Summer Music Festival Will Be Held at OU

A GREAT IDEA — President of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Robert Semple and Mrs. Semple (right) enthusiastically discuss summer plans for the orchestra with Mr. and Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Bloomfield Hills. Knudsen is chairman of the project to develop a performing arts center at Oakland University. First artists to appear will be the Detroit Symphony, July 23 through Aug. 15.

GM Exec Is Chairman

A music festival to be held this summer on the campus of Oakland University was announced yesterday at a luncheon by Semon E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the Chevrolet Division.

Speaking to guests gathered at the Detroit Athletic Club, Knudsen who has been named chairman of the project said:

"At the outset, the performing arts center program will consist of the Meadow Brook Music Festival — 12 summer outdoor concerts to be presented by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under its new director, Sixten Ehrling."

The first step in the center's construction program will be an outdoor orchestra shell and audience "shed" to accommodate 2,000 people.

ORDER OF DAY

Knudsen said, "Dress for the concerts will be informal; family-style picnic dinners and great music will be the order of the day."

In its early stages the cultural center program will be patterned after the famed Tanglewood in the Berkshire Mountains of Massachusetts.

As soon as possible, it will be expanded to include schools and workshops for music, dance and theater in cooperation with Oakland University.

Ehrling will cancel conflicting European conducting commitments to direct the concert series on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings from July 23-Aug. 15.

Norman Weston, vice president and trust officer of the National Bank of Detroit, announced that trustees for the Lula Wilson Fund have voted $35,000 toward building facilities this year.

They have also made a $20,000 grant to help defray operating expenses in each of the first two years.

Mrs. Wilson was the wife of C. B. Wilson, one of two brothers who founded and operated the Wilson Foundry in Pontiac for many years. She died three years ago.

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson who donated the site of Oakland University, is honorary chairman of the cultural project.

The Knudsens will form a large citizens' committee to assure community-wide support for the effort.

Jury Deadlock Ends Trial of Segregationist

Declare Mistrial After 12-Hour Deliberation on Dixie Race Murder

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—A mistrial was declared today in the trial of Byron De La Beckwith, a crusading segregationist charged with murdering a Negro civil rights leader.

Circuit Court Judge Leon Hendrick declared the mistrial after the all-white jury, called for individual polling at the end of about 12 hours deliberation, declared themselves hopelessly deadlocked.

Beckwith sat quietly, his hands clasped in his lap as the judge asked individual jurors if there was any hope of a verdict.

The mistrial went against early predictions that the case would end in quick acquittal because of the deep passions due to racial aspects.

The 43-year-old fertilizer salesman from Greenwood, Miss., was charged with shooting Medgar Evers in the back with a high powered rifle. Evers was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

RACIAL TURMOIL

For many the case symbolized the racial turmoil that has plagued much of Mississippi.

The courtroom was under heavy police guard. Spectators were searched before being allowed to sign in.

Negro leaders said they were working to preserve calm.

The mistrial was expected to help them in their efforts.

Believe Water Cutoff Deliberately Planned by Island Dictator

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson met with his top military and diplomatic advisers for nearly two hours today on the Cuban crisis, and scheduled another session for the afternoon. There were signs the government might be contemplating specific actions.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the morning conference in the Cabinet room was devoted to "an examination of the facts as they are now in the possession of the United States government."

Salinger added, without elaboration, that Johnson and his key aides "obviously were doing more" than simply looking at the facts.

The President scheduled a second session for 4:30 p.m. EST.

It was believed that, out of this meeting, might come decisions on specific steps to be taken by the United States in

Hoffa Team Blasts U.S., Court, Informer

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The defense in James R. Hoffa's jury-tampering trial today attacked the judge, the government and called the chief prosecution witness "a traitor to the United States."

During the shouting, table-pounding hour with the jury excused, defense attorneys accused chief government prosecutor James Neal of signaling the witness, Louisiana Teamsters official Edward Partin, during cross-examination.

They demanded a mistrial for Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, and five others on trial with him on charges of trying to influence jurors in Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson overruled the mistrial motion, and refused requests by Hoffa's chief attorney, James Haggerty of Detroit, and another defense lawyer for permission to pull out of the trial.

"I move for a mistrial," said Haggerty, "and if that is not granted, under the circumstances I ask permission to withdraw from this case, because I cannot defend my client."

Harry Berke, Hoffa's Chattanooga lawyer, complained that Judge Wilson had refused to allow him to present evidence he said would show Partin is "a traitor to the United States."

$1,000 Robbery in Orion Twp.

Key, Explosives Used in Safe-Cracking

An estimated $1,000 was stolen from the Orion Township Hall last night after the safe was blown open by an explosion which catapulted a 200-pound door to the opposite side of the vault.

Oakland County sheriff's detective Herbert Dolby said today the thief was definitely "someone who knew where things were kept around here."

Entrance into the building was gained through a window. A key was used to open the vault.

★ ★ ★

The crime was first discovered by a custodian, who walked into the smoke-filled building shortly after 7 a.m. Papers and records that had been blown into two adjacent rooms by the force of the blast were still on fire.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion firemen extinguished the fires and forced the smoke out with fans.

Officials of the State Police crime laboratory were to investigate the explosion, which Dolby said was far more than required to blow the huge door off its hinges.

3rd Listed as Critical in 2-Vehicle Collision

Two Pontiac women were killed last night when their station wagon and a pickup truck crashed head-on in Avon Township.

Dead are Mrs. Arden Bigham, 31, of 490 Emerson, the driver, and Mrs. Elaine M. Allen, 25, of 296 First.

Charles Waltman, 51, of 2215 E. Walton, owner of the truck, is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with chest injuries.

Sheriff's deputies have not determined whether Waltman or Samuel Funderburk, 32, of 28 Whitfield was driving the truck.

Funderburk was treated for injuries at the hospital and released.

The accident occurred at 8:50 p.m. on Walton, just east of Shagbark.

CROSSED CENTER

Sheriff's deputies said the truck apparently crossed the center line. Both vehicles ended up on the north shoulder of Walton, after the impact.

The station wagon was headed west on Walton, and the truck was traveling in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Bigham and Mrs. Allen both were pronounced dead at St. Joseph Hospital by Dr. Isaac C. Prevette, assistant Oakland County coroner.

The body of Mrs. Allen is at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home, while Mrs. Bigham's body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Funeral arrangements for both are incomplete.

Water Rescue Gear Readied

Fast-melting ice on area lakes has prompted the Sheriff's Department to take all its water rescue equipment out of winter storage.

Lt. Donald Kratt, head of the department's water safety division, said the spring-like weather is responsible for the early alert.

"It's a very early thaw and we cannot take chances," said Kratt.

★ ★ ★

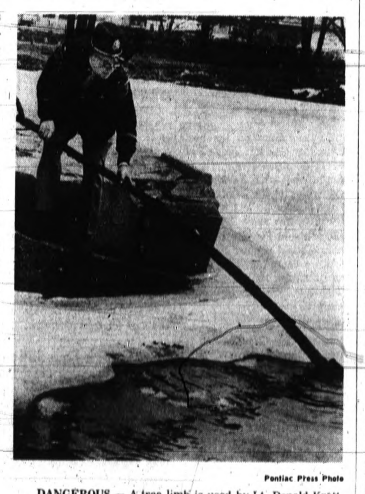

A near drowning in the Dawson Mill Pond in Pontiac Wednesday was instrumental in Kratt's decision to assemble the equipment.

OFF GUARD

"We were caught off guard when we received a call for assistance from the Pontiac Fire Department," said Kratt. "Fortunately the boy was saved by a fireman. We were delayed in getting a diving suit."

"I hope we don't have to use them," said Kratt, "but if we do they will be immediately available for any emergency."

Kratt said sections of all lakes have been reported dangerous and on most the surface is spongy.

DANGEROUS — A tree limb is used by Lt. Donald Kratt of the Sheriff's Department to poke through the ice at the Dawson Mill Pond in Pontiac, the scene of a near-drowning Wednesday. The thin ice is due to the warm weather and is typical of the hazard on many lakes in the area. Kratt warned it is best to stay off the ice.

New Violence Hits on Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A shooting in mountains near the north coast port of Kyrenia today heightened tension in the Cyprus crisis, though a government spokesman said there were no casualties.

A chain reaction of violence threatened after the killing of 11 persons Thursday in the heaviest fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots since their communal blood feud erupted again last Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman for President Archbishop Makarios' regime, which is dominated by the Greek Cypriot majority, said Turkish Cypriots started the mountain incident.

★ ★ ★

He charged riflemen fired on a police-escorted party of Greek workmen who went to investigate the failure of a water pumping station.

DIDN'T RETURN FIRE

The spokesman said the Greek Cypriots did not return the fire and retreated without being hit.

★ ★ ★

Greek Cypriot survivors of Thursday's battle said that six-hour engagement was set off by a Turkish ambush. The Turkish village of Ayios Sozomenos, 10 miles south of Nicosia, was left in flames.

★ ★ ★

Official casualty figures issued today listed six Greek Cypriots and five Turkish Cypriots as dead. Newsmen on the scene had reported seven Turkish Cypriots and four Greeks killed.

BATTLE SCENE

Ramshackle huts of Ayios Sozomenos were ablaze and spent cartridge cases littered the streets when British forces won a cease-fire Thursday night.

The wails of Turkish women and children filled the air after the rattle of machine-gun fire died down.

★ ★ ★

British armored cars arrived shortly after noon, but it was dusk before British officers could persuade the two sides to lay down their guns.

★ ★ ★

Greek Cypriot police and civilian irregulars overran the village of some 30 homes after Greeks charged Turkish youths ambushed a police vehicle carrying a policeman and six Greek civilians on a daily journey to a water pump serving the Greek town of Athienou. The Greeks said the policeman and one civilian were killed and three others injured.

POLICE CHASE

Police reinforcements chased the Turkish youths toward Ayios Sozomenos, but guns opened up from the village, the Greeks said.

★ ★ ★

This correspondent and an Associated Press photographer watched the battle develop. They counted the bodies of seven Turks, including a boy of about 10, lying in pools of blood in the streets and mud brick dwellings of Ayios Sozomenos.

SHUTTLE SHIPS — The USS Abatan, a Navy distillation and storage ship anchored at Guantanamo Bay, will probably be used to store 4 million gallons of water for the U.S. Navy community. The ship can distill 100,000 gallons a day from salt water.

response to the Cuban government's cut-off of fresh water to the Guantanamo U. S. Naval Base.

Johnson and his advisers, it was understood, were exploring the possibility that the Cuban government might have arranged the crisis by deliberately sending four of its fishing vessels inside American territorial waters off the Florida coast.

Johnson reported last week that the captains of the vessels, which were seized by American authorities, radioed Havana that they were inside American waters just before they were intercepted.

The Cuban government contends that the water cut-off was a response to the seizure of the fishing boats.

Among those summoned by Johnson to both meetings today were Secertary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, Director John A. McCone of the Central Intelligence Agency, and Llewellyn Thompson, ambasador-at-large and an expert on Soviet affairs.

DETAILS DUE

Rusk was expected to spell out in some detail, at a 3 p. m. news conference, the facts of the new crisis as the government sees them.

Salinger was asked whether any water-laden tankers had been sent from Port Everglades, Fla., to Guantanamo.

"I can't answer that question at this moment," he replied.

It was understood that the U. S. government, contemplating the possibility of a water cut-off, studied the feasibility of equipping the Guantanamo Base with a plant to convert sea water into fresh water.

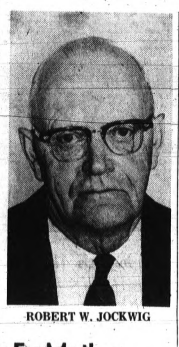

CHEAPER BY SHIP

A finding reportedly was made that it would be cheaper to carry water to the base by ship.

Cuba cut off the base water supply yesterday and advised the United States it would remain off until 36 Cuban fishermen seized off the Florida coast last Sunday are released.

The men are charged with illegal fishing in U. S. waters.

Last night, however, Prime Minister Castro said Cuba had no desire "to harm civilians, including women and children" and would turn the water on for an hour a day, from 8 to 9 a. m.

ROBERT W. JOCKWIG

Ex-Mailman to Run in City

Forces Primary Runoff for District Two Post

A retired postal employe, Robert W. Jockwig, has entered the race for the District 2 City Commission post.

Jockwig, 70, of 250 Draper filed a nominating petition at the city clerk's office yesterday.

In doing so, he qualified the district for a primary runoff March 2. He was the third person to announce he would seek the District 2 nomination.

★ ★ ★

Incumbent Charles H. Harmon has not announced if he will seek reelection as yet.

ROMEO NATIVE

Jockwig, a native of Romeo, has been a Pontiac resident for 45 years, having moved here in 1915.

Married and the father of two children, Jockwig is an elder at Central Christian Church.

He retired from the postal service in 1960, although he still does some clerical work on a part-time basis.

★ ★ ★

He was a Pontiac post office employe for 34 years, 24 as a letter carrier and 10 as a letter carrier foreman.

ASSISTANT TREASURER

Jockwig was also assistant treasurer of the Pontiac Postal Employes Credit Union for 10 years.

He is a past president of the National Association of Letter Carriers' local branch, and is secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Retired Civil Employes, Pontiac chapter.

Jockwig is a lifetime member of the Pontiac Metropolitan Club and an active member of the International Order of Odd Fellows.

★ ★ ★

He is a past district deputy grand master of the order.

This is his first attempt at election to public office in Pontiac.

Ex-Mayor Files for City Post

A former Pontiac commissioner and mayor, John H. Ridgway, today filed a nominating petition to run for the District 5 City Commission post.

Ridgway, 64, of 435 Lowell, represented District 5 on the City Commission from 1946 to 1952. He served two years as mayor.

In announcing his candidacy, Ridgway pointed to a need for "Competent representation from each district."

★ ★ ★

He said that "the public's confidence in our city government must be restored, peace and harmony renewed.

JOHN H. RIDGWAY

RENEWAL DELAYED

"The unpopular firing of former City Manager Robert Stierer has delayed the urban renewal project indefinitely," he noted. "My sincere hope is that former manager Walter K. Willman can be persuaded to come out of retirement and, as a consultant, help get Pontiac back on its feet."

★ ★ ★

Ridgway is semi-retired. He works parttime for National Business Brokers, Inc., a local real estate company.

He is a former plant superintendent at Pontiac Motor Division, where he was employed from 1928, when he came to Pontiac, until about 1953.

Ridgway is also a former supervisor of the plastics department at Ford Motor Company's River Rouge plant.

★ ★ ★

A native of Indiana, Ridgway attended Purdue University before coming here. He is a member of Roosevelt Lodge No. 510, F&A.M., and Elks Lodge No. 810.

★ ★ ★

Ridgway is also a past president of the Northside Community Club. He is married and has two sons.

Flint Official Urges Firings

FLINT (AP)—Three city officials charged with negligence by one-man grand juror Judge Donn D. Parker must be fired before being given a hearing on the charges, City Attorney Edward P. Joseph said in an opinion Thursday.

Joseph said procedure on the other three city officials named in the grand juror's report may be decided by the city manager and the City Commission.

★ ★ ★

The city attorney said he made the rulings on the basis of the City Charter. Judge Parker recommended that all six be removed after he found irregularities in the Flint-to-Lake Huron pipeline project and other city programs since 1955.

Joseph said the city manager could proceed against Henry M. Foley, a consultant and one of the six named by Parker, since Foley was hired by the manager's office.

MUST DISMISS

He said the City Charter requires that Theodore D. Moss, public works director, and Albert C. Hull, director of purchases and supplies, be dismissed before a hearing.

Joseph said the City Commission has the responsibility for proceeding against two others, Olney L. Craft, finance director, and Lloyd S. Hendon, clerk, both commission appointees.

Joseph said Gerald Childers, city planner, should be dismissed without a hearing by the City Planning Commission.

The City Commission will consider Joseph's opinion tonight.

School Borders Altered in City

Attendance Changes Due in September

It took a little over 10 minutes last night for the Pontiac school board to approve boundary changes for junior and senior high schools.

The new attendance areas go into effect in September.

Changes in the boundaries for junior high schools center around establishing an attendance area for Baldwin Junior High School, which opens this fall.

★ ★ ★

Boundaries were also shifted between Pontiac's two high schools. School officials said this was done to balance enrollments.

221 TO TRANSFER

An estimated 221 students who would normally attend Pontiac Central High School will instead go to Pontiac Northern High under the new high school boundary.

The new high school boundary line will run east along Mt. Clemens to Sanford and then south on Sanford to the city limits.

Senior high school students who now attend Central and live south of Mt. Clemens and east of Sanford will attend Northern in the future.

★ ★ ★

These changes will give Central an estimated enrollment of 2,054, while Northern will have 1,853.

CHANGES IN FUTURE

School officials said students now attending high school need not switch, but future students, including entering 10th graders this fall, will follow the new boundaries.

Attendance area changes for junior high schools will give the new Baldwin school an enrollment of about 629 pupils, school officials said.

To relieve anticipated overcrowding, students from Eastern, Lincoln and Madison will be transferred.

In addition, about 61 students now at Washington Junior High will be zoned into the new school.

City Changes Schedule on Trash Pickup

Pontiac's new combined, curbside rubbish-garbage pickup program has flunked its first test, so the pickup schedule is being simplified, city officials announced today.

Because of public confusion over the schedule change when there's a holiday, and the fact that city employes have been given more holidays this year, garbage and rubbish collection days will no longer change citywide because of holidays.

Clyde Christian, Department of Public Works Superintendent, today announced that holidays will only affect the area where pickups are scheduled on that day.

★ ★ ★

Previously, a holiday meant a change of pickup day for the entire city.

FOLLOWING DAY

"If a holiday falls on your regular pickup day," Christian said, "place your garbage and rubbish out for collection on the following day in that week only.

"Work time lost due to the holiday will be made up as quickly as possible."

The next holiday is next Wednesday, Lincoln's Birthday. Wednesday pickups will be made on Thursday NEXT WEEK ONLY.

Pickup day will remain unchanged for everyone else.

Cranbrook Foundation Adds Two Members

Cranbrook Foundation added two new members at yesterday's meeting: Stephen F. Booth and Richard Wallace. Both are grandsons of the founders, the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. Booth.

The foundation approved the establishment of a central commission to handle mutual institutional problems with Arthur B. Wittliff as the executive officer.

School Chief Believes Fraternities Controlled

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—"Perhaps underground, but at least under control" is the way Bloomfield Hills Schools Supt. Eugene L. Johnson sees the high school sorority and fraternity situation here.

Johnson said the secret organizations seem "rather inactive" in the district, with few tangible manifestations.

When a student is seen with a club pin or gives some other indication of membership in an illegal group, he is sent to the principal of his school.

★ ★ ★

"We would have to suspend him, remove his credits or block his admission to college," Johnson said. "So far we've had no one admit belonging."

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

The superintendent said school administrators fight the sorority-fraternity problem by stressing the need for good citizenship.

"A student can't afford to jeopardize his position that much," he said. "We also believe more parents are encouraging their children not to participate."

Attempting to reach the adults, the board of education has decided to mail out annually statements reminding parents of their duties and copies of the state statute prohibiting fraternities, sororities and secret societies in public schools.

About 5,400 copies were mailed this week to district residents. Others will be given to new residents throughout the year.

'SEVERAL EXIST'

In the newsletter, the board states that there are several of the groups existing, but the members are unknown.

School administrators are, however, working on the problem, the board said.

Parents were urged not to give their children the impression "it is more important to be one of the group than to hold onto integrity."

Man Pleads Guilty to Assault Charge

Daniel L. Inscho, 24, of Mount Clemens yesterday pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rape.

Inscho entered his plea before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt, who set sentencing for March 3.

He was accused of attempting to attack a waitress at a Waterford restaurant as she left work the night of Nov. 12.

A second count charging Inscho with unarmed robbery of the waitress was dismissed.

Steno-Spy Won't Lose State Post

LANSING (AP)—The House Democratic leader today said Margaret (Peggy) Allen is in no danger of losing her job as a legislative stenographer because of her cloak-and-dagger role in a gambling investigation.

House Minority Leader Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, said talk that the tall, 27-year-old brunet has been—or will be—fired is "a bunch of nonsense."

"We will treat Peggy as a person who sees her civic duty and does it," said Kowalski. "She is still on the payroll and the only reason she would be taken off is if she didn't get her work done."

Miss Allen, one of seven secretaries who work for the 52 house Democrats, is the star witness in the state police case against the Steren Assembly Club, an alleged gambling club in Madison Heights.

Detectives had enlisted her to gain admittance to the club and the confidence of its members, in order to help them gather evidence proving the place is a gambling den.

Now in protective custody of state police, Miss Allen is expected to testify in the preliminary examination of 24 persons arrested in a raid on the club Oct. 11.

Some Democrats reportedly were grumbling about having in their midst a "spy" who would have access to their own confidential files and letters.

But, Kowalski said, "The only complaint was that she had failed to report for work since Monday, and nobody knew where she was until they read about it in the papers."

Japanese Misprint Hikes Stamp Value

TOKYO (AP) — A Japanese stamp collector says he has discovered a misprinted set of four stamps issued last month by the Japanese postal ministry.

Gichi Ishizuka, Tokyo print shop owner, said today the defective set could become one of the world's most expensive stamp items because no other misprinted set has been reported.

The finance ministry's printing said it printed a total of 18 million sheets of the issue, and two to four faulty sheets at the most may have slipped past repeated inspections.

The five-yen (1.4 cent) were among new year specials issued primarily for souvenirs.

Irradiation Used More in Food Storage

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army researchers have talked of how they could put a fried chicken leg—just like mother used to cook—in the back pocket of every soldier in a foxhole.

It isn't as fantastic as it sounds.

Ten years of research on preserving food by radiation is beginning to bear fruit—meat and potatoes, too. But there's more research to be done before purchase of such items in supermarkets becomes commonplace.

The Food and Drug Administration has approved irradiated bacon and is expected to approve, within the next month, irradiated potatoes for which an application is pending. Applications are pending, too, for irradiated oranges and lemons.

GAMMA RAYS

Irradiation to preserve food is done by gamma rays or electron beams. It's the kind that doesn't stay on to leave any lingering radioactivity — it kills decaying agents and moves on.

FDA approval means that the irradiated food items are stamped safe for human consumption.

★ ★ ★

Researchers have talked of these advantages, among others, of irradiation to preserve food:

A farmer could virtually eliminate spoilage by giving his fruit a dose of radiation as soon as it is harvested.

MONTHS OF STORAGE

A housewife could buy a ham, chicken or turkey and keep it on the pantry shelf for months.

Commercial fishermen could triple the shelf life of certain fish and other seafoods by giving them a dose of radiation and storing them at one degree above freezing.

★ ★ ★

The American soldier anywhere in the world could get food that tastes like the fresh item back home.

The Army has done extensive research at its Natick, Mass., Food Preservation Library to find good field rations for its men.

MILITARY FACTOR

"One major factor in the efficiency of the soldier is the food that he gets," says Dr. Edward S. Josephson, head of the Army project.

Will radiation processing replace established methods such as canning and freezing?

No, says Anthony A. Bertasch, head of the government's interdepartmental committee on radiation preservation of food.

"It's like everything else in an expanding economy and a growing population—it's not going to displace anything," Bertsch said in an interview.

Estimates are that it won't hit the commercial market until about 1970.

Credit union assets in the United States rose to a record $7,100,000,000 last year from $6,400,000,000 the preceding year.

Would Serve 5 Counties

Disposal Plan Needs Oxford OK

By DICK HANSON

The only major obstacle to a plan for a garbage and rubbish disposal operation north of Oxford to serve all five counties in the Detroit metropolitan region is posed by the rural community itself, Oakland County Public Works Director R. J. Alexander declared today.

The plan was presented at a press conference held in Detroit yesterday by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

Alexander is executive committee chairman of the commission which represents the five counties concerned — Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe and Washtenaw.

The plan presents the best possible solution to a perplexing problem, Alexander said. For this reason, he added, the rest of the municipalities in the metropolitan region are expected to concur.

LOCAL CONSENT

However, nothing can be done, he said, without consent of the local community where the landfill operation would be placed.

Essentially the plan calls for collection of refuse from homes and businesses by municipal agencies, which will transport it to centrally located incinerators throughout the metropolitan area.

The refuse then would be loaded on sealed trailers to be carried piggy back on railroad flat cars to the 2,400-acre site near Oxford.

★ ★ ★

The proposed site is pocked with huge gravel pits which render the land useless for any further use under present conditions.

UNLOAD REFUSE

The refuse would be unloaded into these pits, pressed down and covered with landfill in a continuing process that is deemed both sanitary and practical for future use of the property for recreational purposes.

The total operation is considered adequate to dispose of all the metropolitan area garbage and rubbish through 1980, after which another landfill operation would start in Livingston County, according to the plan.

The total operation is expected to cost $32 million, which poses no financial problem when divided among all the communities which would participate, according to Alexander.

★ ★ ★

According to the planners the cost of disposing each ton of refuse would not exceed $1. They estimated that each family produces a ton and a half of refuse over a year.

NO OPEN DUMPS

The single land-fill operation would eliminate the hazardous and unsightly open dumps now scattered throughout the county, said Alexander, noting that dump sites are becoming increasingly difficult to find as the population increases and spreads.

In Wayne County the need for refuse disposal facilities has become an emergency, stated Paul Reid, director of the regional planning commission.

Alexander said Oxford and Oxford Township wouldn't present any opposition to the plan if and when they understand it better.

★ ★ ★

They will come to find out that such a land-fill operation would prove an asset to their community, he said.

★ ★ ★

They will end up with a large recreation area that would attract new and better-than-average home development, Alexander stated. He referred to homes ranging in value from $25,000 to $125,000 being built around such a project near Los Angeles.

The recreation area, which would be developed simultaneously with the land-fill operations, could provide a golf course, ski resort, and could possibly include a lake, he said.

The operation could be handled either by a metropolitan authority or on a contractual basis by the County Public Works Department, he said.

★ ★ ★

NECESSARY LEGISLATION

He said it would be at least two years before the plan could be put into effect, stating that it would take at least that long to bring all municipalities together in such an operation and get the necessary legislation passed in Lansing.

Milford Twp. Board Locks Over Supervisor Choice

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — A partisan deadlock divides the Township Board as it attempts to appoint a new supervisor.

The township has been operating with no chief administrator since Jan. 31, the effective date of former Supervisor Mayon Hoard's resignation.

Now the two Democratic trustees face the two Republicans as the board tries to find a new supervisor for the 22 months left in Hoard's term.

SPECIAL MEETING

The deadlock was established at a special meeting on the matter last week.

Democratic Trustee Martin Boyle nominated his father Vincent, a former Milford postmaster, for the vacant office. His motion was supported by Treasurer Mrs. Beatrice Helberg, also a Democrat.

The nomination of Tom Knight, a Milford plumber, was then made by Republican Clerk Mrs. Elizabeth Hubbell. Her fellow party member, Trustee Guy Whitman, offered support.

However, the procedure was questioned and Mrs. Hubbell withdrew her nomination.

BRIEF CAUCUS

Board members held brief caucuses during a 10-minute recess and returned to the session to have both motions withdrawn.

The trustees will meet again Tuesday to have another go at it.

"We have some new names to offer," Mrs. Hubbell said. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the township hall.

Accidents in Troy Injure Two Drivers

TROY — A Lakeville man and a 53-year-old Detroit woman were injured in separate accidents here early this morning. Both drivers lost control of their cars and drove off the road.

Ted Raumbaugh, 30, of 582 Lakeville, was traveling on John R Road when his car ran off the road and crashed into a tree.

Police said Raumbaugh informed them that he thought he had fallen asleep.

The accident occurred shortly after 5 a.m.

Raumbaugh, who was alone in the car, is reported in satisfactory condition today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, with face cuts and fractures.

WOMAN HURT

Transferred from St. Joseph Mercy to Henry Ford Hospital, Detroit, was Mrs. Helen E. Zakrzewski, after she was treated for a fractured spine.

She is reported in good condition by St. Joseph Hospital officials.

★ ★ ★

Police said Mrs. Zakrzewski was traveling east on Long Lake Road near Livernois about 6 a.m. when she hit a slippery spot and her car went off the highway.

She was alone in the car when the mishap occurred.

Jury Convicts Detroiter in Auto Death

An Oakland County Circuit jury yesterday convicted a 58-year-old Detroit businessman of negligent homicide in the auto crash death a year ago of a Farmington man.

Myron McLauchlin of Detroit was found guilty by a jury of six men and six women who deliberated about three hours at the end of a two-day trial before Judge Stanton G. Dondero.

McLauchlin was charged in the death of James L. Crowell, 41, of 29725 Farmington Road, who died two hours after the Feb. 16 accident at Telegraph and Maple roads in Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

Witnesses said McLauchlin, who was critically injured in the two-car smashup, ran a red light and struck Crowell's car broadside. Both drivers were alone in their cars.

★ ★ ★

Judge Dondero set Feb. 25 for passing sentence on McLauchlin.

Area Clubs Aid Charities

5 Organizations Help Issue License Tabs

Five area organizations are among those which have raised funds for charity by assisting drivers applying for vehicle licenses, Secretary of State James M. Hare disclosed today.

A total of $33,587 was gathered by clubs throughout the state which had representatives volunteering their time at the Secretary of State branch offices in 1963.

The Lake Orion Lions Club contributed $400, and the Romeo Community Youth & Civic Center gave $425.25.

★ ★ ★

In Utica, the Lions Club, St. Lawrence Dads' Club and St. Kieran's new church fund joined to turn over $54.

RECEIVED AID

Among the many charities which have received aid are retarded children's groups, the March of Dimes, youth and scout units and cancer and heart funds.

Hare, in addition to issuing the report, repeated his plea for "motorists to get to branch offices just as early in February as possible to get the 1964 licenses."

$93,000 Stadium Okayed by Milford School Board

MILFORD — When football season begins this year, Milford High School will welcome guests in a new $93,000 stadium.

The board of education last night approved a plan to abandon the memorial field at the old high school site on George and build a facility near the new high school at 2380 S. Milford.

The new steel stadium, at the northwest corner of the 60-acre high school site, will seat 1,240 spectators on the home side and 816 visitors.

About $65,000 of the field's cost will be paid through the issuance of revenue bonds, for which gate receipts will be pledged.

Bill to Alter Tax Boards

Counties to Control Assessment Review

LANSING (AP) — Rep. Paul Chandler, R-Livonia, has filed for introduction a county-option bill to replace city and township boards of review with county boards with authority over tax assessments.

★ ★ ★

It calls for the county civil service commission or State Tax Commission to help the county board of supervisors choose a county assessor, who would prepare tax rolls for all the county's cities and townships.

The county board of review would have the same powers and duties as township boards of review, which would be abolished, along with city boards of review, as soon as the assessor is appointed.

SAME FORCE

Assessments approved by the new county boards would have the same force and effect as county equalized values of the county and its tax-levying districts, now annually fixed by the county board of supervisors or state tax commission.

There was no indication of the points at issue.

The truce along the 800-mile jungle border went into effect Jan. 26 after personal mediation by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

However, it has been violated by scattered outbreaks of fighting, leaflet-dropping and incidents in the Strait of Malacca between Malaysia and Indonesia.

The three nations have asked U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to appoint Thailand as supervisor of the truce. Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman said he had not heard from Thant.

Thanat, the conference host, said he was encouraged by the friendly atmosphere, but added, "some things may or may not have pleased the others."

He said there had been no discussion of a possible summit meeting of Indonesia's President Sukarno, Malaysia's Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

During the lull, delegation leaders ordered subordinate teams to review last August's Manila summit agreement.

The agreement was designed to avert the crisis developing then over Malaysia, but it broke the new nation in September and President Sukarno's revival of his campaign to crush Malaysia.

