

So This Is the First Day of Spring!

IN PONTIAC — Penny Wredenbeck turns up coat collar against cold wind.

IN SALT LAKE CITY — Pretty Diane Corder sniffs plum tree blossoms that arrived just a little before Spring's official debut.

AND IN MADISON, WIS. — Winter paid no attention to the calendar and look what happened — 7 inches of snow!

Keep Hoping — Fair Tomorrow

Don't Forget — It's Spring!

Spring arrives at 4:17 p.m. today, according to the weatherman, but someone forgot to tell Old Man Winter. Robins heralded the arrival by huddling in their nests and muttering rude remarks through chattering beaks.

A half-inch of snow blanketed the Pontiac area during the night and continued today. The forecast is for continued snow, diminishing this afternoon.

Partly cloudy and continued cold with a high of 36 to 40. Tonight will be mostly fair and cold with a low of 24-28. Tomorrow is to be fair and warmer, with a high of 46-54.

Winds will be from the northwest today at 12-18 miles an hour and 4-8 miles per hour tonight. A pair of low pressure areas are held responsible for winter's last surge. One is over southern Michigan and the northern sections of Indiana and Ohio bringing snow. The other is off the Mid-Atlantic Coast and brought rain to southern New England and most of the North Atlantic Coast states.

5 County Solons Hit Water Bill

Object to Amendments on Measure Providing for Detroit Supply

An amendment-heavy water bill, which may provide auxiliary water to this area, passed the House of Representatives in Lansing yesterday despite the objections of five of six Oakland County representatives.

The five voted against the measure contending that, as amended, "the original intent would be killed."

The bill would allow Detroit to sell water to Pontiac and surrounding communities at double the rates charged local users only if these sales do not curtail Detroit users.

The bill, introduced by Pontiac Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, passed the House 10 to 23 and now must go to the Senate for final approval.

Several county representatives indicated they might ask the Senate to sidetrack the bill as amended.

He proposed that before Detroit could sell water to Pontiac and other areas, it must be able to guarantee to Detroit consumers all the water they need anytime at any peak season, Hudson explained.

Hudson said the amendment "practically kills the intent of the bill." "No one can ever guarantee under all conditions all the water they need in Detroit," Hudson said.

Because of their support of Hudson's objection to the amendment, Reps. Lloyd L. Anderson, Farrell E. Roberts, Theodore F. Hughes, Walter T. McMahon voted with Hudson against the measure, Rep. Donald A. Brown did not vote.

The first two amendments exempted cities in Wayne County presently getting water from Detroit, and Royal Oak and Berkeley from coming under the more-than-double rate outlined in the bill.

Shortage of Cash Stalls Polio Plan

Lack of funds has brought Michigan's program of free polio immunization for children 1 through 14, lumbering to a halt, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said today.

Oakland County was saved from halting its program at the end of last week by the timely arrival of 2,700 doses of Salk vaccine which gave it a two-week lease on life.

Dr. John D. Monroe was prepared to stop the polio clinic Friday, but the State Health Dept. informed him it had rounded up the extra vaccine in communities that had a surplus on hand and was shipping it immediately.

Dr. Heustis said the state has spent its last dollar for vaccine and would need an estimated $617,000 to run the current program until July 1. This money would buy an additional 1,514,400 doses.

Heustis did not estimate how much money would be needed to continue the program for the next fiscal year but Dr. Monroe said that many youngsters and pregnant women would need second or third shots in the coming fiscal year to complete their immunization.

ASKS RELEASE OF FUNDS Gov. Williams earlier had called upon the Legislature to make available some $660,000 appropriated for vaccine but not released by the lawmakers.

Federal funds are not used for vaccine, but pay the cost of keeping the numerous records which permit public health officials to check the effectiveness of the vaccine during the polio season and enable them to estimate how many children have been immunized in a county.

A second problem facing both the public health and private physicians is the present shortage of Salk vaccine. Dr. Monroe said a strongly increasing demand, particularly in the South, has caused the shortage, after a period when demand had fallen off.

Legal Troubles Flood Top Teamster Officials

Partisan Battle Doooms Chance for Fifth Judge

Close Vote Defeats Bill Calling for Election; Dems Ask Appointment

A partisan battle in Lansing yesterday all but doomed Oakland County's chance this year for approval of a fifth circuit judge.

The House of Representatives defeated 48-44 a Republican-favored bill creating the judgeship in the fall, 1938 election.

Democrats swung the vote after they failed to obtain passage of an amendment that would have filled the post through appointment by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The House and the county's delegation of four Republicans and two Democrats were split along party lines, despite earlier reports of an attempt at a non-partisan compromise.

A behind-the-scenes decision by Gov. Williams seemed to have set off the explosive debate on the House floor yesterday.

There was a chance, under House rules, that the battle might be repeated today. Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, Republican of West Bloomfield Township, charged Williams put his foot down after the bill calling for popular election of the judge was passed favorably out of the House judiciary committee last Thursday.

A Williams appointee presumably would be a Democrat, while Republicans felt a GOP judge would win in an election. Roberts charged this was Williams' motive.

Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, Democrat of Pontiac, chided the Republican for introducing the partisan consideration.

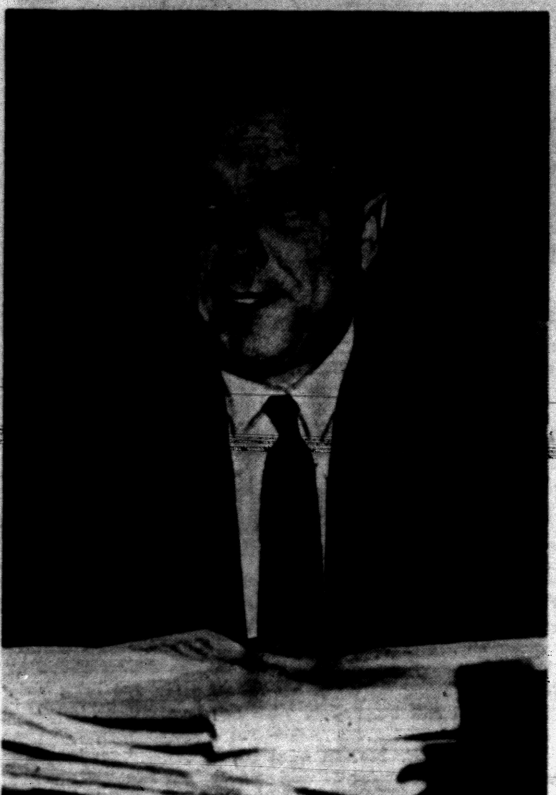

Hudson, whose original bill for an appointment January, 1938, was amended in the Republican-controlled committee, yesterday introduced the Democratic amendment.

He claimed Gov. Williams had laid down the law because Republicans were trying to circumvent his constitutional power to appoint judges.

Hudson said the Democratic thinking was this: Creation of a new judgeship should be based on "immediate need," and that calls for an appointment as soon as possible.

Judge Orders Sanity Hearing

Three Doctors Named to Commission to Test Roberta Sue Allred

A three member sanity commission was appointed today by Detroit Recorder's Judge Paul D. Krause to examine Roberta Sue Allred, 18-year-old Pontiac baby sister charged with drowning a 2½-year-old girl left in her care.

The three doctor commission was ordered to report April 5 on whether Miss Allred is mentally able to stand trial.

The way was cleared for a sanity test, requested by the prosecution, when a defense attorney said the girl would waive examination, which had been set for March 23.

She is accused of drowning Patricia Tierman in a Detroit hotel bathtub.

