930, with Capone, to serve five years in prison and fined $17,500 for evasion of more than one million dollars in income taxes for 1927-1929.

He fought the conviction for two years before he started serving his sentence. He was in Leavenworth Federal Prison for three years and eight months.

Guzik was No. 10 on Chicago's original list of 28 public enemies compiled by the Chicago Crime Commission in 1930. At that time — the prohibition era — he was business manager of Capone's enterprises—illegal breweries, dog and race tracks, gambling and vice resorts.

While Capone's hoodlums resorted to guns and muscle to keep their many businesses operating, Guzik used his head. He never was known to carry a gun. The story is that he was given the nickname "Greasy Thumb" by the Capone mobsters who watched him count huge bankrolls.

Nation Will Eat More Food in '56

Retail Prices Will Stay at Same Level as 1955, According to Report

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department said that Americans will fare foodwise as well or better in 1956 than they did in 1955, when there was an abundance of good things to eat.

The country's domestic food supply will be at least as large this year as it was in 1955, while consumption—both in total and on a per capita basis—is expected to be a little higher than it was last year.

Retail food prices are expected to average the same as last year, but Americans are likely to spend more for food this year than they did in 1955.

The department said the increase will reflect not only the expected small gain in food consumption, but also the continued shift to the more highly processed foods and to more marketing services with food.

On the average, Americans will spend about 25 per cent of per capita income for food—about the same amount as in recent years. This prediction is based on the premise that the national prosperity will continue to remain high for the remaining months of this year.

MAJOR FOOD SHIFTS

In a report on "the national food situation," the department said shifts in consumption among major foods are likely this year.

Among the livestock products, consumption increases are probable for beef, pork, fluid milk and chicken meat, while small declines are likely for veal, lamb and mutton.

Consumption rates for butter and other manufactured dairy products, eggs, turkey, meat and lard will probably remain at last year's level.

The department says Americans will eat more processed vegetables and the edible vegetable oils used mainly in cooking and salad oils, mayonnaise, and French dressings.

Officials say it's too early to accurately forecast production and consumption prospects for most fresh fruits and vegetables, since much information is often based on weather conditions.

However, it appears that the population will eat less canned fruit and cereal food products this year than last, while the use of frozen fruits and juices, margarine and shortening will probably remain at 1955 levels.

Wrecked Auto Ordinance Action Deferred 2 Weeks

The City Commission last night deferred action for two weeks on a proposed city ordinance to license and regulate the storing, wrecking and dismantling of wrecked automobiles within the city.

The action resulted from Commissioner Floyd P. Miles' (District 4) recommendation, so that a group of eight auto wrecking establishments might study the ordinance with a city committee that formulated it.

The introduction and first reading was aired at last week's meeting.

The proposed ordinance would require all persons, firms, or organizations engaged in the storing, wrecking, and dismantling of automobiles unfit for reconditioning for highway use to secure a license from the city clerk upon the approval of the City Commission.

Previously, such licenses have not been required by the city.

Before action was deferred, a continued hearing on rezoning to manufacturing 3 of lots 145-147 of the Dixie Highway Subdivision, was also put over until March 6.

Miles suggested the move after a gentleman in the audience objected to the rezoning which would permit further auto wrecking establishments in the area.

"I would like to see the matter of the car wrecking ordinance passed before we do any more rezoning," Miles said.

Say Naval Balloon Approaching Africa

OPPAMA, Japan (AP)—The U. S. Navy said today a weather balloon it launched here Feb. 18 is nearly to Africa after crossing the Pacific, the United States and most of the Atlantic.

The Navy reported the 40-foot gas bag this morning was 700 miles west of French Morocco, traveling east-southeast at 30,000 feet and moving at about 140 miles an hour.

The balloon's automatic instruments were reported radioing reports of 55-below-zero temperatures from that altitude. The balloon was the 15th launched by the Navy from Japan in its series of weather tests.

Bomb Under Bush Will Stay for Awhile

TOKYO (AP)—A schoolteacher who found an unexploded World War II bomb under a rose bush in his back yard was told today it would just have to stay there for a couple of months.

Tatsuhiko Ojiro said bomb disposal officials explained they had spent all their allotted money for digging up 7,000 bombs and shells during the past 10 months.

One they get more funds for the new fiscal year, beginning April 1, they promised they would come and get Ojiro's find. Meanwhile, the teacher doesn't plan to do any rose cultivation.

Round Up 115 Cited in Racial Bus Boycott

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Montgomery law officers today began rounding up 115 persons indicted for taking active parts in the Negro bus boycott.

The grand jury report warned that "violence is inevitable" in Montgomery "if we continue on our present course of race relations."

The indictments were returned under a seldom used state statute which makes conspiracy to boycott a misdemeanor punishable by up to six months in prison and a $1,000 fine.

The grand jury's written report said the attack on Alabama's segregation laws by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is primarily responsible for current racial unrest in Montgomery.

Wife Surprised When Offhand Remark Realized

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"What we need is a bus," Mrs. Louis Fusz observed as she and her husband and their six children crowded into the family car.

So she shouldn't have been surprised when her husband, an auto dealer, drove up in front of their home with a bright red 35-foot bus of 1946 vintage.

"Oh, no!" she exclaimed as Fusz suggested tearing out all the seats, building bunk beds, installing a kitchen and making draperies for the windows.

Now, a year and several pleasure trips later, all these things have been done—not to mention a battery powered refrigerator and a bottled gas cookstove.

Cold Waves in France to Hike Cost of Perfumes

GRASSE, France (AP)—The delicate scent of orange blossoms will be more rare and costly this year because of the worst cold wave in memory to sweep France's perfume region.

More than two weeks of freezing temperatures here on the Riviera have nearly wiped out the Seville bitter orange trees whose blossoms produce extract used in costly perfumes and cologne.

India plans to apply irrigation to an additional 20 million acres in the next five years.

Fahntasteek Rites Set for Grace

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I asked about the rumor she's getting married next week—and Marilyn Monroe answered, "What! Nobody'll have me!" . . .

A top Hollywood producer protested in court here, "That opposing lawyer's trying to make a liar out of me!" The lawyer replied, "Exactly!" — and did. The Hollywoodian had to pay $57,000 real fast.

GRACE

The N. Y. contingent's getting ready for Grace Kelly's wedding. Salvador Dali'll do "fahntasteek decor" and Dr. Maurice Sandoz (the Swiss author-composer who lives here) will do the music for an ornate ballet for the guests. Miss Tony Lander, Danish "dancer of the year," will star. Dali says, "Myself weel create the decor, myself weel go March 15, myself can tell you nussing in advance. Except weel be fahntasteek!" Grace herself will be here in a couple weeks—happiness-bound. She'll have a private sun deck on "The Constitution" when she sails.

David Wayne's so brilliant in "The Ponder Heart"—and Joe Fields and Jerome Chodorov gave him a wonderful line when his bride (played by Sarah Marshall, Herbert Marshall's dtr) collects an electric icebox, dishwasher, TV set, washing machine, etc., and puts them all in the living room. "Now wouldn't it be wonderful," he asks, "if we just had electricity?"

A B'way show's planning to use "living statues"—girls bare from the waist up who aren't permitted to move. "You must stand perfectly still," says tall model and showgal Siri. "You see a mouse—and you're out of work!"

I went up to the ancient Amsterdam Roof to see "Strip for Action" rehearsing and saw Jack Pearl, Jack Whiting, Yvonne Adair, Jessica James, Lois O'Brien, Jerome Cortland, etc.—and, over in a corner, Composer Jimmy McHugh, a fugitive from Hollywood.

"Last time I worked there," he said, "was 1930. This was Ziegfeld's Midnight Roof. It cost you $5 just to sit down.

"Mark Hellinger was always here. His girl, Gladys Glad, was in the show, and we had the Duncan Sisters, Ruby Keeler, Helen Morgan, and Lillian Roth. Only one show a night and just the best people in town!"

He sighed and so did I. They say his songs will make some new stars.

Rosoff's—which has been running those humorous ads, saying they have a very careful chef (he brings his own lunch), and that they can't take reservations (the headwaiters' too busy handling complaints)—just had this one rejected: "Please drink more booze at Rosoff's. No self respecting restaurant makes money on its food." . . . Showgal Rosemary Ridgewell and ex-Mayor Wm. O'Dwyer busted up. She decided there was no future in it.

Hal Block—now writing for Ted Mack—has financial interests and told somebody to phone him at J. P. Morgan & Co. "I'll be in conference with J. P.," bragged Hal, who, of course, knew that J. P.'s dead. "Do you mean," gushed the party, "that you know that lovely young lady personally?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

While everybody was talking about the Hal March-Candy Toxton marriage at El Rancho Vegas, a man spoke up that his dtr. was marrying, too. 'Twas Jack Kelly, Grace's pop, resting there while Grace's mom was in L. A. shopping . . . Jaeger, the famed Lindy's waiter, was on the Jack Paar show recently. Asked to appear gratis, he shrugged, "Only the birds sing for nothing" . . . Chicago disk jockey Marty Faye, who calls himself "world's most hated d.j.," hassled on the air with Guy Mitchell . . . An entertainer, often mentioned in scandal mags, says, "I wish I'd had all the fun they say I've had."

At the "Carousel" premiere a guest told the Mexican U.N. representative, "I'm very fond of your country—I just got my divorce there" . . . Del Casino, former singing star, is now a salesman of airplane parts . . . Morty Gunty says the Miami hotels are so crowded that "you have to have a reservation to get turned down."

Escapes Fiery Plane

CHARLESTOWN, R. I. (AP)—Using his regulation hunting knife, Navy Lt. Daniel M. Reddy, 28, of Sunbury, Pa., hacked his way out of his burning plane yesterday after a crash at an auxiliary landing field. He escaped without apparent injury but was held overnight at the Quonset Point Infirmary for observation.

Hollywood Headlines:

Former Mayor O'Dwyer Going Into Film Business

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — One of the important stories of the week is William Goetz's move to Warner Brothers to produce an outside picture for Jack Warner. For days now negotations have been going on.

In fact, three weeks ago I telephoned to ask about the story that Bill would personally produce "Sayonara," the charming tale by James Michener.

Today I was told "Sayonara" starts late this year and will be filmed partly in Japan and partly in Hollywood. Paul Osborn, who was nominated this year for "East of Eden," has been given the scripting job.

This does not mean that Bill is leaving Columbia. He has three pictures in work there.

That amiable person, New York's former mayor and more recently our ambassador to Mexico, William O'Dwyer, is going into the motion picture business. He and Albert C. Gannaway have formed International Pictures, Inc., which will give the world two pictures annually.

The first picture Bill has chosen is "Tramp Steamer," an original by Tom Hubbard. June 10 is given as the starting date, and Ray Milland is the first choice for the lead.

SOME SURPRISES

In the academy nominations there were some surprises and disapointments. I thought surely Rod Steiger would be nominated either for Judd in "Oklahoma!" or for "The Court Martial of Billy Mitchell."

Another surprise was Glenn Ford, who most certainly deserved a nomination for either "Trial," "Blackboard Jungle" or "Interrupted Melody." He'll never have a better year than 1955. I also thought Rosalind Russell would be paged for "Picnic."

It was a foregone conclusion that Susan Hayward, Anna Magnani, Ernie Borgnine, Jimmy Cagney, Arthur O'Connell and, of course, Jack Lemmon would win nominations.

It was a big moment in Susie's life and she was very gracious. So was Eleanor Parker, who has been nominated so many times. Too bad so many of the nominees were absent.

As I walked into Chasen's, Bing Crosby was walking out with Kathy Grant. He leaves as soon as he finishes "High Society" for a two-month trip to Europe with Jimmy Van Heusen.

He'll take a camera with him to shoot footage of his trip and, as I said before, I'm pretty sure he'll attend Grace Kelly's wedding.

And, while Bing never told me this, I belive he'll discover while he's abroad whether absence makes the heart grow fonder where the little Grant girl is concerned. For some time now she's been the only one he's been dating.

Waterford, Farmington Pass Issues in Tuesday Vote

OK $3,500,000 Schools Fund

City-Township Library Assured in Election at Farmington

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Election returns from yesterday's Waterford Township School District $3,500,000 bond issue election showed that voters approved the Board of Education's latest building program. 926 votes were cast favoring the proposition and 568 against.

Although this represented only slightly more than ten per cent of the registered voters (14,700), it was heavier than usual for a school election.

Of the $3,500,000, $2,000,000 will be used to construct and equip a second junior high school. It will be located on the corner of Hatchery and Crescent Lake roads, next to the new John Montieth School. This site is already owned by the school district.

The amount of $150,000 will purchase six sites, approximately 100 acres. Four of these sites will be used for elementary buildings, one for a future third junior high and one for a future second high school.

ELEMENTARY BUILDINGS

$1,250,000 will be used to build and equip the four elementary buildings and $100,000 to construct an addition to the Jayno Adams School.

* * *

Approval of the bond issue does not mean an increase in the tax rate. Because the bond issue for the construction of the high school is almost cleared and because recent state legislation allows schools longer periods of time in which to pay off money borrowed for construction, the present millage is sufficient officials said.

FARMINGTON

Floyd Cairns, township clerk, reported last night that less than 8 per cent of the township's 6,450 registered voters made the decision for the library. Of the 467 persons voting, 297 voted yes, and 167, no.

The three tenths mill levy authorized by the vote is expected to raise $10,334 for the year, making the area eligibe for assistance from the state.

The proposed site for the library, as well as funds for its construction, are available to the district through the estates of former residents. The city's share of the cost comes within its budget.

Deviate Control Bills Go Up to State Senate

LANSING (AP)—Three bills tightening state control over sex criminals were before the Senate today after overwhelming House approval.

The package legislation, introduced by Rep. Robert W. Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe), passed the House last year but died in a Senate committee.

The principal measure permits judges to sentence sex criminals to indeterminate terms of from one day to life without first determining that the offenders are "sexual delinquents."

Waldron said wording of the present law had prevented judges from using the indefinite sentences in all but a few cases.

Another of the bills requires psychiatric examinations of offenders by at least two physicians before sentencing to indefinite terms.

The third requires the state parole board to review the records of persons convicted under the law every six months. Convicts whose records were coming up for review would be examined by prison psychiatrists.