Conference sources said this morning's meeting of Lopez, Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio and Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak also considered diplomatic recognition of Malaysia.

Colombian City Awaits 'Ambassador' Madole

We congratulate JOHN MADOLE on his selection to head a three-agency experiment of the Federal government on local-level mutual assistance with a South American city.

★ ★ ★

Director of the civil defense program for Oakland County for the past four years, Madole will represent the County in Cali, Colombia, while his counterpart will assume comparable status locally.

MADOLE

Object of the pioneering mission is the exchange of administrative, government and industrial experience with a community bearing marked cultural and economic similarity to our own.

The over-all concept was born, with State Department blessing, in the mind of Michigan's 18th District Rep. WILLIAM BROOMFIELD, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

★ ★ ★

It was given impetus when a delegation headed by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, paid a visit to Cali last May, later returned by a group from that city.

Acceptance of the Cali post was motivated, said the appointee, by the great potential of the program for improving relations with Latin America and bettering conditions in one of its key areas.

★ ★ ★

The new "ambassador" will take with him the best wishes of a host of friends and associates on his trail-blazing and important assignment.

College Enrollments Pose Fiscal Problems

An arresting and sobering report of a lay committee on higher education in Michigan has just been issued.

The committee, appointed a year ago by Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY, sees the status of the 10 state-supported, four-year educational institutions grave and urgently calling for remedial measures.

★ ★ ★

With 1964 the first year to feel the collegiate impact of the bumper crop of postwar babies, enrollment projections in the years ahead are startling. Contributing to them, moreover, is the rising rate of college attendance by young people. Whereas the percentage of age 18 to 24 enrollment was 14 in 1950, it had risen to 25.5 in 1962.

The report indicates that the 1962 total enrollment in state colleges of 118,500 will rise to 204,000 in 1970—a yearly increase of more than 10,000. This is equivalent to the establishment of one new major university each year.

★ ★ ★

Total appropriations for the state institutions for 1963-64 is $109.83 million. But the factors of enrollment increase, upward pressures on operational costs and faculty compensation and reestablishment of Michigan universities to the high competitive position they once held, indicate a rock-bottom appropriation of $122 million for the next fiscal year.

A second part of the report deals with the State's 18 community colleges and the significant part they have attained in the educational system.

These schools had an enrollment of 27,800 students in 1962. But attendance is expected to jump to 42,000 by 1965 and to 64,000 by 1970.

Capital outlay to keep pace with this expansion is put at $12 million per year, of which the State could be expected to supply half. This is, of course, in addition to commitments to the State's four-year institutions already considered.

Here in essence is the higher-education problem, of great magnitude, facing the people of Michigan. As taxpayers, we may find the implications not pleasant to contemplate. But the taxpapers of this state are very largely the parents, the grandparents, the older brothers and sisters, the aunts and the uncles of the young people whose educational opportunities are at stake.

We can't let them down.

U.S. Reds Have Grandiose Plans

By JOHN J. CROWLEY
Pontiac Press City Editor

Here's what Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States, has to say about the party's goals this year:

"Our over-all 1964 tactics," he said in a booklet recently mailed to news media, "must be directed toward the following central tasks:

"1. How to mobilize the maximum number of Americans to express themselves politically against the ultra-Right. At this level, the choice by millions against the ultra-Right will in most cases be merely a choice of the lesser of two evils.

"2. How to give leadership to the growing section of Americans who have become disillusioned with the two old parties. The policy of building an independent electoral coalition based on the main mass currents of struggle lays the foundation for mobilizing this section of the people.

OWN CANDIDATES

"3. How to create the broadest possible Left formations in the electoral field. These Left formations must be an active ingredient in all of the broader electoral activities, but to be meaningful they must also have their own candidates."

The question is: Should you believe a Communist?

It's dangerous not to keep informed on what the Communists are saying. Many times there are clues to their strategy.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, many Communist writings might better be used for wallpaper.

★ ★ ★

Another danger in interpreting Communist writings is to write off a project just because the Communists back it. For instance, if there were enough potential agitation in a drive to outlaw smoking, the Communists might decide to back it. You have to decide for yourself whether the drive is worthy of backing.

One such current drive is civil rights.

In this pamphlet, "Which Way U.S.A., The Communist View," Hall spends a lot of time talking about civil rights.

"This kind of struggle," writes Hall, "takes initiative, planning and organization. Is this not an area of challenge in which we can make a unique contribution? I think it is."

Let Hall's words serve as a warning. Whatever you think about civil rights, the Communists have said they should use it to serve their own ends.

"The civil rights front is that on which the main battles are being fought today," Hall writes, "It must at all times receive our top attention."

Other areas seen as ripe for Communist influence by Hall are "the growing restiveness of labor resulting from the dilemma of automation," and "the never-ceasing struggle for peace."

Hall sees in all these areas a need to combine efforts, to form a political coalition.

"Through such a coalition," he writes, "each group can increase its present political power tenfold.

"More, such an electoral coalition can develop into a permanent political alliance —an alliance which does not have to pick from the choices of others, but can nominate and elect candidates from its own ranks, an alliance which can pool its resources, concentrate its finances and manpower, and win."

How effective the Reds will be in developing their program remains to be seen.

The reading of such grandiose plans should not incite fear. But a little thought is called for.

Emphasize Private Enterprise

The New York News

President Johnson, we feel, has a point or two in his housing message; but why not more emphasis on private enterprise and less on loans and handouts of public money?

Private enterprise is doing pretty well, despite the attacks on it from various leftist quarters. For example — General Motors Corporation reports that in 1963 it again racked up record sales and earnings, paid out more in salaries and wages than before, and met estimated tax bills of $1.76 billion.

This, in spite of assaults by antitrust fanatics, haters of business, and enemies of the free-enterprise system. Moral: Give Capitalism half a chance, and it far out-produces any other economic system ever yet devised.

'Nhu' Frontier

The Chicago Tribune

Guess we'll have to refer to our foreign policy in Viet Nam as the Nhu Frontier.

The Holland Sentinel

Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine has decided to throw her bonnet in the ring.

★ ★

Mrs. Smith will enter the primaries in New Hampshire and in our neighbor state of Illinois.

Her supporters are ready to file her entrance petitions in both states, she said, adding she may also enter the Oregon and District of Columbia primaries.

★ ★ ★

The Senator, who is 66, describes herself as a middle-of-the-road Republican, has conceded there are "heavy odds against me." Not the least of the odds are the lack of money and professional campaign organization. Choosing to run because of the reasons she had heard as to why she should not run no doubt helped her make up her mind. One statement was that "No other woman has ever dared aspire to the White House. That this is a man's world and that it should be kept that way."

★ ★ ★

She said she would not be out campaigning when the Senate is voting on legislation, and that she would not purchase television or newspaper advertising. She will rely on unpaid volunteers for help and will pay her own campaign expenses. She will accept any voluntary contributions.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith, the first woman to be elected to both the House and Senate, has been in Congress since 1940, filling the unexpired term of her husband, Representative Clyde H. Smith. She has held and now holds powerful positions on the Senate Space and Armed Services committees.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith is making history even though she may not win. Many people are aware that there are many women in powerful positions today and the number keeps increasing.

Should Debate?

The Saturday Evening Post

Should the President of the United States accept a challenge to debate on TV during a political campaign? The Kennedy-Nixon TV debates are generally acknowledged to have played a decisive role in the 1960 campaign. The late President had indicated that he would debate again on TV in 1964. According to reports from the White House, however, President Johnson has decided against TV debates.

★ ★ ★

There are strong political reasons for such a decision. A President automatically throws away a big advantage by appearing on the same platform with his opponent ... the advantage of being better known (in most cases) and of occupying a loftier position. Vice President Nixon made this mistake in 1960.

★ ★ ★

There is another, more valid reason why the President should not engage in TV debates. It is the fact that, even though he is a candidate, he is still the President. His office carries a security burden, a responsibility and a dignity that should not be compromised. The President should not have to pass a debating test. His office must not be demeaned.

A Trade

Changing Times

Pity the man who never learned a trade. When the time comes, he won't even know what kind of work he's out of.

Bob Considine Says:

Comforts Are Abandoned at U.S. Jewish Commune

HIGHTSTOWN, N. J. — Near here, a dozen young American Jews from big cities, and accustomed to all the comforts found therein, are training to spend the rest of their lives working in Israel within the enclosures of communes called Kibbutzim.

CONSIDINE

Kibbutz Hechalutz Farm Shomria, the training camp, is the only farm school of its type in the New World.

The incumbent class of Kibbutzniks are graduates of U.S. high schools and colleges. They are as American as apple pie, but they were willing and apparently eager to take up a life completely foreign to all they've known in the past.

"The Kibbutzniks are not salaried," said the English-born manager, Svi Bunzl.

"We give them six dollars a month spending money, so they won't be embarrassed when they go into Hightstown for a soda or the cinema.

★ ★ ★

"If they come from well-to-do families, we ask them to live according to our economy; in other words, be content with what they'll have to face when the Jewish agency sends them to their Kibbutzim in Israel: room, board, medical care, and a place to live when they are too old to work."

DOUBLE PURPOSE

Kibbutzim serve the double purpose of replenishing the barren earth of Israel and defending her borders much in the manner of American strongholds in the Indian wars of the last century.

"The teaching of Hebrew is a must, here," said Bunzl. "If a boy or girl seems to have a special knack for agriculture, we send them to Rutgers to take additional training.

"We stress a Kibbutznik's absorption of culture. Here he is urged to equip himself — by painting, reading, music — for the day, and the long night, when this will be his comfort, his intellectual refuge."

★ ★ ★

The Kibbutznik can resign any time he or she wishes, even after taking Israeli citizenship and entering a Kibbutz in the old country. There are comparatively few such defections, however.

MOVE WITH TIMES

Kibbutzim instead move with the times. Some in Israel have become industrialized, produce textiles, plastics, etc., and make a lot of money — which is plowed back into the commune.

Former Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and his wife have returned to Kibbutz life after knowing the comforts and wonders of great international status.

They returned to a bleak and intolerably hot Kibbutz in the Negev, filled with the zeal to do their bit to make the desert bloom.

★ ★ ★

It does not take exceptional eyesight to see a reflection of their dedication at Hechalutz Farm Shomria.

Voice of the People:

Lady Favors Woman Bid for Nation's High Office

In answer to the lady's letter who signed her name "housewife". I think it just wonderful that a woman is running for president. She may not get the nomination this time, but it is a step in the right direction, for other women will follow who didn't have the courage to try before.

★ ★ ★

I think it time women stood up and showed they can do something of importance besides sit home and knit. I say more power to any woman who tries to get ahead in this world.

'Candidate Cliche Shows Artlessness'

The biggest smile in the early campaign announcements comes from the candidate who said: "I am compelled to run by principle and not by personal ambition." That mealy-mouthed cliche became moth-eaten at the turn of the century. The only thing left is to have some naive soul declare "he was drafted."

Editorial Phraseology Perplexes Reader

A press editorial says "space of time." It ruins my train of thought. No doubt Einstein was justified in relating time to space but for practical purposes time isn't spatial. Couldn't you say "span, stretch or the like?" And by saying "space of time" it's complicated further by giving linear portions to space which is measured by volume. In the light of everything that is happening, the phraseology isn't really vital, but I felt the urge to strain at a pesky gnat.

Garbage Not Problem for Senior Citizen

This is how I solved my garbage problem. I keep two ten-gallon cans in the basement. I take out my own garbage. I tear all cardboard, put cans inside each other, wrap garbage tight, put it in paper sacks, and wire. If there are three or more who are disabled on the street, I'm sure for ten cents each the paperboy or neighbor child would gladly take out and bring in the cans.

★ ★ ★

I thank God I'm able to do this. A big thanks to the water change and garbage pick-up. My work is cut in half. It's wonderful.

'Parents Should Support School Proposal'

I strongly endorse President Johnson's proposal for "Fair Federal Aid to Education," as part of his war on poverty.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson in effect said that we will not discriminate against the poor child of the church-related schools. The program is not designed to aid schools, but to use schools to aid children.

★ ★ ★

Man Praises Public Works Department

How about at last a good word for the department of public works in Pontiac? I have read the editorial comments and the Voice of the People in utterance of sundry complaints with the new program of garbage and trash collection. It would seem to me that this department should be commended instead of castigated.

★ ★ ★

If my limited knowledge of the situation is correct, the department was forced into developing this method of collection because of drastic budget cutbacks. Not only has this department been able to function within the bounds of this new budget, but moreover in my opinion, as far as the trash collection is concerned, they have succeeded in evolving a more efficient program.

★ ★ ★

Many other issues in our city could stand some earnest criticism rather than the one department which is putting forth a maximum effort to fulfill its duties. Let's all take a look at those.

'Movies Cause of Juvenile Delinquency?'

I was upset at the previews of a picture to start at one of our drive-in theaters. The previews offered "shock that your nerves may not be able to stand," and axe murders in detail.

Perhaps this sort of thing is the partial answer as to why so many recent juvenile crimes.

'Movie Advertisement in Poor Taste'

Why does your newspaper accept sexy and lewd movie advertising such as the one on January 21? This constant display of semi-nude and suggestive pictures must make our youngsters believe that immorality is permissible for them because the older generation approves of it and promotes it. If you refuse advertising which may be objectionable to you personally, you should likewise reject advertising which is objectionable to Almighty God.

You are in a position of grave responsibility and you can change the course of delinquents or be an instrument in creating more.

Questions Way Schools Put Children Out

I agree with Mrs. Genoa H. Erickson about the way the schools put a child out of school. It is hard to understand how the school officials take your children out of class and place them in special rooms five miles from your home. If you try to find out why, you call for a month and you get no return call.

'Station Not Best Place for Fire Dept.'

These good people that want the fire department "in the station so it will be closer to the fire" will have to explain. Do fires always break out right near the stations? Isn't a fire just as likely to break out near a city skating rink? The department just might be enough closer to save three lives and $100,000 worth of property.

Writer Replies to Letter on Race Issue

I will not dispute Mr. Bigger's claim that the first freedom march was made by white soldiers, neither will I deny that white soldiers have died for the cause of freedom. However, I do object to the paragraph in which Mr. Bigger states that the Negro owes

Oswald's Mother Next Warren Commission Witness

WASHINGTON (AP) — The other woman in Lee Harvey Oswald's life, his mother, will try on Monday to convince a presidential tribunal that only "trumped-up charges" make out her son to be an assassin.

Oswald's young widow, Soviet-born Marina Oswald, wearily completed Thursday night a four-day interrogation on the facts which convinced her that the malcontent Marxist fired the fatal shots at President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last Nov. 22.

★ ★ ★

But the mother, Marguerite Oswald, 56, fiercely insistent that "no one saw Lee fire the gun," demanded and won the right to talk, bring a lawyer, and submit evidence to the seven-man investigating commission.

Chief Justice Earl Warren said she will be the second witness in the closed assassination hearings.

'BRAVE WOMAN'

He made the announcement after telling newsmen that Marina, 22—whom he called "a very brave little woman"—had:

Identified the rifle found in the sniper's hideaway in the Dallas building where Oswald worked, as the one her husband had "kept at their home prior to the assassination." He bought it by mail in March.

Disclosed that Oswald used the name "A. Hidell" in New Orleans last summer. That was the name under which the Italian-made carbine was purchased from a Chicago mail-order house.

Told the commission that "while she did not like to believe her husband killed President Kennedy, the facts presented to her since the assassination would not permit her to reach any other conclusion."

SOLE PERPETRATOR

Filled in and elaborated on much information she previously had given in interviews—information which helped lead the FBI to its conclusion that the sharpshooter Oswald, discharged from the Marines as undesirable, was the sole and unaided perpetrator of the tragedy.

Questioned on whether the slender widow might have had prior knowledge of Oswald's plans, Warren said the marathon testimony, taken through an interpreter, indicated that: "She had no knowledge of the assassination before it happened—none whatsoever."

However, official sources have disclosed that Marina has told other investigators her husband boasted to her, on the night of April 10, 1963, that he had shot at former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker in his Dallas home that evening.

That bullet, fired from an alley through a window, was a near-miss. The conservative leader was cut by flying glass. Police never found the sniper.

The Warren commission is known to have questioned the widow on that incident, but the chief justice declined to discuss her answers.

Mrs. Oswald is expected to remain in Washington today. Her lawyer said a press conference would be arranged if she is physically up to it. She was visibly fatigued Thursday; the morning session was cut short to give her a bit more rest.

★ ★ ★

Oswald's mother, a practical nurse in Fort Worth, Tex., has denounced in many interviews and statements the "theory" that her son fired the three shots that killed Kennedy and wounded Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

Oswald was "a fine, high class boy," she has insisted. And: "Any guilt I have for making him what he was, I will accept. But this is not for the assassination.

NO DAY IN COURT

"He did not have a trial. He did not have his day in court."

Her story is one of poverty and hardship, of having been "married three times and altogether had husbands for only eight years," and of having been seven months' pregnant with Lee when her second husband died. He was Robert E. Lee Oswald, an insurance salesman.

his freedom to the Northern white soldier. I would like to ask Mr. Bigger one question, "What freedom?"

★ ★ ★

Our Negro men have fought and died and continue to fight and die for this country only to return, if they do return, to the same old prejudices. He is still the last one hired and the first one fired. He is restricted in housing, employment, recreation, and the quality of education for him is at best very poor.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Bigger states that we have some fine Negro citizens in the community. I am just as sure that we have some fine white citizens in the community, but to imply that all whites are fine citizens or that the majority of Negroes are knife carrying would be quite unrealistic.

'Protest to Producers of B and C Films'

I disagree with Mr. J. Vincent in your column that the majority of the films shown at the Forum theater are not "B" and "C" type. I have checked the ratings of these movies since this theater opened and the "B" and "C" films have been numerous. The Forum theater claims to be a theater showing only adult entertainment. If we love God, we must be willing to protest to the makers of these films.

There are plenty of fine organizations in your schools, and out of school too. If only the teen-agers would try a little harder and the parents would take time out of their busy life to see that their child is in such activities, I feel that our problems with teen-age troubles would be solved.

'Negroes Not Freed by Northern Whites'

Just to set the record straight. The Negro people do not owe their freedom to the Northern white soldiers. After seeing that it was impossible to win the Civil War without the full assistance of the Negro people, President Lincoln freed the slaves. Northern white soldiers and ex-slaves fighting together finally succeeded in winning the war.

House Leads Double Life

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (AP)—The telephone company and post office agree with Barclay Jameson's contention that he lives at 1699 Pinyon.

There, on the north side of his house on Pinyon Street, are the numerals 1699. But, on 17th Street where the city of Grand Junction says Jameson lives, are the numbers 1951.

"There's no such address as 1699 Pinyon," insists City Planner Don Warner.

Jameson, relative newcomer, said he knows for sure only which house is his. It's the two-story green one on the corner.

Seeks Juvenile Correction Changes

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George W. Romney Thursday sent state agencies a detailed report on youth problems, calling for a change in the way police, the courts and jails treat juvenile delinquents.

The report by the Michigan Youth Commission recommends establishment of "half - way houses" the abolition of the position of county welfare agent and diversified new training schools.

The report, eight months in preparation, deals with problems of "vulnerable children and youth" in relationship to education, family life, health, employment and leisure.

"The most important recommendations relating to the restructuring of services is that calling for a unified welfare department in each county of the state," the report said.

UNIFY SERVICES

"This is deemed essential in bringing together and improving the broad public social welfare services in the most effective and economical manner. It is basic to... other essential recommendations included in the report.

"Certain basic services needed to insure stable family life... should be made available. These include premarital and marital counseling agencies (and).. nursery schools and day-care centers," the report said.

★ ★ ★

"Until a unified county welfare department is established, each county welfare department should increase and train its staff to provide better rehabilitation services," the report added.

"The Michigan Supreme Court in advisory control of inferior courts, should determine the scope of services which are essential to carrying out... marriage counseling, child supervision in divorce matters and the like.

EDUCATION PROGRAMS

The report said the Detroit job upgrading program and the Flint personalized curriculum program (programs for dropouts) should be expanded and used in other communities.

The report also called for special educational opportunities for the children of migratory workers.

★ ★ ★

The youth commission asked expansion of the state police juvenile officer training program and said "there should be additional specially trained local police.

"The new State Civil Rights Commission . . . should be asked to provide all officers handling youth with deeper understanding of the problems of minority groups."

The report said probation and other services should be strengthened by establishing the bachelor's degree as a minimum requirement for professional employes of a court.

★ ★ ★

"The State Department of Social Welfare should be enabled... to provide effective supervision of boys training school and girls training school parolees, and to develop diversified follow - up programs.

The report called for "development of... 'halfway' centers and boarding homes for youth who need not be removed from the community, or who need these special facilities in their adjustment back to the community."

The corrections department is asked to establish a separate reception facility for juvenile first - offenders.

Old Bolshevik Hits Stalin Cult

MOSCOW (AP)—An old Bolshevik today revealed that 1,108 of the 1,966 delegates to a 1934 Communist party congress were liquidated in the bloody Stalinist purges.

L. Shaumyan, himself a delegate to that 17th party congress, bitterly denounced the Stalinist "cult of personality" in an article published in the party organ Pravda.

He said the congress met as Stalin was consolidating his power.

"The abnormal situation in the party connected with the cult of the personality alarmed many Communists," he recalled.

TRANSFER STALIN

"Among some of the congress delegates, as it was later learned, the idea was ripening that it was time to transfer Stalin from the post of general secretary to other work.

"It was impossible that Stalin did not hear of this."

Shaumyan hinted that Sergei Kirov, then boss of the Leningrad party, was among leaders of the opposition to Stalin.

"But a year had hardly passed after the end of the 17th congress when a criminal hand took Kirov's life," he wrote.

PLANNED LIFE

"This was a previously planned and carefully planned crime.

"Stalin used the killing as a pretext for savage reprisals against persons who were objectionable to him.

★ ★ ★

"Mass repressions were begun and the first to be removed were a significant part of the delegates of the 17th party congress.

"Out of 1,966 delegates, 1,108 were liquidated. Out of 139 members and candidate members of the central committee, 98 persons perished.

★ ★ ★

Shaumyan's article appeared in the midst of a renewed outbreak of anti-Stalin propaganda.

Many Boys Are Repeaters Due to Limited Facilities

DETROIT (AP) — Commenting; "We'll see them again," Juvenile Court Judge James H. Lincoln freed 15 boy offenders Thursday because he said there is no room for them in rehabilitation facilities.

Judge Lincoln, an advocate of expanded facilities to house juvenile delinquents has said many boys brought before him have been "repeaters."

The 15 whom he freed were to have been among 46 boys sent to Boys Vocational School at Lansing.

The judge's action coincided with a Police Youth Bureau report that of 5,311 young offenders arrested last year, 2,476 were repeaters.

At the same time the Detroit Federation of Teachers (AFL-CIO) proposed that teachers be insured against violence or theft on the part of school children.

The teachers union proposed to the Board of Education that teachers be insured for $20,000 and that they be compensated for the loss of personal property.

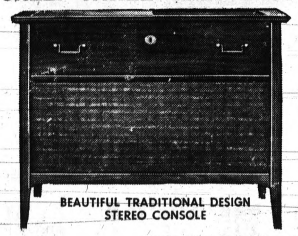

Assistant Prosecutor John W. Coury and aides continued interviews with high school teachers in the Wayne County investigation of hoodlumism at schools.

Wolf in Sheep's Clothing

Beware of Husband Alone at Confab

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Treason rears its ugly head in many places, in many guises.

Brutus stuck a knife in Caesar, Benedict Arnold sold George Washington down the river (Hudson) and a character named Quisling added a word to the dictionary by presenting Adolf Hitler with the keys to Norway.

Heldenbrand

Now, treachery as deep has appeared in the ranks of HAMS — Husband's Association for Mutual Support.

The case aired at a recent meeting, between poker hands, is that of an accredited husband who appeared solo at a convention where the majority of delegates appeared complete with wives.

What's wrong with this picture of a guy going anywhere wifeless if he has enough moxie to execute such a coup?

★ ★ ★

Well, there's plenty wrong—because the traitor whom we'll dub Charlie XX (for double cross) is out to give the on-site husbands a bad time.

FICTITIOUS DEPORTMENT

For XX, during duration of the meeting, sadistically deports himself as would only a fictitious husband.

● He bends over backwards bending over frontwards over ladies' hands—stopping just short of handkissing.

● He gets in a month's calesthenics jumping up and settling down at arrival and departure of the gals.

★ ★ ★

● He is never late with his lighter for distaff puffers.

RIVALS WAITERS

● He seats and unseats so many wives that he would graduate summa cum laude from any school for headwaiters.

● He neither drinks nor lets eye rove in direction of unattached femininity.

● He converses in language emanating refinement, sophistication and subtle flattery.

★ ★ ★

In short, he was a latter-day Sir Walter Raleigh, lacking only essential props to spread his cloak for a lovely stymied by a mud puddle.

SUPER GALLANTRY

Do the women go for this display of super gallantry?

Yes, Rollo, they do.

They grow misty-eyed and tremulous over the Chesterfieldian treatment being dished out, and in privacy with husbands wonder sadly why they (the husbands) can't be like that nice Mr. XX—and make some pretty invidious comparisons indeed.

And all the inwardly seething husbands can do is maintain silence and ride out the storm.

For they all know that at home the wolf in sheep's clothing is quite an operator.

★ ★ ★

He is noted for regular and prolonged dalliance with the cup that cheers, his affairs of the heart would make Casanova look like a confirmed womanhater, and his working vocabulary would bring blushes to a mule skinner.

WHY NOT TELL?

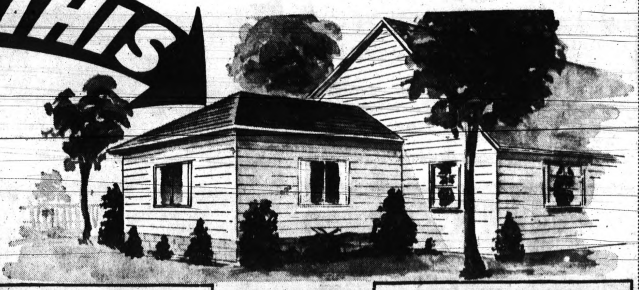

Then why don't the outraged husbands tell their wives the damaging truth about this charlatan and dispel their illusions about his saintliness?

Elementary, Watson, elementary.

Dixie Solon Warns Against Speedup of Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House moved into the final stages of the civil rights fight today with a threat that "unpleasant" things will happen if the leadership tries to speed the bill to a final vote.

Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., leader of the Southern force opposing the bill, served warning that delaying tactics may be resorted to if efforts are made to cut off debate.

★ ★ ★

Smith sounded the warning after Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck, R-Ind., sought approval for the House to meet before noon today and Saturday so a final vote can be taken by Saturday night.

Republicans want to have the 10-part bill behind them when they take to the speakers' platforms around the nation next week at Lincoln Day rallies.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Halleck's request called for unanimous consent under House rules, and Rep. John Bell Williams, D-Miss., taking his cue from Smith's warning, made the single objection needed to block it.

Smith said the Democratic leadership had promised that no effort to cut off debat would be made if the bill could be finished by next Tuesday. But Halleck said he had an agreement with the Democrats to finish the bill by Saturday night.

★ ★ ★

After Williams blocked an early session Halleck said, "if motions are made to terminate debate, I'm going to support them."

★ ★ ★

"If efforts are made to violate solemn agreements," replied Smith, referring to the arrangement to finish by next Tuesday, "some unpleasant things can happen."

★ ★ ★

The fight over debate-limiting came as the opposing forces neared action on the section dealing with equal job opportunities for Negroes.

★ ★ ★

The provision is one of two remaining tough ones. The other one would authorize the cuting off of federal funds for programs in which racial discrimination is practiced.

Chimney sweep David Mitchell, of Taunton, England, has advertised himself as a "flueologist," because "it sounds so much more professional."

Fraternity House Fire

YPSILANTI (AP) — Fire caused extensive damage to the top floor of a three - story fraternity house Thursday, firemen said. The flames swept through several rooms of the Delta Sigma Phi building on the Eastern Michigan University campus. No one was injured.

Blizzard Plays Encore, Stuns Southwest

By The Associated Press

Temperatures as low as zero were expected today in large areas of the nation's Southwest, where unusual back-to-back blizzards have paralyzed entire communities and marooned thousands of travelers for nearly a week.

The new cold air mass, with snow-whipping winds, complicated attempts to clear highways of as much as 30 inches of snow and to get supplies to isolated towns. Temperatures should rise sharply during the day, however, the Weather Bureau said.

★ ★ ★

Three counties in New Mexico were declared emergency areas —San Miguel, Union and Quay counties—and about 100 National Guardsmen worked with M42 tanks to take ranch families to town.

Unless the new storm keeps temperatures below twenty degrees the economic damage was expected to be light.

GOOD EFFECT

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said the over-all effect of moisture in long-parched areas greatly offset any immediate damages.

The biggest losses so far come from cattle being slaughtered when they wandered onto railroad tracks. Other livestock were being taken feed in six-wheel drive trucks and were expected to survive the weather unless the freeze intensified.

★ ★ ★

At least 10 persons were known dead, five in Texas and five in New Mexico. Helicopters from Cannon Air Force Base scoured the countryside for families who needed help and other possible victims.

Skies clared Thursday night over New Mexico and the Texas Panhandle, after the new blizzard's blast of snow ended in mid-afternoon.

ROAD CLOSED

The only road still reported closed in the two states was U.S. 66 from northeast of Amarillo at White Deer, Tex., to the Oklahoma border.

Activity on highways was still at the crawling stage, however, as blowing snowdrifts kept the icy roads dangerously narrow. One-lane traffic only was permitted in some areas.

★ ★ ★

Snow chains were at a premium. Amarillo stores sold out early in the week, and one of the last buyers had to pay $25 to get his pair.

Most schools remained closed until Monday. West Texas State College in Canyon and Amarillo College, were among the few planning to register students today.

WHEAT BENEFITS

Wheat farmers benefitted most from the snow. Their crop dormant from the long winter drought, stood a good chance to revive with the moisture.

Unless the new blizzard lets loose another smothering blanket of moisture, farmers said, they will have gotten "a million dollar snow."

★ ★ ★

Wool growers in eastern New Mexico said the wet quality of the snow would help their lamb crops.

Fourth Dies From Crash in Port Huron

PORT HURON (AP) — The fiery bus - car collision that killed three children and injured 19 last Friday claimed a fourth life Thursday night.

John Running, 15, of Port Huron died at a Port Huron hospital from burns that had covered 50 per cent of his body.

BUS STALLED

The boy was one of some 50 passengers on the stalled bus which was struck by a car on US 25. The bus driver, Stewart S. Heddle, 35, of Marysville said the bus stalled while returning the children from a roller skating outing in nearby Lakeport. The car was driven by Clifford Agnew, 18, of Port Huron.

The St. Clair County prosecutor's office is still investigating the crash to determine if negligence was involved.

Plan Program to Send U.S. Pupils Abroad

The Greater Waterford Community Council (GWCC) is planning a three-point fund-raising program to send eight exchange students abroad this summer.

Council members will sell tickets for the Lakeland Players' presentation of "Guys and Dolls" next month and will keep a percentage of the proceeds for the exchange student program.

A record hop for students of the two township high schools planned March 30 at Kettering High School will further bolster the GWCC fund.

Finally, the council plans to solicit contributions from all township clubs and other organizations.

Four Kettering students and four from Waterford Township High School will make the summer trip. They will pay a portion of the expenses.

Costs Are Still Unknown in Mali Socialism Attempt

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

BAMAKO, Mali Republic (AP)—Mali's president, Modibo Keita, has plunged his sun-scorched country into an experiment with socialism. The price of the venture is still unknown.

At this stage, Eastern and Western experts are not sure how Mali—a largely barren land in the heart of West Africa with a population of 4.3 million—will survive its difficulties.