A former mental patient, Miss Allred was arrested Thursday at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson. She had been arrested for creating a disturbance there, in an attempt to see her imprisoned brother.

The brutal tale of drowning the youngster was blurted to a police officer, touching off a check in Detroit which produced the body of the infant.

Twins May Be Placed With Aunt

Six Wyatt Children Made Wards of State

The six youngest children of Mrs. Ada Wyatt, 33-year-old Keego Harbor mother convicted of child cruelty, yesterday were ruled "permanent wards of the state" at a Juvenile Court hearing before Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Included in the decision, however, was the provision that the two oldest, twins Bobbie and Billy, six, might be placed in the custody of their father's sister in Union City, Tenn., pending a department of welfare investigation there.

The four youngest children of William Wyatt, 29-year-old truck driver, "are eligible for immediate adoption," Moore ruled. They are Jimmy, five; Mona, four; Gary, one; and Tommy, three.

A hearing to determine custody of Mrs. Wyatt's six oldest children by a previous marriage, surmised Wilkinson, will be held at a later date. They are staying with grandparents in Howell. Wyatt's children have been in the custody of court boarding homes.

Mrs. Wyatt is now serving a 3½-year term in the Detroit House of Correction for cruelly torturing her eight-year-old daughter, Sherry Wilkinson. Sherry is undergoing oral and plastic surgery in University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The small red-haired mother of twelve, who displayed no emotion during all the days of her trial, wept uncontrollably, as did her husband, at yesterday's hearing.

"I don't want to lose them," Wyatt sobbed.

Hoffa and Beck Brewster All in Hot Water

Union President Faces Afternoon Deadline for Giving Up Records

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES WASHINGTON — The three top officials of the powerful Teamsters Union were in hot water today—either with the law or with lawmakers.

Top man Dave Beck, president of the nation's biggest union, faced a 3 p.m. (EST) deadline for turning over his personal financial records to the Senate special committee investigating racketeering.

The No. 2 power, Vice President James R. "Jimmy" Hoffa, prepared to fight a federal grand jury indictment, given late yesterday.

Beck to Ask Funds

SEATTLE (AP) — Dave Beck said today the million and a half members of the Teamsters' Union will be asked to give financial and moral support to officers indicted for contempt of Congress. "It is a union matter," the union's general president declared.

"We probably will send out 100 to 150 people to visit our locals and counsel to solicit funds and explain the position of these officers," Beck said. He did not specify whether funds would be sought from members individually or from the treasuries of the union locals.

Adams' Defense Is Rapier-Swift

Lawyer's Skill Rocks Crown's Case in Trial as Widow Slayer

LONDON (INS) — The Crown's case against Dr. John Bodkin Adams, alleged poison murder, was rocked today by the relentless cross-examination of a second star prosecution witness.

Lawyer Geoffrey Lawrence, who almost completely wrecked the testimony of nurse Rose Stronach yesterday, gave the same medicine today to nurse Annie Helen Mason-Ellis.

The two women were nurses to Mrs. Edith Alice Morrell, who died in 1950 at the age of 81. Adams, a 58-year-old bachelor physician, is accused of poisoning the wealthy widow to benefit from her will.

Lawrence, who is as smooth and as deadly as a rapier, forced nurse Mason-Ellis to admit that she and two others of Mrs. Morrell's nurses discussed in detail last night the testimony they had previously given against Adams.

This was in direct defiance of orders of the presiding judge, Sir Patrick Devlin, but the latter made no mention of it when he recessed the sensational Old Bailey trial at lunch.

State Law Would Require $2 Admission

Park Fee Bill Nears Senate Passage

LANSING (AP) — A bill for a $2 annual admission charge to state parks reached passage stage in the Senate today after several detailed changes were written in during a second day of debate.

Supported by nearly all Republican majority senators and some Democrats, the measure was expected to sail through with only a scattering of negative votes.

However, there were indications it will encounter stiffer resistance in the House.

Taking up where it left off Monday night, the Senate yesterday resumed discussion of how much to charge for a single-day visit, finally settling on 50 cents.

KILLS PROVISION

It knocked out a provision to grant free admission to busloads of school and church children coming to a park for a picnic.

Basically, the bill calls for purchase of a sticker that would be attached to the windshield of a car, giving entry rights to the vehicle and all persons in it.

It was brought out by Sen. Edward F. Hutchinson (R-Fennville) that a "head" charge, rather than what is in effect a vehicle parking fee, might run into a "legal obstacle."

ATTACH CONDITION

Hutchinson said this was because some of the gifts and grants of land that went into the park system attached a condition that use would have to be free to the public.

Hutchinson raised the point after Sen. Basil W. Brown (D-Detroit) observed that the school and church exemption, later eliminated, should not be tied to a requirement for approaching the park gate in a bus.

Some groups might want to come in private cars or trucks, he said. He proposed striking out the word "bus."

It was then that Hutchinson said this might jeopardize the validity of the bill, if enacted.

Before it was agreed to make the single-day charge 50 cents, Rep. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) called for doing away altogether with a one-day fee.

He said administering it would provide a problem, and that it was doubtful the state would profit any.

Oklahoma Father Pleads Guilty to Scalping Son

OKLAHOMA CITY (INS) — A 41-year-old father has pleaded guilty of scalping his 23-month-old son.

Tony Mack Jobe, who entered his guilty plea yesterday in Oklahoma City, will be sentenced March 27. The county attorney's office said it would recommend a six-year suspended sentence.

His wife told police her estranged husband beat her unconscious and then attacked their son last Feb. 8. She regained consciousness to find the baby's scalp dangling by a small piece of skin. The child survived.

Egyptians Claim Gaza Violation

Protest to U.N. About Alleged Israeli Flight Over Disputed Strip

CAIRO (INS) — The Egyptians charged today that five Israeli planes flew over the disputed Gaza Strip area this morning in a show of strength.

The government was reported to have protested promptly to U.N. Emergency Force Commander Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns.

The first dispute over transit tolls on the reopening Suez Canal also took place today when the Egyptians refused passage to two Lebanese cargo ships, the 841-ton Fosfides and the 731-ton Sirtus.

These ships were refused entry into the canal because Egyptian Canal Authority informants said they offered to pay tolls in Lebanese pounds whereas the Egyptians insisted on dollar payments.

A "satisfactory arrangement" was worked out meanwhile for passage of the 540-ton Italian tanker Cristine, which began a northward trip through the waterway.

UP TO 2,000 TONS — The canal authority announced that the waterway is now open to vessels up to 2,000 tons provided full tolls are paid to Egypt.

A first critical test of freedom of navigation on the Gulf of Aqaba may come today when the small freighter Pandora en route from the Israeli port of Elath to Massawa, Ethiopia, reaches the narrow Tiran Strait leading from the gulf to the Red Sea.

Saudi Arabian coastal guns across the narrow strait from Egypt guard the Tiran Strait.

Egyptian informants said the Saudi Arabian guns would fire on any Israeli ship plying waters that both Arab nations claim are territorial, and not international.

Other informants said that the Pandora probably would be spared from gunfire because it is flying the Costa Rican flag even though recently it sailed under the Israeli flag as the Queen of Sheba. It is under Israeli charter for the trip.

CLAIM WITHDRAWAL

The Egyptian afternoon newspaper Al Misra reported in banner headlines that U. N. Emergency Forces began withdrawing from the villages of Khan Yunis and Rafah in the Gaza Strip early today after two meetings between Gen. Burns and Egyptian liaison officer, Brigadier Amin Helmi, who demanded the withdrawal.

Burns also was said to have promised to withdraw troops from Gaza City, putting all of his forces on the true lines and giving Egyptians complete administrative control in the Gaza Strip.

