Reject Treaty in Advance

Russ Already Veto N-Ban

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin rejected in advance today an American compromise designed to reach a nuclear test ban treaty soon.

Zorin was asked in a news conference if the Soviet Union would be willing to accept international inspection on its territory, if the United States and Britain drop their proposal for internationally staffed seismic detection stations inside Russia.

He said the Western plan was "no compromise at all in our view."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said on his arrival Saturday the Western powers are ready to make this compromise to help get a treaty, but would insist the accord provide for international inspection of the site of a suspicious event detected on Soviet soil.

The new Western idea has not yet been raised in the disarmament talks, which resumed today after a month-long recess.

Zorin said the Soviet Union has already made its own compromise by accepting as a negotiating basis a neutralist proposal providing for on-site inspections only by invitation of the country where the suspicious event took place.

"We are prepared to conclude a test ban treaty on the basis of the neutralist proposal, and on no other basis," Zorin added.

The Soviet stand came as the delegates set in an atmosphere notable for a lack of expression of optimism. Only Dean was optimistic enough to say that there was a better chance now for a test ban treaty. But that was before Zorin talked with reporters.

SECOND PHASE

The second phase of negotiations for a disarmament treaty is expected to center on details and technical discussions of the rival U.S. and Soviet plans.

The first three-month phase of the conference made little headway. It was devoted mostly to lengthy speeches and explanations of policy.

The only step forward was the adoption of a treaty preamble in general terms.

The New York Times said the United States and its allies are willing to agree to a cut-off date for nuclear weapon tests that would allow the Soviet Union to conduct the last series of tests.

Jan. 1, 1963 is the date being discussed, the Times said.

The idea of a fixed cut-off was proposed by Mexico before the conference adjourned a month ago but no action was taken then.

There was a general feeling that a three-power agreement to end nuclear weapon tests was the only issue in these disarmament talks that had any chance of being settled in the forseeable future.

The Geneva negotiations for world disarmament — a project discussed for 15 years in various forms with out any progress at all — are expected to last for several more years.

Soviets Reject Allied Proposal on Berlin Talks

West Regrets Russia Veto on Session to Ease Border Tension

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today rejected a U.S. - British - French proposal that four-power talks be convened in Berlin to ease tension over shootings along the wall dividing the city.

"Such a proposal cannot but evoke surprise," said a note to the United States.

"If the United States government advances its proposal with a view to interfering in the affairs of the sovereign and independent German Democratic Republic (East Germany), the Soviet Government regards this question in general not subject to discussion either on a four-power or any other basis," the note added.

Tass news agency said similar replies went to Britain and France.

In Washington, a U.S. spokesman expressed regret that the Soviet government was "unresponsive" to the Western plea for talks on ways to cut down on incidents at the Berlin wall.

DECLINES COMMENT

State Department press officer Lincoln White declined to say whether the United States, Britain and France would reply to the new Soviet note.

However, it was clear that U.S. authorities found no encouragement in the Russian reply.

The three Allied powers proposed to Russia on June 25 that four-power discussions be held in Berlin after a series of shooting incidents across the Communist wall had injected new danger into the divided city's life.

The idea was that American, British, French and Soviet commandants should meet "with a view to avoiding, by all appropriate methods, the recurrence of such incidents, in particular by seeking means to facilitate the movement of persons and goods inside Berlin."

The Allied governments blamed the East German Communist regime for the shootings which, they said, began only when the wall was built in August 1961.

The Soviet reply rejected this interpretation.

It blamed the trouble on "provocative actions against East Germany by West Berlin police and fascist elements."

Will Mrs. Hart Go Into Orbit?

House Space Probers Hope to Answer the Gals-Amid-Galaxy Issue

MRS. PHILIP HART

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Will Mrs. Philip Hart, wife of the Michigan Democratic senator, ever become an astronaut? A congressional subcommittee will start hearings tomorrow that may supply the answer.

A special House Space subcommittee has lined up a number of well-known witnesses to help it come to some conclusions on the women-in-space issue.

The nation's only orbital astronauts, John Glenn and Scott Carpenter, are scheduled to be heard.

Chairman Victor L. Anfuso, D-N.Y., also listed as witnesses, Jerrie Cobb, Jacqueline Cochran and Mrs. Hart. All three women are experienced pilots.

In addition, Anfuso plans to call Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., associate administrator of the National Space and Aeronautics Administration (NASA), and Brig. Gen. Charles H. Roadman, NASA's director of aerospace medicine.

"We are determined to find out just what are the basic indispensible qualifications for astronauts for space flight in these early days of our national space program," Anfuso said in a statement yesterday.

9 More Quit Mac Cabinet; 11 'Minors' In LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Macmillan tonight announced the resignation of nine more ministers in the second phase of his sweeping Cabinet reconstruction.

★ ★ ★

Eleven back-bench members of parliament, most of them young, were brought into the government.

They included Hugh Fraser, 44, air minister; Julian Amery, Macmillan's son-in-law, minister of (civil) aviation, and Niall MacPherson, 53, minister of pensions and national insurance.

In what was regarded as an attempt to revitalize the Conservative party, Macmillan dismissed seven senior cabinet ministers last week.

The Conservatives have been smarting from a series of special election defeats.

5 More Missing in 24-Hour Toll; Seek Survivors

Biggest Crash Takes Lives of 22 Soldiers of Embattled Land

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes in 24 hours in South Viet Nam's guerrilla-infested jungles today left 26 dead, including four American servicemen.

Five more Americans were missing in the air crashes, and another was killed in an ambush Saturday in one of the bloodiest weekends in recent months.

A two-engined troop-laden Vietnamese air force transport crashed near the Laos border far north of Saigon today in the most serious of the air mishaps, killing 22 Vietnamese soldiers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor. There were four survivors, all reported to be Vietnamese.

The C47 transport caught fire and crashed on take off at Kontum Airport, 260 miles northeast of here.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched for the wreckage of a two-engine U.S. transport believed to have crashed Sunday against a mountain while on a flight from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles to the northeast. The C123 transport had a crew of four Americans aboard.

The search was hampered by heavy rain and mist over the foothills and mountains around Ban Me Thuot.

Other search crews probed the mountainous jungle 280 miles northeast of Saigon where a U.S. Army H21 helicopter crashed in flames after being hit by guerrilla gunfire.

FIND BODIES

Ground parties found the charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man. But an American enlisted man and two Vietnamese were still missing.

The only known survivor, a U.S. Army Captain said to have been the pilot, was found walking through the jungle five miles from the crash. He was only slightly injured and accounts

Dem, GOP Predictions Differ

Medicare Test to Be a Toss Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic and Republican leaders made conflicting predictions today on whether President Kennedy's Social Security health plan for the aged will survive a decisive test in the Senate Tuesday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican leader, said he was confident of sufficient votes to table and kill the proposal.

But Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Democratic leader, said he thought Kennedy would win by two votes if the Democrats can muster a maximum attendance.

The Senate, which has debated the health care issue for two weeks, has scheduled a vote Tuesday afternoon.

REVISED VERSION

A revised version has been worked out to win support of five Republicans.

Dirksen told newsmen he wouldn't say "how many votes we will have, but I will say we will have enough to table."

He said he didn't believe he would lose more than the five Republican votes. But, in any event, Dirksen added, he felt assured of a GOP victory "unless my estimate is way off."

Sponsored by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., it is being offered as an amendment to a House-passed bill revising the public welfare laws. If the plan passes the Senate, it goes on to the House where its prospects are doubtful.

After disposing of the matter the Senate is expected to take up a money bill to provide funds for the Welfare and Labor departments.

A floor fight is likely to develop because of proposed Republican amendments to bar both impacted school and hospital construction grants to segregated institutions. The impacted school program covers districts crowded because of federal installations.

Pontiac Motor Boosts Sales Near Record '55

Retail sales of Pontiacs and Tempests in the United States during the first 10-day sales period in July increased 55 per cent over the same period of last year and were within 100 units of the same period in record 1955.

Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager, announced today that Pontiac dealers had sold 12,584 cars in the July 1-10 period.

This compares to 8,130 a year ago.

Bridge also pointed out that since the 1962 models first went on sale last September, 428,870 Pontiacs and Tempests have been sold — this is 77,688 more than were sold during the entire 1961 model run.

If House OKs Measure

Predicts Sub for Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., predicted today that if the House passes a new farm bill the Senate will substitute its tight controls measure for it and send it to conference.

Humphrey, the assistant Democratic leader, said he will lead a move against sending any milder House version to the Senate agriculture committee.

The House Agriculture Committee tabled the bill passed by the Senate which included mandatory crop controls sought by President Kennedy. It is asking House action this week on a measure to extend emergency wheat and feed grain programs.

Humphrey said he is confident the House committee's resort to unusual procedure aimed at sending a new bill of its own to the Senate agriculture committee will fail. If there is to be any farm bill at all, he said, a conference committee will have to compromise differing Senate and House views.

The possible new deadlock on farm legislation developed as signs pointed to a possible break in the stalemate over appropriation bills.

Money bills have been tied up for more than three months while the Appropriations groups squabbled over chairmanships and meeting places of joint conferences and whether the Senate should be allowed to start initiating some of the revenue bills.

* * *

Government agencies have been operating under emergency provisions which permit them to go on spending this month at the rate they did during the last fiscal year which ended June 30.

Final agreement on who will preside seems likely to be reached on the basis of members' seniority in congressional service. This would put House members in the chair for about three of the conferences on 14 regular money bills. All chairmanships in the past have gone to the Senate.

DOWN THE DRAIN

The Senate's demand to originate half of the money bills apparently has gone down the drain for this session. Agreement has been reached to hold conferences in the old Supreme Court chamber near the center of the Capitol, instead of on the far side of the Senate wing.

Joint meetings are necessary to adjust differences between the two branches on money measures.

* * *

Here's the background of the threatened outbreak between the Agriculture committees:

The House committee last week shelved a Senate-passed farm bill with tight mandatory production controls for surplus crops. It approved a measure of its own which would extend existing emergency feed grain and wheat programs.

Police Stop Teen Party; Cite Liquor on Premises

State police and Oakland County Sheriff's deputies stopped the music at a "hi-fi party"—attended by about 300 teen-agers — just as it started to get out of hand in Independence Township last night.

State police reported they took names and addresses of about 25 carloads of youths with beer and liquor in their possession.

A 19-year-old youth, identified as Thomas Collins, 1005 Borgman Ave., Huntington Woods, was apprehended on a charge of drunken and disorderly conduct. He was being held today at the county jail.

* * *

Pontiac state police reported they had been tipped on the party by the Flint state police post.

When six carloads of state police and sheriff's deputies raided the Paugh Farm at 8815 Reese Road shortly before midnight, they reported finding a band playing and several drunken teen-aged boys and girls throwing beer bottles around the farm.

Officers said those who attended paid $1 per car at the entrance.

State police confiscated the money.

Police were investigating today to determine who was responsible for the party.

The Paugh Farm is rented out for parties and recreational events, police said.

other grain storage company, Haddix and Sons, Inc., and a group of individual directors and officers of both companies.

COMPANY OFFICERS

Officers of the two companies are Haddix, his sons, Jack, William and Keith, and Oliver Mueller, Alvin L. Marion and Clarence Justice.

In their suit, the Heaths said Haddix and Sons "without legal consideration" acquired 135,200 shares of stock of Haddix and Sons Elevators, and said this enabled Haddix and Sons to dominate all meetings of the elevator company's stockholders.

Haddix elevators at Blissfield and Monroe have been closed by federal court order.

* * *

But Haddix yesterday said shrinkage by moisture loss was responsible for shortages in corn stored at both elevators.

Haddix, president of Haddix and Sons, said shortages at other warehouses also will result from shrinkage.

Balloon Ride Fatal to Animals

Found Dead in Canada After Being Exposed to Cosmic Rays

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (UPI) — Two monkeys and four hamsters exposed to cosmic rays have been found dead after their capsule was parachuted into dense bush country yesterday from a high-flying U.S. research balloon.

There was no immediate word on the cause of the animals' death. The capsule was to be flown to Edmonton today.

Dr. Webb Haymaker, head of the research group, said the balloon flight from Goose Bay, Labrador, Halfway across the continent was "90 per cent successful, but the animals didn't make it."

Dr. Haymaker said death of the animals was caused by some failure of the life support system. It is not known whether the monkeys died of oxygen failure or cold. This will be determined at Goose Bay, Labrador, laboratories.

Dr. Haymaker planned to pick up the capsules today and fly to Edmonton, Alta. Two of the capsules, containing the instruments and animals, will be flown to Goose Bay for extended examination to guard against failure on the next flights.

The capsule containing the cosmic-ray sensitive flower beetles will be flown to Ames research laboratory at Moffett Field, Calif., and will be forwarded to the University of California for examination.

The flight of the beetles was a University of California project.

French Assembly Votes on Censure Move Today

PARIS (UPI) — The French National Assembly met today to vote on a motion censuring President Charles de Gaulle's plans for an independent nuclear striking force.

* * *

The assembly was expected to debate for six or seven hours before voting on the motion which, if successful, could topple the government and force De Gaulle to dissolve the assembly and call for new national elections.

Political experts predicted, however, the government would scrape through.

If the censure motion were to pass, it would be the biggest rebuke to De Gaulle since he formed the fifth republic some four years ago.

* * *

Four of the nation's five major political parties filed the censure motion after Pompidou staked the life of his government on the 1962 supplementary budget which requests funds for a uranium plant to help in the manufacture of atomic weapons.

The four — Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP), Socialist party, Independent and Peasant party, and Democratic Entente — have a total of 258 deputies. In addition, they had support from eight deputies with no party affiliation.

On paper this gave them more than the 241 votes necessary to pass the motion but political experts predicted there would be enough defections to cause it to fail.

* * *

Only the minority Gaullist Union for the New Republic (UNR) formally opposed the censure motion as a party, but De Gaulle and Pompidou command support in the other parties too.

* * *

This was the second censure motion brought against Pompidou since he took over the premiership from Michel Debre April 15.

Albany, Ga., Leaders Decline to Negotiate With 'Lawbreakers'

ALBANY, Ga. (UPI) — Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. said today that Negro leaders pressing racial grievances are lawbreakers and that the city commission will not negotiate with them.

* * *

The mayor issued a terse statement in reply to a telegram from four spokesmen for the Negro Albany movement appealing for an emergency session with the commission to air the grievances.

The statement said:

"The City Commission is in receipt of a telegram from a purported Albany movement requesting a special meeting of the commission.

"It is the decision of the commission not to deal with law violators."

Among the signers of the telegram was Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Atlanta integration leader, who had called the situation serious and said the only alternative of a grievance session with the commission is a nonviolent direct action movement.

The other signers were Dr. W. G. Anderson, Albany movement president; Slater King, Albany grocer and real estate man; and Rev. Ralph Abernathy of Atlanta, an associate of Dr. King.

The telegram said:

"Request audience with your body to resolve grievances that have been pending for nearly year. Terms relayed to us by Chief Pritchett (Chief of Police Laurie Pritchett) are unsatisfactory.

"Long record of broken promises and bad faith agreements reveal conferences with Chief Pritchett are of no avail. Respectfully request special meeting with city commission be set not later than Tuesday, July 17."

The Day in Birmingham

Says Park Designation Won't Protect Areas

BIRMINGHAM — The designation of certain city properties as parks, either through a resolution or ordinance, will not permanently protect the areas from any other use other than recreation.

That is the opinion of City Atty. James L. Howlett on the City Commission's question of which procedure would be best to assure the future use of parks.

The issue was raised after commissioners agreed that the dedication of parks would not be in the best interest of citizens because it would irrevocably tie up the property for recreation.

* * *

They then asked City Manager L. R. Gare to learn the significance of the designation of land areas as parks by resolution or by ordinance with relation to the limitations on the sale of parks contained in the city charter.

Gare said in Howlett's opinion "the designation of land as a park will not conclusively or permanently determine the application of the charter limitation."

Quoting a 1961 opinion on the same subject Gare in a report to the commission, said "the permanency of use would be no different under such an ordinance than it is today. Just as a commission today could resolve to sell a piece of property, so a commission in the future could resolve to amend the ordinance and sell the property."

Gare did, however, say that such a designation might tend to invoke the applicability of the charter limitation on the sale of park property under certain conditions.

The City Commission is expected to make a decision on the problem, raised by citizens who want to protect the parks, at tonight's meeting.

His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was with him, also hatless.

Deny Favoritism in Estes Bond

Agriculture Department Figures Show Texan's Was Highest in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department produced figures today it said proved there was no favoritism in setting bond on Billie Sol Estes for government grain stored in his warehouses.

But Dabney Townsend, acting chief of the warehouse branch, said the method of setting bond has been changed "to eliminate any possibility of criticism."

Townsend was the first witness as the House Government Operations subcommittee resumed its hearings on the grain storage operations of the Pecos, Tex., financier.

CHARGED WITH FRAUD

Estes, 37, has been charged with fraud and declared bankrupt. His grain storage activities have been taken over by a receiver.

Townsend produced a tabulation of all grain bonds fixed at $700,000 or more. Estes' bond was $700,000. Unless other factors are involved, the normal maximum bond for grain storage facilities is $200,000.

"Of all the bonds set above $200,000 on judgment alone," Townsend said, "Estes was the highest."

He said Estes' bond was increased through the latter part of 1960 from $200,000 to $700,000 to keep pace with his rapid expansion.

The reasons for the increase, Townsend said, were the rapid expansion of Estes' storage facilities, the single ownership, the complex structure of Estes' financial empire and the fact that he was a relative newcomer in the grain storage business.

Late in 1960, it was decided to boost Estes' bond to $1 million, but he produced a net worth statement which satisfied the then head of the warehouse branch, Carl Miller and it remained at $700,000.

Later, the net worth statement proved to be fraudulent.

Detroiter Hurt on Waterskis

Struck by Motorboat While Being Towed on Canal in Waterford

A 23-year-old Detroit man was injured last night when struck by a motorboat while waterskiing on a canal between Gerundegut Bay and Cass Lake in Waterford Township.

The victim, Robert Crispen, is reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured arm and multiple cuts and bruises.

Crispen, according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies, was one of three water skiers being pulled by a boat operated by George Morris of Livonia.

Water deputy Kenneth Davis reported the three skiers were fanned out behind the 180-horsepower inboard boat when another inboard operated by Larry Fray, 23, 27 Nakota Ave., Clawson, approached from the opposite direction.

Crispen jumped off the skis but was hit by Fray's boat, Davis said.

Fray, whose view was obstructed by a curve in the canal, ran his boat aground in an attempt to miss Crispen, Davis said.

The water deputy reported that the skiers were fanned out almost the entire width of the canal.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a Texas firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss . . . but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If your symptoms indicate that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself.

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. This is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that the great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped. But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are 18 scalp disorders that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. If you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to act.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them information to help them analyze your problem. This information should include how long your hair has been thinning, and whether or not you now have or ever have had any of the following conditions: Do you have dandruff? Is it dry or oily? whether your scalp erupts in pimples or other irritations, does your forehead become oily or greasy? does your scalp itch and how often? and any other information you feel might be helpful. All letters will be answered promptly. Send the above information, and your name and address to Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., Box 66001, Houston 6, Texas. —Adv.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Dwells in Cabin in Smokies

Has Lived on $50 a Year

By HAL BOYLE

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Bert Garner, 76, "Sage of the Great Smokies," goes barefoot seven months of the year and has proved a man can get by on $50 a year.

A disciple of simple living who dwells on the farm of his birth in a two-room cabin he built 42 years ago for $37.50, the elderly philosopher spent less than 15 cents a day for meals until Uncle Sam put him on Social Security.

BOYLE

Now Bert varies his diet of dried corn, fresh vegetables and soybeans with an occasional restaurant meal.

'AGAINST IT'

"I was against Social Security before, and I'm against it now," said Garner. "I don't think it's the function of the government to take care of the people—it's the duty of the people to take care of the government.

"But I guess I can't change the system single-handed."

Bert held jobs from Manhattan to California before he decided at 60 to swear off work and give up the world's foolish ways for the rest of his life.

"I believe in simple living and high thinking," said Garner. "Freedom means more than money anytime.

'PEOPLE NEVER KNOW'

"Most people never know real freedom. They have become wage slaves.

"I choose to live the way I do so I can live the way I want. Leisure is one of the great words in the English language. I have the leisure I want to learn and study."

His cabin in a 50-acre woodland retreat has no radio, no television, no electricity. His annual utilities bill is 38 cents—for two gallons of lamp oil.

But the cabin is stocked with a library of 2,000 books. And Bert easily spends more for magazines and newspapers than he does for food, clothing and shelter.

NEVER LONELY

Garner raises 27 kinds of fruits, nuts and vegetables, in his garden, says he is far too busy ever to be lonely or bored.

The world he forsook has beaten a path to Garner's door. He has had visitors from most states and from as far away as Switzerland.

One university professor, after talking to Bert, said:

★

"If everyone lived as thriftily as you do, it would wreck the economy of our country almost overnight."

To curious callers who ask how they can achieve happiness through simplicity, Bert replied with a smile:

"First, shoot your wife. This is no life for a married man."

Threatens Action in Missile Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg says any work stoppages at the nation's missile plants could prompt him to seek antistrike legislation from Congress.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot afford a strike in our missile manufacturing plants," Goldberg said Sunday during a radio and television program taped with Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., for use in New York.

Goldberg expressed hope for a peaceful settlement of a dispute between missile manufacturers and two unions—the United Auto Workers and the Machinists—which threatens to end in a strike July 23. About 125,000 workers at five plants are involved.

Warns Police Before Breaking Station Window

DETROIT (AP)—"I'm going to do it again," Tony Mioduswski, 40, told police in suburban Highland Park Sunday night—and a moment later a rock crashed through the police station's front window.

Mioduswski, who had just been released from the Detroit House of Correction, was held on his third malicious destruction charge since June 18.

★ ★ ★

"It may not make sense to you coppers," said the unemployed press operator. "But it makes sense to me."

It Was 50 Years Ago Today

N.Y. Recalls a Crime That Shook City Hall

NEW YORK (AP) — A tense, pudgy man stepped outside the Hotel Metropole on Manhattan's East 43rd Street, and stood there under the lighted marquee. He looked about nervously.

At that moment, four men waiting in the shadows opened fire with their revolvers. Herman Rosenthal, a gambling house operator who had informed authorities about police graft, fell dead.

The murder was in the early, predawn hours of July 16, 1912 —50 years ago today — and it unveiled one of the most sensational chapters in the annals of New York City crime.

It sent a top police official — and the four hired killers — to Sing Sing Prison's electric chair and figured in topping the entire city administration.

The backdrop was a gaudy era of gamblers, gangsters, crooked politicians and corrupt cops. Shootings, sluggings and bomb-throwings were common. Dozens of gambling houses flourished in mid-Manhattan.

A principal character in the affair was tough, taciturn Police Lt. Charles Becker, head of the gambling squad. In the two years before the murder, it developed, he had banked $70,000.

The chain of events was ignited when Rosenthal, an ex-bookie turned gambling house operator, became embittered at a series of police raids, and began talking to Dist. Atty. Charles S. Whitman.

★ ★ ★

Rosenthal said Becker had promised protection, but didn't deliver. The visits to the DA's office — and threats of further exposure to Becker — doomed Rosenthal.

In June 1912, it was learned later, Big Jack Zelig, hoodlum and gang leader, was approached and promised $2,000 to have Rosenthal eliminated. Four gunmen were recruited.

DESCRIBES PAYOFFS

On July 13, Rosenthal made an affidavit describing an extensive police payoff system, and talked further with the district attorney. Their last session was on the night of July 15.

Afterward, Rosenthal dined at the Hotel Metropole. A man came to his table, spoke to him. Rosenthal stepped outside. "Where's Harry?" he asked a stranger. The gunfire cut him down.

The assassins fled in a gray touring car, which was traced to Bald-Jack Rose, a protection-money collector for Becker. The four gunmen were arrested and confessed. Becker denied everything.

The case stirred public cries for reform.

Big Jack Zelig told a grand jury he had procured the killers at the behest of Becker and Rose. But on the day before he was to testify in court, Zelig himself was slain as he boarded a street car.

Nevertheless, the four killers, Harry (Gyp the Blood) Horrowitz, Louis (Lefty Louie) Rosenberg, Frank (Dago Frank) Cirofici and Jacob (Whitey Lewis) Seidenshner were convicted and executed April 13, 1914, in Sing Sing.

Becker's trial opened Oct. 7 in a dramatic atmosphere. Threats had been made against prospective jurors and others. Extra guards were posted. The chief witnesses against Becker were Rose and three gamblers.

Convicted, Becker won a new trial, but was again found guilty.

A broad investigation of corruption opened, involving the administration of Mayor William J. Gaynor, an independent Democrat. A fusion candidate, John Purroy Mitchel, won the mayorship.

Whitman was elected governor. Becker was executed at Sing Sing on July 30, 1915, three years after the scandal broke, his last plea for clemency rejected by Gov. Whitman.

Ministers to Be Given Course in TV Preaching

ATLANTA (AP) — Emory University is aiming at bringing preachers into closer contact with the television-conditioned congregations.

A course in television preaching, described as the first in any U.S. seminary, will be offered this fall. Student ministers will preach before television cameras and view themselves in action later on videotape.

Lumber shipments in 1962 are expected to total 33.6 billion board feet, an increase of 5 per cent over 1961.

Submarines May Be Answer in Case of Global Showdown

Consider the submarine.

Probably you've paid a lot of "no-never-mind" to these eerie and unnatural craft. They're pictured in a traditional state of "innocuous desuetude"; or, perhaps there's a periscope showing and what could look less formidable than this meek fellow cutting a modest wake through a formidable sea?

★ ★ ★

But, Laddie, be ye not deceived.

Your happy tomorrows may depend on these to a much, much greater extent than you think.

In the unlikely case of a showdown, with a certain nameless but despicable power that centers around the Kremlin and drinks vodka on the Volga, these sleek, undersea denizens might be the deciding factor. Both Russia and the United States have charted each other's attacking power as accurately as possible. But, both of us have many, many undisclosed points from which we can unleash enough lethal fire power to blacken half the world. And both of us believe we have interceptors and interceptors for the interceptors' interceptors.

Now consider the nuclear-powered submarine. Here's a frightful and devastating force that can't be plotted, checked, counted or particularized. And "X" will never "mark the spot." These cool, calculating engines of destruction are "all over." Literally, that's where they are.

★ ★ ★

Their particular home today is a forgotten vista on the morrow. Who knows the address of a killer whale? Even the whale itself keeps no record and is unconcerned. Remember, we've circled the globe in these deadly contraptions and never "come up for air." No whale ever approximated a journey like that.

★ ★ ★

And suppose — just suppose — a Russian plane spotted one as it fired a tremendous burst labeled "Moscow."

So what?

She dives, she ploughs away unseen at full speed in any direction — or calmly sits still. What are you going to do about it and where will you attack? You can't bomb the whole Atlantic — or the Pacific — and if you did, these cunning creatures can quietly slip to the Pole. There they claim absolute sanctity and immunity beneath the solid ice pack which constitutes an impenetrable ceiling.

There's only one recourse: GIVE UP!

