Pontiac Press Photo

OPENS MONDAY — Dedication ceremonies for Pontiac's new $375,000 central fire station at 111 E. Pike St. are scheduled for 4:15 p.m. Monday. Firemen will move into the new station as soon as furnishings are delivered later this week. Located directly across from the Public Safety Building, the station is the fourth new structure in the civic center. It will replace the old central fire station at Pike and North Perry streets.

New Plan Fails to Get Anywhere in Legislature

Swainson Calls Joint Session to Discuss 'Grave' Matter

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators, apparently little impressed with the latest tax reform plan to be tossed out for consideration, groped in every direction today for a solution to the state's worsening financial ills.

There was no sure sign yet of what form it would take.

Gov. Swainson asked yesterday for a special joint session of the House and Senate tomorrow morning to talk about what he called a "matter of grave importance to all the people of Michigan."

Legislative sources said the governor indicated he would urge lawmakers to come to grips quickly on a plan to start pouring new revenue into the debt-ridden treasury.

A hectic day of tax maneuvers also produced these developments:

1. Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R-Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, came up with a tax plan keyed to a 3 per cent flat rate tax on personal and corporate income and a 1 per cent sales tax for counties.

2. Gov. Swainson and Democratic leaders commended Conlin's efforts at tax reform but flatly rejected his specific proposals.

3. House Republicans named a seven-man committee to produce within the next few days a number of alternate tax plans that the legislature might adopt.

4. Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, working in the opposite direction, said he would propose a plan too enable the state to save nearly $50 million. He did not outline the details.

Conlin, who has consulted with Swainson on a tax settlement in recent weeks, lashed back today at the governor's criticism of his plan.

His blanket rejection, Conlin said, "will torpedo effective and forward-looking action on Michigan fiscal problems this year."

"If the governor wants to assume the role of destroying any possibility of a bipartisan approach to meet a critical situation, then the responsibility must be his," he said.

"The governor's program is un-

BURNING HOTEL — This aerial view shows a fire at the New Golden Hotel in Reno, Nev., raging out of control yesterday. Today the recently remodeled building was a mass of charred walls and gaming equipment. The death toll is uncertain, but many guests are reported missing.

To Meet Tax Board, Discuss Problems

City commissioners will meet with the Tax Board of Review this month to discuss tax assessment problems and procedures.

The joint meeting, and another of commissioners alone to be held later, were requested by commissioners at their meeting last night.

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom opened a discussion of tax assessments with a request that the commission hold a special meeting alone later this month.

Bottom said he felt the commission should study tax assessments on Saginaw Street properties in the central business district, industrial assessments and "any unnecessary expenses in our budget."

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. supported Bottom and suggested that a special session be held first with members of the board of review after the board concludes its current hearings and files a final report.

"I think it would be a good idea to sit down with them and review the problems they have encountered this year," Taylor said.

Commissioners and City Manager Robert A. Stierer agreed to arrange a meeting with the board, which should be concluding hearings sometime this week.

After that, commissioners will delve into the areas of city finance, the budget, assessing procedures and relations with industry, commissioners agreed.

Recently, a group of downtown property owners appealed to the board for a cut of up to two-thirds in the assessed value of Saginaw Street properties.

According to City Finance Director Marvin Alward, the city will have to borrow money shortly to finance operations until the July tax collection. The problem of Pontiac's annual Jan. 1-Dec. 31 budget structure, financed by a July tax collection, will come under study.

The city has long been faced with the problem of having to approve a budget in January, three months before it knows what income will be for that year.

Faced with a possible decline in the city's total assessed valuation due to loss of tax base downtown during the urban renewal program, assessed values elsewhere may bear study and possible revision upwards, city officials feel.

Probe Rubble of Reno Hotel

21 Listed as Missing; Search for Bodies Is Awaiting Cleanup

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Fallen floors and inner walls and charred gambling equipment formed a blackened mass for searchers to probe today after a 10-hour hotel fire in the downtown casino district. The death toll couldn't be determined until wrecking crews topple dangerously weakened walls later in the day.

Authorities said an unidentified middle-aged woman had perished in the blaze which destroyed the historic and newly remodeled New Golden Hotel.

Twenty-one persons still were unaccounted for today after two called the Reno police station from their out-of-state homes Tuesday night. The search for bodies will continue but Battalion Fire Chief Sam Salbini said wreckage inside the building has to be cleared out first.

"It doesn't take much smoke to kill, and there's a hell of a lot of it in that building," a fire chief said, fearing some of the guests had been trapped in the four-story building. Seventeen persons were injured.

Firemen sprayed the ruins during the night.

But as soon as the fire was out, business resumed its usual hectic pace at gambling palaces just across an alley from the hotel. Some neighboring buildings were damaged in the area on Center Street, just off Virginia Street and separated from the largest casinos by Douglas Alley.

The fire broke out Tuesday morning, apparently from an exploding basement boiler or acetylene tank. A Forest Service plane bombed the building with a fire-retardant solution after five hours but the hotel continued to burn.

To Extend Buses to Center, Mall

Pontiac Transit Corp. Tells Plans to Service Areas Starting April 23

In answer to growing appeals from city commissioners for bus service to the Oakland County Service Center and Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, Neel B. Pilson, general manager of Pontiac Transit Corp., today announced service will be extended to these areas beginning April 23.

Exact details of the routes and time schedule will be made available soon, Pilson said.

Service to the center and Mall has been under study for several months. Bus officials feel the run would be supported financially once the Mall is opened.

Bus service originally had been planned to begin May 1 with the scheduled grand opening. It was moved to April 23 after commissioners asked bus officials to initiate service before May 1 if possible.

Hoover Decries 'Soft Touch' for Tough Criminals

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover denounced "soft justice" for toughened criminals and said it has contributed to an alarming rise in crime.

Hoover said judges and parole boards in some jurisdictions have been too lenient.

"Suspended sentences, paroles and probations are meted out to murderers, rapists and depraved thugs as though they were badges of merit," Hoover said.

Blames JFK, McNamara

Walker Slaps Muzzling

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker charged today that Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara slandered and defamed him by misusing an Army report on its investigation of his troop education programs.

He also told senators investigating alleged military muzzling that he had been made "a scapegoat of an unwritten policy of collaboration and collusion with the International Communist conspiracy."

Walker blamed his removal from command and admonition upon President Kennedy, saying:

"The chief executive was both prosecutor and judge. The press reported without contradiction that the President directed Secretary McNamara to start the investigation, and that the President also reviewed and approved the Army's findings."

Earlier he had listed the President, McNamara, Secretary of the Army Elvis Stahr Jr., and Army military heads in Europe as responsible for these actions.

ANGRY AT POLICIES

Walker, who resigned from the Army last year after being removed as head of the 25th infantry division in German, angrily condemned present Defense Department information and education policies.

He said civilian control of the military "has been preverted and extended into a commissar-like system of control at all major echelons."

"Behind this unprecedented move to undermine our American way and convince the mill-

Pair Stands Mute in Vandalism Case

Two Pontiac youths accused of peppering store windows with shots from a BB gun stood mute in Circuit Court on a charge of malicious injury to a building.

★ ★ ★

Judge Stanton Dondero entered a plea of innocent for the pair, Ray Trusler, 22, of 67 Tregent St., and Jose DeLaRosa, 18, of 1023 Meadowlawn Ave.

They are free on $100 bond awaiting trial.

Trusler and DeLaRosa are formally charged with breaking nine windows at the Pontiac Retail Store, 65 Mt. Clemens Road. Police said damage there was about $500.

★ ★ ★

The two defendants were arrested last week after more than 50 Pontiac store owners reported BB damage to windows, totaling more than $10,000.

City Teamster Officials to Face U.S. Grand Jury

Pontiac teamsters union officials are scheduled to appear before a grand jury in U.S. District Court in Detroit starting tomorrow.

Subpoenas were served following a three-month federal investigation of Local 614's records for 1959-61.

Bound by the U.S. Criminal Code, federal attorneys handling the case refused to say which union officials are being summoned or to state charges against them.

Former state Sen. Leaun Harrelson is president of Local 614. Billy Hoffa, brother of James R. Hoffa, who's home local in Detroit was similarly being investigated, is business agent here. Floyd B. Harmon is Local 614 secretary.

Investigation of both teamster locals' financial and organizational records for the two-year period was ordered last December by U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton in Detroit.

The judge's order culminated an 11-month court struggle over whether the teamsters should be forced to surrender union records to verify financial reports by the locals.

Teamsters attorneys had contended the government must show "probable cause" of some law infraction before compliance with provisions of the Landrum-Griffin Act could be enforced.

The ensuing investigation was carried out by agents from the Detroit office of the U.S. Bureau of Labor-Management Reports.

Agents were not at liberty to disclose findings of their investigation which ended last month. Their report was sent to Washington.

Type of Home Offered to Spacemen

Veto Free Homes for Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's seven astronauts have had their minds made up for them; they are not going to accept $24,000 homes plus furnishings offered by the great heart of Texas.

★ ★ ★

Under tutelage from higher-ups and second-thought advice from their lawyer, the spacemen decided Tuesday it might be misunderstood if they accepted the new houses from the Houston Home Builders Association.

None of the spacemen was present when the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced at a news conference that the astronauts were regretfully declining the offer.

But Lt. Col. John A. Shorty Powers, the "voice of the astronauts," was there, as was C. Leo DeOrsey, business adviser for the spacemen.

It was DeOrsey who had decided it was perfectly ethical for the spacemen to accept the houses in Houston, which is soon to be the home of a new $90-million manned space flight center.

Then the White House, the Pentagon and NASA began to have qualms, especially after the situation was highly publicized.

So DeOrsey got in touch with NASA and received word, which was, in effect, thumbs down. He communicated with Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the nation's first man in orbit, who passed word to the other six astronauts.

As a matter of fact the spacemen don't seem to have been very active either in accepting the offer in the first place or in rejecting it in the second. They left it in the hands of their lawyer, DeOrsey.

Free Parking Starts at 5 P.M. Tomorrow

Free evening parking on municipal off-street parking lots will go into effect in downtown Pontiac at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The free parking for shoppers is being made possible through an agreement between the city and a group of downtown businessmen.

The business group will pay the city $750 each month for the lots. Free parking will be available on all lots beginning at 5 every weekday evening.

Final preparations are being made today to provide proper signs indicating the free parking. City Commissioners approved the plan last week.

Each weekday during Lent a prominent American invites you to join with him in his favorite prayer. Today, join with:

"Oh God, I pray for the grace and knowledge to understand and do Thy will. Help me to be kind and understanding to my fellowman and help me to do everything within my power to relieve the pain, suffering and distress which constantly besets humanity.

"May I be given the strength and knowledge to make a contribution to peace among all mankind."

Asks Conference to Fight N-Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The United States today called on the 17-nation disarmament conference to tackle immediately the problem of ridding the world of nuclear weapons.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean suggested the conference set up a group of experts to study the problem of demolishing all stockpiles of mass destruction weapons.

★ ★ ★

"It is not too soon to begin this study," he said, "Indeed, we cannot conclude a treaty providing for unconditional elimination of nuclear weapons until this study has been completed."

★ ★ ★

NEVER BE ALLOWED

Zorin charged that the West, in insisting on control posts in Soviet territory, was seeking to obtain information on Soviet military targets. He reiterated that such international enforcement arrangements will never be allowed by the Soviet Union.

Dean said the Soviet nuclear tests last autumn had taken the world by surprise and must have been prepared well in advance.

This is one of the reasons, he said, why the United States is not prepared to take any Soviet test ban pledges on trust and insists on international control provisions.

The United States, Dean said, would not be caught twice.

And he asserted that the control system envisaged by the West contained enough safeguards to rule out any risk of espionage.

Unless control is accepted by the Soviet Union, Dean said, it is useless to discuss a treaty—"It would be like removing the engine out of a car and then discussing what color we should paint the useless body."

The American delegate told the 15th plenary session of the conference that the West had already shown itself prepared to accept some degree of risk by scaling down its control requirements to a minimum.

But this minimum requirement, Dean went on, was that no country could contemplate sneak nuclear tests without considerable risk of discovery.

Italian Premier, De Gaulle Talk

Two Leaders Expected to Discuss Question of European Unity

The two leaders were expected to concentrate on European unity questions during their brief meeting. French officials hinted that De Gaulle wanted to press his ideas for a political confederation of the six Common Market nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

WANTS COOPERATION

★ ★ ★

It was De Gaulle's first trip abroad since the signing of the Algerian peace agreement. Because of the threat from right-wing French opponents of the agreement, thousands of Italian and French troops and police were on duty in the Turin area.

WELL GUARDED

Some 2,000 men guarded the suburb of La Mandria, where the two leaders and their foreign ministers met at an 18th century villa surrounded by a huge park. All access roads and the park were patrolled by light armored cars, police-filled cars and mounted policemen.

Sentries reportedly were ordered to shoot any intruder.

tary that they must support collusion are individuals whose actions endanger the security of our country," he said.

He strongly protested the fact that McNamara released to the Senate investigators the record of the inquiry that led to an admonishment, and Walker's decision to resign and fight communism his own way.

★ ★ ★

"Secretary McNamara misused the report of investigation to create in the public mind the false impression that I had been found guilty of violating the Hatch Act," Walker said. "This was slander and defamation of character and reputation in the privileged sanctuary of a Senate committee."

★ ★ ★

Gen. Bruce C. Clarke, head of U.S. Army forces in Europe, directed Lt. Gen. Frederic J. Brown as an acting inspector general to investigate and report on the Walker case.

★ ★ ★

"General Brown's report, reportedly pursuant to its approval by the President, became the basis for my 'oral admonition' by General Clarke June 12, 1961," Walker said.

Declares Claim of Innocence by Hiss Unsupported

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today that new claims of innocence by convicted perjurer Alger Hiss are not supported by the facts.

Kennedy issued a statement through his office on the controversy stirred up by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon's comments on the Hiss case in his new book, "Six Crises."

Hiss has expressed hope that a statement in the book that the FBI in late 1948 had possession of a typewriter which figured prominently in the case would help vindicate his position.

Burton Wires, Phones Wife in London, Says 'Love to All'

From Our News Wires

LONDON — Actor Richard Burton cabled his wife today reassuring her that he still loves her despite his headlined kisses with Elizabeth Taylor.

Friends said the cable was in Welsh to keep the message from prying eyes.

It said: "Love to all. Everything fine."

He followed up the cable with a telephone call. The result was that Burton's blonde wife, Sybil, 32, was much happier today, friends said.

Mrs. Burton was hiding out at the London home of Burton's brother and manager Ifor Jenkins. Friends said she was so upset by the talk of romance between her husband and Miss Taylor that a doctor was called. He gave her sedatives and she apparently got a good rest and was much better today, the friends reported.

Actor - playright Emlyn Williams, long-time friend of the Burtons and godfather to one of their two children, said he was convinced that everything was fine between Burton and his wife.

"I just cannot imagine that Richard would throw his life away like this. They are exceedingly happy and he adores his daughters," he said.

"It's not in his character to be involved in something like this. It's the sort of thing he's always made fun of in other movie stars."

Williams emphatically denied reports in two London papers that Mrs. Burton was planning to fly to Rome to join her husband, who has been reported kissing Liz on and off the set of the movie "Cleopatra."

'LET IT BLOW OVER'

"She is certainly not planning to fly to Rome and there has been no intention of her going," Williams said. "She certainly doesn't want to step out of the plane in Rome and be surrounded by thousands of paparazzi (photographers) and go through all the nonsense that goes on down there.

"Her great wish at the moment is to keep out of it all. She wants to let it all blow over. She has brought the children here and she doesn't want to leave them."

In Rome, Miss Taylor stayed away from the Cinecitta studio set today while Burton finished a wild banquet scene for the movie with a dozen scantily clad dancing girls.

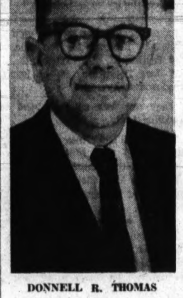
A spokesman for 20th Century Fox said Miss Taylor was not scheduled to work today and did not show up.

While the beautiful actress was taking the day off, Burton, playing the role of "Marc Anthony," danced with the girls. Cleopatra earlier had stormed out of the room in a jealous rage.

At Mall Tomorrow

Hair-Stylist Salon to Open

The new Donnell Hair Stylists Salon which opens tomorrow in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center will be managed by its owner, Donnell R. Thomas, 769 Robbinann St., Waterford Township.



DONNELL R. THOMAS

Thomas, who also operates a shop in the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, said his new Pontiac Mall salon will feature Continental and American rooms, each styled on different themes.

The Continental room, which is designed along traditional European lines, has a blue and white interior while the contemporary American room follows a brown, white and berry-colored motif.

The reception area is paneled in mahogany-stained wormwood with a tile floor in a chipped stone pattern. The exterior of the shop, which is just inside the main entrance to the enclosed mall, has a facade of white Georgian marble, red Roman brick and blue blown plaster with a small plate glass window in the center.

Thomas will be assisted by a staff of 12 operators. He said Kazar Kazarian, former assistant manager, will become manager of the Miracle Mile shop.

Thomas has operated his salon at the Miracle Mile for five years after moving it there from Detroit. His second shop will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow, he said.

Sneak Preview Offered at Mall

Kinney Shoes Opens Ahead of Schedule at 5:30 This Afternoon

Area residents will be able to get a "sneak preview" of the inside shopping plaza at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center when one new store, Kinney Shoes, opens at 5:30 p.m. today.

Although originally slated to open tomorrow, the shoe store is fully stocked and will open ahead of schedule, according to the manager, Kenneth S. Bouton, 25, of Taylor.

The store, one of 600 Kinney branches throughout the country, will be the first business to open in the enclosed mall.

The entrance to the mall is at the middle of the shopping center facing Telegraph Road. It is just north of Elizabeth Lake Road.

'COMPLETE LINE'

Bouton, formerly manager of a Kinney branch in Dearborn, said the Pontiac Mall store will carry a complete line of footwear for the entire family in addition to stockings, handbags and other accessories.

The 40- by 150-foot store, according to Bouton, is larger than Kinney retail outlets in most shopping centers. He said it is twice the size of the firm's Miracle Mile Shopping Center store.

Bouton said the store eventually will employ from 15 to 20 persons.

Saginaw Seeks to Annex Land

Petitions Filed Calling for Vote to Quadruple City's Size, Up Census

SAGINAW (UPI)—The city of Saginaw — in an annexation move — could quadruple its land area and become Michigan's fourth largest municipality in population.

Petitions which would bring this about were filed by the city yesterday. A vote may be set up for August 7 state primary election.

The city seeks to annex the neighboring four townships of Saginaw, Carrollton, Zilwaukee and Buena Vista and business and industrial complexes of each.

The 105-year-old city of Saginaw thus would add 54 square miles to its area, increasing its size from 18 to 71 square miles, and would bring its population to approximately 134,000. The present population is 98,265.

Michigan's first six cities in the 1960 census were Detroit, 1,670,144; Grand Rapids 197,913, Flint 196,940, Lansing 113,058, Dearborn 112,007, and Saginaw 98,265.

The filing of nine petitions for the various proposed votes followed a carefully planned maneuver, carried out secretly in part.

City personnel worked last weekend to prepare the petitions and a corps of 300 firemen, policemen and other municipal employes moved through the four townships and the city Tuesday gathering thousands of signatures.

Each petition required the signatures of 1 per cent of the registered voters of the combined population of the city and each of the four townships.

City Manager Edward H. Pothoff said the effort was kept secret in order to prevent townships from blocking the project for annexing unpopulated industrial and business complexes.

Group Asks Change in Reshuffle Plan

DETROIT (UPI) — The Committee for a Sound Constitution has indicated it will support the legislative reapportionment plan being debated at the constitutional convention—if it is altered to suit the committee.

The CSC, a nonpartisan group, said that the pending proposal is an improvement over the existing constitutional provisions but does not go far enough.

In a statement, the committee said it believed the provision which allows a House district one representative if it has .7 per cent of the state's population should be changed to more adequately approach the ideal of one house apportioned according to straight population.

On the Senate plan, the CSC supported the formula which allots 80 per cent to population and 20 per cent to area factors.

The Day in Birmingham

To Discuss Effect of TV, Movies on Each Other

BIRMINGHAM — The effect that television and movies have on one another will be discussed by the New York Times film critic April 11 at the Community House.

Bosley Crowther, movie critic with the newspaper since 1940, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women.

Crowther, known as the dean of motion picture critics and chronicler of Hollywood, is the author of two books, "The Lion's Share," a history of the development of the movie industry, and "Hollywood Rajah," which tells the life and times of Louis B. Mayer.

In addition to writing a weekly column for the Sunday Times and almost daily movie reviews, Crowther, who sees an average of 250 films a year, contributes articles to several leading magazines.

He has long been chairman of the New York Film Critics.

In 1955 Crowther received the first annual award of the Screen Director's Guild for distinguished criticism.

Mrs. David H. Goodfellow, program chairman, will introduce Crowther.

The Birmingham Senior Men Club will hear a talk at its meeting Friday on safe deposit procedure by Warren T. Whitehead of the Safety Deposit Co. of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sinclair heads of the education committee for Oakland County Republicans will be the guest speakers at a Young Republicans' meeting at 8 p.m. April 17 at the Birmingham YMCA.

The couple will discuss the work of the education committee and the philosophy of the Republican party.

Fifteen full-tuition scholarships, worth $150 each, will be offered high school graduates or college students at the Cranbrook Summer Theater School in Bloomfield Hills.

Carl G. Wonnberger, director of the school, said that the scholarships include instruction in voice, diction, pantomime, stage dancing, make-up, stage production and directing.

Students who will be in high school one more year will be considered for scholarships if they receive the endorsement of their dramatics counselor, principal or department head.

POW Friends, Fidelistas Clash

Fighting Breaks Out After Harsh Sentences Asked for Prisoners

HAVANA (UPI) — Pro-Castro mobs and relatives and friends of war prisoners awaiting the verdict in their treason trial were reported today to have clashed in the streets outside Principe Prison.

There were no immediate details available of the fighting, which was said to have broken out after the government demanded the 1,179 war prisoners on trial be driven death or 20-year jail sentences.

The controlled press—the trial has been closed to Western reporters — reported the government prosecution insisted "the most severe punishment our laws permit" for the captured invasion troops. There was no indication when the five-man military court would return its verdict.

Apparently preparing for possible disorders, police and militia forced relatives and friends in the seventh day of a "death watch" at the prison gates to move a block and a half away.

Pro-government groups in civilian clothes preparing counter-demonstrations took up positions in front of the Miguel Mariano Gomez statue facing the same 300 relatives and friends.

The atmosphere was tense.

Ninety Mothers Tell Geneva Men to Halt Arms

GENEVA (UPI) — Ninety mothers and grandmothers summoned the top disarmament negotiators of the United States and Russia to an unprecedented meeting today and told them to abandon the "out-of-date" idea of national security.

The women, 51 of them Americans and the rest from nine other countries including the Soviet Union, represented the "Women Strike for Peace" movement.

They made their plea for disarmament to the cochairmen of the 17-nation disarmament conference, Arthur H. Dean of the United States and Valerian A. Zorin of the Soviet Union, at the Palais Des Nations, which broke if United Nations regulation for the first time to let them in.

realistic and unworkable and he knows it," he said.

Conlin, strictly on his own, proposed an income tax, repeal of the business activities and intangibles taxes, reduction of the corporation franchise fee from four to two mills, and repeal of ones cent of the sales and use tax. It would net the state $100 million a year.

NUISANCE TAXES

He also proposed re-enactment of some $30 million in "nuisance" levies on cigarettes, beer, liquor and telephone bills to furnish some immediate cash.

Finally, he recommended legislation to permit counties to levy a one cent sales tax, which would raise about $108 to $110 million a year. This, he said, would be divided among schools, counties and local governments.

"I propose it on a county rather than a city level because the county is the smallest governmental unit that could administer a tax like this without getting into a hopeless tangle of administration," he said. "With a city tax, people would be moving from one place to another and buying in one place and not another to avoid the tax."

City Man Charged in Fatal Accident

A 21-year-old Pontiac man is charged with involuntary manslaughter in the traffic death of an elderly school crossing guard in a Wayne County suburb yesterday.

Free on $1,000 bond today is Martin D. Koenig, 107 S. Anderson St. He is scheduled for examination April 11 before Wayne Municipal Judge John C. Seiler.

★ ★ ★

Police said Koenig's car struck John Henry, 73, Wayne, only moments after the crossing guard had escorted a group of children into the Roosevelt Elementary School in Wayne.

Koenig told police he apparently fell asleep at the wheel and his car went over a curb, struck a stop sign and then hit Henry. The victim, thrown 50 feet by the impact, was dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital.

Syrian Junta Asks Unity

DAMASCUS, Syria (UPI)—The high command announced today that, with the revolt ended in northern Syria, one of its aims now is to bring about comprehensive Arab unity.

This may mean some sort of renewed link with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

A ban on travel between cities was relaxed.

"The crisis has ended," said a high command statement broadcast by Radio Damascus. "Quiet has been restored to all parts of the country and to all its towns and cities . . .

"Everybody is leaving it to the high command to take the necessary measures to put the country on the right path for the future and to bring about comprehensive Arab unity on a true basis."

This could mean a renewal of ties with the United Arab Republic, though certainly not in the tight union that was broken by a Syrian army revolt last Sept. 28. Some form of federation may be in the offing.

The military leaders in Damascus has sent assurances to the troops who staged a 48-hour uprising in Aleppo, a northern Syrian commercial city in which admiration for Nasser is strong. They said the rebels' demand for a link with the U.A.R. will be realized.

However, the two strongest men of the ruling military junta are anti-Nasser. They are Maj. Gen. Abdel Kerim Zahreddin, the army's commander in chief, and Col. Muwaffak Assassa. Both backed the Sept. 28 uprising and, six months later, the bloodless coup which ousted President Nazem el Koudsi's right-wing government.

Spends Day Burning Millions in Money

★ ★ ★

For him it's just part of a day's work to set fire to securities valued at $10 million, $20 million or even $30 million. Of course, they have all been canceled and carefully checked before the torch is applied.

NEVER LOSES SLEEP

For two years the 50-year-old Goble has done the crematorium work for the Chase Manhattan Bank. And he never has lost a night's sleep over the thought of paper once worth so much going up in flames.

What's his reaction:

"Well, it gets pretty hot up there when you're burning," he said. "Anyhow it's a detail, a job to be done and I guess I'm overseer of it at this end."

Banks are careful about destroying canceled securities because if they fall into unauthorized hands they could cause the issuing party untold administrative troubles.

SECURITIES SHREDDED

Just about every week a collection of the carefully checked, canceled securities is loaded into padlocked steel trunks and taken to the Chase Manhattan's new office building in the financial district. They are whisked non-stop to the 61st floor by elavator.

Electric shredding machines chop the securities into bits and hurt the pieces into a special furnace.

Before all this, a triple check has been completed by the bank's accounting and services division of which Gobel is assistant supervisor.

Formal cremation certificates have been made out for each security in triplicate or even in four copies.

The bank files one copy forever. The others are returned to the issuing corporation which had given its approval for the cremation up to a year previously.

★ ★ ★

When the furnace is full Goble, a veteran of 34 years service with the bank calmly sets fire to a whole bond—face value $100,000, perhaps—and tosses it into the shredded securities. A gas burner in the rear of the furnace makes sure every bit of paper is consumed. A wire mesh screen covers the flue to prevent ashes from escaping.

★ ★ ★

Besides Goble, two bank porters and an authorized witness watch the cremation.

"We generally figure about one hour for each of the trunks and when it's a four-hour job it sure gets hot," Goble said.

British Medical Journal Bans All Tobacco Ads

LONDON (AP)—All tobacco advertising has been banned from the British Medical Journal, organ of the British Medical Association.

The action was taken quietly after the Royal College of Physicians reported last month that smoking causes lung cancer. An official of the journal said there never was much tobacco advertising in the magazine.

Head Street Cleaner Sets Good Example

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Roberta Franklin was in an automobile when a man in a black car ahead stopped, got out, bent over and picked up some large pieces of brown wrapping paper.

★ ★ ★

Miss Franklin said she smiled and thought "that good citizen is certainly doing his part to help keep our city clean."

★ ★ ★

When the man faced Miss Franklin, getting into his car, she recognized him as William B. Farris, city commissioner handling street cleaning.

★ ★ ★

City Officials Reappoint Four County Supervisors

The City Commission, by a 4-3 vote, last night reappointed the city's four members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Reappointed to one-year terms were R. Clare Cummings, a former chairman and 25-year veteran supervisor; Mrs. Margaret E. Hill, a supervisor for eight years; Mayor Philip E. Rowston, supervisor for the last two years; and Wayne O. Anable serving his second term.

The move came after three commissioners attempted unsuccessfully to postpone appointments until after the April 16 general election in Pontiac.

Commissioners Robert Landry, Winford E. Bottom and Milton R. Henry wanted the decision postponed. All voted against the appointments.

Henry and Landry argued that the City Charter prohibited Rowston, as an elected official, to be appointed to a position "for which compensation is paid out of public money."

City Attorney William A. Ewart said his interpretation of the charter was that it applied only to city offices.

After a lengthy debate over legal issues and parliamentary procedure, a motion was made by Henry to disqualify Rowston from voting on the measure "for reasons of conflict of interests." It, too, was defeated 4 to 3.

Only once before has the annual appointment been tabled until after a city election. Under county procedures, supervisors should be appointed before the April 10 annual board meeting.

Named to two-year terms on the board of directors were Robert M. Coats, 3663 David K. and Stuart R. Kern, 6777 Desmond Drive, both Waterford Township. Earl Straub, 1280 Dundee Drive, Waterford Township, was elected to a one-year term on the board.

Man Survives Crash as Car 'Flies' 70 Feet

A Birmingham man is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after his car sailed nearly 70 feet through the air and landed upside down after he ignored a construction barricade in Bloomfield Hills.

* * *

Police said that Wallace F. Hopkins, 32, of 17368 Buckingham St. was traveling south on Opdyke Road when he went around a barricade, flew across a 20-foot ditch, hit the other side and flipped over before coming to stop 50 feet away.

The accident occurred about a mile south of Square Lake Road where sewer construction is under way.

* * *

Hopkins, who suffered lacerations of the head, was taken to the hospital by another motorist. The accident happened shortly after 1 a.m.

OK Cost Figures on Street Jobs

City commissioners began running the 1962 line-up of public improvement projects through the normal procedure of estimates and hearings last night as cost estimates were accepted for six street projects.

Public hearings on the estimates and plans prepared by City Engineer James N. Carlisle were scheduled for next Tuesday's meeting.

Included were four black-topping projects and two calling for construction of curbs and gutters.

The estimate for curbs and gutters on Howard Street, Johnson to Adelaide, totals $9,995.37 with $6,661.50 paid through special assessment and the rest by the city. The same work on Inglewood Avenue, Oakland to Monticello, is estimated at $24,-105.95.

The assessed cost will be $9,423 and the rest is paid by the city.

Black-topping projects were slated for Cameron Street, Baltimore to Mt. Clemens; Kenilworth Avenue, Mt. Clemens to Perry; Monticello Avenue, Oakland to Orlando; and Stirling Avenue, Mt. Clemens to Madison.

Cameron Street: Assessed cost, $9,700.20; city's cost, $3,233.48; total $12,933.68. Approximate assessment for 50-foot lot, $115.

Kenilworth Avenue: Assessed cost, $17,129.46; city's cost, $5,893.10; total, $23,022.56. Approximate assessment for a 50-foot lot, $115.

Monticello Avenue: Assessed cost, $8,195.75; city's cost, $3,274.17; total, $11,469.92. Approximate assessment for 40-foot lot, $92.