U. N. officials in Cairo said they had no comment to make until Burns arrives tonight.

Meanwhile, in Washington, the U. S. was reported today to have rejected an Israeli plan to force Egypt out of the Gaza Strip.

Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban presented to the State Department yesterday a series of "concrete steps" designed to put the United Nations back in administrative and police control of the disputed Gaza tinterbox.

Administration sources indicated the State Department informed Eban the U. S. could not support this program because Washington agrees Egypt has a legal right to control Gaza.

ALREADY COOLING OFF

Diplomatic sources in Washington are convinced that the Gaza crisis is already cooling off as far as raids, or counter-attacks, are concerned.

But the Egyptian-Israeli propaganda battle over Gaza is expected to continue for several more days.

U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold is scheduled to arrive in Cairo about midnight (5 p.m., EST) for showdown talks with President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Indian Ambassador Without Portfolio V. K. Krishna Menon, who conferred with Nasser for seven hours yesterday, was to meet with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and then hold a news conference.

Official announcement of Egyptian conditions for reopening the Suez Canal may be made before the end of the day.

Ike Sends Greeting to Mrs. Russell

Area Resident Turns 100

The turn of the century is more than a descriptive phrase today for Mrs. Libby Russell of Waterford Township—she's making the turn herself.

Like many of her other 99 birthdays, she's spending the 100th quietly, and without too much excitement, although a letter from President Dwight D. Eisenhower wishing her well arrived today.

Although she usually lives with her niece and nephew Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Keith, of 7130 Cooley Lake Rd., she is currently visiting Mrs. Mildred Allen, of 204 Allen Dr., Milford.

Participating in the 2-4 p.m. open house today was a four-legged member of the family, Mrs. Russell's constant companion—her dog "Boots."

Boots is no youngster, either. His life span of 22 years corresponds to 110 years in a human.

"Annet Lib" as she is known to many friends, is one of 15 children whose Irish parents settled in the wilderness near Cass Lake more than a century ago.

Blind for the past ten years, Mrs. Russell is not heavy-hearted. "I saw enough by the time I was 50," she said, in chipper good health.

Commenting as a centenarian is expected to, Mrs. Russell said today, "It's a man's world, and they were doing all right until the women started voting."

"I've never voted. Women haven't done any better with the vote, and they can't do justice to two jobs."

11-389 are striking at Socony Mobil Oil, Standard, Pure, and Sinclair firms in Detroit.

The strike is blocking regular deliveries into the Pontiac branches of the four firms.

Walter V. Thornton, secretary-treasurer of the union, said drivers at Argo Oil Co. ratified a contract raising their pay 18 cents an hour.

Drivers at L. A. Smith, Victor Oil, Austin Oil, and Refiners Transport settled for 15 cents per hour increase, he said.

MEET IN DETROIT — Meetings were scheduled in Detroit today with Socony and Standard and Gulf, one of six other companies whose contracts with the OCAW have expired.

Union members are asking wage hikes to be included in the new contracts with the oil companies.

A temporary injunction was continued against Detroit OCAW mass picketing at the local Socony yard, 521 S. Telegraph Rd., when the attorney for the union failed to appear in circuit court yesterday to show cause why the union shouldn't be enjoined from picketing.

Members of Central States Petroleum Union Local 102, who joined the OCAW earlier in their strike, returned to work at Standard yards Monday after settlement of terms.

2 to Be Arraigned in Local Break-In

Two Pontiac men, charged with breaking and entering the Downtown Auto Wash, 81 S. Perry St., waived examination and were returned to the Oakland County Jail yesterday to await arraignment in Circuit Court Monday.

Jessie Cooks, 41, of 312 Fisher St., and James Thomas, 39, 54 Elizabeth St., both failed to furnish the $1000 bond set by Municipal Judge Maurice Finnegan.

Anthony Brimaldi Jr., 22, Auburn Ave., and Richard Monroe, Lexington Place, spotted the two men in the building about 4 a.m. Sunday morning, police said. They caught and held Cooks until police arrived on the scene. Thomas was arrested a half-hour later by Lt. William Nesbitt and officer Gerald Navarre.

The two men are also accused of stealing cigarettes and overalls from the auto wash.

RECEIVING CONGRATULATIONS TODAY ON her 100th birthday was Mrs. Libby Russell, of 7130 Cooley Lake Rd. Besides a host of flowers and many cards, she got a message from President Dwight D. Eisenhower, wishing her well.

Ford Blast Claims Second Worker

9 Die in Industrial Mishaps

DETROIT — A second workman, Victor Taylor, 46, of Detroit, one of 26 injured in a fiery explosion at the Ford Motor Co.'s huge Rouge plant, died today in a Detroit hospital.

Meanwhile, investigators sought the cause of the blast Monday night which spewed a stream of flame through the frame-making department, blowing out some 500 feet of glass and brick wall. Five of 24 still hospitalized were listed as critical.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A cable snapped, and a construction elevator carrying 19 workmen plunged five floors to the ground yesterday. Five of the men were killed and the rest injured.

"It sounded like an explosion when it hit — then there were screams," said Bob Barsh, an insulation superintendent at the new Duval County courthouse the men were helping to build.

Among the horrified witnesses were women waiting for their husbands to finish up for the day.

The 85-foot fall killed George Edward Leach, 31; Dewey Woods, 23; Glenn D. Idol, 25; Jack Monroe Thomasson, 24; Dave Atmore, 56. The injured were distributed among five hospitals. Their conditions were reported serious or critical.

LINDEN, N. J. — An explosion in a vitamin laboratory killed 3 men and injured 11 others early today at the Merck and Co. pharmaceutical plant.

The men were all working in the first floor of a three-story brick building when flammable solvents used to make vitamin A apparently ignited, a company spokesman said.

Fire broke out briefly but was put out. The dead were identified as: Walter Green; Ed Cenzrowski and Edward L. Mnisch.

Higher Appraisal Includes Damages

Did Not Tell Whole Story

LANSING — Attorneys for a Grand Rapids trucking firm say state investigators were told only part of the story in a report that the state highway department had agreed to pay $80,000 for a piece of land originally appraised at $11,800.

Louis Grettenberger, Grand Rapids attorney, said the original appraisal apparently was made with little more than the value of the land itself in mind. The settlement figure, he said, took into account "great damages" Darling Freight Lines, Inc., would suffer as a result of the sale.

Grettenberger testified yesterday in the third day of hearings called by Aud. Gen. Frank S. Skysanski to learn the reason for the wide discrepancy in various appraisals made on the disputed property and the reason for the state's $80,000 bid. The investigation involves a 3½ acre plot owned by the Darling company and sought by the state highway department in connection with a Grand Rapids expressway project.

Grettenberger, the company's regular attorney, was the only witness yesterday. In six hours of testimony, he outlined how the company came to a tentative agreement with the highway department on sale of the property. Expected to testify at an afternoon hearing today were William T. Broersma and Harry J. Fuller, both of Grand Rapids, and Ward S. Van Dusen of Detroit. All three men are appraisers who at various times estimated the value of the Darling Company property.

Broersma appraised the property for the highway department at $11,800 in December, 1954, and at $16,500 last January. Van Dusen, also hired by the department, placed its value at $31,200 last May and Harry J. Fuller, in an appraisal for the company last February, came up with a $141,650 figure.

Under the proposed deal, Grettenberger said, the land would be sold to the highway department, which in turn would hand it over to Consumers Power Co. in return for nearby Consumers property needed for the expressway.

