Capone, Agent's Slayer Bureau Targets in 20's

Editor's note: The following article is the eighth in a series of daily highlights on the activities and history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Taken from Don Whitehead's new book, "The FBI Story," today's account is one of 30 which will appear each day in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

Gangsters shot and bribed their way into places of power in the Roaring Twenties and the FBI was virtually powerless to deal with such hoodlums as Alphonse "Scarface" Capone, overlord of Chicago's underworld.

These were the years in which the gangsters created their own invisible empires through unwholy alliances with crooked politicians, crooked lawyers, crooked doctors and crooked police.

Rash Arraigned in Wife Shooting

Rochester Man Pleads Innocent to 1st Degree Murder Charge

A Rochester man, L. J. Rash, 52, faces trial within a month on charges he shot his wife, Nina, 48, to death as she returned home from a weekend of alleged drinking.

Rash, who Rochester police say admitted the crime, yesterday pleaded innocent at arraignment before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams on a charge of first-degree murder.

He was returned to Oakland County Jail to face trial, authorities said, probably during the present circuit court jury session. Rash has been held at the jail since the shotgun shooting early Nov. 29, a Monday morning.

Four witnesses have testified they were with the woman as she returned home to 313 Woodward Ave. about 2:30 a.m. They testified the shooting occurred as she opened the front screen door.

24 TELL OF SHOOTING

The testimony was taken at preliminary examination before Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green Jan. 8. Rash did not testify, nor did he back up his initial story to police that he fired in anger as his wife refused to order her friends away from the door.

A factory worker, Rash turned himself in immediately after the shooting police said. They quoted him as saying then his wife had a record of "running around" and, "I couldn't stand it any more."

Believe 4 Dead; Flames Destroy Four Buildings

Families Flee in Zero Weather as Store Blaze Spreads to Apartments

SALINE (P)—A mother and three small children were believed to have perished today in a fire which destroyed three buildings in the heart of this southeastern community, near Ann Arbor, of 1,533.

Three other families were forced from their homes in zero temperatures.

The buildings contained a bar, hardware store, plumbing shop and five-and-ten store in their first floors. Four apartments were spread across the second floors.

Missing were Mrs. Barbara Gibson and her children: Diane, 3; David, 1½, and Gary, 5 months.

Firemen said the blaze started in a bar owned by George Maliniczak, immediately below the Gibsons' apartment. Maliniczak estimated his loss at $25,000 to $30,000. No other loss estimates were available immediately.

Saline's call for help brought fire fighters from four neighboring communities, but water froze almost to the nozzle mouth as it spewed into the zero temperatures.

Only the shells of the brick buildings were left. Cause of the blaze wasn't immediately determined.

Mrs. Gertrude Rankin, who occupied one of the four second-story apartments with her son, Edward, 14, said she was awakened by smoke at 2:45 a.m.

Mrs. Rankin, part owner of a nearby restaurant, said she thought she had heard babies crying in

Detroit Goes Into Red Removing Heavy Snow

DETROIT (P)—Detroit used up the last of a $500,000 snow removal appropriation and went $39,000 into the red in removing last week's 9-inch snowfall.

The Department of Public Works said it would ask Common Council to replenish its funds to-morrow.

Detroit has had 23.1 inches of snow this winter, the most since it got 37.8 over the same period of 1951-52. Last winter there had been only 12.7 inches to Jan. 15.

Frigid arctic air will continue to clamp an icy grasp over Pontiac and the entire northern half of the nation for another two days, the Weather Bureau reports.

The season's coldest weather last night helped shove

The forecast is for a low to-night from four degrees to zero, with chances of accompanying snow. Tomorrow's high is expected to range from 8 to 12 degrees. Wednesday night's low is predicted to reach zero also.

Emergency road service stations continued to report a rash of calls to aid stalled cars.

The entire state was in the sub-zero or zero belt this morning as the icy air extended from the Rocky Mountains to the Atlantic coast.

The deep freeze of the nation existed in northern New York and New England where the mercury plunged to readings between 20 to 50 below zero.

Back in Michigan, Bad Axe had the state's low last night with a -15. Sault Ste. Marie reported -14, Oscoda -5, Flint -4, and Grand Marais -7.

The frigid air in the eastern half of the country was expected to bring the coldest weather of the season as far south as Georgia and northern sections of the Gulf Coast states.

Detroit Bachelor, 38, Describes '53 Slaying

Police Claim Ex-Marine Told of 3 Details Known Only to Girl's Killer

DETROIT (P)—The signed statement of a 38-year-old bachelor was studied by police today in what they believe may be the climax of Detroit's most intensive manhunt.

Detective Lt. Glenn Collier said Philip J. Singer signed a formal statement admitting in detail the Jan. 2, 1953, slaying of 18-year-old JoAnn Gillespie.