★ ★ ★

And so, as this game of hide and seek with war materiel and diabolic planning proceeds, our great lead in submarines gives us one striking force that is almost impregnable against retaliation—the secret of the counter move.

New Ambassador . . . .

FOY D. KOHLER has been nominated by the President as our next Ambassador to Russia.

He is currently Assistant Secretary of State for European Affairs which presupposes a definite acquaintance with diplomatic problems on the Ambassadorial level. We need a prestigious individual with these qualifications in Moscow.

★ ★ ★

But something else remains.

Can he be tough enough?

It would be an international faux pas if Mr. KOHLER lacked the fortitude to face Russians aggressively when the occasion demands.

★ ★ ★

The bulk of diplomatic relationships are carried out on a gentlemanly basis. But when the bloody murderers of the Kremlin blow and bluster, we need an American who can get just as belligerent, just as mean and just as vocal.

Close friends say Mr. Kohler qualifies handily and that he has proved it in the Western Germany negotiations.

Job Well Done . . . .

Waterford loses an able school administrator in the resignation of WILLIAM A. SHUNCK, who now heads the Wayne County schools. Waterford was fortunate to have a man of his capacity during the formative and very difficult years which the schools faced. Maintaining top educational programs with insufficient finances is an exacting and demanding requirement.

SHUNCK

It needs great ability.

★ ★ ★

William A. Shunck was the genius of sorts who came up with the right answers at the right moments over an extended period of years. I congratulate Bill on his advancement, but our area loses two fine citizens in Mr. and Mrs. Shunck, although they plan to live here for the time being.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Personally, I take no stock in the undercover rumor in Washington that Defense Secretary MCNAMARA is angling for the V.P. nomination in 1964. . . . . Overheard: "Nothing improves my driving like being followed by a police car." . . . . . A N.Y. newspaperman says 700 gangsters, mobsters, hoods and bums have been murdered since 1919 in Chicago—global headquarters for goon slaughter.

★ ★ ★

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie that you can't name half of the countries that have the Associated Press. The total's 91. . . . . '18-Year-Old Age Limit on Driving Is Senseless'

Of all the ridiculous, senseless laws, not being able to drive a car until you're 18 takes the prize. And all because of some crazy foolish kids, all the teens must pay.

★ ★ ★

Why always remember the minority? Parents will still be driving us home from dates even when we're seniors. Also:

1. Teens will hang around older kids who can drive. Could lead to drinking, smoking, etc.
2. A lot save to buy a car. This teaches value and savings early.
3. Owning a car gives a sense of responsibility.
4. Finally, won't it be nice when parents don't have to drive kids back and forth from different activities and when they can run errands for you?

★ ★ ★

We hear so much about how we can destroy Russia or China if the enemy should ever strike, but what good would that do for the dozens of American cities which would have already been destroyed? Those of you who think, with Barry Goldwater, that we can achieve complete victory over communism are simply overlooking the facts. Communism exists and cannot be destroyed by force.

★ ★ ★

The old balance of power concept must be tabled. The time for men to say "I love my country and I will die for it" is done. Men can no longer fight "for the sake of loved ones," because everyone will end up as patriotic charcoal. Either the Communists and the West must live together, or we will certainly die together.

Sorority Question Brings Opinions

That sorority defender says "parliamentary procedure makes things democratic." That isn't true. In the Kremlin, the Soviet Union adheres to parliamentary procedure completely. Does that make it "democratic?" This is too silly to discuss.

Next, two wrongs never make a right and that's basic all over the world, including Pontiac's illegal sororities. Bars that break the law and sell liquor and cigarettes to minors are arrested and proprietors face the courts. That's exactly what should be done to illegal sororities, their members and sponsors.

Side Liner

If sororities are illegal, members of the School Board must be asleep. Recently on trial, they begged the voters to come to their rescue. The voters responded gallantly. Now it's up to the Board to uphold the law and give the loyal voters the same loyal service.

Criticizes Opinion in Soapy Editorial

An editorial on Williams' fiasco in Africa was obviously written by a Republican. One of the comments came from South Africa where the ruling whites probably do the newspaper writing. A newspaper should say something, not just print slurs. What did Soapy say? Soapy was probably for the underprivileged. The privileged probably do most writing of newspaper articles in South Africa.

This idea that Soapy drove the State bankrupt probably can be explained the same way.

David Lawrence Warns:

Defense Costs Disrupt Economy

A favorite topic of conversation nowadays among businessmen in Europe concerns the American economy. There are many versions of what is wrong with the business trend in the United States. But most of the analysts fail to take into account that comparing America and Europe is somewhat like comparing apples and onions. The two economies have different problems and different requirements.

LAWRENCE

Sooner or later, the obvious becomes news. The obvious in America today is that the national economy is not a national economy, and that it is burdened and frustrated by nearly $50 billion of unproductive expenditure out of a federal budget of around $90 billion.

★ ★ ★

This unproductive expenditure has been deemed necessary for national defense—for America's survival. But the armament expense now has reached a point where it has slowed down the growth of business and saddled the nation with a burden of colossal proportions.

Everybody readily concedes that a world war distorts and disrupts a national economy. America never quite recovered from the economic impact of World War I as it experienced a series of recessions and eventually a deep depression which was "cured"—or rather suspended—only by the outbreak of World War II.

It now has been 17 years since the end of the last big war. But in the middle of that period, from 1950 to 1953, the Korean conflict—which was itself a war of no small proportions—brought to the American economy another era of unnatural operation.

$9 BILLION A YEAR

Meanwhile, the public debt in the United States has been increased so that the American people now pay out $9 billion a year in interest alone.

No European nation has a comparable obligation. It is easy enough to talk about how Europe is "prospering," but the European people are not being required to pay taxes to cover any such interest cost.

But most important in its relationship to sound business growth is the fact that the United States has been spending money for armament during the "cold war" at a rate that is close to what was spent on a "hot war" in the past.

The expenditures for defense during the past nine years of the "cold war" total $361.6 billion—or $75 billion more than was spent by the military services for World War II from July 14 to June 1946.

Similarly, it is more than 13 times what the United States spent for World War I and nearly three-and-a-half times the military expenditures in the three years of the Korean War.

But while a huge expenditure for four years, as in the case of World War II, might be digested—though with real difficulty—in the postwar period, how can the national economy accomplish this now and keep on spending at an average of between $40 and $50 billion a year in a "cold war"?

MUST FACE UP

This is the question that America will have to face up to if it expects to achieve some kind of "growth" of the economy.

The proposals in Washington that a tax cut be given or that tax depreciation rules be revised by new laws don't by themselves solve the problems arising out of a stagnating economy. For America faces a period of readjustment of a fundamental character.

Unless the outflow of American money is equaled by the inflow and unless the United States Treasury's receipts are enough to balance the budget, the confidence of world bankers in the American dollar will weaken.

★ ★ ★

Many bankers in Europe already are convinced that a revaluation of the gold content of the dollar is inevitable. They read in the press that "deficit spending" in America has suddenly been accepted as good economics among President Kennedy's advisers.

This revives the age-old comment of economists—that governments, when burdened by excessive debt, deliberately revalue their monetary unit and cheat the people again and again.

The central issue today is armament expense. Unless it is gradually reduced, there will be little chance for a natural economy to operate in the 1960s.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Nose, Throat May Cause That Bad Taste in Mouth

Q—I continually have a foul taste in my mouth. My teeth are in perfect condition. I brush them a million times a day.

You once wrote that adenoid drainage may cause bad breath in children. Can this happen to adults, too? My tonsils have been taken out but I do have excessive mucus in my throat at times.

Bad breath certainly is no asset to anyone and especially in a 21-year-old girl who is dating boys and making contact with people.

I find myself backing away from people all the time. Can't you shed some light on my problem? It is causing me great mental anguish.

★ ★ ★

A—You're confusing two things. What you call a foul taste is something you notice. Bad breath is noted objectively by some person other than you.

I would suggest you determine first if you truly have halitosis, for this condition despite what you see in advertisements, is very rare.

To do this, ask some older person you trust to give you a direct answer after testing.

If your suspicion is confirmed, you might then visit a nose and throat specialist for, if the mucus that collects in your throat turns out to be secretion that comes from your sinuses and collects in the back of your throat (postnasal drip), this may be the cause for the bad taste and the foul breath.

★ ★ ★

Q—Do you have a leaflet on what to tell a little boy about the facts of life? My son is now 12 years old. He is very shy and hard to talk to.

A—You may obtain excellent booklets on sex hygiene from the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. Write first for a complete catalog and then check the titles you want.

Q—Is there a new drug or a new form of treatment that has proved helpful in the care of children with cerebral palsy?

A—Excellent results are being obtained at the Children's Rehabilitation Institute in Reistertown, Md., by Dr. Winthrop M. Phelps, a recognized authority on cerebral palsy, through use of a muscle relaxant drug.

★ ★ ★

The drug is not curative in any sense, of course, but it does permit children to handle their braces more easily and eat, dress and perform their toilet routines with less tension and greater facility.

Prosperity

The Indianapolis Star

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev gave his own explanation of American prosperity. Americans enjoy a higher standard because during World War II Americans were getting richer, while the Russians were suffering. The Russians were shedding their blood while Americans were making money. As Russian industries were ruined by enemy action, American industries were being built.

★ ★ ★

This is the standard Communist explanation of the very hard and cruel fact that capitalist America is far ahead of Communist Russia in industrial production, in economic prosperity, in living standards and in almost everything and anything else. We are aware of the frightful devastation which the Nazi war machine inflicted upon Russia. But, quite a few countries which suffered greater devastation. One of these is Germany. There was hardly a German city which had not been razed to the ground. Some suffered 100 per cent destruction. Those German industries that were not destroyed were dismantled and shipped to Russia as war reparations.

★ ★ ★

Western Germany was literally in absolute ruins and its economy had ceased to exist. Yet West Germany is the chief industrial power in continental Europe today and one of the most prosperous countries in the world. German economy is booming. The standard of living of the West Germans is among the highest in the West and certainly several times higher than the standard of living of the Russians. How does Mr. Khrushchev explain this?

We know the real explanation. The German "miraculous recovery" is the triumph of capitalism and the free enterprise system. If the Russians had the same capitalist system, war damages would have been forgotten long ago, and the economy would have been today one of the richest in the world.

War damage is not your trouble, Comrade Khrushchev. Your trouble is your own inefficient, backward, clumsy, unproductive, wasteful and inhuman Communist economic system.

Bruce Bill

The Indianapolis Star

Congressman Donald Bruce has introduced in Congress a medical care bill which would cost the taxpayer nothing and cost the government nothing and yet provide greater help for everybody. It is disarmingly simple. Everybody can deduct all medical expenses from income tax payments!

★ ★ ★

Everybody in the country with a net income over $600 a year has to pay income taxes. Those who earn less can have their medical and drug bills paid for by welfare agencies both public and private. The Bruce bill would abolish the three per cent limitation on medical expenses and the one per cent limit on drug expenses. All medical and drug bills would be tax exempt. So would your medical insurance policy payments. To take care of those who use the short form, Bruce would raise the standard 10 per cent deduction to 12½ per cent.

★ ★ ★

This plan has all of the advantages and none of the disadvantages of every medical care programs introduced into Congress. It would not establish a new medical bureaucracy, thus saving billions in administration. It would apply to all taxpayers and their families and not just to those above a certain age or in a certain income bracket.

At the same time younger people with big families would directly benefit. Their children's medical bills and theirs would all be deducted from income taxes. Then the Bruce bill would end the threat of socialized medicine. It would stimulate private voluntary health protection since health insurance policies would be deductible.

★ ★ ★

We can't see anything wrong with such an idea. Can you?

Farm Program

Tax Review

The history of our farm programs shows clearly that high price supports and subsidies . . . create more problems than they solve.

★ ★ ★

When price supports are kept above market prices the only way to arrest accumulation of farm surpluses is to offer incentives to cut production. This is progress in reverse.

★ ★ ★

The only alternative is to embark on a new course designed to restore a free market in farm products within a reasonable time.

★ ★ ★

A free market would lower the cost of food and clothing and spare the citizen the unwarranted expense of paying taxes to deprive himself and others of the benefit of gains in agricultural productivity.

50 From Britain to Aid in Canada

Doctors Already There to Provide Emergency Service During 'Strike'

REGINA, Sask. (UPI) — The Medical Care Insurance Commission announced last night that 50 British doctors already have arrived here for emergency service during the current doctors' strike now in its third week.

Commission Secretary Jack Kinzel disclosed that 50 of 84 British physicians who have signed up to work for the government under its controversial medicare plan had arrived in the province, most of them during the past few days.

At the same time a Saskatchewan government representative in Dublin said that several Irish doctors had answered a call for help and that recruiting procedures were in progress in the Irish capital.

The announcement came as Saskatchewan's one million residents hopefully awaited the arrival of British Labor peer and Medicare expert Lord Taylor, in hopes he would somehow break the impasse between the government and the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons that has left the province with only token medical service since July 1.

There was no sign of a break in the deadlock between the two feuding factions as the province's governing Socialist party headed for its annual convention in Saskatoon this week.

Workers Needed to Pick State's Big Cherry Crop

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's bumper cherry crop has created an emergency demand for cherry pickers, Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Horton called for all available workers to help harvest the estimated 110 million pound crop, adding, "We believe it would be a state catastrophe to fail to provide adequate labor to save the crops."

★ ★ ★ ★

Unexpectedly warm, moist weather brought the cherry and pickle crops along so rapidly that growers are desperate for assistance, Horton said.

★ ★ ★

He said 4,000 cherry pickers and 900 blueberry pickers are needed this week and next week and additional 14,000 pickle pickers will be needed.

See Berlin Tension Rise in August

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Notes from the foreign news cables:

MYSTIC NUMBER

Ranking West German and allied officials in Bonn anticipate a possible worsening of the Berlin situation around Aug. 13, first anniversary of the Berlin wall.

They believe Moscow then either will demand the West set a date for a peace treaty with East Germany or set a date itself for signing a separate treaty with the Communist East Germans.

It has been learned that the matter already has been discussed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his ministers at a cabinet meeting.

★ ★ ★

The feeling is echoed in West Berlin, based on hints from the Communist East.

In Geneva, where U. S. Secretary of State Rusk is expected to meet with Soviet Foreign Secretary Andrei Gromyko this week, some sort of action also is anticipated, but without deadline or ultimatums.

However, expectations of any sort of agreement remain slim.

PURGE

Observers in Bonn expect a new controversy over Hans Globke, Chancellor Adenauer's state secretary.

Globke, who has worked for Adenauer since 1949, once belonged to the Nazi Interior Ministry and wrote the commentary to the infamous Nuernberg racial laws.

The Communists long have attacked him but Adenauer always has rejected the idea of firing him.

★ ★ ★

Now the West German press for the first time has demanded that Globke go.

The new campaign follows closely upon the firing of Atty. Gen. Wolfgang Fraenkel who once worked for the Nazi Supreme Court but never told his Bonn superiors what kind of work he did.

NUCLEAR COMPROMISE

Despite the vote of confidence this government won in the French National Assembly, President Charles de Gaulle still may be willing to accept some sort of compromise on his controversial nuclear striking force.

The compromise might take the form of an invitation to other European nations to join in the cost of the program's development.

De Gaulle has indicated clearly he wants to go it alone, but in the past he also has shown that he is not totally opposed to compromise.

HOPE

Fear of the European Common Market and difference in ideology has not dampened hopes of East German communists for credits from Western countries, particularly England.

★ ★ ★

The Communist regime admitted in May that it was seeking a $687-million credit from West Germany but it made no accompanying offers, such as a possible guaranty on West Berlin.

A statement by former Japanese Premier Shigeru Yoshida that Japan should arm itself with nuclear weapons if necessary embarrassed the current regime but no rejoinder has been forthcoming.

★ ★ ★

The government is reported to have decided that if a reply is required, it simply will describe the statement as Yoshida's "personal opinion which has nothing to do with the government."

Stolen Bowl Recovered

HAMBURG, Germany (AP)—A 1,000-year-old Chilean bowl, rated as priceless by the museum here from which it was stolen recently, has been found in Hamburg's main railroad station locked in a public storage box. Police said the thief apparently was having difficulty trying to dispose of the bowl.

Seat cushions for automobiles and trucks consumed an estimated 10 million pounds of latex foam rubber in 1961.

Negroes Pass Candy to 14 Integrationists

CAIRO, Ill. (AP) — Fourteen jailed integrationists, vowing not to eat until they are released, got candy bars through their cell bars Sunday.

Police said it was not known if the 14 ate any of the candy. None of them accepted jail lunches or suppers.

Two of the 14 ate breakfast, then vowed with the others to refuse all food. Dozens of Negroes visited the jail during the day and passed candy bars to the prisoners.

Three white men, a white woman and 10 Negro teen-agers were jailed Saturday when they refused police orders to move from the entrance of an all-white swimming pool.

To Build Soviet Ships

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass says Communist Yugoslavia will build five cargo diesel ships of 12,000 tons each and nine tankers of 20,800 tons each for Russia by 1965.

Graham Plans 2nd California Sermon Tonight

FRESNO (UPI) — Evangelist Billy Graham, suffering from a slight sore throat, planned to preach on the problems of youth, security and sex tonight in the second sermon of his eight-day crusade in this central California valley city.

Graham opened his crusade last night with a ringing criticism of modern living and a call to return to God. He addressed a capacity crowd of 23,000 in Radcliffe Stadium, a college football stadium converted into an open-air church for his appearance here.

"We are a people filled with fear, frustration, disappointment and sin," Graham said. "We are in danger of becoming jaded, empty and banal."

Cafeterias in United States plants feed about 24,000,000 workers on an average day. They eat about $280,000,000 worth of food a year—3 per cent of the estimated total wholesale cost of food handled by all away-from-home eating places.

Argentinian Beauty Embarks on Miss Universe Adventure

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Miss Universe could have danced all night, but she didn't. She had to be in her room at 1 a.m. today.

Norma Beatriz Nolan, the 24-year-old brunette model from Argentina who has never had a date without a chaperone, formally opened her reign at the coronation ball in Miami Beach's swank Fontainebleau Hotel.

* * *

She had a date—and more than 1,000 escorts—at the ball, including consular officials from the 50 nations represented at the week-long pageant.

The smoky-eyed brunette dazzled the glittering crowd in a white evening gown that clung to her 35-25-36 figure, and a new white fur that cost the pageant $10,000.

RUNNERS-UP

Honored guests along with Miss Nolan and blonde Marlene Schmidt of West Germany, the retiring Miss Universe, were the runners-up. They are Miss Iceland, Anna Geirsdottir, second; Miss Finland, Aulikki Jarvinen, third; Miss Republic of China, Helen Liu, fourth, and Miss Brazil, Maria Olivia Cavalcanti, fifth.

The ball was the last night the girls had to struggle with the pageant's stringent rule—no talking with males without an escort.

* * *

"I don't know what nations I shall visit," said Miss Nolan. "I'm going to try in all of them to do everything possible to promote international friendship."

After she was crowned Saturday night before a nationwide television audience, she kept saying, "I don't know why I won. Those other girls were so beautiful."

Miss Nolan said she planned to splurge part of her $5,000 prize money for clothes. Paris and Rome are the cities she looks forward to visiting — to look at clothes.

IRISH AND ITALIAN

"I don't want movie contracts," she said. "I like to travel."

The 5-foot-6½ beauty weighs 120 pounds. Her grandfather was Irish and her mother was Italian.

She speaks Spanish and Italian, and this is what she said after she found out Saturday night that she was the new Miss Universe: "I do not speak English. I am very happy."

MISS UNIVERSE BREAKFASTS — Norma Nolan of Buenos Aires, Argentina, woke up fresh and smiling today and has a glass of orange juice to start her breakfast in bed. Saturday night she won the Miss Universe title in competition with 52 beauties from all parts of the world.

U.S. Babies Saved by Act of Woman Drug Official?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A skeptical woman doctor kept off the American market a drug ultimately blamed for thousands of birth malformations in Europe.

How and why Dr. Frances Oldham Kelsey, a Food and Drug Administration medical officer, blocked a marketing license here for thalidomide were detailed Sunday by the Washington Post.

Here is the Post's account:

In September 1960, Dr. Kelsey received from the William S. Merrell Co. of Cincinnati a request for permission to market the sedative in the United States under the name Kevadon.

The drug was being sold in Canada, Dr. Kelsey's native country, and in Europe with no harmful side effects noted. Still, the 47-year-old medical officer regarded its safety as unproved.

For the next year she kept declining to license the drug.

In November 1961, the firm heard from Europe that thalidomide had been linked with malformations in babies born to women who had used it when pregnant. The Merrell company reported this promptly to Dr. Kelsey and withdrew its application.

Subsequent investigations, particularly in West Germany, established a link between the drug and phocomelia, a malformation that usually deprives its victims of one arm, leaving rudimentary fingers arising from a stub below the shoulder.

Soviet Employe Flees Accident

Russian Rushes Off, Telling Other Driver He Couldn't Wait

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Police say a Soviet employe sideswiped another auto with his car Sunday night and rushed off to the Soviet estate here, telling the other driver he didn't have time to wait for authorities.

* *

Police traced the driver, identified as Igor Andreev, an employe of the Soviet secretariat at the United Nations, to the Soviet estate through his license plate number, which had been jotted down by he other driver involved — Anthony Nosel of Glen Head, N.Y.

WAS IN HURRY

At the estate, police said, Andreev told them he thought he had properly identified himself to the other driver and had rushed off because he was in a hurry.

Nosel told police that Andreev showed him a card indicating his Soviet affiliations when they got out to survey damage to their cars at the accident scene.

Nosel, his wife and two children were treated for minor injuries.

A police spokesman said it is doubtful that any action will be taken.

Foreign nationals in this country on diplomatic visas are immune from prosecution.

Women Picket at Gate of Test Site in Nevada

NEVADA TEST SITE (UPI) — Some 40 "Women's Strike For Peace" demonstrators carrying placards yesterday picketed the main gate of this desert test base.

About 15 Nevada highway patrolmen and 9 sheriff's deputies stood by and watched the "Ban the Bomb" demonstrators who were protesting the current series of nuclear explosions.

One woman — a 32-year-old mother of three not affiliated with the group — was arrested for trespassing after she entered the gate to the test site. The other demonstrators already had departed.

Mrs. Mary Harvey, Modesto, Calif., was sentenced to 30 days in Nye County Jail.

Rap Labor Unions for Role in Fimland Woe

(Editor's Note — Hollywood is suffering from a host of ills, and a current pastime is pointing fingers at those who might be held accountable. Stars, studios, runaway producers all have come in for criticism. So too have labor unions.)

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Imagine a Mother Goose fable in which suspects are arguing over the remains of a fallen giant.

THOMAS

"Who killed Hollywood?"

"Not I," cried the producer. "It was the star with his high demands and bad conduct."

"Not I," cried the star. "It was the company head with his mismanagement."

"Not I," cried the company head. "It was labor with his high pay and featherbedding."

"Not I," cried labor. "It was the runaway with his greed for foreign subsidies and taxless pay."

★ ★ ★

"Not I," cried the runaway. "It was the producer with his lousy movies."

Nobody is quite ready to bury the Hollywood film industry, which shows amazing signs of life despite its grave ills. Diagnosis of those ills continues apace, but one element has been overlooked until recently.

★ ★ ★

That is: what part, if any, have labor practices played in hastening the decline of American film production?

That decline can be documented by a glance at this week's production schedules. Today there are a dozen features being filmed at the Hollywood studios (average 15 years ago: 50).

★ ★ ★

Films shooting abroad, fully or partly financed by American companies: 23. Plus native industries which produce more features each year in England, Italy, France, Japan and India than does Hollywood.

Says the ever-vocal producer-director Otto Preminger, who has made films abroad as well as here:

★ ★ ★

"Hollywood labor is not at the moment competitive with film labor abroad. American labor is naturally more expensive because of our higher standard of living. Nobody wants to change that.

"But much money is wasted in production here because of featherbedding practices. These are not the whim of labor; they are permitted under existing contracts. I think it is important for labor and management to get together to make new contracts that would place American films in a more competitive position."

Producer-director Edward Dmytryk, just returned from making a film in Italy, agrees: "This situation isn't unique to movies. It's true in every American industry; they all must find ways to compete with the growing competition from abroad.

"You can shoot abroad with a crew half the size of a Hollywood crew, with men who earn a third less. Sure, Hollywood crews are the best, over-all. But the European crews are getting better all the time.

"Here the costs make you shoot hell-bent for schedule. In Europe you can shoot two or three times as long for the same amount of money. You shoot more slowly, but that extra time allows for more quality."

On the other hand, Samuel Z. Arkoff, one of the chiefs of the low budget film maker, American-International, says: "The cost of labor is not a big part of a movie budget. I would say the actual crew runs 15 to 20 per cent of the total cost. Even if you do cut down on crews, that won't materially affect the budget."

But George Stevens felt the issue was important enough to negotiate new agreements with certain unions. Despite blandishments of foreign lands, he chose to film his "Greatest Story Ever Told" here, but felt adjustments should be made in light of current economic conditions.

Said he: "Featherbedding, by discouraging regional shooting, actually robs our workers of their bread and butter. We are interested in something bigger — the survival of an entire industry."

Tomorrow: Changes of featherbedding among studio unions.

Food Parcels Decline

HONG KONG (AP)—Food parcels sent by Hong Kong residents to relatives in Red China totaled three million in the second quarter of 1962, a decrease of 673,000 parcels compared with the same 1961 period. Officials said the drop is believed to have resulted from reported Red Chinese import restrictions.

Early New England laws compelled men to have their hair trimmed regularly, around a cap.

Albanian Premier Has Been Re-Elected

VIENNA (AP) — Albania's Communist Premier Mehmet Shehu has been unanimously re-elected by the new Albanian parliament, radio Tirana reported today.

★ ★ ★

Shehu was sponsored by party chief Enver Hoxra, the report said. This showed the two top Communists were still in firm command in Albania despite their open feud with the Soviet Communists.

★ ★ ★

Shehu's re-election was a formality following recent elections in which the candidates supported by the Communist Party received almost 100 per cent of the vote.

There are 50 per cent more hospitals in the U.S. than in 1920 and the bed capacity has been more than tripled.

If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp, or if your scalp is still creating hair you should take positive action at once. A little time spent now may save a great deal of regret later.

You incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for the consultation. We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not we believe you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost.

If you are accepted for treatment, you will be given a written guarantee for the length of time treatment is required, on a prorated basis. Nearly half of our clients are women. Lesley Hair and Scalp Consultants have established a very high reputation in the field for refusing any case that does not fall under the scope of its work.

LESLEY'S POLICY — While male pattern baldness is the cause of the great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither Lesley treatment nor any other treatment is effective, Lesley offers you a free examination to determine whether you are one of those who can be helped.

Lawmakers Play King of the (Capitol) Hill

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Two elderly Democrats are captains in one of the stuffiest disputes—it's called a battle for prestige — that ever slowed down the machinery of Congress.

For more than three months, the quarrel between these two men and the committees of which they are chairmen has prevented the House and Senate from voting on money to run the government.

While the feud drags on, government agencies are permitted under emergency regulations to go on spending this month at the rate they did in fiscal 1962, which ended June 30.