★ ★ ★

Most agree that Mali, formerly French Sudan, was singularly unprepared to cut itself off from France, launch a series of costly prestige projects and create its own currency, which overnight became worthless outside its borders.

Continuing with Socialist-inspired slogans and reforms, Keita succeeded in mustering economic help from 13 nations, including the United States, China, the Soviet Union and West Germany. So far, this help is Mali's main hope for survival.

RED HELP

The Soviet bloc is the single largest contributor, with credits of around $100 million and some 500 technicians—many of whom do not bother to hide their skepticism about the country's future. Red China has pledged credits—so far on paper—and sent some 200 technicians to operate tea plantations and rice paddies.

Among the Western nations, France provides the largest aid, about $10 million a year. The United States program hovers around $3 million.

★ ★ ★

Keita's socialism — officially nonaligned—has some curious, typically African aspects. Because of considerable West German help, socialist Mali has not recognized the East German regime.

Keita can one day praise Red China and attack American imperialism only to call later on the U.S. ambassador to express sorrow at the death of President John F. Kennedy.

Mali is full of incongruities.

Mali troops armed with Czech submachine guns wear American suntans provided by the United States. The United States also trained a Mali paratroop company, while other Mali officers got military training in the Soviet Union.

White-clad women "vigilante committees" patrol the streets of Bamako, making sure that morals remain pure. They grin at girls looking out of the windows of a local brothel and continue their patrol.

★ ★ ★

In a Bamako nightclub, Malian and foreign officials sip champagne at $40 a bottle and listen to an expatriate Cuban band play the "Modibo Keita Rhumba."

Most Western diplomats are sympathetic toward Mali's plight. They describe Keita as a utopian Marxist with highest moral qualities. They agree that unlike Ghana and neighboring Guinea — Africa's two other states advanced in socialism—Mali does not run a police state.

Experience: Best Teacher

NEW YORK (AP)—Kathryn Macinick, 35, of Bayside, Queens, faces trial on charges of reckless driving, driving without a license, speeding, driving with improper lights, failing to comply with a policeman's signal and changing lanes.

★ ★ ★

She's paid $480 in fines for other traffic violations.

And there are 14 other traffic charges still pending. Mrs. Macirick said Thursday in court she once was an instructor for a driving school.

Bamboo Curtain Shut Despite De Gaulle Effort

(EDITOR'S NOTE: In this last of a series of articles on the Two-Chinas problem, AP writer Roy Essoyan assesses the future prospects in the struggle for China's seat in the United Nations.)

By ROY ESSOYAN

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The bamboo curtain probably will remain tightly drawn around Red China for years to come, whatever the outcome of the French effort to establish relations with that Communist giant.

★ ★ ★

If President Charles de Gaulle's diplomatic efforts survive the many pitfalls in their path—and if Red China can surmount the formidable built-in obstacles that keep it out of the United Nations—the bamboo curtain might open a crack.

★ ★ ★

But it will not be flung wide open for a long time.

That is the thinking of Western and Chinese experts in Hong Kong and Taipei who have been studying Red China's behavior patterns for years.

CHINESE AGREE

The few Chinese Communists you can talk to in Hong Kong agree.

An adamant Chinese Communist representative in the Security Council, many non-Communist experts believe, could doom the United Nations or render it even more impotent than Soviet vetoes have left it in past East-West crises.

The Chinese Communists are expected to remain adamant in their attitude toward the West for some time to come.

"Mao Tze-tung can't get along with his Communist partner Khrushchev. How can he get along with the Western powers or the United Nations?" a Chinese official here asked.

CLOSED SOCIETY

Red China has been a closed society since the Communists conquered the China mainland 14 years ago.

★ ★ ★

In its negotiations for establishment of relations with France, Peking has given no suggestion that it will change.

European diplomatic sources here have little doubt the Chinese Communists will allow no French or other business houses to open in mainland China.

Lack of diplomatic relations has been no barrier so far to trade with Red China, on Red China's terms. Conversely, diplomatic recognition by itself has brought no economic or political boon to countries that have extended it.

BRIEF THAWS

Representatives in Peking of Britain, India, the Scandinavian countries—and others who recognized Red China in early 1950 and thereafter—have been cold-shouldered by Communist authorities. There is a thaw only when it suits Peking's purpose. Once the purpose has been achieved, the freeze sets in again.

★ ★ ★

What trade they conduct with Peking, on Peking's terms, could have been conducted without diplomatic relations, as France and other European countries have done for years.

Chinese officials here naturally view de Gaulle's efforts as extremely unfriendly to Formosa but they also believe the results could be disastrous to France and the rest of the world.

Few here, however, believe Red China will actually enter the United Nations in the foreseeable future unless the United States abandons Nationalist China. That possibility is considered remote.

IF CHINA'S SEATED

Even if Red China wins a seat in the General Assembly by a two-thirds majority, that would not automatically mean a Peking representative will come striding down the U.N. corridors

★ ★ ★

Peking is not expected to accept a U.N. seat so long as a representative of Nationalist China is seated there. To do so would be to abandon all claim to Formosa and to admit the sovereignty of this anti-Communist island 100 miles off the China coast.

★ ★ ★

Hong Kong students of Chinese communism consider this inconceivable.

"Red China's real problem is not to win a seat in the United Nations but to oust Nationalist China from its seat," a political expert here said.

Playboy Symbol Defined

NLRB---'Bunnies Must Join the Union'

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When it comes to exercising judicial restraint, at least as far as language is concerned, no agency of government can quite match the National Labor Relations Board.

The NLRB's knack of finding just the right phrase to sum up a delicate or complicated situation was neatly demonstrated recently in a case that arose in New York.

It involved a petition by the restaurant workers union to form a bargaining unit at the Playboy Club.

★ ★ ★

One of the main issues the board had to resolve was whether such a unit would include the famous "Bunny Girls" who have become a sort of Playboy Club trademark.

WAITRESSES

The union contended that the bunnies were, in effect, waitresses and should be included. Management, on the other hand, argued that the bunnies were more like "actresses on a stage."

At a hearing on the case, certain pertinent facts were elicited, such as:

● One of the considerations in the hiring of a bunny is "an attractive and provocative appearance."

★ ★ ★

● Bunnies work under the supervision of a woman who is known as — you should pardon the expression — a "bunny mother."

● Bunnies "are expected to portray the image identified with Playboy Clubs throughout the country."

● Previous experience as a waitress is not required.

It also was established, however, that bunnies "take orders for drinks, place the orders with bartenders, serve drinks to the customers, and share tips with bartenders and bus boys."

★ ★ ★

After carefully weighing the evidence, NLRB regional director Ivan C. McLeod concluded that the bunnies "share a community of interest with other employes who service the public and, as such, they shall be included in the unit."

NO DESCRIPTION

If you never have seen a Playboy bunny in the flesh or in photographs, any attempt on my part to describe them would probably be misleading.

McCleod, however, felt obliged to include a definition of a bunny in his decision on the case. He did so in a footnote which I hope will be included in future legal textbooks as a model judicious pronouncement.

"The name bunny," he wrote, "is derived from the distinctive costume worn by female employes who have contact with customers.

★ ★ ★

Junior Editors Quiz on OLYMPIC GAMES

QUESTION: What is the purpose of the Olympic Games?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Physical fitness was one of the ideals of the early Greeks; and Greek citizens were encouraged to exercise and engage in competitive sports.

By 776 B. C. Greeks living on plains of Olympia, in Elis, had begun to hold foot races in honor of their god-king, Zeus. Other city-states joined in the competition and other sports were added such as jumping and throwing the discus.

So began the first Olympic Games, which continued until 394 A. D. In 1896, the Games were revived, but this time eight nations sent athletes. In 1956, 67 nations were represented.

The purpose of the Olympic Games is not for nations to compete with one another but to encourage and reward great individual effort.

The Games are held every 4 years, only amateur athletes competing. Before the Games, a torch is lighted in Elis, Greece, and this is carried by relays of runners (also by plane and ship) to the stadium of the host nation where the Games are to be held.

When the Olympic Flame is lit and pledges of sportsmanship have been made, the Games are ready to begin.

Sometimes the Games are held in winter, sometimes in summer. Our illustration shows only a few of the sports in which competition is held.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Have you been wondering what the words "citius altius fortius" mean? They are the motto of the Olympic Games. They mean—but this time we are not going to tell you. It will be worth your effort to find out, because it's such an inspiring motto.

A spokesman said the janitor, Arley Everson, was concerned by a U.S. Surgeon General's report on health hazards of cigarette smoking.

The firm took the action Wednesday.

State Bill Will Relax Resident Vote Law

LANSING (AP) — A bill to provide voting rights to transitory citizens in the process of moving between states has been introduced in the House by Rep. Reimer Van Til, R-Holland.

Under present law, he explained, new citizens moving into Michigan must establish a six-months residency before being eligible to vote for president or vice president.

150 Villages Destroyed

Congo Terrorists Seen in Wide Revolt

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Tribal terrorists throughout Kwilu province today were reported in wide revolt against the authority of the Central Congolese Government.

Reports from the outlying areas told of attacks on national army troops, burning of villages, and slaughtering of helpless natives.

United Nations air patrols scouting over the western province said about 150 villages had been destroyed by the terrorists.

A 6,000-square-mile area of Kwilu has been terrorized for more than six weeks by roving bands of Congolese youths, many of them drugged into the belief they are invulnerable to bullets.

RED LEADER

The rebels are led by Pierre Mulele, who is reported to have received guerrilla training while in exile in Communist China. Mulele formerly was a minister in the government of the late Patrice Lumumba, a leftist who served briefly as the Congo's first premier.

Yesterday a band of rebels ambushed a government patrol and killed seven members, including Lt. Col. Eugene Ebaya, 44, chief of staff of the national army and second in command to army commander Gen. Joseph Mobutu. Ebaya was hit by a poisoned arrow shot by half-naked terrorists.

Mobutu went from Leopoldville earlier this week to Kikwit, capital of Kwilu province, to rally army units against the terrorist attacks. Kikwit is 250 miles southeast of Leopoldville.

★ ★ ★

Officials here did not believe the wave of terrorism was an organized revolutionary movement against the central government.

NO UNITY

The roving bands appeared to have no particular political unity, although missionaries have quoted some of the terrorists as saying they would like to see the Russians come to the Congo.

Scores of white missionaries have been flown out of remote areas of Kwilu province aboard United National helicopters. One American woman missionary has been killed in the violence.

Most of the terrorists wear few clothes in their wild attacks. Many of them are armed only with bows and poisoned arrows, machetes and spears, although some of the bands — ranging up to 700 men — have various kinds of guns.

★ ★ ★

The Congolese national army, which is spread thinly over the vast central African country, has concentrated 1,000 men in Kwilu province in an attempt to stop the terrorism.

THREE KEY TOWNS

The army was reported in firm control of Kikwit, Idiofa and Gungu, three of the province's key towns, although rebels continued to harass the garrisons.

At Idiofa, huge triple trenches have been dug across the roads to block terrorist incursions.

The major destruction has been in the outlying villages without army protection. Damage was particularly severe along the Kasai River, the northern border between Kwilu and Kwango provinces.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere in Africa, foreign observers reported today that the majestic Watutsi tribesmen of Rwanda face annihilation unless the United Nations intervenes to end tribal warfare.

INTERNAL AFFAIR

However, it was reported that U.N. officials in Rwanda feel that the trouble in the former Belgian trust territory was strictly an internal affair.

Approximately 140,000 of the towering Watutsi tribesmen—many as tall as seven feet—fled from Rwanda to Burundi four years ago after they were deposed by their enemies, the Bahutu tribe.

Although there are no official figures on the number of Watutsis massacred in the last two months, conservative estimates place the figure at between 8,000 and 10,000.

★ ★ ★

The Watutsi minority had ruled the Belgian trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi ever since they arrived as conquerors from the north 500 years ago. They set up a highly-organized political, social and economic hierarchy with the Kwami, or king, at the top. At the base were the indigenous Bahutu, reduced to the status of serfs.

BEFORE SPLIT

Before Ruanda-Urundi was split into two countries — Rwanda and Burundi—in 1962, both the Belgians and the Bahutu themselves challenged the traditional way of life; the Belgians by administrative reforms and the Bahutu by organizing political parties and—from time to time — through violence.

Burundi President Pierre Ngendandumwe charged on Wednesday thousands of Watutsis had been exterminated in Rwanda. At the same time, he denied that this country was being used as a base of operation by Watutsi terrorists to carry out raids against Rwanda.

The length of all the corridors in the Pentagon is 17½ miles.

Firm Devises Space Broom

To Detect Hazards of Meteoroids, Dust

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (UPI) — Fairchild Stratos Aircraft Missiles Division here is developing a giant broom to sweep space to measure the size and frequency of meteoroids or space dust.

The satellites will be the largest solid structures ever erected in space when they are placed in 200- to 700-mile orbits later this year.

The wings, measuring 96 by 15 feet, will be folded when the satellites are boosted into space aboard Saturn rockets. They will be extended by electric motors when they get into orbit.

★ ★ ★

The wings will be used to pick up the meteoroids in order to gain more information on meteoroid hazards for use in designing manned spacecraft, fuel tanks and radiators which will be exposed in space for long periods of time.

DETECTOR PANELS

Detector panels on the wings will discharge capacitors when the meteoroids hit them and the electronic pulses will be stored in a memory circuit for transmission upon ground command.

The panels are made of aluminum, mylar, gold leaf and polyurethane foam and are being produced here.

The satellite structure itself, made of tubular aluminum, is being designed and developed by Fairchild's space systems division at Bladensburg, Md., for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

YOU AND ATOMIC ENERGY

Mrs. Enrico Fermi and Walker L. Cisler at Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant, October 13, 1960. The plant is named in honor of the late, famous Italian-American physicist.

Machines greatly increase the productivity of the men who work in industry. They help make possible higher wages, shorter hours and our country's superior living standards. The energy the machines use, electric power, is one of the lesser costs of production. Nevertheless, it is a part of the total cost of the finished product.

Michigan doesn't contain much native coal, oil or gas—not nearly enough to provide all the energy necessary to run our great industries and provide for the needs of the state's more than 8-million citizens. So fuel must be imported and its transportation costs money. About half of Edison's cost of coal is in the transportation of it, literally by the train load and boat load.

In contrast, uranium, processed to run an atomic energy power plant, is measured by the pound. So its transportation cost is an insignificant factor. Going a step further, the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant, near Monroe, has a special kind of nuclear reactor, a breeder reactor. I believe that this type of reactor, which produces more fissionable material than it consumes, is one of the most important projects of its kind in the world.

As Dr. Fermi said in 1945, "The country which first develops a breeder reactor will have a great competitive advantage in atomic energy."

It is good that Michigan is the site for this kind of research and development work, and that the power it produces will be distributed over our lines. It's one of the ways by which we seek to overcome higher generating costs and produce electric energy at as low a cost as possible.

An important part of our service to you is preparing for the future in this way, by pioneering and participating in the research and development that are so meaningful to you, to our state, our nation and to the world at large.

Sincerely,

Walker L. Cisler

Guantanamo Not Caught Unawares by Water Cutoff

WASHINGTON (AP) — For four years the Americans at the Guantanamo naval base have lived with the possibility that at any minute Fidel Castro would shut off the supply of fresh water.

So the plans were ready Thursday when he finally did it —closing off the pipeline which normally carried about 2 million gallons of water a day from the Yateras River.

★ ★ ★

The water ration for the 10,500 people of the huge base—Navy and Marine personnel, civilian workers and their families — was reduced to one-fourth of normal, the Pentagon announced.

On hand in storage were 15.9 million gallons of water, calculated to last 25 days on an austerity ration.

REDUCE CONSUMPTION

It is figured to reduce consumption on the 31-square mile base to about 500,000 gallons a day from the usual 2 million gallons.

Under these conditions the water would be turned on only three times a day and may be used only for such essential personal needs as drinking and washing. For the remainder of the day, the water supply is restricted to emergencies such as fighting fires and for industrial uses.

But the restrictions may not have to be quite so severe.

Thursday night, Prime Minister Fidel Castro said Cuba had no desire to harm civilians, "including women and children," and would allow water to flow into the base for one hour a day, from 8 to 9 a.m.

And President Johnson in a speech in New York promised that water for the base "can be brought in and will be brought in indefinitely by ship from Port Everglades, Florida."

Navy officers said that there is a standing contract with the Port Authority of Port Everglades for 2 million gallons a day at 25 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The voyage from Port Everglades to Guantanamo would take about 1½ days.

★ ★ ★

Another plan Navy authorities have under consideration is the system used last fall when Guantanamo's filter equipment broke down after Hurricane Flora.

This would involve sending Navy water ships about 100 miles to Jamaica to pick up supplies. Each of these ships can carry about 250,000 gallons and could make the round trip in a day.

Another source of water at Guantanamo is the water barge Abatan which is moored in the bay and has facilities for distilling about 220,000-gallons a day of fresh water from the sea.

Castro Action Tied to Fishers

By United Press International

● GUANTANAMO — Castro's Cuba cuts off all but a trickle of water to the big U. S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay on the eastern end of Cuba until 36 Cuban fishermen seized off Florida Keys are released.

The effect — Navy rations water for the 10,500 Americans on the base and expects present stored supply to last 25 days. No water crisis is expected.

● U. S. reaction — President Johnson meets today with top military and diplomatic advisers to map U. S. strategy. Congressional leaders vow to support whatever action the President decides upon.

★ ★ ★

● Fishermen — Czech diplomat confers with Florida authorities regarding poaching charges against the Cuban fishermen who were seized for fishing in U. S. territorial waters. Florida said it would not drop charges because of Castro threats.

'ARBITRARY DETENTION'

Castro—Castro calls detention of the fishermen "arbitrary and illegal" and said full water service to Guantanamo will be withheld until they are released. Cuba promised water one hour daily for the benefit of women and children at the Navy base.

★ ★ ★

● Goldwater — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination in New Hampshire, said the United States should "march out with a detachment of Marines" to turn the water back on at Guantanamo.

U.S. Has Faced Graver Crises

The United States and its Western allies have faced without yielding far more serious Communist pressure tactics than the Castro government's cutoff of water to the big U. S. Naval base at Guantanamo Bay in Cuba.

The Russians' attempt to squeeze the Western powers out of Berlin by blockading all land and water supply routes in 1948 was embarrassingly unsuccessful.

The protracted incident showed the West's determination and ability to deliver huge quantities of supplies of all kinds in the face of politically inspired constraints.

For 10½ months while the Soviet blockade was in effect, the West, principally the United States, supplied the 2.2 million residents of West Berlin virtually everything necessary to sustain life — food, fuel and a wide range of other supplies.

FLEW IN SUPPLIES

After the blockade began on June 24, 1948, American, British and French air forces flew in 2,343,301 tons of supplies, including enough coal to keep Berliners' homes heated during the following winter.

A total of 277,728 cargo flights was made to the city, isolated 110 miles inside East Germany, before the Russians lifted the blockade the following May 9.

Admittedly, food and fuel supplies were short during the blockade period, and electricity was available only three hours a day.

But in the end, the Soviets recognized the futility of continuing the blockade — it failed its purpose to squeeze the Western allies out of the city and starve its inhabitants into acquiescing to Communist control.

END BLOCKADE

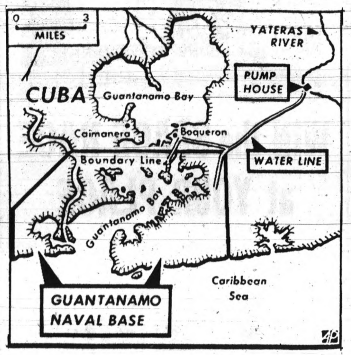

On May 4, 1949, a four-power agreement ending the blockade as signed, and it went into effect five days later.

Supply routes to Berlin were reopened and have remained open since except for occasional harassing delays of allied military convoys on the autobahn leading from West Germany to the divided city.

By contrast to the Berlin blockade, the problem of keeping the Navy base at Guantanamo supplied with water appears to be little more than a trivial nuisance.

★ ★ ★

There is no immediate water crisis on the base, and none is expected.

AP Photofax

WHERE IT'S CUT—The Castro government cut off outside water to the U. S. Naval base at Guantanamo Bay yesterday. The stoppage was made at the pump house on the Yateras River, where 2 million gallons a day comprise the usual U. S. intake.

City in Florida Set to Furnish Fresh Rations

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (UPI) — The Fort Lauderdale Utilities Department was "alerted" last night to be ready to supply the Guantanamo Naval Base with emergency water rations under a standing contract with the U.S. Navy.

Mayor Melvin R. Young said in a telegram to President Johnson that the city utilities department "will standby in a condition of preparedness indefinitely."

The contract, signed four years ago today, calls for the Port Everglade Authority and the city to supply 2 million gallons of water a day to the base at 25 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The city recently laid a pipeline from its water source to the docks at Port Everglades to facilitate loading the water tankers.

Mayor Young said Fort Lauderdale supplied 10 million gallons of water to the U.S. stronghold in Cuba during the 1962 quarantine of the Communist island.

Growth Hit by Romney

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney attacked what he called excessive federal government power in a Lincoln Day address Thursday night to an audience of more than 1,000 Republicans.

After complimenting the legislature for what he said was its restoration of Michigan's image by changing state indebtedness to a surplus, Romney criticized those who he said believe government and big money are the solution to all problems. He said patriotism and morality are more important.

Romney said the Republican party has a great opportunity to reverse trends which could lead the nation into crisis.

ASSAILED LAWS

He also assailed laws which he said lead to monopoly in labor and industry.

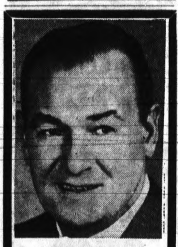

Romney said his party is in position to mobilize forces through public and private organizations and to use their influence to solve social problems.

Romney spoke at the Kalamazoo Christian High School auditorium. He will be in Ishpeming on an Upper Peninsula tour today.

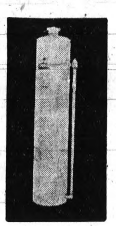

Two State Arbor Days

LANSING (AP) — A double proclamation was issued by Gov. George W. Romney Thursday, declaring April 23 as Arbor Day in southern Michigan and May 7 as the same day in Northern Michigan. The two days for planting trees are needed because of the varying climate in Michigan, the governor explained.

Police Hunting 'Thrill Killer'

Sniper Took Lives of San Diego Couple

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Police say a thrill killer may have been the sniper who murdered a newlywed couple as they strolled down a scenic stretch of beach.

Dying Navy Radioman 3. C. Johnny Ray Swindle, 19, and his slain bride of three weeks, Joyce, 19, both of Jasper, Ala., were found by a passerby on Wednesday night.

★ ★ ★

"There is absolutely no indication of motive, unless the missing wallet indicates robbery," said Police Capt. Ed De Bolt. "There is no triangle in the background of the two young people, nothing which would lead us to their killing."

Said Lt. William Schenck: "It's entirely possible they were killed by someone they never knew—someone whose only motive was excitement."

CALLING CARD

On the ledge of a retaining wall, police found a box of Valentine candy. Investigators assume the Swindles bought the candy while on their stroll. But, they said, it could have been left behind as a deranged killer's calling card.

Police said the gunman perched on a ledge on a cliff overlooking the Pacific Ocean. The moonless night concealed him and the surf's roar muffled his shots.

★ ★ ★

The sniper fired five shots from the cliff ledge. Then he moved in to fire two more in a kind of coup de grace, police said.

Swindle and his childhood sweetheart were married Jan. 18 in Jasper, Ala. They honeymooned in a three-room cottage nine blocks from where they were slain.

LOVED THE WATER

Their landlady, Miss Maria Smith, said Swindle had been on leave since their marriage and the couple spent part of each day fishing. They rested in the afternoon and, at night, they strolled.

"He said he couldn't keep his wife away from the ocean, it fascinated her so," said Miss Smith.

Detroiter Convicted in Draft Ruling

FLINT (AP)—U.S. District Judge Stephen J. Roth Thursday convicted Darwin A. Beatty, 25, of Detroit of failure to take directed civilian employment as an alternative to military service. Sentence was deferred.

★ ★ ★

Beatty said he believed his work as a member of Jehovah's Witnesses qualified him as a minister and that he should be exempt from any type of service.

Beatty had been ordered by a draft board to report for civilian service at Harper Hospital in Detroit.

Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. June Matthews, Oakland University, and Mrs. D. B. Varner, wife of OU's chancellor, chat at luncheon Thursday. Mrs. Knudsen's husband has accepted the chairmanship of OU's performing arts center program to be inaugurated this summer on the campus. The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will present 12 outdoor concerts July 23 through Aug. 15.

ABWA Launches Attendance Contest

Tipacon Chapter, American Business Women's Association, launched an attendance contest at a dinner meeting, Wednesday in the Elks Temple.

Members were assigned to different airlines as passengers boarding for a "Pontiac to the Riviera" contest which will end in April.

* * *

Telse Knudsen, American Field Service student from Denmark and a Pontiac Central High School senior, was the speaker.

"Education is somewhat similar at the elementary and high school level, with English a required subject," she said. "Two years beyond high school or the equivalent in a trade school are required for university entrance.

"Universities are government-sponsored. Tuition, books and supplies are provided, the only cost being living expenses.

"Teenagers are pretty much the same the world over. I feel that American teens date too young, marry younger and are self-supporting younger. Perhaps this is because it takes a longer time to get an education in Denmark and because living expenses are higher."

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Ray Myers, Mrs. George Mozola, Mrs. Svend Brandrup, and Nancy Grant.

Edgewood Country Club has been reserved for the annual Boss Night on April 8.

Dance Club Holds Ball at School

Continental Dance club members of Bloomfield Hills will sponsor their mid winter dance "Sweethearts Ball" Saturday at Hickory Grove School.

The Avalons, a local dance orchestra, will feature music from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.

* * *

Dance theme is hearts and flowers. Chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. John Malin and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Flanigal of Bloomfield Hills.

Committee members include Mr. and Mrs. Vince Mascia, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Adams, the John Hanzels, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hafeli and the Carl Kingreys.

* * *

Cocktail parties preceding the dance will be held by Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Miller of Orchard Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Malcom McLeod, both of Bloomfield Hills.

Don't Insist if Guest Is Unwilling

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Sometimes my mother's well-intentioned kindness becomes quite embarrassing.

Whenever we have guests, she insists that they taste this, that or the other thing even after they say, "No thank you."

* * *

I have tried to tell her as politely as I can that it is not proper, but she thinks she is not being hospitable if she doesn't do this and says many people need urging.

Can you convince her that she is wrong?

* * *

A: I think I can understand your mother's point of view because there are a few people of the type she has in mind.

* * *

But on the other hand, I agree with you that 99 persons out of 100 mean it when they say "No!" and most of these find persistent urging embarrassing and even annoying.

Q: My maiden name was Mary Jane Smith. After I married I signed my name as Mary Smith Brown. My husband died several years ago and I expect to marry again soon.

I would like to know which is the proper initial to use after my marriage. Should it be S for Smith (my maiden name) or B for Brown (my first husband's name)?

A: S for Smith.

Q: My fiancee and I went to a dinner and dance at a very fashionable hotel. When we were leaving the hotel, the doorman asked me if I would like a taxi.

I said "yes" and he hailed one. I would like to know if it was necessary to give him a tip for this service?

A: He should have been given a tip, unless the taxis were waiting and all he had to do was to motion to one and then open the door for you.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Utilize Wall Space

If there isn't room on the floor for storage units, hang them on the wall.

* * *

You have a choice of building in exactly what you want or buying ready-made units.

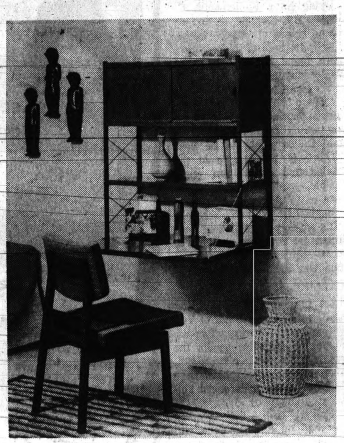

* * *

One national concern, Cosco of Columbus, Ind., has added items to their basic collection of four. In 1963 you could buy a desk, bookshelf and cabinets.

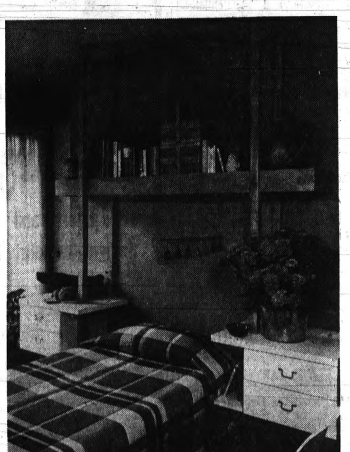

Now you have a much wider choice of cabinets and a new desk, all in walnut woodgrain finish. There is even a credenza with sliding doors.

* * *

Wall storage units are equally at home in living room, dining room, bedroom or study. Choose them to suit your needs.

Clever idea is this new wall desk unit, a 1964 addition to Cosco's Plan-A-Room line. The desk shelf in the model shown above folds simply into the cabinet front when not in use. About $25.

A sleep suite completely frames a bed in birch with a bookshelf and hidden lighting above, twin night tables flanking. White Formica covers the tables, should a midnight snacker splash. Posts go through table tops to make a shelf below. Designed by Russel Wright. Can be a do-it-yourself project.

Females Out-Talk Males

Idea Is 'for the Birds'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have had people tell me that their parakeets talked, but I have listened to these birds and never could make out what they were trying to say—until last night!

ABBY

I was at the home of a friend who had a parakeet that said, "Kiss me big boy," "Bottoms up," and "What's your hurry beautiful?" as clearly as any human.

I asked her some questions about the parakeet and she said that first you must be sure you have a male because only males talk.

* * *

The females won't utter a sound. Then she said you must put the parakeet in a teapot and whisper down the spout whatever you want him to memorize.

Was she kidding me? I was too convinced at the time to question her, but now I have my doubts.

DOUBTING

* * *

DEAR DOUBTING: She must have been pulling your leg. Females of all species can outtalk the male—feathered, furred or human.

DEAR ABBY: I want to sound off about these salespeople who come into your office during working hours and take up your time trying to sell you cosmetics, insurance, vitamins, etc.

* * *

Don't they realize that you are working for an employer, and your time is his time? I work in a six-girl office and someone is constantly barging in to sell something.

* * *

It's rude to tell them to leave, but all the while you are wondering when your boss is going to come up behind you and ask whose payroll you're on.

PEEVED FROM CHARLESTON

DEAR PEEVED: It's dishonest for an employe to spend her boss' time on the receiving end of some sales spiel.

It's not necessary to be "rude" in informing a salesperson that you cannot give him your time.

But if one must choose between rudeness and dishonesty, rudeness is the lesser.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. D. W. IN WESTWOOD: Call your County Dental Association and ask for an appointment with the committee that determines if the chiseling you got was worth the chiseling you got.

Money Battles Call for Firm Budgeting

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

More His and Hers battles are fought in this time of year than in any other season, according to my own statistics on matrimony.

Unpaid bills, taxes coming up, frozen plumbing, and boredom with the same old winter coat — and a woman figures she's had it.

Her first fighting target is the family budget. MARY FEELEY

Usually in such cases the budget is wide open to attack anyway. So I say more power to her. A real good scrap can clear the atmosphere for all concerned, and get the year off to a better start.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband and I have almost come to the parting ways over financial matters. I find myself, like many wives of today, absolutely left out in handling the income.

NO IDEA

For fifteen years I had no idea what my husband's income was, where the money was going, no knowledge of our insurance status, etc. I have never had any money to call my own —just what I could save out of our grocery bills.