The discovery of the girl's body, raped and beaten, in an alley near her home, electrified Detroit at the time and has baffled police ever since.

More than 6,000 persons had been questioned in the crime.

among them Singer, and then released.

Several persons have admitted to the crime, but none of their stories has held up under investigation. In Singer's case, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber said.

"I won't go out on a limb and say this crime is solved. This needs considerable investigation. I will ask the police department to devote time and effort to substantiate this confession."

But Collier said, "The reason that I would stake my life that this is the real slayer is because he told us three details that only the murderer would or could know."

Collier did not say what the details were.

They put Singer on the polygraph—the lie detector. The head of the Homicide Bureau said:

"It was the most startling polygraph test I've ever seen. When we asked him about the offense for which he was arrested, and he answered, it showed a straight line."

"When we asked if he killed JoAnn, the line jumped all over. We showed him the results. We showed him he had lied about the hotel."

"Finally, eh said, 'Yes, I did it. I want to tell you all about it.' Singer, described by Collier as a "mek and mild" man, lives across the street from the alley where the young girl's body was found."

She was on her way home from a movie called "Appointment With Danger," near midnight of Jan. 2, 1953. She had parted with a girl friend who accompanied her. Then suddenly, someone grabbed (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

3 Die as Plane Crashes in West

Pilot's Parachute Fails, 2 Killed When Aircraft Plows Into Plants

LONG BEACH, Calif. (P)—Two people died when a pilotless plane smashed into two Long Beach plants. The pilot — attempting to parachute to safety — was killed when his chute fouled.

A fourth person is in critical condition.

The plane, a Douglas Skyraider, just missed the Eugene Field Elementary School and its 330 pupils.

Killed when it struck an iron works and book bindery yesterday were A. W. (Pat) Rafferty Jr., 43, Long Beach, and Mrs. Ethel Foust, 40, Wilmington.

First Lt. Dale O. Fortine, 26, Costa Mesa, pilot of the Marine Corps plane, was killed when his parachute "streamed" — stringing out behind him without opening.

In critical condition is Mrs. Margaret Willock, 58, Long Beach, an employee of the book bindery. Two other women suffered shock and bruises.

His Job: Traffic Offenders

Poor Driving Record Hits Probation Officer

A probation officer for traffic offenders who might have been one of his own cases was ruled out today by two Oakland County officials.

John L. Witherup, county personnel director, and Arthur P. McKenna, chief probation officer, will ask for the resignation of Leo F. Coyle, because of his bad driving record.

Coyle was hired Jan. 2 to handle the probation of traffic offenders from municipal and justice courts in the county.

That same day his license was suspended for 60 days by the Michigan Secretary of State for habitual negligence.

"Due to the nature of his job, we felt this was the only course," Witherup said today. He and McKenna learned yesterday of Coyle's traffic record.

Coyle's name turned up on weekly report of suspension and revocation of drivers' licenses, issued by the Secretary of State.

A check with that department yesterday revealed that following two tickets for driving with one headlight and running a red light, Coyle received two speeding tickets in July.

Nov. 11 he was placed on six months good driving behavior by the Secretary of State's office at a re-examination hearing. His 60-day suspension followed an Oct. 29 speeding ticket in Birmingham.

Coyle's $4,355 a year position was created after an Oakland County Circuit Court ruling that justice court probationary sentences were illegal without a probation officer.

A student at University of Detroit where he expects to take his degree in June, Coyle, 27, lives at 640 Fourth St.

Coyle said today he would fight the suspension in Lansing, if possible.

"I don't intend to resign immediately if there's a way to get the ruling changed," he said.

He declined to discuss details before "talking the whole thing over" with McKenna and Witherup. He explained, though, he had received notice of the suspension through the mails several days after getting the job Jan. 2.

Offers Village Doomed Caribou Inn

Owner Submits Idea to Council

Proposal to Move Old Building Given to Board of Zoning in Clarkston

Ernie Felice, owner of the Caribou Inn at Clarkston has offered give the century old landmark to the village, to be moved to a more suitable location.

The offer came as a surprise at last night's Village council meeting, when the matter was referred to the Independence Township Zoning Board of Appeals.

The Caribou Inn has been a controversial problem to Clarkston people for many months, due to the 25-year lease, signed by Felice with the Secony-Mobile Oil Co. for a gas station on the present location.

Several residents have made efforts to interest philanthropists in rejuvenating the building, but have met with no success.

Felice invited any persons or organizations to inspect the building, and said, "If the village wants the building for historical reasons, they may have it — to be moved and anyone may go through the building at anytime for an inspection tour."

Scheduled to be in operation by early fall, the branch will offer complete banking facilities, including a drive-up window and safe deposit boxes.