Stirling Avenue: Assessed cost, $17,058.22; city's cost, $5,101.93; total, $2,160.16. Approximate assessment for 50-foot lot, $115.

In other business, the special assessment roll for contruction of a water main on Palmer Drive was confirmed in three payments.

An ordinance to rezone five lots at Elizabeth Lake Road and Murphy Street, defeated because of a lack of a needed 75 per cent majority vote last week, was reconsidered and approved last night.

Commissioners voting last week didn't realize the 75 per cent majority was needed.

The vote then was 4-2 in favor with Commissioner Milton R. Henry abstaining.

Last night, with Commissioner Robert Landry absent for the last part of the meeting, the commission voted 5-1 to approve the measure.

It rezones the property from Residential-3 to a personal service use.

Drainage Board to Meet on Clinton Improvements

A meeting of the Oakland County Drainage Board to consider Pontiac's petition for nearly $4 million in Clinton River improvements is scheduled for April 11.

City Manager Robert A. Stierer filed the petition with the County Drain Commission yesterday.

Improvements are intended to prevent flooding by deepening and widening the river. Also, it would be rerouted, partly tunneled, and straightened to create more desirable building sites under the urban renewal program.

Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry said he could see nothing that would prevent the county from doing the construction work for the city.

As in similar projects elsewhere, the county would finance the river project with bonds to be paid off through assessments against the city and the State Highway Department.

Plans call for widening, deepening and straightening the river from East Boulevard to the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks a block west of Saginaw Street, at Orchard Lake Avenue.

* * *

If the project can be tackled in conjunction with the proposed downtown perimeter highway, city consulting engineers estimate the cost of river work at $3,781,160, Stierer said. Otherwise the cost will be closer to $4,203,960, he said.

* * *

Construction of the highway is slated to begin sometime around the first of next year.

Whether the two projects can be dovetailed depends on how soon city engineers can come up with final plans for the river, Barry said.

Would Amend Jury Measure

Senate Committee OKs Changes Suggested by Oakland Supervisors

Oakland County supervisors got what they wanted from the State Senate judiciary committee yesterday.

The committee, headed by Sen. Carlton Morris (R-Kalamazoo), recommended passage of the county's jury commission bill with two amendments pushed by the supervisors.

One amendment gives supervisors the right to appoint the proposed three-man commission, rather than the legislature. At the same time, it does not make selection of a commission mandatory.

Under this plan, therefore, supervisors could abandon the jury commission if they choose.

Another amendment strikes a provision to set pay automatically for jury commissioners at $15 for each day of service, and allows supervisors to determine the scale.

* * *

Supervisors urged the Senate committee to make these amendments after the original bill was changed by the House of Representatives. The amendments, in effect, restore the bill to the original form proposed by supervisors.

* * *

The jury commission measure is now eligible for Senate debate but no immediate action is expected because of other business higher on the calendar.

Once established, a jury commission would be in charge of selecting Circuit Court jurors from voters' lists. Presently, jurors are drawn by township supervisors and city assessors from assessment roles.

News Services, Papers Gain Nothing by Misstating Facts

In the Voice of The People today is a letter from a reader who is honestly puzzled and asks a question. It may have been in the minds of others and we take this opportunity to reply.

★ ★ ★

If newspapers were to get excited every time a blatherskite started shouting, we'd be in perpetual motion. When a man's remarks backfire, he rushes forth glibly and cries: "I've been misquoted."

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press and the United Press International are truthful, accurate, rapid and skillful. Neither has the slightest desire—or anything to gain—by misrepresenting the news. How could they profit? Is the AP concerned if Senator Bugle blasts the President? It is reported unemotionally. Suppose the Senator praises the President. Does either news service care?

★ ★ ★

Both news services represent every political party in the world, every religion, every color of skin and every social and economic level. Hence, they are checked and double checked—by their own experts — on everything they send.

★ ★ ★

The same is true for home news. If The Pontiac Press says a local bank is robbed, do you doubt it? If we say a baby was born in Waterford on the way to the hospital, do you doubt it? If we say the Mayor broke both legs, do you doubt it? If we state the county tax rate is raised—or lowered—do you doubt it? We're mildly competitive with WPON but we print its program every day. Don't you believe it's factual?

★ ★ ★

How could this newspaper—or any other—gain by misstating facts and losing the confidence of the people? If we report an earthquake in Bolivia with 350 killed, do you doubt it? For what possible reason would we fabricate such a statement—or why would we refuse to report the catastrophe if it happened?

All the Jack Paars in the world aren't sufficiently important to justify running denials. The faithful elephant becomes unconsciously tolerant of the buzzing fly.

Russians Plan to Seek America's Cup in '64

The Russians have added another startling ingredient to their regular five-year plans. Now they want to challenge for the America's Cup, symbol of yacht racing supremacy, and the Davis Cup, in tennis.

Not too many years ago any Red who mentioned the word "yacht" would have been issued a pick and a one-way ticket to Siberia.

And worse still, if he mentioned "tennis," he'd be wearing a couple of rackets on his feet, mushing on to Murmansk.

But the Red challenge to world supremacy knows no limits now. The U.S.S.R. has announced it plans to get into the America's Cup act in 1964, following Australia's challenge this year, and Britain's try in 1963.

A conservative estimate on the cash involved in designing, building and maintaining a challenger for the world's sailing title held by the U.S. since 1851 would be $500,000.

That's a lot of black bread and potatoes, Ivan.

Russia's sailors showed up in the recent Olympics, where they took first in a one-design class, and finished well in three or four others. But this step-up to the 12-meter class puts them with the millionaires and the wealthy syndicates which write the checks for the big racing machines.

Before seeking admission to the exclusive yachting circles, the Russians began drawing a bead on the Davis Cup. They will compete in European zone tennis matches this year.

Will we see the day that Nikita takes off early from lighting international brush fires, and repairs to the golf course for a round? That would seem to be the next step.

How about riding to hounds? Wouldn't he look great in the traditional pink coat and derby?

The Man About Town

Started With Cart

Chicago Man Finds Entry in Grandfather's Diary

By JOE HAAS

"Here's where it all started," writes

Basil Brown

of Chicago, in sending me a quotation from his grandfather's diary, dated July 13, 1886, showing that he had just purchased a Pontiac road cart. Made here in our city, these carts were simple affairs; little more than two wooden wheels, driver's seat, and thills to go on either side of the horse. But we made untold thousands of them in Pontiac, and their successor was the automobile. They sold at $12.50.

You don't have one in your back garret, do you?

Today it's a neck and neck race with Colavito, Cash and Boros of Detroit as favorites on that team in our baseball contest, with Piersall and Mantle leading the field among other players. Closing time for entries is next Monday noon, the prize of $250 in U.S. savings bonds going for the nearest correct answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Thursday, May 10, and what will be his batting average?

Cigarette lighter: What often doesn't work, because it keeps its feet on the desk.

Thanks to our U.S. Senator

Philip A. Hart

and his wonderful wife, Janey, for their kind letter about our item in regard to her aviation hobby.

In regard to our warning about grass fires, of Rochester phones that the old grass should never be burned off the ground, as it is a good fertilizer. To add a personal note, we'll say that the best lawns we ever saw are those never burned over or raked.

Frank Felshaw

The pet woodchuck of

who lives in the hills north of Rochester has finally come out of hibernation, so we now may expect that spring's here.

Again the gals are in the majority among those making entries in our baseball contest. My fellow sufferers, are we again to allow them to capture that $250?

One That Won't Get Away

David Lawrence Says:

Strikes Jeopardize Missile Plans

WASHINGTON—Work stoppages at bases in this country where missiles and space vehicles are being built by the United States Government are so serious that the only remedy may be the passage of a law by Congress outlawing strikes in this field.

There is a big mystery over LAWRENCE what's been happening. There is no evidence of Communist infiltration, but the net result of the work stoppages has nevertheless been to delay the American missile program.

Sen. John L. McClellan of Arkansas, Democrat, who has been in charge of hearings by a Senate subcommittee on the subject of delays in the construction of missiles, told the Senate recently:

"Had these work stoppages during the years 1956 through 1961 not occurred, it is reasonably certain that we would have been able to have a manned orbital flight much earlier than we did. . . ."

The Arkansas senator noted a rise during the months of January and February of this year "not only in man-days lost but in the types of disputes, including jurisdictional disputes."

A national commission had been appointed by the Federal Government, labor leaders had publicly taken a no-strike pledge, but the work stoppages at the bases persisted. Only this week they had become so serious that a special meeting was called at the Pentagon.

But meetings and pleas have been tried before to no avail.

BEGAN YEAR AGO

More than a year ago the Senate subcommittee began its investigation. On April 25, 1961, the secretary of labor established a missile site public contracts advisory committee to recommend "fair and impartial standards" to the Department of Labor.

On Aug. 25, 1961, such work standards were submitted to Secretary Goldberg, and the report was released to the public on Oct. 14, 1961. The Senate subcommittee inquired and was told on Dec. 15, 1961, that the standards recommended "are still under study, and as yet no action has been taken by the secretary of labor."

The findings and conclusions of the McClellan committee were made available to the public within the last three weeks. They say in part:

HALF AT CANAVERAL

"Approximately one-half of the man-days lost occurred at the test center at Cape Canaveral, Fla., where intercontinental ballistic missiles and space rockets were tested or proven before becoming operational.

"The space and missile programs, upon which our survival depends in the mortal struggle with communism, were intolerably delayed by wildcat strikes, work stoppages, slowdowns, and a deliberate policy of low productivity, callously indulged in during the 4½ year period by local union officials and local union members . . .

"These hearings have disclosed that many of these workers, through strikes and other pressure tactics, have collected millions of dollars in exorbitant, unnecessary overtime pay in a brazen gouge of the U.S. taxpayer.

"Testimony shows that many of the strikes and slowdowns had a common purpose—to stretch out the jobs and to put pressure on the contractor and the government to pay overtime in order to meet the construction deadlines.

"Instances of overtime pay reached the outrageous levels of journeymen electricians collecting $748 a week; truck drivers, $324 a week; and ditchdiggers, $287 a week.

"Slowdowns and low rates of productivity, estimated by witnesses to be as low as 40 per cent of normal capacity, have prevailed at missile construction sites."

AIDED MANAGEMENT

So there was no lack of money—and the management side got high profits, too. What more effective way, therefore, to delay, if not frustrate, America's progress in space than by slowdowns, strikes and jurisdictional disputes?

Maybe congressional committees will some day uncover the real answer. It is still a mystery not merely to public officials but also to those loyal labor leaders who have been trying to prevent work stoppages, only to be plagued with unauthorized interruptions called "wildcat strikes."

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Science Seeking Way to Make People Taller

Although we keep assuring one another that "good things come in small packages," we often seem to place great value on tallness except in the case of our daughters. Mothers take delight in noting the increasing height of their sons. Girls want the boy friend to be tall as well as dark and handsome.

Now science gives promise of one day making short men tall!

We've known for years that growth is controlled by our old friend the pituitary master gland.

And scientists have even gone so far as to identify an anterior pituitary principle called human growth hormone or HGH. But the pituitary gland is a tiny organ, not much bigger than a medium-sized grape. And the job of extracting HGH has been very difficult.

For reasons not completely understood, the only growth hormones that could be used for the long periods of time required to note effects are those obtained from higher apes and from man himself.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Over the course of the past few years, encouraging reports have been forthcoming from the Tufts University School of Medicine where carefully controlled studies have been carried out by Dr. M.S. Raben under a grant from the National Institute for Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases.

Briefly stated, Dr. Raben has been able to speed the growth of certain dwarfs and of a small series of five very short children who were "judged to be normal apart from their stature."

Encouraged by the favorable results to date, more extensive trials are promised. But, until it is possible to obtain HGH from sources other than human pituitary glands, progress will be slow and very few of the thousands who desire treatment can be accommodated.

Nevertheless it should not be long before chemists identify and then reconstruct the formula of the active agent.

'Why Didn't Papers Reply to Jack Paar's Criticism?'

We will now get a full night's rest since Jack Paar has left our living rooms. He has told us some pretty upsetting things about newspapers.

I don't know of any particular instance where our Pontiac Press has been guilty of false reporting but where is the newspapers' defense? Where are the Jack Paars of the newspaper world?

It really would make us happy to know that we can trust our newspapers for reliable information.

'Users of 'Junk' Mail Should Pay Increase'

The post office department operates at a loss and an increase in rates is required to relieve the taxpayers. A first-class user should not be asked to carry more than his share by subsidizing the bulk mail user (except nonprofit organizations and magazines).

I am a taxpayer and have been an Oakland County voter for 36 years. I am irritated by the flood of "junk" mail that clutters my mailbox and am serving notice upon users that I shall destroy it unopened unless they are required to pay as great an increase as first-class mail users.

'Meter Men Aren't Spying on Dogs'

Mrs. Janice Baker wrote that the City Commission required that meter readers spy on dogs. Commissioner Wood asked that existing ordinances be enforced before new ordinances.

The city administration — not by order of the commission— only asked that meter readers make a check on the card of people who have dogs, but not to go out of their way to do so.

This has been published in The Pontiac Press. She only had to read this to get the true facts.

'Who Can Give Help on Divorce Laws?'

Let's write to the people who can tell us what to do about divorce laws. If enough of us stay together we may be able to do something. When a woman gets remarried they should not receive support. What about it? Who do we contact?

'Water From Detroit Is Serious Situation'

A Press article stated that "federal authorities reported that Detroit area waters are polluted to a point of hazard." They stated most of the pollution is coming from raw sewage, industrial wastes and unchlorinated treated sewage.

★ ★ ★

The seriousness of the situation was shown at a conference called by Abraham Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare. This is bad since Pontiac has agreed to buy Detroit water. Are we who now drink from deep wells with a very low bacteria count, going to stand for this? The chlorine taste will be worse than the Old Mill Pond.

★ ★ ★

The people have had no voice. We will pay about twice our present rates because it will cost nearly $4 million and this will be financed over a period of years by revenue bonds costing almost twice in interest what general obligation bonds would have. Authorities knew this and doubted they could get a favorable vote because of opposition to changing our system.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Dehydration Diet Is Successful

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-475: Annette J., aged 37, is the wife of Jack, whose doctor ordered him to lose 35 pounds as heart insurance.

"Dr. Crane," Annette spoke exultantly, "I was 20 pounds overweight myself, so I joined Jack.

DR. CRANE

"We followed your dehydration plan and limited ourselves to only one total glass of fluids the first day.

"And I certainly can recommend the ice water plan. For we used half a cup of coffee and the other half cup of plain water the first day.

"But I felt very thirsty, so the second day I put one of my two glasses of water into an empty ice tray with the separators therein and thus had many-thin wafers of ice.

"When I grew too thirsty, I'd take one wafer and hold it on my tongue until it melted. It was far more satisfying than an equal amount of water.

BAYER'S HEN

"In your diet booklet you mentioned Prof. Bayer's hen which would eat only 50 grams of wheat if placed before a 100-gram pile.

"But if she were placed before a larger pile of wheat, she'd continue eating until she had swallowed 80 to 100 grams.

"Well, I realized that if we sat down with a lot of food in front of us, our stomachs would crave more.

"So I served our rationed quota in the kitchen. We had our allotted meal on the plate and thus there was nothing on the dining room table to tantalize us to greater hunger.

"Well, I lost exactly 10 pounds the first 10 days but Jack was down 12 pounds.

"We were both elated. And after the first 10 days it then seemed very bountiful when I was able to shift over to a 1,200 calorie daily quota while Jack moved up to 1,600.

"And we stayed on our diets without the strain and hunger pangs we have suffered in the past.

"Now I am down 20 pounds and Jack has meanwhile lost 28 lbs. so he has dropped from 205 to 177.

"Already he has become more energetic. His blood pressure has also fallen 25 points.

"And he now kisses me as they do in the movies. He used to give me only fatherly little pecks on the cheek.

"When he'd get home from the office, he was even too tired to come out to the kitchen. So he'd slump down in his easy chair and read the paper until I called him to dinner.

"Now, however, he marches right out to the kitchen and gives me a bear hug, plus a kiss that makes me dizzy. Oh, it's wonderful."

Church women who need to raise money, can do so easily by launching a group dieting project.

Every time you lose a pound of fat, you save at least $2.50 in groceries, so contribute that salvaged money to your church.

I've seen Sunday School classes or women's societies who thus raised $500 to $1,000 in a month or so, and without all the fanfare and hard work of a ruinmage sale or the selling of greeting cards, etc.

So send for the booklet "How to Lose 10 Pounds in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Your church thus will gain as you lose.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets

Trial Ends in Hanging of Physicist's Killer

BEDFORD, England (AP) — James Hanratty, 25, a redhaired Irishman was hanged in Bedford jail today for the slaying last August of physicist John Gregsten.

Hanratty was convicted on the testimony of Gregsten's girl friend, Valeria Storie, 22, who said that Hanratty shot Gregsten in the head, then raped her, shot her five times and left her for dead beside a lonely road known as Dead Man's Hill.

Miss Storie has been paralyzed from the waist down since the shooting and testified from a wheelchair.

Hanratty was sentenced to death Feb. 17 after the longest murder trial in British history, 21 days. Home Secretary Richard A. Butler refused to recommend clemency although a London newspaper discovered after the trial that Hanratty had been diagnosed a mental defective in 1952.

Red Infiltrates Into Town; Makes 'Oreful' Situation

GLOUCESTER, N.J. (AP)—The situation here is rather red, Freeholder Michael J. Conroy complains.

"Residents not only are seeing red, but looking red," he says.

It comes, Conroy contends, from mounds of red iron ore imported from Peru and stored along the Philadelphia waterfront. Winds blow the dust across the Delaware River.

★ ★ ★

The dust is filtering into homes and soiling clothing, Conroy says. The Board of Freeholders asked Mayor H. J. Tate of Philadelphia to remedy the situation.

Your Income Tax—No. 3

Exemptions Add Up Great on Form

BY FRANK CORMIER
AP Staff Writer

Millions of Americans pay NO federal income tax simply because of the number of $600 exemptions they are able to claim.

Each exemption means that you pay NO tax at all on $600 of income. This makes the exemption the biggest of all tax-cutting devices.

Everyone filing a tax return gets at least one exemption, for himself.

Those who were 65 or older on or before Jan. 1, 1962, are eligible for a second personal exemption and still another exemption is offered all blind taxpayers.

On a joint return, you also get an exemption for your husband or wife—two if your mate was 65 or older.

Additional exemptions may be claimed for your children, members of your household (NOT counting servants) and dependent relatives. However, these people must:

REGULATIONS

1. Have received more than half their total support from you.

2. NOT have filed a joint return for 1961 with their husband or wife.

3. Be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama or the Canal Zone. This does NOT apply if an adopted alien child lives with a U.S. citizen abroad.

4. Either have been a member of your household for the entire tax year or be related to you, or to your spouse if you file jointly.

5. Have received less than $600 total income during 1961.

The income ceiling sometimes does NOT apply in the case of your children, stepchildren or legally adopted children. If a youngster was under 19 for the entire tax year or was a full-time student, you can claim an exemption regardless of his or her income provided the other tests are met.

A student is defined as one who was enrolled full time in an educational institution or certain institutional on-farm training courses for at least five months during the year.

In figuring out whether you provided more than half the total support of a student, you can ignore the value of any scholarship aid. Benefits under the GI Bill do count, however.

★ ★ ★

Even if your dependent child was under 19 or a student, he must file his own income tax return if his income totaled $600 or more. He can, in that case, claim a $600 exemption for himself.

REQUIREMENTS

In addition, you can claim him as an exemption on your return if you provided more than half his support and he met the other requirements.

Relatives who can be claimed as exemptions if they meet the standards, even though they were NOT members of your household, are: mother, father, mother-in-law, father-in-law, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepmother, stepfather, grandparents, grandchildren and, if related by blood, aunt, uncle, niece or nephew.

You can claim a full $600 exemption for a dependent who was born or died during 1961 if he or she met the requirements for an exempt dependent while alive.

If your wife or husband died during 1961, the number of his or her exemptions (which may be claimed on a separate or joint return) is determined as of the date of death.

Sometimes, several members of a family each contribute to provide more than half the support of a dependent relative.

Even though NO one person alone provides more than half the support, each can take a turn claiming an exemption if he provides more than 10 per cent of the dependent's support and others who contribute file statements that they will NOT claim the same exemption for the same year.

A special statement form, No. 2120, is available at all IRS offices.

Tone Down Ads, Radio Men Told

FCC Chairman Warns of Government Ruling if They Don't

CHICAGO (AP)—Newton N. Minow, Federal Communications Commission chairman, urged the radio industry today to tone down and cut down commercials or face government regulation.

"If you are unable to achieve self-discipline," the FCC chairman told radio broadcasters, "we (the FCC) may have to adopt a rule on commercials which will apply to everyone."

Minow addressed the 40th annual convention of the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB). It was in a speech to the NAB convention a year ago that Minow shook the nation's television industry, labeling TV programing a "vast wasteland."

Minow proposed an informal "shirtsleeve" conference between the FCC and radio broadcasters to seek solutions to the industry's pressing problems.

SMALLER PROFITS

The radio industry now suffers, he said, from "a simple but depressing equation: More people, more radios, more stations—but smaller audiences and smaller profits."

There are about 3,500 AM radio stations in the United States. About one-third lost money in 1960, Minow said, resulting in a frantic battle to survive.

The result, he said, is often "jungle markets over-populated by quick-buck operators where you have to scream at the listener to survive.

Some radio stations treat listeners to "exceptionally varied fare," said Minow. "But in too many cases the results are incredibly bad."

Famous Engine Destined for Chicago Museum

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The New York Central Railroad's famed steam engine "999" is headed for Chicago's National Museum of Science and Industry.

No. 999 was the first steam-driven machine to exceed 100 miles an hour while pulling a passenger train.

On May 10, 1893, the engine was clocked at 112 m.p.h. west of Batavia, on a run from Rochester to Buffalo with the Empire State Express. Charlie Hogan was the engineer.

The engine has been out of service for 30 years, stored in a shop in De Witt, near Syracuse.

To men of the steam engine era, the trip to Chicago is something less than glamorous. Old "999" will be towed backwards by a diesel engine. It will arrive in Chicago Saturday.

Economic Gains Below Forecast

Official Reports State Above Nation Level but Troubles Continue

ST. JOHNS (UP)—Michigan's economic progress will surpass the national average this year, but will not live up to optimistic predictions made in January, the research chief of the State Economic Development Department said today.

"There have been a few disquieting signs that the recovery from last year's recession is not gaining as rapidly as expected," Dr. Apel A. Herbert told a local civic club.

"This is more true for the nation as a whole than for Michigan," he said. "However, even in Michigan, it is unlikely that some of the optimistic increases in employment predicted at the beginning of the year will take place."

The state's labor force, Herbert said has dropped about 75,000 from last year but employment has increased only about half as much. This, he said, stems in part from migration of workers to other states and withdrawal of others from the labor force.

Herbert recommended widespread use of federal programs designed to ease the unemployment problem.

Unemployment will continue to plague the state in years ahead, he said.

★ ★ ★

"A series of adjustments will have to be made during the next five years to cope with automation and diversification and with the changes that proposed new foreign trade policies will make necessary," he said.

One of Accused Trio Reverses Guilty Plea

One member of an accused three-man holdup team changed his plea from guilty to innocent yesterday in Circuit Court.

Homer Moreland, 28, of Commerce Township, changed his plea when brought before Judge H. Russel Holland for sentencing on an armed robbery charge.

Two men accused with Moreland—William Yoho, 51, of Dearborn, and Robert Hills, 38, of 273 Oakland Ave.—previously entered pleas of innocent and were brought to trial two weeks ago. The jury was unable to decide on a verdict and the accused are being held for a second trial.

The three men are charged with the $1,650 holdup of Food Town Market, 1200 Baldwin Ave., last August.

★ ★ ★

After Moreland changed his plea, Chief Asst. Prosecutor Robert Long said the three will be tried during the next jury term in May.

Hopeful Debate to End in Vote Today

Reapportionment Race Nears Finish Line

LANSING (UP) — Debate on legislative reapportionment, most controversial subject facing the constitutional convention, appeared to be nearing the homestretch today —and a final showdown vote.

John A. Hannah, R-East Lansing, chairman of the legislative organization committee, told newsmen he was hopeful of completing a vote before the day was out. The convention has scheduled morning, afternoon and night sessions.

Nearly eight hours of debate on a proposal for reapportionment submitted by the minority Democrats ended yesterday with an overwhelming 85-39 rejection, on a vote that mainly followed party lines.

Three Democrats broke ranks and joined the GOP in opposing the plan. They were Mrs. Katherine Cushman of Dearborn, and two Upper Peninsula delegates — William Pellow and Frank Perlich, both of Bessemer.

WEIGHTED VOTE

The defeated Democratic proposal called for a House based entirely on population and a Senate on population and area on a weighted vote principle. Each district would be entitled to at least two senators who would cast the number of votes they received in the election.

★ ★ ★

With the minority report out of the way, delegates focused their attention on the plan most likely to succeed. This was a proposal adopted by the 14 GOP members on Hannah's committee.

★ ★ ★

The republican proposal did not have the wholehearted endorsement of all GOP delegates, however. It came under blistering attack from Dr. James Pollock, R-Ann Arbor, a University of Michigan political scientist and internationally recognized authority on constitutional law.

Other Republicans also planned to offer amendments which would alter various sections of the committee proposal.

Under the plan, the Senate would be expanded immediately to 38 seats, with the four extra senators going to Wayne, Oakland, Genesee and Macomb counties.

A bipartisan eight-member commission would be assigned the task of reapportioning the Senate every 10 years, beginning with publication of the 1970 federal census figures, based roughly on a formula alloting 80 per cent to population factors and 20 per cent to geographic area.

STILL 110 MEMBERS

The House, under the GOP plan, would consist of 110 members as at present. Each county or group of counties with a population of not less than 7 per cent of the state would be entitled to at least one seat.

Pollock, labeling the plan as "gravely defective," said it was "likely to preserve or embalm the status quo or something very close to it."

Pollock said that under the mathematical formula of apportionment factors for the Senate — starting with 1970 — Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties would be penalized.

"But embarrassingly," he said, "if the precise committee formula were followed, it would also deprive Kent County of a seat it now enjoys."

Will Open Bids April 11 to Raze County Buildings

Bids to tear down two old county buildings and construct a new one will be opened April 11 by the County Board of Auditors.

Construction bids for a half-million-dollar auditorium at the County Service Center will be unsealed at 2 p.m. in the auditors' office.

At 2:30 p.m. auditors will open contractors' bids to raze the old vacant courthouse and former prosecutor's office in downtown Pontiac.

Bids on both, separate projects will be presented to the County Board of Supervisors April 16.

County officials hope to have the combined site of the old courthouse and prosecutor's office leveled by sometime in May.

SUGGESTS PARK

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, has indicated that the city might be able to use the cleared site as a park until the property is sold by the county.

Efforts to sell have produced no prospective buyers to date. Clearing the site is hoped to make it more desirable.

Construction of the auditorium is slated to begin in June, with completion expected sometime next spring. It will be used for sessions of the board of supervisors and meetings of various committees.

The 327-seat, hexagonal auditorium will be connected to the south side of the new courthouse wing now under construction.

The wing is scheduled for completion this fall. It will house many of the county offices now in the former Masonic Building at 1 Lafayette Street downtown. Plans are eventually to relocate all county offices to the service center on N. Telegraph Road.

No. 10 highway from the international border at the International-Peace Garden stretches for 500 miles to the mining town of Flin Flon.

Paper Carrier Saves Five From Burning House

TOLEDO, Ohio (UP) — An alert newspaper carrier was credited today with saving a sleeping family of five when flames broke out in their home.

Elwin Drake, 45, of Erie, Mich., a motor route man for the Toledo Times, drove past the home of Carl Gibson early today and noticed smoke coming from the roof.

Drake, who was making his newspaper deliveries, aroused Gibson and helped him get the wife, Sandra, 24, and three sons, Timothy, 3, Richard, 4, and Keith, 7, from the burning frame house.

District fire chief Francis Brennan, who credited Drake with saving the lives of the Gibson family, estimated damage in the fire at $4,000.

Reports Discrepancy in JP's Collections

LANSING (UP) — Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum says he has forwarded to the state attorney general's office a copy of a report revealing some $5,771 in unaccounted-for collections by Herbert Hall, Tekonsha Township justice of the peace.

The report, Farnum said, was the result of an audit of Hall's records for the period of June 26, 1961-March 17, 1962.

State law requires the auditor general's office to forward reports that turn up discrepancies, Farnum added.

Tekonsha Township is in southern Calhoun County.

Experts Feel Time Will Aid U.S. if We Contain Reds

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President John F. Kennedy's statement that the United States under some circumstances would not hesitate to turn a conventional war into a nuclear war is the result of a year of top-level planning at the highest government levels.

★ ★ ★

Influential men in the Pentagon, the State Department and the White House believe that if a world war can be held off and communism contained long enough, then gradually:

The Soviet Union will change from within. The growing managerial class will force reforms on the government. These changes gradually will make Russia less ready for warlike adventures.

Rifts will grow in the worldwide Communist bloc. These will grow as nationalism grows. These splits may distract the Reds. The splits, in fact, may eventually be used as a means to prevent a world war.

'NATIONALISM GROWING'

"The idea of national independence is alive within the Communist bloc . . . and it is growing," says Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

"This over-all theory is a great deal like the theory of containment first laid down by Ambassador George F. Kennan in the Truman era and followed by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in the Eisenhower years.

It implies that time is on the side of the West against the Communist world. The idea thus is to hold the line so far as possible, but not unnecessarily alarm the Soviet Union about its own security.

"How is history moving . . . are these underlying forces now working for us or against us? I would put it to you strongly that they are working our way, if we have the wit to work with them." So says Walt Whitman Rostow, chairman of the policy planning commission of the Department of State.

This revived and revised containment theory, one understands from private talks with officials in the Pentagon and State Department, is influencing basic U. S. defense policies.

ITEM — There is a steadily growing attempt to reduce in the U. S. arsenal those weapon systems that are only good for a "first strike." These are such as the Atlas missiles, so vulnerable that they could be knocked out by a Russian attack.

ALSO ON LIST

Forward strategic bomber bases overseas are in the same class. So is the B-70 bomber which can't carry enough fuel to cruise on air alert and still be able to reach the target and get back.

Some officials say that a heavy U. S. dependence on first strike weapons systems could make the Russians think the U. S. intends a preventive war. Such weapons "tend to keep everyone jittery," says one high Pentagon official.

ITEM—There is a great emphasis on controls to prevent accidental firing of the big intercontinental missiles and to insure the ability to fire the missiles even after we took a devastating attack. These new controls have been advertised so that the Russians know about them. Defense Department men say that these steps are intended to make the Russians less jittery.

ITEM—There is a continuing attempt to build up systems that can be used either as second strike or first strike weapons. "Then the Russians can't feel that we're bound to hit first, but know that we could if we wanted to," says one defense official.

This dual possibility makes military sense. It means that if the Reds did strike first, the U. S. could ride through the attack and have enough left to clobber the Russians. But it also leaves the U.S. free to strike first with ICBMS if necessary.

When might the U.S. strike first with intercontinental missiles? "If we were being over-run by Soviet conventional forces in Europe, for example," says one high Pentagon official.

MIGHT SPARK WAR

The officials who have promoted this containment policy believe Nikita Khrushchev wants mightily to avoid a general nuclear war in which Russia would be destroyed.

They think it necessary therefore to have this first strike threat. But they don't want it to be so obvious a threat that Khrushchev becomes convinced the United States will inevitably strike first. For this might trigger a war.

Measures outlined above are aimed at holding the line against a global war. But for U.S. security aims to be successful, these officials hold, the U.S. must be able to keep the Soviets from nibbling away the free world as in Cuba, South Viet Nam and Laos. The big ICBMs won't do that. Fast-moving airborne U. S. infantry units can do only a small part.