Dr. Adams' Defense Rocks Prosecution

Inland Manningham-Buller, were holding hasty conferences on what they could do to counter Lawrence's series of successes.

The prosecution earlier produced testimony purporting to show that Adams slowly poisoned Mrs. Morrell with increasing doses of heroin and morphine.

Injections of such narcotics, it was presumed, would have made the patient semi-conscious. But Lawrence compelled Miss Mason-Elie to admit that Mrs. Morrell was awake and quiet on the day before she died.

The nurse also admitted, under prodding from the defense counsel, that Mrs. Morrell had once called her "a stum woman and a brute."

But his biggest victory this morning was getting her to concede she and the other nurses had violated the judge's orders.

Dr. Adams, on the second day of his trial, looked as if he had had a good night's rest.

Bar Owner Fined $10 for Adulterating Food

John Ponushis, owner of John's Bar, 913 Baldwin Ave., pleaded guilty to the charge of adulteration of hamburger and was fined $10 when he appeared in Municipal Court before Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday.

A warrant specifically charging Ponushis with adding bread crumbs to the hamburger sold at a lunch counter in the bar was obtained by James McCollum, Oakland County food inspector for the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Macmillan's big double decked Stratocruiser from London touched down at Bermuda at 9:59 a.m.

Two minutes later Macmillan stepped from the BOAC's Casseopia and received the welcome of Lt. Gen. Sir John Woodall, British governor of these islands in the mid-Atlantic.

Macmillan during the four-day conference was expected to urge the strongest possible U.S. support of Israeli security interests in the Gaza Strip and shipping rights through the Gulf of Aqaba and the Suez Canal.

The British are reported to feel that the U. S. government, having prevailed on Israel to withdraw its troops, is honor bound to support Israel actively in the present stage of the contest with Egypt.

Before leaving London Macmillan made it clear his prime purpose will be to restore understanding and friendship with the United States.

A military reception, complete with the precision-trained honor guard of the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry, was well rehearsed for Eisenhower's arrival. But Bermuda officials said a prospect of wet weather would result in cancellation of outdoor ceremonies and substitution of a simple indoor welcome by Macmillan and Lt. Gen. Sir John Woodall, governor of the British colony.

No one wanted to risk a relapse in Eisenhower's throat condition by causing him to stand outside in the rain for 20 minutes.

The formal talks between Eisenhower, Macmillan and their advisers will begin tomorrow in the drawing room of Bermuda's exclusive Mid-Ocean Club, where all four of the top men at the harmony conference are staying. It seemed certain, however, that informal discussions would start tonight.

New York Paper Goes to 10 Cents a Copy

NEW YORK (INS) — The New York Journal-American announced today that "due to sharply increased costs for newsprint, wages and all operating expenses," it is raising the price of its weekday newspaper from five to ten cents, effective tomorrow.

A similar price boost was announced by the New York World-Telegram, another of the three metropolitan afternoon dailies, yesterday and went into effect today.

Herodias Plots John's Death

(Thirteenth in a Lenten Series)

August Emperor of All The Romans, Greeting: I have now from several sources, including the reports of our agent Junius, a rather grave matter about which to inform you.

(Or at least it seems grave to me. I have learned that sometimes what I consider important is only a source of mirth to you. Be that as it may; as governor of Judea I am still bound to report to you all executions occurring within the province and it is such an event I now report.)

As you were previously advised, Herod, Tetrach of Galilee, some time ago married his brother's wife. For this he was publicly reproved by John, called "The Baptist." And he, Herod, had John thrown into prison.

Throughout the period of incarceration, Herodias, Herod's stolen wife, bayed at her new husband like a hound in the moonlight to have this John executed. She said his presence was an insult to her because of the things he had said.

Herod and I have never found it necessary to counsel together. Each knows his place and his duties, and we perform them — I as governor of the whole province and Herod as ruler of the subdivision of Galilee. I point this out to make clear what follows was none of my doing.

It is quite clear, now, that when Herod failed to respond to his wife's pleading and complaining, she began to plot John's death in her own way.

Herod, himself, seems to have been half afraid of John. In fact, Junius tells me that when Herod first heard reports of the Nazarene preacher Jesus, he thought people were talking about John and waited that John had escaped from prison and was out sermonizing again.

It took half the court to settle him down. Then he called for John and they talked together. Herod apparently was impressed by his prisoner. He called him "a just man," but to keep Herodias placated he ordered the man from the wilderness back to jail.

About that time Herodias saw her chance...

2. Property bounded by Hawthorne road, Waterfall lane, Lakeside drive and Valley View lane.
3. Property bounded by Willis street, Greenwood avenue, Harrison avenue, and Woodward avenue.

The sewer line basically follows the Rouge River. Easements are for the construction and maintenance of the line.

Eight street rights-of-way also were granted for Maple and at Baldwin, Willets at the Rouge River, Woodward between Ravine and Park, Park from Woodward from Park to Brookside, Hunter boulevard (US-10) from a northern point at Wimbeldon drive south to the river, and Lakeside drive from Randall street to Quanton road.

Considerable discussion was given to air-raid siren tests by commissioners and Robert Kenning, civil defense director, Monday night.

Commissioner Manley Bailey, asked what could be done to step up the carrying power since there are several "silent" spots in the city.

Kenning said regular fire-alarm would be hooked into the alarm system and used in an actual alert. Bailey, with several other commissioners, expressed the belief that this should be done during test periods to educate residents to the sound.

They overrode the statement that volunteer firemen might be confused by the regular siren use saying it was easier to re-educate them or notify them of test periods than it would be to handle some 20,000 persons by adding the confusion of a strange sound to an already tense situation.

City treasurer Russell T. Berger has reported seven unpaid accounts for miscellaneous services performed by the city such as cutting weeds, tree removal, sidewalk construction and sewer service replacements in the amount of $283.70. Commissioners authorized the collection as special assessments against the property owners. A ten per cent penalty is added.

The citizens committee of the Birmingham PTA has just completed a study relating to personnel policies in the public schools. Since there is a relationship between this report and the request for millage to come before the voters next Monday a special PTA meeting has been called for 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The session at Derby Junior High School will feature a discussion of the citizens report and additional millage. Three citizens committee members Newton Cole, Howard W. Reiman, and Leonard Westrate will handle the program.

Deputies said the three men were thrown from their automobile. Their bodies were found scattered over a wide area, more than 250 feet from the wreck of their car.

Investigators reported that the trio must have been going at a high rate of speed when their automobile missed a curve on McGregor road.

Dead is Russell M. Knerr, 27, of 10750 Tuttle Hill Rd.

In serious condition in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, are William Copeland, 24, of Belleville, and Edward Standfield, 24, of Ann Arbor.

Knerr died of a head concussion at the hospital at 8 p.m., four hours after the accident. Washtenaw County Sheriff's investigators were unable to determine who drove the vehicle, as Copeland and Standfield are still unable to make a statement. There were no witnesses.

ANCIENT ROME
3. A Roman Mother

The Roman father was boss in his family, but the mother also played an important role. She managed the house and ruled the children and the slaves.

Here is a Roman mother in traditional dress. She wears a linen undergarment called a tunica, a long outer garment called a stola, and light sandals. She has many pieces of jewelry, like the jeweled golden hairpins in her elaborately dressed hair, bracelets, brooches, earrings and finger rings.

As manager of the home she conducted religious ceremonies. The most important of the Roman gods had to do with home and family life. Among them were the Lares, spirits of the ancestors; the Penates, gods of the household belongings; Vesta, goddess of the hearth, and Janus, god of the gate.