GM Executives to Observe City High School Facilities

General Motors Truck and Coach Co. executives will visit Pontiac High School tomorrow in the second of a series of Visitation Days between Industry and Education.

On Nov. 29 of last year, 20 administrators from the Pontiac Public Schools spent the day at General Motors Truck visiting executives and seeking the answers to better preparation of students for facing industrial careers when they leave school.

The industrial executives will view Pontiac High's facilities and will study the educational programs that the school presents.

The day will begin at 10 a.m. with a general orientation period under the supervision of Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools. The executives will then divide into groups and observe the three major programs in the high school: college preparatory, vocational-industrial and business education.

her in the darkness. She was hauled into a backyard of a home near where she lived, raped and beaten to death.

When her body was found the next day, police laid out a careful house-by-house, person-by-person investigation. Some 600 suspects, some of them known sex-offenders, were hauled in and questioned.

For four years, the Police Department has given a routine set of tests for sex-offenders and it was into these tests that Singer went last night when a woman accused him of indecent exposure.

At 5:15 p. m. yesterday he told his story, Collier said. Then at 8:35 last night he signed the statement.

Singer, who dark hair is streaked with gray, told police he works as an assistant foreman at Edgar's Sugar House, Inc., and has worked there since 1939, except for duty in the Marine Corps during World War II, and the Korean conflict.

During the first investigation, shortly after the crime, Singer was questioned by police but released. Until his arrest last Saturday, he had no prior criminal record, but had once been convicted of drunk driving.

The Day in Birmingham 'Whodunnit' Asks Police in Rash of Dented Cars

BIRMINGHAM — Police officers finally have a regular "whodunnit" on their hands as they try to solve the riddle of the banged-up cars in the Elan, Graefield road vicinity. Owners, reporting about twenty cars had been "banged into and scratched," set the police off on one of the weirdest hunts in the departments history.

Detective Lt. Merlin Holmquist said that the cars had apparently been hit by the same vehicle or "instrument". There is an indentation on each damaged car that indicated it may have been a bolt head or bar on the front of a car, truck or snow-plow.

The mystery played a two-night stand with one owner being caught even after parking his car on a different street the second night. Asked if they thought it might be someone with a grudge police said "If that is the case, the fellow must have an awful mad on, because it covers two streets and about twenty widely scattered cars."

Some of the vehicles were parked alone while in other cases there were two cars parked on opposite sides of the street and both were hit. Police at first believed, judging from tracks in the snow, that the damage had been done deliberately.

Now they regretfully say, "it just might possibly have been a city snow-plow."

Still protesting residents heard city commissioners vote, four to one, in favor of closing one of the alleys in the blocks bounded by Forest, Hazel, Adams and Elm streets.

Residents said the closing of the alley would work a hardship on the Ray Watkins family of 843 Chestnut St. in that they would not be able to use their garage.

Commissioners, however, went along with the city engineer's suggestion that the easterly fifty feet be closed, leaving that area approximately fourteen feet wide for entrance to and exit from the garage.

The proposed paving of the service alley between Maple Avenue and Willett street will probably get under way as soon as weather permits.

Commissioners reviewed the situation last night and said that insofar as the necessity and special assessment district had already been approved, they saw no reason to further delay the badly needed work.

They did, however, authorize City Manager Harold Schone to proceed with the details of acquiring two small parcels of land within the alley to permit a wider paving area in the future.

police, and police cooperation with the FBI, were in an early stage of development—and this made it easier for Durkin.

At San Antonio, agents learned that Durkin and his girl friend had boarded the MK&T "Texas Special" for St. Louis.

Special agents in the St. Louis office got in touch with St. Louis detectives and explained the situation. Oddly enough, the government couldn't prosecute Durkin for the murder of Shanahan because killing a federal officer was not then a violation of federal laws.

He could be prosecuted for murder only in the courts of the state in which the crime occurred.

With city detectives cooperating, arrangements were made to have the "Texas Special" stopped at a small town outside St. Louis. Then if Durkin tried to escape, he would have to run across open plowed fields and there would be no danger to bystanders in a gun battle.

When the "Texas Special" came to a halt, the FBI agents and detectives rushed into Durkin's compartment before he could reach for the pistols in his overcoat.

Martin Durkin, killer and thief, was captured a little more than three months after his gun felled Special Agent Shanahan. He admitted the killing. He was 25 years old when he entered prison. He was 53 when he was released in 1954.

CAPTURING AN ARMY
One of the FBI's strangest cases in this era had nothing to do with graft or corruption. It involved the capture of an army, including the general staff, the infantry, armor, artillery, ammunition and air force!

It happened in 1926. A warning reached the FBI that Maj. Gen. Enrique Estrada was recruiting and training on American soil a revolutionary army to be used for an invasion of Mexico.