What's needed, these officials say, is a better way of helping the threatened and underdeveloped countries hold their own against the Communists. Top Pentagon and State Department tacticians say this problem is more political and economic than military.

Even when the problem is military, they say, it's usually a shortage of know-how, not a shortage of manpower. These officials therefore have pushed through this program.

1. To put more U. S. troops abroad in training units and thus expand the training of native troops and officers. Pro-West troops have lost a great many battles in the past fighting Communists, more for want of military know-how than for lack of equipment.

2. Sponsor widely the training of local armies in under-developed countries in building roads, irrigation works, schools and medical centers for the civilian populations. This program is intended to build local economies, strengthen ties between the people, their government and the army.

★ ★ ★

Keyes Stands Mute at His Arraignment

DETROIT (AP)—Former Lieutenant Governor Eugene C. Keyes was arraigned in Wayne County Circuit Court yesterday on charges of conspiring to violate state election laws.

★ ★ ★

Judge Joseph A. Sullivan entered a plea of innocent for Keyes, who stood mute. Keyes appeared in a wheel chair.

James Thomson, attorney for Keyes, asked that the indictment by a Ingham County grand jury last July be quashed. Judge Sullivan deferred ruling on the request until next Tuesday.

ARABIAN STYLE — Here's a brand new idea for baking apples. Fill the hollowed-out fruit with a creamy, spicy mixture of chicken and mushroom soup. Bake the apples slowly and serve with pride at a luncheon or at buffet supper.

Peanut Butter Flavors Simple Custard Dessert

American Indians may have been the first to use peanuts as food, but not in the form of tasty peanut butter. This major use of the goober wasn't introduced until about 1917.

Don't you wonder what, if anything, was commonly eaten with jelly before peanut butter came along? These flavorful sandwich partners are so familiar to us that it's difficult to imagine anything in place of the goober product. But, by having so much of a good thing, we've tended to forget peanut butter's good protein and food energy value, a large contribution to our daily diet.

Our servicemen let it be known that peanuts in most any form were great favorites with them. During World War II the lowly peanut was one of the foods labeled "essential."

The types of peanut butter usually found at your grocer's are the regular grind which is fine or medium and a coarse or chunky grind. Some peanut butters are ground roasted peanuts with salt. To others, stabilizers have been added to retard oil separation.

But any kind of peanut butter you like generally may be used in your favorite recipes. For a smooth texture, use a fine grind, and, for a "broken nut" effect, use a coarser grind. For an unusual treat, serve flavorful Peanut Butter Pudding.

Peanut Butter Pudding

2½ tablespoons cornstarch
⅓ cup sugar
2 cups milk
¼ cup peanut butter
2 egg yolks, beaten
2 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix cornstarch and ¼ cup sugar, adding milk. Cook over boiling water until thickened, stirring often. Blend in peanut butter; stir a little hot mixture into egg yolks, then add to rest of hot mixture and continue cooking a minute or two. Cool slightly.

Beat egg whites and salt until stiff but not dry. Add remaining sugar gradually, beating until whites are thick and glossy. Add vanilla in cooked mixture and stir into egg whites. Chill. Serves 4-6.

Vegetables Make Macaroni Different

NEW YORK (UPI)—In a hurry? You can prepare green and gold macaroni in minutes. Cook 2 cup2 (8 ounces) of elbow macaroni according to package directions. Drain.

Melt ¼ cup of butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add 1 medium-sized green pepper, seeded and cut into rings. Cook until tender.

Add ¼ cup of sugar and 6 medium-sized carrots, cooked and cut into strips. Cook 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add 1 teaspoon of salt and macaroni. Mix well. Serves 4 to 6.

Serve Trio of Toppings for Spaghetti

A new spaghetti sauce, a choice of toppings, and you can serve a spaghetti supper with interesting new flavor. The sauce is a dry mix, complete with tomato, and just needs to have water added and simmered for ten minutes. It is spicy, delicious and easy to cook.

The toppings can be almost anything your imagination creates. For a starter, here are three good ideas — crisp bacon, sauteed mushrooms, and grated parmesan cheese. Let each person choose his own topping and sprinkle it over the sauced spaghetti.

Sauced Spaghetti

1 pkg. complete spaghetti sauce mix
1 (8 oz.) pkg. dry spaghetti
6 slices bacon, fried crisp
½ cup grated parmesan cheese
¼ lb. sauteed fresh mushrooms

Cook spaghetti sauce according to package directions. Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Drain spaghetti well. Pour hot cooked sauce over spaghetti and serve with choice of toppings — bacon, cheese, mushrooms.

Makes 4 servings.

Stuffed Apples for Main Dish

Indian and Arabian cookery is full of delicious dishes in which fruit and chicken are combined. Here is one of the best Arabian dishes of this group; it is hearty enough to serve as main dish for a luncheon, or as that delicious extra dish you like to offer at buffet suppers. For these suppers, or a church supper or club party, bake the apples in large pans, and keep them warm on table hot-trays or over large candle-warmers.

Arabian Baked Apples

4 or 5 large baking apples
1½ cups diced cooked chicken
1 can (10½-oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon powdered rosemary
⅛ teaspoon powdered cloves
½ cup buttered crumbs

Cut a thin slice from stem end of apple. Do not peel. Core, being careful not to cut all the way through. Scoop out pulp, leaving shell about ½ inch thick. Chop pulp; combine with chicken, soup and seasonings. Fill apples with chicken mixture. Top with buttered crumbs.

★ ★ ★

Set stuffed apples in large casserole or deep roasting pan. Add enough water to cover bottom of pan to a depth of about 1 inch. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 40 to 45 minutes, or until apple shells are tender. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

Browned Almonds Top Off Sprouts

Give a vegetable a lift!

Brussels Sprouts Frances

1 package (10 ounces) frozen brussels sprouts
3 tablespoons butter
¼ cup blanched sliced almonds
1 teaspoon lemon juice

★ ★ ★

Cook sprouts according to package directions; drain. Mean while lightly brown almonds in melted butter, stirring almost constantly, in a small skillet; add to sprouts with lemon juice, mixing well. Makes 3 servings.

Shake Flour Around

When a recipe directs you to "flour" a cake pan, rub the bottom of the pan with shortening; dump in a tablespoon or two of flour and tap the pan, one side at a time, to distribute evenly. Turn the pan over to dump out excess flour.

Russian Voters Showing Bit of Courage

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—A magpie I know brings the following to my attention:

Radio Liberty bombards the Soviet Union with round-the-clock broadcasts in Russian and 16 other languages used in the U.S.S.R. The programs are all done by former Soviet citizens.

Lately, between jammings, they've been filling Ivan's receiving set with some pretty heady and thought-provoking fare. The big news is that apparently about 1.2-million Soviet voters opposed Khrushchev's ticket in last month's elections of the Supreme Soviet.

The broadcasts use Moscow's own strident statistics to prove the interesting point: of the 140-million eligible voters, 99.95 per cent showed up at the polls, and 99.43 per cent voted the straight ticket for seats in the upper house and 99.14 per cent went for Laughing Boy's choices in the lower house.

Bit of a landslide, by Western yardsticks. But Radio Liberty states, "The over-all total of these opposition votes has no precedent in any elections to the Supreme Soviet in the past."

The New York Commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars, recently caused to be struck a handsome medal bearing the likeness and the name of General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

Henceforth, it will be awarded annually to a citizen with an armed forces background who has distinguished himself in a nonmilitary field.

A number of names were placed in nomination, each hailed as the ideal choice for the honor. Then somebody suggested still another name, and all nominations were swiftly withdrawn.

So the Gen. Douglas MacArthur medal will be awarded this coming Saturday to Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The Paret-Griffith fight, TV's first visit to a slaughterhouse, aroused indignation in a great cross-section of the American people.

Here's a note from Stephen Kongelbeck, supervisor of engineering, the Johns Hopkins University applied physics laboratory:

"I did a considerable amount of amateur boxing in Norway and, indeed, held the Norwegian national amateur heavyweight championship. Therefore, I know very well that a boxer and particularly a professional one would know perfectly well the momentary condition of his opponent at all times during a fight.

"Therefore, I condemn Griffith for continuing to poleax his helpless opponent during the last moments of the fight. The upper half of Paret's body was outside the ring, pinned against the middle rope by Griffith's left elbow and left hip, as Griffith kept pounding his head with full wound-up and murderous right-hand blows.

It was at this point that I started screaming at the picture on my TV screen. Referee Goldstein should have stepped in sooner, not necessarily to stop the fight but to give Paret a count of eight and an opportunity to extricate himself from the ropes. Or he should have momentarily halted the fight, and called for the attending physician's advice as to Paret's condition.

"The final scenes were disgraceful to the referee, to Griffith, and to boxing in general. They should be taken as a lesson to us that the rules of boxing must be observed and probably some new rules introduced to protect the athletes from experiences such as this. If not, I predict we will see boxing, which can be such a fine sport, abolished in most states of the union."

Remember when the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap stood out like a gold thumb? Nine thoroughbred events of that magnitude already have been held this year, and 28 others are on the way. In the past 20 years, gross purse distribution has increased from a little over $15-million to better than $90-million.

Oats are up five cents a bucket.

2 Mayors Back Public Works Plan Sought by JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mayors of Detroit and Milwaukee today supported President Kennedy's proposal for a standby public works program to combat unemployment and recession.

Mayors Henry W. Maier of Milwaukee and Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit testified before the House Public Works Committee considering proposed legislation to carry out the President's program.

Before the committee are several measures, including Kennedy's proposal that he be given standby authority to launch a $2-billion emergency public works program in event of a recession and another proposal that Congress set up a $600 million capital improvement program immediately for areas of chronic unemployment.

Cavanagh, who said his city is wrestling with a bad unemployment problem, said "the most immediate method to stimulate the local economy is to authorize a speed up in both federally aided capital works projects and local capital works programs."

READY TO RIDE — This is NASA's Centaur space vehicle ready on its launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The long-delayed maiden flight of the Centaur is now scheduled for Friday. The high-energy vehicle is assigned a major role in the U. S. space program. The two-stage rocket measures 10 feet in diameter and 105 feet in length. Its second stage is powered by liquid hydrogen. It will weigh 150 tons at takeoff.

Delay Price-Fixing Trial of Three Salt Companies

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Trial of three salt companies in U.S. District Court on charges of illegal price fixing has been postponed until April 24, or until a current federal court case is completed.

The firms, named in federal grand jury indictments charging conspiracy to fix prices in restraint of trade, are Morton Sales Co., International Salt Co., and Diamond Crystal Salt Co.

The case involves sales of rock salt to state and municipal purchasers for winter highway use.

Polish Delegate Chosen to Head U.N. Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The 18-nation Economic and Social Council today elected Jerzy Michalowski of Poland its president for 1962.

The United States joined the Soviet Union in seconding India's nomination of the veteran Polish diplomat.

He was first vice president of the council last year and has served on Polish delegations to the United Nations since 1946.

Orders 6 Grades Mixed in New Orleans Schools

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright has thrown out an integration slowdown law and ordered desegregation of the first six grades of all New Orleans public schools next fall.

The sweeping order Tuesday brought from a Louisiana legislative leader promises of drastic action next month. Members of the Orleans Parish Board said they would appeal.

Token desegregation is now in effect in six scattered elementary schools in the city.

Wright's ruling came a week after Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel ordered desegregation of all Catholic parochial and private schools next fall and in the midst of a furore over excommunication threats against some leading Catholic segregationists.

In addition to speeding up desegregation, Wright's order declared the application of Louisiana's pupil placement law in New Orleans unconstitutional. He did not rule on its application in the rest of the state. Every Louisiana city operates a segregated school system.

This knocked out one of the last rear-guard actions by the Louisiana Legislature. State Sen. E. W. Gravolet said legislators may have an answer and promised drastic action, but he didn't say what that would be.

Theodore H. Shepard Jr., president of the Orleans Parish School Board, said he "almost definitely" will call a special meeting Friday to authorize an appeal.

Louis G. Riecke, a board member, said, "I'm afraid it might cause chaos in the system if we have to desegregate all those grades in September."

3 Incumbents Renamed

GREENVILLE (AP)—Three incumbents won and another was ousted in elections yesterday for four council posts at Greenville. Newcomer Jack Van Harn ousted incumbent Lester Eriksen. Re-elected were Dr. George Stuewer, Merel Peterson and Paul Irish.

Example — Astronaut John Glenn

Be Aware: There's Good News in Paper

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

DAYTON, Ohio — Murder, suicide, violence at home and on highway, bad weather — why do these make "news?"

While birth, love, courtesy at home and on highway, sunny weather, so often go ignored by the communications media?

It's such an old question, ask so often over so many years by so many gentle people, that we in the business tend to forget it. It's easier to forget it than to answer it.

But my father, who is a non-argumentative man, won't let dead dogs (and issues) lie.

The other night he telephoned a local Dayton TV newscaster and asked the allegedly naive question:

"Mr. - -, why is it that almost your entire program every night is full of stories about accidents and deaths and divorce, robberies and so on?" dad asked. "A lot of wonderful things happen in Dayton, and the papers report them, but you don't use much of that . ."

The newscaster replied in the cliche, "I'm sorry, Mr. Battelle, but that's what people want to hear."

"Do you really think so?" dad challenged. The newsman said yes, and that was that.

Father is no expert on public opinion. But the pat answer troubled him, as it's troubled so many nice people in nice communities, and when I arrived here for a visit he asked me, as a reporter, for amplification: "Why is news always bad?"

ON DEFENSIVE

I was on the defensive, immediately, for newspapers. Newspapers have the space and the time to cover both local and world news in some detail.

The world news, which is (or should be) the most important news to readers because it is current history which will shape our destinies, is given the greater "play." It is largely grim.

Not because the editors decide the grim story makes the best headlines, but because we are living in an era when most of the great life-shaping events are grim.

Good newspapers are objective and try to divide the local copy, giving appropriate coverage to the tragedies and good fortunes of their people.

If a story of violent death receives more of a play than a natural death or a birth, it mustn't be blamed necessarily on either the paper's or the people's appetite for macabre sensationalism, but rather on the very definition of "news."

Webster calls "news" the "intelligence of recent events." And as "event," says Webster, is "an occurence; esp., an occurence of some importance or . . . of a striking character.

The death of a mature person has more "importance" to more people, then, than the birth of a baby no one yet knows. And a violent death is, of course, of more "striking character" than a natural one.

TV IS LIMITED

As for the "wonderful things" that happen in a community, the good papers print them, and the poor papers deserve their particularly low-level readership.

Television is more limited, particularly on nonmetropolitan stations, and must cram as many stories as possible into a brief news slot.

I don't know why — perhaps because the medium is too young and hurried, maybe because they have a misconception of what news means— but they often turn their nightly news shows into frantic soupcons of sex, sadism and crime.

I've seen it in smaller cities all over the country (Florida makes it a specialty) — try to give all the gore of the day, and wrap it up with a cute little story for the audience to chuckle over before it is led into the sponsor's message.

Maybe the little men who compose the shows have only police radios to rely upon. Or more likely, they want to show that they can make their community news as disheartening as the guys in the big stations who have all that disheartening international news to report.

Whatever their reasons, it's poor journalism when a 10- or 15-minute local show is devoted to accidents, brawls and tragedies involving persons the community doesn't even know widely or respect. And so many of those shows are.

The American people aren't to blame for such spectacles. It is not what they "want to hear." I think the great impact of the John Glenn story proved that we are more eager for goodness than for disaster — as long as it's news.

Beauty is even more in demand than ugliness, by the people. It just takes a little more time, Mr. - -, to ferret out.

Highway Dept. to Open Bids on Jobs April 11

LANSING (AP) — Bids will be opened for nearly $16 million of construction projects April 11, announced the State Highway Department.

Among the projects is a $3.8-million project to complete the U.S. 131 West Belt freeway at Kalamazoo. The first contract on the $40-million Grand Rapids east-west freeway also will be announced.

Newsmen Will Host Kennedy, Macmillan

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and President Kennedy will be guests at a dinner to be given April 27 by the White House Correspondents Association and the White House News Photographers Association.

★ ★ ★

Macmillan is coming to this country to address the American Newspaper Publishers Association in New York April 26. He is expected to confer with Kennedy here April 28.

Adopt Dance Ordinance

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The Grand Haven City Council Monday night unanimously adopted the first dance ordinance in city history. It had been requested by tavern operators and had been opposed by several groups including the Tri-Cities Ministerial Association.

Parishioners Sponsor Rome Visit for Priest

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The Rev. Francis Branigan, pastor of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, is headed for Rome and the Holy Land on a tour to fulfill a long time wish.

★ ★ ★

The trip is sponsored by parishioners whose surprise package was presented Sunday at the celebration of Fr. Branigan's 25th anniversary as a priest.

Plans to Halt Food Aid After Negro Boycott

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—City officials have voted to withdraw Birmingham's support of a county-wide surplus food program following a Negro boycott of downtown stores.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The three city commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to withhold the city's share of the $100,000 program. Since seven months of the program have expired, the city's share for the remaining months would amount to about $18,750.

★ ★ ★

The program is supported by other communities in Jefferson County, which has a population of about 640,000.

Lemnitzer Visiting Japan

TOKYO (AP)— Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived today for a three-day visit to Japan. Lemnitzer, who is touring U.S. military installations in the Pacific and Far East, came from South Korea. He will leave for Alaska Friday.

Famous Cookbook Out in Seventh Edition

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Eight and one quarter million copies and 32 years ago, the first Better Homes & Gardens (Meredith Publishing Co., Des Moines, Ia., $3.95) cookbook was introduced to American homemakers. Now the 7th edition of the famous red and white gingham covered, loose-leaf book is in book stores.

We spent a pleasant half hour leafing through the new edition. The only reason we didn't dash at once to the kitchen to try out some of the recipes is that we were at the office.

As times, cooking procedures and food tastes have changed, so has this cookbook. You'll find chapters devoted to canning and freezing which includes a chart for thawing and using frozen foods.

There's an entire chapter on casseroles and one-dish meals, the darlings of the busy homemaker. Jiffy Cooking, Outdoor Cooking, Table Settings and Entertaining are but some of the enticing chapter titles.

The editors have kept many of the old favorites which have stood the test of three generations of cooks. But they have added many new tested recipes to the total of 1,569. The book, as were all the other editions, is ring bound.

This is a complete cookbook. The new little bride who has no experience in the kitchen will find most of her questions answered, either in the text or in the excellent black and white illustrations. From the handsome color plates she'll get ideas of what food should look like. The hints on meal planning and nutrition will keep her on the right track.

The older homemaker will find inspiration to tackle the job of feeding her family with new zest.

Tenderloin-Noodle Casserole

Cook 6 ounces (about 3 cups) noodles in boiling salted water; rinse; drain.

Slowly brown six ½-inch slices pork tenderloin on both sides in hot fat. Season with ½ teaspoon salt and dash pepper.

Make Blue-cheese Sauce: Melt 3 tablespoons butter; blend in 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour, ¾ teaspoon salt and dash pepper. Stir in 1 cup milk. Cook and stir till thick. Add ¾ cup crumbled blue cheese (3 ounces); stir 'til cheese melts.

Combine noodles, sauce and 3 tablespoons each chopped green pepper and chopped pimiento. Place in 10x6x1½-inch baking dish. Arrange meat on top. Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes or 'til done. Makes 6 servings.

Peppermint-Wafer Dessert

⅔ cup crushed peppermint stick candy
1 cup milk
Dash salt
2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1½ cups whipping cream, whipped
23 chocolate wafers

In saucepan combine candy, milk and salt. Heat over low heat, stirring frequently 'til candy dissolves. Soften gelatin in cold water; dissolve in hot mixture. Chill 'til partially set. Fold in whipped cream.

Break 7 chocolate wafers in half and stand around outside of 10x6x1½-inch baking dish. Place layer of whole wafers in bottom of dish; pour half peppermint mixture over. Repeat layers. Chill 6 hours or overnight. Sprinkle with a few chocolate wafer crumbs. Cut in squares. Makes 8 servings.

KNOW YOUR ONIONS? — Perhaps the variety of onions shown in the picture above will surprise you. All are good eating and make cooking more interesting. Spring onions and scallions are delicately flavored and a great treat in the pre-summer days. Green onions on toast with Hollandaise Sauce are delightful.

Use Funnel to Shape Even Croquettes for Baking

Meal planning during the Lenten season is always more trying for many of us than any other time in the year. So, if you must dream up a variety of meatless main courses the family will accept with gusto, you'll win high favor with wheat germ-tuna croquettes topped with sea garden sauce.

These croquettes are delightfully different in that sliced ripe olives and chopped walnuts give them a new taste-appeal and an unusual texture. The wheat germ, in the mixture and dusted on the cones for a crisp coating, adds its nut-like flavor and considerable nutritional substance. The sea garden sauce lends that tangy balance everyone enjoys with fish and sea food fare.

The croquettes are easily, neatly and firmly shaped by stuffing the mixture into an oiled kitchen funnel.

Wheaten Tuna Croquettes

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/3 cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
Few drops Tabasco
1 cup milk
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
2 cans (6½ or 7 oz.) tuna
1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup wheat germ
1/3 cup chopped walnuts
1/3 cup sliced ripe olives

Melt butter or margarine; blend in flour, salt and Tabasco. Add milk; cook and stir until smooth and thickened. Add a little of this mixture to beaten egg yolk; blend; add to remaining mixture. Stir in remaining ingredients; chill. Shape into 4 to 6 croquettes. Dust with additional wheat germ. Bake in very hot oven, 525 degrees, about 10 minutes.

Sea Garden Sauce

1 clove garlic, grated
3 tablespoons finely chopped anchovies, or anchovy paste
¼ cup finely chopped chives or green onions
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons tarragon wine vinegar
½ cup dairy sour cream
1 cup mayonnaise
1/3 cup finely chopped parsley
Salt and coarse black pepper

Combine in order given. Makes about 1 pint.

Banana Rolls Suggest Charm of New Orleans

In many of the courtyards of the French Quarter in New Orleans banana trees are used for decorative purposes. While the fruit doesn't always mature, their presence suggests a recipe. It's Banana Ham Rolls.

Serve these as a first course before bringing on bowls of steaming, fragrant French Onion Soup topped with cheese croutons. For a final course, serve chocolate frosted doughnuts and coffee.

Spread thin slices of cooked ham with catsup. Wrap firm bananas with ham slices; secure with toothpicks. Place on broiler pan; brush with catsup. Broil 6-10 minutes or until hot and brown; turn and brush with catsup frequently.

★ ★ ★

French Onion Soup

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 cups thinly sliced onions
2 cans (10½ ounces) condensed consumme, diluted with equal quantity of water
1½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Saute onions in butter over low heat until golden brown. Add consomme and seasonings. Simmer 30 minutes. Serve piping hot with cheese croutons. Makes 4 servings.

★ ★ ★

Cheese Croutons

2 slices white bread, crusts removed
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Cube bread; toss in butter, then cheese, coating each piece well. Place on baking sheet and bake 10 minutes or until toasted. Turn off oven; leave bread in oven until crisp and dry, but not burned.

Put Winter Fruit Into Lemon Mold

Bring a touch of sunshine to a dreary winter's day by serving "Sunshine Salad Mold." California avocados add eye and taste appeal to a molded salad made with lemon gelatin, grapefruit, oranges, lemon juice and a dash of aromatic bitters. Avocados are right at home in salad molds as well as in tossed salads.

Now that there is a bountiful, reasonably-priced supply of California avocados in local markets, get several at a time. For something really different, add avocado cubes to hot tomato soup. You're in for a surprise treat.

Sunshine Salad Mold

1 package (3 oz.) lemon gelatin
1¾ cups boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
Few drops aromatic bitters
2 medium size grapefruit
2 medium size oranges
1 avocado
Lettuce leaves.

Dissolve gelatin in water; add lemon juice, salt and bitters. Chill until mixture mounds on a spoon; pour 1 cup mixture into 2-quart ring mold. Pare and section grapefruit and oranges. Cut avocado lengthwise into halves; remove seed and skin. Cut avocado into slices.

Arrange alternate sections of grapefruit and oranges and avocado slices in mold; add remaining gelatin mixture. Chill until set. Unmold on lettuce leaves. Makes 6 servings.

Pats of Lemon Butter

Glamorize broiled salmon steaks or other fish with the addition of fresh lemon butter pats. Cream ½ cup butter or margarine until soft; gradually stir in ½ cup fresh lemon juice until well blended. Add 1 teaspoon seasoned salt, ¼ cup chopped onion and pepper to taste, mixing well.

Shape into a roll and wrap in waxed paper; chill. Cut in slices and place on broiled fish 1 minute before fish is done. Makes enough for 12 servings.

Two Cheeses Make Salad a Treat

A lunch box salad of bland cottage cheese and peppery American blue cheese are just the mealtime ticket to add strength-giving protein to school lunches. Include the salad along with a sandwich.

The following is given flavor plus with leftover, crisp bacon from breakfast.

To make 2 cups of the salad, blend together lightly 1 cup cream style cottage cheese, ½ cup coarsely crumbled American blue cheese, and 4 clices crumbled, crisp bacon. Fold in 1 teaspoon grated onion and ¼ cup sliced celery.

Spoon salad into individual paper or plastic cups and cover tightly with foil or saran wrap Enough for 2 salads.

Spring Onions Make Main Part of Meal

Chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have developed a simple new technique which determines just how oniony an onion is. Samples of juice from 25 different varieties of onions turn reagents in test tubes pink, pinker, pinkest, depending on individual odor-flavor. This shows that a real peppy, potent onion has four times as much zing as a mild, sweet onion. In other words, there's an onion for every purpose.

Three-quarters of the 1,800,000,000 pounds of dry onions consumed every year in the U.S.A. are of the familiar yellow varieties. The remainder are white, red and brown. Commercially, dry onions are classified into types for pickling, boiling, chopping and slicing.

As every good cook knows, the small white onions are particularly delicious as a vegetable in a cream sauce. For salads and sandwiches there are big juicy sweet Spanish onions. Any medium-sized onion of pronounced flavor is best for chopping. So much for dry onions.

Green onions (often called "spring onions") are regular onions harvested when their bulbs have reached a diameter of about ¼ inch.

Scallions are also members of the onion family, being shoots from the white onion varieties and pulled before any bulb has formed.

The delicate shallot, mentioned so often in French recipes, can be distinguished by its bulbs which are made up of cloves like garlic. Unlike garlic, the individual cloves are not encircled by membrane. It is possible to obtain green shallots about the middle of October through May. Bulbs of shallots are cured, too, and marketed in dry form.

Leeks, too, are great favorites with the epicure. They are much milder than green onions and a delicious ingredient in soups and stews. As a vegetable, they may be prepared in any way that asparagus is served.

From the test kitchens of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association come these recipes for delicious dishes in which onions are an important ingredient.

Green Onions on Toast

6 bunches green onions
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons hot water
1 teaspoon salt
Hollandaise Sauce

Wash onions, trim off roots and coarse green tops, leaving 3 to 4-inches attached. Place in a 10-inch skillet along with butter or margarine, hot water and salt. Cover and steam 4 to 5 minutes or until onions are tender. (They must be crisp-tender and not cooked too long.) Serve on buttered toast with Hollandaise Sauce. Yield: 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Hollandaise Sauce

¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice
3 egg yolks, well beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash cayenne

Divide butter into 3 parts. Put 1 piece in top of a small double boiler. Add lemon juice and egg yolks. Cook slowly over hot water (not boiling), beating constantly with a wire whisk or beater.

Add the second piece of butter and as the mixture thickens, add the third piece, stirring constantly. (The water in bottom of double boiler must not boil.) Add salt. (If margarine is used, omit salt.) Add cayenne to taste. Serve hot. Yield: 1¼ cups.

Red Onion Salad

3 cups (about 3 medium sliced red onions)
½ cup chopped fresh parsley
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
3 tablespoons olive or salad oil
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper

Soak onions in ice water until they are very crisp, 3 to 4 hours. Do not add salt. Drain well and put in a bowl. Sprinkle with chopped fresh parsley. Mix together vinegar, oil, salt and black pepper. Beat with a rotary beater. Pour over onions. Serve cold. Yield: 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Onion Chowder

3 cups sliced yellow onions
1 clove fresh garlic
3 tablespoons bacon drippings
½ cup finely chopped celery
1 cup water
2 teaspoons salt
3 cups milk
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
4 soda crackers, crumbled
4 strips crisp bacon, crumbled

Saute onions and garlic in bacon drippings. Add celery, water and salt. Cover and cook until vegetables are tender, 10 minutes. Add milk, and black pepper. Heat to boiling point. (Do not boil). Add soda crackers. Mix well. Serve hot with crisp bacon crumbled over top. Yield: Approximately 6 cups.

★ ★ ★

Onion and Apple Salad

2 medium-large red eating apples
2 medium-size onions
Head lettuce
Salt
French dressing

Wash apples. Do not peel. Cut in halves and remove cores. Cut each half in thin slices. Peel onions and cut into thin slices. Arrange apples and onion slices as desired on beds of crisp lettuce. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Serve with French dressing. Yield: 6 servings.

Pour Custard Over Prunes and Pecan Bits

Pecan Prune Custard

1 cup drained cooked prunes (pitted and chopped)
1/3 cup coarsely chopped pecans
2 tablespoons flour
¾ cup milk
½ cup heavy cream
2 eggs
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla

Put prunes and pecans in bottom of 6 custard cups. Stir the milk, a little at a time, into the flour so mixture is smooth; stir in cream.

Beat eggs slightly; add sugar and vanilla; add milk mixture; beat just to combine. Pour into prepared custard cups set in a pan of hot water; have water come almost to level of custard mixture.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until set when knife is inserted in center — about 35 minutes. Place cups in cold water to cool; chill. Serve in custard cups.

Egg and Ham Casserole Has Crunchy Topping

Combine chopped hard-cooked eggs, diced celery, ground ham and chopped pecans with a suggestion of minced onion and snipped parsley in salt-and-pepper-seasoned mayonnaise. Toss together lightly and portion into large baking dish.

Sprinkle generously with crushed potato chips and grated cheddar cheese (sharp-flavored). Bake at 350 degrees about 25-30 minutes until cheese is bubbly.

Chicken and Cheese Make a Sandwich

Open Chicken Sandwiches

2 cups finely diced cooked chicken
1½ cups finely diced celery
1-3 cup lightly drained sweet pickle relish
2-3 cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon white pepper
¾ cup medium-grated white cheddar cheese
6 to 8 slices bread
Garnishes

Mix together the chicken, celery, pickle relish, mayonnaise, salt and pepper. At serving time, toast bread lightly; spread with chicken filling so edges of bread are covered. Sprinkle with cheese. Broil until hot and cheese is melted.

Garnish as desired — with watercress, olives, or radishes. Makes 3 to 4 servings — 2 slices per portion.

Lenten Kabobs Combine Shrimp, Brussels Sprouts

NEW YORK (UPI) — Brussels sprout and shrimp skewers make an oriental-inspired main dish. Place 2 (10 ounce) packages of frozen Brussels sprouts and 1 pound of fresh or frozen shrimp, shelled and deveined, in a large, shallow bowl. Cover with marinade of ½ cup of soy sauce, ¼ cup of honey, 2 tablespoons of sake. Japanese rice wine, or same amount of a dry white wine or wine vinegar, and 1 crushed garlic clove. Chill 2 hours, turning occasionally. Drain.

Arrange on skewers. Broil 3 to 5 inches from heat source 2 to 3 minutes per side, or until tender. Serves 4 to 6.

Film Designer Edith Head Says:

Oscar to Upstage Great Fashion Show

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — The greatest fashion show in the world will be seen on Monday evening, according to famed costume designer Edith Head.