Kinsel Drug Official Dies of Heart Attack

DETROIT (AP)—Joseph E. Hallman, 62, general manager of Kinsel Drug Co., died of a heart attack in his office yesterday.

He joined the drug firm as a pharmacist in 1919 after serving in the first world war. A native of Fowler, Clinton County, he was a graduate of Ferris Institute.

Opera Singer Carl Palangi to Appear in Waterford Music Series March 1

'GABLE WITH VOICE OF PINZA' — Carl Palangi's recital at Waterford which begins at 8:15 p. m. March 1, is part of an extensive concert tour, and will include arias from Handel's "Berenice," DaGagliano's "La Flora," Lully's "Alceste" and Borodin's "Prince Igor." His selections also include numbers by such composers as Paolo Tosti, Arrigo Boito, Claude Debussy, Georges Bizet, and Peter Ilich Tschaikowsky.

By JANE WINDELER
Waterford Correspondent

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Carl Palangi, popular young bass-baritone who will sing Thursday, March 1, at the Isaac E. Crary Junior High School auditorium under the auspices of the Waterford Township Civic Music Assn. has been widely acclaimed for his triple starring in opera, concert and television. Known for his regal performance as the Tsar in Boris Godunoff, Palangi has proved equally successful as actor and singer in such strongly contrasting roles as Don Giovanni, Mephistopheles, and Jabez Stone in The Devil and Daniel Webster.

Winner of the San Francisco Music Critics' award, the artist has been a featured soloist with the San Francisco Symphony under Pierre Monteux and Arthur Fiedler, with the San Diego Philharmonic and other West Coast orchestras.

He is a member of the San Francisco Opera Company, the Stanford University Opera, and is in radio and television. On his last visit to Europe, Palangi received flattering opera and film offers in France and Italy, but returned to the United States to increase his already extensive repertoire of roles.

Looking back a dozen years to his boyhood, no one could be more surprised than Carl Palangi himself that he should have turned out to be an opera singer.

TRAINED AS BOXER

At fifteen he was driving a beer truck in Cleveland in the afternoon, going to school in the morning, and boxing in the evening, with no thought of becoming a singer. He trained as a boxer, but with the advent of the war found himself in the Navy. Here his rich bass voice was discovered and commandeered for solo performance with the Great Lakes Naval Choir.

Not until after the war, however, did Palangi decide on a musical career. Encouraged by musical experts, he then began intensive studies in voice, languages, acting and repertoire.

The singer has been signed for television films with a seventy-piece orchestra under the direction of Werner Janssen, who enthusiastically describes Palangi as "A young Gable with the voice of a Pinza."

Yugoslav Planes Bombing Icepacks Blocking Rivers

LONDON (AP)—Yugoslav air force planes bombed giant icepacks blocking Adriatic rivers today in a "declaration of war" against Europe's worst winter in living memory.

The shivering Continent counted 762 known dead as the subzero spell rolled up its 23rd day with little or no relief in sight.

Floods and landslides caused fresh chaos in Italy and parts of Southern Europe as a slight thaw set in.

Crop damage on the Continent ran into hundreds of millions of dollars. Vegetable stocks ran dangerously low in many places.

Spanish air force planes finally succeeded in dropping food supplies to nearly 60 persons marooned for 15 days atop the highest mountain on Majorca in the Mediterranean Balearic Islands. The group—which reportedly included six Americans—is preparing a site for a U.S. radar station.

LOWEST SINCE 1766

German weather experts said the freeze-up may be Central Europe's worst in 200 years. They said the average temperature for the first 20 days of February ran slightly below the lowest average for the month since records were first kept in 1766.

Asks Legislature for School Study

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Allison Green (R-Kingston) asked the Legislature today to establish a committee to study the need for a new state medical school.

Green said Grand Rapids, Lansing, Flint and other cities are vying for the new school, under study by the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

"There will be a lot of pressures brought to bear in selecting a site and I think the Legislature should have something to say about it," Green said.

John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president, has expressed a strong interest in establishing a medical school at MSU.

Hannah told the last meeting of the State Board of Agriculture the interests of the people would best be served if the Legislature were represented on a committee studying the need for a new medical school.

George Higgins Talks at Ortonville Event

About 40 former members attended the event, and ladies of St. Anne Church served dinner.

To Sponsor Card Party

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Auburn Heights Community Club will sponsor a public card party at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Club house, 220 S. Squirrel Rd.

Dreyer Sisters Add 4 Trophies to Collection

KEEGO HARBOR — The Dreyer sisters, Sharon, Arlene and Marilyn, of Wards Point Drive, have added four more trophies to their large collection of awards for baton twirling.

The girls each took first place in their individual age groups, at the Land of Lakes baton contest here this week.

They also placed first in team competition.

Asks Senate for Way to Bring Gas to U.P.

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Leo H. Roy (R-Hancock) has asked the Senate to set up a three member committee to investigate ways of bringing natural gas to Upper Peninsula communities.

In a resolution filed Tuesday, Roy said that civic and business leaders in the area have experienced difficulty in trying to arrange for gas service and applied to the Senate Public Utilities Committee for help.

The resolution proposes that the committee be authorized to subpoena witnesses in the course of its study and to examine books and records of persons and companies "involved in a matter properly before" the group.

MSU Prof to Speak

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Assistant Prof. Allen S. Whiting of Michigan State University will speak at a University of Michigan political science round table Thursday. The topic is "Internal Economic and Political Conditions in Formosa."

See Senate OK for Wide Probe

May Approve 1-Year Inquiry Into Attempts to 'Influence' Solons

WASHINGTON (INS) — Overwhelming Senate approval was expected today for a sweeping investigation into "illegal" or "improper" efforts to influence the outcome of legislation in the Senate.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson called up his resolution authorizing the $350,000 inquiry after both Democratic and Republican policy committees unanimously approved the proposal.

The measure, an outgrowth of the Case "influence" incident, would create an eight-man, bipartisan committee to conduct a year-long inquiry into "attempts to influence improperly or illegally the Senate or any member thereof."

The far-reaching investigation would cover "campaign contributions, political activities, lobbying or any and all other activities or practices."

Senate investigators were reported today to have found indications that oilman Howard B. Keck made his biggest political contribution in recent years to the national Citizens for Eisenhower Committee.

State Finance Group Okays Bond Issues

LANSING (AP)—The State Municipal Finance Commission at its regular meeting yesterday approved the following bond issue proposals:

Rochester Community Unit School District, Oakland and Macomb Counties, $1,150,00 for buildings.

'Cross Is the Answer,' Theme of Lenten Series

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church, has announced the schedule of Lenten Services to be held at the church each Wednesday evening until Easter. Theme of the meditation is, "The Cross Is the Answer." A closing "Service of the Lighted Cross" will be devoted to quiet meditation, and special lenten music is included each week. The time of the service is 8 p.m.

Keego Adopts Building Code

Approve Police Salary; Appoint New Officials for City

KEEGO HARBOR — Thomas J. Dillon, City Attorney, presented the proposed Building Code and a Schedule of Fees for action at the Keego Harbor City Council meeting last night. Both the code and the schedule were adopted.

The Council appointed Wilma Webb to the Election Commission for a period of two years. Mayor Jack Loveland and City Clerk Edward Hermoyian are on the Commission by virtue of the Charter.

Bernard Schilling, Mrs. Maude Punches and George Hahnefeld Sr. were appointed as members of the Board of Review.

There was a discussion on salaries for the Police Department and the Council approved a yearly salary of $4,300 for a patrolman, $4,600 for a sergeant and $5,000 for a chief. They also approved a set salary rise after the six months probationary period and merit raises thereafter.

Persons present at the public meeting requested that city offices be kept open evenings and Saturday afternoons for voting registration.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's group volunteered time to the city, providing they were "schooled and deputized." Arrangement were to be made in City Hall here today.

Ben J. Moshier was approved by the council as fire marshall for the city and John Sellman was appointed as deputy fire marshall.

1st Talks Slated in Jet Walkout

U.S. Mediators, Union Will Meet at Republic Aviation Tomorrow

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Federal mediators and union leaders meet tomorrow in a first step aimed at ending a strike that has halted jet plane production at the Republic Aviation Corp.

Mediator Frank H. Brown said "every effort will be made to develop" an agreement to "resolve this existing impasse."

A company spokesman said Republic had not received a request for mediation meetings.

Seventy-six persons, practically all pickets, have been arrested in skirmishing since the wage strike started early Sunday.

12,000 STRUCK

About 12,000 production workers walked out at Republic's main plant here and at three smaller ones at Port Washington, Hicksville and Greenlawn. All the plants are on Long Island.

Republic has a backlog of half a billion dollars in government guided missile and jet plane orders. No planes were coming off the production line. But a few completed before the strike were given finishing touches and flown away.

Police arrested 17 fist-swinging pickets in morning and evening melees here and at the Port Washington plant yesterday. The first nonstriker was also arrested. All were released on bond.

Pushing, shoving and scuffling broke out when nonstrikers tried to breach picket lines and enter the plant. About 7,000 engineers, scientists, supervisors and office workers have not joined the International Assn. of Machinists in the strike.

County Births

THOMAS

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stafford (Mary Lee) of Flint are parent sof a son, Samuel Scott.

Troy Man Claims Bride in Methodist Ceremony

TROY — Troy Methodist Church was the setting Friday evening for the marriage of Ann Hackney and Irwin Sutherland.

The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Hackney of Hartford, S. D. and Irwin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sutherland of 623 Creston St., Troy.

The bride approached the altar on the arm of her uncle, Shirley Miller of Louisville, Ky., wearing a ballerina-length gown of white lace over satin. The gown featured a Peter Pan collar, snug bodice and long sleeves. A beaded tiara caught the shoulder length veil, and a cascade of white carnations centered with red roses set off the ensemble.

Mrs. Ray Sutherland was matron of honor and Mrs. Dale Sutherland was bridesmaid.

Dale Sutherland served as best man. Ray Sutherland was groomsman and ushers were Ray Zellers and Floyd McKinnon.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors.

They will reside in Farmington where Irvin is a teacher in the high school.

5 Rabies Clinics Set for Sunday

Vaccination Is Offered on Non-Profit Basis for County Dogs

Pontiac and Oakland County dog owners will have a final chance to get their dogs vaccinated against rabies in five non-profit clinics Sunday.

Last in a series of Rabies Vaccination Clinics will be held from 1 p.m. to 4 pm. Sunday in five area locations, it was announced today by Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director.

The clinics vaccinate dogs for a fee of $1.50, on a cost basis.

Dr. Monroe pointed out that the deadline for obtaining dog licenses is Marth 1, and proof of vaccination for rabies is required before dogs can be licensed in Oakand County. Location of the clinics will be:

Ortonville Fire Hall, Ortonville.

Oakland County Animal Shelter, 1200 E. Walton Blvd., Pontiac.

Approximately 2,300 dogs have been vaccinated so far this year in the Sunday clinics.

"We urge every dog owner who has not already done so to take advantage of the non-profit inoculation program," Dr. Monroe said. "In this way he will be assured of protection and safety not only for his dog but for his neighbors and the general public as well."

County Deaths

Mrs. Christine Davies

CLARKSTON — Service for Mrs. Christine Davies, 72, 4220 Foley, Waterford Township, will be at 2 p.m. Friday, at the Sharpe Funeral Home in Clarkston, with burial in Lakeview Cemetery here. She died yesterday.

Mothers Club Slates Meeting at Roosevelt

KEEGO HARBOR—The Mothers Club of the Roosevelt School will hold a business meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium of the school.

Having held afternoon meetings in private homes for the past several years, the women have decided to conduct evening meetings.

All persons interested in the school are invited to attend.

Firm, Union Settle Headgear Dispute

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Sutherland Paper Co. and the United Paper Workers Union have settled their strike - precipitating dispute over hats for women workers.

The company had ordered women working on certain machines to wear a protective hat for safety reasons.

The women rebelled, complaining the hats gave them headaches. A walkout developed and a number of the women were fired.

Under the agreement announced yesterday, the discharged women will be reinstated.

A joint statement recognizes the company's right to discharge an employe who ignores obligations of the contract. The company also was given the right to continue disciplinary layoffs not to exceed 30 days.

The union agreed to withdraw unfair labor practice charges and the company agreed to withdraw a damage suit filed against the union.

Ferndale Mayor to Get 'Book of Golden Deeds'

FERNDALE — Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt will receive the annual Book of Golden Deeds on Thursday, an award of the Ferndale Exchange Club.

Garbutt, who is president of the Michigan Municipal League, has been active in Ferndale Civic affairs since 1936. He was appointed to the City Commission in 1947 and elected mayor in 1949.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Open House at Waterford

WATERFORD VILLAGE — Waterford Village PTA will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the school.

Open House is slated and parents are invited to visit their children's rooms and talk with teachers.

There will be a film on the "History of DuPont Industries." This is also Father's night. Refreshments will be served.

Wixom

Wixom PTA will celebrate Founders' Day with a special program Thursday beginning at 8 p.m. Highlighting the program will be a talk by Lt. Governor Philip A. Hart on the hospitalization of mentally retarded children.

Members of the Township Road Committee will summarize township road problems.

Avon Township

Two members of the Hamlin PTA will give their annual Pancake and Sausage Supper at the Hamlin School on Saturday, between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m.

Persons who have put forth a great deal of time and effort to make the event a success say a large attendance is expected. Tickets may be had by calling OL 1-0521, or purchased at the door.

WHEN RHEUMATISM OR ARTHRITIS STRIKES— Save Time, Suffering And Money WITH O-JIB-WA BITTERS

Read these statements from satisfied users of famous O-JIB-WA BITTERS:

Before using your medicine, I used to sit up in bed at night and cry because the pains of arthritis were unbearable. Mrs. L.B., Detroit.

I would have saved myself a lot of painful suffering if I had of tried O-Jib-Wa Bitters sooner. Mrs. C.R.B., Muskegon.

It is wonderful to be up and around after suffering from arthritis for so long. Mrs. A.B., Lake Odessa.

I couldn't bend my knee, and thought I would never walk normal again. I'm all better now through thanks of O-Jib-Wa. Mrs. H.A., Detroit.

Don't let arthritis become crippling and prevent you from enjoying life. I found new health in O-Jib-Wa Bitters. Mr. R.M., Flint.

I am certainly grateful for the relief from rheumatism that O-Jib-Wa has given me after 10 years of suffering. Mr. E.L., Lansing.