★ ★ ★

The argument between the two groups will probably have the same effect on the general public as Patrick Henry used to have on Thomas Jefferson, who said, "Although it was difficult when he had spoken to tell what he said, yet, while he was speaking, it always seemed directly to the point."

THE COMBATANTS

Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, 84, has been in Congress 50 years, longer than anyone there. Rep. Clarence Cannon of Missouri, 83, has been a member of the House 39 years.

★ ★ ★

Hayden, as chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, and Cannon, as chairman of his opposite number in the House, are two of the most powerful men in Congress.

It's the kind of power that goes away back in congressional history.

Woodrow Wilson was writing respectfully on this subject 77 years ago, "I know not how better to describe our form of government in a single phrase than by calling it a government by the chairmen of the standing committees of Congress."

The dispute over prestige in this case involves tradition, one of the most sacred areas in Congress, although anthropologists sometimes refer to tradition as tribal custom.

Under the Constitution, revenue bills—taxation—are to originate in the House. It does not say appropriations bills—money voted by Congress for running the government—have to originate in the House or be voted on there first.

But somehow traditionally the House has handled them first, too. The amount of money the House votes and the amount of money the Senate votes are seldom the same.

So members of the Hayden and Cannon committees must confer to reach a compromise by ironing out the differences. Then the agreed-on bill goes back to the full House and Senate for final and formal approval.

WANTS CONCESSION

But also, somehow traditionally, these conferences between the two committees have been taking place on the Senate side of the Capitol with a senator acting as chairman.

This irked Cannon and his committee of the House. House members may feel a little inferior to the Senate for various reasons.

For example, House members give up their seats to run for the Senate, even though the salary is the same, $22,500.

So Cannon's committee, which may have felt like peasants with a petition, got fed up with trudging over to the Senate side for a conference under the chairmanship of a senator and made demands on Hayden's committee.

They were that half the conferences must be held on the House side of the Capitol and half of them must be under the chairmanship of a House member.

But before Hayden would agree to that, he wanted a concession: an end to the tradition that all money bills originate in the House. He wants half of them to originate in the Senate.

That's where the two committees got stuck and have been stuck ever since. The full houses have not been able to vote money for any government department because their appropriations committees have not sent them agreed-on bills.

The two committees and their chairmen may get unstuffed soon to let the government function as it is supposed to. Pressure is building up on them.

Ribicoff Nominated... at Price of Dem Unity

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Connecticut Democrats faced today the job of healing a serious break in party unity after nominating Abraham A. Ribicoff for the U.S. Senate.

Ribicoff, who resigned as welfare secretary in the Kennedy Cabinet to return to Connecticut politics, was nominated at the rowdiest state convention in recent memory.

While party leaders, including State and National Chairman John M. Bailey, pondered how to heal the wounds, Rep. Frank Kowalski, loser in the Senate nomination battle, was left to ponder his political future after two terms in office.

★ ★ ★

The convention, which ended Sunday morning, chose Ribicoff, a former governor, over the retired Army colonel, as expected. Kowalski was left with less than 20 per cent of the votes, and no chance to call for a statewide primary.

Gov. John N. Dempsey, who succeeded Ribicoff as governor 18 months ago, was nominated unanimously as gubernatorial candidate.

★ ★ ★

Emulating the Republicans, the delegates picked a Negro, Gerald A. Lamb, for the post of state treasurer. It was the first time that a Negro was named for a state office by either party. Lamb will oppose William D. Graham.

Ribicoff's Republican opponent is Rep. Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a veteran of six terms in Congress.

Ribicoff's decisive triumph was a vote of confidence for Bailey, who had been attacked by Kowalski and his supporters as a cynical political boss with little respect for democratic procedures.

The convention results left no doubt that Bailey was still in the saddle. But the finality of Kowalski's defeat was a bitter pill for his vociferous followers to swallow.

They had jeered every time the names of Bailey and Ribicoff were mentioned from the platform. They had interrupted the keynote address delivered Friday night by Mansfield and shouted down Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., when he placed Ribicoff's name in nomination.

When their champion, in defiance of protocol, appeared on the stage during a floor demonstration in his honor and urged them on, they went into a near frenzy.

Scores of shouting demonstrators who had been denied admission to the hall stormed the doors, bursting past police guards.

After the tumult, Ribicoff was overwhelmingly endorsed by a vote of 786-163.

Kowalski's charges of boss rule were quickly picked up by Republicans.

Pierre Salinger Returns to U.S. From Brazil Trip

NEW YORK (AP) — Pierre Salinger, President Kennedy's press secretary, returned today from Brazil.

He had talks with officials of the Brazilian government about the President's postponement of a visit to that country until Nov. 12.

* * *

Salinger said he expected to return to Brazil in October to make further arrangements for the President's visit.

The President was to have made a three-day visit to Brazil starting July 31 but the trip was delayed because of forthcoming elections in this country and Brazil.

Migratory Workers Flee as Barn Burns

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a $12,000 barn last night, forcing dozens of migratory workers to flee and sending four of them to a hospital for treatment of burns and smoke inhalation.

* * *

Salvation Army and other volunteers gathered up bedding and clothing enough to tide the laborers through the emergency.

* * *

The three-story barn housed workers from Texas who had hired on to pick cherries on the Bolling farm four miles north of Traverse City.

Gen. Mitchell's Copilot in Test of Plane Dies

OZARK, Ala. (AP)—A man who helped Gen. William (Billy) Mitchell prove the value of aerial bombardment is dead at 62.

Walter V. Clark, who was Mitchell's bombardier and copilot in a historic test in the early 1920s, died Sunday in a hospital after a long illness.

* * *

Mitchell claimed that bombs from an airplane could destroy a battleship. Clark copiloted a Martin bomber which proved Mitchell's theory. In trial bombings off Cape Hatteras, N.C., Clark sent one bomb down the smokestack of an obsolete U.S. Navy ship and dropped a second alongside, buckling the vessel's plates.

A flier for 37 years, Clark had been a civilian employe at nearby Ft. Rucker since 1955.

Theater Executive Dies, Managed NY's Roxy

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Dick Dickson, 65, widely known theater executive, died Saturday in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after a long illness.

A onetime managing director of New York's famed Roxy Theater, he spent 20 years as an executive here with National Theaters and its subsidiary, Fox West Coast Theaters.

He retired from the chain in 1956 and had since managed a shopping center in Palm Springs. He is survived by his widow.

Experts Examine Bomb Exploded in St. Peter's

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Italian Army ballistics experts today examined fragments of a bomb that exploded Saturday night in St. Peter's Basilica.

Vatican officials and police leaned to the theory that a crank set off the bomb in Christendom's largest basilica.

* * *

The bomb was set on the ledge of a monument of Pope Clement X to the right of the apse, behind the main altar.

The blast only slightly damaged the base of statue and the frame of the nearby organ. No one was injured.

Stops Constipation due to "Aging Colon"

Relief, doctors say, lies in new laxative principle that re-creates 3 sessions of youthful regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents dry out and stones so they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Of all leading laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief:

(1) COLONAID prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain; (2) feeds tissue flabby colon muscles with unique rebuilding action; (3) acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; it so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. Introductory Size 49¢

'Mutiny on the Bounty' Has Almost Been Finished

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — They said it couldn't be done—finish "Mutiny on the Bounty," starring Marlon Brando.

But it's completed—almost. I've seen it. It has violence, humor, color, scenery, sex, and new interpretation — Brando's — to history's most famous mutineer.

It took nearly two years and final cost may hit $25 million. It might have broken records for time and cost if Liz Taylor hadn't run into pneumonia in London and Richard Burton in Rome.

STILL SHOOTING

"Cleopatra" will take longer and cost more. It started earlier and is still shooting.

MGM has put "Mutiny on the Bounty" together in rough-cut form with running time three hours and 40 minutes plus intermission.

Not all of the music has been scored. A few additional scenes, requested by Brando to change his motivation in the ending, will be shot next month.

Most of the controversy on the movie—almost as much rebellion as that experienced two centuries ago on the original HMS Bounty — centered on the ending.

COUNTERS CHARGE

Brando was accused by his bosses of too much temperament. He countered that MGM sent a full company to Tahiti, at a cost of $32,000 a day, without having the film's ending in mind.

MGM called it temperament. Brando calls it artistic rebellion.

Brando asked, "How can an actor honestly portray an emotion when he doesn't know what the final outcome of the emotion will lead to?"

My invitation to the showing was from Brando. Studios do not want reviewers to see movies—even low-cost ones — in rough form.

The movie naturally invites comparison with the 1935 version starring the late Clark Gable as Fletcher Christian the mutineer, and Charles Laughton as Captain Bligh.

Brando knew that Laughton's sadistic portrayal dominated the earlier picture, even against Gable.

The 1961-62 story is basically the same as the 1935 version. It has to be, because the classic saga of the British royal navy is history, not fiction.

But this time Brando as Christian dominates the movie even against a superb playing of Bligh by Britisher Trevor Howard.

Brando's Christian is a radical conception of the role. This is the key to his domination of the movie.

Instead of giving it the rugged he-man portrayal that Gable did, Brando makes First Mate Christian humorous, gentle and even, at times, foppish.

To Mark British Capture of Fort Mackinac in 1812

ANN ARBOR (AP)— The 150th anniversary of the capture of Ft. Mackinac on Mackinac Island by the British in the War of 1812 comes Tuesday.

The British held the fort until the Treaty of Ghent in 1814.

* * *

"The real significance of the fall of Ft. Mackinac was . . . it freed the northern Indians for service against other American posts in the West," explained F. Clever Bald, director of the university of Michigan historical collections.

Candlelight Reception After Rites

Annette Lee Hammonds a Bride

A candlelight garden reception in the Bloomfield Hills home of Dr. and Mrs. Everett E. Hammonds followed the vows of their daughter Annette Lee Hammonds to John E. Bowen III, of Bloomfield Hills in Christ Church Cranbrook.

Rev. John Albrecht performed the evening ceremony at an altar banked with white snapdragons and Majestic daisies. He was assisted by Rev. David Bronson of St. Paul Episcopal Church, Fairfield, Conn., a friend of the bridegroom.

Duchesse lace from her grandmother's wedding dress accented the bride's gown of ivory peau de soie at the oval decolletage above the brief coust sleeves. Heirloom lace from her great-grandmother's baby bib fashioned the Mary Queen of Scots cap which secured the silk illusion veil.

White phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and ivy were arranged in an heirloom silver filigree bouquet holder carried by previous brides in the family.

SISTER IS HONOR MAID

Gail Elizabeth Hammonds, her sister's maid of honor, and the bridegroom's sister Carol Lynn Bowen and Mary Jeanne Hargreaves, who were brides-maids, wore floor-length pale blue chiffon sheaths and matching whimsies touched with ivy. They carried ivy foliage. Karen Kramer was flower-girl.

Sunbathing Can Be Fun

Tell Mom to Come Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who won't let her daughter lie out in the back yard to sun herself?

I don't mean in a brief bathing suit or anything like that. I mean in a sun suit. She says, "People might think it's me!" Do you think that would be so terrible?

ABBY

WANTS TO KNOW

DEAR WANTS: If a daughter can be mistaken for her own mother in a sun suit, I think the mother should join her.

DEAR ABBY: We are middle-class people who own a nice little bungalow in a neighborhood where there are many children.

We fixed up our back yard with swings, slides, etc., for our grandchildren to enjoy while visiting us on weekends.

During the week the neighborhood youngsters would ring our bell and ask if they could play in our back yard. How could we refuse?

Last week a neighbor boy fell off our swing and broke two teeth (not baby teeth). We received a letter from his father's attorney advising us that we were being sued for the dental bill.

Our own attorney said it was our yard and we were liable. Please print this as a warning to other big-hearted uninformed people who can ill-afford such generosity.

STUCK

DEAR ABBY: My husband's mother is coming to visit us for a month. She never cared for me and the feeling is mutual. I am considering taking a job while she is here.

That way she can have the run of the house, boss the children and just take over. (She will anyway.) I will let her be the "Lady of the House" and I won't have to be around her all day.

Do you see anything wrong with that? When I suggested it to my husband he said I should forget it. I'd like your opinion.

DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

DEAR D-I-L: I agree with your husband. His mother should be a—"guest"—not the "Lady of the House." If you can't remain in the same house with her and behave in an adult, civil manner, you have a lot of growing up to do.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, Box 3385, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Shower Given by Co-Workers

Mary Frances Cervantes was honored by her Birmingham Board of Education co-workers at a bridal shower in Rotunda Inn.

Among those attending the recent affair were Mrs. Robert McGibbon, Mrs. Robert Roman, Mrs. William Gardner, Mrs. William Collins, Mrs. Lawrence Hulbert and Mrs. Daniel O'Connor.

Places also were marked for Mrs. Frank Hilton, Mrs. Hazel Pariseau, Mrs. Russell Holmes, Mrs. Carl Eley, Mrs. Harry Knox and Barbara Wichman.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ignacio Cervantes of Perkins Street, the honoree will marry William M. Clarkson, son of the William Clarksons of Silver Circle, Pontiac Township, on Sept. 1.

It's Okay to Ask the Gift Giver

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My son received a watch for Confirmation from a relative. He has had the watch a month and I have noticed that it is not keeping good time.

I would like to know if it would be proper for me to tell this relative about it so that she can take it back to the jeweler from whom she bought it, for adjustment. Most watches come with a guarantee and it would be senseless for me to pay to have it repaired when it can be done for nothing.

My husband seems to think the giver's feelings might be hurt. May I please have your opinion on this matter?

A: There is no reason why you should not tell this relative that your son's watch is not keeping time and ask her if she will give you the name of the jeweler from whom she bought it so that you can take it to be regulated.

★ ★ ★

Q: My daughter will be leaving home soon to enter a religious order. I would like to give a farewell party for her before she goes away. Would such a party be in bad taste?

Some of the other members of my family have questioned the propriety of this because of the religious angle. I would like your opinion on this matter.

A: I can't imagine how anyone could consider a simple and dignified gathering of relatives and close friends unsuitable. It might otherwise be impossible for her to see them before she leaves.

★ ★ ★

Q: My fiancee and I have been engaged for several months. I am at present working in another city and my fiancee will be coming here soon for a long weekend. I have arranged for her to stay with relatives of mine who live in this city. I was wondering about her transportation. Should I send her a train ticket?

A: Correctly, she pays her own transportation.

The Sack Sneaks Back in Fall Fashions

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK — Fashion in its shifty way is bringing back the sack.

Call it the chemise, muumuu, skimmer or shift, it has a common lack — the belt.

But men have no reason to panic, assure designers Norman Norell, Bill Blass, and Adele Simpson among others.

★ ★ ★

Although a preview of fall fashions indicate that sacks could disguise a third of the female population next fall, belts will certainly cinch curves on the rest.

"Some women look wonderful in shifts, but some do not," says Norell. You have to have both kinds of clothes."

'YEAR OF THE BELT'

He himself made such a success of putting a 3-inch wide belt in the middle that the style swept across the country copied in costumes from $5.98 to $398. A trade publication credited him with creating "the year of the belt."

Norell's style ideas for fall are still a showroom secret, but he claims he is not designing any loose clothes. "I'm using belts again."

★ ★ ★

Maurice Rentner's designer Blass includes plenty of lissome, unconstructed costumes in his own collection. "One has to realize that the shift has become a classic," he points out. "It's cool, natural, comfortable and marvelous for daytime."

Still, you also have to have the costume with the belt, he says, in order to please at least part of the people part of the time.

'SUAVE LOOK'

For fall and winter Adele Simpson emphasized the "suave look," a dress molded from shoulder to hips without any break in the middle.

"We hope women will wear these without belts," she says. But she's not taking any chances. To be sure her dresses don't wind up on mark-down racks, Mrs. Simpson is sending along self belts.

"You can't do it any other way," she explains. "People still have such horrible memories of the sack."

Although the memories have apparently dimmed for some women, men in general still shudder, protest, and occasionally refuse to pay the bills for such things. That's why the belt industry itself is not the least bit ruffled over the current wave of waistlessness.

Beltmakers are even ecstatic over certain designers' practice of using a stylized belt as a signature. For example, Donald Brooks, this year's winner of the Fashion Critics award, seasons his fall collection with stroll belts. When Larry Aldrich uses a belt, it's a typical tube or string.

And the wide buckled Norell belt is still a Norell signature, even on cheap copies of his clothes.

When designer Jane Derby tosses a sack in her collection here and there, she makes up for it by adding not one belt but two and three to other costumes. She uses these to change the character of the dress from casual to dressy and even dressier.

Eight years ago the sack figured as such a frightening prospect that spokesmen for the industry did feel justified in pleading with designers to give up shapeless, sell-less, silhouettes.

★ ★ ★

This time belt makers do not intend to protest the renewed interest in cinchless middles. They have faith that men will never let women let designers let the sack come back — all the way.

Travel Lightly

Planning a Trip?

If you are planning a trip, you will no doubt be faced with the usual problem of packing enough clothes and grooming essentials in limited luggage space.

To help you solve this problem and allow you to take along all the things you really need, try these tips.

* * *

First, keep in mind that you should travel as lightly as possible. Before packing, carefully study your clothing needs and make a list of only the necessary garments.

Select those that will serve a variety of uses and occasions, along with basic accessories — shoes, purses, gloves, and hats — that will go with these outfits.

* * *

When packing your beauty requisites, put them in hand baggage or in luggage that you can get at quickly and easily, for a freshly made-up face can be a great comfort even when it is not possible to change clothing.

* * *

When traveling, it is always advisable to wear foundation make-up, because it not only improves your appearance, but it also helps to protect skin from the elements.

The Fair Way

You Can't Sock Ball as Far as Most Men

(Editor's Note — Following is the first in a series "The Fair Way," by Sandra Haynie, 19-year-old phenomenon of women's golf who tells why she believes women can score as well as men — and how it can be done.)

Women golfers must realize that, everything else being equal, they cannot sock the ball as far as men.

As a teaching professional at the Eastern Hills Golf Club in Dallas, Tex., I found that trying to knock the ball a mile was the most common mistake of women.

* * *

Pressing, they sacrifice the grace, delicacy of feel and accuracy which are the natural attributes of most women — and essential to a good game.

When I was able to persuade my students to stop trying to cream the ball, they improved.

A woman who admits that easy does it on long shots should be able to equal—perhaps excel—all but the very best men golfers.

She should be man's superior at the short game, especially putting, where delicacy, rhythm and feel are of prime importance.

That superiority should compensate for any shortcomings in the long game.

* * *

What I say about women is equally applicable to men who do not have the physique of an athlete—provided they have the other attributes.

I feel that women are naturally better putters than men, and a good golfer uses about half her strokes on the green.

NEXT: The game for you.

Sandra Haynie says "Women are better putters," but they must realize they cannot sock the ball as far as men.

Attracts Dust

Light bulbs and fluorescent tubes actually attract dust and soil. For maximum light, make it a habit to remove each light unit from its socket and wipe the surface with a cloth wrung out of soap or detergent suds —being careful not to wet the metal neck. Dry well before replacing.

* * *

Use an old toothbrush dipped into suds to wash the dust-catching crevices of carved or etched decorative bulbs.

Use Hangers

Try using a couple of wooden pants hangers to hold a laundered throw rug or bath mat securely on the clothesline. These make excellent "clothespins" for heavy or bulky items, and their felt pads eliminate dent marks in the clean pile.

Try a Zucchini Casserole for Pleasant Eating

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Remember all those end-of-the season cooperative dinners you went to in May? Often, you get the best food at such affairs. Take the Zucchini Souffle Mrs. Frank J. Dickie brought to our house. Everyone who tasted it wanted the recipe. With zucchini now in abundance, it's just the time to try it.

* * *

Mrs. Dickie is a charming young homemaker. A former teacher, she now limits teaching to her own two children. She is a member of the Union Lake Branch of the AAUW. Reading is one of her hobbies.

ZUCCHINI SOUFFLE
By Mrs. Frank J. Dickie

2 pounds zucchini, pared and cut into ½-inch slices
1 large potato, pared and cut into ½-inch cubes
2 eggs beaten
½ cup milk
1 medium onion, grated
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup cracker crumbs
¼ cup grated mild cheddar cheese.

Cook zucchini and potato, covered, in 1-inch of salted water until tender — 8 to 10 minutes. Drain well. Turn into greased 1-quart casserole.

Combine eggs, milk, onion, butter, salt and pepper. Pour over vegetables. Sprinkle cracker crumbs on top, add a layer of grated cheese. Bake, uncovered, at 225 degrees for 25 minutes. Serves 6.

'Not So Bad'

Maybe a woman's work isn't so hard after all. No homemaker has to wash a 2½ ton chandelier like one at the University of Rochester's Eastman Theater. It takes six men three days to handwash that chandelier's 20,000 glass prisms and then polish them with a chamois!

When tackling your own decorative glassware, add a little ammonia to the soap or detergent suds for extra sparkling results.

Church Not Morality

Anyone Can Commit Sin

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE M-468: Emery L., aged 36, is a successful clergyman.

DR. CRANE

"I'm in a dilemma and wish you would give me some psychological counsel," he began, as I visited with him following an address I had made to his ministerial conference.

"For two years, I have been trying to get a certain prominent family to become active members of my church, but they haven't responded.

"Finally, they told me the reason. They said that an influential woman in my parish has been having an affair with another man.

★ ★ ★

"As evidence, they say they saw her get into a car with this man a few weeks ago. They trailed the car until it finally brought the woman back and deposited her on the corner near her home.

PROBLEMS

"They tell me if that is the kind of people in the church, then they don't want to be members thereof.

"I have worried about the matter for several weeks. Should I go to this woman in my congregation and have a talk with her?

"Dr. Crane, all the evidence I have is this report by an outside family. Maybe they are mistaken.

★ ★ ★

"I do know, however, that this woman's husband never goes with her any place. He is a typical stay-at-home type, so she might be socially starved.

"But I want to do what is right, yet am uncertain just what course of action is the best. Dr. Crane, what would you recommend?"

BE LOGICAL

Wouldn't it be foolish for a person to refuse to wear wool suits just because some crook was arrested wearing a wool suit?

But that is no more illogical than to remain aloof from a church just because some member therein is a hypocrite or guilty of some sin.

There was also a traitor among Christ's twelve Apostles, but does that fact invalidate the worth of the Sermon on the Mount?

It is high time adult Americans learned to be logical. The church is not morality.

It is only an instrument or educational machine by which Christ's high ethical code can be woven into the habit patterns of human beings. It's clergy and members are special teachers and salesmen of ethics.

★ ★ ★

Not only are some church members hypocrites and sinful, but some priests and clergymen are unworthy to be in the pulpit.

Even if a cleric is found guilty, however, that fact should not invalidate the worth of the ethics which he is supposed to have presented to his parishioners.

An insurance salesman's personal immorality, for example, is no logical reason for boycotting his life insurance company!

But millions of Americans are so illogical that they damn religion just because some member of a church has not lived up to his vows.

TATTLE TALES

Tattle tales hurried to the High Priests to report the fact that Jesus healed the sick on the Sabbath and that his followers threshed food between their palms on that same hallowed day, so that they might eat.

★ ★ ★

There will doubtless always be tattle tales in every community. The gossipers are charter members of every local Tattle-Tale Club.

Perhaps Emery's woman parishioner is a more laudable character than the tale-bearing outsiders who have nothing better to do than ride around snooping on their neighbors and spreading evil gossip.

In tomorrow's Case Record I shall, however, explain further the advice which I gave for dealing with this erring parishioner.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 6-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Women Voters League Back Con-Con Efforts

A busy and challenging season promoting revision of the State Constitution has occupied the League of Women Voters of Pontiac at both state and local levels.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac president Lillian Davidson reminds that the Michigan League has taken the stand to support ratification of the new document, widely accepted by the 144 convention delegates in Lansing last month.

Laura Bell, state secretary and member of the Pontiac League and Mrs. Frederick Holmes, local publicity chairman, attended a recent meeting of supporters of the newly written basic law at the University of Michigan Dearborn Center.

At this time, a 14-member nonpartisan executive committee was chosen to aid in steering a statewide campaign supporting the proposed constitution.

★ ★ ★

Convention president Stephen Nesbitt of Fremont, with Con-Con delegates, discussed the merits of this new document before the large assembly.

Represented were the LWV, American Association of University Women, Michigan Education Association, State Farm Bureau, Michigan Parent-Teachers Association Congress and Citizens for Michigan.

In addition, Michigan Chamber of Commerce, United Church Women of Michigan, and industrial leaders, organizations and individuals were represented.

Pontiac convention delegate Richard Kuhn was among guest speakers.

Mrs. Robert Foerch, of Dearborn, state vice president and chairman of the Michigan League's Item I study group (a study and revaluation of the state's tax structure) also called the local Item I chairmen to Lansing to begin basic planning and direction for the "Vote Yes on the Revised Constitution" campaign.

Julia Dalzell, Pontiac Item I chairman and Mrs. Holmes were present.

Miss Dalzell also attended a recent meeting in the Birmingham home of Mrs. Charles Marshall where further campaign plans were formulated for chairmen within the vicinity of Oakland County.

Mrs. Merle Humphries, local finance chairman, attended a meeting of metropolitan Detroit area leagues in Detroit, where the annual fall financial drives for these leagues were discussed.

Aldene French is chairman of the forthcoming issuance of copies of the "Voters' Guide" to Pontiac area residents.

Questionnaires prepared by the state LWV have been distributed by all local Voters' Guide chairmen to candidates for offices on local, state and congressional levels, in their respective counties.

Material on the personal qualifications, background and philosophical thinking of each candidate will be compiled for the guide, and before election, all county candidates will appear at a public forum conducted by each league.

Casual Clothes Do Double Duty

(UPI) — Make your casual clothes do double duty. If you're a regular golfer, for example, you need several pairs of well-tailored, lady-like shorts and shirts that pass muster at the most conservative club.

★ ★ ★

When an unexpected invitation to sail comes along pick your lightest golf shorts and shirt. Accent the outfit with a gay scarf for your hair and a straw belt at the waist.

Collegiates Make the 'Big Lists'

Five Pontiac Area students met the requirements for placement on the Western Michigan University spring semester high scholarship list.

★ ★ ★

They are Ronald Jenkie, son of Alfred W. Jenkie of West Bloomfield Township, a junior in the occupational therapy curriculum; Richard Whitmer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dana Whitmer of North Genesee Avenue, a senior in the general curriculum, majoring in political science; and Frederick Staley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis D. Staley of Glendale Avenue, a junior in the elementary education curriculum, majoring in biology.

★ ★ ★

Others are Carolyn Mavis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer H. C. Mavis of Orchard Lake, a sophomore in the elementary education curriculum; and Lowell Smith, son of Mrs. Mona Smith of Walled Lake, a junior in the premedical curriculum, majoring in chemistry.

Pontiac and Drayton Plains students were among the nearly 500 Ferris Institute students who were named to the dean's honor list for academic excellence during the past quarter.

The students are Eric Anderson of Wenonah Drive, school of general education; John Crump of Wessen Street, school of commerce; Jerry Curlee of Meadowlawn Drive, school of pharmacy; Nancy Hutchinson of Auburn Avenue, collegiate technical division; Gerald Kucera of Oliver Street, commerce; Jeanne Looney of Johnson Avenue, commerce; and Robert Mineweaser of LeBaron Avenue, general education.