The general had fled to California in 1924 after an abortive effort to overthrow the Obregon government.

Estrada depended not on the great munitions makers to supply the necessary arms—but on a local hardware company.

The hardware which Gen. Estrada ordered included 400 Springfield rifles and 150,000 rounds of 30 caliber ammunition, two Marlin machine guns, 5,000 rounds of machine-gun ammunition, 300 pounds of dynamite, and pipe fittings and sheet iron suitable for do-it-yourself aerial bombs.

SMALL AIR FORCE
Estrada and his staff had on order an air force of four Ryan monoplanes complete with three aviators; an armored task force of two 2½ ton armored trucks; and a supply train of five used trucks.

The advance echelon of the invasion army rolled out of Los Angeles on Aug. 14, composed of two trucks loaded with arms and ammunition, and an automobile.

Unnoticed in the traffic behind them were three automobiles carrying FBI agents, officers from the Los Angeles police force, and agents of the Pacific Coast Auto Underwriters.

Next day, Estrada's main army assembled in Los Angeles, numbering some 115. Off went the convoy toward the Mexican border.

The ammunition train reached the rendezvous point on schedule and waited for the arrival of the general staff and the troops. But the enemy, infiltrating and attacking from the rear, overran the entire train without a shot fired. In the busy hours that followed, officers captured the general, his ground forces, his armor and his air force, picking them off piecemeal, as military men say.

And so ended a dream of revolution.

Police Find No Car Broke Ice at Temple

A thorough investigation at Teeple Lake in White Lake Township Monday cleared up any possibility that a car had gone through the ice about one-eighth mile from shore Sunday night, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said today.

Detectives Don Francis and Jack Davis conducted a long search with two ice fishermen yesterday and found no trace of any vehicle after probing an area 40 feet square with long poles. The water is 13 feet deep at the spot where a large hole had been discovered Sunday.

The investigators reported a close check of the car tracks found by deputies in a preliminary look at the area near the Ford Road launching site disclosed that an auto had apparently been driven on the ice and then backed off again.

Duty Pays Off in Long Patience

DETROIT (INS)—Four years... six hundred suspects in the "Big Black Book" ... fifteen hundred men questioned ... fourteen phony confessions. And then—"We've got the right man. We're sure. Real sure."

This was the opinion today of Detective Lt. Glenn Collier and his partner, Detective Lt. William E. Sheedy as they discussed the confession of the murdered of 18-year-old Joann Gillespie.

Collier, 44, has been on the Detroit police force since 1936 and has been a detective since 1945. He was assigned to the detective bureau desk in headquarters until July of last year, then, on his own request, went to homicide.

Collier has had 16 department citations; Sheedy, 6.

Both men agreed: "This is the result of police cooperation."

Neither would take any personal credit for breaking the case—one of the most baffling in Detroit history. They gave credit to the department; to the painstaking work of hundreds of police officers, the close link between the many police bureaus.

Their boss, Inspector Thomas Colch didn't agree entirely. He said: "Solving that case got to be an obsession, first with Collier, then with Sheedy. Their dedication to duty paid off. We're proud of them both."

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 83½ W. Huron St. Phone 725-0200.

DO YOU RECEIVE RENT?

If you are not engaged in selling real estate to customers, but receive rent from property owned or controlled by you, the total amount received is included in gross income. You are entitled to various deductions such as depreciation, taxes, interest, repairs, or maintenance. Insurance is also deductible, but only the portion of the premium that applies to the current year.

If only part of your property is rented, only the expenses pertaining to the rented part are deductible.

For example, if you rent half of your home, and you live in the other half, only half of the depreciation and other expenses can be deducted against the rental income.

Minor repairs are deductible, but the cost of major improvements, such as a new roof or remodeling, are not—they are recovered through depreciation. If you have rental income—you need Schedule G when preparing your 1956 income tax return.

Sawchuk Named Goalie

3 Red Wings Selected on NHL All-Star Team

ONTARIO — Three Detroit Red Wings, two Montreal Canadiens and goalie Terry Sawchuk of the Boston Bruins were selected for the National Hockey League No. 1 all-star team in voting, announced today, for the first half of the season.

Three players were unanimous choices of the hockey writers, broadcasters and telecasters from the six NHL cities. Center Jean Harvey of Montreal and Doug Harvey of Montreal and right-winger Gordie Howe of Detroit received the 90 possible points.

Others voted to the first all-star team were defenseman Red Kelly and left-winger Ted Lindsay of Detroit.

Points were awarded on the basis of five for a first choice, three for a second and one for a third. A second-half poll will be taken at the end of the season. The combined points will decide the first and second teams.