Arthritis caused my knees to swell like balloons and I was doomed for a wheel chair before discovering O-Jib-Wa. Mrs. J.G., Holt.

I'm a real booster for your wonderful medicine since it relieved my rheumatism, arthritis and stomach trouble. Mrs. L.T., Jackson.

I was completely off my feet and thought I would never walk again. I put my crutches away after using your Bitters. Mrs. C.B., Hazel Park.

Nothing ever helped my arthritis until I tried O-Jib-Wa. I was disappointed with everything I ever tried until I tried your medicine. G.G., Sault Ste. Marie.

DON'T SAY OH! Say O-JIB-WA To Your Druggist

Customers' Corner

Once upon a savings-time ...

Sound like a fairy tale? It isn't ... it's true! Ninety-six years ago, George Huntington Hartford started a store that turned into a chain ... and his basic thinking started a chain reaction that has benefited budgets ever since..

His idea: "Always do what is honest, fair and sincere and in the best interests of our customers."

Our idea: to continue to keep this policy active and operating for Founder's Week and every week, as long as there's an A&P!

Raps Attention Given Race Spat

Gov. Folsom Asks Both Sides for Cooperation in Solving Problem

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. James E. Folsom says the "world-wide attention" given the racial disturbances at the University of Alabama "has been very much overplayed."

He called on white persons and Negroes yesterday to "approach our problems in the spirit of calmness, understanding, debate and deliberation."

The governor said there is "naturally . . . a fundamental difference between races and tribes since the beginning of time. There is a difference in the fundamental laws of nature regarding the animal kingdom.

"The great masses of Alabama Negroes do not fear their white brothers as much as they do some of their overanxious leaders. Likewise the great masses of the white people do not fear the masses of the colored people as much as they fear some of the extremist white agitators.

"I say to the great masses of both races, let us approach our problems in the spirit of calmness, understanding, debate and deliberation.

"Especially do I call on each of individually and collectively to approach our problems without fear of one race or the other race."

Free China reports its population is now more than 10 million.

His Profits Melt Away but He Keeps on Cutting

Even though iceboxes have gone the way of the horse and buggy, there's a steady demand for fresh ice for railroads, meat markets, bakeries and dairies.

They keep Michael McCarty, Marquette ice dealer, busy cutting some 10,000 cakes a year. He recalls that years ago he used to put up 15,000 cakes but has kept at the 10,000 mark for the past 10 years.

Explaining the rather modest decline in demand, McCarty points out that even in the old days, much of the ice was sold to commercial users who are still the quantity buyers.

Railroads use ice for cooler cars and to keep drinking water cold for section hands. Some air conditioning systems require ice. There are even a few home ice boxes left.

FROM DEAD RIVER

McCarty cuts his ice from the Dead River in cakes 17 to 20 inches deep. A special machine takes off the spongy top layer and gets down to good ice. Then a rotary saw cuts the ice into rafts.

The ice rafts are floated through a channel, broken into cakes and poled onto a ramp that dumps them into trucks for delivery to the ice house. There the cakes are piled in a walled pits and blanketed with a thick layer of sawdust.

"We usually count on losing one tier through melting," says McCarty, "but with melting our cakes are usually about the right size for railroad cars which take 22 by 34 inch cakes."

McCarty figures his profit "very roughly" at about a cent a pound. That's why, he says, "an ice cutter really has to work hard to keep his profit from melting away."

Benny's Daughter to Obtain Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joan Benny Baker, 21, daughter of comedian Jack Benny, is scheduled to obtain a divorce in Reno, Nev., tomorrow from Seth Baker. Friends said she then plans to wed Bud Rudolph, owner of a Beverly Hills haberdashery.

The two are scheduled to sail for the Orient on a honeymoon Saturday.

First Contract Ratified

LANSING (AP) — Office workers of the Lansing Motor Wheel Corp., who recently voted to join the UAW-CIO ratified their first contract under the union with 96 per cent of those voting approving. The contract included union shop and dues checkoff clauses and will run for three years.

The Gold Coast has been advised that its documentary film "Mr. Mensah Builds a House" was acclaimed at the 1955 Edinburgh Film Festival.

Hughes' Flying Boat Slated for Eviction

The Long Beach Board of Harbor Commissioners ordered the city attorney yesterday to notify Hughes his craft, the Hercules, must be removed from the terminal Island facilities by April 1. The boat made one brief trial over water in 1948.

Hughes has been paying rent on the city property, but Long Beach sent back the last tender of payment.

On march 17, 1954, Hughes sued Long Beach for 12 million dollars for damages to the flying boat sustained when a dyke broke Sept. 13, 1953, and the boat's hangar was flooded with mud and silt.

New York City had 68,500 marriages in 1955, 2 per cent less than in 1954.

Finds Motorist Dead

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP) — Don Alward of Lake, Isabella County, recognized a neighbor, Ira Cheadle, 74, sitting in a car pulled out on the shoulder of a rural road. Thinking the car was stalled, Alward started to give it a push. He discovered Cheadle, sitting upright with his pipe still in his mouth, was dead with a heart attack.

Fashion Designers Break Out With Spring Fever

Here is the famed Anne Fogarty shirtwaist — from the designer's 1956 "back to spring" collection. In pussywillow gray plaid silk taffeta, the skirt is crisply full all around and the belt is patent.

News for spring from the collection of Betty Carol for Mam'selle is in this costume with a much-shorter jacket in the Spanish mood. The black and white silk and cotton tweed jacket is outlined by black braid, lined in crimson cotton. The slim shaped-to-flatter parfait sheath is in black cotton with narrow shoulder straps.

For those who prefer the box jacket suit, Harry Frechtel shows this blue and gray imported basket-weave wool, designed for spring. Drop shoulder raglan sleeves, like the neckline and sides of the jacket, are edged with navy grosgrain.

Telephone Before Visit to Friends

Be Sure They Are Home and Ready to See Callers

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter asks: "Before going to visit friends, is it not proper to call them on the telephone to say that we are coming over? I always insist upon doing this, but my husband thinks it is foolish and entirely unnecessary. We would appreciate having your opinion on this matter."

Answer: It is very practical to do so, and it insures their being at home and ready to see you. Or it gives them a chance to ask you to come at another time if it is not convenient for them to see you on that particular evening.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died five years ago and just about two years later my father remarried. I have a wonderful stepmother whom I respect very much as she has been very good to me.

"I am going to announce my engagement shortly and am puzzled as to how the announcement in the paper should be worded. I do not want to slight my stepmother nor do I want to ignore my real mother. Will you please tell me how both can be included in the announcement."

Answer: Correctly the announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones of his daughter, Margaret, to Mr. John Smith. You then add, "The bride-to-be's mother was the late Mary Worthington Jones."

"Dear Mrs. Post: In writing to a business acquaintance who is on equal social basis, is it proper to refer to his wife as 'your wife' or as 'Mrs. Jones'? If both forms are proper, which do you prefer?"

Answer: You would most properly call her "Mrs. Jones" — though "your wife" is also proper. He, however, should not speak of her as Mrs. Jones, but as "my wife," or to an intimate friend as "Mary."

Gathering Is Held by New Sylvanites

Sewing and cards were enjoyed by members at the social meeting. Mrs. William Almas of Beverly avenue will entertain at the next meeting.

Sisterhood Has Meeting

Mrs. Harold Abrams gave the opening prayer at the Tuesday meeting of Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob held at the temple.

Following luncheon, Mrs. Irving Gordon, president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Herman Stenbuck introduced a program celebrating Jewish Music Month. Following a brief explanation of the history of Jewish music, Mrs. Jack Freeland of Detroit sang several selections, accompanied by Mildred Kates of Detroit.

Mrs. Freeland, a student of Margarite Kozenn of Detroit, has also studied in New York. Her selections included "Aria of Ruth" by Tedesco, "Summertime" by George Gershwin, "Palestinian Nights," an Israeli song, "Galil," and a Jewish lullaby, "Viglid."

Mrs. Kenneth Soloman conducted the closing prayer.

Frieda Huggett Talks to AAUW About Holy Land

Members of the AAUW met Monday evening at the Adah Shelly Library.

Miss Huggett took the group on a pictorial visit of the Holy Land. She explained the tension now existing between Arabs and Israelis and depicted the old and new cultures there.

She will study in Europe this summer and will represent the Pontiac Branch of AAUW at the international conference of the organization in Paris.

Meeting Conducted by Wesleyan Class

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Mitchell of Dixie highway were hosts to the Wesleyan Class of the First Methodist Church Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Covert Brown and Mr. and Mrs. John Grelson assisted the hosts.

Talmadge Shelton opened the meeting with prayer, followed by a devotional message by Mrs. Robert Murphy taken from Ephesians.

Red can be dangerous. One spot of it is enough. Red gloves are fine. But red gloves, handbag and hat are terrible. Its use should be subtle, not screaming.

Grace Names More Bridesmaids

Rita Gam Will Serve at Wedding

Sister, School Pal Among Attendants for Monaco Rite

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Grace Kelly has added her sister Peggy, actress Rita Gam and a school chum to the entourage of bridesmaids at the blonde beauty's April wedding to Prince Rainier III of Monaco.

Grace's eldest sister, Mrs. George L. Davis Jr. of Philadelphia, will be a bridesmaid and Mrs. Davis' children, Margaret Ann, 9, and Mary Lee, 7, will be flower girls along with two nieces of the prince.

Miss Gam confirmed in New York that she will serve in the bridal party.

The school friend who will take part in the altar phase of the international romance is Mrs. Arvid A. Pamp of Wyndmoor, Pa., who attended the Stevens School with Miss Kelly.

It has been announced that Mrs. Elizabeth Gray of Belmont, Mass., also will be a bridesmaid. She and Grace were students together at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York in 1947.

It was also reported unofficially that another bridesmaid will be Mrs. Jay Kantor of New York, daughter of Barney Balaban, head of Paramount Pictures.

Other reports said that Mrs. John B. Richardson and Mrs. Malcolm Reybold, both of New York, have been invited as members of the wedding party.

Mrs. Davis confirmed that the bridal attendants' gowns will come from Neiman-Marcus, exclusive fashion store in Dallas, Tex.

Mrs. Pamp, whose husband is vice president of Sears Roebuck and Co., Colombia, South America, said she will sail on the USS Constitution on April 4 with members of the Kelly family and the wedding party.

Film actress Rita Gam, photographed in her New York apartment, has that "wonder what I'll wear" look after disclosing that she will be a bridesmaid at the April wedding of Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier III of Monaco. Miss Gam and Miss Kelly became acquainted at a New York television rehearsal five years ago and later shared a Hollywood apartment.

Flowers Appear in Cottons

All bouffant-skirted, the featured cottons in the current issue of a national magazine are printed, embroidered and trimmed with daisies in field - flower yellow and white or gardener's pink.

Scattered at random across one golden dress are tiny yellow and white "love me" blossoms. Fine line piping traces the scoop neck and long-stemmed waistline. A daisy chain circles the belt of a sunshine-yellow shirtwaist. This cotton is tailored and tucked above the waist and a shower of unpressed pleats fans out below.

Two gardena-afresh, pinchecked pink ginghams are generously embroidered with pink daisies. One, with shirtband collar and puffed sleeves, is decked with eyelet blooms and hemmed by a wide, solid flounce. The other has daisy stripes running round and round its crinolined skirt and dipping to form V's on its bateau - necked bouffant-sleeved bodice.

Well-pruned pink baby - daisies climb in orderly tucks from hem to bateau neckline of another pale pink cotton.

You won't have to fumble in the dark if you use luminous paint on light switches or strings.

Former Steady Torments Girl With Lies

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Did you ever have a dream in which you were furiously mad and rained powerful blows with your fists on your victim's head, inflicting as much damage as though you were wielding a powder puff?

The emotion was strong enough, but the physical effort was fragile. How much madder you get, and how frustrated, in such a dream.

Just the way you feel when somebody's telling lies about you and you can't stop it.

Here's a girl who has asked politely, pleaded, cried and fought with her persecutor — to no avail. What else is there for her to do? She writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: After going with him for over a year I broke up with him a couple of weeks ago because he was too mushy. Ever since he's been saying things about me wherever I go. I asked him not to, but he lies more than ever.

"The other night he and some other boys got my new boy friend mad at me by telling him whoppers. That made me cry and we finally had a fight in front of a lot of our friends. My new boy friend is shy and I don't know how to get things patched up with him.

"Please tell me what to do so my former boy friend won't ruin my fun any longer."

Answer: I strongly suspect that you explained quite bluntly to this boy why you were breaking off with him. In which case you cut him to the quick, wounded him in his very delicate pride.

That his touch should offend you made him feel like a leper. Small wonder he's feeling bitter about you at the moment.

I also suspect that the lies he's telling concern said mush. In which case he is telling lies about himself, too. For he was there, wasn't he?

If you can get him alone in a quiet place sometime soon, apologize to him quite sincerely for your part in the scene the other night. Tell him you're sorry you lost control of yourself.

Add, too, that you're sorry he feels, after all the fun you've had together, that he must hurt you by telling stories he knows aren't true. The only funny thing about it is that he's ruining his own reputation at the same time and giving everybody a very poor impression of himself.

After all, a gentleman doesn't kiss and tell — and make up whopper about things that never happened. Then let it go at that. Ask for no favors, just go your way, and try to avoid him and his gang for a while.

Your new boy friend may realize that he didn't give you a chance to defend yourself, innocent party that you are, and he may come around to patch things up with you.

Don't chase him. Lie low for a while, until the thing blows over, and your old boy friend finds himself a new girl. His talk will stop then. She'll see to it.

Chocolate Loaf Made Quick Way

Mrs. Irons Shares Cocoa Cake Recipe Sans Milk and Eggs

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When we copied today's recipe for chocolate cake, we realized that it is an excellent one for people who are allergic to milk and eggs. Mrs. Charles Irons of Lake Orion, who shares her recipe with us says it's her family's favorite cake.

The Irons family lives at Tommy's Lake. Mrs. Irons is a former president of the PTA and belongs to an Extension club. She is currently enthusiastic about a home business she is starting.

VINEGAR CAKE
(No eggs or milk)
By Mrs. Charles Irons

1½ cups sifted flour
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon vinegar
5 tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm water

Sift dry ingredients together. Add vanilla, vinegar and shortening. Pour water over mixture and beat well. Bake 30-40 minutes in a greased pan in a 350-degree oven. Makes an 8x8x2 pan. Frost as desired.

