Crowds Cheer N. Y. Governor at Airport

Bentley, Local Hopefuls Are With Campaigner; He's Mum on 1964

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

New York's personable Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller carried the Nixon-Lodge banner into Pontiac today, but smilingly kept mum on his own plans for 1964.

The top-flight Republican campaigner backed the GOP cause with an all-out effort in behalf of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, GOP presidential nominee, and his running mate, former U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Invading this normally Democratic stronghold, Rockefeller made strong bids for the Nov. 8 election of Republican congressional, legislative and county candidates, many of whom were accompanying him in a motorcade from Pontiac to Oak Park.

Arriving with a group of top Michigan Republicans at Pontiac Municipal Airport, Gov. Rockefeller made his way into Pontiac at the head of a motorcade arranged by Oakland County Republicans.

GOP leaders already had gathered a throng at the county courthouse in downtown Pontiac, where he was scheduled to appear for a brief talk at 3:10 p.m.

The onetime GOP presidential candidate's remarks on 1964 came at a press conference arranged at the airport shortly after his scheduled 2:30 p.m. arrival by private plane from Lansing.

Rockefeller said he was in Michigan to support Nixon, Lodge and GOP candidates on all levels, not to help gain in 1964 what he surrendered at the GOP national convention this summer.

But his famous smile and dynamic presence spoke for themselves.

The motorcade route was laid out to carry Rockefeller into town on West Huron Street and out by Saginaw Street.

He was to greet roadside crowds in Birmingham, then appear in a Kiwanis Club parade in Berkley and speak at a rally in Oak Park High School.

High point in the day-long whirlwind tour of Michigan is a scheduled address tonight before an anticipated 10,000 persons at a nationalities rally in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Farmers Are Listless With Jack, Nixon

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—Well, the big battle of the farmlands has been fought, and it turned out a rather listless draw.

Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon nor Sen. John F. Kennedy, who came to the National Plowing Contest on successive days, was able to score a knockdown.

Neither side was able to even mess up each other's hair.

Neither was able to stir up much applause.

And each acted as if he was content to snatch his foe right down the line, without trying for a haymaker. Each came up with a six-point program to which there were few surprises.

Each bravely said this would solve the nation's farm problems and didn't dwell on the fact that if it couldn't solve the farm problems maybe it could at least get votes in the November elections.

★ ★ ★

Maybe it's because the stakes are so great — how will the farm states go this time? — that the two presidential candidates played it so coy.

Take Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Normally you can't listen to a two-minute talk on farm problems without having Benson's name mentioned. Particularly by Democrats, who like to punch Ezra at every opportunity.

But neither Kennedy nor Nixon made any reference to the controversial man who has been in Dwight D. Eisenhower's cabinet throughout his two administrations.

Possibly the most surprising thing was the reaction, or lack of it, in the crowds.

An enthusiastic National Guard official put the crowds each day at around 70,000.

Most reporters thought the estimate far too high, but certainly it was a large gathering that braved the rain and mud to hear the presidential candidates.

Yet they remained strangely silent while Nixon and Kennedy tried to make a sale.

Nixon's biggest hand Friday came not on his farm talk, but in the basic speech he usually gives to all audiences. When he said peace is the most important issue of all, he was loudly applauded.

Legislature OKs Medical Care

Michigan Second State to Take Advantage of Federal Funds

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan became the second state in the nation to take advantage of federal medicare for the aged with passage of a plan to bring medical benefits to an estimated 120,000 old folks.

★ ★ ★

In what was probably the last bitter blow of a two-year internal fight in the 70th Michigan Legislature Democrats Friday settled for a program which fell short in three areas of benefits they had sought.

A few hours before the Michigan lawmakers acted a special session of the Kentucky General Assembly passed a similar measure.

The evenly-split house passed a bill lacking nursing home care, home nursing care and diagnostic services just as it came out of the Republican-dominated Senate.

★ ★ ★

Every parliamentary maneuver possible was tried to restore the cuts, but each attempt fell short of the necessary votes.

The program, which Gov. G. Mennen Williams said he will sign, does the following:

—Provides for payment to doctors, hospitals and other vendors for medical care and hospitalization for an estimated 60,000 persons over 65 who are receiving old age assistance. This category of medicare was already provided under state law, but the bill bringing federal money into use, expands care to include home nursing care services and a physical examination for each new recipient.

—Establishes a new category of aid to an estimated 60,000 persons medically needy, over 65 and able to meet a means test.

★ ★ ★

It was the second category of aid which caused the legislative fireworks.

Besides the scope of benefits, Democrats objected to a "responsible relatives" clause put in the bill.

Ike Supports Dag Confidence Vote

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Eisenhower has added his prestige to a move to give United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold a vote of confidence.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter indicated Friday that the United States desired an immediate confidence vote for the secretary general following Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's blistering demand that Hammarskjold step aside.

Herter called Khrushchev's two-hour-and-20 minute speech a "declaration of war against the United Nations." Eisenhower concurred, in Washington.

The White House said the President's views are "exactly the same as Herter's."

Parliamentary experts said a confidence motion would have to go through the routine of a normal resolution and a U.S. spokesman said the procedure was under consideration.

BRITAIN WITH U.S.

Britain lined up solidly with the United States in backing the secretary general. British Foreign Office spokesman John Russell used words similar to Herter's in reacting to Khrushchev's attack.

"Khrushchev's proposal for reorganizing the office of the secretary general by weakening and diluting it represents a confession that a strong and effective U.N. machine is incompatible with Soviet ambitions," Russell said.

He said Khrushchev's speech was an "attack on mankind's hope for a united world."

His declaration was considered the most outspoken British denunciation of Russia's policy in the history of United Nations.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth told the Assembly the Soviet premier was trying to turn the "world's greatest body for peace into a propaganda forum to serve the interests of Communist imperialism."

★ ★ ★

Wadsworth said Khrushchev was attempting to destroy the body. "The United Nations must face this crisis head-on," Wadsworth said. "If it does not it will fail."

The White House said Eisenhower would have no formal statement in reply to Khrushchev but backed Herter in seeking a vote of confidence for Hammarskjold.

Herter hopes Khrushchev will push his United Nations revamping proposals in a showdown. The secretary of state foresees a stinging defeat for the Soviet Premier if he does.

Herter's attitude was reported

Ex-Batboy Takes His 'Pirating' Seriously

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—While the Pittsburgh Pirates race toward the National League pennant, Michael Godula, ex-Pittsburgh bat boy, sits in the county jail near here talking about his shattered dream.

Michael, 30, wanted to buy the Pirates and had accumulated at least $118,000 toward the purchase price—by till tapping.

Till tapping involves the unobtrusive scooping of money from a store's cash drawer and stuffing it in your pocket.

This is the story Godula told the FBI:

Back in 1950, when Branch Rickey was putting together the team that later became the terror of the league, Michael shagged fly balls and toaded bats for the Pirates.

A year later, he tried out for shortstop. Rickey, Godula claims, took a personal interest in him. But when the club heard he had a criminal record, it dropped him.

★ ★ ★ ★

That was when he began dreaming his dream—to redeem himself in the Pirates' eyes by buying 51 per cent of the club.

"Why do I steal?" he wrote this week in an open letter to his friends from his cell.

"I am a former bat boy with the Pittsburgh Pirates. As you know, they have won the National League pennant. This is my first love and even 10 years after their dismissing me, my emotions are still with them. It has broken my heart that I have not contributed to their winning the pennant."

★ ★ ★

According to his statements to police and FBI agents, he got together his stake with championship skill. Some of the money was taken from banks and the rest from stores.

He would stroll into a bank, he said, walk around the tellers' cages as if he belonged there and stuff his pockets with money while no one was looking. Then, he sauntered away. Police estimate he netted $500 a week.

K Leads Horde to Long Island

There He'll Huddle With Nasser, Recall Feast With Castro

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Russian Premier Khrushchev led a huge party of aides and satellite leaders here today for a weekend in quiet, secluded Soviet estate on the north shore of Long Island. He was all but ignored by the city's 24,000 residents.

Friday night Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro—their friendship blossoming—dined together for five hours. Castro said they discussed "peace."

Khrushchev, confined to Manhattan since his arrival last Monday, is spending the weekend at his country's baronial estate. The State Department lifted his security curtain enough to permit him to make the 25-mile trip.

Little Glen Cove's 23-man police force will be beefed up with about 70 Nassau County police, to guard Khrushchev and other Soviet diplomats.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic flew in Friday night to join the cast of world leaders attending the 15th U. N. General Assembly session.

About 400 diplomats from Arab and Asian states welcomed him. Another 1,000 stood outside the immediate arrival area.

Among the greeters were 50

Showers May Spoil Otherwise Nice Weekend

Scattered showers or thundershowers are predicted for all of Lower Michigan tonight and early Sunday morning. Tonight's low will be a mild 64.

Sunday's high will be about 74. Temperatures will be somewhat warmer Monday through Wednesday.

Morning southeasterly winds at 6 miles per hour will become 10-15 late today and south tonight; and north at 13-18 miles tomorrow.

Sixty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 83 at 2 p.m.

All Three Networks Cut Off Khrushchev

NEW YORK (AP)—All three major television networks cut off Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Friday before he had completed his full two hours and 20 minutes of speech before the United Nations General Assembly.

Exercising their editorial prerogative, the networks offered explanations ranging from "the speech contained nothing of a new or startling nature" to "the public interest would not have been served by putting on the full two hours and 20 minutes of this harangue."

Sum of the People

Religion in Politics--No, Not Me!

By JOHN KRAFT
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

"My pretty shrewd," old grandfather always used to tell me never, never to talk two things, boy, — religion and politics."

At first sight, this comment by a loom-fixer in a textile mill in China Grove, North Carolina seems to represent the notions of a lot of people today.

But, religion IS being talked about in this election very much, and, perhaps, overplayed. And, yet, a very large percentage of people throughout the country feel that it is only others — that guy next door — who are responsible for it all, and not them.

When Kraft interviewers asked, "Does it matter to YOU what the president's religion is?", 74 per cent of those people interviewed replied that it did not matter at all. Only 23 per cent thought that it did.

★ ★ ★

And, yet, when this question was asked, "Do you think it matters to OTHERS what the president's religion is?", 47 per cent declared that they did think it mattered.

In other words, most of the talking of religion in this presidential election seems to be coming from that "other" person — that guy next door.

But, that is only in terms of the presidential election. What about other high political offices and those candidates and this matter of religious issue?

★ ★ ★

Let's take, first, the office of governor. When people also were asked, "Does it matter to YOU what the religion of your governor is?", the replies differed from the presidential question in this way:

Does matter	13%
Does not matter	84%
Uncertain	3%

And, further, "Do you think it matters to OTHERS what the religion of your governor is?"

Matters to others	22%
Not to others	67%
Uncertain	11%

And, this apparent lessening of the power of the religious issue in American political life continues when we consider what people think about their senator. For example, when asked, "Does it matter to YOU about the religion of your two senators?" We found these results:

Does matter	12%
Does not matter	85%
Uncertain	3%

And, in the similar question about the other people — the "neighbors," the findings were:

Matters to others	20%
Not to others	68%
Uncertain	12%

At this point in the Nixon-Kennedy presidential contest, the Kraft nation-wide polling results still continue to show Nixon running slightly ahead of Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

And, they found that, however diverse are the religious backgrounds and beliefs of people across the country, folks seem quite able to get along with one another — the Quaker by the side of the Catholic.

This is so even in the tremendously important and power-

Does K's Speech Mean Cold Wave?

West Europe Fears Worst

Nikita's Plan Seen as End of Quick Action by United Nations

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe feared today that Nikita Khrushchev's speech at the U. N. General Assembly heralds a fresh cold wave that will plunge East-West relations into an even deeper freeze.

The Soviet Premier's attack on U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was resented by newspapers in every non-Communist capital. His proposal to replace Hammarskjold with a three-man executive board was seen as a bid to kill any rapid U.N. emergency action in the future.

In contrast, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda ran a big headline proclaiming:

"The world listens, applauds, approves."

Communist China, silent all along on Khrushchev's presence at the United Nations, completely blanked out the speech.

The official New China News Agency gave more attention to President Eisenhower for offering a plan "to lure the African countries into the pit of U. S. economic assistance."

The London Daily Express saw hope that British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan might be able to act as peacemaker between Khrushchev and Eisenhower — a role he tried unsuccessfully last May just before the summit meeting in Paris collapsed. Macmillan is flying to New York Sunday.

The independent French newspaper Figaro also looked to a mediator, unnamed, to bring the two together.

* * *

"Crisis at the U. N." was used in several London newspaper headlines about the Soviet speech.

Svenska Dagbladet, conservative newspaper in Stockholm snapped: "The Russian plan is an infallible way of making the office (of U. N. secretary-general) unwieldy to the point of powerlessness."

The Danish newspaper Dagens Nyheder said the Soviet Union wants to abolish Hammarskjold's office "because in the Congo the U. N. has, for the first time, really demonstrated its moral and military strength."

The right-wing French newspaper L'Aurore said Khrushchev obviously was making a big play to get support from the Africans, Asian and Latin-American nations.

Query Cause as Woman Dies in Doctor's Office

A Farmington Township woman died suddenly Friday afternoon in her doctor's office.

Dr. Ronald E. Clark signed a death certificate for Mrs. Ronald Craven, 41, of 20572 Pointclaire St., listing an acute coronary as the cause of her death.

Assistant County Coroner Dr. Joseph H. Gadbaw, who said he wouldn't accept the cause of death given by Dr. Clarke, ordered that an autopsy be performed.

Autopsy results are not complete yet, according to Dr. Richard Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, where it was performed.

Mrs. Craven died on a hospital bed in Dr. Clark's office at 20735 Grand River Ave., Farmington.

Record state police are investigating circumstances of her death.

Gamblers Attempt to Fix Grid Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Miami News said in a copyright story today that gamblers paid a University of Florida football player $1,500 in the expectation he would fix today's game with Florida State University.

However, efforts to trap the gamblers were unsuccessful.

Jack-Dick 1st Debate on Monday

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy will confront each other before television cameras Monday night to discuss their views on the nation's economic condition.

The presidential candidates will meet in a studio of the Columbia Broadcasting System for the first of a series of television discussions. Three cameras will relay their images to all television networks.

Here is how the discussion will be organized:

Shortly after 8:30 p. m. Pontiac time, Kennedy will appear on television screens throughout the nation. He will have exactly eight minutes for his opening remarks.

Nixon then will have eight minutes to discuss the economic question, an issue both agreed upon two weeks ago.

After both have made their introductory remarks the cameras will draw back to four radio and television newsmen who will put questions to both candidates.

Kennedy will be asked the first question and will have 2½ minutes to answer. If Nixon chooses to offer a rebuttal, he will be given 1½ minutes.

With Howard K. Smith of CBS news moderating, this routine will continue until 9:22 p. m.

At that time, Smith will signal that the questioning period is over and Nixon will be given three minutes for a closing statement.

Kennedy will have the last word, having won in a drawing the last three minutes for his closing remarks.

All details of the presentation were tentatively accepted by the candidates some time ago, except the choice closing spot which a Kennedy aide secured Friday at the final planning conference in a drawing, a CBS aide said.

ful political offices of their governors and their senators.

But, also at this point, it seems clear that in this presidential race the religious conflict is exploding all over the country and will continue to make headlines.

These headlines are the kind most Americans deplore; but these headlines must, inevitably come from the back-yard and back-fence talk of that "other" person and all those "other" people—among whom is that "other" guy who might just possibly be ourself.

He described the speech as "filled with contempt, arrogance and brutality," accusing the Communist leader of "abusing fundamental spiritual and human values."

He said he had no intention or desire to greet Khrushchev or Cuba's Fidel Castro while they are visiting his home state.

The onetime GOP presidential possibility, winding up campaign forays for Vice President Richard M. Nixon in eight states, lambasted Castro and his cohorts as "professional bullies."

* * *

He described Khrushchev as "the most ruthless man that exists in public life today."

"He has insulted the President, the presidential candidate and the United Nations," Rockefeller told a news conference. "He blackmails, accuses, and ridicules all that we believe in."

"Why should I receive him?"

Castro's antics in New York, the Governor said, are probably beneficial to the free world's cause.

"It shows the people of the United States and the whole world what these people are like," he said. "They are used to pushing and shoving people around at home and people here resent it."

* * *

Addressing an audience of about 700 in the Battle Creek park, Rockefeller criticized what he termed the failure of the Democratic leadership to push through any major legislation in the recent special session of Congress.

He said it pointed up the inadequacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, to lead his party and the nation. Nixon, he said, will provide the nation with the "courageous leadership it requires in the four years ahead."

It was understood the British and French foreign ministers expressed agreement when they met for dinner in Herter's Waldorf Astoria Hotel suite.

The private dinner had been intended as a routine meeting for an exchange of views, instead, it apparently developed into a major diplomatic strategy session, lasting into the early hours.

Couve de Murville said in an interview he thinks one change proposed by Khrushchev, substituting a three-man executive for the secretary-general, is "not a possibility." It would amount to a charter revision "that would require the agreement of practically everybody," he said, and likely will die a natural death.

The next move, if there is to be one, apparently is up to the Soviet camp.

Ike Sets Up Talks With World Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has set up personal talks in New York next week with a leader of Asia, a leader of the Middle East, and a leader of Europe.

All are in New York for the historic meeting of the United Nations General Assembly.

* * *

So far, Eisenhower has scheduled talks with Prime Minister Nehru of India and President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic on Monday, and with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain on Tuesday.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, while holding out the possibility of other meetings in New York, said that he knew of no plans for the President to sit down with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Sept. 9 Ziegler fell on a sidewalk and suffered a skull fracture. He developed bronchial pneumonia and died Thursday night.

The $40,000 of which Ziegler had not spent a penny, probably will go to three nieces, his only known survivors.

NEW BALCONY SCENE

There was another "balcony scene—this one in pantomime—at the Soviet delegation's mission on Park Avenue. He smoked an Indian peace pipe and topped off his schedule with his dinner date with Castro.

Through it all he dropped pungent and often biting remarks on a wide variety of subjects.

The unpredictable Castro was nearly 40 minutes late for his date with Khrushchev, while the Soviet chief waited impatiently for him on the sidewalk outside the Soviet U.N. headquarters.

As time went on, newsmen asked Khrushchev if he felt like a bride left waiting at the church.

"I was never in the condition of that bride," laughed Khrushchev.

A policeman's horse whinnied and Khrushchev quipped: "The American horses are greeting the Soviet union—you can see how glad they are."

No Word on Missing U. S. Tourists in Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — The U. S. Embassy says there still is no information about two American tourists—one from Ann Arbor, Mich.—who apparently disappeared while motoring this summer through the Soviet Union.

The men are Harvey Bennett of Bath, Maine, and Mark Kaminsky of Ann Arbor. They entered the Soviet Union July 27. Bennett sent his wife a letter the middle of August from Vinnitsa, U.S.S.R. Since then there was no word. The men were due back in New York Sept. 1.

Space Reds Die, Says General

Air Force Authority Says Soviets Failed in Orbiting Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Russia recently attempted to put two men into orbit around the earth and failed, according to a top Air Force authority.

Brig. Gen. Don Flickinger, director of Bio-Astronautics for the Air Force Research and Development Command, said the two would-be astronauts died after their space capsule failed to orbit.

Flickinger addressed the annual Air Force Association convention here and then made the statement in answer to newsmen's questions following his talk.

He said an unidentified object was tracked during the past week and was apparently intended to go into orbit — probably to coincide with the visit of Nikita Khrushchev to the United Nations.

The General, who is consultant in the Mercury man-in-space project of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, admitted he was speculating about the Russian space efforts, but he said he believed "they tried to put two men up and clobbered them."

The Soviets had ships equipped to track space vehicles deployed in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans last week, he said.

But Flickinger said he believed the Russians had performed one new space feat, which they would soon announce to the world.

He said he considered accurate a London Daily Express report Sept. 14 that the Russians had lofted two men to a height of 62 miles in a ballistic capsule and "recovered them safely. The Russians have not confirmed or denied the feat.

Reign of Crime Brings Prayers for Big Drought

Two Pontiac policemen are fervently hoping for a long dry spell as far as crime is concerned.

Patrolmen John H. Bridgewater and Maurice J. Nolin can't be blamed for feeling the way they do.

While at work early this morning, the pair paid a price above the call of duty.

They had their raincoats stolen from their police cruiser.

The theft occurred when the officers, both members of the Special Investigations Unit vice squad, checked the Amvets Hall, 570 Oakland Ave., to make sure no juveniles were at a late-hour dance.

Their superior officer, Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, was undismayed when the sheepish twosome returned to the Public Safety Building.

The entire force knows what to be on the lookout for, he pointed out.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flies to Annapolis by helicopter today to see the Navy-Villanova football game.

Chill of Autumn Spreads Deeper; Mercury Dipping

By The Associated Press

Autumn's chill spread deeper into the nation's heartland today, precipitating dismal drizzles certain to annoy football fans.

Florida buttoned up under the equally remnants of tropical storm Florence.

The cool snap, dropping temperatures as much as 20 degrees, extended from northern New England southward into the middle Mississippi Valley and southward into Central Texas.

Pravda Version of U. N. Talks — Nikita Tops Ike

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda, the Soviet Communist party organ, gave this version today of how the speeches by President Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev went over in the United Nations:

Khrushchev's speech received repeated "stormy applause" while Eisenhower's caused disappointment.

* * *

"Although the American press tries to describe this (Eisenhower's) speech as a type of 'challenge' to the Soviet Union, many leading observers acknowledge that the speech of the President caused disappointment not only among the broad American public," said the account written by Pravda's correspondents in New York.

* * *

Pravda devoted more than half its six pages to the text of the Soviet Premier's speech. So far it has published only a few points from Eisenhower's talk.

High Winds, Rain Halt Shot at Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — Foul weather forced postponement today of a scheduled U. S. launching of a rocket with a 387-pound satellite designed to orbit the moon.

* * *

The shot was called off about one hour before launching time when high winds and heavy rain continued to batter the Cape area. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration would not release a new launching time for publication but the postponement was for at least 24 hours.

APPOINTED — Lt. Gov. Edward V. Long of Missouri was appointed U. S. senator Friday, succeeding the late Thomas C. Hennings. Long, a Democrat who was appointed by Gov. James T. Blair to fill the vacancy until the Nov. 8 election, will then be opposed by Lon Hocker, a St. Louis lawyer. Long had a smiling meeting Friday with Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Democratic candidate for vice president.

Mac's Expected to Meet Nikita Privately at U. N.

LONDON (AP) — Government circles said Friday night Prime Minister Macmillan undoubtedly will meet Soviet Premier Khrushchev privately while they are attending the U.N. General Assembly session in New York. No overtures for such a meeting have come from the Russian side and the British do not intend to move first but one source put it this way:

"They will be in the same building. They are on speaking terms. It seems highly likely they will run into each other in the lounges or halls. That would be a spontaneous thing. And it could lead to a private talk."

Macmillan will leave Sunday morning for the United States. He is expected to meet President Eisenhower Tuesday and speak to the assembly Thursday.

Mother Kills Son, Stabs 2 Daughters

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A mother went on a rampage with a knife and a pair of scissors Friday night that left her only son dead and her two daughters in critical condition with multiple stab wounds, police said.

Imogene Craig, 29, wife of a staff psychiatrist at University of Michigan Hospital and herself under a psychiatrist's care, then tried to take her own life but apparently lost her nerve.

"I know I hurt my children but I don't know why," Mrs. Craig told police.

Dead in the brief outbreak of unexplained violence was Thomas Craig IV, 2½. Police said he was stabbed repeatedly as he lay in his crib.

In critical condition at University Hospital were his sisters, Ellen, 6, and Shannon, 5. Both had multiple stab wounds and underwent surgery for fractured skulls.

Kennedy Heads for Day's Rest

Hails Religious Liberty in Salt Lake City Talk to Mormons

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) —Sen. John F. Kennedy headed toward Chicago and a brief respite from the campaign trail today after praising a Mormon battle "to make religious liberty a living reality" in this country.

★ ★ ★

Before leaving on an overnight flight aboard his private plane, the Democratic presidential candidate won cheers for a fighting speech striking back at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican rival, for calling him naive about the Communists.

Kennedy plans to take the day off at the Chicago area home of his sister, Eunice Shriver, who has been traveling with him on a 19-day, 14-state tour which began last Wednesday.

Sunday, he will fly to Cleveland for more campaigning. He is scheduled to return to Chicago in the evening to prepare for his television debate Monday with Nixon—the first of a series of four to be carried nationwide on TV.

Shortly before taking off from Salt Lake City Friday night, Kennedy touched on the controversy in some areas over his Catholicism.

He made no mention of that controversy in his formal speech, but he paid tribute to the Mormon people for, as he put it, "having proven to the nation in this century that a public servant devout in his church faith was still capable of undiminished allegiance to the Constitution and national interest."

Speaking to more than 8,000 persons who filled the great Mormon Tabernacle to overflowing, the Democratic nominee said the public servant was the late Sen. Reed Smoot of Utah, who was an apostle of the Mormon Church.

The church president, David O. McKay, 87, sat on the platform next to the speaker's lectern and joined in the standing ovation for Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy recalled that Smoot's right to a Senate seat was challenged on the grounds that he would subordinate the claims of his country to the claims of his church.

Fortunately, Kennedy said, "The forces of reason and tolerance" enabled Smoot to take his seat.

Dearborn Ex-Red to Be Deported

DETROIT (UPI) — Frederick John Williams, a Dearborn carpenter and admitted former Communist, has been ordered deported to England on Oct. 25.

Williams, 54, has been fighting deportation for six years. He was to have been deported a few months ago but the order was postponed when Sen. Phil Hart, D-Mich., introduced a bill aimed at permitting Williams to remain in this country.

The regional office of the immigration service indicated the new deportation order for Oct. 25 also might be postponed if Hart's bill is slated for action in the next session of Congress. It was not acted on at the last session.

Williams says he left the Communist Party in 1947.

GOP Ignorant of Farm Talk, Says Johnson

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP)—"Republicans simply do not know how to sit down with the farmers themselves and thrash out the problems that are threatening agriculture," Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson said Friday night.

He told a crowd of 1,200 in this western Kansas farming center that is "the real reason for the failure of the Republican party in agriculture."

"But we promise to work with you," the Democratic vice presidential candidate added, "because we are for you."

Johnson cautioned that the Democratic party does not promise to solve farm problems overnight.

"After eight years of Republican mismanagement," he said, "helping farmers out of their present predicament is going to be a monumental job."