The second team, based on the first-half voting: goal, Glen Hall, Detroit; defense: Doug Mohns, Boston, and Bill Gadsby, New York; center, Norm Ullman, Detroit.

"BALL OF FIRE" — A fiery competitor for the Avondale High School basketball team is speedy Fred Hyten, who will be a key figure in tonight's Oakland B League battle with Lake Orion at Avondale.

Drug Regains League Lead

Drayton Drug slid back into 1st place by half a game and Boyle-Stone Front of Millford coasted to victory in Monday night's Waterford League basketball games at the Isaac Cray Junior High gym.

The Drug quintet regained the league lead with a 53-48 triumph over Johnson & Anderson in a closely-contested battle. Bill York led Drayton with 19 points while Stu Hutchinson and Bill Newcombe each made 15 for J & A.

Stone Front waltzed to a 50-41 win over Louie's Tavern in the opening game. Boyle's Carl Beaubien tallied 15 points for scoring laurels. The loser's John Collins picked up 13.

In tonight's contest at Cray, Philgas tries to tie Drayton Drug for 1st place by beating Matthews-Hargreaves. Game time is 7:15.

Prep Card Light but Lively

By BILL CORNWELL

The renewal of a sizzling Suburban Catholic League feud and an Oakland B League struggle between Avondale and Lake Orion headline tonight's light high school basketball program in the Oakland County area.

Highland Park St. Benedict, undefeated in five games, comes to town tonight to meet St. Michael at the Pontiac High School gymnasium in a crucial Suburban loop engagement.

It is a particularly critical test for the Mikes. St. Ben will carry a 4-0 league record into the fray while St. Mike stands at 3-1. Another loss would virtually put the northsiders out of title contention. St. Mike and the Ravens are far from being strangers. They met 10 times last season and split down the middle. The Shamrocks whipped the Bens twice during the regular schedule and the two schools finished as SCL co-champions.

Then the Bens took their turn. They walloped St. Mike in a playoff at Shrine for the right to enter the Detroit, parochial tourney and later eliminated the Shamrocks at PHS in the semifinals of the regional tournament.

A well-balanced attack, sparked by sharp-shooting Barry Gacki, makes the Ravens a solid choice to win. Backboard control will also be in their favor.

Unbeaten Orchard Lake St. Mary will be favored to turn back visiting St. James. St. Frederick should have no trouble with weak St. Clement on the Ram floor, and Royal Oak St. Mary hosts St. Rita in other Suburban Catholic games.

Avondale, which returned to the winning track last Friday at Roseville, plays host to a hot-and-cold Lake Orion quintet, which blew hot a week ago routing neighboring Oxford.

The Jackets will have to silence Orion's double-barreled scoring punch of Jim Drake and Nick Niera and still keeping their eyes peeled toward Ralph MacLachlan, who also gets his share of buckets. Both teams have identical 2-2 league marks.

Troy, often unimpressive but still winning in the loop, faces dangerous Clawson on the Clawson court and Fitzgerald entertains winless Roseville in remaining Oakland B encounters.

Cranbrook, hungry for a victory after six futile attempts, battles Kennedy Collegiate of Windsor at Cranbrook in a return match and the West Bloomfield Lakers tangle with Bloomfield Hills at Keego Harbor in non-league attractions.

Lapeer gets a chance to avenge one of its three losses when Davison invades the Panther den. The Lapeer cagers own a 3-3 record. Other area games tonight are North Branch at Lakeville, Detroit St. Gregory at Royal Oak Shrine, Dearborn Roosevelt at Oak Park and Brighton at South Lyon.

Mickey Mantle Awarded 'Sultan of Swat' Crown

BALTIMORE — Mickey Mantle, modern day slugger of the New York Yankees, was awarded a crown last night named after the greatest baseball slugger of all time, the late Babe Ruth.

Mantle was given the Babe Ruth Sultan of Swat crown by the annual "Tops in Sports" banquet.

The 25-year-old switchhitter got the diamond and emerald-studded crown for "outstanding batting achievement." He led both major leagues in hitting, .353, home runs, 52, and runs batted in, 130, last season.

Mantle was given a standing ovation by a sellout crowd of more than 1,000, as was Olympic sprint star Bobby Morrow.

Morrow, who picked up three gold medals at the Olympic games in Melbourne in November, was cited as "Sportsman of 1956" by Sports Illustrated magazine.

Other awards went to: Sal Maglie, pitcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, "Comeback of the Year;" Frank Lary, Detroit Tigers, "Winningest Pitcher of the American League;" Sherman Lollar, Chicago White Sox, "Top Defensive Catcher;" Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox, "Outstanding Hurler of the American League;" and Catcher Gus Triandos, "Most Valuable Oriole."

