

Tuesday, February 24, 2009

Meadow Brook Hall lecture series returns

Meadow Brook Hall invites history lovers to join storyteller Maureen Esther for informative and entertaining looks at some of history's most fascinating times and people.

On Monday, March 9, Esther will present "Abraham Lincoln," a presentation focusing on this legendary man's journey to become one of the greatest presidents in American history.

On Monday, March 16, discussion will focus on the theme, "Civil War." Esther will highlight the life of a union drummer boy and the Michigan 22nd Infantry Regiment.

Both lectures will take place from 7-8:30 p.m. in the ballroom of Meadow Brook Hall. Tickets are $8 per person. Reservations are required.

For additional information about the Meadow Brook Hall lecture series, call (248) 364-6263 or visit www.meadowbrookhall.org.

SUMMARY

History lovers are invited to join storyteller Maureen Esther for informative and entertaining looks at some of history's most fascinating times and people.

Created by David Groves (groves@oakland.edu) on Tuesday, February 24, 2009
Modified by David Groves (groves@oakland.edu) on Tuesday, February 24, 2009
Article Start Date: Tuesday, February 24, 2009