Now that we have just consulted a lawyer, my husband has agreed that we are "partners"—and that a man's wife should be acquainted with their financial status!

I read your articles with great interest, and we would like to live within our income. But we are at a standstill as to how to start a budget. Which one of us should pay for what? Should we have a joint account for paying the monthly bills? How do we keep an accurate record of all checks written, if he and I both are writing checks on the same account?

★ ★ ★

We have gotten in debt and our goal, at first, is to pay up every bill we owe, except of course the house mortgage or the insurance policies. These are paid for in monthly installments.

Any suggestions or pamphlets will be gratefully accepted.

Mrs. D.B.M., Charlotte, N.C.

Dear Mrs. M.:

Try using separate checking accounts, instead of one joint account. The plan that seems to work for couples just starting a budget set-up is this:

He gives her a specific sum each payday — weekly or monthly. Out of her household checking account, she pays the grocery bill, household operating expenses which include cleaning supplies and utilities, and her personal expenses such as transportation, beauty shop, gifts, etc.

Out of his checking account, he pays the mortgage, insurance premiums, medical costs, car operating costs, entertainment, clothing and home furnishing bills, his own job expenses and personal expenses.

★ ★ ★

Naturally his checking account will be the larger one. The remainder of the income goes into a joint savings account. Out of this account will come funds for major purchases or major emergencies. And remember that this account will be earning interest continually.

SENSIBLE MANAGING

If each of you keeps only enough money in your individual checking accounts to cover current expenses, plus a little margin for safety, you'll get the habit of managing what you have more sensibly. Put down on paper what your various expenses are, by the week or the month, and you'll see the whole financial picture.

This will tell you how much money you should receive as your regular household allowance. You may find you'll have to readjust these figures after a trial period, of course, but you'll at least be able to make a workable start.

I'm sending you a copy of my budget leaflet — and my blessings.

Rehearsal Supper for Local Pair

The Richard E. Carlsens of Barkman Street were hosts at a recent rehearsal supper for Virginia Marie Olsen of Detroit and their son Ensign Richard Allen Carlsen USNR who will be married on Sunday.

★ ★ ★

'Conversation piece' on this special occasion was an heirloom hand-tatted tablecloth which carried out the pink and white bridal theme.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. George LaBurn of Detroit honored her niece at a trousseau tea and Mrs. M. J. Carlsen of Barkman Street was hostess at an evening shower.

USA Maj. (Ret.) and Mrs. O. Thoma Olsen of Eau Gallie, Fla. will arrive by plane for the ceremony and reception in St. James Episcopal Church, Detroit. They were formerly of Percy King Drive.

MARY KAY GRIFFITH

June vows are planned by Mary Kay Griffith, daughter of the Vernon Griffiths of Knollwood Drive and David Alan Brueckmann, son of Mrs. Larry Wallace of Lapeer and Edward Brueckmann of Baltimore, Md. She is an alumna of Michigan State University.

Showers Given to Bride-Elect

Elizabeth Mary Schidzig, of North Branch, Saturday bride-elect of Joseph Figurskey of Emerson Avenue, has been honored at a round of pre-bridal showers.

★ ★ ★

Among those entertaining for her were Mrs. LeRoy Hohman and daughter Sharon of North Branch, personal shower; Mrs. Al Parash of Imlay City with Mrs. Dwaine Hamlin of New Haven, cohostess; Mrs. Francis Fike, North Branch, linen and kitchen shower.

★ ★ ★

The honoree is the daughter of Mrs. Martin Hamlin of North Branch and her fiance's parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. John Figurskey.

Polly's Pointers

Perseverance Wins

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I enjoy the column termendously, have used many of the ideas and want to share a hint with your faithful readers.

I sent an idea some time ago but it wasn't used. However, the same idea did appear but with someone else's initials. I was very hurt.

Whenever using nuts in cakes or cookies, I first put them in a cup or bowl of water before placing theim in the batter.

Many of the little pieces of shell will come floating to the top of the water and can easily be skimmed off.

★ ★ ★

No more broken teeth or bitter taste from biting into a piece of black walnut shell. — D. M. M.

DEAR POLLY — To keep a desk free from ink stains, carve a hole large enough to hold an ink bottle in the middle of a fairly large sponge.

Glue the sponge to a heavy cardboard base and insert the ink bottle in the hole. Put this ink "caster" in your drawer or on the desk top.

The bottle will not tip and the sponge absorbs excess drips.

★ ★ ★

An empty egg carton is a good holder for paper clips, rubber bands, stamps and other small things kept in a desk drawer.

The 12 sections will hold all these and the top may be used for pencils, pens and erasers.— HOLLY

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — If a wooden clothes basket shows signs of splintering, give it two coats of white shellac.

This will double the life of the basket and prevent clothes from being snagged.

When I apply a cream deordant, I apply it with a facial tissue so the cream does not get under my fingernails. —MRS. W.C.H.

Screams Relieve Tension

NEW YORK — A good way to calm jittery nerves and relieve nervous tension is to scream. But make the yell a silent one if you want the neighbors to remain tranquil.

The silent scream is the suggestion of Dr. Eleanor Metheny, University of Southern California physical education professor, for relaxing when irritations pile up. According to The Insider's Newsletter, Dr. Metheny thinks the act seems to gratify an "unreasonable and perhaps even childish wish to scream at a world you can't change."

* * *

"In the calm that follows, you are better able to accept the fact that there are no easy solutions to most of our human problems."

* * *

The Newsletter says the best way to get off a nice relaxing scream is to clench your fists, contort your face, open your mouth wide and yell without sound. If you give it all you've got, the gesture will not only act on your face and throat, but can work off residual tensions in every muscle of your body.

* * *

Another instant tension breaker recommended by Dr. Metheny is the "slack jaw." In this one, you sit down, let your mouth go open wide for a few minutes and you'll find yourself going dull. "This slows down the chain of thought and can be very restful."

If you prefer a rich glow rather than a dark antique finish on pewter, experts recommend washing it once a week in hot soap or detergent suds with two or three tablespoons of ammonia added. Rinse with hot water, then buff with a soft cloth.

If the piece is tarnished, apply silver polish—or use polish for stubborn cases.

Barry Holds Primary Lead, but Rocky Gains

(EDITOR'S NOTE — How do the candidates stand in New Hampshire's Republican presidential primary race. A third Associated Press poll explores the situation.)

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)— Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is still considered by Republican leaders in New Hampshire as the front-runner in the presidential primary, a third Associated Press survey of the state's county executive committee members showed today.

★ ★ ★

But Goldwater, despite recent hard campaigning, has not improved his position since December, the new poll indicated.

His chief rival, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, showed a slight gain since the previous poll, taken last December.

Nearly half the county leaders participating in the poll said they are undecided as to the probable Republican presidential nominee at the convention next July.

Of New Hampshire's 33 county committee members, 26 responded to the questionnaire. It asked two questions, "Whom do you consider the strongest GOP candidate against President Johnson now?" and "Who will be nominated in July?"

★ ★ ★

The responses were:

Strongest Candidate

Goldwater—14
Rockefeller—3
Goldwater - Rockefeller even—2
Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge—2
Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon—1
Undecided—4

NOMINATION?

Who Will Be Nominated?

Goldwater—7
Nixon—3
Lodge—2
Gov. William W. Scranton—1
Undecided 12.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, and Harold F. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, also have entered the March 10 primary but have done no campaigning.

★ ★ ★

The first AP poll of county leaders, taken last October, gave Goldwater 22 votes as the "strongest candidate" and 17 as the likely nominee.

The senator's figures dropped to 14 and seven on these two questions in the December poll, conducted a few weeks after President Kennedy's death. Goldwater's showing in the latest poll is unchanged from December.

'STRONGEST CANDIDATE'

Rockefeller received one vote as the "strongest candidate," and none as the likely nominee in December. Now three county leaders list him as "strongest" and two said the nomination is a tossup between Rockefeller and Goldwater. Only one, however, said he believed Rockefeller would be nominated.

The two committeemen who believe Rockefeller and Goldwater are running neck-and-neck in New Hampshire said they based this opinion on Rockefeller's campaigning in New Hampshire.

★ ★ ★

Lodge, ambassador to South Viet Nam, has not personally entered the primary. His supporters, however, are campaigning to roll up a write-in vote for him.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater's conservative views, in the opinion of Alexander Taft of Greenville, have cost the senator some support. Taft was one of five committeemen who said Goldwater's strength has diminished.

★ ★ ★

With six GOP names listed in the primary, one county leader said, "It's such a rat race that I don't think anyone has a commanding lead."

Avondale Sets Science Exhibit

Newspaper Sent Out to District Parents

By PAT KLEIN

A science assembly program was scheduled today at Avondale High School. The program featured a new concept in demonstrating the principles of science through demonstrations and audience participation.

This year at Avondale, something new has been sent out to all parents. A small paper, "News of Avondale Schools," carried news of all the schools in the Avon district.

The paper was designed to acquaint parents with the activities of the school system.

Members of the senior class met Monday to discuss plans for their senior trip. They have a choice of three places to visit.

They may travel to New York by bus, to Washington, D.C., by bus or take a boat trip to Chicago. In order for the class to take this trip, 100 students must participate.

Because of the newness of the club and the lack of school facilities, they decided to present two one-act plays, "Little Prison," a farce-comedy by George Milton Savage, and "The Breaking of Bread," a drama by William Watson.

Results of a questionnaire reveal that seniors preferred a Detroit location to one nearby, and favored a dance over a dinner dance for their prom.

WTHS Using Test Program

By MARY BARNINGHAM

Waterford Township High School is one of two Michigan high schools to use a new program, "Contemporary Composition."

Mrs. Patricia Poteet is teaching the experimental course to two of her advanced senior English classes.

The program, developed by Edwin B. Peterson, professor of English and writing at the University of Pittsburgh, makes use of an overhead projector and an extensive series of visual transparencies to illustrate basic writing techniques.

★ ★ ★

Published by the Science Research Associates, Inc., Contemporary Composition consists of more than 500 acetate transparencies on which written materials and illustrations covering 12 major concepts in English composition have been printed for projection onto an overhead screen.

Two of Theodore Kazanis' sophomore English classes will travel to Hilberry Theater Wednesday to see the Wayne State University Players' production of William Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

The students will leave the school at 8:30 p. m. and travel by bus to the theater.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

It's Important to Check Up on Coughs

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Man has ben defined as a member of the ape family with a cough.

The definition is never more vivid than it is in the winter months.

If you have a cough that hangs on for more than three weeks, it should be regarded as chronic, and you should have your doctor find out why it has persisted.

★ ★ ★

If your cough is associated with shortness of breath, blood in the sputum, or pain in the chest, it is doubly important to have a checkup.

SERIOUS CAUSES

The more serious causes of a chonic cough are tuberculosis, lung cancer, chronic bronchitis, and valvular heart disease with beginning decompensation.

Other common causes include heavy smoking (more than a pack a day) and daily exposure to smog.

If heavy smoking is the cause, don't laugh it off as just a cigarette cough.

★ ★ ★

It is an indication that smoking has damaged your respiratory mucous membranes.

REDUCED AWARENESS

Furthermore, if you have had the cough for a long time, it may reduce your awareness of a cause that may be reinforcing your cough.

I am sometimes asked why night air aggravates a cough.

The night air does not aggravate it, but the change in posture from standing or sitting to lying down may do so.

★ ★ ★

Your cough is a symptom rather than a disease in itself; but like all symptoms it is a warning that something is wrong.

MASKING SYMPTOMS

We have come to be so preoccupied with relieving or masking symptoms (pain, depression, etc.) that we often forget the protective value of the symptom as a warning.

Cough remedies to suppress your cough should certainly be taken when you are seized with a fit of coughing in public or when coughing interferes with your sleep, but they are no substitute for discovering and treating the cause.

There are literally hundreds of cough remedies available.

★ ★ ★

Old-fashioned hard candy with or without glycerin as an ingredient will soothe the irritated mucous membranes of the throat.

Most of the older cough syrups contained codeine which suppresses the cough reflex.

There are now many nonnarcotic drugs that are just as effective.

One of the most valuable recent contributions to the treatment of coughs due to emphysema, pneumonia, tuberculosis, and chronic bronchitis is acetylcysteine (Mucomyst).

★ ★ ★

Given by inhalation as an aerosol, it liquefies thick mucous secretions otherwise hard to raise, which by their very presence in the lungs cause coughing.

Once liquefied, they can be coughed up and expectorated.

★ ★ ★

The action of this drug is prompt and effective.

Bill Signed to Give Lake Fisheries Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to give an economic lift to commercial fisherman in the Great Lakes region has been signed by President Johnson.

The bill empowers the Small Business Administration to make long term, low interest loans to fishermen hard hit by last year's botulism food poisoning scare.

Lutheran Council Says Bias Is Sinful

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) The National Lutheran Council, urging support of antisegregation legislation, says the church has an obligation to preach the Gospel without discrimination or distinction.

★ ★ ★

In a resolution which replaced a milder civil rights statement adopted Tuesday, the council said Thursday that "to exclude from worship or membership any person on the basis of color, culture, class or caste is to sin against God and man."

The council, representing the American Lutheran Church and the Lutheran Church of America, ended its 36th annual convention Thursday.

Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: A Bridge of Knives.

NEEDED: Four table knives and five objects — cups will do.

DO THIS: Build the bridge of knives as shown, and the fifth cup can be supported on the knife blades.

WHY? Each knife is supported at both its ends, although to some it would not seem so at first glance.

When the extra weight is added each knife bends downward slightly until the strain is proportional to the stress.

The upward and downward forces are then equal, and friction prevents the knives from sliding sideways.

Watch for the book "Science Circus No. 2," a new collection of these scientific tricks. It should be in your bookstore and library in December.

Anne Bancroft Trip

From 'B' Movies to an Oscar

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Anne Bancroft, the incumbent Oscar winner, was in town this week, but not for long.

She was here from her New York home just long enough to do a comedy skit with Bob Hope in which she plays the first woman president. It will be featured on the Hope television show on Feb. 14.

THOMAS

Ah, that's how it seems to be with Oscar winners in recent years—they win the big prize and Hollywood hardly sees them again. Some local citizens figured Miss Bancroft absented herself from the town because of her previous experience here. She spent seven lackluster years playing in B movies.

NO BITTERNESS

Yet she displayed not a trace of bitterness.

"Do I regret those years?" she says. "Not in the least. I often look back on them with a degree of fondness. They were carefree times and I really had a great deal of enjoyment."

* * *

But did she learn anything for her craft?

"No, nothing of any value. When I left, I was undergoing a difficult period. I was getting a divorce from builder Martin May, and that was bad. Also, I wanted to know if I should continue in the acting field. I wasn't so sure that I should.

* * *

"So I went back to New York and began studying under Herbert Berghof. He told me yes, I should continue to be an actress and that I had potentialities."

CRITICS RAVE

They were soon realized. She tried out for the role of Gittel Mosca in William Gibson's "Two For the Seesaw." Her performance won critical raves and acting awards. A major reason for her success, she said, was because she had to work so hard.

Miss Bancroft went on to another William Gibson play, "The Miracle Worker," with equal success. This time the play's creators held onto the movie rights and filmed it themselves, with Anne and Patty Duke in their original roles. Both copped the big prize in a pleasant upset last April.

* * *

Since her triumph, Miss Bancroft has worked in only one film. That was "The Pumpkin Eater," which she made in England with Peter Finch and James Mason. She'd like to do more and wouldn't even mind working in Hollywood.

Judge Visits Town; Crooks Swipe Wheels

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Judge James A. Reilly, a visiting jurist in Allegheny County Criminal Court, parked his car in the city's uptown section.

When he went to get it yesterday, it wasn't there. Police found it in another section of the city—minus all four wheels.

Tax Tips

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The following questions and answers on income tax problems are provided by the Internal Revenue Service as a public service.)

Q: I am 66 years of age. In 1963 I had income of $247.00 in interst, $700.00 from a company pension plan to which I made no contributions, and $1,392.00 in social security benefits. Must I file a federal income tax return?

A: You do not have to file a tax return. A person who is age 65 or older must file an income tax return only when he has gross income of $1,200.00 or more for the taxable year. Your gross income was only $947.00, $247.00 interest, and $700.00 pension. Social Security benefits are not taxable.

For the answer to YOUR question, call your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

'Switch Likely of Ruby Trial'

Attorney Believes Houston May Be Site

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Noted Houston defense attorney Percy Foreman says he thinks Houston has "better than a 50-50 chance" to get the Jack Ruby trial."

A hearing begins Monday in Dallas on a defense motion to move the trial from Dallas. The defense has contended Ruby could not get a fair trial there in the slaying of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Foreman made the announcement last night in an interview. He would not elaborate.

★ ★ ★

However, he did say he had been asked to participate in the Ruby trial and in representing Oswald's interests before the Warren commission but had declined both requests.

RUBY'S ATTORNEY

Ruby's chief attorney said yesterday "If we are sent to Houston, I'd be tickled to death."

Melvin Belli, the attorney, told the Houston Post by telephone. "I've lectured in your city. I think you are tolerant. I think you are a terrific Texas city."

Belli said the defense would not ask for a delay of the trial if a change of venue is not granted.

★ ★ ★

"If they go ahead in Dallas, we'll go," he said. "But they won't have a case in any court that will stand up on appeal."

Ruby now is scheduled to go on trial in judge Joe B. Brown's court in Dallas Feb. 17.

State Fire Marshal to Eye Nursing Homes

EAST LANSING (AP) — The fire marshal division of Michigan State Police will hold a public hearing at the East Lansing headquarters Feb. 28 on proposed new fire safety regulations for licensed nursing homes and for the aged. The regulations are aimed at bringing older buildings into line with new national fire safety standards.

Ex-Greek Premier Dies

ATHENS (AP) — Sophocles Venizelos, 69, a former premier of Greece, died Friday of a pulmonary ailment aboard a cruise ship returning from a political campaign trip to Crete.

Why Are U.S. Athletes Faring Badly in Olympics?

By JIM BECKER

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—What's wrong with this American Winter Olympics team?

Some nervousness; a little lack of luck. Otherwise things are about normal.

★ ★ ★

"We've won our quota of medals," said Art Lentz, executive secretary of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "Let's face it; we are not a Winter Olympics nation. We usually get only two or three gold medals.

"Our only real disappointment has been in men's skiing and that's mainly because of all the publicity about the argument over the seedings for our skiers."

FOUR MEDALS

Uncle Sam's athletes have won only four medals—a gold, silver and two bronze—and are unlikely to win any more in the current Games.

Speed skater Terry McDermott captured the gold medal for first place in the 500-meter sprint. Jean Saubert, the talented Alpine skier from Lakeview, Ore., won a silver and a bronze medal for a second and third. Scott Allen, the 14-year-old figure skating prodigy from Smoke Rise, N.J., bagged a bronze medal for third.

J. Lyman Bingham, head of the American Olympic delegation, had this to say:

"We aren't disappointed. We are a little surprised at the improvement the other nations have shown. We are better, but so are they."

A survey of U.S. coaches and officials, most of whom seem highly pleased by American accomplishments so far, produced these reasons why the Americans don't win:

1. The number of American competitors in the sports on the Winter Olympic program.
2. The lack of training facilities for these sports in the United States.
3. Lack of time for training and for the tough international competition that produces winners.
4. The cost of all these things.
5. The remarkable improvement of athletes from other nations—especially the Russians.

A few figures tell the story. The Russians, who dominate these games, have two million skiers, two million speed skaters and from 200,000 to 300,000 hockey players.

FEW SKATERS

Serious American skiers are numbered in the thousands, hockey players in the hundreds, skaters in the dozens. These sports are not popular in the United States and lack public support. Organized competition is scarce.

The United States has no Olympic style skating rinks. Innsbruck has three; Japan has 16; Scandinavia has hundreds. Alpine ski training in America is limited by time and facilities.

In Austria and France skiers are national heroes, often indirectly supported. They ski the year around.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, adds more reasons — Russia puts sports on a scientific basis with technical training and the new athletes coming along are the thinking type who are as effective as coaches in developing themselves.

Also the cost of sports participation is kept low. Tass says the best pair of Russian-made skis costs $15, ski boots $10-12, speed skating shoes $12 - 18. Coaches are paid by the state so they cost the athletes nothing.

COLLECTIVE HELP

If an athlete has no money, he can get help from labor or sport collectives. Collective farms also are obliged to help sports with financial contributions.

Comparable U.S. costs for equipment are skis $150, ski boots $65, skates $40. Coaches are either pros who have to make a living or amateurs using their spare time from other jobs. And teams are financed by voluntary contributions.

McDermott skates in his spare time from his job in an Essexville, Mich. barber shop. He concentrates on the short races because he hasn't time to train for longer races.

McDermott's victory was the first for an American in a Winter Olympics race since 1952.

Dick Heller, Royal Oak Kimball swimming coach, had his chance to "sabotage" the strong swimming program which has made Birmingham Seaholm the high school swim power of Michigan the past few years.

Heller was working in the Birmingham recreation program for couple summers handling swimming at Derby Junior High.

Today some of the same boys he was tutoring are swimming against his Kimball team with Seaholm and Groves high schools.

"I had my chance and goofed," laughed Heller in jest, "now some of those boys are giving me nightmares when they swim against Kimball."

Heller certainly would never do anything to hamper anyone's swim program. He is one of the sport's most devoted coaches. He never rebuffs an opportunity to boost swimming on any level.

STRATEGY

Heller admits he has to be a master-strategist trying to outwit coaches like Corey Van Fleet at Seaholm and Jim Gilster at Groves.

"Those two guys are real fine coaches and can beat you on paper the way they place their swimmers," said Heller.

★ ★ ★

When Heller has a big meet coming up like the one with state champion Seaholm next Friday he spreads out his records and charts of every swimmer involved and sits up most of the night before a meet trying to figure out what manuevers and countermanuevers he will have to use against a coach like Van Fleet.

"I'll probably sit up every night for a week prior to the state meet with a table full of papers trying to figure out where I'll put my boys," he noted.

Next week, the meet between Kimball and Seaholm could very well be decided by the strategy the night before.

The last time the two teams met in the Seaholm pool a few weeks ago, the Maples won 54-51 before a jammed screaming crowd. More than 500 were turned away at the pool doors and they overflowed into the Seaholm gym where the cage teams of the two schools were playing.

"We didn't lose by three points," said Heller, "we lost by an inch." He was referring to the fact that this was the margin of victory in the final freestyle relay event won by Seaholm.

LARGEST CROWD

The meet next Friday could finish the same way, but there won't be a spectator problem.

A closed TV circuit set up in the Kimball gym will enable the largest crowd ever to see a high school dual swim meet in the county, and possibly the state, watch the two teams.

★ ★ ★

The pool's capacity will be pushed to 1,200 and the total crowd figure could reach 3,000 with the gymnasium seats.

A screen measuring 18 x 24 will be placed in the gym and "I'm sure we won't have to turn anyone away," Heller said.

Both teams are after the state crown this year. Kimball has great depth in the distance events with five swimmers among the top 10 in the state in the 400 freestyle event.

Doug Webster, Kimball sophomore holds the best in this event in 4:00.3 while Seaholm's Pete Adams is at 4:05.1.

Adams, the state 200 freestyle champion tied his own mark in 1:52.6 recently, but more recently Kimball's Bill Watts came in at 1:52 flat.

"I'd probably be lynched if I didn't put Webster and Watts against him (Adams) in these events," said Heller.

No one really wants to attend a lynching. It wouldn't be as interesting as the swim meet, undoubtedly already being masterminded by the friendly rivals, Heller and Van Fleet.

42nd Straight Triumph Goal of Prep Matman

One of Oakland County's top prep wrestlers will be looking for his 42nd consecutive victory when the Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows tournament opens Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The crafty grappler is Stan Secosky, a senior on the Sorrows squad, who has compiled an impressive 64-12 won-lost record during his three and one-half years with the Lancers.

Secosky wrestled in the 138-pound division last year and captured the state title.

Added weight boosted the Lancer ace into the 145-pound class this year and he often moves up to the 154-pound division when strategy demands it.

"It depends on where we need him most," coach Dick Potter said.

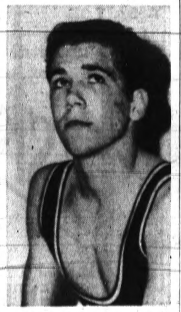

Secosky's string of 41 wins includes dual and tournament matches. Of his 64 victories, 37 have come on pins.

AFTER 42ND

He will be favored to extend the string to 42 when the Lancers play host to Detroit Catholic Central, Southfield and Northville.

Preliminary bouts will get under way at 2 p.m. Finals are slated to start at 7 p.m.

Potter said Catholic Central (5-3) has the role of the favorite. Southfield and Northville have 1-8 records. FOLS has a 5-3 mark.

U.S. Olympic Story: Arrest Trio, Honor Skater

3 Arraigned for Car Theft at Innsbruck

Charge of Brutality by Austrian Police Is Claimed

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) — Three members of the U.S. Winter Olympic team were formally charged today with resisting arrest and unauthorized use of an automobile.

The three appeared before an Austrian judge amid charges by U.S. team officials that police manhandled and injured them in jail after a predawn auto chase and a chase with police yesterday.

They are skier Bill Barolt, 20, Aspen, Colo.; and tobagganists Mike Hessel, 21, Eugene, Ore., and George Farmer, Seattle, Wash.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Karl Klee, Maroli's lawyer, said he hoped the charge of car theft would be withdrawn. He said the Swiss owner of the car, said to be a friend of the Americans, apparently does not plan to press charges.

STIFF SENTENCE

But if convicted on the charge of resisting arrest, the three Americans would face up to five years in jail.

Police doctor, Dr. Franz Wieser, told newsmen:

"Farmer and Hessel were in a drunken stupor. Hessel could barely talk and Farmer sat and mumbled incoherently. Maroli, who drove the car, apparently was not intoxicated."

U.S. Olympic officials said the incident was only a lark. An Austrian police spokesman said he thought the court would be lenient because the Americans "apparently were having a blowout after those weeks of restricted life in the Olympic village."

★ ★ ★

Bill Kerth, manager of the U.S. toboggan team, said after visiting the athletes Thursday that Farmer's face was puffed and his eyes swollen and that Hessel had an eye injury. He said Maroli was not injured.

Kerth claimed that after the Americans were brought to the police station, police knocked Hessel to the floor and kicked him in the face. Farmer had one arm in a cast, having broken it in training.

The police said they were still investigating the charges of police brutality.

★ ★ ★

Hessel's father, a doctor who is here with his son, said he had examined the three young men. He claimed that they were chained by the police to restrain them at one point after their arrest.

3 Yank Skiers Qualify for Men's Slalom Run

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Three of America's top skiers—Bud Werner, Billy Kidd and James Huega—qualified today for Saturday's men's slalom race while Canada won its first gold medal and Russia its 23rd in the ninth Winter Olympic Games.

The slalom apparently is America's only hope to add to its medal collection, which consists of two Alpine skiing medals for Jean Saubert, a figure skating bronze for 14-year-old Scotty Allen and the lone gold by speed skater Terry McDermott.

★ ★ ★

Vic Emery, a towering 6-foot-2 Canadian, drove his four-man bobsled to an upset victory over the favored Italians on the dangerous Igle chute and Claudia Boyarskikh, a 25-year-old Russian school teacher, anchored a Soviet triumph in the women's 15-kilometer relay ski race.

It was the third gold medal for Miss Boyarskikh. Russia now has an all-time high of 10 gold, eight silver and five bronze.

★ ★ ★

The men's slalom qualification runs were staged on the steep slope of the Bergitzkoepfl Mountain, on the outskirts of Innsbruck. Twenty-five qualified today and 25 qualify Saturday before the finals.

FERRIES FANS

The fourth American, Chuck Ferries of Houghton, Mich., missed out on his first run. He was 26th in 55.17 seconds, but he gets another chance Saturday to make the final field of 50.

Finley, Council Fail to Agree

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics and City Council have failed again to agree on a contract for Municipal Stadium and owner Charles O. Finley is unhappy because the city refused to help with his ticket drive.

"The mayor has said that he has a crew ready to help with the sale of tickets," Finley said after Thursday's negotiations. "But this afternoon when I asked him if he would release them while we are negotiating, he flatly refused. He said he would turn them loose when he had a four-year lease and not before."

★ ★ ★

Said Mayor Ilus W. Davis:

"I don't see how he can call on the city to assist him in selling tickets when he doesn't have a lease on the stadium."

After the talks — the sixth since Finley's lease expired—Finley said he would ask for another meeting of American League owners "to bring them up to date."

15-Year-Old Is Youngest to Win Medal

Scott Allen Scores 3rd Place in Figure Skating Event

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Scott Allen will not be sailing his boat up the Nile this summer.

But it would be a good idea if he made a hotel reservation in Khartoum for February, 1968.

★ ★ ★

Scott, who will be 15 Saturday, was promised by his father and mother that he could sail his 18-foot boat up the Nile if he won the gold medal in figure skating at the Winter Olympics here.

He gave it a good try, but he settled for the third place bronze medal behind Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer and France's Alain Calmat Thursday night.

"Third place is fine with me," he said. "It's a medal for us, and I'll try to get a better one next time."

ALREADY FAVORED

Next time will be the Olympics at Grenoble, France, in 1968, and Allen already is a hot favorite for the gold medal. He'll be 19 then.

And failing that, there is always 1972.

But right now, Allen is the youngest competitor ever to win a medal of any kind in the Winter Olympics and only the third American to capture one in these games.

★ ★ ★

Skier Jean Saubert got two, a silver and a bronze, and speed skater Terry McDermott won the only gold.

"Happy?" Allen asked a swarm of reporters. "I couldn't be happier."

Allen, who won the national championship at Cleveland last month, said he used the same program in the Olympic final.

"I thought I skated a little better in Cleveland than I did here, but over-all I thought I did almost as well as I could," he said. "I missed the landing on one jump a little, but those things happen."

STILL GROWING

Allen is a fairly good-sized 14-year-old and growing almost hourly. He was 5-foot-5 when the Olympic fact book was compiled, and is 5-6 now. He weighs about 135 pounds.

He has wavy brown hair, and the manners of any well-brought-up boy who will be 15 on Saturday. He is polite to his elders, but you can see he would just as soon be elsewhere as standing around answering questions.

★ ★ ★

Allen started serious skating when he was five. He had his first skates at one. His father and mother—who were in the capacity crowd for the final—were members of a skating club near their home in Smoke Rise, N.J.

PNH Leads Series, 7-1

Huskies Entertain Walled Lake

The Inter-Lakes basketball race has reached the critical stage for Walled Lake's Vikings who take on league-leading Pontiac Northern tonight on the Huskies home court.

PNH leads the loop with a mark of 5-1, with Farmington and Walled Lake locked in a tie for second with 4-2 records.

A loss for the Vikings would drop them two full games off the pace and all but end their chances of taking the I-L title.

And defeating PNH is a big assignment.

PNH holds a 7-1 edge in the series with the Vikings and the Huskies are riding a 16-game home-court winning streak.

BIG LEAD

Walled Lake held a 10-point lead going into the second half in the first contest this season with the Huskies but came out on the short end of a 73-63 score.

Probable starters for Northern will be Mike Burklow and Terry Reese at guards, Roger Hayward (6-2½) and Dean Souden (6-2½) at forwards and Dave Sudbury (6-4) at the center slot.

Viking coach Bob Bolton will probably go with Pat Godfrey and Jim Broome at the guard posts, John Thomas and Jim Grant at forwards and George Bullock (6-3) at center.

★ ★ ★

Hayward leads the PNH offense with an average of 20.8 points a game, and Burklow is riding along at a 15.3 pace.

Bullock has been the offensive star for the Vikings. He owns a 15.1 average for 10 games.

Other games on the I-L schedule have Waterford invading Farmington and Berkley traveling to Southfield.