Pattern No. 8060 is in sizes 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 years. Size 2, dress and bonnet, 2¼ yards of 35-inch; cape, 1⅜ yards of 54-inch.

For this pattern, send 35c in coins, your name, address, size desired, and the pattern number to Sue Burnett, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy street, Chicago 6, Ill.

Some Shortcuts for Thrifty Lasses

Casting about for ways to look smart on a shoe-string? To compete with the best-dressed on practically nothing-a-year?

This predicament is not an uncommon one, what with income taxes just around the corner. But the way out of this dilemma is the use of color—small in outlay, big in returns.

Line a sweater with a gay new print. Or use it to line and freshen up last year's tote bag. Wrap last year's skirts with a this-year's colored cummerbund.

Try Orange Tapioca as Dinner Dessert

Combine 4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca, ½ cup sugar, dash of salt and 2½ cups reconstituted frozen orange juice in a saucepan, mixing well. Cook over medium heat on the top burner of your gas range until mixture comes to a boil. Remove from heat. Cool, stirring once after 20 minutes. Cover and chill. Serve with plain or whipped cream and garnish with fresh orange segments.

A Best dressed little man wears a suit with a casual air. Splash tweed jacket with flap pockets. Solid color gabardine pants. Sizes 3 to 8. Blue or brown. $7.95 and up

B In the spring he loves casual dress clothes . . . and all wool tweed sport coat. Sizes 6 to 12. $12.99. Wash 'n wear dacron slacks. Brown, blue or grey. Sizes 6 to 12. $5.98.

Complainers Make Us Feel Guilty

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

This morning, Mrs. D.'s widowed mother telephoned and — like the dwarf in the fairy tale — asked her to perform three impossible tasks.

First, by complaining about her insomnia again, she asked Mrs. D. for peace of mind. Second, by complaining of eyestrain, she asked Mrs. D. to return her vigorous youth.

Third, by declaring that she could not survive her approaching 38th wedding anniversary without Mrs. D.'s dead father, she asked his child to restore him to life.

Unlike the maiden in the fairy tale, poor Mrs. D. did not register the fact that impossibilities had been demanded of her.

She was oppressed by the feeling that she had somehow failed her mother. Unreasonable though it was, it seen hardened into heavy conviction.

SHE SLAPPED HIM

The result was, when her young Billy trustfully showed her the hole he'd torn in his sweater, she slapped him in exasperation instead of noting how easily it could be darned. And in the same beaten-down state of mind, she served his father slices of an off-hand cold dinner.

He objected. And crying over her dishes in the kitchen, Mrs. D. thought despairingly, "Oh, dear, since Papa went, what a problem Mama is getting to be!"

Which is as silly as calling rain a "problem" because it wets your coat.

It is the nature of rain to wet our coats just as it's the nature of complainers to make us feel guilty. So what we do with one is to put up an umbrella — and with the other, learn to hear the real demands behind the complainer's complaints.

When he asks the possible like a reasonable being who can accept the limitations of his earthly life, we give it to him with kindness and goodwill. But when he starts demanding like the dwarf in the fairy tale, we find we have to end our telephone conversation.

HER PROBLEM

Developing this strength, not Mama, is Mrs. D.'s problem.

Parents should be particularly alert to magic-demanding complainers—and their fatal faculty for making us feel guilty, incompetent and disappointing. Young life is easily infected by depression in its environment.

Cosmetics Should Fit Activities

PARIS (INS) — There's as much difference as day and night between the makeup suitable for skiing and winter sports and the one you should wear for a party.

Paris beauty expert Stendhal gives advice on how to look stunningly beautiful for winter indoor parties. Like most Paris makeup experts, he puts the emphasis on the eyes.

Use a very light foundation cream and just as light a powder, but no rouge at all on the cheeks. Design the mouth in brilliant red to the shape of a playing card diamond standing on a point rather than the shape of a heart.

Use an eye pencil to outline the eye corners in an upward slanting triangle. Use mascara, and that heavily, on the lashes but on the outer side of the upper lid only. The eyelids are shaded in iridescent turquoise blue.

Put some cream on the eyelids, too, to make them look shiny. For winter sports choose a lipstick shade which is more orange than purplish.

KIMMIN'S LEATHER GOODS

Directoire: It's in Vogue This Season

An actress playing Josephine Bonaparte wouldn't stop with just a high-bosomed gown — she'd be faithful to the period down to beribboned topknot and the pale color of her skin, says a cosmetic manufacturer who more than hints at the need to key hair-do and make-up to new Empire fashions.

Another Directoire-inspired hair style he recommends for wear with new large hats has fullness spread wide, from ear to ear. This one, for which shorter hair can be adapted, is usually parted in the middle, is dipped loosely in one wave at the eyeline. Ends are flipped out.

The correct make-up for Empire styles?

His answer to that one: The palest possible foundation make-up, and a minimum of rouge. To help eyes hold their own with big, bold hat, he suggests a blue or green eyeshadow blended subtly from lashes to brows and out toward the temples, pencil-lined lids, a bit more eyebrow emphasis and lash make-up on both uppers and lowers.

Lips should be made up to look as ripe and rosy as possible to balance eye make-up. A rich ruby red is a true Empire shade.

Coming Events

Ladies Auxiliary 1230, FOE, will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at 289 W. Montcalm St. for initiation and Birthday Night.

Women's Missionary Society of First Baptist Church will have a dessert luncheon Thursday at 12:30. Louise Lynit, director of a Philippine orphanage, will speak.

Welcome Rebekah Lodge 346 will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Malta Temple on Perkins street.

The Ladies Aid of St. John Lutheran Church will meet Thursday at 1 p.m. in the parsonage, 745 Owego Dr.

Tiona Circle of Reorganized Latter Day Saints Church will meet with Julia Davis, 109 Chamberlain St., Thursday at 8 p.m.

The Friends' prayer meeting will be held with Mrs. Mattie Jackson, 27 Miller St., Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

You can make capes, capelets and stoles if you're economy-minded. Add panels to your basic slim skirt to make it up to the minute.

The return of the stole as an important cover-up idea involves wool stoles — brief, wrapped and buttoned stoles add top bulk to slim silhouettes. Capes and capelets are the newest of these little wraps. You can make them yourself.

Provide an adquate amount of downlight from ceiling fixtures throughout the room. If downlight is present, every part of the room will be comfortable to be in, and no part will be a depressing dark shadow area.

Spring Styles Require Study About Flowers

PARIS (INS) — Looking fashionable this spring will require some brushing up on botany.

Roses, poppies, butter-cups, daisies, iris and zinnias have started to bloom in the greenhouse atmosphere of the Paris fashion centers.

Rose patterns will have a Japanese touch. Their colors will be 'melting,' without district contours, and look as if they were painted on blotting paper. Daisies and zinnias will seem to have been designed by primitive painters or even by children.

Large poppies printed on black backgrounds and blue iris with their green leaves will be reminiscent of the 1930 fashion period.

Oiling Appliance Can Be Delight

It won't be long now before spring cleaning time rolls around.

Chances are that along with this annual task you'll be cleaning and lubricating your home appliances.

To avoid the mess and mop-up which usually follows the lubricating of a vacuum cleaner or carpet sweeper, you might look into the use of powdered graphite as a lubricant.

Not only are graphite lubricants clean and dripless but they are fireproof, will not gum up and will last infinitely longer than liquid lubricants.

To the average person, graphite is vaguely recalled as the "lead" in a lead pencil. In fact, under certain emergency conditions, a soft lead pencil can be used as a lubricator. A frozen auto door lock, for example, can be made manageable by inserting and twirling the tip of a soft lead pencil.

Simple embroidery stitches plus applique will make you a set of these 'kitchen rack cuties.' It's that easy to make them for yourself or gift-giving.

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy street, Chicago 6, Ill.

Leather slippers—no longer prosaic—make a glamorous gift in one of the high-style "at home" styles, suitable for lounging or entertaining. These come in leathers ranging from soot-black, extra-soft suede to glittering gold kid.

Delta Kappa Gamma Hears Talk on Civil Defense

Alpha Beta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, honorary educational society, met Tuesday at the new West Bloomfield High School for a conducted tour of the building and a business meeting.

Serving as hostesses were Mrs. P. J. Kinsella, Mrs. Fay Ealy, Mrs. Eamer Bigsby and Mrs. George Panks.

Following the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Iva O'Dell, Mrs. Ealy introduced Mrs. John Warren, Mrs. Warren, chairman of civil defense for the Oakland Council of the PTA, gave a report on the progress being made by her department.

Working also as the assistant chairman of civil defense for West Bloomfield Township, she expressed the view that "all good Americans believe in the security of insurance, thus Americans are subscribing to the insurance which preparedness gives to manmade catastrophes and to disasters produced by nature."

She told graphically of the protective measures being taught adults. "These adults", she said, "will then train the children in first aid, and give to them a better understanding of personal protection."

Mrs. Warren continued with the progress being made by relating that "doctors and pharmacists are enrolled in this area for casualty care with headquarters in West Bloomfield High School.

"This township plan for emergencies commands road control and enlists aid from the Ground Observer Corps which maintains a 24-hour service manned by volunteers. We have established emergency welfare shelters to supply food and housing and have developed a full plan for their operation."

Mrs. Warren believes this plan is effective and should be considered by other townships wishing to be prepared for any type of disaster.

THIS YEAR IS THE NATURAL LOOK

The obvious artificial look in cosmetics is past. Today we have a new concept in the application of make-up. Today cosmetics are used to bring out personality and natural beauty of the individual.
Your own best feature should be emphasized. This isn't too difficult. Follow a few simple rules will guide you to a happy choice in your spring cosmetics.
The first consideration is the right choice in background make-up. This includes foundation, powder and eyebrow pencil. These should harmonize with your hair and skin. Foundation with pinkish tone adds warmth and life to a sallow or pale skin. If your skin is florid, a foundation in the beige tone will cool the appearance of your skin and give you the look of serenity. If your skin is healthy and attractive, match your foundation and powder to it. Color of your skin and hair should guide you in the choice of eyebrow of eyebrow pencil and mascara. Artificial light drains the color from your make-up. In the evening, foundation and powder should be pinker. Next week we will discuss accent make-up.

MR. and MRS. WILLIAM R. HARTT

Thyea Lehman Becomes Bride in Methodist Rite

The bride, of Argyle avenue, is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Botsford of Linton, Ind. The bridegroom, of Lake Orion, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hartt of Oxford.

Muzora J. Marcus of Royal Oak was maid of honor. She wore a blue silk gown with a pink hat, Her flowers were of pink carnations.

The newlyweds are on a Southern honeymoon.

RONALD LEIGHTON

Ronald Leighton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Leighton of East Montcalm street, will graduate Friday evening with a bachelor of mechanical engineering degree from General Motors Institute, Flint. While attending the institute Ronald received both silver and gold keys for service on the Social Council and was one of the few men initiated into the Robots. He leads his graduating class scholastically, is a member of Alpha Gamma Upsilon and has taken an active part in sports while attending the institute.

PTSA Entertains for Madison Staff

The staff of the new James Madison Junior High School was entertained at a luncheon given Tuesday by members of the executive board of the PTSA. Handling arrangements were Mrs. Francis Oak, Mrs. William Mihalek and Mrs. Wayne Weaver.

At a recent board meeting, members voted to send two representatives to the leadership training course to begin in March. The next PTSA meeting will be March 15 in the school library.

Fellowship Class Meets in Church

The Fellowship Bible Class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday evening in the Educational Building for a cooperative dinner and meeting. Devotions were given by Carl Franklin of Pennsylvania who used the "Parable of The Sower" as the subject.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denio and Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Campbell were in charge of the program for the evening. Charles Buchner, president, announced the contest to increase the class attendance. Points will be earned for attendance as well as for calls made to members or prospective members.

Topcoats Providing Change in Fashion

Any kind of change is always stimulating to men's wear. Topcoats provide the indisputable proof to this fact by emerging for winter weather in a whole new array of styles, shapes, colors and patterns.

Fabrics are lighter too — they keep the wearer just as warm as a heavy, bulky fabric, yet provide a new high level of comfort. And there is a topcoat to meet every occasion in any man's life.

For the "country squire," there is the raglan sleeve Balmacaan model full-cut from wool basket-weave fabric, in the lighter brown tones, especially tan and beige.

Red Wings Shuffle Back Into 2nd Place

Outburst in Final Stanza Beats Boston

New York Can Regain Spot in Game Tonight With Toronto

DETROIT (AP)—The Boston Bruins ran into grief at Detroit Olympia. The Bruins, battling for the fourth and last playoff berth in the National Hockey League, were clobbered by the Red Wings 4-1 last night. It was the 19th straight game they failed to win at Detroit.

There is less than a month to go in the schedule and the Bruins can't afford to lose many games. A win last night for the Bruins—they looked hot until Wings exploded for four goals in the third period—would have put them alone in 4th place and shifted the pressure to the Toronto Maple Leafs.

As it is now, Boston is tied with the Leafs with 48 points. Toronto gets a chance to move ahead in tonight's lone game. The Leafs visit New York, where they have lost all five games this season to the Rangers.

Marcel Bonin, who scored the Boston goal, and goaltender Terry Sawchuk kept the Bruins' victory chances alive for 47 minutes. However, Ted Lindsay, Dutch Reibel, Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio fired successive goals in the third period to beat them.

Bonin sent the Bruins into a 1-0 lead in the second period before a crowd of 11,248 fans. Sawchuk was great in stopping Detroit snipers for more than two periods. He handled 41 shots, 18 in the middle session. He was out of the nets—giving way to sixth attacker—when two of the goals were scored.

Lindsay took advantage of Cal Gardner's Boston penalty to tie the score at 7:28 of the third period. The veteran Detroit captain took Howe's long shot and beat Sawchuk for his 24th goal of the season.

Reibel made it 2-1 five minutes later completing a play with Lindsay and defenseman Red Kelly.

Sawchuk was taken off the ice with a minute to play and after Lindsay had missed once, Howe slid a 60-foot shot into the net at 19:23 for his 33rd goal of the season. Delvecchio scored at 19:39 with Sawchuk still on the bench.

Bloomfield Hills Seeks Entry in W-O Conference

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Little Bloomfield Hills High School, actually a youngster eight months old, is looking forward to mingling with pretty good competition in another year.