This glimpse of the latest in feminine styles will be only a secondary attraction on that evening, however, since it forms a part of the glamorous 90 or more minutes of entertainment and suspense making up the Oscar Awards Show of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Miss Head, who is serving as the show's costume consultant for the tenth consecutive year, points out that women viewing the telecast of the 34th annual presentation will be seeing a parade of clothes that will easily surpass any Paris opening.

"This will be a truly international fashion show," Miss Head explains, "for the clothes the audience will see that night will represent a cross-section of the latest creations by the great designers of Europe, New York and Hollywood. And nowhere else in the world could anyone see such glamorous models, every one a star."

Among the "models" who will be there, as presenters or performers, are Polly Bergen, Cyd Charisse, Joan Crawford, Dorothy Dandridge, Gogi Grant, Glynis Johns, Shirley Jones, Shirley Knight, Dina Merrill, Ann-Margaret, Debbie Reynolds, Rosalind Russell, Lee Remick, Eva Marie Saint, Shelley Winters and Joanne Woodward.

The petite, black-haired dress designer, winner of seven Oscars, says the awards telecast has become a "must" for fashion-conscious women the country over.

"Relatively few women ever have a chance to see fashion shows in the world's great fashion centers, such as New York, Paris, London, Madrid and Hollywood," she declares. "But Oscar night is the one night of the year that they can see the latest and best in styles."

Miss Head has passed out two key suggestions to actresses concerning the gowns they wear for the stage on April 9. They should wear full-length evening dress and the cut of the gown should not invite censorship by being too revealing.

"We seek formality since Oscar night is Hollywood's most formal occasion," Miss Head states.

"Full-length gowns add dignity and help maintain a look of over-all continuity throughout the show. We must remember that each presenter of an award has to walk the full length of the stage, so it is obvious that skirts should be 'easy'—whether slim, full or draped—in which the wearer is able to walk with grace rather than hobbling or slithering."

★ ★ ★

"We advise against too much jewelry because lights pick up the glitter and distract from the wearer," she continues. "And, since the television cameras will be picking up long shots of the women, the over-all dress line should be appealing to the eye."

Might Like Clothes of Deceased

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My mother passed away three weeks ago and I am beginning to dispose of her personal belongings. In looking over her wardrobe I found several dresses and two coats that are practically new.

I would like to know if it would be proper to offer these clothes to a close friend of my mother's, who is a widow and whose wardrobe is very limited.

I know my mother would have wanted her to have them, but I don't want to do anything that could possibly offend this friend. Will you please give me your opinion on this matter?

A: By all means offer these clothes to your mother's friend. It certainly will please her to receive them and to know that you think she was so close to your mother that you wish her to have them.

Q: My sister introduced me to a friend of hers the other day and I acknowledged the introduction with "pleased to meet you." Later my sister told me that I was wrong to have said this and that "how do you do" is the correct reply to make to an introduction. I think "how do you do" sounds very stiff and unfriendly. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: The phrase "pleased to meet you" is not good form. To someone you have heard about, you may very well say, "I am so glad to meet you, Mary has told me so much about you," or anything similar. In general, the correct phrase is "how do you do."

A LOST FRAT PIN

Q: My boy friend gave me his fraternity pin to wear. One night after returning home from a date I discovered that the pin was gone. I had it pinned on my dress but it became loose in some way. I looked everywhere for it but was unable to find it. I am quite upset over this and would like to know what I should do about it. Am I obliged to replace it?

A: Tell him that you have lost his fraternity pin and that if he will order a new one, you will gladly pay for it.

Details for announcing the engagement are described in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Announcing the Engagement." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Pontiac Press.

A May wedding is planned.

She'll Have to See, Abby Says

You Can't Change Her

DEAR ABBY: First I'll tell you about me. Then her. Then him. I am considered a pretty stable guy. I am 33, own my own business, have a car, a boat, and money in the bank. And I am helplessly in love. She is in her twenties. Beautiful, intelligent and goofy about another guy. He is a good-looking, penniless, drunken bum. She has me call him in bars all over town, because she's afraid he won't answer if it's a woman's voice. She admits she picks up the tab when she's with him. I met this bum, and can see right through him. Why can't she? I would marry this girl in a minute, but she thinks of me as a Big Brother. She is the most beautiful creature on this earth. I want to scream in frustration and kill that bum. Should I lay it on the line to her and make her see that he doesn't want her, but I do?

★ ★ ★

DEAR DAVID: You could "lay it on the line," but that wouldn't change her feelings for you—or the "bum." When a woman is "in love" with a character she knows to be worthless, she isn't thinking—she is feeling—so she has no use for logic. If she comes to her senses on her own, you might have a chance. But you can't kill love. It has to die by itself.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What would you have done if you were a boy and you took a girl to a formal and this girl you took was very pretty except for a lot of freckles on her back? And during the evening you noticed your white jacket was all full of orange stuff which turned out to be the make-up this girl covered her back with to hide her freckles?

ALL MESSED UP

DEAR ALL: I would have my jacket cleaned and forget it.

DEAR ABBY: I am a working wife. My husband works a different shift than I and this is giving me a problem. He comes to where I work and hangs around until I get fired. This has happened to me three times and I don't want to lose the job I now have. I have told him not to call for me "early" or else to wait in the car, but he doesn't pay any attention to me. Have you any suggestions?

Fashionettes See Edison Program

Electric living adviser Jean Hardy from the Detroit Edison Co. was guest demonstrator for the Fashionette Club at Adah Shelly Library, Tuesday evening.

Members watched the speaker prepare low calorie foods in an electric blender.

Trophy for the most weight lost during the week was awarded to Mrs. Nova Sickels. New members received into the group were Mrs. King Stetler, Mrs. George Rose and Mrs. Sickels.

Program chairman Mrs. Bert Hillock announced the April 17 hat making meeting. Next week's meeting is centered around "Gym Night" when exercises will be held.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, Fashionette Club invites any interested women to attend the weekly meetings at the Adah Shelly Library 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays.

It's Somali leopard for spring in designer Ben Kahn's "Cobbler's Apron." Offering casual coverage for suits and dresses, the wrap has blouson back and is tightly banded at the waist. The long front panels cinch at the waist and are styled with deep patch pockets.

Club Plans Party for Children

As a fund-raising project members of the Philia Theta Club will sponsor a "Milky the Clown" party at 7 p.m. Friday in Pontiac Northern High School.

Cochairmen Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Donald Ostrander arranged for the Detroit television clown's appearance. Committee workers are Mrs. Lowell Satterlee, Mrs. Robert Laity and Mrs. Larry Hollister.

Two hundred tickets are available for the performance at which favors will be given children attending.

Proceeds will benefit the group's charity projects.

Research Is Essential in Fight Against Cancer

(Editor's Note—How does one face life when the doctor announces a member of your family has cancer? Oregon's Sen. Maurine Neuberger, who discovered she had cancer after her husband, also a cancer victim, died of a cerebral hemorrhage, describes her reaction in the following dispatch, the last of three written by her in connection with this month's National Cancer Crusade.)

By SEN. MAURINE NEUBERGER
(Written for United Press International)

No matter how much you study French, you are not going to feel that it is your language until you use it and are dependent on it in a world where English is not spoken. No matter how much you read about swim strokes, you are not going to jump into the pool and race to the other end the first time.

No matter how sorry you are for the neighbor whose wife died from a breast cancer, you can never appreciate the grief and agony of that family until the day it comes to your house.

And there was a day when it came to mine.

My husband had always taken me into his confidence in any plans that affected us both. He had always consulted with me as he prepared some new legislation or talked over with me the strategy he would use in his debate on the Senate floor.

I knew that he was impressed

MRS. MAURINE NEUBERGER

by the many great scientists he had met as they came before his Senate committees and he was won over to the cause of medical research, and the need for government assistance.

★ ★ ★

He often used the phrase "people cannot go to the drugstore and buy their own cancer research." We know that people must rely upon taxes paid to support government sponsored organizations such as the National Cancer Institute, or contributions to private groups such as the American Cancer Society. No other single group has been so effective as the society in awakening the nation to the value of the cancer research program, and to give that ray of hope that this is not always a fatal disease.

VISIT CENTER

We both realized that we were reading more and more about the national institutes which our government supports, but we didn't know where they were nor had we made any attempts to arrange a visit. I was interested in the institutes of mental health and heart disease, as well as cancer, so we made an appointment and drove out to the beautiful campus-like setting of National Institute of Health in the Maryland countryside.

It was a Sunday afternoon, and the devoted doctors were foregoing their leisure time at home to show a United States senator the work they were dedicated to.

Near the end of that memorable day, we descended floors beneath the ground level of the long brick clinic, and were ushered into the lead-encased rooms where the cobalt bomb hung suspended over a traditional looking examining table.

Little did I know standing there listening to the technician describing the death-dealing mineral which saves lives, that in a few months my husband would be lying on just such a table under just such a ray as an attempt was made to stop the spreading cancer that had been discovered too late.

For a year and a half, it looked as if the combined efforts of medical science and a determined patient would win. During that period my husband, a professional writer, spoke to many groups, continued his Senate duties, but turned most of all to his brilliant pen to put on paper the way he felt and reacted to his treatment, and the awareness that he, too, had become a victim.

Writing in Harper's Magazine in 1959, he said, "Hope lives by example, and I think one of my main sources of strength during a long period of anxiety was to meet other men who had suffered the same malignancy and gone on to full recoveries. I read at least a dozen times a letter from a talented Portland doctor my age, who was teaching in the medical school at Jakarta on the Indonesian island of Java. 'Eight years ago, I traveled the same path you are traveling now,' he wrote. This kind of encouragement to a cancer patient can never be measured."

That doctor is living. My husband is dead. This is the way the bell tolls for thee.

Need to Differ Shows Little Independence

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Our only daughter is marrying a fellow student at her university this June. Last Christmas when she told us this, she said she wasn't ready to make wedding plans.

Now we are told that she wants a civil ceremony with no family or friends present. We are not even to send out announcements. What kind of an attitude is this? Her father and I don't believe that she really loves this boy . . .

Answer: If we are parents who cherish church weddings, our adolescent children may scorn them, not because they hate organ music, white satin and the presence of people who love them, but because Difference from us is their overwhelming interest.

It's a difficult opposition to take unless we can see it for what it probably is — a kind of reversed dependence on us. Then a daughter's scorn of the church wedding we want her to have becomes pathetic instead of hurtful.

★ ★ ★

We see that the child who believes herself to be proving "independence" actually has very little. We see the need for Difference denies her any real freedom to choose and that she's GOT to pick the civil ceremony because it is not the one we want.

OFFER CHOICE

Sometimes we can put this idea to the "independent" child, saying, "For goodness' sake, church weddings don't belong to us. We didn't invent them. They're not our private property. If you want one, take one instead of feeling obliged to despise them because we like them."

And sometimes we can't. We can't open the young eyes to the way decisions are made by the adolescent need for Difference. We have to stop pushing — and wait for our still dependent youngster to discover that he doesn't have to deny himself the kinds of weddings, careers and friends he wants simply because we happen to approve them, too.

If you can now wait without criticism or complaining, your daughter won't have to intensify her Difference from you. But if you push at this choice of hers, she'll have to push back, and maintain that decision for the civil ceremony to prove that she's outgrown submission to you.

★ ★ ★

We all know adults who have to say "no" to any proposal made by somebody else. Emotionally, they are adolescents. Nearly always, they are the children of criticizing, complaining, pushing parents who, by always forcing agreement on them, equated it forever with submission.

★ ★ ★

As a result, the poor things can't even agree that the sun is shining. If we say, "It's a lovely day, isn't it?" they have to begin to argue with us lest their agreement appear to be submission to us.

Have You Tried This?

Two Dozen Cup Cakes Result of This Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Running out of ideas for dessert in the children's lunch boxes? Perhaps this recipe for easy-to-make chocolate cup cakes may help.

Mrs. B. J. Bernor of Clarkston is our cook today. She didn't include any information about herself with her recipe. But we know she likes to cook.

CHOCOLATE CUP CAKES
By Mrs. B. J. Bernor

½ cup cocoa
1 cup boiling water
½ cup vegetable shortening
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs

Mix until smooth cocoa and boiling water. Add vegetable shortening and let cool to lukewarm.

Sift together dry ingredients and add to cooled cocoa mixture. Beat for 2 minutes. Scrape sides and bottom of bowl frequently. Add 2 unbeaten eggs. Continue beating another 2 minutes.

Pour into 24 paper muffin cups set in cupcake pans, or into well greased pans. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 400 degrees. Watch carefully after 15 minutes, as these burn easily.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

This week's winner of a Tailor Trix pressing board is Mrs. Richard Jerman, Cleveland, Ohio, who sent this suggestion, "How to keep your patience and still iron a 'perfect' puffed sleeve. After finishing the lower edge of puffed sleeves with a bias fold, I run a narrow or round strip of elastic through the casing and fasten the ends together with a tiny safety pin.

"This can easily be removed when washing dress and the sleeves can then be ironed flat. A casing can also be used instead, when the gathers are placed about 1 inch above the hem. Use a strip of bias tape and proceed the same. You'll never complain about puffed sleeves again."

USE CARDIGAN NECKLINE

"Dear Eunice,

"I would like to make a reversible jacket but don't know how to keep the wrong side of the material from showing at the hem. Would appreciate your help." Mrs. M.R.

When choosing a pattern for a reversible jacket or coat, remember not to choose one with a collar or lapels. The collar will never roll nicely both ways. Choose a simple pattern that has a cardigan neckline. It is best to choose two fabrics that are about the same weight.

Be sure when you turn the faced edges that the seamline is on the exact edge. After all edges have been carefully pressed, it would help to top-stitch with your machine, about ½ inch from the finished edges. This can also be done at the hem-line and will prevent either side from showing.

FIND PATTERN BOOK

"Dear Mrs. Farmer,

"Could you please send me instructions on how to 'smock' children's dresses?" Mrs. E.F.

Dear Mrs. E.F.:

I am sorry, but I do not have such instructions available. I think you will find some of these patterns with instructions in any art needlework pattern book. Also, a few children's patterns include the stamped pattern and instructions.

WHERE'S THE WAISTLINE?

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"How do you determine the place where the waistline should be on a small girl whose tummy still sticks out, baby-fashion? Obviously I need to measure the child herself, but after I do discover her correct waistline, how do I compare this figure with the pattern measurement? Can you help me? My girls all run to round tummies, and I hate to wait until they reach mid-childhood to have their clothes fit correctly." Mrs. R.H.B.

Since it would be difficult to tie a string around their waists to determine the correct waistline, the only other suggestion I can give is to use the place where the elastic from their panties come.

Now measure from the shoulder (between the neck and the armhole) down to the elastic waistband. Do the same in the back. You will find that if you allow a little extra ease, they will be able to wear their clothes a little longer.

One of the best suggestions for making little girls dresses longer, is to make a fold or tuck just above the waistline so that you can lengthen the dresses at this point as well as at the hem.

USE INTERFACING

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:

"How can I keep the gripper-snaps from tearing out of children's garments?" Mrs. H.E.T.

You are probably using them without an inter-facing or extra piece of fabric between the outer piece of fabric and the facing. If press-on tape will not show through your fabric, you may use this instead. Once a gripper-snap has torn part way out, it is impossible to remove it and put it in again.

Please send me your questions. Remember, your questions are shared by many women from coast to coast. Questions of the most general interest will be answered in this column, they cannot be answered personally. If you would like Eunice Farmers "Buttonhole" leaflet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press.

Watch Out for Deficiency

Minerals in Varied Diet

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We hear a great deal about vitamins in the diet, but not so much about minerals. However, the body requires a number of minerals in order to function properly.

If you eat a well-balanced diet you probably have no worries on this score but it is wise to check up on your mineral intake once in a while.

Calcium, iron and iodine are the three minerals most likely to be deficient in the diet, and if you get an adequate amount of these in a varied diet you can usually forget the other minerals. They will come along also.

FOR BONES

Calcium is needed for the bones and teeth. It also helps regulate the heart beat, and is essential in blood clotting. A calcium deficiency may also cause irritability of the muscles. In order to properly utilize calcium, the body must have vitamin D. Milk is the best calcium source.

Iron deficiency causes anemia. There are many kinds of anemia and many causes, but the most usual is a deficiency of iron in the diet. Green vegetables, egg yolk, lean meat and liver are rich sources and should be eaten regularly.

You need a very small amount of iodine, but this minute amount is essential to the health of the thyroid gland. Seafoods and iodized salt are reliable sources. Those who live inland and eat vegetables which are grown inland are most susceptible to this deficiency.

So, if you do not wish to make a real study of minerals, see that you have enough calcium, iron and iodine from the sources mentioned.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. Ask for leaflet No. 38.

It is imperative that your body have enough calcium—a calcium deficiency even can cause irritability—and the best calcium source is milk.

Secret for Husbands: Be Boss, but Loving

By RUTH MILLETT

In a talk called "Especially for Men about Women," a psychiatrist recently gave men as good advice as they will ever get on how to get along with a wife.

"Simply love her and love her, and love her," said the psychiatrist. "A woman scorned is the most dangerous critter this side of an irritated water buffalo, but a woman loved is the most docile, efficient, hardworking creature you can find."

Lest any husband construe that "love her and love her, and love her" to mean "let her have her own way in everything," the psychiatrist made it clear that the man should be the head of the family.

"Love her, but stay in command. Boss her, but do it in a loving way."

There in a very few words is actually all any husband needs to know about how to have a happy marriage — be loving, but be boss.

No woman can resist that combination — because no woman really wants to. A wife will do her best to "get even" with a husband who rules the roost like a dictator because there is nothing loving about that kind of bossiness.

And a woman will run over a man who is loving without being strong enough to assume his rightful place as head of the family, for women don't respect love without strength and leadership.

But when a man is both a loving husband and the firm head of his house, his wife is happy with her lot and eager to make her husband as happy as she is.

Furthermore, as the psychiatrist pointed out, a woman with a husband who is both loving and boss will be a "docile, efficient, hardworking" helpmate.

Young husbands, please take note. If you know this much about women and marriage you will never have to complain that you just can't understand women. That's about all there is to understand about them — so far as a man is concerned.

Summer Takes a Bright Bead

Finds School Taxes Pay Off in Income

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — A Stanford University professor has found that states which support public education strongly through tax alocation find it pays off.

H. Thomas James, associate professor of education, made the observation after a 15-months' survey of school-taxing procedures in California, New Jersey, Nebraska, Washington and Wisconsin.

"A high correlation was found to exist," he reported, "between expenditures for education in one period and personal income payments a quarter of a century later."

Great Lakes Ice Breaking Up; Ships Moving

DETROIT (UPI)—High temperatures last week have eaten away much of the ice that covered the Great Lakes, the U.S. Weather reau here said yesterday.

In its weekly ice condition report, the weather bureau said ice breakers penetrated Green Bay, Wis., to Escanaba, and a Canadian icebreaker has been through the lower St. Mary's River.

Navigation was being carried on between Detroit and Alpena with fields of drifting brash ice in Lake Huron not obstructing the traffic.

Melon-Sized Cukes Put Texas to Shame

LEESVILLE, La. (UPI)—Texas isn't the only place where things grow big. Take a look in the back yard of a Leesville home where Mrs. Calvin Jones has her vegetable garden.

Her cucumbers this year averaged over a foot in length and many reached almost 2 feet. Mrs. Jones said she had four vines and they kept six families in fresh and pickling cucumbers.

"The neighbors didn't take them home in a basket either," she said. "They stacked them in their arms like stovewood."

Light Jet Bomber Dubs as a 'Missile'

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—The most economical "missile" in the U.S. Air Force arsenal these days is a light jet bomber.

The Air Force has modified a B57 to double as a TM76A Mace Missile for ground crew training. The plane's nose has been fitted with the Mace guidance system so that ground controls guide it throughout flight. The difference: a human pilot gets it off the ground, has a free ride during the test and then brings it back, to fly again another day.

How do you measure 30 years?

Our golfing friends can tell you.
Ever since names like Jones and Hagen were hot topics around the locker room, we at Osmun's have sent men out to the links looking their best. In those three decades we shared many a story and thrill with them . . . bravo-ing the birdies and bemoaning the bogies.

And we learned, first hand, what kind of clothing golfers prefer. That's why you can rely on each and every one of the famous brand names we recommend for the game. (A few old-timers tell us they actually seem to do better in one of our golf jackets, slacks, etc.)

Which brings us to the shirt in our picture.
It's called "Mr. Golf" . . . it's made by Arrow . . . and we recommend it without hesitation. Why? It was obviously designed by someone who has swung a club or two: "Mr. Golf" gives you room where you need room, and hugs you handsomely everywhere else. And pro, duffer, or watcher, you can't beat the casual good looks.

Trust Arrow to assure complete satisfaction. This fine sport knit is fully wash and wearable and comes in plenty of good looking colors. Of course, we won't say your score will go down with "Mr. Golf", but we are sure you'll feel better wearing it. We ought to know.

Hollow Mountain to Hide N. America's Command Post

By BOYD LEWIS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (NEA) I've just been inside the hollow mountain, the world's toughest bomb shelter.

It's grim, granite Cheyenne Mountain, which towers 9,440 feet above the Colorado plains, out where the Rockies begin.

Here, in the eerie glare of floodlights, amid dust muck and fragmented granite, in the acrid smell of explosives hel-out a great vaulted nerve cen-meted workmen are carving out a great vaulted nerve center for the North American Air Defense Command.

When this installation is complete in 1965, NORAD will be capable of operating from a three-story command post designed to withstand all but an unlikely direct hit from an H-bomb.

The ceiling will be 800 to 2,500 feet of solid granite. The steel framework and delicate computers will be insulated against shock. Air piped to the personnel of 350 to 700 will be filtered against chemical biological and radiological dangers.

While individuals debate construction of inexpensive basement and back-yard fallout shelters, the government has gone all out on this $66-million shelter for the eyes, ears and brains of U.S.-Canadian air defenses.

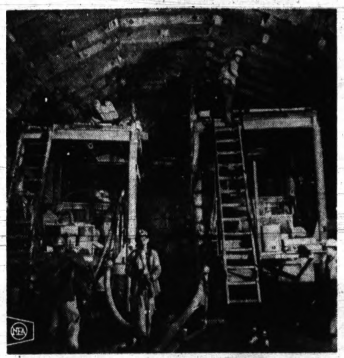
Meanwhile, as an incentive to the diplomats to keep on talking it's well to realize that those eyes, ears and brains now sit out on an open prairie on the out-skirts of Colorado Springs in a building which could be knocked out with a bazooka.

And that this will be true for three more years! However, in the event the Colorado Springs blockhouse is knocked out the battle is not lost.

Automatically an alternate command post, location classified, takes over the operation. The commander at the alternate is listening continuously to all data handled at Colorado Springs.

The shift from one command post to another is exercised continuously. The alternate command post is described as "the best second team available."

A 20-minute automobile ride from the present site at Ent Air Force Base brings you to the hollow mountain. There's little visible from the outside to show the feverish activity of the human moles inside the timbered entrances.



CHEWING AWAY — Machines resembling dinosaurs chew away at the face of granite Cheyenne Mountain as crews work to complete the three-story command post for NORAD which will withstand all but an unlikely hit from an H-bomb.

You drive up a winding dirt road, past a guard post and park near a cluster of work shacks. Here you don rubber shoes, coveralls and a plastic helmet bearing the castle crest of Army Engineers and the Green Cross of Safety.

With engineers as guides you plunge into a mouth in the mountainsides, carved at the 7,000-foot level.

If you expect to feel claustrophobia in the tunnels you're quickly surprised. As you slog through slime up the long approach tunnel you realize that two giant trailer trucks could move with you side by side without scratching their paint.

The ceiling is arched like a cathedral but the scene is more like the Inferno. As you lose daylight around the first bend, you see huge machines and other helmeted men busy in the half-light.

Along the walls are a jumble of pipes, cables and water storage tanks. Deep inside, workers have struck water, which some day might be a blessing.

Farther on you hear a sudden boom, followed by a heavy rumble. The earth trembles for a few moments. Then pressure builds on your eardrums.

The "moles" have just bitten out another chunk of old Cheyenne's granite. Giant earth movers waddle down the dusty tunnel on wide rubber tires, toting the rock outside.

Although work was only begun in earnest in May 1961, the tunnels are well along. Diggers chewed in simultaneously from north and south. And a measure of their accuracy is that they met inside the mountain only a half-inch off!

The tunnel widens into a vaulted chamber which will house a power plant three stories high.

The tall captain of Army Engineers with you explains that the working passages which will branch out from here also will be on three levels. The normal complement of 350 will be swelled to 700 in time of critical alert.

Finally after clambering up and down jagged rock cliffs and splashing through dank passages redolent of explosives, you come to the major digging areas.

This is an almost hellish spot. Light streaks through clouds of rock dust which workmen quickly hose down to prevent combustion.

The machines resemble great dinosaurs munching away at the face of the mountain. Your companion shouts directly into your ear but you can't catch a single syllable.

What of the "moles," the men who work here in the employ of the contractor?

They're a husky lot for the most part, although I saw one midget who looked almost small enough to crawl into a drill hole with the dynamite.

Many of them have had no previous experience as miners but were trained here to work with the expert dynamiters and construction men. They draw standard pay for hard rock miners, $2.75 per hour for laborers to $3.50 for operators of heavy equipment.

Their tunnel pallor is smirched with mud. Like diggers everywhere they need an hour in the tub at the end of their work day.

As you head back for the surface you meet the night shift coming up the eternal night of the access tunnel. They carry lunches in paper bags or tin boxes, as nonchalant as ditch diggers in Denver.

At last—a welcome sight, sunshine streaming through the tunnel mouth. Sunlight never looked sunnier. Fresh air never smelled fresher. Earth's surface never seemed a nicer place to dwell.

"I suppose you could call this pretty fantastic if you wanted to sensationalize," said the engineer captain.

Fantastic it is, by any judgment including the conservative. Fantastic engineering for a fantastic world in which man has to hide his eyes and ears and brains from other men inside a hollow mountain.

NORAD Stands Guard

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (NEA)—This is NORAD, the North American Air Defense Command:

A network of early radar warning instalaltions on land, ice, at sea, on platforms in the ocean and in the air. It extends from the polar ice cap to the Mexican border and from Midway Island to Iceland.

Defense in depth including jet planes, pilotless planes and missiles, some fired from the air, some from the ground.

Some 200,000 members of the Air Force, Army and Navy of the United States and Canada, serving under the unified command of U.S. Air Force General Laurence S. Kuter.

Texas World of Its Own

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Travelers can go to Moscow, London, Paris, Athens, Washington, Palestine or Naples without leaving Texas. All are towns in the Lone Star State.

CARVING OUT CENTER — Here, in the eerie glare of floodlights and the acrid smell of explosives, helmeted workmen are carving out a great vaulted nerve center in Colorado for the North American Air Defense. The installation is scheduled for completion in 1965.

Even Kennedy Can Run Out of Hard Cash

WALTHAM, Mass. (UPI) — "I knew Kennedy when he didn't have a dime," Newell Garden said today.

Garden, an employe of Raytheon Co., recalled an incident in 1959 when he was at La Guardia Airport in New York City.

All planes were weathered in and Garden happened to notice Sen. John F. Kennedy searching his pockets.

Report OK on Visit by Eichmann's Wife

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI) — Authoritative sources said today Adolf Eichmann's wife will be permitted to visit the convicted Nazi mass-murderer after the supreme court has ruled on his appeal from a death sentence.

They said the decision was reached at a meeting yesterday between Premier David Ben-Gurion, Foreign Minister Golda Meir and Justice Minister Dov Joseph.

They stipulated, however, that Mrs. Vera Eichmann must leave Israel within 24 hours after she enters the country.

Judy Garland Plans Separation From Sid Luft

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Judy Garland plans to sue for legal separation from producer Sid Luft.

The couple, married 11 years, have separated before, but usually not for very long.

A spokesman of Stanley Kramer studios, for whom the 38-year-old singer-actress is making a film, said last night that Miss Garland had seen her attorney and intended to institute separation proceedings. But he didn't say when.

Miss Garland was married previously to orchestra leader David Rose and director Vincent Minelli. She and Luft have two children.

British Tactics in Malaya Best Against Reds

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As communism advanced in southeast Asia, the only truly successful military operation against it came in Malaya.

* * *

It took 10 years and required ruthless application but it worked.

Communist terrorism began in Malaya in 1948, and for the next four years a handful of jungle guerrillas estimated at less than 6,000 men tied up more than 250,000 British troops, home guards and police.

Terrorists murdered Sir Henry Gurney, the British high commissioner.

It was a seemingly hopeless situation. The Communists struck at will at targets of thier own choosing and then melted back into the jungle. Despite heavy losses, they were able to retain their numbers through new recruits.

Through blackmail or persuasion, every peasant farmer became a potential informer or guerrilla.

COMMANDER TOUGH

Then the British sent in Sir Gerald Templer, a tough soldier, to act in the dual role of high commissioner and commander-in-chief of the military and police forces. Templer operated on the theory that guerrilla forces could exist only on the land, exacting food, intelligence and recruits from the inhabitants of terrorized, isolated villages.

Hence he instituted a ruthless policy of scorched earth.

At the same time, 423,000 Chinese "squatters" were removed from isolated jungle areas and resettled in 410 new villages.

* * *

The harshness of the British tactics was criticized widely, but the communist advance was halted.

Last week, UPI correspondent Merton D. Perry visited the village of Ven Tuong, a pilot project some 40 miles northeast of Saigon in South Viet Nam.

Ben Tuong consists of 250 families of whom 65 were volunteers.

It is a village of elders and children, for most of the youths of fighting age had disappeared, either to join the guerrillas or out of fear of being drafted into the South Vietnamese army.

The half dozen villages from which the new residents of Ben Tuong came, either peacefully or by force, were put to the torch.

Ben Tuong will have its own security forces and each resident will hold an identity card.

The "strategic" village idea is part of a two-pronged campaign which seems gradually to be relieving a situation rapidly approaching the same hopelessness as once existed in Malaya.

SAME TACTICS

One phase is the adoption, under American teachers, of the same guerrilla tactics employed by the Communists.

The other is a social rehabilitation program which seeks not only to offer safety to South Viet Nam's 14-million inhabitants but the advantages of schools and hospitals as well.

The campaign is all or nothing for, as Perry concluded, if it fails "There probably will be no effective answer to ridding South Viet Nam of the Viet Cong (Communist) plague."

War Criminal Missing Past Year

Mr. Tsuji of Japan a Man of Mystery

TOKYO (AP)—One of Japan's most intriguing mysteries is a year old. It concerns what has happened to Masanobu Tsuji, member of parliament and World War II military strategist.

* * *

Tsuji, then 59, left Tokyo a year ago today for what ostensibly was a 40-day tour of southeast Asia. A month later his wife received a package from Bangkok, Thailand, containing his business suit, other clothing and personal effects.

* * *

There have been nothing but rumors since.

One unconfirmed report said Tsuji reached Vientiane, Laos, April 14, and left for Communist-held northern Laos five days later en route to Red China.

The Tokyo Times recently published a report, which could not be confirmed, that Tsuji is teaching guerrilla warfare at a Communist military academy in Kirin, northeastern China.

It has also been rumored that Tsuji is under arrest in Red China. The Japanese Red Cross has contacted Peiping officials in an attempt to confirm this.

* * *

But a Red Cross official said "there has been absolutely no information."

"I've had no word at all," says Tsuji's wife, "and can't hazard a guess."

A WAR CRIMINAL

Though only a lieutenant colonel during World War II, Tsuji was credited with planning the Imperial army's conquest of Malaya and Singapore, and the unsuccessful defense of Guadalcanal.