Others are Judith Moody of Drayton Plains, pharmacy; Henry Murray, Myrtle Drive, trade and industrial division; Wayne Somerville of Drayton Plains, commerce; and Lebon Walker of Going Street, commerce.

Ferris Institute student Karen Erickson has been elected second vice president of Delta Zeta Sorority for 1962-1963.

A court and conference reporting student in the school of commerce, Karen is the daughter of Mrs. Blanche Erickson of Osceola Drive.

★ ★ ★

Enrolled for the first five-week summer session at Indiana State College is Allen L. Hackney of East Rutgers Street.

Proper Technique

Counteract Problem

There are times when every woman is faced with the fact that her skin is not as clear as it might be. The usual offenders are blotches, dry skin, freckles, and moles.

To combat these unflattering effects learn to apply make-up to counteract your particular skin problem. By utilizing the proper beauty requisites and techniques of application, you can create a complexion of peaches and cream.

When your skin is blotchy, apply more foundation make-up over the affected areas and then cover the rest of your face as you normally would, blending the make-up to form one even color.

For a scratch or cut that has left a slight scar, first cover it with erace stick, powder the area dry, and then apply your make-up over it.

Freckles do not necessarily have to be covered completely. Instead, softly camouflage them with a veil of sheer make-up, topped with finishing powder. Then, accentuate your eyes with colorful make-up shades to detract from any indication of freckles that may be left.

In addition, your lip pattern should be perfectly shaped. For dry skin, continually apply night cream and lotion. For a smoother looking complexion, apply active moisturizer to your entire face before making up.

Lots of Soap

Home laundry experts emphasize that good cleanliness results are directly related to the amount of washing product used.

Do you want clean, bright "laundry" every time? Then use an adequate amount of soap or detergent for every tub or machine load.

PERRY PHARMACY
MEDICAL MIRROR
Arthritis Pattern Varies

Q. I have never had arthritis but within the last year the joints of my index fingers look a little deformed. Are there any exercises I can do to keep my fingers straight?

A. Although you may not consider yourself as having arthritis it would be best to have a medical examination. Arthritis follows many patterns and may even advance with little or no accompanying pain. Neglected treatment often accounts for hand deformities although it must be admitted that treatment often fails to arrest or correct finger crookedness.

Drooling

Q. What causes a 3-year-old to drool? I know this happens in retarded children but this little boy is very bright.

A. You didn't say whether this occurs just during sleep or during waking hours as well. If the child is otherwise "normal" (and it would seem so from your letter), don't make any special fuss over it but you might mention this to your doctor at the next opportunity.

Seem Friendlier to Enemies

Why Presidents Get Mixed-Up Feeling

WASHINGTON — In our crazy, mixed-up world, it begins to look like Republican businessmen do better under a Democratic administration, and labor unions under the Republicans.

This may be a case for the psychiatrists.

It is entirely possible, however, that recent White House occupants simply lean over backward to avoid any suggestion that they are partial to their own friends and campaign supporters.

If so, perhaps they have gone too far. Before long management may talk Republican but surreptitiously vote Democratic, while union leaders may hand out Democratic campaign literature and secretly mark GOP on their ballots.

This possibility is not as whacky as it sounds.

The recent move by the Kennedy administration to give American business a $1.5-billion tax break is merely the latest proof that we are living in topsy-turvy times. For instance:

Who angrily tried to draft striking railroad workers into the armed forces? None other than a Democratic prexy, Harry S. Truman.

Who was our greatest trust-busting president? The GOP's Teddy Roosevelt.

Which administration filed more antitrust and price violation suits against business than any other? Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower's, through Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

Who held steel workers to their least inflationary wage settlement in recent history? The Kennedy administration through Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg.

During whose two terms did the steel workers win their best deals? Answer: Eisenhower's, through the intervention of his vice president, Richard M. Nixon, and his labor secretary, Jim Mitchell.

The big steel case is a fascinating study in contrasts.

★ ★ ★

Its executives are furious with John F. Kennedy, and its union chieftains did everything they could to defeat Nixon, but both sides may need a psychiatrist's couch.

Union bosses should rightly love Ike and Dick. In their 1956 steel contract, they won a wage-benefit increase of 81 cents over three years, or 8 per cent a year.

In 1960, with Mitchell and Nixon joining the negotiations, the unions won a 41-cent increase over 30 months, or 3.75 per cent a year.

★ ★ ★

Along comes the new frontier, and instead of the workers getting a still bigger slice of the steel cake, Goldberg persuaded them to settle for no wage increase at all, and fringe benefits amounting to only 10 cents, or a 2¼ per cent increase.

You'd thing management would therefore love Kennedy, but it hates him. You'd think the steel union would love Nixon, but it hates him.

The business community seems convinced that Kennedy's administration is antibusiness, and that Ike's was pro. This may be true in spirit, but the books don't balance that way.

The Eisenhower second term chalked up a record-breaking number of antitrust suits.

Quixotically, businessmen still prefer Ike and Nixon, although it is Kennedy who has just handed them a $1.5-billion tax break, and who is urging a 7 per cent investment credit for business.

The unions still prefer Democratic presidents, even though under a Republican regime they negotiated fatter contracts.

We can't explain the phenomenon. We can only suggest that management and labor repeat in unison the time-worn petition: "Lord protect me from my friends. I can take care of my own enemies."

Giant Balloon Launching Set

Wednesday Morning Is Slated as Earliest Date for Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The eastern United States may receive a brilliant predawn show Wednesday when the space agency attempts to inflate a giant space sphere nearly 1,000 miles above the Atlantic Ocean.

Officials hope those up early enough to witness the inflation will have better viewing than on a similar launching last Jan. 15, when one of the big spheres ripped to shreds two seconds after it expanded to its full 135-foot diameter.

EARLIEST DATE

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that Wednesday is the earliest possible launch date. The attempt will be made between 4 and 6 a.m. Pontiac time.

The rays of the rising sun will reflect off the aluminum-coated ball and it should appear as a bright star moving across the southern sky.

Purpose of the experiment is to test techniques for launching an advanced Echo communications satellite later this year.

VIA THOR BOOSTER

The Thor booster is to free the balloon—dubbed Big Shot—at an altitude of 230 miles. The ball, folded neatly in a canister on launching, is to inflate and drift to an altitude of 350 miles before plummeting back to burn up in the earth's atmosphere some 600 miles down range and 20 minutes after launching.

Officials said the first Big Shot burst apart because of an excess of sublimating powder and residual air inside the sphere.

If the upcoming test works, an effort will be made later this year to hoist an identical balloon into orbit as Echo II to determine how effective it is in relaying radio, voice messages and pictures back to earth.

Shakespeare Festival Honors Star, Theater

STRATFORD, Conn. (AP)—Actress Margaret Leighton and the San Diego, Calif., Old Globe Theater are among five winners of Theater and Academy awards for distinguished work in bringing the bard to the public.

★ ★

Also honored Sunday night were Dr. Bernard Beckerman, chairmon of the department of drama and speech at Hofstra College and author of the book, "Shakespeare at the Globe"; Barbara Holdridge and Marianne Mantell, founder of the Shakespeare Recording Society, and Richard Kirschner, director of the festival's students audience program.

Former SS General Goes on Trial Today

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) — Former SS Gen. Erich von dem Bach-Zelewski, who claims he gave Hermann Goering the poison he took just before he was to be executed, went on trial today for the murder of German Communists in 1933.

Bach-Zelewski, 62, is serving a 4½-year sentence for the manslaughter of an East Prussian lord of the manor in 1934.

In his new trial, expected to last at least three weeks, Bach-Zelewski and five former subordinates are charged with the murder of a number of Communists in 1933, when Bach-Zelewski was a Nazi leader in East and West Prussia.

Actor Hits 'Dead End' With Drunken Driving

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Bobby Jordan, 39, one of the movies' original "Dead End Kids," has been arrested on a charge of drunken driving.

Officer J. R. Murphy said Jordan denied he was drunk. The officer said he stopped the actor after watching him drive erratically Sunday on Sunset Boulevard near Vine Street.

Just a Laz-z-zy Afternoon

All the world's a bakery. The sky's thermostat is turned up to the 90s.

And Oakland County's thousands rush to the beaches to bask.

Over the sun-soft highways they stream in cars loaded with red and yellow beach balls, perspiring fathers, aproned mothers and thirsty kids.

Out of the cars they pour, dragging huge, limp blankets, baskets bursting with food, and children bucking for action.

Father sinks into dozing slumber, masked by dark glasses, the folds of "muscle" drooping and receding over his bathing trunks.

Little Jimmy is kept under watchful eye.

And over in the toe-tickling grass, the teens raise the curtain on a minor twist demonstration or music session.

TO READ — TO PONDER — Serious-minded Valerie Stefansky of 906 Dowling Road, Birmingham, chooses to avoid the crowds, find a soft place in the sun and settle down to reading "To Kill a Mockingbird." Many people like to be alone but near a crowd for background noise.

WHERE'S EVERYBODY GOING? — It's fun to watch the beach swarm from a hiding place says Jay Corey of 1420 S. Main St., Royal Oak.

"IS THAT ONE OK"?—This is the thought that runs through lifeguard Wayne Coyle's mind, as he sits for ready action in the Dodge Park No. 4 life boat. Coyle lives at 2510 Wendover Drive, Bloomfield Township.

"WAY OUT, MAN"! — A big willow tree provides a perfect setting for this modern Jazz bongo-beating group. Royal Oak teenagers, they are (from left) George Lee, 2604 Carman St., Bruce Lundahl, 2316 Elmhurst Ave., Dennis Cline, 501 Houstonia Lane, Pat Dacey, 3329 Maplewood in tree and Kenneth Stanley, 3334 Harvard Drive.

SIPPIN' SODA — Very few people violate the "no Bottles" sign and most help keep the beach free of food and waste. Here Farmington teen-agers William Cheronenkoff of 21411 Averhill Drive, and Mary Ellen Reed of 21119 Dunkirk Road obey the rules.

WATER BABIES — Little Verno Dergo of 67 Belmont St., isn't quite sure whether she likes this raft or not as her cousins Jadine and Carol Schmake of 5160 Sashabaw Road steady the rubber float.

POISED FOR FUN — What swimming beach is complete without a pyramid? Here a Madison Heights group of boys feature at the top, Lynda Lentz of 32499 Chesterbrook Drive, Farmington. From left on bottom are Bob Gordon, 28365 Alger St., Murray Jackson, 28161 Diesing, and Dan Dan Resil, 2871 Karan Drive. They are holding up Bob Wisniewski, 29055 Herbert St., and Ron Beeman, 29325 Edward St.

EASY DIGGIN' — Jerry and Rickey Avery of 616 E. Kalamazoo St., Madison Heights, find that digging in the cool wet sand on the edge of Pontiac Lake is more fun than anything. Picnicking, playing with others and swimming help pass the leisure summer days.

Amsterdam Burgomaster Likes to Pull Out Leg

Detroit Jesters Caught Queen Juliana in Squeeze Play

By BOB CONSIDINE

AMSTERDAM — Queens . . . Places . . . Things . . .

A Hollander who accompanied Her Majesty Queen Juliana to the United States in 1951 told us at the opening of the Amsterdam Hilton that Detroit was the toughest part of her tour.

"Her majesty expressed a wish to see the famous Detroit Rangers play a baseball match," he recalled, ignoring a slight case of shudders which suddenly afflicted an old sportswriter in the crowd.

"The management was most courteous. Showed her majesty to a proper box. All went well. But on leaving, the enormous crowd — there must have been 50,000 there — pressed forward around her. Your FBI men stepped in, pushing them back, knocking them down . . . "

"Are you sure it was our FBI?" we asked.

"Certainly," he said. "I recognized the uniform. When they knocked still another Detroit person down, her majesty protested. 'Please,' she said, 'do not hurt these fine people.'

★ ★ ★

"'Listen, lady,' the FBI man said. 'Our job is to see that you get out of here with all your clothes on.'"

Amsterdam's solemn looking burgomaster rose to his feet upon being introduced at the inaugural luncheon of the hotel, bowed to His Royal Highness Prince Bernhard and to Hilton, regarded the banquet hall with a dour mien and said he had had only trouble with Americans.

"Thirty years ago, I went to New York to study," he said. "I had some hope of driving a car while there, so I felt I needed some traffic instructions.

"I went up to one of your New York policemen and said, 'Sir, I need help. I am a stranger in this country. I am from Holland.'

"'Never hold of it,' he said.

"Well, I was surprised and offended. Imagine never having hold of Holland.

"'What do you mean, you never heard of it?' I said to him. 'Didn't you ever hear of the Dutch?'

★ ★ ★

"'Why didn't you say so in the first place?' he said to me. Then he took me over to a police phone, picked it up and said, 'Sarge, I've got a guy here with a problem. He's from Pennsylvania . . . '"

The aforementioned Prince Bernhard, incidentally, is one of the most easy-going, man-to-man royal personages this century has produced.

He can speak American as well as English, packs a bona fide commercial pilot's license, has flown everything from a Piper to a DC8.

He is a good friend and ready companion of Air Force Gen's Curt LeMay and Rosie O'Donnel, is slim as a choir boy, can cuss without affection, yet he is every inch the Old World nobleman. A rare combination of knighthood in its flower and a 17,000-pound thrust jet engine.

In a sense, it is a badge of honor to suffer from a stomach disorder in the Netherlands.

During the worst stages of the Nazi occupation the privation of the people was so terrible that many were forced to eat one of the prime products of the old land — tulip bulbs.

The bulbs and plants themselves were instrumental in keeping many persons alive. But in time nearly all came down with what might be grimly called Holland's "occupational" disease.

The scars of that cruel time are not visible today on the surface of the tidy land or its people. The industrious Dutch have contributed heavily to Western Europe's miraculous comeback.

Everything is precisely as spotless as it was before the first Luftwaffe bomb fell on Rotterdam.

There's a saying that the people here are so neat they wash their coal before putting it in their stoves, and I do declare I believe they do.

Ex-Sec. Talbott's Widow Dies in Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — Margaret Talbott, socialite widow of Harold E. Talbott, secretary of the Air Force in the Eisenhower administration, plunged 12 stories to her death Sunday from a bedroom window of her Manhattan apartment.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Talbott, 62, left five notes, police said. Four were addressed to servants. The fifth, apparently to her family, told of her continuing depression over the death of her husband five years ago.

★ ★ ★

Talbott, 68, died March 2, 1957, in Palm Beach, Fla., of a cerebral hemorrhage. He served as Air Force secretary under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1955, when he resigned following a Senate probe into his private business affairs.

Sports Car Flips Over, Two Teen-Agers Killed

EDWARDSBURG (AP) — Two Elkhart, Ind. teen-agers were injured fatally today when their sports car ran off M205 today just north of the Indiana State Line in Cass County.

Police identified the dead youths as Jack E. Houtzer, 18, and Fred Eller, 19. The auto flipped over on the youths, police said.

Doctors in Austria Strike, Others May

VIENNA (UPI) — Doctors in the Austrian Province of Styria threatened today to go on strike in sympathy with scores of hospital physicians in southern Kaernten Province who walked out during the weekend ocer a pay dispute.

★ ★ ★

The threat added fire to a doctors' dispute spearheaded by about 5,300 Viennese physicians already at odds with the state health insurance company over wages.

★ ★ ★

The Kaernten doctors walked out at four big state hospitals Saturday, leaving only emergency service available to patients. They demanded payment for overtime hours but the provincial government said it does not have the funds.

End Appears Certain for Expensive Alcatraz Prison

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — So, they're going to hang a "closed" sign on Alcatraz.

"I've heard that report many times," said one skeptical oldtime employe on the Rock.

But this time is appears the end finally is near for the 12-acre island penitentiary in San Francisco Bay.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says the Federal Bureau of Prisons will vacate the rocky bastille, perhaps next year.

The reason is cost of remodelling and maintenance, perhaps $5 million. The daily cost of keeping a prisoner on the island is $13, more than at other prisons, says James V. Bennett, federal prison director.

★ ★ ★

Sea air has caused extensive corrosion of metal and deterioration of concrete in the buildings —some of them dating from 1907 when the Army installed disciplinary quarters.

The closing will cause no misty-eyed regrets among the elite of American crime circles.

★ ★ ★

Alcatraz alumni include such notorious characters as the late Al Capone, Chicago prohibition era crime king, who went to the Rock not for shootings and bombings, but for having lied about his income tax.

There was Alvin (Creepy) Karpis, gunman and kidnaper, graduate of Ma Barker's Midwest crime gang of the 1930s. Karpis was sent up for life in 1936. Now a mellow 54, he has been transferred to the kindlier precincts of McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary in Washington State.

★ ★ ★

Basil (The Owl) Banghart, trigger man for the late Roger (The Terrible) Touhy gang, spent some years in Alcatraz after his recapture following a 1942 breakout from Joliet, Ill., State Prison. His crimes include mail robbery and kidnaping.

Robert F. Stroud, 71, won international notice as the birdman of Alcatraz in recognition of his studies of bird diseases during 17 years in solitary on the Rock.

KILLED GUARD

Stroud spent 42 years in solitary confinement in Leavenworth and Alcatraz prisons. He began doing time in 1909 for the killing of a Juneau, Alaska, bartender over a dance hall girl. He was put in solitary after he killed a Leavenworth guard in 1918. Stroud has been in the Federal Medical Center at Springfield, Mo., since 1959.

Most famed of the Alcatraz inmates today probably are Mickey Cohen and Frankie Carbo.

Cohen, former Los Angeles bookie who has been the target of gangland guns, is on the Rock while appealing his 15-year sentence for income tax evasion. Carbo, one-time New York boxing czar, was convicted in Los Angeles of trying to muscle in on the earnings of a boxer. He is appealing his 25-year sentence.

Arthur (Doc) Barker, another big-time Midwest gangster and kidnaper, was in Alcatraz until Jan. 13, 1939, when he and four other convicts tried to escape. Barker was shot and killed by guards after he had sawed through bars and headed for the bay. The other four were captured.

★ ★ ★

The erosion caused by salt air was given as partial reason, by prison officials, for the apparent success of the latest escape attempt.

It was June 12 that brothers Clarence and John Anglin, from Alabama, and Frank Lee Morris, of Louisiana, all bank robbers, fled their 5½ x 9-foot cells. They used sharpened spoons to chip cement from around their cell vents, squeeze through and flee.

TRIO'S FATE A MYSTERY

The trio has not been heard from since, and Warden Olin G. Blackwell and other prison officials believe the men drowned. However, their bodies have not been found.

★ ★ ★

Since Alcatraz passed from Army to federal prison control June 19, 1934, there have been 12 escape attempts involving 33 men. In these, six convicts and three guards have been killed.

Ralph Roe, 29, bank robber, and Theodore Cole, 23, kidnaper, both from Oklahoma, swam away from the island Dec. 16, 1937. Prison officials believe they drowned, but their bodies never were recovered.

★ ★ ★

The other 22 attempted escapees were returned to their cells.

There are 262 prisoners on the island today, and a total staff of 156, including 94 custodial officers.

One of the expensive inconveniences is lack of water on the island. Army barges bring 170,000 gallons two or three times a week to fill storage tanks.

What to do with the island after the prisoners move away?

San Francisco Mayor George Christopher suggests it would be a fine site for a gigantic statue, something significant of the Pacific and San Francisco's Golden Gate opening toward the Orient.

And there are always the pelicans and gulls. The fog-shrouded island was their haven long before San Francisco in 1776.

Maybe the birds would like to have it back.

MARINE IS LANDED — Marine Reservist Ronald Luoma hit the deck in a dead faint yesterday after giving a pint of blood to a blood bank in Dallas, Tex. He was one of 370 Leathernecks who volunteered blood in memory of a buddy who died of leukemia. He was headed for the traditional glass of orange juice when tension toppled him.

Town Bids Goodby to Criminal Doctor

GROVE, Okla. (AP)—They tossed a farewell party here yesterday for Dr. J. Bryan Henrie, an osteopath noted for kindness, but convicted of manslaughter and abortion.

★ ★ ★

More than 400 persons — almost half this northeastern Oklahoma town's population — turned out to bid goodby to the 66-year-old doctor, who enters the penitentiary at McAlester today.

He was sentenced to four years after pleading guilty in April to performing an abortion on a Tulsa housewife. The woman died.

Many of those at his party were former patients. They pictured Dr. Henrie, who has practiced here 30 years, as the kindest man in town.

★

The doctor beamed as he mingled with the crowd at city park, shaking hands with almost everyone there.

'IN GOOD HANDS'

One elderly woman dabbed a handkerchief at her eyes as she said goodby.

★ ★ ★

"Don't worry about me," he said softly, "they'll take care of me."

Dr. Henrie jokingly referred to the next four years as "one of my adventures." He said he would return to Grove when he is released.

"Maybe he flubbed up," said a weatherred old man, "but he's done more good for this town than any other person."

★ ★

Henrie was credited with giving Grove High School its library. For that he was named "father of the year" by the Parent-Teacher Association two years ago.

★ ★ ★

"Doc, I knew you when you started here," said one man, "and this has made no difference to me."

The doctor was noted here for giving medical help to the indigent. Despite his charity work, records show his clinic netted almost $100,000 in 1961.

Woman Charged With Stealing From Her Church

DONALDSONVILLE, La. (AP) —A 60-year-old housekeeper for the Ascension Catholic church—who once donated a diamond ring for its benefit—has been charged with stealing $10,000 from the church.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff H. M. Waguespack said Saturday Mrs. Malusine Francis admitted taking between $8,000 and $10,000 during her five-year employment at the church.

Mrs. Francis was held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The sheriff said that Mrs. Francis counted collection money on Sundays after Masses in two parish churches. He said marked bills were placed in church collections recently and that $40 in the marked bills were found in Mrs. Francis' wallet and $200 in an envelope addressed to a bank.

Chisox Sweep 4-Game Series

Tigers 'Slump Way' to Coast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, fighting a horrible batting slump, have a day off in Los Angeles today—about as far away as they can get from the cruel Chicago White Sox pitching staff.

On the other hand, the Tigers were beginning to catch on to Chicago pitching yesterday, when the White Sox beat them 5-3 to complete a sweep of a four-game series and plunge the Tigers into seventh place.

Detroit batsmen rapped out five hits yesterday, to go with their totals of two Thursday, three Friday and four Saturday.

Chicago had less trouble with Detroit pitchers. With the score tied 3-3 in the eighth inning, Luis Aparicio rapped a double that bounced off Tiger third baseman Steve Boros' legs and Floyd Robinson scored the winning run.

Aparicio's double extended his hitting streak to 11 games and gave the Sox their sixth straight victory.

Robinson reached first on a grounder that barely eluded first baseman Norm Cash and took 2nd on a sacrifice. Aparicio doubled after Al Smith was given an intentional pass.

Smith scored Sox run No. 5 on Camilo Carreon's bloop single into right center.

3 IN 8TH

Chicago scored its three other runs in the sixth on singles by Nelson Fox, Robinson and Charlie Maxwell and a double by Smith.

The Tigers scored an unearned run in the fifth after Chicago starter Ed Fisher threw wild to second on a double play attempt. Bill Bruton singled to fill the bases and Dick McAuliffe hit a sacrifice fly.

Chico Fernandez hit a solo homer in the seventh and Rocky Colavito tied the game 3-3 in the top of the eighth with his 21st homer, knocking out Fisher.

Dean Stone, who faced only Norm Cash in the eighth and got him to fly out, was credited with the victory, his first against no defeats.

Chicago's sixth inning rally drove out Detroit starter Sam Jones. The loss went to Ron Nischwitz, now 3-1, who allowed only one hit — Robinson's single in the eighth.

The Tigers start a three-game series tomorrow night against the second-place Los Angeles Angels.

ALL-PURPOSE UMBRELLA — A fan reaches out with his upside-down umbrella and tries to catch a foul ball with it as Chicago White Sox catcher Camilo Carreon tries to grab it with his mitt. Both failed as the ball drops between them during rain yesterday at Chicago. Foul was hit by Tiger Mike Roarke.

Yank Cuppers Advance, Eye Clay Event

CLEVELAND (AP) — Having disposed of Canada in a first-round 5-0 sweep, the U.S. Davis Cup tennis team's next hurdle is the Mexican team, which figures to give the Yanks quite a battle.

Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston won a pair of straight set singles matches against the Canadians Sunday. McKinley, 21-year-old from Trinity, Tex., University, whipped Michigan State Sophomore Harry Faquier, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2. Ralston, 20-year-old from the University of Southern California, beat Francois Godbout, 6-2, 9-7, 6-4.

McKinley and Ralston played against the Mexican team here last year, when the United States won 3-2. How do they rate their chances this year?

"A great deal will depend on whether Mario Llamas plays," said Ralston. "If they play Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox in all the matches, it will be tough."

* * *

"Everyone's talking about the high altitude (in Mexico City), but we'll be there long enough to get acclimated," said McKinley.

McKinley and Jon Douglas won a pair of four-set singles matches against the Canadians last Friday. McKinley and Ralston teamed to win the doubles Saturday in three sets.

U. S. Amateur Next for Publinx Champ

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Sikes has an invitation to play in the U.S. National Amateur Golf Tournament at Pinehurst, N.C., in September.

The 22-year-old senior at the University of Arkansas earned it by blasting home in sub-par golf Saturday to become the third man in history to win more than one USGA Public Links Championship. The triumph brings automatic qualification for the amateur tourney.

Sikes defeated Hung Soo Ahn of Hawaii 2 and 1 in a 36-hole final at suburban Sheridan Park's 6,697-yard, par-71 course with a set of borrowed clubs.

Carter had an actual pin total of 3,642 for 16 final round games and a PBA score of 133.12.

Chet Dziedzina of Chicago led Carter until the final two games. Dziedzina finished with a 128.26 score and collected $1,400.

The tour moves to Pontiac next month for a stop at 300 Bowl.

Makes Error at Park, Arrives Home Safely

THREE OAKS (AP) — Little League baseball player Jim Turley, 11, was safe at home today despite an error at the ball park.

Turley — no relation to New York Yankee pitcher Bob Turley —was found wandering around Chicago's Comiskey Park Saturday night after watching the White Sox-Detroit game with a group of Little Leaguers.

The group thought Turley had taken another auto home. Cliff Wallace of the Comiskey Park police detail drove him home.

He Calls Folks in Sydney, They Already Knew

Aussie's 267 Sets Mark at Knollwood; Record 64 Carded by Hill

BY BILL CORNWELL

"Isn't it amazing how rapidly news travels?" remarked a surprised Bruce Crampton after completing a telephone call to his parents in faraway Sydney, Australia.

* * *

Within 30 minutes following his three-stroke triumph in the Motor City Open golf tournament Sunday at Knollwood Country Club, Crampton made the long-distance call to inform them of his success.

"My mother and father already knew I had won by the time I reached them," he said, shaking his head, "Isn't that something? They heard it on the radio."

The call cost the 26-year-old Aussie $19.80, but that probably seemed like a drop in the bucket when compared to the $5,300 he earned for his victory in the $35,000 Motor City classic.