This picture shows the Roman mother placing an offering of flowers on the altar of Janus, whose bust appears behind the kneeling slave. Janus presented two faces to the world, one looking forward, the other looking back. The month of January is named after this god.

Helping the mother with the offering is one of her children. Paste this page on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. Fasten the separate arm behind the shoulder with a brass fastener through the indicated openings. Fold the picture on the dotted line, bringing the left panel forward. It then will stand by itself. Blames Bootlegging for Problems

NADA Head Sees Stiff '57 Competition

CHICAGO (AP)—The President of the National Automobile Dealers Assn. said yesterday that the dealers' "hangover period" from record 1956 sales may extend through this year.

Frederic Sutter of Washington, D.C., said the average net profit of dealers in 1956 was 8 per cent of sales, before taxes, compared with 1.7 per cent in 1955.

He added there is a "distinct possibility" that the average profit in 1957 will run below 1 per cent, despite good sales and employment.

In a speech prepared for the National Instalment Credit conference sponsored by the American Bankers Assn. he said 1955 reversed temporarily a downturn of dealer profits that existed several years. He added:

"Unfortunately, that huge volume was accompanied by—perhaps created by—more accurate—forced-draft selling, low down-payments, and terms of 36 to 40 months freely given."

"Many people who should have bought good used cars found they could buy a new car with even lower monthly payments, and quite naturally indulged themselves."

"The fact that they were mortgaging their income for three years or more, or that the car was depreciating faster than it was being paid for seemed to worry them not at all. Nor did it appear to worry the men in Detroit."

He predicted 1957 will be a "very competitive year" for dealers.

Sutter estimated the dealers' 1956 profit after taxes at only .6 per cent of sales—$600 profit on sales volume of $100,000 or $6,000 profit on volume of one million dollars.

"This is truly fantastic," he said. "It would be ludicrous if it were not so serious."

He blamed car bootlegging for some of the serious problems besetting dealers, saying that it has grown into big business.

Sutter said a few dealers sell cars to an operator at a little over invoice price and these cars turn up in a used car lot advertised at "tremendous savings" because of low overhead.

Question Witnesses in 2-Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cause of the tragic Pacoima plane collision and means of preventing such accidents are sought in a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing opening here today.

A five-member panel will examine 16 witnesses in its investigation of the Jan. 31 crash that killed five airmen and three schoolboys and injured 76 other boys.

A Douglas DC7B airliner and a Northrop F89 Scorpion jet interceptor collided at 25,000 feet. The liner was on a final predelivery check flight and the jet was engaged in radar checks. The four crewmen of the liner and the jet pilot were killed.

The Douglas craft spun onto the Pacoima Junior High School athletic field. Its disintegrating wreckage shot across the field like shrapnel, cutting down the playing students.

Will Discloses Detroit Man, 75, Married Girl, 18

DETROIT (AP) — An 18-year-old girl and a 75-year-old Detroit physician eloped last December, the physician's wife revealed on the eve of his funeral.

The widow was identified as the former Marthalee Burch of Detroit in the will filed for probate with Judge James H. Sexton.

Dr. John C. Koch, the bridegroom, died in his home last Saturday and services are scheduled for today. The couple were married in Angola, Ind., Dec. 15, 1956. The estate is valued at about $26,000.

An attorney for John B. Koch, the doctor's son, said the widow would be entitled to a third of the estate by law.

Koch said, "My mother, Elvira, died in 1954, and since that time my father had been terribly lonely and bored with life. I believe he married as an escape from this loneliness. He died in his sleep of a heart attack."

"I did not know about his interest in Miss Burch until after the wedding. My father sent me a telegram from Indiana. I met the girl and she is a very fine person. They lived together until his death."

Bermuda Ignores Dulles in Dress Rehearsal for Ike

HAMILTON, Bermuda (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles appears to be the almost forgotten man among officials arranging the summit conference opening in Bermuda tomorrow.

Bermuda officials spent nearly an hour pinpointing for the advance guard of 145 newsmen where everyone was to stand and who was to meet whom when British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd arrive at 10 a.m. tomorrow by plane and again for the arrival at 3:35 p.m. the same day of President Eisenhower's ship.

A Royal Navy guard of honor, the Duke of Cornwall's light infantry band, 600 invited officials and the governor general will meet the British.

Macmillan, the governor general, honor guards, including 24 American Marines, and the 600 dignitaries will meet Eisenhower. But what of Dulles?

The unembarrassed briefing of the press conceded that he had forgotten to mention that incidental intelligence. Dulles, he supplied, will arrive by plane at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow to be met by exactly nobody. That should teach Dulles to chastise the British when they invade Egypt.

This tropical island seems singularly unimpressed by the arrival of the two heads of state who hope to kiss and make up their Middle East differences. You get the feeling that the Easter lilies, the hibiscus and bougainvillea will continue to bloom long after Eisenhower and Macmillan have issued a communiqué dealing with the Suez crisis and Britain's planned withdrawal of troops from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

HAS FAMILIAR CARS — The President should be happy to know that his familiar bubble top limousine and a White House convertible docked safely yesterday to drive him from Albuququerque to the conference site at the nearby Mid-Ocean Club.

The bubble top was needed, a

White House spokesman explained, in the event it rains. The Bermudians probably hope it pours. That is what they consider real Eisenhower luck with the weather inasmuch as the residents are completely dependent on rain for their water supply and signs in every hotel room attest to the current shortage.

A Navy supply ship unloaded the two limousines and a secret service car a full day ahead of the dress rehearsal this morning at Albuququerque Point for Ike's arrival.

Americans faced with the largest peacetime budget in history may hope that Ike picks up a few ideas here. The Bermudians pay no income tax and the government has never been faced with public debt.

If the big two western leaders succeed in plotting a course during the upcoming summit meeting which helps to lift the Iron Curtain of international diplomacy, it will be a circle full turned.

Bermudians claim credit for prompting Sir Winston Churchill's original phrase "Iron Curtain." They insist that the former British Prime Minister took his inspiration from the unique iron curtain which Bermuda bartenders lower in front of their tempting bottles at late closing time.

Coordinate Tie With Patterned Shirt

Subtlety Marks Neckwear

Subtlety is the keynote of the new men's neckwear. Planned to coordinate with new patterned suits and fancy shirts, the ties are restrained in motif to prevent clashing or creating too busy an effect. Under-knot patterns that have most of the design in the area below the knot are excellent companions for the striped and checked shirts.

Of course, they are equally good mates for either whites or the increasingly popular solid shades. Stripes both in the traditional repp and in new surface interest silks are still hot fashion news, and neat all-over designs in woven fabrics as well as silk foulards and wool challis are treats in store for Ivy style fans.

The button-down collar style is more popular than ever. It now can be had in several varieties. There is the ultra-Ivy unlined button-down collar with the back button and back pleat as well as lined versions, short versions and rounded models.

Most of these are in the sturdy oxford cloths that go so well with both dress-up and casual clothes. Pleated bosoms in whites and colors also offer a welcome change for spring dress-up wear.

The shorter point modified spread collars meet with the approval of the men who prefer the sleeker styles of Britain and the Continent. Available in lustrous broadcloths, madrases, and luxurious white-on-white cloths, these shirts are fine for business wear and dress-up occasions.

Another bonus of these handsome ties and colorful shirts is the way they can create the illusion of a much larger wardrobe than you really own.

The suit you have been wearing with your white shirts will take on a new look when complemented by a colored or patterned shirt... and everyone knows how much a beautiful tie, a color-coordinated breast pocket handkerchief and other small but important details can do to brighten up an entire outfit.