He was accused by a former Imperial army general of also planning the massacre of more than 300 Chinese in Singapore in February 1942. The Allies termed him a war criminal.

When Japan surrendered, Tsuji disappeared. It later was learned he disguised himself as a Buddhist monk and wandered for years through southeast Asia and China, returning to Japan after the charges against him were dropped.

Holding rightist views, he won election to the upper house of parliament and made the headlines by saying, "If God were to grant a fair trial to war criminals, President (Harry) Truman would be the No. 1 war criminal for killing 300,0000 civilians at Hiroshima and Nagasaki" by ordering those cities atom bombed.

His political career was turbulent. The Liberal Democratic party expelled him and he served in parliament as an independent, often arguing firercely with Nobosuke Kishi, then prime minister.

Wyoming Sewage Plant Gets Grandville Okay

GRANDVILLE (AP) — Proposed construction of a $3,750,000 sewage treatment plant by Wyoming inside the city limits of neighboring Grandville has won approval of Grandville voters. The count was 773 to 375.

The plant is part of a $9.3 million sewage system program approved last year and scheduled for completion by December 1963.

Wyoming City Engineer Paul T. Spelman said the Grandville vote cleared the last hurdle toward a start on construction.

Illinois Won't Stop Extradition to State

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner notified Michigan authorities today he will not stand in the way of their demand for return of a Chicago optometrist convicted in 1956 of bribing a Michigan official.

* * *

The optometrist, Benjamin Ritholz is subject to an April 12 Chicago Criminal Court hearing on the extradition order issued by Kerner in February.

Paul Hansen, Kerner's representative, said he mailed letters of notification to Michigan's solicitor general, Eugene Krasicky, and to Charles Bellows of Chicago, attorney for Ritholz.

* * *

Ritholz was convicted of bribing Dr. Julian Feiler, who later was removed as a member of the Michigan Board of Examiners of Optometry.

100 From Area to Protest Jet Airport to Supervisors

ORION TOWNSHIP—Some 100 area residents opposed to Oakland County's proposed new jet airport are expected to dramatize their protests before the County Board of Supervisors Monday.

A number of the 125 airport opponents at last night's meeting of the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association said they will attend the board of supervisors' monthly meeting.

No plans for organizing a delegation have been made, however, the association's organizing chairman Gordon Ladd said today.

The protestors' aim is to lend their support to a motion by Township Supervisor John Lessiter requiring the county, to review cost estimates for planning and engineering the airport and to produce plans for financing it before taking further action.

Lessiter plans to introduce the motion Monday in an effort to stall plans for the airport until it can be determined whether the county's $25-million estimate or figures up to $500-million mentioned by opponents are accurate.

BACKS PETITIONS

The Orion Township Board has backed the circulation of petitions opposing the airport. Organization plans for teams of petition workers were completed at last night's association meeting.

The petitions will be sent to the Michigan Aeronautics Department and the Federal Aviation Agency as well as the County Board of Supervisors.

Flyers headlined "Look Before You Leap" are being distributed in southern Oakland County communities by the assocaition in an effort to generate opposition to the airport on the basis of cost to all county taxpayers.

The flyer claims "this project could involve from $150 to $250-million."

"I don't see how the Supervisors can fail to vote for this resolution," Lessiter said. "It merely commits them to look before they leap into one of the biggest expenditures of money their county has ever considered."

Opponents hope to persuade state and federal aviation authorities against the airport plan while stalling action on it by the supervisors.

Avondale Hikes Teachers' Pay

School Board Adopts New Schedule Calling for $100 Raises

Avondale teachers will receive $100 pay raises for the 1962-63 school year under the new salary schedule adopted by the board of education.

The new schedule provides a $4,700 yearly salary for a bachelor's degree, with $200 yearly increments to a maximum of $6,700.

Salary for a master's degree was upped to $4,900 as a base, with a maximum of $6,900.

Board action to raise teacher salaries was taken following the Citizen's School Study Committee's report recommending recruitment of good teachers and retaining of competent teachers presently in the school system.

Supt. Leroy R. Watt said today he hopes the new schedule will help recruitment efforts and encourage present staff members to remain.

The citizen's committee report recommended placing major expenditures in the area of instruction and keeping teacher salaries competitive with those of other area school districts.

The school budget will go before the board for adoption at the board's April 16 meeting.

Mediator Waits Novi 'Cool-Off'

Wants Paragon Firm and Strikers to 'Think' Before Contract Talks

NOVI—A federal mediator said he will wait several days before arranging a joint meeting between union and management at the Paragon Bridge and Steel Co. here.

Some 325 members of Detroit Shopmen's Local, International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Workers, AFL-CIO, went on strike at the plant when their contract expired at midnight Saturday.

The delay in setting a meeting will provide both parties with a "cooling-off period," said mediation commissioner Archie Sims.

"Right now the union and company officials are miles apart in agreeing on a contract," he said.

Four strikers are picketing on each of the four shifts at the plant at 44000 Grand River Ave.

Over State Income Tax

Senate Busy Just Huffing

LANSING (AP) — The heady combination of a packed gallery and the hot subject of a state income tax had the Senate chandeliers shaking with echoes from angry debate.

★ ★ ★

The matinee performance yesterday was a repeat of Monday night's debate with a few new adjectives but with few fresh arguments.

The conclusion was the same—a postponement until tomorrow of a showdown on the tax issue.

Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, tried to force a vote on a motion to discharge the Senate Taxation Committee from consideration of Gov. Swainson's package of tax bills.

This move—which has not been successful in the Senate since the early 1920s—would pave the way for their consideration by the Senate.

QUICK VOTE FAILS

The Morris strategy was to force an immediate vote because he thought a coalition of Democrats and Republican moderates didn't have enough votes to force the bills from the committee. It failed after a 19-13 vote to delay the discharge motion until tomorrow.

"Let's come out of the weeds—let's come out of the bushes," taunted Morris. "We're trying to find out—the people are trying to find out—who wants an income tax. I'm convinced the people don't want it."

"All you know about what the people want is from listening to your own voice," replied Sen. Charles H. Blondy, D-Detroit.

"Let's separate the men from the boys—let's vote on this and get it over," urged Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, another anti-income tax senator, backing Morris.

'LET HAMMER FALL'

"We've had the hammer over our heads day after day," said Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings, R-Holland, taxation committee chairman. "Let it fall and get it over."

Sen. Raymond D. Dzendzel, D-Detroit, the Senate minority leader, admitted Democratic strategy was to wait until tomorrow because the votes to bring out the bills and pass an income tax were not lined up yet.

WHO WANTS IT?

"Two more days won't make a lot of difference, except we may have the votes," Dzendzel said.

"I wish we could get the thing decided so everyone in the state knows who wants an income tax and who doesn't," said Sen. Paul C. Younger, R-Lansing. "There is so much strategy going on in the Senate it would take a five-star general to keep up with it."

"We started this last week," commented Sen. Phillip Rahol, D-Iron Mountain. "What have we accomplished? Nothing."

After an hour and a half of noisy wrangling, Geerlings rose and approached the microphone.

"For what purpose does the gentleman rise?" asked Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, who had been banging his gavel lustily to keep order.

O'Hara Shouts 'Liar'; Denies 'Liberal' Book Tie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica, called Michigan's Republican state chairman "a damned liar" yesterday for saying O'Hara is connected with a recently published book called "The Liberal Papers."

O'Hara said GOP State Chairman George Van Peursem issued a statement to the effect that O'Hara had been a partial author of the Doubleday-Anchor book.

"You can quote me on this," O'Hara said. "Van Peusem is a damned liar. What he has said is not true and he knew it wasn't true. My association with this thing (The Liberal Papers) has been set forth.

"This is completely inconsistent with every public statement I've ever made on foreign policy and with my complete voting record in the House of Representatives. I'm mentioned nowhere in the damned book."

In a statement in last Thursdays Congressional Record, O'Hara said:

"I am not now nor was I at any time a member of a Liberal Project nor any other group of that type. I did not sponsor the publication of 'The Liberal Papers' nor was I in any way involved in its publication . . .

DENIES DISCUSSIONS

"I have never at any time participated in discussions with such a group with regard to the foreign or domestic policies the United States should pursue or with regard to ideas expressed by any of the author of the papers or any other persons who may have been asked to speak on public policy.

"Neither did I agree to support the viewpoints of any such persons or to support or sponsor the publication of any statements expressing their view.

"I did not assent to the use of my name by any person in connection with 'The Liberal Papers,' the Liberal Project, or any similar group, and was not at that time aware that my name had been so used."

Treasurer-Assessor of Novi Quits Post

NOVI—Village treasurer and assessor Charle Trickey Sr. has resigned his posts, effective April 30.

The owner of a hunting and fishing equipment store, he said that his personal affairs did not allow him enough time to perform his duties.

The Village Council is expected to appoint Trickey's successor at its April 16 meeting.

Farmington Girl Has Leading Role in Play

Don't Drop That Course . . . Work, Save It

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

Are you a course-dropper? Are you one of those students who runs away from a course at the first sign of trouble or the first feeling of failure?

Don't do it! Every time you drop a course you weaken yourself. Course - dropping can develop into a habit of failure that will plague you for the rest of your life.

DR. NASON

* * *

It's not easy to save a course once the habit has set in. But it can be done! Try my "Save That Course!" technique some weekend. It goes like this:

Your chief problem is organization. Fortunately, no matter how badly you are doing in the course, you are in the best possible position to get it organized in your mind.

* * *

The material is still fresh in your thoughts, even if you have had only part of your mind on on what the instructor has said. You know quite a bit about the course but the information is a jumble of unrelated facts. They need unity.

Restudy the course. Start right at the beginning. Read the introduction, the table of contents and the chapter headings of the texts. Only this time ORGANIZE them.

Think about the course as you read, chapter by chapter. Try to fit the material and ideas together as you go. Try to get the over-all picture.

Make a written record of your review as you proceed. Since you're really starting the course over, use a new notebook. Take clear, legible and complete notes, including maps, charts, diagrams and even sample math problems.

Wherever you have a question on the material, make an appropriate mark in your notebook. This is very important.

These questions will give you an excuse to leaf through your new notebook with your teacher. The teacher will not only answer your questions but he also will observe what you have accomplished.

ASK THE TEACHER

At the close of the interview, ask the teacher: "Have you any suggestions about what else I can do?" He probably has. And he'll be glad to give them to you.

Most of the students who have tried my "Save That Course!" technique —and there have been hundreds—discover at this point that the instructor is on their side.

Try it and you'll find out that, from this moment on, it is you and the instructor against the course rather than the course and the instructor against you!

It's a comfortable — and rewarding — feeling.

Planners to Resume Rezoning Discussion

Heading a lengthy agenda for tonight's city planning commission meeting will be resumption of a discussion on a motion to rezone some 200 acres of manufacturing property along the Grand Trunk Western Railroad belt line on Pontiac's East Side.

* * *

At a public hearing on the motion at the March meeting, planners decided to defer action until the city attorney could study legal aspects of the proposed zoning change.

His opinion is due tonight and planning commissioners are slated to make their recommendation to city commissioners.

The property lies immediately east of the railroad from Herrington Hills Elementary School to Perry Street. Presently zoned M2 and M3, it is proposed the mostly vacant land be rezoned for residential use.

ON SOUTH SIDE

In other business, a public hearing is slated on a request to rezone properties on the south side of West Huron Street, Franklin Boulevard to Palmer Street, from their present personal service classification to a Residential-3 zone.

The original request, filed last month, asked for rezoning of only the property at the corner of Huron and Franklin.

The owner, Fred Ward, wanted the change so that a three-story apartment building might be built there. Planning commissioners decided to include the entire block in the motion.

* * *

Public hearings are also to be held tonight on requests to rezone to commercial use a lot at 120 Raeburn St., now zoned Residential-1, and a lot at 270 Orchard Lake Ave., now zoned Residential-3.

An ordinance rezoning part of Herrington Hills Subdivision from R3 to R1, due for final City Commission approval later this month, will be placed before planners for their approval tonight.

They will also hear a report from City Engineer James N. Carlisle requesting action on the vacating of several streets and alleys in the R20 urban renewal project area.

* * *

Planning commission will also be asked to recommend plans for replatting of a residential area in the R20 project area north of Cottage Street between Center and Perkins streets.

The area, consisting of about a dozen lots, has been cleared but lot sizes must be changed to facilitate residential development.

Profits Swelling on Nike Work

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two contractors who allegedly pocketed $20.2 million in profits on Nike guided missile components which neither produced collected additional profits of $7 million on other parts manufactured by a third company, senators were told today.

Robert E. Dunne, a staff member of Sen. John L. McClellan's permanent investigations subcommittee, said the $7 million billed to the Army by Western Electric Co. and Douglas Aircraft Co. were "pure profits."

"There were no costs or expenses," Dunne said.

He identified two of the components in question as van-sized trailers used to transport missiles and to store the electronic "brains." He said they were produced by the Freuhauf Trailer Co.

R. E. O'Dell, an industrial engineer for Army ordnance, said the Army saved considerable money when it finally "broke out" of an arrangement whereby Nike components were channeled through three contractors.

By skipping Western Electric, the prime contractor, and Douglas, the major subcontractor, O'Dell said, the Army trimmed the price of missile transporter trailers from $12,000 to $10,700.

* * *

In 1958, six years after the first contracts were let, the Army opened trailer procurement to nationwide competitive bidding, a step which reduced the price to $5,300, O'Dell said.

By dropping the subcontract system, he testified, "we would not pay either Douglas or Western Electric a profit."

84 Viet Cong Killed in Huge Operation

CAO LANH, South Viet Nam (UPI)—South Viet Nam's 7th Infantry Division reported today it had killed 84 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas this week in one of the biggest military operations here since the end of the Indo-China war in 1954.

* * *

Officials said the casualties were inflicted in a 72-hour sweep of Kien Phong Province by 3,000 troops supported by planes, riverboats and artillery.

Most of the casualties were accounted for by an air strike late Monday on a group of guerrillas surrounded by government troops.

City OKs Bids on Renewal Job

101 Structures Slated for Wrecking in R20 Project in Summer

The City Commission last night approved a resolution authorizing City Clerk Olga Barkeley to advertise for bids for the demolition of 101 urban renewal structures.

* * *

The structures are mostly commercial buildings and all lie in the R20 urban renewal project. Demolition of residential structures in the R20 area began last fall and is more than half finished.

Deadline for submitting bids was set for 2 p.m. April 30, when the bids will be opened and tabulated.

City officials hope to start knocking down Saginaw Street buildings this summer. Many buildings are currently standing vacant.

* * *

About 70 per cent of the structures are already bought or optioned, said Urban Renewal Director James R. Bates today.

* * *

About half lie east of Saginaw and half on the west side over an area roughly from Pike to Osmun Streets. Some 86 parcels of land are involved in the demolition.

Slayer of Lover Free After Term

Connie Nicholas Leaves Prison; Served 2 Years for Killing Executive

INDIANAPOLIS (UP) — Connie Nicholas, slightly heavier but still attractive, broke into tears today before being driven away from the Indiana Women's Prison, a free woman after serving two years for killing her wealthy lover of 15 years.

Mrs. Nicholas, 47, whose tears were frequent during her sensational trial more than two years ago, walked by herself from her cottage in the prison to the administration building. She entered the building, signed her name and was released.

She walked from the administration building, keeping her head down all the time, and got into a waiting car with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Blankenship of nearby New Whiteland.

* * *

Wearing a two-piece brown suit, with fingertip coat, Connie burst into tears when she saw newsmen waiting for her.

* * *

"Don't cry, Connie," yelled a prison official.

Wiping the tears away Connie looked up for the only time, nodded at newsmen she remembered from her trial, and said, "Looks like old home week, doesn't it."

Those were the only words spoken by Mrs. Nicholas, who served the minimum term for the fatal shooting of Forrest Teel, 54, a vice president of the huge Eli Lilly & Co., pharmaceutical firm. She said Teel spurned her for a younger woman after a 15-year love affair.

Police Escort Rockwell From Walker Hearing

WASHINGTON (UP) — George Lincoln Rockwell, self-styled leader of the American Nazi party, was escorted out of the Senate hearing room where former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was appearing today.

Witnesses said Rockwell and two of his men were sitting in the hearing room wearing lapel emblems bearing swastikas.

Capitol Police Lt. Lewis Disney asked them to remove the emblems, according to Senate rules against placards and other signs. When they refused, they were escorted out the door.

The incident caused no commotion inside the hearing room, but a stir outside the door caused reporters and some spectators to go see what was happening.

Air Strafing Reported Off Indonesia Shore

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Distress messages telling of aerial strafing were reported today from two vessels in equatorial Pacific waters off Indonesia.

One was an Okinawan tuna fishing boat. The other was an unidentified craft that Japanese maritime authorities said probably was American. The nationality of the planes were undetermined.

* * *

Both Indonesia and the Netherlands are keeping watch on sea frontiers in their militant dispute over the future of Dutch West New Guinea.

Army Assures Detroit on Jobs

General Says Changes in Supply Command to Up Area Responsibility

WASHINGTON (AP)—A reorganization by the Army will bring increased responsibility to the Detroit area, Democratic members of Michigan's congressional delegation were told yesterday.

Lt. Gen. Frank Besson Jr., who will head the new Army Materiel Development and Logistical Command, told the delegation that no personnel, property or operational missions now in Detroit will be removed when the Army reorganization is complete.

"We hope this detailed information will end once and for all the distortions and speculation which have greatly distressed thousands of Army employes in the Detroit area," the delegation said in a combined statement after meeting with Besson.

Besson said Detroit will be the headquarters of a new mobility command, which will include all present functions of the Ordnance Tank-Automotive Command and the Detroit Arsenal, besides command functions of facilities physically located elsewhere.

"He emphasized that not a person would be required to leave the Detroit area and that additional responsibilities would be assigned," the Michigan Democrats said.

"As far as he could determine, Detroit would retain these responsibilities far beyond the calendar year 1963, which Defense Secretary (Robert S.) McNamara indicated marked the limit of current planning."

Reports had circulated several weeks ago that the Ordnance Tank-Automotive Command would be transferred to Rock Island, Ill. McNamara and other Michigan Democrats denied the reports at the time.

A refuge for the almost-extinct whooping crane was created in Texas. Called the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, it is on the Texas coast.

House OKs Doubling Peace Corps Effort

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House voted overwhelmingly yesterday to more than double the size and funds of the Peace Corps.

The administration bill would enlarge the present authorized strength of the corps from 2,400 to 6,700 volunteers by July 1963 and boost spending for the program from $30 million to $63.7 million, if Congress later appropriates the full amount President Kennedy wants.

Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said that 698 volunteers are now working in 12 countries and 136 are still training.

Agreements have been made with 20 other countries requiring nearly 2,000 more corpsmen, he said.

Mixed Reception Waiting?

Philip Upsets Elizabeth

LONDON (UPI) — Prince Philip may get a mixed reception from Queen Elizabeth when he arrives home Friday from an eight-week South American trip.

★ ★ ★

According to reports making the rounds of London, the queen will be happy to have her husband home again and thinks the trip was a fine idea but she is bothered by some of his activities abroad.

UPSET BY REMARKS

One of Philip's remarks that raised a minor storm back here in England was the crack that Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express is a "Bloody awful newspaper."

★ ★ ★

Philip said later he was only joking. But he did not try to explain awaly his use of the word "bloody" which is considered a profanity in this country.

The queen also was reported ruffled by pictures of her husband at the British embassy pool in Rio De Janeiro in very brief bathing trunks.

But some palace observers believe the queen will be so happy to see Prince Philip she will be forgiving.

Sagging Tigers Meet Yanks

Cardinals Keep Bengals Losing With Late Rally

Infield Grounder Scores Two Runs in 9th Inning to Earn 7-6 Decision

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Detroit Tigers take on the New York Yankees today with a bit of a string.

A string of losses, that is. Six in a row, as a matter of fact. Good enough to give them standing as undisputed cellar dwellers in the American League division of the Grapefurite circuit.

The Tigers were leading 6-3 with two down in the bottom of the ninth yesterday in a game with the St. Louis Cardinals over in St. Petersburg. They lost 7-6.

Heres how it happened.

The Tigers scored three runs in the top of the final inning off Lindy McDaniel, with Steve Boros contributing a long double for two of them. A 6-3 lead isn't bad.

BRIEF HOPE

Terry Fox took the mound in the bottom of the last stanza and managed to get two out, allowing only a pair of singles. Things looked good for the Tigers, who have won but 7 of 2 Grapefruit contests.

Ken Boyer singled, driving in Carl Warwick and Doug Clemens. Pinch-hitter Bill White singled. Fox walked Gene Oliver to fill the bases.

Up stepped Julio Gotay, who dribbled a grounder far to the left of second baseman Jake Wood. Gotay beat the toss to first, Boyer scored the tying run, and White raced in from second to end the game.

First base coach Phil Cavarretta got an early shower when he objected to a call at first in the Tiger half of the ninth. Umpire John Flaherty told Cavarretta, he'd better take a cold shower for what he called an excessive protest.

The rest of the Tigers protested a half an inning later, but to themselves.

The Yankees lead the American League section of the Grapefruit standings, with 18 victories against 8 loses.

DOUBLE PLAY — Julian Javier of the St. Louis Cardinals is forced out at 2nd base as Detroit Tiger 2nd baseman Jake Wood watches his throw to first nip Minnie Minoso to complete a double play in the 5th inning of Tuesday's exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Tigers lost, 7-6.

Are Giants Preparing 1-2-3 Homer Attack?

By The Associated Press

Felipe Alou, flashy San Francisco outfielder who with brother Matty learned to play baseball in the streets of the Dominican Republic, is threatening to give the Giants the most feared 1-2-3 hitting attack in the National League.

Ordinarily a line-drive hitter, the 26-year-old right - handed swinger has turned into a homer hammerer this spring, and has added another long ball threat to a team already well stocked in that department with Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays.

Alou tagged No. 8—his fifth in the last three games—Tuesday, a two-run shot that carried the Giants to an 8-3 victory over Cleveland at Tucson. It also gave Alou a batting record unmatched by the more heralded sluggers on the club.

O'DELL GOES ROUTE

While Alou was continuing his outstanding spring performance, Billy O'Dell became the first member of the Giants' pitching staff to go nine by fashioning a five-hitter against the Indians.

A 29-year-old southpaw acquired from Baltimore after the 1959 season, O'Dell was 7-5 last year.

Other route-going performances were turned in by Roger Craig of the New York Mets and Moe Drabowsky of Cincinnati. Craig spaced nine hits in a 5-4 victory over Chicago's White Sox at Sarasota. Drabowsky was beaten 5-0 by Minnesota at Orlando despite hurling a seven-hitter.

Elsewhere, Pittsburgh knocked off the New York Yankees 4-1 at Fort Lauderdale, St. Louis edged Detroit 7-6 at St. Petersburg, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Boston 2-1 at Scottsdale, Milwaukee belted Chicago's Cubs 8-6 at Mesa, Washington defeated Baltimore 6-4 at Miami, the Los Angels Angels outlasted Houston 10-9 at Albuquerque and Philadelphia beat Kansas City 2-1 at Clearwater.

Bobby Gene Smith stroked a triple and two singles, driving in the winning run for the Mets in the seventh as they snapped the White Sox' six-game winning streak. Camilo Pascual and rookie Joe Bonikowski combined to hurl a six-hitter that beat the Reds and Drabowsky. A two-run homer by Don Mincher in the first gave the Twins the runs they needed.

FORD, MANTLE ILL

Whitey Ford and Mickey Mantle were bedded with the flu as the Yankees bowed to the Pirates when catcher Don Leppert singled across two unearned runs in the seventh to snap a 1-1 tie.

★ ★ ★

Daryl Spencer hit a homer in the fifth and Ron Fairly doubled home the winner for the Dodgers in the eighth when the Red Sox' Lu Clinton misjudged the fly ball. Eddie Mathews broke out of his slump for his first extra base hits, slamming two homers and a double for five RBI in the Braves' triumph over the Cubs.

Chicago, Rangers Post Home Ice Victories

NHL Playoffs All Knotted

By United Press International

It's all even-stephen in the National Hockey League playoffs, and they'll have to start all over again Thursday at Montreal and Toronto.

The defending Stanley Cup Champion Chicago Black Hawks evened their best-of-seven semi-final series with the Montreal Canadiens at 2-all Tuesday night by beating the 1961-62 regular-season champions, 5-3, while the underdog New York Rangers were beating the Toronto Maple Leafs, 4-2 to knot their series.

Now, the action switches to the Canadian cities on Thursday with the Canadiens hosting the Black Hawks and the Maple Leafs hosting the Rangers.

All four teams have scored their victories on home ice, and if that holds true, then the Canadiens and Maple Leafs should be favored to win on Thursday and take the lead in their respective series.

Little Stan Mikita was the hero for the Black Hawks while Ron Gilbert, whose hockey career seemed over a year ago when he suffered a spinal injury, paced the Rangers.

Mikita, knocked unconscious by Lou Fontinato with one of hockey's most brutal body checks, recovered to assist on four goals and lead the Hawks to their decisive victory.

Mikita was flattened by Fontinato in the first minute of play, but the 21-year-old Czech, who weighs only 165 pounds, came back to set up goals by Bobby Hull, Bronco Horvath, Ab McDonald and Bill Hay.

McDonald then scored Chicago's final goal, his second of the game, after Mikita was floored for a second time by Fontinato.

Montreal's goals were scored by Dickie Moore, Jean Beliveau and Gilles Treblay.

Gilbert, called up from the Rangers' Kitchener farm club of the Eastern Pro League last Sunday as a replacement for the injured Ken Schinkel, scored two goals, both in the first period, and assisted on the winning goal in the third period by Dave Balon.

Guy Gendron scored into an empty cage in the final 30 seconds after the Leafs had cut the margin to 3-2.

Bob Pulford and Bob Nevin were the Toronto marksmen, both scoring in the final period as New York goalie Lorne Worsley finally gave ground.

Toronto coach Punch Imlach again criticized the officiating as he had done in both Maple Leaf victories and the loss to New York on Sunday.

Oakland Cagers to Captain Titans; Honors for Dave

DETROIT (UPI) — The University of Detroit said a fond goodbye to the athletic services of basketball star Dave De Busschere last night by naming him the Titans' most valuable player at their annual dinner.

The Titans also picked Russ Schoenherr as the recipient of the loyalty award.

Elected co-captains for the coming season were Harrison Munson of Pontiac and George McDaniel of Holly.

Participants in next season's Motor City Basketball Tournament were announced. Detroit will play host to Western Michigan, De Paul of Chicago, and Georgetown University of Washington, D.C. The tournament will be played the week between Christmas and New Year's Day.

Coach, Umpire Join Grid Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — Former coach Tuss McLaughry and Cal Hubbard, currently supervisor of umpires for the American Baseball League, headed a list of 12 new members of the Football Hall of Fame today.

McLaughry, who coached at Westminster, Pa., Amherst, Brown and Dartmouth was the only coach named.

Joining Hubbard, who played at Centenary, La., and Geneva, Pa., colleges, in the modern day group are quarterbacks Benny Lee Boynton, Williams 1917-19-20, and W. E. Los Angeles Wins Deciding Game, 123-117

Pistons Make Lakers Work for Win

DETROIT (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers made it into the National Basketball Association playoffs—but only after they nearly turned coach Fred Schaus into a cardiac case.

The Lakers lost a 24-point lead before they licked the Detroit Pistons 123-117 last night and captured their best-of-seven Western Division final series 4-2. They gave Schaus a hair-raising experience in doing it.

Los Angeles won the first three games of the series, lost the next two and came within a whisker of having Detroit tie up the whole thing.

Now the Lakers must await the outcome of the Eastern Division finals, knotted 3-3, between the Boston Celtics and the Philadelphia Warriors.

WARRIORS WIN

The Warriors beat Boston 109-99 last night. The rubber seventh game will be played tomorrow in Boston with the Lakers starting the championship series with the winner Saturday.

If the Lakers have to play the Celtics, the series will start in Boston and four of the seven games would be scheduled there.

"The Pistons deserve a lot of credit," said Schaus. "They gave us a great series."

The Lakers breezed in the first thre games. It looked easy. Then the Pistons, seeking a comeback never achieved in a best-of-seven BA playoff, won the next two. The Lakers were endangered.

But in game No. 6 last night, the Lakers went into command early. They built their lead into a 24-point stranglehold—91-67—in the third quarter.

LEAD DWINDLIES

The Pistons had one more surprise left. They cut into the Lakers' lead as the fourth period wore on. It was sliced to 10 points, then to four, three, two, one—and finally the Pistons tied it at 117-117 with 1:21 left.

But Elgin Baylor bailed the Lakers out. He scored on a jumpshot 14 seconds later and the Lakers were ahead to stay. Jerry West added two free throws and Wayne Yates an insurance basket while the Pistons were scoreless after batting back into the tie.

Baylor and West each scored 38 points.

In the Warriors' victory at Philadelphia, Wilt Chamberlain, Tom Meschery and Paul Arizin did the hot shooting. Chamberlain scored 32 points, Meschery 27 and Arizin 28.

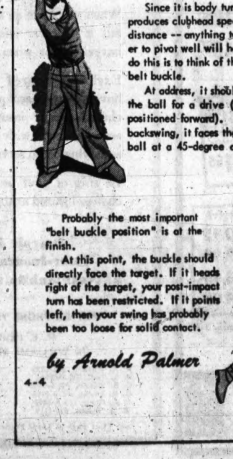
THE PALMER METHOD



"BELT BUCKLE POSITIONS"

Since it is body turn or twist which produces clubhead speed -- and greater distance -- anything to encourage a golfer to pivot well will help. One way to do this is to think of the position of your belt buckle.

At address, it should face just behind the ball for a drive (where the ball is positioned forward). At the top of the backswing, it faces the ground behind the ball at a 45-degree angle.

Probably the most important "belt buckle position" is at the finish.

At this point, the buckle should directly face the target. If it heads right of the target, your post-impact turn has been restricted. If it points left, then your swing has probably been too loose for solid contact.

Putts, Nicklaus Chief Concern at Augusta Duel

Gene Littler, Player and Barber Figured Out of Race

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who is not scared of the devil himself, goes after his third Masters golf title in five years Thursday with a couple of serious concerns — Augusta National's formidable greens and Jackie Nicklaus.

"The greens are going to fool a lot of people," the tournament favorite from Latrobe, Pa., said today. "They've changed the texture on some of the greens and, while I don't think they'll be any faster, they're going to be harder to read."

The Bermuda greens on the last nine holes of the golf course were sewn with a different type grass intended to give them a smoother putting surface. The first nine greens were left unchanged.

PUTTING BOTHERS

"My putting is the only thing bothering me," said Palmer, an 8-1 pre-tournament choice against a lineup of some 100 of the worlds best amateur and professional golfers. "My only consolation is that I know the other fellows will be having trouble on the greens, too."

The long-hitting Pennsylvania professional, winner of this championship in 1958 and 1960 and loser last year only because he blew to a double-bogey six on the final hole, said he felt he had whipped himself into a good physical and psychological state for the tournament.

"For a while I had a lot of business details which were distracting and hurting my game," he said. "I've turned these problems over to somebody else and for the last several weeks I have been concentrating on getting back into the golf groove. Physically, I feel fine and I'm as relaxed as I can be before a big tournament."

Asked who he thought might give him the toughest run for it, Palmer was quick with the answer.

FEARS NICKLAUS

"Well, Nicklaus has to be reckoned with. I've been playing with him in practice. He has been hitting the ball a ton. He seems to have shaken off whatever pressures there were in turning professional and to have settled down. If he can putt these greens, he can be awfully tough."

The defending champion, Gary Player of South Africa, has lost favor with almost everyone apparently—except himself. He has been dropped from one of the key favorite's roles because of his unimpressive showing on the winter tour.