The beautiful Hills school has applied for membership in the Wayne-Oakland League and from all indications the loop is ready to accept an 8th member to its ranks.

Six of the seven W-O schools voted to accept the Barons. Brighton, one of the two Wayne County schools in the loop, abstained from voting and therefore Bloomfield's entry was pending for unanimous approval.

After a couple weeks' deliberation it seems that Brighton is ready to go along with the other six.

Competitively for the seven present schools, the Wayne-Oakland League has provided good competition and organization, even though its athletes get little recognition.

This is because of the attitude of the loop's board of control to debilitate the league by forbidding its members to participate in polls, balloting or anything that would put its athletes on a fair keel with athletes of other leagues.

A WISE MOVE FOR BLOOMFIELD HILLS

For Bloomfield Hills, however, it was a wise move to get out of the loose Southeast Suburban League. Bloomfield is presently a Class C school. Only other "C" school in the league right now is West Bloomfield.

Recent survey shows, however, that the Long Lake road prep unit should be about ready for Class B status by the time it begins actual competition in the league.

The Hillsmen would probably not embark into the Wayne-Oakland schedule until 1957, since schedules are prepared long in advance.

The magnificent basketball court of the Hills is adequately comfortable for a school its size and going up for expected use next fall is a football site, with baseball and tennis sites in the immediate future.

Most of all, Superintendent of Schools Eugene Johnson went out and found a versatile athletic leader in Don Hoff, former Minnesota athlete, who activated the sports program at Negaunee high school before coming to the area last fall.

Hoff's football team was the doormat of his league last year, and may likely be the mat of Wayne-Oakland for couple seasons, but as Don looks at it, "the mat will toughen up with wear."

DITTO MARKS IN THE PRESS BOX

The decadent national AAU committee and its inconsistent rules on amateurism is getting swatted from all sides, the press, the government and even member bodies such as the Missouri Valley Assn.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Saginaw Valley Conference has lost one of its newest and most ambitious coaches in the resignation of Jerry Ruelf. Ruelf came to the Valley circuit from Florida to take over the task of building a swimming team at Saginaw Eastern. Saginaw had never before had a tank squad because it had no pool. That was changed with erection of a fine new school and the Olympic-type pool.

In two years Ruelf has created a strong team, but he now goes back to Boca Ciega High School, St. Pete, Fla.

Neff Keeping Top Pace in Tiger Games

Rookie Outfielder From Ohio Holds Big Bat at Lakeland Camp

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Outfielder Gene Neff drove in three runs to help the Striped Sox to an 11-3 victory over the Black Sox in yesterday's exhibition game at the Tiger rookie spring training camp.

In three games at Tigertown, the 23-year-old Eaton, Ohio, rookie has batted in eight runs. He holds an early lead in long-ball honors with two home runs and a triple.

Neff hit .286 at Durham, N.C. last season and set a club record belting six home runs 390 feet over the park's left field fence.

Bill Froats, John Fickinger and John Tsitouris gave up seven hits to the Black Sox. Tsitouris allowed only one hit.

Paul Foytack, 25-year-old righthander who spent last season with the Tigers, held the winners scoreless on three hits for the opening three innings. Foytack fanned four and walked none.

160-Pounders in Action

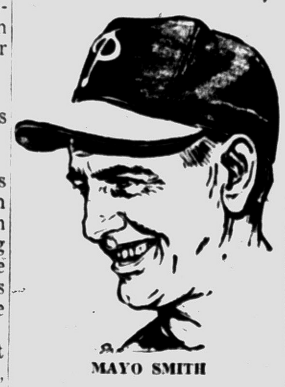
HOLYOKE, Mass. (AP) — Andre Tessier of Springfield will meet Irvin Steen of San Diego, Calif., in a 10-round middleweight main event next Tuesday at the Valley Arena.

It's Hot Stove League Time and—

You're the Manager

(Fourteenth of a Series)

A good strategic move in the late innings often means the difference between winning and losing a ball game. Enough good calls during the year also can be the difference between finishing in first or second place or the first and second division.



MAYO SMITH

How would you have played it?

The Phillies and Pittsburgh are deadlocked 2-2 in the top of the 10th at Pittsburgh. Bob Friend (R) is on the mound for the Pirates. Philadelphia Pitcher Herman Wehmeier starts the inning with a single; Richie Ashburn (L) is the next batter with Glen Gorbous (L) and Roy Smalley (R) to follow.

Would you:

A. Put in a pinch-runner for Wehmeier and try a steal of second?

B. Order Ashburn to sacrifice?

C. Let Ashburn swing away?

Result: B — Ashburn sacrificed Wehmeier to second. Gorbous was picked up two more runs to win 5-2 (May 27).

Allen Renews AAU Attack

KANSAS CITY (INS) — Dr. Forrest C. (Phog) Allen, severest critic of the Amateur Athletic Union, renewed his attack on that body in an address last night in Kansas City.

Last December, the University of Kansas basketball coach assailed some AAU officials as "Oceanic Hitchhikers," and in his talk before the men's organization of the St. Michael & All Angels Episcopal Church, Allen commented:

"That designation still stands, as far as I'm concerned."

Allen protested against the disbarment for life of miler Wes Santee, and said:

"I hope that sports writers of the country will reveal other alleged practices which have gone on without AAU censure. The point is the AAU has been doing this for 50 years and now it's making a goat out of this boy, Wes Santee."

* * *

Dr. Allen said Santee is "one of the finest, cleanest men" he knew and that while he may be guilty under AAU rules, there are few amateurs who are not.

Was Tough Foe

Cubs Happy With Meyer

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—The Chicago Cubs used to be Russ Meyer's favorite cousins. But today they're his brothers and everybody concerned appears satisfied with the cozy new relationship.

The Cubs are smiling over their acquisition of the ex-Brooklyn pitcher because when they were playing against him they found him as hard to beat as mom's apple pie.

And Meyer is happy about the transfer because he'll do a lot more pitching with the Cubs than he did with Brooklyn.

This is actually a return engagement for Russ. The 32-year-old righthander was with the Cubs part of 1946 and all of 1947 and 1948. What happened after that is something the Cubs would just as soon not have spread around.

In his seven seasons with the Philadelphia Phillies and Brooklyn, Meyer beat the Cubs 24 times and lost to them on only 3 occasions. In one stretch, he beat them 18 in a row.

Gajda Medalist at Houston

HOUSTON (AP)—Cary Middlecoff, the golfer most frequently picked to win the Houston Open, will be the favorite again when the 72-hole, $30,000 event starts tomorrow.

In two days, the former Memphis dentist has collected 14 birdies practice rounds over the sprawling, 7,122-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

Middlecoff won the Houston open in 1950 and 1953.

Professionals Harry Dee, Hartsdale N.Y., and Bob Gajda, Detroit, Mich., and amateur Bill Williamson, Charlotte, N.C., posted identical scores of 33-35-68 yesterday to share medalist honors as 51 out of 144 players qualified for tomorrow's field of 160.

Forty-nine qualified with scores of 74 or better. This left room for only three of the 14 tied at 75. Two of them, Joe Black, Abilene, Tex., and Don Byrd, Lake Wauacee, Ind., qualified before darkness stopped a swatfest after two holes. Tonly Henschel, St. Louis, Mo., Howie Johnson, Houston, and Bob Inman, Detroit, Mich., resumed competition for the third spot today.

Williams' low score of 66 on the 840-yard, par 71 Sharpstown layout was good for $450. His best ball 60 with three amateurs placed fourth in team competition and gave him another $100.

Jackie Burke Jr., Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., had a 67 for $275, while Jerry Barber, Los Angeles, won $250 with a 68.

A team led by Bob Crow had a 58 for the low best ball. The Hopkins, Minn., pro collected $250.

Tied at 69 in the qualifying round were Monte Bradley, Houston, and Gene Bone, Pontiac, Mich., John Knight, Los Angeles, Hampton Auld, Norwalk, Ohio, and amateur Billy Dunn, Houston, had 70s. The 71 group included Jack Kay, Montreal, Canada; Buck White, Greenwood, Miss.; amateur Jim Tom Blair, Jefferson City, Mo.; and Murray Turcker, Toronto, Canada.

Twelfth Victory Machen's Target

Bay Area Heavyweight Tangles Tonight With Havana's Mederos

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heavyweight Eddie Machen, the Bay Area's heavyweight hope who is unbeaten in 11 professional starts, will try tonight to make it an even dozen against Julio Mederos of Havana.

And, if Machen gets by the ringwise and more experienced Cuban battler, he will prove himself a better fighter than most of the fans hereabouts give him credit for being.

The nationally televised bout, which will go on at 10 p.m. (EST), will be Machen's first bout before the cameras and it likewise will be the first bout in San Francisco's newest palace of the fistic art, Promoter Bennie Ford's San Francisco Garden. It was built by Ford to handle TV fights.

Machen will take into the ring an 11-0 pro record, with 10 of the 11 wins being by knockouts. One was over Howard King of Reno, who went 10 rounds but lost a decision to light-heavyweight champ Archie Moore here Monday night. His longest fight was a 10-round decision over Ben Wise last December.

RO St. Mary Wins SCL Junior Varsity Crown

Royal Oak St. Mary's reserves won the Suburban Catholic League Junior Varsity championship Tuesday afternoon with a 45-43 overtime victory over the Orchard Lake St. Mary JV's at St. Frederick's gym in Pontiac.

Ranger Coach Irked in Losing 2nd Place

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Phil Watson of the New York Rangers looked sadly at the National Hockey League standings today and decided it was his fault that his club was in third place.

"If I had any guts," he said glumly, "I'd fine five of my players for indifferent play. But I have none, so I'll let it go. Maybe they were tired."

The Broadway Blues, who haven't been in the playoffs for the past five years, have been riding along in second place most of the season. But Detroit took over the runner-up spot last night by defeating the Boston Bruins.

"I know we'll probably make the playoffs," said Watson. "But I don't want to back into them. I want the club to be rolling when they start.

"We've been lucky. If Detroit had been playing all year the way it should we'd be fighting for fourth place instead of second. Perhaps our luck is holding out and we're having our slump now so we'll be up in the playoffs."

The Blues have been playing under .500 this month for the first time this season, but Watson said he won't change the lineup for the game with Toronto in Madison Square Garden tonight.

"That's no solution," he grumbled. "We've had the same team for 22 games. All we need is more determination and better skating."

"If they hustle and finish in second place, and then win the playoff it's worth $2,500 for each man," he pointed out. "The way they're going they'll get only $850. That's a big difference."

The Rangers can move back into second place if they lick the Maple Leafs. They have 63 points to the Red Wings' 64.

Search Begins for Top Oakland County Cagers

The search is on for the five top basketball players in Oakland County along with the best in Class A, B and C ranks.

These are the players who will be named by a Selection Board of Coaches for the Pontiac Press All-Oakland County cage team.

Nominating ballots which were mailed out to schools throughout the county have been returned by the coaches with a long string of candidates listed for nomination.

Each nominee is being given personal attention by the Selection Board weighing the merits of each player's ability.

On the board are coaches representing all classes of teams, with a cross-section of each area of the county.

From southern portion in Class A ranks, the board is represented with Ed Campbell of Royal Oak. Class B ranks have Madison's Carl Baker of the Oakland B league.

The southwest sector has Niles Freeland of Walled Lake, a member of the A-B Inter-Lakes league.

Class A of the top portion has Pontiac's Art Van Ryzin on the board, and Class C ranks Bob Mineweaser of St. Mikes.

Class B schools of the upper half do not have a representative.

A coach of the Wayne-Oakland circuit which is Class B was asked to participate but rules of the league prohibit members from taking part in such activity.

Final tabulations and the coaches' decisions are expected within two weeks.

57 Victories

They Just Keep Winning

PRINCESS ANNE, Md. (AP) — Some day, little Maryland State College ought to give in and wind up on the short end of a score in an athletic contest.

The basketball and football records being compiled by this Negro school with an enrollment of some 400 students are positively outrageous. Or, at least, so their opponents have a right to believe.

Last Saturday, the basketball team dumped Delaware State 98-82 to end the regular season unbeaten in 20 games.

The football team, unbeaten in 1955, in the last seven years has won 57, tied 1 and lost only 5. The basketball team has an almost identical record for the past three seasons—57 victories against 7 defeats.

Game at PHS

"Clown Princes" Play Here

The "clown princes" of basketball, who else but the Harlem Globetrotters, make their appearance at Pontiac high school Sunday against the House of David in a benefit game sponsored by the Lions club of Pontiac.

A colorful new crew led by Meadows Lemon, high school sensation from Wilmington, N.C., Lee Garner, Murphy Summers, and Woodrow sauldsberry have stepped into the shoes of the old great Harlems.

Lemon is considered by Abe Saperstein as the greatest Trotter find in 29 years. He is 22 years old, stands 6-2 and has a spectacular career at Williston Industrial School in Wilmington behind him.

At Williston he amassed more than 2200 points, and after two years in the service he came out and joined the Trotters. Now he gets the billing as Goose Tatum's successor.

Summers, 6-4, is in his 2nd year with the Trotters. He is the crowd pleaser with his dribbling over, around and under his opponents.

One of the old-timers of the squad is center Bill "Rookie" Brown who stands 6-4, and at 6-10 the Trotters have Lee Garner, the sweeper of the boards.

Eaglet Cagers Roll Over Detroit Squad

Orchard Lake St. Mary's basketball team rolled to a 73-46 decision over Sweetest Heart of Detroit last night at Orchard Lake. It was the 10th victory of the season against four defeats for the Eaglets.

Ted Kopacki tallied 24 points and Pete Madelans 21 as the Eaglets outscored the opposition in every quarter for an easy verdict. The loser's Wally Garon took scoring honors with 25 points.

LAYING IT UP — Going up for a wide open layup shot is John Walker (24) of Walled Lake as Cranbrook's John Kirk fails in his attempt to stop the shot. The Vikings handed Cranbrook a 72-54 setback on the Crane court with Larry Hughes dumping through 29 points for Walled Lake. It was an afternoon game.

Milford Rips Waterford, 75-65

By BILL CORNWELL

Milford's high-flying basketball team succeeded in atoning for its only setback of the season Tuesday night at Milford.