U. S. Kicks Into Pot for U. N.'s Congo Fund

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States Friday made a $3-million contribution to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's special emergency fund for the Congo.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Hammarskjold this was an advance on the final amount the United States would contribute to the proposed $100 million fund.

NYC to Speed Mixing in Elementary Schools

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York City's program to speed the racial integration of public schools will be extended to the elementary level next month.

Superintendent of Schools John J. Theobald announced Thursday that 7,863 elementary students will be eligible to ask for transfers from predominantly segregated Negro and Puerto Rican schools to classes where the white enrollment is larger.

Thirty-one elementary schools were designated as so-called "receiving" schools under the program called "open enrollment." The eligible students are in 16 "sending" schools singled out by the school board.

Nikita Out to Confuse West, Lodge Asserts

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Former United Nations ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge asserts Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev seeks to confuse the United States and her allies.

★ ★ ★

"What he said in New York certainly cannot be taken at face value," Lodge said here and in nearby Warren Friday while campaigning as the Republican vice presidential nominee.

Lodge termed Khrushchev's proposals for reorganizing and moving the United Nations "thoroughly frivolous, thoroughly specious."

Monroe County Aims at Japanese Beetles

LANSING (AP)—A $140,000 spray program was in prospect today in a move to control an outbreak of Japanese beetles in Monroe County.

Gov. Williams told the special session of the Legislature yesterday that, unless it raised objections, he would advise the State Agriculture Department to launch the program. The cost will be split between the state and federal governments.

It Seems to Me . . . .

Castro, Khrushchev Now Know Their Popularity Has Vanished

The directing heads of two nations have had their eyes opened sharply this week.

It was a rude awakening.

Ask KHRUSHCHEV and CASTRO.

★ ★ ★

Both of these characters were well aware that our government took a decidedly dim view of them and their activities. But the ingrained conceit that wells in the bosom of each led them to believe this was purely a governmental view. They didn't think it applied to "the people."

Were they disillusioned!

The cold facts were driven home.

★ ★ ★

A year and a half ago W. D. MAXWELL, Editor of The Chicago Tribune and Program Chairman of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, invited CASTRO to address the group. The Cuban rebel was "hot news" and the nation's editors welcomed a chance to see him at close range.

★ ★ ★

He was warmly received. Apparently this and subsequent developments during the early days of his reign led him to believe that the Americans were very sympathetic. In his mind, his campaign of vilification and tyranny didn't shake his popularity in this country.

★ ★ ★

Now he knows. When he stormed out of his original New York hotel, the boss said he was glad to get rid of the pesky tramp and he never did want him or any of his henchmen in the first place. He took them under duress.

KHRUSHCHEV's insistence on coming after he had been cold shouldered by the President suggests he, too, believed he "stood well" with the American people. He still had the memory of an enthusiastic reception previously. He hadn't forgotten the applause.

★ ★ ★

But the head Red must understand now. He received the official, unofficial, formal and informal brush-off everywhere. One letter in the Voice of The People in a leading New York newspaper said: "Just as we were making progress in our city campaign to exterminate rats, a boatload arrives from Russia." You can't speak much plainer than this. Signs are plastered all over their subways saying: "KHRUSHCHEV, go home." And other placards read: "To Hell with FIDEL."

★ ★ ★

Signs along Khrushchev's New York route read:

"Khrushchev Is a Murderer"

"How Come K Is Still At Large"

"Murderers Are Invading Our Country"

"Wanted — For Murder — Khrushchev" (with large photo)

"K Disinvited Ike. Let's Disinvite K."

★ ★ ★

As his car rolled off the Russian ship, it was struck amidships by a rotten egg. His minions have told New York police they fear assassination. Probably they should.

★ ★ ★

These are all pretty eloquent manifestations. If either of these wretches believed he was a "popular figure" in the United States, the idea has been wrenched from his mind. Both of them know the truth now. They've heard it bluntly. It's high time these international thugs learn the simple facts of life.

Danger Lurks . . . .

I've been advised that considerable alarm exists in New York over the possibility of an assassin giving KHRUSHCHEV the full treatment.

★ ★ ★

Both Russia and the United States are concerned. Such an eventuality might be catastrophic and cause the most horrible destruction of all time.

★ ★ ★

The chances are remote that a citizen of the United States would perpetrate this crime. But the nation possesses hundreds of thousands of immediate relatives and close friends of the millions Khrushchev's country has butchered and enslaved on the other side.

★ ★ ★

Here's great political danger.

Lightning of this type is unpredictable.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

I was intrigued by some of the want ads I saw in Rome. Here are three:

> FOREIGN GENTLEMAN REQUIRES accomplished, good-looking serving maid knowing French, willing tour Europe. 267 Via Appia Antica from 3 to 4 P.M., Rome.
>
> GERMAN SPORTSMAN SEEKS especially for company on leisure trip to Germany in Mercedes 220SA. Write enclosing photo to: Sport c/o Hotel Roma, 50 Via XX Settembre, Rome.
>
> VERY BEAUTIFUL BLONDE ITALIAN lady, resident Rome, age 32, 5' 10 inches tall, slender figure, excellent education, would like to meet rich American gentleman, 38 to 50. Please send photo, Box S-918, RDA, Rome.

(Note to phone room and front office: Our own rules are still in force.) . . . . . PAUL HARNEY had 69-68-68-69 in a recent golf tournament and tied for twenty-fourth.

★ ★ ★

Notice in The Kalona, Iowa, News: "Voting was not expected to be heavy but 61 votes for a town the size of Kalona is a shame. So few were interested we will not bother to set the type and give the results." . . . . . Summer campers are all back in school and the best letter I heard was this one: "Dear Mom and Dad: I am not a bit homesick. Some of the kids are — the ones that have dogs." . . . . . Italy is considering open air churches where you drive in and sit in your car.

★ ★ ★

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady in the area: ROMA NEPHLER . . . . . Wood ducks, considered by some the most beautiful birds that fly, are staging a slow but steady comeback through efforts of the Conservation Dept. . . . . Railroads forbade wrist watches on the belief they weren't as accurate as the others. Now some of them are giving in . . . . . FINLEY PETER DUNNE: "Trust everybody. But always cut the cards." . . . . . Mrs. KENNETH YORKE, 18, of Toronto, holds a record of sorts. She has had twins twice in 11 months . . . . . CLARK CUMMINGS tells me our Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority setup receives national attention for efficiency and progress. Incidentally CLARK has been a great citizen of Pontiac . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: The C's: DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER; The J's: KHRUSHCHEV and CASTRO.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

The Prophet Micah inspires men today as he has through the centuries with the hope of universal peace and God's requirement of men:

"and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

"and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

Days of All Faiths:

Archangel Honored on Michaelmas

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Thursday is Michaelmas, St. Michael and All Angels Day. St. Michael is one of the archangels. Since a saint's day is ordinarily the day of the saint's death, it is impossible to say how a day for an archangel was selected. Michael has never died. But September 29 it is.

Michael is one of seven archangels that appear in Hebrew and Christian tradition. Besides Michael, there are Gabriel, Raphael, Uriel, Raguel, Sariel and Jerahmeel. The last three are not named in the Old or New Testaments but do show up in other ancient literature. The Koran mentions two more: Israel and Israfel. To Jew, Christian and Mohammedan, Michael is the chief archangel.

Michael is always mentioned as a warrior. He fights God's battles. In the book of Daniel it is told how he came to the aid of the Jews during their bitter 70 years of slavery in Persia. In St. Jude's Epistle there is a reference to some now-forgotten legend about the time Michael contended with Satan over the body of Moses.

And in the book of Revelation there is the account of the greatest of all his exploits, his quashing of the rebellion of Satan and his legions (who at that time were still in heaven) when they revolted against God and tried to take over. Michael and his angels fought them and defeated them and cast them into outer darkness. Milton enlarges on the story in his "Paradise Lost."

The researcher finds no reason why "All Angels" are included in this day dedicated to St. Michael. It may be a recognition of the host that fought on Michael's side in this famous "war in heaven."

"Archangel" sounds as if it were the highest possible rank. In Christian theology, however, archangels are eighth down the list of the heavenly hierarchy.

THE MICHAELMAS GOOSE .

Traditional in England is the custom of having a fine fat goose for dinner September 29, and one may well wonder what this juicy fowl has to do with the Archangel Michael. The true answer is — nothing at all. The whole idea arose because tenants took a goose along for the landlord when they paid their annual rent, and Michaelmas was rent day because it came soon after the harvest. It was a good time to pay bills. The tenant was sure to have the money and the landlord was sure of getting it.

Why the tenant threw in a goose is anybody's guess. Reasons are not mentally that cordial between renter and owner. Perhaps it was an attempt to give the owner a sense of indebtedness that would make it awkward for him to raise the rent. Or perhaps it was to soften him up before requesting a reduction. At any rate, it was hardly because the renter was fond of him. But there it was; everybody did it.

Folklore, of course, has a way of inventing connections where none really exist, and it is out of folklore that the saying comes at the year's first snowfall that "St. Michael is plucking his geese for Christmas." Also from folklore comes the story that after the rebellion of Satan the worst of the rebels were changed into serpents and consigned to the depths of hell, but those who had been merely foolish rather than evil were only changed into geese and sent no farther away than the earth. Therefore the sacrifice of a goose on St. Michael's Day is completely appropriate.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Cholesterol Woes Appear —in 20 or 30 Years

What foods contain cholesterol? Just how much damage does it do to the arteries and heart? (U.D.)

DR. BRADY

Ans. — A question. I believe cholesterol, like calcium, in artery wall is a consequence, not a cause, of degeneration. In any case, when you follow a diet or medication which purports to lower the level of cholesterol in the blood, you have to be faithful to the regimen for 20 or 30 years to determine whether it will do any good.

TEMPERATURE CHART

If doctors will not cooperate with me by keeping me informed of my condition then certainly I will not cooperate with them. . . I have a right to know what is on my temperature chart. It's my body, isn't it? (C.E.)

Ans. — Yes. However, in hospital or at home, if you feel your doctor doesn't keep you fully informed about your condition you can always fire the doctor and employ one who will cooperate to your satisfaction in that respect.

I say the temperature chart and other records should not be kept on exhibition, but in a file inaccessible to Tom, Dick and Harry.

FATTY TUMOR

Have what is called a fatty tumor near the right breast. It came 17 years ago when I was carrying my first child. It is giving me some discomfort now. Could it become serious? I am 44 years old. (Mrs. P.S.)

Ans. — Meaning of tumor is swelling. Consider yourself lucky that it is only a lump of fat. If it gives you any discomfort, physical or mental, have it removed —a minor operation. Otherwise forget it.

ASK FOR IODIN RATION

May I have your leaflet on Iodine? When I ask druggists for nutritional iodine they look at me as though I'd said something stupid. (O.T.——)

Ans. — Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

WHAT TO DO ABOUT PILES

I suffer a good deal from piles and wonder if you can tell me what to do . . .(J.W.)

Ans. — Yes, send me a stamped, envelope bearing your name and address and ask for the free pamphlet, Piles You Need Not Have Piles.

PICKLES AND CREAM

Been told pickles and cream or milk at the same meal produce some kind of poison in the human body. . . (T.M.W.)

Ans. — The combination doesn't seem very appetising, but if you like 'em all the same meal they are perfectly healthful.

Signed letters and more than one page of 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, and disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

POND DREAMS

The small German boy in knee pants and rumpled socks . . . Is sitting on the stony rim of a wide pool . . . Silently he watches his small sailboat drifting on the silvery water . . . In the warm bright afternoon sun . . . A breath of breeze is gently carrying his boat away . . . A slight ripple on the grayish pond water . . . Is erasing the clear reflection of the blue sky and mirrored little white clouds . . . That were grazing upon it like a flock of fluffy sheep . . . The small boy is sailing it a quiet dream . . . As he looks longingly across his wide sea . . . And I am standing there beside him . . . Following the small white sail . . . As it drifts slowly toward the distant shore . . . And in my heart I share his longing.

On this day in history:

In 1692, the last persons were hanged in the American colonies for "witchcraft."

In 1776, Capt. Nathan Hale was hanged as a Revolutionary spy by the British at their artillery headquarters in New York City.

In 1927, Jack Dempsey retained his heavyweight boxing championship in a match with former champ Gene Tunney.

In 1943, Kate Smith completed her radio war bond marathon, and as a result of her appeal listeners pledged to buy bonds totaling 39 million dollars.

In 1955, commercial television began in England.

Voice of the People:

Hopes Citizens Eventually Will Favor Fluoridation

Whenever I expose the inside of my mouth to the gaze of the curious (mostly my kids) they are dazzled by the gleam of silver and gold. This of course, represents a tremendous investment—First on the part of my parents, then later out of my own pocket.

★ ★ ★

But the money takes second place compared to the agony-filled hours and hours I have spent in various dental chairs. They do their best to make it painless. But despite the wonderful advancements in dental techniques, it is still no fun to get drilled and filled.

★ ★ ★

What does all this add up to? Simply that I would like to help my kids and everyone else avoid joining the cavity cavalcade. In other words, keep them from having the massive molar work, the extractions, the bridges and the gold inlays that are so expensive, so painful and really so unnecessary.

★ ★ ★

I want to commend your paper most heartily for your continuing campaign to make the public aware of the benefits of fluoridation. I have read where cities have fluoridated their water supply with amazing and wonderful results. Cavities among children have been drastically reduced, and there have been no ill effects. Perhaps eventually you can get the citizens of Pontiac to realize what they are missing. Keep up the good work.

'Indecent Movies Need Concern'

Why cannot parents foresee future results and rise up in one great voice against what is being shown in movies of today? We try to teach our children the rights and wrongs of life — and then shut our eyes to the reality that such things as adultery, divorce, nudeness, drinking, etc., are glorified and sanctioned in the interesting plots on the screen.

★ ★ ★

We are so prone to criticize young folks, and yet we set before their eyes those examples they are bound to follow. It is true that many TV programs are just as wrong, but at least we have the privilege of taking our stand for decency by changing the program.

Children do not have to be teenagers to be influenced in their own personal conduct. Yet, their morals seem to be of little interest to the great movie industry as long as the millions keep pouring into their coffers.

★ ★ ★

The concern of the parents seems the only hope. Perhaps it is because some parents are so interested themselves in these movies that they are willing to take the chance that it couldn't happen to their child.

An Anxious Parent

18-Year-Old Student Has Own Ideas

I am not a voter nor a politician. I am an 18-year-old high school student, but this does not stop me from thinking, nor does it hinder my interest in our great country's affairs. After all, I will be a voter in the next election.

★ ★ ★

If it came right down to choosing sides the Republicans would be on the side of manufacturing and big business, while the Democrats would be on the side of organized labor. With only this fact in mind, most of our people should be on the Democratic side of the picture. Which party will, in the long run, best serve the laboring people? The Republicans!

★ ★ ★

The Democrats will try to raise the salaries of the worker. What will this do? It will raise the cost of the products which these laborers are turning out and, through a vicious mad circle, raise the cost of living. So he is right back where he started.

★ ★ ★

While our prices are going up the imports keep flowing in. The amount of steel imported in 1959 would have employed about 20,000 men. Ships built in foreign shipyards would have employed 91,000 men, imported autos, 63,000 more jobs. Four out of five of our major sewing machine manufacturers are either out of business or have turned to something else. Our share of the typewriter market has dropped from 63 per cent to 7 per cent. Imported wearing apparel would have paid $50 million in wages to American workers. Jewelry has been reduced to a 20 industry operation from the 60 we had in 1934. Need I say more?

★ ★ ★

The manufacturer, not the worker, is in favor of the high tariff that is necessary to cut down on the tremendous cut of our economy that the imports are taking. Who will side with the manufacturer? The Republicans! This will in the long run create more jobs and a much happier situation in our overall economy.

'Favorable Editorial About Farmers'

Your editorial on farmers displaying their agriculture downtown was a good one. Having the farmers downtown with all their vegetables and fruit and other good things that we don't see all the time is a real pleasure. It is easy to understand why some of the outlying groceries might think this would hurt their business, but I don't think it does. We always trade at a small grocery nearby and what we would buy from the farmers downtown would be just extra and we would still get our regular groceries at the store.

Thanks for putting the editorial in the paper.

Will Help Teach About Communism

It is gratifying to see that some of our young citizens are looking to the future and seeing Communism for what it really is.

History has proven that the only time you can believe what the Commies are saying is when they are preaching their infamous theories founded by Marx and Engels. They stated this objective in the Communist Manifesto: "The theory of the Communists may be summed up in the single sentence: "Abolition of private property."

★ ★ ★

In 1924 their master plan for world conquest was stated by Lenin in these words "First, we will take Eastern Europe, then the masses of Asia, then we will encircle the United States, which will be the last bastion of capitalism. We will not have to attack. It will fall like an overripe fruit into our hands."

★ ★ ★

Fantastic? Yes. But take a good look at any world map. The Communists now hold Eastern Europe and have absolute control over most of the masses of Asia. The establishment recently of Latin American strongholds completes, in effect and to a degree, the encirclement of the United States. As communism continues to advance, the free world shrinks.

★ ★ ★

The Communists still follow these diabolical theories today. The proof comes from Nikita Khrushchev's own words spoken on September 17, 1955: "If anyone thinks that our smiles mean the abandonment of the teachings of Marx, Engels, and Lenin, he is deceiving himself cruelly. Those who expect this to happen might just as well wait for a shrimp to learn how to whistle."

These are some of the basic facts on Communism. I shall be happy to help your group obtain all the facts you wish on this subject. Please call me at UL 2-4770 or write me at 1598 East Auburn Road, Rochester, Michigan.

'Telephone Directory Needs Revising'

I wonder who at Michigan Bell thought up the idea of the present telephone book. It is utterly ridiculous that we should have to thumb through a myriad of Detroit area listings to find a Pontiac number.

★ ★ ★

We have no tiee with that area geographically or economically and it is an imposition on the part of the telephone company to make finding of local listings so difficult. If they want to save money through consolidation of listings they should have some consideration for their Pontiac area customers and publish a Pontiac and North Oakland book where the interests are more in common.

★ ★ ★

Ypsilanti had the same situation and civic groups there went to the Michigan Public Service Commission who handed down an order to the effect that they will again have their own local telephone book. A like move should be made in Pontiac. This would be a good job for the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Parents So Thankful for Public's Prayers

A few weeks ago Mr. and Mrs. James Shover asked friends and strangers to pray for their son Jim who was injured when he collided with a city bus while on his motor scooter. They have asked The Pontiac Press to print this letter to say "Thank You" for prayer.

"It has been over three weeks now since we asked for your prayers for Jim Shover, who has lain in a coma at Pontiac General Hospital since he was critically injured by a city bus while riding his motor scooter.

"Although we are Protestants we are proud to say we had phone calls, cards and personal visits in our home from people of different churches. People of every race and color have helped to ease our burden of grief.

"Jim still isn't out of danger, so will you please continue to pray for him?"

"Thanking all of you from the depth of our hearts,"

Mr. and Mrs. James Shover, and son Jerry.

Bishop Upholds Right of 'Army' in Capitol

In defending the right of the Salvation Army to hold special services in the rotunda of the Minnesota State Capitol in St. Paul and to which objections had been raised earlier in the year, Roman Catholic Archbishop William O. Brady of St. Paul declared: "What is so terrible about the use of public property for the public worship of God? . . . we shall defend their right to do so."

And then he added: "A little more prayer in public office might keep our appointed or hired officials mindful of something important."

Roosevelt Wells

Nearly two thousand years ago the Lord Jesus Christ was on the earth. As he labored to teach and help men to find themselves, to know God, and to prepare to meet him, he encountered much opposition and found that the people were a DIVIDED PEOPLE. They were DIVIDED into various sects which opposed one another as well as our Lord. The Lord worked among them for a few years but their blind prejudices, fanatical theories, traditional practices, materialistic conceptions, and human reasonings caused them to see no further than their vested to see and therefore were not brought together in PERFECT UNITY.

The Lord was to later bear the cross, drink the cup of suffering and death and in the shadow of this dreadful hour He prayed for the UNITY OF THOSE WHO WOULD BELIEVE IN HIM AND BE HIS FOLLOWERS. He made no "Brother pray for them alone but for those also which shall believe on me through their word; that they all may be one. . . ." John 17:20, 21a. Here the earnest desire of our Savior was to eliminate division and His own. However look at the world today and what do we see? We observe the exact opposite of the Lord's prayer. We see a multiplicity of warring sects and opposing creeds. This is NOT THE WILL OF THE CHRIST. Jno. 17:21, 21, 1 Cor. 1:10.

Instead of religious leaders trying to solve the problem of division honestly and simply as the Lord's prayer can become a reality. THEY SEEM TO BE CONTENT IN IGNORING THE SITUATION AND IN MANY INSTANCES ENCOURAGE IT. For one to believe in SPRINKLING AND POURING for New Testament baptism will invite any who under no circumstances believe such, to speak to his people and endorse his practice of water. One who believes in the worship of Jesus Christ will invite one to speak for him who DOES NOT. The believer in Eternal Punishment will invite those who do not believe in such, and will boldness claim they are united and progressing. THIS IS NOT UNITY AND PROGRESS. IT IS A HYPOCRITICAL GREETING. THIS IS NOT PUTTING THE HAND TO THE PLOW. IT IS A METHOD OF BURYING ONE'S HEAD IN THE SAND. It is a method of not having any firm solid convictions on any subject, strong enough to stand for them anytime, anywhere. Unfortunately, it takes who do have firm solid convictions oppose and cry out against such "CLOSED EYE" tactics, for it is marked as a cross-maker, misunderstood, and unrealistic. He ought to be carried and cried out against at any time, wherever it is found. The Lord prayed, "That they all may be one" and if we ever are to meet upon our knees to the truth and ELIMINATE DIVISION AND ALLOW UNITY TO ACTUALLY EXIST AND PRACTICE THE SAME.

BELIEVEST THOU THIS?

Adventists Build in New Guinea

Young People Present Program Dressed in Costumes at Riverside

Members of the Riverside Seventh-day Adventist Church will join congregations of the denomination around the world in the construction of a hospital in New Guinea.

George M. Guido, Sabbath School superintendent, said New Guinea is the special study project of the school for the quarter.

Although Seventh-day Adventists have several small clinics there, and help to staff a government colony at Mt. Hanson they have no hospital.

The series of recitals will continue on the fourth Sunday of each month at the same hour.

The November recital will be played by Will C. Needlee, member of the organ department faculty at Syracuse University.

TO SEND KITS

All Saints is one of 31 Pontiac churches participating in the preparation of simple medical kits to be sent to the rural areas of Ethiopia, Nigeria, Chile and Burma. The kits will be given only to those who complete a first-aid course, and they will make it possible for these trainees to serve their villages by treating simple chronic ills.

The series of lectures entitled "Judaism and the Christ" will be presented by Dr. William Kluback, professor of philosophy at Michigan State University Oakland.

The first lecture will be given on Oct. 4. They will continue on the first Tuesday of each month through May.

The lectures and discussions will attempt to illustrate the basic points of similarity and continuity in the Jewish and Christian experience. A careful examination will be made of the reasons underlying the Jewish rejection of the Christ, and the importance of the Christ in Christian faith.

Say You Changed Your Mind

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am at present confronted with a most embarrassing situation on which I would like your help. A neighbor (not a close friend—merely an acquaintance of many years) asked me in the presence of two other people and with absolutely no forewarning, if she might borrow my wedding dress.

Up to that moment I didn't even know she was planning to be married. I was so taken by surprise that I mumbled, "I guess it would be all right."

As it happens my wedding dress is a very lovely one, and I had no intention of ever having anyone wear it except my own daughter. Although I said it would be all right, I certainly do not like the idea of her wearing it at all and had I been prepared, I would have said "no."

Is there any way out of this situation?

Answer: The only thing I can suggest is to write her that her question so surprised you that you answered without thinking. As a matter of fact, you had put your dress carefully away in the hope that your own daughter would some day wear it at her wedding and that you do not wish to have it worn by anyone else.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Post: What do you think of a person who invites you to her house to spend the evening and then sits and yawns practically the whole time you are there?

I had this happen to me the other evening and was so annoyed, I was tempted to ask my hostess if I was boring her. Isn't this the height of bad manners?

Answer: It is hard for me to imagine a hostess being as rude as this one was to you.

Works in the picture include Sarkis Sarkisian's "Head of Christ" and "Mary Magdalene," an enamel and pewter crucifix by Karl Drerup and the sculpture, "Jonah and the Whale," by Cranbrook's Berthold Schewitz.

Altogether OK, Says Abby

Let Him Rest in Comfort, No Need for Red Face

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: The other day you helped a lady whose husband came to the table in his shorts. I have a similar problem. My husband sleeps in the nude. We've been married 33 years and while the children were home and we slept in the same room, he wore pajamas.

But now we each have our own bedroom and when I go to make his bed in the morning I find his pajamas have not been slept in. I talked to him about this and he says it is more comfortable that way.

ABBY

This worries me because he has a heart condition and if he should die some night in the nude this would be very embarrassing when the undertaker comes. Can you help me?

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: Man comes into this world naked and there is no embarrassment, so why should there be any if he goes out the same way? Let him sleep the way he wants to.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a son, 19, who has just gone back to college for his second year. His girl friend, who is 18, has enrolled in the same college as a freshman. They went together all last summer. When she went on a vacation she wrote him every day.

I was cleaning out my son's bureau drawers and came upon a pack of her letters. I was shocked to learn that they had been intimate.

Now that they are out of town attending the same college I am worried sick about what might happen. The girl's parents live in this town, but we don't have enough in common with them to discuss anything like this. I haven't even told my husband yet. I don't know where to turn for help.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: You and your husband and the parents of the girl have a great deal in common. Namely, the welfare of your children. First, tell your husband. Then meet with the parents of the girl and tell them. YOUR son and THEIR daughter need some guidance. And fast!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What would you do with a husband who buys clothes or shoes for his wife and children every pay day but never buys anything for himself?

I guess I am lucky to have a husband like this, but I actually feel guilty. If I take the money and buy something for him, he has a fit. He's down to his last shoes, socks, shorts and trousers. And he doesn't have a decent suit to his name.

"FASHION PLATE"

DEAR "FASHION PLATE": Let him know how much you appreciate his generosity, but tell him you take no pleasure in looking like a fashion plate while he looks like a poor relation. Dress him up and keep him dressed up.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I thought your advice to "STRAIGHT UP AND DOWN" was literally straight up and down. To put it still another way:

"What Nature has forgotten Stuff with cotton."