Almost completely overlooked are the reigning U.S. open champion, Gene Littler, and the 45-year-old, 137-pound PGA king, Jerry Barber.

"The course is too big for me," says Littler, whose best showing was a tenth-place finish in 1959."

"I'm not playing well enough," says Barber, who twice came in as high as sixth.

Master Jockey Arcaro Stores Colors for Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Arcaro, one of the great athletes of modern times, has come to the end of his brilliant career after 30 years in the saddle. But, he might have stuck around another year if Jaipur had been nominated for the Kentucky Derby.

The master, as many have called the 46-year-old jockey made official his retirement Tuesday night.

Arcaro probably has ridden more great horses than, any jockey in American turf history. He quit as the greatest money rider of all time. No other rider has won five Kentucky Derbies, six Preakness and six Belmont stakes.

LIKES JAIPUR

"But," and he paused with a resigned smile, "I sincerely believe that if Mr. Widener was going to run Jaipur in the Derby, I'd have stayed around another year.

Jaipur was one of the top 2-year-olds of 1961, and Arcaro rode him.

He didn't name Jaipur for the May 5 Derby, and the colt hasn't raced since last fall. Trainer Bert Mulholland has been taking the colt along slowly, with the June 9 Belmont in mind and will give him his initial start in the $50,000 Gotham Stakes Saturday at Aqueduct.

No official announcement has been made, but Arcaro said Willie Shoemaker would ride Jaipur Saturday, and later.

"Shoe also will ride Kelso, and I think I had a little to do with it," said Arcaro.

RODE KELSO

Kelso, owned by the Bohemia Stable of Mrs. Richard C. du Pont, was horse of the year in both 1960 and 1961, with Arcaro riding.

Arcaro listed three main reasons for retiring:

"One, I'm 46 years old.

"Two, I became bored with riding.

"Three, I had this business opportunity."

He will be field representative for the American Totalisator Co., which leases the "tote" machines at race tracks. American Tote is a division of Universal Controls, huge industrial corporation.

Arcaro's mounts earned a total of $1,606,707 in 1961, and his 10 per cent gave him a salary of $160,670.

Opening Game September 16th With Steelers

NFL Campaign to Open in Detroit First Time Since 1954

DETROIT (AP) — Milt Plum vs. Bobby Layne — right in the opener.

The Detroit Lions will open their 1962 National Footall League schedule Sept. 16 with all the atmosphere of an alumni reunion. Their first opponent will be ex-Lion coach Buddy Parker's Pittsburgh Steelers at Tiger stadium.

The Steelers' attack is built around Layne, John Henry Johnson and Tom Tracy, all ex-Lions.

PLUM'S DEBUT

The opening game will mark Plum's regular season debut with Detroit. Plum, acquired last week in a six-player trade with Cleveland, is expected to fill the quarterback void the Lions created when they traded Layne to Pittsburgh in 1958.

It will be the first time since 1954 the Lions start the NFL campaign at home.

What happened to the plan to form a Pontiac Bowling Association for men? Is it still in the making? What's new on it? When will there be another meeting?

Those are some of the many questions being asked by area keglers and followers of the popular tenpin sports these days.

No one seems to know the answers unless the information is being kept secret for some strange reason.

The 700 Bowling Chapter and other local enthusiasts were solid behind the move earlier. As a matter of fact, we had never he of anyone here that was not for breaking away from Detroit.

Many say it would be a shame to see the plan die but few will do much about it. There are a lot of head shakers but take charge guys are hard to find.

It could be that the moves by the Greater Detroit Bowling Association towards making the Pontiac area feel more a part of the big group have been successful.

The extension of the association tourney up this way and other ideas such as having more representation here have helped GDBA secretary Herb Case and his staff have made some good moves towards bettering things.

But Pontiac and the surrounding area is big enough now to be on its own. American Bowling Congress people have stated as much.

West Side Recreation has a scotch moonlight doubles league going. There are nightly squad prizes. Rolloffs will follow for $150 and trophy, $75, $35 and $10. Only lights used are pin lights and those on scoretables.

Deadline is midnight April 10 for East Highland Recreation Singles tourneys for women. Several tournaments have had advance notices in this paper this season but have failed to come through with results. The same goes for the local pro bowlers.

Joe Bonfiglio and his Huron Bowl team compete in ABC Friday night and Saturday. He will go on to St. Louis to rejoin the pro tour next week.

Bill Srock was the main speaker and instructor yesterday at a "Learn to Bowl" session for 50 members of the Kettering High Girls Athletic Association at 300 Bowl. John McConnell of that school recently hit 204-163-175-411. 300 will have the Greater Pontiac Classic mentioned here last week.

West Side Classic had pair of novelties. Paul Karas had eleven strikes split perfectly by bad hit that left bucket. Settled for 276 for season high. Mitch Calbi left 2-7 on 1st ball. Seemed natural pick-up for lefty but he had nudged the 7 just enough so that 2nd ball went between them perfectly.

Paret Never Had Chance to Recover

NEW YORK (AP) — Benny (Kid) Paret never had a chance to come out of it.

Physicians knew the odds were only 10,000 to 1 that Paret would beat the severe brain injury he suffered in losing his world welterweight championship to Emile Griffith in Madison Square Garden 11 days ago.

★ ★ ★

But, even though he remained in a coma, his wife, mother and manager watched every little move he made during their vigil at his bedside. No one could convince them the doctors were right. He'd pull through, they said. He had to pull through.

ODDS CAUGHT UP

But early, Tuesday morning, the odds caught up with Paret. The doctors were right. At 1:55 a.m. a nurse walked out of the special care unit at Roosevelt Hospital and told Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, softly:

"He's dead."

So today, burial plans are being made for him while crowds mill around the funeral home in the Spanish-speaking section of the city. Paret will be buried in Miami where he made his home.

The distraught Griffith also said he would pay his respects and offered any kind of help to Parets widow, Lucy, who is expecting her second child in about five months.

THREE DEVELOPMENTS

Paret's death brought three immediate developments:

1. New York District Attorney Frank Hogan stepped up his investigation "to determine if culpable negligence is involved."

2. A 7-member New York State legislative committee to investigate all aspects of boxing in the state, was named.

3. The American Medical Association, in a statement from Chicago, issued a reminder of the importance of careful medical supervision of sports, pointing out that "contact sports carry with them a calculated risk of injury . . ."

At AAU Swim Meet

Records Likely to Fall

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Every event could bring a record in the 1962 men's AAU Swimming and Diving Championships starting here Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"This meet will produce quite a few records," said Phil Moriarty, Yale University swimming coach and one of the first to arrive for the meet. "Every event has the possibility of being blown wide open."

★ ★ ★

Almost certain to fall, he said, is the two-minute mark set in the 220-yard freestyle last year by Steve Clark, then a California schoolboy. Clark now is a freshman at Yale, but will swim here under the banner of his home Santa Clara Swim Club.

MOSTLY COLLEGIANS

Most of the 300 competitors here will be college boys, though some —like Clark—are freshmen barred from NCAA competition.

Indiana would be favored to win the team title, taken last year by Southern California, except that under Big Ten rules, Indiana swimmers must compete, here without team attachment.

Indiana contenders include three defending AAU champions, Chet Jastremski in the two breaststroke events, Ted Stickles in the individual medley, and Mike Troy in the 220-yard butterfly.

Southern California has a strong team, headed by three of the world's best distance swimmers, Murray Rose and Jon Konrads of Australia and Tsuyoshi Yamanaka of Japan.

The first events Thursday are the 440-yard individual medley and 1,500-meter freestyle.

Zephyrs Top Saints on 'Kiss' of Death

MUSKEGON (AP) — Joe Kiss scored in the second sudden-death overtime period last night to give the Muskegon Zephyrs a 7-6 victory over the St. Paul Saints in the opener of the International Hockey League's final playoffs.

Kiss took the puck as it rebounded off the stick of hard-worked St. Paul goalie Lynn Davis and slapped it past him at 2:41 before a crowd of 4,248.

The victory gave Muskegon the initial advantage in the best-of-seven series.

Muskegon, trailing 6-2 in the third period, sent the game into overtime with a four-goal burst that tied the score at 6-6 at the end of regulation time.

Huron Keglers 2nd at Airway in Detroit Classic

Huron Bowl had the 2nd best score among 16 teams as the Detroit All Star Classic held its regular bowling night at Airway Lanes Tuesday.

Coca Cola was the hottest quintet with 3,051. The Huron boys, paced by Gene Shell's 613, totaled 2,942. Tom Augello had 610, Joe Foster 604, Jim Walker 574 and Arnie Osta 541.

Greg Demres had high series of 679 followed by Matt Furgan's 657 and a 650 for Bud Phillips.

Arrange Special Deeryard Tour in Northern Michigan

Atlanta Station Starting Point for Last Survey

April 15 Is Date Set for Those Who Missed Early Whitetail Trips

A last call is being made to people who missed the Conervation Department's regularly scheduled deeryard tours in the northern Lower Peninsula during February and March.

An additional field trip will be held April 15, starting from the department's Atlanta equipment station in Montmorency County at 11 a.m. It will last from three to four hours.

No reservations are needed to take part in the field trip. Transportation will be left to each person or his party.

The tour will be routed to give the public a first-hand look at the winter deer range and the condition of whitetails this spring. Deep snow "short-circuited" an earlier field trip held in the area and many people have asked for another tour to get a fuller view of northern Michigans deer-range picture.

Mild weather during the last of March brought hoped-for relief to hungry deer reeling from an otherwise harsh winter.

HOPE SEEN

Although additional cases of deer starvation were reported in all northern districts during the last week, department district game supervisors feel that whitetails will pull through the wintering season better than expected if the weather continues its recent mild - mannered trend through spring breakup.

Last week's warm days and freezing nights allowed deer to move out from their yards on crusted snow in search of better food supplies in all five northern Lower Peninsula districts. In areas around Baldwin and Gladwin, whitetails were able to range in upland openings.

Deer were still yarded in the Upper Peninsula, but were moving out on crusted snow during the mornings before daytime thaws weakened their footing.

The lack of rain and severe cold during late March spared many undernourished animals from pneumonia which often takes a heavy toll during the closing weeks of the wintering season.

WINTER TRAGEDY—This deer, weakened by hunger, begins the long sleep that will result in death. This scene was repeated many times in Northern Michigan during late February and early March.

GIVES UP STRUGGLE—Tired of attempting to move through belly-deep snow while looking for food, this whitetail had simply given up. Conservation officers found the deer in the above position and removed it to a special area for rehabilitation.

Release 500 Geese in State Game Areas

The Conservation Department released some 500 Canada geese at eight wildlife areas this week in a continued effort to build up resident and semi-resident goose nesting colonies in Michigan.

Released 117 honkers at St. Clair Flats wildlife area; 150 at Shiawassee National Wildlife Refuge, Saginaw County; 50 at Shiawassee River state game area, Saginaw County; 100 at Fish Point wild-life area, Tuscola County; 30 each at Swan Creek wildlife experiment station, Allegan County, and Lapeer state game area; and 25 at Wilderness state park's wildlife refuge and natural area preserve, Emmet County.

The releases reduced much of the game farm's goose inventory and the department has no plans of incubating eggs this year because of a growing money shortage in its Game and Fish Protection Fund.

Shorthair Field Trial Scheduled April 14-15

The German Shorthaired Pointer Clubs of Michigan will hold their annual spring field trial, Saturday and Sunday, April 14-15, at the Highland recreation area.

Several of the stakes are open to all pointing breeds. Contact Elmer J. Dickinson, 4440 Country Club Dr., Utica. Phone 731-4936, for detailed information. Entries close Tuesday, April 10th.

Will Study Promotion

To acquaint more sportsmen with the various facilities of private hunting grounds, shooting preserve, operators from the Midwest states will meet to study the areas of promotion and publicity Saturday and Sunday at Michigan State University.

Seek Easement for Atomic Power Line

Parks Money Being Spent in Oakland

Over one-eighth of the $838,673 the Conservation Department has spent or allocated for land purchases under the new state parks expansion program has been used to increase recreation area acreage in Oakland County.

Since January, the department said, $188,000 has been set aside for purchase of 358 acres in Holly, Bald Mountain and Pontiac Lake recreation areas. The average cost was $520 an acre.

The $1 million program is being financed by parks admission fees, with most of the revenue going for improvements.

Additional land was purchased for Holly and Bald Mountain areas so impoundment projects could be started. A parcel of land in the center of the Pontiac Lake area was recently purchased.

Land acquisition for the Proud Lake area is expected to eventually push the total amount used for land purchases in Oakland County to over 20 per cent of the $1 million.

ATOMIC POWER

Among land exchanges proposed for commission approval at its April 12-13 meeting is a 73-acre site in the Trout Creek unit of the Bald Mountain area, for easements totaling 58 acres in the same area. Detroit Edison Co., wants the land for an electric transmission line.

The power line will furnish a connection between existing facilities in northern Oakland County to the new Enrico Fermi atomic power generating plant at Monroe.

The $520 per acre for land in Holly, Bald Mountain and Pontiac Lake areas "contrasts strongly with the average cost of $112 per acre paid for the 9,118 acres purchased in these same three areas before 1960," said Charles E. Millar, chief of the department's lands division.

"The increase in cost demonstrates the importance of making any needed additional purchases before land prices are further inflated by subdivision and urban expansion," he said.

At its meeting, the commission will be asked to approve purchase of 400 acres for addition to Maple River state game area, at a cost of $19,000, and 39 acres for expansion of Grand Haven state game area, at a cost of $6,000. Purchase will be financed by federal funds accumulated by taxes on sporting arms and ammunition.

Press Trophy Top Award in Training Club Match

Over 100 dogs will be trying to win the Pontiac Press highest scoring dog trophy in the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club's annual match Sunday, April 15, at the CAI building on Williams Lake Rd.

★ ★ ★

All dogs entered in the match, whether it is in the low novice or top utility class, have a chance for The Press award. This means the trophy will go to the canine posting a perfect 200 or the one coming the closest to this figure.

Perfect scores are a rarity in any obedience match.

There will be classes in Novice A, Novice B, Open A, Open B, Graduate Novice, Brace and Utility. The judges will be Tom Cannon, Neil Newman and Eleanor Bennett.

Grace Stewart will be the chief ring Stewart. Charles Barnes is the match chairman.

In addition to The Press trophy, each class winner and placings in each class will have trophies. All proceeds will be donated to the Leader Dog building fund.

Springer Trial Opens Saturday

'Little National' Set for Glen Acres Club; Will End Sunday

The Southern Michigan Springer Spaniel Training Club will hold its 10th annual AKC Licensed Field Trial Saturday and Sunday, at Glen Acres Hunt Club near Clarkston.

This event which has come to be known as the "Little National" regularly brings together top field trial contenders from the East Coast, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin and Kansas.

Competition begins Saturday morning at 8:00 with concurrent stakes testing the abilities of Cockers on pheasants in one field, Springer puppies on pigeons in another.

Judges for the Open All-Age stakes are Tom Ford of Warren and Larry Gillingham of Milwaukee. The minor stakes will be judged by Rod Hoffmeyer of St. Clair Shores and Paulus Hoopfer of Highland Park. Keith Van Dusen, Detroit, is field trial chairman and William Lane, Grosse Pointe Farms, is Secretary.

Following the Springer puppy stake, other minor stakes will be the Limit for Springers only and the Shooting Dog in which handlers shoot over their own dogs as in upland game hunting, for Springers and Cockers.

The Springer Open All-Age first series begins after the lunch break on Saturday with field trial champions vying with newcomers and hopefuls for the judges' nod.

Sunday morning at 8:00 those dogs not eliminated return to run again in brace, each under the judge who did not see it the previous day.

★ ★ ★

At the end of the second series the judges again eliminate those dogs which didn't measure up and the third series begins with remaining dogs running singly under both judges. After further consideration the judges may request a water series or announce the winners.

★ ★ ★

Auto Electric Clinches Title in Bow League

Auto Electric clinched the championship of the Waterford Township Recreation Department's winter archery league when it defeated the Five Feathers, 4-2, at the Community Activities Building.

The decision gave the Auto team a 9½-game lead over runnerup Chiefs with Thursday the last night of shooting remaining on the schedule. The Chiefs shut out the Straight Arrows, 6-0.

Other results: Drayton Drug dropped from second to third when beaten by the Tomahawks, 4-2; and Waterford Fuel & Supply split with Lakeland Pharmacy, 3-3.

High individual scores: Rusty Walters, Drayton Drug—251 (men's freestyle); Mel Inglehart, Lakeland Pharmacy — 226 (men's instinctive); Doris Bentley, Five Feathers—104 (women's instinctive); Ron Shaw. Auto Eleteric 208 (junior freestyle); and Dan McNeil, Chiefs—163 (junior instructive).

1st Forest Fire Losses Suffered During March

Michigan suffered its first wild fire losses of the year during March as nearly 12 acres were burned in the Lower Peninsula according to the Conservation Department.

★ ★ ★

Most of the damage occurred in the Jackson and Imlay City districts where three fires burned 11.6 acres. One fire was reported in Gladwin district, damaging one-tenth of an acre.

Waterfowl Movie at PNH April 11

"Out of the North Woods," a color movie depicting the lives and habits of North American wild ducks and geese, will be shown Wednesday, April 11, in the Little Theater at Pontiac Northern High.

The film, being presented by the Pontiac Audubon Club, will start at 7:30 p.m. Admission will be free.

Featured in the film are breeding grounds in Alaska, British Columbia and Quebeck and wintering areas along the eastern seaboard of the United States.

Produced by American Motors Corp., the film has won two national awards.

Fox Bounty Repeal Now Being Debated

LANSING (UPI) — Although bills to increase fishing license fees have been killed in the legislature again this year, there is a vehicle currently before the House which would alleviate the Conservation Department's money problem to some extent.

A bill now being debated in the House would repeal the fox bounty paid out of the fish and game fund. The measure, which has already passed the Senate, would have the effect of restoring some $170,000 a year to the fund.

Senate proponents of the bill said the fox bounty was a useless expenditure of fish and game funds because it does not control the numbers of fox. The measure was approved in the Senate over arguments that the sale of hunting licenses would decline just that much more.

The bill may have rougher going in the House because the fox bounty repeal was tacked on as an amendment. The original measure merely changed certain trapping season in the Upper Peninsula and opponents argue that the bounty repealer should be a separate bill.

A bounty repeal bill was introduced in the House this year, but died in committee, as did an attempt to tack it onto another House measure.

LITTLE AFFECT

Even if the bounty is repealed, department officials say it will not save many jobs or significantly affect fish and game cutbacks.

The department said game and fish capital outlay programs and land acquisition will "stand still. Lake and stream improvement work will be slashed in half and additional clamps will be placed on fish and game research."

At present, the department plans to lay off 48 full-time employes by July 1. In addition, 47 seasonal workers will not be called back to their jobs and 20 positions which opened recently will remain unfilled.

Besides the lay-offs, the department said some employes will be demoted, "strictly for financial reasons."

★ ★ ★

The department called the planned lay-offs a "last resort" but said it has no alternative without new funds.

Seeks State Appeal in Martiny Decision

LANSING (UPI) — State conservation director Gerald E. Eddy today asked Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley to step into a case involving a lake level in Mecosta County.

Eddy asked the attorney general to prepare an appeal of a Mecosta County circuit court opinion which set the normal level of Martiny Lake at 993.8 feet above sea level and limited the department's lowering of the level by 18 inches.

"We view the action taken in this case as one of confiscating the sportsmen's interests through the simple expedient of establishing a legal or normal level for this wildlife flooding project," Eddy said in a letter to Kelley.

The Martiny Lake lands and facilities acquired by the department were purchased primarily for the protection of waterfowl, wildlife and fish, Eddy said.

"Proper game and fish management cannot be acomplished under any fixed lake level," he said.

Conservation Department officials attempted last year to lower the lake level but were held up by court action by shoreline property owners, which ended last week when the level-setting opinion was announced.

Eddie Can Sing: 'The Party's Over'

Shy Fisher Finds He's Only Part of Liz's Court

(Editor's Note — This is the first of three dispatches on the Elizabeth Taylor-Eddie Fisher separation by UPI Hollywood correspondent Vernon Scott, who knows them both well.)

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Eddie Fisher could sing "The Party's Over" today following announcement that his three-year marriage to Elizabeth Taylor had ended just as it began—scandalously.

The party was indeed over for the 33-year-old singer.

* * *

At the peak of his popularity as a television and recording star the curly haired Fisher gave up his "dream marriage" to Debbie Reynolds, left his two young children (one of them still in diapers), abandoned his video career and ceased making records — all for Elizabeth Taylor.

It was a great deal to throw away.

But Eddie, an introverted, almost shy individual for an entertainer, could not help himself. He was wildly in love with the widow of his best friend, Showman Mike Todd.

It was an all-consuming emotional involvement with Elizabeth Taylor, believed by many to be the most beautiful woman in the world.

If the term "love slave" were ever applicable it suited Eddie to a T. Basically Eddie, as I know him, is a decent man though perhaps not blessed with the best judgment. Leaving Debbie and his children cost him dearly. But he was powerless to resist Elizabeth's charms.

Almost as if hypnotized he fell under her spell.

OVERWHELMED

We talked in his Las Vegas Hotel room on May 12, 1959, as he dressed for his Jewish wedding ceremony to Elizabeth. He appeared to be overwhelmed by the fact that he would soon be marrying the fabulous glamour girl.

It was different with Debbie. When they were married Eddie was the big star and Debbie a fresh-scrubbed girl-next-door actress.

But now the tables were turned. Elizabeth was a superstar whose brilliance eclipsed Eddie's accomplishments. The light was so bright it blinded him to the realization that his fans, faithful for 10 years, would be repelled by his decision to leave Debbie in favor of the thrice-married brunette charmer.

* * *

As he adjusted his necktie for the ceremony Eddie said, "I've never been so excited in my life. I can't remember when I've been so tired either. But we're in love, and that's what counts."

* * *

Eddie was in love with Elizabeth. He continues to be.

But almost from the minute the marriage ceremony was completed Eddie began to learn that he was the husband of a movie star. The euphonious "Debbie and Eddie" quickly gave way to "Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Eddie Fisher." There was a world of difference.

Not then or at any time since was Miss Taylor ever referred to by her husband's name. And Liz did nothing to change the situation.

* * *

A small thing? Maybe. But to a proud man it was an infinitely demeaning symptom of what he had become . . . a consort.

* * *

As man and wife the couple traveled where Elizabeth's work took them, with time out only twice for Eddie's nightclub appearances in Las Vegas. But even in this there was a wrenching difference.

When he worked Eddie had to sing for his supper; a night club entertainer. When Liz worked it was on a huge soundstage with dozens of flunkies waiting on her like willing slaves. She was a queen in her own make-believe world. He was a gentleman of the court.

Taylor-Fisher Gossip Is Quiet

Film Friends Reluctant to Discuss Breakup of Romance

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The film colony has been strangely reluctant to give the world the benefit of its sage reflections on the breakup of Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher.

The place is naturally awash with gossip, but not much of it is for publication.

* *

Miss Taylor's second husband, actor Michael Wilding, said:

"I would like Eddie and Liz both to be happy, and it's a shame that they aren't."

A close friend of Fisher offered this comment from the refuge of anonymity: "Personally, he (Eddie) will be devastated . . . professionally, he's in trouble, too. As long as he can sing, he can get jobs in Las Vegas and other night spots. But his long suit was his youthful, light-hearted spirit. He may not sell so well as Pagliacci."

The concensus is that the scandal won't damage Mill Taylor's public image and, in fact, will probably make even more people want to see "Cleopatra." Richard Burton, her leading man in that epic, also has become her leading man in private life.

The Taylor-Fisher fissure elicited no comment from Twentieth Century-Fox, which is making "Cleopatra," or from actress Debbie Reynolds, whom Fisher left to marry Miss Taylor.

Senate OKs Bill for 'Day Parole'

Governor to Consider Measure to Let Inmates Take Jobs

LANSING (UPI) — Day parole of county prisoners would be allowed under a House bill approved by the Senate and sent to the governor for signing.

The measure was one of three passed by the Senate before members became embroiled in a tax debate.

Circuit judges could specify that prisoners be allowed on parole during the day to take jobs, visit a doctor or take schooling. The measure is aimed principally at aiding husbands and fathers with families to support.

* * *

Possession of six or more copies of obscene literature would be construed as possession with intent to sell under another House bill approved.

A third House measure passed would allow guardians of the estates of minors to serve as custodians of their securities.

A bill to shut down most retail stores in Michigan's 13 most populous counties on Sunday was reported out favorably by the Senate State Affairs Commission. The so-called Sunday closing bill lists specific items that can be sold.

AMENDMENTS

The measure does not apply to counties with a population of less than 130,000 unless action is taken by the board of supervisors.

* *

The bill was reported out with nine committee amendments. Sen. Perry W. Greene, R-Grand Rapids, committee chairman, said these are mostly clarifying amendments and do not materially change the bill.

* * *

The bill went to the foot of the calendar, where it now is eligible for debate. It is not expected to be taken up by the Senate, however, until the tax question is thrashed out.

Brazil's Leader Likes Western Principles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Brazilian President Joao Goulart told Congress today he is confident peaceful competition with communism "will show representatives democracy is the most perfect form of government for the preservation of individual liberty."

Addressing a joint session in Portuguese, Goulart reaffirmed Brazil's support of "the democratic principles which united the peoples of the West."

He praised the Alliance for Progress, but warned Congress not to expect "rigorously technical global planning" and "prior elimination of instability" by Latin American nations.

He said Brazil offers "ample possibilities for foreign private enterprise that wants to cooperate loyally for the development of the country."

In the field of public utilities, he said, "there are certain areas of friction that should be eliminated, since, by a natural phenomenon, they generate not only misunderstandings between the government and the franchised companies, but not infrequently misunderstandings between friendly countries."

Foreign-owned telephone companies in Rio De Janeiro and in 18 smaller cities in southern Brazil have been expropriated by state governments in the past two months.

Goulart's government has sought to bring about friendly settlements with the owners.

Residential Building Doubles in Waterford

Residential building activity in Waterford Township during March was more than double that of the same month a year ago, according to figures released Monday by the Township Building Department.

Permits for 25 homes were issued this year compared to only 12 residential building permits during the same period a year ago. The 1962 permits were valued at $404,590. Total valuation of the March 1961 permits was $165,150.

Total valuation of all building permits for the month just ended amounted to $493,363 as compared to $393,977 for the same month last year. There were 76 issued last month and 71 in March a year ago.

* * *

During the first quarter this year 130 building permits valued at $997,908 have been issued. In the same three-month period a year ago 139 permits were issued at a value of $891,351.

City Unit Hears Bond Ordinance

Proposal to Finance Water System Project Has No Big Changes

A revised $3.77-million bond ordinance to finance Pontiac water system improvements was read to city commissioners last night and will be up for final approval next Tuesday.

* * *

No major changes were made in the ordinance as it was introduced last week, Milton M. Thompson, representing the city's bonding attorney Claude H. Stevens, explained that the minor changes were so numerous that a new, revised ordinance was written rather than amendments made to the original.

The only point of contention last night was a clause stating that water service would be shut off to customers who had bills 30 days overdue.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry asked if the time limit could be lengthened and a notice required. Thompson and city administrators agreed to change the clause to require a notice from the city 30 days after a bill was due and shut off if the bill went unpaid 60 days.

* * *

The bonds, to mature over a 30-year period from 1965-95, would be paid entirely from water revenues.

There are more than 800 types and grades of grease.

Newspaper Claims Liz Needs 'Bottom Smacked'

LONDON (UPI) — The tabloid Daily Sketch said today that Elizabeth Taylor deserved to have "her bottom smacked" because of the breakup of her marriage to Eddie Fisher.

"Liz wants her bottom smacked," was the headline over the story, with another headline saying: "One of the four husbands should have done it."

Perimeter Road Around Pontiac May Start in '62

City Manager Robert A. Stierer, in a report to city administrators and commissioners this week, said that actual construction of the proposed perimeter road around downtown Pontiac may be under way before the end of 1962.

* * *

Stierer discussed plans for the perimeter road and I-75 freeway with Howard Hill, managing director of the Michigan State Highway Department, and staff members last week.

Stierer said highway department officials indicated right-of-way is scheduled to be cleared for construction Oct. 1 and that the department would advertise for construction bids about Nov. 14.

"Bid letting is scheduled for Dec. 12 and actual construction should begin within four weeks of that date," said Stierer.

Advertising for bids for I-75 sections east of Pontiac from Walton Boulevard to Adams and Adams to 11-Mile Road is scheduled for June 13 and July 18 respectively.

Drop Charges Facing Man in Fatal Hit-Run Accident

Charges stemming from a fatal hit-run accident last month against a Wyandotte man were dismissed in Waterford Township Justice Court this morning due to insufficient evidence.

Peter Michalec, 39, stood mute on both counts, manslaughter and leaving the scene of an injury accident. The preliminary examination before Justice John E. McGrath ended just before noon.

Howard Donker, 53, of 4195 Solvay St., Waterford Township was hit by a car March 16 at 7:30 p.m. on Dixie Highway near Silver Lake Road. He was pronounced dead at Pontiac General Hospital 40 minutes later.

A witness to the accident told police the victim was struck by a 1959 or 1960 Buick driven by a man 45 to 50 wearing glasses. The driver got out of the car to look at the damaged right fender and then drove on, the witness added.

* * *

Michalec and his attorney, William L. Cahalan, former Wayne County assistant prosecutor, appeared at the Pontiac State Police Post the morning of March 19. Cahalan told police he believed his client's 1960 Buick "might have been involved in the accident."

Arraigned that afternoon on charges of manslaughter and leaving the scene of an injury accident, Michalec stood mute.

Still in Khrushchev's Favor or Not?

What Happened to Mme. Furtseva?

MOSCOW (UPI)—Foreign observers speculated today that minister of culture, Ekaterina Furtseva, the Soviet Union's only woman in top government, may have slipped from favor because she became too "Western" in her personal outlook and operation of her ministry.

This is one of the rumors circulating among Westerners in a Moscow guessing game on what is happening to Mrs. Furtseva—and why—in the wake of her removal last autumn from the lofty presidium of the Soviet Communist party.

TIME WILL TELL

A clue to whether the blue-eyed 51-year-old culture minister, once considered an important protege of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, is seriously out of favor may come when the newly elected Supreme Soviet meets and the composition of the Soviet government is revised.

In the meantime, speculation about her has been rife and some of the guessing has been pretty wild.

One rumor is that she tried to commit suicide when she was removed from the party presidium last autumn. Another says she did not attempt suicide but was so shocked by her removal from powerful presidium she suffered a heart attack.

According to other speculation Mrs. Furtseva—once reported to have insisted on restoring a rock 'n' roll parody number in the repertoire of the Moiseyev dancing troupe—had offended other presidium members by her "Western" outlook.

In the view of informed observers here, all this is purest speculation. In her public appearances, Mrs. Furtseva has appeared cheerful, composed and healthy. An American who saw her recently on a cultural matter said she seemed thinner than when he had last seen her several years ago, but she looked well and was "very much at ease."

Interest in next week's Supreme Soviet meeting will focus on whether Mrs. Furtseva will remain minister of culture. She no longer is a member of the Supreme Soviet, having failed to be re-elected this month. Ministers are customarily, although not necessarily, deputies of the Supreme Soviet, or parliament.

Even if she fails to retain her ministry this in itself may not conclusively prove she is out of favor. There have been reports that her ministry may be reorganized as a state committee with a possible shift in her responsibilities.

It is her job to oversee the cultural exchange agreements with foreign countries which include exchanges of artists, dance groups, films and orchestras.

Although not described as "an intellectual" she is said to take a lively interest in the contemporary trends of the younger Soviet writers, poets and artists.