Retirement Is Official

Jackie Robinson Takes Up His New Job, Sends Letter to Giants

NEW YORK — All was quiet today in the household of Jackie Robinson, baseball star turned business executive.

The famed Brooklyn Dodger insured peace by formally retiring from baseball yesterday and reporting for duty as vice president of personnel for a restaurant chain.

Jackie's retirement drew an audience of reporters and photographers to his new business office where he dictated a letter to the New York Giants officially requesting his retirement.

The letter is expected to result in the re-assignment by the Giants of Robinson's contract to Brooklyn, thus nullifying the Dec. 13 deal which sent Jackie to the Giants for a reported $30,000 and southpaw pitcher Dick Littlefield.

Baseball procedure indicates Robinson will be carried on Brooklyn's voluntary retired list for two years, then given his unconditional release.

Pontiac Ski Club Ready for Action

Everything was in readiness today for full operation at Pontiac Ski Club's Teeple Hill slopes. Four tows will be in operation Wednesday afternoon, from 1 to 5 p.m. The area has been greatly improved this year and provides some of the finest skiing in the eastern part of the state.

Oakland's Two Leading Wrestling Teams Meet

Oakland County's two foremost prep wrestling teams clash headon at Hazel Park tomorrow when the Vikings play host to the strong Berkeley contingent in what is expected to be an interesting area battle.

Both have lost their only matches to state powers thus far. Hazel Park has a 2-1 record with the setback administered by Ann Arbor. The Bears are 3-1 with the only loss to Lansing Sexton. Both have won all their other outings handily.

Senators Sign 3 More

WASHINGTON — The Washington Senators announced today that three more players have signed contracts for 1957. They are shortstop Jose Valdivielso, infielder Tony and Rookie pitcher Ralph Groves, up from Chattanooga.

'Willing to Compromise'

Kaline Wants Settlement

DETROIT — Al Kaline, admittedly a bit uneasy about the prospect of a slugging match over his 1957 salary with the Detroit Tigers, said today he is "willing to compromise."

But the 22-year-old slugger said he'll expect general manager Spike Briggs to give in a little, too, when they sit down — for the 4th time — to talk contract in about two weeks.

Unhappy at the publicity given his squabble with Briggs and most especially with the general manager's comment that "Kaline think he's as good as Mickey Mantle and wants more money," the young right fielder made the first move since the flurry to patch things up.

"I'm going to be out of town for about ten days," said Kaline. "I have a banquet in Alberta, Canada, and another one in St. Paul. As soon as I get back, I'm going to go down to the stadium and try to get this thing settled."

Kaline hadn't wanted his salary disagreement with Briggs aired in public. Earlier he had confided to friends that there was a difference of opinion, but he said that after a couple of meetings, the difference in the amount he sought and the amount the club offered wasn't much.

Every Home Should Have Its Own Liquor Supplier

What Could Be More Elegant Than a Still?

By LEE CARSON

NEW YORK (INS) — To be truly elegant this year you must have a nice, little apartment-size still around the house, presumably for any unexpected guests who who pin for a dollap after the package stores close.

This is what one gleams from a caravan that parked itself on a street in midtown New York a few days ago, sponsored by one of the large booze concerns, and whose purpose was the display of "a new age of elegance" (in the post-prohibition world, of course).

The visitors on hand when I dropped in appeared to be giving quick glances at the handsomely laid cloth of gold dinner table and just polite peers at the various exhibits dedicated to elegant living in patio, den, game room and terrace. Then they headed for the still.

This nice little still not only was set up to show all its workings, but directions for its operations were thoughtfully provided.

Ready to cook anything from "spirits" to fine gin in one continuous operation and of a size to fit into the smallest kitchenette, the still was waitin' and willin'.

TO TOUR COUNTRY

The still and lesser exhibits were part of a modernized medicine show that will be touring the country to enlighten the hinterlands on how to live "gracefully and elegantly—with the sponsor's product, natch.

The white and gold double-trailers will travel the length and breadth of the land, bringing to all points north, south and west the refinements of living it up at home instead of going down to the corner saloon.

Among other things, the provinces will see how to construct an elegant bar out of old peach crates and the marble of grandmother's dresser, how to be really amusing in fixing up dad's den (a showcase of trophies he missed—a scale from the fish that got away, a drop of water handsomely bottled from the ice-skating rink where he made a three-point landing, etc.).

Besides all this, the caravan in its New York stand offers contest blanks which can win for a lucky visitor a day's toll receipts from the Staten Island Ferry, the take of a booth on the Triborough Bridge, all the coin of the realm collected by the world's busiest subway turnstile at Grand Central Station and on down to loot from the gum and candy machines on various stations around New York.