Instant Love May Be Brewing

NEW YORK (AP)—Ever wonder what's really behind the rash of instants on the market—instant coffee, instant mashed potatoes, instant beer (in England, at least) and now instant lawn?

E. H. Demby, president of Motivation Research Associates, has an answer: People are seeking instant love.

By love, he hastens to explain, he means essential approval. The instant urge isn't just a question of saving time, but of getting a reward as quickly as possible, of winning approval for something you did.

"Our entire society is geared to approval," he says.

He conducted a year-long survey based on the proposition that the outside of the home, being on constant display, represents greater emotional projection than the inside.

To his researchers, husbands privately confided that their spouses pressured them into spending their so-called free time manicuring lawns. And wives complained of being neglected by husbands working outside—grass widowhood, no less.

The evidence was overwhelming to Demby; he decided the lawn is the biggest threat to American marriage today.

His first product suggestion—instant lawn. And within six months the company's chemists came up with it, too. It's a spray, he says, that chemically combines the grass blade itself—dead or brown or crabgrass—and permanently tints it a natural-looking green. It's supposed to stay that way, without washing out or rubbing off, until the next season.

"I didn't realize the danger a lawn is to the American home," Demby says with awe, "until I did my research. The lawn is a real marriage trap."

His grounds:

Wives with status drives—i.e., urges to keep ahead of the Joneses—insist their husbands work long, backbreaking hours on the lawn.

The husband comes back in the house grouchy, ready to fight, maybe all set up to use exhaustion as an excuse for not being affectionate to his wife. On top of that, often there's nothing to show for his labor. He has to wait for the grass to grow.

"Suburbanites don't have any fun," Demby says. "They spend all their time on lawns and gardens, and at the end of the year, what have they got?"

Demby, it follows, is not a man of soil. He says 10 years ago he owned a house, spent one day communing with grass and then asked himself why. He's been a devout apartment-dweller ever since.

"Why," he demands, "Do they suggest you use a fresh egg with packaged cake mix? It would work just as well with a powdered egg. But a woman wants to be rewarded for her own cake, and putting in the raw egg makes it hers."

He adds thoughtfully:

"But I don't think we ought to knock ourselves for doing whatever we can to make life less anxious and strained. Living without anxieties won't make us soft, but it will give us time for doing more important things. The less tired we are from the lawn, for instance, the more time and energy we have to kiss our wives, and the more fulfilled the wives will feel."

Some Foods Are Ideal

Lunch Needn't Fatten You

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If your job makes it necessary for you to eat lunch away from home, you will have to give thought to that meal or you will sabotage your effort to reduce, or even to hold that curve. Also, your lunch is important from the standpoint of good nutrition.

Yet it is possible to take a lunch with you which will be neither dreary nor fattening. For instance, you can take tomatoes, cucumber slices, raw carrots, celery or lettuce.

If you tire of these as noon-time vegetables, you can keep a bottle of low-calorie salad dressing and a small bowl at the office and mix a salad periodically.

* * *

MELBA TOAST LOW

Melba toast is very low in calorie count. A hard-cooked egg gives you only 75 calories. Fresh fruit is low in calorie count. If you drink milk at noon, make it skim milk or buttermilk. You can keep powdered, fat-free milk at the office, too, and mix it up in a glass. I take this on trips with me. If you like tea or coffee for lunch, keep a small box of artificial sweetening in your pocketbook or desk.

Most sandwiches have from about 200 to 250 calories each, that is, if you do not load on the dressing but use pickles and mustard or low-calorie mayonnaise. The best bets for the woman who is watching her weight are lean meat or fowl sandwiches.

Just a little bit of mayonnaise on the bread, or pickles or catsup will make them appetizing. Avoid the "salad" sandwiches.

* * *

If you like cottage cheese, this makes a good luncheon dish and has only 100 calories to three generous tablespoons.

SOME RULES

If you eat lunch at a lunch counter, the same rules hold. The canned soups (all except the cream soups) are surprisingly low in calorie count. For instance, vegetable soup — 65 calories; chicken noodle—95 calories; tomato—75 calories; beef—75 calories. You can ask for lettuce, mustard and pickle on your sandwich or ask for mayonnaise on the side so that you yourself can add it to your sandwich. OR, you could have a medium-sized, broiled hamburger on a roll, fresh fruit and buttermilk.

* * *

There is really no reason why eating lunch away from home should ruin your hopes for losing weight, but if you order a chocolate milk, an egg salad sandwich and end with a candy bar, that is a different and sad story.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet "Count Your Calories," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 36. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Interviews Scheduled

Gray Ladies to Be Sought

American Red Cross coordinators at Pontiac State Hospital will be looking for Gray Lady volunteers this week.

Beginning Monday, volunteers will be interviewed for one week in an effort to ultimately boost the force to 300 trained Gray Ladies.

Interviews will take place at the Pontiac Red Cross Chapter, 118 Franklin Blvd., from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. each day.

Interested persons may call the chapter for interview appointments.

More than 55 Red Cross Gray Ladies serve at Pontiac State Hospital, but many more are needed, according to Ted Panaretos, hospital director of community relations.

★ ★ ★

Registration for training will be held Oct. 4 at 1:30 p.m. at the chapter.

Sixteen hours of training by the hospital professional staff and the Red Cross will follow during October.

★ ★ ★

Special skills or talents are not needed, but are utilized when possible.

★ ★ ★

One of the lowest official temperatures ever recorded in the continental U. S. was 66 degrees below zero at the Yellowstone national park station in February 1933.

Powers Backs Russ on Story of Rocket

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians drew supporting evidence from Francis Gary Powers Friday for their story that a Soviet rocket felled his U2 jet as it sped over the Urals at 68,000 feet on May 1.

★ ★ ★

The imprisoned pilot said in a letter published by Pravda he didn't feel any blow (of a direct hit), but believes the plane was wrecked by the shock wave of an explosion that glowed as an orange burst in the rear "or maybe on the right."

★ ★ ★

Serving a 10-year sentence on conviction of espionage, Powers denied that he had ever told his father Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., that his plane was not downed by a rocket.

Navy Fires Polaris 700 Miles Down Range

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The Navy demonstrated the range versatility of its Polaris missile by successfully firing it over a 700-mile course Friday night.

The 700-mile range is considerably less than the 1,100-to 1,300-mile distances over which Polarises have been test-fired here in recent months.

Original Lennon Gang to Break Up Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Those wedding bells are breaking up that gang of singing Lennon sisters.

★ ★ ★

The four girls make their last appearance together tonight on the Lawrence Welk Show. The eldest, Diane, has announced her retirement from show business. Next month she is marrying Richard Gaff, telephone company worker.

But fans needn't worry. There are plenty more Lennons coming up.

★ ★ ★

Next Saturday, the ABC TV show will feature a whole new quartet: Danny, 10, Pat, 8, Billy, 6, and Mimi, 5. Their selection: "How Much Is That Doggie in The Window."

★ ★ ★

"They're not replacing the girls or anything like that," said Mrs. William Lennon, mother of the brood. "This is just a single performance, although they might appear with Mr. Welk once in a while.

"The youngsters are not big stars, but they're pretty good. The boys are still sopranos, of course, but they can sing harmony, and same as everyone in the family."

Mrs. Lennon said Diane's defection caused no alarm in the family.

★ ★ ★

"Becoming a wife is all she's ever thought about; she never considered singing as a career," Mrs. Lennon said. "She's very happy, and we're happy for her. I don't think she'll miss performing, although she may miss the fun of singing with her sisters."

★ ★ ★

Diane, 20, won't be replaced. Peggy, 19, Kathy, 17, and Janet, 14, will carry on as a trio.

The Lennon offspring learned their craft from father Bill, a singer in his own right. He is taking life easier since a slight heart attack, but he managed to keep their Venice home sounding like a chorale much of the time.

And just in case the new quartet needs replacements, he's warming up Joey, 3, Anne, 20 months, and Chris, 6 months.

Ex Post Facto With a Meter on the Post

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Judge Mike Machado returned an innocent verdict Friday after Jesse Garcia said he had parked his car near the edge of the business district on Aug. 17 along a clear stretch of curb and returned in less than two hours.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Garcia said, the city had dug a hole in the sidewalk, installed a parking meter and a policeman had put an overtime parking ticket on his auto's windshield.

A study conducted in England and Wales showed that bartenders had the highest incidence of heart deaths with barbers second and physicians third. Farmers had the lowest rate.

Auto Plants Boost Output This Week

DETROIT (UPI) — U.S. auto plants will turn out an 11-week high of 114,175 cars this week, Ward's Automotive Reports said Friday.

★ ★ ★

The statistical agency said all of the major producers will boost their production this week as output soars above the 85,879 cars turned out last week and the 91,341 produced in the same week a year ago.

Truck production, however, was down slightly from both last week and the same week a year ago. Output of 19,489 trucks compared with production of 20,341 last week and 22,781 in the same week a year ago.

The combined car-truck output for the week, 133,641, compared with a combined total of 106,220 last week and 114,122 in the same week a year ago.

So far this year the industry has turned out 5,749,468 cars and trucks, compared with 5,124,819 at the same time last year.

Meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening to draw up a proposed budget will be the session and board of trustees with Milton Patrick presiding.

Most Kissable Lips Decorate Sandra Dee

The most kissable lips in motion pictures belong to a blonde beauty who has just reached the age when she can go to work without a chaperone.

The lips are those of Sandra Dee, filmland's top teen actress who costars with Lana Turner, Anthony Quinn, John Saxon, Richard Basehart and Lloyd Nolan in "Portrait in Black," Universal-International's modern suspense melodrama now playing in the area.

The expert who terms here the most osculatory labials in Hollywood is Ray Jones, who has photographed every top glamor beauty of the movies for the past 35 years.

"I thought no film star could have more kissable lips than Clara Bow's until I photographed Lucille Ball," the veteran portrait artist explained. "Now I know that Sandra Dee, at the age of 18, has both of these glamor beauties topped."

★ ★ ★

Jones has photographed practically all of the most glamorous feminine stars of the past three decades, from Marlene Dietrich, Carole Lombard and Barbara Stanwyck to Joan Crawford, Lana Turner and Hedy LaMarr. His declaration that Sandra Dee topped all of these stars in the kissable lips department came after he had photographed the Universal-International star for her role in "Portrait in Black."

"Unlike perfect figures, which can be catalogued mathematically, kissable lips must be judged emotionally," Jones said.

"At the age of 59 and with 35 years of portraiture behind me, I can truthfully state that my judgment is more professional than personal. Nevertheless, I still know kissable lips when I see them, and Sandra Dee's are the greatest I've ever seen."

Oakland Ave. U. P. Sets Goal

Annual Sunday School Staff Banquet Friday; Award to Be Given

Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church has set a goal of 700 for the Rally Day attendance at 11:20 a.m. Sunday.

★ ★ ★

"I'm sure if all members pray, work, and invite people of all ages to come, we will attain this goal," said the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, pastor.

★ ★ ★

The topic for the morning message by the pastor will be "What the Bible Teaches About Miracles." His evening subject will be "Joy Restored."

The title of the Pioneer Youth Group at 8:45 p.m. will be "A Matter of Life or Death." The Builders subject will be "Facts of Faith" at the same time.

The Rev. Walter Teeuwissen Jr. of the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church will speak at the annual Sunday School staff appreciation banquet at 6:30 p.m. Friday.

An award will be presented the teacher who has done the most outstanding work in the Sunday School during the past year.

Another 'Eye' on the Strip

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Friday night televiewers will be spending more time on the Sunset Strip this season than the Hollywood playboys do.

★ ★ ★

Last night another detective show made its debut, giving the famed "Strip" more private eye protection than a Cuban Diplomat in Harlem.

"Seventy-Seven Sunset Strip" already is ensconced as a Friday night regular as is the Robert Taylor "Detectives" show.

The newcomer, "Dan Raven," indicated Efrem Zimbalist Jr. and Roger Smith of "77" fame have little to worry about.

★ ★ ★

Starring Skip Homeier in the title role, the NBC adventure drama will specialize in celebrity guest stars playing themselves. Last night it was singer Bobby Darin, next week it will be comic Buddy Hackett.

★ ★ ★

Lightweight performances and a too obvious plot — Darin is framed for murder by a jealous buddy — kept the pace slow in the opening segment which seemed better suited to a half hour than a full hour format.

Change U. S. Policy on Dominican Sugar

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strongly censured Dominican Republic will be allowed to sell heavy shipments of sugar to the United States.

★ ★ ★

The sales will make a sharp change in U.S. policy.

But American buyers will pay the Dominican Republic two cents less than they usually pay. This still will be about equal to the world market price.

The Agriculture Department and the State Department made the change in policy Friday. They authorized the purchase of 321,857 tons of sugar from the Dominican Republic. Most of it is needed to fill the Cuban quota cut by President Eisenhower last July.

Congress has authorized the President, if he cut the Cuban quota, to fill part of it by purchases from the Dominican Republic.

Antwerp Has Reasons to Ban Von Braun Film

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP) — Antwerp's municipal authorities today banned showing of the film "I Aim at the Stars," based on the life of rocket expert Wernher Von Braun.

Local patriotic organizations demonstrated in the streets, alleging Von Braun was responsible for construction of German V1 and V2 rockets which destroyed part of Antwerp near the end of World War II and killed 7,000 persons.

Of the 12 most serious U.S. fires, none of them have occurred on a Friday the 13th of a month.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meeker, D.V.M.

Q. Is it advisable and safe to have a seven-year-old dog spayed? She has been a kennel dog kept for breeding until recently. E. H. of St. Petersburg, Fla.

A. I believe any veterinarian who had a choice would prefer to spay the young dog. There is risk in any surgery that requires general anesthetic, and it is somewhat greater in the older female.

There is more danger in operating on the overweight dog, and shortnosed breeds, such as the boxer and bull dog, present an anesthetic problem with their breathing difficulty.

* * *

The female that has had many litters has larger veins and arteries supplying the female organs, and this provides a greater chance for post-operative hemorrhage.

Contrary as this may sound after the above warnings, when the older dog is pronounced healthy after a check-up, she usually survives this operation with no complications. As I said, all surgery involves risk, and it is up to you to make the decision.

To Join in Leadership

PARIS (AP) — Supreme Allied Headquarters has announced that the central army group headquarters at Heidelberg, West Germany, will change Oct. 1 from a purely American operation to an Allied operation, with French and German officers sharing in the command.

Reds to Write Their Version of 'My Day'

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union is calling for contributions to a book it says will depict a typical day in the life of the world in 1960.

The day it has chosen to chronicle is Sept. 27—25th anniversary of a similar book compiled in 1935 by Soviet author Maxim Gorky.

* * *

To date, Moscow radio and the Soviet press has given no indication that Sept. 27 will have any other significance—such as the day it might be planned to shoot a man into space.

* * *

But an official of the Soviet news agency Tass said in London today it is not beyond the realms of possibility that the Soviets might mark the day with some "notable achievement."

* * *

Moscow radio has several times repeated calls to its listeners throughout the world for contributions to the book—"The World in a Day No. 2."

Man-in-Space Race Unwise, Says Killian

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dr. James R. Killian said Friday night that the United States might be unwise in spending billions of dollars to launch a man into space.

* * *

Killian, board chairman of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, spoke at a conference on science and education in the United States and the Soviet Union.

He said the United States should pursue its own objectives in space science and exploration and "not let the Soviet choose them for us by copying what they do."

* * *

"It may be argued that our man in space program can hardly be justified except as a competitor with the Soviet man in space program for world prestige," Killian said.

Nixon to Speak in South Today

Believes Dem Rights Platform Has Made All Dixie a Battleground

EN ROUTE With Nixon (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon scheduled speeches in Louisiana and Mississippi today to wind up the second week of his intensified presidential election drive.

* * *

Associates said Nixon based his decision to make a fifth foray into the South on reports that the strong Democratic civil rights platform has made a battleground of virtually every Southern state.

* * *

He was to take the Republican drive into Louisiana for the first time with a speech at Lafayette. From there he was to fly to Jackson, the capital, in his first bid for Mississippi votes.

* * *

Nixon, speaking in Kansas City, Kan., Friday night, noted overcast weather outside and recalled the drizzling rain that fell intermittently during a major farm speech earlier in the day at Sioux Falls, S. D.

'POLITICAL CLIMATE OK'

But, he said, "as far as the political climate is concerned, it couldn't be better in either place."

* * *

Memorial Hall, seating 4,500, was filled to overflowing in Kansas City, the biggest Democratic stronghold in normally Republican Kansas. A crowd of 3,500 had waited for Nixon in the rain when he flew in from Sioux Falls.

* * *

The crowd in South Dakota was large, too. An enthusiastic National Guard official put it at 70,000, though most reporters thought the estimate far too high. Some figured it was upwards of 15,000.

But it was a crowd that was mostly silent, applauding loudest when Nixon spoke of peace as the most important campaign issue. The Dakotans showed little response when he talked about the nation's farm problem.

HE LAUGHS IN VEGAS — Frank Sinatra has a good laugh at Dean Martin's expense in a hilarious sequence from "Ocean's Eleven," a Dorchester Production for Warner Bros., now playing in the Pontiac area. The Technicolor comedy-melodrama has a colorful Las Vegas setting.

Sinatra's 1st Production

Backs 'Ocean's Eleven'

There were almost two years of planning and preparation before "Ocean's Eleve," Dorchester Production for Warner Bros., now playing in the Pontiac area, finally went before the Technicolor cameras.

It was no small feat to bring together the four-star talents of Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., and Peter Lawford, who top the impressive cast.

Because of their individual film commitments, nightclub and television appearances and recording contracts, it could never have been accomplished at all without persuasiveness and patience, the war friendship and personal regard each star has for the other and a mutual enthusiasm for the story idea.

* * *

"Ocean's Eleven" is the initial effort of Frank Sinatra's Dorchester Productions. While the multi-talented Sinatra was the guiding light behind the project, he draped the mantle of producer-director on the experienced shoulders of Lewis Milestone, whose career includes a creditable number of important pictures between "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Pork Chop Hill."

* * *

In addition to the four cast-toppers, the table of talent includes Angie Dickinson, Richard Conte, Caesar Romero, Patrice Wymore, Joey Bishop, Akim Tamiroff and Henry Silva in costarring roles, with cameo guest appearances by Red Skelton and George Raft.

Since the background of the story is chiefly Las Vegas, most of the scenes were actually filmed inside and out of such colorful playspots as the Sands, Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn, the Riviera, the Flamingo, the Riviera and other locations on the famous strip and the Nevada city proper.

An additional six weeks of activity at the Warner Bros. studios in Burbank, Calif., followed the location shooting.

The film's unusual title is derived from the attempts of 11 men to carry through what they consider a fool-proof plan to stage a daring coup of the gambling casinos in Las Vegas precisely on the stroke of midnight on New Year's Eve. Their leader is Danny Ocean, played by Frank Sinatra.

* * *

While it is an excitingly dramatic story, the various characterizations and incidental situations provide sufficient humor for the picture to be described as "a melodramatic comedy."

Tickets Selling for GOP Purse

Dinners Next Thursday Expected to Bring in $700,000 in State

LANSING (AP) — Advance ticket sales encourage Republican hopes of grossing $700,000 at fund-raising dinners next Thursday in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Flint and Lansing.

Top line speakers have been booked for each affair as part of a national effort embracing 60 dinners to be linked by closed television circuit featuring President Eisenhower as a speaker.

GOP state headquarters said Thursday 4,000 may attend the dinner at Flint, making it the largest political dinner ever held in the state.

* * *

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield will be honored at Flint, sharing speaking honors with Meade Alcorn, a former Republican committeeman.

Governor Nominee Paul D. Bagwell and State Chairman Lawrence B. Lindemer also will attend.

Thomas E. Dewey, an Owosso native and twice the GOP presidential nominee, will speak at the Detroit dinner. Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell will speak at Grand Rapids and former National Chairman Leonard Hall at Lansing.

Crawls Home After Wedding — Takes a Week

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — An African in his 60s lay on a hospital bed today and weakly related how he crawled for nearly one week over 10 miles of mountainous countryside after injuring himself in a fall of several hundred feet down a cliff.

* * *

While returning from a wedding Sept. 16, the man said, he slipped and plunged down a ravine.

It took him two days to clamber from the ravine. His injuries — internal and head wounds — were so bad he was unable to stand. He pulled himself yard by yard across rugged country to his home in Estcourt near here.

* * *

It is believed he kept alive by drinking from rain puddles and eating roots and foliage. His family had given him up for dead.

Parkers Score in 4th Quarter to Decide Issue

Northern Impressive on Defense Despite Being Much Smaller

By CHUCK ABAIR

Pontiac Northern came up with the type of defensive play it will need for a successful season but had little to offer on offense in a 7-0 setback to Hazel Park last night at Wisner Stadium.

The little Huskies played their much bigger Viking foes on even terms along the line most of the game before yielding the lone touchdown early in the 4th quarter.

Northern kept getting the ball but could do little with it as the net total of 67 yards gained clearly indicates.

Hard-running Dave Moczarski was the only PNH runner who could gain ground with any consistency. He was also excellent on defense.

* * *

Each team got one big break for the night with the difference being that the visitors made theirs count on the scoreboard.

Hazel Park recovered a fumble at the Northern 23 early in the final period and chalked up the TD in three plays. Dick Golinski, the top runner of the game, dashed for five and Bruce Daniel added three putting the pigskin at the 15.

Big 215-pound fullback Frank Stagg, who had been contained well by the Huskie forwards, started running wide and cut in to ramble into the end zone. He booted the extra point for a 7-0 lead with 8:18 to play.

* * *

Runs of 13 and 8 by Moczarski featured two successive PNH first downs at its own 43 with still 4:56 remaining. But the Viking line stiffened and forced a punt.

Shortly after Stagg put the home club back deeper in its own territory with a punt that totaled 61 yards. Four successive Norton passes failed to click and the visitors just ground out the remaining seconds.

Defensive specialist Winfred Miracle had given Northern its best chance in the second quarter when he intercepted a pass and returned it to the HP 29. Two quick Norton-to-Moczarski flips brought a first down at the 18 with 2:02 to go.

* * *

But an incomplete pass preceded two losses and a pileup ended what turned out to be the last real chance for the home crowd to cheer.

Hazel Park had made one serious threat to score in the first half on the only sustained drive of the contest moving from its own 39 to the Northern 13. Stagg almost went for a touchdown after fumbling a snapback on a punt setup. He fell over one of his teammates when it appeared he was getting in the clear.

Huskie coach Ed Heikkinen had nothing but praise for his charges in defeat. "We thought our kids played a good ball game," he said. He refused to single out any individuals along the line saying they all were outstanding as was Moczarski playing the backfield both on offense and defense.

Northern was weakened by the absence of starters John Erkiala, a tackle, and backs Mike Merwin and Jack McPeake due to recent injuries.

Hazel Park boss Chuck Skinner lauded Northern as a team "which should be rough in its league." His record is now 2-0.

Avondale Is 'Electrified' in 14-12 Loss; Orion Wins

By HERB PETERS

The Oakland "B" Conference race might not have been settled last night at Avondale, but Troy took a long step toward the title with a thrilling 14-12 "Little Brown Jug" victory over the Yellow Jackets.

The Colts barely clipped their arch rivals before an overflow crowd of 3,000 with two electrifying plays that came at the tail end of each half.

Dino Caza, a 168-pound thunderbolt whom Coach Bob McElreath labels "the best halfback in the state," scored all of Troy's points on two beautifully executed touchdown plays and two runs for the game-winning extra points.

At Lake Orion, the Dragons also made it known they will be in the Oakland B running by trimming Madison 27-6, while Fitzgerald was lacing Clawson.

* * *

Caza threaded his way through the entire Avondale team on an 87-yard gallop when only 57 seconds remained in the first half, and he ran the point to give Troy a 7-6 lead.

* * *

In the fourth period Shaw put Avondale ahead 12-7 with a four-yard smash that climaxed a 46-yard drive. But Troy stopped Mc-Donald's runs for the extra points after each touchdown.

* * *

Avondale had a great chance to move well ahead late in the second period. Taking the ball on their 19 after a punt, the Dales marched 80 yards to the Troy one-yard line where Gary Nelson's fumble was recovered by the Colts.

* * *

Davidson worked the ball out to the 13 with three successive quarterback sneaks, and then he sent Caza wide on his long touchdown run.

Dave Julien wasted no time for Lake Orion as he took the opening kickoff and raced 60 yards for the touchdown with Bucky Craven adding the point.

Madison failed to make the point after Dennis Hepp went off tackle 70 yards for a first quarter touchdown.

* * *

After that it was all Lake Orion. The Dragons made it 13-6 at halftime when Craven passed to Dave Perry 45 yards.

* * *

In the third quarter Julien picked up a fumble and went 15 yards with Roger Williams passing to Perry for the point.

* * *

In the final period Williams passed to Larry Thompson 30 yards for the score and he passed to Perry for the point.

Lake Orion will have a crucial league test at Fitzgerald next week.

Skippers Take 'Stale' Triumph Against Lapeer

Inter-Lakes Play Gets Started Next Week as Vikings Show Power

It didn't look like the same Waterford team that gave Pontiac Central a good battle a week ago, but the Skippers had enough to get by Lapeer last night, 12-7.

"We were kind of stale. We didn't play as good last night," said coach Dave Freeman.

With a 1-1 non-league mark, Waterford will jump in Inter-Lakes play next week against a good Southfield team which last night dropped its second non-league start to Ferndale, 33-20.

The Jays had two tough games to start, losing to Royal Oak Kimball last week.

Walled Lake meanwhile rolled to a 32-0 victory over Dearborn Lowrey. The Vikings scored the same number of points in beating Redford a week ago and no one has crossed their goal as yet.

The big game will pit Walled Lake at Pontiac Northern next Friday night.

Waterford struck fast against Lapeer. On the second play of the game Dick Shipman passed to Tom McArthur for a 60-yard touchdown.

Lapeer however led 7-6 at halftime when Tom Coulter went 30 yards with an intercepted pass.

In the third quarter Bob Newman capped a long march by sneaking six yards. On two other occasions the Skippers were stopped, once at the one and another time just a foot away.

Walled Lake had an easy time after taking a 26-0 halftime lead.

Gary Alderson went 3 yards after a 90 yard march and after Larry Hemming recovered a fumble on the 30, Keith Green ended the short drive with a three yard TD.

In the second quarter, Green passed to Bill Carter for a 40 yarder and Jim Webb went five yards for the 4th tally after getting possession on the Lowrey 31 following a fumble.

* * *

Phil McMillan kicked the two points. In the third quarter a 60 yard punt return by Mike Hinckley ended the scoring. All but three injured players got into the game for Walled Lake.