* * *

Crampton withstood every challenge, including a new course record of 64 by Jackson's Dave Hill, to chalk up his 2nd triumph on the PGA tour since coming overseas in 1956.

SETS NEW MARK

The handsome, curly-haired bachelor, who abstains from such vices as tobacco and alcohol, totaled 267 strokes during his four-day tour of Knollwood's par 36-35—71 layout to set a new Motor City record.

Crampton rifled a 66 yesterday to go with previous rounds of 68-65-70 and finished the 72-hole trip a stunning 17 below par.

The previous Motor City record for a winning score was 268 and that figure was set by Mike Souchak in 1959 at Meadowbrook.

Crampton began the 4th and final round in a tie for first place at 201 with Don Massengale, 25-year-old Texan, and Dave Ragan, 26-year-old Floridian who was Buick Open runnerup a week ago.

* * *

Neither Massengale nor Ragan blew up, but they couldn't maintain Crampton's pace.

Massengale, former Texas Christian golfer who has yet to win his first event since joining the circuit in 1960, carded his 4th straight sub-70 score (the only player to do this), a 69, to divide 2nd place with Hill at 270.

Ragan, who persists in slipping at the finish, bogied the last two holes for 70 and a 271 total, good for 4th spot.

The slender Hill really went on a rampage, but the five-stroke gap between him and Crampton at the start was too much to overcome.

Ex-Knollwood pro Pete Cooper shot a course record 65 in Thursday's first round and Crampton equaled him Friday. Hill eclipsed them both Sunday, touring Knollwood's 6,879-yard links in 31-33.

* * *

Hill birdied the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 7th and 9th holes with putts of 10, 35, 4, 2 and 30 feet, respectively. He birdied the 11th hole with a one-foot putt, the 15th with an eight-footer and No. 18 from 25 feet.

BOGIES JUST ONCE

Only one bogey opposed Hill's eight birdies, No. 14 where he three-putted from 35 feet. He was trapped once (No. 7 which he birdied) and he missed just one green, the 13th where he sank a three-footer for par.

Hill's new competitive course mark was aided, he believes, by a change of putters. The 25-year-old Hill switched putters following the opening round and the goose-necked, semi-blade weapon was deadly as he putted only 28 times.

Crampton now heads for the Aronimink course in Newtown Square, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb, to compete in his first National PGA tourney after posting his first victory since last summer at Milwaukee.

Oddly enough, his Milwaukee Open win also preceded the National PGA event by one week.

* * *

The "iron man" on the PGA tour, Crampton this year has gained a share of the purse in 14 of the last 15 events, starting with the Masters and including the Motor City.

"Everything was going right for me out there," Crampton commented, "When I sank that 25-yard trap shot on the 8th hole for a birdie, I knew that things were really working my way."

Crampton's explosion shot holed out for a deuce to account for one of his five birdies. He also birdied the 3rd, 5th, 11th and 16th holes with putts of 14, 12, 1 and 12 feet, respectively.

A rather phenomenal aspect of Crampton's four rounds is the fact that he bogied only one hole, the 17th on Saturday when he hit a bunker.

SALUTES GALLERY — Australia's Bruce Crampton salutes the gallery with his putter after holing out his last shot Sunday to win the Motor City Open golf title at Knollwood Country Club. Crampton totaled 267, a Motor City record, to win by three shots. He was 17 under par.

Twirls 2-Hitter in Debut-Loses

Jerry Almas made his mound debut in Waterford Class C softball last night, pitching for Pontiac Rockette against A&W Root Beer.

Almas hurled a nifty one-hitter —and lost, 7-4.

He was the victim of six errors as A&W won its 8th straight to move within one game of first place. Bob Tremblin's double was the lone hit off Almas and it did not figure in any scoring.

In another "C" contest at Drayton Plains, Dixie Bar tallied once in the bottom of the 7th to edge Lakeland Pharmacy, 8-7. Two singles, an error and infield grounder delivered the tie-breaking counter.

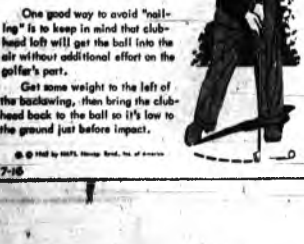
Ron Kasher collected three singles for Dixie while Lakeland's Mike Kelly had a triple, double and single.

The Pontiac All-Stars defeated the Waterford All-Stars twice in Saturday's exhibition, 9-1 and 6-5. The nightcap went 11 innings.

In weekend action in city Junior League baseball, Cranbrook took a half-game lead in the Class B race with an 8-4 victory over Pontiac Central as John Billesdon hurled a two-hitter.

Pontiac Northern made 11 hits, featuring 4-for-4 by Gary Hayward, to outscore Westside Kiwanis, 11-9.

THE PALMER METHOD
by Arnold Palmer



"NAILING" CAN BE FATAL

Golfers who heed the advice to "hit down" on iron shots may wind up "nailing" the ball instead, with a chopping downswing. This error all starts with the backswing, in which the weight never leaves the left foot (note heel on ground).

One good way to avoid "nailing" is to keep in mind that clubhead left will get the ball into the air without additional effort on the golfer's part.

Get some weight to the left of the backswing, then bring the clubhead back to the ball so it's low to the ground just before impact.

Yankees, Dodgers Maintain 2½-Game Margin

By The Associated Press

New York Yankees home run power sent the world champions 2½ games in front of the Los Angeles Angels in the American League Sunday while the Los Angeles Dodgers maintained their 2½-game edge over San Francisco in the National League, where all five doubleheaders were split.

Roger Maris hit his 22nd and 23rd in the Yanks' opening game at Kansas City but it took a two-run homer by Yogi Berra in the 10th to nail down an 8-6 victory. Elston Howard hit two and Moose Skowron one in the 11-3 second game romp behind Roland Sheldon.

Baltimore took two from Cleveland 6-4 and 6-5 on home runs by Jim Gentile, dropping the Indians into third place 3½ games behind the Yanks.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles beat Washington 5-1 in the first game behind Ellie Grba, but the Senators collected 17 hits while winning the second 10-4.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota whipped Boston 5-3 with the aid of two doubles by Harmon Killebrew and fine relief pitching by Frank Sullivan. Their second game was rained out.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles finally got a complete game from Johnny Podres and whipped the Phillies in the opener 9-1. Art Mahaffey finally got even with the Dodgers, who had beaten him seven straight times, and got the Phils a split with a 2-1 decision in the second game.

METS SURPRISE

The New York Mets, cellar team in the league, upended the San Francisco Giants in the first game 5-3 and rallied for six runs in the eighth before succumbing 9-8 in the second game.

Fred Whitfield's 10th inning pinch homer was the winner for St. Louis over Pittsburgh 3-2 in the opener. After the Cards rallied to tie the second in the ninth, Roberto Clemente's single won it for the Pirates 8-7.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee blanked Cincinnati 5-0 on Lew Burdette's five-hitter and took a lead into the ninth inning of the second before a homer by Vada Pinson and a costly error by Lee Maye helped the Reds pull it out 3-2 against rookie Denny Lemaster.

Houston made nine errors, five in the first which they won on Al Spangler's two-run homer 5-4 over Chicago. The Cubs took the second 4-1 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

★ ★ ★

The Yanks' six homers accounted for 10 runs in their sweep before a record Kansas City crowd of 34,865.

★

Stan Musial broke another National League record at Pittsburgh with his 10,428th time at bat in the sixth inning of the second game. He doubled and had two singles in the second game.

4 Holes-in-One Over Weekend at Area Links

Four holes-in-one were scored over the weekend at Oakland County golf courses.

Bloomfield Hills pro Bill Graham reported his club's first ace in two years. Charles F. Adams, advertising executive, aced Bloomfield's 190-yard 11th hole with a 4-iron.

Red Run had two aces on the same hole within one hour's time. Frank Telford aced the 148-yard 11th hole with a 4-iron, then Norm Diedrich duplicated the feat with his 6-iron.

Lou Kidie was the other ace maker as he knocked his 8-iron shot into the cup on Sylvan Glen's 1250-yard 17th hole.

U. S. Soccer Association Says No to Closer Ties

DETROIT (UPI) — The U.S. Soccer Football Association (USSFA), parent body for American soccer, closed its convention yesterday by keeping other American amateur and professional soccer organizations at arm's length.

Mackinac Race in Home Stretch

ABOARD THE COAST GUARD CUTTER MACKINAW (AP)—A handful of the bigger boats fought for the lead early today as the Port Huron-to-Mackinac racing fleet moved into the homestretch of its 235-mile run before the wind.

Dawn broke to reveal three-time winner Gypsy, a 54-foot Milwaukee sloop, the Detroit-owned sloop X-Touche and the salt-water racer Mitena battling for first position off Presque Isle and less than 100 miles south of the Mackinac Island finish line.

The boats spent the night searching for the breezes and made relatively little progress in a gentle four-knot wind and calm sea.

The wind at dawn had picked up to about eight knots from the North and was expected to shift to 12-20 knots out of the northeast, improving chances for the first boats to glide across the finish line between 2 and 4 p. m.

There are two Pontiac boats entered in the race. In class B Don Neal's Wind Song is entered and in Cruising class E, Jim Nye has the Crusader.

★ ★ ★

The calm conditions had led to earlier speculation that they wouldn't reach the island until early evening.

The fleet started with 106 boats but scratches and dropouts had reduced it to 101 this morning.

The fleet has been running well behind schedule since Saturday's start, as a stiff North wind forced the boats to tack widely. Several, including the 72-foot handicap boat Ticonderoga, were reported far toward the Canadian side of the lake.

Gypsy, a Class A boat, and Mitena, a 72-foot racing sloop, were out front at nightfall but Clarence (Moon) Baker's 48-foot X-Touche, also Class A, apparently made up some distance and turned it into a three-way battle during the night.

Bald Mountain Slips Into Lead

Idle Bald Mountain gained sole possession of first place in the Red Division of the Michigan Publinx Golf League Sunday as both Idyl Wyld and Rochester No. 1 went down to defeat.

Jim McLaughlin shot 71 and Charlie Barker notched 73 to lead Morey's No. 1 team to a 18-7 victory over Rochester No. 1. Jack Floch carded 69 in Rochester's loss. Idyl Wyld was upset by Lilas Brothers, 14½-7½.

Defending champion Sunnybrook bounced back into the victory column by whipping Romeo's No. 1 squad, 17-5. Tom Stevens posted 70 to pace Rochester No. 2 to a 22-0 rout of Clarkston and Jim Briegel's red-hot 67 highlighted Glenhurst's 14¼-7¼ win over Morey's No. 2.

Yesterday's scheduled match between Sylvan Glen and Romeo No. 2 was postponed to a later date.

GAM Father-Son Tourney at Forest Lake Tuesday

The Golf Association of Michigan Father and Son championship will be held Tuesday at Forest Lake and Red Run Country Clubs.

A large field of 330 entries will tee off in shotgun starts at Forest Lake starting at 9:00 a.m. Red Run starting time is 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

At 4:00 p.m. at Forest Lake, the movies of the 1962 Masters Golf Tournament will be shown and at 6:15 p.m. veteran pros Frank Metzger, Al Watrous, Lou Powers and Bill Uzelac will put on a golf clinic for the boys.

The pros are also entered with sons in the pro division of the tournament. Watrous will be playing with Tommy, his young assistant at Oakland Hills.

The tournament is divided into four flights, the winner of the overall tournament however is determined on gross score. The fathers and sons will be playing selected drives this year instead of alternate shots as in the past.

The tournament, which was revived after a 13-year lapse in 1941 by Jim Standish Sr., has been continuous since. Last year's winners at Pine Lake and Forest Lake were Randall Ahearn and son Dennis with a 72 on alternate shots.

The huge trophy will be retired this year and presented to Standish at a dinner at 7:00 p.m. at Forest Lake. It will be accepted by Jim Standish, Jr. A new trophy will be presented to the winner.

★ ★ ★

Among the top contenders in the tournament are Rollie Weyand of Birmingham who is entered with two sons, Rich and Rollie, Jr.

EXHIBIT AT FOREST LAKE

At Forest Lake during the tournament, a unique display of golfing memorabilia will be on exhibit. There are 16 displays with each containing many great mementoes of golf of yesteryear.

Among the ancient golf clubs in the exhibit is the brassie of 1880 made by Alexander Patrick of Lundin Links, Scotland, a famous club maker of the late 19th century.

The exhibit also contains a Spalding Morristown driver of 1899-1900; a play club driver of 1875 by Bob Simpson, called the "most artistic" club maker of the 19th century; a putter of 1880 by Douglas McEwan of Leith, England.

This golf collection was obtained through the Robert Forgan Golf Museum of St. Andrews, Scotland by White Horse and Spalding companies.

State Traffic Fatal to 13 as 7 Are Drowned

By The Associated Press

Two traffic accidents took three lives in the last hour before midnight Sunday and boosted Michigan's weekend traffic death toll to 13.

Two persons died in a crash in Gratiot County and a third was killed in a car-train collision near Detroit.

In addition to the traffic deaths, at least seven persons were drowned or presumed drowned during the weekend period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

TRAFFIC:

Mrs. Anna Mary Thim, 68, of Grosse Ile was killed Sunday night when her car was struck by a Detroit-Toledo Shoreline Railroad train in the Detroit suburb of Trenton.

George Hopper, 45, of Keego Harbor and his son James, about 15, were killed Sunday when their car collided with another on M76, four miles northwest of St. Helen in Roscommon County.

Larry Strickland, 30, of Vernon was injured fatally Sunday in a two-car crash at an intersection near Bancroft in southeastern Shiawassee County.

★ ★ ★

Joel Alfred Fain, 47, Coloma was killed when his car struck a bridge on Paw Paw Road near Coloma Sunday.

Donald Potter, 33, of Muskegon was killed Saturday when his auto sideswiped another and plunged off a road five miles south of Muskegon.

Frank Cabrecht, 23, of West Olive was crushed to death Saturday under the wheels of his car. The auto went into a ditch along U.S. 31 near Grand Haven and rolled over eight times. Cabrecht was thrown out.

Walter Karl Jr., of Hancock died in a two-car crash on U.S. 31 near South Haven Sunday.

Mrs. Rose Garner, 40, of Pittsburgh, Pa., was struck and killed by a car in Detroit Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Charles Boyett, 34, of Kalamazoo lost control of his car on slippery pavement near Kalamazoo Friday night. He died as the vehicle crashed into a tree.

Mrs. Bertha Cumerford, 69, La Porte, Ind., was killed Sunday when she drove a car into the path of another vehicle at a rural road intersection southwest of Benton Harbor.

Keego Man, Son Die in Head-On Auto Collision

KEEGO HARBOR — George L. Hopper, 60, and his 15-year-old son James were killed yesterday in a head-on collision near St. Helen in Roscommon County.

★ ★ ★

Hopper's wife Matilda is reported in fair condition at Tolfre Memorial Hospital.

The Hoppers, 2454 Cass Lake Road, were traveling west on M76, four miles west of St. Helen, when their car collided with an auto driven by Louis L. Schnell, 25, of Bay City.

Schnell was treated for minor injuries and released.

He will be questioned further about the accident by Roscommon County Sheriff deputies, who said it has not been determined which car crossed over the center line.

Set Honor Band for State Fair

Finest Musicians of Michigan High Schools Form Aggregation

A new highlight at the Michigan State Fair this year will be a series of concerts by a 60-piece honor band, with the state's finest high school musicians taking part.

★ ★ ★

The concerts will be featured the opening weekend of the state fair, which gets a week-early start this year, running from Aug. 24 through Sept. 3.

Director of the all-star band will be Harry Begian, band director at Cass Technical High School, Detroit, since 1947.

State Fair General Manager Walter A. Goodman and Music Director Creighton Melin said the appearances of the honor band will be in addition to the traditional band program in which more than 75 high school bands from all over the state present concerts during the fair's 10-day run.

Musicians for the honor band were selected by audition from the first-division instrumentalists of the state solo and ensemble festivals, which are held throughout the state.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Two Michigan Pilots Wash Off Radiation

DETROIT (AP)—Ordinary soap and water cleaned the radiation off two Michigan pilots who flew missions through radioactive clouds — but it took up to an hour in the shower after each mission.

The pilots, Capt. John C. Doying, 32, of 503 W. LaSelle St., Royal Oak, and Capt. Aaron A. Sanders, 30, of Ann Arbor, returned to Detroit Saturday after six months' volunteer duty in United States nuclear testing over the Pacific Ocean.

Their job was to fly RB47 reconnaissance bombers through clouds to obtain radioactivity samples for testing.

"It was like flying through any cloud, except that we knew the radiation was there," Sanders said.

★ ★ ★

The important phase began when the planes returned to Christmas Island, Doying said. The outsides of their planes were too contaminated to touch.

"Without touching the outside of the plane we would get onto a fork-lift and be lowered to the ground," Doying said.

Then men wearing special clothing removed the pilots' clothing and sent it to a decontamination laundry, where it was measured for raidoactivity.

ELBOW GREASE

The pilots headed for the shower and five or six scrubbings. Geiger counters let them know when they were safe.

Sanders said occasionally "hot spots" require extra scrubbing.

★ ★ ★

"One navigator had trouble getting radiation out of his eyebrows," he said. "A monitor told him he would have to shave them off if he couldn't get them clean. So he scrubbed himself so hard he took part of the skin off his forehead."

The fliers said a special ointment was available which would remove part of a man's skin, but it was never needed.

Doying and Sanders were among 27 Michigan air national guardsmen who volunteered to work with the testing program.

Purpose of the radioactivity gathering is to give scientists new information about the effects of radioactive blasts on humans, animals and objects.

4 Still Hospitalized

5 Hurt in Romeo Mishaps

ROMEO — Four of five persons injured in weekend automobile accidents near here were reported today in satisfactory condition at Community Hospital.

★ ★ ★

They were Bonnie Ann Lowrie, 18, 74000 Kanie Road, Bruce Township; Marilyn Brozowski, 18, 72333 Romeo Plank Road, Armada Township; Eugene Smith, 20, of Warren; and Jon Frandle, 20, of Center Line.

★ ★ ★

Taken to the hospital Friday night but released Saturday was Joseph Schantz, 36, 70074 Mellen Road.

Miss Lowrie suffered a broken pelvis and multiple bruises when her car collided with one driven by Schantz shortly after 8 p.m. Friday at McFadden and 34-Mile roads in Armada Township, according to Romeo state police.

★ ★ ★

Miss Brozowski, a passenger in Miss Lowrie's car, received injuries to her right leg.

Both drivers told police they didn't see the other car until too late. The intersection has no stop sign.

Smith and Frandle were injured when Smith lost control of his car on Van Dyke Road about a mile south of Romeo, hit a light pole and spun into a field. Frandle, his passenger, was thrown out of the car, suffering a fractured right leg.

★ ★ ★

Smith was pinned in the car. He was hospitalized with numerous abrasions and possible internal injuries.

Pawprint Wins $1,000 for Lucky Oakland Dog

What will a Walled Lake dog do with his $1,000? Buy a diamond studded collar, a duplex dog house or a lifetime supply of dog food? Perhaps he could set up a foundation for the care of homeless puppies.

★ ★ ★

This is the problem faced by Tiny, a dog owned by Miss Angela M. Reniff of 1867 West Lake Drive. Her pet is a second-prize winner in a national contest sponsored by Purina Dog Chow.

It was the dog's "lucky paw" that won the money since the contest rules required owners to submit the outline of their dog's paw. Winners were selected in a drawing.

★ ★ ★

However, the final decision on how the money will be spent (or shared) will have to be up to Miss Reniff since the check will be made out to her.

Heads Aerobatic Unit

District Assured Lower Millage

Lyon Township School Voters Ballot on Both 4- and 5-Mill Proposals

SOUTH LYON — Approval of either one of two millage proposals by Lyon Township School District voters today would mean a lower tax than was levied in the 1961-62 fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

Appearing on the special election ballot are a four-mill and an alternate five-mill operating tax proposal.

The four-mill proposal was requested by citizens who organized to defeat a 6.5 mill operating levy in June.

The school board asked that the five-mill companion proposal also be placed before voters because it said that the lower tax would not balance the budget.

Since a 6½-mill levy already has expired, approval of a four-mill tax would mean a reduction in total taxes of 2.5 mills while approval of the five mills would result in a decrease of 1.5 mills.

★ ★ ★

Four of the expired 6.5 mills were used for operation. The remaining 2.5 mills had been used for building and site purposes.

At the time of their renewal the school board asked that the 2.5 mills be approved and designated for operating purposes. The renewal meant no increase in taxes.

The school board has stated it will not levy both the four and five-mill taxes if both proposals are approved.

Five mills would be levied the first year and the four mills the two succeeding yers.

Polls will be open until 8 p.m.

Young GOP'ers Ask Censure of Stahlin

ST. CLAIR (AP) — The Michigan College Young Republicans demanded yesterday that Sen. John Stahlin, R-Belding, apologize publicly for accusations that the Wayne County GOP organization was in the control of extremist elements.

In a strongly-worded resolution passed at an executive board meeting, the Young Republicans also called on the GOP State Central Committee to censure Stahlin.

Stahlin had said the Wayne County GOP was controlled by "right wing extremists" who used "bribery, intimidation, misrepresentation and threats of physical violence" in trying to maintain a grip on party controls.

CAROL SUE ROCKER

Announcement is made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Carol Sue Rocker to Richard S. Dunham by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rocker of Fowlerville, formerly of Wixom. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dunham of Lansing. An Aug. 18 wedding is planned..

Champ Plowers to Vie at 2nd Statewide Contest

The "art" of plowing will be demonstrated at the second annual State Championship Plowing Contest to be held at the Ionia Free Fair 9:30 a.m. Aug. 9 in Ionia.

The contest is open to all Michigan residents 15 years old or older who earn at least part of their income by farming. Prizes range from $50 for first place to $5 for seventh.

Last year's youthful champion, 18-year-old Dale Hawkins of Ionia, has entered to defend his 1961 championship in the newest feature of the week-long Free Fair to open Aug. 5.

A full field of contestants and close competition is expected in the contest this year. Last year's event was hampered by a late wheat crop and the necessity for farmers to remain home to harvest the crop.

★ ★ ★

"We are going to have a much earlier harvest this year which will free the farmers and their plow rigs in plenty of time to enter the state championships," fair officials said.

Entries for the contest can be made at the Ionia Free Fair office until Aug. 1.

Judges for the contest will be Dr. Milton Erdman of the farm crops department, Michigan State University; Harold Lakin, U.S. Department of Agriculture assistant state conservationist; and Wally Peterson, president of the Michigan Association of Soil Conservation Districts. Glen A. Converse, USDA Work Unit Conservationist for Ionia County, will referee the event.

Sign Mortgage Papers on Skyscraper Building

DETROIT (AP) — Final steps toward financing construction of a 30-story apartment skyscraper were being taken here today with the signing of an $8,368,000 FHA-insured mortgage.

Ground-breaking ceremonies are set for Wednesday in Lafayette Park, where the new building will be the first of two high-rise structures and a number of town houses planned for the site. Completion is scheduled for early 1964.

When your child starts back to school in September his books and classroom discussions will be filled with stories about your town—the drug store, the fire station, the post office, etc.

Will the words be meaningful to him?

Summer affords you a wonderful opportunity to make sure that he will not be lost in a babble of unfamiliar sounds when he returns to school.

Take him on trips through your community. Inspect a fire station and explain to him why fire engines are red. Tell him how the postman gets Grandma's letter to you.

Give him a chance to talk to you. Make up games, like "What will you tell Father about this tonight?" Have him draw a "picture story" about his day.

MENTAL PICTURE

When a child formulates ideas about his community in his own words and can communicate them to another person then you are sure he has a good mental picture.

Listen to his ideas. Gently lead his thoughts toward a simple, correct understanding.

It is easier to do this on the scene than in a schoolroom. And it is much easier when only you and your child are concerned than it is in a large group.

Alone with you, your child can talk and talk. He doesn't need to share the floor with 35 others. And he need not be afraid to express his ideas, as he might in a large group.

Last July 3, Mrs. Smith took her two children to the park where the big Fourth of July celebration would be held the next day. They were allowed to climb on the cannons and talk about them.

The discussions at the park, the talks on the way home and a complete report to Father by the children laid the foundation for a happy understanding of the big celebration on the Fourth.

FEEL OF COMMUNITY

Help your child get the feel of the community in which he lives. Help him to know the words to describe it. Help him practice communicating his ideas about the world in which he lives.

This is the only way you will know what he really thinks, so that you can correct his misunderstandings and add to his knowledge.

The entire family can play a game we call "Remember the day!" Each member of the family gets a chance to recall some event like: "Remember the day we had the picnic in the park . . ."

The discussion centering around each child's contribution present a chance to correct wrong impressions and add to his knowledge.

This is an ideal setting in which to broaden your child's knowledge of his community and thus prepare him for a happy, successful school year.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY

Harry Fishbein of New York is not noted for conservatism in bidding and it is surprising indeed that he made no effort to get to seven with today's tremendous hand.

It is also surprising that he made the small slam. That is, unless you are familiar with Harry's magnificent technique.

The key play occurred at trick two when Harry ruffed dummy's five of clubs. Next he led the ace of spades, paused a moment to think when West showed out, cashed his queen of hearts and started to lead out high diamonds.

East trumped the king, but was then caught in an early end play. If he led a heart Harry would have a chance to discard his ten and nine of diamonds. If he led a spade the ten of trumps would be an entry to dummy and again East would be able to take only one trick.

Why was the play of the five of clubs at trick two so important? Had Harry failed to make that play East would have been able to get out of the lead with a club and the slam would have been set.

'Outlook Good for Lower Tax'

U. S. C. of C. Chief Says Cut Needed to Bolster Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — H. Ladd Plumley, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, says the outlook is good for an immediate cut in federal taxes.

* * *

Plumley, appearing last night on a television program, said he based his prediction on what he termed a growing realization that a tax cut is needed to put new life into the economy.

Afterward, he told newsmen the increased support by businessmen was the principal reason he felt chances are good for a tax cut.

Plumley, who conferred last Friday with President Kennedy, said "There is every indication that the President is definitely interested in the problems of business at this time."

Last month, the Chamber of Commerce proposed reductions in corporation and personal income taxes totaling about $7.5 billion a year, with the greatest income tax cuts in the upper brackets.

Plumley said consumer purchasing power is strong and sales are up, while business profits are still in a decade-long decline.

For this reason, he said, he disagrees with a proposal by labor leader Walter Reuther that the greatest income tax cuts should be in the lower brackets.

Profit Taking Dominates

Market Shows Moderate Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Continuing to slide a bit in profit taking on an advance that continued for the better part of three weeks, the stock market showed a moderate loss early this afternoon. Trading was quiet.

The list declined slightly from the start in a resumption of Friday's decline.

Losses of key stocks were mostly fractional, although a few went to a point or more. A handful of pivotal issues posted fractional gains.

The tone was mostly lower among the major steels, Big Three motors, chemicals, tobacco, aerospace issues, electronics and electrical equipments.

Nonferrous metals, building materials, and rails were mixed.

The economic background of news and forecasts was rather spotty and the market lacked the incentives in the form of major favorable news breaks which it received in quantity last week.