Lives there a man or woman (figured the liquor people) who hasn't grumbled about paying that goldarned bridge toll, ferry or subway fare over and over every day. Here was everyone's opportunity to get even.

NOTHING TO RHYME

For 24 hours the contest winners could have grabs on the receipts from their city's most used and lucrative means of commuting. No jingles to complete, no box tops, no nothing. Just sign your name and kind sponsor takes care of the rest.

The double-headed caravan, complete with home-size still and contest blanks will hit the road next month.

Plans at present call for a three-year tour—but of course popular demand could extend it to five or six.

And one never knows—since in every town the prize winners will get control of their own public utilities' take for 24 hours—be it bridge or road toll, or streetcar and bus fares.

ARTIST SHOWS HOW — Two community classes in drawing and painting will be offered for ten weeks beginning Jan. 22 and 24 at the Cranbrook Academy of Arts. Above, the instructor for the course, Fred Mitchell, explains a painting problem to an amateur painter. A group of Mitchell's paintings were shown last year in New York in an exhibition of American painting. Besides drawing and painting instruction, Mitchell will give side talks on art of the past and present.

Hollywood Headlines

Titus Moody Takes Over as Ma Kettle's New Pa

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Ma Kettle has a new Pa.

He's Parker Fennelly, veteran stage, radio and TV actor who has taken over as Marjorie Main's spouse in the latest of the series, "Ma and Pa Kettle at McDonald's Farm."

He replaces crickety Percy Kilbride, who voluntarily retired two Kettles ago. Another of the series was then made with Arthur Hunnicutt in the male lead, but not as Pa.

"I don't know how they happened to choose me," said Fennelly, famed as Titus Moody ("Howdy, Bub") in the late Fred Allen's Alley. "I don't resemble Percy at all."

But Fennelly is noted for his portrayal of rural characters, though they have generally been of a New England variety rather than Western like the Kettles. The studio saw him as Arthur Train's Mr. Tutt in a Robert Montgomery TV show. That spawned the idea that he could be Pa.

"But I told them if they wanted to see something more like Kettle," he remarked, "they should see a film I did a year ago for the Robert Young show, 'Father Knows Best.' I played a farmer in that one, the only film I had ever made in Hollywood."

The film confirmed the studio's judgment and Fennelly was signed. Now he's not so sure he should have. He came to lunch attired in Pa's usual tatters with a rope for a belt ("very high-class wardrobe.") And he told of from a wire for a stunt in which he falls into Ma's arms.

"I didn't read the script before I signed," he commented. "They didn't tell me anything about this."

But though he speaks with Down East caution, he appears to be having a good time. He was a small-town Maine boy who couldn't resist the lure of the footlights. He went to drama school in Boston and started on the stage in 1915.

After serving in the Army after the first World War, he returned to acting and admits that he had plenty of lean times. But with the rise of radio he found steady employment to fill out the times between plays.

Daniel Becomes Texas Governor

Shivers Quits Politics After Staying in Office for Seven Years

AUSTIN, Tex. (U) — Allan Shivers moves out and Price Daniel moves in today as governor of Texas, swearing to defend both the state and federal constitutions which both have said sometimes conflict.

Daniel takes the oath of office shortly after noon, ending Shivers' seven-year reign, longest in the history of the state.

Shivers, 49, is retiring from politics, for the time at least, to manage his far-flung business enterprises.

Daniel, 47, is an ardent state's rights. He has been in frequent conflict with the federal government on many issues which he considers in violation of state's rights. He went to the U.S. Senate to battle for a return to Texas of its oil-rich offshore lands. He leaves the office with two years to go on his original term.

The question of his successor has been a point of dispute between the two men and has national significance because of the shaky 49-47 Democratic majority in the Senate.

Both Shivers and Daniel bolted the Democratic party in 1952 to support Eisenhower when the "Udelands" was an issue. Daniel returned to the party fold in 1956 but Shivers actively campaigned for the GOP ticket.

Ike to Use Old Flag, Symbol of America

WOODWARD, Okla. (U) — President Eisenhower said today he would be happy and honored to have a Greek restaurant owner's weather-beaten American flag displayed in the Jan. 21 inaugural parade—or even fly over the White House.

The flag belongs to G. K. Kavadias, who operates a bakery-restaurant on Pennsylvania Ave. in Washington, D.C. The Washington newspaper account said the now moth-eaten flag inspired Kavadias 50 years ago to start dreaming about coming to America from Greece. The banner was brought to Greece by Kavadias' father, who rescued it in a shipwreck.

Governor Asks Complete Unity

'Segregation Remains in Georgia, Whatever Any Court May Rule'

ATLANTA (U) — Gov. Martin Griffin today asked for "complete unity" in preserving racial segregation in Georgia "no matter what any court may rule."