★ ★ ★

She is described by people close to her as being sympathetic with the desires of the younger artists and writers, and is credited with granting them more leeway in their creations than did previous overseers of Soviet culture.

★ ★ ★

Sources close to the ministry of culture say she was responsible for reinstating a dance parody on rock 'n' roll in the repertoire of the Moiseyev dancers. Her predecessor, Nikolai Mikhailov, ordered it cut out, but she restored it sight unseen, according to the sources.

'I LOVED IT'

When she saw it herself for the first time at the Chaikovsky Hall in Moscow, she roared with laughter and people sitting close to her say they heard her say, "I loved it."

Those who meet Mme. Furtseva are invariably impressed by the warm interest she takes in them.

In recent years she has paid increasing attention to her looks. She has stopped braiding her hair for a modified French bun, and now wears fashionably cut clothes and smart footwear instead of severe black dresses and stumpy heels.

What caused her removal from the presidium is likely to remain a mystery.

Would Ban Strikebreakers

Bill Hits Floor of Senate

LANSING (AP)—A bill to outlaw professional strikebreakers moved a step nearer passage today.

The Senate State Affairs Committee released the House-approved measure yesterday and sent it to the floor for debate.

★ ★ ★

It would prohibit hiring of a professional strikebreaker, defined as "one who customarily and repeatedly offers himself for employment in the place of employes involved in a strike or lockout." Professional strikebreakers also would be banned from the state.

Chief backer of the bill is the Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions.

Elmer White, executive secretary of the Michigan Press Association, said the organization of daily and weekly newspapers "is neither opposing nor supporting the bill."

"We think it is needless, harmless legislation," he said. "There isn't anybody in the state who hires professional strikebreakers as far as we know and we think this bill is a slap on the wrist of employers."

Similar bills have been introduced and defeated for three years.

George M. Van Peursem, Republican state chairman, said he had urged passage of the bill.

★ ★ ★

"Republicans don't have a fixation against passage of legislation sought by the labor unions," he said. "If it is reasonable, we will support it."

Whittaker Pays Ex-Colleagues Visit in Session

★ ★ ★

Whittaker, who retired Sunday, returned to the court's public chamber and sat in a front seat for a spectator's view of an argument session. His eight former colleagues heard arguments on the constitutionality of saying of prayer in public schools.

★ ★ ★

Whittaker, who was hospitalized from March 6 to 23, looked well. He smiled broadly and nodded to justices and friends before the two hour legal debate began.

Then he listened intently but obviously relieved that this time he did not have to help hammer out the final decision.

Trading Is Fairly Active

Motors, Chemicals Up on Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors and chemicals improved in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was fairly active.

Gains and losse of fractions to around a point prevailed among most key stocks.

The list was recovering selectively from yesterday's sharp decline. First-hour trading was fairly vigorous—the best of this week—and showed that some investors believed yesterday's drop may have been a climax to the almost unbroken series of market declines.

Encouraging news included reports of February gains in total business sales and installment buying.

Oils, rails, tobaccos, drugs and nonferrous metals were mixed. Aerospace issues declined mildly. Electrical equipments were a bit higher.

International Business Machines, which at yesterday's low was 100 points below its 1961 high, recouped 3 points.

Chadbourn Gotham, the most active gainer of the prior session as it responded to news of its patent for runless, seamless, nylon stockings, was up at the start on a huge block of 40,000 shares, then showed a fractional net loss a profits were taken.

Prices were mixed in moderately active trading on the American Stock Exchange. General Development was heavily traded and up a fraction. Aiken Chemical, Draper, Ross Products and R. C. Williams gained a point or so. National Rubbery Machinery added about 2. Down about a point were Aerojet-General, Gulton Industries and Tampa Electric. Other losers included BVD, Creole Petroleum, Wentworth Manufacturing and Sherwin-Williams.

Bond Prices Gain Sharply

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted long bonds higher by ⅝ to 1/2 of a point. Intermediates gained about 4/32 in general. Activity was moderate.

One veteran dealer said the improvement was due to reported congressional criticism of the Federal Reserve on the ground that the bank's open market activities in the long end of the market were not aggressive enough.

Treasury bonds have been higher all year and are now trading at their best levels in eight months.

Pacific Shots Limited but Varied

AF and Navy Jostling for N-Test Spots

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force and Navy reportedly are jostling for a greater share of the limited number of nuclear weapons tests to be conducted in the Pacific later this month.

The final decision on the specific make-up of the tests is up to President Kennedy, acting on the recommendation of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and scientific experts from the Pentagon, the Atomic Energy Commission and the White House.

There has been no official word on the number of tests planned, but it is understood there will be about three dozen shots. Some will come at altitudes of several hundred miles.

★ ★ ★

Sources said there is virtually no chance that any missiles which may be fired by combat crews in the upcoming tests will pass over populated areas of the United States. In all likelihood, they will be fired from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California out over the Pacific.

TESTS OF DEVICES

Some of the tests will involve actual weapons systems. These probably will include missiles with their warheads fired from land, submarine and aircraft platforms.

A major part of the test series will involve proof tests of research and development devices, as distinguished from complete weapons. Scientists will study how blast, heat and radiation act on submarine hulls, underground missile launching pads, and the like.

Some shots will be aimed at exploring effects on radar and communications which are vital in missile offense and defense.

All the services have developed a range of nuclear weapons systems since the last series of U.S. atmospheric tests in 1958. Service experts say they are confident the warheads will work, but they are anxious to try them out mated with missiles and other vehicles.

The Army is believed to have tested some of its smaller nuclear weapons in recent underground tests in Nevada.

The Forces and Navy nuclear weapons do not lend themselves to this kind of testing for the best evaluations, but need workouts in the atmosphere, officials said.

Asks Approval of Peronist Wins

Powerful Party Won't Support "Illegal and Unjust' Government

BUENOS AIRES (AP)— Peronist leader Andres Framini today demanded "absolute and unconditional" recognition of the Peronists' sweeping victories in the March 18 elections.

In his first public statement since Argentina's military command ousted President Arturo Frondizi and replaced him with Senate President Jose Maria Guido, Framini said the Peronists were "willing to participate in the national reconstruction, but not to give legitimacy through our support to an unjust, illegal and antinational regime."

OFFER TO FORGET

Framini, a trade union leader whose victory in the race for governor of Buenos Aires Province was swept away by government decree, said that if the Peronist victories are recognized, the Peronists offer as a contribution to national peace their "irrevocable decision to forget the harm and persecutions suffered in the recent crisis."

★ ★ ★

He also called for the liberation of all political prisoners, amnesty for all exiled Argentines—presumably including ex-dictator Juan Peron, a new economic program to replace Frondizi's austerity and a review of all obligations considered harmful to Argentine sovereignty.

He did not elaborate on the last point but nationalist circles contend agreements with United States and U.S. business are unfavorable to the expansion of local industry.

In a recent interview Framini denied that the Peronists oppose U.S. investments in Argentina in principle, but said they oppose investments that take a disproportionate profit out of the country.

The Peronist resurgence in the National Assembly and provincial elections March 18 — they drew more than 2.5 million votes, or 35 per cent of the total—touched off the crisis that brought down Frondizi.

Survey Indicates Fallout Danger Is Exaggerated

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (UPI) — A six-year study conducted by the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory indicates that the dangers from nuclear fallout have been exaggerated.

The report, released yesterday, said the fallout of cesium 137 was so insignificant compared to normal variations in natural background radiation "as to hardly justify any large measure of concern."

Cesium 137 is one of the radioactive products freed in detonations of nuclear and thermonuclear weapons.

The report did not deal with the effects of strontium 90, but a spokesman for the laboratory said there is a close connection between the two elements.

He said the results of the cesium sruvey indicate the effects of strontium 90 fallout also would be insignificant.

Troubled Financier Calls in Loan Firm

PECOS, Texas (AP) —Embattled financier Billie Sol Estes called in outside help Tuesday for his complicated farming enterprises.

Estes, free under $100,000 bond on criminal charges and target of growing civil suits, said Anderson, Clayton & Co. of Houston will take over operations of his cotton farms, valued at up to $7.5 million.

★ ★ ★

Associates reported Estes, 37, continued lengthy conferences on reorganizing his affairs. He has said his debts total $32 million, compared to assets of $20 million.

★ ★ ★

Anderson, Clayton's executive vice president, Depuy Bateman Jr., said in Houston his firm has nothing to do with any other interests of the Pecos financier. Estes also has a big liquid fertilizer business and elevators containing millions of bushels of stored government grain.

Chrysler Corp. received the largest single contract, a $493,098 order for 336 military cars.

Other successful bidders for contracts to furnish vehicles and equipment to the Army were Ray Whyte Products, American Motors Corp., White Motor Co., Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Geranco Manufacturing Co., MacKenzie Awning Co., and Toll and Henson Co.

Women Save Boy Stung 150 Times at Bee Hive

UNION CITY, Calif. (AP)—Two housewives are credited with saving Robin Scott Wilkerson, 5, from possible death from bee stings.

The youngster was attacked Tuesday when he lifted the cover from a hive in a neighbor's yard. Barbara Van Derveen and Valerie Shipp ran to the screaming boy and sprayed him with a garden hose.

The boy's father, John, rushed him to a private physician. Robin was treated for 150 stings.

Claim U.S. Probe of Illegal Use of Food Stamps

DETROIT (AP — A federal grand jury today was reported investigating alleged illegal use of government food stamps by individuals and firms.

Government officials refused to comment.

Robert J. Temple, assistant welfare superintendent, said he had reported to the Agriculture Department the case of a woman who he said told of being approached by a loan company representative suggesting that she pay off her loan to the firm in food stamps.

The federal government, in aiding local welfare programs, distributes food stamps in Detroit and other cities which recipients use to pay for part of their food at stores.

4 Firemen Killed in Truck Blast

Chemical Explosion Sets Off Fire Destroying Connecticut Warehouse

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — "My God, this thing is going to blow!" Philip Marcelline shouted.

Moments later, a truckload of chemicals exploded outside a storage plant, killing four firemen.

The firemen had been called to put out what started as a small fire on the truck. After the blast, the fire spread to the Van Tassel Storage Co. Additional explosions in the warehouse demolished the building.

One body was found 150 feet away. Three others were thrown over the top of the building by the force of the blast.

STARTED FIRE

Authorities said the initial fire on the truck probably started when a highly inflammable chemical, methyl ethyl ketone, used as an industrial solvent, spilled.

Marcelline was one of four men unloading the chemicals from the truck.

Killed were Capt. William J. Sheridan, 47, Carl Burke, 34, Leonard M. Counihan, 45, and Edward Romano, 37.

Four other persons were injured, including two firemen.

BIGGEST EAR IN THE WORLD — This 340-ton antenna or "ear" has successfully picked up a whisper six miles away in a major step toward worldwide television satellite communication. The "ear" will both transmit signals to, and receive signals from a Telstar satellite to be launched from Cape Canaveral late in May. Workmen standing on the framework reveals the size of the 177-foot long structure now at Andover, Me.

Mercury Cabin to Be Stripped

NASA Plans to Dump Expendable Items for Longer Missions

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP) — The Mercury spacecraft will be stripped slightly for its one-day mission next year.

According to a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman, the four spacecraft now on order for one-day or 18 orbit flights early next year will have a variety of modifications.

"All items to be removed are primarily expendable," the NASA official said.

A major piece of equipment to be scrapped is a 75-pound periscope. NASA says that the astronaut can do the required visual sighting through portholes of his spacecraft.

TO BE YANKED

Other equipment to be yanked are mostly back-up recovery items, such as underwater (SOFAR) bombs; a backup recovery beacon, one of two telemetry systems, and one command receiver.

Items to be added will be more electrical sources—including 14 pounds of batteries and another bottle of oxygen.

The present three-orbit spacecraft has a 56-hour supply of oxygen. One additional bottle will allow for the 18 orbit mission plus any emergency requirement, the space agency says.

McDonnell Aircraft Corp., builders of the spacecraft, will deliver the first of the newer versions late this year. The initial 18-orbit flight is planned early in 1963—possibly in February.

Posters Shout Warning

Britain Attacks Smoking

LONDON (AP)—The British government today launched a hard-hitting poster campaign against cigarette smoking.

More than 400,000 posters were dispatched to all parts of the nation.

The drive started as a result of last month's report by the Royal College of Physicians that there is a direct connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

The government is using three different posters. Across the top of each is the word danger!"

"The more cigarettes you smoke the greater the risk of death from lung cancer, bronchitis or heart disease," one poster continues.

The second version:

"Heavy cigarette smokers are 30 times more likely to die of lung cancer" than nonsmokers."

★ ★ ★

The third:

"Deaths from lung cancer are nearly five times more than 20 years ago and they are still rising. The more cigarettes you smoke, the greater the risk."

The texts were all taken from the physicians' report.

Hawaii Needs Food on Ships

Governor Asks JFK to Declare Islands State of Emergency

HONOLULU (AP) — Gov. William F. Quinn declared Hawaii in a state of food emergency Tuesday night and called on President Kennedy to authorize military transportation for relief.

Quinn also pleaded with both sides of the West Coast shipping strike to agree to unloading of eight strikebound ships in Honolulu harbor.

The Matson freighters are laden with more than 30,000 tons of food and other items for strike-strapped business on all the islands.

★ ★ ★

In his fourth appeal to President Kennedy since the strike began March 16, Quinn said there is two weeks or less supply of 20 staple foods.

★ ★ ★

Quinn said the state of emergency was declared because many businesses have nearly exhausted their food supplies.

Quinn appealed for cooperation from the leaders of the disputing parties—Morris Weisberger, head of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, one of the three striking unions, and Paul St. Sure, president of the Pacific Maritime Association.

Union longshoremen hired by the U.S. marshal unloaded 371 tons of flour yesterday from the struck Hawaiian Planter. The action was taken under a federal court order.

Longshoremen are not on strike, but are refusing to cross picket lines of the Sailors Union of the Pacific, Marine Firemen and the Marine Cooks and Stewards.

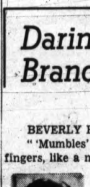
Darin Visits 'Mumbles'--- Brando One Step Ahead

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal. — Bobby Darin had a devilish idea.

"'Mumbles' is working next door," Bobby snapped his fingers, like a man hit by a sudden brilliant inspiration. "Boy, do I admire him! Let's go crash his set."



WILSON

Bobby and his wife Sandra Dee are shooting "If a Man Answers" at Universal, and on the adjoining set, "The Ugly American" is grinding, starring "Mumbles" — Marlon Brando.

"I don't know," one of the studio gents said, gravely, "The 'Mumbles' set is supposed to be closed." He looked at me. "Do you know 'Mumbles'?"

"Yeah—and he doesn't like reporters," I said. "Come on." Bobby thrust on his hat and snapped his fingers and led the way. "I never even met him. But I sneaked on his set once and watched, and he's terrific."

We came to the studio door and opened it quietly.

"Walk like grips," Bobby ordered. So we strolled in unconcernedly and Bobby whispered to one of the assistant directors, "Where's 'Mumbles'?

"Home," the guy said. "Not working today."

"Nuts," said Bobby.

Thus a great idea collapsed.

Bobby told me as we mourned the death of the stunt, that he and his bride Sandy are very happy together—even making a picture together playing husband and wife.

TV Weathercasters Picking Up Critics

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — With the blooming of the first daffodil and the return of the urge to get out of doors, the chatty band of television weather reporters start picking up stern critics—people whose business is affected by predictions of bad weather.

★ ★ ★

Sometimes, it appears, forecasts are inaccurate. Sometimes viewers misunderstand those evening meteorological chalk-talks. The result is that outings to the beach, motor trips or tickets to outdoor shows are canceled—needlessly.

COMPLAINS TO FCC

Last summer the head of a large travel bureau became so exercised about what he called "dramatized but misleading" television weather forecasts that he fired off a complaining telegram to the Federal Communications Commission.

★ ★ ★

There have been reports from beach resorts about concessionaires left with huge supplies of unconsumed hot dogs and hamburgers when anticipated crowds failed to arrive after weather forecasts inaccurately predicting stormy weather.

PREFER 'SECRETS'

What these people prefer, apparently, is for weather reporters to inform the audience what the weather is doing at the moment (which they know anyway) and to make a big secret about the future—an unlikely situation.

★ ★ ★

You don't hear these rumblings during the winter, when the forecasts are just as likely to goof. Forecasts of poor weather then are likely to make money for businessmen. During the past winter alone, this viewer bought new tire chains and had them put on—and taken off—three times after television weather reporters flew warnings of storms and blizzards that—happily—never arrived.

Interim Mayor Wins Full Term in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Victor H. Schiro, a dapper insurance broker, soundly defeated his Republican opponent for a full four-year term as mayor of New Orleans.

Schiro, 58, has served as interim mayor for the past eight months.

His Republican opponent, E. Ross Buckley, 40, tried to capitalize on the segregation issue—which Schiro used in his primary fight—to score an upset in this traditionally Democratic deep South city.

Schiro polled 81,623 votes in complete returns from the 351 precincts in yesterday's general election. Buckley got 19,503—nearly four times more than his party's registered strength. Less than half of the 251,000 registered voters balloted.

Vote on School Merger

HOWARD CITY (AP)—Voters of Sand Lake and Howard City school districts were balloting today on proposed consolidation of their units into a single district.

Princess Grace, Tourists Instead of Algeria

Paris Seeks Diversion as Trouble Continues

By TOM A. CULLEN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

PARIS (NEA) — Blue-eyed Princess Grace of Monaco stares from every newsstand as Frenchman murders Frenchman in Algiers and Franco-Moslem peace hangs in the balance.

Grace Kelly has pushed the Algerian war to the back pages as glossy magazines discuss such momentous questions as "Is Princess Grace suffering from seven-year itch, is she hard up for cash or merely bored?"

A stranger viewing newsstand displays might conclude that Parisians are callous people with a short memory for war.

Such, however, is not the case. For Parisians, the Algerian war is not yet over but has merely entered a new fratricidal phase. Therefore, what happens in the make-believe worlds of Monaco and Hollywood is welcome relief from the horrors of civil war.

Pictures of the lovely princess help to blot out other images such as the bodies of women and children mowed down by panicky troops in a recent Algerian street riot.

This explains why Paris is looking forward eagerly to Easter and opening of the tourist season which will include a brilliant music festival at Versailles and an exhibition at the Louvre called "Ten Centuries of French Gems."

However, the Algerian trouble refuses to be buried.

TABLES TURNED

As I write I can see from my hotel window a policeman on the sidewalk opposite guarding the apartment of a Tunisian politician condemned to death by the OAS. The same policeman was guarding the same apartment when I visited Paris two months ago.

The plastic bombers are at work again. Fifteen bombs exploded the night of my arrival here as a reminder that not all OAS terrorists have been rounded up.

Only the targets have changed. This time generals are catching hell instead of left-wing editors, conservative politicians are having their windows blown out instead of radical school teachers.

But the cowardly technique of striking in the dark is the same, and fanatical high school students are still being used for the dirty work of actually planting the bombs.

Spectators missed death by minutes when a plastic bomb exploded in a movie house specializing in Russian films. Fortunately the house had just emptied. As it was, rows of seats were ripped out.

No one here knows how long such outrages will continue, but domestic politics are more predictable.

The editors and politicians I have talked to agree De Gaulle will get a massive confidence vote when the French go to the polls April 8 to approve the Algerian cease fire. In fact, De Gaulle emerges from the Algerian crisis as a master politician.

The referendum is so worded that the voter is called upon not only to ratify the Algerian peace but to give De Gaulle plenary powers.

Thus, De Gaulle has the politicians in a cleft stick. They dare not vote against him for fear of appearing to oppose Algerian peace. Even Communists are forced to vote yes.

The referendum may boomerang, however. I asked a leader of the Gaullist Party what are the chances of DeGaulle being repudiated after the referendum just as Premier Pierre Mendes-France was repudiated after ending the Indo-China War and as Churchill was thrown out of office after World War II.

The Gaullist leader agreed that De Gaulle was more isolated than ever politically and that people have started to grumble. He added:

"But for De Gaulle the Algerian cease fire is merely a prelude to grandeur. Now that his hands are no longer tied in Algeria he is free to help France realize her destiny in Europe and the world. For four years he has been marking time. Now he can start to build the future."

'MUST DRAG NATION'

What if France is fed up with grandeur, I asked.

★ ★ ★

"Then De Gaulle will have to drag the nation along with him, kicking and screaming," the politician replied with a twinkle in his eye.

Whether or not the nation consents to De Gaulle's grandiose schemes, the referendum marks the end of the present political truce.

After that it will be politics as usual.

Absentee Ballots Now Ready for April Election

Absentee voter ballots are now available at City Hall for the April 16 general election, according to City Clerk Olga Barkeley.

The deadline for picking up ballots is Saturday, April 14, at 2 p.m. The city clerk's office, usually closed Saturdays, will remain open that day to issue ballots.

The ballots are for any registered voters who will be out of town or unable to go to the polls April 16. The clerk's office closes at 5 p.m. weekdays.

The April election will see seven city commissioners elected. Also on the ballot are two proposals concerning a new pension plan for police and firemen and rabies vaccinations for dogs in Pontiac.

He Gets His Big Fish by Personal Endeavor

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Determined David Fekishazy, 13, didn't let the big one get away on the opening day of the New York state trout season.

Fully clothed, the boy dived into a creek and grabbed an 18-inch trout with his hands after the fish squirmed off his hook.

Martin had been a federal judge since 1935 when he was appointed for the Western District of Tennessee by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. He had served for 19 years as president of the now defunct Southern Baseball Association.

Smoke Billows From Nevada Blaze

AP Photofax

BURNING HOTEL — This aerial view shows a fire at the New Golden Hotel in Reno, Nev., raging out of control yesterday. Today the recently remodeled building was a mass of charred walls and gaming equipment. The death toll is uncertain, but many guests are reported missing.

Probe Rubble of Reno Hotel

Death Toll Uncertain After 10-Hour Blaze; Many Guests Missing

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Fallen floors and inner walls and charred gambling equipment formed a blackened mass for searchers to probe today after a 10-hour hotel fire in the downtown casino district. The death toll couldn't be determined until wrecking crews topple dangerously weakened walls later in the day.

★ ★ ★

Authorities said an unidentified middle-aged woman had perished in the blaze which destroyed the historic and newly remodeled New Golden Hotel.

★ ★ ★

But three hotel entertainers and more than a score of guests were unaccounted for at a late hour Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

"It doesn't take much smoke to kill, and there's a hell of a lot of it in that building," a fire chief said, fearing some of the guests had been trapped in the four-story building. Seventeen persons were injured.

★ ★ ★

Firemen sprayed the ruins during the night.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

But as soon as the fire was out, business resumed its usual hectic pace at gambling palaces just across an alley from the hotel. Some neighboring buildings were damaged in the area on Center Street, just off Virginia Street and separated from the largest casinos by Douglas Alley.

★ ★ ★

The fire broke out Tuesday morning, apparently from an exploding basement boiler or acetylene tank. A Forest Service plane bombed the building with a fire-retardant solution after five hours but the hotel continued to burn.

★ ★ ★

A front wall collapsed into the street, and the rear wall also fell. Upper floors crashed to street level. The casino became a heap of collapsed gaming tables and slot machines.

To Meet Tax Board, Discuss Problems

City commissioners will meet with the Tax Board of Review this month to discuss tax assessment problems and procedures.

The joint meeting, and another of commissioners alone to be held later, were requested by commissioners at their meeting last night.

Commissioner Winford E. Bottom opened a discussion of tax assessments with a request that the commission hold a special meeting alone later this month.

Bottom said he felt the commission should study tax assessments on Saginaw Street properties in the central business district, industrial assessments and "any unnecessary expenses in our budget."

Commissioner William H. Taylor Jr. supported Bottom and suggested that a special session be held first with members of the board of review after the board concludes its current hearings and files a final report.

'GOOD IDEA'

"I think it would be a good idea to sit down with them and review the problems they have encountered this year," Taylor said.

Commissioners and City Manager Robert A. Stierer agreed to arrange a meeting with the board, which should be concluding hearings sometime this week.

After that, commissioners will delve into the areas of city finance, the budget, assessing procedures and relations with industry, commissioners agreed.

Recently, a group of downtown property owners appealed to the board for a cut of up to two-thirds in the assessed value of Saginaw Street properties.

According to City Finance Director Marvin Alward, the city will have to borrow money shortly to finance operations until the July tax collection. The problem of Pontiac's annual Jan. 1-Dec. 31 budget structure, financed by a July tax collection, will come under study.

The city has long been faced with the problem of having to approve a budget in January, three months before it knows what income will be for that year.

Faced with a possible decline in the city's total assessed valuation due to loss of tax base downtown during the urban renewal program, assessed values elsewhere may bear study and possible revision upwards, city officials feel.

To Extend Buses to Center, Mall

Pontiac Transit Corp. Tells Plans to Service Areas Starting April 23

In answer to growing appeals from city commissioners for bus service to the Oakland County Service Center and Pontiac Mall Shopping Center, Neel B. Pilson, general manager of Pontiac Transit Corp., today announced service will be extended to these areas beginning April 23.

★ ★ ★

Exact details of the routes and time schedule will be made available soon, Pilson said.

★ ★ ★

Service to the center and Mall has been under study for several months. Bus officials feel the run would be supported financially once the Mall is opened.

★ ★ ★

Bus service originally had been planned to begin May 1 with the scheduled grand opening. It was moved to April 23 after commissioners asked bus officials to initiate service before May 1 if possible.

Free Parking Starts at 5 P.M. Tomorrow

Free evening parking on municipal off-street parking lots will go into effect in downtown Pontiac at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The free parking for shoppers is being made possible through an agreement between the city and a group of downtown businessmen.

The business group will pay the city $750 each month for the lots. Free parking will be available on all lots beginning at 5 every weekday evening.

Final preparations are being made today to provide proper signs indicating the free parking. City Commissioners approved the plan last week.

Latest Tax Plan Fails to Impress Legislature

Special Joint Session Called by Governor to Discuss 'Grave' Matter

LANSING (AP) — Michigan legislators, apparently little impressed with the latest tax reform plan to be tossed out for consideration, groped in every direction today for a solution to the state's worsening financial ills.

There was no sure sign yet of what form it would take.

Gov. Swainson asked yesterday for a special joint session of the House and Senate tomorrow morning to talk about what he called a "matter of grave importance to all the people of Michigan."

Legislative sources said the governor indicated he would urge lawmakers to come to grips quickly on a plan to start pouring new revenue into the debt-ridden treasury.

Tax Plans Compared, Page 36

A hectic day of tax maneuvers also produced these developments:

1. Rep. Rollo G. Conlin, R- Tipton, chairman of the House Taxation Committee, came up with a tax plan keyed to a 3 per cent flat rate tax on personal and corporate income and a 1 per cent sales tax for counties.

2. Gov. Swainson and Democratic leaders commended Conlin's efforts at tax reform but flatly rejected his specific proposals.

3. House Republicans named a seven-man committee to produce within the next few days a number of alternate tax plans that the legislature might adopt.

4. Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, working in the opposite direction, said he would propose a plan too enable the state to save nearly $50 million. He did not outline the details.

Conlin, strictly on his own, proposed an income tax, repeal of the business activities and intangibles taxes, reduction of the corporation franchise fee from four to two mills, and repeal of one cent of the sales and use tax. It would net the state $100 million a year.

NUISANCE TAXES

He also proposed re-enactment of some $30 million in "nuisance" levies on cigarettes, beer, liquor and telephone bills to furnish some immediate cash.

Finally, he recommended leg-

Calls Self Victim of Collaboration

Walker Blasts U.S. Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, told investigating senators today he "was a scapegoat of an unwritten policy of collaboration and collusion with the international Communist conspiracy."

★ ★ ★

The Army veteran lashed out at all officials, from the President down, in an appearance before a special Senate investigation into charges that anti-Communist activities of military leaders have been muzzled.

"With this nation's survival at stake, our armed forces are paralyzed by our national policy of 'no win' and retreat from victory," Walker said.

"I, myself, am a victim of this 'no win' policy. I was charged with nothing. I have been found guilty of nothing. I have been punished for nothing."

Walker was relieved of command of the 24th Army Division in Germany last year and admonished after his troop indoctrination program came into controversy.

The Army found he had made derogatory statements about prominent Americans, including former President Harry S. Truman and Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The old Senate Office Building caucus room was filled with spectators as Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the special committee, banged his gavel for order.

Walker was sworn to tell the truth and, taking the witness chair, read slowly from a 32-page prepared statement which disputed most charges against him and lashed out at his critics.

"The result of what happened to me is that there is today no effective program of psychological warfare training in the United States armed services," Walker said.

"The traditional civilian control of the military has been perverted and extended into a commissar-like training in the United States armed services.

Some April Showers Will Bring Flowers

April showers forecast for late today or tonight will bring tulips and daffodils a poppin'. Some are now several inches above ground and forsythia and flowering quince buds are fast swelling.

Temperatures for the next five days will hit highs in the upper 50s. The lows will average 38 to 40, the weatherman said. Rainfall will total .1 of an inch or less in a few showers about the middle of the period.

Southwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles per hour today will become northwesterly Thursday.

Thirty-one was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 57 at 1 p.m.

Teamsters Here Get Subpoenas

Officials Involved Not Identified; Move Comes After Records Probe

U.S. District Court subpoenas have been served to Pontiac teamsters union officials as a result of a federal investigation of Local 614's records, it was learned today.

The attorney, William P. French is due in Detroit from Washington, D.C., later today. He is expected to have details of a report compiled by federal investigators.

Their investigation of Local 614's financial and organizational records for 1959-61 was ordered last December by U.S. District Judge Thomas P. Thornton in Detroit.

The judge's order culminated an 11-month court struggle over whether the teamsters should be forced to hand over union records to verify financial reports by locals.

Teamsters' attorneys had con-

Pair Stands Mute in Vandalism Case

Two Pontiac youths accused of peppering store windows with shots from a BB gun stood mute in Circuit Court on a charge of malicious injury to a building.

Judge Stanton Dondero entered a plea of innocent for the pair, Ray Trusler, 22, of 67 Tregent St., and Jose DeLaRosa, 18, of 1023 Meadowlawn Ave.

They are free on $100 bond awaiting trial.

Trusler and DeLaRosa are formally charged with breaking nine windows at the Pontiac Retail Store, 65 Mt. Clemens Road. Police said damage there was about $500.

The two defendents were arrested last week after more than 50 Pontiac store owners reported BB damage to windows, totaling more than $10,000.

Type of Home Offered to Spacemen

Veto Free Homes for Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP)—America's seven astronauts have had their minds made up for them; they are not going to accept $24,000 homes plus furnishings offered by the great heart of Texas.

★ ★ ★

Under tutelage from higher-ups and second-thought advice from their lawyer, the spacemen decided Tuesday it might be misunderstood if they accepted the new houses from the Houston Home Builders Association.

None of the spacemen was present when the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced at a news conference that the astronauts were regretfully declining the offer.

But Lt. Col. John A. Shorty Powers, the "voice of the astronauts," was there, as was C. Leo DeOrsey, business adviser for the spacemen.

It was DeOrsey who had decided it was perfectly ethical for the spacemen to accept the houses in Houston, which is soon to be the home of a new $90-million manned space flight center.

Then the White House, the Pentagon and NASA began to have qualms, especially after the situation was highly publicized.

So DeOrsey got in touch with NASA and received word, which was, in effect, thumbs down. He communicated with Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., the nation's first man in orbit, who passed word to the other six astronauts.

As a matter of fact the spacemen don't seem to have been very active either in accepting the offer in the first place or in rejecting it in the second. They left it in the hands of their lawyer, DeOrsey.

Asks Conference to Fight N-Arms

GENEVA (AP) — The United States today called on the 17-nation disarmament conference to tackle immediately the problem of ridding the world of nuclear weapons.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean suggested the conference set up a group of experts to study the problem of demolishing all stockpiles of mass destruction weapons.