Try some of these shirts and ties as a spring tonic for your winter-weary wardrobe.

well dressed from his Eton jacket to his Stride Rite Eton wing tips

Although our gentleman can't be expected to hold this pose for very long... two minutes at the most... his shoes are up to the occasion. Coordinate Tie With Patterned Shirt

Subtlety Marks Neckwear

Subtlety is the keynote of the new men's neckwear. Planned to coordinate with new patterned suits and fancy shirts, the ties are restrained in motif to prevent clashing or creating too busy an effect. Under-knot patterns that have most of the design in the area below the knot are excellent companions for the striped and checked shirts.

Of course, they are equally good mates for either whites or the increasingly popular solid shades. Stripes both in the traditional repp and in new surface interest silks are still hot fashion news, and neat all-over designs in woven fabrics as well as silk foulards and wool challis are treats in store for Ivy style fans.

The button-down collar style is more popular than ever. It now can be had in several varieties. There is the ultra-Ivy unlined button-down collar with the back button and back pleat as well as lined versions, short versions and rounded models.

Most of these are in the sturdy oxford cloths that go so well with both dress-up and casual clothes. Pleated bosoms in whites and colors also offer a welcome change for spring dress-up wear.

The shorter point modified spread collars meet with the approval of the men who prefer the sleeker styles of Britain and the Continent. Available in lustrous broadcloths, madrases, and luxurious white-on-white cloths, these shirts are fine for business wear and dress-up occasions.

Another bonus of these handsome ties and colorful shirts is the way they can create the illusion of a much larger wardrobe than you really own.

The suit you have been wearing with your white shirts will take on a new look when complemented by a colored or patterned shirt... and everyone knows how much a beautiful tie, a color-coordinated breast pocket handkerchief and other small but important details can do to brighten up an entire outfit.

Try some of these shirts and ties as a spring tonic for your winter-weary wardrobe.

Hal Boyle Says:

'Gunwoman' Outdoes Jesse James

NEW YORK (AP)—Ruth Handler, set if told they can't have them. They even steal them from their little brothers."

Mrs. Handler, a onetime secretary, and her husband, Elliot, a former artist, are known as "the quiz kids" of the toy trade.

In 1944 they were earning a bare living making plastic jewelry. Then they started turning out plastic toy furniture, and grossed $100,000 the first year.

Elliot turned out to have a natural genius for creating novel toys that caught the fancy of children. Ruth, showed a remarkable talent for solving production problems and marketing the toys. Their firm now has up to 1,000 employees in peak season at its Los Angeles plant.

"We started on a shoestring," said Ruth, a dark-haired, vivacious woman who has two children herself. "But it takes more than a shoestring to keep going."

"You have to keep a step ahead of the rest, and be able to sense trends in advance. My husband has a sixth sense in this respect. He's a great idea man.

"Research is of great importance. Designing a good toy requires, in my opinion, a better quality of engineering than that required to do national defense work. And I think I know. We've done some defense work."

Some manufacturers carry lines of 200 or even 300 toys. The Handlers concentrate on no more than 20 or 25, including about five new ones each year.

Mrs. Handler has found no conflicts in being her husband's business as well as marital partner.

"Everybody reports to me but him," she said, smiling. "I report to him. He's my boss."

"We lead two separate lives—a business life during the day, a married life in the evenings—and we're happy in both lives."

"We're together 24 hours a day, and don't get on each other's nerves. We're very lucky people."

Count Over 350 Moose in Isle Royale Park

ISLE ROYAL (AP)—John Lewis, superintendent of the Isle Royale National Park, said that a survey between Feb. 12 and March 2 disclosed 350 to 400 moose on the island which lies 48 miles north-west of Michigan's Keweenaw Peninsula in Lake Superior.

The National Park Service Survey also disclosed 20 to 30 timber wolves and brought a recommendation that the pack not be allowed to increase, Lewis said.

Back in 1926 Isle Royale had a moose herd of approximately 3,000, but a devastating fire in 1936 destroyed a third of the island's foliage.

to the Tigers this spring. Five of their eight losses were marked up for the lack of a single run. Two of the games went extra innings before the Tigers fell by one run.

The Phillies got their winning runs in the top of the 11th when John Taitouris, a 19-year-old right-hander up from the Tigers' farm at Charleston, yielded a home run and three singles.

Joe Lonnett socked the homer. The singles came off the bats of Fred Van Dusen, Ed Bouchie and Bob Bowman.

In the bottom half of the 11th the Tigers made a futile try to close the gap. Ray Boone slapped out a double to score Al Kaline from first base after two were out. A walk to Ken Walters put the winning run on base, but Reno Bertola forced Walters at second to end the game.

Harvey Kuenn got the Tigers a one-run lead in the first inning with a home run.

In the third inning the Phillies wiped out the Tigers lead for keeps with two runs.

The Tigers got 15 hits, including homers by Kuenn and Charley Maxwell, off veterans Harvey Haddix and Bob Miller and converted infielder Gran Hammer.

But the Phillies got to four Detroit pitchers—Duke Maas, Chuck Daniel, Taitouris and Hal Woodchick—for 15 hits.

By BILL CORNWELL

Walled Lake, boasting a dazzling 20-1 record, plays a "blue chip" game with Flint Kearsley tonight at Birmingham in the quarter-final round of the state high school basketball tournament.

At stake will be a weekend trip to Michigan State's Jenison Fieldhouse in East Lansing and a shot at the Class B state championship.

Never before has a Walled Lake team reached the state semifinals and only once in the school's history has a Viking quintet gone this far.

This was in 1947 when Niles Freeland took his club to the state quarterfinals at Lansing's Boys Vocational Fieldhouse. The Vikings lost to East Lansing.

Now youthful Bill Ullenbruch is at the helm and the Vikings will try again. The 1st trial comes tonight in the Birmingham High gym against a squad riding the crest of a 17-game winning streak.

Kearsley, Genesee County 'B' 10-0 mark, has an overall record of 18-2. The Hornets won the Flint St. Michael Christmas tourney and their early season losses to Flushing and Lapeer were both avenged.

Bud Earl, 6-foot-4 center, and guard Tom Phipps, a set-shot artist, are the ringleaders of Kearsley's well-balanced attack. Phipps netted 87 points during the district and regional tests while Earl collected 71.

Additional scoring punch is supplied by Dick Gustafson, 6-foot-1 forward, and Bill Phillips, Tom's brother who fills the other forward post with his 6-2 frame.

Walled Lake will counter with brilliant Larry Hughes, nimble 6-4 center who led all Oakland County point-makers this season, in addition to John Walker and Larry Dion, aggressive scrapers of no mean skill.

Both teams have high-geared offenses and alert defenses and they are just about even in height. This should be a real battle.

Tonight's game starts at 7:30. PROBABLE STARTING LINEUPS:

Walled Lake	Flint Kearsley
Tom Willwerth	Dick Gustafson
John Walker	Bill Phillips
Larry Hughes	Bud Earl
Larry Dion	Tom Phipps
Dennis McClelland	Brady McLean

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"I took the biggest gamble in my five years of coaching and it worked." That's what Walled Lake's youthful coach Bill Ullenbruch said with a sigh in the locker room after he was given a "royal" dunking by his squad following the regional victory over Clarkston last Saturday night.

Ullenbruch wasn't talking about the fact that he gambled on wearing his best blue suit knowing that if Walled Lake had won the team would carry out an earlier promise of giving him a shower.

He had reference to the stall which the Vikings used to start the second half of the game despite the fact that they had only a six point lead.

Most everyone at the game figured the strategy behind the move was to break the Clarkston zone.