Loss of about a point by American Telephone and more than that by Du Pont dampened the averages.

MCA, Inc., the nation's largest talent agency and producer of filmed television shows, was down about 5 points following news of an antitrust suit against the company.

IBM shucked off about 3 points of its recent sharp recovery and Polaroid was down about a point.

Ford and General Motors were fractional losers. Chrysler eased. American Motors was steady.

Prices were generally lower on the American Stock Exchange in moderate trading. South Coast Corp., added more than 2.

2 Unions Agree to Douglas Pact

Agreement Is Reached Week Before National Missile, Space Strike

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two aerospace unions reached agreement today on a three-year contract with Douglas Aircraft Co., just a week before a scheduled nationwide strike of missile and space plants.

★ ★ ★

Union sources said the agreement may be used as a pattern setter for the entire industry.

★ ★ ★

The agreement was announced after an all-night bargaining session between Douglas and the unions—International Association of Machinists and the United Aerospace Workers.

GOES TO MEMBERSHIP

Terms of the settlement will go to union members at the test sites and missile bases involved within the next few days for ratification.

★ ★ ★

Details were not disclosed immediately.

An unconfirmed report said one factor involved was said to be the company's offer to greater union security through an agency shop, whereby the equivalent dues would be collected from nonmembers.

PROPOSED BANK — Michigan Bank will open its first Birmingham-Bloomfield area facility, shown in architect's sketch, in late December at Maple and Lahser roads. The colonial-styled building was designed by the firm of Charles N. Agree, Inc. Detroit. Currently the bank is operating in a trailer adjacent to the construction site.

Narrow Changes in Bonds

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were narrowly changed at the opening today. Some governments showed small declines.

Over the counter dealers in Treasury securities quoted some long bonds of 1/32 or 2/32. Intermediates were mostly unchanged with a few of the World War II issued 2/32s off a bit. Volume was light.

Among corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange utilities edged downward while rails and industrials were mixed.

★ ★ ★

One government bond dealer guessed there will be little activity until the Treasury's August refunding plans are made public. An announcement is not expected until July 26.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bradbury K. Thurlow says a curious aspect of the public's reaction to the margin cut was its implied belief that there was no time to waste in getting started. — as if the federal reserve might change its mind.

★ ★ ★

The Winslow, Cohu & Stetson increased buying power these goes increased risk. "The 50 per cent margin buyer may find himself in real trouble if his total equity declines a third or more in value.

By using 50 per cent margin the investor or speculator multiplies his mistakes as well as his good judgments by two."

As for the market Thurlow says "our view is unchanged that we are in a long bear market in which stock prices will go much lower before they go much higher."

★ ★ ★

Dean, Witter & Co. says equities of leading chemical companies are currently available at price earnings ratios well below the average for the past 10 years and at yields well above those prevailing over the same period. "In view of these factors, it is our opinion that well-selected chemical equities can be purchased.

★ ★ ★

Clark, Dodge & Co. says the market is recently more hesitant performance on active advances, in the face of the spate of good news lately, probably portends a nearby correction of the rebound from the year's lows.

Bank Building Offices in Area

Will Locate Facilities in Trailer Until Job Is Completed

Until the new building is completed in December, temporary banking facilities are in a trailer located adjacent to the construction area.

Rene Becker, manager of the bank's Detroit office at Woodward Avenue and Grand Boulevard, has been named manager of the new office.

He has been with the bank 18 years.

Grain Prices Lean Toward Weakness

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices leaned mostly toward weakness today after a light flurry of buying in initial dealings faded out on the board of trade.

The accumulation of selling orders over the weekend appeared to include a fair volume of hedging in wheat. Receipts amounted to 447 cars of wheat, but traders expressed belief a good deal of it is delivery on contracts.

Rainfall over the weekend was believed to have exerted a little bearish influence in the corn and soybean pits. Speculators said the moisture would maintain the generally good to excellent crop prospects.

Hunt 'Church' Vandals

FLINT (AP) — Genesee County Sheriff's deputies sought today the vandals who slashed and flattened a 40-by-60-foot tent serving as a temporary house of worship for a new church group here.

Suspended Southfield patrolman Richard Wort will be transferred today from the Oakland County Jail to St. Clair Hospital in Detroit to await a hearing on a petition to commit him to Pontiac State Hospital.

The hearing will be held Aug. 13 before Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Businessmen Look Hard at Government Moves

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—Businessmen are taking a long hard look today at recent government moves to pep up the economy.

Will they do the job?

★ ★ ★

Faster tax write offs for wear and tear, easier credit for buying stocks and promises of income tax relief sooner or later for corporations and individuals — all arouse hopes that business will pick up speed.

ENTHUSIASTIC

First reactions were mostly enthusiastic. The stock market perked up for a time, business men agreed revision of the depreciation rules was long overdue and some started making plans to spend the savings from income tax cuts, when and if received.

But there is considerable doubt still as to just how much speed the economy will pick up as the result of these moves—and when. And some question if the moves go far enough will be as effective as they're supposed to be.

Cuts in stock margins, making it possible to buy with less cash, usually have been followed by rising prices—after a time. But as often as not, the immediate stimulus was temporary.

SHORT UPTURN

When the market already was declining, the margin cut caused only a short-lived upturn as a break in the general downward trend. Investors have looked more at the general economic picture for hints on stock prospects than at the general economic picture for hints on stock prospects than at the chance to do more speculating on credit.

Revision of depreciation rules will permit corporations to deduct more from taxable earnings for wear and tear on plant and equipment in the early years after purchase. This is billed by the government as permitting business to retain up to $1.5 billion in the first year.

HOPES FOR BOOST

The administration hopes that such an increase in corporate depreciation reserves will be used to order new equipment as replacement, especially in the case of the large percentage that now is regarded as obsolete or fast becoming so.

But corporate finance officers will study the new rules carefully to see how fast their particular company wants to write off present equipment.

★ ★ ★

Individual companies will study their market outlook carefully to decide if they want to expand now, if they need new equipment, or if their present facilities aren't adequate until the economy perks up more.

Also, if corporations reserve an additional $1.5 billion as depreciation, it will be an expense item detracting by that much from total reported corporate earnings.

The cash tills may look better, but the annual reports to stock holders on net income available for dividends won't necessarily be as attractive.

LIKE TAX CUTS

The talk of a coming tax cut is acting as a tonic. Everyone likes a tax cut for himself, even when he worries lest tax cuts for others will cause a U.S. Treasury deficit that could lead to more inflation and weaken the dollar.

★ ★ ★

But there's uncertainty as to whether all of the tax savings from any paring of corporate and individual income tax rates will quickly find their way into consumer purchases or into building up of inventories by business or expansion of plant by industries.

'HOW MUCH?'

Some of the tax savings may be spent, and some socked away—and some could disappear if Congress changed present rules.

The real question of the effect of these measures on the economy is one of amount.

Almost everyone agrees that the three measures—lower stock margins, quicker depreciation write-offs, and the psychological boost from the promise of lower taxes—will ease the stringency that has begun to cramp the economy. The question is: How much relief? And will it be enough?

The economy today is perhaps too complex for any one, or even three, methods of prodding to be effective in getting it to gallop

Firm Tries to Reduce Noise of Construction

NEW YORK (UPI)—Amid the clatter of New York's billion-dollar construction boom, there's one builder trying to muffle the noise.

Fisher Brothers, now putting up a 40-story office building here, has replaced rivet guns with high tension bolts and has padded the slides of the dirt chutes with plywood and foam rubber.

RESIDENCE OF CELEBRITIES — This is Villa Parisi of Ravello, where Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President, and her daughter Caroline, 4, and party will stay during their visit to Italy. Mrs. Kennedy now plans to leave the U.S. late in July or in the first week of August, instead of the second week of August as originally planned. She intends to spend two weeks on the Italian seashore.

Composer, Actress, Bishops Stayed There

Jackie's Vacation Villa Housed Royalty

RAVELLO, Italy (UPI) — The villa where Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will spend her Italian vacation has been the residence of bishops, of royalty and of such figures as composer Richard Wagner and actress Greta Garbo.

The White House last week confirmed that Mrs. Kennedy had rented the villa of the Duke of Sangro, overlooking the blue Tyrrhenian Sea from the top of a 1,227-foot hill.

The villa, a building in Arabic-Norman style with windows flanked by slender granite columns, is a short distance from the main square of Ravello, known as the quietest town in Italy, and commands a magnificent sight of the coastline as far as Amalfi and Maiori.

The villa was built in 1086 A.D. as the residence of Orso Paplice, the first bishop of Ravello. When the town lost its rank as an episcopal see, the building, then known as "Villa Episcopio," was sold to private persons.

Wagner lived in the villa in 1885 as a guest of its owner, an Englishman named Peard, before moving to the nearby villa Rufolo where he composed the third act of his "Parsifal."

In 1943, when Italy's anti-Fascist government had its headquarters in Allied-occupied Salerno some 10 miles from here, the late King Victor Emmanuel III lived in the villa for some time.

RENTED BY QUEEN

Greta Garbo and conductor Leopold Stokowski also spent a vacation at the villa. Last year, it was rented for the summer by Queen Juliana of Holland.

The villa is presently owned by the Parisi family of Rome, which inherited it from the dukes of Sangro.

Also part of the property is a seaside lodge at Conca del Marini, a few miles away.

Travello, built by the Normans who ruled southern Italy in the 11th century, reached the high point of its prosperity in the 13th century, when it had 13 churches, four monasteries, numerous palaces and 36,000 inhabitants. Its present population is about 2,500.

★ ★ ★

The villa is located on the Via Sanglovanni del Toro (Street of St. John of the Bull), a picturesque street named after a nearby Romanesque church. It is a short distance from the main square of Ravello with its fine Moorish fountain.

On the ground floor are reception and sitting rooms and the library with the only telephone.

The second floor includes six bedrooms.

Youth, 20, Jumps Over Red Wall Into E. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin police were astonished today to see a youth of about 20 climb the Communist wall from the Western side and drop into Red-ruled East Berlin.

He was on the other side before the West police could do anything. They watched with field glasses as East Berlin police led him away.

The West Berlin government has no restriction on travel into East Berlin. The Communist regime provides four crossing points through the wall for Berliners, in addition to the elevated and subway lines, but in fact it permits only a few to go in.

★ ★ ★

The incident occurred about 6 a.m. West Berlin police thought the young man might have been drunk.

Purge Expected of Lower-Level British Officials

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan held a whirlwind round of talks with junior ministers today and reliable sources said a second government purge may come as early as tonight.

★ ★ ★

Parliamentary undersecretaries, ministers of state and other subcabinet level officials dashed in and out of Macmillan's offices in a series of 10 and 15-minute meetings.

★ ★ ★

Macmillan may reshuffle, retire and appoint as many as 60 lesser officials following Friday's sweeping change of top cabinet officials, the sources said.

Lecture by Manager Defeats His Purpose

MIAMI (AP) — Nearly 100 shoppers waited impatiently for a store in a suburban shopping center to open.

The doors opened six minutes late. One employe explained to an irate customer that the manager caused the delay with a lecture on "how to keep customers happy."

Urges Negroes Be Tax Exempt

CHICAGO (UPI) — Elijah Muhammed, leader of the Black Muslims, has demanded that the federal government exempt all Negroes from taxes.

Muhammed, who advocates territorial separation of the black and white races, told 3,000 Negroes at McCormick Palace yesterday that Negroes should not have to pay taxes "as long as we are deprived of equal justice under the law."

He also called for "our former slavemasters" to arrange for separation of Negroes and whites on all fronts, including segregation in schools, a governmental ban on mixed marriages, and the setting aside of a separate state for Negroes.

"We believe this is the time in history for the separation of the so-called Negroes and the so-called white Americans," he said.

The diminutive Muhammed, who claims a following of a quarter of a million blacks, shuns the word Negro and instead, uses the term "black man."

The leader of the black supremacy sect said it is the obligation of the United States to permit Negroes to establish a separate state in North America or elsewhere.

"We believe that our former slavemasters are obligated to maintain and supply our needs in this separate territory for the next 20 or 25 years, until we are able to supply our own needs," he said.

If this country could not meet our demand "for a land we can call our own, Muhammed said, "then send us back where we came from."

Then, drawing shouts of approval from the throng, he termed integration efforts a sham and said a land grant was the only solution.

"You give us a big hug, a pat on the back and even a big kiss—but no land behind it."

Hits Flight Insurance as Murder Incentive

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — An official of the Airline Pilots Association has condemned flight insurance sold in terminals as an "incentive to commit mass murder for economic gain."

Lewis C. Burkhardt, chairman of the association's legislative committee called for a restriction or elimination of the insurance this weekend in letters to Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., and to Charles R. Howell, commissioner of banking and insurance for the state.

"This insurance is available in large amounts and without underwriting which is an important safeguard against speculation in human lives," Burkhardt wrote.

Court to Meet on Realignment

Three Judges to See if Alabama Legislature Filled Requirements

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A three-judge federal court meets today to see if the Alabama Legislature has fulfilled the panel's requirements for legislative reapportionment.

Under pressure from the court, the rural-dominated legislature passed a two-part reapportionment package giving urban counties a larger voice in the state's lawmaking body.

The first part is a constitutional amendment giving each of the state's 67 counties one full-time senator and realigning the House on a population formula.

Then, in order to have something to fall back on in case the amendment fails to meet either judicial or popular approval, the lawmakers passed a statute that would keep the number of legislators at the constitutional limits of 106 representatives and 35 senators. It would reapportion both houses on a population bracket system.

RETAIN POWER BALANCE

Under both parts of the legislature's plan, however, the rural areas would retain the balance of power they have enjoyed for over 50 years.

The amendment and statute would not take effect until 1967.

In ruling on the suit last April the court ordered the legislature reapportioned fairly and quickly.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for the 14 Jefferson County (Birmingham) residents who filed the original suit asking for reapportionment called on the court Saturday to reject both measures, charging that the legislature is "hell-bent on self-preservation."

Commercial Bakeries Show Decline in Loaves

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commercial bakeries produced an average of nine fewer loaves of white, whole wheat and rye bread per person between the years 1947 and 1956, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

To partially offset this decrease, the average person ate an additional three pounds of buns and rolls and almost two and one-half pounds of raisin and diet bread

Report Youth Admits Monroe Knife Killing

MONROE (AP) — Nick Lazin Jr., 20, of Monroe, was held for investigation of murder today after police said Lazin admitted the fatal stabbing and beating of factory worker John Lyles, 31.

★

Lyles' body was found in his upstairs apartment yesterday.

Police said Lazin told them he took Lyles' paycheck and driver's license and cashed the check later.

UP Shows Frustration With Secession Joke

By JEAN WORTH
Editor, Escanaba Press

ESCANABA UP—The pert answer to inquiry whether the Upper Peninsula is serious about seceding from Michigan should be: "Could it possibly matter?"

We have two congressmen now, one shared with nine counties in the Lower Peninsula, and we're in the gradual process of losing one for lack of population.

Can we even things up by getting two U. S. senators to replace one of our congressmen?

As for gambling, the UP can't get pari-mutuel betting at its state fair harness races. There's such betting at Detroit tracks.

The chief obstruction is local and moral, not legal.

The writer grew up in the state of Superior and finds any new talk of secession a familiar refrain.

★ ★ ★

The late Roger M. Andrews of Menominee, publisher of the Menominee Herald-Leader, was a chief author of the state of Superior and the Herald-Leader city room still has a framed front page of its Jan. 12, 1916, edition bannered:

"Upper Peninsula of Michigan Should Be Separate State!"

The article reported a speech by Andrews to the Calumet Businessmen's Association urging the creation of a new state of Superior embracing the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

That was 46 years ago, but a quarter century before, the Menominee Herald printed a weekly column headed "State of Superior" which advocated such a state.

The proposal changed with the political winds, sometimes inviting northern Wisconsin and northeastern Minnesota into the secession.

A Michigan Tech mail survey in Lower Peninsula cities a year ago revealed that most Lower Peninsula residents queried believed the Upper Peninsula still has great resources for development.

SYMBOL OF SANITY

But most of them wanted the area kept undeveloped. The UP seemed to be a symbol of sanity to them; they didn't want it loused up with "industrial progress."

Where you stand affects your view of this situation. In the UP, some people find it's hard to make a living in a park.

Andrews told his Calumet audience nearly a half century ago that the Upper Peninsula was almost a third of Michigan; that a ninth of the state's population living there (it's only 3 per cent plus now) paid a seventh of the state's taxes; that it is larger than Delaware, Massachusetts and Connecticut combined, and 13 times as large as Rhode Island.

★ ★ ★

"Of course we won't get statehood," said Andrews, "but we'll get attention!" The state of Superior has been getting it ever since; sometimes more than the Upper Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

The joke now is so tired in the Upper Peninsula, however, that owner Pat Hayes flies a flag of the nation of Superior at the House of Ludington in Escanaba.

"We want national status, so we can get foreign aid," says Hayes. "We won't have to pay that back."

We've had a lot of fun with the state of Superior, but mostly it is an evidence of the Upper Peninsula's frustration.

★ ★ ★

There are only 305,000 people in the Upper Peninsula, and it stretches from the latitude of St. Louis, Mo., eastward to that of Atlanta, Ga.

INFLUENCES IMPRESSION

This current circumstance of so few persons in such a huge area influences the impression of the peninsula.

When there were only two English settlements in America, at Jamestown and Plymouth, Etienne Brule was looking at Upper Peninsula real estate.

Detroit was settled out of Mackinaw. Father Marquette of St. Ignace was at the site of Chicago in 1673, and Fort Dearborn wasn't built there until 1803.

The first mineral rush in America was to the copper country in the 1840s and the first Lake Superior iron ore was mined on the Marquette range in the same period.

★ ★ ★

Lumbering started on the Menominee River in the 1830s.

Other areas of the Midwest have flourished remarkably, although they were developed later and have no more of nature's bounty for the use of man than the Upper Peninsula.

They have progressed more because of the things that humans have done. Why haven't they done more of them in the UP?

Both wood industries and mining had a tradition of harvest and departure. The Upper Peninsula became a harvest area.

The wealth it created brought development of industry elsewhere, for the most part. The area sent its people to market along with its raw materials and manufactures.

The area's economy flourished for more than a century on extractive industries and then it changed. It's in that change today. The change varies immensely by areas.

FARMERS VANISH

The UP lost a third of its farmers in a decade.

Only five of its 15 counties gained population in the last census.

Most of its big sawmills and old sawtimber are gone.

The most easily accessible copper and iron have been mined.

This is the familiar picture of the area. Most people seem to add up these facts to a total impression that the UP has had it.

But the UP is immensely rich.

It has huge, unmined deposits of copper, especially copper sulphide ores.

★ ★ ★

There's as much unmined iron known today in the UP as has been mined in more than a century, so the known resource is actually greater today than when the first mine was opened.

Large investments are being made in new iron ore beneficiation and pelletizing plants. And in copper mine development.

The new forests of the peninsula are growing so much wood that markets can't be found for all of it.

The most modern sawmill and composition board plant in the world are in the UP.

Dairying — the chief element of UP farming — produces more milk despite fewer farmers.

LIKE THEIR CLIMATE

The area leads the state in proportionate college enrollment increase.

UP people like their climate better than Detroiters like theirs.

The UP is rich in history and beauty, as well as in natural resources and the needs for pleasant living.

★ ★ ★

The state of Superior has always been a real thing in the Upper Peninsula because it is a state of mind, and not of statehood.

To Return to Moscow

PARIS (AP)—Maurice Dejean, French ambassador to Moscow, will return to his post shortly, thus ending a diplomatic snub connected with Algeria, informants said. Dejean was recalled to Paris when Moscow extended recognition to the Algerian nationalist regime in exile while the Algerian conflict still was going on.

Study Unit Asks Farmer Cutback

Group Says Reduction Would Chop Federal Outlays in Half

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A private economic study group has estimated that the government's agricultural costs could be cut in half if one of every three farmers went into another line of work and farm price levels were cut back sharply.

The group said yesterday that the savings could be achieved without hardship to farmers.

The recommendations were made by the Committee for Economic Development (CED), a nonprofit, nonpartisan group of 200 businessmen and educators.

The group issued a statement called "An Adaptive Program for Agriculture."

It said the "massive adjustment" of about two million farmers, if pushed vigorously over a period of years, would help reduce government outlays by $3 billion a year —about half the current yearly spending.

The CED said government measures since 1947 have not prevented a "growing gap" between the earnings of farmers and nonfarmers.

"They have not helped those farmers most in need of help," the statement said.

"Price supports have deterred the movement of resources out of agriculture. Controls have diverted some land from its most efficient use.

"Taxpayers have borne a heavy burden including $1 billion just for storing accumulated surpluses. This has impeded economic growth."

To achieve the desired result, the CED said, a new educational program for farming communities should be started.

It would be below college level and would place emphasis on training youngsters in skills needed by expanding industries.

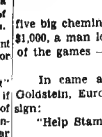
Gambling in London Is Jet Set's New Fad

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — It's good to be back here where they show a man some respect and call him "Guv'nor," even though he couldn't be elected dog catcher.

★ ★ ★

"Which way is the Strand?" I asked when I lost my way in the heart of London.



WILSON

"It's right up the road, Guv'nor" a man said. I hadn't realized that some Londoners still say "Guv'nor" after all these years. The second time this man called me "Guv'nor" — "Can you find it now, Guv'nor?" — my Beautiful Wife turned away so as not to burst out laughing in his face. She just doesn't think of me as "Guv'nor."

Yet there's one thing fairly new to the Jet Set — the London gambling clubs. We went to the oldest, where there were four or five big chemin de fer games running. A women we know lost $1,000, a man lost $6,000. We couldn't even get a chair at one of the games — and were we glad!

★ ★ ★

"Help Stamp Out Metrecal — EAT!"

★ ★ ★

Judy Garland is doing some scenes so moving in the movie, "The Lonely Stage," that even her fellow actors cry at seeing the rushes. London wasn't able to believe it when Judy celebrated her 40th birthday. "They think of her as a little girl, a 40-year-old little girl," somebody said.

★ ★ ★

Quote of the week: Edward G. Robinson's ex-wife Gladys said that though Edward G. became famous playing Al Capone in "Little Caesar," Robinson had never met Capone. "I knew him socially, but Ed was scared of him — too scared ever to meet him. He isn't really very brave, you know."

(Aside to Edward G.: I didn't say it. She did!)

EARL'S PEARLS: This is the time of year when druggists hear the question: "What's good for mosquito bites on top of poison ivy over sunburn?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Most people going on vacation take along twice as much clothing as they'll need, and half as much money.

There are lots of books telling us how to manage when we retire. What we need is a book that tells us how to manage until. That's earl, brother.

No Fight in 25 Years, Man Murders Wife

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—In 25 years of marriage, said Mack Stewart, he and his wife had never had an argument.

* * *

Sunday night, his wife, Ethel Mae, 52, went to sleep on a couch while they were watching television. Stewart, 50, went to the kitchen for a glass of milk.

* * *

He said that he returned with a 12-inch butcher knife — and stabbed her to death as she slept.

Then he called police.

"I just stabbed my wife," he said. "Come and get me."

Police booked Stewart on suspicion of murder.

"I don't know why I did it," Stewart said. "I just don't know why."

Breeding grounds of the now-scarce trumpeter swan once ranged from Alaska to Nebraska and Missouri, and the birds migrated in winter as far south as the Gulf Coast and Southern California.

'Intensive Life' Found Six Miles Down in Pacific

TOKYO (AP)—Riding a bathyscaph, two French deep sea divers say they found "intensive life" nearly six miles down in the Kurile-Khamchatka trench east of Japan.

* * *

French Cmdr. Georges Houot and navy engineer Pierre Henri Willm plunged 31,350 feet Sunday in man's second deepest descent into water.

Their feat was exceeded only by U.S. Navy Lt. Don Walsh and Swiss scientist Jacques Piccard, who reached a depth of 37,800 feet off Guam on Jan. 23, 1960.

The Frenchmen spent three hours on the bottom in their dive 120 miles south of Urup Island in the Soviet-held Kuriles chain.

Floodlights on their undersea craft lighted up the blackness and they were able to take pictures and make surveys at the great depth.

When Confederate soldiers sang their ironic song about goober peas, they were singing about peanuts.

Russian Rejects U.S. N-Test Ban Plan in Advance

GENEVA (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin rejected in advance today an American compromise designed to reach a nuclear test ban treaty soon.

Zorin was asked in a news conference if the Soviet Union would be willing to accept international inspections on its territory, if the United States and Britain drop their proposal for internationally staffed seismic detection stations inside Russia.

He said the Western plan was "no compromise at all in our view."

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean said on his arrival Saturday the Western powers are ready to make this compromise to help get a treaty, but would insist the accord provide for international inspection of the site of a suspicious event detected on Soviet soil.

The new Western idea has not yet been raised in the disarmament talks, which resumed today after a month-long recess.

Zorin said the Soviet Union has already made its own compromise by accepting as a negotiating basis a neutralist proposal providing for on-site inspections only by invitation of the country where the suspicious event took place.

★ ★ ★

"We are prepared to conclude a test ban treaty on the basis of the neutralist proposal, and on no other basis," Zorin added.

The Soviet stand came as the delegates set in an atmosphere notable for a lack of expression of optimism. Only Dean was optimistic enough to say that there was a better chance now for a test ban treaty. But that was before Zorin talked with reporters.

SECOND PHASE

The second phase of negotiations for a disarmament treaty is expected to center on details and technical discussions of the rival U.S. and Soviet plans.

The first three-month phase of the conference made little headway. It was devoted mostly to lengthy speeches and explanations of policy.

The only step forward was the adoption of a treaty preamble in general terms.

MRS. PHILIP HART

Will Mrs. Hart Go Into Orbit?

House Space Probers Hope to Answer the Gals-Amid-Galaxy Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Will Mrs. Phillip Hart, wife of the Michigan Democratic senator, ever become an astronaut? A congressional subcommittee will start hearings tomorrow that may supply the answer.

A special House Space subcommittee has lined up a number of well-known witnesses to help it come to some conclusions on the women-in-space issue.

The nation's only orbital astronauts, John Glenn and Scott Carpenter, are scheduled to be heard.

Chairman Victor L. Anfuso, D-N.Y., also listed as witnesses, Jerrie Cobb, Jacqueline Cochran and Mrs. Hart. All three women are experienced pilots.

In addition, Anfuso plans to call Dr. Robert C. Seamans Jr., associate administrator of the National Space and Aeronautics Administration (NASA), and Brig. Gen. Charles H. Roadman, NASA's director of aerospace medicine.

"We are determined to find out just what are the basic indispensible qualifications for astronauts for space flight in these early days of our national space program," Anfuso said in a statement yesterday.

MEDICAL CENTER — Pontiac General Hospital is fast becoming the hub of a medical center facility on Pontiac's west side. The transition is a part of the changing face of the city. This aerial view, snapped by pilot-photographer Homer Tinney of 6230 Elizabeth Lake Road, Waterford Township, shows one clinic-office building peeking over the top of Pontiac General on S. Johnson Street. Construction is just beginning on another similar structure to house doctors' offices on the left, at the corner of Johnson and W. Huron Streets. Within the next few years, hospital administrators and trustees hope to clear more area around the hospital for off-street employe parking space. The only off-street employe parking now is in the lot at the bottom of this photograph. The lot to the left is for the public. This is one of a series of aerial views taken by Tinney for The Press.