* * *

Southfield led 6-0 when Phil Svalya passed six yards to Tom Sweet in the first period, but Dorrie Reid went 80 yards on the ensuing kickoff and Mike Brown's point made it 7-6 for Ferndale.

Brown then passed to Joe Daniels and Bob Micheau went 60 yards as Ferndale led, 20-6 at halftime.

Svalya sneaked 8 yards to make it 20-13 with Fred Pearce point but Brown, one of the county's top quarterbacks this year, passed 25 yards for Ferndale's 4th TD.

Southfield climaxed its scoring when Svalya passed to Harry Hrdlicka and Pennes kicked the point.

Brown hit Bill Smarsky with another pass and added the point.

TD BOUND — Halfback Dennis Shaw of Avondale found himself in a dual-role last night as the Jackets lost to Troy, 14-12. For most of the game Shaw was the Avondale hero as he galloped for both touchdowns, but all the glory fell to the wayside when after catching a pass and racing 55 yards Shaw fumbled what would have been the winning touchdown. Troy recovered and held the ball for the victory.

NOTHING THERE—That's what Hazel Park's Dick Golinski learned late in the first half as he reaches for an apparent easy catch only to have Dave Moczarski make a leaping block of the ball. In the background are Larry Norman (83) of PNH and Parker Toni Book. The Vikings won 7-0 sparked by Gelinski.

Lions' Coaches on Expedition to Green Bay

Detroit Lions Coach George Wilson heads for Green Bay, Wis. tomorrow to scout the Packers' National football league season opener against the Chicago Bears.

The scouting expedition, Wilson hopes, will aid the Lions coaches in their strategy planning sessions for Oct. 2.

* * *

That's the day the Lions open their NFL season against Green Bay. The Lions were 2-3-1 in exhibition play while Green Bay won all six of its pre-season games.

Apparently, coach Wilson already has a trick or two up his sleeve. He's ordered secret practices when the Lions move into Briggs Stadium Monday.

Berkley Bears Down PNH Thinclads 47-15

The PNH thinclads saw a strong Berkley team defeat them 47-15 in a cross country meet at Berkley Thursday night.

* * *

Ed Murray, outstanding 2-miler for the Huskies, did not run being bothered by a bad sideache just before the meet. Gary Holtz of Northern substituted for Murray and took a sixth place. Holtz was the only Huskie to score.

* * *

Steve Meyer of Berkley won first place honors in a time of 10:36 followed closely by four team members who shut out the Huskies.

Finishing order for the Pontiac Northern-Berkley cross country meet: Meyer (B), Gilbert (B), Roumes (B), Underwood (B), Matley (B), Holtz (PN), Landuoy (B), Williams (PN), Scholl (B), Twichel (PN), Lorenzen (PN), Henson (PN), Wade (PN).

South Lyon Falls, 26-12

Halfback Albert Wells went 35 yards for one score and caught two touchdown passes to lead Romulus to a 26-12 victory over South Lyon.

* * *

South Lyon's TD's came on 27 and 25 yard pass plays from Jack Wren to Dave Taylor. Another South Lyon touchdown was nullified early in the third quarter on a 15 yard holding penalty.

Romeo Beats Clintondale, 20-0

Rochester Rocks Farmington, 27-7

Bob Morris, a surprise starter just a week ago, sparked Rochester to victory for the second straight time yesterday afternoon at Farmington.

Romeo was also a Tri-County winner in a non-league game, beating Clintondale 20-0.

Morris scored three touchdowns in leading Rochester to a 27-7 triumph, and was both an offensive and defensive standout throughout the contest.

Coach Gene Konley hesitated until nearly gametime before naming Morris as the starting right half in the season's opener last week at Utica.

The mild-mannered senior responded by running 94 yards for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage to start the Falcons off to victory.

Yesterday there was no question about either of Morris's starting and starring roles.

The 160-pound speedster broke a 7-7 the midway in the second period when he intercepted a pass on the 50-yard line and sprinted down the sideline for a touchdown.

Rochester took a commanding 21-7 halftime lead a few moments later on a 67-yard touchdown scamper by Morris. Then to top off the stellar afternoon, Morris grabbed a seven-yard pass from Jake Kostecki in the end zone early in the fourth quarter.

* * *

Farmington opened the scoring in the first period, converting a fumble recovery on the Rochester 21 yard line into a quick touchdown. On the fifth play George Becker rammed over from one yard out and Jim Wall placekicked the extra point.

Rochester started it drive on the Farmington 46 late in the first period and scored the tying points early in the second. Dan Lickert smashed four yards for the TD and then plunged for the first of three straight extra points that period.

Lickert also lost a touchdown in the third period when a clipping penalty nullified his 85-yard run after intercepting a pass on the 15-yard line.

* * *

Romeo marched 57 yards from the opening kickoff with Phil Schoof going the last five to get the jump on Clintondale. Ron Walker tossed an 18-yard scoring pass to Bill Trieloff for a third period touchdown after Tom Lomakoski recovered a fumble on the Clintondale 23. Mike McKeogh placekicked the extra point.

* * *

Chris Fowler's 40-yard punt return to the 22 set up the final Romeo touchdown in the fourth quarter. Walker passed 13 yards to Fowler as the Bulldogs moved to the five, and Ted Thiel scored from there on an end around play.

* * *

Earl Peeples had another big night as L'Anse Creuse waltzed past Harper Woods, 26-0. He scored twice and accounted for 195 of his team's 330 net yards. Bob Wilson, who threw a TD pass, and Aaron Arnair added TDs.

Birmingham Wins Second by Beating Kimball, 13-0

Birmingham Seaholm opened its bid for the Eastern Michigan League title last night by trimming Royal Oak Kimball 13-0 on the Royal Oak gridiron.

* * *

Steve Jacobsen, Birmingham's speedy halfback scored both touchdowns in the first half as the Maples got all their points before intermission.

* * *

Jacobsen capped two long drives with three yard TD's and Jim Stephenson added the point.

Late in the game Jacobsen raced 80 yards to the 15 before getting knocked out of bounds.

* *

Kimball penetrated to the Maple 10 yard line on one occasion but could not reach pay dirt.

Another EMI team, East Detroit lost its second non-league encounter by falling to rival Roseville, 14-9.

East Detroit led 9-0 after Bob Marasco's 23 yard touchdown run in the first quarter. Later in the 2nd period center Bob Henke hit the Roseville ball carrier in the end zone for the safety.

In the second half Larry Frazho went 9 yards and McCleese 41 yards for Roseville score.

Late in the game a lone East Detroit pass receiver dropped the ball in the end zone for what would have been the winning TD.

* * *

It was a rough game with 120 yards in penalties on East Detroit and 115 on Roseville.

Birmingham travels to meet Hazel Park, unbeaten in two non-league games, next week.

VENICE, Italy (AP)—American horseman Bill Steinkraus, injured in a fall in the final of the World Equestrian Jumping Championships, was in good spirits today at Venice's Lido Hospital.

In a bedside interview, the 34 year-old stock analyst from Westport, Conn., said he tumbled from the British horse Sunsalve while jumping over a water obstacle Thursday because he lost control of the mount.

Central Shooting for 2nd Football Win Here Tonight

Chiefs Are Host to Wyandotte Gridders at 8

Wisner Game Final 'Tuneup' for Rugged Valley Play

Pontiac Central will have the local football spotlight all to itself tonight getting away from the usual Friday games to play at home on a Saturday.

The Chiefs will entertain Wyandotte at 8 at Wisner Stadium seeking their second victory of the new campaign.

Central tripped Waterford 13-0 a week ago while the Dottes were getting by Trenton.

Working hard under new coach Paul Dellerba, the PCH contingent will be favored to continue the past mastery of Wyandotte although a closer game is anticipated than the 40-13 rout of two years ago and last season's 20-7 tilt.

* * *

This will be the last of a series of games between the schools because of the addition of schools to the Saginaw Valley League next fall and WHS will be out to salvage something from the meetings.

The Chiefs looked good at times in beating Waterford. Fast sophomore Andy Roach scored on an interception and veteran Dick Macauley handled the TD scoring.

Macauley personally accounted for 144 of Central's 205 yards averaging 6.5 per try.

* * *

New coach Dave Kragthorpe will be out to stay unbeaten at Wyandotte.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Brunette Fay Crocker and blonde Bonnie Randolph posted 71-under-par 70s Friday to take the first round lead in the $6,500 San Antonio Civitan Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Crocker, a compact swinger from Montevideo, Uruguay, turned in a 35-35—70 over the 6,400-yard Brackenridge course.

Willowy Miss Randolph, using a longer swing, rapped in 15-foot birdies on the 13th and 17th holes for a 37-33—70.

Mickey Wright long-hitting San Diego, Calif., star, matched par with a 38-33—71 for third place.

The leaders:
Fay Crocker	35-35—70
Bonnie Randolph	37-33—70
Mickey Wright	38-33—71

Keego, Barons and Clarkston Win

Holly Ends Long Northville Streak

Northville's dominance of the new season and set up the possible Wayne-Oakland League race in football came to a sudden halt last night when Holly ended a winning streak which had reached 32 for the Mustangs with a 13-7 triumph.

The game highlighted a full loop schedule on the first night of the season.

West Bloomfield romped at Clarenceville 26-6, Bloomfield Hills outscored bigger Brighton 21-14 and Clarkston won at Milford 27-14 completing a sweep for visiting teams in the W-O.

It was a fellow who quit the team recently and then changed his mind who sparked the big Holly victory.

* * *

Roger Hall scored both touchdowns. The first was from the four-yard line ending an 80-yard march. He went over from the 3 in the 3rd period following a pass interception. Bob Enis, who averaged over 6 yards before he was injured early in the 2nd half, scored the other points. Tom Darling tallied for the losers on a screen pass play.

* * *

West Bloomfield piled a 14-0 lead and coasted along. Jack Newton accounted for 14 of the points while sub back Jim Watking garnered the other two.

An interception started Clarenceville on its way to a lone TD in the final minutes to avoid a shutout.

* * *

Bloomfield Hills got an outstanding performance from Biff Jones. Losing coach Bob Walcott had high praise for the talented halfback.

The senior scored two TDs in the final period to help his mates come from behind. He went 12 to help tie the score after a blocked punt and later plunged into pay-dirt after going 15 yards to the one-foot line. Jones had passed to Bill Pettibone for the first score. Randy Marx and Max Pearsall got the Brighton six pointers.

Clarkston showed good offensive punch again topped by Willie Knox, who had touchdowns on runs of 40 and 24 yards. Mike Applegate and Bob Thomas added the other TDs. Mike Russell threw scoring pitches to Dick Nichols and Gary Anderson.

SHORT LIVED — The glee shown by the Pontiac Northern cheerleaders last night was short-lived. The Huskies drove down to the Hazel Park 18 yard line for a first down in the second quarter. The Red and White of PNH was in its glory but when it was all over Hazel Park won, 7-0.

Mid-November Sun Scheduled for Echo

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Echo satellite will be back in full sunlight and visible on all its night-time passes about the earth from Mid-November to early January.

* * *

However, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Friday, Echo will be making most of its nighttime passes in the Southern Hemisphere for the next few months. It will be seen in the Northern Hemisphere only occasionally.

* * *

At present the satellite is in the earth's shadow for about 22 minutes during each orbit. This period of darkness will increase until Nov. 1, then rapidly decrease until mid-November, when it will be in full sunlight for 50 days.

The 100-foot balloon sphere had completed 513 trips around the earth by Friday, traveling more than 14 million miles.

SPARKS UPSET — Roger Hall, a fellow who had quit the team and then changed his mind, paced Holly to a 13-7 upset victory at Northville last night by scoring both touchdowns. The Mustangs had won 32 straight Wayne-Oakland games.

Suburban Catholic Openers Sunday

The lid comes off the Suburban Catholic League race tomorrow afternoon with two local contests featured.

St. Michael will take over Wisner Stadium as host to St. Clement while Orchard Lake St. Mary entertains St. Rita.

St. Frederick travels to Highland Park to battle defending champ St. Benedict, and Royal Oak St. Mary expects to extend a long losing string against St. James.

The Shamrocks gained a lot of confidence and a good showing in defeat at West Bloomfield last week featuring such youngsters as Larry Sonnenberg and Charlie Daul, vet Al Tunny and several others.

* * *

It is a rebuilding year at St. Fred and coach Tom Kennedy has had trouble forming a starting unit around quarterback Jim Kennedy—his son.

Orchard Lake has the nucleus of another good team but may have star back Glen Hass available only for limited service.

The Eaglets will be piloted by Stan Krogulecki. He was one of the area's top passers last fall as a junior.

* * *

St. James should get rolling on the right side of the ledger against once-beaten RO St. Mary.

St. Benedict is the defending champion but St. Clement ranks as the favorite this fall.

Coach Tom Kennedy's Rams, Orchard Lake and St. James will be playing their first games.

Seaholm Thinclads Win

Birmingham Seaholm handed a cross-country defeat to Hazel Park 21-35 last night on Birmingham's course.

Jock McPhee of Seaholm and Ted Egner of Hazel Park tied for first place in a time of 10:45.8. Close behind were Maples Mike Geer and Bill Haydon.

Reserve score was 19-40 Seaholm, with Kim Batman taking honors.

One Foot a Long Distance for Dryden in 12-7 Loss

Armada and Brown City played to a 0-0 standstill.

Four plays later, Dryden gave up the ball on the 10 yard line and New Haven went on to score a 12-7 victory in a Southern Thumb League game.

In other league action, Capac led by two long runs by Pat Owens defeated Almont, 13-6 and

New Haven's first touchdown was a one yard sneak by Tom Griffin. In the third quarter Joe Koczuk went 95 yards.

Dryden's touchdown was a 30 yard pass play in the 4th quarter.

Owens went 40 yards for Capac's first TD, and 50 yards on the other.

Brown City managed to get to the Armada five in the second quarter and Armada penetrated to the 13 as the two teams played a slow defensive game.

OPEN TOMORROW — The St. Frederick Rams open their 1960 season tomorrow afternoon at St. Benedict led by veteran quarterback Jim Kennedy (85). His center is Frank Presto.

Ortonville Takes Air to Beat Oxford, 21-12

There was reason to celebrate in Ortonville last night and today.

Quarterback Pat Barrick led Ortonville with pin point passing to upset Oxford 21-12 on the loser's gridiron.

The victory was only the second in the last 20 games for Ortonville. In fact, the Blackhawks scored only 13 points all last season and were held scoreless in the opener in losing 13-0 last week. So last night's point total was more than was produced total in the last nine games.

* * *

In the first period Barrick hit Lee Hotchkiss with a 34 yard touchdown pass and Doug Moors added the point for a 7-0 lead. This ended the first half scoring.

Oxford warmed up in the third quarter with Ray Converse going one yard and Paul Koerner two yards to take a 13-7 lead.

In the 4th quarter, starting on its own five yard line, Ortonville took a 14-12 lead when Harrish and Moors teamed for a 68 yard tally.

* * *

A few minutes later Barrick again passed to Hotchkiss 22 yards and that was the game as Moors added both points.

Oxford drove to the 25 yard line as the game ended.

In another South Central League game, powerful Imlay City rolled over North Branch 41-0. The Imlay team has now scored 91 points in two games and has been unscored upon.

* * *

Roger Lomerson went 36 yards and passed 33 yards to Bob Maison for a pair of touchdowns. Jerry Nagy scored twice on two and 24 yard runs and Paul Godo scored a pair on seven and 25 yard runs.

Millington played a non-league game against Mayville and won 42-6 with Mike Zink getting two scores and two points. Other scores were by Chuck Howard, Phil Secord and Dave Cobb.

WILDCAT TAMER — Pat Barrick went to Oxford last night and tamed those Wildcats. He led Ortonville to a 21-12 victory with three touchdown passes.

Cards, White Sox Still Breathing in Pennant Races

From Our Wire Services

As long as there's breath there's hope and the Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Cardinals are still breathing in the American and National League pennant races.

Bob Buhl and Ernie Broglio, a couple of right-handers who have given Pittsburgh trouble all season, now have combined to keep the Pirates' long aged pennant champagne on ice.

The Bucs, who have waited 33 years for a National League pennant party, have to wait a bit longer after Buhl pitched a five-hitter that gave the now dead Milwaukee Braves a 2-1 victory and ended Pittsburgh's winning streak at six Friday night.

That left the Pirates with six games to play and a magic number of 1 over the second-place Cardinals, who stayed alive with a pair of 5-1 afternoon victories at Chicago. Broglio won the opener of the doubleheader with a five-hitter against the Cubs for his 21st victory, tying Milwaukee's Warren Spahn for the major league lead.

It was Buhl's third victory over Pittsburgh in four decisions. He and Broglio, who won the Cards' final game with the Pirates for a 4-0 record against the ——, are the only two pitchers who have beaten Pittsburgh three times as starters this season.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals, trailing by six games with eight games left, have only a ghost of a chance to catch the Pirates, however, even after winning six of their last seven and 14 of 18. Any combination of two Pirate victories, a Buc victory and a Cardinal defeat, or a pair of St. Louis losses — wraps up Pittsburgh's first flag since 1927! and pops the champagne.

Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati 6-1 in the only other NL game scheduled.

In the American League, the New York Yankees won their seventh in a row and reduced their magic number to 4 with a 8-1 victory at Boston. Chicago's second-place White Sox, who trail by 4½ games, won 7-0 at Cleveland. Washington left only a flicker of hope for Baltimore by beating the Orioles 6-0.

The Yankees have 6 games left, Chicago 7 and Baltimore 8. Vic Early Wynn, also considered finished at 37, at 38 and at 39, who was the winner, pitching a seven-hitter for his 284th career victory and 46th shutout.

Any combination of New York victories and Chicago defeats totaling 4 eliminates the second-place White Sox. The Yankees' combination is 2 over the third-place Orioles.

The Yankees, shut out on five hits by Bully Muffett 6-4 for seven innings, came from behind in five-run eighth, which began with an error by shortstop Don Buddin. A double by Hector Lopez tied it 1-all, and Roger Maris then broke it up with a single. New York sent 11 men to the plate in the rally, collecting six hits and a walk.

Bob Turley, removed for a pinch-hitter in the spurt, was the winner for a 9-3 record after giving up three hits and an unearned run. Bobby Shantz mopped up.

The White Sox rolled behind Wynn 13-10 with Ted Kluszewski hitting a home run and driving in three runs, and Minnie Minoso rapping a pair of RBI doubles. Minoso was elected in the ninth, when he threw his bat at reliever Frank Funk after a knockdown pitch. Rookie Stan Johnson batted for Minnie and belted his first home run. Barry Latman 7-6 was the loser against his former mates as Wynn retired 10 in a row and allowed just one hit over the last five frames.

U. S. Davis Cup Pair in Coast Semi-Finals

LOS ANGELES (AP) — America's 1-2 hopes in the Davis Cup—Barry MacKay of Dayton and Earl Buchholz of St. Louis—have slammed their way into the semi-finals of the Pacific Southwest International Tennis Championships.

They joined Brooklyn's Ron Holmberg and Mike Franks of Beverly Hills, Calif. Buchholz faces Franks in the semifinals and MacKay plays Holmberg.

Buchholz advanced Friday by beating Ramsey Earnhart of Ventura, Calif., 6-2, 6-4, while MacKay overcame Charles McKinley, St. Louis, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

Stands Empty as Tigers Lose, 4-1

Athletics Win as 1,050 Fans Watch Contest

Jim Bunning Handed 14th Loss as Garver Gains Victory

DETROIT (AP) — "We should' a stayed home" was a common complaint at Briggs Stadium yesterday where two second-division baseball teams played to an audience of 1,050 Detroit fans.

★ ★ ★

Apparently, most people did prefer staying home rather than watch the sixth place Detroit Tigers drop a 4-1 decision to last place Kansas City. At least, that's what the story was up in the bleachers.

At game time, only 24 people, including the cop on duty, were settled down on their bleacher perches. And things didn't get much better as the cool, overcast afternoon progressed.

First of all, it was a former Tiger pitcher, Ned Garver, who handcuffed his ex-teammates for this third victory against eight defeats. Garver gave up only four hits, one of them a home run by Rocky Colavito — his 32nd of the year.

★ ★ ★

Jim Bunning, who was tapped with his 14th loss against 10 wins, held the Athletics scoreless for four innings. But they went out in front in the fifth when Bill Tuttle's triple scored Pete Daley, Tuttle is another former Tiger.

Dick Williams made it 2-0 in the sixth with his 12th home run of the season into the upper deck stands. Then, Jerry Lumpe scored in the eighth on a double by Williams.

The A's got one more run for good measure in the ninth on Daley's single, Garver's sacrifice and Tuttle's single.

Garver struck out four and walked two. The Tigers threatened only twice — in the third and sixth innings when they put two men on base.

★ ★ ★

Bunning, who had three strikeouts to lift his season total to 200, one shy of his league-leading 1959 total, commented:

★ ★ ★

"It looked like the only guy who was trying on either side was Ned Garver."

★ ★ ★

Both teams will have a chance to try again today. Kansas City's Dick Hall (7-12) and Detroit's Bob Bruce (3-6) are scheduled to pitch.

Grid Cards Beat Los Angeles, 43-21

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Reserve quarterback John Roach fired four touchdown passes in the second half and St. Louis exploded for 33 points Friday night as the Cardinals rolled to a 43-21 victory over the Los Angeles Rams in the opening game of the National Football League season.

★ ★ ★

A crowd of 47,648 watched as the transplanted Chicago team came from behind in the third quarter. The Cards scored 19 points on two touchdowns, two conversions, a field goal and a safety. It was the first time the Cardinals had beaten the Rams since 1951.

★ ★ ★

Roach, formerly of Southern Methodist and now in his third year in pro ball, threw touchdown passes to John David Crow for 52 yards, and three to Sonny Randle for 57, 37 and 24 yards. King Hill quarterbacked the Cards in the first half.

The Rams now have lost their opening NFL game for the last three seasons.

★ ★ ★

Ram quarterbacks Billy Wade and Frank Ryan were tormented all night by the rushing Cardinal defense, spearheaded by ex-Ram Frank Fuller, with Luke Owens adding his assistance.

Roach came into the game late and passed 54 yards to rookie end Carroll Dale. Dale gave the Ram fans one of their few bright moments with a brilliant one hand running catch of the throw.

★ ★ ★

The Ram quarterbacks were smeared eight times for 79 yards lost trying to pass. The Los Angeles ball carriers were held to a mere 50 yards running.

Roach completed six out of 13 passes for 305 yards with one intercepted.

★ ★ ★

Racing the clock is becoming a habit with the New York Titans of the American Football League.

★ ★ ★

The Titans, who lost to Boston last week when a last-minute blocked punt resulted in a Patriots' touchdown, beat the Denver Broncos 28-24 Friday night with a carbon-copy play as Roger Donnahoo gambled 10 yards for the winning score with time running out.

★ ★ ★

The play started with Denver's George Herring dropping back to punt from the 13 with 16 seconds left to go. He got the kick off but charging Nick Mumley deflected it to the side where Donnahoo was standing.

★ ★ ★

In the other game on the AFL's split Friday-Sunday program, the Buffalo Bills won their first by upsetting the Patriots 13-0.

The Eastern Division leading Houston Oilers meet the Oakland Raiders and the Los Angeles Chargers invade Dallas for a clash with the Texans in Sunday's action.

The Bills' Tommy O'Connell came off the bench on the third play and pitched a surprise 58-yard scoring aerial to Carl Smith, then left it up to the defense to hold off the numerous Boston probes into Buffalo territory.

★ ★ ★

The final Buffalo touchdown came on Wray Carlton's 2-yard plunge as the Patriots, highly touted in pre-season ratings, dropped their second in three games.

Big Ten Teams Have Formidable Foes Today

By The Associated Press

The Big Ten opens its football campaign today with a "no count" game involving Illinois and Indiana while eight other teams test non-conference opposition.

★ ★ ★

The game at Champaign finds Illinois a two-touchdown favorite but the interesting factor is how Indiana will react against conference foes since its games will not count in the standings. The Hoosiers are being penalized for alleged recruiting violations.

Other games find Oregon State at Iowa, Oregon at Michigan, Michigan State at Pittsburgh, Minnesota at Nebraska, Northwestern at Oklahoma, Southern Methodist at Ohio State, UCLA at Purdue and Wisconsin at Stanford.

With the exception of Northwestern being a one-point underdog at Oklahoma, Big Ten teams are either favored or even-money against an array of formidable opponents.

Michigan State and Pittsburgh are figured even in their nationally televised contest as is the Wisconsin-Stanford game. Minnesota is a two-point favorite, Michigan and Purdue are rated six points better than foes, Iowa is picked by 11 over Oregon State and Ohio State is being touted 12 points better than Southern Methodist.

Notre Dame, installed a three-touchdown favorite over California, opens its 72nd football season Saturday before 80,000 fans, Irish Coach Joe Kuharich, who had a 5-5 record in his first season at his alma mater last year, tabs the 1960 campaign as one of question marks.

The Bruins of UCLA, 8-7 upsetters of Pittsburgh last week, will try to cut Purdue's 10-game string of home football victories in the Boilermakers' opener Saturday. About 40,000 fans are expected.

Purdue figured to be able to maintain its high defensive standard with a veteran line outweighing the Bruins about 10 pounds per man.

Rice, with only two victories recorded the past two seasons, opens its 1960 campaign Saturday night against a Georgia Tech team which Stan Gann has caused to become pass-minded.

A crowd of 40,000 is expected to see the first meeting in history between the two engineering schools. Tech is a five-point favorite over the Owls.

Michigan, seeking to improve on its 1959 record of four wins and five losses, will make its season debut with a starting line-up of 10 lettermen led by an untested sophomore quarterback, 19-year old Dave Glinka of Toledo, Ohio.

Oregon Coach Len Casanova, whose terms are 11th ranked in the nation last year, will field a swift team under the guidance of signal caller Dave Grosz, who was among the nation's top 20 passers in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State, a co-favorite with Illinois to grab the Big Ten title, will throw five Pennsylvania boys against Pitt.

Among those slated to start are fullback Ron Hatcher, a hard-hitting power runner from Carnegie, and guard George Azar, moving up to the varsity after a good freshman year.

This is the fifth meeting between the teams with Pitt yet to grab a decision. In the last outing in 1958 the Spartans trampled the Panthers 22-8.

Ohio State's football team will have a new look Saturday as they launch the 1960 campaign against the Southern Methodist Mustangs.