Jack Minzey's Wayne-Oakland champions handed invading Waterford a 75-65 licking for their 13th victory in 14 games. Milford dropped a 52-51 decision at Waterford in the season opener for both schools.

The Skippers were in front at the end of a productive 1st half, 42-38. But the Redskin powerhouse moved into high gear after intermission, racking up 21 points in the 3rd quarter to Waterford's 12 and boasting a 16-11 edge in the final period.

Rangy Jim Davidson, Oakland County's No. 1 scorer, spearheaded the 3rd-quarter onslaught against Don Beedle's Skippers with 11 points. Davison wound up the evening with 27 points on 10 buckets and seven foul shots.

Davidson was not without help, however. Fred Baker and Jim Green made their heavy contributions to the Redskin cause, Baker accounting for 20 points and Green 16.

Chuck Gillis sparked the Skippers with 25 points and teammate Jerry Kruskie was not far behind on 22. Waterford's overall record now reads 8-6.

KEEGO, VIKINGS WIN

West Bloomfield's Lakers and Walled Lake both chalked up triumphs on enemy courts while Oxford took it on the chin in Tuesday encounters.

The Lakers, held to a 40-all deadlock at halftime, pulled away from Ortonville with a strong 3rd stanza to deweat the Blackhawks, 75-70.

Walled Lake's Larry Hughes whipped the netting for 29 points as the Vikings downed Cranbrook in an afternoon engagement, 72-54. John Walker added 16 for the Vikings, who led all the way. John Kirk scored 19 points for the Cranes.

Gene Konley's Rochester cagers were unpleasant hosts as they shellacked Oxford, 77-53. Three of the Falcons tallied two figures, Jim Van Nocker showing the way with 21 points. Rochester used 13 players, nine scored, and reserves played the entire 4th quarter.

UTICA KEEPS MOVING

Utica enjoyed a prosperous 2nd period, then coasted to a 60-55 verdict over South Lake on the loser's floor. Lou Haase paced the Chieftains with 23 points.

OTHER GAMES LAST NIGHT

Fred Wasen and Evans Webb meshed 18 and 15 points respectively to lead Royal Oak's Acorns to a 55-50 triumph over hapless Hazel Park on the Viking court. Dan Potter and Nick Kamenoff scored 22 and 18 for the Vikings.

Ferndale bowed to invading Grosse Pointe in a sluggish affair, 43-34. Bud Leonard was tops for the winners with 16 points while Larry Granzow made 14 for the Railsplitters.

East Detroit routed inept Van Dyke, 75-26, on the Shamrocks' floor. The Abes failed to net a field goal until the last two minutes of the 2nd period.

In other games last night Warren trounced Clawson, 70-52, and St. Clair topped Mt. Clemens, 55-49.

Expanding All Athletics

MSU Gives Attention to Minor Sports

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UP) — Michigan State University is best known in the sports world for its big and brawny, successful, expensive and money-making football teams.

But, on the reverse side of the coin, there's a new trend in athletics developing at MSU.

The movement is being pushed by Athletic Director Clarence (Biggie) Munn who built football into a big-time business for the Spartans before he stepped up to take over the entire athletic program.

There were some who thought that Biggie would concentrate most on his first sports love—football. Developments have shown this isn't so.

This new MSU policy under Munn gives a boost to some previously overlooked sports that don't even have varsity status.

BIG GUY—Robin Roberts, who has won 20 games for the past five seasons, goes after a sixth, spurred by a Phillies' contract making him the highest paid pitcher in the game.

These smaller sports are getting help in the line of equipment, transportation and other encouragement—the money coming from athletic funds garnered from the major box office attractions like football.

"I don't think any sport should be called a 'minor' one," said Munn. "We feel if the students have drive enough to become good in any sport, they should have some encouragement from the athletic department.

The MSU ski team, for instance, has been getting increased financial aid. The team recently placed second in the Michigan intercollegiate meet and will compete in the national collegiate meet in Colorado.

A Spartan weight-lifting team will hold a meet with Ohio State Saturday—the first ever held at East Lansing.

Meets are being arranged for the soccer club, which last year sent three contenders to the Olympic tryouts.

Dual meets also are being arranged for the table tennis and handball teams and the Spartan sailing club.

Indians Televise 60

CLEVELAND (INS)—The Cleveland Indians will televise 60 weekend games—home and away—this policy of the past two seasons when only road games were televised.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

TOEING THE LINE — It's surprising among topflighters that your bowling goes as your feet go. What they mean, precisely, is that you're in the big swing only as long as your footwork is in line. The slightest variation in stride, right or left, and your direction is off.

The common mistake is drifting to the right with the first step. Result? The first step, out of line, tilts the shoulders to the right and causes the finishing step-slide to

Check on your stride. Be sure that the first step, whether in three-four or five-step stride, is straight ahead, in line. Or, better still, step a little to the left with the first step to compensate for any tendency to drift right on successive steps.

Finishing at an identical spot at the foul line with every first (strike ball) delivery is so important that occasional "shadow" bowling will pay off. Without using a ball, stride to the line repeatedly and check your finish. Do this every chance you get, not only for a strike ball angle, but for spare angles as well.

Tavern Quintet Continues Spoiler Act in City Loop

The Tavern cagers aren't going anywhere in the adult circuit, in fact they're next to the cellar in the National loop, but they still manage to make life miserable for contending clubs.

Last night a Jefferson Junior High the Tavern quintet upset the runner-up Trojans, 50-46, to deal a crippling blow to their hopes of catching pace-setting Griff's Grill. Griff's walloped Phil's Inn, 66-33, to stretch its lead to two full games.

Dale Davis bucketed 20 points and Ron Sandage followed with 19 for Louie's, which staged a big last quarter uprising to gain the decision. Mel Karrigan and Wilbur Finley each scored 14 points for the Trojans.

John Bridgewater tallied 17 points, Chuck Franklin 16, and Larry Spencer 12 to pace Griff's lopsided win. Al King made a dozen points for Phil's Inn.

In Class D action Tuesday night at Eastern the Blue Devils defeated Slaybaugh's, 36-32; Pulver Tire trimmed Central Christian, 46-21; Oliver Buick downed the Wolverines in overtime, 49-44; and the Boys Club won via forfeit over the Lakesiders.

Tonight's activity matches Shaw's Jewelers-Lakeside Royals and Stone Front-GMC in adult American League games at Pontiac High, along with the Hot Shots—Blue Devils and Lakers-Oliver Buick pairings in Class D at Lincoln.

Little Colleges Want Tourney

NCAA to Hold Meet for Schools With Small Enrollments

DES MOINES (UP) — Iowa college athletic officials express varied opinions on entry of the NCAA into the small college basketball field.

The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) recently announced its small college members "requested" it to conduct a basketball tournament for them. The tourney is set for 1957.

The NAIA—National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics — has held an annual cage meet at Kansas City for the past 17 years. The NAIA has 465 member schools with an average enrollment of 1,300 students.

There is considerable overlapping of the two groups as the smaller colleges also belonging to the NCAA.

The NAIA now is actively engaged in strengthening its position by writing and explaining the situation to its members.

A brochure containing newspaper clippings and excerpts of letters from educators criticizing the NCAA decision has been circulated to member institutions.

Babe Tysseling of Central College criticized the NAIA for doing what he said "it had accused the NCAA of doing, ignoring the small college (300-800 enrollment) and favoring the medium sized colleges.

Sets Free Toss Mark

WATERVILLE, Maine (UP) — Ron Marozzi of Rhode Island connected on his first five free throw attempts before missing last night to set a major college basketball record of 35 straight.

Rhode Island, hitting on 25 of 32 foul shots as a team, defeated Colby 83-61.

The previous record for consecutive free throw conversions was 33, set by Kansas State's Howard Shannon in the 1947-48 season.

Cagers' Moms Paid Honor at Ball Game

Sixty Get Corsages in Half-Time Affair at Milford

More than 60 mothers of basketball players of both Milford and Waterford High school teams last night were honored during a very colorful and sentimental half-time feature, at Milford.

During the game the mothers sat behind their sons, and at the intermission were called up by Milford Principal Erwin Johnson to receive corsages of carnations and rosebuds. Mothers of cheer leaders were also among them.

Biggest crowd of the year witnessed the game, won by Milford 75-65. More than 100 were turned away at the doors, school officials reported. Gymnasium seats 500.

Idea for the event was Johnson's, begun 7 years ago. Milford is the only league school presenting the affair. Moms will also be banquet guests at close of the cage season. Similar affairs have been held at Milford for football team members' dads. The school athletic department sponsors these events.

Bowler Hits Rare 203 'Triplicate'

Charles Palain, rolling with the Blue Cleaners team in the West Side Recreation senior house league Tuesday night turned in a rare 200 triplicate. These better-than-200 "threesomes" are few and far between.

On his last ball, Palaian "pulled" for a split, that would give him the triplicate — and he got it! "That's calling your shots" an observer remarked afterwards.

Public Hunting Fading

Wild Land Shrinkage Points Problem

By JACK PATTERSON

This column has frequently pointed out that unrestricted public hunting, as it has been known in the past, has entered its twilight phase. A mushrooming population and accompanying shrinkage of wild land allow no other conclusion.

PATTERSON

Michigan ranks among the leaders of states which have recognized that in order to perpetuate any measure of public hunting, substantial areas must be set aside for wildlife refuges and for public hunting areas.

It has been the policy of the state for many years to acquire suitable lands, when possible, for such purposes. Over the years considerable progress has been made in that direction. Some instrumentalities of the federal government have a different slant on the most desirable uses of such wild lands.

The Army Corps of Engineers has long been the whipping boy of conservationists west of the Mississippi. Building dams for flood control, irrigation, power sites and draining marshes for land reclamation are projects dear to the heart of the Corps.

In some instances the necessity or desirability of such expensive developments has been demonstrated. In many others it has not. In almost all cases ambitions of the engineers have been squarely at cross-purposes with the aims of conservationists and sportsmen of the affected areas.

We haven't been subjected locally to too many of the Corps' improvements but they may discover Pontiac Creek any day now, now.

The Air Force has got into the act recently by assuming control of several thousand northern Michigan acres, formerly open to the public. Their argument, of course, was "military necessity." This is a handy catch-phrase, doubly useful because in the first place it might be true, and as such not arguable and in the second place, if not true, the public has no access to facts which would bear out such a contention.

Now a ruling by the Secretary of the Interior has opened the door to oil and gas exploration on wildlife refuges. While control, in the sense that it must approve leases, remains in the Fish and Wildlife Service, this ruling puts an unfair burden on that service, in the form of political pressure, pressure against which the service, because of its non-political nature, should be insulated.

Gas and oil exploration and drilling operations constitute an invasion which is inconsistant with the theory of a refuge, if a refuge, as we believe it should be, is a place which wildlife may use as a breeding ground or resting place, undisturbed by man and his works.

Local lakefront residents are often pestered by water weeds which interfere with bathing and boating. Ed Clark of Sylvan Lake advises us that the Oakland County Boat Club is raising funds for the purpose of poisoning weeds to a distance of 150 feet from the shore of Sylvan Lake.

Sounds like a good idea. It is not expected the poisoning will have any appreciable effect on fish. We have used copper sulfate, dragged over the bottom in a burlap sack, and it works just fine. Should be done fairly early in the spring for best results.

NASCAR Pilots Eye New Marks

Tuneup Runs Indicate Fast Times Due Today Over Smooth Sands

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Finally favored wth smooth sands on the ocean beach, National Assn. for Stock Car Automobile Racing drivers today went after new records for speed over the measured mile.

Warmup times yesterday indicated there will be some new marks after today's heavy program of trials for U.S. stock passenger cars, and U.S. and European sports cars.

Scheduled to start last week, the trials were postponed day after day when winds held back the ocean tides and left the beach full of soft spots and rough bumps—too hazardous for the high speed runs.

With the benefit of a tailwind, Herb Thomas of Sanford, N.C., drove a 1956 Powerpack Chevrolet 136.62 m.p.h. It has a Corvette V8 engine with two four - barrel carburetors.

Other top speeds included 133.58 m.p.h. by Brewster Shaw of Daytona Beach in a 1956 Chrysler 300B; 133.38 by Dan Eames of Detroit in a 1956 Dodge 599D; 133.37 by Franklin Ramsey of Abbeville, S.C. in a 1956 Buick Century, and 133.03 by Joe Littlejohn of Spartanburg, S.C., in a 1956 Powerpack Chevrolet.

Iron Mountain Ready to Stage Ski-Jumping Meet

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—Two top Finns, six American Olympic team performers and four 1956 United States champions are already entered in the two-day assault on a new North American distance ski-jumping record here Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 25-26.

Over 120 jumpers are expected to be in the all-star lineup for the Kiwanis International meet on Saturday and the A. J. Barth Memorial Tournament on Sunday.

Members of the 1956 United States olympic team coming here are Rudy (Bailer) Maki, of Ishpeming, who set the hill record of 300 feet here last year; Billy (the kid) Olson, of Eau Claire, Wis.; and Roy Sherwood, of Salisbury, Conn.

All four new 1956 national champions also will be here for the classic on the world's highest artificial ski scaffold.

Canada's stylish champion, Jacques Charland, also may enter the two-day classic which is expected to attract upwards of 25,000 spectators, including Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Garden Winner in Running for Boston Honors

BOSTON (AP) — The best-in-show selection tonight will climax the 43rd Eastern Dog Show's 12th annual event at Mechanics Building.

PKC Puppy Match Takes Place May 6

Plans are being completed at this time for the season's first puppy match for Pontiac Kennel Club. The match is set for May 6, at the Pontiac National Guard Armory, and will be an all-breed event.

List of judges has been forwarded to the American Kennel Club for approval, and will be announced soon, Burt G. Johnston of the club says.

May Get New Park

LANSING — Michigan may establish a state park in Marquette County, following action by the Conservation Commission at its February 9-10 meeting at Lansing.

The commission agreed to accept transfer of Van Riper Park which is a Marquette County park at present. The county board of supervisors asked the Conservation Department to take over the area as a state park.

Eckert Reports on Parks Plan

Roadside Development to Be Outlined March 2 at Lansing Meeting

Michigan's roadside development program will be outlined at the 30th annual Michigan Forestry and Park Conference at Michigan State University, March 2. Edward Eckert, chief forester with the Michigan State Highway Department, will report on progress of the plan.