Pontiacs, Tempests Hike Sales 55 Pct.

Retail sales of Pontiacs and Tempests in the United States during the first 10-day sales period in July increased 55 per cent over the same period of last year and were within 100 units of the same period in record 1955.

Frank V. Bridge, Pontiac general sales manager, announced today that Pontiac dealers had sold 42,584 cars in the July 1-10 period. This compares to 8,130 a year ago.

Bridge also pointed out that since the 1962 models first went on sale last September, 428,870 Pontiacs and Tempests have been sold — this is 77,688 more than were sold during the entire 1961 model run.

Medicare Up to Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's Social Security health care plan for the aged faces a decisive test in Congress this week.

The measure is the major item on a schedule which promises a busy week in both Senate and House.

The Senate, which has debated the bitterly disputed health care issue for two weeks, is to vote Tuesday afternoon on whether to table and thus kill the President's plan.

Sponsored by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., it is being offered as an amendment to a House-passed bill revising the public welfare laws. If the plan passes the Senate, it goes on to the President today legislation giving him authority to allocate 150,000 tons of premium price import sugar quotas to the Dominican Republic and Argentina.

Later in the week the House plans to debate the money bill for the State, Commerce and Justice departments, a farm bill covering rural electrification and rural telephone programs and the Atomic Energy Commission authorization bill.

An effort will be made on the AEC bill to settle a long controversy by adopting an amendment giving the Washington State Public Power Supply System the right to build electric generating facilities making use of a plutonium reactor at the commission's Hanford plant.

A revised version has been worked out to win support of five Republicans, but both sides expect the result to be extremely close.

After the Sen... ected to take up a mone... provide funds for the We... and Labor departments.

A floor fight is likely to develop because of proposed Republican amendments to bar both impacted school and hospital construction grants to segregated institutions. The impacted school program covers districts crowded because of federal installations.

Shrinkage Blamed for Grain Losses

DETROIT (AP) - Shrinkage caused by moisture loss was responsible for the reported shortages of corn stored in warehouses at Monroe and Blissfield, their owner said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Bud Haddix, president of Haddix and Sons, Inc., said shortages at other warehouses also will result from shrinkage.

A U.S. district judge was expected to appoint a receiver today for the Haddix warehouses and authorities probed a newly reported shortage, at the M & S Elevator near Durand.

Joseph Haspray, director of the Chicago office of the Commodity Credit Corp. (CCC), said 26,000 bushels were missing from the M & S Elevator, which Bud Haddix said is principally owned by his brother, Basil.

BIG SHORTAGES

Shortages totaling more than 600,000 bushels already has been reported at the Monroe and Blissfield elevators and at elevators in Woodbury and Decatur.

Haddix said corn stored at his warehouses was dried from about 28 per cent moisture to 15 per cent and any slight error in computing the loss from drying the corn could cause a paper loss in the amount stored.

"We've bought more grain than we've sold," he said. "We have our books to prove it."

A U.S. Department of Agriculture spokesman said it would be impossible to judge Haddix's explanation until other information was available on the amount and type of corn stored.

★ ★ ★

"That's why we sent investigators to find out what happened to the missing corn," he said.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan Department of Agriculture is starting an investigation of 35 Michigan grain warehouses, said J. L. Littlefield, head of the department's Food Division.

Russ Veto Allied Proposal to Arrange Talks in Berlin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today rejected a U.S.-British-French proposal that four-power talks be convened in Berlin to ease tension over shootings along the wall dividing the city.

★ ★ ★

"Such a proposal cannot but evoke surprise," said a note to the United States.

"If the United States government advances its proposal with a view to interfering in the affairs of the sovereign and independent German Democratic Republic (East Germany), the Soviet Government regards this question in general not subject to discussion either on a four-power or any other basis," the note added.

Tass news agency said similar replies went to Britain and the France.

The three Allied powers proposed to Russia on June 25 that four-power discussions be held in Berlin after a series of shooting incidents across the Communist wall had injected new danger into the divided city's life.

The idea was that American, British, French and Soviet commandants should meet "with a view to avoiding, by all appropriate methods, the recurrence of such incidents, in particular by seeking means to facilitate the movement of persons and goods inside Berlin."

The Allied governments blamed the East German Communist regime for the shootings which, they said, began only when the wall was built in August 1961.

The Soviet reply rejected this interpretation.

CITIES 'PROVOCATION'

It blamed the trouble on "provocative actions (against East Germany) by West Berlin police and fascist elements."

"What is more, the American occupation authorities in West Berlin, and indeed the government of the United States, openly encourage and support the organizers of hostile sorties," the note charged. It added:

"As a result, the criminal provocative activities against the GDR, (East Germany) are becoming increasingly brazen and dangerous."

4 GIs on List in 24-Hour Toll; 5 More Missing

Another American Dies in Ambush During One of Bloodiest Weekends

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Three air crashes in 24 hours in South Viet Nam's guerrilla-infested jungles today left 26 dead, including four American servicemen.

Five more Americans were missing in the air crashes, and another was killed in an ambush Saturday in one of the bloodiest weekends in recent months.

A two-engined troop-laden Vietnamese air force transport crashed near the Laos border far north of Saigon today in the most serious of the air mishaps, killing 22 Vietnamese soldiers and a U.S. Air Force flight instructor. There were four survivors, all reported to be Vietnamese.

The C47 transport caught fire and crashed on take off at Kontum Airport, 260 miles northeast of here.

Seven planes and six helicopters searched for the wreckage of a two-engine U.S. transport believed to have crashed Sunday against a mountain while on a flight from Saigon to Ban Me Thuot, 160 miles to the northeast. The C123 transport had a crew of four Americans aboard.

The search was hampered by heavy rain and mist over the foothills and mountains around Ban Me Thuot.

Other search crews probed the mountainous jungle 280 miles northeast of Saigon where a U.S. Army H21 helicopter crashed in flames after being hit by guerrilla gunfire.

FIND BODIES

Ground parties found the charred bodies of two U.S. Army officers and an enlisted man. But an American enlisted man and two Vietnamese were still missing.

The only known survivor, a U.S. Army Captain said to have been the pilot, was found walking through the jungle five miles from the crash. He was only slightly injured and accounts here shed no light on how he survived.

The names of all dead and missing Americans in the air crashes were withheld pending notification of kin.

But the American killed in an ambush 40 miles north of Saigon on Saturday was identified as U.S. Army Capt. Don J. York, Asheville, N.C., an adviser to Vietnamese airborne troops. Guerrillas killed 23 Vietnamese in the ambush.

The confirmed deaths brought to 27 the number of U.S. servicemen killed in combat against the Communist Viet Cong since the United States began its stepped up assistance here last December.

But New House-Senate Fight in View

Prestige Battle Near End

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prestige fight between the Senate and House Appropriations committees appeared close to settlement today. But another battle was shaping up between the two Agriculture committees.

Money bills have been tied up for more than three months while the Appropriations groups squabbled over chairmanships and meeting places of joint conferences and whether the Senate should be allowed to start initiating some of the revenue bills.

Government agencies have been operating under emergency provisions which permit them to go on spending this month at the rate they did during the last fiscal year which ended June 30.

Final agreement on who will preside seems likely to be reached on the basis of members' seniority in congressional service. This would put House members in the chair for about three of the conferences on 14 regular money bills. All chairmanships in the past have gone to the Senate.

DOWN THE DRAIN

The Senate's demand to originate half of the money bills apparently has gone down the drain for this session. Agreement has been reached to hold conferences in the old Supreme Court chamber near the center of the Capitol, instead of on the far side of the Senate wing.

Joint meetings are necessary to adjust differences between the two branches on money measures.

Here's the background of the threatened outbreak between the Agriculture committees:

The House committee last week shelved a Senate-passed farm bill with tight mandatory production controls for surplus crops. It approved a measure of its own which would extend existing emergency feed grain and wheat programs.

FACES VOTE

The House measure comes up for a vote this week. To make sure that it doesn't go to a Senate-House conference which might restore much of the Senate language, a somewhat strange parliamentary procedure was approved by the Rules Committee.

The procedure would shuttle the House measure directly to the Senate Agricultural Committee once it passes the House. That committee would have the choice of taking the House bill as-is or amending it and sending it to the Senate floor for another fight.

★ ★ ★

Because the House group refused to consider the Senate bill and tabled it, the Senate committee might retaliate in kind. Then there would be no farm bill.

Some House committee members expect that to happen.

Privately, they are irked because the Senate by-passed the House committee by adding to a minor House-passed measure an emergency sugar quota provision.

"We are getting tired of having the Senate by-pass us by making major alterations on minor bills," one of them complained.

French Assembly Votes on Censure Move Today

PARIS (UPI) — The French National Assembly met today to vote on a motion censuring President Charles de Gaulle's plans for an independent nuclear striking force.

★ ★ ★

The assembly was expected to debate for six or seven hours before voting on the motion which, if successful, could topple the government and force De Gaulle to dissolve the assembly and call for new national elections.

Political experts predicted, however, the government would scrape through.

If the censure motion were to pass, it would be the biggest rebuke to De Gaulle since he formed the fifth republic some four years ago.

Four of the nation's five major political parties filed the censure motion after Pompidou asked the life of his government on the 1962 supplementary budget which requests funds for a uranium plant to help in the manufacture of atomic weapons.

The four — Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP), Socialist party, Independent and Peasant party, and Democratic Entente — have a total of 256 deputies. In addition, they had support from eight deputies with no party affiliation.

On paper this gave them more than the 241 votes necessary to pass the motion but political experts predicted there would be enough defections to cause it to fail.

★ ★ ★

Only the minority Gaullist Union for the New Republic (UNR) formally opposed the censure motion as a party, but De Gaulle and Pompidou command support in the other parties too.

This was the second censure motion brought against Pompidou since he took over the premiership from Michel Debre April 15.

Kentucky Cleans Up Following Flooding in Two Counties

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rain fell today over widely scattered portions of the country.

The rain covered portions of the southern Plains, the Ohio Valley, portions of southern Florida and the southwest plateau states, the northern Rockies and northwestern Plains.

★ ★ ★

Early morning temperatures were seasonal. The warmest readings were 93 at Needles and 92 at Blythe, in California's desert section.

In northern Kentucky, high water in swollen streams was receding and cleaning up was in progress after a damaging rainstorm hit the area.

ONE IS KILLED

At least one person died and some 400 persons were driven from their homes in Kenton and Boone counties Sunday when the area's worst rainstorm sent streams over their banks and into several small communities.

★ ★ ★

At Sandfordtown, authorities said a wall of water 10 feet high and 300 feet wide swamped lowlying homes.

BRIDGES WASHED OUT

Eight bridges in the two counties reportedly were washed away.

The American Red Cross set up emergency stations to feed, shelter and clothe the stricken residents.

The Kentucky storm was part of a wide band of rain that extended from Virginia through the Ohio Valley and into Kansas and the Texas Panhandle.

In New England, the rain brought to an end a long dry spell.

Kennedy Back After Relaxing at Hyannis Port

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy returned to Washington today after a weekend of relaxation at Hyannis Port, Mass. His jet plane landed at Andrews Air Force Base in nearby Maryland at 10:12 a.m.

There was ground fog and a slight drizzle as the plane came in after a flight of just over an hour from Otis Air Force Base.

The President walked jauntily out of the plane with a hat in his hand. He didn't put the hat on despite the slight rain.

His brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, was with him, also hatless.

Find Animals Dead After Balloon Test

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (AP)— Two monkeys and four hamsters exposed to cosmic rays were reported found dead after their capsule was parachuted into dense bush country from a high flying U.S. research balloon yesterday.

The report came from a helicopter crew that visited the site a few hours after the cluster of three capsules was released. There was no immediate word on the cause of the death of the animals.

The experiment was to test the effects of 50 per cent exposure to the radiation that man is expected to encounter in future journeys into space.

★ ★ ★

Flower beetles, which are extremely sensitive to cosmic radiation, also went in a separate capsule on the 1,800-mile ride across the North American continent that began Saturday.

First reports from the wilderness area where the capsules fell did not mention the insects' fate. A third capsule carried instruments.

The capsules' release from the balloon was triggered over Candle Lake in northern Saskatchewan. U.S. scientists planned to fly the capsules from the recovery site to Edmonton today.

NASA DIRECTS

The U.S. National Aeronautics and Space Administration directed the research project.

Two more launchings are planned this summer to provide basic information on radiation problems applicable to manned space flight.

Dr. Webb Haymaker, a NASA physiologist, died Sunday after two months' illness.

Hospital Sources Say Ex-Prime Minister Is Sitting in a Chair

From Our News Wires

LONDON — Sir Winston Churchill's doctors said today he is continuing to recover and has been sitting up in a chair.

Hospital sources said he will be sent home soon if his improvement continues.

The doctors said they planned no further bulletin on their patient's condition until Friday.

This was the first time the 87-year-old former prime minister, suffering from a broken left thighbone and a bronchial infection, had been known to leave his bed since July 7.

It was on July 7 that doctors said Churchill had developed the phlebitis that led to the blood clot.

FAA Accused in Air Tragedy

United Air Lines Hits CAB Report of Worst Plane Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Air Lines charged today that the Federal Aviation Agency was partly to blame for history's worst air disaster — a two plane collision over New York City Dec. 16, 1960.

United asked the Civil Aeronautics Board to make new findings.

In a petition asking the CAB to amend its report of June 18, United said the CAB failed to assess acts and omissions of the FAA which contributed to the accident. A total of 134 lives were lost.

United also said the CAB failed to make recommendations that would prevent similar accidents from happening in the future.

The CAB found that a United Air Lines jet overshot its clearance area by several miles and held its crew largely responsible for colliding with a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation.

KILLED 134

The TWA plane crashed in flames on Staten Island, killing its 39 passengers and 5 crew members. The United jet plunged into a congested Brooklyn street, killing six on the ground and its 77 passengers and seven crew members.

United's petition today said the board's report teaches no lessons and proposed no action to avoid "a repetition of this disaster."

"The report literally walks on eggs in appraising the role of the FAA . . . ," the petition said.

It claimed FAA personnel controlling approaching aircraft were obligated to track them and give them traffic advisories.

★ ★ ★

But on the day of the collision, United said, the flight controller did not follow the United jet at all times.

Russian Rejects U.S. N-Test Plan

United States and its allies are willing to agree to a cut-off date for nuclear weapon tests that would allow the Soviet Union to conduct the last series of tests.

Jan. 1, 1963 is the date being discussed, the Times said.

The idea of a fixed cut-off was proposed by Mexico before the conference adjourned a month ago but no action was taken then.

There was a general feeling that a three-power agreement to end nuclear weapon tests was the only issue in these disarmament talks that had any chance of being settled in the foreseeable future.

The Geneva negotiations for world disarmament — a project discussed for 15 years in various forms with out any progress at all — are expected to last for several more years.

The Day in Birmingham

Says Park Designation Won't Protect Areas

BIRMINGHAM — The designation of certain city properties as parks, either through a resolution or ordinance, will not permanently protect the areas from any other use other than recreation.

That is the opinion of City Atty. James L. Howlett on the City Commission's question of which procedure would be best to assure the future use of parks.

The issue was raised after commissioners agreed that the dedication of parks would not be in the best interest of citizens because it would irrevocably tie up the property for recreation.

★ ★ ★

They then asked City Manager L. R. Gare to learn the significance of the designation of land areas as parks by resolution or by ordinance with relation to the limitations on the sale of parks contained in the city charter.

Gare said in Howlett's opinion "the designation of land as a park will not conclusively or permanently determine the application of the charter limitation.'"

Quoting a 1951 opinion on the same subject Gare in a report to the commission, said "the permanency of use would be no different under such an ordinance than it is today. Just as a commission today could resolve to sell a piece of property, so a commission in the future could resolve to amend the ordinance and sell the property."

Gare did, however, say that such a designation might tend to invoke the applicability of the charter limitation on the sale of park property under certain conditions.

The City Commission is expected to make a decision on the problem, raised by citizens who want to protect the parks, at tonight's meeting.

The Birmingham Recreation Department announced today that a citywide fitness meet for Birmingham youngsters will be held July 24 at Pierce Field from 9 a.m. to noon.

King to Return to Georgia City

Negro Leader Hopes to Talk With Officials Face-to-Face

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. planned to return to this south Georgia city today, hoping for a face-to-face meeting with the City Commission to resolve racial differences that include the arrest of more than 800 Negroes in the past eight months.

King and leaders of the Albany movement asked for the special meeting but there was no immediate indication whether it would be granted. The two sides negotiated from separate rooms during the height of the December troubles.

"The situation is much more serious now," King said in an Atlanta news conference Sunday. "If the City Commission doesn't meet with us there is no alternative but to engage in a nonviolent direct action movement to open chanels of negotiation."

DECISIVE CITY

King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said Albany has become "an important and decisive city for the nonviolent movement in the South. We cannot stop until justice and freedom are realities."

King and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy, who took part in the news conference, emphasized they hoped to achieve their objectives through negotiation.

"We want to exhaust all other channels first," said King. "However, if the city leaves us no alternative we will have to move."

Abernathy said he did not know what form demonstrations would take if negotiations failed.

"But the people of the Albany movement are determined not to give up," he said. "There will be a number of church meetings to get the nonviolent army on the move if necessary."

Dr. W. G. Anderson, president of the Albany movement, released an "Albany manifesto" which demanded the persons arrested for protest marches last December be granted "a fair and speedy trial at once or be summarily discharged from prosecution."

Italian Doctors Threaten Strike for Job Security

ROME (UPI) — Italian doctors today threatened a four-day walkout from hospitals throughout the country unless Parliament acts by tomorrow on a job-security law.

The doctors and their assistants plan to walk out Wednesday unless the Parliament passes or promises a bill guaranteeing the doctors jobs up until the age of 70 and their assistants up until the age of 65.

The doctors were expected to make some kind of arrangements to handle emergency cases during the strike as they have in past walkouts.

The exact details of their plans and the number of them that would strike were not yet known.

Workers Needed to Pick State's Big Cherry Crop

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan's bumper cherry crop has created an emergency demand for cherry pickers, Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission said yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Horton called for all available workers to help harvest the estimated 110 million pound crop, adding, "We believe it would be a state catastrophe to fail to provide adequate labor to save the crops."

★ ★ ★

Unexpectedly warm, moist weather brought the cherry and pickle crops along so rapidly that growers are desperate for assistance, Horton said.

★ ★ ★

He said 4,000 cherry pickers and 900 blueberry pickers are needed this week and next week and additional 14,000 pickle pickers will be needed.

End Appears Certain for Expensive Alcatraz Prison

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — So, they're going to hang a "closed" sign on Alcatraz.

"I've heard that report many times," said one skeptical oldtime employe on the Rock.

But this time is appears the end finally is near for the 12-acre island penitentiary in San Francisco Bay.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says the Federal Bureau of Prisons will vacate the rocky bastille, perhaps next year.

The reason is cost of remodelling and maintenance, perhaps $5 million. The daily cost of keeping a prisoner on the island is $13, more than at other prisons, says James V. Bennett, federal prison director.

★ ★ ★

Sea air has caused extensive corrosion of metal and deterioration of concrete in the buildings — some of them dating from 1907 when the Army installed disciplinary quarters.

The closing will cause no misty-eyed regrets among the elite of American crime circles.

★ ★ ★

Alcatraz alumni include such notorious characters as the late Al Capone, Chicago prohibition era crime king, who went to the Rock not for shootings and bombings, but for having lied about his income tax.

There was Alvin (Creepy) Karpis, gunman and kidnaper, graduate of Ma Barker's Midwest crime gang of the 1930s. Karpis was sent up for life in 1936. Now a mellow 54, he has been transferred to the kindlier precincts of McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary in Washington State.

★ ★ ★

Basil (The Owl) Banghart, trigger man for the late Roger (The Terrible) Touhy gang, spent some years in Alcatraz after his recapture following a 1942 breakout from Joliet, Ill., State Prison. His crimes include mail robbery and kidnaping.

Robert F. Stroud, 71, won international notice as the birdman of Alcatraz in recognition of his studies of bird diseases during 17 years in solitary on the Rock.

KILLED GUARD

Stroud spent 42 years in solitary confinement in Leavenworth and Alcatraz prisons. He began doing time in 1909 for the killing of a Juneau, Alaska, bartender over a dance hall girl. He was put in solitary after he killed a Leavenworth guard in 1918. Stroud has been in the Federal Medical Center at Springfield, Mo., since 1959.

Most famed of the Alcatraz inmates today probably are Mickey Cohen and Frankie Carbo.

Cohen, former Los Angeles bookie who has been the target of gangland guns, is on the Rock while appealing his 15-year sentence for income tax evasion. Carbo, one-time New York boxing czar, was convicted in Los Angeles of trying to muscle in on the earnings of a boxer. He is appealing his 25-year sentence.

Arthur (Doc) Barker, another big-time Midwest gangster and kidnaper, was in Alcatraz until Jan. 13, 1939, when he and four other convicts tried to escape. Barker was shot and killed by guards after he had sawed through bars and headed for the bay. The other four were captured.

★ ★ ★

The erosion caused by salt air was given as partial reason, by prison officials, for the apparent success of the latest escape attempt.

It was June 12 that brothers Clarence and John Anglin, from Alabama, and Frank Lee Morris, of Louisiana, all bank robbers, fled their 5½ x 9-foot cells. They used sharpened spoons to chip cement from around their cell vents, squeeze through and flee.

TRIO'S FATE A MYSTERY

The trio has not been heard from since, and Warden Olin G. Blackwell and other prison officials believe the men drowned. However, their bodies have not been found.

★ ★ ★

Since Alcatraz passed from Army to federal prison control June 19, 1934, there have been 12 escape attempts involving 33 men. In these, six convicts and three guards have been killed.

Ralph Roe, 29, bank robber, and Theodore Cole, 23, kidnaper, both from Oklahoma, swam away from the island Dec. 16, 1937. Prison officials believe they drowned, but their bodies never were recovered.

★ ★ ★

The other 22 attempted escapees were returned to their cells.

There are 262 prisoners on the island today, and a total staff of 156, including 94 custodial officers.

One of the expensive inconveniences is lack of water on the island. Army barges bring 170,000 gallons two or three times a week to fill storage tanks.

What to do with the island after the prisoners move away?

San Francisco Mayor George Christopher suggests it would be a fine site for a gigantic statue, something significant of the Pacific and San Francisco's Golden Gate opening toward the Orient.

And there are always the pelicans and gulls. The fog-shrouded island was their haven long before the first Spaniards settled in San Francisco in 1776.

Maybe the birds would like to have it back.

MARINE IS LANDED — Marine Reservist Ronald Luoma hit the deck in a dead faint yesterday after giving a pint of blood to a blood bank in Dallas, Tex. He was one of 370 Leathernecks who volunteered blood in memory of a buddy who died of leukemia. He was headed for the traditional glass of orange juice when tension toppled him.

Town Bids Goodby to Criminal Doctor

GROVE, Okla. (AP)—They tossed a farewell party here yesterday for Dr. J. BYan Henrie, an osteopath noted for kindness, but convicted of manslaughter and abortion.

★ ★ ★

More than 400 persons — almost half this northeastern Oklahoma town's population — turned out to bid goodby to the 66-year-old doctor, who enters the penitentiary at McAlester today.

He was sentenced to four years after pleading guilty in April to performing an abortion on a Tulsa housewife. The woman died.

Many of those at his party were former patients. They pictured Dr. Henrie, who has practiced here 30 years, as the kindest man in town.

★ ★ ★

The doctor beamed as he mingled with the crowd at city park, shaking hands with almost everyone there.

'IN GOOD HANDS'

One elderly woman dabbed a handkerchief at her eyes as she said goodby.

★ ★ ★

"Don't worry about me," he said softly, "they'll take care of me."

Dr. Henrie jokingly referred to the next four years as "one of my adventures." He said he would return to Grove when he is released.

"Maybe he flubbed up," said a weathered old man, "but he's done more good for this town than any other person."

★ ★ ★

Henrie was credited with giving Grove High School its library. For that he was named "father of the year" by the Parent-Teacher Association two years ago.

★ ★ ★

"Doc, I knew you when you started here," said one man, "and this has made no difference to me."

The doctor was noted here for giving medical help to the indigent. Despite his charity work, records show his clinic netted almost $100,000 in 1961.

Service Set Today for Producer Wald

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The motion picture world pays its last respects at a funeral service today for producer Jerry Wald, who flirted with both the artistic and sensational during his flamboyant 30-year career.

Services for the colorful 49-year-old producer who died of a heart attack Friday night were to be conducted at Forest Lawn Memorial Park in nearby Glendale.

Woman Charged With Stealing From Her Church

DONALDSONVILLE, La. (AP) —A 60-year-old housekeeper for the Ascension Catholic church—who once donated a diamond ring for its benefit—has been charged with stealing $10,000 from the church.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff H. M. Waguespack said Saturday Mrs. Malusine Francis admitted taking between $8,000 and $10,000 during her five-year employment at the church.

Mrs. Francis was held in lieu of $10,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The sheriff said that Mrs. Francis counted collection money on Sundays after Masses in two parish churches. He said marked bills were placed in church collections recently and that $40 in the marked bills were found in Mrs. Francis' wallet and $200 in an envelope addressed to a bank.

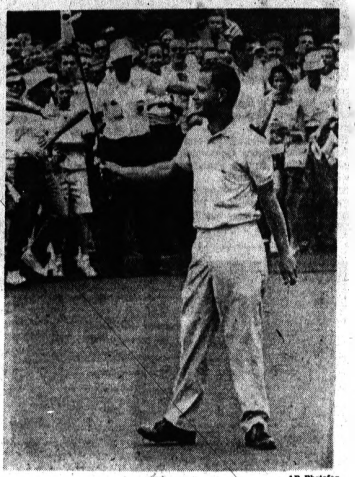
News of Crampton's Motor City Win Moves Fast



AP Photofax

SALUTES GALLERY — Australia's Bruce Crampton salutes the gallery with his putter after holing out his last shot Sunday to win the Motor City Open golf title at Knollwood Country Club. Crampton totaled 267, a Motor City record, to win by three shots. He was 17 under par.

Chisox Sweep 4-Game Series

Tigers 'Slump Way' to Coast

Los Angeles today—about as far as batting slump, have a day off in Los Angeles today — about as far away as they can get from the cruel Chicago White Sox pitching staff.

On the other hand, the Tigers were beginning to catch on to Chicago pitching yesterday, when the White Sox beat them 5-3 to complete a sweep of a four-game series and plunge the Tigers into seventh place.

Detroit batsmen rapped out five hits yesterday, to go with their totals of two Thursday, three Friday and four Saturday.

Chicago had less trouble with Detroit pitchers. With the score tied 3-3 in the eighth inning, Luis Aparicio rapped a double that bounced off Tiger third baseman Steve Boros' legs and Floyd Robinson scored the winning run.

Aparicio's double extended his hitting streak to 11 games and gave the Sox their sixth straight victory.

Robinson reached first on a grounder that barely eluded first baseman Norm Cash and took 2nd on a sacrifice. Aparicio doubled after Al Smith was given an intentional pass.