In his annual State of the State message, prepared for delivery before a joint session of the General Assembly, Griffin noted that it had been 2½ years since the U.S. Supreme Court banned racial segregation in public schools, and declared:

"The effect of this unconstitutional and unlawful decree has not been felt in Georgia yet. That fact is no mere accident."

He pledged that as long as he occupied the governor's chair "there will be no breakdown in the pattern of segregation in this state."

He said that "in this crisis, Georgia stands firm... our precious institutions stand free and unsullied in this perilous hour."

Hint Montgomery New Navy Official

LOS ANGELES (U) — The Los Angeles Times said today that Robert Montgomery, President Eisenhower's volunteer television adviser, is being considered for tary of the Navy.

Robert Hartmann, the Times' bureau chief in Washington, said old actor and producer is "authoritatively reported to be interested in the $20,000 a year post expected to be vacant shortly after the President starts his second term."

Montgomery recently was promoted to captain in the Naval Reserve, the dispatch said. Montgomery saw active service as a Naval officer in World War II, both in London and the South Pacific. He is now an NB Ctelevision executive and resides in New York.

Miss Gets Court Date for Annoying Behavior

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U) — Lucille Stiglich, arrested twice outside the Pinetree Driv mansion of John Jacob Astor 3rd, has another municipal court date Friday. John Milton Feller said he would consider then "the matter of her breach of behavior" as well as fresh charges of disorderly conduct and failure to give an account of herself.

Police said they found Miss Stiglich driving near Astor's home Thursday night, a few hours after Feller fined her $400, suspended a 30-day sentence and admonished the 25-year-old brunette to stay away from the home of Astor, whom she was accused of annoying.

Edens Plan to Bask in New Zealand Sun

LONDON (U) — Former Prime Minister Eden and his wife will sail Friday on an extended vacation trip to New Zealand — unless a threatened dock strike holds them up.

They were invited by New Zealand Prime Minister Sidney Holland, who renewed an invitation he had given before Eden resigned. It was understood Eden's doctors urged him to spend several weeks in the New Zealand sunshine. He gave poor health as the reason for his resignation Thursday.

U.N. Denies Russian Whip

Disarmament Goal Suggested by Reds Could Be Against U.S.

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (U. P.)—U. N. diplomats clung doggedly today to hopes for big-power agreement on disarmament despite the sharp exchange between Russia and the United States at the outset of the key debate.

As Britain prepared to take the floor in the 39-nation Assembly's Political Committee, diplomats expressed disappointment that Russia had chosen the disarmament debate as the forum for a bitter attack on U. S. foreign policy.

They derived some comfort from the fact that the Soviet shifts apparently were not aimed at the new five-point American arms plan.

Diplomats hailed the U. S. proposals for international control of space missiles and of all future stockpiling of fissionable materials. They considered this an important shift in the American position.

Agreement on both recommendations would mark an important step toward a total ban on production and use of nuclear weapons, they said.

Farmer Buys Boy and Boy Would Stay

HONG KONG — The government recently uncovered the first case of "Mui Tsai" — sale of children for slavery — since the British authorities stamped out the ancient Chinese practice many years ago.

A 14-year-old girl and her 10-year-old brother were kidnapped from their home, the Social Welfare Office reports, and sold to an elderly farmer for 200 dollars ($35 dollars U. S.). The case had an odd ending.

Welfare officers awarded the boy to the farmer after the youngster said he wanted to remain with the old man.

The girl was returned to her parents.

About four-fifths of Canada's residents are native-born citizens.

Redhead Cops Oldster

HOUSTON, Tex. — A woman here reported her 78-year-old husband missing. "Do you have any idea why he left home?" asked the policeman. "I have a pretty good idea," she replied, "red-headed woman."

Scraped Flour Can, Found Some Dough

PONCA CITY, Okla. — A Ponca City housewife scraped the bottom of the flour canister to get enough for a recipe and found a dollar bill.

The next day, she called the grocer, all excited about the flour company putting dollar bills in the flour sacks, and she ordered some more of the same brand.

That night, she told the family about the discovery and the 12-year-old son, cried, "Oh, Mommy, that's where I hid my money."

Britisher's Luck - Finally Runs Out

HOUSTON, Tex. — There's a creaking good luck piece showing Houston these days, The Better Business Bureau reports. It seems a Britisher living in Torquay, England, owns what he calls a "Wishing Cork Tree." The cork tree, he writes in his sale testimonials, has a 300-year record for causing good luck.

The testimonials say cork holders have won at everything from craps to the Irish Sweepstakes, well worth the $2 to $5 the Britisher was asking for chunks of the cork tree.

His own luck, however, has taken a turn for the worse. The Post Office Department informed the Bureau he was being charged with mail fraud.

France have exempted cars over 25 years old from taxation.