Waterford is winless in league competition and holds an overall mark of 1-8.

Expect Records to Tumble

MSU Relays Open Saturday

EAST LANSING (AP)—Meet records should go tumbling at the 41st annual running of the Michigan State Relays Saturday.

You don't have to look beyond the first event, the broad jump.

NCAA champion Cliff May field of Ohio Central State has a good shot at the record of 24 feet 9½ inches. He leaped to 24 feet 9 inches last week and has an indoor best of 24 feet 10 inches.

He will be jumping against defending champion Dennis Holland of Western Michigan who has done better than 25 feet.

Ron Ward of Ferris State, who won the 1,000-yard dash last year in 2.17.1, faces a fast opponent. Missouri's Robin Lingle holds the fastest time ever run by an American indoors, a 2:07.6.

YES 7 FEET

Michigan sophomore Bob Densham could treat the fans to a seven foot high jump. He cleared the bar at 6-10 at the Michigan Relays last week, an inch over the MSU relays mark. Missouri's Ross Tunnell, the Big Eight champion, will be in competition and has hit 6-8½.

The best Michigan State chance for a record goes with Bob Moreland, who won the 60-yard dash last year in :06.1, a meet record. He will be pushed by Purdue's Nate Adams, the Big Ten outdoor sprint champ, who also has covered the distance in the same time.

Some 300 athletes from 17 colleges and universities will compete in the relays, generally considered the official opener of the Midwestern collegiate indoor track and field season.

St. Frederick closes the Northwest Parochial League season tonight needing a victory to gain a share of third place in the loop race.

The Rams (6-5) and Eaglets (7-4) will square off at 6:30 p.m. at Jefferson Junior High School.

A win for St. Mary would boost the Eaglets into second place with St. Michael (8-4), which completed the season Tuesday.

Other games on the parochial slate have Royal Oak Shrine at Detroit St. Anthony, Birmingham Brother Rice at U of D High and St. Therese at Ferndale St. James.

Avondale, Orion Host O-A Games

Avondale will play host to Warren Cousino tonight and the Yellow Jackets will be trying to halt a two-game losing streak.

Other games on the Oakland A League schedule have Rochester at Fitzgerald, Madison at Troy and Clawson at Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

The Yellow Jackets have foe in the Cousino quintet play and they face a rugged racked up a 2-8 mark in league (5-5).

In the Southern Thumb, unbeaten New Haven (10-0) will entertain Memphis (7-3), Capac (8-2) journeys to Armada (3-7), Brown City (3-8) welcomes Dryden (3-7) and Anchor Bay (4-6) has a date at Almont (5-6).

Black Hawks Cooled Off, 4-0

Wings Regain 4th Place

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings, with a little help from the lowly Boston Bruins, are back in fourth place in the National Hockey League after scoring a 4-0 victory over Chicago Thursday night.

Boston cooled off the surging New York Rangers for the second time in as many nights with a 4-0 triumph. The Rangers had lost only two of their first 10 games this year before coming against the Bruins.

Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel said he was surprised to see his team come back after losing to the same Black Hawks the night before. Chicago scored twice in the last 68 seconds in that one to grab a 4-2 decision.

Abel particularly praised the work of goalie Terry Sawchuk who recorded his 96th regular season shutout to add to his fifth shutout of the season and the first over Chicago. He has shut out the Black Hawks 24 times in his career.

SHOOTING BEE

After an even first period, Detroit outshot the visitors 18-4 in the middle session, with Larry Jeffrey, Floyd Smith and Parker MacDonald scoring.

The latter tally came with Chicago playing two men short as the result of a penalty to Al MacNeil and two minor penalties to Reg Fleming.

Fleming, who already had been penalized for elbowing, tried to pick a fight with Detroit's Andre Pronovost. But Pronovost did not take the challenge, and Referee Frank Udvari gave Fleming two more minutes for roughing.

★ ★ ★

Bruce MacGregor notched Detroit's last goal midway through the final period after the Black Hawks had been frustrated by the Detroit defense after having a man advantage for almost four consecutive minutes.

Abel said Sawchuk's save of an Eric Nesterenko shot in the second period probably gave the Red Wings the spark they needed. Nesterenko took a pass right in front of the net, but Sawchuk covered just as the Chicago right winger fired.

"If he had scored," Abel said, "that would have made it 1-1 and it could have been an entirely different game."

That save turned out to be the last Sawchuk had to make in the period.

HOWE CUT

Gordie Howe was cut on the lower lip when he was hit by Bobby Hull's stick in the last minute of play. The wound took seven stitches.

The goals were the eighth for Jeffrey, Smith and MacGregor, while MacDonald's was his 11th of the season.

At Boston, Bruins goalie Ed Johnston made 26 saves to gain his sixth shutout of the season.

Murray Oliver scored in the first period, and Doug Mohns put the Bruins two goals up with a second period marker. Johnny Bucyk and Bobby Leiter notched the others in a fight-filled final period.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings meet Boston in an afternoon game Saturday, while Montreal is at New York in another matinee contest. Chicago will be at Toronto in the day's other action.

The Rangers will be at Detroit, Toronto at Chicago and Montreal at Boston in games Sunday.

Thursday night's loss kept Chicago tied for first place with Montreal. But the Black Hawks have played two more games and lost them both.

Hills 5 Invades West Bloomfield

There will be a lot at stake when Bloomfield Hills invades West Bloomfield tonight.

For the Hills quintet, a victory is a must to keep alive their hopes of picking up a share of the Wayne-Oakland League basketball crown.

And for the Lakers, a win would move them into a tie for second place in the loop and keep alive their winning streak which now stands at five games.

And for both clubs, there's a matter of community prestige.

The Lakers' auditorium seats 1,100 and school officials anticipate a capacity crowd. Tickets will go on sale at 6 p.m.

The Barons emerged on top in the first meeting between the 1962-63 league co-champions back in December, 45-36.

START TO JELL

West Bloomfield will take a 6-4 record into the game, and the Hills squad will step onto the court with an 8-2 mark.

West Blomfield floundered at the start of the 1963-64 campaign, losing four of its first five games, but the squad started to jell and now owns a five-game winning string.

The early-season losses were attributed to inexperience by coach Art Paddy.

"We were a young team," Paddy said. "We've gained experience and we have more boys." Paddy referred to Rick Hacht, a 6-1½ forward, who recently rejoined the team. He is the tallest member on the squad.

The Lakers have one of the top scorers in the county in Dan Greig, a guard, who is averaging 19 points a game.

★ ★ ★

Teaming with Greig at the other guard post will be Brian Melzian. Other probable starters are Steve Alix at center and Mike Hargreaves and Tim Moller at the forward slots.

The Barons will have a decided height advantage with Dan Mautte (6-3) at center and Greg Anderson (6-0) and Wally Wengren (6-2) at forwards.

Starting at the guard posts for the Barons will be Greg Riggs and Dave Gottlieb.

TOUGH DEFENSES

Both units have turned in respectable defensive work through 10 games.

The Barons have the best mark — 46.4 a game — while the Lakers have permitted an average of 49.6 a contest.

On offense, the Barons have been moving at a 59.4 pace. West Bloomfield is rolling along with a mark of 53.6.

★ ★ ★

Other games on the loop slate have Northville at Holly, Clarkston at Brighton and Clarenceville at Milford.

50 at MSU for Baseball

EAST LANSING (UPI) — New coach Danny Litwhiler greeted 50 prospects as Michigan State's baseball team began indoor drills this week.

Litwhiler, a 12-year veteran of major league baseball, came to MSU to replace John Kobs after nine coaching seasons at Florida State.

Kobs spent 39 years at the Spartan helm and is now an administrative assistant to athletic director Biggie Munn.

The Spartans will begin their 27-game schedule with a spring training trip through Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia and Florida beginning March 23.

HOT SCORE—Don Fairfield of Perdido, Bay, Fla., mops his brow with relief after hitting a red hot 66 in the opening day of the Phoenix Open. Dave Marr (top) and Julius Boros fired 69's and they stop to admire Fairfield's card.

Brother Rice, Seaholm Face Title Contenders

The hard battles for basketball championships are just beginning for Birmingham Seaholm and Birmingham Brother Rice.

The former is one of four teams tied in the Eastern Michigan League race with five games to play, and Brother Rice has meetings the next two Fridays with its chief challenger in the central division race of the Detroit Catholic League.

Seaholm will entertain one of its three first place mates Friday. Mount Clemens will bring its improving quintet and a four - game winning streak.

The Battling Bathers grabbed a share of the top spot for the first time last Saturday when they completed a successful consecutive night home stand with a 77-68 win over Port Huron.

Seaholm has a three-game winning streak going for it. The Maples sagged for awhile after a strong start, but have bounced back behind coach Lew Parry's new lineup.

Parry moved team captain Bruce Nyberg to guard where he has successfully teamed with Harold Wilber. Big Jeff Meyer has taken over as the regular center and Ron Jacobson has moved from the pivot to forward with Mark Fritz.

Other EML games has Ferndale playing host to Roseville, East Detroit at Royal Oak Kimball and Hazel Park at Port Huron. Kimball and Ferndale are the others tied for the lead.

The former has the harder task tomorrow. It will play an aggressive East Detroit team that probably will have a lot to say about the final standings.

WARRIORS TASK

Brother Rice leads it league race by one game with a 9-1 record. Harper Woods Notre Dame and University of Detroit High are both in second place and awaiting their second shot at the Warriors.

Since losing their opening game, they have rattled off nine straight wins. The return engagement with Notre Dame will be at Harper Woods.

A victory over U-of-D Friday will clinch a tie for the top spot.

The other Birmingham cage squad, Groves, will visit Oak Park. The Falcons first win of the season—they are 3-7—came at Oak Park's expense, 45-39.

Another victory will even the Groves log in the Northwest Suburban League at 3-3. The Birmingham school will travel to Bloomfield Hills for a Saturday night game.

North Farmington will visit Livonia Franklin in the other suburban league tilt.

Opposition Builds as Arnie Bids to Keep Phoenix Title

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Arnold Palmer's bid to win a fourth straight Phoenix Open Golf Tournament title faced increasing opposition today with 14 golfers ahead of him, Don Fairfield leading the list.

Never has a golfer won the same PGA tour event four consecutive years and going into the second 18 holes, Palmer's attempt rates a long shot—yet isn't impossible.

★ ★ ★

His opening one-under-par 70 over the flat Phoenix Country Club Course left him four strokes behind Fairfield's 66 and two-behind four players deadlocked at 68. Tied for second were Champagne Tony Lema, Bill Collins, Herman Scharlau and George Archer, the rookie San Francisco pro who won the Trans-Mississippi amateur event on this course last year.

In all, 42 shot par or better over the wind-whipped course in the first round of the 72-hole event with its $50,000 purse.

NINE-WAY TIE

In addition to the 14 ahead of him, Palmer was grouped with nine others at 70. This gathering included British Open champion Bobby Charles.

U.S. Open king Julius Boros carded a 69.

Fairfield nearly overslept his 8:48 a.m. tee time, having forgotten to switch his clock to Mountain Standard Time after leaving California, which is on Pacific Standard, an hour earlier.

★ ★ ★

He reached the course just in time to avoid disqualification and fired his five-under-par round. He had birdie putts from 18 inches to 60 feet and was par on the other holes.

Lema, completing his round just before nightfall, lost a solid chance to tie for the lead. He was five strokes below par through 16 holes but hit into a sand trap at the 17th and behind trees on the 18th to go over par on each.

Crane Skaters Tie, 1-1

Cranbrook's chances of moving out of last place in the prep hockey league grew dimmer although the Crane skaters managed a 1-1 tie against Detroit Notre Dame.

After a goal by Tom Arnold gave Notre Dame a 1-0 lead, Cranbrook scored with five minutes left in the first period as Chip Brethen received assists from Guy Bramble and Hal Weckler.

The Cranes were outshot 17-12 and now hold a 4-7-1 season mark.

ROSM Breaks Scoring Mark

Royal Oak St. Mary closed the Northwest Parochial League season on a winning note Thursday, setting a school record in a 96-67 triumph over Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows.

ROSM won the parochial title with a mark of 12-0 and will move into the first round of the Second Division Catholic playoffs Sunday at the Memorial Building in Detroit.

The Irish will play either St. Rita or St. Gregory with the game slated to start at 2:30 p.m. Second-round action is scheduled for Feb. 19.

ROSM raced to a 43-27 lead at intermission and coasted through the final half.

Tom Wagner paced the Irish attack with 23 points, followed by Rod Bannister with 18.

Miles Kearney collected 21 for the Sorrows quintet.

Midwest Bible College Stays in 1st Place

The Falcons of Midwestern Baptist College extended their winning streak to six by scoring a 64-54 triumph over Christian Junior College this week.

This enabled Midwestern to hold a half game lead over Grace Bible College in the Michigan Christian College Athletic Association.

Saturday they will meet Detroit Bible College at Mumford High.

The Wolverines, who edged Illinois 84-81 last season, entertain the Illini in a second game on Feb. 29.

Clay Said Member of Muslims

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cassius Clay's father told the Miami Herald Thursday that his son has been a member of the Black Muslims since he was 18 and that they have been "brainwashing him ever since."

"He's so confused he doesn't know where he is at," Cassius M. Clay Sr. told the newspaper.

Clay has neither denied nor affirmed that he is a member of the Black Muslims. He admitted that he attended a New York meeting with some Muslims several weeks ago, although he said members of other Negro groups also attended.

NO COMMENT

Neither Clay nor his father could be reached Thursday night for comment on the Herald interview.

"Cassius, who meets champion Sonny Liston in a heavyweight title match Feb. 25, told his press agent, "I don't want to get involved" when informed of the interview.

Clay's father said his youngest son, Rupy, is also a member of the Black Muslims. Clay Sr. said Cassius joined soon after winning the light heavyweight title at the Olympics four years ago.

Bowling's therapeutic benefits have been extolled here previously in discussing the physically handicapped and what local establishments are doing to aid those less fortunate.

Not much has been said about porgrams to bring some comfort to the mentally disturbed, however. At least one such plan is being discharged regularly; others may be developing.

Pontiac State Hospital every Tuesday morning sends 20-25 patients by bus to 300 Bowl where they indulge in almost two hours of bowling.

The patients have accepted the idea eagerly. The group that completed its six-visit program there this week was the third one this season. Another will start next Tuesday morning at 9 a.m.

The idea of going bowling is an outgrowth of modern recreational therapy thinking and plastic bowling sets, plus the generosity of 300 Bowl proprietor Joe Puertas who sponsors the visits.

The hospital previously had an "indoor" league at the hospital that used the plastic bowling sets. This was a popular diversion for the patients.

Then, as recreational therapists increasingly utilized facilities outside the hospital to rehabilitate patients, bowling trips came into the picture.

They have been so well received that now Miss Dorothy Roe, recreational therapy director, and her assistant Bill Vaughn are hoping to find other establishments to sponsor similar programs for the juvenile patients and the day care patients.

They are interested, also, in having local groups come and use the hospital recreational facilities.

TALENTED MISS

The fact that 15-year-old Terry Grant has raised her bowling average to 147 — well above the national women's average — is a good indication she knows what to do with a bowling ball.

She further proved this last Saturday at Cooley Lanes when she rolled a 622 series, including games of 214 and 221. The Waterford High School sophomore has been league bowling seven years.

A member of the Union Lake Junior League, she has taught herself most of what she knows. The 221 missed her highest game total by about 10 pins, but the 622 was her first "600."

Leo Sykes lives in Detroit, bowls in Dearborn and works at the GM Factory Branch at the Oakland and Cass intersection in Pontiac.

Dearborn, particularly Dearborn Lanes, is what he's remembering the most this week. He had his first 300 game there Wednesday night as part of a 667 series (his highest).

The newest 300 Bowl Sparemaster is Tennis Morris who hit the jackpot spare (6-7-8-10) last Sunday and collected more than $425 in cash and merchandise.

Only one woman has scored more than one WIBC sanctioned 300 game — Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia has three.

Pontiac Stop Now Largest for PBA

It's now official that Pontiac will have the largest professional bowling tournament in Michigan history.

The North American PBA Open to be held at 300 Bowl, March 24-28, has now become the largest tournament of the 40 stops on the Pro Bowler's 1964 tour.

Because the demand for entries in the Pontiac tournament far exceeded the maximum of 118 pro bowlers permitted, the number of entries has been increased to 160 and the purse has jumped from $28,000 to $31,400.

There were many outstanding bowlers, including many from Michigan, who were left out when the entries closed two weeks ago at 118, in the earliest closing of any PBA tournament.

Complaints from the bowlers, whose late entries were refused or put on a waiting list, caused the main office of the PBA in Akron, Ohio, to increase the maximum to 160.

"Even with this increase, the entries are again closed and there still is a waiting list," said Ed Elias, executive director of the PBA.

"We cannot allow anymore in the Pontiac tournament as it will be impossible to handle them in the alloted time," he added, "and this now makes the Pontiac purse the largest of the tour."

Elias also said that there would be no change in the qualifying for the pro - am event now being conducted at 21 bowling houses in Michigan and Toledo. More than 200 handicap bowlers who qualify will bowl with PBA members in the pro - am event with a $5,000 purse on the opening day of the tournament.

Spectator tickets are being sold by service clubs in advance for 75 cents for any of the nine sessions. They are also available at bowling alleys. At the door they will cost $1.00.

Singles, Doubles on Elks' Schedule

Only Sunday doubles and singles events are listed this weekend as the Elks Ladies National Invitational Bowling Tournament enters its fourth week of action.

Pontiac entries will cover the lanes at the Orchard Lake Ave. Temple. No Saturday competition is listed for the weekend.

Last week's major changes were in the doubles event. The Pontiac leaders, Mabel Fields and Maxine Smith, were ousted from the top spot by a Chicago, Ill. twosome.

Margaret Nordstrom and Gloria Neise hit a 1233 handicap total to assume the lead. Kalamazoo's Jeanne Frudgeon and Jean Byerly took over second place with 1191.

A Muskegon pair, Nina Kokx and Marion Dichert, bowled 444 for the best handicap doubles game to date.

No other new leaders were posted.

A Royal Oak entry, the Powers Repair Shop team, had 2863 for third place in the team standings.

Contenders to Meet in Wrestling Card

A battle of contenders for the U.S. professional heavyweight wrestling championship is the feature attraction on the Saturday night mat card.

Vying for the championship will be Ricky 'Crusher' Cortez and The Student.

Other bouts have Ivan Kalimkoff meeting the Hillbilly and Gary Hart wrestling Lou Pappineau. The midgets will open the action at the National Guard Armory at 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Last weekend at West Side Lanes 300 Bowl and Airway Lanes showed why they are atop the standings. "300" only had four men but it bombed Montcalm, 26-7, and Airway ripped West Side, 27-11.

The latter was the highest winning total this season.

Other results last Sunday had Cooley Lanes nipping Primrose Lanes, 11-10; Huron Bowl topped Sylvan Lanes, 14-9; and Fairgrounds Bowling surprised Wonderland Lanes, 18-3.

Dave Eby (257-248—714 and 11 points), "Chico" Chicovsky (232-222—668 and eight), Joe Foster (606) and Larry Crake (212) more than carried the ball for 300 Bowl, the pace setter.

Airway was led by Jim Kirkpatrick with 253-215—670 and seven, Ed Gibbs (241), Bob Davis (225). Jerry Perna had 233-246—688 and eight for West Side.

Paul George's 213 game provided the deciding points as Cooley overcame a 257—654-for-six performance by Primrose's Walt Honchell.

Don Martell had 216—607 in the Huron victory; and Frank Novak (265 for seven) and Art Latimer (602) paced the Fairgrounds romp.

BIG SERIES—Terry Grant, 15-year-old bowler, raised the eyebrows of local bowling veterans when she rolled a 622 series this week at Cooley Lanes.

BOWLING

Dwight Pugh posted the first 700 series in several weeks Monday for the West Side Classic; while Mike Samardzija Jr. rattled off another one in the Friday Huron Bowl Classic.

Pugh rolled a 711 on 245-254-212 games. Samardzija pushed his average close to 230 with 269-267-225—761 at Huron Bowl, while Karl VanDeMoortell had 268-234—714.

The West Side Lanes effort, by Pugh enabled Colonial Lounge to trim the first place 300 Bowl team's lead to five games. John Casper had the top game, 255.

At Huron Bowl, runner-up Calbi Music slipped 10 points behind "300" despite a 257 by Mitch Calbi. The pace setters had 1130—3204 team scores in winning eight points from Gay Brothers' Construction.

There are 10 points separating the top eight teams in the Collier Lanes Monday night House League after this week's action.

Western Auto stayed atop the race by winning six points behind the strong bowling of Fred Liestman (215—627); but Maguire Auto Service stayed close as Dick Pincumbe (221—650) helped it win six, also.

In Airway Lanes Sunday Grand Trunk Mixed League Lloyd Pearsall hi 220-233—645 and Mildred Pruett had 203—551. The Four Towns Methodist circuit posted a 542 for Jules Holda and 500 for Hazel Vennard.

Among the Airway Rocketts there were several good totals led by Cele Smith's 206-222—620. Pauline St. Souver rolled 222-207—602 totals and Jean Waite had 229—569.

Donnie Meyers put nine strikes in a row together at Huron Bowl in the Wednesday Night "A" League but settled for a 279 game and 702 series this week.

In Huron's Rolling Pin League Marge Servoss had 207—518 and Jean Servoss 204—568 Tuesday. Irene Palen of the Blind Bowlers' League Monday picked up the 5-7 split.

Grain Market Slow; Prices Shift Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — Transactions were slow and mixed in the grain futures market today and prices generally shifted only slightly.

Wheat and soybeans maintained a firmer trend but gains during the first several minutes were limited to small fractions. The feed grains were a bit easier and rye was weak.

Brokers said the market lacked any new influences and that speculators seemed inclined to stand aside pending developments. Neither the advances nor declines were sufficient to attract short covering or profit selling in more than scattered amounts.

Flirts With New Highs

Blue Chips Push Market Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market flirted with new historic highs early this afternoon as selected blue chips again moved the averages higher. Trading was moderate.

The advance was an irregular one but gains by key stocks were sufficient to buck ahead the averages considerably.

Outstanding among the blue chips was du Pont, up about 10 points.

No particular strong group leadership was displayed although the trend was generally higher among chemicals, mail order-retails, airlines, rails and office equipments.

Several of the recently declining "glamour" stocks made moderate recoveries. Cigarette stocks declined as a sharp drop-off in cigarette tax receipts was reported among state governments.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.1 at 293.0 with industrials up 2.4, rails up .3 and utilities up .1. If the gain were to be held by the close, the recent all-time high would be bettered.

Brokers credited du Pont's renewed strength to its promotion of a substitute for leather, Corfam which will be written up in a national magazine.

* * *

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. New Process gained about 5, Syntex 2, Barnes Engineering, Gulton Industries, Molybdenum, Pyle National, Steel Parts and Williams Brothers around a point or better. Losses of a point or so were shown by Hollinger, New Jersey Zinc and True Temper.

Corporate bonds were narrowly mixed. U.S. Government bonds were unchanged. Trading was light.

Dutch Cabinet Airs Romance

Irene's Whereabouts Remain a Mystery

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch Cabinet met today to discuss the handling of Princess Irene's broken romance with a mystery suitor.

Queen Juliana's husband, Prince Bernhard, suddenly flew to Innsbruck, Austria, to bring home Crown Princess Beatrix and Princess Margriet from the Winter Olympics, lending support to reports of a serious constitutional conflict concerning the royal family.

★ ★ ★

A government announcement said the case of Irene probably would be the only one discussed by the Cabinet. A government spokesman refused to elaborate.

An inner cabinet committee met in emeregency session last night.

WHERE'S IRENE!

Whereabouts of blonde Irene, 24, second in line to the throne, remained a mystery.

Some reports said she was in seclusion at a Spanish convent. She has been vacationing in Spain since Jan. 9.

The queen and her husband made an unexplained five-hour round trip flight Thursday to Paris. After being pressed for hours for an explanation, the government information service described the trip as private and said the government had nothing to do with the queen's decision to return home.

It was believed the royal couple had started out for Spain to see Irene or to bring her home.

The rumors began last week with the formal announcement by the traditionally Protestant royal family that the princess had converted to Roman Catholicism.

County Unit Is Eying Bids

To Advise on Choice of Airport Study Firm

The Oakland County Supervisors' Aviation Committee yesterday received proposals from four competing engineering firms to conduct a county airport study.

The study is sought by the committee to determine whether Pontiac Municipal Airport or the county's sod airfield in Orion Township should be developed into a major county airport.

The study is to substantiate any recommended development by bringing economic necessity factors to light.

★ ★ ★

The committee had contacted eight engineering firms to learn if they were interested in undertaking the proposed study for no more than $10,000. This is the amount that has been appropriated by the County Board of Supervisors for study purposes.

RESPOND BY LETTER

Five of the firms responded by letters, which were opened and reviewed by the committee yesterday. One of those wrote that it wasn't interested.

Those expressing a willingness to undertake the study were Leigh Fisher Associates Ind. of San Francisco; Consouer, Townsend & Associates of Chicago; Ralph H. Burke Inc. of Chicago and Johnson & Anderson Engineering Co. of Waterford Township.

The committee took the replies under advisement and agreed to make a final deliberation Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The committee is expected to recommend that the county hire one of these firms to conduct the study within a six-month period.

★ ★ ★

A final decision would be made by the board of supervisors.

From Antitaxers

Petitions Baffle Sen. Roberts

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, indicated bewilderment today over the latest move of the suburban Vigilance Tax Committee (VTC) against Detroit's income tax.

The VTC's objective was clear enough, but what action legislature should take was not.

"I don't know yet what I'm going to do with it," Roberts said. "We're going to look into it next week."

The senator was talking about a grievance petition left in his hands when he found himself on the receiving end yesterday of a two-pronged thrust by the VTC's lawmaker champions to force legislative consideration of anti-income tax petitions.

IN THE AISLES

Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, arch-foe of Detroit's income tax, confronted Roberts in the aisle of the senate. Roberts is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"By virtue of article one, section three of the Constitution of Michigan, I present you with this petition of grievance," Bowman said to Roberts.

"What is it?" asked the startled Roberts.

Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, one of the VTC's staunchest supports in the legislature, explained it in the House where he presented the same grievance petition.

The petition demands that Secretary of State James Hare turn over to the legislature petitions bearing 241,909 names calling for either legislation or a statewide election on outlawing city income taxes on nonresidents or without a vote of residents.

The petition asks a legislative resolution under the constitution section which guarantees the people the right to petition the government for redress of grievances.

The resolution would "advise the secretary of state that it is the will of the people, through a majority of their elected representatives, that such petitions be deposited with the clerk of the House."

★ ★ ★

"We've never had anything like this before," Roberts said. "I don't even know if it's legally before my committeee."

The initiatory petitions, if valid and before the legislature, would force either legislation or an election on a proposed constitutional amendment in line with the tax committee demands.

In a prepared statement, Hayward said petitions with 241,000 signatures were rejected by the state last August because they had not been filed first with county clerks.

"Additional signatures were obtained and 248,000 names were filed with 62 county clerks last November and subsequently filed again with the secretary of state," he said.

Robert Montgomery, state director of elections, ruled that 53,000 signatures were invalid. His reason: they were obtained prior to the Nov. 6, 1962, general election.

★ ★ ★

"The constitution . . . is silent as to when such signatures should be obtained," he said, called the new grievance petition tack an "attempt to combat the frustration encountered at every turn in this endeavor to pursue constitutional rights."

MORE THAN ENOUGH

Hayward said the initiatory petitions have more than the required number of signatures of registered and qualified electors.

"There seemingly has been undue and unfair proceedings providing technical stumbling blocks to the use of the public's ultimate right to resort to law," the petition said.

The petition was signed by nine other House members in addition to Hayward.

U.S. and Israel Join on Water

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States plans to work with Israel to find ways of using nuclear power to make fresh water out of salt water.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson announced he plans Thursday night, saying water "should never be a cause of war—it should always be a force for peace."

★ ★ ★

He apparently was referring to the Arab-Israeli dispute over Israel's plan to divert Jordan River water to the Negev Desert. The Arab nations met last month to map plans to counter the Israeli project.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Johnson made the announcement at the 18th annual dinner for the Weizmann Institute of Science, an educational center in Israel. It has long been exploring ways of desalinization.

★ ★ ★

He said the United States is "equally ready to cooperate with other countries anxious to cure water shortages."

★ ★ ★

The White House said the project would be the United States' first joint venture with another country in desalinization research.

It's B-Day! The Beatles Invade U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police, press agents and a small army of promoters, agents and assorted hangers-on stood by today for an invasion by The Beatles—the beat British singing quartet.

The Beatles — George Harrison, 20, John Lennon, 23, Paul McCartney, 21, and Ringo (he likes rings) Starr, 23—were due today from London for their U.S. debut.

At least 50 extra policemen were on duty at John F. Kennedy International Airport.

City police were alerted to use "as many men as needed" to avert teen-age riots such as have been steady cofeatures of The Beatles' appearances in Britain and elsewhere in Europe.

France Okays Heavy Truck Sale to Cuba

PARIS (AP)—A French firm has sold 300 heavy duty trucks to Cuba with the approval and a financial guarantee of the French government, official sources said today.

No value of the transaction was immediately given, but informed sources reported earlier that the contract would amount to about $10 million.

An official source said the government wanted a cash sale but finally agreed to guarantee part of the loan "because of precedent established by other Western powers."

COMPETITORS

This was a reference to the sale of $11 million in buses to Cuba by the Leyland Motor Co. of Britain. Leyland is a competitor of the Berliet firm of Lyon, which sold the trucks to Cuba.

Press Service Promotes Two Staff Members

NEW YORK (AP) — General Manager Wes Gallagher announced today the appointment of Keith Fuller and Stanley M. Swinton as assistant general managers of the Associated Press.

Fuller, who has been a general executive, will continue to administer the personnel department, the feature department and the picture subsidiary, Wide World. Swinton will retain his title as director of world services, which distributes Associated Press news and photos to more than 100 countries outside the United States.

Swinton was born in Charlevoix, Mich., in 1919, and graduated from the University of Michigan.

Air Crashes Claim Ten

CALVERTON, N.Y. (AP) — A big Navy cargo plane with eight men aboard crashed and burned while approaching for a landing Thursday night in a rainsquall.

Six men died. The two survivors were in critical condition at Central Suffolk Hospital today.

★ ★ ★

The four-engine C54 from Kirtland Air Force Base at Albuquerque, N.M., crashed about a mile from the Peconic River Airport on the eastern end of Long Island.

★ ★ ★

Officials said there were conflicting reports from witnesses on whether the plane caught fire in the air. The Navy began an investigation.

A Federal Aviation Agency official in an adjacent airport's control tower said: "We were in touch with the plane. There were no calls for help, no indication of trouble."

CRASH VICTIMS

A Navy spokesman identified the dead as Capt. Kyle H. Morris, Cmdr. Robert J. Baker, Lt. Allen Able, and aviation mechanics N. R. Seltz and R. W. Caldwell, all assigned to Kirtland AFB; and Lt. Stevens E. Ralph of the U.S. Naval Reserve, assigned to North Island Naval Base, Calif.

The injured were Aviation electronicsman 1.C. E. A. Schultz, and Air Force Staff Sgt. W. T. Gideon, both stationed at Kirtland.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said Ralph and Gideon boarded the plane at Bunker Hill AFB near Peru, Ind., a refueling stop.

In another service crash yesterday, four airmen were killed at Mountain Home, Idaho, when there B47 crashed on take-off.

The plane was to make a flight as part of a training mission.

Tunnel to Connect Britain and France

LONDON (UPI) — The 162-year-old dream of an English Channel tunnel linking Britain and France appeared today closer to realization than ever before.