The beef and brawn have given way to sleekness and speed, and the famed "four yards and a cloud of dust" offense has been trilled up with a few bits of trickery.

★ ★ ★

The Texas team, shorn of much of last year's talent, dropped a surprising 20-0 game to Missouri last Saturday in which fumbles and pass interceptions played a big part. Despite the outcome, the Buckeyes aren't expecting a picnic since a half-dozen sophomores will be on the offensive unit of Coach Woody Hayes' new platoon system.

Soph Tailback Is Real Cyclone Against Titans

DETROIT — If any sophomore ever broke in as a future all america, it's Dave Hoppmann, a spindly-legged tailback, the heavy duty man for Iowa State.

It was a one-man show by Hoppmann last night that lifted the ambitious cyclones to their second easy 1960 victory, a 44-21 lacing of Detroit.

The 20-year-old Madison, Wis., youngster, who weighs only 171 pounds, scored three touchdowns and passed 81 yards for another. He gained 224 yards rushing and 96 more passing for a total of 320 — a good game's output for an entire football team.

Coach Clay Stapleton, unhappy with the Cyclones' over-all performance against surprisingly stubborn Detroit, was profuse in his praise of the soph star.

★ ★ ★

"I can't say enough about Hoppmann," said Stapleton, a pessimist by nature. "He was nothing short of being great. It was the best performance I've ever had out of a back."

★ ★ ★

Hoppmann, just two varsity games out of high school, now has contributed to seven Iowa State touchdowns in his two college games.

The frail-looking 6-foot-1 youth riddled Detroit's defenses with his deceptive running and unerring passing. Hoppmann started the cyclones off the second time they had the ball with a 51-yard scoring pass to Don Webb.

In the second quarter, he slithered 49 yards for his first touchdown on a play Stapleton called "The Sally Rand." It's a play on which Hoppmann runs all alone, a take off on the naked reverse, with the blocking and faking moving the opponent the other way. It was Iowa State's money play all game, setting up touchdowns after Detroit fought back for a 21-21 tie early in the third quarter.

Detroit, in its first game with a predominantly green team, made it tough for 40 minutes. The Titans trailed 21-7 in the second quarter and fought back to tie it before going under.

★ ★ ★

Coach Jim Miller was encouraged by the Titans' showing.

"We kept them in trouble for three quarters and I liked the way we came back," Miller said. "We moved the ball on the ground pretty well, but made too many of those first game mistakes."

Two fumbles and a blocked punt were cashed in by Iowa State for three touchdowns.

Tim Post, a speedy right halfback from Coldwater, was the Titans' offensive standout. He gained 58 yards on 6 carries.

Jerry Gross, a former Bay City all-stater, made his quarterback debut with Detroit in the final minutes. Gross completed one of four passes for no yardage.

Gresham Is Unanimous

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's contender for a lightweight championship bout, Gene Gresham, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Algeria's Labouari Godih at Olympic Stadium Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Referee Lou Jallos credited Gresham with every round over the former French champion.

★ ★ ★

Emmanuel Loses Second Straight on Road, 32-12

Coming to life in the last half, Emmanuel Christian bowed New Boston Huron 32-19 Friday afternoon.

The Lancers trailed 20-0 before Tom Sutton tallied the school's first varsity touchdown on a pass from Bruce Yuille. The latter flipped to Larry Goldsworth for six more later.

Yuille and Goldsworth were the key men on offense while Bill Snow headed the 20.

Jersey Golfers in Quarterfinal of Senior Meet

OSTERVILLE, Mass. (AP) — Favorite Mike Cestone of Jamesburg, N.J., and fellow Garden State entry J. Wolcott Brown Friday advanced to the quarterfinals of the sixth annual U. S. Seniors Golf Championship.

★ ★ ★

Among the victims in the latest Course was medalist Stuart Rockey of Los Angeles.

Rockey, 65-year-old real estate appraiser, was upset by David Rose, 58-year-old leather businessman from Cleveland, 4 and 3.

The Los Angeles veteran won only two holes, the first and the next-to-last 14th.

HIS HANDWORK — Ray Lingle is understandably proud of the pine hutch cabinet he made for this new home. It stands in a place of importance, at one end of the living room, just across the hallway from the dining room. A young shop teacher, Lingle has put his talent to good use in building both home and some furniture.

IN AUBURN MANOR — The Ray Lingles built this beige ranch home on Nichols Drive in Auburn Manor No. 1. They've lived in it since last Thanksgiving. Window and door trim are brown, except for the bright splash of coral that is the garage door. Planters match the chimney, are buff brick. The Lingles' lot is 120 by 296 feet.

Ray Lingles Build Ranch Home in Auburn Manor

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Remember Thursday, September first, the day we had that violent wind and rain storm? That's the day we were out at the Ray Lingle home in Auburn Manor. In fact, the exterior shot was taken just before the storm struck.

★ ★ ★

The Lingles are a young couple who planned and built their own home. Lingle teaches drafting and shop in Troy and is more experienced than many men who build their houses.

His father, his father-in-law and some of his students helped with the work which took about 4 months. Moving day was at Thanksgiving time last year.

Mrs. Lingle is a school secretary. Other inhabitants of the ranch home are a pair of tiger cats, Hans and Fritz; and a handsome German shepherd pup, Candy.

The Lingles lot on Nichols Drive is 120 by 296 feet. The exterior of the house is beige siding with buff brick fireplace and planter boxes. Trim is brown, except for the garage door which is coral.

FLAG COLORS

Living room and dining room are done in red, white and blue. Walls are blue, draperies are white and accessories are red. In the living room the floor is carpeted in black and white tweed. The dining room floor is polished oak with a blue braided rug under the table.

The divider wall at the right of the front door has bookcases and space for the TV on the living room side. The vestibule has a slate floor with a sliding door closed at one side.

There's a grayish white ledge rock fireplace at the end of the living room. Fittings are brass. Throw pillows on the hearth and on the sofa are bright red. So are the scatter rugs.

Next to the fireplace is a pine rocker with documentary print upholstery. The sofa and matching chair are gray.

Next to the hallway leading to the bedrooms is a pine hutch Lingle made. The workmanship is beautiful.

On the other side of the hallway there's a piano in the dining room. The dining room table has double sawhorse-type legs. It and the chairs are black. There are red backs and seat on the chairs. Over the table is a hobnail light figure.

★

The kitchen is L-shaped. There's a small lavatory close to the back door. Walls are aqua except for the soffit and one wall which have aqua, brown and white paper.

★

The floor is covered with beige linoleum that has triangles of red, yellow, aqua and brown. Counter tops are white with gold flecks.

Cabinets are natural birch. A wooden valance continues across the window over the sink. Below is a white dotted swiss ruffle. The oven is set into the wall which has been covered with a light weight brick-like material.

★ ★ ★

In the el there is a yellow and black breakfast set. Near this is the hallway to the basement, the doors to the back yard and the garage.

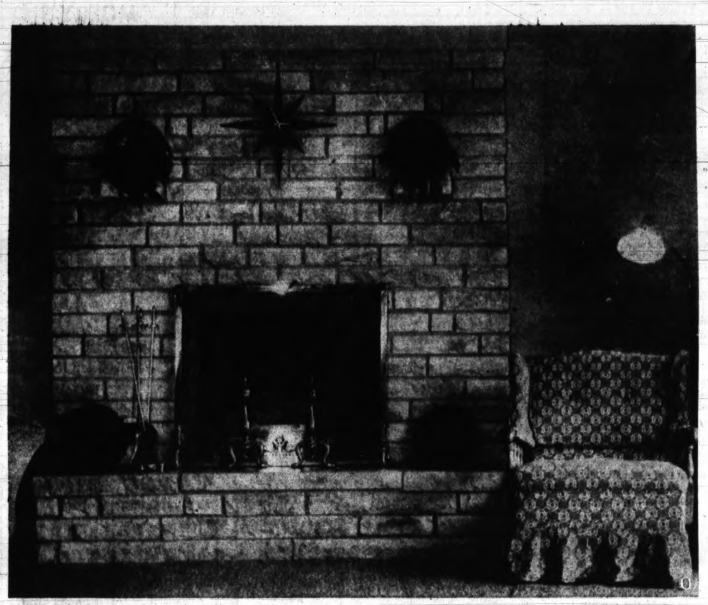

The bathroom is long and narrow. Everything is pink and white. The long vanity has white Formica on the top with wavy pink lines. Around the tub white tiles are laid.

The first bedroom is used as a den. In here is an old organ that has been in Mrs. Lingle's family for 65 years. It is in excellent condition. She has another family heirloom; a little picture that is over a century old. Walls in here are green.

The guest room has white walls and orchid woodwork. Curtains, the bedspread and scatter rugs are purple.

In the master bedroom walls are pale pink. Curtains are pink and white. Valance boards above the windows are scalloped. Furniture is maple.

Before moving to Auburn Manor the Lingles lived in Pontiac.

ROCK FIREPLACE — The Lingles' fireplace is grayish white ledgerock. Hearth fittings are brass. The sunburst clock has brass hands. Those little pillows are red. The pine rocker has a documentary print for the upholstery.

DINNER MUSIC? — Mrs. Lingle is the musician in the family and has both a small piano and an organ on which to play. The piano is in the dining room. Walls in here are blue like the living room. At the long sliding windows there are white draperies in a damask pattern. The sawbuck table is black with red chair cushions. The braided rug is blue.

Schedule of Chores Cuts Heating Costs

NEW YORK—All of us know we can cut heating costs by taking some simple home-handyman steps, but usually we don't get around to it until November's icy winds make the job highly unattractive, if not impossible.

★ ★ ★

Here's a program suggested by the Research Institute of America, world's largest private industry-supported business advisory organization, in a report to employees of its member firms, which can save you as much as 20 per cent on your heating bills over the winter months.

Each paragraph gives you one weekend chore—not so much work that you're exhausted, not so little that you have no sense of accomplishment. And any one of these steps will save you significant cash. Weatherstripping loose doors and windows, for example, means you save $27 in Hutchinson, Kansas, $54 in Kingston, Ontario.

DOORS AND WINDOWS. Replace cracked glass. Renew beat-up putty. Weatherstrip loose windows and doors. Here's a special tip: An sash windows a major heat leak is often between the bottom window and the bottom of the upper pane.

CALKING. According to the Research Institute, the average house has the equivalent of a hole in the wall the size of a basketball. You can reduce it to a pea by calking the small chinks between foundation and frame. For larger chinks, use a more permanent material recommended by your dealer.

AIR VENTS AND RADIATORS. Thorough cleaning is a must. Dust in recesses keeps air from circulating around radiators.

HEATING SYSTEM. Have it thoroughly inspected by a professional in whom you have confidence. Make sure he checks the chimney, too. You can save on future bills, however, by having him show you what you can do yourself—for example, drain a hot water system and bleed the radiators; clean the filter on a hot-air system. Have him show you, too, all the points where oiling is necessary.

ALL WINTER LONG. A drafty house is uncomfortable unless the thermostat is turned fairly high. If you've plugged all the heat leaks, you should take advantage of this health tip: keep your thermostat at 70 degrees. Doctors say that's comfortable for the normal person normally clothed. At night don't turn the thermostat down more than 10 degrees, moving it any further actually costs more money.

Resurfacing Driveway Is Do-It-Yourself Job

Early in the era of do-it-yourself, the handyman was limited to jobs that could be done with a hammer and a few nails.

★ ★ ★

But new tools — and new materials that sometimes make tools less necessary — have broadened Mr. Handy Homeowner's range. One of the most recent developments, indeed, means that he can accept even the challenge of resurfacing a worn blacktop driveway himself — and get away with it, without using any special equipment.

★ ★ ★

A new driveway coating, said to be able to recondition or preserve any blacktop surface, has been developed at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division research laboratories at Morristown, N.J.

The smooth-flowing liquid does not require preheating or any special application equipment, which means that a home handyman can re-surface his driveway using only a push-broom said John W. Bruce, a surfacing specialist for Barrett.

"This coating will protect against disintegration caused by spilled or dripping oil, grease, gasoline or battery acid and it also is completely resistant to road salts and other chemicals that discolor and eat into pavements," Bruce said.

He offers this step-by-step procedure by which a homeowner can re-surface a stained or pitted driveway:

1. Dig out all soft or oil-soaked spots on the blacktop surface. Clean all dirt and loose material from holes and cracks. Low spots which are to be elevated to the level of the rest of the driveway should be dug out to a depth of at least one inch.

★ ★ ★

2. All holes and cracks should be filled with a ready prepared blacktop patching compound. These patches can be tamped firmly in place.

★ ★ ★

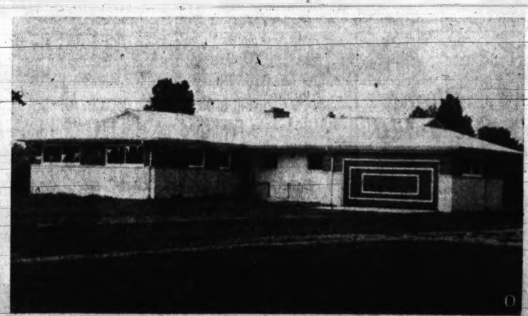

3. Hose and clean the entire surface.

Heating Men Get National Approval

Oakland county has the third Indoor Comfort Bureau in the state to be licensed by the National Warm Air Association. Bryan French is president of the local organization.

The bureau operates a program of installing Silver Shield heating and cooling systems. Dealers and contractors finance, promote, enforce and guarantee their own work, according to accepted high level standards.

The national association is a non-profit organization that has operated a 42-year research program at the University of Illinois.

Apartment in Split Level for Parents or Renters

By DAVID L. BOWEN

You don't often find a modest-sized home designed to accommodate both the average family plus a pair of grandparents, but that's what B-31 in the House of the Week series accomplishes with apparent ease.

Despite the comfort and privacy provided both generations, area of bedroom and living levels in this side-by-side split is only 1,196 square feet. The fully developed lower level adds 535 sq. ft.

The bedroom (with private bath) and living room (with kitchenette) making up the apartment are so well insulated from the remainder of the house that this section could easily be rented as an income-producer if money, not grandparents, is a major problem.

The front entrance and vestibule serve both the main living area and the extra unit, but interior doors give privacy to both. For added convenience and efficiency in traffic flow, the small apartment also has its own private entrance at the side.

Creator of B-31 is Architect Rudolph Matern. The design has three bedrooms on the sleeping level, living room fireplace, shielded breezeway and garage. Overall width is 69' 7". Depth is 26' 8".

Both sections of the house also have access to the basement through another common vestibule, again with placement of doors assuring privacy for both.

When the need for a second apartment disappears the rooms can readily be integrated into the over-all living pattern, providing a fourth bedroom or maid's room and a large study or workshop.

* * *

In the family area, a highlight of the interior plan is the dramatic kitchen balcony overlooking the family room. It creates a glamorous setting for a breakfast table and contributes greatly to kitchen eye-appeal by giving the area a spacious, open look.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

A number of impressive design features lend distinction to B-31. Particularly notable is its long and handsome exterior appearance, with a concrete-block grille enclosing the outdoor living space on the breezeway between house and garage. The massive stone chimney is set at an unusual angle to create another distinctive note.

Further increasing the indoor-outdoor livability, both the kitchen and family room have adjoining terrace areas, with access through sliding glass doors.

A "double L" counter arrangement in the kitchen heightens efficiency. The countertop range unit and sink are in one L, the oven and refrigerator in the other — with extensive counter space in both.

* * *

Architect Matern made extensive use of large windows and sliding glass doors to open up the home to the outdoors. Both the living and dining rooms have big glass areas on two sides.

B-31 Statistics

This nine-room split level is designed to provide an apartment of two rooms for rental or use by grandparents.

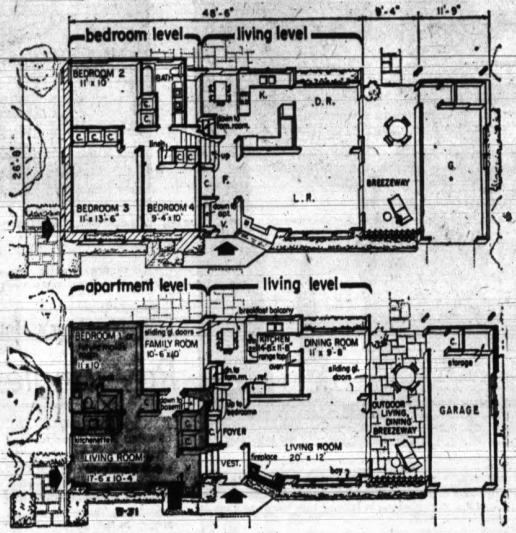

Despite large number of rooms, the area of living and bedroom levels is only 1,196 square feet. Grade level adds 535 sq. ft.

There are two baths and a total of 13 closets.

Over-all dimensions are 69' 7" in width by 26' 8" in depth.

LONG LOOK OF LUXURY — Grand appearance is aided by concrete-block grill across breezeway which makes house and garage blend into one. Actually, house itself stops at the right edge of bay window.

FLOOR PLANS — Both the main living area and the apartment section (shaded area) have complete privacy. Both are accessible to front entry and the basement through common vestibules.

Traditional Homes Are Coming Back in Style

With all the new ideas that are cropping up in home construction, the so-called "traditional" dwelling is still first choice of the vast majority of builders and buyers.

Several times more "traditional" homes are being built this year than any other kind. Even some of the most spectacular "contemporaries" reflect the traditional influence.

This doesn't mean that the U.S. construction industry is old fashioned or indifferent to progress, the Southern Pine Association says. Home builders are practical technicians with open minds to the right medium, regardless of label. And the fact is that many modern ends can best be served by traditional means.

Take space, for example. With families and land prices growing, and with available lot sizes shrinking, adequate living area is perhaps the toughest of all orders to fill. How to have enough in some of those low-slung models might stump a Houdini. All of which points out that there's still no substitute for the two-story traditional in solving the space problem.

Statistics show that both builders and home owners are catching on. Many parts of the country report a strong trend toward the two-story dwelling, built along traditional lines. Today's "two-stories" bear faint resemblance to their counterparts of a decade or so ago. They are streamlined, thoroughly modern reflections of design and color styling. But they are also practical dwellings built by proven traditional means for a maximum in space and comfortable living.

"Traditional" means a pitched rather than a flat roof, and a floor structure of the raised platform variety. Both are space generators. The roof contour provides space for an attic apartment, while the traditional underpinning is indispensable to a basement. So, instead of two stories—your house can have three or four of approximately equal living area—thanks to its traditional features.

Traditional design is based on the concept that before all else, a house should assure the security, comfort and health of the occupants. In these respects, the devices mentioned have other advantages. The raised platform floor, for example, uses the properties of wood in an area where they actively stimulate a healthier existence.

If you tell a woman she has a good figure, she'll overlook the other lies you tell her . . . A new school opened in Texas and on the first day the kids were late. Bad weather grounded the school plane.—Earl Wilson.

There are about 30,000 U.S. milk distributing companies and 35,000 plants for the processing of milk, butter, cheese and other products.

Modern Basement Is Focal Point for Family

The young family planning to modernize an older house might do well to start at the bottom — i.e., tackle the basement first.

"A modern basement can be the real heart and center of the home," says Joseph C. Ekkers, manager of the home improvement financing department of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corporation, one of the nation's largest consumer credit organizations. "It can lighten Mother's housekeeping chores and provide recreational facilities for every member of the family."

Here, according to Ekkers, are some of the "value-packed features" that can be included in a professionally planned and executed basement remodeling job:

A combined laundry and sewing area for Mother, with automatic washer and dryer, an abundance of steel cabinets and built-in sewing table and sink.

A home workshop center for Dad.

A play area for the kids with built-in storage for records, toys and games and space for a ping-pong table.

An informal eating-cooking area featuring a copper-hooded barbecue and a brick partition with shelf and hooks for cooking utensils.

A lavatory, preferably next to the basement entrance where the kids can get to it easily from the yard.

A closet for boots, rubbers, snowsuits and other outdoor wear.

A storage room for skis, sleds, trunks, lawn furniture and any other family paraphernalia that won't fit in the garage.

A dumbwaiter connecting the basement with the upper floors.

While you're at it, Ekkers says, you might consider installing a new heating plant if the old one shows signs of wearing out. Under Universal C.I.T.'s "Property Improvement Plan," he states, a new heating system and a complete basement remodeling job can be financed in a single package and paid for in monthly installments.

Ekkers points out that many lumber dealers, contractors and remodeling specialists maintain "one-stop modernization centers" that can handle all details of a basement renovation from the blueprint stage through completion of the project.

"They can draw up plans to suit the requirements of your family, provide all labor and materials, and see to it that the job is done right," he says. "They can also arrange a method of financing that will enable you to pay for your new basement out of income."

Sneeze-Free House Is Now Possible

Whatever the season or reason, allergy sufferers now can be sneeze-free.

A new portable electronic air cleaner developed by the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator Company is said to remove from a room airborne dirt, pollen, bacteria, soot, smoke and other irritants responsible for the discomfort of hay fever or other allergies.

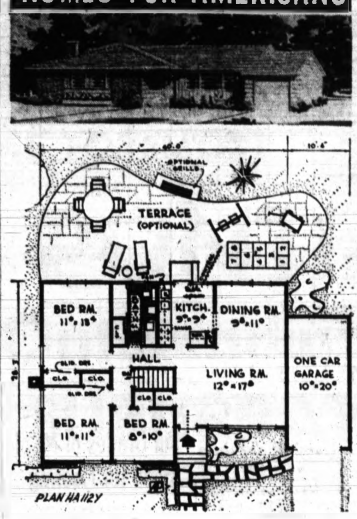

The cleaner looks like a suitcase in size and shape and it may be plugged into any ordinary electric outlet, since it requires no more power than that needed for a 40-watt lamp. It may be moved from room to room or even go along on a trip, if necessary.

According to the manufacturer, the unit is capable of removing airborne particles as small as 1/2,500,000th of an inch, or so small that it would take 20,000 of them to cover a pencil dot. The invisible particles are removed in a two-stage process: first they are given a 8,000-volt electrical charge, then they are attracted to a collector plate and permanently removed from the atmosphere. Odors, also a source of irritation, are removed, too, through an activated charcoal filter.

Apart from its medical purpose the cleaner may be used to remove dust and to protect light-colored walls and furnishings. The unit, if prescribed by a physician or bought to treat a particular illness, is income tax deductible.

Good quality hay contains about two-thirds as many digestible nutrients as grain and feed mixtures.

Oriental Lounge Area Beckons Young in Legs

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I've read and seen plenty about the Far Eastern trend in home furnishings but I'd never heard of a trend to red lacquered ironing boards and pagoda-shaped washer. I feared the worst.

These attractive sisters have been my loyal suppliers of information and trusted baby sitters for years and their ideas are ingenious, to put it mildly. But in this case their "doing" an Oriental utility room turned out to be a simple and practical approach to a familiar problem.

The girls and their widowed mother are gay and popular people. Their smallish living room in their modern split-level home just isn't large enough for entertaining two sets of friends.

So the hunt began for space where the girls could entertain informally. The utility room provided it. Placed over the garage in this basementless house, it had been planned for storage as well as for housing utilities, and is about 10 feet wide and 17 feet long. The furnace, water heater, washing machine and tubs are located at one end.

Their idea of a Far Eastern decor is based on the use of floor cushions instead of chairs, and of straw matting, matchstick blinds and a Japanese lantern.

Even though no true Oriental could ever call this home, the effect is pleasant and admirably suited for the meager budgets and limber legs of youth who scoff at chairs, sofas and similar refinements.

Walls are painted a soft green. Matchstick blinds, attached to low ceiling beams, can be let down to screen the machinery when occasion comes.

Most of the floor, away from the washing machine, is covered with thick, inexpensive straw matting. Floor cushions, plastic covered in bright hues and greens, are homemade.

Finding a suitable table to be used for ashtrays, refreshments and records presented a problem. No old table they had could be cut down low enough without looking totally un-Oriental.

Remembering a table I'd seen improvised at a picnic where guests sat on the blanket-protected ground, I could offer a suggestion. Basically, the low table is a sheet of plywood set on square wooden blocks. I asked a designer friend who knows about such things how this could be fixed to fit into the setting.

PLYWOOD TOP

A sheet of plywood three by five feet is the top; four square blocks cut from six by six posts are the legs. The top, painted with a semigloss paint in a color, features a narrow black border with a simple geometric design in the corners. Legs also are black.

The border looks difficult but isn't, because it's done with masking tape, not a stencil. After the plywood is sealed or primed the area around the edge is painted black. Use two coats.

Why paint is dry, masking tape is laid on to mark the border and corner pattern. Then the top coats in color are brushed on. When the finishing coat has almost dried, the tape is carefully stripped off, when dry, wax the top for deeper luster.

For a successfully sleek look, apply tape precisely (use a ruler) and a light pencil line to mark a straight path.

Use properly mixed paint. Use a clean paint brush an inch and a half to three inches wide with tapered nylon brushes.

A PLAY PEN WITH TOYS built in has a floor well off the ground, is easy to store and quickly set up. Amusing ducks slide along the top and a cut-out acrobat set in a side panel flips over and over. Pattern 458, which lists materials, gives full-size cutting guides and directions, is 35c. It also is one of four patterns in the Tiny Tots Toy Packet No. 52 —all for $1.

Roof Gutters Are Vital to Your Home

Any practice which plans roof drainage at certain points in a house and neglects other areas does not accomplish the real purpose of providing adequate water drainage from the roof away from the house. The Roof Drainage Manufacturers Institute recommends that all roofs regardless of pitch and overhang be provided with metal gutters and downspouts adequately designed to quickly and efficiently remove water from the roof.

In order to get best drainage, gutters must be sloped slightly towards the downspout. The Institute recommends a slope of approximately one inch in sixteen feet.

If gutters are not correctly sloped, the possibility of overflow during heavy rain storms is increased. Then again, gutters without adequate slope may hold rain water increasing the possibility of damage by rust to the gutter.

Downspouts should be located at the ends of the gutter and for adequate drainage there should be one square inch of downspout pipe areas (cross section) for each one hundred square feet of roof area.

If you are planning to build a new home, be sure to consult your sheet metal contractor. He will point out the advantages of proper roof drainage and show you the various types of products available to suit every architectural need.

Vertical Lines Will Heighten Low Room

Increasing the apparent size of a small bedroom with a low ceiling is a difficult decorating task, but one that can be accomplished if certain basic rules are followed.

The basic rule is to introduce vertical lines, but it is important that a light color be used. Marlite planks, which are 16" wide, automatically create a vertical line treatment with the joint line between each plank. Available at lumber dealers in a variety of pleasant pastel colors, the planks have a permanent plastic surface that can be damp-wiped clean.