Smith scored Sox run No. 5 on Camilo Carreon's bloop single into right center.

3 IN 6TH

Chicago scored its three other runs in the sixth on singles by Nelson Fox, Robinson and Charlie Maxwell and a double by Smith.

The Tigers scored an unearned run in the fifth after Chicago starter Ed Fisher threw wild to second on a double play attempt. Bill Bruton singled to fill the bases and Dick McAuliffe hit a sacrifice fly.

Chico Fernandez hit a solo homer in the seventh and Rocky Colavito tied the game 3-3 in the top of the eighth with his 21st homer, knocking out Fisher.

★

Dean Stone, who faced only Norm Cash in the eighth and got him to fly out, was credited with the victory, his first against no defeats.

Chicago's sixth inning rally drove out Detroit starter Sam Jones. The loss went to Don Mischwitz, now 3-1, who allowed only one hit — Robinson's single in the eighth.

The Tigers start a three-game series tomorrow night against the second-place Los Angeles Angels.

ALL-PURPOSE UMBRELLA — A fan reaches out with his upside-down umbrella and tries to catch a foul ball with it as Chicago White Sox catcher Camilo Carreon tries to grab it with his mitt. Both failed as the ball drops between them during rain yesterday at Chicago. Foul was hit by Tiger Mike Roarke.

Yank Cuppers Advance, Eye Clay Event

CLEVELAND (AP) — Having disposed of Canada in a first-round 5-0 sweep, the U.S. Davis Cup tennis team's next hurdle is the Mexican team, which figures to give the Yanks quite a battle.

Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston won a pair of straight sets singles matches against the Canadians Sunday. McKinley, 21-year-old from Trinity, Tex., University, whipped Michigan State Sophomore Harry Faquier, 6-3, 6-0, 6-2. Ralston, 20-year-old from the University of Southern California, beat Francois Godbout, 6-2, 9-7, 6-4.

★ ★ ★

McKinley and Ralston played against the Mexican team here last year, when the United States won 3-2. How do they rate their chances this year?

"A great deal will depend on whether Mario Llamas plays," said Ralston. "If they play Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox in all the matches, it will be tough."

★ ★ ★

"Everyone's talking about the high altitude (in Mexico City), but we'll be there long enough to get acclimated," said McKinley.

McKinley and Jon Douglas won a pair of four-set singles matches against the Canadians last Friday. McKinley and Ralston teamed to win the doubles Saturday in three sets.

The U.S. squad goes to Chicago this week for the National Clay Courts Championships heading a list of 64 men. There will be 32 women competing.

Surprise Wimbledon victor Karen Hantze Susman heads the women's bracket followed by Darlene Hard, Billie Moffitt and Gwyneth Thoma.

U.S. Amateur Next for Publinx Champ

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dick Sikes has an invitation to play in the U.S. National Amateur Golf Tournament at Pinehurst, N.C., in September.

The 22-year-old 'senior at the University of Arkansas earned it by blasting home in sub-par golf Saturday to become the third man in history to win more than one USGA Public Links Championship. The triumph brings automatic qualification for the amateur tourney.

★ ★ ★

Carter Captures PBA Tournament; Pontiac Is Next

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Don Carter of St. Louis rolled final games of 289 and 239 to walk off with first place and $2,800 prize money Sunday in the Tucson Professional Bowlers Association Tournament.

Carter had an actual pin total of 3,642 for 16 final round games and a PBA score of 133.12.

Chet Dziedzina of Chicago led Carter until the final two games. Dziedzina finished with a 128.26 score and collected $1,400.

The tour moves to Pontiac next month for a stop at 300 Bowl.

Makes Error at Park, Arrives Home Safely

THREE OAKS (AP) — Little League baseball player Jim Turley, 11, was safe at home today despite an error at the ball park.

Turley — no relation to New York Yankee pitcher Bob Turley —was found wandering around Chicago's Comiskey Park Saturday night after watching the White Sox-Detroit game with a group of Little Leaguers.

The group thought Turley had taken another auto horse. Cliff Wallace of the Comiskey Park police detail drove him home.

THE PALMER METHOD

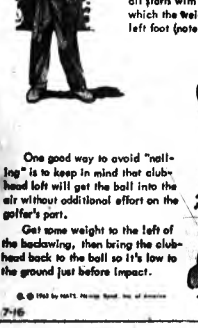
"NAILING" CAN BE FATAL

Golfers who head the advice to "hit down" on iron shots may wind up "nailing" the ball instead, with a chopping downswing. This error all starts with the backswing, in which the weight never leaves the left foot (note heel on ground).



One good way to avoid "nailing" is to keep in mind that club-head left will get the ball into the air without additional effort on the golfer's part.

Get some weight to the left of the backswing, then bring the club-head back to the ball so it's low to the ground just before impact.

He Calls Folks in Sydney, They Already Knew

Aussie's 267 Sets Mark at Knollwood; Record 64 Carded by Hill

BY BILL CORNWELL

"Isn't it amazing how rapidly news travels?" remarked a surprised Bruce Crampton after completing a telephone call to his parents in faraway Sydney, Australia.

★ ★ ★

Within 30 minutes following his three-stroke triumph in the Motor City Open golf tournament Sunday at Knollwood Country Club, Crampton made the long-distance call to inform them of his success.

"My mother and father already knew I had won by the time I reached them," he said, shaking his head, "isn't that something? They heard it on the radio."

The call cost the 26-year-old Aussie $19.80, but that probably seemed like a drop in the bucket when compared to the $5,300 he earned for his victory in the $35,000 Motor City classic.

★ ★ ★

Crampton withstood every challenge, including a new course record 64 by Jackson's Dave Hill, to chalk up his 2nd triumph on the PGA tour since coming overseas in 1956.

SETS NEW MARK

The handsome, curly-haired bachelor, who abstains from such vices as tobacco and alcohol, totaled 267 strokes during his four-day tour of Knollwood's par 36-35—71 layout to set a new Motor City record.

Crampton rifled a 66 yesterday to go with previous rounds of 66-65-70 and finished the 72-hole trip a stunning 17 below par.

The previous Motor City record for a winning score was 268 and that figure was set by Mike Souchak in 1953 at Meadowbrook.

Crampton began the 4th and final round in a tie for first place at 201 with Don Massengale, 25-year-old Texan, and Dave Ragan, 26-year-old Floridian who was Buick Open runnerup a week ago.

★ ★ ★

Neither Massengale nor Ragan blew up, but they couldn't maintain Crampton's pace.

Massengale, former Texas Christian golfer who has yet to win his first event since joining the circuit in 1960, carded his 4th straight sub-70 score (the only player to do this), a 69, to divide 2nd place with Hill at 270.

Ragan, who persists in slipping at the finish, bogied the last two holes for 70 and a 271 total, good for 4th spot.

The slender Hill really went on a rampage, but the five-stroke gap between him and Crampton at the start was too much to overcome.

Ex-Knollwood pro Pete Cooper shot a course record 65 in Thursday's first round and Crampton equaled him Friday. Hill eclipsed them both Sunday, turning Knollwood's 6,879-yard links in 31-33.

★ ★ ★

Hill birdied the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 7th and 9th holes with putts of 10, 35, 1 and 30 feet, respectively. He birdied the 11th hole with a one-foot putt, the 15th with an eight-footer and No. 18 from 25 feet.

BOGIES JUST ONCE

Only one bogey opposed Hill's eight birdies, No. 14 where he three-putted from 35 feet. He was trapped once (No. 7 which he birdied) and he missed just one green, the 13th where he sank a three-footer for par.

Hill's new competitive course mark was aided, he believes, by a change of putters. The 25-year-old Hill switched putters following the opening round and the goose-necked, semi-blade weapon was deadly as he putted only 28 times.

Crampton now heads for the Aroalmink course in Newtown Square, Pa., a Philadelphia suburb, to compete in his first National PGA tourney after posting his first victory since last summer at Milwaukee.

Oddly enough, his Milwaukee Open win also preceded the National PGA event by one week.

★ ★ ★

The "iron man" on the PGA tour, Crampton this year has gained a share of the purse in 14 of the last 15 events, starting with the Masters and including the Motor City.

Everything was going right for me out there," Crampton commented. "When I sank that 23-yard trap shot on the 8th hole for a birdie, I knew that things were really working my way."

Crampton's explosion shot holed out for a deuce to account for one of his five birdies. He also birdied the 3rd, 5th, 11th and 18th holes with putts of 14, 12, 1 and 12 feet, respectively.

A rather phenomenal aspect of Crampton's four rounds is the fact that he bogied only one hole, the 17th on Saturday when he hit a bunker.

The Oakland County Open Tennis Tournament goes into the semi-finals of all divisions except mixed doubles this weekend, after some exciting and well-played tennis the past weekend.

A showdown in men's singles should take place Saturday when two-time champion Ralph Alee faces Northville High School ace, Dikran Ornekian.

Twirls 2-Hitter in Debut-Loses

Perry Almas made his mound debut in Waterford Class C softball last night, pitching for Pontiac Rockcote against A&W Root Beer.

Almas hurled a nifty one-hitter —and lost, 7-4.

He was the victim of six errors as A&W won its 5th straight to move within one game of first place. Bus Tremilia's double was the lone hit off Almas and it did not figure in any scoring.

In another "C" contest at Drayton Plains, Dixie Bar tallied once in the bottom of the 7th to edge Lakeland Pharmacy, 8-7. Two singles, an error and infield grounder delivered the tie-breaking counter.

Ron Kasher collected three singles for Dixie while Lakeland's Mike Kelly had a triple, double and single.

The Pontiac All-Stars defeated the Waterford All-Stars twice in Saturday's exhibition, 3-1 and 4-2. The nightcap went 11 innings.

In weekend action in city Junior League baseball, Cranbrook took a half-game lead in the Class D race with an 8-4 victory over Pontiac Central as John Billesdon hurled a two-hitter.

Pontiac Northwith made 11 hits featuring 4-for-4 by Gary Hayward to outscore Westside Kiwanis, 11-9.

Yankees, Dodgers Maintain 2½-Game Margin

By The Associated Press

New Yprk Yankees home run power sent the world champions 2½ games in front of the Los Angeles Angels in the American League Sunday while the Los Angeles Dodgers maintained their 2½-game edge over San Francisco in the National League, where all five doubleheaders were split.

Roger Maris hit his 22nd and 23rd in the Yanks' opening game at Kansas City but it took a two-run homer by Yogi Berra in the 10th to nail down an 8-6 victory. Elston Howard hit two and Moose Skowron one in the second game romp behind Roland Sheldon.

Baltimore took two from Cleveland 6-4 and 6-5 on home runs by Jim Gentile, dropping the Indians into third place 3½ games behind the Yanks.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles beat Washington 5-1 in the first game behind Eli Grba, but the Senators collected 17 hits while winning the second 10-4.

★ ★ ★

Minnesota whipped Boston 5-3 with the aid of two doubles by Harmon Killebrew and fine relief pitching by Frank Sullivan. Their second game was rained out.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles finally got a complete game from Johnny Podres and whipped the Phillies in the opener 9-1. Art Mahaffey finally got even with the Dodgers, who had beaten him seven straight times, and got the Phils a split with a 2-1 decision in the second game.

METS SURPRISE

The New York Mets, cellar team in the league, upended the San Francisco Giants in the first game 5-3 and rallied for six runs in the eighth before succumbing 9-8 in the second game.

Fred Whitfield's 10th inning pinch homer was the winner for St. Louis over Pittsburgh 3-2 in the opener. After the Cards rallied to tie the second in the ninth, Roberto Clemente's single won it for the Pirates 8-7.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee blanked Cincinnati 5-0 on Lew Burdette's five-hitter and took a lead into the ninth inning of the second before a homer by Vada Pinson and a costly error by Lee Maye helped the Reds pull it out 3-2 against rookie Denny Lemaster.

Houston made nine errors, five in the first which they won on Al Spangler's two-run homer 5-4 over Chicago. The Cubs took the second 4-1 on Dick Ellsworth's five-hitter.

★ ★ ★

The Yanks' six homers accounted for 10 runs in their sweep before a record Kansas City crowd of 34,865.

★ ★ ★

Stan Musial broke another National League record at Pittsburgh with his 10,428th time at bat in the sixth inning of the second game. He doubled and had two singles in the second game.

4 Holes-in-One Over Weekend at Area Links

Four holes-in-one were scored over the weekend at Oakland County golf courses.

Bloomfield Hills pro Bill Grigham reported his club's first ace in two years. Charles F. Adams, advertising executive, aced Bloomfield's 190-yard 11th hole with a 4-iron.

Red Run had two aces on the same hole within one hour's time. Frank Telford aced the 148-yard 11th hole with a 4-iron, then Norm Diedrich duplicated the feat only [illegible] the other ace [illegible] knocked his 8-iron shot into the cup on Sylvan Glen's 125-yard 17th hole.

U.S. Soccer Association Says No to Closer Ties

DETROIT (UPI) — The U.S. Soccer Football Association (USSFA), parent body for American soccer, closed its convention yesterday by keeping other American amateur and professional soccer organizations at arm's length.

Mackinac Race in Home Stretch

ABOARD THE COAST GUARD CUTTER MACKINAW (AP)—A handful of the bigger boats fought for the lead early today as the Port Huron-to-Mackinac racing fleet moved into the homestretch of its 235-mile run before the wind.

Dawn broke to reveal three-time winner Gypsy, a 54-foot Milwaukee sloop, the Detroit-owned sloop X-Touche and the salt-water racer Mitena battling for first position off Presque Isle and less than 100 miles south of the Mackinac Island finish line.

The boats spent the night searching for the breezes and made relatively little progress in a gentle four-knot wind and calm sea.

The wind at dawn had picked up to about eight knots from the North and was expected to shift to 12-20 knots out of the northeast, improving chances for the first boats to glide across the finish line between 2 and 4 p. m.

There are two Pontiac boats entered in the race. In class B Don Neal's Wind Song is entered and in Cruising class E, Jim Nye has the Crusader.

★ ★ ★

The calm conditions had led to earlier speculation that they wouldn't reach the island until early evening.

★ ★ ★

The fleet started with 106 boats but scratches and dropouts had reduced it to 101 this morning.

The fleet has been running well behind schedule since Saturday's start, as a stiff North wind forced the boats to tack widely. Several, including the 72-foot handicap boat Ticonderoga, were reported far toward the Canadian side of the lake.

Gypsy, a Class A boat, and Mitena, a 72-foot racing sloop, were out front at nightfall but Clarence (Moon) Baker's 48-foot X-Touche, also Class A, apparently made up some distance and turned it into a three-way battle during the night.

Bald Mountain Slips Into Lead

Idle Bald Mountain gained sole possession of first place in the Red Division of the Michigan Publinx Golf League Sunday as both Idyl Wyld and Rochester No. 1 went down to defeat.

Jim McLaughlin shot 71 and Charlie Barker notched 73 to lead Morey's No. 1 team to a 13-7 victory over Rochester No. 1. Jack Floch carded 69 in Rochester's loss. Idyl Wyld was upset by Lilas Brothers, 14½-7½.

Defending champion Sunnybrook bounced back into the victory column by whipping Romeo's No. 1 squad, 17-5. Tom Stevens posted 70 to pace Rochester No. 2 to a 22-0 rout of Clarkston and Jim Briegel's red-hot 67 highlighted Glenhurst's 14½-7½ win over Morey's No. 2.

Yesterday's rescheduled match between Sylvan Glen and Romeo No. 2 was postponed to a later date.

GAM Father-Son Tourney at Forest Lake Tuesday

The Golf Association of Michigan Father and Son championship will be held Tuesday at Forest Lake and Red Run Country Clubs.

A large field of 330 entries will tee off in shotgun starts at Forest Lake starting at 9:00 a.m. Red Run starting time is 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

At 4:00 p.m. at Forest Lake, the movies of the 1962 Masters Golf Tournament will be shown and at 6:15 p.m. veteran pros Frank Metzger, Al Watrous, Lou Powers and Bill Uzelac will put on a golf clinic for the boys.

The pros are also entered with sons in the pro division of the tournament. Watrous will be playing with Tommy, his young assistant at Oakland Hills.

The tournament is divided into four flights, the winner of the overall tournament however is determined on gross score. The fathers and sons will be playing selected drives this year instead of alternate shots as in the past.

The tournament, which was revived after a 13-year lapse in 1941 by Jim Standish Sr., has been continuous since. Last year's winners at Pine Lake and Forest Lake were Randall Ahearn and son Dennis with a 73 on alternate shots.

The huge trophy will be retired this year and presented to Standish at a dinner at 7:00 p.m. at Forest Lake. It will be accepted by Jim Standish, Jr. A new trophy will be presented to the winner.

★ ★ ★

Among the top contenders in the tournament are Rollie Weyand of Birmingham who is entered with two sons, Rich and Rollie, Jr.

EXHIBIT AT FOREST LAKE

At Forest Lake during the tournament, a unique display of golfing memorabilia will be on exhibit. There are 16 displays with each containing many great mementoes of golf of yesteryear.

Among the ancient golf clubs in the exhibit is the brassie of 1880 made by Alexander Patrick of Lundin Links, Scotland, a famous club maker of the late 19th century.

The exhibit also contains a Spalding Morristown driver of 1899-1900; a play club driver of 1875 by Bob Simpson, called the "most artistic" club maker of the 19th century; a putter of 1880 by Douglas McEwan of Leith, England.

This golf collection was obtained through the Robert Forgan Golf Museum of St. Andrews, Scotland, by White Horse and Spalding companies.

Goldberg Back in Eastern Talks

Hopes for Settlement of 24-Day Strike Over 3rd Man in Jet Crews

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg reentered the 24-day old Eastern Air Lines strike today in an effort to end a walkout of flight engineers over the jet crew issue.

Goldberg began a series of meetings with representatives of the engineers, pilots and the airline.

* * *

Declaring there is "no excuse or justification" for the walkout, Goldberg planned to push for adoption of an agreement similar to the one already approved by flight engineers negotiators on Trans World Airlines.

Meantime, bargaining between American Airlines and its engineers over the jet crew issue was resumed in a separate room at the Labor Department. Spokesmen for the pilots also participated in these discussions.

The controversy centers on the duties an qualifications of jet crew members when the airlines reduce cockpit personnel in jets from four to three.

Goldberg has contended that the TWA settlement protects the job rights of the engineers and at the same time allows the companies to reduce crews and eventually use pilots for the "third man."

In meetings last week, the Cabinet officer convinced flight engineers on American Airlines they should endorse the principles of the TWA agreement.

But Jack Robertson, president of the engineers' chapter on Eastern, said this package formula was still not acceptable to the union representing Eastern engineers.

Grain Prices Lean Toward Weakness

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices leaned mostly toward weakness today after a light flurry of buying in initial dealings faded out on the board of trade.

The accumulation of selling orders over the weekend appeared to include a fair volume of hedging in wheat. Receipts amounted to 447 cars of wheat, but traders expressed belief a good deal of it is delivery on contracts.

Rainfall over the weekend was believed to have exerted a little bearish influence in the corn and soybean pits. Speculators said the moisture would maintain the generally good to excellent crop prospects.

Mrs. Stanley Miller, 41, was the second victim.

Beemer, 79, suffered a broken leg, head injuries and cuts. Miller suffered a broken leg.

Biochemist Gets $3,000 Grant in Cancer Research

A Pontiac biochemist will receive $3,000 to further his research in developing an added chemical test for the most common cancer in men, cancer of the prostate gland.

* * *

The grant was announced by the Michigan Cancer Foundation for Dr. Robert Madden who also serves as clinical chemist at Pontiac General Hospital.

Madden's research centers around production of an enzyme — acid phosphotase — which decreases in prostate cells when they become cancerous.

* * *

Associated with Madden in the research at Pontiac General are Dr. Glenn Bylsma, pathologist; Dr. Dale Drew, urologist, and Miss Laureen Parkin, medical technologist.

Firm Tries to Reduce Noise of Construction

NEW YORK (UPI)—Amid the clatter of New York's billion-dollar construction boom, there's one builder trying to muffle the noise.

Fisher Brothers, now putting up a 40-story office building here, has replaced rivet guns with high tension bolts and has padded the slides of the dirt chutes with plywood and foam rubber.

RESIDENCE OF CELEBRITIES — This is Villa Parisi of Ravello, where Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President, and her daughter Caroline, 4, and party will stay during their visit to Italy. Mrs. Kennedy now plans to leave the U.S. late in July or in the first week of August, instead of the second week of August as originally planned. She intends to spend two weeks on the Italian seashore.

Composer, Actress, Bishops Stayed There

Jackie's Vacation Villa Housed Royalty

RAVELLO, Italy (UPI) — The villa where Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy will spend her Italian vacation has been the residence of bishops, of royalty and of such figures as composer Richard Wagner and actress Greta Garbo.

The White House last week confirmed that Mrs. Kennedy had rented the villa of the Duke of Sangro, overlooking the blue Tyrrhenian Sea from the top of a 1,227-foot hill.

The villa, a building in Arabic-Norman style with windows flanked by slender granite columns, is a short distance from the main square of Ravello, known as the quietest town in Italy, and commands a magnificent sight of the coastline as far as Amalfi and Maiori.

The villa was built in 1086 A.D. as the residence of Orso Papice, the first bishop of Ravello. When the town lost its rank as an episcopal see, the building, then known as "Villa Episcopio," was sold to private persons.

Wagner lived in the villa in 1883, as a guest of its owner, an Englishman named Peard, before moving to the nearby villa Rufolo where he composed the third act of his "Parsifal."

In 1943, when Italy's anti-Fascist government had its headquarters in Allied-occupied Salerno some 10 miles from here, the late King Victor Emmanuel III lived in the villa for some time.

RENTED BY QUEEN

Greta Garbo and conductor Leopold Stokowski also spent a vacation at the villa. Last year, it was rented for the summer by Queen Juliana of Holland.

The villa is presently owned by the Parisi family of Rome, which inherited it from the dukes of Sangro.

Also part of the property is a seaside lodge at Conca dei Marini, a few miles away.

Travello, built by the Normans who ruled southern Italy in the 11th century, reached the high point of its prosperity in the 13th century, when it had 13 churches, four monasteries, numerous palaces and 36,000 inhabitants. Its present population is about 2,500.

* * *

The villa is located on the Via Sangiovanni del Toro (Street of St. John of the Bull), a picturesque street named after a nearby Romanesque church. It is a short distance from the main square of Ravello with its fine Moorish fountain.

On the ground floor are reception and sitting rooms and the library with the only telephone.

The second floor includes six bedrooms.

Court to Meet on Realignment

Three Judges to See if Alabama Legislature Filled Requirements

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A three-judge federal court meets today to see if the Alabama Legislature has fulfilled the panel's" requirements for legislative reapportionment.

Under pressure from the court, the rural-dominated legislature passed a two-part reapportionment package giving urban counties a larger voice in the state's lawmaking body.

* * *

The first part is a constitutional amendment giving each of the state's 67 counties one full-time senator and realigning the House on a population formula.

Then, in order to have something to fall back on in case the amendment fails to meet either judicial or popular approval, the lawmakers passed a statute that would keep the number of legislators at the constitutional limits of 106 representatives and 35 senators. It would reapportion both houses on a population bracket system.

RETAIN POWER BALANCE

Under both parts of the legislature's plan, however, the rural areas would retain the balance of power they have enjoyed for over 30 years.

The amendment and statute would not take effect until 1967.

In ruling on the suit last April the court ordered the legislature reapportioned fairly and quickly.

* * *

Attorneys for the 14 Jefferson County (Birmingham) residents who filed the original suit asking for reapportionment called on the court Saturday to reject both measures, charging that the legislature is "hell-bent on self-preservation."

Commercial Bakeries Show Decline in Loaves

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Commercial bakeries produced an average of nine fewer loaves of white, whole wheat and rye bread per person between the years 1947 and 1956, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports.

To partially offset this decrease, the average person ate an additional three pounds of buns and rolls and almost two and one-half pounds of raisin and diet bread.

Report Youth Admits Monroe Knife Killing

MONROE (AP) — Nick Lazin Jr., 20, of Monroe, was held for investigation of murder today after police said Lazin admitted the fatal stabbing and beating of factory worker John Lyles, 51.

Lyles' body was found in his upstairs apartment yesterday.

Police said Lazin told them he took Lyles' paycheck and driver's license and cashed the check later.

Youth, 20, Jumps Over Red Wall Into E. Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — West Berlin police were astonished today to see a youth of about 20 climb the Communist wall from the Western side and drop into Red-ruled East Berlin.

He was on the other side before the West police could do anything. They watched with field glasses as East Berlin police led him away.

The West Berlin government has no restriction on travel into East Berlin. The Communist regime provides four crossing points through the wall for Berliners, in addition to the elevated and subway lines, but in fact it permits only a few to go in.

* * *

The incident occurred about 6 a.m. West Berlin police thought the young man might have been drunk.

Purge Expected of Lower-Level British Officials

LONDON (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan held a whirlwind round of talks with junior ministers today and reliable sources said a second government purge may come as early as tonight.

* * *

Parliamentary undersecretaries, ministers of state and other sub-cabinet level officials dashed in and out of Macmillan's offices in a series of 10 and 15 minute meetings.

* * *

Lecture by Manager Defeats His Purpose

MIAMI (AP) — Nearly 100 shoppers waited impatiently for a store in a suburban shopping center to open.

The doors opened six minutes late. One employe explained to an irate customer that the manager caused the delay with a lecture on "how to keep customers happy."

Urges Negroes Be Tax Exempt

CHICAGO (UPI) — Elijah Muhammed, leader of the Black Muslims, has demanded that the federal government exempt all Negroes from taxes.

Muhammed, who advocates territorial separation of the black and white races, told 3,000 Negroes at McCormick Palace yesterday that Negroes should not have to pay taxes "as long as we are deprived of equal justice under the law."

He also called for "our former slavemasters to arrange for separation of Negroes and whites on all fronts, including segregation in schools, a governmental ban on mixed marriages, and the setting aside of a separate state for Negroes.

"We believe this is the time in history for the separation of the so-called Negroes and the so-called white Americans," he said.

The diminutive Muhammed, who claims a following of a quarter of a million blacks, shuns the word Negro and instead, uses the term "black man."

The leader of the black supremacy sect said it is the obligation of the United States to permit Negroes to establish a separate state in North America or elsewhere.

"We believe that our former slavemasters are obligated to maintain and supply our needs in this separate territory for the next 20 or 25 years, until we are able to supply our own needs," he said.

If this country could not meet our demand "for a land we can call our own, Muhammed said, "then send us back where we came from."

Then, drawing shouts of approval from the throng, he termed integration efforts a sham and said a land grant was the only solution.

Hits Flight Insurance as Murder Incentive

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI) — An official of the Airline Pilots Association has condemned flight insurance sold in terminals as an "incentive to commit mass murder for economic gain."

Lewis C. Burkhardt, chairman of the association's legislative committee called for a restriction or elimination of the insurance this weekend in letters to Sens. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., and Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., and to Charles R. Howell, commissioner of banking and insurance for the state.

"This insurance is available in large amounts and without underwriting which is an important safeguard against speculation in human lives," Burkhardt wrote.