Ernest Marples, British transport minister, told the House of Commons yesterday the governments of Britain and France have decided to go ahead with a railroad tunnel under the channel, as recommended last September by a joint committee of British and French experts.

Marples declined to give a probable date for starting construction of the channel tunnel, known in England as "The Chunnel."

★ ★ ★

He said the next step would be discussion of the legal and financial problems involved.

FREIGHT, PASSENGERS

The project is expected to take five or six years and cost about $448 million. The proposed two-tube tunnel would handle a heavy volume of freight and passengers in addition to carrying private automobiles in a fast ferry service

The tunnel would stretch 33 miles between terminals near Calais, France, and Folkestone, England.

It would lie beneath the Straits of Dover, which are 23 miles wide and constitute the narrowest portion of the channel.

★ ★ ★

Trains traveling 60 m.p.h. could leave each side every 5 or 10 minutes and make the crossing in about 35 minutes, according to present plans.

EXPECTED VOLUME

The tunnel could handle up to 4,200 passengers and 3,600 vehicles an hour in each direction.

The tunnel idea has been around in one form or another since Roger Mathieu, a young French engineer, suggested a tunnel for carriages to Napoleon Bonaparte in 1802.

More recently, a highway tunnel, a channel bridge and a combination of tunnel and bridge have been proposed.

★ ★ ★

The study committee decided on the rail tunnel as the safest and most practical project.

Marples said no decision has been made on how to raise the money for the tunnel or whether private capital would be involved.

He said that in any case the two governments will have full control of any operating company.

No Blood Donations

Track Coach Right

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE R-452: Harry H., aged 28 is a smart athletic coach.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I'm somewhat on the spot at our high school.

"For a group of girls in the senior class decided to stress 100% cooperation in donating blood for the blood bank.

"But I put my foot down and forbade my track team to donate any blood.

"Don't you think I was correct?"

FACTS ON BLOOD

Certainly this coach was correct!

Athletes, and especially the distance runners, need all the rec blood cells they can muster.

★ ★ ★

The donation of even half a pint of blood obviously would tend to shorten the "wind" of a runner, just as smoking cigarettes will also do it.

It is all right for students to give blood who have no physical demand on their bodies, but the loss of even a tablespoonful of blood could possibly spell the difference between winning the mile run or coming in second.

In fact, it has been found by veterinary medics that the usual winner of a horse race has extra red blood corpuscles.

In fact, those horses which set records and are consistent winners, may have 10% to 25% more red blood cells than the losing horses!

ALTITUDE HELPS

People who live at high altitudes may develop a much higher red blood cell count, too, for the oxygen is thinner in that rarified air.

You can guess what would happen if a seacoast university were to compete with the University of Denver.

★ ★ ★

The boys from the lower altitude, such as the University of Miami or Harvard or Tulane, would be hampered by competing in a higher altitude.

Conversely, the teams from higher altitudes should react much like the winning horses at the race track.

For such boys would have a higher number of red blood cells in their blood stream.

And at the lower altitude, such as Miami, the Denver athletes would thus have more figurative "freight cars" available to haul oxygen to their muscles.

OTHER FACTORS

Other factors, however, must also be equated, for a team from a cold or dry high altitude may be hampered by the warm, moist atmosphere of the seacoastal college.

Suppose you have a bad heart and need every bit of oxygen your blood corpuscles can carry.

What happens if you suddenly go to Pike's Peak where the oxygen in the air is thinner?

Such a patient may have a sudden heart attack, and you can see the mechanical reason, can't you?

Severe heart patients are even warned against taking airplane flights unless adequate oxygen is at their elbow to make up for any reduction in oxygen content due to the semipressurized cabins.

Science and medicine in particular, are very simple things if you employ "horse sense" and look for the cause-and-effect relationships.

★ ★ ★

But many people are ignorant of these medical facts because medicine has been too inarticulate. Be grateful to your newspaper for clarifying these vital matters.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Slow Understanding or Faulty Listening?

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: Could you please help me? I am desperate. I have very slow perception and understanding when anyone tries to explain anything to me.

DR. NASON

I always have to have someone break instructions down into simpler directions, and sometimes even draw pictures.

I am always the one who has to be taken aside and explained to over again patiently and with more details. My bosses and teachers do not like to have to take this extra time. I don't know why I'm so slow to catch on.

Mrs. M. W., Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★ ★

Answer: The affliction you have is usually a mere matter of haibt. While a person is talking, you are planning to have the matter repeated. You put off understanding until this repetition takes place.

The next time, listen to the teacher or other person. Think about what he is saying. As soon as he has finished, repeat to yourself what he has said.

Practice this every time you get a chance and you will soon find yourself understanding the first time through.

This will also help you to remember what has been said.

Dear Dr. Nason: Could you please send me some help on mastering a foreign language. I think my son has a mental block or blank when it comes to studying any foreign language.

He started conversational Spanish in junior high and did well and liked it, but when he continued Spanish in high school with a grammar book, he could not learn it, managing to pass with very low grades.

Mrs. H. N. W., Raleigh, N.C.

★ ★ ★

Answer: It is probably not a mental block!

Procedures for mastering conversational Spanish differ from those required for the learning of Spanish grammar. Grammar must be mastered one rule at a time.

Have your son understand a rule and construct one or two short sentences several times and say them aloud over and over until they slide easily off his tongue and feel right to him as he says them.

He should let a little time elapse, even half an hour, before he starts on another rule.

Dear Dr. Nason: I have a 10-year-old son whose IQ is average or a little above. He is normal in all ways except he doesn't care whether or not he gets good grades.

For example, he will fail to put the remainder up into the answer of long division problems. In spelling he'll make m's for n's, etc.

He is repeating the fourth grade but doing no better than before. How can I help him?

N.M.W., Peoria Hts., Ill.

Answer: Your son must learn to eliminate careless errors. Help him see that writing a perfect paper takes something more than just knowing the answers, or how to solve the problems.

Encourage him to go through his papers a second time looking for just such errors as you mention. With his mind centered on the errors he'll find them.

(You can get Dr. Nason's helpful booklet by sending $1 to Better Grades, Box 2160, General Post Office, New York City.)

Opening lead—♦ 4

By OSWALD JACOBY

I am indebted to William Wallace Gill of Hempstead, N.Y., for today's hand. He writes, "Do you believe that you and P. Hal Sims could have made a top score with this hand?"

JACOBY

The question is a little hard to answer because, if I held the South cards there is no certainty where we would land in the bidding. With Hal holding the South cards, the bidding would be as shown in the box.

Hal disdained point-count and scientific bidding, but he loved to play no-trump contracts and, when he was in his prime, he played them better than anyone in the world.

So Hal would open two no-trump; I would raise him to four with some misgivings because while his two no-trump opening had quite a large range, he always bid six if his partner encouraged him.

One remark of Hal's that I treasure is: "Any time I bid six no-trump, I have a play for it if the opponents don't take the first two tricks."

I think that was a slight exaggeration, but I will say that in the early days of contract, Hal made any six no-trump contract that could be made and this one can be made.

Hal would have no trouble gathering four diamond tricks. East would show out on the second diamond.

He would surely lead spades twice from dummy to get two spade tricks and he would take the heart finesse for three heart tricks after finding out that the clubs were not going to break.

Of course, our score might not be a top. Someone else might also bid and make six no-trump, but it would be the best we could do with the tools given us.

♥♠ CARD Sense ♦♣

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

You, South hold:
♠ K J 10 8 7 ♥ A ♦ K 5 4 3 ♣ A Q 6
What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. You have made a slam try.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of overcalling with one spade your partner overcalls two diamonds. You make the same cue bid of two hearts and he bids three clubs. What do you do now?

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Grace Cole described a Japanese-made automobile in such glowing terms — "smooth Oriental beauty with solid Occidental practicality" — that she won a trip to Japan as a prize.

★ ★ ★

Then, she said she'd never driven the auto she described.

But the trip included use of one of the cars while in Japan, with a chauffeur to drive it.

Then, being a volunteer fireman, he jumped on his bicycle, pedaled 500 yards to the firehouse, changed into his uniform and swung onto the engine. In minutes he was back at the newspaper plant. But Rex Bushnell, manager of the plant, had put out the blaze.

The youths waited out the storm in a nearby shelter after being missing since last Friday.

It Pays Off to End Habit

KYOTO, Japan (AP) — Kumazo Shimoyama, 59, a merchant, quit smoking after reading the recent U.S. government report on cigarettes and lung cancer.

With a third of his monthly cigarette allowance — 1,000 yen, $2.80 — he bought 10 government lottery tickets.

One of his tickets won the first prize of 3 million yen, $8,400, yesterday.

Hike Sought in Jobless Pay

Expect LBJ to Seek More, Wider Benefit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is expected to ask Congress next week to extend unemployment insurance coverage to 3 million more workers and raise jobless benefits.

The proposal, first recommended by the late President John F. Kennedy last June, will be submitted as part of Johnson's "war on poverty" package.

It calls for a new federal tax of three-tenths of 1 per cent on payrolls of employers covered by the program. The levy would raise an estimated $375 million a year.

★ ★ ★

The extra money would be used to finance extended benefits to long-term unemployed and provide federal aid to states suffering most from chronic unemployment.

BASE INCREASED

The administration-backed plan also would increase the taxable wage base from the present $3,000 to $5,200 starting in 1966.

When this takes effect, it would increase the federal share of unemployment insurance taxes on employers by an estimated $236 million a year.

Under the complex federal-state program, however, some states could offset some of the impact of higher U.S. levies by lowering their own taxes on employers if the bill becomes law.

State tax rates vary from nothing on firms with low turnover to 4.5 per cent in Michigan, where unemployment has been heavy in recent years.

NATIONAL AVERAGE

The national average rate was 1.4 per cent in 1962 and rose to about 2.3 per cent last year.

The administration's bill would introduce new standards and two new programs to increase the federal role in unemployment insurance.

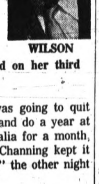

It faces an uphill fight in Congress, starting with the House Ways and Means Committee.

A Favorite U.S. Singer Goes Abroad for Month

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Ethel Merman told us at Carol Channing's big swingin' party for George Burns at Gallagher's that she cuts out from her fiance Ernie Borgnine for about a month (Feb. 13 to March 18) to star at the Talk of the Town in London. "I won't see him for a month unless he can come over, but I'll return the first day I'm finished," she promised.

She confirmed that Borgnine, who'll be visiting her here this week, is giving her—instead of an engagement ring — a Basset hound. "Ernie wants to be married at his house in Beverly Hills out in the garden, and I'd love it," Ethel said. (The date; approximately June 23). "The Merm" is a miracle woman and only she could get away with wearing a big floppy-eared Basset hound on her third finger left hand instead of a diamond.

Joyce Mathews and Billy Rose surely did look close to their third marriage for a few hours—but it's blown over and Joyce has flown back to Switzerland after two days here as Billy's house guest on sort of a "trial run." Joyce says she loves Billy, but also loves Switzerland. Some people think Billy will marry wealthy Doris Vidor and, if he does, the judge will say, "I now pronounce you both very rich."

N.Y. Official: Measles Now an Epidemic

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Health Department says a recent outbreak of German measles has reached epidemic proportions in New York.

Dr. Robert Albrecht, director of the department's office of epidemiology, said the disease poses a particular threat to women in their first three months of pregnancy. The virus has the power to "impair the formation of the baby's growing organs," he said.

★ ★ ★

The department said Thursday known cases of German measles in the state climbed to 2,643 last month from several hundred in December.

"The January figure is the highest for any month since 1958, when we had our last epidemic," Albrecht said.

★ ★ ★

In 1958, the upstate area reported 16,000 cases, while New York City reported 5,911. Last month there were 1,202 new cases upstate and 1,441 in New York City.

Convicted Again for Murder of Another Hilda

STAFFORD, England (AP) — For the second time in 16 years, Christopher Simcox has been condemned to death for killing a woman named Hilda.

★ ★ ★

In 1948 he was convicted of stabbing his second wife Hilda and sentenced to hang. He was reprieved and then won a jail term.

★ ★ ★

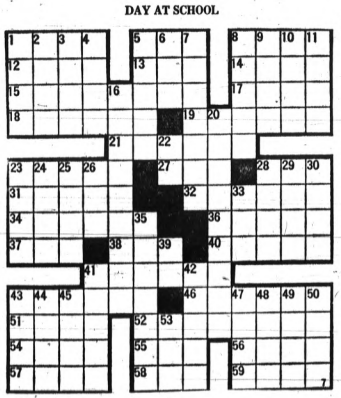

Released in 1958, Simcox married again.

Thursday, in the same courtroom, Simcox, 51, was convicted of killing his sister-in-law, Hilda Payton, last November. He also shot and wounded his wife and her brother before firing two rifle bullets into his own stomach.

LBJ, Aides Huddle on Water Cutoff

A GREAT IDEA — President of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Robert Semple and Mrs. Semple (right) enthusiastically discuss summer plans for the orchestra with Mr. and Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Bloomfield Hills. Knudsen is chairman of the project to develop a performing arts center at Oakland University. First artists to appear will be the Detroit Symphony, July 23 through Aug. 15.

Summer Music Fete Will Be Held at OU

A music festival to be held this summer on the campus of Oakland University was announced yesterday at a luncheon by Semon E. Knudsen, Vice President of General Motors and general manager of the Chevrolet Division.

Speaking to guests gathered at the Detroit Athletic Club, Knudsen who has been named chairman of the project said:

"At the outset, the performing arts center program will consist of the Meadow Brook Music Festival — 12 summer outdoor concerts to be presented by the eDtroit Symphony Orchestra under its new director, Sixten Ehrling."

★ ★ ★

The first step in the center's construction program will be an outdoor orchestra shell and audience "shed" to accommodate 2,000 people.

ORDER OF DAY

Knudsen said, "Dress for the concerets will be informal; family-style picnic dinners and great music will be the order of the day."

In its early stages the cultural center program will be e patterned after the famed Tanglewood in the Berkshires.

As soon as possible, it will be expanded to include schools and workshops for music, dance and theater in cooperation with Oakland University.

Ehrling will cancel conflicting European conducting commitments to direct the concert series on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings from July 23-Aug. 15.

Norman Weston, vice president and trust officer of the National Bank of Detroit, announced that trustees for the Lula Wilson Fund have voted $35,000 toward building facilities this year.

They have also made a $20,000 grant to help defray operating expenses in each of the first two years.

Mrs. Wilson was the wife of C. B. Wilson, one of two brothers who founded and operated the Wilson Foundry in Pontiac for many years. She died three years ago.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson who donated the site of Oakland University, is honorary chairman of the cultural project.

The Knudsens will form a large citizens' committee to assure community-wide support for the effort.

Storm Traps 2 Salesmen for 15 Days

FRESNO, Calif. (UP) — One of two frostbitten encyclopedia salesmen who spent 15 days trapped in a car in the snow covered Sierras, summed it up this way:

"Man, this was the experience I'll never forget!"

Tom Penland, a prospector who fed them after they stumbled 10 miles through hip-deep snow, said:

"They were kinda bedraggled looking, so I invited them in and gave them something to eat. They complained about sore feet and told me they had walked part of the way in the snow in their stocking feet.

"Now, if that don't beat all!"

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI) —Finland defeated the United States, 3-2, today in their Olympic hockey game. (Earlier story, Page 25.)

Senate Okay Is Near on Tax Cut Bill

Spending Ceiling Is Only Major Hurdle to Confront LBJ Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appeared eradv today to give its final approval, by an overwhelming margin, to the $11.6-billion tax cut bill.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, calling his colleagues in two hours early for the sixth straight day, said he was confident the passage vote would come this afternoon.

Practically all individuals and corporations would get a break under the bill.

Most individuals would get reductions of about 19 per cent.

One major hurdle remained for Johnson administration forces who have been in control throughout the long debate.

SPENDING CEILING

It was an amendment of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.; to clamp on a $100-billion government spending ceiling so that the individual and corporate tax cuts in the bill would be rescinded any time federal outlays exceeded that figure.

Democratic leaders expected to beat down the McClellan proposal with arguments that it would be inflexible and unworkable.

A second major amendment, to be voted on ahead of the spending limitation, would knock out the present stock option plan for corporation executives.

It is offered by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

HOT DEBATE

Yesterday the Senate staged another in its long series of hot debates over the oil and gas depletion allowance but the benefit emerged intact as it has for many years.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., lost 61 to 33 on a proposal to reduce all depletion allowances to 20 per cent, including the 27½ per cent oil and gas figure.

This was estimated to bring in $250 million of annual revenue.

Cold Temperatures Blow Into Pontiac

Morning winds blowing in from the northwest are bringing colder temperatures to the Pontiac area. Cloudy, windy and cold with snow flurries with a low of 22 is the prediction for tonight.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and cold, with a high near 32. Sunday will be cloudy and a little warmer with a chance of light rain.

Thirty-two was the low temperature preceding 8 a.m. today. By 1 p.m., the recording was 35.

Press to Begin Lenten Series

Spirit of the Lenten season is beautifully captured in The Lenten Story, a specially prepared 40-part series beginning in The Pontiac Press Feb. 12.

Illustrated by famed religious artist Woodi Ishmael, the drawings depict the last days of Christ's life on earth . . . his suffering, miracles, sacrifices and resurrection. A brief Biblical text appears with each drawing in the series, bringing inspiring daily messages on Christ's ministry.

Hoffa Informer Returns to Stand

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — Government witness Edward Partin, whose explosive testimony touched off the first real drama of the James R. Hoffa jury tampering trial, returns today for more cross-examination.

Federal Judge Frank Wilson was also expected to rule on whether any notes taken by government agents in their original questioning of Partin should be turned over to defense counsel.

Partin, a husky Louisiana Teamsters official whose testimony was the first to link Hoffa directly with charged jury tampering, faced irate defense lawyers yesterday.

★ ★ ★

He was questioned about his part and his admitted dual role as Hoffa associate and government tipster during the union leader's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

QUESTION CHARACTER

Defense lawyers questioned Partin's character and credibility throughout the day.

Partin admitted he had had many brushes with the law and had once served a sentence for burglary, but said he "led a model life" with his wife and children until he became a union member in Baton Rouge, La., in 1952.

★ ★ ★

He calmly denied insinuations by defense attorney Harry Berke he had a past which included incidents of gun-smuggling and rape.

Deputy Worth Hitchcock Inspects The Scene Of Fatal Accident

2 Are Killed in Avon Crash

3rd Listed as Critical in 2-Vehicle Collision

Two Pontiac women were killed last night when their station wagon and a pickup truck crashed head-on in Avon Township.

Dead are Mrs. Arden Bigham, 31, of 490 Emerson, the driver, and Elaine M. Allen, 25, of 296 First.

Charles Waltman, 51, of 2215 E. Walton, owner of the truck, is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with chest injuries.

Last Year to Date 8

Sheriff's deputies have not determined whether Waltman or Samuel Funderburk, 32, of 28 Whitfield was driving the truck.

Funderburk was treated for injuries at the hospital and released.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred at 8:50 p.m. on Walton, just east of Shagbark.

CROSSED CENTER

Sheriff's deputies said the truck apparently crossed the center line. Both vehicles ended up on the north shoulder of Walton, after the impact.

The station wagon was headed west on Walton and the truck was traveling in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Bigham and Mrs. Allen both were pronounced dead at St. Joseph Hospital by Dr. Isaac C. Prevette, assistant Oakland County coroner.

★ ★ ★

Susan Wilson, 482 Robertson, Lake Orion, and Lois Coleman, 163 Augusta, arrived at the scene just after the accident occurred. There were no witnesses to the crash.

Explosives, Key Used

Orion Twp. Safe Cracked

An estimated $1,000 was stolen from the Orion Township Hall last night after the safe was blown open by an explosion which catapulted a 200-pound door to the opposite side of the vault.

Oakland County sheriff's detective Herbert Dolby said today the thief was definitely "someone who knew where things were kept around here."

Entrance into the building was gained through a window. A key was used to open the vault.

The crime was first discovered by a custodian, who walked into the smoke-filled building shortly after 7 a.m. Papers and records that had been blown into two adjacent rooms by the force of the blast were still on fire.

Lake Orion firemen extinguished the fires and forced the smoke out with fans.

Officials of the State Police crime laboratory were to investigate the explosion, which Dolby said was far more than required to blow the huge door off its hinges.

Thaw Brings Out Gear for Water Rescue

Fast-melting ice on area lakes has prompted the Sheriff's Department to take all its water rescue equipment out of winter storage.

Lt. Donald Kratt, head of the department's water safety division, said the spring-like weather is responsible for the early alert.

"It's a very early thaw and we cannot take chances," said Kratt.

★ ★ ★

A near drowning in the Dawson Mill Pond in Pontiac Wednesday was instrumental in Kratt's decision to assemble the equipment.

OFF GUARD

"We were caught off guard when we received a call for assistance from the Pontiac Fire Department," said Kratt. "Fortunately the boy was saved by a fireman. We were delayed in getting a diving suit."

"I hope we don't have to use them," said Kratt, "but if we do they will be immediately available for any emergency."

Kratt said sections of all lakes have been reported dangerous and on most the surface is spongy.

Pontiac Press Photo

DANGEROUS — A tree limb is used by Lt. Donald Kratt of the Sheriff's Department to poke through the ice at the Dawson Mill Pond in Pontiac, the scene of a near-drowning Wednesday. The thin ice is due to the warm weather and is typical of the hazard on many lakes in the area. Kratt warned it is best to stay off the ice.

Castro Allows One-Hour Flow Daily to Gitmo

U. S. Feels Strong Response Unneeded; No Danger Is Seen

President Johnson met with State and Defense Department policy-makers today to decide how to meet the challenge posed by Fidel Castro's cut off of water for the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara headed the group of advisers who met with Johnson.

Cuba cut off the base water supply yesterday and advised the United States it would remain off until 36 Cuban fishermen seized off the Florida coast last Sunday are released.

The men are charged with illegal fishing in U. S. waters.

See Stories, Page 14

Last night, however, Prime Minister Castro said Cuba had no desire "to harm civilians, including women and children" and would turn the water on for an hour a day, from 8 to 9 a.m.

READY TO FIGHT

But he insisted the cutoff will continue the rest of the time and "we are ready to fight before accepting humiliation and blackmail."

Administration officials indicated that Castro's move did not seem to require an extreme U. S. response comparable, for example, to the naval blockade that was established after Soviet missiles were discovered on the island in the fall of 1962.

Some senators said last night that a blockade would be justified.

POSES NO THREAT

Johnson told an audience in New York shortly before his midnight return to the White House that the denial of water to the base posed no threat to the U.S. service personnel and their families there.

He said this action by Castro had been expected for

LBJ, Aides Huddle on Water Cutoff

A GREAT IDEA — President of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Robert Semple and Mrs. Semple, (right) enthusiastically discuss summer plans for the orchestra with Mr. and Mrs. Semon Knudsen, Bloomfield Hills. Knudsen is chairman of the project to develop a performing arts center at Oakland University. First artists to appear will be the Detroit Symphony, July 23 through Aug. 15.

Summer Music Fete Will Be Held at OU

A music festival to be held this summer on the campus of Oakland University was announced yesterday at a luncheon by Semon E. Knudsen, Vice President of General Motors and general manager of the Chevrolet Division.

Speaking to guests gathered at the Detroit Athletic Club, Knudsen who has been named chairman of the project said:

"At the outset, the performing arts center program will consist of the Meadow Brook Music Festival — 12 summer outdoor concerts to be presented by the eDtroit Symphony Orchestra under its new director, Sixten Ehrling."

★ ★ ★

The first step in the center's construction program will be an outdoor orchestra shell and audience "shed" to accommodate 2,000 people.

ORDER OF DAY

Knudsen said, "Dress for the concerets will be informal; family-style picnic dinners and great music will be the order of the day."

In its early stages the cultural center program will be e patterned after the famed Tanglewood in the Berkshires.

As soon as possible, it will be expanded to include schools and workshops for music, dance and theater in cooperation with Oakland University.

Ehrling will cancel conflicting European conducting commitments to direct the concert series on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings from July 23-Aug. 15.

Norman Weston, vice president and trust officer of the National Bank of Detroit, announced that trustees for the Lula Wilson Fund have voted $35,000 toward building facilities this year.

They have also made a $20,000 grant to help defray operating expenses in each of the first two years.

Mrs. Wilson was the wife of C. B. Wilson, one of two brothers who founded and operated the Wilson Foundry in Pontiac for many years. She died three years ago.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson who donated the site of Oakland University, is honorary chairman of the cultural project.

The Knudsens will form a large citizens' committee to assure community-wide support for the effort.

Storm Traps 2 Salesmen for 15 Days

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — One of two frostbitten encyclopedia salesmen who spent 15 days trapped in a car in the snow covered Sierras, summed it up this way:

"Man, this was the experience I'll never forget!"

Tom Penland, a prospector who fed them after they stumbled 10 miles through hip-deep snow, said:

"They were kinda bedraggled looking, so I invited them in and gave them something to eat. They complained about sore feet and told me they had walked part of the way in the snow in their stocking feet.

"Now, if that don't beat all!"

Senate Okay Is Near on Tax-Cut Bill

Spending Ceiling Is Only Major Hurdle to Confront LBJ Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate appeared erady today to give its final approval, by an overwhelming margin, to the $11.6-billion tax cut bill.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, calling his colleagues in two hours early for the sixth straight day, said he was confident the passage vote would come this afternoon.

Practically all individuals and corporations would get a break under the bill.

Most individuals would get reductions of about 19 per cent.

One major hurdle remained for Johnson administration forces who have been in control throughout the long debate.

SPENDING CEILING

It was an amendment of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., to clamp on a $100-billion government spending ceiling so that the individual and corporate tax cuts in the bill would be rescinded any time federal outlays exceeded that figure.

Democratic leaders expected to beat down the McClellan proposal with arguments that it would be inflexible and unworkable.

A second major amendment, to be voted on ahead of the spending limitation, would knock out the present stock option plan for corporation executives.

It is offered by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

HOT DEBATE

Yesterday the Senate staged another in its long series of hot debates over the oil and gas depletion allowance but the benefit emerged intact as it has for many years.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., lost 61 to 33 on a proposal to reduce all depletion allowances to 20 per cent, including the 27½ per cent oil and gas figure.

This was estimated to bring in $250 million of annual revenue.

Cold Temperatures Blow Into Pontiac

Morning winds blowing in from the northwest are bringing colder temperatures to the Pontiac area. Cloudy, windy and cold with snow flurries with a low of 22 is the prediction for tonight.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and cold, with a high near 32. Sunday will be cloudy and a little warmer with a chance of light rain.

Thirty-two was the low temperature preceding 8 a.m. today. By 1 p.m., the recording was 35.

Hoffa Informer Returns to Stand

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) — Government witness Edward Partin, whose explosive testimony touched off the first real drama of the James R. Hoffa jury tampering trial, returns today for more cross-examination.

Federal Judge Frank Wilson was also expected to rule on whether any notes taken by government agents in their original questioning of Partin should be turned over to defense counsel.

Partin, a husky Louisiana Teamsters official whose testimony was the first to link Hoffa directly with charged jury tampering, faced irate defense lawyers yesterday.

★ ★ ★

He was questioned about his part and his admitted dual role as Hoffa associate and government tipster during the union leader's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville.

QUESTION CHARACTER

Defense lawyers questioned Partin's character and credibility throughout the day.

Partin admitted he had had many brushes with the law and had once served a sentence for burglary, but said he "led a model life" with his wife and children until he became a union member in Baton Rouge, La., in 1952.

★ ★ ★

He calmly denied insinuations by defense attorney Harry Berke he had a past which included incidents of gun-smuggling and rape.

Deputy Worth Hitchcock Inspects The Scene Of Fatal Accident

2 Are Killed in Avon Crash

3rd Listed as Critical in 2-Vehicle Collision

Two Pontiac women were killed last night when their station wagon and a pickup truck crashed head-on in Avon Township.

Dead are Mrs. Arden Bigham, 31, of 490 Emerson, the driver, and Elaine M. Allen, 25, of 296 First.

Charles Waltman, 51, of 2215 E. Walton, owner of the truck, is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with chest injuries.

Sheriff's deputies have not determined whether Waltman or Samuel Funderburk, 32, of 28 Whitfield was driving the truck.

Funderburk was treated for injuries at the hospital and released.

★ ★ ★

The accident occurred at 8:50 p.m. on Walton, just east of Shagbark.

CROSSED CENTER

Sheriff's deputies said the truck apparently crossed the center line. Both vehicles ended up on the north shoulder of Walton, after the impact.

The station wagon was headed west on Walton and the truck was traveling in the opposite direction.

Mrs. Bigham and Mrs. Allen both were pronounced dead at St. Joseph Hospital by Dr. Isaac C. Prevette, assistant Oakland County coroner.

★ ★ ★

Susan Wilson, 482 Robertson, Lake Orion, and Lois Coleman, 163 Augusta, arrived at the scene just after the accident occurred. There were no witnesses to the crash.

Explosives, Key Used

Orion Twp. Safe Cracked

An estimated $1,000 was stolen from the Orion Township Hall last night after the safe was blown open by an explosion which catapulted a 200-pound door to the opposite side of the vault.

Oakland County sheriff's detective Herbert Dolby said today the thief was definitely "someone who knew where things were kept around here."

Entrance into the building was gained through a window. A key was used to open the vault.

The crime was first discovered by a custodian, who walked into the smoke-filled building shortly after 7 a.m. Papers and records that had been blown into two adjacent rooms by the force of the blast were still on tire.

Lake Orion firemen extinguished the fires and forced the smoke out with fans.

Officials of the State Police crime laboratory were to investigate the explosion, which Dolby said was far more than required to blow the huge door off its hinges.

Thaw Brings Out Gear for Water Rescue

Fast-melting ice on area lakes has prompted the Sheriff's Department to take all its water rescue equipment out of winter storage.

Lt. Donald Kratt, head of the department's water safety division, said the spring-like weather is responsible for the early alert.

"It's a very early thaw and we cannot take chances," said Kratt.

★ ★ ★

A near drowning in the Dawson Mill Pond in Pontiac Wednesday was instrumental in Kratt's decision to assemble the equipment.

OFF GUARD

"We were caught off guard when we received a call for assistance from the Pontiac Fire Department," said Kratt. "Fortunately the boy was saved by a fireman. We were delayed in getting a diving suit."

"I hope we don't have to use them," said Kratt, "but if we do they will be immediately available for any emergency."

Kratt said sections of all lakes have been reported dangerous and on most the surface is spongy.

Pontiac Press Photo

DANGEROUS — A tree limb is used by Lt. Donald Kratt of the Sheriff's Department to poke through the ice at the Dawson Mill Pond in Pontiac, the scene of a near-drowning Wednesday. The thin ice is due to the warm weather and is typical of the hazard on many lakes in the area. Kratt warned it is best to stay off the ice.

Castro Allows One-Hour Flow Daily to Gitmo

U. S. Feels Strong Response Unneeded; No Danger Is Seen

President Johnson met with State and Defense Department policy-makers today to decide how to meet the challenge posed by Fidel Castro's cut off of water for the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara headed the group of advisers who met with Johnson.

Cuba cut off the base water supply yesterday and advised the United States it would remain off until 36 Cuban fishermen seized off the Florida coast last Sunday are released.

The men are charged with illegal fishing in U. S. waters.

See Stories, Page 14

Last night, however, Prime Minister Castro said Cuba had no desire "to harm civilians, including women and children" and would turn the water on for an hour a day, from 8 to 9 a. m.

READY TO FIGHT

But he insisted the cutoff will continue the rest of the time and "we are ready to fight before accepting humiliation and blackmail."

Administration officials indicated that Castro's move did not seem to require an extreme U. S. response comparable, for example, to the naval blockade that was established after Soviet missiles were discovered on the island in the fall of 1962.