Since matching cove and base moldings are available with the material, it is possible to continue the same basic color from floor to ceiling. This continuous color treatment is important.

For repairing doll beds whose flimsy bottoms have broken, use a thin panel of strong, splinter-proof Masonite Hardboard.

Start at the Right

When painting the outside of your house begin at the upper right hand corner of the wall, unless you are left-handed. Try to finish each day's work at corner or window so that lap marks don't show even if weather conditions make it necessary to interrupt painting for several days. If you are using a new water-thinned latex house paint, lapmarks are no problem.

Glaze for Ham

Here's a colorful glaze for baked ham: Mix 1 cup red jelly with ¼ teaspoon mustard and 2 teaspoons horseradish. Half an hour before the end of the cooking time, stud the ham with cloves and glaze with the jelly mixture.

Resilient flooring products are available today in a wide variety of types to fit any flooring need. Heavier gauges of some of these flooring types will generally cost more than the prices listed.

Chemicals Preserve Woo

When lumber is used under conditions of constant outdoor exposure or close to the ground, additional protection is necessary. This can be provided by numerous chemicals which are toxic to insects and which also leave the lumber clean, odorless and paintable. Many chemicals impart an attractive color to the wood, which may serve as finish, in lieu of paint, for exterior members, such as a wood trellis over an outdoor patio.

34,000,000 pounds of copper tube, twice as much as five years ago, were used this past year in sanitary drainage systems.

HOUSE PLANTS will look their best on this stand which accommodates both sun and shade lovers. African violets will like the lower shelves where their blossoms show to best advantage. Homogenize Paint

Often the pigment in a can of enamel will settle to the bottom while it is on the dealer's shelf. To mix the enamel thoroughly, do this. Pour off most of the liquid into a clean container. Stir the pigment and the remaining liquid until they are smooth. Gradually pour the liquid from the second container, stirring all the while. You'll end up with a homogenous, easily brushed enamel.

Over one million families now own summer or leisure homes.

All Grades of Maple Good for Flooring

There are three regular grades of hard maple flooring. Grading for Appalachian producers is done under the rules of the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association, and for northern producers under the rules of the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association. The federal standard stock catalog provides that hard maple flooring may be ordered to conform with the rules of either association.

The first grade calls for a face that is practically free of all defects. Color is permitted to vary naturally. This grade is ideally suited for ball rooms, gymnasiums, offices, fine homes and other areas where handsome appearance and durability are desired.

The second and third grades permit progressively more latitude in the matter of appearance but each will lay serviceable floors. The lower grades often are favored for recreation rooms and other purposes where the added interest of distinctive wood markings is desired.

A special grade of Appalachian maple known as first grade white hard maple, is especially selected for uniformity of color from the sapwood of the tree. Northern producers offer two special first grades, one light and one amber, each selected for color uniformity. Northern mills also have a fourth grade and two combination grades.

Match House Trim

For unified effect, paint your outdoor furniture the same color as your shutters or house trim. Exterior enamel or trim and trellis paint are the best to use on furniture. Remove all rust from metal furniture and prime with an anti-corrosive primer before applying the enamel.

Second Service in Playroom

When you buy a new electric refrigerator-freezer for your kitchen, don't call a junkman to haul away the old unit. Instead, move it to the playroom or family room. The children will be delighted if you keep it stocked with milk, juice, "soda pop," and fruit for play-time snacks.

★ ★ ★

Playroom parties for the adults will be more fun for everyone if you prepare cold foods in advance and store them in the extra refrigerator. Stock it with beverages, fill the ice trays, and you'll be able to enjoy the party when guests arrive, instead of running back and forth or up and down stairs to the kitchen.

To make the old refrigerator match the playroom decor, paint it to match the walls, cover it with one of the self-sticking decorative papers, or paint stripes or polka dots on it to make it a conversation piece as well as a convenience.

If there's room enough, you can build shelves next to the refrigerator to hold paper plates, cups, and napkins, can and bottle openers, condiments, and canned and bottled beverages. Cover the party pantry with stock louver doors or shutters of ponderosa pine painted to match the playroom woodwork.

Pick Flooring Best Suited to Room

The first step in choosing resilient flooring for the home is to decide what is expected of the floor. Certain types of flooring — vinyl-asbestos tile, asphalt tile, solid vinyl tile, vinyl sheet floors with Hydrocord backing, and rubber tile — may be installed anywhere in the home, even in basement rooms.

★ ★ ★

Some other types, such as linoleum, should not be installed directly over concrete that is in contact with the ground. For these, subfloor should be "suspended," with an adequate air space below.

★ ★ ★

The location of the room, then, is important in determining the kind of floor that can be chosen. Here are some other factors to be considered: what is the room to be used for? Is food or water likely to be spilled on the floor? If so, then perhaps one of the sheet materials is the answer.

Is the room designed for sleeping or undisturbed study? If so, then cork tile or rubber tile may be the best choice, since they are exceptionally quiet underfoot. Is low cost the main consideration? Then asphalt tile and vinyl-asbestos tile are logical choices.

Are wearability and easy care the most important factors? Linotile, solid vinyl tile and vinyl sheet flooring are all excellent selections.

RECORD HOLDER — Alhambra, Calif. — New, slide-mounted record and tape files feature front-view visibility and flip-through convenience plus hide-away storage. Easily installed in Hi-Fi cabinets, closets or shelves. The all-metal files, called QUICK-SEE, ride on steel ball bearings; roll forward for making selections, slide out of the way when not in use. Available in nine different models designed to fit any storage area. Holds up to 125 — 12" albums, 150 — 45 RPM's, or 30 tapes.

CLEVELAND, Ohio — A lightweight, natural quarried stone that can easily be applied by the average homeowner is now being produced by Shakertown Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio. Called Silvara Stone, each piece is 1-inch thick and is held in place by special clips. It can be applied over almost any surface including wood or plywood sheathing, brick or cement block on either interior or exterior surfaces. Each piece is grooved at top and bottom to receive the heavy duty wall anchors secured with special Silvara steel tie pins. No special floor or reinforcing is necessary because a steel starter strip supports the bottom row of stone. A hammer and level are the only tools needed.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I had always understood that the teeth of a file are made to cut in only one direction and that, consequently, the file should be lifted from the work surface on the back stroke. But when I saw my son, a high school pupil, hold the file against the surface at all times — and called his attention to it — he said his shop teacher told him to do it that way. Can you tell me which method is correct?

ANSWER: Both are correct some of the time. Neither is correct all the time. For most filing, it is important that the file be lifted from the work on the back stroke to prevent the teeth of the file from becoming dull too quickly.

However, in what is called drawfiling, the file is moved across the surface crosswise and kept in contact with that surface continuously. This type of filing is used only on a flat surface when precision accuracy is necessary.

QUESTION: I intend to build some bookshelves. I know I can handle the woodworking part of the project all right, but I am unsure about dimensions. For instance how long can shelves be without using center supports?

ANSWER: Most books are, between 7½ and 9½ inches in height, which is why the space between shelves usually is 10 inches. If you have some books taller than 10 inches, you can make the space between two shelves large enough to accommodate them and then use the 10-inch measurement for the rest of the shelves. The width of the shelves should be about 8 inches.

As for the length of the shelves without using center supports, it depends on what size wood is being used. For the usual ¾-inch boards, shelves can be 30 inches long without requiring extra supports. They can be longer if the shelves are being used partly for lightweight knick-knacks.

QUESTION: I'd like to tackle a furniture upholstering job with latex foam rubber. Can you tell me what types of latex foam units are available, whether any special equipment is needed and supply with me any other necessary information?

ANSWER: There are five general types of latex foam for upholstering work. The plain sheet stock can be cut to any desired shape. It is obtainable in varying thicknesses and widths, and is suitable where thin padding is desired — over springs or hard surfaces, on seats, backs and arms. Where more depth and buoyancy are called for, cored utility stock is recommended. It comes in thicknesses from ⅝ inch to 4½ inches and several densities, with molded openings in one side.

Other latex foam available in department stores and upholstery shops are fully molded cushions, inner cushions, units and utility inner cushions. The only materials necessary for handling a home project are sharp scissors, rubber fabricating cement, tacking tape, a ruler and a ballpoint pen or soft lead pencil.

If not using pre-molded cushions, cut out a pattern of paper the size and shape of the cushion you will need. Mark and then cut the latex foam one quarter of an inch larger than your pattern outline. Lay a protective pad of burlap, cotton, jute or other material over the exposed springs before mounting. When covering the cushioning, avoid using a fabric that will stretch excessively.

QUESTION: I am considering painting the outside of our wooden house with one of the latex emulsion paints. Since I expect to apply two coats, I would like to know how much time to allow between coats.

ANSWER: You'll get the answer to this question when you buy the paint and read the instructions on the label. However, this type of paint usually requires less drying time than others and you will probably find that you can apply the second coat in two hours or less.

QUESTION: Several weeks ago I put down asphalt tile in one of the rooms in our house. I now notice that tiny bits of cement are creeping up between the tiles in one section of the room. What can I do about this?

ANSWER: No doubt this condition was caused by the application of too much cement in the original installation. There is not much you can do now, except to keep a careful watch on the affected area and to wipe off any excess cement as soon as it appears.

This should be done with a clean cloth dampened with water, not with solvent which might damage the tile. Should any spot fail to respond to the cleansing, it can be removed by rubbing lightly with a fine grade of steel wool.

Textured Wall Finishes Are Interesting

While most people are satisfied with walls painted a solid color, there are a number of unusual decorative effects that can be achieved with paint. Among these are stippled finishes, two-tone stipples, textured finishes and multi-colored walls.

Latex paints dry too quickly for stippling, so use the odorless alkyd paints which dry in a few hours and form a tough, abrasion-resistant finish that withstands repeated washing and scrubbing.

PREPARATION

As in any type painting, there are a few preparatory steps that must be taken to insure a good job. Walls should be dusted and any oil or grease washed away. Cracks and holes are to be filled with spackling compound or patching plaster, sanded smooth and primed. Burnished areas and glossy spots should be roughened a bit with sandpaper.

For stippling, first paint the wall with the desired background color, using a brush or roller. Let this coat dry before going ahead. The can label will tell you how long to wait.

The color to be stippled, a contrasting or harmonious one, is brushed heavily on a sheet of metal, wood or cardboard. A slightly damp sponge is then pressed against the brushed-out paint. Then press the sponge against the wall, transferring the color to the base coat in an irregular pattern. This process is repeated until the entire wall is covered.

Or you can use special stippling brushes or rollers. For a two-tone effect, brush on the base coat as described above. After it has dried, the contrasting color is brushed or rolled on. While the latter is still wet, go over it with the stippling brush or roller. This leaves small areas where the undercolor shows through.

A stippled effect can also be obtained with a single color. This is made by brushing or rolling on the paint and then going over it with stippling brush or roller while it is still wet. This eaves a pebbly, three-dimensional surface.

To get a textured finish, there are special heavy texture paints which produce a rough, plaster-like surface. These paints come in a wide range of colors, in ready-mixed form. There are also powders that can be added to certain paints to produce the textured finish.

Texture paint is applied to the walls with a brush. While the surface is still wet, make the pattern by going over the wall with wads of crumpled newspaper, a sponge, whisk broom, comb or almost any article that will produce a pattern. There are also special rollers that will impart a textured pattern.

HIDES SCARS

Texture finishes can be applied over any clean, dry surface such as wallboard, plaster, brick, wood, stone or previously painted surfaces. This technique is fine for hiding scarred or marred walls that would otherwise have to be replastered to look presentable.

One of the new ways to get a special wall effect is with multi-color paints. The name is exactly what it implies — two or more different colors can be applied at on time from a single source. Most multi-color paints must be sprayed on. The multi-color paints give a tough, textured, mar-resistant finish, and the random color pattern makes dirt or small nicks inconspicuous.

Reverse Hardboard for Textured Wall

To obtain a low-cost canvas-like texture on a wall, install panels of hardboard with the reverse or screen side in view. Before putting them up, make a V-joint between panels with a beveling tool. Vertical-line paneling is popular.

Such panels may be primed and painted readily by means of a mohair roller at a considerable saving in time.

The unusual texture closely resembles canvas. Panels may be put up over existing walls, if they are straight, by means of wallboard adhesive or finishing nails.

Be Bright

Yellow has the highest visibility of all colors, with orange second. That's why school buses are painted yellow-orange. Use this color on the top and bottom steps of cellar stairs to avoid stumbles and falls.

EMBOSSED FLOOR — This kitchen has all the warmth and charm of an early colonial farmhouse. And what could be more fitting than a floor of weathered white brick? But take another look. That "brick" is actually linoleum! It's a special type whose surface is embossed for three-dimensional realism. The brick design is only one of a number available in embossed inlaid linoleum for the home.

Stop Paint Blisters With Proper Base

Paint blisters, a menace to the appearance and long life of house exteriors, cannot be prevented by trying new types of paint, but only by using a proper primer coat, and under proper weather conditions.

Recent research in paints and oils at Cargill laboratories shows that all house paints are prone to blister when a prime coat containing zinc oxide is used on the bare wood. Also, that blistering probably will repeat when new paint is applied without correcting an improper base coat.

* * *

Blistering occurs when outside temperatures are cool and humidity in the house is high enough to saturate the wood siding. The moisture then swells the zinc-containing primer coat, causing separation of the paint from the wood, and blisters.

A zinc-free coat, however, allows zinc to be used in the final coat to achieve best possible pigmentation and extreme durability. For the best results, the laboratory suggests a prime coat based on pure linseed oil, then a top coat in which linseed oil is used with zinc oxide and other pigments.

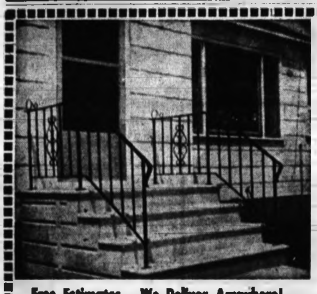

Check Calking Now

This is the time of the year to check and see whether the calking around your house is intact so that it can keep winter's snows and rains and cold blasts out of your home. Calking should be applied where two dissimilar building materials meet and around doors and window frames. Calking guns which use cartridges filled with calking compound make the job easy.

Dusty Tracks

If you want to save money on your driveway, look into "loose aggregate" toppings. Gravel, stone chips, crushed rocks, even crushed oyster shells will do — whatever's most readily available in your area. One problem with these materials, however, is that they often get tracked into the house and grind away floor finishes. A good solution is entranceways of quarry tile. Quarry tile looks good, and it won't scratch or wear.

Five Locations for Storage

Since storage space is at a premium in most homes, it's a good idea to discover some locations not always considered by homemakers. Here are a few examples that a handy husband or industrial arts student can make:

UNDER A DESK. Only leg room is needed, leaving a couple of cubic feet or more for storage of stationery, supplies and miscellaneous items. Bridge the usable space with 1x2-inch framing lumber, bottom it with Masonite Presdwood, leave it open or enclose it behind sliding doors of the hardboard.

OVER KITCHEN CABINETS. This is a natural area that need only to be enclosed to keep it dust-free. Tracks installed in the ceiling and on top of the cabinet will permit the use of sliding doors, which can be primed and painted to match the kitchen decor. Holes can be bored for pulls.

UNDER A TYPEWRITER TABLE. Get a piece of ¼" Tempered Presdwood to fit at the back of the lower leg bracing so it won't interfere with the operator. Drill holes and tie the board to the framework with cord. Include some quarter-round molding around edges so that typewriter supplies won't fall off.

OVERHEAD IN CLOSETS. The space over the clothes pole often is wasted. A Peg-Board panel installed here will provide a good place for hats and other wearing apparel. Special fixtures for these items are available at lumber yards. Small Peg-Board panels may be attached to walls over spacers. Larger ones should be framed between rows of holes with ⅝-inch lumber.

UNDER THE SINK IN THE KITCHEN AND BATHROOM. These spaces can be framed with 1x2-inch lumber and covered with ¼" Tempered Presdwood or Peg-Board. One shelf at the midway location will utilize the space to the utmost. Here, again, sliding doors of the quarter-inch hardboard are ideal, mounted in grooves cut in the upper and lower framing members.

Burnproof Table Top

An old cocktail table can be refurbished by applying a panel of marble-patterned hardboard right over the old top. The new top of plastic-surfaced hardboard is decorative, yet highly-resistant to hard wear and stains. Alcohol stains and cigarette burns will not mark the baked melamine plastic surface, which can be cleaned with a damp or sudsy cloth.

Rotovinyls Are Newest Way to Cover Floors

High fashion is high fashion, and low cost is low cost, and never the twain shall meet. Or at least it may have seemed that way before the advent of rotogravure vinyl floor coverings.

Today it is possible to find some of the most spectacular styles in floor coverings at a price that shouldn't discombobulate even the tightest budget. Rotogravure vinyl floor coverings — or rotovinyls, as they are called — offer an almost unlimited range of designs and colors and cost only about $25 for a 8'10" x 15' room.

The rotovinyls made their debut on the floor covering stage only recently, but already they are available in floral effects, geometrics, carpet-like designs, representations of inlaid wood, likenesses of stones and pebbles, and some designs too intricate to describe. Some patterns are so vivid that they seem to bloom across the floor like a rampant garden, others are as subtle as desert sand.

The process used in printing rotovinyls makes possible the most careful control of color. The result is a pattern with almost photographic detail. In the case of one rotovinyl material, Vinyl Accolon, the pattern is printed on felt for strength. Then it is sealed under layers of clear vinyl. The vinyl forms a glossy, smooth surface that is easy to swish clean.

Some rotovinyl patterns sparkle with a scattering of tiny metallic highlights. And some of the newest are brightened with a special effect, which designers call "metallescence." Parts of the design treated with this metallescence shimmer with reflected light, so the floor covering actually seems to change color as you walk across it.

NOT PERMANENT

Rotovinyls are intended as coverings for floors, not as permanent floors themselves, and of course, they do not compare in wearability with true resilient flooring. However, they will give several years of satisfactory service if taken care of properly. They are priced well below linoleum, quality vinyl sheet flooring materials, vinyl tiles, and the other resilient floors, which are cemented into place.

Rotovinyls are designed to be loose-laid on the floor, and no adhesive is required. It takes just a few minutes for the home handyman to lay a rotovinyl floor covering into place.

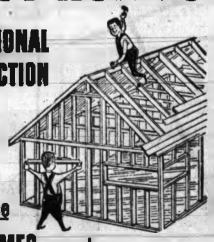

This loose-lay feature, coupled with their low cost, makes rotovinyls especially suitable for family rooms and children's play areas. And they are handy for apartment dwellers, too. To move rotovinyl floor covering, simply roll it up and it's ready to be used again in another room.

Rotovinyls come in sheet form 6, 9 and 12 feet wide, and in precut rugs 9' x 12', 12' x 12' and 12' x 15'. This means that, for most rooms, even wall-to-wall effects can be achieved without any seams.

Three Dimensional Effect Added to Linoleum

Linoleum, long a favorite with homemakers because of its wearability, is available today in an effect that adds three-dimensional realism to its design. Called Embossed inlaid linoleum, this type has portions of its surface actually depressed slightly.

The method can be adapted to suggest wood graining or rounded pebbles, in styles that fit nicely with the natural stone and wood finishes found in many modern homes. There's also a design that resembles weathered bricks, aimed especially for Early American interiors.

U. S. homeowners annually spend about $8 billion on repairs and improvements, according to an estimate of building authorities.

Be Sure Older House Is Really Worth the Price

A bargain or a money trap? That's the question many home prospects are asking these days about spacious homes 20 years old or older.

If, and it's a big if, an older home is soundly constructed, it may indeed prove a bargain. On the other hand, if extensive repairs are needed to make it livable, the cost may be too prohibitive.

* * *

When you investigate an older home, the first thing to look into is it's "working parts," Henry E. Voegeli, an Anaconda building specialist recommends. These are its heating, plumbing and electrical systems. Deficiencies here, Voegeli points out, can cause the biggest drain on the pocketbook.

You might begin, Voegeli says, by checking the water pressure. Turn on two or three faucets. If there is a noticeable pressure drop, it may indicate rust-clogged plumbing.

Next, look at the water piping. If it is made of copper, you won't have to worry about rust. You can usually tell if piping is copper by scraping away surface dirt in a small area. If you're still not sure, put a magnet on it. If the magnet sticks, the piping is NOT made of copper.

* * *

The condition of the hot water boiler or warm air furnace should be noted next, along with the piping, ducts and electrical wiring. Here, the advice of a local contractor might be well worth the fee you pay him to accompany you. He can tell you how much it might cost to put the "working parts" in first-class condition and can also look into such other details as basement dampness, condition of foundation, walls and roof, etc.

If the price of the house plus the cost of modernization adds up to more room and comfort than you can obtain otherwise, Voegeli says, then an old house may really prove to be the bargain you're looking for.

VEGETABLE BINS — If Mom's been keeping her fruits and vegetables in paper sacks, she'll find these to be a double convenience. Because the contents are always visible, she can tell when the stocks are low. You will notice that each shelf is tilted so the contents always roll up front and are easy to get. The bins are easily made when you use the full size pattern. All that's necessary is to trace the pattern on wood, then saw out the parts and finally put them together. Each pattern gives easy to understand directions along with the list of required materials. To obtain the full size pattern No. 234, send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif.

Deep Tones Reduce Glare

To soften the glare of direct lighting, paint the ceilings a deep dramatic color that harmonizes or contrasts with the walls. If the ceiling is too low to be painted a dark color, a shade slightly deeper than the walls will help reduce the glare.

A QUAINT OLD SIGN showing guests arriving by coach cut out with a jig saw and painted black makes a beautiful number sign for a home of today. Pattern 446, which gives the full-size tracing design as well as alphabet and numerals, is 25c. Add your name to the sign if you like. This pattern also is one of four in the Useful Cut-Outs Packet No. 57—all for $1.

The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept. Bedford Hills, New York.

Properly Seasoned Wood Never Decays of Age

The United States Forest Products Laboratory — the nation's No. 1 authority on lumber — reports that wood never decays of age but only if it is attacked by insects and other organisms which are the real sources of destruction.

When wood is rendered "dry" by proper seasoning, it is protected against such attack under most use conditions. Examples where seasoning is an adequate protection are joists, studs, rafters and beams of the house structure; paneling on the interior room walls and siding on the exterior walls.

Sealer Finish

Penetrating floor sealer is the only recommended finish for maple floors where heavy traffic is anticipated. Sealer can be applied only to new floors or to floors from which the previous varnish or other finish has been completely removed.

Try Enameling

Very often the carvings and designs on the wood parts of old furniture are so intricate that it is almost impossible to do a successful job of completely removing the old finish. In such cases, it is a good idea to enamel the frames, with white being a smart choice today. To prevent the stain used in the old wood from bleeding through white or light colored enamel, seal the stain in with white shellac.

Price Cuts by Industry Would Help Economy, Federal Officials Suggest

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Price cuts by major industries would quickly restore life to the nation's economy by loosening up consumer cash, government officials said Thursday.

They said even a modest buying splurge would dispel gloomy signs that have led some economists to raise the possibility of a recession.

The government's financial experts do not see a major downturn in the offing. Most believe that the current lull has resulted from what they call a "rolling adjustment" at a time when spending, production, income and employment have reached record highs.

The officials' views were considerably brighter than those of House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, Mass., who said in a speech made public Thursday in the Congressional Record that "The state of the national economy is ominous."

CITES JOBLESSNESS

Speaking before Congress ended its short session last month, McCormack cited what he called the high rate of unemployment, low steel production, slumping business profits, a sag in the stock market and a slowdown in personal income.

He blamed the Eisenhower administration's opposition to federal school and housing legislation and what he said was its policy of high interest rates.

The big question with government financial officials is whether the current downturn in business expansion signals a new upturn or is the first step in a general decline.

They said price cuts in this situation would turn loose more consumer money, which in turn would encourage businessmen to step up their orders and inventories. This could set the whole economic machinery running smoothly again.

As long ago as January, President Eisenhower expressed the view that price reductions were in order and would have a healthy effect on business.

This has long been the view of such government officials as Raymond J. Saulnier, the president's chief economic adviser, and William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Government officials particularly favor price cuts in such basic lines as steel, automobiles and new houses. Lower steel prices might have a chain reaction on costs and prices of other goods made with steel.

* * *

Officials believe that despite the recent leveling off, the business situation is basically sound and consumers generally are in good financial shape.

While nearly all officials deplore the level of unemployment —4.8 million in August — they think the sustained high level of personal income is more significant.

One government agency head described the introduction of compact cars as a form of price trimming. "The compacts were the salvation of the auto industry this year," he said.

The official also suggested that home builders might evoke more interest in new homes by lowering prices.

London Morals Falling Down

And So Are Costumes of 1,001 Strippers; Gambling Rise Ahead?

LONDON (AP) — With more than 1,000 striptease's nightly shedding their chemises in 200 clubs, London has become perhaps the naughtiest capital in Europe.

* * *

A new law cleared the streets of prostitutes. Now instead of thronging the thoroughfares of the British capital, the good-time girls are cluttering up the private clubs now mushrooming in London.

In the single section of Stephney, at least 32 private clubs are operating where you can pick up a girl almost as easily as you can pick up the check.

In none of Europe's capitals can you see in volume the sort of stripping that blatantly goes on in London.

One striptease club says it's members include several millionaires and 10 members of the British Parliament.

AND GAMBLING, TOO?

Some Londoners predict the town's going to get even naughtier, because of gambling.

They say the country's new gaming laws—which will probably go into effect in the next 12 months — will allow baccarat, chemin de fer and roulette.

Already the money spent on gambling, mostly horse racing, totals more than 647,000 million pounds ($1,813,600,000) annually. The Churches' Council on Gambling is taking a serious view of the situation, particularly of what might lie ahead.

* * *

Said a spokesman in an interview: "Once individuals in desperation gambled recklessly. In the present time it is rather that a sense of social unease is growing in the general mind of society, bringing restlessness to more and more individuals."

Worst Floods in 25 Years Afflict Central China

HONG KONG (AP)—The Communist newspaper Wen Wei Po reported today the Hankow area of central Red China suffered its worst flood in 25 years early this month. The newspaper did not mention the extent of the damages.

The Peiping People's Daily earlier reported Liaoning, one of the country's richest provinces in Manchuria, was paralyzed by the heaviest flood in 100 years, with the nation's biggest steel center at Anshan put out of operation for more than two weeks.