"It is not too soon to begin this study," he said. "Indeed, we cannot conclude a treaty providing for unconditional elimination of nuclear weapons until this study has been completed."

★ ★ ★

NEVER BE ALLOWED

Zorin charged that the West, in insisting on control posts in Soviet territory, was seeking to obtain information on Soviet military targets. He reiterated that such international enforcement arrangements will never be allowed by the Soviet Union.

Dean said the Soviet nuclear tests last autumn had taken the world by surprise and must have been prepared well in advance.

This is one of the reasons, he said, why the United States is not prepared to take any Soviet test ban pledges on trust and insists on international control provisions.

The United States, Dean said, would not be caught twice.

And he asserted that the control system envisaged by the West contained enough safeguards to rule out any risk of espionage.

Unless control is accepted by the Soviet Union, Dean said, it is useless to discuss a treaty—"It would be like removing the engine out of a car and then discussing what color we should paint the useless body."

The American delegate told the 15th plenary session of the conference that the West had already shown itself prepared to accept some degree of risk by scaling down its control requirements to a minimum.

But this minimum requirement, Dean went on, was that no country could contemplate sneak nuclear tests without considerable risk of discovery.

Ask Death, Jail at Cuban Trials

Most Severe Penalties of Laws Demanded by Prosecutor for 1,179

HAVANA (UPI) — The government prosecutor, demanding the "most severe punishment our laws permit," asked death or 20 years imprisonment for each of the 1,179 captured Cuban invaders whose four-day trial ended yesterday, the controlled press reported today.

There was no indication when the verdict of the five-man court martial which tried the prisoners, seized in last April's abortive invasion attempt, would be announced.

The prosecutor, Santiago Cubas Fernandez, made his demand in a 40-minute speech in which he called the prisoners "traitors to their country" and the "direct authors" of the invasion.

"As far as the other author (of the invasion), United States imperialism, and its President, Kennedy, who admitted this great crime and took the responsibility for it, they will not be tried here.

"But President Kennedy and the U.S. imperialists will have to answer for their crime before the court of the peoples of the world which will punish them fully as their crimes merit."

He backed up his plea by recalling several speeches made by Premier Fidel Castro. He emphasized one in particular — made last April 26 — in which the Cuban leader declared that "no very severe punishment" would be handed down against the invaders.

Burton Wires, Phones Wife in London, Says 'Love to All'

From Our News Wires

LONDON — Actor Richard Burton cabled his wife today reassuring her that he still loves her despite his headlined kisses with Elizabeth Taylor.

Friends said the cable was in Welsh to keep the message from prying eyes.

It said: "Love to all. Everything fine."

★ ★ ★

He followed up the cable with a telephone call. The result was that Burton's blonde wife, Sybil, 32, was much happier today, friends said.

Mrs. Burton was hiding out at the London home of Burton's brother and manager Ifor Jenkins. Friends said she was so upset by the talk of romance between Burton and his wife.

"I just cannot imagine that Richard would throw his life away like this. They are exceedingly happy and he adores his daughters," he said.

★ ★ ★

"It's not in his character to be involved in something like this. It's the sort of thing he's always made fun of in other movie stars."

Williams emphatically denied reports in two London papers that Mrs. Burton was planning to fly to Rome to join her husband, who has been reported kissing Liz on and off the set of the movie "Cleopatra."

'LET IT BLOW OVER'

"She is certainly not planning to fly to Rome and there has been no intention of her going," Williams said. "She certainly doesn't want to step out of the plane in Rome and be surrounded by thousands of paparazzi (photographers) and go through all the nonsense that goes on down there.

"Her great wish at the moment is to keep out of it all. She wants to let it all blow over. She has brought the children here and she doesn't want to leave them."

In Rome, Miss Taylor stayed away from the Cinecitta studio set today while Burton finished a wild banquet scene for the movie with a dozen scantily clad dancing girls.

A spokesman for 20th Century Fox said Miss Taylor was not scheduled to work today and did not show up.

While the beautiful actress was taking the day off, Burton, playing the role of "Marc Anthony," danced with the girls. Cleopatra earlier had stormed out of the room in a jealous rage.

Italian Premier, De Gaulle Talk

Two Leaders Expected to Discuss Question of European Unity

The two leaders were expected to concentrate on European unity questions during their brief meeting. French officials hinted that De Gaulle wanted to press his ideas for a political confederation of the six Common Market nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg.

WANTS COOPERATION

★ ★ ★

It was De Gaulle's first trip abroad since the signing of the Algerian peace agreement. Because of the threat from right-wing French opponents of the agreement, thousands of Italian and French troops and police were on duty in the Turin area.

WELL GUARDED

Some 2,000 men guarded the suburb of La Mandria, where the two leaders and their foreign ministers met at an 18th century villa surrounded by a huge park. All access roads and the park were patrolled by light armored cars, police-filled cars and mounted policemen.

★ ★ ★

At Mall Tomorrow

Hair-Stylist Salon to Open

The new Donnell Hair Stylists Salon which opens tomorrow in the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center will be managed by its owner, Donnell R. Thomas, 769 Robbinann St., Waterford Township.

★ ★ ★

Thomas, who also operates a shop in the Miracle Mile Shopping Center, said his new Pontiac Mall salon will feature Continental and American rooms, each styled on different themes.

The Continental room, which is designed along traditional European lines, has a blue and white interior while the contemporary American room follows a brown, white and berry-colored motif.

The reception area is paneled in mahogany-stained wormwood with a tile floor in a chipped stone pattern. The exterior of the shop, which is just inside the main entrance to the enclosed mall, has a facade of white Georgian marble, red Roman brick and blue blown plaster with a small plate glass window in the center.

Thomas will be assisted by a staff of 12 operators. He said Kazar Kazarian, former assistant manager, will become manager of the Miracle Mile shop.

Thomas has operated his salon at the Miracle Mile for five years after moving it there from Detroit. His second shop will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow, he said.

Sneak Preview Offered at Mall

Kinney Shoes Opens Ahead of Schedule at 5:30 This Afternoon

Area residents will be able to get a "sneak preview" of the inside shopping plaza at the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center when one new store, Kinney Shoes, opens at 5:30 p.m. today.

★ ★ ★

Although originally slated to open tomorrow, the shoe store is fully stocked and will open ahead of schedule, according to the manager, Kenneth S. Bouton, 25, of Taylor.

The store, one of 600 Kinney branches throughout the country, will be the first business to open in the enclosed mall.

The entrance to the mall is at the middle of the shopping center facing Telegraph Road. It is just north of Elizabeth Lake Road.

'COMPLETE LINE'

Boston, formerly manager of a Kinney branch in Dearborn, said the Pontiac Mall store will carry a complete line of footwear for the entire family in addition to stockings, handbags and other accessories.

The 40- by 150-foot store, according to Bouton, is larger than Kinney retail outlets in most shopping centers. He said it is twice the size of the firm's Miracle Mile Shopping Center store.

Bouton said the store eventually will employ from 15 to 20 persons.

Saginaw Seeks to Annex Land

Petitions Filed Calling for Vote to Quadruple City's Size, Up Census

SAGINAW (AP)—The city of Saginaw — in an annexation move — could quadruple its land area and become Michigan's fourth largest municipality in population.

★ ★ ★

Petitions which would bring this about were filed by the city yesterday. A vote may be set up for August 7 state primary election.

The city seeks to annex the neighboring four townships of Saginaw, Carrollton, Zilwaukee and Buena Vista and business and industrial complexes of each.

The 105-year-old city of Saginaw thus would add 54 square miles to its area, increasing its size from 18 to 71 square miles, and would bring its population to approximately 134,000. The present population is 98,265.

Michigan's first six cities in the 1960 census were Detroit, 1,670,144; Grand Rapids 197,913, Flint 196,940, Lansing 113,058, Dearborn 112,007, and Saginaw 98,265.

The filing of nine petitions for the various proposed votes followed a carefully planned maneuver, carried out secretly in part.

City personnel worked last weekend to prepare the petitions and a corps of 300 firemen, policemen and other municipal employes moved through the four townships and the city Tuesday gathering thousands of signatures.

Each petition required the signatures of 1 per cent of the registered voters of the combined population of the city and each of the four townships.

City Manager Edward H. Pothoff said the effort was kept secret in order to prevent townships from blocking the project for annexing unpopulated industrial and business complexes.

The Day in Birmingham

To Discuss Effect of TV, Movies on Each Other

BIRMINGHAM — The effect that television and movies have on one another will be discussed by the New York Times film critic April 11 at the Community House.

Bosley Crowther, movie critic with the newspaper since 1940, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Birmingham branch of the American Association of University Women.

Crowther, known as the dean of motion picture critics and chronicler of Hollywood, is the author of two books, "The Lion's Share," a history of the development of the movie industry, and "Hollywood Rajah," which tells the life and times of Louis B. Mayer.

In addition to writing a weekly column for the Sunday Times and almost daily movie reviews, Crowther, who sees an average of 250 films a year, contributes articles to several leading magazines.

He has long been chairman of the New York Film Critics.

In 1953 Crowther received the first annual award of the Screen Director's Guild for distinguished criticism.

Mrs. David H. Goodfellow, program chairman, will introduce Crowther.

The Birmingham Senior Men's Club will hear a talk at its meeting Friday on safe deposit procedure by Warren T. Whitehead of the Safety Deposit Co. of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sinclair, heads of the education committee for Oakland County Republicans, will be the guest speakers at a Young Republicans' meeting at 8 p.m. April 17 at the Birmingham YMCA.

The couple will discuss the work of the education committee and the philosophy of the Republican party.

Fifteen full-tuition scholarships, worth $150 each, will be offered high school graduates or college students at the Cranbrook Summer Theater School in Bloomfield Hills.

Carl G. Wonnberger, director of the school, said that the scholarships include instruction in voice, diction, pantomime, stage dancing, make-up, stage production and directing.

Students who will be in high school one more year will be considered for scholarships if they receive the endorsement of their dramatics counselor, principal or department head.

Brazil's Leader Likes Western Principles

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Brazilian President Joao Goulart told Congress today he is confident peaceful competition with communism "will show representatives democracy is the most perfect form of government for the preservation of individual liberty."

Addressing a joint session in Portuguese, Goulart reaffirmed Brazil's support of "the democratic principles which united the peoples of the West."

He praised the Alliance for Progress, but warned Congress not to expect "rigorously technical global planning" and "prior elimination of instability" by Latin American nations.

He said Brazil offers "ample possibilities for foreign private enterprise that wants to cooperate loyally for the development of the country."

City Unit Hears Bond Ordinance

Proposal to Finance Water System Project Has No Big Changes

A revised $3.77-million bond ordinance to finance Pontiac water system improvements was read to city commissioners last night and will be up for final approval next Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

No major changes were made in the ordinance as it was introduced last week, Milton M. Thompson, representing the city's bonding attorney Claude H. Stevens, explained that the minor changes were so numerous that a new, revised ordinance was written rather than amendments made to the original.

The only point of contention last night was a clause stating that water service would be shut off to customers who had bills 30 days overdue.

Commissioner Milton R. Henry asked if the time limit could be lengthened and a notice required. Thompson and city administrators agreed to change the clause to require a notice from the city 30 days after a bill was due and shut off if the bill went unpaid 60 days.

ization to permit counties to levy a one cent sales tax, which would raise about $108 to $110 million a year. This, he said, would be divided among schools, counties and local governments.

"I propose it on a county rather than a city level because the county is the smallest governmental unit that could administer a tax like this without getting into a hopeless tangle of administration," he said. "With a city tax, people would be moving from one place to another and buying in one place and not another to avoid the tax."

Conlin, an acknowledged tax expert, met a cool reception from both Democrats and Republicans, although many conceded some of his proposals had merit.

House Republicans listened to his detailed explanation of the plan, then named seven of their number to work out some alternative blueprints.

"Someday," said Conlin caustically, "one of these committees is going to come up with a tax program that won't cost anyone anything."

"I doubt if they'll involve an income tax," said Rep. Allison Green, R-Kingston, House GOP floor leader. "There are only a few Republicans in the House who support an income tax. The 3 per cent rate today could just as well be 10 per cent by 1970."

May Mean U.A.R. Tie

Syrian Junta Asks Unity

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—The high command announced today that, with the revolt ended in northern Syria, one of its aims now is to bring about comprehensive Arab unity.

This may mean some sort of renewed link with President Nasser's United Arab Republic.

A ban on travel between cities was relaxed.

"The crisis has ended," said a high command statement broadcast by Radio Damascus. "Quiet has been restored to all parts of the country and to all its towns and cities . . .

"Everybody is leaving it to the high command to take the necessary measures to put the country on the right path for the future and to bring about comprehensive Arab unity on a true basis."

The could mean a renewal of ties with the United Arab Republic, though certainly not in the tight union that was broken by a Syrian army revolt last Sept. 28. Some form of federation may be in the offing.

The military leaders in Damascus has sent assurances to the troops who staged a 48-hour uprising in Aleppo, a northern Syrian commercial city in which admiration for Nasser is strong. They said the rebels' demand for a link with the U.A.R. will be realized.

However, the two strongest men of the ruling military junta are backed the Sept. 28 uprising and, anti-Nasser. They are Maj. Gen. six months later, the bloodless Abdel Kerim Zahreddin, the coup which ousted President Nazarmy's commander in chief, and em el Koudsi's right-wing govern-Col. Muwaffak Assassa. Both ment.

Watch Out for Deficiency

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We hear a great deal about vitamins in the diet, but not so much about minerals. However, the body requires a number of minerals in order to function properly.

If you eat a well-balanced diet you probably have no worries on this score but it is wise to check up on your mineral intake once in a while.

Calcium, iron and iodine are the three minerals most likely to be deficient in the diet, and if you get an adequate amount of these in a varied diet you can usually forget the other minerals. They will come along also.

FOR BONES

Calcium is needed for the bones and teeth. It also helps regulate the heart beat, and is essential in blood clotting. A calcium deficiency may also cause irritability of the muscles. In order to properly utilize calcium, the body must have vitamin D. Milk is the best calcium source.

Iron deficiency causes anemia. There are many kinds of anemia and many causes, but the most usual is a deficiency of iron in the diet. Green vegetables, egg yolk, lean meat and liver are rich sources and should be eaten regularly.

You need a very small amount of iodine, but this minute amount is essential to the health of the thyroid gland. Seafoods and iodized salt are reliable sources. Those who live inland and eat vegetables which are grown inland are most susceptible to this deficiency.

So, if you do not wish to make a real study of minerals, see that you have enough calcium, iron and iodine from the sources mentioned.

If you would like to have my leaflet, "Vitamins in Your Diet," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. Ask for leaflet No. 38.

It is imperative that your body have enough calcium —a calcium deficiency even can cause irritability— and the best calcium source is milk.

Secret for Husbands: Be Boss, but Loving

By RUTH MILLETT

In a talk called "Especially for Men about Women," a psychiatrist recently gave men as good advice as they will ever get on how to get along with a wife.

"Simply love her and love her and love her," said the psychiatrist. "A woman scorned is the most dangerous critter this side of an irritated water buffalo, but a woman loved is the most docile, efficient, hardworking creature you can find."

Lest any husband construe that "love her and love her and love her" to mean "let her have her own way in everything," the psychiatrist made it clear that the man should be the head of the family:

"Love her, but stay in command. Boss her, but do it in a loving way."

There in a very few words is actually all any husband needs to know about how to have a happy marriage — be loving, but be boss.

No woman can resist that combination — because no woman really wants to. A wife will do her best to "get even" with a husband who rules the roost like a dictator because there is nothing loving about that kind of bossiness.

And a woman will run over a man who is loving without being strong enough to assume his rightful place as head of the family, for women don't respect love without strength and leadership.

But when a man is both a loving husband and the firm head of his house, his wife is happy with her lot and eager to make her husband as happy as she is.

Furthermore, as the psychiatrist pointed out, a woman with a husband who is both loving and boss will be a "docile, efficient, hard-working" helpmate.

Young husbands, please take note. If you know this much about women and marriage you will never have to complain that you just can't understand women. That's about all there is to understand about them — so far as a man is concerned.

Science at Work

Subjects: From Inventors and Banks to Termites

By The Associated Press

A want ad for inventors, a new help for bank tellers, a warning about termites, and a look at maneuvering in space are subjects for science at work.

WANTED: WIRELESS POWER

The U.S. armed forces have a new entry for the "help wanted" columns. They're asking the nation's inventors to develop a way to transmit power without wires or cables.

So reports the National Inventors Council of the U.S. Commerce Department.

Prime requirements: A technique to transmit 1,000 watts of power for up to 50 miles in usable form. A transmitter would broadcast the electrical power and it would be picked up by a receiver many miles away.

Experimental devices, hampered by low efficiency, have already been tested.

ACCOUNT OR NO ACCOUNT

Ever wait for a bank teller to look up your account so he'd know whether you had enough money to cover your check?

To solve this, computers have been put to work in a new system, that would be located right in front of the teller and would provide him the desired information in two-fifths of a second.

Dan M. Bowers of the Computer Control Co., Framingham, Mass., described the system last week to the Institute of Radio Engineers. It can, he said, check the last transaction, even though it occurred only five seconds before. The first model, to handle eventually 250,000 accounts, has been designed for the Provident Institution for Savings, Boston.

OUT OF SWARM'S WAY

After spring rains, when temperature and moisture are right, termites signal their presence by rising in swarms. They search out wood, paper, or anything containing cellulose.

Other signs: Mud tunnels built along basement walls as the termites migrate to wooden structures.

They look a little like flying ants, says the National Pest Control Association. But they are different. Termites have thick bodies, no waistline, and four wings of equal length, while flying ants have rear wings shorter than those in front.

FINDING PORT IN SPACE

The radar system, by picking up signals broadcast from the target satellite, can spot it at a distance of 60 miles, and guide the chaser rocket in to dock at speeds up to 1,000 feet a second.

By increasing the power, the guidance system can cover still larger distances, Howard A. Reuter of Westinghouse Air Arm division reported to the Institute of Radio Engineers.

SUN BEAMS AT WORK

A system that keeps its eyes on the sun, and charts the direction of the sun's rays, can help keep a satellite on an even keel or in a desired attitude, an engineer reports.

The sun-seeking eyes use the set direction of the sun's rays to determine when the spacecraft is rolling or otherwise changing its attitude, says Heinz Gablotfsky of Northrop Space Laboratories.

When changes are noted, the sun seekers, using solar power to create their own electricity, send signals to the small jets which correct the spacecraft's roll, yaw and pitch.

Syrian Meddling Charged to U.S.

Pravda Claims West Eyes Mideast; Facts Belie Red Stand

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda charged the United States today with interference in Syrian internal affairs and warned that such a course "holds out nothing but calamity."

★ ★ ★

The official Communist party newspaper said "Western imperialist quarters have long been hatching plans" to seize power in the Middle East "and are losing no time to make use" of the current unrest in Syria.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper charged that the visit of ships of the U. S. 6th Fleet to Beirut, Lebanon, at the time of the Syrian army rebellion was "arrogant blackmail, another manifestation of (former Secretary of State John Foster) Dulles' notorious policy 'from positions of strength'."

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The newspaper said the movement of the U. S. warships was linked with "the continuing concentration of Israeli troops along the Syrian frontiers and the activation of Jordanian espionage in Damascus. Anxiety also has been caused by the movement of Turkish military units to the northern frontier of Syria."

Don't Drop That Course . . . Work, Save It

Professor of Education,
University of Southern California

Are you a course-dropper? Are you one of those students who runs away from a course at the first sign of trouble or the first feeling of failure?

Don't do it! Every time you drop a course you weaken yourself. Course - dropping can develop into a habit of failure that will plague you for the rest of your life.

* * *

DR. NASON

It's not easy to save a course once the habit has set in. But it can be done! Try my "Save That Course!" technique some weekend. It goes like this:

Your chief problem is organization. Fortunately, no matter how badly you are doing in the course, you are in the best possible position to get it organized in your mind.

The material is still fresh in your thoughts, even if you have had only part of your mind on on what the instructor has said. You know quite a bit about the course but the information is a jumble of unrelated facts. They need unity.

Restudy the course. Start right at the beginning. Read the introduction, the table of contents and the chapter headings of the texts. Only this time ORGANIZE them.

Think about the course as you read, chapter by chapter. Try to fit the material and ideas together as you go. Try to get the over-all picture.

Make a written record of your review as you proceed. Since you're really starting the course over, use a new notebook. Take clear, legible and complete notes, including maps, charts, diagrams and even sample math problems.

Wherever you have a question on the material, make an appropriate mark in your notebook. This is very important.

These questions will give you an excuse to leaf through your new notebook with your teacher. The teacher will not only answer your questions but he also will observe what you have accomplished.

ASK THE TEACHER

At the close of the interview, ask the teacher: "Have you any suggestions about what else I can do?" He probably has. And he'll be glad to give them to you.

Most of the students who have tried my "Save That Course!" technique —and there have been hundreds—discover at this point that the instructor is on their side.

Try it and you'll find out that, from this moment on, it is you and the instructor against the course rather than the course and the instructor against you!

It's a comfortable — and rewarding — feeling.

Eddie Can Sing: 'The Party's Over'

Shy Fisher Finds He's Only Part of Liz's Court

(Editor's Note — This is the first of three dispatches on the Elizabeth Taylor-Eddie Fisher separation by UPI Hollywood correspondent Vernon Scott, who knows them both well.)

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Eddie Fisher could sing "The Party's Over" today following announcement that his three-year marriage to Elizabeth Taylor had ended just as it began—scandalously.

The party was indeed over for the 33-year-old singer.

At the peak of his popularity as a television and recording star the curly haired Fisher gave up his "dream marriage" to Debbie Reynolds, left his two young children (one of them still in diapers), abandoned his video career and ceased making records — all for Elizabeth Taylor.

It was a great deal to throw away.

But Eddie, an introverted, almost shy individual for an entertainer, could not help himself. He was wildly in love with the widow of his best friend, Showman Mike Todd.

It was an all-consuming emotional involvement with Elizabeth Taylor, believed by many to be the most beautiful woman in the world.

If the term "love slave" were ever applicable it suited Eddie to a T. Basically Eddie, as I know him, is a decent man though perhaps not blessed with the best judgment. Leaving Debbie and his children cost him dearly. But he was powerless to resist Elizabeth's charms.

Almost as if hypnotized he fell under her spell.

OVERWHELMED

We talked in his Las Vegas Hotel room on May 12, 1959, as he dressed for his Jewish wedding ceremony to Elizabeth. He appeared to be overwhelmed by the fact that he would soon be marrying the fabulous glamour girl.

It was different with Debbie. When they were married Eddie was the big star and Debbie a fresh-scrubbed girl-next-door actress.

But now the tables were turned. Elizabeth was a superstar whose brilliance eclipsed Eddie's accomplishments. The light was so bright it blinded him to the realization that his fans, faithful for 10 years, would be repelled by his decision to leave Debbie in favor of the thrice-married brunette charmer.

★ ★ ★

As he adjusted his necktie for the ceremony Eddie said, "I've never been so excited in my life. I can't remember when I've been so tired either. But we're in love, and that's what counts."

★ ★ ★

Eddie was in love with Elizabeth. He continues to be.

But almost from the minute the marriage ceremony was completed Eddie began to learn that he was the husband of a movie star. The euphonious "Debbie and Eddie" quickly gave way to "Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Eddie Fisher." There was a world of difference.

Not then or at any time since was Miss Taylor ever referred to by her husband's name. And Liz did nothing to change the situation.

A small thing? Maybe. But to a proud man it was an infinitely demeaning symptom of what he had become . . . a consort.

★ ★ ★

As man and wife the couple traveled where Elizabeth's work took them, with time out only twice for Eddie's nightclub appearances in Las Vegas. But even in this there was a wrenching difference.

When he worked Eddie had to sing for his supper; a night club entertainer. When Liz worked it was on a huge soundstage with dozens of flunkies waiting on her like willing slaves. She was a queen in her own make-believe world. He was a gentleman of the court.

GOP Acquires Senate Control

Lundgren Win Gives Republicans Two-Thirds Majority for Awhile

LANSING (UPI) — It looks as if Senate Republicans will be able to snub their Democratic colleagues—until the next election, at any rate.

★ ★ ★

The election Monday of Kent T. Lundgren of Menominee to the 30th Senatorial District seat vacated by the death of Sen. William E. Miron, D-Escanaba, gives Republicans a two-thirds majority. They now outnumber Senate Democrats 23-10.

That's enough to override a veto by Democratic Gov. Swainson or give a bill immediate effect.

Barring loss of the seat in a recount, Republicans will be spared the inconvenience of having to woo Democratic support every time they want a two-thirds majority.

NARROW MARGIN

Lundgren—who resigned as a constitutional convention delegate last week—squeezed out Democrat Prentiss M. Brown Jr., of St. Ignace. Unofficial returns gave Lundgren, in his fourth bid for the seat, a 151-vote margin, defeating Brown 13,016 to 12,910. Brown was expected to demand a recount.

★ ★ ★

Gov. Swainson wasn't ready yet to concede the loss of the vital Senate seat. He said:

"This has always been a very close district. There have been two recounts in the past six years, and there is the distinct possibility of a recount in this election."

The previous recounts, however, failed to change the election outcome, and Lundgren lost to Miron by narrow margins both times.

George M. Van Peursem, Republican state chairman, saw the victory as "strong evidence that 14 years of government based on false promises is about to catch up with the present administration."

Strolls Merrilly Into Bistros Nude From Ankles Down

Gary Likes to Bare His Soles in Public

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

Good thing, too, since the Beverly Hills Hotel is inclined to conservatism. Garry has become known as the barefoot boy with chick; said chick being his ofttime date, Rita Hayworth. They are said to frequent local bistros nude from the ankles down.

THOMAS

"I'm against shoes," he declared. "Some restaurants object to feet, so then I wear sandals. So what's the difference if you have a strip of leather under your sole?

"Most of the places don't mind, though. I get away with it, same as I got away with wearing walking shorts in New York 15 years ago. Of course some of the bus drivers yelled 'whoops!' They still yell 'whoops!' but it doesn't matter."

I hesitantly asked the state of the barefoot romance, which had been reported in the gossip columns as finished.

"All I can report is that Rita and I played golf yesterday against Jack Warden and Dick Widmark," he said. "Beat 'em too. Not only that, they had to ride the electric cart."

Whether the romance is on or off, their professional teaming is contracted for. They start rehearsals in August for a new play, "Step On a Crack," scheduled for a Nov. 7 Broadway opening.

I asked him if he thought he and Rita would get married.

"Don't think so," he said thoughtfully. "I think we're all kind of losers. Rita's been married five times, Bette's been married four times, I've been married twice. The record isn't so hot. Besides, I'm still paying on my first marriage."

Marriage No. 2 was to Bette Davis, and the aftermath may get sticky.

"I'm afraid we're going to slug it out in court," he reported. "Bette won't let me see the children—wouldn't let me visit them at Christmas or Easter. She won't give in, so we'll have to fight it out in public. Seems a shame."

Merrill is leaving this week for Hong Kong to make a movie called "The Journey."

The trip will interrupt not only his barefoot romance, but his speaking engagements. Between acting jobs, he travels to various cities to speak on the topic that interests him most—"Peace."

Taylor-Fisher Gossip Is Quiet

Film Friends Reluctant to Discuss 'Breakup of Romance

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The film colony has been strangely reluctant to give the world the benefit of its sage reflections on the breakup of Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher.

The place is naturally awash with gossip, but not much of it is for publication.

Miss Taylor's second husband, actor Michael Wilding, said:

A close friend of Fisher offered this comment from the refuge of anonymity: "Personally, he (Eddie) will be devastated . . . professionally, he's in trouble, too. As long as he can sing, he can get jobs in Las Vegas and other night spots. But his long suit was his youthful, light-hearted spirit. He may not sell so well as Pagliacci."

The concensus is that the scandal won't damage Mill Taylor's public image and, in fact, will probably make even more people want to see "Cleopatra." Richard Burton, her leading man in that epic, also has become her leading man in private life."

Students Donate to Aid Teacher's Eye Operation

DETROIT (AP) — A blind Bay City high school teacher left here last night on the first leg of a trip that may result in giving him partial sight.

Leonard Ecker, 34, an English instructor at the Bay City school, has been blind since he was 14 months old. He is heading for New York's eye and ear infirmary, where he was told a delicate operation could be performed that may result in giving him partial side vision and the ability to distinguish color, light and darkness.

★ ★ ★

School officials said almost all of Central's student body contributed to the drive to help defray the cost of the operation.

Claims Red Subs Threat to 7th Fleet

KEELUNG, Northern Formosa (UPI) — Vice Adm. William A. Schoech, commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, today said Russian and Red Chinese submarines in the western Pacific constitute a "substantial threat" to his force.

Schoech said the Soviets and Communist Chinese have about 100 submarines operating in the western Pacific.

He said the U.S. fleet is "very sensitive" and will "defend ourselves" if attached.

★ ★ ★

Schoech, speaking to a news conference aboard his flagship, the guided-missile cruiser USS Oklahoma City, declined to say whether any such attack on the 7th Fleet would trigger a large-scale war.

Councilmen Re-Elected

Ecuador Severs Ties With 3 Red Nations

QUITO, Ecuador (UPI) — Envoys from Poland, Czechoslovakia and Fidel Castro's Cuba got their walking papers from the foreign ministry here last night.

★ ★ ★

The ministry formally notified the charges d'affaires of the three nations that Ecuador had broken off relations with their governments and that they would have to get out of this country "within a reasonable time."

Gustavo Ruales, Ecuadorean charge d'affaires in Havana, will return here immediately, the ministry said.

Brazil was expected to take charge of Ecuadorean affairs in Cuba, and to provide for the welfare of more than 120 Cuban refugees in asylum in the Ecuadorean Embassy.

Reuther Dinner Attended by Dem and GOP Solons

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both Republican and Democratic members of Congress showed up in numbers at a dinner hosted by labor union leader Walter Reuther.

As Reuther himself remarked, "our kind of society is a many-splendored thing" in which political leaders of widely divergent views can assemble on such an occasion — something that he said Soviet Premier Khrushchev "couldn't remotely understand."

Guests at the "get-together" dinner given by Reuther last night as president of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department filled the grand ballroom of a downtown hotel.

600 School Principals Expected at Conference

More than 600 state elementary school principals are expected to attend the annual conference of the Michigan Department of Elementary School Principals April 12-13 at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Governor John B. Swainson will headline the list of major speakers. William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools and president of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, will be among those extending greetings to the group.

Mixed Mart Sees Active Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was mixed in fairly active trading at the opening today.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the general rule among key stocks.

An assortment of sizable blocks reflected a renewed interest in the market. Quite a few issues which sank yesterday to new 1962 lows recovered.

The news background was fairly bright, including reports of February gains in total business sales and installment buying.

★ ★ ★

Mission Development spurted 1¼ at 26½ on 13,600 shares.

Steels as a group were a bit higher. Motors were narrowly mixed.

International resistance was a 2-point loser. Dresser Industries was up ¼ at 29 on 10,000 shares.

MOST ACTIVE RISES

Chambourn Goatham, yesterday's most active stock, rose ¼ to 9¼ on 40,000 shares, selling again at that price on 5,000 shares.

Rails and electrical equipments leaned to the upside. Oils, tobaccos, airlines, building materials, aerospace issues and electronics were mixed.

Prices were irregular on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of about a point were posted for Tampa Electric, Ross Products, Draper and Anken Chemical. Among losers were Gulton Industries, Universal Controls, Aerojet-General and Mead Johnson. General Development rose ⅛ to 13¾ on 2,000 shares then traded at 13¾ on a block of 52,400 shares.