"Clarkston did come out of their zone defense, said Ullenbruch "but that really wasn't our objective."

"Our boys needed a rest. We played the night before and they were tired, so as long as we had that six point lead I figured to slow it down. If Clarkston had started hitting like it did in the first half, I would have had to start running again," Ullenbruch said afterward.

For Walled Lake it was a great win, for Clarkston there was nothing of which to be ashamed. Coach Dom Mauti had himself a fine, scrappy and well-coached ball club.

Now the toughest lies ahead for Oakland County's lone hope in the state tournament.

The quarterfinal against Flint Kearsley at Birmingham tonight is the gateway to the Class B palace. The palace doors can open with the semifinals and the coveted throne is Saturday's objective.

This will be the second time in as many years that an Ullenbruch-coached team goes to the quarterfinals. Last year while at St. Clair another Flint team, Flint Tech, eliminated his team.

"I have a lot of confidence in this ball club, they've hustled all the way, and we've done good to get this far," said Ullenbruch.

The tourney trail is a tough one, and Walled Lake now carries Oakland County's banner for 1957.

Wings Obtain 8 Players

DETROIT (U) — The Detroit Red Wings, with the National Hockey League championship safely tucked away, are reaching into the minor leagues to bolster their squad for the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Gen. Mgr. Jack Adams yesterday announced that the Wings have obtained Bob Bailey, former Toronto strongboy, on conditional purchase from Springfield of the American Hockey League.

The conditional purchase will enable the Wings to try Bailey in the playoffs, then decide whether they want to buy his contract.

Seven other players are being brought up from the Western Hockey League, if their teams are knocked out of the playoffs.

They are Guyle Fielder and Ray Kinsewicz of Seattle and Tony Leswick, Tom McCarthy, Bill McCreary, Gord Strate and Larry Hillman of Edmonton.

The additions were designed to bring the numerical strength of the Red Wings' squad to 25, the limit for the playoffs.

Detroit, Ypsilanti in Inter-City Final

Detroit and Ypsilanti moved into the championship round of the Class B Inter-City Recreation basketball tournament with easy victories Tuesday night at Pontiac High.

The Detroiters buried Ecorse-River Rouge under a 76-33 landslide as Jim Beal led a balanced offense with 17 points. Ypsilanti downed Hamtramck 78-64, behind a 31-point spree by John Bass.

U.S. Sextet Loses

BRIGHTON, England (U) — The Brighton Tigers scored an easy 13-5 victory last night over a touring U.S. Amateur Ice Hockey team.

LAKELAND, Fla. (U) — Extra innings only delayed the usual misery of the Detroit Tigers in an exhibition game here yesterday. They dropped a 6-5 decision to the Philadelphia Phillies in 11 innings, their 8th loss in ten spring games.

The Tigers came from behind to tie the score at 4-4 in the 9th inning. A home run and three singles by the Phillies piled on two runs in the 11th. The Tigers got one back and died with the winning run on base in the bottom of the 11th.

One-run losses are nothing new

Sluggers Finding Range

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Home run sluggers are beginning to find the range on the exhibition circuit, with the National Leagueers far ahead of their American League brethren today in manufacturing the four-ply wallop.

In eight games on the Grapefruit-Cactus circuit yesterday, there were 23 homers and most of them broke up the old ball game.

Ten clubs have played 10 exhibitions, the other six having completed 11 and a total of 161 homers have been hit—99 by National and 62 by American League teams.

This follows the trend, for last season National Leagueers socked 1,219 homers compared with 1,075 for the American.

The New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies have each clouted 17 homers, while the Chicago White Sox lead the Americans with a dozen.

Dick Stuart, the Pittsburgh rookie from Lincoln of the Western League where he belted 66 homers last year, Jim Lemon of Washington and Hank Aaron of Milwaukee each have hit five exhibition blasts.

It seems to be either a feast or a famine for Stuart, who got two home runs yesterday, as the Pirates defeated the White Sox 9-3. One came with a mate aboard.

Stuart fanned the other three times at bat, running his strikeout total to eight in four games.

Rookie Neil Chrissy hit a two-run homer in the ninth to provide Washington's 6-4 victory over Cincinnati in a game that saw five round trippers. Clint Courtney's two-run homer had tied the score for Washington in the seventh. Gus Bell, Bob Henrich and George Crowe homered for the Redlegs.

Kansas City defeated Brooklyn 6-5 when Johnny Groth rapped the ball over the fence in the 10th inning in another duel of homers.

Gus Zernial bit another for the A's, while Don Zimmer, Duke Snider and Gino Cimoli got one apiece for the Browns.

Jim Piersall hit the first Boston homer of the spring, but it was a grand slammer in the third inning and helped the Red Sox to a 7-6 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Team and individual awards will be presented following the game. Tom Gould of Boyle-Stone Front will be honored as the league's top scorer while Bob Hobson of Philgas is scheduled to receive the sportsmanship award.

Members of the Drayton team will be given individual awards for taking the league title and the traveling trophy will go to the playoff winner.

counsel, former Sen. James Duff (R-Pa.).

A federal grand jury in Washington yesterday accused Hoffa, who was arrested by the FBI last Wednesday, of attempting to buy secret Senate documents from John C. Cheasty. Cheasty is a member of the racket committee staff who served as a "double agent" and trapped the labor leader.

PENALTIES LISTED

In brief, here are the charges, with maximum penalties if convicted:

1. Conspiracy to bribe, conspiracy to obstruct operations of the McClellan committee, and conspiracy to defraud the United States "of and concerning its legislative and governmental functions and rights." Five years in prison, a $10,000 fine, or both.

2. Bribery by giving John C. Cheasty, a member of the committee staff, $2,000 "to influence and induce him to divulge" committee secrets and to turn over documents, papers and memoranda from its files; three years plus three times the amount of the bribe.

The FBI says Cheasty reported the alleged bribe and cooperated fully in the investigation leading to Hoffa's arrest.

3. Obstructing and impeding the committee's "due and proper exercise of the power of inquiry." Five years, a $5,000 fine, or both.

Similar indictments were returned against Hyman L. Fischbach, a Miami, Fla., attorney and former congressional employee, who was accused of being the "go-between" for Hoffa and Cheasty.

The Hoffa indictment declared that on or about March 12, when Hoffa is alleged to have returned Senate papers and records to Cheasty, Hoffa said that it looked like "Beck's goose was cooked. If that is what they have on Beck."

CLAIMS INNOCENCE

Hoffa, after his arrest, proclaimed his innocence of wrongdoing. He was released on $25,000 bond pending a hearing. Fischbach was freed on $100,000 bond.

Brewster told the Senate committee yesterday he couldn't explain what happened to $160,000 in union funds under his control and said he didn't recall whether he used some of the money to finance personal activities.

McClellan declared that evidence against Brewster indicated that "some funds have been misappropriated."

Brewster, sweating and squirming, was unable to say whether he used union money in connection with his racing stable expenses and for a down payment on his California desert highway at Palm Springs.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy read the Washington state perjury statute to Brewster and asked the labor boss whether he was guilty of perjury.

LEGAL QUESTION

Brewster replied: "That's a legal question and I'm not capable of answering it."

He had an explanation for some of the spending. Other items, he said, he couldn't remember.

Union-paid boxes at race tracks, he said, helped the union because employers with whom the union bargained enjoyed the boxes too. The same was true, he said, about union-paid box seats at baseball parks.

Ditto with Christmas gift certificates drawn on Seattle men's furnishings stores. Brewster said he "might" have spent them on himself on occasion, but as he recalled it, he cashed the certificates for gifts for friends of the union. One such gift certificate for about $150, he said, went "as a bonus" for his daughter, employed by the Teamsters.