Sponsored by the Michigan Forestry and Park Association and the M.S.U. Department of Land and Water Conservation, the conference will attract 200 to Kellogg Center.

The one-day program also will feature other specialists to discuss phases of park and forest operation and maintenance, reports Lyle Ambs, of Jackson, president of the state association.

Speedway Lists 3 More Entries

Total Now in Field at Indianapolis Boosted to 14 Cars

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway announced today the receipt of three more entries for this year's 500-mile race, increasing to 14 the field for the 40th annual Memorial Day contest.

A. E. Dean of Paramount, Calif. entered two Dean Van Lines Specials and named Jimmy Bryan of Phoenix, Ariz., former national champion, to drive one of them. He did not list a driver for the second car.

Entries will be accepted until April 15, and at least 45 more cars are expected. Time trials beginning May 19 will cut the field to the 33 fastest for the starting lineup May 30.

Upset Game in Waterford Rec

Bob Bradley pushed in 30 points to lead Poole Lumber to an 80-71 decision over Beattie in the Waterford recreation league last night. Bill Carter had 27 for the losers.

In an upset Monday night Mannys knocked off Drayton 65-51 with Dick DeWitt getting 24 points.

The other game saw Clarkston beating Johnson and Anderson 58-40. Pete Palshan got 20 for Clarkston and Joe Umphrey 20 for the losers.

St. Mike-Redford Game Moved to Friday Night

St. Michael's basketball game with Redford St. Mary at Redford has been switched from Thursday to Friday night. The change was made to avoid interference with the parochial tournament, which continues tonight and Thursday at Detroit Servite.

Change in Lures Brings Good Luck

Almost immediately after Donald A. Gould of Birmingham changed lures during a weekend fishing trip to Lakeville Lake, he took what to him was a record yellow perch. The prize was 13½ inches long.

"I had been using a goldenrod bug," Donald reported. "Didn't have any luck so put on a small minnow. That did the trick. The lure was just off the bottom in 6½ feet of water."

Goud hooked another, about an inch shorter. "That one looked small alongside the big one," he commented.

Ohio Pointer One to Beat in U.S. Trials

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn. (AP)—An Ohio pointer was the big gallery favorite today as four more dogs came under the critical gaze of National Bird Dog Championship judges.

Judge Tom M, owned by W. E. Lavin of Girard, Ohio, settled himself in the gallery's affections yesterday with an expert three-hour quail hunt that produced 10 stylishly handled bevies.

The three judges don't comment on any dog's performance before the end of the trial, and there were 29 yet to show. But thus far, at least, Tom's hunt was the one to beat.

All-Star Team Slates Friday Game at Crary

Waterford Loop Cagers Challenge First Place Clarkston Merchants

A men's basketball game between the Clarkston Merchants and the Waterford Township Recreation League All-Stars will be held this Friday at Isaac Crary Junior High gym. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The All-Stars, comprised of seven Waterford loop teams, challenged the league-leading Merchants to the match.

Players selected on the all-star roster are Clarence Beers, Bill Buck, Jerry McKay, Bob Pickett, Dick Dewitt, Joe Umphrey, Jerry Bradley, Gene Wright, Phil Runkel, and Tex Klaus. The all-stars will be coached by Bill Frankenfield.

Clarkston, managed by Gordon Heaton, boasts talented personnel in Ronald Shebore, Howard Liverance, Pat Thompson, Roger Johnson, Pete Palshan, Richard Hesselgrave, Robert Devine, Stanley Fisher and James Engleman.

A nominal fee will be charged at the door.

Pontiac, Michigan

Dear Mr. Fitzgerald:

This letter is to thank you very, very much, for the fine story and picture of our new real estate offices, appearing in The Pontiac Press, on January 26th and the follow-up picture on January 28th.

Also, I wish to express my appreciation for the exceptionally fine job done by your Mr. John Riley, on our double page Grand Opening ad, on January 27th and 28th. John worked real hard on this ad and we were very well pleased.

Reflecting over the past 10 years since I have had my own real estate office, I realize that I owe a large measure of my success to the Pontiac Press. Our advertising in the Press has brought us most of our business.

I commend you for your fine newspaper and your courteous, efficient staff.

Very Sincerely,

UM Engineers 2nd in Who's Who Ranks

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan alumni publication said today that the university is second only to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in graduates listed in Who's Who in engineering.

The magazine, the Michigan Alumnus, reported that Dr. Charles J. Baer, an assistant dean at the University of Kansas, surveyed the collegiate backgrounds of the 17,518 persons listed in the 1954 publication.

The University of Michigan was in second place with 620 alumni. MIT was first with 930. Third place was held by Cornell University with 582. In order, the first of the top ten were Purdue, Illinois, Wisconsin, California, Ohio State, Kansas and Minnesota.

The study was based on the institutions where the listed engineers had obtained their bachelor's degrees.

English View New Fords

LONDON (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. of Britain has unveiled three new, American-style models. They are especially aimed at boosting the company's sales in export markets.

The low-slung cars are longer, lower and more powerful than the current Ford models, which have been almost unchanged since they first rolled off the assembly lines in 1951.

Wide, wrap-around windows, gleaming chrome trim, and comfortable seating for six adults are the major innovations of the three models—the Consul, Zephyr and Zodiac.

Dow to Expand Southern Plants

Will Spend $65 Million on Facilities in Texas and Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Dow Chemical Co., today announced a 20-million-dollar Louisiana expansion program and a 45-million-dollar expansion in Texas.

Dr. Leland I. Doan of Midland, Mich., president of the company, in statements released here, said the company has obtained three optioned sites in the Baton Rouge-Plaquemine area along the Mississippi River.

"We will exercise one and possibly two of the Louisiana options," he reported.

Doan said, "We have not fully developed our plans, but we expect within a realtively few years to have at least 20 million dollars invested in Louisiana and employ in the neighborhood of 500 people.

"We will produce caustic soda, chlorine and several organical chemicals."

Dow also announced a divisional expansion program in Texas of about 45 million dollars in the next 18 months.

The Texas expansion includes new production plants, expansion of present plants and new research and service facilities.

Dr. A. P. Beutel, a vice president, said the new Texas plants will be built to produce acetylene, methyl acetylene, ethanolamines, synthetic blycerine and soil fumigants.

Says Steel Market Will Remain Strong

NEW YORK (AP)—A few order cancellations have not been enough to kill the strong market for steel, The Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

The magazine said that while buyers for automotive companies "are trying to play it close to the vest," some of them are busy reinstating steel orders previously cancelled.

Their problem is to balance steel inventory against sales of 1956 models so that they can come out fairly even before production of 1957 models gets under way, it added.

The weekly noted that basic engineering changes in the new models will make some steel sizes used in 1956 cars unusable in the 1957 variety.

The shortage of some steel products, structurals particularly, is interfering with steel expansion programs, it said, and the mills and their customers are forced to compete with their own customers for a share of these products.

Iron Age reported that Detroit and other centers are expected to step up their sheet and bar orders by May and June. Because of this, some steel executives are afraid they may be oversold for the second quarter.

Machine Company Asks Boost in Stock Shares

NEW YORK (AP) — American Machine and Foundry Co. has notified the New York Stock Exchange that it plans to increase its authorized stock to five million shares from three million and, additionally, that it would increase by 114,000 shares the number allocated under the firm's stock option plan.

An official of the company said the stock would be used for general corporate purposes and will be available for acquisition of other firms if the company wants to continue its program of acquiring other companies.

Markets Closed

Donaldson Sets Nephrosis Day

Plan Drive for Funds to Fight Disease Which Strikes Children

Mayor William W. Donaldson has proclaimed Saturday, March 3 as "Nephrosis Day" in Pontiac.

Nephoris is a little-known childhood disease of the kidneys, which kills half of its young victims.

Governor Williams has proclaimed the month of March as "Nephrosis Month" for the purpose of calling attention to this disabling disease, and directing public attention to the serious problem created by the dread illness.

In conjunctioin with Donaldson's proclamation, a drive will be launched in the city for contributions to the Michigan Chapter of the National Nephrosis Foundation, Inc.

Stanley R. Allen, chairman of the drive, said some 50 school children are expected to be located on street corners in the downtown business section with canisters to receive contributions.

Canisters will also be placed in many stores in the city around Feb. 25, Allen added.

Books for Children Added to Library

Fifteen new children's books have been added to the shelves of the City Library, Librarian Phyllis Pope announced. They are:

Donald Duck's Safety Book, Bedford; The Big Book of Train Stories; Young Kangaroo, Brown; Cowboys, Cowboys, Cowboys, Fenner; Animals Work Too, Gates; Trails in the Woods, Gates; Here Come the Elephants, Goudey; The Complete Tales of Uncle Remus, Harris.

Others are: Hostess in The Sky, Hill; Circus ABC, Jackson; Jet Transports, Lewellen; Vulcan, The Story of A Bald Eagle, McClung; French Legends, Tales and Fairy Stories, Picard; The Secret River, Rawlings; and The Adventure Book of Rocks, White.

Form Rochester Firm for Blasting Service

Formation of AAA Blasting Service Inc., a corporation devoted to explosives contracting in the construction field, was announced today by President William Pennanen of Rochester. Headquarters will be at 216 South St. in Rochester.

General manager of the firm is John R. Ross, a director. Other officials include Gerald Uhlar of Detroit, vice president; and John Turchan of Detroit, secretary-treasurer Verne C. Smith of Utica has been named to the board of directors.

According to Ross, the company will concentrate on operations in Michigan but expects to handle blasting projects outside of the state as well. Most of its services will including breaking up concrete and rock, stump removal and elimination of underwater obstructions.

Pontiac Police Join Hunt for Flint Man

The strange disappearance of a Flint man from his home Sunday has caused a two-day investigation by Pontiac police into his possible whereabouts.

According to Flint police, Mrs. Frank Pilara claimed her missing husband, 30, was involved in a fight here "four or five" months ago.

A report to Flint authorities of the investigation here will be made this afternoon, Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said. He declined to reveal details until then.

When Mrs. Pilara returned home Sunday night from visiting, she said, her husband was gone, although his coat, hat, cigarettes, money and car were at home. She said the television set was left on as well as the car lights.

Business Notes

DETROIT (INS) — Meade F. Moore, vice president of Automotive Research and Engineering for American Motors Corp., has announced seven promotions in the firm's engineering department.

Promoted were: George Hausch, to engineering manager of the Body Division; Emerson Lindsay, to chief body engineer in charge of structures; Gilbert Milhan, to body engineer in charge of surface development; Arthur Hatch, to body interiors engineer; Walter Jerstad, to chief body production engineer in charge of body activities in Wisconsin; Robert F. Jenson, to accessories engineer; George N. Smith, to administrative assistant to Moore.

DETROIT (INS) — Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co. has announced the appointment of E. A. Erickson as manager for its Central Sales region to succeed N. E. Crews, who is retiring.

The announcement was made by Joseph E. Bayne, general sales manager for Mercury.

Robert E. Benedict, assistant manager of the Metropolitan Life Insurance office here, will travel to Hollywood, Fla., next week to attend a three-day business conference between company officials.

Six Candidates Gain Nomination for April 2 Vote

Six of 22 candidates that filed this month for seats on the 1956-57 City Commission were officially nominated last night, placing them on the April 2 general election ballot.

Those nominated in a resolution approved by the commission were Mayor William W. Donaldson and Earl J. Smith (District 3); Commissioner John A. Dugan and Pat Stoglin (District 5)); and Commissioner John E. Carry and J. H. Patrick Glynn (District 6).

Under the City Charter no primary is required if less than three candidates file for seats in any one district.

The two candidates from the other four city districts will be chosen in the March 5 primary.

Williams Blasts Slum Program

Governor Cites Need for More Expansion During Talk at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams says that at the present level of governmental effort "it would take us 100 years to wipe out our slums."

Williams said the present program provides for 100 million dollars a year for this purpose, "to be used as the federal government's one-third of slum clearance projects."

This is in the face of a 1953 report by the President's Advisory Housing Committee which recommended an expenditure of 15 billion dollars to demolish the nation's five million slum homes, he said.

Williams talked to a meeting of the National Association of Housing and Redevelopment officials on the Michigan State University campus.

"Simple mathematics will show that we are selling our future in the name of false economy today," the governor said. He said the concentration of the population in suburban areas is steadily increasing, aggravating the problem.

"Our present snail's pace can result only in strangulation of our great cities," he said.

The governor called for an expanded federal housing program to provide at least 200,000 units a year, plus 50,000 homes for older persons unable to pay high rents.

World Demand for Paper High

NEW YORK (AP) — An American paper industry leader today said an expanding use of paper throughout the world opens important new export opportunities to American paper manufacturers.

The world consumption of paper and paper board has already reached an all-time annual high of 62 million tons, reported E. W. Tinker, executive secretary of the American Paper & Pulp Ass'n. He predicted that if present trends continue, annual world demands would reach "the enormous total of approximately 65 million tons" within a year or two.

In North America, Europe and Australia, he said, the per capita use of paper has risen over the past 20 years from 86.5 pounds a year to 132.5 pounds.

In other areas, excluding Russia, annual consumption has doubled during the same period but has still reached only 6.2 pounds per person. Tinker stated in a speech prepared for the APPA's 79th annual convention.

As education and living standards rise in these sections of the world, he said, there will be further increases in demands for paper.

Arrest Two Suspects in Reported Holdup

Two men have been arrested by Pontiac police investigating a man's story that he was held up in his car at Bagley and Wessen Sts. early Saturday.

Clark King, 195 Orchard Lake Ave., claimed he was robbed of $5 at gun-point at 2:30 a.m.

The suspects, arrested Monday and yesterday, are being held in Oakland County Jail for investigation of armed robbery.

Earnings

NEW YORK (AP)—The Bell System, consisting of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and its principal telephone subsidiaries, reports a record net income of $683,543,449 in 1955, compared with $654,898,844 for 1954.

Of this, $664,243,416 or $13.10 a share was applicable to AT&T stock, compared with $549,931,223 or $11.92 a share in 1954.

The parent AT&T alone had net income of $546,045,367, or $10.77 a share compared with $480,277,306 or $10.41 a share in 1954. The per-share totals of both Bell System and AT&T were at 26-year high.

Briggs & Stratton Corp. has reported net income of $6,602,380 or $11 a share for the year ended Dec. 31, 1955. The figures compared with $5,039,548 or $8.40 a share for 1954.