Some senators said last night that a blockade would be justified.

POSES NO THREAT

Johnson told an audience in New York shortly before his midnight return to the White House that the denial of water to the base posed no threat to the U.S. service personnel and their families there.

He said this action by Castro had been expected for

New Violence Hikes Tensions of Cyprus Feud

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — A shooting in mountains near the north coast port of Kyrenia today heightened tension in the Cyprus crisis, though a government spokesman said there were no casualties.

★ ★ ★

A chain reaction of violence threatened after the killing of 11 persons Thursday in the heaviest fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots since their communal blood feud erupted again last Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman for President Archbishop Makarios' regime, which is dominated by the Greek Cypriot majority, said Turkish Cypriots started the mountain incident.

★ ★ ★

He charged riflemen fired on a police-escorted party of Greek workmen who went to investigate the failure of a water pumping station.

DIDN'T RETURN FIRE

The spokesman said the Greek Cypriots did not return the fire and retreated without being hit.

★ ★ ★

Greek Cypriot survivors of Thursday's battle said that six-hour engagement was set off by a Turkish ambush. The Turkish village of Ayios Sozomenos, 10 miles south of Nicosia, was left in flames.

★ ★ ★

Official casualty figures issued today listed six Greek Cypriots and five Turkish Cypriots as dead. Newsmen on the scene had reported seven Turkish Cypriots and four Greeks killed.

BATTLE SCENE

Ramshackle huts of Ayios Sozomenos were ablaze and spent cartridge cases littered the streets when British forces won a cease-fire Thursday night.

The wails of Turkish women and children filled the air after the rattle of machine-gun fire died down.

★ ★ ★

British armored cars arrived shortly after noon, but it was dusk before British officers could persuade the two sides to lay down their guns.

★ ★ ★

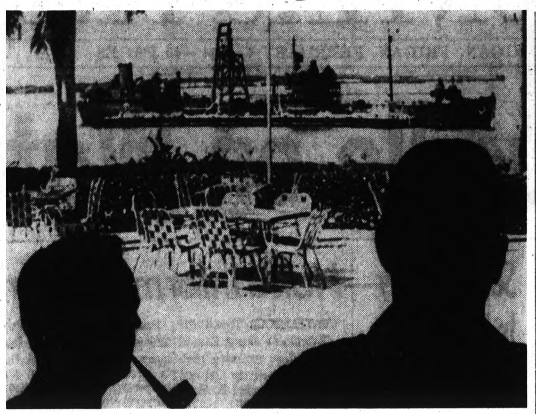

Greek Cypriot police and civilian irregulars overran the village of some 30 homes after Greeks charged Turkish youths ambushed a police vehicle carrying a policeman and six Greek civilians on a daily journey to a water pump serving the Greek town of Athienou. The Greeks said the policeman and one civilian were killed and three others injured.

POLICE CHASE

Police reinforcements chased the Turkish youths toward Ayios Sozomenos, but guns opened up from the village, the Greeks said.

★ ★ ★

This correspondent and an Associated Press photographer watched the battle develop. They counted the bodies of seven Turks, including a boy of about 10, lying in pools of blood in the streets and mud brick dwellings of Ayios Sozomenos.

On Tuesday, 44 scouts, including 20 from the Pontiac area who attained the rank of eagle during 1963, will be honored.

During the day-long program, each boy will be paired with a sponsor who is in a career or vocation to which the Scout aspires.

★ ★ ★

The youth will follow his sponsor through his day's work.

TOUR AIRFIELD

At 4 p.m. the boys and their escorts will take a conducted tour of Selfridge Air Force Base.

An eagle recognition dinner and program will follow at 6 p.m. in the Officers' Club.

Most of the Cub Scout packs will hold Blue and Gold banquets, at which time their activities will be demonstrated.

Dixie Racial Tension Up in Face of Demonstrations

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Tension grew in Alabama's racial difficulties today in the face of expected protest demonstrations by Negro students at Tuskegee Institute.

There was less apprehension at nearby Notasulga but a white boycott of newly desegregated Shorter High School gained momentum. Six Negro pupils remained in the school without disorder.

An estimated 300 students marched quietly around the Tuskegee Institute campus Thursday in what appeared to be a trial run for protests to come.

STUDENTS REMAIN

The dean of students, Dr. S. Bertrand Phillips, said the students would remain on campus through today, but after that, "I can't be sure."

City officials rejected an application for a parade permit.

★ ★ ★

The Notasulga High School, still segregated despite a federal court order to admit six Negroes two days ago, remained closed while city officials rushed repairs on a fire-damaged filter plant at the municipal waterworks. Mayor James Rea said he hoped the Notasulga High School and two other schools closed because of the water shortage could be reopened Monday.

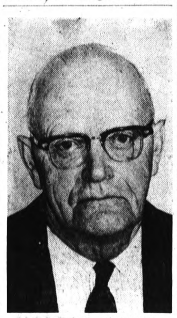

But even when classroom work is resumed at the school, the six Negro pupils transferred there by a federal judge will remain barred, the mayor said, under a municipal fire prevention ordinance.

FIRE RULE

Rea invoked the new safety and fire inspection law Wednesday. He said no more pupils could be enrolled without exceeding the maximum attendance limit fixed under the new ordinance.

Federal attorneys asked U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. for an injunction prohibiting further use of the fire inspection law to keep the Negro pupils out. A hearing was scheduled at nearby Opelika today, but Johnson without explanation postponed it until next Thursday.

Rea said he would comply with any injunction issued against him.

A retired postal employe, Robert W. Jockwig, has entered the race for the District 2 City Commission post.

Jockwig, 70, of 250 Draper filed a nominating petition at the city clerk's office yesterday.

In doing so, he qualified the district for a primary runoff March 2. He was the third person to announce he would seek the District 2 nomination.

★ ★ ★

Incumbent Charles H. Harmon has not announced if he will seek reelection as yet.

ROMEO NATIVE

Jockwig, a native of Romeo, has been a Pontiac resident for 45 years, having moved here in 1915.

Married and the father of two children, Jockwig is an elder at Central Christian Church.

He retired from the postal service in 1960, although he still does some clerical work on a part-time basis.

★ ★ ★

He was a Pontiac post office employe for 34 years, 24 as a letter carrier and 10 as a letter carrier foreman.

ASSISTANT TREASURER

Jockwig was also assistant treasurer of the Pontiac Postal Employes Credit Union for 10 years.

He is a past president of the National Association of Letter Carriers' local branch, and is secretary-treasurer of the National Association of Retired Civil Employes, Pontiac chapter.

Jockwig is a lifetime member of the Pontiac Metropolitan Club and an active member of the International Order of Odd Fellows.

★ ★ ★

He is a past district deputy grand master of the order.

This is his first attempt at election to public office in Pontiac.

Jury in Dixie Ponders Fate of Beckwith

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A dozen men continue today to deliberate the fate of Byron De La Beckwith, 43, a crusading segregationist charged with murdering Negro civil rights leader Medgar W. Evers.

With seven hours spent in the small jury room, the all-white panel was ordered Thursday night by Judge Leon F. Hendrick to breakfast as early as possible and start again.

Jurors had four choices: acquittal, guilty as charged, guilty as charged with life sentence as punishment, and guilty as charged but with no agreement as to punishment.

DEATH AUTOMATIC

The guilty as charged verdict carries an automatic death penalty. Failure to agree on punishment makes a life sentence mandatory. Prisoners serving life become eligible for parole in 10 years.

The case went to the jury after Beckwith was described as having killed Evers "with no more compunction than he would have had in squashing a "bug" because of his integration activities.

BUYS CUBAN WATER

But it has been buying water from Cuba—drawn from a nearby river—and paying $14,000 a month.

Furthermore, the big base with its 10,500 Americans employs about 2,500 Cubans who take back into Cuba about $6.1 million a year in earnings.

Seemingly a greater threat than a water shortage was the danger the dispute would grow and involve prestige and cold war rivalry of the United States and the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Johnson advisers were said to be studying evidence that the penetration of U. S. territorial waters by the Cuban fishermen was staged by Havana to provoke an incident.

INTENTIONAL VIOLATION

Directly in line with that idea, the Citizens Committee for a Free Cuba quoted a defector from the trawler crews as saying the Castro government deliberately sent the vessels into U.S. waters.

He said the men were told what to say if they were caught.

Flint Official Urges Firings

FLINT (AP)—Three city officials charged with negligence by one-man grand juror Judge Donn D. Parker must be fired before being given a hearing on the charges, City Attorney Edward P. Joseph said in an opinion Thursday.

Joseph said procedure on the other three city officials named in the grand juror's report may be decided by the city manager and the City Commission.

★ ★ ★

The city attorney said he made the rulings on the basis of the City Charter. Judge Parker recommended that all six be removed after he found irregularities in the Flint-to-Lake Huron pipeline project and other city programs since 1955.

Joseph said the city manager could proceed against Henry M. Foley, a consultant and one of the six named by Parker, since Foley was hired by the manager's office.

MUST DISMISS

He said the City Charter requires that Theodore D. Moss, public works direcetor, and Albert C. Hull, director of purchases and supplies, be dismissed before a hearing.

Joseph said the City Commission has the responsibility for proceeding against two others, Olney L. Craft, finance director, and Lloyd S. Hendon, clerk, both commission appointees.

Joseph said Gerald Childers, city planner, should be dismissed without a hearing by the City Planning Commission.

The City Commission will consider Joseph's opinion tonight.

School Borders Altered in City

Attendance Changes Due in September

It took a little over 10 minutes last night for the Pontiac school board to approve boundary changes for junior and senior high schools.

The new attendance areas go into effect in September.

Changes in the boundaries for junior high schools center around establishing an attendance area for Baldwin Junior High School, which opens this fall.

★ ★ ★

Boundaries were also shifted between Pontiac's two high schools. School officials said this was done to balance enrollments.

221 TO TRANSFER

An estimated 221 students who would normally attend Pontiac Central High School will instead go to Pontiac Northern High under the new high school boundary:

The new high school boundary line will run east along Mt. Clemens to Sanford and then south on Sanford to the city limits.

Senior high school students who now attend Central and live south of Mt. Clemens and east of Sanford will attend Northern in the future.

★ ★ ★

These changes will give Central an estimated enrollment of 2,054, while Northern will have 1,853.

CHANGES IN FUTURE

School officials said students now attending high school need not switch, but future students, including entering 10th graders this fall, will follow the new boundaries.

Attendance area changes for junior high schools will give the new Baldwin school an enrollment of about 629 pupils, school officials said.

To relieve anticipated overcrowding, students from Eastern, Lincoln and Madison will be transferred.

★ ★ ★

In addition, about 61 students now at Washington Junior High will be zoned into the new school.

These pupils live along Dixie Highway outside the city limits in the so-called Silver Circle area.

City Changes Schedule on Trash Pickup

Pontiac's new combined, curbside rubbish-garbage pickup program has flunked its first test, so the pickup schedule is being simplified, city officials announced today.

Because of public confusion over the schedule change when there's a holiday, and the fact that city employes have been given more holidays this year, garbage and rubbish collection days will no longer change citywide because of holidays.

Clyde Christian, Department of Public Works Superintendent, today announced that holidays will only affect the area where pickups are scheduled on that day.

★ ★ ★

Previously, a holiday meant a change of pickup day for the entire city.

FOLLOWING DAY

"If a holiday falls on your regular pickup day," Christian said, "place your garbage and rubbish out for collection on the following day in that week only.

"Work time lost due to the holiday will be made up as quickly as possible."

The next holiday is next Wednesday, Lincoln's Birthday. Wednesday pickups will be made on Thursday NEXT WEEK ONLY.

★ ★ ★

Pickup day will remain unchanged for everyone else.

Holiday to Shut Bureau

The driver's license bureau of the Pontiac Police Department will be closed Saturday, Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, Captain George T. Scott announced today.

School Chief Believes Fraternities Controlled

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—"Perhaps underground, but at least under control" is the way Bloomfield Hills Schools Supt. Eugene L. Johnson sees the high school sorority and fraternity situation here.

Johnson said the secret organizations seem "rather inactive" in the district, with few tangible manifestations.

When a student is seen with a club pin or gives some other indication of membership in an illegal group, he is cent to the principal of his school.

★ ★ ★

"We would have to suspend him, remove his credits or block his admission to college," Johnson said. "So far we've had no one admit belonging."

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

The superintendent said school administrators fight the sorority-fraternity problem by stressing the need for good citizenship.

"A student can't afford to jeopardize his position that much," he said. "We also believe more parents are discouraging their children not to participate."

Attempting to reach the adults the board of education has decided to mail out annually statements reminding parents of their duties and copies of the state statute prohibiting fraternities, sororities and secret societies in public schools.

★ ★ ★

About 5,400 copies were mailed this week to district residents. Others will be given to new residents throughout the year.

'SEVERAL EXIST'

In the newsletter, the board states that there are several of the groups existing, but the members are unknown.

School administrators are, however, working on the problem, the board said.

★ ★ ★

Man Pleads Guilty to Assault Charge

Daniel L. Inscho, 24, of Mount Clemens yesterday pleaded guilty to assault with intent to rape.

Inscho entered his plea before Circuit Judge Philip Pratt, who set sentencing for March 3.

He was accused of attempting to attack a waitress at a Waterford restaurant as she left work the night of Nov. 12.

★ ★ ★

A second count charging Inscho with unarmed robbery of the waitress was dismissed.

Radar Car Location

Blizzard Traps Two Salesmen in Stalled Car

22, of Sudbury, Ontario, survived with nothing worse than the frostbite and malnutrition.

They staggered to Penland's cabin door Tuesday night. They were rescued yesterday by a sheriff's constable after Mrs. Froelich filed a missing persons report.

Neither man was hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

Froelich and Ginrich ran into trouble Jan. 21 when their car became stuck in snow and a howling blizzard isolated them. They had gone to the Dinkey Creek area hoping to sell their books.

LITTLE IN CAR

"The car had nothing in it but some books, my top coat and some advertising material," Froelich, the father of two children, said.

"We managed to get through the freezing nights by wrapping the advertising stuff around us, learning that paper was almost as warm as blankets — almost, that is."

They used the car's heater until the auto ran out of gasoline.

★ ★ ★

They survived on melted snow alone.

PASSED THE TIME

"We sure got hungry," Froelich said. "We passed the time reading our own material — books — and Jim made some playing cards out of some of the advertising material."

SE Asia Delegates Await Orders for Malaysia Cease-Fire

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — The representatives of Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines cabled their governments today for new instructions on the cease-fire in the Malaysia-Indonesia frontier war.

Emerging from a meeting with the Indonesian and Malaysian delegates, Philippine Foreign Minister Salvador P. Lopez said:

"The cease-fire is the door to what we are hoping to solve — it's the gateway."

The three delegates postponed until tomorrow their next session at the foreign ministers' conference on the Malaysia crisis while they awaited orders from home.

★ ★ ★

There was no indication of the points at issue.

The truce along the 800-mile jungle border went into effect Jan. 26 after personal mediation by U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

However, it has been violated by scattered outbreaks of fighting, leaflet-dropping and incidents in the Strait of Malacca between Malaysia and Indonesia.

The three nations have asked U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to appoint Thailand as supervisor of the truce. Thailand's Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman said he had not heard from Thant.

Thanat, the conference host, said he was encouraged by the friendly atmosphere, but added, "some things may or may not have pleased the others."

He said there had been no discussion of a possible summit meeting of Indonesia's President Sukarno, Malaysia's Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman and Philippine President Diosdado Macapagal.

During the lull, delegation leaders ordered subordinate teams to review last August's Manila summit agreement

The agreement was designed to avert the crisis developing then over Malaysia, but it broke the new nation in September and President Sukarno's revival of his campaign to crush Malaysia.

Conference sources said this morning's meeting of Lopez, Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio and Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak also considered diplomatic recognition of Malaysia

Colombian City Awaits 'Ambassador' Madole

We congratulate JOHN MADOLE on his selection to head a three-agency experiment of the Federal government on local-level mutual assistance with a South American city.

★ ★ ★

Director of the civil defense program for Oakland County for the past four years, Madole will represent the County in Cali, Colombia, while his counterpart will assume comparable status locally.

MADOLE

Object of the pioneering mission is the exchange of administrative, government and industrial experience with a community bearing marked cultural and economic similarity to our own.

The over-all concept was born, with State Department blessing, in the mind of Michigan's 18th District Rep. WILLIAM BROOMFIELD, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

★ ★ ★

It was given impetus when a delegation headed by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, paid a visit to Cali last May, later returned by a group from that city.

Acceptance of the Cali post was motivated, said the appointee, by the great potential of the program for improving relations with Latin America and bettering conditions in one of its key areas.

The new "ambassador" will take with him the best wishes of a host of friends and associates on his trail-blazing and important assignment.

College Enrollments Pose Fiscal Problems

An arresting and sobering report of a lay committee on higher education in Michigan has just been issued.

The committee, appointed a year ago by Gov. GEORGE ROMNEY, sees the status of the 10 state-supported, four-year educational institutions grave and urgently calling for remedial measures.

★ ★ ★

With 1964 the first year to feel the collegiate impact of the bumper crop of postwar babies, enrollment projections in the years ahead are startling. Contributing to them, moreover, is the rising rate of college attendance by young people. Whereas the percentage of age 18 to 21 enrollment was 14 in 1950, it had risen to 25.5 in 1962.

The report indicates that the 1962 total enrollment in state colleges of 118,500 will rise to 204,000 in 1970—a yearly increase of more than 10,000. This is equivalent to the establishment of one new major university each year.

★ ★ ★

Total appropriations for the state institutions for 1963-64 is $109,83 million. But the factors of enrollment increase, upward pressures on operational costs and faculty compensation and reestablishment of Michigan universities to the high competitive position they once held, indicate a rock-bottom appropriation of $122 million for the next fiscal year.

A second part of the report deals with the State's 18 community colleges and the significant part they have attained in the educational system.

These schools had an enrollment of 27,800 students in 1962. But attendance is expected to jump to 42,000 by 1965 and to 64,000 by 1970.

Capital outlay to keep pace with this expansion is put at $12 million per year, of which the State could be expected to supply half. This is, of course, in addition to commitments to the State's four-year institutions already considered.

Here in essence is the higher-education problem, of great magnitude, facing the people of Michigan. As taxpayers, we may find the implications not pleasant to contemplate. But the taxpayers of this state are very largely the parents, the grandparents, the older brothers and sisters, the aunts and the uncles of the young people whose educational opportunities are at stake.

We can't let them down.

U.S. Reds Have Grandiose Plans

By JOHN J. CROWLEY
Pontiac Press City Editor

Here's what Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist Party in the United States, has to say about the party's goals this year:

"Our over-all 1964 tactics," he said in a booklet recently mailed to news media, "must be directed toward the following central tasks:

"1. How to mobilize the maximum number of Americans to express themselves politically against the ultra-Right. At this level, the choice by millions against the ultra-Right will in most cases be merely a choice of the lesser of two evils.

"2. How to give leadership to the growing section of Americans who have become disillusioned with the two old parties. The policy of building an independent electoral coalition based on the main mass currents of struggle lays the foundation for mobilizing this section of the people.

OWN CANDIDATES

"3. How to create the broadest possible Left formations in the electoral field. These Left formations must be an active ingredient in all of the broader electoral activities, but to be meaningful they must also have their own candidates."

The question is: Should you believe a Communist?

It's dangerous not to keep informed on what the Communists are saying. Many times there are clues to their strategy.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, many Communist writings might better be used for wallpaper.

★ ★ ★

Another danger in interpreting Communist writings is to write off a project just because the Communists back it. For instance, if there were enough potential agitation in a drive to outlaw smoking, the Communists might decide to back it. You have to decide for yourself whether the drive is worthy of backing.

One such current drive is civil rights.

In this pamphlet, "Which Way U.S.A., The Communist View," Hall spends a lot of time talking about civil rights.

"This kind of struggle," writes Hall, "takes initiative, planning and organization. Is this not an area of challenge in which we can make a unique contribution? I think it is."

Let Hall's words serve as a warning. Whatever you think about civil rights, the Communists have said they should use it to serve their own ends.

"The civil rights front is that on which the main battles are being fought today," Hall writes. "It must at all times receive our top attention."

Other areas seen as ripe for Communist influence by Hall are "the growing restiveness of labor resulting from the dilemma of automation," and "the never-ceasing struggle for peace."

Hall sees in all these areas a need to combine efforts, to form a political coalition.

"Through such a coalition," he writes, "each group can increase its present political power tenfold.

"More, such an electoral coalition can develop into a permanent political alliance —an alliance which does not have to pick from the choices of others, but can nominate and elect candidates from its own ranks, an alliance which can pool its resources, concentrate its finances and manpower, and win."

How effective the Reds will be in developing their program remains to be seen.

The reading of such grandiose plans should not incite fear. But a little thought is called for.

Emphasize Private Enterprise

The New York News

President Johnson, we feel, has a point or two in his housing message; but why not more emphasis on private enterprise and less on loans and handouts of public money?

Private enterprise is doing pretty well, despite the attacks on it from various leftist quarters. For example — General Motors Corporation reports that in 1963 it again racked up record sales and earnings, paid out more in salaries and wages than before, and met estimated tax bills of $1.76 billion.

This, in spite of assaults by antitrust fanatics, haters of business, and enemies of the free-enterprise system. Moral: Give Capitalism half a chance, and it far out-produces any other economic system ever yet devised.

'Nhu' Frontier

The Chicago Tribune

Guess we'll have to refer to our foreign policy in Viet Nam as the Nhu Frontier.

Enters Race

The Holland Sentinel

Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine has decided to throw her bonnet in the ring.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith will enter the primaries in New Hampshire and in our neighbor state of Illinois.

Her supporters are ready to file her entrance petitions in both states, she said, adding she may also enter the Oregon and District of Columbia primaries.

★ ★ ★

The Senator, who is 66, describes herself as a middle-of-the-road Republican, has conceded there are "heavy odds against me." Not the least of the odds are the lack of money and professional campaign organization. Choosing to run because of the reasons she had heard as to why she should not run no doubt helped her make up her mind. One statement was that "No other woman has ever dared aspire to the White House. That this is a man's world and that it should be kept that way."

★ ★ ★

She said she would not be out campaigning when the Senate is voting on legislation, and that she would not purchase television or newspaper advertising. She will rely on unpaid volunteers for help and will pay her own campaign expenses. She will accept any voluntary contributions.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith, the first woman to be elected to both the House and Senate, has been in Congress since 1940, filling the unexpired term of her husband, Representative Clyde H. Smith. She has held and now holds powerful positions on the Senate Space and Armed Services committees.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith is making history even though she may not win. Many people are aware that there are many women in powerful positions today and the number keeps increasing.

Should Debate?

The Saturday Evening Post

Should the President of the United States accept a challenge to debate on TV during a political campaign? The Kennedy-Nixon TV debates are generally acknowledged to have played a decisive role in the 1960 campaign. The late President had indicated that he would debate again on TV in 1964. According to reports from the White House, however, President Johnson has decided against TV debates.

★ ★ ★

There are strong political reasons for such a decision. A President automatically throws away a big advantage by appearing on the same platform with his opponent ... the advantage of being better known (in most cases) and of occupying a loftier position. Vice President Nixon made this mistake in 1960.

★ ★ ★

There is another, more valid reason why the President should not engage in TV debates. It is the fact that, even though he is a candidate, he is still the President. His office carries a security burden, a responsibility and a dignity that should not be compromised. The President should not have to pass a debating test. His office must not be demeaned.

A Trade

Changing Times

Pity the man who never learned a trade. When the time comes, he won't even know what kind of work he's out of.

Bob Considine Says:

Comforts Are Abandoned at U.S. Jewish Commune

HIGHTSTOWN, N. J. — Near here, a dozen young American Jews from big cities, and accustomed to all the comforts found therein, are training to spend the rest of their lives working in Israel within the enclosures of communes called Kibbutzim.

CONSIDINE

Kibbutz Hechalutz Farm Shomria, the training camp, is the only farm school of its type in the New World.

The incumbent class of Kibbutzniks are graduates of U.S. high schools and colleges. They are as American as apple pie, but they were willing and apparently eager to take up a life completely foreign to all they've known in the past.

The Kibbutzniks are not salaried," said the English-born manager, Svi Bunzl.

"We give them six dollars a month spending money, so they won't be embarrassed when they go into Hightstown for a soda or the cinema.

★ ★ ★

"If they come from well-to-do families, we ask them to live according to our economy; in other words, be content with what they'll have to face when the Jewish agency sends them to their Kibbutzim in Israel: room, board, medical care, and a place to live when they are too old to work."

DOUBLE PURPOSE

Kibbutzim serve the double purpose of replenishing the barren earth of Israel and defending her borders much in the manner of American strongholds in the Indian wars of the last century.

"The teaching of Hebrew is a must, here," said Bunzl. "If a boy or girl seems to have a special knack for agriculture, we send them to Rutgers to take additional training.

"We stress a Kibbutznik's absorption of culture. Here he is urged to equip himself — by painting, reading, music — for the day, and the long night, when this will be his comfort, his intellectual refuge."

★ ★ ★

The Kibbutznik can resign any time he or she wishes, even after taking Israeli citizenship and entering a Kibbutz in the old country. There are comparatively few such defections, however.

MOVE WITH TIMES

Kibbutzim instead move with the times. Some in Israel have become industrialized, produce textiles, plastics, etc., and make a lot of money — which is plowed back into the commune.

Former Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and his wife have returned to Kibbutz life after knowing the comforts and wonders of great international status.

They returned to a bleak and intolerably hot Kibbutz in the Negev, filled with the zeal to do their bit to make the desert bloom.

★ ★ ★

It does not take exceptional eyesight to see a reflection of their dedication at Hechalutz Farm Shomria.

Voice of the People:

Lady Favors Woman Bid for Nation's High Office

In answer to the lady's letter who signed her name "housewife". I think it just wonderful that a woman is running for president. She may not get the nomination this time, but it is a step in the right direction, for other women will follow who didn't have the courage to try before.

★ ★ ★

I think it time women stood up and showed they can do something of importance besides sit home and knit. I say more power to any woman who tries to get ahead in this world.

'Candidate's Cliche, Shows Alertness'

The biggest smile in the early campaign announcements comes from the candidate who said: "I am compelled to run by principle and not by personal ambition." That mealy-mouthed cliche became moth-eaten at the turn of the century. The only thing left is to have some naive soul declare "he was drafted."

Editorial Phraseology Perplexes Reader

A press editorial says "space of time." It ruins my train of thought. No doubt Einstein was justified in relating time to space but for practical purposes time isn't spatial. Couldn't you say "span, stretch or the like?" And by saying "space of time" it's complicated further by giving linear portions to space which is measured by volume. In the light of everything that is happening, the phraseology isn't really vital, but I felt the urge to strain at a pesky gnat.

Garbage Not Problem for Senior Citizen

This is how I solved my garbage problem. I keep two ten-gallon cans in the basement. I take out my own garbage. I tear all cardboard, put cans inside each other, wrap garbage tight, put it in paper sacks, and wire. If there are three or more who are disabled on the street, I'm sure for ten cents each the paperboy or neighbor child would gladly take out and bring in the cans.

★ ★ ★

I thank God I'm able to do this. A big thanks to the water change and garbage pick-up. My work is cut in half. It's wonderful.

'Parents Should Support School Proposal'

I strongly endorse President Johnson's proposal for "Fair Federal Aid to Education," as part of his war on poverty.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson in effect said that we will not discriminate against the poor child of the church-related schools. The program is not designed to aid schools, but to use schools to aid children.

★ ★ ★

Man Praises Public Works Department

How about at last a good word for the department of public works in Pontiac? I have read the editorial comments and the Voice of the People in utterance of sundry complaints with the new program of garbage and trash collection. It would seem to me that this department should be commended instead of castigated.

★ ★ ★

If my limited knowledge of the situation is correct, the department was forced into developing this method of collection because of drastic budget cutbacks. Not only has this department been able to function within the bounds of this new budget, but moreover in my opinion, as far as the trash collection is concerned, they have succeeded in evolving a more efficient program.

★ ★ ★

Many other issues in our city could stand some earnest criticism rather than the one department which is putting forth a maximum effort to fulfill its duties. Let's all take a look at those.

'Movies Cause of Juvenile Delinquency?'

I was upset at the previews of a picture to start at one of our drive-in theaters. The previews offered "shock that your nerves may not be able to stand," and axe murders in detail.

Perhaps this sort of thing is the partial answer as to why so many recent juvenile crimes.

'Movie Advertisement in Poor Taste'

Why does your newspaper accept sexy and lewd movie advertising such as the one on January 21? This constant display of semi-nude and suggestive pictures must make our youngsters believe that immorality is permissible for them because the older generation approves of it and promotes it. If you refuse advertising which may be objectionable to you personally, you should likewise reject advertising which is objectionable to Almighty God.

You are in a position of grave responsibility and you can change the course of delinquents or be an instrument in creating more.

Questions Way Schools Put Children Out

I agree with Mrs. Genoa H. Erickson about the way the schools put a child out of school. It is hard to understand how the school officials take your children out of class and place them in special rooms five miles from your home. If you try to find out why, you call for a month and you get no return call.

'Station Not Best Place for Fire Dept.'

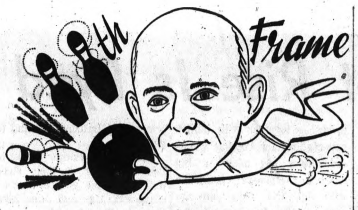

These good people that want the fire department "in the station so it will be closer to the fire" will have to explain. Do fires always break out right near the stations? Isn't a fire just as likely to break out near a city skating rink? The department just might be enough closer to save three lives and $100,000 worth of property.

Bowling's therapeutic benefits have been extolled here previously in discussing the physically handicapped and what local establishments are doing to aid those less fortunate.

Not much has been said about porgrams to bring some comfort to the mentally disturbed, however. At least one such plan is being discharged regularly; others may be developing.

Pontiac State Hospital every Tuesday morning sends 20-25 patients by bus to 300 Bowl where they indulge in almost two hours of bowling.

The patients have accepted the idea eagerly. The group that completed its six-visit program there this week was the third one this season. Another will start next Tuesday morning at 9 a.m.

The idea of going bowling is an outgrowth of modern recreational therapy thinking and plastic bowling sets, plus the generosity of 300 Bowl proprietor Joe Puertas who sponsors the visits.

The hospital previously had an "indoor" league at the hospital that used the plastic bowling sets. This was a popular diversion for the patients.

Then, as recreational therapists increasingly utilized facilities outside the hospital to rehabilitate patients, bowling trips came into the picture.

They have been so well received that now Miss Dorothy Roe, recreational therapy director, and her assistant Bill Vaughn are hoping to find other establishments to sponsor similar programs for the juvenile patients and the day care patients.

They are interested, also, in having local groups come and use the hospital recreational facilities.

TALENTED MISS

The fact that 15-year-old Terry Grant has raised her bowling average to 147 — well above the national women's average — is a good indication she knows what to do with a bowling ball.

She further proved this last Saturday at Cooley Lanes when she rolled a 622 series, including games of 214 and 221. The Waterford High School sophomore has been league bowling seven years.

A member of the Union Lake Junior League, she has taught herself most of what she knows. The 221 missed her highest game total by about 10 pins, but the 622 was her first "600."

Leo Sykes lives in Detroit, bowls in Dearborn and works at the GM Factory Branch at the Oakland and Cass intersection in Pontiac.

Dearborn, particularly Dearborn Lanes, is what he's remembering the most this week. He had his first 300 game there Wednesday night as part of a 667 series (his highest).

The newest 300 Bowl Spare-master is Tennis Morris who hit the jackpot spare (6-7-8-10) last Sunday and collected more than $425 in cash and merchandise.