Grand Rapids Building Sold to New York Firm

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The seven-story Keeler Building, largest office structure in Grand Rapids, has been sold to a New York investing group for an undisclosed sum.

The transaction was announced by Tracco Rapids, Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Tishman Realty & Construction Co., Inc., of New York. The new owners' group is headed by Herbert Tenzer and Louis Greenblatt of New York.

The building, completed in 1914 and recently modernized, originally was a furniture exhibition center.

It was purchased by the Tishman firm in February 1958.

Kennedy Aide Laughs at Story About Princess

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy's overseas campaign manager today laughed off reports that Princess Grace of Monaco would join his forces in Europe.

The princess is the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia and Hollywood.

* * *

"That must have come from some wise guy," John A. Ryan, head of the Kennedy-for-President Overseas Committee, said.

* * *

Rallies are planned in Britain and France, as well as Germany. The object is to win the absentee votes of service men and other Americans living overseas, Ryan says his is the only Kennedy campaign group overseas.

Bungling Burglar Gums Up Job, Abandons Tools

A local burglar put too much faith in the cooperation of an intended victim, Pontiac police said today.

The intruder apparently carried only a saw as a tool of the trade when he broke into the J & R Motor Supply, 115 N. Saginaw St.

He entered the building by sawing a steel bar, then breaking a window.

Once inside, he tried desperately to open the firms floor safe.

Detectives found hammers, wrenches, crowbars, punches and an electric drill about the area.

However, police said, the intruder hadn't been able to come up with a suitable combination.

He left the building empty handed.

Hotel Man OKs Dogs— 'Never Swipe Towels'

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (UPI) — A hotel owner, asked if he objected to guests bringing dogs with them, commented:

"In all the time I've been an innkeeper, I've never had to toss an intoxicated dog out on his ear. No dog has ever swiped one of my towels and they don't use them to shine their shoes with. They don't smoke in bed, either."

Oldsmobile Introduces New F-85

DETROIT (UPI) — Oldsmobile today formally unveiled its entry in the smaller car sweepstakes — the F-85.

The car will go on sale Oct. 6 along with the standard size Olds lines.

The F-85, offered in four-door sedan and four-door station wagon body styles, uses a 215 cubic inch aluminum V8 engine rated at 155 horsepower. The sedan, on a 112-inch wheelbase, is 15 foot 8.3 inches long and four-tenths of one inch less than 6 feet wide.

Both the sedan and the station wagon are available in regular and deluxe series — with fancy trim and interior appointments making the difference.

★ ★ ★

The small Olds will offer both manual transmission and a new, scaled-down version of the Hydra-Matic (automatic) transmission. Curb weight of the F-85 is 2,685 pounds, or about 1,500 pounds less than the Olds 88 series.

The small and large Olds share a common, inward sloping grille and dual headlights. Otherwise, styling varies considerably although keeping closely to basic General Motors roof lines.

Jack Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager, said the F-85 should get about 25 per cent better gas mileage than the standard size cars.

Finds New Method to Process Uranium

LONDON (UPI) — A New Zealand scientist has proposed a method of processing uranium ore from deposits found on the west coast which will cut heavy treatment plant expenditures.

★ ★ ★

Dr. C. J. Williams, dean of the faculty of technology at Otago University, said the method involves burning coal with which leaving an ash containing from 18 the uranium is associated and to 36 per cent uranium oxide. "This easy process resulting in so great an upgrading opens up new hopes," he said.

Red Visiting for Weekend

Mayor Urges Courtesy to K

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—The mayor of this "Gold Coast" Long Island town has urged courtesy and restraint toward Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who is spending the weekend at the Soviets' luxurious retreat.

For several years the Soviets have maintained the 45-room, 37-acre estate for their United Nations officials and visiting diplomats.

★ ★ ★

Joseph A. Suozzi, mayor of this North Shore community of 24,000, said Friday: "I'm amused to think that such a hater of capitalism would want to come here to the very residential heart of capitalism.

"We will be courteous and polite, but we don't intend to give him any favorable treatment or hang out flags for him. He might think we are extending a welcome."

Suozzi added: "Business will go on as usual."

★ ★ ★

The Soviet property, overlooking Long Island Sound, was built in 1912 by the late Charles Pratt, a founder of the Standard Oil Co., as a wedding gift to his son, the late George DuPont Pratt.

Residents of the area are accustomed to Soviet big-wigs coming here, although they never have played host to the Kremlin's chief.

About 500 White Russians live in Glen Cove and adjoining Sea Cliff, but many of them are residents of five homes for aged Russians. Glen Cove is about 30 miles from Manhattan.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets also own a 60-room mansion at Upper Brookville, near Oyster Bay on Long Island Sound. This is where the working group of the Soviet Embassy and U.N. mission will spend the weekend.

THE '61 FALCON — The 1961 Ford Falcon features a new, convex-shaped aluminum grille and introduces a new optional, 101-horsepower engine along with durability improvements in aluminum surfaces, underbody parts and other trim items. This model is the Tudor Sedan. The Falcon goes on sale Thursday and may be seen locally at Beattie Motor Sales, 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; Eddie Steel, Inc., 2705 Orchard Lake Road, Keego Harbor, and John A. McAuliffe, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave.

Bigger Engine Optional

1961 Ford Falcon Gets New Grille

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford has changed the grille on its highly successful Falcon for 1961 and will offer an optional, higher horsepower engine. Otherwise the fast selling compact has been left almost untouched.

★ ★ ★

The new engine is a 170 cubic inch six at 101 horsepower. The standard engine is the same as in 1960 with 85 horsepower.

Air conditioning will be available as a dealer option.

★ ★ ★

The Falcon will continue to come in four body styles — two and four door sedans and two and four door station wagons.

James O. Wright, general manager of Ford Division, said aluminum parts will be thicker and the aluminized mufflers will be heavier on the 1961 models.

Falcons will go on sale Thursday, the same day as the 1961 model standard Fords.

Diapers Are Measured in Natural Form—Wet

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — How many pounds of wet diapers does a baby use in a two-year period?

The Diaper Service Industry Association, meeting here today and Sunday, says the answer is about 1,825 pounds, based on 7,410 diapers averaging six to a pound.

Why wet weight? Well, says the association, that's the way they usually are.

Double Indemnity Outlay Soars to $114 Million

NEW YORK — Life insurance companies in the United States paid one-hundred and fourteen million dollars in double-indemnity benefits during 1959.

This is about 4 per cent of the total benefits paid in the year and twice the sum of a decade ago. The motor-vehicle toll is a major factor in the increase.

Herds of Elk Thrive in Virginia Reserve

NEW YORK — Virginia is the only Eastern state where elk—or, more correctly, wapiti—can be hunted. The great herds of Eastern elk disappeared by 1900, but Virginia imported a herd from the West, and now its herds number about 700 elk, survive. During the three-day hunting season last year five bull elk were killed compared with 12 the year before.

CIVIC DUTY

We hedge when called for Jury Duty. "Too busy," we cry but that duty is the very essence of freedom. History teaches us that jurymen taken from every walk of life is far superior to men specialized in jury duty. One lady used every dodge in the book to escape Grand Jury Duty but served said, "It was the most interesting experience in my life."

To vote is a privilege. We are led up blind alleys by clever phrases and "Slogans." Sometimes those slogans are ambiguous, sometimes diametrically opposed to our better judgment. The American people are innately shrewd. We think through a statement, take it apart, evaluate each segment and if it agrees with our concept, we cast our ballot in favor of it: IF NOT WE REJECT IT. We vote, as our conscience dictates.

The flower of freedom springs from the ballot and Mine-run Jurymen.

Chimney and Roof Repairs

The repair men who just happen to be in your neighborhood and to notice your chimney needs repairs; definitely needs to be fixed before you put your furnace on. Also he observes a few shingles need replacing or the gutters are clogged with leaves and the flashings need a little paint here and there. He even offers to guarantee the work. You get the impression the job is quite simple and the cost not so great—until you come to pay the bill. It may be anywhere from thirty to a hundred dollars and if the job doesn't hold up you can't find the "guarantor."

Cleaning the flues and putting your furnace in good condition for winter goes hand-in-hand with the "roofer" and "chimney expert." Sometimes he takes your furnace apart and discovers how much "repairs" it needs or even a new furnace is required. Why take chances like that? There are a number of local reputable firms dealing in "heating," "roofing," etc. Call a reliable firm and get an estimate.

Uneasy Climate Settles on U.N.

Nikita's Friday Address Seems to Quell Hopes for Less Tension

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —There is an oppressive air of uneasiness settling over the United Nations. Nikita Khrushchev created it.

* * *

The rotund leader of world communism, giving the impression no one trying to use the U.N. machinery as a private toy, has become a sort of gay troubadour of gloom.

His General Assembly speech Friday—his second before the U. N. and by far the most bewildering—seemed to dash any hope that this session might produce a real contribution to lessening tensions that have the world's nerves on edge.

* * *

Khrushchev not only set back the cause of peace, but did himself a disservice if his primary idea in coming to the United Nations has been to impress the world of his truly peaceful intentions.

There is a lot of dismay around the corridors of this big glass building today. It is not confined to those Western Europeans and Americans who may have hoped for some concrete advance from this historic session.

Khrushchev just about told the U.N. in so many words that he will not tolerate any action on its part that interferes with Soviet plans and policies.

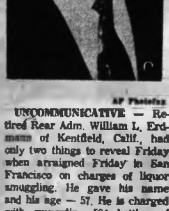

The Soviet Union was upset by events in the Congo, where Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold won the support and admiration of most U. N. members in his handling of a crisis that the Soviets apparently, wanted to convert into a situation of chaos.

So, Khrushchev tells the U.N.: Let's get rid of Hammarskjold; in fact, let's abolish the post of secretary-general and set up an executive board where Communist representatives can raise hob with any peace mission the U.N. might try to undertake.

* * *

Some delegates even suggested that Khrushchev might not have been wholly serious in his proposals to rip up the U. N. machinery and move the headquarters to some other country. But if he was not serious, then he did an even greater disservice to the cause of peace. Peace-making in a nuclear age is a life-or-death affair that does not lend itself to airy clowning.

Eatons Giving Lavish Luncheon for Nikita

AP Photofax

UNCOMMUNICATIVE — Retired Rear Adm. William L. Erdmann of Kentfield, Calif., had only two things to reveal Friday when arraigned Friday in San Francisco on charges of liquor smuggling. He gave his name and his age — 57. He is charged with smuggling 504 bottles of liquor into the United States aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard. If convicted of all four counts with which he is charged, he could get 12 years in jail and $35,000 in fines.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cyrus S. Eaton, the Cleveland millionaire industrialist who believes in peaceful co-existence, will give a lavish luncheon for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the grand ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel on Monday.

It was the first non-diplomatic social function to be scheduled in Khrushchev's honor since his arrival here as "the uninvited guest" to attend the U.N. General Assembly meeting.

It was learned that 250 prominent Americans have been invited to the caviar-to-nuts by the 79-year-old Eaton and his wife but that acceptances are slow in coming in.

The hotel is planning to serve about 150 guests following a cocktail reception for Khrushchev and other members of the Soviet U.N. delegation.

Neither Eaton, head of a $350 million complex of banks and steel, rubber, and public utilities empires, nor his wife would comment on their plans.

Dems to Meet on Monday for Canvass Plans

Plans for a door-to-door canvass to register voters in Pontiac Township next week will be explained Monday night when members of the township Democratic Club meet at the township hall on Opdyke Road.

Jim Ogden, who is in charge of the registration drive sponsored jointly by the Oakland County Democratic Committee and the county AFL-CIO Council, will speak on the canvass at the 8 p.m. meeting.

* * *

Bernard Feldhauser, club chairman, also will give a report on the progress of ticket sales for the registration party to be held Oct. 8.

India and U. S. Sign $17 Million Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and India have concluded a new 17 million surplus foods agreement.

* * *

The accord is in addition to a deal last May for sale to India of surplus foods of more than $1.2 billion.

Covered in the new contract signed at the State Department by U.S. and Indian diplomatic officials is the sale to India of $2 million worth of tobacco, $6.8 million corn, $4.3 million sorghum, $1 million soybeans and $3 million ocean transport.

U. S. Embassy in London Suffering Big Relocation

LONDON (AP) — The big move across Grosvenor Square began Friday night. Floodlights blazed. Twelve trucks groaned back and forth.

* * *

A small army of moving men and security officers started the 62-hour job of getting the United States into its new 5-million-dollar embassy building.

* * *

By Monday morning 775 tons of furniture and files must be shifted into the elegant five stories of white portland stone which spread across the entire west side of Grosvenor Square. The old embassy, occupying a comparatively small corner of the east side of the square, got too crowded for America's diplomatic needs here.

Motion Pictures Keep Bill Holden on the Go

By EARL WILSON

HAMBURG, Germany—Bill Holden enjoys making a movie here in the wickedest city in Europe—not because it's wicked, but because when he has a couple of days off, he can "fly home to Switzerland."

WILSON

"Astrid and the boys and I are finding some contentment there," says the handsome leading man who sold his Hollywood holdings and acquired Swiss residence—although, of course, retaining American citizenship.

Bill travels so much making pictures abroad that it seemed a natural step.

"The way I was living, I might not get to see my boys much for a year." Bill was relaxing for a few minutes on the set of "The Counterfeit Traitor" as he explained this.

"Do you know I have suits scattered all over the world . . . Hong Kong, London, Paris, Africa? When I leave, I say to some friend, 'Would you mind hanging these somewhere? I'll be right back—in a couple of years.'

"By the time you pay overweight, it's cheaper to buy five suits in Hong Kong and leave them around.

"And when I get back to California — I can wear Charlie Feldman's."

Holden's sons are going to school at Rose and at Ecole Nouvelle in Switzerland. They are not only excellent in French—they are taking math and Spanish in French. Bill's chauffeur speaks seven languages. Bill will take them on a camera safari in Africa at Christmas and to Hong Kong for Easter.

HOLDEN

The Weekend Windup

"Don't Print That!" Otto Preminger won't be able to film "Advise and Consent" till the show has run on Broadway for two years . . . Rod Nichols will take his jazz group to Iran next month to play for the Shah's favorite charity . . . Count Basie marking his 25th anniversary as a band leader, will get a foreign car from Roulette Records.

EARL'S PEARLS: Can you remember when Texas was a state, and not a Cadillac showroom?

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Someone sighed for the good old days, "When every car had a crank, whether the driver was married or not."

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Out of the mouths of babes often come things their parents shouldn't have said in the first place.

The late Fred Allen explained why people preferred TV to radio. "They'd rather look at something bad than hear something good." . . . THAT'S EARL, BROTHER.

Detroit's Catholics Lauded for Bias Fight

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams Friday lauded the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit for its move to combat racial and religious prejudice in the Motor City.

★ ★ ★

In a telegram to Archbishop John F. Dearden, Williams said the formation of a 40-man committee to establish a human relations program would yield "tremendous good for all of Michigan."

★ ★ ★

The establishment of the committee was also lauded by officials of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Known as the Archbishop's Committee for Human Relations, the group and its program is directed by Fr. Robert F. Allen, archdiocesan director of social action.

The committee is headed by Fr. Raymond J. Mailberger, administrator of the all-Negro parish Our Lady of Victory in Detroit.

★

The committee, including lay men and women, has been studying integration problems since the fall of 1958.

Five subcommittees will channel the findings of the committee to 317 archdiocese parishes.

Russian Water (Gurgle, Gurgle) Suits Nikky Fine

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Nikita S. Khrushchev got in some commercials during his U.N. speech Friday.

Taking a drink after 18 minutes of talk, he said:

"This is excellent Soviet water . . . I recommend it to you."

Wetting his throat again at the 1-hour 2 minute mark, he observed: "Barzhom, an excellent water."

★ ★ ★

At the 2-hour mark he poured another glass, drank deep and announced:

"I am near the end and I am drinking this excellent Barzhom water to the bottom."

Barzhom is one of the most popular brands of Soviet mineral water.

August Living Cost Holds at July Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — August living costs held at the July rate, interrupting a slow, persistent rise that began in January. But the upward movement is likely to be resumed this month.

The Labor Department Friday reported the consumer price index for August at 126.6, the same as July.

This means that prices were 36.6 per cent higher than the 1947-49 average which is used by the Bureau of Labor Statistics as the basis for comparisons.

A spokesman saw "slack in the economy" but no signs of a price-reducing recession or depression.

Drops in prices of food, automobiles and most home appliances canceled out increases in the other seven categories on which the index is based.

Princess Alexandra Will Avoid Northern Nigeria

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Princess Alexandra, representing the British crown at Nigeria's Independence Day Oct. 1, will avoid northern areas where recent riots have led to over 1,000 arrests. Although the situation now is under control, even a minor incident during the royal visit would mar the reputation of the entire province, the government said.

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—The Greenville Public Library has substituted segregation by sex for racial segregation. Three of the seven tables used for reading and study are "reserved for women." NEXT STOP PONTIAC — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is swarmed over by greeters this morning at Battle Creek. Arriving in Michigan for a one-day campaign for the Nixon-Lodge ticket, the personable governor's next stop will be Pontiac. He was expected to arrive at Pontiac Municipal Airport shortly after 2:30 today.

3:15 P. M. Talk Is Scheduled at Courthouse

GOP Sets Motorcade; Rep. Bentley Is Riding With N. Y. Governor

After taking verbal punches at Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, New York's personable Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was headed toward Pontiac this afternoon during a one-day whirlwind tour of Michigan in behalf of Republican candidates.

A motorcade, arranged by Oakland County Republicans, was to escort the governor to the county courthouse for a short talk scheduled for 3:15 p.m.

Republicans were hoping the weatherman would cooperate to draw throngs along the route and at Saginaw and Huron Streets. Predicted thundershowers weren't expected until late this afternoon or evening.

Accompanied by senatorial candidate Alvin M. Bentley, Gov. Rockefeller was scheduled to land at Pontiac Municipal Airport about 2:30 p.m. in his private Convair transport.

After ceremonies that are to include greetings from candidates and Pontiac Mayor Phillip E. Rowston, the governor will motor eastward through Waterford Township on Highland Road (M59.)

He'll come into Pontiac on West Huron, and after the courthouse rally will head down Woodward Avenue to downtown Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Candidates and Mayor Rowston will appear with Rockefeller on the courthouse platform.

Rockefeller flew into Battle Creek at 1:37 a.m. today and is expected to fly back to New York tonight after appearing at rallies in Berkley and Oak Park, dedicating a civic building in Inkster and addressing an anticipated 10,000 persons at a nationality rally in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Gov. Rockefeller's blunt comments on Khrushchev's blunderbust speech yesterday to the United Nations came at a press conference following an 8:30 coffee break in a Battle Creek Park.

He described the speech as "filled with contempt, arrogance and brutality," accusing the Communist leader of "abusing fundamental spiritual and human values."

He said he had no intention or desire to greet Khrushchev or Cuba's Fidel Castro while they are visiting his home state.

Ike Supports Dag Confidence Vote

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Eisenhower has added his prestige to a move to give United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold a vote of confidence.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter indicated Friday that the United States desired an immediate confidence vote for the secretary general following Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's blistering demand that Hammarskjold step aside.

Herter called Khrushchev's two-hour-and-20 minute speech a "declaration of war against the United Nations." Eisenhower concurred, in Washington.

The White House said the President's views are "exactly the same as Herter's."

Parliamentary experts said a confidence motion would have to go through the routine of a normal resolution and a U.S. spokesman said the procedure was under consideration.

BRITAIN WITH U.S.

Britain lined up solidly with the United States in backing the secretary general. British Foreign Office spokesman John Russell used words similar to Herter's in reacting to Khrushche's attack.

"Khrushchev's proposal for reorganizing the office of the secretary general by weakening and diluting it represents a confession that a strong and effective U.N. machine is incompatible with Soviet ambitions," Russell said.

He said Khrushchev's speech was an "attack on mankind's hope for a united world."

His declaration was considered the most outspoken British denunciation of Russia's policy in the history of United Nations.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth told the Assembly the Soviet premier was trying to turn the "world's greatest body for peace into a propaganda forum to serve the interests of Communist imperialism."

★ ★ ★

Wadsworth said Khrushchev was attempting to destroy the body.

"The United Nations must face this crisis head-on," Wadsworth said. "If it does not it will fail."

The White House said Eisenhower would have no formal statement in reply to Khrushchev but backed Herter in seeking a vote of confidence for Hammarskjold.

Herter hopes Khrushchev will push his United Nations revamping proposals to a showdown. The secretary of state foresees a stinging defeat for the Soviet Premier if he does.

Herter's attitude was reported

K, Castro Dine and Talk 'Peace'

Love Feast Continues Five Hours; Nasser Is Here for U. N. Debate

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro —their friendship blossoming— dined together for five hours Friday night. Castro said they discussed "peace."

Khrushchev, confined to Manhattan since his arrival last Monday, will spend the weekend at his country's baronial estate at Glen Cove, Long Island, The State Department lifted his security curtain enough to permit him to make the 25-mile trip.

Little Glen Cove's 55-man police force will be beefed up with about 70 Nassau County police, to guard Khrushchev and other Soviet diplomats.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic flew in Friday night to join the cast of world leaders attending the 15th U. N. General Assembly session.

Among the greeters were 50 members of an American Negro nationalist movement. Their signs read: "Allah is the greatest."

Farmers Are Listless With Jack, Nixon

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (AP)—Well, the big battle of the farmlands has been fought, and it turned out a rather listless draw.

Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon nor Sen. John F. Kennedy, who came to the National Plowing Contest on successive days, was able to score a knockdown.

Neither side was able to even mess up each other's hair.

Neither was able to stir up much applause.

And each acted as if he was content to match his foe right down the line, without trying for a haymaker. Each came up with a six-point program in which there were few surprises.

Each bravely said this would solve the nation's farm problems and didn't dwell on the fact that if it couldn't solve the farm problems maybe it could at least get votes in the November elections.

★ ★ ★

Maybe it's because the stakes are so great — how will the farm states go this time? — that the two presidential candidates played it so coy.

Take Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

★ ★ ★

Normally you can't listen to a two-minute talk on farm problems without having Benson's name mentioned. Particularly by Democrats, who like to punch Ezra at every opportunity.

But neither Kennedy nor Nixon made any reference to the controversial man who has been in Dwight D. Eisenhower's cabinet throughout his two administrations.

Possibly the most surprising thing was the reaction, or lack of it, in the crowds.

An enthusiastic National Guard official put the crowds each day at around 70,000.

★ ★ ★

Most reporters thought the estimate far too high, but certainly it was a large gathering that braved the rain and mud to hear the presidential candidates.

Yet they remained strangely silent while Nixon and Kennedy tried to make a sale.

★ ★ ★

Nixon's biggest hand Friday came not on his farm talk, but in the basic speech he usually gives to all audiences. When he said peace is the most important issue of all, he was loudly applauded.

Legislature OKs Medical Care

Michigan Second State to Take Advantage of Federal Funds

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan became the second state in the nation to take advantage of federal medicare for the aged with passage of a plan to bring medical benefits to an estimated 120,000 old folks.

In what was probably the last bitter blow of a two-year internal fight in the 70th Michigan Legislature Democrats Friday settled for a program which fell short in three areas of benefits they had sought.

A few hours before the Michigan lawmakers acted a special session of the Kentucky General Assembly passed a similar measure.

The evenly-split house passed a bill lacking nursing home care, home nursing care and diagnostic services just as it came out of the Republican-dominated Senate.

★ ★ ★

Every parliamentary maneuver possible was tried to restore the cuts, but each attempt fell short of the necessary votes.

The program, which Gov. G. Mennen Williams said he will sign, does the following:

—Provides for payment to doctors, hospitals and other vendors for medical care and hospitalization for an estimated 60,000 persons over 65 who are receiving old age assistance. This category of medicare was already provided under state law, but the bill helping federal money into use.—Expands care to include home nursing care services and a physical examination for each new recipient.

—Establishes a new category of aid to an estimated 60,000 persons medically needy, over 65 and able to meet a means test.

It was the second category of aid which caused the legislative fireworks.

Besides the scope of benefits, Democrats objected to a "responsible relatives" clause put in the bill.

Ex-Batboy Takes His 'Pirating' Seriously

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—While the Pittsburgh Pirates race toward the National League pennant, Michael Godula, ex-Pittsburgh bat boy, sits in the county jail near here talking about his shattered dream.

Michael, 30, wanted to buy the Pirates and had accumulated at least $118,000 toward the purchase price —by till tapping.

Till tapping involves the unobtrusive scooping of money from a store's cash drawer and stuffing it in your pocket.

★ ★ ★

This is the story Godula told the FBI:

Back in 1960, when Branch Rickey was putting together the team that later became the terror of the league, Michael shagged fly balls and tended bats for the Pirates.

A year later, he tried out for shortstop. Rickey, Godula claims, took a personal interest in him. But when the club heard he had a criminal record, it dropped him.

★ ★ ★

That was when he began dreaming his dream—to redeem himself in the Pirates' eyes by buying 51 per cent of the club.

"Why do I steal?" he wrote this week in an open letter to his friends from his cell.

"I am a former bat boy with the Pittsburgh Pirates. As you know, they have won the National League pennant. This is my first love and even 10 years after their dismissing me, my emotions are still with them. It has broken my heart that I have not contributed to their winning the pennant."

★ ★ ★

According to his statements to police and FBI agents, he got together his stake with championship skill. Some of the money was taken from banks and the rest from stores.

He would stroll into a bank, he said, walk around the tellers' cages as if he belonged there and stuff his pockets with money while no one was looking. Then, he sauntered away. Police estimate he netted $500 a week.

AMMAN, Jordan (UPI) — King Hussein of Jordan will go to New York next week to attend the United Nations General Assembly, the palace announced today.

Showers May Spoil Otherwise Nice Weekend

Scattered showers or thundershowers are predicted for all of Lower Michigan tonight and early Sunday morning. Tonight's low will be a mild 64.

Sunday's high will be about 74. Temperatures will be somewhat warmer Monday through Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Morning southeasterly winds at 6 miles per hour will become 10-15 late today and south tonight; and north at 13-18 miles tomorrow.

Sixty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 75 at 1 p.m.

Soapy to California

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams flew West Friday night to give California a taste of the campaigning style that landed him in the Michigan executive chair an unprecedented six times in a row. He undertook a six-day assignment in behalf of Sen. John F. Kennedy, Democratic presidential nominee.

Cuba Recognizes Communist China

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba today announced establishment of diplomatic relations with Communist China.

The announcement came after a cabinet session in which Prime Minister Fidel Castro participated by long-distance telephone from New York, where he is attending the U.N. General Assembly.