To Assist Kavanagh

X-ray Units Set to Seek Out TB

High Population Areas Sites for 5-Week Job of Detection

Starting March 6, mobile chest X-ray units will be sent to high population areas in Pontiac and Southeastern Oakland County in a program to attack contagious tuberculosis at its source—the person who unknowingly has the disease and is contaminating others.

Free chest X-rays will be given to any adult in the area during the five-week program. A schedule of times and locations of the mobile units will be announced soon in The Pontiac Press.

"The highest tuberculosis rate of any place in the state is right here in Southeastern Oakland County," said A. R. Mussen, executive secretary of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Association.

"TB is a 'hidden disease' that is very contagious long before it can be detected by means other than X-ray. There is no discomfort to receiving the X-ray, it takes only a few moments and it will be given without charge. It is extremely important that every adult safeguard not only his own health, but that of his children and family by taking advantage of the mobile unit when it comes.

"Thousands of cases of TB have been found among people who thought they were perfectly well," Mussen said, "but with the rush of people from the big cities into Oakland County, this area is becoming a danger point for the disease. That's why the X-ray units are coming here—to give our people a chance to 'be sure' without having to pay expensive laboratory fees."

The mobile X-ray units will be scheduled and operated by the Oakland County Health Department and the county TB association. In the past Michigan has spearheaded the drive to wipe out TB in the United States.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness shown to us during our recent bereavement. Mrs. L. W. Vaught and children.

WE WISH TO THANK OUR friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and loss of our husband and father, Mrs. Ambrose Sparks and Son.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband, John D. Dunlap, who passed a year ago today, Feb. 23, 1955.
The face I loved is now laid low;
His loving voice is still.
The hand so often clasped in mine
Lies now in deaths cold chill.
I often sit and think of him;
When I am all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
Sadly missed by wife, Wilma, and children, Arthur, Jaren and Johnnie.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GRANDmother Viola Rowston who passed away Feb. 23, 1955.
And those who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY BEloved Wife, Viola Rowston who passed away Feb. 23, 1955.
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same,
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by husband Charles.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR Mother, Mrs. Viola Rowston who passed away Feb. 23, 1955.
What is a home without a mother,
All things this world may send,
But when I lost my darling mother,
I lost my dearest friend.
By Daughters and Sons, Harold, Don, Chuck, Mina, Bettie and Dorothy.

In Selling Used Cars:
This Is the Question We Hear:

"What do you know about the way this car was treated by its previous owner?"

Naturally, there are many cars which we sell about which we know little of their previous history. On the other hand, many of our Used Cars were sold new and serviced by us. It is a fact, however, that experienced Auto men can tell by inspecting a car just how it has been treated. Even in cases where previous usage of the car is not accurately known, we can tell whether or not the car has useful mileage left in it. Cars that are not good enough are not offered to our customers, and are immediately wholesaled to other dealers. Even if we can't tell you all about the car's history, your purchase is protected by our Guarantee.

Expert Employs Chatty Format

Pediatrician Conducts Sunday Program With Relaxed Air

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The consistently best entertainers on television are babies. You don't have to feed, change or discipline them. You can just sit back and watch 'em.

* * *

Baby watching is as therapeutic a sport as bird watching — as long as you aren't responsible for the babies. A baby's clutching hands are the most fascinating devices in God's creation. The beatific smile of a born heller just before he dumps his cereal on the floor is a profound commentary on life.

NURSERY NATURE

Someday some smart TV producer is going to turn his cameras loose for half an hour on a nursery. No commentary will be necessary. The babies simply will go on yelling, fighting, growing, discovering without self-consciousness while the cameras record life. Bet that program would have a big audience too.

Until that day, however, baby watchers will have to be content with the glimpses of babies they catch on that excellent Sunday half-hour program conducted by that great friend of all babies, Dr. Benjamin Spock, on NBC-TV.

Even if you don't have a baby of your own you'll probably get a kick out of listening to and watching Dr. Spock chat with parents about raising kids. He'll never run out of material, of course, because babies keep being born and adults keep heaping new problems on them.

Dr. Spock undoubtedly conducts the most relaxed program on television. That's because he's so relaxed himself. Although a world-renowned pediatrician, he always seems to be learing from the parents he talks with.

NO LECTURING

Not long ago he told the TV audience that some viewers thought he should lecture instead of sitting around chatting. Such a change obviously would have been one of the programming mistakes of the year. Fortunately so many intelligent people wrote so many letters in protest that the question never came up again.

* * *

The programs are filmed in Cleveland where Dr. Spock is on the staff of Western Reserve University Medical School. His guests appear at a studio with their babies and baby tenders on a Wednesday. The kids are turned loose in a vast crib equipped with interesting toys while their mamas drink coffee with the doctor. Generally they don't decide on the day's subject until then. And then, away they go before the cameras.

Hotel Agrees With Godfrey About LuAnn

DETROIT (INS)—Television entertainer Arthur Godfrey's judgment in the firing of at least one of his performers was upheld today by a spokesman for the Statler Hotel in Detroit.

The former member of the Godfrey's gang in question is singer Lu Ann Simms who opened a two-week run at the hotel Feb. 13 and was released from her contract six days later.

A hotel spokesman said that on Miss Simms' opening night the management went into see how the advertised "top-rate act" was going;

He said:

"We were just flabbergasted at the nothingness of her show. She couldn't even be heard.

"Why the customers didn't even bother to stop eating."

The spokesman said the hotel management suggested that Mrs. Simms do something to improve the show. He said Loring Buzzell, Miss Simms' husband and manager, claimed it was the orchestra's fault.

The hotel official said things got progressively worse until last Saturday when Miss Simms was "released" from her contract. He said:

"The Statler management now thinks Godfrey's judgment wasn't so bad after all."

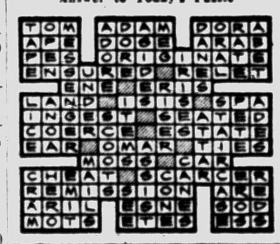
Answer to Today's Puzzle



Man Injured in Fall Down Elevator Shaft

DETROIT (AP)—A candy manufacturer fell two stories down an elevator shaft in his plant last night and lay injured and trapped four hours before being rescued by police.

Benjamin Dorf, 52, was taken to Receiving Hospital where he was reported in serious condition with a possible fractured back, fractured left elbow and internal injuries.

Dorf, who operates the Dorf Products Co., said a defective safety catch allowed the elevator door to open despite the fact the elevator wasn't at the floor.

His wife, Sarah, 47, and son, Michael, 16, became alarmed when he failed to come home and went to the plant to investigate. They called police when they heard his cries for help.

Manufacturer Dies

SAGINAW (AP)—Joseph A. Baker, 58, board chairman of Baker Perkins, Inc., of Saginaw, died Tuesday following an illness of several months. The firm makes bakery oven equipment and chemical mixing machinery. Survivors include his wife and a daughter, Mrs. W. C. Brooks of Owosso.

DUNGAREE DOLL — Definitely high style in blue jeans are these mink cuffed ones, modeled by 15-year-old Penny Smith of Thornville, Ohio. They won her first prize in a "dungaree doll" contest.

Deny Township Right to Pay Farm Official

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Kavanagh held today that townships lack authority to use township funds for payment of salary to an agricultural agent.

Kavanagh quoted from court decisions and opinions by previous attorneys general to the effect that townships enjoy only the powers granted to them by the legislature.

Payment of agricultural agents is not among these, he said.

In another opinion, Kavanagh held that a county supervisor lawfully may accept appointment as a friend of the court after his resignation from the county board has been submitted and accepted.

In this case, Kavanagh answered an inquiry from Jay M. Terbush Jr. of Owosso, prosecuting attorney of Shiawassee County.

Japan Nears Economic Lead in Asia at Expense of Workers, Says Labor

TOKYO (AP)—Japan again is moving toward economic dominance of Asia — but at the expense of underpaid workers, the nation's top labor leader contends.

Akira Iwai, 34-year-old boss of Japan's big General Council of Trade Unions (SOHYO) says industrial determination to exploit workers is the reason the government opposes SOHYO's unfolding spring campaign for wage increases.

"They have charged we are planning a general strike to overwhelm the government," he said. "That is not true. It is impossible. The purpose is purely economic. We want and deserve a wage increase."

Management, Iwai said, is making good profits, but while foreign trade is approaching prewar levels, it is anxious to keep costs down.

UNLIKE U.S. INDUSTRIALISTS

The Japan Federation of Employers' Associations denies that industry is making good profits.

"There may be several making money . . . superficially," it stated in a recent pamphlet, "but not all. The smaller industries are struggling. We favor individual merit raises, but not across the board. . . . We must accumulate capital . . . Our costs must be kept low to sell in Asia. There have been several wage increases since the war."

* * *

LABOR SEEKS RAISE

"The average industrial worker in Japan today makes about 14,500 yen ($38.92) a month. If you include small workshops, the average drops to about 10,000 yen ($27.80) This average worker is a man with a wife and three children. It has been estimated that such a family needs at least 17,000 to 18,000 yen ($50) monthly for a minimum standard of living.

"We are trying to raise that gradually, but right now all we're asking is 2,000 yen ($5.56) increase a month."

SOHYO's wage offensive began last week and is to continue until March 20 in four of what the Japanese call "struggle waves," each stronger than the preceding. At the climax three million workers—half the nation's unionized labor force—will be participating, Iwai claims. There will be no major work stoppages, but many demonstrations, shop rallies, sit-downs and 24-hour strikes.

Sewer Shortage Seen

ANN ARBOR (AP)—City Engineer George H. Sandenburgh says Ann Arbor is growing faster than the city can provide sewer facilities. He says the city now is 75 per cent larger than the area within its limits five years ago.

"It's almost like having a doctor in the house!

"We wouldn't be without Ben-Gay in our house," says Mrs. Ralph McGory of Prattsburg, New York. "Through the years, Ben-Gay has relieved an awful lot of aches and pains for our family — from strained muscles to tired, aching feet. It's comforting to know that such a marvelous pain-reliever is right there in the cabinet when it's needed."

Millions of people agree with Mrs. McGory. They rely on BEN-GAY for fast, welcome relief from sore, aching muscles. You may have tried other pain-relieving products, but here's how BEN-GAY is different . . . why it's so amazingly effective! It contains up to two and one half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins. Here's how Ben-Gay's two-way, pain-relieving action works: First, extra blood is brought coursing up through the affected area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts at once. Yes, for fast, blessed relief, get BEN-GAY! Rub in BEN-GAY . . . rub pain away!

Senate Investigating Itself Could Save $$$

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS) — The greatest investigative body in the world—the U. S. Senate—is about to investigate itself, and not just about gas.

Shocked by the rapidly mushrooming requests from practically every committee of the Senate for federal funds to play detective, a move is afoot to force the Rules Committee to come before the Appropriations Committee and try to justify the investigations it authorizes.

The savings to taxpayers could be sizeable. For instance, the funds voted by the Senate for all investigations during the Republican 80th Congress totaled $1,673,839. The figure gradually increased over the years to $3,165,123 in the 83rd Congress two years ago.

But the current session is breaking all records in history for playing gum-shoe. Coupled with the $2,594,422 already spent during the first half of this 84th Congress, approval of pending requests will reach the top-heavy total of $5,066,422—and the end is not in sight. The House is spending additional millions on its own investigations, which frequently overlap those of the Senate.

Republican Senators Styles Bridges (NH) and William F. Knowland (Calif.) have recently been fighting in vain to stem the tide. In two days last week, the Senate voted additional funds for a rash of investigations by four subcommittees of the Judiciary Committee, two by armed services and others by the Commerce, Rules, Banking and Currency, Labor, and Government Operations Committees. Twelve more such requests were acted on yesterday in the upper chamber.

BRINGS HEADLINES

The temptation to launch investigations—which incidentally bring headlines for members of the committees—is proving all but irresistible in this crucial election year.

The matter was brought to a head last week with the disclosure that Republican Senator William Langer, N. D.—who frequently votes Democratic — had charged 15 round trips home to investigative committees on which he serves.

Under the Senate Reorganization Act of 1946, the Judiciary Committee was allotted a total of 15 staff employes. Incredible as it may seem, it now boasts 106 employes, thanks to the dozens of subcommittee investigations it has launched in the intervening years.

$1 MILLION BUDGET

The committee, headed by Sen. Harley M. Kilgore (D-W Va), now has a budget in excess of one million dollars, and scores of investigations are taking senators and their hand-picked employes into every section of the country.

Republicans have privately dubbed judiciary's juvenile delinquency subcommittee "the Kefauver campaign committee." Several members have charged that Sen. Estes Kefauver, a declared candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, plans his investigations in those states where delegates are most needed for the national convention in August.

Bridges, ranking Republican on the Appropriations Committee, is quietly enlisting the support of other senators to make it mandatory that the Rules Committee—instead of having sole authority to report favorably to the Senate on the requests for investigations—would first have to justify its action at the Appropriations Committee.

It is the latter group that must approve the funds for the sky-rocketing requests, after the Senate has already authorized the expenditure.

If the Senate agrees to a special six-man committee to investigate all aspects of the recent pressure brought by the gas lobby, several hundred thousand more dollars will be needed to hire counsel and set up a working staff of investigators and clerical aids.

The Senate has already voted $50,000 for the Gore subcommittee of rules to hire counsel and proceed with a similar investigation.

Dragged to Death

STANTON, Ky. (AP)—An 82-year-old farmer was killed yesterday by a runaway mule team which dragged him about 100 yards on a gravel road. Charles Norton Crowe had been gathering corn on his farm and his young mules apparently became frightened as he drove them onto the road. He fell between the animals onto the wagon tongue.

Miss Margaret Robers has retired after serving as the London housekeeper for four different Archbishops of Canterbury.

Youth's Skull Found

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP)—Coroner Russell Compton reports a human skull, possibly that of a child 7 to 9, was found in a cave about 10 miles from here Monday. He said John Harris found the skull while playing in the cave. After telling of his find, four friends went to the cave and discovered ribs, vertebra and an arm bone. The bones are being studied to determine how long they had been in the cave.

Venezuelans are hailing the selection of 19-year-old Susana Djuim, an office worker in Caracas, as "Miss World" of 1955. She won the London contest over 20 other beauties from America and Europe. Prizes included $1,400 and a red sports car.