Only one woman has scored more than one WIBC sanctioned 300 game — Sylvia Wene of Philadelphia has three.

Pontiac Stop Now Largest for PBA

It's now official that Pontiac will have the largest professional bowling tournament in Michigan history.

The North American PBA Open to be held at 300 Bowl, March 24-28, has now become the largest tournament of the 40 stops on the Pro Bowler's 1964 tour.

Because the demand for entries in the Pontiac tournament far exceeded the maximum of 118 pro bowlers permitted, the number of entries has been increased to 160 and the purse has jumped from $28,000 to $31,400.

There were many outstanding bowlers, including many from Michigan, who were left out when the entries closed two weeks ago at 118, in the earliest closing of any PBA tournament.

Complaints from the bowlers, whose late entries were refused or put on a waiting list, caused the main office of the PBA in Akron, Ohio, to increase the maximum to 160.

"Even with this increase, the entries are again closed and there still is a waiting list," said Ed Elias, executive director of the PBA.

"We cannot allow anymore in the Pontiac tournament as it will be impossible to handle them in the alloted time," he added, "and this now makes the Pontiac purse the largest of the tour."

Elias also said that there would be no change in the qualifying for the pro - am event now being conducted at 21 bowling houses in Michigan and Toledo. More than 200 handicap bowlers who qualify will bowl with PBA members in the pro - am event with a $5,000 purse on the opening day of the tournament.

Spectator tickets are being sold by service clubs in advance for 75 cents for any of the nine sessions. They are also available at bowling alleys. At the door they will cost $1.00.

Singles, Doubles on Elks' Schedule

Only Sunday doubles and singles events are listed this weekend as the Elks Ladies National Invitational Bowling Tournament enters its fourth week of action.

Pontiac entries will cover the lanes at the Orchard Lake Ave. Temple. No Saturday competition is listed for the weekend.

Last week's major changes were in the doubles event. The Pontiac leaders, Mabel Fields and Maxine Smith, were ousted from the top spot by a Chicago, Ill. twosome.

Margaret Nordstrom and Gloria Neise hit a 1233 handicap total to assume the lead. Kalamazoo's Jeanne Frudgeon and Jean Byerly took over second place with 1191.

A Muskegon pair, Nina Kokx and Marion Dichert, bowled 444 for the best handicap doubles game to date.

No other new leaders were posted.

A Royal Oak entry, the Powers Repair Shop team, had 2863 for third place in the team standings.

Contenders to Meet in Wrestling Card

A battle of contenders for the U.S. professional heavyweight wrestling championship is the feature attraction on the Saturday night mat card.

Vying for the championship will be Ricky 'Crusher' Cortez and The Student.

Other bouts have Ivan Kalimkoff meeting the Hillbilly and Gary Hart wrestling Lou Pappineau. The midgets will open the action at the National Guard Armory at 8:30 p.m.

The Pontiac Traveling Classic League moves to Montcalm Bowling Centre at noon Sunday following some of its best scoring of the season.

★ ★ ★

Last weekend at West Side Lanes 300 Bowl and Airway Lanes showed why they are atop the standings. "300" only had four men but it bombed Montcalm, 26-7, and Airway ripped West Side, 27-11.

The latter was the highest winning total this season.

Other results last Sunday had Cooley Lanes nipping Primrose Lanes, 11-10; Huron Bowl topped Sylvan Lanes, 14-9; and Fairgrounds Bowling surprised Wonderland Lanes, 18-3.

Dave Eby (257-248—714 and 11 points), "Chico" Chicovsky (232-222—668 and eight), Joe Foster (606) and Larry Crake (212) more than carried the ball for 300 Bowl, the pace setter.

Airway was led by Jim Kirkpatrick with 253-215—670 and seven, Ed Gibbs (241), Bob Davis (225). Jerry Perna had 233-246—688 and eight for West Side.

Paul George's 213 game provided the deciding points as Cooley overcame a 257—654-for-six performance by Primrose's Walt Honchell.

Don Martell had 216—607 in the Huron victory; and Frank Novak (265 for seven) and Art Latimer (602) paced the Fairgrounds romp.

BIG SERIES—Terry Grant, 15-year-old bowler, raised the eyebrows of local bowling veterans when she rolled a 622 series this week at Cooley Lanes.

BOWLING

Dwight Pugh posted the first 700 series in several weeks Monday for the West Side Classic; while Mike Samardzija Jr. rattled off another one in the Friday Huron Bowl Classic.

Pugh rolled a 711 on 245-254-212 games. Samardzija pushed his average close to 230 with 269-267-225—761 at Huron Bowl, while Karl VanDeMoortell had 268-234—714.

The West Side Lanes effort by Pugh enabled Colonial Lounge to trim the first place 300 Bowl team's lead to five games. John Casper had the top game, 255.

At Huron Bowl, runner-up Calbi Music slipped 10 points behind "300" despite a 257 by Mitch Calbi. The pace setters had 1130—3204 team scores in winning eight points from Gay Brothers' Construction.

There are 10 points separating the top eight teams in the Collier Lanes Monday night House League after this week's action.

Western Auto stayed atop the race by winning six points behind the strong bowling of Fred Liestman (215—627); but Maguire Auto Service stayed close as Dick Pincumbe (221—650) helped it win six, also.

In Airway Lanes Sunday Grand Trunk Mixed League Lloyd Pearsall hit 220-233—645 and Mildred Pruett had 203—551. The Four Towns Methodist circuit posted a 542 for Jules Holda and 500 for Hazel Vennard.

Among the Airway Rocketts there were several good totals led by Cele Smith's 206-222—620. Pauline St. Souver rolled 222-207—602 totals and Jean Waite had 229—569.

Donnie Meyers put nine strikes in a row together at Huron Bowl in the Wednesday Night "A" League but settled for a 279 game and 702 series this week.

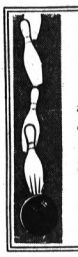

In Huron's Rolling Pin League Marge Servoss had 207—518 and Jean Servoss 204—568 Tuesday. Irene Palen of the Blind Bowlers' League Monday picked up the 5-7 split.

Cigarettes Decline

Market Shows Irregular Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market resumed an irregular advance early today. Trading was moderately active.

Chemicals, nonferrous metals, airlines, office equipments and mail order-retails were among the gainers.

Cigarette issues declined on a report that cigarette tax receipts have fallen sharply in many states since the government report on smoking and health.

Du Pont, gaining more than 2, continued to bolster the averages.

Chrysler was off nearly a point as profits were taken on its rise of 2¾ Thursday. Fractional losses were shown by General Motors (ex dividend), U.S. Steel and American Telephone.

U. S. Smelting sank about 4 points as it was reported that management of the company and dissident stockholders had apparently reached agreement, presumably avoiding a possible proxy fight.

Reds Abandon Viet Villages

Government Forces Meet No Opposition

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—U.S.-backed government forces today recovered a strategic hamlet complex near Cambodia that about 500 Communist captors had defended against repeated attacks. Ground troops entered the ruins without opposition.

The Red guerrillas slipped out in the night, leaving behind 4,000 civilians they had held as hostages during withering artillery and fighter-bomber fire and sporadic ground assaults yesterday.

The Communist strike against the villages — 40 miles northwest of Saigon and about five miles from the frontier of neutral Cambodia — was one of a series of attacks made in battalion strength.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. military spokesman said civilian dead and wounded were found when government forces penetrated the village. He termed the Communist action reprehensible. He said the villagers deliberately were prevented from leaving.

The Viet Cong took over the hamlet complex near Go Dau Ha at dawn Thursday after harassing the area with fire throughout the night.

★ ★ ★

A self-defense corps post was overrun. The guerrillas rounded up civilians and forced them to dig entrenchments.

"We will stay for 48 hours and then leave when we please," a guerrilla commander told the villagers.

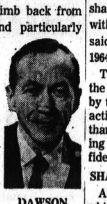

The villagers' pleas to leave were ignored as government field guns and fighter-bombers plastered the flimsy thatched homes and storehouses.

Overoptimism Hit

Market Rise Is Eyed

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — The stock market's long climb back from its 1962 lows and particularly the marked rise since President Johnson took over the reins now finds almost as many Wall Street people jittery as in the ranks of the bulls.

DAWSON

The optimists say the popular stock price indexes will climb to still loftier records.

The jittery folk say there are three big reasons for stock traders to watch their step just now:

- Prices have climbed so long they are ripe for a reaction.
- Many days recently when the popular indexes of blue chip stocks were setting a new high, on the market in general there were more stocks declining than advancing.
- Striking price rises in certain favored issues tend to hide that many others, and even whole industries, are still well below the highs they reached in 1961.

★ ★ ★

All this adds up to the present market performance being — to use the experts' favored word — selective. Some stocks look glamorous—some don't. Buyers of certain issues can brag of good price gains—buyers of others have nothing to brag about, and some have losses to mourn.

The record of the economy is just as mixed.

INDUSTRIES MIXED

Some industries are pushing to new highs in production and earnings. Others are well along on the comeback trail from the 1960-61 recession but still have a way to go. And some are still among the laggards.

Many Americans, however, color their views more on what the stock market does day by day than on the duller economic statistics.

★ ★ ★

And the long rise in stock prices — together with bullish expectations for coming weeks —doubtless has added a big share to the general confidence with which most Americans are said to view the prospects for 1964.

That is why any setback in the market—even if dismissed by the experts as a technical reaction—might pull more weight than perhaps it should in affecting consumer and business confidence.

SHADES OF '61

Also contributing to the jitters which some Wall Street analysts are showing just now is the resemblance they think they see in today's speculative interest in certain glamor stocks and the same fever that marked much of the last big rise in stock prices—the frenzied months of 1961.

Many of the glamor stocks of 1961 lost most of their shine well before the general market crashes of May and June 1962.

★ ★ ★

No one is forecasting another crash like that. In fact, stock brokers point out that for many blue chips the 1963 rise in earnings was greater than the rise in the price of the stock themselves.

Whatever might happen to today's speculative favorites, brokers insist that the values of blue chip investments are on a sounder basis than they were in 1962.

But a long rise in prices makes some jittery. And so does a speculative flurry, especially if the public seems to be involved.

Dutch Cabinet Airs Romance

Irene's Whereabouts Remain a Mystery

THE HAGUE, the Netherlands (AP)—The Dutch Cabinet met today to discuss the handling of Princess Irene's broken romance with a mystery suitor.

Queen Juliana's husband, Prince Bernhard, suddenly flew to Innsbruck, Austria, to bring home Crown Princess Beatrix and Princess Margriet from the Winter Olympics, lending support to reports of a serious constitutional conflict concerning the royal family.

* * *

A government announcement said the case of Irene probably would be the only one discussed by the Cabinet. A government spokesman refused to elaborate.

An inner cabinet committee met in emeregency session last night.

WHERE'S IRENE!

Whereabouts of blonde Irene, 24, second in line to the throne, remained a mystery.

Some reports said she was in seclusion at a Spanish convent. She has been vacationing in Spain since Jan. 9.

The queen and her husband made an unexplained five-hour round trip flight Thursday to Paris. After being pressed for hours for an explanation, the government information service described the trip as private and said the government had nothing to do with the queen's decision to return home.

It was believed the royal couple had started out for Spain to see Irene or to bring her home.

The rumors began last week with the formal announcement by the traditionally Protestant royal family that the princess had converted to Roman Catholicism.

France Okays Heavy Truck Sale to Cuba

PARIS (AP)—A French firm has sold 300 heavy duty trucks to Cuba with the approval and a financial guarantee of the French government, official sources said today.

No value of the transaction was immediately given, but informed sources reported earlier that the contract would amount to about $10 million.

An official source said the government wanted a cash sale but finally agreed to guarantee part of the loan "because of precedent established by other Western powers."

COMPETITORS

This was a reference to the sale of $11 million in buses to Cuba by the Leyland Motor Co. of Britain. Leyland is a competitor of the Berliet firm of Lyon, which sold the trucks to Cuba.

County Unit Is Eying Bids

To Advise on Choice of Airport Study Firm

The Oakland County Supervisors' Aviation Committee yesterday received proposals from four competing engineering firms to conduct a county airport study.

The study is sought by the committee to determine whether Pontiac Municipal Airport or the county's sod airfield in Orion Township should be developed into a major county airport.

The study is to substantiate any recommended development by bringing economic necessity factors to light.

* * *

The committee had contacted eight engineering firms to learn if they were interested in undertaking the proposed study for no more than $10,000. This is the amount that has been appropriated by the County Board of Supervisors for study purposes.

RESPOND BY LETTER

Five of the firms responded by letters, which were opened and reviewed by the committee yesterday. One of those wrote that it wasn't interested.

Those expressing a willingness to undertake the study were Leigh Fisher Associates Ind. of San Francisco; Consouer, Townsend & Associates of Chicago; Ralph H. Burke Inc. of Chicago and Johnson & Anderson Engineering Co. of Waterford Township.

The committee took the replies under advisement and agreed to make a final deliberation Thursday.

* * *

The committee is expected to recommend that the county hire one of these firms to conduct the study within a six-month period.

* * *

A final decision would be made by the board of supervisors.

From Antitaxers

Petitions Baffle Sen. Roberts

State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, indicated bewilderment today over the latest move of the suburban Vigilance Tax Committee (VTC) against Detroit's income tax.

The VTC's objective was clear enough, but what action legislature should take was not.

"I don't know yet what I'm going to do with it," Roberts said. "We're going to look into it next week."

The senator was talking about a grievance petition left in his hands when he found himself on the receiving end yesterday of a two-pronged thrust by the VTC's lawmaker champions to force legislative consideration of anti-income tax petitions.

IN THE AISLES

Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, arch-foe of Detroit's income tax, confronted Roberts in the aisle of the senate. Roberts is chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

"By virtue of article one, section three of the Constitution of Michigan, I present you with this petition of grievance," Bowman said to Roberts.

"What is it?" asked the startled Roberts.

Rep. William Hayward, R-Royal Oak, one of the VTC's staunchest supports in the legislature, explained it in the House where he presented the same grievance petition.

The petition demands that Secretary of State James Hare turn over to the legislature petitions bearing 241,909 names calling for either legislation or a statewide election on outlawing city income taxes on nonresidents or without a vote of residents.

The petition asks a legislative resolution under the constitution section which guarantees the people the right to petition the government for redress of grievances.

The resolution would "advise the secretary of state that it is the will of the people, through a majority of their elected representatives, that such petitions be deposited with the clerk of the House."

* * *

"We've never had anything like this before," Roberts said. "I don't even know if it's legally before my committee."

The initiatory petitions, if valid and before the legislature, would force either legislation or an election on a proposed constitutional amendment in line with the tax committee demands.

In a prepared statement, Hayward said petitions with 241,000 signatures were rejected by the state last August because they had not been filed first with county clerks.

"Additional signatures were obtained and 248,000 names were filed with 62 county clerks last November and subsequently filed again with the secretary of state," he said.

Robert Montgomery, state director of elections, ruled that 53,000 signatures were invalid. His reason: they were obtained prior to the Nov. 6, 1962, general election.

* * *

"The constitution . . . is silent as to when such signatures should be obtained," he said, called the new grievance petition tack an "attempt to combat the frustration encountered at every turn in this endeavor to pursue constitutional rights."

MORE THAN ENOUGH

Hayward said the initiatory petitions have more than the required number of signatures of registered and qualified electors.

* * *

"There seemingly has been undue and unfair proceedings providing technical stumbling blocks to the use of the public's ultimate right to resort to law," the petition said.

The petition was signed by nine other House members in addition to Hayward.

U.S. and Israel Join on Water

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States plans to work with Israel to find ways of using nuclear power to make fresh water out of salt water.

* * *

President Johnson announced he plans Thursday night, saying water "should never be a cause of war—it should always be a force for peace."

* * *

He apparently was referring to the Arab-Israeli dispute over Israel's plan to divert Jordan River water to the Negev Desert. The Arab nations met last month to map plans to counter the Israeli project.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Johnson made the announcement at the 18th annual dinner for the Weizmann Institute of Science, an educational center in Israel. It has long been exploring ways of desalinization.

* * *

He said the United States is "equally ready to cooperate with other countries anxious to cure water shortages."

* * *

The White House said the project would be the United States' first joint venture with another country in desalinization research.

The Beatles Invade U.S.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police, press agents and a small army of promoters, agents and assorted hangers-on stood by today for an invasion by The Beatles—the beat British singing quartet.

At least 50 extra policemen were on duty at John F. Kennedy International Airport.

City police were alerted to use "as many men as needed" to avert teen-age riots such as have been steady cofeatures of The Beatles' appearances in Britain and elsewhere in Europe.

Air Crashes Claim Ten

CALVERTON, N.Y. (AP) — A big Navy cargo plane with eight men aboard crashed and burned while approaching for a landing Thursday night in a rainsquall.

Six men died. The two survivors were in critical condition at Central Suffolk Hospital today.

* * *

The four-engine C54 from Kirtland Air Force Base at Albuquerque, N.M., crashed about a mile from the Peconic River Airport on the eastern end of Long Island.

* * *

Officials said there were conflicting reports from witnesses on whether the plane caught fire in the air. The Navy began an investigation.

A Federal Aviation Agency official in an adjacent airport's control tower said: "We were in touch with the plane. There were no calls for help, no indication of trouble."

CRASH VICTIMS

A Navy spokesman identified the dead as Capt. Kyle H. Morris, Cmdr. Robert J. Baker, Lt. Allen Able, and aviation mechanics N. R. Seitz and R. W. Caldwell, all assigned to Kirtland AFB; and Lt. Stevens E. Ralph of the U.S. Naval Reserve, assigned to North Island Naval Base, Calif.

The injured were Aviation electronicsman I.C. E. A. Schultz, and Air Force Staff Sgt. W. T. Gideon, both stationed at Kirtland.

* * *

The spokesman said Ralph and Gideon boarded the plane at Bunker Hill AFB near Peru, Ind., a refueling stop.

In another service crash yesterday, four airmen were killed at Mountain Home, Idaho, when there B47 crashed on take-off.

The plane was to make a flight as part of a training mission.

Tunnel to Connect Britain and France

LONDON (UPI) — The 162-year-old dream of an English Channel tunnel linking Britain and France appeared today closer to realization than ever before.

Ernest Marples, British transport minister, told the House of Commons yesterday the governments of Britain and France have decided to go ahead with a railroad tunnel under the channel, as recommended last September by a joint committee of British and French experts.

Marples declined to give a probable date for starting construction of the channel tunnel, known in England as "The Chunnel."

* * *

He said the next step would be discussion of the legal and financial problems involved.

FREIGHT, PASSENGERS

The project is expected to take five or six years and cost about $448 million. The proposed two-tube tunnel would handle a heavy volume of freight and passengers in addition to carrying private automobiles in a fast ferry service

The tunnel would stretch 23 miles between terminals near Calais, France, and Folkestone, England.

It would lie beneath the Straits of Dover, which are 23 miles wide and constitute the narrowest portion of the channel.

* * *

Trains traveling 60 m.p.h. could leave each side every 5 or 10 minutes and make the crossing in about 35 minutes, according to present plans.

EXPECTED VOLUME

The tunnel could handle up to 4,200 passengers and 3,600 vehicles an hour in each direction.

The tunnel idea has been around in one form or another since Roger Mathieu, a young French engineer, suggested a tunnel for carriages to Napoleon Bonaparte in 1802.

More recently, a highway tunnel, a channel bridge and a combination of tunnel and bridge have been proposed.

* * *

The study committee decided on the rail tunnel as the safest and most practical project.

Marples said no decision has been made on how to raise the money for the tunnel or whether private capital would be involved.

He said that in any case the two governments will have full control of any operating company.

No Blood Donations

Track Coach Right

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE R-452: Harry H., aged 28 is a smart athletic coach.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I'm somewhat on the spot at our high school.

"For a group of girls in the senior class decided to stress 100% cooperation in donating blood for the blood bank.

"But I put my foot down and forbade my track team to donate any blood.

"Don't you think I was correct?"

FACTS ON BLOOD

Certainly this coach was correct!

Athletes, and especially the distance runners, need all the rec blood cells they can muster.

* * *

The donation of even half a pint of blood obviously would tend to shorten the "wind" of a runner, just as smoking cigarettes will also do it.

It is all right for students to give blood who have no physical demand on their bodies, but the loss of even a tablespoonful of blood could possibly spell the difference between winning the mile run or coming in second.

In fact, it has been found by veterinary medics that the usual winner of a horse race has extra red blood corpuscles.

In fact, those horses which set records and are consistent winners, may have 10% to 25% more red blood cells than the losing horses!

ALTITUDE HELPS

People who live at high altitudes may develop a much higher red blood cell count, too, for the oxygen is thinner in that rarified air.

You can guess what would happen if a seacoast university were to compete with the University of Denver.

* * *

The boys from the lower altitude, such as the University of Miami or Harvard or Tulane, would be hampered by competing in a higher altitude.

Conversely, the teams from higher altitudes should react much like the winning horses at the race track.

For such boys would have a higher number of red blood cells in their blood stream.

And at the lower altitude, such as Miami, the Denver athletes would thus have more figurative "freight cars" available to haul oxygen to their muscles.

OTHER FACTORS

Other factors, however, must also be equated, for a team from a cold or dry high altitude may be hampered by the warm, moist atmosphere of the seacoastal college.

Suppose you have a bad heart and need every bit of oxygen your blood corpuscles can carry.

What happens if you suddenly go to Pike's Peak where the oxygen in the air is thinner?

Such a patient may have a sudden heart attack, and you can see the mechanical reason, can't you?

Severe heart patients are even warned against taking airplane flights unless adequate oxygen is at their elbow to make up for any reduction in oxygen content due to the semipressurized cabins.

Science and medicine in particular, are very simple things if you employ "horse sense" and look for the cause-and-effect relationships.

* * *

But many people are ignorant of these medical facts because medicine has been too inarticulate. Be grateful to your newspaper for clarifying these vital matters.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Slow Understanding or Faulty Listening?

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: Could you please help me? I am desperate. I have very slow perception and understanding when anyone tries to explain anything to me.

DR. NASON

I always have to have someone break instructions down into simpler directions, and sometimes even draw pictures.

I am always the one who has to be taken aside and explained to over again patiently and with more details. My bosses and teachers do not like to have to take this extra time. I don't know why I'm so slow to catch on.

Mrs. M. W., Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

Answer: The affliction you have is usually a mere matter of haibt. While a person is talking, you are planning to have the matter repeated. You put off understanding until this repetition takes place.

The next time, listen to the teacher or other person. Think about what he is saying. As soon as he has finished, repeat to yourself what he has said.

Practice this every time you get a chance and you will soon find yourself understanding the first time through.

This will also help you to remember what has been said.

Dear Dr. Nason: Could you please send me some help on mastering a foreign language. I think my son has a mental block or blank when it comes to studying any foreign language.

He started conversational Spanish in junior high and did well and liked it, but when he continued Spanish in high school with a grammar book, he could not learn it, managing to pass with very low grades.

Mrs. H. N. W., Raleigh, N.C.

★ ★ ★

Answer: It is probably not a mental block!

Procedures for mastering conversational Spanish differ from those required for the learning of Spanish grammar. Grammar must be mastered one rule at a time.

Have your son understand a rule and construct one or two short sentences several times and say them aloud over and over until they slide easily off his tongue and feel right to him as he says them.

He should let a little time elapse, even half an hour, before he starts on another rule.

Dear Dr. Nason: I have a 10-year-old son whose IQ is average or a little above. He is normal in all ways except he doesn't care whether or not he gets good grades.

For example, he will fail to put the remainder up into the answer of long division problems. In spelling he'll make m's for n's, etc.

He is repeating the fourth grade but doing no better than before. How can I help him?

N.M.W., Peoria Hts., Ill.

Answer: Your son must learn to eliminate careless errors. Help him see that writing a perfect paper takes something more than just knowing the answers, or how to solve the problems.

Encourage him to go through his papers a second time looking for just such errors as you mention. With his mind centered on the errors he'll find them.

(You can get Dr. Nason's helpful booklet by sending $1 to Better Grades, Box 2160, General Post Office, New York City.)

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

I am indebted to William Wallace Gill of Hempstead, N.Y., for today's hand. He writes, "Do you believe that you and P. Hal Sims could have made a top score with this hand?"

JACOBY

The question is a little hard to answer because, if I held the South cards there is no certainty where we would land in the bidding. With Hal holding the South cards, the bidding would be as shown in the box.

NORTH		7
	♠ 4 2
	♥ K 9 8
	♦ Q 10 6 5
	♣ A 9 7 6
WEST	EAST
♠ J 6	♠ A 10 8 7 5 3
♥ 10 2	♥ Q 7 6 5 4
♦ J 9 4 3	♦ 7
♣ J 10 3 2	♣ 5
SOUTH (D)
♠ K Q 9
♥ A J 3
♦ A K 2
♣ K Q 8 4

Both vulnerable

South	West	North	East
2 N.T.	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
6 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦ 4

Hal disdained point-count and scientific bidding, but he loved to play no-trump contracts and, when he was in his prime, he played them better than anyone in the world.

So Hal would open two no-trump. I would raise him to four with some misgivings because while his two-trump opening had quite a large range, he always bid six if his partner encouraged him.

One remark of Hal's that I treasure is: "Any time I bid six no-trump, I have a play for it if the opponents don't take the first two tricks."

I think that was a slight exaggeration, but I will say that in the early days of contract, Hal made any six no-trump contract that could be made and this one can be made.

Hal would have no trouble gathering four diamond tricks. East would show out on the second diamond.

He would surely lead spades twice from dummy to get two spade tricks and he would take the heart finesse for three heart tricks after finding out that the clubs were not going to break.

Of course, our score might not be a top. Someone else might also bid and make six no-trump, but it would be the best we could do with the tools given us.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	?

You, South hold:
♠ K J 10 8 7 ♥ A ♦ K 5 4 3 ♣ A Q 6

What do you do?

A—Bid four spades. You have made a slam try.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of overcalling with one spade your partner overcalls two diamonds. You make the same cue bid of two hearts and he bids three clubs. What do you do now?

Hike Sought in Jobless Pay

Expect LBJ to Seek More, Wider Benefit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson is expected to ask Congress next week to extend unemployment insurance coverage to 3 million more workers and raise jobless benefits.

The proposal, first recommended by the late President John F. Kennedy last June, will be submitted as part of Johnson's "war on poverty" package.

It calls for a new federal tax of three-tenths of 1 per cent on payrolls of employers covered by the program. The levy would raise an estimated $375 million a year.

★ ★ ★

The extra money would be used to finance extended benefits to long-term unemployed and provide federal aid to states suffering most from chronic unemployment.

BASE INCREASED

The administration-backed plan also would increase the taxable wage base from the present $3,000 to $5,200 starting in 1966.

When this takes effect, it would increase the federal share of unemployment insurance taxes on employers by an estimated $236 million a year.

Under the complex federal-state program, however, some states could offset some of the impact of higher U.S. levies by lowering their own taxes on employers if the bill becomes law.

State tax rates vary from nothing on firms with low turnover to 4.5 per cent in Michigan, where unemployment has been heavy in recent years.

NATIONAL AVERAGE

The national average rate was 1.4 per cent in 1962 and rose to about 2.3 per cent last year.

The administration's bill would introduce new standards and two new programs to increase the federal role in unemployment insurance.

It faces an uphill fight in Congress, starting with the House Ways and Means Committee.

A Favorite U.S. Broad Goes Abroad for Month

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Ethel Merman told us at Carol Channing's big swingin' party for George Burns at Gallagher's that she cuts out from her fiance Ernie Borgnine for about a month (Feb. 13 to March 18) to star at the Talk of the Town in London. "I won't see him for a month unless he can come over, but I'll return the first day I'm finished," she promised.

WILSON

She confirmed that Borgnine, who'll be visiting her here this week, is giving her—instead of an engagement ring — a Basset hound. "Ernie wants to be married at his house in Beverly Hills out in the garden, and I'd love it," Ethel said. (The date; approximately June 23). "The Merm" is a miracle woman and only she could get away with wearing a big floppy-eared Basset hound on her third finger left hand instead of a diamond.

Jack Benny said he left CBS "because I was going to quit for good, and MCA told me I could go to NBC and do a year at a time. That suited me fine." He's off to Australia for a month for cafes and concerts down under . . . Carol Channing kept it quiet but she fell off the stage at "Hello, Dolly!" the other night and got a big scare.

Joyce Mathews and Billy Rose surely did look close to their third marriage for a few hours—but it's blown over and Joyce has flown back to Switzerland after two days here as Billy's house guest on sort of a "trial run." Joyce says she loves Billy, but also loves Switzerland. Some people think Billy will marry wealthy Doris Vidor and, if he does, the judge will say, "I now pronounce you both very rich."

N.Y. Official: Measles Now an Epidemic

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Health Department says a recent outbreak of German measles has reached epidemic proportions in New York.

Dr. Robert Albrecht, director of the department's office of epidemiology, said the disease poses a particular threat to women in their first three months of pregnancy. The virus has the power to "impair the formation of the baby's growing organs," he said.

★ ★ ★

The department said Thursday known cases of German measles in the state climbed to 2,643 last month from several hundred in December.

"The January figure is the highest for any month since 1958, when we had our last epidemic," Albrecht said.

★ ★ ★

In 1958, the upstate area reported 16,000 cases, while New York City reported 5,911. Last month there were 1,202 new cases upstate and 1,441 in New York City.

Convicted Again for Murder of Another Hilda

STAFFORD, England (AP) — For the second time in 16 years, Christopher Simcox has been condemned to death for killing a woman named Hilda.

In 1948 he was convicted of stabbing his second wife Hilda and sentenced to hang. He was reprieved and then won a jail term.

Released in 1958, Simcox married again.

Thursday, in the same courtroom, Simcox, 51, was convicted of killing his sister-in-law, Hilda Payton, last November. He also shot and wounded his wife and her brother before firing two rifle bullets into his own stomach.

...n of Oakland County's ...hould be refilled to their ... by next summer, County Commissioner Daniel W. ...announced today.

★ ★ ★ ★

...welcomed yesterday's de... by the County Board of ...isors to advance $25,000 so ...e lake levels can be ade... controlled.

Affected will be several thous... and lake-front-property owners in Waterford and Independence townships.

At Barry's request, the board of supervisors authorized him to ask the courts to establish proper levels and allow the drain commission to maintain them.

★ ★ ★

The $25,000, plus $5,000 pledged by the Waterford Township Board, is needed to cover court costs and the necessary filing of notices, said Barry.

★ ★ ★

The ultimate cost of maintaining the water levels then will be determined by subsequent engineering studies, he added.

Barry sa... the water lev... been proven economically feasible by his commission.

He said this can be done by damming peak flows in the Clinton River at two separate locations each spring.

★ ★ ★ ★

Lakes that would benefit as the result, he said, are Van Nor... man, Lester, Williams, Macedav... Lotus, Greens, Dollar, Cemetery, Mohawk, Wormer, Schoolhouse, Upper Silver, Silver, Loon and Lake Angelus.

★ ★ ★

He also assured the board that the cost of maintaining the levels of these lakes will be borne by the benefiting property owners in the form of special assessments. The dams which Barry proposes the county acquire, maintain and improve in order to rectify the situation all lo... within Waterford Township.

They are situated at the former state fish hatchery and near where the Clinton flows under Dixie Highway at the Cascades Motel.

Barry expects th... necessary ...erty owners before authorizing action in Circuit C... by Barry to proceed.

...completed in time for the commission to begin operating the dams next spring.

He said he expects to acquire both dam sites for the nominal fee of $1 each.

Normally the board of supervisors would have required petitions signed by benefiting property owners before authorizing action by Barry.

This would have taken an indefinite amount of time because of the great number of land owners in this instance, according to Barry.

★ ★ ★

He successfully had asked the board to waive the petitions "in the interests of public health and necessity."