★ ★ ★

Cuba is the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to recognize Red China.

The Castro regime had previously signed a trade pact with Peiping.

Sum of The People

Religion in Politics--No, Not Me!

By JOHN KRAFT
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

"My pretty shrewd, old grand father always used to tell me never, never to talk two things, boy, — religion and politics."

At first sight, this comment by a loom-fixer in a textile mill in China Grove, North Carolina seems to represent the notions of a lot of people today.

But, religion IS being talked about in this election very much, and, perhaps, overplayed. And, yet, a very large percentage of people throughout the country feel that is is only others — that guy next door — who are responsible for it all, and not them.

When Kraft interviewers asked, "Does it matter to YOU what the president's religion is?", 76 per cent of those people interviewed replied that it did not matter at all. Only 23 per cent thought that it did.

★ ★ ★

And, yet, when this question was asked, "Do you think it matters to OTHERS what the president's religion is?", 47 per cent declared that they did think it mattered.

In other words, most of the talking of religion in this presidential election seems to be coming from that "other" person — that guy next door.

But, that is only in terms of the presidential election. What about other high political offices and those candidates and this matter of religious issue?

★ ★ ★

Let's take, first, the office of governor. When people also were asked, "Does it matter to YOU what the religion of your governor is?", the replies differed from the presidential question in this way:

Does matter	13%
Does not matter	84%
Uncertain	3%

And, further, "Do you think it matters to OTHERS what the religion of your governor is?"

Matters to others	22%
Not to others	67%
Uncertain	11%

And, this apparent lessening of the power of the religious issue in American political life continues when we consider what people think about their senator. For example, when asked, "Does it matter to YOU about the religion of your two senators?", we found these results:

Does matter	12%
Does not matter	85%
Uncertain	3%

And, in the similar question about the other people — the "neighbors," the findings were:

Matters to others	20%
Not to others	68%
Uncertain	12%

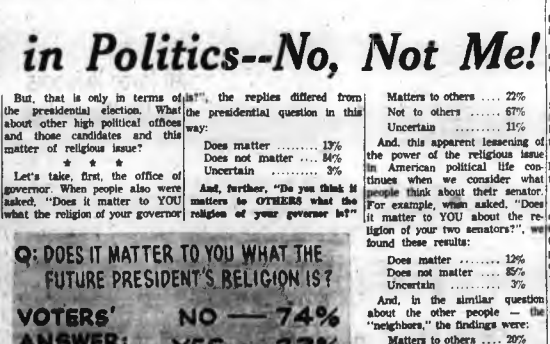

At this point in the Nixon-Kennedy presidential contest, the Kraft nation-wide polling results still continue to show Nixon running slightly ahead of Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

And, they found that, however diverse are the religious backgrounds and beliefs of people across the country, folks seem quite able to get along with one another — the Quaker by the side of the Catholic.

This is so even in the tremendously important and power-

Does K's Speech Mean Cold Wave?

West Europe Fears Worst

Nikita's Plan Seen as End of Quick Action by United Nations

LONDON (AP) — Western Europe feared today that Nikita Khrushchev's speech at the U. N. General Assembly heralds a fresh cold wave that will plunge East-West relations into an even deeper freeze.

The Soviet Premier's attack on U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold was resented by newspapers in every non-Communist capital. His proposal to replace Hammarskjold with a three-man executive board was seen as a bid to kill any rapid U.N. emergency action in the future.

In contrast, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda ran a big headline proclaiming:

"The world listens, applauds, approves."

Communist China, silent all along on Khrushchev's presence at the United Nations, completely blacked out the speech.

The official New China News Agency gave more attention to President Eisenhower for offering a plan "to lure the African countries into the pit of U. S. economic assistance."

The London Daily Express saw hope that British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan might be able to act as peacemaker between Khrushchev and Eisenhower — a role he tried unsuccessfully last May just before the summit meeting in Paris collapsed. Macmillan is flying to New York Sunday.

The independent French newspaper Figaro also looked to a mediator, unnamed, to bring the two together.

* * *

"Crisis at the U. N." was used in several London newspaper headlines about the Soviet speech.

Svenska Dagbladet, conservative newspaper in Stockholm snapped: "The Russian plan is an infallible way of making the office (of U. N. secretary-general) unwieldy to the point of powerlessness."

The Danish newspaper Dagens Nyheder said the Soviet Union wants to abolish Hammarskjold's office "because in the Congo the U. N. has, for the first time, really demonstrated its moral and military strength."

The right-wing French newspaper L'Aurore said Khrushchev obviously was making a big play to get support from the Africans, Asian and Latin-American nations.

Gamblers Attempt to Fix Grid Game

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Miami News said in a copyright story today that gamblers paid a University of Florida football player $1,500 in the expectation he would fix today's game with Florida State University.

The player, fullback Jon Macbeth of Pensacola, a 21-year-old senior, told University officials and police and was instructed to accept the money, News sports editor Tommy Devine said in a report from Gainesville.

However, efforts to trap the gamblers were unsuccessful.

Jack-Dick Ist Debate on Monday

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy will confront each other before television cameras Monday night to discuss their views on the nation's economic condition.

The presidential candidates will meet in a studio of the Columbia Broadcasting System for the first of a series of television discussions. Three cameras will relay their images to all television networks.

Here is how the discussion will be organized:

Shortly after 8:30 p.m. Pontiac time, Kennedy will appear on television screens throughout the nation. He will have exactly eight minutes for his opening remarks.

Nixon then will have eight minutes to discuss the economic question, an issue both agreed upon two weeks ago.

After both have made their introductory remarks the cameras will draw back to four radio and television newsmen who will put questions to both candidates.

Kennedy will be asked the first question and will have 2½ minutes to answer. If Nixon chooses to offer a rebuttal, he will be given 1½ minutes.

With Howard K. Smith of CBS news moderating, this routine will continue until 9:22 p. m.

At that time, Smith will signal that the questioning period is over and Nixon will be given three minutes for a closing statement.

Kennedy will have the last word, having won in a drawing the last three minutes for his closing remarks.

All details of the presentation were tentatively accepted by the candidates some time ago, except the choice closing spot which a Kennedy aide secured Friday at the final planning conference in a drawing, a CBS aide said.

But, also at this point, it seems clear that in this presidential race, the religious conflict is exploding all over the country and will continue to make headlines.

These headlines are the kind most Americans deplore; but, these headlines must, inevitably, come from the backyard and back-fence talk of that "other" person and all those "other" people — among whom is that "other" guy who might just possibly be ourself.

He described Khrushchev as "the most ruthless man that exists in public life today."

"He has insulted the President, the presidential candidate and the United Nations," Rockefeller told a news conference. "He blackmails, accuses, and ridicules all that we believe in."

"Why should I receive him?" Castro's antics in New York, the Governor said, are probably beneficial to the free world's cause.

"It shows the people of the United States and the whole world what these people are like," he said. "They are used to pushing and shoving people around at home and people here resent it."

Addressing an audience of about 700 in the Battle Creek park, Rockefeller criticized what he termed the failure of the Democratic leadership to push through any major legislation in the recent special session of Congress.

He said it pointed up the inadequacy of Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential nominee, to lead his party and the nation. Nixon, he said, will provide the nation with the "courageous leadership it requires in the four years ahead."

Khrushchev did not indicate whether he would have any big shot diplomats at his Long Island retreat, but he did not rule out the possibility.

NEW BALCONY SCENE

There was another "balcony scene—this one in pantomime—at the Soviet delegation's mission on Park Avenue. He smoked an Indian peace pipe and topped off his schedule with his dinner date with Castro.

Through it all he dropped pungent and often biting remarks on a wide variety of subjects"

The unpredictable Castro was nearly 40 minutes late for his date with Khrushchev, while the Soviet chief waited impatiently for him on the sidewalk outside the Soviet U.N. headquarters.

As time went on, newsmen asked Khrushchev if he felt like a bride left waiting at the church.

"I was never in the condition of that bride," laughed Khrushchev.

A policeman's horse whinnied and Khrushchev quipped: "The American horses are greeting the Soviet union—you can see how glad they are."

Enrollment at MSUO Up to 910 From 570

Michigan State University Oakland's fall term enrollment was announced at 910 by university officials today.

The figure is an increase of 340 students over the number enrolled at MSUO when the university first opened its doors in the fall of 1959.

There were 576 students on the campus during the past academic year.

* * *

Of these, 397 have returned for their sophomore years. The other 515 are entering freshmen.

MSUO does not yet have junior and senior classes.

Students this year represent 14 states and four foreign countries — Canada, Turkey, Viet Nam and Greece.

MSUO's "sister" school — Michigan State University — announced that 21,181 students will attend classes on the East Lansing campus.

With extension and MSUO students included, the total MSU enrollment is 23,373, a record.

* * *

MSU officials said 4,790 students registered in the freshman class — largest ever to enter MSU — 25 per cent above last year's freshman class.

The 1959 freshman class was 26 per cent above the 1956 class.

Patterson grabbed his lunchbox and swung at the bandit, who ran back to the truck.

on unimpeachable authority today after he met with the foreign ministers of the other two powers of the Western Big Three — Lord Home of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France.

TALK STRATEGY

It was understood the British and French foreign ministers expressed agreement when they met for dinner in Herter's Waldorf Astoria Hotel suite.

The private dinner had been intended as a routine meeting for an exchange of views. Instead, it apparently developed into a major diplomatic strategy session, lasting into the early hours.

Couve de Murville said in an interview he thinks one change proposed by Khrushchev, substituting a three-man executive for the secretary-general, is "not a possibility." It would amount to a charter revision "that would require the agreement of practically everybody," he said, and likely will die a natural death.

The next move, if there is to be one, apparently is up to the Soviet camp.

Cy Owens Ford Agency Is Sold

Assets and Used Car Lot Change Hands; Land and Buildings Leased

The Cy Owens, Inc., Ford agency in Pontiac has been sold, it was announced yesterday.

Purchaser of the business is John McAuliffe Ford, Inc. Partners in the corporation are John A. McAuliffe, of 977 Sweetwood Dr., Birmingham, and J. F. McDonnell of Grosse Pointe.

No price was disclosed.

Owens had a modern showroom and used car lot at 630 Oakland Ave., which opened in May and its body repair shop at 20 Judson St.

McAuliffe, 49, who will serve as general manager of the agency, said the corporation purchased "only all the assets of the business" and not the buildings or land. These are being rented from Owens, he said.

The new management brings to an end ownership of the city's lone Ford dealer, by Owens. It goes back to November of 1959 when C. A. Owens, former Northville Ford dealer, purchased the Millman Ford Agency in Pontiac. It was then at 147 S. Saginaw St. Owens moved the business in May after six years at the Saginaw Street location.

The new owners took over Wednesday.

McAuliffe and McDonnell are associated with Max Curtis in the operation of another Ford agency in Lansing.

Owens' shift from Saginaw street to Oakland Avenue, making way for a much larger showroom and service department, was at an estimated $250,000.

Golm was in satisfactory condition today in Bixby Hospital, Adrian. He suffered several broken ribs and a broken left arm.

O'Brien, the driver, was transferred to the University of Michigan Hospital at Ann Arbor for observation of a possible skull fracture. He was listed in serious condition.

Ike Sets Up Talks With World Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has set up personal talks in New York next week with a leader of Asia, a leader of the Middle East, and a leader of Europe.

All are in New York for the historic meeting of the United Nations General Assembly.

So far, Eisenhower has scheduled talks with Prime Minister Nehru of India and President General Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic on Monday, and with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Great Britain on Tuesday.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, while holding out the possibility of other meetings in New York, said that he knew of no plans for the President to sit down with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Sweeps Winner Salts It Away — but in Vain

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—Frank Ziegler, 62, winner of a $240,000 Irish Sweepstakes prize last June didn't trust himself to handle a lot of money.

So the janitor at the Oakland Tribune went before a Superior Court judge last July 20 to ask help in managing his $48,000 not after income taxes. The judge named the Crocker-Anglo National Bank as his guardian.

Sept. 9 Ziegler fell on a sidewalk and suffered a skull fracture. He developed bronchial pneumonia and died Thursday night.

The $40,000 of which Ziegler had not spent a penny, probably will go to three nieces, his only known survivors.

Space Reds Die, Says General

Air Force Authority Says Soviets Failed in Orbiting Attempt

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Russia recently attempted to put two men into orbit around the earth and failed, according to a top Air Force authority.

Brig. Gen. Don Flickinger, director of Bio-Astronautics for the Air Force Research and Development Command, said the two would-be astronauts died after their space capsule failed to orbit.

Flickinger addressed the annual Air Force Association convention here and then made the statement in answer to newsmen's questions following his talk.

He said an unidentified object was tracked during the past week and was apparently intended to go into orbit — probably to coincide with the visit of Nikita Khrushchev to the United Nations.

The General, who is consultant in the Mercury man-in-space project of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, admitted he was speculating about the Russian space efforts, but he said he believed "they tried to put two men up and clobbered them."

The Soviets had ships equipped to track space vehicles deployed in the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans last week, he said.

But Flickinger said he believed the Russians had performed one new space feat, which they would soon announce to the world.

He said he considered accurate a London Daily Express report Sept. 14 that the Russians had lofted two men to a height of 62 miles in a ballistic capsule and recovered them safely. The Russians have not confirmed or denied the feat.

Reign of Crime Brings Prayers for Big Drought

Two Pontiac policemen are fervently hoping for a long dry spell as far as crime is concerned.

Patrolmen John H. Bridgewater and Maurice J. Nolin can't be blamed for feeling the way they do.

While at work early this morning, the pair paid a price above the call of duty.

They had their raincoats stolen from their police cruiser.

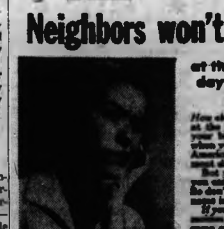

The theft occurred when the officers, both members of the Special Investigations Unit vice squad, checked the Amvets Hall, 570 Oakland Ave., to make sure no juveniles were at a late-hour dance.

Their superior officer, Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, was undamaged when the sheepish twosome returned to the Public Safety Building.

The entire force knows what to be on the lookout for, he pointed out.

Bungling Burglar Gums Up Job, Abandons Tools

A local burglar put too much faith in the cooperation of an intended victim, Pontiac police said today.

The intruder apparently carried only a saw as a tool of the trade when he broke into the J & R Motor Supply, 115 N. Saginaw St.

He entered the building by sawing a steel bar, then breaking a window.

Once inside, he tried desperately to open the firms floor safe.

Detectives found hammers, wrenches, crowbars, punches and an electric drill about the area.

However, police said, the intruder hadn't been able to come up with a suitable combination.

He left the building empty handed.

British Minister Revises Hymns for New Dangers

Rev. John Jackson, a Methodist minister in England, believes in bringing hymns up to date. He read that highway killings in Britian now out-number drownings of sailors by about 130 to one.

Then he rewrote, for his congregation, the last verse of "Eternal Father." In place of the old words about "rock and tempest, fire and foe," he asks them to sing: "O Trinity of love and power, all travelers shield in danger's hour.

From selfishness and reckless speed, protect them wheresoe'er their's need." To which the general comment was "Amen."

Oldsmobile Introduces New F-85

DETROIT (UPI) — Oldsmobile today formally unveiled its entry in the smaller car sweepstakes — the F-85.

The car will go on sale Oct. 6 along with the standard size Olds lines.

The F-85, offered in four-door sedan and four-door station wagon body styles, uses a 215 cubic inch aluminum V8 engine rated at 155 horsepower. The sedan, on a 112-inch wheelbase, is 15 foot 8.2 inches long and 6 feet wide.

Both the sedan and the station wagon are available in regular and deluxe series — with fancy trim and interior appointments making the difference.

★ ★ ★

The small Olds will offer both manual transmission and a new, scaled-down version of the Hydra-Matic (automatic) transmission. Curb weight of the F-85 is 2,695 pounds, or about 1,500 pounds less than the Olds 88 series.

The small and large Olds share a common, inward sloping grille and dual headlights. Otherwise, styling varies considerably although keeping closely to basic General Motors roof lines.

Jack Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager, said the F-85 should get about 25 per cent better gas mileage than the standard size cars.

Hotel Man OKs Dogs— 'Never Swipe Towels'

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (UPI) — A hotel owner, asked if he objected to guests bringing dogs with them, commented:

"In all the time I've been an innkeeper, I've never had to toss an intoxicated dog out on his ear. No dog has ever swiped one of my towels and they don't use them to shine their shoes with. They don't smoke in bed, either."

Lake Sloshing Can Be Fatal

Seiches (Sudden Shift in Water Levels) Hit Fairly Often

WASHINGTON — The recent rise and fall of waters in lower Lake Michigan demonstrated an abrupt phenomenon known as a seiche.

★ ★ ★

Most seiches, pronounced "say-shes," are caused by squalls or quick changes in air pressure, the National Geographic Society says. But earthquakes also can produce them.

The phenomenon can be likened to sloshing water back and forth in a tub. When pressure or wind suddenly rises on one side of the lake, for instance, it can literally chase water to the other side. Once the pressure stops, the water tries to return to normal. It oscillates, creating abnormal waves.

Seiches can occur in bays and fiords. But whenever there are strong tides, oscillations are not generally noticeable.

★ ★ ★

Most lake seiches are minor, too. They can be detected only by sensitive gauges. However, the large ones pack a force capable of damaging property and taking lives. Eight major seiches have formed in the Great Lakes since 1900.

In 1953, a sudden surge of air pressure sent three walls of water about five feet high over the banks of Lake Huron, capsizing boats, washing away bathhouses and flooding basements.

Two years later, a squall created a single giant wave, 5-to-20-feet high, that struck the 25-mile Chicago shoreline and drowned seven persons. It was the worst seiche disaster in the United States.

Red Visiting for Weekend

Mayor Urges Courtesy to K

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—The mayor of this "Gold Coast" Long Island town has urged courtesy and restraint toward Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who is spending the weekend at the Soviets' luxurious retreat.

For several years the Soviets have maintained the 45-room, 37-acre estate for their United Nations officials and visiting diplomats.

★ ★ ★

Joseph A. Suozzi, mayor of this North Shore community of 24,000, said Friday: "I'm amused to think that such a hater of capitalism would want to come here to the very residential heart of capitalism.

"We will be courteous and polite, but we don't intend to give him any favorable treatment or hang out flags for him. He might think we are extending a welcome."

Suozzi added: "Business will go on as usual."

★ ★ ★

The Soviet property, overlooking Long Island Sound, was built in 1912 by the late Charles Pratt, a founder of the Standard Oil Co., as a wedding gift to his son, the late George DuPont Pratt.

Residents of the area are accustomed to Soviet big-wigs coming here, although they never have played host to the Kremlin's chief.

About 500 White Russians live in Glen Cove and adjoining Sea Cliff, but many of them are residents of five homes for aged Russians. Glen Cove is about 30 miles from Manhattan.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets also own a 60-room mansion at Upper Brookville, near Oyster Bay on Long Island Sound. This is where the working group of the Soviet Embassy and U.N. mission will spend the weekend.

THE '61 FALCON — The 1961 Ford Falcon features a new, convex-shaped aluminum grille and introduces a new optional, 101-horsepower engine along with durability improvements in aluminum surfaces, underbody parts and other trim items. This model is the Tudor Sedan. The Falcon goes on sale Thursday and may be seen locally at Beattie Motor Sales, 5806 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township; Eddie Steel, Inc., 2705 Orchard Lake Road, Keego Harbor, and John A. McAuliffe, Inc., 630 Oakland Ave.

Bigger Engine Optional

1961 Ford Falcon Gets New Grille

DETROIT (UPI) — Ford has changed the grille on its highly successful Falcon for 1961 and will offer an optional, higher horsepower engine. Otherwise the fast selling compact has been left almost untouched.

★ ★ ★

The new engine is a 170 cubic inch six at 101 horsepower. The standard engine is the same as in 1960 with 85 horsepower.

Air conditioning will be available as a dealer option.

★ ★ ★

The Falcon will continue to come in four body styles — two and four door sedans and two and four door station wagons.

James O. Wright, general manager of Ford Division, said aluminum parts will be thicker and the aluminized mufflers will be heavier on the 1961 models.

Falcons will go on sale Thursday, the same day as the 1961 model standard Fords.

Diapers Are Measured in Natural Form—Wet

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — How many pounds of wet diapers does a baby use in a two-year period?

The Diaper Service Industry Association, meeting here today and Sunday, says the answer is about 1,235 pounds, based on 7,410 diapers averaging six to a pound.

Why wet weight? Well, says the association, that's the way they usually are.

CIVIC DUTY

J. L. VOORHEES

We hedge when called for Jury Duty. "Too busy," we cry but that duty is the very essence of freedom. History teaches us that jurymen taken from every walk of life is far superior to men specialized in jury duty. One lady used every dodge in the book to escape Grand Jury Duty but served, said, "It was the most interesting experience in my life."

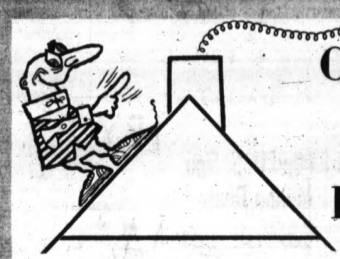

M. E. SIPLE

To vote is a privilege. We are led up blind alleys by clever phrases and "Slogans." Sometimes those slogans are ambiguous, sometimes diametrically opposed to our better judgment. The American people are innately shrewd. We think through a statement, take it apart, evaluate each segment and if it agrees with our concept, we cast our ballot. In favor of it: IF NOT WE REJECT IT. We vote, as our conscience dictates.

The flower of freedom springs from the ballot and Mine-run Jurymen.

Chimney and Roof Repairs

The repair men who just happen to be in your neighborhood and to notice your chimney needs repairs; definitely needs to be fixed before you put your furnace on. Also he observes a few shingles need replacing or the gutters are clogged with leaves and the flashings need a little paint here and there. He even offers to guarantee the work. You get the impression the job is quite simple and the cost not so great—until you come to pay the bill. It may be anywhere from thirty to a hundred dollars and if the job doesn't hold up you can't find the "guarantor."

Cleaning the flues and putting your furnace in good condition for winter goes hand-in-hand with the "roofer" and "chimney expert." Sometimes he takes your furnace apart and discovers how much "repairs" it needs or even a new furnace is required. Why take chances like that? There are a number of local reputable firms dealing in "heating," "roofing," etc. Call a reliable firm and get an estimate.

Uneasy Climate Settles on U.N.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —There is an oppressive air of uneasiness settling over the United Nations. Nikita Khrushchev created it.

★ ★ ★

The rotund leader of world communism, giving the impression of one trying to use the U.N. machinery as a private toy, has become a sort of gay troubadour of gloom.

His General Assembly speech Friday—his second before the U. N. and by far the most bewildering—seemed to dash any hope that this session might produce a real contribution to lessening tensions that have the world's nerves on edge.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev not only set back the cause of peace, but did himself a disservice if his primary idea in coming to the United Nations has been to impress the world of his truly peaceful intentions.

There is a lot of dismay around the corridors of this big glass building today. It is not confined to those Western Europeans and Americans who may have hoped for some concrete advance from this historic session.

Khrushchev just about told the U.N. in so many words that he will not tolerate any action on its part that interferes with Soviet plans and policies.

The Soviet Union was upset by events in the Congo, where Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold won the support and admiration of most U. N. members in his handling of a crisis that the Soviets apparently, wanted to convert into a situation of chaos.

So, Khrushchev tells the U.N.: Let's get rid of Hammarskjold. In fact, let's abolish the post of secretary-general and set up an executive board where Communist representatives can raise hob with any peace mission the U.N. might try to undertake.

★ ★ ★

Some delegates even suggested that Khrushchev might not have been wholly serious in his proposals to rip up the U. N. machinery and move the headquarters to some other country. But if he was not serious, then he did an even greater disservice to the cause of peace. Peace-making in a nuclear age is a life-or-death affair that does not lend itself to salty clowning.

Eatons Giving Lavish Luncheon for Nikita

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cyrus S. Eaton, the Cleveland millionaire industrialist who believes in peaceful co-existence, will give a lavish luncheon for Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev in the grand ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel on Monday.

It was the first non-diplomatic social function to be scheduled in Khrushchev's honor since his arrival here as "the uninvited guest" to attend the U.N. General Assembly meeting.

It was learned that 250 prominent Americans have been invited to the caviar-to-nuts by the 76-year-old Eaton and his wife but that acceptances are slow in coming in.

The hotel is planning to serve about 150 guests following a cocktail reception for Khrushchev and other members of the Soviet U.N. delegation.

Neither Eaton, head of a $150 million complex of banks and steel, paint, rubber, and public utilities companies, nor his wife would comment on their plans.

Dems to Meet on Monday for Canvass Plans

Plans for a door-to-door canvass to register voters in Pontiac Township next week will be explained Monday night when members of the township Democratic Club meet at the township hall on Opdyke Road.

Jim Ogden, who is in charge of the registration drive sponsored jointly by the Oakland County Democratic Committee and the county AFL-CIO Council, will speak on the canvass at the 8 p.m. meeting.

★ ★ ★

Bernard Feldhauser, club chairman, also will give a report on the progress of ticket sales for the registration party to be held Oct. 8.

India and U. S. Sign $17 Million Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and India have concluded a new 17 million surplus foods agreement.

★ ★ ★

The accord is in addition to a deal last May for sale to India of surplus foods of more than $1.2 billion.

Covered in the new contract signed at the State Department by U.S. and Indian diplomatic officials is the sale to India of $2 million worth of tobacco, $6.8 million corn, $4.3 million sorghum, $1 million soybeans and $3 million cocoa transport.

U. S. Embassy in London Suffering Big Relocation

LONDON (AP) — The big move across Grosvenor Square began Friday night. Floodlights blazed. Twelve trucks groaned back and forth.

★ ★ ★

A small army of moving men and security officers started the 62-hour job of getting the United States into its new 5-million-dollar embassy building.

By Monday morning 775 tons of furniture and files must be shifted into the elegant five stories of white portland stone which spread across the entire west side of Grosvenor Square. The old embassy, occupying a comparatively small corner of the east side of the square, got too crowded for America's diplomatic needs here.

UNCOMMUNICATIVE — Retired Rear Adm. William L. Erdman of Kentfield, Calif., had only two things to reveal Friday when arraigned Friday in San Francisco on charges of liquor smuggling. He gave his name and his age — 57. He is charged with smuggling 504 bottles of liquor into the United States aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard. If convicted of all four counts with which he is charged, he could get 12 years in jail and $35,000 in fines.