Similarly, he said, a union-paid membership at the Thunderbolt Country Club at the lush Palm Springs, Calif., resort was only to accommodate employers who may owe the union.

"I don't play golf," Brewster explained, "it was only the social end of it."

He said evidence brought out by the committee didn't "look good" but he could explain it all eventually. And he said any money he may owe the union will be paid back to the dime.

Believe 2 Children
Stayed With Friend

DETROIT (INS) — Police expressed belief today that two children missing 12 hours spent the night at the home of a playmate.

Martha Greco, 12, and her brother, Sam, 5, were last seen two blocks from their home at 6 p.m. yesterday. Ten Cane precinct officers and a policeman team searched throughout the night for the youngsters.

However, authorities said Martha is considered a habitual runaway and has been missing from home on three other occasions.

Credit Control Interest Wanes

Federal Reserve Notes Record $31½ Billion of Installment Debt

WASHINGTON — Speculation sharpened today on whether President Eisenhower will ask Congress for standby powers to regulate consumer installment credit. The odds seemed to be against it, for interest has been lukewarm lately. But it was spotlighted by the issuance yesterday of a massive study prepared at Eisenhower's request by the staff of the Federal Reserve Board.

The researchers found that easy-payment buying of autos and consumer goods tends to be unruly. "The major influence," they said, "has been to add fuel to booms; it has less often been an aggravating factor during recessions."

The FRB staff found that the credit structure, though carrying a record 31½ billion dollars of installment debt, is less likely than in 1929 to collapse during a recession into defaults, foreclosures and repossessions. It nevertheless cautioned:

"The possibility of an episode of drastic and spiraling liquidation should not be dismissed."

The report is neutral on stand-by controls; it presents various conflicting views in its five volumes and 1,619 pages. The reserve board itself has taken no position though it presumably would administer any controls voted, as it does the margin buying of stock on the exchanges.

Eisenhower asked Congress 14 months ago to "consider" stand-by controls. That was just after the 1955 auto credit binge, when total soared by 5½ billion dollars.

The rate of rise allied last year without damage, and the issue has taken a back seat. Businessmen who have visited Eisenhower recently said he shows far less concern. Neither has any strong movement for controls developed in Congress.

Robert Strom, 10, Masters Science to Reach $80,000

NEW YORK (INS) — Ten-year-old Robert Strom whizzed through a three-part question on science tonight to push his winnings to $80,000 on "The $64,000 Question."

The Bronx, N.Y., schoolboy easily described Piezo-Electricity and thermionic emission on the CBS-TV show and named 10 chemical elements found in the human body. Using the settings of a telescope set up on the stage, he then correctly identified the particular point in the sky that the telescope theoretically was focusing on.

The three-part question, worth $16,000, was the first step on Robert's climb toward the $128,000 plateau. He can ultimately try for a $256,000 question under a revised system announced last week on the quiz program.

Robert, who won $64,000 last week was the first contestant eligible to try for the rarefied plateau.

Capuchin Friary Opens

BARAGA — Almost 1,000 visitors attended a two-day open house at the new Capuchin friary at nearby Assinippi on Keweenaw Bay in the Upper Peninsula. The seminary is operated by the Roman Catholic order with headquarters at Mt. Calvary, Wis. It will house 40 novices in the old St. Joseph Chippewa Indian Mission Home.

Predict Plastics to Shape Future in Jet Aviation

LOS ANGELES — Plastics may shape the jet age future and determine America's aviation superiority, says Brig. Gen. Thomas L. Bryan Jr., commander of the Wright Air Development Center.

He told the Society of Plastics Industry "We think we have the theory to pilot an aircraft 10 years from now at five times the speed of sound, and I think we could get to the moon now if we had the proper materials. We know how to do these things, but we just don't have the materials to do them with. Materials have become the key to our continued progress in aviation and to our superiority in the air."

What? HMS Pinafore Staged in Morgue?

BALTIMORE — The St. Davids Players needed a hall to stage "HMS Pinafore" May 24-25. Richard D. Byrd decided to call Dr. John H. Fischer, superintendent of city schools.

He dialed City Hall and asked for Dr. Fischer. Identifying himself, he said, "We would like the use of your facilities for our production, doctor."

"Are you kidding?" asked the voice on the other end. Assured Byrd was serious, he said, "It's fine with me but I've never heard of anyone putting on 'HMS Pinafore' at the city morgue."

Byrd was talking to Dr. Russell S. Fisher, chief medical examiner.

When the Waterford Township Board of Education meets tomorrow night, Superintendent William Schunk will make recommendations relative to the calling of some of the junior high school and elementary school bonds.

Reinvestment of funds in United States Treasury bills also will be recommended to the board, according to Schunk.

Other business will include preliminary consideration of the 1957-58 school budget and a report from the Building Committee.

The question involving the addition of another adult crossing guard in the Waterford Township school district will be discussed, Schunk said.

A request from Stringham School PTA for board participation in the April 4 meeting also will be considered.

Evidence on Sinatra Contradictory Victim of Raid Testifies

LOS ANGELES — The woman victim of the wrong-door crash-in aimed at Marilyn Monroe gave a county grand jury the story of her "night of terror" when a group of raiders burst into her bedroom.

"I was terrified," Mrs. Florence Kotz Ross testified yesterday. "The place was full of men. They were making a lot of noises and lights flashed on."

"They broke a lot of glasses in the kitchen getting out of there."

Mrs. Ross admitted she couldn't tell if Frank Sinatra was one of the raiders. "It was too dark and I was too shocked," she said.

The jurors today hope to end the hearing into the ill-starred Nov. 5, 1954, raid which ended in Mrs. Ross' apartment. One of the witnesses will be Sheila Stewart Renour, the actress Miss Monroe reportedly was visiting that night on another floor of the apartment.

Sinatra told the jurors yesterday he only went along for the ride with Joe DiMaggio and others assertedly seeking evidence against Miss Monroe, then

Caesar Future Still Undecided

Mike Wallace's Show on ABC Will Be Called 'Interview'

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Evelyn Rudie plays Perle Mesta as a little girl in "The Hostess With the Mostes," Thursday on Playhouse 90; Shirley Booth plays Perle as a grownup.

Janet Blair's revelation she was quitting Sid Caesar's show after this season was neatly timed: NBC doesn't even know yet where Sid will land next season, though Sid will get a huge NBC guarantee for another 10 or more years.

Mike Wallace's braintrust now plans to call his ABC-TV Sunday night show "Interview." ... We still say "The Mike Wallace Show" is what it'll be called anyway.

Rodgers and Hammerstein's fee for their CBS-TV "Cinderella" musicalization is said to be $250,000 — which would just about equal the royalties they'd earn from a smash-musical running 2½ years on Broadway. "Cinderella" (March 31) already is costing close to a $1,000,000 and may take to Broadway to get CBS even.

If Desi and Lucy switch to an hour show once a month next season, the price tag will be $350,000 per show.

HOME FOR HAYES

NBC-TV's Hallmark Theater will do Gilbert and Sullivan's "Yeoman of the Guard" April 13, with Bill Hayes. ... Bill invested the $15,250 won on "Hold That Note" in a new Garden City, L.I., home.

When Marjorie Lord becomes Danny Thomas' TV "wife" next season, it will revive a noble old broadcasting name: "Lord and Thomas."

With all sides tilting for Charles Van Doren's attention, the first show other than "21" to snag him is "Conversation." He'll appear Thursday on the NBC radio blitz produced by 21's biggest competitors — "The $64,000 Question" owners.
